NORTH LOUP DEPARTMENT

By MRS. C. E. WELLMAN

Ned Comstock is in town this week visiting special friends.

Lona Bohrer was visiting relatives in Scotia between trains last Thursday.

Frank Larkin is at home again from his work on the ditches in the Scotts Bluffs country.

Clifford Klingler, a former North Loup boy, is now the Union Pacific station agent at St. Libory.

Maud and Marion Shepard and Florence Rich are visiting friends in Cushing and St. Paul this week.

Ida Van Zant, Mildred Green and Fern Barber came up from St. Paul Friday night, returning Monday morning.

Homer Larkin came up from Edgar Monday night, and is visiting his relatives, the McClellan's, for a few days.

H. B. Werner spent Saturday and Sunday here. He is still working in the interests of the Cutler Creamery Company.

The three small children of Mr. and Mrs. Ressig came up from Cotesfield one day last week to visit their parents here for a few days.

Rev. H. C. Van Horn is here from West Virginia visiting his father. He occupied the pulpit at the Baptist church last Saturday morning.

A sister of Mrs. John Nelson who has been here visiting for several weeks went to York Thursday, where she will visit another sister before returning to her home in Kansas.

Harry Johnson came home the latter part of last week. Since his school work closed at the Wesleyan, he has been in Colorado attending a Y. M. C. A. convention. During his vacation he expects to spend his time selling a patent gas flat iron, a great

Tuesday night was the time for the annual school meeting. The attendance was not so large as usual, but those who were present showed good interest in matters pertaining to the welfare of the schools. E. A. Hutchins, Omer Earnest and Ray Thorngate were elected new members of the board. Also it was voted to add laboratory supplies to the high school not to exceed the sum of $200.00. This last will place the North Loup schools on the accredited list. The reports showed the district to be in good condition financially and otherwise.

The greatest social event of the season came off Tuesday, night when the ladies study club entertained their families and about forty invited guests at the Workman hall. Unique entertainments had been prepared, and the artistic abilities of those present were thoroughly tested when they were requested to mold an animal on a card with a tooth pick, from a piece of chewing gum. When the company broke up at a late hour, every one was of the opinion that they had enjoyed a most pleasant evening.

The "Ord Tigers" came down last Wednesday to wipe the earth with North Loup. The first nine was in Scotia playing a game there, so the third nine, ably supported by merchant Johnson and commissioner Ressig met them on the field of battle. The "Tigers" were too much for them, and the game ended with a score of 21 to 5 in their favor.

The school board has completed their list of teachers for the coming school year. I. D. Houston will be principal, Helen Williams from South Dakota assistant, Charlotte Townsend, Lincoln, Grammar, Mamie VanZant, Intermediate, Chloe Green 2nd, Bell Thorngate came up from St. Paul Tuesday night to attend the club banquet.

N. K. Radlon went to Wisconsin one day last week, where he will put in some little time visiting relatives.

Donnie Smith went to Gibbon last Thursday to visit her sister, Miss Grace, who is employed in a drug store there.

H. C. VanHorn returned Tuesday to his home in Lost Creek West Virginia, after enjoying a weeks visit here with his father.

Earl Beckelhymer, whose folks lived near North Loup years ago is here visiting friends. They now live in Missouri.

Orin Curtis has severed his connection with Romines' store, and went Monday to St. Joseph, where he expects to be employed in an automobile shop.

The raspberry crop seems to have been more productive this season than in years previous. Our dealers have been shipping them in, in large quantities.

A great many of our people expect to celebrate the Fourth at Ord. We hope they will not be disappointed in their expectation of having a good patriotic time.

Mrs. A. T. Jones expects to start Saturday for Boulder, Colorado, where she will visit her parents Mr. and Mrs. Haydn Strong, for several weeks. In the meantime the children will visit in Omaha with J. E. Goodrich family.

A sister of George Humphrey is here from Omaha, visiting. George is enjoying it hugely even though he is partially laid up with a broken limb received three weeks ago, while rounding up some horses in the pasture.

Earl Green and Ella Brace were married at the home of the bride Saturday, June 27, by Rev. Shaw of the Baptist church. A reception was given for them the same evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Goodrich, where their friends had the opportunity to congratulate them, and at which they were the recipients of many presents. They

Chas Barber started out Tuesday on another of his business trips.

Dave Gard is in the village this week looking after business.

Ed Brace and Chas. Thorngate went down the line Monday.

Dr. Johnson is enjoying a visit from his father.

O. E. Belile was an Ord visitor Tuesday.

A Y. M. C. L. Organized

The young men who propose to open a free reading room, organize athletic teams, classes and contests and perhaps have a central bath house, met again last Monday evening and adopted a constitution. They decided on the name "Young Men's Christian League" and accepted the general plan of the Y. M. C. A., while adopting this to local conditions and immediate needs. Great enthusiasm prevailed in the discussion among the young men, as they considered the possibilities of such an organization. Summer athletics will be made a prominent feature at the start, and as the membership increases and new demands arise, other features can be added. The object of the league is to develop the muscular, mental and moral manhood of its members. This must be recognized by everyone as a noble aim. Every fellow aspires to be manly. He wants a well rounded physique, perfect control of his muscles, endurance, alertness, and system. He recognizes the mental value of mental acquisitions and moral qualities of the highest kind. Every normal fellow has some conscious or unconscious religion of his own, because of his belief in the possibility of his development in manliness. This is where the League proposes to help, to make the most of a fellow's ambitions and social nature for his highest development.

There are three classes of members: honorary, active and associate. Active and an associate members have the same benefits and privileges and pay the same fees. There is to be no debt incurred by the League. The membership fee is one dollar and quarterly dues one dollar per member making five dollars a year. In addition to fees the active members are expected to take the responsibility and do the work of conducting the organization, assisted by such associate members as the President may appoint on committees.

After grounds and apparatus have been secured for athletics and several League meets have been held, a fine exhibition of manly skill could surely be made by the fellows who are interested in the venture. Look for something good from the League the county fair this fall.

The reading room will be provided with games, and probably certain times will be designed, when the quiet of the reading room will not be maintained but the time be given to social good time. This will be pleasant place to meet a fellow for a social evening. It may be, it will be the desire of some of the men to have classes in draughting and other lines. If a shop could be maintained, where boys could make things, it would doubtless be well patronized. Perhaps the League can have its orchestra and band, and conduct lecture classes, round tables and debates. It is hoped that some of these suggestions will shape themselves into useful form, as the League progresses and becomes possessed of property.

The next step is to add to the membership. Young men interested should apply to the membership committee, Messrs Will Kaiser and Russell Mann. Get in soon, and a charter member. Persons who for benevolent reasons, would like to assist financially or by other contributions can communicate with the secretary, Rev. W. N. Halsey. The first annual business meeting for the election of officers for the ensuing year will be held next Monday, at 8 p. m. in the Court house. All interested should be present and be ready with ideas and suggestions, and dollars and energy to carry the movement.

A Sad Death

It is with much regret that we announce the drowning of little Paul Fisher, the 18-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fisher, who reside about 2 1/2 miles northwest of Comstock, this sad event happening about eight or nine o'clock last Wednesday morning. It seems the little fellow strayed from the house while his mother was very busy, to search for it's father, who was at work in the field, and accidentally fell into a pond of water, and drowned. As soon as he was missed search was instituted which resulted in the discovery of the body face downward in the pond. Strenuous efforts were made to resuscitate the little one, but all were without avail. Funeral services were held at the Westcott Congregational church, Thursday afternoon, Rev. Chas. Howard officiating, and the remains tenderly laid to rest in the Round Valley cemetery east of town. In behalf of the bereaved parents, the News wishes to extend to them the sympathy of the entire neighborhood. — Comstock News.

WRECK NEAR CHADRON CAUSES DEATH OF FIVE MEN.

BRIDGE APPROACH GOES OUT

Engineer, Fireman and Brakeman on Northwestern and Two Undentified Men Victims—Two Are Injured.

A washout, caused by a cloudburst, caused a terrible accident Thursday night on the Northwestern road near the town of Clinton, between Rushville and Gordon. Five persons were killed, two are missing and two injured. The dead:

WILLIS GRAHAM, engineer, O. C. KYERS, fireman, FRED EBONER, brakeman, TWO UNKNOWN TRAMPS, who were stealing a ride.

Two other tramps are missing and two are injured. Fireman Harris and Engineer Pace are injured. When the train struck the washout both engines were overturned.

No. 16 left Chadron with a double header. The engines were Pace and Harris, Graham and Kyers. Walter White was conductor, with Gier and Eboner brakemen. A cloudburst occurred north of Clinton and the great volume of water coming down had washed out the approach to the bridge. When No. 116 came along the crew were not aware of any danger and ran into the washout. The first engine passed over, but the second went down. After going across the washout the lead engine turned over and Engineer Pace had one or more fingers taken off and Fireman Harris had a leg broken. The wrecking crew was sent to the scene of the wreck. Two engines and eight or ten cars were piled up. The bodies of the killed and the wounded were taken to Chadron.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR BOND.

Slayer of Omaha Saloonkeeper Found Guilty.

Guilty, with a recommendation for a sentence of life imprisonment.

That was the verdict returned about twelve o'clock Thursday night by the jury in the case of George L. Bond, tried for the murder of John Wrede, the South Omaha saloonkeeper who was shot and killed May 23 by Bond. The latter's companion, Gerald Schofield, will also be tried for the same crime.

The jury retired to wrestle with the case shortly before five o'clock Thursday evening. When they announced that they had reached a verdict, Bond was brought into the court room and listened to the reading of it by Clerk of the Court Smith. At the conclusion Judge Sears turned to the jury and after thanking them for their work, said:

"It would be unbecoming in me and far from my intentions to criticize your discretion and your judgment in this case. But I think the defendant is to be congratulated on your verdict."

In the trial Bond took the witness stand in his own defense and admitted that he killed Wrede, but claimed that it was in self-defense.

LEGISLATOR KILLS SELF.

Albert E. Stalder of Richardson County Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Albert E. Stalder, a leading farmer and a representative from Richardson county in the last legislature, committed suicide at his farm west of Humboldt by drinking carbolic acid Thursday forenoon. Ill health and losses from flooded farm lands are supposed to have been the primary cause of the deed.

Mr. Stalder was about 55 years of age and was recognized as one of the leading farmers of that section. He was of the highest type of citizenship, absolutely square and upright, and his party is a distinct loss to the entire community. He was called to represent Richardson county in the last legislature, discharging his duties with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituency.

Die Just Before Wedding.

Almost at the hour set for the marriage Friday evening of Miss Mabel Richardson and Mr. Clyde Folsom of Ashland, David T. Cowan, grandfather of the bride expired suddenly at the home of Mrs. G. W. Wood, where the ceremonies were to occur. Preparations for the wedding were complete and the guests were beginning to arrive when Mr. Cowan suddenly fell to the ground in great distress. He was assisted into the house, but died just before eight o'clock. As all preparations for the wedding had been made, the ceremony was performed about ten o'clock before the immediate relatives.

Sends Doctor Away.

Fred Mutton of Nebraska City, a 16-year-old boy, who was driving a milk wagon, was kicked by one of the horses Wednesday and knocked onto the sidewalk some 16 feet away. He hit the back of his head, crushing the base of the skull. He was cared for and taken home by a physician. Despite the fact that her son was paralyzed and unconscious, the widow mother of the boy, who is a Christiana scientist, informed the physician that his services were no longer required and sent him away. No hopes are entertained for the boy's recovery.

Sold Farm for Ten Oxen.

Among the effects of the late James Hutson of Central City, one of the pioneer settlers of the county, was found a very interesting document in the shape of an agreement between Mr. Hutson and W. W. Burroughs, by the terms of which the former sold the latter the fine quarter section south of town known as the Burroughs farm, the chief consideration being five yoke of oxen. The instrument was dated May 6, 1867, and is interesting because the farm men-

MAY TAKE PENSION MONEY.

Supreme Court Upholds Legality of State's Rule.

The right of the board of public lands and buildings to make a rule requiring members of state soldiers' homes to pay into the cash fund of such homes a percentage of pensions over $12 a month was sustained Friday by the supreme court. The decision was in the case of Richard B. Howell, a member of the Grand Island home, who obtained an injunction in the district court of Hall county. The state appealed, and the judgment of the district court is reversed. The rule over which the litigation took place is similar to one adopted many years ago when the Populist administration was in power in Nebraska. The testimony, according to the opinion of the court, shows that five states out of 27 that maintain soldiers' homes have a similar rule and many have rules similar to those in force in government homes requiring inmates to deposit pension money with the officers of the institution, the money being returned to them under certain conditions and paid out to them in small amounts in some cases. The opinion of the supreme court, written by Judge Letton, says the rule of the Nebraska state board is within the discretionary power of the board in the management of the institution and is not such an abuse of official discretion as would warrant a court in interfering with the legally constituted authorities in charge of the home.

CURED IN STRANGE WAY.

Central City Woman Believes Dog Took Rheumatism.

Mrs. O. S. Nelson of Central City was cured of a very severe case of rheumatism recently in a very peculiar manner. She had been so badly afflicted with this ailment in one of her arms that she could not sleep nights and was greatly distressed. After trying various remedies and applying various liniments she had about given up hope of being cured when relief came to her in an unexpected manner. She had a little dog which sometimes slept by her side on the bed, and she found that the pain was greatly lessened by resting her arm against the dog's body. She persisted in this, and noticed that the pain grew constantly less. Eventually the rheumatism left her arm completely and appeared to go into the body of the dog, as it became ill and seemed to suffer great pain and was finally killed to relieve it of its misery.

Mrs. Nelson believes that the rheumatism went from her arm to the dog, and gives the little animal credit for curing her of her ailment.

One Cent an Hour Less.

Burlington section men will have their wages reduced one cent an hour after July 4, making the wages half track laborers of this class 12 1/2 cents an hour. Sometime ago the Burlington cut section men's wages from 14 to 13 1/2 cents and this section reduction will make the scale two hours for a quarter straight. It is expected that a number of the men will quit when this reduction is effective, but it is believed that all the men needed can be secured to fill their places. A railroad man asserts that the supply is so plentiful that men can be secured anywhere.

Toledo Banker Indicted.

RESTS IN GRAVE.

Funeral of Grover Cleveland Held at Princeton.

At six o'clock Friday evening, just as the sun was sinking in the west, a distinguished company silently watched while the body of Grover Cleveland was lowered into the grave. When the simple burial service of the Presbyterian church was read and when the last of the carriages in the cortege had driven up to the path leading to the grave, the benediction had been pronounced, and the members of the family, President Roosevelt and others who had gathered about the grave were leaving the cemetery, many of the personal friends of the dead statesman lingered about the spot which was to mark the last resting place and each in turn was permitted to cast a shovelful of earth into the grave.

Agreeable to the wishes of Mrs. Cleveland, the services both at the house and at the cemetery were of the simplest character. An invocation, scriptural reading, a brief prayer and the reading of William Wordsworth's poem, "Character of the Happy Warrior," constituted the services at the house, while the reading of the burial services at the grave was brief and impressive. Although the funeral was of a strictly private nature, those in attendance numbered many distinguished citizens, including President Roosevelt, Gov. Fort of New Jersey, Gov. Hughes of New York, Gov. Hoke Smith of Georgia, former members of Cleveland's cabinet, officials of the Equitable Life Assurance society, members of the Princeton university faculty and many friends and neighbors.

Mr. Cleveland was buried with all the simplicity and privacy that he himself might have wished as a private citizen rather than as the former chief executive of the nation. There was nothing that savored of the official and the military element was injected solely as a measure of precaution in protecting President Roosevelt.

WRECK NEAR CHADRON CAUSES DEATH OF FIVE MEN.

BRIDGE APPROACH GOES OUT

Engineer, Fireman and Brakeman on Northwestern and Two unidentified Men Victims—Two Are Injured.

A washout, caused by a cloudburst, caused a terrible accident Thursday night on the Northwestern road near the town of Clinton, between Rushville and Gordon. Five persons were killed, two are missing and two injured. The dead:

WILLIS GRAHAM, engineer, O. C. KYERS, fireman, FRED EBONER, brakeman.

TWO UNKNOWN TRAMPS, who were stealing a ride.

Two other tramps are missing and two are injured. Fireman Harris and Engineer Pace are injured. When the train struck the washout both engines were overturned.

No. 16 left Chadron with a double header. The enginemen were Pace and Harris, Graham and Kyers.

Walter White was conductor, with Gier and Eboner brakemen. A cloudburst occurred north of Clinton and the great volume of water coming down had washed out the approach to the bridge. When No. 116 came along the crew were not aware of any danger and ran into the washout. The first engine passed over, but the second went down. After going across the washout the lead engine turned over and Engineer Pace had one or more fingers taken off and Fireman Harris had a leg broken.

The wrecking crew was sent to the scene of the wreck. Two engines and eight or ten cars were piled up. The bodies of the killed and the wounded were taken to Chadron.

LIFE SENTENCE FOR BOND.

Slayer of Omaha Saloonkeeper Found Guilty.

Guilty, with a recommendation for a sentence of life imprisonment. That was the verdict returned about twelve o'clock Thursday night by the jury in the case of George L. Bond, tried for the murder of John Wrede, the South Omaha saloonkeeper who was shot and killed May 23 by Bond. The latter's companion, Gerald Schofield, will also be tried for the same crime.

The jury retired to wrestle with the case shortly before five o'clock Thursday evening. When they announced that they had reached a verdict, Bond was brought into the court room and listened to the reading of it by Clerk of the Court Smith. At the conclusion Judge Sears turned to the jury and after thanking them for their work, said:

"It would be unbecoming in me and far from my intentions to criticize your discretion and your judgment in this case. But I think the defendant is to be congratulated on your verdict."

In the trial Bond took the witness stand in his own defense and admitted that he killed Wrede, but claimed that it was in self-defense.

LEGISLATOR KILLS SELF.

Albert E. Stalder of Richardson County Drinks Carbolic Acid.

Albert E. Stalder, a leading farmer and a representative from Richardson county in the last legislature, committed suicide at his farm west of Humboldt by drinking carbolic acid Thursday forenoon. Ill health and losses from flooded farm lands are supposed to have been the primary cause of the deed.

Mr. Stalder was about 55 years of age and was recognized as one of the leading farmers of that section. He was of the highest type of citizenship, absolutely square and upright, and his party is a distinct loss to the entire community. He was called to represent Richardson county in the last legislature, discharging his duties with credit to himself and satisfaction to his constituency.

Dies Just Before Wedding.

Almost at the hour set for the marriage Friday evening of Miss Mabel Richardson and Mr. Clyde Folsom of Ashland, David T. Cowan, grandfather of the bride, expired suddenly at the home of Mrs. G. Worley, where the ceremonies were to occur. Preparations for the wedding were complete and the guests were beginning to arrive when Mr. Cowan suddenly fell to the ground in great distress. He was assisted into the house, but died just before eight o'clock. As all preparations for the wedding had been made, the ceremony was performed about ten o'clock before the immediate relatives.

Fred Mutton of Nebraska City, a 16-year-old boy, who was driving a milk wagon, was kicked by one of the horses Wednesday and knocked onto the sidewalk some 16 feet away. He hit the back of his head, crushing the base of the skull. He was cared for and taken home by a physician. Despite the fact that her son was paralyzed and unconscious, the widow mother of the boy, who is a Christiana, scientist, informed the physician that his services were no longer required and sent him away. No hopes are entertained for the boy's recovery.

Sold Farm for Ten Oxen.

Among the effects of the late James Hutson of Central City, one of the pioneer settlers of the county, was found a very interesting document in the shape of an agreement between Mr. Hutson and W. W. Burroughs, by the terms of which the former sold the latter the fine quarter section south of town known as the Burroughs farm, the chief consideration being five yoke of oxen. The instrument was dated May 6, 1867, and is interesting because the farm men-

MAY TAKE PENSION MONEY.

Supreme Court Upholds Legality of State's Rule.

The right of the board of public lands and buildings to make a rule requiring members of state soldiers' homes to pay into the cash fund of such homes a percentage of pensions over $12 a month was sustained Friday by the supreme court. The decision was in the case of Richard B. Howell, a member of the Grand Island home, who obtained an injunction in the district court of Hall county. The state appealed, and the judgment of the district court is reversed. The rule over which the litigation took place is similar to one adopted many years ago when the Populist administration was in power in Nebraska.

The testimony, according to the opinion of the court, shows that five states out of 27 that maintain soldiers' homes have a similar rule and many have rules similar to those in force in government homes requiring inmates to deposit pension money with the officers of the institution, the money being returned to them under certain conditions and paid out to them in small amounts in some cases.

The opinion of the supreme court, written by Judge Letton, says the rule of the Nebraska state board is within the discretionary power of the board in the management of the institution and is not such an abuse of official discretion as would warrant a court in interfering with the legally constituted authorities in charge of the home.

CURED IN STRANGE WAY.

Central City Woman Believes Dog Took Rheumatism.

Mrs. O. S. Nelson of Central City was cured of a very severe case of rheumatism recently in a very peculiar manner. She had been so badly afflicted with this ailment in one of her arms that she could not sleep nights and was greatly distressed. After trying various remedies and applying various liniments she had about given up hope of being cured when relief came to her in an unexpected manner. She had a little dog which sometimes slept by her side on the bed, and she found that the pain was greatly lessened by resting her arm against the dog's body. She persisted in this, and noticed that the pain grew constantly less. Eventually the rheumatism left her arm completely and appeared to go into the body of the dog, as it became ill and seemed to suffer great pain and was finally killed to relieve it of its misery.

Mrs. Nelson believes that the rheumatism went from her arm to the dog, and gives the little animal credit for curing her of her ailment.

One Cent an Hour Less.

Burlington section men will have their wages reduced one cent an hour after July 4, making the wages paid track laborers of this class 12 1/2 cents an hour. Sometime ago the Burlington cut section men's wages from 14 to 13 1/2 cents and this section reduction will make the scale two hours for a quarter straight. It is expected that a number of the men will quit when this reduction is effective, but it is believed that all the men needed can be secured to fill their places. A railroad man asserts that the supply is so plentiful that men can be secured anywhere.

RESTS IN GRAVE.

Funeral of Grover Cleveland Held at Princeton.

At six o'clock Friday evening, just as the sun was sinking in the west, a distinguished company silently watched while the body of Grover Cleveland was lowered into the grave. When the simple burial service of the Presbyterian church was read and when the last of the carriages in the cortege had driven up to the path leading to the grave, the benediction had been pronounced, and the members of the family, President Roosevelt and others who had gathered about the grave were leaving the cemetery, many of the personal friends of the dead statesman lingered about the spot which was to mark the last resting place and each in turn was permitted to cast a shovelful of earth into the grave.

Agreeable to the wishes of Mrs. Cleveland, the services both at the house and at the cemetery were of the simplest character. An invocation, scriptural reading, a brief prayer and the reading of William Wordsworth's poem, "Character of the Happy Warrior," constituted the services at the house, while the reading of the burial services at the grave was brief and impressive. Although the funeral was of a strictly private nature, those in attendance numbered many distinguished citizens, including President Roosevelt, Gov. Fort of New Jersey, Gov. Hughes of New York, Gov. Hoke Smith of Georgia, former members of Cleveland's cabinet, officials of the Equitable Life Assurance society, members of the Princeton university faculty and many friends and neighbors.

Mr. Cleveland was buried with all the simplicity and privacy that he himself might have wished as a private citizen rather than as the former chief executive of the nation. There was nothing that savored of the official and the military element was injected solely as a measure of precaution in protecting President Roosevelt.

Nothing Revolutionary in Attack on Mexican Town.

Wild stories concerning a formidable and serious revolutionary outbreak in the heart of Mexico has been wholly discredited by telegraphic reports received from Gov. Cardenas of the state of Chihuahua. According to these telegraphic advices, one of the boldest bandit raids ever attempted in the history of Mexico was successfully carried out when the town of Viesca was assaulted and looted Thursday.

The bandits, numbering 50, all well armed and mounted, swooped down upon the town without warning. A feeble resistance was made by the police of the place, but three of them were killed and three more wounded and the marauders practically had things their own way. They first proceeded to the jail, releasing all the inmates, some of whom joined the robbers. The bandits next headed for the Bank of the Nueva Leon, a branch of the main institution of that name, which is located in Monterey. They soon overpowered the employes there and robbed the bank of all the money they could get. The sum is not stated in the official dispatches.

I hereby announce myself a candid for State Senator for the 16th Senatorial District, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the primaries to be held September first. G. H. Kinsey.

Dated Arcadia, Nebraska, June 16, 1908.

Announcement.

Having been solicited by many of my friends to seek the nomination for representative from Valley county to the lower house of our state legislature, I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office, subject to the will of the republican voters at the primaries to be held September 1. W. G. Rood.

We know of stutterm from whose stammering tongue an oath rolls off without a stumble. Strange, isn't it?

The long contest over the mayorship of New York City came to close this week in a verdict for the present incumbent. The contest was instituted by W. R. Hearst soon after the election in 1905 and cost not a little money. The recount increased the votes of both Mr. Hearst and Mayor McClellan, but cut down the plurality of the latter to 2,965, which is about 500 votes less than the official vote as returned at that time.

We are pleased to print this week the announcement of Walter Rood of the North Loup Localist informing the republican voters of Valley county that he will stand for nomination for representative. Mr. Rood is a most estimable citizen and one who is wholly worthy of the suffrages of the people of this representative district. He is clean in every way, and fitted by education and experience to represent Valley county in a very creditable manner. If the republicans of Valley county decide that he is the proper person to stand for the election at the polls this fall we shall be glad to aid in his election to the utmost. We guess that there is no better class of men than editors.

Last Monday night was a great occasion with the Sokol society of Ord. At the opera house that night they gave their very interesting program in athletics which was witnessed and a keenly appreciated by a large company of friends, a very considerable part of the audience being ladies. The program consisted of three parts, the boys, a company of young ladies and five men coming into the lime light in the order named. The boys pleased the audience well by their drill and marching, but the enthusiasm rose high when the company of young ladies dressed in regulation gymn costume came into the open. They went through a lot of maneuvers and manipulations in callisthenics and won very hearty applause. The Quiz is much chagrined over the errors we made last week in our write-up of the marriage of Judge Gudmundsen. Several minor errors crept in but the egregious mistake was the name of the bride. This should have been printed Miss Kristine J. Sondergaard which is a long way from the way the printers got the name in type. We regret very much the errors for they were doubtless quite disconcerting to the fair bride as well as the groom.

Friday the familiar sound of Dayt Auble's voice was heard on the streets and he has been kept busy renewing old acquaintances. We learn from him that he has come back bag and baggage and has leased the Earl Mickelwait house to keep his family in for the present. Most of his effects he sold there but brought back some and also a lot of oranges raised on his California fruit farm, which he distributed around with lavish hand among his friends. They have sold their fruit farm for a heavy advance over the price paid which with the $2000.00 in fruit sold from the place makes the trip a profitable one as well as pleasurable. Dayt seems to be mightily pleased to get back to Ord, and the feeling is reciprocated by the many friends of the family.

Tonight the city council will have to consider the matter of revoking the license of Sam Dumond. It will be remembered that recently Sam had a judgment rendered against him for $50 for violating the saloon law, which is appealed. The provision of the law which made it possible to get such a judgement against a saloon keeper is based upon any violation of the law. The violation being proved, the next logical step is this now being made, to revoke his license, for anyone who violates the provision of the law does so at the peril of suffering a revocation of his license. What the board will do is problematical, but if they refuse to act there is a way to make them do it.

Last week Thursday, James Milford had a pretty close call. He had been suffering from one of his periodical headaches and learning that some friend of his in the country had a remedy, he phoned out for it. The medicine came all right and looked innocent enough, which perhaps it would have been had it been taken in proper doses. But the dose was misunderstood in talking of it over the phone and so Jim took at once what was supposed to be enough to take on severe occasions. The result was disastrous and it took medical help and lots of it to keep Jim from passing over the divide. Jim can give that medicine all kinds of recommendations.

WOODEN COLLAR BUTTONS.

Produced in Enormous Numbers For Special Uses.

Collar buttons are made not only of various metals, but also and in great numbers of wood.

Round sticks of wood are fed into machines which turn the buttons and cut them off automatically. Taken from the turning machines, the collar buttons thus made are placed, thousands of them at once, in a barrel shaped receptacle containing japan varnish, in which they are rolled and tumbled until each is completely coated.

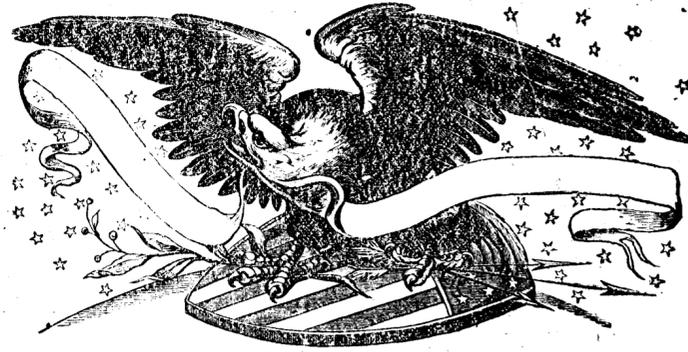

To be dried they are placed, thousands at a time, in a similar drying apparatus, in which they are rolled and tumbled again to keep them from sticking together until they are thoroughly dry, and then they are the finished buttons, which have never been touched by hand.

Wooden collar buttons are sold to the trade by the great gross, but they are not counted out in such numbers, for even machine counting would take some time and cost money, so the weight of a great gross being known, discovered by actual counting and weighing, they weigh out the buttons for packing, such and such a weight of them making a great gross. In this way they practically count out 1,298 buttons at a time, that number being in the trade the wooden collar button unit.

These collar buttons of wood are sold to dealers in laundry supplies and to manufacturers of shirt waists. Altogether the number used for these purposes is enormous, amounting to many millions annually.

Wooden collar buttons are one of the minor products of factories making a specialty of turned wood goods.—New York Sun.

About a score of our young men have joined in building a fine bath house on the Anderson Island. The house contains two apartments so that the ladies may use one of them if desired. The building will be done today if the weather permits and is a well made and convenient affair. This will be a handy thing to have on the Fourth and during the chautauqua.

The Quiz is much chagrined over the errors we made last week in our write-up of the marriage of Judge Gudmundsen. Several minor errors crept in but the egregious mistake was the name of the bride. This should have been printed Miss Kristine J. Sondergaard which is a long way from the way the printers got the name in type. We regret very much the errors for they were doubtless quite disconcerting to the fair bride as well as the groom.

