A GOOD MANY PEOPLE

Under the impression that the Heinz's bottled goods are higher than other brands, the fact really is that they are really cheaper than other stuff. Let us show you.

Co-line it with the present unreasoning half frenzied clamor about high cost eggs are no higher than they were ten years ago. We mention only a few from which a variety of good palatable meals can be cooked by the resourceful cook.

Beardsley's shredded codfish 10c per can; canned lake fish, fine, 10c per can; Campbell's tomato soups 10c per can; 2 lb can of pork and beans in tomato sauce 10c.

In fresh fruits this week we will have Utah peaches, pears and plums. Also Saturday Michigan Concord grapes $3 a basket, 2 baskets 55c. Fruit dealers say the price will be no lower.

PATRIOTIC AUTO OWNERS

You will observe that a call is issued for a meeting tomorrow night at the court house of all owners of automobiles. The purpose of the meeting is to ascertain the attitude these owners will take towards the proposed booster trip in the interest of the fair.

Some doubt has been raised as to the willingness of the automen to respond to this proposition in a manner to make it a success. But we cannot believe that this is the case. We are sure that the men who own these machines have enough patriotic spirit to make them want to come forward with their help in this project. Anyway there will be plenty of them who will do so, and the knackers, if there be any such, will be left at home.

This is a scheme for the general good. Every other class of our citizens are contributing of their time and energy, as well as their money, to boost the fair along in other ways, and we are sure that our automen are as patriotic as any.

Were the scheme one for boosting anyone in particular or to make money for any one class of men the proposition would be different. But this is not the case. No booster will be permitted to distribute any advertisement in the interest of his private business. The sole purpose of the trip is to boost the fair, and nothing else will be thought of.

Of course this being the case the Commercial Club could not pay regular rates for the cars, but the Club can and will pay expenses. So come out to the meeting and let the Club know what you think of the scheme and lend a helping hand.

What is meant by the "center of population," now definitely located by the census of 1910 at Bloomington, Indiana? It might mean either of two things. It might mean such a point in the country that east of it would be just as many people as west; south as many as north. Such a point is not Bloomington, Indiana. That would be a point considerably to the east of this Bloomington is the point to which all the people west might go with an amount of travel equal to that required by all the people east. Same north and south. In ascertaining this center one inhabitant of San Francisco counts as heavily as three or four inhabitants of New York. To put it concretely, Bloomington, Indiana, is the point at which all the people of the United States could congregate with the least possible total of miles traveled, supposing all traveled in straight lines. —State Journal.

Mrs. Sam Stacy returned Thursday from Lincoln where she has been to see her brother-in-law who is quite low with a cancer. She says his condition is about the same as when she went down several days ago.

Mrs. Dora Dowhower and Jesse and Nell Ferguson returned Friday from Colorado Springs where they have been visiting, the former two for a couple of months and Miss Nell for three weeks.

The children of C. B. Wagner returned to York Friday. They had been visiting on the farm for several days. Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Wagner run two farms, one near York and one in Valley county.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Burdick returned Saturday from New York State. They have been gone several weeks and look like they had more than enjoyed themselves.

Mrs. Otto Johnson and children accompanied Mr. Johnson to Burwell last week. They all returned home Saturday morning.

CRAZED FROM USE OF DOPE

Leo Gavin Leaves the Burlington Train in Quest of More Morphine

A pitiful case of dope habit was manifest on our streets yesterday. That morning Leo Gavin got off the Burlington train and came up town in a half dazed condition and went in search of a doctor to give him a hypodermic injection of morphine. In his hat was a ticket reading from Burwell to Seward which had been punched by the conductor. But the pitiable fellow was more intent on a dose of morphine than on reaching his destination, so he got off at the first place where a promise of the drug was to be looked for. Two or three people in town know the unfortunate. He is a well educated man and a fine operator. He was in the employ of the B. & M. till the company could keep him no longer, and now of course is in no shape to hold a job. He has a wife, a fine lady, who is supporting herself by sewing. His parents are wealthy and his brothers true to him giving him financial aid as best they may, but of course they must do it out in small quantities for his own sake. He first went to Dr. Shepard's office and wanted morphine, but the doctor would not administer it. Sheriff Sutton got onto his trail and getting the man fixed out as best he could put him on the freight and sent him on his way to Seward. Agent Kullbom, who knows the man well, asked the freight conductor to honor the ticket and probably the man would reach his destination without sacrificing his little piece of pasteboard. The plight of this man, who otherwise has as bright a future as anyone would ask, ought to be a warning to people who are prone to resort to the use of morphine, cocaine or other stupefying drugs to relieve every little pain. The craving for these terrible drugs may all too easily be acquired, and the result is the most disastrous that mind can conceive of.

Henry Harmon has a brood sow that has won the blue ribbon this season. Early in the spring she presented him with 13 fine pigs, of which she raised 10. Last week she had a litter of 17, of which an even dozen are still on the job. Thirty pigs to her credit in one season is a pretty good record for even a Duroc-Jersey sow.

Monday noon Elmer Lambdin departed for Sinton, Texas, where he will be for a while anyway, looking after his land interests. He was accompanied most of the way by Mr. and Mrs. Botte, who have moved to Texas.

Mrs. Lula Locke and two children returned Saturday to their home at Fremont. Opal and Georgiana have have spent several weeks in Ord visiting with the families of their uncles Cleg and Pearl Hughes. Their mother has been here for a couple of weeks, the rest of the summer she spent in Lincoln caring for her brother Fax's wife.

From the Hornell, N. Y., Times we learn of the marriage of Mrs. Myra Chapman, mother of Dell Chapman. The lady lived in Ord for a few years. Her husband died about three years ago and since then she has been in poor health. Her friends were surprised that instead of passing to the great beyond, she is well enough to get a new husband. She is 74 years old, so she is a blushing bride indeed.

J. S. Collison and W. A. Wright have just been allowed a patent for a wrench that looks pretty good to the mechanical editor. It is adapted to use as a pipe wrench as well as for all other purposes and will, contrary to the ways of most pipe wrenches, operate either way without turning the wrench. It also has the advantage of working in close places like an 8 wrench. We are guessing that these practical heads have developed something that will do them some good and be a favorite with mechanics everywhere.

The auto trip for the purpose of boosting Ord and the fair is getting down to a point when we must talk business. The committee has been given the promise of 33 cars, but it is desired that a definite understanding be had. To this end a meeting is called for Friday night at the court house at which all owners of automobiles who will go on this trip are requested to be present. The committee wants to know just who will go, what the cost will be and also to adopt rules for the trip. So if you have an automobile and are willing to boost for your fair come out to the meeting and express yourself.

Norman Collison, the 13-year-old son of J. C. Collison, was knocked down and run over by the laundry auto last Saturday and his leg was broken. The boy was playing ball in the street in the east part of the city and in running bases ran directly in front of the auto as Mr. Peterson was coming down the hill. Probably the injury would not have been so great but for the fact that he was hit by the wheel from which the tire had been taken, so that the sharp rim of the wheel came in contact with his leg, breaking both bones a little above the ankle. The boy of course received surgical aid as soon as possible and suffered a great deal for a few days, but is resting easier now. Where the blame is to be placed is hard to say, but it was a very unfortunate affair and greatly regretted by Mr. Peterson.

PICNIC AT THE BUSSELL PARK

Tomorrow Afternoon in Honor Of Man Who Gave the Land to the City

Tomorrow noon there will be a picnic given at the Bussell park in honor of the man who gave us the park and his cousin, Mrs. Dyke of Lebanon, Kansas. Since Mr. Bussell gave the city this magnificent present no public demonstration has been had in his honor. Now that his cousin is here the ladies of the Presbyterian church conceived the idea that it would be nice to have a picnic in the park in his honor and accordingly have asked us to announce Friday (tomorrow) as the date. Everyone is invited to go down to the park in ample time for a picnic dinner, each bringing along a basket of good things. As soon as these good ladies proposed this scheme the idea was taken up by all as eminently proper and we are sure our people will turn out in large numbers if the day is pleasant, not only for the dinner and the social hour, but to express to Mr. Bussell our thanks for the park.

Norrel Lamberton came up to Ord last Friday to sojourn for a few days being incapacitated for work by the pranks of a smart-Alex in Scotia. Last week Wednesday Norrel was cleaning his motorcycle with gasoline and had his hands pretty well saturated with the fluid when a smart boy set fire to the gasoline just for a joke. Norrel had the presence of mind to get out into the road and bathe his arm in dust, which happened to be plentiful, and extinguished the flames. He then saved the machine from being consumed by the flames, but in doing so got his already roasted arm on fire again. The result was that he was around here with both arms bandaged and in a pretty sorry plight. It was a pretty serious thing for Norrel and might easily have cost him his hands if not his life, but it was lots of fun for the kid.

For a few days Charlie Davis has been visiting with his brother out in Logan county. He says things are looking well that way, and owners of grazing land are strictly in it. People are coming in there from the south Platte county renting pastures for winter grazing, as the feed proposition is serious in the south Platte. Charles returned home Monday.

Isa and May Harris the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris returned last evening from two months visit in California and other western states. They report a delightful time.

Next Tuesday the Boosters start out on their automobile trip around the circle to advertise the Loup Valley Fair. The intention to go this week was changed on account of the state fair.

Robert Saddler, a man in jail at Central City for cattle stealing, kicked a door panel out one day last week and made his get-away. A fellow prisoner gave the alarm; but the run-away was not caught.

Olive Fuson came down from Burwell Saturday morning where she has been staying a few weeks with her sister Mrs. Fred Hallock. She will stay with her sister Mrs. Joe Barta until her mother returns from Iowa.

Among the passengers to the state fair Tuesday morning were Henry Vodehnal and wife, who had not before made many trips since their marriage. They intended to not only visit the fair, but also to visit their former Springfield neighbors, George McLain and family in York county.

Sheriff Kennedy of Custer county has arrested at Aberdeen, S. D., Alfred Lansteadt charged with seduction of a sixteen-year-old girl of Custer county, Miss Clara Carlson, daughter of a tenant on the Lansteadt farm. They had gone to Aberdeen a few weeks ago claiming to be man and wife.

W. D. McCrea and family returned to Ord Thursday night. They have been trying Colorado and did all right, but as they got a chance to close out something to the good they let their property there go and are back to Valley county and glad of it. They are occupying the Adam Smith house at present.

The premium lists are out at last. We received the last copy for the book last Friday and would have had the books out Saturday but for the fact that our gasoline engine went on a strike for the first time in five years, and no cuss words could induce it to start till the middle of the afternoon. The book will tell you lots of good things you want to know about the fair and will point you to the way of making a pretty penny or two as well as helping you to do something for the benefit of others. Get one of the books at the Quiz office or at the office of President Cornell or Secretary Cromwell.

J. C. NELSON IS DEAD. Last Sunday the funeral services were held over the remains of the late J. C. Nelson at the Danish church, Rev. H. C. Barrett officiating.

This good man died at the home of his son in Scribner on Friday. The next day the remains were brought to Ord and the services followed as stated.

J. C. Nelson was born in Denmark on March 3, 1837. He was married to Anna M. Madison November 1, 1866.

With his family he came to America in 1879, first living in Illinois. Eight years later he came to Nebraska settling in Dodge county and 17 years ago came to Valley county where he has made his home most of the time since.

Three years ago his wife died and since then he has lived with his children here and at other places in the state.

A year ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis, from which he never fully recovered, and to which he finally succumbed.

Eight children were born to this union, all of whom are still alive. These are: N. T. Nelson, Fremont; Mrs. O. Nelson, Ord; M. C. Nelson, Thompson; Andrew Nelson, Ord.

TAKES THE QUIZ AND THAT'S ALL

Charlie Finley tells a yarn that he seems to think is a good one on the Quiz. Without any corroborative testimony we would have declared at once that it was one of Finley's fables, but his wife heard him tell the story and did not offer a word in rebuttal so we know the story must be true. This is the story anyway. Charlie says that a boy in one of the schools not far from where you are took occasion to swear and the teacher heard him. So the teacher took the boy in hand, as good teachers should, and began to expostulate with the kid showing him how bad it is to swear. The boy stood digging the dust of the school grounds with his toe while the teacher went over the stock arguments against the folly of profanity and mutely took it all till she got down to the final argument. "And of course you know, Johnnie, that the Bible says you must not swear," she said with all possible emphasis. Then the boy's face lightened up with a ray of hope and he responded: "Does the Bible say I must not swear? How could I know that? We haven't got no Bible in our house. All we take is the Ord Quiz."

Our schools opened with a greatly increased enrollment in the high school. During the vacation, the school board, in anticipation of an great increase, had the assembly room rearranged and more seating, put in till it could seat two hundred. One hundred and eighty enrolled the first day, so that the assembly room will be taxed again this winter to seat all the high school. That is the result of having a good school in a good building.

A postal card from T. J. Nethery dated at Thomas, Okla., September 1st gives the happy news that a pair of twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Trefren on Monday, Aug. 28. Mr. Nethery seems to think that Oklahoma needs a few hurrahs on account of this, and we are inclined to agree with the sentiment. Anyway the friends of the Trefrens will be glad to hear this good news.

Mabel Gundmundsen was a passenger Friday for Lisco, Neb., where she will teach the coming year. She was accompanied as far as Grand Island by Judge and Mrs. Gundmundsen, who returned home the same evening.

Grace and Stanley Bell returned Thursday from Lincoln where they have been visiting for several weeks. They were not ready to come home, but had to return in order to be ready when school commenced.

Mrs. Dykes of Lebanon, Kansas arrived in the city last week Friday on a visit with relatives. She is a cousin of Mr. J. S. Bussell who went to the Island to meet her and accompany her to Ord.

Mrs. Geo. Robinson and children returned Friday. They had been spending several days on the farm with Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Mosler. Mrs. Robinson is a daughter of the Moslers.

Mary and Agnes Beran left Saturday for Hardin, Montana, where they will visit for a few weeks. Before returning home they expect to go to the coast for a visit.

G. A. McLain and Mr. Plessinger returned to York Saturday. They have been up here buying cattle. They expect to make a shipment the first of the month.

Ray and Jack Johnson have sold their pool hall in the old Dworak building to Roy Drake, and latter is now in possession.

