BURWELL YOUTH SUES HARVESTER CO. FOR $101,000

Disfigured for Life When Truck Tire Blew Off, Don Savage Asks Huge Sum.

Disfigured for life by an explosion of a tire he was mounting on a truck owned by the International Harvester Company of America, Donald Savage of Burwell is suing for damages aggregating $101,732.38. Davis & Vogelzang, of Ord, are attorneys for young Savage, and the tire manufacturer was filed last Friday in the Garfield county district court.

The accident occurred May 20, 1930, in Wahoo, Nebr. Savage, who at that time was 21 years of age, had been hired and invited by one "Rosley" Mulligan, truck driver, to accompany him to Omaha and bring back a load of machinery from the International Harvester company's branch there to Peter O. Petersen, their dealer at Burwell. So alleges Savage in his petition.

About four miles from Wahoo a tire blew out, or was punctured, and William B. Tracy, of Wahoo, was hired to fix the tire and to put a new casing on the truck. Mulligan, Tracy and young Savage were engaged in mounting the tire on the rim when it exploded.

Savage's injuries consisted of a fractured skull, one eye so badly mangled that it had to be removed, a broken jaw, broken hand and cuts and bruises over many parts of his body. He now has a hole in his forehead which makes him repulsive to look at, he has one eye out and is permanently disfigured for life. For a month after the accident he was in the Wahoo hospital between life and death but finally rallied, he says.

During his confinement to bed he suffered untold pain and agony and for more than a year afterward was unable to do labor of any sort. Since his recovery he has been unable to get a job because of his disfigurement, he alleges. His friends eye him with pity or contempt, strangers stare at him and he is unable to sleep nights because of pain and worry about his appearance and inability to make a living.

The case is now before an involuntary one. The International Harvester company enters into it in this manner: Through their dealer at Burwell, Peter O. Petersen, they sold the truck to one Copp, of Loup valley, retaining mortgage on it, and to meet the payments, said Copp turned the truck back to the mortgage holder and it was being operated by them at the time of the accident, though it was registered in Mr. Petersen's name.

A defective rim on the truck was the cause of the accident, young Savage's petition alleges. This defect he charges, was generally known in Burwell and among all mechanics who had worked on it and must have been known to the owners, who neglected to have it fixed. Besides the International Harvester company, young Savage names as defendants Mr. Petersen, of Burwell and William B. Tracy, of Wahoo, who was employed to fix the tire and who should have warned him of its condition, according to his petition.

Savage says that he has expended, or become liable, for a large amount of bills for medical treatment. These include:

Glass eye and treatments, $100.00
Anna Schaeffer, nurse, 60.00
Drs. McCreery & King, dentists, 35.00
Miss Schaeffer, nurse, 49.00
Anna Hunt, care and assistance, 500.00
Hospital, 158.38
Dr. Rathrop, 200.00

Besides paying out these amounts he must have more medical treatments which will cost at least $500.00, he alleges, and he figures that he has been damaged by the injury to the extent of $101,732.38. He asks judgment in this amount.

The suit is probably the largest damage case ever filed in Garfield county and a hard fought trial is anticipated by Clarence M. Davis and Edward L. Vogelzang, who are looking after Mr. Savage's interests. The case is creating much interest in Ord because many of the parties involved are known here.

Car Ablaze, Firemen Called.

The fire department was called to the east part of town last Thursday noon to extinguish the flames in an automobile belonging to C. A. Anderson. The car was being driven by Mrs. E. C. Leggett, who stated that flames burst out when she pressed the starter. Not much damage was done to the car.

Mrs. Emma Dworak and daughter Betty Joe of San Diego, Calif. are in Ord, arriving Friday. They drove through making the trip in five days. Mrs. Dworak is staying with her sister, Mrs. A. F. Kosmatka. She and her daughter will be here the greater portion of the summer.

Monday Mrs. Earl Blessing and little daughter were able to leave the Ord hospital and return to their own home.

Past Month Was Driest June In History

June, 1931, was the driest June since moisture records have been kept in Ord, says James Milford, who kept rainfall records here for years. Only .51 inches fell in Ord during June this year, he says. The next driest June dates back to 1890 when 1.06 inches fell during the month.

Average June rain-fall in Ord over a 25 year period is 4.07 inches, according to Mr. Milford. June, 1895, was the wettest June the records show. Ten inches fell during the month that year.

Rotarians Are Told Of Railroad Plight

George Brophy Asks Support For R. R. Freight Rate Increase; Scores Inland Waterways.

During the first quarter of 1931 railroads of the United States earned only 2 percent on their investments, earnings being figured on an annual basis, Ord Rotarians were told Monday by Mr. George Brophy, of the Union Pacific public relations department. The 15 percent freight rate increase now being asked by railroads is vitally necessary if railroads are to survive, he said.

To show what has happened to railroad business, Mr. Brophy said that during the past ten years freight tonnage increased only 8 percent while passenger business decreased 34 percent. And at the same time many freight rate reductions were made.

Trucks, buses, inland waterways, airplanes, the Panama canal and pipe lines should be under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission as well as the railroads, he said, adding that all the railroads ask is an equal opportunity with other systems of transportation.

He scored inland waterways now being developed by the government saying that $50,000,000 is being spent on the Missouri this year foolishly. A reduction in freight rates on grain which hauled by barges is promised to farmers, he says, but he challenged anybody to show where a freight rate reduction ever brought more to farmers for their crops. Whenever rates are lowered crop values drop accordingly, he stated.

Other guests at the Rotary meeting Monday were Vernon Laughrey, manager of the Safeway store here, Mark Tolén, Ralph W. Norman and Floyd Beranek. All were introduced and spoke briefly.

In his talk Mr. Laughrey said that L. S. Skaggs, on his recent visit to Ord, spoke highly of Ord and its location and said this part of the country looked much better than any other he had visited on his inspection trip.

Two More Fined For Oil Thefts

Stealing gasoline and kerosene seems to be a popular pastime in Valley county this summer. Last week two young men were fined for stealing gas from a county factor; this week two more appeared in court for a similar offense.

Charged with stealing a 30-gallon steel drum, two 5-gallon cans and twenty gallons of kerosene from Archie Geweke, two boys of 21 appeared before Judge J. H. Hollingshead Saturday. They had been arrested by Sheriff Round and admitted taking the articles, which were valued at $15.55. Each was fined $15 and costs of $11.25. One of them, Otto Walkemeyer, paid up and was freed and the other, Alfred Smith, is working on the court house roofing game in lieu of paying the fine.

Wheeler Co. Home Of Largest Steer In The World

E. E. Huffman, who lives on the former Roblyer farm two miles northwest of Erlerson, is owner of the world's largest steer, according to the Erlerson Journal. The animal weighs 8,300 pounds now but is capable of carrying 4,000 to 4,500 when in condition. It measures ten feet eight inches from the tip of nose to root of tail and is six feet two inches in height at the hips.

Mr. Huffman bought the steer from a former Ord man, Ralph Clements, on whose farm it was calved. The steer has been shown for four years in fifteen states and Mr. Huffman has never had his claim of the biggest steer disputed.

RELIEF TO CROPS COMES IN FORM OF HEAVY RAIN

1.32 Inches Fell Between 4 and 8 A. M. Today; Heat Wave Shattered; More Rain Likely.

Relief came to Valley county's parched crops at 4 a. m. this morning—Wednesday—in the form of a heavy rain that in 8 o'clock had totalled 1.32 inches, with more in sight. A drizzle continues and prospects seem good for enough moisture to keep corn out of danger for several weeks.

Farmers are jubilant this morning for the rain is general over most of Valley county and nearby communities, where the drought has been most severe. The heat wave also appears shattered, temporarily at least, for cooling temperatures came during the night and will last at least as long as the cloudy weather continues.

With the mercury soaring to a season's high of 104 Saturday and no rainfall during the past week, all records for June heat and drought were broken in Ord and Valley county. The temperature at 3 o'clock Saturday registered 104 and the mercury was nearly as high Sunday but dropped Monday to 101. Tuesday was the 6th consecutive day of above 100 temperatures.

The hot, dry weather had played havoc with oats, barley and other small grains and with alfalfa but corn had been hurt very little, most farmers say. During the heat of the day it rolled badly but in fields where it has been intensively cultivated very little damage was caused.

Corn seems to be two weeks, at least, ahead of most years and with the good rain today a bumper crop will be harvested here.

The harvest season opened in Valley county last week and by July 4 will be in full swing. Some of the wheat is fairly heavy and well headed out and with favorable weather will soon be in the shock. Other communities report both wheat and oats so poor as scarcely to be worth the expense and work of harvesting.

The June heat wave started June 17, according to daily temperatures kept by W. A. Anderson, whose figures show the daily high and low points since as follows:

	A. M.	P. M.
June 17	72	90
June 18	70	95
June 19	70	96
June 20	70	96
June 21	73	90
June 22	75	96
June 23	76	102
June 24	72	98
June 25	74	100
June 26	77	101
June 27	78	104
June 28	80	103
June 29	83	101
June 30	79	100

Temperatures were taken at 6 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Mr. Anderson says. He has no recollection in his more than fifty years in Nebraska of such an extended warm period during June. Perhaps some of the older inhabitants such as Wm. Wear or Wm. Wigent might remember a previous warm spell of such duration but he cannot Mr. Anderson says.

He does recall, however, a period of few winters ago when the temperature remained at zero constantly for three weeks. That spell and the one of the past two weeks show the extremes in Nebraska temperatures, Mr. Anderson believes.

Frank Persak was Buried. Funeral services for Frank Persak, who passed away June 21 at Lincoln in the Veterans hospital, were held last Wednesday at the Catholic cemetery here. Mr. Persak was born Aug. 19, 1897 in Poland and came to this country with his parents, settling in Burwell. At the age of 18 he enlisted and was stationed at Deming, N. M., where he contracted a disease by exposure which caused an enlargement of his heart and finally caused his death. Mr. Persak was well known in Valley county.

Tonsil Infection Is Fatal to No. Luper

North Loup, July 1.—(Special)—Mrs. Soren Jorgensen passed away at her home here at 7 a. m. today. Death was caused by blood poisoning, resulting from infected tonsils. Obituary details are lacking but will be printed next week.

Lavada Fountain Here.

A new soda fountain arrived Monday and has been installed in the Lavada Team Room. The marble top was delayed but will come soon, after which cold drinks, ice cream, etc., will be served by the Lavada. Last Thursday a large cold air fan was installed over the kitchen door at the Lavada.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson's wedding anniversary came on June 24 and Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbard gave a party at the home of Mrs. Anderson on June 26. A large number of relatives on the Hubbard lawn last Thursday evening.

Bernard Smith, Drowning In Gravel Pit, Is Rescued By Truck Drivers

Bernard Smith, truck driver for the Ord Co-operative Oil company, was in grave danger of drowning for a short time last Thursday afternoon. He was swimming in the river on the C. J. Mortensen farm, in the deep hole created by the Cram and Verley gravel pump. After going down several times, Smith grabbed a four-by-four thrown to him by a group of ten gravel truck drivers and was hauled to safety.

He could swim only a little bit and stepped off into the deep hole while wading in waist-deep water. Jack Hoogenboom, who was with Smith, saw him swim across the dangerous place a moment before without discovering its depth and supposed Mr. Smith was only fooling when he went down calling "Jack." The truck drivers on the bank saw his danger and threw the four-by-four, which he seized.

Smith kept his head remarkably well and got only a small amount of water into his lungs. He suffered no ill effects from his near-drowning.

This gravel pit has become a favorite with local swimmers and is used every day but it is a dangerous place, nearly still on the surface but with an underwater current. Only strong swimmers venture into it or it may yet claim a life.

First "William Frank" In Six Generations

A second grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glover, Ord, was born last week to their son, Robert Glover and wife, in a Denver hospital. The boy has been named William Frank and arrived on June 23. He is the first "William Frank" in the Glover family in six generations, his grandfather says, though the name used to be a favorite one in the family.

Mrs. Nels Sorensen Was Buried Sunday

Well Known Ord Woman, Widowed Last Summer, Passed June 24; Burial in Ord Cemetery.

Funeral services were held at the Sowl chapel in Ord Sunday afternoon for Mrs. Nels Sorensen, who passed away at midnight June 24 at the age of seventy-one years. Rev. L. M. Reel, of the Presbyterian church, conducted the services and interment was in Ord cemetery. Mrs. Sorensen leaves five daughters, four sons and fifteen grandchildren to mourn her departure.

Johanna Marie Jorgensen was born in Lihsted, Denmark, March 3, 1860 and came to this country to Nels Sorensen, of Ord. These substantial people made their home on a farm near Turtle Creek until 1922, when they moved to Ord, and the husband passed away here on May 30, 1930.

Children who survive their mother include Miss Ida, Albert, Soren and Chris Sorensen, Mrs. Clara Whiting, and Mrs. Esther Sorensen, all of Ord, Jorgen Stewart, of Long Pine, Mrs. Lillian Stewart, of Compton, Calif., and Mrs. Anna Odde, of Theopolis, Wyo. Mrs. Sorensen was preceded in death by her mother in law.

When a child Mrs. Sorensen united with the Lutheran church. She was a good woman, a good neighbor and a loving wife and mother and her departure is mourned by a large circle of friends.

Funeral services at the funeral Sunday were Dave Palmer, Jens Nelson, Henry Benn, Alfred Albers, Chris Rasmussen and Martin Rasmussen.

Ford Show Here Is Well Attended

About 500 people attended the Ford show at the Ford factory in Ord Monday, nearly as many were present Tuesday and as the Quiz is printed Wednesday morning Gould Flagg and Bill Tunncliff are planning for another large crowd tonight.

The talking picture, "A Tour Through the Ford Factory," is a big feature of the show. A large part of the garage has been curtained off, seats have been installed and the film is run through three times daily, once each afternoon and twice each evening.

The members of the Ford men are here helping the Ord men demonstrate and display car and truck models. A cut-away body showing just how the Ford is made has attracted lots of attention.

The show closes tonight—Wednesday—and several attractive prizes will be given away at the Flagg-Tunncliff display rooms. People who haven't already attended the show should take occasion to do so tonight.

Farmers Company In Fuller Suit

Through his attorneys, Hardenbrook & Misko, Sherman F. Fuller of North Loup filed an application in district court here this week to have the Farmers Grain & Supply company listed as a defendant in his suit for $2,500 against the Union Pacific railroad. Mr. Fuller was hurt while loading grain from the Farmers elevator into a U. P. car some months ago. He suffered an attack of shingles as a result of the injury, alleges, and his health was ruined as a result.

Beer Explodes, Law Searches Auto, Arrest Follows

Bang! And a shower of liquid and foam arose from a car parked near the court house last Saturday. Marshall L. W. Covert and Night Officer Roy Pardue, lying on the grass near the car, arose to investigate.

Bang! Again came an explosion from the car, this time almost in Covert's face and suspicious odor floated forth upon the air. A few moments later the car's owner, Laverne "Bill" Burrows, landed behind the bars.

It was a hot, a very hot day, and Burrows brought four bottles of home-brewed beer with him. The heat proved too much for the beer and two bottles exploded, attracting the attention of the law. An analysis showed the beer to possess 7-12 percent alcohol by volume.

When Burrows appeared in county court Saturday afternoon Mr. Burrows pleaded guilty to possession of intoxicating liquor and was fined $100 and costs of $7.25, which he paid.

ELYRIA-JOINT CLASH BEST OF WEEK IN LEAGUE

Joint Held To 4 Hits But Win, 4 To 2, In Fast Game; North Loup Still Leads League.

Though two Elyria hurlers, Dodge and Kuklich, held Joint to four hits Sunday the Joint boys hooked the hits together, combined them with three Elyria errors and won, 4 to 2, in the fastest game played this week in the Valley County Farm Bureau league. Oliver, the Joint hurler, pitched steady ball and profited by the fine support of his team. E. Kimball was the game's heaviest batter with three safe blows.

Not much can be said for the game in which the league leaders performed Sunday. Playing the weak Sumter team, North Loup batted out eighteen hits which they converted into seventeen runs and won easily. Noyes and Knapp took turns pitching for the Red-birds and they yielded up ten hits and nine runs, which is more than Sumter is in the habit of getting. Some new faces were seen in the Sumter line-up.

The Delco-Lights and Camels held a little grudge game at the Ord fair grounds and Bud Auble's team won handily, 4 to 0. The Camels found Athey for only three hits. Clyde has been stingy with bingles all season. Covert and George Finch led the Delco-Light attack.

Mira Valley and Arcadia engaged in a slug-fest on the valley diamond, the Reds winning 8 to 5. Four home runs, two by each team featured the game. The box score was not received in time to print it today.

The Joint-Clean game seems about the best of next Sunday's clashes. The box scores, batting averages and league standings will be found on another page of today's paper.

Paul Hanson's Brother Dies.

Paul Hanson was called to Santa Cruz, Calif., last week by the illness of a brother, Sherman F. Hanson, and Monday Mrs. Hanson received a message that the brother died. He was 64 years old and leaves several grown children. Until about a year ago his home was in Sollet, Tex. He had often visited in Ord. Paul Hanson will visit his daughter, Mrs. John Cleary, in Santa Ana, and his son, Edmund, at Oceanside, before returning to Ord.

North Loupers Hurt When Car Overtaken

North Loup, June 30.—(Special)—Fred Swanson, Mrs. J. E. Goodrich and little granddaughter, Joeleen, were slightly injured and Mrs. Swanson's car was wrecked last Friday evening when it overtook a bridge eight miles west of Fremont when they were enroute from Omaha to this village. The occupants were pinned beneath the car and were taken out through a window. Mrs. Goodrich was badly bruised and was confined to her bed two weeks. Mr. Swanson received a bad cut on his head and a nervous shock and the little girl was uninjured save for a bump on the head.

The wrecked car was towed to Fremont and the occupants were taken back to Omaha for medical aid. Mr. Swanson returned home Saturday night.

Desch Bros. have taken down the stone from the Daniels lot in the Ord cemetery. It has been crated and will be shipped to Denver where Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Daniels plan to make their home.

JURY IS CHOSEN IN APPEL CASE ON TRIAL HERE

Former Danneberg Banker Answers Forgery Charge; Case Came From Howard County.

Former Danneberg Banker Answers Forgery Charge; Case Came From Howard County. Roy G. Appel, former Danneberg banker, is on trial in district court here on a charge of forgery filed against him by the state. The trial opened Tuesday morning, with Judge E. P. Clements on the bench, and a jury was empaneled just before noon yesterday. The regular jury panel was run through and Sheriff George Rowley was sent after six talemens before the jury was completed.

Jurymen sitting in the case are Anthony Koupal, Carl Sorensen, Joe Krejci, Robert Noll, John Palmer, Ed Miller, Andrew Pokorney, Charles Wozniak, Paul Sawanek, Joe Lukash, Sr., Mads Madsen and H. C. Sampson.

