

SARGENT AND DANNEBROG IN FINALS

STUDENTS MAKE HIT IN OPERETTA "OH, DOCTOR!"

Quiz Critic Accords Honors To Voices of Rosemary Needham, Elwin Auble; Others Good.

Some fine vocal work was heard Friday evening at the Ord high school when the operetta "Oh, Doctor" was given by the glee club members of the school, especially directed by Miss Elva Bloodgood. Probably the finest voice heard was that of Miss Rosemary Needham, whose clear, true notes were a constant delight. Crowding her for honors, as far as a splendid voice was concerned, was Elwin Auble, who has pleased Ord audiences before.

Rodney Stoltz took the part of the super-dignified and irascible Dr. Drinkwater very handsomely, his goatee lending a very medical air, a la Dr. Shepard. Rodney's voice was well liked, and another pair of voices well considered was that of George Allen, Jr., and Charles Shepard. Charles was an especially dangerous appearing bandit, Mexican enough to please anyone.

Miss Virginia VanDecar made a peppy little heroine and her high voice showed to advantage. Adrienne Tolson excelled himself enacting the role of Rainbow, the "cullud man" who was always "ambiling." Iola Mae Williams rather stole honors with the small bit she played, and was guaranteed to get a laugh any time she spoke. The three doctors Cuttem, Slaughter and Coffin played by Floyd Beranek, Bert Boquet and Donald Williamson, were quite laughable, and so were their lady friends, Mrs. Weakley and Mrs. Crossley, played by Evelyn Williamson and Sylvia Cornell. Kenneth McGinnis made a strikingly handsome hero.

Big Type Polands In The Sale Ring

Saturday at the Weller sale pavilion is your opportunity to buy one or as many as you need of as good Poland China brood sows as there are in the country, when R. E. Psota sells his spring offering. There are popular blood lines, with plenty bred for early March litters and you will be able to buy them worth the chips if you want brood sows. There are a number in the offering that are ideal for the club boys. Look them over at the sale barn before the sale. The offering will more than please you. They are all big and smooth and typical of the best in the breed.

871 Ask Davis To Run For Delegate

In answer to petitions asking him to be a candidate for delegate to the National Republican convention from the 5th Nebraska district, Clarence M. Davis informed Secretary of State Marsh last Saturday by letter that he would make the race. Petitions circulated by his friends bore 871 names from twenty-six different counties of this district.

"I accept the nomination as a delegate to the Republican Convention from the Fifth Congressional District of the State of Nebraska," Mr. Davis wrote to the secretary of state. "If I should be elected at the primary election in April I shall endeavor to represent the wishes and desires of that district as expressed at the said primary election, but, if the wishes of the district are not expressed at the primary, I shall vote for candidates and planks which I believe would be most acceptable to the voters of this district and which would best serve the interests of our state and nation."

At present it appears that there will be no opposition to the re-nomination of President Hoover, the Ord attorney said in his letter.

The filling of these petitions at Lincoln, together with Mr. Davis' letter of acceptance, assures that the name of the Ord man will be on the ballot at the primary election in April. It is the first time in some years that an Ord man has been a candidate for delegate to a national convention.

Conoco Building Station. The Continental Oil Company, refiners of Conoco gasoline, are said to be the people who are building a filling station on Ed Flinley's lot across the street from the Koupal lumber yard. Material is on the ground and several men are working. Bernard Smith will have charge of the station when it is completed.

Spring Presaged By Ducks On River In Thousands

Are huge flocks of ducks northward bound an indication that severe weather is over for this winter?

If so, spring must be almost here for ducks have been noticed on the Loup river for the past several days. Some of the flocks seem to number thousands and nearly all varieties are represented. An occasional phalanx of geese is seen also.

Other portents of the vernal season such as the presence of robins and meadow larks, green grass and one or two bedraggled dandelions also have been reported.

Skies have been blue and the weather balmy for the past several days and Valley county's muddy roads, which last week were almost impassable for cars, are yielding to the hot sun and warm winds.

But somehow we can't believe that spring is here. Our prediction is that a good many more tons of coal will be burned and several more storms will us before we can really say that the winter of 1931-32 is over.

NATURAL GAS MAY BE VOTED ON APRIL 5TH

Nebraska Natural Gas Company Asks City to Vote On Franchise At Spring Election.

Voters of Ord may have an opportunity at the spring election Tuesday, April 5th, to decide whether or not a franchise should be given the Nebraska Natural Gas company giving that company the right to pipe natural gas to Ord and install it in homes of this city.

Joseph Smith, of Holdrege, a representative of the company, was in Ord last week and interviewed Mayor William Moses and members of the city council, asking that the question be submitted to voters at the spring election.

Mr. Smith is district manager of the company which was represented here last fall by J. W. Densford, who also sought a franchise. At that time the council declined to pay the expense of a special election sought by the gas company.

If a franchise is granted here it is probable that natural gas will be piped to Ord some time within the next twelve months, possibly this coming spring or summer, Mr. Smith told councilmen. Chicago executives of the company approved the Ord pipe line last fall so it will be one of the first undertaken if the company resumes operations this spring, he said.

Whether or not the franchise question will be submitted at the spring election is up to the city council and will be discussed and decided at the council's regular meeting Friday evening this week.

Robbins Is Candidate For State Legislature

Y. W. Robbins, of North Loup, will be a candidate for the republican nomination for the state legislature from this, the 77th district, the Quiz is informed. Friends have been circulating petitions asking Mr. Robbins to run and the Quiz understands that these petitions have been filed with Secretary of State Marsh in Lincoln, that the filing fee has been paid, and that Mr. Robbins will consent to make the race.

Robbins represented North Loup on the Valley county board of supervisors for several terms, served as chairman of the county board and has been active in republican politics in this county.

Marion J. Cushing, present representative, also is a candidate for the republican nomination.

Names Jury List For Spring Term

The list of jurors for the spring term starting March 28 was named this week by Alfred Welgard, clerk of the district court, as follows: C. C. Furtwangler, Levi Chipp, John Andersen, Joe Veleba, Joe Bartos, C. Blessing, M. J. Hubbard, Walter Foth, Frank Kokes, Jr., W. A. Bartlett, Fred Ulrich, Fred J. Cohen, A. H. Hill and Norman Holt, Ord; Otto Pecenka, Elyria; Otto Radil and John McCarty, Comstock; Chas. Bridges, Merl Wellman, Arthur Collins, John Williams, and Roy Cox, North Loup; Grant Cruikshank and A. E. Haywood, Arcadia.

SIXTY ATTEND MEETING TO BAN RADIO SQUEALS

Reduction of Local Interference Is Aim of Meeting; Petitions Will Be Given To Council.

Squawks and squeals caused by local interference take much of the pleasure out of radio listening in Ord, testified several men at a meeting held in the court house last Friday evening. About sixty attended and probably fifteen of them spoke briefly, detailing their experiences with local interference.

At times interference is bad in all parts of town but the west and northwest portions of Ord are most sorely afflicted, it developed at the meeting.

Bert M. Hardenbrook was elected chairman and A. B. Capron secretary, after which the meeting proceeded to discuss ways and means of abating the interference nuisance.

George Allen, city light and water commissioner was asked to present the matter from his view point and gave a very interesting talk in which he stated that equipment especially designed to assist in locating the causes of interference was the first thing necessary in abating the nuisance. Mr. Allen said he believed the city council would view purchase of such equipment in a favorable way providing Ordites wanted it.

Splits In Pool Of Milk, Breaks Thigh

While she was working around her kitchen yesterday morning Mrs. Wm. Treptow slipped in a little pool of milk that had been spilled on the floor and fell, fracturing a thigh bone. Sow's ambulance was sent to the Treptow farm north of town and Mrs. Treptow was brought to the Ord hospital where the fracture was reduced and a plaster cast applied. Mrs. Treptow will have to remain in the hospital for some time.

Claude Rathbun Would Be Judge

An opponent for Judge J. H. Hollingshead for the county judgehip bobbed up last Saturday in the person of Claude Rathbun, in paid filing fee of $10 and indicated his intention of seeking the position of county judge of Valley county. Judge Hollingshead had previously filed as a candidate for re-election.

Alvin Blessing, who was rumored as a candidate for judge, said definitely yesterday that he would not be a candidate. Candidates have until 5 p. m. today to file for state or county offices and it is understood that Frank Johnson is contemplating filing for county judge against Hollingshead and Rathbun. Mr. Johnson ran against Hollingshead eight years ago when he was first elected to the office.

Johnson Files for Supervisor. C. E. Johnson, of Davis Creek, yesterday filed as a democratic candidate for supervisor for the 6th Valley county district, the position he holds at present. So far he is unopposed.

Drought Donations Will Be Welcomed Until Monday, When Last Car Leaves

Car Sent Tuesday to Spencer, Final Car Will Go to Lynch; Donations Still Coming.

The last car that will be shipped from Ord to the drought region of north Nebraska will leave on the Burlington next Monday afternoon to Lynch and until then any contributions will be welcomed, announces Bob Noll today. Mr. Noll general chairman of the Quiz-Noll seed company-American Legion drought relief drive.

A carload of general supplies was shipped Tuesday to Spencer over the Burlington. This car contained hay, grain, sacked feeds and flour, principally. The car would have been sent last week but roads were so bad that until Monday the baled hay could not be trucked in from the country.

The car shipped Tuesday was a large automobile size car, Mr. Noll says, but unless a few more donations come in the final car next Monday will be smaller. He already has enough hay, grain and general supplies to fill a small truck.

Dr. Shepard In Omaha.

Dems' Choice?

Here is John Nance Garner, speaker of the House of Representatives, who is mentioned as a likely Democratic nominee for the presidency of the United States. Texas Democrats have agreed to support his candidacy.

A respected farmer for many years, Mr. Jensen had been in seemingly good health though not quite so well for a day or two before his death. Friday he was in Ord and visited his wife, who underwent a major operation in the Ord hospital Wednesday after being in the hospital for a week previous. At that time he apparently was in good health.

The Jensen farm is about fifteen miles north of Ord near the Garland county line and close to the Joint school house. Mr. Jensen was well known throughout the county, was a well-to-do farmer and was always active in community and church affairs. His death is the more tragic because of the poor health of his wife and the fact that her condition has been such that doctors feared to tell her of the death of her husband for several days.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon at 2:00 o'clock at the Ord Methodist church.

Mr. Jensen is survived by six children, Walter, of Ericson, Mrs. Jack Hainworth, of Midwest, Wyo., Kenneth Jensen and Mrs. Henry Chipp, of Ord, Russell, who occupies a farm near his parents, and Lloyd, who was at home. Two brothers, John Jensen of Burwell, and Carl Jensen, of Plattsmouth, also survive.

BURLINGTON TO CHANGE TIME OF TRAINS MARCH 6

Passenger Train From East Arrives Here 7:57 a. m. Daily; New Star Route to Burwell.

The Burlington railroad's new schedule of passenger and mail trains goes into effect this coming Sunday, March 6, the new schedule being the same as was last year's expenses of approximately $5,700, this figure including the $3,100 saving made by salary cutting.

Decision to pay teachers on a 12-month basis instead of a 9-month basis as at present was reached by the board and by splitting salaries into twelve installments instead of nine a substantial saving will be made during the coming fiscal year, as three payments will thus be deferred. There is no danger that the present school levy will have to be raised for at least another year, Mr. Norman states.

The Ord schools will handle music instruction on a different basis next year, probably by employing a man as music teacher, band and orchestra instructor in conjunction with the city, school district and city sharing the expense.

Under this new schedule the Burlington runs passenger and mail trains to Ord and Burwell only in the morning, the evening passenger being discontinued. Freight service will be given as before.

The passenger leaves Aurora at 4:30 a. m. daily, arriving in Ord at 7:57 a. m. and proceeding on to Burwell at once. After remaining there 45 minutes the train returns to Ord, arriving here at 9:30 a. m. and going down to Greeley, from where a side trip is made to Ericson. After making this side trip the train resumes its trip to Aurora, reaching there at 3:40 p. m. The same service will be provided on Sunday.

This schedule would give Burwell very poor mail service but due to the efforts of Postmaster Edwin Clements a star route will be run between Ord and Burwell in the afternoons to carry mail.

The route leaves Ord at 12:30 p. m., reaches Burwell at 1:30, leaves Burwell at 2:30 and arrives in Ord at 3:30 p. m. to connect with the east-bound Union Pacific train.

It is thought that this new star route in connection with the morning train will give adequate mail service to Burwell.

Contributions not previously acknowledged include the following:

George Satterfield, $5.00; Wm. Misko, 2 sacks flour; Chas. Porter, 15 bales hay; Junior class, Haskell Creek Sunday school, $1.20; Judge E. P. Clements, $10.00; John Warford, 4 sacks corn; F. L. Losure and son, 125 lbs. oats, Juniper and Bob James, 5 packages wheat cereal; Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Corlett, Nampa, Idaho, 50 bu. corn.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smith motored to York county Sunday morning where they visited relatives, expecting to return home Monday evening. Dale Smith did their chores while they were away.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Waterman took dinner Sunday at Miss Mae McCune's and spent the afternoon at Leonard Peavy's.

Bon Eberhart received a telegram Monday morning that his sister-in-law, Mrs. Fred Eberhart at Avoca, Ia., had passed away. She had recently had an operation for appendicitis. Mr. Eberhart started for Avoca on the afternoon train.

Mrs. Roy Jacobs and Mrs. Edward Shoemaker spent Wednesday at Copeland's while the men attended W. Green's sale.

Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Clark and Frank were among guests who helped Mrs. Fred Clark celebrate her birthday Sunday. There were 24 guests.

Mrs. Waldo Losure and daughter and Mrs. Frank Losure went to Burwell Saturday evening where they visited relatives and friends overnight. Frank and Waldo Losure drove up after them Sunday. Elmer Owens accompanied his sister Mrs. Waldo Losure home.

Mildred Smith spent Sunday with the Bud Auble family.

Harold Garnick was absent from school last week on account of sickness. Rev. Wright called on him Friday afternoon and Lyle Smith was a Sunday afternoon visitor.

Mrs. Mable Anderson and son Ivan spent Tuesday evening at I. C. Clark's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Garnick were Sunday visitors at Wm. Stewart's.

Mrs. Charley Inness and sons spent Monday afternoon at the Ivan Botts home in Ord.

There is considerable moving going on in this neighborhood this spring, the Losure families moved Tuesday by truck to farm near Paxton, John Boyce will occupy the old Milligan farm, Mrs. Mable Anderson and family will farm the Brown & Clark farm where Martin Vincent lived. Steve Skubinski is moving to the farm where Doug Barber has lived for several years and Lee Sperrling is moving his farm where Skubinski lived, better known as the Frank Kucera place. Rudolph Hoeske is moving to his father's farm west of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson will move on the old Garnick farm vacated by Hoeske.

Mrs. Arthur Mensing is helping care for her grandson, who arrived at the Howard Huff home last Wednesday.

The muddy roads had nothing on the members of the club and their families last Thursday when club met at the S. L. Willard home for everyone present came by the team and wagon route. After dinner the lesson on dressing up the cupboard or pantry and refrigeration were discussed. The decorating of the food and spice containers with paint, carrying out your kitchen color scheme, was very interesting. This part of the lesson will be given again at the next meeting so members bring some articles to paint or decorate.

Mrs. Spencer Waterman has been staying at the Cecil Oliver home helping care for their grandma Burris, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week. She passed away Monday evening.

Noble Echoes

While V. J. Desmul and Bill Campbell were going to the sale Thursday they broke the rear axle of V. J. Desmul's Ford. They left the car at the school house and went with a team to the sale. Friday they took the car to Desmul's with horses.

Woodman Hall

Ira Rickett of Comstock was repairing a Chevrolet for Lew Wolf at his farm last Friday.

Paul Waldmann and Irene and Ernest Pilva stayed in Comstock, where they attend school, last week while the roads were in bad condition.

Raymond Waldmann took Miss Roth and the students from the high school to Ord, where they attended the singfest.

The progressive local of the Farmers Union will hold their regular meeting at the Woodman Hall as soon as roads and weather permit.

Fishermen, Be Your Own Boat

BEAT IT GANG!

This is not a new device for the protection of pedestrians. It's intended as an aid to followers of Izak Walton. With this contraption, fishermen are able to wade far out into a stream, and right in the middle of a school of fish, or so it's inventor contends. Miss Lillian Webberg is demonstrating the device at the International Patent Exhibition, at Philadelphia, in the view above.

Miss Loretta Roth spent the week end at the home of her parents near Comstock.

Saturday was the first day there was much travel by automobile on the roads in this neighborhood. The roads have been in very bad condition and are still rough and muddy in a few places but if the nice weather continues they will all be fine and dandy in a few days.

The teachers and pupils of our school are planning to organize a literary society and will hold their first meeting at the Woodman hall Wednesday evening. Misses Roth, Holoun and Klanecky are preparing a program for that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Waldmann and family spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochon.

Stanley Kordlk was driving to the James Petska home last Saturday when he broke his car near Ed Waldmann's. He journeyed on his way by foot and pulled his car home the next day.

Mrs. Jerry Pilva is going into the chicken business on a big scale. She set three incubators, consisting of seven hundred eggs, the first of the week. She bought some eggs from Mrs. Otto Radli and Mrs. Jos. Waldmann Saturday.

In fact all parts were well taken and the musical show proved to have enough plot to keep the interest of a generous sized crowd. The dances were attractive, with clever costuming, clever steps, and catchy rhythms. Miss Hardin was in charge of the costumes, and their number and variety were a credit to her. Particularly pleasing was the manly dance done by the three boys in full regalia, which the audience applauded largely.

Miss Edna Hinjza directed a mythical episode which found a place in the first act, called The Birth of Spring. The costuming and dances in this were very fine and showed much work.

The sanitarian with patients, doctors, nurses, and water drinking ceremonies made a good background for the interesting play, another plot about mistaken identity. The audience liked it much, and Miss Bloodgood and her efficient helper, Miss Elsie Fredericksen deserve a lot of credit for the vast amount of work they invested in the operetta.

Accompanying at the piano were James Milliken and Olga Lukash. Stage managers were Arthur Auble and George Allen, jr. Everett Lashmett was business manager of the production.

Other principals who did well were Grace Ball, Beulah McGinnis, Harold Benn and Leonard Cronk while others who took part in the songs, dances or both included the following:

Anna Adamek, Eva Adamek, Lydia Adamek, Marie Adamek, Dorothy Allen, Dan Anderson, Florence Anderson, Lila Austin, Maylene Ball, Paul Barla, Eddie Beale, Effie Benson, Myrtle Benson, Kenneth Clancy, Glen Cochran, William Cochran, Lotta Collins, Virginia Craig, Raymond Cronk, Marian Grace Cushing, John Dancock, Lois Dowhower, Glen Eschelman, Dorothy Fish, Harold Garnick, Esther Glaser, Melvin Hackel, Edith Hatch, Lillian Kirby, Agnes Knebel, Anthony Kokes, Alice Kovarik, Lillian Kovarik, Viola Krahluk, Frieda Larsen, Donald Lashmett, Everett Lashmett, Betty Lukesh, Eldon Lukesh, Darlene Mason, Jessamine Meyer, Mildred Meyers, Elna Mortenson, Agnes Moudry, Bernice Nelson, Catherine Ollis, Helen Osenowski, Delma Palmetter, Thelma Palmetter, Helen Parkos, Delores Pawloski, Dorothy Philbrick, Glea Porter, Eva Ptacnik, Claud Rathbun, Jr., Genevieve Rathbun, Kate Romans, Oleta Rose, Eldon Rybin, James Rybin, Harold Sack, Wilma Slavicek, Jean Sloate, Leland Slore, Richard Smith, Mildred Smith, Zola Stara, Verna Stowell, Ella Marie Strong, Margaret Strong, Betty Lou Sweet, Rolland Tedro, Mildred Timmerman, Julius Vala, Mildred Van Slyke, Alice Verstraete, Olga Vodhnal, Doris Whiting, Ruth Wenberg, Jeannette Williams, Lucille Wozniak, Emil Zadina, Ardis Zikmund.

Citizens Military Camps Offer Good Training, Says Krum

Young men between the ages of 17 and 24 may enjoy a fine vacation without expense, may secure worthwhile military training and the companionship of other young men by attending a Citizens Military Encampment, says Dr. Joseph Krum, of Ord, who holds a commission in the Reserves and who has attended several of these camps. He advises, though, that boys who want to attend the encampment at Fort Crook next summer to take the basic course should make application early this spring, as there are almost sure to be more who want to attend than can be taken care of. The camp opens August 2 and continues thirty days.

Travel expenses are paid by the government, a uniform is furnished, food, laundry, sleeping accommodations and everything are free and a thirty day stay in a Citizens Military Training Camp will be productive of good health and happiness.

Dr. Krum has pamphlets describing the C. M. T. C. work, is qualified to accept applications and will be glad to explain the camp to anyone interested.

Farmers May Still Get Trees, Dale Says

Although the supply of two varieties, Russian olive and red cedar are already exhausted, farmers may get other varieties of government trees by applying before March 20 at his office, says County Agent C. C. Dale today. The trees are available in lots of 100 of each variety and a charge of $1.00 per hundred for packing and transportation charges is the only cost, Mr. Dale says.

Many 4-year-old Scotch pines are still available, he states. These trees are larger than other evergreen varieties and are suitable for any Nebraska soil. They are the fastest growing of the evergreens but the top is not so compact as some other kinds.

From present indications this will be a good spring to set out a farm windbreak, Agent Dale says.

Tuesday was celebrated as "Nebraska Day" in the Christian church. Those in attendance gave a cent for every year they have lived in Nebraska.

Christian Science.

The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, March 6, is "Man."

The Golden Text is: "O man greatly beloved, fear not; peace be unto you, be strong, yea, be strong". (Daniel 10:19).

One of the citations from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from Acts 17:24, 25, 26: "God that made the world and all things therein, seeing that he is Lord of heaven and earth, dwelleth not in temples made with hands; neither is worshipped with men's hands, as though he needed anything, seeing he giveth to all life and breath, and all things... For in him we live and move and have our being; as certain of your own poets have said, for we are also his offspring".

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, also used in the lesson-sermon reads: "God, the divine Principle of man, and man in God's likeness are inseparable, harmonious and eternal... God is the parent Mind and man is God's spiritual offspring." (page 336).

"Making surveys of this and that seems quite a fashion nowadays," said Ross Lakin, of the A. & L Tire and Battery station, the local Exide dealers, "but much information of practical value can be obtained." "For instance," he continued, "a survey was made by the manufacturers of Exide batteries to find out approximately how many times a year the average motorist calls on his battery to start his car.

"The information obtained was highly interesting. It was found that the average was 2,200 times a year. That means that the average automobile battery discharges current at a high rate about this number of times depending of course on the use to which it is put by its owner.

"This information is of value in many ways. It emphasizes the necessity of keeping a watchful eye on one's battery from time to time, especially at the beginning of cold weather.

"In cold weather," Mr. Lakin continued, "the engine is harder to turn and the efficiency of any battery, regardless of its make, is lower. Accordingly, a battery that has been working all right during the warm weather may not be in condition to stand an increased load with lowered efficiency.

"In warm weather a battery can be in a pretty poor condition and yet be capable of turning over an engine.

"But when frosty morning comes, the weakness in batteries begins to appear, usually catching the motorist unaware.

"Battery inspection at this time is good insurance against unexpected battery failures during the rest of this winter."

Chevrolet Lead All Automobiles In 1931

Complete registration figures for the full year of 1931, recently announced, reveal that for the first time in the history of the automobile, a six cylinder car led the industry. Through the industry, the company forged ahead early in the year and maintained its leadership by a margin which widened month by month.

During 1927 Chevrolet also led the industry in total volume of sales, although in that year a lull existed in the low-priced car market. But in 1931, in the highly competitive conditions existing throughout the industry, the company forged ahead early in the year and maintained its leadership by a margin which widened month by month.

In December, 1931, Chevrolet titled 27,928 passenger cars, nearly twice as many as the second leading make, and the second highest December in the history of the company.

Convenience Counts!

Even if there were no other reasons for doing business with the merchants of Ord, the fact of convenience alone would make it well worth while.

Buying from one of your MERIT Merchants insures your getting what you want when you want it, whether it be something to eat, wear or use.

There are no letters to write — no guessing about the quality — no costly delays nor troublesome exchanges — no doing without while awaiting repairs.

You pay no added costs for freight, express or postage, and you pay nothing until you get the goods and know they are right.

You take no chances on substitutions, misfits or off-colors. You get a good price without buying excessive quantities, and your dealer shares your concern about the service received from goods which he sells.

Are not these reasons enough to convince even the most thoughtless buyer that his own market-place is the safest and surest place to trade?

By MRS. RAY GOLDEN

Ephram Windsor Fowler was born April 19, 1855 at Edwards, N. Y., and passed away from this life Feb. 27, 1932 at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Earl Snodgrass of Arcadia with whom he had made his home for the past ten years. He was married to Ella Viola Elliott, April 18, 1875 at Pittsfield, N. Y. The first three years of their married life was spent at Edwards, N. Y. In 1878 they emigrated to Hall county, Nebr., where they homesteaded. There they lived for eighteen years when in 1896 they removed to Arcadia where Mr. and Mrs. Fowler lived the remainder of their lives. Mrs. Fowler preceded her husband in death April 15, 1922. To them were born eight children, two daughters, Mrs. Earl Snodgrass of Arcadia and Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Hemingford, Nebr., six sons, Morris of Arcadia, Floyd of North Platte, Edgar and Earl of Stapleton, Walter of Arcadia and Clarence who passed away several years ago. There are thirty grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

Mr. Fowler was a member of the Arcadia Congregational church, being received and baptised March 12, 1926. At the time of his death he was in his 77th year, well beyond the three score and ten. No man had more friends of the real kind than this pioneer. He had not only many friends but he retained them by the excellence of his character. He was a respected member of the Masonic fraternity, this order having charge of the funeral service at the grave. As a citizen, Mr. Fowler commanded the respect of the entire community. Although lately removed from fulfilling a conspicuous place among his fellowmen, he will hold a long remembered place in the minds of his neighbors and an affectionate place in the hearts of his family.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational church Monday afternoon at two o'clock, conducted by the pastor, Rev. B. W. Burleigh. A quartette composed of Lowell Finey, Horace Mott, Harold Weddel and Kermil Erickson sang "Face to Face," "Sometime Somewhere," and "We are Going Down the Valley One by One." Interment was made in the Arcadia cemetery. All the children were present for the funeral services but one daughter, Mrs. Arthur Fisher of Hemingford, Nebr. Other out-of-town relatives present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Berry, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dickerson, Mr. and Mrs. Milan Benton and family and Mrs. Mary Elliott, all of Cairo.

The affirmative and negative debating teams of the Arcadia high school debated the Broken Bow teams at Broken Bow Thursday afternoon of last week on the question, "Resolved: That the several states should enact legislation providing for compulsory unemployment insurance". But one debate was judged, the Broken Bow affirmative team winning two to one. Robert Jeffrey, Paul Easterbrook and Harold Gates were the Arcadia negative team and Marguerite Rettenmayer, Margaret Betts and Coralyne Lewin the Arcadia affirmative team.

In a written spelling contest held among the Arcadia high school pupils Wednesday of last week, Robert Jeffrey placed first and Marguerite Rettenmayer and Margaret Betts tied for second place. These students will represent the commercial department of the Arcadia high school at the district contest.

In the written contest held Thursday for pupils of the 6th, 7th and 8th grades, Doris Golden, seventh grade pupil won first, Lucile Starr, seventh grade, second and Catherine Smith, eighth grade third. In the oral contest, Lucile Starr, seventh grade pupil, won first, Doris Golden and Allen Carter, seventh and sixth grade pupils tied for second and Winona McMichael, seventh grade placed fourth. The two winners will compete in the county contest which will be held at Ord soon.

The revival meetings being conducted by the Runius Brothers of Mundon, Kas., are continuing this week and unless other plans are made will close with the evening meeting next Sunday. The services are being held at the Methodist church each evening at 7:30 and are drawing large crowds. Every one is invited to attend.

A Loup Valley high school basketball tournament is being held at Ord each evening this week with the exception of Thursday and Saturday evenings. The tournament will determine the championship of the Loup Valley. Sup't. C. C. Thompson, Coach Tuning and Horace Mott are attending from here. The Arcadia team did not enter the tournament on account of their small amount of training.

The March meeting of the Loup Valley Ministerial Association will be held at the Congregational church in Burwell Monday, March 1st. Subject, "The Personal Life of the Minister". The Men's Cribbage club met last Thursday evening with J. H. Marvel. The tournament was won by Dr. Baird and Coach Tuning. Otto Rettenmayer and Roy Betts won the consolation. N. A. Lewis will entertain the club at his home this evening.

Wendolin Lipp disposed of his car last week to Seth Carnaby who took charge at once. Mr. Lipp left Saturday morning for Cleveland, Ohio, where will assume the position as manager of a chicken ranch. Mrs. Lipp and the children were called to Cleveland some time ago by the death of the former's father. They have remained there since that time.

The Legion Auxiliary met last Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Frank Evans. Owing to bad roads only a few of the members were present. Arrangements were made for sending a bouquet to Mrs. John Fellis who has been quite ill. The members wish to express their thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Esterbrook who so kindly donated $10 for the benefit of the Knox county drought sufferers. Mrs. Evans served lunch at the close of the afternoon.

The Farmers Club held an all day meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John White last Saturday. On account of bad roads only about fifty attended. Dinner was served at one after which the following program was given: vocal solos, Kermit Erickson, reading three talk, Mrs. H. M. Brandenburg; talk, Orlando Larkin; vocal solo, Orlando Larkin; piano solo, Miss Nema Cruzan; song, "America" by all. The March meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Brandenburg, Saturday, March 26.

Word was received in Arcadia late of the death of Mrs. Emma Edghill which occurred in California Saturday, Febr. 13th. Details as to the cause of her death or as to where Mrs. Edghill was residing were lacking. Mrs. Edghill was the wife of W. R. Edghill and resided on a farm west of Arcadia, leaving here about ten years ago.

A miscellaneous shower for Mrs. Austin Smith was held at the home of her son, Ernest Smith last Friday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Smith recently lost their farm home and all of their belongings by fire and friends and relatives at the shower presented them with a large number of useful gifts. The afternoon was spent sewing for Mrs. Smith who was completely surprised when the guests arrived. Lunch was served at the close of the afternoon.

At a recent meeting of the school board, Superintendent C. C. Thompson was re-elected for the school year of 1932-33 at a ten percent decrease in salary. Mr. Thompson has been at the head of the Arcadia school for a number of years and the fact that the school has shown steady progress under his leadership will be attested to by the community as a whole. Other members of the teaching staff will be decided upon at a later meeting of the board.

VALLEY CAGERS ARE BATTING FOR TOP HONORS

Games played Monday night saw Sargent beat Scotia, 24 to 17, St. Paul eliminate Comstock, 34 to 14, and Ord defeat North Loup, 36 to 6. Of these games the Sargent-Scotia clash was the best from the standpoint of action, though the finest playing of the evening was displayed by Ord in the evening's finale.

The Sargent-Scotia clash was one of those see-saw affairs, Scotia leading most of the way through but bowing to superior playing in the final quarter. Carl Metal and the burly guard, Brown, bore the brunt of the Sargent attack with Badousek, Farrell and Sternberg looking best for Scotia. Sternberg was high scorer for his team but it was the efforts of the other two named that kept Scotia in the game and when both were sent to the sidelines for fouling four times each the Scotia cause was lost.

St. Paul had no difficulty with Comstock, in fact the Custer county lads looked amateurish against the efforts of the fast Howard County team. Jacobs was St. Paul's high scorer and he was ably seconded by Scull and Roe. Bartu and Matheson jockeyed best for Comstock.

Ort effectively revenged their defeat by North Loup last Saturday night by snowing the Loupers under, 36 to 6, in their tourney encounter. Led by Everett Lashmett and that mighty midget Smith, Coach Molzen's boys put up North Loup by so great a margin that the issue was never in doubt. Smith was high scorer, accounting for 12 points and EV. Lashmett was close with 10 counters. Others who started were Don Lashmett, Benda and Nutter and all played with precision and finesse. Even when Substitutes Kepp, McGinnis and Stoltz entered the game North Loup was still unplayable. The North Loup line-up included Stewart, Jorgenson, VanHorn, Sayre, Fuller, Paddock, Barber and Vogel.

Games Tuesday night saw Sargent victorious over Taylor, 41 to 13, Dannebrog beat Loup City, 24 to 18, while St. Paul beat Burwell, 34 to 21.

The Sargent-Taylor and St. Paul-Burwell games were unexpected, the stronger teams winning with ease but Dannebrog caught a tar in the Loup City team and had more difficulty in disposing of them than had been expected.

The veteran K. Jacobsen led his team in points with 10 and Williams was the whole show for Loup City with 14 points.

Dyas, of Kearney, is refereeing all games during the tournament and doing a good job of it. Visitors express themselves as much pleased with the fine Ord gymnasium and crowds have been large throughout the tournament.

The Ord band furnishes music every night and several between-periods stunts are planned for Friday evening when the tourney finals are held. A game also will be played between the runner-up teams.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Pratt Lakin of Burwell were in Ord visiting in the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lakin.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF
VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

Now on this 23rd day of February, 1932, this cause came on for hearing on the petition under oath of Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator of the estate of Joseph Rybin, deceased, praying for a license to sell the following described real estate, to wit: The Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter of the Southwest quarter of Section 28, Township 19, North of Range 14, West of the 6th Principal Meridian, in Valley County, Nebraska, subject to legal highway, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate, allowances and costs of administration, for the reason that there is no personal property in the possession of said Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator, belonging to said estate to pay said debts, allowances and costs.

It is, therefore, ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before one of the Judges of the District Court in and for Valley County, Nebraska, in the District Court Room in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, on the 9th day of April, 1932, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as it can be reached, to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator, to sell the above described estate of said decedent to pay the debts, allowances and expenses of said estate.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate, by causing the same to be published once each week for four successive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a newspaper printed and published in said County of Valley, and State of Nebraska.

Anxiety Herefords At Public Auction

Well, you Hereford people, have you asked for one of the Clement & Sons catalogues yet? Their annual sale will be held at the farm in March, Valley on Wednesday, March 16. Cols. Weller & Thompson will do the selling. There are 60 head in the offering and every one a top-notch. If you study the sale bills which have been printed or get a copy of the catalogue you can assure yourself that the most popular blood lines are represented all the way down the list in this big sale. And remember, while we hope the Clements and others represented in the sale will get a bang up price for every head of the stock, we know you buyers are going to buy this offering worth the money. Prices are not going to be high, quality considered. You will probably never see a better time to start a herd. Stock prices will be much higher before it comes time for a 1933 annual sale. Be sure to read their sale ad this week and if you are interested and can go and look over the stock before hand and see the sires and dams, you will better realize the wonderful quality offered in this sale.

CITY GOVERNMENT.

This is the month of March, the month in which the city administration for coming months is determined. Yes, we know that the city election comes on April 5 but March is the month when candidates are selected by the caucuses of Ord's two parties, the Citizens and Good Government. If the same men are named as candidates by both parties, as has so often been the case in the past, then the formal election in April is merely a rubber stamp of what was done at the caucuses in March.

In recent months there has been a growing disposition on the part of a certain number of Ord's citizens to blame the present city administration. The past twelve months have been trying ones for those who occupy the seats of the mighty, even in a small town like Ord. Questions over which controversies have arisen include the natural gas matter, street cleaning, dues of city peace officers, electric rates and the killing of dogs, just to mention a few. Many citizens, possibly a majority, feel that our city council has handled these matters and others properly but a certain faction feels otherwise. We would remind those who are dissatisfied with our present administration that the time is approaching when that dissatisfaction should be expressed at the caucuses and later at the polls, instead of in grumbling and talking.

Too often a small number of voters, often not more than 40 or 50, attend each caucus and nominate identical candidates which makes a farce of the April election. It is not the fault of those who do attend caucuses that this procedure is followed but rather is the fault of those who stay away and then grumble afterwards about what was done.

Watch for announcements of the party caucuses. Attend the one held by the party of your choice. Take a part in the discussions, see that men are nominated who will administer the city's affairs wisely and in a way that will please the majority. Do that and then after the election is over quit your grumbling. If you haven't attended a caucus or if you didn't vote you have no complaint coming.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH ORD?
We don't claim credit for the following as it has made the rounds of exchanges for many months but it is apt and to the point so we print it here, with apologies to the original author:

Nothing's wrong with Ord, except too many of us get up in the morning at the alarm of a Connecticut clock, button a pair of Ohio suspenders to a pair of Chicago pants, put on a pair of Massachusetts shoes, wash in a Pittsburgh tub basin using Cincinnati soap, and a cotton towel made in New Hampshire, sit down to a Grand Rapids table, eat pancakes made from Minneapolis flour spread with Vermont maple syrup, and Kansas City bacon fried on a St. Louis stove. Buy fruit put up in California, seasoned with Rhode Island spices and sweetened with Louisiana sugar. Put on a hat made in Philadelphia, hitch a Detroit mule fed on Oklahoma gasoline to an Ohio plow and work all day on a Nebraska farm covered with a New England mortgage, send our money to Ohio for tires, and at night we crawl under a New Jersey blanket to be kept awake by a dog, the only home produced on the place, wondering all the time where all the money went in this wonderful town and county of ours. If we all would buy more "Ord and Nebraska manufactured products, we could keep our money at home and be prosperous, and watch Ord grow.

SALES TAX INEVITABLE.
With the certainty that on July 1, 1932, a sum in excess of two billion dollars will be added to our national debt and with expenditures constantly in excess of income, it seems inevitable that a general sales tax of some nature will be passed by Congress during the current session. Bitterly though we may resent this form of taxation it seems the last resort as other tax agencies fail to bring in sufficient revenue.

Failure of the federal income tax during present hard times is the principle thing that makes a sales tax necessary. Prior to the fall of 1929 incomes were high and the federal government was enabled to raise practically 60 percent of its revenue by taxing incomes. Then came the shrinkage in incomes and as they shrunk so did taxes decline. Constantly in the red, the U. S. Treasury now recommends drastic measures as necessary to balance the budget and besides income tax upping and luxury taxes on a wide range of articles the sales tax now looks as a necessary evil.

The sales tax simply means that every purchaser of a pound of sugar or a can of coffee or a yard of cloth or any one of a thousand different articles will pay a fraction of a cent more because of the tax, which will be imposed at the factory. It is argued that a sales tax is the fairest form of taxation in that it does not discriminate but there are even more potent arguments against it. The rich man has only one body to clothe and one stomach to feed, the same as the poor man, but he has infinitely greater resources with which to do it so is not affected correspondingly by such a tax.

Only in a great emergency should Congress impose a sales tax but apparently that emergency has been reached. For the sake of balancing the budget all of us should be willing to submit to any form of taxation necessary, provided Congress takes measures to cut federal expenditures so that once the budget is balanced the unfair tax may be speedily repealed.

The voice of the common people of America must be heard in Congress. We must insist that federal extravagances be curtailed so that federal taxes may be reduced. There is a limit to the tax burden that a suffering people can bear and that limit has almost been reached.

A sales tax may well be the final straw.

DANGERS OF HOARDING.

In Pittsburgh a fearful man drew his life's savings, $4,000, from a bank and carried them about in the lining of his overcoat. It was a perfect hiding place—until someone stole the coat.

A Chicago man drew his little all, $3,800, from a bank and hid it in a trunk. A few days later the bank closed and he congratulated himself but while he was telling friends about his good luck a robber broke in and stole the money. Later the bank re-opened and depositors were paid in full.

In Kansas a man hid his money in an old tin can. His wife threw the tin can into the garbage and it was carried away to the dump. To date it hasn't been recovered, though the man is still spending all his spare time searching the dump.

In Wisconsin, Colorado, Arizona and other states men who withdrew money from banks have been tortured by bandits until they revealed the hiding places of their money.

It is dangerous and useless to hoard, it is patriotic to invest any money you may have or to replace it in some bank or savings institution. Get the money into circulation.

STICK TO THE FARM.

"Stick to the farm," advises Col. A. W. Thompson, pure bred livestock auctioneer who has functioned at many sales in Valley county and is known to most Valley county farmers. Since the first of last June Col. Thompson has been across the United States twice and the conditions he encountered everywhere prompt him to give this sage advice.

There are disappointments in farming, many of them. Low prices, high taxes, high interest, poor crop years caused by drought, hail and insect pests are the lot of the man who tills the soil but when he has met and mastered these discouraging factors, if it is possible for him to do so, he is assured of a competence. Even if he does not he is assured of a home and food for his family even in the depths of this, the worst economic depression the country has ever known.

A distinct back to the farm movement is noticeable in Nebraska and in every other farm state. Millions of industrial workers are unemployed and as a result are starving and freezing. How much happier the lot of the farmer, who even without cash money is able to subsist in comparative comfort.

Col. Thompson's advice is good: "Stick to the farm."

LUCKY OR SMART?

Either the luckiest man in the world or the smartest.

So says the editorial page of a great New York newspaper in speaking of Henry Ford's new line of automobiles.

For Mr. Ford's announcement that his new cars came out on the same day the Glass-Stegall bill liberalizing the federal reserve system was reported out of a Senate committee, with a resultant gain of about 4 billion dollars in New York stock market values, causing widespread feeling of optimism throughout the country.

The Ford factory is making two new cars, a V-8 and a four cylinder car, either the eight or the four cylinder engines being interchangeable in the same chassis.

Prices have not yet been announced.

"Mr. Ford's judgment evidently has convinced him that the nation's purchasing power is shortly to be restored, and there is good reason to believe that back of this judgment there is something more than mere guesswork," says the Springfield Union in commenting on the Ford announcement.

Let us hope that Ford has executed another master stroke and announced his new cars just as we prepare to enter another era of prosperity. I presume either Mr. Hager, Mr. Capron or Jack Brown will verify this story and if they do it proves that there is still hoarding going on in spite of the statement credited to President Hoover in the daily papers, that hoarding has now ceased.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

We must remember that getting back to normal is not getting back prices prevailing since the war. Conditions now are below normal but 6c hogs, 15c eggs, 24c cream, etc. is and will be normal, perhaps for a long time. Higher prices would be a boom. We have already suffered enough as a result of a boom and we don't want any more boom. We want a good, steady market. Valley county farmers can make money on 6c and 7c hogs and 50c corn and 75c wheat.