ARE WASTEFUL OF OUR CASH

The City Dads Spending Money Lavishly And Apparently Without Due Consideration

Take a look at what your city council is doing with your money. You will find a little inkling of it in the report of the council proceedings as they appear in another column this week.

There is an item of $73.20 to the U. P. for freight. This is not much, but it is only for the freight on a lot of pipe bought by the water committee on an order by the city council "to act". The bill for the pipe is not paid yet and amounts to about $1000.

There is an item of $135 for a road grader, for which the city has about as much need as they have for a flying machine. Though the contract was completed at that meeting of the council they ordered the machine paid for, without waiting the thirty days required by law.

There is an item of $100 for a lot from Hattie Shepard, another deal closed up without giving the public notice.

There is a bill of $1040.00 to Will Mosses for cement work at the cemetery. This work was ordered by two members of the cemetery committee without consulting the other member and without the city asking for bids or giving anyone but Mr. Mosses a chance at it. In fact the city council had nothing to do with the deal. Two members of the council told Mosses to go ahead and put in a lot of curbing, and that is all there is about it, except that the taxpayers are supposed to pay the bill.

It looks to the Quiz that the referendum law ought to be invoked to see whether this kind of work shall be permitted to go on.

If the city council would take action on these propositions and have a record made of their work so that the public could know what is going on before it is done it would not be so bad. But as a matter of fact no discussion was had over some of these important deals in the city council. Will you tax payers stand for it? You do not have to unless you want to. The referendum law places the matter wholly in your hands or you have a right to commence injunction proceedings to stop these graft deals.

Will Smith had his finger in a bandage for a number of days as the result of the cut he received in the McKinney-Barnes fracas one night last week. Will tells how he got in the deal. He and Charlie Miller were sitting at the barn when Barnes came along and trouble began between Barnes and McKinney. Smith went to part them and in doing so Barnes got his knife against his finger and cut it pretty badly. After that he left them alone, but Barnes left and the trouble was over. Will thinks that our account last week was not definite enough and left the inference that he was mixed into the fight, which of course he was not, and we are glad to make that part of the story clear. All Smith or Miller had to do with the affair was the part of peacemakers.

Recently Blessing & Marks shipped in 500 ewes to clean up their land north of town and incidentally to turn an honest penny into their coffers. The bunch is a pretty good one and as they bought them right they will doubtless come out considerably ahead on the deal.

O. H. Eckart of Lincoln came to town a week ago Saturday to see about taking hold of the Journal. He has been on the State Journal for some years, but is a country newspaper man of experience, and appears to be a very capable man.

Mrs. Geo. White of Arcadia joined the doctor here Saturday and visited in Ord for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Misko and two small children were in Butwell Thursday night where the former was attending to business affairs.

Mrs. E. R. Brown and daughter Ella Ward of Burwell had been spending several days in Ord before leaving for the coast. They started Friday morning for Long Beach where they will spend the winter.

Mrs. J. L. McCracken of Ukiah, Calif., arrived here Monday evening for a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Ward. Mr. McCracken will arrive also for a visit about the last of the month, and together they will visit for about six weeks.

Last Sunday morning Mrs. Helen White presented her husband with another son, a 9½ pounder. Although the stork got his orders mixed and sent the wrong package, the parents are too much delighted with the young gentleman to refuse him.

Mrs. Dr. Halderman left Tuesday for Rochester, Minn., in response to a message stating that after a thorough examination the doctors thought best to operate upon Dr. Halderman. It will be a serious ordeal and his many Ord friends are waiting anxiously for results.

After school Tuesday evening eight of the Ord teachers drove to North Loup in two rigs to visit the neighboring city while the pop corn festivities were on. They acted as their own horsemen and drivers and report a fine time, getting home so as to tuck themselves into bed before midnight.

Last night the Degree of Honor had a big time. A social meeting of this order was called for the evening to which all charter members of the order, whether still members or not, were invited. About 150 responded to the call. At an appropriate hour a big banquet was partaken of at the Bohemian hall. The event was a very successful one indeed. The Grand Chief of Honor was present.

Rev. A. L. Umpleby, who had been the hard working pastor of the Methodist church for the past 18 months, was returned to the pastorate again by the annual conference. Rev. Barrett was, at his own request, not returned, being sent to Ragan and Sacramento, near Minden. His place is taken by Rev. R. Rush, a scholarly preacher, who will take up the work soon.

As usual when he goes to market H. H. Bailey topped the market with his hog shipment not many days ago. This bunch of hogs were March farrow and consisted of 74 head and they averaged 180 pounds. Being a smooth, even bunch and fat of course they brought the owner the best price that anybody got that day or have got since. Not many men have the success in raising hogs to that size in so short a time. Speaking of it Mr. Kull, who is himself a great feeder, says he cannot do it.

CLARK-MARTIN

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Lee, was solemnized the marriage of their daughter Clara to George B. Martin.

The couple were attended by George and Edward Lee as best men and Marie Martin and Maude Lee as bridesmaids.

About forty friends witnessed the ceremony.

Congratulations followed with merry jest and cheerful conversation.

An elegant dinner was served and after expressing sincere wishes for the happiness and prosperity of the newly wedded couple the guests departed leaving several valuable gifts as tokens of their good will.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin left Monday morning for Iowa where they will visit Mr. Martin's parents for a few days.—Arcadia Champion.

WHAT AILS PARSONS?

Editors All Receive Us Joyously With the Exception of The Tribune's

When the Boosters came home from their trip around to the south, west and north they were in the ecstasy of joy over the reception they received everywhere along the route. Everywhere among the towns visited they were cordially received and earnestly invited to come again. And so the Quiz stated last week. Then we waited for the papers from these towns to reach our table so that we might judge from their accounts whether the welcome was sincere, and we were delighted to find in all of these accounts the expression of sincerest goodwill, showing that the welcome the Boosters got was lasting.

We said all the newspaper accounts were of a cordial strain, but we are compelled to make one exception, and that exception is the Burwell Tribune.

The Loup City Northwestern wound up its account with these words:

"The machines of the party were all decorated with flags and banners making a most pleasing effect and the hustling, noisy, good-natured occupants made us wish that their visit could have been longer. Come again."

The Arcadia Champion closes its remarks by saying:

"Ord always has a good fair and they are taking a modern way of advertising it."

The Sargent Leader devotes more than a half column to the Ord visitors and closes by saying:

"Ord is assured that their visit to this city was welcome, and the only regret expressed was that their visit was so short."

The Taylor Clarion speaks for that section like this:

"They were all a jolly bunch of good fellows. Come again, gents."

But Curt Parsons, who lived for many years in Ord; Curt Parsons who married an Ord girl; Curt Parsons, whose father found Ord a good enough place to live and die in; Curt Parsons, who has many relatives and used to have many friends in Ord; he alone of all the newspaper men turns forth the phials of his gall at the boosters, and for what? Because they did not have time to stop and watch him umpire a ball game. He could not say anything against the boosters as men or proper visitors. He does not charge them with any ordinary form of misconduct. He charges them with nothing except that they did not stop to watch a ball game, when they were traveling like a railroad train, on schedule time. Now what are the facts about this that little "two-bit" Curt makes so much fuss over?

The Boosters knew nothing of the ball game till they came over the hill and the ball ground hove into sight. Someone from the grounds came out to the road and flagged the train. Then an invitation came from the man who seemed to be in authority to have the band play, which they did, rendering two or three selections. The stop was not made for the purpose of spending a few hours at a ball game, but Marshal Cornell discovered that his men were going into the grounds, of course paying their way. When he saw this he went to the gate-keeper and explained that the train could not stop and the signal was soon given to march and all made a brake for the autos and were soon on the way to town. The gate-keeper handed back the quarter to a man who had just paid and he may have done so to others. We do not know how many fares were paid back, and do not care, and no one but a pin head editor would care.

We wish to say to the good people of Burwell and vicinity that Ord does not charge up a bit of the Tribune screed to them. We know that the Boosters were made welcome by the representative citizens of Burwell and that all were glad, to see us and all wanted us to come again, all but Curt. Undoubtedly the people of Burwell are ashamed of what their editor said, but pay no attention to him. He must have been half-shot. No one here is laying up anything against Burwell for what he says. Come down to the fair and races, and we assure you that no one will watch around to see whether you spend a quarter. There are no two-bit men in Ord. All we want is that you come and make yourself at home.

Mrs. W. W. Loofturrow returned Friday noon from Garfield county where she had been visiting for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Kellison were visiting friends in North Loup the first of the week, remaining to the pop-corn festivities.

Mrs. H. P. Daggett and little son returned Thursday evening from Champlin, Neb., where they spent a couple of weeks with the husband and father.

Harmon McMaisters and sister, Miss Sarah, arrived Friday evening from Bedford, Iowa, and are guests at the Paper Mortensen home. Friday evening Mrs. Mortensen entertained at dinner in their honor, all of the relatives being guests.

Grace O'Young and James Bayne Morrow, newly married Sept. 1st at Raton, New Mexico. They will live at Dawson, New Mexico, where the groom is Supt. of the Stage Canyon Fuel Co. Grace has been at Dawson since last June, where she has been doing nursing. They have been at Cavesta Lake, New Mexico, for the honey-moon trip.

POPCORN DAY AT THE LOUP

The Annual Show at North Loup Is a Success and Largely Attended

Tuesday was the opening of the pop-corn day festivities at North Loup, and it was a hummer. The management had spared no labor or care in providing for the day and in all things they were eminently successful.

A good program was provided to go along with the various kinds of exhibits, which were fine and noteworthy.

There was a fine agricultural exhibit at the Manchester seed house, a poultry show at the Hutchinson warehouse and art and curio exhibits in the halls.

The stirring things were the arrival of the Ord Boosters and the ball game. The Boosters came in a little ahead of time with about thirty automobiles, being escorted in from Scotia by a delegation of North Loup machines. The long procession came in dust-stained and noisy. The machines bearing the band stopped in the east part of town while the other machines filed through the main street and around back to the rear of the band, as it marched up to the main part of the city. The spectacle was a very imposing one. Here the Ord band, the Ord ladies band and the North Loup band discoursed music to the delight of all. Then came the ball game between Arcadia and North Loup, which was some game, and interesting to the end. It ended at the 10th inning with a score of 3 to 3.

Horse races and other sports then followed, but the writer was compelled to leave to get the train for home. The North Loup annual pop-corn day is growing in interest with the people of Ord. All told there must have been five hundred Ord people there during the day, and everybody came away happy.

Tuesday it rained and of course nothing was done.

Postoffice Inspector Rice recommended the Milford cite for a post-office and doubtless the government will accept the offer. The Milfords will sit up the south part of their store for the office and furnish it with fixtures acceptable to the government. If the post office is to go off the square this is doubtless the best place for it that could be had for the rent the government will pay.

Elmer Gard arrived Saturday. He will visit with his brother George for a couple of weeks. He has also been visiting his parents in Lincoln. On account of his health he quit his jewelry business and is now selling land in Washington.

Bessie Hanchett returned to Omaha Saturday. She has been visiting in Ord for several weeks. Her sister Cora Fleming accompanied her as far as Grand Island.

Mrs. F. M. Butts of Burwell returned Thursday evening from Aurora where she has been visiting for a few days. She stopped over Friday with her mother Mrs. Alderman.

Mrs. W. H. Carson and her sister Mrs. C. H. Leonard started yesterday for Mammouth, Ill., where they will visit relatives for a while. It has been twenty-seven years since Mrs. Carson visited in her old home. Mrs. Leonard has been back once since that time.

George Brown, of Beaumont, Texas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Brown and a brother of Harry Brown came up to Ord Saturday evening and stayed a few days with his relatives. He is traveling for the McShane Lumber Co. of Beaumont and had occasion to make Omaha and took a few hours to come up here.

The home ball team lost two games to Burwell last week. The first game was on Thursday. Arcadia was scheduled to play there, but for some reason or other were unable to go, and as the game had been advertised the Ord boys volunteered to take their place. This was a good game, and resulted in a victory for Burwell by a score of 7 to 5. The next day was our regular time to play. This was a somewhat one sided affair, Burwell winning easy, on account of their heavy hitting. The score was 10 to 2.

Kjesten M. Peterson was born in Denmark September 24th 1849, was married to Chris H. Paulsen April 9th 1876. Two children were born to them, both still living. ### HAY CAUSES TROUBLE

Trouble has been brewing in the vicinity of the Conger place south of town for a few weeks. When Mr. Conger came here recently he found that Ezra Rogers had cut the hay on his land, and Mr. Conger claims that this was done without authority from him. As the hay was his he proceeded to sell it to a liverman, but when he attempted to haul it away Ezra Rogers and another party appeared on the scene and attempted to prevent the removal of the hay from the Conger land. Mr. Conger and Clarence Barnes, who was one of those with Mr. Conger, say that Rogers pulled a gun to emphasize his demand that the hay be let alone. But we understand that Rogers denies showing the gun.

On complaint of Clarence Barnes Rogers was arrested, not for carrying or displaying a gun, but for simple assault. He was brought before the court last Friday and gave bonds to appear Monday, which he did. Meanwhile the county attorney decided that he did not have a case and dismissed the action.

Then Rogers comes back and commences suit against Conger for the value of the load of hay taken, and that is where the case now stands.

Mr. Rogers claims to have leased the hay from Mr. Sharp, but it appears that Sharp did not have very sure right for making the lease. The validity of this alleged lease seems to be the turning point in the whole matter.

BOOSTERS MAKE SECOND TRIP

Go to Horace, Greeley, Scotia and North Loup—Visit the Pop-corn Show

According to plan the Ord Boosters made the second trip out over adjacent territory last Tuesday.

This trip was to Horace, Greeley, Scotia and North Loup.

Twenty-eight cars were in the train, so this was even a greater procession than the one which went out last week.

Each car was loaded with Boosters, so that the train carried about 130 men.

The trip was fortunate all the way around. Leaving here the first stop was at Horace, and the town was taken by surprise. Then came Greeley. The Greeley folks had been advised of the coming and were ready for us. Ample provision was made to supply the Boosters with their bodily want. Dinner was had here a little before the noon hour and everybody got a plenty.

