

ORD ELECTRIC RATES REVISED

NEW 'DOMESTIC' RATE WILL GIVE NICE REDUCTION

Large Users Of Juice To Benefit Under New Scale Adopted By Councilmen Friday.

A new scale of electric rates that will mean a nice reduction to all who use "juice" in any quantity was adopted last Friday evening by Ord city councilmen at their first meeting of the new fiscal year. To large users the new rates will mean a reduction of 25 percent in many instances, says George Allen, manager of the light and water utility. Nobility will pay a higher rate under the new scale and many will benefit, he says.

Featuring the revised rate scale is a new "domestic rate" exclusively for homes. This is a "one meter rate" and will be optional; that is, users must sign a card requesting the domestic rate before it will be applied. Under this rate the first 30 kilowatts cost 8c, the next 50 kilowatts cost 4c and all in excess of 80 kilowatts cost 3c. There is a $2.00 per month minimum in this scale.

The "domestic rate" may be applied to any residence for light, heat, refrigeration, or for any of the three. People who use stoves, electric irons, toasters and other appliances will benefit most by adopting this rate, according to Mr. Allen. He will be glad to explain it to anybody in doubt as to whether he should request the "one meter rate."

Only one change was made in the straight lighting rate as it now exists. The first 30 kilowatts still cost 8c, the next 70 at 7c, and the next 100 at 6c but another step has been added making the next 100 cost 5c and all in excess 4c. This "added step" will result in nice reductions for many homes and business houses using lots of electricity for lights. The minimum monthly charge remains at $1.00.

The blocks were cut in the former power rate, which also will result in a reduction to large and small users alike. By the old rate the first 1,000 kilowatts went at 5c, the next 1,000 at 4 1/2c and all over at 4c. By the terms of the new rate the first 200 cost 5c, the next 300 4 1/2c, the next 1,000 at 4c, the next 3,500 at 3 1/2c and all over at 3c.

Before last Friday the straight rate was 4c per kilowatt. Under the newly adopted scale the first 50 kilowatts used for heating and cooking cost 4c and all in excess cost only 2c. This also will mean a nice reduction to users of electric stoves.

Probably the most important feature of this revised scale is the new "domestic rate." It was adopted largely as a promotion rate and Manager Allen, Mayor Moses and the various councilmen believe that it will result in much more juice being used and thereby justify itself, perhaps making other reductions possible next year. Anybody whose bill for electricity averages more than $2.00 per month probably can save by requesting the new domestic rate.

Failure to get the $6,000-acre block of leases they wanted is the only reason that drilling has not started here already, Mr. Phillips says. He expects to return to Ord within a week or two and make an active effort to secure the leases.

His company is drilling oil wells now near Campbell and Grand Island, Mr. Phillips told local men. Barefield is in charge of drilling operations on these two wells.

Glen was taken ill with influenza several weeks ago and when he was nearly recovered from this illness infection developed in one ear. He was brought to Hillcrest where everything possible was done for him, but to no avail.

Constance Bennett In Ultra-Smart Film

In the scintillating dialogue of Constance Bennett's new Pathé picture, "Sin Takes a Holiday," there is sparkling wit for which she is justly famous in private life.

With the support of Kenneth MacKenna, Basil Rathbone, and Louis Bartels, Rita L. Roy, Miss Bennett plays the role of a quick-witted secretary to a rather worldly weary millionaire attorney. They join in a marriage for convenience.

The story takes Miss Bennett to Paris, where in the character of a charming wife, separated from her husband by 3,000 miles of water, she demonstrates with characteristic ability the known, but always interesting theory, that sex appeal is the thing that makes the world go round—sometimes straight, but more often crooked. "Sin Takes a Holiday" will be shown at the Ord theatre commencing tonight.

Clarence Kucera Files "Red Hot" Answer to Wife's Divorce Petition

She Stabbed Him In Back With Fork, Ran Around With Other Men, He Says.

Charging that his wife, Wilma, is addicted to the use of intoxicants and frequently went on "whoopie" parties with other men, Clarence Kucera is resisting his wife's divorce petition in an answer and cross-petition filed in district court here last Thursday. The answer is a "red hot" that much of it is "quit for publication." Mrs. Kucera filed suit for divorce here some weeks ago and immediately after filing the petition left for Omaha and has not returned since, her husband charges.

In August, 1930, Mrs. Kucera seized a fork and stabbed him in the back repeatedly until the wound bled, says her husband as one of the reasons why she should not be given the divorce. She frequently slapped him, kicked him out of the house and cursed him, even in front of their children, he alleges.

Mr. and Mrs. Kucera were married May 26, 1927 at Brighton, Colo., and have three children, Patricia Anne, 3, Robert Earl, 2, and James William, 10 months old. In her original petition Mrs. Kucera said that her husband was shiftless and failed to provide a home for his family but he says this is untrue. He has worked for numerous and dairy companies, taught school, ran a cafe, threshed and did other farm work whenever he was able to work and to get a job, he says.

For eight weeks starting in December, 1929, Mr. Kucera was confined to bed with pneumonia and since then his health has not been the best, he says. During his illness Mrs. Kucera only came to visit him two or three times at the home of his parents and remained for only brief periods.

Mrs. Kucera has a liking for intoxicants and has been drunk on numerous occasions, her husband alleges. On Feb. 8, 1931, while attending a dance near Ravenna, she drank so much that she lost control of her faculties and had to be taken care of by her husband, he charges. She has been going around to shows and dances with other men for some time and has failed to care for her children, leaving them with his parents and her relatives while she had a good time.

For all of these reasons and others more serious, Mr. Kucera believes a divorce and alimony should be denied his wife and that the divorce and custody of the children should be given to him. He has always been faithful to his wife and has never furnished her with excuse or reason for her conduct, he says.

He is represented by Davis & Vogelstad while Mrs. Kucera's original petition was filed by Bert M. Hardenbrook. The case is bound to create a sensation when it is heard in district court here.

Held For Bad Check. J. I. Pogle, of Topeka, and Oliver Clement of Wichita, were held in jail here for several days because they passed a bad check for $14.70 at the Golden Rule store here. ### Denies She Refused State Road Offers Maude Goodenow, of Goodenow Station, against whose land condemnation proceedings were filed last week in order to secure a right-of-way for the state-federal highway, writes to the Quiz this week denying that she refused offers made by the state for the land. E. A. Gell, the right-of-way buyer, talked to her last week but they would do nothing about a new location, talked about a few other items, refused to pay me my price on two propositions I made, but when I asked him to tell me what he would do, or though he would be justified in paying, he refused to do this on several occasions and put us off on one pretext or another until the time limit had expired. I am writing you to clear up the case and let the people know the facts of the matter." So writes Miss Goodenow.

When the condemnation proceedings were filed last week Judge J. H. Hollingshead appointed a board of appraisers with H. B. Vandecar as chairman, Alvin Blessing and J. G. Hastings as other members, to view the property and determine a fair valuation for it.

However, the state came to an agreement with Miss Goodenow that the condemnation proceedings were dismissed by Mr. Munn, the county attorney.

OWNER OF STILL FACES BIG FINE, JAIL SENTENCE

Joe Kaiser Arrested Saturday Eve When Raiders Find Still; His Father-In-Law In Jail.

Manufacturing booze may be a trivial matter in Oklahoma, where he has been living, but Joe Kaiser may discover that it is a more serious offense in Valley county. He was arrested Saturday night when officers found a still, mash and whiskey on his farm in the northern part of the county. Kaiser faces charges filed against him yesterday by County Attorney George Mann. He will appear in district court today and has promised to plead guilty. The minimum fine allowed under the law is $500 along with a minimum jail sentence of thirty days.

Since Saturday night Kaiser has been held in jail here and his father-in-law, Anton Sindelar, who was arrested Saturday morning by Sheriff George Round and Marshall Len Covert when a gallon of whiskey was found in his car on the streets of Ord. In county court Monday he pleaded guilty to transporting liquor and Judge Hollingshead fined him $100 and costs. His car, a 1928 model Pontiac, was confiscated and will be sold at sheriff's sale.

Saturday evening Sheriff Round and Charlie Hunt paid a social call at the farm occupied by Sindelar's son-in-law, Joe Kaiser. They were armed with a search warrant and after serving their papers were beginning a search when they heard a racket upstairs in the house.

In an upstairs room they found Kaiser industriously trying to kick a boiler type still into pieces sufficiently small so they couldn't be used as evidence against him. They rescued the still and a copper coil and carried their search farther.

Downstairs Sheriff Round found indications that Kaiser had smashed two fruit jars containing whiskey. One of them had been broken on a small rug and Round brought the liquor-saturated rug to town as evidence.

In the barn a half barrel of rye mash was found, and also a large pall almost filled with whiskey that evidently had been run off a short time before. There were several quarts of liquor in the pall and the sheriff detailed his companion, Mr. Hunt, to guard it while he continued his search.

Right there is where Sheriff Round kicked the pall from his hands in an attempt to spill the liquor. A little of it went on the ground but most of it went on Sheriff Round's shoes. Though remaining in the pall for evidence so Sheriff Round brought Mr. Kaiser, the still, mash, whiskey and all to town where prisoner and evidence were put away for safe keeping.

Mr. Kaiser's father-in-law, Anton Sindelar, is a son-in-law of Sheriff Round. He was arrested about March 1 from Oklahoma. Officers have no evidence to prove that Sindelar was bootlegging the product of his son-in-law's still but an analysis of the liquor from his sources bearing them to be exactly alike, officers say.

Sindelar so far has refused to pay his fine and is laying it out. Kaiser's hearing will be held this morning and unless he changes his mind and pleads not guilty he will be in jail at once. Judge E. P. Clements will be on the bench.

FORD BRAKES ARE UNUSUALLY EFFECTIVE

Reliability and safety due to simple design and careful construction

ONE OF the first things you will notice when you drive the Ford is the quick, effective action of its four-wheel brakes.

They are unusually safe and reliable because they are mechanical, internal expanding, with all braking surfaces fully enclosed. This prevents mud, water, sand, etc., from getting between the band and drum and interfering with brake action.

Other outstanding features of the Ford are the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, torque-tube drive, more than twenty ball and roller bearings, Rustless Steel, reliability, economy, and long life.

You save when you buy the Ford and you save every mile you drive.

SENIOR CLASS PLAY 'THE PATSY' WELL ATTENDED

Wilson Bell, Lenora Roberts Make Hit In Farce Presented By Graduates Friday Even.

Last Friday evening, at the high school auditorium, was presented the annual senior class play. The play this year was a clever farce comedy, "The Patsy," and it was given by an "all-star" cast of graduates headed by Wilson Bell, Lenora Roberts, Zola Barta, Robert Cushing and others.

The play dealt with the triumph of a grocery peddling father and an abused daughter, Patricia, over a tearful mother and the adored son, Robert. The "insignificant" Patricia produced a surprising amount of publicity, much to the dismay of her family, until they learned what it was all about.

Wilson Bell, as the fiery father, provided many a laugh for the audience and Lenora Roberts was a triumph in the part of Patricia. Zola Barta did excellently as Grace while Esther Zukoski, as the mother, was more than adequate.

Robert Cushing and Harvey Michels were well cast as the girls' suitors. Others taking part in the play with credit to themselves were Evelyn Coe, Wilbert Marshall and Bud Bricker.

The play is well known locally, comedy which was presented here a few years ago on the chautauqua stage but it lost nothing because it was familiar to part of the audience. A large crowd attended and applauded the efforts of all the amateur actors.

Mrs. Dorothy Kovanda coached the play and is responsible for much of its success. Elva Bloodgood was vocal director and Prof. Theo. Toennies directed the orchestra that played before the curtain rose. Specialties were given between the acts by a girls sextette and a double quartette of boys.

Miss Lillian Jeary and Jesse Konda are sponsors of the senior class and assisted in coaching the play.

Is Our Line of Business!

The Fairmont Creamery Company has been in the cream buying business for almost a half century. It would not be making a statement too broad, then in saying that the Fairmont Creamery Company has done more to build the Dairy industry in Nebraska than all the rest of the creameries put together.

Through the 47 years of service to the farmer, the company today is the world's largest cream buying institution buying direct from the producer.

While selling your produce to us YOU ARE NOT patronizing a group of millionaires, as it has often been said, but a group of hard working men, from the president of the company to the station operator.

Competition Is The Life of Trade

And when you allow competition to be driven out of your community, you are indirectly destroying your own future.

The writer, representing the company for many years has enjoyed a good business in this community. Having a legal right to meet competition, this enabling him to have a continued patronage and complete satisfaction.

Service Is Our Aim

And in order to give this service we employ experienced help with absolute accuracy and efficiency.

This station is not only known for its quantity, but for its quality as well, thus we solicit for a quantity of quality cream. When coming to Ord sell your produce to us and profit by receiving the best of prices.

We invite you to tune in on the Fairmont Pioneer program, broadcast daily from 12:30 to 12:45, except Friday which is from 3 to 3:15 p. m., over KMMJ, Clay Center.

Improving Horse Herd. For years Harry Bresley has been breeding Percheron horses with much success and he finds a ready market for those he has to spare. He recently sold two of his big gray stallions, a 7-year old last week to John Burson who lives north and east from Burwell and a few days before a fine 5-year old to Fred Sawyer to head the herd on his ranch in the Brewster territory. Last week he bought a fine black Percheron stallion in Iowa and shipped him to Ord for use on the Bresley farm. While farmers have been selling their horses and buying tractors Harry has all the time believed that there would always be a demand for good horses and he still thinks that is true.

Mercantile and manufacturing concerns have MATERIAL things to sell. Their success depends on producing and maintaining a GOOD article. An auction firm has only its WORK to sell and must maintain an organization of well qualified workers to the end that their services may be as good as can be had in similar lines elsewhere. Long realizing this we strive to maintain our selling, buying and accounting forces on a high plane of ability, character and hustle. Today we are fortified in a decidedly strong nature and when we offer our services it is with the knowledge that, while we may not, and probably will not, please every patron, the effort put forth will be the best in us . . . and that means as good as can be secured at any market, at any time.

Who Says It Doesn't Pay to Advertise?

LAST week we wrote an advertisement about QUALITY of CREAM. WHAT HAPPENED? The weather man even came to our aid and before the paper came out the weather turned cooler and of course helped improve the Quality of Cream received last Saturday. Then some of our patrons read about the trouble we were having with Second Grade cream and they were just a little more careful in the way they handled their butter fat.

THERE ARE THREE THINGS THAT DETERMINE WHETHER CREAM WILL BE GOOD OR BAD: CLEANLINESS - TEMPERATURE - AGE WE TASTE BETWEEN 500 AND 600 CANS OF CREAM EVERY WEEK TO DETERMINE THE QUALITY OF EACH DELIVERY

Observe the Following Suggestions and There Will Be No Bad Cream

1. Use care in milking. Barn flavors usually come from unclean milking.
2. If you have a can that is rusty on the inside have it retinned or trade it in on a new one.
3. Thoroughly wash and scald all milk utensils—pails, strainers, cans and separators. Use washing powder. Unclean flavors usually come from milk, milk pails or a separator that has not been properly washed.
4. Cool cream in cold water immediately after separating. Use a small can for separating the cream into and then set it in cold water for cooling. Never mix warm cream and cold cream. Keep cream where air is pure. Have a cream cooling tank if possible. A barrel cooling tank can be fixed up at a very small cost.
5. Deliver cream often. Taste it and stir it well before starting for the Creamery. Talk to the buttermaker or manager about the quality of your cream.

To observe these suggestions should be no hardship on anyone and by all working together we can get more for your butterfat and we will agree that it is not very profitable to milk cows under present conditions.

STORAGE BUTTER IS PRACTICALLY CLEANED UP and We Are Hoping for a Price Improvement

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

If I hadn't read Tom Osterman's several columns... I have clipped Tom's disquisition on mushrooms and any one interested in the study and its about the science of gastronomic creations he would have rivaled the famed Henry Ward Beecher or even Rev. Brown long ago.

A Burwell woman has some house plants known as night-blooming cereus and in telling Col. Alder about them the other day she said, "If you want to see my night bloomers come over some evening." Apparently Burwell is catching the flower fever also.

Eugene didn't know roses from horse radish three months ago and much preferred the latter but he caught the flower fever and now he talks glibly about cannas, pansies, red geraniums and spends all his spare time working in his flowers and reading flower catalogues and magazines.

And it is spreading to the country. A well known country woman was asking me the other day all about what kind and size of gladiolus bulbs to get and said she was going to have a few flowers this year and was already making plans to get a flower garden fenced in so the pigs and chickens couldn't bother it and then set out a lot of bulbs this fall and be ready to have a real flower garden next year.

It is a little late to start this spring, still many can still be planted. It is a little late to start this spring, still many can still be planted. It is a little late to start this spring, still many can still be planted.

Washington is again arrayed in her spring outfit and tourists are swarming the city. This is a beautiful place and more especially at this time of the year as the trees and blossoms are so pretty. So many flowering shrubs and the pansy beds are gorgeous.

Right now Washington is entertaining Royalty as the King and Queen of Siam are here claiming the attention of many. We never seem to tire getting in crowds just the paths that led from Siam and Colorado crossed at the White House yesterday when Bryan Untied, the boy hero of Colorado and the King were both guests there.

Something DIFFERENT

The oddest looking horse has been wandering around, kinda sway backed, if you know what I mean. After inquiry, I find it is the one that Crawford Mortensen has been afflicting by riding! I'll bet it reduced.....the horse.

Frank Hron takes lots of interest in flowers. Many unusual specimens are kept growing about the Nu-Way Cleaners. He has in one pot a plant that ordinarily is bushy, and he expected his to be, too. But instead... it probably has thyroid gland. It grew into one long-legged stalk, and is now about 8 or 10 feet high and still going. Frank has staked it to support it, but is going to have to buy one of these 30 foot bamboo poles if it doesn't stop! But don't let me insinuate it isn't pretty!

Speaking of bamboo poles, I hear lots of new spring fish stories around the square. A number of Ord's prominent business men have already tried their luck either in the river, at Ericson, etc. Among them are Ernie Adams, John Goddard, Stanley McLean, Guy Burrows, Mayor Moses, etc. If fish bought gas, the Burrows filling station would surely be on a river bank, wouldn't it, Mr. Burrows?

Then there is Joe Beran. Nearly every day in spring, summer and fall Mr. Beran goes north to the creek or river to see how they're biting. And often comes home with some of the best.

What finer example of what improving grounds will do for a place could possibly be needed than a couple of glances at the former Huff house, now beautified ala McAllister? Go take a look at it, and then hurry to work on your own yard!

Such a hubbub of activity went on down in the Clate McGrew neighborhood the other day that Mrs. McGrew called up and wanted some officials of the Yard and Garden contest to come down and see what they had started! Something neat and pleasing being worked on in every yard.

Olof Olsson, Ord's new ice man, is having lots of fun kidding his wife these days. She comes from Texas, where "maygroes" do the work. But up here its different, so she planned to set out some onion sets, and be a real gardener. She did, and allowed for each one to grow to pumpkin size, putting them a foot and a half or more apart!

Her intentions were good, though, and I really dont think Ol-ee should be so ornery.

Mr. VanDecar is a real member of the Yard and Garden contest, and knows how to win. He has Mrs. VanDecar spading and digging around, equips her with gloves and shears and hoe, and just turns her loose. And their place does look nice!

A brand spanking new bird bath on the Charlie Brown property is exciting admiration just at present. Have you seen it? And Sheriff Round has a pretty white fence in his backyard, too. Everybodies working to make Ord pretty. Is your conscience guilty?

