WORST STORM OF WINTER SWEEPS OVER THE STATE

Burlington Trains Blocked By Drifts Friday; Rural Mail Service Interrupted.

The most severe blizzard of the year was raging last Thursday and Friday throughout Nebraska, several feet of snow and sub-zero temperatures prevailing in western Nebraska. Temperature did not reach the zero level in Valley county but high winds and several inches of snow blocked roads and made life miserable for a couple of days for travelers, mail carriers and the railroads.

Burlington train service was halted all day last Friday but the Union Pacific was running as usual. A Burlington snow plow was sent out Saturday morning and opened that road up. Main line mail trains were late, which made Union Pacific trains on this branch line come in late also.

The storm reminded many old timers of the blizzard of 1888. Ernest Rahlmeyer is one of the Ord residents who have vivid memories of that historic blizzard, for he and his father were lost in it and would have frozen had they not found shelter in a straw stack.

Quite a toll of livestock was taken last Thursday night and Friday. Several have reported losing one or two hogs and on one of the Sibbensen farms near North Loup twenty-two head of 200 pound pigs perished through smothering and tramping.

Rural mail carriers were affected the most by the storm. All of them completed their Thursday rounds but Friday and Saturday not a single Ord carrier got completely around his route. Similar conditions are reported in other towns of the county.

Few rural schools in Valley county held school Friday and those that did had only a few pupils present.

Some thermometers in Ord reported the record low last Friday morning to be 2 degrees above zero. Horace Travis, government rain fall reporter, says moisture last Thursday and Friday totalled .74 inches.

Early Resident Sells Home, Will Move To Denver

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Stark last week completed a deal for the purchase of A. M. Daniels' house here and will occupy it about the first of June. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels expect to dispose of their household furniture, after which they will move to Denver where their daughter, Mrs. Charles Davis, lives. Mrs. Daniels also has two sisters living in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniels came to Ord in February 1886. There wasn't much to Ord when they came here to open a furniture and undertaking establishment and only a few of the men then in business in Ord are still here. At first they lived in rooms above the store but later built the palatial home which they sold last week.

Ord people will be sorry to lose Mr. and Mrs. Daniels.

Carr Boy Bitten By Dog.

Arcadia, March 30.—(Special)—Allen, 6 year old son of Dr. and Mrs. A. E. Carr, was bitten about the mouth last week by a neighborhood dog with which he was playing and nine stitches were taken to close the wound.

Plano Tuning.

Earl C. Brink will be in Ord next week. Leave orders at the Beranek Drug Store. 2-11

Mail Carrier 'Loses' Auto In Huge Snow Drift

Bert LeMasters, veteran rural mail carrier on Route 3, Ord, had an odd and embarrassing experience last Thursday when he "lost" his car in a huge drift of snow about ten miles west of Ord. He was making good progress on his route in spite of the blizzard but ran into the ditch and was unable to back out because of the heavy snow. He walked some distance to get a team to pull him out and when he returned with the team found his car buried up to the bottom of the doors in snow. The team being unable to pull the car out, he called Blaha's wrecker from Ord. When the wrecker reached the scene the car was completely buried by the snow, only the front bumper showing. The car wouldn't come out of the drift so they tried shoveling it away, but it drifted in faster than they shoveled it out. LeMasters had to leave his car in the drift until Saturday, hiring a car to make his rounds with Friday.

It's Within the Law in Nevada

They can't arrest you for gambling, not in Nevada, anyway. This scene in a Reno gambling club is typical of the many which may be seen in Nevada since the State Legislature passed and Governor Balzar signed a wide open gambling bill.

GOLDEN RULE AND QUIZ WILL HOLD BAKING CONTEST

Cash Prizes Offered To Winners Of Contest April 11; Entries To Be Sold For Charity.

It is generally conceded that the best cooks and bakers anywhere in the good old Cornhusker state are to be found in Valley county. Now comes the long awaited opportunity for those versed in the culinary arts to come forth with their most delectable specialties and win distinction of being a champion, in addition to winning a cash prize, and also contributing to a worthy charity.

Such an opportunity will be afforded all those who wish to enter the Golden Rule Store—Ord Quiz Baking Contest, which will be held Saturday, April 11. All women in Valley county are eligible to enter the contest. (Men, too, if they wish to bake a pie or cake.) Full details regarding the contest will appear in next week's Quiz, together with a list of the prizes.

The contest will be held at the Golden Rule Store, where Manager J. W. Goddard has arranged several tables and show cases to hold the various entries. All entries must be in by 2 o'clock Saturday, April 11 and from then until 7:30 p. m. they will be on display. At 7:30 o'clock Colonel E. C. Weller will take charge and conduct a food sale of the various entries, the proceeds of the sale being given to churches and other charitable organizations.

Every Woman Should Enter.

No matter what you excel in, baking or cooking there is a classification in which you may win a prize. There will be twelve cash prizes altogether, three to be offered in each of the following divisions: 1. Cakes. 2. Pies. 3. Cookies. 4. Miscellaneous—baked beans, salads, cottage cheese, candy, etc. The prizes will be generous and will be given in cash immediately upon completion of the contest.

Irma Ellis Leggett, cookery editor of the Quiz, will have general supervision of the contest. Watch next week's Quiz for more complete details and names of judges, but begin thinking now about what you will enter in the contest. Remember that you will have an opportunity to aid your own church or your favorite charity, besides having an opportunity to win a liberal cash prize and distinction for yourself as a cook.

Music Committee Putting On Drive

To secure sufficient funds so that band and other music work can be carried on in Ord during the coming year, a drive is being staged by the Chamber of Commerce music committee, which is composed of Dr. F. L. Blessing, H. G. Frey, Glen D. Auble, Dr. F. A. Barta and J. R. Stoltz. The committee expects to make a canvass of the business district tomorrow.

During the past few years funds for music work have been provided partly by city levy, partly by the Ord schools, partly by the Chamber of Commerce and partly by monthly contributions from individuals. The same system will be followed during the coming year.

About ninety individuals, parents and business firms willing to subscribe $1 each per month are needed. Return postcards were sent out about two weeks ago and to date about thirty of these have been returned. Committee members hope that more will come in today, so they will not have to cover so much territory in their canvass Friday.

Chamber Offers $25 In Yard-Garden Contest

To stimulate improvement in the appearance of Ord and encourage home beautifying, John Goddard, as chairman of a specially appointed yard and garden committee of the Chamber of Commerce announces that $25 in prizes will be awarded to residents of Ord who do the most in this line. Just exactly how the $25 will be divided will be announced next week. Probably separate prizes will be given for the place showing the most improvement, and to the most beautiful yard and garden. Begin now to plan what improvements you will make in your home yard this summer season.

The Chamber of Commerce hopes to sponsor a similar contest each year, probably with larger prizes next year, so plant with an eye to the future. Foundation plantings, general landscaping effect, beauty corners in back yards, bird shelters and feeding posts, lily pools, fish ponds, garden furniture and fences, potted plants are only a few of the many suggestions of the committee to beautify yards and make Ord more attractive.

Help in planning your new plantings is available for little cost through many home and garden magazines. For instance, the Ladies Home Journal offers complete planting plans for 100 different lots of various sizes and shapes, and you may choose the one which best fills your needs for the price of a quarter, or if necessary, a special plan will be drawn to your specifications for that amount. Nearly all home magazines are also carrying details for making at home pretty little birdhouses, lily pools, in all sizes and shapes, and even garden furniture. Many hands are willing to help you, Ordites, in this attempt to secure a more beautiful town. So get out your flower catalogs, and plan now to enter the contest and improve your property this pleasant way.

Want Official Flower.

The committee, consisting of Mr. Goddard as chairman, and Bob Noll and Mrs. Eugene Leggett, is also asking a choice of an official flower for Ord, which it is hoped will be planted every lot in town this summer. On this page is a ballot for your vote. Individual choices may be written in if you wish, though the flowers suggested for consideration are these: dwarf nasturtium; sweet pea; gladioli; larkspur; red geranium. Consider carefully which one you think will beautify Ord most when used in quantities, or perhaps banked beside the porch steps.

Hilarious Theme Features Picture

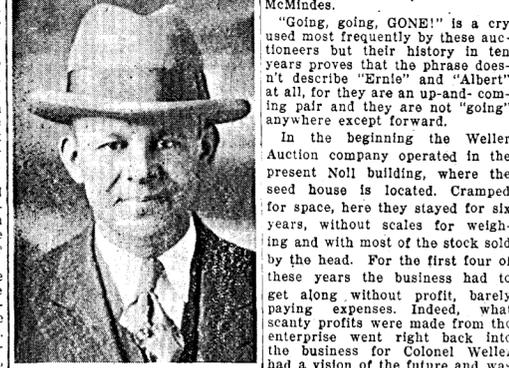

A King who hoped that revolutionists would overthrow his kingdom so that he could play checkers with his butler; his daughter might marry the man she loved; and his wife would have nothing to "queen over", is the hilarious theme of Radio pictures "The Royal Bed", now at the Ord theatre. Lowell Sherman plays the king; Nance O'Neill, the queen, and Mary Astor the princess.

YOUNG MATRON'S DEATH RESULTS FROM JAUNDICE

Mrs. Guy LeMasters Passed Away Here Thursday After Several Weeks Illness.

Jaundice, resulting as an after effect of an attack of smallpox, caused the death here last Thursday evening at 9 o'clock of Mrs. Guy LeMasters, popular and respected young matron. She had been ill for three weeks with the ailment that proved fatal.

Agnes Krumel was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Krumel and was born Febr. 6, 1899 in Valley county. She was married November 12, 1923, to Guy LeMasters, and two little girls, Rosalie and Catharine, came to bless their union and are now left motherless.

Funeral services were held last Saturday at 9 a. m. at the Ord Catholic church, Father Lawler having charge, and interment was in the Ord Catholic cemetery.

Pall-bearers were John Rosmarie, James Fetka, Jr., John Beran, Charles LeMasters, James Wachtrie and George Wachtrie. Music was furnished by Miss Bess Francis, John Allen, Mrs. Joe Dworak, Mrs. Mike Socha and Miss Anna Novotney.

Friends and relatives in attendance at the funeral from Omaha were Mrs. Anna Jambor, Mrs. Joe Paterna, Miss Antonia Krejci, Mrs. Frank Mestecky, Miss Mestecky, Frank Krejci, Joe Krejci, Mr. and Mrs. John Rozmajzl and two children and Mrs. Mary Rozmajzl.

Besides her husband, two children and her parents, Mrs. LeMasters is survived by four brothers and two sisters. They are: Joe Krumel, Des Moines; Frank, Edward, George, Miss Marie and Miss Lily Krumel, all of Garfield county.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the LeMasters and Krumel families in their hour of sorrow.

Blizzard Severe In Iowa, Says Perlinski

The worst road and weather conditions under which he ever drove a car, is the way John Perlinski characterizes his trip from Minneapolis to Ord last Saturday and Sunday. He drove through the state of Iowa Saturday in the midst of one of the worst blizzards that state has ever known, he says.

Mr. Perlinski, his son, Michael, and his mother, Mrs. Michael Perlinski, Burwell, had been in Minneapolis because of the illness and death of John's grandmother, Mrs. Martin Lede. His grandmother was 99 years old. Funeral services were held Friday and the next day John and his party started for Ord.

Drifted snow was the worst handicap he encountered, John says. Snow fences had been taken down in Iowa and cars were stalled all along the paved road from Minneapolis to Des Moines and from Des Moines to Missouri Valley. At one place an 18-car funeral procession was snowed in, John says. His car wasn't stuck a single time but many times he had to wait while other cars were hauled out of his way.

Mrs. Sharp Gets Divorce. Louise Sharp was given a divorce from John R. Sharp in district court Monday by Judge E. P. Clements. She alleged extreme cruelty in her action. Mrs. Sharp also gained restoration of her maiden name, Louise Didschup. She asked no alimony.

FREE DELIVERY OF MAIL STARTED IN ORD APRIL 1

John Lemmon, Mart Weigardt Temporary Carriers; Mike Perlinski in Office.

The first free city delivery service of mail ever given in Ord was made yesterday morning when John Lemmon and Martin Weigardt, who have been appointed as temporary carriers, started from the Ord post-office with full packs of mail at 8 o'clock. Free delivery service is now established and will be continued without interruption except on Sundays and holidays. Postmaster Edwin Clements says.

The first delivery each day will start at 8 o'clock, Clements says. One carrier will start at once in the residential district while the other carrier makes a delivery in the business district. The second carrier will return to the postoffice and carry residential mail after completing the business delivery. All morning deliveries will be completed by 10:30 o'clock.

Second Morning Delivery.

A second delivery in the business district will be made by both carriers at 11 o'clock or slightly before that time, Mr. Clements promises. The time this delivery starts will depend upon the arrival of the Union Pacific train, which ordinarily arrives at 10:30 a. m. If it is late the mail delivery also will start late.

Immediately after noon, probably by 1:30, the second delivery in the residential district will start and should be completed by 4 o'clock, the postmaster says.

Five street collection boxes have been put in place, one in front of the Ord Hotel, one in front of Beranek's drug store, one at each school building and one at the corner of 20th and M streets, near the residence of Mrs. Ada Munn. Collection of mail at the three boxes in the residential district will be made by the carriers during their regular rounds. Mail from the two boxes on the square will be collected at 7 a. m. and twice later in the morning while the carriers are making their deliveries.

All Letters Take 2c Rate.

Postmaster Clements announces that the 1c drop letter rate has been discontinued with the starting of city service. All letters mailed in the Ord office must bear 2c in stamps regardless of their destination.

Michael Perlinski has received a temporary appointment as part time clerk in the Ord office, taking the place of John Lemmon, who will receive a permanent appointment as carrier. More than thirty including Mr. Weigardt, took the civil service examination here some weeks ago but appointment of the second permanent carrier has not yet been made.

Mildred Campbell, Richard Severson, Win in Junior Hi

At an elimination contest held by the Ord junior high school last Friday morning Mildred Campbell and Richard Severson won the right to participate in the Valley county spelling contest to be held in Ord Friday, April 3. Eva Umstead and Myrtle Cornell were chosen as alternates.

Students are taking great interest in this year's spelling bee, says Miss Clara Mott, county superintendent. Most of the schools of the county are holding contests today and tomorrow to decide their representatives in the county contest, which will be held in the high school auditorium.

Ten students placing highest in the contest tomorrow will compete again April 17 for the privilege of entering the state contest at Omaha. Expenses of the Valley county champion and a companion on the trip to Omaha will be paid by the Ord Quiz.

Arcadia Entries In.

Arcadia, March 30.—(Special)—Georgetta Miller, seventh grade student, was winner of the oral spelling contest and Mary Jane Rettenmayer, eighth grade student, won the written contest at a spelling match at the high school building Wednesday. They will represent Arcadia in the spelling contest at Ord tomorrow.

Ord Christian Science.
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, March 29, was "Reality." The object of all the selections read from the Bible and the Christian Science textbook was to show that God and His works are wholly spiritual and good, and constitute reality. The Lesson also showed that there is a difference between that which God knows and does and that which mortals believe, the latter being unreal. One of the Biblical citations reads, "I know that, whatsoever God doeth it shall be forever: nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it." One of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 207 reads, "There is but one primal cause. Therefore there can be no effect from any other cause, and there can be no reality in aught which does not proceed from this great and only cause."

Rotarians Enjoy Short Talks By Several Guests
Judge E. F. Clements, Ojar Olsson, M. Blomond and Rev. L. R. Real were guests at the Ord Rotary club's luncheon Monday and all of them spoke briefly. Judge Clements told about his recent trip to California, describing the Imperial Valley, and also mentioning former Ord people whom he met at the annual Valley county picnic in Long Beach, Febr. 1. Mr. Olsson, who is building an artificial ice plant here, discussed briefly the way ice is made. Mr. Blomond was introduced and spoke a few words and Rev. Real, when introduced by E. C. Weller, mentioned the fine Easter services to be held in various Ord churches and urged Rotarians to attend.

Barker News

The Barker Pig club met Tuesday evening with Lloyd and Keith. There was a good attendance. Lloyd and Raymond Cardson being the only absent members. Their leader E. O. Schudel presented to each member a manual for hog raisers. These were discussed by the boys and Mr. Schudel assigned special topics for some of the boys to report on at the next meeting. Also a member is to answer roll call by some item of interest concerning hog raising. Demonstrations on sanitation and disease prevention were given by Arthur Taylor and Donald VanHorn. After the business meeting the boys spent a social hour by playing rook and other games. A nice lunch was served, after which they departed for their homes, having decided to meet again, April 14, with Donald and Bud VanHorn.

Barker did not hold school Friday on account of the storm.

Mrs. Ivan Canedy has been re-elected to teach the Barker high school next term. Miss Velma Cox has been hired to teach the lower grades.

Gilbert Meyers, who is making his home with Ed Green's while he attends Barker school, spent the week end in town visiting his parents.

On account of the storm Lloyd and Thelma Weed, DeEsta Greene and Arthella Burrows were unable to drive back and forth to school in North Loup. DeEsta Greene stayed with her cousin, Merle Fuller, Arthella Burrows with her grandmother, Mrs. Elma Mulligan and Lloyd and Thelma Weed were at the T. P. Weed home.

Mrs. Chas. Brennick helped her daughter, Mrs. T. P. Weed, take care of meat Tuesday. Mrs. Bernice Stewart also helped.

Mrs. John Gudgal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rube McCune, with her baby girl are home from the Miller hospital now. She had an operation performed there last week and is recovering as well as could be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Peterson, Vesta and Gladys, also Lloyd, Thelma, and Keith Weed were entertained Saturday evening at the A. A. Frazier home. The evening was very enjoyable and at a late hour a nice lunch was served and guests departed for their homes.

The L. C. Mulligan family visited with Mr. Mulligan's mother, Mrs. Elma Mulligan Sunday afternoon.

Lynn VanHorn spent Sunday afternoon at the T. S. Weed home. Barker coaching the pupils in athletics one day last week.

Mrs. Boyd Mulligan called on several people in the neighborhood one day last week in the interest of the P. T. A. program to be held April 13.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

An Ord husband, newly wed came home recently and found his bride in tears. When she could control her sobs enough to tell him what was the matter, she explained that her cake was ruined for a crisp and that the recipe book said it had to bake 8 more minutes. No, it wasn't one of the Quiz recipe calendars but we still have a few left if there are any Quiz subscribers who have not had theirs yet.

I saw a whole row of people lined up at the parcel post window at the postoffice the other day and most of them were taking away packages of rose bushes and other kinds of flowering plants. It was snowing and the wind was blowing a gale but just the same it is not many more days before we will be planting these shrubs. And we should be if Ord is going to make as much progress as it did last year toward a more beautiful town.

I have been told that there were twice as many flowers in Ord last year than there ever seen here before. I know the residence properties were fixed up more than ever before. I am also sure that more roots and bulbs were planted last fall than ever before. Just watch this spring and you will see the results. Bob Noll tells me he sold far more flowers last year than ever before and he says he is taking orders this spring faster than ever for shrubs and flower roots and seeds.

I thought Ord was going to have a greenhouse this spring. A Lincoln man was considering the proposition and made several trips here to look the field over and considered several locations quite seriously. For some reason I am now told that he has given up the project. Ord needs a greenhouse and some of these days someone will see the need and have the money at the same time and we will have one. It takes quite a lot of cash to establish such a business. Possibly it would pay for the start and then it would take some time to build it up to a profitable point but with a progressive greenhouse here Ord would have three or four times the flowers it has had.

I want to commend Orville Sowl and Dr. Blessing for their efforts to beautify an unsightly lot just north of their business location, the Masonic building. That lot, heretofore a parking place for cars and a place to burn rubbish, has been an eyesore for many years and now I believe it will be turned into a beauty spot. There are other vacant properties that could be made attractive. The city council should take it upon themselves to order such places cleaned up.

There is a vacant lot back of the Ord Linotype school that is ways unsightly and those boys and girls in the school could have a lot of fun putting that lot in shape and later a lot of pleasure from the flowers they could raise there. I know that I could make a living working 6 months in Ord. There is no business in Ord that could do so either but that is about what the farmer who does not raise stock but devotes all his efforts to grain farming tries to do. By the way, did you know that Nebraska has gained 4th place among the states as a butter producer? Only Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa are ahead of us now and only a few years ago we were far down the list. I wonder if that has anything to do with the statement now freely made that Nebraska is in the best financial shape of any state in the union.

Ten years isn't a very long time and I just can't enthuse over the idea of issuing 25 million dollars worth of ten year bonds to be paid for with the gasoline tax, to raise the cash to put over ten year road building program in half the time. Why raise all that money and pay interest on all those bonds and have the money on hand? Why not go ahead, knowing as we do, that the gasoline money is coming anyhow, and take ten years to get this road program across and save the interest. And then, if money is not quite as plentiful the work will be done more

Auditors Will Be Here About 15th Of April

Ralph McKee and Miss Laura Riddle, certified public accountants from Lincoln, will be in Ord about April 15 to make the annual audit of the Quiz subscription bill. The Quiz has made a healthy gain in circulation during the past 12 months, as the annual audit will show. As soon as the annual audit is taken by Mr. McKee and Miss Riddle it will be certified by the Nebraska Press Association. The audit report will be available for the inspection of advertisers any time after May 1.

economically too. Having a bin full of money to dip into will encourage graft and carelessness in the work. I believe we can get along all right if this road program is completed in ten years instead of seven. Who is it that is so frantic about issuing this 25 million dollars worth of bonds anyhow?

I can't understand why this nation does not clean up the city gangsters. Look at the names in the papers every day and see who it is that is violating, not only the liquor laws, but all other laws. In a recent short story about a Chicago gang murder, these names were used: Belcastro, Capone, Genaro, Fannell and a dozen more all the same kind, Italian. You don't very often see any good American names, like Jones, Smith, Johnson etc., in these crime stories.

There have always been so called figures in history; also in political parties. George Washington and Abraham Lincoln were great figures in history. W. J. Bryan and many others have been figures in political history and just now George W. Norris, Al Smith and Sen. Borah are political figures. Ole Buck and Frank Edgecomb and Joe Alden are figures in Nebraska Press association history but the big figure in the association right now is Tom Osterman, its president. His name is Thomas T. Osterman. I don't know for sure what the T stands for but believe it is Thackeray, Thomas Thackeray Osterman. Frank Edgecomb says that is all right for christening purposes, and high society mention Award of Merit certificates, but that it is too long for frequent use in a crowded newspaper like the Geneva Signal. Tom comes back and suggests that Frank refer to him as "kernel t. t." This indicates to me that some time in the past Tom has had aspirations to be an auctioneer or a military man. Tom would look all right as an auctioneer but he would look like a uniform with his build. But the t. t. is not such a bad suggestion, only the way he has been stirring up the animals in the state association I would amend it by making it t. t. It looks, from this distance as though the administration of Tom Osterman is going to be an outstanding one and that a mark is going to be set for future presidents to shoot at, for the association is making great strides.

Bill Maupin was in Ord a couple of days last week and found time to drop in for a chat with me. Bill is a retiring cuss and he cautioned me over and over, not to mention that he was in town, as he said he always shunned publicity. As he left he handed me a halftone of himself and said, now not a word in the paper about me and don't you, under any circumstances, use that cut. I have been watching the World-Herald for the stories which I am sure Bill wrote while here. He is now employed on that paper as a traveling writer. He goes wherever the spirit(s) call the loudest and there is not a town or hamlet in all Nebraska where he doesn't have friends who are glad to see him and he always writes interestingly. But he has not some queer ideas about taxation.

With all kinds of feed stuffs cheap as at present there is enough profit in the dairy business to make a living for the family engaged in it if care is taken to handle the business right. A successful Valley county farmer, well along in years, tells me that any man can make some money above a living farming, even now if he will be careful. But, he says, no farmer can make money working 6 months a year as many of them do. I know that I could make a living working 6 months in Ord that could do so either but that is about what the farmer who does not raise stock but devotes all his efforts to grain farming tries to do. By the way, did you know that Nebraska has gained 4th place among the states as a butter producer? Only Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa are ahead of us now and only a few years ago we were far down the list. I wonder if that has anything to do with the statement now freely made that Nebraska is in the best financial shape of any state in the union.

There is a vacant lot back of the Ord Linotype school that is ways unsightly and those boys and girls in the school could have a lot of fun putting that lot in shape and later a lot of pleasure from the flowers they could raise there. I know that I could make a living working 6 months in Ord. There is no business in Ord that could do so either but that is about what the farmer who does not raise stock but devotes all his efforts to grain farming tries to do. By the way, did you know that Nebraska has gained 4th place among the states as a butter producer? 11 Years Constipation Glycerin Mix Ends It

"For 11 years I tried to get rid of constipation," says Chas. E. Blair. "Then at last the simple mixture, Adlerika, made me regular." The simple mixture of glycerin, buckthorn bark, salina, etc., (Adlerika) acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, relieving constipation in 2 hours! Brings out poisons you never thought were in your stomach. Let Adlerika give your stomach and bowel a REAL cleaning and see how good you feel! Ed F. Beranek, druggist.

How to play Bridge AUCTION or CONTRACT by Wynne Ferguson

Author of "PRACTICAL AUCTION BRIDGE"

Copyright, 1930, by Hoyle, Jr.

ARTICLE No. 19

There is undoubtedly a growing desire among auction players to try out the game of Contract Bridge, and the tendency seems to warrant the conclusion that Contract is going to displace Auction. The latter game is still ahead in popularity, however, and it may be many a day before it takes a back seat. They are also trying out Contract in England, and in that connection the following remarks of a well-known English writer are interesting and amusing:

"No one yet knows how to play it—neither the Clubman, nor the pundits (scholars), nor the Portland Club, nor the newspaper writers. "Everyone reacts to the new order in conformity with their constitutions. The clubman has started to grumble, the pundit has started to instruct, the Portland Club has started to legislate, and the newspaper critics, who were lately claiming the honour of keeping Contract out, are now claiming the honour of having introduced it. All of which presents a merry and vivacious spectacle. "The Portland Club referred to in the quotation is the London Club that frames the English Laws of Auction, thus corresponding to The Whist Club of New York in this country. "Here is a very instructive hand. All of the cards are given and the play of the first two tricks. On the third trick the declarer must make the right play or he cannot go game. It is a play that comes up very frequently and should be studied very carefully until the reader is sure that the situation is thoroughly understood.

Example Hand

Clubs—K, Q, 10, 3
Diamonds—A, 6, 4, 3
Spades—9, 2

Hearts—10, 6, 3
Clubs—J, 9, 8, 7, 2
Diamonds—10, 9, 8, 5
Spades—6

Hearts—5, 4
Clubs—A, 5, 4
Diamonds—A, 7, 2
Spades—A, K, Q, J, 10

Hearts—A, K, Q, 9, 7
Clubs—6
Diamonds—Q, J
Spades—8, 7, 5, 4, 3

Spades are trumps and Z is playing in the lead, will thus be able to make his heart tricks. On the other hand, if Z discards a diamond at trick three, he is sure to score game. If A continues hearts, Z can trump in Y's hand with the nine of spades, lead trumps and rest of his hand is good. In the same way the lead of any of the other three suits will give Z the lead and chance to lead trumps. Note this hand carefully and you are sure it's the winning play to do so.

Solution to Problem No. 13

Hearts—Q, J, 7, 3

Hearts—none
Clubs—J, 9, 5
Diamonds—7, 2
Spades—A, Q, 3

Spades are trumps and Z is in the lead. How can Y Z make five tricks against any defense? Solution: Z should lead the ace of spades and all follow suit, but B has the choice of two plays: (a) he can play the four of spades, and if so, can be forced to win the third trick or (b) he can play the seven of spades and so be prepared to let A win the third trick.

(a) Suppose at trick one B plays the four of spades. At trick two Z should lead the queen of spades and Y should discard the trey of hearts. At trick three Z should play the trey of spades and B is forced to lead with the eight of spades. On this trick Y should discard the seven of hearts. B is thus forced in the lead and must lead diamonds. He can lead the ace and follow with a low diamond. If he makes this low play, Y will win two diamond and one heart trick. If B leads a low diamond, Z should play the seven of diamonds and A is forced to discard. He cannot discard a club or Z's clubs are good, so he is forced to discard a heart. Y should allow Z to win the trick. Z should now forcing A in the lead with the ten. On these tricks Y should discard two diamonds. A must now give Y a heart trick. Played in this way Y Z must win five of the eight tricks.

(b) Suppose, however, at trick one B plays the seven of spades and on trick two plays the eight of spades. On trick two Y must discard the seven of hearts (note this play for it is important). At trick three Z should play the trey of spades and A is thus forced in the lead. On this trick Y should discard the six of diamonds. A cannot lead the clubs or all of Z's clubs are good so he is forced to lead hearts. If he plays the ace of hearts, Y should play the jack so that he can force A back in the lead on the third round of hearts (the reason for the play of the seven of hearts on trick two). If A plays a low heart, Y should play the jack and return the queen. A is thus forced to win the two heart tricks and must lead clubs to Z, who thus wins the balance of the tricks. In either case, therefore, Y Z must win five tricks against any defense.

Something DIFFERENT

It looks as though a prominent Ord doctor is going to do his building in spring. He has been threatening to put a beautiful new residence atop one of the neighboring hills for a year or two, a large rambling structure, built in the most modern and attractive fashion. All Ord will welcome such a pretty new home. Please hurry up, Dr. Miller. We are all dying to see it.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Now if you want to make a hit with your family, especially the younger members, adopt this chilli recipe and make it your own. For chilled travellers, for hungry school children, for a late snack, for Sunday supper, or for a meal which you would like to see several hours before hand, this is the dish you need.

Chilli Con Carne
1 lb. round steak, ground.
1/2 lb. suet
4 large chopped onions
1 large can of tomatoes
2 cans kidney or chilli beans
2 tsps. black pepper
1 tsp. salt
1 scant tsp. chilli powder
Cook suet in skillet, and remove from skillet. Add the onions to the fat and let brown slightly. Put in the meat and separate finely with a fork, searing well. Put with the rest of the ingredients (except the chilli powder) and cook slowly 4 hours in a large kettle. Near the last add the chilli powder.

This makes wonderful chilli, and some families still want lots of chilli powder, and a searingly hot chilli, while others like it best when very mild. As this keeps a day or so very well, and as it may be slowly simmered in the oven if necessary, it is a handy dish to add to your kitchen repertoire. I am sure you will like it.

Do you like bread pudding? This fruity one is delicious.
Bread Pudding.
2 c. bread crumbs ground fine
1/2 c. butter
1 c. sugar
1 c. raisins
1 c. dates, chopped fine
1 c. sweet milk
1 c. walnuts, chopped
2 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1 tsp. soda dissolved in a bit of hot water

Stew 3 hours in two coffee cans, one pound size. Do not fill the cans quite full. Serve with whipped cream.
Mrs. W. O. Manchester, North Loup.

Don't you just know that will be good?
And here is something different also.
Banana Cake.
1 1/2 c. sugar, creamed with
1/2 c. butter (salted)
2 eggs, beaten and stirred into the above
4 tbsps. sour milk, in which is dissolved
1 tsp. soda
Add the sour milk and soda to the other things above. Then sift together:
2 c. flour
1 tsp. baking powder
Add flour a little at a time, beating well. Next put in one cup of mashed bananas. Bake in layers in a moderate oven. Use your favorite icing and slice bananas between layers and on top.

Berenice King.
Thank you, three contributors. I am sure these three recipes will please many women.
By the way, as eggs are so cheap now, let's all use lots of eggs in our cooking, and maybe we can bring the price up a little, for the benefit of our farmer friends. Don't you think that a good idea?

"There's mother's ashes in the jar on the mantelpiece."
"So, your mother is with the angels."
"No, sir; she's just too lazy to look for an ashray."

Lose Fat Safely and Quickly

Kruschen Salts—(a perfect combination of the six mineral salts your body should have to function properly) purify your blood of all poisons, cleanse your system of harmful acids and the kidneys and bowels to throw off waste material—the continual formation of which is probably the cause of your fat.

In this modern age of living, it's impossible to get these salts from the fancy foods you eat—but don't worry just as long as you have Kruschen Salts.

Take a half teaspoon every morning before breakfast in a glass of hot water—little by little that ugly "disappearance" you'll feel better than ever before—years younger, more energetic. You'll soon possess a fine, firm, youthful figure which only perfect health can impart.

Get the bottle (lasts 4 weeks) at McLain & Sorenson's or any pharmacy or druggist in America. Money back if Kruschen doesn't convince you that it is the safest, quickest, most effective way to lose weight.

A Hartford woman writes, "I'll tell the world Kruschen Salts is wonderful stuff to reduce." An Ohio woman lost 10 pounds with one bottle.

Magazines for several months have been full of patterns and full instructions for building lily pools, and one of the things I would like to see several hours before hand, this is the dish you need.

Within the last year or two a new family moved to town, and one of our strongest church women asked a fellow worker to call and invite the new matron to attend services. This the matron secondly mentioned, did, but finding the newcomer in the most modern attire for house-cleaning, and judging from her conversation that she was a worldly life interested her, the visitor killed two birds with one stone by asking the newcomer and her husband to attend a dance with the caller and her husband.

The four went, and we are reliably informed, had a lovely time. But we have not heard whether the real errand of the day succeeded.

A number of others, good ones, were read before the class. Evelyn Knecht also chose the pioneering topic, and told about prairie schooner rode along, until the baby got heavy for her. Lula Jeanette Clemens was another young pioneer, one of her sketches about it. Eleanor Wolfe riding wagon travelled along, and the nose.

An embarrassed young fellow who read next was William Tell, a traveller, and Dolores Higgins misunderstood the assignment and wrote conversation exclusively. Dear Barta wrote about "Soldiers of Long Ago" who would not bow to a cap. The old story about how William Tell got into trouble. Elaine Worden was another who read a nice little story.

This class had been making William Tell booklets, and I wish others of children in that grade. And other mother, too, with stiff covers, three or four short chapters of the famous story, were enclosed in a booklet with four illustrations in color. The picture work was all done in crayola. On the front would be perhaps, mountains and trees and sky, all done in shades of green, or possibly in blues. The first picture inside always showed the cap of the tyrant Gessler atop the pole, awaiting the bowing populace. And the first chapter described this.

The next installment told how the brave William Tell, or the foolish William Tell, laughed at the cap and did not bow were enclosed in a booklet with four illustrations in color. The picture work was all done in crayola. On the front would be perhaps, mountains and trees and sky, all done in shades of green, or possibly in blues. The first picture inside always showed the cap of the tyrant Gessler atop the pole, awaiting the bowing populace. And the first chapter described this.

Now no matter what you may think after reading the next paragraph, I do not get any rake-off from the lumber companies or local contractors.

But with money buying so much as it does now, this is the logical time to build a home, if you have a lot, or a few hundred to begin with. Your dollar will buy you nearly twice as much.

Renting is a foolish proposition for any but impermanent purposes. A handful of rent receipts is all you get out of it, and the same money, paid month after month into a home improves your credit, gives you something to fall back on in case of need, and begins the creation of a tiny estate for your family in case you die.

And I don't get a rake-off from the building and loan, either.

5th Graders Good At Writing, Irma Decides After Visit

By IRMA ELLIS LEGGETT

I always enjoy visiting the room of Miss Lucy Rowbal for it is as interesting as any grade I have ever visited, and surely her scholars get a great deal of real instruction.

Now these children average about nine years of age, and here is an original composition of Lucille Lakin. It is entitled "Travelling to the West". I copied off the whole thing, just to give our readers a chance to see what nice work these youngsters do.

"It seemed as if the journey would never end. It was so bumpy in the cowpath. The oxen were very slow and we didn't think we could find a place to spend the night. It was very cold that night and we had to put a blanket over me. There were many soomers (schooners) behind us. And I sat with Johnny in my arms as if they would break. I said, "Henry, can't you come and hold baby a while?" After a while he came and took Johnny while I lay down to rest. It became very dark in a little while and we didn't know what to do. So we stopped at a house close by. They were very kind to us. The people gave us beds upstairs to sleep in. Then very morning we started about five o'clock and about two o'clock in the afternoon we reached camp."

The composition was to include some direct conversation. Here is part of another composition from the same assignment. They had a list of topics from which to choose, and the women asked about one out of the list. This one is named "The War Trail."

"My friends and I were chased by some other boys called cow-boys. We hid in the bushes but we were captured (captured). They took us to there (their) jail and put all of us in. I said, "I will not go into jail because you cannot put me in without killing me." Dick said "Show him you can put him in our jail, boys." So I was put in the jail. But I and had to go home and eat supper. This was the work of Charles Keown.

A number of others, good ones, were read before the class. Evelyn Knecht also chose the pioneering topic, and told about prairie schooner rode along, until the baby got heavy for her. Lula Jeanette Clemens was another young pioneer, one of her sketches about it. Eleanor Wolfe riding wagon travelled along, and the nose.

Local Declamatory Contest Held Tuesday

The Ord high school declamatory contest was held Tuesday at the high school auditorium and was judged by Mrs. L. M. Reel.

The dramatic division was won by Marion Grace Cushing with "Elizabeth."

LaVeda Rogers, with a talk on "Leading Advocates of Prohibition" was winner in the extemporaneous division.

On Monday, "The Florist's Shop" was presented twice during the evening with different casts and the best cast, composed of Wilson Bell, Bob Cushing, Harvey Michaels, Evelyn Coe and Lenore Roberts, will present the play to-night.

Miss Jean Nelson coached all declamatory contest entrants and great credit for their fine showing is due to her efforts and ability.

CLASS NOTES Miss Shaver's Senior American History class has been studying "Age of Big Business" and "Regulations of Trusts" and things of that sort. She has been getting very good current events from this same class.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES The kindergartners have begun to decorate their room for Easter. They have also started to have vases and are working on Beaver board animals. There were a few finished which looked very nice.

CONVOICATIONS On Friday at the beginning of the convocation three songs were sung, under the direction of Miss Bloodgood accompanied by Edith Mason at the piano.

HI-Y NEWS A business meeting was held Wednesday evening, March 25 by the HI-Y boys. The program was discussed concerning the joint HI-Y and Girl Reserve meeting.

Miss Johnson's home room 16, was given a reading by Lenora Roberts, last Tuesday. Also one by Wilmsday Bell Wednesday. Lenora Roberts and Wilson Bell each gave a reading for home room 20 last Thursday.

The first grade are reading "The Dutch Twins", which they are enjoying. Their sand table is decorated very nicely, which represents Holland very well. Betty Rogers has read twenty library books, which is the most read in her class.

Our class readily agreed that correct working heights of equipment and one or two comfortable stools for the individual will help the homemaker tremendously in saving energy. A thoughtful homemaker always thinks about these important details.

Charles Shepard: My father's a doctor, so I can be sick for nothing. Donald Williamson: Oh, that's nothing, mine's a preacher—so I can be good for nothing. "I'll stick to you kid," said the postage stamp to the envelope.

Miss Hinzda's physiology class has been studying underweight and overweight and we hope that the children put forth effort to make their bodies strong and healthy. Later they are to study calories and how much food we need and how much we really take in.

The second grade had a number recited Friday, in which fourteen received one-hundred. The third grade had a review in spelling, in which twenty-three out of thirty-three received one-hundred. Then they spelled the words, and Viola Wolf spelled down her whole class.