Little Shirley was riding in the car with her mother. Seeing a number of men sitting on the edge of the sidewalk, she inquired what they were doing. Her mother replied that she guessed they were resting. "I guess they are loafing like papa does," offered the little girl. "I hope Hi don't see this."

We pick on Irma more or less and among other things, call her a "sandbagger," whatever that is. Last week she kicked back good and hard. It is absolutely not true that she was 14 when she got her first pair of shoes and that she had to be roped then so they could be fitted.

If the human crop, I mean baby crop, is being harvested in this locality, it is an indication of the grain crop for this year we won't have any kick coming. The crop will be a bumper one.

There are still a number of January 15th Quiz expirations that have not been paid. Also some February 15th expirations. All have had statements and I need the money. Will you send it in at once possible. Delay is dangerous—for the boys in the back office who want their pay Saturday night. We are sending out the March statements this week. Why not pay up March 100 per cent before the 15th is up.

Funeral services for the Honorable Peter Mortensen, probably Ord's first citizen, were held at the opera house because it was the largest hall in town and even this building was inadequate to accommodate the crowd of mourners.

A seed corn special on the C. B. & Q. railroad visited Ord, the object of the train being to teach farmers how to determine good seed corn. Among university specialists on the train were Profs. H. Gramlich and W. W. Burr.

The Ord high basketball team composed of Leslie, Wesley Flynn, Elgin Clason, Alfred Sorenson and Frank Prince went to Lincoln for the state tournament.

A 4-H club girl in Wisconsin has won a $500 prize for baking the best cherry pie. The joke is that she admits the recipe used was one long popular and successful with her mother. I am so old fashioned that I believe girls should learn to cook at home instead of in domestic science classes in school. I believe boys should not have to be pampered along with foot ball and basketball to get them to attend school and get an education. It is these frills and scores of others that are causing us to pay almost unbearable taxes, yet people wonder why taxes are so much higher than they used to be. We could go back to the lower taxes of former days if we were willing to go back to the method of living in those days and it cannot be done in any other way. And we will not do it.

Have you such a recipe among your collection? If so, dig it out, and let's all enjoy it.

Slim Layer Dinner.

This is a whole meal in itself.

Place a layer of sliced raw potatoes in a deep baking pan which has been well buttered. Wash 1-1/2 rice and sprinkle over the potatoes. Cover the rice with 1-1/2 lb. ground steak or ground canned meat. Add a generous layer of sliced onion, then a layer of chopped carrots. Pour over all a quart of canned tomatoes to which 1 tbsp. salt and 1 tsp. sugar has been added.

Sprinkle with a little pepper and cover and bake in a moderate oven 2-1/2 hours. This is a very good dish for community gatherings.

Mrs. L. J. Auble.Date Pudding.

Pour 2 c. boiling water over 2 tsp. soda. Let cool, add: 2 c. sugar, 3 c. bread crumbs, 1/2 c. chopped nuts, 1 c. chopped dates, 1 cinnamon, 1 tsp. nutmeg, 2 eggs beaten separately, folding in the whites last. Steam 2-1/2 to 3 hours. Serve with: 1/2 c. sugar, 2 level tbsp. flour, mixed well. Pour 3 c. hot water over this. Add 2 tbsp. brown sugar, pinch of salt. Let this cook until it thickens, then add tsp. butter and vanilla.

Tuna Fish Salad.

1 c. tuna fish, 1/4 c. diced pineapple, 1/4 c. shredded cabbage, 1/4 c. diced celery. Season lightly.

Mix with salad dressing. Shrimp may replace the tuna fish if desired.

Mrs. Cecil Molzen.Chili Con Carne.

Soak 1 1/2 c. red kidney beans or chili beans over night. Cook in salt water, saving the water.

Fry brown 1 lb. round steak cut in small pieces in suet. Now add 1 qt. tomatoes, cooked beans and water, 3 or 4 cloves of garlic (more if desired), salt, pepper, chili powder to taste.

Cook slowly 3 or 4 hours. Add more water as needed.

Mrs. H. M. Wyrick.Banana Cake.

1 1/2 c. sugar, 1/2 c. shortening, 4 tbsp. sweet milk, 2 eggs, 2 c. flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1/2 c. nut meal, 1 c. mashed bananas, Vanilla

Pour the cake into a well greased pan.

Sift the flour and baking powder well. Cream the butter, add the sugar and cream again. Add egg yolks unbroken. Add milk and flour, put in the bananas, nuts and vanilla. Lastly fold in the egg whites, stiffly beaten.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jensen attended the funeral of a three year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Jeffries of Horace, who while playing marbles with his small brother at their home Thursday afternoon, accidentally swallowed one, the marble lodging in his throat causing him to strangle. Before Dr. Royer of Scotia could get to him he had died. Mrs. Jeffries is a sister of Wifred Leibl, a former teacher at North Loup.

Mrs. Myrtle Turner returned to Grand Island with her husband Leo Turner Saturday evening after spending the past three weeks with her father and brothers, the Graunke family.

Beecher VanHorn and Thurlow Weed, neighbors of the Richardsons took the family via auto to Beaver Crossing, Wednesday, Feb. 24 where the husband and father C. A. Richardson was buried beside the body of a little son, who passed away when the family lived at this place. Funeral services were held there Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Negley and family of Barker are moving this week to a farm near Arcadia which Mr. Negley has lately purchased.

Nineteen pupils of Barker school were represented at the singing contest of rural students held at Ord last Friday. This is a new project and other contests will follow.

Frazier Funeral home, Ord. An elaborate service. Day phone 38-5141.

Herman Graunke and sons Clarence and Dean departed via auto early Tuesday morning for West Point where the father and sons will farm their old home place from which they moved about eight years ago. Goo Eberhart left Monday afternoon with a truck load of household goods, while another truck of Mr. Eberhart's with Short Manchester as driver carried the horses. Because of the bad roads the trip was made via Grand Island and Fremont. Mr. Graunke and sons will be greatly missed by their North Loup friends and from their active church life and other activities here. The very best wishes of this town and community will go with these good people.

The Dr. Dallam family are moving this week into the residence of Mrs. Jessie Babcock, and Mrs. Bernice Stewart and children are moving into the residence which is being vacated by the Dallams. This property owned by a party in Ord formerly was built and owned by C. C. Schultz.

The work done with the children the past week in just one half hour of time each evening after school hours is truly marvelous. We were reminded of Longfellow's words, "What would the world be to us, if the children were no more."

The Wardner Green family moved from the farm south of town Tuesday and for a few days they will live with Mrs. Frank Green. The family plan to leave soon for at least a temporary residence in California. They will make short stops with friends in Omaha and Council Bluffs enroute. Mr. and Mrs. Green will be greatly missed by their associates of this village and community where their influence has meant much for righteousness.

The missionary society of the Baptist church served lunch Wednesday, Feb. 24, at the T. Wardner Green sale south of town. Mr. Green was quite well pleased with the results of the sale and the ladies with the net proceeds of the lunch.

New Envoy to Japan

Here is Joseph Clark Grew, new United States ambassador to Japan, who will be confronted in his new post with one of the most serious and delicate international situations of recent years. Grew, diplomat for more than a quarter of a century, leaves his post as ambassador to Turkey to succeed Ambassador W. Cameron Forbes at Tokio.

Haskell Creek

This winter has been so long that everyone is looking for signs of spring and here are some of the latest: a meadow lark, a robin, some green horseradish, and a new lion on a gooseberry bush.

There seems to be the usual amount of moving this spring. The Fred Miska family and the Ign. Nevrliv family are leaving the neighborhood. Miska's are going to a farm seven miles northeast of Ord where the Ludington family have been living and the Nevrliv family do not know just where they will move. Frank Miska of Ord will move onto the place occupied by Fred Miska. The Howerton family will move from the Bricker farm just across the line in Garfield county to the place where Nevrliv's have been living and Mr. Holzinger will live on the Bricker place.

Frank Flynn's cows are doing their best to beat the depression as he reports two sets of twin calves during the past week.

The ninth grade of Haskell Creek high school are putting out a school paper. It is called "Creaky Creeks of Haskell Creek." The staff is as follows: editor-in-chief, Laura Nelson, cartoonist, George Knecht, sports editor, Theodore Knecht, advertisements, Lela Guggenmos, fiction editor, Alma Jorgensen, reporters for school doings, Dorothy Davis, Lydia Dana, Alice Alderman and Minnie Nevrliv. Obituary

Carl Frederick William Kriewald was born in the village of Farbezin, Pommerania, Germany, August 28, 1865, and died at his home near North Loup, Nebr., on February 22, 1932. He was the second son in a family of six children and was the only one to come to America, and was 66 years, 5 months and 24 days old at the time of his death.

He came to America in the month of July, 1884, sailing from Antwerp to New York on a Red Star Liner and landing after a journey of 12½ days. He joined his uncle John Kriewald, who was one of the early settlers of Valley county. He worked for this uncle for the period of one year and also for other farmers of the county until the year 1888 when he took a homestead in Valley county near Burwell.

On February 24, 1889 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary Joanna Suh at Culbertson, immediately making their home upon the homestead, where they remained until the year 1893 at which time they moved into the Riverdale community, and after renting for one year, bought and moved onto the farm now occupied by the eldest son, where the family continued to live until the year 1908, when he moved to the farm that has since been his home.

There were five children born to Mr. and Mrs. Kriewald, four of which survive him and live on farms of the home community, his life companion having preceded him in death on the fifth day of August of last year and one son, Samuel losing his life in the World War, besides the four children, John, August, Earl and Alvina, there are left to mourn, six grandchildren, and one nephew Gerhard Billek of Ord, with one brother and three sisters and their families still residing in Germany, and a host of friends.

At the age of fourteen he was baptised and confirmed in the Lutheran church, and soon after coming to America was converted and united with the Evangelical church. At this time there was no Evangelical church in the community but meetings were held in his uncle's home. He was always an active member of the church, having filled the offices of superintendent, class leader, and teacher for many years, and it could be truthfully said of him that he loved the church, and was always glad to attend its services with his family, and which he continued to do until sickness prevented.

The funeral services were held from the Methodist church at North Loup with a quartette and pianist from Mira Valley Evangelical church furnishing the music, and each of three ministers having part in the service, Rev. J. F. Kirkwood, G. A. Schubauer, and Nathan Thomas, while among the pallbearers.

THE MONSTER IS LOOSE!

A Friendly Warning
If you have a weak heart and cannot stand intense excitement or even shock, we advise you NOT to see this production. If, on the contrary, you like an unusual thrill, you will find it in "FRANKENSTEIN". Children should not attend unless accompanied by their parents.

No man has ever seen its like... no woman's kiss has touched its lips...

A wild, weird, wonderful, fantastic picture of a man who made another "man" from the parts of other men long departed... a creature with the strength of a dozen men... who lives... breathes... walks... with a mechanical brain but without a soul... it looks like a man, but is it?

No thriller ever made can touch it!

Buys 157 Purebred Durocs at 7c Pound

Probably the biggest single purebred stock deal ever made in Valley county was consummated here last Wednesday, when W. P. Anderson, of Holtville, Calif., purchased from Asmus & Son 157 purebred Duroc hogs at the price of 7c per pound. Included in the deal were 150 sows and seven boars.

Anderson saw the two car shipment of Durocs that the Asmus ranch sent to Slocum & Son at Chico, Calif., two years ago and had been corresponding with the local breeders for some time. His arrival here last Wednesday was timed to correspond with a sale of hogs advertised by the Asmus firm.

Tony Asmus accompanied the big shipment to California and will remain on the Anderson ranch for a month to see that the hogs get started right. Next fall a mixed carload of hogs will be sent from the Asmus ranch to Mr. Anderson.

The advisability of requesting the council to pass a radio ordinance was discussed and the radio ordinance now in force at Central City was read by Mr. Capron. Several other cities, among them Albion and Norfolk, also have such ordinances. It was reported that it was decided, however, that for the present Ord does not need a radio ordinance, providing city officials and citizens generally will co-operate to make reduction of interference possible.

Dr. G. W. Taylor proposed that petitions be circulated asking the city council to buy such detection equipment as may be necessary and Ormsby Petty suggested that a committee of five be named to circulate these petitions. Chairman Hardenbrook named A. B. Capron, Frank Stora, Fred Coe, Bob Noll and Ed Seyler on this committee and at last reports more than 300 signatures had been secured and the petitions will be presented to the city council at its session tomorrow night. With a regenerative radio set borrowed from a Central City man, Commissioner Allen and his helpers located and corrected several causes of interference last week end, proving that with proper equipment much can be done to make radio listening in Ord more enjoyable.

Welfare Board Seeks Employment For Men

A drive to furnish employment for Ord men who are idle and who want to work is being started this week by the Ord Welfare Board. Odd jobs of any kind are wanted—driving, furnace tending, house cleaning, etc.—as well as more steady employment. Anybody who has a job to offer is asked to call Frank Fafeita, Jr. or any member of the Welfare Board.

Thirty-six families are being fed regularly, the Board reports, and since the work was started last fall 150 children have been clothed.

No solicitation of money or supplies has been made but many voluntary contributions have come and have been acknowledged through the newspapers. Donations not previously acknowledged include the following:

Volunteer Fire Department, $88.00.

Z. C. B. J. Lodge, $20.00. J. C. Penney Co., 4 pairs new shoes.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead, 6 25-lb sacks flour.

Another store, (name not mentioned), several new friends.

Donations of money, food or clothing will be gratefully accepted by the Welfare board at any time and right now gifts of potatoes will be very welcome. The Welfare office in the court house will be open only on Saturday from now on, the hours being from 10 to 12 a. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m.

ORDITES TO VOTE ON NATURAL GAS TUESDAY, APRIL 5

Council Decides Get Straw Vote On Gas Franchise, Then Follow Wishes of Majority.

Whether Ord will have natural gas in the near future or whether it will be rejected permanently by this city will be determined by voters on Tuesday, April 5th, at the annual spring election. Such was the decision made Friday evening by the city council at its regular monthly meeting.

The question to be voted on April 5th will be whether or not a franchise should be issued to the Nebraska Natural Gas company, giving that concern permission to lay its pipes, mains and conduits across and along the streets and alleys of Ord.

The vote to be taken at the spring election will be merely a "straw vote" to learn the wishes of the majority of Ord citizens. The city council will not be bound by the result of the election but will be left free to negotiate the most favorable franchise possible.

Joseph Smith, of Holdrege, district manager for the gas company, met with councilmen Friday night and asked that Ord give immediate action on the proposition. His company is now making construction plans for the coming spring and summer and their plans may hinge upon whether or not Ord wants natural gas, he said.

Cantor's New Talkie, "Palmy Days", Is Here Sunday

"Palmy Days," the newest laugh hit featuring Eddie Cantor, will be shown at the Ord Theatre for three days beginning Sunday, which is good news to moviegoers of Ord and vicinity. Since "Whoopee" is good many Ord people have been Cantor addicts and they won't be disappointed in "Palmy Days."

In this new laugh riot Eddie exposes a fake fortune teller, runs a huge bakery, saves $25,000 for his employer, drills a bathing beauty chorus and does a number of things in the most amusing fashion. Cantor, himself, worked for months on the gags for "Palmy Days," several famous songsmiths collaborated on the music. Willie Pogran designed the settings and Eddie is assisted in the cast by Charlotte Greenwood, Walter Taft, Barbara Weeks, Spencer Charters and others.

The Sunday matinee will be the first showing of "Palmy Days" and evening showings will be made Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, giving everyone who wants to see this famous picture a chance to do so.

Monday Was Coldest March Morning In 25 Years

"Today is the coldest March day we've had in 25 years, so far as I can remember," said W. A. Anderson when he visited the Quiz office Monday. The official thermometer recorded the early morning temperature Monday as 10 degrees below zero and the temperature remained below the freezing point throughout the day.

After several days of balmy weather a big change took place last Friday when Ord people awoke to find several inches of snow on the ground and a blizzard-like wind blowing from the north. In the afternoon the storm abated and the sun shone but the cold weather remained, Saturday thermometers said 8 below, Sunday was little warmer and Monday the record cold mark of 10 below was reached.

Tuesday was one of the coldest days of the winter, the temperature remaining under 10 above all day. The cold weather is continuing.

SUPERVISORS LET CONTRACTS FOR 6 BRIDGES TUESDAY

Diamond Engineering Co. Gets $10,000 Contract With Bid Just $3.92 Under Lincoln Man.

Bridge contractors are figuring closely these days.

Tuesday the Diamond Engineering Co. of Grand Island, was awarded a $10,298.54 contract to build six bridges in Valley county this summer, their bid being just $3.92 lower than bid filed by Glen E. Smith of Lincoln. Alvin Blessing of Ord, filed a bid that was only $300 higher than Mr. Smith's and two other firms bid slightly higher.

The bids were opened Tuesday morning by the county board of supervisors with Rollin C. Ayres, county engineer, present in an advisory capacity and as soon as it was determined that the Diamond company's bid was low the contract was awarded to them. Work on the contract must start by May 1 and all bridges must be completed by November 1.

One of the six bridges is to be of steel deck girder construction while the other five are timber joist with concrete deck. The steel bridge will be located northwest of Elyria to form a connection between the county highway and state highway No. 11. This bridge has a 35 foot span.

Two bridges will span Haskell creek, one 125-foot bridge being planned north of W. J. Stewart's to eliminate a sharp curve and the other near the Miska farm. The Miska bridge will be 100 feet long.

West of Ord 9 1/4 miles on the Sargent highway a 58-foot timber bridge will be built where a culvert now handles the burden. In wet weather this has always been an extremely difficult place to cross.

The south of North Loup on the county road to Ashton. One of them will be located 300 feet south of the power sub-station and will be 30 feet in length and the other, a 24-foot bridge, will be built just a half mile south of the first one.

County Engineer Ayres expresses himself as being greatly pleased with the low figure at which the contract was let. These bridges, built at this price will represent the greatest bridge value Valley county has ever bought, he says.

Ord Postmaster Is Re-Appointed

Edwin P. Clements, Ord postmaster since 1924, was appointed to serve a third term by President Herbert Hoover Saturday, the Omaha Bee-News stated Sunday, and the appointment was sent to the senate for confirmation Monday. By this time the appointment had undoubtedly been confirmed though Postmaster Clements has not received formal notification as yet. His term expired March 7, 1932.

The Sunday matinee will be the first showing of "Palmy Days" and evening showings will be made Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, giving everyone who wants to see this famous picture a chance to do so.

Arden, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark, is ill with flu and confined to his bed.

The term of only one Valley county officer expires this year and that is J. H. Hollingshead, county judge, and though Judge Hollingshead is a candidate for re-election he will have plenty of opposition in the persons of Claude Rathbun, John L. Andersen and R. O. Hunter.

The filing of Mr. Rathbun was reported in last week's Quiz but Messrs. Andersen and Hunter filed late last Thursday afternoon, just before the legal period for filings closed at 5:00 p.m.

Mr. Andersen, a former Ord high school student, has for several years conducted a meat market in connection with the east side grocery owned by his father, Mr. Hunter, the other candidate, is owner of the Hunter trucking and transfer service and has lived in Ord for several years. Previous to that he was a farmer.

The two candidates who receive the highest vote among these four at the primary election April 12 will compete for the office at the general election in November.

Clochon Is Candidate.

Charles Clochon filed late last Wednesday as a candidate for Valley county supervisor for the 6th district, the position he now holds. He is a democrat and is unopposed to his own ticket and also on the republican ticket.

LAND VALUATIONS MAY BE REDUCED, CUSHING LEARNS

Attorney General Tells Valley Co. Representative No Change In Law Needed To Reduce.

Without any change in the present law being made it is possible for county boards of equalization to reduce land valuations for taxation purposes to whatever level they think just, the Hon. Marion J. Cushing, representative for the 77th district, was told by Attorney C. A. Sorenson while in Lincoln.

Early this week Col. Lindbergh named two New York gangsters, Salvi Spittle and Irving Bitz, as "go betweens," and broadcast the word to the kidnappers that they might deal with him through Spittle and Bitz without fear of apprehension by the police. Also, both he and his wife pledged their words of honor that if the baby was returned they would pay the ransom and take no steps to prosecute the kidnappers. Even this offer has failed to bring about the return of the baby, as yet.

Probably never before has the interest of an entire nation been centered upon anything as it is upon the fate of little Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr. If the hopes and prayers of millions of people are of any avail, the baby will be returned safely to his famous parents.

North Loup News

MRS. FRED BARTZ, Reporter

Obituary Of Mrs. Bartz.

Augusta Schoning was born at Palmo, Germany, June 14, 1846. She was one of a family of four sons and four daughters, one brother dying in childhood. She was united in marriage to Frederick Bartz Nov. 12, 1872. Their home was near Berlin where Mr. Bartz, having been educated in carpentry followed this trade as a cabinet maker. Here their two eldest sons Otto and Paul were born.

October 1877, they, with Mrs. Bartz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Schoning set sail for America, landing in Valley county, Nebr., the North Loup valley, the home where their other four children were born and reared and where Mr. and Mrs. Bartz ever after lived and loved and toiled and passed into that better land. Her husband preceded her in death, Aug. 19, 1924. A daughter, Mrs. Ida Souck died Aug. 6, 1927. The others are Otto and Fred of North Loup, Mrs. Clara Redden of Omaha, and George of Riverdale. Mrs. Bartz was a wise counselor, no task being too difficult for her to undertake, a woman of staunch Christian principles, with "The Faith of Our Fathers" which enabled her to bear her burdens hopefully and to maintain the humorous spirit which she possessed. She with her husband were influential in establishing the first school in Riverdale which was known as the Bartz school. Here was a home for the teachers during many terms. While the family were quite young Mr. and Mrs. Bartz united with the Evangelical church, their first membership being at Fish Creek, and later at North Loup. In this relation they were among the church's most loyal supporters.

Mrs. Bartz's many acts of kindness and service are remembered by her children and friends of the community of which she has for so long been a part.

For the past several years because of physical and mental afflictions he has been neither able to give nor to receive the fellowship which she once loved. Her son Paul and Mrs. Ida Brown have cared for her in her helplessness. Others besides her children and their families who survive her are a sister-in-law, Mrs. Amelia Schoning of North Loup and one brother in Germany.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon for Mrs. Fred Bartz sr., Valley county pioneer who passed away Monday morning at her home in Riverdale, the immediate cause of her death being extreme weakness following an attack of the flu. She was 85 years of age last June 14. Rev. Kirkwood of the Evangelical church of Mrs. Valley had charge of the services. Music was furnished by Mrs. Avis Miller and Mrs. VanKirk of Scotia. Pall bearers were two nephews, Julius and Herman Schoning, John Silas and Earl Krelwold and Will Schudel. Interment was in the family lot at Scotia.

Mrs. Myra Barber was hostess Tuesday, March 1, to the 20th Century club. The ladies enjoyed a practical lesson on the use of paints and brushes in reviving kitchen utensils. The leaders were Mrs. George Maxson and Mrs. H. A. Barber. Part of the afternoon was devoted to the study of household refrigeration. Next month's lesson will be on "Gardening."

Eighty friends and members of the M. E. church enjoyed dinner together in the church basement Wednesday, March 2. Following the dinner the Ladies Aid held its regular business meeting.

Rev. Mathis, Evangelist, preached at the S. D. B. church Saturday morning. The services are continuing all this week with cottage prayer meetings each morning.

The deceased is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Crosby whose double funeral occurred in January at that place. Mr. Crosby left a wife and family.

Mrs. Anna Tappan of Ainsworth was the mother of her brother Ed Post and family Thursday. Mrs. Tappan expects soon to spend several months with a daughter, Mrs. L. C. Hockett at Grand Junction, Colo.

Erlie Cox returned home from Kearney Thursday where he has been attending normal college.

Misses Eunice Rood and Mary Davis were week end guests of their home folks.

Gerald Bardo, a Wesleyan student was a week end guest at the I. J. Theil home. Miss Margaret Rodd accompanied him, both students returning to their school work at Lincoln Sunday.

The Everett Honeycutt family who have been living with Mrs. Honeycutt's father, Soren Jorgenson of Dist. 42, moved this week to the residence in the north part of town which is being vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Brown who are moving to the Brown's farm in Riverdale.

Clyde Keown's have moved to the John Kellogg farm across the river.

Bert Craft is moving to the Andy Townsend farm southeast of town.

A. H. Babcock was called to Kearney Saturday morning following the death of his brother-in-law, Johnnie Clark. Mrs. Babcock having gone down during the week was with her sister and nieces when death came.

Tuesday morning Mr. Babcock accompanied the body to North Loup. Mrs. Babcock with the Clark family, coming via auto with friends. Mrs. Myra Hutchins has received word that her sister, Dr. Grace Crandall and Dr. Rosa Palmberg are still at their mission post near Shanghai, China, not because they haven't had a chance to leave but because Mrs. Hutchins believes, of her sister's faith in remaining true to the work to which she has dedicated her life.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cool is quite ill. She is being cared for at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Barber.

Frazier Funeral home, Ord. Ambulance service. Day phone 38; Night 193.

Funeral services were held from the A. H. Babcock residence Tuesday afternoon for John Clark, who passed away at the family home in Kearney Saturday morning following a prolonged illness. The Clarks were early settlers of North Loup having resided here several different times. For a number of years their home has been at Kearney. The deceased was 78 years of age and leaves his wife and two daughters, also his adopted sister, Mrs. L. E. Green, and a sister-in-law, Mrs. Esther Babcock. Rev. Hurley Warren of the S. D. B. church had charge of the services. Music was furnished by a mixed quintette consisting of Mrs. Gladys Christensen of Arcadia, a special friend of the daughters, Mildred and Marlon, Mrs. Ava Johnson and Messrs. Moulton and Barber. The vast and beautiful display of flowers bear witness to the love and esteem which friends hold for the deceased and his family. Interment was in North Loup cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Robbins have braved the cold blustery weather this week and have made their usual morning and evening trips to their store at Greeley.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Clark will not return to Wyoming but are moving this week to the old Burgess place north of town which Sterling Manchester has rented of George Johnson and which Clifton will farm this year.

The Alvin Kron family who have lived here for the past few years have moved to the Dave Ingraham farm in Fussayville.

S. L. Shinneman has been elected manager of the North Loup band for the ensuing year. Monday nights are practice nights and all interested as members are urged to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allan and sons of Litchfield visited from Friday until Sunday at the Eugene Brown home in Riverdale. Mrs. Allan's mother, Mrs. Ida Brown who for the past three years has faithfully cared for Grandma Bartz returned home with them for a rest and visit.

A number of Sunter and Riverdale young folks called at John Porter's home Thursday evening to do honor to his birthday.

Games with a dainty lunch following provided a pleasant social evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schudel and son Merlin who have spent the winter at Santa Ana, Calif., for the benefit of Frank's health are expected home this week, having written they were leaving Saturday.

"Redskin" Poultry Feeds

In the past four years we have sold three different brands of Poultry Feed and found Redskin gives better satisfaction than any of the brands. For this reason we will handle only Redskin this year.

We believe that Redskin gives more for the money than any other Poultry Feed sold in Ord. Note the special discount on Redskin Poultry Feed for Friday and Saturday in the Trade Merit ads.

Try Redskin this year and see how well your chicks do.

Springtime

Don't feel much like it today but spring will soon be here and there are several things each family will need to begin spring work with. Among them are garden tools—rakes, lawn brooms, hoes and hose, spades and shovels, yes, and when you think about the garden contest you will want to be as well equipped as possible to win. Our store is stocked with the things you will need, a nice new stock, bought since the drop in prices and priced carefully with our new money-saving prices for all. Dairy pails, cream cans, strainers, everything for the dairy.

Then the baby chix must have the best of care. See our stock of waterers, self-feeders. And you know one of the best things for chix is milk. Feed them when they are little with our quart jar feeders for liquids, just screw a glass jar, after filling, into one of these ten cent metal feeders. They are easy to keep clean and sanitary. Come and see our store.

1932 — A Great Year To Get Into the Poultry Business!

Yes, we know that present prices on eggs and poultry are very low but all statistics prove that coming months are going to be good ones for those who are wise and get into the poultry game now. Government reports show that at present there are only 35 percent of a normal poultry supply on the farms. In 1930 the spring hatch was only 78 percent normal and in 1931 only 56 percent of normal. Advance orders for chicks this year, over the entire country, are only 5 percent of normal, WITH CONDITIONS GRADUALLY IMPROVING IN THE EAST AND MANY FACTORIES AGAIN PUTTING MEN AT WORK IT IS SURE THAT BY FALL THERE WILL BE A BIG POULTRY AND EGG SHORTAGE, WITH PROFITS RESULTING FOR THE FORESIGHTED

Yard & Garden Contest Committee Urges Choose City's Official Flower

Five Favorite Blooms Offer Choice To All; Flower Shows Every 2 Weeks in Summer.

Ord is going to be beautiful this year if the work of a number of earnest gardeners can make it that way. Another fine Garden contest is going to be held here this year, the Chamber of Commerce announces, and to start it off enthusiastically the C. of C. has promised $25 in money to be used for this worthwhile movement.

The first Yard and Garden Contest, held here last year, was eagerly joined and entered into by a large number of local gardening enthusiasts, and the second contest, the one this year, is expected to be still better. As it is time for true gardeners to begin laying their plans, the committee selected to work for the Chamber of Commerce wants to get the contest under way at once.

An entirely new and delightful method of holding judging contests for flowers more frequently than last year is going to be tried out in Ord this year, the committee announces. Under the proposed new plan, a flower show will be held every two weeks all summer, each show to be in the store of some merchant. The merchant in whose store the flower display is shown will appoint the judges, and the prizes will be from his stock. The merchant will award two prizes each time. It is now planned to hold the contests on Friday afternoons, and then keep the flowers on display over Saturday.

It is also planned to make the growing contest available to entrants outside of Ord this season, if a sufficient number of residents of this county, not living in Ord, indicate that they wish to join the garden club. Last year the contest was strictly limited to Ord residents, but with the planning of the flower shows, it is thought that attractive farm homes may successfully compete this summer.

By holding the flower exhibits every two weeks, it is hoped that the flowering seasons of practically all blooming plants will be caught for at least one show. This will give lovers of certain plants an equal chance, for at least one flower show.

The committee in charge has voted to exclude from entrance in the contest any who raise flowers to sell or who in any way might be considered commercial flower growers. Charging an entrance fee to the contest was discussed thoroughly, but Mr. Goddard and his co-workers decided such a plan would not be feasible.

An official flower for Ord will again be chosen, by vote of the interested flower lovers. With an earlier start, it is considered that Ord can do much more in the contest this season than was accomplished last year. It is hoped that the official flower will receive recognition by being planted in every yard in town.

On the list of flowers for choice as Ord's official flower are found larkspur, marigolds, nasturtiums, annual phlox, petunias. You may vote for any one of these five on the coupon below and leave it at the Golden Rule Store, the Ord Quiz office or the Noll Seed Co., or mail it to the chairman of the Yard and garden contest, Mr. Goddard.

Votes will not be counted if turned in after March 31, so vote now for the flower you want to see planted all over Ord this summer.

Council Authorizes Allen To Clear Up Radio Interference

Permission to buy or build a "detective machine" to locate sources of radio interference in Ord was given to George Allen, light and water commissioner, by the Ord city council at its meeting last Friday evening. Mr. Allen is already at work on the machine and as soon as it is completed he promises a brisk campaign against local interference.

The equipment being arranged by Mr. Allen is a portable radio set of a certain type designed for locating the causes of interference. Once these are located it is usually a simple matter to correct them, Mr. Allen says.

Charles Mutter Wed.
At Broken Bow on March 2 occurred the marriage of Miss Clara Mathauser, of Sargent, to Charles B. Mutter, of Comstock, the ceremony being performed by County Judge Moore. Both of the contracting parties are well known here, the groom being a son of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Mutter who lived here for more than twenty years until their recent removal to Comstock. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Mathauser. Mr. and Mrs. Mutter will live in Sargent and Charles will help his father-in-law in the implement business.

Music Festival Here.
On March 24 the annual Loup valley music festival will be held in the Ord high school auditorium with most of the schools in the valley taking part. This is not a contest but merely a means of promoting good fellowship and harmony. All schools have been invited to participate.

Mr. Smith would not promise definitely that natural gas would be brought to Ord this coming summer but said if Ord granted a franchise soon he considered it extremely likely that gas will be piped here soon.

The franchise asked by Mr. Smith is for the period of 25 years but provides that if within two years the company has not piped gas to the city limits of Ord, the franchise will be null and void. The franchise is not exclusive.

Maximum rates that may be charged for natural gas in Ord are set forth in the franchise as follows: First 500 cubic feet per month, 20c per 100; next 1,500 cubic feet, 15c per 100; next 2,000 cubic feet, $1 per 1,000; next 3,000 cubic feet, 75c per 1,000; next 43,000 cubic feet, 60c per 1,000; next 50,000 cubic feet, 50c per 1,000; next 100,000 cubic feet, 40c per 1,000; over 200,000 cubic feet, 35c per 1,000.

The minimum monthly charge provided for in the franchise is $1.00 and the company is empowered to add 10 percent to each consumer's bill if not paid within ten days of billing date.

Most of the other franchise provisions are regarded as more or less routine provisions. They provide that all gas mains and pipes shall be so laid that they do not obstruct or interfere with water pipes, sewers, paving, etc.; that all such work shall be done under the supervision and subject to the approval of the committee on streets and alleys; that the company shall furnish and install for its customers reliable meters without cost to them; that new, tested and approved pipes, material and equipment shall be used; that a map or plat with his people in Chapman.

National Yard & Garden Contest Winner a Mother Who Is Rearing Her Children In a Garden

children says Mrs. Charles A. Emery of Pomona, Calif., whose modest but beautiful little place has been awarded first prize in The National Yard & Garden contest

(amateur division) according to official word received here today

Ord Yard & Garden Contest.

From their cradle days Mrs. Emery's three children—Bill, Lois and Little Bob Roy, have grown up in the garden. The first words spoken by Lois when a baby were

"itty tots" even preceding the word "Mama". Her little brothers seem to know a word from a flower by instinct. Each of the children enjoys perfect health, the result of living so much in their beautiful out-of-doors playroom, their parents believe.

Mrs. Emery was not always a gardener. She took it up after she had lost her firstborn. The grief stricken mother found solace in caring for the little flower children in God's beautiful out-

With her own hands she created a paradise on her 50-foot lot.

There, with her three rollicking youngsters, she has found happiness again. In fact, Mrs. Emery is one of the happiest of women, with a ready laugh and sparkling eyes. She is in excellent health now, weighs 112 pounds and finds that gardening makes unnecessary either dieting or reducing exercises.

Mr. Emery too, who does the heavy work in the prize-winning garden, is the picture of health.

He is a sergeant of police. His spare time and vacations are spent helping his wife in the garden instead of playing golf or fishing.

He cheerfully admits, however, that in the garden his wife is chief.

Mrs. Emery's beautifully planted home grounds is largely the work of her own hands, the fulfillment of her heart's desire. She it was who planned this dream home

among the orange blossoms looking out on the snow capped Ster-

ras. To her the Yard & Garden

Contest has been a never ending inspiration. In the first competition the judges would not even consider her young garden. The second year she was given second prize, so exceptional had been the development of her place. Last year, her third trial, Mrs. Emery won first place and the honor of representing her community in the National Contest. Here again she carried off highest honors, competeting against hundreds of the best planted home grounds from all parts of the country. Each of these places had likewise won first prize in its own town and was therefore the outstanding

Color Harmony Noteworthy.

In these hundreds of beautifully planted home gardens were a great many other inviting outdoor rooms only a degree less attractive than the one Mrs. Emery created around her spreading peach tree. None of these, however, ever had quite the appeal of the little fairland at Pomona. In it has been blended into a harmonious picture all the full colors, pastel shades and delicate tints of Nature's palette. Tree, shrub, ev-

Dr. Irving Langmuir, above, has been awarded a gold medal and $10,000 by a scientific publication for producing an electric incandescent lamp which, it is estimated, saves a million dollars yearly to the American public, for his work in the improvement of vacuum tubes, and for his atomic hydrogen process of electric welding. Dr. Langmuir is associate director of General Electric's research laboratory at Schenectady, N. Y.

Howard Mason returned to Ord Friday evening. Howard is staying in Burkett, calling that home, but he has spent considerable time in Ord the past year.

—After nearly a month's vacation Mrs. Mabel Moon has resumed her duties in the New Cafe. Miss Ida Sorensen has been working for her and will stay until the cafe has been moved into its new quarters.

—An 8½ pound daughter was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Boyce. Mother and baby are in the home of Mrs. Boyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George K. Miller. Dr. Henry Norris was in attendance.

—Ivan Enger, lately of Grand Island, is now employed by the Storz Supply company in Hastings. The Enger's lived in Hastings several years before going to the Island and like Hastings the best.

—Among Sargent people to attend the basketball games here last Wednesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Mike Revolinski, Mr. and Mrs. George Jensen and Miss Hazel Jensen, all well known by Ord people.

—Thursday W. B. Weeks and L. M. Umstead returned home from a business trip to Omaha and Kansas City.

—Friday evening Mrs. John Lehman and daughter, Mrs. L. D. Long of Marysville, Kas. arrived in Ord for a visit with their relatives, the Bert LeMaster family.

—Dr. and Mrs. D. B. Kantor, of Sargent, were in Ord Thursday. The former was calling upon his patient, Claude Kiker, who is in Hillcrest recovering from an operation for a ruptured appendix.

—Two Burwell restaurants closed their doors recently, the one run by Mary Toland on the east side and a hamburger shop run by Jake A. Smalley. The east side restaurant is owned by George Court of Ord.

—Both Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Capron have been ill and confined to their beds for several days, the former being in quite serious condition and having a special nurse, Miss Duffe, of Grand Island. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Capron also have been ill but both are improved. Mrs. Fred Coe has been in almost constant attendance at the home of her parents.

—The A. J. Meyer family spent Sunday in Burwell where they assisted Mrs. Meyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. V. DeLashmunt celebrating their golden wedding anniversary.

—Other relatives, well known in Ord, were Mr. and Mrs. Q. Mathews and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Huttons, Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schnabel, Maywood.

—Mrs. Paul Griffith is expected to return from Omaha this week. She has been employed there for several months. Her little daughter, Patsy, has been cared for by her aunt, Mrs. Paul Duemeyer. Mrs. Griffith will keep house this spring and summer for her brothers, McLain Bros. on Spring Creek.

—Thursday evening Dr. and Mrs. C. Shepard returned home after several weeks absence. They came direct from Omaha. Previous to going there they had spent some time in LeMars and other places in Iowa. The doctor made the trip to seek relief from sinus trouble.

—Rolland Dye has severed his connection with the Haught grocery on L street and will go into business for himself in the grocery line.

He will occupy the building recently vacated by Guy Strong. Mr. and Mrs. Dye are moving soon into the property owned by Claude Dewhurst.

—Ira Lindsey recently received a letter from his daughter, Miss Frances Lindsey, who is employed in a store in Lakeland, Fla. Miss Lindsey likes the south very much. She stays with her friend, Mrs. Charles Kasson, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meese.

FOUR CENT EGGS?

Will dealers in Ord and throughout the middle west be paying only 4¢ per dozen for eggs before the month of March is ended? One Ord man who has studied the egg and poultry market closely believes that this will be the case but, far from being dismayed by the condition of the poultry industry at present he believes that better times are in store for the chicken farmer.

Last week eggs were selling for only 6¢ here, a drop of 2¢ from the preceding week. There are two reasons for present prices, the principle one being low consumption of eggs in the big industrial centers of the east. A more immediate reason is the government regulation which requires that all cold storage house must be empty of eggs by April 1. Cold storage houses are dumping eggs on the market now at any price they can get and will continue to do so throughout March, which may result in 4¢ eggs. After April 1 the price should gradually rise.

Not since the '90's have such ruinous egg prices been seen here. At that time eggs were so plentiful that no price was quoted on them at all.

The whole poultry industry is in the dumps at present but if figures mean anything conditions will change rapidly during summer months and by fall eggs and poultry of all classes should be commanding good prices. Except for poultry now in cold storage there is a great shortage in the United States. Government reports show that the live poultry supply now is only one-third of normal and that fewer chicks are being hatched this spring than for many years.

During the past two years of low prices on farm products the price of poultry has held up remarkably well. Farmers, mostly here but throughout the country, could get more for a couple of hens than for a load of corn and so hens were gradually sold off. At the same time spring hatching operations have been away below normal, causing the poultry shortage to continue.

If business conditions improve this summer and fall, as they are bound to do, cold storage poultry will be sold off rapidly and there will be a large and insistent demand for live poultry. Where is it coming from?

THE "GOOD" DIE HARD.

The "good" or New England republicans die hard, says the Grand Island Independent in commenting editorially on Senator Norris' "lame duck" resolution, which passed Congress this year after nine years of defeat. The vote on this resolution was 75 to 5 in the senate and the five who opposed it were Austin, of Vermont; Moses, of Keyes, of New Hampshire; Bingham, of Connecticut, and Hale, of Maine, all republicans. The vote on the resolution in the house was 335 to 56.

Norris' "lame duck" resolution provides that senators and other officers elected in November will be seated the following January instead of having to wait fifteen months as under the present law. The "lame duck" session of Congress is thereby entirely eliminated and the government made more readily responsive to the will of the people. Why any congressman should oppose such a forward-looking piece of legislation is a mystery but a majority did oppose it for nine long years. Senator Norris continued to offer his resolution at every session and it finally was adopted and if ratified by 36 states within seven years will become an amendment to the constitution.

"It is worth while observing," says the Independent, "that the 'good' or 'regular' New England republicans of Nebraska at first assailed the senator for his reputed 'radical' resolution. They were, however, in so doing, running only true to form. They love the 'mainline'. It obviates the necessity of thinking. What matters the character of leadership so long as it is 'the party'. Independent convictions and an individual conscience are anathema to them."