Mayor Moses says he goes fishing one time in the spring and if he doesn't catch anything, the season is over as far as he's concerned. This spring he declares he's mad at Hank Leggett anyhow, so

If he doesn't catch anything he's just going to turn his fishing tackle over to him.

Perhaps the Monday rains will finish the street cleaning job. I noticed a crew of men were trying to straighten out the curbs, dirty paving in front of the block where Frazier, Meyer and Graham-Seyler hold forth. The dirt was caked on the pavement until the sharp end of a spade didn't even dent a lot of it. Of course sweeping did some good, but still there was a lot of dust left to whirl up at the first whiff of breeze.

However, as the man with the big nose said, "We're thankful for small favors and large ones in proportion!"

The pretty new Lincoln home, recently finished, is going to be an ornament to the north side of town, for Mr. and Mrs. Reuben, not content with building such a little white bungalow, are now planting trees and shrubs and flowers on every side. An ornamental white fence and a unique rose trellis built by Bert Needham also do their bit to hold the eye of every passer-by.

A few intrepid gardeners already have red geraniums out of doors! It may be a trifle early, but it is an encouraging sign, isn't it? Don't forget to plan for a showing of these flowers someplace in front, to show your loyalty to the Ord Six-it-up spirit that is being manifested this spring.

Mrs. McGrew is getting her money's worth of personal advertising this week from me.... but she tells enthusiastically that one of the prettiest sights she ever saw was a red geranium hedge!

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

30 Years Ago. Miss Daisy Flynn and Roscoe Arnold were married.

35 Years Ago. Anthony Koupal started building a new residence on the lot west of A. J. Firkins.

40 Years Ago. Mammie Siler's delivery team ran away and made a circuit of the square in about two minutes, turning the wagon over three times.

45 Years Ago. L. D. Bailey and Sons presented the Ord fire department with a check for $150 as a token of their appreciation of the fine service rendered by the fire fighters at near fire which destroyed the Bailey store.

48 Years Ago. Down in Minneola, Kas., fifty farmers last week approved a resolution that if wheat is not $1 a bushel by seeding time they will not plant. The fifty farmers represented ownership of about 1,500,000 bushels of wheat, state papers said. If such a movement should spread throughout the wheat belt and farmers would really refrain from planting for one season $1.00 or even $2.00 wheat would soon become a reality. And prices on other grains would benefit accordingly.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Today you have the privilege of using recipes sent in by prize winners in the recent cooking contest. Try them and see what these good local cooks enjoy serving to their families!

Sour Cream Cookies. 1 c. sugar, 1 c. sour cream, 1/4 c. shortening, 2 1/2 c. flour, 1 egg, 1 tsp. soda dissolved in a little hot water and stirred in cream, 1 tsp. baking powder sifted with the flour.

Cream sugar and shortening, add the well beaten eggs. Stir in the cream and flour. A little more flour may be added if too soft. Flavor to suit taste. Set in a cool place over night or at least 2 hours. Sprinkle bread loaf with flour, roll the dough out thin and lightly. Sprinkle with sugar, cut out and bake in a quick oven. Use as little flour as possible in rolling out.

Cottage Cheese. Sour a half gallon of milk. When real thick put on stove on a very of fire until the milk separates from the curd. Add cream, salt, pepper and a pinch of sugar to suit your own taste.

Put the thick milk in a mixing bowl and flake it up fine with a fork. Add cream, salt, pepper and a pinch of sugar to suit your own taste.

I am sure the prize winning cheese at the contest that day had some very finely minced onion in it, and it was delicious. If you like onions in your food. Here is another recipe using sour cream, called a "5 minute recipe".

Sour Cream Cake. This makes a 2 layer cake, loaf cake, or drop cake. Break 2 eggs in a mixing bowl and beat thoroughly. Add 1 c. sugar and beat well. Add 1 c. sour cream, 1 tsp. vanilla, Sift separately 2 c. flour (after sifting), 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. soda, 1 1/2 tsp. baking powder.

Add the dry mixture to ingredients in mixing bowl and beat briskly. Bake in a moderate oven. For caramel nut cake substitute brown sugar for the white and add 1/2 c. nuts, chopped.

For spice cake, add spices and 1 c. chopped raisins.

For chocolate cake, add 2 more tsp. sugar and substitute 1-3 c. chocolate for that amount of flour.

This sour cream recipe is thus usable for a number of different cakes, and would be a dandy recipe for every beginning cook to keep handy. Both Mrs. Henkel and Mrs. Hallen wrote notes of appreciation for money made in the cooking contest, and the opportunity it afforded to give something to charity.

Quaker Cookies. 1 c. fat

2 c. light brown sugar, 4 eggs well beaten, 1/4 c. milk, 2 c. oatmeal, 3/4 c. flour, 1 tsp. baking powder, 2 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. cloves and mace, 1/2 tsp. salt, 2 c. raisins, 1/4 c. nutmeat. Drop by spoonfuls on buttered pan.

HOW DID TOWNS IN VALLEY CO. BECAME NAMED?

Historical Lore Shows Arcadia Named For Profusion Of Flowers Booming.

How did towns get their names? Did the name just happen or is there some plan in use by the post office department or the railroad companies that decides what the names shall be? In the case of post offices, the post office department does exercise a pretty close censorship to see that a new office does not get a name that will be similar to another and result in a confusion of mail. The railroads watch, too, that two stations on their lines do not get the same or similar names. Generally, local sentiment rules in picking names for towns, though in the days of settlement of Nebraska a number of factors entered into the naming of a town. A settlement might be made by people from the same place in an eastern state, then the name of the town from which they came would be given the new Nebraska town. The names of generals and statesmen of the Civil War period are generously given every name of every town and a little investigation of the names of the towns in Valley county discloses some interesting results.

The first settlement was made in Valley county in April 1872. The county was established by the legislature of 1873 and was named because it was composed mostly of valley land, lying between higher table land. It was created and the boundaries defined by an act approved March 1, 1871.

Alta. A former, inland post office in Noble precinct. The name derives from the Latin word altus, referring to a high or elevated position.

Arcadia. The site of Arcadia was laid out in 1885, and the plat put on record October 3, 1885. It was named by Mrs. Sam and A. Hawthorne who served as the first postmaster and who at one time taught school in the village. She understood the meaning of "Arcadia" to be "the feast of flowers." At that time this valley was filled with beautiful wild roses in bloom, which made the name seem appropriate to her. The town was first called Brownville in honor of Porter Brown who came to the vicinity in April, 1873, and who is considered the real father of the settlement. The name was changed because there was another town of the same name in the state. The precinct has the same name.

Elyria. The name Eldon was first given to this town, but since there was another town in the state by that name, it was changed to Elyria. It is not known why the latter name was selected. The precinct has the same name.

Geranium. The name of a former inland post office and a locality in Geranium precinct. The name is floral in origin. Leo Park. This village was laid out in 1884 near the southwest corner of the county on the west county line, a portion being previously laid out over the line in Custer county, the post office was established in Valley county. The name is in honor of James Lee, the first settler, who came here in September, 1874. The local valley is known as Lee's Park and formerly the post office had the same name. A creek in the vicinity is known as Lee's Creek. Later the post office was moved into Custer county and finally discontinued.

Miracreek. A locally descriptive name for a former inland post office and a locality in Enterprise precinct. North Loup. A post office was established at North Loup in 1872. It was so named because of its location in the valley of the North Loup river.

Ord. Ord was surveyed early in the year, 1874, by Haskell brothers, O. S. and O. C., and A. M. Robbins. General E. O. C. Ord was at that time in command of the military department of the Platte and the town was named for him. Ord is the county seat of Valley county.

C. OF C. TO HAVE GENERAL MEETING MAY FOURTEENTH

July 4 Celebration, Gravel And Clean Streets To Be Talked; Smoker and Free Lunch.

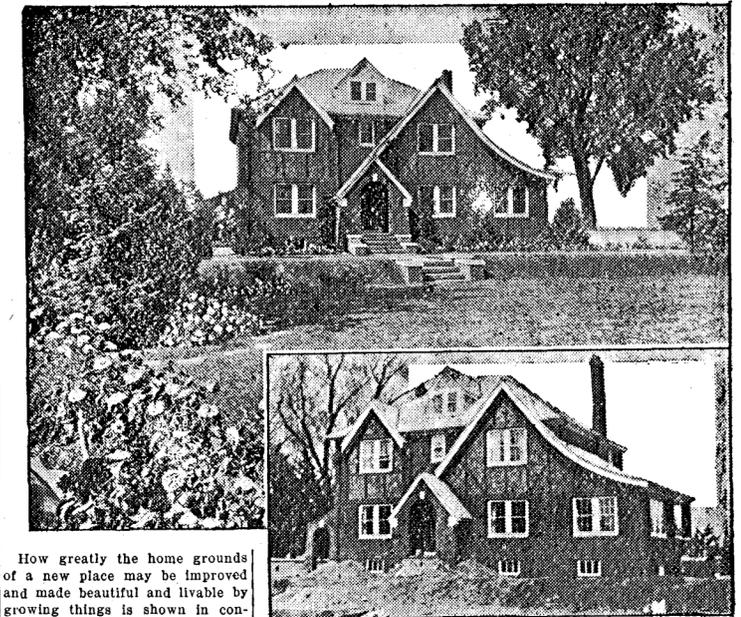

The question of whether or not Ord should hold a 4th of July celebration is one of the live subjects to be discussed next Thursday evening, May 14, when a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce will be held at the American Legion hall. Directors decided at their meeting last week to call this kind of a meeting. Cigars, cigarettes, coffee and sandwiches will be furnished free to all members and other business men attending.

Many believe that now is a fine time to grave the streets of Ord and this project also will be brought up next Thursday. Members attending will be urged to suggest other topics for discussion, the purpose of the meeting being to find new ways to make Ord a better town.

All Ord business men are especially invited to attend, whether or not they are members of the Chamber at present. "Don't wait for a personal invitation," says H. B. VanDecar, Chamber president. "If you are an Ord business man, interested in making Ord a better, more prosperous city, this is your invitation to attend."

Mrs. Mary Klima had a birthday Friday and Bobby and Doris, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Klima, went to their grandmother's home and stayed all night and assisted her to celebrate the day.

Valley, Nebr. Home Grounds Show How A Place Can Be Improved and Beautified by First Season Planting

How greatly the home grounds of a new place may be improved and made beautiful and livable by growing things is shown in contrast by the two photographs above. The upper view was taken after the first season's planting had been done. The lower photo was snapped before any trees, shrubs or flowers had been set out.

Mrs. Fritz Akerlund, Valley, Nebraska. The lower view was taken just after the house had been finished, in the early spring of 1930, the upper photograph some months later but during the summer of the same year. A considerable number of fine evergreens, both dwarf and higher growing varieties, were used to good advantage in the beautification work.

Flowering shrubs in variety were also set out. A wide sweeping lawn, perennial flowers and annuals to fill in the bare spots made this place a first prize-winner in the Yard & Garden Contest at 1872, Nebraska, sponsored by "The Enterprise" the live newspaper serving that growing community.

Nebraska Lakes Yielded $70,000 In Muskrat Skins in One County

There is a good demand for muskrat skins from the sandhill lakes of Nebraska. They are so good in quality that furrers quote a separate price on Nebraska muskrat skins.

The shipping season for muskrat skins closed a few days ago. From Hyannis, county seat of Grant county, where trapping is carried on extensively, 478 bales of skins were shipped this season.

Nebraska muskrats from the sandhills came into notice during the World War when furrers were compelled to look to new fields for furs, especially the high priced seal.

Grant county has a large number of fresh water lakes, free from alkali, and these are native haunts for millions of muskrats that build their reed and rush houses partly under and partly above the water.

Muskrat is Nebraska's most numerous fur-bearing animal. Others that yield some revenue for trappers are: Southern mink, found all over the state; long-tailed weasel, not a very popular resident of the muskrat country because he kills too many muskrats.

BE CAREFUL.

An Ord lady called the Quiz Tuesday and asked what a certain four well known magazines would cost her. We looked the list up and told her the price was $23.00. We got the order and she explained that there was a crew of young men in Ord "EARNING MONEY TO GO TO COLLEGE". The same old gag, and they asked her $29 for the same list. $23 is the price the publisher asks and they were simply grafting an extra six dollars. We have warned against ordering from strangers before. You are very liable to get gypped when you do it. We are here at the time and ready to make right any error. A stranger is gone and you simply have to stand the loss if things do not come out as the stranger promises. The Quiz can order any publication you may want and get it as cheap for you as anyone on earth can get it for you and if there is anything wrong we are here to attend to having it straightened out.

Community Club Meets.

The regular monthly meeting of the Arcadia Community club was held at the Methodist church basement Tuesday evening of last week at seven o'clock when the ladies of the church served the club another very appetizing dinner.

Delinquents Entertain.
The delinquent members of the Up-To-Date club entertained the remaining members at a unique party last Tuesday afternoon, April 28th. The members to be taken into the club next year and those to be reinstated were also guests.

At two o'clock, a committee, by invitation, the "wisest" assembled at the Lewin home but found none of their hostesses present. As Mrs. Lewin was a member of the "wiser" party she was as much at a loss to know just what was going to occur as were the other members. After a long stretched hour had passed the delinquent hostesses put in their appearance and not being satisfied with making their guests wait and wonder they proceeded to put them to a test of their knowledge by calling on each one for a speech or a song or other bit of entertainment.

Taking pity upon their guests the delinquent members then took them to the home of Mrs. Ernest Esterbrook where a lovely two course dinner was served at a long table made especially attractive by a centerpiece of spring flowers enhanced by bowls of water lilies which were placed at equal distances on each side of the centerpiece. Small nut cups from which sprang a brightly colored juggling act were placed at each table adding beauty to the color scheme.

This was the final meeting of the club year.

Planting Flowers and Shrubbery Chief Order of Business With Many Ordites

By IRMA ELLIS LECCITT

A sightseeing tour of the city will repay anyone these spring evenings, for there is scarcely a yard where fresh improvements are not evident. Stopping first at the former Huff home, now rented to Mr. McAllister of Grand Island, who is road boss here just now, large patches of newly seeded lawn show that here is someone who loves a neat attractive home and a fine lawn.

This is far from the only pleasing feature for a brand new double garage and gravelled driveway ornament the back, and nearby a big round tank is partly sunk in the lawn. Turf and rocks piled up about it are the first symptoms of a rock garden, and on a side porch some of the flowers which will probably make a home in that pool are already waiting. Double pink daisies, pansies and a number of fine lilies are already in place in beds about the foundation of the house and will soon be beautiful. Mr. McAllister has a very pretty home in Grand Island, a show place, and what he has already done to the Huff property, Prince Charles, son of the King of Belgium. He told her he was simply Mr. Charles De Rethy.

The W. L. Ramsey home has a beautiful new white lattice fence in an unusual style toward the back of the south lawn which is attracting admiration these days. This fence was built by Earl Klein and so were two pretty new rose trellises which ornament the lawns. Lawns about this home are a wonderful quality of heavy turf, thick and grassy, as nice as any in Ord. Two Mugho pines flank the front entrance, set in this lawn, which has hardly a dandelion. A number of roses show a fondness for this flower, and under a hydrant a place is reserved for a lily pool when that busy Martin Led gets time to build it.

From a window crackled the voice of a fluffy green parrot, 43 years old this coming June, and once a dear member of the Ratliff family, and now a prized possession of the Ramseys.

Frank Piskorski has done a dandy job of landscaping his own place, and made it a home anyone who loves plantings would be glad to own. A thick honeysuckle hedge surrounds the lot, and is beautiful when it blooms. This year a bed of everblooming roses has been set into each lawn beside evergreens, and a bed of Los Angeles hybrid roses as well. Also three pretty fancy little evergreens. A new archway only awaits a coat of white paint before joining a white fence to conceal the vegetable garden.

A lot of glads and hydrangeas and geraniums are also in prospect for Piskorski's home this summer. Red geraniums are already appearing out-doors. Mrs. William Zabloudil has a bed out, Mrs. G. W. Taylor has purchased a dozen, and Dr. Zeta Nay has also spoken for a quantity which will enliven the newly purchased Nay home, the former Tippin property.

The property which the senior Dworak family have kept attractive and orderly for years has a glorious quadruple row of double tulips in bloom in red, yellow, orange, and a bluish white. This flower is rarely if ever seen in Ord, perhaps this is the only bed in town. A very pleasing unit of white fence was installed last year as a background, and this spring it has a friendly apple tree blooming over it, and a bed of peonies below. There are also lots of everblooming roses, candlestick lilies, chrysanthemums, a ground evergreen and many other flowers. Mrs. Dworak too is planning for a number of red geraniums. Always slightly and perfectly kept is the Moser home, and just now the whole front of the foundation is concealed by a blaze of bright tulips, as nice as hot-house ones. Another bed of them lies to the south. A new privet hedge has been put by the drive this spring, with a row of peonies to keep it company. No one was home here either, so the Quiz reporter missed a sight of the backyard. Next door south the Emul Fafetta home is also exceedingly attractive to the eye, with bird bath, bird house, lots of roses, a nice lawn, and a generally well cared for air.

Numerous other improvements are found in Ord, dozens of the block. Ign. Klina has installed a bird bath in the center of a lily pool just west of his home that is very pretty. Dr. Blessing is putting out 100 glad bulbs. And so it goes, everywhere.

Frieda Bebe Honor Maid. Miss Frieda Bebe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Grade School Will Give Operetta Soon

Miss Elva Bloodgood's grade school music pupils are working hard on an operetta, "The Palace of Carelessness," which will be presented at the high school auditorium here May 15. In the "palace of carelessness" are gathered all the lost and found articles in London. They are alive for one hour and as the old grandfather's clock strikes twelve they are free to move about, talk, sing and dance. The operetta features beautiful costumes and should be enjoyable to school patrons.

ORD CHAPTER HAS HIGHEST GRADES

Future Farmers Have Average Of 87 For Year; Fail To Win In State Contest.

Though the Ord chapter of Future Farmers of America, vocational agricultural organization, failed to win first place in the state this year, records at the agricultural college in Lincoln show the local association had the highest average scholastic rating in Nebraska. Records of the Ord chapter show an average grade of 87.

Nine different projects were undertaken during the year of September, 1929 to March, 1931. They included sow and litter, baby beef, dairy calf, market milk production, popcorn, dent corn, wheat, potatoes and garden. The sow and litter with the baby beef projects proved to be the most popular, four boys being in each.

The local chapter was strong in community service for the year. The Ord boys sponsored a junior fair and judging contest, junior husking contest and the evening school program. In addition they mixed two tons of poultry mash which was sold to students at cost.

Not only were the boys active in community service and other activities but the records at the agricultural college show they participated in athletics. A member of the chapter was chosen on the honorary list as fullback on the all-conference football team last fall. In addition the Future Farmer basketball team won four out of five games. They defeated Loup City, North Loup, Horace and the Ord reserves. The North Loup high school reserves gave them their only setback.

Again in leadership the Ord chapter ranked high, having members in most all activities. There were two 4-H club leaders, one state farmer, one president of a district Future Farmer chapter. The football captain, senior class president, junior class president and editor of the high school paper were also from among the Future Farmer ranks.

The financial report for Jesse Kovanda's Ord chapter shows the average earnings for each boy from the year's project program was $80.35. The value of animals, crops, supplies owned by all members amounted to $1485. Evidently the Valley county boys were thrifty also for the average amount of cash saved by each boy during the year was $59.28.

The Ord chapter of Future Farmers of America was organized in October, 1929. Out of the 52 farm boys in Ord high school, there were 24 active members in the organization. There were ten more boys in the organization this year than last.