When we came to the bowls we decided on the small bottomed ones and if used for storage, straight-sided. We selected egg beaters, knife sharpeners, can openers, garbage cans, pressure cookers, and even rolling pins according to durability and ease of use, and it easily cleaned and cared for.

She was only a housemover's daughter but she sure gave me the shids. "What you need is a good jacking-up," said the farmer to his barn. Have you heard of the African Indian by Erskin S. Black? Rosecrantz and Gullenstern, those famous blues singers, will do for their next number that touching little melody entitled "I'm glad I made you cry for your face is cleaner now."

Those absent Monday were: Warren Allen, Betty Strong, Bertha Danner, Neil Rathbun, Delilah Beeghly of the fifth and sixth grade returned to school Monday, after being absent on account of her appendix operation. Mrs. E. H. Petty visited the fifth and sixth grade rooms Monday. Miss Witter returned to school Monday after an absence of three weeks. Levi Sowers has infection. Jerrine Burrows has returned to school after being absent two weeks with scarlet fever.

When we came to the bowls we decided on the small bottomed ones and if used for storage, straight-sided. We selected egg beaters, knife sharpeners, can openers, garbage cans, pressure cookers, and even rolling pins according to durability and ease of use, and it easily cleaned and cared for. A salesman demonstrated a washing machine to us which proved very interesting, although we haven't studied that phase. The trip was very absorbing and educational. It has aroused more interest in the course and has made it clearer. It has been helpful because we now have a better idea of what kind of equipment to choose.

WELLER AUCTION COMPANY WILL OBSERVE 10TH ANNIVERSARY

Figures Show Contrast. The forty year only $44,000 worth of business was done by the auction firm, quite a contrast to present yearly figures, which run around half a million dollars. In those beginning days only a half dozen people consigned to the auction on many Saturdays which also is a decided contrast to present sales. On a recent Saturday 93 consigned stuff to be sold, 63 bringing livestock and the rest furniture, machinery, seed, etc.

Bassett, Burwell, Taylor, Elyria, Sargent, Comstock, Arcadia, and even from Spalding, Albion and other places farther away, can any one doubt that these Saturday auctions have been a decided element in establishing Ord's supremacy as a trading center? On nearly any Saturday you can name, cars from six, seven or more counties will be parked around the streets of Ord. The men of the family will be found at the Weller pavilion. If you look for the women, you'll probably find them in the Ord stores.

ALBERT MCMINDES

To attract buyers from such a large territory, large and well balanced offerings must always be presented and to Charles Burdick, O. Winder, F. J. Meila, Frank Norman, Lester F. Johnson, Lew Wegrzyn, Ed Jurzinski, Art Butts and others, all buyers and large consigners, should much of the credit for these offerings be given. Billie Baird, ticket boy, and Lloyd Parks, yard superintendent, are responsible in no small measure for the smoothness with which sales are run off.

Colonel Weller has never asked for community financial help for his project, even though it is a vast aid to the community. Several instances can be cited in Nebraska where such help was asked and gladly given. At the time the Weller Auction Company started building its business here several similar auction events were started at other cities in the state. In fact, where these had the support of an entire community, they have succeeded. More often, when stock in the companies was sold as a financing measure, these companies have failed. Much stock was sold, but too many buyers do not invigorate any business, and in at least six cities larger than Ord co-operatively owned auction companies have gone to the wall.

In the ten years they have been in Ord, Colonels Weller & McMinde have handled more than $3,500,000 worth of livestock and other goods through the medium of their ring. The largest number of cattle and hogs were sold in the fall of 1926 and the spring of 1927, when 13,000 head passed through the local sale lot, and in addition about 100 head of horses and sheep were handled. The days' business was experienced in October of 1926, when Driscoll Brothers of Moorcroft, Wyo., consigned a train load of cattle which sold for $41,000 as feeders.

As it takes you to build up the good will and cheer support which any individual auction business must have, the Ord auctioneers feel that even now they must not rest on their laurels. As the business has shown a steady, slow but increasing growth in the past, they hope that it will continue the same in the future. They are more than grateful to their many farmer friends for the loyal patronage which has made possible the building of such a business in Ord. Some of the reasons for the success are "fly-by-night" companies but when they started Weller & McMinde held the belief that a sound business could be built only on sound business principles and by giving a square deal so that masters once served would return again and again. "It's results that count." Is the motto of the Weller Auction company and the solid success the company has had can be traced to their continual adherence to this slogan.

As regularly as clockwork, sales are held on Saturday in Ord but the next Saturday the sale will be a little different. It will be a "tenth anniversary sale" for the Weller Auction company and besides having an unusually large and complete offering they plan to distribute free cigars and apples as a tribute to the citizens. The Weller appreciation with which they regard the clientele of the company.

Haskell Creek

Farm field work has been stopped for a while and shoveling snow has taken its place. However the roads are not badly drifted, most of the snow having settled in the yards.

There were 31 in Sunday school Sunday morning. The Junior class taught by Mrs. Rudolph Collins is having a contest that is arousing much interest. Evelyn Jorgensen and Dorothy Nelson are the captains.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Holm and Henry Holm were at Donald Miller's Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Chris Nielsen and Ilda Howerton were in Ord Thursday attending the meeting for the delegates to the extension service course. The lesson was on dishes to serve at club and will be given by the delegates at the next club meeting which is in the home of Mrs. Donald Miller today.

Several in the community have been "under the weather." Flu and colds seem to be the general complaint.

Aagaard's shipped cattle to Omaha Tuesday. Chris Nielsen and Wes Miska putting in a few head to fill up the load. Thorvald Aagaard went to Omaha with the cattle.

Several friends were at Will Nelson's Saturday evening helping Mrs. Nelson celebrate her birthday.

Several members of the Junior class called on Evelyn Jorgensen Sunday bringing their sleds and spending the afternoon sleigh riding.

Will Nelson and Leo Nelson Tuesday, Sunday afternoon attend the funeral of a relative. Jess Howerton is doing Leo Nelson's chores.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and family called at Chas. Dana's Sunday evening.

Almond Brox did some plowing for Wes Miska Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woods called at Will Nelson's Sunday evening.

Ilda and Jess Howerton were at Henry Jorgensen's Wednesday evening.

Sunday guests at Henry Jorgensen's were Mrs. Dagmar Cushing, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Lindhartsen and Fred Witt.

Henry Holm was at Frank Flynn's Sunday afternoon.

Mell Bower went to Ord Tuesday to visit with his sister, Mrs. Ethel Hagemer and brother, Ray Bower at Walter Finch's.

Fourteen parents and three children responded to the invitation sent to them by the D. C. H. S. to bring a school lunch and come to visit school last Tuesday and enjoy the hot lunch demonstration.

Although the weather has been somewhat warm the hot lunches have been enjoyed by the pupils. Jannette Williams, Esther Palser, Martha Mawkoski and Evelyn Long have been cooks. Donald Jefferies and Thomas Fisk assisted them. Their work has been done systematically, and credits will be given to apply on their grades.

Mrs. Alice Bower papered for Mrs. Bredthauer Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Manchester spent Saturday evening at Ernest Johnson's. Mrs. Johnson served ice cream and cake.

The Local Workers club held their local achievement at the Davis Creek school house Tuesday evening with about sixty present. A program consisting of readings, songs and plays was enjoyed. Mrs. Win Arnold and Oletha Williams sponsored games, races, and contests during the social hour which afforded lots of fun. A lunch was served by the members. Our leaders were unable to get the next lesson Friday on account of the blizzard.

Mrs. Elmer Williams accompanied her daughter Jannette to Ord Wednesday. She entered the Miller hospital and submitted to an appendix operation Thursday morning and Mrs. Williams came home Saturday. Jannette was getting along nicely. Mrs. Williams was entertained at the homes of Chris Haight, Claude Romans and Ernest Rahlmeyer.

Mrs. Elmer Williams received a letter from her sister, Mrs. Christina Akerson of California saying she expected to visit her soon after April 1.

Mrs. Frank Kucera entertained the M. E. Ladies Aid society Wednesday. A good dinner was enjoyed. The ladies drew names for their next year's meetings. Mrs. Carol Miller will entertain the society in three weeks.

Richard Palser spent Thursday evening at Alfred Jorgensen's. The shoveling gang from North Loup came out and shoveled through the drifts on the county roads Saturday a. m. They said the largest drifts they found were at Alfred Jorgensen's and Ernest Johnson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sample went to Scotia Saturday evening. Mrs. Sample stayed all night with her mother and Lester went down after her Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Sample and family spent Sunday afternoon at his brother, George Sample's. In the evening Herman Negley, Merrill Sample, and Bert Rich and their families and Mr. and Mrs. Lester Sample were at C. C. Sample's. They enjoyed an ice cream feed.

Many pupils were absent from school Friday, only nineteen braved the storm to be present, not quite 50 percent. The teachers, Mrs. Clara Holmes, and Margaret Johnson, spent Friday with Mrs. Jennie Clement in Mira Valley.

LOW PRICED EXCURSION TO OMAHA. For the week-end April 12, Union Pacific will sell round trip chair car tickets from Ord to Omaha for only $4.25. Usual sale dates and return limits for particulars phone or see Union Pacific Agent. 2-11

Christians Have Waffle Supper. Mrs. Jos. P. Barta and her division of the Christian Aid society served a waffle supper last Saturday evening in the church basement and they report it quite a financial success. Those who patronized the supper thought it a success, too, for the ladies served a large waffle with butter and syrup, a helping of sausage and a cup of delicious coffee for the sum of 30c. Waffle suppers are trying on the cooks though, if the iron doesn't work just right.

Snow Hinders Ice Building. Recent weather has been anything but satisfactory to Olof Olsson, who is building a brick structure to house his new artificial ice plant here. For several days last week no progress was made on the building. Mr. Olsson had hoped to start installing his machinery by April 1 but fears now that it will be April 15 before he can begin getting his machinery in place.

S. S. Convention Postponed. Because of the severe storm of last week and the bad condition of roads, the annual Valley county Sunday school convention, scheduled to be held last Sunday at Zion Evangelical church, Mira Valley, has been postponed until Sunday, June 14. It will be held at the same place.

To Own A Home! the hope of every human heart! The deep urge to live with one's family in a peaceful home of one's own... secluded from the rest of the world yet near enough for social and business intercourse is an urge that you can satisfy. Don't say -- "I can't afford to own a home." It's so easy if you start saving the Protective way now. Money deposited here weekly or monthly grows by leaps and bounds. It draws high interest, yet is perfectly safe. Our association is under state supervision at all times. When you want to buy or build we help you. You can pay off the cost of your home in the same easy installments that you would pay if paying rent. Owning a home the Protective way is easier than living in a rented house. At the end of a few years, instead of a bundle of rent receipts to show for the money you've paid, you OWN YOUR OWN HOME. Write or call for particulars of the Protective plan of home ownership. No obligation--we're glad to furnish details. Dr. Lee Nay please call at Ord Theatre for two free tickets either April 2 or 3. PROTECTIVE Savings and Loan Association

at Weller and McMinder Pavilion
Saturday, Apr. 4
Starting at 1:15 P. M.

125 to 150 Head of Cattle

The big part of this week's offering are strictly green stocker steers and calves from the hay country, just the thing to put on grass. Here you will find a good selection of Herefords and Shorthorns. Also 20 or more head of bred cows and heifers. 20 or more head of warmed up yearlings. 15 or more baby calves. A number of milch cows.

5 HEAD OF PURE-BRED SHORTHORN BULLS

These are the bulls advertised for last week's sale. They are roans and reds ranging in ages from one to two years. Also two polled calves.

10 HEAD OF GOOD WORK HORSES. All of them guaranteed.

75 head of pure-bred Chester White fall pigs, very thrifty and vaccinated. 65 head of Hampshire and Duroc Jersey fall pigs, all are vaccinated. 10 head of vaccinated duroc bred sows. 5 head of Hampshire bred sows. We could use about 35 or 40 more head of bred sows for this auction if the weather is good. We would advise you to consign only vaccinated sows to these sales as they are bringing at least $5 a head more than unvaccinated sows.

20 bushels of fine sweet clover seed. 5 bushels of alfalfa seed. 25 bushels of yellow dent seed corn, very good. A nice line of machinery. Some potatoes, about 50 bushels. Furniture, etc.

Somehow there is a deep satisfaction in doing business with a well established, reliable firm . . . with one that has proven its worth by years of continuous service to its clients. . . . With this sale we round out ten years of conducting "Central Nebraska's largest community weekly sale." On this our tenth anniversary we want to say "thank you" to all of our friends for the splendid support you have given us in the years past, we realize that without your support all our efforts would have been in vain. . . . We are sincerely appreciative of your help and trust that we may merit a continuance of the same. As but a small token of our appreciation we will distribute cigars to those who smoke and apples to those who do not smoke. Attend this sale and help us celebrate our 10th anniversary.

Arcadia News

By MRS. RAY GOLDEN

The Arcadia Community club was host at their regular meeting Saturday at the Methodist church basement Tuesday evening of last week to the chairman and three members of the board of supervisors and the county engineer of Valley county.

After partaking of a wonderful dinner at seven o'clock which had been prepared by the Ladies Aid society of the church, road matters in the vicinity of Arcadia were discussed.

Seniors Choose Play.

"Cyclone Sally" is the name of the three act comedy play which the senior class of the Arcadia high school will present next month. There are nine characters in the cast. Arnold Tunling, class sponsor will direct the play.

Commercial Contest Saturday.

A district commercial contest will be held at Keary Saturday, April 4th for commercial students from the various high schools in the district. Helen Wilkins, Dorothy Strathdee, Evelyn Hyatt, Mary Elizabeth Cook, Glen Jamison and the commercial instructor Miss Edith Franke plan on attending from Arcadia.

Helen Wilkins, Dorothy Strathdee and Evelyn Hyatt will compose the Arcadia typewriting team to take part in a fifteen minute typewriting contest. At the close of the fifteen minutes the number of words written by the members of each team will be averaged to determine the winning team.

Helen Wilkins will take part in the one minute accuracy contest in typewriting and also in the bookkeeping contest.

Mary Elizabeth Cook will enter the spelling contest and Glen Jamison will take part in the shorthand contest which constitutes fifteen minutes of dictation with the use of one hour for transcription on the typewriter.

March Blizzard Strikes.

The worst snow storm of the winter struck Arcadia last Thursday and Friday blocking traffic in all directions and causing everyone to stay close to their fireplaces. A high wind accompanied the snow, filling the roads and highways with impassable drifts. Train service was withheld all day Friday but was resumed Saturday after a snow plow had opened the route. All grades of the town school were dismissed Friday afternoon on account of the small attendance Friday morning. Rural schools were dismissed on Thursday, opening again Monday.

Attends Father's Funeral.

Dr. A. E. Carr was called to Lincoln last week by the death of his father, F. M. Carr, who passed away Thursday March 26th at the age of seventy-one years. Mr. Carr had resided in Lincoln for forty years. Funeral services were held Saturday and burial was made in the Wyuka cemetery in Lincoln.

Mr. Carr is survived by his wife, one daughter, Miss Ruth Carr of Ashland and two sons, Dr. A. E. Carr of Arcadia and Dr. Ivan Carr of Plymouth, Neb.

Telephone Office Redecorated.

The telephone office has been greatly improved the past week by re-decorating the interior. The walls have been tinted a pleasing shade of green with a cream ceiling to harmonize and the woodwork and office fixtures have been brightened with a coat of varnish.

Closes Cream Station.

The Seward Cream station, which has been under the management of E. H. Rambo for several years, closed last Saturday evening. Mr. Rambo closed out his stock of grocery supplies which he carried in connection with the cream station.

Litter and Calf Club to Meet.

The R. K. D. Litter club and the Calf club will meet Friday evening April 3rd with Cleith Thompson. It is hoped that the roads will be in condition to permit a good attendance.

Home Damaged by Fire.

The home of Dr. Robert Lee at Ravenna was badly damaged by fire last week according to the following report which was taken from the Grand Island Independent: "Early Friday morning as Night Policeman Joe Burt was going home he discovered heavy smoke pouring from the home of Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee. Rushing to the door, the officer was met with a cloud of smoke and he pounded and shouted to wake anyone who might be in the house. At the time, the doctor was out on a professional call, and Mrs. Lee, her niece, and baby Bobby Lee were asleep in a closed room which had not yet filled with smoke. The ladies and the baby were quickly rescued from the house getting out into the blizzard with scant clothing.

To make matters worse, the electric siren used for a fire whistle refused to function, being clogged with ice and snow. But the telephone girl, Miss Edie Scott, plugged the switchboard swiftly and skillfully, soon having a sufficient force of firemen and other men called for duty. The house was damaged and burned on the inside, and the furniture ruined. The firemen were able to keep the fire inside the house so the heavy wind could not fan or scatter it, so the damage was confined to the one piece of property.

Clara Woody Injured.

Clara Woody received a fracture of the skull Thursday last week when she was struck by an automobile while crossing the street in Redwood City, Calif. where she teaches school. She was taken to a hospital at San Mateo, Calif. where she is getting along favorably. Clara was returning from school in company with another teacher when the accident occurred. Fortunately the car which struck her was being driven at a low rate of speed otherwise her injuries might have been more serious.

Election Next Tuesday.

Election will be held in Arcadia next Tuesday when three members each will be elected to serve on the Board of Trustees and the Board of Education. Len Sutton, C. O. Rettenmayer, Roy Cochran, N. A. Lewis, H. A. Bellinger and D. C. Bellinger are the candidates for the Board of Trustees while A. E. Hayward, W. J. Ramsey, J. R. Golden, L. H. Bulger and Otto Rettenmayer are the candidates for the Board of Education.

Society.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Ramsey and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waterbury entertained five tables at bridge at the Ramsey home last Thursday evening. The party was planned in honor of Dr. and Mrs. F. V. Antick but they were unable to be present on account of the snow storm.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will meet at the church basement Friday afternoon with the second division as hostesses. The members are requested to bring their hospital contributions.

A number of the neighborhood aid societies held an all day meeting at the Liberty church Wednesday for the purpose of sewing for Mr. and Mrs. John Mack.

An Epworth League social will be held at the Methodist church basement Friday evening, April 3rd. All young people are cordially invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Benson and family and Gladys and Charlotte Williams were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Jensen Saturday evening. The Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lillie Bly.

The Rebekah Kensington will meet with Mrs. Lloyd Owens Wednesday afternoon of next week. The Hayes Creek Ladies aid society are meeting this (Thursday) afternoon with Mrs. Spencer Horner.

Monday was Mrs. Christine O'Connor's birthday and in honor of the event a most delightful surprise party was planned for the afternoon by her children, Alice and Milton O'Connor, who perpetuated the affair as wisely as though it had been planned by a grownup. They invited the guests, arranged for the lunch and after school hours contributed to an entertaining musical program. Milton played the violin accompanied by Mrs. Max Wall, Alice playing the piano and both singing musical numbers for the guests. Mrs. O'Connor received a number of nice gifts in remembrance of the occasion.

BIG AUCTION

at Weller and McMindes Pavilion
Saturday, Apr. 4
Starting at 1:15 P. M.

125 to 150 Head of Cattle

The big part of this week's offering are strictly green stocker steers and calves from the hay country, just the thing to put on grass. Here you will find a good selection of Herefords and Shorthorns. Also 20 or more head of bred cows and heifers. 20 or more head of warmed up yearlings. 15 or more baby calves. A number of milch cows.

5 HEAD OF PURE-BRED SHORTHORN BULLS

These are the bulls advertised for last week's sale. They are roans and reds ranging in ages from one to two years. Also two polled calves.

10 HEAD OF GOOD WORK HORSES. All of them guaranteed.

75 head of pure-bred Chester White fall pigs, very thrifty and vaccinated. 65 head of Hampshire and Duroc Jersey fall pigs, all are vaccinated. 10 head of vaccinated duroc bred sows. 5 head of Hampshire bred sows. We could use about 35 or 40 more head of bred sows for this auction if the weather is good. We would advise you to consign only vaccinated sows to these sales as they are bringing at least $5 a head more than unvaccinated sows.

20 bushels of fine sweet clover seed. 5 bushels of alfalfa seed. 25 bushels of yellow dent seed corn, very good. A nice line of machinery. Some potatoes, about 50 bushels. Furniture, etc.

Somehow there is a deep satisfaction in doing business with a well established, reliable firm . . . with one that has proven its worth by years of continuous service to its clients. With this sale we round out ten years of conducting "Central Nebraska's largest community weekly sale." On this our tenth anniversary we want to say "thank you" to all of our friends for the splendid support you have given us in the years past, we realize that without your support all our efforts would have been in vain. We are sincerely appreciative of your help and trust that we may merit a continuance of the same. As but a small token of our appreciation we will distribute cigars to those who smoke and apples to those who do not smoke. Attend this sale and help us celebrate our 10th anniversary.

The Bert Dent family recently left for Craig, Colo., where they plan on making their home. Bert has a brother there, F. J. Dent. The Bert Dent family write that they had a hard trip. They were nearly a week on the way and then had to leave their car near Baggs, Wyo. The last twenty miles, before they reached Craig, they made by stage.

Rev. E. M. White and Rev. W. J. Nelson drove to Grand Island Monday. Mrs. White and children came to Ord and have rooms in the C. C. Williams home. Rev. White is holding revival meetings in the Pentecostal church.

Mira Valley News

Everett Boettger and Sam Roe each shipped a carload of cattle to Omaha Monday of this week.

Sunday several of the Lutheran people took their dinners to the home of Mrs. and Mrs. Ernest Lange and helped them celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary. They spent the afternoon visiting and all present spent a very pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Herman Bredthauer and sister, Mrs. Lena Sommers of Scotia drove up from that place Sunday and spent the afternoon at the anniversary celebration at the Ernest Lange home.

The Evangelical people are planning on giving their Easter cantata a week from Sunday night. This will be April 12th. All are invited to attend.

Miss Hazel Leonard spent the week end in Ord at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bell on account of the bad weather. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bell moved into Ord last week from Mira Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Leonard and Francis Backmeyer were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Leonard.

Wilson Bell spent the week end in Ord at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Getty.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lange.

Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Bahr drove to Burwell Sunday afternoon where they were to have held church services but on account of the bad roads it was postponed until next Sunday afternoon. Miss Naomi Fuss accompanied them to Burwell and then went to her school west of Elyria. The Bahr children stayed at the Wm. Fuss home.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss drove up from Grand Island the middle of last week. They visited at the Fuss and Foth homes until Saturday when their son Martin drove their car home for them. They also attended the sale at the Louise Fuss home Wednesday.

Mrs. Walter Fuss and baby daughter were able to be taken home from the Ord hospital the middle of this week.

The Mira Valley Mutual Benefit Club met Wednesday April 1 at the home of Mrs. Fannie Peterson.

Woodman Hall
The teachers and pupils of our schools were all out for school on Thursday and did not go to school on Friday. Miss Klanecky at district 29 had school on Saturday. Miss Holoun stayed at Joe Waldmann's until Saturday afternoon, when her father came after her. Miss Roth started for her home Thursday evening but did not get there for several days.

Mike Pazderka, who was once a resident of our community, passed away at Broken Bow and was buried at the Longwood cemetery Thursday. On account of the blizzard only a very few of the relatives were able to get to the cemetery.

Another of our old residents, Albert Parkos Sr., passed away at the St. Francis hospital at Grand Island last Monday and was laid to rest at the Germanium Catholic cemetery last Wednesday. Father Thies said the requiem high mass and Mrs. Jos. Suchanek and sisters composed the choir. His twin grandsons, Vencel and Will Sedlacek and Albert Ahsan acted as altar boys and six grandsons were pall-bearers, they were two sons of Jos. Parkos, Edward and Albert Parkos, Emil Sedlacek and Matt Turek.

Our schools are making preparations for the trade and scholastic meet which is held at Ord each year some time in April.

Father Thies was unable to get to the Germanium church for Palm Sunday services due to the bad roads but will have mass at 9 o'clock on Easter Sunday. He will be there early Saturday afternoon to hear confessions.

Irene and Ernest Piva and Paul Waldmann stayed in Comstock during the storm and did not get to their homes until Saturday afternoon.

Lumir Klma, who is a salesman for the Graham-Seyler Chevrolet company of Ord, was on his way from Comstock to Ord when he was caught in the storm Thursday. His car was stuck and partly buried in a snow bank west of the National Hall and remained there until Saturday. Mr. Klma stayed at Ed Waldmann's until that time when he got help and Mr. Seyler of Ord came to meet him.

Joint Items

ORD 5TH GRADER CHAMP SPELLER OF VALLEY CO.

Mildred Campbell Wins Oral And Written Contest Thursday, Another Match April 20

FINAL CONTEST APRIL 20. The ten boys and girls who ranked highest in the county contest last Friday will meet in another contest April 20 to determine who shall represent Valley county at the state contest in Omaha. This was originally set for April 17 but was postponed by Miss McClatchey because it conflicted with the annual track and field meet scheduled for the same day. The winner April 20 will be sent to Omaha with all expenses paid by the Ord Quiz.

Mildred Campbell, of District No. 5, in other words Ord City schools, rather ran away with the spelling contest Friday afternoon at the high school auditorium when representatives of schools all over Valley county came to the meet only to see Mildred take first place in both the written and oral contests. Miss Elizabeth Lukesh is her teacher, and very proud of her young protegee.

Although five places were granted in both the oral and written spell-downs, Mildred Campbell was the only entrant who succeeded in landing her name on each roll of honor. As the first prize for each division was a nice fountain pen, Miss Campbell is now well supplied. Second positions went gold pencils, one going to Lorraine Duda of No. 55 for her achievement in the written contest, and to Darline Anderson of District No. 3 in the oral contest.

Written Contest Went Fast. The written contest was speedily conducted since as every young person had to attempt every word, elimination rapidly thinned the ranks of those contending. The third high speller in this effort was Willis Miller of District 24; fourth position was yielded to Irene Larsen of District 45, and fifth place went to Lois Holden of District No. 61. The last five words written were statistics, picnic, regiment, netting, and terminal.

Floyd Hudson And Gladys Stewart Wed

In Grand Island last Saturday occurred the marriage of Floyd O. Hudson, of North Loup and Miss Gladys E. Stewart, of Claremore, Okla. The ceremony was performed by Judge Paul N. Kirk. Mrs. Hudson is the former wife of Dr. A. A. Trechener, whose $30,000 damage suit against Mr. Hudson for alienating his wife's affections was settled out of court recently.

BAKING CONTEST, FOOD SALE WILL BE HELD SAT'DAY

Golden Rule, Quiz Combine, Offer Cash Prizes Aggregating $28; Aid Churches, Charity.

Plans are complete for the baking contest to be held Saturday, April 11 by the Golden Rule and the Ord Quiz at the Golden Rule store in Ord. Cash prizes will be awarded as follows:

1. Cakes. First prize, $5; second prize, $3; third prize, $1.
2. Pies. First prize, $3; second prize, $2; third prize, $1.
3. Cookies. First prize, $3; second prize, $2; third prize, $1.
4. Miscellaneous. (Salads, candy, baked beans, etc.) First prize, $3; second prize, $2; third prize, $1.

Judges will be Mrs. H. B. Vandecar, Mrs. Archie Waterman and Mrs. A. B. Fiala, announces Irma Ellis Leggett, cookery editor of the Quiz, who has general supervision over the contest. Mrs. Leggett is recruiting a corps of assistants to aid her.

Prizes Given at 7:30. All entries must be in by 2 o'clock Saturday and from then until 7:30 p. m. they will be on display. Sometime during this period the judging will be done and promptly at 7:30 the prizes will be awarded by that popular auctioneer, Col. E. C. Weller, who then will auction off the prize winning articles. Other articles

Campaign To Beautify City Homes Starts With A Vim

Beginning with the signature of Mayor Moses on one of the entry blanks for the Ord Yard and Garden Contest, the movement to join in and plant, hoe, dig, rake and clip until Ord is the prettiest town in this section of the state is rapidly gaining enthusiastic members. Since the Chamber of Commerce announced that such a contest would be held here, much interest in improving and beautifying the city has been apparent. Many gardeners and home-lovers have already signed the entry blanks, and planned the improvements for the season which they hope will win the first prize, $12.50; the second prize, $7.50; or the third award, $5. These are the prizes offered in the first class. In this class it is necessary for practically all the work to be done by the family.

No cash is to be given in the second class, which is for those who hire all or most of their work done, but handsome Awards of Merit will be given by the National Yard and Garden Contest. Not so many Ord flower lovers are expected to enter this, the second classification, as too many local people enjoy doing their own work.

A third class has been created to accommodate the many who rent their homes, and a number who rent and are very interested in flowers have already signed up. These are busy preparing flower beds, etc. There is no time to lose if Ord is to be the beautiful city it should be made during the summer of 1931. Nine dollars is being given by the committee, J. W. Goddard, chairman, Bob Noll and Mrs. E. C. Leggett, for the winner in this class.

A number of merchants around town are enthusiastically boosting the plant, paint-up and clean-up campaign and in order to attract things along these public-spirited citizens and enterprising firms are offering an array of prizes for the best bed of purple petunias; the best bed of gladiolas; the handsomest show of red geraniums, and many other things. Modest beginnings are going to be well recognized, so do your bit! Fill in this blank and mail to the chairman of the Ord Yard and Garden Contest and do it today.

Haughts Buy Grocery Store From Needhams

D. C. and Freeman Haught last week closed a deal to take over the R. B. C. Grocery in west Ord. The store is being run by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Needham, and they will take possession April 15. They plan to employ a man to manage the store and will have their formal opening April 18. The Haughts will continue to run their grocery in south Ord.

Annual Masonic Banquet Is Held

Edward L. Baker, of Fremont, was the principal speaker at the annual banquet of the Ord Masonic lodge, held last Friday evening in the banquet room of the temple. Mr. Baker held the attention of guests for nearly an hour with an inspiring speech. About one hundred members, Eastern Star members and guests were present.

H. B. Vandecar presided as toastmaster at the banquet. The invocation was given by Rev. H. H. Spracklen and speeches of welcome were given by Henry Benn, master of the local lodge, and Mrs. Della Chotena, worthy matron. Members of the Methodist A. S. Society under the direction of Miss Mamie Smith prepared and served a splendid dinner.

Boys, Matches Start Fire. Small boys playing with matches were responsible for a fire last Thursday evening in the barn at the Tunniff home. The fire department was called out. Not much damage was done by the blaze.

Proclamation

Ord, Nebraska
April 6, 1931
On behalf of the citizens of Ord, I wish to endorse and to request the support of all for the Yard and Garden contest as sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Many benefits will accrue to our community thru increased real estate values, greater city loyalty, increased pride in home ownership, and a more beautiful city. For further detail see John W. Goddard, Chairman, or members of his committee.

WILMA KUCERA ASKS DIVORCE

Husband Has Violent Temper, Has Often Beat Her, She Says; Asks Custody of Children.

Charging that her husband, Clarence Kucera, has an uncontrollable temper and has beaten her on at least four occasions, Mrs. Wilma Kucera asks a divorce in an action filed in district court here last week. She also asks the custody of their three children, Patricia Ann, 3, Robert Earl, 2, and James Williams, 10 months.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucera were married May 26, 1927 at Brighton, Colo. Before her marriage Mrs. Kucera was Miss Wilma Gates, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gates of Ord. The Kucera family lives in the Arcadia neighborhood. In her divorce action Mrs. Kucera charges that her husband is shiftless and has never provided his family with a home, forcing them to look to her relatives for aid and support. He is addicted to the use of intoxicants, she says. Mr. Kucera has had a high school education and one year at the University of Nebraska and therefore is capable of earning at least $100 a month, his wife believes.

She maintains that she is a fit person to have the custody of their children and besides an absolute divorce she asks alimony, maintenance, attorney fees and such other support as is deemed just and equitable.

Bert M. Hardenbrook is attorney for Mrs. Kucera while the husband is represented by Davis & Vogelstein. He appeared in court last Thursday and entered a voluntary appearance in the action, reserving thirty days in which to plead.

Call For Bids On Ord-Burwell Gravel

Bids for graveling the highway between Ord and Burwell will be received by R. L. Cochran, state engineer, up to April 30 and at 9 o'clock that day will be opened and read and the successful bidders chosen, a legal notice in today's Quiz says. This means that the Ord-Burwell highway will be gravelled this year. Work must start by June 1 and must be completed by December 1, the notice specifies.

MRS. THORNGATE DIES SATURDAY; HAD OPERATION

North Loup Woman, 68, Lingered Three Weeks After Serious Operation.

Mrs. H. H. Thorngate, 68, of North Loup, passed away late last Saturday afternoon at an Ord hospital where she had been for three weeks following a serious abdominal operation. A lung complication developed the past week and though she had been very low for several days the end came unexpectedly.

When a young girl Eva Mattison came to Valley county in 1882 with her widowed mother, Mrs. Mary Mattison, two sisters and a brother and the family settled on a homestead west of North Loup. Here she met and was married to Herbert H. Thorngate and though the rest of her family, her mother included, moved to Wisconsin, Mrs. Thorngate spent the rest of her life on a farm west of North Loup. (Continued on page 6)

LIGHT VOTE CAST IN CITY ELECTION

Fafaite New Councillman In 2nd Ward; Flagg, Stoltz Win School Board Places.

Less than 400 voters went to the polls at the annual city election Tuesday and election day passed quietly in Ord. No startling upsets were recorded in the results, though E. H. Fafaite's defeat of Chester Palmatier for second ward councillor was a surprise to many. In other races W. A. Anderson beat A. W. Tunniff for park board member, Gould Flagg and J. H. Stoltz were elected to the school board and Joe Rohlf retained his place on the city council by defeating Dr. Henry Norris. Other positions were uncontested.

Second ward voters gave Mr. Fafaite 63 votes and Mr. Palmatier 46 and the former won by a surprising margin, considering the lightness of the vote.

W. A. Anderson led Mr. Tunniff in two of the city's three wards. The vote was as follows: First ward—Anderson 44, Tunniff 22; second ward—Anderson 67, Tunniff 37; third ward—Anderson 39, Tunniff 45.

Vote on school board members went as follows in the various wards: First ward—Flagg, 49, Dale 34, Stoltz 41; second ward—Flagg 63; Dale 54, Stoltz 64; third ward—Flagg 57, Dale 34, Stoltz 53.

In defeating Dr. Norris for councillor in the third ward Joe Rohlf pulled up the largest majority of the day, leading 65 to 19.

Carl Sorensen was re-elected first ward councillor without opposition and Miss Lucinda Thorne was chosen city clerk, also running without an opponent.

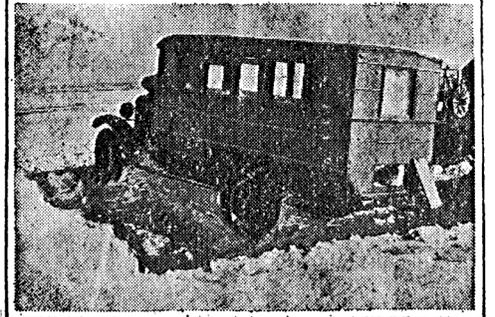

Arcadia Results In. Arcadia, April 8.—(Special)—The following were elected to village offices at the annual election here Tuesday: School board—J. R. Golden, A. E. Haywood, Otto Rettenmayer; town board—L. W. Sutton, N. A. Lewin, A. J. Bellingier.

Hrbek Resigns, Bob Weller New Manager
Henry Hrbek, who for three years has been in Ord as manager of the Weller Bros. lumber yard, resigned his position this week and Robert Weller has been made manager of the yard. "Bob" has been here nearly a year as assistant to Mr. Hrbek and should be able to handle affairs of the yard in fine shape. Mr. Hrbek is considering several propositions and expects to be in Ord two or three weeks before making definite plans for the future.

Mrs. Wolf Committed.
Mrs. D. L. Wolf, 82 years old, was brought before the Valley county insanity board Wednesday morning and was committed to the state hospital at Hastings. Mrs. Wolf's mind has been falling for some time.

W. N. Hawkins Dead.

Where School Tots Died in Storm

Fifteen school children watched five of their companions slowly freeze to death in this school bus, when it was marooned during the recent blizzard near Towner, Colo. Fourteen miles from Towner live Mr. and Mrs. Krebs, Mrs. Krebs being the former Miss Beth Tolen of Ord. Their little girl attends school in a bus similar to this, and during that blizzard they did not know where she was from Thursday morning until Friday night. They found her safe in the home of a neighbor.

Two Men Fined For Disorderly Conduct

Two young men, Cecil Wonders and John Toohy, Greeley, were fined in police court last Friday and one girl, Dorothy Harris, 17, was asked to leave town as the result of a raid made Thursday by Sheriff Round and Marshall Covert on the rooms occupied by Mrs. Hope Demund above the Norris shoe shop. Two other girls implicated in the affair were released with a warning.

The five young people were participants in a "wild party" that lasted for nearly two days, officers allege. People living in the neighborhood complained and the raid followed. Officers did not succeed in getting evidence that Mrs. Demund knew of the affair. Wonders and Toohy were fined $20 and costs each by Police Judge Hamilton. Unable to pay the fines they indicated they would "lay it out" at the rate of $1.50 per day, and are confined in county jail.

FARM BUREAU BALL LEAGUE RE-ORGANIZED

Play To Start April 26 Decided At Meeting Monday; One More Team Needed.

The Valley County Farm Bureau Baseball League was re-organized Monday evening at a meeting of fans held in County Agent Dale's office in the court house here. Play will start on April 26 with all teams in the league swinging into action.

Charles Hatcher was chosen president, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, vice president and Ed Lange secretary-treasurer at the meeting Monday. The league will follow the general plan that proved so successful last year.

Teams that have already taken out memberships in the league are North Loup, Olean, Ord, Joint, Mira Valley, Eureka and Elyria. One more team is needed to complete the league but officers believe they will have no difficulty in securing one. Sumner fans are anxious to secure membership but officers and directors of the league favor allowing a team from the southwestern part of the county to join. This part of Valley county is not now represented in the league.

Ord Cattle Shipment Tops Chicago Market

To local feeders went the honor last week of topping the big Chicago cattle market. Forty-two head of cattle owned by C. J. Mortensen and Wm. Treptow and fed out by Mr. Treptow topped the market Tuesday at $10.75. The balance of the shipment of eighty odd head brought $10.25. The cattle were fed six months on nothing but corn and alfalfa, according to the Chicago Drovers Journal. The 42 head that topped the market averaged 1,370 pounds and the balance of the shipment 1,210. C. J. Mortensen accompanied the shipment. This week Mr. Treptow is in Denver buying more feeders.

COMPANY WOULD LAY PIPE LINE TO INCLUDE ORD

Sample Franchise Received by Mayor But No Official Offer Has Been Made.

A sample franchise, received through the mail last week by Mayor Wm. Moses is the only official indication Ord people have that the Nebraska Natural Gas company will make an effort this spring to include Ord in a project that will bring natural gas from the oil fields of Texas to Broken Bow, Loup City, St. Paul and other cities in this section of Nebraska. J. W. Denford, a representative of the company, visited those cities last week but so far he has not appeared in Ord.

The plan of the company, according to exchanges, is to build a loop through several cities as key points and also to supply the towns in between these cities. The key cities in this immediate section are St. Paul, Ord, Ravenna, Broken Bow and Lexington. In all of these key cities efforts will be made this spring to secure franchises and if that is done it is hoped to get the Chicago office of the company to agree to the extension of the line this summer.