Mr. Appel is being prosecuted by County Attorney Spikes, of Howard county, and Assistant Attorney General Newkirk. His defense staff includes Wm. Suhr, of Grand Island, Clarence M. Davis and Ed Vogelzang, of Ord.

The state alleges that Mr. Appel, while employed as cashier of the Danneberg bank which his father founded, forged three checks to a total of several hundred dollars and thereby helped to send the bank into the hands of a receiver in 1928.

One of the forgeries was alleged to have been committed in 1920, one in 1921 and one in 1926. The defense denies the forgeries.

The case was brought into district court here from Howard county, Mr. Appel asking for a change of venue on the grounds that so many banks have failed in that county and so much prejudice against bankers exists that it would be impossible for him to secure a fair trial there.

In spite of the hot weather the district court room was crowded Tuesday afternoon by many of the people present coming from Howard county.

Subpoenas for fifteen witnesses have been issued by Alfred A. Weigardt, clerk of the district court, and the case is expected to drag through several days.

Edward Burrows Was Wed Sunday

Edward Burrows, a son of R. C. Burrows of Mira Valley, who is now residing at Audubon, Ia., was united in marriage to Miss Inez Harris of Miller, Nebr., Sunday morning, June 28.

The wedding was held at the Lutheran church west of Audubon at 5 o'clock in the morning with Rev. S. Larsen officiating. The bride was attended by Miss Julia Jespersen of Spencer, Ia., with E. V. Magausen formerly of Ord, as best man. Only intimate friends of the young couple were present. After the wedding Mrs. J. Magausen of Audubon served a wedding breakfast.

The young people then left for Lake Okiboi in northern Iowa on their honeymoon. Upon their return they will make their home in Audubon where the groom is employed by the Audubon Oil Company as bookkeeper.

Mr. and Mrs. Burrows attended Kearney Normal school at Kearney where Edward Burrows graduated from the Ord high school in 1927.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield and children and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker spent Sunday evening at the Bert Cummins home near Davis Creek. They were treated to home-made ice cream.

Any Ice Today, Lady? Most Women Say Yes. You'd think ice men would appreciate torrid weather such as we have been having. But Olof Olsson is one ice manufacturer who would appreciate a cool spell. He'd like to build up a 100-ton surplus so he could enjoy the Fourth like other people will do. But the hot weather has created such a demand for ice that he has to keep his plant running 24 hours a day, all the time.

Ord is only one of the towns being supplied with ice by the Olsson artificial ice plant, Erlerson, Greeley, Bartlett, Arcadia, Burwell and Taylor are a few of the others. Besides, many rural communities adjacent to Ord are being supplied by trucks that make a regular route daily.

When interviewed by a Quiz reporter last Friday Mr. Olsson said that he expected to be able to supply all the requirements for the 4th of July. But he'll have to keep his plant going night and day to do it. No vacation for him on the Glorious Fourth.

Here's a pretty howdy, or kettle of fish, or something. Cigarette company is warning the girls that if they don't smoke Lucky Strikes their Adam's apples are liable to go kerfuzzy at any minute, and a day or so ago a ship's doctor at New Orleans who discovered a girl disguised as a boy in the ship's crew said he knew she was a girl the moment he saw her because she had no Adam's apple. Take your slate and pencil and figure that, if you can.—Macon, Ga., Telegraph.

Four times a year each bank must publish a financial statement. This is on the theory that banks use money belonging to the public, so they should account for it. It is a wise regulation that should apply to others. Public utilities affect the public purse even more than the banks. Nowadays almost everybody patronizes public utilities. How many customers know whether rates are just or not? How many know how to find out? How many know when public utility owned utilities are self-supporting, or are partly supported by tax money? How many know anything about the cost of operating any utility? Why not require utilities to publish periodical statements, similar to bank statements? The public is entitled to complete information about all matters of public concern.—Ole Buck.

My Own Column

As this is being written Friday afternoon the thermometer is registering 103 in the shade and there is no prospect for relief from the heat and dry weather. Yes, when you read these items, please even more than the banks. Nowadays almost everybody patronizes public utilities. How many customers know whether rates are just or not? How many know how to find out? How many know when public utility owned utilities are self-supporting, or are partly supported by tax money? How many know anything about the cost of operating any utility? Why not require utilities to publish periodical statements, similar to bank statements? The public is entitled to complete information about all matters of public concern.—Ole Buck.

Mrs. Will Moses is a long suffering and good natured woman but she just blew up one day last week after a can of lard to use in finishing some baking and after an hour he came home with another spool of white thread No. 60. Bill has been doing the same thing for years, that is, forgetting what he was sent for and bringing home a spool of No. 60 white thread, until Mrs. Moses, after counting up over a hundred spools of white thread No. 60 already in the house, got plumb peeved and threatened to do something desperate. Bill says he is going to change to black thread No. 50 next time.

Hamilton county commissioners have employed a motorcycle cop and turned him loose in Hamilton county and are trying to get him to stop some of the speeding or else make the cop a paying institution. One thing is sure, if the Court will assess a fine of only $5 on every one caught and the cop will really try to catch speeders, the scheme ought to be a goldmine. Valley county people going to Lincoln via the SYA through Hamilton county had better slow up a bit until they are sure there is no cop coming put-put-put behind them for he is said to have a motorcycle that will outrun the best car on the road. And I am guessing the fine will be more than five bucks too. A lot of people have been killed or maimed for life through auto accidents while driving through Hamilton county in the last couple of years and I am inclined to think it is a good thing to slow the auto drivers up a little.

One thing I always try to do is to keep this column truthful and I wouldn't have believed a potato story that Wayne Clements told me if he hadn't shown me the place. As we were driving along the top of the mountains over the Ward road near Boulder, Wayne told me about a farmer who raised potatoes on the mountain side and when digging time came all he had to do was to open the lower end of each row and the potatoes would roll right into his cellar. Of course I doubted the story but pretty soon we came to the place and there were the long rows of spuds up the mountain side and a cave right near the bottom. Wayne says the spuds grow so thick that they completely fill the row and all that is necessary is the fall to open the lower end and let the spuds roll into the cave.

If, when some friend presents you with a bouquet, you will take good care of it, the beauty of the flowers will last much longer. The right thing to do is to put fresh water in the vase at least a couple of times a day and each morning, cut the ends of the stems off a little. In that way a bouquet will last several days and later when gladiolus come they may be kept nice for a week.

I took a rather pretty bouquet to a couple of young ladies the other day. Shortly afterwards the Misus happened in at their place of business and they began telling what a beautiful bouquet Mr. Leggett gave them. Girls, you will have to be more careful about spilling the beans in that way for it is hard to think up suitable excuses for giving bouquets to beautiful young ladies this hot weather and I must not get in bad with the Misus.

For ten years I have always had a good garden but the last couple of years it seemed as though it was rather a wasted effort, we used so little of the garden sass raised. So this year I didn't plant a single vegetable. Now I crave a mess of beet greens or spinach or chard, or young onions, or peas or string beans and don't have them. The merchants do their best to have and keep the stuff fresh but at that it never compares with the garden stuff fresh picked just when you are ready to cook it and if I am alive and able in 1932 I am going to have a garden again.

Something DIFFERENT

Did I tell you the one about the young lady who came in the Quiz office after a recipe calendar several months ago when they were first offered to our readers?

A certain member of the office force, I won't tell you which one, said as she was leaving: "And ask your mother to send in some recipes for Irma, will you?" Not knowing this youngster was a matron in her own right, wife in a household with three babies.

The swimming party season is on in force, if the number of wet bathing suits hanging over car doors and radiators is any sign. Summer days make everyone want to find some cooling water, even if it is only the spray from the garden hose.

By the way, did you hear about Sheriff Round's two little grandsons begging and pleading to go to the river to fish one evening a few weeks ago? Finally the ambitious little lasses secured permission, with the proviso that they be home at 11:30, "sure positive". Twelve o'clock came, and a little later in came the little lads. To the stern reproaches of their worried grandfathers they answered, "But we didn't have any way to tell what time it was!" Not so dumb.

Have you seen the pleasing job of remodeling that has been going on at the Anthony Thill home? A small modern stoop-like entrance has been added to the front, and the front wall has been built out to the west, making another room, and greatly enhancing the appearance of this home.

Believe it or not, I do think my little niece Shirley is precocious. Here she isn't two yet, and crazy about "sandwiches" she made her self one the other day with one little bite of bread, a red cherry, and another tiny morsel of bread.

I heard one woman criticize another's housekeeping methods recently and I was reminded of a story I read a few days ago. It had to do with a young negro woman, who was a fine cook, but whose mistress was seriously admonishing her about the sinfulness of leaving dirty corners when cleaning the house.

The girl didn't seem to mind the recriminations one bit, for she promptly and blandly replied: "Ma'am, you jis can't get light biscuits and clean corners out of the same nigger."

I believe that is a good deal the way with all of us. We each are somewhat skillful in a few things we do, but rather poor at a lot more jobs we try.

Nearly every female in Ord seems to have the pajama fever this summer. Pajamas of bright and down-right loudness; dainty ones; plaid and printed and flowered ones. and they appear on just as many types of figures.

Some look like meal sacks with a string tightly binding the middle, some are so loose they don't appear to be inhabited. And some of them look mighty nice, with some shapely young thing cavorting about in them.

Why don't the men start wearing them too? They could be comfortable, and just for a change this hot weather. sensible. Ouch, huh?

I hope by the time you read this I will be eating lots of nice, freshly caught fish. Also situated where it is cooler than the recent Nebraska temperatures.

You will be glad to know that local people are not hard-hearted, most of them. I can prove it by saying that less than an hour after the Quiz came out in which I told about the young mother whose situation was so pathetic, I had my first phone call concerning her and her baby.

And one woman, with a target heart than any of the rest, came to see me about taking the mother and babe out to her farm, where she mother would help her care for a large garden, and the housework and her baby could have the clothes out-grown by a girl of the house a few months older, and the mother and baby could be together.

But it was too late. The baby had left that noon for another small town where a good home was provided.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. The Quiz was published on July 5 and contained an account of Ord's 4th of July celebration. A balloon ascension was one feature but the smoke leaked out of a hole in the balloon and allowed the intrepid airman to fall. He opened his parachute and reached earth safely. The balloon lodged in a tree in the court house yard.

Ord and Mira Valley played a baseball game and Ord won. Hoffmann, the Ord hurler, was in rare form while Petty was wild. Bergers' home run was a feature.

Hogs were bringing 6c on the local market, which was the highest price paid for a long time.

20 Years Ago This Week. The Henry VanSlyke and Harmon families had a lot of stuff stolen while they were in town celebrating the 4th and the next day a white woman married to a negro, Garfield county being their home, was arrested for the theft.

A bunch of automobile owners went around the square with wheel-barrow, baskets, etc., picking up wire, nails, glass and other things that had been causing them lots of punctures.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

These ultra-sultry, sticky hot days, we cooks must be very, very careful to plan appetizing meals, and still, we surely don't want to spend all day in the kitchen, that's certain. What's the solution of this mysterious problem?

Firstly, cook in the cool of the day. Secondly, cook quantities of things, so that they will last more than one meal, or provide leftovers easy to assemble into something delicious. Cooked potatoes, a big jar of bottled dressing for salads, a cookie jar bulging with cookies, a quart of home made sandwich spread in the icebox, a cold roast, gelatine salad of some good kind tucked away in waxed cooper. a couple of these things located in the icebox or three of them and you will find it easy to arrange a picnic on the spur of the moment, or set lunch on the table.

Make it easy on yourself this hot weather. Cook an easy on your family. Having easy-to-get meals will keep your disposition, and bring about pleasanter meals for the family because of your own good temper. Plan now to get yourself a home vacation, and to have one for the children, by cooking early in the morning or at bed-time, and following some of the other helpful suggestions given above.

Please, will you send in some hot weather recipes? Fruit punches, salads, cold dishes, crisp and cool things. Surely the readers would welcome a few suggestions. What are your old stand-bys for hot, breathless days?

Here are a couple of good pineapple salads.

Pineapple Salad.
Heat 2 c. crushed pineapple, add juice of 1 lemon and 1 c. sugar. Stir until sugar dissolves. Soak 2 tbsp. gelatine in 1/2 c. cold water 10 minutes. Add to hot mixture, when cool and beginning to set 1 c. grated cheese and 1/2 pt. cream beaten stiff. Mix thoroughly, place in mold and leave in a cool place until firm. Serve on lettuce leaves with dressing. This will serve 10 or 12.

This was one of a number of recipes, and the name of the donor has been lost. Sorry.

Pineapple Salad.
1 large can pineapple, broken sliced.
2 oranges
24 marshmallows
1 c. pecans or almonds
2 tsp. flour
2 eggs
pinch of salt
1/2 c. sugar
1 c. whipping cream
Drain juice from pineapple and place in a double boiler. When hot add sugar, flour, salt and eggs which have been beaten together. Cook until thick and set aside to cool. Cut pineapple, oranges, marshmallows and nuts in small pieces. Whip cream and fold into pudding mixture. Pour over the fruit, mix well, let stand 1 1/2 hours before serving.

Agnes Christensen. Carrot Kellish Salad.

1 c. grated carrots
1 c. diced celery
1 c. finely cut cabbage
Mix all together and serve cold with mayonnaise dressing. Nuts cut fine or coconuts may be added.
Mrs. Elmer Henkel, Rt. 4, Arcadia.

By the way, save all your fruit juice in this weather. If you don't want it for fruit drinks, it improves any gelatine salad or dessert when used for part of the liquid.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

"Clix" is the name of a new packer product that may have a big thing effect upon the livestock industry. It is a preservative, cooking grease, or shortening, made of animal fat.

For a long time the public has been advocating the use of dairy butter rather than oleo, primarily to aid the farmer who milks cows. But folks have been fast asleep on the shortening proposition.

Even home economics departments recommend vegetable shortenings over animal fats for most cooking purposes. Use of the former, which are mostly cottonseed oil products, has harmed the Nebraska farmer who feeds hogs and cattle. The value of lard exported from the state exceeds that of any single product. At the same time it must be admitted that vegetable fats have certain qualities which make them superior to lard.

But now the Cudahy Packing Co. is ready to match "Clix", a hydrogenated, aerated animal fat shortening, against "Crisco," or any vegetable oil compound on the market. "Clix" is snowy white, velvety in texture, and of just the right consistency. It never gets too hard or too soft. It creams readily, and keeps best at room temperature. It is absolutely tasteless, and never becomes odorous or rancid.

In comparison with lard, "Clix" sells for a cent a pound more, but on the other hand, ten per cent less of it is needed for cooking purposes. It is much preferred by such commercial establishments as doughnut frying concerns. They like it better because its smoking point is 100 degrees higher than that of lard, and because it is not broken down by continuous reheating as lard is.

"Clix" is manufactured mainly from lard, but can be processed from tallow also. It may be found on the market in attractive tin containers which are lacquered inside to prevent contact with metal.

The product has not been pushed a great deal as yet by the Cudahy concern. Economic conditions are bad; then there is the matter of securing their name and process with a patent, which may, and may not keep others from manufacturing something very similar.

In the near future it will be found on every grocer's shelf. Folks should boost for it, because it will give animal fats a fair break. Many already regard it as the greatest single contribution for advancement ever made by the packing industry.

Consider your Adam's Apple!!*

Don't Rasp Your Throat With Harsh Irritants

"Reach for a LUCKY instead"

The great Lord Tennyson in a beautiful poem refers to a woman's Adam's Apple as "The warm white apple of her throat." Consider your Adam's Apple. Touch it—your Adam's Apple—That is your larynx—your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple you are considering your throat—your vocal chords. Protect the delicate tissues within your throat. Be careful in your choice of cigarettes. Don't rasp your throat with harsh irritants! Reach for a LUCKY instead. Here in America LUCKY STRIKE is the only cigarette which brings you the added benefit of the exclusive "TOASTING" Process, which includes the use of modern Ultra Violet Rays. It is this exclusive process that expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are sold to manufacturers of chemical compounds. They are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple."

LUCKIES are always kind to your throat

Ord Church Notes

Assembly of God Church. (Pentecostal)

Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth. El 12:1.

Some people have in mind that living a holy life unto God is only for the old folks, who may pass out of this life into the next at any moment. They think there is no joy in living for God and his son Jesus Christ. But let me declare to you on the authority of God's word that salvation is for the young and the old. Salvation brings joy to the one who expects it regardless of age. For with joy shall ye draw water out of the wells of salvation. And in that day shall ye say, praise the Lord, call upon his name, declare His doings among the people, make mention that His name is exalted. Isa 12:4. You need not to endure religion, but it is your privilege to enjoy salvation.

Christian Science

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, June 28 was "Christian Science." The citations read tended to show that the coming of true spiritual understanding of divine law was foretold by ancient prophets, and that Christian Science shows by works that it is fully in accord with such prophecy and law. One of the citations read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p.135), is as follows: "Christianity as Jesus taught it was not a creed, nor a system of ceremonies, nor a special gift from a ritualistic Jehovah; but it was the demonstration of divine Love casting out error and healing the sick, not merely in the name of Christ, or Truth, but in demonstration of Truth, as must be the case in the cycles of divine light." One of the Biblical selections is as follows: "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light: they that dwell in the land of the shadow of death, upon them hath the light shined." (Isaiah 9:2).

ELYRIA MAN HAS FIRST COMBINE IN VALLEY CO.

Will Use New Machine For Gathering Sweet Clover. Many Drive Out To See It Work.

Joe Golka of Elyria has the distinction of owning the first combine to be bought and used in Valley county and it started work Monday morning of this week on the James Rybin farm 10 miles west of Ord. The machine is working fine, cutting and threshing even the shortest grain and it takes but two men to operate it. Many people have been driving to the fields where the machine was at work to see it in operation. Mr. Golka is an old time thresherman and bought the combine more with the idea of using it to harvest sweet clover with, than for other grains. He believes, now, after seeing it in operation, that it is going to be just the thing to use in harvesting sweet clover. It is said that Mr. Golka was the first man in Valley county to start raising sweet clover.

Prospects Good For Great Corn Crop

It is too early to say that a corn crop is assured, but Art Meyer says he has seen a number of fields that will make 15 or 20 bushels to the acre if it don't rain another drop, provided, of course, hot winds do not come to burn everything up. It is a fact that corn has never looked better, perhaps has never been as far along at this season. In many fields the tassels are just beginning to show and the ears are shooting. There is a splendid stand, there having been no washing rains to destroy a part of the stand, as happens many years. As this is written it is probably too cool for the best corn development, but hotter weather is sure to come and will probably get two or three more rains in which case we are liable to have the best corn crop this county has ever seen. The recent hot weather did hurt oats and barley and both first and second cuttings of alfalfa are short. We are liable to get a good third alfalfa cutting, which is said to be real good and it is being put in the shock rapidly.