To the "good" republicans Senator Norris has been a thorn for years. To get rid of him they have made repeated attempts to do away with Nebraska's direct primary law. In 1930 they used the foulest of means to defeat him and only succeeded in endeavoring him more to the real progressives of the state. In his off-time of service to his state and nation George W. Norris has done many worth while things but if he had accomplished nothing else his long fight against the "lame duck" session would make his entire career a successful one.

A fighter who never knows when he is whipped, ever willing to sacrifice himself for the good of those he serves in Congress, Senator Norris is Nebraska's greatest gift to the nation. Long may he continue to carry on his great work.

STUNG BY HOARDED MONEY.

In Polk county, Iowa, last week, writes the Agricultural Advisory Council, one eighty acre farm was sold three times—each time at a higher price. The eighty had been on the market for two years. It was priced cheap to settle an estate. Everybody in the township knew the farm was offered for less than it was worth. But everybody was so busy nursing the depression they overlooked the bargain.

Last week a town man heard about this farm and went out and bought it. The next day he took a prospectus out and sold the eighty to him for a $1,000 profit. By that time the farmers in the township heard about it and they all wanted to buy the farm because they knew it was still selling for less than it was worth. The second purchaser finally sold it to a neighboring farmer for $2,000 more than he paid for it. Thus the last buyer was stung $3,000 for something he wanted but was too timid to buy until outside money came in and woke up the neighborhood. It developed that a number of people in the township wanted that farm and could easily have bought it but preferred to keep their cash buried in a jar in the basement rather than take a chance on a good investment.

We are not saying that this same condition exists here but it very possibly may do so. There are a lot of good farms in Valley county for sale and priced too cheap. A few people are beginning to wake up to the fact, as recent real estate activity shows. If you have any cash that isn't working now is the time to get it out. Buy now. There never will be, in the lives of many people, as many good bargains in lands and other investments.

WHAT—NO SYNDICATE?

For months and years Omaha authorities and business men united in proclaiming fair and wide that no liquor syndicate existed in that city. The very idea that such an organization could exist was pooh-poohed and pish-tushed and anyone outstate who suggested the possibility was gently but firmly squelched by the Omaha newspapers.

Then came Mr. Harold Two Gun Wilson as prohibition administrator for the Omaha district. Now, for a few weeks later, the Omaha chief of detectives, the captain of the police morals squad, a police lieutenant, two or three prominent politicians, a host of lesser politicians, including police doctors and prosecutors, as well as seventy-five or eighty alleged gangsters, are under indictment as members of a liquor syndicate that allegedly exercised iron clad control over the booze business in Nebraska's largest city.

Why, any resident of Omaha who hadn't an axe to grind has known for years that a liquor-vice-syndicate was in the saddle in that city. Every Creighton university student, every outside man who went to Omaha on business, every stockman who sold cattle there, knew it. Apparently everybody did, except the Omaha police, and the reason for their repeated denials now becomes apparent.

There's a big shake-up under way there now but when its all over we'll be willing to bet that the same old gang will still be doing business in the same old way. Liquor, vice and gambling constitute Big Business in Omaha and a mere prohibition director, even if he is called "Two Gun", isn't going to stop it.

The government has provided bonds of small denomination, $50, $100, and $500 for those people who cash in hiding, not daring to invest it in business or put it in the bank. These bonds are as safe as the government and pay 2 percent and can be cashed at any time upon 60 days notice. Two percent is better than letting money lie hidden in the ground or in a tin can where there is always danger that it may be stolen. Those wishing to invest in these government bonds can write directly to the Secretary of the Treasury at Washington or application can be made at any bank. The only purpose of the government in issuing these small denomination bonds is to get the idle money into circulation.

Empty pockets and politics probably on the theory that a huge protest vote will be recorded at primary and general elections this year and that present office holders will be turned out, there are more office seekers this year than ever before.

For every state office there are anywhere from ten to thirty candidates. Four candidates file for judge in Valley county, which is a small number compared with the eighteen who seek to become sheriff in Madison county. Every office that pays a good salary attracts its quota of aspirants.

In times of economic stress it is natural that people should express dissatisfaction with the actions of those in authority. It is human nature to seek to lay the blame for every unfortunate happening upon the shoulders of some other human instead of upon forces beyond human control. Someone must be "the goat" and what is more natural than to nominate for his goatship the people we have elected to public office.

Empty pockets and hungry stomachs provoke unreasoning actions and it is futile to attempt to estimate the protest vote that will be recorded in April and again in November. It is well, though, to remember the old proverb among the foolishness of changing horses in the middle of the stream. There are times, of course, when emergencies demand that such a change be made but if a good horse is pulling a heavy load the best he can it is unwise, even dangerous, to substitute a new and untried animal.

Where the horse is tired out, or is shirking, or is too weak to pull the load, then the danger must be faced and a change attempted.

Reilly Gets 1-Year Term.

Anthony Reilly, of Greeley, pleaded guilty in district court at Omaha recently to selling mortgaged cattle and was sentenced to one year in the state penitentiary.

T. W. Langan, his attorney, told the court that the sudden slump in cattle values caused all of his client's troubles. Reilly is quite well known in Ord.

My Own Column
By H. D. LEGGETT

Lieutenant Governor Theodore (Ted) W. Metcalfe of Nebraska has named me an admiral in the great navy of the state and has promised to send me one of the best boats the navy boasts as soon as the ice is all out of the Loup and the adjoining creeks. I am going to have George Work, Bill Bartlett and Wilson Bell as a crew and expect to cruise all the creeks and bayous in this vicinity. The last two named are democrats but the governor didn't bar democrats from my crew and these fellows are the best fishermen in the country and I want the benefit of their experience. Then there might be a chance of converting them.

It has come to a pretty pass when this country has to call in the criminals of the country to do the police duty. It looks to me like an admission that the underworld is strong that it cannot longer be coped with. Calling in well known gangsters to hunt the Lindbergh baby brings me to that conclusion. It seems funny to me that men can be well known gangsters and criminals and yet cannot be arrested.

The law should move with the same careful urgency for any unknown little toddler. But we all feel that it would not.

The world-wide hue and cry, however, will probably have some results, for much more stringent kidnapping laws will undoubtedly result. And it is about time, don't you think?

Again a yard and garden contest is going to be held, and it is high time you considered what you are going to do this year to beautify your property. What are you going to do?

If we can't afford expensive pleasures, we can at least stay home and dig and scratch around, can't we? What flowers and plants are you planning on tending? Think about it now, while there is ample time to raise most sorts of seedlings.

It is hoped that this year the contest may be made county wide, and give farm homes a chance along with their city sisters.

If you have any ideas you would like to see embodied, tell them to John Goddard, He is chairman of the Golden Rule store.

The contest is to be held on June 10.

One Sunday afternoon, quite a while ago he had his family out riding, and had some car trouble. It wasn't so far from our house. He had tried a number of different things, when at last irrepressible little Roger piped up: "Why don't you damn it, daddy?"

After printing those two tales about Dr. Miller I'll be scared to leave the house for a week.

Hope he never gets a chance to operate on me.

You know, I got into a peck of trouble saying nice things about those husbands a few weeks ago.

Would you believe it?

The wives of the husbands I praised didn't care about it, because they declared it would puff up the praised husbands until the husbands would no longer be any help at all. Imagine that.

Then a number of wives whose husbands I did not mention at all informed me they noticed the omission, and declared that "My husband always does the washing." "My husband helps me with everything I do." "My husband likes to do all the dishes."

And so on, far into the future,

All over the country they have declared a "War on Depression" and I think it is time we got busy. Business won't get better until we all do something about it.

Isn't it typically American that the depression should be ended by a flock of campagnes?

Cream sugar, butter, then add eggs, and milk. Fold in the flour which has been mixed with baking powder and cinnamon. Lastly add the ground poppy seed and vanilla. Pour in pan and let stand in a moderate oven for half an hour.

Spread with chocolate icing and sprinkle with cocoanut on top.

Mrs. Adolf Nevirny, Arcadia. Lots of people will be interested in the cake above, which is something quite different. Many readers and cooks will also welcome an addition to their list of Lenten dishes, especially during the present season.

If you have some delicious ways of preparing fish please send them in at once. They will be extremely acceptable if they can be printed immediately. Will you send us one in?

Fish A La Creme

1 pt. fish, picked in fine pieces. 1 pt. milk. 2 egg yolks. Small piece of onion. Sprig of parsley. 2 tbsps. flour. 1 tbsp. butter.

Put milk to boil in a double boiler, add onion, cut fine, and parsley, also chopped. Rub butter and flour together and stir in to the boiling milk. Cook 2 minutes, add the well beaten egg yolks. Take off fire and strain. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Put a layer of this in a buttered dish, then a layer of fish, etc., until all is used, having a layer of the sauce on top sprinkled lightly with bread crumbs and put in the oven until brown. Do not use a large pan, instead select a deep one. This is very good and a little different from ordinary baked fish.

Mrs. Archie Boyce.

Don't forget. Please send in some Lenten recipes for our friends who wish to observe their meatless days. Have you some good fish recipes?

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

The other day a student sold his hog-fattening project, and then sat down and figured out how much he had lost. This boy, Lloyd Marks, had purchased six 50 pound pigs at the sale barn last July for three dollars a head. In January he marketed them for $3.10 per hundred pounds. They weighed 258 pounds apiece.

Below is his financial summary as he wrote it:

Receipts----- $48.00

Cost of pigs----- $18.30

Feed----- 40.96

Trucking----- 1.75

Vaccinating----- 1.75

Use of Shed and lot 1.00

Interest on Investment .82

Total cash expenses----- 64.33

Labor Income----- 16.33

Student work, 49 hours----- 7.35

Net Loss----- 23.68

According to Lloyd's figures, it cost him $5.74 per hundred pounds to produce this pork when he charged for his work, or $4.15 when labor was not counted.

The hogs were well fed. The chief grain was corn, but also included wheat, and some barley and rye. The supplements were skim-milk and tankage. There was no pasture, and no self-feeder was used for the grain.

Cold? Yes!

But pretty soon it will be nice and warm. Then you will wish you had taken your work harness to Anton Bartunek to have it repaired and oiled. Horses sweat excessively when spring work starts. It is well to have the harness nice and soft and well oiled—it lasts better.

Another thing, it is annoying to have the harness break when you are in a hurry to get the spring work out of the way. The loss of time then may easily cost you more than the little it costs to have the job done now while there is no need to use the harness—when it will have time to be dipped into the oil and have time to get thoroughly soaked and soft and pliable. Extremely Cold Weather Prevents Drouth Shipment

ORD's last drouth relief carload, which was scheduled to be shipped Monday to Lynch, Nebr., has been held up by the extremely cold weather that has been in force since last Friday and has not yet been shipped. If the weather moderates somewhat it is hoped that the car may be shipped this weekend.

Much of the hay for the final carload has to be baled and in sub-zero and near-zero temperatures there is great danger that men working at the baling would suffer from frozen hands, hence the delay.

Bob Noll, chairman of the local drouth relief committee, received a letter this week from the commander of Luther Whidden Post American Legion, at Spencer, Nebr. The Legion Post at Spencer was in charge of distributing the supplies sent there from Ord last week. The Spencer man writes:

"To all the Good People of Ord Who Helped Make Possible This Car of Hay and Feed:
This surely came at an opportune time as practically every farmer was out of feed and with the cold weather we are having at present it surely makes need for feed very urgent. None of the stock here is in shape to withstand this severe weather."

"We want to thank you most kindly for this feed and flour. Each car that comes we distribute to about 60 farmers, 5 bales of hay going to each farmer. We have them all listed with a property statement each month and in that way we are able to determine just where the needs are greatest. It gives our committee of seven plenty to look after but we are surely thankful for these donations."

Such subjects were discussed as county consolidation, the combining of county offices, better book keeping and auditing systems, better systems of taxation, etc., these and other subjects being greater economy and greater efficiency. Mr. Cushing took part in several of the discussions. John Senning, political science professor in the University of Nebraska, was chairman of the meeting.

H. J. STORJAHANN

Miss Gertrude Hawkins, who contributed several sacks of flour to the first carload sent by Ord people, which went to Atkinson, Nebr., a few days ago received the following letter from the Atkinson chief of police, who was in charge of the distribution there:

"Dear Friend: I send to you a sack of flour with your name on it and thought I would write you a few lines and thank you for your help as it does so much good to get help from so many people. I am the chief of police of Atkinson and handle all of the food and feed that comes here and I am thanking you and all the people of Ord who helped with that car of feed. There were 134 families here for feed the Friday and Saturday after that car and others came for feed. All got 12 bales of hay and 12 bushels of corn and oats. There are a lot who aren't getting much to eat. I never want to see another year like the last one. Thanking you and Ord people again for your help I am, Arthur Eveland."

Similar letters from other people have been received, both by Mr. Noll and by individuals who contributed supplies. They prove that northern Nebraska's great need has not been exaggerated.

Only one contribution has been received since last Thursday and that was 2 sacks of flour donated by W. A. Anderson. Until Ord's final car is shipped, which will be as soon as the weather moderates a trifle, donations of any kind will greatly appreciated.

The other republican aspirants are William Soper and J. E. Wilson, both of Broken Bow. Mr. Soper was water commissioner in Broken Bow for a number of years and lately has been active in the Taxpayers League. Mr. Wilson is by profession an attorney but has lately been farming east of Broken Bow. His name has been on the ballot for several elections past as he has been an unsuccessful candidate for representative, senator, secretary of state, county judge and county attorney.

The first democrat to file was John A. Dietz of Broken Bow, and last week filings were U. Sorenson, of Berwyn, and James Murray, of Stanton. Mr. Sorenson was born in Valley county and lived here many years and has many relatives here now. He is a farmer who has taken quite an interest in public affairs. Mr. Murray is an ex-service man and is well known in the west part of Valley county.

Mr. Jensen was born July 20, 1872 in Denmark and came to this country in 1877, settling in this community a few years later. In 1896 he was united in marriage to Katherine Way and seven children came to bless the union, two of them preceding their father in death. Those who survive are Walter, of Ericson, Mrs. Jack Kenworth, of Midway, Wyo.; Kenneth and Russell, of Ord, and Lloyd, who is still at home. His widow remains to mourn his death as do two brothers, John, of Burwell and Carl, of Plymouth.

Throughout his life time Mr. Jensen's occupation was farming and his farm in the Joint neighborhood was always well cultivated and stocked with pure bred cattle, hogs and poultry. He was known throughout Valley, Garfield and Wheeler counties as a progressive and successful farmer and was respected and liked by all who knew him.

In youth he became a member of the Christian church but in later years was active in the Methodist church, of which his family were members.

Arch Negley's Friday was Frank White's birthday so a dinner was prepared for him Sunday by Mrs. Paul White.

LAND VAL'ATIONS MAY BE REDUCED, CUSHING LEARNS

Although it would be possible for the state board of equalization to increase land valuations as fixed by county boards, it is highly probable that this year land valuations will be cut in so many counties that the state board will not make such increases, Mr. Cushing believes.

It is often argued that a reduction in the value of land as fixed for assessment purposes would bring about a tax reduction for the reason that levies would merely be raised to bring in the same total sum. This is true in some cases but not generally, the Ord man points out, for the reason that mill levies are limited by law and in many instances this limit has been reached. When land valuations are reduced, therefore, it would be impossible to further increase the levies and governmental units would have to get along with the funds available.

Valley county valuations were cut 10 percent last year by the county board of equalization but the cut was overruled by the state board.

Mr. Cushing was in Lincoln last week for the purpose of attending a meeting of the American Political Science Association. He was one of ten members of the state legislature invited to attend the sessions. About sixty well known men and women from all over Nebraska were present and it is regarded as a high honor to be invited to attend and take part in the discussions.

Such subjects were discussed as county consolidation, the combining of county offices, better book keeping and auditing systems, better systems of taxation, etc., these and other subjects being greater economy and greater efficiency.

Mr. Cushing took part in several of the discussions. John Senning, political science professor in the University of Nebraska, was chairman of the meeting.

STOCK SHIPPERS GET 2-WAY FARE

VOTING STARTS ON ORD'S OFFICIAL FLOWER FOR 1932

Petunia and Marigold Tied,
Larkspur Close Behind; Garden Contest Starts Soon.

ORD'S OFFICIAL FLOWER COUPON

Draw a ring around your choice.

LARKSPUR
MARIGOLDS
ANNUAL PHLOX
NASTURIUMS

Voting on the official flower for Ord is beginning in good shape. Petunias and marigolds tied for first place. Larkspur is only one vote behind, however, and there is still time for considerable shifting of the five favorites. Voting will continue throughout this month, and the flower receiving the most votes will be declared Ord's official flower and especially featured throughout the summer. It is now the plan of those in charge to ask every householder in Ord to plant the official flower selected. So if you have not voted yet, you'd better do so, or perhaps you won't care for the choice thrust on you for planting this year!

The choice to be made is between petunias, marigolds, annual phlox, larkspur, and nasturtiums. So far nasturtiums do not have a vote.

All of these flowers range in height from 12 to 18 inches, all of them are free flowering, quite easy to grow, and do not require any specialized care. Neither are they expensive. They were chosen because they had a long season of bloom and might be expected to bloom for more than two or three weeks, as many flowers do. Vote now for the one you prefer. Phone or mail your choice to the Quiz office, to the Noll Seed Co., or to the Golden Rule.

To help the Chamber of Commerce provide free seedlings for children, you are being asked to carefully keep all spare slips of flowers, all seedlings, all left over flowers when you transplanted, etc. These flowerlings should be turned in to the Noll Seed company on April 21, and will be turned given to children, a few to each child, on April 21, April 22 and April 23, Saturday.

Parkins Boys Were Victims of Robbers

The unpleasant experience of being victimized by hold-up men was the portion of John and Buck Parkins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Parkins of Ord, who run a jewelry store in Los Angeles, Calif. The robbery took place March 5. Buck writes his father. Two masked men entered the store, escorted John and Buck to the back room and tied them to chairs. Then they made off with $800 worth of diamonds and watches. Just a minute or two after the thieves left the police entered and liberated the two Ord boys. The loss was quite a serious one for John, who owns the store.

Noll Sells Pups, Gives Proceeds To Drouth Fund

Four bob-tailed English shepherd pups did their bit to help drouth sufferers of northeast Nebraska last Saturday when they were sold at the Weller Auction Company's Saturday sale and the proceeds given to the drouth relief fund. The dogs were consigned by C. W. Noll, sr., and brought $5.20 which Mr. Noll promptly turned over to his son, Bob Noll, chairman of the drouth relief drive here.

Ord's last drouth relief car went out yesterday consigned to Lynch, Nebr. It was an automobile size car and was crammed full of hay, feed and flour.

Donations made since last Thursday include $10 given by Charles Ball and twelve bales of hay given by Frank Valack, besides the $5.20 given by Mr. Noll.

The American Legion, the Quiz, and the Noll Seed Company desire to thank all who contributed to the relief drive and made it a success.

Auble Bros. Invent New Piano Polish That is Proving Success

Buy Ingredients In Barrel Lots, Mix and Bottle Polish In Their Store Basement.

A piano polish mixed from formula that they invented themselves may prove to be the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow for Glen and Jay Auble and Preston Loomis of this city. For the new polish is proving such a success and is selling so fast that already Auble Bros. are buying the ingredients for it in barrel lots and have fitted up a room in the basement where the polish is mixed and bottled.

The Auble boys got the idea for their new polish when they became dissatisfied with the polish they had been using on new pianos in their own store. They wrote to a large maker of pianos and asked what kind of polish was best for use on the delicate wood furniture. Back came a formula from the piano factory but it was not satisfactory in some respects and from it the Ord men evolved a new formula that answered the purpose much better.

Mixing a few bottles first for their own use, Auble Bros. sold some to friends and the polish was so satisfactory that they got the idea of manufacturing it on a commercial basis. It proved a success from the start and soon more than fifty Ord piano owners were using it.

Last week Preston Loomis started out to find retailers in other cities for the Auble polish and though he took what he thought was a week's supply he was sold out of polish in three days and had to return to Ord. Monday he started out with four times as much and reports that he will be sold out before the end of the week.

On making a survey here in Ord, Mr. Loomis found that most women had been afraid to use furniture polish on their pianos and radios so they were very receptive to something that is absolutely safe. The new Auble polish does a thorough job of cleaning, puts a high gloss on the piano and will not injure the most delicate wood finish. With these qualifications this newest Ord product is bound to be a success.

FATHER LAWLER GIVES PRIZES IN ESSAY CONTEST

Marion Grace Cushing Writes Best Essay on Life of Washington, Wins $5 First Prize.

Winners in the essay contest on the subject of Washington are: Marion Grace Cushing, first; Sylvia Cornell, second; Charles Shepard, third. Only high school seniors were eligible to write on the subject, which concerned "What I think best in Washington's life and in his proclamation." The contest was sponsored by Father Lawler of the Catholic church, and a number of splendid essays resulted. Judges were George Munn, John Misko, and Clarence Davis. They reported it was not easy to decide the winner. Father Lawler gave a prize of $5 to Miss Cushing, as winner of first place.

Farm Bureau League Will Be Organized

The Valley County Farm Bureau Baseball league, which has furnished so much healthful sport for young men, and men not so young for the past two years, will operate again during the summer of 1932. So County Agent Dale says, and he announced that a meeting of team managers will be held at his office Saturday this week for the purpose of organizing and arranging a schedule. There probably will be eight teams in the league this summer.

City Caucuses To Be Held Tonight

The annual caucuses of Ord's two political parties, the Citizens and Good Government, will be held tonight for the purpose of nominating candidates for mayor, councilmen and other officers.

The Citizens will meet at the court house, the Good Government at the city hall. Several have been mentioned as possible nominees for mayor, among them being Bert Hardenbrook, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Glen Auble, Charles Sternecker, Carl Sorensen, and the present mayor, Wm. Moses. The caucuses will convene at 8 o'clock.

FOUR WHO WERE EARLY RESIDENTS ARE SUMMONED

Frank Penas, Mrs. Marie Larsen Die Here, V. Urban, Comstock, Mrs. Clemente At Lincoln.

FRANK PENAS, SR.

Funeral services for Frank Penas, 81, pioneer settler in Eureka township and a resident of Ord since 1912, were held at Frazer's chapel here at 3 p. m. Saturday and he was laid to rest in the Bohemian National cemetery here. Rev. B. A. Filip, of Clarkson, conducted the services and pall-bearers included Edward, Robert and Albert Penas, Joe and George Benda, and Bill Gross.

Mr. Penas was born Nov. 7, 1850 in Dlovice, Moravia, Austria-Hungary and grew to manhood there, being married to Miss Frances Baldock on Oct. 14, 1877. In 1883 they moved to this country, first settling in Saunders County and living there ten months and then coming to Eureka township, Valley county.

Until 1906 the Penas home was in Eureka and then they moved near Burwell where they spent the better part of seven years, moving to Ord in 1912. This was Mr. Penas' home until last Thursday, when he passed away after an illness of three months.

Surviving him are his widow and three children, John W. of Burwell, Frank Penas and Mrs. Mary Benda of Ord. Eleven grandchildren and two sisters also survive.

Mr. Penas was one of the most generally respected citizens of Valley county and had a wide circle of friends in the Mureika neighborhood and in Burwell, Syria and Ord.

MRS. MARIE LARSEN.

Mrs. Marie Larsen, 83, passed away Saturday morning, March 12 at the home of her son Jim Larsen, senior, after an illness of five months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p. m. in the Danish Lutheran church and interment was in the Ord cemetery. Rev. Kaldahl conducted the services and pall-bearers were Marius Jorgensen, Niels Jensen, Chris Hansen, Will Nelson and Jens Hansen.

100 Farmers Signed Seed Loan Petitions

Not all four of the government seed loan petitions that were circulated in Valley county last week were filled out by Saturday night, reports County Agent Dale, and they were mailed to Director Brokaw in Lincoln Monday. More than 100 farmers signed the petitions stating that they would need government seed loans this spring. So far Valley county has not been designated to participate in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans but by next week Mr. Dale is sure that he will be able to announce that seed loans will be made here.

Bryan's Right Hand Man Differs With Attorney General On Prospects For Cut.

LEAGUE MEETS MARCH 25.

The next meeting of the Taxpayers League will be held at 1 p. m. on Friday, March 25, at the Bohemian hall, President Mensing announced yesterday. The state income tax, sales tax, the county agent question and other important matters will be discussed, he says.

Wm. H. Smith, state tax commissioner and right hand man in the state house for Governor Charles Bryan, isn't disposed to agree with the ruling made by Attorney General Sorensen about the legality of county equalization boards reducing the valuation of real estate for assessment purposes. So he told E. C. Weller, county assessor, when he visited Lincoln last week and Mr. Weller reported the result of his visit at the meeting of the Taxpayers League of Valley County held last Friday in the Bohemian hall here.

About 150 were present at the meeting and President Arthur Mensing presided. The necessity for reduction of taxes was discussed but no formal measures were adopted.

On March 26 and 27 the annual convention of Nebraska "Hams" will be held at the Yancey hotel in Grand Island and all three of the Ord radio bugs plan to be there.

The contest winner will be announced next week.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Through the courtesy of The Ord Quiz I announce to you that the last issue of the Ord Observer has been printed. Many, I know, have expected this because it has been apparent to any one acquainted with the cost of publishing a paper that the paper has not been earning enough to pay its way. Anyway it has been apparent to me for a long time that the paper could not survive under the conditions that now exist.

Things looked pretty rosy on the first of last July, but when the drought and hot winds struck us the outlook began to dim. Added to this came the increasing depression so that our merchants could not afford to advertise as they had been doing. Without this no paper can live.

I have made arrangements with the Quiz people to complete all paid up subscriptions by sending you that paper till the end of the time you have paid for. I have also turned over to Mr. Leggett the whole list and you who owe on this list may pay to him. I want to here and now express my appreciation to all of you who have aided me by your subscriptions, kind words and in other ways. Especially I thank my loyal country correspondents, who have done excellent work by sending me the news.

All of my printing plants being retained, I shall continue the job printing department and shall now be able to devote my whole time to this work. Of course I shall be glad to serve you in this way.

W. W. HASKELL

Having taken over the job of fulfilling paid up subscriptions to the Ord Observer by sending the Ord Quiz, I want to say that there will be no change in the past policy of this newspaper. Due to present conditions and to assist, as much as possible, our subscribers, we have temporarily reduced the price of the Quiz to $2.00 per year and this price will remain in effect until business conditions warrant a return to the regular price. The advertising rate will remain as it has been for years and we want all the business you feel justified in giving us.

We are sending the Quiz this week to the entire Observer list, regardless of whether the subscription is paid up or not, and we are inviting you all to become Quiz subscribers. We want you on our list. Of course all who were paid in advance on the Observer will continue to get the Quiz instead but we have no authority to send the Quiz to Observer subscribers who are in arrears. If you want the Quiz come in and tell us or write or phone us and say "Keep it coming." We will do the rest.

More than 90 percent of the people in Valley county already take the Quiz and we would like to make it 100 percent, which is the reason why we are selling you the Quiz cheaper and at the same time making it the best weekly newspaper in the state.

Automobile Contest and Sale at Hron's is Attracting Interest

ORD AMATEURS PUBLISH "HAM" RADIO MAGAZINE

First Such Sheet in Nebraska Will Be Edited by Andersen, Jones and Darges.

Business Is Here For Business Men Who Go After It, Is Proved By Local Merchant.

Not for a long time has any merchandising effort started in Ord caused more interest and comment than is being caused by the automobile contest being conducted in connection with an extensive stock reduction by Frank Hron at his east side store.

Elsewhere in the Quiz this week appears advertising that explains how this contest is being conducted, probably better than we could explain it here, but the Quiz cannot help noticing and commenting on the activity being shown by Mr. Hron and his helpers for it proves that business is here for merchants who are willing to go after it.

The success attending the early days of this sale goes to prove that conditions are not as bad as a lot of people seem to think. It is truly evidence that people will buy merchandise when it is priced in keeping with conditions and is properly advertised and displayed. Other merchants have found this to be true, also.

Ord has as fine a bunch of mercantile establishments and other business houses as can be found in any town of its size anywhere in the country—a great deal above the average.

Ord's territory, everything considered, is in much better general financial condition than the average Nebraska territory and Nebraska stands head and shoulders above many other states for general business of every description.

What we all need to do, more than anything else, is to put some of the same brand of pep and enthusiasm into everyday affairs as Mr. Hron and his clerks are putting in. One can't be around that store, even for a few minutes, without feeling that business can't be so bad, after all, and all of them spend most of the night hours with their radios.

The first edition of QSO makes a very neat appearance, being printed in two colors and containing twelve pages. There are about 175 "Hams" in Nebraska and the editors expect that all of them will become subscribers to QSO. Advertisers of radio equipment, also eagerly welcome this new method of reaching their market in Nebraska for QSO contains ads from as far away as Albany, N. Y.

On March 26 and 27 the annual convention of Nebraska "Hams" will be held at the Yancey hotel in Grand Island and all three of the Ord radio bugs plan to be there.

The contest winner will be announced next week.

Fine Ord Butter Entered In Contest

Tuesday when President A. W. Cornell, Manager Fred W. Coo and Buttermaker E. O. Carlson, of the Ord Co-operative Creamery association, drove to Lincoln to attend the annual convention of the state association of co-op creameries, they took with them a ten pound tub of the finest butter that can be turned out by the Ord creamery. This butter will be entered in a contest in which there will be about twenty entries. The contest winner will be announced next week.

ORD TO OMAHA SHIPPERS AIDED BY NEW RULING

Rail Commission Tuesday Permits Railroads Give 2-Way Pass To Single Car Shippers

A ruling of interest to every farmer in the Ord territory was handed down Tuesday by the Nebraska State railway commission when that body gave permission to the railroads to give 2-way transportation to caretakers of live stock shipped from any station in Nebraska. "Nebraska live stock shippers will be able to send a caretaker free of charge with all stock shipments at any distance within the state, with rates of transportation furnished, at the result of an order issued by the state railway commission today," stated a Lincoln dispatch to the Omaha World Herald.

"Nebraska railroads have permitted transportation of attendants for two hundred miles or less. The new order will permit transportation for attendants for any distance with one car of live stock."

Ord shippers have been discriminated against in the past, they have maintained, for the reason that Ord is 205 miles from Omaha by rail and one-car shippers to that center have been compelled to pay transportation back.

Railways have been working since last summer to get the commission to change its ruling in this regard, states O. E. Johnson, Union Pacific agent here. He expects the new order to go into effect at once, probably by the end of this week.

The new ruling came at a very opportune time for a move was started this week by Arthur Mensing, president of the Taxpayers League, and others, to get signatures on

MRS. FRED BARTZ, Reporter

The revival meetings at the Methodist church under the leadership of Rev. Frank Mathis of Colorado Springs closed with an interesting and inspiring service Sunday night. The theme of the evangelist was "Prepare to meet the Lord." A ladies quartette composed of Mrs. Hoepner, Miss Shineman, Miss Yost and Mrs. Schwabauer sang "Make Me a Power." Rev. Mathis is an able evangelist. His sermons throughout were filled with good, keen, common sense. No one could take exception to his message or his method. The meetings were not largely attended owing to road and weather conditions. Special features of the meeting were the children's choir on Saturday nights and the young people's choir of 40 on the other nights. Mr. Shineyman's committee furnished a special number of music at each service. Mr. and Mrs. Mathis set out Monday morning via Council Bluffs for Eveleth, Minn., for their next meeting.

Mrs. George Baker of Riverdale neighborhood, the mother of Mrs. Fred Bartz was taken seriously ill Friday night with a stroke, and she has been unconscious ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Ainslie Davis and two sons and one daughter came from Wheatland, Wyo., to spend a few days with Mr. Davis' mother, Mrs. Mary Davis. They arrived Saturday and left Monday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Wardner Green and son left for California Sunday and three daughters living in California. They are singing and preaching in the Almee McPherson church.

Clifton Clark and wife are moving on the old Burgess farm north of town and will work for Sterling Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Green have moved to Barker district and will live with their son Ed and family. The Glen Barber family will live in the Green property.

Mrs. Claud Rathbun was a North Loup visitor Saturday afternoon.

A newly organized dance orchestra being sponsored by W. V. Brown held their first practice on Tuesday night at the Chas. Faust home. Members of the orchestra are: Merrill Anderson, Samuel Sample, Clifford Hawkes, Harry Gillespie, Mills Hill and James Bell, with Mrs. Chas. Faust as accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gray entertained Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer at dinner Sunday.

The H C Sample family were entertained Sunday at the W. J. Kildow home.

Paul Lee went to Grand Island Sunday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Martha Otto.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gray who have been closely identified with North Loup in a business way for a number of years, left Tuesday for and Mrs. Roy Hudson were Ord shoppers Friday.

Mrs. Anna Tappan left on Monday morning's train for Kearney where she will spend a few days with her son, George. Later she will go to Grand Junction, Colo., to spend some time with her daughter, Grace Hockett and family.

Roy Hudson drove to Lincoln Sunday returning Monday morning.

Walter Preston of Morrill was spending a few days in town with his father, Robert Preston, and other relatives and friends.

Merlin Grier is spending a few days with his wife and daughter Robbe at the W. J. Kildow home. The Guy Kerr family moved Monday into the house recently vacated by the Robinson family, who moved to Pleasanton.

The M. E. choir are practicing hard on their Easter cantata, "Our Risen Lord," which they will render on Easter Sunday, March 27th.

A dance was held at Julius Schoening's in Riverside Saturday evening. A number of our young people from town attended. Cotter's orchestra of Scotia furnished the music.

Mrs. Ruth Hudson and Mrs. Mrs. Hudson are hostesses for the Ald tea this week at the home of Mrs. Agnes Christensen and Miss Helen Madsen visited Ulysses, Seward and Grand Island Friday and Saturday. They were interested in schools.

Mrs. John Manchester was called to Blue Springs, Mo., Friday on account of the death of her father. The natural daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cook, who has been quite ill with bronchitis at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer, is much improved. The Cooks are moving to a farm on Davis Creek.

Walter Lewis and wife left for their home at Dodge Center, Minn., on Saturday afternoon. They received a telephone message telling of the serious illness of Mrs. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Lawton, who is 82 years of age.

The Frank Allen family brought Mrs. Ida Brown back from Litchfield Saturday and took her out to the Paul Bartz home where she will stay for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon plan to occupy the C. B. Gray home as soon as it is vacated.

Mildred Campbell and Beulah Willoughby were in attendance at a meeting called by Supt. Clara McClatchey Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cox and Nora White were in Ord Saturday afternoon.

The Junior Philathea class were entertained at the Maud Shepard home Saturday afternoon. After devotional and business meeting, they checked up on the attendance at Sunday school and study of the lesson. The side defeated will entertain the winners a St. Patrick's day o'clock dinner next Saturday at the Shepard home. The rest of the afternoon was spent playing rummy.

Mr. and Mrs. Thelma and Margery and Mabel Lee drove to Ord Saturday evening.

The Harry Meyers family moved from the small house near the depot to the George Johnson property west of the Legion Hall.

More Names Added To Quiz 50 Year Roll of Honor

Several more names are added this week to the list of those who subscribed to the Quiz in 1882, the year it was founded, and who have read the paper ever since. Many of those who subscribed during that first year and in the years thereafter are no longer living, of course. Some of those first subscribers are no longer taking the paper, having moved away from Valley county years ago. But there are many "first subscribers" who haven't written to tell us about it yet and we wish all such who are still taking the paper would drop us a line, telling us the date when they first subscribed to the Quiz.

On Thursday, March 24, the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Ord Quiz will be commemorated in an Anniversary issue. In this issue we hope to have stories about some of the pioneers of early days. If you subscribed to the Quiz in 1882 or in the years soon thereafter, tell us about it, so your name may be printed in the Honor Roll in our Anniversary issue.

This week George McAnulty drops us a line to say that he has read the Quiz ever since its first issue. "Fifty years is a long time for a paper to labor for a community," writes Mr. McAnulty, who now lives in Scotia. "The Quiz has been a powerful influence in the building of the city of Ord and the entire Loup country. I came to the Loup valley in September, 1873, settling near Goodnow's ranch, and I have rejoiced to see the beautiful valley develop from the extreme frontier to one of the very best sections of the good state of Nebraska."

Mrs. David Wigert stopped in last week to say that when she first met her late husband in 1883 he was a Quiz subscriber and that the family has taken the paper ever since, with the exception of a brief period when they moved to Missouri and stopped taking the Quiz to subscribe for the Valley County Times, which was then edited by the present Quiz publisher.

With the exception of a single year, 1929, P. W. Round also is a half-century subscriber to the Quiz, he writes to tell us. He subscribed with the first issue and we hope that he takes it and enjoys it every week for another hundred years.

Another person who is entitled to be mentioned on the roll of honor is Mrs. Hall Barnes, of Arvada, Wyo. Her parents and she arrived on Spring Creek July 4, 1876 and when the Quiz was founded seven years later her father subscribed at once and members of the family have taken it ever since. Mrs. Barnes says their present home is in Montana but as it is more convenient they get their mail through the Arvada, Wyo., post office. It has been extremely cold there this winter, she says, but with lots of moisture in the ground they are hoping for a good crop year.

Elmer S. King, who came to Valley county 45 years ago, also is entitled to mention as a long time subscriber as he has taken the Quiz since shortly after his arrival here.

Asa Leonard, one of Mira Valley's prosperous farmers, came here in 1885 and says that his brother, who preceded him, had been taking the paper for two or three years. For the first few years Mr. Leonard lived with his brother and read his paper and then when he found a home of his own one of his first actions was to subscribe to the Quiz and he hasn't missed an issue since.

Another Ord man with a perfect record is W. L. McNutt, who arrived in Ord in 1887 and subscribed to the Quiz the first day he was in town. Since then he has read the paper every Thursday, he reports.

Mrs. Wm. Leininger writes from her home at Arcadia to say that her father, A. Walkup, subscribed to the Quiz with its first issue and took it as long as he lived. Then Mrs. Walkup read it throughout her life and Mrs. Leininger writes that she hopes to read it every week as long as she lives.

"There have been a great many changes in these fifty years," says Mrs. Leininger. Her first teacher was Mrs. Etta Clements and Mrs. Leininger says she will never forget her. "She was always so good," she adds. (Mrs. Clements passed away Saturday evening at her home in Lincoln. She was the widow of the late Judge E. J. Clements.)

It is the hundreds of friends such as those who are mentioned above who have permitted the Ord Quiz to grow and prosper as the years have gone by. Won't the many hundreds of others who have taken the Quiz thirty years or more write in and tell us about it, so that we may give honor where it is due?

How To Get Votes

REGISTRATION

Thursday, Friday and Saturday—every person who comes into our store may register their name and if they make a purchase of a quarter it will count them 1,000 extra votes for their favorite contestant—

If you live in the country you will get credit for 1,000 votes for each mile you live from town — up to 25 miles — if you make a quarter purchase for each mile—

Just figure up how many votes this will give your candidate—

Register at Cashier's Booth when you have completed your purchase.

All ballots must be voted the same day they are dated—to prevent clubbing of votes at the end of the contest.

VOTES ON PRODUCE

Ask the contestant who you are voting for how you can give them big votes on the cream and poultry you sell—you can sell your produce at any cash station and help one of the contestants to beat the band — find out about it—

VOTES ON CLEANING AND TAILORING

Also—ask the contestant you wish to vote for how you can help them to get big votes THIS WEEK on cleaning and tailoring—

Thursday—400 Votes will be given on each dollar purchase—

Friday—300 votes will be given on each dollar purchase—

Saturday—200 votes will be given on each dollar purchase—

Monday—The vote will be down to 100 on each dollar purchase.

From 9 o'clock on until noon—each day—double this amount of votes will be given on all purchases—

5000 Extra Votes will be given on each $5.00 order, and 15,000 votes will be given on each $10.00 order. Several friends may bunch their purchases in order to get these big votes on 5 and 10 dollar orders—

TRADE CARDS

If you purchase a $10.00 trade card which can be used either in paying for merchandise or in applying on account —you get a ballot for 15,000 extra votes —5,000 votes are given on $5.00 trade cards—

VOTES ON ACCOUNTS

For each dollar paid on account either by cash or by trade card—1,000 votes will be given.

Mrs. Marle Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Petersen, was born February 14, 1849 in Sonder Bjerge, Sjælland, Denmark. She was married to Christian Larsen in 1875. To that union were born five children, three sons and two daughters. Three children survive their mother, Jim Larsen, Mrs. Jim Mortensen and Chris Larsen, all of Ord. Two children and her husband preceded her in death, Mr. C. Larsen, Mrs. Bertha Mortensen and Hans C. Larsen. There are fourteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren left to mourn.

Mrs. Marle Larsen and husband left Denmark and came to America in the year 1899. They lived in Howard county two years and from there they moved to Garfield County and stayed until 1910. They then came to Valley County where she has resided since.

Mrs. Larsen was well known and loved by all who knew her. She was a kind and helpful Christian and her presence will be greatly missed by all.

VACLAV URBAN.

Vaclav Urban was born in Děčín in Czechoslovakia, Dec. 25, 1842 and passed away March 10, 1932 at the age of 90 years, 4 months, 10 days, at the home of his youngest son, Will Urban of Comstock. He married Mary Barbu in the year 1873 and soon after they came to America, settling at Milligan in Saline County and there they resided for 4 years.

In the year 1884 they moved to the western part of Valley County where they settled on a homestead two miles from Comstock. There they farmed for 23 years and there most of their children were born. In the year 1907 they decided to quit farming and moved to Comstock where they lived until 1922.

Then they moved to the home of their son, John Urban where his wife preceded him in death Oct. 5, 1925. Since that time he has made his home among his sons. In the year 1931 he moved to the home of his youngest son, Will Urban, where he lived until his death. He leaves to mourn seven children, 30 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. Three children have died, one of them dying in infancy, the other, Frances, wife of Emil Pliva, dying Oct. 26, 1918 and Frank Urban dying Oct. 1st, 1926.