The sample franchise received last Thursday by Mayor Moses was submitted to the council Friday evening but no action was taken. It is now in the hands of Miss Lucinda Thorne, city clerk.

The proposed ordinance, which is set forth on four typewritten pages, purports to grant to the Nebraska Natural Gas company, a Nebraska corporation, the right to install, maintain and operate a gas transmission and distribution system for a period of twenty years, giving them the right to use the streets, alleys, etc., of Ord for their mains, conduits and other appliances. The usual provision is made that these shall not obstruct or interfere with water or sewer pipes nor obstruct or interfere with the free use of streets, alleys or side walks for a longer time or to a greater extent than reasonably necessary.

Steve Parks Loses Battle For Health

Died Last Thursday at Sanitarium in New York State, Where He Went Hoping For Recovery.

Stephen Arthur Parks' valiant fight to regain his health came to a close last Thursday when he passed peacefully away at a sanitarium in Danville, N. Y., where he went a few weeks ago in the hope of recovery from illness with which he had suffered more than a year.

He was born August 9, 1838 on the farm near North Loup, where he has resided for the past ten years and when death came Thursday he was 42 years, 6 months and 24 days of age.

Mr. Parks spent his life in Valley county with the exception of three years on a homestead in Wyoming, where he was married Jan. 17, 1917 to Carrie Larsen who, with their

Former Nebraska Star Elected As Ord Coach

Cecil "Red" Molzen, former University of Nebraska football star, was elected Monday evening by the board of education to coach athletics in Ord high school next year. He was elected at a salary of $1,600 yearly. Mr. Molzen visited Ord Sunday and indicated that he would sign a contract at that figure if elected.

Molzen played at a tackle position on the Cornhusker football team in 1925, 1926 and 1927. The next year, 1928, he was assistant coach of Aurora high school and since that time he has been employed in Omaha as a hog buyer for Swift & Co., also coaching their basketball and football teams. He is married.

Ord sport fans believe school board members made a wise choice in Cecil Molzen as they believe he can pull high school athletics out of the doldrums here if anybody can.

If you toss in bed all night and can't sleep on right side, try simple glycerin, saline, etc. (Adlerika). Just ONE dose relieves stomach GAS pressing on heart so you sleep sound all night. Unlike other medicine, Adlerika acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel, removing poisons you never knew were there. Relieves constipation in 2 hours! Let Adlerika cleanse your stomach and bowels and see how good you feel! Ed F. Beranek, druggist.

Approves Home Teachers.

Because he is county attorney and wants to be free to act under any conditions, Guy Lavery withdrew last week as a candidate for the school board at Burwell. Mr. Lavery issued a statement in which he said that he believed in employing home teachers, whether married or single, providing they have the necessary qualifications.

—Steve Papernik please call at Ord Theatre for two free tickets either April 9 or April 10.

—Miss Lorraine Vodehnal left Friday for Denver where she will visit the Misses Agnes and Emma Wolf. Both of these young ladies have positions in that city.

—After leaving the Emmanuel hospital Mrs. C. J. Miller went to the home of Mrs. John Nelson to rest for a few days until she was strong enough to come home. She is recovering from a major operation.

—Friday Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Severyn left for their home in Omaha after a few days stay with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dworak sr., and other relatives.

—Mrs. Luther Pierce went to Burwell Friday and from there she left for Lincoln where she will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. W. Brown. Three of the children, Miss Dorothy and the two small boys, have been in Lincoln with relatives for three weeks.

—Sunday Mrs. Mary Knobel and daughter Mae left for their home in Lincoln. They have been visiting the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Danczek. Mae is a student in the 6th grade. She has never missed a school day or been tardy during her six year's schooling.

February Production Higher February production of the Chevrolet Motor Company was 67,318 cars and trucks, according to W. S. Knudsen, president. While the total is 3,418 under that of January when 70,766 were produced, daily output was higher in February, with its three fewer working days, than in the previous month.

Final figures on Chevrolet's February production show an increase of 2,678 over preliminary reports and indicate that schedules originally set for the month were followed.

March schedules, according to President Knudsen, have been placed at 78,000 and confidence is expressed that the figure will be surpassed. Current factory employment of Chevrolet is approximately 34,500 men.

Doctor Arrives in Plane. Dr. Arrasmith, Grand Island specialist summoned to Ord last Saturday for consultation with Dr. F. A. Barta in the case of W. N. Hawkins, arrived in a new biplane. He does much of his traveling by airplane, the doctor says.

ANOTHER EXAMPLE OF FORD VALUE

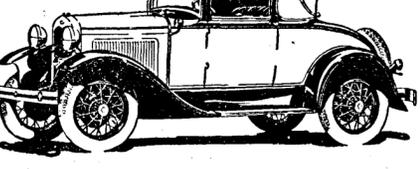

Bright, enduring RUSTLESS STEEL is used for many exposed bright metal parts of the Ford

WHEN YOU BUY a Ford you buy enduring beauty. The body finish is made to last for the life of the car and practically all exposed bright metal parts except the bumpers are made of enduring Rustless Steel.

This Rustless Steel has great tensile strength. It is the same bright metal all the way through. A salt test equivalent to forty years' service under the severest weather conditions failed to have any effect on its brilliance. It never requires polishing. All you do is wipe it with a damp cloth, as you do your windshield.

This is just one of many features that show the substantial worth of the Ford. In speed, comfort, safety, economy and long life — in the richness of its finish and upholstery — it brings you everything you want or need in a motor car at an unusually low price.

Call or phone for demonstration.

LOW FORD PRICES $430 to $630

(F. o. b. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. You may purchase a Ford car or truck for a small down payment, on convenient, economical terms through your Ford dealer.

Shell pioneers great step forward in motor fuels

Perfects new fuel amazingly high in the anti-knock value modern engines need... AT REGULAR GASOLINE PRICE

SHELL has succeeded—after months of effort! Today Shell offers a new fuel high in the precious quality that all cars need—the quality most ordinary gasoline lacks.

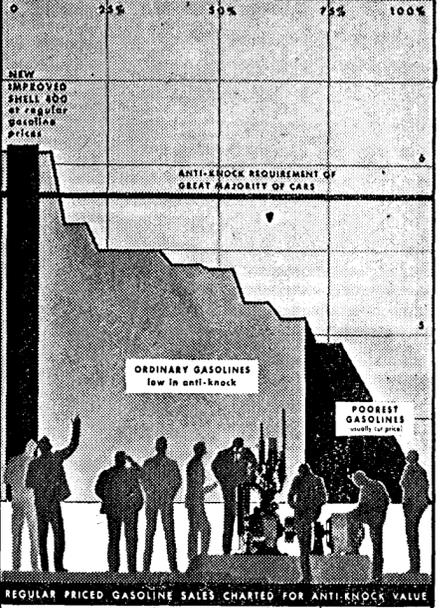

Study this chart. Note that most of the ordinary gasoline on the market falls below the needs of the great majority of all cars. But note that New Improved Shell 400 is far higher in anti-knock value than the ordinary fuel.

Best of all, it costs you no more than the ordinary kind!

Now you can be safe once and for all against motor ills and damage caused by gasoline that knocks. Shell acts to give you the kind of gasoline your car ought to have—at the lowest possible price. In the interest of low cost driving, Shell pioneers this great step forward in motor fuels.

You may be getting the kind of gasoline your engine should have. But millions, as this chart will prove, are putting up with poor motor operation, getting less power and facing higher repair bills than they should—due to incorrect gasoline.

Make a test of New Improved Shell 400. Try one complete filling of it—at least 10 gallons. Ask about the nation wide mileage test. Enter it, today.

See on this chart how most ordinary gasoline falls below the needs of many cars. See the false economy of cut price gasolines—inferior, if not actually dangerous to your motor. Notice that New Improved Shell 400 has the indispensable quality all cars need—high anti-knock value.

NEW IMPROVED SHELL 400

Definitely better than many premium priced fuels, yet sold at regular gasoline prices. High in the quality all cars need—anti-knock value

If, when the democrats are looking around for a candidate for governor, they will pick an Emerson Purcell, they will have a man who can no doubt be elected and who will make the state a good governor.

The state income tax bill sponsored by Rep. Cushing, after a hard fight, was finally killed in the house. Many of the members admitted that they didn't know much about it and no doubt they were honest.

I am wondering just who is back of Senator Rodman of Omaha, urging the 25 million dollar bond issue to build roads with. The people of Nebraska don't want the bonds issued.

Garden Contest Our Civic Opportunity

Participation in the Yard and Garden Contest by every family in the community will make Ord known far and wide as "The City of Beautiful Homes."

How this will be accomplished is shown by the experience of other towns where these contests have been held.

One family enters the competition and begins to set out trees, shrubs and flowers, making their place more attractive and livable. Their neighbors then see how they can beautify their grounds and they also get busy planting, not wishing to be left behind in the improvement work.

A few such transformations as this give a new aspect to a community. It comes to be known as "The City Beautiful."

In these days of strenuous competition between communities, the trade of the surrounding country, the patronage of travelers and tourists, the new residents, business branch houses and industrial plants come to the most attractive and best advertised locations.

Often one community is preferred above dozens of competing cities for the location of an important business because the home environment is found to be most attractive there.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

A typical corn project was completed last year by Lloyd Marks on their Mira Valley farm. It included nothing sensational. It was simply a common ten acre crop of field corn which Lloyd cared for thoroughly and well, as the Marks boys have a custom of doing. His financial summary reads thus:

Credits
450 bu. at 50c.....	$225.00
10 acres stalks.....	5.00
Total.....	$230.00
Debits
Seed.....	$ 3.00
Disking.....	3.00
Plowing.....	20.00
Harrowing.....	1.75
Disking (extra).....	3.00
Harrowing (extra).....	1.75
Planting.....	2.75
Harrowing.....	1.75
Cultivating.....	16.90
Harvesting.....	27.00
Rent.....	75.00

Total.....$155.90
Net Profit..... 74.10
Man Labor Charges..... 37.50
Labor Income..... 11.60

According to these figures, which do not include marketing costs, Lloyd received about 11 dollars an acre for his work. Both the yield of 45 bushels and the expenses of over 15 dollars per acre, were rather high. The expenses were increased by heavy spring rains which made extra tillage necessary. Machinery wear was included in horse labor charges. A total of approximately 300 horse hours and 100 man hours was required.

With corn selling at 40 cents next fall, and these figures as a measure, farmers will need to get thirty bushel yields in order to make wages.

Steve Parks Loses Battle For Health

(Continued from page 1) son William, his mother, one sister, Mrs. George Gard of Ord and one brother, Harold W. Parks of Denver, survives him. When he was four years of age his father passed away. Steve, as he was affectionately called by his friends, was of a quiet and unassuming disposition. He had a high sense of morality and cared for the higher things of life. He was taken ill more than a year ago and though everything that surgical and medical skill could do was done, it was to no avail. His sunny disposition and his words of cheer will be greatly missed by his relatives and a host of friends who, by their acts and words of sympathy have lightened the burden in this sad hour. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from Sowl's chapel, Rev. W. McCarthy having charge. A wealth of beautiful flowers expressed mutely the high esteem in which deceased was held. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

MRS. THORNGATE DIED SATURDAY

(Continued from Page 1) Just a short time ago, after Mrs. Thorngate entered a hospital here for the operation, her mother, Mrs. Mattison, passed away. She was 38 years old when death came and was the oldest person living in Valley county. For the nine years preceding her death Mrs. Mattison was cared for in the home of Mrs. Thorngate, who now joins her in the great beyond. Mrs. Thorngate is survived by her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Beecher VanHorn and Miss Vesta Thorngate of North Loup, and by one adopted son, Ernest Thorngate of Battle Creek, Mich. She also leaves several grandchildren and one brother and sister in New Auburn, Wis. Funeral services were conducted Monday from the S. D. B. church, of which Mrs. Thorngate had been a member for more than 40 years. Rev. Hurley S. Warren officiated. A quartet composed of Mrs. Esther Babcock, Mrs. Ava Johnson, Dell Barber and Arch Moulton sang and a duet by Ralph and Margaret Sayre also was given. The floral offerings were many and beautiful. Her body was laid to rest in the family lot at North Loup cemetery.

Coyote Hunt Sunday. John Anderson and H. C. Sorensen are promoting a coyote hunt for Sunday, April 12. The southeast corner of the space to be hunted will be the old Baptist church, the southwest corner will be the Joe Polak corner and they will go east 2 miles and north to district 43. There will be a dozen or more captains on the line at 1:30 and all who wish to take part are asked to be there at that time and the start will be made at 2 o'clock. There will be a lurch wagon along the line. George Jablonski of Loup City was an incoming passenger Thursday evening.

Ord Church Notes

Ord Presbyterian Church. Sunday school, classes for all ages at 9:45. Morning worship at 11:00, special music. Sermon topic, "The Appearance of Christ." This will conclude the sermons on the Life of Christ. The Young People's Expression club at 7:00. The basket luncheon has been postponed for a week. Evangelistic Services at 8:00. Congregational singing. Topic, a book review, "The Man Without a Country." Stewardship Department of the Church, meets Monday night at eight o'clock. Choir practice Wednesday at 8:00. L. M. Real, Pastor.

Methodist Church. We can report to those of our constituency who were not present last Sunday that our Easter services were all a great success in the matter of attendance at least. There were 219 at Sunday school, a large crowd at the morning service and a house full to hear the cantata. And it certainly was very fine. The young people too deserve credit for their success in that a seven o'clock meeting and back again for their regular hour in the evening. Now let us keep up that high-water mark of attendance. Plan never to miss church services on Sunday. Effort spent in that direction is always well repaid. Come next Sunday. And don't forget that next Sunday evening the Methodist choir at Scotia will sing for us their Easter cantata.

Pentecostal Full Gospel Church. We had a glorious fellowship meeting Tuesday. It was an all day meeting, and many came from a distance to be with us. At least ten ministers were with us. Grand Island, Palmer, Kearney, Litchfield, Hershey, North Loup and Burwell were well represented. "Behold how good and how pleasant it is for brethren to dwell together in unity." Psalm 133. 1 This was just a taste of what our camp meetings are like. God was with us in a wonderful way, in the music, singing and preaching. This meeting was a great help to us in our revival. Bro. Foster from Grand Island will be with us a few nights this week in the revival. Don't miss our wonderful meetings. God is saving, healing and baptizing in the Holy Spirit. Meetings every night this week with our regular Sunday services. Now come and be with us. W. J. Nelson, Pastor.

John Misko was spending a few days in Denver, returning to Holdrege Sunday. His parents are getting over his stay and he plans on making his home in Ord.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES.

Mrs. Beehrle and Mrs. Nutter visited Miss Hallen's first grade. Miss Hallen has a new supply of books on the library table.

Joint H-Y and G. R. Meeting.

On Monday evening, March 30, the G. R. and H-Y met together, opening the meeting by singing a hymn. The program consisted of discussing the questions received from Mr. Thomas.

EDITORIALS

We often hear students remark that they "can't" do this and they "can't" do that, but nine times out of ten we find they haven't even begun to try.

HOME ECONOMICS.

The Advanced Economics girls served the school board and their wives Monday, April 6. The menu was: Fruit Salad, Saratoga Chips, Birds, Veal, Eggs, Carrots and Peas in Timbales, Buttered Asparagus, Stuffed Celery, Rolls, Orange Conserve, Sunshine Dessert, Coffee.

CONVOCATIONS.

On Wednesday, April the first a convocation was held. The features on the program were presented by the Senior class. Their first one was an April Fool play which the whole audience enjoyed very much.

MUSIC CONCERT

On Wednesday evening, April the first, a concert of music was given. The entertainment consisted of two selections by the orchestra, two solos by Elwin Auble, boy's and girl's glee clubs, violin solo by Florence Lukesh, boy's quartet, girl's sextet, mixed chorus, a solo by "The Bell" from the "China Shop".

CLASS NOTES.

Miss Frederickson's beginning typing class are studying literary matters, and are also transcribing and transposing.

ACTIVITIES.

Tuesday evening, March thirty-first, the Ord high school declamatory contest took place. There were many very good readings which were presented by students.

VOCATIONAL READINGS.

A Bibliography of Vocational Readings was handed out by Mr. Bell last Thursday morning. It consists of a list of books one may read to help choose his vocation.

JOKES.

Miss Blanchard: "What is the difference between a battle and a massacre?" Leonard Cronk: "A battle is where a whole lot of whites kill a few Indians, and a massacre is where a whole lot of Indians kill a few whites."

MUSIC CONTEST.

The music groups and instrumental soloists and the vocal soloists and sextette are going to Grand Island Friday.

HOME ROOMS.

Miss Johnson's home room was entertained by some very interesting readings given by Verna Stowell and Wilma Cochran, one morning last week.

ATHLETICS.

The boys are starting out for baseball just as soon as the weather permits. There have been twelve boys out for track this last week.

entered will be sold at a bake sale which will start at 8 o'clock. Proceeds of the auction and the bake sale will be given to churches and charitable organizations.

Men Can Help, Too.
Any woman entering will have an opportunity to aid her own church or favorite charity. When she enters her cake or other article of food she will be asked to what church or other organization she wishes the proceeds of its sale to be given to. Books will be kept by Mrs. Leggett and her assistants and all money taken in will be given to the organizations specified. All the expenses in connection with the contest and sale is being paid by the Golden Rule and the Quiz, so proceeds will be net.

Here is an excellent opportunity for the women to share in the prize awards and at the same time assist a worthy cause. The men can help by attending the sale of baked goods and buying some of the best baked goods in the United States, knowing that the money they spend will go to help worthy organizations of Valley county. It should be a record sale and attended by a record crowd.

Now get busy, ladies, and win honor and prizes for yourself and at the same time help your own church.

STAR FOOLS 'EM!

Will Rogers is still loyal to the old home town of Claremore, Oklahoma, and gives it a boost on every possible occasion.

In "They Had To See Paris," "So This is London" and "Lightnin'," Fox pictures, he worked in complimentary references to Claremore.

When it was decided to star him in "A Connecticut Yankee," Mark Twain's masterpiece of satire and comedy, it was thought that Rogers was stumped for the first time. But he fooled them again, and when he had the privilege of officially naming "Claremore" as a Knight, he chose the title of "Sir Roger de Claremore."

A Connecticut Yankee, which will be seen and heard soon at the Ord Theatre, is regarded as Rogers' greatest comedy. He is surrounded by an excellent cast which includes Maureen O'Sullivan, Frank Albertson, Myrna Loy and William Farnum. David Butler directed.

ORD 5TH GRADER CHAMP SPELLER OF VALLEY CO.

The oral contest was a much longer affair, as the class of contestants was very large. Miss McClatchey, official pronouncer, paced the floor, walking from side to side of the large auditorium as she gave out the words. Close by paced the judges, Mrs. Bert Cornell and Mrs. G. W. Taylor. Third position at last went to Floyd Tenney, of District No. 42. Everett Gross held nearly as long and won position number four, representing school District No. 23 to its credit. Fifth place, after a tie of several rounds went to Harriet Hirdy of District No. 30.

Words which spelled disaster, no matter how they were misspelled, were headed by figure, and next came vice, feat, loving, art, manage, solve, excursion, tennis, imagination, yacht, deceive, onion which was spelled upon, perform, expedition, adventure.

In one round the words decent, favorable, intention, and humor laid out four contenders, and in the next round Cincinnati and gloomy condemned three more. Proceeds was the only misspelled word on the following circuit of the big room, but the time after that saw oasis, promontory, cinnamon, cautious, and also solemn badly mangled. Solemn was spelled salmon!

Other words that were dangerous for those who attempted them were factory, exodus, malice (which was spelled malleage!) pivot, missile, herbage, sheaves, maintain, capacity, hello and commission. Nearly reaching the goal, catalogue, ascertain, removal, hemorrhage, recommendation, seclude, prevalence, supersede and conscientious intervened to remove a few of the last runners-up. Lastly came sociable, verify, pecuniary, hypocrite, foreclosure and collateral, to decide the match.

These ten young people, the five placing high in each of the contests, will meet again at the office of Miss McClatchey on April 17 to see just who will go to Omaha at the expense of the Ord Quiz to enter the state contest. Someone is going to win a fine trip, and maybe bring home a few honors, as well.

The company guarantees to be ready to supply natural gas on or before Sept. 1, 1932, allowance, however, being made for delays from causes outside the company's jurisdiction.

By the terms of the franchise the company agrees to make reasonable extension of the mains from time to time and install pipes to the curb or property line to furnish service in the city to those making application for it.

The official maximum rates provided for in the proposed ordinance are the same as were proposed last week in St. Paul, Loup City, Broken Bow and other places.

They are 20c per hundred cubic feet per month for the first 500 cubic feet, 15c per 100 cubic feet per month for the next 1,500 cubic feet, 10c per 100 for the next 2,000, 7 1/2c per 100 for the next 3,000 and so on down the scale until all over 200,000 cubic feet per month would be at the rate of 3 1/2c per 100 cubic feet.

The ordinance provides that within thirty days after its passage it must be accepted by the grantee in writing; otherwise it will be deemed rejected and the rights conferred therein shall cease unless the period of time is extended by further ordinance.

The Nebraska Natural Gas company is said to be a subsidiary of the Missouri Valley Pipe Line company, which has built the system to the Platte river, reaching Grand Island and Kearney. They have vast holdings in Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and have recently acquired what is known as the Teapot Dome line which will be used for transmitting the gas to sections of the country through which this pipe is now installed.

The company is moving north and eventually hopes to develop northwestern Iowa, eastern South Dakota and connect up with the Twin Cities in Minnesota.

The gas proposition was discussed at length at Rotary club and chamber of commerce meetings held in St. Paul, Loup City and Broken Bow. Benson, the representative of the company who is handling the franchise negotiations in this section, spoke at all of these meetings. He probably will be in Ord within a few days to meet with local business men.

Arthur R. Honnold, a former Ord man, is just about southern California's most unpopular citizen at present, is the belief of the Calexico (Calif.) Chronicle. He is a member of the California assembly representing Escondido and recently joined a San Francisco political group in voting against re-apportionment for southern California. Then in an effort to extricate himself from an embarrassing position, he charged a group of business leaders who have been working for re-apportionment, as "the biggest political racket the state has ever seen." The former Ord man may be right in his judgment but he is very unpopular with his constituents just at present.

six-cylinder trucks for low first-cost and unsurpassed economy

The economy of using Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks is an actual dollars-and-cents economy that shows up, month after month, on the balance sheet. It starts with a purchase price that is one of the lowest in the market for a complete unit. It continues throughout Chevrolet's long life with an operating cost that is unsurpassed!

Consider, for example, the cost-records of leading national organizations who use large fleets of Chevrolets. They prove

(1) That no other trucks of equal capacity give any better gasoline, oil or tire mileage than Chevrolet. (2) That the cost of keeping a Chevrolet in satisfactory running order is unusually low. (3) That Chevrolet trucks are exceptionally reliable and long-lived.

Today, Chevrolet's proved economy is available to buyers in every truck-using field. For Chevrolet offers a new line of quality bodies that includes a type for every hauling requirement.

News of the Farms!

What's New in Farming!

LACK OF PROTEIN CAUSES TROUBLE

Young Litters of Pigs Show Defects. Loeffel Suggests Feeding Sows Better Rations.

Some Valley county farmers have been having trouble with their early litters of pigs, according to information received at the agricultural college in Lincoln. Letters written to Prof. Wm. J. Loeffel of the animal husbandry department indicate that much of the trouble is due to a deficiency of protein and mineral matter in the ration.

Loeffel suggests to Ord farmers that the bred sows be fed a ration of grains and some high protein feed or dairy by-products. In addition he advises Valley county pork producers to feed some grain and leafy alfalfa hay with the ration.

The hay may be fed in rack or ground and mixed with the rest of the ration. The college of agriculture man points out that all cereal grains are deficient in protein and mineral matter. The mineral being essential for growth and bone development. Alfalfa hay, however, contains certain vitamins which are necessary for growth and development. Taking everything into consideration, Loeffel declares that alfalfa is an exceedingly valuable hog feed.

Hog producers furthermore are told that it is important that the bred sows have plenty of exercise previous to farrowing time. She should be fed in such a manner that she will not become too fat. Loeffel says weak pigs are often due to the sow having been too fat or not having sufficient exercise during her gestation period.

Referring to the feeding of young pigs in the litter, the animal husbandry instructor says that they should be fed about the same as the old sow. They should get enough protein and mineral matter to secure proper bone growth and development. Here again alfalfa hay should play a big part.

Loeffel says that direct sunshine affects the bone growth of the pigs. It promotes normal bone growth. Since Nebraska soil until recent days enjoyed good weather, farmers should have had little trouble in getting enough sunshine for their pigs. It is only when the weather is cold and wet with rain that farmers are sometimes justified in feeding some cod liver oil to pigs.

Ground Ear Corn Good Calf Feed

Ground ear corn constitutes a splendid starting feed for calves as well as older cattle is the opinion of Prof. H. J. Gramlich of the agricultural college at Lincoln.

Gramlich tells Ord feeders that it is comparatively safe to feed and seems to be relatively palatable for cattle who are just going on feed. He says, however, that after feeding for a period of 60 to 90 days most cattle do better when switched to a richer ration such as cracked shelled corn.

Yearlings being fattened on grain supplemented with both alfalfa hay and silage do not need the bulk which ground ear corn furnishes, according to the college of agriculture man. Feeders are told that the yearlings would make better gains and fatten more rapidly on a grain ration of shelled corn or cracked shelled corn supplemented by about one pound of cottonseed cake daily.

Listed Corn Becomes More Popular Yearly

Winners of the 1930 corn yield contest adopted some new practices that may help Valley county farmers to increase their yields and profits this year. Corn planting time is just around the corner for Ord farmers and they apparently are anxious to know how the contest winners received such big yields on their ten acre plots last year.

Judging from the reports sent to P. H. Stewart and D. L. Gross, extension agronomists at the agricultural college, of past winners, indications are that listing corn is becoming more popular each year. Those at the college point out that listing can be handled usually with less labor than surface planted corn as the corn yield contests have tended to prove. In addition listing seems to be better adapted to the use of multiple row machinery than surface planting when the land is not too rolling.

In the past few years farmers in the corn yield contests have found that the use of two, three and four row cultivators for tending listed corn is becoming quite common. Farmers this year may use the multiple machinery more than ever before in caring for the listed corn. Stewart and Gross say this is not true to the same extent for surface planted corn.

A study of the 1930 report of corn yield contest participants shows that there has been an increased number listing their corn every year since 1924. Over one-half of the farmers in the eastern district last year found the practice of listing a favorable one. Fully eighty percent of the central Nebraska farmers listed their corn last year in comparison to fifty percent in 1924.

Plans for the 1931 corn yield contest are rapidly being worked out by the extension agronomists and will be announced within the next few weeks. Most of the rules for the contest during the past year will probably be used again this year. The contest winner in each district and the state will be announced as usual at Organized Agriculture held on the agricultural college campus in January of each year.

Buys 1000 Baby Chicks.
John Lunney in town last Friday and bought 1,000 baby chicks at Goff's hatchery. The Lunneys evidently plan to raise a large flock of chickens this year.

AM I RIGHT?

By GEORGE ROUND, JR.
Interest around the organization of the Valley County Farm Bureau baseball league appears to be stronger than ever. Those who are anxious for the league to start declare that it will be even more successful than last year. Given the right set of officers it should again attract state-wide attention as it did last year.

Speaking of the community ball league reminds me that "Dugan" Clement of Mira Valley believes Manager Lange's team will be in the thick of the fight for the Quiz cup. Just recently "Dugan" wrote me at Lincoln saying that he would be willing to bet an elephant against a kangaroo that the Mira Valley nine placed either first, last or somewhere between. He wants a cinch bet.

Charley Faudt of North Loup may be one Valley county man who will attend the annual feeder's day at the agricultural college next week. Though the general interest around the annual day at the college on the part of Valley county farmers isn't so great, it is quite true that over 2,000 farmers will be in Lincoln for the meetings. Experiments conducted on cattle, hogs and sheep will be reported upon.

Recent squibs appearing in my Sportlog have been construed wrong. Charley, you mustn't take them wrong. . . . Will King of Ord informs that Ted is looking for me. He wants to tell me about his "batching" experiences. . . . Wet and cold weather have kept most Valley county farmers from doing any field work thus far this spring. . . . From the number of applicants for the coaching position in Ord high, the board of education should be able to pick one good man.

One thing the irrigation meeting did was to give the farmers the facts about it again. The speakers left it up to the audience to draw their own conclusions and perhaps the majority of the crowd appeared to be in favor of well irrigation. Prominent Ord people and farmers say it is coming to fruition, sooner or later. This statement may or may not be true.

With a goal of 300 club members, it looks as though 1931 will be a banner year for 4-H club work in Valley county. If the mark achieved it will mean that there are more club members in the county than ever before. The credit for the increased enrollment and interest is due in a large part to local leaders over the county combined with Agent Dale's efforts.

If Valley county can produce another national club championship judging team, club work will receive another boost. Though not to be expected, such a team may be developed this year.

Cow testing associations have been proving or disproving the ability of cows to produce butterfat but the bull's day is just around the corner. The better sires contest is going to determine the actual value of each herd leader in the Valley County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. Having a good bull in the herd is probably just as important as having good cows, if not more so.

"I thought I could SAVE MONEY by buying the CHEAPEST Gasoline"

"The price of gasoline is a very important matter to me, as I have very little money to spend. I thought I could save money by buying the cheapest gasoline on sale.

"I bought _____ gasoline for two weeks, paying 4 cents a gallon less than the usual price.

"During the two weeks I used the cheap gasoline I had lots of difficulty starting my car and getting it warmed up. It popped, sputtered and back-fired for a considerable distance after it was started cold.

"Toward the end of two weeks I began to feel that I was not getting satisfaction. I changed to Red Crown and used it for two weeks. During that time also, I kept an exact record of the gallons consumed and the miles run.

"From these records, I found that I actually secured 8 miles more per gallon on Red Crown than I did on the cheap gasolines. I am going to stick to Red Crown because unquestionably it is the cheapest gasoline for me to buy, even though I pay more per gallon—and certainly the general wear and tear on my car cannot be nearly as great with this better gasoline."

Cut price gasoline is likely to be inferior quality gasoline, because it costs more to scientifically refine gasoline than to skim crude petroleum or to doctor up "near kerosene" so that it will pass inspection tests.

In clean and complete combustion, a quick-starting motor, cheap power and cheap mileage, balanced RED CROWN GASOLINE always gives more for your money.

NOW WE CAN INVITE THE JONESSES

"Painting Up and Cleaning Up" makes just as much improvement in the appearance of your place as planting flowers and shrubbery. Don't neglect either one. It's so easy to paint the smaller articles if you use Kyanize—and we have a complete range of colors.

After our visit to the Joneses, when they bragged about the "hand-rubbed finishes" on their woodwork, I got several cans of Kyanize Celoid Finish and painted our walls and woodwork. The night I finished, the wife was at a bridge party. When she came back she didn't say anything for a while—just looked around. I could tell she was pleased, though. And I knew she was more than pleased when she said: "Now we can invite the Joneses!"

Spring field work is keeping the men of this community working early and late; plowing, discing and the sowing of small grain are under way. While preparing for these operations several farmers have been burning off old stacks and weeds, and in one instance this resulted in a more serious fire. Fred Miska was burning off a field before plowing when the fire got away from him, burning about fifty acres of hay land before it could be put out.

Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Harkness have built a new brooder house this spring and Mrs. Harkness says they have about seven hundred little chicks.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson called at Chris Nielsen's Monday afternoon. Mr. Nelson bought eight Hampshire brood sows.

Mrs. Hans Clement, Mrs. Wm. Dittman and Helga Fogt, whose home is in Aurora, were at Elliot Clement's Wednesday.

There were 31 in Sunday school Sunday morning. Mrs. Elliot Clement has been appointed teacher of the Young People's class, now let's surprise her next Sunday with a large class and why not surprise Mrs. Carl Holm with a Bible class.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and family and Elizabeth and Betty Flynn visited at Henry Jorgensen's Sunday afternoon.

The delegates of the extension service ask that the club members remember the county achievement program next Tuesday, the 21st.

J. C. Rogers, Mrs. L. Rogers, Roberta Rogers and Evelyn Burrows were at Jay Rogers' Sunday. Mr. Rogers, Sr., is putting out an orchard on each of his places.

Saturday evening several friends and neighbors helped Will Nelson celebrate his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliot Clement and family were visiting with Mrs. Hans Clement and family Sunday.

Dorothy, Laura and Anna Nelson and Duane Woods were at Henry Jorgensen's Sunday evening.

Merna Davis and Ruth and Roma Jorgensen helped Norma Jorgensen celebrate her birthday Saturday.

Henry Cramer and his sister, Miss Cramer of Presho, S. D., have been visiting the Dave Philbrick family near North Loup. Monday they visited the Ben Philbrick family in this community. Sadie Philbrick who has been at Ben Philbrick's spent the week at home for a visit with her cousins.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen called at Elliot Clement's Thursday evening.

Jess Howerton has been sick with the smallpox during the last couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen and daughters and Eva Miska visited at Russell Jensen's Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Jens Aagaard and sons shipped a load of cattle to Omaha Monday. Chris Nielsen added three head to fill up the load.

Mr. and Mrs. Dud Philbrick of Ericson visited at Ben Philbrick's Sunday.

Mrs. Walter Jorgensen spent Friday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Plejdrup.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Enger were Sunday dinner guests at Rudolph Collison's.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miska and children called at Fred Miska's Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson and family were Sunday guests at Harold Nelson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Philbrick and children were at Lloyd Davis' Wednesday evening.

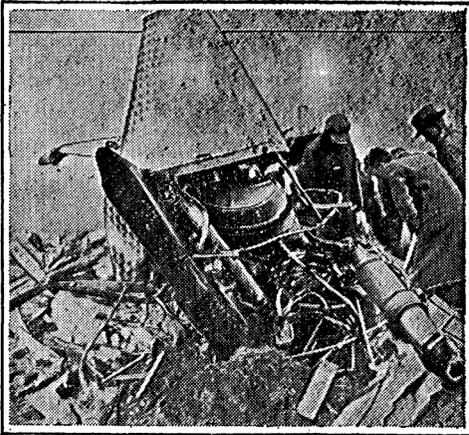

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miska were at Hiram Flock's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Philbrick and children called at Jack VanSlyke's Thursday evening.

Luke and Lyman Flock have been digging a cistern for Fred Miska.

Beulah McGinnis was a guest of LaVya Rogers over the week end.

This Wreck Claimed Rockne's Life

Here is a portion of the wreckage in which Knute Rockne, renowned Notre Dame football coach, lost his life when the tri-motored air liner in which he was a passenger faltered in the fog and crashed at Cottonwood, Kan. Seven other men, including two pilots, also perished. The force of the crash crushed the metal framework into a tangled and twisted mass of debris, as the above picture illustrates.

Sowing oats, sweet clover, and barley has been the busy work for most of the neighbors last week. Much plowing is being done.

Bessie Williams and Byrnee Leach went to North Loup last Wednesday evening to take 8th grade exams. Bessie stayed with Mrs. Alfred Crandell and Byrnee stayed Wednesday night at Edwin Miller's and Thursday night with her sister Ora at Della Manchester's.

Mrs. Leona Sample took Percy, Donald Axthelm and Clarence Caddie to Ord Thursday and Friday to take 8th grade exams.

Charley and Ernest Johnson and Mrs. Fannie Sample went to North Loup Thursday and Friday to see their brother, Walter. Mrs. Palsler was down Friday too.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sample, George Sample and Rachel Williams attended the funeral of Pat Braden at Arcadia Thursday. Mr. Braden was a near neighbor of the Samples in Lee county, Iowa about 50 years ago.

Carroll Amnyas came Friday evening and visited until Sunday evening at Howard Manchester's.

The little son that arrived at the Archie Jefferies home April 7 has been named Lorren Lynn. Mrs. Gay Hayes has been staying at the Jefferies home.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jorgenson and Kenneth were supper guests at Pete Jorgensen's Sunday evening. Monday Alfred trucked cattle to North Loup for Ernest Johnson and he and Charley and E. E. Williams shipped a carload.

Mrs. Esther Collins entertained at a birthday party for her son Dean Saturday, it being his 5th birthday. There were twenty little guests present besides the mothers. They all declared Mrs. Collins a royal entertainer as they enjoyed the afternoon very much.

Dr. Hemphill was out to see Paul White last week. His heart seems very much improved although he doesn't seem to gain strength very fast. It is hard on him this time of year as he feels he ought to be at his farm work.

Clarence Caddie spent Wednesday and Thursday nights with Percy Sample.

Mrs. Leona Sample, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and Everett were supper guests at Della Manchester's Sunday evening.

Pearl Leach helped Mrs. Charley Mraz Saturday. Ava Leach spent Saturday night at Edwin Miller's at North Loup.

My Own Column

Thoughtlessness causes a lot of damage. Fellow came charging across the Quiz lawn the other day to see an employee who was busy with the flowers. Yelled at the man said, "Now don't that beat all; I am all the time trying to keep people from going across my lawn and here I run across yours without thinking." And he was doing it without a thought of doing damage for he loves flowers and would sooner take a licking than injure them.

And while we are all cooperating in an improvement campaign I want to talk about another source of litter that would be easy to correct. It, also, is thoughtlessness. I sold some printed matter to a man. He began tearing the wrapping off as he left the office and when he got to his parked car at the curb he had finished and placing the job in the car, he threw the wrapping on the lawn and drove away. A bunch of kids came up the street with packages of gum and just as they got to the Quiz place they got the gum undone and threw the colored wrappers on the lawn, all thoughtless of making an unsightly place and extra work to pick it up.

Dr. Blessing and Orville Sowl are spending not less than $150 beautifying the lot north of their places of business and there is nothing so far been done that will result in as much other improvement in town. Our neighbor on the west is getting the fever and is talking picket fence and more flowers. Mr. McAllister is changing the old Huff property into a beauty spot.

I think it would be a good idea if President VanDecar would name a committee to study the town and make a list of unsightly properties with the names of the owners or agents and then take steps to bring the condition to the direct attention of the proper party and see if the places could not be improved. I spoke of such a place to the agent yesterday and he at once said he would take steps to have the unsightly place cleaned up and if possible have grass planted. And I believe that in a majority of instances satisfactory results would be obtained if kindly attention was called to the right person.

When congress meets and the house gets to looking about for a successor to Speaker Longworth, they will do well to look Congressman Bob Simmons over as a suitable western candidate.

As one writer has suggested, we are way ahead of most of the surrounding states in road building and we have paid the bill as we built the roads and we should keep right along with the same policy till we get all the roads we want and not pay any good roads money out for interest on bonds.

Marion Cushing is making a fine record in the legislature. He has made quite a study of the income tax question and the people are interested in that matter. Now what he should do is to continue his study of the matter and become an authority on the subject and answer speaking calls before Rotary and other luncheon clubs and Chamber of Commerce clubs over the state during the next two years. Once it becomes known he will fill speaking dates he will have plenty of opportunities. Pay? No of course not but there are a lot of things in this world besides getting paid. He could probably get his expenses in most instances and he could afford to pay the upkeep on his car for the satisfaction that would come from doing a good and useful thing.

