FACKLER THE ROCER

VINEGAR—The human stomach seems to require a certain quantity as a stimulant to the digestive organ. It is, therefore, important to use a good vinegar. The Heinz, sold by us, is guaranteed. Remember, good vinegar makes a hundred other things good.

BLACKBERRIES—Our first record this week, the run will soon be over. Fruit men say that there will be no raspberries to speak of on the market. Receiving good peaches and plums now—also tomatoes.

Large Cakes in fruit jars 25c, quart jars 35 and 40c.

GRAPE JUICE—Nature's wholesome food. A delicious beverage without any injurious alcohol in it. Rich in healthful properties of fresh fruit, rich in grape sugar which is nutritious, rich in mild acids which assist the flow of the digestive juices. You can get Walker's and Clark's of us.

Some Facts About Nebraska

That Nebraska is wholly an agricultural state is an impression that very generally obtains. It is true that Nebraska's prosperity rests primarily upon the soil, but the same is true of every great section. It is true that Nebraska's prosperity, more, perhaps, than any other state, does and always will depend upon agriculture. But Nebraska is more than an agricultural state—it is developing along manufacturing lines at a wonderful rate. It may be news to most people that there are more people in Nebraska making a living apart from agricultural pursuits than there are who derive a living from agricultural pursuits. There are more wage earners, professional men and people engaged in domestic service in Nebraska than there are engaged in farm pursuits. This is indicative of two things. First, that there is now and always will be a great and growing home market for agricultural and live stock products and, second, that Nebraska is rapidly developing along industrial lines.

In 1909 the manufactured products of Nebraska—most of them manufactured from raw product raised in Nebraska, reached the enormous total of $200,000,000 in round numbers. This does not include the product of the printing offices, of several hundred isolated industries located in small towns, or finished products made in homes and put upon the market. If these were included the total would easily reach $250,000,000. In 1909 there was paid to wage earners in Nebraska, exclusive of domestic service, upward of $300,000,000. Every step forward in the development of Nebraska's manufacturing resources means an advance step in agricultural development.

Nebraska should, and in time will, manufacture her raw products into the finished product, instead of shipping the raw product east to be manufactured and then buying it back, paying freight charges both ways and leaving the profits of manufacturing in the east. Today Nebraska is manufacturing in marketable quantities everything from automobiles to zwet-bach. Nebraska flour is standard the world over, and the milling industry is growing by leaps and bounds. One of the largest manufacturers of windmills, pumps, etc., in the United States is located in Nebraska. One of the largest sugar factories in the world is about to begin business in western Nebraska. The solution of the fuel problem is in hand in the shape of water power along Nebraska's numerous streams. The Loup, the Niobrara, the Blue and the Platte rivers offer power in almost unlimited quantities. The raw product or the manufacture of flour, woolen goods, shoes, cereal products, confections, etc., are produced in abundance in Nebraska.

On the whole Nebraska offers a better field for investment along manufacturing lines than almost any other state in the Union.

In 1909 Nebraska flouring mills ground and shipped upwards of 40,000,000 pounds of flour. This would make a pile of 50-pound sacks more than 320 miles high.

In 1909 the output of Nebraska garment factories exceeded $3,000,000 and the business is growing rapidly.

The dressed meat products of Nebraska; made almost wholly from Nebraska-grown live stock, exceeded $90,000,000 in value, filled 32,000 refrigerator cars, making a train nearly 200 miles long.

The center of the world's greatest agricultural region it is only natural that the manufacture of agricultural implements should be a great and growing industry. Nebraska is rapidly achieving distinction in this line, and the opportunities are almost beyond computation. With the rapid development of her magnificent water powers, the enterprise of her citizens and the enormity of the raw material densed upon Nebraska farms, Nebraska is bound to develop along agricultural lines—and Nebraska's agricultural development has been the wonder of the world.

Every progressive city in Nebraska has a Commercial Club, and the secretaries of these Commercial Clubs will gladly give information to intending investors. Free factory sites, local capital and local patronage are advantages offered by scores of live Nebraska cities to men who seek new and broader fields for manufacturing enterprises.

Big Suit Over a Calf

The greater part of last Tuesday was taken up in Justice Court here in a case Chas. Kriz, had replevined a calf from John Wverka, Justice J. T. Arthur occupying the bench. Attorney Moon of Burwell was retained by the plaintiff and Attorney Clements of Ord by the defendant. Quite an array of witnesses had been subpoenaed by each side to prove the right of ownership. As a number of the witnesses could not speak English Arnold Kabel was sworn in as interpreter. Kriz claimed the calf in question was one of five purchased at Jim Novok's sale last January. After he brought them home he alleges one of them strayed away and got into John Wverka's pasture. He went and got it and brought it home then it strayed again and he went and brought it home and then it returned to defendant's place. Then a dispute arose as to who owned the calf and other questions and acts of plaintiff further complicated the case. Each of the contending parties seemed certain the calf belonged to him and had a number of witnesses that were certain as to the identity of his calf-ship. It proved to be one of those cases which would tax the wisdom of a Solomon to unravel. After listening to the evidence in the case and the argument of the attorney Justice Arthur decided in favor of the defendant, and we understand plaintiff will appeal same to district court. —Comstock News.

Three Alarms in One Night

Just after midnight, Tuesday night, Fred Pratt on his way home from the electric light plant and Henry Fales on his way home from his restaurant saw a small fire burning on the south porch of the court house. Fred ran to ring the alarm and Henry, dumping out a lot of chicken feed from his pail, went to packing water. In this laudable labor he was soon joined by Will Timm and before the fire department was on hand they had the flames out. The fire ladders inspected the work and were about to return to the hose house when flames were suddenly seen leaping up in the rear of the Millburn saloon. Being all ready for business it was not long till they had water flowing onto the flames and these were soon in control.

When things looked safe enough the department, leaving St. Hubert on watch, left the premises, but did not leave any hose for the watchman's use should he have occasion to need one. The occasion showed up in a couple of hours when a new blaze appeared. Having no means of extinguishing the fire, which was down deep in the rubbish under some old bed ticks, the only thing to do was to turn in another alarm, which he did at about 4 o'clock in the morning. This time the boys finished the job.

The fire was in the old ice house, which was full of cornstalks and old litter of all kinds, dry as tinder and just the stuff to make a good fire.

The cause of both fires was doubtless the shooting of fireworks by a bunch of hilarious fellows, who were at it till about midnight.

The fire on the court house porch did not need the attention of the department, but it was lucky that they were called out for it got them in good shape for prompt action on the more serious fire which followed.

The damage in both cases was very slight. A few dollars will fix up the porch and the old ice house was of no value and would be better out than left there. The rear of the old building as it is has been for some time a veritable firetrap, and it might be well if the authorities had things cleaned out there.

W. T. Thompson Offered Appointment
The Washington despatches of yesterday contained the news that Attorney General Thompson has been offered the position of General Solicitor of the treasury department by President Taft. The position carries a salary of $5,000 and is one of responsibility and importance.

The Central City friends of Mr. Thompson will be pleased to hear of this additional honor that has come to him. The feature of it that will bring regret is that he and his family will have to leave the state. The papers do not state whether he will accept the offer.

During the past year Mr. Thompson has been prominently mentioned as a candidate for United States senator, but he discouraged any movement in that direction, his aspirations running along the lines of the law rather than to political preferment. It is the opinion of those who are informed that he would have made a very strong candidate for senatorial honors as his record as an aggressive attorney general and a progressive Republican made him particularly available. —Central City Nonpareil.

In spite of the Burwell Tribune's uncalled for roast of the Ord Fourth of July celebration in advance of the event Curt sent his wife down to Ord before the show commenced and he was one of the first of the men of that town to get into town so as to be ready for the show. Furthermore his prediction that most of Burwell would go to Greeley proved to be 250 tickets sold at Burwell on the morning of the Fourth about 200 were for Ord. We kept our eye on Curt and know that he had the time of his life at Ord that day, whatever he may say in this issue of the Tribune.

The W. O. T. U. will hold a picnic on Anderson's Island the afternoon of July 14. Come everybody and bring well-filled baskets. The men come for supper. A double medal contest will be held also.

THE CELEBRATION

Monday morning dawned clear and beautiful and gave promise of a beautiful day for the celebration at Ord, a promise which was faithfully kept. The weather was warm—just warm enough to be real Fourth of July weather.

Ample preparation had been made by caterers to the public's celebration appetites, and all kinds of devices for accommodating the plimble nickel were in evidence early in the day.

People began to come from the country early and the B. & M. from Burwell and Elyria brought down about 250 more. With the coming of these the show began.

The committee had made out a liberal program which was lived up to to the letter, with some extras thrown in for good measure.

By the time this was ready to be pulled off there was a very large concourse of people, all out for a great day and sure they were not to be disappointed.

The parade showed up a little after 10:00 o'clock and was by all odds the best ever shown in Ord. All were deserving of mention. The Catholic girls won first prize with a float representing Columbia, the states of the Union being represented by girls, all singing patriotic airs.

Much favorable comment was elicited by the floats, the decorated autos and the pony outfits.

Following this came the address of the day by Rev. P. A. Davies, who delivered a stirring oration to which a great many people listened with interest. The speech was accompanied by music from the Presbyterian quartet.

These exercises being completed, all over the court house park covers were laid and people by the hundreds partook of their lunches.

Then came the sports, which were entered into with much interest. During these the festivities were marred by McMindes horse being frightened during the wheelbarrow race and jumping into the crowd.

Mrs. Charles Prien had her foot stepped on and others were slightly hurt, but nothing serious resulted.

A. W. Taylor was marshal of the day and performed his service in a most excellent manner. Particularly pleasing was his presidency at the speaking and musical part of the day's program, which he handled well. Mr. Taylor came here only a few weeks ago and will long be remembered for the fine memorial address delivered on that day.

There was plenty doing all day to suit the whims of all—dancing, merry-go-round and the jolly jostling of the members of the great crowd.

The promoters of the celebration deserve much credit for the work they did.

The sale of the McMindes sale barns to J. W. Carosko and C. C. Brown is one of the big deals of the year. The land sold is the west half of the block and the breeding barn in addition thereto, and the price is $13,000. This cuts Mac loose from business connections in Ord and he will go to Grand Island and take an active part in the affairs of the Bradstreet & Clements sale stables, in which establishment he has bought a large interest. McMindes is a thorough horseman and is no stranger to the buyers at the great Grand Island horse market. He will surely make good there as he has done at Ord. The purchasers of the Ord property are both good men in their line and will doubtless keep the business at the barn booming along as it has been doing.

Tuesday night Raym Gass's feet-footed horse was being driven toward the square by one of the employees of the house when the ramshackled shafts came loose and frightened the horse. He of course remembered his ancestry and struck out in spite of the protests of the driver. At the Bell corner the driver got off the rig and soon after the wagon rammed into one of Bell's autos standing in the street, breaking the rear lamp of the machine, but in no other way harming the structure. Here, the horse got loose from the wagon, but with the shafts striking his heels at every jump he went down to the hog buyers corner, where these men stopped their talk long enough to corral the horse.

Emery Snyder was put in the lock-up Tuesday for being too drunk to suit the official. Snyder is a man of good education, but drink has kept him down. How much license money will it take to pay a community for the loss of a good citizen as he might have made but for the licensed saloon? Can money pay for such a loss?

Grandma Buchanan went to Grand Island yesterday, where she will be met by a relative and with whom she will go back to Wisconsin for a visit. Mrs. Harvey Potter accompanied her as far as the Island.

Mrs. Mable J. Bartlett seeks divorce. "A man is a fool to get his life insured and tempt his wife to kill him." This statement with several similar remarks and numerous acts of cruelty, constitutes the ground on which Mrs. Mabel Jennie Bartlett asks a divorce from Edward O. Bartlett. Mr. Bartlett is also credited with the remark, "A man should select a wife as he would a horse or a cow; anything is legitimate in winning a girl."

Mrs. Bartlett places the value of her husband's property at $20,000. He as at one time a druggist at St. Paul, Nebraska. She alleges further that her husband has failed to support her properly and that during 1896 and 1897 she was compelled to teach school for a livelihood. She says her husband would secure from the school board orders for her salary and would collect and appropriate it to his own use. —Omaha Bee, July 2.

Pretty Bad Gone

While folks were running about to get a sight of the fire yesterday morning some ladies ran upon the body of a prostrate man, apparently dead near the Hotel Ord corner. They supposed that it was someone killed in the fire and of course there was consternation. But it was not long in being known that the fire at that time discovered was simply a blaze on the court house porch and that the supposedly dead man was simply too drunk to go any further. Deputy Luke took him in by the help of others and laid him on the jail floor, the man being wholly oblivious of the attention he was attracting.

He proved to be William Riley of Scotia, who just before the fire had had some trouble and had to remove his pants and he told the folks in the pool hall, where he appeared clad in a coat and a pair of shoes, that some one had stolen his pants and $15 that they contained. When found, however, in his drunken stupor, he had his legs covered.

When Judge Gudmundsen got down to court in the morning Riley was taken before that official where he pleaded guilty of being drunk and was fined $10 and costs, which by the aid of Joe Cernik he promptly paid.

Mr. Riley is in the habit of coming up this way every few months, especially when there is a dance on and has on other occasions made himself obnoxious. Some months ago he was at a dance at the Bohemian hall and insulted one of the young ladies, at which time he was handled pretty roughly, for these people will not stand for that kind of work.

On the evening of the Fourth Marshal Martine had arrested this same Riley, he then being only partly under the influence, but he was turned loose on a promise to be good. The sequel as above stated, shows how he kept his promise.

An organization to be known as the "B. U. G. S." held its first meeting on Wednesday evening. Nothing but fair young maidens are admitted. A young man or man are excluded from their secret conclaves. We suppose the oath of membership is to the effect that those who have been unsuccessful in getting beaux will not rest satisfied until they get one—and the object of these secret meetings is to get methods whereby aid and sympathy can be given to the forlorn and dejected. The meaning of the term "B. U. G. S." we have translated after a great deal of labor as follows:—"Be undismayed girls succeed."

The American Woman's League
What do you think, friends, of a university with more departments than we have space to name, endowed by women who solicit subscriptions to "Class A magazines" and the Lewis publications? What do you think of such a university having the very best instructors to be found anywhere? Our local chapter consists of twenty-five members. We want forty in order to secure a No. 2 chapter house. Ladies, come and help us get it. Gentlemen don't forget us when you want to subscribe for magazines. Every dollar helps. A League Member.

Harry Parsons and bride were in the city over the Fourth, returning to Central City Tuesday morning. Harry has severed his connection with the Republican, in which he has been the chief spoke, and will devote his time to farming, the mother of his bride being largely possessed of several fine farms of that vicinity. His first move will be to build on the place and otherwise prepare for actual farming next year.

By arrangements with the city authorities E. J. Bell's merry-go-round remained in the street west of his house till Wednesday night, when the thing was run during the open air concert and the proceeds went to the benefit of the band. This morning the swing came down.

Prizes for Model Aeroplanes
That the mechanically inclined youth may be encouraged to become the aviator or aeroplane builder of the future, the Nebraska Aero Club has arranged to offer three cash prizes for the best model of an aeroplane made by a Nebraska boy under 18 years of age.

The prizes will consist of gold coins—$25 for the best model; $15 for the Arrangements have been made with Glenn H. Curtiss, the aviator who has made successful flights everywhere, to judge these models and in judging them he will make suggestions to the youthful makers of the models.

This interesting contest is to be held in Omaha during the Mid-west Aviation meet which is to be held there July 23 to 27 inclusive and which will be attended by the record breakers in the aviation world, including Curtiss, Willard and Mars. The field selected for the contests is half way between Omaha and Benson, high above the city and with plenty of room for starts.

Copeland-Tedd

On Wednesday, June 23, at 8 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Tedd at Elmore, Neb., occurred the marriage of Miss Ethel May Tedd to Mr. Frederic S. Copeland, Rev. French of the M. E. church officiating. The ceremony took place in the parlor under an artistic bower of jasmine and bells. Little Miss Dorothy Tedd, the ring bearer entering first with Miss Alta Dewey, the maid of honor, followed by Mr. Clarence Tedd, the best man, and Miss Ruth Squires, the bridesmaid. The wedding march was played by Miss Bernice Newbecker.

Among the out of town guests were Miss Alta Dewey of Ulysses, Neb., Miss Vera Archer of Chicago, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Tedd of Lincoln, Miss Maud Archer of York, Misses Bernice Newbecker and Ruth Squires of Ord, and Miss Minnie Morris of St. Paul.

The bride wore a beautiful gown of chiffon over white silk and carried a lovely bouquet of pink sweet peas and maiden hair fern. The groom wore the conventional black.

The bride is well known in Ord, having been one of the high school teachers during the past year. Her many friends here extend congratulations.

Frank Vopat and wife left last Friday morning for Omaha, where they were to spend the day and then go on to Chicago to meet the Dickinson Seed Company folks.

Monday morning Dr. and Mrs. C. C. Shepard departed for a trip to the Pacific coast. They will be gone for several weeks.

A $12 Broom
A few days ago Sheriff Sutton received the following letter from Jack Martin, the man twice sent up from Valley county for burglary, which speaks for itself.

Sheriff Sutton, Dear Sir: I thought I would write you a few lines, and ask you to do me a favor, which I hope will not inconvenience you very much, and it will do me a lot of good while in prison. I am going to send you a fancy broom which I have made myself and which I wish you would raffie among the boys on chances to the amount you see fit. The money will do me a lot of good to buy little things with, such as tobacco, etc. I will send it next week some day, and also two small brushes, one for you, and one for the deputy who was with you to see me the last time you were in Lincoln. I certainly enjoyed the treat of cigars that evening in my cell. Hoping you will do the best you can for me, thanking you in advance with my best wishes.

Sincerely,
JACK MARTIN.

The first of the week the broom and brushes came as promised and John Luke took the raffie proposition on hand and sold chances up to 50 cents each, in all amounting to $12. There was no trouble in disposing of the tickets and when the drawing was had yesterday morning Little Chotena won the prize on a ticket that cost her 18 cents.

The broom was a very fancy thing. The brush part was of the finest quality of stock and the handle was equipped with a weave of wire and broomcorn, with other fancy things put on for fine effect. Mr. Martin is in the broom department. He was sent up for nine years and has several years to serve yet.

To the lover of classical and operatic music the Signor Lombrodo Symphony Band and Grand Opera Company of 44 instruments and 24 grand opera singers, 8 of whom are soloists of national fame, at the State Fair, Sept. 5th to 9th, will present an opportunity which is seldom offered our citizenship, as such organizations only make occasional visits to but two cities in Nebraska, and then at such prices of admission that the attendance is limited.

On account of sickness Morris Clements, who has been in charge of route 2, is compelled to give up his job. On this account the Ord postoffice folks were hunting for a new carrier last Friday morning. Morris has consumption pretty badly.

Aunt Repda Therngate died at her home at North Loup last Wednesday night. Funeral services were held Thursday at 11 o'clock.

Announcement
I am a candidate for the republican nomination for Congress from the sixth district. I believe in good government, as a rule, and that the Roosevelt policies should be put into operation. I have always been opposed to boss rule and machine politics. I believe in representative government; in government by the people and not by the corporations. I believe in loyalty to republican principles and the protective tariff do not believe that downward revision has been fully accomplished, particularly with reference to the woolen, cotton, lumber and wire schedules.

I believe a congressman should have conviction and courage enough to vote them; that he should not dodge, sidestep and vote "present," that he should not insurge at home and stand pat in Washington. That he should keep his ante-election promises and vote against Mr. Cannon for speaker after having promised the people to do so; and he should not vote to tax barbed wire at $15 per ton after publicly announcing that it should be placed on the free list. A congressman is elected by the public and paid by the public to serve the public and not to serve himself. He should be satisfied to render public services for the public salary and not seek to further enrich himself at the expense of the public by acquiring coal lands in Alaska belonging to the public domain. His duty is to conserve the public resources and not to absorb them unto himself and Mr. Ballinger's assistance in acquiring a coal claim in Alaska is not sufficient proof of either regularity or ethics of the transaction.

Burwell Tribune.
At high noon, Wednesday, June 22, occurred the wedding of Miss Zella A. Gibbons to Mr. Richard Blackmore, both of Loup county, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Gibbons. The county marriage record shows that there was quite a rush for matrimonial certificates during the past week. Tuesday noon the record showed that Warren Barnes and Martha Potter, of Taylor, Rufus A. Hoadley and Ada M. Verley, of Burwell, and Ernest Neitz, of Ballagh, and Mary G. Dent, of Blake had been granted legal permit to wed. If there is any possibility that the old railroad grade in Garfield county is going to be put to use the county commissioners are going to get in on the ground floor in an attempt to get out what back taxes are accumulated against the property for the past seven years, hence a resolution was passed by the board at a recent meeting instructing the treasurer to buy the land under the tax sale. The land has been advertised for sale every year for several years but has never been sold for want of bidders. A three-year-old child of Albert Garika, residing in the southern part of the county met with a serious accident the first of the week and as a result will probably lose the light of one eye. The child had been playing with a pocket knife and fell on the open blade it striking him in the eye. The child was brought to town for treatment and for a time it was feared that the knife point had entered the brain and that it would be necessary to take the child to a hospital but at this time it is getting along as well as could be expected. John Beynon and Miss Vera Grun-kemeyer rather stole a march on their Burwell friends last Sunday afternoon, when at the Congregational parsonage by Rev. Gearhart they were quietly married. Immediately after the ceremony the young couple slipped away to Ord and from there Monday morning they departed for a trip of several days to Colorado Springs and other resorts in the west. These young people are among the best known in the county and have a host of friends that wish them usual congratulations wish them many years of happy wedded life. Upon their return they will take up house-keeping in John's cottage in the eastern part of town.

Loup City Northwestern.
Our community was startled by the sudden and untimely death of Mrs. C. C. Cooper on that afternoon, after the funeral. Mrs. Cooper had been in failing health for some time, but her demise was totally unexpected till a short time before she passed away. The funeral occurred from the Presbyterian church, of which she was an active member. Mr. and Mrs. Magnuson of Chapman, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Rowan Sutton of North Yakima, Wash., were over Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Waite, Mr. Magnuson returning to his duties Monday, the others going to Ord Sunday evening. The visitors were all relatives of Mesdames W. S. Waite and A. F. Chase.

North Loup Loyalist.
B. Ragatz, who had been the guest of his brother-in-law, H. W. Marks, returned Wednesday to his home in Potter county, South Dakota. He has been traveling over the county for some time and he says that at this place the crop prospects are the best of any he has seen. He thinks too, that North Loup country is about the best under the sun. Billie Belle met with a peculiar but quite a serious loss Wednesday while moving onto a farm on Davis Creek. When in the hills south of the village he looked around, discovered the goods in the wagon were on fire. He and his wife jumped from the wagon as soon as possible but not before they were somewhat burned. The wagon and the contents, a lot of furniture were a total loss. Billie is unable to account for the fire except that there may have been matches in one of the boxes and they became ignited by the jolting of the wagon. As the wagon box was covered with hay the fire burned very rapidly, and everything was on fire at once.

Scotta Register.
Married: At the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Keep, June 23, Mr. John Voorhees and Miss Alta Keep, Rev. Chas. Ford officiating. The house was beautifully decorated in blue and white. The ceremony occurred at noon, and was witnessed by the relatives of both families and a few near friends. The bride's costume was pale blue and the groom wore the usual black. An elegant dinner was served after the wedding which was enjoyed by all present. The bride and groom have grown up in the vicinity of Scotta and have many friends who extend to them hearty congratulations. They will reside on a farm a few miles from town. The Register family enjoyed a feast of wedding cake which was very fine. We hope Mr. and Mrs. Voorhees may have a long and pleasant life together.

DIRECTIONS

For Barb Wire Cuts, Burns, Scalds, Stabs or other Flesh Wounds.—Apply the oil 2 or 3 times a day, over injured surface. Use feathers, hand, brush or cloth. Do not rub, as that will irritate.
For old sores.—Apply the oil 2 or 3 times a day. Do not rub or injure old sores.
For Swellings, Bruises, External Inflammation, Sprains, Muscular Rheumatism, Etc.—Apply 3 or 4 times a day, rubbing gently five or ten minutes.
For Injuries made by Rusty Nails.—Apply the oil at once and repeat three times a day, letting it soak in well each time.
By following the above directions you will find the results are convincing and very satisfactory.

This forenoon Marshal Martine received a hurry-up call from Cass Cornell to come up to the new Ruhl residence to take care of a mad dog. The animal was seen to go under the porch and there the marshal found him and without asking Editor Davis's consent made short work of his dogship. If not mad the dog was surely in serious condition judging from his antics. Anyway the folks up there felt better when he was dead, and it is hoping the Journal will not object.

On the morning of the Fourth, while practicing for the race, Frank Sinkler had his leg broken by his horse falling. Frank was making a turn on the run and the horse slipped on the cement walk and fell. One bone was broken just above the ankle but the leg was also badly bruised. Dr. Bundy was called to reduce the fracture.

Profits in Orchardng Our Nebraska State Station advertises a farmers picnic June 30th at North Platte. Come and see our crops growing under soil culture methods in the driest year since 1876, with the Platte river and ditches dry east of Bridgeport, the least rainfall in many years, with dry winds and a high temperature, when Nebraska is in condition to test the merits of Dry farming and conservation of moisture by suitable tillage.

Under such conditions I note with deep interest the David Hunter branch orchard near Sutherland. This orchard of forty acres planted in 1888 has received better than usual care. Cultivation for the season began late in March and has been cultivated weekly with a reversible disk. This style of disc can be changed and alternately draw the earth away from the row by reversing the position of the disks. The ground is level, perfectly clean, filled with moisture up to within two or three inches of the surface. Under such conditions the foliage is of good color, fresh and abundant. The new growth is in unusual form. Monday, June 20th, I found the workmen picking cherries for shipment to North Platte where they expected to receive three dollars and sixty cents for a case of twenty-four quarts. The fruit is of normal size and of superior quality. Plums and late blooming apples were expanding rapidly indicating an ample supply of moisture. This orchard will be cultivated weekly until August and then allowed to ripen the wood to go into winter. An hour's inspection of this fine orchard will convince anyone of the merits of weekly cultivation as a means of securing healthy growth and producing choice fruit of superior quality. Cherries produced under such methods of culture have quality and flavor unknown to those who can only sample fruit shipped long distances. Fruit from this orchard has won merited premiums at our State Fairs.

In contrast with this orchard I noted an orchard near Paxton planted and grown on a dry hill-side facing the south. As long as this orchard was in the hands of the original planter plenty of moisture was conserved by frequent culture. The orchard grew with thrift and vigor and gave fine crops of fruit. Recently this property changed hands, grass and weeds were allowed to grow, no cultivation was given and it made a convenient lot for stock. The appearance of the foliage indicates loss of the trees within a year.