The living children are James Urban of Friend, Nebr., Joseph John, Emil, Will and Mrs. Fred

ALMA ETTIE CLEMENTS.
Mrs. Alma Ette Clements, relief of the late District Judge E. J. Clements, passed away at 3 a. m. Sunday, March 13, at her home in Lincoln, which city was the Clements' home since they left Ord about 1902. Funeral services were held at Castle, Roper & Mathews Chapel Monday at 4 p. m., the Rev. P. H. Murdoch having charge, and burial was in Wyuka cemetery beside the body of her husband who passed away in 1923. One of the pall-bearers was W. T. Barstow, a former Ord man.

Alma Ette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Rogers, was born in New London, Conn., Jan. 10, 1881 and came to Ord in 1882. She was married to Elliot Clements, then a young lawyer here, on Dec. 25, 1885 and they made their home in Ord for many years. Mrs. Clements was one of Ord's first school teachers and several of her pupils still live here.

Mrs. Clements was a member of Trinity Methodist church in Lincoln and also of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Edna Sill, of Lincoln, and a brother, F. H. Rogers, of Escondido, Calif.

Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements drove to Lincoln Monday to attend the funeral, returning to Ord the same evening.

VOTING STARTS ON FLOWER FOR 1932 ORD'S OFFICIAL

It is hoped that a love for flowers and a fondness for the whole-some hobby of growing them may be planted with the tiny seedlings when the children raise them. The plan will be announced through the schools, and the children will be urged by their teachers to plant something and make it bloom. By teaching the children to love flowers, it is also thought that a respect and interest in them for the lawns of neighbors will be fostered.

Will you plant some little seeds, with the idea of giving them to neighbor children, or of donating them to this campaign?

The $25 given by the Chamber of Commerce will be given in prizes of $10, $7.50, $5, and $2.50, for the most attractive places. It is now planned to select a show day for the city, and to have votes cast to determine the most beautiful home grounds. Then Frank White is carrier now leaves the postoffice at 9:30 a. m. Route 2, Anton Nelson carrier, leaves at 9:30 a. m., and Route 3, Ray Brown carrier, now leaves on the first division at 9:30 a. m. and the second division at 12 o'clock noon. This change enables the farmers to get their daily papers in the morning.

Mrs. Joe Holmes received word last week that her cousin, Claude Parrott, 65, had passed away last month at his home in Boise, Idaho. Burial was made at Meridian, Idaho, by the side of his mother, Mrs. Sarah Parrott. Mrs. Parrott and her son formerly resided in Arcadia.

Spring Silhouette Is Neat, Well-Defined

NEW FROCKS, MANY OF THEM RAYON COMBINATIONS, HAVE FEW FURBLOWS BUT ARE FINE FOR GENERAL WEAR

BY HARRIET

SPRING may be still around the corner, technically, but with the weather as mild as this winter is, a woman's thoughts already are turning to spring clothes.

The new silhouette is neat, wide-shouldered, well-defined. It has shed all its fluttering odds and ends and even tied up its scarfs into neat bows, knots, or loops them through slits in coats and dresses.

It is smart this spring to be "roughing" it in spongy fabrics, many of them mixtures of rayon and cotton or rayon and wool.

When you select the style you want, suit your own personality. If you are the aloof, self-contained type of person who enjoys looking most lady-like and well-groomed, you can have a little suit that accentuates this quality of yours.

Such a one is a new black formal afternoon suit of a new crinkle crepe Biarritz. This suit uses the diagonal line in its trimming of smoky blue buttons of composition in a shade exactly matching the blue fox on the sleeves. The skirt is quite tight until it flares quite low and the upper part fits down over the skirt to hipline.

The sleeves are set in, slantwise, and the upper part fastens by buttoning down one shoulder seam, instead of the front. Worn with these are gloves, hat and shoes of black.

If you are a sportswoman, or a school girl, there is a new type of suit which seemingly was designed for you. It is made of red spun rayon fabric, which has an all-over diamond pattern in its weave that is very rich and pretty. There is a skirt of quite straight-line cut, buttoning up the sides. The little short-sleeved blouse of white is a new spun rayon pique, and it has a scarf that is monogrammed, quite the latest touch.

The pull-over jumper belts at a slightly high waistline and then fits down over the skirt to a rather high hipline. This dress illustrates the short-waisted spring style that most new frocks and suits adopt.

The hat is made of the suit's material, with white straw, a nice combination for both wearability and beauty. Pull-on beige gloves are the choice for this costume, as they promise to be very popular this spring with dresses, suits, sports things and coat outfit.

Both of these costumes spell spring. But both illustrate what definite types of women will wear

Haskell Creek

There were thirty-two in Sunday school Sunday morning. The S. S. missionary for this district, A. L. Nordin of St. Paul, was present. He gave a short talk after the lesson study. The Young People's class will meet at L. S. Larsen's for a party Friday evening of this week.

In a letter from friends near Norman, Nebr., we learn that road conditions in Kearney county have been worse than here this winter. They had not been able to use their car since Christmas because the roads were so bad, the mail carrier was able to travel only north or south from Norman so to get any mail they had to put boxes along this way. East and west roads were impassable even with a team and wagon for a while. They had mail in their box by their home only once in two months. Sometimes we may envy them their level land but we can at least travel over our hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen called at Frank Miska's Monday. This week's issue of "Creaky Creaks of Haskell Creek" the high school paper, is very interesting. The editors are certainly giving their readers sensational news pertaining to the latest in the prominent dailies.

Dean Flynn, Richard Whiting and Fred Nielsen were dinner guests at Charles Marshall's Sunday.

Miss Carrie and Alice Larsen called at Chris Nielsen's and Charles Marshall's Saturday morning.

Anna Mortensen and Hazel Raiback were week end guests at Wil Nelson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and daughters visited with Mrs. N. C. Jorgensen and with Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Christensen Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Les Leonard were Sunday guests at Frank Dana's. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana and family visited at Frank Miska's Sunday evening.

Dud Philbrick, Fay Patrick, Palmer Canfield, Mr. Tilton, Dale Philbrick and Donald Patrick, all of Ericson, were at Ben Philbrick's Friday. Dale Philbrick and Donald Patrick stayed until Sunday when Mr. Philbrick and Mr. Patrick came down after them.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson were dinner guests at Will Nelson's Sunday evening.

Mrs. Wes Miska and sons, Richard and Gerald, visited with Mrs. Carl Holm Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson called at Henry Jorgensen's Sunday evening.

Those who attended the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss of Grand Island Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuss and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss and family, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hellwege and family, Martin Fuss and Miss Helen Colliprist of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harding and Emil Fuss, also of Ord.

David Falzales of Ericson is visiting at Ben Philbrick's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Alderman and children were at Wes Miska's Sunday afternoon.

Miss Helen Colliprist of Ord visited at the Walter Russ home Saturday night.

Will Russ purchased corn from Mr. Stevens of Davis Creek last week.

Miss Metha and Miss Esther Ohlman of Shelton attended the wedding of Miss Frieda Pape and Clarence Witchman Thursday.

Oliver Boulger is working at the Clare Clement home the past week while they are getting ready to move.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid met last Thursday at the Will Fuss home. Mrs. Dave Bredthauer of North Loup also attended.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF
VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA.
In the Matter of the Application of Ign. Klima Jr., Administrator,
For License to Sell Real Estate.
ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE.

Now on this 23rd day of February, 1932, this cause came on for hearing on the petition under oath of Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator of the estate of Joseph Rybin, deceased, praying for a license to sell the following described real estate, to-wit: The Southwest quarter of the Northeast quarter of Section 28, Township 19, North of Range 14, West of the 6th Principal Meridian, in Valley County, Nebraska, subject to legal highway, for the payment of debts allowed against said estate, allowances and costs of administration, for the reason that there is no personal property in the possession of said Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator, belonging to said estate to pay said debts, allowances and costs.

It is, therefore, ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before one of the Judges of the District Court in and for Valley County, in the Court Room in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, on the 9th day of April, 1932, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as can be reached, to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to Ign. Klima, Jr., administrator, to sell the above described real estate of said decedent to pay the debts, allowances and expenses of said estate.

It is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon all persons interested in said estate, by causing the same to be published once each week for four successive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a newspaper printed and published in said County of Valley, and State of Nebraska.

AUDIT OF VINTON TOWNSHIP BOOKS

A ten year audit of the Township Justice of Peace, Clerk and Treasurer books of the above Township shows as follows:

J. C. Anderson

Received from all sources $21,987.72

Paid out including regis- tered warrants plus in- terest 21,970.65

Indicating a balance Jan- uary 1, 1929 17.07

J. C. Anderson's term expired as Treasurer January 12, 1929, and at that time warrants had been issued by the Clerk and Justice of Peace but had not been presented to the Treasurer for payment. The sum of the warrants was $12.50 which was afterwards paid by Mr. Anderson.

F. O. Johnston

F. O. Johnston was Treasurer of said Township from January 12, 1929 to January 1, 1931.

Received from Former Treasurer Anderson $ 169.27

Received from County Treasurer during per- iod as treasurer 5,255.00

Total $5,424.27

Paid out 5,414.77

Unaccounted for 9.50

Mr. Johnston failed to pay a warrant of $2.80 leaving a total unaccounted for of $3.30. Shortly after Mr. Johnston became Treasurer he gave a check from the Township funds to Mr. Anderson covering the checks which were for warrants unpaid at the time he began his term as Treasurer which accounts for the shortage above shown in Mr. Johnston's account.

Levi Chipps

Received from former treasurer Johnston $ 167.89

Received from County Treasurer during per- iod as treasurer 3,260.00

Total 3,429.89

Total amount paid out upon warrants 3,386.53

Leaving a total in his hands January 1, 1932 $ 43.36

Outstanding registered warrants January 1, 1932 $1,621.03.

The above books were audited by the undersigned.

EQUITABLE TAXATION.

As aptly pointed out by Representative Marion Cushing at a meeting of the Taxpayers League last Friday, the general property tax system has reached the point where it no longer can be considered a fair and equitable method of raising the revenue needed to run the schools and to conduct the affairs of state and local government. In the United States as a whole three-fourths of the money raised for local and state needs is raised by a tax on general property. In Nebraska it has been estimated that this percentage exceeds 80 percent. To devise a more equitable system of taxation is the crying need of the moment.

Conditions have changed since the time when tangible wealth closely approximated ability to pay. Now the fact that title to a certain piece of real property is in the name of a certain man means little, for surveys conducted by the state university show that 61 percent of all agricultural property in Nebraska is mortgaged for its full worth under present land values. When such a condition is found it becomes increasingly apparent that any system that levies four-fifths of all tax moneys on tangible property must be glaringly unfair.

Tax experts have always warned that any tax, carried to excess, is self destructive as a source of revenue and that is what has happened in Nebraska and many other states. The costs of government have mounted, valuations of real property for tax purposes were artificially increased, levies mounted higher and taxes gradually have become confiscatory.

While this has been going on there has been an enormous increase in the number of people who own no real property and who therefore do not share in paying the costs of the government whose advantages they enjoy equally with people who do pay a tax on real property. To find some way of taxing these people is the real problem of today.

There is only one method, of course, of bringing about tax reduction and that is reduction in the cost of government. Such reduction must take place but even more important is the need for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. The state income tax advocated by Mr. Cushing, and which he hopes to pilot through the coming legislative session if he is re-elected, is the greatest hope for equalizing the tax burden.

A tax on salaries, wages, fees, commissions and income from intangibles should be placed in effect in Nebraska. It has been estimated, and the estimate would seem reliable, that 73 percent of the gross income of Nebraska's population is earned by people who pay 27 percent of the state's taxes. Naturally, this leaves 75 percent of the taxes to be paid by a class that earns only 27 percent of the income.

The greatest hope for reform in our taxing methods lies in the interest people are taking now in tax problems. When the full inequality of our present system is fully realized, steps will be taken to change it.

HOOVER'S BIG CHANCE. It seems a foregone conclusion that Herbert Clark Hoover will be the Republican candidate for president this year. To fact-finding reporters in this part of the country it seems equally certain that he will be defeated for re-election, that is unless democratic delegates strike within their ranks and are led into nominating an unpopular candidate. These are conclusions that any unprejudiced observer will admit are reasonable.

How much better for the good of the republican party, for his country's good and to serve his own best interest it would be if President Hoover would decide that the state of his health forbids his becoming a candidate this year. Though the nomination is his for the asking, defeat is almost a certainty and no man's prestige is enhanced by defeat. On the other hand, a statement from Hoover that he is not a candidate would pave the way for the nomination of a man like Charles G. Dawes, who would have an excellent chance to win.

The one republican in the country who is acceptable both to the east and farming states is Mr. Dawes. He would give any candidate the democrats might name a run for his money. President Hoover has been heralded as a big man, a courageous man, a magnanimous man. To preserve party solidarity and to assure that republicans remain in charge during the reconstruction period that must follow this depression would be the greatest patriotic service President Hoover could do for his country. Let him prove his courage, his bigness, his magnanimity, by retiring now from the race.

IT REQUIRED A TRAGEDY.

For years foresighted men like our own Bert Hardenbrook have been pointing out that drastic changes in our criminal laws are needed in the rising tide of crime in this country to be checked.

Our whole legal system is designed to aid the criminal in escaping punishment for his wrong doing.

Though certain lawyers, educators, editors, preachers and economists have been awake to the crying necessity for such change the attitude of the great mass of the American people has been passive. Before the urgency of the need could be comprehended by the rank and file some great calamity had to occur. Two weeks ago that calamity did occur when the little son of Charles and Anne Lindbergh was kidnapped.

Is it true that gangdom in the United States is stronger than the forces of law and order? To the last breath you and I would have been willing to deny that this was so until recent months. We knew that it was so in Chicago, perhaps in certain other gangridden sections of the country, but not in the whole United States, we argued.

Then came the Winkler affair, where this lieutenant of the great Al Capone bargained with the officers of the state of Nebraska and obtained his freedom by payment of princely ransom. We began to wonder. Then came the Lindbergh kidnapping and now everyone is ready to admit what such men as Mr. Hardenbrook have known to be true for years—that reforms in our criminal laws must be made or society is at the mercy of the criminal element.

Foreign nations are sneering at us, we are mocked by their newspapers and reviled by their statesmen. We are the most lawless country in the world in spite of all our wealth and all our pretensions.

It is time for us to awake to the necessity for speeding up court action, removing the barriers that now protect the criminal, modernizing our antiquated legal machinery to permit swift, sure punishment for every crime involving moral turpitude. The gangster must go, the venal policeman and judge must go, the grafting politician and the Jackal lawyer must go. We must put our house in order, both to prevent a recurrence of such a case as the Lindbergh affair and also to salvage our own lost self respect as a nation.

ANCIENT HISTORY. "Way back in the eighties when I first started my Nebraska newspaper career," writes Henry Allen Brainerd, historian of the Nebraska Press Association, "eggs were sold for 4¢ a dozen and pork 5¢ a pound. When we talk of hard times and depression we want to remember that there has been some depression. Nebraska before now has never seen 6,000 bushels of shelled corn lying on the ground and the owner could not get a bid of 6¢ a bushel. I remember when it took three bushels of corn to get one to Chicago. One winter when the times were hard and the farmers pushed I had three 3-deck wagon loads of corn on the cob landed at my door for 25¢ a load. I just paid for the hauling, the corn was donated and I burned corn and buffalo chips nearly all winter. Talk about depression. I have seen grasshoppers when they would fly over and light on the fence and sing "In This Wheat Bye and Bye" and when the morning came the hoppers would be gone and they had the wheat. I have seen these darned 'singing locusts' or whatever they call 'em when the webb was so thick across the track and the rails would get so slick that it would stop a train and the engineer would have to take a barrel of sand extra to get him over his run. Times like these the renter gets the worst of the deal, I must admit, but when a man is thrifty and gets ahead in one way or another, the renter or the borrower has to stand the gap."

The conditions described by Mr. Brainerd were familiar to everyone who has lived in this part of Nebraska forty years or more and these same old timers realize as we moderns cannot that our present troubles seem pretty tame in comparison with those they suffered.

NAIVE COL. DAVIS.

One of the most naive statements it has ever been our fortune to encounter is contained in a recent report of Col. George H. Davis, who is head of the Salvation Army in Chicago. In the past sixteen months the Army has furnished lodgings to 1,100 homeless or unemployed men in that great city. Among that number there have been observed only 75 cases of bad drinking and 1,000 cases of moderate drinking, the colonel reports. Which prompts him to include in his report the following testimonial for prohibition.

"Evidence shows that drink has been reduced almost to the vanishing point. Having nothing to do, these unemployed homeless men would undoubtedly have resorted to drink as a means of escape if they could get it, but they can't because the open saloon is gone."

This from Chicago, where are said to be more speak-easies than there were saloons in pre-Voistead days.

Either the Davis powers of observation are atrophied or else the colonel possesses a Pollyannish ability to see what he wants to see wherever he looks. We don't believe there is a hamlet or city in the United States where liquor cannot be bought if it is wanted. Certainly not Chicago.

If the Salvation Army figures are correct, which is doubtful, it could be believed that the high percentage of tee-totalers were abstainers from choice or because they didn't have the money with which to buy the plan out very well. She be-intoxicants. To express such an opinion would advance the cause of prohibition far more than to suggest that these men didn't drink because they couldn't find it.

Such an unwarranted statement as the one made by Colonel Davis is so palpably mistaken that it can do the prohibition act, always a controversial question, nothing but harm.

a lot to say about a product of

has hooked a whole rug by himself, his wife, Anne, who hauls from

rags for him. Mrs. Leggett thinks this is a record. Well, it may be for Valley county, but not for Cuswho during the World war knitted nineteen sweaters for the Red Cross, and in addition one pair of socks, one helmet, and one pair of wristlets. Since that time he has done a lot of fancy work, can cro-

Now Read What Your Druggist Says About That Cough:

McLain & Sorensen say:

"There's no need to hock yourself to pieces by coughing like that. One dose of Bronchuline Emulsion will give you INSTANT RELIEF. Two doses will probably stop it for good. Half a bottle certainly will or we won't keep your money."

"We don't care what else you've tried, nor how long your cough has hung on. We are willing to bet that Bronchuline will stop it. No dope in it. Nothing to upset your stomach. And the taste isn't half as bad as you think it's going to be from the smell, so just swallow it down. Money back, remember, if you don't get relief."

STOCK SHIPPERS GET 2-WAY FARE

VOTING STARTS ON ORD'S OFFICIAL FLOWER FOR 1932

Petunia and Marigold Tied,
den Contest Starts Soon.

Voting on the official flower for Ord is beginning in good shape, with petunias and marigolds tied for first place. Larkspur is only one vote behind, however, and there is still time for considerable shifting of the five favorites. Voting will continue throughout this month, and the lower receiving the most votes will be declared Ord's official flower and especially featured throughout the summer. It is not the plan of those in charge to ask every householder in Ord to plant the official flower selected. So if you have not voted yet, you'd better do so, or perhaps you won't care for the choice thrust on you for planting this year!

The choice to be made is between petunias, marigolds, annual phlox, larkspur, and nasturtiums. So far nasturtiums do not vote to their credit!

All of these flowers range in height from 12 to 18 inches, all of them are free flowering, quite easy to grow, and do not require any specialized care. Neither are they expensive. They were chosen because they had a long season of bloom and might be expected to bloom for more than two or three weeks, as many flowers do. Vote now for the one you prefer. Phone or mail your choice to the Quiz office, to the Noll Seed Co., or to the Golden Rule.

To help the Chamber of Commerce provide free seedlings for children, you are being asked to carefully keep all spare slips of flowers, all seedlings, all left over flowers when you transplanted, etc. These flowerlings should be turned in to the Noll Seed company on April 21, and will be in turn given to children, a few to each child, on April 21, April 22 and April 23, Saturday.

Parkins Boys Were Victims of Robbers

The unpleasant experience of being victimized by hold-up men was the portion of John and Buck Parkins, sons of Mr. and Mrs. George Parkins of Ord, who run a jewelry store in Los Angeles, Calif. The robbery took place March 5. Buck writes his father. Two masked men entered the store, escorted John and Buck to the back room and tied them to chairs. Then they made off with $300 worth of diamonds and watches. Just a minute or two after the thieves left police entered and liberated the two Ord boys. The loss was quite a serious one for John, who owns the store.

Noll Sells Pups, Gives Proceeds To Drouth Fund

Four bob-tailed English sheepdog pups did their bit to help drouth sufferers of northeast Nebraska last Saturday when they were sold at the Weller Auction Company's Saturday sale and the proceeds given to the drouth relief fund. The dogs were consigned by C. W. Noll, sr., and brought $5.20 which Mr. Noll promptly turned over to his son, Bob Noll, chairman of the drouth relief drive here.

Ord's last drouth relief car went out yesterday consigned to Lynch, Nebr. It was an automobile size car and was crammed full of hay, feed and flour.

Donations made since last Thursday include $10 given by Charles Bals and twelve bales of hay given by Frank Valasek, besides the $5.20 given by Mr. Noll.

The American Legion, the Quiz and the Noll Seed Company desire to thank all who contributed to the relief drive and made it a success.

Auble Bros. Invent New Piano Polish That is Proving Success

Buy Ingredients In Barrel Lots,
. Mix and Bottle Polish In Their Store Basement.

A piano polish mixed from a formula that they invented themselves may prove to be the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow for Glen and Jay Auble and Preston Loomis of this city. For the new polish is proving such a success and is selling so fast that already Auble Bros. are buying the ingredients for it in barrel lots and have fitted up a room in the basement where the polish is mixed and bottled.

The Auble boys got the idea for their new polish when they became dissatisfied with the polish they had been using on new pianos in their own store. They wrote to a large maker of pianos and asked what kind of polish was best for use on the delicate wood finishes of pianos and other fine furniture. Back came a formula from the piano factory but it was not satisfactory in some respects and from the Ord men evolved a new formula that answered the purpose much better.

Mixing a few bottles first for their own use, Auble Bros. sold some to friends and the polish was so satisfactory that they got the idea of manufacturing it on a commercial basis. It proved a success from the start and soon more than fifty Ord piano owners were using it regularly.

Last week Preston Loomis started out to find retailers in other cities for the Auble polish and reported that he will be sold out before the end of the week.

Or making a survey here in Ord Mr. Loomis found that most women had been afraid to use furniture polish on their pianos and radios so they were very receptive to something that is absolutely safe. The new Auble polish does a thorough job of cleaning, puts a high gloss on the piano and will not injure the most delicate wood finish. With these qualifications this newest Ord product is bound to be a success.

In his decision Judge Horth ordered Receiver Luikart, of the state department of trade and commerce, to sell the Liberty bonds immediately at their present market value, applying the proceeds to repayment of county deposits and interest. The balance is to become part of the funds of the bank, Judge Horth directed.

The case filed by City Attorney Norman against the State bank along similar lines has not yet been heard.

Marion Grace Cushing Writes Best Essay on Life of Washington, Wins $5 First Prize.

Winners in the essay contest on the subject of Washington are: Marion Grace Cushing, first; Sylvia Cornell, second; Charles Shepard, third. Only high school seniors were eligible to write on the subject, which concerned "What I think best in Washington's life and in his proclamation." The contest was sponsored by Father Lawler of the Catholic church, and a number of splendid essays resulted. Judges were George Dunn, John Misko, and Clarence Wichman left Friday for Palmer, where they will live.

Elmer Palfather writes his people that last Sunday he and Paul Pierce were visiting friends in Council Bluffs.

Farm Bureau League Will Be Organized

The Valley County Farm Bureau baseball league, which has furnished so much healthful sport for young men and men not so young for the past two years, will operate again during the summer of 1932. So County Agent Dale says, and he announces that a meeting of team managers will be held at his office Saturday this week for the purpose of organizing and arranging a schedule. There probably will be eight teams in the league this summer.

City Caucuses To Be Held Tonight

The annual caucuses of Ord's two political parties, the Citizens and Good Government, will be held tonight for the purpose of nominating candidates for mayor, councilmen and other officers.

The Citizens will meet at the court house, the Good Government at the city hall. Several have been mentioned as possible nominees for mayor, among them being Bert Hardenbrook, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Glen Auble, Charles Sternecker, Carl Sorensen, and the present mayor, Wm. Moses. The caucuses will convene at 8 o'clock.

E. C. James made a business trip to Grand Island Tuesday.

Tax Commissioner Smith believes

Frank Penas, Mrs. Marie Larsen Die Here, V. Urban, Comstock, Mrs. Clements At Lincoln.

FRANK PENAS, SR.

Funeral services for Frank Penas, sr., 81, pioneer settler in Eureka township and a resident of Ord since 1912, were held at Frazer's chapel here at 3 p.m. Saturday and he was laid to rest in the Bohemian National cemetery here. Rev. B. A. Filipi, of Clarkson, conducted the services and pall-bearers included Edward, Robert and Albert Penas, Joe and George Benda, and Bill Gross.

Mr. Penas was born Nov. 7, 1850 in Dolovki, Moravia, Austria-Hungary and grew to manhood there, being married to Miss Frances Baldock on Oct. 14, 1874. In 1883 they moved to this country, first settling in Saunders county and living there three months, and then coming to Eureka township, Valley county.

Until 1906 the Penas home was in Eureka and then they moved near Burwell where they spent the better part of seven years, moving to Ord in 1912. This was Mr. Penas' home until last Thursday, when he passed away after an illness of three months.

Surviving him are his widow and three children, John W. of Burwell, Frank Penas and Mrs. Mary Benda of Ord. Eleven grandchildren and two sisters also survive.

Mr. Penas was one of the most generally respected citizens of Valley county and had a wide circle of friends in the Eureka neighborhood and in Burwell, Elkhorn and Ord.

MRS. MARIE LARSEN.

Mrs. Marie Larsen, 83, passed away Saturday morning, March 12 at the home of her son Jim Larsen, after an illness of five months.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2 p.m. in the Danish Lutheran church and interment was in the Ord cemetery. Rev. Kaldahl conducted the services and pall-bearers were Marius Jorgensen, Niels Jensen, Chris Hansen, Will Nelson and Jens Hansen.

100 Farmers Signed Seed Loan Petitions

All four of the government seed loan petitions that were circulated in Valley county last week were filled out by Saturday night, reports County Agent Dale, and they were mailed to Director Brokaw in Lincoln, Monday. More than 100 farmers signed the petitions stating that they would need government seed loans this spring. So far Valley county has not been designated to participate in the Reconstruction Finance Corporation loans but by next week Mr. Dale is sure that he will be able to announce that seed loans will be made here.

Tax Commissioner Tells Weller Valuations May Not Be Reduced

Bryan's Right Hand Man Differs With Attorney General On Prospects For Cut.

LEAGUE MEETS MARCH 25.

The next meeting of the Taxpayers League will be held at 1 p.m. on Friday, March 25, at the Bohemian hall. President Mensing announced yesterday. The state income tax, sales tax, the county agent question and other important matters will be discussed, he says.

Wm. H. Smith, state tax commissioner and right hand man in the state house for Governor Charles Bryan, is not disposed to agree with the ruling made by Attorney General Sorenson about the legality of county equalization boards reducing the valuation of real estate for assessment purposes. So he told E. C. Weller, county assessor, when he visited Lincoln last week and Mr. Weller reported the result of his visit at the meeting of the Taxpayers League of Valley County held last Friday in the Bohemian hall here.

About 150 were present at the meeting and President Arthur Mensing presided. The necessity for reduction of taxes was discussed but no formal measures were adopted.

that legislative action is needed before county equalization boards may reduce land valuations. Under the present Nebraska law is valued for assessment purposes once every four years and this was done in 1930. Therefore, Smith states land may not be re-valued until 1934.

Last year the Valley county board reduced land valuations 5 percent, only to have the state board refuse to allow the reduction. Mr. Weller told members present at the meeting. In spite of their ruling on real estate the state board of equalization, which is presided over by Governor Bryan, arbitrarily reduced valuations of pipe lines 17½ percent. Mr. Weller reported, reduced a reduction to farm land.

Other speakers at the meeting Friday were Marion J. Cushing who discussed the benefits of a state income tax, and Horace M. Davis, who spoke about this and other matters. Mr. Davis is a candidate for state auditor.

About 150 were present at the meeting and President Arthur Mensing presided. The necessity for reduction of taxes was discussed but no formal measures were adopted.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Through the courtesy of The Ord Quiz I announce to you that the last issue of the Ord Observer has been printed. Many I know have expected this because it has been apparent to any one acquainted with the cost of publishing a paper that the paper has not been earning enough to pay its way. Anyway it has been apparent to me for a long time that the paper could not survive under the conditions that now exist.

Things looked pretty rosy on the first of last July, but when the drouth and hot winds struck us the outlook began to dim. Added to this came the increasing depression, so that our merchants could not afford to advertise as they had been doing. Without this no paper can live.

I have made arrangements with the Quiz people to complete all paid up subscriptions by sending you that paper till the end of the time you have paid for. I have also turned over to Mr. Leggett the whole list and you owe on this list may be paid to him.

I want to here and now express my appreciation to all of you who have aided me by your subscriptions, kind words and in other ways. Especially I thank my loyal country correspondents, who have done excellent work by sending me the news.

All of my printing plant being retained, I shall continue the job printing department and shall now be able to devote my whole time to this work. Of course I shall be glad to serve you in this way.

W. W. HASKELL

Having taken over the job of fulfilling paid up subscriptions to the Ord Observer by sending the Ord Quiz, I want to say that there will be no change in the past policy of this newspaper. Due to present conditions and to assist, as much as possible, our subscribers, we have temporarily reduced the price of the Quiz to $2.00 per year and this price will remain in effect until business conditions warrant a return to the regular price. The advertising rate will remain as it has been for years and we want all the business you feel justified in giving us.

We are sending the Quiz this week to the entire Observer list, regardless of whether the subscription is paid up or not, and we are inviting you all to become Quiz subscribers. We want you on our list. Of course all who were paid in advance on the Observer will continue to get the Quiz instead but we have no authority to send the Quiz to Observer subscribers who are in arrears. If you want the Quiz come in and tell us or write or phone us and say "Keep it coming." We will do the rest.

More than 90 percent of the people in Valley county already take the Quiz and we would like to make it 100 percent, which is the reason why we are selling you the Quiz cheaper and at the same time making it the best weekly newspaper in the state.

Automobile Contest and Sale at Hron's is Attracting Interest

ORD AMATEURS PUBLISH "HAM" RADIO MAGAZINE

Business Is Here For Business Men Who Go After It, Is Proved By Local Merchant.

Not for a long time has any merchandising effort started in Ord caused more interest and comment than the automobile contest being conducted in connection with an extensive stock reduction by Frank Hron at his east side store.

Elsewhere in the Quiz this week appears advertising that this contest is being conducted, probably better than we could explain it here, but the Quiz cannot help noticing and commenting on the activity being shown by Mr. Hron and his helpers for it proves that business is here for merchants who are willing to go speak a language all their own.

If you don't believe it, tell what it means when the title of a leading article says, "The S. S. M. Speaks." Also, "When you are QSO someone" or "an additional $1.75 for the YL" or "a phone vs. SW question. Also an item descriptive of a ZAG contest, whatever that is. Besides such cracks as "So 73s fellows" and "ORM with all of you" or "ORM with a new MOPA back on the air," truly speak a language all their own.

The success attending the early days of this sale goes to prove that conditions are not as bad as a lot of people seem to think. It is truly evidence that people will buy merchandise when it is priced in keeping with conditions and is properly advertised and displayed. Other merchants have found this to be true, also.

Ord's territory, everything considered, is in much better general financial condition than the average Nebraska territory and Nebraska stands above many other states for general business of every description.

What we all need to do, more than anything else, is to put some of the same brand of pep and enthusiasm into everyday affairs as Mr. Hron and his clerks are putting in. One can't be around that store, even for a few minutes without feeling that business can't be so bad, after all, and it surely looks good to see people buying things they need and to see clerks really busy.

The first edition of QSO makes a very neat appearance, being printed in two colors and containing twelve pages. There are about 175 "Hams" in Nebraska and the editors expect that all of them will become subscribers to QSO. Advertisers of radio equipment also eagerly welcome this new method of reaching their market in Nebraska for QSO contains ads from as far away as Albany, N.Y.

On March 26 and 27 the annual convention of Nebraska "Hams" will be held at the Yancey hotel in Grand Island and all three of the Ord radio bugs plan to be there. The contest winner will be announced next week.

Fine Ord Butter
Entered In Contest

Tuesday when President A. W. Cornell, Manager Fred W. Cole and Buttermaker E. O. Carlson, of the Ord Co-operative Creamery association drove to Lincoln to attend the annual convention of the state association of co-op creameries, they took with them a ten pound tub of the finest butter that can be turned out by the Ord creamery. This butter will be entered in a contest in which there will be about twenty entries. The contest winner will be announced next week.

ORD TO OMAHA SHIPPERS AIDED BY NEW RULING

Rail Commission Tuesday Permits Railroads Give 2-Way Pass To Single Car Shippers

A ruling of interest to every farmer in the Ord territory was handed down Tuesday by the Nebraska State railway commission when that body gave permission to the railroads to give 2-way transportation to caretakers of live stock shipped from any station in Nebraska. Live stock shippers will be able to send a caretaker free of charge with all stock shipments at any distance within the state, with return transportation furnished, as the result of an order issued by the state railway commission today," stated a Lincoln dispatch to the Omaha World Herald.

"Nebraska railroads have permitted transportation of attendants for two hundred miles or less. The new order will permit transportation for attendants for any distance with one car of live stock."

Ord shippers have been discriminated against in the past, they have maintained, for the reason that Ord is 205 miles from Omaha by rail and one-car shippers to that center have been compelled to pay transportation back.

Railways have been working since last summer to get the commission to change its ruling in this regard, states O. E. Johnson, Union Pacific agent here. He expects the new order to go into effect at once, probably by the end of this week.

North Loup News

MRS. FRED BARTZ, Reporter

The revival meetings at the Methodist church under the leadership of Rev. Frank Mathis of Colorado Springs closed with an interesting and inspiring service Sunday night. The theme of the evangelist was "Prepare to meet thy God." A ladies quartette composed of Mrs. Hoepner, Miss Shimek, Miss Yost and Mrs. Schwabauer sang "Make Me a Power." Rev. Mathis is an able evangelist. His sermons throughout were filled with good, keen common sense. No one could take exception to his message or his method. The meetings were not largely attended owing to road and weather conditions. Special features of the meeting were the children's choir on Saturday nights and the young people's choir of 40 on the other nights. Mr. Shimek's committee furnished a special number of music at each service. Mr. and Mrs. Mathis set out Monday morning via Council Bluffs for Eveleth, Minn., for their next meeting.

Mrs. George Baker of Rivendale neighborhood, the mother of Mrs. Fred Bartz was taken seriously ill Friday night with a stroke, and she has been unconscious ever since.

Clifton Clark and wife are moving on the old Burgess farm north of town and will work for Sterling Manchester.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Green have moved to Barker district and will live with their son Ed and family. The Glen Barber family will live in the Green property.

Mrs. Claud Rathbun was a North Loup visitor Saturday afternoon.

A newly organized dance orchestra was sponsored by W. V. Brown held their first practice on Tuesday night at the Chas. Faust home. Members of the orchestra are Berrill Anderson, Samuel Sample, Clifford Hawkes, Harry Gillespie, Mills Hill and James Bell, with Mrs. Chas. Faust as accompanist.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gray entertained Mr. and Mrs. D S Bohrer at dinner Sunday.

The H C Sample family were entertained Sunday at the W. J. Kildow home.

Paul Lee went to Grand Island Sunday for a visit with his sister, Mrs. Martha Otto.

Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Gray who have been closely identified with North Loup in a business way for a number of years, left Tuesday for David City. They plan to make their home with their son John and family. They have been great workers in the M. E. church and on Monday night the Ladies Aid sponsored a church night supper in their honor. A good many people were in attendance to enjoy the good fellowship and to wish them godspeed and happiness in their new home. A grandson came with a truck and took their goods on Tuesday morning. Their daughter, Mrs. Brink of Archer, has been with them several days, helping them pack. Mr. Gray has been produce manager at the Farmer's store for a number of years. North Loup regrets very much the departure of these good people.

Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Portis are the parents of a six pound daughter born Friday, March 11. Miss Eva Portis and Mrs. Albert Brown are caring for the mother and baby.

Mrs. Ruth Hudson and Mrs. Mary Thelin are hostesses for the Aid tea this week at the home of Mrs. Hudson.

Miss Agnes Christensen and Miss Helen Madsen visited Ulysses, Seward and Grand Island Friday and Saturday. They were interested in schools.

Mrs. John Manchester was called to the death of her father.

The small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cook who has been quite ill with bronchitis at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer, is much improved. The Cook's are moving to a farm on Davis Creek.

Walter Lewis and wife left for their home at Dodge Center, Minn. on Saturday afternoon. They received a telephone message telling of the serious illness of Mrs. Lewis' mother, Mrs. Lawton, who is 82 years of age.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon plan to occupy the C. B. Gray home as soon as it is vacated.

Mildred Campbell and Beulah Willoughby were in attendance at a meeting called by Supt. Clara McClatchey Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cox and Nora White were in Ord Saturday afternoon.

The Junior Philathaea class were entertained at the Maud Shepard home Saturday afternoon. After devotions and business meeting, they checked up on the attendance at Sunday school and study of the lesson. The side defeated will entertain the winners at a St. Patrick six o'clock dinner next Saturday at the Shepard home. The rest of the afternoon was spent playing rummy.

Mr. and Mrs. Thelin and Margery and Mabel Lee drove to Ord Saturday evening.

The Harry Meyers family moved from the small house near the depot to the George Johnson property west of the Legion Hall.

Mrs. I. J. Thelin and Margery

and Mrs. Roy Hudson were Ord shoppers Friday.

Mrs. Anna Tappan left on Monday morning's train for Kearney where she will spend a few days with her son, George. Later she will go to Grand Junction, Colo., to spend some time with her daughter, Grace Hockett and family.

Roy Hudson drove to Lincoln Sunday returning Monday morning.

Walter Preston of Morrill was spending a few days in town with his father, Robert Preston and other relatives and friends.

Melvin Grier is spending a few days with his wife and daughter Robbe at the W. J. Kildow home.

The Guy Kerr family moved Monday into the house recently vacated by the Pleasonton family, who moved to Pleasanton.

The M. E. choir are practicing hard on their Easter cantata, "Our Risen Lord," which they will render on Easter Sunday, March 27th.

A dance was held at Julius Schoeninger in Riverville Saturday evening. A number of our young people from town attended. Cotton orchestra of Scottia furnished the music.

Mrs. Ruth Hudson and Mrs. Mary Thelin are hostesses for the Aid tea this week at the home of Mrs. Hudson.

Miss Bessie Smith is home for a few weeks from her work in a beauty parlor at Doniphan. Roy Stine brought her home.

Mrs. Homer Hagemer, two sons and a daughter of Sterling, Colo., visited last week with her friend Mrs. Alfred Crandall.

In the basketball game between Scottia and North Loup, the local team won by a score of 26 to 22. This was the last game of the season.

Frasier Funeral home, Ord. Ambulance service. Day phone 38; Night 31-183.

Mrs. George Baker, mother of the Quiz reporter, passed quietly away Tuesday morning. Funeral services will be held at the M. E. church at North Loup Friday at two o'clock. Burial will be in the Scottia cemetery. A complete obituary will be given next week.

The music contest, under the supervision of Miss Yost was one of the best ever given here. In the high voice, Lorna Mae Shimek received first, Mary Frances Manchester, second, and Vivian Cummings third. Margaret Sayre was the only entry in the alto section.

In the tenor section, Ralph Sayre received first, Rex Bingham second.

In the baritones Boyd Sheldon was first, Edwin Johnson second and Ben VanHorn third.

Other musical numbers were the boys' quartet, girls' trio, two piano selections and a song by the freshman girls.

Miss Mary Bohrer returned Sunday evening from Lincoln. She had been visiting her aunt, Mrs. Grace Arnold who is secretary of the Y. W. C. A. in Lincoln.

More Names Added To Quiz 50 Year Roll of Honor

Several more names are added this week to the list of those who subscribed to the Quiz in 1882, the year it was founded, and who have had the paper ever since. Many of those who subscribed during that first year and in the first years thereafter are no longer living, of course. Some of those first subscribers are no longer taking the paper, having moved away from Valley county years ago. But there are many "first subscribers" who haven't written to tell us about it yet and we wish all such who are still taking the paper would drop us a line, telling us the date when they first subscribed to the Quiz.

On Thursday, March 24, the 50th anniversary of the founding of the Ord Quiz will be commemorated in an Anniversary issue. In this issue we hope to have stories about some of the pioneers of early days. If you subscribed to the Quiz in 1882 or in the years soon thereafter, tell us about it, so your name may be printed in the Honor Roll in our Anniversary issue.

This week George McAnulty drops us a line to say that he has had the Quiz ever since its first issue. "Fifty years is a long time for a paper to labor for a community," writes Mr. McAnulty, who now lives in Scotia. "The Quiz has been a powerful influence in the building of the city of Ord and the entire Loup country. I came to the Loup valley in September, 1873, settling near Goodenow's ranch, and I have rejoiced to see the beautiful valley develop from the extreme frontier to one of the very best sections of the good state of Nebraska."

Mrs. David Wigent stopped in last week to say that when she first met her late husband in 1883 he was a Quiz subscriber and that the family has taken the paper ever since, with the exception of a brief period when they moved to Missouri and stopped taking the Quiz to subscribe for the Valley County Times, which was then edited by the present Quiz publisher.

With the exception of a single year, 1929, P. W. Round also is a half-century subscriber to the Quiz, he writes to tell us. He subscribed with the first issue and we hope that he takes it and enjoys it every week for another hundred years.

Another person who is entitled to be mentioned on the roll of honor is Mrs. Hall Barnes, of Arvada, Wyo. Her parents and she arrived on Spring Creek July 4, 1875 and when the Quiz was founded seven years later her father subscribed at once and members of the family have taken it ever since. Mrs. Barnes says their present home is in Montauk but as it is more convenient to get their mail through the Arvada, Wyo. post office. It has been extremely cold there this winter, she says, but with lots of moisture in the ground they are hoping for a good crop year.