Bud Brickner was the president for the year while Adrian Tolen served as secretary. Tolen was also the district president. Anthony Kokes holds the position this year.

Wind-mills Made In Nebraska Pump Water In Far Off India

The natives of Balasore, India, were curious when a long steel frame and a strange looking circle of fans were unloaded at the boys' industrial school, a government institution. They were astonished when they were told the wheel mounted on the tower would change wind into power and draw water from the ground. They watched the erection of the strange contrivance with eager curiosity. When later the erection was completed under the direction of the superintendent of the school, an American; the wind began to turn the wheel and water flowed from the pump spout, the astonished natives hurried off to tell their neighbors a miracle had happened.

The incident was related in a letter that recently came to the Dempster company at Beatrice, makers of windmills. The correspondent is the head of the boys' school, whom the government of India recently employed to give a series of lectures and demonstrations on rural water supply and sewer disposal plants for India at a special conference of public works engineers at Patna. "Pumps and windmills are simple and thoroughly understood in the United States," he wrote, "but to India they are very new and complicated. Much tube and tubular well equipment has been carelessly installed in India in such a way that repeated failures have disheartened the public in general."

Steel windmill towers made in Nebraska have marched across the borders of this state in a tall procession, carrying sturdy workmanship and simplicity of operation for transforming moving air currents into an obedient servant for man. They have gone clear around the globe, lightening human labor and giving a new appearance of progress to the country in which they have reared their tall forms.

The word Dempster is a reminder of home to many homesick travelers.

The highest amount of indebtedness in the county at any one time exceeded the valuation of the property owned by it.

The affairs of the corporation shall be conducted by a Board of Directors, one of whom shall be President and one of whom shall be Clerk-Treasurer.

On the lawn of the new Dworak residence in Ord is a coming stand of bent grass. This popular new lawn grass can be distinguished from blue grass by its fine, prostrate, bluish-green leaves.

It is generally conceded that bent grasses can produce the most beautiful lawns for fine homes, or the best putting greens for golf courses. These grasses require considerable care in the way of water, fertilizer, and cutting, but the efforts are rewarded with a carpet of green not excelled by any other grass.

The big demand for bent grass seed has raised the price to one dollar or two dollars per pound. This has led to some adulteration of desirable seed with cheap inferior bent grasses, mostly red top. The seeds of these different species resemble each other very closely.

The bents may be classified as velvet bent, colonial bent, creeping bent, and red top. Velvet bent is considered the finest of all. Two varieties called Metropolitan bent, and Rhode Island bent, planted in the University of Nebraska lawn tests, have been showing up the best of all the various lawn grasses being tried out there. Metropolitan bent, the better of the two, was so named because it came direct from the White House lawn at Washington, D. C.

Bent grass spreads by means of creeping stems or stolons, running both above and below ground. It is a rapid spreader, but is not apt to become a weed pest.

Where the plants are not crowded or mowed, the leaves get coarser. Under close, crowded conditions, and where closely clipped, the leaves grow very fine.

WHAT every ENGINEER KNOWS

The only road to full power from any engine, the only way to keep any machine in first-class condition, is by correct lubrication.

The new model motors give oil a harder job. Their cylinder clearances are smaller. Compression and engine heat are higher. Engine speed has been increased.

So new model oil was developed—new POLARINE. It defies the "cracking" and thinning effect of high heat—always flows freely in cold weather—does not gum valves or carbon the motor—provides a tough, wear-resisting film.

New Polarine enables motors to deliver full power and provides the utmost protection against wear—does everything that any oil can do for your motor. Consult the chart for the correct grade to use—25¢ a quart for every grade.

FARMALL SAVINGS INVESTMENT PLAN

This New Plan Lets Every Responsible Corn Grower Pay for His Farmall with Just a Part of the Savings the Farmall Will Make

ABUNDANT evidence in the form of actual cost records proves that farmers using Farmall tractors and full Farmall equipment are producing corn for from one-half to one-third the government average for farms with similar yields, the average saving amounting to 27 1/2 cents a bushel.

We are so confident that the majority of farmers can get proportionate results with the Farmall that we are announcing the FARMALL SAVINGS INVESTMENT PLAN, under which responsible farmers can purchase a Farmall and Farmall equipment now and meet the first payment this fall with just a part of the savings made possible by the new equipment in the production of their corn crop—with two more years to pay the balance.

Here is an opportunity for you to take advantage of Farmall savings during the balance of the corn growing and harvesting season—planting from 20 to 45 acres a day and cultivating 30 to 65 acres a day with 2- or 4-row equipment—and be ready next year to make the maximum saving throughout the entire year. And don't overlook the extra savings you will make in the handling of your hay, grain, and all other crops requiring power.

Every one of these jobs can be done faster and at lower costs with a Farmall and Farmall equipment, effecting substantial savings on every crop, yet all you pay is part of the savings made on the corn alone as a first payment this fall.

See your McCormick-Deering dealer for full details of the FARMALL SAVINGS INVESTMENT PLAN. A convincing demonstration of the Farmall and reasonable equipment will be made on your own farm on request.

Land Brings $50 an Acre.

He bought it at auction last Thursday but doesn't expect to go into the hotel business at his advanced age. He will sell when an opportunity offers. Mr. Preston says Mrs. Maggie Vanscoy sold her farm at auction last Thursday. It brought only $50 an acre, Arthur Malotke being the buyer. Alfred Jorgensen now lives on this farm. Thirteen years ago this same farm sold for $52 per acre.

FAIR BUREAU NOTES.

Vacancy At Naval Academy, Writes Bob Simmons

Is there a young man in Valley county between the ages of 16 and 19 who has the qualifications for an appointment to the United States naval academy at Annapolis and who wishes to serve as an officer in the navy of his country? If there is, he will be interested in the news that Congressman Bob Simmons will appoint some young man of the 6th district to Annapolis this year.

In a letter to school superintendents of the 6th district this week Mr. Simmons tells of the vacancy and says he hopes to appoint "an outstanding student and citizen." In order to qualify young men must have completed a 12th grade course and some college work also will be of assistance, though it is not necessary if the applicant can pass the examinations. The successful applicant will be nominated as a midshipman to enter the academy in June, 1932.

School superintendents in towns of the 6th congressional district received letters from Congressman Bob Simmons this week in which he outlines the needed qualifications. Young men interested in the appointment should inquire of their superintendent for details.

81 Homes Entered In Yard-Garden Contest; Three Judges Are Appointed

Closing entries with a total of 81 members, the Ord Yard and Garden Contest is now bustling merrily on its way, for every enthusiastic entrant is working busily at improving and beautifying his home and gardens, and already the superior appearance of Ord testifies to this conscientious endeavor. Even those who have not listed their names in the project sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce have caught the bug and are striving to make their homes not too great a contrast when compared with the home surroundings of the contestants.

Three judges for the contest who have been secured by Mr. Goddard and his committee are Mrs. A. W. Cornell, Jesse Kovanda, and C. C. Dale. This trio will make their first inspection in a day or two. A second tour of inspection is made during the summer and a third and last survey will be made by the judges about September 1, or a few days after. Regulation score cards will be filled in for each home each time it is visited, and nothing is left to chance or memory. These three judges have sole power of decision, and their verdicts are final, as the committee in charge have vested in them absolute authority.

Ord has never looked so nice this early in the season and the Chamber of Commerce feels that the contest has so far, at least, been responsible for much of the activity. Encouraging, too, was the amount of alley cleaning and general straightening up which was accomplished in clean-up week, in spite of the unfavorable weather.

World Doomed, Scientist Says

The world can't go on forever, as you may have guessed, but it remained for Sir James Jeans, eminent British astronomer, to say when it will end. That will happen, he predicts, in a million million years. Here he is shown in New York before leaving for Pasadena, Calif., to visit Prof. Robert A. Millikan.

Dworak Store Robbed.
George Dworak's grocery store in Bellwood was among five places entered last Friday night by thieves. They took $10 from Mr. Dworak's cash register and also some papers which are of no value to them but are to their owner.

Still Owner Will Serve Long Term In County Prison

Joseph Kaiser, arrested last week for owning a still and manufacturing booze on his farm in the north part of the county, will be an inmate of the Valley county jail for several months. When he pleaded guilty in district court last Friday Judge Edwin P. Clements fined him $500 and costs and sentenced him to thirty days in jail. He was unable to pay the fine so will "lay it out" which assures his presence on the top floor of the court house for the next five or six months. His father-in-law, Anton Sindelar, also is laying out a fine of $100.

Keith Davis Engaged.
Keith P. Davis, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Davis of Lincoln, will be married early in June to Miss Jennie McClung, also of Lincoln. Keith is a former Ord boy, is a graduate of the state university and now holds a responsible position with the Iowa Nebraska Light & Power Co.

Immense Nebraska Bird Sanctuary Was Taken Over by Government

Nebraska's 39,000 acre migratory bird refuge in Garden county was officially taken over by the federal government when a United States game protector arrived at Alliance a few days ago to assume supervision. Working headquarters will be established at Oskosh which has better road connections with the tract.

A year ago Congress appropriated $10,000,000 to buy migratory bird refuges in several of the western states. The Crescent lake refuge was submitted as an ideal location in Nebraska. After a year of investigation, the government decided to buy the 39,000 acre tract at $7.25 an acre. The ranch company will be allowed to graze cattle there until May, 1932. Shooting is prohibited on the refuge but fishing will be permitted. There are perch, crappie, bass and bluegills in the waters. Crescent lake was stocked about ten years ago and no fishing was permitted until last summer. The fishing is now said to be excellent.

Headquarters will be erected on the east side of Island lake and there the supervisor will reside. Temporary structures will be used for a time but eventually the government will build good quarters here in keeping with its policy.

Contrary to common belief, the refuge will not be fenced. It is not considered likely that large animals will be harbored there. It is a bird refuge and there the migrants of the air will be made welcome and carefully protected. It has been observed for a number of years that the number of migrant birds in Nebraska is steadily increasing as larger protection is afforded them. More open lakes, more timber and stricter game laws are rapidly increasing game birds and Nebraska is getting its full share. The new federal bird refuge is expected to develop new interest in the protection of birds and attract many thousand new seasonal visitors.

Easiest Way To Have Flowers Is Plant Annuals

"Perhaps the easiest way to have a flower garden is to depend entirely upon the use of annuals," declares Prof. C. C. Wiggins of the agriculture college in Lincoln. "The seed are planted in the spring, the plant grows during summer, flowers, and is killed by the autumn frosts."

Since Ord is in the midst of a yard and garden contest, Wiggins' advice is especially interesting to local people who are entering the competition and hope to improve the looks of their lawns this summer.

Wiggins says in seeding the annuals it is important to have a well prepared seed bed. The seeds are so small and must be covered so lightly that it is a waste of time to sow them in coarse or cloddy soil, he tells Ordites. If water is available, so much the better.

Wiggins warns Ord people not to plant their annuals too thick in the seedbed. Only so much water and plant food is available to the plants and overcrowded conditions result in death. In addition better plants and more desirable blossoms are obtained if the thinning of seedlings is practiced. He recommends six inch spacing of small plants and twelve or even eighteen inches with the larger species. Thinning is also often the cause of disease prevalence, especially among plants affected with mildew.

As Ord people who raise annuals each year know, not so much attention is needed in the summer outside of weeding and necessary watering. Occasionally mildew may start on some varieties but sulphur dust will put a stop to it.

Wiggins tells Valley county people. Arsenate of lead will control the insect destroying the blossoms on sweet alyssum or those destructive of foliage.

ORD HIGH HONOR STUDENTS NAMED

Martha Mae Barta Valedictorian With Average of 94.87; Greta Brickner Next.

With an average grade of 94.87 percent in all the courses she has taken during her four years in Ord high school, Miss Martha Mae Barta is valedictorian and will deliver the valedictory address at class night ceremonies to be held at the auditorium next Wednesday evening. Martha Mae is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. P. Barta, of Ord.

Only a fraction of a percent lower than Miss Barta was Miss Greta Brickner, whose grade was 94.61. She thereby wins honors as class salutatorian. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brickner, who live southwest of Ord.

Special mention should be made of Miss Ella Lange, of Mira Valley, whose grade was so high as to entitle her to class honors had she not attended school at Valley side for the first two years of her high school course before coming to Ord. Rules require that to become valedictorian or salutatorian students must have attended Ord high school throughout the four years.

A scholarship valued at $150 offered by normal schools of Nebraska goes to the valedictorian of Ord high school. However, Miss Barta plans to attend Stephens college, Columbia, Mo., so school authorities are awarding this scholarship to Miss Lange.

Miss Brickner, the salutatorian, wins a scholarship of $100 offered by church schools of the state. She plans to accept this scholarship.

Vacancy At Naval Academy, Writes Bob Simmons

Is there a young man in Valley county between the ages of 16 and 19 who has the qualifications for an appointment to the United States naval academy at Annapolis and who wishes to serve as an officer in the navy of his country? If there is, he will be interested in the news that Congressman Bob Simmons will appoint some young man of the 6th district to Annapolis this year.

In a letter to school superintendents of the 6th district this week Mr. Simmons tells of the vacancy and says he hopes to appoint "an outstanding student and citizen." In order to qualify young men must have completed a 12th grade course and some college work also will be of assistance, though it is not necessary if the applicant can pass the examinations. The successful applicant will be nominated as a midshipman to enter the academy in June, 1932.

School superintendents in towns of the 6th congressional district received letters from Congressman Bob this week in which he outlines the needed qualifications. Young men interested in the appointment should inquire of their superintendent for details.

81 Homes Entered In Yard-Garden Contest; Three Judges Are Appointed

Closing entries with a total of 81 members, the Ord Yard and Garden Contest is now bustling merrily on its way, for every enthusiastic entrant is working busily at improving and beautifying his home and gardens, and already the superior appearance of Ord testifies to this conscientious endeavor. Even those who have not listed their names in the project sponsored by the Ord Chamber of Commerce have caught the bug and are striving to make their homes not too great a contrast when compared with the home surroundings of contestants.

The three judges for the contest who have been secured by Mr. Goddard and his committee are Mrs. A. W. Cornell, Jesse Kovanda, and C. C. Dale. This trio will make their first inspection in a day or two. A second tour of inspection is made during the summer and a third and last survey will be made by the judges about September 1, or a few days after. Regulation score cards will be filled in for each home each time it is visited, and nothing is left to chance or memory. These three judges have sole power of decision, and their verdicts are final, as the committee in charge have vested in them absolute authority.

Ord has never looked so nice this early in the season and the Chamber of Commerce feels that the contest has so far, at least, been responsible for much of the activity. Encouraging, too, was the amount of alley cleaning and general straightening up which was accomplished in clean-up week, in spite of the unfavorable weather.

World Doomed, Scientist Says

The world can't go on forever, as you may have guessed, but it remained for Sir James Jeans, eminent British astronomer, to say when it will end. That will happen, he predicts, in a million million years. Here he is shown in New York before leaving for Pasadena, Calif., to visit Prof. Robert A. Millikan.

Dworak Store Robbed. George Dworak's grocery store in Bellwood was among five places entered last Friday night by thieves. They took $10 from Mr. Dworak's cash register and also some papers which are of no value to them but are to their owner.

Still Owner Will Serve Long Term In County Prison

Joseph Kaiser, arrested last week for owning a still and manufacturing booze on his farm in the north part of the county, will be an inmate of the Valley county jail for several months. When he pleaded guilty in district court last Friday Judge Edwin P. Clements fined him $500 and costs and sentenced him to thirty days in jail. He was unable to pay the fine so will "lay it out" which assures his presence on the top floor of the court house for the next five or six months. His father-in-law, Anton Sindelar, also is laying out a fine of $100.

Keith Davis Engaged. Keith P. Davis, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Horace M. Davis of Lincoln, will be married early in June to Miss Jennie McClung, also of Lincoln. Keith is a former Ord boy, is a graduate of the state university and now holds a responsible position with the Iowa Nebraska Light & Power Co.

Immense Nebraska Bird Sanctuary Was Taken Over by Government

Nebraska's 39,000 acre migratory bird refuge in Garden county was officially taken over by the federal government when a United States game protector arrived at Alliance a few days ago to assume supervision. Working headquarters will be established at Oshosh which has better road connections with the tract.

A year ago Congress appropriated $10,000,000 to buy migratory bird refuges in several of the western states. The Crescent lake refuge was submitted as an ideal location in Nebraska. After a year of investigation, the government decided to buy the 39,000 acre tract at $7.25 an acre. The ranch company will be allowed to graze cattle there until May, 1932.

Shooting is prohibited on the refuge but fishing will be permitted. There are perch, crappie, bass and bluegills in the waters. Crescent lake was stocked about ten years ago and no fishing was permitted until last summer. The fishing is now said to be excellent.

Headquarters will be erected on the east side of Island lake and there the supervisor will reside. Temporary structures will be used for a time but eventually the government will build good quarters here in keeping with its policy.

Contrary to common belief, the refuge will not be fenced. It is not considered likely that large animals will be harbored there. It is a bird refuge and there the migrants of the air will be made welcome and carefully protected. It has been observed for a number of years that the number of migrant birds in Nebraska is steadily increasing as larger protection is afforded them. More open lakes, more timber and stricter game laws are rapidly increasing game birds and Nebraska is getting its full share. The new federal bird refuge is expected to develop an interest in the protection of birds and attract many thousand new seasonal visitors.

Easiest Way To Have Flowers Is Plant Annuals

"Perhaps the easiest way to have a flower garden is to depend entirely upon the use of annuals," declared Prof. C. C. Wiggins of the agriculture college in Lincoln. "The seed are planted in the spring, the plant grows during summer, flowers, and is killed by the autumn frosts."

Since Ord is in the midst of a yard and garden contest, Wiggins' advice is especially interesting to local people who are entering the competition and hope to improve the looks of their lawns this summer.

Ord's first annual "Electric Trade Show," which is to be held at the opera house Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, May 26, 27 and 28, will be one of the big events of the spring. It is planned to make such shows annual events in the future. The Quiz is sponsoring this year's show.

The show will open Tuesday evening at 7:30 and will continue both afternoons and evenings of the other two days. At least five firms will have demonstrators here from away to show housewives how to use electric cooking, heating, refrigerating, sweeping and other appliances to the best advantage.

ARCADIA WINS LOUP VALLEY TRACK COMPET

Higgins Big Factor In Victory Of Valley County Team; Dowse, Comstock, Medalist.

With the tall, ungainly figure of John Higgins leading the way, Arcadia track and field athletes galloped away with the first annual meet held by the newly organized Loup Valley High School association. Ten teams entered men in the meet at the fair grounds here yesterday. To win Arcadia scored 36 points while Comstock was second with 28 1-2 and Sargent third with 25. St. Paul had 21, Loup 16, North Loup 14, Scotia 10 and Burwell 3. Judge of the meet was the total amassed by Ord, Donnie Lashmet coming through with a tie for fourth place in the 220 to keep Ord from a shut-out. Taylor failed to score.

From the start, it was apparent that the fight would be between Arcadia and Comstock, with St. Paul and Sargent battling for third honors. Higgins, of Arcadia, and Dowse, of Comstock, waged a desperate fight for medal honors but Dowse came through with a win. He scored 20 of his team's points. Higgins was second high individual with 15 points.

Sayre, of North Loup, turned in the best time of the day when he ran the mile in 4:54 which is good time for this event in any high school meet. Paddock, also of North Loup, gave a good performance when he threw the javelin 150 feet 7 inches and Higgins' heave of 43 feet was excellent in the shot put.

A grade school meet held in connection with the high school event was won by St. Paul, with 27 points. Burwell was second with 26, Ord third with 20 and Arcadia fourth with 13 1-2. Bird and Bresley amassed most of the points for Ord.