There is one stand pat republican politician in Nebraska who is not missing a chance to gain acquaintance and that man is Senator Rodman of Omaha. Senator Rodman is, personally, a fine fellow, very likeable and quite able. He has an ambition to be governor of Nebraska and will no doubt be a candidate next year. Because of that fact there are some things that we should keep in mind. One is that he is strongly in favor of issuing 25 million dollars of road bonds for us and future generations to pay interest on, in case the bonds are not paid sooner. With a great majority of the people of the state undoubtedly opposed to such a bond issue, I am at a loss to understand why Senator Rodman would be so insistent for the issuance of the bonds. Another thing to be remembered is that Senator Rodman is no doubt what is commonly called "wet." And I say it will be well to keep these things in mind should he become a candidate next year.

A Bird in Hand—

It's easy to capture wild birds if you know what to feed them. Take it from John Brock, of Oakland, Calif., who is shown here with a couple of them in hand. In his left hand he holds a California bluebird and in his right a Cedar waxwing, a native of far-away Alaska, which comes to California to spend its winters. Brock, who has made a lifetime study of birds, entices them by specially prepared dishes.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Here is an unusual recipe you may want to try out for yourself. . . a cake made with cornstarch, and it came all the way from Arvada, Wyoming for Quiz cooks.

- Corn Starch Cake.
1 c. butter
2 c. sugar
1 c. sweet milk
1 c. corn starch
2 c. flour
7 egg whites, beaten stiff
1 egg yolk
2 tsp. baking powder
Mix flour, corn starch, baking powder together first. Beat together, adding egg whites lastly, then flavoring to taste.

Meat En Casserole.
Cut 2 lbs. of beef, any of the cheaper cuts, into suitable pieces for chopping. Dredge with flour and brown in a little fat. Put in a casserole, add salt and pepper. Now add one large carrot, diced, one onion, sliced and one cup of strained tomatoes. Cover closely and cook in a slow oven till the meat and vegetables are tender. One cup of cubed potatoes may be added about the last 35 minutes of baking if desired. If you do not add potatoes, try serving boiled rice with this dish for a change.

Peanut Cookies.
2 tsp. butter
1/4 c. sugar
1 egg
1/4 tsp. salt
1/2 c. flour
2 tsp. sweet milk
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 c. ground peanuts
1/2 tsp. lemon extract
Bake slowly.

Doughnuts.
1 1/2 tsp. butter
1 c. sugar
1 egg
1/2 tsp. nutmeg
3 slightly heaped tsp. baking powder
3 c. flour (add more if necessary to make it stiff enough to roll nicely)

Film Built Around Sinking Of U-Boat
According to the official records, of the 200 German submarines captured or sunk during the World War, eleven were destroyed by "mystery ships" or "Q-ships," as they were sometimes called, and 17 by Allied submarines. The joint action of an American submarine and an American "mystery ship" in trapping one of the most famous German U-boats, is the basis on which Director John Ford has created the climax of his unusual romance of the Allied struggle against the submarine menace, "The Sea Beneath." Fox movie-tone coming to the screen of the Ord Theatre Friday and Saturday.

Something Different

Numbers of people have signified their intentions of joining the most worthwhile movement started in Ord for many a day. . . the Yard and Garden Contest. Do your part this summer. Get out in the yard and fix it up. The hoeing and weeding will be good for you, and me, too. Even if none of us got anything out of it but the exercise, it would still be a fine project.

But it means more. It is to make Ord dressed up. Ord is going to be beautiful, you wait and see. Start now to do your yard cleaning, planting and painting, so that the neighbors on either side won't be able to make their places put your home to shame!

A favorite flower or even the reigning flower, is gladioli, as far as Miss Clara McClatchey is concerned. Beside liking it for herself alone, its delicate hues and glorious high colors, Miss McClatchey likes this spike of blooms from family pride, for she has an uncle in Huber, Ore., who makes his livelihood raising this beautiful flower. So of course there is always a bed of large-flowered and unusual toned gladioli at the McClatchey lean-to. And there will be this year, too.

Mr. Anderson said that I was a little "off" in quoting a previously printed poem as his favorite, for he had many favorites. And forthwith he handed me this one. It looks to me as though it must be his philosophy of life:

"The old man, traveling a lone highway,
Came at the evening, cold and gray,
To a chasm vast and deep and wide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim,
The sullen stream had no fear for him.
But he paused when safe on the other side
And built a bridge to span the tide.
"Old Man," said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting your time with building here;
You've crossed the chasm vast and wide,
Why build you this bridge at evening tide?"
The builder lifted his old gray head,
"Good friend, in the way I've come," he said,
"There followeth after me today,
A youth whose feet must pass this way.
This stream that has been as naught to me,
To that fair-haired youth might a pitfall be;
Good friend, I'm building this bridge for him."

So many good things came to the cooking contest that I couldn't mention them all if I tried. But say do you know that it is quite a test of fine cookery to turn out an A Number One jelly roll? Often an otherwise nice roll breaks when rolled; many of them are a little bit tough, or coarse grained. But you should have seen the one Mrs. L. Novak entered. A swollen round of tenderness, light as "goober feathers," tender, flaky, and just as fine and even grained. A real beauty.

Austin jokes are thicker now than Fred jokes ever were, I believe. Have you heard one about the little Austin travelling merrily along which occasionally bounced up off the highway four or five feet? A man driving behind it a mile or so, finally became so curious that he corralled the Austin and asked the driver what was the matter with that car? The driver said in a put-out tone of voice: "There ain't nothing the matter with the car, Mister. It's me, I've got the hicoughs!"

And then over at Randolph there is a sign on a garage which tickles every driver-by. It simply reads:
Cars Washed $1
Austins Dunked 50c

You might know that it took years of hard training to put that cheery grin that won't come off on the rosy map of our friend R. O. Hunter. Well, it did. He trained professionally at putting good cheer wherever he went.

Once upon a time he was a musician, enroled with the Salvation Army. Did you know?
Second prizes just gravitated toward the Bud Auble home Saturday. A son of the house of Auble took second prize at the music contest at Grand Island, playing his bass horn. And Mama Auble took second prize on some crisp, beautiful gold-colored cookies at the cooking contest.

It would be fine if a community playground with a competent supervisor would be arranged for Ord this summer. Keep the children safely off the streets for certain hours each day, and still keep them out-doors, and enjoyably out. And it would also keep many mothers from considerable worry, with chance for a little rest, with their children. Get someone like Marjorie Hostetter, teacher in Ord a couple of years ago, who loved children, liked games and sports, and was thoroughly trained in just this work.

Acquitted of Theft.
Charles Rombough, who was accused of stealing a fence in a district court case tried at Taylor last week, was freed when Judge R. R. Horth instructed the jury that the prosecution had not brought forth enough evidence to prove the charge. He was defended by Clarence Davis and E. L. Vogelzanz, of Ord.

BACK FORTY

There is some wheat in the county this season, and it is making convenient early pasture for those who have stands of it. Considering present markets, and the outlook for future prices, farmers can derive about as much profit from the wheat crop by pasturing it as long as there is any green feed available, as by harvesting the grain and selling it on the open market.

Much has been written about the superior feeding merits of wheat for livestock, but nothing has been mentioned relative to its value for forage. As a pasture it compares favorably with any non-legume, and has the advantages of being safe and early.

The general custom in pasturing wheat has been to take away the livestock when the plants begin to joint, which is about the first of May. Where the soil has been loose or the growth heavy, pasturing has been beneficial. In 1919, when wheat grew unusually rank, pastured wheat outyielded unharvested wheat by about five bushels.

During years of normal growth, and freedom from lodging danger, pasturing lowered yields by as much as ten bushels. This decrease may have been offset by the value of pasturage received, and the opportunity afforded for other pasture crops to get a good start.

The latter is important. Early pasturing of native pasture results in loss in the long run. More feed can be secured from a pasture by allowing it to grow three or four inches high before turning the stock on. It is during that time that profitable use can be made of wheat pastures.

GIBS AND JIBES
"Say," one neighbor asked another excitedly, "do you know a fellow down your way with one leg named Oliver?"
"I'm not sure," returned the other, "What's the name of the other leg?"

OF ONE ACCORD
The visiting clergyman, addressing the little folks at the children's service, became impressive. "Only think, children," he said, "in Africa there are ten million square miles of territory without a single Sunday school where the boys and girls can spend their Sunday mornings. Now, what should we all try to save our money for?" Children (unanimously): "To go to Africa."

Cherokee Course Of Co-operation Evidently Sound

Following his talk before the Kiwanis club Monday, George Manton, secretary of the Cherokee, Iowa, Chamber of Commerce, discussed with a group of interested individuals possibilities for a commercial organization here. He explained how Cherokee was sold to a larger outlying area through the local newspaper—not just advertising sheets—were sent monthly beyond the usual circulation. An experiment at the suggestion of a few persons to issue an advertising sheet independent of the newspaper proved a comparative failure, and was tried only once. To use a newspaper's established circulation in conjunction with business building plans as set forth by Mr. Manton, is practical and constructive. To secure the cooperation of a newspaper and then ignore its advantages, sailing over its head with a raft of purely commercial bills and expecting publishers to smile acquiescence, is an affront to the newspaper and to its readers alike, thus minimizing results if it does not entirely defeat the purpose. Cooperation that thrusts a knife into an essential agency is one-sided, and that is exactly the kind of cooperation that, in the name of change of commerce, is hindering development of community newspapers while feebly trying to build up business interests at many misguided points. This mistaken idea of cooperation and public spirit is pushing communities nearer yawning graveyards, and dragging community newspapers after them. Manifestly the Cherokee plan, as reflected by its secretary, is more soundly progressive.—Wayne Herald.

GET what you PAY FOR in GASOLINE

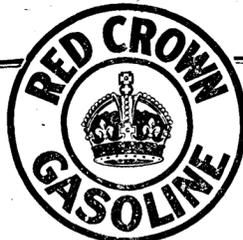

Like shoes and clothes, cattle and hogs—gasolines vary in quality and value. You rarely get prime quality at a "cut price."

Prime quality gasoline is completely refined gasoline. Free from harmful sulphides which corrode metal, it has a complete chain of boiling point fractions which alone can insure quick, complete burning and full power and mileage.

Prime quality gasoline costs more to make and is worth more than roughly refined gasoline or "near kerosene" which has been doctored up to pass inspection tests.

It is more economical than low grade gasoline sold at cut prices—as you can easily prove in truck, tractor and passenger car.

NORTH LOUP DEPARTMENT

MRS. FRED BARTZ, Reporter

The Easter cantata given at the M. E. church Sunday evening by the Ord Presbyterian choir was beautifully rendered and was greeted by a good sized and appreciative audience. The work showed exceptional leadership, and North Loup people hope to again have the privilege of listening to this choir.

Rev. Kirkwood attended a ministerial group meeting held at the Evangelical church in Mira Valley Monday.

Mrs. Pinckney of Scotia superintended a very impressive missionary playlet at the M. E. church Sunday morning prior to the Sunday school session.

Relatives and friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Davis and family of Shanghai, China are looking forward to a visit with these people who are expected to arrive in North Loup this week from Denver where they have been visiting for the past several weeks. Rev. Davis formerly of North Loup, will preach at the S. D. B. church on Saturday morning, April 18, and in the evening a public reception will be held at the church honoring the Davis family, who are here on furlough.

At Tuesday's election, April 7, 700 ballots were voted down 110 to 79. All members of the retiring village board were re-elected, namely, J. A. Barber, chairman, A. D. Moulton and H. A. Weed. Mrs. Cora Hemphill, retiring president of the school board was re-elected receiving a vote of 145. Roy Cox, newly elected, received 141 votes. Number of school ballots cast was 228.

The girl's physical education class of the North Loup high school will give its demonstration Thursday, April 16, at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium. This program will include marches, pyramid building, drills, soccer and volleyball, relay races, human croquet and stunts. It will be worth your while to attend.

Rev. G. A. Schwabauer left on the noon train Monday for Los Angeles, Calif. He will be gone about ten days. His mother, who resides in Los Angeles will return home with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vodehnal and Miss Ella Mae Sershen autoed to Lincoln Sunday, Bill on a business mission. Mrs. Vodehnal to have her eyes tested and Miss Sershen to visit friends. They expected to be away several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton motored up from their home at Geneva Saturday evening, returning Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Mayo and little daughter Marilyn came from their home in Lincoln Saturday evening, returning via auto Sunday evening. Both parties came to attend the funeral of Walter Johnson.

Joe Fisher and son Donald went to York Friday evening, returning home Sunday afternoon.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Halsey Schultz died at a hospital in Ogallala Saturday, April 11, where the Schultzes were making a brief visit at the home of Mr. Schultz' sister, Mrs. Ruby McGinley, enroute from their home at Cedar Crest, N. M., to the home of Mr. Schultz' people at North Loup.

Frazier Funeral home, Ord. Ambulance service. Day phone 38; Night 193.

William Weston Schultz, aged 2 months and 18 days, was the second child born to Halsey and Anna Rendall Schultz on Jan. 25, 1931 at Albuquerque, N. M. The first of his life he was comparatively strong and seemed well but for the past few weeks he grew weaker until the parents deemed it advisable to bring him to the relatives at North Loup. His brief life was long enough to greatly endear him to his parents and others. Funeral services were held from the Will Schultz home at 4:30 p. m. Sunday with Besse Franc Brown officiating. Miss Esther Babcock and Mrs. Ava Johnson sang with harp accompaniment by Miss Brown. The little body was laid to rest in the family lot at North Loup.

Friends of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kirk will be glad to learn that their daughter, Arlean, who has been very ill with after effects of smallpox, is much improved at this writing, though she is still confined to her bed. It was necessary because of severe pains in her head to extract a fluid from the spine enabling her to sleep which she could not do because of extreme nervousness.

Miss Maud Shepard received a telegram Friday morning from Hollywood, Calif., announcing the birth of a 6 1/2 lb. baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Strode.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post received the announcement Saturday of the marriage of Miss Vera Anna Tappan to Merritt Hayden Kinder, both of Alsworth at the free Methodist parsonage at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening, April 8. Grover Barnhart who has had charge for the past few years of the live stock farm one mile north of town, belonging to the Nebraska Securities Company, has severed his connections with the work at the farm and with his family expects to move to Ord temporarily.

aid sea in the basement of the church on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The King's Herald enjoyed another meeting with their leader, Miss Maud Thomas at her home on Saturday afternoon, April 11. The mystery box questions from the Junior Missionary friend occupied the larger part of the study hour. The little girls helped in serving the lovely lunch prepared by Miss Thomas.

The various organizations of the village are cooperating with the village board in the annual clean-up campaign which is set for Wednesday of this week. Bigger and better plans than ever have been launched making North Loup premises not only clean and sanitary but beautiful with added flower beds, well kept lawns, etc. North Loup's flower for this summer will be the Petunia.

Mayor J. A. Barber and Marshall Glen Johnson spent Tuesday morning of this week transplanting Black Hill spruce which Mr. Barber secured from Axel Nelson of the Albion nursery stock. These little trees grace the highway in front of the old power house, which premises are to be converted into a park.

Charley Clark who was injured a few weeks ago at Morrill, when he was struck on the head by a robber is steadily improving. With the aid of crutches he is able to attend to his duties as coach in the Morrill schools.

Roy Coleman and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Stella Parsons left via auto Tuesday morning for Colorado where Roy will look for a location. Because of Mr. Coleman's health the family expect to return west as soon as school closes.

Miss Mildred Jones came over from her home at Comstock Sunday and was the guest of Phyllis Jones.

Mr. and Mrs. Robinson with Mrs. Robinson's mother, Mrs. Tully, arrived in Grand Island Monday evening from Denver where they spent Sunday, enroute home from a visit of several weeks in California.

Albert Flint who came two weeks ago from his home in West Virginia, seeking aid for his health is very much improved. It was an abscess of the back and side which caused his trouble and not his teeth as he had thought. His sister, Mrs. Chris Stude, expects him home this week from the St. Frances hospital.

Leo Turner went to Omaha Saturday evening to visit his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Turner at University hospital. Mrs. Turner has not improved quite so fast as was expected and will not be able to come home for a few days. Mr. Turner returned home Sunday accompanied by Cecil Knapp, Willard Rogers and Roma Cress who had driven down with him.

Mrs. Evelyn Patterson and little son Grover spent Tuesday at the Weigardt home in Ord.

Jack and Helen Porter of Cairo were Saturday night guests at the A. T. Jones home.

Jesse Gilmore of St. Paul was a Sunday guest of Genevieve Chadwick.

Jacob Jensen's of Horace were Sunday visitors at the Pete Jensen home.

Mrs. Anna Schoning returned home Sunday morning via motor from Woodriver where she has been caring for her new niece at the Marvin Duncan home. The little one has been named Anita. Mrs. Schoning also visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Olson of Grand Island and a sister, Mrs. Della Frank also of Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Arnold of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Arnold and son of Hastings and Mrs. M. J. Arnold of Lincoln were guests at the Dan Bohrer home Sunday, the occasion being a double birthday celebration honoring the mother, Mrs. Chas. Arnold Sr., who has reached her 75th milestone and the son and brother, Edwin Arnold. The decorations were yellow and white, being carried out in the candles on the bountifully laden table and in the cakes and brick ice cream. Mrs. Arnold received a lovely bouquet of flowers from the Hastings family as well as other gifts. A special feature of the dinner were samples of the wedding cakes which were served at the Arnold-Wright banquet at Kearsley City on Tuesday evening, April 7. This was brought by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Arnold of Fullerton, who were among the wedding guests.

Following dinner a program of songs and readings was rendered. The occasion was one long to be remembered.

The ladies of the Rebekah lodge met in regular session Thursday evening at the lodge hall. A business meeting and a social hour occupied the time. Mrs. Emma Frazer brought a special treat to the ladies in honor of her birthday.

Under the supervision of Mrs. Dorothy Knapp, Bethene Coleman and Hazel Smith were hostesses to the Standard Bearers in the basement of the M. E. church Sunday afternoon. Lorna May Shine-man was leader of the mission lesson, the chief feature of the afternoon's program being an impressive playlet.

The 20th Century club meets this week with Mrs. Joe Fisher. Mrs. Myrie Sayre is the leader. "When we entertain" is the subject and will be demonstrated with the serving of various kinds of foods. The project leaders of this club, Mrs. Myra Barber and Mrs. Myrie Sayre, met with Mrs. Hugh Adams last Friday where the above subject was demonstrated.

We failed to mention last week that Miss Zola Vanskike of Greeley who won 1st place with her reading "An Home Man" in the declamatory contest is a cousin of Maud Shepard. North Loup was pleased to be represented in honors through Miss Margaret Hood erson, Paxton; Charles Hawkins, San Francisco, Calif.; and Mrs. J. C. Hammons, Bronson, Kas. There are also two sisters and one brother living, Mrs. Mollie Walkup, Kansas City; Mrs. Miranda Youell, Fairfax, Mo.; and Charles Hawkins, Fairfax, Mo. There are also nine grandchildren and numerous other relatives left to mourn.

W. N. HAWKINS LAID TO REST HERE SATURDAY

Mr. Hawkins lived a good life in Ord, succeeding in a material way and commanding the respect and confidence of the community. His friends are legion, and they will not soon forget his cheery smile, his cordial greetings to all and his cheerful manner. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and was a generous supporter of the Christian Home at Council Bluffs, the Pine Ridge school for colored children, in the south, and of the Presbyterian church of which his family are members. In Ord, he was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and was a generous supporter of the Christian Home at Council Bluffs, the Pine Ridge school for colored children, in the south, and of the Presbyterian church of which his family are members. In Ord, he was a member of the Knights of Pythias lodge and was a generous supporter of the Christian Home at Council Bluffs, the Pine Ridge school for colored children, in the south, and of the Presbyterian church of which his family are members.

It was Mr. Hawkins' wish that he be buried in the original portion of the Ord cemetery so his widow and children purchased the Daniels lot and he was laid to rest as he wished. Mr. and Mrs. Daniels will move the bodies of their two children to Denver where they are soon moving to make their home.

54 ENTER QUIZ, GOLDEN RULE'S BAKING CONTEST

Mrs. Peter Hallen brought in a fine lot of sugar cookies, which were awarded first place and $3 by the contest judges. Second place and $2 went to Mrs. L. J. Aule, who, although she went to Grand Island to spend the day at the music contest, still found time to make a wonderful batch of sour cream cookies, which she welded through a pastry tube into some clever shapes. The third prize cookies, winning $1 came from the country home of Mrs. Fern O. Johnson.

In a miscellaneous class, so many attractive odds and ends had to be classed that it was very hard to tell what took the eye first. Kolaczes were greatly esteemed however, and some containing cottage cheese and raisins, sent in by Mrs. Frank Kowalski, won the $3. Divinity candy brought in by Mrs. Henkel of Route 4, Arcadia proved to be the work of an expert, and won $2, and Mrs. Henkel also won third prize, $1, for a delicious sample of cottage cheese.

The Golden Rule and The Ord Quiz wish to thank those good cooks who sent their work to be judged, and also to thank the judges for their difficult task, and to say a word of gratitude and appreciation to all those who helped make such a contest possible. It is hoped that perhaps another may be held next year.

The Quiz would very much like to print the prize winning recipes as well as those of the other entries, if the entrants would kindly send them in.

They were mailed Monday to the prize winners, and also to the churches and charities which were indicated to receive the proceeds from the sale of the entries, which were: United Brethren Aid Danish Lutheran Aid; Lutheran Orphanage at Fremont; Christian Ladies Aid; German Catholic church; Catholic Ladies Club; Presbyterian Aid; Philathea class; Presbyterian Women's Class; Women's Foreign Missionary Society; Methodist Aid Society; F. W. Club; Congregational Aid at Arcadia.

Mr. A. A. Welch of the well-known Montreal Fur Trading Company, was on his way to Chicago to sacrifice his entire sample line of high grade fur coats. We arranged for him to stop over with us for a few days and give our patrons the opportunity to get in on some real fur coat bargains, in next season's smartest fur coat fashions.

We would be very short-sighted indeed, if we believed for a moment that we could launch a great fur coat sale at this time of year by giving ordinary values, but so great was the opportunity that this finest lot of high grade guaranteed fur garments will go on sale at the greatest sacrifice ever offered in this part of the country.

If you were ever contemplating buying a fur coat, here is a most wonderful opportunity to obtain the greatest return on your investment. In fact, the reductions are so astounding that those who know fur values will purchase next season's coat now!

THE O. H. S. NEWSPAPER

PERSONALS.

The Vocational Agriculture boys have been very busy the past few weeks, judging and in other ways preparing for the contest at North Platte. The pick of the classes are taking part in the various divisions of the contest which is being held there today and tomorrow. Miss Blanchard's American History class handed in their A and B contracts a short time ago and the bulletin board in her room now contains the maps that were made as a part of the contract. The maps show the distribution of iron, coal, silver, gold and oil. The first transcontinental railway, the states added since 1865 and cities in America now having a population of thirty-thousand or more are shown.

The north and east walls of the high school have been waterproofed and the other walls are being treated.

Miss Nelson spent the week end at her home in Hastings. Tuesday Claud Smith a professional entertainer, rendered a lecture number in the high school auditorium.

Irene Meridith of Schuyler, a former pupil of Miss Johnson, visited her Thursday of last week.

The sand table in Miss Shaver's room contains a Japanese landscape this week. A cottage is the central part of the scene. It has a realistic thatched roof of straw and is surrounded by cherry trees with their pink blossoms. In front of the hut is a miniature stream over which is built a quaint old bridge, and from the trees hang paper lanterns.

Miss Frederickson spent the week end at her home in North Platte. Miss Thelma Partridge took Miss Nelson's place as English teacher Tuesday. Miss Nelson was ill.

Miss Johnson spent the week end in Omaha. Miss Shaver and Miss Johnson entertained the faculty at the Bailey home Monday evening.

Report cards were received Wednesday of this week. Coach Moizen has accepted the contract as offered by the school board. It is believed.

Miss Solt, chairman for Nebraska Central College, interviewed some thirty seniors, Friday afternoon. The L. C. Smith typewriter representative was here last week and serviced some of the machines.

The District Declamatory Contest is at Kearney, Friday, April 17. The one-act play cast will compete.

Vocational Agriculture Contest At North Platte. Wednesday forenoon ten boys from the Ord Vocational Agriculture classes left for North Platte in two cars. A contest is held there annually for boys taking vocational agriculture.

The following is the program of the contests and the names of the boys taking part in each. Thursday, April 16. Dairly Juggling: Harley Crouch, Floyd Marks, Harold Garnick. Woodwork: Joe Ulrich. Grain judging and identification: Charles Barnhart, Valerian Clochoc, Cecil Hansen.

Public speaking: Harold Benn, Robert Cushing, Charles Barnhart, Dairy products: Charles Barnhart, Valerian Clochoc, Cecil Hansen. Egg showing: Charles Barnhart. Public speaking: Robert Cushing.

Friday, April 16. Livestock judging: David Barnhart, Harley Crouch, Floyd Marks. Babcock test: Harold Benn.

CONVOCAION. A convocation committee meeting was held last Monday. The convocation program was planned for and up until May 1.

Last Wednesday, April 8 a convocation was held. The first number was a string ensemble composed of: Eldon Lukesh, violin, Arty Auble, celli, Leota Auble, harp; Joy Auble, flute. The second number was a violin solo by Florence Lukesh. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Bond.

The last number was two selections by the boys' quartette. The boys' quartette is composed of: Julius Vala, first tenor; Wilson Bell, second tenor; Eldon Lukesh, baritone; Rodney Stolz, bass.

Last Friday we had two speakers by the Rev. Mr. McCarthy of the Christian church. He gave us a talk about Irish poems. He quoted some poems about Ireland written by Americans, then he pointed out the difference between that poem and a real Irish one.

Baseball. Ord high is planning on having inter-class games in baseball and each class elected a manager. The following managers were elected: Okey Hather, senior; Everett Lashmet, junior; Donald Lashmet, sophomore; and Richard Smith, freshman. The seniors play the freshmen, the juniors vs. the sophomores. They also plan to have a regular high school team and to compete against high schools in the neighboring towns.

ORGANIZATIONS The G. A. A. girls are planning a picnic for Wednesday evening. They will hike to the park. Then they will play baseball and eat. All are counting on it immensely.

THE PATRIOT. We have several worthwhile organizations in our school that are doing splendid work. We shall take for example, both the Hi-Y and Girl Reserve clubs. Both are branches of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. organizations. People often say that they wish our city had a Y. M. C. A. building where they could send their children, especially if they are boys, to keep them out of mischief. Unfortunately, we have no such "Y" buildings, but we do have clubs right in our school whose purposes are, in a few words, "Good citizenship," and whose purpose is "To develop Christian character to its highest degree." These clubs are lacking in membership comparative to the number of pupils enrolled in our school. They are entirely self-supporting in that the school does not finance them in any way. They are privileged to use the school as a place of meeting and in charge, but they must earn their own money, which is no more than fair.

These organizations hold meetings twice monthly for the discussion of the many problems of everyday life.

Some of the pupils seem to think that the aforesaid organizations are exclusive. They are wrong. Get rid of that inferiority complex and support these clubs! They need support as much as anything in the school. Help them forward to their goal and carry out their program for the attainment of the higher ideal of school life! In the eyes of the writer, they are deemed worthy, indeed very worthy, of your support.

—Adrian Tolen.

DID WILMA WIN? "Wilma will be sure to get it," came in chorus from a group of girls who were discussing who would be the winner of the "best dressed girl" contest.

"She is spotlessly clean," said Clara. "And her dress is well pressed," came in Bee.

"She surely has the knack of looking smart even in old clothes," spoke up Frances.

"She surely has the knack of looking smart even in old clothes," spoke up Frances. "Without any question the girls decided that Wilma should be the one."

And she was! When she was called up on the platform, both boys and girls gave her loud applause.

"Doesn't she look—my word! She's shining gum!" "Not only that, but she chews with her mouth open." "Oh, that spoils everything!" "Why doesn't she stop while Mr. Clark is talking to her?"

Wilma, who was pretty, well groomed, and appropriately dressed and unusually popular brought embarrassment to her chums rather than pride.

Its such a little thing—chewing gum—and quite all right in some places, but at church, school, traveling, or in any public place, the well bred girl wouldn't do any more think of it than of licking a sucker!

Class and Home Room Notes. Mr. Redfern's Biology classes are studying bacteria. They have completed the study of the human body and have taken their six weeks test over it.

The seniors have received their calling cards and the sample of their announcements has been placed on the assembly bulletin board. The senior class is also practicing very hard for their play "The Patsy" to be given April 29.

Miss Frederickson has placed a chart on the bulletin board in her room on which are written the grades of the students in her beginning northward class.

The majority of the classes have taken to studying during their home room periods.

Miss Blanchard's and Miss Johnson's rooms have been having contests in Arithmetic and Geography, that they enjoy very much.

The Junior Normal Training class has started their next unit, public school drawing.

The sand table and bulletin board in Miss Shaver's room are attractively decorated, representing a Japanese scene.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES. Members of the second grade who are on the honor roll are Warren Allen, Dalton Glaser, David Milliken, Alvin Sedacek, Margaret Ann Patska, Dorothy Ziskowski, Betty Strong, Vivian Wiegardt.

In order to have this distinction they must have all A's and B's on their card.

HOME ECONOMICS

Under Miss Baird's instruction the Freshmen girls are starting to study color. The sophomore girls in child care class are studying the infant.

Under Miss Hardin's instruction the Sophomore girls have finished their dinner unit and as a climax served the Board members and their wives a six-thirty dinner on April sixth. The dinner was served in the sewing room. The following girls served: Jessamine Meyers, Evelyn Smith and Irma Kokes. The dinner was prepared during class period, which included forty-two girls. There are always last minute things to do while preparing and serving dinner and Opal Bebee, Twila Brickner, Elina Zikmund, Merle Needham, Virginia Craig, Eva Adamek and Wilma Barnard were the girls who gave the finishing touches to preparing the food.

The Music Contest. The District Music contest was held on April 10 and 11. The small groups, stringed quartette and girls' sextette, and soloists, Elwin Auble and Florence Lukesh went to Grand Island on Friday and performed the same afternoon. The boys and girls glee clubs and the orchestra left at 6:00 Saturday morning on the buses, arriving at Grand Island about five minutes before the boys were to sing. When the results were announced it was found that Elwin Auble had placed second in low voice solos and orchestra took second place also. It is thought that, even though many of our entries did not place that they were fairly high up in the ranks. As soon as the massed groups in the evening finished the buses started on the return trip. The riding may not have been comfortable but everyone seemed to have a good time notwithstanding bumps. All in all it was quite a lark, and considering the competition we did as well with honors. Friday evening the music contestants will sing between shows at the Ord Theatre.

Meet at North Loup. Monday evening the coaches and superintendents of the Loup Valley High School Association met at North Loup for a dinner meeting in the Arlington Hotel of that town.

The coaches had a separate meeting and decided 4 to 3 against having a Loup Valley track meet with the superintendents decided that there should be one. The meet will be held at Ord on May 11. This meet will not only take in high schools but grades and junior high as well.

It is also decided that there would be a girl's play day at St. Paul. The date has not yet been decided upon.

Coach Krejci of Ord has arranged two baseball games with Arcadia. The first to be there on April 22 and a return game on April 29. The office is also expecting to get word from St. Paul in regard to baseball games.

Agricultural Notes. Last Friday ten boys were chosen from the agricultural department to go to Kearney for practice stork judging. They were Charles Barnhart, David Barnhart, Valerian Clochoc, Harley Crouch, Bill Garnick, Harold Garnick, Archie Hatfield, George Krumi, Donald Lloyd Marks, and Floyd Augustyn.

The boys that ranked highest in the judging were Bill Garnick, Lloyd Marks and Charles Barnhart.

The Ord boys won thirteen ribbons all together.

Girl Reserve Notes. Last Tuesday, April 7, after school the Girl Reserve Cabinet had a meeting. They discussed the future plans for camp and a Mother's Day program.

Several suggestions were made which were to be put up to the Girl Reserve body Wednesday, April 15.

Girl Reserves will have their regular meeting Wednesday, April 15, at 7:30.

JUNIOR HIGH NOTES Miss Hinzda's Physiology class has been checking up on the children's health. Finding out those who are overweight and underweight, also those who have gained and lost.

Miss Lukesh's pupils have been spending this last week in taking six weeks tests.

The art classes have been making pencil drawings.

JOKES. Florence K.—(Sticking her head into the doorway of Room 20) Is Virginia in here?
Voice—No she's down in Prof. Redfern's lab!

Adrian Tolen (jumping up)—You say on Prof. Redfern's lap?
Dola F.: "Don't you love me any more?"
Jack R.: "Why of course I do honey!"

Dola F.: "But I haven't had to slap your face for a week?"
Leota Auble: "When did you first know you loved me?"
Frank Rysavy: "When I began to get mad when people said you were brainless and ugly."

Marion Grace Cushing: "Why are there no marriages in heaven?"
Harvey M.: Because that would not be heaven my dear."
Julius Vala: (Dancing) "My shoes are just killing my feet!"
Virginia VanDecar: (His partner) "They are killing mine, too."

Better Seeds for Better Gardens

LOOK for the FERRY SEED BOX

THERE'S a Ferry Seed Box near you, in your neighborhood store. Look for it when you plant your garden, for Ferry's purebred seeds have been tested from generations and generations of mother plants for vigor and sturdiness of growth.

It is not the price of seeds which is expensive in your garden—it is the labor and time and investment in the ground. Yet the quality in your seeds may mean the difference between a loss of all this time and investment, and a complete success.

FERRY'S purebred SEEDS

Look for the name "Ferry" on the seeds you buy for your garden. This means that you are buying tested seeds. All Ferry's purebred seeds come from generations of plants which have proved their ability to transmit their superior quality by years of careful growing and seeding. The evidence of the harvest lies with Ferry's purebred seeds. Look for Ferry's seeds if you are looking for a successful garden. Ferry-Morse Seed Co., Detroit, Michigan.

ORD TEAM WINS DAIRY JUDGING AT NORTH PLATTE

Harley Crouch, Lloyd Marks and Harold Garnick on Champ Team; Harley High.

Ten Ord vocational agriculture students were entered individually, and by teams, in the nine state agricultural contests held at North Platte last Thursday and Friday. Due to limited transportation facilities and the number of competitive events, each Ord student was entered in two different contests. Boys who had been in similar contests previously were barred from competition. Schools participating in these contests were Anselmo, Big Springs, Broken Bow, Callaway, Crawford, Chappell, Gandy, Gordon, Grant, Harrison, Hay Springs, Imperial, Kimball, Litchfield, Ord, Oshkosh, Pallasda, Sidney, Stapleton, Stratton, Mitchell, Wilcox. Perhaps the greatest triumph for the local boys was the winning of both high team and high individual honors in the big dairy cattle judging contest, where the boys had the privilege of working on the greatest herd of Holstein cattle in the world. The local lads brought back one of the two large trophy cups offered by the North Platte Chamber of Commerce, and for which forty teams competed. The victorious Ord team was made up of Harley Crouch, Lloyd Marks, and Harold Garnick. Harley Crouch also won the gold medal and blue ribbon for high individual contest honors, in judging dairy cattle.

Inness Denies His Negligence Caused Edith Spence's Death

A flat denial that his negligence in driving caused the accident in which Edith Spence lost her life on July 23, 1930, is the chief point in C. E. Inness' answer to the $15,000 damage suit filed against him here recently by James Spence, administrator for the dead woman. Mr. Inness filed answer this week through his attorneys, H. B. Vandecar and Lanigan & Lanigan. The fatal accident occurred last summer on the junction of a White Way and K. N. D. highways between Clark and St. Paul. Mr. Inness was driving east on the White Way and Spence was driving south on the K. N. D. At the junction of the two highways they collided and Edith Spence was killed. Her husband filed suit against Mr. Inness for $15,000, alleging that Inness was driving at a high rate of speed, that he failed to observe a state stop sign and that he entered the intersection without looking around. In his answer Mr. Inness denies all of these charges. He was driving only 30 miles per hour, he says and there was no stop sign at the junction of the two highways. Spence was driving 45 or faster and it was his carelessness and negligence that resulted in the crash, he alleges. He asks that the suit be dismissed and that Spence be made responsible for all costs. The suit probably will reach trial this spring in district court here.

Stollenburg at Rotary.
John Stollenburg, laboratory technician at the Ord hospital, was guest speaker at the Ord Rotary club's luncheon Monday. He told about various bacteria, ways of identifying them and methods of controlling the diseases they cause. Mr. Stollenburg's talk was very much enjoyed by Rotarians.

Olsson Ice Plant Opens.
The Ord Artificial Ice company will start operations May 1, announces Olof Olsson, owner. The work of installing machinery is almost completed now. Mr. Olsson will deliver ice to Ord homes, having bought an International truck and hired Henry Hinef as truck driver. Ord's pure, filtered water is used in making the ice.

Fine Young Couple Married At Burwell

At the Catholic church in Burwell yesterday occurred the marriage of two fine young people, Leonard, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clochon of Ord, and Miss Gertrude Osentowski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jake Osentowski of Garfield county. Last evening a big reception and dance was held in honor of the newlyweds at the national hall, music being furnished by the Puncocchar orchestra.

This Is Clean-Up Week.
This is clean-up week in Ord and everybody who hasn't already "slicked up" his premises should do so before the week ends. By next Monday it is hoped that Ord will be the cleanest and most slightly town in this section of the state.

51 Entered In Ord Yard-Garden Contest; More Entries Wanted

Entries continue to pour in as the Ord Yard and Garden Contest gains headway, and a total of 51 contestants had filed with the Chamber of Commerce committee at noon Tuesday. Most of this number had already planned or begun the actual work of improving their residences, in accordance with local enthusiasm for making Ord the most beautiful city of the Loup valley this summer. A majority of those entering are planning to recognize Ord's official flower, the gay red geranium, by planting a number where they will grow to good advantage this season. Quantities of new shrubbery seems to be finding new resting places in the yards of Ord citizens, and many other symptoms of awakening civic pride are also easily apparent. Such rating and spading and hoeing scarcely ever has been seen in these parts. A large number of local homes are going to be newly graced this year by the addition of pretty lattice fences, archways, gates, etc. An judging from the number of loads of ashes and garbage being hauled off, and the quantity of fertilizer being spread, lawns are going to be larger and greener and flowers brighter than ever before. If you are one of those who have been a little sluggish about joining the contest, please call on the contest committee, phone 212 and tell Mr. Goddard to add your name to the rolls of the Ord Yard and Garden Contest, and do it at once. The Ord Yard and Garden Contest is one of the most painless organizations to which it is possible to belong. There are no entries, no dues, no rules or restrictions or obligations and no meetings. Nothing is demanded except that you do your very best to make your home more beautiful and your grounds as neat and attractive as possible this season. If you are a conscientious citizen, a loyal believer in Ord, you belong in this contest. Don't delay, join today and help improve our city. A complete roll of the members at present eager to give Ord some beauty treatments includes the following:—W. H. Moses, H. B. Van Decar, Ign. Klima, Jr., Joe Rohla, Mat Kosmata, John P. Klein, W. E. Lincoln, Frank Piskorski, Vernon Anderson, E. N. Finlay, Louis Hackel, H. N. Travis, Nina Norman, Martin Weigardt, Mary Ulrich, Mrs. L. Novak, Howard Jones, Clara McClatchey, A. B. Capron,

LUMIRE KLIMA ARRESTED FOR THEFT OF MAIL

Comstock Young Man In Jail Here, Confesses to Rifling Two Rural Mail Boxes.

