BURWELL WOMAN KILLED

Aurora, Neb., Oct. 11—Mrs. David Best, wife of a well known ranchman at Burwell and former resident of Clay county, this state, had her right leg cut off at the Burlington depot here tonight when she fell from Burlingon train No. 41. Mrs. Best, who is a rather heavy woman, got on the train to say goodbye to a friend who was going away. She remained on until after the train started and in jumping to the ground fell with one limb under the wheels. She was at once given surgical attention but it is feared she may not survive. She is about forty-six years of age and is the mother of three children. The accident happened near 9 p. m. while No. 41, westbound passenger train, was pulling out.

Later—The injured woman died soon after the accident.

It is always a pleasure for us to note the triumphs of former Ord folks as they proceed to make good wherever they go, as most of them do. Immediately on landing in Idaho, where he is now practicing, Victor O. Johnson found himself in the middle of a big division suit in the supreme court of that state. He was admitted to practice before that chief tribunal and at once made the oral argument before the court, handling the matter in such a manner as to elicit the applause of the bar and the people generally and winning the suit. The papers of Shoshone print long comments on the brilliancy of their new attorney. The firm with which Mr. Johnson has associated had the case in the lower courts and entrusted the final argument of the case to Mr. Johnson, a thing they would not have dared to do had they not full confidence in his ability. It is safe to say that they do not now regret having allowed him to make the talk.

Frank Benedict, who had been here visiting since state fair week with the Caprons and other friends, departed yesterday morning for Hastings to visit a college friend. Today he will join Mr. VanRiper at Grand Island and together they will return to their Michigan home.

Monday morning Frank Howard departed for a trip to the far west. Portland will be his objective point, but other places along the line will be looked at on the way.

Rev. E. L. Kechley went to Topeka, Kansas, Monday to attend the international convention of the Church of Christ. He will be gone a couple of weeks.

This week district court is in full blast with Judge Hanna on the bench.

Most of those who had been to Omaha attending the Ak-Sar-Ben returned last Friday evening glad that they had seen the big city and the sights.

Isaac Noyes of Valley, Nebraska, arrived the first of the week to have permanent charge of the prescription business of the Parkins Drug Company. He is a pharmacist of long experience. He does not expect his wife to come for about six weeks.

Monday morning August Meyers and wife and Cecil Tully departed for Sioux City in Meyers's automobile, going by way of Columbus. At that place they were joined by Arthur Meyers, who went by the railroad thus far on the way. This is a delightful time of the year for the trip, if this weather keeps up.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Jonie Level entertained the public by a little exhibition of skill in running down a stray chicken who put up such a brave race for liberty, dodging about among the trees in the court yard, but he was no match for the lady who was not long in clasping him about the neck and bearing him safely off to the Level dining rooms.

Walker Bros. received last Thursday night a car load of fine polled Durhams, which they had recently bought in Iowa. One of the boys came through with the bunch, and on account of the formality of having them inspected at Council Bluffs, he was held up there for a few days, being all told about a week on the road. But they got here just the same.

Mrs. Will Wentworth returned to Holly, Colorado, yesterday, having been here for about six weeks. She says that they do not have enough water in that vicinity and for that reason crops are not up to the standard. They will dispose of their holdings and return to Valley county in December, when they will improve their property west of town and make their home with us again.

The following clipping from the Oroville, California, Daily Register of October 5th, brings to us the news of the sad affliction that has overtaken Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bundy: "Howard Allen Bundy, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bundy died at an early hour last evening at the family home on Montgomery Street. The funeral will be held from the home at 4 o'clock this afternoon."

DAHLMAN'S RECORD

While sheriff of Dawes county from October 18, 1890 to September 18 1893 Mr. Dahlman charged $5,387.96 for making thirty trips, taking people to state institutions and as stated in The Nebraska State Capital charged the state with 1,016 miles every time he brought a prisoner down, and charged ten cents a mile as mileage while riding on a pass.

"Possibly the climax of humor was reached when on June 1, 1893, the sheriff desired to take his wife down to Kearney on a shopping excursion.

So, on the voucher for transporting Ada M. Murray to the industrial school (voucher 77105) he charged up 1,016 miles for himself and 1,016 for Mrs. Dahlman, and jolted the state for a total of $2294.44. The state board failed to catch the humor of the situation and trimmed the bill to $137.84. The board probably had no objection to wasting the money of the state, but objected to the extreme honor shown to Ada M. Murray in the furnishing of such a distinguished retinue.

"All this rake-off of $5,387.96 is no doubt commendable when Jim was 'such a good sheriff of Dawes county,' but the inference is plain that under the enlarged opportunities which must come to a governor with all the state institutions under his control, an enlarged burst of humor might actually bankrupt the state."—The Searchlight.

RADIL-BENDA WEDDING

At 6 o'clock Monday evening, occurred the wedding of Miss Annie Benda to Otto Radil at the home of the bride's father in the south part of the city.

There were a great number of guests present, and the contracting parties made a fine picture as they took upon themselves the duties and obligations which the occasion demanded.

The bride was lovely, clad in white silk, the stalwart and handsome groom appearing in the customary black.

After the wedding, which was performed by Judge Gudmundsen, an elegant wedding supper was served and partaken of by all. The many gifts bore testimony of the high regards in which these good people are held. The Quiz also extends hearty congratulations.

YOUNG WOMAN SUICIDES

Miss Nort Pasdera, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Pasdera, Bohemians, committed suicide last Saturday by slashing a razor across her throat.

The family lives four miles north of this city. The young woman had given not the least evidences of despondency or any other reasons for committing the act.

The coroner was notified and went to the scene but found the evidences of suicide to be so convincing that no inquest will be called. To the family the matter is an entire mystery. It is rumored that she may have been disappointed in a love affair but there is nothing definite in this respect. She was in perfect health.—The Grand Island Independent.

Last Thursday afternoon the city marshal arrested Joe Warwick and his son Earl for gambling. The complaint was sworn out by Mayor Carson. Four counts were charged against Joe and one against the son. The defendants agreed to plead guilty to one count that of gambling and the judge assessed a fine of $100 against the father and $25 against the son, which amounts were put up, the other men in the game no doubt coming to the rescue. The charge was that the gambling was done during the fair. Indeed the authorities were ready to make a raid earlier in the game, but thought they were watched and decided not to do so. Joe feels pretty badly over the affair and claims that he was inveigled into the game by the sheriff of Greeley county and other parties.

Dick Phair was hanging around the city bastile too persistently last Friday night to suit the sheriff so that official took him in and made a search of his person, and found, we are told, a hack saw, a file and a piece of cheese, which would have been a very handy outfit for his incarcerated son to break jail with. But as the father had not offered to deliver the saw to the boy there was no case to be made out of the thing as far as it had gone no complaint was filed against Dick and he was turned loose.

Rev. H. H. Berry is planning to move to Horace about the first of the month to take charge of the new church he has seen built. This will take all the regular Baptist pastors of the city away from Ord. For months Mr. Berry's heart has been in Horace and it is natural enough that he should move there.

Last Friday morning Elmer Ollis departed for his new job of supervising the big ranch recently acquired by J. A. Ollis Jr. He will put in several months now on the round up and other fall work and will be pretty well acquainted with the proposition when this is done with.

A WORTHY RECORD

No matter what the political issues may be, whether they are tariff, insurgency, prohibition or otherwise, in the Sixth district of Nebraska, the intelligent and well-thinking voters of the district should pause and consider what Congressman M. P. Kinkaid has accomplished for his state and district while in Congress. His services warrant the most earnest consideration of every man before he casts his vote next November 8. Study Kinkaid's record and then compare his congressional acts with those of others. This is the best way to measure a man's worth in Congress.

Congressman Kinkaid is generally accredited with having secured more legislation of direct interest to his district than any of his predecessors. The people of Nebraska regard the passage of the one-section homestead law opening to settlement the great public domain in Nebraska as being the most important and beneficial piece of legislation ever enacted in the history of the state.

The public land question was the greatest problem confronting the state when Judge Kinkaid was first elected to Congress. It was generally agreed that it was a problem that had to be solved in one way or the other—either by a leasing law, which would place the lands in the hands of the big ranchmen for grazing purposes, or be converted into enlarged homesteads and thereby be settled by homesteaders who would eventually become owners of the land, and thus establish society, law and order, schools, churches, etc. During those three months Kinkaid literally "sit up" with the land committee of the House until it acted favorably on his bill. He had set a precedent in this kind of legislation as it only applied to one state and had no general effect. For this reason it was difficult not only to get the bill out of the committee, but to pass it in the house. Before the measure came to the floor of the house, Judge Kinkaid personally sought the support of over 300 members. It is acknowledged by everyone that it was only his dogged persistence and the merits of his case that put the one-section homestead Act for Nebraska on the statute books.

Between 4,000 and 5,000 entries were made on the day the law took effect. About 11,000,000 acres was subject to entry. The commissioner of the General Land Office says there are 1,750,000 acres of the poorest lands now remaining untaken. Commissoner Dennett says the law is working out most satisfactorily, and he confidently expects to see the remaining lands settled upon sooner or later.

No other state has been able to secure a one-section homestead act. South Dakota and Colorado notably have failed from time to time since the passage of the Kinkaid Act. A year ago Congressman Mondell, chairman of the public lands committee, passed a one-half section homestead law for all states west of Nebraska. Since its passage, Congressman Kinkaid secured the passage of amendments to the Nebraska one-section act, which are very important to the interests of the entrymen.

At the time when the Kinkaid act took effect, there were two military reservations in the district, which have since been abandoned. The lands comprising them were subject to homestead entry with the minimum cost of $1.25 and the maximum of $2.50 per acre.

One of the most interesting things in connection with the enactment of the Kinkaid law is that at the time of its passage there was a reservation in the northern part of Sheridan county, 5 miles wide and 10 miles long, bordering on the Pine Ridge Indian reservation, which had been created by order of President Cleveland during his first administration, extending the Pine Ridge reservation with the exclusive jurisdiction of the government over that part of Nebraska. Judge Kinkaid's predecessors in the House, assisted by the Nebraska Senators, had for 15 years tried to secure the restoration of this 5 by 10 miles stretch of land to homestead entry, but without avail because of the continued opposition of Indian agents. Kinkaid's term in the House commenced December, 1903. Early in January, 1904, by order of President Roosevelt, Mr. Kinkaid had this stretch of land, or reserve, restored to the public domain and subsequently made subject to hometead entry.

At each session for a number of years Congressman Kinkaid has passed bills of vital interest to the Nebraska homesteaders providing for the resurvey at government expense, of portions of the area covered by the one-section Act where the old original surveys had become so obliterated that corners could not be found. These resurvey bills carried special appropriations averaging $15,000 of each year.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred. Hallock were in the city last Friday evening on their way home to Burwell.

LIKED OUR FAIR

Thursday was the day set for Howard county people to attend the Valley county fair, and they were there in goodly numbers. We would have had a better crowd had the special train been advertised properly. As it was no advertising was sent out until Thursday afternoon. Agent Clinton informs us that he sold 75 tickets to Ord that morning for the special train. Elba, Cotesfield, Scotia and North Loup furnished more passengers, so that when we arrived at Ord we had a crowded train, the coaches being jammed full. Their fair was good, and it certainly will result in lasting benefit to Valley people. The display of farm products was surprising to everybody, both for quantity and quality. The fruit raised in Valley county ranks with the best in this section of the state.

The stock raisers in Valley county may well feel proud of their showing at their annual fair. They raise as good cattle, horses and hogs up there as they do any place. Taken altogether, the fair was a credit to the men who had charge of it and to the men and women who took pains to make all the displays made there. That fair brands the Ord and Valley county people as being real live people, and people who are up and doing all the time. That class of people will succeed in this world without any trouble.—St. Paul Phonograph-Press.

TRIED THE SUICIDE ROUTE

A dispatch from St. Paul to the Star says that after Albert Hildt, a young man 21 years of age had evidently wounded himself with a 22 calibre revolver Saturday afternoon, he walked two miles to town and notified the sheriff that someone had shot him. The shooting was done near the farm of C. V. Svoboda, north of town, and the ball entered the left side just over the heart, and pierced the left lung, lodging behind the third rib.

Sheriff Higby accompanied the young man to the scene of the shooting and found the weapon with which it had been done. He tracked the wounded man to a straw stack, where he had lain down after the shooting. All of the attending circumstances, officers state, point to an attempt at suicide. The local physicians state that Hildt has a chance for recovery.

EXPECT TO GET NEW MILL

A couple of gentlemen from Humphrey, Neb., have been at Arcadia the past few days looking over the town and county with a view to putting in a flour mill of about sixty barrels capacity. A proposition has been submitted and the matter has been taken under advisement by the gentlemen, who expect to report to the secretary of the Commercial within a couple of weeks. A business of this kind would be met with the hearty support of the business men and influential farmers of the community, and as the parties who are considering the installation of the plant seemed very highly pleased with the prospects, it is quite likely that before another wheat crop is on the market the new mill will be in operation.—State Journal.

It has been the custom of Postmaster Coonrod to hold the noon mails till the freight came in and then close the mail out, meanwhile allowing the public to get their mail off on the freight even though that train is ever so late. This was an accommodation to the public, but it was liable to cause the missing of the mail altogether, which thing happened twice lately. This has caused the post office department to order that the noon mail close 20 minutes before the scheduled time for leaving, no matter how late the train may be. So you will please bear this in mind if you want to get mail off on the noon freight. Get it there no later than 12:25.

The annual state convention of the Nebraska Christian Endeavor Union convenes at Aurora, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 21-23, 1910. Among the most noted speakers on the program are Francis E. Clark, D. D., founder of Christian Endeavor and president of the World's C. E. Union; Karl Lehmann, of Boston, Interstate Field Secretary; Dr. F. F. Tucker, of Pangkiachwang, China; Guy Martin Withers, of Kansas City and Prof. H. T. Sutton, the Bible-reader, of Chicago, Illinois. More than 300 delegates have already registered, insuring an attendance of over 750 out-of-town Endeavorers.

The high school base ball team went to St. Paul last Friday and played a game with the high school boys of that place, getting done up by a score of 8 to 6. However, our boys do not seem to think that they deserved to be beaten, claiming that the Paultowners worked in one of the Rexall pitchers, and also that they had an umpire who was not capable of doing the square thing by the boys. If such are facts in the case we hope when St. Paul comes to return the game that our boys will show them every courtesy possible and be on the square.

George Eberhart and family departed the first of the week for a visit to the western part of the state. They go by way of the automobile.

Adolph Fuss and wife left Tuesday morning for a trip to Minnesota. It has been a long time since they made this trip and so they feel strongly inclined to renew old Minnesota acquaintances.

Last week Thursday Mrs. Charles Pfluke and son William arrived from Rock City Ill., on visit at the Brox family. Yesterday morning they with Mrs. Brox went to Grand Island for the day, but their visit to Valley county is not over.

Chas. Jelinek, of Crete, who has been visiting here at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. F. Adamek, was called home last Friday morning by a telegram announcing the serious illness of his mother. Mrs. Adamek was also summoned to the bedside and left Monday morning.

Rev. F. W. Benjamin departed Monday for Polk, where he will serve as pastor regularly after November 1st. He expects to move his family to that place by the time of his regular work there. At this writing no pastor has been secured to take the place of the retiring minister.

Tommy Garrison came up to Elyria last week Thursday night and spent the night there. Friday morning he and W. B. Casler were brought to Ord by Joe Bartos's automobile so that the visitor could take the U. P. for Kearney, where he will stop briefly on his way home to Portland, Oregon. Tom is prospering in his western enterprises.

Saturday morning a wagon load of provisions and an advance guard left for the hills some twenty miles up the country from Burwell, to locate camp for about a dozen of the local sports. That evening a number of the party left on the train for Burwell in order to get an early start the next morning, the balance following in automobiles. They will be gone for about a week recuperating and having a good time hunting.

A child of John Connor met with a very severe accident Monday on the Fred Kuehl farm. The little fellow was around where they were putting hay in the new barn and must have taken hold of the rope of the hay fork just above the swivel pully. Anyway his hands were both drawn into the pully and two fingers of one hand cut off and the other hand badly lascerated. Dr. Haldeman had to amputate two of the fingers.

A REAL BALL GAME

The day was fine, the sky was blue and the married men looked true as they unraveled the skein of married life onto the single men to a fare-you-well, in Johnny-go-easy manner last Saturday on the upper Mira Valley diamond. In fact the single men played very singular, while the married fellow were always on their pins for double plays, and most always made connections in the highest baseblll science. And these pural plays seemed a great puzzle to the supposed lonely singles. Clyde Harris as captain, leader and then some more, was very enthusiastic and tried very much to have this enthusiasm become contagious among his single team, but without much success. Otto Fuss was the first man up and he showed no signs of being married neither did he land on the ball. However, he tried as hard as a single man could. Fritz Voegler was next. He was up on his toes and landed hard on the leather cover and succeeded in getting home O. K., a married man. Clyde Harris next in line, but it seems weather, or the pitcher or the married ladies were too much for him. Yet this is not yet determined.

Ollie Bell was the first married man up, but he looked tired of married life, and he failed to find Fritz Voeglers curves. Ormsby Petty followed, and landed like a married man should at home, with a score. Wilmore Gray and Everett Petty got put out of commission before they reached home.

Players consisted as follows:

Ormsby Petty, p; Wilmore Gray, c; Ed Armstrong, ss; E. Petty fb; O. Bell sb; J. Bremer, tb; Bud Bell lf; J. Ward, cf; S. White, rf.

Fritz Voegler, p; Otto Fuss, c; R. Rich, ss; Clem Meyers, fb; Clyde Harris, sb; L. Ollis tb; W. J. Armstrong, lf; W. J. Byington, rf; Will Ollis, cf. Wilson Bell, umpire.