At Hershey the Louis Tallian cherry and plum orchard of seven hundred trees planted by a farmer from Switzerland was noted as the best cherry and plum orchard in western Nebraska. This fine orchard changed hands and is now seeded to grass and handled as a hog lot. I believe the orchard will be ruined in one year more.

The average planter takes time to plant trees in good form, later pressure of other interests prevents frequent clean culture, under such conditions mulching will be found helpful. I find people watering trees often at a serious tax of labor and time. Surface watering is quickly evaporated; daily watering on the surface is not nearly as effective as watering below the surface once in two weeks. Dig holes each side of the tree or plant, saturate the soil by copious watering, refill and mulch to a width of six feet about each tree or plant, and moisture will be conserved a long time. Trees recently planted should have trunk protection of burlap or wooden veneers these lessen evaporation and prevent sunscald and borers.

Under trying conditions of drouth the grain fields of scientific farmers properly handled contrast favorably with the fields of the average farmer. E. F. STEPHENS, Crete Nebr.

LaGrippe Weakness

"After a spell of La Grippe I was so weak and exhausted I could hardly stand. I began taking Dr. Miles' Nervine and was soon better in every way." MRS. F. J. NORTON, Freeville, N. Y.

La Grippe seems to wrench every particle of vitality from its unfortunate victims. That's where the principal danger lies; because it leaves the system in a weakened condition which invites more serious diseases. During convalescence Dr. Miles' Nervine should be taken to restore nervous energy, and overcome this weakening influence which is the most serious effect of La Grippe. The first bottle will benefit; if not, your druggist will return your money.

YOU PROVE IT!

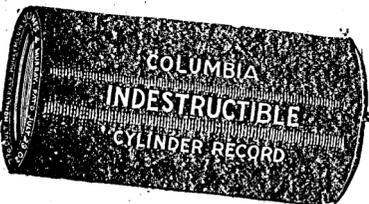

An invitation to all owners of cylinder machines—Columbia and others.

We could argue the quality of Columbia Indestructible Cylinder Records until a year from now—but what good would it do if you could not prove it for yourself by coming into our store and seeing and hearing it? We could print a whole newspaper every day about the special and original Columbia processes of manufacture—and get nowhere at all if the Records did not bear the evidence.

COLUMBIA INDESTRUCTIBLE CYLINDER RECORDS

The Children's day program at the German church was not so well attended as expected on account of the rain but the pieces that the children spoke were fine. A good missionary collection was taken which amounted to $22.50 which was very good for the size of the crowd.

John Ward returned from St. Paul Saturday evening, where he had spent the week trying to sell his auto. He started rather late from there so he got caught in the rain but he managed to get as far as Mr. Lee's at North Loup and the good people took pity on him and let him stay all night. He then went home the next morning.

A. GRIFFIN REPLIES TO DAILY NEWS EDITORIAL ON FREIGHT RATE ADVANCES

(From Chicago Daily News.)

Mr. Griffin Replies.
I desire to call attention to an editorial printed in The Daily News, May 21, headed "Back Fire on the Shippers," in which you make the following statements: First, that my representation of the case is not candid; second, that what I did have to say was based upon the action of the shippers' conference, and, third, that I had no right to pose as a business man having interests in common with the shippers.

The circulation for signatures of a statement relating to freight rates was, as far as I was concerned, confined to fellow members of the Railway Business Association, and no reference was made to the shippers' conference. I personally attended this conference and have no criticism to make on anything that was done there and none was made or intended by me, but what I "deprecated" was contained in an article sent out by the Illinois Manufacturers' Association, dated May 7, and, as a member of that Association, I personally wrote a letter to each of its individual members, dated May 17. In this I referred to the misleading and unfair statements contained in the circular of May 7 mentioned above, and in doing so I was "candid." I said that the statement "that railroads are rapidly increasing their net earnings" was not true and as to the correctness of my statement I beg to refer to the following:

The latest interstate-commerce commission reports show that during the month of March eleven systems, representing every railroad north and west on a line drawn through Chicago and St. Louis, show an increase in gross earnings for the month of March, of nearly $7,000,000 compared with March, 1909, while the net earnings for the same roads in the same period show a decrease of $955,000; and the interstate-commerce commission figures for the ten months, July to March 31, in 1910, as compared with 1909, show an increase in gross of over $50,000,000, while the net earnings of these same systems in the same period of comparison, show a falling off of over $3,500,000. And, as comparatively little of the increase in wages had even gone into effect during March, the railroads must provide some means to increase a revenue that is already decreasing on an increased amount of business, and there is no way for railroads to provide this except by increasing their rates, and surely there is "reason for the need of it."

In the third paragraph on the second page of this Illinois Manufacturers' Association circular of May 7 it is stated that 7.93 per cent. was earned on the dividend-paying stock, making no allowance for the 34 per cent. of stock on which no dividends were paid. I might, with equal propriety, make the statement that there was no dividend paid on the non-divi-

BOYS TAKE A BACK SEAT

Spelling Contests Held in New Orleans Prove Girls Superior to Their Brothers.

The result of the spelling contests in the New Orleans public schools again demonstrates the superior proficiency of the girls, practically all of the victors being members of the gentler sex. Last year the same thing was true and the matter was quite generally commented on in the press and at gatherings where educational subjects were discussed.

So far as our information goes there have been no contests to determine the pupils in other branches of study, but it would be interesting to know if this feminine superiority is found to exist in all studies, or if they are confined only to particular branches. Doubtless this result is due in part to the fact that the female mind ripens at an earlier age than is the case with the masculine mind, although there is little doubt that the feminine intellect along certain lines is more acute than the masculine, which would seem to justify the conclusion that certain branches of study are more readily mastered by girls and women.

In view of the growing number of young women that are going into positions as stenographers, typewriters and other positions requiring an accurate knowledge of spelling, this demonstrated proficiency is most gratifying. The public school administration is to be commended upon the efforts it has made to improve the spelling of the public school pupils and the triumphant girls to be congratulated upon their easy victory over the boys.

Long Wait.
Why don't you wait on a sport like me? demanded the patron who had made the tenth unsuccessful attempt to give his order for "ham and—"
"Sport!" laughed the sarcastic waiter, you look like a sport. Why, you need a shave!"

"Well, that's your fault if I do. I didn't need it when I came in."

Invitation Accepted.
It is told that a certain lady of a western Kansas town desired to show kindness to the captain of the local state militia company and wrote the following invitation: "Mrs. _____, I request the pleasure of Captain _____'s company at a reception on Friday evening."
A prompt reply came: "With the exception of three men who are sick with measles, Captain _____'s company accepts your kind invitation and will come with pleasure to your reception Friday evening."

What the Ants Tell Us.
If you go out in the morning and find the ants busily engaged in clearing out their nests and dragging the sand and bits of earth to the surface you may be sure, no matter how cloudy, there will be no rain that day. If, however, in the afternoon you see the ants hurrying back to their nests and the setting sun busting up the stragglers and urging them to go home you may be certain that there will be rain that afternoon or night. How the ants know we have no idea, but they do know.

and paying stock. For a clearer definition, the average earnings should be based upon the entire stock, and not upon the best paying portion of it, unless there is some reason why the $2,500,000,000 representing the 34 per cent should not have received any dividends at all.

In the final paragraph of the editorial it is stated that I should not be allowed to pose as a business man, "having no interest in common with the shippers." Inasmuch as my concern shipped an average of 350,000 tons of finished product during 1906 and 1907, and we were obliged to receive more than 350,000 tons of iron to furnish this, plus enormous quantities of coke, coal and other supplies, I can safely claim to have shipped, in and out, 750,000 tons a year, and as there are no railroads who can afford to haul this material, or any part of it, without having a revenue from it, an increase of 10 per cent on my hauling charge would amount to $75,000 and, therefore, I have "business" interests in common with other shippers. The 350,000 tons of finished product shipped represented in the neighborhood of $10,000,000. This $10,000,000 represented mostly labor, with the exception of the cost of the ore and coal in the mines. All the balance was made up of wages and profit on the different conditions of the raw material until it was finished product.

My Illinois plants produced 60 per cent of this amount, or $6,000,000 a year. For three years our Chicago plants have not run more than half capacity. Therefore, there was $3,000,000 a year less in distribution because of a corresponding shrinkage in sales. As most of our iron and coal come from Illinois, this $3,000,000 a year was not distributed in Chicago, as would have been the case had we worked on the same output that we did in 1906 and 1907. And a great deal of that $3,000,000 which was not paid was taken out of the business firms situated in or near Chicago by the non-purchases from their varied business on the part of the community that would have received the $3,000,000 a year for three years. That is the reason why I have a right, as a business man, to deprecate any unfair or uncalled-for obstacles that are placed in the way of my business and the hundred other varieties of business in this country that are affected by the money put into circulation by the railroads. When it is further considered that my business constitutes but 10 per cent of the cost of a car and that there were nine other units similarly affected, most of which would have been tributary to Chicago, anyone can see how important it is to his individual interests that the railroad companies should have ample funds to make these improvements and purchases, and will realize how comparatively easy it will be to stand a reasonable advance on the freight for any material he will need. If he is receiving increased orders.

Chicago. T. A. GRIFFIN.

The Outing Spirit.

If you want to have a good time on your outings you must make up your mind to help along by acquiring the outing spirit. This means:

Learn to put up with whatever turns up.
Don't grumble, fidget or expect impossibilities.
Don't pose. That is, pretend you like roughing it and outdoor life when all you crave is a crowded board walk and the glitter of a summer hotel.
Don't attempt more than you have strength for.
Be a good sport without being reckless.

Look after your health. Remember the worker's outing must have rest and strength building for the underlying motive. Therefore, don't overtax yourself or trifle with bad water and messy foods.
Make your outing come well, within your means. It is foolish to "blow in" in two weeks the savings of months.
Season all with a determination to have a good time, keep happy and never let your temper run away with you.

Pocket Wireless.
The Italian savant, Mgr. Ceretotani, papal nuncio at Munich, is the inventor of an instrument like a large watch, which enables a person to receive messages transmitted from "wireless" stations. The apparatus is merely a pocket receiver, and the only accessories are a bobbin of wire and a metallic encased cane. A person thus equipped can at a given moment receive communications from a station within a radius of twenty to thirty miles.

Midas.
Midas had come to that point in his career where everything he touched turned to gold.
"What shall you ever do with the stuff?" asked his entourage in visible alarm.
Midas affected not to be uneasy. "Just wait till the boys begin to touch me!" quoth he, displaying an acquaintance with economic tendencies far in advance of his age.—Puck.

Truly Wonderful Cillmate.
Hyperbole Gassaway went from here to a little town in southern California for his health. In two weeks he wrote home that he felt ten years younger. Some days later he wrote again that he felt 20 years younger. Then his family heard no more from him. They telegraphed the mayor of the California town for information about their Hyperbole Gassaway and got this answer: "I regret to inform you that your beloved husband and father, after a month's residence here, died from cholera infantum."

Hotel Kennels for Dogs.
Hotels, according to an article in the Hotel World, should be provided with portable dog kennels to be rented to the guests who insist on taking their dogs to rooms. Such a kennel should be about four feet long and of a width that would allow it to go through the door of a room. It should be constructed of wood lined with way up with zinc or sheet metal. The upper part should be covered with open wire work, and the bottom should be provided with broad tread casters. —Popular Mechanics.

LIVE STOCK

LIVESTOCK NOTES.

The highest degree of success will only be attained through the use of pure-bred cattle.

Do you want a balky horse? You can easily have one by giving him too heavy loads to draw.
By a cross-bred animal is meant one whose sire and dam are of pure-bred, but of different breeds.
It is common sense that a mature sow will produce larger and more perfect pigs than a very young one.
Shropshire sheep have been long and favorably known in England, though they are comparatively new to America.

Many big, strong good mutton-form sheep are deficient in fleece; in fact, this quite frequently occurs in the good flocks.
Among all our domestic animals none better repays careful contemplation of her characteristics and habits than the contemplative cow.

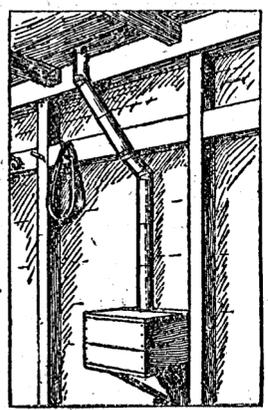

Good treatment of a horse will not soon be forgotten. Neither will poor treatment. The way a horse is handled makes the animal what he is.
Sows that come from profitable families are more certain to inherit those qualities and become good mothers than those that descend from families that are less prolific.
It is quite important to get a big, good quality of fleece, on a big, good formed sheep. When these two features are secured, just stop, and direct your efforts in maintaining them.

The kind of horses it will pay best to feed depends partially upon the season of the year they are marketed. All heavy horses will pay better than light horses, and good and choice animals better than those of lower grades.

FEEDBOX SAVES MUCH SPACE

Inexpensive Fixture That is Mighty Convenient and Useful the Whole Year Around.

As the space on the first floor of the horse barn is often limited, any device that will enlarge it without expense is worth having. A farmer in Woodbury, Conn., has put in a handy, inexpensive fixture that is useful the year through, writes Hollister Sage in Orange Judd Farmer. He built his big oat bin in the loft, tinned it carefully to keep out mice, and connected a galvanized iron leader pipe to the bottom of it, bringing this down to a place near the stable door, where a box was nailed up with a cover. This cover can be opened, but will not stay open. The oats flow down, partly in this box, and stop because the bottom of the chute is covered. It is easy for the busy teamster to dip out what he desires to feed. This chute will contain oats, wheat, barley or any whole feed grain, but clogs with ground feed.

To put up the leader is a quick and easy job, for three-inch leader comes in two-foot lengths that are just right, and the elbows are made with tight but movable joints that may be turned in any direction, permitting the worker to follow around a post if necessary. As the joints fit tightly into one another, no soldering is needed.

FEEDING NEW CORN TO STOCK

Whole Plant May Be Fed as Hogs, Cows or Horses Will Devour It All With Good Results.

(By H. H. SHEPARD.)
In feeding new corn the whole stock may be used, as hogs, cows or horses will eat nearly the entire part, deriving much good from it.

The corn stalk when green and in the roasting ear stage contains much sweet juice that is fattening.
My practice is to thin the corn at this time, feeding the stalks cut out and allowing the remaining stalks to mature larger ears.

In this way much valuable early feed is obtained, and at the same time the thinning of the corn is good for the remaining crop.

When thinning corn for early feeding do not be afraid of cutting out any large weeds that may chance to be in the corn. The late maturing corn needs all the moisture and the plant foods that can be spared from the soil.

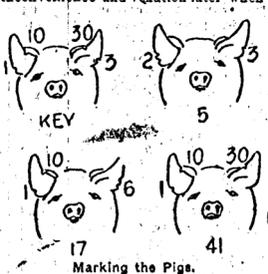

Pigs Use Nursing Bottles.
A Minnesota farmer is the owner of a sow that does things right. She had 21 little pigs, and nature only had provided feeding accommodations for 12. One of them died. The farmer's wife extended motherly sympathy to the eight neglected ones from a well-filled nursing bottle. All are said to be thriving.

Goats Eradicate Weeds.
The forestry department has turned 300 Angora goats on the mountain slopes in the west in the hope that they will keep the weeds from growing on windbreaks. This work has been a serious expense and the goats are an experiment.

SYSTEM FOR MARKING PIGS

Easy Matter to Determine From What Litter They Came and What Sows Produced Them.

Before the young pure bred pigs that are to be reserved for breeding purposes and the breeders market are weaned they should be marked in some way so that later they may readily and easily be identified as to what litter they belong to and from what sow they were produced. Failure to do this where large herds of swine are kept and many litters produced each season, often causes much inconvenience and vexation later when pigs must be identified for registration when they are sold or when a buyer is on the place and wishes to know of the breeding of this pig or that pig or from what particular sow this was produced. The breeder who has his pigs marked so that he can point out any pig as being from this or that dam and of this or that breeding is more liable to make sales to the visiting buyer than the one who cannot identify his pigs and becomes confused or who stammers unsatisfactory answers when questions are put to him with regard to their dams or breeding.

Perhaps the best system of marking pigs that is in popular use among advanced swine breeders is that which consists in notching or puncturing the ears at their edges so that the identification marks can be easily read at a glance from a convenient distance. With such a system there is no loss of patience either with the pigs or with their owner when identification becomes necessary, and there is much less chance of the identification marks being lost than with the ear tag marking system.

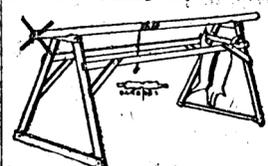

The system referred to is explained by the accompanying cuts. One notch or puncture in the outer edge of the right ear counts one, in the outer edge of the left ear three, in the inner edge of the right ear 10, and in the inner edge of the left ear 30. Combinations of these notches will serve to number up to 100, as is noted from the key. The cuts of the other three heads show how the ears are marked for litters Nos. 5, 17 and 41.

The litters each year should be numbered in the order of their birth, all the pigs of each separate litter being given the same number marking. The litter identification number marks should also be recorded in a permanent private herd book and in a small pocket herd note and record book which the herdsman can always have at hand ready to refer to when occasion calls. The identification marks can be represented in these books by drawings or sketches similar to the ones in the cuts here used to explain the system, or they may be recorded by simply sketching notched pairs of ears without the heads and faces being represented.

BUTCHERING DEVICE IS HANDY

Made of Substantial Material So That Cattle as Well as Hogs May Be Cut Up.

One of the handiest butchering devices we have observed is the one illustrated herewith. It is made out of good material so as to be strong enough to lift a beef if that is desirable, being well braced so to be strong, but is put together with bolts so it can be taken apart and put away when not in use, says Homestead. The windlass is made of a round cedar post, if one can be found suitable, and the arms for winding may be made long and strong enough to lift any hog or beef. The rope is placed well at one end of the windlass and the hog lifted and held in position by tying one of the arms to the stand. When the hog is dressed it can be pulled up through the track and the ends of the gambrel (one of which is shown) projects through and holds the hog in position for cooling. This can be made long enough to hold as many hogs as may be butchered at one time. The scaling vat and table may be directly under the windlass or can be to one side, just far enough away to be convenient for hanging. A beef can be butchered by a device of this kind as well as hogs.

Cultivate Corn.
It is of the greatest importance to cultivate corn as often as needed to accelerate growth. Some plants may bear neglect, but corn does not. When once it suffers it is permanently injured. Cultivation should be prompt and frequent and the plants kept in a growing condition. Do not neglect your corn.

Cockerels Pay for Feed.
Many people sell the cockerels from their spring-hatched chicks for enough to pay for the feed used in raising all their chicks to broiler size. This does not, of course, include interest or depreciation in equipment, but at this season less capital is required than would be for winter hatchings.

Profitable Team.
Two horses that work well together, that are equally free and have a uniform disposition, will naturally accomplish more and be more profitable than a poorly-mated span.

SET FUDGE ON HIGH

THE STANDARD OF CIVILIZATION HAS BEEN SET.

Femininity in Absolute Accord on the Subject—Inventor Merits More Approval Than She Has Yet Been Accorded.

At last a standard of civilization—of feminine civilization—has been set, according to the Cleveland Leader. The masculine one has not as yet been reached, and the difficulty of arriving at a general standard is at once apparent.

With femininity, however, there was little or no trouble. The sex unites upon a single test. That made, the examination is passed with honors.

The case of the Misses Chang, whose father is the new Chinese minister to the United States, is a most pertinent illustration. According to their government, who has had a wide experience with outside barbarians, these young Chinese girls are the most intelligent students of English she has ever known and are showing marvelous results. Most significant of all, they have not only fallen a victim to fudge, but they are experts in its manufacture.

Nothing more is needed to admit them to equality, social, moral, religious and intellectual, with the girls of this nation. They have become Americanized in the biggest sense of the word. And they will stand in the very first rank of feminine civilization, because the records show that they make fudge three times a day, and only heaven knows how often they nibble at it.

It doesn't need this celestial approval to show the heavenly qualities of fudge. It is the most popular course in every feminine boarding school or college, and while not officially recognized in the curricula of public schools, it is there just the same.

History knows that Dolly Madison invented ice cream, and a grateful world talks of raising a statue to her. But all that is known of the discoverer of fudge is the slight fact that she was a Vassar college girl and that she hit upon the delicious compound, like so many other inventions of great moment to the world have been made, in a casual way.

From another point of view her discovery is unique. Improvements have followed upon other inventions; the basic idea has been expanded and developed. But the original fudge is still the best of all, though there have been countless variants of it.

To a mere man it seems that there is an unaccountable ingratitude on the part of fudge lovers, not at all consistent with the big-hearted appreciation we expect from the sex. If there should be concerted action to discover the girl who invented the delicacy, and to reward her as she deserves, it would be better than a number of the other plans which women are agitating.

And as a slight beginning, as an earnest of the reverence womankind should feel for fudge and its inventor, we would suggest that the exclamation: "Oh, fudge!" so common among co-eds, be dropped altogether or robbed of its sneering irreverence. After that, the pension for the discovery and then a statue.

Here is an interesting glimpse of Ruskin's wife from Ada Garland's "Ruskin and His Circle":

A young, gay wife, fond of dress, excitement and social life, was no helpmeet for him. He went with her to court, taking pride in the compliments paid her, but society bored him. She often went out alone. Not a wise thing to do, perhaps, but she was very dull—and the home must have been dull—her husband absorbed in architecture and his spare time claimed by the old people. Materially, young Mrs. Ruskin had all she could desire; she was always well dressed, had splendid jewels and all the advantages of wealth. But her husband could do without her; Mrs. Ruskin, senior, would not abdicate; the wife's position in the household must have been that of a handsome figurehead.

She was conversing with some gentlemen, one of whom asked: "Where is Mr. Ruskin?"
"Oh, Mr. Ruskin?" she replied. "He is with his mother; he ought to have married his mother!"

Health Certificate for Hair.
Any woman who changes doctors no doubt has her own reasons for making the change. The woman in this case was threatened with fever. Her first question was: "Shall I lose my hair?"
"Most likely," said the doctor.
The next day he found a man with a pair of shears standing at the bedside.

"Doctor," said the man, "I wish you would write out a certificate that this hair is healthy. The lady wants to sell it."
"She says if she's bound to lose it anyhow in this spell of sickness she is in for she might as well get rid of it now while it will bring a good price. If she waits till it falls out nobody will buy it. Women with nice hair and not much money are smart enough nowadays to sell their hair as soon as they fall ill. Most dealers take it and no questions asked, but I'm too conscientious. I want a doctor's certificate every time in a case like this. I hope you'll be obliging."

The doctor was not obliging, and the next day a new doctor was called in.

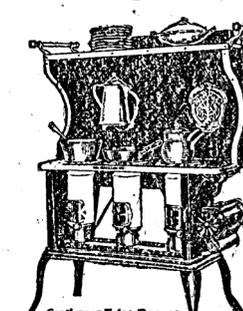

Emigration of Children From England.
The other day two large parties of children left Liverpool by the Allan liner Corsican, Captain Cook, for Quebec, says the London Times. One party, consisting of boys and girls, was from the Birt home, and the children were under the care of Miss Birt, who traveled in the ship. This lady has been engaged for 37 years in rescuing children and has taken out over 6,000 and settled them in the Dominion of Canada. The party in the Corsican was the eighty-first which, has gone out under the auspices of the home.

Why She Raged.
Colonel Falsom was reading the morning paper when he exclaimed: "What a terrible misfortune!"
"What is it, somebody got married?" his wife asked.
"No, but a married woman in a fit of rage threw a coffee cup at her husband. The cup was shivered into fragments, and one of them, cutting his regular vein he died on the spot. The reporter says the grief of the unfortunate woman was dreadful to witness. She was frantic with remorse, and made several attempts to end her life."
"Poor creature!" said Mrs. Falsom, with a sigh. "The broken cup must have belonged to her new china set."

Some Facts About Nebraska

Here are some concrete facts about Nebraska that should be made known to all men:

The extreme length of Nebraska, east and west, is 415 miles; the extreme breadth, north and south is 205 miles.

The gross area of Nebraska in square miles is 77,510. The gross acreage is 49,606,400.

The cultivated acreage in 1909 was approximately 16,000,000 acres or less than one-third the total area of the state.

On this 16,000,000 acres there was produced in 1909 the following crops:

Corn 169,197,137 bushels, market value $93,123,871.

Wheat, 50,313,000 bushels; market value $45,642,234.

Oats, 59,653,479 bushels, market value $23,861,389.

Barley, 2,820,632 bushels, market value $1,269,271.

Rye, 1,227,332 bushels, market value $786,399.

Alfalfa, 1,971,770 tons, market value $17,745,930.

Tame hay, 2,647,839 tons, market value $21,182,712.

Potatoes 7,386,497 bushels, market value $5,909,202.

No account is made of miscellaneous crops, such as speltz, millet, sorghum cane, sugar beets, kafir corn, onions, general garden truck, etc., which would add many millions more to the total production.

Less than one-half of the acreage may profitably be cultivated in Nebraska is being cultivated at the present time.

From the pasture lands and the grain feed raised in Nebraska was produced $35,000,000 worth of butter, $18,000,000 worth of eggs, and $10,000,000 worth of poultry.

From these pastures and grain fields Nebraska produced and shipped to market 1,181,518 beef cattle; 2,807,502 hogs, 76,274 horses and mules, and 554,505 sheep. The total value of the surplus shipments of live stock exceeded $120,000,000.

The total products of Nebraska in 1909—agricultural, live stock, dairying, manufacturing, etc., exceeded $640,000,000—an average of approximately $600 for each man woman and child. No other state in the Union made such a showing.

Dairy farming in Nebraska is in its infancy, yet Nebraska is today one of the leading producers of dairy products, and is forging ahead by leaps and bounds. The inducements offered to dairy farmers by Nebraska are beyond computation.

Taking into consideration fertility of soil, healthfulness of climate, access to market and surrounding creature comforts and advantages, land in Nebraska, improved and unimproved, is to be had more cheaply and on better terms than anywhere else in the republic. Fifteen million acres of fertile land await the activity of husbandmen. Nebraska with a population of less than a million and a half produces more than is produced and purchased by Japan, a nation of 35,000,000 people.

Nebraska offers greater inducements to homeseekers than any other state in the Union—greater than any other similar area in the whole wide world.

Mark this copy of your local paper and send it to some one in the east who may be looking about for a new location. Let us all work together for the building up and development of Nebraska!

The Odd Fellows held their regular installation last Saturday night. Jacob P. Hoffman, Noble Grand, Oscar L. Nay, Vice Grand, and Joe Barta, Treasurer, are the new officers. After the installation ice cream was the regular order of business. Plans for the erection of the new hall are progressing nicely, and the architect will have the drawings ready for the contractors within a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Vanscoy, who came down from Wyoming a few days ago, returned to that state Monday morning with the idea of accepting an opening offered there.