This is the third time Miss Smith has planned this trip, each time something happening to prevent her going. She is still hopeful that she will get to make the trip.

PROPOSE TO PAVE STREET; FEDERAL AID IS SOUGHT

Paving Cost Estimated At Third Less Than Two Years Ago; Many Sign Petitions.

A movement has been started among the property owners on 'L' street to have that street paved this year. Whether or not this project goes through depends a great deal on securing federal aid. Mr. Henningsen, of the Henningsen Engineering Co., who met with a group of interested property owners Thursday evening, said that paving could be laid now about 30 per cent cheaper than it cost to pave here two years ago. Mr. Henningsen felt quite sure that federal aid could be secured for this paving project and would amount to half of the paving cost. The committee who drew up the petition, have an agreement with the city council that in case federal aid cannot be secured that the persons signing the agreement do not want paving.

The cost for a lot 62 1/2 feet wide was estimated at $93.75 by Mr. Henningsen, and it is understood that the city council will favor the paving unless the cost is higher than the estimate.

The petition, now being circulated, bears approximately 50 per cent of the resident property owners on L street and it is thought quite likely that the project will go through.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

When we returned the other evening from the flower garden we found a sack of nice string beans and a large bundle of lima beans. Didn't know who left them but suspected that it had some connection with my story in this department last week about not having a garden this year. Anyhow we enjoyed the vegetables and Sunday learned that Mrs. E. C. Weller was the kind fairy who read my story and took immediate action. Thanks Mrs. Weller.

Do you remember, a few years ago, when the newspapers announced in large headlines that the scientists had decided that the sun was losing its heat and that two real cool summers. Now this is the third real hot summer in a row and the said scientists will have to think up a new one.

"Long distance call for Mr. Leggett from Grand Island" said central a few days ago and when I got on the wire a lady at the other end said, "Is this Homer Leggett?" Being assured that it was the voice said, "This is Frank Semon of Eugene, Oregon. Blanche and I are in Grand Island and thought we would drive up if you were at home." I told him to get started this way. Mrs. Semon was my favorite cousin when we were kids but it had been almost forty years since I saw her. I came to Nebraska and she married and went to live at Seattle. She happened to visit the old home at different times. Of course her hair, like mine, has turned snowy with the years that have passed but we seemed to recall many of the incidents of youth with the same of pleasure and I would have known her anywhere. Her husband is a civil engineer and has worked for many years for the government and several western states. At present he is city engineer at Eugene, Ore. Their two boys are grown and both graduated from the Washington University at Seattle and they were on the way to Okron, O. to visit one son who is a chemist in the employ of one of the big rubber companies. They are going to visit relatives in Michigan and Washington, D. C. on the trip and expect to be away from home six months. They only remained with us a day and a couple of nights and it was all too short a visit but far better than none and I hope they will come out the way again though they will have to come sooner the next time or probably I shall not be here.

It has been a long time since I have been left with the responsibility of getting out the Ord Quiz for three weeks and I am tackling the job with fear and trembling. I know it is not going to be up to the usual standard. I expect Eugene will get a good rest at Cullen however and come home better prepared than ever to make the paper a hummer during the coming summer and fall. I am asking the readers to kindly overlook any shortcomings during this week and the next two. Really it is quite a loss from the force to have Eugene, Irma and Florence Anderson all gone at the same time. Florence, you know, operates one of the linotype machines. Irma said she had prepared her usual departments so you won't miss them and I presume either her or Eugene will send home an account of the trip and perhaps spring a few fish stories on us in the bargain. The party, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson, Shirley, Florence and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene got away at 12:30 Wednesday. Expected to spend the night at St. Louis Falls and be on the way early Thursday morning and be in camp by the middle of the afternoon. Ray Luther had been advised of their coming and wrote that the cottage was opened and ready, the boat in the water, the dock put out and the large live box anchored out in the lake ready to receive the fish when the fishing parties began to work. The Simpsons have been in camp for some time. Frank Gross and wife write me that they will be there this week end (meaning last Saturday) and the other Ordites, mentioned elsewhere, fill up the south end of the camp pretty well.

I see by the daily papers that "Red" Johnson, former Ordite, and who is supposed to be serving a year in the Hamilton county jail, is having a good time galavanting around the country in the car belonging to the Hamilton County Sheriff. Rumor has been persistent in both Grand Island and Hastings for along time, that "Red" is spending most of his time having a good time and attending to his business and those who frequently see him say he looks prosperous and happy. It is that kind of law enforcement that is making a lot of people disgusted with the prohibition law and it will make many who were for the law, vote against it if they ever get a chance. Personally I don't believe the government wants to enforce the prohibition law. If they did the job could and would be done. There is practically no monkeying with the postoffice department. As a rule the people are afraid of the government. The public knows that once the government starts to do a thing there is no letup till it is done and the cost is not considered. But the government has never really started to enforce the prohibition law in my judgment. It is reasonable to suppose that the sympathy of the government is on the other side.

Something DIFFERENT

So many beautiful places around town these days, it is hard to tell whose flowers furnish the most enjoyable peek. Messrs. Sowl and Blessing have some results to show for their work on the vacant lot between the Protective Savings & Loan building and the Masonic Temple. The portulaca is blooming in gaudy fashion, the grass is thriving, and so are the vines.

Some of the Rotarians are laughing about a little trick developed by one of their members who loves to eat, or perhaps I should say, almost lives to eat.

Evidently this brother feels that he must have a snack to tide himself over from 12 to 12:30, because every Monday about noon he repairs to one of the local hamburger palaces to eat, then at 12:30 solemnly files down to the Rotary banquetting room to see what Maggie has provided for lunch!

Charlie Stitchehr and his wife do double duty in growing season. They not only keep their Ord home up beautifully, but drive out to a farm of theirs every day and work all day. Then in the cool of the evening they get home, but do they rest.

No, you guessed it. They get right to work, weeding and watering, and take care of their lawn and shrubs and garden. They have a dandy vegetable garden. As to the old time favorites, planted all together in attractive fashion. The result looks rather natural and completely delightful.

The past few weeks the Stitchehr's have been in Missouri visiting friends and relatives. Too bad they had to be away from home while their roses and so many other pretty plants were in flower.

A picture that few of us will probably ever take part in happened the other evening in our town. An elderly couple, both eighty or more, sitting together in the cool of the evening, his arm across her shoulders, and she singing him the old songs, in high wavery little voice.

Frank Dworak, jr., has surely done wonders to the once-upon-a-time Weaver property. The Weaver house, remodelled, sits quite a corner is left for planting and Frank has done himself proud. As early as the ground could be unloaded of its debris, it was planted to lawn, with a graceful curve of shrubbery lined across for a background.

Now the shrubs are growing marvelously, so too the grass, and the latest addition is a solid looking bird bath.

According to the wild rumors flying thick and fast about town, one pair of Ord newly-weds had better begin to pull down their blinds. Or maybe they don't mind being talked about?

I still think Judge Clements holds the town record for achievement.

ing the most "grounds" about his new home in the shortest length of time. Stop and see them, he loves to show visitors about and point out his favorites.

Mrs. Dick Nelson surely keeps her home grounds charming. Whatever season you drive by, there are always bright blooms of some sort.

Also, did you know he is the bursting-with-pride owner of a crack water sprinkler? A new one, needless to say expensive. You will know it would have to be, when I tell you that it will shoot a fine spray of water the length of a lot. It is fan-shaped, has a motor of course, and the fan, as though held by a lady, waves gently back and forth.

The resulting shower is as mild a treatment as an April effort of Nature Herself.

Chauncey Hager, jr., may not have to take his medicine seriously when his time to hang out a doctor's shingle arrives, since the ice cream making attachment for Maytag washing machines, which is his invention, is going over so big.

Did you know the Lynn Rogers' children are enjoying a nice new swimming pool and wading pond these days? In their own yard. What a fine idea.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Hot days continue to make cooks search anxiously for attractive, easy to prepare hot weather dishes. Things that don't take too long to assemble, but still are delicious and appealing to the family.

Here is a good old stand-by, simple, generally liked, good for everyone this sort of weather.

1 small head of cabbage cut fine or grated. 1 c. diced apples. 1 c. cream whipped stiff. 1/2 c. vinegar. 1 tsp. celery seed. 3 or 4 pimientos. 1-3 c. sugar.

Mix the cabbage, apples, pimientos and celery together and add the cream, vinegar and sugar and mix the ingredients well. Garnish the dish with crisp lettuce leaves.

This date pudding won't take long to make, nor call for unusual ingredients that will have to be specially purchased. Try it tomorrow morning, putting it into the oven to bake while you do the breakfast dishes.

2 eggs. 2-3 c. sugar. 2-3 c. nuts. 1 1-3 c. chopped dates. 2-3 c. flour. 1-8 tsp. salt. 1 sp. baking powder.

Beat together egg yolks until light, stir in sugar, nuts, dates. Add sifted dry ingredients. Fold in egg whites and bake 1-2 hour in moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream.

Mrs. Evelyn Mason Hopkins Meat Loaf will please your family when well made, and the cold portion left over makes nice sandwiches, or may be sliced and fried in butter for lunch next day. Put potatoes and a dessert in the oven to bake with it, make a salad, and your meal is ready.

2 lbs. lean beef. 1 lb. pork. 2 eggs. 1 c. cracker crumbs. 1/2 c. milk. 1 tsp salt. 1/2 tsp pepper. 1 small onion. 1 tsp. chopped parsley.

Mix all ingredients thoroughly and form in a loaf, enclose two hard boiled eggs in the center, placed end to end. Bake 1 hour.

Please send in at once two or three of your best summer recipes, readers! Cool drinks, easy summer salads, anything your family yum-yums about! Let us swap recipes, help one another, and all combine to defy Old Man Weather and not let getting hot weather meals become a bugbear.

QUIZ FORUM

Through the medium of taxes which are paid by the employes of the Union Pacific in Nebraska and the huge sum paid for the same purpose by the corporation itself there is provided one of the principal sources of financial support for the schools in the state as well as for the county and state governments. Almost $2,000,000 are paid annually by the Union Pacific for taxes in Nebraska. Employes on their homes and personal property pay an additional large sum. "Lack of support of the Travel and Ship By Rail movement" says a statement of the Union Pacific Employees Booster League, the organization of employes who are fostering the effort to get business back to the rails, "strikes directly at every home in the state. Not only will loss of business by the railroads which always have been prepared to handle it mean a curtailment of may power and its resultant far-reaching reduction of purchasing power by employes but in addition there is a direct reflection possible in tax receipts.

"It is noteworthy also that the huge trucks which now have become a hazard on the highways pay exactly the same tax per gallon on gasoline as does the lightest flivver namely four cents per gallon. Obviously the car of the average citizen weighing perhaps about 2,000 pounds does not do anything like the damage to highways as do the large trucks weighing when loaded as much as 30,000 pounds.

"To the extent of protecting the present high standard of schools in Nebraska the interests of the average citizen in getting business back to the rails are just as great as are those of the railroad employes."

PUSSYFOOT'S SPORTLOG

Ord sport fans are going to find a real treat at Lincoln this week end in the national A. A. U. track and field meet. It has attracted the nation's most outstanding athletes and all events promise to be close and exciting. The added attraction of Joe Brown of movie fame in scenes for a new picture will probably help to attract many local people to Lincoln for the meet.

Again the Ord Camels go on the rocks. Though the season is getting well along, there are probably but few who will be willing to put their money on the smokers in the farm bureau league. Lack of pitching has caused the Ordites to go down to defeat in most of their contests.

But then Hank Lange appears to be breaking into print in the farm bureau league with the Mira Valley team. Last year the box score boys tacked error after error on Hank that he never even had a chance at so this year Healy informed me that he was going to get even.

Barker News

Mr. and Mrs. Bayard Road and daughter Cecile Dean of Milton, Wis. and Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Van Horn and family were Saturday evening supper guests of the Merrill Van Horn family.

Quite a number of the Barker people had planned to spend the 4th in St. Paul at the Frank Mulligan home. They had planned a picnic dinner at noon but on account of the rain had to put it off. However, some of them carried out their plans the following day, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Mulligan and family were at the T. S. Weed home Thursday evening.

The Junior Neighborhood club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Maxine McCune. Eva Mulligan was assistant hostess. There were fifteen members and one visitor present. Roll call was answered by a joke riddle, piece of poetry and an item chosen by the girls. Thirty-five cents was taken up in the penny drill which was followed by the regular business meeting.

The regular "Food Selection-Fruit" was read over and explained by the leader, Mrs. Eva Coleman. A nice lunch was served and after taking some snapshots of the club they adjourned to meet in two weeks with Vesta and Gladys Peterson, Ruth Negley, assistant.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Peck and children called at the E. Weed home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Sample and family spent Sunday at the Martin Watts home.

Arthella and Donna Burrows spent Friday night at the Bernice Stewart home.

NEBRASKA'S CONTINUED PROGRESS IS DEPENDENT UPON ITS RAILROADS Union Pacific Employees.. an 18-million-dollar Market for NEBRASKA UNION PACIFIC employees in Nebraska were paid $18,116,000 in salaries and wages during 1930. More than seven thousand families, a total of 43,000 people, received their support from Union Pacific. Think what that means to Nebraska's home market—to the development of her growing industries—to the consumption of her agricultural products. The preservation of this vast home market among Union Pacific employees is dependent upon the continuing prosperity of the Railroad. Every shipment made by truck weakens the railroad structure and affects railroad employment.

Walter Smith Writes Of California Trip

209 Roselawn Ave. Modesto, Calif.

Dear Quiz:

I suppose some of my Ord friends are wondering why they have not heard from me before this but in the first place we intended to take plenty of time on the road and not average more than twenty-five miles an hour but because of so much rough roads and some other grievances I suppose we did not average more than twenty. Besides we took a little round about way that we had not planned on. We left Ord on June 11th at 9 o'clock but before we had gone many miles we discovered we had a leaky spark plug so stopped and replaced the bad one with a good one and continued on our journey with nothing to interfere with our progress until we neared Broken Bow when we ran into rain and by the time we got to Broken Bow it was raining hard. We had intended to hunt up my old friend B. L. Hopkins at this place but on account of the rain and mud we thought best to travel on and get to Arnold that evening where we found a free camp ground and put up our tent and camped for the night. Next morning we resumed our journey with no special event that day except a bent axle caused by a road maintainer being where my right guess I never got such a going over as Albert gave me. I thought I would never hear the last of it. Well the expense of fixing it came out of my own pocket instead of his.

After entering Wyoming we began to see some real mountain scenery. I cannot even attempt to describe it but will just say it is the prettiest mountain scenery I ever saw. But on toward the western part of the state it was quite barren, nothing much but sage brush. Yet, we saw several large herds of sheep which seemed to be doing well. Having plenty of time to complete our trip we turned north at Casper and went up to Soda Springs, Ida. and while there was some nice scenery I don't think it worth the time we spent but we entered Utah from the north and went down through Ogden and Salt Lake City. Then west across the Great Salt Lake desert which is pure salt for miles. At one place there was a sign up which said it was pure salt four feet deep and that cars could drive over it when not flooded. We did not drive over it but we stopped and I walked on it awhile and gathered a few salt crystals as a souvenir.

Nevada came next with mountains and like the other states we passed through has its deserts as well with every few miles a little store and service station. One place had, as I thought, the very unappropiate name of "Oasis." They even had to haul all of their water from a distance. At another place I asked the manager if it ever rained there, he answered that he had been there quite a bit of his life and they always got enough rain so they could raise a few grapes to make a little whiskey.

Well, California was very mountainous for many miles. We kept climbing mountain after mountain, each one higher than the preceding one until we finally reached the summit which was 7137 feet elevation. Then we began to descend. It seemed as though we would never reach the bottom but we finally came into the valley before we reached the beautiful city of Sacramento about noon of our eleventh day out. But at this place we got on the wrong highway and went about twenty-five miles before we discovered our mistake, then had to make that back and found the right number and got to destination at about nine o'clock that night. We finally found where my daughter lives but alas! No one at home and so after waiting awhile we went to the fire house where my son-in-law works where we found Wilma asleep in a big chair. She opened her eyes and stared at me for a minute before she recognized me but after she did she was not long getting across the floor.

Well, we had a good trip but all tired out and I think if I ever make the trip back it will be on the railroad.

I expect to write to each one individually fast as I can get to it. So will say to all goodbye for this time.

Respectfully yours,
W. S. SMITH

Assembly of God. Why believe the Bible? Because it is the inspired word of God which contains—the mind of God, the state of man, the way of salvation, the doom of sinners, and the happiness of believers. Its doctrines are holy, its precepts are binding, its history's true and its decisions are immutable. Read it to be wise, believe it to be safe, and practice it to be holy. It is a light to direct you, food to support you, and comfort to cheer you. It is given you in life, and will be opened in judgment. It involves the highest responsibility, will reward the greatest labor, and condemn all who trifle with its sacred contents. We are me if I declare not the truth. Come to each of our services. We welcome you.

Christian Science. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, July 5, was "God." The object of the citations read is to show that God is ever-present divine Spirit, the self-existent, life-giving Principle of the universe, and is not a physical form located in an indefinite place who can be influenced by mortals. Also that the infinite power of God and divine origin of man can be demonstrated in healing the sick and cleansing the sinful through spiritual means alone. A part of one citation read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p.470) is as follows: "The relations of God and man, divine Principle and idea, are indestructible in Science; and Science knows no lapse from nor return to harmony, but holds the divine order or spiritual law in which God and all that He creates are perfect and eternal, to have remained unchanged in its eternal history." A part of one selection from the Bible reads, "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands. (Acts 17:24).

Your Responsibility . . . and Ours

THE "Old Folks" seldom realize how much photographs of themselves may mean to their children and friends. Because we believe that the older people of Ord and surrounding vicinity owe it to themselves and their children to be photographed, and because we think it our duty—a moral obligation to this community—to have photographs of these people on file—this is our offer:

For one week only from July 13th to 18th inclusive, we will photograph entirely without charge any one who has reached the age of 60, and will present with our compliments a fine 4x6 portrait.

Will the "Old Folks" do their part?

Arcadia News

Mrs. L. S. Collins passed away at the Miller hospital in Ord Sunday morning. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. R. O. Gaither. An obituary will be printed next week.

The fourth of July was spent very quietly in Arcadia. Rain which started falling early Saturday morning continued throughout the greater portion of the day, compelling those who had planned on spending the day elsewhere to remain at home. The ball game between North Loup and Arcadia was cancelled and by nightfall the temperature had dropped to such a degree as to necessitate the wearing of wraps. The rainfall which totaled about three fourths of an inch was very beneficial to crops in this vicinity.