Clem Meyers.

R. B. Kipling returned from Canada last week Friday noon, bringing very flattering reports of that country. He says that his sons Frank, Ed and Thompson, all of whom are there, are doing well.

Vera Smith, a registered pharmacist, arrived from North Loup last Friday night to take charge of the prescription business of the Parkins drugstore for a few days.

Mrs. Carlson, who had been here for a few days on a visit with her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Robbins, returned home to Central City last week Friday.

Personal to Senator Ollis

Senator Ollis is authority for the statement that he heard that someone said that his opponent, M. L. Fries, would not vote for Aldrich. Ollis is careful to say that he was not giving this out on his own authority, but that someone told him so, and he did not say who the someone is. We were certain that there was nothing in the story, for we knew that Mr. Fries was one of the earnest advocates for the nomination of Aldrich, the two men agreeing perfectly on the dominant issues of this campaign. But to make assurance doubly sure Mr. Fries was called up on the phone and the report retold to him. His denial is emphatic and clear. Of course he is for Aldrich for governor and deems the election of Dahlman would be a dire calamity to Nebraska. Before repeating this yarn Senator Ollis would have made more votes in seeking a verification.

By way of refutation let us reprint a letter of Mr. Fries's to C. H. Aldrich, which was printed in the State Journal at the time:

"ARCADIA, Neb., Aug. 29.—I have been out of the state nearly three months and have just returned home. Sickness and death in my family kept me away so that I was not here at the primary election.

"I congratulate you on your nomination and will do all I can for your election. I want to see the principles you stand for win. I am in harmony with the ticket and with the platform. I never knew a platform that I liked better. With united action and a a strong and hard pull we ought to win.

"While I was away my friends put me on the ticket by petition for the office of state senator, and I was nominated at the primaries. Now I expect to do my very best to spend next winter at Lincoln with you fighting for the principles for which we both stand. Here's hoping for their success. Very truly yours,

M. L. FRIES."

Now that Mr. Ollis is so concerned about Fries sppporting his party candidate for governor, the public would like to hear from Ollis about how he will vote, and to this end will Mr. Ollis please answer a few questions:

First, Mr. Ollis, are you in favor of county option?

Second, are you going to vote for Dahlman for governor?

Third, if you are for county option and intend to vote for Dahlman, how do you justify your proposed action? How is it consistent to favor a great proposition and then vote for a man for governor who says that he will veto any law of the kind that comes up?

Fourth, if you pledge yourself to vote for county option will you vote to pass a county option law over Dahlman's veto?

A little light on this subject will greatly oblige your friends and supporters and may make you some votes.

Still Harping on Buying the Plant

About every so often the Journal has brought up the question of the city buying the Ord electric light plant. It has told us repeatedly that the owner of the plant "has, we understand," offerd to sell the plant at a fair figure. Each time the Journal gets off some more such "we understand" talk, but never yet has Davis or Stevens, or any other of the interested parties, confided to the public what the offer is. In fact up till the last meeting of the city council all the talk has been Journal talk and so no one has paid any attention to it. But now the city council has taken action by appointing a committee of three, Stevens, Shershen and Keown, to investigate the proposition and report at the next meeting of the council.

All this will doubtless come to an end when the proposition is put up to the city attorney, who will promptly inform the city council that it has no authority to buy an electric light plant. The city may "establish" an electric light plant, or it may let the contract "for the erection and construction" of an electric light plant. But it has no power to buy an established plant.

Grand Island was up against this proposition that we know about and doubtless hundreds of cities have had the same proposition put up to them, but not one of them has found a way to avoid the law. If a city wants to go into the electric light business it must do so in the manner prescribed by law, which is to vote bonds and establish a plant of its own.

So the Journal might as well turn its attention to some other form of graft.

The Quiz would much like to see the city schools supplied with a little musical training as part of the course. This could be done with but little expense and the good to come of it would surely be appreciable. We are spending our thousands each year to keep this fine school of ours going for the benefit of the hundreds of pupils, and no one regrets the money. But while we are teaching Latin and geometry and geography and other useful things the most pratical of all studies and the most beneficial of all in a limited degree we are ignoring altogether. Music if taught sparingly in our schools would be not only a recreation to the hundreds of pupils, but would be a help in all of the other lessons. And who knows what musical talent will lie dormant if not roused in the early years of our young people? Ord is shamefully neglecting its interests and the welfare of the school children by giving no instruction in the art of music.

It pays to have the county board democratic and its printing done by a democratic paper, eh? The Journal was given the job of printing the delinquent tax list and did it as anyone does things for no other purpose than soaking the county. The list should have appeared in the Journal last week, but it did not. In consequence the printing of it now is worth just as much to the county as printing it ten years from now would be. The law says that the delinquent tax list must be printed for three consecutive weeks prior to the sale beginning the first week in October. Last week was the first week in October and the list was not printed. In consequence any land sold at the sale next month will not be sold at all. The sale would be knocked out without a contest as soon as the certificate of publication is filed showing the advertisement was commenced after the first week in October. It pays to have democrat papers do public printing.

The Journal is laboring under the delusion that the Quiz editor wants the postoffice to remain in the present quarters, and so makes a great ado about the premises, even alluding to the building as old and rickety. Davis also stultifies himself by saying that he learns by grapevine telegraph that the department had offered the Quiz an advertisement asking for bids for another room, and that we had refused to print it. Even a poker-fiend editor ought to know that this could not be, and in fact no such advertisement was ever offered us by the postoffice department.

DAHLMAN JUMPED HIS TAXES

Burwell Tribune.

Rev. Gearhart united in marriage Wednesday evening, Walter P. Jones and Miss Bertha E. Scott. Both bride and groom are well and favorably known in this community and have many friends that wish them well.

George D. Olson, residing in the eastern part of the county came into Burwell Tuesday afternoon bringing with him one Charles Roepke, and upon the advice of the county attorney, filed charges of insanity against him. It seems that Roepke has been making his home at the Olson place for some time and that during the past few weeks he has had fits of insanity in which he attempted to do bodily harm to Mr. Olson. Monday when Olson was least expecting it Roepke struck him over the head with a chair cutting quite a gash in his head and all but putting him out of business for a time. With the filing of the complaint the man was taken before the board of insanity and thorough examination of the patient's mental condition made. While at the time of the examination Roepke did not show any violent symptoms it was quite evident to all the members of the board that his mind was not right, and that it would be unsafe to allow him longer to go at large, hence an order was made committing him to the asylum. Roepke is a single man of middle age and we understand that there is very little hope that he will ever recover from his present condition. Wednesday morning Sheriff Waters left with him for Hastings, word having been received from that place that they could make room for him.

Taylor News

Addie, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Troxel, was painfully injured last Monday while herding cattle. Her horse threw her and her foot caught in the stirrup. She was dragged and bruised and her leg broken in two places. She was not found for two hours after the accident. Burwell doctors arrived two hours later and set the broken limb of the little sufferer. She is getting along as well as could be expected.

North Loup Loyalist.

E. C. Helbig and Miss Nellie Rich were married Tuesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Barnhart in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties, Rev. H. A. Brink officiating. These popular young people start out in life under very favorable circumstances, and with the best wishes of a large circle of friends and acquaintances.

L. E. Knapp and Myrtle Eagelhoff went to the U. B. parsonage at Midvale Wednesday and were married by the pastor, Rev. Caldwell. Only a few friends were present when they were made husband and wife. A reception was given them last night at the home of the groom's mother on Davis C reek. They will be at home to their friends on a farm he has rented as soon as the farm is vacated.

George Trefren and Mrs. H. S. Wheeler left Tuesday morning for Dun, Virginia, where they will remain indefinitely. John Wheeler has bought land there and he and Rate have gone with their car and will join Mr. Trefren and Mrs. Wheeler. The Wheelers and Trefrens have been connected with the development of the Upper Davis Creek country ever since its settlement and the neighborhood will be at a loss to know how to get along without them.

Sargent Leader.

After a period of illness from typhoid fever, Chris Jensen, resumed his place as manager of the Koupal & Barstow lumber yard in this city Monday. Mr. Jensen has made a wonderful rapid recovery from the sickness after being able to leave his bed, to which he was confined for five weeks.

Comstock News

Jim Petet, Jr., accidently ran a nail in his foot Monday while working around the Wheeler residence now under construction. The nail penetrated the foot the entire length, showing through the cuticle on the top side. The wound was very sore and bothersome for a time.

A large barn in the north-west part of Comstock, belonging to Jack Dye, caught fire in some mysterious manner, about 12 o'clock last Wednesday night. It seems no one knows how the fire originated, and it is thought it was set on fire by some unknown person. Besides the barn, a quantity of alfalfa, a calf and numerous other articles of value were consumed. The loss was considerable. We are not advised as to the amount of insurance carried, if any.

Several cases of an eruptive disease, at first supposed to be chickenpox has appeared in Comstock lately. A case or two, however, assumed to the appearance of small-pox. Dr. Prest had them quarantined and called Drs. Pennington and Fenstermacher, who pronounced it a mild form of the disease. The cases are all of mild character, not one of the patients being confined to their beds. All have been quarantined and no fears are expressed concerning serious results.

Heart Failure

Of the many deaths from heart failure very few realize in advance the seriousness of their condition. When the heart shows a weakness, such as palpitation, short breath, pain in chest and in side, it needs attention just as much as other organs do when they fail to do their work well. For any condition of heart trouble you can rely on

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy.

It will strengthen and regulate the heart action, and enable it to overcome the strain upon its weakened condition.

"I had heart trouble. My son induced me to try Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy. I took in all four bottles for a complete cure."

PHAIR SENT TO THE PEN

The chief business done by the district court last week was the trial of Orville Phair for an attempt to rape. This case began last week Wednesday and lasted till Friday morning. The procuring of a jury was not so very difficult a job, but all citizens of the city were excused after the necessary examination. With twelve good men and true in the jury box the state presented its case. County Attorney C. A. Davis and Aaron Wall of Loup City appearing for the state and H. A. Robbins and C. A. Bragg for the defense.

The taking of testimony and the presentation of the case to the jury took till Thrusday evening and the jury was out all night, returning a verdict of guilty at breakfast time Friday morning.

The testimony brought out was in substance as shown in these columns the time of the affair.

The verdict meets with general approval by the public.

Of course a motion for a new trial was made, but the judge over-ruled the motion and ordered the prisoner sent to the penitentiary for five years at hard labor.

Saturday morning Sheriff Sutton departed with this prisoner and turned him safely over to the penitentiary authorities.

The success of this prosecution will have a very salutary effect upon the doings of the lower class, we hope.

The case of the state of Nebraska against Leonard Bright for attempted rape was settled out of court, the defendant agreeing to plead guilty to simple assault. This was done because of the position of the state in the matter of testimony. The only witness that could be put on the stand to prove the charge was the victim of the assault, and she being only eight years of age and a nervous child, who would become almost hysterical when ever the question was brought up to her, the state was sure that the proper proof could not be produced and so by agreement the prisoner agreed to plead guilty to assault. This was accordingly done and the court sentenced him to 60 days in the county jail.

In the district court last week Sleet Yarnell, charged with assault upon his wife, pleaded guilty and was fined $40 and costs, amounting in all to about $75. Since the trouble with his wife last summer they have been living apart, and Sleet has been trying manfully to make a living at day labor. The fine, while no more than it should be, was not at all an easy proposition for him to meet. He was able to pay the fine and so escaped going to jail.

After the disposition of the three criminal cases billed for last week the court adjourned till today, when the work of the court came up again.

Stuff that wins at the big state fairs is the kind that must be good. It pays to have good stuff and it pays to let the judges say so. This combination of things brought a great number of bidders to Meese's sale Tuesday, and these with the help of home buyers who were bound that all the best was not going to leave this county made the prices paid.

The first real cold snap came on us Tuesday night, and of course caught a lot of us unprepared for the trouble. Yesterday the draymen and coal men were busy looking after the urgent needs of a proscrastinating public. The weather did not reach the freezing point then, but it was raw and cold enough for overcoats.

Yesterday morning Mrs. Haldeman went to Seward, she being a delegate to the state meeting of the Daughters of the Republic. She was on the program yesterday, her part being a response to the address of welcome. You may be sure that she said something worth hearing.

Frank Potter and wife returned last week Monday night from a visit to Nuckolls county. When there they were entertained by Porter Long and brought back some big corn ears to prove that Porter was doing well. Glad to know it.

Now Burwell comes forward with a rape case. A young fellow living west of town is accused of attempted rape on the person of a fifteen-year old girl. If there is any cussedness doing you may depend on Burwell to be in the front rank.

Last Saturday morning Mrs. Nels Johnson and W. B. Gregg went to Genoa being called there by a telegram stating that their father was failing fast and could not survive.

Sam Vanscoy went to North Platte yesterday to accompany his son Sammy home to Ord. The latter has a team and they may drive back if the weather is propicious.

Mrs. P. P. Bishop, who had been here for a few days on a visit with her sister, Mrs. A. T. Barber, returned home to Shell City, Mo., last Friday morning.

Mr. Huff has been enjoying a visit from his mother for a few days. She returned home to South Omaha yesterday morning.

Mrs. Grace Ackerman arrived Monday evening from Wichita, Kansas, to be in attendance at the divorce trial of Ackerman vs. Ackerman.

After a couple of months sojourn in the mountain country Norm Parks returned Monday evening and is again working in the Journal office.

Mrs. C. M. Brand, mother of Mrs. W. L. McNutt, and Mrs. Elmer Mead a sister, left Tuesday morning for their home at West Liberty, Iowa, after a very pleasant visit here. They were accompanied as far as Grand Island by Mrs. McNutt.

Andy Litz and wife, of Bassett, were here for a couple of weeks. The lady is sister of Mrs. McMindes and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Arnold. Last Saturday the McMindes accompanied them as far as Grand Island on their way home.

Carl Holm returned Monday night from his trip to California, where he went three weeks before as a delegate from the Danish Brotherhood. He reports a fine experience and is very glad that he was sent on this trip.

Tuesday afternoon at the home of Dr. M. Bamford at Hastings, occurred the marriage of Harold W. Parks of this city and Miss Edna L. Huddleston of Sutton, Dr. Bamford conferring authority upon them to live together as husband and wife. After a bridal trip to Denver and adjacent places they will take up their residence in this city. We wish them well, and may they live long and prosper.

PARTY WITHOUT COHERENCY

Colonel Roosevelt seems to have hit upon a happy definition of the democratic party when he terms it a party without coherency. It stands for one thing in one state and another thing in another. It runs Bryan, the ultra-radical, for president in one campaign and Parker, the ultra-conservative, in the next; returns to Bryan in a third and then waits to see what gubernatorial nominee can win a victory and qualify for the presidential nominee in 1912.

Not only a party without coherency, it is a party without real principles. It is ever willing to turn from principle to political expediency if by so doing it can secure the first advantage toward victory. It is a rehabitation of the old spoils system in politics, which this party of Bryan, Murphy, Harmon, Gaynor and Francis would foist upon the people.

What is there that a party of promise without performance can offer the people as against the efficiency, the material progress of the party in power, the party of deeds, not words. Mr. Bryan, himself, furnishes the best evidence of the total lack of party coherency when he repudiates the democratic nominees in one state and advocates their election in another this year on purely local issues. The fact of the matter is that the democrats are making their entire campaign upon a negative basis, seeking merely to tear down by misrepresentation and sophistry what the republicans have built up.—Omaha Bee.

Yesterday morning Dr. Haldeman had a hurry-up call at an early hour, and was running his little Reo up the Haskell creek road at a lively rate and came to sudden grief at the corner where the road turns around the short bend in the creek this side of the bridge. You know they are putting in a cement bridge at the foot of the hill over Haskell Creek. To notify the public that the place is impassable a post was set in the middle of the road and a heavy plank put up to the adjacent fence. This was set so that a person coming up the road from the south could not see it till the corner was reached. Well the doctor had had no knowledge of the plank being put there and of course could not see it till he was close upon the obstruction. The result was that he hit the post and plank and dislodged the whole outfit. The post was torn out and the plank split into several slivers. But so far as he could see all the damage to his automobile was the demolition of his lamps. When the crash came the doctor thought first of the precipitous bank just ahead, but he got the machine stopped without being tumbled down this embankment. After taking an inventory of himself the doctor wound up the machine again and went on his way.

With Norm Parks again at the head of the mechanical department of the Journal that paper will now make its appearance on schedule time. That afflicted publication has been having a serious time with new printers for several weeks and in consequence has been seriously discommoded. But things are in shape again now and all is well.

Mads Sorensen was here the first of the week, leaving Tuesday morning for Canada with Will Nelson in tow as a prospective land buyer. They will be joined at Omaha by the Carl Oleson family, who left Monday morning, having shipped their car of goods a week previous, and will hereafter make their home in the King's domain.

Monday morning A. J. Firkins, F. M. Harris, Dow Harris, and James Nay went to Lincoln, where they will join the excursion to Texas for the purpose of looking over the land offerings there. Of course A. J. will call on the O. S Haskell family and may also visit southern Missouri, where A. R. Haskell lives.

Mrs. Harold W. Robbins left Tuesday morning for her home at University Place, after a week's visit at the Robbins home. Harold, who was also visiting here, left the day previous to attend to his business over the state.

Mr. and Mrs. Hiden and the Mesdames Marquette, Keider and Hiden all of York were here last week as the guests of the Emil Fuss family. They all returned home Monday morning.

Messrs. Rassett and Morrow are delegates to the grand lodge of the Odd Fellows this week, going to Lincoln Monday morning, where the sessions are being held.

Miss Johanna Christensen went to Alberta, Canada, Monday, where she will spend the winter with the A. Anderson family.

W. A. Emal and wife arrived in the city last Friday evening and are visiting at the Andrew Peterson home at Rosevale.

Mrs. Carl Olsen and three children departed Monday morning for Canada, where her husband preceded her a few days ago.