The Dairy Industry of the United States According to the last year book of the Department of Agriculture, there was 21,270,000 milk cows in the United States, and these are worth $702,945,000. The magnitude of the industry can perhaps be best understood when it is considered that these cows produce yearly about $1,000,000,000 worth of dairy products.

There is no other branch of diversified agriculture so important to the progress of a community. The fertility of the soil can best be maintained by the liberal use of barnyard manure and the dairy herd not only makes this possible, but dairying is also more remunerative than other branches of farming when properly carried on.

Dairying has made wonderful progress since the advent of the modern creamery and the consumer of butter has not only been benefited by being furnished a more wholesome and palatable article of food, but the wife in the farm home has been relieved of the drudgery incident to making butter on the farm. Where formerly the cream was ripened and churned into butter under conditions not conducive to fine quality in the finished product and in the majority of cases by unskilled hands, now the most of the milk or cream is delivered to a modern creamery where conditions are suited to the purpose of making butter, and the result has been a wonderful improvement in the quality of our dairy products. As the quality has improved consumption has increased and the progress of dairying has been remarkable during the past decade.

The perpetuity of the country's greatness depends upon increasing the production of farm products from year to year, a result which not only furnishes our people with food but maintains the prosperity of our farming communities. Increase in production can only come through improved methods of agriculture and soil improvement. When it is considered that the dairy cow is the foundation for soil improvement and farm prosperity, her importance is best understood, and interest in her should not be confined to her owner. She is an important factor in the development and prosperity of our country.

W. J. Taylor of Custer county, the "Fighting Bill Taylor" of the late lamented legislature, was in Ord Saturday night and over Sunday. Saturday evening the first we knew of his being in the city, we saw and heard him expatiating vociferously from the band stand to a small crowd of people who gathered around on hearing the sound of an overworked human voice. We were not able to stop to listen, but it is doubtless safe to say he said something. Taylor is a candidate for the democratic and populist nomination for congress and it was for getting before the public that he posted himself on the bandstand and talked. Monday morning a stranger was about town in an automobile posting large placards announcing his candidacy and embellished with a picture of Mr. Taylor and some things about him.

Announcement comes to us that Miss Marie Barber and Mr. James C. Wisda, were married at the home of George H. Barber, Pittsford, Michigan, on Thursday, July 7th. The card also announces that the new man and wife will be at home, Ord, Nebraska, after August 1. This affords us great pleasure to announce this happy marriage. These young folks are the best of the earth. Miss Barber is one of our finest young ladies and Mr. Wisda one of our successful young business men. He is assistant cashier of the Ord State Bank and is as reliable as you may find. Here is wishing them all happiness.

There is a new lawyer in town. Mr. J. R. Berry of Lincoln has decided to locate in Ord and is now associated with Herman E. Olsson in the practice of law. Mr. Berry is a long time resident of Lincoln, a graduate of the State University and for five years a regular practitioner of that city. In his practice there he has been connected with several large suits and stands well with his profession. The name of the new firm will be Olsson & Berry.

All kinds of willing workers are going down to Olean to help in the harvest field of that vicinity, but the most remarkable movement of this kind was witnessed at the U. P. station yesterday morning when Edna Baker went down carrying a Deering binder, or a part of one anyway, in her arms.

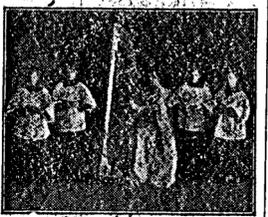

B. G. Russell and two daughters came up to Ord last week Friday night and visited their folks till Monday morning when they returned to Shenandoah, Iowa. He says crops are in good shape in Iowa, and business in the Field Seed Company's quarters is very good.

A. C. Wilson and wife, the latter formerly Inez Barnes, were up to Burwell on a visit over Sunday. They returned to Horace Monday morning.

MRS. BROWN AND HER CHOIR BOYS

These boys are real boys, but they can sing and play divinely

Clarence Barnes went to Grand Island Monday morning to accompany his grandmother, Mrs. Buchanan that far on her way to a visit in Wisconsin.

Frank Vopat and wife returned home from their Chicago trip last Saturday evening. Frank reports crops looking better in this part of Nebraska than anywhere along the line to Chicago.

Monday Frank Glover moved into his new house. This beautiful edifice is not yet completed by a good deal, but as the Davises are reasonably enough in a hurry to get possession of their house Frank concluded to get out of the way.

Sheriff A. X. Kunkle of Colfax county, and family, who have been visiting with Mrs. Kunkle's parents, the Albert Russell family, at Arcadia, were calling on friends in the city Tuesday. They returned to Schuyler the next day.

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis returned last Monday evening from a trip to the eastern part of the state. The doctor had been to Omaha attending a meeting of the Missouri Valley Veterinarian Association, and Mrs. McGinnis was visiting relatives at Beaver Crossing.

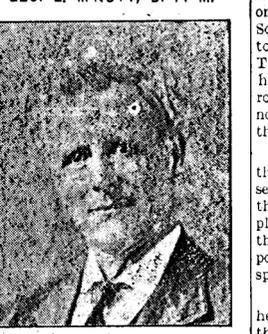

Will and Earl Warwick went to Wyoming Tuesday to make entry in the land just thrown open to settlement. Actual settlers may become possessed of a half section of this land. We hope the boys will be able to make good selections and that the land will prove profitable to them.

Jesse Laverty was in the city the last of last week on a visit and then departed Saturday for Denver, where he goes to open up a branch commission office for the Laverty firm. This will put the boys in line for the handling of orders for feeders or any other stock from the west required by the varied demands of the customers of this firm. We believe the Lavertys are making a wise move in opening up their Denver office.

Tuesday night there were large doings at the Bohemian Hall, the occasion being the initiation of about 70 new members into the order of C. Z. B. J. These good people have been making a special effort of late to get their brethren to join in with them and we are pleased that they have succeeded so well. With this large increase in membership an increased interest in all the work of the lodge and the attractions at the hall will be manifest.

E. P. Clements, chairman of the auditing board of the American Order of Protection, went to Lincoln Monday to attend a final meeting of the committee. The A. O. O. P. has been consolidated with the Highland Nobles, a fraternal order of about 9,000 members, and the name of the consolidated order will be the American Nobles. The American Order of Protection was organized by Ord folks a number of years ago and it was not long in getting to the front. This consolidation, however, strengthens both organizations and cuts out that much competition.

Bryan and the World Herald I don't know whether a county option plank is going to be adopted in the state convention or not. I will not take the judgment of the Omaha World-Herald on that subject. I will not take the judgment of those who are opposed to county option and who are attempting to mislead the people as to the nature of the issue. I shall go to the delegates themselves to plead my side of this question.

"I am going out in the state to tell the people what I think on this issue that the liquor interests have forced upon us, and I am not going to pick the places where it will be easiest to convince them. On Monday I'll be at Falls City, and I hear the saloon element is strong there. The next day I will be at Beatrice, on Wednesday at Hastings and Thursday I'll be at the next worst place. I want to find democrats who have been deceived by such papers as the World-Herald that misrepresent the issue. I speak of the World-Herald because its owner, who is a candidate for United States senator, aspires to official honors and ought to treat his readers with ordinary honesty. I have too much faith in the honesty and integrity of democrats to believe they will countenance brewery dictation when they learn the real state of affairs in Nebraska.

"I want to go to the state convention as a delegate, but if you vote this down I shall not be a delegate from Lancaster county. I shall, if it becomes necessary, ask a seat from some other county where my views are endorsed. It will not humiliate me to be left at home. I don't want to go if you are not with me in this fight. I shall not go to represent you if you hang back and trail along at the tail of a brewery procession.

"Gentlemen, we have a fight on our hands. They are calling the roll now. Those who want to come with me—come. Those who want to stay—stay."—From Bryan's speech at the Lancaster county democratic convention.

On account of the condition of his eyes J. M. Vanskike is compelled to go to Omaha again for treatment. Mr. Vanskike's eyes are in bad shape on account of being shot in the face by Mat Jarvis about twenty years ago. Van related the circumstances of the accident the other day. He and Mat and two other men were out hunting one day, Mat acting as driver and not having a gun because of his well known carelessness in handling the weapon. They had had good luck and were on the way home when they ran upon a flock of chickens. The birds started up and then came down again a little way off, a thing that birds nowadays know better than to do. They drove up near the place where the birds were known to be and Vanskike took the lines from Jarvis and handed him his gun and told him to get after the birds. Mat took the fowling piece and had gone but a little way when he stepped over a prairie chicken. The bird flew up behind Mat and the reckless hunter turned and let fly full into the face of Mr. Vanskike. A good many shots were taken out at the time, but those just above his right eye were left in for the night because Dr. Jans wanted daylight to take them out. They were then never taken out and gave him no real trouble until last fall when they began to hurt his eye a great deal, and the trouble has been increasing since. The shot will probably have to be taken out before he gets right again.

The Wright Brothers' Aeroplanes will give exhibition flights each day of the State Fair, Sept. 5th to 9th. Their contract calls for two flights between 10 and 12 each morning and two flights between 4 and 6 in the afternoon. A couple of weeks ago at Indianapolis this machine broke the world's record for the highest flight ever made and the people of Nebraska may confidentially expect to witness some record breaking flights at the State Fair.

Miss Carrie Fink, who has been spending her vacation in Ord since school closed, received word Monday that her brother had been operated on for appendicitis at Hot Springs, South Dakota, and was not expected to live. Accordingly she departed Tuesday morning for that place. Her home is at Oelrichs, S. D., on the road to Hot Springs, but she may not stop there till she goes on to see the sick one.

About twelve o'clock Sunday night the fire department was called out to see after a fire which had started in the coal shed at the Jonas Level place. The shed was destroyed, but the loss was very little. It is supposed that the fire was started by sparks from the electric light plant.

A critical young lady was recently heard expatiating vigorously against the silly way that women have of kissing each other every time they get together, says an exchange. "If twenty women were to meet in the street every one of them would have to kiss the other nineteen, and there would be—let me see—380 kisses worse than thrown away, for probably in ten minutes the whole party would separate into squads and go off talking about each other. When you see one of these violent miscellaneous, kiss-every-thing-in-sight kind of a woman, it is safe to set her down as a fraud, which she generally is. If I had my way, kissing would be confined to family use and for medicinal purposes. Now, don't you put my name to this or I will kiss you right on Douglas street the first chance I have."

You Better Attend

All W. C. T. U. members and friends are urged to attend the county convention at Arcadia the 20th and 21st inst. Please bring your year book, your pocket book and your note book. The first will be used in a drill and for reference. The second should contain liberal amounts for the collections. Let the third contain items and questions you'd like discussed at the round table, also space for notes of the convention work. Please remember all three books.

Before coming to convention decide what amount your union will give to the county work besides the regular dues. Of course see that all county dues are paid before this time. "Be diligent in business."

Mrs. Tappan has loaned her set of four books, by Mrs. Benjamin, on parliamentary usage, to some local president and forgotten whom. Will the one having them kindly return them to Mrs. Tappan now.

Lou and Charles Schwamer came back to Ord last Saturday noon with their car of household effects. The boys by a streak of good luck got here without being hung up at Grand Island over Sunday. Evidently the west did not look as good to them as they had hoped. Truth is it is hard to beat Nebraska for any good way of making a living. Their plans for the future are immature but for the present they will remain in Ord.

Frank Holub and family were up this way for a couple of weeks on a visit at the John Kasper home, Mrs. Holub and Mrs. Kasper being sisters. Yesterday morning Mr. Holub departed for his home in South Omaha but the rest of the family will remain yet a while.

Mrs. Menzel has vacated the Methodist property south of the First National Bank and moved her boarding house into the new Haldeman house across the street. This gives her a fine location.

As it Happened at Arcadia

A good game of ball was pulled off last Friday afternoon at Arcadia between our local team and the Arcadia bunch. Score 7 to 5 in Ord's favor.

The first score was made in the third inning by Ord, when Kasal worked to third and Parks to second. Pa Level singled and scored them both. In the fourth Bradley erred, letting in one for Arcadia. Wambaugh juggled a hot one which Castle picked up and threw over first, passing the Arcadia man to second. A two base hit a moment later let him in and the score was tied.

In the first half of the sixth Level got second, Beranek hit and Jonas scored. In the last half of the sixth a slight mix up let in one more score for Arcadia.

In the seventh Arcadia scored again gaining one on us.

In the ninth Parks came to bat and got first, Castle advanced him to second, a hit by Level brought in Parks. Bradley hit to short where a fumble and overthrow let in Castle and Level and then, just to show them that he could, Wambaugh singled and brought in Bradley. In the last half of the ninth an overthrow let in one for Arcadia.

The game was played through without unpleasantness.

Henry Fales usually sticks to business without recess, but Monday he left his shop in charge of John Lewis and went to Ansley to visit his uncle Byron for a few days.

TUMOR OF YEARS GROWTH

Removed by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

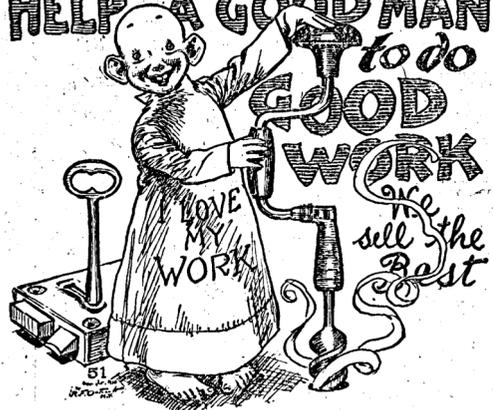

Holly Springs, Miss.—"Words are inadequate for me to express what I feel have done for me. The doctors said I had a tumor, and I had an operation, but was soon as bad as before. I wrote to you for advice, and began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and you told me to do so. I am glad to say that now I look and feel so well that my friends keep asking me what has helped me so much, and I gladly recommend your Vegetable Compound."—Mrs. W. L. Williams, Holly Springs, Miss.

One of the greatest triumphs of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the conquering of woman's dread enemy—tumor. If you have mysterious pains, inflammation, ulceration or displacement, don't wait for time to confirm your fears and go through the horrors of a hospital operation, but try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once.

For thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills, and such unquestionable testimony as the above proves the value of this famous remedy, and should give everyone confidence.

Republican Caucus
The Republican Caucus will be held in the Court room of the Court House at 2:30 p. m. of Friday, July 22nd. The object and purpose of the said caucus is to select seven delegates to attend the Republican State Convention in Lincoln, July 27th, effecting a county organization and transacting such other business as may come before the caucus.

S. N. Arnold, Chairman
H. A. Robbins, Secretary

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for Republican nomination for a second term as County Attorney, at the primary election, August 16, 1910.

CLAUDE A. DAVIS.

Announcement

I announce myself as republican candidate for member of the House of Representatives from the 55th district, asking the favor of the republican voters, to support me at the primary election day. Yours truly,
JOHN CEPLECHA.

For State Senator.

I have decided to again be a candidate for the nomination for Senator to represent the Fifteenth district, embracing Custer, Valley, Blaine and Loup counties. I have filed as a Democrat and Peoples' Independent candidate and respectfully urge the voters to invest/gate my record as a member of the legislature during the last session. I shall appreciate your support if I may seem to you to merit it.

Respectfully,
J. A. OLLIS, Jr.

A. E. Cady has filed for the republican nomination for governor. Good thing. He ought to be nominated.

EXCHANGES

Loup City Northwestern.

A quiet little wedding occurred last Thursday evening, June 30, 1910, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. Benschoter, when their eldest daughter, Miss Laura, was united in the holy bonds of wedlock to Chas. A. Briggs, Rev. C. W. Harper of the M. E. church officiating. The groom is an employe of the Loup City mills and a most exemplary young man in every respect. The bride is well and favorably known as one of Loup City's choicest girls and the young couple start out with the best wishes of all our people. They will, with the bride's parents, go to housekeeping in the O'Bryan cottage, soon to be vacated by R. P. Starr.

By announcement received in this city Tuesday, it is learned that Carl C. Carlson, cashier of the First State Bank of this city, took snap judgment on his friends some time since and was married to Miss Estella Gell of Omaha on May 18th, 1910. Last Saturday Mr. Carlson left here for a two month's trip to the coast, and it was not until the announcement was received that it was learned that it was to be his honeymoon tour. They went from Omaha to Denver and are to go to the cities on the Pacific coast, thence to Alaska and home through Canada. Mr. Carlson is one of the best representatives of the young business men of central Nebraska and his host of friends here and elsewhere will tender their heartiest congratulations upon his entrance into the ranks of happy benefactors.

Rumor has the past few days regarding extension of the U. P. from this point to Broken Bow, by way of the new proposed line to be built by local promoters, has been given much credence by those interested. Added to this is the belief that the B. & M. people are on the eve of extending the line from Cairo on the main line to Loup City, and from Sargent across to the main line at Dunning, making this the main trunk line, from Grand Island west to the Pacific coast, via the Black Hills route. This is given credence from the fact that B. & M. surveyors are now setting stakes at Austin coming from the main line just west of Cairo and are headed for Loup City. A well known Burlington official, in conversation with a representative of this paper, gave us the distinct impression, while refusing to be quoted, that the new extension from Cairo to Loup City and from Sargent to Dunning would soon begin, making Loup City a division station on the main line and with all that it means to this town and section. We are not giving our readers hot air, but are in a position to speak with more or less accuracy, when we predict the great future for our city.

Arcadia Champion.

Mrs. B. W. Zike received a message Sunday morning stating that her mother was dangerously ill at Laramie, Wyoming. Mrs. Zike and her sister, Miss Gertrude Minter, departed at once for her bedside, Mr. Zike taking time to Ansley Sunday afternoon to catch the evening train.

Dean Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Lutz was severely burned Saturday while shooting fire crackers. He was lighting them one at a time but in some way the entire bunch caught fire exploding before he could get rid of them. The lower part of his face and cheeks were severely burned. He was brought to town at once and Dr. Barto dressed the wound. It is a very painful but not a serious injury. Jack Peters had a narrow escape from a serious injury on Thursday of last week, while driving near the depot. The team became frightened at a train going through and started to run. Jack jumped from the buggy but was knocked down and the buggy passed over him. The team got away and was caught down town. Mr. Peters right hand and fingers were badly bruised and he received quite a shaking up. The buggy and harness were more or less damaged.

Burwell Tribune.

Mrs. McClimans has just completed the excavating and now commences the erection of a new three thousand five hundred dollar residence in the south part of town. When completed she expects to move to town and reside for the future.

The late for mention in last week's Tribune we learned of an accident that befell Wilford Haines, an employe on the McClimans place. The young man was plowing corn and his team ran away. In the melee Wilford came out with a pretty severe scalp wound and several other minor-injuries.

Melvin McGrew returned one day last week from a few days visit with his father at Hot Springs, South Dakota. He reports his father doing as well as could be expected, but his operation was a very painful one and it will be sometime yet before he will be able to come home.

One of the greatest attractions on the card of the Fourth of July program at the Ord celebration was the speech by John C. Gable, Valley county's republican candidate for state representative. The Ord committee certainly made no mistake when they secured John as a fitting close to their interesting program.

This vicinity was visited by a storm Tuesday evening that for a few minutes threatened to turn into a regular twister. The shower rolled up about the supper hour and for ten minutes the wind blew a regular hurricane and the rain fell in torrents. Fortunately it was a straight wind and the damage was not great. The damage reported in town was the reeking of the base ball grand stand in the western part of town and the toppling of the residence that Ill Matthews recently moved to that part of town off its foundation. The grand stand is a total wreck. Fred Downey's barn was also twisted out of line and trees blown down and chimneys wrecked in other parts of town.

Sargent Leader.

Edgar Mason and Miss Georgia Orvis, both of this city, were united in marriage Sunday at Taylor by Judge Copp. The Leader joins their many friends in extending its heartiest wishes.

Miss Myra Chubbick was taken suddenly ill Sunday morning and for a time during the day her life was in a great danger. Relatives from Ord were summoned and arrived here in the evening. Happily a change for the better came Sunday evening and since then she has been improving rapidly.

This week this city, by reason of removal, loses C. A. Sinsinger and family. They loaded their household effects in a car and forwarded same to Bradshaw, where they will locate permanently. J. H. Currie, father-in-law of Mr. Sinsinger, has turned the entire responsibility of his elevator interests to him, and also substantially increasing his pay check. Mr. Sinsinger and his good wife have made a host of warm friends during their stay here, who rejoice with them in the meritorious promotion that he was given.

North Loup Loyalist.

Mrs. Emma Clement has begun suit for divorce from her husband B. F. Clement. A. Norman of Ord is her attorney.

A Shepard received word the fore part of the week that his brother George had died at his home at Greeley, Colorado. Mr. Shepard had visited here several times.

We are in receipt of an announcement of the marriage of George Davis and Miss Nellie May Williams, at Leonardsville, N. Y., Wednesday, June 23. They will be at home at Plainsville, N. Y., after August 1. We are glad to join George's many friends at this place in extending the usual felicitations.

Married—at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barber, Monday forenoon, July 4, Miss Daisy Barber and Charles W. Black of Bradford, Ill. Rev. E. A. Wells officiating. Only the members of the bride's family were present to witness the ceremony which will forever unite the destinies of these young people. Mr. Black is a stranger here, but his bride has made this place her home for several years, and there are many who wish for them the best there is of life and they may be assured the best wishes of many will go with them to their new home.

Taylor News.

Married by Judge Copp on June 28, Albert Trepto of Valley county and Miss Theresa Retto of Sargent. And on July 2, Edgar Mason and Miss Georgia Orvis, both of Sargent.

Elmer Jennings was born in Sandusky county, Ohio, May 1, 1833, married to Evling Darling, Nov. 25, 1860. They came from Michigan to Nebraska in 1879. She died in Loup county, June 30, 1910. Mrs. Darling was the mother of two sons, Albert E. and Benjamin. There are nine grand children. She was a member of the Church of Christ. Funeral services were conducted by D. S. Hulbert and the body laid to rest in the Long Valley cemetery.

Comstock News.

Mrs. J. H. Lewin and Mrs. Bert Clark left Wednesday morning for Broken Bow. They were accompanied by Miss Nellie, the 21-year-old daughter of Mrs. Lewin, who will be treated by the doctor there for spinal trouble caused by an attack of spinal meningitis last fall. We trust she will speedily recover. Mrs. Clark returned the same evening.

C. W. Prewitt returned from Grant county, this state, yesterday. He informs the editor that he secured a fine section of land up there under the Kinkaid homestead act. He brought back samples of timothy and alfalfa grown there that look good. He says there is a fine prospect for a good crop of corn and potatoes up there this year. He thinks the soil is good and the water fine. On the whole he is well pleased with the country.

Tuesday Dayt Auble started up to Dakota with his fine bunch of registered shorthorn cattle. He got as far as August Meyer's place and then concluded that it was too hot for him so he came back the next day. The weather is too hot of horseback riding.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Orcutt and James Whiting went by auto to a small town near Ogallala and will return this week bringing Orcutt's child home.

E-M-F "30" Five-Passenger Touring Car, $1250 f. o. b. Detroit

"The Car Without a Competitor"

STARTLING, isn't it? But true, just the same. You never heard of such a thing? That's because you never heard of E-M-F "30" before. It is the first car and only car to stand without a competitor. And we can prove it.

To begin with, look at it. Note its elegance, its perfection. Appeals to your pride, doesn't it? Looks like a $2500 car—no bargain sale appearance about that, is there? Big, roomy, five-passenger touring car. Distinctive-looking as to color—royal blue with cream gears. Handsome sort of black leather upholstery, brass lamps, deep toned dragon horn.

Yes, it's 30 horse-power, just like the $2000 to $4000 cars. Has three speeds—all right, let her out. Nothing ahead of us here—we're traveling at 55 miles an hour. That's the speed you can get out of this car, if you want it.

Morgan & Wright tires—here let us say that these tire-makers use 7-ply where makes trying to compete with their use 5-ply. MECHANISM? It's summed up in three words—"Made Right" and "Simple." Only three adjustable parts in the entire machine. Compare that with any car you choose.

We just received three E-M-F "30" cars from Detroit. Call and look them

One of the boys taken by the Payzant's some years ago has come to grief. Several days ago he hit his head quite violently in playing about the house and a little later in the day the window fell and struck about the same spot. In consequence trouble was developed under the skull, accompanied by paralysis. The boy was taken to an Omaha specialist, who declared that there was no remedy for the trouble. He thought the real trouble was from his parentage, and that the comparatively slight injuries acted only to precipitate the trouble, which would have appeared anyway later on. However, treatment is being had to see if happily the boy may be cured. It is a pitiful case.

Up to date the following political filings have been made with County Clerk Murschel: John Cepheha, republican; M. E. McClellan, republican; S. J. Botts, democrat and populist; and D. E. Mather, democrat, all for the office of representative of the 35th district. Also Claude A. Davis, republican, for county attorney.

There being a balance of about $20 in the hands of the Fourth of July committee after paying for the celebration this money was turned over to Frank Sinkler, the boy who had his leg broken on that day. Last Tuesday was the time set for Joe Kamarad to be released and he was discharged, but Supervisor Carson made a complaint against him for destroying jail property to the value of $11. Kamarad pleaded guilty and the judge imposed the fine prescribed by law, namely twice the amount of the damage. This Joe did not have and he was remanded to jail again. But this morning his mother and sister appeared and paid the fine, whereupon Joe is at large again and may go about doing deprecation at the expense of the public again.

Receiving word that her mother was very sick over at Arcadia yesterday, Mrs. J. W. Gregory made a fly-trip to that place. The Gregory's called up Rudolph Sorensen in the morning who went to the Gregory place, brought Mr. and Mrs. Gregory to Ord in his automobile, where J. W. stopped to attend the meeting of the county board and Mr. Gregory went on to Arcadia. It was 3:00 o'clock when they left Ord and by 11:00 Rudolph was back to Ord, having delivered the lady safely at the bedside of her mother.

Last Saturday evening Ray Burdick was driving out of town and just as he came off the end of the bridge an automobile coming down from the north scared his team. For some reason Ray was not able to handle the horses with his natural skill and the team ran off the end of the culvert just east of the river bridge, one horse going into a ditch and the other staying upon the street. The result was that the wagon went over with its occupants and property, of which there was a sundry collection. Ray was somewhat bruised and went limping around while getting things in his automobile. The team was caught after trotting down the road a ways and not much damage resulted to Ray and his effects. But with Ray was a drunken vagabond, who had been up for drunk and ordered out of town. This man had his arm broken near the shoulder. When he was before the county judge earlier in the day he gave his name as Gus Kepner from nowhere and so it is under this name that he now becomes a county charge. He was taken to Sis Albehart's for care and Dr. Miller is looking after his ailments. All this is nice for the county and by the time this is through with the county will have a pretty penny to pay. The man is a stranger here and is believed to be the same person who tried to work a fake on the authorities of Colfax county. Sheriff Kunkle was telling of the case while here and this man seems to fit the case. Down in Colfax county a man showed up with a gun, having an apparently very sore arm, and pretending to be deaf and dumb. It so happened that there was a meeting of doctors in town at the time so the authorities took the man before the "meeds" and asked them to operate on his arm, which would indicate that he had been working the game. But there is no fake about his injuries now, neither will there be any fake about the county having to pay the bill. Give the saloons credit for it all.

