VOL. 50 NO. 28

FIVE PIONEERS TO GREAT BEYOND IN SINGLE WEEK

Three Old Ord Residents, Two From Arcadia, Are Laid To Rest After Busy Lives.

Five pioneer residents of Valley county, all of whom were active in contributing to the upbuilding of the communities where they lived, passed away during the last week. One of them had lived in Valley county sixty years and all had lived here almost a half century. Those claimed by the grim reaper were John Elliott Drake, who came here in 1876, Mrs. Emil Fuss, a resident of Ord since 1876, since 1884, Mrs. Katerina Benda, who came to Ord in 1883, Frederick Carmody, a resident of Arcadia since 1884, and Mrs. James P. Lee, wife of the man from whom Lee Park got its name, who came to Arcadia in the early '70's.

Mr. Drake was a homesteader. Mrs. Fuss, Mrs. Benda and Mrs. Lee were wives of homesteaders. All of them lived to see the farms where they first made their homes increase in value a hundred fold. All five of the pioneers who died this week suffered the hardships that went with pioneering, and all five, also, in later years enjoyed the blessings that came from their early toil.

All of these early settlers leave descendants who are carrying on the work their parents began in Valley county and the sympathy of every Quiz reader will go out to these people in their hour of grief. Obituary notices follow:

MRS. EMIL FUSS.

Pauline Fick was born March 31, 1859 in Germany, was baptized in the Evangelical Lutheran church and on Palm Sunday was confirmed by Pastor Ruhland. She left Germany and came to York, Neb., on Nov. 2, 1876 and on December 27 of that year was married to Emil Fuss.

Until the spring of 1884 Mr. and Mrs. Fuss made their home in York but moved at that time to Valley county where they lived on a farm in Mira Valley until July, 1929 when they moved to Ord.

Death came to Mrs. Fuss at 12:30 a. m. Sept. 25, 1931, at the age of 72 years, 5 months and 24 days. She leaves to mourn her going her husband, one son, Otto, two daughters, Mrs. Ray Harding and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer, all of Ord, and five grandchildren. Five children preceded their mother in death, four in infancy and one son, Herbert, who died Oct. 25, 1918 while serving his country during the World war.

Short funeral services were held for Mrs. Fuss at Frazier's undertaking parlors at 1:15 p. m. Monday, Sept. 28, and at 2 p. m. in the Evangelical church, Mira Valley, in charge of Rev. Wm. Bahr. She had been a member of this church for 35 years and also was a member of the Ladies Aid. She was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery beside her son Herbert.

MRS. KATERINA BENDA.

Katerina Hanuska was born Nov. 25, 1857 in Sirkovice, Czechoslovakia, and passed away at her home in Ord at 9:25 a. m. Sept. 28, 1931, after an illness of two months.

She came to the United States on July 4, 1882 and in August of the same year she was married to Jan Benda. They lived near St. Paul, Neb., for a year and then moved to Valley county, settling on a farm near Woodman hall, which was their home until 1911, when they moved to Ord. Mr. Benda passed away in September, 1920.

To Mr. and Mrs. Benda were born five children, one boy, John, dying at the age of twelve. Those who survive are Mrs. Mary Klancecky, Sargent, and Joe Benda, Frank Benda and Mrs. Katie Ptacnik, all of Ord. Mrs. Benda also leaves one sister, Mrs. Jos. Smolik, also of Ord.

Mrs. Benda was a devout Catholic and funeral services were held at the Ord church at 10 a. m. yesterday, Father Lawler having charge. Burial was made in St. Mary's cemetery.

JOHN ELLIOTT DRAKE.

John Elliott Drake was born June 12, 1855 in Steuben county, New York, and passed away at 5 p. m. Sept. 27, 1931, at the D. E. Strong home in Springdale township. In 1876 Mr. Drake homesteaded in Springdale township and this community has been his home ever since, until his sudden death from heart failure last Sunday.

He was married here Oct. 2, 1879 to Miss Jennie Everson, who preceded him in death Sept. 4, 1915. He is survived by five children, Lulu Drake, Ozona, Ark., Cecil Drake, Scotta, Earl Drake, Glen Drake and Mrs. Thead Miller, Arcadia. One daughter died when a child. One sister, Mrs. D. E. Strong, Ord, and one brother, Geo. Drake, Iowa Point, Kas., also survive.

Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. yesterday in the Methodist church, Rev. W. H. Wright officiating. Pall-bearers were Haws Timmerman, John McLain, Jonas VanWie, L. D. Pierce, Elmer King

Farm Bureau Banquet Postponed To Oct. 8th

The annual Valley county farm bureau baseball league banquet, which originally was scheduled for October 1, has been postponed until Thursday evening, October 8, announces County Agent Dale. Mr. Newton W. Gaines, who will give the principal speech, was unable to come to Ord tonight, which is the reason for the postponement. League officers are anxious that a large crowd of players and fans attend the banquet next Thursday. A very complete program of entertainment will be offered, including a dinner, program and dance with music by a 10-piece orchestra. Tickets may be secured from any county manager. If you do not secure a ticket in advance come anyway and you will be welcome, league officers say.

1ST MEETING OF PROJECT CLUBS COMES OCT. 6TH

Convenient Home Equipment Will Be Demonstrated by Miss Woodman.

Valley county women who are enrolled in extension clubs this year are going to learn the secrets of having convenient home equipment through their project work, according to County Agent Dale. Miss Genevieve Woodman, specialist from the college of agriculture, will conduct the project in Valley county.

Each club will send two project leaders and their president to the initial meeting to be held here Oct. 6 by Miss Woodman. She will explain the project to the leaders and outline the work for the year. The leaders in turn take the work back to their individual clubs.

A demonstration on the simple tricks of household work will be given for the first lesson in October. The women will learn how they can save time and energy in doing their cooking, serving meals, making beds, planning work and other household tasks.

At the second meeting, which will be held on the following day, the women will be shown how to use the ironing board and how to select ironing equipment and a simple method of ironing and folding a man's shirt.

At the third meeting the women will study kitchen cutlery. Miss Woodman will tell them how to choose their knives, how to sharpen knife sharpeners, meat tenders and shears for their household.

An especially full program is planned for both the men and women leaders at the fourth meeting. The men will bring pliers to the meeting and make a kitchen labor saver. Ivan D. Wood, state extension engineer, will give a demonstration on comfort in the home at low cost. The leaders will also plan for the local community program.

Inexpensive improvements for paint and cupboard will be demonstrated at the next meeting by the specialist. Refrigeration problems will also be discussed. Plans for the county wide achievement day program will be made at the sixth and last meeting. At the same time the women will discuss the operation and care of stoves. First aid in case of being overcome by gas or an electric shock will also be demonstrated.

And C. E. McGrew, all of them old friends of the deceased. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

FREDERICK CARMODY.

Arcadia, Sept. 28.—(Special)—Funeral services for Frederick Carmody, who passed away Sept. 23 at Elkhart, Ind., were held at the Catholic church here Saturday morning and Mrs. Lee was laid to rest in Lee Park cemetery. Born Jan. 1, 1861 near Burlington Ia., Mary Brown came to Arcadia in the early '70's and was united in marriage Jan. 1, 1880 to James P. Lee, who was the first settler in Lee Park. He and his wife lived on a homestead there until they moved into Arcadia a number of years ago. Mr. Lee passed away in 1928 and Mrs. Lee was at the home of a son, George, when death came. She also leaves seven other children, three of whom, James Edward and Mark, live in this vicinity.

2ND TOOL THIEF CHANGES PLEA, IS GIVEN SENTENCE

Earl Alexander, Pool Shark And Once Hoppe's Partner, Gets 3 Years in Reformatory.

From the felt-covered tables of pool and billiard tournaments where he played against Willie Hoppe, Welker Cochran and other top-notchers, to a cell in the Nebraska reformatory is a long distance but that's the path taken by Earl Alexander, who in district court here last Saturday pleaded guilty to burglary and was sentenced to three years in the Nebraska reformatory by Judge E. P. Clements. Roy Sanders, Alexander's partner, had been sentenced to the penitentiary a few days previous.

For more than two weeks Alexander, who is 29 years old, stuck to his claim that he was innocent of complicity in various tool thefts staged in Ord and North Loup. But his story wavered and broke down when Sanders confessed and implicated him in the confession. Alexander still maintained his innocence until Saturday, when he told County Attorney Munn he was ready to plead guilty.

In district court about 6 p. m., Alexander took the stand before Judge Clements and told the story of his life. He is a druggist in an Oklahoma town, he said, but after completing the ninth grade in high school Alexander left home and has been traveling ever since.

He is an accomplished pool and billiard player, the man claimed, and once teamed up with Willie Hoppe giving exhibitions. He also appeared in numerous pool and billiard tournaments, he claimed. Besides being a pool shark he is a smart gambler and made his living with these two accomplishments for many years. In connection with Alexander admitted participation in one of the Ord tool robberies, the theft of tools from L. D. Pierce. However, he admitted helping Sanders sell tools stolen from Joe Lota, Clement Furtak and Otto Bahr.

Norfolk a few months ago Alexander was shot as he was leaving a garage with an arm load of tools and he still bears the bullet received in this encounter. He escaped the affair without being prosecuted.

In his testimony Saturday young Alexander admitted that his health is so poor because of the ravages of a social disease that he is unable to do any work and can scarcely eat. Judge Clements took this fact into account in sentencing him to the reformatory instead of the state penitentiary.

County Attorney George A. Munn told the Quiz Monday that he is glad Alexander was sentenced to the reformatory. The young man is of a vindictive nature and had threatened to get his partner, Sanders, for "scalping" on him. With the two in different penal institutions the possibility of a clash is eliminated, Mr. Munn believes.

Collison Installs New Machinery Flour Mill Here

Oliver Collison, manager of the Ord Milling Company, returned last week from Chicago where he had been attending a convention of millers. While there he purchased some new machinery for the Ord mills and this machinery will be installed within the next few days. Oliver Collison purchased other machinery in the eastern part of the state recently and this also will be installed at once. He is working to make the Ord mill entirely modern and expects to turn out a good grade of flour as can be made anywhere.

Finley Car Tips Over.

While they were returning from an errand to the John Lunney home Tuesday afternoon, the car in which Maynard and Stanton Finley were riding overturned and both boys were bruised and cut considerably. Maynard was unconscious for a time but was up and around yesterday. A flat tire just as they drove down a hill caused the upset. The car was quite badly damaged.

Enthusiastic Crowd Attends Pep Picnic

A large and enthusiastic crowd attended the picnic and pep meeting held Sunday at The Narrows, south of Comstock, for the purpose of arousing interest in obtaining a state park at that place. Picnic dinners were enjoyed at noon, after which a fine program was given. M. L. Pries, of Arcadia, presided as chairman and two of the speeches were given by members of the state park and game commission. E. R. Purcell, Broken Bow, and Webb Rice, Norfolk. Both spoke favorably of the possibilities of securing a state park at The Narrows and said they would do all in their power to bring it about. A committee with Vernon Krikorian, as chairman was appointed to further plans and report at a later date.

ROTARIANS AND TEACHERS ENJOY DINNER MONDAY

More Than 100 Present At Annual Banquet, Hear Fine Program of Speeches, Music.

More than 100 Rotarians and wives, Ord teachers, and school board members and their wives were present Monday evening at the Rotary-Teacher banquet served in the banquet room of the Masonic temple. This dinner, which is an annual affair, had been looked forward to eagerly by everybody eligible to attend and the festivities Monday evening were generally enjoyed.

The dinner was served at table arranged in the form of a horseshoe and within a few moments after guests had found their places the room was a happy belfry, for horns, squawkers and whistles had been provided, as well as toy balloons and serpentine and fetch.

After a fine three-course dinner served by the able New Cafe staff, guests settled down to hear an enjoyable program of speeches, musical selections and readings given under the direction of Iri D. Tolén.

Carl C. Dale, president of the Rotary club, was the first speaker and in his usual droll manner he extended a hearty welcome to the guests. Ralph W. Norman, on behalf of the guests, responded with a fitting minute talk in which he stressed the desirability of closer co-operation between parents and the schools. Mr. Norman quoted figures on the cost of education in Ord in making his meaning clear.

"Slants of a Rotary-Ann" was the topic assigned to Mrs. Clarence M. Lewis and she handled it in a capable manner, making her remarks briskly and with a good humor that captured her audience. Miss Daisy Hallen's talk, "Peepsight View of a Teacher," also was listened to with attention and enjoyment.

The dinner and orchestra thorough-out the dinner and musical numbers afterwards included a solo by Elva Bloodgood and a pair of violin duets by Horace Travis and Orville H. Sowl. Miss Elsie Frederickson was Miss Bloodgood's accompanist while Mrs. Eva Sowl presided at the piano during the violin duets.

Miss Elsie Frederickson revealed talent as a reader with two humorous readings, one of which she composed herself. Both of these readings were applauded fervently.

Before and after the formal program, Rotarians and guests enjoyed getting acquainted and though the program ended at 10 p. m. it was almost a half hour later before guests departed. The affair was one of the most successful ever sponsored by the Ord Rotary club.

WILL NOT HELP 60c CORN MOVE, BUREAU DECIDES

High Priced Corn Bad For Valley Co. Farmers Unless Meat and Dairy Prices Raise.

Maintaining that 60c corn would be ruinous to Valley county farmers should this price be established by artificial means, the Valley county farm bureau has refused to assist in the project started by Gov. Dan Turner of Iowa and sponsored in Nebraska by Mark W. Woods, of Lincoln.

Farm bureaus in many counties of Nebraska are falling in with the Turner 60c corn plan and circulating petitions designed to get farmers to agree not to sell a single bushel of this grain until the 60c price is paid. Iowa and Illinois farmers are being organized along similar lines.

A statement issued yesterday by County Agent Dale, speaking for the farm bureau, says:

"The local farm bureau has been asked to circulate petitions with the object in view of trying to raise the price of corn to 60c per bushel. Officers of the bureau realize that the prices of farm products are entirely too low, but also are keeping in view the local situation.

"Valley county does not have enough corn to feed the hogs and cattle that we have on our farms, and that should be fed in this county. Our great source of income here is livestock and livestock products. Wm. Henck, manager of the Farmers Grain & Supply Company, estimates that the company will ship into the county around 200 carloads of corn.

"With feeder cattle prices as low as they are today and corn as cheap as it is there is some hope that thousands of cattle going into the feed-lots of the county may show a profit when marketed.

"A large number of Valley county farmers will be forced to buy corn to be fed out to the hogs they have raised. With hogs selling in Omaha at the 35 mark for tops, how could a feeder make money on 60c corn?

"The question of prices on farm products has too many angles to be remedied by trying to raise the price on one product and ignoring all the others. If price levels are ruinous to the farmer but 60c corn will not help Valley county unless there is an advance in prices along the line in meat and dairy products."

Little Clochon Girl Wins Fight For Life

Well on the road to recovery from an attack of deadly gas bacillus infection, Norma Jean Clochon, tiny daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clochon, is probably the happiest little girl in Valley county today, even though she will have to go through life with only one arm. A steady stream of friends and well-wishers have been visiting her the last few days at Hillcrest hospital, where she is under the care of Dr. C. W. Weekes.

Norma Jean owes her life to an antitoxin rushed here from Omaha when Dr. Weekes diagnosed her illness as gas bacillus. After the first shot of antitoxin she appeared to feel better and with the second dose her improvement really started.

The little girl's arm became infected with gas bacillus, a rare ailment, after it was broken when Norma fell from a feed rack in her father's feed lot. Dr. Weekes operated the arm above the elbow when the infection first appeared. He will have to perform another operation in a few weeks when Norma Jean's physical condition is stronger, the surgeon says, but he expects the little girl to recover rapidly from now on.

Valley Editors Meet At St. Paul

Editors of the Loup valley will hold their annual meeting tomorrow, October 2, at St. Paul, a letter from President Harold Sorenson, Danneberg, and Secretary Grace Roof, North Loup, says. Prominent on the program will be a talk by Fred Andersen, the "miracle merchant" of Cozad, who spoke in Ord several years ago. Officers will be elected and other business taken up.

Congressman Simmons Here.

Congressman Bob Simmons was in Ord for a few hours last Thursday and was interviewed at the court house by a number of people who had matters they wanted taken care of in the national capital. The congressman spent part of the summer in Alaska and looks and feels very fit. He will go to Washington, D. C., in a few weeks.

Leroy Noll Bitten by Dog.

Leroy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Noll, was bitten on the cheek by his pet dog yesterday afternoon. He was brought to Dr. F. A. Bartel for treatment.

Philbrick Is Caught With Pheasant

Wm. Philbrick, young Olean farmer, was arrested Saturday evening by Game Warden Bert Lashmett for possession of a pheasant, and in county court this week will be charged with illegal hunting. Mr. Philbrick has not been arraigned because of the absence of County Judge Hollingshead, who had an operation last Wednesday and has not been able to return to his duties. The Quiz understands that Philbrick is alleged to have shot the bird on his own farm but he was driving along the highway near the Paddock place in company with Ernest Smith when he was placed under arrest by the game warden.

Dr. Nay At Convention.

Dr. Leo C. Nay left Sunday for North Platte where he is attending a state convention of osteopaths. He was accompanied by his brother, Dr. Wilbert Nay, of Albion. They returned to Ord last night.

HUNTERS SCRIPT NOW ON SALE IN CLERK'S OFFICE

Book of Five Coupons Costs $2.50 And Is Good for 5 Birds; Season Open Oct. 13.

Hunters script is now on sale in the office of County Clerk Ign. Kilma, Jr., at $2.50 per book of five coupons, the same price as charged everywhere in Nebraska. A book of five coupons entitles any hunter to five pheasants which may be killed in any open county on any farm whose owner permits hunting and requires the script. The farmer is given one coupon for each pheasant killed on his place, and he cashes these coupons at the rate of 50c each.

"Any farmer living in an open county may require the use of hunters script IF HE WISHES," a statement given out by Frank O'Connell, state game warden, says. "He does not need to use it unless he desires. Neither does a hunter need to use it unless he wishes. BUT A HUNTER NOT USING SCRIPT WILL BE UNABLE TO HUNT ON A FARM WHERE SCRIPT IS REQUIRED BY THE OWNER. Nor can a hunter go on any farm, regardless of whether or not he uses script, without the permission of the owner."

Farmers wishing to use Hunters Script can obtain cards for posting their farms free from the state game commission. These cards read "Hunters Shooting Script Accepted Here." These are put up along the roads by the farm just prior to the opening of the season.

The hunter goes to a farm where script is accepted and LEAVES HIS COUPON BOOK WITH THE FARMER WHEN GOING TO THE FARM. This book shows his name, address, car number, hunting permit number, etc. Hunters are liable for any damage done on such farms.

On leaving farm, the hunter gives to the farmer one coupon for each pheasant he has killed. The farmer, upon signing these coupons, may send them in to the Game Commission office or cash them at local banks or stores. Ultimately all coupons are redeemed by the same commission.

"Any farmer who wants to close his farm entirely to hunting can do so by posting "No Hunting" or "No Trespassing" signs the same as in former years. He can post these signs to keep the general public off, then great permission to hunt to individuals, if he wishes."

The pheasant season opens October 13 at 7 a. m. and continues open until October 19 at 6 p. m. Valley, Garfield, Greeley, Sherman, Custer and other nearby counties are open for pheasant hunting on those dates.

Judge Stone Spoke Here Last Night

The Hon. V. H. Stone, who years ago was an attorney in Ord, was a speaker last evening at a mass meeting held in the high school auditorium. Mr. Stone was an early homesteader here but about 1898 he moved to Lincoln and opened a law office with Judge Coffin. Later he went to Lander, Wyo. where he practiced law for 25 years but lately he has been traveling about the country making speeches. He came to Ord under the auspices of the Middle West Utilities company, an Insull interest, by whom he has been employed for some time. Not a very large crowd heard his speech last night.

Judge Horth's Wife Hurt.

Mrs. Ralph R. Horth suffered a dislocated collar bone and body bruises and her husband, Judge Horth, suffered a cut lip and bruises Monday evening when their car hit a chuck hole and overturned east of Overton. They were taken to Grand Island by ambulance and received treatment in St. Francis hospital.

Card of Thanks.

In this way I wish to extend my thanks to all the kind friends who have sent flowers during my stay in the hospital.

HOUSE CATCHES FIRE 2ND TIME, IS DESTROYED

Frank Lukech House, Occupied By Mrs. Klancecky, Burns; Was Scene of Tragedy.

The little house in the hills west of Ord where a few years ago William Darrah shot his wife and then committed suicide was burned to the ground late Monday night. The house was owned by Frank Lukech, who was killed in a train accident. It was occupied by Mrs. Joe Klancecky and son. The fire Monday night was the second blaze in the house within three days, the first being extinguished Saturday evening by the Ord fire department.

Mrs. Klancecky was at home alone when the fire started in the basement Saturday evening. According to the story she tells, she ran to two neighboring homes to get help but found nobody at home at either place, so started to town. Part way to town she found Ralph W. Norman, deputy county attorney, who was setting his tow out to a pasture. Mrs. Klancecky speaks no English and Mr. Norman understands no Bohemian, so they came into town and found an interpreter before he could understand what she was trying to tell him. Norman then set help and the house west of town. He found that joists in the basement were ablaze and the cellar was filled with smoke, so called the Ord fire department who took the chemical wagon out and extinguished the flames.

Late Monday night Mrs. Klancecky and her son ran over to the John Sedlacek home and informed Mr. Sedlacek that their house was burning. When help reached the scene the house was burned to the ground.

How either fire started is a mystery, as Mrs. Klancecky and her son have told incoherent stories. Sheriff Round, who made an investigation after the first fire, was told that Mrs. Klancecky was going to the basement with a lamp and fell, the lamp overturning and starting the fire. This seems almost impossible, as Mr. Norman found the cellar door hooked when he visited the place and there was no indication of an overturned lamp.

The house was insured by Mr. Lukech with the C. A. Hager Co. and Mrs. Klancecky carried insurance on her furniture with the J. A. Brown agency. Insurance adjusters have not been here yet but it is stated that a thorough investigation will be made. A deputy state fire marshal also will investigate the blaze.