Elmer S. King, who came to Valley county 45 years ago, also is entitled to mention as a long time subscriber as he has taken the Quiz since shortly after his arrival here.

Ass Leonard, one of Mira Valley's prosperous farmers, came here in 1885 and says that his brother, who preceded him, had been taking the paper for two or three years. For the first few years Mr. Leonard lived with his brother and read his paper and then when he founded a home of his own one of his first actions was to subscribe to the Quiz and he hasn't missed an issue since.

Another Ord man with a perfect record is W. L. McNutt, who arrived in Ord in 1887 and subscribed to the Quiz the first day he was in town. Since then he has read the paper every Thursday, he reports.

Mrs. Wm. Leininger writes from her home at Arcadia to say that her father, A. Walkup, subscribed to the Quiz with its first issue and took it as long as he lived. Then Mrs. Walkup read it throughout her life and Mrs. Leininger writes that she hopes to read it every week as long as she lives.

"There have been a great many changes in these fifty years," says Mrs. Leininger. Her first teacher was Mrs. Etta Clements and Mrs. Leininger says she will never forget her. "She was always so good," she adds. (Mrs. Clements passed away Saturday evening at her home in Lincoln. She was the widow of the late Judge E. J. Clements.)

It is the hundreds of friends such as those who are mentioned above who have permitted the Ord Quiz to grow and prosper as the years have gone by. Won't the many hundreds of others who have taken the Quiz thirty years or more write in and tell us about it, so that we may give honor where it is due?

Mrs. Marie Larsen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Petersen, was born February 14, 1844, in Sonder Bjerge, Skjold, Denmark. She was married to Christian Larsen in 1875. To that union were born five children, three sons and two daughters. Three children survive their mother, Jim Larsen, Mrs. Vi Mortensen and Chris Larsen, all of Ord. Two children and her husband preceded her in death, Mr. C. Larsen, Mrs. Bertha Mortensen and Hans C. Larsen. There are fourteen grandchildren and six great-grandchildren left to mourn.

Mrs. Marie Larsen and husband left Denmark and came to America in the year 1899. They lived in Howard county two years and from there they moved to Garfield county and stayed until 1910. They then came to Valley county where she has resided since.

Mrs. Larsen was well known and loved by all who knew her. She was a kind and helpful Christian and her presence will be greatly missed by all.

VACLAV URBAN.
Vaclav Urban was born in Dekava in Czechoslovakia, Dec. 25, 1842 and passed away March 10, 1932 at the age of 90 years, 4 months, 10 days, at the home of his youngest son Will Urban of Comstock. He married Marie Bartu in the year 1873 and soon after they came to America, settling at Milligan in Saline county and there they resided for 4 years.

In the year 1884 they moved to the western part of Valley county where they settled on a homestead two miles from Comstock. There the family farmed for 23 years and there most of their children were born. In the year 1907 they decided to quit farming and moved to Comstock where they lived until 1922.

Then they moved to the home of their son John Urban where his wife preceded him in death Oct. 5, 1925. Since that time he has made his home among his sons. In the year 1931 he moved to the home of his youngest son, Will Urban, where he lived until his death. He leaves to mourn seven children, 30 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. Three children have died, one of them dying in infancy, the other, Frances, wife of Emil Pliva, dying Oct. 26, 1918 and Frank Urban dying Oct. 1st, 1926.

The living children are James Urban of Friend, Nebr., Joseph, John, Emil, Will and Mrs. Fred

Mrs. Alma Ette Clements, daughter of the late District Judge E. J. Clements, passed away at 3 a. m. Sunday, March 13, at her home in Lincoln, which city was the Clements' home since they left Ord about 1902. Funeral services were held at Castle, Roper & Mathews chapel Monday at 4 p. m., the Rev. P. H. Murdoch having charge, and burial was in Wyuka cemetery beside the body of her husband who passed away in 1923. One of the pall-bearers was W. T. Barstow, a former Ord man.

Alma Ette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Rogers, was born in New London, Conn., Jan. 10, 1861 and came to Ord in 1882. She was married to Elliot Clements, then a young lawyer here, on Dec. 25, 1885 and they made their home in Ord for many years. Mrs. Clements was one of Ord's first school teachers and several of her pupils still live here.

Mrs. Clements was a member of Trinity Methodist church in Lincoln and also of the Order of the Eastern Star.

She leaves one daughter, Mrs. Edna Sill, of Lincoln, and a brother, F. H. Rogers, of Escondido, Calif.

Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements drove to Lincoln Monday to attend the funeral, returning to Ord the same evening.

It is hoped that a love for flowers and a fondness for the wholesome hobby of growing them may be planted with the tiny seedlings when the children raise them. The plan will be announced through the schools, and the children will be urged by their teachers to plant something and make it bloom. By teaching the children to love flowers, it is also thought that respect and interest in them for the lawns of neighbors will be fostered.

The $25 given by the Chamber of Commerce will be given in prizes of $10, $7.50, $5, and $2.50 for the most attractive places. It is now planned to select a show day for the city, and to have votes cast to determine the most beautiful home grounds. Then the home winning the most votes would be given first prize, the runner-up would receive second award, and etc.

It is announced by Chairman Goddard that the Yard and Garden contest this summer automatically includes everyone in Ord, that without further listing or entering You and YOU are entered in this contest, and are going to do your best to make your home as attractive as possible. No fees will be collected, and no rules exist, except that you improve and beautify your home grounds as much as you can this year. No outlay of money is necessary, but it is necessary to make our lawns like velvet, and to prune trees and shrubs, to keep rubbish hauled off, and to plant and care for as many flowers and shrubs as we can. This year Ord is going to be even prettier than it was last year, when compliments flew thick each time a visitor came to our city!

—Donald Stewart, who is employed at Pender, was in Ord for a few days this week visiting relatives and friends.

As "Bluebird" Set New Mark

Breaking his own world's auto speed record of 245.733 miles an hour, Sir Malcolm Campbell is shown flashing across the Daytona Beach, Fla., sands past the finish line in his Bluebird racer to set a new world's record of 253.936 miles an hour. Campbell then made the return run, bucking a dangerous 40-mile-an-hour headwind, for an average of 241.773 miles an hour.

Spring Silhouette Is Neat, Well-Defined

NEW FROCKS, MANY OF THEM RAYON COMBINATIONS, HAVE FEW FURBLOWS BUT ARE FINE FOR GENERAL WEAR

BY HARRIET

SPRING may be still around the corner, technically, but with the weather as mild as this winter is, a woman's thoughts already are turning to spring clothes.

The new silhouette is neat, wide-shouldered, well-defined. It has shed all its fluttering odds and ends and even tied up its scarfs into neat bows, knots, or loops them through slits in coats and dresses.

It is smart this spring to be "roughing" it in spongy fabrics, many of them mixtures of rayon and cotton or rayon and wool.

When you select the style you want, suit your own personality. If you are the aloof, self-contained type of person who enjoys looking most lady-like and well-groomed, you can have a little suit that accentuates this quality of yours.

Such a one is a new black formal afternoon suit of a new crinkle crepe, Biarritz. This suit uses the diagonal line in its trimming of smoky blue, buttons of composition in a shade exactly matching the blue fox on the sleeves. The skirt is quite tight until it flares quite low and the upper part fits down over the skirt to hipline.

The sleeves are set in, slantwise, and the upper part fastens by buttoning down one shoulder seam, instead of the front. Worn with these are gloves, hat and shoes of black.

If you are a sportswoman, or a school girl, there is a new type of suit which seemingly was designed for you. It is made of red spun rayon fabric, which has an all-over diamond pattern in its weave that is very rich and pretty. There is a skirt of quite straight-line cut, buttoning up the sides. The little short-sleeved blouse of white is a new spun rayon pique, and it has a scarf that is monogrammed, quite the latest touch.

The pull-over jumper belts at a slightly high waistline and then fits down over the skirt to a rather high hipline. This dress illustrates the short-waisted spring style that most new frocks and suits adopt.

The hat is made of the suit's material, with white straw, a nice combination for both wearability and beauty. Pull-on beige gloves are the choice for this costume, as they promise to be very popular this spring with dresses, suits, sports things and coat outfits.

Haskell Creek

There were thirty-two in Sunday school Sunday morning. The S. S. missionary for this district, A. L. Nordin of St. Paul, was present. He gave a short talk after the lesson study. The Young People's class will meet at L. S. Larsen's for a party Friday evening of this week.

In a letter from friends near Norman, Nebr., we learn that road conditions in Kearney county have been worse than here this winter. They had not been able to use their car since Christmas because the roads were so bad, the mail carrier was able to travel only north or south from Norman so to get any mail they had to put boxes along this way. East and west roads were impassable even with a team and wagon for a while. They had mail in their box by their home only once in two months. Sometimes we may envy them their level land but we can at least travel over our hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Nielsen called at Frank Miska's Monday. This week's issue of "Creaky Creaks of Haskell Creek" the high school paper, is very interesting. The editors are certainly giving their readers sensational news patterned after the latest in the prominent dailies.

Dean Flynn, Richard Whiting and Fred Nielsen were dinner guests at Charles Marshall's Sunday. Miss Carrie and Alice Larsen called at Chris Nielsen's and Charles Marshall's Saturday morning.

Anna Mortensen and Hazel Ralls back were weekend guests at Wil Nelson's.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Leonard were Sunday guests at Frank Flynn's. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana and family visited at Frank Miska's Sunday evening.

Dud Philbrick, Fay Patrick, Palmer Canfield, Mr. Tifton, Dale Philbrick and Donald Patrick, all of Ericson, were at Ben Philbrick's Friday. Dale Philbrick and Donald Patrick stayed until Sunday when Mr. Philbrick and Mr. Patrick came down after them.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson were dinner guests at Will Nelson's Sunday.

Mrs. Wes Miska and sons, Richard and Gerald, visited with Mrs. Carl Holm Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson called at Henry Jorgensen's Sunday evening.

Ida, Roy and Jess Howerton were guests at an anniversary dinner at Russell Waterman's Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Nevrlly and family are moving this week to a farm thirteen miles southwest of Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woods and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Hill and daughter called at Will Nelson's Friday evening.

David Fergalges of Ericson is visiting at Ben Philbrick's.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Alderman and children were at Wes Miska's Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Dana and family called at Vincent Vodehual's Friday evening.

EQUITABLE TAXATION.

As aptly pointed out at a meeting of the Taxpayers League last Friday, the general property tax system has reached the point where it no longer can be considered a fair and equitable method of raising the revenue needed to run the schools and to conduct the affairs of state and local government. In the United States as a whole three-fourths of the money raised for local and state needs is raised by a tax on general property. In Nebraska it has been estimated that this percentage exceeds 80 percent. To devise a more equitable system of taxation is the crying need of the moment.

Conditions have changed since the time when tangible wealth closely approximated ability to pay. Now the fact that title to a certain piece of real property is in the name of a certain man means little, for surveys conducted by the state university show that 61 percent of all agricultural property in Nebraska is mortgaged for its full worth under present land values. When such a condition is found it becomes increasingly apparent that any system that levies four-fifths of all tax money on tangible property must be glaringly unfair.

Tax experts have always warned that any tax, carried to excess, is self destructive as a source of revenue and that is what has happened in Nebraska and many other states. The costs of government have mounted, valuations of real property for tax purposes were arbitrarily increased, levies mounted higher and taxes gradually became confiscatory.

While this has been going on there has been an enormous increase in the number of people who own no real property and who therefore do not share in paying the costs of the government whose advantages they enjoy equally with people who do pay a tax on real property. To find some way of taxing these people is the real problem.

There is only one method, of course, of bringing about a tax reduction and that is reduction in the cost of government. Such reduction must take place but even more important is the need for a more equitable distribution of the tax burden. The state income tax advocated by Mr. Cushing, and which he hopes to pilot through the coming legislative session if he is re-elected, is the greatest hope for equalizing the tax burden.

A tax on salaries, wages, fees, commissions and income from intangibles should be placed in effect in Nebraska. It has been estimated, that 73 percent of the gross income of Nebraska's population is earned by people who pay 27 percent of the state's taxes. Naturally, this leaves 73 percent of the taxes to be paid by a class that earns only 27 percent of the income.

The greatest hope for reform in our taxing methods lies in the interest people are taking now in tax problems. When the full inequality of our present system is fully realized, steps will be taken to change it.

HOOVER'S BIG CHANCE. It seems a foregone conclusion that Herbert Clark Hoover will be the republican candidate for president this year. To fact-facing republicans in this part of the country it seems equally certain that he will be defeated for re-election, that is unless democrats develop strife within their ranks and are led into nominating an unpopular candidate. These are conclusions that any unprejudiced observer will admit are reasonable.

How much better for the good of the republican party, for his country's good and to serve his own best interest it would be if President Hoover would decide that the state of health forbids his being a candidate this year. Though the nomination is hot for the asking, defeat is almost a certainty and no man's prestige is enhanced by defeat. On the other hand, a statement from Hoover that he is not a candidate would pave the way for the nomination of a man like Charles G. Dawes, who would have an excellent chance to win.

The one republican in the country who is acceptable both to the east and farming states is Mr. Dawes. He would give any candidate the democrats might name a run for his money. President Hoover could have been heralded as a big man, a courageous man, a magnanimous man. To preserve party solidarity and to assure that republicans remain in charge that must follow this depression would be the greatest patriotic service President Hoover could do for his country. Let him prove his courage, his bigness, his magnanimity, by retiring now from the race.

IT REQUIRED A TRAGEDY.
For years foresighted men like our own Bert Hardenbrook have been pointing out that drastic changes in our criminal laws are needed if the rising tide of crime in this country is to be checked.

Our whole legal system is designed to aid the criminal in escaping punishment for his wrong doing.

Though certain lawyers, educators, editors, preachers and economists have been awake to the crying necessity for such change the attitude of the great mass of the American people has been passive. Before the urgency of the need could be comprehended by the rank and file some great calamity had to occur. Two weeks ago that calamity did occur when the little son of Charles and Anna Lindbergh was kidnapped.

Is it true that gangdom in the United States is stronger than the forces of law and order? To the last breath you and I would have been willing to deny that this was so until recent months. We knew that it was so in Chicago, perhaps in certain other gangridden sections of the country, but not in the whole United States, we argued.

Then came the Winkler affair, then this lieutenant of the great Al Capone bargained with the owners of the state of Nebraska and obtained his freedom by payment of a princely ransom. We began to wonder. Then came the Lindbergh kidnapping and now everyone is ready to admit what such men as Mr. Hardenbrook have known to be true for years—that reforms in our criminal laws must be made or society is at the mercy of the criminal element.

Foreign nations are sneering at us, we are mocked by their newspapers and reviled by their statesmen. We are the most lawless country in the world in spite of all our wealth and all our pretensions.

It is time for us to awake to the necessity for speeding up court action, removing the barriers that now protect the criminal, modernizing our antiquated legal machinery to permit swift, sure punishment for every crime involving moral turpitude. The gangster must go, the venal policeman and judge must go, the grafting politician and the jaded lawyer must go. We must put our house in order, both to prevent a recurrence of such a case as the Lindbergh affair and also to salvage our own lost self respect as a nation.

ANCIENT HISTORY. "Way back in the eighties when I first started my Nebraska newspaper career," writes Henry Allen Brainerd, historian of the Nebraska Press association, "eggs were selling for 4¢ a dozen and pork 5¢ a pound. When we talk of hard times and depression we want to remember that there has been some depression in Nebraska before now. I have seen 6,000 bushels of shelled corn lying on the ground and the owner could not get a bid of 6¢ a bushel. I remember when it took three bushels of corn to get one to Chicago. One winter when the times were hard and the farmers pushed I had three 3-deck wagon loads of corn on the cob landed at my door for 25¢ a load. I just paid for the hauling, the corn was donated and I burned corn buffalo chips nearly all winter. Rains about depression, I have seen grasshoppers when they would fly over a night on the fence and the hoppers would be gone and they had eaten the wheat. I have seen these darned 'singing locusts' or whatever they call 'em when the webbs are so thick across the track and the rails would get so slick that it would stop a train and the engineer would have to take a barrel of sand extra to get him over his run. In times like these the renter gets the worst of the deal, I must admit, but when a man is thrifty and gets ahead in one way or another, the renter or the borrower has to stand the gap."

The conditions described by Mr. Brainerd were familiar to everyone who has lived in this part of Nebraska forty years or more and these old timers realize as we moderns cannot that our present troubles seem pretty tame in comparison with those they suffered.

NAIVE COL. DAVIS. One of the most naive statements it has ever been our fortune to encounter is contained in a recent report of Col. George H. Davis, who is head of the Salvation Army in Chicago. In the past sixteen months the Army has furnished lodging to 1,100,000 homeless or unemployed men in that great city. Among that number there have been observed only 75 cases of bad drinking and 1,000 cases of moderate drinking, the colonel reports. Which prompts him to include in his report the following testimonial for prohibition:

"Evidence shows that drink has been reduced almost to the vanishing point. Having nothing to do, these unemployed homeless men would have had to resort to drink as a means of escape if they could get it, but they can't because the open saloon is gone."

This from Chicago, where are said to be more speakeasies than there were saloons in pre-Volstead days.

Either the Davis powers of observation are atrophied or else the colonel possesses a Pollyannish ability to see what he wants to see wherever he looks. We don't believe there is a hamlet or city in the United States where liquor cannot be bought if it is wanted. Certainly not Chicago.

If the Salvation Army figures are correct, which is doubtful, it could be believed that the high percentage of tee-totalers were abstainers from choice or because they didn't have the money with which to buy

20 Years Ago This Week. Louis J. Miller and Miss Mabel Flint were united in marriage. Jonie Level's restaurant in Aragon was destroyed by fire. R. C. Bailey and J. H. Carson were rival candidates for mayor. A late, cold spring was in force as there was still 12 inches of snow on the ground and the river was ice covered.

Candidates on the republican ticket for state representative included W. L. McNutt and W. G. Rood of North Loup. Mr. Mather of Arcadia and John Ceplecha were the democrat candidates and Ceplecha also was prohibition candidate.

Della Billings gave a party in honor of Mildred Daniels, who was home from the state university for spring vacation.

5 Years Ago This Week.

A. J. Firkas' big purebred stock sale was held and the stallion Aquila brought $700. The top on bulls was $330, which was a little less than expected. A span of iron gray colts brought $400.

Edith Olsen won first prize and Mabel Ruhl second in an essay contest sponsored by the G. A. R. Other prizes were won by Lottie Green and Ethel Newbecker.

A. M. Daniels was nominated for mayor by the wets at their annual caucus.

John McLain went to Omaha with a car of cattle and came back by way of College View, where he visited a big sale of purebred Durangs. On the prize bear he placed a bid of $1,500 but lost his nerve there and the animal finally was sold for $6,000. J. A. Ollis, Jr., bought a sow to this bear, which was said to be the finest of the breed.

Frank Barto quit his job with F. J. Dworak and went to Montana to occupy the claim he won in a land drawing.

Buckles on Advertising. (Hastings Democrat)

Newspaper advertising has never had the value as news that it does now, in the opinion of Doyle L. Buckles, editor of the Fremont News, who addressed the Lincoln Advertising Club Monday noon at the chamber of commerce. His subject was "Advertising As A Force In Business in 1932."

"The pulling power of a newspaper now is wonderful," he said.

"Because people are reading advertising more than at any time in the history of the newspaper business."

"The average newspaper owner does not realize the value of his publication to his community," Mr. Buckles declared, emphasizing that in any community the newspaper is the only medium through which it is possible to get one's name before the public in the proper way. Advertising is just as much a part of a business program in these times as buying stocks and arranging them on the shelves.

The speaker told of an insurance agent at Holdrege who advertises every week in the year. "Every dollar spent for advertising returns $5," the agent wrote Mr. Buckles. "Advertising is not an expense. It is an investment." As a result of his advertising, Mr. Buckles said the agent was high man for his company in Nebraska, selling a policy each week for 362 consecutive weeks.

Mrs. Jim Lane, daughter of R. O. Hunter, writes to have her Quiz changed to Gering and wants us to send her a calendar.

Many Valley county people called the first of the year or soon after to get their calendar. Later they have been sending in subscriptions and we have been mailing them calendars. We are running very short of the calendars and will only mail them out to those requesting them with their payments from now on, as we do not want to duplicate on the calendars.

It looks as though we are going to have a sale tax and it seems to me it is a fair tax, as everyone will then help pay the tax. Now there are a vast number of citizens who do not pay a tax of any kind, yet they do get all the benefits of a powerful government. I think everyone should help support the government that protects them. The question is to figure out the best method of making them pay some part of the cost of the government.

I can't see any sense of the government being so almighty afraid of losing a few dollars by loaning seed and feed money to the farmers when they lost millions and more millions on their wheat deal. After all the people are the government and the sooner they can be put on a sound footing financially the better.

I also think it was mighty funny the government had such a fit about paying the soldier bonus when it is approaching almost countless millions for every other purpose under the sun.

A friend takes me to task for believing that the government should issue a reasonable amount of money, enough to make business good, instead of thinking the money must first be given to the banks and then borrowed from them. Monday Arthur Brisbane says that the government should issue the money and that business and confidence would return shortly. He points out that the government has sent millions and billions to send across the water to loans to foreign countries and that money has not come back and is not going to come back soon, some of it never. If the farmers and merchants of this country had all the money that was sent to Europe we would not be having hard times.

Because times were bad and because money is scarce, I have temporarily reduced the price of the Quiz to $2 without in any way reducing the quality of the paper. If business does not pick up I shall have to cut out some of the features that cost lots of money. One is the colored supplement. I can save $100 a month by cutting that one feature out. I don't like to do so because I know the readers of the paper and especially the children like it.

I know one little tot who is only 2 years old and who will not be able to read for a long time yet, who, when the Quiz is brought in, grabs the colored pages, spreads them on the floor and then lays on her stomach and devours the pictures. Scores of other youngsters have told me, personally, how much they liked the "funnies."

Advertising, as you all know, is very bad. What I am trying to say is that you who owe for the Quiz and who get a statement, try to pay up if possible. Almost everyone can send a dollar to pay a part of a year if all cannot be spared at this time. I have borrowed about to the limit and while I want to keep the Quiz to the high quality it has always been, and not drop any of the present features you will have to co-operate all you can till business is improved.

Easter Dessert.

1 slice sponge cake toasted light brown. Then on top the toasted cake place a half peach, rounded side up. Surround this with sweetened and flavored whipped cream. You will see then that your dessert looks very much like a poached egg on toast.

I am sending this early enough so that housewives may try it before Easter if they wish, and then place it on the Easter menu.

Mrs. Archie Boyce.

Easter Salad.

1/4 lb. cottage cheese, 1/4 tsp. salt, 3-4 c. chopped nuts.

Mix the cheese and salt and oil into small balls. Roll in the chopped nuts. Make nests of shredded lettuce and put three balls in each nest to represent eggs. Garnish with sprays of parsley. Serve with French dressing made as follows:

1 tsp. salt, 1 tsp. sugar, 1/4 c. olive oil.

Mix the salt, sugar and paprika together. Add the vinegar and oil and beat thoroughly until thick.

In a couple of weeks farmers will begin sowing oats. It is important that oats be planted early. A seven year series of tests at Lincoln indicates that one can expect as much as a bushel decrease in yield per acre for each day after April first that seeding of oats is delayed. Almost the same is true in the case of barley.

Oats are apt to be put in rather carelessly, as early planting is more important than careful seed bed preparation. Plowing oats ground seldom pays for the extra cost. In fact oats are hardly ever a paying crop in Nebraska anyway. We are on the extreme southwest edge of the oats producing region, and our climate is apt to be too hot and dry for this grain.

Nebraska 21 and Burt 293 have proven to be the best yielding varieties of oats for the central part of the state. These strains produced three percent more than Kherson oats. Burt, Texas Red, Kersher and Kanota are other good varieties. Hullless oats have also shown valuable possibilities. These oats are best because they are early, and ripen before hot weather comes.

Seed treatment is advisable, as Valley county has plenty of smut. That is, unless his wife started one, privately. (Wait 'till Anne sees that crack!) My wife won't be worth a pft.

What I meant to say about the Kocina accomplishments though was that he was the only gentle rug hooker I have heard of, to date. And he still holds that record.

The lady writes in to suggest that this year all children who care about it be given a tiny corner, possibly only two or three plants to call their own and have an opportunity to be little gardeners. A wagon box is covered over night with a canvas or blanket, and the seed is planted the next day. In case it cannot be planted the following day, it should be spread out thinly or the formaldehyde will kill it.

Oats are broadcast and drilled. Drilling increases yields, takes less seed, and works better when using oats as a nurse crop. But the differences are so small that most farmers use whatever kinds of machines available.

Despite their unprofitability, oats are widely grown. They are suited to the labor schedule and the rotation; no other crop fits in quite so well between corn and wheat. Oats come in handy as an early feed; and are also the best grain feed for horses.

VALLEY COUNTY IN SEED LOAN AREA

TWO TICKETS NOMINATED FOR CITY OFFICES

Moses and Hardenbrook Are Named Candidates For Mayor
At City Caucuses.

Assurance that the city election April 5th will be the most interesting contest Ord has seen for several years was given last Thursday evening when nominating caucuses of the Citizens and Good Government parties were held, for the two parties put different slates in the field and almost every office will be contested.

Meeting at the district court room the Citizens caucus started out as usual with the election of A. J. Shirley as chairman and the appointment of Vincent Kokes as secretary but there the resemblance to the past few caucuses ended for practically every nomination thereafter was hotly contested.

Nominees for mayor were the present incumbent, Wm. Moses, and Attorney Bert M. Hardenbrook, the former being nominated by Emil Feske and the latter by Gould B. Flagg.

Ralph W. Norman and E. C. Leggett were appointed tellers by Chairman Shirley and a vote was taken, the vote giving Mr. Hardenbrook the nomination by a 47 to 29 count.

The Citizens party endorsed retiring school board members, J. W. McGinnis and Horace Travis, for re-election without opposition. Miss Lucinda Thorne and Ormsby Petty were endorsed for city clerk and police magistrate respectively, no opposition developing for either position. W. C. H. Noll was nominated for city treasurer over Wm. Heuck after a close vote and Dr. F. A. Barta was chosen as the party's candidate for park board member.

Nominees for councilmen on the Citizens ticket were Dr. F. L. Blessing, 1st ward; Dr. F. A. Barta, 2nd ward; and Henry Misko, 3rd ward. Later Dr. Blessing withdrew and Frank Johnson was named in his place. These are all new entrants in city politics, the councilmen whose terms expire being Will Sack, Henry Frey and Joe Rowell.

At the Good Government caucus in the city hall affairs ran more smoothly along usual lines, Wm. Moses being nominated for mayor over Marlon Crosby by vote of 38 to 13 and other nominees being in most instances, those whose terms to the same positions expire this spring.

In the first ward Will Sack was nominated for the council, Chester Palmer was the second ward nominee and Joe Rowell was named in the third ward. Frank Koupal was nominated for park board member, J. W. McGinnis and Horace Travis for school board members, Lucinda Thorpe for city clerk, W. C. H. Noll for city treasurer and Ormsby Petty for police magistrate. Mr. Koupal refusing the park board nomination, Dr. C. C. Shepard later was named in his place.

Chairman of this caucus was Clarence M. Davis who was elected after H. B. VanDendar called the meeting to order. A. B. Capron was appointed secretary.

The Good Government committee to fill vacancies and arrange for next year's caucus is composed of C. M. Davis, A. B. Capron and W. L. McNutt and the Citizens party committee for the same purpose is made up of Vincent Kokes, Ralph W. Norman and E. C. Leggett.

North Loup Bank Pays Out $15,932

First Dividend Since Bank Closed
In October Declared, 10 Percent Of Deposits Distributed.

Almost sixteen thousand dollars was distributed among depositors in the North Loup State bank Monday, the money being a ten percent dividend and the first one declared since the bank closed early last October. The exact amount distributed was $15,932.

Depositors received the money in the form of checks from the state receivership department.

About $10,000 more of the bank's funds is being held up awaiting decision of priority claims by the district court and another dividend will not be declared until this is cleared up.

Two weeks ago the State Bank of Ord paid a 20 percent dividend to depositors and another dividend probably will be declared in about sixty days.

ORD CREAMERY WINS 2ND PRIZE FOR FINE BUTTER

Buttermaker Carlsen Gets $5
Bill And Silver Medal; Butter
Sells For $1 Per Lb.

Only one co-operative creamery in Nebraska makes finer butter than does the Ord creamery, it was learned at Lincoln last week when twenty-one co-op creameries of Nebraska competing the Ord institution won second prize in the butter contest. In addition to the honor of placing second in this big contest Buttermaker E. O. Carlson was awarded a silver medal and a $5 bill.

Each creamery entered a ten pound tub of butter and judges were experts from the College of Agriculture. First prize went to the Madison creamery, whose butter scored 98, and second prize to the Ord creamery with a score of 92.

After the contest all of the butter was sold at auction and the Ord butter brought $1.00 per pound. The first prize butter brought $1.20 and highest price, $1.65 per lb., was paid to the third prize winner, the Hay Springs creamery. This high price resulted from a bidding contest between a representative of the Northwestern railway and the Hay Springs creamery's New York representative.

The butter contest was held in connection with the annual convention of Nebraska co-operative creameries. Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord creamery, was president of the creamery association and presided at all meetings. A. W. Cornell, Ord president, also attended the convention.

Harness Thieves Are Busy, Sheriff Warns

Harnessed thieves are busy again in Valley county and farmers are warned by Sheriff George Round to keep track of their harnesses. Saturday night two sets were stolen from Jerry Zulowski and his brother, who farm north of Elyria. One-half cases of explosive were used, says County Engineer Ayres.

The approach road on the south side of the Sumter bridge was covered by a roaring torrent of water Thursday, report travelers, and late in the day Friday huge chunks of ice could be seen in the road and alongside it, washed up by the high water.

North Loup river bridges in Garfield and Loup counties did not fare so well last week for the entire center section of the Willow Springs bridge will have to be rebuilt, the Burwell Tribune says, but approaches to the Kent and Taylor bridges were all that were damaged. Not in several years has the ice gone out of the Loup all at once, as it did this year. Old timers tell about ice gorges like the one at the Sumter bridge last Thursday but most younger people had never seen the river present such a spectacle as it did last week.

In his pasture above Elyria, Steven Dubas reports, a pile of ice as high as the First National bank building was left by the high water. Fences in the lowlands above Elyria were destroyed by the ice, he says.

Pike and other fish, washed up by the high water and bruised or killed by ice, were left on the banks of the river, Mr. Dubas says.

The Pecenna & Perlinski slaughter house on the river bank just east of town was flooded when the water rose and some little damage was done.

Arcadia Bridge Saved.

Arcadia, March 19.—(Special)—Great excitement was caused here Wednesday when the Middle Loup was running within a foot of the floor of the river bridge. The ice jam at Comstock was dynamited and came down the river in a huge mass, causing the river to rise more than two feet in an hour. The Community park and Jenkins tourist park were both several feet under water and for a time park was held for the Community park buildings. The river was at its highest about five o'clock and then gradually receded, leaving a swift running current.

BAKE SALE

The Catholic ladies will hold a bake sale at the Pecenna & Perlinski market Saturday, March 26. All are solicited to patronize it. 1-1t

Young Miss Spring Escorted In By Snow Storm

Traditionally March 21st is the first day of spring in Nebraska but when young Miss Spring arrived Monday morning she was escorted by one of the heaviest snowstorms of the winter. The snow fell Sunday night and Monday totalled 3½ inches, which brought Ord's snow fall since Nov. 16, 1931 up to 46 ¾ inches.

Moisture content of Monday's snow was .39 inches, Horace Travis says, bringing the winter moisture total up to 5.51 inches.

Snow melted rapidly beneath sunny skies Tuesday and unless the weather changes Easter Sunday will be a pleasant one here.

McGINNIS HEAD OF FARM BUREAU BASEBALL LOOP

Hather Chosen Vice President
And Dale Secretary; 7 Teams
In, One More Is Wanted.

With seven teams represented at a meeting Saturday in County Agent Dale's office the Valley County Farm Bureau Baseball League was re-organized and will function again during the coming summer.

Dr. J. W. McGinnis was elected president, Chas. Hather vice president and Carl Dale was chosen secretary and treasurer.

Teams represented were the Ord Joints, Mira Valley, Eureka, Joint, Olean, North Loup and the Ord Delco-Lights. One more team is wanted and a committee is appointed to canvass the possibilities and report at the next meeting April 2, at which time a schedule will be drawn up and league rules decided.

Piskorski Buys Old Creamery For $891

At a tax sale Monday Frank Piskorski purchased the old Ravenna creamery building, more recently the property of Glen L. Johnson. The price was $891 and Mr. Piskorski states that he bought the property as an investment, believing that the building and lots were worth much more.

He plans to paint the building and make repairs, after which he hopes to find a lessee or purchaser for the plant. It is adapted for the making of ice cream or butter or would make a good small canning factory, he says.

Dr. Weekes Will Return Next Week

Word just received from Dr. Charles W. Weekes, who has been convalescing in California from a major operation, is to the effect he has almost entirely regained his strength and is now enjoying the best health he has known for several years. He plans to leave for Ord the fore part of next week and will resume his practice immediately upon his arrival. This will be good news to friends and many patients of this locality who have been awaiting his professional services for a number of weeks.

RESPECTED ORD WOMAN DIES, IS BURIED SUNDAY

Mrs. N. C. Christensen, An In-Valid For Years, Passes March 17; Leaves 10 Children.

Mrs. N. C. Christensen, 66, respected resident of Ord and Valley county since 1888, passed away at 12:25 p. m. last Thursday at her farm home northeast of Ord, her death resulting from an illness of several years. Funeral services were held Sunday at the M. E. church, Rev. L. M. Real of the Presbyterian church conducting the service, and interment was in Ord cemetery.

Six sons of Mrs. Christensen served as pall-bearers and a quartet composed of Dr. Blessing, J. R.
Stoltz, Mrs. Jos. P. Barta and Mrs.
A. S. Koupal, with Mrs. Marion
Cushing as pianist, sang.

Christina M., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lars Hanson, was born Febr. 9, 1866 in Denmark and came to this country in 1882 with her uncle, Jacob Olsen, settling in Omaha.
There, in 1885, she met and was married to Nels C. Christensen and three years later they came to Valley county which has ever since been the Christensen family home.
From 1919 to 1930 they lived in Ord and the rest of the time on their farm.

Twelve children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Christensen, two of them dying in infancy and the others, with the husband and father, remaining to mourn their mother. Surviving children are Rhynie, Harry, Raymond,
Alvin and Miss Agnes, Mrs. Henry Jorgensen, Mrs.
Dagnar Cushing and Mrs. F. J.
Dvorak, Jr., all of Ord; Louise Christensen,
Wheatland, Wyo., and Martin Christensen, Mitchell, Nebr. Mrs. Christensen also leaves three brothers, Viggo Hansen, of Arcadia, J.
P. Hansen, of Ord, and Martin Hansen, of Walla Walla, Wash.

Mrs. Christensen was a member of the Danish Lutheran church and was a devout Christian, exemplifying in her daily life the tenets of her faith. She was a good mother, a loving wife, and until overtaken by illness was always able to spare time for neighborly acts of kindness.
Her funeral services Sunday were largely attended and Mrs.
Christensen will be greatly mourned.

North Loup Youth Hurt in Car Crash

Darrell Coleman, of North Loup, suffered a dislocated shoulder
Sunday evening when the car in which he was riding crashed into the car owned by Coach Cecil Molzen, of Ord, on the highway near North Loup. Members of the Molzen party were uninjured while two other North Loup boys, Milford Sample and Elmer Drawbridge, escaped with minor cuts and bruises. Sample's car was badly smashed.

Mr. and Mrs. Molzen and Elwin
Auble were returning from Lincoln and had stopped near the Jackman farm to remove ice from the windshield of their car. Coach Molzen said the other car coming from the rear and waved to the driver but Sample did not see his signals and the cars crashed.

After striking Coach Molzen's car the other auto skidded into the ditch and overturned, pinning young Drawbridge beneath. A deep cut on one leg and minor cuts about the face comprised his injuries but young Coleman did not fare so well. Dr. W. J. Hemphill was called and accompanied Coleman to Hillcrest hospital here, where his dislocated shoulder was set. He was suffering great pain.

Frosted windshields were blamed for the accident.

STATE DIRECTOR WILL BE IN ORD NEXT TUESDAY

Farmers Who Expect to Apply For Federal Aid Asked To Meet With Mr. Brokaw.

Federal crop production loans will be available to Valley county farmers this year.

This was the welcome announcement made late yesterday by County Agent Dale, after he talked over the long distance telephone with State Director W. H. Brokaw, who was holding a meeting in Columbus.

Director Brokaw will be in Ord next Tuesday and at 2 p. m. a meeting will be held in the city hall of all farmers who expect to make application for federal loans.

Complete explanation of the loans will be made at that time.

Federal loans are made available by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which appropriated $50,000,000 to be loaned to farmers who are unable to get credit from usual sources, these loans to be used for the purpose of putting in a crop this spring.

Under certain conditions loans up to $8 per acre, with a maximum of $400 to an individual, will be made. Any farmer who farmed last year and who is unable to get ordinary credit is eligible for loan.

Members of the Valley county committee in charge of making these loans are Chairman Jos. P.
Barta, Will Nelson, Ed Holub,
Harry Kinsey, and J. W. Barber.

This committee will act in an advisory capacity with community committees that will be appointed later at each Ord trading point.
All committee members will attend the meeting Tuesday, along with interested farmers.

State Director Brokaw stated yesterday that loan application blanks would reach Ord before next Tuesday and that all farmers who need loans and who are eligible for them can be accommodated.

NEW "NEW CAFE" TO OPEN MONDAY

Briley & Knebel Restaurant In Benda Bldg. Redecorated, Will Please Public.

The name "New Cafe" above the door of the restaurant conducted by Maggie Briley and Miss Gertrude Knebel will again become an apt one next Monday evening when shortly before 6 p. m. the doors of Ord's newest restaurant will swing open to the public.
An especially prepared dinner will be served throughout the evening at special prices in honor of the restaurant's opening.

Ever since they leased the Benda building, formerly occupied by The Lavada, the New Cafe proprietors have had carpenters, painters and electricians working.
The building has been completely redecorated and refurnished and the painter, Ford Shirley, and electrician, Harold Hallen, are completing their work this week.

Booths along the west side offer privacy, tables of all sizes from just-large-enough-for-two to large-enough-for-the-whole family occupy the center of the floor and along the east side is the lunch counter. New lighting fixtures overhead and lattice screens over the windows complete the coziness of the new restaurant.

The present New Cafe will close tonight, the proprietors announce, and from now until Monday evening will remain closed while they become established in the new place. They will welcome all their old friends and new ones also for dinner Monday evening.

Gets Land Deed After Fifty Years

A land transaction which stretched over 50 years of time before it was truly complete came to light here recently when Herman Brown of North Loup appeared before County Clerk Iga. Klima to record a deed.

In 1882, on June 10, Mr. Brown bought 37 acres of land from the
C. B. & Q. railroad, the land lying a few miles from North Loup, east of the river, the purchase price agreed upon being $343.25.

In 1892, ten years later, the deed to the transaction was made out, but not filed. Recently Mr.
Brown wanted an abstract, and discovered he must get another deed. He did so, and the deed was duly recorded, just fifty years after the sale.

MRS. GEO. BAKER OF NORTH LOUP IS LAID TO REST

Honorable Riverdale Resident,
Born In England, Converted In Youth by Famous Dr. Moody.

Friday afternoon funeral services were held at the Methodist church in North Loup for an English girl who came to this part of Nebraska many years ago, and had made it her home ever since finding here first her father and motherless brothers and sisters; then her husband and a happy family of children; as well as many true friends and a pleasant life in her adopted country. The girl who emigrated to this country was born Louis Jane Stuart; at the time of her death Tuesday morning, March 15, in the title, the name by which she was revered by many, was Mrs. George Baker. Services were conducted by Mrs. Baker's pastor, Rev. George Schwabauer. A quartet consisting of Madams Schwabauer and Hoeppner and Messrs. Hudson and Petty provided music. Pall bearers were chosen from old friends and neighbors, and were Claude Thomas, Mike Schudel, Paul Bartz, Julius Schoning, Frank Olson and Will Salter. Interment was made in Scotia cemetery.

Mrs. Baker was born in the little village of Stroud, in Gloucestershire, England, on July 29, 1866, and was the eldest in a family of four daughters and two sons who were born to Charles and Jane Stuart. One sister died in infancy. Much of her early girlhood was spent in the home of a grandmother and aunt who lived in Hastings, England. "Louie," as she was affectionately known, was employed in the art department of Brooker and Jespin's store, of that place, as a young lady.

Her parents with her two sisters and two brothers, came to America in 1883 and located on a homestead a few miles north and west of Horace, Nebr. Her father, by trade a wool sorter, strove with difficulty to produce a living for his family from the soil, and a great tragedy befell. The mother met her death in a prairie fire near her home.

The eldest daughter was sent for and in June, 1887, accompanied by an uncle, who sailed for America, landing in New York City on July 2. About two weeks later she joined her father and the motherless children at Scotia, Nebr.

On May 1, 1888 Miss Stuart was united in marriage to George Baker, whose homestead was close by that of her father. To them eleven were born, and all of them with their mother during her last hours on earth. They are: Mrs. Winnie Bartz, North Loup; Miss Cecile Baker, North Loup; Stanley and Gilbert of Ericson, Nebr.; Mrs. Edna Sohl of Cedar Bluffs; Mrs. Inez Skadden of Scotia; Mrs. Ellen Bogestad of Ericson, and Irene, Raymond, Donald and Ruth, all of whom live in North Loup.

The Baker family moved several times within Valley and Greeley counties, finally purchasing their present home in 1901, which, although only a sod shanty at that time, was nevertheless home.

Mrs. Baker was converted in early youth by the preaching of the famous Dr. Moody in London, and became a member of the Episcopal church of England, and though bound by many everyday duties, has always remained much interested in the work of kingdom building. For several years she has been a member of the Sunday School home department of this church, and affiliated with the Women's Foreign Missionary society, and enjoyed her church work very much.