Announcement

I am pleased to announce that John R. Berry has entered into a partnership with me, the firm name being Oleson & Berry. Mr. Berry is a graduate of the University of Nebraska Law School and has been engaged in practice at Lincoln for about five years, and has been retained in some large damage cases against railroads and in other important litigations. We can now handle promptly any and all business that may be entrusted to us, and shall be pleased to serve you in any just cause. H. E. OLESON.

I append a few of Mr. Berry's many letters of recommendation:— To Whom It May Concern:— For some four or five years I have been acquainted with John R. Berry, Esq., who has been a practicing attorney at our bar. So far as I have become acquainted with his work he has done it to the satisfaction of the court, and I think to his clients. I know of no reason why he should not succeed in the practice. Very truly yours, A. J. Cornish, Judge District Court. Lincoln, Neb., July 2, 1910.

Executive Department City of Lincoln, Nebraska Don L. Love, Mayor To Whom It May Concern:— Mr. John R. Berry has been a resident of Lincoln for many years. He has been a practicing attorney for about five years, and has always borne a good reputation personally and professionally. Any courtesy shown him will be appreciated by his many friends here. Very respectfully, D. L. Love, Mayor. July 6th, 1910.

After years of steady work Walter Levernick took his family and departed Monday for a good long vacation. They go to Blue Earth, Minn., for the present and it will be in that vicinity that they will spend the heat of the summer.

CANADA

The Weyburn-Manor district of Southeastern Saskatchewan

embraces the finest communities of all Canada—the land of promise for the farmer. The country whose boundless resources and matchless opportunities are attracting the attention of thousands of our citizens and leading them on to wealth. This district lies on the great divide between the rivers tributary to the Mississippi valley and those flowing towards the Hudson Bay, the choicest lands of all Canada, improved and unimproved. Four new lines of railway are being built through this district this season. We recognize that this is a busy season with you, but let us urge. The Porter Land Company is still selling these lands at from you can get a farm of your own—why pay rent? Delays may be expensive to you. Come and join one of our excursions and see this great wheat country and see it for your self.

One crop often pays the entire purchase price of the land

Act now while there is yet a chance to get one of these choice farms cheap. Call on us and get one of our folders, "A Call to the West." It will give you all the particulars about this great country. If you cannot come yourself, write for it; a postal will do.

Take a Kodak With You

On your vacation trip, on your fishing or picnic excursions a kodak will be a welcome addition to any crowd. So small and compact that it is no extra trouble; so simple and effective that good results are almost a certainty. You are missing lots of pleasure if you do not take a kodak on all your outings.

If you have a film developing tank the pleasure of kodakery is practically doubled as there is almost as much enjoyment in developing and finishing your own pictures as there is in the taking of them. The developing tank eliminates the dark room and at the same time insures better results. By its use kodakery indeed becomes "Photography with the bother left out".

We will be glad to talk kodak with you at any time.

ONE GOOD WAY FOR MAKING BREAD

(By Helen W. Atwater)

Sift one quart of flour, add a tablespoon each of sugar and butter or lard, and pour over one pint hot water and one pint scalded milk. When lukewarm add one-half yeast cake, dissolved in warm water. Beat ten minutes. Cover and set in warm (70 degrees F.) place to rise. In the morning work in two quarts salted flour, knead well, and rise again until double the quantity. Mold into loaves, working as little as possible. Rise and bake.

T. B. Garrison, president of the Commercial National Bank of Kearney was in town a few days this week visiting Joe K. Gray and also looking after business interests. It is reported that Mr. Garrison has sold his land to the Benben Bros. who will move back from Wisconsin and take possession in the spring.

A short time ago we made a note in this column of a party getting off the train here thinking it was Burwell. That was a bad mistake, but Wednesday morning when a lady coming from the train asked Joe Hartos if his store was Balleys, Joe almost blew up. He told her, however, that this was Elvria, not Ord, and she made a rush to get back to the train, which she caught. We are almost beginning to believe that Elvria's great improvement gives a good reason for mistakes of this kind.

The Baptist Church of the Union will hold a picnic at the hotel Friday evening for the purpose of helping to raise money for the construction of cement sidewalks at the church. Pies will be made by the ladies and raffled. As an additional feature it is announced that Arthur Wheeler will bake a pie, the ingredients of which will be unknown and a charge of 5 cents will be made for a guess on it, the correct guesser to get the pie. It has been suggested that a paid up life insurance policy of about $5,000.00 go with the pie. It is Arthur's own make and the rules provide that the winner must eat it. All are invited to come and enjoy themselves.

L. G. Payzant and son Leonard went down to Omaha last Friday to consult a specialist about the latter. A short time ago the boy bumped his head against an iron sink in the house. A few days ago Mr. Payzant was called to see the boy who is on his right side and at times unable to talk. He consulted immediately with a doctor in Ord who advised him to seek special medical aid, which he did. He returned last Monday afternoon and learned that the bump will not influence the boy at all but will pass away in a short time.
This rumor has blown from across the river and being out of my jurisdiction I am not positive as to its veracity. Some young gentlemen and lady wishing to make the Fourth a memorable one to themselves, procured a marriage license and went to Grand Island to have the contract fulfilled. They are at the groom's home and Monday night a party of North Loup people came down to give congratulations by the noisy manipulation of tin pans, horns, etc. This really belongs in the "Olean Elevator Siftings", but fearing that it might not be mentioned, we have taken the liberty.

Facts From the Assessment
County Assessor King allowed us to look at his abstract of assessment, from which several interesting items may be seen.

This assessed value of all notes is about $81,000.

There are 491 firearms worth $791. No water crafts were found.

The total value of the patent rights is $20.

There are 54 typewriting machines on an average $5.72.

Only two adding machines are reported, though we can sit in our den with our eyes closed and see a half dozen, and surely their average assessed value ought to be over $20.

There are 64 automobiles averaging $129.

146 dogs bark about our doors, and the average value is set down as $1.03 and there are those who will swear that the assessment is $1 too high.

It takes 1735 watches and clocks to keep up with old Sol and we call them worth $1.24 each.

The number of bicycles had dwindled down to 20.

Over 10,000 horses are in the county and the average one is assessed at $1.47.

The assessors found 612 mules including the two jackrabbits that Dan Burk drives around.

There are about 30,000 cattle.

There was on April 1 over $21,000 bushels of corn, and it looked like 9 cents to the assessors.

6672 dozens of fowls strut about in our barn yards.

The total assessment foots up to $2,793,574, of which $1,887,163 is in real estate.

To see how his apple crop was progressing J. W. Speece went to the south east part of the state this morning. He was accompanied by Miss Jesse.

There was a jolly party at the Will May home in Rosevale Monday night. About forty young folks were on hand to enjoy the occasion and all were glad they came.

Last Saturday night the ladies aid society of the Rosevale church had an ice cream social and cleared up a neat little sum of money, with which they are putting the school house, which is used as a church, in better trim.

The Presbyterian Sunday school had a delightful picnic Tuesday on the grounds of the old school building. About forty little folks were there to enjoy the event and they sure did enjoy it. Mrs. McNutt and Mrs. Cromwell were in charge.

We have a copy of the Hooker (Oklahoma) Advance and on the inside of the wrapper we find the words: "Regards to T. M. Trindle, Ming Coombs and Quiz Haskell," but who sent the paper we cannot guess, nor do we see any item therein of special interest to this community.

The coal capacity for the new school building is found to be wholly inadequate for the needs of the heating department of the building. Accordingly the school board has commenced the erection of a much larger coal room. They propose to have room for several carloads of fuel, so that a sufficient supply may be stored up to insure against an empty bin during any coal famine that may come.

The Quiz told last week of the accident that befell one Gus Kepfner, whose arm was broken. As stated then he was cared for by Dr. Miller and then lodged at public expense at the Abert house. This all took place last week Thursday. The arm was put in a sling and the doctor made his regular calls but Saturday the man came up missing. Probably he concluded that he could make good use of his bandaged arm for the purpose of begging and so started out. Dr. Miller is not at all anxious to see the man again, but he would like to have him bring back that set of splints which he fixed that arm up with.

Hall Barnes' team made a record run-way Monday night. They were left standing on the scales at the elevator and took a notion to move along on their own accord, and they succeeded in making a get-away. They set out for home and made a mighty good time. Fortunately no one was crossing the river bridges when they arrived and they made the shoot across them in safety and without colliding with the superstructure. As the wagon had a hay rack on they would have made sad havoc of any team that might happen to have been on the bridges when they passed through. The team ran home and turned into the yard, but did not stop, going on out into the road again. Still going at good speed they set out down the road and finally ha'ed up at the H. H. Bailey farm and stopped. No damage was done except the wagon tongue was split. In fifteen minutes after they got away Mrs. Bailey phoned to Mr. Barnes that the team was there, so they made a pretty good time. One of the horses was recently purchased from the Baileys so that accounts for the team going on to that farm.

A number of local sports assembled at the opera house last Thursday evening to witness the wrestling match between Albright of Burwell and Hans Thiesen of Ord, and the event was quite interesting. It took Thiesen 44 minutes to put the Burwell boy on the mat, but the job was so well done that the latter was willing to give him the second fall without an effort. Prior to the principal event there was a boxing bout between Curt Bartley and Tom Fuson, wherein honors were about even.

Arthur Larsen and Niels Petersen went to Crawford to look at land this week. They will return home by way of Minden. This morning Mrs. J. P. Petersen and Mrs. Arthur Larsen went to the latter place for a visit and will meet the men folks there.

Yanks Lose to the Rebs
The old struggle between the north and the south was revived in all its bloody horror Tuesday afternoon, when the opposing forces met on the Fair Grounds diamond. With the north was allied the east side of the square and with the south the west side was lined up.

The south side won the toss and sent the others to the bat.
The Sapling was the first up and he stood there and was counted out without once swinging his stick. The other two made a little more of a showing but not one of them got to first. With much better luck Level came up to the plate for the south. He did not do much fanning, but the pitcher tried to cut the corners too close and had four balls charged up to him and Jonie walked. Before three outs were recorded Panowicz made a 2-bagger and Level slid home. So ended the first inning.

Sershen got to first on balls and stole second. Having good luck so far he tried his fortune on making third, but he fell short an inch or two and was out. The next two up shared the same fate and another goose egg was set down for the north. Jim Adamek was the first up for the rebels and went to bunting without regard for the law and the gospel and the umpire cruelly counted him out. While Jim was telling his chums how it happened two more fell victims to Castle's swifts, and the score still stood 1 to 0 in favor of the Johnny Rebs.

In the third the Union boys happened to get a man across the plate and had two more runs sprouting, but they all died a bornin'. Rebels Beranek and Koupal struck out and it looked bad for the Rebs. But Jonie was allowed to walk to first, and when he tried to steal second Parks read his range under wrong and rained the ball out into the field and Level went on to third for good measure.

As the brains of the Northsiders were still in added condition Level thought he might as well come on home and he did it, stealing the home plate in safety. Panowicz did about the same thing and the score stood 3 to 1 in favor of the Johnny Rebs.

In the fourth Sershen singled and got to first all right but he told the umpire that he had a pain and Wambaugh was allowed to run in his place. If you know Wambaugh you know why it was that he scored.

The fifth inning added another to the score of the Yankees, and as the Rebs failed in their half, the inning ended with a score of 3 to 3.

In the sixth Misko scored and for the first time the Yanks were in the lead. So it went till the 7th when the Johnny Rebs added three credit marks and things looked blue for the north.

In the eighth the Yanks got another score but the Rebs did the same and there the scoring ended with the west and south having 7 score and the north and east but 5.

Batteries: Castle and Parks, Panowicz and Berger.

The Dickinson Seed Company's house is being run up nearer the sky. A cupola was put on this week to accommodate some new machinery which the company found needed.

Eva Adams went to Holly, Colorado, Monday. In the same party were Mrs. Drobny and children and her sisters, the Misses Sadle and Tille Klot, who are going out for a visit. Mrs. Drobny has been here for a few weeks on a visit.

Mrs. John Hawley, who had been visiting at the Oscar Engar home and with other friends for a couple of weeks, returned to Hampton Monday morning. She was accompanied by Miss Anna Olson, sister of Mrs. J. Witt, who returned to her home at Wausau.

The Methodist Sunday school will give a picnic on the Anderson Island tomorrow. All members of the Sunday school and their families and friends, especially the members of the home department are invited to come. Come down anytime after dinner and have a pleasant afternoon. Supper will be served. If you can contribute to the culinary department do so, but come anyway.

At the Dunning last week Albert McMIndes bought a couple carloads of horses. At that time he could not get cars to load them in, so he put them into what looked like a good pasture with proper fencing. But he got word soon thereafter that the horses broke out and were scattered over that territory. One load was gathered up and shipped Saturday, but Albert expected to have to go up there to help round up the rest of the bunch.

The Independent Telephone company have out a new set of directories, the product of the Quiz shop. The book is the handiest yet. It comprises not only the Ord and rural lists but also the Burwell list. And being in book form with indexes along the edge of each page it is very compact and handy for reference. Each subscriber should take a pair of shears and a few minutes and cut away the parts of the edges of the pages as indicated by rules and then the index is brought out in fine style. The list shows a large increase over the previous list.

Tuesday Mrs. W. J. Taylor had a peculiar and somewhat annoying experience. She passed out through the screened door in the morning for a pail of water and when she came back with the liquid she found that the hook on the screen door had dropped into the staple and rendered the door burglar proof. All the other doors and the windows were also fastened, and there she was. She saw Mr. Hallock going by and implored him to aid her get into her own house, and of course he willingly consented to help, but he could find no way in but to take the hinges off, and even then the hook held the door so that it could not be opened. But they sprung the door out enough to allow her to squeeze in and then the trouble was over after Hallock had fastened the hinges on again.

With this purely personal statement I submit my candidacy. Should the people see fit to nominate and elect me governor I will devote to their service whatever of experience and ability I may possess animated by the sincere desire to administer their affairs in a dignified, economical and business like manner.

ELIJAH P. BROWN
The "Rams Horn Man" will lecture at CHAUTAUQUA

Cady States His Platform
In announcing my candidacy for the republican nomination for governor, I wish to make a brief statement of my attitude relative to matters of most public concern.

While it is inevitable that new questions of pressing importance will arise from year to year, the issue of clean and prudent government, I deem always to be paramount. Simply because I was the zealous advocate of an issue of passing importance, would not entitle me to public confidence. It is not alone what I stand for today, but what has been my attitude in the past that should be the real measure of my talent as a public servant. Within the sphere of my limited influence I have always contended for clean men and clean methods, and I firmly believe that whatever may be essential, that unless built on this foundation, an enduring republic is hopeless.

I have been a resident of Nebraska nearly thirty-four years, part of that time engaged in newspaper work, and the remainder in commercial pursuits. My office holding record is confined to two terms in the legislature (in the house in 1889 and the senate in 1905). In the session of 1889 I was fortunate in being permitted to aid in accomplishing the defeat and downfall of the best organized and most corrupt lobby with which the state was ever infested. I also prepared legislation that prevented exploitation of the state saline lands. I prepared and introduced the bill providing for the submission of an amendment to the constitution, creating an elective railway commission, which passed in the session of 1905. The adoption of this amendment, together with the legislation enacted to give it effect, have worked a beneficent reform felt in every department of our state government.

I advocated and voted for an anti-pass bill in the same session. Though not a member when passed, I advocated the primary law, believing then and now that it is desirable not alone to bring the government near to the people, but what is of greater importance, to awaken in the individual voter a keener sense of the responsibilities of citizenship. While the law may not have realized in full the anticipations of its most zealous advocates, yet I confidently believe that it is destined to be a tower of strength to good government.

I have always affiliated with the republican party, whose candidate I now aspire to be, but I firmly believe that the highest partisan service is rendered by an honest effort to demonstrate that the party with which one affiliates is the best medium through which to attain good government. I do not believe in making the public institutions havens for indigent politicians, or auxiliaries of a political machine, but that they should be conducted on strictly prudent business lines, always with a view to the welfare of the inmates.

Personally I have never believed the adoption of county option necessary to control the liquor traffic. The enactment of this law, however, is purely a legislative function, with which the executive has nothing to do, until presented to him for his approval or disapproval. It is the people through their representatives, who demanded this legislation, I should deem it my duty, if governor, to approve. I do not construe the power of veto vested in the chief executive to be a personal asset, but a discretionary power necessary to vest in some one, to meet the requirements of grave emergencies, and possible invasions of the constitution. To threaten in advance of its enactment the veto of this legislation, might consistently be supplemented by the threat to invoke the pardoning power of every violator of the law, should the veto be disregarded.

I believe that President Taft is in full sympathy with the policies of Mr. Roosevelt, and that his administration will merit and receive general commendation. There has been no wiser legislation in recent years than that creating a tariff commission giving assurance that future legislation will be based on more impartial scientific and less sectional and partisan basis.

With this purely personal statement I submit my candidacy. Should the people see fit to nominate and elect me governor I will devote to their service whatever of experience and ability I may possess animated by the sincere desire to administer their affairs in a dignified, economical and business like manner.

Minnie Freeman Penny Hurt
Hot Springs, S. D., July 16.—Mrs. E. B. Penny, wife of the prominent, E. B. Penny, of Fullerton, Neb., met with a fearful accident morning while on a horseback. The horse was trotting slowly at when suddenly it stumbled and leaped forward with such force as to turn a complete somersault. The saddle landed on its back and rolled over her twice, the pommel of the saddle boring the limb. The muscle of her right limb was terribly gared, the bone above the knee broken in two places and the sciatic nerve broken. Besides this, the shoulder blade was badly shattered and her collar bone broken. Whether she was injured internally cannot yet be determined. She was conscious the entire time. Her doctors say that the right limb, below the knee, will be paralyzed for at least three years, and perhaps always, if she is fortunate enough to recover at all. Tonight there is much hope for her recovery, however.

Mr. and Mrs. Penny, with their entire family, were spending the summer at this resort. They are very prominent people socially in the southern part of Nebraska, and Mr. Penny is one of Nebraska's wealthiest merchants and bankers. The injured lady is the long-ago Nebraska heroine of the great blizzard of January 12, 1888. Early settlers in this section of the state can never forget that storm which made several heroes and heroines among them being Miss Minnie Freeman.

THE MIDWEST LIFE.

The selling of life insurance is becoming to be profession, and to attain the greatest success professional training is required. The day is past when men who have failed in other lines can with profit to themselves or a company take up life insurance.

The Midwest Life has an opening in the city of Lincoln for a bright, capable man from 20 to 24 years of age who wishes to prepare himself for a position as one of its general agents. The company will pay his tuition-fee for two courses in salesmanship, one general (Sheldon school) and the other special (American School of Insurance), both of which can be completed in a year; also a nominal salary for the first twelve months. For the first year, office work one-half time, other half soliciting life insurance on a commission basis; thereafter full time soliciting wholly on a commission basis. Here is a splendid chance for one to make his way from the start. There is no other business which a young man of energy, ability and good character can enter where the opportunities to make money without the previous investment of capital, is so great. Apply or write to The Midwest Life, No. 119 South 10th Street, Lincoln.

Celebration at the Agency.

Cherry County.—The Fourth of July celebration at Rosebud agency was held according to the program, there being about 10,000 Indians present and several hundred whites. The first thing in the morning was the grand charge, in which about 1,000 Indians on horseback took part, charging down on the camp dressed in their war paint yelling and shooting like so many demons, making a scene that will be long remembered. The sham battle took place before dinner, in which the warriors all took part, showing the cunning of the red skins and it was well played out.

To Become Regimental Band.

Buffalo County.—Word was repeated in Kearney to the effect that Kearney musicians will be mustered in as the second regiment band of the Nebraska national guard. More than enough men have expressed a willingness to sign up enlistment papers.

Wheat Better Than Expected.

Johnson County.—Although it has rained in several sections of Johnson county during the past ten days, but little moisture has fallen in Tecumseh. The wheat harvest is on and the harvest in many cases is much better than was anticipated.

Harvest Hands Needed.

Clay County.—There is such a demand for harvest hands in this county that farmers are offering from $2.50 to $4 per day. Seventy-five men could find employment here at once to help care for the harvest.

Peculiar Illness.

Dodge County.—Succumbing to a peculiar illness which had contracted the muscles of his throat until he was unable to swallow any food, Jacob Schultz died at Fremont. Schultz died from starvation. He had been fed through a tube in his stomach for over eighteen years.

Governmental River Work.

Otoe County.—The government steamer General Arthur is at Nebraska City with six barges and will do some work on the Missouri river before proceeding further north. This is the first steamer up the river this season.

Superintendent Manuel Bereaved.

Buffalo County.—The funeral of the 3-year-old son of C. B. Manuel, superintendent of the industrial school, was held Tuesday. The child, a bright little fellow and general favorite, died early on the morning of July 4 from croup.

Good Roads Work.

Sarpy County.—The Springfield Commercial club has taken up the good roads proposition and a committee of seven members has been appointed to take up the matter of better public highways with the county commissioners and road overseers.

Prominent Men at Chautauqua.

Philips County.—Manager Newland has announced the program of the annual chautauqua which will be held on Tuesday, August 9, to consider legislation providing for the initiative and referendum, the Australian (or headless) ballot, direct primaries; guarantee of bank deposits; a public service commission, and the creation of a state railroad commission.

Found Hanging in a Shanty.

Sheridan County.—The body of a man identified as G. F. Booth a homesteader, was found hanging in a claim shanty thirteen miles northeast of Bingham by Charles Wagner of Ellsworth. In the absence of traces of violence he is supposed to have committed suicide.

Threshermen Killed.

Fillmore County.—While on the way home with their traction engine and separator crossing a bridge ten feet long, four feet deep, Joe Havelack and Frank Kubish went through, the bridge collapsing in the center, the engine and tender doubling together, pinning the two men in the hot mass of iron. Havelack was killed instantly, while Kubish blew the whistle until help came. He was rescued, but died at his home near Milligan. The engineer was found at the throttle with his pipe still in his mouth.

Death by Fishhook Scratch.

Knox County.—John Colling of Center died very suddenly at the Kalar hospital in Bloomfield. While out fishing he received a scratch from a fishhook and this caused blood poisoning.

Diver Badly Hurt.

Madison County.—Fred Foote, a Northwestern brakeman, living at Hastings, paralyzed the back of his head, neck and shoulders when he dived into a shallow spot of the Elk-horn at Norfolk. He may recover.

Drouth is Broken.

St. Joseph, Mo.—The protracted drouth which has threatened to ruin crops in northwest Missouri, was relieved today by a fine rain which was of incalculable value.

BEAUTY RESTORED BY BABY

Queen of Holland Looks Like Old Self Since Little Princess Was Born.

Amsterdam.—Photographs just taken of Queen Wilhelmina of Holland and her baby tell a wonderful tale of maternal happiness and satisfied yearnings.

The baby has changed the queen into a pretty woman again. A few years ago the world was shocked to see that the once lovely and charming young queen had turned into a haggard and prematurely aged woman.

The Dutch people saw the change with sorrow and sometimes with indignation, for they were disposed to attribute it partly to the misconduct of the prince consort.

The loss of the queen's good looks was without doubt almost entirely due to the repeated disappointment of her hopes of motherhood. The disappointment was, in the first place, natural, such as any normal woman might have felt. This natural feeling was intensified by patriotic sentiments.

The queen realized that it was her duty to provide an heir to the throne in order to preserve the succession in her own family and to prevent complications which the whole Dutch nation dreaded. The queen at her accession was the last member of the ancient royal house of Orange-Nassau who is really Dutch. There are other descendants of the family through the female line, but they are all Germans or foreigners. The Dutch have always been suspicious of German designs on their country, and apparently with good reason.

Now, the nearest heirs to the throne after Queen Wilhelmina are not only German princes, but officers in the German army. It appears to the Dutch that one of these gentlemen, if placed on the throne of Holland, would be very serviceable in adding the country to Germany.

A rather astonishing but very pretty scene occurred the other day. Two high dignitaries of the court, the Barons de Smeets and de Schaumburg, the Dowager Princess de Hardenbroek de Heerartsberg and Bergambach (born countess of Limburg-Silrum) entered to announce to the queen the arrival of a great political officer, the Baron Schimmelpenninck Van der Oye, president of the state general, who came for an audience with her majesty by appointment.

These great personages were surprised to see her majesty the queen of the Netherlands crawling about on her hands and knees on the floor with the little Princess Juliana, heiress to the throne, on her back. The queen was playing gee-gee with her baby.

It is this sort of thing that pleases the Dutch.

The happy feeling among the people has had much to do with restoring her good looks and good spirits to Queen Wilhelmina. She is made happy not only by mother love but by the thought that she has done her duty to her country, the ancient home of liberty in Europe.

Women Need Work.

London.—The first labor exchange for women in England was opened. Hordes of women and girls of all ages applied immediately for work, giving painful evidence of the shocking number of women unemployed. Among the applicants were stenographers, dressmakers, milliners, teachers and domestic servants.

He Made Two Pollywogs.

Paris.—Eugene Battillon, professor of biology at the University of Dijon, announced before the Academy of Sciences that he had succeeded in developing two tadpoles by producing traumatism in a frog's eggs with a platinum wire. The experiment constitutes a most important advance in the phenomenon of parthenogenesis.

Demonstrations at County Fairs.

Arrangements are under way whereby demonstrations may be made at the county fairs of Nebraska this fall of the use of serums for the prevention and control of hog cholera in this state. At the instance of F. C. Crocker, president of the Nebraska State Swine Breeders' association, Dr. Jaul Juckness and Dr. Galt of the Nebraska experiment station have consented to co-operate to bring its use directly to the homes of the farmers and stockmen of Nebraska.

Cost of State Institutions.

Private Secretary Purse, interpreting the consolidated report of state institutions for the six months ending May 31 as filed with the governor, says the pro rata balance of the maintenance funds at the close of the semi-annual period should be 41.23 per cent of the total amount appropriated. The report shows an average balance of 37.5 per cent above 41 per cent. This indicates that the several institutions will keep well within the appropriations.

Republican Caucus

The Republican Caucus will be held in the Court room of the Court House at 2:30 p. m. of Friday, July 22nd. The object and purpose of the said caucus is to select seven delegates to attend the Republican State Convention in Lincoln, July 27th, effecting a county organization and transacting such other business as may come before the caucus.