Since her husband's death Mrs. Klancecky has been receiving county aid and the county has been paying the rent on the house she occupied. She is said to have been very displeased because the county board did not rent her a house in town, instead of making her live in the country.

Chamber of Commerce Will Sponsor Garden Contest Next Summer

Again next summer the Ord Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a yard and garden contest, directors decided at their meeting last Thursday evening. Prize winners in the contest this summer were announced last week. It is planned to start the 1932 contest earlier in the spring, so people who expect to enter should begin now planting fall bulbs and other spring flowering plants, grass seed, shrubbery, etc. Substantial prizes will again be provided in all departments.

Directors passed a resolution last week thanking all of this year's contestants, the judges, committee members and the business people who gave prizes. The 1931 contest, which is the first ever held here, was regarded by directors as being a conspicuous success.

Card of Thanks

It is impossible for anyone except those who have suffered the loss of a loved one to understand what the kindness and sympathy of friends means to the bereaved ones. We wish in this public way to thank one and all who assisted us in any way during the sickness, death and burial of our beloved one. We especially wish to thank the Auxiliary members and those who sent flowers.

SUGGESTS COMBINED COUNTIES

At the Chamber of Commerce meeting last week C. J. Mortenson came through with a suggestion that would be an economy measure to people of four counties, providing it could be worked out. He suggested that Loup, Garfield, Wheeler and Valley counties be combined with the county seat located at Ord. One set of officers could handle the business of four counties, it is believed, and the result would be a large saving in taxes, particularly to people of the other three counties.

Neither Loup, Garfield nor Wheeler has an elaborate courthouse so combining four counties in one would save the cost of three modern buildings that will be built sooner or later if the counties remain as they are now. The Valley county courthouse is adequate to serve the needs of all four.

This change might not prove popular to a certain portion of inhabitants of three of the present county seats but the Quiz believes that it would be welcome to the rank and file of tax-payers, for it surely would mean an enormous saving in taxes. Supporting a full set of county officers is no small item for a county so sparsely settled as Loup or Wheeler.

With modern highways being built rapidly, even the most distant portions of these three counties are closer to Ord than the more distant parts of Valley county were in horse and buggy days.

Economy in government is something that must be stressed if the tax burden is ever to be reduced and a combination of four counties would be a big step in the right direction.

REFERENDUM IS WANTED.

The American Legion is the fourth great organization to come out in recent weeks for a referendum on the prohibition question. At their national convention in Detroit last week, Legionnaires voted 1,005 to 394 asking congress to submit prohibition to the states for a popular vote. The American Bar association, American Medical association and American Federation of Labor have passed similar resolutions during the past few weeks.

Is the nation really veering away from "the noble experiment"? Are the referendum resolutions of these four great bodies really straws showing the wind blowing? Wets believe they are but not Clarence True Wilson, the Methodist dry leader, hurt the cause of temperance last week when he characterized Legionnaires who voted for the resolution "a lot of staggering drunks." No other group of calling names in this crisis.

There is a nigger in the woodpile somewhere in this recent demand for beer. M. J. McDonough, president of building trade workers, said recently that legalizing 4 percent of the beer would cost a million and twelve hundred thousand men to work immediately. But figures from the census department reveal that in 1914 only 75 thousand men were employed in breweries in the United States and that in 1919 this number had decreased to ten thousand. Census figures also show that there are 6,500 men now employed by the near beer industry.

It also has been claimed that legalized beer would absorb a large share of the present grain surplus. On the other hand, census figures reveal that only 30 million bushels would be used each year and the crop this year is one billion bushels.

Legalized beer, bearing a heavy government tax, without doubt would help in making products a half or deficit but people who drank the beer would pay the tax, which is another way of saddling a heavier share of the cost of government on the common people and removing a proportionate share from the backs of the wealthy.

It seems certain that the prohibition question will be an issue, and a big one, in the coming presidential campaign. Many thinking drays are welcoming the referendum proposal because they believe that the United States will reaffirm its prohibition and thus take the question out of politics for at least another ten years.

In a new book, "Scotch," issued by Simon & Schuster, appears a compilation of 150 jokes about the thriftiness of the Scotch race. Among the more amusing are these: A Scotchman discovered a previous customer's tip beside his plate in the restaurant. He summoned the waitress. I found this tip beside my plate, she said. "I'm a sportsman—I'll match you for it." How do the police disperse riots in Aberdeen? By passing the hat. The idea for slow-motion pictures came to its inventor while watching two Scotchmen reaching for the lunch table. It was a MacTavish who sent his spats to the cobbler to be soled and heeled.

FARM BOARD OR RUSSIA?

Which is to blame for the plight of the American wheat farmer, the farm board or Russia? The federal farm board used up a half billion dollars buying 250,000,000 bushels in order to help the farmer, but the very existence of this huge surplus has been generally blamed for smashing down the price of wheat to the lowest level in several decades. On the other hand, Russia this summer increased her wheat acreage from 59 to 103 million acres and has a crop of over one billion three hundred million bushels. She will attempt to trade much of this huge crop for tractors and other modern farm machinery in order to produce a larger crop of wheat next year. Granting that the farm board's attempt to stabilize wheat prices was an ill advised experiment, is it really the fault of the farm board that wheat continues at present levels? And will wheat farming ever be a profitable business again. A pair of questions for you to answer.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

A number of people have been in lately to ask for back papers to get some certain recipe which has been run, saying they mislaid their paper before clipping the recipe. I assume that a lot of people clip and preserve the recipes. And that reminds me that we have started preparing for the 1932 calendar. It will be similar to the one this year but we hope to make it nicer. We should be able to do so in the light of the experience of last year. We will make one for every Quiz subscriber and if you don't get yours it will be your own fault. Recipes for the 1932 calendar will be selected from those printed in the paper during this year.

And, by the way, if some of the famous cooks, when sending their cookie or pie recipe in, would bring along a sample to be given a test, it personally and pass judgment in this department. I claim to be an expert judge of most good things to eat.

I am wondering if Quiz readers, generally, would like the gas tax doubled and a bond of fifty million dollars put on this state in order to make paved roads faster. It seems to me the gas tax and all other taxes are high enough now. It also seems to me that our present policy of paying for road improvements as we go along is not so good. Let's make a town to be talked about far and wide in 1932.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

This county is apt to have another epidemic of grasshoppers next summer. The signs may indicate a severe winter, but it takes more than cold to destroy grasshopper eggs. Unless there will be considerable moisture and dry alternate freezing and thawing localized outbreaks may again be expected. And if signs fall, and winter weather is again dry and mild, then what?

The soil is well stocked with grasshopper eggs in any place. This egg laying will continue until severe freezes come. Clusters of the slender brown hopper eggs may be found in the upper inch of ground. Alfalfa fields, fence rows, ditch banks, weed patches, grass sods, meadows and dry lawns are favorite egg-laying grounds. Very few eggs are laid in corn and stubble fields, unless the soil is extremely compact and weedy.

Next year's hoppers will be destroyed where they lay by plowing and discing. Those plowing will never reach the surface even though the eggs hatch. The next best practice will be repeated disking. In this manner many egg pods will be broken up or exposed to the weather and will never reach the surface even though the eggs hatch.

Burning off weed patches, fence rows, ditch banks, and waste areas does not do much good so far as egg destruction is concerned. Most of the hopper eggs are too deeply imbedded in the soil to be reached by the heat. Burning is a good practice, nevertheless, as it destroys many other kinds of insect pests, and also some adult grasshoppers.

While many of the hopper eggs can never be reached the use of the plow or disc will reduce the danger of serious trouble. While employment is well worth while wherever possible.

EYE TALKS

Week by Week

While we are on the subject of light for the benefit of Children's Eyes, we understand of course that the same rules apply to a grown person.

As an experiment sit with your side to the window in the evening when the light isn't quite so good, then turn so you get the light over your left shoulder if you are right handed, or your right shoulder if you are left handed and notice how much clearer the reading is.

Eyes are more comfortable with a moderate amount of light properly placed than with an excess of light improperly placed.

In fact excess light causes glare strain that is very uncomfortable and is quite a problem especially in the cities where the eyes are subject to so many glaring lights.

Eyes are our most valuable possession—let us use every effort to keep them as comfortable as possible.

get this fall and the better blooms they will show next spring. Tulips bloom before the most of the shrubs, so they can be planted in the perennial border, in the rose garden and among the other flowers, and annuals can be planted in the same beds later. I am glad the Chamber of Commerce is going to sponsor the next garden contest again next year and I am sure even more prizes will be given next year than were available this year. So, folks, get busy and secure your bulbs for fall planting at once and make larger plantings than ever before. Let's make Ord a town to be talked about far and wide in 1932.

Aren't names queer things, to everyone except the ones who have them. The new Mrs. Misko tells about a family out in Colorado who struck silver the day that a daughter was born, so the daughter was joyously titled the same as the mine—Silver Dollar. And she went by that name all her life, ending up by leading from a mine through diplomatic circles in our capital.

Swiping pets is probably not the worst crime on the calendar, but isn't so admirable, either. And we have some of our misdeeds up and snatched up one of the little white dogs that are the pampered possessions of the Partridge family.

I was sitting chatting with Thelma, when all at once she popped up and began everything but running in circles, ending up by hollering out the window: "Say, you, that dog's mine. Put him down."

Out the door dashed Thelma, and around the hotel, but when she reached the spot, the little dog was not there peacefully, and no one was in sight.

If you want rows of gorgeous tulips to gallop in the spring breezes, pretty tulips that will bring all to every passer-by, this is the time to get busy and dig up in addition to being the right time to plant tulips, daffodils and other spring flowers, this is also a fine time of year to set out shrubbery. Many shrubs will thank you with a huskier growth next season, if you peacefully bury them and let them become rooted into their new home before winter.

Radios can bring almost all things to all people. And have done so. Therefore it is a pity that up and every ad, every story and every day to so many who want a good musical program, or who are willing to learn . . . the disgust coming in the form of advertising. Call it that if you wish.

Newspapers are required to stand back of every ad, every story, and let that make. Not so the blatherers who crowd the air-waves. The most preposterous claims for poor merchandise, the most extravagant statements are shoved into the ears of the listener. And so, such frequent errors that I am afraid the radio is killing itself off.

Something Different

In spite of the way Old Man Weather took his spite out on Valley county, Ord particularly and flowers and shrubs especially, the Chamber of Commerce is already discussing a Yard and Garden contest for next year. No doubt best long committees and plans will be announced for the coming contest.

That means that right now is the time for you to order shrubbery and bulbs for fall planting, and to lay your plans for a perfectly marvelous garden for 1932.

A month or so ago Ernest Woolery asked me to come and see his beautiful lawn, the pride, the darling, the apple of his eye.

And I haven't gone yet, 'shamed to say I'm carrying a long list met a friend. Starting the conversation, the little fellow declared that the list comprised the names of the men he could lick. Of course the by-stander was interested, and wanted to see who all was named on this list. He took the sheet of paper, read, and indignantly flashed out:

"Why you blankety, blank blank, you've got my name on here. You know you can't lick me, etc."

Oh, is that so? blandly queried his friend. "Well, now, that's all right; I'll just scratch your name off my list. Yes sir, I'll just take your name off; scratch it right out, I will."

Be sure when sending in recipes that the directions for assembling are very clear. Do not let the reader take anything for granted, or have to guess what you mean. Also, when sending in recipes, try to send in your most extraordinary ones . . . recipes for things not commonly made in every family. Please do not send in recipes for everyday dishes that everyone knows about unless you have a new way of making them but something that will be a treat, something new.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

We have printed half a dozen recipes for angel food, but no two seem to be identical, and so we are today using one sent in by Mrs. Zalina, which she feels is unusually successful.

Angel Food Cake.

1 glass of flour. 1 1/2 glasses of sugar. 1 tsp. cream of tartar. Mix above ingredients together and mix 7 times. 11 egg whites beaten and salted. When flour, sugar and cream of tartar are mixed seven times, add slowly to the beaten whites, a little at a time.

Then here is a recipe for a new kind of chicken dish. Something delicious, yet not too freaky . . . something your family will like.

Chicken Delight.

Cut chicken in pieces, salt, fry in deep fat on a quick fire until each piece is well browned. Then place in a baking dish, add 1 c. of rich milk, make in the oven one hour. Then add diced carrots and sweet potatoes, 1/2 tsp. ground allspice, 1/4 tsp. red pepper. When done add 2 c. of cooked macaroni and serve hot.

"A Friend of the Quiz"

I am very sorry the donor of that recipe was so modest that she declined to add her name to it.

Full Ball Doughnuts.

3 eggs. 1 c. sugar. 1 pt. milk. 1/2 tsp. salt. 1/2 tsp. vanilla. 1/2 tsp. baking powder, sifted with 2 c. flour or trifle more, enough to make a stiff batter. Drop small spoons full into hot fat, let them cook until brown.

Pie, that famous favorite dessert of all men, is a new delicacy when made like this:

Pineapple Pie. 2 c. milk. 1/4 c. cream. 1 c. sugar. 2 1/2 tsp. cornstarch. 1 tsp. vanilla. Pinch of salt. 1 egg yolk. 1 oz. can pineapple.

Youth Beats Age In Hurling Duel,

Youth and aged hooked up in a hurling duel on the Ord fair grounds Sunday and youth represented by Roy Johnson of Elyria, won out over age, personified by Doug Barber. Johnson limited the Olean team to just two bingles while the Delcos found Doug for nine. The score was 6 to 1.

Mr. Barber, who even among strangers admits having passed his 45th birthday some since, deserved better luck than he got, for he kept the 9 blows well scattered and pitched throughout in a canny manner. At least two and possibly three of the Delco counters were unsecured, resulting from Olean errors. Doug struck out 11 of Bud Aule's players, which is a mighty good record for any flinger.

K. Barber and C. Barber were the only Olean-ites who had any luck with Johnson's slants. Each touched him for one hit—and as for the rest of the Olean team, they went without.

George Finch continued his batting streak with three nifty singles, to lead both teams in hitting. Bill Heuck, with two swats, took second honors.

Announcement of price reductions on all household electric refrigerators and commercial refrigeration equipment, manufactured by Frigidaire Corporation was made today by L. J. Auble, local Frigidaire dealer, following his return from a district meeting of sales representatives of his company at Omaha.

"Last spring," he said, "Frigidaire introduced its line of lifetime porcelain-on-steel household electric refrigerators, products of much higher quality, but presented at no increase in prices. Why RED TOPS Are Our Choice—Why They Should Be Yours

- 1. Steel. Only seasoned, long lived steel, the same kind used for rails is used in Red Tops.
- 2. Reinforcing Rib. The Red Top is made extra strong and sturdy by a reinforcing rib running the full length of the post.
- 3. Anchor Plate. The easy driving anchor plate on the Red Top Studded Tee is attached by a patented method. No holes are punched in the post to weaken it at this vital point where all strains centralize.
- 4. Studs. The studs on the Red Top Studded Tee Post are spaced and sized to accommodate all styles of fence and make it impossible for the fence to be ridden down or rooted up.
- 5. Red Top Fastener. The Red Top handy fastener has a long leg or shank which is bent all the way around the back or stem of the post. One man attaches fencing with this fastener which holds the fence with a grip that never loosens.
- 6. Finish. Every Red Top is double finished after sand blasting, first painted with a tough priming coat and then a coat of aluminum... a metallic finish which is baked on and resists rust and adds years of life.
- 7. The Red Top One-Man Driver makes fencing an easier, quicker, one-man odd time job.
- 8. The Red Top One-Man Puller jacks the Red Tops from their firm seat in the soil for re-use.

There is a type and length to meet every farm need in our stock of Red Tops—the greatest fence post value your money can buy.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

OUT AT ORD

On this page will be found a clipping from the Ord Quiz describing in part the natural gas situation in that city. Apparently, judging by news articles published for several weeks past in the Ord paper, the mayor and some members of the city council for reasons that appeared to be more personal than of a public nature have refused to permit the Nebraska Natural Gas Co. to present the citizens of Ord with an opportunity to buy natural gas from a modern natural gas distribution plant. However, the Ord mayor and councilmen did make a concession to this effect: That if a large number of citizens petition the council to back up and grant a franchise something would be done about it; apparently meaning that the franchise would either be granted or submitted to a vote of the people in the method provided by law. That is a reasonable attitude for a public official to take. The Nebraska law authorizes the mayor and council by their own act to submit franchise and other questions to a vote of the people who have to pay the bills. The trouble with some city officials is that as soon as they are elected to a dinky little city office they feel they own the city and have a perfect right to play with it for their amusement, or for their personal gain. If the people of any city want to cut the cost of living expenses and at the same time gain greatly in convenience and comfort in their homes they ought at least to have the right and opportunity to vote on the matter. Opportunity to use natural gas is a matter in which the women are especially concerned.—Geneva Signal.

ORD GRIDSTERS PLAY SCORELESS TIE AT SCOTIA

Molzen Line Outweighed Opponents 20 Pound Average But Fight Was Lacking.

Outweighed 20 pounds to the man a game Scotia football team out-fought and outplayed a peppy Ord team on the Scotia gridiron last Friday and won a "moral victory" though the score was 0 to 0. Off-side penalties, slapped continuously by officials on the fast-charging Scotia line, saved Ord the ignominy of a bad defeat.

There were bright spots in the spectacle for Ord fans but they were few. Elwin Auble's line smashes, a fox-footed 30 yard run by Donnie Lashmett and the deadly tackling of Charles Barnhart and Kenneth McGinnis were about all the enjoyment Ord fans took in last Friday's game.

The Ord squad, taking the field for the first time under Coach Cecil Molzen's tutelage, showed from the first whistle that they were nervous and lacked "fight", that elusive quality that often turns a green, inexperienced team into a winning aggregation.

Coach Molzen has worked hard with his linemen and they have looked to good against the second team but when they took the field against Scotia last Friday they seemed content to let their lighter opponents carry the game to them. Not a single penalty for offside play was given the Ord line, which proves that they were not charging. The long gains made by Scotia directly through center and over the tackles proves the same thing. Three Ord punts were blocked, also, by Scotia linemen sitting through.

In Donnie Lashmett, who was game captain Friday, Coach Molzen has a deadly forward passer. No less than three times he threw bullet-like passes directly into the arms of his backs and ends only to have them fumbled.

The Ord team never had the ball in Scotia territory and never threatened to go back on the other end, presided the Ord goal line continually. A long pass in the third quarter gave Scotia her best chance to score but Barnhart raced through on the next play and threw an end run for a ten yard loss and the Ord team was back in Scotia territory.

Coach Molzen has a good backfield in Donnie Lashmett, Barnhart, Auble and Klein and if he can succeed in developing a line, which should be possible with the heavy material he has, the Ord team may win some games before the season ends.

George Keep In Penn Railroad's Roll Of Honor

George E. Keep, veteran telegraph operator of Elgin, Pa., and a brother of Archie Keep, of Ord, recently retired from active service with the Pennsylvania railroad and was placed on that railroad's honor roll. He had been in the employ of the Pennsylvania continuously since May 1, 1882.

Old timers may remember George Keep, for he came to North Loup with his family in February 1885 and for a time was employed by the Union Pacific construction gang and also as a freight handler in Ord. He returned east in 1887 and entered the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad but left the service in the fall of the same year and again came to Ord, returning to the Pennsylvania in 1892.

In his prime George Keep was a very strong man, standing well over six feet tall and weighing 225 pounds. As an example of his strength, he was able to carry a barrel of molasses on his back, a weight most men were unable to lift, let alone carry.

A nice article about Mr. Keep appears in The Pennsylvania News, a railroad publication. Since his retirement, the former Ord man is devoting his time to a little gardening and flower growing, though he is unable to get about very well owing to an affliction of his legs. He is a member of the Masonic lodge in Union City, Pa.

Merchants Plan Co-operative Sale Days

Today the opening gun is fired in a co-operative movement directed toward increasing the prosperity of Ord by making it a better, more attractive place to live and trade.

The MERIT advertisement on another page of this paper is the first of a series of 16 MERIT Messages sponsored by the firms listed thereon.

A new message in this series will appear every two weeks, and the constructive ideas which these will contain are deserving of your careful thought. These Messages will not urge anyone to "trade at home" to help the merchants but will ask you to consider the advantages to yourself in trading with firms who can prove that they MERIT patronage.

As further proof that these merchants are earnestly striving to MERIT your trade they have united in planning a series of co-operative TRADE MERIT Sale Days. The first of these events will be next week, and will occur thereafter at regular intervals every two weeks for at least eight months.

Much fun will be provided and a wide variety of prizes given in connection with unique contests which will be fully described next week. Ten columns of next week's paper will display bargains and many special inducements which merchants will supply you. So be on the lookout for further news of this big event. We promise to show you some "eye-openers" among the bargains as Trade Merit Specials.

Pelican on River Here. Louie Mazac says that a pelican has been inhabiting the river near his slaughter house for the past few days. It is a big bird, twice the size of a goose, is pure white and has an immense yellow bill, Mr. Mazac says. People who have never seen a pelican might catch a glimpse of this fellow if they visit the river north of the Ord bridge.

Maude Jackman Weds In Yuma, Arizona

After keeping the secret under her hat for some time, the former Miss Maude Jackman, several terms clerk of the district court of this county, surprised her many friends in this neighborhood by announcing that her marriage to Edwin Gies of California would take place at Yuma, Ariz., on Monday, Oct. 5, to be performed by a minister there in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Kardell (nee Kitty Work).

As the groom, who is an immigration officer here, is on vacation at this time, the newly-weds will probably enjoy a nice trip, after which it is thought they will probably make their home in El Centro, Calif.

Miss Jackman, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jackman of near North Loup, and a sister of Miss Curlee Beaute Shoppe, left here early in the year to make her home in California. More details of the happy event will probably be sent to Ord soon, and meantime lots of good wishes will be flying to California in this connection.

Visited Estate Of Old Friends, Ex-Gov. McCray and Geo. Ade

North Loup, Oct. 6.—(Special)—A visit to the huge estate owned by his former class-mates, Author George Ade and his brother-in-law, former Governor Warren McCray, of Indiana, was a feature of the motor tour from which George Baker returned last Thursday. Accompanied by his sons, Gilbert and Donald, Mr. Baker motored through northern Indiana and Illinois, visiting relatives, old friends and school-mates.