We are informed that Ches. Chinn, for a long time cashier of the St. Paul State Bank, but now postmaster of that city, has purchased the Coe interest in the Ord State Bank, and he will move up to Ord prior to August first to take active part in the affairs of the Ord State. Clarence Coe will resign his position as cashier at that time, and we understand he plans to go west where his mother now is. Mr. Coe is a fine young man and will leave Ord with a great circle of friends. The new stockholder of the bank has long been known in these parts as a

Friday the familiar sound of Dayt Auble's voice was heard on the streets and he has been kept busy renewing old acquaintances. We learn from him that he has come back bag and baggage and has leased the Earl Mickelwait house to keep his family in for the present. Most of his effects he sold there but brought back some and also a lot of oranges raised on his California fruit farm, which he distributed around with lavish hand among his friends. They have sold their fruit farm for a heavy advance over the price paid which with the $2000.00 in fruit sold from the place makes the trip a profitable one as well as pleasurable. Dayt seems to be mightily pleased to get back to Ord, and the feeling is reciprocated by the many friends of the family.

Tonight the city council will have to consider the matter of revoking the license of Sam Dumond. It will be remembered that recently Sam had a judgment rendered against him for $50 for violating the saloon law, which is appealed. The provision of the law which made it possible to get such a judgement against a saloon keeper is based upon any violation of the law. The violation being proved, the next logical step is this now being made, to revoke his license, for anyone who violates the provision of the law does so at the peril of suffering a revocation of his license. What the board will do is problematical, but if they refuse to act there is a way to make them do it.

Last week Thursday, James Milford had a pretty close call. He had been suffering from one of his periodical headaches and learning that some friend of his in the country had a remedy, he phoned out for it. The medicine came all right and looked innocent enough, which perhaps it would have been had it been taken in proper doses. But the dose was misunderstood in talking of it over the phone and so Jim took at once what was supposed to be enough to take on severe occasions. The result was disastrous and it took medical help and lots of it to keep Jim from passing over the divide. Jim can give that medicine all kinds of recommendations.

Next Tuesday C. G. Moore will go back to Illinois again to look after his interests in the big estate which has been a lure to his dreams of the past year or two. He thinks there is still good grounds for hoping that he will get his property all right. We hope he may do so.

J. G. Dahlin, agent for the Beatrice Creamery Co., is authorized to pay the highest price for cream. Give him a trial. 12-4t

Mesdames, Howe, Hager and Moorhouse entertained a company of friends at a kensington at the home of the former yesterday afternoon.

Bud Shirley returned home from the hospital at Lincoln the other day not much if any benefited. A slight operation was had on his leg, but this he is now convinced ought not to have been had. He is still unable to go onto his dray.

Lorenzo Blessing suffered a paralytic shock in his face and tongue last Saturday morning. The shock came without premonition and for a while he was unable to talk, but happily he is now on the mend and very much improved.

WOODEN COLLAR BUTTONS.

Produced in Enormous Numbers For Special Uses.

Collar buttons are made not only of various metals, but also and in great numbers of wood. Round sticks of wood are fed into machines which turn the buttons and cut them off automatically. Taken from the turning machines, the collar buttons thus made are placed, thousands of them at once, in a barrel shaped receptacle containing japan varnish, in which they are rolled and tumbled until each is completely coated. To be dried they are placed, thousands at a time, in a similar drying apparatus, in which they are rolled and tumbled again to keep them from sticking together until they are thoroughly dry, and then they are the finished buttons, which have never been touched by hand.

Wooden collar buttons are sold to the trade by the great gross, but they are not counted out in such numbers, for even machine counting would take some time and cost money, so the weight of a great gross being known, discovered by actual counting and weighing, they weigh out the buttons for packing, such and such a weight of them making a great gross. In this way they practically count out 1,728 buttons at a time, that number being in the trade the wooden collar button unit.

These collar buttons of wood are sold to dealers in laundry supplies and to manufacturers of shirt waists. Altogether the number used for these purposes is enormous, amounting to many millions annually.

Wooden collar buttons are one of the minor products of factories making a specialty of turned wood goods.—New York Sun.

ABOUT THE BIG SALE

It is our established policy to carry over no Goods from Season to Season so on last Saturday we started our ANNUAL CLEAN-UP SPECIAL SALE. The people here as well as every where, like to get a bargain and if you were here and saw the crowds you know how busy we were. During the first fifteen minutes we sold 120 pair of of womens' hose and about 100 pair of men's hose. During the day we sold 440 handkerchiefs, 236 shirts, 38 men's and boy's suits and hundreds of yards of Dress Goods. The 29c Goods were just about all sold but we still have some of the 9 and 19c Goods.

Our total cash receipts for the day were $890.14

Pretty good, don't you think for one day at this time of the year in a town of the size of Ord. It will pay you to keep in touch with this store. Watch our advertisements. Come in and see the Goods. In a store of this size, doing a large business there are always bargains that can be picked up. ### THE ORD QUIZ

W. W. HASKELL, Editor and Owner.
W. C. PARSONS, City Editor.

ORD, VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA.

Saturday is the Fourth.

July 25 is the opening day of the chautauqua.

J. D. Braden was doing business in the city Tuesday.

Charley Cornell was a passenger to Omaha Monday morning.

I have secured the agency for Fuller & Johnson frost-proof engines. See me if interested. John L. Ward. t-f

Next Saturday will be the Fourth. All this part of the world has promised to come to Ord that day.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bresley came down from Burwell Wednesday morning and went on east for a few days visit.

The trotting bred stallion, Dandy A, will be at the Blue barn the balance of the season. W. L. D. Auble. 14-2t

The First National Bank folks are inaugurating some improvements along the main street near their bank building that help out the general appearance of the city.

A Ravenna automobile driven by a quartett of young fellows of that town drifted into town Monday evening. Two punctured tires compelled the tourists to remain in town for a few hours until the repairs to their machine were completed.

Every owner of an automobile should plan on entering the automobile parade on the Fourth. This will be a sight worth seeing if all enter. We have a dozen or more machines in the city and several of them are big ones. With these lined up there will be one or more for the people.

The fellow who advertises is the fellow who gets the business. No better evidence of this fact could be offered than the crowd that got to the Bailey store Saturday morning a half hour or so before the opening time. Of course the responsibility of the advertiser goes a long way toward helping on the goods advertised and the firm with a reputation of giving their customers bargains when they say they will, will sure get the crowd when they spend their money for printer's ink.

An entertainment was held in Dist. 38 last Friday eve in the way of a pound social. After a short service by Rev. Maynard at the school house all repaired to the beautiful lawn where ice cream and cake were served to about seventy five guests both old and young. A nice time is reported by all. When Rev. Maynard was ready to go home he could just get a seat in his buggy and some things were left behind to be taken to him later on.

For the benefit and accommodation of customers Ord banks will be opened on the morning of the Fourth till 10:30. If you want spending money or wish to put your money where it will be safe during the horse races you will do well to be at the bank soon after the opening hour for they will be open only two and a half hours.

The Purity Candy Kitchen has bought the ice owned by the McNutt & Blessing Produce Company. The latter have been getting fair prices for their produce and so have not had to hold their stuff as was expected, which has been a saving in the matter of ice.

Next week Mamie Siler will go to Chicago to buy a lot of goods for her People's Store. She proposes to look the city over and make a selection of goods that will bring the people

Clarence Coe went to Scotia Tuesday on a business mission.

Paul Sunday visited over Sunday with his wife's folks near Kent.

The Quiz force is at work on a brief in the supreme court for A. M. Robbins this week.

We have a few chautauqua programs at this office for distribution. Drop in and get one or have one sent to your friends where there is a possibility that they will come to Ord during chautauqua week.

Trouble is being experienced in getting passenger coaches for the special trains that are to be run to Ord on the Fourth. It may be that box cars will have to be used. But that will be all right for a holiday trip anyway.

St. Paul is advertising as one of its big attractions on the Fourth, the carnival company that recently spent a week in Ord. We don't think that St. Paul will get a very big crowd of Ord folks if this is all they have to show on the Fourth.

Mrs. C. E. Cox is visiting friends in this section accompanied by her son, Paul. They arrived last week and we presume will remain several days. Mrs. Cox finds a very large circle of friends here who are glad to see her again.

The county supervisors are going to make it warm for the fellows that have been despoiling the court house halls and other parts of the building and to this end, reward cards have been printed, offering ten dollars to any person who will furnish any information that will convict the guilty parties. We are of the opinion that if there is any more dirty work done about the court house building that some fellow will be ten dollars ahead and that there will be some other fellow that will be spending a few days in the city

We do not ever remember of a Grand Island base ball team winning a game from the Ord aggregation hence it was no surprise last Thursday when the Ord team succeeded in defeating the Wolbach's. The players from the Island were a nice bunch of fellows but they were not in the same class with the Ord team on that day. There was a pretty good attendance at the game as it was pretty well advertised that the fellows from the Island would come up prepared to take home the major portions of the gate receipts. But the crowd was pretty generally disappointed at the onesidedness of the affair. The final score stood 6 to 0 in favor of the Ord boys.

Last Thursday was Woodman day and there was a big crowd in town all day to take in the sights. In the evening in the neighborhood of fifty candidates were initiated into the secrets of the order the work being carried on in the opera house. The largest number of candidates came from North Loup, Ord, Geranium and other camps in the vicinity furnishing their share. It was a big day for Ord Woodman and while there was not as many applicants as was at first anticipated, the strength of all of the local camps was considerably increased by reason of the effort.

We learn this week of the marriage of Arthur Kaiser to Elva Hayes, the wedding taking place at the home of the bride's parents in Washington several days ago. The young couple are both well known in Ord and have the congratulations of their many friends.

The Junior League picnic was billed for Wednesday, and a worse guess could not have been made for the rain came along and spoiled the thing entirely just as it had done once before this spring. The Leaguers will probably try again and probably better luck will be met with Ora Mutter returned from Fremont last Friday evening where she had been attending the state photographers meeting.

Ora Taylor went to Lincoln last Saturday Morning having secured a good position in one of the big Lincoln printing houses.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vopat returned from a four weeks visit to the Pacific coast. While away they visited the Matt Coffin folks in California and called on other Ord folks now residing in that part of the country. The enjoyed a very pleasant trip.

Frank Foster and wife are yisiting in this section again. Frank is still holding onto his job as conductor on the "Soo" line running to the Canada line and is very loud in the praises of North Dakota and oven of Canada as localities where the farmers are making lots of money.

Three weeks will bring us up to the opening day of the chautauqua. The opening date is Saturday evening July 25 and the closing date August 2. If you have not made arrangements to attend this big summer meeting you had better do so at once. Season tickets for the entire course are worth two dollars and if your wants have not yet been supplied we will save you one if you will call us over the phone or drop a line to the Quiz man.

A week or so ago Mrs. Fred Witt was taken to Colorado with pulmonary trouble her condition at that time not being considered dangerous but Tuesday evening Fred received a telegram stating that there had been a sudden change for the worse in his wife's condition and advised him to come at once. Wednesday morning Mr. Witt started for Colorado in response to the telegram. That her condition may not be as bad as is reported is the wish

J. E. Delzell, of Lexington was in the city for a couple of days the first of the week attending to matters in connection with the Ord chautauqua. While he was in the city but a few hours he probably accomplished more for the chautauqua meeting than all the hustling thus far put forward. By the way Prof Delzell will be a candidate before the republican primaries this fall for the nomination of state superintendent and we do not believe that republicans could make any better selection than that of Mr. Delzell for this important office. He is a man that has spent the greater part of his life in school work and is thoroughly conversant with every part of the work, is honest and painstaking and is not afraid to take off his coat and go to work when the opportunity presents itself. In a great measure he was responsible for the success of the chautauqua in Ord last year and should it not prove as great a success this year it will be because of the lack of a manager of the Delzell calibre. The voters of this section of the state will remember him on primary election day.

Oscar Anderson was turned loose from the city bastille Tuesday morning where he had been confined for ten days for being drunk. Oscar, as you know, hales from Burwell and has a very estimable family there, so we are assured by those who are in position to know. But he has been spending much of his time in Ord and has not always been sober and the presumption is that that he has had a hand in some of the games that are pulled off on the sly. It was proposed to arrest him on a charge of gambling as soon as he was turned loose, but finally the proposition was made him to get out and stay out, which he agrees to do. If he comes back it will be to transact legitimate business.

Dave Gard has been in the vicinity for several days looking

SPRING CHICKENS For sale weight about one pound and a half, price 30 cents each inquire at this office.

The attention of the Quiz man has been called to the fact that some of the boys are going in bathing on the Anderson Island without putting on the necessary bathing suit, a few rods only separating them from the mainly traveled road. The boys are requested to be more careful in the future.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bailey came down from Burwell Wednesday and transferred their baggage to the Union Pacific on which route they were sold tickets through to Boston. They expect to visit there the greater part of the summer before returning to this section of the country.

After staying home one day Mr. Frank Vopat was called to Chicago to confer with the Alvin Dickinson Seed Company, whom he will represent at Ord commencing on July 1. They are going to put in a large seed warehouse in Ord and wish him to come to Chicago to look over the plans. Prior to his going to California he resigned his place with the elevator people. Frank is a very reliable fellow and the seed company could not have done better in making a selection of a local manager.

Home Creamery.

For the convenience of those living South and West of Ord who wish to sell their cream butter and eggs and poultry to their Home Creamery we have opened up a receiving station on the south east corner of the square and placed it in charge of Mr. Ed. Finley. We will have a complete outfit for testing cream and will be in position to pay you cash for all produce same day delivered. Can't we have a portion of your patronage. Ravenna Creamery Co.

ENTERPRISE DEPARTMENT

By JOHN L. WARD

Some Fourth of Ju—lies.
 John Costello returned to Elba Thursday.

We overlooked the fact that Late Paist and wife visited at F. C. Williams a week ago Sunday.

Miss Mary Enevoldsen, one of the popular young ladies of Dannebrog, was visiting at A. Wards and also in Ord a few days this week. She returned home Tuesday.

Problem 28. Why is it that a man will turn up his nose in disgust at the ancient hen fruit in a restaurant, and then turn around and order Schweitzer cheese?

It is about time to remind everybody that the weeds along the highways should be cut before the 15 of this month. After that time the board will have a man to do it for you.

The impromptu ball game in the afternoon was a farce, errors outnumbering the scores two to one. When the smoke of battle cleared away the score stood 9 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. The Cockle Burrs were away off.

CHALLENGE: Since I was not given a fair start in the 100 yard race on the Fourth some people think I am not a runner. I will give any man who ran in that race ten yards start and beat him.

When ordering the crowd back the marshal, McMinder, yelled "Everybody get back under the chain" Lucky very few obeyed the order the jam under the chain would have been something fierce, most of them, however, got behind the chain.

Jamie Ollis and Ruth Nott won the first prize with their one horse shay and incidentally gave Mr. Ollis a rather hard slap about his red hogs. The little fellows they had with them was nearly white and did not look very prosperous.

The regular baby reporter has been off on a vacation for several months, but returned home Friday in time to report a new arrival at Wilmore Gray's and one at Ed. Lenz's about the same time. Both are girls and all concerned are doing well at present.

John Hornickl tells us that Bettger Bros, intend to trade their well rigor for the threshing outfit of Will Plummer. Either business ought to prove a profitable investment at this time of year, and we predict a big run for the boys if they complete the deal.

Mr. Ollis is using a new Midland Extension stacker this year. The machine is ahead of anything we have yet seen when it comes to putting the top on the stack above high water mark. When the stack towers above the clouds the hay certainly ought to keep.

Will Preen stepped on a nail Wednesday afternoon while working around the yard. He paid very little attention to it at the time and later it became very painful. Dr. Shepard was sent for and he pronounced it a bad case of blood poisoning. He is in bed at present and will not be up for several days, but no fear for his final recovery is apprehended.

I am not a bidder for a place in the Hall of Fame but I believe that a Carnegie medal should be awarded the fellow who conscientiously attempts to keep within the law on the 4th. If he succeeds he should be retired on full pay, pensioned for life and given the honorary title of Past Justice of the Peace. If there is a law in the statutes of the state that was not broken Saturday I would be glad to have some one tell us where to find it. Four saloons running wide open on a legal holiday, a dozen habitual drunkards parading the streets in a happy state of inebriacy, a score of boys from sixteen upward swaggering around in a glorious condition of intoxication, a hundred young fellows running around shooting blank cartridges, and another hundred with torpedo canoes, add to this the dynamite crackers and cannon crackers and you will agree that Ord had Purgatory beaten to a frazzle. But of course it is agreed honor to the nation to have its citizens breaking all the laws in honor of its birthday.

Dick Smith met a most distressing accident Thursday, while going from the Valley into town. On his way down Hamilton's hill the horse attained such speed that Dick lost his hat. When he reached the top of the big hill the horse got beyond his control, became detached from the buggy and went on into town. Dick claims that the horse became too weary to pull the rig any further and that he threw the hat away. But we hated to spoil a good story for the sake of adhering strictly to the truth.

Some of these days when our hair is white as driven snow and scarce as buttermilk at that time of year, just before we turn up our pedal phalanges and wing our way into the great hereafter, we are going to acknowledge that our jumping days are over. But we are not ready to give up just because some young fellow who has just cut his wisdom teeth comes along and beats us a foot or two. We will still jump against anybody who will light the same way we did on the Fourth.

We will put up Clarence Bailey against any man of his weight we ever saw when it comes to a foot race. It was worth the price of the whole show to see him wiggle his dainty little No. tens over the cinder path. And Clarence Bailey is not so slow either. He only fell behind a foot or two.

Another chap whose name is not familiar to you all came near being run in while gallantly assisting some ladies in placing a coat of freckle dissipator on their complexions. Thus does the strong arm of the law fail to take into consideration our good intentions.

One lad whose name we could not obtain patronized Bell's dispenser of circular sensation to the extent of four dollars and forty five cents, and then got on his car because his girl said she did not care to ride any more. Some fellows are hard to please.

Oscar Swanson, Lawrence Lofholm, Miss Maude Gilbert and Miss Ettie Lofholm of Loup City spent Sunday in this city.

Mrs. W. L. Bruner and children and Mrs. J. C. Coe left the latter part of last week for a visit of several weeks with relatives at Adubon, Iowa.

Mrs. J. M. Robinson and sons, Paul and Floyd, returned home Monday morning from Alliance, where they had been visiting for about three weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Kinsey and children left here, Tuesday morning for Cadiz, Ohio, for a visit with relatives. They will probably be gone about a month.

William Mattley, one of the possible candidates for state senator, was in town a short time last Friday evening. He was one of a party of four, who were on their way to Ord, from Ansley, making the trip by team.

Miss Cora Bly and Miss Lillian Duryea came up from St. Paul last Saturday evening, where they are attending the summer normal. Miss Duryea returned to the school work Monday morning, but the former stayed over for a few days longer to visit with relatives.

Mrs. J. L. Gordon and family returned home last Friday evening from their visit at Ekhardt, Ind., having spent about three months. Jake stopped off in Lincoln until the following evening, arriving here in time to see the last of the Fourth of July celebration. He again took charge of the Wilsey grain elevator Monday morning.

The Fourth of July celebration at this place was one of the best that has ever been held in this part of the country. Everything was carried out as advertised. The ball game between the home team and Burwell was fast and exciting from start to finish, the Arcadia boys winning by a score of 5 to 3 with her half of the last inning not played. The stage robbery and the subsequent punishment of the robbers by the cowboys was one of the winning features of the days program. The parade was over five blocks long was also a pleasing attraction and the fire practice by the local fire department with the water fight, which followed, came in for its share of approval by the large crowd assembled. The days program closed with a fine display of fireworks.

The Fourth Celebrated at Ord.

The Fourth was celebrated in Ord in an appropriate manner. The weather man put forth ideal weather and the crowd commenced coming into town early in the morning and remained until late at night taking in the attractions that had been listed on the program. So far as the writer has been able to learn the program was carried out to the letter.

In the forenoon after listening to a concert by Reed's band the parade was held there being but few floats represented, probably the most attractive of which was the man of war representing the Bailey Department store and a float representing the Gruber Cement works, the callithumpians in their hideous costumes were in line and furnished considerable amusement to the on-lookers. Several gayly decorated automobiles, the handsomest that of A. P. Jensen, occupied an important place in the line of march as did the fire ladders with their equipment and dressed in their natty uniforms. The hose races were then pulled off and for the first time in the history of the department, hose company number two succeeded in taking the honors and getting the first stream of water on the burning tower. Dinner followed this part of the program many bringing their lunch and eating it in the court house square.

After dinner came the field sports and they were as interesting as such attractions usually are. The horse races at the race track were then the attraction and more than seven hundred paid admissions show that they were well patronized.

Many of the visitors however, did no care for that part of the program and remained in the square for the greater part of the afternoon, enjoying themselves in the shade. The automobile race was between Rudolph Sorensen's Rambler, and Charlie Siler's Reo cars and was a pretty exciting contest. To avoid accidents it was thought best not to start the cars together, the Sorensen car starting a half lap ahead of the Siler car and many of the spectators thought by this arrangement that the Sorensen car was to have a handicap but such was not the case as both cars traveled the same number of miles, the Reo winning by a small margin. After the automobile race Harry Crawford was induced to give an exhibition three mile run with his new racing automobile and the way it tore around the track made the pace set by the cars in the race before look pretty slow. The three miles were reeled off in five minutes and ten seconds.

In the evening there were fire works but as yet we have not heard any one bragging on them and so we are not going to.

There were few if any drunks in evidence during the day, no fights were reported, the crowd being unusually peaceable for its size. We guess that all of the visitors had a good time and if the noise that they made speaks for a good time there is no doubt about it. Burwell furnished the largest number of visitors the passenger down in the morning bringing a train load and in the evening the committee made arrangements to hold the train over until ten o'clock to see the fireworks. A few visitors were in evidence from North Loup but owing to the Fourth coming on Saturday many from there were prevented from attending, then too no train service had been arranged for down the road with the result that Scotia and North Loup celebrators went in big numbers to St. Paul. There were plenty of folks in town however to enjoy a good rousing time, the celebration going down on record as about as successful as any ever pulled off in Ord.

The Teacher's Institute

The program of the Valley County Teacher's Institute was turned out of the Quiz press room this week. The Institute convenes on July 27 and lasts until July 31, and all of the meetings will be held in the high school building. Prof. H. F. Carson has been secured to conduct the Institute work and he will be assisted by Prof. E. Howe and Mrs. Sarah Brinley. All of the instructors are specialists in the educational line and school patrons can look forward to an interesting and instructive meeting. Sessions will only be held in the forenoon of each day and in the afternoon teachers will have the opportunity of attending the chautauqua and taking notes on some of the important lectures that will be given during the week. If you are interested in institute work a copy of the detailed program may be had of the county superintendent.

Thinks His Chances are Good. Will Mattley was over from Ansley on the Fourth. As announced in these columns some weeks ago Will is an aspirant for the nomination for state senator from this district. He thinks that his chances are exceptionally good for securing the nomination. We do not have to give him our promise that we will do all in our power to elect him if he secures the nomination. We would rather see him elected than any other Custer county individual that we know of.

ENTERPRISE DEPARTMENT

By JOHN L. WARD

Some Fourth of July—lies.

John Costello returned to Elba Thursday.

We overlooked the fact that Lefe Paist and wife visited at F. C. Williams a week ago Sunday.

Miss Mary Enovoldsen, one of the popular young ladies of Dannebrog, was visiting at A. Wards and also in Ord a few days this week. She returned home Tuesday.

Problem 28. Why is it that a man will turn up his nose in disgust at the ancient hen frit in a restaurant, and then turn around and order Schweitzer cheese?

It is about time to remind everybody that the weeds along the highways should be cut before the 15 of this month. After that time the board will have a man to do it for you.

The impromptu ball game in the afternoon was a farce, errors outnumbering the scores two to one. When the smoke of battle cleared away the score stood 9 to 0 in favor of the Tigers. The Cockle Burrs were away off.

CHALLENGE: Since I was not given a fair start in the 100 yard race on the Fourth some people think I am not a runner. I will give any man who ran in that race ten yards start and beat him.

When ordering the crowd back the marshal, McMinder, yelled "Everybody get back under the chain" Lucky very few obeyed the order the jam under the chain would have been something fierce, most of them, however, got behind the chain.

Jamie Ollis and Ruth Nott won the first prize with their one horse shay and incidentally gave Mr. Ollis a rather hard slap about his red hogs. The little fellows they had with them was nearly white and did not look very prosperous.

The regular baby reporter has been off on a vacation for several months, but returned home Friday in time to report a new arrival at Wilmore Gray's and one at Ed. Lenz's about the same time. Both are girls and all concerned are doing well at present.

John Hornick tells us that Bettger Bros. intend to trade their well riger for the threshing outfit of Will Plummer. Either business ought to prove a profitable investment at this time of year, and we predict a big run for the boys if they complete the deal.

Mr. Ollis is using a new Midland Extension stacker this year. The machine is ahead of anything we have yet seen when it comes to putting the top on the stack above high water mark. When the stack towers above the clouds the hay certainly ought to keep.

Will Preen stepped on a nail Wednesday afternoon while working around the yard. He paid very little attention to it at the time and later it became very painful. Dr. Shepard was sent for and he pronounced it a bad case of blood poisoning. He is in bed at present and will not be up for several days, but no fear for his final recovery is apprehended.

I am not a bidder for a place in the Hall of Fame but I believe that a Carnegie medal should be awarded the fellow who conscientiously attempts to keep within the law on the 4th. If he succeeds he should be retired on full pay, pensioned for life and given the honorary title of Past Justice of the Peace. If there is a law in the statutes of the state that was not broken Saturday I would be glad to have some one tell us where to find it. Four saloons running wide open on a legal holiday, a dozen habitual drunkards parading the streets in a happy state of inebriacy, a score of boys from sixteen upward swaggering around in a glorious condition of intoxication, a hundred young fellows running around shooting blank cartridges, and another hundred with torpedo canes, add to this the dynamite crackers and cannon crackers and you will agree that Ord had Purgatory beaten to a frazzle. But of course it is agreed honor to the nation to have its citizens breaking all the laws in honor of its birthday.

Dick Smith met a most distressing accident Thursday, while going from the Valley into town. On his way down Hamilton's hill the horse attained such speed that Dick lost his hat. When he reached the top of the big hill the horse got beyond his control, became detached from the buggy and went on into town. Dick claims that the horse became too weary to pull the rig any further and that he threw the hat away. But we hated to spoil a good story for the sake of adhering strictly to the truth.

Some of these days when our hair is white as driven snow and scarce as buttercups at that time of year, just before we turn up our pedal palanges and wing our way into the great hereafter, we are going to acknowledge that our jumping days are over. But we are not ready to give up just because some young fellow who has just cut his wisdom teeth comes along and beats us a foot or two. We will still jump against anybody who will light the same way we did on the Fourth.

We will put up Clarence Bailey against any man of his weight we ever saw when it comes to a foot race. It was worth the price of the whole show to see him wiggle his dainty little No. tens over the cinder path. And Clarence Bailey is not so slow either. He only fell behind a foot or two.

Another chap whose name is not familiar to you all came near being run in while gallantly assisting some ladies in placing a coat of freckle dissipator on their complexions. Thus does the strong arm of the law fail to take into consideration our good intentions.

One lad whose name we could not obtain patronized Bell's dispenser of circular sensation to the extent of four dollars and forty five cents, and then got on his car because his girl said she did not care to ride any more. Some fellows are hard to please.

Hugh Clement returned from California about a week ago.

ARCADIA NEWS

Ford Curtis of Ansley was in town last Sunday and Monday. A. E. Betts went to Litchfield last Thursday for a visit with relatives.

Announcement.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for State Senator for the 15th Senatorial District, subject to the will of the Republican voters at the primaries to be held September first. G. H. Kinsey.
Dated Arcadia, Nebraska, June 16, 1908.

Announcement.

Having been solicited by many of my friends to seek the nomination for representative from Valley county to the lower house of our state legislature, I hereby announce myself a candidate for the office, subject to the will of the republican voters at the primaries to be held September 1. W. G. Road.

It was not a lack of patriotism that kept many farmers in the corn field on the Fourth. The fellow that followed the corn plow on that day while his neighbor was celebrating will be gathering in the golden ears to pay him for his trouble.

It would be a great advertisement for Nebraska (?) if Jim Dahllman, of Omaha, would get on another big drunk and get kicked out of the Denver convention. Jim has been known to act in this manner before, but probably such actions would not be noticed in the Denver convention.

It will now be in order for Bryan to smash the gubernatorial bee that has been buzzing in Jim Dahllman's hat. Jim was a good fellow when he was getting delegates instructed for Bryan for the Deuver convention, but William Jennings is too smooth a politician to allow James to have his name printed at the head of the state ticket.

Does anyone suppose that a saloon city council will respect the wishes of any one but the saloon keepers? Did you have the least idea, license voter, when you were electing Daniels and the other saloon men, to office that they would respect the wishes of the people at large? Did you know that they would do nothing except what the saloon keepers told them to do it? Look at the refusal of mayor Daniels to appoint a man in the place of Heuck who would be willing to enforce the laws against gamblers and other bums. Look at the sweating and fuming of our saloon city attorney Oleson when asked to express an opinion as to the duties of the city council in revoking the license of a saloon keeper who had violated the Slocum law. Look at the readiness with which the saloon members of the council voted to postpone action on the petition to revoke the Dumond license, though their duty is made plain by the law and the supreme court. Few men are elected to hold office on a saloon platform by the saloon party, who will do other than what the saloon keepers tell them to do. Surly our saloon officials know where their instructions come from.

County Option.

The saloon business interests of the state and nation are waked up as they never was before. In their efforts to create a false education in favor of the business they are urging newspaper men to use their prepared stuff offering to pay liberally for it. Now comes the same proposition from the plate and ready print houses offering to ready-set and ready-print matter to the newspaper men who will use it. To the credit of the Nebraska newspaper men be it said that most of the best class of papers are refusing to accept the bribe.

This is the title of a little leaflet being generously circulated by the liquor interests. The leaflet answers its own question in the same breath by saying: "It is destructive of home rule, giving outsiders voice in government of towns."

correct, but it contains a good deal of truth. County option is not destructive of home rule. It simply gives to the county the same right the Slocum law gives the town, that of saying whether saloons may be operated therein. It gives outsiders (that is citizens of the county) the right to prohibit saloon licenses within the borders of the county. And why should not the county have that right? Have not the people of the county as much right to take a hand in the control of the saloon business as the city people have? Especially have the county citizens that right since all the expense and most of the harm of the saloons fall upon the taxpayers of the county.

The leaflet in question goes on to state a clear falsehood in the following words:
In cases where the town had voted to abolish the saloon, if it happened that the rural population was largely foreign born, it would be an easy matter for the farmers of the county to control its policy with respect to the liquor traffic and therefore to nullify the will of the people of a dry town.