After delivering some fine music, distributing advertising matter and extending personal welcomes the train pulled out over the dusty road to Scotia in the face of a dust-laden wind.

The roads were dry and sandy, but with little hindrance the autos made the run with all possible speed.

At Scotia the welcome was extended royally and royally received. Here the North Loup delegation met the Ord boys and escorted them to North Loup. Great crowds had gathered at North Loup for the pop-corn show and so it was a place worth going to with the Booster train.

After parades and music the Boosters disbanded here, everyone driving home whenever they wished to.

The boys came home well pleased with the trip and confident that much good was done for Ord and the fair.

Following are the names of the auto owners on the trip:—Koupal, Marks, Huff, Keown, Mortensen, Bailey, Detweiler, Dowhower, Newbecker, Clements, Moses, M. Siler, Hather, Bell, Bradley, Orcutt, Staple, Parks, Schmidt, McGinnis, Eberhart, Cushing, Stars, Koloska, Rasset, Burrows, Garnick, and Roy Bailey.

Last Saturday a very serious run-away occurred at the river bridges. Frank Hewitt had stopped at the old creamery site to get a piece of wire to tie his load on with and while Frank was gone from the team Fred Pratt came along with his motorcycle. The horses were frightened and took down the road toward the bridge. On the turn pike they met Mrs. Hopkins driving a team. She saw her danger and got out of the rig in time to save her life. The run-aways collided with the Hopkins team, turning it around and together the two teams tried to enter the bridge at once, but jammed in in such a way as to stop them. This was fortunate for on the bridge was another team which could not possibly have gotten out of the way. While the damage was not so great, the possible results are harrowing to think of.

Col. John G. Maher of Lincoln and Henry Richmond of Omaha were in town Thursday and in the evening gave a lecture at the Gem Theater. The lecture was accompanied by a series of stereopticon pictures showing the Texas land these gentlemen are agents for. Friday evening they were in the country at the Bohemian hall and gave the same lecture. W. H. Carson went with them, this being the same land company he is agent for in Valley county.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cornell left Tuesday for a few days in Omaha.

STATE CAPITAL LINCOLN

State Funds Will Be Protected.

In an opinion addressed to State Treasurer George, Attorney General Martin holds that banks newly applying for the deposit of state funds need not offer a surety bond as security, providing they are protected by the guaranty law, but that the banks which have already given surety bonds for the protection of state funds cannot pull down their bonds nor is anyone authorized to release them from such obligations.

As a result state funds deposited in state banks will be protected by surety bonds and by the guaranty law at the same time. The old law required that bonds should be given the state treasurer for twice the amount of state funds deposited, and that this sum should never exceed 30 per cent of the bank's capital stock.

The attorney general holds that this part of the law is still in effect. State banks are not required to include state funds in their total of deposits subject to assessment for bank guaranty purposes.

Governor Followed the Law. Fault, having been found with the proclamation of Governor Aldrich declaring that certain corporations were delinquent in the payment of the annual occupation fee to the state and that their charters would be forfeited if the same is not paid by 4 p. m. November 30, a search of the statutes showed that the governor followed section 1446 of chapter 16 of the compiled statutes when he issued his proclamation or notice to corporations.

IN THE ITALIAN WAY

HOW THE PEOPLE OF SUNNY LAND COOK CHICKEN.

Recipe for Italian Tripe for a Rigatoli, and for a Delicious Fruit Dish Designed for Holiday Feasts.

Chicken Italian.—One large tripe, cut up in pieces as for mince. Take two good sized onions and chop fine and fry in olive oil until about done. While onions are frying add one-fourth teaspoon each of powdered cinnamon, nutmeg and allspice. Add chicken and let the pieces cook a little in the olive oil, then add some clear soup stock boiling hot, or water will do. Some Italian conserve, about tablespoon diluted in some of the stock, and a cup of dried Italian mushrooms previously soaked in hot water. Let all cook slowly about one hour, then add some parsley and garlic chopped fine and about two or three French carrots cut in thin strips. Cook slowly again until chicken and mushrooms are tender. Serve on deep platter. Do not have too much gravy. In using Italian conserve be careful about putting in salt, as the conserve is already salted.

Italian Tripe.—Take the tripe and cut into strips about two and a half inches long. Boil in salted water about one minute, drain and put on to boil in fresh water. Let come to boiling point, drain and once again put in clear, fresh water. Take onions (as many as needed for the amount of tripe), chop fine and fry in olive oil to a golden brown. While onions are frying add half teaspoon each of powdered cinnamon and nutmeg, add to the tripe. Add a can of strained tomatoes and some clear soup stock, some garlic and parsley and the top green part of one stalk of celery chopped very fine. Take half tin of sardines and wash fine and add to the tripe. Let all cook slowly until tripe is tender. Salt and pepper to taste.

Italian Dish for the Holidays.—Take large ripe peaches and remove the stone without cutting the peach in two pieces, place them in bake pan with some melted butter in bottom. Take some macaroons and mash them up in good port wine into a thick paste. Take almonds, blanch them and chop very fine and add to macaroon paste. Fill up the peaches with this paste, put a good sized piece of butter on top and bake in medium oven until peaches are soft. Bake frequently with the melted butter. These are delicious. Serve hot.

An Italian Risotto.—Wash about half a dozen large potatoes and boil until done with their skins on. Remove skins and mash them, adding as much flour as the moisture of the potatoes will take up. Roll out on bake board about half an inch thick and cut in squares about inch square. With the thumb press in the center and roll toward edge; they will form into shapes like little shells. Let them dry for about fifteen minutes, then put on to boil by dropping them into boiling salted water. Boil for about three quarters hour. Drain and put in large bowl, add a good sized slice of butter, some thick strained tomatoes and a cup of grated Parmesan cheese. Mix all together and serve at once.

Peach Snow. Soak one-half of a box of gelatine in one cupful of cold water until soft. Boil together for five minutes one cupful of sugar and one cupful of water, take from the fire and add the gelatine. Stir until dissolved, strain and add one-half cupful of peach pulp prepared by rubbing the pared peaches through a fine sieve. Set aside, stirring occasionally until the mixture is quite thick. Whip the whites of four eggs to a stiff froth and by degrees the jelly mixture, and continue to whip until the whole mass is very stiff. Pour into a mold wet with cold water, and set on ice until firm enough to turn out.

Glass Tops. Clever housekeepers are beginning to discover that the most practical covers for dressing tables and library writing tables are plain glass sheets. Lace and embroidered dollies and runners show under them as well as if on the top, and the glass protects them and keeps them clean indefinitely. These glass tops are not expensive and they safeguard the handsome oak or mahogany table and dainty linens from the careless guests, who are so apt to lay fruit and burnt matches about wherever they happen to be.

Steam Chimneys. Washing lamp chimneys by immersing them in water often makes them brittle. A safer way to clean them is to hold them for a few minutes over a steaming kettle. Then polish them briskly with a soft cloth.

AFTER 7 YEARS SUFFERING

I Was Cured By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Waukurka, Okla.—"I had female troubles for seven years, was all run down and so nervous I could not do a thing. The doctor treated me for several things but did me no good, got so bad that I could not sleep or eat. While this condition lasted of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, at last I was cured. I began its use at once, and in a short time I had gained my average weight and am now strong and well. —Mrs. SALLIE STEVENS, R. F. D., No. 3, Box 31, Waukurka, Okla.

Another Grateful Woman. Huntington, Mass.—"I was in a nervous, run down condition and for three years could find no help. I owe my present good health to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Blood Purifier which I have saved my life. —Mrs. MARI JANETTE BATES, Box 134, Huntington, Mass.

Because your case is a difficult one, doctors having told you no good, do not continue to suffer without trying Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has cured many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, fibroid tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, that bearing-down feeling, and nervous prostration.

The Wretchedness of Constipation Can quickly be overcome by CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Purely vegetable. —Act surely and gently on the liver. Cure Biliousness, Headache, Indigestion. They do their duty. SMALL PILL, SMALL DOSE, SMALL PRICE. Genuine must bear Signature.

Accept your limitations. Seize your opportunities. Enjoy the good of the hour. Improve the bad and if you fall, let it drop.—J. S. Blackie.

A cold on the chest weakens your lungs. Tubercular germs attack the weak spot. Keep your lungs strong by curing colds quickly with Hamlin's Wizard Oil and you will not get Consumption.

A Senate of Lawyers. In the senate of the United States there are 61 lawyers, five bankers, eight business men, four farmers, three journalists, two mine operators, two manufacturers, one author, one doctor and four members whose callings are not given. Of the four farmers, two are from the same state, South Carolina. They are Tillman and Smith. The lawyers clearly outnumber all others.

Twice Convicted. Another lawyer's story arrives. We are told that a man was charged with picking a pocket the other day and that when arraigned he pleaded "guilty." The case went to the jury, however, and the verdict was "not guilty." And the court spoke as follows: "You don't leave this court without a stain on your character. By your own confession you are a thief. By the verdict of the jury, you are a liar."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

THE HAPPY MAN. "Susie's getting married." "Who's the happy man?" "Her father."

A LADY LECTURER Feeds Nerves and Brains Scientifically. A lady lecturer writes from Philadelphia concerning the use of right food and how she is enabled to withstand the strain and wear and tear of her arduous occupation. She says: "Through improper food, imperfectly digested, my health was completely wrecked, and I attribute my recovery entirely to the regular use of Grape-Nuts food. It has, I assure you, proven an inestimable boon to me. "Almost immediately after beginning the use of Grape-Nuts I found a gratifying change in my condition. The terrible weakness that formerly prostrated me after a few hours of work, was perceptibly lessened and is now only a memory—it never returns. "Ten days after beginning on Grape-Nuts I experienced a wonderful increase in mental vigor and physical energy, and continued use has entirely freed me from the miserable insomnia and nervousness from which I used to suffer so much. "I find Grape-Nuts very palatable and would not be without the crisp, delicious food for even a day on any consideration. Indeed, I always carry it with me on my lecture tours." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs. "There's a reason." Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

The government has perfected a gun to shoot aeroplanes with, so the newspaper reports declare. Gosh, hasn't the bird-man trouble and death enough already?

Do you suppose that Bryan is not figuring to be in on the democratic race for the presidency next year? His enigmatic remarks and pitting of one democrat against another for the place are not for nothing.

Judge Hamer swore that he spent only $622.77 to get the nomination. It is proved beyond peradventure that he actually spent about ten times that amount. Do you want such a man for supreme judge even if he is on your ticket? Sure you do not.

If judges and other officials are afraid of the recall they probably need to be recalled. If they are not afraid of the recall they know that they have done their honest duty, in which case no one is likely to ask for their recall. Opponents of the recall idea have no ground to stand on in their opposition.

A suit under the sacket law was had before Governor Aldrich last week wherein the right of the city marshal of Humphrey to hold his job was under consideration. The evidence satisfied the governor that the marshal was not fit to hold the place and he was ordered to get out, a request the councilmen of the city promised to see respected. This is a little like the recall idea and works well.

If Judge Hamer spent more money in the campaign for the republican nomination than he said he did in his affidavit, he is a perjurer. If some one else spent the extra money for his nomination he will be the tool of the power back of him. In either case he should be defeated at the polls, and doubtless will be. No such man should be made a judge of the supreme court.

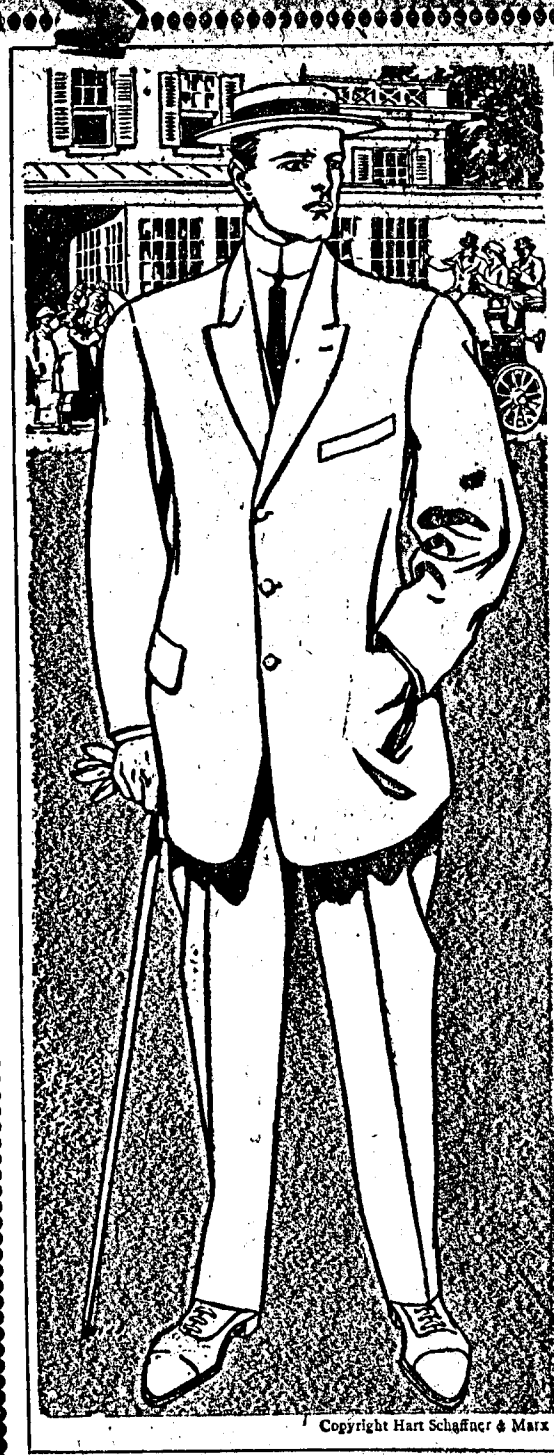

The case of Judge Hamer winning the nomination for supreme judge on the republican ticket is another strong argument against the present system of making nominations. A man of Judge Hamer's reputation and character could never have gotten the nomination had the power of nominating the ticket been in the hands of a representative body of republicans. But under our present system it is comparatively easy for a man to get any nomination if he has back of him interests vitally concerned

In his nomination. Two things contribute to this end: the fact that so few people vote at a primary election and the fact that those who do vote cannot know who the best man is, for the mass of the voters are not acquainted with the candidates, and so are likely to vote for the man whose name they most frequently saw in the advertising columns of the local papers. Our primary election law is right in principle but very faulty in application. We shall repeat here again what we have said scores of times in these columns: All nominees for county and minor offices should be nominated as now, but all the higher nominees should be named by a delegate convention, the delegates being chosen by the voters at the regular primary election. This would permit all the voters to vote intelligently. Any voter may inform himself as to the fitness of local candidates and may also judge who are the proper men among his neighbors to send as delegates to the other conventions. This would remedy much of the evil of the present system, and nothing else can remedy the evil.