At his old home near Morocco, Ill., Mr. Baker located "the old swimmin' hole" where he spent many happy days during his childhood. The Ade and McCray estate at Kentland, Ind., where Mr. Baker attended school with these famous men, comprises thousands of acres and on it pure-bred stock is raised.

Mr. Baker was presented by Mr. McCray with a few ears of a new strain of seed corn which sells at $15 a bushel.

Hard times seem to be the biggest of discussion in all the sections he visited. Mr. Baker reports, but he says extensive preparations are under way for the World Fair to be held at Chicago in 1933.

LAWENCE NOVAK FALLS 12 FEET FROM TREE, DIES

22-Year-Old Ord Man Lived Only Few Hours After Accident Tuesday; Had Dizzy Spell.

His spinal column and his skull injured when he fell twelve feet from a tree about 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, Lawrence Novak, 22-year-old Ord resident, passed away about 8 o'clock that evening. He was conscious when the accident was discovered and Dr. F. A. Barta was called, but Mr. Novak died within a short time.

He had complained of not feeling well shortly before he climbed into the tree to cut off a limb, relatives say. It is thought that a "dizziness" might have caused him to fall.

A Burwell resident for a long time, Mr. Novak moved to Ord twenty years ago, shortly after the death of his first wife, and he has many close friends here. He was married soon afterward to Mrs. Antonia Pavak, who survives him. Children who survive Mr. Novak are Mrs. Lydia Bush, of California, Leslie Novak, of Canby, Minn., Mrs. Martha Trotter, of Omaha. Three children also are left to mourn.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

GAS PETITION LAID OVER BY CITY COUNCIL

Suggestions Made By W. A. Anderson, Cause Action Be Deferred.

Until such time as the Nebraska Natural Gas company will accept a 15-year franchise in Ord, instead of the 25-year franchise they ask for, and also agree that rate reductions made elsewhere shall be effective in Ord, no action will be taken on the franchise matter here. This was the decision of the city council at their regular session last Friday evening.

The gas proposition came up for discussion when W. A. Anderson submitted a petition containing 220 names, asking that a franchise be granted at once. Mr. Anderson has been circulating this petition for some time but has made no effort to go outside the business district for signatures. He is confident that by making a house-to-house canvass, twice as many signatures of people who want natural gas could be secured.

In connection with the petition, Mr. Anderson submitted the following letter:

"To the City Council: If I may be permitted to suggest, I would be that if the franchise is granted there be a stipulation that the rate be no greater in Ord than is charged in towns of the same size elsewhere in the state and that any reduction in rates in other towns shall also apply to rates in Ord. Also, I would remark that 25 years is a long time to grant a franchise and would suggest that 15 years is long enough. Signed, W. A. Anderson."

It was this letter that caused councilmen to defer all action on the franchise matter, for the city officials maintain that rates asked here are too high, although they are the same as were established by franchises granted at Loup City, St. Paul and other towns. The rates proposed here, however, are higher than were offered the city of Grand Island.

Following the reading of this letter by City Clerk Lucinda Thorne last Friday evening, Councilman Emil Fafelta moved that the petition of Mr. Anderson be laid over until such time as the gas company will accept a franchise in accordance with the several suggestions offered in Mr. Anderson's letter, and such other conditions as the council may see fit to impose. Councilman Joe Rowbal seconded the motion and it was passed by a unanimous vote.

Fed. Wardens Will Enforce Emergency Duck Shooting Law

If you shoot waterfowl out of season this year or violate the migratory bird laws in any way you'll be monkeying, not with Nebraska authorities, but Uncle Sam himself. If you can't see a very good man to fool with.

Thanks to the 30-day emergency open season on ducks this year, proclaimed recently by President Hoover, the federal government has taken over enforcement of migratory bird laws this fall and winter. A vastly augmented force of federal wardens will patrol Nebraska and state game wardens also will be deputized by the United States government.

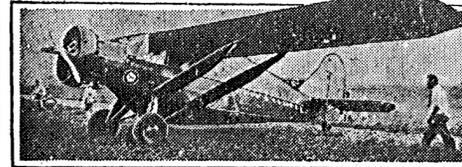

People violating the duck laws will be fined from $10 to $100 in Grand Island or Omaha, where they will be required to post $500 bond if they seek release pending trial. And Uncle Sam's penalties are stiff when offenders are found guilty. When the duck season opens this year on October 20 and lasts just thirty days, closing at sun-down November 19.

Chevrolet's August Production Ahead of Same Month In 1930

Production of Chevrolet cars and trucks during the month of August totaled 54,958 units, the Quiz is informed by Ed Seyler, Ord Chevrolet dealer, who received the announcement from W. S. Knudsen, president and general manager. All Chevrolet dealers are taking pride in this record for it exceeds the same month in 1930 by more than three thousand units. In spite of hard times, Chevrolet production also is expected to go ahead of last year, as did production in May, June and July. The Chevrolet factory is employing 33,000 men at present, Mr. Seyler says.

Double Wedding Occurs Here. Rev. H. H. Spracklen performed a double wedding ceremony Saturday at 7 p. m. at his home for Axel Johnson, 27, Sioux City, who married Eunice Moran, 24, Sioux City; and for Arthur M. Johnson, 27, Hartington, who was wed to Wilma G. Barcus, 23, Sioux City. Old friends of the Spracklen's the newly-weds were treated to a delicious wedding supper immediately afterward following which they left for Grand Island. County Clerk Klum acting for Judge Hollingshead, were the licensees.

Pacific Ocean Conquered!

The first non-stop airplane crossing of the Pacific ocean was completed Monday when the above pair of aviators, Clyde Pangborn and Hugh Herndon, skidded their monoplane to a stop at Wenatchee, Wash. They flew more than 4,500 miles in 41 hours 13 minutes from Samui, Shiro, Japan, to Wenatchee. As a prize for their daring trip, Pangborn and Herndon were given $25,000 by a Japanese newspaper.

POSTAL SAVINGS SYSTEM WILL BE STARTED IN ORD

Not Competition for Banks But "Refuge For Timid"; Deposits Accepted Oct. 15.

The Ord post-office will become a branch of the government-operated Postal Savings System on next Thursday, October 15. It is announced this week by Postmaster Edwin P. Clements. Savings certificates will be issued in amounts of $1 and multiples thereof, he says, and interest will be paid on deposits at the rate of 2 1/2 percent. Deposits may be withdrawn at any time, Mr. Clements states.

Though the post-office department has been operating savings depositories for several years, this is the first time Ord has had such a system. There has been no demand for it until recently, according to the postmaster.

The Postal Savings System should not be considered as a competitor of local banks, a bulletin sent out by the government says. Rather, it is a "refuge for the timid," a means of restoring to circulation money that has been hoarded at home.

Any person ten years old or older may open an account, Mr. Clements reports. The maximum deposit that will be accepted is $2,500 and no person may have more than one account, either here or elsewhere. The savings certificates are issued in denominations of $1, $2, $5, $10, $25, $50, $100, $200 and $500. They are non-negotiable except by the owner and if certificates are stolen or lost duplicates will be issued.

Further information may be secured at the local postoffice.

15 CLUBS SEND DELEGATES TO PROJECT MEET

First Sessions of Year For Women Held at Ord and North Loup Tuesday and Yesterday.

An interested group of women from all over the county met Tuesday, Oct. 6 at the court house for an all-day session of project club leaders, the first meeting of the year. Miss Genevieve Woodman will conduct the courses in convenient home equipment and methods, which will be studied this year, coming as a specialist in home economics from the college of agriculture to teach the club members which will save time or energy or both in doing household tasks.

As in former year, meetings are held both in Ord and North Loup so following her meeting in Ord Tuesday, Miss Woodman went to North Loup where she presided over a similar crowd of club officers and delegates yesterday.

Each club interested enrolls for the full course, sending the president and a delegate to each of the nine meetings. These two representatives listen and learn, and then go home to their club meetings prepared to teach their fellow club members the same things they have been taught at the project meetings. Clubs now listed in the Ord group, their delegates and number of members in all are as follows: Willow Grove, Mrs. Mel Miller, 15 members; Loyal Workers, Mrs. C. Sample, Mrs. Bert Rich, 8 members; Women's County Club No. 1, Mrs. A. Jenks, Mrs. L. Mills; New Century, Mrs. R. E. Johnson, Mrs. R. E. Enger, 20 members; Anti-Rust, Mrs. H. H. Huerter, Rosevale Extension, Mrs. George Watts, Mrs. Elmer Harlock; Highway Club, Mrs. Tom Meuret, Mrs. Lester Thompson, 18 members; Jolly Neighbors, Mrs. Ed Verstraete, Mrs. F. O. Johnson, 15 members; Springdale, Mrs. M. J. Cushing, 14 members; Friendly Circle, Mrs. E. F. Clark, Mrs. H. Harris, 7 members; B. W. W. Mrs. Charles Anderson, Mrs. W. E. Coats, 15 members; S. O. S., Mrs. Evet Smith, Mrs. M. J. Cushing, 14 members. Names of clubs in the North Loup group, with their delegates, will be given next Thursday.

These women, assisted by Mrs. J. W. McGinnis who was in charge of all Valley county project work last year, and lead by Mrs. Boyd Mangan of North Loup, who holds a similar job this year, come to the school, seeking attitude of the scholar, wanting to learn how to devote less energy to getting the same or a larger amount of work done, anxious to improve their homes, wanting to get abreast of the most modern ideas.

In the divisions of the days lessons are various subjects, simple tricks about: cooking, serving meals, washing dishes, washing separators, making beds, cleaning the house, laundering, planning the work, etc.

If the husbands could listen in, they would get many glimmerings of knowledge as to just how their wives regard them, in odd ways. For example, when Miss Woodman laughed and said the men in her home were fond of dipping their hands in the water and then washing on the towel, nearly every woman present laughed and nodded her head.

Members are encouraged to discover new short-cuts in the work they do, and then tell others about them, so that all may be helped to accomplish more work in a day than formerly, and yet meet the evening untired, but contented. This year's study will undoubtedly be of great benefit to the women who are studying.

END OF GOLD STANDARD.

The end of the gold standard for all the nations of the world is in sight, believes no less an authority than Karl M. Arndt, widely known economics teacher at the University of Nebraska. He sees England's action in suspending the gold standard and the resultant similar actions of the Scandinavian countries as the beginning of a movement that soon will encompass the world.

While gold standard suspension would depreciate the holdings of those who have hoarded money, and therefore will be opposed by many, it also will have the effect of inflating prices and therefore would make it possible for the farmer to realize better prices on his wheat, corn, cattle and hogs.

Since England's recent action many students of monetary systems have not hesitated to advocate bi-metallicism. In Great Britain a faction has sprung up to back William Jennings Bryan's "16 to 1" ratio of gold and silver, which was the rallying cry of the political campaign of 1893 in this country. Bryan simply was forty years in advance of the times, they say. And in this country Henry C. Graah speaks of a "14 to 1" ratio as a possibility.

The chief advantage that bi-metallicism would have would be to restore the buying power of a billion people living in India, China and other Asiatic countries, in South America, Mexico and in the silver producing states of this country. Silver now is selling at the ratio of 1 to 70 in comparison with gold, the lowest price in silver history.

There is too little gold in the world, only about $20,000,000,000, and this amount the United States holds more than half. France holds another 2 1/2 billions of gold and other nations of the world must struggle along with the remainder, which under gold standard conditions naturally has paralyzed the expansion of the gold standard everywhere, or possibly a bimetallic monetary system, might be the quickest means of bringing the world out of the economic chaos.

The Quiz will welcome a discussion of this important question in its "public forum" department.

"POINTING WITH PRIDE" Newspapers are notorious for "pointing with pride" whenever they are not engaged in "viewing with alarm."

and soul in the public's right to manufacture and distribute electricity power, something has gone wrong and we want to correct it, we add a few thousands of dollars worth of clerks; we add four or five hundred thousand dollars of bureaus—and we never get rid of them."

ONE IN EVERY ELEVEN. "Every time we create a government bureau in times of emergency, because something has gone wrong and we want to correct it, we add a few thousands of dollars worth of clerks; we add four or five hundred thousand dollars of bureaus—and we never get rid of them."

The above statement was made recently by Senator Hiram Bingham of Connecticut, formerly a professor of history in Yale university. From this we can see why one in every eleven people in the United States is now on the public payroll. The number supported by taxation has grown by dependent bounds in recent years, from 1 in 23 twenty-five years ago to 1 in 11 at present. If the present rate of increase continues another twenty-five years every other person in the country will be supported by tax-payers, as estimated by reliable economists.

One billion dollars is being spent wastefully every year by the United States government, which is about the extent of the deficit this year. We must do away with commissions and bureaus, investigation committees, paternalistic expenditures and all the other fool-rot of our present government, if taxation is ever to be reduced.

QUIZ FORUM

Fergus Falls, Minn., October 2, 1931

Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebr. Dear Quiz, It might interest our Ord friends.

One month ago Floyd and I visited Mother and Dad Simpkins at their Karmelkorn Shoppe in Fargo, N. D.

We were there a week, became much enthused and decided to enter the popcorn business. We returned home and as the old saying goes, "let no grass grow under our feet."

Taking a big chance, considering the hard time complaint, we had a "popcorn" party on Sept. 16, dawned beautifully, a large crowd assembled and we were indeed pleased with the results.

My parents, who reside at Kearney, Nebr. spent part of their vacation with us at this time and after the sale we drove to Casper, Wyo. to visit brother Don and an aunt, who live in that city. Although out by no means, after two short days there Floyd and I felt that we should not tarry longer so we returned to South Dakota to complete our packing.

In the meantime Dad Simpkins had located a shoppe for us at Fergus Falls, Minn., 60 miles southeast of Fargo.

We were fortunate in being able to secure a shoppe already in operation. The lady proprietor wished to discontinue the trade for the present, her husband being in business in another state.

The 23rd of September we left, once again, the state of South Dakota and arrived in Fergus Falls, Sept. 25. We located a cozy apartment, 4 blocks from the K. K. shoppe, in a private home of a druggist.

Within three days we completed our K. K. lessons were in possession of a shoppe and now on the first of the month we are in full away—drop in you will think we are old hands at the business.

Just a word about our location. Fergus Falls is a beautiful small city of 10,000 population located in the heart of a "Thousand Lakes" area. There is much natural timber and a picturesque, sparkling fall within the center of the business section, hence the name "Fergus Falls."

It has a system of beautiful parks that would be a credit to any city many times its size. It is the center of a large dairy, stock raising and poultry district. The principal industry is a creamery which is the largest co-operative creamery in the state. There are also meat packing plant, flour mills, woolen mills, garment factory, and wood working establishments.

Floyd and I think we are going to like our new location. Of course, life would not be complete without the Quiz so we are asking that you please send it to our new address. With greetings to all of our friends, we are, yours truly, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Simpkins By Mrs. Floyd Simpkins.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Fall days encourage appetites and mean more cooking to do. Boys and girls who romp and run and study all day have to have lots of good hot food, so cooks are once again looking for inviting new dishes that will provide new delights for substantial old friends that are "good for the children."

Banana Cake. 1/2 c. butter. 1/2 c. white sugar. 1/2 c. brown sugar. 1/2 c. sweet milk. 1 c. mashed bananas. 1/2 c. nuts. 1/2 c. flour. 2 eggs. 1/2 tsp. soda.

Cream butter and sugar, add yolks of eggs, milk, mashed bananas. Then sift flour and soda and pinch of salt. Add flour and nuts to first mixture, then fold in the egg whites well beaten.

Boil young beets until tender, then peel and slice and chop them. To 5 medium sized beets use 3 tsp. cream. Heat them again, adding cream and immediately before serving add 1 tsp. vinegar and 1 tsp. of sugar.

Mrs. Wayne King. You will like both the old recipe, for they are really made up not call for anything too unusual or expensive, and will help to perk up an otherwise familiar menu so that the family will enjoy it.

Marshmallows. 1 envelope of Knox gelatine. 1 1/2 c. cold water. 2 c. granulated sugar. 1 tsp. vanilla.

Soak gelatine in 1 1/2 c. of water for 5 minutes. Put the remaining water and the sugar in a saucepan and bring to the boiling point. Let boil until the syrup will spin a thread. Add soaked gelatine when partially cooled.

Ellen Stanton. And then if you like samplings, please try this different kind. 4 medium sized cold boiled potatoes. 2 c. flour. 2 tsp. baking powder. 1 tsp. salt. 2 c. pork cracklings. 1 egg. 2-3 c. milk.

Mash the potatoes in a bowl, add flour, salt, and milk, place cracklings and egg. Stir in milk enough to make a stiff dough. Pinch off pieces of a small apple, shape round, drop into the boiling soups, etc., and boil for 10 to 15 minutes.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Alfalfa does not usually yield six bushels of seed per acre, as it did last week on the Garnick farm. Yields of two and three bushels to the acre, however, have been heard of quite commonly this fall.

Robert Ross of Burwell, grandson of Tom Williams, is a happy fellow these days. A freshie, he has made the first string football line-up. And it means a lot more than that just that, in his case.

Starting with ether pneumonia, as a small boy his lungs were so infected that he had a real battle, spent some time in Colorado, etc. He has a big cave in one side to prove what a sick boy he's been. And if he didn't have you'd probably never believe that he'd had such a struggle.

Weak and frail, on a diet, having to be so careful, sleepless, out, Robert took a paper route and peddled five miles a day for years, working and doing what was good for him all at the same time.

And now, a strong body, lungs that are O. K. hard muscles, and a man enough to make the team. Isn't that scrumptious? —Irma.

Uncle Died, Was 100. Mrs. Tom Williams has received word of the death of her uncle, A. R. Wightman, who passed away at his home in Long Beach, Calif. He was one hundred years old.

Something DIFFERENT

A couple of men in a town got themselves into a pickle which seemed longate that it didn't pay to tell white the truth.

The two in question spent the evening decidedly out, in fact didn't get home till all hours, and one husband went home and told exactly where he had been and what he had done, and his wife believed him, until she and the wife of the second man got together, that is.

Hubby number two had fabricated a marvelous tale, told it and re-told it, and his wife felt sure it was true. So sure, in fact, that she felt sorry for the poor blighted woman whose husband had really told that happened, and convinced the wife that her husband wouldn't lie.

Have you noticed how nice the Dr. Norris place is looking? Not so long ago it looked like a place had got even a house on it, and now a nice little home is garnished just exactly right with flowers and shrub plantings.

That eminent something or other who came out in quotes the other day as saying that whistlers were morons, never smart, has me to battle with. I don't especially care to say that I think I'm smart, but I do contend that my reason for whistling wasn't considered in his in his.

The reason I whistle is—because I can't sing. And I swallow a tune some how, and that's the only way I have of releasing it.

And I still whistle, too. Can't scare me away from my favorite indoor and outdoor sport that-away.

These Ord girls who migrate to California ought to belong to the "Always get out of town" club.

Since Kitty Work went to California and came back to exhibit such a nice husband as her prize, and now that our Maude has gone out there and got herself a fine man, why don't you, Maude, and Curly, be suspiciously, oh well, never mind. Anyway, we expect to see a regular exodus of localities in that direction.

I know that a school teacher has to teach in the same place two or three years to make her "recommendations" of the best, but I always thought if I had to spend several months in an interesting locality, taking in all the intriguing points of high interest nearby would be more so, wouldn't it? And a teacher who shifted that much, with a background of say, a year's experience in Vermont, another in Florida, one more in Arizona, say, wouldn't she be able to bring a lot of general aid to a class of Tacoma youngsters? So much more interesting to have teacher tell how Arizona Indians live as reported by the Garnicks put up two heavier cuttings for hay, in addition to the one which threshed out 31 bushels of clean plump seed from five acres.

With seed selling at all the way from six to twenty-six dollars per bushel, the possibilities of alfalfa as a seed crop for this region are not to be sneezed at. Farmers are placing more confidence in home grown seed as the years go by. Alfalfa is cheaper, and it is more dependable, for high priced varieties sometimes turn out to be something else.

We used to recommend such high yields as Grimm and Cossack, and still do, but with modifications. The reason is wilt disease of alfalfa.

In 1925 it was first discovered that we had such a disease, and that all over the state it was causing much of the loss blamed on winter-killing. Our experiment station promptly began to search for wilt resistant varieties, and thinks it is finding them in Turkey, Provence, Hardistan, and Ladak. Grimm, Cossack and common alfalfa are very susceptible to bacterial wilt.

For this reason it is hard to say what alfalfa variety will be recommended in the future. Meanwhile the quest will be for low priced seed of known origin and here home grown alfalfa fills the bill best.

Mrs. Tom Williams has received a letter from a sister, Mrs. Lizette Koke of Colorado Springs, who is recovering from an illness that kept her in a hospital for over a year. Mrs. Koke is now improved and able to be in her own home. Her son is a doctor and Dr. Koke's wife is a nurse. They are staying with their mother and the daughter-in-law will look after her comforts. It will be remembered a couple of years ago, Mrs. Williams spent several months in Colorado Springs so as to be near this sister, who was ill.

EYE TALKS Week by Week

If you started reading these talks at first you will remember that comfortable eyes were eyes in which the many tiny muscles that control the focusing, and turning in functions, of the eyes each receive the proper amount of Nervous energy to perform their work.

When these functions do not balance it was formerly necessary to wear glasses in all cases to be comfortable. Within the last few years Optometry has developed means of selecting the weaker of these muscles and so developing them that the eyes will develop in a normal manner and be normal eyes.

Don't mistake my meaning and think that all eyes will respond to this type of treatment—they won't. So far the treatment has been confined strictly to Optometrists of the highest type that will use extreme care in selecting the cases that will receive real and lasting benefit.

Results from this type of treatment are pleasing indeed.

City Council Proceedings.
October 2, 1931.

The council met in regular session with Mayor, City Attorney, City Clerk and all Councilmen present.

The minutes of last meeting were read and by motion accepted.

The City Treasurer report for the month of September 1931 was read and on motion ordered placed on file.

The following bank balances were read, State Bank, $6,000.00; Nebraska State Bank, $11,000.00; First National Bank, $10,241.78.