Some man is always before the crowd, the nation's hero, of whom we're proud! We yell and dance when we hear his name, we swear he's gathered immortal fame, we find his picture on every page when the papers come to our hermitage, and our heads swell up for a half a mile if the great man gives us a pleasant smile. But the man who is making this country great is not the fellow of great estate. He doesn't ride in a palace car and tell the crowds what his pipe dreams are. He doesn't hold that the corner rock of government is a mass of talk. He does his work and saws his wood; his life is clean and his credit good; he loves his home and he loves his wife, and he doesn't yearn for the circus life; he pays his debts and he goes to church, and helps the neighbor who's in the lurch. He doesn't lecture his fellow man, who's doubtless doing the best he can. He shuns the noise of the world's applause, his hands are busy and not his jaws; he walks through life with a fearless tread, and dies at last like a thoroughbred.—Walt Mason.

There are a long and a short fellow in Cap Harris's gang of carpenters who have a friendly feeling for watermelons, and especially so when they can get them unknown to the owner. Last week while they were putting up a barn out on the Bert Dye place in Rosevale some little bird volunteered the information that there was a nice patch of melons in a neighboring field. Of course there is nothing strange about this, but as the story was told us, the boys went out under cover of darkness one night to find out what kind he was growing. Satisfied that the brand was to their liking they made trip number two the following evening. Now a couple of the bunch got their heads working and put up a job on the others, going over to the neighbor and informing him of their plans. They then armed themselves with a shot gun, a couple of blank cartridges and some loose shot, and laid in wait for their victims. As soon as they arrived the one with the gun fired a couple of blank shells at them while the others threw the shot, and the race that followed would do credit to a professional sprinter. After about three miles had been covered in a little more than that many minutes it dawned on them that they had been jobbed, and were finally induced to go back and have some melons.

Miss Mann accompanied Miss Morris last Saturday to St. Paul on her weekly pilgrimage to Paultown.

EDITOR M'CRACKEN DEAD

Under a Greeley date line of October 18, the Lincoln Star publishes the following: Word was received here Monday that George F. McCracken died Sunday of typhoid fever in a hospital at Edmonton, Alberta, Canada. Mr. McCracken was owner of the Leader-Independent at this place, and up to last January had entire control, when he turned over the editorial work to A. S. Davis and then left for a year's work in Canada as bookkeeper for the Phelan-Shirley company of Omaha, who were building a railroad out of Edmonton. The news comes as a surprise, for no one here knew of his sickness.

Two strangers struck town last week with a Chalmers-Detroit auto of high grade and a year's use. They claimed to be from Texas on a return trip from South Dakota, where their wealthy fathers had sent them with plenty of money, which had slipped away from them in manners well known to some young folks. They frankly admitted that they were broke and wanted to sell their machine. The outfit new stood them about $1750, but they offered it for $1200 less than that rather than to send home for more money. Our local speculators looked temptedly upon the offer, but feared that the title might not be good. The young men told where they were from and offered to wait till any buyer could satisfy themselves as to the validity of their title to the machine by wiring to the bank at their Texas home. While the others were looking the proposition in the mouth Albert Mc Mindes got his sporting blood up and offered the boys $500 for the outfit and told them to go on and never mind proving their title. They accepted and departed by rail. Later a telegram from the Texas bank assured Mac that the sale was valid.

W. A. Dye was making fence last week Thursday and had the usual fence builder's luck. He was pulling a wire through the weeds and of course the wire stuck for a while and then let loose, coming at him with a zip, hitting him on the cheek. The trifling wound did not amount to anything at first. It bled a drop or two and did not hurt to amount to anything. But after a few hours it began to pain him and his cheek and neck began to swell. He then called in the assistance of a doctor and the work of getting him out of trouble began. It did not prove to be a very serious affair, though it compelled him to lose some sleep for a night or two.

Of course Congressman Hitchcock never paid it back. None of these defaulters ever do.

Hitchcock says that Edgar Howard is a hypocrite and Edgar Howard says that Congressman Hitchcock borrowed several thousand of the state money that Treasurer Bartley was loaning to his friends, and that Hitchcock never paid it back. Probably both are correct in their charges.

Here it seems we have had in congress for six years a representative who borrowed money of State Treasurer Bartley and aided that defaulter very materially in being unable to put the money back when he went out of office. And now that same congressman wants to be senator in place of that peerless official, Senator Burkett. Will the people of Nebraska elect him?

Say, is not that Omaha bunch the limit? The first two names on the democratic ticket, for U. S. senator and governor, are about as odious just now as they make them. Hitchcock is accused by a leading democrat with having aided in the embezzlemnt of the state's funds, while Dahlman jumped his taxes in Lopp county, was an outlaw for several years under an alias for having shot a man, and is open in his declarations that he will give the state a wide-open administration, just as he is doing now as mayor of Omaha.

HAVE YOU A FAMILY?

If so before buying land either for a home or an investment you should investigate a well improved square section of Custer County land I am offering for sale. Soil all good with clay sub-soil, 350 acres cultivated, 500 acres can be cultivated a large part of which is valley or gently sloping land all in one body, the balance being the finest pasture and meadow. The entire farm fenced and cross fenced, 30 acres in alfalfa, some fine fall wheat. The improvements are all new, extra well built, well painted and consist of house 24x24, four rooms, pantry and closet, barn 33x40, chicken house 10x18, and some other small buildings all on cement foundations. Plenty of pure, cold soft water supplied by well, windmill and tank. 80 rods to school, has local and long distance telephone service and rural mail at the door. Two miles to good inland town with several hunderd people, and consists of: three general stores, hardware store, two implement houses, two banks, two hotels, drug store, two doctors, three churches, blacksmith shops, flouring mill and splendid high school. Price is only $31.25 an acre; $1000 when contract of sale is made, $5000 or $6000 can remain against the land for a term of five years at 6 per cent interest if desired. At present this farm is situated 20 miles from a railroad town but a track has been graded most of the way to this farm and just as soon as this is in operation this land will be worth $50 or $60 an acre. You cannot get this advance if you wait until this takes place, you are sure to get it if you buy now and it is a mighty cheap farm at the price it is being offered at and the terms at which it can be had are uncommonly easy. This farm will justify the purchase of an automobile which will put you in a position to reach towns very easy. The surrounding country is highly improved and produces large crops of corn, alfalfa and fall wheat. This is certainly a great lay-out for a family of growing boys. Call or write.

OPERA HOUSE SATURDAY NIGHT, OCTOBER 22

May Stewart and a strong company will appear at the opera house Saturday night in James Sheridan Knowles great comedy drama, "The Hunchback." Miss Stewart will be remembered for her excellent work in our city last spring in "The Sculptor's Dream".

The supporting company is larger and stronger than last year and is headed by the well known Shakespearean actor, Mr. Edward D'Oize, who starred last season with great success in "The Merchant of Venice."

The scenes of "The Hunchback" are laid in England in the 17th century, a period that allows scope for most magnificent costuming, an opportunity which Miss Stewart and her entire company have availed themselves of.

Arcadia Champion.

For some time there has been rumor that Bahde Bauman Company were about to dispose of their general merchandise business at this place, but it was not until Tuesday evening that they closed a deal with John Wall. Mr. Wall is to take possession of the stock December 1, and conduct the business from that time.

The friends of Dr. J. B. Anderson were taken entirely by surprise when he arrived Sunday bringing a bride with him. Dr. Anderson and Miss Cleo Pruner were quietly married in Avoca, Iowa, Tuesday, October 5th. The bride is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. H Pruner, of Kennard, Neb. She is an accomplished young lady and an excellent musician, a graduate of Hollings College, West Virginia. She is capable of filling the home she will adorn with happiness and will prove to be truly a helpmate and companion to the husband she has chosen to honor with her hand. The groom is a rising physician of our city. He located here last spring and has built up a good practice and has formed many friendships.

Burwell Tribune.

Art Butts has again sold the Cash Mercantile store, and hereafter the institution will be under the management of Tom Noble and W. S. Green.

Tuesday noon Guy Laverty and Tom Jones went to Ord with Fred Bell via the auto route and from there they were billed to go on down to Omaha to look over the automobile proposition. Guy had already made up his mind to buy a new Buick run-about while Tom will probably put his money into a similar make of car but of a little larger dimensions.

At the regular meeting of the county board last week Mrs. G. A. Butts was appointed as county superintendent to hold the office until after election. As yet the appointee has not qualified for the appointment and it is probable that she will not do so unless some special school work requiring the services of a county superintendent should come up before a new superintendent is elected.

Last Saturday morning Ed Noble departed for his new location at Shoshone, Idaho. Before leaving he had a flattering offer from a local concern to remain here but as he had previously made up his mind to try the west he could not be induced to change his plans. His family will remain in Burwell during the coming winter or until such a time as Ed gets things to moving along smooth out there.

Through oversight The Tribune failed to make mention last week of the marriage of Joe Faymon to Mary Miksik. The wedding ceremony was performed at the home of John Tuma, of Burwell, on Wednesday, October 12, County Judge Todd officiating. This young couple is well known throughout the county and have a host of friends that wish them well. They will make their home on a farm some ten miles east of Burwell.

North Loup Loyalist.

Clarence Babcock and Miss Martha Jakey were married at the home of the bride at Oshkosh, Wisconsin, Monday, October, 10. This will come as a surprise to his friends as few thought he contemplated taking such a rash step.

Mrs. Eva Hill, Vivian Hill, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hill went to Falls City Monday to attend the wedding of Judson Hill and Miss Dorothea White. The ceremony was performed at the home of the bride by her pastor, in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. The bridal couple are at home in Sioux City where the groom is employed in the music department of a large store. Of course the bride is a stranger to all of Jud's many friends at this place, yet all extend the usual congratulations.

Sargent Leader.

Attorney Clements of Ord passed through here Tuesday on his way to Broken Bow, where he will defend the divisionists in the court mandate order asked for by Joseph Pigman. J. W. Lundy and E. P. Leach accompanied Mr. Clements from here as pilots and also to see that the case would be decided fairly. As the forms are being locked up to print this issue word was received that the trial has not taken place yet, hence the result cannot be chronicled until the next week.

Fay Livermore and Fern Hesselgesser were united in marriage at Taylor Wednesday, October 12. The young people are well and favorably known and count their friends by their acquaintances. The groom was among the number of business men in this city, conducting a cream station and manufactured ice cream, besides handled poultry and ice. The bride is the charming daughter of Robert Hesselgesser, progressive farmer residing northwest of town. For the present the young people will make their home with the groom's mother in this city.

Last Sunday morning at the Methodist church, just after the singing of the solo, a distressing accident befell a small child of E. M. Whitford. The little one was at the window, which was held open by a prop, and getting hold of the prop pulled it out, allowing the heavy sash to come down on the fingers of one of its hands. The parents and others raised the window from the bruised fingers which looked then to be broken. Fortunately the prop, which was a pieece of fishpole, had fallen across the sill and, though crushed, it partly broke the force of the window sash. The doctor found that the bones were not broken, though the flesh was badly lacerated.

Broken Leg Snider, the man who suffered a fracture of his leg in a smash-up witth Mr. Burdick some months ago, is back in town and of course was drunk again. He was pulled last night and fined $5 and costs, amounting to about $9, which of course, he was unable to pay and so he is languishing in jail.

GIRLS IN CITIES.

The young girl who tried dramatically to take her life in New York recently through disappointment and disillusion placed the blame upon the wrong shoulders. It in no degree rests upon either the business or public social side of American life, says Washington Post. The responsibility for such an outcome must be borne by those who are in duty bound to give their children right views of life. The sight of a young girl, however precocious, going to a city like New York without friends or advisers to whom she would listen, and very evidently head-strong and impulsive, there to spend two years writing a book and precious manuscripts which she romantically wishes to be buried with her, calls forth nothing but pity. But this sentiment does not obscure the fact that the girl was permitted to gain a false view of herself and her relations with the world. Acts such as hers in no degree justify the wholesale condemnation of the business life of our cities or warrant the sweeping statement of a young girl facing at once both womanhood and eternity in saying that "a girl cannot get along honorably in New York."

Still another use for automobiles. The town of Jamaica, L. I., had an unpleasant time when a main burst and the water supply was shut off completely. To say nothing of the annoyance, inconvenience and danger in private dwellings, the orphan asylum and other institutions were subjected to especially distressing experiences. To meet at least partially the demand an automobile service was organized, the machines going with tanks, barrels and other receptacles to points where water could be obtained and bringing it to those in need. This was at best but a poor substitute for the regular system, yet it proved that in time of stress the auto is a valuable auxiliary.

Still they come, those Chinese students who are to be trained at American educational institutions. A party of sixty-eight has arrived at Honolulu. These students are some of the number sent by the Chinese government, the expenses to be paid from the Boxer indemnity money returned by the United States, says Troy Times. That kindly act has brought a rich reward in the form of the esteem, gratitude and confidence of China and the influence that will be exerted through the absorption of American ideas by the bright young men who are the beneficiaries of the arrangement.

Engineers at work on the Panama canal propose to leave as little as possible to chance. They are now engaged in experiments to determine the effect of sea water on concrete, enormous quantity of which is employed in the construction of the canal. Concrete in different stages of preparation and with various forms of protection will be subjected to the action of the salt water and the results will be carefully noted. Probably there never was a great undertaking of this kind in which so many precautions were taken to guard against future risk.

Germans usually do things thoroughly, and the announcement that there is no cholera in Berlin, although the disease has broken out in the vicinity, no doubt testifies to the effectiveness of the safeguards employed. Modern medical science is usually victorious over the ailments once regarded as scourges, against which it was almost useless to contend. Yellow fever, cholera and the like are no longer the terror they were formerly.

General information concerning infantile paralysis is meager, but since a woman of sixty-six has died of the malady, the fact is plain that the scientists who gave it a name were not overcrowded with information either.

MAINE TO BE RAISED

ARMY ENGINEERS HAVE STUDIED OUT THE DETAILS.

PRESIDENT APPROVES THE PLAN

Paramount Question, in Opinion of Mr. Taft, Is What Caused the Sinking — Disposition of Hulk Unsettled.

Beverly, Mass.—President Taft has finally approved plans for raising the wreck of the battleship Maine, which calls for the completion of the work on or before the thirteenth anniversary of the destruction of the war vessel, February 15 next. The work is to be done according to plans made by army engineers, and to be under direction of an engineer officer. President Taft believes that the paramount question is the determining for all time of the cause of the explosion, and whether the source of destruction was from the outside or inside of the vessel, and has invited Spain to send a representative to be present during the work of exposing and removing the wreck.

The disposition of the old hulk remains to be settled. Army engineers believe it will be possible to float the after two-thirds of the vessel. The forward third, where the explosion wrought the greatest havoc and killed the greatest number of the crew while they were asleep in their quarters, is believed to be too far gone even to be taken out whole, and the wreckage will be removed piecemeal.

Discover His Ancestor.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Caesar Columbus of Eastville, Pa., appeared in the United States circuit court here and declared he had been waiting for Columbus day before asking for naturalization papers. Columbus was born at Mazittle, Italy, July 4, 1887, and has been in this country since July 30, 1905. He said he could trace his line without break to the man who discovered America.

Sale of Surplus Lands.

Washington, D. C.—In the hope of insuring the Seminole Indians of a desirable class of white men, the Indian bureau has promulgated a new set of regulations for the sale of surplus land held by Indians. The new rules apply to all such lands throughout the country, and comprise several million acres. The principal feature is a provision for deferred payment in the purchase of Indian land.

Dawson Going to Nicaragua.

Panama.—Thomas C. Dawson, the American minister to Panama, will leave on the United States gunboat Vicksburg for Managua as the special agent of the United States to study the political and financial situation in Nicaragua. Mr. Dawson probably will report the basis of a special treaty between the two countries which will tend to insure permanent peace in Nicaragua.

Paris Likes Our Potatoes.

Paris.—A commission of scientists has come to the conclusion that American potatoes are no longer a source of contamination, and the French government has decided to admit this product, which has been barred out of France since 1875, on the ground that it was infected with a disease dangerous to French potatoes.

The French potato crop this year is poor.

Tornadoes in Havana.

Havana.—Havana is under the influence of a cyclone which is approaching from the southwest, accompanied by a heavy rain. The wind increased greatly toward nightfall, but up to a late hour no damage had been reported in Cuba. The center of the cyclone passed over the Isle of Pines shortly after noon, probably doing extensive damage.

Boy Scouts in Fatal Affray.

Saratoga.—Roger Davison, eleven years old was shot and instantly killed in the woods by the accidental discharge of a rifle in the hands of a playmate. The Davison boy and several playmates about his age, armed with rifles were "scouting" in preparation for joining a company of "scouts" about to be formed here.

Harrisburg, Pa.—One of the greatest patriotic demonstrations ever held in the United States will take place in 1913 on the battlefield of Gettysburg, if the plans discussed at a preliminary meeting of the arrangements committee here today are carried out. The demonstration will be in observance of the fiftieth anniversary of the great battle between the union army under General Meade and the confederate forces under General Lee.

Wants Coal Fields Opened.

Juneau, Alaska.—Governor Walter E. Clark, who has returned from a seventy day tour of Alaska, said that in his annual report to the president he would make a recommendation concerning the opening of the great coal fields of the territory. It is understood that he favors leasing the land, but he declined to outline his plan further than to say that it provided for protection of the people against the coal falling into the hands of monopolists.

Paris.—The arrest of some of the most prominent strike leaders and the failure of the large majority of the employes of the Eastern railroad, the Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean and the Paris-Orleans roads to respond to the strike order have had the effect of dampening the spirits of the strikers, who number about 100,000 men, and of encouraging the government to continue its repressive measures with a firm hand. Many of those who have been called to colors have responded, but as yet they have not been ordered to service on the railroad.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA

Second Crop of Strawberries.