No county option law can be made to hold which would enable the voters of the country precincts to compel a city council to grant a saloon license. All county option means is that the county is given the right to defend itself against the issuance of saloon licenses if it so desires. This is a clear right, for the city is only a part of the county anyway, and should be subject to the larger commonwealth in such matters. County option is the coming question. The next legislature will surely be called upon to enact such a law. Along this line the fight will be waged. The saloon interests recognize this, as witness their efforts to poison the minds of the public as to the real intent and extent of the county option movement.

In this, however, they are seriously handicapped. Any argument that they advance to influence the city voter against county option will tend to turn the country voter the other way. If the city voter has a right to say yes or no on the saloon license question why has not the country voter the same right, since the country voter, while getting no benefit from the license, is compelled to bear the burden of prosecutions growing out of the saloon business.

His Past Condemns Him.

(By Norm Parks.)
Can the Ethiopian change his skin, or the leopard his spots?—Chap. XIII, verse 23, Jeremiah.

No. Neither can William Jennings Bryan, for the third time nominee of the democratic party for the presidency, eradicate from his besmeared political raiment the spots of political impurity that stand out so strikingly before the public gaze.

Neither can his closest friends deceive themselves, though try they may, with the hope that the people of these United States are so short of memory or so moderate in censure as to either forget or forgive the many political fallacies that he has inaugurated.

Neither will he be able to completely lose the declaration he made in favor of government ownership of railroads. In the writing of the latest platform, the great Commoner, as a parent, attempted the killing of his own child—government ownership of railroads.

Coward! That's what Bryan is, a coward. A political fakir. A man so lacking in consistency, so small in measure of real greatness that no man of his stature, save only himself, has ever been nominated for the presidency, and none of his kind can ever hope to be chief executive of this nation of enlightened people. Our people are not swayed by the rattle-pated orator of the chautauqua platform persuasion nor are they won over to a party that claims to be hastening the millennium with a cure-all remedy.

No man has ever yet been elected to the presidency who was the avowed enemy of capital, the enemy of the stability of business, the enemy of the honest and efficient laborer, the stimulator of class-hatred, the arrayer of the employee against the employer. Yes, 'tis a fact, no man of such a stripe has yet been elected to the presidency, nor is the country now preparing to do so by the election of William Jennings Bryan.

The suffrage of this country has twice passed judgment upon the man. The judgment, though harsh it has been, is not enough, it seems, to quell him or his enthusiastic populist supporters.

Why was it then that the nomination fell where it did, when democracy could have had such a man as Governor John J. Johnson of Minnesota, as its standard bearer? A man of political achievements, is John J. Johnson. The kind of achievements that count when the ballot box is opened—he gets the votes. He is not a rainbow politician, no day dreamer, no demagogue, no sower of the seeds of envy. He is a man of practicability, a man as close to the impulses of genuine charity and democracy as a human can be. He has drunk of the bitter dregs of poverty, has had to fight down the shame that a father sometimes hands down to a son. And he has succeeded in this, as in everything he has attempted. The secret of his success is not a secret at all. It is but the combination of honesty and ability in business, and as a politician simply the same at all times, unassuming John Johnson.

And why did not the democratic party take this man as the man for the place and divorce himself forever from Bryanism, populism, socialism and the other isms that were gathered in those memorable campaigns of 1890 and 1900? Why did they not? We do not know, unless we could explain this action upon the theory that there is a democratic party in name only—that the real believers in democratic principle have joined the republican party, and that populism is being fostered under the sacred name of democracy.

For our part, we can never write again from the stand-point of a democrat. We feel, as a child must feel, when by the cold hand of a parent it is pushed out into the world at a tender age to shift for itself, without even a word of encouragement or advice. It is hard. It is sad. Indeed it is, to be forced by the dictates of your conscience to sever your affiliation with the party of your father, whose writings in the interests of democracy you hold as your most precious heritage.

But there is no room for mere sentiment, when the integrity of the nation is at stake. Bryan must be defeated and must be destroyed, because right is right and God is God. This nation, though strong it is, is yet too weak to be trifled with by a rattled-pated politician, posing in rapid vanity, and within the innermost receptacles of whose heart and brain can be found a rottenness and hypocrisy unknown in any other man who ever aspired to political preferment in a nation of intelligent people.

We are pained to admit that Bryan and populism are in control of the democratic party. We are disgusted. We will not say that the democratic party has left us.

have. Our home hereafter will be in the republican ranks, and we believe a majority of the rank and file of the real democracy will soon be found there. We go there to lend our weak assistance to the cause of the people. We go there after due deliberation, without the consciousness of a single selfish motive, and with no "glad some hope" of reward.

Bryan to be Named Today.

At the moment of going to press there is no word from Denver, but it is a certainty that Bryan will be nominated for the third time today. All the convention with the exception of five states are sure to be solid for him and he has control of every wire in the great political play. It looks now as though Gray of Delaware would be named for his running mate.

The License Revoked.

The attorneys for the anti-saloon league went to St. Paul Tuesday morning and asked for a writ of peremptory mandamus compelling the city council to revoke the license of Samuel Dumond for violations of the Slocum law. The city was represented by City Attorney Oleson and lawyer Ryan of Grand Island.

The case was tried and Judge Paul promptly granted the writ which was brought back that evening. The next morning the city council met and promptly revoked the license in question and ordered the marshal to serve notice on Mr. Dumond to that effect.

The punishment of Mr. Dumond is very severe, and really calls for the sympathy of all. Surly it so appeals to the writer. But all efforts to bring the saloons to the observance of the law by less drastic means having failed it was seen that the only thing to do was to strike a vital blow even if it was severe on some one. Furthermore this is one of the things that a saloon man takes chances on when he takes out a license, and the chances of this kind of luck will be vastly greater from now on than heretofore. The way is cleared now for action against any saloon keeper who violates the law in the least degree. All that will have to be done is to prove a violation of the law, and we think hereafter the city council will proceed to revoke the license without the necessity for mandamus proceedings.

With this club hanging over their heads the saloon keepers will be very careful how they conduct their business and we opine they will not be so rampant in their spring election activities.

There is some kick on holding the Chautauqua on the Anderson island, more so than we supposed there would be. The objections are the misquitors, the bad roads in case of storm, the danger from the back drivers and the excessive charges they make for in hauling people. To our notion the advantages of shade, water and scenery outweigh all these things. No place in town or even at the fair grounds would seem like an outing, as compared with a few days at the island. Furthermore some of the objections above referred to may be omitted. The entrance might be set back further so as to allow the hacks to turn around on the island but only so far back. Back of this the people may congregate. Then the hacks should be induced to carry the people for a nickle each. It seems to us all things considered the best place is the island. The next best place is the hill south of the Firkins residence. That would be a slightly airy and easily accessible place and people could get there without patronizing the hacks.

A contract was signed some weeks ago between Rudolph Sorenson and H. D. Leggett effecting a trade of a part of the former's Colorado land for the stock of the latter in the Ord Mercantile Company. But there was a hitch which held the matter up till the other day when the transfer was made. Mr. Leggett will go presently to Colorado to make his home and Mr. Sorenson will take a semi-active part in the conduct of the store. Mr. Leggett has long had a longing for farm life and this was the opportunity for which he was looking. He has succeeded in getting a fine business for the company and will doubtless make a success of his farming operations. Mr. Sorenson has had long experience in the hardware business and will in no wise be a stranger in that capacity.

There will be a meeting of the Y. M. C. I. on Monday evening July 13, at 8:30 p. m., at their room on the south side of the square in the building formerly occupied as a meat market. All members are requested to be present as there is important business to come before the meeting. By order of the ## Highest Lake In the World.

On the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains is a lake known to tourists as Lake Tahoe. It is the highest body of fresh water in considerable volume known to this or any other country, for the geodetic survey reports its level as nearly 8,000 feet above the level of the sea. Its temperature never rises higher than 40 degrees F., and it runs off into the Truckee river, which discharges itself into the lakes of Nevada, that have no outlet, but whose waters are drunk up by the thirsty alkali soils of the Great American desert. While it is a favorite resort for fishermen, its waters offer but one kind of fish, the lake trout, as locally known, but in fact the Salmo fontinalis of eastern streams, only larger, stronger and more prolific in their development. —Exchange.

Not Only Cold, but Did.

Sometimes there is a drop of regret in the cup of joy served by fate to the husband of a brilliant talker. "I should think it would be a privilege to sit at the table with your wife three times a day," said one of Mrs. Grandon's ardent feminine admirers.

"Only twice a day," said Mr. Grandon, with a bow. "I do not go home at noon."
"Too bad!" said the admirer. "We could not get on without her at the club, I am sure. Why, I believe she could talk intelligently on a thousand topics!"
"She can—and does," said Mr. Grandon, and with another bow he slipped out just as his wife appeared. —Youth's Companion.

John Smith.

Transferred to other languages, the plain name "John Smith" seems to climb the ladder of respectability. In Latin it is Johannes Smithus; the Italians smooth it off into Giovanni Smithi; the Spaniards render it Juan Smithus; the Dutchman adopts it as Hans Schmidt; the French flatten it into Jean Smeets; the Russian turns it into Ionoff Smithovskii; at Canton John Smith becomes John Shimmit; the Icelanders say he is Jon Smithson; among the Tuscans he becomes Tom Qa Smitia; in Poland he is known as Ivan Schmittweiski; among the Welsh mountains they call him Jihon Schmittid; at Mexico his name is written Jontli P'Smitrli; in Greece he turns to Ion Sinitkon, and in Turkey he is almost lost in Yoo

THE ALLIGATOR.

To Students of Animal Habits He is a

For the nature student the habits of the alligator hold much interest. To the camera sportsman he presents delightful possibilities, while to the everyday tourist who will really seek him in his home he will give an assortment of sensations more thrilling than could be unearthed in a year of ordinary globe trotting.

Hunt up the haunts of the creature until you find a river that he frequents. Paddle quietly and alone down the stream and up the creeks and branches that enter it till you find on the bank the bed of an alligator with signs of his recent presence. Hide your skiff, sit down on the bed and wait for him to come home. By and by out in the middle of the stream you may see three little black dots—the nose and eyes of your absentee landlord—and soon the whole head, tail and back may appear. He will swim slowly toward you and probably sink gradually beneath the surface before reaching the bank. If he comes on and crawls up on the bank beside you, it will be a high tribute to your coolness and complete control of your nerves, and the incident will make a pleasant place in your memory.

It happened once to me that after long waiting for the return of an alligator upon whose bed I was sitting I discovered that he had not left it, but was lying in the tall grass just behind me, with his big jaws three feet from my face and his ten foot body curved partly around me.

After sitting silently in my skiff for half an hour, wondering why an alligator I had seen didn't show up, I chanced to look down and saw his head resting quietly on the surface of the water within twelve inches of my hand as it lay on the gunwale.

It gives a sensation to be remembered to sit thus, motionless, watching the unwinking eyes of this free, wild, powerful brute fixed gravely on your face, the huge jaws and the little that shows of the long, white teeth within reach of your jaws and teeth.—A. W. Dimock in Harper's.

English Money Lenders.

An English clergyman, being pestered with offers from usurers to advance him sums of money, had the curiosity to answer one by asking on what terms he would loan him £250. By return of post there arrived a letter asking particulars of his rent, life insurance and other intimate matters. To this he made no reply. Then followed a note asking him to call in London on a certain day, to which he sent an answer that he did not intend to call and that the money lender need not trouble himself further in the matter. But the affair was not at an end. Two days later a registered letter arrived, inclosing £250 in notes and a form to be filled up, promising to pay £300 in three months. The clergyman then put the money, the form and the correspondence in the hands of his solicitor, who after three weeks' delay returned the notes to the usurer and got a guinea out of them for his costs.—London Globe.

Imperfectly Equipped.

A story of one McLeish told by the Marchioness of Breadalbane in her book, "The High Tros of Black Mount," does not controvert Dr. Johnson's dictum, "Much may be done with a Scotchman if he be caught young," but qualifies it. McLeish was not young enough when caught.

The Marchioness of Breadalbane, an ardent sportsman, was accompanied in one of the great glens of north Britain by McLeish. He had been indulging one day in a long argument in the Gaelic with one of the gillies when there was a deer in prospect. At last, wearied out of all patience, the marchioness said: "Pray do talk English, McLeish. I cannot understand a word you say in Gaelic."
"It is a pity you had not learnt such a useful thing before taking to the hill," was McLeish's dry response.

A Whimsical Wager.

A young Austrian nobleman who had the reputation of being a brilliant talker made a wager with a club friend that during the first year of his marriage with the daughter of a certain count he would preserve a rigid silence when in her presence and, in fact, would not speak a single word to her. This resolution he faithfully kept; but, owing to the fact that the wager was not made public, some very curious consequences ensued. His wife, believing him to be insane, privately sent a brain specialist to examine the taciturn gentleman. He was on the point of being conveyed to a sanitarium when he disclosed the reason of his behavior. When the year was up he claimed the wager, which was duly paid.

BORN WITHOUT FEAR.

Yet Minds of Children Are Made Bogy

My little boy is naturally so timid. "My little girl is so easily frightened. We are trying to cure her of it, but she was born with that sensitive nature, and we have to be very careful." So fond parents are sometimes heard to say when a child shows some special form of fear.

Yet, according to Clara Louise Burnham, who writes in Appleton's Monthly on "How to Keep Your Child From Fear," almost all children are born without fear, and fear is carefully instilled into them by parents and nurses.

Nature, she says, generally hands the child to the parents physically perfect, and still more often she hands him over full of optimism and faith. "Nothing is too good for me," is his natural attitude. Then comes perhaps his first fall. Straightway the anxious mother rushes to him with a cry and picks him up "with such manner and words that he screams with terror," and so the instilling of fear goes on.

"I'm afraid," begins too many of the remarks parents make to their children, says this author. Christian parents constantly disobey the Bible, which is full of commands to "Fear not," "Rejoice always," and while professing to believe the Bible undermine the child's native confidence by teaching it that the world is beset with "snares and pitfalls to health and happiness." So the child becomes, as it were, mentally slouching and stoop shouldered instead of facing life, as he was born to do, with an upright, joyous carriage.

Fear, disaster, sickness should not be talked of in the presence of children. Even though they may not seem to understand it at the time, it sinks into their little minds. It is a disturbing, a distorting influence. Even worse in its influence is the mistake of the anxious mother who is always imagining that her child is ill. "Are you sure you feel all right, dear? Haven't you a pain anywhere?" It need not take much of such insistence to make the healthiest child, if not physically ill, at least nervously upset. The unwise nurse does no end of harm. "She may be kind and loving," says Mrs. Burnham, "and yet consider the mysterious boggy man and the obvious policeman her legitimate allies in enforcing a paralyzed obedience." And so fresh elements of fear are introduced into the child's horizon.

Another thing this writer strongly denounces is the "strange tradition" that into every pantomime or play for the entertainment of children monstrosities must be introduced—cardboard giants, weird figures with goggle eyes and awful grins—which strike terror into the baby hearts. She makes a special remembrance concerning Captain Hook and his pirate band in "that otherwise charming play, 'Peter Pan.'" No child under twelve should have his nervous system shocked by these gentlemen and their awful captives how at one performance she saw a child with its head buried in its mother's lap, begging piteously to know if "the pirates had gone."

A Little to One Side.

"You think you have unusual presence of mind?" said Mrs. Jenks to her husband in a tone which was somewhat tinged by the recollection of her recent wrongs connected with a forgotten basket of kindlings.

"I do in reason," said Mr. Jenks boldly, turning his back to the wood box.
"Humph!" said Mrs. Jenks. "Well, while you've been two hours and a half at the store getting me a yeast cake I've been reading the paper a few minutes to rest my back after doing a lot of work no woman ought to have put on her, and I've been reading of a man that really had presence of mind. What should you do first off if you saw a man fall out of a balloon way up in the air?"

"First off," said Mr. Jenks, turning a calm gaze on his inquisitor, "I should wait to see where he landed, meanwhile standing from under if possible."—Youth's Companion.

Bills and Coins.

All kinds of guesses have been made as to the number of one dollar bills that would be required to equal the weight of a five dollar gold piece. The guesses range, as a rule, from 50 to 500, and when a humorist in the subtlety asks a visitor which he would prefer, all the five dollar gold pieces he could lift or the same weight in one dollar bills, the visitor immediately votes for bills, imagining, as he does, that the proportion will be about ten to one in favor of one dollar bills as against the gold. As a matter of fact, there is very little difference between the weight of one five dollar gold piece and five one dollar bills. To be exact, just six and a half bills will balance the five dollar gold piece.

We regret to learn that the Ericson dam went out again Tuesday morning. This makes three or four times that this effort has been made to successfully dam the Cedar, and so far about the only result is to establish the fact that Mr. Stitzer is a most persistent man. We understand, however, that the loss does not fall on him and his associates this time, the contract being let for a dam to stand the test. Mr. Huff of the Independent Telephone company says that the dam went out Tuesday morning very soon after the water was banked up against it. W. J. Bryan, the great commoner and presidential candidate, is the backer of this last effort at damming the Cedar, so we are informed authoritatively.

Will Zablouil and Celia Allen, two residents of Comstock were in the city celebrating the Fourth and by chance heard of the reputation that Judge Gudmundsen has established in making young folks happy. The judge performed the ceremony in his usual affable manner and the young folks went on their way home rejoicing. The groom is pretty well acquainted in Ord having made his home here for a number of years. The newly wed people have the best wishes of the Quiz.

A wagon show drifted into town on the evening before the Fourth and erected their tents in the street on the east side of the square. Their exhibition consisted of a bear, dogs and ponies and they carried off a pretty good sized pot of money and left little in return. There are always plenty of people that like to see the bear wrestle the man, hence the liberal patronage.

There was quite a party of Ord folks Colorado-bound Tuesday. The party consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bell, Rudolph Sorensen, Nels Jorgensen, S. A. Stacy, E. P. Clements and Dr. Doyle of Scotia. Those of the party that are not already interested in Colorado land will look over the country and possibly invest in that state.

Otto Heuck and Art Hall left Tuesday via the overland route for Denver and other western points. They will strike the main trail at Gothenburg and will follow the Union Pacific line west. They had not decided how far they would go, or when they would return. As the trip is a pleasure seeking one they probably will be gone some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miles were in the city on the Fourth visiting friends and taking in the sights and shaking hands with old friends. Frank is still employed in the Cladin print shop at University Place, but is taking a lay-off of a couple of weeks and spending the time quite agreeable in visiting friends near North Loup.

From all over the country comes the report that the Ord chautauqua will be more generously patronized this year than last. Many folks from the neighboring towns are figuring on camping on the grounds and remaining through the entire session. The grounds will be in much better shape this year than last and will afford an ideal spot for a few days outing.

Under the direction of the county board Cornell Bros. are putting in some improvements in the court house square that will help the appearance of the city. It has been the inclination of the public to cut the corners at the turn in the walk in order to save a few steps in crossing the yard and in this manner the grass has been kept pretty well worn down in spite of the efforts of the gardner to get it thoroughly seeded down, but hereafter pedestrians will have to keep to the walk or scale a three foot iron fence that is being put in.

Mr. A. R. Thompson of Dunlap, Iowa, was in the city this week looking over the situation with a view to establishing another bank. He has been in the banking business at Fort Scott, Kansas, which he has recently sold. He was drawn to Ord by the reputation that the city has even so far away as Iowa. He has strong financial backing and if he decides to open the bank we feel sure that he will be a careful and conservative banker.

Another good soaking shower visited this section of the country Sunday night and Monday. There is no crying need for moisture but it is always appreciated at this season of the year. The shower insured us a bumper potato crop and put the corn fields in fine condition. Valley county farmers as a rule have little to complain of this year, but the complaint will probably come later when they find that they have not crib room enough to house their enormous corn crop.

By the way, what is the city council going to do about the petition of a majority of the voters of Ord asking that the mayor give us a marshal who is in sympathy of law enforcement? Are the mayor and council not going to pay any attention to us? If not the case will not be appealed to the district court, but it will be to the voters of Ord. These fellows will be made to respect the wishes of Ord people one way or another.

Tuesday morning Clarence Bailey and family departed overland for Strickley, South Dakota, where they will visit relatives for a month or so.

Earl Beckelheim, a friend of the Mrs. S. A. Parks folks has been in this vicinity as their guest for the past few days.

Frank Vopat is in Chicago this week conferring with the Hutchinson seed people in regard to the new seed warehouse that they will erect at this place. It is the intention of the company if possible to erect their building so that they may have trackage from both the Burlington and Union Pacific which means that a spur will have to be built from one of the roads. We understand that both companies have not come to the terms of the seed company but they are considering the project favorably. If the railroads should fail them they will probably buy one of the grain elevators now located on one of the roads.

Rev. Mary Leggett, pastor of the Unitarian church departed Wednesday morning for the east for her Summer vacation. No services will be held in the Unitarian church this summer as is the custom of that organization to close their church during the summer months.

If you will take boarders during the institute week kindly notify the county superintendent at once, stating how many and whether men or women will be taken. Eva. B. Schumn, Superintendent.

The sad news came to Ord Tuesday evening announcing the death of Mrs. Fred Witte. Mrs. Witte has been sick for several months with lung trouble and a couple of weeks ago went to Brush, Colorado, where it was thought her condition would be improved by the change to a higher altitude. Shortly after her departure her husband received the announcement that her condition was very bad and he departed for her bedside reaching his destination but a few days before her death. The deceased is the daughter of Oscar Enger, of Noble township, and has many friends in Ord where she spent the greater part of her life, who mourn with the grief stricken husband in his hour of bereavement. The remains were brought to Ord Wednesday evening and we understand that the funeral will be held Saturday.

Mrs. H. C. Stroup returned last Friday evening from Crawfordville, Indiana, where she went to represent the Ben Hurs of Ord at their National meeting. While away she visited friends in Minnesota for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Paine of Neligh are here on a visit with the Batie and Staple families. Mrs. Paine is a sister of Mr. Batie.

On the Fourth Ulrich Sorensen contracted to make a balloon ascension at Boelus, and that came near being his last attempt. For this event he had arranged a new plan for inflating his balloon with gasoline gas. But to make the thing work he had to stand in the balloon to keep it from catching on fire. The result was that he got pretty severe dose of gas. A peculiarity of gasoline gas is that you do not feel the full effects of it at once. Well, he filled his balloon and attached himself to the trapeze as most balloonists do and ordered the crowd to let her go. Very soon after starting up he fainted from the effects of the gas and knew nothing of the flight from then on till some time after coming to earth again. Of course when the time to make the parachute drop came he was unconscious and so rode the balloon down to earth again. As soon as his body struck the ground the strap that held him to the trapeze unhooked and the balloon went up again, which prevented it from smothering him. He was picked up as soon as help could be gotten to him and it was some time before he regained consciousness. He will probably keep outside his balloon hereafter when filling it.

Opinionless Oleson
There must have been plenty of fun at the city council meeting last Thursday night. Before the board came the proposition in form of a transcript from the county court and a petition to revoke the license of Sam Dumond. The board of course appealed to the city attorney, H. E. Oleson, as to the duty of the board in the premises. Oleson was ready with a lot of authorities mostly opposed to the revocation of the license which he read to the council, but did not express an opinion as to what they should do. The mayor the councilmen and the attorneys for the petitioners asked him to decide what the board should do, but he only made answer by reading some mere law. Finally the mayor insisted strenuously that he go on record one way or the other so that they would have a basis to found their action on and he simply refused to decide saying he did not know what opinion to give. Then Dr. Taylor bobbed up with a motion to lay the petition on the table for a month so as to give the attorney time to make up his mind what to do, which motion was carried. The action of the board is interpreted to mean that the council proposes to dally with the question as long as possible. Accordingly a meeting of the anti-saloon league was held Friday morning and Attorneys Clements and Norman were instructed to go at once to the district court and ask for a mandamus compelling the city council to convene at once and revoke that license. It is the intention of the anti-saloon people to push the saloon fight to the limit and make it as hot for the saloon men as can be done lawfully.

Notice.
I would like to have all my friends and customers knowing themselves to be in debt to me to call and settle the old account either by cash or note, any settlement will be appreciated.

Gilbert H. Needham and Desie Noll were united in marriage last Thursday evening, Rev. J. Milt Huston performing the ceremony. These young folks are pretty well known in this vicinity and the wish that they will enjoy an abundance of life's blessings is general with their many friends hereabouts.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grand Army will meet with Mrs. Henry Lewis, Friday, July 18. A cordial invitation is extended to all.
There will be services at the Danish Lutheran church on Wednesday July 15, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon by Rev. J. Mag-nusen.

GATHERING WILDFLOWERS IN COLORADO

RAILROAD RUNS SPECIAL TRAINS INTO FIELDS OF NODDING POSIES

Poets and composers having long since perpetuated the fame of Colorado wildflowers, it remained for an enterprising railroad corporation to combine the aesthetic with the commercial; to strew in the path of the realist the wild blossoms of which the idealist sings. Ever with an eye to any new departure which tends to induce travel into the Eternal Hills, "Where clouds dip down to earth and rise again," the Colorado Midland railway some years ago inaugurated a weekly "Wildflower train," which is operated from Colorado Springs, Colorado City, Manitou and Ute Pass points. The journey in Someone (there's always "someone" there for the purpose), starts "My Old Kentucky Home," "The Old Oaken Bucket," "Good Night, Ladies," or some dear old song as familiar to the passengers as the "Now I Lay Me" learned at mother's knee. Everybody joins in and for an hour harmony from hundreds of happy throats reverberates through the canons and deep defiles of the rugged country along the South Platte river.

Arriving at a point midway between Edwara and Woodland Park on the return trip, "all out" is called for the train is now standing in the center of over Hayden Divide via Lake George and Granite Canon, into South Park, a distance of thirty miles from the starting point.

It is a rollicking, laughing, good-natured crowd of recreation seekers that packs the wildflower train to the guards every Thursday morning, and of the many one day excursions out of the Pike's Peak district during the summer months, this trip is declared to be the best "get acquainted" event for strangers in a strange land.

On the going trip the crowd is entertained by a guide, or personal conductor, as he is sometimes called, and who is a font of information. His talk is one long monologue, replete with early day history and romance. He the wildflower fields. As far as the eye can reach the scene is one of multifarious beauty and wonderment. Almost every mountain posy known to the botanical world grows here in profusion which is not easily covered with descriptive language—for the vocabulary of man is limited, while the wonders of Nature know no bounds.

Then begins the great, good-natured "battle of flowers." Every one tries to outdo everyone else in gathering the favored varieties and arranging them into the most attractive bouquets. Columbinas, (Colorado's state flower), mariposa lilies, wild honeysuckle, mountain popples, bluebells, loco blooms, mountain daisies, ferns, violette and numerous other var-tells many tales of the doings of the Indians, points out their landmarks and relates stories of their early life and struggles. He intersperses just a touch of the humorous to add the point of being tiresome, and this serves as a seasoning ingredient to a veritable pudding of information, and adds "the smile without the sting," so effective in conveying a lasting impression.

At Eplany, the western end of the journey, the jolly crowd gets out for a romp and "stretches their legs" while the train is being turned on a "Y," then "all aboard" for the return trip. Then real fun and pastimes is enjoyed.

lettes whose delicate perfume lends sweet luscience to the mountain ozone, are garnered by armfuls and borne to the train in triumph.

When the crowd of gay flower pickers leave the train at Manitou, Colorado City and Colorado Springs, a stranger might mistake the display for some sort of annual floral fête. Each week during the summer season a new pamphlet is issued containing information about flowers in bloom at that particular time, and is regularly mailed to the hundreds of persons who, contemplating a visit to the mountains, send in their names to C. H. Speers, general passenger agent of the Colorado Midland railway at Denver.

Every one who is well practiced in the use of a hammer will now and then miss the nail; the only penalty, usually, being a mashed thumb or finger of the hammerer.

Iron is improved and purified by fire and hammering.

He also serves who only stands and knocks.

A good friend of mine in Ord gave me this homey but sound advice when I was, once before, being unjustly criticised.

Sheaves of Grain Wanted.

From the number of county, state and interstate agricultural shows to be held this fall it is evident that a large amount of grain will be wanted in the sheaf and farmers who are cutting or getting ready to harvest their small grain might do well to save out a few sheaves.

This grain will not only be wanted for exhibition purposes but for decorations.

At the National Corn Exposition to be held at Omaha it will not be necessary to have a whole sheaf of oats, wheat or other grain to qualify. According to the rules bundles three inches in diameter, which show the type and character of the straw as well as the head of the grain, will make it possible for the judges to determine more intelligently the value of the grain.

It is easier to gather such bundles before the grain is cut than after it is shocked. The farmers in many counties are looking after these prize sheaves and will not feed all of their small grain through the threshers at

Goes to Ord.

As briefly stated in the Republican last week, Postmaster Ches. Chinn has tendered his resignation as postmaster at this place. Mr. Chinn does this because he has purchased the Coe interest in the Ord State Bank and he goes to that city to take an active hand in the management of that institution. Mr. Chinn is a man that St. Paul can ill afford to lose. He has been in this city for the past twenty-five years and in that time he has held many positions of honor and trust and has yet the first one in which he failed to "make good." As county clerk he carried on the business of the county in such a manner that he secured a re-election easily, and could have had it as long as he wished. Later as cashier of the St. Paul State Bank, he made such a good showing that he was given the postoffice without hardly asking for it. As postmaster his services have been satisfactory to all. He has always been obliging, courteous and accommodating. And now when he and his family are about to leave the city, all remark it with regret. An honest regret that he is no longer to be one of us, to take part and have interest in the things that St. Paul has under consideration. There are none who will not miss Ches, and there are none but that join in the best wishes for his health and success in the new field.—St. Paul Republican.

Disappointed in the Races

About 300 people from this part of the country attended the alleged celebration of Independence day at Ord. From reliable resources we learn that the alleged celebration at that place was a "fake" pure and simple there being no speeches, no reading of the Declaration of Independence—no nothing but a few horse races the entrance fees of which more than paid the premiums, Bell's merry-go-round and the Coon show that took us all in a few nights before. Every business man in the burg—department stores not excepted—had "stands" and sold peanuts and red lemonade. A more disgusted lot than the three hundred who went to see a "grand celebration" at our neighboring town on the south we have never met. Not even the races that were advertised were pulled off.—Burwell Tribune.

Premium Lists.