Moved by Pfeiffer and seconded by Rowbal that the petition of W. A. Anderson regarding the Gas Franchise be laid over until such time as the Gas Company will accept a franchise in accordance with the several suggestions as offered in following letter of W. A. Anderson, accompanying said petitions, and such other condition as Council may see fit: To the City Council: The undersigned is responsible for circulation of petition enclosed. If I may be permitted a suggestion it would be that if Franchise is granted there be a stipulation that the rate forgoes be no greater in Ord than is charged those in towns of the same size elsewhere in the State and that any reduction of rates in other towns shall apply to rates in Ord. Also I would remark that twenty five years is a long time to grant a Franchise and would suggest that fifteen years would be long enough. Signed W. A. Anderson.

Moved by Sack and seconded by Sorensen authorizing City Treasurer to procure $40,000.00 of Burglary Insurance covering Municipal Bonds owned by the City, and to be held for safe keeping by Federal Reserve bank receipts by the City Treasurer.

The Young People's Sunday school class enjoyed a party at Henry Jorgensen's Friday evening. When first planned the entertainment was to include an outdoor marshmallow and wafle roast but the wind came up too strong so these refreshments, after an evening of outdoor games, were served from the kitchen in the usual way and enjoyed just as much. A short business meeting and a song service followed. Henry Holm resigned from his office as president and Anna Nelson was chosen to take his place. About 45 were present at this party. The members of the old Christian Endeavor society were guests of the class.

Mrs. Carl Holm was in Loup City Tuesday attending a meeting of the Presbyterian Missionary societies. Wednesday was Rosemary Nielsen's eleventh birthday and after school Roma and Ruth Jorgensen and Elsie Nelson came up to help her celebrate. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and daughter, Anna, Mrs. Nielsen, Hazel Rallsback and George Knecht were at Nielsen's.

A group of friends attended a party at Martin Michalek's Thursday evening, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mogensen, whose wedding anniversary was on that day. All who were present reported a fine time. While returning from the party at Martin Michalek's Friday morning Wayne Hansen lost control of his car and ran off the bank. The car turned over and landed on a fence. Mr. Hansen was alone and was unhurt. The accident happened between the main road and Lloyd Davis.

There were 36 in Sunday school Sunday morning. The Junior class has been organized for a Friday evening and is showing much enthusiasm in the prospect of earning feathers for their headbands. Next Sunday Rev. Real will speak in the afternoon. Those who wish may bring a picnic dinner and eat at the school house. The afternoon services will start at 2 o'clock on Monday.

Henry Holm left Sunday for Lyman where he will work in the laboratory of a sugar beet factory. He graduated from Hastings college last June having specialized in chemistry. His father, Carl Holm, took him to Lyman.

Ilda Howerton helped Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Christoffersen move to their new home on the Art Mensing farm Thursday and Friday.

1 1/2-ton 157-inch Stake Truck $810
(Dual wheels standard)

By actual road performance, week after week, month after month—the six-cylinder Chevrolet has proved its right to be called America's most economical truck. Owners have found that on a ton-mile basis Chevrolet costs less for gas and oil, less for upkeep and less for service than any other truck—regardless of the number of cylinders. And price-comparison will show that this big, sturdy Chevrolet Six is one of the lowest-priced trucks you can buy.

Today, any truck user can apply this economy to his own particular work. The current Chevrolet commercial car line covers practically every delivery and hauling need. Twenty-five different models. Half-ton and 1 1/2-ton pay-load capacities. Three wheelbase lengths. A wide variety of Chevrolet-designed and Chevrolet-built bodies. Just name the type of truck you need—and you will very likely find it in Chevrolet's all-inclusive line.

Each Chevrolet truck has a 50-h.p. six-cylinder engine—25% more powerful than any other engine in a truck priced so low. Maximum load-capacity is assured by unusually large bodies, supported by long rigid frames and long parallel-mounted springs. And Chevrolet truck prices are among the lowest in the commercial car market.

“.. for where your treasure is, there will your heart be also.”

The above words were spoken by a Great Teacher more than 2,000 years ago and are as true today as then.

We, whose social and financial interests are centered in this community, are at heart in its future. Every dweller in Ord and vicinity wants to see it develop and prosper.

When you and your neighbor prosper our whole community benefits. When farming and other industries do well, it becomes a better place to live.

If the merchants of any town enjoy a healthy business, that also adds to the general betterment of the entire community. Our city will prosper in direct proportion to the prosperity of its people.

Some of the business interests of Ord, recognizing the importance of understanding and co-operation in making a better community, are preparing a series of 16 messages, one of which will appear every two weeks in the Quiz.

These will not be in the nature of “appeals for support” from the merchants. They will discuss ways and means whereby merchants, alert to modern and changing conditions, are improving service and values to the very limit of their ability, so that they may MERIT your trade.

In this sense they are Merit Merchant Messages

 Text: Epistle Ef 4:22-23. Gospel Matt. 9:1-8.

"Use me, then my Savior, for whatever purpose and whatever way Thou mayest require. Here is my poor heart, an empty vessel: fill it with Thy grace. Here is my sinful and troubled soul; quicken it and refresh it with Thy love. Take my heart for Thine abode; my mouth to spread abroad the glory of Thy name; my love and all my powers for the advancement of Thy believing people; and never suffer the steadfastness and confidence of my faith to abate, so that at all times I may be enabled from the heart to say, "Jesus needs me, and I need Him." D. L. Moody.

Would that not be a good plea for us to make in our church activities so as to strive toward the fulfilling of the Lord's command. Matt. 28:19-20.

ORD HI PLAYS SCORELESS TIE WITH APOSTLES

Molzen Men Show Strong Defense and Fast Offense in Game They Entered As Under-Dogs.

Another scoreless tie went into the Ord high school record books last Friday when Coach Cecil Molzen's gridsters faced St. Paul on the field at Bussell Park. The Ord team, who entered the game as under-dogs, played the apostles off their feet and had the ball in St. Paul territory most of the time, though scoring efforts were unproductive. The showing made by Ord was a distinct reversal in form from the Scotia game the week previously, though the outcome was the same.

More pep and "fight" than have been shown by Ord athletic teams in several years were in evidence last Friday. Coach Molzen's line was charging in fast and smearing plays before they got started and his backs were a constant threat.

The most exciting play of the game was Marcus Steinworth's thirty-yard dash around right end during the second quarter. Steinworth also turned in some shorter gains and shows promise as a ball carrier.

Charles Barnhart, shifted from the backfield to a tackle position, was easily the outstanding lineman in the game. He smashed up many plays and was the life of the Ord line. Everett Lashmet, shifted from end to half-back, also made it plain that he has at last found his rightful position.

Last Friday was "Dad's Day" and all fathers of high school students occupied reserved seats. The new arrangement at the Bussell park field has bleachers along the west side which are occupied exclusively by Ord students and fans. The Ord high band, dressed in red and white uniforms, also had places in the Ord bleachers and helped in keeping enthusiasm at a high point.

Tomorrow Broken Bow plays on the Ord gridiron. It will be "Mother's Day" and all mothers of high school students will be admitted free and will occupy reserved seats. The O. H. S. Pep club is planning an entertainment between halves, under the direction of Miss Marjory Hostetter.

Breaks Arm While Playing Football

While playing football Saturday afternoon at Elyria, one of the Elyria Hughes sustained a fractured right arm. He was making a dive for the ball when he slipped and fell, his arm doubled beneath him. Dr. C. W. Weekes x-rayed the arm and found that the large bone was broken between the elbow and the wrist. Two years ago Merrill broke the same arm while roller skating. Last winter he was laid up for several weeks after an operation for a ruptured appendix, so he thinks he is having more than his share of hard luck.

Twenty-three thousand people witnessed the game, which was played at Portland.

Limer-Ad Contest Features Ord Trade Merit Series

This week thirty Ord business people are beginning in the Quiz a Trade Merit campaign that will last throughout the next eight months. Every two weeks Trade Merit Days will be held in Ord and these thirty merchants will offer exceptional values to all customers, as will be seen by a glance at this week's Trade Merit ads on pages four and five.

A feature of the Trade Merit campaign is the Limer-Ad contest to be held every two weeks. Every two weeks valuable prizes will be given to the two people writing the best "last lines" to the two limericks printed. This week Aule Bros. are giving a diamond ring and the Crosby Hardware will give a Slag-handled carling set to the person writing the best last lines in their Limer-Ads.

Lines submitted will be judged according to their advertising value, cleverness, and correct rhyme and meter. First, get the swing of the limerick as you read it aloud in a sing-song fashion, then write your line in the same meter and rhyme.

Anybody can write the last line to a Limer-Ad; everybody should try. See the Trade Merit pages for details.

SMALL CROWD IS PRESENT AT FARM BUREAU BANQUET

Gaines' Failure To Come, Mistake In Publicity, Cuts Crowd But Good Time Reported.

Only about 60 people were present last Thursday evening at the annual Valley county farm bureau league baseball banquet but all present reported an excellent time. Newton W. Gaines, who was to have given the main speech, reported at the last minute that he was unable to come and this cut attendance materially. Another adverse factor was the report published by an Ord newspaper that the banquet had been postponed indefinitely. This mistake probably prevented a few from attending.

After an excellent dinner served by Thorne's cafe, those attending the banquet heard speeches by Wm. Heuck, C. C. Dale and Harold Schaffner. Mr. Heuck made a general talk about baseball interest being stimulated here by the farm bureau league and also told reminiscences of past baseball games.

Presentation of the Ord Quiz silver cup was made to the North Loup Redbirds by County Agent Dale. Harold Schaffner, manager of the North Loup team, responded. Program specialties included a well executed tap dance by Wilhelm Janssen, a vocal duet by Zola Aule and Betty Janssen, and a group of solos by Edwin Aule. Music for dancing was furnished by Aule's orchestra and many enjoyed this part of the program.

Sheriff Higley Dead. Sheriff Elmer G. Higley, veteran St. Paul peace officer, passed away at his home in that town last week at the age of 69. He had been night marshal, police chief, special state officer and Howard county sheriff during the past 34 years. Mr. Higley's greatest achievement was his arrest of Cole, the murderer of Mrs. Voigt.

Board Rejects Plea From Mira Valley

At the meeting of the Valley county board last week J. G. Bremser, president of the petition signed by 129 people, asking the board to change the route of the Vogeler highway to be cut down to a grade in keeping with the rest of the road. It was moved and seconded that the county engineer be authorized to do this in Mira Valley. Other parts of the county are more in need of highway work at present, supervisors voting against the motion are quoted as saying:

The board allowed $15 per month to W. F. Webb, Arcadia, for the support of five children of E. B. King, deceased; allowed $3 per month to Mrs. Celestine Mattley for the rent of rooms for Mrs. Anna Klancek and boy; increased Mrs. Katie Vanslyke's allowance for the support of herself and daughter to $5 per month; gave permission to Mrs. Lova Trindle to move into rooms at Mrs. John Chaffield's home, allowing her $25 per month for her support. Mrs. Verna Duryea was allowed $10 per month for the support of herself and child while her husband, Robert Duryea, is in the penitentiary for chicken theft.

The Vinton township board applied for a survey of section line between sections 1 and 12, and this application was granted.

Plays on Kemper Team. Wm. B. Zabloull, son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Zabloull, of Ord, is making a good athletic record at Kemper Military School, Boonville, Mo., which he is attending his first year. Last Thursday he was named as a starter in the Kemper-Hannibal football game and he is one of twenty-two cadets who have been named for the varsity squad. Young Zabloull was a football star while attending Ord high school.

Duck Season Opens At Noon October 20

Duck hunters who venture forth before noon next Tuesday, October 20, will be violating the law. This is the word given the Quiz today by Bert Lashmet, state and federal game warden for this territory. The season will be open, legally, until 12 o'clock noon next Tuesday, he says. Wild fowling had better play safe and not do any early morning shooting until Wednesday, October 21. Game Warden Lashmet says. This is a new federal ruling and those arrested for hunting before noon next Tuesday will face federal prosecution.

Judge J. H. Hollingshead is recovering nicely from an operation in the Ord hospital. He was taken to go to his own home Saturday.

LOUP VALLEY SCHOOLS HOLD PLAY DAY HERE

Delegations of Girls From 11 Schools Frolic As Guests Of Ord High Girls.

About 175 girls from Loup valley towns met in Ord Wednesday for another of the "play-days" that the Loup Valley high school association sponsor several times each year, and which have done so much to create new friends and a new friendly spirit among the girl participants. Miss Edna Hnzida was in charge, and invitations were sent to eleven neighboring towns, Taylor, Burwell, Ord, North Loup, Sargent, Arcadia, Comstock, Dannebrog, St. Paul, Loup City, and Scotia. All except Dannebrog and Loup City accepted. Fifteen girls were asked from each town, and the response was gratifying. The purpose of these play days is to create a friendly spirit among the several schools through the girls, with an idea of getting away from the strenuous activities which have been the sole contact of neighboring schools in the past.

The program arranged opened with a reading by Florence Kokes, followed by a vocal duet by Melvin and Sylvia Cornell and a talk on girls' athletic activities in Turkey by Marjorie Hostetter. Then each school sang a song, and a grand march helped acquaintanceship along. Games and arrangements for Wednesday included baseball, basketball, soccer, relay races and miscellaneous games. A sponsor was in charge of the activity.

Lunch was provided for the guests by the Ord high school activity association. Sponsors from the various towns held a special meeting Wednesday to discuss the second annual winter camp for the girls, and where and when it should be held. The sponsors who accompanied students from other high schools to Ord for the day included the Misses Treadmore and Schabel, Scotia, Yost, North Loup, Gustafson, Sargent, Nun, St. Paul, Koenig, Arcadia, Spence, Taylor, Kincaid and Wilson, Burwell, Hostetter and Hnzida, Ord, and Mrs. Cavett, Comstock.

Series Hero

Here is John L. (Pepper) Martin, outfielder for the St. Louis Cardinals, whose batting and base-running were an outstanding feature in the world series. Martin was one of the main reasons for his team's excellent showing.

Cardinals Win Series. By defeating the Philadelphia Athletics 4 to 2 in the final game last Saturday, the St. Louis Cardinals won the World Series. The series went the full route this season, seven games, and only the fine pitching of the Cardinal ace, Burleigh Grimes and Bill Hallahan, coupled with the sensational playing of Pepper Martin, enabled the Redbirds to win baseball's greatest classic.

Electric Wizard Gives Talk Here

Demonstrating marvels that electricity produces to a special convocation of high school students in the auditorium Wednesday afternoon E. C. Jones thrilled his audience with the tricks he could work with high voltage and high frequency currents as his slaves. Mr. Jones, crack electrician and former teacher of physics in the Beatrice schools, tried to explain the fundamental principles of television to his audience, using an electric screen to show how sound may be transferred to light and then again transferred back to sound. He used a phonograph in performing this miracle, and held the closest attention of those present.

A former instructor of Superintendent Bell, Mr. Jones for several years past has been travelling, lecturing and appearing with chaquetaus. The talk he gave with his experiments was most interesting and valuable to high school students.

Miss LaVerne Wickberg, 20, of Palmer, Nebr., and Mr. Judson Kendrick, 31, stole a march on their Ord friends and gave them a great surprise Monday in Omaha when they were married in the offices of the county judge there that afternoon. The former Miss Wickberg, who has been a beauty operator in the Curlee Beauty Shoppe for about two years, left Saturday, ostensibly for Grand Island. The groom has been an insurance salesman for the Equitable Life company for several years, and is also well known here. The young couple will make their home in Omaha until the first of the year at least.

FEWER HUNTERS HERE BUT BIRDS ARE PLENTIFUL

Many Report Limit Kills As Annual Pheasant Season Opens; Two Sprinkled With Shot.

Mr. Pheasant, that lucky bird with the long tail, was lucky Tuesday but since then, Oh, Oh! After a day and night of drizzling rain the annual pheasant season dawned clear Tuesday morning but oh, how muddily underfoot. Only the bolder of local pheasant hunters ventured forth and few out-of-town hunters had arrived because of the rainy weather.

By Tuesday afternoon corn fields had begun to dry up and hiking was much more pleasant. Outside hunters began to arrive and since then guns can be heard popping on almost every quarter section in Valley county. Birds are plentiful this year, there is no doubt of that, for limit kills have been the rule rather than the exception. Seventeen hunters on Mott Rathbun's farm Tuesday brought in eight birds; seven hunters on Ernest Coats' farm got thirty-five birds; other limit kills have been reported from all over the county.

Not so many hunters are here from away as they come to Ord, probably because so many counties have open seasons this year. But hotels and restaurants report a rushing business, none the less, and hardware stores are selling hundreds of boxes of shells daily.

Two local hunters, Alfred Albers and Jason Abernethy, have got in the way of flying bird-shot this week but were not seriously hurt. One pellet went through Albers' cheek while Mr. Abernethy received eight or ten in his face and chest.

The new script plan is not proving very popular in Valley county. Only a few farmers have their places posted for script and most of these are collecting only from outside hunters. The plan is new, of course, and next year's more farmers may take advantage of the opportunity it gives them to collect 50c apiece for pheasants killed on their places during the season. County Clerk Kilma has sold only a dozen script books, he said yesterday, and next year has redeemed two of the one sold.

There will be no opportunity for a check-up on how many pheasants are killed in Valley county this year because outside hunters are no longer required to tag their birds before taking them out of the countable. It is probable, though, that fewer pheasants will be killed than in former years, even though the birds are more plentiful than ever before.

The open season continues until sun down next Monday evening, October 19.

Omaha Air Show At Burwell October 21

Next Wednesday, October 21, will be a big day in Burwell for that town will be visited by the third annual Omaha air tour. Thirty-five planes, including an airplane, will be in Burwell all day. Parachute jumps, bomb dropping contests, dead stick landings, open plane races, cabin plane races and formation maneuvers are included in the program. The Wranglers club of Burwell had to guarantee the air tour committee $1000 to secure this show and it should be a good one.

L. D. Pierce Tools Recovered In Iowa

Carpenter tools stolen from L. D. Pierce, of Ord, some time ago were recovered this week in Spirit Lake, Ia. Sheriff Round has been informed. Sanders and Alexander, the two men who are now serving penitentiary sentences for tool thefts, sold them to a lumber company there. The company will relinquish them to Mr. Pierce at once. Most of the tools stolen here have now been recovered by their owners.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert McMindedes and Miss Gladys returned home Thursday from a trip into Iowa. Albert had shipped stock to Omaha and recently moved on a farm and from there all went to Greenfield, Ia., to visit Albert's sister, Mrs. Lew Smith and family. 3 MILLION JUNKED CARS.

The National Automobile Chamber of Commerce is said to be considering a plan which, if successful, would result in the junking of three million rat-trap automobiles every year.

The plan was first suggested by the National Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel. It provides for the establishing of official junk yards in key cities throughout the United States.

When a dealer takes in trade a car that has outlived its usefulness, instead of reconditioning this car and passing it out to the public again he takes it to an official junk yard and receives payment for it at a rate established in a manner similar to that now used in determining used-car trade-in values.

The car is junked and the salvaged metals sold as junk. Automobile manufacturers pay the difference between the price allowed the dealer and the amount received from the junked parts.

If it could be worked out, such a plan would have many advantages. It would keep automobile factories running at capacity, thereby keeping employment steady.

Kindred industries such as steel mills would be kept busy. Transportation systems would benefit. And the public would benefit by the elimination of unsafe cars from the highways.

Similar ideas have been proposed before but they have never been properly sponsored or adequately financed. Should automobile manufacturers and the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce take hold of the present suggestion it doubtless could be made to work.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Professor Jones made some interesting remarks in connection with the electrical show which he presented to the Ord high school last Wednesday.

"Your generation will live to see the day when our main sources of sugars, starches, and proteins for human and animal foods will be manufactured electrically."

"When that day comes," declared the professor, "our sugar beet acreages in the west and our farm land in the cornbelt won't be worth ten cents an acre."

"These products are already being made in the laboratory," he continued. "They are composed of nothing more than carbon, oxygen, nitrogen, and hydrogen, all of which can be taken out of the air."

Most of us find that it requires more effort to form an opinion about a matter like this than the opinion is apt to be worth after we get it. To produce food cheaper mechanically than we are growing it now on farms seems an impossibility.

One does not expect that they can do more than supplement and add variety to present sources, at the most. It will remain impossible to make popcorn that will pop, eggs that will hatch and produce fried chicken; comb honey with vitamins in it—to the first maker of which, a standing prize offer of five thousand dollars awaits. At least that's what we think.

Yet we know that more than one industry has suddenly found itself obsolete because the impossible happened. Farm products could not stand much competition at present. Professor Jones' speech may have been overenthusiastic, but it was also a bit ominous.

One thing is certain. Such products, if they ever come out, will meet with strong resistance in the cornbelt. An attempt will probably be made to legislate a tax on them, as on butter substitutes. It is another reason why the farm group needs its share of loyal politicians.

Something DIFFERENT

A local practical joker had the starch quite thoroughly removed from his backbones by the results of one of his late pranks.

After he had given her fake news of the wedding of her sweetheart to another, while out of town, the girl in the case decided to get even.

And with the help of a doctor friend and a couple of nurses, she staged a scene of misery and sorrow, in which she, the victim of his practical joke, had gone to the desperate measure of taking poison.

Writing and moaning on the examination table in the doctor's office the girl lay, greenish-white of face, while the practical joker began to feel equally desperate at the horrible results he had brought about. A room full of sorrowing relatives heightening the effect.

That young fellow will probably think carefully before playing his next practical joke. On such an enterprising girl, at least.

Yes, the girl recovered. Shall I tell you who she was? A clever one.

Hear about the Scotchman whose wife had poor teeth? The dentist was explaining to her husband the terrible need for dental work, tooth by tooth, and concluded with, "And here's one she should have had pulled as child."

"Pulled it out," answered the Scotchman, but first get a paper and a pencil and I'll give you her father's address where you can send the bill."

Did you know that the heavy-looking cement bird that stood in the side-yard at the Hager home for several years was some of Chauncey's work? He made the forms and everything. It was a sort of octagonal shape.

From every side I hear comments about how suitable was the selection of Mrs. Nelson as winning yard and gardener. And comments about the beauty of her grounds.