S. N. Arnold, Chairman
H. A. Robbins, Secretary

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for Republican nomination for a second term as County Attorney, at the primary election, August 16, 1910.

CLAUDE A. DAVIS.

Announcement

I announce myself as republican candidate for member of the House of Representatives from the 55th district, asking the favor of the republican voters, to support me at the primary election day. Yours truly,
JOHN CEPLECHA.

It is easier to give advice than to take it.

Now that Walter Johnson has abandoned the democrats what can they do?

Even a fool's advice is worth listening to. Smart guys do not know it all.

Do you rejoice when your enemy stumbleth? Then your christianity will not stand examination by the pure food commission.

If you find that your hindsight is better than someone's foresight you will probably strut around and think you are smarter than all gitout.

By a slip of the pen The Quiz said last week that Matley and Fries had filed for congress. This was a gross piece of carelessness. These men have filed for senator for the 15th district.

Remember the republican caucus tomorrow afternoon at the court house. This is your opportunity to start things off properly. Be on hand promptly at 2:30 and take part in the deliberations of the meeting.

Frank S. Pardue, deputy state superintendent, is our choice for state superintendent of public instruction. Several times he has been in Valley county on educational matters and is known here to be a man of the right sort for this high place.

The republicans of Nebraska will do the best thing by themselves and the state by nominating A. E. Cady of St. Paul for governor. Cady is a business man, not a politician. He is abreast of the times on all questions. You can depend on him to do for the best interests of the state. His record of many years is clean and shows that he is the right sort.

Senator Burkett did not have control of the Lancaster county republican convention, that body being dominated by C. O. Whedon. The fact is Burkett never has had the hearty support of his home county, for the reason that he is not inclined to today to the bosses. But he has had all along, and still has, the hearty support of the state at large. He is senator for Nebraska and not for Lincoln, and surely that is the senator the state ought to have. Burkett has won out in many another battle without the support of Lancaster county and we hope he will do as well this time. We need a senator who is at the head of his class at Washington, a man who stands high in committee positions and in the esteem of his associates. What folly it would be for us to turn him down now and elect another man. Our senior senator is now where he can make Nebraska felt in the halls of congress. Any other new man sent there now in his place will be sent to the foot of the committees, as all new men are and it will take years for any senator, and a lifetime for some we might mention, to get up to the place we hold in the senate. Make your influence felt, dear republican voter, for the return of E. J. Burkett to the senate.

The Independent Telephone Company of Nebraska, which has been in the hands of a receiver for some time and is being juggled around by Woods Bros., or other speculators, has applied for and been granted a temporary injunction against the Bell Telephone Co., stopping the latter from buying up the small independent companies of the state. The claim is made that the Bell people are buying up these companies for the purpose of cutting off competition and in restraint of trade. Perhaps this is true, but the fact remains that the Bell company is not a rate booster. Where it is in competition with other companies its rates are if anything lower than that of its competitors, and where there is no competition its rates are still lower, service considered. On the other hand, the independent crowd have refused to connect with small companies which had Bell connections and in other ways has shown a disposition to act contrary to the spirit of our antimonopoly laws. Every community knows that two or more telephone companies are a detriment to all patrons. If this is true in small circles it is even more so in state wide matters. Far better it would be if there were but one company in Nebraska. There could be no danger of overcharges, for the state has absolute control of all public service corporations, especially those making use of the right of eminent domain. Probably the case will wind up in favor of the Bell folks, as it should be. Were the purchase of the small telephone companies in the nature of a trust there might be grounds for making the injunction permanent, but it is hardly probable that the courts have the authority to say that any company may not buy what property it may deem necessary for the conduct of its business.

By petitions from Custer and Valley counties the name of M. L. Fries has been placed upon the ballot as a candidate for the republican nomination for state senator from this district, and Mr. Fries has filed his acceptance with the secretary of state. The other candidate for this place is W. S. Matley of Ansley so the contest for the nomination will be between these men. One objection to Matley is the fact that he is from Custer county, where they are all torn up over county division. Every man is friend or foe over there, for no one can escape taking sides on this local question, and hence any Custer county man would have a serious element of weakness in his campaign.

The first joke of the campaign is the filing of Walter Johnson "of Omaha" for lieutenant-governor on the republican ticket. Walter Johnson is a resident of Valley county, at any rate he has lived here for many years and his wife (and a most excellent and estimable lady she is too) lives here. A few months ago Johnson went to Omaha, for what purpose no one seemed to know, but his purpose is now apparent. Johnson is about as reliable in politics as he is in paying his debts. He has been wanting office of some kind or other for many years, first on one ticket and then on another. Two years ago he was a candidate for congress in the sixth on the democrat ticket, and by his facile pen and the judicious use of printer's ink he made a very creditable showing for the nomination. Now he wants to be lieutenant-governor by the republican route. If Johnson makes any showing worth while it will not be by the help of the people of Valley county where he is known.

Charles O. Whedon is out with a circular, which he asks the newspapers of Nebraska to print, attacking Senator Burkett's speech made at the republican county convention. Burkett did not make his speech to suit Whedon and now Whedon thinks that Whedon or some democrat ought to be U. S. senator in place of Burkett. He charges that Burkett did not define his position upon the county option question. Why should he? The United States senate has nothing to do with Nebraska county option. Whedon thinks Burkett ought to have made a tariff speech at that convention and told why he was not able to make the senate and house of representatives pass a tariff law wholly in the interests of Nebraska. Burkett did what every other senator and congressman did who voted for that tariff law. He voted for it because it was the best thing they could get. Not a member of congress is satisfied with the law, and no one can be satisfied with a tariff law, for the law is always a compromise between the conflicting interests of the various sections of the country. If every congressman voted against any proposed set of tariff schedules that did not exactly suit him and his constituents there would have been no new law passed. The new tariff law is a much better measure than it was popularly supposed to be and is proving to be a money raiser for the government, and any demagogue who will seek now to defeat the republican ticket in the hope of getting office himself should be effectually set down upon. We hope Whedon will get that kind of treatment.

An Early Settler Dead
About two weeks ago Mrs. Anna Christina Thusen, one of the very early settlers of Valley county, was stricken with apoplexy. Her case looked serious from the start but in a few days she rallied and was about the house for a while. But Tuesday another stroke came and she passed away.

The funeral was being held from the Presbyterian church this afternoon as we go to press. She was the wife of Hans Thusen, who came here among the early settlers and who was murdered in cold blood by a neighbor, Godfresen, early in the year 1882. The trial of the murderer was the first of the kind ever held in the county, and resulted in the murderer being sent to prison for twenty years.

The deceased was about 70 years of age.

Milo Whitford and family returned to Ord Tuesday. He likes that country in all ways but that of making a living. He has come back to stay.

Pat Braden is over from Arcadia today on business.

EXCHANGES

North Loup Loyalist.
The McClellans are in receipt of a letter from Dr. L. W. Studley in which he says his mother had suffered a paralytic stroke and that she was not expected to live. This will be sad news to her many friends at this place where the Studleys lived so long.

Ed Temple shipped his household goods to St. Paul Monday and now the family are full fledged residents of Paultown. Ed has bought a meat market in Paultown and will proceed to serve the people down the line of the closest Sweden. The family have a lot of friends here whose best wishes go with them to their new home.

Sargent Leader.
Aden Shaw, a promising young man, born and reared in this county, was joined in marriage to Miss Flossie Cassidy on Wednesday July 6th. The ceremony was performed at Taylor. The groom is well and favorably known here and has many friends. For over a year he held a position with the railroad company as helper to station agent Monroe, resigning the position about a month ago to accept a clerk ship in a store at Casper, Wyo. The bride is an estimable young lady with a great many good accomplishments, and a large circle of friends. They departed Tuesday morning for their future home in Casper, Wyo. Their many friends, joined by the Leader, extend their best wishes.

Arcadia Champion.
Mr. Kaney from Dorchester, Neb., has received the appointment as agent for the C. B. & O. at this place. He arrived Friday night and Extra Agent Secor transferred the station to him Saturday. Mr. Secor returned to headquarters at Lincoln Monday.

Peter Anderson was born September 2, 1835, in Sweden, died July 4, 1910, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Lindall, south of this city, he having made his home there several years. Mr. Anderson had not been well for some time but became worse a few weeks ago and gradually grew weaker until he passed away at about four o'clock on the day mentioned. The funeral services were held from the Swedish Baptist church at Balsora Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock, after which the remains were laid to rest in the Balsora cemetery, a large number of the people of the community paying a last tribute to their friend and neighbor.

Comstock News.
A movement is on foot here to organize a stock company for the purpose of erecting a hotel building. We do not know whether it will materialize, but we do know Comstock needs a good hotel.

The State Bank of Sargent will, according to announcements in the Leader, be consolidated with the First National Bank of Sargent, and the recently organized Farmers State Bank has purchased the building and fixtures of the State Bank of Sargent and will use same for a banking house.

Burwell Tribune.
Martin G. Warren and Lulu J. Sherman were issued license to wed and united in marriage by the county court on July 11. Both are Garfield county residents, residing in the eastern part of the county.

After the Tribune had gone to press last week we learned of the marriage of Miss Lelah Irene Powell to Englebrath M. Hansen, the ceremony having been performed at the bride's home on Wednesday, July 6th. This young couple have the well wishes of the Tribune along with those of numerous other friends in the community.

There was a very pretty double wedding solemnized at the Methodist church, at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning, Rev. Harold Miles officiating. The ceremony was performed in the presence of but a small number of the intimate friends, and their own relatives, the contracting parties being Mr. G. A. Butts and Miss Clara Thorp and Mr. Eugene Rexell and Miss Agnes Banks. The Tribune always likes to say nice things about newly married young people, but our supply of good words is all too limited to say all that we feel for these folks. They number their friends by the number of acquaintances and friends along with those who offered them is only limited by the number of their friends. A wedding breakfast was served the bridal party at the W. P. Thorp home immediately after the ceremony and a few minutes later saw them whirling away in an auto to Elyria where they caught the passenger train for the east. Their exact destination they apparently did not know themselves, but they will spend a week or so rambling about the country before returning to Burwell to settle down.

CANADA

embraces the finest communities of all Canada—the land of promise for the farmer. The country whose boundless resources and matchless opportunities are attracting the attention of thousands of our citizens and leading them on to wealth. This district lies on the great divide between the rivers tributary to the Mississippi valley and those flowing towards the Hudson Bay, the choicest lands of all Canada, improved and unimproved. Four new lines of railway are being built through this district this season. We recognize that this is a busy season with you, but let us urge. The Porter Land Company is still selling these lands at from

A STATEMENT FROM CONGRESSMAN KINKAID

To My Esteemed Constituents:
Upon the advice of many voters, I have become a candidate for a re-nomination for Congress by the primary election to be held August 16. During the present Congress I have faithfully supported the policies pursued and legislation recommended by Roosevelt, when President, adopted and promoted by President Taft, as evidenced by the excellent measures enacted at the recent session. In revising the tariff, I strived to have lumber and barbed wire placed upon the free list, and voted on separate schedules for revision downward generally, but after the bill had been in the Senate and in conference, it had to be voted upon as an entirety, with the alternative to pass it or defeat it and leave in operation the old law. A majority, including democrats with republicans, prevented a greater reduction of the rates. I favor the increase of the authority of the tariff board recently authorized and that in the future revisions be made of single schedules, when conditions warrant it, rather than that all schedules be revised at the same time, thus preventing "log rolling" and protected interests. I favor the adoption of the proposed amendment to the Constitution of the United States permitting the taxing of large incomes; also, the election of Senators by direct vote.

As about three-fifths of the announcements of my competitor consists of an attack upon my record, I shall give it such brief notice as the nature hereof will permit. The reference incidentally occurring last winter in the Ballinger-Finchot investigation to my purchase of a quarter-section of coal land in Alaska, carried with it the information, derived from official source, that the transaction

M. P. Kinkaid, Congressman 6th Dist. was legitimate and straightforward; but in disregard of this, to advance his own candidacy, my competitor questions its regularity. It was because only of the fact that Mr. Ballinger, as my attorney, had passed on the title to the property, before he was Secretary of the Interior, when in the practice of law at Seattle, that the transaction was mentioned at all. No government official has pretended that I did what was wrong or improper. I have, as my attorney, and attorney for the government in coal land matters, in substance, swore there was nothing contained in the transaction on the part of either Ballinger or myself that was wrong. Brandeis, attorney for Finchot, said "We have looked into the case carefully. * * * There is nothing wrong or improper. * * * Mr. Kinkaid has nothing to conceal in this matter as far as I know." My purchase was made of the entryman who had an equitable title which the law permits to be assigned or deeded, for which I paid $2,800.00, and to secure a patent, must yet pay the government price of $10.00 per acre. I have not made a coal land entry. If the entry of my grantor was made in good faith, and the law in other respects has been complied with, a patent will be granted; otherwise not. Certainly, the government is secure, because its officials have the exclusive determination of these questions.

In refutation of the implied accusation by my competitor that I have evaded voting, "inspired at home and stood pat in Washington," I cite a portion of a testimonial written by Howard R. Hinshaw, Secretary to Congressman Hinshaw, as follows:

"Hon. M. P. Kinkaid, in complying with your request, I have made a careful compilation of your votes of the relative standing as shown in the last volume of the Record was issued, for the purpose of ascertaining your relative standing as shown in the last volume of the Record, and the result is as follows: * * * You rank a fraction of a vote higher than the average of the votes expressed by the four members found to be the highest, other than yourself. * * * The Record does not in a single instance indicate that you have undertaken to judge or evade any vote. You voted present, once only upon a roll call for the purpose of ascertaining the presence of a quorum. * * * You have not paired your vote in a single instance. Upon all motions or resolutions concerning amendments to the rules, or have voted consistently during the entire Congress with the progressives, or so-called 'insurgents.' Very truly,
(Signed) HOWARD R. HINSHAW."
I quote also:
"District of Columbia, City of Washington, Clerk of the House of Representatives of the United States, do hereby certify that at the request of Congressman Kinkaid, I have caused to be ascertained his relative standing as to attendance during this session, and the result is as follows: * * * You rank the highest, and the number of recorded votes, * * * rank the highest, and ranks as high, if not a fraction higher, than any other of four or five or six of the highest."
In witness whereof, I have hereunto subscribed my name and affixed my official seal, this 15th day of June, A. D. 1910.
BEAL, ALEXANDER MCDOWELL,
Thanking you for your support in the past, and believing the Congressional experience I have enjoyed will enable me to work to a greater advantage in the future in behalf of the interests of the District, your further support is respectfully solicited.
M. P. KINKAID.

Announcement
I am a candidate for the republican nomination for Congress from the sixth district. I believe in good government, a square deal, and that the Roosevelt policies should be put into operation. I have always been opposed to boss rule and machine politics. I believe in representative government; in government by the people and not by the corporations. I believe in loyalty to republican principles and the protective tariff but do not believe that downward revision has been fully accomplished, particularly with reference to the woolen, cotton, lumber and wire schedules.

I believe a congressman should have conviction and courage enough to vote them; that he should not dodge, sidestep and vote "present;" that he should not insure at home and stand pat in Washington. That he should keep his ante-election promises and vote against Mr. Cannon for speaker after having promised the people to do so; and he should not vote to tax barbed wire at $15 per ton after publicly announcing that it should be placed on the free list. A congressman is elected by the public and paid by the public to serve the public and not to serve himself. He should be satisfied to render public services for the public salary and not seek to further enrich himself at the expense of the public by acquiring coal lands in Alaska belonging to the public domain. His duty is to conserve the public resources and not to absorb them unto himself and Mr. Ballinger's assistance in acquiring a coal claim in Alaska is not sufficient proof of either regularity or ethics of the transaction.

Don't try to be the town humorist. The town humorist acquires a reputation in a short time that he thinks he must maintain, and as a consequence he soon becomes a burden to his friends that is hard to bear. The town humorist makes himself so much of a bore that when his friends see him coming they cross the street to avoid him, or sneak out the back door and hang around in the alley until he is safely out of the way. Only about one man in ten million is a natural humorist but about one man in every ten thinks he is, and feels it his duty to "entertain" his friends whenever he meets them, with the result that they feel like yelling for the police every time they come in contact with him. If you want to be liked and respected by your fellow citizens, avoid with all your might being considered the town humorist. Better let them think you are a horse thief, or a bank robber, or a wife beater. They will think more of you.—Ex.

The American Woman's League
One hundred and thirty five thousand applications are in for membership in the Founder's Chapter! Thirty five thousand more than enough.

There must be some good reason. And these women understand what it is!

Some of them want instruction for themselves or their children. Some see the desirability of a chapter house, where all that is refining and ennobling may have its center, and are willing to work for that, without further personal motive. Some appreciate art in its various forms and would gladly help the gifted to better opportunities than they have hitherto enjoyed. We have our motives, friends, and they are not together selfish. There is room in our chapter for a number of members, who will be, if they send in application within our limit of time, members of The Founder's Chapter.

We could apply now for a No. 1 chapter house, but does Ord want the cheapest one we build? And will the city be pleased to see our League building inhospiably crowded out to some adjoining hillside?

Would it or would it not reflect on "the powers that be" in Ord?

NOVELIST KRAMER "STARTED SOMETHING"

Noted Author and Reformer to Appear at the Forthcoming Chautauqua.

The Indianapolis News in discussing one of the novels written by Harold Morton Kramer, the Indiana novelist-lecturer, who is to appear on our Chautauqua program, states that Mr. Kramer was one of the first to take up the fight for reform and cleaner politics in his state. He was editor of an Indiana daily newspaper at that time, and it is probable that his pen had as much to do with the launching of that reform wave as did the work of any other man in the state. And it might be mentioned that that wave broke up political rings, ousted men from high places, and some are now occupying prison cells.

In his own city, Frankfort, Indiana, Mr. Kramer had seen conditions become so rotten that he decided to attack, and so vigorously did he do so that the people began to sit up and take notice. But the gambler and the grafter were entrenched behind years of power, and with the civic officers obeying every command they issued, they first laughed and then grew defiant and aggressive. Electric lights were placed in front of the gambling rooms as signals as to when the games were running. These signals were burning on the principal business streets of the city, and some of them shone right into the windows of the police station, where the police chief lolled at ease and waxed rich off the tribute paid him by the gamblers. The officers were unable to see these lights. Then Kramer attacked more vigorously than ever, and in one article he gave a parody on "Twinkle, Twinkle, Little Star," in which he used the electric gambling signals as the "little stars."

As a result of this article the novelist was assaulted by the chief of police, and in the fight both officer and author shed some blood. However, this was the act that fired public sentiment, and from the night of that fight graft and bulldozing in public affairs were doomed in Indianapolis. The following campaign became known as the "Twinkling Star Campaign," with Kramer still leading the fight, and the ring was swept into oblivion.

In the meantime the fight that Harold Morton Kramer had started against corruption had attracted attention throughout the state and the press of Indiana took up the cudgel, with the result that Indiana soon was undergoing a general housecleaning.

As a result of this, Kramer became one of the most cordially hated men in Indiana in certain circles, and more than one attempt was made to "get" him. It became necessary for him to keep his hand close to a revolver at all times. One night a mysterious shot from out of the darkness zipped close to his ear, but the man who fired it was never found.

But since then there have been many changes. The law-respecting people awoke to their power and stood together and upheld Kramer in his fight, and today the old gang is scattered and broken up, peace reigns, and Harold Kramer no longer finds it necessary for him to keep his hand on a gun when he leaves home to make a social call.

There is something so inimitable, joyous, pathetic, humorous, yet sad about "Bob" Taylor's lectures that it keeps you on the jump to change from laughing to crying. Yet you keep busy and do it. We are told by the wise men that once upon a time the lawyers were most religious and that a part of a legal training was the learning of scriptural truths and the practice of devotional attitudes. If this be true then times have changed. But fortunately the lawyers are not as bad as they are pictured and among those who have been true to ancient traditions is Senator Taylor. That does not mean that Taylor is a back number—far from it. He is a most complete specimen of true Americanism. He comes of fighting stock and from a family whose name figures conspicuously in American history since the Revolution. But there are other elements in his make-up. He is an indefatigable, love of fair play and reverence for American ideals. "In the afternoon Senator 'Bob' Taylor addressed the largest audience that ever attended any one attraction in this city," said the Moberly (Missouri) Democrat of August 21, 1908. "It was a pleasure to learn that he would again speak on 'Castles in the Air,' and it was a privilege as well as a delight to hear him tell of the poetry of life, the power of love and the hope of Heaven. Thought transference was the medium of exchange, for on the invisible threads of thought and desire which were transmitted from every mind in the vast audience to the mind of the wonderful speaker, he played a matchless melody composed a poem in prose, painted a picture in

INFIDEL BROWN VS. EVANGELIST BROWN

From a Run-Away Boy to Millionaire Publisher.

Everybody knows about "The Ram's Horn" that free lance paper that has been such a force in the religious world. It has been "independent" in every sense and has eschewed any discussion or reference to those doctrinal questions that have set one-half of the denominations of the land at sword's point against the other half.

But maybe those who know about the paper do not know so much about the founder and, for many years the editor, of Ram's Horn. A word about "Ram's Horn" Brown will be of particular interest at this time because he has been engaged by the Western Redpath Chautauqua System to devote his whole time during season to lecturing at their summer assemblies. Like so many of the great men of the nation, Elijah P. Brown was born of a poor family, in a poor town in a poor industrial district of Ohio. He says that he can not remember that his father ever held him on his lap or that his mother ever kissed him. Yet they were honest folks, even church-going Christians. They never seemed to have time to get acquainted with their children and to realize that their little hearts were bleeding for love.

The little Elijah ran away from home while yet a very little boy and became apprenticed to a printer. He became a good workman and developed a business judgment that soon made him master of his own profit paying shop in a small city. He was not in sympathy with the church or anything that stood for morality; in fact he was a "tough nut."

He became a devout believer in ingenuity and was proud of the intimate friendship that developed between the eminent infidel and himself.

It was after he had become a millionaire publisher, a writer of great reputation and a lecturer of recognized ability along the lines of his agnostic theories that by the mereest chance Mr. Brown heard the great Moody preach a sermon before a twenty thousand people in Chicago. Brown went to scoff; he stayed to consider and he went away to pray. He returned to his home in another state and struggled manfully with his doubts, but not being satisfied, he returned to Chicago and sought out Mr. Moody. That talk settled matters on a paying basis and gave the world a new literature.

It is only of late that the "Ram's Horn Man" has been filling Chautauqua dates, but he is proving to be a great success. Contrary to expectation Mr. Brown is not soured by his early painful experience, but is one of the most humorous speakers on the American platform. He believes that fun and gospel are the twin handmaidens of human usefulness.

TOWNS LIKE MEN ARE OFTEN PESSIMISTIC.

Towns like people get the idea at times that they just cannot make anything go. Good enterprising citizens sometimes say: "If this were such and such town we could make improvements and have things we ought to have, but our town is a stick-in-the-mud sort of a town and we can't." That kind of feeling will kill any town in the world. If we will wake up and stand together we can have anything we want in this town. Our patronage is good, people come from other territory to our town to trade. The question is how long will they do this if we do not make an effort to show our appreciation of their patronage. We have come to the conclusion that this town can have as good a Chautauqua as any town our size in the United States. With a good Chautauqua people will come from miles around and we can renew old acquaintances and make new ones and, by spending the week among our patrons and showing them a good time, we can add much to the trade of our town besides giving to our families a week's treat of good things. Let every enterprising citizen join the line-up for a Big Chautauqua.

A Toilet Necessity For Summer

Spiro Powder is a necessity to every man and woman. It does what no other powder will do. It destroys the unpleasant odor of perspiration under the arms, on the feet or any part of the body. Before attending public gatherings a dust of Spiro Powder when making the toilet will prevent the odor of perspiration from appearing. Spiro Powder is odorless and by using it you prevent and destroy the odor of perspiration, leaving no odor of any kind about the person or clothing.

We have some free samples of Spiro Powder which we will be glad to give you if you will call.

Why will people endanger their lives and property by using gasoline stoves when they can possibly save two or three dollars a year over the cost of gas for the same period. You will pay large sums for life insurance and considerable sums for property insurance and then for a paltry sum endanger both. The reason is you think gas bills are something awful. You have the idea but you do not know where you got it, perhaps, or maybe someone who does not use gas has told you so. Surely you did not get the information from gas users. Every gas user in Ord is a satisfied user. If they were not satisfied they would not continue the use of gas. Let us prove to you that you ought to cook with gas.

Every young man or woman who wants to prepare for a bank or office position of any kind should write the Grand Island Business and Normal College at Grand Island, Neb., for a catalogue. We understand that every student of this school is placed in a position as soon as he or she graduates and those who prefer may graduate from the College and pay expenses in monthly payments after a position has been secured. President Hargis has been at the head of this school for twenty years and under his management it has grown to be one of the most important institutions in the Western States.

The social given by the Baptist Young Peoples Union at the hotel Friday evening for the purpose of raising funds for the construction of sidewalks along the church property was a decided success, both financially and socially. A neat sum was realized from the sale of pies and also from the guessing contest on a pie baked by Arthur Wheeler. No one could guess what the pie contained although almost 50 guesses were taken and Arthur was obliged to tell the company that the pie was made of oatmeal. It was awarded to Jos. Bartos, who made the nearest guess, his being that it was made of corn meal. Under the pleasing leadership of Miss Winnie Ward a number of interesting games were played among them being a game of "Hobbles" in which Miss Lillian Heuck took first prize, a mouth organ, and three being tied for second place the second prize, a miniature nursing bottle, was awarded to Arthur Wheeler, he having been voted the biggest baby present. After the pies were auctioned off and eaten the gathering dispersed each one expressing the hope that the Young Peoples Union would have another pie social.

Last week was rather a trying one for those not fortunate enough to have large water cisterns as the water supply was exhausted and pumping by hand was the order of the day, the weather being hot and dry, the stock requires much water but Saturday night the wind raised and kept the windmills busy.

The church is undergoing the much needed repairs. The walls have been covered with tin, a door made in the south, making entrance more convenient on windy days, other things have been changed and the interior painted. The priest's house has also received a coat of paint. When completed our church will be a credit to our community.

Invitations are out announcing the marriage of Frank Lora to Miss Mary Breska of Minneapolis, Minn. Frank left for Minnesota a couple of weeks ago and assured us he was not coming home alone. And the above is the last report. It will be remembered the Breska folks lived in Valley county and left when Mary was but a school girl, who will return to the place of her childhood days. The bride needs no introduction in our neighborhood as her friends number by the acquaintances. The groom is a bright and industrious young man, a carpenter by trade. We join in with their many friends wishing them a long and happy life.

A MATCHLESS MUSICAL ORGANIZATION

The Cleveland Ladies' Orchestra Coming to Chautauqua.