Premium list of the National Corn Exposition will be out within a short time showing just what the exhibitors are going to get for their effort. The list embraces $50,000 worth of premiums offered for all kinds of grain and gass exhibits to individuals, colleges, lodges, church societies, corn clubs and neighborhood clubs. The implement dealers, manufacturers of farm machinery, gasoline engines, automobiles and pianos, breeders of fine stock, bankers and business men of twenty states have made the list possible by their interest in the big show. Most of the premiums offered are modern farm equipment or articles like pianos, steel ranges and furniture for the farm house, lodge or club rooms. Copies of the list may be secured by writing the National Corn Exposition, Omaha, Nebr.

If you have not yet ordered your twine, would it not be well to give the anti-trust American Hemp Twine a trial? Experience has shown that it is just as good as any, and it is time to begin the battle against one of the biggest trusts with which the farmer has to deal. The International people are raising the price of their binders because they have competition practically crushed out and are in a position to dictate to the farmer. If it were not for the anti-trust twine manufacturer you would be paying from one to three cents more for twine than you have to pay at the present time. The Rev. Hurs met in a very interesting session last Tuesday night. Two new members were initiated and the usual business disposed of. After this Mrs. Stroup tendered her resignation as chief, to take effect at once. This was necessitated by the fact that she expects to make her home in University Place, from now on. Her resignation was accepted, but not without many regrets on the part of the order whom she has served so faithfully. The lodge presented her with a set of knives and forks as a token of their esteem and appreciation of her services. The election of a new chief was postponed until the next regular meeting at which time there will also be chosen a Rabbi Joseph. There will also be a number of candidates at that time. This will no doubt be a banner night for the court as all who can possibly do so will be in attendance. Remember the date, Tuesday, July 21.

A man may overtake a lot of people on the road to ruin, but he never meets any one.

The thoroughly domestic woman will do everything for you except make you happy.

The New York World insists that "even royal princesses are human." Yep, intensely so.

The average annual cost for each pupil for public school education in Germany is $12.85.

When aeroplanes get to working easily it may be found necessary to roof the penitentiary yards.

John Thaddeus Delane was editor of the London Times from 1840 to 1877, the period of the paper's greatest importance and influence.

King Edward recently rode in an English street car, and we'll bet that was one time in his life that the end seat hog had to move over.

In Nervelous New York they bounced a shop girl because she was pretty. In Merry Milwaukee, boasts the Sentinel, all the shop girls are good looking.

The men who are trying to teach women to properly alight from street cars should be taken off the job and put to work in a perpetual motion machine factory.

In the public schools of Strassburg, Germany, men teachers get $342.72 to $937.72 per annum, according to the years of service, and women teachers get from $333.20 to $666.40.

In consequence of a Lahore literary society announcing a lecture, "Man, the Index of Creation," the city authorities sent 25 armed constables down to the lecture hall, which only held 50 people.

The police chiefs in convention are asking that the "officer of the law" be no longer made the subject of jokes and funny pictures. That is a reasonable request. It is now up to the police to stop being funny.

Olga Nethersole says if she had it to do over again she'd be a wife and mother rather than an actress. Lots of sense in this. World could perhaps get along without actresses, but not without wives and mothers.

The New Zealand parliament is to adjourn on the occasion of the visit of the American fleet and will appropriate $10,000 to pay the expenses of entertaining the visitors. This is friendship that bears the real brand.

An incandescent lamp in its green shade will, when turned upward toward the ceiling, spread a soft and pleasantly diffused light, plenty strong enough for a room where no one is reading. When the lamp is so used no shadows are cast.

It is essential to note that penny postage between Great Britain and this country means two penny postage between this country and Great Britain. In other words the Americanized penny, so called, is a good deal of a misnomer.

After October 1 it will only cost two cents for an American to write a letter to England and vice versa. But there are a good many on each side who have no transatlantic correspondents, and they will be inclined to regard the reduction dubiously.

A cat in a New York suburb went mad the other day and attacked a young woman who fed it a piece of pie. This is where animals have the advantage of human beings. A man in similar circumstances would be obliged to suppress his feelings.

Noting the recent events in the respective scandals of France and Germany, Harden, who is to get a new trial, should take precautions against the day when the military and court party, finding all other measures ineffective, will begin shooting at him.

A Boston medical scientist has discovered in Boston a girl with six distinct personalities. This may be rare for Boston, says the Baltimore American, but other places are entirely familiar with the phenomenon of a woman who is never the same thing twice. In fact, continual changing is regarded in these places as a long-recognized privilege of the sex.

It will be news to most persons that drunkenness can be superinduced by absorbing too much water—that is, leaving "fire water" out of consideration. But a learned professor, in a lecture in Chicago, declared that "many men and women drink too much water and are victims of that form of intoxication." However, the statement is not likely to convince anybody that the prohibition movement is really a liquor crusade in disguise.

Canada is not confining its energies to constructing canals, though doing a big line of business in that direction. Railroad development is going on rapidly. In addition to the transcantontal roads in operation or in contemplation construction is pushed northward. One of the important projects is the road up to Hudson bay, and which will open a great territory. The scheme will involve a large outlay, but that will not scare the Canadians if they can convince themselves that the enterprise will pay ultimately, as it undoubtedly will.

Every now and then the suggestion is made that the words of "Dixie" be changed. In reply to a recent suggestion along that line the Rochester Chronicle says: "Don't mutilate 'Dixie.' It means much. It is a part of our history," while the New York Herald calls it a "soul-stirring southern melody," and says: "Already it is as much the nation's possession as 'America.' Let it alone." Such comment, says the Baltimore American, as this shows how very

A GENERAL RESUME OF THE HAPPENINGS OF A WEEK.

STATE MONEY IS COMING IN

Purchase of Bonds Makes Hasty Action Imperative and the County Treasurers are Responding Promptly.

The receipts of the state treasury Thursday were $114,000, being in the form of collection turned in by county treasurers in response to a call by the state treasurer. This ready response indicates that the treasury will not long miss the half million dollars that is to be paid out for California state bonds recently bought by Treasurer Brian in Sacramento.

The deal for the California bonds has not yet been closed. It was understood that the California officers would not insist on currency being sent to Sacramento and with this understanding $500,000 was collected by the South Omaha National bank and word telegraphed that the money was there to the credit of the bank at Sacramento. Treasurer Brian has sent word that the currency is insisted upon. If the money is transported by express it will cost about $700. It is not known why California should insist upon currency unless it be that its gold proclivities are such that nothing but yellow metal will answer. If exchange will not satisfy the seller of the bonds the state is in a position to pay over a half million dollars in currency. The annual interest accruing to the state of Nebraska on this deal will be $20,000 and a fee of $700 for expressing the currency will not materially affect the profits. In addition about $600 will have to be paid by Nebraska as accrued interest.

FREMONT MAN RECOGNIZED.

Frank Larson Made Recipient of Medal for Bravery.

The United States medal which was awarded to Frank Larson of Fremont for an act of bravery in saving the life of a child at Exeter some time ago, has been received and is on display in the show window of a jeweler. Larson was firing on a Northwestern locomotive late in the winter and when the engine pulled into exeter little Early Delaney was playing on the track. He was not discovered in time to stop the train, but Larson was equal to the emergency. He went along the runway to the front of the engine, and leaning forward caught the boy and saved his life. The medal is a little larger than a silver dollar and bears the inscription, "For Bravery Awarded to Frank Larson, by Act of Congress, February 23, 1905." Around the border are the words, "The United States Medal for Saving Life on Railroads." A small button bearing a similar inscription accompanies the award.

SON SHOTS FATHER.

Parent Was Trying to Keep Him From Leaving Home.

W. D. Combs, of Chadron, was shot twice with a double barreled shotgun by his son Monday, while he was arguing with him in an attempt to dissuade the boy from leaving home. The injured man was at once taken to a doctor who extracted the shot which filled Combs from the chin to the waistband. The son is fifteen years old. The trouble is the outcome of the boy's desire to run away from home and see the world. He had been threatening to do it for some time and was preparing to leave. His older brother protested to him, but the boy would not pay any attention to him. The older son sent his father to see the recalcitrant. The father and son disagreed in their talk and the shooting resulted.

Piece Work For Convicts.

Clinton R. Lee having received no reply from the board of public lands and buildings to his offer to give 50 cents a day for convict labor and to pay the state $200 a month for power and rent, has submitted another proposition which he believes the members may desire to investigate. It is an offer of from 25 to 60 cents a dozen for brooms to be made by the convicts, damaged or spoiled work to be done over or not paid for. This is called the piece price plan. He is to furnish the material and foremen to superintend the work.

REQUIRE TWO AUDITORIUMS.

Nebraska Epworth Assembly Attracts a Throng of Nebraskans.

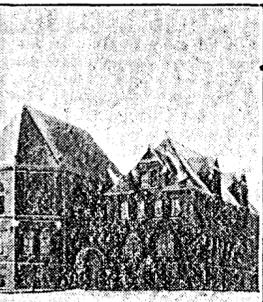

The Nebraska Epworth Assembly is the only similar institution in the United States where the attendance is so great as to make necessary two large auditoriums and two popular lectures or concerts at the same hour in order to provide for the throng of people attending. This year's program to be given in Epworth Lakota Park, Lincoln, is one of surprising excellence.

The great Inness Band of sixty players, and accompanied by famous singers, is among the musical attractions of which there are many. Among the speakers are Governor Hanly of Indiana, Gypsy Smith of England, Senators "Bob" Taylor and La Follette, Bishops Oldham and Robinson, Russell H. Conwell, Col. Geo. W. Bain and a score or more of this class. The handsome prospectus and daily program may be had by addressing L. O. Jones, President, Lincoln. The dates are August 5-13.

THE FLOOD AFTERMATH.

Work of Cleaning Up Being Pushed With Vigor.

With the receding of the waters the work of cleaning away the debris of the flood devastated district commenced and along the Salt creek valley large forces of men may be seen reculating parts of houses, furniture and like effects. A great many dead animals are being removed, portions of bridges, barns, etc., were left in corn

Fields and pastures, trees and fences are down in every direction and it will be weeks before the low lands are cleared of all debris.

The body of W. P. Snell of Ashland who was drowned the night of the flood has not yet been recovered although a continued search is being maintained. A reward of $75 has been offered by James Snell, his brother, for the recovery of the body. Many acts of heroism are being reported, and it is said that citizens of Ashland will make an effort to obtain the Carnegie medal for bravery for Guy Hooker, the seventeen-year-old boy, who, during the flood made four perilous trips against the current, savings as many families. Young Hooker first rescued the family of Del Gilbert, who were in the greatest danger, their home standing in the midst of the strong current and threatening to go to pieces at any time. His second perilous journey was to the home of Conrad Soh, which had already been lifted off its foundation when he reached the place. He made two trips to bring all of this family to safety. His last trip was to the family of H. Honford, who with his wife and son, had stood on the top of a dresser and combed with water to their arm pits for over five hours.

Nebraska State Fair.

The entries in the live stock department for the coming state fair, August 31 to September 4, now give promise of an excess over those of prior years. Applications in the swine department far exceed the capacity of the 714 pens on the grounds. The horse barns are about filled and entries of cattle are pouring in daily. More horses were named for the State Fair Stake Races than ever were entered at any previous race meet at Lincoln. This year the races will consist of fifteen harness and eight running races, with total purses amounting to more than $12,000. The closing of the class races is on August 10. Many new features of an entertaining character have been secured for the amusement of visitors.

Many Land Men Discharged.

The case of the United States against H. B. Reed, Charles Teeter, Edward Teeter, Fred Stucky, S. S. Sears, James Wright, Elmer E. Lowe, F. G. Hoxie, E. M. Seales, Adam Miller, Clarence M. Miller, William O. Miller, Charles F. Nevins, Walter E. Coates and C. F. # GOITCOA CALLED

UNITED STATES AND VENEZUELA NO LONGER FRIENDLY.

RELATIONS FULLY SEVERED

Venezuelan Legation At Washington Is Now Closed By the Recall of Senor Veloso Goitcoa Charge D'affairs.

The diplomatic relations between America and Venezuela that have existed uninterruptedly for more than half a century, though in recent years severely strained, have been completely severed. Thursday afternoon Senor Veloso Goitcoa, the Venezuelan charge d'affairs, called at the state department by appointment and presented to Acting Secretary Bacon notice from his government that he was to quit his post there, closing the Venezuelan legation in Washington and repair forth to Venezuela.

The charge executed his commission punctiliously. In a few minutes' talk he explained to the acting secretary that the action of the state department in withdrawing Jacob Sleeper, the American charge, from Caracas, and in closing up its legation there made it necessary for his government to take similar action in the case of its own legation in Washington. The Senor took passage for Venezuela Saturday. The minister leaves behind him in Washington his family and household effects, but these will probably follow him to Venezuela in the near future.

No arrangement has been made for the transaction of any diplomatic business which Venezuela might find it absolutely necessary to transact, through some unforeseen contingency. As to the future it is pointed out by officials who have followed closely the developments in the Venezuelan situation that there is not the slightest danger of war in the immediate future, or indeed at all. Rather will the situation resemble that following the rupture of diplomatic relations between France and Venezuela; for instance, the legations were closed on both sides and all official relations terminated while trade between the two countries continued and Frenchmen came to Venezuela and rich Venezuelans made their annual pilgrimages to Paris as if nothing had occurred. The history of these episodes are very much alike; the feeling of resentment bred by the rupture gradually becoming less acute and at the proper moment a friendly third party steps in and brings about restoration of amicable relations.

A GENERAL RESUME OF THE HAPPENINGS OF A WEEK.

STATE MONEY IS COMING IN

Purchase of Bonds Makes Hasty Action Imperative and the County Treasurers are Responding Promptly.

The receipts of the state treasury Thursday were $114,000, being in the form of collection turned in by county treasurers in response to a call by the state treasurer. This ready response indicates that the treasury will not long miss the half million dollars that is to be paid out for California state bonds recently bought by Treasurer Brian in Sacramento.

The deal for the California bonds has not yet been closed. It was understood that the California officers would not insist on currency being sent to Sacramento and with this understanding $500,000 was collected by the South Omaha National bank and word telegraphed that the money was there to the credit of the bank at Sacramento. Treasurer Brian has sent word that the currency is insisted upon. If the money is transported by express it will cost about $700. It is not known why California should insist upon currency unless it be that its gold proclivities are such that nothing but yellow metal will answer. If exchange will not satisfy the seller of the bonds the state is in a position to pay over a half million dollars in currency. The annual interest accruing to the state of Nebraska on this deal will be $20,000 and a fee of $700 for expressing the currency will not materially affect the profits. In addition about $600 will have to be paid by Nebraska as accrued interest.

FREMONT MAN RECOGNIZED.

Frank Larson Made Recipient of Medal for Bravery. The United States medal which was awarded to Frank Larson of Fremont for an act of bravery in saving the life of a child at Exeter some time ago, has been received and is on display in the show window of a jeweler. Larson was firing on a Northwestern locomotive late in the winter and when the engine pulled into Exeter little Early Delaney was playing on the track. He was not discovered in time to stop the train, but Larson was equal to the emergency. He went along the runway to the front of the engine, and leaning forward caught the boy and saved his life. The medal is a little larger than a silver dollar and bears the inscription, "For Bravery Awarded to Frank Larson, by Act of Congress, February 23, 1905." Around the border are the words, "The United States Medal for Saving Life on Railroads." A small button bearing a similar inscription accompanies the award.

SON SHOTS FATHER.

Parent Was Trying to Keep Him From Leaving Home. W. D. Combs, of Chadron, was shot twice with a double barreled shotgun by his son Monday, while he was arguing with him in an attempt to dissuade the boy from leaving home. The injured man was at once taken to a doctor who extracted the shot which killed Combs from the chin to the waistband. The son is fifteen years old. The trouble is the outcome of the boy's desire to run away from home and see the world. He had been threatening to do it for some time and was preparing to leave. His older brother protested to him, but the boy would not pay attention to him. The older son sent his father to see the recalcitrant. The father and son disagreed in their talk and the shooting resulted.

Piece Work For Convicts.

Clinton R. Lee having received no reply from the board of public lands and buildings to his offer to give 50 cents a day for convict labor and to pay the state $200 a month for power and rent, has submitted another proposition which he believes the members may desire to investigate. It is an offer of from 25 to 60 cents a dozen for brooms to be made by the convicts, damaged or spoiled work to be done over or not paid for. This is called the piece price plan. He is to furnish the material and foremen to superintend the work.

fields and pastures, trees and fences are down in every direction and it will be weeks before the low lands are cleared of all debris.

The body of W. P. Snell of Ashland who was drowned the night of the flood has not yet been recovered although a continued search is being maintained. A reward of $75 has been offered by James Snell, his brother, for the recovery of the body.

Many acts of heroism are being reported, and it is said that citizens of Ashland will make an effort to obtain the Carnegie medal for bravery for Guy Hooker, the seventeen-year-old boy, who, during the flood made four perilous trips against the current, saved as many families. Young Hooker first rescued the family of Del Gilbert, who were in the greatest danger, their home standing in the midst of a strong current and threatening to go to pieces at any time. His second perilous journey was to the home of Conrad Soh, which had already been lifted off its foundation when he reached the place. He made two trips to bring all of this family to safety. His last trip was to the family of H. Honford, who with his wife and son, had stood on the top of a dresser and commode with water to their arm pits for over five hours.

Nebraska State Fair.

The entries in the live stock departments for the coming state fair, August 31 to September 4, now give promise of an excess over those of prior years. Applications in the swine department far exceed the capacity of the 714 pens on the grounds. The horse barns are about filled and entries of cattle are pouring in daily. More horses were named for the State Fair Stake Races than ever were entered at any previous race meet at Lincoln. This year the races will consist of fifteen harness and eight running races, with total purses amounting to more than $12,000. The closing of the class races is on August 10. Many new features of an entertaining character have been secured for the amusement of visitors.

GOITCOA CALLED

UNITED STATES AND VENEZUELA NO LONGER FRIENDLY.

RELATIONS FULLY SEVERED

Venezuelan Legation At Washington Is Now Closed By the Recall of Senior Veloso Goitcoa Charge D'affairs.

The diplomatic relations between America and Venezuela that have existed uninterruptedly for more than half a century, though in recent years severely strained, have been completely severed. Thursday afternoon Senior Veloso Goitcoa, the Venezuelan charge d'affaires, called at the state department by appointment and presented to Acting Secretary Bacon notice from his government that he was to quit his post there, closing the Venezuelan legation in Washington and repair forthwith to Venezuela.

The charge executed his commission punctiliously. In a few minutes' talk he explained to the acting secretary that the action of the state department in withdrawing Jacob Sleeper, the American charge, from Caracas, and in closing up its legation there made it necessary for his government to take similar action in the case of its own legation in Washington. The Senator took passage for Venezuela Saturday. The minister leaves behind him in Washington his family and household effects, but these will probably follow him to Venezuela in the near future.

No arrangement has been made for the transaction of any diplomatic business which Venezuela might find it absolutely necessary to transact, through some unforeseen contingency. As to the future it is pointed out by officials who have followed closely the developments in the Venezuelan situation that there is not the slightest danger of war in the immediate future, or indeed at all. Rather will the situation resemble that following the rupture of diplomatic relations between France and Venezuela, for instance, the legations were closed in both sides and all official relations terminated while trade between the two countries continued and Frenchmen came to Venezuela and rich Venezuelans made their annual pilgrimages to Paris as if nothing had occurred.

The history of these episodes are very much alike; the feeling of resentment bred by the rupture gradually becoming less acute and at the proper moment a friendly third party steps in and brings about restoration of amicable relations.

Rich Chinaman Barred Out.

Although he owns property to the value of more than $10,000,000, Sam Wah, who has conducted a large wholesale business in Prescott, Ariz., for the last thirty-five years, was detained by the immigration officers at Port Huron, Mich., on the ground that Port Huron was not a port for Chinese to enter the United States. Wah left his home in Arizona five weeks ago to make some purchases in New York and Boston. He wanted to return by another route and so came by way of Canada and Port Huron, never dreaming that he was leaving the United States at his own peril.

Ten Years for W. J. Bartnett.

Walter J. Bartnett, formerly vice-president and general manager for the Western Pacific railway and vice-president and general counsel for the California Safe Deposit and Trust company, which failed in San Francisco last November for about $9,000,000, was sentenced to the San Quentin penitentiary for ten years by Superior Judge Conley. Bartnett was convicted of having hypothecated bonds and securities to the amount of $205,000 belonging to the estate of Ellen M. Coulton, of which he was special administrator.

For a Soldier, $1,000 in Gold.

A gift of $1,000 in gold and a diamond were received at Fort Leavenworth Thursday for Sergeant Henry Hill of the engineer corps. The gift is the bequest of the late Mrs. A. Wilda Hurlbert, known as the "mother of the marines" for her philanthropy for enlisted men. She made the acquaintance of Hill in Washington several years ago, when he was a member of the marine corps.

Atchison, Kas. Votes Bonds.

At a special bond election held at Atchison Tuesday the city voted $100,000 bonds for a new high school building and improvements on ward school buildings. The new building will be modern and contain 40 rooms some of which will be used by grade pupils. It is to be ready for occupancy in September, 1909.

Ball Confesses to Holdup.

Owen Ball, arrested at Marshalltown, Ia., Wednesday evening in company with Mrs. Frank Shercliffe, wife of the famous diamond robber, made a full and complete confession of his participation with Shercliffe in the robbing of the Northern Pacific train in the city limits of Minneapolis on the night of April 16. When Shercliffe, in prison at Leadville, Colo., was shown the dispatch concerning Ball's arrest he denied knowing Ball or having any knowledge of the Northern Pacific robbery.

Bodies of Dead Discovered.

A telegram from Negros, Manila, says Lieutenant Ahern is on his way to Manila with the bodies of P. D. Everett, a former government forester and T. R. Wakeley, formerly a school teacher, who were killed by hill tribesmen on June 24.

TWO CURES OF ECZEMA

Baby Had Severe Attack—Grandfather Suffered Torments with It—Owe Recovery to Cuticura.

"In 1884 my grandson, a babe, had an attack of eczema, and after trying the doctors to the extent of heavy bills and an increase of the disease and suffering, I recommended Cuticura and in a few weeks the child was well. He is to-day a strong man and absolutely free from the disease. A few years ago I contracted eczema, and became an intense sufferer. A whole winter passed without once having on shoes, nearly from the knees to the toes being covered with virulent sores. I tried many doctors to no purpose. Then I procured the Cuticura Remedies and found immediate improvement and final cure. M. W. LaRue, 845 Seventh St., Louisville, Ky., Apr. 23 and May 14, '07."

A Sure Remedy. A young man who experienced much trouble in managing a head of hair which manifested an unpleasant inclination to stand on end, wrote to a weekly paper for a plan by which his troubles would be at least lessened.

He was given the following recipe: "One part molasses, three parts beeswax, four parts India rubber, four parts glue, 12 raw eggs; boil on a slow fire for two hours and 15 minutes, and while cooling stir in enough cod liver oil to make the mixture slab and good. Apply hot, and while gradually cooling pass a lawn mower back and forth over the head."

Who in Indiana is Kern?

If Bryan has leased a part of the White House to Mr. Kern in case of their election he is throwing dust in the face of fate. Does not Mr. Bryan know that no house is big enough for two families? And then, you know, it is not well to count chickens before they hatch. But after all it is perfectly safe for Bryan to make any offers conditioned on his being elected president.

In the current issue of the World-Wide Missions is a very remarkable article by William H. Taft, republican candidate for president. The article is written by a man who had ample opportunities to study the effect of missionary work on the progress of civilization and the inestimable help it is to us in dealing with the peoples whom Providence has placed in our care and keeping. And it is from this standpoint that Mr. Taft writes his article. He confesses to a feeling averse to foreign missions prior to the time of his being sent to Cuba and the Philippines, but frankly admits a sudden change of heart when he saw what a necessity the missionaries were to the progress of the nation's work in those countries. For long the question of missions has been discussed from the standpoint of pure religion, but this article dealing with the subject from the standpoint of practical progress of christian civilization renders it remarkable and very effectual.

Because the State Central Committee, after complying with all the requirements of law, suspended a large banner over O street of Lincoln bearing portraits of Taft and Sherman, and his leaders among them, made a great roar, claiming it would be an insult to Bryan and to the delegations coming to see him. To quiet these childish fears the committee notified the democratic power that the flag would be removed temporarily whenever a delegation of democrats who were afraid to look at the flag would come upon the scene. There was no reasonable protest that the democrats could make to this so no answer was made till one midnight a few hours after the flag was displayed some democratic vandal cut the cable which held the flag in place, destroying it by reason of its coming in contact with the electric wires. We are hoping

What great gobs of satisfaction the words of Dr. Miller, of Omaha, will create within the breasts of such Bryan followers as Edgar Howard, of the Columbia Telegram. When interviewed on the results of the Denver convention, Miller remarked that he did not support Bryan twelve years ago and that he did not see any reason why a true blue gold democrat should support him now. Years ago when the democratic party was a power in the land, Miller was the patron saint of the democrats of Nebraska, and always held responsible positions in the councils of the party. Miller is no less a democrat today, he is as firm a believer in the democratic doctrines as of yore, but what has become of Howard, his former ardent admirer and party associate and the rest of the Bryan following? The crowd that is whooping it up for Bryan today is the same outfit that deserted their party twelve years ago in the 10 to 1 band wagon. They followed their peerless leader to defeat in that campaign and four years later the affair was repeated. We now have him running again but on a platform as different from the one that carried him to defeat in the two former campaigns as could be imagined. There is no no 16 to 1 plank in his platform today but Dr. Miller and hundreds of well informed democrats over the country fear a man with such a pet theory. It is a pretty bitter pill for men of the Howard stamp to see such influential men as Miller repudiating their candidate, but they have themselves to thank for the dose.

Now that our officers of all degree from Governor down must be nominated by the direct primary election a special responsibility devolves upon the newspaper man of aiding the voter as much as possible to make the wisest choice. The old system of nominating by political machinery was an easy, albeit a frequently unsatisfactory way for the voter to shift the responsibility of nominating his party ticket. Under that system there was little call for general definite information among the masses as to the fitness of this or that candidate. The convention system encouraged listlessness on the part of the average voter, it being easier for him to send a few delegates to make selection of candidates for him. All this is changed now. Each voter should be well informed as to the fitness of each man proposed for the offices, and go to the primary election and cast his vote intelligently. To get this information the voters will naturally turn to the newspapers. More than ever before the newspaper man will be called upon to aid in the choice of right men for office. We are hoping that papers of all political affiliation will do their duty well and faithfully.

Without question the best man so far brought forward for the office of commissioner of public lands and buildings is J. M. Shively. Four years of faithful service in the position of deputy has enabled him to become acquainted with the work of the office and has proved his worth as far as such work can do it. The platform of Mr. Shively, which follows, ought to be good enough for anyone. I am for the equitable taxation of all property; the direct primary for the nomination of candidates; the anti-pass law as demanded by the republican state convention of 1906; the endorsement of the proposed constitutional amendment providing for the investment of the educational funds; endorsement of the present state administration and the work of the last legislature; liberal appropriations for education; fair salaries for honest and efficient services performed; ceremony in the expenditure of the people's money. I believe platform pledges should be redeemed; that laws should be enforced; that amendments or repealed; that business principals should govern in all departments and institutions; that all boards transacting business

If Lincoln folks continue to object so strenuously to that Taft banner that the state central committee has hung up, we would second the motion that the state republican headquarters be moved to some town that would better appreciate it. It is no slur on Bryan the display of a Taft banner and if the delegates to the Denver convention intend to go around the block rather than walk under a Taft banner they will be called upon to do many miles of extra walking stunts before the election

St. Paul folks are feeling quite sore and all because they handed the carnival company that recently stopped off in Ord, a nice little piece of money to prevail upon them to help their town celebrate the Fourth. The carnival company was to furnish a balloon ascension and several other fee attractions but the balloonist went to one of the nearby towns to make an ascension in the forenoon and got drunk before he got back to St. Paul so the free exhibitions had to be called off. The saloon people of the town claimed that they would be unable to get a crowd as the town is now dry, but this evidently did not cut much figure as there were lots of celebrators there.

Frank Vopat informs us that the Richardson Seed Company have secured the desired site for their seed house on the edge of the two railroad rights of way between the Barstow and Omaha elevators, and the building will be put up at once. This location gives them the opportunity of shipping in or out over either line. It is the purpose of the company to make this the central station for the handling of seed for this section of the country, which means that seed will be shipped in from other near-by places and, after cleaning, sorting and grading, for which elaborate machinery will be installed, they will ship the grain out to the selling stations all over the country.

Tomorrow the Star Bloomer girls come to town for a game of base ball with the local team and we are going down to the ball park to see the women folks attempt to play ball. A few years ago we saw the famous Boston Bloomers play a game and we are right here to say that the girls knew about as much about the National game as a hog knows about Sunday. We don't expect to see a ball game Friday for we do not believe that a woman can play ball, but for the novelty of the affair, if for nothing else, we are going to take it in.

Dr. Corkill has been receiving a visit from Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Hanson and three little children, from Hebron, Nebr., the past week. Mrs. Hanson is a niece of the doctor's. Mr. Hanson has been to South Dakota, recently and purchased a section of well improved land in Spink county, where he and family will soon migrate.

If you want to see the reproduction of Custer's last charge don't fail to see The Weidemann's great Wild West shows at Ord Friday, July, 24.

Miss Grace E. Tolen, who is taking a course in Douglas county Hospital for trained nurse has been here on a fortnight vacation. She returned to her work yesterday morning and will finish in about ten months.

J. D. Tedeo has bought the H. C. Stroup property in the western part of the city and will move there as soon as the property is vacated. The Stroup folks will go to University place where Henry has a good position with the Electric Light people of that city.

We have to move before long, and we don't expect to move summer wash goods. See the point? at Dworak's.

George Knecht has bought the VanSlyke place two blocks south of the square and has moved into it already. To make room for the new owner the VanSlykes moved into the McCrossen property temporarily. Immediately after selling to Mr. Knecht Mr. Van Slyke bought the old Strong property but he was unable to get possession of it so he had to make a temporary home in a rented house.

Dworak says he will sell shoes if prices will do it. See his ad this week.

There seems to be considerable objection on foot to the holding of the chautauqua on the island and some have even gone so far as to refuse to buy tickets unless the location is changed. The chief objections appear to be the mosquitoes and the excessive hawk fare that is charged to and from the grounds, and we believe that there is just cause for complaint on both scores. It is quite probable that a petition will be circulated and an attempt made to see what a majority of the people think about the prospects and if the most of them desire a change, which we are of the opinion they do, the chautauqua people will undoubtedly comply with their

Amateur Forgerer.

On the Fourth a gawky country boy, who was evidently smoother than he looked, took in some of our prominent business firms quite effectually by means of worthless checks.