"They say" that she did every speck of the work herself, between shifts at the telephone office. A mighty fine record.

About time for fall hunting excitement. Motors that are stiff struggling to start in the cold early dark of the mornings, avid hunters br-r-ring as they drag themselves from warm beds, the faint popping "on the river" that indicates more ducks falling.

And the proud, exaggerated accounts of prowess. Possibly not exaggerated, merely slightly stretched.

People on salary have little business crabbing the situation just now, if you ask me, or even if you don't.

The buying power of a dollar has stretched so far, covers so much more than it did three or four years ago. Merchandise was never so cheap, according to trade magazines, which say that merchandise is really underpriced just now by the sellers, in an effort to start buying by the public.

And salary cuts have to be generous indeed to take up the slack in these dollars that I insist are so stretched out of shape.

In other words, this is a buyer's market. A poor time to sell your wares, but a fine time to invest money, buy against future needs, etc.

Times like this, of depression, are the sort that lay the foundations for so many swollen fortunes. Some way fellow sees an opportunity, grabs it and wrings the life from it, and presto. Another big business man on his way to success.

October 11th is quite late in the fall for the yards and flowers to stay so beautiful. Roses are blooming so attractively in many yards, the second inspiration of the year. They are not the only flowers, many late summer flowers keep them company.

Mrs. Flagge remembered the Quiz this week with a beautiful bouquet of scarlet roses and soft purple petunias. An old favorite color scheme of mine. We planted a scarlet climbing rose and a purple clematis together this year at our house, but already have inside information that the scarlet climber is going to turn out pink.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Canning season is nearly over, but here comes one more recipe, very suitable for just this particular time when so many gardens are loaded with green tomatoes that will never have a chance to ripen.

Then too, Thanksgiving is in the offing, we mustn't forget. Time to put away the fruit cakes, too, isn't it?

Green Tomato Mince-meat. 1 peck green tomatoes, chopped fine, let set, drain off the juice. 1 tbs. salt. 1/2 peck of apples, chopped fine. 5 lbs. brown sugar. 2 lb. raisins. 2 tbs. cinnamon. 1 tbs. cloves. 1 tbs. nutmeg. 1 c. vinegar. Mix thoroughly. Bring to a boil, let boil a few minutes and seal hot. Makes about 8 qts. of mince-meat.

Then you would probably like to know a new way to cook your paring meat. Here is a delicious, tender, tasty way to serve it. Spanish Steak. Cut 2 pounds steak in 3 inch pieces and place in a deep pan. Slice 2 large onions and put over the steak. Grate 1 medium potato into a can of tomatoes and pour this over the steak and onions. Salt and pepper to taste and bake in a slow oven for one hour.

Mrs. Hall Barnes. Bran bread is really good, and surely there are many long cooks who have never attempted it yet who will like to try this recipe for bran bread is healthful, delicious, provides a change, one you will like. Quick Bran Bread. 3 c. health bran. 5 c. graham flour. 3 tsp. baking powder. 3 tsp. salt. 3 tsp. soda. 1/2 c. sugar. c. buttermilk (sour milk will do). 1 c. molasses. 1/2 c. nuts. 1/2 c. raisins may be added if you like. Bake one hour, starting in a hot oven. This makes two loaves.

EYE TALKS Week by Week

Visual exhaustion plays a great part in all our lives. How many of your friends never read a book? How many people merely read the headlines in the newspapers?

Yet they tell you that they see clearly and distinctly. Perhaps they will prove to you they see at great distances, read the finest type.

Too much nerve energy is expended, however, and they get nervous, or sleepy, or just lose interest after reading a short time.

It would be interesting indeed to know just how much ocular imbalances affect our lives.

One man selects an outdoor occupation because he gets fidgety at inside work from some eye imbalance that makes near work uncomfortable.

Another selects indoor work because of an ocular imbalance that makes him uncomfortable when looking at moving objects or at distances.

Possibly a much greater stress in their life would be achieved, if their handicap of nerve tension from eyestrain were removed and they were free to select the occupation that most appealed to them.

What's the Difference? Between two men, when one is called a "success" and the other a "failure". A related question suggests the answer: "Did you ever hear of a successful man who spent every cent he earned—or a failure who regularly saved a portion of his income?" There's nothing so ready cash reserve to help a man meet emergencies or grasp a promising opportunity and there's no easier way to build up a cash reserve as by following the Protective plan of saving, the plan that makes it so easy. Ask us for particulars.

"More genuine satisfaction than any car I ever owned" THE FORD is good-looking. It is safe. Comfortable. Speedy. Reliable. Long-lived. Economical. Everything a good car should be. There is, too, an added something about it that brings enthusiastic comments from every one who has ever driven a Ford . . . the joy it puts in motoring. "I have been a car owner continuously for nearly 20 years," writes a motorist connected with a leading university. "During this period I have bought eleven new automobiles. Eight of the eleven were in the middle-price field, one cost three thousand dollars, and the last is a Ford I purchased thirteen months ago. "In the light of this experience I can say in all sincerity that I have derived more genuine satisfaction from the Ford than any car I ever owned. In saying this, I am thinking in terms of comfort, safety, driving pleasure, ease of control and economy. My next car will also be a Ford because it will give me what I want at a price I can afford to pay." When you get behind the wheel of the Ford and drive it yourself you will know it is a truly remarkable car at a low price. You will like it when you first buy it. You will become more and more enthusiastic the longer you drive it. After thousands of miles of driving you will say "it's a great car." Its economy will save you many dollars. FIFTEEN DIFFERENT BODY TYPES $430 to $640 (F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra at low cost. Conventional economical terms can be arranged through your Ford dealer.) FORD MOTOR COMPANY

TONSILS
Removing Them By Electricity Is Now Possible
If there are enough people in this vicinity who are interested in having their tonsils or the tonsils of their children removed by this new method we can secure the services of the Technician of the Physio-Therapy Department of the Selter Surgical Company, of Omaha, to come to Ord and administer the treatments.
The advantages of this method are many: There is no loss of time from work or school, the treatments are almost painless, the patient rarely misses a meal as a result of the treatments, and the electro-coagulation method is absolutely safe and there is no danger of the serious complications that occasionally follow after surgical removal.
People who have, in the past, had their tonsils removed by surgery and pieces of the tonsils remain in, may have these pieces removed by this new electric method.
All people interested are asked to call at our office within a week and talk it over. We will be glad to give all details.

Our Sunday program of services is profitable and interesting to all. The minister's morning topic next Sunday will be: The Tragedy of the Trivial. At 7:30 we will speak on the Master's Power of Endurance, the third in a series on "What Kind of a Man was Jesus?" Then there is Sunday school with classes for everybody at 10 and Epworth League for the young people at 6:30. W. H. Wright.

Assembly of God Full Gospel Church. Many think one unwise if they do not use opportunity afforded in securing education to be able to secure a good position with a prospect of securing a better. Schooling and a good education are very useful in being a success in this life. But thousands are successful in things in this life who are failures in the spiritual life. It is thousands of times more important to be prepared for the next life than the present life.

What are you doing? Just how much of a success are you in eternal things? By the help of God and his word we are here to help you. Come to all services, we welcome you. Young peoples meeting, Friday, 7:30 p. m. Prayer service, Wednesday, 7:30 p. m. Sunday school, 10:00 a. m. Morning worship, 11:00 p. m. Evangelistic service, 7:30 p. m. CHRISTIAN SCIENCE. Emphasizing the fundamental verity that the atonement of Christ does not reconcile God to man, but man to God, whose attitude toward His children is never ought but that of a just and loving heavenly Father, the lesson- sermon which will be read in all Christian Science services on Sunday, October 18th, sets forth the Christian Science conception of the "Doctrine of Atonement."

A passage from the Bible (1 John 2:6) reads: "He that saith he abideth in him ought himself also so to walk, even as he walks." A correlative passage from the Christian Science text book (Science and Health p. 21) explains how following in the footsteps of the Master results in full reconciliation: "If Truth is overcoming error in your daily walk and conversation, you can finally say, 'I have fought a good fight.... I have kept the faith,' because you are a better man."

This is having our part in the atonement with Truth and Love." The lesson-sermon subject for the following Sunday is "Probation after death."

Buried Pawnee Village Coming to Light in Nebraska On the Loup river east of Fullerton work has already begun on exploring a buried Pawnee village. A party under Dr. Duncan Strong has been at work there bringing to light the visible remains of an unwritten page of Nebraska history inscribed before the white men came. The Pawnees, once a strong nation, lived along the Loups and were the most domestic of the tribes that lived in Nebraska. They lived in villages and had substantial homes built of circles of cedar posts supporting sod and grass roofs. They were rather skillful in the making of pottery. One house site already excavated and explored produced a number of pots, several arrow heads, flint scrapers and bone implements. They were about a foot underground. There was plenty of evidence this home had been burned, the pots in the center of the floor being crushed when the roof fell in upon them. Evidences have been discovered in these village sites of human sacrifices. Ethnologists have been led to believe they had found the exact spot where the Morning Star sacrifice was performed when Petah La Cheru, the Indian hero, came to the sudden rescue of the sacrificial maiden and carried her away on his horse. The medal engraved in his honor by a Washington society that heard of his bravery was found several years ago on a hill not far from where the excavations are now being made.

A large amount of ground remains to be covered in this vicinity and before the explorations are completed the scientists believe they will be able to piece together the fragmentary history and habits of the early Pawnees into a continuous pattern which will reveal best friend of the whites, the home-loving Pawnees.

Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leggett were on their return home this morning from Cullen Lake, at Nisswa, Minnesota.

WHAT WILL WAR DEBT CANCELLATION MEAN?

There is on foot and has been for many months, a move to have the United States cancel the war debts owed to her by foreign countries. The Hoover moratorium, which came up for ratification or rejection by Congress this winter, undoubtedly is the beginning move in this project, though proponents of the moratorium smugly state that the Ord Quiz, if the average citizen and taxpayer knows what cancellation of war debts will mean. When the United States entered the World War, our allies had reached almost the end of their financial resources. They needed huge sums of money and the United States government was called on to provide it. To secure this money, the U. S. government sold Liberty Bonds. The first Liberty Bond issue was followed in close succession by four other issues and much of the money was loaned to the governments of foreign nations who were our allies.

Citizens of the United States bought these bonds. When the foreign loans were made it was contemplated that the United States by foreign countries would pay interest to Americans on the bonds and that eventually, when the principal of the loans is paid, that the bonds would be retired by these payments.

In 1925 various conferences were called and the interest rate paid by foreign countries was scaled down because they were unable to pay the interest at first agreed upon. This left the United States government to pay Liberty bond owners the difference between the interest received from foreign countries and interest owed upon Liberty bonds. This difference had to be paid by taxation, and is so raised every year.

Now, if foreign loans are cancelled, it will mean that the United States government will have to provide the funds to retire Liberty bonds as they become due. These funds can be raised only by taxation, and will be so raised if foreign debts are cancelled.

The United States paid its own World War expenses, asking for help from other countries. Now, if foreign loans are cancelled, we also will have to pay the war costs of our allies, putting practically the whole cost of the World War upon the shoulders of American taxpayers. The United States has gained no material gain from the World War. We consistently refused to accept territory or reparations from Germany and her allies. We got nothing from the World War but it rather looks as though we will have to pay the entire cost of the war.

Do you favor the "Hoover moratorium" and the debt cancellation that it may lead to? If you do not, it would be a good idea to instruct our representative in Congress to fight all efforts at debt cancellation.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Newcomers to this valley have been heard to remark that when a winter storm blows down, it is tough to get colder than any other spot in the country. Before long we may be thinking likewise.

The freezing winds that come will find many openings in the sides of barns and sheds. Some shelters will have holes big enough to stick a foot through. The temperatures within such buildings will drop quickly.

Horses will want more to eat; cows will shiver and give less milk; chickens will stand on one foot and then the other; pigs will fight with each other to see who gets the bottom place in their house.

Lying unused, near all this misery, will be some excellent material for making houses warm. It doesn't cost much to insulate buildings with cheap roughage. Stakes can be driven near the walls, and cornstalks piled in between. Such makeshift contraptions may not look pretty, but they will warm up buildings surprisingly fast.

Cornstalks, straw, composition paper, or even dirt can be used. No one needs to be cold to stock this winter. Dollars are getting so big that it may be more practical to bank up the old building with cheap roughage, than to invest in a new one. A job like this has a warming up effect on a farmer too.

Lost 20 Lbs. of Fat In Just 4 Weeks

Mrs. Mae West of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I'm only 28 years old and weighed 170 lbs. until taking one box of your Kruschen Salts just 4 weeks ago. I now weigh 150 lbs. I also have more energy and furthermore I've never had a hungry moment."

Fat folks should take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast — an 85c bottle lasts 4 weeks—you can get Kruschen at McLain & Sorensen's or any drug store in America. If not fully satisfied after the first bottle—money back.

—Miss Amy Ward, a sister of Mrs. George Tunnell of Burwell and two friends, Misses Hazel Allen and Flossie Burboe, who had been visiting the Tunnell family in Burwell, left Thursday by auto for their home in Boston. During their stay they were callers at the A. W. Tunnell home in Ord.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

The people of the U. S. have said most emphatically by their ballots at least a couple of times, that they do not want this country to get mixed up with the league of nations. President Hoover, however, though simply the hired man of the people of the country, thinks he knows better what is good for us than we know and, apparently he doesn't care a cuss what we want, for he is going ahead with the league of nations and if there is a war between China and Japan, very likely we will be sending troops over there and later paying the war bill. What are we going to do about it? In my judgment, unless a miracle is wrought, a large majority of the people of this country are going to vote against Mr. Hoover next year if the republicans nominate him for president.

For several years I have been spending a couple of weeks at Cullen Lake in the fall and I wanted to go again this fall, and when Judge Clements offered to drive his car, if the Missus and I would go along with himself and wife. I accepted the chance. We left Ord at 6 a. m. the morning of October 1, spent that night in a cabin camp at Starbuck, Minn., and arrived in camp at 11 a. m. the next day, having stopped in Brainerd to get a few needed supplies on the way. The weather was warm enough so we were comfortable with doors open that afternoon and we had good weather most of the ten days we spent there. We arrived home Thursday noon of last week with no worse trouble on the trip than a downy cold or three times. I don't know what Judge Clements thinks about it but we think it was the most enjoyable trip we have ever made up there.

Everything seemed to conspire to make the vacation ideal. Weather as near perfect as we could have, the woods beautiful with their multicolored foliage, the fish biting like mad most all the time and nothing to worry about except the necessity, the last three days, of swiping enough wood to keep us comfortable during the evenings and to cook our daily meals. We swiped it from the nice pile that Frank Gross always keeps handy and we hope that Ray will follow instructions and get it put back before Gross finds it out and has us pulled. There was frost one morning when I rolled out at 4:30 to build the kitchen fire and get breakfast preparatory to going to the upper lake I was surprised to find the wash basin, left in the kitchen sink, with water in the sink before, frozen over. The sink is close to a window that was forgotten left open knowing that when we had motored to the thoroughfare I would have to strip my shoes and sock and pull the boat through for about a quarter of a mile, I wondered if I would be cutting my feet as I broke the ice going through. But I didn't mind that cold morning air the water actually felt warm as I splashed through drawing the Missus in the boat and then she rowed while I dried my feet and put on shoes and stockings and no discomfort was felt after the experience I had had to be on the bar as day was breaking if we wanted to catch the large croppies. That morning we got them and later a nice string of bass.

Really it is the bass fishing that was the most exciting and enjoyable for it was wonderful all the time we were there. We caught our limit about every time we went out and while we brought in and put into the live box 85 bass ranging in weight from 4 1/2 lbs. down to 1 lb. we caught and turned loose many more than we took in. We caught them on minnows and used cane poles and had there been a contest on and had the law permitted, we could have caught many times what we did catch while we were there. When "Dutch" Manchester and Bill Worrell read this they are going to be sorry they didn't go up. I told them what was going to happen so they have only themselves to blame.

Sometimes, when we are there in hot weather, as for instance this year in August, the fish don't bite and we are prone to think they are all caught out of the lake. Ray tells me that last spring he was around the edges of the lake and large bass and all sizes of bass were there by the thousand in the rushes spawning. He says the same is true of all kinds of fish and he thinks, if we could see the bottom of the lake we would be surprised at the great masses of fish that we would see there in hot weather when we think there are no fish. I shall always try to be in Minnesota during a part of September and October. I think the ideal time would be from mid-September to until the lakes freeze up in October, as they say they usually do before the end of the month. The natives there say the bass will strike yet when it is so cold that the line comes in with a coating of ice on it.

But one of the more enjoyable features of being there is the beauty of the foliage on the trees in the fall after a few frosts. The shores of the lake, densely wooded, with splashes here and there of red and brown and yellow and all shades of each of these colors among the green of the pines, makes a picture hard to imagine and once seen, never forgotten. I don't know why trees in this country don't color up as they do there but they don't. Then we were always seeing partridge and grouse and gray squirrels and there are getting to be a lot of pheasants there too. We didn't see a deer this fall but have other times and a man who lives near the lake told me he saw a doe and two fawns nearly every day during the summer and they got so tame that they came into his barnyard.

Don't delay, any longer, getting tulips and other spring bulbs planted among the first to bloom the spring and it is time they were in the ground.

Something Different

Real life novel plots I have met. The hardworking mother who kept a boarding house to put her boy through professional school. The boy reaching success in his profession, tactfully obscuring his background, quarrelling with his sisters over their mother's estate, trying to grab a few more pennies. The washwoman who has a successful son who is proud to acknowledge her aid, glad to be kind to her. And who has made a home for her for years, putting off marriage until two comfortable homes are possible.

The young mail carrier whose doctor told him Wednesday that he must leave that town and altitude by Friday, for Arizona. T. B. meaning the loss of a home, taking two babies and a frail wife and a very few dollars to face a wobbly future. The mother who lost her only son in an accident, and since that day begrudged every other mother her every child. "Why couldn't it have been your boy?" is the horrible question with which she greets her acquaintances.

The ambitious girl with a glorious voice who worked and struggled for a chance, a few more chances, and then quit to get married. Who has stopped her practicing, and her husband dropped his ambitions for a professional career. And now they not only stagnate together but are going down-hill the same way.

The hard working couple of another race who finally established their own little cafe. Got the trade and then achieved Easy Street with the invention of a marvelous salad dressing. Went to Hollywood and put "the little girl" in the movies. And now are back, trying for another start.

The opy niece of a wealthy banker, who broke his heart by marrying a drunkard. Now there are six daughters to help, and of course, much less to keep them. And every dime the bachelor uncle sends his niece is snatched for worthless uses by the bubbly.

The town's wildest girl marrying the town's wildest boy. What happened? The most peaceful and domestic couple to be had have a little girl and a brand new son, stay home both days and nights, own their little shop, their car, are buying their house and have money in the bank.

The town's professor who married a student and got a baby son who only lived long enough to be the center of all their affections, then died. Who was much fond of in class of discussing "the abstract" that "the concrete" carried for spite, while drunk, a girl who looked much like the one he really wanted. Whose wife straightened him out, moved him away from trouble, acquired three children and now has a husband who is an extra in the movies.

The town's biggest liar. Who went to university a poor boy, son of a washerwoman, though a highly educated one. And shortly blossomed out in $175 overcoats. The bad girl he reached . . . ? Fame in the movies.

The girl so wild no school could hold her, no rules restrain her. In and out of a dozen scrapes at 16. Now one of the dozen most famous movie stars we have. Believe it or not.

The sad woman who married the wrong sultor but was strong for the old-fashioned adage . . . "made your bed, now lie in it." So strong for it that when she became ill and a doctor would have saved her, she quietly died in his arms until it was too late for the operation.

The aging couple with cheeks like Jonathans, springy steps and upright men. And why shouldn't they look the world squarely eye to eye? Many years ago a bank went broke, and the man in question then young, though legally and universally conceded to be blameless, took upon himself the payment of the debts thus made. On a moderate salary year after year have those people who lost their money been paid back and in full within the last few months, are this couple knowing the meaning of a few of the pleasant things money will buy. Every cent has been paid up! Moderns who prate of "business practices" . . . (in other words often just a way of saying dog eat dog) . . . never heard of integrity like this, did they? —Irma.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

What could be more appropriate than game recipes at this time of year? Beginning Tuesday the wild duck will begin to find their way into savory dishes, and no two people fix them exactly the same. Some cooks aspire to remove as much of the "wild" taste as possible, other families like them for their wild taste. Some families especially esteem the dressing, or perhaps it is the gravy. We hear from you that you prepare game for the table to please your household?

Wild Duck.
2 ducks. 2 apples. 1 large tomato or 1 c. tomatoes. 2 large onions. 1 tsp. mace, sage, allspice and cloves. Salt and pepper. Stuff with the other ingredients and fry brown in a skillet in which two onions have been chopped. Put into roaster and bake two hours.

Pour off the grease and make a gravy and pour it over the ducks, then return the roaster to the oven for another hour's baking. The ducks should be covered with gravy. We think this delicious.

Mrs. C. E. Wesenberg, Omaha
Then here is a recipe for something new and different, which will undoubtedly startle your family into words of praise.

Yum Yum Gens.
1 c. Crisco, 1 c. brown sugar, 1 egg, 1 c. sour milk, 2 c. flour, 1 tsp. soda, 1 tsp. cloves, 1 tsp. cinnamon, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 1 c. raisins, 3/4 c. nuts.
And here is a cake that has a terrible title, which hasn't a thing to do with anything except the way the cake is made.

Dump Cake.
1 c. flour, 1 c. sugar, 3/4 c. butter, 1 tsp. baking powder, pinch of salt, 2 eggs.
Sift together flour, sugar and baking powder. Melt butter in a cup, break eggs into it and finish filling it with milk. Dump into the other ingredients, stir well, add flavoring and bake in two layers in a cake oven.

This is a cake recipe that little cooks like to try. This is also good in cup cake form.
Mrs. Otto Bartz, North Loup.
And it is nearly time for all those rich, heavy desserts that are meats called indigestible, but Oh, how I love 'em! Don't you? Here is one I am sure I would like.