Confined in county jail here, Lumire Klima, 21-year-old Comstock young man, faces federal charges as a result of rifling two rural mail boxes in Valley county. He was taken into custody by Sheriff George Round Monday evening and Tuesday he confessed to J. A. Bradley, postoffice inspector, that he stole parcel post packages from the mail boxes of James Cech and Gust Foth. He will be taken to Grand Island today to face charges in federal court.

Klima's first offense was committed several weeks ago, he confessed, when he took a package containing two pairs of khaki pants from Gust Foth's box. The pants were found in his room at the R. C. Bailey home here. He got away with this theft all right, but on April 7 he took a package from the box of James Cech, on Route 2, Sargent. The package contained a pair of men's oxfords, two yards of rayon and an artificial flower. Suspicion fastened itself on Klima when he attempted to sell these articles to a Mrs. Brown, who lives on the same mail route. When confronted Tuesday by Inspector Bradley and told of the evidence against him, young Klima admitted his guilt. These were the only two boxes he rifled, he said, but several other packages have been missed and he is suspected of their theft.

The young man is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Klima, Comstock, and was employed for a time as a car salesman by an Ord automobile concern. He has never been in trouble before. A United States marshal will come to Ord today and escort Klima to Grand Island, where a charge is being prepared against him by the United States attorney. Unless he repudiates his confession, he probably will be given a sentence in one of the federal prisons.

Robbing the United States mails is a serious offense and brings swift punishment, as this young man is discovering. Making New Kind Bread. Forrest Johnson started manufacturing a new kind of bread in Ord this week. The new bread is named "Sonny Boy," and is made from a recipe that uses whole milk. Mr. Johnson has the exclusive use of the Sonny Boy formula in this territory.

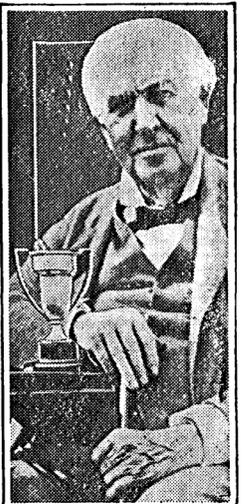

Collipriest Goes To Lexington As Depot Agent

George W. Collipriest, for twelve years Union Pacific depot agent in Ord, left Monday for Lexington where he has been appointed to a similar position. He was accompanied by Mrs. Collipriest. When Frank find a suitable house she will return to Ord and pack their household goods for shipment to that city.

Ord people regret to see Mr. and Mrs. Collipriest leave this city, though they congratulate them upon Mr. Collipriest's advancement in the railroad service. While living here both were active workers in the Presbyterian church and in various lodges and clubs and Mr. Collipriest has been for several years a valued member of the board of education. At present he holds the position of secretary of this body. Before coming to Ord Mr. Collipriest was for thirteen years depot agent at Loup City, and his advancement to Lexington, a larger city on the main line, was richly deserved. Claude Dewhirst will be in charge of the station here until another agent is appointed.

Honored Again

The Florida Parent-Teachers' Association didn't forget Thomas A. Edson when they convened at Fort Myers, Fla., his summer home, for their state convention. As the only member of the association, the famous inventor was awarded this tiny cup.

Mrs. A. E. Haywood Dies At Arcadia

Arcadia, April 21.—(Special)—Mrs. A. E. Haywood, 45, passed peacefully away at her residence here last Saturday. Funeral services were held at the Christian Science church at Broken Bow by Mrs. Jacobs, first reader of that church. Three lovely vocal solos were sung by Max Wall. Interment was made in Arcadia cemetery. Mrs. Haywood was born Oct. 9, 1886 in Grand Island and in June 1908 was married here to Alvin Haywood. She is survived by her husband, one daughter, Elizabeth, her father, Geo. E. Hastings, a brother, Alfred H. Hastings, and one sister, Mrs. Geo. H. Kinsey, of Hollywood, Calif.

Named Insurance Adjuster. P. J. Mella, local farmer and insurance man has been named adjuster for the State Farmers Insurance company of Omaha. He will enter upon his new duties about May first and will have charge of the northeast Nebraska territory.

TEN TEAMS WILL OPEN BASEBALL SEASON SUNDAY

Delco-Lights, Arcadia and Sumter Added to Farm Bureau League; Ord Teams Clash.

The lid will be blasted off the baseball season in Valley county Sunday when ten teams, members of the Farm Bureau league, will swing into action for the first time. Practically every neighborhood in the county will be represented this year, for directors voted Monday evening to make the league a ten-team affair instead of an eight-team, and admitted the Ord, Delco-Lights, Arcadia and Sumter. Other teams that joined previously were Joint, Elyria, Eureka, Olean, North Loup, Mira Valley and the Ord Camels. Most of these teams will present line-ups similar to those that featured last year. Joint did not play in the league last year but they played several league ball teams and the caliber of baseball they displayed was fully up to league standard. Frank Anderson's Ord Camels were league champs last season and won the large cup offered by the Quiz to the winning team. They are out to win it again this season but will have a tougher fight.

L. J. Auble is manager of the Ord, Delco-Lights and has an aggregation composed principally of high school players lined up to take the field on opening day against the Ord Camels. Along with the high school boys will play Joe Krejci, Clyde Baker, Harry Wolf, Clyde Akey and possibly one or two others of the older players. At least part of the games in which Ord teams participate will be played at Bussell park. Bud Shirley, care-taker at the park, is taking an interest in the league and says he will try to get the field for as many games as possible. All opening day games will start promptly at 2:30 next Sunday. Of course local people are most interested in the Ord Camels-Ord Delco Light clash, which should be a real one. Frank Anderson hasn't revealed his line-ups yet but says he will have a good one. Manager Auble has new suits coming for his Delco-Light players.

Other games scheduled for opening day are Joint vs. Elyria, at Eureka; Olean at Olean; Sumter vs. North Loup, at North Loup; and Mira Valley vs. Arcadia, at Arcadia. The Quiz distributed score sheets to managers of the various teams and we hope to have a print complete box scores of all games if score keepers will cooperate by mailing them in early. The secretary, Ed Lange, probably will keep individual batting and fielding averages and the Quiz hopes to print these also at frequent intervals.

300 PRESENT AT EXTENSION CLUB ANNUAL MEETING

Most Successful Year Yet, Says County Agent Dale of Club Project Just Ending.

More than three hundred were present at the Ord open house Tuesday afternoon when extension clubs of Valley county presented their annual achievement day program. Every one of the clubs had a part in the program, which was as follows:

- Community singing led by Mrs. Mrs. Ruth Hutchins.
- Play—Ever Busy.
- Reading—Happy Circle.
- Playlet—Friendly Circle.
- Song—Ericson club.
- Play—Loyal Workers.
- Play—Anti-Rust.
- Stunt—Neighborhood club.
- Playlet—Country club.
- Reading—Royal Kensington.
- Playlet—Ever Busy.
- Song—Willing Workers.
- Play—Ericson club.
- Whistling solo—21st Century.
- Stunt—Progressive.

A report of the year's work was given by Mrs. Guy Mulligan, co-chairman with Mrs. J. W. McGinnis for Valley county. Miss Florence Atwood, who has given the extension lessons this year was present at the meeting. This meeting officially ended the year's project on "Foods for Health," though several of the clubs have another meeting at which the final lesson will be given. Next year's project will be on home equipment and the lessons will be brought to Ord by Miss Muriel Smith, of the agricultural college.

Eman Kuklish Hurt.
Elyria, April 21.—(Special)—Eman Kuklish was quite badly cut about the face and hands Saturday evening when the car in which he and several others were riding overturned when they struck a culvert north of town. The car belonged to Charles Bialy and was badly damaged.

The Embrace Before Parting

Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, and his beautiful wife, Estelle Taylor, screen star, may never again be seen in an affectionate embrace like this again. Though they both profess to love each other, Jack has established residence at Reno, where it is said he is seeking a divorce. The above photo was made, recently before the parting of the ways.

SMITH NAMED AS HEAD OF HARNESS STEALING RACKET

35 Sets of Harness Found at Farm of Former Ord Man; Faces Charges in 2 Counties.

Suspected of being the leader of a gang of harness thieves who have taken a toll of thousands of dollars from farmers of central Nebraska, Charles I. Smith, former Valley county man, faces charges that may send him to the penitentiary for a long term. He was taken into custody April 11 and last week charges of theft and receiving stolen property were filed against him at both Fullerton and Osceola. He is now at liberty under heavy bond.

Posing as a dealer in harness, Smith has been consigning leather goods to community sales in Nance and Polk counties for a long time. Many thefts of harness and saddles were being reported in these and other counties and suspicion finally settled on Mr. Smith. Officers raided the Smith farm April 11 and found 35 sets of harness, several saddles and numerous other pieces of leather goods. Charges against the former Ord man followed promptly.

Last Thursday Sheriff George Round was called to Genoa and took with him Henry Rachuy and Ign. Pokraka, both of whom had harness stolen recently. At the Smith farm they found eleven other sheriffs and 150 men, there to identify stolen property. Both Mr. Rachuy and Mr. Pokraka identified their harness among that found in Smith's possession.

Arrested with Smith was a man named Perl Rodd, who admitted to officers that he has stolen many sets of harness and brought them to Smith for disposal. Smith changed them around so as to disguise them and then sold them at community sales. Rodd received from $7 to $25 for each set of harness he sold to officers. Both officers are still searching for a third member of the gang, believed to be in Omaha at present. They are not revealing his name until he is taken into custody.

The Smith gang has been functioning for five or six years and hundreds of sets of harness have passed through their hands in that time, officers believe. Several other farmers in this county have lost harness and saddles in the past and probably some of them, at least, have passed through the hands of this gang.

Spring Rains, Severe Frosts Feature Week

Variable weather has been the rule in Valley county during the past week. Last Friday and Saturday were warm, Sunday a rain of .54 inches fell accompanied by hail and an electrical storm. Monday the temperature descended to 23 degrees. Tuesday was clear and warmer but Tuesday night another severe frost came, the thermometer registering 22 degrees. Snow and rain were falling Wednesday afternoon. Fruit and flowers were badly damaged by the frosts, which came after two weeks of unusually warm weather.

—Glendall Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bailey, has been transferred by his company from Milwaukee, Wis., to Sioux City, Ia. He is employed by the Texas company and will be supervisor of the filling station in western Iowa, the new job being a nice promotion for him and also getting him closer to home.

EVERETT GROSS, 11, WINS QUIZ TRIP TO OMAHA

Out-Spells Crack Class of Nine And Qualifies for State Spelling Bee To Be Held Sat'day.

Everett Gross, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross, goes to Omaha today as the guest of the Ord Quiz. He won the free trip and also the right to compete in the state spelling contest when he out-spelled eight other crack spellers of Valley county in a match held Monday afternoon in the office of Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent.

Reservations for Everett and Mrs. A. W. Cornell, who will accompany him, have been made at the Fontenelle hotel in Omaha. Tomorrow Everett will compete in the inter-state spelling bee and Saturday he will enter the state contest, which is sponsored annually by the Omaha World-Herald. All of the expenses of Everett and his companion while they are on the trip to Omaha will be paid by the Quiz.

Everett, Mrs. Cornell, Miss Clara McClatchey, Darlene Anderson, and Miss Vera McClatchey leave this morning by auto for Lincoln, where Miss Vera is a student at the state university. In Lincoln they will inspect the state capitol building, the university and other sights, after which they will go to Omaha. Tomorrow morning both Everett and Darlene compete in the interstate spelling contest and Saturday Everett competes in the Nebraska contest.

To win the free trip to Omaha Everett had to out-spell Mildred Campbell, winner of the recent Valley county bee, and also eight other prize winners in the recent county match. That he did so proves that he is ably equipped to represent the county in the state bee.

Tennis Club Organized

The Ord lawn tennis club was organized last Thursday evening at a meeting held in the court house. Loree McIndee was elected president, Dr. Kirby McGrew, president and John P. Misko secretary-treasurer. The club has about twenty-five members to start with. Two modern clay courts are being laid out at Bussell park.

Stores Install Marquise.
The Stoltz Variety Store and the Misko Harness Shop are two new Ord firms whose store fronts soon will be protected by the Ray Auble patented marquise. Their marquise is being made in Hastings at present and installation will start this week or next.

The Catholic ladies club met yesterday in the home of Mrs. Joe Puncocchar.

New Picture, "Trader Horn," Coming to Ord Theater Next Week

April 30, May 1 and 2 will witness at the Ord theatre one of the first showings in Nebraska of the big new picture, "Trader Horn," which was filmed in the wilds of Africa by a company headed by W. S. VanDyke. It closely follows the famous book, "Trader Horn," and the cast is headed by Harry Carey, O. O. McIntyre, famous newspaper columnist, said recently that "Trader Horn" is the only picture he ever saw that he would care to see a second time. Manager Jack Hoogenboom is to be congratulated on bringing this big M-G-M spectacle to Ord so soon after its release.

Ferris Buys Car 17 Years Old, Only Driven 5,100 Miles

A real relic in the automobile line, but a relic almost as good as new, came to Valley county last Saturday when Kent Ferris drove up from Aurora a 17-year-old Ford car purchased recently by his father, A. J. Ferris. Although the car came out of the Ford factory in 1914 it has been driven only 5,100 miles and is almost as good as new. It was formerly the property of a Mr. Rutherford, of Aurora, who died in 1920 and since then the car has been in storage. Mr. Ferris paid but $25 for it. The car has the upright ball and square line regular in 1914. It has genuine leather cushions and the black paint on it is undimmed by age. The car has brass headlights and three inch tires all around. It has an open appearance alongside the stream-line cars, but there is lots of transportation left in it and Mr. Ferris figures that he'll get his money's worth, at least, out of the old car.

Jury Term Postponed.
Valley county's spring jury term of district court has been postponed until May 18, the Quiz is informed by Alfred Weigardt, clerk of the district court. It was set for the week of May 4 but Judge Horth has been called to Lincoln for supreme court duty at that time. Clerk Weigardt is instructed to have a jury empaneled at 9 a. m. May 18.

Ord Church News

St. John's Lutheran Church (Missouri Synod) Eight miles south of Ord.

The gospel of Jesus Christ, the Savior of the world, will be brought to you every Thursday evening at 8 o'clock during the Lutheran Hour broadcast over thirty-six stations, the Columbia chain.

William Bahr, Pastor.

Christian Science. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, April 19, was "Doctrine of Atonement."

A part of one of the citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, (p. 23) is as follows: "The atonement is a hard problem in theology, but its scientific explanation is, that suffering is an error of sinful sense which Truth destroys, and that eventually both sin and suffering will fall at the feet of everlasting Love."

Other citations read from this book and the Bible show that, in the Bible, various references to the blood and body of Jesus, spiritually understood, refer to the spirit and of Christ, which overcomes sin and disease. A typical Biblical selection that was read is, "Create in me a clean heart, O God; and renew a right spirit within me."

Pentecostal Full Gospel Church. We are thankful for Gods blessing on the church during our revival which closed Sunday night. We had a good attendance at Sunday school and church in spite of the rainy day. You will find a hearty welcome at our Sunday school. Once you come you will wonder why you did not come before.

Methodist Church Notes. Did you miss the church items from this scribe last week? I am glad you did. In other words, I am pleased that you read them. They are written to be read. And I have often wondered what proportion of our people read them. Someone who does not attend regularly told me recently that he had read the church notes. And so he makes that much of a contribution to the church's great task, anyway. Thanks, brother, small favors are gratefully received. But wish you could be induced to extend your service some farther. For instance, we are trying now for a few weeks to increase church attendance. It is very good, but it should be a great deal better. Suppose you start in here Sunday. We will be glad to have you come. Come to Sunday school. My, what a fine crowd (20) we had last Sunday in spite of the early morning shower. The Epworth League service has a special attraction for Sunday night. The lesson is on the Good Samaritan and eight boys will dramatize the story. Dorothy Campbell is the leader.

Here is something very special. You are to have a special invitation to meet Rev. W. S. Bissonette, a missionary from China on Thursday evening the 30th. It will be the closing church-night gathering for the season. Plan to come, sure and hear his address on that very interesting country.

W. H. Wright. Presbyterian Notes. Pioneer scout troop had an enjoyable bean feed at the church Monday night followed with the scout work. Their next meeting will be at the park at 4 p. m. on next Monday to play golf.

The Stewards' department met at 8 o'clock Monday night. Mr. Frazier was chosen as financial director. Mrs. Horace Travis was elected financial secretary. Mrs. Beeghly was elected as stewardship secretary.

Next Monday night the social service department of the church will meet.

Regular services for Sunday, S. S. at 9:45. 11 o'clock services, the topic "The Appearance of Christ to the Eleven." Y. P. E. C. at 7 p. m. Evangelistic services at 8 p. m.

Summit Hill. The U. B. aid met with Mrs. Herman Desel last Wednesday with ten members and two visitors present. The ladies spent the afternoon quilting a quilt for Mrs. Rendell.

John Lunney took a truck load of pupils from Davis Creek to Ord Friday where they entered the track meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Garnick and family spent Sunday at the Seton Hanson home.

Esther Palser was an over night guest of Hazel Stevens Tuesday.

Future Farmers To State Convention. Next Saturday Anthony Kokes, Harold Benn, Charles Barnhart, and Bud Brickner, accompanied by their sponsor, J. A. Kovanda, will attend the state F. F. A. convention.

Adrian Tolen, district vice-president, leaves today to be present at a meeting of the executive committee.

The outstanding chapter will be awarded a plaque on Saturday and a dozen state farmers will be raised to that degree.

Hilltop Jabbers

Mrs. C. E. Wozniak and daughter Florence of Elyria and Mrs. Wanda Sitt of Tacoma, Wash. spent Wednesday visiting the C. M. Sorensen and Jake Papernik families.

Miss Dorothy Johnson returned Monday morning from a visit with relatives at Burwell.

Dick Karre and Wm. Sautter drove to Omaha Thursday, having shipped cattle there on the morning freight.

F. W. Tolbert, of Lincoln, and Guy Tolbert, of Kearney, were Horace visitors for a short time Thursday.

Miss Irene Baker spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Axel Bogseth, near Ericson.

A number of the town ladies gave the church a thorough cleaning Thursday afternoon.

Those in the party were Jeannette Crockett, Amy Moody, Mayme Anderson, Lols Jeffrey, Delbert Hill, Verdoe, and Dora Douthett. Raymond Sautter and Miss Tolbert.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Leth entertained Mr. and Mrs. Archie Combs and Misses Schuyler and Ilgenfritz at dinner Thursday.

Victor Hoagland drove down from Chery county last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoagland, and to meet his wife, who has been visiting here. Miss Lenore Hoagland also accompanied them home for a visit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Leth and family, Mrs. J. P. Leth and family, Ericson Sunday taking Mr. Earl's uncle, who has been visiting here, to his home.

Roy Whiting, section foreman, and his assistant Roy Marshall, had fenced in a plot of ground north of the depot, planning to make a small park of flowers. This will add considerably to the beauty of our little city.

Amy Moody took teacher's examinations at Greeley Saturday.

Misses Schuyler and Ilgenfritz started the week end in Burwell at the home of Miss Schuyler.

Miss Jennie Landen was a week end visitor at the Glen Johnson home, north of Horace.

Mrs. Ed Douthett and son went to Grand Island Monday to bring home some chickens from the hatchery there.

Mrs. J. P. Leth and Mrs. Dessie Stichter were Scotia visitors Saturday afternoon.

Fred Vanosdal and John Gudyers started to St. Paul, Minn., early Thursday morning, intending to truck Rev. Forsell's household goods to Horace. They expected the trip to require about five days.

Rev. and Mrs. Forsell plan to come by train, and will probably be here for services next Sunday.

The Badousek boys had the misfortune to wreck their car at Scotia Sunday morning, damaging it quite badly. Mr. Badousek has traded it in on a new one.

REV. EUGENE DAVIS VISITS NORTH LOUP

North Loup, April 20.—(Special)—Friends and relatives of Rev. Eugene Davis and family greatly enjoyed their brief visit in North Loup last week end. They arrived Friday by auto from Denver. Saturday morning Rev. Davis occupied the pulpit in the S. D. B. church, also responding to three other appointments throughout the day. In the evening a public reception was tendered the family at the church and the time was passed in singing and in reminiscences about the days when Rev. Davis was a student in the North Loup schools and later a teacher at Riverdale.

Rev. Davis is now a missionary in China and the toastmaster, Rev. Warren, called on him for a brief address and he spoke interestingly about his work in the Orient. He is still learning the Chinese language after 24 years in that country, he said. Mrs. Davis is as interested in the work as her husband and teaches in a girls school. Their own children are being educated in an American school.

Miss Bessie Franc Brown, a former missionary to China, also told of her experiences in that country. A cafeteria supper was served in the church basement at the conclusion of the social hour.

Rev. and Mrs. Davis and three children left by auto Monday for an extended visit with their son, Richard, who is a student in Millton college, Wis. The family will visit friends and relatives there until after the graduation exercises. They will then visit in the east, returning to their mission work in China in September.

The new PONTIAC is a car of unusual grace and beauty... economical... powerful... selling at only $814⁵⁰ DELIVERED EQUIPPED

Motorists like Pontiac because it enables them to enjoy fine-car driving at moderate cost. Let your knowledge check these unusual values.

NEW 60-HORSEPOWER MOTOR—Far above old ideas of quality performance possible at this price. Smooth, flexible, dependable—and economical with all its power.

FISHER BODY CRAFTSMANSHIP—That intangible beauty of design and styling which contributes so much to motoring pleasure. Upholstering is fine, durable whipcord or mohair. Cushions are form-fitting. There is plenty of room for the comfort of all in the car.

RUBBER-CUSHIONED CHASSIS—A distinctly fine-car feature adding to riding ease. Road shocks are absorbed by rubber insulation at more than 40 chassis points. Rubber-cushioned shackles promote comfort and stability and eliminate lubrication at 12 points.

INSULATED CONSTRUCTION—A notable advance in body structure which shuts out heat, cold, dampness and noise. Cowl and windshield pillars are built as a single piece, preventing leaks and rattles.

LARGE, POSITIVE BRAKES that evenly grip all wheels with a positive power which gives every member of the family new confidence in driving.

Test Pontiac's unusual value for yourself. A demonstration will be arranged at your convenience, free of obligation.

If you have got an unsightly street or alley in front of your home complain to the city mayor or marshal. With the movement that is now on to make Ord more beautiful no one should hinder the movement by having a place that is untidy dirty. This is clean-up time and great progress is being made. A number of busy business people are giving lots of their time to make the move for a more slightly Ord a success. Why not everyone get back of the movement and help. It will pay in the added favorable comment we will receive all summer and fall, from tourists and visitors.

A well tended city lot of potatoes looks better than a lot full of tin cans and other rubbish grown over with weeds and it should be the duty of the city authorities to see that vacant property is cared for. If owners of vacant lots don't take pride enough in them to have them cleaned up then the city should have the work done. Employment would be given to people who need work and the property can be taxed to pay the city for having the work done. In the winter, when we fail to clean the snow off our walks the city hires men to do it and we pay the bill in taxes. Why not apply the same rule to vacant city property? Surely rubbish and weeds on vacant lots in the summer are worse than snow on sidewalks in the winter. And surely it is clearly the duty of the city to see that all city alleys are made clean and attractive. I am urging that the Chamber of Commerce name a committee to make a thorough inspection of the city and report to the mayor or all unsightly lots and alleys at once.

Down at Fairbury a gas company with their gas line built to the town, asked permission to supply the people with gas. The mayor and city council are trying to get or to allow the people to vote on the proposition so at the recent election the mayor and three of the four councilmen were defeated for re-election. The people evidently wanted gas and those city officials evidently forgot that they were simply employees of the town and thought they owned the town.

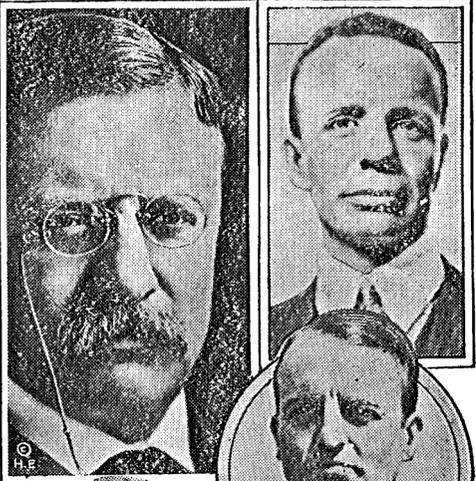

The Rodman road bill to bond the gasoline tax fund for twenty-five million dollars to be spent in the next ten years in paving main highways is based on a principle that has ruined many a Nebraska farmer and that had much to do with most of the bank failures that have caused so much hardship in Nebraska in recent years. The man, farmer or storekeeper, who pays as he goes is on solid ground. A modest and very conservative mortgage is one thing and a highly speculative mortgage, either for the individual or the state, is dangerous and to be avoided, especially when there is grave doubt as to its legal standing," says F. O. Edgcomb in his Geneva Signal.

It is a well-known fact that the public as a whole doesn't like to be told the truth; people like to talk about certain faults but they are always expressed as regarding the practices of someone else. We are seldom road enough to recognize our own shortcomings and as a consequence we resent being told of our own misdeeds. I am no different in this respect than anyone else; I can discern the beam in the other fellow's eye and remain totally blind as regards the mote that is in mine. Human nature is much alike and we are all tarred with the same stick to more or less extent," says Tom Osterman in his Blair Pilot-Tribune.

Last week Mr. Osterman, who by the way, is president of the Nebraska State Press association, told a lot of truths about his home merchants and some of them didn't like it. He claims that most of them roar because farmers and town people go to the city to trade, but indicates that the merchants won't buy stuff outside their own lines from their fellow merchants but order everything to get a wholesale price. Blair must be a funny town.

Before the choice of a 1931 town flower was made I didn't care so much what it was but now that the red geranium is the popular selection I just want to say there is no better flower for show. Glads are wonderful but they do not stay in bloom continuously like the red and other geraniums do. A bed or border of red geraniums properly cared for will be aflame from June till frost and after a very light frost they will be brighter than ever. Place your order for red geraniums with Bob Noll, Anderson's, Stoltz or Joe Dworak. I don't intend to slight anyone but believe they are the only ones who handle these plants and will soon be time to put them out in the ground. The middle of May will be just the right time.

Roosevelt's Sons Carry On

Something DIFFERENT

So many homes are being improved and beautified this spring that it is inspiring to look over our city.

Matt Kosmata is having a lot of painting done, his house, lattice fences, etc. Shiny and clean and white.

Will Misko is having his house given a new white coat, and Bill Sack is about to have his house and garage painted up.

Some attractive garden furniture is seen on the grounds of the Capron, senior, residence.

Hans Anderson is having a lattice fence put up and painted that is a real one. Different and pleasing.

Stanley McLain is standing around telling the boys about the new fence in his backyard. Painted soft green, just to be a little different.

Harry McBeth has been seen working at a new lattice fence which will span the back of his place, and Horace Travis is installing a large amount of nice shrubbery.

Dr. Ferguson is receiving admiring comments from friends upon the fine appearance a low cobblestone wall encircling his backyard is now making. A bird bath and lily pool also grace this enclosed space.

Ed Finley has put out a lot of new shrubbery this spring, and given it a fine start.

Vernie Apderson is out-doing himself. His bungalow is getting a new white face, and a pretty new fence separates the lot, front from back.

Mrs. H. D. Leggett is doing all kinds of things to her upstairs porch. Several trellises, porch furniture, vines, pots of flowers, etc., are popping out.

Iga Klitka did a little digging the other day, setting out a new maple tree, some fancy kind, doubtless!

Dr. Zeta Nay has her husband at work clearing and planting the back yard of the former Tippin home. Vines and trellises are going to beautify this place this summer, she says.

Rose Pierson has a beautiful new cobblestone bird bath on her lawn.

shrubbery installed, and is a striver after beauty, believe it or not. Judge Clements has some beautiful pink and blue hyacinths in the little row at the side of his house. Yes, in bloom.

Wild cherry trees and early (cottage) tulips are blooming here. Robins are looking a trifle disconsolate at the chilly winds. One poor old fellow got a terrible break. A cat or something had grabbed his tail, and he couldn't fly but a few feet. Just hopped. But he wouldn't let anyone come near him.

SLAT'S DIARY

Friday--well I got a job tending to Mrs. Pelts yd. for her all spring and summer. Like spading the flour beds and raking leaves and ect. but Mildred witch is her little boy is all ways hanging a round and tawking about kissing and flirting and going with boys and what a nice looking boy I am and ect. But I gess I will half to wirry along sum how becuz as pa says jobs is scare to get now days.

Saturday--Well I made 1/2 of $ today wirking for Mrs. Pelts but I had to kiss Mildred to get red of her one or to times and I found a pear of boxing gloves in the attic and all so a old fashioned Stilleta like they use in Italy and Vendetta and I wash some I wood try to en-sult me now.

Sunday--Ant Emmy was sick today so that a Xcuse to stay away from church. The Dr. cum and looked down her throte with a telescope and sed she had a cute Bronchittus but Ant Emmy says the chances is that he tells all his patiente stuff like that. Doctors is very tickel. So my ant rimarks.

Munday--Ant Emmy has been reading and wile it mebbly dont do her so very much good she at lease found out sum thing today. She use to all ways thing a Millitary Brush was a little skermush between soldies of are country and the enemy.

Tuesday--well the teacher told the prinispal on me today about putting chg. gum in the girls hair and he give me a lamming and then pulled a ole Gag about it hirling him wrent then me. but I notised he wrent and set down just like all ways.

Wednesday--Ma give me a scolding becuz I lost 4 thum tax from my drawing board. I found all but 1 of them and they dont cost much. I herd pa hollering and kinda cussing when he was a going to bed so I gess he found the uther 1.

Thursday--I picked up a womans perse today witch she had dropped in front of the 10 per cet. store. and she give me a quarter. you cud tell she was rich to frum the way she smelt.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Lives there hardly ever a man who doesn't like chocolate cake? If so, report him at once, for he is a rare specimen. For some dark reason, fudge cakes and devils food cake and nearly any kind of chocolate cake seem to just hit the spot with men in general. So here is a recipe you will surely want to try out on your family today!

Fudge Cake.
2 c. sugar
2-3 c. butter
3 egg yolks
2 1/2 c. sifted flour
1 heaping tsp. baking powder
1/4 c. cocoa dissolved in 1/4 c. boiling water
1/2 c. nut meats, floured
3 egg whites, beaten stiff
Cream the butter and sugar, add the egg yolks, then put in the other ingredients in the order given. Bake either in layers or loaf form.

Glo Garnick. And here is the filling for the above cake. You will want to make it too.

Fudge Cake Filling.
2 c. powdered sugar
2 tbs. cocoa butter size of a walnut
Boiling water to moisten
1/2 c. nut meats

Glo Garnick. Now here is a recipe that is sure to be entirely unlike the dishes your family will expect to find on the table. It is a good dish, and not too expensive.

Stuffed Cabbage Head.
Take out of the inner leaves of a cabbage head, working through the stem end. Cut out a good plug to start with, and save the plug to cover up the place again when the head is filled with the following:

Take 2 lbs. of pork sausage, one egg, 3 level tbs. flour and mix well. Add one large cup of milk a little at a time, season with salt and pepper to taste, mix again. Fill the cabbage head, put in a clean cloth, wrap tight in a clean cloth, and tie with a string to hold it. Put the cabbage head in a kettle of boiling water, (bring up) with a little salt, and boil under cover for two hours. When done lift it into a collander, plug down, and let it drain for a few minutes before going to the table. Serve hot.

Mrs. Carl Holm. While eggs are cheap, let us all use as many as we can and improve local market conditions. We can employ eggs in hundreds of dishes that are nutritious and palatable, and while pleasing the whimsical spring appetites of those we cook for we can reach out a helping hand to the farmers. Use eggs every day in at least two dishes!

Prune Whip.
1/2 lb. prunes
1 c. water
1/2 c. sugar
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tbs. lemon juice
1 tbs. egg whites
Wash prunes and soak overnight. Cook in the same water until tender. Press through a sieve. Heat the pulp with sugar until dissolved. Let cool. Beat the egg whites and add salt, then the prune pulp in small quantities until all of it has been mixed with egg whites. Pipe the mixture in a baking dish, set in a pan of water and bake in a slow oven 50 to 60 minutes. Serve with custard sauce made of the egg yolks.

Mrs. Winifred Bartz. Another thing we can do to improve the situation of the farmer is to use more wheat and whole wheat flour. Eat more bread, and eat more eggs. They are both good for you, and will if more generally consumed bring wheat and egg prices up where they belong. Help the farmers to prosper by the use of wheat and eggs. Remember now, use more flour and more eggs.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

Twenty-five Years Ago. G. H. Kinsey of Arcadia moved into his handsome new residence, called by the Arcadia Champion the most elaborate in the Loup valley. It was built at a cost of $7,500.

W. L. McNutt's fine road station, Lawler, died.

Wm. Bredthauer, Jr., and Miss Barbara Gray were married.

A meeting was called for the purpose of organizing an Ord group to study Esperanto.

The Johnson brothers, Carl and Frank, purchased the Brink drug store.

R. T. Honnold passed away from the effects of Bright's disease. Valley county people were called on to aid those stricken in the San Francisco earthquake.

Edwin Kull and Herbert Batie, 17 and 15 years old, had the impulse to leave home and see the world, riding away on their bicycles without telling their parents they were going. They were found at Loup City the next day.

F. D. Cromwell died after an illness with pneumonia.

Eve Smith, Frank Nay and Ralph Carson, the Ord high debating team, debated against Broken Bow.

Superintendent C. S. Jones was elected head of the junior normal school at Valentine but hadn't indicated whether or not he would accept.

Lost Her Sluggishness
Gained Physical Vigor
Gained in Vitalousness
Gained a Shapely Figure

Take half a teaspoonful of KRUSCHEN SALT in a glass of hot water every morning—put out pastes and fatty matter—so light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 8 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished.

If you're fat—remove the cause! KRUSCHEN SALT contains the 6 mineral salts your body organs, glands and nerves should have to function properly.

Notice also that you have gained in energy—your skin is clearer—your eyes sparkle with glorious health—you feel yourself in body—keener in mind. KRUSCHEN will give any fat person a joyous surprise.

When your vital organs fail to perform their work correctly—your bowels and kidneys can't throw off that waste material—before you realize it—you're growing hideously fat!

Get an 85 c bottle of KRUSCHEN Salts at McLain and Screen's (lasts 4 weeks). If this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—so gloriously energetic—vigorously alive—your money gladly returned.

IT can BE DONE . . . but it isn't wise

You can run 1,500 or 2,000 miles without draining new POLARINE out of the crankcase.

But few engineers would recommend such a dangerous practice, with any oil.

Engineers know that clean oil of the right grade is essential to full power and long life in any motor. They recommend changing the oil at between 500 and 1,000 miles—even when the motor has an oil filtering device.

New Polarine is made to meet every modern engineering specification. It is refined from the most suitable crudes until wax, tar and all other harmful, non-lubricating materials are removed.

New Polarine clings to metal surfaces—resists thickening by cold and thinning by heat. It is furnished in every grade recommended by the Society of Automotive Engineers and will do everything for your motor that oil can do. Consult the chart for the correct grade to use—25¢ a quart for all grades.

ATHLETICS
 The spring season is here and so is the track and baseball season. There are not many boys out for track this spring. Ord has been invited out for many track meets, but it looks as if they won't be able to go to them because of the lack of material.

A baseball game that was played at St. Paul last Friday proved to be a victory for Ord. The score was 16 to 11, in favor of Ord. Ord scored three runs in the first inning. Earl Klein pitched for Ord and it is said that he did a good job of it. St. Paul did not hit a ball until the fourth inning of the game. Earl struck out twelve men in seven innings but it was only a seven inning game.

Don Lashmett and Okly Hather were the best batters. Everett Lashmett also was of use in that he made a home run. Ord scored nine runs in the third inning. St. Paul used three pitchers, while Ord only used one.

Ord is to go to Arcadia next Wednesday to play a game there. Then Arcadia is coming to Ord the 29th. St. Paul is dated for a return game with Ord the first week in May, but no date has been made yet.

A track meet will be held at Ericson the first of May and following this there will be a meet every Friday until school is out. Coach Krejci does not know whether Ord can take in all these track meets if the boys do not get out there and work.

A Loup Valley track meet will be held at Ord May 11th. It seems that there ought to be a meet for boys out for this meet at least, even if they do not care to go out for the others. It seems that since Ord has invited the other schools here for May 11th to a meet that the boys ought to take a little interest in the one met and go out there and see what they can win for Ord on that date.

CONVOCATIONS
 Last Friday we were unable to have the convocation planned because of the rural school track meet. A scholastic meet was held in the morning.

The students who attended the music contest at Grand Island gave us a brief sketch of their trip and experiences last Thursday. The speakers were Arthur Auble, Rodney Stoltz, and Virginia Vandecar.

Convocation bells rang last Wednesday at 3:35 and the student body assembled in the auditorium to hear an interesting talk of George Engels. Mr. Engels talk was "Cigarette and its injurious effect on immature people."

CLASS NOTES.
 Miss Blanchard's Junior English classes are working on their poetry books. These books are due on May 8th.

Miss Johnson's sophomores literature classes are using the first ten minutes of class time for the appreciation of literature. Each student finds poems that he likes and reads them or memorizes them. Some are also trying their hand at writing original poetry. Points are given for all work done. Miss Shaver's senior normal training class are taking their exams and this will be the last examinations for most of them.

FAITHFULNESS VERSUS SPRING FEVER
 Who of us, during the last two or three weeks, has not felt the call of the out-of-doors, the desire to be out in the sunshine instead of "cooped" up in the school house? The call of the birds, the greening of the lawns, and the rustle of the wind in the tree tops all beckon to us to come outside. And the urge is almost too strong for us but we can hold out a little longer; we have done it every preceding year and I am quite sure that we can do it again.

Some of our people have succumbed, but the majority of us are holding out pretty well. We are feeling that we have almost won a most valiant battle with ourselves.

So step along, fellow-students and don't give up, for there are only four more weeks of school! Be faithful just a little longer, for victory lies just around the corner!

The editor sat in his cane bottom chair. Ran all his fingers through all of his hair. And wildly implored in a voice of despair

Printers and phone were both sizzling hot
 "That blankable copy has got to be gone!"
 We want it right. What we want is a lot
 "More copy!"

But still, the reporters all fervently swore
 That they'd got all the news in the country and more,
 The editor raved as he traversed the floor
 "More copy!"

The issue is out. Now we hear people tell
 Of a maniac held in a lone padded cell.
 The poor ex-editor only can yell,
 "More copy!"

I extend pity to no man because he has to work. There never has been devised, any law which will enable a man to succeed save by the exercise of those qualities which have always been necessary to success—the qualities of Hard Work, of Keen Intelligence, of Unflinching Will.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES.
 The Grade School is working on an operetta, "The Place of Carelessness," by Shields to be given May 15.