There is no musical organization that is so capable of giving universal satisfaction as a ladies' orchestra. There is a peculiar charm about their work for the simple reason that they are women. While we have not, as a rule, been taught to expect so much from them in the way of volume of tone and vim of execution, as we do from men, we always feel a keen delight in the choice flavor that is imparted to their music by a well trained ladies' orchestra.

Those interested in musical matters have noted that in the last few years there has been a wonderful rise in the popularity of ladies' musical organiza-

At an aerial exhibition lately a small boy was one of the interested spectators in the crowd watching the aeronaut and his assistants getting ready. Presently the small boy asked his father: "Pop, which is the man who's going up in the balloon?"

"That, my son," replied the parent, pointing out the aeronaut, "is the aviator."

The boy thought over the unaccustomed word a while, then timidly inquired: "When is he going to aviate, pa?"

Acute Pains

"I suffered much pain in my right arm—rheumatism—took two of the Anti-Pain Pills and the pain was gone. Gave a lady friend, suffering from pleurisy, two and they relieved the pain in her breast."

relieve acute pains of any nature. They are equally effective in neuralgia, rheumatism, sciatica, locomotor ataxia, or the pain due to spinal trouble. Ladies who have periods of suffering find that they not only relieve their distress but their attacks become less severe, and after a time often disappear altogether.

Marlin Repeating Shotgun

This new 6-shot model is the simplest, surest, and fastest 12-gauge repeater made. It has the solid top, side ejection and double extractors—special Marlin features of comfort and safety. The closed breech keeps the action clean and the shells dry—keeps out rain, snow, dirt, leaves twigs and sand.

The new take-down construction allows you to take gun apart in ten seconds for cleaning or packing, yet the joint is always as firm and rigid as in a solid frame, non-take-down gun. The fall forearm fits your hand and helps quick operation.

The full choked guns are guaranteed close-shooting, hard-hitting guns, and are unequalled for ducks, geese, foxes and all long-range work.

His Back to the Wall

Apparently the insurgents in the house have got what the sporting writers would call Uncle Joe's "goat." In his usual vigorous and somewhat profane style, he declared down in Kansas the other day that he was going into the next house caucus and that he would be eternally damned if he would refuse to be a candidate for speaker. To quote: "As long as God lets me live the muckraking periodicals and the so-called independent or progressive republicans shall not make me say that I will not be a candidate for speaker any more than they shall say to me if I am again elected to congress that I will not vote when my name is called." It isn't often that one gets these hoary-headed old standpatters angry and fighting with their backs to the wall, but there is where the insurgents have the old man of the sea who, despite the fact that he must know his position endangers party success, will not get down off the back of the republican party. In his day Mr. Cannon was doubtless an efficient member of the organization, but he has not progressed with the party, he has been unable to assimilate new ideas or even to understand that the world has passed the place in which he rooted himself years ago. His personality interesting and his utterances un-though lacking either in statesmanlike quality or sanity of tone. The chief complaint he is voicing is that the entire party membership would not take orders from the majority. Senator Bristow answered this argument conclusively when he said: "He has made the contention that we are fighting party regularity and has cried out for co-operation. We are not fighting party regularity. We are fighting for party integrity. If this is maintained none need worry as to party regularity. We contend for the fulfillment of the declarations of our party platform. We are fighting betrayers." And that is all there is to insurgency.—Lincoln News.

Obituary

Anna Kerestine Gundersen was born in Velstrup near Kolding, Denmark, July 27, 1840, and died at Ord, Nebraska, July 19, 1910, aged 69 years, 11 months and 10 days.

In 1885 she was married to Hans S. Thusen. To this union seven children were born, one daughter died in infancy and one son died in 1896. Five children who survive are: Mrs. Elsie Waterman, Mrs. Mary Mattley, Mrs. Theron Beehle, Hans C. Thusen Jr., and Miss Mattie Thusen.

In 1880 they emigrated to America and filed on a 160 acres of government land four miles west of Ord, where her husband died in 1881. She made her home with her son on the old homestead which they took thirty years ago.

Of late the old school building which has been doing service at Springdale for years past has been too small to accommodate the pupils attending. It has also run down in repairs, so it was thought best by the residents of that district to build one that will give ample room, and also be a credit. A new building at an approximate cost of $1,500 will be erected as soon as possible on the old site, the old building being moved out to do service until the new one is completed.

The amount of corn planted in Nebraska in 1909, according to an exchange, was 6,477,282 acres, with a harvest of 169,179,137 bushels, valued at $98,123,871. And if loaded on standard sized freight cars would make a train extending from Chicago to Denver, with 172 miles of cars still laying on side tracks. The value of the wheat crop was about $46,000,000 or the number of bushels was 50,313,600, which if hauled on a train would reach from Omaha to North Platte. And we still have millions of acres of good corn and wheat land which has never been touched with the plow.

RAINFALL MUST BE HEAVY

Crop Experts Say If It Is Not in August The Nebraska and Iowa Corn Will Suffer

Some well-informed crop experts express the opinion that the Nebraska and Iowa corn crop will suffer very grave damages unless the rainfall in August shall be far in excess of the average rainfall of the month.

C. Vincent of the Beal-Vincent Grain company of Omaha is one of these who believe that the crop is in danger and he has gathered facts in support of his belief.

Mr. Vincent calls attention to the fact that B. W. Snow, the well-known crop expert, says that the recent collapse of the spring wheat crop in the northwest was caused by a lack of "reserve moisture." To all appearances the crop was in good condition when suddenly the lack of reserve moisture in the soil became manifest in the fields of dying wheat and dried up meadows and pastures. His attention being attracted to Snow's table of rainfall for Iowa, Mr. Vincent wrote to director Loveland of the weather bureau at Lincoln, who supplemented the Iowa table with statistics for Nebraska.

The information thus secured as given in the table below, which shows the rainfall from March 1 to July 11 of this year, as compared with normal rainfall for that period. The comparison is a very significant and startling one:

| | 1910 Nml. |
|--------------|-----------|
| Omaha | 3.9 15.6 |
| Ashland | 6.9 14.4 |
| Auburn | 7.4 17.3 |
| Columbus | 7.6 13.1 |
| Fairbury | 11.0 15.5 |
| Grand Island | 7.3 14.9 |
| Hartington | 12.5 12.7 |
| Hastings | 6.8 13.6 |
| Oakdale | 7.2 13.2 |
| Tekamah | 7.2 13.2 |
| Holdrege | 10 13.7 |

It is well known that the conditions were rapidly becoming serious when the drought was broken late in June and early in July. The rainfall in the last few weeks has been sufficient to keep the young crop growing, but the serious lack of reserve moisture, it is pointed out, is cause for genuine alarm and will result in grave damage to the crop unless the rainfall in August shall be greater than it usually is in that month, when the corn is filling in.—World-Herald.

More about New Railroad

The Northwestern has grading crews at work on the new extension across Tripp county reaching to the Mellette county line at the new town of Carter. Actively on the part of the Milwaukee system is reported in the northeastern part of the new country, the survey of that railway running west and south across the northern portion of Tripp county from the new town of Roseland. While the Northwestern is already at work on its line and the Milwaukee is planning its new extension via Roseland, another railway line has cast its covetous eyes on the new country and surveyors are now busy running out a line for the new extension of the Burlington system from Burwell, Nebraska, up through Tripp county, crossing into Mellette county at the new town of Carter, the terminus of the Northwestern's new line and running on across the White river into Murdo, a town on the Milwaukee line from Chamberlain to the Black Hills District. The new extension of the Burlington will tap a rich section of country and give the Burlington the edge on Tripp and Mellette counties' business, as its lines will give direct connections with Omaha, Lincoln, St. Joseph and Kansas City. The Milwaukee's new line will give direct connections with Sioux Falls, Minneapolis, St. Paul and Chicago while the Northwestern's line now building will continue the direct connections this country now has with Omaha and Sioux City. Mellette county will undoubtedly be opened for settlement next year and another vast section of the Rosebud Indian reservation will be added to the agricultural area of the state. This opening appears to be the incentive for the three roads in their race to build to the new country to be developed.—Omaha World-Herald.

The scarcity of hay in these parts is getting to be quite a trying problem of late, and especially is this so with some of the livery men. It is almost impossible to get any of last year's crop, and that which has been put up this year is hardly in a proper condition to be fed to horses doing hard work or making long drives.

The Grand Island papers state that Owen Conway of Scotia and Miss Gladys Browning of Ord were married by Judge Mullen in that city last Friday afternoon. Both are well known here.

On account of being unable to stop an automobile by sticking his finger in the wheel, Pope Seerley is carrying that member around done up in a package this week.

BOYS AND GIRLS
If you have a Season Ticket you may join the Indian Band at CHAUTAUQUA

Thinking this to be a good time to look over the country and size up the quality and price of land George and Albert McLain left Tuesday morning over the Burlington for York, Lincoln, Blair and a few other places in the eastern part of the state.

The hot weather of last Saturday afternoon did not prevent the boys from Mira Valley and Midvale from playing a good fast game of ball at the fair grounds. The game was interesting throughout and resulted in a victory for the Midvalers by a score of 10 to 8. This is the second game these teams have played, the former one resulting in Mira Valley carrying off the honors. Now comes the rub for the third.

That gasoline is fast stuff and goes all in a bunch was demonstrated to Wm. Nielsen to his entire satisfaction one evening the latter part of the week. While out riding across the river with his Brush machine he struck a high center, and one of the rods broke off, puncturing the gasoline tank and letting the contents run out on the ground. As it was getting dark he took one of the lamps to see what repairs could be made, and in some way or other the flame ignited the gasoline and all the latter tried to burn at the same time. Nielsen was under the car at the time and to say that things were moving lively for a few minutes would be putting it slow for the way the real doings came off. Outside of a little singed hair, some burned clothes, and the paint scorched on the car, no other damage was done.

While on his way home last Saturday evening, upon approaching the west end of the river bridge John Cacka's team began to run, shying to one side and striking the railing of the bridge on the one side and tearing off part of the buggy seat before they were stopped. Cacka then got out of the rig, in which were also his wife and children, and commenced fixing part of the harness which had become disarranged during the horses' fright. Thinking possibly that the team was all over its scare he carelessly laid down the lines, and before he could get hold of them again the horses started to run the second time, Cacka trying all the while to stop them by holding on at their heads. In some way during the run which followed he was struck or knocked on the head so severely that he was compelled to let the team go. Some witnesses to the affair picked him up and brought him back to town for medical services, when it was found that although he was hurt badly about the head it was not of a serious nature, and he will be as good a man as ever in the course of a few days. In the mean time, after the injured man let go of the frightened horses Mrs. Cacka reached over the front seat and got hold of the lines, stopping the horses a little the other side of the bridges, no further damage being done to either the team or rig.

WE WIN AND THEY WIN

Ord Boys Defeat the Scotia Team, But They Win Back the Honors in the Second Game

Last Friday the Scotia ball team came up via the automobile route and crossed bats with our local swat artists. Cushing went on the mound for the Ord team, and Miller undertook to sift a few fast ones over the plate for the visitors.

During the first five or six innings our boys did some good hitting and filed away a couple scores for future use in the game, in case they needed them, while up to that time the visitors had not participated in the festivities so that you could notice it.

However in the eighth the home boys either took pity on them or else they came out of it, possibly the former as they all seemed to be trying to throw the ball away, long enough for them to run in two scores. And the result was that the score was tied.

This put a little more ginger in the home players, and the next time up they lined out three hits in succession, bringing in two scores.

It was an easy matter to hold the visitors down in the last inning, and the game ended with a final score of 4 to 2.

It was a good game throughout, and despite the heat there was good fast playing.

A small crowd witnessed the game, which was possibly due to the short time in which the game was advertised.

Sunday afternoon a return game was played at Scotia between a team composed of some of Ord's regular players, and the balance picked up around town, and a team composed of Scotia and Greeley's best.

The day was about as hot as you could imagine that it could get. But in spite of that there were nine automobiles loaded down with base ball fans and fannies went down to our sister town to help our boys bring home the spoils of victory. But alas, their help was not needed.

With the thermometer standing, we would judge at about 125 degrees, the game started with Ord at the bat, and when the dust cleared away after the first inning we had 4 big scores to our credit, while the others had but 1. Up to this time our boys could see nothing but signs of defeat for the Scotiates hidden in the alfalfa in the outer field. Goodness of heart and respect for our home team compels us to refrain from giving in detail the balance of the game.

However in the fourth inning we again made two scores, and the same number in the eighth, making Ord a total of eight. But that Scotia bunch didn't seem to know when they had enough, and kept soaking the ball out until they had a total of 17 runs chalked up for their side.

The game as a whole reminded us more of a ping-pong game than the good American baseball.

The principal feature of the day, however, was not so much the ball game as the number of automobile tires which exploded on the trip. Out of the nine cars going down only two pulled through with colors flying. Some of them were even compelled to make the return trip on the rim.

The Rich

It is a great mistake to believe that the rich are holding us down. As a matter of fact, they are pulling us up. If there were no rich people to keep our eyes glued upon the great gulf between having and not having, none of us would hustle. We have to have the rich man's mansion prodding us, his power scolding us to get anywhere at all. We have to see his wife and daughters in silks and jewels and realize what our own wives and daughters without these things think of us as providers to peel off our coats and get into the game. None of us can go out driving with such as we have and suffer the rich man to whiz past us in prism glass and burnished brass, throwing dust in our eyes and gasoline in our hair, without doing better in the great area of human endeavor for the next two or three days anyway. Blessed are the rich for they fill us with shame and new resolve and make us wonder what in Sam Hill we have been doing all these years.—Ex.

Last week N. J., J. N. and J. L. Paul went down to Omaha to secure an automobile for the former. They purchased the car and started on their return with one of the best cars to be found down there. Everything went well with them until they started to leave Fremont. As they were pulling out of that place, and as they were crossing the F. E. & M. V. tracks the engine went "dead" and it was impossible to stop the oncoming train. The occupants of the auto were able to get to a place of safety when the train struck the car, dragging it a distance and then upsetting it. Mr. Paul informs us that the car was almost a total loss. We note by the appearance of Paul Seely's paper that he is sure making good, as we knew he would. The Clay County Patriot with Paul at the helm is one of the neatest appearing papers that come to our desk, and his patrons should congratulate themselves upon securing as able an editor.

Last Friday morning Mrs. A. M. Robbins and Dr. Emma Robbins left for a trip to the mountains. They will devote most of their time to viewing Yellowstone Park, but will visit relatives near Denver on their way back. They expect to be gone about three weeks, but they can prolong their stay if they choose to.

Mayor Carson went to Omaha last Friday morning to witness the aeroplane exhibition. He especially commended the Quiz man to be of a look-out for him. If we see any strange object around over head it would probably be Carson looking for a place to light. Before returning to Ord he will visit his old stamping grounds in Henry county, Ill.

At the present time it looks very probable that the basement of the new high school building will not be finished up during the present summer. This, however, is not because the school board would not like to see it completed, and the gymnasium up in shape, but because there is not funds enough on hand to spare for this work, and because there is not time enough now before school will begin again. It is very likely though that this will be put in tip-top shape before another school year rolls around.

C. E. Rasset returned last Friday evening from Dallas, S. D., where he had been for a few days trying to swap his share in a livery barn at that place for some land. But they could not get together on the deal, consequently the barn is still his property. However, while in that locality Rasset called on some of the former Ord people, including Ed Watson. He says that Ed has the finest proposition in the line of land that he saw in that part of the country, and his grain, which includes 55 acres of wheat and 25 of corn, is looking fine. At the present time Watson could readily get $50 an acre for his land.

Democrats and Populists Held Convention

The democrats of this county held a convention at the court house last Friday afternoon for the purpose of electing seven delegates to the state convention, which was held at Grand Island on Tuesday. The following is a list of the delegates elected: Emil Puss, Wm. Portice, C. Walton, A. Norman, A. J. Firkins, John Barnhart and Clem Meyers.

The populists also held a meeting the same afternoon and at the same place, electing their delegates to the state convention, they naming D. I. Rathbun, S. A. Botts, Frank Johnson, Frank Petska, J. A. Ollis, Jr. and H. A. Goodrich. The delegates from each of these meetings went to the state convention unopposed.

Outside of this little other business was transacted and the attendance was quite small.

Miss Victoria Wisda leaves tomorrow for her home at Ord where she has secured a position in the Journal office at that place. Miss Wisda has worked in the Postal Card office for nearly a year and a half and performed her duty at the case very satisfactory, and we wish her success wherever she may be employed.—Merma Postal Card.

The assessed value of merchandise for Valley county, as returned to the State Board of Assessment and equalization, of the year 1910 was $71,171, while in 1909 it was only $64,549.

Picnics.
What does that name recall to your mind? Visions of spiders, ants, toads and other horrid insects not invited? Piles of cake, with only enough bread to go around once—the salt forgotten—so the hard boiled eggs were a "drug in the market." The coffee bottle leaked—so half the quantity was wasted and you went home hungry declaring it was the last picnic you would ever go to.

Well—picnics can be made most delightful. First of all the party must be thoroughly congenial, all well acquainted, even one stranger is apt to make things somewhat formal, but of course this all will depend on the person. Ten or twelve is a good number. The place to go to must not be too far away and it possible should be near water—if only a small stream. The girls should meet and decide upon the lunch—each one knowing definitely what they are to furnish. One will bring the sandwiches, another the cake, pickles, olives, cheese, crackers and jelly, with sugar for coffee and salt being divided between two more. Potatoes to roast and butter falling to another. Corn if in season makes an agreeable addition.

To one may fall the responsibility of seeing that the dishes, coffee pot and table linen are provided. All these little items are carefully talked over. Paper napkins can be used and plates for each one cut out of white stiff paper, with quotations written around. If liked, smaller plates can be made for butter. Small pieces of soft paper should also be provided with which to hold the potato, for they are to be roasted. To the girl who furnishes the sandwiches I will tell her just how. Get a can of corn beef, remove any gristle, chop very fine, then make a dressing, like for cabbage salad. One egg, lump of butter, salt, pepper and mustard, with one cup of vinegar, diluted with water if too strong, is a good rule, boil until it thickens, being careful not to let it curdle; pour this over the meat and mix thoroughly with a spoon.

The bread must not be too fresh, but not dry. Cut in thin slices, spread with butter, then the meat. Out of the crust or not, as you like. To look pretty, these sandwiches can be tied with ribbons in piles of a dozen, pack in a covered paste board box which can be thrown away, saving one basket to carry home. The hard boiled eggs can be left in the shell and each one ornamented with a quotation, or taken out of the shell and wrapped in tissue paper. Cabbage or salmon salad or any kind that is liked can be made and carried in a glass fruit jar. The small dainty pieces of celery are nice if the distance is not far so they will keep fresh, but if the pieces are wrapped in wet paper, then a napkin of a towel put around them they will be found very nice and crisp. Lettuce sandwiches are appetizing if made properly. Use only the small tender leaves, place with a dash or salad dressing between two thin slices of bread.

The can opener and an olive fork must not be forgotten, although a fork pin has been made to serve very well for the latter. Some like radishes, and even onions are not disdained. Supposing the boys furnish the conveyance and driver. Each one must be ready when the wagonette arrives. The baskets are snugly stored away and the merry party start. After arriving the fire should be built and when it is one mass of red coals, take the potatoes, put each one deep under and each ear of corn unhusked. It will take about forty minutes to cook these properly. Meanwhile the table is prepared and when all is ready, not one thing is found missing. People never know what there is in a potato till they have eaten one roasted, with salt and butter.

After the baskets have all been re-packed with the little that is left, dishes, spoons and jars returned to their proper owners, comes the camp fire, around which they all gather, songs and stories told, till the stars and moon illumine the sky and all are reminded that picnics must end. To start at three or four in the afternoon gives ample time, providing the distance is not great, which should not be the case. Generally the mistake is made of going too far and staying too long and having a large party. Fruits, such as bananas, cherries, plums and apples make a welcome addition.

MADAME MERRI.

LANCIE'S OF FASHION

Butterfly motifs are extensively used. Wide stitching is again in vogue for girls. There has been a revival of silver filigree. Some of the chiffon veils are hem-stitched on all four sides. Parasols and stockings match the gown, whether the shoes do or not. White wash ribbons are fast replacing the colored ones for lingerie.

Some Girls' Dresses

The first is a simple sailor dress suitable for either linen or serge. The plain skirt is turned up with a deep hem; the blouse is slipped over the head, therefore no fastening is necessary; white drill or linen collar and cuffs are worn. Materials required: 4 yards 44 inches wide.

The second we show a useful gymnasium dress; the tunic is drawn in at the waist by a belt, and is trimmed with braid at the lower edge, so also are the collar and cuffs; these are of white cloth. About 2 inches of the neckers show below the skirt. Materials required: 5 yards 46 inches wide, 1 dozen yards braid.

The third would also be a good style for gymnasium. It has two wide box-pleats down back and front, and is slightly drawn in at the waist by a band which is crossed in front. Materials required: 5 yards 46 inches wide.

A Conundrum Tea.

Of all the novel and interesting ways of entertaining one's guests I think the Conundrum Tea party took the best, for one given recently was the talk of the town, for several days after its occurrence.

The guests were 26 in number, filling two tables and as two sisters were the hostesses, one presided at each table. Everything in the way of china and floral decorations were simply perfect. At each place was found a card with the name of the person who was to occupy the chair, but besides the name, there was a conundrum. Each guest had the privilege of guessing her own first and if she failed it was passed on to the next person.

The one who guessed the largest number of conundrums received the first prize and the one who answered the least received the "consolation" prize. There were prizes provided for each table. I can assure you there was no lack of conversation. After tea, the prizes were distributed, games were played and from the lateness of the hour when the guests departed I am sure every one had a delightful time.

To Keep Centerpieces.

A large tube or roll of art cardboard or heavy paper, covered with linen and embroidered—or, rather, covered with linen that has been embroidered—will keep centerpieces and like embroideries from showing the wrinkles of careless use. Bookcloth lines this tube, and the whole is fastened and bound with inch-wide satin ribbon, which ends in strings wherewith to fasten the tube after rolling. Place a sheet of blue tissue paper between each two pieces after laying them within; this will keep their color from turning yellow if they are laid away for any considerable length of time.

Jinx's Narrow Escape.

"Jinx broke his leg yesterday, I hear."
"Yes, I saw him do it. I declare, it looked to me like he tried to do it!"
"I am sorry. He had promised to come over to the house and hear my little girl recite this evening."
"Ah, that supplies the motive."

PLANS FOR COUNTRY HOUSE

Outline of Residence Well Adapted for Convenience and Economy of Space and Heating.

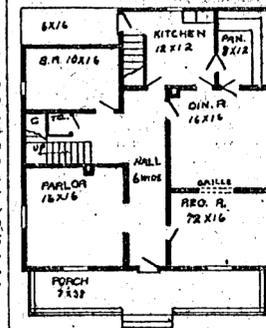

(By J. C. SHAWVER.)
This beautiful residence is equally adaptable to country or city. It is large and well laid out for convenience and economy of space inside and neat and attractive outside.

There are 10 rooms: The reception room is 12x16 feet, the dining-room

Front View.

16x16 feet is connected with the parlor by a grille. The kitchen is 12x12 with a pantry 8x12 feet. The bedroom downstairs is 10x16 feet with a closet under the stairs. The parlor is 16x16 feet. All of these rooms open off the main hall and a telephone booth is also provided in the hall, under the stairway, which is open with newel posts and railing.

Access to the basement is made by way of a stairway leading down from the kitchen.

Upstairs are four large bedrooms, bath and sewing rooms, with ample closets provided for all. There is also a linen closet in the hall.

Second Story.

To rid your garden of ants effectually, you must first find the location of the nests. They can then be easily destroyed by benzol, gasoline, bisulphide of carbon or boiling water.

The large ants which sometimes make their nests above the surface of the grass on the lawn should be destroyed by bisulphide of carbon. Punch a number of holes in the nests and pour a teaspoonful of carbon down each hole. Throw a dark blanket over the holes for a few moments, then remove it and explode the carbon by means of a light at the end of a pole. The slight explosions drive the fumes down through the underground tunnels and destroy the ants.

Care of Cucumbers.
Cucumbers for pickling may be planted as late as the middle of July. Bordeaux mixture three ounces to a gallon of water is an effective remedy for the yellow-striped beetle which attacks cucumbers, melons and squashes in the early summer, and is also the preventive for blight.

If you have only a few vines the bugs may be brushed into a shallow pan and at once transferred to a pail of water containing a tablespoonful of kerosene, which finishes them. This can only be done very early in the morning or after sundown. They are very active during sunshine, but sedentary in the early hours of the day.

Early Potato Blight.
Early potato blight is liable to attack the potato crop at any time from June until the crop is ripe, but is most seriously destructive in July and August. It attacks the foliage. Professor Kohler of the Minnesota experiment station doubts if it will be profitable to spray early plantings of early varieties. If, however, others desire to do so he advises spraying when plants are small and a continuance of the treatment every ten days until at least ten per cent of the leaf surface is dying, when it will be useless to spray longer. In rainy weather spraying should be more frequent.

Keep Up Garden Notes.
Do not neglect to keep up with your notes on the garden. The housewife should have the record book in the pantry and note when the first vegetables are used. This is the only correct way to test varieties and become familiar with the qualities of each. It requires little time to do this yet it gives you much valuable information.

Neatness in Garden.
Too much stress cannot be laid upon neatness in the garden. If faded flowers and fallen leaves are allowed to accumulate the charm that should characterize it is gone, and no amount of bloom can make up for the lack of care which is thus made manifest.

Select Best Hens.
Select your best laying hens and mate them with your best roosters and use the eggs from this flock in hatching. Select the eggs of hens that lay all winter if you want pullets that will lay the year round.

CREATE LOVE FOR THE FARM

Farmers' Co-Operative Demonstration Work Has Solved Problem of Agricultural Life.

(By S. A. KNAPP.)
One of the greatest problems before the American people has been how to interest in rural life and attach to the farm the young man who has acquired a capacity for leadership. The loss of rural leaders by emigration to the city has been one of the most serious retrogressive factors in our whole civilization. The Farmers' Co-operative demonstration work has solved the problem. These young men left the farm because they were repelled by the hardships, excessive toil, and meager gains on the farm and were allured by a seemingly greater opportunity to acquire wealth, influence and position in the city. The demonstration work undertaken to create in the schoolboy a love of the farm and a new hope by showing the wonderful possibilities of the soil was properly managed and the ease with which health and distinction are achieved in rural life when science and art join hands. This is worked out by the co-operation of the demonstration workers, the county superintendent of public instruction, and the teachers.

The superintendent and teachers organize the schoolboys over ten years of age into clubs; the demonstration work furnishes the plan of organization and the instructions (which the boys agree to observe); the respective parents furnish land, teams and implements; the merchants and bankers provide the prizes, and the local papers give the publicity. Each boy must personally work one acre under the same regulations governing all other contestants. The result of 300 in a county entering such a contest in a county enters intense interest. The boy learns the best way to raise corn or cotton and his appreciation of the farm is greatly enhanced.