Johnson County—John P. Vickroy, of Tecumseh, is marketing strawberries. It is the second crop from his beds this year. Mr. Vickroy has a large berry patch and sold a great many berries from the same this spring.

Kearney Soldiers' Monument.

Buffalo County—Elaborate preparations are being made for the ceremonies that will accompany the unveiling of the soldiers' and sailors' monument in Kearney on the 27th of October. Several prominent men of the state will be present and deliver speeches.

Nebraska Boy Heard From.

Richardson County—William McBride, a former Stella boy, whose whereabouts has for many years been unknown to his relatives, has turned up as the man who took the official photographs of the remains of Belle Elmore for the Scotland Yard detectives in London.

St. Joe Man in Jail.

Buffalo County—Roy Chadwick of St. Joseph, Mo., is in jail in Kearney charged by his wife with threatening to kill her because she would not come back and live with him. They have been separated for seventeen months, and the wife has been teaching school near Amherst.

Crops in Cuming.

Cuming County—Corn throughout this county is practically made and the major portion of the crop is beyond the reach of frost. The hay crop is exceedingly poor, the lightest in years. Potatoes are a very light crop, one three-acre patch near the city, which promised well early in the season, produced only ten bushels.

Had to Return Money.

Nemeha County—A man appeared in Auburn recently soliciting funds for a church and the more he was questioned the less he would say. He had quite a list of recommendations, several of which proved to be fakes when the parties whose names were attached were called. He had $109 on his person when arrested. He was finally allowed to return the money he had collected in Auburn and take his departure.

Beet Sugar Grind Begins.

Hall County—The Grand Island factory of the American Beet Sugar company has begun the manufacture of sugar from the season's crop of beets. The tonnage is reported good and the sugar content of the beets is higher than for three years. There will be a long campaign, there being a good acreage this year. The company is already putting out contracts for next year at the same terms—$5.00 per ton flat.

Sneak Thief Gets $325.

Dodge County—Checks and money to the extent of $325 were taken from the residence of Joseph Snyder, three miles east of Fremont, by a sneak-thief who entered the place while Mr. and Mrs. Snyder were milking the cows. Mr. Snyder had been in Fremont during the day to sell some grain and produce. He took the money home in a grip. While he was milking the grip disappeared.

Private Soldier Decapitated.

Douglas County—Either by accident in attempting to board a Missouri Pacific freight train upon which it is supposed he intended to beat his way to Fort Leavenworth, Kan., or by committing suicide from some one of several reasons, R. G. Carrott, a soldier of Company K, of the engineer corps, was killed in Omaha Saturday night by a train at Fifteenth and Pratt streets.

Despondent Farmer Kills Self.

Knox County—Despondent over minor difficulties in which he had been involved, Jacob Reiners, a farmer living ten miles southwest of Creighton, committed suicide by hanging himself to his windmill. He had been dead for some time when found.

Funeral of a Suicide.

Colfax County—Joseph Cernin, who committed suicide by throwing himself into a neighbor's well and then putting a bullet into his brain, was laid to rest in the Clarkson cemetery. Cernin was a young man of twenty-three and married. He lived on a farm about nine miles south of Clarkson. Last week he was summoned for jury work and was on the panel last Friday at Schuyler, and at night returned home without being excused. Cernin did not understand English very well and the day's transactions were beyond him and he decided he would not serve longer. Friends explained to him what he had done and he promised to return Monday. It is thought he brooded over the matter and decided to take his life.

Corn is Good.

Frontier County—Many farmers are bringing in samples of corn. It is all to the good and will run from twenty to fifty bushels per acre. The recent showers have put the ground in excellent shape for winter wheat.

Fairbruy Woman Suicides.

Jefferson County—Mrs. Ella Pickering, wife of Ross Pickering, committed suicide at her home at Endicott by hanging. She had been in poor health and had grieved constantly for her child, which died last spring.

Wolbach's Corn Show.

Greeley County—The first day of Wolbach's second annual corn show opened under very auspicious conditions, large delegations of people from Greeley Center, St. Paul, Fullerton and other surrounding towns being present, and there was only one opinion expressed, that being that it was the best corn show that was ever held in this or any surrounding town and would be a credit to any agricultural community. The display of farm products generally was large and of the finest quality.

PARIS HAS PROBLEM

BIG STRIKE ON ITS HANDS AND IT MAY GROW WORSE.

ARMY OF RAILWAY MEN OUT

Decision to Go Out Develops Over Night and the Public Is Taken by Surprise—Military Impressed Into Service.

Paris.—The French government is again facing a serious strike situation. The employes of the Northern railroad went on strike early Tuesday and the strike spread to the Western railroad, which is owned by the state. Indications are that there will be a complete tie-up in northern and western France.

The strike at the present time involves about 70,000 men. The strike on the Western road was voted by 8,000 men employed in Paris and its suburbs. They count upon the national unions to tie up the provinces. It is reported that the movement may possibly also extend to the eastern and the Paris, Lyons & Mediterranean railroads. As is usual in such circumstances, the city of Paris is threatened with a scarcity of food supplies. Freight, mail and other transportation is partly prostrated and the vast army of working people of the northwest quarter are unable to reach their places of business.

The government has decided upon an important step in an attempt to break the strike on the Northern railroad. The official journal publishes a decree calling to the colors of about 30,000 employes of the Northern railroad. This immediately subjects the men to military discipline.

Large Fund For Missions.

Boston.—The national council of congregational churches is holding its session. The various co-operating societies are holding annual meetings simultaneously. Perhaps the most important of the societies is the American board of commissioners for foreign missions, which is celebrating the one hundredth anniversary.

The feature of the foreign missionary meeting was the announcement by the foreign secretary, Rev. Dr. James L. Barton, that Daniel K. Pearsons, the well known philanthropist of Hinsdale, Ill., had promised $100,000 to the board. This sum, it was explained, is an addition to the fund of $1,100,00 donated by less than ten persons during the last year.

Crippen Case Opens.

London.—Probably the trial of Dr. Hawley H. Crippen and Ethel Claire Leneve, for the murder of the former's wife, Belle Crippen, known by the stage name of Belle Elmore, will be opened Wednesday. In presenting the case to the jury the recorder said he considered it doubtful that Miss Leneve knew at the time that a murder had been committed, but recommended that a true bill charging her with being an accessory after the fact be brought against her. A bill in keeping with this and charging Crippen as the principal undoubtedly will be returned.

Forest Fire in Colorado.

Washington.—A serious forest fire, according to advices reaching the forest service, is sweeping Big Chief mountain in Colorado. M. D. McEnery, chief of the field division at Denver sent the following dispatch:

"Fierce fire twelve miles in circumference on Big Chief mountain and in Coal creek canon in northwest corner of Jefferson county on public domain, and fire spreading rapidly. High wind. Am sending forty men with provisions and tools on 5 o'clock train tonight."

Burn Chinese Joss House.

Deadwood.—Rivalry between two factions among the Chinese here is believed to have been the cause of the destruction by fire of the Chinese Masonic lodge rooms, or joss house, and the burning Monday of Sam Wah's laundry. Both fires are declared to have been of incendiary origin, starting in haymows adjoining the buildings. The joss house was erected thirty years ago and Chinatown is stirred by the fire. The factions are headed by Wing Tsue and Hi Kee, both wealthy pioneers.

Says Indians Are Cheated.

Tulsa, Okla.—In an address before an audience composed largely of men interested in the oil industry, Secretary of the Interior Ballinger Tuesday expressed his belief that there is a secret understanding between the oil producers to keep the price of oil down, thereby "cheating the Indian wards of the department of the interior out of money rightfully due them."

St. Louis.—Theodore Roosevelt has made an aeroplane flight and said it was the best experience he ever had. He traveled two times around the aviation field at Kinloch, eighteen miles west of St. Louis, in three minutes and twenty seconds. He waved his hand to the crowds of thousands on the field below, most of whom were too dumfounded and frightened to move. When the machine alighted easily a few feet from the starting point a mighty shout of applause and relief went up.

Fire a Ghastly Lesson.

Bemidji, Minn.—"Minnesota has had a ghastly lesson," says Governor Eberhart. "The loss of life simply appals one, while as a lesson in finance, the property loss and the destruction wrought in our forests will stand as a convincing argument when the legislature meets next January. The loss sustained in the present disaster is more than enough to have insured proper fire protection for the entire state of Minnesota for the next fifteen years."

STATE CAPITAL LINCOLN CHAT.

For Perfect Attendance.

State Superintendent Bishop has just issued a certificate of perfect attendance to Catherine Mohr of Boone county, school district No. 60. The certificate is awarded to her for having been neither absent nor tardy for five consecutive school years. Under a system adopted a number of years ago small certificates are issued by the teachers in the grades to the pupils who are neither absent nor tardy during a school month. When the pupil accumulates a given number of these, the county superintendent issues a larger certificate for perfect attendance, and if the pupil accumulates certificates to show that he has been neither absent nor tardy for a period of five years the larger certificate is issued directly from the office of the state superintendent. Only a very limited number of these are issued each year.

Need Not File Petitions.

Candidates for the legislature who desire to get positions on the ticket by petition need not file petitions with the secretary of state. This is the ruling made by Secretary of State Junkin. He says the law plainly provides that where a candidate for either branch of the legislature desires to go on a ballot by petition he shall file his petition with the county clerk. If the district in which he desires to be a candidate comprises more than one county, the candidate shall file by petition with each county clerk in the district. Mr. Junkin further states that the law places no limit on the time of the filing by petition and that such candidates can file any time before the county clerks have placed the printing of the ballot in the hands of the printer. As long as the county clerk will receive filings by petition, such filings are legal. No political party name can be used.

Judge Dean Withdraws.

The democratic committee of the Sixth congressional district, having received the declination of J. R. Dean to run for congress on the democratic ticket, has notified the secretary of state that the committee held a meeting and nominated W. J. Taylor of Omaha to fill the vacancy. The committee's nomination is certified to by Chairman R. G. Moore and Secretary H. J. Shinn. On the face of the returns, Judge Dean received the democratic nomination by a majority of five votes over Taylor, but Taylor received the populist nomination. Taylor asked for a recount and later the compromise was effected whereby Judge Dean withdrew.

Organized Farmers' Congress.

Forty-one Nebraskans who were delegates to the Farmers' National congress met at the Commercial club and organized the Nebraska Farmers' congress. This congress will deal with questions affecting farming interests within the state just as the national organization handles these questions in a national way. Stock breeders, hog raisers, plain farmers, horticulturists and others were represented. The charter member list also shows a wide scatering of delegates, almost every part of the state being represented.

Will Not Interfere.

For the murder of his sister-in-law, Bert M. Taylor of Minden is to be hanged at the penitentiary on the afternoon of October 28. The supreme court overruled Taylor's motion for a rehearing. This finally disposes of the case in court and nothing except the intervention or the governor or a hearing to determine insanity, granted by a judge of the district in which the conviction took place, can save Taylor from the gallows. It is said by attorneys that neither relief will be granted if asked for.

The state board of purchase and supplies has been notified of an increase in the price of coffee. The board has been somewhat wedded to coffee that costs 15 cents a pound. The board has been buying 15-cent coffee for use in state institutions, the officers of such institutions being excepted from the use of such grade, but now it has been informed that at least 4 cents a pound more will be asked for this coffee by jobbers.

Though Attorney General Thompson has been sworn in as solicitor of the treasury department at Washington, he has not yet severed his connection with the legal department of the state. When he left Mr. Thompson expected to return to Lincoln some time in October and wind up some cases in which the state is a party. He probably will not resign until after election.

The report of Warden Smith for the month of September at the penitentiary shows a lower population than for several months. The number is now down to 425. One man escaped during the month. The receipts for the month were $1,761.91.

No tobacco advertisements are to be carried in the Daily Nebraskan, the daily paper of the university students. At a recent meeting of the board of publication, the business manager was ordered to refuse future copy of this nature.

Company H, Fifth regiment, Nebraska national guard, of Crete, has been ordered out. The reasons given in the order from the office of the adjutant general are distinctly plain. Members of the company are charged with desertion at Fort Riley, some members failed to go and gave no excuses and the company generally is censured for failure to keep up to the required standard of efficiency and discipline. The property of the company is ordered sent into headquarters, all shortages to be deducted from the state pay due the men.

CITY MAY GO HUNGRY

PARIS THREATENED WITH FOOD FAMINE BY STRIKE.

RAILROAD IS BADLY TIED UP

Prospect of Other Lines of Industry Coming to a Standstill and the Situation in Country Admitted to be Grave.

Paris.—The strike of the railroad men, which threatens to spread over entire France is denounced by Premier Briand as an "insurrection purely, built upon criminal foundations." The premier declared that the strike was called while negotiations were going on through himself and the minister of public works for an adjustment of grievances, and promised that the instigators of the strike would be criminally prosecuted.

The river Seine, which in January threatened to destroy Paris, now looms up in the role of savior. The government has now made arrangements to rush food supplies to Paris from the sea, requisitioning all boats to meet the crisis and ease the food market, which is already hard hit. The employes of the Paris & Eastern and Lyons & Mediterranean railroads have not yet to any appreciable extent responded to the leaders' call to strike and the government's weapon of mobilization has induced some of those employed on the Northern road to return to their posts. Nevertheless the Northern and Western railroads are prostrated.

The call to the colors has been ignored by the large majority, and at a mass meeting the strikers reiterated their determination to respond to the call.

Much destruction has been wrought on the western system, where the strikers and their supporters have held up and derailed trains, blockaded tracks, ripped up rails, and cut telephone and telegraph wires. The government has ordered the arrest of a score of strike leaders, and instructions have been issued to the troops to use severe measures whenever occasion requires.

Spain Looks for Trouble.

Madrid.—The government expects that its elaborate military precaution will check the possible rioting in Catalonia on the anniversary of the death of Francisco Ferrer. It is prepared, however, for an emergency. The international congress of free-thinkers opens in Barcelona, and the proposed demonstrations in honor of Ferrer have attracted many anarchists who are being closely shadowed by the police.

High Price for Relic Coins.

New York.—One thousand six hundred and thirty dollars was the price paid for sixty-three one-cent pieces. The coins were of the issue of 1794 and were a part of the Gilbert collection. The prices for the choicest coins ranged from $50 to $101.

Madriz Going to Mexico.

Salina Cruise, Mex.—Dr. Jose Madriz, who was recently defeated by Estrada in the Nicarauguan revolution, has arrived here from Amapala, Honduras. He was accompanied by his wife and will go to Mexico City, where he will practice law.

War on the Moving Picture.

Washington.—International effort to prohibit the production of pernicious pictures is urged by the international humane conference, in session here, by speakers who declared certain pictures were working havoc among the young.

Bodies Still in the Mine.

Starkville, Col.—The situation in the Colorado Fuel and Iron company's mine here to date may be summarized as follows:

Bodies buried and in the morgue, 14; bodies located in mine, 8; bodies missing, 33.

Reciprocity Negotiations.

Chicago, Ill.—Secretary of State Charles Murphy of Canada said in an interview here that he expected reciprocity negotiations between the United States and Canada will be resumed before November.

To Vote on Secession.

Portland, Me.—The question of seceeding from the national body of the Sons of Veterans will be voted upon by the Maine division at a special session to be held at Brunswick, November 2.

Austin, Tex.—The Texas congress of mothers and parent teacher associations opened its anniversary and second annual convention here Wednesday.

Young Dietz Gives Bail.

Hayward, Wis.—The hearing of Clarence Dietz, who was arrested when his sister, Elmira, and he were shot by the deputies last week, while en route to Winter, has been adjourned to November 7. He is charged with assault with intent to kill Bert Horel and John Helt. Clarence was released on $1,000 bail.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The national league of postmasters of the United States is in session here.

True Bills Against Both.

London.—The grand jury has found true bills against Dr. H. H. Crippen and Ethel Clara Leneve, charging the former as the principal and the latter the accessory, after the fact, with the murder of the doctor's wife, whose stage name was Belle Elmore. The trials probably will open on Tuesday instead of on Monday, as at first expected.

Lord Justice Alverstone, who will preside, later fixed Tuesday as the day for the opening of the trial.

FOUND WITH THROAT CUT

ARCADIA, Neb, Oct. 25.—About four o'clock yesterday afternoon, John Fike, a farmer living five miles northeast of this place, was found in his cornfield with his throat cut from ear to ear. He had been working in the field and his team went to the house causing Mrs. Fike to become alarmed. She went out to look for her husband, and found him lying on the ground with his face and shoulder covered with blood. Dr. Anderson was summoned and gave the hope for Mr. Fike's recovery, [illegible] later reports say he has some chance. Mr. Fike, as near as can be learned has been brooding for some time over financial affairs, having remarked to some business men here a few days ago that he had a good family, but that he feared he would not be able to provide for them properly. This is the only reason so far known for this act. He admitted that he had attempted suicide, but gave no reason for it.

The important thing before the district court last week was the case of the Trimble estate against Clifford Trimble. This was hotly contested on both sides, there being a strong array of council for both parties. It took all day Thursday and Friday and till after 9 o'clock in the evening to get the case to the jury. That body retired to the the jury room and about 2:30 Saturday morning reached a verdict, which, according to the instructions of the court, was sealed and delivered to the court at 8 a. m. The verdict was for the defendant, no cause of action. The suit was over two notes of $800 each given by Clifford Trimble to her John Trimble several years Clifford claimed that the had delivered the notes to him ellation a few weeks before h of the old man and that e destroyed accordingly after man's death. Elmore Trimb was the real plaintiff in , claimed that the notes ghtfully a part of the estate uld be paid, thus increasing ts of the estate something 0. This is the second time case was before a jury of trict court, the other jury able to agree.