Mrs. Mary Bose. Funeral services for Mrs. Mary Bose were held at the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. O. Gaither. Burial was made in the Arcadia cemetery. Mary Schutt was born Feb. 20, 1872 near Lincoln, Ill. She moved with her parents to Butler county, Nebraska, when still a small girl. Here she grew to womanhood and was united in marriage to John W. Bose, May 1, 1892 at David City. To this union eleven children were born, eight of whom are left with their father. She moved with her family to Custer county in 1920 and lived there until the time of her death. She died at the Weekees hospital at Ord, July 5, 1931 at the age of 59 years, 4 months and 14 days. Mrs. Bose was confirmed in the Lutheran church when a child and remained steadfast through all the problems of life. The Girl Scouts left Monday morning for Ord where they are enjoying a week's outing at the Morgen cabin near the river. Mrs. L. F. Bly, Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne and Miss Alberta Russell accompanied them as chaperons. Plans are under way for a free chautauque in Arcadia. The event will be held Tuesday evening, July 21st at the Community Park, and will consist of readings, vocal solos, musical numbers, etc., by splendid local talent. The entire evening's entertainment will be free. The Knightholds Cooking club held their regular meeting at the home of Ena Mae Woodworth last Thursday. Esther Woodworth was awarded first place for baking the best custard. Plans were considered for the Father and Mother banquet which will be held at the Liberty church Thursday evening, July 16th. The club will hold an all day meeting at the Lee Woodworth home Thursday, July 9th to complete arrangements for the banquet. Charles W. Gilkerson, former resident of Arcadia, passed away at his home in Gothenburg, June 20th at the age of 75 years. He leaves his wife, Amanda and daughter, Mae of Gothenburg and son, Ferrell of Honolulu, Hawaii. Funeral services were held at Gothenburg Monday afternoon, June 22nd. Burial was made in the Gothenburg cemetery. Miss Ida Gartside and Clinton Goode were united in marriage at Lincoln Tuesday, June 30th. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gartside of Arcadia. She is a graduate of the Arcadia high school and has always been popular among her large circle of friends. Mr. Goode is a traveling salesman and his bride will accompany him for the present. The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will meet at the church basement Friday afternoon. A covered dish luncheon will be served. The Rebekah kensington met at the home of Mrs. H. M. Brandenburg Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. U. G. Evans as assisting hostess. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kucera entertained the Yale district Farmers Union Tuesday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Belling met her at Grand Island. Miss Marian Worthing, who spent the past two weeks as the guest of Miss Elizabeth Haywood, left Tuesday for her home at Pittsburgh, Pa. Rev. and Mrs. R. O. Gaither and children visited with relatives in Hastings several days last week. They were accompanied home by Mrs. R. O. Gaither, Sr., who just recently returned from California where she had spent the winter with relatives. Miss Eva Bryant of National City, Calif. came last week for a two months visit with relatives in Arcadia. Mrs. Bryant is the daughter of Willis Freeman, former Arcadia resident. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Barnes and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hollingshead spent the 4th with Judge and Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead at Ord.

Car Owners Bought More Firestone Tires

During April, May and June than in any like period in History

THERE are reasons for this—Firestone is now building the Greatest Tire Values in history, with the result that Firestone factories are operating 24 hours a day, 6 days a week, to meet public preference.

This is the year everybody is scrutinizing his purchases. This is particularly true in tire buying because of the many confusing and misleading statements made about tires.

To give car owners the facts, Firestone published comparisons showing quality, construction and prices. Then the public came in—made their own comparisons with cross-sections cut from Firestone tires—and from special brand mail order tires and others.

When they saw the facts, they bought more Firestone tires during April, May and June than in any like period in Firestone history.

Drive in today and let us show you these Firestone Extra Values and have your car equipped for Safe, Trouble-Free Summer Motoring. We can save you money and serve you better.

Jewish Trade of New York City Wants Nebraska Butter

Once every week a carload of unsalted, sweet butter leaves Nebraska for New York City. It is consigned to a firm that distributes to the Jewish trade of New York City that demands a butter without salt.

Three creameries in adjacent towns—Tekamah, Lyons and Blair—cooperate in producing the special shipment. So uniform is the output from each creamery that without referring to the label on the package the taster would not know one product from another. A car used for shipping the butter to its eastern destination gets the Lyons quota first, then calls at Tekamah, and finishes the loading at Blair. The car is then sealed and shipped direct to New York City. Not every creamery in the country, announces the Tekamah Herald, is equipped to manufacture butter of this particular kind. Being a special churning and of good quality the butter brings a premium over the regular market price. Not only do the Jews of New York City look to Nebraska for butter, but many other states and some foreign countries use and like Nebraska butter. As a result, Nebraska has become fourth in the production of creamy butter and dairying is making a steady advancement. This advancement is marked as one travels through the state and notes how the non-descript mixers of twenty-five years ago have been supplanted by sleek looking cows of the four leading dairy breeds. Milking cows has come up from a home necessity to the altitude of an industry and the benefits are shown in the better farm homes and in the steady income that fills in the farm budget between the grain crops. Some of the largest creameries of the world are located in Nebraska where they are nearest the source of supply of rich buttermilk.

Valley County 4-H Clubs Expected To Reach Goal of 300

Valley county now has 247 boys and girls enrolled in 4-H club work, according to a bulletin sent to the Quiz today from the state club office at the agricultural college in Lincoln. The goal for the county is 300 members.

County Agent Dale today expressed himself as being confident that the goal would be equalled or exceeded within the next two weeks. Numerous girl clubs over the county have been active in organizing in late weeks and more are planning to organize soon.

Club work in Valley county has grown by leaps and bounds in recent years. This year it is more popular with the farm boys and girls than ever before. The winning of the state national championship by the Ord corn club judging team last year has influenced many boys to enter club work this year. County Agent Dale again plans to have a crops judging team at Lincoln for the state fair. A trip to Chicago will again be awarded the winner in the state contest.

Cut the HEART out of your REPAIR BILLS

Seventy-five cents out of every dollar spent for motor repairs and replacement of parts is caused by incorrect lubrication.

Repair bills are lubrication bills. You save at the spigot and waste at the bung-hole when you economize on oil—by using low grade oil or running on dirty oil.

New POLARINE is modern in all respects—flows freely in cold weather—holds its body at high heat—is thoroughly de-waxed and does not stick valves or rings, clog oil lines or deposit heavy carbon.

For happy motoring at low cost, lubricate with the right grade of new Polarine. Consult the chart for the grade to use—25¢ a quart for every grade.

LONG-TIME ORD BUSINESS MAN DIED YESTERDAY

Frank Misko In Poor Health For Several Years Passes On; Funeral Day Not Decided.

Following acute illness of a few weeks and poor health of several years, Frank Misko died at his home in Ord Wednesday July 15, at about 2:30 p. m. Since a severe operation a couple of years ago, Mr. Misko has been in reasonably good health for a man of his age, until his recent illness. Mr. Misko was 78 years of age. His wife passed away in 1927.

Mr. Misko was born in Bohemia in 1853 of high class parentage and was available at that time, later being apprenticed to a harness maker. He spent the time until he was 20 learning his trade. He then served three years in the Prussian army, coming to the United States soon after leaving the army and worked at his trade and farmed in Iowa, Minnesota and Dakota for several years. He was married to Miss Mary Rayman while in Minnesota. Six children were born to them, two dying in infancy. The Misko family arrived in Ord in 1882 and Mr. Misko at once built a small brick shop on the north side of the square and began the making of harness. It was not long that his business became known all up and down the Loup Valley and over a large territory for its quality and the business grew and Mr. Misko prospered. As his holdings grew he built a large store building, late building another double store for rent. Funds were added to his holdings until he became one of the leading and most prosperous business men in the community. Some years ago he sold his harness business to his son Will and devoted most of his time to his investments, helping out occasionally in the store more for the pleasure he got from returning to the bench than for any other reason.

Mr. Misko is survived by his four children, Will and Henry of Ord, Mrs. Louise Branning of Arkansas, and Josephine Peterson, son of California, 10 grandchildren and a brother James Misko of Ord and some lesser relatives still in the old country. Mrs. Peterson is not here and the family is awaiting word from her.

Funeral arrangements have not been made. Burial at Sow's rock bulletin board at postoffice for date of the funeral.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes and daughter Irene spent Sunday with relatives in Greeley county.

Judge J. H. Hensley presided at a marriage license Saturday to Charles R. Jones and Mrs. Esther Striker, both of Greeley county.

Justus-Romain Co. Show Here July 20

It is not always that company playing week stands are fortunate enough to have a line of plays where even the producers themselves are unable to say which play in their line-up has the most outstanding quality for pleasing the general public, but this is really true with Justus-Romain & Company who will open a week's engagement in Ord Monday, July 20.

Each play is filled with so many good things, such splendid stories, screaming comedy, surprises. A special scenic and lighting production has been generously given each play that to miss any one of them is to miss a real treat in the way of genuine amusement.

The well-known artists appearing in unusual vaudeville are the Meyer Sisters, Frances Maloy, Mickey & Betty McNutt, Eddie J. Hart, John Justus and others.

The Justus-Romain Orchestra excelling all previous efforts, doubly appealing to the music loving public with the kind of music you all love, that you can whistle and sing, presented with unusual lighting effects.

Opening play Monday night—"Folks of Sunnybrook Farm." A play of laughter and tears!

"Gambling with Love"—Tuesday night. A ticklish subject dealt with in a masterful way and the comedy is a "wow."

"When Dreams Come True"—Wednesday night. A romance of the Adirondack Mountains. Brimming with comedy.

"Moonlight on the Colorado"—Thursday night. With all the atmosphere the title implies, a beautiful production of a great play, packed with screaming comedy.

"The Girl He Didn't Marry"—Friday night. There was a reason, find your answer in this interesting play that is a real laugh factory.

Saturday matinee—to be announced.

"Out Where the West Begins"—Saturday night. There was a reason, find your answer in this interesting play that is a real laugh factory.

Child Bitten By Dog

Little Keith, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Struckman of Garfield county was bitten by the old family dog at the H. D. Rogers home Saturday evening. Mrs. Struckman was May Rogers and they were visiting at the parental home. The dog was getting old and cross but was such a good cat that he had been kept on. Mr. Struckman was caring for the child, knew the dog didn't like children and was watching to be sure that the child was not harmed. He let go of it hand for just a moment and the dog came at that moment and struck the child on the side of the head in front of the ear, causing quite a flesh wound. The child was rushed to the Ord Hospital and Dr. Miller took the necessary stitches to close the wound and dress it and in a couple of hours the child was taken home and is said to be recovering nicely.

WEATHER COLD IN MINNESOTA EDITOR WRITES

Had To Have Fire To Keep Warm; 30 Ord People In Camp Last Week.

Nisswa, Minn., Friday, July 10 Dear Quiz:

Well, here we are, at "Hank Leggett's frog pond in Minnesota," as some jealous editor once called Cullen Lake. We're away from home on our annual vacation but it seems almost like being at home because of the Ord people here. Besides those in our own cottage—myself and Irma, Mr. and Mrs. H. Anderson and Shirley and Florence, H's sister, there are 23 others from Ord in camp at present. Until Mart Beran and Dutch Berger left Tuesday there were 30 Ord people here. Other Ordites here now are Postmaster Clements and family, Emil and Frank Fafetta, Jr., and their families, Dr. Blessing and family, Bill Sack and family, the Misses Wilma Slavicek, Fern Cook, and Barney Brickner and wife, who drove up Wednesday after a pleasant and rapid trip.

Others in camp include Frank Gross and wife and their two grand-daughters, from Albion, B. A. Simpson and family, of Omaha and the Humphreyville's, from Clarinda, Ia., who are returning home today. We are expecting Dr. Gelow and wife, from Grand Island, to arrive this week.

The weather here has been actually cold, until today. We've had fires in the cottage every day. We arrived and have slept under several blankets every night. Today is very comfortable and almost the whole camp is swimming out in front of Judge Clements' dock.

For the most part fishing has been slow. We can catch all the crappie and blue gills we want any time we want them but bass aren't striking and the wall-eyes in Upper Cullen seem to have deserted us.

Wednesday eight of us—Bill Sack and son Harold, Edwin Clements, Dr. Blessing, Frank and Emil Fafetta, H and myself, spent a pleasant day on Gull Lake and came back with a nice catch of wall-eyes—46 of them. I say "we" did, though I caught only two fish all day. Frank Fafetta, Harold Sack and the Postmaster were the champs, each catching the limit of 8. Dr. Blessing caught the biggest one a 4-pounder.

This morning Emil Fafetta had some hard luck when he dropped his expensive rod and reel into 20 feet of water. They've been trying all day without success to recover it with grapple hooks and plan to get Ray Luther, the guide, to dive for it when he returns home tonight from Gull Lake.

The women have been amusing themselves with pleasure trips while the men have been fishing. On the 4th they all drove to Breezy Point to get a glimpse of the movie actress, Fifi D'Orsay, who is summing there. Yesterday a party drove to Millace, the largest lake in Minnesota, and inspected the boat works.

Well, must quit and mail this letter as we are going to Barnard after minnows. We are planning another trip to Gull tomorrow. Besides, it's been so long since I've written in long hand that my arm is getting shaky, so if there are mistakes in spelling or grammar, find your answer in the letter or blame me—blame the linotype operator who can't read my scrawl. Regards to everybody.

Yours truly,
B. C. LEGGETT

Mrs. Flora Ridgely Strlecken Fred Wampole has been in Grand Island this week. His mother, Mrs. Flora Ridgely of Burkett, passed away Tuesday at the Pershing hospital. Gangrene poisoning was the cause of death. She was 78 years old. At one time Ord was her home. She leaves her husband, Bill R. Ridgely of Pickering, Nebraska, two daughters, Madams Ross and Thompson of Omaha and Fred of Ord.

Judge Clements at Cullen Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements departed last Saturday afternoon for their cottage on Cullen, Minnesota, where they expected to spend ten days resting, fishing and having a good time.

Davis Creek Girl Hurt In Runaway

Alice Bone, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bone, who live in the Davis Creek neighborhood, had a near serious accident last Thursday. While raking hay for her father, the team she was driving became frightened and ran away with the rake. They ran down a fence breaking off ten posts and as they jumped the rake broke through the wire fence. She was unconscious for some time after aid reached her. She was badly bruised and one foot badly hurt. However, she is well on the road to recovery now.

Old Bank Quits; New Bank Formed

Changing Business Conditions Make Smaller Bank Necessary; Has Same Officers.

Many business institutions of Ord and Nebraska and the nation have found it necessary to lay off some help and reduce stock carried and investment in order to make money or even keep the business running and that is exactly what the First National Bank of Ord, organized many years ago by Peter Mortensen and Mel Goodenow and others, has had to do and so the old bank quit business on the evening of July 8 and the new bank, known as the First National Bank in Ord, began business. The same officers who have conducted the affairs of the old bank are in charge of the new.

The stockholders and directors of the new bank are as follows: The first eight on the list being the directors of the new bank: Frank Koupal, Jos. P. Barta, W. Misko, James Milford, C. H. Leonard, R. G. Wicks, Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, W. C. E. Noll, James Fetska, Jr., H. W. Truitt and C. E. Norris.

It will at once be recognized that the directorate is made up of experienced business people and among the wealthiest in the county. Probably no bank in all Nebraska presents a stronger list of directors. The capital and surplus of the new bank is $75,000.

I clipped the following quoted thought from Judge Penner in the Burwell Tribune:

"President Hoover's Moratorium has been adopted by all the great world powers and goes into effect immediately. This is done purely in the interests of the holders of foreign bonds, who are the big bankers of the United States. It will be the opening wedge to cancel all war debts owing to the United States, which bonds are held largely by small holders. This will leave the big bankers in shape to collect their loans to Europe."

A well read Ord man believes that Germany was about to collapse and the Wall Street bankers, with heavy loans to Germany, would go broke if Germany did and that would, in turn, break thousands of country banks all over this country and cause such a panic as we have never dreamed of. This man believes it was wise to save the New York banks to save the balance of the country. I wonder.

I don't know just how bad a mix-up I got into last week by printing a story to the effect that Joe Golka had the first combine in the county. It seems the Leslie Arnold, living southeast of Arcadia in this county, has had a combine for three years and I have been expecting he would come over and lick me. Homer Jameson has the tractor that is used to run the combine and Glen Jameson has been running the tractor and he and Arnold have been combining grain all over the neighborhood for some time.

The Missus and I picked the first cutting of gladiolus last Friday. The varieties were Golden Salmon and Dr. Norton and one from a mixed lot that I do not know the name of. I have been lamenting the lack of garden but the flowers that we are picking compensate to a great extent. During those awful hot days when the thermometer hovered around 103 and 104 we thought our sweet peas were doomed. The little blossom buds turned white as fast as they came out and there were no blooms at all. We kept the burned buds cut off however, and as soon as the cool weather came the vines sent out new buds in great profusion. It might be well to remember that we made a trench alongside the sweet pea row and thoroughly irrigated them a couple of times during the dry spell and twice a week we gave them a good watering with manure water. This care saved them and put them in shape to give a great amount of blossoms as soon as the weather would permit. It always has to be remembered that sweet peas are a cool weather crop. If it was possible to have a silt cover that would give them half shade we would have better luck with them as a rule.

Something DIFFERENT

Are you acquainted with purple clematis? This vine is a beauty. Some has been blooming on the Joe Bart's front porch, and also on the Moser residence. The richest you can imagine.

The P. E. O.'s and the school board seem to have struck the popular fancy in deciding to erect a tennis court next door west of Dr. Bart's home. The younger and not-so-old generations crowd the court early and late.

Some of the early reporters get there as soon as 5 or 5:30 in the morning, and many evenings eager beginners stay to play long after the street lights tip on, the flying white balls mere ghosts of their former glaring selves.

James Milliken has "retched out and grub" a business opportunity, moving his pop stand up close to the court. What thirsty and hot tennis player is going to resist a temptation like that? Few, I say.

Pardon me for being suggestive, but how about installing some flood lights at each corner of this court? Night tennis is enjoyed in many places, and while the fever is on, and so many are learning, why not encourage them by providing a chance to play after the cool of the evening makes it most enjoyable?

A grand pink climbing rose sprangles up the east side of the Dworak, sr., residence, or has been. Have you seen it yet? A real treat.

"Bud" has done himself proud at the park again this year. His sunk garden hasn't been flooded to date, and if the flood water holds off a little longer a splash of bloom is going to liven the big patch of flower beds. Around the front and two long sides swords of gladiolus spike through the ground every few inches. In the center, as always, the beds are of a number of different flowers. Cannas are a favorite.

Cannas also have been planted by the hundreds along the roadside, and are now husky young brutes about 18 inches tall. Won't that be attractive, when they all bloom?