Suet Pudding.
1 c. suet, finely chopped. 3/4 c. molasses, 1 c. sour milk, 3 c. flour, 1/2 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. cloves, 1/2 tsp. nutmeg, 1 tsp. cinnamon.
Cream suet, add molasses and milk, sift together thoroughly the flour, baking soda, salt and spices and add. Turn into a buttered mold and steam two hours. Serve with Hard Sauce.

1 1/2 c. sugar. 1 1/2 c. water. Let boil. Put 2 tsp. cornstarch in a little water, stir until smooth, add to the sugar and water. Add a few drops of Vanilla.
Miss Julia Vincent.

Exploring has continued until 1928. Previous to this time new rooms of enchantment were constantly being found. Some of these places are not open to the annual average of eighteen thousand tourists, because they can be reached only through narrow passages that barely admit a human being, who is brave enough to force himself through by means of crawling on his stomach.

I shall never forget that balmy evening after supper when we stepped into an elevator and dropped a thousand feet beneath the surface of the ground. It was cold and damp down there. Most of us were rejoicing because some one had foresight enough to tell us to take our coats along. I don't know what the temperature is supposed to be but it would be very satisfactory for an ice box. It varies only two degrees between winter and summer. LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Edna Dowhower Writes.

Dear Quiz:
If I were asked to name some of the most important natural wonders of my journey, I feel sure that the list would not be complete without having included The Lookout Mountain Caverns of Chattanooga Tennessee. Geologists tell us that they are old, very very old. Millions and millions of years ago, we are told, surface water filtered its way through tiny openings of the hard outer core. Gradually it melted the core of soft limestone beneath, forming those subterranean palaces that rival the most magnificent handiwork of man in beauty, size, form and color.

Many years ago, before the white men had penetrated into the wilderness of the present eastern Tennessee, Indians weaving their way through these beautiful wooded mountains and intervening valleys, built their villages on the banks of sparkling streams. They discovered these huge caves which soon became very convenient hideouts from hostile tribes. Today blackened walls and floor of many a council fire.

The Indians finally disappeared and the rolling years brought 1863 during which the battle of Lookout Mountain between the Confederate forces under General Bragg, and the Unions under General Grant, was fought here at the top of the mountain. Deserting troops and wounded men from both sides used these caverns underneath the mountain for refuge. Their names scratched upon the soft limestone walls are apparently as plain as the day when they were written. Upon glancing further, however, we find that white men have been there before the Civil War. The signature, Andrew Jackson, bearing the date 1833 has been compared with records at Washington and found to be that of a distinguished visitor, the honorable ex-president Jackson.

Exploring has continued until 1928. Previous to this time new rooms of enchantment were constantly being found. Some of these places are not open to the annual average of eighteen thousand tourists, because they can be reached only through narrow passages that barely admit a human being, who is brave enough to force himself through by means of crawling on his stomach.

I shall never forget that balmy evening after supper when we stepped into an elevator and dropped a thousand feet beneath the surface of the ground. It was cold and damp down there. Most of us were rejoicing because some one had foresight enough to tell us to take our coats along. I don't know what the temperature is supposed to be but it would be very satisfactory for an ice box. It varies only two degrees between winter and summer. Some white fuzzy mold seemed to be the only kind of plant life present. in which only nature herself knows the art. The imagination is stirred by almost every conceivable form, each different in itself and seemingly never repeated. There are Joseph and Mary flowers, fruits, faces, statues, gardens and cathedrals. One ambitious and imaginative member of our party even found a bride and groom at an altar. One could walk for days through this colorful bewitching fairyland and still find new sources of delight in Hall of Dreams, Onyx Jungle, Ruby Falls and Diana's Fairy Stage.

At the end of a two mile jaunt we heard the rumble of falling water and by following this sound we were led into an immense dome shaped room nearly two hundred feet high. Here with a thunderous roar a gushing mountain stream dashed from the rocks above us into a seething lake, one hundred forty-five feet below. A few minutes later the lights were turned off and we quietly stood and listened to that pounding and dashing which has evidently been booming through those pitch black halls for ages and ages.

It was with much reluctance that we found ourselves trudging back to camp that night. Although it was only nine thirty, we had learned that early in the morning comes too soon.

The next day we paid a dime apiece to see some rattlesnakes, one which had died the evening before. Indian relics, a bear cub, a mangy coon and a four legged chicken, all exhibited by the roadside in a tumble-down shack, which served the purpose of a museum.

Flood Party Hunted Here.
The Ord Quiz:
Francis Flood, traveler in Alaska, South America and just recently in Borneo, and who has visited Ord and lectured twice, was in Valley county last week hunting pheasants. Mr. Flood will be remembered by many farmers who have followed his travels through the columns of the Nebraska Farmer, of which he is associate editor.

A few years ago we became acquainted with Mr. Flood when he visited our farm in the interests of the Nebraska Farmer. We became good friends and have kept in touch with each other since, so when word came that he was coming here to hunt I at once went into training. I walked miles and shot up a lot of tin cans getting ready for the hunt. Well, the day arrived. So did Mr. Flood, along with Mr. D. E. Marcotte, treasurer of the Nebraska Farmer company, and five of their Lincoln friends, Thomas Barnes, Weston Batty, Harold Bickford, Don Straw and Avery Pickering. They camped in our grove where in wet years we have a little lake. Our neighbors were mighty good and gave us permission to hunt their farms and none of them asked for script. All of us went into action, and we sure reduced the pheasant population by several dozen. Everybody got the limit. As pheasants were numerous and not very wild our neighbors joined in the hunt so there were usually ten or twelve in the gang. Walter and Waver Coats hunted with us part of the time, when their farm chores were done.

Saturday afternoon Walter asked the gang over to his farm near Arcadia and we got into a quarter that had not been hunted, on the farm owned by Walter's neighbors. The farm had a wet swale overgrown with swamp grass that was literally alive with pheasants. Twenty-three paid the penalty for digging up this man's corn and his wife's garden. They were glad to have us shoot them and though we offered them script they would not take it. As one man remarked, ten pheasants got away for every one we got, and it looked the same way to me.

Mr. Flood and his party were a nice lot of men, about all as good as in the West here. There was no profane language nor any drinking going on at any time and they were all careful with their guns and careful of the farmer's rights while hunting on his land.

County Agent Dale joined the party Sunday morning and hunted with us until noon that day. That Dale is no slouch with a gun and woe to any pheasant that starts to get fresh with him. Mr. Flood appeared to get as much sport out of hunting pheasants as he did out of

ORD HI BREAKS LOSING STREAK WITH 20-0 WIN

Victory Drouth Ended Friday When Molzen Warriors Tramp On Broken Bow Gridsters

The long victory drouth is ended! Athletics are again coming into their own in Ord high school.

Displaying a powerful offense and a stubborn defense, Coach Cecil Molzen's high school team plunged and passed their way to a brilliant 20 to 0 victory last Friday against Broken Bow on the Russell park field. It was Ord high's first victory on the gridiron in the last three campaigns, and marked what Red and White boosters believe will be the beginning of a long series of wins.

Elwin Auble, pile driving full-back, was almost the whole show in Ord high's victory last Friday. This junior, playing his first season as a regular, scored two Ord touchdowns, plunged for two extra points, and put the ball in position for the other Ord score, the ball being taken across by Earl Klein.

It was Auble's line plunges and off tackle smashes that made Ord always dangerous, though he was given excellent interference by his back-field mates and also benefited by the efforts of a line that constantly kept the Broken Bow forward wall from getting into the play.

The first Ord touch-down was made in the first quarter when, after a fifteen yard pass, Donnie Lashmett to Benda, put the ball on the Broken Bow fifteen yard line, Auble carried it to the four-yard stripe in three successive plunges. The Broken Bow team, expecting another drive at the line, played in close but Quarterback Lashmett crossed them up and sent Klein scurrying around right end. He galloped across the goal line untouched. The try for point failed.

Ord's second touch-down was made in the third quarter. The Red and White recovered a fumble on the Broken Bow twenty-yard line and from there Auble carried it across in successive plunges, also driving through the line for the extra point and making the count 13 to 0.

As though this wasn't enough for one afternoon, the stocky back flitted around left end a little later and ran thirty yards for another marker, also plunging for the extra point. Other efforts were being balked by penalties, though the Ord team threatened the enemy goal constantly.

Not all the credit, by any means, should go to Auble. Quarterback Donnie Lashmett's punting was far and away above the ordinary high school level and he passed accurately. His judgment in mixing up plays was good and he played a bang-up game throughout. Klein, Steinwurt and Ev. Lashmett, other Ord backs, also played consistent football.

Niesmidt Here To Help Soil Survey

E. A. Niesmidt, a state soil survey expert, arrived in Ord this week to help R. L. Gemmill's squad in their survey of Valley county soils. He has been in charge of the survey made in Dundee county, which has just been completed. Dave Lovald, who has been here helping Mr. Gemmill, has been transferred to Holt county, where he will work for about three weeks. The survey in Valley county is progressing nicely. Mr. Gemmill reports. He expects to start work in the North Loup valley this week, beginning toward the eastern edge of the county. The survey will be completed about Thanksgiving, Mr. Gemmill says.

Pidge Johnson To Sell Karmel-Korn

Edward L. Johnson, Jr., better known as "Pidge", is in Lincoln this week receiving instructions in operating a Karmel-Korn shop, the business so many Ord people now are in. Next week, with his wife, Pidge will leave for Elizabethtown, N. J., where he will open a Karmel-Korn shop.

Pidge was born and reared in Ord and has been in business here for the past ten years, first in the Ord City Bakery as a partner of Forrest Johnson, then as proprietor of the Ord Ice Cream factory, and then in partnership with his brother, Glen, in the south side cafe. Glen will continue in the restaurant with the assistance of his mother, Mrs. E. L. Johnson, who will help with the management starting next week.

Human Skeleton Is Plowed Up Near North Loup

While plowing on the Elmer King farm southwest of North Loup last Thursday, Comfort Cummins unearthed portions of a human skeleton which had evidently laid in the ground undisturbed for many years. The skull, which was in fairly good condition, and several other bones were found. Young Cummins says the skeleton was that of a man and he believes that it must have been an Indian.

SEVEN DAY OPEN SEASON CAUSED REAL SLAUGHTER

Many Hunters Showed No Regard For Limit, Sex, Shooting Hours; 'Get Birds' Was Rule.

"Get the birds no matter how you do it" seemed to be the rule of many hunters during the open season on pheasants that closed here Monday and the result was probably the most wholesale slaughter of game birds ever witnessed in the history of Valley county.

When the season opened pheasants were plentiful. They still are, for that matter, but only because they were here in such numbers that not even an army could have exterminated them in seven days.

Many hunters showed no regard at all for the daily limit, which was five birds. One man boasted of killing 33 in a single afternoon; another admitted having killed 20; a party of four said they killed 88 another drive at the line played in close but Quarterback Lashmett crossed them up and sent Klein scurrying around right end. He galloped across the goal line untouched. The try for point failed.

Ord's second touch-down was made in the third quarter. The Red and White recovered a fumble on the Broken Bow twenty-yard line and from there Auble carried it across in successive plunges, also driving through the line for the extra point and making the count 13 to 0.

As though this wasn't enough for one afternoon, the stocky back flitted around left end a little later and ran thirty yards for another marker, also plunging for the extra point. Other efforts were being balked by penalties, though the Ord team threatened the enemy goal constantly.

His judgment in mixing up plays was good and he played a bang-up game throughout. Klein, Steinwurt and Ev. Lashmett, other Ord backs, also played consistent football.

Outside hunters cannot be blamed for the disregard of game laws last week, for local hunters are responsible for most of the violations. City shooters, who had to carry their birds long distances and hereby risk arrest, adhered more closely to the law than did Valley county people.

Probably the biggest reason for the way pheasant laws were disregarded this year was the shortened open season. With the biggest crop of pheasants in years, hunters naturally looked forward to a longer open season than usual. Instead, the state game commission cut the season from ten days to only seven, and hunters went out determined to kill as many pheasants in seven days as they usually do in ten. There were, of course, many sportsmen who obeyed the law but the majority did not.

Leaking Gas Stove Causes Nasty Fire At Taylor Residence

A leaking gasoline stove caused a nasty blaze that did damage estimated at $200 to the Dr. G. W. Taylor home in Ord last Friday evening. Mrs. Taylor, who discovered the fire, was slightly burned. She called her son, Harold, who poured water on the tank so it would not explode and then closed doors leading from the kitchen into other rooms of the house. The fire department was called and the flames soon were subdued. Damage from smoke, fire and water was confined to the kitchen and breakfast room. It was fully covered by insurance.

Hear McCormack Sing
While in Denver recently Mrs. George A. Gard, of Ord, had the privilege of hearing a concert sung by the famous opera tenor, John McCormack. She attended the concert with her sister-in-law, Mrs. Harold Parks, formerly of Ord. While in Denver Dr. and Mrs. Gard called to see a former Ordite, A. M. Daniels, who is just recovering after a serious operation in St. Luke's hospital. He is able to sit up now, the Gards report.

Mrs. Cecel Clark returned Saturday night from Omaha where she had attended the Degree of Honor convention. She came home with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bentley, who were coming to Ord for a few days stay.

COUNTY'S FIRST YOUNG CITIZENS ARE CHOSEN HERE

Four Chosen to Represent Val- ley County in Contest Spon- sored By American Legion.

By IRMA ELLIS LEGGETT.
Some day when Marion Grace Cushing is president of the local League of Women Voters and the Women's club; when Mary Elizabeth Cook has become county superintendent of our county and perhaps republican committeewoman; when Charles Shepard is a famous surgeon in the Mayo clinic; when Adrian Tolén is Nebraska's foremost farmer, or perhaps even governor—then the local committee that officiated last Saturday in the American Legion's contest to choose the foremost young citizens of our county, some excelling in one branch and some in another, but after some half-splitting decisions the committee in charge decided Marion Grace Cushing and Mary Elizabeth Cook, of Arcadia, had the edge among the girls while Charles Shepard and Adrian Tolén topped the boys.

The contest was sponsored by the American Legion, the state being divided into thirteen districts with the object of selecting first county winners, their district winners and finally state winners. When the state contest is held in Omaha early in November the ten most outstanding young citizens of the state are to be selected, five boys and five girls, and the winners will be given suitable medals. District winners will have their expenses paid to Omaha by the Omaha World-Herald, which is co-operating with the Legion.

Many more entries had been expected in the county contest Saturday but Superintendent of Schools, perhaps the idea of competing against senior high school students scared many entries out. Nevertheless, it was a difficult job to pick the winners. Elmer Lukesh, of Genaratum, was close behind the boys who won out.

Robert Flory, of Albion, state commander of the American Legion, will be the principal speaker next Thursday evening, October 23, at a get-together meeting for all ex-service men to be held in the Legion hall. Other speakers will be H. H. Kritz, of Grand Island, district Legion commander, and E. L. Vogeltanz, commander of the Ord post. A lunch will follow the program. Everything is free.

All ex-service men are cordially invited to attend this meeting, whether they belong to the Legion or not. It is hoped that a majority of the ex-service men now living in Valley county will attend.

Banking Situation Need Cause No Worry; We Have Two Strong Banks

The closing of the State Bank of Ord this week will work a temporary inconvenience, perhaps even hardship, upon a number of people. While the bank's closing is greatly to be regretted there is no occasion for alarm. The State Bank's depositors will lose little, if any, money, when the bank's affairs are finally straightened up, the Quiz believes. And in the meantime business can go on as usual in Ord, for we have two strong banks left.

The quarterly statement published two weeks ago by the First National Bank shows that bank to be in such shape that it should be able to withstand any storm. This week the Nebraska State Bank publishes their statement as of September 29, the date when the First National's statement was issued, to show that this bank, also, is sound. The state banking department did not require the Nebraska State to publish this statement; bank officers did it of their own initiative to show the public where they stand. And the Quiz understands that the Nebraska State is in even better shape than their statement shows, for yesterday they disposed of their sundry real estate for cash to Kingsbury Huff, and the money is now in the bank's vaults.

There is no cause for alarm about the banking situation in Ord. Let us be calm and adopt for our slogan: "Business as usual."

Lincoln Men Come In Airplane, Get Pheasant Limit

Last Friday about 10:15 a. m. Sheriff George Round got a telephone call from his friend, Milton Gates, of Lincoln, a former deputy state sheriff. He and a friend, Harry Sidles, were starting to Ord immediately in an airplane and asked that Sheriff Round get a couple of men to guide them who knew where pheasants could be found.

At 12:35 o'clock the plane landed in Ord. After eating a lunch Messrs. Gates and Sidles started hunting, under the guidance of Deputy Sheriff Archie Keep and Tom Thompson. At 4 o'clock they took off for Lincoln and at 5:30 p. m. landed there with their limit of pheasants.

Which probably sets a record of some kind for other Lincoln pheasant hunters to shoot at.

ONLY BANK IN NORTH LOUP IS CLOSED FRIDAY

Heavy Withdrawals Force Sus- pension, Officers Say; State Now Has Charge of Bank.

The first bank to fail in Volley county in recent years is the North Loup State, only bank in North Loup which last Friday morning closed its doors. Officers explained that they were closing the bank voluntarily for the protection of depositors and that funds of the bank would be liquidated in an orderly manner.

Recent heavy withdrawals of deposits it was explained, brought about the situation that made suspension of business necessary. M. D. Earnest was president of the North Loup State bank; W. H. Schultz was vice president and Paul Robinson cashier. The bank is capitalized at $20,000 and records in the Valley county assessor's office reveal that the stock is owned as follows: M. D. Earnest, 40 shares; W. H. Schultz, 10; Paul Robinson, 30; Inez Robinson, 35; Jennie Tully, 40; George Peterson, 30; LaVerne Peterson, 10; Pearl Trimble, 5.

Immediately after the bank was closed last Friday morning a bank examiner was sent out from Lincoln to audit the bank's books. This was done, and a receiver was appointed, taking charge of the bank this week.

Depositors of the failed bank held an unofficial meeting Tuesday afternoon and appointed a committee composed of M. E. McClellan, chairman, J. A. Barber, Dr. Hemphill, J. M. Fisher, and Will Eglehoff to consult with the state banking authorities relative to a depositors' league taking the bank over and cleaning up its affairs, thus saving the expense of a receivership. A proposal to reorganize the bank failed of approval by the state. Mr. McMichael went to Lincoln yesterday to talk with state banking officials.

No statements have been issued relative to the losses that will be suffered by depositors in the bank, but it is not thought that they will be heavy.

Flagg Sole Owner Of Ford Garage

By a deal completed last week Gould B. Flagg becomes sole owner of the Ford agency and garage in Ord, formerly the property of the Flagg-Tunnelliff Motor Company. His partner, A. W. Tunnelliff, retains from the company but for the present will continue to make Ord his home. His future plans are indefinite, Mr. Tunnelliff says.

The new concern will be known as the Flagg Motor Company. Mart Beran becomes foreman of the shop department, Harold Erickson continues as head of the tire department, and other members of the personnel remain the same.

Duck Hunting Season Opened Here Tuesday

Tuesday noon the annual duck hunting season opened here but so far as most river shooters are concerned it might as well have stayed closed. Few hunters succeeded in making good kills Wednesday morning, as the balmy weather has not brought any northern ducks down. Hunters who went to the sand-hill lakes Tuesday brought back a few ducks, the best kill being reported by Drs. Miller and Barta and Emory Thomson, who hunted on a lake near Tryon, in McPherson county. They killed 78, mostly big ducks. Tuesday afternoon and yesterday.

Pioneer Railroader Dies In Oklahoma

Arcadia, Oct. 20.—(Special)—J. M. Beard, 72, a pioneer Burlington railroad engineer who lived here for several years when this village was the railroad terminal, passed away recently in Oklahoma City, at the home of his son Joe. Mr. Beard retired from the railroad work in 1916 after thirty years of service. Old timers will remember him well.

—Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Horner of Arcadia were in Ord Sunday. They had spent the week in Burwell and were on the way to North Loup. Mr. Horner is a brother of Mrs. Ralph Haas of Ord and Mrs. Ray Enger of Burwell.

KAREL CERNIK, EARLY SETTLER, DIES IN SARGENT

Settled in Valley County In 1885 And Lived Here Until 1922; Funeral At National Hall.

At the home of a son in Sargent last Wednesday, Karel Cernik, 79, another of the early settlers of Valley county, went to his reward. For forty-seven years of his life Mr. Cernik called this county his home and it was only fitting that funeral services be held Saturday at the National hall were attended by a huge gathering of friends and old time neighbors.

Born July 18, 1852 in the village of Polpice, in Czecho-Slovakia, Mr. Cernik spent his boyhood days there and in 1875 was wed to Miss Anna Cernik. In 1885 they came to the United States and settled on a farm in Genaratum township, which was their home until 1922, when they moved to Comstock. Mrs. Cernik passed away in 1927 and after that time Mr. Cernik lived with his children.

He leaves to mourn his going three sons, Frank, of Sargent, and Joseph, of Comstock, and six daughters, Louise Rawdin, of Creston, Anna Kasper, of Arnold, Mary Holub, of Omaha, Emma Smolik, of Ord, Minnie Vanek and Camilla Hruby, of Comstock. He also leaves 24 grandchildren, one grandchild having preceded him in death.

Mr. Cernik was a member of the Workmen, Z. C. B. J. and C. S. P. S. lodges. Rev. B. A. Pilipi, of Clarkston, conducted the funeral services.

Book 280 Years Old Wins First Prize At Antique Show

Arcadia, Oct. 19.—(Special)—A book 280 years old, now the property of Mrs. J. VanWieren, won first prize at the antique show sponsored by the ladies aid society of the Methodist church and held here last Friday. The oldest costume exhibited, a chemise more than 200 years old, also is owned by Mrs. VanWieren. The most unique display was a pair of tiny books, carved from pine knots by J. A. Summers when he was eight years old and now owned by Mrs. Millie McMichael. The article adjudged most typical of pioneer days was a framed photograph of a sod house with the family and belongings, the picture being the property of Mrs. Harry Bellinger. The oldest dish on display was a platter brought from England, a china mark up on W. W. McMichael. The rarest article was a jewel chest of hand carved wood in very intricate design, from the Philippine Islands, the property of Faye Baird. A large crowd attended the antique show.