District court adjourned Saturday morning immediately after the jury on the Trimble case brought in its verdict last Saturday morning. The next sitting of the court will be on December 6, when the jury will be called again to hear the case of State vs. Cox. At that time much other business will probably be disposed of.

Art Perkins is spending much energy explaining how he got those ugly looking bruises on the side of his beautiful face. He declares that he is at peace with all the world and did not have a fight, and fortunately for him his good mother-in-law says that he got the hurts by colliding with her clothesline in trying to stop his team. Under the circumstances we are inclined to believe Art's story.

While driving home last Friday night Reinhart Fuss sustained a fracture of his arm. He had reached a point a couple of miles from home riding on a high wagon box. In turning the corner near the Ward place the wheel dropped into a rut and he was thrown off the seat striking the ground so severely that his arm was broken near the wrist. His team went off and left him. The pain was so great that he lay there for some time but finally dispairing of anyone coming along he set out for home. He had walked a mile or so when a team came along and to his great surprise it was his own team going home in perfect order. He stopped them and managed to get into the wagon and drove home. The horses had evidently turned off the wrong way and finally got back to the right road and were making home when they came up to him. The fracture is a pretty bad one.

GOLDEN WEDDING

A pleasant surprise was given Mr. and Mrs. Al. Duryea Monday evening, October 17, at the Opera House, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage.

Rev. J. S. Davis performed the fitting ceremony which reminded them of the vows they had taken half century ago and have kept so faithfully.

Hon. John Wall, in a few chosen and appropriate remarks, told of the good wishes of their friends and neighbors, and as a remembrance of the evening and a token of the esteem in which they are held, presented them with fifty dollars in gold, the gift of the community.

Mr. and Mrs. Duryea came to Nebraska thirty years ago and homesteaded near Arcadia.

They have made this their home since that time and are among the oldest and most respected citizens of our city.

Among the features of the program were a reading by Mrs. Lewin and moving pictures.

Supper was served about 9:30, after which, those who so desired enjoyed themselves by dancing to music furnished by the orchestra.—Arcadia Champion.

COMRADE DRAPER MUSTERED OUT

One by one the old soldiers are answering the final roll call. The last to answer the call in this vicinity is W. T. Draper, who passed away at the hospital in Omaha last Saturday, following an operation for several urinal ailments.

William Tolbert Draper was born in Illinois, August 2, 1845, and died Saturday, October 22, 1910 aged 65 years, 2 months and 20 days.

When a small boy his parents moved to Davis county, Iowa, where he lived till nearly attained to his majority. Then the war of the rebellion broke out and his father enlisted and shortly after, he too answered the call of his country's distress and went to the front, a member of Company E, 3d regiment Iowa Volunteer Cavalry. This he did in 1864 soon after the opening of hostilities.

His regiment was in the thick of the fight with the guerrillas of Missouri and Arkansas and was in the memorable chase after the fleeing Price. In this raid he was for 105 days in the saddle. He was finally mustered out at Atlanta at the close of the war.

Coming home from the war he was married to Samantha Katherine Baker, to which union seven children were born, of whom five still live.

In 1873 he moved to Hamilton county, Nebraska, living just east of Central City, where after a few years his wife died.

I 1887 he moved to Ord and was married to Mrs. Phoebe Boddy, and to them were born four sons and four daughters, of which one half the number remain to mourn his death.

A man of remarkable personality and great energy he proved to be one of our most active citizens, winning a good name and bearing with himself to the grave the esteem of the community. In spite of his years and the bodily afflictions that came upon him in the latter part of his life he kept actively employed till the end came.

He was a member of Foote Post No. 40, and by his comrades was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery Tuesday afternoon from the Presbyterian church, Rev. P. A. Davies officiating.

READING CIRCLE

The Ord division of the teachers reading circle met at the court house last Saturday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by President H. E. Goodrich after which the lesson was taken up and chapters 7 to 13 of Allens Civics and Health were discussed. The discussion of the first two chapters was led by Miss Katie Daily, the second two by Miss Nellie Manning and the last two by Messrs. Goodrich and Coombs. The topic of round table discussed was Whispering, which was ably conducted by Miss Josie Cernik. Much interest was taken in the meeting and the attendance was very good. Let's keep it up. The following teachers were present: Misses Malottke, Munn, Readle, Brink, Daily, Noll, Heuck, Shirley, C. Stewart, O. Stewart, J. Cernik, C. Cernik, Twombly, Moorman and Messrs. Goodrich, Stavens and Coombs.

Does it pay to advertise in the Quiz want column? Well, we should say yes. Last week Everet Petty put in a short advretisement for a girl, offering good pay. Two days later a beautiful girl applied for the job. She came to stay for twenty years, agreeing to work for her board and clothes and a small dowery when she gets married. She has started in on the board proposition and is very particular about that, but does not care a snap about fashion plates yet, but she will be ready for that in due time. Differing from most hired girls she wakes up without being called and would just as soon wake up at 3:00 in the morning as at any other time.

Our neighboring city, Comstock, has been afflicted with a small pox epidemic for the past two weeks. Several families are under quarantine, among them the R. R. agent, Mr. Lyons and family. The station has been closed for the past week. The railroad company sent an extra agent there last night and have opened an office in a box car until the quarantine on the depot is raised. We understand that the disease is in a very mild form.—Arcadia Champion.

Mr. Hitchcock's explanation of his dealings with Embezzler Bartley recalls the story of the man whose wife caught him hugging the hired girl. "I assured my wife," declared the injured husband, "that it was purely accidental and perfectly proper. But some how or other, try as I may, I can't make her see it in that light."—Omaha Bee.

Last week the G. T. Hather farm sold for $102.50 per acre. This is a good farm near to town, but not a smooth place. Land is getting to be worth money in these parts. But it is not higher than it ought to be compared with other sections of Nebraska. Charles Hansen is the purchaser.

Monday morning Peter Mortensen went to Lincoln to look after political matters and see his family for a little while.

W. H. Ramsey and wife returned home last week Friday, having spent a fine summer in Idaho with Truxton.

E. P. Clements and family drove over to Arcadia Sunday. From that place Ed joined G. H. Kinsey and went to Kearney, while the rest of the Clements family returned with the car to Ord.

Union services will be held next Sunday evening at the Bohemian hall. Rev. Shaw of North Loup will speak. The North Loup male quartette and ladies quartette will furnish special music.

Frank Rowell has bought the Oscar Luse home and will occupy it shortly with his young bride. On account of this Ward Van Wie had to move out and is now occupying the Al McMindes house. He took possession Tuesday.

Jennie Kappel, who came up to Valley county last week on account of the accident that befell her brother, returned to Omaha Tuesday having the boy with her. The boy will be placed in the care of an eye specialist in the hope that his injured eye may be saved.

We have it on good authority that a new business block will be erected by J. W. Beran on his lot on the east side of the square during the coming year. This together with the contemplated Odd Fellows building will make a great improvement on that side of the business district, and will also do away with a lot of the old shacks which have been eye sores for many moons.

Ed Thompson, who came up from Kansas a few weeks ago, returned home yesterday morning with his family. While here Ed bought the Clayton Timmerman eighty in Springdale and will take possession on March 1st. Ed claims that he made pretty well on his Kansas investments, so much so that he could afford to come back to Valley county and settle down for good. The family was accompanied by Mrs. Grieve, a cousin of Ed.

We call attention this week to our supplement containing sketches of the republican candidates. We want our readers to give special attention to the page about Mr. Aldrich. As candidate for Governor the "Dahlmanite" party have accused him of being an unfit man and laid up to his door about all the mean things that a man is capable of doing in his life time. These interviews with doctors, lawyers, bankers, ministers and leading citizens of Mr. Aldrich's home town completely refute all these charges and show conclusively that Mr. Aldrich is a typical representative of Nebraska's highest and best citizenship.

BOARD OF HEALTH NOTICE

There is a mild form of small pox prevalent in Nebraska at the present time and it may reach this community soon. Many cases are so light that the person attacked by it does not think it is anything serious. He may think he has the grippe and does not call a doctor. He may get better in two or three days and pay no attention to the few pimples which break out on his face and hands. So he goes about his business and exposes others. However some cases are more serious and may even cause death, so that a person with a mild case of small pox may cause the death of friends or neighbors by going among them.

It is the law in Nebraska that a case of small pox must be quarantined. Where there is a mild case of small pox, the inconvenience of having the whole family quarantined two or three weeks is much worse than the disease. Some diseases cannot be avoided but small pox is entirely unnecessary. Any one who does not wish to have small pox can avoid it by being vaccinated. It is the unvaccinated people who have the disease and spread it.

The two men came back to Ord Monday night with the machine and from here the trip was made up to Holt. H. G. likes his Holt county proposition fine. He was offered $75 an acre for his farm, but spurned the proposition. No wonder he can afford a fine new Reo.

W. B. Summers, who went from here a year or so ago, was back in this vicinity last week visiting friends and relatives. He reports his wife in much better health. WILL BARTLEY STAND FOR IT?

If there was one thing that bespoke admiration for ex-Treasurer Bartley, even from those who abhorred his monstrous crime, it was his boast that he always stood by his friends; that he would not divulge the names of his partners who stood loyally by him; that he would, if need be, serve out a sentence in the penitentiary with lips sealed to shield the beneficiaries of his embezzlement.

Bartley might have had plenty of good company in the penitentiary if he had broken his silence at the time and inculpated his associates in the crime. When, therefore, Congressman Hitchcock, after confessing himself a beneficiary of the Bartley shortage and still in debt for part of the amount borrowed, placards Bartley as "a blackmailer" and says over his own signature that Bartley has been demanding "blood money" in asking for a return of the borrowed stealings, he lays an accusation to Bartley that no one else has ever publicly put upon him.

Bartley has always insisted that he became an embezzler by force of circumstances; that he could and would have paid over to his successor in office the full amount supposed to be in his custody, if his friends, among them Congressman Hitchcock, who had borrowed the state's money from him, had only paid their debts.

Will Bartley stand for being called "a blackmailer" by Hitchcock, whom he saved from financial ruin and shielded all these years?

Will Bartley stand for this talk of "blood money" from Hitchcock, for whose benefit he served a term in the penitentiary?—Omaha Bee.

Chairman Husenetter is seeking to get the name of Peter Mortensen, of Ord, on the ticket as a candidate for railway commissioner, to succeed the late Mr. Cowgill. There is a seeming conflict in the law as to this subject though the act creating the railway commission would appear to make such election legal. Mr. Mortensen would certainly make an excellent railway commissioner—a better one, it is a safe venture, than will be appointed, because of his wide knowledge of railway values and railway affairs.—Grand Island Independent.

We regret to learn that Ord Donald, the famous Herford bull raised by A. J. Firkins and owned by W. G. Collins, died last week. This was one of the best animals raised here, and was sire of Clement's calf that took first money at the state fairs this fall.

CENTER OF POPULATION.

In the predictions as to the showing which the census figures would make there was one virtually agreed upon—that the center of population would be shifted some distance westward from its location in 1890, which was six miles southeast of Columbus, Ind., says Toledo Blade. But this prediction was one of the kind which goes wrong. The census people have tentatively announced that the mark will have to be moved but slightly. The west has flourished tremendously in ten years. It has gained not only new railroads, but the old railroads have been renewed. Irrigation has caused new lands to be cultivated and new cities and towns to be builded. Such cities as Seattle have profited in wealth and population by the opening of new territory, the development of new resources, the filling in of the once deserted spaces between town and town. But in these same ten years an immense immigration has been distributing itself in the eastern cities—among the coal mines and steel plants of Pennsylvania, in the industrial districts of Lake Erie. It has offset the settlement of the far west.

Enforcing health regulations against ignorance and prejudice frequently is accompanied by difficulties. Cholera prevails in parts of Italy, and the officials have taken wise precautions against the spread of the disease. And one result has been a riot, accompanied by the wrecking of the health office in the town of Barletta. Of course the rioters are taking the precise course that opens the way for invasion by the deadly ailment. This is an age of enlightenment, but there are regions where there has been little advancement in ideas since the time when plagues swept away victims by wholesale because there was not sufficient knowledge to ward off the danger.

Those who have been able to hold back their vacations until now are to be congratulated. October is one of the finest months of the year for vacations, as any one who has been fortunate enough to have two weeks free at this time will tell you. The country lies before you. There is no better exercise than walking. Nature, in the full beauty of her late summer foliage, is at her best, and the crisp air of the approaching fall is noticeable mornings. Soon it will be on tap all day. Why not keep up your open-air vacation habits all winter?

The world's wheat crop this year is estimated at a little under 3,500,000,000 bushels, which will make it, with one exception, the largest ever gathered. The largest wheat crop ever gathered was that of last year, which was approximately 150,000,000 bushels more than the estimate of 1910. More than half of the shortage is figured in the crop of the United States. Although here as in Russia the crop is shorter than last year, the reserve of old wheat held over from the previous year is larger in both countries than it was in 1909.

The United States government has ordered another large installment of the rifle "silencers," by which the noise of firing is done away with. Experiments are also under way with similar silencers for cannon. It may yet come to pass that the noise of battle will consist mainly of the "shouting and the tumult" that were in order before the days of gunpowder.

Firearms as playthings are not entirely justified of wisdom, as proved in the case of a twelve-year-old Buffalo boy who received a gift of a rifle from his father and a few minutes later shot and killed his mother. Of course, it was an accident, and everybody concerned is very sorry, but the moral is that, given every possible opportunity and invitation, accidents will happen.

The epicurean world is still waiting for developments in the project to provide meat from hippopotami fed on water hyacinth. It sounds better than terrapin.

Woman steals silk stockings and pleads that she did it "to feed her children." The science of infant dietetics is making great strides, these days.

Seeing that Uhlan has trotted a mile in less than two minutes, without the aid of a wind-shield or other assistance of any kind, is it not time to begin talking about the minute-and-a-half trotter?

A St. Louis preacher is in trouble because he stole a number of watches. Perhaps the poor man merely wanted enough watches to be always warned against the danger of preaching overtime.

France will have fifty new aeroplanes for its army. Other nations will, of course, have to reinforce their national defenses in like manner. It is a new era and vastly interesting for everyone but the taxpayer.

DAVID B. HILL DEAD

FORMER SENATOR AND GOVERNOR SUCCUMBS SUDDENLY.

IS ALONE WITH NURSE AT END

Many Years a Power in New York Politics and Once an Aspirant for Presidential Nomination.

Albany, N. Y.—David Bennett Hill's life work ended, his body rests tonight at Wolfert's Roost, his country home near Albany, while his next of kin, Dr. A. D. Hill, a brother, is speeding to Albany from his home in Dexter, Mo. Dr. Hill expects to reach Albany Saturday, when the funeral arrangements will be completed. The interment will take place at Montour Falls, Schuyler county, where the former governor and United States senator was born sixty-seven years ago. He had been ill nearly three weeks with a cold and billious attack, but his condition had not been considered serious. He was sitting up in bed to take a drink of water when he was seized by an acute dilation of the heart. Death followed quickly with no one but a nurse at his bedside.

Mr. Hill had long been a sufferer from Bright's disease, which primarily brought upon him the condition that ended in his death.

David Bennett Hill was born August 20, 1843. When seventeen years old, he began the study of law and when twenty-one was admitted to the bar. Later, he was chosen city attorney of Elmira, then being elected alderman and still later mayor. He was elected to the assembly in 1870 and again in 1871. In his first term in the assembly he made his memorable fight to abolish contract convict labor, and in his second he was a member of the judiciary committee with Samuel J. Tilden, they being the only democratic members which had the task of investigating the alleged scandalous and corrupt conduct of certain New York City judges.

For many years Mr. Hill was a member of the democratic state committee.

Mr. Hill was the candidate of the New York democrats for the nomination for president in 1892, but Grover Cleveland was renominated for that office.

Home Rule For Cities.

The physicians express confidence that the rest cure the senator is taking will restore him to health in a few months.

Los Angeles.—Mrs. Bell Evlyn, proprietress of a rooming house in San Francisco, who was arrested in that city in connection with the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times arrived in Los Angeles and was locked in the county jail.

Castine, Me.—A distinct earthquake was felt in the eastern Penobscot bay region, a tremor with a low rumbling like thunder, lasting about ten seconds.

Possible Victim of Plot.

Springfield, Mo.—A fund of $1,300 to be used in the defense of Walter A. Dipley, who is in jail at Mansfield, Mo., charged with the murder of Stanley Ketchel, the pugilist, has been raised by the slayers relatives, according to an announcement made here.

An unsigned letter received from New York stated that the writer would be able to furnish some important information bearing on the case if it is desired.

Can Vote as They Please.

Washington, D. C.—The warning to civil service employes of the government against activity in politics, recently issued by various departments, was not intended in any way to interfere with the right of any classified civil service employe to vote as he pleases at the coming election.

A statement emphasizing this point was issued, with the approval of President Taft, by John A. McIlhenny, acting president of the United States civil service commission.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA

The Woman's Foreign Missionary Jubilee.

This year marks the fiftieth anniversary of woman's organized work in America, for foreign missions.

The Central Committee on the United Study of Missions, together with the boards of Woman's Foreign Missions, decided to hold a series of meetings in thirty of the large cities of the country, beginning in October, and culminating in a great gathering in New York City in the spring of 1911. The meeting at Omaha will be on the 27th and 28th of October.

The mission boards of the various churches will send able missionary speakers and workers. Mrs. Edmund A. Osborneon, the chairman of the Extension committee, has been in Omaha perfecting plans with the local committee, which has its headquarters in the Y. W. C. A. building.

Mrs. Helen Barret Montgomery, of more than national reputation as an authority on missions, will be in charge of the jubilee meetings, and will give several addresses.

The Midwest Life.