Christian Science.
The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, May 10, was "Adam and Fallen Man." The principal object of the lesson was to show that man in his true nature and likeness is spiritual and never has fallen to a lower plane, and that the story of Adam and Eve in the Bible is in reality a denial of the popular supposition that man is or can be material.

One of the citations read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 281) is as follows: "When we put off the false sense for the true, and see that sin and mortality have neither Principle nor permanency, we shall learn that sin and mortality are the result of that actual origin or rightful existence. They are the native nothingness, out of which error would stimulate creation through a man formed from dust." One of the Biblical citations reads, "But of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil, thou shalt not eat of it."

Presbyterian Church Notes.

Junior-Senior Banquet Big Social Event In School Lives of Graduates

By IRMA ELJIS LEGGETT

The biggest social event which ever transpired in the lives of a number of our younger set thrilled graduates and near graduates Friday evening in the high school auditorium when the juniors banqueted the seniors. It might have been the auditorium, but you'd never have known the old place then, for it was a pretty, bowery sort of garden, a crepe paper ceiling of blue making the scene cozy and intimate, while a fence of white arches and a rose entwined archway made a beautiful background. Underfoot was some of that nice artificial grass that is so sinky. And in the center of the erstwhile basketball floor was a bower of real flowers, borrowed from the affectionate relatives and friends of the junior class. Centering the blooms was an attractive bird bath with a bright red bird sitting on top!

The tables too were most pleasing, with tall tapers of yellow and blue furnishing the lighting for this important event, and lending allure and mystery to the beautifully dressed diners. Favors were nosegays of little candles, and the programs took the same form as the entrance arch and were colored the same. Inside, we read that the toasts were worked around the word A-I-E-U, and that Adrian Tolen was toastmaster. A was Au Revoir, given by Rodney Stoltz. After him Robert Cushing dealt with the subject of Departure. Ideals was the topic upon which Mr. Fred Coe spoke, both in his official capacity as a member of the school board and as a father to one of the dining scholars. Echoes was the name of the remarks given by Esther Zukorin, and Unity was given by Mr. Jesse Kovands of the faculty.

A special program was arranged, too, with two clever skits by the sophomore girls, charming little dances. Professor Penning's obliges with a clarinet solo and Rosemary Needham and Sylvia

While Mr. Slote was not identified with an Christian denomination, yet he was in fact a Christian man both in faith and practice, an honorable, upright, stable citizen, a dutiful son, a good brother, a loving husband and father.

He was a member of the Masonic order, and the Masons actively participated in his funeral services having entire charge of the services at the grave.

Mr. Slote sought to improve his health by a visit to Eastport Springs, Mo., but found little relief, and shortly after his return from there, he went to Omaha, where he entered the University hospital for treatment, and it was there that the final summons came.

When so large a group of experts as eight can meet and agree upon ordinary business men may as well take notice. On the 4th of November a group of eight of the leading financial statisticians of the whole country met in New York City. An eastern educator of note has under the title of "A Forecast for 1931" given their statements as follows:

- 1. "The farmers will not buy much from the proceeds of this harvest; and, with the price declining in process throughout the world, there would seem to be little prospect of any extensive business revival in the near future."
2. "The general prospect is for slow and irregular business for ten years."
3. "I expect to see a long and slow recovery to a general level of subnormal, slow business."
4. "Prices will advance a little from present levels and then fall once more. Recovery will be slow."
5. "It is a conservative estimate to say that ten years must elapse before we can see genuinely prosperous business in this country."
6. "Business will come back to fair, slow operations in three years."
7. "The period of readjustment will be long. It will last at least ten years."
8. "We may expect a slow return to a basis in which business can be done at a profit in about three years."

I hope if you read the above you read it all through. It is sure a pessimistic forecast and it was made, as I stated, on November 4th but it was November 4th in the year 1921. Does that make you feel any better? Hasn't it been about as the statisticians said? And now we are at the end of the 10-year period and may expect improvement of conditions. Let's go.

A Scotchman was invited to a party and each invited guest was asked to bring something. The Scotchman brought his relatives.

Frank Edgecomb has abused me so long that I made up my mind to get partly even with him at least and when I saw that he was to be host to the editors in his part of the state I decided to go down, but into the party and get a couple of meals at his expense. The Missus and I left Ord right after dinner Thursday and were in Geneva at five o'clock. Of course Frank had quit for the day so I didn't see him till the next morning and he looked pretty sick when he realized that he was going to have to fill me up. It started to rain the night before and was still at it and Frank began to try to tell me that there probably wouldn't be any meeting but I said that didn't make any difference, I was there to the big feed and asked what time we put the nosebag on and resignedly he said at 11:30 and phoned Mrs. Edgecomb to put on a couple more plates. It kept raining and raining but that doesn't discourage southeast Nebraska newspaper men and when noon came there were 42 of us gathered around Mrs. Edgecomb's tables enjoying one of the greatest newspaper banquets it has ever been my privilege to enjoy. Ole Buck drove up just as we were ready to eat, bringing Mrs. Buck, Naomi and her husband, Dick Wood. Mrs. Edgecomb had just finished telling us that Ole wouldn't be there and when she saw him she put on another pot of coffee. Emerson Purcell was there with Mrs. Purcell. Emerson is likely to run for governor next year and of course wants to keep in touch with the newspaper boys, though they would all be for him anyhow. Art Brown was late because of a business deal and missed out on the dinner but I heard he went around to the Edgecomb house later and found the extra piece of rhubarb pie that was left. Tom Osterman, president of the state association, was there as were most of the state association officials.

The morning was spent inspecting the Signal office and visiting. After dinner the men went to the city hall for their meeting and the ladies visited the girls industrial home. The afternoon meeting was one of the best district meetings I have ever attended. Matters of interest to newspaper men were discussed and personal experiences were given by many of those present. One of the most enjoyable numbers on the program was a talk by Doyle Buckler, at present manager of the Fairbury News. Mr. Buckler was in Wisconsin for several years after leaving Ord,

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

How would you like to learn to make Marshmallow Pudding? The very name intrigues, doesn't it? Different, delicious, desserts are always gratefully received, so you will surely like this one!

Marshmallow Pudding.
Boll 1/2 c. sugar with 1/4 c. water until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Four this hot syrup over 2 stiffly beaten egg whites. Add 2 c. stiffly beaten cream, 1/4 c. finely chopped candied cherries, 1 c. chopped nuts and 2 c. marshmallows cut fine. Will serve 8 or 10 people.

Something Different

The east side of Ord is surely looking to its laurels this spring. . . everyone is just digging and planting. Such nice looking places. The clean-up week took effect, too. At one home, the lady of the house decided to straighten out the alley, so she cleaned and scraped and must made it spic and span. She was very proud of the result, and when the husband of the family went out to inspect her work, he was greatly impressed. . .

In a recent issue of one of the Omaha dailies a write-up of a big society wedding rather lost its prestige when the account read: "The couple exchanged cows under a huge bell of green smilax, etc." Unusual wedding gifts for city lovers to swap in a living room, weren't they? Of course, it should have read, "exchanged vows."

Ord came in for a national mention a short time ago when John Hix, who prepares "Strange As It Seems" for a chain of papers mentioned a girl lived here named "Amber Sunshine". He was right, she once did, but her complete name, after marriage, was "Amber Sunshine Bright". And you can believe that or not, but it is a fact.

There are lots of catchy names to be found. Mrs. George Gard's first name was designated "Breezy" when she was a baby. Iva Sowl, Mrs. Orville Spowl's present title, is also unusual. A big, good natured newspaper woman of this state, well known by the Quiz family goes by the first name of Chattie. . . her real name, too.

My husband very carefully called my attention to the fact that a contemporary says that a columnist "is a person who gets paid for what he ought to get shot for." I've been wondering. . . you don't suppose he meant anything, do you?

Dandelions are pretty little yellow flowers, with their cheerful gold faces. But we would all esteem them more if they were rarer. If we had to sow seed to get them we would all like them. But they certainly spoil the looks of a velvety, green sweep of turf. And also, if left in one lawn they spoil the neighbors' lawns, too.

Let's all do our duty and get them out as fast as we can. Even if you didn't join the Yard and Garden contest, you want to keep your home at its most attractive best.

A smart little five-year old whose home is in our city knows her grammar, and can tell her bigger brother a thing or two! Shortly in the past the boy went fishing. Coming home empty handed, his mother inquired: "Where's the fish?" "Ain't got none," was the low voiced explanation, as the boy admitted he hadn't had much luck snagging his supper, or perhaps it was breakfast.

"Ho, Ho!" laughed the little sister scornfully, repeating the offending phrase. "Ain't got none! Ho, Ho!"

Quite a few horseback riders are among us, it seems. For years Dr. Miller has been addicted to this form of exercise. . . for the horse. Rev. Real, shepherd of the Presbyterian flock of recent months also enjoys a good canter, and is often seen riding through our streets. Ed Seyler, Chevrolet salesman, also rides and is enthusiastic about it.

Some of the younger generation also pursue this sport. Dean Barta has been the proud owner of a Shetland pony for several years, and often carries his pony in the center of a group of admiring friends, who are about to be "let ride". The Tunncliff boys also love to ride.

A number of new bicycles are also attracting admiring groups these days. Arden Clark is the possessor of a beautiful new blue bike, a dandy. I know, because I tried it.

A view. Typically modern: tall youth disengaging himself from behind the steering wheel of a big shiny new sedan to get out and play marbles on a nice vacant lot! —Irma.

In 91 Out Of Every 100 Homes

When Ralph L. McKee, a certified public accountant from Lincoln, audited the Quiz subscription list recently he commented on the exceptionally fine coverage the Quiz gives in local trade territory. In Ord and on the Ord routes this coverage is very extensive for 91 out of every 100 homes subscribe for the paper and read it regularly.

On April 15 the Quiz had 1,068 paid subscribers in Ord and on the Ord routes. At the same time there were 1,090 postal box-holders in the same territory. This would give the Quiz a coverage of 93 percent but there is a varying number getting general delivery mail in Ord, which brings the Quiz circulation down to 91 percent. Part of this general delivery mail, however, is delivered to transients so our actual coverage probably is higher. And in addition to our 1,068 paid subscribers in Ord and on the Ord routes we had 1,334 subscribers elsewhere giving the Quiz a total circulation of 2,432, mostly in local trade territory.

This complete coverage in ONE newspaper at ONE expense to the advertiser affords the most economical method available to place store news before the upper North Loup valley market.

Merchants Win "Challenge Game" From Barbers by 9 to 7 Score
Fans got their money's worth in hits, runs and errors Monday evening when the Ord business men's baseball team defeated the Ord barbers in a "challenge game" played on the fair grounds diamond. The score was 9 to 7 and the game went just four innings. Darkness prevented its going farther, but it went plenty far enough for most of the players taking part and "charley horses" were prevalent around the square Tuesday morning as a result of the four innings that it did go.
In the merchants' line-up appeared such former players as Hank Misko, Emil Fafetta, Glen Aulse and Spot Johnson. In the younger guard were Joe Dworak, Dr. Nay, Vern Laughrey, Alfred Weigardt and others. This outfit covered themselves with glory and perspiration and got a lot of "kick" out of the encounter. Bud Aulse was manager of the business men's team.
Every barber shop in town was represented in the barber's line-up. In fact, most of them had 100 percent representation for every barber in Ord, with one exception, saw service at some time during the game.
Manager Shunkwiler, of the barbers, did the mound duty for his team and was found to be safe blows. For the merchants Dr. Nay and Hank Misko did the hurling and managed to limit the barbers to five bingles. Hank, an old-time pitcher, showed a lot of the stuff that puzzled batters twenty years ago and gave up only one safe hit. He struck out three men during the two innings he tolled.
Features of the game were a beautiful one-handed stop by Shortstop Martin, which robbed Emil Fafetta of a hit, and the superb hitting of Glen Aulse, Brother Laushmet, Vern Laughrey and Bud Martin. All of them grunted when they swung, but they got results just the same.
So much kick did the participants get from Monday night's game that there is a lot of talk about organizing a four-team twilight league among Ord business and professional men. Games will be played at the fair grounds two nights a week if this loop is formed.

Ten Million Popples To Be Made Before Memorial Day
The bright red popples which will be worn throughout the country Memorial Day in honor of the World War dead are now being made by disabled veterans working under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary, according to the Poppy Chairman of Fidelity Unit No. 35 of the Auxiliary. The work has been done by hundreds of disabled men employment through the winter and will be the means of alleviating hardships for their families.
The work is done in government hospitals and in convalescent work rooms maintained by the Auxiliary. The materials are supplied by the Auxiliary and the workers are paid one cent each for the flowers they make and one-fourth cent for attaching the label. More than ten million of the little flowers must be made before Memorial Day, meaning that approximately $100,000 will be earned by the disabled workers this winter.
Employment is given only to disabled veterans with little or no government compensation and those with families to support are given preference. A heavy demand for the work existed this winter and the Auxiliary is attempting to give employment to as many men as possible, relying on a generous response from the public next May to repay the money advanced to the workers this winter.
In addition to the earning of the men who make the poppies, the little flowers of remembrance bring benefits to many thousands of other disabled veterans and their families. Much of the relief work which Auxiliary Units are carrying out in all parts of the country for the needy families of veterans is being financed through the receipts from last May's poppy sale.

SAFE OR OUT?
"He's coming home!"
"He's going to slide!"
"Will he make it?"
"Is he safe or out?"
Waiting on third for an opportunity, a hit starts him home and the question is, "Is he safe or out?"
Last September we started out in high school. We took the prescribed studies and most of us got our lessons. Now the end of the school year is coming. Have we made a worthwhile year of it and have we hit the home plate squarely and safely, or has this year been a waste of time? Now we can look back over what we have done and probably wish we had done better. Let us remember the things we have learned, do our best in the remaining week, and come back next year with a bigger determination.
Arthur Aulse
OUR SUMMER VACATION
Pupils have been very excited lately because there are only two more weeks of school. But we are wondering what you're going to do this summer. Some of you will probably go on an extended or short trip, while others will stay at home and possibly work at different occupations. You may go to an "aunts" or "uncles" to spend your vacation or to some resort. But we hope that wherever you are you'll make these three months you are to spend worth your while and energy.
There will be many seniors leaving us this year, and of course many "freshies" joining us, but our wish is that all this year's Freshmen, Sophomores, and Juniors will again be in school next year. No matter what you intend to do this summer, make your goal an aim which will bring you to school again next year.
Grayce L. Ball
Charles B.: "How about a kiss?"
Evelyn B.: "But I have great trepidations."
Charles: "That's all right, I'm vaccinated."
Mr. Cass: "But I hardly see how skin trouble could give you a broken arm."
Robert Rashaw: "It was a banana skin."

How One Woman Lost 102 Lbs. of Fat

Almost Unbelievable-- Nevertheless True
The Modern Safe Way Right Way to Lose Fat
Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.
You can hasten the reducing action of Kruschen by going lighter on potatoes, pastry and fatty meats.
Unlike other Salts, Kruschen doesn't reduce by rushing food thru your system. Rather it's an ideal blend of 6 separate mineral salts which help every gland, nerve and body organ to function properly.
Women everywhere are overjoyed with this marvelous reducing treatment. Frequently pound by pound of surplus fat leaves and soon you possess that trim, slender figure you've always craved.
An 8 1/2 bottle of Kruschen (lasts 4 weeks) is sold by leading druggists the world over--so start this SAFE method to lose ugly fat TODAY!

How One Woman Lost 102 Lbs. of Fat

Dear Friends:
You advertise Kruschen Salts for reducing, so I finally tried them and when I started I weighed 219 pounds and when I took them for a year and 3 weeks, I lost exactly 102 pounds.
I am 23 years old and I look at least 5 years younger now than I did when I was fat. I have a picture of myself before and after so if you want to see them let me know.
I am always telling my friends about the wonderful salts. I am always advertising them.
I took 2 bottles every month for a year and 3 weeks. It amounted to $25 for reducing 102 pounds but it was worth it.
If I can be of any help to you let me know.
Yours truly, Miss Nellie Simpson, 1903 Wayne Street, Swissvale, Pa., Oct. 31, 1930.

Marjorie Hostetter Will Return This Summer After 3 Years In Turkey

It was three years ago this summer that Marjorie Hostetter left Ord to teach in Turkey and this is the summer for her to return, as a majority of Ord children seem to know already. The girls of her former "Campfire" are planning a re-union and celebration when she arrives. She will be the guest of honor at other functions.

Miss Hostetter's school work ends June 3 and she plans to spend the summer in the holy lands, Egypt, Spain and England. She has had three summers of travel in Europe, visiting all the countries except Russia. Marjorie regrets leaving the Turkish girls she has been teaching and to think that she will never see them again.

Early this spring a young German civil engineer in charge of the government experiment station near Merzifun, took Marjorie and three of her students up into the mountains to hunt wild boars. They got one and she and the other foreign teachers enjoyed having bacon and pork for a change. The Turks eat only mutton.

A sister of Miss Marjorie, Helen Hostetter, also returns to the United States this summer after being in the orient for three years.

Davis Creek

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seng, Charles Seng and his son Harvey, of Lincoln, came Wednesday to visit Mrs. Seng's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson. Thursday they all went to Burwell, where Harvey Seng has accepted a position as agriculture teacher in the Burwell high school. They had planned to return to Lincoln Friday but on account of the heavy rain, they stayed until Saturday morning.

The social at the U. B. church Thursday evening was well attended. The ladies realized about $22 from the supper. The program consisted of two songs, a play sponsored by Mrs. Ina Collins and Pearl Leach, entitled "Dr. Cure-All," and a chalk talk by Rev. Wantz.

Elma Sample spent Friday at Iona Leach's while Mr. and Mrs. Sample took Wauneta and Anna Park and Irene Mostek. On Saturday the 8th grade examinations. Percy Sample and Donald went with Mr. Axthelm.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Seng called at Ruben Athey's early Thursday morning and Florence Mildred accompanied them. Mr. and Mrs. Athey and children spent Sunday at Charles Johnson's.

Bert Cummins was very much surprised Wednesday morning when he went to the field and found five calves from sweet clover bloated. These calves had had access to the clover all night.

Charlene, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carol Falser, was ill Friday night with tooth and stomach disorders. She is some better now.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGee were pleasantly surprised when Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whittaker and baby of St. Joe, Mo., and Clark Whittaker of California drove in and enjoyed supper with them. The men are cousins of Roy. In the evening they drove to North Loup to visit George McGee's.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Desel and children spent Sunday afternoon

ED F. BERANEK, Druggist

She has held the position of professor of journalism in Lingnan University, at Canton, China. Last summer's vacation she spent traveling in Indo-China, Sumatra, Java and Siam. This summer she will spend in central and northern China (bandits permitting), and reach London via the Siberian railway. The trip from Hongkong to London is only 18 days, thereby leaving considerably more time for stop-overs than the southern route via Suez, which takes 42 days.

Traveling in Russia is horribly expensive. It costs $10 gold a day to stay anywhere, in any of the hotels catering to foreigners. Miss Helen writes: "We're going to continue to cook our food throughout Russia as well as across Siberia, buying vegetables from the streets, etc. I've talked to lots of people who have gone through Siberia and Russia and they all crab the food and say you have to take your own supply if you want anything decent, and they say it's a dirty trip, but it will be very interesting."

Both Miss Helen and Miss Marjorie will reach Ord sometime in August and will visit here for some time with their sister, Mrs. Gould B. Flagg.

at Roy McGee's. They resorted to the old time way of going in the wagon as the roads were so heavy. Mr. and Mrs. Ben Nelson and son visited Sunday at Lawrence Mitchell's.