Duck Hunting Season Opened Here Tuesday

Tuesday noon the annual duck hunting season opened here but so far as most river shooters are concerned it might as well have stayed closed. Miller and Barta and Emory Thomson, who hunted on a lake near Tryon, in McPherson county. They killed 78, mostly big ducks. Tuesday afternoon and yesterday.

Albino Pheasant Was Shot Near Arcadia

Perhaps you've heard of white crows, but did you ever hear of a white pheasant? Arcadia people were agog last Saturday evening when C. R. John brought a pheasant to the albino variety to town. It was absolutely white all over and was certainly a pheasant, thus confirming the stories of people living north-west of Arcadia who several times this summer have reported seeing a white pheasant. The bird was killed by Joe John. It is now in the possession of C. C. Weddell, of Arcadia, who expects to have it mounted.

EVENTFUL LIFE OF MRS. BARTA COMES TO CLOSE

Woman Who Twice Homesteaded, Once Because She Couldn't Be Idle, Buried Here Sunday.

A life full of adventure ended for Mrs. Frank Barta, 83, mother of Joseph P. Barta of Ord, when death claimed her on October 14, 1931 at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Albert West who lived near Harwood, Mont. Coming to a strange country in search of a missing brother, twice facing the rigors of homesteading, left a widow with five children to face hard times. These are only the high lights of a hard, picturesque life, which was an inspiration to those who knew her.

Born Anna Matos, near Prague, Czecho-Slovakia on March 14, 1848, here girlhood days were spent, and in 1873 she became the bride of Frank Barta, the wedding taking place in Prague. Just after the big fire she and her husband came to Chicago in a vain search for a missing brother. This was in 1871, but no trace was ever found.

Mrs. Barta and the family then located in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, and later Butler county, Nebraska, and in 1885 came to Ord to reside. Mr. Barta found work in town, while Mrs. Barta and the children homesteaded a place not far from Ord. After the homestead had been legally made hers, Mrs. Barta moved to town, and the family home was in Ord.

In 1893 on September 13 Mr. Barta died, during the hardest of the hard times. His widow was left with five children, but faced the future bravely. In 1911 when her children had grown up and did not need her longer Mrs. Barta went to Montana, Margarete Barta, her daughter, took up an other homestead, this time on the Crow Indian Reservation. She was then 63 years old, but could not sit back and relish an easier life. After proving up on this claim she went to live with her daughter near Harwood, and here lived until her death.

An older son, James Barta preceded his mother in death at Burley, Idaho on November 24, 1919. Surviving are two sons and two daughters, Mrs. Albert West of Harbin, Montana, Margarete Barta of Harbin, Mont., Frank C. Barta of Greeley, Colo., and Joseph P. Barta of Ord.

Rev. McCarthy conducted the funeral services which were held at Sowl's chapel at 2 p. m. Sunday, and ex-senator Sarah of Milligan, Neb., spoke briefly in Bohemian in eulogy of Mrs. Barta. Three selections were sung by a quartet including Mrs. Anthony Koupal, Mrs. Clarence Davis, R. J. Stoltz and James Ollis, accompanied by Mrs. Margon Cushing at the piano organ. Pall-bearers were F. W. Dvorak, sr., Frank Fafeta, sr., Vincent Kokes, Frank Koupal, Joe Barta, and John Nevrlka.

Interment was made in Bohemian National Cemetery.

Nay's Car Ablaze While Hunting

Dr. Lee Nay almost lost his car last Thursday. During the course of a pheasant hunt he was driving through the Kingsberry Huff pasture south of town and got stuck in a ditch. He attempted to pull the car out under its own power but flames from the exhaust ignited a pile of hay in the ditch and the car caught fire. Alvin Travis, who was with the doctor, ran for water while Nay attempted to beat the flames with a black bear. Between them they succeeded in doing so, but not before most of the wiring on the car was burned and the finish scorched. Damage was covered by insurance.

STATE BANK OF ORD IS CLOSED, RECEIVER HERE

State Banking Department In Charge And Will Liquidate Deposits As Soon As Possible.

Tuesday morning Ord people were astonished and shocked when the doors of the State Bank were not unlocked for business as usual and instead a sign appeared on the door stating that the bank had been turned over to the department of trade and commerce.

Instructions to close evidently were given officials of the bank late Monday, for business had been conducted as usual throughout that day.

Earl Horner, a bank examiner from the department of trade and commerce, appeared in town Tuesday afternoon and the bank will be turned over to him. A depositors meeting will be called within a few days, probably sometime next week.

The State Bank was organized in 1926 and had a capital of $40,000. J. C. Meese was president, F. J. Stara vice president and John J. Allen, cashier. At the time the bank's last statement was published, on July 9, the bank had deposits of $182,762.09. Total resources were given at that time as $267,763.27.

No information as to the present condition of the bank has been given out, nor have the reasons that brought about its closing, other than present economic conditions. The Quiz understands, however, that the bank was not in serious condition at the time of its closing and that depositors will lose little, if any, money when final settlements are made, which may not be for several months.

ORD HI BREAKS LOSING STREAK WITH 20-0 WIN

Eldon Benda, at right end, turned in a fine performance, snatching two passes out of the atmosphere, intercepting one Broken Bow flip and generally performing as an end should. His defensive work also was good, as "Katie" McGinnis' left end.

Rathbun, shifted from tackle to center, was a tower of strength in the line. Paul Gard, playing left tackle, sifted through and stopped the Indian plays before they started on several occasions. Barnhart's work at guard and tackle was outstanding.

For the first time in several seasons, the Ord line is charging in fast and low, which is a tribute to the methods of Ord's new athletic director, Coach Molzen, who himself is a former University of Nebraska star. Molzen learned his foot-balling along with Ed Weir and other Cornhusker heroes of the past and he is succeeding in conveying his knowledge of the game to Barnhart, King, Gard and the other linemen who wear Ord uniforms last Friday.

The Red and White's athletic record so far this season is an 0 to 0 tie with Scotia, a similar tie with St. Paul, and a 20 to 0 victory over Broken Bow. The team has shown improvement in every respect since the first encounter. Other games this year will see Ord in action against Burwell, Ansley, Loup City, North Loup, Arcadia and Comstock, and if the Molzen-men play the kind of football they displayed last Friday they have a fine opportunity to end the season undefeated.

M. G. Kusek, daughter Clara, J. B. Zulkoski and daughter Bernice went to Dallas, S. D. Saturday for Mrs. Henry Flakus, who came to be with her mother, Mrs. Joe Kusek who is very ill.

Harold Mason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Mason, was operated upon Thursday for appendicitis in Hillcrest. Dr. C. W. Weeks performed the operation. Dr. Kirby McGrew is looking after Harold, since Dr. Weeks had to leave the next day for the east.

Tuesday Dr. John Kanter and Dr. Kirby McGrew operated upon L. D. Miner of Sargent. It was a major operation. The patient is in Hillcrest.

Nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness. The whole question was settled long ago—as to how many cylinders it takes in a motor car engine to give satisfactory smoothness. Science definitely established the fact that at least six are necessary. And today, the public accepts the multi-cylinder engine in the same way that it accepts 4-wheel brakes, parallel-mounted springs and every other principle of proved and acknowledged superiority. Everybody knows that nothing less than a six can give you built-in smoothness. This general acceptance of the multi-cylinder idea has had a great deal to do with the fact that the Chevrolet, month after month, during 1931, has been the largest selling automobile. For Chevrolet is a six. Today, this six-cylinder smoothness and dependability are within reach of every new car buyer. For Chevrolet has produced a quality car, powered it with a firmly-mounted six-cylinder motor—engineered it to run at less expense for gas, oil and upkeep than any other car—and priced it right down among the very lowest-priced cars in the market. Ord Church Notes

Christian Science teaches that what is called death is an illusion of the material senses which is corrected and dispelled by the understanding that Life is an eternal reality. In the lesson-lesson for Sunday, October 25th, subject "Probation after Death," it is brought out plainly that the real man lives in God, his name and likeness never dies. It is only a sense of man's mortality that is lost.

A passage from the Bible in the lesson-lesson states a method by which man's perfection is realized: "But the God of all grace, who has called us into His eternal glory, after you have suffered, will make you perfect, establish, strengthen, settle you." (I. Peter 5:10) This experience of probation is declared to be the way by which man's divine sonship is perceived and lived in a passage from the Christian Science text book which reads: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of Life, the control of our lives, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine principle. This must be the climax before harmonious and immortal man is obtained and his capabilities revealed." (Science and Health, p. 322.)

Methodist Church. Bernard Shaw, the great play writer, has recently said that the closing of every church and the unfeeling of every parish would have a very salutary effect because it would soon provoke an irresistible demand for the reestablishment of the church. Quite likely. The sermon Sunday morning in the introduction to the subject of Preventive Religion will pay tribute to Thos. A. Edison. His inventions have prevented a thousand unfortunate things that otherwise would have happened to humanity. At the evening service a male quartette will sing in addition to a special by the young people's choir. Mr. Roy Frazier will sing at the Epworth League services at 6:30 and don't forget to be on time for Sunday school at 10.

W. H. WRIGHT Presbyterian Church Sabbath school will convene next Sunday at 9:45 a. m. Preaching service at 11:00 a. m. Rev. Rea's topic "The Christian Call and Four Dimensions." The Intermediate and Senior Expression clubs will meet at 6:30 p. m. Evangelistic service at 7:30 p. m. Thirty young people from the church attended the Christian Endeavor rally held at the Scotia Evangelical church last Sunday afternoon evening. Rev. Rea was the principal speaker at the afternoon session. At the evening program Virginia VanDecar gave a splendid solo, accompanied by Ruth Cushing at the piano. A play was then presented by those attending from North Loup. The regular meetings of the Pioneer Scouts, Friendly Indians and Camu Fire Girls will be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evening at 7 p. m. Choir practice also Wednesday evening and the leadership training class Thursday evening at 7:30 p. m.

Bethany Lutheran Church Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. The special fall meetings will be held from October 24th to 28th. There will be services every evening at 8:00 p. m. and on Sunday at 11:00 a. m. and 2:30 p. m. Mrs. Elmer Anderson, student at Trinity Theological Seminary, will be the speaker the first three days and our pastor the last two. Dear friends, try to attend all of these meetings and bring somebody with you. Pray that you may be blessed and be a blessing. The apostle Paul writes in Romans 10 chp. "How then shall they call on him in whom they have not believed? and how shall they believe in him when they have not heard and how shall they hear him without a preacher. Blessed are they that hear the word and keep it." Bring your dinner along for Sunday.

County Choir May Be Formed Here

Miss Clara McClatchey reports that much interest is being taken in choral work in the various district schools over the county to which she has been paying her customary fall visits.

It is a well known fact that no matter how little music is embodied in one's make-up, still everyone likes to sing! Even if the tune is wobbly. So these children are enjoying their singing a great deal, and in places where the schools have a phonograph the classes like to sing with the records—a way that is especially helpful when the teacher has had little musical education herself!

It is hoped that before long rural school choir practice can be held, with all the boys and girls singing together. In this school year all through which the 200th anniversary of the birth of George Washington is being celebrated, it is hoped that the choir singing may be one of the best parts of the February programs arranged honoring Washington. Mrs. J. W. Severns helped present the subject at a preschool meeting of the rural teachers, and get the county singing project started. By fall it is hoped that Valley county can enter the state fair choir.

Miss McClatchey also reports a nice little school paper is being issued weekly in Elyria, with the aid of the teacher, Miss Lillian Vodehnal. The editor of this "Hill Top" is Clara Micek, Erma Novotny is assistant editor, and Alma Polak is joke editor.

What Are MERIT MERCHANTS?

The term "Merit Merchants" is rightly applied to any business concern in any line whose unwavering purpose it is to Merit the business and friendship of every individual in its trade territory.

The fulfillment of this purpose imposes a definite obligation upon proprietor and clerks—an obligation of Service and of Interest—which only starts with the sale of meritorious goods at fair prices.

In accepting this responsibility—an obligation to his customers and his community—the Merit Merchant endeavors to handle every transaction so as to earn new customers.

A good community must have good merchants and a good merchant must have good customers.

It is a well established fact that no better advertisement exists than a pleased, satisfied customer.

A good citizen is one who trades where he is well-treated, well-served and sure of receiving full value for every hard-earned dollar.

He trades, therefore, with Merit Merchants

VOLUME

We Are In Need of More Cream

For the next three months we could handle an additional 10,000 pounds of Butterfat each month with very little additional expense.

This additional volume would enable us to cut our manufacturing cost on each pound of butter and all patrons would receive more for their cream.

IF OUR COMPETITORS pay any rebate at all, they will only meet our stockholders patronage dividend. If you are patronizing them you are just helping to reduce your prospective rebate, whereas if you are patronizing this Creamery you are helping us to increase the profits which will be pro-rated in December according to the number of pounds of butterfat you have sold us.

THIS BEING A FARMER OWNED and CONTROLLED CREAMERY, it would appear that Cream Producers would prefer to patronize it rather than to sell to some of the big CENTRALIZER CONCERNS who have accumulated MILLIONS of Dollars buying cream from the Farmers.

ORD ROTARIANS JOIN INTER-CITY MEETING AT BOW

More Than 100 From Five Cities At Banquet in Baptist Church; Newton Gaines Chief Speaker.

More than one hundred Rotarians from five cities, Ord, Broken Bow, Ansley, Loup City, Arnold, joined Monday evening in an inter-city banquet served in the basement rooms of the Baptist church at Broken Bow, the dinner and program that followed being the most successful in which Ord Rotarians have ever participated.

Club members attending from Ord included C. C. Dale, Irl D. Tolan, Ed Beranek, E. C. Leggett, Keith Lewis, E. L. Vogelanz, Joe Barta, Marion Crosby, Jack Hoogenboom, Ed Seyler, Millard Bell, Forest Johnson, E. C. Weller and Dr. George Gard.

After a delicious dinner served by ladies of the Baptist church, Carl Dale, president of the Ord Rotary club, took charge of the meeting as toastmaster and from then until the program closed two hours later he and the speakers he introduced kept Rotarians convulsed with merriment.

The principal speaker of the evening was Newton W. Gaines, community specialist from the University of Nebraska extension department. Nobody who has ever heard Mr. Gaines—and most Quiz readers have, for he has spoken in Ord on various occasions—can ever forget his "rapid-fire" style, which one moment produces laughs and the next moment tears.

Music was furnished during the dinner and as an extra feature of the program by Joe Puncocar and his Merry Music Makers, of Ord. The personnel of this orchestra, besides Leader Puncocar, is Oscar Knecht, Ed Kerschall, Roy Drake and Joe Carlski and the orchestra was called on for repeated encores, showing how heartily their music was enjoyed.

ORD GRIDSTERS BEAT COMSTOCK BY 12-0 COUNT

Thirty Yard Run by Klein Features Ord's Second Win of Season; Ord Linemen Hold.

Holding the Comstock team helpless and uncorking a potent attack that on two occasions produced touchdowns, Coach Molzen's Ord high school gridsters won 12 to 0 last Friday in a game played on Comstock field. Ord is undefeated in football this year but two tie games mar the team's record.

There were thrills galore for spectators last Friday. Chief among them was a fifty yard scoring dash by Earl Klein, but the powerful smashes of tackle by Elwin Auble were quite as welcome to Ord fans. Two forward passes, Lashmett to Klein proved that Coach Molzen is giving his proteges a versatile attack.

Not until the second half did the Red and White score, though all through the first two periods they threatened. Once, in the second quarter, Ord carried the ball to the Comstock six yard line only to lose it when a fighting Comstock line held.

Early in the third period a pass, Lashmett to Klein, again put the ball in Comstock territory and Elwin Auble, workhorse of the local team, lugged the pigskin for forty yards through the line and in short-cut tackle plays, finally plunging over for the tying touchdown.

Again in the fourth quarter Ord put the ball in Comstock territory, after an exchange of punts, but this time it was Earl Klein who broke loose around end and before he was headed he had crossed the last stripe and given Ord a safe 12 to 0 lead, even though the extra point was not scored.

Not once during the game did Comstock threaten to score—not making a first down until the fourth quarter. Barnhart's educated toe continually set Comstock back into their own territory. Ord excelled in all departments, thus giving notice for the second time that they are through being kicked around by other Loup Valley conference teams and are about to do a little kicking themselves.

Social News.
Friday Miss Marie Kilma and her school children gave a program and box social in district 23. The public was invited. $10.75 was taken in during the evening and the affair was a success in a social way.

For about two weeks Mrs. Will Misko has been enjoying a visit with her mother, Mrs. George Kuehn of Nora Springs, Ia. Sunday the latter had a birthday. She is now 72 years old. In honor of the event Mr. and Mrs. Misko entertained several guests, Mr. and Mrs. James Misko, Mr. and Mrs. John Misko and Misses Mabel and Musa Misk. Dinner was served at 6:30 p. m. A large birthday cake was one of the chief decorations at the table.

Bootlegger Loses $10,000 Cargo When His Truck Upsets

At Eddyville, Nebr. last week a bootlegger lost a $10,000 cargo of alcohol when his truck overturned on one of the city streets. The truck contained 165 cases of alcohol, each case containing six gallons valued at $10 per gallon. The driver was taken in charge by Lexington authorities. The story he told was that his last trip through Eddyville, so he missed the road and upset when he tried to make a sharp turn.

Son's Name Omitted.
Through some oversight, the name of A. L. Novak, of Chandler, Ariz., was omitted in the list of names of the children of the late Wm. Novak, when the latter's obituary was published in the Quiz a few weeks ago. Mr. Novak is a jeweler at Chandler and is the eldest son of the late Wm. Novak. Although unable to attend his father's funeral he closed his store all that day.

Lands Big Catfish.
Jesse Kovadar, of the Ord high school teaching staff, combines his hunting and fishing. Sunday morning he wasn't very successful at the first sport, for ducks weren't flying, but he did notice from the duck blind that something was agitating one of his set-lines and when he pulled the line in a 7-lb. catfish was on the hook. Another successful Ord fisherman is Mart Weigardt, who landed a four pound pike Saturday. Mart caught three smaller pike a day or two before.

Limer-Ad Winners; How Are They Chosen?

One hundred and sixty people submitted "last lines" in the Auble Bros. and Crosby Hardware Limer-Ad contests, presented through the Quiz two weeks ago. The winners are announced on another page of the Quiz this week.

Perhaps some people will wonder how the winners are chosen: When all answers are in, a member of the Quiz staff makes a numbered list of all "last lines" entered in the contest. This list is submitted to the sponsoring merchant, who himself selects the line he likes best or else appoints a committee to make the selection. Neither the merchant nor the committee knows who submitted any of the lines. When the winning line is selected, the merchant tells the Quiz the number of the winning line and the Quiz looks up the line with that number and finds out who wrote it, then making the announcement. This method certainly is fair to all.

The Golden Rule and the McLain-Sorensen Drug Company are sponsoring Limer-Ad contests this week with a box of silk hosiery and a No. 2 Brownie Kodak as prizes. Any body can enter the contest; everybody should. It's fun to write Limer-ads. Read the rules, then enter the contest this week. Maybe you'll win, if not you'll enjoy writing and it costs you nothing to try.

RED CROSS DRIVE BEING STARTED IN THIS COUNTY

Clara McClatchey in Charge of Drive; Business People To Co-operate With Leader.

Miss Clara McClatchey has been named to have charge of the Red Cross drive this fall for Valley county and many business people are going to cooperate in helping to put the drive over. The Red Cross has been called on this year to give assistance in 88 of the 48 states and millions of dollars and trainloads of food and clothing have been subscribed for the drought and other sufferers. And that same work has got to be carried on this winter with greater persistence than ever or great suffering will result. Of course it is hard for Valley county people to realize the desperate condition of many people in the great cities and in drought stricken areas of the country. Probably few if any in this county will experience the pinching want that many in the cities will experience, despite the best efforts of the various charity organizations. Red Cross dues are only $1. It is said that at no time in the fifty years the Red Cross has existed in the United States, has there been the united work and service that was manifest in this year 1930-31. For the most part the Red Cross is administered by unpaid assistants who will be done this fall in Valley county by Miss McClatchey and those who volunteer to help her put the job over. The same thing is being done in all the counties of Nebraska and in all the counties in all the other states.

There are now something over sixteen thousand Red Cross chapters in the United States. Practically every county has one or more and no great catastrophe can happen without there is a Red Cross branch right there to render assistance. Many wealthy people give thousands of dollars to the cause annually and we who spend our dollar feel sure it is going to be spent where it is most needed to feed the hungry and reduce suffering.

Next week Miss McClatchey will have more to say regarding this work in this paper. Her supplies came late this week and we did not have time or space to give as much to the work as we desired. Watch for more about the Red Cross work next week.

—While in Burwell Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown found time to call at the country home of the latter's brothers Roy and Clarence Ulm. Mr. and Mrs. Brown were attending the Pentecostal services.

—After nearly two weeks visit with the Guy Burrows, Dr. Norris and Pete Jensen families Mrs. Fote Johnson left yesterday for her home in Omaha.

Urbansky Barn And Stock Burn Monday

(From Spring Creek News)
During the high wind Monday the large barn on the Ign. Urbansky farm northeast of Ord in the Spring Creek neighborhood, was burned to the ground. The barn is situated some distance north of the house and the fire which started in the top part of the barn, may have caught from a spark from the kitchen chimney, though no one knows what caused the fire. Mr. Urbansky was in Ord on business and other boys were away working on the road. When the fire was discovered the whole top of the barn was in flames. Burning shingles were carried by the high wind and set a large stack of hay many rods further north, on fire and it, too, was burned. Four of the best horses, all harnesses, a cream separator and a quantity of grain and other property was saved and there was no insurance on the personal property. The barn was partially insured. Mrs. Urbansky was overcome by the excitement and Dr. Barta had to be called to minister to her.