He first appeared at the Ord Mercantile company's place of business and wanted to buy a revolver. After making the selection which amounted to $6.50, he fumbled about in his pockets and failing to find enough money asked if they would take a check on the First National Bank of Burwell. The boy's evident inexperience in the world came well in hand for they did not think there was any danger in his being a fakir, and accepted the check without question. Later the boy worked his face for a larger deal at Schwaner's store, where he passed a check for $14.50 in exchange for a watch. In each case he signed the check "Earl Barnum," with a small b.

This was encouraging so he concluded to try a larger game. He presented at the First National a forged check for $40.00 purporting to be given W. D. Hart and made payable to the same namesake of the great showman, who said that the American people dearly loved to be humbugged. The check was paid in cash and the boy evidently had a good time of it.

The checks were sent to Burwell Monday and Billy McMullen promptly phoned down to the bank that there was no one by the name of Earl Barnum in that vicinity.

The only clue the bank had to work on was the fact that another boy up Burwell way one time tried to pass a worthless check on the First National Bank, and Earnest Williams went to Burwell to see if happily this might be the same fellow. But his investigation proved that he was on the wrong trail.

Friday Sheriff Sutton and Mr. Maddox of the Ord Mercantile company went up and it so happened that McMullen had noticed by another check signed by Oscar Reinert a similarity of penmanship. He called the sheriff's attention to this and showed the check to Mr. Maddox, who saw the similarity. Accordingly they hunted the young man up, he being still in town, and accused him of the crimes and succeeded in getting him to own up, though at first he denied the whole affair.

The boy was taken in custody and brought down Saturday and lodged in jail. Tuesday he had his preliminary hearing in Judge Gudmundsen's court where he was bound over to the district court.

As soon as he was seen by those whom he victimized he was positively identified, so there was no question as to his guilt.

The young man has just attained his majority and left home but a few months ago. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Reinert on the Gracie, very estimable and hospitable German people, whom everybody traveling in the region of the Calamus have had occasion to bless because of their kindness to everybody, strangers and all. The acts of the young man are a great grief to them and all who know the Reinerts are in full sympathy with them.

The mother came down to Ord when she heard of the plight of her son and Attorney Oleson says the talk she gave the boy was enough to make a man weep. Those who have had to deal with the case feel that the boy did his serious acts more from ignorance than from real viciousness. This if true will act as a mitigating circumstance, though we hardly see how the boy can escape punishment.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Grand Army will meet with Mrs. Henry Lewis, Friday, July 18. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

Mrs. J. W. Patrick of Oberlin, Kansas, returned home Tuesday. She had been here on a visit with her brother, Will Clark, and family.

Three cases of blackleg were reported from the Q-Z ranch yesterday. This is rather an unusual time for this disease. The cattle were all vaccinated about three months ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mortensen and son Crawford departed last Saturday noon for an extended trip to the west. They will visit the principal cities on the Pacific coast and be absent from Ord a month or so.

Frank Vopat went to Loup City Tuesday morning on a business mission. He tells us that his company has secured the necessary permits from the railroads and the erection of their new seed ware house will commence at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Bates and child were at the Boettger home in Mira Valley last week on a brief visit. Mrs. Bates is the former Miss Bertha Boettger whom most of you know about these parts. Their home is in Belgrade.

The Ord Bathing Klub have issued many invitations to their friends both male and female to come down to their bath house tonight for a swim at 8:45. There is going to be a general acceptance of the invitation so it seems. It will be a jolly occasion.

It is now time to begin to select samples of your best grains and grasses for the coming County fair. Call at the Quiz office and get a premium list. Turn to page 59 and see the liberal premiums the association is offering on best display of farm products. 15-2t

Misses Ena Welch and Della Berge, Fred Crawford and W. S. Matley dove over to Ord for the Fourth, returning home by the way of Burwell, Taylor and Sargent. They returned Tuesday evening, reporting a splendid time and viewing some of the finest lands and scenery in Nebraska. They report corn as looking much better form here to Arcadia than on other parts of the drive, but small grain is much better over on the North Loup Valley than here.—Ansley Argosy.

Mrs. Carle Stewart, representing the Nebraska Children's Home Society, is in the county looking for homes for some boys. She has three boys aged 5, 7, and 10 years which she has specially on her mind now. The second one is at North Loup now and may be seen very easily. If anyone wishes to take a boy to their home for the purpose of giving him all that a home ought to give Mrs. Stewart will be pleased to hear from you. If you communicate with the Quiz office on this subject you will get in touch with representatives very shortly.

It would do your eyes good to take a ride into the country for a few miles these days. Valley county is certainly in a prosperous and promising condition at this moment. Wheat harvest has begun and will be well along before another Sunday comes. Many farmers are laying by their corn and the fields are generally in fine condition, better than they have been for years. Alfalfa is coming on for a second cutting and some of it will be done this week. There does not seem to be any chance for the farmer to get a rest for some time to come unless rain and Sundays come along with their usual regularity.

Notice Dworak's prices on shoes this week.

During the storm Sunday night, lightning struck the Week's elevator, and burned it to the ground. It was about half past ten when it commenced to burn, but the people were not aroused until about eleven, when the church bell rang, nearly everyone having retired for the night. A large crowd soon gathered, but nothing could be done to save the building. The wind was in the north, or the business part of the town would doubtless have caught on fire. Scotia has been very fortunate in the matter of fires, but we may not always be and our citizens express sympathy for the Weeks company in their loss which is a heavy one.—Scotia

New Bank Officers

Messrs. C. B. Anderson, of Crete, and E. N. Mitchell, of Lincoln, came up last night to attend a meeting of the board of directors of the Ord State Bank, at which time Mr. Clarence Coe tendered his resignation as assistant cashier to take effect August first, 1908, when Mr. Ches Chinn, of St. Paul will come up to take part in the active management of that institution. At this meeting Mr. Chinn was elected cashier and Vincent Kokes president of the Ord State Bank. Since the death of Mr. H. D. Coe his institution has had no president and in electing Mr. Kokes as president to succeed Mr. Coe they have shown their appreciation of his efforts and ability. Vincent needs no introduction to our people. He has lived with us for over twenty-six years and has succeeded in every line that he has followed ever since he came here from Europe as a boy. Mr. Chinn is known to a good many people here having lived at St. Paul, Nebr., for nearly thirty years. For eight years he has been a director and cashier of the St. Paul State Bank, so he is an old banker. From both papers published at St. Paul we learn of his high standing in business as well as social circles at that place and we recommend Mr. Chinn to Ord. Mr. Clarence Coe, the outgoing assistant cashier, has made a host of friends among us and though he is undecided as to what he will do in the future we are sure he will succeed at anything that he may go into. His mother and brother living in Colorado, Mr. Coe is inclined to think he will move out there.

Mr. Kokes was probably responsible for Mr. Chinn deciding to come to Ord, for they are old time friends. In his younger days Mr. Kokes worked for Mr. Chinn for years and knows him well.

If you want fruit to can, see the Ord Mercantile Co.

F. M. Currie was in the city last week. He reports the shipment of several car loads of ore from his mine in Mexico which make a net profit of $600.00 per car. At present this ore is packed on burros two miles, and the limit that can be shipped is about three cars per week. With the road completed the out-pit will be about four cars per day. The R. R. freight is $350.00 per car. He has ample funds on hand to build the railroad, but to save enormous freight charges he is offering enough stock for sale to build a smelter.

The last excursion to this property will be run from Lincoln Nebr. on August fourth. A number of the most substantial men in Custer and Valley counties will go with this excursion. The trip will be made in a Pullman hotel car, with all the luxury and convenience of the most up-to-date modern travel.

Anyone desiring to make this trip are invited to see or telephone Freeman Lewin of Comstock.

Saturday night the electric lights went out at about 11:00 o'clock on account of the engine backing down. It so happened that this mishap came while the oil engine was laid out for repairs, so that the plant had to shut down for the time being. All day Sunday Harry Crawford and others worked hard on the repairs of the steam engine and got the thing running at about 10:00 o'clock. In consequence of the darkness the Baptist and Presbyterian churches had to stop in the middle of the services. This is a mishap that is likely to befall anyone, and we are sure the public will overlook the affair in memory of the good service the electric light folks have been giving all along.

After several attempts to hold a picnic the junior leaguers of the Methodist church succeeded Tuesday in pulling off the event. The rain did not interfere this time though it threatened to do so some. The event was had at the Bailey Bros. grove and about eighty people were there, mostly children and their mothers. The Bailey's had the premises fitted up for the occasion and swings and other means of amusement provided.

Our Mira Valley correspondent was misinformed when he announced that Will Plummer had sold his threshing machine to a Mira Valley citizen. Will wants to sell, but not having done so will run the machine again this season. He is one of the best threshers in the country and will of course have all he can do.

North Loup Department

J. L. Curzan was a passenger to Chapman Tuesday.

John Coleman went to Grand Island Tuesday morning.

Robert Johnson was a passenger to Ord Monday night.

W. T. Hutchins was a passenger down the line Monday morning.

Mrs. Herbert East and children of Lincoln are here visiting the East family.

M. and Mrs. E. A. Hutchins are the proud parents of a baby girl born July 3.

H. M. Davis was down from Ord Monday, posting bills for the Ord Chautauqua.

Charles Thorngate returned Monday to his work on the creamery building at Chapman.

Mrs. Jane Davis came up from Grand Island Monday night to visit relatives here for a few weeks.

Mrs. M. L. Gowen started Monday morning for Kansas, where she expects to remain indefinitely with a brother.

Mrs. Gowen entertained a crowd of old ladies last Friday afternoon in honor of her mother and Mrs. Horr Parkinson.

Miss Gertrude Noll came down from Ord Monday morning to spend a week at the pleasant country home of the Trimble's.

Geo. Johnson went to Lincoln Monday, on business. Miss Ruth accompanied him and will visit friends in the capital for a few days.

The Babcock's are enjoying a family reunion here this week. They number something around sixty persons, which brings into use several tents, lots of eatables etc. It is needless to say they are having a hilarious time.

Homer Alexander, an evangelist from Chicago, has been holding meetings the past week in a tent just north of the town hall. He closed the meetings Sunday night however and left Tuesday for new fields of labor.

Miss Maud Shepard entertained a party of friends last Thursday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Ida Lewis of Gretna, Nebr. The house was elaborately decorated with sweet peas and roses and a pleasant afternoon enjoyed by those present.

A. M. Stewart's was the scene of a great deal of excitement and activity Monday morning when it was discovered that the house was on fire. The bucket brigade responded quickly to the call for help and soon had the flames extinguished. It caught from a chimney in the kitchen, and with the exception of a badly torn up roof, little damage was done.

Orsen Davis and Maude Davis were married Sunday night at 8:30 a. m. at the home of the brides parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Davis, by Rev. Shaw of the Seventh Day Baptist church. A reception was given them on Monday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Burdick. The attendance was large, and the presents a useful as well as beautiful collection. Mr. and Mrs. Davis have grown up here from childhood and have a host of friends who wish them a happy journey through life together.

High Prices for Seed

The Richardson Seed Company will pay the highest prices for good millet and alfalfa seed and seed popcorn, sweet corn, flint corn and field corn. The building will be in readiness as soon as these crops can be ready for market. Frank Vopat, Manager.

Bridge Lumber for Sale.

Old bridge plank will be sold at auction to the highest bidder at the Ord Bridge on Saturday, July 25, at 2:00 o'clock p. m.

W. L. McNutt,
Supervisor.

After the Trophies.

Indiana, which gave the world a chase for the big money at the first corn show held in Chicago, seems determined to win place at the National Corn Exposition, to be held in Omaha Dec. 9 to 19. The Indiana grain dealers are so confident of success that they are coming to Omaha with the corn growers on a special train, while many Indiana business men have offered special premiums for those who bring trophies back to the Hoosier state.

City Council Proceedings

Ord Nebr. July, 2, 1908.
 Regular meeting of council called to order by Mayor Daniels. Roll call showing all members present. The minutes of last meeting read and on motion of Stover same were approved.
 Comes now R. L. Staple et al with the following request to wit: To the mayor and City Council of the city of Ord Nebr. The undersigned citizens and taxpayers of said city respectfully represent that on the 28th day of June, 1908 Samuel G. Dumond a licensed saloon keeper of the city of Ord was convicted in the county court of Valley county Nebr., of selling intoxicating liquor to a habitual drunkard contrary to the provisions of chapter 50 of the compiled statutes of Nebr., all as shown by a certified transcript of the judgment of said court now on file with the clerk of said city, they therefore request that the license of said Samuel G. Dumond be revoked and that said Samuel G. Dumond be duly notified of said revocation and the Chief of Police of said city be instructed to see that the saloon operated by said Samuel G. Dumond under said license be closed. Signed,
 E. H. Finley,
 R. L. Staple,
 W. W. Haskell.

On motion of Taylor and second of Gruber the request was laid over to the next meeting of Council.

The Fire committee reported that they had not been able to find a suitable place for the fireman to meet, on motion committee was continued. Mayor Daniels next appointed S. R. Hulbert as sexton for the Cemetery appointment was approved by the full vote of board. Water committee report that the bids were read for the constructing the new reservoir but they thought that a change should be made in the plans and that the bids now on file with the clerk should be returned. The streets and alley committee report and offer the following resolution. Whereas the sidewalk along the west side of lot 4, block 51, original townsite of Ord Neb. on the east side of Will ave, the north end of the west 3211-2 feet of lot 4, block 32, Org. townsite on the south of main street, the north ends of lots 3 and 4, block 31, Milfords add. on the south side of main street, the south end of lot 8, blk. 48, org. townsite on the north side of Pete street; the west side of lot 51, org. townsite on the east side of Will ave, the west side of lot 5, blk. 52, org. townsite, the east side of Central street in a dangerous and defective condition and can not be repaired. Therefore be it resolved that the owners of above lots be and is hereby ordered to construct new walks along the lots as above described within ten days notice of this resolution. Said walks to be constructed in the manner provided by sec. 4, as amended of the sidewalk ordinance of the city of Ord, Nebr.

On roll call all members vote yes on above resolution. On motion of Guber the R. R. Company were instructed to open the following streets across their right of way and provide suitable crossings over same, over and across North streets and Elm street in Woodbury's add. to Ord. On motion of Stover the bids for the construction of the new reservoir were ordered returned unopened and new plans be submitted for round reservoir. Finance Committee report on claims, to-wit:

Report adopted by full board. On motion of Taylor the matter of reservoir was reconsidered and by motion of Williams the council decided to adopt the plans for oblong square reservoir now on file and the clerk was instructed to advertise for bids on same. The city engineer approved the following estimate for reservoir to wit: I, R. W. Gass city engineer of the city of Ord, Neb. do hereby estimate that the cost of the oblong square reservoir to be built by the city of Ord on land adjoining the site of the old reservoir on the hill southwest of town, and the necessary excavation, same to be built according to plans on file in the office of the clerk of said city will be the sum of four thousand dollars. Signed,
 R. W. Gass,
 City Engineer.
 July 8.

Special meeting of council called by mayor for the purpose of acting on writ of mandamus returned by Judge Paul in matter of revocation of the S. G. Dumond saloon license. Roll call all members present. After acceptance of writ of mandamus the council passed the following resolution. Whereas, one Samuel G. Dumond has heretofore been licensed by the city of Ord to sell liquor in the city of Ord, and whereas the said Samuel G. Dumond has been convicted of selling liquor to a habitual drunkard, contrary to the provisions of Chapt. 50, of the compiled statutes of Neb. said conviction being before the county Judge of the county of Valley state of Nebr. as shown by a transcript of judgment in said cause now on file with the clerk of said city, therefore resolved that the license of the said Samuel Dumond dated May, 1, 1908, be, and the same is hereby revoked and the Chief of Police of said city is hereby instructed to see that the saloon occupied by Samuel G. Dumond under said license is closed up and the said clerk is hereby instructed to at one notify the said Samuel G. Dumond that his license has been revoked by the mayor and the council of the city of Ord.

Roll call on the above resolution shows as follows. Taylor yes, Williams yes, Stover yes, Gruber yes, Serchen yes, carried and so declared by the mayor. On motion council adjourned.

The Nebraska Military Academy, Lincoln
 A HIGH GRADE Military Boarding School for boys. Ideal location, outside the city, yet close enough to derive all city benefits. Midvale Items.
 The Y. P. C. U. of Midvale will give a temperance program next Sunday evening July, 19. It will be especially interesting come and hear it.

Mrs. Rev. Barkheimer is enjoying a visit from her mother of Iowa.
 Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stanchiff and daughter from Texas visited at H. W. Trefrens last Saturday. Mrs. Stanchiff is a cousin of Mrs. Trefren.

Crops are looking fine and farmers are very busy cultivating corn, and cutting wheat.

Mrs. B. Hackle is quite sick at her home and Mrs. E. H. Marks is at her bedside helping care for her and in the meantime Earnest is chief cook for himself.

The Aid society of Midvale will meet with Mrs. Will King on this Thursday July 16, in the afternoon.

The little Trefren children are enjoying a visit from two of their little friends from town this week, Helen and Mary Nothery.

Mrs. Koelling is caring for her grand-daughter at Ed. Lenz. Will Prien is recovering from his attack of blood poisoning.

Ida Items.
 Mrs. Meyer entertained the Larkin Club of Elyria last Thursday.

C. A. Sharp lost a very valuable horse last Saturday night.

The Idaites took their dinner at the river Sunday.

M. B. Goodenow shipped two cars of stock to Omaha Monday.

Frank Roble is delivering corn to W. D. Hart this week.

Mrs. A. J. Smith of Ord visited Mrs. Goodenow the first of the week.

Mary Gross, who has been with Mrs. Brechbill for the past five months, returned home last Thursday.

Rev. and Mrs. Keifer and children stayed Thursday night at the Brechbill home. They were on their way overland to western Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Brockus and Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Brockus came down and took dinner at the river Sunday.

The Ida team and the Burwell team had a game of ball, the Ida boys were badly beaten, but are not discouraged for they have played only a short time and expect to soon be able to beat Burwell.

Alfalfa Scores.
 Alfalfa scored another victory the last week according to Omaha papers. Joe Lommers of Stanton, Nebr. shipped four car loads of fat cattle to the Omaha market and received $8.10 per hundred for them and they averaged 1,572 pounds. Mr. Lommers bought them the middle of last November for $4.60 per hundred when they weighed 1,110 pounds each. He placed them on a balanced ration of corn and alfalfa and put 462 pounds on each animal. The price of $8.10 per hundred was paid by Swift & Co. and was the highest price paid for a car load of cattle at a Missouri river market since 1902.

To show those interested in agriculture and cattle feeding the results of feeding alfalfa with corn and why the balanced ration is the best for giving cattle such a finish as will bring top prices, the National Exposition to be held in Omaha Dec. 9 to 19 has prepared to build a regular alfalfa palace. In this strange house of grass, which will be beautiful as well as practical, may be seen everything from the best machinery for handling the wonderful grass to the alfalfa meals being manufactured for feeding dairy cows. Illustrated lectures on alfalfa growing will also be a feature of the great agricultural fair.

Get Close to Nature
 Camp life is one of the very pleasing features of the Chautauqua. The city dweller enjoys getting out under the trees and sleeping in the pure air. The novelty of eating picnic lunches appeals to the urbanite.
 Business men who cannot spend all of their time on the camping ground can join their families for the afternoon program, eat a camp dinner, enjoy the evening session, stay on the grounds over night, and return to the store, the bank, or the office in the morning.

ATTENTION
 Parties owing E. L. Ball for horse services for the years 1905 '06 and '07 will please call at the First National Bank, Ord, and settle the same. E. L. Ball. 14 ft

Chautauqua Tents
 Those who desire to rent tents for the Chautauqua session must make application at least a week in advance of the opening date July 25.

For information about tents and camping privileges see L. R. Bright, Ord. 4t.

Tax Sale-Final Notice
 In the District Court of Valley county, Nebraska.
 The State of Nebraska, plaintiff, vs.
 The several parcels of land hereinafter described and all persons and corporations having or claiming title to or any interest, right or claim in or to such parcels of real estate or any part thereof, defendants.

Final Notice
 To John Flynn and George L. H. Franch.
 Notice is hereby given that under a decree of the District Court of said county rendered in the state tax suit for the year 1905, the following described real estate situate in the county of Valley, and state of Nebraska, to-wit: Lots 19 and 20 in block 5, in the original townsite of Areadia, Nebraska, was on Nov. 7th, 1903, duly sold at public vendue by the county treasurer of said county in the manner provided by law, and the period of redemption will expire on Nov. 7, 1908. You are further notified that the owner of the certificate of tax sale (which is number 35, and issued on tract No. 34) issued by the said treasurer, will make application to the court in the above entitled cause for the confirmation of such sale as soon as practicable after the period of redemption has expired, and you are hereby notified that the time and place of hearing upon such confirmation will be entered in the Confirmation Record kept by the clerk of said court, on or before Nov. 7th, 1908. You will examine said Confirmation Record to ascertain the time and place of such hearing, and may be present if you desire, to make any objections or show cause why the sale should not be confirmed.
 Dated July 16, 1908.
 Geo. H. Gipe,
 Owner of said certificate.
 By R. L. Staple, his attorney.

Notice.

ENTERPRISE DEPARTMENT

By JOHN L. WARD

George Rice has been busy a week or so putting the finishing touches on Charley Boettger's new house. The family are now moved in.

Frank Brown, professional jack of all trades and all round good fellow made this office a call Sunday afternoon. He recently came up from Scotia and expects to work awhile for Ed. Cook.

Miss Mary and Alice Armstrong are now visiting in Allegheny, Pa. As they have not been there since early childhood everything will be strange to them at first. Alice will return in a few weeks but Mary will remain permanently. She will be greatly missed in this community.

Otto Marks, a son of Earnest Marks, who lived here twenty years ago, is visiting his many relatives here and incidentally helping E. H. Marks with his farm work. He has been attending business college at Hastings, and expects to return there this fall. His father is now preaching in St. Joseph.

Guy and Hugh Clement were over behind Ord the front end of the week to visit C. F. O. Schmidt and incidentally to straddle the slippery angle worm on a strip of steel and snare the sporty sucker. They got a barrel of fun and a bucket of fish and Guy got his feet washed, which alone was worth the price of the entire show.

John Boettger lost a valuable horse a short time ago. During a thunderstorm recently one of N. G. Clement's big cottonwoods was struck by lightning and a large piece blown out of the side. A calf tied to the tree by a rope escaped without injury. From this we learn never to tie a calf with a chain or wire or anything else that might conduct electricity. Let us suggest that if you wish to be free from danger in a storm, you should wear rubber buttons on your clothes, put on a rubber collar and rubber over the phone while the storm is raging, as rubber Without desiring to incur the enmity of our friends Haskell and Oleson we are going to enlarge on the thought suggested by the latter in last week's Quiz, viz: "It is a good thing for a dog to have a few fleas. It makes him take more interest in life." We couldn't find this text in the Bible, so it must have been taken from Josephus. Let me put a flea in your ear, you will then sympathize with the dog. When you see the average mongrel, rudely aroused from his sweet dreams, careen his head and carress his off ear with the toe of his posterior boot, meanwhile indulging in short, sharp yaps and gurgles of delight, you are too prone to put your sympathy with the flea, who doesn't need it. Don't blame the poor dog. He saw his master do it first. When the original man ran his digits down the back of his fig leaf raincoat in search of an insect he could always feel and couldn't find, his faithful Fido imbibed the wholesome lesson and has never forgotten it. If a flea can arouse the dormant energy of a dog, he can be said to develop one dog power. Twenty four dogs exert one horse power. Therefore, twenty four healthy fleas produce one horse power. At this rate it would be interesting to compute the horse power of the spare bed in some of our American homes. With so much energy at work in the land is it any wonder that we are the most restless people in the world?

A company of our enterprising people have opened up a summer resort at the creek on Ed. Armstrong's place. They took their initial plunge last Wednesday afternoon. The suits we saw were of the open work variety and of very ample proportions, one of them being fully fifty feet long. They were evidently not fully instructed in the use of these garments as they carried them in their hands when they went into the water. They also went upstream, evidently thinking it easier to swim against the current. It is seized by a large turtle, dragged under the water and drowned. If this is true it is to be regretted, but we promise that it won't happen to him again. The club offers a reward to the person who can dive in the creek without scraping his nose on the bottom or bumping against a mud turtle. There are a few turtles in the creek. They cannot all get into the water at once so they work in three shifts and the racket they make while shifting can be heard a mile away. There is some talk of damming the creek. We know of several people who could do so without going beyond their common everyday vocabularies. But such a venture would not pay. The amphibia and insecta hexapod skeeterata are so numerous that it isn't worth a dam.

W. T. Hamilton had a new up- per end put on his reservoir Saturday. Howard Mason did the work.

J. A. Ollis, Jr., went to Omaha Saturday on business. He returned the first of the week.

The Bloomer Which
By the Umpire
Was the one that pitched the first part of the game a girl?
Was the person who played first base a girl?

Was the center fielder a girl? Was this one a girl? Was that one a girl? No less than twenty-five questions per minute are being hurled at the poor being who tried to umpire that ball game.

Those who are asking me these questions are neither content with the answer of a close observer, but require the proofs. While I am a close observer of the opposite sex, at least many appear to think I am, I do not claim to have yet reached the degree whereby I may be called an expert.

For the benefit of those who wish to solve these mysteries as yet unsolved in the minds of many I give my authorities.

First I would call the attention of my questioners to the size of the feet of these beings, as we cannot yet assign them to a place among us. Next their ankles of which all will side with me in saying can be easily be told from those of a man, even at a distance. Lastly their hands the proportions of which we will admit were large for a woman, but yet showed the marks of the feminine gender.

But the game is played and the beings are gone, and we have not yet assigned them to their place on earth. I am really sorry that I cannot give any more positive proof than I have mentioned above and yet in the hearts of many we still think we have been humbugged. But the poor umpire can assure you that the next time he tries to officiate in a game of base ball where the fair sex are anyways concerned he will proceed before the game to imbibe something that will give him enough courage for the occasion.

TEACHERS TRAINING COURSE NEBRASKA IS SHORT ONE THOUSAND TEACHERS

Good Salaries for Those Who Will Fit Themselves for Teaching

The St. Paul Normal has revised its courses of study to conform with the new laws regarding the certification of teachers. Our school is recognized by the state superintendent as qualified and equipped to give normal training work.

Full credit will be given at all state institutions for work done with us.

First Grade Certificate.
An eighth grade pupil can secure a first grade certificate in two years, including two years of latin.

Teachers holding a second grade certificate can secure a first grade in one year.

It will pay anyone now holding a second grade certificate to spend one year in our institution. A first grade certificate means your choice of schools, a large salary and better teaching. Join our class September 7th.

Second Grade Certificates.

A good seventh or eighth grade pupil can secure a second grade certificate in one year.

Normal training the entire time. Each recitation is an object lesson in methods. Each student is required to hear at least one recitation a week, under the supervision of the teacher in charge. By this plan you learn to teach by teaching. The grade work of our city schools is observed during the last of the term.

Get Ready.

For September 7th, at which time the fall term opens. Remember you can secure a first grade certificate in two years or a second grade certificate in one year.

Save time and money by attending the St. Paul College.

Over 75 per cent of Howard county's teachers have attended this institution.

Send for catalog and other information.

Get Close to Nature

Camp life is one of the very pleasing features of the Chautauqua. The city dweller enjoys getting out under the trees and sleeping in the pure air. The novelty of eating picnic lunches appeals to the urbanite.

Business men who cannot spend all of their time on the camping ground can join their families for the afternoon program, eat a camp dinner, enjoy the evening session, stay on the grounds over night, and return to the store, the bank, or the office in the morning.

This is the old plan of blaming everything, even masculine fickleness, upon the woman.

The slow rate at which population is increasing in France is becoming still slower. In fact, according to the latest announcement there is no increase, but an actual decrease. The birthrate has steadily dwindled for a century, the aggregate of births within that time having decreased from 1,007,000 to 774,000 a year. The deaths in France during 1907 were reported at 793,000, which was 19,000 more than the births. If this is to be a continuing proportion, France may well view the situation with alarm, and bestir herself to discover the cause.

Russian admirers of Tolstol in Moscow, who were determined to celebrate his eightieth birthday in some spectacular manner, have wisely acceded to his wishes in the matter, and instead of a festival into which he would be dragged unwillingly, have decided to observe the day by formally opening a public library and by giving the count's name to the school he attended in his youth. They could not have decided upon an action more appropriate and none so likely to please the venerable Russian philosopher.

Gas Engine Drives the Binder Leaving Nothing but Weight for the Horses to Pull.

—Other News.

By attaching a two horse power gasoline engine to his harvester to drive the machinery, leaving nothing for the horses to pull but the weight of the machine through a muddy field, C. E. Bradley believes he has solved a problem which will save thousands of dollars for Nebraska farmers.

Mr. Bradley lives sixteen miles northwest of Fremont. His farm is on the Platte bottom and because of high water and continued rains the fields on his farm are wet and the ground soggy. The binder would not work

A typical scene at the Nebraska State Fair, held in Lincoln each fall.

In the field, the drive wheels sliding along in the mud and not revolving to furnish power to drive the machinery. Mr. Bradley had a field of wheat which he desired very much to save and he devised the plan of attaching the engine to run the machinery while the team pulled the binder through the field. With this attachment he has cut grain standing in water six inches deep.

EMPLOYEES GET DIVIDENDS.

Dempster Mill Company Makes Semi-Annual Payment.

The Dempster Mill Manufacturing company of Beatrice has made its semi-annual distribution of dividends to its employees, the sum distributed amounting to $4,720.56. The company established the plan of sharing its profits with employees years ago and the past year the sum of $9,441.12 has been distributed. In addition to this plan on the death of an employee his family is entitled to share in the dividends, the sum of $75 is set aside to pay his funeral expenses and his widow or other beneficiary may claim that portion of his salary for one year, being limited, however, to $50 per month or $600 per year. An employee, to be entitled to share in the dividends must have worked for the company continuously for two years or over and must have abstained from the excessive use of intoxicating liquors. The company has found that the plan works satisfactorily and that it helps both the company and its employees.

CANDIDATES SHOULD ATTEND.

Bryan and Taft Would Find Great Treat at Epworth Assembly.

The second largest annual gathering in Nebraska is said to be the Epworth Assembly which has come to be exceedingly popular and to attract great throngs of people to its annual sessions.

The assembly officers report prospects for attendance for the present year unusually good. The program is like a great bouquet of American Beauty roses and includes many of the most notable eloquent platform speakers in the land, such as Senators Bob Taylor and LaFollette, Russell H. Conwell, Col. George W. Bain, Governor J. Frank Hardy and others of the class. From across the sea came "Gypsy" Smith of England and Bishops Oldham and Robinson, two of the most illustrious missionary leaders of the present day. Two bands of national fame and a high class jubilee company will give a series of charming concerts. It will be a program worth the attendance of Taft and Bryan and all their admirers.