In addition to her husband and children and 13 grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Ada Timmons of Horace, Mrs. Alice Colby of Greeley, ley Center; two brothers, Harry and Alfred Stuart of Alberta, Canada, the aunt with whom she lived in England, now in San Jose, Calif., and a number of more distant relatives survive. Her father died Dec. 18, 1915 at Alberta, Canada.

With her health failing for the past two years, Mrs. Baker has kept her troubles to herself, courageously neglecting to mention her own ills, but inquiring as usual after other people's welfare. At 2:30 Saturday morning she was stricken with paralysis due to a complication of diseases. She was semi-conscious until Sunday night when she became entirely unconscious, and passed away peacefully at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, March 15.

Saturday Sale Big One.

The Weller Auction Company's Saturday sale last week was the best so far this spring. Sixty-four different farmers consigned stock and other stuff to be sold and buyers were here from seven counties to attend the sale. Ord merchants were pleased with general business Saturday and part of the credit should go to the sale barn for bringing them here. Another big sale is looked for this week.

PETUNIA FORGES AHEAD AS ORD'S OFFICIAL FLOWER

Voting on Flowers To Continue Through March; Everybody In Contest This Year.

With an entirely new and different plan of action, the Ord Yard and Gardeners are getting away to an early start this spring, with actual plans and work already being done. The news that flower shows will be held every two weeks in the stores of various merchants who will act as their own judges and present prizes picked from their stock has encouraged many who never considered that they themselves had a chance, on previous occasions.

The prizes in the flower shows, as chosen by the merchant in whose store the show is held, will be two. One of these prizes will be given for the most charming bouquet brought in according to the taste of the merchant-judge. The other prize given will be for what the merchant decides is the most beautiful individual blossom brought in for display in his store.

Entries in these flower shows must be in the store holding the show by two p.m. on Friday afternoon. The entries will then be held over Saturday for display to the Saturday trade. The list of merchants who will hold these shows and give prizes will be printed next week in the Quiz.

Many flower seeds have already been sold, merchants who handle them report. A number of good clever gardeners have little seedlings big enough to transplant now, and are busily watching them, with expectations of having early blooms. Several basements resound just now with the noise of carpentering, as Father builds a new seat for the garden, or perhaps makes a tiny birdhouse.

It is high time to lay your plans for the summer gardening work. While it is still too early to do anything outside, even if the weather was clement, it is just the right time to begin taking slips and preparing for active gardening outside when the temperature is favorable.

No canvass of Ord will be made this year to secure members in the Yard and Garden association. The Chamber of Commerce, headed by John Goddard, decided to automatically include every Ord resident, and consider everyone in Ord a member. This of course includes you, so don't forget your duty, which is to beautify Ord by beginning at home.

Petunias have forged ahead in the vote for Ord's official flower, and now have nearly twice as many votes as many other of the five entries. Voting for the official flower will continue through the last day of March, and the winning flower will be urged for growing by everyone in Ord. If you don't like petunias you should surely look to phone or mail your vote in for one of the other four—larkspur, marigolds, annual phlox, and nasturtiums. Use the handy coupon below at once, and each member of your family is entitled to a vote. Draw a ring around your choice now, and leave the coupon at the Quiz office or mail to the Chairman Yard and Garden contest, Ord, Neb.

ORD HI SCHOOL DECLAM CONTEST ENTRIES CHOSEN

Students Compete Tuesday Evening For Honor of Entering Sub-District Meet Mar. 29.

A declamatory contest with pupils of Ord schools taking part was held at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening to choose the boys and girls who will compete in the sub-district meet here soon.

In the oratorical class there was only one entry, Charles Barnhart, who of course won. Extemporaneous speaking by Edith James and Julius Vala resulted in the latter, Julius Vala, winning first. In this department two general topics are studied by the entries, such as "National defense" and "U. S. Foreign Relations", then sub-topics are given to the contestants, who have an hour to study them and prepare to speak. They must then speak without notes.

Many who had planned to enter the meet could not do because of illness, so all classes of competition were smaller than had been expected. In the humorous class entries were Gwendolyn Hughes with "Jane" and Rosemary Needham with "At the Movie". Rosemary Needham was voted to receive first by the judges, who were three high school teachers, Mr. Lukenbach, Mr. Cass and Miss Hinckley.

Entrants in the dramatic class were more plentiful, though some withdrew. Florence Kokes was winner with "A Reasonable Doubt", Irma Kokes won second place with "A Believing Heart", and Marion Grace Cushing placed third with "Death Disk". Two others competed, Verna Stowell with "Soul of the Violin" and Thelma Palma with "Keeper of the Light".

No one-act plays were entered in the contest, but Ord has one ready and will enter this class in the sub-district contest which occurs here next Tuesday evening, March 29, in the Ord high school auditorium. Winners in this sub-district meet go to Kearney to the district meet on April 8.

The Ord contest, though not large, was a good one and much enjoyed by those present. Miss Jean Nelson has done much of the coaching, and deserved credit, some of the work being especially outstanding. A number of musical selections interspersed the speaking, and pleased the audience.

In the sub-district contest, to be held here next Tuesday ten or twelve towns are expected to send representatives and a fine program is planned, which will last all afternoon and evening.

Striving to Merit Your Continued and Valued Patronage

Arcadia Department

By MRS. RAY GOLDEN

Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne entertained at a kensington Wednesday for the purpose of promoting interest in a free chautauqua for Arcadia. A vote was taken on the matter and it was decided to hold the chautauqua for a period of three evenings at some convenient date this summer. A free chautauqua was held in Arcadia one evening last summer and met with marked success. During the afternoon, election of officers was held for the Women's Community club with the following results: president, Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne; vice-president, Mrs. Otto Rettenmayer; secretary, Mrs. Alfred Hastings and treasurer, Mrs. E. C. Baird. A large number of the ladies signed for membership in the Women's Community club for the coming year. Mrs. Hawthorne served a delightful two course lunch at the close of the afternoon.

Commercial students of the Arcadia high school are busy preparing for the district commercial contest which will be held at Kearney, April 1st. Those students who have qualified to attend the meet in the several departments are as follows: Spelling, Marguerite Rebenmayer; Margaret Betts and Robert Jeffrey; Advanced Typewriting, Glenn Jameson, Evelyn Hyatt and Dean Twombly; Beginning Typewriting, Hazel Sherbeck, Dorothy Evans and Marguerite Rettenmayer; Advanced Shorthand, Glenn Jameson; Beginning Shorthand, Hazel Sherbeck, Maxine Marvel and Orville Marsh; Bookkeeping, Mary Elizabeth Cook, Louis Drake and Maxine Marvel. The following records have been made in typewriting: for advanced students, 15 minutes, Glenn Jameson, 65.7 words per minute, Evelyn Hyatt, 61.9 words per minute; for beginning students, Marguerite Rettenmayer, 42.5 words per minute; Dorothy Evans 42 words and Hazel Sherbeck 41.3 words per minute. In one minute accuracy tests, Evelyn Hyatt wrote 82.6 words, Glenn Jameson 79 words in the advanced class and Hazel Sherbeck has written 61.4 words in the beginning class.

At the caucus which was held at the school building Monday evening for the purpose of nominating candidates to fill the expired terms of Mrs. Inez Lewis and C. C. Weddel as members of the Board of Education, Elmer Wibbel, W. J. Ramsey, C. C. Weddel and Mrs. Inez Lewis were placed in nomination. The caucus was presided over by H. D. Weddel as chairman and W. J. Ramsey acted as secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Lane and family were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Woodworth Sunday.

Most Powerful Magnet Can Drag Flatiron

A 700-pound magnet, the largest in the world, to be used for drawing tiny splinters of iron and steel from the eyes, has been installed in the Eltel Hospital, Minneapolis, Minn. The instrument, which can drag a flatiron across the floor and stop a watch brought into the same room with it, has a 10 horse power pull and contains more than 7000 feet of wire. Dr. L. R. Mackay and Nurse Flora Olson are demonstrating its use on Miss Marle Skele in this picture.

A LONG STRIDE FORWARD.

A step in the right direction was taken at Omaha last Thursday when county assessors of Nebraska, holding their annual convention, voted 41 to 23 in favor of a blanket reduction of 15 percent in assessed valuation of all real property and improvements in Nebraska. Assessor Weller, of Valley county, while not present at the meeting, is known to be heartily in favor of a reduction of this sort.

The vote taken by assessors followed an action taken by the Douglas county board of equalization the day before, that body having made a reduction of 15 percent in assessed valuation in Douglas county.

It becomes increasingly apparent that the trend of taxation will be downward instead of upward in the next few years. And it is time, too, for the pendulum of taxation has swung higher and higher until it has reached the point when it must fall or ruin will result.

Last year all real property in Valley county reached a total valuation of about $13,500,000. Should a 15 percent slash be made here this would be reduced about $2,000,000. Unless levies are increased it would bring about a substantial tax decrease and that is the problem county officers must face if and when assessed valuations are reduced.

In some instances Valley county levies have reached the limit fixed by law. In such cases no increase will be possible but unfortunately there is a provision in the law that allows a deficit to be created and then the next year permits an extra levy for the purpose of retiring the deficit, this levy to be over and above the levy allowed by law.

There are some governmental costs, of course, which do not permit reduction. We refer to fixed costs such as interest on bonds, etc. These costs must be met in some fashion, even if an emergency levy is required as mentioned above. But wherever it is possible to trimming costs closely to stay with the tax funds raised by the usual levy, even with a 15 percent reduction in valuations such a policy should be followed. County officers should cooperate in doing this; every taxpayer should scrutinize closely the record of public servants to see that they do so.

Yes, the proposed valuation slash is a long stride forward in reducing taxes but its benefits can be easily nullified unless public officers are economical and citizens watchful. But we believe that they will be.

THE CITY CAUCUSES.

Every little once-in-awhile the Quiz feels called upon to compliment some person or some organization for valiant public service and this week our plaudits go to voters at the Citizens caucus, who last Thursday brought some new actors to the city political stage.

These complimentary remarks are not based upon dissatisfaction with the record of the present powers-that-be. In fact we believe that the citizenry of Ord should give a vote of thanks to Mayor Moses for his long period of honorable service to Ord, first as city councilman and more lately as mayor. Mr. Moses and those who have served in the council with him have devoted long hours to what is too often thankless work and we believe that they always have based their official actions upon what they honestly believed best for Ord.

Unfortunately, it is human nature to lose interest in things that become commonplace. Familiarity breeds indifference and that has been the case in city elections too often in the past. In recent years it has been a regular occurrence for both caucuses to endorse the same set of candidates, all good men and true, surely, but not providing the element of contest that is so necessary if citizens are to take the interest that they should take in public affairs.

Thanks to the action of the Citizens causus the city election on April 5th this year will provide plenty of controversial questions. For may we will have two candidates, Bert M. Hardenbrook and Wm. Moses, both well qualified for the position and both with the best interests of Ord at heart although they may feel differently on certain questions. For the city council we will have two sets of strong candidates, so that voters in each ward may decide who is to carry out their wishes during the coming year. If the school board states and certain other positions show no contestants let us ascribe it to the satisfaction that present holders of the positions have given. And to crown it all we have the question of whether or not natural gas should be allowed to be brought in to our city.

A record vote should be recorded at the city election and the wishes of the majority, as expressed at the election, should be allowed to rule.

ANNIVERSARY ISSUE.
It was originally planned that this edition of the Quiz would be our 50th anniversary issue but when the announcement was made it was not recalled that a weekly newspaper must, in one year out of each four, mail fifty-three issues instead of the customary fifty-two in order to reconcile the newspaper year with the calendar year. Accordingly, this week is No. 53 of our fiscal year and next week will be the 50th anniversary edition.

The Quiz was founded April 2, 1882 by W. W. Haskell and next week with the first issue in its 51st year, we will have for readers an article written by the founder telling about his experiences in starting the paper, how he happened to name it "Quiz" and other interesting points. This article should be of interest, particularly, to early day settlers, as will other articles in the same issue.

Early subscribers who want their names included on the Roll of Honor have another week to send in their names and the approximate date when they first subscribed.

TOO MUCH CHLORINE.

Grand Island home brewers are sorely troubled.

A few weeks ago the city water plant installed a chlorinator and began to introduce chlorine gas into the city water supply, the purpose of course being to assure the water's purity at all times.

Immediately home brewers began to ask why their latest batches had such an odd taste—a "dark brown" taste, the Independent calls it, which is a right apt description for the taste of some of the home concoctions that masquerade as beer.

Finally the odd taste was traced to the chlorine in the city water, and malt sales immediately began to fall off. Home brewers just couldn't drink their own product as made with the chlorinated water.

Now here in Ord home brewsters have the same problem, as water here has been chlorinated ever since the new filtration plant was installed some years ago. But our Ord brewers, so we are informed, get around the problem in a novel way. They make their "slop," or whatever they call the stuff, in the usual way, then throw in a handful of rice, a few potatoes cut up, a handful of raisins, maybe dried apricot or whatever else is lying around the kitchen handy, and then let the stuff ferment for the usual period of time. By using this method they guarantee that the chlorine taste will be almost imperceptible. We offer this solution of the problem to Grand Island brew addicts for what it is worth.

DON'T WANT TO SAVE.

An administration spokesman at Washington last week made a statement to the effect that "If the sales tax is not passed by Congress the salaries of all government employees must be reduced." He seemed to regard such an alternative with horror, which sums up the opinion apparently held by most members of Congress.

There seems to be no disposition in Congress, on the part of either democrats or republicans, to SAVE money. All worry appears to center around the problem of HOW TO RAISE MORE MONEY BY TAXATION.

If government expenditures were cut ten percent, or a trifle more, there would be no necessity for the sales tax.

What is so terrible about the prospect of reducing government salaries? Every private employee in the country has had to take a big salary reduction. Every employer has suffered from a loss in income. Every land owner, every holder of stocks and bonds, has lost; why not government employees?

We fear that our representatives at the nation's capital do not realize, or if they realize do not heed the desires of the people they represent. Will they awake in time, or will it be necessary to "clean house" at the fall election?

Catches First Catfish.

The first catfish caught here this spring, so far as has been reported, was caught east of town in the North Loup river last Friday by Perry Timmerman, who ranks as one of this community's ablest fishermen. Perry fishes from the time the ice goes out in the spring until the river freezes in the fall and has made many good catches of pike and catfish. Other fishermen report catching redhorse, carp and other coarse fish this spring.

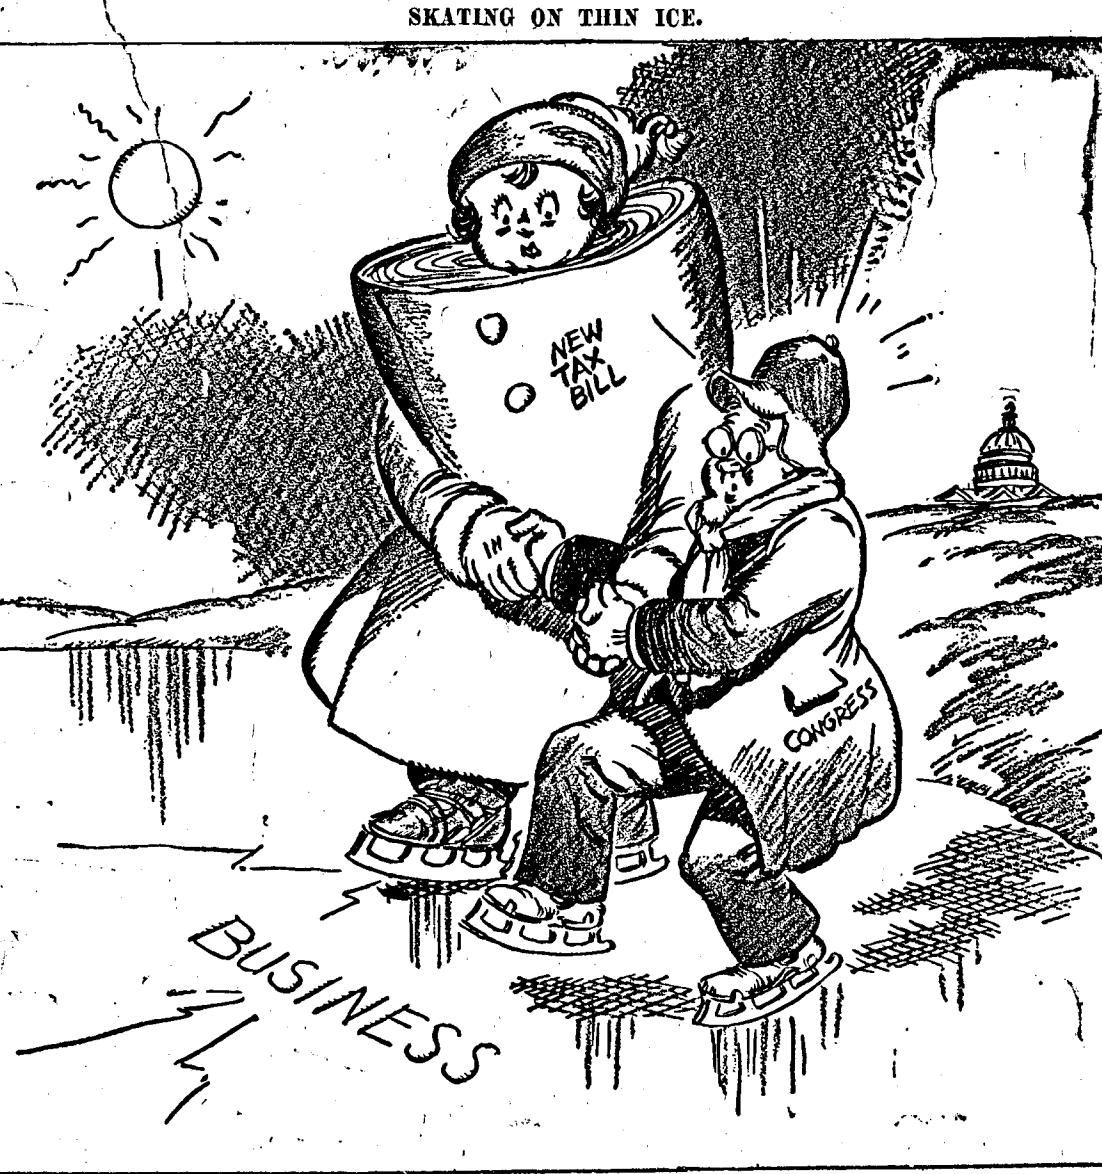

Mr. and Mrs. Viggo Hansen, of Arcadia, were in Ord Sunday to attend the funeral of his sister, Mrs. N. C. Christensen.

Fat Men

Mr. W. R. Daniels of Richmond Hill, N. Y., writes: "Have finished my second bottle of Kruschen Salts—results—removed 3 inches from waistline—am 25% more active—mind is clear—skin eruptions have disappeared—am 46 years old—feel 20 years younger."

To lose fat surely and SAFELY, take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning.

But be sure to get Kruschen—your health comes first—a bottle that will last you 4 weeks costs but a few cents at McLain & Sorenson's or any drugstore in the world—if not satisfied—money back.

Burned Sugar Cake.

1½ c. sugar, 2-3 c. shortening, 2 egg yolks, 1 c. sweet milk, 2½ c. flour, 2 tsp. baking powder, 1 tsp. vanilla, 3 tbsp. burrit sugar, 2 egg whites, beaten. This cake can be mixed in the order given:

Mrs. Charlie Huehner, Rt. 2

I don't know just how to use the burned sugar, as above, but I use that much or more burned sugar syrup, made by stirring dry sugar over a hot fire until it is melted and then pouring in a cup or so of water. Stir till a smooth syrup.

Here is a dandy, different one:

Noodle Ring.

Boil 1 lb. noodles in salted water as usual. Drain well. Add butter the size of an egg and three slightly beaten eggs. Put in a tube pan and set in water to bake until noodles are firm like custard.

When firm enough turn out on a large platter. Fill center with creamed dried beef and serve creamed carrots and peas around the outside. This makes a nice one-dish meal.

Mrs. Colin Anderson, Burwell, Rt. 2

Ice Box Cookies.

2 c. brown sugar, 2 eggs, 1 tsp. soda in sugar. 1 tsp. cream of tartar in flour. 1tsp. vanilla, 1 c. chopped nuts. Enough flour to make a stiff roll. Place in ice box slice and bake as needed.

Mrs. Cecil Molzen,

Thank you very much, Mrs. Molzen, for sending in the recipes. Another cook who has been very generous about sharing her prize recipes is Mrs. Archle Boyce.

Heavenly Hash.

Soak 1 lb. apricots (dried) over night. Drain and run through a food chopper. Add 1 large can shredded pineapple. 2 oranges and the juice too, and 1 lemon. Let this simmer for 15 minutes. When done add for every part of fruit, same amount of sugar. Let simmer until this jelly and then can.

Mrs. Arlene Boyce,

Is that not delicious sounding? As so is this apple pie which is just a little out of the ordinary.

Apple Pie.

1 c. cooked apples, mashed, ½ c. sugar, ¼ c. raisins, ¼ tsp. cinnamon, ½ tbsp. butter or 3 tbsp. sweet cream.

Cook apples, sugar, raisins, cinnamon and cream for about 5 minutes. Then take 2 tbsp. cornstarch dissolved in about ¼ c. water, pour on the apples and boil to stiffen. Remove from the fire and add ¼ tsp. vanilla. Pour on a baked pie crust and serve with whipped cream. This makes only one pie.

Changing Order of Worship.

The corner stone of the new Methodist church was laid, Dr. L. B. Schreckengast presiding. In the corner stone were placed, among other articles, a photograph of the old church, copies of the Quiz Journal and Northwestern Christian Advocate, names of trustees, stewards, Sunday school teachers, church society officers, past and present, members of the church, the name of the first missionary to go to foreign fields from Ord, Dr. Emma Robbins, and a copy of The Trail of the Loup.

Mrs. Alice A. Hoffmaster died after a long illness. Funeral services were held from the home of Mrs. Eva Clements, Rev. Davies presiding.

Frank Johnson and Mrs. Jennie Parker were married in St. Paul.

George Newbecker, local Ford and Overland dealer, was advertising "torpedo runabout" Fords at $640. Ford touring cars at $740. The Overland, advertised as "five passenger, four-door, 300 horsepower," cost 1,000, and the 45-horse power Overland cost $1,600.

When the Burlington passenger broke down between Horace and Ord and was stalled so long that the 16-hour limit which railway men might work was passed, several high-up officials who happened to be making an inspection trip took over the regular trainmen's duties while the regulars were allowed to sleep in the coaches. The superintendent became engineer, the chief dispatcher became conductor and the general superintendent of bridges acted as fireman. The train reached Ord at midnight.

Though a long-time advocate of the move, the writer had his first experience in witnessing a formal of worship is stood on its head and torn asunder. Preaching and Sunday school services are going on at one and the same time. The services begin at 10 a. m., with the adult bible classes occupying different spaces in the main auditorium and in the choir room and pastor's study, with the usual opening services omitted. At the same time the junior classes met in their usual places in the basement and the intermediates met in the league room, both first having worship services, the juniors led by their teachers and the intermediates addressed by the pastor. At 10:30 the junior and intermediates, remaining in their regular places, take up the bible lessons, while the pastor comes to the pulpit and conducts the preaching service which closes at about 11:15. Then all departments come to the auditorium for closing exercises, comprising the offering, the announcements, "Anthem" and the benediction. By this double-team method all may attend preaching and Sunday school services, the preacher may deliver his message to his separate audiences, suiting his talks to each, and the whole service is shortened a half hour.

Now if all the protestant churches in each town and small city would meet in one place, economy, progress and the spirit of unity would be enhanced.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Potatoes were raised last summer by three agricultural students. Each boy took care of one acre. All three lost money because 1931 was not a potato year. The costs of production varied from 20 to 40 dollars an acre. The yields ranged from 15 to 80 bushels. The boy with the largest production had the most expense. This was because his share rent was greatest and his labor was increased. His seed cost was larger too, as he planted more seed.

A direct relation seemed to exist between planting rate and yield. Raymond Desmul planted the thickest, 12 bushels per acre, and his plot grew the most potatoes. Monty Petersen seeded the thinnest, 5 bushels per acre, and received the poorest yield. Ray Melia's seeding rate, 8 bushels, ranged midway between the other two, as did his production. These results may have been due to coincidence, or other reasons.

Monty Petersen treated his seed against diseases with corrosive sublimate. He placed 4 ounces of the poison in 30 gallons of water and soaked the seed in this solution for half an hour.

Formaldehyde is more commonly used on seed potatoes. Applied cold, the tubers are soaked for half an hour in a mixture of one pint 40 percent formaldehyde to 30 gallons of water. Hot formaldehyde is considered better. The solution is made twice as strong, and the potatoes are immersed at 124 degrees Fahrenheit for 4 minutes.

Treating seed kills the germs of diseases on the outside of tubers, but does not kill those inside the tubers such as Blackleg and blight. It does not prevent disease that is already in the soil, from attacking potatoes. Seed treatment is nevertheless recommended.

The use of home grown potato seed is not advisable unless it is produced under straw. It is also unwise to plant rough, small, scabby or spindle-shaped tubers, or those that have had sprouts broken off. Seed pieces should be about the size of an egg. Ohio, Cobbler, and Triumph are good varieties.

Northern seed is best, but potatoes sold as such may not always be of that origin. When potatoes are sacked in some places the small ones are still poured in through a stove-pipe held in the center of the bag.

CURIOSITY KILLED A CAT.

A Wall Street banker claims to have received the following from a western banker who says a debtor sent it to him:

"Gentlemen: I wish to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you my check in response to your request. My present financial condition is due to the effect of the federal laws, state laws, county laws, incorporation laws, by-laws, brother-in-laws, and outlaws—all having been foisted on a weekly unsuspecting public. Through these various laws I have been held down, held up, sat on, walked on, flattened, squeezed and broken until I do not know what I am, where I am, or why I am.

"These laws compel me to pay a merchant tax, capital tax, excess tax, incorporation tax, real estate tax, property tax, auto tax, school tax, gas tax, light tax, water tax, cigar tax, road tax, syntax, liquor tax, and carpet tax.

"In addition to these taxes I am requested and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventively mind of man can idealize, visualize, and organize. To the society of St. John the Baptist, women's relief, navy league, children's home, policemen's benefit, Foreign Missionary Society, the Anti-saloon league, the Speakeasy Legal Defense Fund, the T. M. C. A. and the transient home for unemployed gold diggers. Besides are the Red Cross, the white cross, the flaming cross, and the double cross."

"The government has so governed my business that I do not know what owns it. I am suspected, expected, inspected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, condemned and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to provide an inexhaustible supply of money for every known and unknown need, desire and hope of the human race. If I refuse to donate to all, and then go forth to beg, borrow or steal the money to give away, I am ousted, cussed, disgraced, boycotted, talked about, lied about, kicked about, held down, and robbed until I am

FICKLE WEATHER.

It has been said that "women are fickle, false altogether," which is all well and good. But they have for a serious rival, Nebraska weather. We have certainly had our share of "fickle" weather this year.

First we had a long spell of wonderful spring weather. It was great. The ground warmed and began to thaw, the sky was blue, and the air was warm. Some bees appeared and a few robins were reported. All was well until it began to get a little colder.

Then one morning we awoke to find the ground covered with snow and a howling blizzard raging. Winter had returned, for then in sharp contrast the days were gray, the air was full of snow driven by a freezing wind.

Methinks it would have to be a spirited lass from Erin to come near Dame Nature's moods.

It is true that there are many ways of seeing the change of weather. The loveliest way is to watch the sky. Sailors may have their sea but the land-lubbers have our sky.

In this spring weather it varies greatly from minute to minute. Any time of the year it changes from hour to hour. The sky can be angry and dark or it can be clear and blue.

We Nebraskans may have more than our share of storms but that is made up for by sunsets. There is nothing more beautiful in the whole world and has more power expressed in such delicate and exquisite terms as our sunsets.

It's a peculiar fact that weather must be absolutely perfect to escape from criticisms. There never has been a month of perfect weather and for that matter never will be, but everyone of us begins to plot for the murder of the weather man if we don't get it. Yet, variety is the spice of life," with weather as with the fair sex. Praise the gods for that.

HOME ECONOMICS.

The varying tastes of different people have been clearly shown in the Home Economics classes this week. The sophomores have been making several salad combinations of varying ingredients and flavors. They have also prepared both Irish potatoes and sweet potatoes and the choice in the combinations showed the girls' varying tastes. The variety and types of dresses being made by the freshman girls is very interesting. Many of the dresses are made of gingham prints. They are all very attractive with their colors, some bright and some dainty. Some dresses are made sleeveless with no collars, some have sleeves and either small jackets or jacket effects.

Their dresses are all very airy and attractive and some of them are of thin material which gives the impression that summer is close.

The economics class by these girls is shown by a report handed out one of the dresses. It is a very pretty green gingham print neatly trimed with plain green material. The report reads: material 43c, bias tape 6c, thread 4c, Total 53c. Miss Baird told me that another very pretty dress of thinner material was made for 73c.

This week in related arts the girls are completing the plans and furnishings for their houses under Miss Hardin's supervision.

The Home Management class of sophomore girls have been studying time value and budgeting this week. Mrs. Watkins taught one of the classes in this subject while Miss Hardin took Mr. Cass' place in that period during his absence.

SPORTS.

Speaking of treats, Mrs. Keppel certainly did her share. After the final game she entertained the boys with an oyster feed. Right rippling what? That shows appreciation.

And now with the Spirit of Spring in the air we prepare for a most successful track season.

Coach Molzen as we said before will have some mighty fine stuff in the person of E. Lashmett. Marks Brothers ought to get some place in the hurdles too. Prof. Lukenbach ought to be an able assistant during the track season. I discovered the other night that he goes in for distance running. The 880 and the miles are his favorites, ask me how I know?

May we have some second Asher's, Lambertus, Lockes and Paddocks on our track squad this year.

Auble went to Lincoln last weekend and entered the state wrestling tournament. In the first round he was defeated by Puncochar with a time advantage of 1:03 minutes.

DECLAMATORY CONTEST.

Most of the contestants in the Declamatory contest have their readings now and are working on them. Due to the fact that Miss Nelson has so much work, Miss Johnson and Miss Fredericksen are helping the contestants with their readings.

Miss Shaver and Miss Blanchard are helping those taking part in the extemporaneous division. Those taking humorous readings are Rodney Stoltz, Alice Verstraete, Verna Stowell, Irma Kokes, Jessamine Meyers and Gwendolyn Hughes.

Smile: Marlon Grace Cushing,

Marjorie Ball, Rosemary Needham, Thelma Palmatter and Florence

Kokes. In the extemporaneous division are Edith James, Adrian Tolten and Julius Vala.

A one act play will also be given.

CLASS NOTES.

Tuesday, the public speaking class gave their exchange program at Loup City in the Liberty theatre. This program was given for Ord high school at two separate convocations. A one act play and several short numbers were given at each.

The Chemistry class has started the study of the metals. Last week they finished an interesting lesson on cellulose.

Ord Christian Church.

We will have one of our flower sermons for Easter. We believe this will be one of the finest of the decorative sermons we have had and will be very appropriate for the day.

Keep in mind the Bible school at 10 a. m., every Sunday.

Mid-week Bible study on Thursday evening.

The afternoon prayer meetings this week are most helpful and interesting.

We will be at the Easter cantata at the Methodist church next Sunday evening.

Bethany Lutheran Church.

S. S. Kaldahl, Pastor

Sunday school at 10 a. m.

Evening service at 8 p. m. At this service Miss Anna Oleson will speak to us about the mission work at Santal, India. Miss Oleson was a member of our church in Omaha.

She is a graduate nurse of Emmanuel Lutheran hospital of Omaha. When she went to India she was assigned to work at the Leprosy colony. This work should be of interest to all of us, so we urge you to come and hear Miss Oleson.

Ladies aid at the home of Mrs. H. Bossen at 2 p. m. on March 28.

Methodist Church.

During this Passion Week we have all been thinking more than usual about the Master's suffering and sacrifice. And you may want to come on Friday and take Communion. You may come at any time, as the pastor will be in the church all day, and until 10 o'clock. Also if any wish to be baptised and received into membership that may also be attended to. Come alone or with others as you wish.

Easter Sunday always brings an unusual number to church. Our programs will be interesting. The combined service of worship and study begins at 10 o'clock and closes at 11:30. Members may be received Sunday morning and an opportunity will be given for the baptism of little children.

At 8 o'clock the Easter cantata will be given.

W. H. Wright.

Presbyterian Church Notes.

There will be special Easter services next Sunday morning at the Presbyterian church. Rev. Deale's topic for the Junior service at ten o'clock is "What crucified Christ?" His topic for the adult worship beginning at 10:40 a. m. "Who did Christ have himself crucified?" There will be baptism of babies at the opening of this service and at the closing part new members will be received following the baptism of adults.

The union choir under the direction of Mr. Glen Auble will present the cantata, "The Resurrection and the Life" at 8 p. m. in the Methodist church.

Last Sunday evening the Expression club elected new officers:

Wayne Johnson as president; Jessamine Meyers as vice president; Betty Lou Sweet, secretary and treasurer.

This closes a very successful year for the Senior Expression club with an average attendance of 25. Next Sunday evening they will meet with the Junior Expression club.

Steve Wentek and his mother visited with their grandfather and father John Kozol Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bolte and Walter and Edna and Mrs. Harry Abrahams drove to Mira Valley last Sunday morning and attended church. After church they were dinner guests at the home of Mrs. Bolte's sister, Mrs. Steffen and family.

Last Thursday afternoon Don Sperling and his hired man, Frank Wright both accidentally stepped on a nail. Towards evening their feet began to swell and caused them considerable pain, so they drove to Scotia to consult Dr. Royer.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Watson drove up from Lincoln last Sunday bringing Harold Rich to his home. The Watson's stayed at Mr. Rich's until Thursday. Harold graduated last week at the agricultural college in Lincoln. He expects to work on the road this summer.

There was a big sale at Scotia last Saturday, the largest one held there for a long time. Louie Miller led a horse home for Mr. Hassell, who lives in Sherman county.

Mrs. Mabel Tolten was hostess to the U. R. club last Friday afternoon. There were only a few members present because of bad road conditions. The club decided to give their play, "Mrs. Jenkins' Brilliant Idea," Thursday evening, April 7. An admission of five and ten cents will be charged at the door. Those attending are requested to bring either sandwiches and cake or sandwiches and potato salad and enjoy a social time after the play. Mrs. Tolten served a lunch of ice cream and cake. Next Thursday, March 24, the club will meet at the home of Mrs. Jesse Waller and Mrs. Alfred Christensen and Mrs. Brown from Riverdale will present the lesson on decorating kitchen articles.

Willis Miller spent last Saturday night at the home of Mikie Whalen.

Bernard West of Scotia went home with Eldon Wheeler last Friday night and stayed until Sunday.

Hulda Ingraham, who is staying at the Miller home and going to school is spending a few days with her parents near Arcadia.

Roy Horner has been very sick with the flu and pleurisy for several days. He is under the care of Dr. Royer of Scotia. Don Horner is working for him.

Miss Velma Leach who lives near Central City has contracted to teach the grade room in Union Ridge. Miss Leach is niece of Mrs. Roy Williams.

At the P. T. A. meeting at the school house last Tuesday night, Mrs. Miller read a paper on "Character Education in the Home" and Miss Campbell gave a talk on character education in the school illustrating her talk by means of posters. Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Waller shelled music on violin and piano. Miss Acker had charge of the members of the Knightship of Youth. Nearly enough money has been raised to purchase a lantern for the school house and the teachers have agreed to look after this matter. After the close of the meeting a lunch of sandwiches, cake and coffee was served in the basement. The next meeting at the P. T. A. will be held the second Tuesday in April.

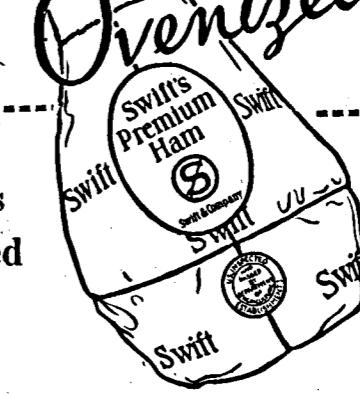

The ladies of the U. R. club met at the school house last Tuesday night to practice their play, "Mrs. Jenkins' Brilliant Idea."

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wrzesinski and four boys have moved from Elba to the Robbins farm in Union Ridge. Three of the boys will go to school. Marion Chipp, who lived in this neighborhood a good many years ago, is working for Mr. Wrzesinski.

Mrs. Murray Rich gave a surprise party for her son Harold last Monday night. About twenty-five young people were present and they spent the evening playing rook. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were served. Harold just returned from Lincoln last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hrdy were Comstock visitors Saturday.

AUCTION
at the Weller Sale Pavilion, Ord
Saturday, March 26

1:30 P. M.

65 TO 75 HEAD OF CATTLE

We will have a good offering of all kinds of cattle this week. Last week we had over 150 head and the demand was very good. There is considerable inquiry for warmed-up cattle. If you have any cattle for sale, why not sell them at home instead of paying freight or trucking on them to Omaha and taking a big shrink besides. There is plenty of demand right here to take care of all the green and warmed-up cattle we can get. This week's offering consists of yearlings, cows, calves, both stockers and feeders, of high-grade quality. Two good young shorthorn bulls, several mitch cows and a number of baby calves.

HORSES—We sold 23 head of horses at last Saturday's sale on a very satisfactory market. We can handle at least 40 head this week. Bring in your horses. Now is the time they're wanting them. If you are in need of a horse or two here is the place to buy them. They must be as represented.

PIGS—We will have at least 20 head of vaccinated bred sows, 12 of them high-grade Hampshires, 100 or more head of stock pigs. Here, to we urge you to bring in your stock pigs as the demand is very good at steady to stronger prices. 6 head of duroc bred sows.

Sweet clover seed, alfalfa seed, seed corn, potatoes, furniture, 3 section harrow, gang plow, go-devil, corn planter, cultivators, extra good wagon, harness, rack, mower, New Tractor Lister, 120 oak posts, etc.

64 people consigned livestock to last Saturday's auction. Everything sold well. One of the largest crowds of the season was on hand with 7 counties represented by either buyers or sellers. This is truly Central Nebraska's greatest auction market. It will pay you to buy thru, and consign to our regular weekly sales. Bring in what you have to sell and get the cash for it.

Low Prices Rule At Hereford Sale

Fortunately, Clare and George Clement and breeders who consigned purebred Herefords to the Clement sale last Wednesday were not anticipating that prices would be high. If they had known they would have been bitterly disappointed for prices paid were the lowest in years. In view of present conditions, Messrs. Clement and the other owners were fairly well satisfied.

The top cow in the offering, a five year old with calf at side, sold for $125. The top bull brought $120 and will go into the famous Sherbeck herd at Ansley. The average for all cows was $71.50 and the bull average was $67.50. Most of the animals will go outside of Valley county, though good ones were bought by Herman Koelling, Art Mensing and a few others. Three of the Herefords were bought for Iowa breeders.

A nice crowd was present at the sale and Cols. Thompson and Weller did a nice job of selling. The offering was a quality one from first to last, and stockmen who passed up an opportunity to buy at such prices will be bitterly reproaching themselves before another year passes, or we miss our guess.

TRYING OUT WITH OMAHA

Trying out with the Omaha Western league baseball club this year is John Honeycutt, formerly of North Loup, but who has been pitching around O'Neill for the past few years. Another hurler well known here who is with Omaha is Ray Ehlers, of Council Bluffs, who pitched for the Scotia Demons two years ago.

Blessing Is Named County Chairman

Dr. F. L. Blessing this week was named Valley county chairman for C. M. T. C. activities this year and already Dr. Blessing has appointed county committee members and has started a drive that he hopes will culminate in Valley county having a good representation of boys and young men at Fort Crook and other military training camps next summer.

He has appointed Dr. J. G. Krum as vice chairman and other members of the committee will include O. G. Sowl, James McCall, James Hill, Frank Hoffman, Jr., Stanley McLain, E. L. Vogelzang, John Mikola, Millard C. Bell, Sterling Manchester, Wm. Vodehnal, Dan C. Bartlett and Harold Weddel.

Dr. Blessing's appointment was made by W. B. T. Belt, of Omaha, civilian aide to the Secretary of War for the state of Nebraska. Mr. Belt writes that Valley county's quota of applicants for C. M. T. C. work is five, but that he hopes at least double that number will apply. Later in the spring an army officer will visit Ord to accept applications.

Young men between the ages of 16 and 27 are eligible to attend summer training camps, which last six weeks. The government pays railway fare both ways and furnishes food, clothing, medical attention and entertainment while the boys are in camp. Several Valley county boys have attended these camps in former years and always have enjoyed the work greatly. Anybody who is interested should get in touch with Dr. Blessing or some of the other committee members soon.

DELIGHTED ROTARIANS

A string quartet with piano accompaniment delighted members of the Ord Rotary club with several selections following the dinner Monday evening. In the orchestra were Orville Sowl, Horace Travis, Edwin Clements and Dr. F. L. Blessing, with Mrs. Sowl at the piano. Another guest of Rotarians Monday was Dr. Walford Johnson.

ESTABLISHED APRIL 1882

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 1932.

VOL. 51 NO. 1

First National Bank was Founded March 16, 1882

LOAN TOTAL WAS $17,500 4TH YEAR; UP TO $1,500,000

Showed Phenomenal Growth, Got To Top in 1920; Barta, Noll With Bank 20 Years.

In a small frame building located where the Ord Co-operative Oil Company's filling station now stands, the Ord City Bank opened its doors on the morning of March 16, 1882. J. M. Alderman opened the first account with the little bank that was to grow and flourish until today it is the First National Bank in Ord, a sound, substantial, conservative institution that is used in some degree or other by almost every resident of the community.