Bud is a mighty busy man these days. Not only does he have the swings and birdbaths and flower and golf course of Bussell Park to work on, but he had to have something else to do to keep busy. So the Anderson Island Park of Ord is being fixed up, too, and Bud is doing that. A range or two for cooking have been put in, tables and benches provided for picnickers, just as at Bussell. Swings for the children are being installed, and other playground apparatus. Soon Anderson's Island will swarm with people seeking a cool shady spot for a picnic, and children who have come to play and perhaps to wade or swim. Won't that be fine?

Mrs. Albert Anderson has lots of beautiful flowers and shrubs. The home grounds are crowded so closely with them that she always has a hard time to try to find a place for a few more. Some of her roses and other choice shrubs have been the gift of her son Carl on the occasion of Mother's Day, in recent years.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Nut bread sandwiches, spread only with butter, are delightful, nutritious, nice for picnics, hungry children, and generally liked by men. Why not make some nut bread now? It isn't much trouble.

1 c. chopped nuts. 1 c. chopped raisins. 4 c. flour. 1 tsp. salt. 4 tsp. baking powder. 1/2 c. sugar. 1 egg. 1 tbsp. lard. 2 c. milk. Cream sugar and lard, add the egg and salt, raisins, milk, flour and baking powder. The nuts go in last. Mix well and bake in moderate oven 40 or 50 minutes.

Do you make a graham cracker roll? This is a wonderful dessert for anyone with a sweet tooth, good for the children, easy to fix, and has the added advantage that it may be prepared long in advance and put away all ready to serve.

1/2 lb. graham crackers, rolled fine. 1/2 lb. dates, stoned and chopped. 1/2 lb. marshmallows, chopped fine. 1/2 lb. English walnuts, cut fine. Mix well with enough milk or cream to make it heavy enough in consistency to take a loaf form. Wrap in a damp cloth and keep in a cold place over night. Slice and serve with whipped cream or plain cream and milk. Serves a dozen.

Mrs. Elmer Henkel, Rt. 4, Arc.

Salad Dressing. 2 whole eggs. 1/4 c. sugar. 1 heaping tbsp. flour. 1/4 tsp. salt. 1 c. hot water. 1/4 c. vinegar. Put the water and vinegar on to heat. In a separate pan beat all the rest of the ingredients together until they are smooth, using enough cold water for that purpose. Put slowly into the first mixture, beating meantime, before the vinegar and water have come to a boil. Stir constantly until very thick. A lump of butter may be added when it is taken from the fire, and whipped or plain cream improves the flavor, added when used.

Mrs. Elmer Henkel. Do you know how to make potato doughnuts? Neither do I, though I know they are delicious. Shall we try some?

Potato Doughnuts. 1 1/2 c. sugar. 3 eggs. 1 pt. mashed potato. 1 c. sweet milk. 6 level tsp. baking powder. 1/2 c. flour. 3 tsp. melted lard (slightly warm). Pinch of salt. Nutmeg to taste. Fry in deep fat just as you do ordinary doughnuts.

Mrs. H. R. Packer. Mrs. Packer must be an awfully good cook, don't you think?

Card of Thanks. We take this means of thanking our friends and neighbors for their kind words and sympathy, also for the beautiful floral offering at the funeral of our beloved mother.

THE SORENSSEN FAMILY.

Christian Science. The subject of the lesson-sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, July 12, was "Sacrament." The citations read are intended to show that Jesus' use of bread and wine at the last supper, when considered consistently with all his other words and deeds, was a concession made for that occasion to indicate and emphasize the necessity for his followers here to live or partake of the life of Christ, thus experiencing the baptism of divine Spirit, for which true spiritual purgation there can be no symbolical substitute. One of the citations read from "Science and Health with the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p.4), reads in part: "To keep the commandments of our Master and follow his example, is our proper debt to him and the only worthy evidence of our gratitude for all that he has done." A part of one Biblical selection is as follows: "If ye be reproached for the name of Christ, happy are ye: for the spirit of glory and of God resteth upon you: on their part he is evil spoken of, but on your part he is glorified." 1 Peter 4:14

Blaha Bros. Out To Win Trip To Goodyear Factory

"It's difficult to get a correct idea of the size and detail of the Navy Airship USS Akron from pictures," declared Frank Blaha, of the Blaha Bros. garage. "That's why we're out to make our quota in Goodyear's Third Annual Zeppelin Sales race because the dealers who make the highest percent of sales to quota win a trip to Akron, and a chance to see this Leviathan of the air at the Goodyear Zeppelin dock where it is being built. The Zeppelin Sales Contest ends in August about the time the USS Akron is expected to be making its trial flights so fortunate dealers who earn the trip will get a close-up view of the ship.

"Few of the thousands of spectators who see the Akron on its test flights, will realize the number of special features of the ship's construction. For example, the gas cells. The tailoring of these cells is much more exact than in any human garment, and few will stop to think that the fabric used is measured in acres rather than in square yards.

"With tire prices the lowest in history," concluded Blaha Bros. together with the new 1931 Goodyear design, and the complete service we now give at our garage our sales quota should be easy so it looks like Akron and big ship for us."

Mrs. Hall Barnes Writes. Arrada, Wyo., July 9, 1931 Dear Quiz: I am enclosing a P. O. money order for $2.50 for another year's subscription to the Quiz. We always look for it eagerly. Sometimes we get it Saturday and then again not until Tuesday but it is always welcome. I read where Ord had only 6 inches of moisture so far in 1931. We have had less than two inches of moisture so far in 1931. Everything is burned up. The hills are as brown as in October. And not much water for stock. A number of cattle men are shipping their cattle out of here. Even the river is drying up. Clare has to go a half mile to water our stock. One would never know there was ever any water in the river on our side. There are others who have to go much farther for water. People have turned out their surplus horses, as there is neither grass or water. Some very poor horses running along the roads but horses are not worth anything here. The markets paid only $1 to $6 per head for several years but now one cannot get that for a horse.

We planted a big garden but won't have a thing. First our potatoes froze down three times, then finally dried up entirely. Clare cut two loads of hay last week where he generally cuts fifteen. The week preceding, June 28, the thermometer stood at 102 up to 118 but since that it has been much cooler.

We have some relatives coming today or tomorrow from Aurora, Change-of-Life Made Her Cross, Nervous "My husband hated to come home when I had change-of-life. I was so cross. Consider your Adam's Apple!!* Don't Rasp Your Throat

With Harsh Irritants "Reach for a LUCKY instead"

Everyone has an Adam's Apple—Every man—every woman has one. Touch your Adam's Apple with your finger. You are actually touching your larynx—this is your voice box—it contains your vocal chords. When you consider your Adam's Apple, you are considering your throat—your vocal chords.

"TOASTING" expels certain harsh irritants present in all raw tobaccos. These expelled irritants are not present in your LUCKY STRIKE—the modern cigarette. We sell these expelled irritants to manufacturers of chemical compounds. Everyone knows that sunshine mellows—that's why the "TOASTING" Process includes the use of Ultra Violet Rays. LUCKY STRIKE—made of the finest tobacco's—the Cream of the Crop—THEN—"IT'S TOASTED"—an extra, secret and exclusive heating process. It is this process that expels these harsh irritants. No wonder 20,679 American physicians have stated LUCKIES to be less irritating. No wonder LUCKIES are always kind to your throat. And so we say "Consider your Adam's Apple." Be careful in your choice of cigarettes.

Corn will soon be too large for further cultivation. Some will not get to go over their fields as many times as they had planned. They can find satisfaction in knowing three cultivations are nearly as good as four.

According to experimental work on the cultivation of corn at the Nebraska station, there is little if any need for cultivating when there are no weeds to kill.

Three cultivations yielded within 1.3 bushels as much as four cultivations. Two cultivations were only 2.3 bushels behind the yield for four cultivations. Even scraping the surface with a hoe without soil tillage, yielded 94% as much as did four normal cultivations. However, corn cultivated only once, dropped in yield about 16 bushels.

The above data indicates that the prime object of corn cultivation is to keep down weeds. The conclusions were drawn after six years of experimentation.

Continued late cultivations after laying by corn, did not increase yields. In reality, the practice decreased the yield two bushels per acre. The old idea of going thru the corn field with a one-horse cultivator, walking lister, or old mower wheel, does not result in additional conservation of soil moisture as had been assumed.

The tests also showed that there could be considerable variation in the adjustment of the corn cultivator without materially affecting the yield.

Deep cultivation with a 6-shovel cultivator yielded 38.1 bushels. Medium cultivation yielded 37.3 bushels, while shallow cultivation produced but 35.3 bushels. Close cultivation gave a yield of 36.2 bushels per acre.

GRASSHOPPERS DESTROY FIELD ON BALS RANCH

Farmers Urged To Poison Hoppers At Once; Poison To Be Furnished at Cost.

The Valley County Farm Bureau and the Farmers Grain and Supply Co. are co-operating in furnishing Valley county farmers with grasshopper poison at cost.

A ton of poison mash ready mixed has been purchased and may be secured at the Farmers elevator at Ord. The price is $2.00 per hundred and a hundred pounds will treat approximately fifteen acres. Since it comes in bags of 100 pounds each, the amount can be sold to a customer. Reports began to come to the County Agent's office last week of the damage done to crops by hoppers and Dale immediately got in touch with the State Department of Agriculture at Lincoln, Mr. Gates, State Entomologist, was in Ord and visited some of the damaged fields. He recommended immediate action to avert damage to corn fields. The worst damage seen was on the Chas. Bals ranch where the hoppers have completely destroyed 20 acres of oats.

When asked about the state aid which has been given to some counties where the county board has requested it this aid has been granted. But to secure poison free a farmer must sign an affidavit that he is financially unable to pay for the poison himself.

The poison mash which has been shipped in is made up according to the government formula:

100 lbs. bran, 8 lbs. white arsenic, with molasses added. It needs only the addition of seven or eight gallons of water and thorough mixing to be ready to spread. The most efficient way of spreading is to place a tub of the mixture in the back end of a wagon and while one man drives slowly, another broadcasts the mash from the wagon.

Through small grain stubble, hay land, etc. strips should be sown about 30 feet apart through the field. The edges of the corn fields and fence rows should also be treated at this time. The poison should be spread early in the morning as the grasshoppers do not feed after 9 a. m. during the hot weather.

Farmers are urged to spread the poison immediately by the county agent, since the egg laying season for the hoppers is just ahead and if they are not kept off this year they are likely to do far greater damage next year.

Mira Valley Tightens Grip On Second Place

Playing their best game of the season Mira Valley pounded Athey and Covert, Delco Light hurlers, for nine hits and 4 runs to win Sunday's game from the Ord Delco-Lights 4 to 2. The Delcos lost mainly because they could not take advantage of the offerings of Dutch Clement and because of their five errors which were costly. By winning this game Mira Valley took a tighter grip on second position in the league.

The North Loup Red Birds won from Elyria last Sunday at North Loup by a score of 21 to 0. Sheldons Elyria hurler, Ed. Sheldons, pitched a gem, throwing 10 shutouts. The Red Birds got a total of 18 hits from Elyria hurlers. Hudson, playing a bang-up game at second, got 4 hits out of 6 trips for the hitting honors of the day.

Clean hitting by the Red Birds onto the lowly Sumner outfit, who are tied with a 27 to 3 victory. The game was full of extra base hits for Clean but hitting honors go to Philbrick, Clean shortstop, who set a league record when he hit two home runs in the same inning. Barber allowed Sumner to hit two hits and set another league record, allowing 8 hits in the last three games he has pitched. Three to Joint, three to the Delco-Lights and two to Sumner.

Although they outhit Arcadia 10 to 9 the Joint team lost 8 to 7. Joint made 8 errors while Arcadia only made three which probably accounted for the difference in the score.

The hard-hitting Eureka team pounded Baker, Ord Camel pitcher, for seventeen hits to win Sunday's game from the Camels, 16 to 7. Polak and Vodehnal held the Camels to ten hits.

The box scores will be found on page six.

To Hold Livestock Judging Day.
A livestock judging day will be held at the fair grounds next Wednesday, July 29th. All 4-H club members and other boys and girls of club age are invited to attend and take part in the judging.

Mr. W. Derrick of the Animal Husbandry Dept. of the College of Agriculture will be in charge and classes of cattle, hogs, and sheep, and horses will be judged. Judging will start at 10 a. m. and continue through the afternoon and those who attend should bring their lances along so that work will not be interrupted too long at the noon hour.

The meeting is more in the nature of a training school than a judging contest, so any boy or girl need not be afraid to attend.

Mayor and Council To Study Use of Gas

Mayor Wm. H. Moses and all the councilmen except Mr. Frey left this morning for Holdrege to look into the gas matter there. Holdrege granted a gas franchise and is using the gas in the municipal plant boilers and the Ord officials want to study its use, cost, etc. A representative of the gas people told Mayor Moses Tuesday evening that he would be present at the coming meeting of the council.

Starts Fire To Kill Grasshoppers.

H. H. York, living in the Rosevale neighborhood, started a fire Tuesday to get rid of the grasshoppers which were eating his string beans. The fire got away from him and burned over an acre and a half of prairie hay belonging to Earl Hurlbert, before they got it under control.

MORE BARBERRY BUSHES FOUND

Government Men Locate Four Bushes South of North Loup; Two on Jas. Turek Farm.

The government field men who have been located temporarily at North Loup for the last week report the finding of four large bushes on the H. D. Tolen place six miles south of North Loup. The farm is owned by Frank Koupal of Ord.

Besides the bushes found here two bushes were destroyed on the James Turek place southwest of Ord and two bushes and sixteen seedlings were taken out along Turtle Creek on the Carl Sorenson place northwest of here. The bushes on the last two places were heavily rusted. Those on the Tolen place showed very little rust and Mr. Tolen states that he has only been troubled once in the last five years with any serious rust on his small grain.

In general throughout the county this year stem rust on any of the small grain has been very scarce due to the dry weather during the early part of the season. The close relation existing between the weather and the development of stem rust has led many people to erroneously believe that the weather actually causes the rust. This is no more true than that the weather caused the corn crop. Cool weather, whether dry or wet, and dry weather, whether hot or cold, checks the development of rust.

Attention should be called to the fact that any boy or girl in the county who will report the location of any barberry and will show a twig from the same is entitled to receive the beautiful bronze award offered by the United States Department of Agriculture and is eligible for membership in the National Rust Busters club. Bushes should be reported to the federal men, or the county agent's office.

No cause has been found for the deed. Mr. Osterman was prosperous, popular at home, and supposedly without any financial worries. Mr. Jones heard the child scream and rushed out, to see the child picking himself up out of the dirt. The car had gone. Jones helped the child to the side of the road and was trying to find out who he was when the distracted father, having missed him, came driving back as fast as the car would go. Catches Big Fish.

Judge Clements who is spending 10 days at his cottage on Cullen lake, Minnesota, wanted to get a nice box of walleyed pike to send to his son Wayne Clements at Boulder, Colo. and last Saturday, with C. A. Anderson and E. C. Leggett as assistants, went over to Gull lake to get the job done. They got eight nice pike, more than enough for the box and also caught a couple of Northern pike. One of them weighing 12 pounds, was caught by Eugene and he wanted to send it to his neighbor, Dr. Barta. He had used up his license tags however and Judge Clements gave him an extra tag that he had. Of course the fish had to be shipped to Judge Clements. It was delivered last week. Judge Clements showed it to his friends, then took it to the Olsson Artificial Ice Plant and made arrangements to have it frozen into a 3-foot cake of ice and Saturday it will be exhibited in the McLain & Sorenson show window.

Mr. Barta and his friends have been deprived of a fine fish feast, at least temporarily. Mr. Clements says the doctor can have the fish Saturday night when the ice melts. It is a pretty safe guess that the fish can't spoil in the meantime. This is the largest fish that Eugene ever caught. Judge Clements had the honor of catching it until yesterday, when a mighty good story had to be destroyed and this one written to conform to the facts.

Henry and six other cadets were flying in formation two hundred feet above ground in a high powered pursuit plane. They were banking and turned their planes on their sides and used a lot of speed to fly low. Henry lost control of his machine and he was flying so low that he had no time to regain it before he crashed. The motor was buried in the ground and the plane was smashed completely. He crashed not far from a residence and a man nearby who witnessed the accident rushed him to the base hospital at Sam Houston where he is receiving excellent care.

Telegraph Poles Burn.

A fire alarm at 1 p. m. Monday and a great cloud of smoke that looked like the whole town was burning, brought everyone able to travel, out to the fire. It proved to be a large pile of creosote telegraph poles belonging to the Burlington on fire. They were between the two tracks and close to the city plant and the first report was that the plant was on fire. A Union Pacific engine had run up close and tried to put the fire out with steam but without much effect. The city fire department, which responded by the fire engine, there and turned on the water the fire was soon out. The poles were quite badly charred but no great damage done.

ARCADIA FARMER SHOOT'S SELF, DIES

Had Been in Poor Health For Long Time; Funeral Held At Arcadia Sunday.

J. D. Bridges of Arcadia shot himself through the head with a 22 calibre rifle about 9:30 last Thursday morning. He passed away some six hours later without regaining consciousness. Mr. Bridges had been in poor health for a good many years and seriously ill for the past two years and for several weeks he had been confined to his bed and suffered greatly, with no hopes of recovery. Taking advantage, last Thursday morning, of the fact that his wife was in the garden, he induced his grandson, 9 years old, who was the only one in the house, to bring him a small rifle, making the excuse that he wanted to use the gun as a crutch. Having secured the gun he got the child to bring him a cartridge and at once shot himself, the bullet entering near one eye.

Joseph Davis Bridges was born at Marysville, Iowa, April 17, 1864 and was 67 years, 2 months and 10 days old at the time of his death July 16, 1931. He was united in marriage to Miss Catherine Snodgrass June 18, 1885 at Emerson, Ia. and to this union six children were born. Two daughters have passed away, Blanch, a little girl of two summers died in 1900 and Mrs. Ethel Chaddock died six years ago. The surviving children are three sons and one daughter, Elmer, Thurman and Ivan and Mrs. Otto Lueck, all of this community.

Mr. and Mrs. Bridges came to Nebraska in 1895 settling near Arcadia where they lived for twenty years and until Mr. Bridges health broke, when they moved to Arcadia and this has been the family home since.

Mr. Bridges was active in politics for years and was a leader in his party. He served as county assessor for a number of years and has held other offices in the county. He was one of the best interests of his constituents at heart. He was manager for six years of the Farmers Association in Arcadia. He was always a good and kind husband and father, a good neighbor and a useful citizen, numbering his friends by those who enjoyed his acquaintance.

Left to mourn his going are his faithful wife, four children, 10 grandchildren, a brother, J. C. Bridges of Kearney, two half brothers, Clarence and Edna, wife and Charley of Knoxville, Ia., two half sisters, Mame Bridges of Knoxville, Ia. and Mrs. Nellie Werweh of Percy, Ia. besides a host of lesser relatives and friends.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church Sunday morning, July 19th, at 10 o'clock, officiated by Pastor R. O. Gaitner in charge, assisted by Rev. Burleigh of the Congregational church and the church was filled to overflowing. The floral tribute were many and beautiful. Interment was in the Arcadia cemetery.