The Third Grade is having a spelling contest and those getting above eighty-five get to go on a picnic the latter part of April.

The fourth grade is working on long division problems. Margaret Larsen was absent from school last week because of illness.

PERSONALS
 Miss Nelson recovered from her illness and returned to school Monday. She was in the hospital last week.

The Junior banquet committee have been very busy and are making plans for the banquet. They have chosen a very appropriate theme which is a Spring Banquet.

Miss Jeary spent the week end in Seward last week.

Misses Blanzard and Johnson were guests of Stoltz Sunday.

Miss Bloodgood, Miss Hatzda and Mr. Cass left for Lincoln, Friday afternoon where Miss Hatzda is going to attend the Girls Athletic Association meeting, and Mr. Cass is going to attend the annual superintendent and principal meeting.

The rural school scholastic contest was held in the auditorium Friday forenoon, and a track meet at the fairgrounds in the afternoon.

The baseball team went to St. Paul Friday afternoon and the one-ace play cast left for Kearney Friday afternoon where they are entering the district contest.

The Ten Commandments.
 1. Honor thy teachers lest they flunk thee.
 2. Sleep not in classes lest thou suffer from insomnia at night.
 3. Let not thy laughter at a teacher's joke be too plentiful lest they detect thy guilt.
 4. Put not thy refuse in the drinking places lest thou gum-up the fountains of youth.
 5. Read not between the lines of thy translation lest it impair thy eyesight.
 6. Take not thy dog to school lest thou prove unkind to animals.
 7. Slide not down the banisters lest thou produce a conflagration.
 8. Bluff not thy teachers lest they call thy bluff.
 9. Look not too innocent lest thou betray thy guilt.
 10. List not to advice lest it be good.

JOKES
 Magistrate (to prisoner): "How big was the brick you threw? Was it as large as my head?"
 Prisoner: "Yes, your honor, but not so thick."

Mother: "Do you know where bad little girls go?"
 Zola: Yes, they go 'most everywhere."

Julius: "Next to a beautiful girl, what do you think is the most interesting thing in the world?"
 Wilson: "When I'm next to a beautiful girl I'm not thinking about statistics."

Teacher: "Frank, what is a cantinibal?"
 Frank R.: "Don't know, ma'am."
 Teacher: "Well, if you ate your father and mother, what would you be?"
 Frank: "An orphan, ma'am."

Mother: But surely you didn't come right out and tell Bill you loved him.
 Greta B: No, mother, he simply had to squeeze it out of me.

Hot
 "What kind of a party was it?"
 "Well about 1:30 the automatic fire sprinkler started to work."

Farmers Union Has District Meeting At Arcadia Tuesday

The second district Farmers Union convention was held at the Electric theatre in Arcadia all day Tuesday, April 21. About 250 were present including representatives from Hall, Greeley, Boone, Loup, Custer, Merrick, Garfield, Sherman and Valley counties. Very helpful and interesting talks were given by H. G. Keeney of Omaha, state president of the Farmers Union; Fred Hage of Grand Island, field man; John Anderson, Superior, president of the Farmers Union creameries; and A. C. Milligan, Omaha, president of the Farmers Union Insurance Co. The meeting was in charge of B. L. Peters of Albion, chairman. Open discussion was had on various subjects pertaining to the welfare of the Farmers Union. Several selections by a local orchestra and a reading by Mrs. T. A. Bridges were included in the day's program. The ladies of the Farmers Union served dinner at the Congregational church basement at noon. Announcement was made at the meeting of a picnic to be sponsored by the Custer County Central Farmers Union and which will be held at Victoria Springs July 4. The public is cordially invited. The next district convention will be held at O'Neill some time this fall.

Ord High Wins Again.
Joe Krejci's Ord high school ball players won their second game of the season yesterday when they defeated Arcadia 10 to 8. They were trailing in the last inning but pounded in five runs to win. Last Friday the Ord team beat St. Paul 16 to 11. Earl Klein has hurled both games for Ord and is doing a fine job of chucking.

New Grocery Manager.
Rollin Dye is the new manager of Freeman Haught's Handy Service Grocery No. 2. He takes the place of Dewitt Williamson, who goes to work in the postoffice this morning.

Small Gasoline Price Drop.
Gasoline prices took a small drop throughout Nebraska Monday. The reduction was 1-4c and Ord stations are now selling gas at 17 3-4c, tax included.

—Mrs. Max Stark and baby left Tuesday for Philadelphia, where they will visit Mrs. Stark's parents for a while. Early in May Mr. Stark will accompany C. J. Mortenson to California by auto and Mrs. Stark will join her husband there.

Weller and McMinds Pavilion
Saturday, April 25th

Starting at 1:15 P. M.

100 Head of Cattle

50 head of lightweight Hereford stocker steer calves. 25 head of yearling steers and heifers. 10 or more head of cows and heifers. 10 or more head of baby calves. With the big break in the cattle market coming at this time it would look like a real opportunity to buy some cattle to put on grass that would pay mighty well for their keep. This week's offering is mostly lightweight stocker cattle. They will not sell too high so if you have pasture here is an opportunity to buy a few cattle worth the money.

125 Head of Hogs

40 head of lightweight shoats, weighing around 65 to 75 pounds. 75 head of vaccinated fall pigs. 6 head of Hampshire bred sows. 6 head of duroc-jersey bred sows. The bred sows are all vaccinated.

6 Head of Work Horses

Miscellaneous

Nearly new Chase two-row lister, two first class two-row go-devils, cultivator, 15 bushels of high class alfalfa seed, home grown, some seed corn, sweet clover and sudan seed, potatoes, some very good furniture, etc.

Extra! Hens Hatch Eaglets!

Believed to be the first eaglets ever hatched in captivity, these little birdlings are shown in the biology laboratory of Western Reserve University, Cleveland, shortly after two hens helped bring them into the world. The eagle eggs were taken from a nest in Canada to the university, where two hens were persuaded to set on them in relays.

Wasted Effort

J. P. O'Furey in Hartington News: It is too bad that some of those merchants who are often tempted to use circulars instead of newspaper advertising did not happen to call at the Hartington postoffice the other morning after an out of town concern had mailed a big circular to local patrons. It is barely possible that some of the circulars may have been carried home but the condition of the postoffice lobby certainly gave evidence that the great majority of folks threw them into the waste basket until it was filled to overflowing and then they were scattered over the lobby floor.

Circulars are a relic of the horse-and-buggy days when city folks thought that all the farmers had to do in winter was to sit around and read and that they were so poor that they would read anything mailed to them.

Most farmers take one daily and usually two or more weeklies, several magazines and other publications. The majority have radios and they get to town not once or twice a month as 25 years ago but frequently that many times every day, even in winter. Farmer folks are busy people and those who endeavor to attract their attention must not only put their message in an attractive form but insert it where it will get a favorable hearing. For that purpose no other media is as good as the real live local newspaper.

Senior Play May 1.
Next Friday evening, May 1, seniors of Ord high school will present their play, "The Patsy." Reserved seats will be on sale tomorrow at Beranek's.

Canada's Pride

MAKESHIFT METHODS CAN PRODUCE ONLY MAKESHIFT RESULTS

Did You Ever Play GOLF with a Croquet Mallet?

Your Uncle Dudley's cherished wicket-smasher will provide you with a world of exercise on the golf course. But the best Pro couldn't smash par with such make-shift methods.

Advertisers, like golfers, want RESULTS to show for their efforts. And it's certain that the largest advertising appropriation, spent for indifferent methods, will not increase business volume. Since your ad in the Quiz will reach 91 percent of the families in Ord and on the Ord routes, plus almost 1,000 families elsewhere in Ord trade territory, isn't it logical that Quiz space is the BEST way to reach YOUR market?

"We Can Bring Back Prosperity"

"We've heard a lot of discussion about the factors that govern prosperity. I KNOW that in the final analysis prosperity is a local matter FIRST. You can't have national prosperity without local prosperity first any more than you can have successful national government. To assure local prosperity support HOME INDUSTRIES AND HOME BUSINESSES. Buy "made in Ord" goods so far as possible. Use "Ord Service" so as to keep Ord workmen busy. That way lies prosperity."

FORD RELIABILITY

Long, hard use shows the value of good materials and simplicity of design

EVERYWHERE you go you hear reports of the good performance and reliability of the Ford.

One owner writes—"The Ford Tudor Sedan I am driving has covered 59,300 miles through all kinds of weather. It is still giving perfect satisfaction."

Another owner describes a trip of 3217 miles in 95 hours over bad roads and through heavy rain and sleet in the mountains. "Throughout the entire trip," he writes, "the Ford performed excellently and no mechanical trouble of any kind was experienced. The shatter-proof glass undoubtedly saved us from serious injury when a prairie chicken struck the windshield while we were traveling at 65 miles an hour."

Higher Poultry Price Only Bright Spot In Forecast

Steady egg prices and higher poultry prices are probable for Valley county farmers in the next thirty days, according to the monthly economic situation report as issued from the agricultural college in Lincoln today by Prof. Harold Hedges. The college of agriculture man makes his prediction for the period starting April 16.

The report indicates that cash wheat prices may remain at present levels, corn prices probably be steady or a little higher while hog prices are apt to remain near present levels. Hedges says some further weakness in fat cattle prices and little lower butter prices may prevail during the period.

New crop prospects will largely determine the course of prices for wheat, corn, soybeans, and other crops. The report on the condition of winter wheat indicated a crop of 40 million bushels larger than last year despite a little smaller acreage.

With remaining stocks of corn small, Nebraska farmers are told that steady or little higher prices for the crop are probable during the next thirty day period. The visible supply is the smallest in years. At present corn prices in Omaha are 18 to 20 cents a bushel under wheat. This is too wide a margin to encourage any substantial substitution of wheat for corn.

Until there is more definite evidence of improving industrial conditions and the bulk of the fall pigs have been marketed, chances for substantial advances in the hog prices seem slight. Though hog receipts continue to run smaller than a year ago the seasonal decrease in marketings appear near an end as more fall pigs become available for slaughter.

There may be a little further weakness in fat cattle prices in the next thirty day period, since late April and May often see an increase in marketing of fat cattle. Many feed lots are cleared at that time when farming activity increases and warm weather approaches.

Dairymen over the state may find further weakness developing in butter prices in the next thirty days, according to Hedges. The usual turn of prices is downward from April to May. Only four times in the last twenty years has the May price for 92-score creamery butter in New York averaged higher than the April price. Though present prices are stimulating consumption price improvement appears unlikely with the season of accumulation just ahead. Price changes for eggs from April to May are usually not large, Hedges indicates in predicting steady prices for the next period. Since April 1, receipts have been about ten percent lighter than last year. Storage stocks for the year are under those of last year also.

Seasonally higher poultry prices are seen for the next thirty days. The economic situation shows that in fourteen of the last twenty years the May farm price for chickens has been higher than the April price. Reduction in size of farm flocks in recent months has resulted in larger market receipts of poultry but this liquidation is about over. The let-up in market receipts and the small storage stocks favor the seasonal price improvement.

CLUB GOAL SET AT 300 MEMBERS

Three Valley county 4-H club members have won prize trips to the 1931 club week as held on the college of agriculture campus in Lincoln during the first week in June. County Agent Dale announced this morning that other club members and leaders will probably attend from this county. Winners of prize trips are announced from the state club office at Lincoln include Myrna Ward, Ord; Billy Ward, Arcadia; and Lloyd Marks, Ord.

Over 400 Nebraska club members are expected at the college for the annual week. The boys and girls will be housed on the agricultural college campus and will spend the week there. Numerous trips around the city and to Omaha will also be features of the week. In addition, a number of banquets are planned for the farm boys and girls.

County Agent Dale said this morning that more club members may attend club week as delegates from their individual organizations. He has application blanks at his office for those clubs who are planning to send their delegates to the college for the week. The Valley county extension agent hopes some local leaders will attend.

Named Bee Inspector. F. M. Vodehnal has been appointed bee inspector for Valley county. He will be glad to hear from all who feel that there is something wrong with their bees. Mr. Vodehnal has made a study of American foulbrood and other bee ailments and can recommend and explain methods of controlling them.

Valasek Bros. Have Best Herd In March Tests

Having an average butterfat production of 28.1 pounds per cow during the month of March, the Valasek Dairy Herd Improvement Association stood eighteenth in state standings, according to information sent the Quiz today from the agricultural college in Lincoln.

Carl J. Smith, official tester, reported that there were 314 cows on test during the month. There were two cows in the association producing above sixty pounds of butterfat in March. Thirty-nine cows produced from forty to fifty pounds while twelve made a record of fifty to sixty pounds for the same period.

Valasek Brothers, of Ord, however, had the highest fat producing fifteen cow class milked twice daily. The Ord dairymen received an average production of 55.3 pounds butterfat during the month. They had eleven Holstein cows on test. The cows averaged 1678 pounds of milk for the period.

In the class of sixteen or more cows, Earl Hanson of Ord led the Valley County Dairy Herd Improvement Association. His herd of Holsteins averaged 32.9 pounds butterfat. The Ord farmer had eighteen cows on test in March.

WOMEN TO STUDY HOME EQUIPMENT

New Extension Project Starts Next Fall. Ladies Finish This Year's Work Soon.

Valley county extension club women next fall will study convenient home equipment for their project, according to information sent the Quiz this morning from the agricultural college in Lincoln. The local women have just finished their work with health as conducted by Miss Florence Atwood, foods specialist at the agricultural college.

Miss Muriel Smith will give the project in Valley county for the coming year, the word tells Quiz readers. She will visit the county twice each month when she will hold leaders' training schools. Each club in the county will send two delegates to the schools where they will be instructed by Miss Smith. Then the delegates will take the information back to their individual clubs. This same plan was followed this year by Miss Atwood.

County Agent Dale declared this morning that the past year has been a successful one in extension club work over Valley county. More clubs have come to Ord to take the work and there seems to be more general interest over the project. Local women are giving their extension achievement day program within the next week in Ord.

The Valley county agent emphasizes the fact that any rural or town lady can belong to an extension club and take the work. The club must be organized, however, before the two delegates attend the meeting. The specialist from the agricultural college gives the farm and town women practically the same material that is taught in home economics courses at the college only the work is applied in a practical sense to conditions surrounding the farm and city home.

Each club in the county holds at least six meetings during the year and discuss the lessons as brought to them by their project leaders. Then at the end of the club year a county-wide achievement day program is planned and held. As in previous years the Valley county achievement day will be held in Ord again this year. It is expected that over 300 persons will probably attend.

Bee Keepers Meet Again Next Tuesday

The first demonstration of the year for the Valley County Beekeepers association is to be held next Tuesday on the Frank Vodehnal farm near Ord. The local association was organized recently. O. S. Bare, state extension entomologist, will be in Valley county for the meeting and conduct the demonstration. It will deal with spring cleaning. In his announcement of the demonstration, Mr. Vodehnal, who is bee inspector for Valley county, says he hopes to have a large group of enthusiastic bee keepers at the meeting.

4-H Club Members Will Visit Lincoln

Valley county's 4-H club goal for 1931 is 300 members, according to word sent County Agent Dale today from the agricultural college in Lincoln. The report from State Club Leader Frisbie indicates that the goal if made will mean that more boys and girls will belong to 4-H clubs here than ever before.

Records for last year show that 241 farm youths were members of different clubs over the county. Dale said this morning that he hoped to attain his goal for 1931. The record last year exceeded all other enrollments for past years in Valley county.

In announcing the Valley county goal, State Club Leader Frisbie also indicates that the Nebraska goal for the year is 16,000 club members. County extension agents, boys and girls club agents, and club leaders have set their individual club goals and reported them to Frisbie.

Last year baby beef clubs, pig clubs and sewing clubs proved the most popular in Valley county, records at the agricultural college show. Dale declares, however, that the other girls' clubs will increase in enrollment this year. More boys and girls are already enrolled in baby beef work than in previous years.

"Much of the credit for the success of 4-H club work here in Valley county should go to the local leaders," Dale declared this morning. "They actually get out and make the club a real live-wire organization in their home communities. With their cooperation we should achieve our 4-H club goal for the year."

Though most of the clubs over the county have been organized for the year there is plenty of time to get others started, Dale maintains. Pig and baby beef clubs especially have been organized but there is still time for fat barrow clubs and the girls to organize their sewing and clothing clubs. The beef clubs were organized soon after the first of the year while most pig clubs were organized last month.

Many school children have been unable to get into 4-H clubs due to lack of time but Dale hopes to get clubs organized among these groups soon after the schools close. School teachers in many parts of the county are serving as club leaders.

Advise Hunters Of Change In The Season On Birds

Secretary O'Connell of the Nebraska game, forestation and parks commission has called attention to changes made in the hunting rules by the biological department of agriculture which will affect hunters in this state. Special attention is called to the provisions limiting goose decoys and starting the opening day of the season at noon. The duck and goose season will open October 1, instead of September 16, and will close, as of old, December 31.

The regulation regarding shooting the migratory birds were adopted by Secretary Hyde of the agricultural department and approved by President Hoover.

The chief amendment that affects all parts of the country is one that shortens the open seasons 15 days on ducks, geese (including brant), coots and jack-snipe. Hereafter the seasons on these birds will start 15 days later in the northern parts of the country and close 15 days earlier in the south. One effect of this amendment will be to prohibit the shooting of ducks, geese (including brant), coots and jack-snipe in September in any state.

Bladder Weakness

If Getting Up Nights, Backache, Leg Pains, Acidity or Burning due to functional Bladder Irritation, saps your energy and strength, I want you to come in and get the guaranteed, quick-acting Cystex treatment. I know Cystex is an honest, proven treatment, internationally successful and highly satisfactory to my customers. Write me now. Fast. Starts circulating through the system in 15 minutes. Don't suffer any more. I will worry needlessly because I only charge 60c and I guarantee Cystex must quickly do its work to your complete satisfaction or cost you nothing. Ed F. Beranek, druggist.

A further amendment of general effect regulates the hour at which hunters can begin shooting on the opening day of the season in each locality. Hereafter it will be illegal to hunt migratory game birds before noon on the opening day.

Other general provisions are concerned with decoys, baiting and bag limits. Not more than 10 live goose decoys may hereafter be used or shot over at one gaming stand, blind, or floating device. Baiting for mourning doves with salt or with wheat or other grain will not be permitted, and it is illegal to take these birds on or over areas so baited.

The bag limits on those geese for which open seasons are provided are changed by including brant with geese and limiting the total of all geese (including brant) to four a day and eight in possession.

The seasons on Ross and crackerling geese will be closed throughout the entire range of these species in this country and the closed season on snow geese is established in all states bordering on the Atlantic ocean.

New Chevrolet Plant 22,000 Bodies Made In

The speed of modern industry is illustrated by the announcement today that production of the new Chevrolet commercial body plant has totaled more than 22,000 bodies since Oct. 15. On that date, when the plant was taken over by Chevrolet, designs for bodies to be built here were not yet in existence.

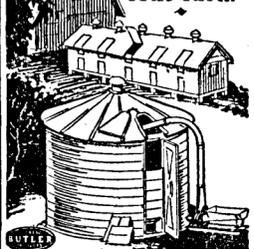

Sixteen different types are already in volume production and plans are complete for building three additional types.

Since acquiring the plant, formerly operated by the Martin-Parry Body Corp., Chevrolet officials have renovated the buildings and grounds, replaced obsolete equipment, schooled workmen in precision methods of manufacture called for in the body designs, and opened and placed in operation 52 body assembly plants at as many zone points.

The project adds over a million square feet of floor space to Chevrolet production facilities, and is particularly significant in that it was made during a time of general business slackness. The development here consists of forty acres of ground, and 700,000 square feet of plant and storage space.

EVERETT GROSS DIDN'T WIN BUT HAD GOOD TIME

Valley County Boy Competed In Two Spelling Bees; Girl Spelled in Inter-State.

Back from Omaha, where he represented Valley county in the state spelling bee, Everett Gross, 11 years old, is spending his time this week telling his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross, and his school mates at District 23, all about the sights he saw and the things he did in the big city.

Everett's special delight was the street cars and the fast elevators. He had seen neither of these modern inventions before and enjoyed riding on them.

Omaha people were very nice to him, Everett says, and his companion, Mrs. A. W. Cornell, echoes Everett's words.

Both Everett and Darlene competed in the inter-state contest last Friday. Twenty-four rounds of words were pronounced to determine the winner.

Margaret Morrow, of Omaha, won the state championship Saturday afternoon after a two-hour duel with Agnes Bowers, Greeley and she will go to the national contest in Washington, D. C., next month with expenses paid by the Omaha World-Herald.

Valley county's representative was the fifteenth student to go out in this match.

ALBERT HOSEK DIES AT RIPE OLD AGE OF 83

One of Community's Best Citizens Dies Saturday, Is Buried in Catholic Cemetery Here.

Funeral services were held at the Ord Catholic church Monday for Albert Hosek, 83, who passed away at his home here last Saturday.

Mr. Hosek was born in Bohemia August 9, 1849 and was educated in the common schools of his native land.

Why Isn't Now A Good Time To Gravel Ord Streets?

One outfit is already busy pumping gravel from the bottom of the North Loup river near Ord. Two more outfits will be installed soon.

Three years ago, when two of Ord's streets were surfaced, gravel cost about $3.00 per cubic yard, delivered on the streets.

Or it might be possible for the city to install a pumping outfit on Anderson's Island, running the pump with current from the city plant.

For various reasons now is an ideal time to gravel. The city needs all-weather surface on its streets.

The Quiz submits this idea for the consideration of Ord people and we will welcome a discussion of it through our columns.

MAN WHOSE FEET WERE FROZEN IN EARLY DAYS DIES

Alonzo Fradenburg, Who Came Here in Early 70's, Died At His Home in West April 16.

Alonzo Fradenburg, 88, one of the earliest residents of Valley county, passed away April 16 at his home in Ridgefield, Wash., after an illness of five years with cancer, the Quiz is informed.

Mr. Fradenburg came to the Loup valley about 1870 but it was in the winter of 1874 that he had his feet frozen while returning to Arcadia from a trip to Alinsworth.

"There had been a heavy snow fall and in a blinding blizzard cold Mr. Fradenburg became bewildered and wandered traveling in a circle for hours," Miss Goodenow wrote.

Mr. Fradenburg was born October 16, 1842 in New York state and was married in Minnesota to Annie Ryf, who passed away about ten years ago.

Mr. Fradenburg was a member of the Christian church and also of the G. A. R., in which organization he was prominent for many years.

Sack on School Board. Will Sack has been appointed to fill the vacancy left on the school board by the resignation of George W. Collier, who moved to Lexington last week.

MRS. P. BARTZ DIES SUDDENLY AT IOWA HOME

Had Been Indisposed For Several Days, Passed Away Sunday After Eating Lunch.

The stormy career of Mrs. Paul Bartz, the former Orilla Mae Behrle, came to a sudden end at 2 p. m. Sunday when, after eating a light lunch, she passed away suddenly at her home in Marshalltown, Ia.

She was born December 10, 1883 near old Fort Hartsoff, north of Elyria. Both of her parents are dead, but she is survived by four brothers, Frank and Bert Behrle, of Marshalltown, Ia., and Jake and Theron Behrle, of Ord.

After that marriage events took a stormy course both for Mrs. Bartz and her husband. Early in March, 1930, she sued for a divorce, charging that her husband had refused to provide a home for her and had been extremely cruel.

In April Mr. Bartz filed an answer and cross-petition to this suit in which he charged that his wife was a "gold digger" and married him only for his money.

Since that time one law suit has followed another in regard to the land until March 6, 1931, when most of the legal tangles were settled in a comprehensive case heard in district court here.

FARM RELIEF OFFER BEING MADE BY QUIZ

Will Pay 5c Above Market Price On Eggs, Chickens On Next Saturday Only.

For the benefit of old subscribers and to attract new ones the Quiz is making a big "farm relief" offer next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 4, 5 and 6, which are "Dollar Days" in Ord.

There are no strings attached to the offer. Anybody can take advantage of it, whether he is getting the Quiz at present or not.

People desirous of taking advantage of this offer should take their eggs or chickens to the Ord-Co-op creamery, Frank Fliskorski, or any other Ord buyer, and sell them.

Rotarians Have Theater Party. Members of the Ord Rotary club and their "Anns" enjoyed a dinner at the club rooms Monday evening, followed by a theater party at the new Ord theater.

Snow Storm Last Thursday. Snow fell all day last Thursday and much of the day Friday.

Barber Shops Close Tonight. All barber shops will close at 6 p. m. this evening, so all barbers can attend the meeting to form a co-operative baseball league.

TWO ORD YOUNG MEN NAMED FOR STATE FARMERS

Anthony Kokes, Harold Benn, Honored At State F. F. A. Meeting In Lincoln Saturday.

Two Ord members of the Future Farmers of America organization were honored at the state convention in Lincoln last week by being elevated to the degree of "State Farmer," the third degree in the F. F. A. organization and the highest honor that body can bestow.

In order to complete the requirements for State Farmer membership, boys must have completed home projects in connection with their vocational agriculture work; must have saved or profitably invested more than $200; must submit records of their leadership among the people of their community; and must have an average grade in high school above 85.

Both of the Ord boys so honored have remarkably fine records as school leaders and in agricultural work.

Dislocated Arm Brings Death To 2-Year-Old Boy. A dislocated arm brought death, Monday night, to Richard Dale, 2-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sorensen.

The little fellow dislocated the arm about ten days ago but it was a couple of days before an x-ray examination revealed the injury.

BARGAIN SHOWER WILL FALL HERE FOR THREE DAYS

Ord Merchants Co-operating To Make Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday Long Remembered.

The first "Dollar Day" bargain festival that has been held in Ord for several years will occupy the center of the stage next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, May 4, 5 and 6, when Ord merchants co-operate to give people of this territory the biggest values at the lowest prices in ten years.

It is a well known fact that a dollar today will buy nearly twice as much as the same sum of money bought a year or two ago.

Most of the business men of Ord are represented in the advertising columns of this week's Quiz. Groceries, ready-to-wear for men and women, furniture, drugs, dry goods, music, jewelry, meats, and nearly everything else to eat, wear or possess, are advertised in this week's Quiz.

THREE CONCERNS TO PUMP GRAVEL FROM LOUP RIVER

One Already In Operation, Two More Start Soon; Highway Gravel Being Found.

A new industry is being built up near Ord with the coming of gravel pumping outfits, who are busily engaged in pumping gravel for concrete construction and highway work from beneath the waters of the North Loup river.

The gravel bridge work in Valley county is just under state highway specifications, County Engineer Bill Ayres says, but is ideal for concrete work.

Fred Ulrich is said to be considering installing a pump in the C. Mortensen farm north of Ord. He has taken a contract to supply gravel for the "missing link" in the Ord-Arcadia state highway work in this section.

Fred Howard thinks Bill Cram is all wet when he claims to have a recipe for cooking spinach so it is good. I don't know how Bill cooks it but I do know how to cook it so it is mighty good. Cook nice smoked pork ham shank till it is nice and tender and then cook the spinach along with it and everyone who doesn't like spinach cooked that way is crazy.

Jim Misko tells me the following story of a wealthy Scotchman whose wife had pestered him for years to allow her to make a trip to California to visit relatives. Finally he consented. Shortly after her arrival on the coast, she became the victim of a traffic accident and was drowned. A relative sent the following message to her husband: "Wife drowned in accident here today. Body recovered, adhering to which was a specimen of a very rare fish for which Biological Society has offered $10,000. Wire instructions." And the Scotchman replied, "Accept offer and re-set bait." All of which reminds me of the young fellow who remarked that when he was first married he thought so much of his wife that he could eat her, and after he had lived with her a while he wished God he had.

Where's the fire, said Len Covert to Fred Coe, who he caught spilling up to the roof. Fred replied that the women were having a rummage sale and that he saw one of them talking to his wife and he was trying to get home in time to save his other pair of pants. Len advised him to drive faster.

I am sure that people don't like to have their cars filled with advertising circulars and that such circulars create a bad impression and probably do more harm than they do good. Saturday I noticed people throwing them out and I have heard some very uncomplimentary remarks from people when they found two or three dodgers in their car. I believe such advertising is mostly wasted if it doesn't actually do harm.

Heard a fellow wondering the other day why we didn't hear more about the gas people running a line to Ord and he asked if we at the Quiz office had any further news that had been printed. No, we have not. If we had we would have printed it. I guess gas is very satisfactory as a cooking heat. It has been discarded everywhere as a means of lighting. Here in Ord we are not seriously in need of it for cooking or heating. It is a question whether it would be any cheaper than coal for heating and we know it is not as safe for cooking as either coal or electricity. Many people have invested in electric stoves and they would not want to dispose of them at a loss to put in gas. Then there may be a question about steady gas pressure this far from the gas fields, too.

It seems to be agreed that catfish fishing in the North Loup river has been much better since the practice of seining at the mouth of the Platte was stopped by act of the legislature. That law was demanded by the people from the central and western part of the state. It is reasonable to suppose that by stretching seines across the mouth of the river, or near the mouth of the river when the spring run is on thousands of catfish which would otherwise come up to give fishermen a chance at some of them, would be caught and the steady decrease in the number of fish caught here and elsewhere along the Platte and its tributaries, proved that such was the case. So anxious were the fishermen of Omaha and nearby points to sein in the mouth of the Platte that they took the matter of the law into the courts and the supreme court of the United States finally declared it constitutional. The present session of the legislature, however, has undone the work of years by passing a law permitting fishing again at the mouth of the Platte and we may look for a steady decrease in the number of catfish caught here. As this is written I don't know how our members in the legislature voted and worked but I am told that many interior members voted for the change and in my judgment all such voted directly against the wishes of their constituents. What is claimed to be a saving clause and without which the bill probably could not have been passed, prevents seining on the Nebraska side of the Missouri during the spawning season and it is to be hoped this provision will be strictly enforced.

I want to call attention briefly here to the splendid offer which the Quiz is making to both new and renewal subscribers. We have many whose time expires about this time and this gives an opportunity to make a real saving.

—Wm. Valasek please call at Ord Theatre for two free tickets either April 30 or May 1.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Good recipes continue to pour in, and here is an ice box pudding you will surely want to try. This sort of dessert is delicious, and has the advantage of being prepared long beforehand. Any busy hostess knows what a help such food is, that can be made ready and set aside, helping so much to prevent that last minute flurry and bustle in the kitchen.

Fruit Ice Box Pudding.
2 c. rolled graham crackers
1 c. diced pineapple
1/4 tsp. salt
1 tsp. vanilla
2 c. marshmallows
2 tbs. cream
Mix ingredients, and pack in greased mold. Chill for 12 hours. Cut in slices and serve with whipped cream.

Yolk Sponge Cake.
9 egg yolks (which are left from angel cake)
1 whole egg
2 c. sugar
1 c. hot water
2 c. flour
1/2 tsp. salt
2 tbs. orange rind
1 tsp. orange juice or same amount of any preferred flavoring.
Beat the egg yolks and egg white together until very light and fluffy. Add sugar gradually, beating with a rotary egg beater all the time—about 10 minutes. When mixture becomes too stiff to turn the beater add a little of the hot water. Sift flour once before measuring. Sift flour, salt and baking powder together adding alternately with the remaining hot water. Add flavoring and bake in large ungreased pan at 325 degrees for one hour.

White Cake.
1/2 c. butter, scant
2 c. sugar
1 c. sweet milk
2 c. flour
5 egg whites
2 tsp. baking powder
lemon flavoring to taste
Cream butter and sugar, add the milk and the flour sifted with the baking powder. Lastly fold in the beaten egg white and flavoring. Bake in layers.

Angel Cake.
1 large tumbler granulated sugar
1/2 tumbler powdered sugar
1 tumbler sifted flour
11 egg whites
1 tsp. cream of tartar
Beat the eggs to a stiff froth. Sift the dry ingredients 5 times, add to the whites stirring lightly and as little as possible. Bake same as an angel food, 3-4 of an hour.

Something DIFFERENT

Never heard so much talk about red geraniums. Every one is planning on putting them out, now that they have been officially chosen Ord's finest flower. How effective a red geranium town will be, with all that lively green and cheerful scarlet turned into effective patches in every yard.

That reminds me, Mrs. Clate McGrew, who is an indefatigable worker, is about 150 per cent enthusiastic over the gardening projects laid out for Ord this summer. She is always working hard trying to improve and beautify her home, and says she is glad that she has just lots and lots of red geraniums to put out this year, and is busily "slipping" more of them as fast as she can.

Word is going round that florists and rose growers are simply swamped with rose bushes and cut roses this season. So if you have longed for more roses, do buy them this spring while they are low priced.

Speaking of improvements, Mrs. Joe Dworak is all enthused over a dandy new lily pool and trimmings which are being installed in her backyard this spring. She had the tank to sink last year, but the problem didn't seem to get suitably solved till now. And is it going to be attractive?

Mrs. Mark Guggenmos is another ambitious and hard working improver. The home which they bought a year ago, is getting nicer looking every day. Isn't it astonishing what fresh paint, good care, and a few dollars thoughtfully spent will do? Plus, of course, whole lots of elbow grease.

Fred Coe writes his own ads, or the Ord Co-op creamery. They are attention getters, too. If you don't believe it, try them out on yourself. The one last week was "so different", to say the least. Even if he did say "Ain't it a big black head. Or perhaps because of it."

Let us hope that the backyards of some of our local car dealers are going to be sorted out and cleaned up. Won't make much difference what else is done hereabouts if we have to continue to look at those wreckers.

A few timely cracks from home-room teachers to their students would be appreciated by all Ord's gardeners. Tell the children to stay away from new trees and shrubs, and to carefully follow the sidewalks and not go corner-cutting. If every child in Ord had even three little bulbs or plants of his very own, all such troubles would cease. Those children would take a new interest in being careful of green growing things.

Woman Fined For Liquor. The first woman ever fined on a liquor charge in Greeley county was Mrs. Serona Squires, of Wolbach, who was fined $100 and costs last week when three gallons of whiskey was found in her cob house. She claimed the liquor was not hers and she did not know who put it there, but County Judge Scott assessed the fine.

The census figures were released and gave Ord's population as 1,960 and Valley county's population as 9,480.

At the N. J. Peterson hog sale Archie Bradt bought one of the best registered sows for $37.50. A few days later she gave birth to a litter of 18 pigs.

CATTLE LOSSES CAUSE STOBBE TAKE OWN LIFE

Mr. Stobbe had been morose for some time, relatives say and about a month ago attempted suicide by poison. A doctor was called and he administered an antidote, Stobbe recovering.

Members of the family noticed nothing unusual about his actions last Thursday. He went about the chores in his usual way but about 10 o'clock Mrs. Stobbe noticed that the separated milk was still in the house and, wondering at her husband's unusual neglect, went to the barn where she found his body hanging from a rafter.

Mr. Stobbe's physician was called and he responded at once. He cut the body down but it was believed that death had come about a half hour before the discovery of the body. Death was due to strangulation, the doctor said.

About ten years ago Mr. Stobbe was a resident of Valley county but moved from his farm south-east of Ord to near Grand Island, where he had an ideal country home.

Private funeral services were held Sunday afternoon from the farm home and burial was in the Grand Island cemetery. Mr. Stobbe was born Nov. 19, 1881 in Steinhude, Germany, and came to America thirty-one years ago. For twenty years he lived in the North Loup vicinity and then moved to Hall county.

In 1914, at Columbus, he was married to Miss Paula Wetter and besides his widow he is survived by one son, Charles, 12 years old, three brothers, Adolph, of Grand Island; Ezra, of Wood River; Herman, of North Loup; and by two sisters, Dora Deitch, of Columbus and Miss Helena Stobbe, of Rawlins, Wyo.

Following Mr. Stobbe's first suicidal attempt his family urged him strongly to go to some sanitarium. He did consent to go to Excelsior Springs, Mo., and remained there nearly three weeks. It had also been the intention to go to Rochester but his condition after his return from Missouri made the trip inadvisable.

This Latin class had only six members, George Allen, Charles Shepard, Marthamae Barta, Rosemary Needham, Letya, and Zola Barta. Consequently every member had a chance to recite, and the class had a more personal and inviting aspect. Small classes are strongly advocated by education authorities, and 20 is named as the maximum number desirable in many classes, if the best results are to be secured from both teacher and students.

There have been a few cases of anthrax in cattle around Ord lately. The presence of this disease should become a matter of grave concern to those near infected animals, since anthrax is a contagious disease which may be contracted by man.

Back in the seventeenth century anthrax often took the form of a plague, and was responsible for the death of thousands of persons and animals. At present, men who handle raw hides in shoe factories and tanneries frequent become infected with this malady. They call it wool-sorters disease, or malignant pustule. Shaving brushes have been known to carry the germs in the bristles. Germs may be present in diseased flesh, and are one of the reasons why meat should be thoroughly cooked. At least ten percent of the cases in humans terminate fatally.

Anthrax is usually found in cattle and sheep. Dogs and hogs are slightly susceptible to it. Mice, rabbits, goats, horses, cats, and certain kinds of game may also succumb to it. The disease is quite similar to blackleg. Its diagnosis requires an expert laboratory examination. The first warning of anthrax often comes with the discovery of an animal dead in the pasture. Other animals develop slight temperatures and breathe rapidly. They may have swellings and bloody discharges. Usually they die in one or two days. The amateur should never try to open or skin an animal suspected of having died of anthrax, as it is very dangerous.

Places contaminated by anthrax may remain permanently infected. The disease spores are resistant to freezing, thawing and boiling, and live indefinitely in the soil.

Fortunately there is a vaccine with which healthy animals may be immunized against the disease. There is also a successful serum treatment against cases of anthrax in both men and animals.

state matches before. Margaret Morrow was runner-up last year and the girl she beat, Agnes Bowlers, was state champion and went to Washington last spring.
While in Omaha Everett, Mrs. Cornell and Miss McClatchey stayed at the Fontenelle hotel where Everett enjoyed every minute of his time. At the city hall, where the state match was held, he made friends with the elevator operator and was taken on a non-stop trip to the top floor, where he inspected everything there was to be seen. Darlene Anderson spent much of her time visiting her sister, who lives in Omaha. She is a daughter of Mrs. Mable Anderson, of North Loup.
The Ord party encountered bad roads both going down last Thursday and returning Saturday night. They went by way of Lincoln and inspected the state capitol building. They were routed back through the capital city and stopped for a short time, reaching Ord about 2 a. m. Sunday.

ERNEST HALLOCK DIED TUESDAY IN SALT LAKE CITY

Funeral Services For Former Ord Man Will Be Held To- morrow At Sowl's Chapel.

Peritonitis, following an operation, caused the death in Salt Lake City, Utah, Tuesday of Ernest N. Hallock, well known former Ord resident. He had been ill for about ten days and an operation was resorted to but inflammation set in and he passed away at 2:35 a. m. Tuesday.

Tomorrow, at 2:00 p. m., funeral services for Mr. Hallock will be held at Sowl's chapel, Rev. Willard McCarthy having charge, and burial will be in Ord cemetery. The body arrived from Salt Lake City last night.

Mr. Hallock was born in Muscatine, Ia., Dec. 14, 1873, the son of F. and Mary Hallock. The Hallock family moved to Valley county in 1885 and in 1903 to Ord. Ernest was graduated from Ord high school and on April 15, 1906, he was united in marriage to Miss Leila Ball.

Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Hallock, Murray O. and Ralph E., both of whom have lived with their parents at the family home at 2903 North 42nd street, Lincoln.

For several years Mr. Hallock taught school, then he learned the barber trade and followed it both in Ord and at Lincoln for a long time, but for the past seven years he has been employed as a traveling salesman for the Capewell Nall company, and he was in the employ of this firm when seized with his fatal illness.

While living here he was baptized in the Methodist faith but later became a member of the Christian church. He was also a member of the Ord Masonic lodge.

Ernest had many friends in Ord and he was generally liked and respected by all who knew him here. They will extend sympathy to the widow and sons in the untimely and grievous death of Mr. Hallock.

School Students Prepare Ad.

Ray O. Bissell, of Beatrice, who has been in Ord six weeks weather-proofing the new school building, is running an ad in the Quiz this week that was prepared for him by advertising students at Ord high school. Mr. Bissell got his start in the weather-proofing and weather-stripping business here ten years ago and since then has handled 1,500 jobs in Nebraska and Iowa. Look up his ad in this week's Quiz and read it.

Dr. Barta Recovering.

Dr. F. A. Barta, who submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis two weeks ago in the Ord hospital, is making a good recovery but will have to remain in the hospital for a week or ten days longer. His appendix had ruptured when the operation was performed.

Sautter Dies at Hillcrest.

Martin Sautter, 72-year-old Scotian man, passed away yesterday at Hillcrest. He was brought there in a very serious condition with kidney disease several days ago. His daughter, Mrs. Lily Wecker, accompanied the body to Scotia yesterday and funeral services will be held there. Mr. Sautter is the father of Dan, Guy and Harry Sautter, well known in Ord for their baseball playing. He was a lifelong friend of W. B. Wecker, of Ord.

Arcadia Grade Accepted.

The grade on the highway between Arcadia and Ord has been completed and accepted by the state and federal governments, the Quiz is informed by Mr. McAllister, in charge of highway maintenance work in this county. Some of the bridges aren't dry yet so cars are still being detoured around by Vinton. Graveling will start at once.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson and daughter Shirley Beth, drove to Hastings Tuesday to visit in the John S. Payton home.

Tell Your Friends About The Dollar Days In Ord

After you read the Quiz this week and note the wonderful values being offered by Ord merchants for Dollar Days next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, step to the telephone and tell your friends living in other communities about this big event. 3,500 copies of the Quiz are being sent out this week but many will be missed who will be glad to know of this event.

The Quiz believes that $1.00 will buy the most in Ord next week of any place in Nebraska or the middle-west. You'll think so too if you read the ads carefully.

You can afford to buy for weeks ahead while these low prices are in effect.

Couldn't Spell 'Corral,' So Lost

EVERETT GROSS.

Everett Gross, Valley county entrant in the World-Herald's state spelling bee at Omaha last Saturday, is a farm boy but the word "corral" stumped him. He spelled it "correll" so was eliminated from the contest. Everett made a fine showing before that, though, says Mrs. A. W. Cornell, who accompanied him to the spelling bee. Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, is pleased also with Everett's record in the interstate meet Friday. The District 23 lad won the right to enter the state bee when he won the Valley county championship. His expenses to Omaha were paid by the Ord Quiz.

Hoodoo Dogs Ord Teachers; Bell Has Leg Abscess

For about the 'steenth time something has happened to Ord's teaching staff this year. This time Superintendent of Schools Millard Bell has a painful abscess on his leg, which necessitated an incision being made Tuesday evening. He is now much relieved and getting along nicely, and will probably be back at school in a week or two.

The superintendent had an enforced vacation earlier this year when smallpox quarantined his home. Kovanda had a similar enjoyable vacation; and Mr. Cass, principal of the high school was severely ill with the same disease.

Then Miss Lucie Wittner, a grade school teacher, had to submit to an appendicitis operation and miss her classes for a while. Mabel Misko broke her leg early in the year and had to hobble about on crutches while her little kindergarteners learned from someone else; Jean Nelson was threatened with appendicitis and spent 10 days in the hospital while her classes struggled along without her; and that popular friend of everyone in school, Joe Kradel, was out for an appendicitis operation, and has also suffered a few minor bangs and bungs.

It is hoped that such a Jonah year will never be heard of again in the Ord city schools.

Four Generations At Birthday Party

Saturday was Mrs. D. A. Moser's birthday and the next day her daughter, Mrs. Ernest Holloway and family, of Burwell, drove to Ord to help her celebrate the day. At the dinner table were seated four generations, Mrs. Moser, her daughter, Mrs. Holloway, the latter's son, Seward, and his son, Emery.

Richard Dale Sorensen, born February 2, 1929, and passed away at Ord April 28, 1931, at 2 a. m. He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sorensen, a brother, Russell, a sister, Betty, his grandmother, Mrs. Mads Sorensen, several aunts, uncles and cousins. Funeral services will be held at the Sowl chapel at 2 p. m. today, April 30, and pall-bearers will be Coyd Nutter, Cletus Nolde, Frank Dasher and Robert Albers. He will be buried in Ord cemetery.

Richard Dale was a bright, lovable little fellow and his loss will be felt greatly. He was a favorite of all who knew him.

Has Appendix Operation.

Frank Norman, well known Ord stock buyer and monument salesman, submitted to an appendix operation Thursday in the Ord hospital. He is making a quick recovery, which will be good news to his many friends.

Entertain Mrs. Colliprest.

The Merrymix club gave a surprise 7:30 o'clock dinner Tuesday evening for Mrs. G. W. Colliprest, a member of their club who is moving to Lexington. Mrs. Colliprest was presented with a very pretty dish.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Smith, of Carthage, Mo., were here yesterday attending the funeral of E. L. Johnson. Mrs. Smith is a sister of Mrs. Johnson.

Many Prizes Offered In Big Ord Yard and Garden Contest

A fine list of awards offered by a number of progressive Ord merchants in the Ord Yard and Garden Contest, which is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce is certain to inspire a new crop of members to join this dandy movement, which brings new beauty to your home place and to Ord in general while providing healthful recreation.

North Loup, April 27.—(Special) Seventy-five years ago today George Coombs was born at Loup, Mo. Today funeral services for Mr. Coombs were held at his home here and he was laid to rest in the North Loup cemetery. He passed away at the age of 74 years, 11 months and 28 days, after suffering since last November with cancer of the stomach.

Mr. Coombs grew to manhood in Clinton, Mo., where he was first married and where his son, George Leslie, and his daughter, Jessie, are now living. Jessie preceded him in death fifteen years ago. Later he moved to Boulder, Colo., where in 1900 he was married to Miss Ella Green. Mr. and Mrs. Coombs moved to North Loup in the fall of that year and here their son, Albert, was born.

Besides his wife and Albert, Mr. Coombs is survived by his son, Leslie and wife, whose home is in California but who have been here for the past several months. Three sisters in California and a brother in Missouri also survive Mr. Coombs.

The Ord Masonic lodge had charge of the funeral services here Monday and Rev. Hurley Warren conducted them.

Geo. Coombs Buried On 75th Birthday

Representatives of North Loup, Broken Bow, Litchfield and Arcadia met at Arcadia Monday evening and formed a new four-team baseball league which will play a series of 12 games this summer. League encounters will take place on alternate Sundays, with the various teams playing outside the league on the intervening Sundays.

George Kriz, of Broken Bow, was elected president and C. A. Pollard, of Litchfield, was chosen secretary-treasurer.

Ord Couple Married 56 Years, Celebrate With Party Saturday

Saturday evening, at their home in the north part of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dubas celebrated the fifty-sixth anniversary of their wedding at a party attended by ten of their twelve children. Their children brought baskets of food and a fine time is reported.

Mr. and Mrs. Dubas were married fifty-six years ago, on April 25, in Poland. Before her marriage Mrs. Dubas was Miss Agnes Podroza. A year later they came to America and started a home on a farm near Columbus, where they lived until moving to a farm in Valley county 26 years ago. A few years ago they moved to Ord.

In 1925 Mr. and Mrs. Dubas celebrated their golden wedding anniversary and all of their children were present, along with a lot of other relatives and friends. Last Saturday two daughters, Mrs. John Swartz, of Fullerton, and Mrs. Charles Brudney, of Platte Center, could not be here. Their children who were present were Frank Dubas, Steve Dubas, Mrs. Tom Walachowski and Mrs. Joe Jablonski, of Elyria. Mrs. Andrew Shotkoski, Leon Dubas and Mrs. Ed Jablonski of Burwell, Mrs. Frank Shotkoski, Mrs. Joe Wadas and Mrs. John Janus, of Ord, together with their families. Two granddaughters, Mrs. Steve Kapustka and Mrs. John Lech, and their husbands, and a grandson, Ed Dubas and wife also were there.

There, Said the Man, Is Where George Washington Threw the Dollar Across the River

Facing the broad river that slides majestically past Mount Vernon, the witty historian likes to tell the new visitor about the alleged feat of the Father of His Country.

The visitor looks at the distant shore-line and says it doesn't seem possible.

"The river," he says, "must have been much narrower then."

"No," says the wise guide, "you know a dollar went much farther then."

We're back in the general direction of Washington's day, now—that's one discovery that Spring makes as it comes marching north.

The dollar has gotten noticeably bigger. It doesn't take a Washington to make a dollar go much farther than it went a year ago.

Spring merchandise news is dollar-traveling news.

Spring news and economy news is being convincingly told in the advertising columns of Ord Quiz.

And How a Dollar Goes Farther Now, Too!

Don't Pick Klein Tulips; Mae Has Them Counted

Have you noticed the bed of bright red tulips on the south side of John Klein's lawn? Many have, and have been tempted to pick one. Don't do it, though, for little Miss Mae Klein has them counted. She says there are 71 in bloom and 21 buds. And she counts them every day to see that none are missing.

The Klein family always have one of the most pleasing lawns in town and this year is no exception.

STATE SEEKS TO CONDEMNLANDON BURWELL ROAD

Goodenows Reject All Offers For Right-of-Way So Proceed- ings Started Here.

Condemnation proceedings for a right-of-way across Maude Goodenow Jackson's land on the Valley-Garfield line were started in county court here yesterday by George Munn, county attorney, acting on District Highway Engineer Gut County Judge Hollingshead will appoint three appraisers to determine the value of the land, after which a title to the condemned land will be given to the state unless the owner care to appeal.

For some time the state highway department has been trying to purchase a right-of-way for the state-federal highway between Ord and Burwell from Miss Goodenow. The desired right-of-way runs along the west side of the railway track, but on the Goodenow land some improvements will have to be moved and some trees will be destroyed and the owner has rejected all offers the state has made for the highway. In order to get the highway started the state must get possession of the property by condemnation proceedings.

About 6.72 acres are sought by the state in the present action. This is the last piece of right-of-way needed in Valley county, according to County Attorney Munn, and the state getting possession of it will assure completion of the highway at least to the Garfield county line this summer.

The present condemnation proceedings is the first such action that the highway department has had to file to secure right-of-way in Valley county.

Dr. A. B. Wightman 100 Years Old

Dr. A. B. Wightman, for many years a Nebraska educator, recently observed the hundredth anniversary of his birth at his home in Torrance, Calif. Friends at Neligh learned he was in good health.

Dr. Wightman formerly was dean of York college, and later a member of the faculty of Nebraska Wesleyan university, the old Gates college at Neligh, and the long defunct Norfolk college. He also taught school at Fremont, Brownville and Tecumseh.

When 80 years old he took a homestead near Carter, S. D. He came to Nebraska in 1875 as superintendent of schools at Plattsmouth—G. I. Independent.

Dr. Wightman is an uncle of Mrs. Tom Williams and she hears from him through relatives, quite often.

Husband Sues, But Wife Gets Divorce And $5,950 Judgment

A transcript of a divorce decree granted in Lincoln county to Vesta R. Adamek from her husband, Wendell P. Adamek, was received for filing by Alfred Weigard, clerk of the district court, this week. Mr. Adamek had sued for the divorce, his wife filed a cross-petition and the court granted the divorce to her, ordering Mr. Adamek to pay her $5,950, and also court costs. She charged adultery in her cross-petition.

New Side to Dog!

Believe it or not—the most feared animal in the African jungles is a dog. When packs of wild dogs start across the wilderness, even the elephant hides. Interesting details of these strange animals were filmed and recorded in the making of "Trader Horn", Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's vivid drama of jungle adventure, which will open tonight at the Ord theatre.

Misses Chance To Scramble Eggs And Beef

Clyde Miley, of Ravenna, a young fellow who owns a truck for the Omaha Cold Storage Co., topped a hill just south of Loup City on his return drive from Ord Tuesday evening and found himself in the midst of cows and cows. Two or three of the animals were badly disabled, but driver and truck escaped unhurt. This was missed a wonderful opportunity to scramble eggs and beef.

DEATH CLAIMS PROMINENT ORD CITIZEN MONDAY

Edward L. Johnson Passes Away After Months of Suffering; Funeral Yesterday.

Death, coming after long months of illness, ended the earthly career of Edward L. Johnson, prominent resident of Ord for forty-three years, at his home here Monday afternoon. He had been in poor health ever since an attack of pneumonia a year and a half ago and although he was cared for by doctors both here and in the south, nothing could be done to restore his health. For the past several months he was confined to his bed most of the time and death was for him a release from suffering.

Funeral services for Mr. Johnson were held at Sowl's chapel at 2 p. m. yesterday, the past several days, of which he was a long time member, having charge. Rev. W. H. Wright conducted the services, which were attended by an enormous crowd of those who were Mr. Johnson's friends in life. The chapel was banked with the floral tributes of those who had known him for many years.

Mr. Johnson was born at Moravia, Ia., Febr. 22, 1865, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Johnson. He came to Ord in 1888 and during his residence here was a dealer in livestock and grain in recent years he was senior partner in the firm of Johnson & Petersen and was active in business up until the time of his seizure with pneumonia in the fall of 1929.

Few men who ever lived in Ord were more widely known or liked than Ed Johnson. His business gave him a "nickname" acquaintance with practically every farmer and business man in this territory and all of them are sorry to hear of his death Monday and extend deepest sympathy to his wife and family.

Mr. Johnson was married here in 1892 to Eliza Belle Bartlett and besides his widow is survived by three sons and two daughters, all of whom live in Ord. They are Glen, Forrest and Edward Johnson, Jr., Mrs. Hope Demund and Mrs. Alice Blessing. One infant son died in 1929.

Besides his own family Mr. Johnson leaves four grandchildren, two brothers, W. B. Johnson and J. V. Johnson, of Burwell, and three sisters, Mrs. Ida Taylor, of Nebraska City, Mrs. L. V. Peters, of Clearfield, S. D., and Mrs. Mabel Simpson, of Lincoln. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

Arcadia Team Opens Season With Victory

Arcadia, April 27.—(Special)—The Arcadia town baseball team opened its season Sunday against Litchfield, winning by a score of 3 to 6. Burns started hurling for Arcadia and for four innings went in the form of several wild pitches. Big Beryl Lang finished. The Arcadia team played a queer game, making six errors. The box score:

Legion Auxiliary Notes.
The Legion Auxiliary met in the M. E. church basement Friday afternoon with nine members and eight guests present. We finished sewing the carpet rags on hand. Four bedside bags are finished and the making of twelve comfort pillows started for the Veterans hospital at Lincoln. This week we will make a red poppy flower bed in the Community Park in memory of "Those who lie in Flander's Field." The work for the families of the dead and living veterans is only a part of the Legion and Auxiliary program. We endeavor to do something for the veterans who are still alive and within reach of our help. Auxiliary women go into the hospitals where they are confined, bringing them cheer and comforts and necessities not provided by the government. We help them after they leave the hospitals and begin the long uphill struggle to regain a foothold in life.

The money to finance this vast work comes largely from the little red memorial poppy.

At the close of our business meeting a delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Frank Evans and Mrs. Erick Erickson.

Winifred Boone, Pub. Ch. Re-Decoreating Barber Shop. Mrs. P. J. Schank has been busy the past week redecorating the interior of her beauty shop in the attractive colors of lavender, green and ivory. Ivory is used for the basic color with combination trimmings of lavender and green. A window has been cut through the east wall of the beauty shop, thus affording more light and air, and a twelve inch lattice has been arranged at the top of the sub-partitions. Mrs. Schank plans on placing lavender draperies on each side of the cream color curtains at the windows and when the work is completed the shop will present a very attractive and restful appearance.

Quilt Show May 1st.
We wish to again call your attention to the quilt show to be held by the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist church at the church basement Friday afternoon, May 1st. Prizes will be given for the most attractive quilts. A program will also be given and tea served by the hostesses, Mrs. J. G. Stanley and Mrs. C. C. Weddel assisted by members of the Aid. A small admission will be charged. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Re-Decorate Barber Shop.
The interior of the McClary barber shop has been attractively redecorated the past week in the colors of blue and cream. The ceiling and side walls are cream color with a stenciled border of blue. The mirror frames, shelving and fixtures are also done in cream color with trimmings of blue. The color scheme makes the shop seem much lighter as well as adding greatly to its appearance.

Pig and Calf Clubs to Meet.
The R. K. D. Litter and Calf clubs will meet next Friday evening May 1st at the home of Paul and Carl Easterbrook.

Farmers Club Meeting Called Off.
The April meeting of the Farmers club which was to have been held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thaurman Bridges at Comstock last Saturday was called off on account of the condition of the roads. The March meeting of the club was also called off the month before on account of bad roads.

Junior-Senior Banquet May 6th.
Invitations are out for the Junior-Senior banquet which will be held at the Methodist church dining hall next Wednesday evening at seven o'clock.

Beauty Park.
A number of industrious citizens worked very diligently at the Community Park Arbor day planting trees, shrubs, flowers etc., which had been kindly donated by generous friends. Seven flower beds were arranged to beautify the park, each of the following organizations furnishing material for a flower bed, Eastern Star lodge, Girl Scouts, Legion Auxiliary and Samaguard. More flowers and shrubs will be planted throughout the season, thus paving the way for a beautiful town park.

FIRE PREVENTION NOTES.
 Men constituting organizations similar to the Nebraska State Fire Prevention Association, several of whose members took part in the recent inspection of Ord, assert that numerous fires throughout the country are due to the practice of allowing packing boxes, waste paper and other inflammable material to accumulate in the basements of stores and workshops. These men who have had wide experience in inspecting buildings and their contents, say that many owners and occupants of stores would be astounded if they fully realized the dangerous conditions existing in that portion of the premises which they know the least about, as a general proposition.

Experience and observation have demonstrated that a great many fires have originated from spontaneous ignition in a pile of rubbish in a basement. Other fires originating in basements where inflammable waste has been allowed to accumulate have been caused by a careless smoker, who dropped a lighted match, a cigar or cigarette butt into the rubbish. No matter what the contributing cause may be, if rubbish is strewn all over the basement, the blaze gets such a start, as a rule, before being discovered that a serious fire results.

The fire preventionists stress the point that property owners should see to it that packing material and other rubbish are properly cared for and regularly removed from the premises. By so doing they will be protecting their own places of business and safeguarding the property of their neighbors. In addition, they will be doing their part in reducing the fire waste of the nation, which amounts to almost $500,000,000 annually, a very large proportion of which is due to preventable causes.

To prevent fires, with their resultant destruction of property and not infrequently loss of life, the head of the fire marshal's department of a neighboring state lists the following as a few of the things that should be kept apart at all times:

- Sparks and gasoline.
- Children and matches.
- Gas jets and lace curtains.
- Hot ashes and wooden containers.
- Electric wires and metal objects.
- Rubbish piles and careless smokers.
- Coins or metal connectors and safety plugs.

A dangerous practice on the part of many persons is what is known as "jumping fuses, as is also the use of pennies or other makeshift devices when a fuse blows out, often permitting an overload on the circuit and not infrequently a fire. In case of electrical trouble, the safest course to pursue is to call a competent electrician.

Installing New Canopies.
 The new metal awnings ordered for the fronts of the Misko Harness and the Stoltz Variety Store are being put in place this week under the direction of Jay Abble. The awnings were manufactured in Hastings.

Nebraska School Pupils Range from 5 to 80 Years.
 The interest in education in Nebraska, shown by the expenditure of thirty-three million dollars annually for education, is not confined to youth of compulsory school age or their parents. Over the state a number of people are going to school who are their own "bosses" and go to school because they want to. There are men and women up to 30 years attending night classes in the common branches.

A typical school of this sort is at St. Helena, in Cedar county. The principal of the school, Nial Betz, conducts night classes three nights a week for folks who are not satisfied with their schooling in the common branches. Instruction is given in arithmetic, spelling, English, grammar, civics and geography.

When Principal Betz found there was sentiment in his community for a night school, he was prompt to act. A class of 14 was quickly formed that meets three evenings a week between the hours of 7 and 10. Their ages range from 18 to 30. It was quite a while since they had completed the eighth grade, so subjects were chosen that would deal with the more practical side of education.

In addition to holding a night school, Mr. Betz saw the opportunity to provide healthful recreation for many who were interested. A number of men in the school had never played a game of basket ball or seen a game played. About 20 came out to try the sport and a town team was the logical result. A good team from green material was produced and it has played with nearby teams with good account.

The state department of vocational education and the state division of adult immigration education are both engaged in promoting night classes in many towns and cities of the state for the benefit of those who have been underprivileged in education.

Olean Wins First Game From Eureka
 By defeating Eureka 10 to 6 Olean went into a tie for leadership in the Valley county farm bureau league Sunday. Doug Barber, on the mound for Olean during eight innings, struck out eight Eureka batters and held them to five hits. Naso, Doug and Ken Barber and Cec Oliver starred with the willow for Olean while Dittman was Eureka's heavy hitter getting a home run and a two bagger. Polak and Vodehnal hurled for Eureka and both did good work. The box score:

Miss Mildred Campbell was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Waller last Sunday night. Wm. Worrell and wife visited at the Lloyd Davis home last Sunday, driving up there in their new Studebaker Six which Mr. Worrell purchased from Frank Schudel last week. Marlon Copeland is sick with the chickenpox and is obliged to miss school. Last Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Glen Eglehoff and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner and Don drove to Burwell and visited at the Stanley Mitchell home. The high school play, "Beads on a String," will be given at the school house Tuesday, May 5. This is a comedy and is sure to be worth seeing. Last Wednesday morning, Mrs. Mike Pretl received word from Beemer that her father had died the night before. The Pretl family left about noon Wednesday for Beemer and are expected home Tuesday. Mrs. Miller and boys are doing the chores during their absence. Mr. Abbott and Mrs. Ben Henry from Moulton and Mrs. Anna Jarvis and two daughters, Hilda and Gladys from Taylor were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen. Mrs. Henry is an aunt of Harry's and Mrs. Jarvis, a cousin. Other visitors at the Tolen home Sunday were Roy Horner's and Mikkie Whalen and Nels Nelson. Miss Carmen Webber will have a May festival at the school house Friday evening May 1. All are invited to come and enjoy the program. Miss Webber has contracted to teach her home school next year. Albert Flint, who is staying at the home of his sister, Mrs. Chris Stude is getting along nicely and gaining strength every day since his recent operation. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Wright drove to Litchfield last Sunday and spent the day at the home of Mrs. Wright's sister, Mrs. Herbert Sheehan. Clarence Horner, who formerly lived in Ord was in a serious auto accident at Salina, Kas., where he is now living. A big Buick sedan crashed into his truck, completely wrecking it, and Mr. Horner received bad cuts on his face and head and had some ribs broken. He was confined to the house for about two weeks but is able to be about now. The Sherman county bridge gang here just completed a new bridge just north of the Wildwood school house. Roy Williams and Nick Whalen went to Dannevirke last week to see about getting cattle to pasture. Mrs. Ed Manchester gave a birthday dinner last Sunday in honor of her husband and little granddaughter, Esther. Those present were Gerald Manchester and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Manchester and Miss Carmen Webber. HUNTING FOR OIL IN NEBRASKA IS OLD TIME SPORT

Bill Maupin, Writing for Omaha Newspaper, Reviews Major Tries To Discover Oil.

An interesting story of the many, many efforts to find oil, gas, or coal, in paying quantities in Nebraska, is told by W. M. Maupin, field representative of the World Herald, in a recent issue of that paper. Mr. Maupin mentions in detail nearly a score of such attempts, adding that drillings have been made in scores of other places, Hall county and Grand Island being among these unmentioned points:

It is known that there is coal in Nebraska, for it has been mined off and on for many years. As coal goes it does not amount to much, but it is coal, and it burns. It was deposited in shallow veins, and has been mined to a limited extent in several sections, notably near Pawnee City, Peru and Morrill. It is of such poor quality and the veins are so thin that it has never been mined at a profit, although at times men have eked out a precarious living at mining it and selling it to their immediate neighbors.

More than 40 years ago a few men living in Rulo made a half-hearted attempt to sink a shaft in the hope of discovering coal. Samuel Miles, a banker and capitalist there, headed the little company that spent several thousand dollars in the venture, which was soon abandoned.

For more than 40 years sporadic efforts have been made to strike oil in Nebraska. These were all "wildcat" ventures. The one with the best financial backing was a hole sunk in Banner county in 1916. This venture was backed by a substantial number of oil men, and it was put down more than 5,000 feet. It proved to be a dry hole, but there are those who still insist that the drillers struck oil and capped the well for speculative reasons. But many people will believe anything they hear about oil wells. That is why promoters find such easy pickings when they fare forth to sell beautifully lithographed stock certificates.

One of the first attempts to strike oil in Nebraska was made in Buffalo county, not far from Kearney, in 1884 or '85. Only vague memories of the attempt can be recalled by the oldest inhabitants, but some of them dimly recall the venture and assert that the hole was sunk about 1,200 feet and then abandoned because capital was exhausted.

Only Water at Hastings In 1888 enterprising citizens of Hastings decided that there existed oil or gas—and they were hopeful of gas—beneath their city. They organized a stock company and contracted with a driller, who started to drill. He encountered the usual difficulties with water, lost bits, and failure of the company to make good on the work. He finally quit the job and the hole was abandoned for a time. Later money was raised and another driller engaged. The projectors finally gave up in despair. All they found was an almost inexhaustible supply of water and a thick vein of oil on the surface. The mineral proved a fine base for paint, and there was talk of mining it on a commercial scale. But along came the panic years of the nineties, and nothing was ever done about it. No one now seems to know the exact location of the old hole.

About 1890 a man in North Bend thought he saw traces of oil on the water caught in a depression and fed by a spring. He thought he had found something and told a few friends in confidence. The traces in oil became more pronounced and there was considerable excitement and talk of boring. But some "bad boys" in the village became a little alarmed lest their fathers waste money in the venture and admitted that they were playing a joke on the merchant, and had poured some kerosene into this spring.

Idea Once Pooh-Poohed A few years ago, comparatively speaking, geologists pooh-poohed at the idea of finding oil in Nebraska, but events have proved that oil is found in the most unexpected places, and of late the geologists are saying that there is probably well below the six thousand foot level owing to a great "dip" between the foothills and the oil bearing strata in Kansas and Oklahoma. All this reminds the old-timers that it wasn't so awfully long ago that everybody said winter wheat could not be successfully grown in Nebraska. The severe winters would probably kill it, and if the wheat was not winter killed it would blow out in the heavy spring winds. But Nebraska is now the second largest winter wheat producer in the United States.

It may be said with safety that with the exception of the Banner county well, there has not been a drilling venture in Nebraska sufficiently backed by capital to go the limit in prospecting for oil. The most ambitious venture probably is the one in Chase county, a few miles from Imperial. That hole is now down more than four thousand feet, and while work has been suspended for some time, its promoters are only pausing for breath before digging down deeper in their pockets. So far it has been financed almost wholly by local men.

Some Gas Discovered This is the project located by a Colorado man who said he always suffered severe abdominal convulsions when he walked over a reservoir of oil, no matter how deep the oil might be. The promoters are sanguine of ultimate success because they have already struck gas. However, the supply of gas is too small to be of commercial value. Holes almost without number have been punched into Nebraska soil in an effort to find oil. These holes are widely scattered—Chadron, Crawford, Cambridge, Harrisburg, Campbell, Red Cloud—and scores of other places. Nearly 100 thousand dollars was sunk in a prospect near Campbell a few years ago, but the hole was abandoned after it had been "jimmied." Many of the stockholders in the enterprise insist that the driller purposely "jimmied" the hole, being in the pay of conscienceless oil men connected with other concerns. So confident were they that this was the case that they raised some more money and erected a derrick on another site about a mile away and started work. But the derrick has been standing idle for more than a year while the promoters are trying to raise money to drill. The log of the first Campbell well shows encouraging traces of oil. Several years ago an oil prospect was started near Red Cloud and the hole went down about 2,500 feet. Then the usual financial trouble developed and the effort was abandoned. Something like three years ago another company was formed and another well started near Red Cloud. This company is still functioning, and the stockholders are sanguine of success. This company had financial troubles, too, and the work was suspended for months, during which time leases were about to expire because of non-payment. But a number of men in Hastings and Red Cloud came to the rescue and work was resumed. Now work is again suspended, and it is claimed the suspension is for the purpose of extending leases again, the belief of backers being that oil lies below the drill. There has been no effort made to sell promotion stock in this enterprise. The well is now down 3,240 feet and money on hand to go to 3,600. There is no means of ascertaining even approximately how much money has been spent prospecting for oil in Nebraska, but it certainly runs into the millions. And the money wasted by Nebraskaans in eucalyptus groves, oil wells, gold, silver and copper and coal mines in other states amounts to many more millions. A Nebraska financier recently said that if all the money lost by Nebraskaans in blue sky stuff in other states were put at 6 per cent interest would build five hundred miles of paved road every year.

But just so long as there are those who are willing to emulate Steve Brodie and take a chance, just so long will Nebraskaans keep trying to find that black gold. "Of course it is a gamble, but I've gambled that much on aces and eights without batting an eye, so why worry!"—G. I. Independent Nebraska Museum Attracts Thousands of Visitors. In Nebraska there are a number of museums devoted to the exhibition of Nebraska historical material. Morrill Hall at the University of Nebraska and the rooms of the Nebraska State Historical Society draw thousands of visitors. The museum at Hastings is coming to be far known. Last year 38,112 persons put their names on the museum register. That was about 1,000 more than the number who registered in 1929. In the neighborhood of 6,000 gifts, loans and additions were received at the museum during the year. The collection of Indian relics was augmented by many valuable acquisitions. It is considered one of the best of its kind in the West. The collection of Pawnee Indian material is exceptionally complete.

Additions to the museum displays during 1930 include: A large fish collection; many birds; mammals and reptiles from South America; almost a hundred rare guns and pistols; a pair of millstones that came over in the Mayflower; the John Williamson Indian relics, given by his Indian friends; a large collection of old Sioux utensils from the Pine Ridge reservation; the mummy of High-backed Wolf, a Cheyenne chief, with his entire outfit; and an unusually large mammoth tusk which measures over fourteen feet in length. The museum is housed in an abandoned brick school building on the south edge of Hastings. A large amount of material is stored away awaiting a time when there will be a large enough space in which to display it. Its curator, A. M. Brookings, is much in demand to identify historic finds, especially those of Indian origin. His collection of Nebraska birds and animals is very complete.

Keep Cool and Stylish With Cotton

LOW COST OF MATERIAL INVITES THOSE HANDY WITH NEEDLE TO MAKE A FROCK OR TWO—LINENS, VOILES ALSO POPULAR THIS SUMMER

BY HARRIET

COTTON frocks have made the grade socially and will be seen on the best people going the best places this summer.

Now is the time to climb on the band wagon and make yourself or buy yourself a few snappy cotton or linen frocks while the spring is yet young.

Perhaps the best thing about this new vogue is that it encourages everybody who has a gift for sewing to get out the kit and start in. Material is inexpensive and, despite the longer skirts, it will break no one to make a frock or two. Moreover, if you make them, you can have those little individual touches that will distinguish your costumes and give them chic.

If you are a business girl, you will need some rather practical looking clothes that still are cool looking and cool feeling. There are some figured voiles, in plaids, checks, dots and other rather conventional designs that would be admirable.

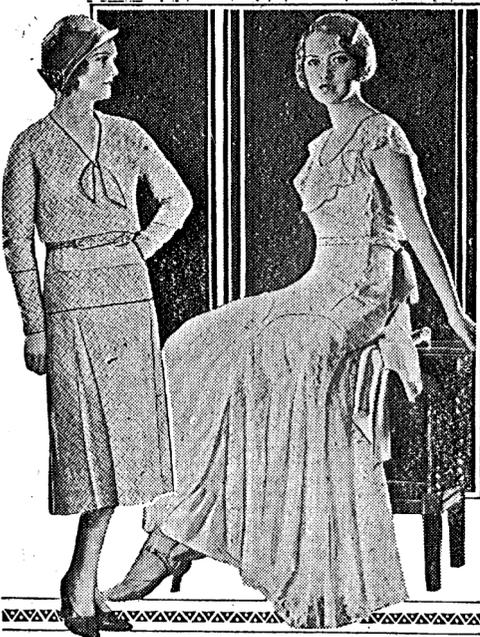

One of these is a broken check design, in apple green, which uses the checked material in an interesting diagonal manner.

The waist is tucked in a six inch tuck that gives the appearance of a bolero, especially as the outer edge of the tuck is piped in green a shade darker than the print's figure. There is a second very deep tuck around the hips and from below this box pleats give the skirt fullness.

The long sleeves have a deep tuck around the elbow. The neckline, bow and cuffs are piped in green to give these deep tucks all the trimming that the frock needs. This could be made of gingham, or of linen.

FOR the party girl there are such pretty laces, voiles, dimities, eyelet embroideries.

The interesting lace frock, illustrated here, is apricot colored. It is princess line, a braided cord of apricot ribbon around the waistline for a narrow belt. There is a flaring skirt, made of four sections of lace fastened only above the knee. Under this a taffeta slip is ruffled, like a quaint petticoat. The lace falls apart to show the petticoat, at times.

All of these new cotton and linen and embroidery and lace thin clothes wash beautifully. And certainly that is a distinct advantage in summer time. No wonder they are so popular as well as chic.

Irvyng Johnson and Ben Rux atood to Omaha Wednesday. Mr. Johnson having shipped stock that day. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Hile and children spent Sunday afternoon in Grand Island visiting Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Warrick. On their return trip, they visited at the Hofer home in St. Paul. A large number of friends and relatives gathered at the Carl D. Jensen home Saturday evening to help Mr. and Mrs. Jensen celebrate their silver wedding anniversary. The affair had been so carefully planned that it was a complete surprise to the Jensens. The evening was pleasantly spent in visiting and a delicious lunch was served by the committee. A substantial gift was presented by those present as a token of the high esteem in which Mr. and Mrs. Jensen are held. Esther Whiting came home from Central City Saturday evening, returning Sunday in order to be there for Monday classes. Carrold Karre and Delbert Hile made a business trip to North Loup Thursday. Misses Gladys Schuyler and Igenfritz spent the week-end at Burwell. Miss Baker was a guest of her sister, Mrs. Clark Skadden over the week-end. Rev. and Mrs. Forsell and baby arrived from St. Paul, Minn. Friday and have taken up their residence in the house belonging to Mrs. Applegate. Roy King and R. F. Moody met them at Scotia. Fred Vanosol and John Gulderson had arrived on Thursday with their truck containing Rev. Forsell's household goods. Services were held in the Horace church Sunday, both morning and evening. People are much interested in the reopening of the regular church services and are glad to welcome the new pastor and his family to their midst. Dorothy Johnson and Jennie Landen spent the week end at the Landen home near Greeley. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Whiting and Delight spent Sunday afternoon fishing at Elba. Mrs. Glen Johnson, Miss Jessie Jess, and Mrs. Clara Hamer called at the R. F. Moody home Wednesday evening. A gang of bridge construction men arrived in Horace Monday and will be stationed here for a few days.

Hillcrest Hospital Notes. Mrs. Leland Robbins, of Omaha is a patient at Hillcrest, having submitted to an operation Monday. Mrs. Lyman Kerns, of Burwell was able to return to her home Wednesday, having previously been operated at Hillcrest. Marion Welsh of Horace was operated at Hillcrest Monday. Mrs. Alvin Mazac is receiving electrical treatments at Hillcrest. Mrs. Fred Miska and infant daughter, patients at Hillcrest, returned to their home Monday. Mrs. Samuel Weeks and infant son of Greeley were able to leave Hillcrest and return to their home Thursday. Joe Long, of Cotesfield, had a fracture of his nose reduced by Dr. Weeks at Hillcrest. Glen Dobson, son of Walter Dobson of Arcadia, a patient at Hillcrest suffering from blood poisoning, seems to be recovering. Edith Lehman, of Comstock was operated at Hillcrest. Archie Keep and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Burrows drove to Ericson, Tuesday for a few hours fishing. W. D. Bingham, of Ericson, was in Ord Tuesday and consulting Dr. Henry Norris. The same day Miss Helen Starr, of Arcadia was in Ord taking treatments from Dr. Norris.

Methodist Church. Those who read this item in time will not forget that we are to have with us on Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a missionary from China, Rev. W. S. Bissonette, who will speak to us. This is an opportunity to get a new look at that field of missionary work. As we were hoping, the spring-time is bringing more out to church and Sunday school. The Sunday school numbered 213 last Sunday. A man said the other day that our services were so inspiring that he did not know why more did not come. But they are coming. And how inspiring it would be to have the seats all occupied. All services at regular hours next Sunday. W. H. WRIGHT.

LARGER POPCORN ACREAGE IN 1931 IS PROPHESED

Government Report Says Low Field Corn Price May Cause Some Farmers Plant More Popcorn; But Not Here.

Indications now point to the possibility that popcorn production may be overdone in 1931 is the report reaching the Ord from the United States Department of agriculture. Since Valley county is among the popcorn producing centers of the world, farmers around Ord and North Loup are interested in the popcorn report. Popcorn prices, they point out, are very sensitive to supply, and price depressions due to overproduction have occurred in the past. After a few years of fairly normal production, if a short crop occurs as a result of unfavorable weather or other causes, the price rises to a figure attractive to growers. Immediately new producers appear who flood the market with disastrous effects to the old growers as well as to themselves. The Washington report says that relatively high current prices for popcorn and low prices for field corn have combined to make popcorn appear a desirable crop. Judging from current correspondence, they say, many of the old growers are expanding their acreages while others are planning to substitute popcorn for part of their field corn acreage. Valley county popcorn acreage has about remained normal throughout the past years. Prices here this year have been exceedingly low and much of the 1930 crop is still in the hands of the growers. Further study of the report indicates that the present interest in popcorn has been gaining momentum for more than a year as a result of attractive prices. Ordinarily the unbalanced situation would have rectified itself before now but the 1930 weather conspired to reduce the yields of popcorn as well as of field corn and so put off the day of price rectification. This, however, doesn't bear up in Valley county where popcorn yields were fairly good this year. Stocks of old popcorn were pretty well cleaned up during the winter of 1929-30 and prices rose considerably. In response to this stimulus, acreage was expanded in 1930 but the effect was offset by the unfavorable weather in most sections of the country. What is happening may be illustrated by the situation in Iowa, specialists point out. In 1930, Iowa increased her popcorn acreage to nearly twice that of 1929 and nearly three times of 1927. Favorable weather would have produced an overproduction. The popcorn acreage of the United States is only about one-tenth of one percent of the total corn acreage. Although the commercial growing of popcorn is concentrated in certain districts such as Valley county, much of the best land in the heart of the corn belt is suitable for production. Valley county popcorn acreage probably will be reduced this year as few contracts are being offered and prospects for immediate price improvement are very dim. Ball Game Postponed. Ord high school had a baseball game scheduled with Arcadia high school yesterday but it was postponed until May 13 because Arcadia had to compete in a postponed track meet at Callaway. Next Tuesday St. Paul high school will play here.