In the death of Mr. A. A. Scott, the chief paying teller of the First National bank of Lincoln, Nebraska, The Midwest Life had its first loss among its Lincoln policyholders. Mr. Scott held policy No. 797 for $1,000, dated June 8, 1907, issued on the fifteen payment life plan, and he had therefore paid four premiums. None would have selected Mr. Scott as the first to go out of over three hundred Lincoln policyholders in this company. The total premiums which he had paid the company amounted to $198.24. This is another practical illustration that in no other way can one create as valuable an estate by the payment of a small sum of money as through life insurance if death should occur within a few years after the policy is taken. The Midwest Life issues all the standard forms of policies. Home office, No. 119 South Tenth street, Lincoln. Write for a local agency.

Mr. Cogwell's Funeral.

Phelps County—Hundreds of former Holdrege and Phelps county friends and neighbors who attended the funeral services of Railway Commissioner William H. Cowgill testified to the high esteem in which he was held in his home city. The services were held at the local opera house and were conducted by Rev. G. G. Bennet, of the local Episcopal church. Joachim lodge No. 145, the local chapter of the Masonic fraternity of which Mr. Cowgill was a member, attended the services in a body as did the woman's club to which Mrs. Cowgill belonged, when the family resided here. During the progress of the services every business house in the city, and all the county offices were closed. Following the services a funeral procession formed and marched to Prairie Home cemetery, where the body was interred.

Fire Bug at Holdrege.

Phelps County—Fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, did considerable damage to a residence in South Holdrege. The blaze was extinguished before it got under great headway, all of the damage done being confined to the interior of the house.

Mr. Bryan to Be Invited.

Otoe County—The Elks lodge of Nebraska City will hold memorial services the first Sunday in December and has appointed a committee to wait upon W. J. Bryan to ascertain if he cannot be induced to conduct the ceremony there that day.

Will Run for Senate.

Dawson County—A. P. Cully filed with the county clerk of Buffalo county a petition and will run for the state senatorship. He was defeated before the August primaries for the nomination for this office on the republican ticket.

Chases and Catches a Burglar.

Jefferson County—The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Bell was entered at Fairbury by a burglar, who was captured by Frank Nauth, a roomer at the Bell residence. Mr. Nauth was returning about midnight and he was unable to get in the front way, so he went around to the rear. In doing so he encountered the burglar coming out of a window, and at the sight of Mr. Nauth the burglar dropped to the ground and started to run down the street. Mr. Nauth overtook him and captured him. He took him down town and delivered him over to the night watchman. It was found that the prisoner had a razor and a small satchel containing some bread and bacon.

Moose Head from Alaska.

Douglas County—J. W. McCune of Omaha has received from his son, Will, in Alaska, the head of a large bull moose. The handsome specimen is so large it cannot be admitted to McCune home and it is now exhibited in a drug store.

Janitors as Truant Officers.

Jefferson County.—The school board of Fairbury has authorized the janitors of the various school buildings to act as truant officers.

To Develop Coal Mine.

Otoe County—B. D. Tait, one of the large land owners of Otoe county, and who has a vein of coal on his farm south of Nebraska City, has gone to Iowa to inspect the mines there and to try and induce some of the miners to come here and open a mine for him. He claims that his coal vein is thick enough to mine at a profit.

Second Regiment Band Disbands.

Dawson County—The new Second regiment band of Kearney, which was mustered into the state just prior to the maneuvers at Fort Riley, Kas., in Agust, is practically disbanded. Director Mooney has resigned and is preparing to leave the city and quite a number of the members have stated that they would no longer remain in the organization. Bad feeling cropped out while the members were in camp and it seems impossible to hold the organization together.

SAVED FROM SEA

WELLMAN PARTY RESCUED, BUT AIRSHIP ABANDONED.

PICKED UP FAR FROM LAND

Located by British Mail Steamer Trent With Some Difficulty, But Voyagers No Worse for Experience.

New York—Man's first attempt to cross any ocean in an airship has failed, but Walter Wellman, five companions and a kitten ,who essayed the voyage, are safe. The airship—the giant America—is a battered aerial derelict, abandoned at sea, perhaps still in the air, perhaps sunk beneath the waves with her costly equipment. When deserted she had been in the air probably seventy-two hours, a new world's record for dirigibles, and driven by the wind had traveled doubtless 800 miles.

Whether the distance record for dirigibles—870 miles—will also be broken remains to be computed.

Picked up by the steamship Trent off the North Carolina coast, Wellman and his fellow air navigators are due in New York Monday. They left their craft only because she was in distress and blown so far from the line of trans-Atlantic steamship travel that a continuation of the voyage with the British islands as the objective point was hopeless. So, summoning aid by wireless, the difficult and dramatic transfer to the Trent was accomplished and the America was left to the fate of the winds.

Tornado on Florida Coast.

Jacksonville, Fla.—What undoubtedly will prove to be one of the most destructive of storms has swept the entire Florida peninsula, doing damage estimated at several million dollars. Forty thousand square miles of territory south of Jacksonville has been without any means of communication with the outside world for more than twenty-four hours. The last reports from this section, embracing all that territory from Tampa to St. Augustine, told of hurricane winds and rapidly falling barometers. The orange crop in that territory and the vast trucking industry probably are ruined.

Close Call for President.

New York.—President Taft's visit to Ellis Island, where he made a thorough inspection of the government immigration station, had an exciting introduction, when the immigrant cutter Immigrant, on which the president and his party were going to the island, had several narrow escapes from collision in the Hudson river in the thick fog that prevailed. In the murk the little steamer was several times seemingly on the point of being run down, and once had to make a sharp turn to avoid a collision with the Erie ferryboat Goshen.

Indian Truants Are Killed.

Rapid City, So. Dak.—Joe Sherman and James Means, Indian boy students at the government school here, were struck by a Milwaukee train near Scenic, S. D., Sunday night. Sherman was killed instantly and Means died later. The lads had run away from school to attend an Indian picnic and had laid down on the track to sleep.

Cutting Down the Deficit.

Washington.—As indicating that the postoffice department is fast approaching the state of self-support, Postmaster General Hitchcock has announced that the deficit for the fiscal year ended June 30 1910, amounted to only $5,881,482, as compared with $17,479,770 for the preceding year, a saving of $11,598,288.

David Rankin Is Dead.

St. Joseph, Mo.—Stricken with paralysis last Saturday, David Rankin, operator of the largest farm in the world, died at Tarkio, Mo., Tuesday. Mr. Rankin was prominent in north Missouri affairs and well known for his generosity to educational and philanthropic institutions.

Candidates Narrowly Escape.

Milwaukee, Wis.—F. E. McGovern, candidate for governor on the republican ticket, with two other state candidates and five members of the state central committee, narrowly escaped death when the elevator in which they were riding fell three stories in an office building.

Tolstoi Is Ill.

St. Petersburg.—Count Tolstoi experienced a series of fainting spells Tuesday and was unconscious for several hours.

Strikers Issue Manifesto.

Paris.—A manifesto issued by the strike committee of the national railroaders' union, which formally called off the strike, declares that unconditional surrender was better than humiliating negotiations with the government, whose dictatorial attitude was an unjust violation of individual liberty. The manifesto says that it was believed the demands of the railroad employes would be granted because they were backed by public sympathy.

Criticise All Sections.

Boston.—All sections of the United States came in for criticism as to the methods of carrying on endorsement of home missions and missionary work in the Monday's session of the Congregational home missionary society in connection with the fourteenth triennial meeting of the national council of Congregational churches in the United States. Rev. Cass H. Woodrow of Washington was elected president of the home missionary society.

STATE CAPITAL LINCOLN CHAT.

Guardsmen to Stand Trial.

Adjutant General John C. Hartigan has prepared charged to be preferred against members of the Nebraska national guard at a general court martial to be held in Lincoln, November 15. This will be the first general court martial ever held in this state for the trial of Nebraska national guardsmen and the event is looked forward to with great interest by members of the organization.

The majority of the accused are charged with absence without leave and disobedience of orders. Thus far only two are charged with desertion, one of these also being charged with the unlawful taking of government property.

The court will comprise the following officers:

Brigadier General Joseph A. Storch.

Colonel F. J. Mack, Second regiment.

Colonel G. A. Eberly, First regiment.

Lieutenant Colonel J. M. Birkner, medical department.

Major H. J. Paul, Second regiment.

Major G. H. Holdeman, First regiment.

Captain L. H. Gage, signal corps.

Captain C. L. Brewster, First regiment, judge advocate.

Most of the offenses alleged to have been committed against the military code of the state are said to have been committed at Fort Riley, Kas., or just prior to the departure of the guard to Fort Riley. The guard went to Fort Riley to participate in military maneuvers in which both regular soldiers and guardsmen from western states took part.

Railroads Get Hearing.

The state railway commission has extended the date of its entire order relating to the increase of switching rates to be charged by the Union stock yards of South Omaha, including that portion of the order requiring railraos to pay or absorb the increased charges. The order was to have gone into effect October 24, but the commission extended the time till November 1 and will hold a hearing October 27 on the question of whether or not the railroads shall be required to pay the additional switching rates proposed by the commission and asked for by the stock yards company.

Cholera Serum Experiments.

State Veterinarian Juckiness has experimented with great success with the serum for the cure and prevention of hog cholera under the formulae prepared by the United States department of agriculture. An appropriation of $5,000 was made by the last legislature in Nebraska to aid the state farm in the preparation of the serum and in experiments. but this appropriation has not been sufficient to supply demands for the serum. As a result many stock raisers have bought their own serum and have had it applied to hogs under the supervision of State Veterinarian Juckiness.

Colonel McDonnell Retired.

At his own request, Colonel John W. McDonnell of Fairbury has been placed on the retired list of the Nebraska national guard with the rank of colonel. The order of retirement, issued under the laws of the state, is by order of Governor Shallenberger, commander-in-chief, signed by Adjutant General John C. Hartigan, and attested by Captain L. C. Kesterson, acting assistant adjutant general.

Charged With Desertion.

Adjutant General Hartigan has added two names to the list of Nebraska national guardsmen who will be cited before a general court martial on the charge of desertion. Earl Millister and Albert Horton, members of the Lincoln hospital corps, are now charged with desertion. This makes a total of four charged with desertion. Many are charged with absenting themselves without leave. The court martial will convene November 15.

"Fire Day" November Fourth.

State Superintendent Bishop has just announced that the first Friday in November will be known as "Fire Day." On that day every teacher in the public schools in Nebraska is requested to give pupils information in regard to fire risks and what to do in case of fire. A fire prevention text book has been prepared and distributed among teachers.

Governor Shallenberger has issued a requisition for the return of Joseph French from Tacoma, Wash., on a charge of deserting his seven-year-old child, Merl French. The complaint is signed by Mrs. Mary E. French, the wife of the accused.

Glanders in Horses.

State Veterinarian Juckiness has been busy lately examining horses supposed to be afflicted with glanders. He killed three horses near Winnebago, in Thurston county, during the past week. In all twelve horses near that town have been killed on account of glanders. Mr. Juckiness says he believes at least twenty-five more cases exist in that community. As the disease is incurable, it is considered extremely dangerous. The state does not pay for the animals killed.

The apportionment of 5 per cent of the state contributions from the Presbyterian churches of the state for work among the students of the state university is the one action of the Presbyterian synod at Beatrice that probably is of more interest to residents of Lincoln than any other.

The forty-fifth annual session of the state teachers' association convenes in Lincoln this year, November 23, 24 and 25. This is during Thanksgiving time and is an innovation in respect to the date.

PROVED A NUISANCE

THE EQUILIBRATOR CAUSE OF WELLMAN'S UNDOING.

BUT HE WILL TRY IT AGAIN

Commander of Lost America Back in New York and Able to Tell of His Voyage and Hazardous Rescue.

New York.—Walter Wellman and his five companions were landed here Wednesday by the steamship Trent, which picked them up at sea after they had abandoned their dirigible balloon America, and failed in the first attempt ever made to cross the Atlantic through the air. A bruised right hand, which Wellman carried in a sling, was the only physical injury that resulted from their long voyage of approximately 900 miles and a rescue the like of which is unknown to history. None of the aeronauts regret the loss of the America. They agree that it has served its purpose and taught its lesson. All stand ready to renew the attempt as soon as Wellman and his engineers find a way to conquer the difficulties that brought their first trip to its thrilling end last Tuesday morning, 400 miles southeast of Sandy Hook.

The direct cause of abandoning the America was the exhaustion of the supply of gasoline, which had to be thrown out to save the ship, for when the crew abandoned the balloon only enough was left to last about twenty-four hours.

Must Aid a Sister Lodge.

Milwaukee.—That the Nebraska lodge of the A. O. U. W. must pay $160,000 to the supreme lodge, so that the supreme lodge may apply the money toward assisting the Wisconsin grand lodge, which became insolvent in 1906, to pay its liabilities, is the decision of Federal Judge Sanborn of Madson.

The suit against the Nebraska grand lodge was begun by the Fidelity Trust company, of Milwaukee, as receiver for the Wisconsin grand lodge and the supreme lodge.

Farm Is Place for Negro.

Boston.—The call of the missionary field to the young men, the progress made by the colored race and the prospects for further development of the negro under missionary endeavor were discussed at the American missionary association in connection with the conference of the national council Congregational churches. Booker T. Washington was a speaker. He urged that all influence should be used to keep the negro for the most part in the rural districts.

Heavy Snow in Mountains.

Denver.—Snow is reported from all parts of Colorado, the first general snow storm of the season. Up in the mountain passes of the Moffat road above Toland, Col., snow from eight to ten feet deep is reported, and trains were blocked until a snowplow got through. In Denver the fall was light, but it was accompanied by a fall in temperature and high winds.

Reward for Incendiaries.

Washington.—Rewards of from $50 to $200 are offered by the secretary of agriculture for information leading to the arrest and conviction of persons who through maliciousness or carelessness set fires within the bounds of the national forests. Officers and employes of the department of agriculture are barred from participating in any of the rewards.

Spain Demands Indemnity.

Paris.—Spain is on the verge of a rupture with Morocco over the payment of the indemnity of 130,000,000 pesates, approximately $26,000,000 which Spain exacted following the successful campaign against the Riff tribesmen in the summer of 1900, and contemplates dispatching forty thousand soldiers across to the Riff coast to occupy Tetuan.

Last Boat Leaves Dawson.

Dawson.—The steamer La France, the last river boat of the year to sail from Dawson for White Horse, got away crowded with hundreds of passengers. All freight for way points was refused as the boat has a race against ice.

Turkey Raises a Loan.

Paris.—An official note issued confirms the announcement that an agreement has been reached between Turkey and France for the flotation of a $30,000,000 loan in Paris.

Royal Exiles in England.

Plymouth.—The royal yacht Victoria and Albert has arrived here, bringing King Emanuel and Queen Mother Amelia from Gibraltar. They departed on a special train for Woodhampton, which will be their future home.

Kills Himself in a Cell.

Geneva.—Luigi Luchent, who assassinated the emperor of Austria in 1908, committed suicide in his cell in the prison known as l'Evechе.

No Bail for Dietz Family.

Eau Claire, Wis.—Bail was refused John F. Dietz, Mrs. Dietz and their son, Leslie. Attorney Rubin asked bail for the Dietzs but the judge declined to act, as no record of the preliminary proceedings was presented and he had not acquired jurisdiction.

Date for a further hearing was set for next Wednesday at Hayward. The prisoners remained over night. They will go back to Hayward Thursday.

OLD SOLDIER WISHES TO HELP SUFFERERS FROM KIDNEY, LIVER AND BLADDER TROUBLES

I am frequently troubled with kidney and bladder trouble, especially in the Spring and Fall. Being an old veteran of the Civil War, a little exposure or cold settles on my kidneys, and then I am laid up with kidney or bladder trouble. Your Swamp-Root was recommended to me a number of years ago, and I took a number of bottles of it and was more than pleased with the results. I consider Swamp-Root the greatest and best kidney medicine on the market, and it never fails to give quick results in kidney trouble, bladder trouble and lame back.

Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root has done me so much good that I feel if any words of mine will be the means of relieving any poor sufferers that you are at liberty to use this letter as you see fit.

Popularity of Thais.

"Every other young actress is calling herself Thais," said Henry E. Dixey at a dinner at Mauquin's. "Thais McGinnis, Thais Endicott, Thais Schmidt—the thing is universal.

"Universal and ridiculous; for they who have read Anatole France's story of 'Thais' know that she was a very naughty little girl, indeed. I am quite sure that no real reader of Thais would ever, under any circumstance, consent to be called such a name.

COFFEE WAS IT.
People Slowly Learn the

"All my life I have bee slave to coffee that the ve of it was enough to set quivering. I kept gradually health but I used to say don't hurt me.

"Slowly I was forced admit the truth and the final result As that my whole nervous force was shattered.

"My heart became weak and uncertain in its action and that frightened me. Finally my physician told me, about a year ago, that I must stop drinking coffee or I could never expect to be well again.

"I was in despair, for the very thought of the medicines I had tried so many times nauseated me. I thought of Postum but could hardly bring myself to give up the coffee.

"Finally I concluded that I owed it to myself to give Postum a trial. I got a package and carefully followed the directions, and what a delicious, nourishing, rich drink it was! Do you know I found it very easy to get from coffee to Postum and not mind the change at all?

"Almost immediately after I made the change I found myself better and as the days went by I kept on improving. My nerves grew sound, I slept well and felt steady and well-balanced all the time.

"Now I am completely cured of the old nervousness and sickness is gone. In every way I am well and more."

It pays to give up the drug that acts on some like a poison, for health is the greatest fortune one can have.

It is just as essential to elect a clean legislature as a clean governor. Your whole duty is not done when you vote against Dahlman. You should vote also for the legislators who are opposed to Dahlmanism.

Hitchcock refuses to put the money back that he stole from the state, and he also refuses to get off the ticket. Fortunately the people have a word to say about this business and will see that he does not go to the United States senate anyway.