Well Known Farmer Missing.

John Bosselman, a well known and well-to-do farmer residing near Worms, is missing and diligent search has failed to reveal his whereabouts. He left home last Saturday afternoon, and indicated a threat that he would commit suicide. Domestic difficulties are said to have harassed him. Neighbors began a search a few days ago, but the only trace found of him was a place under a willow tree, where he had burned some papers. He is forty-seven years old, weight about 175 pounds.

DATE SET FOR HANGING.

Supreme Court Affirms Sentence of Murderer Shumway.

R. Mead Shumway, the slayer of Mrs. Sarah Martin of Gage county, is to be hanged October 30. The supreme court in special session Friday filed an opinion affirming the judgment and sentence of the district court and setting a day for the execution of the death sentence. The opinion of the court was written by Chief Justice Barnes. No ground for reversal was found by the court, the evidence being found to be of most convincing character.

Shumway was employed as a farm hand on the farm of John Martin last fall when the murder was committed. He fled to Kansas where he had found employment on a railroad. He was arrested and brought direct to the Nebraska state penitentiary for safe keeping until his trial in the district court.

The prisoner was indicted on two counts, the first count charging murder in the first degree and the second charging murder in the first degree for killing, in the perpetration of a robbery. He was found guilty on the second count, the jury imposing the death penalty. The opinion of the supreme court closes as follows: "Owing to the great importance of the case and the fact that the jury had imposed upon the defendant the death penalty, we have carefully read all of the evidence and reviewed the whole record, and to as it seems that the jury made no mistake in their verdict. The evidence is of a most convincing character. It appears that the defendant had a fair trial, by an impartial jury, and the record falls to show any reversible error."

Watkins of Ada, Ohio, for vice-president, was the ticket nominated Thursday by the Prohibitionist national convention, held at Columbus, Ohio, both men being chosen unanimously. The full endorsement of the convention was not given to Mr. Chafin until after three ballots had been taken.

His nomination was practically assured when the roll-call began for the third ballot, when he received a total of 636 votes. The strongest competitor of Mr. Chafin was Rev. William B. Palmer of St. Louis, who received 274 votes on the first ballot and 418 on the second ballot and a comparatively small vote after it was apparent that the nomination of Mr. Chafin could not be prevented.

For the vice-presidency, three men were named, Professor Watkins, T. B. Demaree of Kentucky, and Charles S. Holler of Indiana. The ballot resulted in favor of Professor Watkins by an overwhelming majority and he was immediately thereafter on motion of the delegates made the unanimous nominee.

Eugene W. Chafin, who leads the Prohibition party this year, is an attorney residing in Chicago. He is a native of Waukesha, Wis., and for some time practiced law there. He was at one time candidate for governor of Wisconsin on the Prohibition ticket and was this year placed in the running for the same position in Illinois by the Prohibitionists of that state. The platform adopted is probably the shortest on record, containing not more than 350 words.

TRAIN FIRED UPON.

Union Miners Attack a Load of Strike Breakers.

Robert Gardner, a deputy marshal, was fatally wounded and at least a dozen miners were more or less seriously shot as the result of an attack on a train bearing strike breakers to take the places of striking union miners at Jefferson, Ala., Friday. The train was in charge of 13 deputies and was enroute to Adamsville. It is said the union miners attempted to induce the strike breakers to leave the train and threatened to kill them if they went to work.

Gov. Comer has ordered a company of cavalry from Montgomery to the scene and troops are already on the ground under arms. The union miners are taking the position that they are being mistreated by the deputy sheriffs. There are about 5,000 of these officers scattered through the mining territory and union leaders have implored Sheriff Higdon to protect them from the cruelties, as they claim of the deputies. William Fairley, member of the national committee of the union, expressed delight when he learned that Gov. Comer had called out the troops.

FAINTS WHILE GIVING BIBLE.

Cincinnati Woman Was Presenting It to a Prisoner.

Mrs. F. Jones dropped in a dead faint Thursday evening at the county jail in Cincinnati, Ohio, while giving a Bible to Grace Billingsley, who is under arrest charged with complicity in the murder of Justice of the Peace Robert Singleton, father of Mrs. Jones. Justice Singleton was enticed into a room and murdered a year ago, it is alleged, by Grace Billingsley and Walter West. They were captured recently, the woman in Chicago and the man in Boston, and while signing a warrant charging them with murder, Fred Singleton, son of the slain man, dropped dead, a suicide, it is said. Mrs. Jones' collapse was only temporary. Her condition is reported as not serious.

Man and Money Disappear.

One hundred dollars in silver currency was stolen Thursday night from the residence of W. A. Keaton of Fremont, Neb., and one Mr. Sullivan, employed at Mr. Keaton's restaurant is missing. Sullivan was a new man in town and had only been employed two days as a cook. Thursday evening he went to the home of his employer with Willie Keaton for the purpose of taking a bath. Before he went into the bath room he says Keaton dropped a sack of money into a dresser drawer in his father's room. When Mr. Keaton went to get the money it was missing and so was Sullivan.

New Word's Pacing Record.

Minor Heir, a green pacer, Friday set a new world's record when he receded off the first two heats of the 2:25 pace at Terre Haute, Ind., in 2:01 1/2 and 2:01, the fastest two heats ever paced in a race. The Eel won the third heat in 2:05 1/2, and forced Minor Heir to finish the race and set another record of the fastest five heats ever paced in a race. The Eel won the fourth heat in 2:08 and Minor Heir took the fifth in 2:07. Minor Heir is a son of Heir-at-Law, and was entered in the $8,000 stake for 2:25 paces.

Popular query: If Walter Johnson is a democrat now, what will he be after election?

All this talk about strangling or fettering the courts with anti-injunction legislation is simply a rebuke to them for restraining lawlessness. A man who has a dispute usually would be glad if he could carry his side of the contest with a high hand and strong arm, but the law undertakes to give the weak and defenseless an equal chance with the strong. To hamper the courts and give men time for physical coercion is a return to feudalism if not barbarism. It is to sanction lawlessness by law—York Times.

Democrats are talking about the panic. Well, a panic is a remarkable thing for republican times, and the one we had for a little while last fall was remarkable for several things. One thing is the price at which farm products are selling now. Hogs 6.25 to 6.50 and steers from 6.50 to 7.50 on the Omaha market. Does that look like the kind of panics we have when democrats are elected to office?

Chicago could not get in on the National Democratic convention but will get its innings when Bryan goes to that city to be notified of his nomination. This is something new, a candidate being invited away from home to be notified of his nomination, but was figured that Chicago supporters would burn a little more red fire than would be touched off where he was better known. This decision is a pretty hard shot to Lincoln as they had some just cause to think that the notification committee would come to Bryan's home to notify him. Bryan would go to a hotter place than Chicago if he thought he could gather in a few votes there.

Whatever else may be said of Henry Watterson he may be commended for his candor. He always speaks as a child, without guile—like fools and children, who are supposed always to tell the truth. Speaking of the old fear of Bryan he says: "The most hide bound conservative can not fear Mr. Bryan with a republican senate fixed already to outlast the next presidential term." So there you have it, a direct bid to the voter to support Bryan because he can not do any harm, then what good could he do? Simply nothing. Then what's the use of this Bryan disturbance every four years, with nothing in it but a personal financial

CAN'T UNDERSTAND IT

Editor Ladd of the Albion News is having a hard time to understand why it is right and fair to have county option. Mr. Ladd states his troubles in the following words:

But if all the courts say to the contrary, we will still think it fair and just to submit my question to the vote of the people and then say that if they vote one way their votes count, but if they vote another way their votes do not count. What does the submission of a question to the people imply. Outside of "the law" it would mean that the people are to vote on the question and a majority of those voting are to decide the question. This is in accordance with all parliamentary procedure, custom and common sense.

Dear brother Ladd, you believe that the national government has a right to enact prohibition, do you not? and if the government should do so no state, county or municipality could pass license laws. You believe that the state has the right to adopt prohibition, do you not? and if so no county or municipality in that state could adopt a license policy. Then why do you stumble at carrying the principle one step further and say that the county may adopt prohibition and in that case no municipality in that county may issue saloon licenses? The present policy is practically national option. So long as the government does not stop it the several states have the right to deal with the liquor question as they will. The policy of the several states of the union is state option, and where prohibition is in force no county or municipality therein may issue license. In others the municipalities may act as they please. All that county option means is to give each county the right to suppress the business within its borders if it chooses to do so, in which case the cities within its limits may not vote license.

In other words county option simply gives to the citizens of a county the right to control the smaller organizations within its limits so far as license goes. If this is not right, then it is not right for the state or nation to do the same thing. Mr. Ladd readily concedes that Nebraska has a right to prevent Albion from issuing licenses, but he cannot see why Boone county may not do the same thing. Is not Boone county more vitally concerned in Albion's saloon policy than the state or nation is? In case of crime and litigation on account of the saloons in Albion, Boone county has to stand the expense. The saloons draw their support from the people of the county mostly. From every point of view—that of proximity, finance, vital interest, logic—the county ought to have the same legal right to have a say in saloon matters that the state and nation have. If this does not put Ladd right and clean we shall have to come over to Albion some time after chores and talk to him face to face.

The Sunday World Herald prints among other sensational things, a picture of our Walter Johnson with a long spiel of his about what a good man Bryan is and incidentally announcing himself as a candidate for congress, subject to the will of the democrats of the sixth district. Mr. Johnson is a very good looking man, not having worked hard enough in late years to cause him to age any in look. He is also a facile writer, albeit he has a Bryanesque habit of changing his views rather spasmodically. At home Walter's candidacy will be taken as a joke, but where people must judge him by his picture and his writings he will pass for a good deal. Anyway we are hoping that Johnson gets there. Lincoln has her Bryan, why not Ord have her Johnson?

The democrats have had only one president in forty-eight years and the threat to mention his name in their party convention after he is dead, throws the leaders into spasms. What reason have we to think they will do any better this time than they have done before? There has never been but one democrat great enough and good enough to be mentioned even in a democratic convention where they are not so very particular. The democrats discovered Grover Cleveland and gave him to us for a president. They also discovered James Buchanan and a long line of less illustrious presidents, harking back to Thomas Jefferson, but since their first effort they have never succeeded in nominating a man whose name they have the courage to mention.—York Times.

Bryan said immediately on being nominated for president the third time that if elected he would not run again. This is like a bird that says it will not fly again.

A Christian who is always telling his religious experiences of twenty or thirty years ago, may be counted on as a back-slitter.

An athlete or a hunter or an orator or anyone who has nothing to boast of except what he did or was in youth may be set down as a "has-been." A political party which dare not mention the name of a man like Cleveland, now dead, but can point only to one illustrious name among its presidents, must be set down in the has-been class. The idea of a Bryan, changing his political coat every time the styles change claiming to be of the Jeffersonian class, Jefferson would be a republican if he lived today.

A Bryanesque Prophecy.
Following is one of the many solemn and terrible warnings that Candidate Bryan made in his campaigns eight and twelve years ago. This one he made in Lincoln on July 7, 1900.

"The fight this year will be to carry out the sentiment of that song, we have so often repeated, 'My Country, 'Tis of Thee'; if we lose, our children and our children's children will not succeed to the spirit of that song, and celebrations of the Fourth of July will pass away, for the spirit of empire will be upon us."

Suppose even that Bryan were a more capable, more experienced and better man for president than Taft, which of course he is not, what earthly good could he do as president with a republican senate and house of representatives against him. A president is of little service to the country without a congress back of him. But all this talk about Bryan being a fit man for president is sheer folly. He was a failure as a lawyer, in his public career as representative he did little that he is willing to refer to now, and otherwise he has held no positions of trust where he could prove himself worthy of the presidency of the greatest republic on earth. On the other hand Taft has proved himself a successful lawyer, as judge he was eminent and just, as a representative of America in the trying positions in Cuba, Panama and the Philippines he showed himself eminently capable to straighten out the tangles as few men could have done. Then he is in line with the policies which, under McKinley and Roosevelt, have given this country marvelous prosperity and a high standing with all the powers of earth. It seems strange indeed that anyone would vote for Bryan in preference to Taft.

A petition signed by a lot of representative republicans and headed by Representative J. P. Baird, has been filed with the county clerk asking for the placing of the name of Peter Mortensen on the ticket for the office of representative from Valley county. Mr. Mortensen has accepted the nomination. This makes him a regular candidate for the nomination and it is more than likely that he will be the choice of the republicans of the county.

To whom it may concern: I have bought the Burlington Hotel, at Aurora, again and will be pleased to serve all my old time friends as we did for five years before, and will do our best to give them the most courteous treatment possible. Barr Hanna.

Mike Kasal has filed a petition with the city clerk bearing the required number of signers, asking that he be allowed to sell liquors in a building on lots one and two, block twelve, second ward. This is the same location as the saloon formerly occupied by Sam Dumond, and as it was Sam who was quite industriously circulating the petition we presume we are right in inferring that the "Last Chance" will one of these days open up at the same location, under the same management but under a new name.

It is contended by some that because there is some difference of opinion as to where the chautauqua grounds are to be that this fact will injure the chautauqua. We do not believe that there is anything in such a contention and the chautauqua will be a greater success this year than it was last. The class of patronage that attends the chautauqua are not the kind of folks who refuse to play if only their pet game is played. It is true that some want the grounds in one place and many in another, but whichever place the management will decide on, will, and should receive the unanimous support of all. Nothing of course could be gained by two factions pulling in opposite directions, so let us abide by the decision of those who are as anxious to make the affair a success as we are.

The Turners gave another dance at the opera house last Friday evening and while the weather was exceedingly warm there was nevertheless a good turnout and all present appeared to have a big time. For the occasion the Turners secured the services of the orchestra traveling with the bloomer girls baseball club and they furnished a line of music that was satisfactory to all concerned.

C. E. Hoffman went to Ashland, his home, the first of the week where he will remain several weeks. Mr. Hoffman is the man who has been conducting a shooting gallery on the east side of the square for several weeks. He stored his shooting apparatus here and will return and operate the gallery during the fair.

Dr. A. E. Carr came up from Lincoln Monday evening and of course stopped at the Fank Koupal home. Dr. Carr is the physician who treated Mr. Koupal's son, Rudy, a year or so ago so successfully. The boy is getting along fine now and his parents have hopes of his entire recovery one of these days.

Superintendent Smith of the St. Paul Normal school is in the city today looking after business. He has all along a very liberal patronage from this vicinity for his school, and the outlook is for an increased attendance this year. The school is an up to date and progressive institution.

"It cost me eight cents to bake two batches of bread on my gas stove," was a remark that we heard a young lady make the other day. Did you ever stop to figure that you could not come any-where near baking one batch on that old hot coal range for that amount?

Cornell Bros. are unloading another car of Moon Bros. buggies. These buggies are giving excellent satisfaction and the boys inform us that they have bought this car right and can make very attractive prices on some.

H. M. Davis came into the city this noon and will be here part of the time while the chautauqua is on. He will aid in getting it going anyway.

Laura Weare went to St Paul Tuesday to visit with relatives until time for school to commence again.

R. J. Collins and C. H. Cromwell went to Burwell Tuesday, each taking a wagon load of the Norman Parks household goods.

D. E. Brothwell of Ericson was in the city Monday and announces his intention of going out to the western part of the state on a prospecting tour.

Frank Money, Albert Mindes and D. E. Clason were passengers to Grand Island Tuesday. The horse sale at that place was the attraction.

W. C. Boydston was in Kansas City Sunday and Monday. He had been to Omaha to take an examination on another group of potoffices and went from there to Kansas City for a visit.

Superintendent Howe returned Saturday night from his summer school work at Broken Bow. He will now busy himself in seeing that everything is in shape for the opening of the opening of the school in Ord.

We understand that ice will go to fifty cents per hundred in this city the first of next month. If you get hot under the collar at this announcement a few hundred dollars worth of the frozen liquid will cool you off.

F. D. Haldeman is now the owner of the automobile formerly owned by Frank Mallory. Ernest Williams first purchased the car from Mr. Mallory, who was pretty anxious to make a quick sale and then disposed of it to Dr. Haldeman, making a nice little piece of money by the deal.

Some may say that Norm Parks, having changed his political affiliations rushed off at once and bought a newspaper. But this is not the reason for his buying the Burwell Tribune. He has been talking of buying a paper for some months and has been specially dealing with Mr. Todd at times for weeks past.

Last Saturday Norm Parks bought the Burwell Tribune and will assume charge this week. Mr. Todd will get out the paper this week while the new editor is getting in line for business. Norm is a good printer and a facile writer, and ought to give Garfield county a very creditable paper. A good many editors have graduated from the Quiz shop and most of them have made good.

The Ord boys need not feel so bad over their defeat at the hands of the bloomer girls, for it is rumored on pretty good authority that the girls have not dropped a game for the past three weeks and that they have been playing some of the fastest teams in Nebraska, too. Saturday they stopped at St. Paul and defeated the team of that town by the lopsided score of seven to two which is by far a worse drubbing than they administered to the Ord bunch.

The supreme court has just recently decided a case in favor of Valley county that is one of considerable saving to county finances. The case is one where Arthur Honnold several years ago purchased some Arcadia lots under a scavenger tax sale for some $20, the back taxes on the property being something more than $100. Later the owner of the lots redeemed them by paying the taxes and Honnold filed a bill with the county for the full amount of the taxes. On the advice of County Attorney Oleson, the county board refused to pay Honnold the amount and suit was brought against the county for the amount. In the district court Judge Paul decided in favor of Honnold but Oleson further advised the board to carry the case to the supreme court, which they did, and there the decision of the lower court was reversed. Honnold will probably get his twenty back with interest but will not get a look in at balance.

A friend asks us to join the Y. M. C. A., advising us that the institution affords abundance of opportunity for good exercise. We found it impossible to comply with his invitation but have bought a lawn mower instead. If you want exercise you don't have to join any Indian club organization for we will allow you to practice on our grass clipping machine and we won't charge you a cent, and if you can not work up a sweat that will make the one produced in the club swinging game look like thirty cents the ice cream will be on us. The lawn mower is a double barrel stunt in the exerciser line.

Eller's wild animal show dropped into the city Saturday noon and in the afternoon and evening gave two performances in their tents erected opposite the High School building. The show was one of the best of the kind that we have ever seen and there was a pretty good crowd to both the afternoon and evening performance. The show Sunday in the city and loaded their outfit and went to Shelton for their next stop, Monday morning.

W. J. Lloyd arrived in the city last Friday evening for a visit with his son Bert and family. The old gentleman is keeping well and hearty and does not seem to have aged any since leaving here many years ago. Of course he stopped at York on his way up to visit with Frank and family.

Max Westover has commenced learning the art of jewelryman in Parkins. He commenced, as usual, with seeking about the place, cleaning up the outside of old clocks and other such interesting work. But he will be at the finer lines of work soon.

If it is a new wagon this fall Cornell's can sell you one of the best wagons made at a very low cost. They can save you money on wagons and buggies. Look them over.

Did you ever see better weather for crops?

Cecil Loofbourrow is learning to be a printer at the Quiz shop.

H. M. Davis was in the city again over Sunday, but he hiked out on his chautauqua business again Monday morning.

Rev. Frank O. Fraley, who will be remembered by our people as being here some years ago for some time, will arrive Saturday evening and be the guest of his kinsfolk the M. D. L. Taylor family. He is pastor of the church at Terre Haute, Ind., and has been west on a vacation.

Just as the soil began to get a little dry and hard a few nice soaking rains came along Tuesday night and Wednesday, which put the corn fields in a great growing shape again. In fact they had been in fine shape anyway, but these rains will keep them so for some time to come.

The Catholics of Ord will hold services in the Episcopal church on Sunday, July 26, 1903, at 10:30 a. m. All are cordially invited to attend, especially those who are interested in having and putting up a new church and arranging to have a pastor located here permanently.

The Star bloomer girls baseball club proved to be such a drawing card that there was some talk of an attempt to get them to return to Ord for another series of games during fair time. The gate receipts last Friday amounted to almost two hundred dollars, which amount was some larger than ever before taken in at a base ball game in this city.

Nels Peterson calls our attention to an error in our report of real estate transfers. By error we got the amount of the consideration in the land he recently sold to Mr. Gizinski as $1000, when it should have been printed $1500, which was the amount paid. By the way the fair folks made a mistake in not buying that property when they could have done so from Mr. Peterson.

E. Rosenberg, who was with us a year or so and pushed musical matters to the fore while here, arrived in the city last night to help straighten out the tangles in the Chautauqua affairs at Ord. He will be in the city over Sunday, and will doubtless sing for Ord people while here. For a year or so he has been in Germany taking voice training. We learn that he has accepted a position in charge of the musical department of Bethany College in Lindsborg, Kansas.

Bridge Lumber for Sale. Old bridge plank will be sold at auction to the highest bidder at the Ord Bridge on Saturday, July 25, at 2 o'clock p. m. W. L. McNutt.

F. M. Currie was in the city last week. He reports the shipment of several car loads of ore from his mine in Mexico which make a net profit of $600.00 per car. At present this ore is packed on burros two miles, and the limit that can be shipped is about three cars per week. With the road completed the out-pit will be about four cars per day.

The R. R. freight is $350.00 per car. He has ample funds on hand to build the railroad, but to save enormous freight charges he is offering enough stock for sale to build a smelter.

The last excursion to this property will be run from Lincoln Nebr. on August fourth. A number of the most substantial men in Custer and Valley counties will go with this excursion. The trip will be made in a Pullman hotel car, with all the luxury and convenience of the most up-to-date modern travel.

Anyone desiring to make this trip are invited to see or telephone Freeman Lewin of Comstock.

A number of the young people of this vicinity are planning on attending some good business college this fall. In this connection we are pleased to note the rapid growth and success of the Hastings Business College of Hastings, Nebr. This college has recently moved into its new building and with the addition of Prof. H. F. Carson to the faculty, the Hastings Business College is now one of the very best business training schools in the West.

The college charges a very reasonable rate for tuition, in fact the college will take students right through the course and find them a position before a cent has to be paid. A new feature this year is the College Band and Orchestra. Students receive free instruction in this department.

Some months ago the Scotia branch of the Greely county telephone company was sold to a bunch of the patrons in that vicinity and a new company organized as the Farmers Telephone company. The reason why these farmers went out of the company was because the company was going to raise the price of farmer phones from $13.00 to $15.00. Well, we observe that the new company has asked for and been granted by the state board of transportation the right to raise their rate on farmer phones to $15. This is simply referred to for the purpose of showing what different views of the telephone business men may have after they pass from the theory to the practical view of it.

Ball's Black Stallion Will Stand in Ord.

As there are several wanting me to stand my black stallion, RAMC, at Ord, I have made arrangements with A. J. Firkins for a stall in his breeding barn where my stallion will be found on Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week. The rest of the time he will be at his usual stands in Springdale and on

We have not heard who the Democratic committee have selected to solicit campaign money from Valley county farmers. If it is not too late we would like to suggest the names of Smith Burrows and Charley Cromwell for the job. It will take about all the available capital in the United States to elect a Democratic president.

The writer claims to be the first to finish shocking wheat. We finished Tuesday.

The writer had the pleasure of looking over the Ord Y. M. C. A. and testing the different apparatus Tuesday night. The committee has selected a good location and all the available space is being utilized. It is indeed a pleasure to see the young men enjoying themselves in healthy recreation instead of wasting their time on the streets.

Ed. Lenz took home a new washing machine Tuesday.

Again let me ask you not to be bashful in distributing the news you have. It is no fun to run around the country to find what you are doing. Don't take the news to the Quiz office, the valley news belongs in the Enterprise department.

C. A. Hawkins is in the valley soliciting orders for the Ailington Nursery. He is meeting with good success.

Threshing has begun in the valley. A machine was at work on the hill east of Gray's Monday and Psota expected to begin Tuesday but was prevented by

COUNTY BOARD PROCEEDINGS

Adjourned Equalization Meeting.

The county board of equalization met pursuant to a call at its office in Ord, Nebraska, July 1, 1908. Present: Mr. M. C. McClellan, chairman; Mr. W. L. McNutt, clerk; Mr. J. G. Bremer, assessor; Mr. R. S. Sorensen, county clerk.

Roll call, all members present. On motion Mr. M. C. McClellan was elected temporary chairman in the absence of the regular chairman. The State Levy not having been received, on motion board adjourned until August 18, 1908. Rudolph Sorensen, County Clerk.

Regular Meeting July, 1908. Ord, Nebr., July 14. The county board of supervisors met according to law at their office in the court house. Roll call, all members present except Mr. Bremer.

On motion Mr. McNutt was elected temporary chairman in the absence of the regular chairman. On motion the board adjourned for committee work until call of chairman.

July 15, 1908. Roll call, all members present. The minutes of all regular meetings, January meeting, and adjourned regular meeting, January 14, March 10, and June 12, were read and approved.

On motion the George Parker road was laid as prayed and damages were allowed as appraised. There being only two claimants the clerk is instructed to pay the deposit of $25, one-half to Mr. Fries and one-half to Mr. Brown in addition to the appraised damages.

Mr. Robert Johnson appeared before the board and requested that they give him a four wire, barb wire fence, on the west side of the southwest quarter of section 24, township 17, and range 14 in accordance with an understanding he claims was made with the county board some eight years ago.

It was moved and seconded that as this claim of Mr. Johnson was not a county affair that this board reject this request. Carried. On motion board adjourned until eight o'clock a. m., July 16, 1908.

Roll call, all members present. On motion Mr. McClellan was instructed to reshingle the barn and otherwise repair it as he deemed best on the poor farm, where Mr. Beauchamp now lives. That he also proceed to build an addition to the house 16x32 and 14 foot posts on the poor farm where Mr. Showers now lives.

In the matter of application of Andrew Finley for admittance to the Nebraska Soldiers and Sailors Home, the county board of said county after due inquiry find that all the statements are true to the best of their knowledge and belief, and that he has no property on record in this county except a small house, that he is without means to support himself and that he has never been in the Soldiers and Sailors Home. On motion the request of Mr. Finley was granted.

Mr. Bremer made report on the Michael Whalen road and on motion the same was laid as petitioned, provided Greeley county also lay it. June 27, 1908.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors: Having viewed the Mike Whalen road and conferred with the commissioners of Greeley county in regard to the road I beg leave to report as follows. Our estimate of the cost of this road would be about $350 for grading and about $400 for bridges. There are about five canons that require considerable grading and several smaller canons. The road would benefit about ten electors of Valley county, one of which has no outlet. This road connects two main roads, one in Valley county and one in Greeley county. I recommend this road to be laid.

Respectfully, J. G. Bremer. The following report of the committee on claims was adopted and warrants ordered drawn. General Fund Claims.

On motion the same was adopted. On motion the following request of Eva B. Shuman, County Superintendent, was granted: Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, July 13, 1908.

To the Honorable Board of Supervisors. Gentlemen Sirs: In compliance with the law pertaining to the Annual Teacher's Institute which convenes July 27 and continues one week I ask your honorable body for the usual and necessary appropriation of One Hundred Dollars.

Because of the great increase of the number of children of school age in our county we cannot fail to realize the great need of having our common schools supplied with well qualified teachers that they may train and educate the youth of our land and any money appropriated to make the Institute a success in the way of aiding the teachers that they may attain to clearer conceptions of their calling and to inspire them to greater effort in their work must necessarily result in great good.

I thank you very heartily for past favors and remain, Sincerely yours, For better schools, Eva B. Shuman.

The County Institute

The annual teacher's institute of Valley county convened at the high school building Monday morning and will remain in session all week. The enrollment at the opening session was the largest in the history of the institute and many new names have been added to the list since opening day. Not only the teachers from Valley county are in attendance but many from surrounding counties as well. The instructors are Prof. H. F. Carson, of Hastings, Mrs. Sarah Brindley, of Columbus and Prof. Eugene Howe of Ord. All of these instructors are thoroughly conversant with school work and especially in the branches they are taking up in the Ord institute. The books of the county superintendent show that the following teachers from over the county are present:

Ord: Stella Morris, Daisy Flynn, Archie Goombs, Emma Cernik, J. Peter Nabb, Minnie Powell, Anna Rybin, Mary Stover, Myrtle Milligan, Lella Moorman, Kate Clements, Laura McCune, Mabel Moore, Wm. Hoffman, Mrs. N. Jones, Lottie Smith, Edna Shirley, Ora Stewart, Anna Mortensen.

North Loup: Grace Barnhart, Ellen Curry, Alice Johnson, Elaine Prentice, Maud Shepard, Ada Thrasher, Jennie Smith, Arlie M. Fuller, Leslie O. Green.

Arcadia: Elizabeth Braden, Tressa Johnson, Hanna Lueck, Ida Payton, Clara Brown.

Burwell: Minnie Lukesh, Lizzie Lukesh, Ora Turner, Ada Turner, H. Lemasters, Bertha Hulbert.

Taylor: Otto Wirsig, Ray Hulbert, Rufus Hulbert, Comstock, Bertha Ducker, Bertha Allen, Elyria.

Elyria Items: Mrs. J. E. Stingley came home from Taylor last Friday morning, where she has been visiting. Almost a serious accident happened here on Friday morning of last week. Miss Mate Moore was getting out of a buggy to take the morning train, and stepped on the track in front of the engine, which threw her out to one side of the track bruising her quite severely, but fortunately no bones were broken.

Ida Items: Bernice Wright visited Stella Sharp Friday evening. Mrs. Butts and little granddaughter were on the sick list the first of the week.

Mrs. Simpson returned to Ord to visit her sister Mrs. Smith. Harry Sharp gave a party to his friends last Friday night, the occasion being his birthday anniversary.

Martin Kruser, M. B. Goodenow and J. M. Craig were Ord visitors Monday. Miss Lula Alderman has been employed as teacher in Ida for the fall term of school of four months.

Carrie Smith of Ord is spending the week with Maude Jackson. C. A. Sharp returned from his eastern trip Monday evening. Mrs. Goodenow is taking in the chautauqua this week.

The Ida and Fort boys played a game of ball at Meyer's Sunday. The Ida boys found something easy, so came out victorious.

ATTENTION Parties owing E. L. Ball for horse services for the years 1905 '06 and '07 will please call at the First National Bank, Ord, and settle the same. E. L. Ball. 14 ft

Card of Thanks. To the friends who so kindly assisted us during the burial of wife and daughter we wish to express our heart-felt thanks. A conscience-stricken man in New Jersey has returned to Washington $40,000, representing the sum of $10,000 taken from the government some years ago, with interest up to date, thus making complete restitution.

The president of the Carnegie Institution promises a fortune and fame to the man who can introduce to the public bread that tastes less like cotton batting than the stuff that now passes for that article. Women should also be allowed to compete.