ROBERT WELLER YOUNG ORD MAN TAKES OWN LIFE

Reason for Act Unknown; Was Preparing To Build Home And Marry Omaha Girl.

Robert A. Weller, 25 years old, manager of the Weller Bros. Ord lumber yard, took his own life some time after midnight last Thursday. The body was found by Frank Lukesh, yardman when he opened the yard at 6:45 Friday morning. Bob was the son of R. W. Weller, one of the firm owning a string of lumber yards. Robert Weller came to Ord about a year ago, working as second man until Henry Hrbec quit a few months ago, when he was made yardman. Discouragement over collections has been advanced as a possible reason for his act. He has been working hard on collection of old accounts and of course without great success, because of present business conditions. It is thought that he may have become discouraged because the job seemed larger than he could handle.

He had seemed to be in his usual good spirits the day before. He roomed at the Preston Loomis home and after getting his evening mail, Thursday night, he went home about seven-thirty, and stayed in his room until about nine o'clock, at which time he came down stairs saying that he was going down town for a while. Preston came down town about eleven o'clock, met Bob and after having a drink at the bakery, they both returned to the Loomis home. As Loomis got out of the car, Bob said he had forgotten to leave a note for Frank at the yard, so he would drive down and do so, as there was some work he had to do. Frank and Loomis were awake several times during the night and noticed that Bob had not returned, but thought nothing of it, as Bob had offered to go to the hotel that evening. A baby boy was born in the Loomis home on Thursday night. Frank thought perhaps Bob was afraid of disturbing Mrs. Loomis, and had decided to go to the hotel anyway.

Young Weller had driven to a far corner of the yard, propped a 2-foot tile up over the end of the rear seat, and then he had laid down on his side with his face close to the lower end of the tile. He had placed a gunny sack over his head to insure getting all of the fumes. The car had evidently been left running slowly for it had stopped sometime in the morning. Two notes were found in Bob's room, one addressed to "Mother" and one to "Mary." They were forwarded to Omaha at once. Mary is Miss Mary Woodland to whom Bob was to be married. This note was published Sunday in the World-Herald and simply said: "Mary, my darling: I love you more than life itself. Please forgive me and forget me—then find happiness. Your own Bob."

This does not seem to throw any light on the cause of the tragedy. Bob had spent most of Thursday afternoon with Bert Needham, a local builder, looking at proposed building lots and talking about house plans.

Bob was a graduate of the state university. He was a quiet, unassuming young man, conscientious to a degree, sometimes morose for a day at a time, according to his associates. He was always kindly to his employees and never cross.

Suspicion that there had been trouble between Bob and Miss Woodland or between him and his own family prove unfounded. The last letter he wrote Miss Woodland and received by her Friday morning contained no hint of what he was about to do when it was written.

Funeral services were held Friday evening at the Frazier funeral parlors. Rev. Real preaching and music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Auble, with Mrs. Bud Auble at the piano. The remains were shipped to Omaha Saturday morning for interment there on the Monday afternoon. Roy Harberg, a brother-in-law arriving from Springfield Friday evening to take charge of the remains and accompany them to Omaha.

My Own Column By H. D. LEGGETT

I have a nice letter from my good friend Merritt H. Fuson which I am more than glad to print, though he seems to think I don't dare do it. I notice that Pat is engineer for and on the board of directors for The Highway Form company, whatever that is. Judging from the imposing letter head and array of prominent men officering the company, it must be some big company. I understand Pat is to visit in Ord later this summer and he can then explain. I believe this is the first letter I ever got from Pat when he couldn't think of anything mean or sarcastic to say, so I look forward to his letter and following it with the editorial about Senator Norris, which also voices my sentiments and I have sent the check mentioned, on west to see if I can get any real money on it:

"Dear Quiz:
You will find pinned to this note an editorial from the Portland News-Telegram which will give you an idea of what the people of Oregon think of your Senator Norris.
More and more as one comes in contact with political minded persons, one hears Norris mentioned as a presidential possibility for 1931 and his strongest support would be the people of Oregon. Persons of a political trend of mind are getting tired of Mellon's appointees as rubber stamp presidents.

Only today I heard what I had always supposed to be an ultra-conservative, standpat Republican say in an argument. "Yes and the greatest Secretary of the Treasury since Hamilton has gotten the national treasury into the worst mess it has ever been in." "Looks like it is time to get some cross roads blacksmith to run the country and incidentally the Republican party he could not possibly do a worse job."

I wrote to you in 1928 and told you that if Mellon were allowed to appoint two or three more presidents in a row that the middle-western farmer would become a peasant. Of course you did not publish it and you will not publish this but just the same I look forward to the time when some "city feller" will ride out to Ernest Coats' farm and Ernest will come out, hat in hand and bend in the middle and say, very humbly, "Good mornin' m' Lord, shall I start birds for you or Lordship this mornin'?" And Ernest will start the birds for "Lordship" and go right on voting for the "Principles and Ideals of the Republican Party" if any. I never could "figger" how the middle western farmer "rebelled" that he triple the tariff on aluminum, kitchen ware and rubber raincoats was going to help him any as I distinctly remember being around on farms in Nebraska when I was a boy and I never saw a field of aluminum or rubber or copper or steel all the time I was there.

Well anyway, you probably won't publish this and you probably won't reproduce the editorial that I am attaching but I am also attaching a check for some of my back subscription if any and you will probably give that to the sheriff.
I am down at this office working tonight and it serves me right and for that reason I am trying awfully hard to think of some mean things to say to you but then you happen to be the editor of my old home town paper and it is my paper even if it is a sort of a "Babbit" paper and I am frankly a rebel.
Am falling miserably to think up anything real mean to say even tho I have on one terrible grouch. Hoping these few lines find you enjoying the same great blessing.
Yours truly,
MERRITT H. (Pat) FUSON

The editorial from the Portland (Ore.) News-Telegram:
Today is Birthday of a Grand Old Man of America.
"A few days ago a great many newspapers acclaimed the birthday of a multimillionaire, who made his millions in ways that have sometimes been called objectionable. Today, this newspaper acclaims the birthday anniversary of a really useful American.
He was born on a farm in Sandusky county, Ohio, on July 13, 1861. He got his start by working on farms in the broiling midwest summers; his education by tramping through the snow to a country schoolhouse in winter time.
Slowly, he made his way upward; he became a judge; he served in congress from 1903 to 1913; since the latter year he has been a United States senator.
For 28 years he has sat in the seats of the mighty—and fought for the people, which is what few congressmen or senators may say. He entered the senate as a progressive—and he stayed a progressive. Wiseacres predicted that "the system" would get him, but it didn't. Crooked politicians tried to "get him"—but they didn't.
For nearly three decades he kept his vision clear, his thoughts clean, his aims in view—a real public servant amid sycophants, cowards and political trimmers.
George William Norris, senator from Nebraska, stand up! Upon your 70th birthday the American people wish to congratulate you, and to wish you many more years of usefulness.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

These are ideal days for enjoying cake and ice cream. And when both of them are awfully good, the family won't ask for much else to eat on a warm evening. Do you have some recipes for home made legs and ice creams that you consider standard? If so, please send them in to the Quiz so that all our readers may enjoy them.

Here is a cake that nearly everyone likes, and still it is not too ordinary.

Raisin Bread.
(One loaf). 1 c. bread sponge. 1 egg. 2 tsp. sugar. 2 tsp. melted lard. Raisins. Salt.

Back Forty
By J. A. KOVANDA
There are many interesting forage and grain plants on J. W. Sevenker's small acreage in southeast Ord. Some are growing and immature. Others have been harvested in sheaves and hung in dark places to keep them from bleaching before fair time.

Mr. Sevenker likes to show his agronomy specimens to visitors. "Notice these two millets," he will begin. "Now one would naturally expect that this smaller stemmed brown millet would make finer hay than that coarse rank New Wonder variety over there—well it doesn't. I've found that out through feeding experience with both."
Then he will take the newcomer to his corn plot. For twelve years he has been inbreeding the St. Charles White, planting it in small patches far enough away from other corn to avoid crossing. He pays special attention to size and shape of kernel, conformation of ear, and color of cob. Some day he hopes to develop just the kind of corn he wants, and his ideas of perfect type are good ones.

There are wheats, oats, and barleys to see; also sorghums, kafirs, and fetteritas, as well as legumes and forage grasses of various kinds. They are grown in clean cultivated rows. Many of the garden patches produce two different crops each season.
Our county fair would seem incomplete without J. W. Sevenker's crops exhibit. He displays samples that are representative of this locality. He does not attempt to show third cutting alfalfa for first cutting, or last year's barley, or eastern Nebraska wheat. Nor does he complain of judges' decisions or sharp competitive practices. Being financially secure, Sevenker does not go to the fair primarily to win prizes. He once remarked that the premium money won did not begin to pay for the cost of making his annual display.
His poor condition of health has been greatly improved by the pursuit of this favorite hobby of his. He expects to continue it because

KEIM RECOMMENDS USE OF CHEMICAL ON LAWN
An application of ammonium sulphate on lawns will now benefit them, according to Dr. F. D. Keim of the agricultural college. In word sent to the Quiz this morning he recommends the use of the chemical in stimulating grass growth. Ord entrants in the yard and garden contest should be interested in his recommendation.
The ammonium sulphate is to be applied at the rate of approximately two pounds to a square rod. Keim suggests that Ord people apply the chemical in a liquid form, put on dry and not soaked well, the chemical is apt to burn the grass and ruin the lawn.
Usually it is best to dilute two pounds of ammonium sulphate in a two gallon water sprinkler. It then can be sprinkled over the lawn evenly. The lawn should then be soaked. The chemical will stimulate the grass growth.
"If the lawns are not mowed too close in the next two months, they will grow more rapidly," Dr. Keim declares. "Too many people cut during the remaining months of the summer."
Dr. Keim doesn't believe it is practical to keep sprinklers going on the lawns throughout the day. Instead he says the lawns will grow faster if the grass is soaked with water in the evening. Many people water the grass too much and cause an over abundance of crab grass, he says.
Considering the fact that they gone through some extreme warm spells, they will probably need the ammonium sulphate in the next two months.

—Jay Auble was ill and confined to his home Sunday and Monday.

Mrs. William Satterfield.
Rachel Augusta Jones was born July 11, 1849, near Liencellen, Monmouthshire, England. She passed away at the Hillcrest hospital, Ord, Nebr. at the age of 90 years, 11 months, 26 days.
When she was sixteen years of age, she moved to America with her parents, settling in the village of Omaha, where she lived with her parents until the time of her marriage to Wm. M. Satterfield, Sept. 15, 1862; at which time they located on a farm 25 miles southwest of Omaha, where she lived continuously until November, 1925.

To this union seven children were born; two sons and two daughters having preceded her in death; also her husband, who passed away in 1908. She leaves to mourn her departure: two sons and one daughter, Geo. D. Satterfield and Mrs. W. B. Wykert of Springfield, Nebr. and F. R. Satterfield of Taylor, 18 grandchildren, 10 great grandchildren, other relatives and a host of friends.
In November 1925, she moved to Loup county to live at the home of her son Frank. She had been a sufferer from rheumatism for many years and in Jan. 1926 she was taken to bed and later she was moved to the Hillcrest hospital that she might receive the best of medical care and nursing.
Mrs. Satterfield was a devout Christian, having joined the Latter Day Saint church at an early age and was faithful in her belief until the end. As a good and just wife and mother, and an obliging neighbor, she will always be remembered by all of her acquaintances.

The remains were taken to the old home at Springfield by Orville Sowl of Ord, where funeral services were held from the M. E. church, Friday, July 10, at 2 p. m. Services were conducted by Elder Russell of Omaha and Rev. Daniels of Springfield with interment in the Springfield cemetery.

was pulled in Saturday night with two rear wheels mashed and the rear end torn out. A collision west of town was responsible for the accident. It was a nearly new Chevrolet. Christian Science

The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, July 19, was "Life." Biblical citations were read to show that God is Life, and since there is but one God there can be but one Life which is reflected by spiritual creation. The selections read show that God is not in matter, and that man's existence is dependent on God and not on any material thing. One citation read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p. 238) is as follows: "The chief stones in the temple of Christian Science are to be found in the following postulates: that Life is God, good, and not evil; that Soul is sinless, not of the flesh; that Spirit is immortal and cannot be materialized; that Life is not subject to death; that the spiritual real man has no birth, no material life, and no death." One selection read from the Bible is in part as follows: "He that hath the Son hath life; and he that hath not the Son of God hath not life." (1 John 5:12)

Majestic's Amazing New-Day Battery Radio

Is now on display at The Capron Agency. Being intended for use in farm homes, this new radio is, naturally, powered by batteries, but it should not be confused with the battery-operated radios of the past. It bears no resemblance to them, either in appearance or performance. It looks like an electric set, is operated like an electric set and, best of all, performs like an electric set. This new Majestic Super-heterodyne brings to the farm home the kind of radio reception hitherto thought possible only with powerful light-socket powered receivers, BUT IT DOES NOT USE A STORAGE BATTERY, and is free from the weaknesses and limitations of dry battery operation. Come in and hear the finest battery set ever offered the radio public.

Old Landmark Being Razed

Mrs. Partridge has sold the old sample room north of the Hotel Ord to Albert Jones and he is having the building torn down and will use it in building on his place south of town. Mr. Jones has also bought the land and buildings northeast of the Work blacksmith shop and the smaller buildings there will also be torn down and removed.
Mrs. Partridge will build a brick garage at once on the west end of the lot where the sample room has stood, leaving an eight foot driveway next to the New Cafe. The garage is included in the plans for a 32-room addition to the north end of the hotel which will go back to within eight feet of the city building and be 3 stories high. Work on the hotel addition will not be started at this time but selling the other buildings on the east made the building of the garage necessary.

DALE URGES 4-H CLUBS TO GET THEIR ANIMALS IN SHAPE FOR SHOWING

With fair time less than two months away, County Agent Carl Dale of Ord is urging Valley county 4-H club boys and girls to get their animals in shape for exhibition. Since the Valley county fair comes in August, the boys and girls have but little time left.

"If the boys and girls expect to make a representative showing with their calves and pigs they should begin working earnestly with them," declares Dale. "They cannot expect to clean up their club animals the week before the fair and make prize winners out of them."

Club members are advised to wash their calves at least once a week from now until fair time. Dale says the calves should be washed with soap and water. The horns should be rasped, scraped and then polished with sand paper and steel wool. If the hair is harsh or tends to be coarse, he says blanketing the calves during the daytime will aid in softening the hair.

Dale is not only urging Valley county club boys and girls to keep busy with their animals but he also says it is important that the pig club members get used to their pigs. They, too, should be scrubbed to remove the scurf. The pigs should be tame and easy to handle by the time they are shown in the ring this fall.

If present plans are successful, there will be a larger 4-H club show at the Valley county fair this year than ever before. More baby beavers are sure to be shown while the pig club department will be full. In addition the many girls clubs over the county will exhibit the things they have made this year at the fair.

The secret of PERMANENT POWER..

There is only one way to keep your motor full-powered. Every engineer knows the secret—correct lubrication.

Every mile your motor runs with too little oil—oil of wrong grade—or dirty, diluted oil—sends it nearer the junk heap.

The new model motors have higher engine speeds and higher compression. They need new model oil—new POLARINE.

New Polarine has high resistance to the thinning and "cracking" effect of heat. It thickens least in cold weather. Thoroughly de-waxed, it does not clog oil lines or carbon the motor. Its oil film clings to metal surfaces.

No oil can do more to keep your motor permanently powerful than new Polarine. Consult the chart for the correct grade to use—25¢ a quart for every grade.

Census Returns Show Nebraska's Status In Relation To Records For Other States A Decade Ago

With Nebraska's 1930 census giving the state a total population of 1,377,963, and those residents an illiteracy of 1.2 percent, residents of the state should begin to feel proud of what has evolved from the pioneer-settled prairie of a generation back. Automobiles, important since their general adoption, have become essential to Nebraskans, to judge from the fact that the preliminary survey on the last census shows a total of 387,410, not including trucks, tractors and farm machines driven by gas engines. There was one pleasure car for each 3.75 persons in the state.

Almost billion dollar production in the state for 1929 seems to be divided with some equality between agriculture and manufactures. Agriculture for that year was $496,000,000 and the manufacturers brought people of the state $494,262,511.

An employment survey for the state showed that in Nebraska there were 14,778 persons who were without jobs. Another total of 4,292 had been "laid off" without pay. The number of gainful workers in the state was 922,922.

Employment in State.

In Omaha, 43.6 percent of the total population, or 593,803 persons were listed by the census as gainful workers. The census figures placed the value of farm products, industrial and professions. The figures did not include incomes, although it has been calculated that the incomes of this number of persons would total around $175,000,000 per year, not an inconsiderable sum, even if divided.

Nebraskans depend, of course, on their farms. Although the returns show big incomes from manufacturing, too, much of those returns come from the farms, although indirectly.

In 1929, federal statistics placed the value of farm products at $496,000,000 from 129,458 separate farms. These farms are operated by 582,981 farm residents, and the farms total $2,495,205,071 in value. The average size of a Nebraska farm is given as 345.7 acres, and the average worth of such a farm is $20,440.

On the farms are 67,396 owner-families and 61,014 tenant families.

The remainder of the farms in the state are operated by farm managers, about 1,022 farms.

Discusses Farms.

In the largest group of farms, 41,725 are the greatest number of acres from 100 to 174 acres in size. In another group are 23,010 farms of 175 to 259 acres, another popular sized acreage. In other groups are 28,133 farms of 260 to 499 acres; 10,269 from 500 to 999 acres; and 5,976 farms of over 1,000 acres in size.

There has been a decrease since 1920 in the number of stock raised for food, and in the wheat and hay output. The number of farm horses owned in the state has undergone a decrease because of the increasing mechanization of farming.

More corn and oats are being raised now, and the number of milk cows and of chickens produced has also increased.

Raised More Corn.

In 1929, the state produced 216,067,114 bushels of corn; 70,701,460 bushels of wheat and 15,137,680 bushels of barley. Lesser grains grown in 1929 totaled 6,000,000 bushels. In the past decade the production of barley in Nebraska has more than tripled.

Sugar beets for 1929 reached the amazing production total of 981,813 tons, and potatoes were grown to the total of 2,250,282 bushels. The state had 4,811,335 tons of hay and 305,919 tons of corn silage for stock feed in the same year. According to the figures, the production of potatoes has more than doubled since 1918.