Mrs. Ina Desel got 300 white Leghorn chickens from the Ord hatchery Thursday.

Interior of Mansion Built for 'Cat Creeps'

The entire interior of a stately mansion was constructed at the Universal studios for scenes in the new all-star production, "The Cat Creeps," which comes to the Ord Theatre Tuesday.

Since practically the entire action of this thrilling mystery story takes place within the house, unusual attention was lavished on this gigantic set, and the result was a complete house, including rooms upstairs and down. The great library, central room of the mansion, comes to the screen as a marvel of completeness with its walls lined with many thousands of books.

The cast of "The Cat Creeps," which was adapted from the famous stage "Thriller," "The Cat and the Canary," includes Helen Twelvetrees, Raymond Hackett, Neil Hamilton, Lilyan Tashman, Rupert Julian directed.

Dr. Roberts Rouses Public To Realize Sargon's Importance

So startling have been the results accomplished by Sargon that scores of outstanding physicians have broken the rule of a lifetime and given it their unqualified endorsement. Dr. C. J. Roberts, M. D., of Philadelphia, graduate University of Pennsylvania and for 26 years medical examiner for the Pennsylvania Railroad, said: "After an investigation of the Sargon formula, for which I was expressly retained, I find that it is rich in those elements which help to bring revitalized vigor, strength and endurance to pale, tired-out, debilitated men and women. It enriches the blood of those suffering with simple anemia and is without a doubt a highly valuable formula that the entire public should know about."

"The Sargon Pills are an important part of the treatment." Sold by Ed F. Beranek.

Nebraska Wheat King Farms Forty-five Sections of Land

By general consent James Jelinek, who farms 45 sections of land in Box Butte county, is Nebraska's largest farmer and its wheat king. His lands are planted to wheat almost exclusively.

He lives in that section of the state where farms are farms. Out there they deal in sections and half sections. Anything under that size runs under the general designation of garden.

The extent of Mr. Jelinek's 1930 wheat harvest has not been revealed but it can be computed with some degree of accuracy. If his lands were all planted to wheat and he received the same yield last year that the rest of Box Butte county did which was 20 bushels to the acre, his total yield of wheat must have been in the vicinity of 576,000 bushels.

Farming on that scale is done with power machinery exclusively. Tractors pull the plows and seeders. Combines cut and harvest the grain in one operation. Jelinek's machinery, if shown in a place, would resemble a machinery exhibit at the state fair.

An interesting fact in connection with Mr. Jelinek's farming is that his gasoline tax is higher than his land tax. Last year he paid out $2,250 for gasoline to work his land and estimates that the cost per quarter section was about $50.

A great share of the farming of western Nebraska is done on this large scale with tractors and combines playing a major role in planting and harvesting operations. It is not an uncommon sight to see a whole section in wheat and along side of it may be other sections in growing season stretching away in billows of green as far as the eye can see. Harvesting is a quick operation which proceeds to midnight hours of the day by the use of artificial lights at night.

Ag College Will Hatch Ostrich Eggs in June

Valley county poultrymen attending the annual poultry field day at the agricultural college during the fore part of June are going to see something new and different. Unless the unforeseen happens a number of ostrich points will be hatched out by that time.

A dozen ostrich eggs are now in the incubators at the college being hatched. They were purchased from a prominent ostrich farmer in California. The eggs should hatch in 42 days. They only cost $4 apiece.

The egg is a funny looking thing. Not like the ordinary egg at all. It is about five inches long. The shell is naturally polished and about one-sixteenth of an inch thick. The average egg weighs about three and a half pounds.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

The discussion of the day turned to the subject of bloat. Milton Meyers said they had lost two calves, and barely tapped a cow in time, as a result of pasturing dew sweet clover. Archie Hatfield stated that although they added dry feed to their cow's ration, she continued to bloat when grazing sweet clover. Floyd Rathbun added that their cows even bloated on dry sweet clover, and that losses were occurring to such an extent locally they quit pasturing it last year.

Joe Ulrich countered that they pastured sweet clover all the time as the sole feed, and never had a case of bloat. Rolland Vodehnal declared they had done likewise, taking no precautions, and experiencing no difficulty.

Melvin Hackett suggested that they avoided trouble from bloat by supplementing alfalfa hay, and not pasturing the clover when it was wet or frosty. George Kruml and Monty Petersen announced that they played safe by keeping the cattle off the clover during the early forenoon.

Charles Barnhart and Lyle Smith thought the freedom from difficulty on their farms was due to their feeding the cattle grain in addition to the pasture. Lloyd Marks believed they avoided bloat on their place by arranging so that the cattle grazed through a pasture of blue grass before they reached the sweet clover forage.

Since the noon rest precautions are wholly reliable, it seems to be a choice of risking a few cows or going without pasture. Most farmers take the risk but keep a trocar or butcher knife handy.

The month of June constitute the worst season for bloat. Plants are tender and juicy and animals get into trouble even when no moisture is present on the clover. Reports also show that there is just about as much danger in the late afternoon as in the morning.

Bad cases of bloat frequently occur when cows are kept in the barn or dry lot all night and turned out hungry the next morning. Some cows bloat easier than others. Calves are more apt to die of bloat than older cattle.

For many years there has been a belief among farmers that sweet clover grown on certain soils that are deficient in minerals, is more apt to cause bloat. This supposition originated with the observation that cattle on sweet clover pasture relish certain mineral mixtures (lime and bone meal) that they will not otherwise eat.

It is common practice, when pasturing sweet clover, to throw a handful of lime in each tank of water, or add twenty-five percent of lime in salt to which the cattle have free access. There is no scientific proof to support this practice.

Continuous pasturing and supplemental feeding reduce the risk of loss from bloat.

VACATION CAMP WILL PROBABLY ATTRACT MANY

Valley County Women To Attend Camp at Lexington; Expense Charge Low.

Valley county women again have the opportunity this year of attending a mother's vacation camp, according to word received by the Quiz from the agricultural college in Lincoln today. There will be a camp at Lexington which local women will attend.

Any woman over 18 years of age in Valley county may attend the Lexington camp, Miss Brown explains. She feels it is a good idea to have both young and elderly ladies in each of the camps to make a representative group. Members of clubs who have taken extension projects, who have been in study club projects and also leaders of 4-H clubs are especially invited to attend the camps.

Each camper will take her own bedding. Other arrangements for meals, lodging, cots and the program will be made by those in charge of the camp. A nominal sum to cover the actual expense of the camps will be charged. All camps are to be held in buildings this year to protect the ladies from storms.

County Agent Dale is helping Miss Brown secure enrollment from this county in the Lexington camp. In past years there has always been one or more representative at mother vacation camps from this county.

AM I RIGHT?

BY GEORGE ROUND, JR.

Publisher Leggett utters a brilliant idea when he suggests a yard and garden contest for Valley county farmers. The plan has been tried in other Nebraska counties with success and there is no reason to believe that it wouldn't work here. Farmers are just as anxious, if not more so, to improve their farmsteads as the city people are to make their homes attractive.

Perhaps the yard and garden contest or one somewhat similar would be a worthwhile project for the Valley County Farm Bureau to sponsor during the coming year. A rural school beautification contest was planned for this year but evidently it didn't go through. But there would be much more interest in a farm beautification contest where the individual could see what improvement he was making on his own grounds.

Ord people should remember that it doesn't pay to mow the lawns too often. For instance E. H. Hoppert, extension horticulturist at the agricultural college in Lincoln, maintains that too many people mow their lawns altogether too often. Where a patch of grass is thin, it should not be mowed often as where the grass has a good stand.

I wonder what has happened to Ernest S. Coats..... Then there was a young man who went to bathing and the..... Valley county 4-H club members in the baby beef project should find their calves coming along fine at the time. A larger show than ever before is planned for the fair in Ord.

Plain and Fancy Diving

Can she dive? And how! Lella Hyams proves her prowess not only as an actress but in aquatic sports in her latest screen role. She and the long-legged Charlotte Greenwood do plain and fancy diving in the Caliente swimming pool scenes of "Stepping Out," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's comedy-romance of Hollywood and Caliente, which will open Sunday at the Ord Theatre.

The picture is based on the stage play by Elmer Harris and depicts the ludicrous attempts of two "butter and egg" men to go into the motion picture business in a big way.

Reginald Denny, Lillian Bond, Cliff Edwards, Merna Kennedy, Harry Stubbs, Richard Tucker, Kane Richmond and Wilson Bengel are in the cast. Charles Riesner directed.

THE More You Use THE Cheaper It Gets! The New Electric Rates passed recently and which go into effect-- May 15, 1931 permit you to make full use of electrical service in your home. Most noteworthy of all the new rates is the Domestic "one meter" rate, which is destined to prove popular with all Ord people whose electric bill exceeds $2.00 per month. The panel at the left explains the new Domestic rate better than we can do it. You will see by this scale that "the more you use the cheaper it gets." In other words, you can use electricity for lighting, for cooking, for refrigerating, for ironing, for washing, for washing dishes and all the other uses to which electricity can be converted and the most of the juice you use can be paid for on the cheap "Third Step" of 3c per kilowatt hour. You can have all the electric servants you have always longed for in your home and the cost will be very low. If the Domestic rate is not fully clear to you call at the office for complete explanation. We will be glad to figure your recent electric bills over with you and show you how you, too, can benefit by using the cheap "Third Step."

The annual picnic for old settlers of the Loup valley region will be held this year on June 12, at Scotia. This date was decided on because it is the wedding anniversary of W. B. ### Temperature at 90 Friday, Ice Is Frozen Tuesday

The operetta came to a climax with the crowning of Lucille Starr as "Spring." She was attended by other students, all in fancy costumes.

PROGRAM WILL BE OF INTEREST TO EVERYBODY

Music, Entertainment Features, As Well As Demonstrations; Big Crowd Is Expected.

A big program of music, dancing, motion pictures, vaudeville and other entertainment features in addition to demonstrations of the latest wrinkles in electric appliances will make Ord's first annual Electric Exposition a show long to be remembered. The exposition will be held next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the Ord opera house. Nine Ord electric dealers take part and the exposition is being sponsored by the Quiz.

Features in which housewives will be most interested include cooking demonstrations by an expert brought here by the Ord Light and water department. These will be given Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Demonstrations of electric dish-washers, mangles and other appliances also will claim the attention of women.

A complete program of the exposition appears on page five of this week's Quiz. A cordial invitation to the public is extended and it is hoped that a large crowd will attend. There will be no charge made for any of the programs and sales will not be stressed by any of the firms taking part.

FATHER LAWLER GIVES FINE TALK ON BOYS' WORK

Recommends Night School Taught by Business Men As Remedy For Conditions.

One of the finest talks Ord Rotarians have listened to in a long time was given at the Monday noon luncheon by Father Lawler, of the Ord Catholic church. "Boys Work" was the topic, and Father Lawler gave the club members a lot to think about.

A night school with lectures by Ord business and professional men was the suggestion made by Father Lawler as a means of keeping boys off the street and getting them interested in more healthful occupations. In such a school the boys could learn what business or profession they would best like to follow when they grow up.

Poor physical and moral conditions among boys was given by Father Lawler as the reason why Ord high school athletics have been in the doldrums in recent years. Giving boys a new interest outside of school hours would bring about an improvement in these conditions, he believes.

Father Lawler endorsed heartily the 4-H club work being conducted for boys and girls through the office of County Agent C. C. Dale. More children should take part in this work, he believes.

To keep boys on the farm give them an opportunity to earn money for themselves, he said. Father Lawler has in recent years been following a plan of giving alfalfa seed, garden seed, bred gilts, etc., to boys of his acquaintance, the boy to return the loan out of his year's crop. The alfalfa and garden seed projects were failures but the plan of giving a bred gilt was a big success, Father Lawler said. The Rotary club, the Quiz and others have tried out this plan with success in years past.

Another speaker on the program Monday was Ed Janike, who came as the guest of C. C. Dale. Mr. Janike is in charge of boys and girls club work for the state extension department, and was in Valley county inspecting baby beef clubs. He inspected more than 30 calves being fed here during the few days he was in Ord. Valley county shows an increase of 200 percent in this work this year and will have a fine representation at the county fair and state fair this fall, Mr. Janike said.

Christian Science.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, May 17, was "Mortals and Immortals." The lesson was intended to show that that which is immortal is immortal right now and never could be otherwise, that the mortal, or perishable, sense of existence must be abandoned for the spiritual or true sense in order to reveal immortality. A part of one citation read from the Bible is as follows: "For what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?" A part of one citation read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 432) is as follows: "For right reasoning there should be but one fact before the thought, namely, spiritual existence, since Life cannot be united to its unconscious mortality."

U. B. Aid society had a good meeting last Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Ivan Botts.

Minature War Ends When Tile Hits Collison Boy

Maskell Creek (Special)—Last Tuesday noon the boys of the grade room of District 45 decided to have a game of war, using clods for ammunition. But a piece of tile became involved among the clods and the miniature war ended precipitately when Roland Collison was struck on the head by this particular shot, both sides rushing to the aid of their wounded comrade. The cash bled profusely and Roland felt so faint that his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Collison, were called and he went home with them. He was ill the rest of the day and Wednesday but was back in school Thursday and the wound seems to be healing nicely.

Olean Piles Up Huge Score With Win From Sumter

The biggest score so far recorded in the bureau league competition was piled up Sunday by Olean, when they defeated Sumter by a score of 22 to 5. Sumter used three pitchers, Collison, Cummins and Dewhirst, in a vain attempt to stem the tide of Olean base hits. Three Olean hurlers, Pocock, Barnhart and Barber, had easy going against the weak Sumter batting list and held Sumter to two bingles. Home runs were knocked out by Pocock, Paddock and Oliver, a three base hit by Abney, and two base hits by Abney, K. Barber and Paddock. The box score:

North Loup Redbirds Keep Record Clear, Win From Elyria

By a score of 11 to 4, the North Loup Redbirds kept their victory record intact in a farm bureau league game played Sunday at Elyria. The Elyria team is yet to taste victory this year. Sheldon had them eating out of his hand most of the time Sunday, whiffing 14 and allowing only eight hits which were well scattered. North Loup hitters found Bill Dodge for the same number of bingles, but they hooked them up with several Elyria errors to produce a lot of tallies. Emil Kuklish, laboring two innings, struck out six North Loup batters. The box score:

Delcos Blast Out 18 Hits To Stay At Top Of League

Blasting out a total of 18 hits, many of them for extra bases, the Ord Delco-Lights stayed at the top of the Valley County Farm Bureau league Sunday, when they defeated Mira Valley 21 to 1. The Reds were previously unbeaten, and their loss was a bitter pill for them to swallow.

The Reds' failure to hit Clyde Athey, coupled with the ineffective pitching of their ace, Dutch Clement, were the big factors in their loss by such a lopsided score. Athey held the Reds to seven scattered hits and also had excellent support from his team-mates. Clement's sore arm made his offerings easy for the Delco-Light sluggers. Earl Leonard and Jim Bremer had little better luck when called for mound duty.

One of the features of the game was the come-back of Harry Bresley. A few years ago Harry was one of the county's best ball players and he came back Sunday after not having a baseball in his hands this season. In six trips to the plate Bresley got three safe hits, which he converted into three runs. He handled two put outs and three assists, and made but one error. Covert, Wolf, Athey and Finch also batted .500 percent. Krejci's home run in the third inning was the longest blow of the game.

McLean Gets Kinks From Salary Arms Of 4 Ball Players

Four baseball players of North Loup and Mira Valley, namely Steve Finch, George "Dutch" Clement, George Hutchins and Charles Faudt, drove to Lincoln Monday to consult Doc McLean, trainer of the Nebraska University athletic department. They hope that he can straighten the kinks out of their "salary wings." Finch has been consulting the trainer each spring for several years and always comes back ready for a grueling season on the mound. This is the first trip the other three have made to consult him.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. The Ord city council met and voted to pay $1.75 per day for labor on streets, and $1.50 per day for team work. Ten hours was to be considered a day's work.

St. Paul school board members were debating about whether a 12th grade should be added to their high school. Ord schools had had a 12th grade for ten years.

An independent lumber yard was started in Ord by the firm of Lloyd & Trindle. Reductions in lumber prices from $3 to $5 per thousand feet were announced by the new firm.

A republican county convention was called by Chairman W. L. McNutt and Secretary A. L. Honnold. Will Moses had a pay roll of $125 per week at his cement works due to large contracts for installing sidewalks and crossings in Ord.

20 Years Ago. Ord delegates attended a state G. A. R. convention at Kearney and two of them, R. J. Collins and Mrs. Flora Nelson, were elected delegates to the national meeting in New York. Mrs. Nelson was elected state treasurer of the L. G. A. R. T. B. Lane was appointed staff officer and A. W. Taylor state inspector.

The Union Pacific was preparing to move the "Y" so a half mile track could be built on the Valley county fair grounds. A two inch rain fell in Valley county over the week end. Edward Beranek Weds. On May 11 Miss Marie J. Linaberry, of Omaha, became the bride of Edward R. Beranek, of Sargent, a brother of Mrs. Leonard Furlak and a nephew of Ed F. Beranek Ord. Since the death of Edward's father, Joe, a few months ago, he has been managing the Beranek pharmacy in Sargent and has made his home with his mother.

Something Different

A friendly young matron who is renowned for her devotion to her family enjoys every moment possible with her children, planning always to save afternoons and evenings for their company. Company is hardly the word, perhaps, for she joins wholeheartedly in their play.

So much so that she is often one of the merriest hunters or hide-aways when Tally-Ho is the game, these pleasant evenings. Not long since she was seen hiding, perchance, upon one of the neighbors chicken houses, with a neighbor child on either side, as the cry of "Tally-Ho" echoed in the wind.

Not much opportunity for children to form undesirable habits of play or thought when their mother is really one of them, in this companionable fashion.

Mrs. Vincent Kokes has long been an enthusiastic gardener and is devoted to her secluded back-yard where she grows some of the most beautiful plants raised in Ord.

For instance, she has roses here, still faithfully blooming for her, which were sent to this country from Germany thirty years ago. Can any one in Valley county exceed this fine record of care and attention for growing things?

One of the youngest Ordites to try his hand at plant-guiding as a hobby, Kenny Draper, got a setback this spring when he injured his foot, via a bullet. So Kenny had to direct operations from the bed, and a touchy person he was to work for, I guess. He was so afraid his new roses might not be set out just exactly so, according to Hoyle.

At least so his sister Thelma tells. And she ought to know, for the delicate job turned out to be hers! But Kenneth is more than a rosarian, for he loves all flowers, and works early and late at his garden. He has the Draper backyard all fenced off, to keep all suspiciously intentioned non-gardeners out.

The east side of Ord feels that as regards grading and scraping, they are not getting a fair deal. If so, that is a shame, and the residents of that part will just have to set up a big holler.

However, the west side, I swear, needs every bit of work it gets done, as far as street conditions are concerned. The High Mogul of our streets, and alleys, Bill Sack, will have to loose his tight grip on the situation and let the city purse strings slacken enough to hire more work done it seems. Now is a good time for it, the streets need the work done, local men need jobs, material prices are low, and local money needs more string than it gets.

Ed Holloway and his family, or at least his family, are working hard to make their backyard attractive. So here is an honorable mention. We all have to encourage one another, you know.

Are you a thorough going house-keeper? Your front yard may improve, but does the backyard repell? One backyard I know of gets more attention than many front gardens. It is the one in back of the Vala cleaning and clothing house. A neat little cement walk runs back to the metal house where actual cleaning is done; either edge of the lot is marked by a dandy Amoor River privet hedge, clipped to square attractiveness. On one side of the walk a long big bed houses portulaca, mistakenly referred to by me as moss roses about half the time! On the other side of the walk poles and lines indicate the drying yard for their business.