DAIRYMEN CULL BOARDER COWS

Increase Sale of Unprofitable Animals. Valley County Record Not In.

After studying the monthly report of dairy herd improvement associations over the state, E. C. Scheidenhelm of the agricultural college believes Nebraska dairymen are continuing to improve their herds through culling. Records available at the college indicate that there were 109 cows sold as unprofitable by association members in February.

The Valley county association was not included in the February report. Previously Tester Smith's record has been sent to Scheidenhelm but conditions prevented it being in on time this month. The college man shows that 15 more cows were culled in February than in January of this year over the state. The number culled in Nebraska represents approximately one and one-half percent of the cows on test.

It was to be expected though, butterfat production in Nebraska dairy herd improvement associations dropped in February from what it was in January. The reduction was slight.

Records of the twenty-six reporting associations show that 347 cows on test during February averaged 27.2 pounds butterfat. This was one-tenth of a pound under the previous month's average. Scheidenhelm points out in his monthly dairy letter that the average production is usually less than the spring than in fall when most cows freshen.

The college of agriculture man declares through his news letter reaching Ord farmers today that their culling periods should be watched. He cites the feed costs of one herd in the state which averaged but 18 pounds of butterfat per cow. Each cow was being fed better than $8 worth of feed which made production costs on a pound of butter extremely high.

It is Scheidenhelm's opinion that the cows culled have been fed $2.50 worth of feed and produced just as much butterfat. As advice to Nebraska dairymen, he suggests a considerable amount of feed can be saved by culling inferior cows from herds that are in good condition and ready to go dry.

Nebraska Is Eleventh State In Irrigated Lands.

Only ten states of the union have more irrigated lands than Nebraska. The order of acres under irrigation they are: California, Colorado, Idaho, Montana, Utah, Wyoming, Oregon, Texas, Arizona and New Mexico. Nebraska comes eleventh with 52,580 acres, as reported by the federal bureau of irrigation. The development of irrigation in the state has been steady and constant. In 1920 the census bureau reported 442,690 acres of Nebraska land under irrigation. The percentage increase for the ten year period from 1910 to 1920 was 19.4. The census bureau reported acreage enterprises capable of irrigation in 1920 as amounting to 701,078 acres.

The number of irrigation enterprises in Nebraska increased from 470 in 1920 to 718 in 1930, a 52.3 per cent increase. The largest part of this increase is due to the comparatively new interest in pump irrigation. In the lower Platte valley, and especially on Buffalo county where there are over 300 such plants in operation, there is sustained interest in pump irrigation. These plants are installed and operated at a very moderate cost and practically assure a crop.

The upper Platte valley is as follows: Davis & Vogeltanz, Attorneys. ORDER FOR AND NOTICE OF HEARING PROBATE OF WILL In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

sured a sufficient amount of water from Pathfinder dam in Wyoming and this assured water supply for irrigating purposes has created a condition exceptionally favorable to the production of sugar beets. A seven million dollar beet crop in that section in 1930 justified the expense that was entailed in creating the Pathfinder project and carrying the water to the land.

Goodenow Items

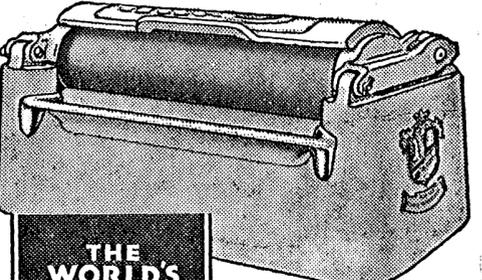

In response to a telephone call Charles Goodenow and son of Wall Lake, Iowa came to Burwell, arriving April 16. The following Saturday they, along with Claude Goodenow of Burwell, and Maude Goodenow of Goodenow, Nebr., drove to Grand Island where they met with Attorney C. A. Davis and Mr. Rolls, the latter one of the state engineers of the state and federal highway department. After the meeting adjourned Mr. Goodenow and son departed for Iowa and Maude Goodenow and nephew, Mr. Kennedy, returned to their home. It may be recalled that Mr. Goodenow Sr., was the administrator for the estate of his brother, the late M. B. Goodenow.

Mrs. D. S. Beynon recently arrived in Burwell from Texas where she spent the winter months with her daughter, Mrs. Blankenship. For many years Burwell was the home of the Beynon family, and here Mrs. Beynon enjoys her summers. She spends each week with Miss Meda Draver.

Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield of Ord drove up for an evening call at the Harry Shinn place of abode Sunday evening. Mrs. Irene E. Kennedy and daughter, Mrs. Harry Kern with the latter three children drove out from Burwell Saturday evening to the Goodenow home, remaining until Sunday evening. Mrs. Kennedy is a daughter of Mrs. M. B. Goodenow. The home of Mrs. Kern is at Wren S. D. She came down April 15 and her eldest child, a lad of six years, is taking electric treatments of Dr. Smith with a hope of restoring his body to a normal condition from the effects of infantile paralysis. Last Thursday Mrs. M. B. Goodenow celebrated her 80th birthday. Mrs. G. A. Butts, instigated a surprise which was a success. Guests were her mother-in-law, Mrs. M. A. Butts, Mrs. Martha Alderman, Mrs. Irene Kennedy and daughter, Mrs. Harry Kern, Mrs. Claude Kennedy, Messrs. G. A. Butts and W. R. Wright and Frank Kennedy, who spent the day at the Goodenow farm home, where a bountiful dinner was spread, contributed by the ladies. Mrs. Butts presented a beautiful bouquet of cut roses and tulips and many other tokens of remembrance were given Mrs. Goodenow and the day was a pleasant one for her.

The Girl Reserve are planning to have an outdoor meeting next week, if the weather conditions are permissible. They are also planning a tea for their mothers on Mother's Day.
Friday, April 24, the G. R. held a party in honor of the Senior G. R.'s. Many new and interesting games were played. Florence Kokes read the prophecy of the Seniors which brought many laughs. Marion Grace Cushing read a number of comical jokes about the Seniors. Then a pep song session was held after which refreshments were served.
Each Senior was presented with a little roll of paper, inside of which refreshments were served. Each Senior was presented with a little candle to represent the G. R. wish to them.

HI-Y Notes.
The HI-Y met Wednesday night, April 22, in the school house. The meeting was called to order at 7:30 by President Stoltz and opened with the HI-Y ritual.
Roll call was taken by secretary Cushing. Those answering were: Milliken, Stoltz, Vals, Tolon, Allen, Boquet, Cushing, Shepard, Baird, Hackel, Cupl, Holloway, Cochran and Mr. Cass.
The following visitors were present: Kruml L. Meyers, M. Meyers, Ser. Bell and Mr. Kovanda. A short prayer was given by Adrian Tolon. The song, "Faith of Our Fathers," was sung followed by scripture, read and discussed by Charles Shepard.
The plan to nominate new officers at the next meeting was discussed and to vote on the two highest of the following week, was decided upon.
Mr. Kovanda gave a very interesting talk on the "Advantages of a Large College over a Small One." A short discussion followed this and the meeting adjourned at 9:00.

GRADE SCHOOL
First Grade.
The first grade people have been making birds, and bird booklets. They are planning to make May baskets soon. They also made Sunbonnet baby flower garden posters.
Second Grade.
The second grade people have been making circus projects. They are planning to have a circus parade in the front of the room.
An excellent example of the work they had been doing was given. Alvin treated his classmates to popcorn balls. Kenneth treated them to lollipops.
The sixth grade are making health posters to enter the health contest, the auxiliary is sponsoring.

PERSONALS.
Mrs. Kovanda substituted for Miss Hintza last Monday and Tuesday.
The following people were absent last week with the mumps: Ray Mella, Leonard Desmul, Merritt King and Paul Gardner.
We all thought Gwennie had them but it was Mastold trouble.
Alyce Verstrate was absent Friday.
Eldon Lukesh returned to school Monday after being absent several days on account of his injured leg.
Monday Evelyn Coe was out of school on account of illness.
Iola Mae Williams was absent from school all last week.
Those absent from school Monday: Billy Baird, Wilhelmina Jansen, Alyce Verstrate, Ray Mella, and Merritt King.

A Poem Written by a Sophomore.
By Verna Stowell
When the robin comes to stay,
And the lark sings all the day,
Pewees chirp along the way,
Then we know—
It's Springtime.
When the green grass on the leas,
And the buds upon the trees,
Beckon to the busy bees,
Then we know—
It's Springtime.
When flowers raise their little heads,
Violets, blues, and brightest reds,
In our bordered flower beds,
Then we know—
It's Springtime.

Convocations.
Wednesday, the Agriculture contest boys gave talks and Mr. Kovanda explained what medals were won. It was a very interesting convocation as the boys gave speeches. Most of the speeches were rather silent and amusing. Friday there was no convocation.

Is It Worth The Price?
The day was hot, teachers were cross and lessons were hard. But not any more than any other day. Jack, Jim and Pete were slowly walking to school. Jack, "Gee Whiz! I hate to think of studying this p. m."
Jim, "If I only had my chemistry."
Pete, "I've my lessons, but all we do in home-room is study, study, study."
"Let's play hookie!" Jim, "Great!"
Jack, "Down to the river and in swimming for me!"
How many of you readers thought have run in the same line and how many of you have actually put your thoughts to action? But is it really worth the price? Considering you face the principal with a lie, the next day. If your parents find it out their trust in you is broken. If the faculty become acquainted with the fact, in their estimation you slip lower and lower. If this don't help think of the sunburns, mosquito bites and three hours after school.
Now do you think its worth the price you have to pay?
—Wilma Slavicek.

MAN POWER.
Man power are the two great words that relate back to men. It shows the genius of man. The mind of man also goes back to it. Man power are two words that have made the state of Nebraska what it is today. Man power alone is what the world was yesterday, today and tomorrow. School children must learn to know the primitive meaning of the two words, power. Man power is the foundation of our schools, so we may learn the meaning of man power. Less than sixty years ago Nebraska was a vast rolling prairie, man power has made it what it is today. Today the city of Omaha is the spectacle of man power, its factories and stock markets are some of the largest in the world. Man power is indeed a genius in itself. The early pioneers faced the hazardous enterprise to make the territory of the middle west, the greatest states in the Union. The middle west has some of the largest cities in the Union, including Chicago, Omaha, Kansas City and Denver. Man power alone has made these cities what they are today, yesterday and forever.

Your Education.
"Has your education meant all that it should mean to you? If it hasn't made you blame any person but yourself? Is the training or education you plan to gain in the future likely to be as useful as it should be?"
Such questions as these are appropriate for the kind of education given by schools has been ended for some readers of this column, but the kind of education one gets from actual experience will go on. What effect is this type of training going to have?

Student's Opinion.
Professor Shepard's Problem Pointers.
Dear Prof: I am in a dilemma. Please tell me just how I can quit carrying my school books home as I suppose unnecessary studying.
Harold Finch
My dear Harold: I quite agree with you and I suggest that you have some one carry your books, or better yet take up the following studies: Gym, study hall, sewing, drawing and typing.
Thank you, call again.
Darling Professor: For some reason or other the boys seem to treat me with indifference. Could you explain this kind sir? As ever,
Dear Grace: I couldn't and wouldn't. Methinks that you are not coy enough, that is your athletic prowess makes the boys log upon you with aversion.
Why? Because boys don't prefer to have the weaker sex as strong as they are, besides strength helps in welding a hefty rolling pin, furthermore heads are softer now and thus they want dainty tossers of the pie flattener.
Take it from one who knows!
Chas. Shepard.

The Little Green Ford.
I have a little green Ford,
That brings me to school at Ord.
It goes and goes,
So that I may know
The essentials of life
That keeps me away from strife.
And when I grow old and faint
I will know not to use words like ain't.
Many trips has it went,
Coming back all knarled and bent.
And it went to North Platte
Without having a flat.
It brought home the silver cup
That puffed all of us boys up.
So Jesse Kovanda says its a dandy,
But cannot keep it up.
So when my Ford dies,
And in the junk pile lies,
I wish you boys would cast a gentle eye
And think of the joyous rides,
That my little green Ford gallantly gave.
—Charles Barnhart.

ATHLETICS.
A committee to plan the Loup Valley track meet is to meet this week. Representatives of Ord, Arcadia and Burwell will be present.
A set of horse shoes has been purchased for the boys to use during the noon hour. It is hoped that some very good matches will take place before the close of the school year.
New equipment has been purchased for the boys, for necessary practice in track.
The grade school and Junior High boys are going to have a track team, working whenever the weather allows.
Regular baseball games are played at the south building at noon.
The high school baseball team has won both games played this year.
Something New.
Miss Jear's Geometry class is real interested in making Geometry booklets. The students were allowed to take any field they wanted and are to work on them for five weeks.
Audrey Mella and Gwen Hughes thought of making a booklet on Landscape Gardening. Audrey has already used nearly a ream of paper. Geo. Allen's booklet is entitled "Emblems". He has found and copied the different emblems of the different gasolines and etc.
Wilma Slavicek's book is "Geometry in Cotton Material". She has already raided every cellar, attic and storeroom in the city of Ord. These are but a few of the many books being made.

ACTIVITIES
This week the high school sponsored a picture show, the title was "Man Power." In the picture it showed the progress that the Nebraska cities have made since the pioneer days. It showed that most of the Nebraska cities were grown in size and population, due to "man power." Men who took it to heart to make city out of their home town; they tried and they succeeded, therefore, it has won the title of "Man Power." This a tivity took place at the high school auditorium, Thursday at seven-thirty.
MUSIC
Mr. Toennegs is getting along very nicely with his music students but would like to have more violin and clarinet players.
He intends to continue teaching here throughout the summer.
There will be, he announces, band practice twice every week.
His intention are to give Lounsbury City a "skinning they ain't likely to forget," at the contest next year. We, as a student body, hope the band does the job up right!
School Improvements.
Much improvement has been made at the high school building. All of the fence posts have been driven down to a uniform height. One wire is used instead of the two that were formerly used. The shrubs have been trimmed and the lawn mowed.
The shrubs for the south school are expected to arrive at any time now.

CLASSES.
The Junior High boys class is studying the color wheel under Miss Shaver's supervision.
I'm sure we'd all like to have been able to visit Miss Nelson's public speaking class for they have been presenting one-act plays and vaudeville sketches.
Junior High Notes.
The seventh grade arithmetic class is working on contracts. The eighth grade are reviewing what they have had this year.
Miss Lukesh's girl's club is summing up what must be done before school is out. Her home room has a new member, Alice Barnhart.

G. A. A.
A play day was to be held at St. Paul last Saturday, April 25, but was definitely given up because of bad weather.
Home Room.
The Juniors are spending their home room period planning for the banquet which is to be held May 7 in the high school auditorium.
Standardized Tests.
The entire school has been busy taking standardized tests for the grades one to twelve.
Jes' workin' an' playin'
An' hopin' an' prayin'
Until the day's done;
Jes' laughin' an' cryin'
An' livin' an' tryin'

JOKES
English Teacher: What could be sadder than a man without a country?
Alice Verstrate: A country without a man.
"Water power is the greatest power there is," said little Jimmy. "When mother turns on the tears she can get a fur coat, a new automobile or a trip to California."
Wilma Slavicek: When I die my family trees dies.
Roland Pedro: How's that?
Wilma Slavicek: I'm the sap.
"Boo-hoo" sobbed Frederick Jensen. "My Collie is dead."
"Shucks," said Billy Baird. "My grandmother has been dead a week. You don't catch me crying."
"Yes," said Frederick, "but you did not raise your grandmother from a pup."
(Anthony Kokes to Virginia Van Decar): "You're a dear sweet girl. God bless you and keep you. I wish I could afford to."

Cream, Poultry and Eggs

Is Our Line of Business!

The Fairmont Creamery Company has been in the cream buying business for almost a half century. It would not be making a statement too broad, then in saying that the Fairmont Creamery Company has done more to build the Dairy industry in Nebraska than all the rest of the creameries put together.

Through the 47 years of service to the farmer, the company today is the world's largest cream buying institution buying direct from the producer.

While selling your produce to us YOU ARE NOT patronizing a group of millionaires, as it has often been said, but a group of hard working men, from the president of the company to the station operator.

Competition Is The Life of Trade

And when you allow competition to be driven out of your community, you are indirectly destroying your own future.

The writer, representing the company for many years has enjoyed a good business in this community. Having a legal right to meet competition, this enabling him to have a continued patronage and complete satisfaction.

Service Is Our Aim

And in order to give this service we employ experienced help with absolute accuracy and efficiency.

This station is not only known for its quantity, but for its quality as well, thus we solicit for a quantity of quality cream. When coming to Ord sell your produce to us and profit by receiving the best of prices.

Improving Horse Herd. For years Harry Bresley has been breeding Percheron horses with much success and he finds a ready market for those he has to spare. He recently sold two of his big gray stallions, a 7-year old last week to John Burson who lives north and east from Burwell and a few days before a fine 5-year old to Fred Sawyer to head the herd on his ranch in the Brewster territory. Last week he bought a fine black Percheron stallion in Iowa and shipped him to Ord for use on the Bresley farm. While farmers have been selling their horses and buying tractors Harry has all the time believed that there would always be a demand for good horses and he still thinks that is true.

Nothing to Sell But SERVICE

Mercantile and manufacturing concerns have MATERIAL things to sell. Their success depends on producing and maintaining a GOOD article. An auction firm has only its WORK to sell and must maintain an organization of well qualified workers to the end that their services may be as good as can be had in similar lines elsewhere. Long realizing this we strive to maintain our selling, buying and accounting forces on a high plane of ability, character and hustle. Today we are fortified in a decidedly strong nature and when we offer our services it is with the knowledge that, while we may not, and probably will not, please every patron, the effort put forth will be the best in us . . . and that means as good as can be secured at any market, at any time.

Who Says It Doesn't Pay to Advertise?

LAST week we wrote an advertisement about QUALITY of CREAM. WHAT HAPPENED? The weather man even came to our aid and before the paper came out the weather turned cooler and of course helped improve the Quality of Cream received last Saturday. Then some of our patrons read about the trouble we were having with Second Grade cream and they were just a little more careful in the way they handled their butter fat.

THERE ARE THREE THINGS THAT DETERMINE WHETHER CREAM WILL BE GOOD OR BAD:
CLEANLINESS-TEMPERATURE-AGE
WE TASTE BETWEEN 500 AND 600 CANS OF CREAM EVERY WEEK TO DETERMINE THE QUALITY OF EACH DELIVERY

Observe the Following Suggestions and There Will Be No Bad Cream

1. Use care in milking. Barn flavors usually come from unclean milking.
2. If you have a can that is rusty on the inside have it retinned or trade it in on a new one.
3. Thoroughly wash and scald all milk utensils—pails, strainers, cans and separators. Use washing powder. Unclean flavors usually come from milk, milk pails or a separator that has not been properly washed.
4. Cool cream in cold water immediately after separating. Use a small can for separating the cream into and then set it in cold water for cooling. Never mix warm cream and cold cream. Keep cream where air is pure. Have a cream cooling tank if possible. A barrel cooling tank can be fixed up at a very small cost.
5. Deliver cream often. Taste it and stir it well before starting for the Creamery. Talk to the buttermaker or manager about the quality of your cream.

To observe these suggestions should be no hardship on anyone and by all working together we can get more for your butterfat and we will agree that it is not very profitable to milk cows under present conditions.

Ord Camels Drop Second Game To Mira Valley Reds

The Mira Valley Reds continued their winning streak Sunday by defeating the Ord Camels, 11 to 7, in a farm bureau league clash.

For Mira Valley Melvin Williams pitched good ball until the seventh inning when Frank Andersen, Camel manager, knocked a home run with two men on base.

Owen Portis, with two hits out of three times at bat, took the batting honors for Mira Valley though Fuss got the most hits, three out of five.

Delco-Lights Beat Elyria Team, 12-6

Taking full advantage of a "border-line" umpire's decision in the sixth inning, Bud Auble's Ord Delco-Lights won another farm bureau league game Sunday when they defeated Elyria 12 to 6.

Bill Dodge was on the mound for Elyria and was nipped fifteen times by the Delco boys while Jim Covert, hurling for Ord, held his opponents to seven safe swats.

The Croquet bunch enjoyed a cafeteria supper and social time at the home of Nora and Owen White Monday evening.

Nebraska Lakes Yielded $70,000 In Muskrat Skins in One County

There is a good demand for muskrat skins from the sandhill lakes of Nebraska. They are so good in quality that furriers quote a separate price on Nebraska muskrat skins.

The shipping season for muskrat skins closed a few days ago. From Hyannis, county seat of Grant county, where trapping is carried on extensively, 476 bales of skins were shipped this season.

Nebraska muskrats from the sandhills came into notice during the World War when furriers were compelled to look to new fields for furs, especially the high priced seal.

Grant county has a large number of fresh water lakes, free from alkali, and these are native haunts for millions of muskrats that build their reed and rush houses partly under and partly above the water.

Muskrat is Nebraska's most numerous fur-bearing animal. Others that yield some revenue for trappers are: Southern mink, found all over the state; long-tailed weasel, not a very popular resident of the muskrat country because he kills too many muskrats; the species of skunks found chiefly in timber areas; raccoon, badger and beaver.

Arcadia Plasters Sumter Team 11-2

By a score of 11 to 2, the Arcadia farm bureau league team plastered Sumter under a stinging defeat Sunday. It was Sumter's second loss in the league and Arcadia's first victory in two starts.

Oliver Collison was on the mound for Sumter and was nipped for 13 bingles while Scott held the Sumter boys to seven scattered hits.

Those Delco Light boys look like they might get some place in the farm bureau ball league this year. Announcing that they were playing high school boys and then coming through with a lineup which included Joe Krejci, Harry Wolf, Clyde Athey and some of the other boys seems misleading.

Naturally the varsity defeat was an upset. Coach Browne was disgusted. He should have been. The uptown boys didn't figure that Cress was a pitcher. But they found out.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

If I hadn't read Tom Osterman's several column speal last week about mushrooms I wouldn't have believed it possible for any human to write so interestingly on the subject. His story made me crave mushrooms and so touching was it at times that it almost made me cry. Tom is a real orator when it comes to writing about mushrooms. Had his training led more along the lines of biblical study and less about the science of gastronomic creations he would have rivaled the famed Henry Ward Beecher or even Rev. Brown long ago. I have clipped Tom's disquisition on mushrooms and anyone interested may copy on the read it and I will guarantee it will send the reader to the canons hunting mushrooms.

A Burwell woman has some house plants known as night-blooming cereus and in telling Col. Alder about them the other day she said, "If you want to see my night bloomers come over some evening." Apparently Burwell is catching the flower fever also.

Eugene didn't know roses from horseradish three months ago and much preferred the latter but he caught the flower fever and now he talks glibly about cannas, pansies, red geraniums and spends all his spare time working in his flowers and reading flower catalogues and magazines.

And it is spreading to the country. A well known country woman was asking me the other day all about what kind and size of gladiolus bulbs to get and said she was going to have a few flowers this year and was already making plans to get a flower garden fenced in so the pigs and chickens couldn't bother it and then set out a lot of bulbs this fall and be ready to have a real flower garden next year. That will be fine and it will spread, and flourish in the country just as it does in town. I was reading in one of our exchanges the other day where a newspaper sponsored the county wide beautifying idea and more than three hundred farm families joined an organization to foster the work of making the country more beautiful. I wonder if such an idea could be put over in Valley county. It takes a little time and not very much money to have a nice flower garden and a yard. Many have already surpassed many of the town folks in doing so but there are still a lot of both town and country folks to get interested.

It is a little late to start this spring, still a start can still be made. A number of flower garms can be prepared and many annuals can be planted yet. Then in August some perennials can be put out (August is the proper time for most of them) and later, in October a few tulip and other bulbs can be planted. The next spring geraniums and other plants can be added, with a few climbing and other roses and with plenty of care all will be doubly repaid for the effort. I shall be glad to have someone tell me about country homes that have already been beautified with flowers and shrubs and will have Irma go out and look them over and tell all Quiz readers about them.

I am printing the following letter in this department this week because the writer, well known to many Quiz readers, seems to have the right slant on things in general. The check she referred to paid her subscription up for a couple of years in advance. The letter follows:

Since it is quite necessary that newspapers have funds in order to operate and because newspaper men and their families must live, am enclosing a check which I hope will insure our getting the Quiz for some time.

We do enjoy the paper very much although there are many changes in and around Ord, and items appear about people we do not know. However there are many we do know and remember and our interest in them is still keen.

Washington is again arrayed in her spring outfit and tourists are swarming the city.

This is a beautiful place and more especially at this time of the year as the trees and blossoms are so pretty. So many flowering shrubs and the panay beds are gorgeous. Beginning about Easter every year throngs of people come here from almost everywhere.

Right now Washington is entertaining Royally as the King and Queen of Siam are here claiming the attention of many. We never seem to tire getting in crowds just to glimpse an important somebody. The paths that led from Siam and Colorado crossed at the White House yesterday when Bryan United, the boy hero of Colorado and the King were both guests there.

This lad seems to be getting his share of attention and incidentally

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago. Rubber tired buggies were coming into fashion. Cornell's sold three in this vicinity in one week. Drs. Brink and Haldeman had places on the state medical association's program.

20 Years Ago. Miss Daisy Flynn and Roscoe Arnold was married. Anthony Koupal started building a new residence on the lot west of A. J. Firkins'.

15 Years Ago. Marnie Slier's delivery team ran away and made a circuit of the square in about two minutes, turning the wagon over three times. L. D. Bailey and Sons presented the Ord fire department with a check for $150 as a token of their appreciation of the fine service rendered by the fire fighters at the fire which destroyed the Bailey store.

10 Years Ago. A brand spanking new bird bath on the Charlie Brown property is exciting admiration just at present. Have you seen it? And Sheriff Round has a pretty white fence in his backyard, too. Everybody's working to make Ord prettier. Is your conscience guilty?

5 Years Ago. Mayor Moses says he goes fishing one time in the spring and if he doesn't catch anything, the season is over as far as he's concerned. This spring he declares he's mad at Hank Leggett anyhow, so

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Today you have the privilege of using recipes sent in by prize winners in the recent cooking contest. Try them and see what these good local cooks enjoy serving to their families!

Sour Cream Cookies. 1 c. sugar, 1 c. sour cream, 1/2 c. shortening, 3/4 c. flour, 1 egg, 1 tsp. soda dissolved in a little hot water and stirred in cream, 1 tsp. baking powder sifted with the flour.

Cottage Cheese. Sour a half gallon of milk. When real thick put on stove on a very slow fire until the milk separates from the whey.

Quaker Cookies. 1 c. fat, 2 c. light brown sugar, 4 eggs well beaten, 1/2 c. milk, 2 c. oatmeal, 3/4 c. flour, 3/4 c. flour, 4 tsp. baking powder, 2 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. cloves and mace, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 c. raisins, 1 1/2 c. nutmeat, Drop by spoonfuls on buttered pan.

HOW DID TOWNS IN VALLEY CO. BECOME NAMED?

Historical Lore Shows Arcadia Named For Profusion Of Flowers Booming.

How did towns get their names? Did the names just happen or is there some plan in use by the post office department or the railroad companies that decides what the names shall be?

Mrs. Hallen's cookies won first place at the recent cooking contest, so you will surely want to try her sugar cookie recipe. Then from Mrs. Elmer Henkel, who lives on Route 4, Arcadia, comes her recipe for the Cottage Cheese which hours. Sprinkle bread board with flour roll the dough out thin and lightly. Sprinkle with sugar, cut out and bake in a quick oven.

Mrs. Elmer Henkel. I am sure the prize winning cheese at the contest that day had some very finely minced onion in it and it was delicious, if you like onions in your food. Here is another recipe using sour cream, called a "5 minute recipe."

Sour Cream Cake. This makes a 2 layer cake, loaf cake, or drop cakes. Break 2 eggs in a mixing bowl and beat thoroughly. Add 1 c. sugar and beat well. Add 1 c. sour cream, 1 tsp. vanilla, Sift separately 2 c. flour (after sifting), with 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. soda, 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder.

For chocolate cake, add 2 more tbsp. sugar and substitute 1-3 c. chocolate for that amount of flour. For caramel nut cake substitute brown sugar for the white and add 1/2 c. nuts, chopped.

For spice cake, add spices and 1 c. chopped raisins. For chocolate cake, add 2 more tbsp. sugar and substitute 1-3 c. chocolate for that amount of flour.

This sour cream recipe is thus usable for a number of different cakes, and would be a dandy recipe for every beginning cook to keep handy. Both Mrs. Henkel and Mrs. Hallen wrote notes of appreciation for money made in the cooking contest, and the opportunity it afforded to give something to charity.

Valley, Nebr. Home Grounds Show How A Place Can Be Improved and Beautified by First Season Planting

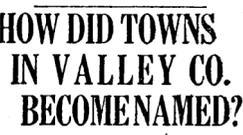

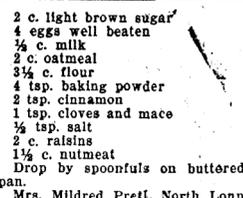

How greatly the home grounds of a new place may be improved and made beautiful and livable by growing things is shown in contrast by the two photographs above.

The upper view was taken after the season's planting had been done. The lower photo was snapped before any trees, shrubs or flowers had been set out.

We can hardly believe that this wonderful transformation in appearance has taken place in one growing season. And yet, such is the case. This place is owned by Mrs. Fritz Akerlund, Valley, Nebraska.

The lower view was taken just after the house had been finished in the early spring of 1930, the upper photograph some months later but during the summer of the same year. A considerable number of fine evergreens, both dwarf and higher growing varieties, were used to good advantage in the beautification work.

Flowering shrubs in variety were also set out. A wide sweeping lawn, perennial flowers and annuals to fill in the bare spots made this place a first prize-winner in the Yard & Garden Contest at Valley, Nebraska, sponsored by "The Enterprise" the live newspaper serving that growing community.

Has Been Here 53 Years. Just fifty years ago on May 2 Mrs. A. P. Jensen and her husband arrived in the United States from Denmark. They came at once to Omaha and lived there three years before they came to Valley county and settled on a farm. Their farm was struck by a cyclone and they returned to Omaha but later came back to Valley county. For the past 23 years Ord has been the family home and Mr. Jensen died here 11 years ago. Mrs. Jensen has one daughter, Mrs. John Prandsen, of Sidney, Mont., who spent most of the winter in Ord.

BE CAREFUL.

An Ord lady called the Quiz Tuesday and asked what a certain four well known magazines would cost her. We looked the list up and told her the price was $23.00. We got the order and she explained that there was a crew of young men in Ord "EARNING MONEY TO GO THROUGH COLLEGE", the same old gag, and they asked her $29 for the same list. $23 is the price the publisher asks and they were simply grafting an extra six dollars. We have warned against ordering from strangers before you are very liable to get gypped when you do it. We are here at the time and ready to make right any error. A stranger is gone and you simply have to stand the loss if things do not come out as the stranger promises. The Quiz can order any publication you may want and get it as cheap for you as anyone can get it for you and if there is anything wrong we are here to attend to having it straightened out.

Arcadia News

Community Club Meets. The regular monthly meeting of the Arcadia Community club was held at the Methodist church basement Tuesday evening of last week at seven o'clock when the ladies of the church served the club another very appetizing dinner.

At a short business session which followed, a committee was appointed to work with the American Legion Auxiliary in arranging an appropriate Decoration day program, the details of which will be announced later.

Delinquent Entertain. The delinquent members of the Up-To-Date club entertained the remaining members at a unique party last Tuesday afternoon, April 28th. The members to be taken into the club next year and those to be reinstated were also guests.

At two-thirty, the time set by the invitation, the "wisers" assembled at the Lewin home but found none of their hostesses present. As Mrs. Lewin was a member of the "wiser" party she was as much at a loss to know just what was going to occur as were the other members. After a long stretched hour had passed the delinquent hostesses put on their appearance and not being satisfied with making their guests wait and wonder they proceeded to put them to a test of their knowledge by calling on each one for a speech or a song or other bit of entertainment.

Taking pity upon their guests the delinquent members then took them to the home of Mrs. Ernest Esterbrook where a lovely two course dinner was served at a long table made especially attractive by a centerpiece of sprigged flowers arranged by bowls of water lilies which were placed at equal distances on each side of the centerpiece. Small nut cups from which sprang a brightly colored jopquill were placed at each plate adding beauty to the entire party.

This was the final meeting of the club year.

Arcadia Wins Erlson Meet. Arcadia ran off with high honors in the third annual Erlson high invitation track and field meet. The winners scored 37 points. The other teams followed as follows: St. Paul, 28 1/2; North Loup, 14; Erlson, 14; Spalding High 14; Scotia, 7 1/2; Spalding Academy, 7; Ewing 3; Cedar Rapids, 1; Burwell 1; Ord, Princeton and Hamlin failed to score.

Wins Trip to Chicago. Kermit Erickson, agent for the New York Life Insurance Company, numbered among those awarded a trip to Chicago for selling a certain amount of insurance during the first four months of the year 1931. About twenty percent of the agents in the state won this honor and these will be the guests of the company at their convention to be held at the Edgewater Beach hotel in Chicago Monday May 18th. The company pays the entire expense of the trip.

Kermit won this same honor last year and is looking forward with enthusiasm to this year's trip.

Junior-Senior Banquet. The Junior-Senior banquet was held at the Methodist church basement Wednesday evening at seven o'clock. A full account will be given next week.

Logsdon-Aubert. Mrs. Martha Aubert announces the marriage of her son Nelson L. Aubert to Miss Lucy A. Logsdon, the ceremony taking place at the First Methodist church in Rock Island, Ill. Saturday morning, May 2. The groom is well known in Arcadia where he formerly resided with his parents. He is competent and industrious and for several years has been employed by the John Deere Plow Co. of Moline, Ill. His bride is head nurse at a hospital in East Moline, Ill. and will continue her work at the hospital for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubert are residing at Moline at present where they have taken light house-keeping rooms.

Foot Bones Broken By Tractor. Claus Franzen was painfully injured Wednesday morning of last week when the tractor with which he was working ran over his right foot breaking a number of the metatarsal bones and crushing the foot quite badly. Medical attention was secured immediately and the injury is now healing nicely.

Give Music Recital. The piano pupils of Mrs. M. R. Wall gave a splendid recital at her home last Monday evening. Eleven pupils took part and prizes were awarded to Lucile Starr for best expression, Helen Cruikshank for position and Carolyn Kinsey for rhythm. Others taking part are: Louise Stanley, Orvis Hill, Elizabeth Murray, Marjorie Walgren, Marguerite Rettenmayer, Evelyn Sell, Ruth Jameson, Mary Jane Rettenmayer.

Society. Mrs. Ray Waterbury entertained the members of the Afternoon Bridge club and a number of friends at a bridge party at her home last Thursday afternoon. High score honors were awarded to Mrs. H. S. Kinsey and Mrs. George Olson. A lovely two course luncheon was served by the hostess at the close of the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Weddel entertained a number of relatives at dinner Sunday in honor of the fifteenth birthday of their son, Max.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist church met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. A. E. Aufrecht.

Mrs. Wm. Gregory and children, Mrs. Elizabeth Butterfield and Miss Edith Kenfield enjoyed dinner at Community Park Sunday.

The members of the Junior Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church and their instructor, Miss Alma Pierson enjoyed a social at the Community Park Saturday afternoon. The time was spent playing games after which lunch was served.

The Rebekah kensington will meet next Wednesday afternoon at the I. O. O. F. hall to work on a quilt for the Old Fellows home at York. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

The Afternoon Bridge club will meet Thursday of next week at the home of Mrs. R. R. Clark.

An Epworth League social will be held at the Methodist church basement Friday evening. All young people are invited to attend.

A number of friends and neighbors surprised Mr. and Mrs. Leo Sell at their home in the north part of Arcadia Wednesday evening of last week. The evening was spent playing rook after which refreshments were served. The guests presented Mr. and Mrs. Sell with a miscellaneous shower which included many lovely gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen entertained the Hayes Creek Farmers Union at their home Wednesday evening.

The members of the Intermediate Christian Endeavor society of the Congregational church and their instructor, Miss Rosa Miane held a social at the church basement Friday evening. Games were played followed by lunch. A number of invited guests were present.

Sunday dinners—Mr. and Mrs. Claris Bellinger and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Freeman. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Woody and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Sid Scott. Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cruikshank and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Russell. Mrs. Vera Cook entertained Rev. and Mrs. B. W. Burleigh and M. L. Fries. Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jameson and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Arnold.

Locals. Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Clark and Dixie were in Grand Island Saturday on business.

Miss Mae Baird of Ord spent the week end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Steen of Loup City spent Sunday as guests of Dr. and Mrs. C. D. Langrail. Harold Valett and Ora Masters drove to Lincoln Sunday where Harold consulted the doctor in regard to the progress his arm was making.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter Jones and family of Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Jones of Comstock and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jones and family of Arcadia were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Fenster Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Rich and Patricia Ann and Mrs. H. A. Yoder drove over from Elm Creek Sunday and spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tucker.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bennett and Ray Bennett visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett and family at Grand Island Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen drove to Shelton Saturday and spent the day with their daughters Misses Mildred and Margaret Christensen, students at the Shelton Academy.

Chas. Perry of Grand Island was in Arcadia Wednesday of last week on business. Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Wall and Mr. Perry drove to Loup City Wednesday evening on business.

The B. F. Ailshie family have sold their cafe at Mason City and are again residing in Sargent.

To Cemetery Lot Owners:

Ordinance No. 80, recently passed, provides for the perpetual care and maintenance of lots in the Ord City Cemetery upon payment of sums as follows:

- Whole Lots $75.00
- Half Lots or Less $50.00

This ordinance was created for the purpose of taking care of a demand much in evidence at this time, and insures non-residents and others that lots owned by them will always receive the necessary attention and be kept in good condition.

We earnestly recommend that lot owners place their lots in Perpetual Care and insure that they will never appear neglected or forgotten. For further information communicate with the City Clerk.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY 'THE PATSY' WELL ATTENDED

Wilson Bell, Lenora Roberts Make Hit In Farce Presented by Graduates Friday Eve.

Last Friday evening, at the high school auditorium, was presented the annual senior class play.

The play dealt with the triumph of a grocery peddling father and an abused daughter, Patricia, over a fearful mother and the adored daughter, Grace.

The play is a well known royalty comedy which was presented here a few years ago on the chautauqua stage but it lost nothing because it was familiar to part of the audience.

North Loup Beat Eureka Team, 5-3

By a score of 5 to 3 North Loup took the measure of Eureka in a fast farm bureau league game played at Eureka Sunday.

Several from Ord were at Swan Lake fishing Sunday and they report that 53 cars of fishermen were there but that fishing was very poor.

Friday Dr. F. A. Barta was able to leave the Ord hospital and return to his own home.