The feminine residents of Main Line, a fashionable suburb of Philadelphia, are wearing sandals because they say this footwear is "sensible and comfortable," but the wise public, reflecting that there never was a style adopted by women for this reason alone, will suspect that the sandals are really worn to show off the pretty feet of the wearers.

A lot of those silver cups, table casters and things given to Whitelaw Reid's daughter by the British nobility are in the class of what the everyday bride privately designates as junk because she can make no use of them. Miss Reid will not have the satisfaction enjoyed by other brides, however, of trading her gifts off for something she likes better. She will have to keep them and pretend to be delighted with them.

Justice Harlan at 75 has just run up against one of those rumors in the newspapers that he was about to resign. It makes him say something tartly: "I cannot imagine how it is that two or three times a year a report is printed that I am going to retire from the bench. The fact is that I have never contemplated, much less considered, such a thing. I will retain my post, as long as I keep my present good health, and I do not propose for these reports of my retirement to go uncontradicted."

Some time ago the Springfield Republican advised hotel keepers that it would be a good thing to have a supply of pajamas, night robes and toilet articles in store to loan to luckless travelers who had been unexpectedly detained in town, or had forgotten to take these necessary things along. One of the great New York hotels announces that it will make the innovation, and this is met by a statement from Philadelphia that the leading hotel there has been accustomed to supply such needs for a long time past. It is a good precedent.

Our little four-year-old has always lived in an inland village, and therefore is not much acquainted with nautical affairs, though deeply interested in railroad trains and other forms of terrestrial locomotion. Recently he visited in a neighboring town which is situated on a river, standing on the shore, he saw a small ferryboat approaching, and became much excited. Seizing his mother's skirt he exclaimed: "Oh look, mam-

LAND VALUES OF THE STATE BOOSTED SKY HIGH.

A $54,000,000 INCREASE

But Four Counties Shows a Decrease in the Assessed Valuation as Compared With Former Returns—Other News.

The counties of Cedar, Cherry, Grant and Thomas have the distinction of being the only counties in the state that have reported a decrease in the average assessed value per acre to the state board of assessment. Abstracts of assessments have been filed by county assessors from every county except Gage, Hooker and Scotts Bluff counties. The estimated increase in the assessed value of all lands in the state is $54,000,000, an increase of about 36 percent, while only four counties have reported a decrease in values. The work of all the county assessors is yet to be reviewed by the state board of equalization which has power to raise or lower values on any class of property in a county. The following shows the average assessed valuation per acre of land as returned to the state board by county assessors for the years 1907 and 1908:

Mangled by a Train. Passenger train No. 15, west-bound, Thursday afternoon picked up, between Dawson and Salem, a stranger traveling alongside the tracks with his legs cut off. The man was of middle age and evidently a tramp, who, it is thought, fell from a passing freight on which he was stealing a ride and was injured by the wheels of the train. He was unconscious, but it was learned from papers in his pockets that he was from New York. He was taken to St. Joseph where his injuries were looked after.

RATES FOR THE STATE FAIR.

Fare of One and One-third Has Been Announced.

Nebraska, in common with other western states, will receive the benefit of special rates for the state fair, one and one-third fare for the round trip being established. At a recent meeting of the Western Passenger association at Chicago a resolution was adopted recommending that the above rate be put into effect for the season 1908, with such minimums as lines in interest may desire to establish for each occasion; dates of sale and other details to be arranged later. The resolution was adopted after the Chicago Great Western railway served notice on the other lines that it was their intention to establish the basis in effect prior to 1907 of three cents per mile for the round trip.

BODY FOUND NEAR TRACKS.

Oliver Starkey Kills Himself After Shooting His Wife. Lying near the tracks of the railroad between St. Libory and St. Paul, Friday morning the lifeless body of Oliver C. Starkey was found. He had killed himself, following the shooting of his wife at Central City the day before with a shotgun. The top of his head had been blown off with the same weapon used in inflicting what may prove to be a fatal injury upon his wife. Starkey had left the home after shooting his wife and an all night search for him had been made by Sheriff Her and others. Mrs. Starkey is still living and there are chances that she may survive.

War Dance at Valentine.

The streets of Valentine Tuesday afternoon had the appearance of the early frontier days again, as the Indians held full sway by blocking the streets with their war dances. The sidewalks were all crowded with people watching the painted warriors as they danced and yelled. The shouts, wild yelling and the low chanting of the squaws all together went to make up a noise that would make one's blood run cold if they thought for a minute that the Indians were in earnest. After the dance was over they showed their advanced stage of civilization by passing the hat like their white brothers.

Stabbing Affray at Harvard.

A serious stabbing affray took place at the farm home of Tim Buckley, five miles north of Harvard, Monday evening, between two tramp harvesters employed by Mr. Buckley. The particulars as report gives them, is that they had retired to their room and the one stabbed had gone to sleep when he was attacked by his roommate while asleep and cut in fifteen places. The party doing the cutting took time to clean himself up and escaped in the darkness of the night and is still at large.

Cigar Makers Strike.

At Fremont H. G. Brettenfeld's force of sixteen cigar makers, walked out. They demanded a dollar additional on a certain cigar and being refused left the shop. Mr. Brettenfeld claims that the cigar has been made for years for $10 and that there has been no change. The men claim that the form of the cigar has been changed and that they are entitled by the schedule to the increase. Mr. Brettenfeld offered to accede to the demand and take back four or five of the men and operate a smaller business.

New Electric Light Plant.

The new electric light plant at Columbus is going to be one of the most up-to-date plants in the state. The building will be fire-proof in every particular, and material used in its construction will be principally brick and cement, from floors to ceiling. The bases upon which the new engines will stand are now being constructed of concrete, and the engines will be placed before the building is completed.

Severe Storm at Broken Bow.

Hail and lightning did a great deal of damage in the vicinity of Broken Bow at an early hour Wednesday night. On the E. Wilson farm, one and a half miles northeast, the grain was cut by hail. On the farm of Charles Heaps the crops were totally destroyed and around Valley hail did an immense amount of damage. Lightning also struck a big stable belonging to E. Skinner, five miles southeast, completely demolishing it.

TROOPS SLAY NINETEEN PAPAGOS NEAR CETRO, COLO.

TWO SOLDIERS ARE KILLED

Regulars Fired Upon From Behind Rocks and Routed But Soon Halt and Pitched Battle Takes Place.

In a desperate battle between main troops and Papagos last Tuesday at the Inaculada ranch near Cetro, Colo., a mining camp in the Altar district of Sonora, nineteen Indians and two soldiers were killed and five soldiers were wounded.

The encounter resulted from an attempt to return the Indians to their reservation. The Papagos are usually peaceful but many complaints of depredations on ranches by this band caused the government on two previous occasions to send troops to subdue them. The Indians fled to the mountains both times.

The present expedition, under Capt. Baron, with 60 soldiers, seized an Indian village. The soldiers found no one in camp but two boys, as the remainder of the population were gathering cactus fruit in the hills. The soldiers set fire to the houses and the Indians rushed to the rescue of their homes.

Seeing the troops, they took refuge behind nearby rocks and opened fire. Baron ordered the bugler to sound retreat. The troops retired and the Indians pursued, thinking they had routed the soldiers. The latter, however, soon halted and opened fire, killing 19 of the hostiles and wounding many. The Indians fled, taking their injured with them. Among the killed are Chief Dolores and his son. These two are said to have been the chief troublemakers.

Confesses to Crime. August Eberhard Tells of Murdering His Aunt.

Drawn back to the scene of his crime by a force he could not resist, August Eberhard, self-confessed murderer of his aunt, Mrs. Ottilie Eberhard, a Viennese widow whom he lured to a lonely spot in New Jersey a few weeks ago and shot to death was caught near Paterson, N. J., Wednesday.

The reason Eberhard gave for committing the crime was that he was in love with a Hackensack girl and that he needed the money to marry her. Knowing that his aunt had $2,500 he plotted to kill her. He says he also intended to kill his pretty cousin, Ottilie Eberhard, to whom he was engaged, so that nothing would stand in the way of his marriage to the other girl. The police have the name of the girl mentioned and she will be taken to the scene of the murder. Eberhard was found lying on the lawn of a residence just outside of Paterson. There was an ugly looking wound in his right leg, which the murder first said had been inflicted by Italians against him, but which he afterward confessed was inflicted by himself so as to make the police believe he had been wounded on the night his aunt was killed.

Many Concerns Indicted. Grand Jury Returns Findings at Chicago.

The federal grand jury at Chicago Thursday completed an important sitting, having returned indictments against 29 mail order houses, whose alleged illegal profits are between $4,000,000 and $5,000,000, for using the mails to defraud; 28 indictments in the crusade against the "white slave" traffic and ten indictments against the Illinois Central and Rock Island roads for issuing passes to fruit shippers.

Among the indictments charging illegal use of the mails was a joint bill against Birch F. Thomas and Edward Rhodus, promoters of the alleged fraudulent operations of the Central Life Securities Company, the Republic Life Insurance Company, the Mercantile Finance Company and a number of other concerns said to have been used in swindling operations.

Indians Begin Long Trip. Broken in spirit and weary of renegade life, 500 Ute Indians in charge of Capt. Johnson and a troop of the Second cavalry, Friday began their 1,000 mile journey overland from South Dakota to their reservation in Utah. It is estimated the trip will take more than three months, but the Indians seem glad to be going back to the land they deserted three years ago in the hope of finding a land of plenty.

Several Railroads Merged. The Denver & Rio Grande company, the Rio Grande Western Railroad company and all subsidiary railway companies in Colorado and Utah, with the exception of the Rio Grande Southern, were merged into one company, which will be known as the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company. Mr. Grandon Able to Bear Testimony to Wife's Accomplishments.

Sometimes there is a drop of regret in the cup of joy served by fate to the husband of a brilliant talker. "I should think it would be a privilege to sit at the table with your wife three times a day," said one of Mrs. Grandon's ardent feminine admirers. "Only twice a day," said Mr. Grandon, with a bow. "I do not go home at noon."

"Too bad!" said the admirer. "We could not get on without her at club I'm sure. Why, I believe she could talk intelligently on a thousand topics!"

"She can—and does," said Mr. Grandon, and with another bow he slipped out just as his wife appeared.—Youths' Companion.

The efforts of the Bryan crowd have availed them nothing and Hearst has positively refused to get into the "peerless leaders" band wagon. It is not unreasonable to suppose that William Jennings will be the third man in the race in some of the states.

What has become of Bryan's great government ownership theory? On most careful investigation we fail to find anything of the kind inculcated in the platform of the Denver convention. But then there are lots of Bryanesque hobbies that somehow or other got side tracked when it came to drawing up that platform.

Bryan is asking the people to contribute to help pay for his expenses in running for president again. In a way this is right. If anyone wants to bring disaster on the country again by electing a Democratic president they ought to at least pay the cost of doing so. But on the other hand Bryan has made this running for office a very profitable business. When he ran the first time 12 years ago he had little or nothing, now he is rich from the advertising he has had by reason of his office seeking. He ought therefore to pay for the advertising by standing the expenses of the campaign. But really his asking his followers to pay for the campaign is like requiring a victim to buy the rope with which he is to be hung. Think of a democratic farmer, who is now and has been for years getting almost unheard of prices for all his stuff, digging up a dollar to put those prices down to the bottom again. But Bryan does not expect much money to come in this way. This call for small contributions from the masses is made for grand stand effect. Of course every dollar received will enrich Mr. Bryan that much, and at the same time it will give out the impression that he is no plutocrat and must depend on the masses that the common people give in order to get an office.

In 1904 Roosevelt carried the entire north and west, including one vote in Maryland. Parker carried Kentucky, which may be reckoned a doubtful state this year. With this exception all the states carried by Parker were in the south. His total electoral vote was 140 against 330 cast for Roosevelt. This year Oklahoma is added to the electoral column, making a total of 483 electoral votes, of which the successful candidate must have at least 242. Mr. Bryan will have to capture 142 votes more than Parker re-

Where will he get them? Mr. Taft could give Mr. Bryan the electoral votes of New York, Indiana, New Jersey and Illinois and still carry the election. Or he could concede Missouri, Kentucky, Maryland, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Kansas, Oklahoma and Indiana and still win by a handsome majority. Nothing but a tidal wave in both east and west will land Mr. Bryan in the white house.---Albion News.

A Great Need.

7978 cars of corn were inspected and sold upon the Chicago Board of Trade during the month of June. Only one car graded No. 1; only 772 cars, or less than 10 per cent graded good enough for No. 2; 2873 cars, or about 36 per cent graded No. 3; 3872 cars, or nearly one half of the entire amount graded No. 4 and 490 cars were of such poor quality that no grades were attached. This evidence shows the great need for grain improvement. The grain dealer and the receiver in the markets are anxious to lend assistance. This great cereal exhibition enterprise is not confined in its element of education, training and advantage to one class of persons, representing a single industry, such as the growing of crops. It extends in its general scope of influence to every business and industry carried on by man. In fact it appeals to the appetite of every human being for endorsement of better food products, better living and a fuller compensation for labor performed. The grain dealers of the United States are a recognized strong and influential class of business representatives. In recognition of their business relations to this great cereal exposition their interest in its success and permanent influence for better grains and larger crops, the management have planned for a grain dealers' day, and will arrange for excursions from all parts of the country. The entertainment that will be provided for this occasion, and the completeness of arrangements, in general, is a guarantee that thousands of the leading grain men of the country will be in attendance.

Particularly Impressive.

Little Elsie, who had recently returned from a visit to Washington, was describing to her companion some of the wonderful things she had observed in the Capital City.

"One evening," said she breathlessly, "papa took me to have supper at a grand hotel, where the dining room was awfully big, and at the tables around us sat great senators and representatives with their wives, all drinking champagne."

"I suppose the manners of these great persons were perfect?" ventured her companion, with widened eyes.

"Yes," returned Elsie. "But," she added, with a sudden burst of enthusiasm, "the deportment of the colored gentlemen who served the wine was perfectly beautiful."—Philadelphia Ledger.

He Saved a Shilling.

At a certain cloth factory in Scotland it was the custom to fine the work people for turning out bad work. One day a workman brought a piece of cloth to be examined, and the manager found two little holes about an inch apart. He then showed these to the man and demanded 2 shillings fine, a shilling for each hole.

"Is it a shilling for each hole?" asked the man.

"Yes," said the manager.

"And is it the same for every hole, big or little?"

"Yes, exactly the same," said the manager.

"Well, then, I'll save a shilling." And putting his fingers in the holes he quickly made the two into one. —London Answers.

The Worm Turned.

Barrister—Now, sir, you have stated under oath that this man had the appearance of a gentleman. Will you be good enough to tell the jury how a gentleman looks in your estimation?

Downtrodden Witness—Well—er—a gentleman looks—er—like—er—

Barrister—I don't want any of your ers, sir, and remember that you are on oath. Can you see anybody in this courtroom who looks like a gentleman?

Witness (with sudden asperity)—I can if you will stand out of the way. You're not trans.

ENTERPRISE DEPARTMENT

By JOHN L. WARD

We saw a flock of ducks Monday. Rather early in the season, but they will be welcome just the same.

Will Hekeler visited his best girl Sunday. Least ways that is what we heard and Will has not yet denied the accusation.

Annie Sorensen is keeping house for her brother Chris while his wife is visiting her people at Minden, Nebraska.

A few of our farmers are still cultivating corn. It is unusual late for that kind of work but the rush of work has delayed the final cultivation.

Glen Johnson discovered a flock of skunks in his oats field Friday and succeeded in bagging five of them. The skunk census will not be as strong next year.

We have not seen many stubble hens this summer so far, but never-the-less we will go after the first fellow who camps on their trail before the season is open.

Threshing is coming along nicely and the wheat is about as good as was expected. Since it usually falls below the general expectation we ought to be thankful it is no worse.

The following extract is taken from a well known novel. "With laughing eyes she pointed toward the door, whereupon he immediately took his departure." From this we discover two facts that are new to us. First, a new and peculiar use for a woman's eyes, and second, the fact that every man has a departure coming to him. We know women who can see, cry, talk, and laugh with their eyes, but when a woman uses her eyes after the manner of a sign board to point out the way for us to depart, it is certainly a remarkable achievement. What mere mortal can comprehend the sharpness of those eyes, that could be used as pointers. And imagine the beautiful appearance of the aforesaid person when she crowds her eyes almost out of her head in an effort to point the way to the door. But let us consider the rest of the statement, concerning his departure. He took his departure. He did not have to be told which one was his. While we are not told, we have reason to believe that there were others in that room. And yet his unerring instinct guided him and he selected the departure that properly belonged to him. We also learn that there is something for us to do in the matter. We cannot get a departure without taking it. We may do so of our own accord, or we may receive one at the hands and by the foot of her dad. Furthermore we cannot go anywhere without taking a departure with us. We can never see a departure a second time. Thus perhaps 200 million departures are used and thrown away in the United States every day, but the cost is so small that the loss is scarcely noticed. Let us hope that some enterprising firm does not form an International Departure Company corner the market and raise the price. If you had to pay a quarter every time you took a departure you would soon learn to stay at home. When you call on a friend don't worry about your departure. It will be there waiting for you. And don't forget to take it with you when you go, or you may be called back to get it. Every man must take his own departure. No one else can take it for him. Do your duty in this respect and people will respect you.

Will Armstrong is moving the old house on his place and refitting it for a barn. The way Will is getting his farm fixed up causes us to suspicion several things, but we don't intend to tell anybody just what they are. Ask Will about it.

The best looking man in Ord and his big little brother were in the Valley, Monday distributing cards and visiting the people.

Conceit of a Child.

The long suffering parent was about to tell his four-year-old daughter a story to bribe her to go to bed. She hadn't been on any too good behavior that day, and he thought the story might do better than to make a scene.

"Well, once there was a good little girl," he began, "a very good little girl. Oh, she was an extremely good little girl. One day—"

"Aw," cut in the child, "don't just tell a story about me. Tell about some other little girl." —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Starvation.

After about the fifth or sixth day of starvation the pain of hunger ceases to be felt, and the sharp edge of craving becomes dulled. In the ultimate stages of starvation the feelings become so numbed that the senses, as messengers of intelligence, cease to act. There is practically no pain, and the mind goes into a state of incoherence.

Last week's Journal gives us a lengthy spiel from a North Loup man who says or attempts to say a great many things in regard to Norm Parks "running high jump over the fence," as he calls it. Who he is no one knows and no one cares. His name does not appear. Either he was ashamed to have his name published in connection with the letter or the editor thought best to leave it out. This much is certain, a man who would write that article and not have the moral courage to let his name appear at the end of it, will not cause a very stupendous stampede to the democratic ranks. Norm was not afraid, when he had taken only the right course, to say so and put his name at the head of it. Again, this man who sees so much evil in what Norm has done, admits that he has "dopped" himself. And who knows but what he had some personal motive for so doing? If dopping is wrong why did he flop? He roundly berates Parks for not giving good reasons for his action and at the same time gives no reason for the stand he takes, except to say that the senate is so fixed that Bryan could do no harm as president. On the other hand, Norm gave reasons, and good ones, for what he has done and you have only to read his article to find out what they are. He says, referring to Parks; "He is very silent about what allured him over in the other pasture, preferring to whine about what he left." How well that statement fits the man who made it. His article is a criticism of the opposition with scarcely a word of commendation for his own. If whining about the other side is wrong why does he whine? He begins by asking, "who's Norm Parks?" and ends with "who is Norm?" Norm Parks is Norm Parks but the gentleman from North Loup who voted for Roosevelt is without a name. Now why criticize the phrases Norm used in referring to Bryan? That great leader himself used a very similar grade of epithets during his first and last speech in Ord. During that speech he excused the farmers for wearing yellow ribbons on the ground that they did not know any better. If Bryan can use such statements as these, have we common mortals not a right to do likewise? But whatever you do never publish an article without signing your name again. A good name is better to be chosen than great riches.

The Nebraska State Fair for 1908 is past the promising stage; it no longer promises to be the best show of its character that has ever been provided through the efforts of the Board of Agriculture; it actually will be the best. So many concessions have been granted, so many exhibits have secured space, so many varieties of entertainment have been provided that there is little doubt of the record mark to be attained this year.

To illustrate the new mark by the board, Secretary Mellor has given out a few figures. From these it appears that in the way of permanent equipment the Fair grounds this year will show a new cattle barn, costing $23,000, and a new auditorium, costing $10,000. The cattle barn, which is 174 by 255 on the ground, is a modern building, cement floored, well ventilated and providing ample room for the shelter of 636 head of cattle.

The new auditorium is the most radical departure made by the board. It combines the comfort of outdoor entertainment with the acoustic advantages of a partly enclosed building. The steel structure rises to the rear, allowing spectators an easy view of the stage. The wall back of the large stage will afford a splendid sounding board, preventing the rapid diffusion of sound experienced in outdoor concerts. The first concert given in this new building will be worthy of the fine structure. The great Liberator organization, comprising military band and a company of eighteen singers of national reputation, will appear in the new auditorium. Besides this organization, four state bands, of a caliber to enforce respect, have been secured. Contracts have been made with the Hebron, Beatrice, Aurora and St. Paul bands.

The variety of entertainment afforded ranges from the "Carnival of Venice," a night spectacle employing some 500 people and a wealth of fireworks, to the marvellous work of Frank Odell, the "Bee King." In about the same measure that the carnival is heedless of expense, is Odell fearless when he enters a large screened cage of bees, arranges the enraged money-makers in palpitating lines, fills his pockets with them, tosses them in his hair and rubs his face with them. The bees are not deprived of their stings nor does Odell use a medicament offensive to the bees. The secret of his immunity is unknown.

Night entertainments at the State Fair comprise another new move. In addition to the "Carnival of Venice," the Paine spectacle, "The Eruption of Vesuvius" has been secured. This is one of the most brilliant of the great pyrotechnic productions of the famous company.

The speed program, which, through keen interest in Nebraska horses and the appearance of world-beaters, has always been a notable part of the fair, will be of real interest to Nebraskans this year. The purses are large enough to interest every live horse man and the races are numerous enough to allow class entries without forcing horses from their proper class, which classes consist of a two-year-old trot, three-year-old trot, three-year-old trot for Nebraska bred colts, 2:35, 2:30, 2:25, 2:21, and 2:17 trotting; three-year-old pace, three-year-old pace for Nebraska bred colts, 2:35, 2:30, 2:25, 2:22, 2:18, 2:15 and free-for-all pacing. In the stake races, closing May 1, were entered 129 horses in eight races. The 2:35 and 2:21 trots and the 2:30, 2:22 and 2:14 pacing are each for purses of $1,000. One of the new racing events for the year is the four and a half furlongs running race, for Nebraska bred two-year-old colts, for which a $200 purse is given—the remainder of the running races are the Nebraska Derby, one and one-sixteenth miles, with dash and repeat races varying in distance from one-half to one mile. The Nebraska management are generous in the fact that stall rent is free to all horses actually starting in races, and one-half of the entrance fee is refunded to starters finishing the race inside the flag and outside the money. The harness races and the Nebraska bred colt and derby running races close on August 10, 1908. The purses amount to more than $12,000.

An athletic meet will be held on the racetrack, in front of the grandstand, on Tuesday, September 1, under the direction of Mr. George L. Pinneo. This meet will consist of 100, 222, 440, 880 yard and mile events. One of the main events will be a county relay race, in which four contestants, each running a quarter of a mile, will compete for the championship of the state and in which every county should have its representatives.

The Nebraska State Fair is not an experiment; it is an institution. Realizing this the management is putting forth every effort to make it increasingly attractive. With exhibits of higher class and better arranged, with better facilities for taking care of immense crowds, with special provisions for the comfort of visitors and with particular care for the feature of entertainment, the management is trying to keep pace with the requirements of the great annual festival of the great state.

Nebraska Board of Agriculture Sets New Mark This Year.

STAR AND CRESCENT.

Origin of the Symbols Used on the Turkish Flag.

Very ancient are the star and crescent of the Turkish flag. Their origin is explained as follows: The characters of the language of Mesopotamia, like the Egyptian, were originally hieroglyphic. One of the early picture words was a crescent and a star, and this picture, which was pronounced "shiptu," was employed to express an incantation or exorcism or anything capable of driving the evil spirit from the body of which it had taken possession. Clay tablets recording the ancient exorcisms have been found in the ruins of Mesopotamia, and at the beginning of such tablets appears the sign which developed from the crescent and star. The symbol therefore may have been not only the word for incantation, but a charm from which the evil spirits were supposed to flee. In every age in the orient the people have possessed similar charms. The Assyrian kings stationed winged monsters with forms half human at their gateways to keep all evil from entering within the palace. The poorer people suspended clay tablets above the entrances of their houses. The modern oriental may purchase in the bazaars blue glass beads, verses from the Koran wrapped in leather cases and other devices to serve a similar purpose. The crescent and star formed a symbol which the Mesopotamian of 6,000 years ago employed as a charm.

Among the early peoples of Mesopotamia all of the heavenly bodies were regarded as deities, but the moon, because of the variety of the shapes which it assumes, was the chief of them all. Special reverence was therefore paid it and some of the oldest and most important of the Babylonian temples, as at Ur and Haran, were devoted to its worship. Thus the crescent, the symbol by which the moon god was represented, was supposed to have the power to avert evil, and then together with the star it formed the word for incantation.

When Babylonia passed into the hands of the Persians the symbol appeared upon the coins. From the Persians it was transmitted to the Parthians, the Byzantines, the Romans and the Greeks. Finally the Turks, who succeeded in the possession of the greater part of the countries of the ancient world, adopted it as a device for their flag.—Chicago News.

Never Says Goodby.

"Did you hear what that man said when we left him?" asked one friend of another as they made their way from the inner office of a well known financier.

"Don't know that I did," was the response. "Goodby," I suppose, wasn't it?"

"Not a bit of it," the first rejoined. "I've never heard that man say 'Goodby.' I've mentioned the matter to him, and he's told me that he has a prejudice against 'goodby.' With him it's always 'Good day,' or 'Good morning,' or 'Good night,' or maybe, if he knows you well, 'So long' or 'See you later.'"

"I wonder why that is?" was the interested comment.

"I can only guess," was the response. "Probably it is because he has some painful associations with 'Goodby.' For that matter, most of us have, if we but stop to think of them."—New York Press.

The Clock Plant.

There is a plant, a native of Borneo, which is known as the "clock plant." The name is derived from the action of the sun's rays on the leaves, which are three in number—a large one extending forward, with two small ones at the base pointing sideways. These, coming in contact with the rays of the sun, oscillate like the pendulum of a clock, the larger leaf moving upward and downward, going its full length every forty-five minutes, the smaller leaves moving toward the larger, completing the distance forward and backward every forty-five minutes, thus resembling the hour and minute hands of a clock.

Macaulay the Wit.

During the time when Lord Disraeli was startling sober Englishmen by his eccentricities of dress Lord Macaulay, that was to be, was electrifying his dull witted constituents by his witty sallies and repartee. Having been defeated in 1847, he ran again for parliament in 1852. For a change he was the popular candidate.

One day while standing on the hustings side by side with his opponent he was violently struck by a dead cat. The man who threw it immediately apologized, saying he had meant the cat for his opponent. "Indeed!" said Macaulay. "Then I wish you had meant it for me and struck him."

Walter Rood of the North Loup Loyalist came up to Ord Monday to take in the Chautauqua and talk a little politics with his supporters for the state legislature in this part of the county.

The chautauqua people felt pretty thankful because they pitched their tent on high ground after the rain Saturday night. Rubber boots would have been in great demand if the chautauqua had been held on the Island.

Victoria Wisda came over from Sargent last Saturday and is spending the week visiting Ord relatives and taking in the chautauqua. Miss Wisda is still employed in the Warta drug store at Sargent and likes the work quite well.

Peter Dargs a plumber of South Omaha is in this vicinity with his wife on a visit. His wife is one of the Vavra, young ladies, of Comstock, which was the reason for his coming this way when work failed him temporarily. He will accept work here if any is presented.

Miss Anna Beran of Elysian, Minn., who has been visiting for several weeks at the home of her uncle, John Beran, returned home Monday morning. Miss Amelia Beran accompanied her on the homeward trip and will visit relatives there for a few months.

In another column notice the announcement of Herman Oleson. In spite of the bitter attacks made upon him by his enemies we believe Mr. Oleson has been conscientious in the discharge of his duties as county attorney and has done the right as he has seen it.—North Loup Loyalist.

On the 8th a party of Ord folks and others of this vicinity will go to Colorado to attend the land distributin in the San Luis Valley. The trip will be made over the B. & M. and a sleeper will be put on for the special use of the party from Lincoln. The drawing will be had about the 10th and then people will know what they got.

We are pleased to know that Miss Edith Robbins has been elected by the state board to have charge of the musical department of the Kearney school, a place which she is abundantly able to fill and this department will be pushed to the front in that school. She will begin her work the first of next year. Meanwhile she will go to Lincoln and finish her post graduate work and take her M. A. degree this summer. Later she will go east and take special work in music taking her place at the head of the musical department of the Kearney schools with the second semester. The work will be mostly voice culture. Miss Edith has made great improvement in singing during the past two years, as a few in Ord who have been privileged to hear her know.

Now the chautauqua having turned out to be a financial success the question is quite frequently asked why a local organization is not effected and the profits of such an institution kept at home. An argument in favor of such a movement certainly has many good points and we do not see why an organization of the kind could not be successfully put through. As conducted by the Redpath bureau that organization stands to make a pretty good thing out of the Ord chautauqua this year and as a matter of fact they never stand a show of losing out for they require an advance sale of sufficient size to cover the cost of the chautauque before they agree to locate. We believe the question of local management is worth agitating, let's talk it over.

The Chautauqua folks have not had as good luck with their talent this year as last. A year ago there was not a single deviation from the published program, every number advertised being held on schedule time but this year it was found necessary to do considerable substituting from the regular published program owing to the inability of the bureau at the last moment to get the speakers as advertised. It was probably no fault of the Redpath Bureau that the speakers did not appear as advertised as they undoubtedly had contracts with them but it is always a disappointment to an audience to have the program switched on them. We are of the opinion that the ticket holders did not gain any by the changes in the program.

The first republican to announce that he will not vote his ticket this fall but will vote for Bryan comes from North Loup and in an article in the Journal of last week this ex-Roosevelt voter aims to say something in reply to a letter from Norma Parks that appeared in these columns a week or so ago. We do not think that the writer of the article mentioned ever voted for Roosevelt unless he did so by mistake for his article from beginning to end shows a pop spirit too strong to have been acquired since Bryan's nomination. Why does this fellow that claimed to have voted for Roosevelt not sign his name to the article? Is he ashamed of the stand that he has taken for the "peerless leader?"