Mothers of our city aren't the only ones that swell with pride at the visions young daughters make in their first real party clothes. . . their banquet dresses. To prove which, I saw several fathers drive up and park outside the high school the night of the banquet and watch to see their daughters prance daintily by on the arm of an escort.

Mrs. Rudy Koupal hides her light under a bushel. Not many know what an ardent gardener she is. Her backyard is a beauty. Of course, she works long and often to keep it that way. . . flowers do not like sluggards. . . And you ought to see her parrot tulips! The brassy husary, so saudy and gay, about their streaked, ragged petals!

Students Protest Because Favorite Teacher Refused

Because two of their favorite teachers, Alice Johnson, of North Loup, and Isabelle Cameron, of Kearney, were not re-elected by the school board, 23 Greeley high students last week signed a petition which was presented to the board of education. The protest said, in part:

"We, the undersigned, aware of the injustice done by the recent election of the Greeley high school staff for the coming year, hereby sign our names as witnesses of the efficiency of the outgoing teachers and the inadequacy of next year's arrangement." A request that the board reconsider was also included in the petition. Teachers elected to take the places of Miss Johnson and Miss Cameron were Agnes Keber, of Spalding, and Margaret Fitzgerald, of Palsdale.

Thousands of well meaning people are taking the chance of being crippled for life with rheumatism. When a rheumatic attack occurs they seek to deaden the pain with handy relieves—a method that usually ends with disastrous results. Every rheumatic sufferer knows that painful, swollen, inflamed joints and muscles are caused by an excess of uric acid in the blood. When you drive this troublesome uric acid from the blood you are getting rid of the cause of rheumatism—and of rheumatic conditions. While you are taking the nerve sedating relieves the uric acid continues to penetrate further and

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Whoever heard of such a thing! Noodles ala Eggs! Sounds kinda peculiar, to say the least. Let's read it and see what it could possibly mean.

Noodles ala Eggs. Take 8 or 10 strips of bacon and fry crisp. Then take 2 cups cooked noodles and fry in the bacon fat. Have a hot platter ready and arrange noodles in center. Pour over this 2 c. white sauce. Run 2 or 3 hard cooked eggs thru the ricer and pour over the white sauce. Arrange bacon strips on top and around the mixture and serve.

Mrs. Harold J. Hoepfner, North Loup. I am sure that would be good, aren't you? Then here is a recipe for honey cookies, and inasmuch as I have had a request or two for them there is no time to be lost!

Honey Cookies. 2 c. sugar 1 c. shortening 1 c. honey 2 t. hot coffee 2 t. sp. soda dissolved in the coffee 2 tsp. vanilla 2 eggs 1 c. raisins pinch of salt flour to make a stiff dough. Drop in a spoon and bake. Very good. These will soften after a day or two.

Mrs. Lou Fuss. And here is another cookie recipe which just came in, headed: Everyday Cookies.

1 1/2 c. sugar 1 c. lard 1 c. milk 1 t. sp. soda dissolved in milk 2 heaping tsp. baking powder 1/2 tsp. salt 1/2 tsp. vanilla Put in enough flour to make a dough that can be rolled out. Sprinkle white sugar on them before putting in the oven. Miss Bessie Peota. Then here is something famous, a test of fine cooks, an article stories often read about. . . salt rising bread. Do you want to learn to make this?

Salt Rising Bread. In the evening take 3 tbsp. cornmeal 1/2 tbsp. sugar 1/2 tbsp. salt 1/2 raw potato grated Scald with enough water to make a thick batter, set in a warm place to rise. When light stir down and let raise again. Now when light put four or five qts. of flour in mixing bowl, make a hole in the center, pour in 3 pts. of warm water and your rising mixture. Knead and when light make into loaves and let raise once more. When light bake in about three loaves. Will stand more heat than yeast bread first, so do not scald it. Try it.

Mrs. Hattie S. Potter. Mrs. Potter adds that this is bread her mother used to make, so you know it is the genuine old-fashioned favorite. Let's do try it.

Steam-Heated Ocean!

Steam-heating the Pacific Ocean ought to win a prize as being the height-of-something-or-other. Anyway, that's just what was done when yacht whoopee scenes were filmed for "Dance Fools, Dance," Joan Crawford's new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayor starring vehicle which opens at the Ord Theatre next Wednesday. The studio sent an old fire engine down to the waterfront and pumped a continuous flow of steam into the water at the ship's side, somewhat reducing the chill for the players who had to jump overboard during the merrymaking.

These excellent young people had been married at Bartlett during the previous week, but had not announced their marriage until last week. Mrs. Dennis was formerly Miss Pearl Johnson. A business meeting was held at the Horace church Wednesday evening for the purpose of electing officers to carry on the church business for the next year. Everyone is invited to attend a weiner roast to be given by the young people of the church Friday evening, May 22. Adrian Dulitz was among the class of graduates at Scotia Thursday evening. Commencement exercises were held at the high school Saturday evening, May 16. The stage decorated with senior colors and motto made a very pretty setting for the occasion. The program was one of the best ever given at a similar occasion in Horace. N. W. Gaines, of Lincoln, gave a most inspiring address, "Paying the Price." Mr. Gaines has few equals as a speaker in the state and the audience was much impressed. The Central college girls quartette sang two groups of songs. Mrs. Forsell sang a solo and Miss Loree Welsh played a piano solo. Each of these musical numbers was excellent. Miss Esther Whiting also gave a fine reading. Devotionals were in charge of Rev. Forsell. At the close of the program J. P. Congratulations of the community are extended to those three fine young men who have now finished their high school course. CONVOCATIONS
A convocation was held Friday the fifteenth at 1:05 and some interesting announcements were given by Mr. Cass and Mr. Bell. Mr. Bell told us how letters could be obtained without going out for sports. Letters will be given for music, agriculture, commercial and G. A. A. students lettering in Ord high school in 1930 and 1931 and will be given certificates Wednesday. This plan should be very good news to those who are not able to letter in sports or are not particularly interested in sports. This new plan has caused much enthusiasm among students wishing to letter in Ord high school but have no desire for sports. The convocation was dismissed by Joe Culp.

Another convocation was held when the public speaking class gave a very interesting play named "Tea". Roles were played particularly well by Harley Crouch, Martha Mae Barta, Laveda Rogers, Irene Clochon, and Leota Crosby. We are very glad to hear the public speaking class will give two more similar plays at convocations this week. The convocation was dismissed by Joe Culp, our announcer at convocations.

Ten of the seventeen Seniors have passed all the subjects and have the required average. Three have passed in all the subjects but have not the required average. One has the required average but must raise grade in one subject. There will be two more exams before school commences so we are hoping that they pass.

VALASEK'S HAVE HIGH DAIRY HERD

Local Association Ranks Low In State Standings. Average 28.1 Pounds Per Cow

Butterfat production in the Valley County Dairy Herd Improvement Association again slumped in April and as a result the local association stood twentieth in state standings, according to the monthly dairy letter as issued from the agricultural college in Lincoln by E. C. Scheldenhelm, extension dairyman.

The report shows that the average butterfat production for each cow on test in April locally was 28.1 pound. The state leader had an average production of 35.9 pounds. There were 315 cows on test in the Valley county association during the month as indicated by Tester Smith's monthly report reaching the college of agriculture.

There were forty-four cows in the Valley County Dairy Herd Improvement Association producing between forty and fifty pounds of fat in April. In addition two cows produced above sixty pounds of fat.

In the group of five to fifteen cows, Valasek Brothers of Ord had the high producing herd in the local organization. Their herd of ten Holsteins made a record of 43.4 pounds butterfat per cow in April. They ranked twelfth in comparison with other individual association leaders in the state.

Making a record average production of 25.8 pounds butterfat per cow, Chas. Myers had the high producing herd in the sixteen or more class locally. His herd of twenty-four mixed cows gave an average production of 78 pounds of milk. His ranking in the state was low.

Wm. E. Valasek of Ord had the highest butterfat producing cow in the Valley county association for April. His registered Holstein produced 64 pounds. She gave 1,878 pounds of milk which tested 3.4 percent butterfat.

Maryland Woman Happy Now-- Loses 55 Lbs.

Edith J. Marriott of Baltimore, Md. writes: "Last winter I weighed 200 lbs. and was very much ashamed. I bought a bottle of Kruschen Salts which gave such wonderful results I bought more. After 4 bottles I weigh 145 lbs. and all my friends say, 'How slender you've gotten—how did you do it?' I say only 4 words—thanks to Kruschen Salts."

A generous bottle of Kruschen Salts that lasts 4 weeks costs but 35 cents at any drug store in America—take one he teaspoon in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut out pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—that will help Kruschen take off your fat.

Take Kruschen every morning—it's the little daily dose that does it—if not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Last week a farmer in a nearby locality reported the loss of nine pigs that had died suddenly. They were apparently in good health early in the morning. An hour later eight of them were found dead, and another dying.

The pigs were taken to a veterinarian for post mortem examination and were found to have died from poisoning caused by newly sprouted cockleburbs. This man, like many others, did not know that newly sprouted cockleburbs are poisonous.

Every spring a few pigs are found to have been poisoned by cockleburbs. It is not known how many others are thus killed whose deaths are attributed to unknown causes.

The peculiar feature about cocklebur plants is that they seemingly are not poisonous except at the time they are just coming through the ground, and while they are very small. But at this stage, pigs, hogs, and old hogs that feed on the young plants, are killed alike, regardless of age. After a few leaves have formed on the plants they apparently cease to carry poisonous substances.

Since cockleburbs are rather common, it is well to examine early spring hog pastures. Pigs seem to like young cocklebur plants, and will hunt for them.

If cockleburbs are found in a field one should know to have matured the year before, it may be well to keep pigs on bur free pastures or in dry lots until the plants have had a good start. A better plan yet is not to permit cockleburbs to grow or to mature seed.

INCREASES OVER STATE FOR APRIL

Greater Than For Year Ago. Averages 29.4 Pounds. Low Prices Prevail.

Butterfat production in Nebraska dairy herd improvement associations during the month of April advanced eight-tenths of a pound per cow over that of March, according to the monthly dairy letter issued from the agricultural college this morning by E. C. Scheldenhelm, extension dairyman who is well known around Ord.

The average production for each cow on test for the month was 29.4 pounds as compared with 28.4 pounds for March. In addition, the letter shows the average production for April of this year was more than that for the corresponding month last year.

Despite the fact that butterfat prices over the state have steadily declined during the past month due to several factors, Scheldenhelm says there is a constant demand for dairy cattle capable of profitable production. The dairy department at the college of agriculture receives many inquiries each week asking where cows and heifers can be purchased.

With an average production of 35.9 pounds butterfat for each cow tested during the month at the Hamilton-Hall-Merrick association lead the state in production during the month. Clyde Baldwin is the official tester. The Washington county organization was second and Republican Valley third.

ORD MEN ATTEND CREAMERY MEET FAT PRODUCTION

Fred Coe and Bert Cornell Are Ord Representatives At Annual Convention.

Fred Coe and Bert Cornell, Ord men, attended the annual convention of the Nebraska Co-operative Creamery Association held at the agricultural college in Lincoln last week. Coe has been president of the state association for the past few years.

Upon returning to Ord they report a good meeting. Several University of Nebraska faculty members along with other prominent dairymen appeared on the program which covered two days.

The Ord creamery representatives along with other convention delegates were told by Prof. H. C. Filley of the rural economics department at the college that any cooperative is successful because it does the job more efficiently than the other competing agencies.

He said no cooperative can hope to fix prices without control of production. Further he added that monopoly without control of production is but an idle dream.

As a representative of the federal farm board, E. B. Derrick discussed the value of a marketing agency. He said the board has not attempted to set up a national marketing agency for butter or milk products but is strengthening present organizations. Eventually a national organization may be put into operation, he concluded.

Speaking on the Iowa state brand of butter and low standards, Prof. M. M. Mortensen, head of the dairy husbandry department at the Iowa State college, said the greatest need for creameries in Nebraska today is cooperation. He contrasted the quality of production achieved in Denmark with that in this country. The average cow in Denmark produces from 250 to 300 pounds of butterfat annually while the average cow in the United States produces but 150 to 160 pounds, he said.

E. L. Reichart, assistant professor of dairy husbandry at the agricultural college, denounced the plan of paying creamery managers by the volume of business. He spoke on suggestions for Nebraska creameries. Reichart said the plan of paying the manager and butter-maker by a salary plus a bonus is much more successful. Though some creameries over the state have considered reducing the salary of their managers now due to low prices, the college of agriculture man advocated that they keep the good men on the job.

AM I RIGHT?

By GEORGE ROUND, JR.

Elmer Scheldenhelm, extension dairyman at the college of agriculture in Lincoln, says that Valasek Brothers of Ord produced their butterfat during the past year at a cost of nine cents a pound. This is remarkably low and shows that the boys were feeding efficiently. But in a year like the past one it was necessary to produce fat at near that price in order to realize any profit. The average cost probably would run around eighteen cents. With butterfat selling for around sixteen cents, the profit isn't so great.

Advice is cheap in these days. Everyone has been preaching for the past year that prosperity is just around the corner but the corner still seems a long way off. Perhaps we aren't on the right road.

Reorganization of the Valley County Dairy Herd Improvement Association for the coming year has been tough. Prevailing butterfat prices combined with the future outlook makes local farmers hesitate about going into the dairy herd improvement work. Perhaps they are right.

Nevertheless it seems to me that those farmers who are sold on dairying and who have not been in testing should get into it now. It costs something to be sure. But there is the old adage, that you don't get anything worthwhile unless you pay for it.

Partly through the efforts of the dairy herd improvement association dairying has been improved in Valley county during the past few years. Some farmers have been able to definitely determine the production of their dairy cows while others have been able to feed their cows more efficiently.

But the situation is the same all over the state. Some of the dairy herd improvement associations will be dropped this year. But this number will not exceed two or three. Other states are having the same trouble. Wisconsin dropped twenty of the associations last year due to business conditions. So Valley county is no exception to the rule but local dairymen should think it over before deciding definitely one way or the other.

Coe Proves Champ At Scoring Of Butter

A man who five or six years ago didn't know a butter tub from a birch canoe, last week at Lincoln proved to be the champion butter scorer among members of the Nebraska Association of Co-Operative Creameries. With twenty entered in a butter scoring contest Fred Coe, of Ord, took first place.

When Mr. Coe became manager of the Ord co-op creamery upon its organization a few years ago he knew a lot about business but very little about cream. Under his management the creamery has grown and prospered, and Fred has learned about the butter business as he went along.

Fifty creamery managers, many of them former butter-makers, were present at the meeting in Lincoln last week. About twenty of them entered the butter scoring contest. Several tubs of butter were wheeled in for them to judge. When the results were announced the Ord man was found to be the winner. It was a big surprise to him, Mr. Coe says.

A. W. Cornell, president of the local creamery association, accompanied Manager Coe to Lincoln.

Bee Demonstration Again On May 25

O. S. Bare, of the state agricultural college, will be here to conduct another bee demonstration next Tuesday, May 25, at the F. M. Vodehnal farm nine miles west of Ord in Michigan township. The last meeting was very interesting and though only ten bee-keepers were present a much larger crowd is expected next Tuesday. Mr. Bare had a sample of the bee disinfector, a foul-brood, to show at the last meeting and will have it again next Tuesday so that newcomers may see it. Every person interested in keeping bees is welcome to attend this meeting. There will be at least two systems demonstrated of how to keep bees from swarming and other interesting features may be expected.

Stage Comedian Writes Screen Dialog

If you were one of the many whose ribs were strained by the excruciating fun of "Caught Short" be sure to leave an evening open for "Mr. Lemon of Orange," the Fox talking comedy which opens Friday at the Ord Theatre, for its dialogue flowed in large measure from the typewriter of Eddie Cantor.

The effervescent comedian hoped to play the title role of the picture himself. When he discovered he would be unable to make any picture for a whole year, he wrote the dialogue in collaboration with Edwin Burke.

Charley Finley came home from the hospital at Grand Island Friday. He feels much better than he has for some time. Mr. Finley thinks his diet list looks much larger than it has before.

Elizabeth and Elva Williams, Lela and Dale Axthelm, Arthur Palmer and Gerald Sample all have had a perfect record at Dist. 38 this year. The Baccalaureate services will be at the M. E. church Sunday evening. Rev. Wantz will give the address for the evening at 8 o'clock. The graduation will be Monday evening at the school house.

MAKE MONEY

THE difference between making a good profit in threshing or just breaking even is often a matter of preparedness. You can make money with a Case Thresher because with it you are prepared to thresh efficiently all kinds of grain.

You can set the feeder to feed high or low to the cylinder. This increases the threshing action in wet or tangled grain and it enables you to thresh faster when the grain is dry. No other thresher can give you this advantage.

The all-steel cylinder is accurately balanced. Perforated concaves, also of steel and unbreakable, and non-clogging steel finger grates make complete separation certain. . . . over 90% of the grain is removed from the straw before it even reaches the straw rack. Counterbalanced straw rack and grain pan do their work thoroughly and smoothly.

As a result of these advantages you can do a clean job of threshing in the toughest grain, without slugging and with minimum power.

Don't just break even this year. Make money. You can do it with a Case Thresher. Come in and see us. We will be glad to tell you more about it.

For soft-toned washable walls

THE trend toward walls done in soft, neutral tones inspired the creation of this modern paint. It comes in a variety of delicate pastel tints, making it possible to get the exact color note desired. Flat Wall Finish flows on easily and dries to a hard, durable surface which will stand repeated washings. It is inexpensive, being not only the most attractive finish, but the most economical as well.

63 GRADUATED FROM ORD HIGH THURSDAY EVE

Supt. Lefler's Address Finest Heard Here; Ella Lange Is Given Scholarship.

Sixty-three young men and women, the largest number that have graduated from Ord high school in several years, were given diplomas last Thursday evening at commencement exercises held in the high school auditorium. Featuring the program was an address by Millard C. Lefler, superintendent of schools at Lincoln. It was the finest speech heard here in a long time.

"The Long Look," was the subject of Mr. Lefler's address, which according to him is the "look of an intelligent man." He spoke for about forty-five minutes without the use of notes, and the talk was thoroughly enjoyable to the audience and inspiring to the class of graduates.

The processional was played by the high school orchestra, under the direction of Prof. Theo. Toennes, and to the strains of the march "The Stars and Stripes" the seniors marched into the auditorium and took their places in the front rows. Rev. Willard McCarthy, of the Ord Christian church, then gave the invocation.

Several musical numbers made the program more enjoyable. Among them being two selections, "In May Time" and "Beauteous Night, O Night of Love," by the girls glee club. Rodney Stoltz also sang a solo, "Invictus."

The class was presented to audience and board of education members by Wilbur D. Cass, high school principal, after which Dr. J. W. McGinnis, board president, presented the diplomas and awards to honor students. Marthama Barta and Greta Brickner, valedictorian and salutatorian respectively, had the highest official averages in the class but Miss Barta refused her normal school scholarship because of other plans and Dr. McGinnis presented it to Ella Lange, whose scholastic average was on a par with Miss Barta's but who had attended her first two high school years at Valley side, and therefore was not eligible for valedictorian honors.