Figures on animals in the state have been given out for 1930, showing that the state had in that year a total of 2,696,483 hogs and 13,389,220 chickens. Farm work animals for the period included 747,338 horses, which showed a decline of 214,058 for the decade. Mules were almost the same in 1930 as they had been 10 years before.

When the final returns are in, December, 1932, the state census takers feel, will have reason to feel proud of its status, its improvement, and the general conditions which prevail.—Wayne Herald.

HOLDREGE AND MINDEN FAVOR NATURAL GAS

Ord Officials Get Favorable Report At Both Cities Regarding Natural Gas Proposition.

City officials and citizens of Holdrege and Minden like natural gas very much, Mayor Wm. Moses, City Attorney Ralph Norman, City Commissioner George Allen and Councilmen Sack, Fafaita, Rowbal, Rohla and Sorensen were told last Thursday during their inspection trip to the furnaces. Both places have had natural gas for about eight months.

At both places the city light plants were visited and various home owners and business men were consulted. Nearly everybody in the Ord men talked to spoke favorably of natural gas, stressing its convenience and its economy.

At Minden natural gas is used under the boilers in the city plant. When it was installed the gas company guaranteed Minden a saving of 7 1/2 percent over the cost of using coal and this saving will be made, though the company has reduced its rate twice in order to make good on the guarantee. Ord councilmen were not particularly struck with the advantages of gas in the city, though they are almost unanimous in their expressions of its value for domestic use.

The Nebraska Natural Gas company is now seeking a franchise in Ord, which was the reason for the inspection trip made by local officials.

Rates in force at Minden and Holdrege are the same as were offered here, councilmen say. Provisions of franchises adopted there were practically the same as the franchise sought here.

J. W. Densford, representative of the Nebraska Natural Gas company, was in Ord yesterday and stated that he would attend the next council meeting which is to be held August 7th. At that time he will be prepared to answer all questions about natural gas, he says.

Large Tarantula Found In Bananas

An unusually large tarantula six inches long and as thick as a man's thumb was found in a bunch of bananas at Haught's west grocery last Saturday by Manager Rollan Dye. He was just about to reach into the package of bananas when he saw the poisonous tropical insect. The tarantula has been pickled in bathing alcohol and is on display at the store.

County Will Have 100,000 Bus. Wheat

The Valley county wheat crop this year will be in the neighborhood of 100,000 bushels, grain men estimate. There were only about 5,000 acres planted to wheat and the crop will not average much over 20 bushels, it is believed, though some fields have yielded up to 40 bushels. A much larger acreage was planted this spring to oats but they are making an even lighter yield than the wheat in most parts of the county. Threshing is still in full swing over the county. Elevators in Ord were paying 32c for wheat and 18c for oats yesterday.

County Will Have 100,000 Bus. Wheat

The market is erratic. Some things up, some down. While cream is the same as last week, it seems certain better prices are going to prevail. Unless it rains soon grain prices should strengthen. It seems certain that we must forget the good old days of 40c cream, 80c eggs, $1 corn, etc.

'Hoppers Eat Paint Off Buildings, Says Auble

L. J. Auble, who returned last week from a brief visit at Winner, S. D., where he inspected the Auble farm, says no crops will be raised on the farm this year. They have been entirely eaten up by grasshoppers. Hundreds of other farms are similarly stricken.

So numerous are the hoppers around Winner that they are even eating the paint off buildings, Bud says. Buildings look as though coffee grounds have been thrown at them because the insects have eaten the paint off in small patches, he says.

ORD DELCOS WIN OVER NO. LOUP; REDS BEAT OLEAN

Loss Sunday Is Second of Season For Leaders; Mira Valley In Challenging Position.

Just a half game behind the North Loup Redbirds and with a fine opportunity to reverse their positions when they meet at North Loup Sunday, the Mira Valley Reds are still traveling at a rapid clip. Sunday they defeated Olean, 10 to 4, while the Redbirds were losing to the Ord Delco-Lights 4 to 1. Other games of the week saw Elyria beat Arcadia, 9 to 4, Joint beat the Ord Camels 14 to 9 and Eureka take the measure of the luckless Sumner team.

Jim Covert hurled a good game for the Delco-Lights Sunday. Though he whiffed only three batters he had the Redbirds popping up in the air and profited by excellent support. Sheldon fanned 14 and gave up only five hits but the hits were timely and so were four North Loup errors timely for the Delcos. Six Ord errors hurt very little.

Six teams in the Farm Bureau league still have a mathematical chance to cop the Quiz cup, only three of them are in challenging positions. Games next Sunday will have an important bearing on the league race, particularly the North Loup-Mira Valley battle at North Loup.

League standings and box scores of Sunday's games appear on another page of the Quiz.

TEMPERATURE UP TO 106; TUESDAY IS HOTTEST DAY

Government Thermometer Registers New High For Season; Rain Must Fall Soon.

A new high mark for the summer was established in Ord Tuesday when W. A. Anderson's official government thermometer registered 106 soon after 1 p. m. A light breeze came up later and forced the mercury down two or three degrees and gave promise of showers that so far have not fallen.

Throughout the past week Valley county people have sweated in temperatures that have reached the 100 mark every day. A northeast wind yesterday made the heat endurable and gave promise of showers that so far have not fallen.

Pessimism rules throughout central Nebraska this week as corn comes closer and closer to the danger point. Some fields already are damaged greatly by the drought and hot winds while other fields are still holding their own. Rain within a few days still will assure Valley county an enormous corn crop.

Weather reports indicate possible showers for this section this week but no general rain is prophesied.

Highway Route Thru Ord Is Established

At least for the present Highway No. 11 will follow the same route through the city of Ord as it has in the past, maps registered this week by County Clerk Ign. Kilma reveal. The state is calling for bids on 1 1/2 miles of gravel which will be placed from the Sack Lumber company corner west to the city limits and then north one mile to where the highway begins following the Burlington tracks. Later the federal government may locate the route through town but for several years, in all probability, the present route will be followed.

Hearing Held In Sharp Divorce Case

With Judge E. P. Clements presiding, a hearing was held Tuesday in the Sharp divorce suit. Through her attorney, Ben Rose of Burwell, Mrs. Sharp sought a temporary order to restrain Mr. Sharp from coming upon their farm. She is in ill health and the sight of her husband causes a relapse. Mrs. Sharp's petition alleged, Davis & Vogelstein represent Mr. Sharp. Judge Clements refused to issue the restraining order asked by the wife but indicated that he would issue an order that would allow Mr. Sharp to continue his farming but still prevent him from doing anything that would injure his wife's health. This order is now being drawn up and probably will be issued. Mr. and Mrs. Sharp have been married 42 years. She filed suit for divorce last week.

Alaskan Exhibits Sledge Dogs Here

A Mr. Hammond, who was born in Aurora, Neb., but for many years a resident of Alaska, was an Ord visitor Tuesday. He had with him two teams of Alaskan malamute dogs, together with two sledges and other Alaskan curios. He was interviewing the Valley county fair board in an effort to secure a contract to show at the local fair, but the fair board has already engaged all free acts and could not employ Mr. Hammond. While here he hitched up a team of dogs and drove them around the square, creating quite a sensation.

Dance Halls Must Get Licenses Now

Under a new law passed at the last session of the legislature and becoming effective August 1st, all halls where public dances are held must secure dance hall licenses from the county board of supervisors in county where their hall is located. These licenses cost $5 and are good for a year. Another section of the same law provides that no Sunday night dances may be held outside of the corporate limits of a city or village unless a deputy sheriff, paid by the dance hall owner, is present to supervise the dance. County Attorney George Munn has copies of these new laws and people who hold public dances should see him at once.

Model A's Meet Again

Thursday afternoon, July 23, the Model A's met again, this time Evelyn Jorgensen was hostess. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, then roll call was answered by telling "One way to make clothing last longer," this indicating that all seven members were present.

Two Couples Married

Miss Dorothy Rasset and A. J. Wetzel and Ralph Manka and Miss Annis Wetzel were married Saturday in Greeley. The next day the young people all came to Ord and were slaying in the W. R. Rasset home until yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. Manka then went to Grand Island and from there they were planning on going to Ravenna.

Tomorrow Mrs. Joe Rowbal and daughter, Merna, and Mrs. John Nelson will drive to Maxwell, Nebraska, and attend the Nebraska District Pentecostal camp meeting.

Jess Kovanda, Who Catches Fish, Tells How He Does It

Jess Kovanda, who has been having unusually good success at catching catfish on set-lines this summer was a Quiz office visitor Tuesday and told the Editor just how he does it.

At this time of the year, Jess says, lines should be set out into the channel, not on the bank. He drives a stake into the bottom so the top is just below the surface and about half way down the stake he ties a line six or eight feet long with a hook on the end. No sinker is used.

For bait Mr. Kovanda has been using large frogs, though he believes big minnows would be even better if he could get them. He runs his lines at 10 o'clock each evening and then again early in the morning. And he usually catches fish, though they are running smaller than usual this year.

Now anybody with a taste for fried catfish had better try Mr. Kovanda's method. He doesn't blame him or the Quiz if you fall to get them.

Three Injured In Auto Crash

North Loup, July 29.—(Special)—Daryl Coleman received severe bumps and bruises on the head and body, and Delbert Bridge and Thelma Willoughby were slightly injured when the light coupe driven by Bridge struck the railing of a bridge near the Andy Hansen corner early Monday morning and upset in the creek bed. The bridge rail penetrated the front of the car.

The three were returning home from a dance and had passed a car just before they reached the bridge. It is thought that dust prevented the driver from seeing the bridge.

Both Coleman and young Bridge have figured in bad car accidents before. Two years ago the former was critically injured in an accident that cost the life of Roberta Woodford, 16, of Scotia, and Bridge is still lame from a shattered knee cap he received when the car in which he was riding struck a truck near the Ord fair grounds a few months ago.

Ericson Mayor Faces Charge Of Assault

It is not always the boys from the country who paint the town red. Last week Lew Bodyfield, mayor of Ericson and manager of the Farmers Elevator there, engaged in a fist fight with A. A. Signer, 60, prominent farmer of that community. Other farmers took a hand and Bodyfield was arrested and charged with assault and battery. He is now out on bond. Trouble between Mayor Bodyfield and farmers who are share-holders and owners of the elevator was blamed for the affair.

Pay Penalty For Writing Bad Checks

Ralph Manka, who has been employed on a Valley county road gang for several days, was in bad with the law this week. Arrested for writing non-fund checks, he spent several days in jail. Tuesday evening he made the checks good and paid a $5 fine assessed by County Judge Hollingshead, thus gaining his release. Manka's home is in Ravenna. The bad checks he wrote here were mostly given in payment for gasoline and other automobile requirements and several filling stations and garages were the victims.

New Abstract Firm Starts Business Here

When the Quiz had a story last week telling of the new insurance office which J. T. Knezacek was opening in the Marks building, we didn't know that abstracting was to be a leading part of the business. *Mr. Knezacek is establishing the Valley County Abstract Company and has an announcement in this paper which you will be interested in reading. His years of experience in the county clerk's office made him familiar with the records. He tells the Quiz that he will have his bond on file by the time this paper is read and will be ready to take care of any business that may be entrusted to his care. Joe says he don't expect to get all the business but that he will appreciate having a part of it.

Build New Chicken House

Messrs. Frank and Claybaugh, of the extension department, state agricultural college, were working at the Weller Bros. lumber yard all day Monday on a new type chicken house which will be exhibited at the Valley county fair.

John Sharp returned Friday to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Rashaw, after spending a week on his farm.

ORD CREAMERY COMMENDED FOR GRADING CREAM

State College Enthuses Over Plan Pioneered Here; Patrons Get Higher Price for Cream.

After buying cream by grade for four weeks, Manager Fred Coe of the Ord Co-operative Creamery today expressed himself as being pleased with the results. Ord has the only creamery in the state buying the cream by grade.

Before starting to buy cream from farmers in Valley county by the grade, Coe estimates that from 20 to 25 percent of the cream purchased was second grade. Now he believes that the second grade cream is running between 10 and 12 percent, even during the extremely hot weather.

Just recently when the state price for butterfat was 16 cents, the Ord creamery paid 21 cents for No. 1 cream and 18 cents for No. 2 cream. Yet, Coe explains that the institution made a profit. This is possible because the creamery is now getting about 90 percent fine butterfat.

"We will probably lose a few customers by buying cream on grade because the practice is still in the experimental stage," Coe declares. "We do believe though that it is going to be permanent. By working with our patrons we hope that we will soon be getting 95 percent No. 1 cream. This will work a benefit on our stockholder patrons."

Coe explains that buying cream by grade doesn't mean that any employee is receiving any more salary but enables the creamery to produce better butter which is of considerable satisfaction to any loyal worker in a cooperative creamery.

Since the Ord creamery has started buying cream by grade many dairymen selling them cream have endeavored to deliver the top grade. Some have added milk cooling tanks to their dairy equipment.

Dairymen at the college of agriculture in Lincoln are enthusiastic over the success of the plan at Ord. They believe other creameries will turn toward buying by grade in the future. The Ord establishment is a pioneer in the field.

Dies At Age of 80

George Vanskike, 80, a brother of James Vanskike of Ord, passed away last Friday evening at St. Francis hospital, Grand Island, where he had been cared for for four years. Previous to that time he made his home here. Funeral services were held in Scotia Sunday. Another brother, Charles Vanskike, lives in that village.

Pay Penalty For Writing Bad Checks

Ralph Manka, who has been employed on a Valley county road gang for several days, was in bad with the law this week. Arrested for writing non-fund checks, he spent several days in jail. Tuesday evening he made the checks good and paid a $5 fine assessed by County Judge Hollingshead, thus gaining his release. Manka's home is in Ravenna. The bad checks he wrote here were mostly given in payment for gasoline and other automobile requirements and several filling stations and garages were the victims.

New Abstract Firm Starts Business Here

When the Quiz had a story last week telling of the new insurance office which J. T. Knezacek was opening in the Marks building, we didn't know that abstracting was to be a leading part of the business. *Mr. Knezacek is establishing the Valley County Abstract Company and has an announcement in this paper which you will be interested in reading. His years of experience in the county clerk's office made him familiar with the records. He tells the Quiz that he will have his bond on file by the time this paper is read and will be ready to take care of any business that may be entrusted to his care. Joe says he don't expect to get all the business but that he will appreciate having a part of it.

Build New Chicken House

Messrs. Frank and Claybaugh, of the extension department, state agricultural college, were working at the Weller Bros. lumber yard all day Monday on a new type chicken house which will be exhibited at the Valley county fair.

John Sharp returned Friday to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Jack Rashaw, after spending a week on his farm.

—Mrs. and Mrs. J. Cass Cornell of Lincoln were guests in the country home of Mrs. and Mrs. A. W. Cornell. They had been in Anselmo to attend the funeral of Mrs. Cornell's father, F. W. Tupper.

County Board Asks Open Season On Pheasants

A ten-day open season on pheasants was requested of the state department last week by the Valley county board supervisors, at their regular monthly session. Undoubtedly the state board will approve the request.

In dispatches in state papers recently it was stated that a 30-day open season would be granted in five counties, one of which is Valley, provided the county boards favored an open season of this length. The wishes of the local supervisors for only a 10-day season probably will be heeded.

Down in Greeley county supervisors are reported to be against having any open season at all, because pheasants are eating so many grass hoppers.

7 RACING CARS SIGNED ALREADY FOR COUNTY FAIR

Supt. Baker Anticipates Best Auto Races in History; Gerber and Bagley to Renew Feud.

Seven auto racers already have signed on the dotted line to compete in auto races at the 1931 Valley county fair, which starts here the last day of August, according to the report of City Baker, superintendent of races. Inquiries from other drivers are being received daily, he says.

The seven who have already signed up are: Fred Dresselhuys, Wagner, S. D. Walt Gartner, Sioux City, Ia. James Wood, Sioux Falls, S. D. Rudy Mullinger, Sioux City, Ia. L. E. Kerbs, Ottis, Kas. John Bagley, Omaha. A. L. Spillman, Cold Valley, Ill.

The Kerbs car this year is being driven by Sam Hoffman, big 1929 winner on the Ord track, Baker says.

While he has not yet received the entry of Johnny Gerber, big winner last year, Baker is told by other race drivers that Gerber is planning to compete here. His coming will bring about a renewal of the Bagley-Gerber-Hoffman feud.

Walt Gartner, who will make his first appearance in Ord this year, is bringing an Oakland 8 special, with which he competed in the Indianapolis classic in 1930. He didn't win the big event but placed well toward the top and Baker believes that he may be the "dark horse" of this year's Ord races.

Nearly $3,000 in purses will be distributed to racers here this year and a faster field than ever before should be attracted to the Valley county fair.

Court House Bonds Re-funded By Board

The matter of re-funding $67,000 of outstanding and unpaid court-house and jail bonds was taken up by Valley county supervisors last week at their regular monthly meeting and the contract was awarded to the U. S. National Bank of Omaha. Under the new arrangement the bonds bear 3 3/4 per cent interest payable annually and optional on any interest date. The bank received a brokerage fee of $725 for re-funding the bonds. Several other bidders made proposals but the U. S. National Bank's proposal was thought to be the best. Valley county will save the difference between 4% and 3% per cent interest under the new arrangement.

Verzal Installs Well To Irrigate

Last Friday Charley Verzal, who lives west of Ord, started pumping water from a $3,000 irrigation well completed for him the day before by J. N. Johnson, of Burwell. Since then Mr. Verzal has been irrigating continuously. His new well is more than 100 feet deep and a six inch stream of water is pumped from it, more than 600 gallons a minute, he estimates. He has 160 acres of corn and most of it is irrigable, though a small portion lies east of the railway tracks and cannot be irrigated.

Got the Wrong 'Jerry'

An item clipped from the Burwell Tribune and printed in last week's Quiz told about an auto accident which happened to "Jerry Jablonski." This should have read "Jerry Zulkoski."

Another Bee Demonstration

O. S. Bare, extension entomologist from Lincoln, was in Ord again Tuesday and led another bee demonstration on the Frank Vothel farm. About fifteen Valley county bee-keepers were present.

—Mrs. Emmett Moon and son, Bill, of Taylor were visiting with the George Satterfield family from Wednesday until the 29th of last week. Mr. Moon drove down and spent Sunday and his family accompanied him home.

Eugene is back on the job this week and this department is as far as I will furnish copy. The past three weeks have been rather strenuous for me because it had been quite a while since I had the whole responsibility of the paper. I have a mighty loyal and helpful crew however, Mrs. Chapman, Harry McBeth, Howard Jones and Kent Ferris and they were right on the job all the time. A person not familiar with newspaper work cannot realize the hundreds of things that have to be done every week to make the finished product come out on time Thursday morning and it is having helpers, not only interested but who have been on the job for years, that makes it possible to get the job done.