H. C. Metcalf was president of the Ord City Bank when it opened and his staff of directors and officers included D. C. Bell, W. C. Wentz, George A. Percival and H. A. Babcock. These founders of the Ord City bank undoubtedly hoped that the tiny financial institution would be successful, else they would not have embarked on the enterprise. In a frontier town like Ord, but if they could have glanced down the years that separated 1882 from 1932 they surely would have been astonished at the many changes and improvements that were to transform the little Ord City bank into the dominant First National bank of today.

Babcock 2nd President. The first of those changes was not long in arriving. On May 1, 1885, the Ord City bank became its national bank and changed its name to the one it still has. Officers were shifted about also. Herman Babcock becoming president, Mr. Percival cashier, and Fred A. Bartlett teller. For some reason unknown today this arrangement proved unsatisfactory, however, so a month later more important changes came about.

Joseph C. Post, one of the original stockholders, sold his stock to Peter Mortensen, who became director and assistant cashier. Other officers were altered, James H. Bell becoming president, and Mr. Percival continuing as cashier. Thereafter the personnel of the bank was more stable, though numberless changes have taken place in the years since.

Many Have Worked For Bank. In the list of those who have worked for the First National at one time or another are found the names of James H. Bell, David C. Bell, William C. Wentz, Herman A. Babcock, Joseph C. Post, George A. Percival, Peter Mortensen, F. B. Bartlett, E. C. Babcock, W. E. Mitchell, E. N. Mitchell, A. R. Mitchell, E. M. Williams, Martin Anderson, N. J. Keown, O. R. Palt, Percy Mount, R. E. Mickelwait, E. J. Williams, Joseph Barta, Alvin Blessing, Elmer Ollis, J. M. McAnulty, Walter Noll, Joseph F. Stara, C. J. Mortensen Charles Mickelwait, Cecil Staple, M. E. Williams, Otto Pecenka, Merry Mickelwait, James Petska, Curt Gudmundson, Joe Holecek, Sophie McBeth, Lottie Kasal, R. A. Stud.

Valued Quiz Employee Now On Coast Paper

MRS. BESS STACY. For years Mrs. Stacy was bookkeeper, cashier's office manager and general factotum in the Quiz plant until in 1927, when she went to California. She now holds a similarly responsible position in the office of the Calexico Chronicle, a daily paper published in the Imperial Valley of California.

Writes Features That Please Quiz Readers

Mrs. Leggett, wife of the editor of the Quiz, has been writing feature articles for the Quiz for almost six years but not until a few months ago did she begin writing her column, "Some Different," that is proving popular with Quiz readers of all ages. Mrs. Leggett is the daughter of H. C. Ellis, pioneer newspaper publisher of Alliance. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where she majored in journalism. In addition to writing her column and several articles for each week's Quiz, Mrs. Leggett conducts our cookery column.

With Bank 27 Years. The longest term of service of any of these employees has been served by Joseph P. Barta, now president, who has been with the bank continuously for 27 years. Next in line for honorable mention stands E. M. Williams, who stayed 25 years as an officer of the First National. W. C. H. Noll, present cashier, is third in length of service with a record of 21 years, in addition to part time work that he did there while attending school. Peter Mortensen also served the bank 27 years, from 1885 until his death in 1912.

Present officers of the bank are Mr. Barta, president, James Misko and Frank P. O'Neal, vice presidents, Mr. Noll, cashier, Horace Travis and James Petska, assistant cashiers and C. B. Gudmundson, bookkeeper. Frank Koupal, former president, is now chairman of the board of directors and acts in an advisory capacity. Directors are Claude G. Kennedy, C. H. Leonard, Miss Maude Goodenow, James Millford, R. G. Wicks, and Messrs. Koupal, Barta, O'Neal and Noll.

Only 2 Moving Days. In all its fifty years, few moving days have come to harass the officials of the First National bank. Until the fall of 1887 the bank remained in its original home, then moved to a new building which the Tony shoe store now occupies, in the old First National. Peter Mortensen, who headed the bank at that time, was in general charge of construction of the building and W. A. Anderson, that fount of local lore, recalls that the late Mr. Mortensen came to him for a recommendation of the stone mason who constructed the massive vault from uneven field stones. Mr. Anderson had known the stone mason in Iowa, in fact had worked for him for a time, and was able to give him a strong recommendation.

Mr. Mortensen also superintended construction of the bank's present home which they moved into in 1908. When it was built the bank building was the most modern in the Loup valley and it is still one of the finest. Conveniently located on the square and near the postoffice, the First National is ideally situated for the convenience of the public.

Big Year Was In 1920. Early bank records show that in July, 1885, the First National's loans and discounts were $17,553.30. Twenty-five years later these figures climbed to $344,600.38 and since then, in boom years, have mounted to five times that amount in a single year. In February, 1920, the bank had deposits of $1,516,177.48 and cash in hand that totalled nearly a half million dollars.

There are a few people left who began doing business with the Ord City bank when it opened March 16, 1882, and these people the bank honors in a full page advertisement in this issue.

Asimus Advised Sons. One of the bank's first customers was Adolf Asimus, who arrived in Valley county in 1882 with $5.00, which he deposited in the Ord City bank that day. From then until the time of his death Mr. Asimus' whole business was entrusted to the bank, through the years and the lean, changes in officers or directors making no difference. Today his sons carry

WIFE OF FIRST R. R. BRAKEMAN PASSES MONDAY

Mrs. Levi Hamilton Dies, Had Been In Poor Health Several Years; Husband Well Known.

Mrs. Levi Hamilton passed away quietly Monday evening at the family home in Ord where she had lived for 47 years, heart trouble following flu being assigned as the cause. Death came at 10:30 that evening. Mrs. Hamilton having been bedfast only since Feb. 10, but her health had been poor for many years. A fine woman in many ways, she was greatly esteemed by a long list of friends and neighbors, who extend their sympathy to Mr. Hamilton, the husband.

Funeral Arrangements. Funeral arrangements will not be made until the arrival of a son, Jay, who was to reach here from his home in LaJunta, Colo., last night or today. Interment will be in the Ord cemetery.

Ida May Whitbeck, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Whitbeck was born 33 years ago last April in Chatfield, Minn. In 1885 she was married to Grand Island to Levi James Hamilton, and the young couple came here shortly after and have since lived here.

To them were born three sons, one, Ray, dying Jan. 15, 1918 at Evanston, Wyo. The other two are Jay, who lives in LaJunta, and Roy, who makes his home in Long Beach, Calif. Virginia, now 18, a daughter of Jay, who was left motherless when very tiny, has been cared for by her grandmother practically all her life, and three years ago Glen, a son of Ray, came to live with the Hamiltons also.

Other grandchildren left by Mrs. Hamilton include Joyce and Franklin, children of Jay, and Roy and Thelma, children of Roy. All three sons of the Hamiltons were born in Ord.

Levi Hamilton had the distinction of being a brakeman on the first Union Pacific train to arrive in Ord, John Ratcliffe being the conductor. That was about fifty years ago. He made many friends up and down the Loup Valley who will feel for him in his sorrow.

Ir D. Tolen is a candidate for the democratic nomination for the office of railway commissioner. He is conducting an aggressive campaign and his candidacy has been highly spoken of, particularly by the Omaha World-Herald. Without doubt Mr. Tolen will get the big end of the democrat votes in Valley county and if he is nominated he can count on the support of his republican friends at the fall election.

Roll of Honor

On this list appear the names of all who have informed us that they subscribed to the Quiz in 1882 or shortly thereafter and have taken the paper ever since. We realize that many more are eligible to be so listed but unfortunately the early subscription records of the Quiz have been lost and we have only the names of those who have told us the date when they subscribed. We thank every long time Quiz subscriber and hope they will continue reading the paper for many more years.

Interesting letters were received by the Quiz this week from Mrs. Mrs. Selvers-Overton, whose present home is in Holland, Mich., and Mrs. S. W. Roe, of Ord. Mrs. Overton writes that she has read the Quiz every week since its first issue, that it followed her from Ord to Michigan, then to Lakeland, Fla., where she spends the winters often, and has been following her on all of her journeys since, keeping her informed regularly about the doings of her Ord friends.

Mrs. Overton writes that she came to Valley county in April, 1873 and says that she is always delighted to return to Ord and see the many fine improvements made since her last visit. She is 75 years old and is enjoying good health, she says.

"As far back as I can remember the Quiz has been in our home," writes Mrs. Roe. "Well do I remember when it was carried in one horse cart and delivered to the Miss Creek postoffice, then as saddle with my father as postmaster. The 12 years we lived in Howard county the Quiz came every Saturday night and we enjoyed good health, she says.

The sum of eight dollars, all in nickels and dimes, was stolen late Saturday night or early Sunday morning from the cash register in Walter Finch's Ord filling station. Mr. Finch learned when the station was opened for business Sunday morning. The safe, which contained a larger sum of money, was not touched.

Mr. Finch closed the station about 11:15 o'clock Saturday evening, he says, and shortly before that time he had locked the window and door of the rest room, checked up the day's receipts and locked most of the silver in the safe, leaving $10 in small change in the cash register for his son George to use in making change when he opened the station Sunday morning.

Opened For Late Comer.

He had turned out the lights and was ready to leave, Mr. Finch says, when a customer drove in and wanted gasoline. He turned the lights on and went out to unlock the gasoline pump, leaving the door of the station open.

As he was filling the car he noticed two young boys enter the rest room and go directly to the rest room in the rear but thought nothing of it when the boys came out a moment later and went down the street. When Mr. Finch finished with his late customer he locked the station door and went home.

Overlooked $2.00.

Sunday morning in checking up Mr. Finch discovered that he was $2.00 short. All of the nickels and dimes in the cash register had been stolen sometime during the night but the thieves had not touched checks left in the cash register and had even overlooked six quarters and fifty pennies. The register was not broken so the thieves evidently knew the combination.

Mr. Finch's theory is that the two boys who entered the rest room unlocked the window, then later returned and raided the cash register. He believes that they were nervous and hurried because they overlooked $2.00, which also confirms him in the belief that boys did not steal it.

Sheriff George Round is working on the case and is said to have a pair of suspects under scrutiny but so far no arrests have been made.

This is the first robbery Ord has had since last fall, when August Petersen's safe was battered open.

10 PERCENT GOVERNMENT.

A statement made by one of Valley county's good farmers, John Bremer, at a recent public meeting in Ord challenged our attention and our interest.

"I do not believe in 10 percent government," Mr. Bremer said.

With Mr. Bremer we agree. We do not believe in 10 percent government, or 33 1/3 percent government, or 49 percent government, either. In our opinion the will of the majority as expressed on any public question should be heeded. And on any public question we believe the public should be allowed to express an opinion whenever it wishes.

One reason why our own government has become so unwieldy, so unresponsive to the wishes of the people, is because so much time elapses between election and the seating of candidates. The "Lame Duck" amendment, when adopted by the proper number of states, will cure that.

Organized minorities are much stronger than unorganized masses, which is the real reason why "10 percent government" lives and flourishes in this republic.

One of our favorite contemporaries, the Hastings Democrat said last week in its editorial column:

"This newspaper is willing to abide by the will of the people as expressed at the polls. But that does not mean that it will not seek to change that will if it believes the people to have been wrong. This newspaper believes in obeying all the laws of the land but there are some laws for which it has absolutely no respect. Such laws it seeks to repeal. It believes in giving the people the right to say what they want whenever a considerable number of them express a desire to say what they want."

To these sentiments The Quiz says "amen."

While we believe strongly in the county agent system and hope that it will be continued in Valley county we think it should be continued only if 51 percent of the farmers of the county want it continued.

While we believe that a majority of the people of the United States subscribe to the principle of the 18th amendment, if not to the way in which the Volstead Act has worked out, we think that citizens should be allowed to vote on this question because a large number of them so desire.

We think that natural gas will prove an advantage for Ord and that citizens should be allowed to express their opinion on it but we also think that the wishes of the majority should be permitted to rule, whether the vote is for or against.

Wherever it rears its ugly head we say, "Down with 10 percent government."

OUR ANNUAL AUDIT.

Four years ago the more progressive weekly newspapers of Nebraska, through the state press association, began a movement that has since spread to other states until now the better weeklies in nearly every state in the union are taking part in it. We refer to the annual audit.

Under this plan certified public accountants visit the newspaper office once each year and audit the subscription records just as the county books are audited. They check mailing galleries, subscription filling cases, cash book, postal receipts, print paper shipments, etc., and when they get through they are in a position to know exactly how many bona fide subscribers a newspaper has.

For four years, or ever since the audit plan was started, the Quiz has been audited each spring. The steady growth our circulation has shown each year is gratifying to the Quiz editor and publisher. The first year our circulation was 1,985. The next year it had jumped to 2,310. Then it was 2,367, last year it was 2,432 and this year it will be slightly over 2,500.

The audit plan was started, not to benefit the newspaper but to give the advertiser a fair shake. The man who spends his money for advertising is entitled to know what he gets for his money. The audit plan shows him exactly what he is getting. When a man buys space in the Ord Quiz, for instance, he knows that his message is going into 2,432 homes (last year's figures) and that 2,004 of these homes are located right in Ord trade territory.

Contrast this "certified circulation" with the old method, by which the editor, if he was dishonest, might claim 1,500 when his actual bona fide circulation was only two or three hundred. Too many newspapers still decline to have their circulation audited because they are afraid of what it will reveal to their advertisers.

Every merchant should DEMAND that his newspaper submit to an audit before he spends a penny for advertising.

FIFTY YEARS YOUNG.
Fifty years old, but with no signs of approaching senility, this issue of the Quiz is the first in the second half century of this newspaper's existence. For last Thursday the Quiz rounded out its first fifty years of service to Ord and Valley county and today starts on a new cycle of service.

In the history of civilization fifty years is not such a long time but as pioneer newspapers go it seems almost unfathomable period.

When the Quiz was established in the spring of 1882 its founder may have had a vision of the honorable age the publication might attain but that vision could not have been founded upon any precedent for newspapers of that time were a brief and unstable lot.

In those early days it was not unusual for a paper to be started, publish for a few months, then suspend, only to have the equipment sold to some more venturesome individual and re-issue in a new form and under a new name. Such ventures were many, in fact in those pioneer days few newspapers endured under the same ownership for more than a year or two.

From all such newspaper ventures the Quiz has differed for since it was first issued on a morning in early April, 1882, it has appeared every Thursday since under the same name and in all that time the names of only two men have appeared at the masthead of the paper as publisher and owner. For thirty-five years the name "W. W. HASKELL" could be found on the editorial page of every issue; for the past fifteen years the name "H. D. LEGGETT" has occupied a similar position.

Pioneers who braved the frontier half century ago and established homes on virgin soil had to exercise great fortitude, great patience, great faith, and the same thing can be said truthfully of a pioneer newspaper publisher. Sure from its pioneer founder and from its present publisher, also a pioneer, the Quiz absorbed some of that fortitude, some of that faith, some of that patience. Perhaps it is impossible to dominate metal, unfeeling paper to absorb such characteristics but a newspaper is more the metal, paper and ink—it is the spirit of its founders, its editor and the spirit of its employees and loyal subscribers and friends.

Everything was accomplished slowly and laboriously in pioneer days, both in tilling the soil and in the publication of a newspaper. It took a far cry from the hand press and wooden type supply of the Quiz office of 1882 to the modern automatic presses and type setting equipment of the office of 1932. But one thing has not changed and that is the spirit and the faith of the men who make the Quiz.

When the Quiz was established its owner had infinite faith in Ord and in the territory around it; in its boundless possibilities and its unlimited resources. The men who make the Quiz today have that same confidence, strengthened and made more enduring by events of the past fifty years.

We have faith that Quiz readers and patrons want us to publish as good a newspaper as we can and that will continue to be our aim. We thank all of our news gatherers for their loyal co-operation and all advertisers and patrons who have made it possible for the Quiz to reach its 50th anniversary as one of Nebraska's best weekly newspapers. With their continued interest and co-operation it will continue to grow, will continue to serve, will continue to represent Ord and be Ord's messenger abroad, proving this to be a thriving, progressive city in the heart of the best state in the union.

No newspaper can be anything more than a mirror, reflecting that which is best or that which is worst in a community. By turning the mirror to one side or to the other its editor may determine whether it shall reflect the good, wholesome, progressive aspect or if it shall instead show the community to be envious, greedy, hypocritical and at war within itself. Every community has the two sides but in the eyes of strangers the side that is reflected by the community's newspaper will be taken to show the actual character of the whole community.

Our policy in this regard will not be changed—it would be impossible for those who make the Quiz to change even if they wanted to for we are incurable optimists and we believe that the community, even though it may follow after strange ways for a time, always will prefer progress to retrogression.

BREAD WAGONS TABOOED.

A good local bakery is a great asset to a community.

When the proprietor of the local bakery found that he could no longer confine in business because city bread wagons were selling bread, rolls and pastry to local grocery stores, he announced the fact candidly instead of struggling along in silence. He let it be known that he would have to quit—but he is still running along, baking more bread now in a day than he used to in a week.

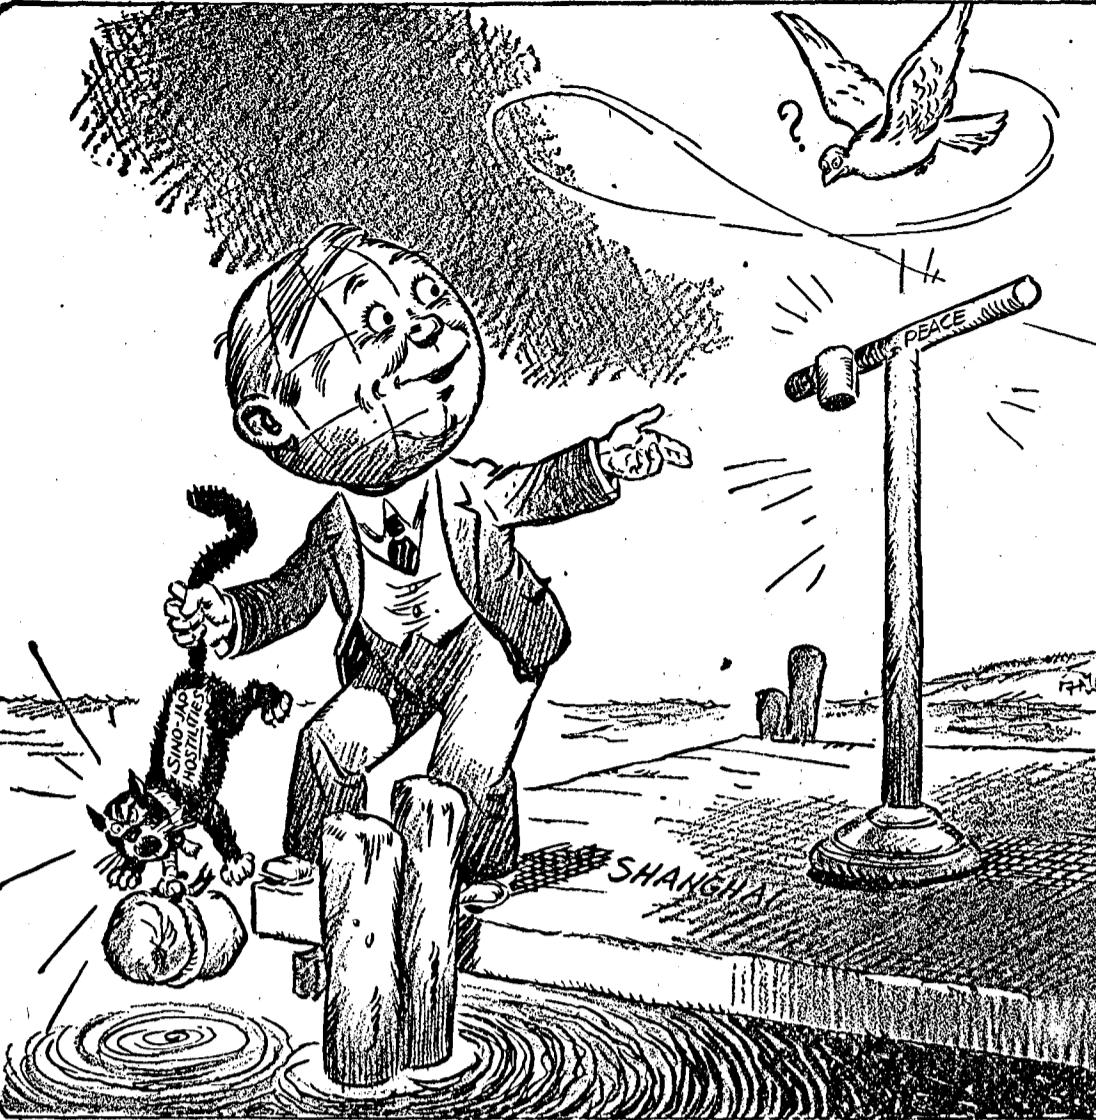

How did all this happen?

When the Exeter grocers found out how their buying from bread wagons was affecting a local business they got together and signed an agreement to buy all their bakery products from the home baker. And they are keeping to the agreement, too.

Now the Lingren baker is prosperous, more families live in Exeter because Mr. Lingren was able to hire more help, the grocers make just as much money selling home-baked bread as bread from Lincoln or Omaha, and customers pay no more for the bread they buy.

Some people speak of "local unity" and consideration;" others call it "scratching each other's back." Whatever it may be called, what Exeter did in the bakery line furnishes a fine example for other communities to follow in all lines.

After all, we are all dependent upon one another in greater or lesser degree. When the local monument factory, or the local printery, or the local mill, or the local bakery, or any other local institution prospers that prosperity benefits the community as a whole.

Everything was accomplished slowly and laboriously in pioneer days, both in tilling the soil and in the publication of a newspaper. It took a far cry from the hand press and wooden type supply of the Quiz office of 1882 to the modern automatic presses and type setting equipment of the office of 1932. But one thing has not changed and that is the spirit and the faith of the men who make the Quiz.

When the Quiz was established its owner had infinite faith in Ord and in the territory around it; in its boundless possibilities and its unlimited resources. The men who make the Quiz today have that same confidence, strengthened and made more enduring by events of the past fifty years.

We have faith that Quiz readers and patrons want us to publish as good a newspaper as we can and that will continue to be our aim.

The Quiz began coming out twice a week, on Tuesdays and Fridays. The semi-weekly edition was discontinued only two months, going back to the weekly form on May 30. Burr Vanhorn, who was starting a lime kiln in the chalk hills near Scotia, was killed when the cave collapsed and buried him beneath 22 feet of chalk rock.

Ord voted wet by a big majority at the city election. Only two dry candidates were elected, Mortensen and Wise on the school board. The old "bloody third" was dryest of the city's three wards, giving the wet only an eight majority.

Business men of Polk offered J. S. Collison a bonus of $5,000 to move the Ord milling company's equipment to that town and start a flour mill. Mr. Collison went to Polk to investigate.

E. Howe was elected school superintendent for another year.

Dr. Brink gave up his Ord medical practice and moved to California. Dr. Bundy, an Illinois doctor, arrived to open an office in Ord.

S. VanOsdal of North Loup topped the Chicago market with a shipment of steers for which he was paid $6,000.

20 Years Ago This Week.

Ord voted saloons out for the first time in years but a dry mayor, Mr. Carson, found himself with a no-license council at his back and a no-license law to enforce, which promised difficulties. Ord's dry majority was 52.

Mrs. B. F. Hallock, wife of the high school janitor, suffered a stroke of paralysis.

The North Loup bridge was taken out by an ice jam.

A large flock of wild geese settled near the Spring Creek school house and Ray McLain told the teacher, Mrs. Harvey Potter that if she would let him go home and get his gun he would kill one of the birds for her. She let the boy do so, and, true to his word, he brought down a fine sandhill goose and presented it to Mrs. Potter.

A son of the snow plow opened up the U. P. tracks Theron Bechler shipped three cars of cattle and two cars of hogs to Omaha, getting a good price for all of them.

So will you plant a few of your favorites, please, to donate to The Cause?

Another One Drops Out.

Did you ever know that the late Adolf Asmus, father of the "Asmus Boys", was a baker in the White House at one time? About 1881 or thereabouts?

Neither did I, but it's kinda exciting, somehow, to me.

—oo—

Another One Drops Out.

A number of years ago H. D. Leggett bought the Ord Quiz and later bought the other Ord newspaper and consolidated it with the Quiz. A couple of years ago the man from whom he bought the Quiz changed his mind and went back to Ord and established a new newspaper, doubtless being encouraged in this unprofessional step by those to be found in most communities who delight more in finding fault than in helping to build up a worthy enterprise.

The new Ord paper faded out last week, the publisher admitting his inability to secure enough advertising and other business to keep it going. Mr. Leggett and the members of his force have been producing a fine, progressive newspaper that bears every indication of meeting every need of its community.

Very few Nebraska county seats can afford more than one newspaper, providing it is a good one that fairly represents all of the interests of the community and its trade territory.

AUTO INDUSTRY MUST LEAD WAY BACK TO NORMAL

So Declares Chevrolet Executive,
Says 22 Million Able To Buy
New Automobile Now.

Detroit, Mich., Mar. 29.—America will enjoy normal conditions only when the automobile industry is brought back to normalcy again, H. J. Klingler, vice-president and general sales manager of the Chevrolet Motor Company, declared in an interview here today.

Citing the ramification of the industry into every part of our economic structure, Mr. Klingler said that there is nothing anyone can buy which directly supplies work and wages for so many people in so many places and so many different industries and professions as buying an automobile.

The effect of a new car purchase on unemployment relief was illustrated by Mr. Klingler in the statement that a new Chevrolet six represents 71 days of gainful employment to workmen throughout the United States. That means the equivalent of three months of working time for one man on the basis of a five-day week.

"It has been estimated that half of the 44,000,000 people now employed are in a position to buy a new automobile right now," Mr. Klingler said. "Why they have been putting it off isn't important. The fact remains that they can afford to buy, but haven't. Yet if only one out of seven of those able to buy would buy, the automobile industry would immediately be restored to a healthy state of activity—producing three millions of cars a year and employing in direct manufacture more than one million men, and furnishing steady work to an additional three million men in allied industries and trades."

Mr. Klingler commended the various federal and local movements launched to put idle money and idle men to work. He then went on to stress the direct relation of the automobile industry to the economic welfare of the country.

"The business of building and selling automobiles is America's biggest industry," he pointed out. "It is so big that few people even dream of the extent to which it affects every other basic industry in America."

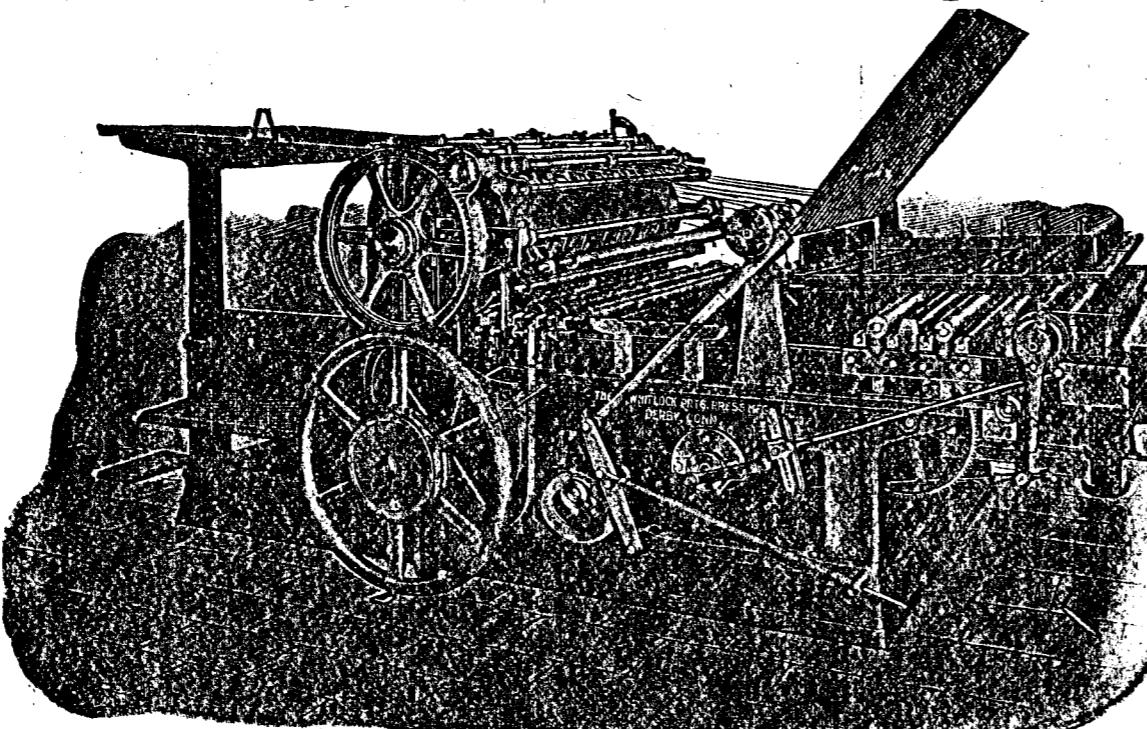

The automobile industry consumed over fifteen per cent of all steel produced—53 percent of all malleable iron—over 68 per cent of all plate glass—over eighteen per cent of all hardwood lumber—over fourteen per cent of all cotton—26 per cent of all lead—thirty per cent of all nickel and almost 83 per cent of all the rubber—to say nothing of paying the railroads hundreds of millions of dollars a year for carrying thousands of carloads of freight.

"Thus, when you buy an automobile, you're not only giving employment to men in automobile plants and garages, but you're putting men to work in every state in the union. You're sending the miners down under ground to dig copper, or iron, or nickel, or lead, and he begins earning wages again."

"You're keeping people busy on the cotton plantations down South and in the mills where the cotton is spun and woven. You're calling the steel worker back to his job and doing the same for the men who work in forests and lumber mills, glass factories and tanneries, foundries and chemical works."

"You're making the wheels of the railroads turn and—well, it's just like the house that Jack built. I could mention hundreds of other kinds of workers whose hands would be busy again. But it can all be summed up in a single sentence: There's nothing you can buy which directly supplies work and wages for so many people in so many places as buying automobiles."

Quiz Newspaper Press Has Ground Out Millions of Sheets, Still Going Strong

The Whitlock press pictured here has seen service every week since 1904, when it was bought by W. W. Haskell and installed in the basement of the office where Mr. Haskell's Job shop is now located. Given only one thorough overhauling by an expert in all that time—that was when the Quill office was removed to its present location—the old Whitlock is still giving almost perfect service. A conservative estimate of the number of printed sheets that have been turned out on the Whitlock would be well over 12 million.

Taxpayers League Voted to Join State League, Fight Tax Ills At Their Source

Small Crowd Present At Meeting Friday; No Decision Reached On County Agent Question.

Though only about twenty-five or thirty members were present at the meeting of the Taxpayers League of Valley County held at the Ord Bohemian hall last Friday there was great interest shown by everyone present and ardent discussions of tax problems were held.

Only one definite decision was reached and that was a decision that the Valley county league should become a member of the state federation of taxpayers leagues, of which Will Ferguson of Lincoln is president. Secretary A. W. Cornell read a letter from Mr. Ferguson after which members voted unanimously to pay the state membership fee of $10.

The state federation plans to have a lobby at the legislative session in Lincoln next winter, President Ferguson wrote, and the plan is to fight tax ills at their source. Bills to reduce county and state salaries will be introduced at this session, he said.

Among topics discussed here last Friday were the state income tax, national farm board, disadvantages of the county agent system, taxation of real estate, public salaries and prohibition. The latter topic, while it did not come in for discussion on the floor of the meeting, was discussed informally and sentiment seemed strongly against national prohibition.

Members who were active in discussing the above topics included Jos. J. Waldmann, Otto Radil, E. S. Coats, Frank Vodehnal, John Albers, President Arthur Meusing, Will Waldman, John Bremer and John Hornickel.

The county agent question was discussed at some length, most members present believing that the county agent system should be changed and the agent dispensed with. E. S. Coats pointed out, however, that sentiment expressed at the meeting could not be taken as representative of the wishes of Valley county and a move by Mr. Waldmann to bring about a vote on the question was disregarded by the chair.

The state income tax, which had been explained at a previous meeting by Representative Marion J. Cushing, who drafted it and was its chief sponsor at the last meeting of the legislature, seemed to meet with the approval of most members present.

E. S. Coats suggested game laws and game wardens as a topic for discussion and members rocked with laughter when Frank Vodehnal said that his solution was first to kill off all game wardens and then to do the same for bird dogs, then allow farmers to shoot game on their own land whenever they liked.

Gerald Bardo Will Join Quiz Staff

For two weeks beginning April 4 a senior student in the school of journalism, University of Nebraska, will join the staff of the Ord Quiz.

He is Mr. Gerald Bardo, who has many acquaintances in Ord because of the frequent visits he has made in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Thelin, North Loup.

For some years Director Walker, of the school of journalism, has made a practice of sending his senior students to the better weekly newspapers of Nebraska for two weeks actual newspaper experience each spring, this work being regarded as the "laboratory" work necessary to a diploma in journalism.

Two such students have worked on the Quiz staff in the past, Lyman Cass, who now edits the Ravenna News, and Elmer Skov, who was killed in an automobile accident shortly after he was here in the spring of 1930.

We know that Ord people who meet Mr. Bardo during his two weeks here will like him.

Harold Mason who has been working in Ord for some time went to the home of his parents in Garfield county Tuesday.

Many Interested In Low Priced Frigidaire

The spotlight of the electric refrigeration industry rests upon Frigidaire, following its recent announcement of sweeping price reductions ranging down to as low as $130 f. o. b. Dayton, according to L. J. Auble, local dealer.

"The state income tax, which had been explained at a previous meeting by Representative Marion J. Cushing, who drafted it and was its chief sponsor at the last meeting of the legislature, seemed to meet with the approval of most members present.

"Already we have received scores of inquiries from people who were amazed to learn that a genuine Frigidaire with all its known value, dependability and superlatives can be had at present prices.

"Any person who will stop at our store to see the present Frigidaire models and judge them on both a price and value standard will immediately recognize the reasons why the recent price reductions caused such universal interest and how Frigidaire through tremendous manufacturing volume and quantity buying of materials can make such remarkable prices possible", the local dealer said.

Home-Grown Tractor Fuel.

There are seven and one-half million fewer horses in the United States now than ten years ago. With the passing of those horses disappeared a market for the products of thirty million acres of farm land. That the farmer himself has contributed to the shrinkage of his own market is shown by the fact that there are nearly four times as many tractors and more than six times as many trucks on American farms as ten years ago.

The internal combustion engine undoubtedly has been a large contributor to the farm surplus problem.

Just now there is a hard times trend toward horses as a source of farm power. But while the horse will always fill a useful place on the farm, it is not likely that farmers, except under the spur of necessity, will willingly forgo the speed and convenience of mechanical power.

At the same time many farmers are wondering why they cannot grow their own tractor fuel, just as they used to grow their own oats for horse feed. Ethyl alcohol, which can be made from many kinds of vegetation, is good motor fuel. The proposal has been made that surplus grain be made into denatured alcohol and shipped back to the farmers for use in their tractors. A simpler plan would be for each farmer to have his own still and make his motor fuel out of this and that around the farm, but the individual farmer could not afford the expense of a revenue officer to do the denaturing.

There are other alcohols that are non-drinkable, however, and it is quite possible that chemical research might devise a simple means of supplying one of these alcohols that could be produced on a community basis if not on the individual farm.

What is even more likely is that an internal combustion motor may be developed which will use furfural, a product easily made from almost anything grown on the farm. The Diesel engine can be readily operated with furfural as fuel, and the rapid strides in perfecting light Diesel engines indicate that this type of motor may soon be adapted to the farm tractor. When that is done, the oats for which old Dobbins no longer furnishes a market may be used to make fuel to fit Dobbins' success—Christian Science Monitor.

HOMINY

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Poultry culling has been placed on a new basis. Students at judging contests are now required to select the good layers without handling or touching the birds. They must judge upon external characteristics, and mainly by head points.

Flocks are being culled more severely. It has been customary to weed out and sell only the poorer hens. Under present conditions it is better to keep only the best hens, and dispose of all the poor and medium-good ones.

The average poultryman is now producing eggs at one cent and selling them at a half cent. Prices are so low that there is little excuse for keeping more old hens than are needed to supply eggs and poultry meat for home use.

These old hens are also the ones that cause disease outbreaks. Their elimination would do more toward disease control than all the remedies ever invented.

Oversupplying is a common trouble. A clear demonstration of this was brought out this winter in the records of a lady residing in Gage county. She had 450 Rhode Island Red hens which were crowded in a house meant to accommodate 175. The hens were laying only two dozen eggs a day, or $6 worth per month. The monthly feed bill was $22.40. Since feed represents only two-thirds of the cost of producing eggs, these eggs were

Makes Strong Bid For Ord's Support

GUY V. DORAN.

Guy V. Doran, editor of the Sidney Telegraph and candidate for the democratic nomination for congressman, 5th district, was an Ord visitor Friday and made a strong bid for support here. Mr. Doran is an extensive rancher and the principal issue in his campaign is opposition to the federal farm board. One 18th amendment is personally dry but believes the people should have a right to vote on the question. He is a college graduate, is amiable and able, and made a fine impression here.

costing the owner 55 cents, and losing her 45 cents per dozen.

Contrast this with the flock of a lady in Colfax county. Her 400 white leghorns were laying 300 dozen eggs per month. She was selling for 20 cents per dozen in Omaha. The feed cost was $26, and the total cost of producing the eggs came to 13 cents a dozen.

The first flock is like too many others. Late hatched chicks, haphazardly fed, and crowded into winter houses, do not lay until spring. That is about the only time they do lay, to flood an already flooded market with generally a low quality of eggs. Raising a runty pullet and feeding it for a year for the eggs of a few months is a common but unprofitable practise. Under such conditions it may be better to raise and sell market poultry.

It is believed that commercial egg production will pass into the hands of a few experts like the latter, and that the future sideline producer will keep only enough fowls to satisfy his own wants. This is typified in the rather recent slogan, "50 or 500 hens."

Quiz Job Department Best Equipped Shop In Entire Loup Valley Region

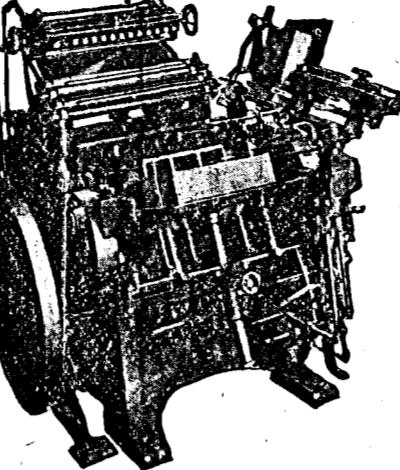

Competent workmen, a world of type, two linotypes, two new model Chandler & Price presses and other modern equipment make the job department o the Quiz the best equipped in the entire Loup valley region for doing a high class of commercial printing.

The most intricate ruled work, color work of any kind, book jobs and everything from calling cards to store bills are turned out expeditiously in the Quiz shop.

Pictured here is our newest piece of machinery, a 14 x 22 automatic Chandler & Price job press. This press is "almost human," many visitors to the Quiz shop have said, for once a form is put on the press, made ready and a pile of paper put in the automatic feed the press completes the job without further attention.

Other equipment used constantly in this department includes a big power cutter, power and foot-operated stitching machines, numbering machines, folder, round cornering machine, binding equipment, perforator, etc.

Any job trusted to the Quiz plant will be printed quickly at fair prices.

A 12 x 18 hand-fed Chandler & Price press, together with the big Whitlock newspaper press, gives the Quiz a combination of presses sufficient for all needs.

Sisters Greet But Rarely Meet

Although Genevieve Zwicky and her sister, Hilda, see each other every other day, they seldom meet. No, it isn't a riddle. Each is employed as stewardess on a plane flying between Chicago and San Francisco. When Hilda leaves San Francisco, Genevieve is on a plane taking off from Chicago, and vice versa. When the ships pass near North Platte, Neb., the girls have time only to wave to each other. Hilda, enjoying a brief vacation, is shown waving to Genevieve as the latter takes off.

Frank Jobst is being this week for the Hansen brothers.

MRS. FRED BARTZ, Reporter

The Easter play "For He Had Great Possessions," describing scenes preceding and following the Resurrection was beautifully presented at the Seventh Day Baptist church Friday evening to a full house. The cast were all members of this church and their acting was most realistic and impressive. The time and place in the first four scenes were the few weeks preceding the Passover in the garden of Ben Azel's home in Jericho. A wealthy young ruler, Edwin Johnson acting as Ben Azel, Ralph Sayre as Johanan his friend, Zakkai, chief tax collector, Vernon Williams, Nasou, steward of Ben Azel, Kenneth Vanderveld, Bar Timaeus, a blind man, Gilbert Babcock, Asenath's wife, Ben Azel, Margaret Sayre, Hadassah, daughter of Ben Timaeus, Doris Davis, Leah and Miriam, maid of Asenath, Maxine Johnson and Merle Fuller, Lazar, small daughter of Ben Azel and Asenath, little Marlon Ruth Maxson, whose acting is deserving of special mention. The closing scene was the day following the Sabbath in the same garden in Jericho. Miss Inez Hutchins with Miss Merle Sayre directed this play. Those having charge of the stage work were Geo. Clement, H. A. Watts, J. L. Cruzan and Erlow Babcock. Costumers were Mrs. W. J. Hemphill and Miss Alice Johnson, all of which was most realistic and typical of those ancient and oriental days. Mrs. Myra Barber acted as advertising manager. Special music was arranged by Madams Esther Babcock and Hurley Warren.

The A. I. Jones family received a telephone message Sunday eve from their daughter Mrs. Mildred Davis of Denver stating that their little daughter, DeOrion, who has been very low with double pneumonia in a hospital there is expected to recover.

The Ward Gowen family received a telegram Tuesday evening of last week from Mrs. Gowen's brother Jake Banta telling of the death of their 12 year old daughter at a hospital in Scottsbluff near which city the family reside. "Ollie," the telegram stated passed away Monday eve following a major operation for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Banta both lost their fathers within the past few months, this being their third grief.