To close the program Rev. H. H. Spracklen gave the benediction. The sixty-three students who received diplomas were garbed in formal caps and gowns, and made an impressive appearance as they were grouped in the front rows. Those graduating were Evelyn Abernethy, Marthama Barta, Zola Barta, Geraldine Beeghly, Wilson Bell, Ross Blessing, Marie Boyce, Bud Brickner, Greta Brickner, Carol Burson, Hazel Bruckman, Irma Campbell, Archie Clemon, Edmund Clemon, Valerian Clemon, Viola Cochran, Evelyn Coe, Harley Crouch, Robert Cushing, Leonard Desmul, Harold Finch, Dorothy Fuss, Agnes Fuxa, Billy Garnick, Jean Gass, Leah Hather, Okly Hather, Evelyn Hought, Margaret Holmes, Mildred Hout, Elizabeth Janssen, Gwendolyn Kelson, Marie Kosmata, Ella Leonard, Helga Larsen, Hazel Leonard, Pearl Leonard, Ogden Lindhartsen, Florence Lukesh, Chester Malopetsky, Wilbert Marshall, Ed Martin, Edythe Mason, Harvey Michels, Frank Mottl, Emily Novotny, Alyce Parks, Anna Platnick, Lenora Roberts, Lavada Rogers, Dorothy Rowbal, Frank Ryasmy, Emma Skoll, Ella Mae Smith, Merna Smith, Carl Smith, Joe Ulrich, Stacie Vodehnal, Myrna Ward, Helen Worden, William Zablouk, Lillian Zadina, Esther Zabolouk.

Ralph Sterner, barber in the Benjamin street building, called to Calaway on account of the serious illness of Miss Sterner.

Thousand People Visit Ord Electric Exposition During First Two Days

Demonstrations This Afternoon And Evening Close Show; Will Be Annual Event.

Nearly 1,000 men, women and children visited Ord's first Electric Exposition on the first two days and the show apparently is so successful that already electric appliance men are talking about making it an annual affair. It is being held at the Ord opera house and ends with demonstrations and programs this afternoon and evening.

The opera house has been divided into booths by the fine time taking part and all of the booths are brilliantly decorated with crepe paper of different colors. A row of chairs down the center of the hall provides seating space for those who want to rest while programs are in progress. George Allen supervised the decorating and did a good job of it.

Firms taking part include Auble Bros., L. J. Auble, C. A. Hager & Co., H. T. Frazier, the Capron Agency, the Golden Rule, L. V. Kokes, John W. Ambrose and Ord City. Practically everything in the way of electrical appliances is being shown.

Brink, district Maytag manager, are in charge of the booth.

H. T. Frazier has a fine display of electric floor lamps, rugs and various articles of furniture in one of the most attractively decorated booths on the floor. ## Saturday Biggest Day In History Of Ord Creamery

Last Saturday was the biggest day the Ord creamery has ever had, the Quiz learns from Manager Fred Coe. Nineteen thousand pounds of cream, enough to make us half carload of butter, were bought on the one day, he says.

When the creamery opened a few years ago 3,000 pounds of cream were bought on opening day and this was considered an enormous amount. Now every Saturday is larger than that, and last Saturday's purchases were more than five times as large.

"The more cream we can get and the more butter we can make, the more we can pay our stock-holders," Mr. Coe says. He is hoping for more 19,000 pound days.

Methodist Church Notes.

It is well known that Gladstone, the great English statesman was a great lover of the church. When once about his church-going and how it was with his keen intellect could listen to certain poor preachers of his time he answered, "When the sermon is dull, I go to church because I love England." And is it not patriotic as well as a religious duty to go to church? And we will do our best always to make it profitable, and avoid those dull sermons. During June we are planning to make every Sunday a special day. For instance the first Sunday will be children's Day, then there will be Pioneer's Day, Farmer's Day, and Patriot's Day.

Regular services both morning and evening next Sunday beginning with the Sunday school at 10 o'clock.

Christian Science.

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, May 24, was "Soul and Body." The lesson sets forth the whole of ten refers to Soul or Spirit as God; that the popular sense of soul in the physical body is a belief in intelligent matter, and that the true spiritual senses of man are tributed to God alone and are contained in, or subordinate to, matter. One of the citations read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 223) reads as follows: "Sooner or later we shall learn that the fetters of man's finite capacity are forged by the illusion that he lives in body instead of in Soul, in matter instead of in Spirit." One of the Biblical selections reads, "If we live in the Spirit, let them also walk in the Spirit." (Galatians 5:25).

The course is arranged for first grade children on throughout the school year.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

This is a good time of year to store up recipes of delicious cold desserts. Soon the real hot weather will be here, and your family will come home to meals puffing and panting and listless. Then a dessert that is crisp and icy cold will be sure to hit the spot. From the wife of our senator, Bob Simmons, comes this recipe for orange sherbet. Mrs. Simmons writes that she is spending some time in the hospital recuperating from flu, and so has time to consider her friends and remember the Quiz with some recipes for the housewives of the Big Sixth.

Orange Sherbet. 1 1/2 c. sugar, 1 c. water, 2 tbsps. Certo. Bring to a heavy boil and cool. Pour 1/4 c. evaporated milk of any brand in the freezing pan of electric refrigerator to get very cold while preparing juice; squeeze 2 lemons, 3 oranges, pinch of salt enough water to make a quart of liquid.

Add to syrup, put cold evaporated milk where it will keep cold, put fruit juice in freezing pan. When it is mushy, beat with Dover egg beater two or three minutes. Also beat the cold evaporated milk until stiff (it gets like whipped cream) and beat into sherbet.

Variations: same syrup plus lemon juice same syrup plus juice 2 lemons and 1 1/2 c. grape juice same syrup plus juice 2 lemons and apricot juice same syrup plus juice 2 lemons and pineapple juice same syrup and juice 2 lemons and crushed strawberries.

To make it more rich, whipped cream can be used instead of the evaporated milk. This is probably my family's favorite dessert. Gladys Simmons, Washington, D. C.

Then here is a chocolate ice box pudding which will come in handy for your next company dinner on a warm day.

Chocolate Ice Box Pudding. First make any sponge cake in a large pan. Then make the pudding as follows: 2 sqs. Baker's chocolate, 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1/4 c. water.

Cook above ingredients to a thick syrup. Add the beaten yolks of 4 eggs and cook to a custard. Let cool.

Cream with hands 1/4 lb. unsalted butter and 1 c. powdered sugar. Add to custard mixture, flavor with vanilla and lastly add well beaten whites of 4 eggs. Pour this mixture over sponge cake and set day before serving. Spread with whipped cream, cut in squares and garnish with maraschino cherries. Mrs. Harold Hoepfner, North Loup.

Date Pudding. Make the following sauce in pan you are going to bake in: 1 big c. brown sugar, 1 heaping tbsps. butter, 2 c. boiling water, 1 tsp. vanilla.

Then spread the following batter on top and bake in a slow oven about 40 minutes: 3-4 c. white sugar, 1 big c. white flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 3-4 c. milk, 1/2 c. chopped nuts, 1/2 c. chopped dates.

Serve cold with whipped cream or plain. This is really delicious. I am sure the above desserts will be much enjoyed by all who use them. Then here is something else handy for hot summer days. If you do not yet know the comfort and ease of keeping ice box cookies ready to slice, bake and serve when needed, adopt this recipe for your own. Ice Box Cookies. 1 c. brown sugar, 1 c. white sugar, 1 c. Crisco or other shortening, 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. flour, 1 tsp. soda.

Raisins, nuts or both may be added, but the cookies are delicious without either. Cream shortening, and sugar. Add well beaten eggs, then flour, salt and soda sifted together. Season to taste. Mix well and mold into two loaves. Let set for at least a few hours in a cold place. Slice thin, and bake in a moderate oven. Mrs. Winifred Bartz.

Something DIFFERENT

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Pavik are beautifying their home day by day, using a lot of hard work as their chief joy. The latest thing to call admiration from neighbors and fellow citizens is a dandy new bird house, built after the latest style. It is a tall narrow house with a peaked roof, looking a little like the Shoe in which the Ord town is raised so many children. The lower part of the house seems to be made of small cobblestones. Nearby, nestling close to the tall pole which supports the bird house, is a cobblestone bird bath, the third pretty one in town. It is a town that knows of, in addition to numbers of more usual types.

I might as well apologize publicly to Mr. Sack as to wait until he jumps me about mentioning him in the same breath as the street and alley committee of our city, for it seems he has nothing to do with it. Joe Rohla is chairman, and as he is much interested in improving Ord, probably the east sideers would get more attention for streets in that section next time if they address him in regard to the matter.

I am sure the city council has no intention of slighting streets and alleys of the east side, and perhaps even this gentle clamor will be sufficient to get some results to the eastward, ho!

The bicycle fever seems to have Ord children firmly clutched this spring. Some years hardly a new bike is noticed, but this spring there appears to be a shining, gleaming new bicycle to every block, and more than one in many of them. Drove of girls and boys ride by, getting their exercise this healthful way, and I envy them.

D. B. Smiths have dug up the whole parking of the lot next to their residence, and are going to plant it to flowers. That will be pretty, no matter what kinds they choose.

Big fire alarm just interrupted. All the housewives flock out to the walk and peer intently. The business men leave their shops and run to the rescue. I wonder if one couldn't judge the size of the town by the neighborliness of the inhabitants in this respect. .... the number who drop their doings and show an interest in someone else's troubles?

Rufe Clark was telling me the other day how the base of the high school building was to have been planted about with two colors of barberry bushes, red and green, alternating. After the shipments of plants had been carefully planted every other one, all those in the know sat back and waited to catch the first glimpse of the pretty variegated effect. But they didn't get much for their waiting, as every single bush turned out to be green!

Glad's going to be very popular here this summer, judging by signs. Ever so many people have planted them. Mrs. Rudy Koupal set out 400, just to encourage the neighbors!

The frosty nights this past week saw a lot of yards looking Halloweenish, with spooky figures grouped everywhere. This was because earnest gardeners who received advance word of Jack Frost took everything but Father's trousers outdoors to cover up flowers and plants.

You don't suppose the seed houses would try to slip anything over, do you? The radio ones, that is.

Harry McBeth received a "premium" with a recent order, a plant called "bella albidia." And he has looked and looked in regular flower books, and can't find his bella albidia anywhere. So he just had to take a chance and plant it. The dear part is that even the catalog from the station which sent him the premium does not describe this gal Bella.

QUIZ FORUM

Coats Assesses Vinton, Writes About It.

Dear Quiz: I finished assessing Vinton township May 22, just two days before the limit. Graul brother were quite worried for fear I was going to leave them out, as they were next to the last. Emil Kokes was the last and said he had worried for fear he was going to lose out by having no taxes to pay. He and Graul brothers acted quite relieved when they found out I was really there to assess them and he'll bet they will feel more relieved next fall when they go to pay their taxes.

My agriculture book revealed a lot of things interesting to me and as some of the Quiz readers may also be interested in what farmers are doing and have been doing the past year I will give a brief report on what I found. I am not publishing the tax list except on agriculture reports that help go to make up the state and national round-up of farming operations.

I visited 75 farms in the township, ranging from 80 to 1,520 acres. The largest is the farm land owned by King Huff. As he rents all his land out it did not show on the agriculture schedule. Benson brothers reported the large east farm worked by owner, 720 acres. Fred Travis is second with 680 acres. John Mason and son next with 560 acres.

Of the rented farms Mrs. Anna Jensen and sons operate 300 acres and Levi Chippis was second with 600. Forrest Watson and Dwain Williams tied with 480 acres each. Levi Chippis leads in number of acres in corn, 370. Fred Travis was second with 380 and Mrs. Jensen next with 250. Thirteen farms out of the 75 sowed winter wheat with Henry Cremon having the most with 150 acres. Second place was held by Mrs. Josefa Capek, 104 acres, and next was Forrest Watson, 56 acres.

Anna Jensen and sons lead in acres of oats, having 100. Joe Wojtasek was second with 60 and Lloyd Hunt and John Mason and son tied for third with 50 acres each.

Nine of the 75 sowed some barley with Levi Chippis' 60 acres being the largest tract. B. R. Hackel had 55 acres and Coats and son 46. The largest field of potatoes was one acre, the smallest 1/3 of an acre. George Nass raised no potatoes and when I asked him why he planted none he intimated that as he had no wife to dig them he had better not raise potatoes. I found fifteen bachelors in the township, ranging from young to old, good looking to homely and rich to poor. If any young ladies are interested I can give them pointers on which bachelor is the best catch. While I am rather proud of the collection and will put them up against those in any other township, I hear two of them are going to put on the handcuffs and go to dodging rolling pins and broom sticks.

Only one farmer out of 75 will raise popcorn this year. He is Frank Penas, with 15 acres. Thirty-three farmers out of the 75 sowed sweet clover, Coats and son being first with 60 acres and B. R. Hackel second with 55. Twenty-six years ago I sowed the first sweet clover ever sowed in Valley county. People rose up and called me damned. Now a lot of farmers are sowing it. Let the good work go on. All but 5 percent of the 75 farms here had alfalfa in small or large fields. Dwain Williams has 90 acres with Anna Jensen and sons second with 50 and several having 40 acres each.

Forty farmers out of the 75 fed cattle during the year. They ranged from three head up to 140 head fed by Dick Thompson and son. Ed Hackel and Fred Travis tied on second place with 130 head each and Mason and son were next with 98 head.

Cows milked last year were as follows: Anna Jensen and sons, 85; Coats and son, Joe Anderson, Sam Brickner, Fred 12 head. Seven farmers milked no cows and several more only one.

Dick Thompson heads the list in number of brood sows kept for this spring with 35. B. R. Hackel was second with 33 and John Vodehnal next with 31. Six farmers had no hogs. Pigs raised last year: John Mason & Son, 200; B. R. Hackel, 194; Coats and son, 180. Eleven farmers raised no pigs last year.

In the horse line only five colts were raised last year on the 75 farms. There were more horses over 20 years old than there were colts raised and nearly all the horses were smooth mouth. That means something. Either horses will be very high or it will be tractor farming in the future.

Mrs. Frank Penas raised 600 chickens last year with Mrs. Coats, Mrs. Anton Volf and Mrs. Will Hanson each with 400. Six of the farms raised no chickens. Several complained of loss of chickens this year and that a great number of farmers were short on poultry, old and young.

Frank John raised the only spelt in the township. Three acres of it is reported by him and he says it is excellent chicken feed. There are no large herds of cattle in the township. The largest number of calves raised last year was 20, by Fred Travis.

Thirty-three of the farms had no radios, 39 have water piped into the house, 17 have electric plants. There were 115 personal tax schedules on the 75 farms. Every farm has autos except two. There were 4 new tractors bought in the last year and several smooth mouth ones in use. As one farmer explained, a tractor was counted smooth mouth after 4 years of use as a horse is after 10 years of age. Seventy dogs were listed and that did not count the three or four dogs that were visiting where one was listed. Dogs were valued formerly at $10 but we were allowed to take them at $5 this year. Hamburger and wienies are cheaper so dogs had to come down. I found no sheep in the township and only one goat and that was me, because I was assessor. Ernest S. Coats, Vinton farmer.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE PAULT... BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

Do you BUY GASOLINE blindfolded?

Many buy gasoline from the nearest pump, believing all gasolines are alike. When their motors lose pep they blame the motor, or the kind of gasoline they bought last.

That's not quite fair, because the quality of gasoline you use has a lot to do with the way your motor behaves.

Some gasolines contain sulphur compounds which attack metal and destroy the perfect fit of the parts. Unless scientific refining completely removes it, tar collects on valves, clogs piston rings and heavily coats the combustion chamber and the exhaust manifold with carbon.

That's why many motors lose much of their power after a few thousand miles of operation—why low grade, cut quality gasoline often proves the most expensive fuel you can use.

Balanced RED CROWN GASOLINE gives quick starts and all the power and mileage your motor is capable of on refined gasoline. It contains no sulphur or tar to injure your motor or cut down its mechanical efficiency. Clean, high power, balanced Red Crown Gasoline is the safe road to cheap power and mileage.

Native Trees Are Making Nebraska a Wooded State

When the settlers arrived in Nebraska they found trees along the water courses which varied the monotony of the wide stretching prairie. They were few compared with the broad expanse of treeless land but they were the beginning of a native forest that has finally given Nebraska the appearance of a wooded state.

Cottonwoods were the tall sentinels and many of them, like the Lone Tree near the town of that name, now Central City, were landmarks for travelers. The cottonwood is a native of the prairie and is rapidly disappearing from the state. Willows were found where water was plentiful. They, too, are disappearing. One of nature's finest gifts is the elm. A beautiful, fan-shaped tree, with wide spread of shade, this sturdy specimen is perhaps the most noble of the native trees. Some wonderful types may be found over the state. The black walnut was found along the Missouri river in southeastern Nebraska in commercial quantities and is in use for furniture even now.

The pine and cedar occur naturally along the Niobrara and in the rugged northwestern part of the state, where specimens grow abundantly in the soil they like.

Merchants Lead, 14-2, But Lose to Barbers

Leading by a score of 14 to 3 when the game ended but still losing 9 to 0 was the experience of the Ord Merchants baseball team in their game with the Ord Barbers here Monday evening. Barbers led the game while the Merchants were at bat in the fourth inning, and when they left the field the Barbers claimed a forfeit, which would make the score 9 to 0 in their favor. As it was all in fun anyway nobody protested.

In the Merchant line-up were two local "leading lights" making their first appearance in ball togs this year. Bill Henck, celebrating his first sight of a baseball this spring, hit a home run with the bases loaded. He also pitched an inning. Pidge Johnson held down the hot corner in his old time style. Other players of the Merchant team performed in an earlier game this spring.

Next Monday the Barbers will play the "Court House Bats", who will have Dave Haught at shortstop as a feature attraction. This game should attract a nice crowd.

large enough for several adults to stand in and view the displays. This is the only such truck on the road, Mr. Skinner says, and it is proving a great attraction wherever shown. It is in Ord under the auspices of Auble Bros. and L. J. Auble.

The program at the show has been uniformly good at the first exhibitions. A band concert opened the exposition Tuesday evening and L. J. Auble's DeKo-Light orchestra played from the stage throughout the evening. Acts by grade school students who took part in the high school operetta last week also proved enjoyable. Last night Joe Puncchar's orchestra played from the stage and Gerald Nutter gave several fancy dances, much to the approval of the crowd. Moving pictures are being shown on all three days.

One of the features of the show that is attracting much attention is the short wave radio transmitter owned by John Andersen and Elwin Dunlap. They have this set at the opera house and are sending messages to all parts of the world for anybody who wants them sent. So far 35 messages have been sent including one each to Canada, India, England, South America and Ireland.

Both of these two young men hold federal amateur radio licenses. Their transmitter is powerful enough to be heard throughout the United States but most messages, they explain, are delivered by relaying through amateurs elsewhere. They will be glad to send a message to any part of the world tonight for any person who attends the show.

Anybody who hasn't visited the exposition as yet should not lose an opportunity to do so for it is one of the most interesting events ever held in Ord. Another cooking demonstration will be given this afternoon by Miss W. Leiby and the program tonight will include music by the high school orchestra, concert solos by E. P. Glasser and moving pictures. The exposition is entirely free and a large crowd is expected again this afternoon and evening.

Sheldon Pitches N. L. Redbirds to Victory

The North Loup Redbirds are now in first place in the Farm Bureau League, by virtue of Sheldon's pitching last Sunday at the North Loup diamond, when the Redbirds defeated the Ord Delco-Lights to the tune of 7 to 3.