The Missus and I are going to leave this week end for Cullen lake to spend ten days or two weeks. The boys had pretty good success fishing but the old man can show them several tricks about the fishing game yet and I expect to send home some boxes of fish that will make their eyes stick out. I only wish it was possible to send each Valley county Quiz subscriber a nice mess of those crappies.

So far as that is concerned I don't really need to go to Cullen to get fish. Jess Kovanda walked in Thursday morning and handed me a 4-pound catfish all dressed and ready for the frying pan and we had it that day for dinner and it was about the best fish we have had in a long time. Jess is catching all the catfish he wants right along. Yes, and he had no more than gone when Col Weller came in with a package of nice, tender beet, just the right size to cook and make pickles of and there is nothing I like much better either.

I am about the only one in our family that likes honey and I am always buying some from Frank Vodehnal or Port Dunlap. Last fall or in the winter when I got some comb honey from Frank, I told him I wanted some of the first that he took off this summer and one day last week he brought me five pounds. I asked the Missus to make hot biscuits for supper that night and I had a real feast. Frank says it is sweet clover honey. It is the whitest, prettiest honey I have seen in years and so mild and nice that I believe I could eat a pound of it without hurting me. I am going to have Frank bring me some more as I like it better than the later honey, which will be stronger when one can buy such honey at 10 cents a card and get his Missus to make hot biscuits to go with it, well I don't know what there is left to desire in the eating line.

What do you think of the proposed new political party. I don't think it will amount to a tinker's damn. For the most part the promoters are a bunch of soreheads who are not only political failures but business failures as well. They have failed to realize their political ambitions through the old parties so are going to try and organize a new one.

A man who has been trusted with one of the highest positions in his government and who violates that trust, should be punished severely. Albert Fall violated such a trust, turning hundreds of thousands and probably millions of dollars worth of the resources of this nation over to a great oil company and was found guilty of accepting a hundred thousand dollars in cold cash from the head of that oil company. After ten years of delay he has been sent to prison for a year. Oh no, he was not put in prison like any other prisoner, but when he came out he was escorted to a special room with all the comforts and luxuries that money can furnish. And immediately the daily press announces that the department of justice at Washington has started an investigation of the Fall case to see why he should not be pardoned. Will Hoover pardon him? I don't know but I wouldn't doubt it a bit. Now with this story in mind watch the press of the country brag about how quickly some bum who steals a meal of victuals is tried and convicted and sent up for ten years. What makes criminals and disrespect for the laws? It is not hard to tell. This is supposed to be a country where all are equal but no matter who the man is who has plenty of money, he can usually get out almost any scrape. The only fellow who needs worry about the laws is the poor devil who has no money to fight with.

I heard a fellow talking about the hard times the other day and he said it was going to be worse this winter than in 1894. Bosh! I heard an old timer say that in the winter of 1894-95 they sometimes got so short of grub that all they had was jackrabbits with sliced ears and tails to fry the meat in, no grease or fat or butter and flour. No corn to make meal of. The people were largely new settlers and nothing was raised that year. Now the country is full of corn and wheat even if we don't raise the best corn crop in years, which I still believe we will. True wheat is only 30c a bushel but wheat at that price and corn at 35c or even 25c when we have the corn is better than corn at a dollar with no corn to sell. It is no doubt true that none of us are going to make any money this year but I believe we will be able to keep doing a little business and eat three times a day and it will do most of us good to eat a lot less than heretofore, anyhow.

The report that it was so hot down at the Ord Seed house last week that when a sparrow ate a few kernels of popcorn, the corn popped and the sparrow exploded and blew a corner of the crib out is found to be entirely without foundation.

The following is taken from Fred Howard's column in the Clay Center Sun.

"I have slept with three different girls this week and I find that they are all about the same. They don't like to go to bed, they are unimpaired of a bed mate's rights, they are fearful of somebody or something looking in the window, they kick and toss, they wait until you are well on your way to sound sleep and then suddenly discover that they must have a drink of water immediately, then just as you are about to abandon the project and go sleep in the garage, they slip soft arms about your neck and say, 'night, papa' and all is over until at the first peep of dawn you wake with a start to find a wild Indian astride you shouting that it is time to get up. Boys are much better bed fellows unless allowed to gorge on water melons before going to bed. When this happens they're all wet, too."

Majestic's Amazing New-Day Battery Radio

Is now on display at The Capron Agency. Being intended for use in farm homes, this new radio is, naturally, powered by batteries, but it should not be confused with the battery-operated radios of the past. It bears no resemblance to them, either in appearance or performance. It looks like an electric set, is operated like an electric set and, best of all, performs like an electric set. This new Majestic Super-heterodyne brings to the farm home the kind of radio reception hitherto thought possible only with powerful light-socket powered receivers, BUT IT DOES NOT USE A STORAGE BATTERY, and is free from the weaknesses and limitations of dry battery operation. Come in and hear the finest battery set ever offered the radio public.

Something Different

This is being written at Cullen Lake, Minnesota.

Lots of things are different here and lots of them would interest the people of Ord and Quiz readers in general.

Frinstance, these:
Lula Jeanette Clements going in swimming six times a day. Her perfect coat of brown, not tan.
Charlotte Blessing mischievously getting Jeanette to holler "Help" and go under water, two or three times in succession. Result—an excited exodus of elders from the Clements cottage who sternly reprimanded the little crier of woe to the house.
—while Charlotte swam sternly on, chuckling up the scanty sleeve of her bathing suit.

Gene going out to take a bath in the lake, cake of soap in hand, wearing H. D.'s bathing suit, a big tan flannel one which hung on while Gene scoured around inside of it.

Those who have occasional enthusiastic stories about fishing up here perhaps dream that the luscious meals of fried fish simply leap on to the hooks lowered to them, anytime of day or any day. Such is not the case.

When the hot sun are just right, the temperature suits, time of day and a few other little details, such as bait happen to please the fish, if you fish where the fish are, you will probably get a good catch easily.

But of course there are often times when you think the fish will and should bite.

Or, according to the old Leggett family wheeze: "You have to be smarter than the fish are."

On the pretty green-bordered drive to Brainard from our cottage, close beside the Tarvia is an odd mall box, perched at the end of a curved, peeled and polished branch stuck into the ground. It is a beautiful, golden brown in color, oiled, I think. But the cutest thing about it is a tiny duplicate for some lucky child another little naturally curved standard exactly like the big one, also topped by a mail box, close to the mama mailbox.

A beautiful new Catholic church has just been put into use at Pequot, a town smaller than Brainard and nearer our camp. This church is built of oiled logs that have been peeled and smoothed down.

The effect is a beautiful golden honey colored church, set against the green background it deserves.

Pequot, incidentally, is the village nearest to Bresky Point Lodge, famous for its elite clientele and because it is owned by millionaire Captain Billy Fawcett of "Whiz Bang" magazine renown.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Irrigation is apt to be profitable under ordinary conditions. The conditions found on Evert Smith's farm are more than favorable. Evert has no well expense, and his ditch cost amounts to little or nothing. There is plenty of alkali-free water in his creek. It is available at all times, and requires but little lift.

The soil is neither too porous nor too sticky. Here exist none of the difficult and expensive leveling problems usually found in connection with irrigation. Nature seems to have given the Loup Valley just the topography and slope that irrigation requires.

The cost of Smith's entire irrigating outfit, including pump and pipes, did not exceed $500. This type of plant should last about twenty years. It waters thirty-five acres and could readily cover more. It is driven by a tractor on which the depreciation should not exceed 50 cents per driven hour. The pump throws from 1200 to 1700 gallons of water per minute, and waters about an acre an hour, putting on over three inches of water. The kerosene and fuel is about 30 cents per acre. The above data can be listed as follows:

Depreciation of pump$25.00
Depreciation of tractor 17.50
Interest on investment 20.00
Kerosene and oil 10.50
Total, per year$73.00

The irrigating cost, exclusive of labor, is about two dollars per acre.

When Mr. Smith commenced this project last year, conditions were very unfavorable. The corn was badly burned when he got started. It began to rain at the same time, and continued to rain during the rest of the season. Then the market price of corn dropped.

Yet he made a handsome profit. His fifteen acres of irrigated popcorn yielded three thousand pounds as compared with a thousand pounds, which was a fair yield last fall for ordinary uncontracted popcorn. Even at a cent a pound, Smith's increase in yield due to irrigation was worth $300 on his popcorn alone.

Irrigation, as performed on this farm, is comparatively easy work. No doubt Mr. Smith finds relief in not having to worry about lack of rain. It would give any farmer a feeling of satisfaction right now to be able to flood his thirsty corn rows.

QUIZ FORUM

Edna Dowhower Writes.

Dear Quiz:
I'm not writing in very scarce; and I am snatching an hour this afternoon at our camp on the Tri-State fairgrounds here at Memphis, to try to give you a picture of our journey.

We were a happy bunch of Omahians from Maine to Texas, who boarded the big orange and green buses at Wichita that took us to Fort Smith, Ark. that day. Members from Wyoming for instance, sang their state song, Nebraska answered. Then Oregon chimed in, and don't think that the Missourians were outdone with "Show Me." Then and there I think that everyone of us realized that the old U. S. A. is not so large after all and that a Pennsylvanian is just as human as a Nebraskan. It was an experience which I shall never forget. An Arkansas mountaineer boy, picked up on the first expedition, and who yodels over KFH entertained us for a few minutes and then we were off.

I am not going to say much about KFH, because I shall never forget an Arkansas mountaineer boy, picked up on the first expedition, and who yodels over KFH entertained us for a few minutes and then we were off.

I am not going to say much about KFH, because I shall never forget an Arkansas mountaineer boy, picked up on the first expedition, and who yodels over KFH entertained us for a few minutes and then we were off.

Just outside of Ponca City is the immense estate of Maryland, a multimillionaire oil man. It is surrounded by shrubbery and covered with native trees; the oak, elm and yewmore. Near the center of this estate is his palatial million dollar home. Leading from this home to the south end is a broad curving drive bordered by flowers. Here stands the impressive bronze statue of "The Pioneer Woman." You will find this representation on Whitman's chocolates.

We had just said goodbye to Ponca City when we sighted a huge oil farm of 160 acres covered with steel tanks. The total capacity of these tanks is 110,000,000 barrels. From Ponca City on thru Oklahoma and some parts of Arkansas, oil wells, farms and refineries became so numerous that we were all glad for a change of scenery.

In a few minutes we had crossed into Osage county, the home of the old wealth, Osage Indians. At Pawhuska we found old Bacon Rind, chief of the Osages, sitting on the street corner smoking a pipe. His long black hair painted pink at the crown of his head was drawn at the back and braided. His face was decorated with stripes of vermilion and yellow, set off by a large black drooping mustache, probably false, because as far as I know, the Indian has no whiskers.

His loose shirt was pink and his rawhide trousers were apple green. A pair of beaded moccasins and a multi-colored blanket hanging loosely over the shoulders and drawn carelessly about him completed his costume.

An oil station man told Tex, our guide and driver, that old Bacon Rind's oil gas and car washing bill at that place averaged fifty dollars per week. He added further that Old Bacon Rind brings in a different kind of car every day, a sport model of one kind one day, a limousine of another kind the next day and something else for each remaining day of the week. No one knows how many cars he has. It is thought that he also has innumerable wives, but Indian fashion, he leaves them at home.

On leaving Pawhuska our discussion of Indians led to Scotchmen and to complete matters someone popped up with a story about the Scotchman, who tried his bacon in Lux so that it wouldn't shrink. Maybe this one is old but it made us laugh. I hope you readers will enjoy it too.

Oklahoma has red, sandy soil which is very poor for farming, in sections where it predominates. But why bother about farming land where there is plenty of oil. The hills on the gently rolling country are covered by oak. As we journeyed down into the southeastern part of the state soil became better, more vegetation flourished and the country looked very prosperous. Here we found good cotton, corn, cane, sweet potatoes and fine orchards. The sandstone uplifts and valleys were covered with such trees as pecan, sycamore, catalpa, persimmon and oak. The trumpet vine which we find in Nebraska gardens grows wild here. That yuletide mistletoe is also clinging around trees in abundance.

Tired, hungry and dirty we pulled into a nice camp at Fort Smith, cleaned up and made a dash to the "chuck" wagon of our autocade where Rosie had a nice supper waiting for us.

Now there's nothing in a name because Rosie is a man. He teaches somewhere down in Texas, when he's not cooking. Rosie has a lot of grief because his "chuck" buss sometimes breaks down, or a mischief maker starts a rumor that he has hot biscuits ready. About 150 come rushing up and he gets all bothered. Once in a while somebody by way of diversion, steals a lot of oranges or something else good and passes it around. The rumor has spread at night; now Rosie sleeps in his kitchen and swiping is no more. He has two negro assistants, Saboy and Skeeter. They are typical Alabama negroes of a higher type and they attend the Polytechnic Institute at Alabama during the winter months. I doubt however, if you could get them to move any faster if you set their coat-tails on fire.

Our next journey took us to Little Rock, Ark. This drive we passed over miles and miles of semi-mountainous country covered by oak, pecan and some southern pine. In small patches the ground had been cleared and a little cotton or corn grew. The mountaineer's dilapidated. Sometimes they have only three sides. All the way from six to a dozen or more ragged children come running out when they hear a car on the road. Grown folks never seem to have anything to do. They are always sitting on porches looking for something from the outside world to pass down the highway. I don't believe I've seen a single person reading. School houses are a very rare sight. The barn yard usually consists of an old mule or two looking out from under a roughly constructed shed. Sometimes there is a pig to keep the mule company. Chickens are absent.

There is so much to tell you about the last day of our journey from Little Rock to Memphis. The first time I will tell you about Memphis, cotton and negroes. It's getting late and the whistle blows for a camp meeting. Tomorrow morning we leave for Chattanooga. I'm so tired that I could sleep on a pile of rocks. But I'm as happy and carefree as a vagabond. Yes, we get bugs, etc. in our lemonade; but what does that matter. Goodbye until next week.

Sincerely, Edna Dowhower.

Here is the way Mrs. H. D. Leggett made a delightful two quart lemon pineapple sherbet one hot evening this week. Don't you want to try it on your feverish family tonight?

Lemon Pineapple Sherbet.
2 c. sugar brought to a boil in 1 c. water. Stir together the syrup made above, a medium sized can of crushed pineapple, 1 lemon's juice, 1 qt. of cold water. Put into the freezer and chill thoroughly. Then add the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Turn rapidly again until it firms.

Mrs. H. D. Leggett.

Then here is a recipe for some good cookies. Have some on hand, to simplify the last minute planning of picnics or hot afternoon's cooling refreshments.

Chocolate Drop Cookies.
1 c. brown sugar (white will do), 1/4 c. shortening (melted), 1/4 c. sour milk, 2 eggs well beaten or 4 egg yolks, 1 1/2 c. flour, 1 tsp. soda, 2 sqs. chocolate, 1 c. cut or chopped nuts, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1/4 tsp. salt.
Melt chocolate. Beat the eggs and add the sugar gradually. Then put in the melted shortening, melted chocolate, vanilla, salt and milk. Beat this mixture well. Add the flour and soda which have been sifted. Lastly add the nut meats. Drop on greased cookie tins and bake in a modern oven.

Miss Marie Boyce, R. 1, Ord. Now here is a recipe that is surely different, a sort of a one-dish dinner. Try it on your hungry men-folks.

Spaghetti Mealcan.
1 pkg. spaghetti, 1 can pork and beans, 1 1/2 lbs. hamburger, 1 large can tomatoes, 2 medium onions, 1 green pepper. Salt and pepper to taste, 1/4 tsp. red pepper.

Cook the spaghetti in the least water possible. Brown the onions, pepper and hamburger, then add the tomatoes. Add these to the cooked spaghetti. Lastly the pork and beans and 1 tsp. butter.

This Woman Lost 64 Pounds of Fat

Mrs. H. Price of Woodside, L. I. writes: "A year ago I weighed 190 lbs. I started to take Kruschen and now I weigh 126 and never felt better in my life and what's more, I look more like 20 yrs. old than the mother of 2 children, one 19 and one 13. Every one of my friends says it's marvelous the way I reduced."

To lose fat with speed take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—don't miss a morning—35 cents a bottle. Lasts 4 weeks—get it at any drug store in America. If not joyfully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

Lester Bouma was called to Grand Island last Wednesday for services in the army. Lester has been employed on the Charlie Gartside farm the past year. He is listed at Grand Island two weeks ago.

Not only is the Maytag built for lifetime service, but the one-piece, cast-aluminum tub, the roller water remover and many other features were originated by Maytag and are distinctively Maytag in their application and results.

Christian Science. The subject of the Lesson-Sermon read at all Christian Science churches and societies on Sunday, July 26, was "Truth." The object of the citations read is to turn the attention away from any attempt to identify God as a corporeal being, and to fix it on the unchangeable, ever-dependable qualities of divine Principle, whom the Bible refers to as Truth, which name is used interchangeably with several other synonyms for God.

One of the selections read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (p.322), is as follows: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of life, the control of soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle." One of the Biblical selections read is in part, "He is the Rock, his work is perfect; for all his ways are judgment; a God of truth and without iniquity, just and right is he." (Deuteronomy 32:4)

NO RAIN-- NO GRASS

Cream Checks Decrease Fast One Pound of No. 1 Butterfat Worth Is 21c

THEREFORE, (According to local grain market) One Pound of Butterfat is worth as much as 3-4 of a bushel of wheat or 1/2 bushel of corn or 1 bushel barley or 4-5 of a bushel of rye or 1 and 1-6 bushels of oats.

Pastures are getting short and cows must have feed to keep up on their milk flow and produce BUTTERFAT.

Storage holdings of butter in the United States are TWENTY MILLION pounds less than at this time last year. Butter markets should be better from now on.

Market your grain and hay in the form of BUTTERFAT and haul it to town in a cream can. In Other Words:—

Keep Those Cows Producing by Feeding Them Grain and Hay

A milk cow will manufacture a good many pounds of BUTTERFAT out of any of the above portions of grain if fed to her intelligently. You can sell your grain and hay at a good price if you feed it to good milk cows.

OUR PLAN OF BUYING CREAM ON GRADE IS MEETING WITH THE APPROVAL OF OVER 98% of our Patrons and we are getting about 90% of fine No. 1 cream. If it wasn't for this fact we wouldn't be paying 21c for butterfat when the state station price is 16c.

Water Cools Cream 21 Times Faster Than Air

The greatest help to high quality cream, next to thoroughly clean pails, cans, separator and other utensils, is quick cooling of cream right after separation and then keeping it cool until it is delivered.

LARGE VOLUME has made it possible for us to keep cream prices comparatively high. If you appreciate the fact that you can sell your cream for 21c while producers in some parts of the state are only getting 16c, show your appreciation by selling us your cream and in this way help us maintain our volume during the late summer and fall months so that greater returns will be possible.