Postoffice Inspector Rice is in the city again today to make recommendations as to a new postoffice site. By common consent the office should be put in a room by itself. Mr. Gruber offers to quit the old Thorne restaurant room for the place, Rudolph Sorensen suggests putting up a building north of the Firkins building, Peter Mortensen proposes to build a fine office west of the old First National Bank building, G. W. Milford offers to work over the south part of his store building and install the office there, and C. E. Goodhand offers to put the office in the Woodbury block, fixing the room up satisfactorily. The trouble with the deal is that the government is at present limited to a rental of $50 a month for room, office fixtures, safe and post-office outfit all heated and lighted. Of course no room on the square with all these extras can be had for any such sum. The office, therefore, if placed in a room by itself, must go off the square. The question with the public where do they want it to go? It should of course be in a respectable part of the town, whatever else is demanded. If the proposition could be held up for a few months the office will doubtless go into the second class when the department would be allowed to pay more than $50 a month, and it looks as though the department is crowding the thing to an issue now in order that a contract may be had under the present $50 limit. What we really ought to have is a postoffice building and equipment worth a rental of about $1000 a year, then we would have something but if the change is made now this is impossible.

THE WORLD'S GRANARY

Toledo, O., Sept. 1.—Last year the United States produced 75 per cent of the corn of the world, 33 per cent of the oats and 20 per cent of the wheat, and it was done upon 6 per cent of the land.

The average annual production of cereals in this country is about five thousand million bushels. These figures are so stupendous that the average mind cannot comprehend them.

And yet of all the corn grown in this country, and there were 3,126,000,000 bushels of it, only about 2 per cent was exported.

This shows the wonderful consumptive power of the people of the United States. No nation in the history of the world has had such a record.

The prosperity of a country and its standard of civilization are determined by its ability to consume the products of its soil. This is shown by a comparison between the peoples of India and the United States, as the former with its nearly 300,000,000 people exports 14.1 per cent of its 300,000,000 bushels of wheat which is only about half of the production in this country.

The other wheat growing sections of the world which are backward in the scale of material progress show about the same record as India.

The men who handle these immense cereal crops of the United States are to meet in Omaha Oct. 9, 10 and 11 next, when the annual convention of the Grain Dealers National Association is to be held.

At this convention every phase of the cereal business will be discussed. How to increase the yields of the American farms by the scientific breeding of grain; how to add to the supply of the country by irrigation, dry farming and deep ploughing—all these methods will be considered.

Our population is rapidly overtaking our production, and it was this fact that recently induced the Washington government to negotiate a commercial treaty with Canada.

The Grain Dealers National Association is composed of practically all the prominent elevator owners, brokers and commission men in the country. They are interested in the farmers because without the growers of grain there would be no grain to handle.

Mrs. Dr. Coffin and her mother, Mrs. Eastman returned to University Place yesterday. They had been up for several days visiting relatives.

Merwin, the son of W. T. Dettweiler of Grand Island has been very sick. He was in Ord with his parents during chautauqua.

STATE CAPITAL LINCOLN CHAT.

Gift Enterprises Unlawful.
The practice of offering prizes of any kind to help boost the sale of an article or of a description is in conflict with the following law, and a violation will subject the offender to punishment:

"It shall be unlawful for any person or persons to engage in any gift enterprise in this state. Every person who shall sell or offer for sale any real estate or article of merchandise of any description whatever, or any ticket of admission to any exhibition or performance or other place of amusement with a promise, expressed or implied, to give or bestow, or in any manner hold out any article of gift or bestowal of any article or thing, for and in consideration of the purchase by any person, of any other article or thing, whether the object shall be for individual gain, or for the benefit of any institution of whatever character, or for any purpose whatever, shall be held to be engaged in a gift enterprise within the provisions of this act."

Punished for Using Bad Oil.
The law against the use of inferior oils in this state prescribes a penalty for user of the oils, but lets the seller go free. It is claimed that the Standard Oil company has sold a considerable quantity of inferior oil, but that it cannot be prosecuted successfully owing to the peculiar statute. No prosecutions have been begun against the users of inferior oil because, it is understood, the officials having the matter in charge feel that the consumer is not the person who ought primarily to pay the penalty for using cheap oil. Under this construction of the statute, in which it is stated the attorney general has acquiesced, oil companies may flood Nebraska with cheap oils and escape scot free. The man who buys, however, is open to prosecution and a fine for trying to use himself money.

Who Pays the "Sub"?
When an employee of the state becomes ill and cannot attend to his duties shall the state continue paying his salary, and in addition, the salary of a substitute? This question has come before the board of public lands and buildings with respect to Superintendent Thomas of the institute for feeble minded at Beatrice. Since Dr. Thomas has been ill he has been paid his usual salary. A substitute has been employed to take charge of the institution pending his return to health. Land Commissioner Cowles thinks that the substitute was hired with the understanding that he would cost the state nothing, that, in other words, the expense of the substitute would be paid from Dr. Thomas' salary.

Experts Will Meet.

State Hospital Overcrowded.
The overcrowded condition of the state hospital for the insane at Lincoln has reached a stage so acute that Superintendent Hay is advocating a temporary suspension of the law providing for the care of inebriates in that institution. In discussing the question with Douglas county authorities he said he expected to make such a recommendation to the state board of public lands and buildings at its next meeting.

Powell of the railway commission investigated the derailment of Rock Island engine No. 909 at Havelock, which resulted in the death of Fireman Elser and brakeman Oliver. Afterwards the pony trucks, lifted momentarily from the track, failed to take the sidetrack and the engine bounced along, to later roll into the ditch.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA.

The Coin Came Back.

Seward County.—A bit of history was brought to light when J. H. Welch of Seward came into possession of a silver 50-cent piece which had been stolen from him forty years ago. In 1856, just after Mr. Welch left the army, his grandfather gave him a silver half dollar which was coined in 1858 and told him to give it to the oldest son as a keepsake. In those days, silver coins were a scarce article and Mr. Welch took the coin to a jeweler in Nebraska and had a hole drilled in it and a small ribbon attached which he placed about his oldest son's neck, then an infant. Later, in 1871, Mr. Welch settled on a homestead in Seward county, near West Mills, where the son died. One day when the family were absent from the "dugout," the usual home of the pioneer in those days, his home was entered and ransacked by an intruder and the coin, together with some other trinkets, was stolen. Now the coin has come into Mr. Welch's hands through his son Al, who had received it as wages from a local butcher. It had been taken into his market just forty years after it had been stolen.

As soon as the officers began to approach the stranger, however, he fled to corn fields southeast of the city where the trace was lost.

He filed regularly on the democratic and people's independent ticket for the late primary, and had no opposition, and hence was nominated on these tickets. There was no regular candidate on the republican ticket but on about seventy ballots cast names were written in. Mr. Bersing had the good fortune to receive thirty-five of these ballots, while his nearest competitor only registered thirty-three.

CAN'T FIND HAPPINESS

OLD MONEYBAGS IS BOTH A PLU-TOCRAT AND PAUPER.

He Has Amassed Great Wealth and Lost All That Was Best
In Him.

Dun and Bradstreet rate him rich. His name works magic at the bank. His check is good for millions. His vaults are stuffed with stocks and bonds. But his dollars have an actual value of five cents each.

He is bloated with riches and writing in poverty—his plutocrat and a pauper at the same time.

Fate has made an ass of him—and has given him all the cash he asked for, but she omitted the formula that gives it value.

He has the lock, but he can't find the key—he doesn't know what to do with his money.

He is a lineal descendant of King Midas—he learned the golden touch, but he can't control its power. In his madness for millions he has transmuted all the realities of life into useless trash.

He placed his springtime in the minting press—he turned all his hopes and all his visions into coin—stamped all the tenderness out of his heart and milled the peace of his soul.

Year by year he went on amassing wealth and just as steadily losing all that was best in him. All that was kindly—all that was joyous—he turned to dross.

Now in his silver age he is yearning for his golden youth.

There is an ache that he doesn't understand—a hungry hole in his breast where godly heritages shriveled and died from disuse.

He can't enjoy himself—he isn't trained for the job.

His rapacity destroyed his capacity to comprehend the big message.

He owns a yacht, but it's a drifting argosy with dead sails—with all his wealth he can't make it carry him into the land of dreams.

He can't see—he can't hear—he's dulled his eye—made him color blind—none of the wonders of life has a meaning.

For him the mountain summits are bare—the flowers have died on the slopes and the north winds have locked the brooks and silenced the waterfall.

He is a man without illusions—a moral cripple—a Croesus starving in his treasure vaults.

When you were wrapping yourself in ideals, he was rapping our ideas.

You have only sold your services—he has put every drop of his blood in to the market—and the joke of it all is that he had to wait until winter before he found that every dollar is not the same size—that its purchasing power varies with the individual.

He has overpaid. No man gets out of existence more than his legitimate allotment. If he gains in one direction, he loses a compensating something in another way.

The price of the king's crown is heavy with heartache. The meanest subject in his kingdom can marry as he wills, but the mightiest of monarchs must mate at the dictate of the state.

The embezzler defaults with property that he did not earn, but from that moment every hour of every day is haunted with the dread of detection.

The rolster indulges himself in every whim and wilfulness, but settles the bill when his wasted vitality exposes him to disease against which the continent man has stored sufficient energy to defend himself.

Old John Moneybags has the price of every form of enjoyment, but he can't locate the trails that lead to happiness.

It isn't the size of a man's roll, but the size of a man's soul that counts—Woman's World.

Good Luck Allocated.
A howl from the upper story brought the mother to her feet. Rude laughter intermingled with the howling and the dust threatened to become a trio, with the buccolic barder trying to earn bread in his study.

"Mummy, mummy," cried Elsie, meeting her on the stairs, "please come up and spank Dick."

"What has he been doing?" asked her mother.

"We are playing at weddings," sobbed Elsie, "and Dick threw rice all over me."

"But you mustn't cry over that," soothed the fond parent. "Rice brings good luck to the bride, you know."

Little Elsie opened her eyes wide as she held out her sopping pinafore, and asked:

"What, mummy—when it's in pudding?"—Answers.

Turn About.
At Cumberland, Md., the colored servants as a rule go to their own homes at night. The cook in the family of the Episcopalian clergyman not only does this, but of late has arrived at the rectory too late to cook breakfast. Hence her mistress lately told her for each breakfast missed there would be a reduction in her weekly wages. Dinah passively assented to this, but next day the mistress heard the maid next door say to her:

"Pears to me you get to work mighty late."

"I gets to work when I get ready," was the reply.

"How does you manage about de breakfast?"

"Oh, I pays de missus to cook de breakfast."—Housekeeping Magazine.

Greeley Leader.
While threshing Tuesday at the Gus Allender place west of town the threshing machine belonging to Spencer Bros. was entirely destroyed by fire together with some stacks of oats. Sparks from the engine are said to have caused the fire which is not only a severe loss to the Spencers but equally a heavy loss to Mr. Allender. It is understood a small insurance was carried on the machine.

Burwell Tribune.
Ray Wilson went to Greeley last Friday night for a wrestling match with Cannon, the Greeley county champion. After a contest of an hour and twenty minutes on the mat the referee called the match a draw. Both of the wrestlers, however, still think themselves to be the best man and arrangements have been made to try it again at the same place at a later date.

Jonathan Matthey tells us that now that he has disposed of his Garfield county farm he will close up some of his other business affairs here and then go to the Soldiers Home at Grand Island for the balance of his days. Mr. Matthey is one of the pioneers of Garfield county and we regret to see him leaving Burwell, but trust that he will be able to enjoy the comfort that the home affords for many years.

Sargent Leader.
The body of Mrs. Mary E. Austin, who died in Buffalo, Okla., arrived here Friday and the funeral was held at West Union on Sunday. The deceased was taken seriously ill while in apparent good health, and all the medical aid was available. She leaves to mourn her death, a husband, two daughters and three sons, namely Nellie Wilson, Jennie Pennington, Bert, Frank and Ode Dickson. The funeral was attended by a large concourse of friends.

A later report from the bedside of ex-Governor E. P. Savage to the state dailies stated that he had passed the acute stage of an appendicitis attack and was rapidly recovering from the illness. He strongly objected to submit to an operation, and his objection was obeyed by the physicians.

GASOLINE BLAZE.
What promised to be a most disastrous fire broke out in the oil room at the rear of the A. H. Souder's drug store Monday evening about nine o'clock and for an hour and a half the fire boys fought bravely and succeeded in confining the blaze to the original building.

The fire was the result of an accident, the filling of a kerosene tank with gasoline. Forty or fifty gallons had to be consumed before the fire could be extinguished and in the face of danger of a disastrous explosion the firemen stood their ground and piled water on the wood-work of the interior of the structure. The oil was flowing slowly from the faucet and it seemed ages before the tank would empty. Finally some one dared the task of removing the receptacle to the street. As it struck the sidewalk it broke and the flaming oil seemed to enfold the fighters. Two streams of water quickly washed the oil to the gutter where it was soon exhausted in a vast flame.

The building was full of inflammable liquid, including seventy gallons of denatured alcohol, seventy five gallons of turpentine, 100 gallons of machine oil, 100 gallons of kerosene and a barrel of dip, most of which was removed to the street during the conflagration.

Mr. Souder's was not aware that he had a drop of gasoline on the premises until the mistake was discovered. It is miraculous that none were seriously injured during the fire. Mr. Souder's received a few slight burns on his hands and a number of firemen secured a thorough drenching.