There were big crowds out both afternoon and evening to see the Wiedemann circus. The tent was set up at the U. P. depot and was quite a spacious affair, but no monster in size. The show consisted of riding stunts by alleged cowboys, cowgirls and real Indians, rope throwing, trapeze performances, slack rope walking and fancy stunts by a fellow pretty handy on his legs and a couple of barrels. The only real artist was the slack rope walker and juggler, who was as good as they make 'em. But the leg man and his barrels were good enough for any show.

N. Hilderbrand has resigned his position in Geo. Thompson's butcher shop and returned to his home at St. Paul Tuesday. Louis C. Schoenthal of Ord has filled the vacancy and we are most certain he will make good as he has had about 17 years experience along that line. Mrs. Schoenthal will make an extensive visit with her aunt, Mrs. E. A. Easterbrook and other relatives in our vicinity while L. C. is in the shop.—Arcadia Champion.

The North Loup division of the county Sunday school association will hold a convention and picnic at Lee's grove in Mira Valley next week Wednesday. A good time is promised and you are invited.

We neglected to mention in last weeks issue the safe arrival of a new son in the Warren Draper home. The youngster is now two weeks old and with the rest of the family is doing finely.

Mrs. Will Carson was a pretty sick woman for several days during the past week but is somewhat improved at this writing.

Carl Coonrod made the round trip to Sargent overland Friday.

Miss Jessie Potter went to Palmer Saturday morning for a visit.

J. H. Capron was doing business at Scotia between trains Monday.

W. J. Lloyd finished his visit to Ord Monday morning and went on his way home to Missouri Valley, Iowa.

There was a good crowd at the horse sale last Saturday afternoon but the prices received were not very large.

Mr. Oliver Hollet of Lincoln who has been visiting with the family of Rev. Bamford for a few days, left for his home this morning.

Mrs. Dr. Allen and daughter and Mrs. Koza and babe of Clarkson, Nebr., are visitors at the John Beran home. They will remain for some time.

I will fix your cemetery lot up in good shape and keep it so for a small sum. Drop a postal card or leave orders at Quiz office. Silas Hurlbut, janitor, tf.

Next Saturday Dr. Corkill expects to leave for Kirksville, Mo., to attend the national osteopathic convention, which will be in session from August 3 to 8. She will be gone 8 or 10 days.

Mrs. R. B. Whited and her brother, Frank McCormack, came down from Burwell Monday morning and went on down the U. P. line for Grand Island. They had been up the country on a visit.

We learn that Charley Partidge will again assume the proprietorship of Hotel Ord tomorrow. The Boquet folks have rented the Will Wentworth house and will remain in Ord for a while at least.

Clark Lamberton has purchased Fred Bell's automobile, the deal being consummated the first of the week. Wednesday morning Fred went to Omaha where he will purchase another machine.

The Messick Bros. Concert company was the attraction at the Wentworth opera house last Thursday night. The company is a pleasing one but the attendance was not very large, probably owing to the exceedingly warm weather.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Walker of Fon du Lac, Wis., who had been here visiting at the Bailey Bros. farm for a fortnight, went on their way Monday morning to visit with other relatives in South Dakota. Mrs. Walker is a sister of Judge Gaffey of South Dakota who has been here several times.

One and sixty hundredths of an inch of rain fell last Saturday night and Sunday morning. There was no crying need for moisture but it was never the less appreciated. Sunday the sun came out hot and the corn added an inch, inch-and-a-half or two inches to its size during the day.

I have eight splendid farms for sale ranging from $10 per acre up to more than $100. These farms will be sold this fall. The splendid crops in this country invite purchasers and calls attention to the man who wants to invest in cheap lands. Come and examine these fine lands before taking chances in foreign countries. You know these lands and you don't know others.—A. M. Robbins.

The contract for putting in the new city water works reservoir was let at the special meeting of the council last Thursday evening. Goodhand & Jensen of Ord were the lowest bidders and were accordingly awarded the contract, the price being $2900. This looks like a pretty big amount but the specifications call for a reinforced cistern of concrete that will stand the work of years and of such dimensions as will be of sufficient size to meet the growth of the city for some time. Work on the new structure is to commence at once.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mortensen and son of Ord, Neb., are guests at the home of John Hale on the Alameda Mr. Mortensen was for four years State Treasurer of Nebraska, and is now president of the First National Bank of Ord. This is Mr. Mortensen's first visit to California and the Pacific Coast. He came to San Jose by way of Los Angeles and Santa Cruz, and after a stay of about ten days in this city he, Mrs. Mortensen and their son will go to San Francisco, and thence to Portland.

Asked about business conditions in Nebraska Mr. Mortensen said: "Conditions are good." He said that in his opinion the Republicans will carry Nebraska again in the National election.

"I don't think that sentiment has changed from what it was four years ago," declared Mr. Mortensen. "Nevertheless we respect Mr. Bryan as a good man and a good citizen."—San Jose Daily Mercury.

At the Chautauqua.

Saturday evening the Chautauqua opened at the big tent pitched on the vacant lots south of the High School building. Mr. Porter of Kearney was in charge. He made some announcements and a little talk in a prefatory way and then the real business of the session began.

The Kirksmiths were the first and they were royally received for Ord knew of these talented musicians from their former visit to the city. They of course captured the audience.

Following their entertainment Mohammed Ali, a native of India, spoke of India and her people. Mr. Ali is now a business man of this country but as he was born, reared and educated in his native land and is bright as a dollar in thought and expression, he was able to bring the message from India in a telling and interesting manner. He speaks English almost perfectly, and as he comes to us as a native of the land of which he speaks his words had special weight with the audience.

Sunday afternoon we were to have Dr. Thomas Green but sickness prevented the doctor's coming. We do not know Green, but he was a good one indeed if he was better than the man substituted for him in the person of Judge Alden. Anyway when we heard Alden we were glad Green did not come. The Judge is a fiery speaker, full of good thoughts and anecdotes and able to deliver them in a way to make you enjoy yourself as well as think. He dealt with the human living from various standpoints, but the keynote of his address was the personal responsibility of the individual.

Sunday evening Mr. Ali gave his lecture on "The Hope of India, which was a masterly address.

In both of the Sunday sessions the Kirksmiths gave entertainments and the interest did not wane even to the end.

Monday afternoon the entertainment feature was furnished by the Sterling Jubilee Singers, who have been before Ord audiences before and always made good.

Judge Alden then had the floor for the second time. He said that the management wanted him to give his humorous lecture on court scenes, but he said there was nothing in it but fun and he preferred to complete the address which the heat and lack of time prevented him from finishing Sunday afternoon. To settle the matter between him and the management he called for a vote, which was clearly in favor of going on with his serious address, which, by the way, is about the liveliest serious thing you ever ran up against. There were lots of women out to hear this address, but there should have been as many men. The judge handles things without gloves and says what ought to be said on every subject he discusses.

Dr. McQueen, who was to present an illustrated lecture on the wilds of Africa could not be present on account of mishaps that befell him in the dark continent and is not filling any of his dates. In his stead came Henry George Jr. son and disciple of the noted man of that name, who on Monday night presented some scenes from New York City showing the contrast between wealth and poverty, and speaking sparingly on the subject of socialism. This same lecturer presented Japan on Tuesday evening, which was by far a more interesting and instructive exhibition.

Tuesday Mrs. Lillia G. English of Lincoln sang and Platform Manager Porter delivered a talk on one of Shakespeare's plays.

Mrs. English is a captivating singer, who has a sweet strong voice which has not been spoiled by quavers and agonies. She was in her youth a pupil of Mrs. W. L. D. Aule and is making her home with that lady while in the city, and a very pleasant meeting it is.

Mr. Porter is a teacher at the Kearney Normal and is a specialist in English literature. He popularized his talk and made it very interesting to his hearers.

The great event of the day was the address by Governor Hoch of Kansas. Governor Hoch is one of the governors who are in sympathy with the spirit of the hour and coming from Kansas he is from the state that leads off in all manner of reforms. His subject was "A Message from Kansas." The strong feature of his address was the success of prohibition in that state, but he made a very strong and telling appeal to young men and others along the line of morality. The governor is no orator but he is a powerful and entertaining speaker. He may come again.

The Ord base ball team journeyed to Arcadia, Wednesday for a game with the team from that town. The game was a good one, the Arcadia boys winning by the score of 3 to 2. The return game will be played at Ord at an early date.

Yesterday the Hungarians appeared at the Chautauqua grounds furnishing music in the afternoon and evening. They will serve the audience that way at the sessions today. They make excellent music.

Yesterday morning Mrs. English gave her lecture, "The Boy Behind the Bars." Those who heard it all speak in highest terms of the lecture. She preludes her lectures with song, and she has few equals in making music. You should never fail to hear her when the opportunity presents itself. Unfortunately this very talented woman is on the program only in the forenoons when there are small audiences. She will speak again tomorrow morning on "The Life Beautiful," and you should hear her. The morning sessions are free.

Yesterday afternoon Dr. Tanner lectured to a large audience on "The Man in Overalls." His message was to bring together more closely the labring class and other people.

Last night Alton Packard made his second appearance before an Ord audience, his former visit being about four years ago. He is a very interesting humorist and cartoonist and pleased his audience mightily. On account of having to give some time to the moving picture show later in the evening which we think was a mistake, he had to cut his lecture short, making not half as many pictures as he usually does. The audience would have preferred having more Packard and forgone the moving picture performance for the evening, though that was good too.

So far the Chautauqua has been a marked success, and the balance of the program is fully as good as has been carried out.

Council Proceedings

Ord, Nebr., July 23, 1908.

Special meeting of the city council called to take action on bids for new reservoir and to take up the passage of new ordinances for the city.

Roll call, showing all members present.

The bids on file with the city clerk were read and found to be as follows:

Lang & Brownitt of Lincoln, Nebr., $3,048.

Goodhand & Jensen, of Ord, $2,900.

W. H. Moses of Ord, $2,933.

On motion of Taylor the contract was awarded to Goodhand & Jensen.

On motion of Williams the city attorney was instructed to report at the next meeting all ordinances that should be repeated and such new as were needed.

On motion council adjourned.

A. J. Shirley, clerk.

H. G. Westberg was at Arcadia the first of the week.

A daughter was recently born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Boquet.

E. W. Black and wife were in the city yesterday. This is Mr. Black's first trip to Ord in nine years.

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Collins and daughter are here on a visit with the Collinses and other relatives. Their home is in New York state.

Otto Wirsig, one of the graduates of the Ord schools, has been chosen as principal of the Taylor schools. He is a bright boy and will without doubt make good.

Clarence, a fat little bother of Attorney C. A. Davis, is here on a visit. He made the trip from Lead, South Dakota, alone and planned his visit so as to be here during the chautauqua.

Last Saturday John Jones was brought before Judge Gudmundsen, charged with applying liquor to J. G. Dahlin, whom the saloons refuse to supply with liquor any more, fearing that they might get into trouble for selling liquor to a drunkard. County Attorney Oleson prosecuted the case and Norman defended. The defense offered no testimony but denied the right of the state to prosecute for want of any law to hinge the case upon. It seems that there is no law against citizens other than saloon keepers from giving away all the liquor they please. On this ground the judge turned the prisoner loose, which seems to be the only course to pursue.

A party of Ord Turners go to Omaha tomorrow, Friday, morning to participate in the big state meeting to assemble in that city. The Ord team will be composed of Joe Stora, Paul Bartunek, Stanley Dworak and Joe Cernik, Jr., and according to the rules of the association each competing team may take along a referee, and Mr. Adolph Johns, of St. Paul will accompany the boys in this capacity. About a half a hundred towns over the state will have teams at the meeting, hence it will be seen that the Ord fellows will get up against some pretty fast work but their Ord friends are not afraid but what they will hold their own with the best of them.

ARCADIA DEPARTMENT

Mrs. Emma Riesland has been quite ill for a week past.

E. E. Williams drove over to Mason City last Thursday.

Miss Tressa Johnson is attending the institute at Ord this week.

N. S. Peterson of St. Paul was in town on business last Thursday.

County Attorney Oleson was in the city Tuesday on political business.

Ed. Donnel spent the fore part of the week in the vicinity of Ansley, Westerville and Broken Bow.

Miss Maymie Brown arrived last Saturday evening from Beatrice for a visit with the family of her sister, Mrs. J. A. Burgett.

Mrs. Fulton of Webster county, returned home the latter part of last week, having spent some time visiting her sister, Mrs. B. Masters and family, east of town.

C. W. Lee returned home last Friday evening from College View, where he had been for about five weeks attending the advent college.

A. H. Hastings was an Omaha visitor the latter part of last week, stopping off for a short visit with his wife and children who are visiting with relatives in Ashland.

C. C. Cooper and H. S. Kinsey drove over to Ord Tuesday to look after some business matters and incidentally to take in the chautauqua.

A. P. Culley was up from Loup City Tuesday looking up votes for the nomination for state senator on the republican ticket from Sherman county.

W. D. Bennett and son are building an addition on the post-office this week. It is promised that several other improvements will be made before the work is all done.

Mrs. J. W. Landers of Broken Bow is in this city this week visiting the families of her daughters, Mrs. Walter Soranson and Mrs. J. P. Cooper and other relatives.

Misses Ruby Vallet, Cora Bly, Lola DeWitt and Lillian Duryea are in attendance at the teachers' institute at Loup City this week, having gone down Monday morning.

Among those from this place who attended the chautauqua at Ord last Sunday were: Messrs. C. W. Starr, Elmer Owen, Ralph Hollingshead, Guy Thompson, and Misses Tressa and Leona Johnson, Maude Freeman and Edna Freeman. All report a good time except C. W. Starr who failed to find his way back without the assistance of some of the farmers along the way.

During the rain storm last Saturday night the residence occupied by Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Balde was struck by lightning. The bolt struck the roof, going through and striking an iron bed, and setting fire to the bed clothes. From there it went to the dining room and went through the wall to the telephone wire outside. Mr. Balde had his hands quite badly burned while putting out the flames in the bed clothes, but his prompt work saved a bad fire as the flames were making rapid progress. As it is the damage is slight.

Thomas L. Redlon, brother of N. K. Redlon of North Loup and an early day lawyer of Ord, committed suicide at his home in Lead, South Dakota, early Monday morning by blowing out his own brains. Sickness and the fact that his doctor had given up his case were the causes of his awful act.

Mrs. Stroup will go to University Place Saturday morning to make her home there for the present at least. Since Mr. Stroup has been there the family has been divided, not a pleasant arrangement anywhere. They have considerable property here still and may come back some day to resume their residence among us. We hope so.

Ball's Black Stallion Will Stand in Ord.

As there are several wanting me to stand my black stallion, R.A.M.C. at Ord, I have made arrangements with A. J. Firkins for a stall in his breeding barn where my stallion will be found on Tuesdays and Wednesdays of each week. The rest of the time he will be at his usual stands in Springdale and on Elm Creek. E. L. Ball. 6-tf.

Farm Loans.

We have plenty of money to loan on farms in this and adjoining counties, at low rates. See us if you need money.

Ord State Bank.

In an editorial last week the Quiz mentioned the high prices of hogs and cattle in connection with the republican administration. In 1899 and 1900 when hogs were selling for $2.50 to $3.50, we wonder if this paper was claiming along with the rest of the republican papers that the prices of commodities were not ruled by the government, but by supply and demand. During Cleaveland's term hogs sold at the then unheard of price of $7. We are a republican and believe in most republican arguments, but we are for fair play in everything, and the people in general are not taking the party differences so seriously as they did several years ago. The man who is elected in the future will do so because he is thoroughly proficient and deserves the office, or is at least able to convince the people that he is. We, for one, do not think that a man is anything dishonorable just because he is a democrat and we are firmly convinced that if the democrats had everything their own way in this country that it would still be a country of the "free and the home of the brave." We consider it a mere difference in opinion as to the best needs of the nation and both parties have smart men supporting their policies. Both parties have made mistakes in the past. And surely no democratic congress was ever more inactive or ever made the American people more ashamed of its law-making body than the one which adjourned but a few weeks ago, yet the republicans were in full control. It doesn't seem to us that either party will gain very much by a comparison of administrations and they had better pay more attention to the choice of their men than to the mistakes of the other.

A. F. Lane had a force of men at work the fore part of the week moving A. E. Stone's meat market from the lots near the opera house to the lots adjoining C. E. Gusner's implement store. Mr. Stone expects to put in some fine improvements and expects to give this place something in the way of a meat market that is seldom seen outside a large city.

Mrs. E. G. Robinson arrived home last Thursday evening. She left here a few weeks ago in company with her son, Arthur Gusner, for California, in which state they had intended to visit until the fore part of October, but Mrs. Robinson's health was so poor all the time she was there that she concluded to return home at once. Arthur will remain there until fall.

D. O. Hawley took possession of the blacksmith shop last week, he having recently purchased it from Charles McEachron. Mr. McEachron has not made up his mind just what business he will engage in, but we anticipate that he will move on the farm north of town which he received as part payment for his shop.

Fred Davis and family returned home last Friday evening from their trip to Idaho, Washington and Oregon. They report some parts of the country through which they passed as being fine but they were never-the-less quite glad to get home once more.

H. H. Gusner was a business visitor to Comstock Thursday evening.

Advertised Letters

List of Letters remaining unclaimed in the post office at Ord Nebr., for the week ending tomorrow.

Mr. Jas. Novah.

Mr. J. W. Williams.

Letters will be sent to the dead letter office. Parties claiming any of the above please say they were "advertised."

A. M. COONROD Postmaster.

Secretary W. R. Mellor of the State Board of Agriculture and Secretary W. H. Whitten of the Lincoln Commercial Club appeared before the meeting of the Western Passenger Association at Chicago, last week together with representatives from five other states, and secured a rate of one and one half cents per mile for all state fairs in this western territory.

This will be the first reduced rate granted to farmers since the enactment of the two cent fare law, and should result in an increased attendance for the Nebraska State Fair, August 31st to Sept. 4th.

High Prices for Seed

The Richardson Seed Company will pay the highest prices for good millet and alfalfa seed and good popcorn, sweet corn, flint corn and field corn. The building will be in readiness as soon as these crops can be ready for market. Frank Vopat ager.

"But, George, dear, how can we possibly live? Your income won't more than half support us."
"O, yes, it will. After we are married, pet, I won't have to bring you any more hothouse flowers, you know."—Chicago Tribune.

"I am so sorry you are not interested in these aerial flight problems, Mr. Simpkins," sighed the Sweet Young Thing to the formidable Bore.
"Why?" asked the latter, a little mystified.
"Because I should so love to see you fly."—Philadelphia Press.

"A man lives and learns," remarked the husband with some bitterness.
"Well, the school of experience doesn't bar co-eds," retorted his wife.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Mrs. KJones—Did Mrs. Psmith wear her new ball gown?
Mr. KJones—Really, I didn't notice what she had on.
Mrs. KJones—Ah, that was it, then. I heard that it was hardly noticeable.—Cleveland Leader.

The best friends a man has are among those who are poorer than himself. The $10 man finds his admirers in the $5 circle, and the $5 man among those still poorer. A man is inclined to snub those poorer than himself, but they are the ones who come to his help when he is in trouble.

"What's the matter, Hatch? You seem ill at ease. I thought you'd enjoy a home dinner."
"I'd enjoy it thoroughly, Newwed, if I could keep my eye on my hat and coat. Force of habit, you know."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

The porch climber hesitated.
"I'm only doing this," he muttered, "because getting in on the ground floor has never made any money for men in a business way, and it's up to me to get even with the world somehow."
Convincing himself by this specious reasoning, he softly pushed up the window and climbed inside.—Chicago Tribune.

Thirty days of official mourning was begun at the naval academy as a mark of respect to the memory of the late ex-president Grover Cleveland.

The Southern Railway announced that the resumption of negotiations looking to a reduction in wages of employees of the Southern Railway outside of Washington had been postponed from July 1 until October 1 next.

A very good young man in town called on a girl the other evening, and, after talking a few minutes, asked her if she would have any objection to his offering up a prayer. She said no, and he got down on his knees and told the Lord that he intended to ask the young woman then present to be his wife, and hoped the Lord would move her to consent. After exhorting fifteen minutes, he arose to his feet, but the girl had left the room, and has steadily refused to see him since.

Very often people meet and have a long conversation, each one knowing that the other is lying. One will say in effect: "I saw a very peculiar star in the heavens last night and flew up there to look at it." Whereupon the other will reply, in effect: "Yes, I flew up there myself, and saw you on the way. The star is not so remarkable, after all, when you come to look at it." This habit is so common that naturalism and simplicity are very popular. This habit is also responsible for the fact that most statements are taken with a grain of allowance.

OF POST-MORTEM PRAISES.
I've noticed when a fellow dies, no matter what he's been.
A saintly chap or one whose life was darkly steeped in sin—
His friends forget the bitter words they spoke but yesterday,
And now they find a multitude of pretty things to say.
I fancy when I go to rest some one will bring to light
Some kindly word or goodly act long buried out of sight;
But, if it's all the same to you, just give me the instead.
The bouquets while I'm living and the knocking when I'm dead.

Don't save your kisses to imprint upon my marble brow,
While countless maledictions are hurled upon me now;
Say just one kindly word to me while I mourn here alone.
And don't save all your eulogy to carve upon a stone!
What do I care if when I'm dead the Bloomingdale Gazette
Gives me a write-up with a cut in mourning borders set;
It will not flatter me a bit, no matter what is said.
So kindly throw your bouquets now and knock me when I'm dead.

It may be fine, when one is dead, to have the folks talk so,
To have the flowers come in loads from relatives, you know;
It may be nice to have these things for those you leave behind.
But just as far as I'm concerned, I really do not mind.
I'm quite alive and well today, and while I linger here,
Lend me a helping hand at times—give me a word of cheer,
Just change the game a little bit; just kindly swap the decks,
For I will be no judge of flowers when I've cashed in my checks.
—L. Thayer, in New York Sun.

A TERRIBLE CONDITION.

Tortured by Sharp Twinges, Shooting Pains and Dizziness.

Hiram Center, 518 South Oak street, Lake City, Minn., says: "I was so bad with kidney trouble that I could not straighten up after stooping without sharp pains shooting through my back. I had dizzy spells, was nervous and my eyesight affected. The kidney secretions were irregular and too frequent. I was in a terrible condition, but Doan's Kidney Pills have cured me and I have enjoyed perfect health since."

Meiba in Paris.
Mme. Meiba has seldom received such a remarkable ovation as that which greeted her appearance at the recent opera gala performance in Paris. It cannot, however, compare in delicious enthusiasm with one she received some years ago in St. Petersburg. On one memorable night, after the close of the opera, she was called before the curtain again and again for more than an hour, until she was so exhausted that she could scarcely stand. Her enthusiastic admirers then followed her carriage to the hotel, where they serenaded her, although it was a bitterly cold night, until three o'clock in the morning. On the following day when she reached the station to depart the platform was crowded with hundreds of adoring music lovers. As the train was leaving they took the pencil with which she had written her autograph for all who could get near her, bit it into small pieces and passed them around as souvenirs.

CUTICURA CURED FOUR
Southern Woman Suffered with Itching, Burning Rash—Three Little Babies Had Skin Troubles.

"My baby had a running sore on his neck and nothing that I did for it took effect until I used Cuticura. My face was nearly full of better or some similar skin disease. It would itch and burn so that I could hardly stand it. Two cakes of Cuticura Soap and a box of Cuticura Ointment cured me. Two years after it broke out on my hands and wrist. Sometimes I would go nearly crazy for it itched so badly. I went back to my old stand-by, that had never failed me—one set of Cuticura Remedies did the work. One set also cured my uncle's baby whose head was a cake of sores, and another baby who was in the same fix. Mrs. Lillie Wilcher, 770 Eleventh St., Chattanooga, Tenn., Feb. 16, 1907."

Pigeon Joins Recessional.
A little fellow who sings in the choir of a Long Island village church is the happy possessor of a tame pigeon. One of them follows him to the pretty vine covered place of worship, and during the sermon coos and flutters among the crimson rambles at the open window. One recent Sunday when the recessional began the bird flew in and circled about the little fellow's head until he reached the choir room door. It then flew out and waited to escort its small owner home.

But It Was All Right.
The poor but proud duke decided to play a safe game, so instead of hearing the dear girl's father in his lair he wrote as follows: "I want your daughter—the flower of your family."
By return mail came the old man's reply: "Your orthography seems to have a flat wheel. What you want is doubtless the four in connection with my dough and if my girl wants you I suppose I'll have to give up."

It will require 70,000 persons to take the thirteenth census. The approximate cost will be $14,000,000.
The task of making the enumeration of the 90,000,000 people in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii and Porto Rico, and in Guam, Samoa and the Panama canal zone will be one of enormous proportions. It will be the most gigantic work of enumeration that has ever been attempted in this or any other country, and it is intended to reach the acme of correctness and thoroughness. Not merely a count and compilation concerning the population alone, it will include a census of agriculture, manufactures, mines and quarries. A census of the Philippines will not

Marriage to Dissolve Quartet of Belles

WASHINGTON.—With the marriage next fall of Miss Evelyn Walsh, daughter of the Colorado millionaire, to Edward McLean, son of John R. McLean of Cincinnati and Washington, a quartet of the most famous belles Washington has ever known will be dissolved. This quartet includes in addition to Miss Walsh, Mathilde Townsend, whose engagement to the Duke d'Albe of Spain is anticipated, Miss Katherine Elkins, who, in spite of the non-committal attitude of her parents, is expected to wed the duke of the Abruzzi, and Miss Isabel May, whom society long ago took for granted to be the fiancée of Count von Hatzfeldt, counsellor and first secretary of the German embassy.

This quartet of girls have made Washington hum in the past two seasons. Nothing has been too gay for the stamp of their approval, and they have set a pace that the more conservative younger element has not dared to follow.

Evelyn Walsh is very young, but she has had probably a wider social experience than any one of the quartette. Backed by her father's millions, she has been able to give any sort of entertainment her heart desired, and no figure has been too steep for her to pay when her fancy yearned for anything from a new touring car to a fancy dress ball.

Several years ago Miss Walsh's love commission at the junction of Pennsylvania avenue and the White Lot, and asked him if the commission had made any selection, and was told that it had not. He raised his walking stick in the air and with great force brought the end of it down and forced it into the earth several inches, exclaiming that the building should be erected on that ground, and subsequently it was.

It is also said that the spot where President Jackson stuck his walking stick into the earth was at the southeast corner of what is now the south front terrace of the ground surrounding the building, the ground then being part of the White Lot.

The building was commenced in 1838, under the direction of Robert Mills, architect, and was completed in August, 1839, being, therefore nearly 70 years old.

When the repair work is completed the building will be of solid granite, most of which was quarried in Maine and New Hampshire.

reasons of his own for dividing the estate, and I have not inquired into them. Father had a mind of his own.

"I intend to continue my work at the post office department, where I receive $660 a year for distributing money orders. I have worked as a government clerk at this salary for nine years. But few of my associates knew that I was the daughter of John Cammack, the millionaire. I did not tell them. At times I have hoped that I might receive a promotion, but it did not come. Promotions are not rapid under the civil service.

"During this time my father has never offered me money, and I have been too independent to ask for it. I worked because I had to. I have become accustomed to it now and will continue to work."

"Do you mean to say, Miss Cammack, that you will let the desire to avoid publicity stand between you and the $1,000,000?" she was asked.
"I certainly will, if you want to put it that way," she replied, laughing.

The late John Cammack was a retired florist and occupied a magnificent home near Brightwood. His death occurred June 15 last. When his will was filed it was found that he had left practically all of his fortune to his wife, Elizabeth Cammack, and a minor son, John Edmund Cammack. Miss Anna Cammack is the only other direct heir. Mr. Cammack married about three years after the death of his first wife, 20 years ago.

SAVAGE FLING AT AUDIENCE.
Inebriated Orator Resented Disapproval of His Condition.

"Like many a statesman of the past," said Senator Beveridge, "he drank too much. And one Fourth of July morning, on a platform hung with flags and flowers before the courthouse of a country town, facing an audience of farmers and their families that had come from miles around, the statesman arose to deliver the Independence day oration in a slightly intoxicated state.

"He was not incapable of an oration, but his unsteady gait, his flushed face and disordered attire spoke ill of him, and the audience hissed.

"He held up his hand. They were silent. Then he laughed scornfully and said:
"Ladies and gentlemen, when a statesman of my prominence consents to appear in such a little, one-horse town as this, he must be either drunk or crazy. I prefer to be considered an inebriate."—Washington Star.

Philippines.
It was the last day of the term in one of our public kindergartens. The children were all seated around the tables thoroughly enjoying the treat of ice cream which the teacher always provided on this occasion.

Glancing around the room at the beaming faces of the children, the kindergarten noticed one child pick up his plate and lick it.

"She went up to him and said in a low tone of voice: "Freddie, put down your plate; it is not polite to pick it up and lick it."

Fred obeyed at once, quietly placing his plate on the table. He then put his head down to the plate and licked it.

Real Philosopher.
Philosophy, says Jerome K. Jerome, is the art of bearing other people's troubles. The true philosopher he ever heard of was a woman. She was brought into the London hospital suffering from a poisoned leg. The house surgeon made a hurried examination. He was a man of blunt speech. "It will have to come off," he told her. "What, not all of it?" "The whole of it, I'm sorry to say," growled the house surgeon. "Nothing else for it?" "No other chance for you whatever," explained the house surgeon. "Ah, well, thank Gawd it's not my 'ead."

A Sensible Literary Chap.
"I'm not running a ten-acre farm in connection with the literary business," says the Sweet Singer of southwest Georgia, "and so, the outlook is more cheerful. I hope to make enough cotton to have my poems published in a book and enough corn to feed the family while I'm waitin' for the public to buy the book. I also take contracts for the digging of wells, and these little side issues will enable me to show American literature just what I can do!"—Atlanta Constitution.

HEALTH AND INCOME
Both Kept Up on Scientific Food.

Good sturdy health helps one a lot to make money.

With the loss of health one's income is liable to shrink, if not entirely dwindle away.

When a young lady has to make her own living, good health is her best asset.

"I am alone in the world," writes a Chicago girl, "dependent on my own efforts for my living. I am a clerk, and about two years ago I applied to a boarding house diet, I became nervous, invalid, and got so bad off it was almost impossible for me to stay in the office a half day at a time.

"A friend suggested to me the idea of trying Grape-Nuts, which I did, making this food a large part of at least two meals a day.

"Today I am free from brain-tire, dyspepsia, and all the ills of an overworked and improperly nourished brain and body. To Grape-Nuts I owe the recovery of my health, and the ability to retain my position and income."—There's a Reason.