The boys in the corn contest of one county in Mississippi last year averaged a production of 74 bushels of corn per acre, while the farmers averaged less than 20. In South Carolina one boy raised 152½ bushels on a measured acre, while the state average was 16.

The Stomach Hold.
Col. H. N. Renouf, at the "Old Guard" banquet at Delmonico's, emphasized the importance to an army of a good commissariat.

"You have perhaps heard," he said, "of the company of privates that a patriotic lady entertained one Memorial day to dinner."

"It was a good dinner, and at its end a pretty maid servant entered with a superb dessert."

"Dessert, sergeant!" she said to the stalwart soldier at the head of the table.

"Dessert?" the sergeant answered. "When I can get eats like this for rotbin? Nixie! Not me!"

ROUTT COUNTY, COLORADO, LAND BOOM PREDICTED.
Keen observers predict a big boom in property in Wantland, Colorado, the new town which is being built in the center of the Little Snake River Valley in Routt County, Colorado. A big irrigation system is being built to irrigate 60,000 acres of very fine land surrounding Wantland. The land is being sold by the State of Colorado for 50 cents per acre, under the Carey Act, and water rights cost $35.00 an acre, in ten year payments. Sugar factories, flour mills, canneries, etc., are among the possible industries to be located at Wantland. Full information can be obtained from the Routt County Colonization Company, 1734 Welton St., Denver, Colo.

What Ails You?
Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach gnaw or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal forest plants. Autolite and Optics.
"Is not auto driving terribly hard on the eyes?" we asked.
"Well, I guess not," replied the chauffeur, withering us with scorn. "Why, before I got in running, a car I was thinkin' o' gettin' runnin', my eyesight was that poor I couldn't see the contribution box in church until it was so near past me it was too late to dig for any money. But I hadn't been runnin' that wagon two days till I could see a policeman's 'little finger stickin' out from behind a tree four miles away. I could even see which way a copper's eyeballs were turned if he was standin' in the shade three miles off. Hard on the eyes! Well, not much! It's the best medicine for weak eyes that was ever invented, don't you forget it."

I hereby announce that I will be a candidate for Republican nomination for a second term as County Attorney, at the primary election, August 16, 1910.

CLAUDE A. DAVIS.

Announcement

I announce myself as republican candidate for member of the House of Representatives from the 55th district, asking the favor of the republican voters, to support me at the primary election day. Yours truly,
JOHN CEPLECHA.

And they would not let Bryan talk—the most unkindest out of all.

Give the democrats time and they will always hang themselves.

A. E. Cady will be the republican nominee for governor, and he will be elected.

There is still the consolation left to Mr. Bryan that he can vote the republican ticket if he wants to.

When the democrats refused to let Bryan make his little talk they threw over their shoulders a fine opportunity to hear a good speech.

Forty years ago last Wednesday the first issue of the Lincoln State Journal appeared, and in honor of the event that paper reproduces the front page of the first paper and also many of the news items published in that sheet.

What is an insurgent republican? Speaker Cannon says that they are republicans opposed to corrupt interests and their republican tools, including Cannon. If republicans generally had not already decided which was right the conduct of Speaker Cannon lately ought to convince everyone that the insurgents are right.

The refusal of the democrats to let Bryan even speak to the question which he has agitated so much lately may have a very marked effect upon the voters of Nebraska. Whatever may be said of Bryan and his methods he is still a hero with a great many democrats and they are liable to resent the brutal treatment he received at the hands of the party which he has led for the past fifteen years.

With the democrats at loggerheads and opposed by the populists and with a legislative record to be ashamed of there is no question now of the election of the entire republican state ticket. This was freely admitted on all hands at Grand Island Tuesday.

Whatever other follies may be contained in the democratic platform adopted at Grand Island this week there was not the folly of saying a word in favor of the present democratic legislature and its abominable work. The democrats want their work at Lincoln eighteen months ago forgotten as soon as possible. Yet they have the effrontery to declare that they deserve the confidence of the people.

Last week Speaker Cannon made a few speeches in Kansas intended to help the democrats elect congressmen in the place of the so-called "insurgent" republican congressmen of that state. Cannon is a big gun, but he woke up some bigger ones out in the Jayhawker state. Immediately following his addresses Congressmen Murdock and Bristow came out of the hiding and let loose a lot of things about Cannon that the people were not fully aware of. Cannon better stay on his own pinnacle if he has any fight to make against the so-called insurgents.

Mrs. Harriet S. MacMurphy, representing the Nebraska Food, Drug and Dairy Commission, is making a systematic canvass of the larger towns of the state in the interest of the great question of pure food. When Nebraska first woke up to the importance of looking more carefully into the condition of its animal foods sent from the state as well as those used herein the fact was known that some of our great farm products commanded a very marked discount in price on account of the carelessness of the commission in the matter of inspection. Take eggs, for instance, we got from three to five cents per dozen for these when shipped from the state on account of the condition of this product, which means millions of good hard dollars. The commission has now set out to correct this condition and this is the work of Mrs. MacMurphy. She goes into the county seat towns and makes tests of the eggs, as well as looking after other foods, the sanitary conditions of stores, etc., and she is pleased to know that already there is a marked improvement in the condition of the eggs to be found in the stores. She wishes us to call special attention to the fact that it is not only the merchant, but also the farmer who is liable for prosecution for offering bad eggs for sale. In fact the farmer is the one who ought to be held most rigidly to account for this and she says that it is the purpose of the commission to prosecute farmers who bring bad eggs to market. Eggs should not be kept too long, and when kept they should be kept in a cool place. But another thing is that they should be kept clean. Dirty eggs are always put in class two no matter how fresh they are. Bear these things in mind, farmers, and it will be money in your pockets. Mrs. MacMurphy called on the Quiz yesterday.

Politics of One Day

Tuesday was political day for Nebraska. On that day all the political parties met, according to law and adopted their platforms and settled their internal scraps, but of course they had nothing to do about the nomination of state tickets.

Probably the greatest interest was manifested in the Grand Island convention, for the public knew that a great battle was on and that there Bryan would make the fight of his life. The spectacular features of this convention, however, were somewhat lessened by reason of the strong hand of the opposition to Bryan. Fearing to allow him to have his say the program was mapped out so as to cut him out from making a speech on the resolutions. G. M. Hitchcock had things all his way and his fear of Bryan was manifest in the motion to have all resolutions referred to the committee without debate. This simply meant that they dare not allow Bryan a chance to open on them till the platform was adopted. Bryan and his followers, of course, opposed this but the program was carried out to the letter and Bryan met his defeat at the hands of his former lieutenants, and worshippers.

The committee was composed of six brewery advocates and one county optionist, Mr. Bryan, the latter being given the second place on the committee.

The majority adopted an anti-county option plank for their report, but Bryan made a minority report including a rather mild county option plank. They kept him from talking before the report was read, but now he has his time and for two hours he handed out hot stuff to the democrats. He has made more eloquent addresses than the one he made there, but never a more vituperous and cutting one. He did not mince his words at all. He told the democrats that they had been turned over to the breweries and defied them to deny it.

Bryan recognized that defeat was staring him in the face, and told the audience so, but he met his Waterloo like a man, and in a way that will give him a higher standing in the estimation of his peers. Forseeing the outcome of the impending vote he said that for twenty years he had carried the banner of democracy and through it all he had kept it clean and pure, but now he must turn it over to a bunch of men who, he knew, would trample it into the mire.

The populists did not seem to cut much ice in Grand Island. Very little is said of them in the reports, except that they adopted a county option platform and pledged themselves to vote for no candidate but those favorable to that proposition. Of course this pledges Ollis to vote against Botts.

The republican convention held at Lincoln was a great meeting and proceeded with its deliberations in an enthusiastic manner. It was very largely dominated by the county optionists and the plank they adopted on this question was strong and unmistakable. It was adopted by a vote of 558 to 280.

The grip which the brewers and saloon interests of Nebraska have upon the democratic party is plainly manifest in the proceedings at Grand Island this week. In spite of the vehement opposition of Bryan and his followers the county option plank was kicked out in the street and rolled into the gutter in a manner characteristic of the powers which defeated the issue. The breweries will spend their money to accomplish the success of the democratic ticket if possible and you may be sure they will have plenty of money ready. The overwhelming manner in which the republicans accepted county option shows that the saloons had given up the fight in that party early in the game. Their money was spent to capture the democratic party and they did it.

The issue is now fairly and squarely drawn. By a majority of more than two to one the republicans at their state convention adopted county option as a plank in their platform. By a still more decisive majority the democrats repudiated that issue, even though it was fought for there by Mr. Bryan in the struggle of his life. The populists, though small in number, also favored the idea of county option and pledged themselves to support no candidates not in favor of that question. For once the populists and republicans agree on an important question and the former are in opposition to their old-time allies, the democrats. Verily the saloon question makes strange bedfellows.

Last Friday the republican county convention was held at the court house along about the same time as the other conventions. S. N. Arnold was chosen chairman and W. W. Haskell secretary. The main work to do was to elect delegates to the state convention, which work was taken up at once. It was decided to place names before the convention by nomination and then ballot, each voter writing seven names. The election resulted in the following as delegates: Peter Mortensen, Walter Rood, E. J. Babcock, G. H. Kinsey, W. W. Haskell, E. S. King and Claude A. Davis. A resolution was then passed with practically a unanimous approval instructing the delegates to work and vote for a county option plank in the republican state platform and pledging our candidates to favor a law to the same effect. The election of a new central committee was postponed till after primaries, the date of the adjournment for this purpose being fixed at Friday, August 19. There were about forty present at the meeting.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—NO. 8

The Cellar Hole and the Sewer Hole

By Herbert Kaufman.

A coal cart stopped before an office building in Washington and the driver dismounted, removed the cover from a manhole, ran out his chute, and proceeded to empty the load. An old negro strolled over and stood watching him. Suddenly the black man glanced down and immediately burst into a fit of uncontrollable laughter, which continued for several minutes. The cart driver looked at him in amusement. "Say, Uncle," he asked, "do you always laugh when you see coal going into a cellar?" The negro sputtered around for a few moments and then holding his hands to his aching sides managed to say, "No, sah, but I jest busts when I sees it goin' down a sewer."

The advertiser who displays lack of judgment in selecting the newspapers which carry his copy often confuses the sewer and the cellar.

All the money that is put into newspapers isn't taken out again by any means. The fact that all papers possess a certain physical likeness doesn't by any means signify a similarity in character, and it's character, in a newspaper that brings returns. The editor who conducts a journalistic sewer finds a different class of readers than the publisher who respects himself enough to respect his readers.

What goes into a newspaper largely determines the class of homes into which the newspaper goes. An irresponsible, scandal-mongering, muck-raking sheet is logically not supported by the buying classes of people. It may be perused by thousands of readers, but such readers are seldom purchasers of advertised goods.

It's the clean-cut, steady, normal-minded citizens who form the bone and sinew and muscle of the community. It's the sane, self-respecting, dependable newspaper that enters their homes and it's the home sale that indicates the strength of an advertising medium.

No clean-minded father of a family wishes to have his wife and children brought in contact with the most maudlin and banal phases of life. He defends them from the sensational editor and the unpleasant advertiser. He subscribes to a newspaper which he does not fear to leave about the house.

Therefore, the respectable newspaper can always be counted upon to produce more sales than one which may even own a larger circulation but whose distribution is in ten editions among unprofitable citizens.

You can no more expect to sell goods to people who haven't money than you can hope to pluck oysters from bushes.

It isn't the number of readers reached but the number of readers whose purses can be reached that constitutes the value of circulation. It's one thing to arouse their attention, but it's a far different thing to get their money. The mind may be willing, but the pocketbook is weak.

If you had the choice of a thousand acres of desert land or a hundred acres of oasis, you'd select the fertile spot, realizing that the larger tract had less value because it would be less productive.

Just so the advertiser who really understands how he is spending his money does not measure by bulk alone. He counts productivity first. He takes care that he is not putting his money into a sewer.

Uncle Walt, the Poet Philosopher
You are wasting your lives! Like the bees in their hives you work for the large silver wheel; and you stick to the job till your nerves are a-throw and life is run down at the heel. With molling have done! Get out in the sun and take from Dame Nature a fall; if your future seems dark, chase yourself to the park and look at the fellows play ball. I used to be tied to a desk weary-eyed and longed for release from life's ills; I anchored my hope to the horse doctor's dope, and filled up my inwards with pills. Then a friend came along—he was forceful and strong, and he carried me off, rough and all, and I sat on a board and I howled and I roared as the boys on the diamond played ball. Now I'd think it a shame if I should miss a game and I go at my labors with vim; and my liver's all right, and my nerves are a sight, and the dope is no more in the swim. When your feeling too old and all covered with mold, and your picture seems turned to the wall, hire a livery shank and go out to the park, and look at the fellows play ball!—Walt Mason.

Little Helen Jensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jensen, figured in a runaway yesterday afternoon, that fortunately ended with no serious results. She was accompanying Mrs. C. E. Browne and her two children to town from a visit with the folks. When in the vicinity of the river bridge the horse became unmanageable and commenced to run, spilling out all of the occupants. Mrs. Browne, we were told, sustained severe injuries to her shoulder and otherwise bruised up, while the two children sustained minor injuries. The Jensen girl sustained some slight injuries about the face and arms. After the accident she started to walk home and had not gone far before being overtaken by Mrs. Hill, who brought her to town. Dr. Fenstermacher was summoned to the Browne residence and administered medical assistance.

One evening last week Bertha, the fourteen year old daughter of James Carmody residing one mile west of town, was hurt by her horse being frightened at an automobile. She was out riding horseback, accompanied by a companion, Miss Yetter. They were coming south on the road leading north of Yetter's when an automobile, said to belong to parties in Anselmo frightened the pony that Miss Carmody was riding. The horse threw her and in the fall she sustained a broken hand below the wrist. It was dark and the girls did not see the auto approaching. The auto carried no lights nor sounded the warning signal. The suffering girl was brought to the physician by the father and had the hand dressed and put into a plaster cast. Mr. Carmody was out walking and happened to stop at the Yetter home when the pony came running in riderless. Recognizing the pony as that which his daughter was riding he realized that something must have befell her. He hastened towards the place from whence the pony came and shortly afterwards was guided to the place by cries of the girl. Mr. Carmody promises to take the matter up with the proper authorities and ascertain if it is lawful to run an automobile after dark without displaying proper lights and the failure to judiciously use the fog horn.

Three Books and a Boy.
The late Governor John Johnson of Minnesota, started life as the son of a village drunkard. He had apparently little chance to learn anything for he left school at thirteen to help support the family. His first work was in a grocery, his next in a drug store washing bottles and tending the soda fountain. One day a man who was interested in the hard-working little lad saw him with a trashy book, so the story goes, and made him an offer. If John would agree to read "The Conquest of Mexico," "The Conquest of Peru" and "Ivanhoe," he would give him a semi-annual subscription to the local library. The offer was accepted and John went to work on the three books nominated in the bond.

After this no more trashy books for him; when the six months were up he paid for another subscription himself. Cut off from school and college, he had found a way to learn the best things. He did his work faithfully but a good standard book was in hand at odd minutes. A general storekeeper noticed this when he stopped at the drug store. He made up his mind that here was an unusual boy. He offered John a place with a raise of salary. John took the situation, and as he had to sleep in the store, he improvised a private room at the back and there delivered orations from his favorite books with another clerk as critic. At twenty-five John Johnson was an industrious, respected, widely known young citizen. When an editor was wanted for the local paper, he was chosen. His rise was steady and he was one of the important leaders of America.

It all began with those three books. Suppose John Johnson had preferred to stick to trashy ones—what would have happened? Are there not young people who read this true incident who need to think about the difference those three books made, and apply the idea at home?
The love of good books is one of the strongest defenses against temptation. It provides a man with a new and brighter world, into which he can retire at will and hold intercourse with the wise and good. Nothing in Dickens' works is more touching than the picture of his child-life which he gives in David Copperfield. He shows us how easily he might have gone wrong had it not been for one great power and influence that cast a spell over him—the love of books. In this dismal and solitary garret, he was not alone for he had the cheerful companionship of his books, and they kept him pure in thought, shrewd in intellect, and right in life, even in the midst of a crowded city, with its myriad dangers and temptations. What books did for Charles Dickens, they will do for us. The Apostle Paul never gave Timothy better advice than when he urged the young man to give attendance to reading.—Aitkens in "Moral Muscle."

Zack Foster, a ranchman from the Ainsworth neighborhood, was in the city the latter part of the week. He returned to his home Monday morning accompanied by Joe Carkoske who will look over a bunch of horses and mules which Foster has for sale, and if they look good to Joe he will probably bring some of them back with him.

FRANK DIXON FINISHED SCHOLAR

The "Insurgent" Chautauqua Lecturer.

Such men as Frank Dixon are preserving for this age the traditional standards established more than a generation ago for the lecture platform by Phillips, Gough and Beecher. What are the essential qualities of an ideal Chautauqua lecturer? It must be popular. Truth logically conceived, eloquently unfolded and dramatically proclaimed must appeal to any audience. The business of the successful platform man is to bring a purposeful message to his hearers and deliver it to them in language and manner understandable. He must "put his cookies on the lower shelf." An audience must feel that the speaker is the master of his theme and that he is dealing authoritatively with vital issues. Mr. Dixon realizes that dullness is not depth and that the profoundest truths may be told in the simplest manner.

He does not insult his hearers with frivolous jokes, but his address is pregnant with refined humor. There is fun enough, but fun with a purpose. He requires neither stale anecdotes nor an alarm clock to keep an audience awake.

Though born, reared and educated in keeping with the traditions of a southern aristocrat Mr. Dixon has devoted the best years of his life to deep study of the social and economic questions of the day. Not so much by temperament as by his study and investigation he is an "insurgent" in the broadest sense of the word.

His late popular lecture "The Square Deal," is a plea for social reconstruction. It is revolutionary but not anarchistic. He shows that governments have without exception been built on the theory that a square deal should not be accorded to the masses—special privilege the controlling principle. He assails the courts of the land in no uncertain terms and with a logic that is based upon the history of jurisprudence since the Magna Charta was wrested from the unwilling King John.

He makes an eloquent appeal for laws that will squeeze the water out of every corporation and he says that complaisant public opinion that tolerates immunity to the rich criminal but insists upon the pound of flesh from the poor devil.

"Through tattered clothes small vices do appear; Robes and furr'd gowns hide all. Plate sin with gold, And the strong lance of Justice hurtle-shake it in rags, a pigmy's straw doth pierce it."—Shakespeare.

Dr. Frank Dixon is the most finished and scholarly orator of the age and to have heard him is to have listened to the best that the American nation has ever produced.

If you must miss every other number on the Chautauqua program plan to hear Frank Dixon.

LOVELAND TO THE RESCUE.

Great Western Divine Proves to Be the Man of the Hour.

While Dr. Frank LaFayette Loveland, of Omaha, has acquired a national reputation as a great preacher and orator, it may not be known that he is the highest salaried clergyman west of Chicago. And this from a congregation that was badly dilapidated and discouraged no longer than four years ago.

The church had an overwhelming debt. Several ministers tried the place and failed to resurrect it. Dr. Loveland was successful from the first day there.

On the evening of last Thanksgiving day a release for the last dollar of the many debts was read aloud. The church has been put on a business basis; the congregation owns one of the finest properties in the city. Dr. Loveland's salary has been steadily increased, and he has been given two assistant pastors, which fortunately permits him to devote some time to the lecture platform.

It is because Loveland is a man of great business capabilities, that the natural result has been accomplished. It is because Loveland is a man of tremendous platform and pulpit ability that large as his church is, it is still incapable of taking care of the crowds of people who want to hear him preach.

The question "Why Church Pew Are Empty" has never troubled Loveland.

A Chicago Preacher Coming to CHAUTAUQUA

Dr. Frederick R. Hopkins.

When a pastor of Plymouth church, Dr. Hopkins asserted that society women were becoming habitual drinkers in the restaurants and that social vice was fostered in the shadow of city churches, it created a furor that threatened to drive the fearless preacher from his pulpit. But he proved it to the people and the press and the greatest crusade of a generation was begun in Chicago. Hopkins is a popular lecturer and will please you at

CHAUTAUQUA

FOUR TUNEFUL BROTHERS.

Coming to the Chautauqua With Good Voices, Good Instrumentation and a Good Program of Popular Readings.

The Weatherwax Brothers Male Quartette, as the name implies, is composed of four brothers. This renders the organization unique. Their voices have not only the musical blend that comes of careful selection with reference to volume, quality and natural pitch, but there is added the family characteristic as well. There is a harmony of the blood as well as of the voice. Add to this the strong family resemblance in faces and forms and you have a modulated, balanced, harmonized quartette that is in a class by itself.

From the very beginning this Male Quartette has scored a splendid success. They are young men of class and spirit. They want to please and bend their energies to that end. There are always many encores at a Weatherwax entertainment. The people can not get enough of their work. Refined culture and real musical ability combine in this quartette to a degree that assures their success being complete everywhere.

One careful observer, after hearing them a number of times remarked "One is reminded of open field work when he watches a Weatherwax performance. There is the strong laid visionally and the constant suggestion of team work as well. Every time one comes up to bat, you expect him to make a home run." The care with which their programs are arranged—with serious and humorous selections in proper variety and relation—caused another critic to characterize their work as "wholesome and lively, put together just right."

In addition to all the usual musical numbers, solos and catchy encores the Trumpet Quartette of this organization is a most pleasing feature. There is a dash and spirit to it that is refreshing and a heroic element that appeals to everyone.

Nowadays no quartette is considered complete without a reader of ability, but the Weatherwax Quartette is fortunate enough to have two, both of whom are artists of high grade. The truth is that every feature presented by this splendid organization of brothers is delivered with the grace and ease that distinguish the work of professionals from that of amateurs. They will be welcomed by enthusiastic thousands throughout the territory of the Western Redpath Chautauqua System, where their time is all taken for the coming season.

THATCHER SONG RECITAL.

A Young Man With a Big Reputation

Burton Thatcher is a young man, a very young man. He was born some thing over twenty years ago in Pennsylvania and before he or his parents realized it he was studying music. At the age of seventeen he went to Chicago and devoted himself to special voice training under the masters of two continents.

He has sung leading baritone parts in grand opera companies, has helped the Katherine Ridgway company to achieve its deserved reputation, and during eight months of last year he filled solo engagements and gave recitals in thirty-three states. The greatest critics pronounce him a prodigy. His fame is growing and this season he is traveling independent for the first time.

Mr. Thatcher gives a Chautauqua audience a delightful hour's entertainment. It is a lecture-recital, but this should not be interpreted to mean a dull dissertation on the theory of vocal music. The classics are discussed and anecdotes are sung from the celebrated operas. Folk songs are explained as to birth and history, and no one can sing them better than Thatcher. Unlike many master musicians, he enjoys the catchy, rollicking popular airs of the day, and he has a repertoire that is almost beyond conception. The management likes Thatcher; everybody who knows him likes Thatcher, and you will like Thatcher. Just because he is a musical genius it does not argue that he is not a clever fellow to meet and a whole souled companion.

Miss Mary Wilson Cook is the accomplished accompanist with the Thatcher company and you will like her too.

We are to have the real picture plays produced by Mr. Albert Armstrong. These are new to the Chautauqua world. Armstrong got his picture for "Lorna Doon" in the Doune valley where the original drama was enacted. His programs are marvels of beauty.

Heart Trouble from Childhood

"I suffered with my heart from girlhood; could not sleep on left side. Eleven bottles of Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy removed all these troubles, and brought complete recovery." MRS. H. C. CRUSE, San Francisco, Calif.

The life of the body is the blood. It runs on and on, carrying nourishment and gathering up impurities as long as life lasts—the heart makes it go. When the heart is weak it cannot do this, and dizzy spells, palpitation, short breath, indicate that it is doing its work imperfectly.

Dr. Miles' Heart Remedy strengthens the heart nerves and muscles, and restores normal action to the heart.

The first bottle will benefit; if not, your druggist will return your money.

Repeating Shotgun

This new 6-shot model is the simplest, surest, and fastest 12-gauge repeater made. It has the solid top, side ejection, and double extractor—special Marlin features of comfort and convenience. The closed-in breech keeps the action clean and the shells dry—keeps out rain, snow, dirt, leaves twigs and sand.

The new take-down construction allows you to take gun apart in ten seconds for cleaning or packing, yet the joint is always as firm and rigid as in a solid frame, no take-down gun. The fat forearm fits your hand, and helps quick operation.

The full choked gun is guaranteed close-shooting, hard-hitting gun, and is unequalled for ducks, geese, foxes and all long-range work.

A circular giving large illustration, with full description of this handsome new gun, sent free on request with complete charge catalog for 3 stamps.

The laying of the corner stone of the new Baptist church at Horace on Tuesday was the attraction to draw Rev. and Mrs. Benjamin, Mrs. A. F. Barber and Mrs. H. H. Berry to Horace Tuesday morning. They returned on the evening train.

Sixteen years ago yesterday and today were the terrible hot winds of 1894, which cooked the last vestige of hope from the hearts of our people. These were Saturday and Sunday, July 26 and 27. Of the two awful days Sunday was the worst. The south by south west sides of all trees were cooked and such trees as are still standing show the marks of the heat to this day.

Among those who went from here to attend the democratic and populist state conventions at Grand Island Tuesday we noticed A. J. Firkins, A. Norman, Alvin Blessing, Chas. Nelson, Wm. Hunt, Smith Burrows and Editor Davis. But there were a great many more went down to see the fun.

Dr. Barnes, the eyesight specialist of Omaha will again visit Ord and will be at the hotel Wednesday, August 3rd, afternoon only. All patients examined free. Regular visits have been made for the last ten or twelve years. Call as early as convenient and don't forget the date.

The first motorcycle arrived in town the first of the week and is the property of Marenus Sorensen. It is a one-cylinder Flying Markel and by the way Marenus gets over the ground we would judge that it is a dinger. He also has the agency for this county.

Last Wednesday the fifteen month's old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Marks drank a quantity of kerosene, and for a time the child was in a bad condition. Nothing serious resulted however, and he is about all right again.

Mrs. Peter Mortensen gave a reception at her home yesterday afternoon in honor of Mrs. John Klinker, who arrived in Ord Tuesday for a visit with friends. There were many ladies present in spite of the terrific heat.

The latest reports from Mrs. Minnie Freeman Penny are that she is recovering from the injuries she received from a runaway horse at Hot Springs, S. D., and that the first fears raised by the press dispatches were unwarranted.

A six and a half pound boy came Wednesday to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Whitney. Mother and child are getting along nicely, and papa is all smiles and as a result is taking a few days off from his labors as mail clerk on the Grand Island run.