The loss is estimated at $275 and is covered by insurance.—Broken Bow Beacon.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT.
Last Saturday while out driving with friends near the Lohr ranch, Ross Lohr was shot by the accidental discharge of his shotgun. As near as we could learn he had just reached over and lifted his gun into the seat with him and it was leaning up against him when in some manner it went off, and he received the full charge in the arm pit and it came out near the shoulder. Those who were with him at once planned to get needed aid. They took him to the ranch and phoned for Dr. Robinson, who got there as soon as possible and fixed him up so that he could be brought to town. At present he is at the home of Roy Nanel. His father and mother who live at Merna were sent for and they arrived about eleven o'clock the same evening. At the present writing he is resting well and if no complications set in, he will be out in a short time.—Broken Bow Chief.

SCHOOL NOTES.
The athletic association held its first meeting Tuesday.

The six high school teachers find their time a little more completely filled than was that of the five teachers of last year.

The music work began on Tuesday at the south school, the fourth and fifth grades working together and the seventh and eighth separately. The high school began on Wednesday.

At the beginning the program seemed to be difficult to adjust. This caused a change in the time of opening and closing school at the noon hour but by Wednesday morning the difficulty was removed and the time was fixed as it was last year.

The rooms are all filling up nicely and the work is moving off well. The two primary rooms surprised everybody by running up to forty six each on Monday. The total in all rooms was 518 on Monday and a considerable number have entered since.

The subjects in the high school are divided as follows: Miss Fritchett, Principal, Mathematics; Miss Conely, Latin; Miss Haskell, Science; Miss McAndrews, English; Miss Kathryn Schaper, German and History; Mr. Jones, History and Normal Training.

The enrollment in the high school has passed the record with a good deal to spare. We have 183 at Wednesday noon and know of others who expect to enter. One of the features of the enrollment that is very satisfactory is that 148 of these are from our own home district. Another is that, of the 183, the boys number eighty nine.

The other exclusive fast mail and express train No. 15 from Chicago to Omaha during June and July 1911, arrived "On Time" at the Missouri River every day. ### LINCOLN READY FOR TAFT

Lincoln is putting on her gayest apparel for the welcome to President Taft next Monday. Committees are rapidly working out the details necessary to a big reception, and if the day is fair an immense crowd of Nebraska people will see and hear the nation's chief.

The Lincoln Commercial Club and other civic organizations, now at work on the preliminaries of the reception, hope to make this a welcome of the state to the distinguished guest. He will be here in the capital of the state. Here he will be greeted by the senators and representatives of the state. Governor Aldrich will extend him a welcome in the name of the state and its people. Here he will be greeted by the citizens of every county in the state. Lincoln's welcome will be the state's welcome.

President Taft will reach Lincoln at 12 o'clock noon Monday, Oct. 2, 1911. Received by a reception committee of which Elmer J. Burkett is chairman, he will be conducted to the Lincoln Hotel where he will lunch as guest of the Lincoln Commercial Club. He will then be driven by automobile east on O street to Sixteenth street, and south to M street and west to the auditorium at Thirteenth and M streets. The big auditorium will be thrown open to the general public. The president's escort of honor will be G. A. R. veterans, and the Lincoln post issues a cordial invitation to all G. A. R. men of the state to participate with them in this capacity.

Captain H. E. Yates and the University Cadets will assist in keeping the streets open along the line of march, so that the president may greet and be greeted by the thousands of people who desire to see him. The University Cadet Band, and the Lincoln Concert Band and a fife and drum corps of the G. A. R. will furnish the music for the parade.

The president will speak about three-quarters of an hour, and will then be conducted back to his private train, which will proceed westward on his trip.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cooper of Fairfax, Mo., went to Fullerton, Neb., yesterday. They are relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Thompson and have been visiting with them and other relatives for a few days.

Mrs. Jack Johnson returned Friday from a couple of weeks' visit in Lincoln and Schuyler. Her mother Mrs. F. J. Dworak and her brother George returned the same evening from Schuyler.

CONTRACT FOR CHURCH

Is Let by the Methodists, the Building to Cost About $24,000.00

Methodists are all glad to know that a bid has at last been accepted for the building of the new church. Soucy & Pasha of College View are the successful bidders.

The contract price for the work let to this firm is $17,995. To this must be added the cost of the cement work on the basement, the seating, lighting, heating, plumbing, set glass windows and general furnishing, which will amount to about $6,000 more, making the total cost of the church, as near as we can guess it now, about $24,000.

The building will be 64 x 88 feet on the ground, high basement and audience room and with tile roof and dome.

The material to be used is cement foundation red pressed brick to the water table, light cream pressed brick for the body with gray granite cement trimmings and pillars. The combination of colors will be, we think, very pleasing to the eye.

The beauty of the exterior will be only equaled by the interior finish, which will be in hard wood. The building committee purpose to use great care in the color scheme for the interior, so that a beautiful view shall be presented to the worshippers.

The work of the committee has been very strenuous up to the moment, and they look for no cessation of labor, till the building is completed and dedicated. To decide upon a plan acceptable to all, filling the requirements and coming within the limits of the funds to be available was no small task. But this has been done to the satisfaction of all and now all that remains to be done is to work to the lines laid out and agreed upon. This, while exacting, will not be so nerve-racking as the labors of the committee up to this point.

About $13,000 has been subscribed up to this time, not to mention the old church property, which, when sold, will add materially to the available funds. But allowing liberally for this there will still be a large sum to raise. But this is not looked upon as a very serious undertaking. We know that the membership will contribute much more than that already subscribed by them, and that the public generally will also come forward with generous gifts when it is known that a beautiful church is to be built.

Every body recognizes the needs of the community in this particular. Ord's churches are not up to the level of other improvements in the city, and all will be glad to know that a start is made to bring up this lagging feature of the general improvement. And we are sure that as soon as work is well advanced and an idea of the nature of the work being done is gained by the public much outside assistance will come to the project.

The new church will have a regular seating capacity of about 750 in the main auditorium when all seating is used. Of course on occasion many other seats can be added, so that this will be by far the largest auditorium in town and will accommodate any demands made by the public for many years to come. The advantage of having such a room in town available to public uses will be readily recognized.

The Sunday school rooms will be in the basement, and will be ample and convenient. In the basement also will be rooms for social features of church work.

The new church will be from now the great thing before the Ord public and we feel sure all will take a lively interest in its construction.

John Rogers and John Mason went to St. Paul Friday to bring home the Mason auto. Several days before they got this far with the car and had some trouble with the machine and left it there until the first of this week.

Mrs. Ada Ralston is visiting her people the Ole Severson family. She came up Tuesday evening. She was accompanied by little Mabel Ludington who has been making her home with Mr. and Mrs. Ralston.

Rev. Pickering left this week for his years work at Palsade. These good people have been at Rosevale for two years and are leaving a host of friends behind.

Edward Skoll, cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Comstock, came to town Saturday from Omaha where he had been attending to business matters.

Mrs. A. D. Cady of Lander, Wyo., a sister-in-law of Mrs. O. H. Smith arrived Tuesday for a week or ten days visit.

Freda and Marie Montgomery of Westerville, Neb., are visiting Mrs. C. E. Russell this week.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Hansen went to Davenport Saturday morning to spend a few days with friends.

L. D. Conger returned Tuesday to Elgin Ill. He has been attending to business matters and visiting his daughter for a few days.

Leta Booth returned Tuesday from Michigan, where she has been with a sister for several months. She stopped on her homeward trip to visit for a couple of weeks in Iowa.

Mrs. Mortensen gave a reception Monday evening in honor of Mr. and Miss McMasters. The latter part of the evening the young people enjoyed a dance. A fine time is reported.

Mrs. Roy Beachamp has been entertaining a sister Ethel Hutchings of Terra Haute, Ind. She and Helen Petty came up from Olean Saturday and were the Sunday guests of Mrs. Warren Collins.

We are in receipt of an announcement of the marriage of Miss Edna Viola Clements to Mr. Ralph Burke Sill on Tuesday, Sept. 19 at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Clements, Lincoln. The new couple will be at home at 2145 South 17th street, Lincoln, after Oct. 1.

F. M. Harris came up to Ord a few days ago to visit here for a little while with his old friends. He accompanied his daughter, Mrs. Dick Flynn, up from Kansas. The latter had been there for a few weeks on a visit. Mr. Harris reports things prosperous in eastern Kansas, with the ground well soaked with recent heavy rains, and he is well pleased with his new home. He returned home Wednesday morning.

Here is a fine illustration of the difference between the way the public and private concerns do things. When the city uses the road grader a plank is laid across the drivers seat and two men hired to sit thereon to drive four horses. When the fair association wished to make use of the grader they hired a one-handed man to do the same simple stunt. One hand can handle the ribbons for the fair association but it takes four hands to do it for the city. Yet there are people who favor municipal ownership of things.

LOYAL TO BURWELL

Burwell Neb. Sept. 22 1911. My dear Uncle Will:—I have just finished reading that touching little article published in the Quiz, in which you said you were sure that the Burwell people were ashamed of their editor. I think you need a little enlightenment concerning that fact, for our Burwell people are proud, very proud of our editor, and I am only sorry to confess that my uncle lives in Ord and is the editor of the Quiz. Your niece, Ruth Holson.

P. S. I wish to add that we are very proud of our editor. R. H.

We have heard a great deal of comment on the value of the Russian thistle as a food for cattle, but it never has been brought to mind as during the late dry spell. Elliott Davis of the firm of Frank Davis & Sons, informed us this week that if it had not been for about 80 acres of Russian thistles which grew up after their wheat had been burned up by the drouth they never could have brought their cattle through without taking them to a foreign pasture.

This thistles grew in abundance on the wheat land, and the cattle ate them with a relish and grew sleek and fat on this kind of feed. Mr. Davis remarked that a number of farmers in Western Nebraska, have been cutting Russian thistles and stacking them for feeding purposes as they make excellent roughage feed for cattle and even horses will eat them. Just east of town we noticed a large field covered with this weed enough to feed several head of cattle for a month, and we are wondering if the owner of the land realized that he had such a brook observer.

BIG FAIR IS IN PROGRESS

By Far the Biggest Success of Any Fair Ever Held at This Place

The ninth annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society is now in progress, and it is by all odds the greatest fair ever held in Valley county.

For the first time races were put on as the chief sport and entertainment and with heavy purses hung up, this drew to the fair a large support that it has never enjoyed before.

Then the Commercial Club took an early hand in the game of boosting for the fair. Its two auto excursions to all the adjacent territory proved a great attraction and many people from far decided to come to Ord in response to the invitations given by these Boosters.

Tuesday was opening day but of course it was for entries and other preparations and was not in any sense a fair. But it opened unexpectantly on account of threatening weather. The sky was overcast and a mist was in the air and it looked as though a rainy spell had set in to spoil all the preparation and make impossible the great attendances promised us. But the rain did not come, the clouds gradually lifted and by afternoon the sun was shining and the sun set clear and beautiful. And yesterday morning broke bright and promising with all evidences of storm removed.

There was a good attendance yesterday, the largest ever had on the second day of the fair, but today will be the hummer. Grand Island will send up a trainload, bringing people up all along the line. Loup City will send over a big auto delegation. Charlie Masin writes that 22 cars will come over at least and he thinks the number will be about thirty. Comstock is coming over with a large number of machines. So, with good weather, this is to be the greatest day ever seen in Ord for crowd. All delegations will come in large numbers with bands playing and with banners flying, so there will be something doing all the time.

The race program today is about the best of the series and will of course prove a great attraction. Tomorrow closes the fair. While the attendance will not be so great the program is a strong one in point of races and other attractions and there will no doubt be many here.

Rob Dolan, who has been conductor on the U. P. since M. J. Shoenaker has been in the east visiting, received a telegram Saturday evening advising him of the death of his brother, an engineer, at Columbus. The deceased has been sick for some time. He was 49 years old and has been an engineer for ten years. On account of no Sunday train service in Ord Conductor Dolan could not get out of here until Monday morning, when he had to accompany the U. P. as conductor.

On George Parkins' window is a mysterious clock. It is stuck to the glass and consists apparently of only the two hands. But it keeps good time and even when it is turned away from its proper place the hands come back to where they belong and go right on again keeping up with time. Maybe George knows how it is done, but most of us cannot see how. Stop there and look at it and see if you cannot figure out what makes it do it.

CANADA WANTS NO RECIPROCITY WITH UNITED STATES.

AN UPSET OF CALCULATIONS

Seven Members of Present Ministry Defeated, But Premier to Retain His Seat From Unopposed Constituency.

Montreal, Que.—The Laurier government and reciprocity suffered an overwhelming defeat in the Canadian elections Thursday.

By a political landslide the liberal majority of forty-three was swept away and the conservative party secured one of the heaviest majorities, upwards of fifty, that any Canadian party has ever had. Seven cabinet ministers who had served with Premier Laurier were among the defeated candidates. The liberals lost ground in practically every province of the Dominion.

Where they won their majorities were small. Where the conservatives won their majorities were tremendous. Ontario, the leading province of Canada, declared almost unanimously against the administration and reciprocity.

The government defeat means that the leading victory knocks the reciprocity agreement, ratified by the American congress in extra session, and will not be introduced when the parliament assembles next month, and that a revised basis of trade with the United States looking for closer commercial relations will not be possible in the immediate future. The conservatives are committed to a policy of trade expansion within the empire and a closed door against the United States.

Pat Crowe in New Role. Chicago.—Pat Crowe, sometime kidnapper, sometime preacher of the gospel, attacked a woman in Wells street. He was angered because the woman resented his attempt to flirt. The woman, hysterical and bearing on her face the imprint of the man's fist, hurried home before the police learned her name. Crowe, beaten by men who did not sympathize with his "strong arm flirtation," was taken to a hospital and later to a police station.

Says He Isn't Going to Do It. Chicago.—Peter S. Crosscup, presiding judge of the United States circuit court of appeals for the northern district of Illinois, has announced that he will not send his resignation to President Taft until the threatened publication of charges and criticisms of his judicial career have been made and he has taken action to vindicate himself. Count of Texas Vote. Austin.—By official count the statewide prohibition amendment was defeated by a majority of 6,879 in the election held in Texas on July 22. The returns, canvassed by the state election board show 237,150 against the amendment and 230,251 for its adoption.