In the neighborhood of four hundred depositors of the recently closed State bank, gathered at the Ord Opera House Wednesday afternoon to talk over matters with the state men, C. J. Stoll of Lincoln long in the employ of the state in this class of work, made a talk explaining the situation as best he could and telling depositors how the affairs of the bank would be handled and closed up. F. J. Heuck, receiver also made a talk. C. M. Davis was chosen chairman of the meeting and Wm. Heuck was made secretary. Following the usual custom a committee of five was named as a nominating committee to suggest the names of ten men from whom five would be named as a depositors committee. This nominating committee was Carl Koelling, V. Kokes, J. G. Bremer, Albert Farkos and H. T. Frazer. They selected ten names and the following were selected from that ten: Ed F. Beranek, Val Pullen, L. V. Kokes, J. R. Stoltz and Joe Vasicsek. This is known as a depositors committee and later, should the depositors decide to take over the assets of the bank and close it up instead of letting the state do it, would become trustees for the depositors in that work.

3 NORTH LOUP YOUTHS LAND IN LAW'S CLUTCHES

Dwight Hill, Raymond Edwards Stole Popcorn, Drawbridge Aided Them Break Jail.

For stealing seven sacks of Spanish rice popcorn from a rail-way car being loaded at North Loup by Geo. E. Johnson, two young men of that village, Dwight C. Hill, 27, and Raymond M. Edwards, 17, ran afoul of the law last week. And when he passed back-saw blades through the bars of the North Loup jail to young Hill, Elmer Drawbridge, 40, joined them and there was no insurance on the personal property. The barn was partially insured. Mrs. Urbansky was overcome by the excitement and Dr. Barta had to be called to minister to her.

The popcorn thefts occurred on October 19, but were not discovered until October 21 when Hill and Edwards tried to get another young man, Raymond Sinek, of Scotia, to steal the popcorn. From him Marshall Johnson learned about Hill and Edwards and started looking for them.

In the meantime, the two succeeded in getting Clem Meyers, Jr., to bring the other four sacks of stolen corn to Ord and sell it for them. Young Hill representing to Meyers that he had brought the popcorn from his own home. It was sold to the Nell Seed Company and the check was made out to Dwight Hill and was cashed by him before Marshall Johnson called on him to halt and shot into the air. Young Hill then submitted to arrest and was placed in the North Loup jail.

Young Edwards had "hid out" when he heard officers were after him but Saturday Marshall Johnson found him and put him under arrest, confining him in the North Loup jail with Hill.

The arrest of young Drawbridge was made after Marshall Johnson overheard the depositions decide to take over the assets of the bank and close it up instead of letting the state do it, would become trustees for the depositors in that work.

He searched Hill and in his shoes found two hack-saw blades, which young Drawbridge had stolen from the Madsen blacksmith shop in North Loup and which he had used to saw the bars to the prisoners, who planned to saw their way out and escape as soon as darkness fell. Young Drawbridge was arrested and all three were brought to the county jail here for safe keeping.

All of the youngsters have been in numerous scrapes before. For years Hill has been a notorious writer of non-fund checks and served a thirty-day sentence in the Hall county jail. Last winter he was in jail at Greeley for petty larceny. This was his first offense in Valley county, however, so when he was arraigned in county court here Monday on a petty larceny charge Judge J. H. Hollingshead sentenced him to thirty days in the county jail at hard labor.

The Edwards boy was prosecuted here in 1929 for the theft of some chickens and at that time served twelve days in the county jail. Last August he pleaded guilty to assault and battery upon a younger boy and served ten days in county jail, the first three and the last three being on a diet of bread and water. So when he pleaded guilty to petty larceny this week Judge Hollingshead committed him to the state industrial school at Kearney and he was taken there Monday afternoon by Sheriff Round.

The record of young Drawbridge also is spotty. In 1929 he was prosecuted here for stealing auto supplies and in other counties since he has been implicated in chicken theft and liquor law cases. When he pleaded guilty to petty larceny Monday Judge Hollingshead sentenced him to serve twenty days at hard labor in the county jail.

Ralph G. Barnes Weds

The young couple were accompanied by Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Delhay. They will be at home in Lincoln at 5840 Adams street after November 1.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska

$1 FOR DUCK HUNTING.

Would the average sportsman pay $1.00 for a season's good duck hunting? Why not jump at the chance, you'll say. Well, that's just what hunters everywhere are going to have to do, if we ever have good duck hunting again.

Drouth in Canada and in the United States for the past three seasons has cut ducks down almost to the vanishing point. Year after year it becomes increasingly hard to get a decent day's shooting on water-fowl, except in certain favored gathering points such as the lake region of western Nebraska.

Good shooting on the Loup and hundreds of other rivers on noted for ducks and geese is now a thing of the past.

Year by year the season has been shortened, bag limits have been cut and additional protection given to ducks and geese. Yet year by year the supply has decreased, until this year the season was limited to thirty days by executive order.

To cause an increase in ducks and bring back good shooting, extensive marshes and lakes are needed. Unless drained and filled with the drouth, has left millions of water-fowl without suitable breeding and feeding grounds so each year the young crop has perished.

To provide proper conditions for water-fowl, money in large quantities is necessary. The proposal is made that a federal license of $1.00 per year be required of all hunters. This would raise several million dollars every year and this money could be spent by the government in buying game refuge for migratory birds.

In a few years ducks and geese will come back in numbers and with wise regulation will continue to increase as the years go past.

The Quiz feels sure that no real sportsman will oppose paying $1.00 per year to provide hunting for future generations.

ALFALFA HIGHER THAN CORN.

Down at Greeley last week a situation unique in history was evident—alfalfa was worth more by the ton than corn. Greeley elevator were paying only 27c per bushel for corn, which would make that grain worth $6.75 per ton. On the same day, alfalfa was sold for $7.00 per ton. Alfalfa is scarce in Greeley county this year while corn is plentiful, hence alfalfa becomes king.

The advantage of Ord as a marketing center is strikingly illustrated in this little item. While Greeley county farmers were getting only 27c per bushel for corn, $7c was the price being paid in Ord. Day in and day out, the year around, people selling farm products in Ord—hogs, grains, cream, eggs, poultry—realize a nice premium over the prices paid in nearby towns.

Which is one reason why Ord has so many fine stores. People coming here to sell the produce of their farms naturally buy their necessities here also. Ord business men should be grateful to the Ord mills, elevators, hog buyers, sale barn, produce buyers and to the co-operative creamery.

STARVING AMERICANS.

Horace M. Patton, who returned to the United States last week from Russia, tells a tale that shows the effectiveness of Soviet propaganda. Mr. Patton is a sanitary engineer and was employed at Nizhnu-nogorod, which when completed will be the Detroit of Russia.

Once a month Soviet agents came around to workers and asked them to contribute to a fund for "starving Americans," Mr. Patton relates. Workers, contributing to the fund although they live on black bread and tea themselves, were more contented with their lot because of the fancied poverty of America, he said.

The auto plant at Nizhnu-nogorod, when completed next year, will turn out 1,000 automobiles a day, Mr. Patton says.

MORE FARM BOARD TWADDLE.

The farm board has come forward with another foolish recommendation, this time designed to aid the dairy industry. Dairy farmers are urged to kill one dairy cow in every ten they own, thus preventing a surplus of dairy goods with consequent low prices. At the same time, the farm board recommends that heifer calves be weaned and that low-producing cows be culled out and slaughtered.

To people close to the soil, this recommendation sounds quite as foolish as the proposal to cotton farmers, urging them to plow under each third row of cotton. The south rejected this plan, as the dairy industry will reject the "one in every ten" plan.

One statement in the farm board's recent recommendation is to be commended: Dairy farmers might well cull out and slaughter all low-producing cows. Many cows are now being milked that do not produce enough butterfat to pay the cost of keeping them. And, while each is a money loser, the total of dairy products they produce is acting as a drag on the industry, creating a surplus that is bound to reduce prices.

But when it comes to killing off good, money-making dairy cows—bah!

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Perhaps some of our country readers who butcher hogs for their own use every fall would be interested to know of a new dish to create, something entirely different. This pork dish is called Skinners. Young pork skins, scrape off all fat. Cook until tender, then pour off that water and add fresh water. Also add finely cut onion, a dash of sage, salt and pepper. When boiling stir in enough oatmeal to make thick, cook until the oatmeal is done, turn into a pan to mold. When cold slice and serve with spinach.

I think the name signed to the above recipe should be Mrs. Alfred Jorgensen of North Loup, but I may be mistaken.

Here is a recipe for a lot of cake, for one of our readers who cook for a big table-full of hungry diners will probably be glad to give a try.

Applesauce Cake for Many.
4 c. sugar, 2 c. fat, 3 c. applesauce, 3 c. water, 4 eggs, 3 c. flour, 1 c. cornstarch, 4 c. raisins, 4 tsp. cinnamon, 2 tsp. cloves, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 3 tsp. soda, 3 tsp. baking powder.

Boil apples and water until soft. Cream fat and sugar, sift together flour, cornstarch, baking powder, spices and soda. To the creamed fat and sugar add applesauce, then the flour combination, then the eggs and finally the raisins which have been floured.

Frosting.
To one egg, white beaten stiff add 1/2 c. sugar and 1 large grated apple. Mrs. Fred Cohen.

Here is a recipe for spaghetti I am sure would be delicious, shall we try it?

Spaghetti.
1 pkg. spaghetti, drop into boiling water and cook until tender. Rinse with cold water to blanch. Cook 1 can tomato soup, 1 small can mushrooms, 1 small can of tomatoes, 1 c. celery, cut fine, 1/2 c. bacon, cut up, 1 large onion (fry the onion and bacon before adding), 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 tsp. red pepper. Lastly add the spaghetti, and bake 30 minutes.

Mrs. O. E. Wesenberg, Omaha
Cookies are a perennial favorite, or perhaps I should say constant favorite; children love them; cookies keep longer than cake or pie, that is they retain their full flavor. Also cookies are better suited for small families than other desserts. I find.

Fruit Cookies.
1 c. sugar, 1/2 c. shortening, 1 egg, 1/2 c. sweet milk, 3/4 level c. flour, 3 tsp. baking powder, Roll.

Filling For Cookies.
3-4 c. sugar, 1 tsp. flour or cornstarch, 1 c. water, 1 c. raisins. Cook until thick.

Spoon off a cookie, spread with the filling, lay another slice on top and pinch the edges of the two together and bake.

Mrs. Guy Sample, Ord, Rt. 2.

Something DIFFERENT

Did you know Ed Beranek, that great big grown-up boy, who always has such a good time, used to have the coyest way of answering the telephone?

Someone would call and inquire: "Is this Beranek's dog store?" And Ed would flip-ly crack back "Not yet, lady."

John Alan Morrison told his father one of the truths of life the other day.

It seems John Alan had been tricycle riding when along came a little miss and shoved him off into the gutter. It hurt, and John Alan was vastly indignant. About to make hay out of the little girl's father halted him, and informed John Alan that little gentlemen did not cry or fight, or say rude remarks or anything, when little girls pushed them off tricycles. No, sir. Little gentlemen, when pushed off tricycles, or otherwise hurt by little girls, should brush themselves off, politely doff the cap, and go up their ways.

But John Alan was unconvinced: his was the same opinion still . . . that it was mean for a little girl to push a little gentleman off and hurt him. And he burst out with, "Well, Daddy, when a little girl pushes you off as it does when a little boy pushes you off."

I don't think this story originated in Ord, so I won't pin it to anyone.

A business man rushed into a store selling electric light boxes, so out of breath he could hardly gasp out the words: "Send one up to my house right away."

"I haven't one in stock" was the reply, "but I'd be mighty glad to order one for you. It will only take . . . wait, I've got to have one this afternoon. Got to have it installed immediately, before tomorrow," declared the impatient customer.

"What's the hurry?" the seller inquired. "Going to have company or something?"

Sheepishly the would-be-purchaser explained "I wanted to surprise my wife, so I walked in the back door unexpectedly, and I went up behind her. She didn't see me, and I put my arms around her. And do you know, she said, 'Fifty pounds today, big boy.' So you know I've got to have an electric light box today."

The Mower children are very proud and fond of their baby sister, LaRue Elaine, and consider it a treat to get the privilege of taking care of her, wheeling her out in her buggy, etc.

So last Wednesday, on LaRue's first birthday, they took up a collection, and bought the prettiest little silver locket for the baby to wear.

Mrs. Chapman's little grandson Merrill Hughes has had lots of bad luck in the past year. Among other troubles, he suffered a broken arm, and also an operation for appendicitis. And Merrill Elroy knew that pennies had to be carefully counted at home.

So, having read about Norma Jean, Clochon's illness with gas bacillus, when Merrill Elroy broke his arm again last week he was terrified and came in the house with it audibly worrying for fear he might have that rare disease.

When re-assured on this point, the boy remorsefully began to worry about the money broken arms cost, and wailed to his grandmother, "Oh, Chapple, I'm such a 'nawful expense."

Flowers still abound and lawns green, would-be-propellers of seasons do not agree. Like the porridge, some think the winter is going to be hot, some think it is going to be cold.

EYE TALKS Week by Week

Any mother would be greatly alarmed if her child used only one arm or one leg.

Yet it is surprising how many children use only one eye when both eyes are normal in all other ways.

Remember the use of both eyes together is an acquired function. We all must learn this habit.

Many people go through life never seeing with but one eye when either eye gives normal vision. Such people suffer greatly from visual exhaustion, do not have depth perception, are not good judges of distance, and are handicapped in many ways.

Short training to teach the eyes to work together make these people comfortable, often times without the use of glasses.

Many times the training can be given at home. Just recently a prominent business man became unable to read comfortably—type blurred, suffered from headache.

Two weeks of all Home Training made his eyes comfortable WITHOUT THE USE OF GLASSES.

Don't make the mistake of thinking that when you visit your Optometrist you will surely be advised to wear glasses.

It cost Carl $6.58 an acre to raise corn. Charges for horse labor of 15c per hour per horse include interest, depreciation, and repairs on harness and machinery drawn by horses, as well as the upkeep on the animals themselves. No charge was made for transporting the grain to market.

The landowner will sustain an additional loss in the items of interest and taxes. The field will probably be put to corn again, which proves that the farmer is one man who can keep on losing money, and still continue to do business.

Students Display Much Excitement At Pep Meeting Held Wednesday

By Irma Ellis Leggett.

Big excitement around the high school building Wednesday, with school hours awry, and big game coming up, a pep meeting and everyone getting ready to go some place! Teachers trying to pack their bags to go to "Institute", footballers getting ready to football, pep leaders Rosemary Needham, Marshall Williams, Anthony Kokes and Bob Rashaw excitedly trying to work up still more excitement for the North Loup game at a 15 minute convocation!

School "took up" at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday morning, and was carried on in concentrated form until 11:30, when a half hour's time was taken out for luncheon. Then at 12:00 noon, school again picked up and carried on until 1:30. As the North Loup game began at 2:30, and teacher's institute is being held the rest of the week at several different cities, students scurried off in one direction, and teachers scurried off in several more, packing bags as they ran! The school band, however, refused to be excited, having decided to stay home and save their money.

Misses Lucien Hardin, Marjory Hostetter, Bertha Lincoln and Elizabeth Shaver, as well as Jesse Kovanda and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Molzen had definitely decided to go to Lincoln for the teaching school. Miss Bloodgood thought she would divide her time between the Omaha district teacher meetings, and Mr. and Mrs. Watkins decided on the Nebraska metropolis. Most of the other teachers intended to go to Hastings.

Elwin Auble was chosen captain for the North Loup game, and with this hardy warrior and handy football man leading, victory should not be difficult to snatch.

Captain for the Burwell game has not been announced as yet, but the Nov. 6 game with our neighbor to the north is to be guest day for alumni who lettered in athletics in Ord. High. Said alumni can get their guest tickets by registering their names at the high school.

The injury Jonah has hit the local favorites with a bang, and weakened an otherwise fine lineup. Marcus Steinwart, who drew an injured chest at Comstock, is still out of order, and will be well missed by his team-mates. Earl Klein, half back, one of the chief point grabbers has an injured knee and ankle received in practice so he will probably not be available for a spell. Everett Lashmett goes back into a suit this week, after two weeks off the practice field. Kenneth Wilson of the second team is another invalid, a sprained wrist and broken blood vessel being mementoes of a late practice session.

Miss Jean Nelson and her public speaking classes get a big thrill out of their work, and are now writing movies, believe it or not. Two separate groups and their directors will stage productions within the week. The plots are hand-written by the students, and enacted by them, not talked but silent pictures. The two movies which help this class to study pantomime are to be called, respectively, "The Yellow Peril" and "Romance on the Rio Grande."

On Nov. 20, in the auditorium of the high school, the public speaking class expects to present itself to the public in interesting fashion, with a program of one-act plays, music, readings, etc., all talent to be derived from the class. The public speaking class is doing all this work by itself, Miss Nelson reports. The Quiz will give you the lowdown on them a trifle later.

Cut Prices? No! Low Prices? Yes!

No, we don't sell meat at "cut prices" but we do sell it at low prices, probably the lowest in Ord. The cut price butcher gets that way by selling low quality meats; second grades that he bought cheaply from some packer. This market, selling meat at consistently low prices, gets that way by buying home-fattened stock, thus saving on freight rates, by doing our own butchering, thus saving packing plant expense, and by selling the meat over our own counter.

One-Point Setbacks, Spoiling Long Winning Streaks, May Have Turned Coaches At Utah and Ohio Against Point-After-Touchdown

BY PHILIP MARTIN

THE 1931 football season, still in its infancy, more than likely has gained two more advocates against the point-after-touchdown which annually causes a heated controversy when the rule makers gather. They are Ike Armstrong, former Drake star now coaching at University of Utah, and Don Peden, former Fighting Illini and present mentor at Ohio University.

Both Armstrong and Peden opened the season with a long string of football successes dating back for two years and more. Utah had been undefeated in 23 straight games; Ohio had not been reversed in 19 consecutive tilts. Both strings are broken now. University of Washington defeated the Utes 7 to 6. Indiana stopped the Bobcats by the same count. The margin in each case was the controversial point-after-touchdown. Q. E. D.

ONE point I would like to have answered is why so many of the newer and younger coaches are instituting the Warner system of double wingback and unbalanced line formations when the old sage himself, the veteran Pop Warner, still brings the Stanford teams through successfully employing his pet tactics.

ALONG the Atlantic coast the belief is general that Army, Cornell and perhaps Pittsburgh will be the outstanding teams during the current football season. Personally, I like them in the order named. Army may lose to Notre Dame and still be the best team in the east. I look for the Cadets to defeat Pittsburgh. Cornell should have an undefeated season.

In the middle west, my favorites aside from Notre Dame are Northwestern and Michigan, with plenty of emphasis on the latter. The Wolverines should have an undefeated season with Notre Dame may lose as many as four games. (Who said so?) Below the Mason-Dixon line, Tulane and Georgia look strongest. The Green Wave is a defending champion in the South-

A very pleasant social time, sponsored by the M. E. ladies aid was held in the church basement which had been attractively decorated with autumn foliage, Thursday evening, Oct. 22 honoring the teachers of the North Loup schools. Mrs. Betty Manchester and Miss Maud Shepard had charge of the interesting program which was followed by a series of games and stunts, providing a most enjoyable and worthwhile occasion.

An interesting game of football was staged at Weibach Friday, North Loup high boys being winners, 12 to 0.

North Loup P. T. A. met at the school auditorium Tuesday evening Oct. 20 with fifty in attendance. Meeting opened with singing lead by Mrs. Babcock. Following the business session a program was rendered after which refreshments of pie and coffee was served.

The regular meeting of Scout Troop No. 1 was held at the town hall Tuesday evening, Oct. 20. Following are the officers: Warden by Mrs. Babcock, senior patrol leader, Lewis Hamer, patrol leader, Everett Catlin, scribe, Harold Green, treasurer and bugler. Tests were passed and instruction given. After remarks by Scout Masters, Rev. Schwabauer, following the meeting dinner with the scout boys.

The students of the grammar grades with their teacher, Mr. Eric Waltemade hiked to the country home of Marjory and B. J. Jensen, Friday evening, where they indulged in games and stunts peculiar to the Halloween season. The home as well as outbuildings received a goodly share of decorations. A delicious lunch was served at the close and in spite of ghosts and goblins the guests arrived home safely.

Mrs. Esther Babcock was hostess to the No. 10 club Tuesday afternoon of last week. The lesson on Paris conducted by Mabel McClellan was most interesting and entertaining, since Mrs. McClellan visited Paris a little over a year ago. Mrs. Babcock was very much enjoyed and "Believe it or not" the ladies proved that many things can be done with a "dish towel."

While in Lincoln for several days last week Mrs. C. J. Mortensen called upon her uncle, John Williams in Green Gables Sanitarium. He has been there for several months. In some ways he is not much improved although Mrs. Mortensen says he is looking real well. His daughter, Miss Rosalie goes every day to see him and Mrs. Williams, who is not very strong, makes the trip about three times a week. The fact that Mr. Williams has been holding his own encourages his family to believe in time he will be able to come home and live with them again.

Mrs. Ross Lakin was enjoying a visit with her people from Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Carlus Matteson and the latter's eighteen months old grandson Dale Woods. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Woods of Lincoln. However, for over a year the latter has been in the T. B. hospital Kearney. When born the baby was a puny, sickly little fellow, but he sure doesn't look that way now. For a while after birth he was with a doctor, then his grandmother took him. Plenty of fresh air, good milk, cod liver oil and the best of care has developed a strong and healthy boy. Mr. and Mrs. Matteson ern Conference. Tulane meets Georgia Nov. 14 and the winner very likely will be crowned southern champion.

I can't help think that Texas again will rule the Southwest conference region, although everyting points to a strong Southern Methodist aggregation. At any rate, I pick Texas to beat Harvard when the Longhorns invade Cambridge, Oct. 24. And I also predict that the Mustangs of Southern Methodist will ride roughshod over Navy, Nov. 21.

Kansas again appears strongest in the prairie region between the Mississippi and the mountains. Nebraska and possible Oklahoma will be dangerous contenders for the Big Six title. Missouri is still quite a long way from title consideration. Those wild Indians of Utah, in spite of an early season defeat at the hands of Washington, again are heavy favorites to repeat in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Utah has not been beaten by a conference team since 1927.

And now the Pacific coast region, where they say the best football is played annually. Southern California is my choice to win the conference championship, with Jimmy Phelan's Washington huskies a close contender. But if you consider the whole region west of the Rockies perhaps little St. Mary's College, where Slip Madigan holds sway, is the toughest.