Miss Maud Shepard took advantage of the opportunity due to the Easter vacation of teachers and students from away in staging a contest for her Sunday school class on attendance and study of the lessons. She, with Miss Mabel Lee and the losing side, entertained the winners at Miss Shepard's home Saturday evening. Following the serving of a delicious dinner at which Miss Helen Madsen was the very capable hostess a series of games were enjoyed. Those present were Mary Bohrer, Naomi Yost, Bess Eberhart, Lois Kildow, Velma Peterson, Hattie Houbty, Catherine Chadwick, Helen Madsen, Grace Eisle, Mildred Campbell, Nettie Clark and Osyth Kemp.

"Punctuality and Regularity" was the subject of the P. T. A. March program held Tuesday evening the 22nd. Those having special parts on the program were Ray Knapp, who spoke on the subject from the standpoint of the

ORD'S OFFICIAL FLOWER

NASTURTIUMS
ANNUAL PHLOX

Indicate choice and mail to The Quiz

If sufficient votes are received on the official Ord flower balloting, the Chamber of Commerce is considering providing free seed of this official flower to all who want it. But unless the public interest in choosing whether petunia, larkspur, nasturtiums, annual phlox or marigolds shall represent Ord officially this summer warrants it, the action will not be taken, as the free seed to give out would cost a considerable sum.

If you have not yet voted you may still do so, as the time limit on the votes has been set forward a week, and balloting will not close until April 7, it has been decided.

Petunias continue to lead, almost two to one, over the other entries. If petunias are not your favorite and you do not want to see petunia blooms in nearly every Ord yard, do a little campaigning among your friends and stuff the ballot box with other votes.

Everyone in Ord is entered in the Yard and Garden contest this year, the Chamber of Commerce committee has decided. No official entry blanks or other form is to be gone through with: This year everyone in Ord is to work to make a beautiful city out of this place we live in.

The weather gets balmy day by day, and spring has actually arrived. Make your plans now: What are you going to do to beautify your home grounds this summer? It is getting late, hurry up!

Everett and D. L. Holloway of Burwell visited in Ord Sunday.

er on the average. In Minnesota it was $44.47.

In Minnesota where 77.6 per cent of all taxes collected are general property taxes, there is opposition to the income tax on the ground that it would simply open a new source of revenue without cutting down the burden on tangible property. Wisconsin's experience seems to indicate that this viewpoint does not justify opposition to the state income tax as a means of equalizing tax burdens.—Northfield (Minn) News.

PURINA

Not for Baby Chicks Only—There is a Purina product for Poultry, Hogs and Cattle

Six years ago Dr. H. J. Smith and his staff of Purina chemists started to work out a balanced feed to save the chicks. They knew what proteins made feathers and growth and life in chicks, but the problem was to find how to put these proteins together to get the most life and growth in chicks at the lowest possible cost.

For six long years they patiently tried combination after combination—an ounce less of this, a gram more of that. 50,429 baby chicks were used. 308,502 separate weighings were recorded—always producing a better chick, always striving for the one perfect combination out of the thousands of wrong ones.

Finally they found it. Ingredient "X", they called it. The greatest step forward in feeding since the discovery of vitamins.

A long succession of days, months and years has passed in the fifty years since the Ord Quiz and the First National Bank were organized.

There is a great contrast in business today and business 50 years ago—both in the newspaper business and in the banking business.

This week we congratulate Ord's two oldest business institutions—THE ORD QUIZ and the FIRST NATIONAL BANK. Both of them have been great assets to Ord, both of them have kept abreast of changing times and are progressive, modern institutions, worthy of the respect and confidence of the whole community. We wish them continued success and much prosperity.

This bank, while not fifty years old, may be reckoned as one of Ord's pioneer businesses as it was established in September, 1912 and has continued ever since under the same name.

For almost 20 years the Nebraska State has served the people of Ord and community with every service possible to a modern banking establishment. We appreciate the confidence and cooperation we have had and solicit its continuance.

The Ord Quiz was established in 1882 by Mr. Haskell and in 1887 C. C. Wolf bought the Valley County Journal from Mr. Capron and changed its name to the Prohibition Star but only a few months later sold out to Mr. Haskell, who consolidated the Star with the Quiz. Then the Quiz became a merger of and successor to the Valley County Journal, Courier and Prohibition Star.

Absorbed Leggett's Times. One other paper was bought and consolidated with the Quiz during Mr. Haskell's ownership, the Valley County Times, which had been started in May, 1897 by H. D. Leggett. This consolidation came about in November, 1901, thus adding Valley County Times to the string of names that might have been written after the name Ord Quiz.

In the meantime—to go back a few years—a newspaper called the Standard was started in Ord by Evans Brothers. This was in 1884. They soon sold the paper to Provins & McDonough, who changed the name to Ord Democrat.

In 1887 Rev. B. F. Hilton and O. S. Haskell founded a prohibition newspaper which they called The Blizzard but later this was sold to Dr. J. M. Klinger, who changed the name to the Ord Journal. The Journal was edited successively by B. A. Brewster, now publisher of the Alliance News, J. L. Claffin, now owner of a large printing at Lincoln, A. W. Jackson, Charles Smith, Miles Brothers, Norm Parks, Horace Davis, C. S. Jones and Joe Pecar, Doyle Buckles and Irl D. Tolson. During his ownership of the Journal Mr. Claffin bought the Democrat and merged the two.

Blizzard Was Zephyr.

On January 1, 1929 the Journal which had been made up of the Standard, Blizzard and Democrat, was bought by H. D. Leggett and consolidated with the Quiz, adding four more titles to the already long list by which the Quiz might be called.

In 1924 Mr. Leggett bought the Arcadia Champion and after running it separately for a few months merged it with the Quiz.

Just two weeks ago the latest deal in Ord newspaper history was completed when W. W. Haskell, who in December, 1930, had started the Ord Observer, discontinued that publication and turned his subscription list over to the Quiz for fulfillment.

This brings the history of the Quiz up to date and leaves this newspaper the only one in Ord on March 31, 1932, the fiftieth anniversary of the Quiz.

Oldest Quiz Employee.

To the loyal employees and correspondents of the Quiz, past and present, must go the credit for making this newspaper as generally esteemed and widely read as it is today.

Oldest on the present force in length of service is Mrs. Florence Chapman, who began reporting for the Quiz in 1907. With very few exceptions since Mrs. Chapman has "made the trains" daily and has kept the telephone hot learning news items which later found their way into the Quiz columns. Other editors frequently wonder at the number of local items reported in the Quiz each week. They would not need to wonder if they knew Mrs. Chapman and her well developed "nose for news." Before joining the Quiz force Mrs. Chapman worked for other Ord papers.

Other valuable members of the office force are H. J. McBeth, foreman of the composing room, Howard E. Jones, foreman of the job department, Kent Ferris, who is recovering now from a serious operation but who has been on the job in the Quiz office for several years, Daryl Hardenbrook who is taking Kent's place during his illness, Miss Florence Anderson, who runs one of the linotypes, Irma Ellis Leggett, who writes feature articles, and those valuable contributors to the editorial page, J. A. Kovanda and Brink Smith.

Correspondents Get Credit.

The Quiz corps of correspondents in neighboring towns and rural communities is a valuable one, too. At Arcadia Mrs. Ray Golden collects and writes news for the Quiz, at North Loup, Mrs.

Fred Bartz is our reporter and at Elyria Mrs. Will Dodge. Other neighborhood correspondents who write regularly include Mrs. L. J. Miller, Mrs. John Williams, Misses Naomi and Julia Fuss, Miss Alyce Verstrate, Miss Alice Waldmann, Miss Pauline Konkoleski, Mrs. Dave Guggenmos, Mrs. Leon McMines, Miss Mildred Hurlbert, John B. Zulko, Mrs. W. J. Adamek, Miss Evelyn Christensen, Miss Dolsie Waterman, Miss Thelma Weed, Miss Berenice King, Miss Ellen Nielsen, Miss Bertha Heyden, Mrs. Wayne King, Miss Mildred Kusek, Miss Alma Valasek and Mrs. Ida Arnold. There are others, too, who write occasionally but those named above help each week to make the Quiz a newsy paper and without their valuable co-operation this would be impossible. To them all thanks.

The present circulation of the Quiz is slightly over 2,500 but this week 3,000 copies are being printed and every home in Valley county will receive one. To reach the goal of 3,000 regular subscribers is the aim of the Quiz publisher and editor and an invitation is hereby extended to every person who is not a subscriber to join the Quiz family of readers.

All readers are invited also to visit the Quiz office and inspect the plant whenever they desire. All are welcome at any time.

square and took quarters on the west side where the Bailey building now stands. Later a lot on the south side was purchased and the old building thereon was made into a printing office. There was the paper's home when the terrible hailstorm of 1885 struck the valley. C. B. Cass, later editor of the Ravenna News, was with us then and helped to clear up the wreckage after that storm.

At that time the writer had less sense than courage and unnecessarily stirred up the animals over the saloon question, for Ord had not then wholly emerged from the wild and woolly of pioneer days. One morning the whole front of the shop was decorated with red paint in a manner more forceful than elegant.

In 1887 the old Quiz building was erected and the paper occupied the upper floor chiefly and the basement. Several years later a new building was erected two doors east and this was the Quiz home till Mr. Leggett moved the plant to its present site.

Former Quiz Employees.

Several prominent people helped to make the paper improve during the years that this writer owned it. John Kates was among the early ones. Frank Rogers of Escondido, Calif., began work with this paper. C. B. Cass, already mentioned, and C. C. Wolf of the Valley County Journal helped it along. Maggie Ramsey Wentworth was helping when the editor invented the disease known as appendicitis. Ora Taylor began learning the printing trade with the Quiz, and Delpha Taylor, now reporter in the supreme court. Curt Parsons, now a rich nabob of Burwell, came to us from Judge Howard's paper at Papillion. John Alden of York served for a short time. Vickie Wisda Simmons of Omaha deserves mention and of course Oscar Nay, owner of the Bayport Herald, was among the latest and best. When he was made a captain and called to the colors he had to leave without warning, and left us without an operator. Some smart girl had to be gotten. One of the great surprises of her life came to Edna Baker Clements, whose husband was also a captain, when I drafted her for the job. She did not know what to do. Some girl had to be gotten. One of the great surprises of her life came to Edna Baker Clements, whose husband was also a captain, when I drafted her for the job. She did not know what to do.

Mrs. George Hubbard returned home Monday evening from Grand Island leaving her father, O. M. Seerley a little improved. Sunday he had been very low. Other children at his bedside while Mrs. Hubbard was there were Trell Seerley of Grainger, Nebraska, and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Nebrasky of North Platte.

70 ORD STUDENTS

PARTICIPATE IN

MUSIC FESTIVAL

10 Loup Valley Schools Engage In Music Meet Here; Hastings College Choir Sings.

Last Thursday an all-day music festival was heard at the high school, a very fine series of numbers delighting those who came to listen. The program was composed of special selections given by the high school musicians of a number of nearby towns.

The Ord students appeared to special advantage, some splendid work being done by the members of the glee clubs, the orchestra, and in fact by all the Ord entries, among whom were: Julius Vala, John Danzak, Harold Garlick, Raymond Cronk, Bert Bouquet, Everett Lashmett, Floyd Beranek, Eldon Lukesh, Donald Lashmett, George Allen, Jr., Woodrow Burrows, Elwin Auble, Roland Tedro, Wayne Johnson, Kenneth McGinnis, Harold Benn, Don Williamson, Anthony Kokes, Adrian Tolson, Arthur Eubel, Eldon Bender, Leonard Cronk, Charles Shepard, James Milliken and Guy Kepp. Rodney Stoltz was absent because of mumps.

Other Ord students participating were: Olga Lukesh, Iola Mae Williams, Rosemary Needham, Betty Lukesh, Delta Marie Hoyt, Dorothy Jobst, Betty Lou Sweet, Jessamine Meyer, Maxine Johnson, Marion Grace Cushing, Virginia VanDecar, Mildred Smith, Thelma Palmatier, Delma Palmatier, Marjorie Ball, Marie Adamek, Lorraine Haas, Edith Hansen, Evelyn Williamson, Elma Mortensen, Verona Stowell, Catherine Ollis, Doris Whiting, Sylvia Cornell, Eva Adamek, Lumen Sedlacek, Edward Pumcochar, Maxine Haskell, Ruth Haas, Margaret Bonne, Glea Porter, Kenneth Clancy, Everett Gross, Glen Woolery, Emil Danzek, Evelyn Gross, Myrtle Cornell, Melvin Hackel, Dorothy Fish, Kenneth Wilson, Charles Allender, Joy Auble, Leota Auble, Marie Desmul. Miss Elva Bloodgood's careful training was responsible for much of the enthusiastic praise won by the Ord boys and girls.

The program given during the day included numbers by music students from North Loup, Burwell, Scotia, Arcadia, Taylor, Sargent, Loup City, St. Paul, Dannebrog and Comstock, as well as Ord. Professor H. M. Fuhr of Hastings College was asked to act as critic, and chose a number of the daytime selections to be repeated at the evening program.

These were "Come to the Fair" sung by the Ord girls glee club; "Can't You Hear Me Callin," Caroline?" by the boys quartette of the North Loup high school, "Prelude in G Minor" played by Betty Upton and Dorothy Langstrom of the Burwell high school; "Traumerle" as a violin solo, played by Mae Granger of Comstock; "Goin' Home" sung by a mixed quartette from Loup City; "Famous Waltz" played by a St. Paul violin quartette; and "Down by the Sea" sung by the Dannebrog boys glee club.

In addition to the special selections as given above, the Hastings college choir, consisting of about 75 picked voices, came to Ord Thursday evening and completed a splendid program. They were directed by Mr. Fuhr.

COVETED AWARD FOR BEST 1-ACT PLAY WON BY ORD

Six Students Take Part in Play,
"The Valiant"; At Declamatory Contest Held Here.

Ord won a coveted award, really the most important of them all Tuesday evening when first place in the one-act play division was given to Ord in the sub-district declamatory contest. The contest was held both afternoon and evening in the auditorium of the high school and a good-sized crowd enjoyed seeing Ord take the loving cup for their fine little play.

The play, called "The Valiant", was coached by Miss Jean Nelson, and was quite unusual, both in plot and action. Charles Shepard played the part of the warden of the prison; Adrian Tolson was the chaplain; Rodney Stoltz was Dyke, the prisoner; Marion Grace Cushing was Josephine Parls, the girl in the case; Julius Vala and Harold Benn were prison attendants. The Ord students were well cast and took their parts with skill and cleverness. The play showed excellent direction, thanks to Miss Nelson.

Second award in the one-act play class went to Ericson with "His Clever Scheme"; and third to "The Wasp", a Greeley high school playlet. These were also splendidly done, and not far behind were the plays given by Scotia and Burwell.

In the oratorical class, Owen Snell of Greeley was more than outstanding. He showed his training as a debater, and in addition seemed to be an especially gifted speaker. He won first place, second went to Reuben Wells of Taylor and third to Winifred Thompson of Burwell. The three were fine, and the other entries Jay Nelson of Ericson; Charles Barnhart of Ord; Roland Dally of Scotia and Edwin Johnson of North Loup also showed careful training and talent. The Spalding entrants did not reach Ord; Arthur Allard was to have competed in the oratorical class.

Julius Vala was not considered for the award in the extemporeous division, because he spoke too briefly, so first went to Lewis Moore of Burwell and second to Marcelia Zuroski of Greeley, both of whom were really good.

E. M. Hollingsworth Trades Ranch For Garage At Cairo

E. M. Hollingsworth, who recently traded an eighty acre farm near Elyria to Mrs. R. O. Hunter for her ranch in the hills northeast of Ord, assuming a sizeable mortgage, made another trade Monday. This time he traded the ranch to W. M. Schlund and Earl Veeder, of Cairo, for a Ford garage located in that town. He took charge of the garage immediately. The deal was negotiated by Ralph Clements, of Burwell.

Hansen's Name Omitted.

Through some mistake in the Quiz office the name of Ed Hansen was omitted last week from our obituary of Mrs. N. C. Christensen. Mr. Hansen was a brother of Mrs. Christensen. We regret the oversight.

Some Ord Paving Gets Bath; Fire Stops Work

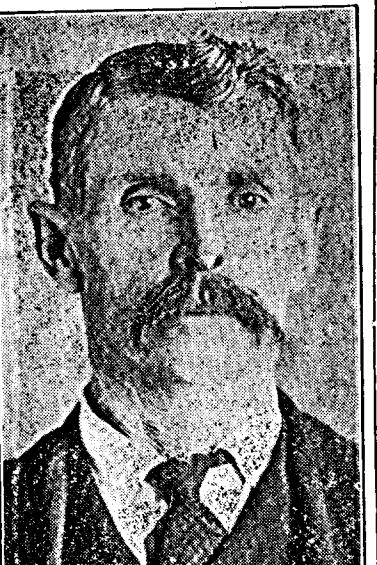

For the first time since the heavy rains early last summer part of the Ord paving was clean Tuesday, as a result of being flushed in the early hours of the morning by workmen using the new flushing equipment ordered by the city council at a recent meeting. All of the paving would have been cleaned but soon after the work started the Anderson garage caught fire and the work was stopped, both to preserve the water pressure and to allow workers to assist at the fire.

The past few months have been difficult ones to keep streets clean and as a result Ord's paving has been in very dirty condition. Ice, snow and mud have encrusted the pavement and filled the gutters and only a few times has it been possible to even brush the streets and haul the dirt away.

High winds of Tuesday evening made it impossible to resume flushing operations but city officials promise that, if weather permits, the rest of the paving will be given a bath at once.

Some business men were complaining Tuesday morning about the condition of their sidewalks and store windows, as the water at high pressure splashed dirt far and wide. With more practice on the part of those who handle the hose and less dirt on the pavement to begin with this probably will not recur.

Got First Quiz At Calamus Postoffice

C. R. HUTCHINS.

Charlie R. Hutchins, now of Grand Island, received his first copy of the Quiz in April, 1882, at a postoffice at Calamus, Neb. He and his family came to the Loup valley in 1873. Mr. Hutchins is 88 years old and makes his home now with his daughter, Mrs. Minnie Beauchamp.

FIRE DESTROYS ANDERSON SHOP EARLY TUESDAY

Near-by Buildings Save But Loss in Garage Will Mount Up To Thousands, Owner Says.

No cause is known for the fire which Monday about midnight gutted the frame building in which C. A. and George Anderson operated the Chrysler agency, as well as a tire and repair shop and general spare automobile parts business. The building was the property of Joe Dugosh, who lived at Elyria, and it is a total loss.

Firemen were called at 1:15 after someone in the Regal Inn noticed the flames. All the rest of the night firemen stayed there, in order to protect neighboring property. Nothing could be done to save the Dugosh building, and the only thing rescued from the flames was a Lincoln touring car, which HI had put away for the night in the shop.

HI and his wife and some friends had gone to a dance, but had left to find something to eat, and were called from the cafe to the scene of the blaze. The building was roaring with fire, but HI dashed inside, determined to drive the Lincoln out. Almost overcome by the heavy smoke and fumes, he called his brother George. With a couple of other men they made a chain of hands and dragged HI and the car from the burning building. The car was the only thing saved, and in another minute HI probably would have been a goner too.

The amount of the loss is not determined yet, but it will be several thousands, for inside the building were several expensive pieces of repairing machinery which George used in his work and which were ruined by the intense heat. This loss was only partially covered by insurance.

The back part of the building, where the fire evidently started, was used by John Boettger as headquarters for his well and windmill business. A truck, tools and supplies owned by Mr. Boettger were completely destroyed by the flames.

Quite a quantity of tires were included in the loss sustained. The origin of the fire remains a mystery. HI says. He and his brother have not decided what they will do.

Won Nursery Prize.

Mrs. F. E. Anderson, of Paxton, recently won a $20 prize offered by a North Platte floral company for writing the second best letter on why she bought her shrubs, plants and flowers from the company. Mrs. Anderson is a daughter of Mrs. Will Hawkins, Ord.

Attend "Ham" Convention.

The state convention of Nebraska radio "hams" or amateurs was held in Grand Island Saturday and Sunday. Ordites present were Emil Darges, Howard Jones and Mr. and Mrs. John Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Enger of Burwell and others. They report a fine convention.

Bailey Loses Suit By Directed Verdict

Judgment for $4,167.32 was awarded to E. H. Lukart, receiver for the German Bank of Millard, when in district court here Tuesday. Judge Ralph R. Horth instructed the jury to bring in a verdict that sum in favor of Lukart and against Chas. C. Detweller and R. C. Bailey, defendants. The suit dates back to the Bailey & Detweller hardware store partnership and has been the subject of litigation for several years.

Husking Bee Held On John Horn Farm

A husking bee, sponsored by the C. B. J. Lodge, took place on the John Horn farm in Geranium Monday with many neighbors gathering to assist in the work. Mr. Horn's wife has been ill for five weeks with diphtheria and their home has been quarantined. Previous to her illness the heavy snow prevented him from getting all of his corn out, hence the assistance given him by friends Monday.

Those participating included Veli Bouda, John Nevrka, Anton Radil, Will Moudry, Albert Ptacnik, Joe Absolon, Rudolph Krahulek, Louis Zadina, Will Lukes, Frank Valasek, Anton Novotny, Frank Zadina, Adolph Kokes, Frank Blika, Jim Visek, Charlie Visek, V. J. Vodicka, John Mottl, Jr., William Lukes, Emil Lukes, John Pesek, Jr., Frank Pesek, Louis Volt, Jim Hrebec, Skroll, Louis Pesek and Emil Urban.

Shirley Cut Finger Badly.

Ted Shirley, bus driver for Wilford Williams, had a painful accident last Thursday when, as he ran from the door of a local battery station, a ring on his right hand caught on the door stop. Neither door stop nor ring gave, so the result was a badly cut finger that required several stitches to close after the ring was cut from his hand. Ted hasn't been able to drive the bus since, though he accompanied Mr. Williams to Grand Island Monday.

Ann Hansen Married.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hansen, of Ord, this week announce the marriage of their daughter, Ann Pauline, to James Bartholomew, of Council Bluffs, on March 24, the Rev. Meyers of Papillion officiating. They will make their home in Omaha.

—Miss Susie Barnes, who has been in Ferndale, Wash., since Oct. 20, 1931, has decided to return to Ord some time in the near future.

Loses 24 July Pigs; Did They Stray Or Were They Stolen?

Floyd Chatfield, of the Rosevale neighborhood, is wondering whether his hogs just strayed out of the corn field where they were feeding or if they were stolen.

He missed 24 of his last July pigs and so far has found no trace of them.

Mr. Chatfield has been suffering from an epidemic of the toughest kind of luck, anyway, as 20 head of his cattle have died during the fall and winter months from various ailments, principally pneumonia. He also has lost several head of hogs from sickness.

He expects to resume surgical work immediately.

Making Grasshopper Test.

This week Mrs. F. C. Williams pulled up a strawberry root in the late Charlie Nelson's garden and found the roots completely covered with insect eggs which she fears are grasshopper eggs. She has rigged up a tiny incubator, placed the eggs inside and in due time hopes to learn that they are not grasshopper eggs.

Dr. C. W. Weeks, who has been spending several weeks in California while recovering from his serious operation, will return home today fully restored to health, his office employees say. He expects to resume surgical work immediately.

Critics Couldn't Praise 'Arrowsmith' Enough

Once in a while there comes a movie so far and away above the average entertainment that newspapers not only give it columns of space but run editorials about it as well. Such pictures are milestones in the progress of the talking screen and such picture, apparently, is "Arrowsmith," the new M-G-M hit starring Ronald Colman and Helen Hayes, which came to the Ord Theatre starting Sunday.

"Arrowsmith" is a reflection of one man and no other age could have told such a story. Made from the famous novel by S. Lewis, the talking version follows closely the story that won Lewis the Nobel prize, the only American, to ever win the Nobel Prize.

The story of a brilliant young doctor who gave his life to furthering the cause of humanity but lost the woman he loved is filled with all of Sinclair Lewis' vivid, ironic humor preserved in the astonishingly human dialogue.

Here is film entertainment at its best, the Ord theatre is to be congratulated for bringing this masterpiece here so soon after New York premiere, where it broke all box office records at the Gailey.

Officer chosen for the ensuing year by a nominating committee headed by Rev. Real, with the aid of ministers and Sunday school superintendents from every church present included: Archie Geweke, president of the association; Elma Webbs of Arcadia, vice president; Mrs. Will Ollis, secretary-treasurer; James Hastings, superintendent of the adult division; Mrs. Fred Barz of North Loup, superintendent of the primary division; Mr. Hawthorne of Arcadia was chosen superintendent of the administration of the church school; Mrs. W. J. Hempel of North Loup was chosen superintendent of the vacation church school; Miss Clara McClatchey was elected superintendent of church school standards, and a number of other officers were chosen of whom the Quiz could not secure a record in time for this issue.

It was decided to hold the convention in the Presbyterian church at Ord next year.

Rev. Wright of Ord was unable to be present, so Rev. Spracklen combined his topic and the missing one, speaking on the family in church services and in Bible school. The trio of the S. D. B. church, Madams Esther Babcock, Ava Johnson and Ruth Lane Babcock provided splendid music.

Messrs. Everett Petty, Kent and Sterling Manchester and Roy Hudson sang, accompanied by Miss Yost, music teacher in the North Loup schools.

Other features of the day's program were the group division discussions led by Mrs. Grace Hutchins for the primary section and Mrs. Will Ollis for the adult division; the talk on the vacation church school by Mrs. Hemphill; and especially the remarks on religion in the home addressed to the audience by Rev. Willard McCarty of Ord. Miss Clara McClatchey conducted a story hour.

For the defense Davis & Vogeltanz called Thomas Williams, Daryl Ludington, Andy Anderson, George Anderson, Dr. F. A. Barta and Onnie Patchen himself to testify. Most telling testimony was given by George Anderson, who said he had ridden around town with Patchen shortly before the arrest and that Patchen was sober. Mr. Patchen, himself, stated that he had no liquor to drink that evening. Williams and Ludington, who were in the cafe that night, said Onnie appeared normal though they were not within 15 feet of him.

Dr. Barta, when called to the stand, testified that the excitement of the arrest might have caused Patchen's pulse rate to be high instead of the presence of liquor in his stomach. He was called an expert medical witness.

Through agreement between the attorneys, E. L. Vogeltanz testified that Dr. C. W. Weeks, who examined Patchen in jail that night, told him that Mr. Patchen was not intoxicated. Dr. Weeks could not be present at the trial.

The jury went out about 4:10 p.m. yesterday and at 7 o'clock were still out.

BIBLE SCHOOLS HOLD CONVENTION AT NORTH LOUP

Archie Geweke, of Mira Valley, Will Head Association; Many Fine Features Enjoyed.

Under the guidance of Bert Cummins, one of the most successful annual meetings ever held by the Valley County Bible school association met in convention at North Loup Monday, March 28, at the Friends church. Probably the most popular feature of the program was the play "How much owest thou Thy Lord?" which was about 45 minutes in presentation. Directed by Rev. Besse Brown, who is familiar at first hand with the missionary scenes involved, the cast chosen from the Friends church was exceptionally able, and made the living theme of the play stand out boldly in the minds of those who enjoyed it.

A very interesting speech by Rev. John C. White entitled "Do you carry your religion or does your religion carry you?" was most impressive. Other fine talks were the one by Rev. R. O. Gathorn of Arcadia on "The Family Altar" and the address made by Superintendent Bell of the Ord schools about the relationship of the church home and school to the community.

Officers chosen for the ensuing year by a nominating committee headed by Rev. Real, with the aid of ministers and Sunday school superintendents from every church present included: Archie Geweke, president of the association; Elma Webbs of Arcadia, vice president; Mrs. Will Ollis, secretary-treasurer; James Hastings, superintendent of the adult division; Mrs. Fred Barz of North Loup, superintendent of the primary division;

Mr. Hawthorne, who has for years been connected with the Nebraska agricultural college at Lincoln, was appointed recently as director of crop production loans for Nebraska. He visited Ord Tuesday and told 200 interested farmers that seed loans will be available both in Valley and Garfield counties.

Farmers may get government loans only if they actually need them. W. H. Brokaw, of Lincoln, revealed at the city hall Tuesday afternoon in speaking of the seed loans now being granted. About 200 farmers were present to inquire information concerning just whether they were eligible for crop production loans, how to apply for them and when. The loans demand 1-2 per cent interest.

Any honest, well-intentioned farmer may secure a loan if he applies for it in accordance with the conditions laid down, the department of agriculture told the assembled farmers. The fact that the record of any farmer appears black; the fact that he has a lot of hard luck, or has a number of bills will not prevent

It is time money for seed was available, so if you need it do not hesitate to go and ask for it. The applications inquire as to mortgages on your land, as to your other income, and as to the acreage you planted and the yield from it in the past. The applications also inquire into outstanding bills, the number of sons old enough to help farm, and ask just what crops for which you wish to buy seed with the loan if it is granted.

The applications are acted upon very rapidly, and although they must be sent to Minneapolis in this division, they return quickly. Any man who legitimately needs a loan should ask for it says Mr. Brokaw who declared: "As all of us are citizens and taxpayers we are only loaning money to ourselves."

The amount available is not large, per farmer, $400 to the maximum amount loaned to one man, and about $3 per acre is the amount loaned for forage crops. Certain crops may be borrowed upon more heavily, some specialized crops running as high as $12, and 20 per acre being the highest sum loaned, when fertilizer, etc., is needed. But in no case is more than $400 loaned to one farmer.

Interest is charged at the rate of five 1-2 per cent, which is deducted from the check mailed to the farmer who successfully applies for a loan. The notes are due Nov. 30, 1932. Uncle Sam insists on being first mortgage holder, however, and if you have a mortgage, the holder of that mortgage must be willing to waive his claim until the government loan is repaid. The loans may be repaid any time.

Mr. Brokaw states that there is no more red tape connected with securing the loan than would be involved with getting a loan from your banker. He would ask you a lot of questions—the government asks you to write the answers to a very reasonable set of inquiries, so if you require money to buy seed, go and ask for it of your nearest committeeman, who will help you apply for it.

It is not alone the drought that made this state ask for help, Mr. Brokaw told the crowd, but the lack of financial institutions that are able to care for such needs. In some counties of the state he remarked that only as many as two banks were left there, nine ten formerly did business, and that these two were forced to remain in such a liquid condition that they could not loan money for legitimate agricultural needs.

Elsie VanSkike of Greeley was awarded first in the dramatic division Tuesday evening, her selection being "Little Dub"; Phyllis Ritchey of Burwell placed second with "The Valiant"; and Margaret Sayre of North Loup won third place with "White Hands of Telham". All the entries in this division were girls and most of them gave their readings unusually well. Among them were Ruby Wells of Taylor, Florence Kokes of Ord; Laura Mae McGuire of Ericson; Adelyn Boettger of Scotia.

A large assortment featured the humorous section also, but Berrie Texorell of Burwell was decided to be the best in her funny school house happenings winning the judge and audience. Second position was won by Zola Van Skike of Greeley, with "The Modern Sermon" and third went to Gladys Jarvis of Taylor, with a reading called "String Bean". Bernice McVeigh of Spalding was not present. Other contestants for humorous honors were Rosemary Needham of Ord; Bernard Henning of North Loup; Howard Adams of Ericson; and Duane Watts of Scotia. Some of these were decidedly good.

Only first place winners will be heard at Kearney although in case of illness, the winners of second place would substitute if they wished. The Kearney district meet is scheduled for April 8.

In the Ord contest, a loving cup was given for the best one-act play, and in all other cases medals were awarded to first and second prize winners, and other competitors were given honorable mention. The contest as a whole was decidedly better than the one last year, those in charge concluded. The judge was Mrs. Mary Ola Woodson, teacher of dramatic art in the Grand Island Conservatory. At 5:45 a business meeting and dinner was held, with representatives of each school present. Officers in the association sponsoring the contest next year will be the same as for this year: Miss Jean Nelson, president; C. C. Weimerth of Greeley vice president; Millard D. Bell, secretary treasurer.

Robbed Storage House

The Sinclair company's storage warehouse on the tracks, which is presided over by the company's local manager, Charles Hather was broken into last week and between 5 and 10 gallons of gasoline were stolen. Mr. Hather reports. About 6 gallons more were spilled. A crow bar was used by the thieves in breaking in.

County School News

By Clara M. McClatchey, County Superintendent

Reports of the election of teachers for next year have begun to come in from the rural schools in the county. More of the districts may have elected but I am listing below only the ones on which I have received complete reports:

District 4 Opal Cemetery, $70, new in this school. District 9 Clara Jensen, $70, re-elected. District 10 Minnie Jensen, $90, re-elected. District 14 Inez Eberhart, $90, re-elected. District 17 Keo Auble, $80, re-elected. District 24 Velma Leach, $75, new in this school. District 34 Gwendolyn Kellison, nee this school. District 46 Edna Lee, $70, new in this school. District 47 Dorothy Fuss, re-elected. District 42 Nellie Waller, salary $55, new in this school. District 65 Aloha Stewart, re-elected. District 67 Sylvie Vodehnal, re-elected.

It is gratifying to notice the number of re-elections in this list. Not so many years back the records show that rural schools often elected two and sometimes three teachers in one year. There would be a different teacher for each of the three terms, fall, winter and spring. Each teacher was compelled to spend a good part of her time finding out what had been done by her predecessor. Today the teacher carries out a full year's program and in some cases for a number of years in the same district. In the above list the teachers in district 47 and 67 will be serving their second years, districts 14 and 17 their third year, district 9 and 10 their fourth year and district 65 her fifth year.

Spelling Contest

The Valley county spelling contest will be held again this year on April 18th at the Ord high school auditorium. Contestants will be in their places at 1 o'clock. Each school is entitled to two contestants who are given the opportunity to spell in both oral and written contests. In the contest of 1930 there were 54 contestants and last year 57. We expect a good representation again this spring. Souvenirs are given to each contestant and prizes to the winners. The public is invited.

To the Voters of the 77th Legislative District

I am a candidate for renomination and election to the legislature in which you have seen fit to have me serve in the past. I have appreciated the honor and privilege, have given the work my best attention and will continue to do so if re-elected. Acquaintance with fellow members, state officials and legislative experience give a man of average ability a distinct advantage over the new member. As a matter of fact, the work of the house is directed and to a great extent modeled by those members who have reached this point of service to you. I am personally acquainted with many members who will serve in the next session in House and Senate.

I also know personally most of the men who are liable to be our next state officials. I have worked with many of these in House and Senate and I believe I have their confidence and respect and that if I show the same diligence and judgment in future work that I can depend upon their co-operation for what I attempt for the betterment of this district and the State of Nebraska. I do not make the following statements in a spirit of boasting but rather to indicate that my efforts as a Republican member have been given an honest hearing and in part at least approval by my fellow members of the party.

When the bill for redistricting the state came up, I was the only member in the House able to make a change in the bill keeping the 77th district in the new 5th congressional (old 6th) instead of being partly in the new 3rd. I have a letter of appreciation from Congressman Robt. Simmons for accomplishing this. I was one of the introducers and active in passing the dairy bills which mean so much to the cream producers of the state and the dairy industry in general.

The problem of tax relief was a major issue in 1931. I had become interested in this and was introducer of a bill known as an act for property tax relief. This was the bill to tax net income after all expenses and an exemption of what is considered necessary living expenses. No fairer tax can be levied than that which takes as basis the earning power of land, factory, business or profession. No income above exemption, no tax. Your town property, farms and personal property are taxed with no consideration as to their income producing ability. This bill was killed in the Rev. and Taxation Com. but the House members recognized that this was one of the most important questions they had to consider and by the vote of 53 members was raised from the committee and placed on special file. This bill was worked on for three days and was lost by a few votes. It was conceded by the members that this question will be one of the main questions in the next session and I believe that I am probably as well posted, if not better, than most of the men who will be members of the next House and if re-elected I will put forth every effort to see that a bill is passed that is fair, just and effective and accomplishes the purpose of taking some of the tax burden off of real and personal property. This was provided for in the bill by a provision that the levy of tax on property must be reduced by the amount collected from income tax.

In regard to our state highway system, I am opposed to the issue of bonds for paving. I believe we are going fast enough under existing conditions and that our present policy of pay-as-you-go is to our best interest. I was able to locate 40 miles of new highway in this district when many members were unable to get any additional mileage. I have co-operated with men from all sections of the district to get roads constructed and gravelled and working together we have been successful in a greater degree than ever before as you will find if you will look up the record for graveling. In this work I have not let selfish local interests govern me but have worked for the best interest of the whole district, regardless of locality.

I voted for a bill to regulate the use of heavy trucks and let them pay for the use of the roads for commercial purposes. If it can be shown that this is unjust I am ready to work for the needed changes. This bill passed the house 70 to 15 and was intended merely for protection for roads and for public safety. It does not raise the license on farm trucks but only on heavy commercial trucks which cause immense expense for highway upkeep and the rates on these are not high except on the larger sizes.

I favor tax reduction by cutting salaries, by a more equal and efficient assessment of all kinds of property, by a revaluation and lowering of town and farm real estate assessment and by revision of tax system so that net income shall pay part of the burden.

If re-elected I shall continue to work as I have in the past for economy, efficiency and justice and with the trend of the times am sure that some of the needed changes can be made in the next session.

THE Ord City Bank opened for business March 16, 1882, the personnel including D. C. Bell, W. C. Wentz, George Percival, H. A. Babcock. Three years later it became a national bank, the name changing to the First National bank. Another important change made in that month was the sale of Mr. Post's bank stock to Peter Mortensen, who remained in the First National Bank for 27 years.

A number of friends who patronized the bank during the first month of its life are still customers of the First National, fifty years later.

Originally located where the Co-operative Oil company now stands, the small frame building was left in the fall of 1887 for the newly finished First National Building, where Tony's Shoe store now does business. The only other move ever made was into the present fine building the First National occupies, the move taking place in May 1908.

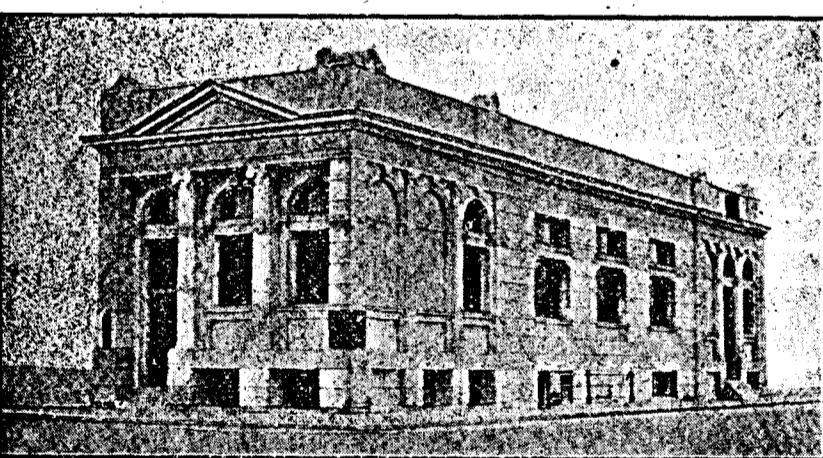

Longest record of service with the institution is held by Joseph P. Barta, who has served 27 years, now being president. E. M. Williams remained 25 years in the same service, and third in term of service to the First National and its patrons is W. C. H. Noll, who recently became cashier. His record is 21 years and more.

James McNamee Wins Linotype Note Case

James McNamee, of Ord, was released from the necessity of paying a $1,100 note to the Mergenthaler Linotype company Monday when a jury in district court here brought in a directed verdict for McNamee on the ground that no copy of the note was given him at the time he gave the note to Irl D. Tolen, who then ran the Linotype school. Mr. Tolen later transferred the note, as well as graded study, is working splendidly. There are no open objections so far, while many are outspoken in approval. We wish however that we could increase the percentage of folks who come at 10 and stay all through. In other words that more would come at ten o'clock. We have classes for everybody and the lessons are interesting. Try it next Sunday.

Easter Decorations By Rev. McCarthy

Make Church Lovely
Clever and appropriate decorations for Easter were a special feature of that important day in the Christian church last Sunday, most of the work being done by Rev. McCarthy himself.

The elaborate decorations, in three distinct groups, symbolized the relation of the Ord church to the cross and through the cross their relation to the world and especially to their foreign missionary stations.

A tiny replica of the Ord Christian church was built and finished to resemble the local church painted white with green roof, complete even to the small square tower. Streamers from the church lead to a cross, which was ornamented with Easter flowers such as lilies. In turn, more streamers lead to a wall on which an enormous circle bore a number of maps showing Christian missionary locations all over the world. The maps were also the work of Rev. McCarthy, well drawn and quite correct in detail. A large amount of work was done in order to present the effective decorations.

A motto was cut and posted about this circle, which read, "If I Be Lifted Up, I'll Draw All Men Unto Me." These words and the unique decorations symbolized literally the relationship between the Ord Christian church, the Cross and the Missionary stations in foreign lands. Much praise was heard of Rev. McCarthy's work.

Have Birthday Party.

The study division of the Methodist Aid society spent a pleasant afternoon at a birthday party last Wednesday. After a program of musical numbers they adjourned to the dining room in the basement of the church, where a table had been decorated to represent each month in the year. Each lady sought the table at her birthday month. Juarez was appropriately decorated with a snowman February with Valentine motif; March, St. Patrick's day; April, spring showers; May, a May pole; June, for brides; July, fireworks; August, vacation time; September, school days; October, Hallooween; November, harvest time; December, Christmas decorations. A delicious supper was served.

L. Lakin and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lakin spent Easter Sunday with the Pratt Lakin family at Burwell.

Miss Ellamae Sershen, of North Loup, formerly of Ord, was a model at the recent Bredthauer style show held in Scotia.

Secretary of Agriculture Hyde has ruled that seed loans authorized under the provisions of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation act may be extended as follows:

"Those of $100 or less must be paid this year; those of $200 must be paid in two years; while all over $200 may run for three years."

This makes considerable difference in the outlook for the borrowing farmer whose credit was curtailed and who was unable to procure seed loans from other sources.—Agricultural Advisory Council, Des Moines, Ia.