Land Withdrawn from Entry. Washington.—The secretary of the interior has withdrawn from entry 26,680 acres of land in the Blackfoot reservation, northwest Montana. He also has ratified all withdrawals and reservations heretofore made for irrigation purposes on the reservation.

Hope to Stop the Exodus. Chicago.—Governors John Shafroth of Colorado, James H. Hawley of Idaho and J. M. Carey of Wyoming, held a conference with A. B. Hullitt, commissioner general of the national association of immigration officials here. As members of the advisory board of the association, the three state executives discussed plans for stopping the immigration to Canada of western farmers. The organization will spend $1,000,000 to advertise the advantages of various sections of the United States for homeliving purposes.

Have Entered Suit for $5,000,000. Trenton, N. J.—The Buckeye Powder company has brought suit here for $5,000,000 damages against the E. I. DuPont-De Nemours Powder company and a number of its subsidiary concerns, which are commonly referred to as the "powder trust." The Buckeye company claims that its business has been injured by the practices of the so-called powder trust, and places its actual damages at $1,119,957, and also asks for punitive damages.

Toledo, O.—Brook's comet, which has been lost to observers since July, has been discovered again by Prof. H. J. Bloemeyer of St. John's college. The comet was visible in the north-west between the zenith and horizon.

ALL OVER NEBRASKA.

Close Call for Nebraska.

Gage County.—Dr. J. M. McKibben and J. B. Coffman, both of this county, who returned from Canada, where they went to look after their land interests, had a thrilling experience in the hills which came near ending their lives. With two Chinamen and a chauffeur they were rounding a curve on a mountain in an automobile, when the car slipped and rolled down the steep incline for some distance before it was stopped by a big log. Neither Mr. McKibben nor Mr. Coffman were injured when the car overturned, but the driver suffered a broken thigh, while one of the Chinamen was so severely hurt that he died several hours later.

Natural Gas Struck. Richardson County.—The people of Shubert are interested in the reported discovery of gas and oil in that vicinity. Several days ago laborers were digging a well on the farm of A. B. Davison near there, when at a depth of about sixty feet a reservoir of gas was generated which exploded with a loud noise, tearing out the top of the well. The water and sand ejected have been examined by a competent expert and has given a very favorable report. A stock company has been organized of Shubert residents and an eastern capitalist and further investigations will be made.

Merrick County Fair. Merrick County.—The Merrick county fair at Clarks drew big crowds. The big event of the fair was the barbecue. A 1,900-pound 3-year-old heifer was purchased from Fred Lind of Polk county, and after being roasted for over twenty-four hours by experts secured for the purpose it was served to the crowds attending. Bushels of buns were required for the sandwiches and a barrel of pickles furnished a relish.

LOOKING FOR LUDINGTON

Clad in citizens clothing, dismantled as much as possible of any signs of being police officers, Chief Arbogast and Officer Culp yesterday afternoon put in considerable time in efforts to locate a man named George Ludington, formerly a married man of Ord, but who recently, it is alleged, has been living at Hastings under another name. The fellow got wind of the fact that the officers were after him and he effectually disappeared.

It is alleged that Ludington some months ago deserted his wife at Ord, since which time he has been at Hastings. During his residence in the latter town the fellow became acquainted with a woman, also here yesterday who gave the police the name of Ella Beach, who was about to establish a rooming house, in Grand Island, having already shipped her goods to this city for the purpose of storing them until she had secured a suitable abode for them. She secured storage at a local storage house. Yesterday morning a brother of Mrs. Ludington at Ord, saw Ludington on the streets here and at once had a warrant issued for his arrest, but before the document could be served Ludington disappeared and no trace of him could be found. He had gone and with him the woman, Beach, assets $100 of her money.

The woman Beach states that she has a sister about 18 years of age to whom Ludington had been quite devoted, his attentions being accepted under the belief that he was a single man as he claimed to be. Hence the denouncement here yesterday proved quite a surprise to them, they claim.

The team with which Ludington and the Beach woman drove over from Hastings yesterday morning had been quartered at Corkins' barn. After the warrant for Ludington had been issued Mr. Corkin was notified by the police not to give the team up. Ludington called for the team and was refused possession. There is where he no doubt got wise and skipped. The woman phoned to Hastings for another man to come and drive her back—Grand Island Independent, Sept. 9.

The Degree of Honor will give their Fifteenth Anniversary Banquet, in honor of the charter members at the Bohemian Hall Tuesday evening, September 19. All Degree of Honors and their companions are invited. Bring your well filled baskets. You will have a good time. Committee.

Monday morning Judge Gudmundsen pronounced the words which made Helen Hoffman and Fred Steinwart one. After the ceremony the couple took the auto route for North Loup where a sumptuous wedding dinner had been prepared at the home of the groom's parents. We understand that the latter have presented the couple with a small farm near North Loup and that they will make their home thereon.

President M. F. O'Malley and Secretary T. F. Byrne of the Greeley county fair association were in the city yesterday boosting for the Greeley fair. These gentlemen can talk their fair in Ord or anywhere in this section of country for the Greeley boys always put up a good fair, do what they say they will do and pay in full, even if luck is against them and the treasury comes out short. From here they went to Burwell. The Greeley fair is on October 3, 4, 5, and 6.

Quite a number from here went down to Scotia last Friday to witness the ball games on the last day of the tournament. The first game was between Greeley and St. Paul, and although both teams were spiked to the finish, and St. Paul having about all the state league players that were available, they still retained the name of the town from which they drew their salary for the game.

This was a good game, the St. Paul players easily out classing the opposition and winning by a score of 7 to 1. The second game was between St. Paul and Scotia and was something in the line of one robber against the other, and this was just where the people of Ord had the smile coming, as we have been up against their treatment and decisions with a ball team several times of late. Those from here who were in attendance at the game say the one team pulled off a few of the other one's stunts, which is "get the game, no matter how, just get it". But St. Paul won in seven innings by 4 to 3.

BOOSTER TRIP BIG SUCCESS

Twenty-four Cars Loaded With Boosters Advertise the Coming Fair

Twenty-four booster autos departed Tuesday morning for a trip around the horn to wake up the natives and let them know that Ord is good and alive and that we have a fair coming that is going to be worth seeing. Each car was equipped with banners and posters announcing the fair and races to be had at Ord from September 28 to 29, and from four to five boosters occupied each car ready to put in a word where it will do the most good. It was some spectacle to see so many cars going out in a string with one purpose and one route.

They got away at 7:30, a half hour behind schedule time, the machines of the following owners being in the procession: Vopat, Huff, Cushing, Mortensen, Bailey & Sons, Newbecker, McGinnis, Hather, Marks, Moss, Stara, Kokes, Ollis, Mamie Siler, Arnold, Detweiler, Kougal, Clements, Parks, Orcutt, Adams, Bradley and Dowhower. Bailey's delivery car was also in the string as an ambulance, carrying car repairs.

A time schedule had been arranged and was followed pretty closely. The first stop was at Loup City, where a half-hour stop was made. Their camp Arcadia, Cozstock, Sargent, Taylor, Burwell, Elyria and back home, stops being made at each place, advertising matter distributed and some chin music indulged in. At Cozstock Senator Ollis made a fine talk appropriate to the occasion.

After making the difficult run over the hills towards Sargent the Boosters were surprised to find awaiting them a dozen or more autos several miles east of Sargent. These proved to be a delegation sent out by the Sargent boosters to escort the Ord Boosters into town. The town also had its band out to give the boys a good reception.

A stop was made here of an hour or more for dinner.

At Burwell the Boosters found the town much interested in a ball game, and our boys stopped there a little while and gave them some music, then slipped into town and distributed their advertising matter.

Everywhere, in the towns visited as well as in the country traveled over the Boosters were well received.

The band, the banners, the advertising matter and the heart to heart talks all had their effect, and called forth words of welcome from all. But the best of the trip was the reception at Sargent.

A remarkable thing is fine road work done through the hills north of Sargent, and you may be sure the motorists appreciated these roads.

The long trip of 122 miles was made, including stops, in about twelve hours. The start was made at 7:30 and by that time in the evening the long line of autos were nearing Ord.

A few machines fell by the way. Stara's was the first to succumb. A broken axle put his machine out. Stara and Jerry Cernik stayed with the machine till help came out from town, but the other occupants, Will Timm and Carl Johnson, walked back to town, 11 miles.

Orcutt had a blow out and had to stop so long for repairs that he cut cross-lots for home.

Dr. McGinnis made the record, however, for quick repairs. He had on a set of rots for tires, which had a habit of blowing out every once in a while, but he with his passengers, McIndes and Shirley, were so quick in repairing that, in spite of about twenty stops, they came into town in their proper place in the line.

Everybody came home enthusiastic over the trip. It was a jolly day and a glorious one for boosting the fair and Ord.

The credit for the planning and execution of this event is due the Commercial Club, which got it up and paid the expense of it, which is no small item.

Another trip will be had to Horace, Greeley, Scotia and North Loup next Tuesday. The plan is to reach North Loup about noon and stop there for the popcorn festivities.

Rev. Fred Berry of Lincoln preached to the Baptist people at the Ord church Thursday evening. The same evening Rev. Wilson of Omaha preached to the Dane people at Turtle Creek. The two ministers are missionary preachers and went away again Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leschinsky of Loup City were in town Monday.

Mrs. Belle Curran, a daughter of the late Eli Morris, and her uncle John Adams, a son of the late A. S. Adams, returned home to Oklahoma.

D. N. McCord was in the city awhile yesterday. To-day he and his wife and daughter depart for California to make their permanent home. Mac has sold his interests in Schuyler.

The Fair management are putting up 32 feet more grand stand on the east end of the present amphitheatre. This will accommodate a lot more people and make the show that much more enjoyable.

Last Friday John Fogt, Miss Zeigler, Carl Holm and wife and Mrs. P. L. Pjeldrup and daughter Eva went to Nysted to attend a high school fest. The exercises occupied Saturday and Sunday.

L. D. Conger came up to Ord last Friday night for a few days visit with his daughter Reba and to look after some business matters. He and his wife have been living at their old home Elgin, Ill., since leaving Valley county some months ago. His health is so much improved that he is planning to go back on the road again.

Ole Olson of Saunders county, who owns lots of fine land in Valley county, last week added to his possessions here by buying the Robert Nay farm in Noble township, paying $27,700 cash for the section. This is the biggest land deal in this section of country for a number of weeks. The Nay farm is a good one, partly hilly but all right. Mr. Olson, the purchaser, is a good judge of land and buys nothing but good stuff. Mr. Nay has not yet perfected his plans for the future, but he is likely to look around before he buys again.

A card from Prof. Eugene Howe last week announces to us the happy news that on Saturday September 2 a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Howe. And Howe declares that young man to be a dandy. Coupling this bit of news with the fact we printed last week of the arrival of twins at the Trefren household since they went to Oklahoma constrains us to say that some more of our people might profit by moving down to Oklahoma. The climate or the eater or something down that way seems to inspire fecundity. They can raise babies if they cannot raise crops in Oklahoma, and of the two the baby crop is by far the more important.

At about 10:30 last night some of our choice saloon products were having a time near the Winder barn when Clarence Barnes came along on his way home from work. Clarence claims that Clark McKinney had a bottle of beer and wanted him to drink, and insisted so strenuously that a scrap ensued. Charlie Miller and Will Smith were at hand and took more or less part in the affair, so Barnes says, and fearing that they were going to assault him he drew his knife. Later he got away leaving his hat and knife on the scene of carnage. No one was hurt.

Sheriff Sutton was called and arrested McKinney, who was lodged in jail. The latter declares that he will have Barnes arrested for drawing the knife.

Pop-Corn Days will be celebrated at North Loup Tuesday and Wednesday, September 19 and 20. Every one in the Loup country is invited to attend and to bring produce to exhibit, especially poultry as an expert poultry man will be present to judge and score poultry. He will be with us Tuesday only. On Wednesday a man from the state farm will lecture and will judge the corn. The Poultryman will lecture on poultry raising on Tuesday afternoon. Anyone may become a member of the association by the payment of $1.00 this will secure a badge which will admit the wearer and his family to the ball game. An admission fee will be charged to the ball game to all who do not wear badges except children and the family of the one buying a badge. Pop-Corn, coffee, cream, sugar and crackers will be served free to all. The committee has just received a popper which has a capacity of 12 bushels of popped corn per hour. Small premiums will be awarded for everything brought in except stock. For further information write W. G. Rood, president or I. A. Manchester, secretary.

State Funds Will Be Protected.

In an opinion addressed to State Treasurer George, Attorney General Martin holds that banks newly applying for the deposit of state funds need not offer a surety bond as security, providing they are protected by the guaranty law, but that the banks which have already given surety bonds for the protection of state funds cannot pull down their bonds nor is anyone authorized to release them from such obligations. As a result state funds deposited in state banks will be protected by surety bonds and by the guaranty law at the same time. The old law required that bonds should be given the state treasurer for twice the amount of state funds deposited and that this sum should never exceed 30 per cent of the bank's capital stock. The attorney general holds that this part of the law is still in effect. State banks are not required to include state funds in their total of deposits subject to assessment for bank guaranty purposes.

The matron is to be the daughter of Mr. Hilyard, Mrs. Mary C. Saum of Superior. Seven and a half hours are allowed for the first two days and six hours for the last day of the test.

Will Continue in Force.

It is expected that Attorney General Martin will shortly write an opinion, in reply to questions from State Treasurer George, holding that although state banks are not required to furnish depository bonds for the security of public funds, that there seems to be no way provided for them taking down the bonds already deposited with the state treasurer and that these surety bonds will therefore continue in force until expiration.

For the Hostess

A Pendule Party. Who originated this unusually clever idea, I know not, but I see its possibilities and I am sure our readers will appreciate the efforts of the one who worked it out. In the first place "Pendule" means clock. It is the French and adds a bit of mystery to the invitations which should bear the face of a clock. Have six tables, four players at each. I will now quote from the description given me:

Twenty minutes were allowed at each table, then the menu progressed. In this way they met all the ladies. Places at the table were found by booklets in which was space to write the answers; a quotation and picture of a clock were on the cover of each. For table 1, couple 1, the hour hand pointed to one o'clock and the quotation was:

"One truth is clear." —Pope.
For table 1, couple 2, the hour hand pointed to two o'clock and the quotation was:

"Two heads are better than one." —Heywood.