Are you opposed to county option? Then you should be opposed to the democratic party this fall, for that party stands for the initiative and referendum. Under the initiative and referendum any question may be forced to a vote in any county, the saloon question just the same as any other question. So you see that the initiative and referendum means county option.

It is necessary for every voter to remember to vote on the U. S. senatorship this fall. Most of the legislators have pledged themselves to vote for the candidate getting the most votes at the polls. So be sure to vote for Burkett.

Won't it be a pretty state of things when a man of Dahlman's kind will have the appointing of men to take charge of the state institutions? Think of having "wide-open" men in these places, and you know that Dahlman will fill the offices with men of his kind.

The people of Nebraska sent State Treasurer Bartley to the penitentiary for embezzling the state funds. And now one of the men who borrowed the money and did not pay it back, is asking the people to send him to the United States senate. Will the people do it?

County option is not prohibition. It imposes nothing upon the people of a county that the majority do not want. Under county option if the majority of the voters of a county prefer to have no saloons they can have it that way. If a majority of the voters of a county prefer to have saloons under the Slocumb law they can have it that way.

On the ballots Dahlman's name will appear as the democratic candidate for governor, but he is not their candidate. He is not in accord with the democratic platform and he was not nominated by democratic votes. Vastly more democrats voted for the nomination of Shallenberger than for Dahlman. Dahlman is the brewers' candidate, and that is all you can make of it.

The democratic party is not responsible for the nomination of Dahlman and Dahlmanism The democrats put up a good platform but could not, at the convention, name the ticket. That was done by the voters at the primary election, where republicans of the whiskey stripe made Dahlman the candidate. Dahlman is not morally the candidate of the democratic party and no democrat ought to feel morally bound to support him.

Who is Foolish?

In its reply to our accusation of printing the delinquent tax list so late that it is absolutely worthless the Journal, after a lot of stuff not germane, says the following:

The notice was printed last year on October 14, one day later than this year. Another thing that shows the abject foolishness of Editor Haskell is that the 1909 notice was printed in the Quiz. If the notice is illegal this year it must have been void last year, but the combination of a republican paper, republican treasurer and republican county board makes it a "horse of another color."

In his supreme effort to find something to make political capital about the Quiz man evidences about as much sense in this case as is his wont.

All this would have been very wise and killing had it been true. The delinquent tax list last year was first printed on October 7, not on October 14, as stated by the Journal. In fact all through the long list of years that the Quiz printed this matter they were invariably printed, as the law directs, beginning the first week in October.

So the Quiz man's "supreme effort" seems to be effective as well as supreme.

The Journal method of printing the delinquent tax list will be absolutely worthless to the county, for no valid sale of land under that notice can be had, but we are wagering that the partisan county board will pay Davis his little $250 for the work just the same. Watch and see if it does not.

Let the people rule. County option means that and nothing else. It takes from the brewers the power to dominate the saloon business and puts the power in the hands of all the people. Under the present system, with the towns controlling the saloon business it is easy for the brewers and distillers to force the granting of licences, but with the whole county having a say in the matter the brewers will find the job much more difficult. County option means let the people rule.

Congressman Hitchcock borrowed money of State Treasurer Bartley to help keep the World-Herald from going to the wall. When Bartley needed the money to settle with the state Hitchcock failed to put the money up and Bartley had to go to the penitentiary. While Bartley was in the penitentiary his Hitchcock notes outlawed and then Hitchcock promptly repudiated them. Now will the people of Nebraska reward Hitchcock for his rascality by electing him to the United States senate?

The death of Railway Commissioner Cowgill last week left a sudden and unexpected vacancy that ought to be filled by the voters of the state at the coming election. Casting about for the right man for the place the republican committee decided upon Peter Mortensen for the place and by means of a monster petition have filed his name for the office, Mortensen consenting to the arrangement as soon as he reached Lincoln Monday afternoon. Peter Mortensen, as state treasurer, became familiar with the matter of railroad assessments and is highly fitted for the place. Sure he should be elected by a large majority.

With the charge absolutely proved and practically admitted by Hitchcock that he was a co-defaulter with Bartley the question arises why does not the chairman of the democratic central committee ask for his resignation from the ticket? The reason is clear. Hitchcock if left on the ticket will only be defeated, and that will not kill him off completely, but to remove him from the ticket would be a death blow to him. It is therefore in mercy that the democrats will continue to carry the load of an embezzler on their ticket. It means his defeat, of course, and also the loss of hundreds of votes for the entire democratic ticket, but they want to save Hitchcock's face as much as possible, hence he will stick.

Our democratic friends are saying that county option means prohibition. Well, let them have their way about it for a minute. But what does the initiative and referendum, for which they stand, mean? It means that any county may take up any question, including the saloon question, and a vote forced thereon. Under that law the same thing can be done as may be done under county option. Neither county option nor the initiative and referendum will stop a saloon unless a vote is taken on the saloon question in a county, and then either one would have just the same effect. So if a man cannot vote the republican ticket on account of county option he should not vote the democratic ticket on account of the initiative and referendum. Both mean exactly the same thing, only one takes up only one question while the other takes up any question that may come along. But either will have the same result on the saloon question.

An investigation of the Congressional Record discloses the method by which the World-Herald garbles the record of Senator Burkett, so as not to give the real facts. The manner in which it was done is as follows: At different stages in consideration of the tariff bill democratic senators would introduce amendments for the purpose of killing time and putting republican senators on record with the intention of using that record against them as they are now doing. These amendments were introduced, many of them in such a way that had they passed they would not have stood law, and consequently were voted down, in nearly every instance by the votes of such progressive republicans as Burkett, Brown, Cummins, Dolliver, Nelson, La Follette, Beveridge, and others, who, seeing the methods used by the democratic senators to block the passage were quick to put their disapproval upon such methods. These are the votes which the World-Herald and its editor Mr. Hitchcock are using against Senator Burkett, and which just as truly will hold against the other progressive senators of the senate. "The truth half told is worse than a lie," is a saying that covers the ground in this controversy exactly. When it came to the proper time to introduce these amendments and they were introduced in such a manner that if they passed they would mean something, Senator Burkett voted all right and with the other progressives. However, the World-Herald does not tell that part of the story, desiring more to deceive the voter than to give him the facts in the matter and the senator the benefit of his work for the people in the tariff session. These are the facts which the congressional record will bear out, and which is the best evidence.

TOO MANY WASTE ABILITY

Doing the lower when the higher is possible constitutes one of the greatest tragedies of human life. To squander money seems a wicked thing when we think of the good that might be done with it; but what about the wicked waste of ability, the deliberate throwing away of 50, 75, perhaps 90 per cent. of one's success possibility, just because he never trained himself to use it, to grasp it with such vigor and power that he can fling his life into his career with its maximum effectiveness?

Most people take hold of life with the tips of their fingers. They never get hold of the life proposition with that grip and tenacity of purpose and vigor of determination which does things worth while. They just hang on the outskirts of things, playing upon the surface of their possibilities without getting down into the marrow of their being where efficiency and power dwell.—Success Magazine.

His Weakness.

"That woman over there," he mused at the party, "is interesting looking, but what age is she? She is pretty, too, but she seems to be of no definite age. She is neither old nor young, but she is interesting."

"That's just the difference between us women and you men," said his companion. "If you are interesting, we don't care what your age is. We even don't care how bald you are, if you are interesting."

"Don't!" he groaned, pressing both hands to his head to try and hide his baldness.

Trick of the Gas Man.

"Look out! It's a dummy turnon," telephoned the gas man to a fellow employee whose duty it is to go round and turn on the gas and inspect the meter for families that have just moved in or have had the gas shut off for non-payment of bills. He explained that the man who is sent to a house to shut off the gas because the bill hasn't been paid rarely tells the housewife what he is about to do. She wouldn't let him in. Instead he make a pretense of trying to find a leak. Once in the cellar he snaps a padlock on the valve and the trick is done. Then he leaves quickly. When the turnon man comes around after a settlement has been made he is likely to get at least a good tongue lashing, but he jerks his shoulders and points to his ears, pretending to be deaf.

"In either case," said the gas man, "there is no use in abusing him, and that is why we put each other wise when to act the dummy."

GENIUS GONE WRONG

It seems that H. C. Ostermann, the main figure in the Illinois Central graft conspiracy which enriched several employes of that company, began his career as a newsboy at the age of 6 years. Then he became a bellboy, and from that went to another similar position a little more lucrative. Steadily by dint of ingenius application he mounted the ladder until finally he came to a position of commanding influence, of large salary and large possibilities. His friends called him a genius and took pride in his success.

But it was genius gone wrong. In learning the lesson of sober industry, of untiring application, he failed to learn the more important lesson of scrupulous fidelity to a trust, a lesson which boys and young men beginning their business careers had better get hold of before they attempt to master any of the other branches in life's curriculum.

Ostermann's genius is of little value to him today; certainly it is not potent enough to bring back what he has lost, while gaining for himself and his confederates the $2,000,000, through fraud. Through all his peculations his shrewd genius shines, but its luster is dimmed at last in the light of the law's exposition, showing only the naked form of selfish ambition, with no reward of energy, industry or initiative great enough to outshine the one fact of final ruin.

It is the man's own story, related on the witness stand, that first commends the youthful genius and then condemns its matured product.—Omaha Bee.

Greeley Leader.

On Sunday afternoon word was received that George F. McCracken had died the evening before in Edmonton, Canada, as a result of typhoid fever. The news of Mr. McCracken's death came as a shock to his host of friends in Greeley, it not having been known that he was other than in the best of health. Mr. McCracken came to Greeley for the first time in the fall of 1906, when he assumed the duties as principal of the Greeley high school. During his two years residence in Greeley he endeared himself to the people by his genial and affable manner; his high and lofty ideals; his honesty and uprightness and above all his high regard for the principles of morality.

Mrs. H. Aldrich of Ord came down to Greeley Monday and was a guest at the John Maginn home.

J. W. Harbert and family came down from Ord Monday after a visit over Sunday with relatives.

The Cough that Clings

THE steady, persistent cough that never quite disappears under the use of ordinary cough remedies is due to a different condition than the cough which arises from the ordinary cold. It is due to chronic weakness and irritation of the tissues of the air passages and must be removed by something which will build up the whole system and also restore the throat and lungs to normal condition. There is no longer any question of the value of

for this purpose. For one who has a stubborn cough, accompanied more or less by general debility, this is the remedy that should always be taken, and its use should be persistent until it cures, because it will always cure if anything can. We can always recommend Nyal's emulsion because it is always fresh, palatable and contains the highest possible percentage of pure Norwegian cod liver oil. Price $1.00

The Unexpected

An Army Officer Meets With a Surprise.

By THEODORE BARTON.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

"Hawkins," said a captain in the United States army in San Francisco to a brother officer, "you and I are of the same height and weight. Let me have a suit of your undress uniform."

"Certainly. May I ask what you propose doing with it?"

"Yes, wear it. Listen, old man, and I'll tell you a secret."

"Proceed. If the secret is worth the uniform it's a go."

"Nearly ten years ago, when I was a beardless boy at West Point, I had a flirtation with a girl."

"You mean you had several dozen flirtations with several dozen girls."

"Yes, but one of them has turned out to be the real thing. We've never met since, but we corresponded. I have never forgotten her, and she writes that she's never forgotten me. To make a long story short, she has agreed to marry me."

"What's that to do with my uniform?"

"I'm coming to that. Marian—Marian Singleton is her name—is to come to me at the Philippines to be married. I've written her that I have been ordered out there and must report at my station at once. No time to be married here. She is to go out to join me on the ship I sail in today, but doesn't know that I will be aboard. What I am aiming at is to win her over again. She will never recognize in the bearded man of thirty the smooth faced cadet of twenty. She knows that I'm in the infantry, and what I want your suit with its artillery facings for is to complete the deception."

"I see—what you are after is to win your fiancee from yourself."

"Or anew."

"Well, Morris, all I have to say is that, judging from my experience with women, I expect you'll succeed."

"But don't you see that in either case I win?"

"Oh, I don't care whether Captain or Cadet Morris is to be the lucky man!"

"You've no romance in you, Hawkins. For my part I don't consider marriage without the spice of romance in it anything more than a business contract."

"Take care that you don't have so much romance that you'll lose the girl."

"Nonsense! A woman is a woman, to be won, held or taken away until she is a wife. Then she becomes amenable to what we call honor and not before. Marian Singleton was the most desperate flirt who ever tackled the corps of cadets. She mowed us down as with a Gatling gun. But I believe she is a good woman. I'll draw her into her old habit. She'll flirt with me, but she'll tell me that her hand is promised and she will not marry me, or at least without her fiance's release. Don't you see what a delicious situation it will be for me to release her so that she can marry me?"

"Oh, don't bother me with your love games. What do they all end in for us army men anyway? Lugging half a dozen children from post to post, to have a ranking bachelor officer turn us out of our quarters when he takes a fancy to do so. Here's your uniform. I think it will fit you exactly. All I ask in return for it is that you shall write me as to whether Cadet or Captain Morris wins the girl."

"I'll do it. What's more, I'll keep a diary noting down how the affair progresses and send it to you when the matter is decided."

In the time required for a trip to the Philippines and return Captain Hawkins received a fat envelope, the main points of which are contained in the following synopsis:

Sept. 5.

Sailed this afternoon. Didn't recognize Marian till I got the purser to point her out to me. She is changed from a giddy girl of eighteen to a dignified woman of twenty-seven. Still, I can see in her traces of those faculties so attractive to men with which she bowled us all down at West Point. She seems to be under the care of a gentleman about forty years old, who is starting on a tour of the world.

Sept. 7.

Have concluded to consider myself a corps of observation for awhile. Marian spends a lot of time on deck with Merton, the gentleman who appears to have her under his care. He is a very smooth cut man, and a lady who knows him tells me that he is very intelligent. He seems also to have plenty of money. Marian, I am quite sure, is at least flirting with him, and there may be something deeper in her intentions. It doesn't seem to matter whether I am in the infantry or the artillery so far as she is concerned. I don't appear to cut any figure in the matter at all.

Sept. 9.

Have been introduced to Marian as Captain Withers. She received me as she receives every one—cordially—but there was not the slightest sign of recognition. I would have been more likely to recognize her than she to recognize me, since I have a bushy beard and am pretending to be in a different corps from what she expects. I passed half an hour with her on deck this afternoon, she telling about the delightful visits she made at West Point when a girl. I listened, hoping she would mention my name, but she made no reference to me whatever.

Sept. 12.

I am all broken up at the way things are going. Marian is evidently setting her cap for Merton. It's singular that a woman attractive enough to catch most any one will go for years without marrying, then take a sea voyage and become engaged. Marian doesn't scruple to throw those bewitching glances at the old fool before any one. She certainly doesn't refrain from doing so when I am about. This affair has turned out very differently from what I expected. I supposed there would be two Richmonds in the field—Cadet and Captain Morris. There is but one—a "cit," and his name is Merton.

Sept. 13.

Marian has today encouraged me to be friendly. Her inclinations are decidedly with the army, and we chatted all the morning about army people. She said that she would like to make me her confidant in order that she might ask my advice as to a point of honor as it would be considered among army people. I urged her to do so, promising that I would advise her to the best of my ability, but she said the matter was a very delicate one and she couldn't bring herself to speak of it except to a very intimate friend.

Sept. 14.

The ax has fallen, and my head has rolled into the basket. This afternoon Marian made me her confidant and asked my advice. She told me of her affair with me when I was a cadet; said that she had met no one since that she liked so well till she met Merton. She confessed that she was going out to marry me, but she had changed her mind and would like to accept Merton and go around the world with him on a wedding trip. The point of honor referred to was whether this change of front would be considered dishonorable in the army. If it would she preferred to stand by her old love. I told her that it would be incumbent upon her to state the case to her fiance frankly and that no officer of the army could fail to release her without being condemned by his fellows. When she asked me whether she would be blamed for such a course by her army friends and acquaintances I told her that if she proceeded as I had indicated her fiance would exonerate her and that would render her blameless.

Sept. 15.

I wish I had taken Hawkins' advice and let this matter alone. Marian and I could have been married in San Francisco, and then Marian would not have met this baldheaded old coot that she has fallen in love with. He's fully ten years her senior and nothing but a "cit." I've intended to win her from a boy, and this old duffer has won her from me, a man just entering on his prime. If the fool killer is aboard he'll surely take me. Besides losing my girl, I'll be the laughing-stock of the whole army. (Hawkins, nota bene. If you give me away I'll murder you. No one but you knows my part in this affair, and unless you tell I'll be considered by some an injured man. If you do tell I'll be regarded a fool by all.)

Sept. 17.

Had a talk with Marian today as to what course she had better pursue on arrival. She gave up her fiance's name at last—my name. I told her that it was quite possible that on arrival Captain Morris might not be able to meet her. I also advised her to go to Colonel B.'s, as she has arranged, and meet Morris there, telling him the whole story at once without keeping him waiting.

In Port.

Colonel and Mrs. B. came aboard to meet Marian. I was obliged to confine myself to my stateroom to prevent giving the whole thing away. I saw them through the porthole coming and going. Marian went ashore with them. She looked as happy as if she hadn't changed lovers between shores. I should think she would dread the meeting that's to come off with me, at which she is to tell me that I must make way for another, and that after her making a long voyage to marry me. Merton didn't go ashore with the party. I suppose she feared she might meet me unawares and preferred to have him out of the way till the scene with me is all over with.

I wonder how she'll look when she learns that the man she has traveled with, whom she has made her confidant and who has advised her as to the standard of army honor is the man she has gone back on. By Jove, what a climax for a play! Only I'd rather take the part of the other fellow. I shall be as magnanimous as possible—not blame her in the least, but, of course, I may let it be known how deeply I am wounded.

In Quarters.