Ord started in the first inning by getting one run across, but the Redbirds came back strong in their half with 5 hits and 4 runs, the score remaining that way until the first of the fifth when Wolf got on by an error, Misko tied out to Shaffner, Bresley hit, and then two more errors scored Wolf and Bresley, putting Warford on third, and Athey on second. Sheldon then struck out Covert and Finch. Then in the lucky seventh the Redbirds scored three more runs when Joe Chadwick hit one into the cornfield for a home run, scoring Sheldon and Shaffner ahead of him. This is Joe's third home run of this season.

Sheldon pitched a remarkable game, striking out 14, allowing but three hits, walked one and hit one. Vodehnal behind the bat, did a swell job of receiving. Athey tightened after the first inning and pitched good ball, striking out 7, and allowing one walk and 12 hits. Each team had four errors. Chet Noyes led the swatting with two two-baggers. There was a large crowd present and it was a good game.

A feature was John Anderson and Chas. Arnold's broadcasting, with Charley at the mike and John at the controls. Music, announcements and all the trimmings of a la McNamee.

Eureka Beats Sumter But Protest Is Filed

Eureka defeated Sumter 22 to 8 on the Sumter field Sunday, but the game was protested by Sumter because they charge the Eureka management took Kokes out in the fifth inning and put him back in the game in the eighth. The protest will be threshed out at a farm bureau league meeting to be held here June 1.

The game was a free hitting affair with Eureka finding Collison and Severson for 19 hits while Sumter got to Polak and Vodehnal for 8. Extra base hits abounded. The box score is as follows:

Arcadia Keeps Up Winning Streak By Defeating Elyria

Outfit, but not outscored, by Elyria Sunday, the Arcadia Clickers continued their drive for farm bureau league honors when they won 19 to 8, principally because of a flock of Elyria errors. The Elyria boys looked better with the stick than they have before this season but they converted 13 swats into only 8 tallies so deserved to lose. A snappy double play, Downing to Waite to White, contributed to Elyria's downfall.

Box score for Arcadia vs Elyria. Columns: ab, r, h, po, a, e. Rows: Downing, Strathdee, Scott, Jensen, Waite, McCleary, Holmes, Smith, White, Milburn, Elyria, S. Carkoski, Kukulish, Kimball, R. Nelson, Dodge, Norton, O. Nelson, Augustine.

Police Records Show What Sort of Autos And Guns Gangsters Use in Their Wars

What kind of autos are driven by the best gangsters? This is one of the odd questions technicians had to decide in picking machines for the underworld war episodes in "The Secret Six," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's drama of municipal politics which will come Friday to the Ord Theatre.

Research into police records and other sources of information were used to obtain data as to makes and models used. Gang leaders, it was disclosed, always utilize high-grade and very reliable cars, so that engine trouble will not result in capture or possible death.

VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU LEAGUE AVERAGES

Table showing league averages for Valley County. Columns: Team, G, W, L, Pct. Rows: North Loup, Ord Delco-Lights, Arcadia, Mira Valley, Joint, Eureka, Olean, Elyria, Ord Camels, Sumter.

McMINDES HURLS 3 HIT GAME TO BEAT ORD CAMELS, 15-0

Bill McMIndes, one of the Joint hurling staff, evidently had on his pitching clothes Sunday for a game played at the fair grounds diamond here he limited the weak and feeble Ord Camels to three hits and joint won easily, 15 to 0.

DeLashmatt was the only camel who had an luck with the bat and pounded out a pair of bingles, both two sackers. Beeghly got the other Camel blow.

The Joint heavy hitters enjoyed a field day at Vernie Andersen's expense, and nearly all of their twelve hits were extra bases. Gerald Dye had the most impressive record with three swats in five attempts, two going for two bases and one for a triple.

So far the Camels have failed to win a game but next Sunday they hope to have Livingston, their last year's hurling ace, with them and Manager Frank Andersen says things are going to be different.

12 Errors Spell Defeat for Olean

Though Olean's aging but still sprightly hurler, Doug Barber, struck out eleven Mira Valley players and held them to three earned runs Sunday, his teammates kicked twelve chances and Mira Valley won, 13 to 4. At the same time Mell Williams, the Mira Valley hurler, enjoyed good support and though he allowed eight hits he kept them well scattered.

Abney and Paddock collected six of the eight hits Olean got off Williams, Abney hitting three out of five and Paddock three out of four. Fortis, Williams, E. Leonard, Fuss and Jim Bremer started with the bludgeon for Mira Valley. In the third inning Harmon Williams drove out a homer, his only hit of the game.

If Doug Barber had been able to get together with the umpire he probably would have got credit for even more than 11 strikeouts, according to Ed Lange, Mira Valley scorer, who furnishes the box score which follows:

Box score for Olean vs Mira Valley. Columns: ab, r, h, po, a, e. Rows: Abney, D. Barber, Nass, K. Barber, Barnhart, C. Oliver, Paddock, Kirkendall, Honeycutt, Poocek, P. Weed, Mira Valley, Portis, M. N. Y. Physician Tells Of Sargon's Powers

Dr. G. H. Warburton, Graduate Famous Bellevue Hospital Medical College, New York, was so convinced of the great good in Sargon that he recently declared: "It is not what we eat that counts but what we assimilate. Sargon helps us get more good out of our food thus aiding the nutrition building up of enduring strength, firmer flesh, calmer nerves, improved brain power and a sense of physical well-being. You eat with a keen appetite, sleep with a new peaceful soundness and wake up with feeling of renewed strength and energy."

While those who actually benefit from the use of Sargon marvel at the results of this triumphant compound, only the trained physicians who have been retained to examine the formula can understand why Sargon is now considered one of the great outstanding health giving remedies of the age.

Chevrolet Agencies At North and South Poles Show Autos Have Circled World

Two Chevrolet agencies are maintained at almost opposite ends of the earth, one in the shadow of the north pole, the other in the distant region of the antarctic. Up in the sub-Arctic, 69 parallels of latitude remote from the equator, where daylight is hardly more than imaginary and the reindeer is still the chief means of transportation, A-S Anco sells Chevrolet, in Horstad, Norway.

It is almost a record of civilization. Fewer than six hamlets are nearer than Horstad to the North Pole.

More than 8500 miles to the south, practically at the tip of South America, V. Camello operates a large crowd present and a dealership, at Porvenir, in what has been called the bleakest spot on the globe, the eternally gales-lashed island of Terra del Fuego. Porvenir rests on the 57th parallel of latitude and is practically within the Antarctic circle. With a single exception it is the most southerly town in the world. Camello operates another automobile agency across the stormy Straights of Magellan, at Magallanes, formerly Punta Arenas, famed in maritime tales and history and a veritable haven to sailors navigating the nearby seas, the stormiest known anywhere.

Thus, points out M. D. Douglas, general parts and service manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, the automobile has circled the earth with a band more than 6500 miles wide and adds: "The automobile in a generation has penetrated and gone beyond the regions of the reindeer on the north and the llama on the south, the hardiest being the existing. It would be interesting to know how many cars operate in these remote sections. We would like to know their period of usefulness each year and something of the vicissitudes of automobile ownership and driving at the top and bottom of the globe."

HENS RETURN NET PROFIT FOR APRIL

Monthly Letter Shows Gain. One Co-operator Here. Average Fifteen Cents.

The average net income for each hen upon which cost accounts were kept in Nebraska during April amounted to fifteen cents, according to the monthly poultry letter as received by the Quiz this morning from the college of agriculture at Lincoln.

The cost account project is carried out by J. R. Reditt and J. H. Claybaugh, extension poultry agents, in cooperation with thirty-three Nebraska poultrymen. There is one co-operator in Valley county. Each month the cooperator sends his report to County Agent Dale who in turn sends it to the college for summarization.

Records on over six thousand birds were kept in the state during the month. They show that the average gross income per hen was thirty-one cents. It cost on an average 16 cents to feed each hen during the month. The highest average egg production in April was 22.7 eggs while the lowest egg production was but 12.4 eggs.

The April report shows that the co-operators received an average price of eighteen cents a dozen for their eggs during April. Those in Lancaster county received twenty-seven cents a dozen but the price was figured on both market and hatching eggs which raised the average price somewhat.

Commenting upon the monthly report, County Agent Dale says the figures are sometimes misleading and do not represent actual conditions in Valley county. Poultry in and around Omaha and Lincoln have the advantage of receiving a higher price for their products while often the hatching price as well as the market price of eggs is figured in the cost accounts, he points out. Dale believes the outstanding poultrymen are in the project and do not represent the general run of poultrymen.

Nebraska Farmers Can Aid In Increasing Hog Prices

Nebraska hog raisers should take notice of the effect of production on price. A variation of $6.56 per cwt. in a year of heavy production to $11.35 during a year of light production should be a clear indication that overproduction resulted in market price slump.

During the hog marketing year Nov. 1, 1923, to Oct. 31, 1924, the total inspected slaughter of hogs in the U. S. reached 11,900,000,000 pounds. During this period the average price received by Nebraska farmers was $6.56 cwt. For the hog marketing period Nov. 1, 1925, to Oct. 31, 1926, the slaughter amounted to 9,700,000,000 pounds. The prevailing market price for Nebraska farmers was $11.35 per cwt. The increase of 22 percent in volume of hogs marketed was met by a decrease of 42.2 percent in price.

To put it more concretely, during the first named period Nebraska farmers marketed 6,241,000 hogs for which they received $102,385,000. During the second period they marketed 4,986,000 hogs, or

Fat Cattle Prices May Show Increase

Steady to firm poultry prices are predicted for Valley county farmers in the next thirty days by the economic situation report as issued from the agricultural college by Prof. Harold Hedges of the rural economics department.

Fat cattle prices will probably be firm, egg prices may change but little, cash wheat prices will probably remain at present levels, according to Hedges. In addition his report indicates that Ord farmers may expect further weakness in hog prices and steady to lower butter prices.

With continued support of old crop prices by the grain stabilization corporation, cash wheat prices will probably remain close to present levels. The economic situation says the condition of winter wheat continues excellent. The acreage of spring wheat in the United States, however, has been substantially reduced but this is more than offset by the favorable condition of the winter wheat.

Predicting steady to firm prices for corn in the next thirty days, Hedges says the new crop progress will become increasingly a price factor. Weather conditions have delayed planting somewhat but not seriously as yet. The adjustment of wheat prices from the stabilized old crop basis to a probable lower new crop price level will tend to weaken prices within the next thirty days, according to the economic situation.

With hog prices usually working lower from May to June, Ord farmers are told that they may expect further weakness in hog prices in the next thirty days. In eleven of the past fifteen years the June average for hogs at Chicago has been lower than the May price. Slack demand, both domestic and foreign, and the weakness of the general price level will work against price improvement until there is a definite let-up in marketings which is not likely to occur for several weeks.

Fat cattle prices should develop more firmness before the end of the period, Hedges predicts. A 1,373,000 head less, for which they received $140,889,000, or $38,504,000 more than for the large crop. Much of this marked fluctuation in price could have been avoided if production had been more uniform. The pig surveys conducted by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in cooperation with the Post Office Department gives the information on the present supply and the farmer's plans for the future supply in sufficient time for the farmer to modify his concern in the interest of stabilization of production.

During the present week a pig survey is being taken by rural mail carriers in Nebraska. Farmers will be supplied with pig survey cards which taken with all other cards by the Department of Agriculture to forecast conditions of production in time to permit any farmer who wants to adjust his production to prevailing conditions to do so. Facts on hog production injures no one. They do enable his concern in the production, slaughter and sale to avoid the penalties both of over and under production.

seasonal strengthening in prices for finished cattle usually is in evidence from May to June, he says in backing his statement. Reports of the number of cattle on feed and figures on the number of cattle shipped to cornbelt feedlots since last fall have indicated decreases in the number of cattle in feedlots.

Ord farmers will probably receive present prices or slightly lower for their butter in the next thirty days, the monthly prediction indicates. Prices have weakened more often than they have advanced from May to June in past years. Production is increasing seasonally with the pasture season beginning. Showing that in the last twenty-one years the June average price for fresh first eggs in New York has been below that of May eleven times, Hedges says there may be but little change in egg prices during the period. Egg production continues heavy despite the report of fewer hens on farms.

Poultrymen may find that their poultry will bring steady to firm prices in the next thirty days. The usual price trend is upward from May to June and the storage situation continues favorable.

Big Time Being Planned For 41H Clubs At Lincoln

With the 1931 club week starting at the college of agriculture in Lincoln Monday, a group of Valley county 4-H club members and practical leaders are expected to attend. Billy Ward of Arcadia and Merna Ward of Ord are among the trip winners. The annual week starts on Monday and concludes Saturday.

Final preparations for entertaining 400 Nebraska boys and girls for the week are rapidly being completed, according to information reaching the Quiz today from Lincoln. L. I. Frisbie, state boys and girls club director, announced final plans for the week last night at his office at the agricultural college.

The Valley county boys and girls attending the week should have a big time, County Agent Dale says. A good program of educational tours, classes and recreation has been arranged for the club members. Practically every coach on the University of Nebraska athletic staff is to have charge of one recreational period for the boys during their stay in Lincoln. Frisbie announced this morning that Dana X. Bible, Henry F. Schulte, Charley Black, Rudolph Vogler, Ed Weir and W. H. Brown have consented to appear on the recreation program.

Miss Mable Lee, head of the girls physical education department in the University of Nebraska is to have charge of the girls recreation. She is to have a number of her staff at the college for the week showing the girls how to enjoy playing.

As previously announced the boys and girls will have the opportunity of attending the First Congregational church in Lincoln during the stay. The Valley county boys and girls along with the other club members will get to hear Anton Brees, noted clarinet player, give a recital on the new bells while Wilbur Chenoweth will give a short concert on the pipe organ. The First Congregational church was recently completed and is the most up-to-date church in Lincoln.

The University of Nebraska 4-H club is planning some novel entertainment for the visitors during their first day at the college. Harlan Bollman is at the head of the program committee for the club and is planning the program. Valley county club members are advised to take a sheet, enough comforts, comfortable clothes and toilet articles to Lincoln with them. They are also advised to bring but little spending money and enough money for their return fare if they are not trip winners.

Uni's Prize Mare Foals Twins; Both Colts Live

Twin colts may be rare things to Valley county farmers but to Crescent's Bell, queen of all the mares in the University of Nebraska string, they are mere happenings. Just the other day this Belgian mare foaled a pair of twin colts, long leggy animals. They are both living and at normal weight.

W. W. Derrick of the agricultural extension service says it is the first time there has been a pair of twins in the Nebraska string. Perhaps Ord farmers have had the same experience. Usually one or the other of the colts die or both.

How many twin colts have been foaled in Valley county this year?

MAY HOLD NEWS WRITING SCHOOL

Dale Says Round Will Come To Ord To Conduct School For Club Reporters.

Valley county 4-H club news reporters may have the opportunity of gathering in Ord during the latter part of June for a news writing school, according to County Agent Dale of Ord.

If present plans are successful, George Round, Jr. will conduct the news writing school for the club reporters. Round is in work with the agriculture extension service this summer and his work will carry over the state conducting such schools. If enough interest is shown locally the school will be planned.

Last summer while working as editor of the Ord Review, Round organized a writers guild among the club members and conducted news writing schools. His schools were well attended. The Valley county club reporters organization was one of the first organizations of its kind in Nebraska.

County Agent Dale is urging club reporters who would be interested in such a one day school to get in touch with him at once. Tentative dates for the meeting would be either June 18 or 25.

BARE SAYS BEES AHEAD OF CROPS

Bees Ahead of Spring Grains; Will Necessitate Feeding In Many Sections.

By GEORGE ROUND, JR. Returning from his visit to Valley county where he conducted a bee demonstration on spring practices, O. S. Bare, extension entomologist at the agricultural college in Lincoln, says local bees are far ahead of the spring crops. He sees a favorable outlook for Ord bee producers during the coming year.

While in Ord for his demonstration, Bare said he had a successful meeting. Fourteen beekeepers in the county turned out for the meeting at Frank Vodenhals'. In many sections of the state, farmers have been delayed in planting their spring grain and crops while the bees have come along during the fore part of the spring. This will handicap the bees later when they will need feeding, the college of agriculture man explains.

Due to the backward condition of the honey plants and the advanced state of the bees, Bare believes there will be more spring feeding done in Nebraska this year than ever before. Valley county beekeepers may run into the same situation, he says.

Valley county and Nebraska beekeepers evidently are preparing for a big bee season as Bare reports that there is more package bee buying from the southern states this year than in normal years. Though 1930 was not a normal year for Nebraska beekeepers they fare well in comparison to the profit of other farming sidelines.

Practically all of the 1930 honey crop has been cleaned up over the state, declares Bare. "A few months ago it looked like the beekeepers were going to be compelled to hold a large proportion of the 1930 crop over but the market opened and they sold their honey more quickly than they expected."

AM I RIGHT?

By GEORGE ROUND, JR.

Though the April report of records kept on cost accounting with poultry indicate that the co-operators with the agricultural college made money on their birds, it is a fact that the figures are misleading. Valley county farmers should keep in mind that the co-operators were producing and far above the average.

The question may be answered easily. It wouldn't take long to count the number of Valley county farmers who made a net profit of ten cents on each hen during April. With eggs selling from eight to twelve cents or so, that profit looks exceedingly large.

While the results of the cooperative cost accounting project are of great interest and value to the co-operators, they present few real figures from which the average Ord farmer may draw his conclusions. For that reason they are misleading.

A prominent Idaho livestock breeder, a woman by the way, says farming conditions are the same in her state as in Nebraska. The person, Mrs. Minnie Miller, was visiting at the college of agriculture in Lincoln when she told me about farming in her home community.

Mrs. Miller, who is one of the leading Guernsey and Hampshire sheep breeders in the country says there are going to be more lambs in Idaho this year than ever before. Though the dairy business is depressing there, butterfat is selling for around thirty cents. Valley county dairymen wouldn't be overjoyed to receive thirty cents for their butterfat.

The federal farm board has now done what it should have a few years ago or rather what President Hoover should have done before creating the board. All of the leading economists in the country who oppose the board have been called to Washington to help iron out the situation and tell the farm board where they are wrong. If Hoover had called the men in before the situation might not be so distressing at this time.

As usual the pasture across the field always looks the most attractive and people live in glass houses. Just the other day I heard a professor from Columbia university tell a group of agricultural journalists that there is nothing in Italy. He himself being a native Italian ought to know. He said he couldn't see why tourists flocked to that country to view the sights.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

"We have many poor veterinarians practicing out over the state, but those two at Ord are pretty good." So remarked one of the animal pathologists of the state recently to the writer several years ago.

The McGinnis and Ferguson animal hospital must be ranked at the top as a community asset. Its dependable doctors are always on the job to answer hurry-up calls, and always prepared to render efficient treatments, regardless of the hour or the weather. If an estimate were to be made of the money they have saved this locality thru diseases checked on animals rescued from the total would aggregate well up into six figures.

It is easy to overlook the important and necessary services of the veterinarians, who are to the livestock industry what the medical practitioners are to the human family. The last few years have been somewhat trying for them. In addition to the passing of the horse there has been a tendency to consign the simpler medical tasks to the cheap amateur practitioners, and leave the dirty jobs for the "vets."

As a result, the veterinary profession has been rapidly decreasing in numbers with a seeming indifference to this shortage among livestock owners. Unless veterinarians are given more opportunity to prove the value of their services, livestock growers will realize some day that good veterinary service will be unavailable or prohibitive in cost, in many sections of the country.

Effective treatments and preventive practices for all livestock diseases can best be accomplished under the skillful direction of a veterinarian. Such diseases as tuberculosis, hog cholera, contagious abortion, black leg and other contagious diseases cause a loss from diseased animals of 15 million dollars annually in Nebraska. Ninety percent of the diseases causing this loss are preventable, and the veterinarians know best how to control them.