The proposition to go to the commission system of government was voted on in Omaha recently and was carried by a vote of two to one. Gradually we are creeping on towards new forms of government.

Walt Mason is undoubtedly a fluent writer, but he made a mistake when he contracted with a syndicate of papers to produce a prose poem every day.
The poet can produce poems worthy of so great a name as Mason's by the same rule that a lady eggs or according to fads. To write a poem
by of the label the poet have an inspiration other than an alarm clock or an offer of much per, and, we regret to say, now and then some of Mason's poems are bearing the truth of these remarks. If Mason aspires to win the name of a name among America's best he should throw this syndicate contract and live a living by the sweat of his face if need be, writing poems only when his muse

gives him a hunch. As it is now too many of Mason's alleged poems are so insipid that they would not be read at all but for the name that goes with them.
But this kind of business will very soon take the luster off any body's fair name.

Several republicans, after reading our remarks last week
about the candidacy of Judge
Hamer on the republican ticket, expressed surprise that we should speak out against a republican nominee. There is no reason for such surprise.
The only reason why we do not often oppose republican nominees is that usually republican nominees are all right. But we are not in favor of Hamer and shall not vote for him. If he is left on the ticket and his place not filled by a proper man we shall vote for Dean in his stead.

The sugar trust defrauded the government out of millions of money by the fraudulent scale route and, when caught at it, was fined. The trust paid the fine and now the price of sugar is going up by leaps and bounds.
And still we cannot get our laws changed so as to make the sins of the trusts punishable only in penal servitude of the officials.
It has been proved over and over again that a fine imposed upon a trust is no punishment at all. All that they have to do is to raise the price of their wares and let the consumer pay the fine and some more with it for good measure. This is what the public is going to do now with the sugar trust fine.

Boost for the fair.

I want to be a knocker and with the knockers stand,
A crown upon my forehead and a hammer in my hand.

If anybody starts a move to boost the town along I'll call the other knockers round and sing this little song:

"I don't care for no one but myself,
Dare this talk about the public good,
I ain't doin' nothin' but for self,
And I'll try to down the man who would,

I ain't got no time or cash to blow
For the town or county where I stay,
When I have to work for fun, by Joe,
I will pack my duds and move away.

When the boosters bring us all good trade,
Business is booming everywhere,
Bet your life I'll be here in the shade
Hogging in to try to get my share.

But I won't do nothin' to help boost,
Let the boosters do the work, I say,
When they find my money jarin' loose
It will be some colder than today."

And then the other knockers all will holler, "Say, That's great.

You've got the right idee, old boy, of knocking in your pipe."

We knockers then will strut around and spit upon the walk

And we will kill off anything that can be killed by talk.

And if the town dries up at last and dies and blows away

We'll know we ain't lost nothing by working without pay.

And then we'll hunt an iceberg or an rock out in the sea

And build a town for knockers. That will be a sight to see.

And when the town is builded, I know some boosters will

Will come along and name it, and the name will sound like—say can you guess?

Roosevelt on the Peace Treaty

Ex-President Roosevelt has said the following about peace pacts in general which ought to appeal to the minds of all thinking people:

"General arbitration treaties under the best circumstances can be only promises; they appeal especially to sentimentalists, who are never safe advisers, and their importance is usually exaggerated to a ludicrous degree. The real important thing is the practical application of the principal to specific instances. Most men of knowledge, who are willing to think, know perfectly well that this country would not, as a matter of fact, keep an agreement to arbitrate all questions of vital honor and interest, even though it were unwise as to make it; and that it is a wicked thing to put us in the position of promising what will not and cannot be performed.

It is our duty, so far as human nature in the present day world will permit, to try to provide peaceful substitutes for war as the method of the settlement of international disputes. But progress in this direction is merely hindered by the folly that believes in putting peace above righteousness. The true lovers of peace, the men who have really hepled onward the movement for peace, have been those who followed the footsteps of Washington and Lincoln, and stood for righteousness as the supreme end of national life."

WILL THE LAWYERS DO IT?

President Taft told the American Bar association some pretty plain truths, notably that the court procedure of this country is sorely in need of reforming and that the lawyers are the ones to do the job, or at least start it. It will be interesting to watch the lawyers get to work.

The president is a lawyer, himself, has been a judge and has made a good many other men judges. He knows enough about judicial procedure to say what it ought to be and his words are not subject to the charge of prejudicial testimony.

The laymen have been urging reforms in judicial proceedings for a long time and it is a fine thing to have the weight of the president's influence on the same side. It will have the effect of increasing the popularity of the demands which sooner or later must be met decisively.

Both respect for the judiciary—a very necessary thing in this country —and the direct administration of justice are subject to enhancement by certain reforms in the processes of law. People are outraged and justly so as much when there is a patent gross miscarriage of justice under form of law or a violent assault upon law and order and they are prone to condemn the acts and the immediate actors as they have a right to do.
But back of the immediate scene of often lie vital contributory causes which must be met before the veil complained of can be effectually overcome or prevented. And these causes sometimes spring from the undue exaggeration of slender technicalities in the law. Lawyers and judges have it in their power to remedy conditions of this sort because they are the ones chiefly responsible for them. That plainly is what the president had in mind and sought to impress upon his hearers at the bar association.—

IRRIGATED LANDS ASSERT THEIR VALUE

The irrigated areas in the Big Horn Basin and the Yellowstone Valley present at this time a wholesome example of the value of irrigation. On the Government irrigated homesteads in the vicinity of Ralston, Powell and Garland, Wyo., and along the Yellowstone river near Huntley, Mont., there are magnificent crops of alfalfa, wheat, oats, potatoes, sugar beets, etc.
An ample supply of water is furnished through the season by the Government. Along the Big Horn River, upon lands taken under the Carey Act, there are likewise extensive areas of profitable crops.

The Government irrigated homesteads under the new Ralston unit are now available for entry. These include some of the most valuable and easily irrigated lands in the Basin. They are surrounded by protecting and magnificent mountain ranges. Local and Government agents help you in every way to select your land, and they take a deep interest in the development of your farm.

The writer visited that locality the week of August 8th to 12th, and saw everywhere such excellent yields, such highly developed farms, canals full of water, fast growing towns, new land going under cultivation, as to warrant this statement that there are not today, in the United States, better chances for successful farming and future homes than upon the irrigated lands of the above named regions.

Join our personally conducted excursions during the autumn, and see for yourself what I am trying to make plain to you.

cess of a silo depends on it being as nearly air tight as possible. We have just received a shipment of this stock, specially manufactured to the exactness of a sixteenth of an inch, and before you make a purchase we want to show this to you. It is tongued and grooved and all of the long lengths so desirable and really necessary to making a first class silo. Don't buy from some outside traveling salesman until you figure with us.
We have the best material that can be bought and our silo

A Clean Scalp and Healthy Hair

Many of your friends have found that a luxuriant growth of hair—soft and glossy—and a scalp free from dandruff will result from the use of

Nyal's Hirsutone

This is the procedure—Wash the hair with warm water and a pure soap—rinse thoroughly—rub the scalp with a stiff brush—apply Hirsutone—rub it in well and dry the hair before combing. Please understand that Hirsutone is not merely a hair-wash—it is a tonic—a food.

While it thoroughly cleanses, it also prevents bacterial action—nourishes and stimulates the roots of the hair—removes all dandruff—prevents its return—and preserves the natural beauty and the color of the hair

Nyal's Hirsutone should be on your dressing table. It sells at 50c and $1.00 the bottle.

EXCHANGES

Sargent Leader.
The eighteen months old child of Mr. Widdington, fireman on the passenger, got its index and second finger on the right hand badly mashed by having them caught in the cog-wheel of a clothes wringer one day this week. The mother was turning the cog-wheel and did not notice the place its hand on the wheels.
O. W. Parks and family returned home last week from a three weeks automobile tour of Colorado, Wyoming and western Nebraska. The trip Mr. Parks said, was immensely enjoyed. Several days were spent at Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Pike's Peak, Boulder and Cheyenne. At the latter place it was their good fortune to witness the "Frontier Day" exhibitions. The high altitude of Colorado did not seem to agree with Mr. Parks, and he did not feel well, having contracted, he believed, the slight attack of the mountain fever.
Mrs. J. W. Smith had a misfortune last Monday in which she suffered two broken ribs and the wrenching of her back severely by stepping into an open cellar way at the Catholic parsonage. She had just arrived at the parsonage and was in the act of greeting the housekeeper with a handshake. She did not notice the door was open to the basement and unconsciously stepped backward into the opening. Fortunately the housekeeper still had hold of the hand when she saw Mrs. Smith falling. However the housekeeper was unable to prevent her from falling. In the fall she struck the door jamb with such force that she sustained the injuries. In addition to these injuries she was considerably shaken up otherwise.

Burwell Tribune.
The new cable of the Ord Independent Telephone company arrived recently and is this week being strung. It will be several days however, before the exchange will be moved to its new quarters.
The annual shortage of the Burwell ice on is now on and the local dealer has delivered the last load to the residence part of town last Saturday. It is hardly necessary to say that this piece of news will not meet with the approval of the average housewife, as quite frequently September is one of the warmest months of the year and the warm weather at times extending through the greater part of October. We understand that there is still a sufficient supply on hand to supply the business end of town, but unless some is shipped in there will be nothing to do for as the residence part is concerned.

The open hunting season on chickens went into effect last Friday and the usual number of dogs, guns and sportsmen arrived in this vicinity early in the morning. As usual the chicken crop is reported shorter than that of any previous year. It is passing true that the day of this great game bird is short. While a few years ago it was no great task for the average sportsman to bag a dozen or so birds in an evening's shooting, today it requires a good hard day's work to secure half of that number. A few short years and the sport will be at an end so far as this section of the country is concerned. Now that it is about definitely decided to put in the water power the board of county commissioners are discussing the advisability of putting in a new bridge across the Loup at the same time. While the present bridge is in fairly good condition it will be a matter of a few years or so when a considerable sum will have to be laid out on it in the way of repairs and if a new bridge be put in in connection with the proposed dam it would of course be constructed of cement through out and thus be made to stand the test of all time. County Commissioner Ball has taken the proposition up with the power promoters with the result that when the dam goes in it is probable that a bridge will be constructed there with.

SALOON IN TROUBLE

Comstock's saloon faces a bitter fight in the courts if it continues business, as it undoubtedly will until the last legal effort is made, and the village council which granted the license is in the very thick of the fight. John F. Wescott is the man who filed suit in district court, and last week Deputy Sheriff Penn served alternative writs of mandamus on the village board of Comstock, which in effect was ordered to "assemble in lawful meeting and by proper proceedings annul, vacate and set aside said order granting a license to sell intoxicating liquors to said Odendahl in said village of Comstock and to cancel said license, or appear at the District Court of Custer County, Nebraska, at the District court room at Broken Bow, Neb., on the 5th day of September, 1911, or as soon thereafter as the court may hear the same and show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted and why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not be granted compelling them to do so".
There was considerable opposition to the issuance of the license to Odendahl and a legal battle was started last summer to prevent such. The temperance element in Comstock alleges that the board acted illegally, in that the petition was not a legal petition and the board refused to hear the remonstrators, and took action granting the license when none of the opposition was present. The W. C. T. U. forces are back of the fight, it is reported, and both sides are preparing for a hard legal battle.—Broken Bow Republican.

for the fair. The entries were all filled at nearly hour the first day.

from a distance and are fast. There are more gallopers than there is room for and efforts are being made to raise purses for extra events.

By Tuesday evening the capacity of the city for sleeping accommodations was generally taxed. Wednesday the condition grew more dire and tonight
it is expected that some will go bed-less and sleepless. The good people of town are throwing their houses open for the accommodation of the "strangers within their gates."

An educational campaign on agricultural topics is being carried on by the Burlington railroad. Experts have been engaged to prepare pamphlets on farm subjects that will be distributed, it is estimated, among more than 1,000,000 persons. Matters of particular interest to farmers in Iowa, Illinois, Colorado, Wyoming, Missouri and Nebraska have been chosen and pamphlets applicable to each state have been printed. The Nebraska pamphlet deals with corn, oats and wheat, culture, soil fertility, orcharding and alfalfa,
and was prepared by Professors E.
G. Montgomery, C. W. Pugsley and V.
Westgate of the University of Nebraska.

GREELEY COUNTY FAIR

Greeley, Nebr., October 3, 4, 5, 6, 1911

IT'S past record for strong attractions, splendid racing events, long list of amusements, unusually attractive exhibits and enormous crowds will be eclipsed this year. More money will be spent than ever before and more people will probably see this year's exhibits than ever assembled on the fair grounds in Greeley county's history. This is the only County Fair in Nebraska that has put lightning rods on its buildings for the protection of its patrons.

THE RACES

The races will comprise a grand list of speed events. Good money has been hung up and a good string of horses will be on hand.

BIG EXHIBITS

The exhibits in stock, grain, vegetables, home work, poultry, machinery, etc., will be larger and better than ever before.

THE ATTRACTIONS

The attractions this year will be better than ever before. In the afternoon there will be show and amusement stands of all kinds.

THE AMUSEMENTS

Up-town night amusements will be the big thing this year. Good tent shows, moving picture shows, theatrical companies, a hundred other amusements.

Greatest Corn Exhibit ever in Greeley County
$31.00 for Forty Ears of Corn

Elaborate Exhibit of Small Grain and Fruits
$2000 for Premiums and Purses

Stock exhibits in every line will far exceed that of any previous year and arrangements have been made in accordance by the addition of numerous stalls. Other improvements on the grounds are many and among them is the enlarging of the grand stand, giving it a seating capacity of about fourteen hundred.

Every Hour of Every Day Will Be a Busy One During This Great Fair

Get plenty of sleep before you leave home. You won't have time for anything else but fun after you reach Greeley.
Besides the other amusements there will be dancing at night.