Nothing has happened as intended or expected. I have been nerving myself for one climax, and there has been another. I waited till all the army people had gone ashore, then sneaked ashore myself, feeling ashamed of the part I had been playing and dreading the meeting at which I was to get the grand bounce. During the afternoon a note came from Marian saying that she was at Colonel B.'s and would be ready to receive me at 6. Mrs. B. invited me to dine at 7.

I deferred my visit till 6.30 and wished I could omit it entirely. Marian received me standing and as soon as she saw me rushed forward and threw herself into my arms.

"Stupid," she exclaimed, "to attempt to impose on a woman by so thin an artifice! I knew you the moment I saw you."

HAVE YOU A FAMILY?

If so before buying land either for a home or an investment you should investigate a well improved square section of Custer County land I am offering for sale. Soil all good with clay sub-soil, 350 acres cultivated, 500 acres can be cultivated a large part of which is valley or gently sloping land all in one body, the balance being the finest pasture and meadow. The entire farm fenced and cross fenced, 30 acres in alfalfa, some fine fall wheat. The improvements are all new, extra well built, well painted and consist of house 24x24, four rooms, pantry and closet, barn 33x40, chicken house 10x18, and some other small buildings all on cement foundations. Plenty of pure, cold soft water supplied by well, windmill and tank. 80 rods to school, has local and long distance telephone service and rural mail at the door. Two miles to good inland town with several hunderd people, and consists of: three general stores, hardware store, two implement houses, two banks, two hotels, drug store, two doctors, three churches, blacksmith shops, flouring mill and splendid high school. Price is only $31.25 an acre; $1000 when contract of sale is made, $5000 or $6000 can remain against the land for a term of five years at 6 per cent interest if desired. At present this farm is situated 20 miles from a railroad town but a track has been graded most of the way to this farm and just as soon as this is in operation this land will be worth $50 or $60 an acre. You cannot get this advance if you wait until this takes place, you are sure to get it if you buy now and it is a mighty cheap farm at the price it is being offered at and the terms at which it can be had are uncommonly easy. This farm will justify the purchase of an automobile which will put you in a position to reach towns very easy. The surrounding country is highly improved and produces large crops of corn, alfalfa and fall wheat. This is certainly a great lay-out for a family of growing boys. Call or write.

FARROWING OR PASTURE PEN

Mr. Walter S. Prickett, manager and owner of the Roycroft farm at Sidnaw, Mich., has a farrowing pen which answers the requirements of such a structure in an ideal manner. He calls it the "Berkshire bungalow."

Farrowing or Pasture Pen.

It would certainly be hard to surpass the Roycroft plan for attractiveness and general usefulness. The accompanying drawing indicates the general plan of the cot. The dimensions of all cots are so near standard that it will hardly necessitate the repetition of these figures here. The main points of difference in the "bungalow" as compared with other pens are: The center board on each side are hinged so that they can be swung open in hot weather; the ridge cap is so mounted that it can be raised and lowered at will, thus further assisting in the ventilation of the pen and the roof boards are made into panels which may be raised or lowered over a window fram which is in place just below them. This last arrangement permits of making the pen into a hothouse whenever desired. The pen certainly has about as many adjustments on it as one could wish for. It is, moreover, one of the most attractive pens built. Its main objection is perhaps that the cost of construction is somewhat higher than the case with more simple and less convenient types.

CURING HORSE OF KICKING

Harness Devised by Two Missouri Men Teaches Animal Futility of Trying for Own Way.

Sooner or later domesticated animals learn that they cannot have their own way, but must bow to the law of humans. Every once in awhile, however, there is born a horse who thinks he is entitled to his own opinion, and his favorite way of asserting himself is in kicking the dashboard to bits. Two Missouri men have devised a harness which is warranted to cure this habit. Straps cross the horses back and breast and at their junctions are fastened the ends of ropes which engage the fetlocks of the animal's hind legs in running loops. The other end of the ropes are fastened to staples in the horse's stall or to some other stationary object in front of which he is tied. The result is that when a horse is trussed up in this manner, if he tries to kick he find he cannot get his hind feet beyond a certain point, and after making a number of ineffectual efforts he becomes discouraged. If he is a particularly bad kicker he can be goaded into making these attempts until his spirit is broken in that respect.

Small Things Need Attention.

Good management and plenty of good clean shelter for the flock go a long way toward success with poultry. Good management with poultry or in any business consists mainly in looking after details, the small things. If the small things are taken care of as they come up, the large things will be no trouble. Clean nests, daily watering, dust bath, removing the droppings from the house often and sheltering the birds from the elements and animal enemies are a few of the small things which the successful poultryman must attend to.

Care of Horses.

As the busy season closes and the horses are idle more of the time, give them less grain feed and only twice each day, while they are not working. Give all of the horses the run of some field or pasture when they are idle. The exercise and fresh air alone will do them good. The horse, above all other domestic animals, needs abundance of exercise to harden the muscles.

Barley for Hogs.

Canadian experimenters have found that barley is the best grain for finishing the prime bacon hog. As long as bacon hogs are not selling as high as fat hogs in this country, however, our feeders will stick to corn. It's good enough for the market hog, and it makes him good enough for the market.

EASY WAY TO HANDLE HOGS

Kansas Man Has Excellent Plan for Transferring Animals From One Pasture to Another.

Herewith is a drawing showing the handy way by which Mr. D. W. Evans of Fairview, Kan., handles his hogs in transferring them from one lot to another. The drawing is intended to show the barn, on one side of which is arranged the stalls for the live stock and on the other the grain bins with a passageway between the two. In the rear of this barn he has a number of swine pens and at the right of the front of it his hog house. As shown by the drawing, he has built a chute in front of the barn which connects with the hog house and which is opened or closed by the barn door. Only two posts are shown in the chute, as this is enough to show the idea. The curved line is intended to show the swing of the door. When the chute is in use for transferring of the hogs from the hog house to the feed lots in the rear of the main barn, or for transferring brood sows from the field to the farrowing pens, the barn gate is attached to the posts at the end of the chute by a chain, which is provided with a simple attachment for fastening. If it is desired to drive a team through the barn, the door is swung clear and the chute is not in the way of any ordinary vehicle. This is one of those little conveniences which add so much to the efficiency and comfort of farm life and which may always be had by simply taking thought and doing a little work. By settling the first post so that the gate will strike it, this same idea may be applied in pasture gates all over the farm, where it is desirable for persons to pass without allowing stock to get through. Such a gate will need no latch as it will strike against the post on either side and admit of the passage of any one without allowing even a pig to get by.

FATTENING PIGS FOR MARKET

Wide Diversity of Opinion Among Successful Growers Concerning Age and Size to Fatten.

(By W. M. KELLY.)

After the pigs have been well prepared for the fattening period by a liberal feeding of grasses and forage crops, they are in an ideal condition to be put into the fattening pens and finished for market.

There is a wide diversity of opinion among the successful hog growers and feeders concerning the most profitable age and size to fatten and market the porkers and I realize that I am treading on dangerous ground when I advocate feeding the pigs until they will weigh from 300 to 400 pounds at market time.

But after considering everything in its true light I am convinced that it is more profitable to allow the pigs to run on forage crops until they become big-boned, hardy fellows and along in October put them in the fattening pens and feed them corn and water until they are ready to go to market in January or February, weighing the above mentioned weights.

The proper time to sell fat hogs is when they are ready for the market and we have seldom known it to pay feeders to hold their hogs until the market advances. There is considerable expense connected with holding a fat hog for an advance in the market and many times the market declines instead of advances, and then the loss is greater than before.

Pigs that are being fed in carload lots should not be driven to the car but loaded into uniform bunches and assorted as to size and condition. It is the even quality of a bunch of fat hogs that attracts the buyer's attention.

Either keep the culls in separate bunches or sell them in one lot.

There are men who make good money feeding hogs, but there are more who would lose money if they figured their grain foods at the market prices and the cost of labor required to care for the hogs. There is no sentiment in the hog feeding business and few of us would choose a bunch of hogs for companions unless the business was found profitable. The men who have been successful with hogs have been the ones who have stuck to the business through thick and thin. Good hogs will pay profitable returns if properly handled.

Second Baseman Evers.

The most important cogwheel in the Cubs' baseball machine was broken when Second Baseman Johnny Evers broke his leg in a recent game at Cincinnati.

Evers will be laid up three months and the fracture may put him out of baseball, or, as was the case with Mike Donlin, he may have to rest the leg a year. He was sliding to the plate and caught his foot. The crack of the bone was audible to the crowd in the grand stand.

Physicians were rushed to his aid, while Evers lay screaming with pain. The injury is a compound fracture and serious, the physicians say.

Zimmerman, the Cubs say, will play as good a fielding game as Evers or very near it and will probably hit harder; but the brilliant science, the directing skill of Evers will be gone—the great Cub machine is shattered.

Garry Herrmann rushed his big auto to the spot and Evers was taken to the Seton hospital, with Overall as escort. The little fellow was suffering terribly and the blood poured from the splintered bone, dripping down upon the path. Nevertheless he was game, and remarked to Overall, who was holding the broken leg: "You handle that like a cabbage."

TWO NEW MINNESOTA STARS

Two new Minnesota stars came into prominence in the game played with South Dakota, Bromley, left guard, and Erdahl, who was subbing at full back for Captain Johnston. It was Erdahl's beautiful thirty-five-yard run off South Dakota's right tackle that brought the gopher touchdown in the first half. Erdahl made several other runs of consequence and McGovern and Rosenwald added some of their slippery sprints.

CATCHER HELPS A PITCHER

Often Happens Backstop Is Man to Whom Credit Is Due for Success—Another Side to Tale.

Pitchers often owe much of their success to their catcher, but there is another side to the picture. The pitcher makes the catcher sometimes. Again, most often it is the case the catcher or the pitcher makes his fame and success by his own ability, independent of his battery mate. But what a cinch it is for a catcher who does the backstopping for such an accomplished pitcher as Mathewson. His name is linked with Mathewson's in the battery honors that accrue, and with Mathewson's unusual control and head work his receiver has a much easier game to catch than if he were receiving for some pitcher who did not know the batters and who was wild and hard to handle.

Skilful or not on his own hook, the catcher who handles Mathewson's delivery is fortunate. If he is a star catcher so much the better. Three backstops have been associated to the point of reputation with Mathewson since he became a star. They are Warner, Bresnahan and Meyers. Others have caught him, but these three have done most of the catching for him. It was in connection with Mathewson that Bresnahan worked his way into the baseball limelight, though a sterling catcher on his own account. His all around ability too helped Bresnahan to a deserved reputation as a player of the front rank, yet since he severed relations with the New York club it is as a manager rather than as a backstop that he has remained prominent.

Johnny Kling needed no Mordecai Brown to bring him to the front as a crack catcher, for Kling has been a backstop in a thousand and has done more to make pitchers than pitchers ever did to enhance his reputation. Wilbert Robinson made pitchers in the old Oriole days and made ordinary pitchers do first-class work by his coaching, advice and general ability. Russell Ford of the Highlanders is a great pitcher and association with him increases the fame of his catcher, but the fact must not be overlooked that Ed Sweeney has had a good deal to do with his success. Sweeney understands the vagaries of Ford's spitter as nobody else does and without him Ford doesn't do so well with his freak moist ball.

Cy Young and Lou Criger, each great on his own merits, nevertheless helped boost each other a great deal. Young, by the way, is not in all respects an easy pitcher to catch. He has fine control and is a good general, but he throws what is known as heavy speed. Given a catcher with a certain amount of native ability and Walter Johnson, the speediest pitcher in the game, will do more to make that catcher than the latter will do to make him.

Any catcher would be helped by such a pitcher as Bender, a twirler who can come pretty near putting the ball where he expects to put it. When the eccentric Waddell was with the Athletics Schreckengost did most of his catching and contributed a good deal toward the Rube's effectiveness, but so far as reputation went Waddell did much more to spread Schreck's than Schreck did toward making the Rube famous.

BASEBALL GAME IN BERLIN

Liang-Chang, Chinese Minister, Together With Many Other Dignitaries, Among Spectators.

Unusual eclat was lent to the annual American baseball game played in Berlin the other day for the benefit of the Women's club at Charlottenburg by the presence of the Chinese minister Liang Cheng, and his staff, resplendent in multi-colored oriental raiment with braided queues. Liang, who represented China at Washington for three years, is a passionate baseball fan, his love of the game dating from his student days at Amherst college, where he was the star pitcher of his varsity nine.

The contest was not a brilliant exhibtion, as neither the doctors nor the colony team, which were pitted against each other, were exactly in form. Liang, who occupied a box with Ambassador Hill and Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador to Washington, watched the play, however, with unfeigned interest, and his rapid fire comments on the contest proved he was still up in the fine points of the game. The grand stand was well filled, hundreds of Germans embracing the opportunity to make acquaintance with the Yankee national pastime.

The colony nine won the game by a score of 12 to 10.

New Rules Bring Injury.

That football under the new rules is not likely to degenerate into a pastime for mollycoddles, as was feared by experts, who favor the old-fashioned game, is shown by the injuries already sustained by players on Franklin field, Philadelphia, in regular games and in practise. Here is the list up to date:

Brown, Dickinson college, broken collar bone; Bookmeyer, Pennsylvania, broken collar bone; Bloom, Pennsylvania, collar bone broken; Marks, Pennsylvania, shoulder dislocated; Hutchinson, Pennsylvania, wrenched knee, out of game for a week; Clark and Keough, Pennsylvania, water on knee; Young, Joudet and Shoemaker, Pennsylvania, lame knees or ankles.

Canadians Buy Foxhounds.

Ten couples of fox hounds of the Chevy Chase club's pack have been sold to a Canadian club. This is said to be the first time a Canadian hunting club has recognized the merit of American hounds, the purchase of the Canadians hitherto having been made in England.

GETTING EVEN WITH MAMMA

In This Case, Child's Punishment Certainly Failed to Have Salutary Effect.

A little girl had been so very naughty that her mother found it necessary to shut her up in a dark closet—in that family the direst punishment for the worst offense. For 15 minutes the door had been locked without a sound coming from behind it. Not a whimper, not a sniffle.

At last the stern but anxious parent unlocked the closet door and peered into the darkness. She could see nothing.

"What are you doing in there?" she cried.

And then a little voice piped from the blackness:

"I thpit on your new dress and I thpit on your new hat, and I'm waiting for more thpit to come to thpit on your new parasol!"

May Sell 100,000,000 Red Cross Seals.

Twenty-five million Red Cross Christmas seals have been printed and are being distributed by the American Red Cross, and arrangements have been made to print 100,000,000 if necessary. It is expected that this number will be needed. While the sticker is perforated like those used last year, it is intended for use only as a seal on the back of letters. The seal is one inch square with the conventional Red Cross in the center and the words, "Merry Christmas, Happy New Year. American Red Cross" in a circle about it. The colors are red and green. The design is by Mrs. Guion Thompson, of Waterbury, Conn., who received $100 as a prize for her sketch.

Tit for Tat.

Lloyd C. Griscom, in an interview in New York, said of party dissensions.

"They are animated by a nasty spirit, a tit-for-tat spirit; and they go from bad to worse.

"It's like the case of the engaged couple at the seaside dance. The young man, a little jealous, said coldly to his fiancee at supper.

"'Let me see—was it you I kissed in the conservatory?'

"'About what time?' the young girl answered, with a little laugh."

A Biased Opinion.

"Do you think buttermilk will prolong one's life, Col. Soaksby?"

"Ahem! I have no doubt, Miss Plumper, that if a person had to drink buttermilk every day it would make life seem longer."

CONVINCING PROOF

OF THE VIRTUE OF

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

What is the use of procrastinating in the face of such evidence as the following letters represent? If you are a sick woman or know one who is, what sensible reason have you for not giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial? For 30 years we have been publishing such testimonial letters as these—thousands of them—they are genuine and honest, too, every one of them.

Mrs. S. J. Barber says:

"I think Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the best medicine in the world for women—and I feel it my duty to let others know the good it has done for me. Three years ago I had a tumor which the doctor said would have to be removed by an operation or I could not live more than a year, or two, at most. I wrote Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., for advice, and took 14 bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today the tumor is gone and I am a perfectly well woman. I hope my testimonial will be of benefit to others."—Mrs. S. J. Barber, Scott, N. Y.

Mrs. George May says:

"No one knows what I have suffered from female troubles, neuralgia pains, and backache. My doctor said he could not give me anything to cure it. Through the advice of a friend I began to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and the pain soon disappeared. I continued its use and am now in perfect health. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been a God-send to me as I believe I should have been in my grave if it had not been for Mrs. Pinkham's advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. George May, 86 4th Ave., Paterson, N. J.

Mrs. E. F. Hayes says:

"I was under the doctor's treatment for a fibroid tumor. I suffered with pain, soreness, bloating, and could not walk or stand on my feet any length of time. I wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice, followed her directions and took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. To-day I am a well woman, the tumor was expelled and my whole system strengthened. I advise all women who are afflicted with tumors or female troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. E. F. Hayes, 1890 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Mrs. W. K. Housh says:

"I have been completely cured of a severe female trouble by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and want to recommend it to all suffering women."—Mrs. W. K. Housh, 7 Eastview Ave., Cincinnati, Ohio.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, etc.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

A crowd of men gathered at the school house Saturday night in order to hold a telephone meeting, but on account of the main spoke not being there the wheel didn't turn.

One of Rosevale's young men, after looking over the bunch of young ladies considered none good enough, so owing to the distance he had to go to suit his choice, on his way home in the wee hours of the night, we are not able to state his condition but the team was certainly awake, and leaving him with two prominent red spots on his classic countenance they departed to parts unknown. They soon, however, parted company with the buggy but by the use of the ever ready phone he was able to locate the team some miles away. Well, anyway we admire his grit, don't you.