Henry Vanhynind and grandson, Leslie Delapp, of Long Beach, California, are spending a couple of weeks in the city visiting with the former daughter, Mrs. S. W. Morrow and family. They had been in Iowa on a visit and took this opportunity of calling on relatives here.

BUSINESS VS. PROFESSION

Two Town Teams Play Game That Would Make Some of the Leagues Take a Back Seat

That all of the leading ball players of our city are not players on the first team is perhaps due to their modesty and backwardness in not coming out of their shell and showing what they can really do when it comes to ball tossing. Last Tuesday afternoon a game was pulled off at the fair grounds between two local teams, one supposed to be business men, and the other of the professional brand. A great deal of the playing, and especially the base running, would have made some of the professionals sit up and take notice. The chief qualification for a player was that no one who had played in a game during the past year could be a chief actor.

Before the players took their positions, which they acquired in a sort of catch-as-catch-can shape, you would have thought it a game between the leans and the fats. Afterwards you would have taken it for a game between two teams at the institute for the blind.

Burger for the business men and Parks for the professionals did their damndest to ally the slaughter and catch behind the bat. C. Burke, the auburn haired, sunny dispositioned, little Irish boy, made frantic endeavors to hold down first and keep his back hair straight. Watson tore up the turf around second, and ran down the ball for the pitcher, while a newspaper man made himself conspicuous at short. John McAnulty endeavored to lower his weight by executing Marathon races around third, and putting up his frail body as a bunting post for Robbins. Koupal pitched a good game, and his post-anger twist was almost impossible to connect with, and the tender hearted fellow succeeded in pulling through by wounding only four. Bartley, Sershen, and Beranek took their stand out in the alfalfa and did equally as well as the rest, if not worse.

For the professional men, anybody that wanted to pitch seemed to be equal to the occasion. Orin Mutter started the ball rolling, and the charm of his twirling seemed to be in his lavender socks and inability to put 'em over. He threw a kind of boomerang ball, that is if it got anywhere near the batter it generally went back again (most of the time over the fielders) without the catcher interfering with it. Dr. Gard tried it for one round, but he couldn't keep both feet on the ground and deliver the ball, and as it was pretty hard work to hold his weight on one foot he excused himself very politely and turned the job over to Rev. Keenley. Now that is just where the professionals saved the day, for up to that time the business men lead by a neck. His corkscrew curves were passed up like a country town by a freight train, and the victims went down almost in one, two, three order. Robbins rambled round second like a pet papoose, and we don't know, but it is said when he wanted to make time he got down and rolled. Mutter, Orcutt and Timm took turns in dodging the swift ones at short and third, while Attorney Olsson and Dr. Taylor were holding down positions out in the green. The principal points of their playing was for both to make a rush for the ball, stop ten feet short, let it light and then bump heads picking it up.

Up to the last of the third inning the business men were in the lead, score standing 8 to 6, but in the fatal fourth the professionals run in 7 more, while in the fifth they crossed the plate 5 times, and at the same time handing their opponents a couple of horse collars. Thus the final was 18 to 8.

During the last two innings, we were informed by some of the on-lookers upon whose integrity we could rely, that some of the professionals got the bases tangled in their thinker, running to third instead of first, and then right back to home again. But as the business men didn't find this out until after the game was all over it was useless to make any kick.

The decisions were dishd out by Rev. Maynard, and so just were they, and passed out with such a conscientious air of "I know it's right," that even though we think he made a few bum calls we are not going to make any howl or tell our readers about it.

We understand that a return match is being lined up for next week, with Dr. Miller behind the bat for the professionals and Carl Johnson for the business men. One side says we can do it again and the other says you're another.

Mrs. Waterman departed last Saturday for quite a long trip, if she completes the journey she has mapped out. Lincoln and Syracuse, Nebraska, several Iowa points and Buffalo, N. Y. It has been 42 years since she was in the latter city, and she does not expect to see much there of what she saw then.

Mrs. Lou Penaz went to Omaha last Friday for treatment at the Methodist hospital, accompanied by her husband. She has been sick for some time.

Mrs. Wm. Gibson returned to her home at Grand Island Monday morning, after a visit at the Geo. Gibson home at this place.

After a visit with relatives at Omaha for a couple weeks, Forest Johnson returned home last Thursday evening.

Washington.

The officials of both the state and navy departments are closely watching the developments in the fight of Estrada and Madriz forces in Nicaragua.

Chico Baca, who was one of Aleya's closest supporters, has resigned as minister general of the Madriz cabinet in Nicaragua, according to advices sent to the state department.

The text of the long-heralded Manchurian convention between Japan and Russia, signed July 4 at St. Petersburg, was made public. It is one of the shortest important treaties of modern times, being just 237 words in length.

William Pittman, the American engineer captured by Madriz and confined in a prison cell in Managua, is reported by American Consul Olivares at Managua to be ill with malarial fever, although his condition is said not to be serious.

The application of the supposedly financial ruling of President Taft on what constitutes whisky, may be suspended for some time as the result of Louisiana courts acting on a petition of representatives of the so-called whisky trust.

Unless further neglect and mistreatment is shown by the Madriz government toward William Pittman, the American engineer now held in Managua as a prisoner of war, the state department will leave his case in the hands of United States Consul Olivares in Managua.

The interstate commerce commission announced Monday that the recently filed tariffs making advances in the freight rates on cattle and dressed beef between Chicago and New York had not been suspended. The matter arose through an inquiry from an important New York business house as to the proposed rates.

Foreign.

The elaborate national given King Edward's cost the nation $202,500, as is shown in the supplementary financial estimate.

Dr. Leslie Dodd Ward of Newark, N. J., vice president of the Prudential Insurance company, died in London. Dr. Ward was not in good health when he sailed from New York and his condition gradually grew worse after his arrival in London.

At Cracow, Galicia, a great three-day's national Polish festival in celebration of the 600th anniversary of the battle of Tannenberg, in which the Polish and Lithuanian army defeated and broke the power of the Teutonic order began with the unveiling of a monument to King Ladislaw Jagello.

The Glasgow board of trade return shows that during the five months ending May 31, no fewer than 29,535 passengers left the Clyde for places out of Europe. Of these 41,401 were bound for the United States and 15,055 for Canada, thirteen for Australia, and sixty-six for other places. In the month of May alone 4,603 left for Canada and 2,837 for the United States.

Military aviators engaged in a mimic aerial battle at Vincennes, the Blues, representing the attacking force, beat the Reds, the defending force. Both forces carried guns to a height of 100 meters (about 325 feet).

TO SEND A CRUISER

Washington.—Fear exists that Edwin W. Trimmer, United States consul at Cape Gracias, Nicaragua, may be assaulted or even assassinated, wherefore he has been decided to send the cruiser Tacoma to the port to investigate and it conditions seem to demand it to land marines to protect American lives and property. This was the report made to the state department by Thomas P. Moffat, United States consul at Bluefields.

THE AMERICANS ARE DISLIKED

Official Madriz Organ is Bitter in Its Attitude and Calls United States Common Enemy of the Race.

Washington.—Fear exists that Edwin W. Trimmer, United States consul at Cape Gracias, Nicaragua, may be assaulted or even assassinated, wherefore he has been decided to send the cruiser Tacoma to the port to investigate and it conditions seem to demand it to land marines to protect American lives and property. This was the report made to the state department by Thomas P. Moffat, United States consul at Bluefields.

Two officers and forty-five men were ordered to Cape Gracias on the Tacoma, this action having been decided on after a conference between himself and Commander Hines of the DuPage.

It was because of the continual abuse of the governor and other officials of the Madriz government at Cape Gracias that the fear arose for the safety of the American consul there. An article published in La Nacion, an official Madriz organ published at Managua, indicates the feeling in Nicaragua against Americans. In part it reads as follows:

"We Nicaraguans have some limited means to which we may resort as a final recourse if it comes to the point that the Yankee tries to execute his threat; let us lay hands on all the North Americans residing in Nicaragua and let us say to Mr. Taft: 'For each shot you hurl against us, a head of one of your countrymen shall roll on the ground.'"

"Another of the means to which we may resort to for revenge for so great an injury—and for this I do not believe we are less able than the young Turks—let us organize, in the form of a powerful coalition, an active propaganda, to the end that in all the Latin-American countries no goods shall be purchased from the United States, making our people understand that this is the most efficacious method of combating the common enemy of our race; so proud on account of its pride, and so detestable on account of its insolence."

Des Moines.—Governor B. F. Carroll has been indicted for criminal libel by the Polk county grand jury, which returned the bill against the governor. The indictment is the outgrowth of a lengthy investigation by the grand jury of affairs at the Iowa industrial school for girls at Mitchellville. It is alleged in the bill that the governor made libelous statements concerning John Coyne, former chairman of the state board of control, in an article published in the Des Moines Capital on May 24, in which the governor set forth at length his reasons for demanding the resignation of Mr. Cowley.

Only Men Are Wanted. Washington.—Women stenographers apparently are no longer wanted in the government service. This announcement was made at the civil service commission in an effort to put a stop to a steadily increasing flood of letters from women throughout the country who seek information about the examination for stenographers to be held next week in all the states and territories. This examination is for the purpose of recruiting men stenographers and typists, the demand for whom the civil service commission has been unable to meet.

Madero Is Released. San Luis Potosi, Tex.—Francisco I. Madero, candidate of the anti-electionist party for president of Mexico, who has been held in prison on a charge of defaming President Diaz, has been released on a bond of $3,000.

Killed by an Auto. Kansas City.—Miss Bessie Cox, twenty-seven years old, was struck by a speeding automobile driven by a negro and received injuries from which she died two hours later.

Demolished by Explosion. Friedrichshafen, Germany.—The gas works of the Zeppelin Airship company have been demolished by an explosion, in which nine persons were injured.

Five Dead in Forest Fire. Winnipeg.—Forest fires are again blazing in the Kootenai district of the rocks. They have caused five deaths and enormous damage to property.

Explanation Is Demanded. Berlin.—The foreign office has instructed the German embassy at Constantinople to demand an explanation from the Turkish government of the shooting of a German subject by three natives near Haifa, Syria.

Organize National League. Kansas City.—The republican national league, whose object is to "perpetuate the Roosevelt policies and principles," was organized here at a meeting of prominent republicans.

Both Are Confident. Montreal.—The news out of Ottawa that the minister of commerce and labor was trying to get both sides of the Grand Trunk strike together on a basis of arbitration provoked President Murdoch of the strikers to a sharp retort.

"Arbitration," said he, "is out of the question. As far as we are concerned there will be no arbitration. The company did not talk arbitration until they had nagged the men to a finish. Now they want it. We will have none of it."

PROHIBITIONISTS PUT UP TICKET.

PROHIBITIONISTS PUT UP TICKET.

The prohibition party which it was supposed would not put up a state ticket this fall in consideration of the scrap in the two old parties over county option, is now in the race with nominees for governor, lieutenant governor and state treasurer, George I. Wright of Otoe county filed for governor and Samuel Lichty of Falls City filed as a candidate for lieutenant governor and Albert Fitch of Central City for state treasurer. Several days ago T. M. Birmingham of Pender filed as a prohibition candidate for United States senator. Later he presented petitions from twenty-five republicans and twenty-five populists so his name will go on three tickets as a candidate for the place that Hitchcock and McCallie are striving for. John D. Stoddard of Republican City has filed as a prohibition candidate in the Fifth district.

RAISING THE DUES.

Raising the scale of dues paid by members was the means adopted by the Nebraska postmasters' association at Lincoln last week to take care of a threatened $200 deficit in its treasury. Officers of the association laid before the convention at its final session the fact that expenses had been so heavy as to make necessary some provision for increasing the income in future. The method proposed for doing this was to abolish the old flat rate of $1 annual dues for all postmasters of whatever grade, with 50 cents added for initiation fee, and substitute a sliding scale. After a lengthy discussion the dues were fixed as follows:

For postmasters of first class offices, $10; second class, $5; third class, $2; fourth class, $1.

Ogallala to Have Depot. Edson Rich, attorney for the Union Pacific Railroad company, met Mayor Harris of Ogallala and Mr. Holloway of that town, the complainant in a depot case, and together with the members of the railway commission a stipulation has been agreed upon. The complainant asks that a new depot be built at Ogallala. The railroad attorney agreed to recommend an appropriation for a new depot, the amount to be incorporated in the company's budget for 1911, and to file plans for the proposed building with the commission by July 1, 1911. If the railroad officials do not provide funds for the building it is agreed that the railway commission shall order the company to build.

Will Exhibit a Battleship. The naval department will exhibit a $50,000 model battleship at the Nebraska state fair, according to advices received from the department of Captain Clark. The model will be of the Nebraska type and will be superior to the exhibit which the navy had last year. The recruiting officer built a wooden model for the booth last fall and the exhibit attracted general attention on the grounds. The department distributes souvenirs to visitors illustrating the service. Lieutenant Commander Wetting of Omaha has assured Captain Clark that the costly model would be sent here in plenty of time.

Big Semaphore Plant. One of the largest semaphore plants in the entire west is now being built in the Burlington yards. It will be a 120-lever machine, housed in a large brick building protecting Burlington yard tracks and the Union Pacific crossing. It will require about three months to complete the plant and when done it will cost between fifty and sixty thousand dollars.

City of the First Class. North Platte, according to the census recently taken under the supervision of the mayor and the city council is now a city of the first class, having a population of 5,146. A proclamation naming North Platte as a city of the first class will be issued within a day or so from the governor's office.

State Food Commissioner S. L. Mains has notified the National Biscuits company that after August 1 its customers in Nebraska must obey the law.

Visit the Havelock Shops. Delegates to the postmasters' convention paid a visit to the Havelock shops of the Burlington. They were escorted through the big plant by officials of the Burlington, Mayor Hinkle, Postmaster A. A. Havers and other Havelock officials.

Many of the visiting delegates attended the reception given by the Commercial club at the city auditorium. They were made to feel that the people of Lincoln enjoy their coming and would like to see them come again.

According to a bulletin issued by Labor Commissioner Maupin, between January 1 and December 31 of 1909, Nebraska flour mills shipped by rail the enormous quantity of 240,000,000 pounds of flour. This, of course, does not include the flour consumed at the point of milling. The amount shipped represents three and one-half fifty pound sacks for each man, woman and child in the state. What these shipments would have been if Nebraskans had been loyal to the "home patronage" idea and insisted upon having Nebraska made flour, no one knows.

CHARGED WITH SLATER'S MURDER.

DIXON COUNTY—CHARGED WITH THE MURDER OF HIS SISTER, MISS LOUIS FIEGE, AT THEIR HOME SEVEN MILES NORTH WEST OF WAYNE ON JUNE 30 LAST, WILLIAM FIEGE WAS ARRESTED AND PLACED IN THE COUNTY JAIL AT PONCA.

The case was most mysterious and baffling. William Eichtencamp, 18 years old, was employed on the farm. It was said that he came in from work in the evening of the day of the murder and found the young woman in the door yard with a bullet in the base of her brain and another in her breast.

Fiege was arrested on a confession secured from Eichtencamp, who it is said, asserted that he had been forced to tell the story that he had found the young woman under penalty of death by the brother, W. C. Davenport of Sioux City, a detective, who has been working on the case. He said that until the confession by Eichtencamp no suspicion had been pointed at the brother.

The prisoner has been most assiduous in the search for the murderer and put up $500 of the $2,500 reward offered by the county and relatives of the murdered woman. He worked with the officers every day.

Catholic Church Burned. Greeley County.—The Catholic church at Scotia was totally consumed by fire. It was a brick edifice and was quite old, and in rather poor condition. The fire broke out in the altar structure.

Cattle Struck by Lightning. Pawnee County.—An electrical storm passed over the vicinity of Table Rock, during which time about an inch of rain fell. Three head of cattle, standing under a tree in a pasture just south of town, were instantly killed, when the tree was struck by lightning.

Enrollment is Large. Buffalo County.—It is a case of general remark that the present summer school at the Kearney normal is the best in the history of the school. The enrollment is the largest and more students are working for credit on the regular courses than in any previous session.

C. C. Dudley Dies at Ruskin. Nuckolls County.—News was received at Nelson of the death of ex-County Treasurer C. C. Dudley at his home at Ruskin of typhoid fever. Mr. Dudley had been cashier of the Ruskin bank since the expiration of his term of office three years ago. He leaves a wife and infant child.

A Woman Attacked. Adams County.—Mrs. Menno Lay was attacked by an unidentified man in her home near Paulina. Her husband had gone to town leaving Mrs. Lay and her baby alone. The stranger attacked her in the kitchen, threatened to kill her and tied her hands with a dish rag. She lost consciousness and did not recover until half an hour later when she telephoned her husband. The assailant was not apprehended.

Dedication of Fair Building. Lancaster County.—Secretary Melior of the state fair board is sending out hundreds of postal cards bearing pictures of the new coliseum on the state fair grounds asking recipients to be present at the dedication of the building, September 5. The funds for the buildings, a glass, steel and brick structure, were provided by the last legislature.

Monroe Man Found Dead. Platte County.—John Munter of Monroe was found on the porch of a rooming house in Columbus dying from the effects of a dose of carbolic acid, taken with suicidal intent. He died from effects of the drug.

Lient. Bridges on Furlough. Johnson County.—Lieutenant T. W. Bridges, who recently graduated from the national military academy at West Point, is visiting at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bridges, in Sterling. He is enjoying a three months' furlough, at the end of which time he expects to be assigned to duty either in the Philippine Islands or in Alaska.

Killed in a Wreck. Daves County.—Burlington train No. 96 collided with an extra freight between Belmont and Crawford, between Keenan and three tramps, who were beating their way, were killed. Engineer McVade was scalded badly on the legs, and Baggageman Baughman had both legs broken and head and face cut badly.

Elevators Destroyed by Fire. Red Willow County.—In a fire that broke out at McCook after probably smoldering all night, the Uptide Grain company's elevators and coal sheds were entirely destroyed.

York Wheat Market. York County.—The first load of 1910 wheat has been marketed here. The quality is No. 1, although graded No. 2, and weighed sixty-two pounds to the bushel. The average yield is from twenty to twenty-seven bushels per acre in this county.

Fourth of July Victim. Butler County.—A 10-year-old son of B. G. Chapman of Superior was buried as the result of an early celebration of the Fourth. He was wounded with a blank cartridge, resulting in blood poisoning.

Ponca Farmer, Kills Himself. Dixon County.—Theodore Rahn, a prominent and wealthy farmer, committed suicide in Ponca by shooting himself through the head. He had been despondent for some time because of ill health.

CARRIES BIG LIFE POLICY

PRINCE HENRY OF PRUSSIA SAID TO HAVE AN INSURANCE AMOUNTING TO $10,000,000 AGAINST ASSASSINATION.

IN APPEARANCE PRINCE HENRY OF PRUSSIA, WHO IS ONE OF THE CLEVEREST, AND POSSIBLY ONE OF THE MOST DISTINGUISHED OF QUEEN VICTORIA'S GRANDSONS, BEARS A STRIKING RESEMBLANCE TO KING GEORGE V. AND, LIKE HIS MAJESTY, IS THE SAILOR OF THE FAMILY.

CARRIES BIG LIFE POLICY

PRINCE HENRY OF PRUSSIA SAID TO HAVE AN INSURANCE AMOUNTING TO $10,000,000 AGAINST ASSASSINATION.

CARRIES BIG LIFE POLICY

His first love of the sea was acquired under somewhat curious circumstances. In 1871 the Crown Princess Frederick took her two elder boys for a change of air to Wye, a primitive little bathing place on the Schleswig coast. The interest of the young princes was aroused when one day a small yacht anchored off the village, and they appeared to have a keen desire for a closer inspection of the vessel. The owner became aware of this and offered to conduct them over his yacht and to take them out for a sail. Their mother graciously gave her consent, with the result that before the trip was over the younger had fully decided to become a sailor.

It is said that Prince Henry holds the unique distinction of being the only man—royalist or commoner—who is insured against assassination. He has an insurance of a sum approaching $10,000,000 against being killed by the hand of an assassin. Some years ago, when the prince took command of the German fleet in Chinese waters, this policy was taken out. The risk is believed to be held solely by German companies. An ardent motorist, his imperial highness' passion in this respect is exemplified by the following story: While out driving with a friend one day they noticed ahead of them a slow-moving goods van, the driver of which appeared absolutely regardless of the approach of the motor car. Presently the prince's car sped past. "Yer fathead!" exclaimed the man, "you might as well 'ave asked me to make room for you." The prince immediately applied his brakes and the van came to a standstill. After a moment's discussion his companion returned to the complacent van driver and inquired, "Did you mean his royal highness to be a fathead?" "But," stammered the other, "I—I didn't know!" "His royal highness is sure of that," said the prince's companion. "Take this," he added, handing him a gold coin, "as a present from his royal highness, because you are the first man who has called him a fathead!"

Climate Affected by Deforestation. That the stripping of trees from a country has a bad effect on the climate is indicated by the following account by a traveler in the interior of China: "Kansu is the poorest of all the provinces of China and the most inaccessible by reason of its defective communications. Devastated by Mohammedan insurrection in the years from 1861 to 1878, it has never recovered from the ravages to which it was then subjected. The ruins everywhere of a once thriving town and villages impress the traveler with a sense of the horrors of insurrection in China. Insurrection means extermination of the vanquished—no quarter to old or young, to man or woman. Loss of life during the great insurrection amounted to millions, and even in the short insurrection of 1896 the destruction of life was appalling. The province now needs repopulating, but in the absence of communications the work is difficult. It is a treeless province. There has been universal destruction of timber. Even the fine avenue of willows and poplars planted by Tso Tsung-tang between the two capitals is fast disappearing. Deforestation is profoundly affecting the climate. When rain falls it falls with such violence that it scars the face of the country, which is everywhere covered with soft loess (clay) of varying thickness, with no vegetation to bind the soil together."

America's Wine to the Rescue. If there is one thing more than another that Europe prides and plumes herself upon and crowns and brags about to prove her undoubted superiority to America in land, blood and brain, that thing is surely wine. Every European regards his vine and his wine tree as a sure sign from heaven that Europe is the world's only real true man's land, saying America is a harsh land and inhospitable, where there are no vines and never mellow into the true bliss of a perfect wine. American grape vines are the salvation of the wine industry of this whole world, and without them Morgan or Rothschild or King William for all the world's power and wealth could not take one sip of champagne, Johannesberger, Hock or Liebfraumlich and be assured of having it from year to year.—New York Press.

Purified by Trial. He that can apprehend and consider vice with all her baits and seeming pleasures, and yet abstain and yet distinguish and yet prefer that which is truly better, he is the true warfarer Christian. I cannot praise a fugitive and cloistered virtue, unexercised and unbreathed, that never sallies out and does her best, but slinks out of the race, where that immortal garrison is to be run, for not without dust and heat. Asuredly we bring not innocence into the world, we bring impurity much rather; that which purifies us is trial, and trial is by what is contrary.—Milton.

The Chorus Girl. Antonette Berton contributes to Harper's Weekly an account of her investigation of the chorus girl. "It takes all sorts of girls to make a chorus," says one whom she interviewed. "You have girls from 'most every state of the Union and from nearly every country of the globe. You have lively girls and scholarly girls, improvident girls, and girls who have girls who are fond of autos and champagne, girls who are druggies and never go out. The average chorus girl is a hard worker—she has to be—and she is, as a rule, a good girl, although she may be careless in her speech and enjoy a good time."

Because

PURITAN is made from the choicest hard wheat. When you buy the lowest priced flour you get the same number of pounds as when you pay for the best—but far less value. Bread made from average flour is part waste, part impurity and only part food. Bread made from Puritan Flour is every bit good, pure, blood-making food. And Puritan Flour makes whiter—tastier loaves by actual baking tests than any other flour you can buy. We separate our flour into twenty different “stocks” or streams, then blend it to get in every sack the scientifically right combination of nutritious bread-making qualities. This is done by actual chemical and baking tests—part of our milling system. Your baking, therefore, can't fail with the use of Puritan Flour.

EVERY sack of Puritan Flour is Guaranteed. It doesn't make the best Bread, Cake, Biscuit or Pie that you have ever made—return the balance of the sack and your dealer will refund your money without question. Don't be satisfied with just good flour. When you go to the expense and labor of buying flour, baking bread, using up fuel and taxing your entire system to digest it—you want the finest—the purest—the most nourishing you can buy—you want Puritan—Nebraska's Quality Flour.

The Cow
The dairy cow, if able to express herself in a way which the human family would comprehend, might well lay claim to being man's best friend. She might establish such a claim by calling attention to the fact that from her product and from her carcass man manufactures more of the necessities of life than from any other similar source. She furnishes these necessities to him from infancy until such a time as temporal things are no longer associated with his existence, and she does it ungrudgingly and constantly.
In addition to contributing to man's necessity and his pleasure, the prosperity of an agricultural community is more closely identified with her than with any other of the domestic animals. The horse quite essential in tilling the soil, but where necessity requires it the sturdy son of the cow can take his place, as he has done in every agricultural section on earth. The horse can only furnish labor and can only return a profit to his owner when conditions are right for returning satisfactory grain crops. It is a well known fact that the dairy cow is the salvation of the farmer in times of poor crops as she is able to convert the rough crops which are never a total failure, into dairy products which always have a cash value.
In addition to this she furnishes skim milk and butter milk for the calves, pigs and poultry and fertility for the soil without which a farm becomes less valuable each year and the whole country less prosperous.
The elimination of the dairy cow would necessitate an almost revolutionary readjustment of man's tastes and requirements. It would mean untold suffering and hardship. Of course she will not be dispensed with but her value can perhaps best be appreciated by contemplating such a loss.
She will continue to be man's best friend as long as the human family exists and will keep on supplying him with his greatest need just as she has done through all the ages.
The National Dairy Union, E. K. Slater, Secy. St. Paul, Minn.
Why will people endanger their lives and property by using gasoline stoves when they can possibly save two or three dollars a year over the cost of gas for the same period. You will pay large sums for life insurance and considerable sums for property insurance and then for a paltry sum endanger both. The reason is you think gas bills are something awful. You have the idea but you do not know where you got it, perhaps, or maybe someone who does not use gas has told you so. Surely you did not get the information from gas users. Every gas user in Ord is a satisfied user. If they were not satisfied they would not continue the use of gas. Let us prove to you that you ought to cook with gas.
When it comes to rural carriers making records for delivering mail on their routes a man in Iowa has reached the top notch so far. He covered his route, which is twenty-five and one-half miles, putting mail in sixty-seven boxes, and was back to the postoffice in eighty-five minutes.

The dry weather continues through this part of the state. However some parts of the state have been relieved a little by local showers. The last of the week quite heavy rains extended from Omaha to Grand Island and also covered part of the southeastern part of the state. Light showers passed over the Arcadia and Sargent neighborhood, and several small strips up north on the sand flats. There was also a little hail at the latter place, touching the corner of the Geo. Jensen place.