EXCHANGES

Sargent Leader.
The eighteen-month-old child of Mr. Widdington, fireman on the passenger, got its index and second finger on the right hand badly mashed by having them caught in the cog-wheel of a clothes wringer one day this week. The mother was turning the wringer and did not notice the toe place its hand on the wheels.
C. W. Parks and family returned home last week from a three weeks automobile tour of Colorado, Wyoming and western Nebraska. The trip Mr. Parks said, was immensely enjoyed. Several days were spent at Denver, Colorado Springs, Manitou, Pikes Peak, Boulder and Cheyenne. At the latter place it was their good fortune to witness the "Frontier Day" exhibitions. The high altitude of Colorado did not agree with Mr. Parks, and he did not feel well, having contracted, he believed, a slight attack of the mountain fever.
Mrs. J. W. Smith had a misfortune last Monday in which she suffered two broken ribs and the wrenching of her back severely by stepping into an open cellar way at the Catholic parsonage. She had just arrived at the parsonage and was in the act of greeting the housekeeper with a handshake. She did not notice the door was open to the basement and unconsciously stepped backward into the opening. Fortunately the housekeeper still had hold of the hand when she saw Mrs. Smith falling. However the housekeeper was unable to prevent her from falling. In the fall she struck the door jamb with such force that she sustained the injuries. In addition to these injuries she was considerably shaken up otherwise.

Burwell Tribune.
The new cable of the Ord Independent Telephone company arrived recently and is this week being strung. It will be several days however, before the exchange will be moved to its new quarters.
The annual shortage of the Burwell ice crop is now on and the ice man delivered the last load to the residence part of town last Saturday. It is hardly necessary to say that this piece of news will not meet with the approval of the average housewife, as quite frequently September is one of the warmest months of the year the warm weather at times extending through the greater part of October. We understand that there is still a sufficient supply on hand to supply the business of town, but unless some is shipped in there will be nothing doing so far as the residence part is concerned.
The open hunting season on chickens went into effect last Friday and the usual number of dogs, guns and sportsmen are in the vicinity of the night before prepared to get an early start the following morning. As usual the chicken crop is reported shorter than that of any previous year. It is passing true that the sport of this great game bird is short. While a few are to be seen, it is a great task for the average sportsman to bag a dozen or so birds in an evening's shooting, today it requires a good hard days work to secure half of that number. A few short years and the sport will be at an end so that this section of the country is concerned.

Now that it is about definitely decided to put in the water power the board of county commissioners are discussing the advisability of putting in a new bridge across the Loup at the same time. While the present bridge is in fairly good condition it will be a matter of a few years or so when a considerable sum will have to be laid out on it in the way of repairs and if a new bridge be put in in connection with the proposed dam it would of course be constructed of cement through out and thus be made to stand the test of all time. County Commissioner Ball has taken the proposition up with the power promoters with the result that when the dam goes in it is probable that a bridge will be constructed there with.

Mr. J. A. Sayre returned from the South Friday accompanied by his step-son Frank Talbot, of Kansas. Mr. Talbot visited here until Tuesday morning.
Rev. Mr. Colwell the well-beloved pastor of the Davis Creek U. B. church goes to Angus for future work and his place is to be taken by Rev. Harvey of Kearney. Mr. Harvey made friends here last winter while assisting Mr. Colwell.

KELLOGG-PECKHAM
The wedding of Miss Mary Kellogg, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kellogg and Earl Peckham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Peckham of Oskaloosa, Iowa, took place Wednesday morning at 5:30 a. m., at the home of the bride's parents, Frank A. Dell, evangelistic superintendent of Nebraska yearly meeting, officiating.
A three course wedding breakfast following the ceremony.
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peckham left on the morning train for Oskaloosa, Iowa, where they will visit for a short time and from there to New York to visit their sisters, Misses Florence and Grace Kellogg a short time, and from there on to their home in Hartford, Conn., where Mr. Peckham will enter a theological seminary.
The young couple received a number of beautiful and useful presents, tokens of esteem from their relatives and friends.—North Loup Loyalist.

SALOON IN TROUBLE
Comstock's saloon faces a bitter fight in the courts if it continues business, as it undoubtedly will until the last legal effort is made, and the village council which granted the license is in the very thick of the fight. John F. Wescott is the man who filed suit in District court, and last week Deputy Sheriff Penn served alternative writs of mandamus on the village board of Comstock, which in effect was ordered to "assemble in lawful meeting and by proper proceedings annul, vacate and set aside said order granting a license to sell intoxicating liquors to said Odendahl in said village of Comstock and to cancel said license, or appear at the District Court of Custer County, Nebraska, at the District court room at Broken Bow, Nebr., on the 5th day of September, 1911, or as soon thereafter as the court may hear the same and show cause why the prayer of said petition should not be granted and why a peremptory writ of mandamus should not be granted compelling them to do so".

There was considerable opposition to the issuance of the license to Odendahl and a legal battle was started last summer to prevent such. The temperance element in Comstock alleges that the board acted illegally, in that the petition was not a legal petition and the board refused to hear the remonstrators, and took action granting the license when none of the opposition was present. The W. C. T. U. forces are back of the fight, it is reported, and both sides are preparing for a hard legal battle.—Broken Bow Republican.

CUSTER COUNTY BOY KILLED

Willie Coen, the 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Coen, met with a sad and unexpected death on Thursday of last week at the Cavenee ranch, near Georgetown, about twenty miles south of Broken Bow. Mr. Coen and family are tenants on this ranch. On the day of the accident, Mr. Coen and his oldest son, a boy seventeen years of age, went to Eddyville. About sun down, Willie, the younger boy, got on his horse and drove the cattle into the corral. One cow remained out and Willie went to bring her in. That was the last time the boy was seen alive. About fifteen minutes afterwards Mrs. Coen and the remaining children sat down to supper. Willie, not having arrived, the older girl went out to see where he was and a short distance from the house his lifeless body was found, where he had been thrown from the horse and instantly killed. Just how the accident happened can only be told from circumstances connected with the tragedy. A broken telephone wire, a mark on the horse's head; a deep scratch on the horn of the saddle and horses tracks from there to where the boy's body was found, indicate that the horse had run against a low telephone wire. First the horse's head was struck, then the wire caught under the horn of the saddle. This caused the horse to run away and the boy was thrown down an embankment about thirty feet, striking on the back of his head, crushing his skull, knocking out some of his front teeth and bruising him up otherwise. Death was no doubt instantaneous.—Broken Bow Chief.

Jack Frost indicates, he soon take a hand in the campaign.

Speaking of the campaign, let us not forget the everlasting contest of Maine, let us not be always something doing in Nebraska.

A prominent statesman is quoted as saying that the government of today depends upon who controls the courts. Is this not a matter worth thinking about?

It is doubtful if anybody in Nebraska politics would have the hardihood to run for public office unless at least one or two friends had been forced to admit that he had some show.

There is little doubt that the free newspaper advertising which Judge Hamer is now getting is far less appreciated by him than the large quantity he promised to pay for during the preliminary skirmish.

Representative William Colton of York is one of those most pleased with the Canadian turn-down of reciprocity. He it was who introduced a resolution in the last legislature to memorialize congress against the measure.

Up to date, it appears that Mr. Taft differs his program of stumping from that of Mr. Roosevelt by speaking of serious things in a lighter vein while Teddy had the habit of discussing frivolous matters in a serious vein. But Mr. Taft is young yet.

What a joy it must have been to good old Champ Clark to attend that big basket dinner given by his home people on his arrival back home recently. Did you ever attend a democratic picnic affair in old Missouri? If not, then you never had the very best time in the world. And probably no man in public life knows how to enjoy such an occasion as Clark.

The southern newspapers make much of a young man 25 years of age just elected to the Mississippi legislature under 25, and there has scarcely been a session of the Nebraska legislature for years when a tender child or two under that age has not helped in the deliberations.

The Lincoln News refers to an article in a current magazine contending that life in a small town is devoid of interest and, in short, is stale and unprofitable. The News takes issue but fails to state that the solution of the problem of life in a small community is work and lots of it. Idleness in a small place is worse than in the cities.

The time has come in the progress of aerial navigation when, should an aviator get cold feet, there is sure to be present a number of amiables who are willing to take his place. Is for this reason that a number of the poor foolish aviators cannot withstand the fears of the crowds who force them to make a high side in a high wind.

Edgar, in his Columbus ward, in his respects to the judiciary. Anyone who is familiar with the writings of Editor Howard knows he can pay his respects to federal judges about right, and there are a good many people who read and think and observe who will not bitterly disagree with the contention of Mr. Howard that we could struggle along without federal judges most of the time.

With the happy memories of the Nebraska State Fair still ringing in our ears, we should not forget when the time comes for the asking of further appropriations for the fair association. The Nebraska state fair is about the biggest thing in the state if we choose to make it so. Let's loosen up a bit and emulate the example of the Minnesota people who spend more money for their fair ground chicken coops than Nebraska does for its grand stand.

Commendation of Governor Aldrich's speech before the conference of governors back east is quite general from newspapers of every political faith. We cannot refuse to join the procession, for the governor very probably expressed the sentiment of the best citizenship on the question of state's rights when he declared that the work of a well-meaning people for many years should not be all torn down by a federal judge entirely unfamiliar with the facts in the case. The time has come that the people must take this question in hand.

The office of Deputy State Fire Warden, now occupied by Former Senator C. A. Randall, is an exceedingly important position, to which Mr. Randall is giving much attention. One of the features of the work to which he is devoting himself, is the gathering photographs of old shacks and premises in all parts of the state where inflammable materials makes it easy for fires to start. Then owners of the property are notified and asked to remove said shacks, in default of which a formal complaint is lodged against them under the law and they are compelled to remove them. It is a good law, and Deputy Commissioner Randall in doing a good work in causing these neglected premises to be looked after.

One of the most iniquitous sins Mr. Roosevelt will have to answer for in the manner in which thousands of worthless politicians were pressed into service as government detectives and secret service men. Not only did these heartless scoundrels hound to death thousands of innocent men and women, but they failed pitifully to bring to justice real criminals whose punishment would be a relief to society. It is difficult to say just how far Mr. Taft has abused this power, but it is safe to estimate that tens of thousands of voters were brought to the grave through the diadem of government in secret and alleged secret service men and women who paid the price in blood and instance. Roosevelt.

The Rev. Mr. Beebe, pastor of the United Brethren church at Alma, and Mr. Chase, a so-called doctor of Lincoln, held a joint debate at Alma a few days ago, addressing the crowds of people who gathered in the high school building. Brother Beebe, showed by copious and authoritative quotations that socialists was in conflict with the law of God, again at the present marriage relations, against civil government and every thing else including human life. Brother Chase showed that Brother Beebe was about thirty or forty miles off in his conclusions; that he had misquoted his authorities; that he was taking a stand against the masses and in favor of organized wealth and other things a preacher should not do. At least, this is what a socialistic newspaper has to say about it. All of which reminds us of the days of the Grange and the populist meetings of some twenty years ago.

THINGS POLITICAL

A. J. Firkins is making an active campaign for the office of county treasurer and is meeting with much encouragement that leads him and his friends to believe that he will be elected.

Candidate Bright is out on the huskins these days looking for votes. He is the democrat candidate for district clerk and his election is practically assured if one may judge at all from the comments of the people at this time. Mr. Bright has every qualification for the office and will make a clerk that will give the public good service and courteous, efficient treatment.

Our good friend W. H. Moses is making a consistent campaign for sheriff of Valley county. He does not believe that he can be elected by knocking on his rival and he is frank to admit that Mr. Sutton is a good man. He does, however, occasionally suggest that he is asking for the office for a two year term rather than for an eight year term. The republican candidate is now running for the fourth time for the office.

With a candidate for superintendent running for the third term, sheriff running for fourth term and judge for the fifth or sixth term it might be appropriately suggested that the republicans elect these candidates for life. If these offices are good things why not pass them around a little?

It would not be a very great surprise if Otto Murschel carried every county at the election. He has made an ideal count of business of the county and attended to as it should be. Mr. Murschel is always at the office and has no less interests to divide his time. To say that he is the clerk the county ever had is not strong but there are many deal with the office that do not sitate to make the statement.

PRECINCT CAUCUS CALLED

In accordance with the action of the democratic central committee and the peoples' independent party central committee meetings held August 5, the officers of the said committees hereby recommend that caucuses be held at the usual voting places in each of the precincts of the county on Monday evening, October 9, at 8 o'clock p. m., for the purpose of selecting candidates for

One township clerk for each precinct
One overseer of highways for each road district
One township treasurer for each precinct.
One township assessor for each precinct as follows: Elyria, Liberty, Enterprise, Independent, North Loup, Vinton
The committees recommend that two distinct caucuses be held but that the same set of candidates be nominated and certified separately to the county clerk.
Harry Brown, Democratic Chairman
J. S. Collison, Populist Chairman

BURWELL MERCHANT EASY

By reason of cashing a worthless check Max M. Leon was Wednesday defrauded out of twenty-eight dollars and seventy-five cents, says the Burwell Tribune. A stranger came into Max's store Wednesday morning and purchased goods to the above amount tending a check on the First National bank signed by Frank Smith. Max the stranger left the store Max presented the check at the bank only to find out that it was worthless. Search was immediately made for the fellow but he had in some manner made a successful get-away. Later in the day a couple of fellows that had passed through town on horses early in the morning were heard from up the line and Sheriff Waters went up and brought them down but neither of them proved to be the guilty party. At this time it looks as though the fellow had made a successful escape.

WHO CAN BEAT HIM?

Charlie Rich says that since 1896 there have been born in his herd of cattle five pairs of twins, three pairs of which have come in the past four years. He says, too that he thinks the herd should be given credit for another pair, but they came so thick and fast he lost count. All lived and all grew up.

In addition to the above from the North Loup Loyalist, Mr. Rich tells the Journal man that it was thirty-nine years ago when he bought his first cow and within a few months she presented him with a pair of twins.

A BAD MAN

The phonograph at the picture show Wednesday evening did not meet with the approval of a fellow from up the country and accordingly he pulled his gun and took three shots at the vicinity where the music making machine is located. Before the fellow could continue his target practice longer Sheriff Waters appeared on the scene and induced him to part with the artillery and take up his abode for a time behind bars in the village bastille. Ten dollars and costs was assessed against the fellow in Justice Fenner's court this morning.—Burwell Tribune.
