CONVENTIONS IN SESSION TODAY AT LINCOLN, OMAHA

Republicans Meet at Capitol City, Dems in Metropolis; Valley County Sends Delegates.

Conventions of Nebraska's two major political parties are in session today, republicans meeting in Lincoln while the democrat party is holding its annual get-together in Omaha.

"I have held this position for a long time and though I did not seek it again this year I will not attempt to disguise the fact that I enjoy the work."

E. C. James was chosen secretary to succeed himself, after which the following delegates to the state convention were elected: Bert M. Hardenbrook, E. C. Leggett, E. C. James, Alvin Blessing, Marlon J. Cushing and Clarence M. Davis, Ord; Vern W. Robbins, North Loup; A. E. Hayward, C. O. Rettenmayer and C. W. Starr, Arcadia.

Democrats held their convention in the county court room down stairs at the same hour, only about twelve being present.

Nothing in the way of "fireworks" developed at either convention but an air of quiet confidence was shown by democrats, who believe their party will be victorious at the next fall election.

Upon motion of Mr. Hardenbrook, republicans adopted a ruling that enables the chairman of the Valley county delegation at the state convention to cast the vote of the entire delegation should delegates be absent from the floor.

S. D. Ayres, Former Ord Resident, Dies

At his home in Central City Monday morning, S. D. Ayres passed away suddenly at the age of 71. Mr. Ayres was one of the city's most prominent residents and had also served as president of the state lumberman's association and of the state Y. M. C. A. in early days.

Ord Business Men Paint and Improve

Spring is the traditional season for painting and Ed Moyer is one Ord business man who has taken full advantage of the season.

Painter George Owen was busy Tuesday giving the metal awning over the Auble building a coat of paint. He wasn't just slapping it on, either, but was giving it that mottled effect that is so modern and so hard to do just right.

The large sign over the J. C. Penney store was being repainted Tuesday, Jud Tero being the artist in charge. And a couple of weeks ago the Johnson Bakery and Dr. Blessing's reception room were both redecorated by Hans Thorne.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cummings and daughters, Vivian and Waneta of North Loup, were visiting in the home of a daughter and sister, Mrs. Clyde Baker.

Nearly 500 Visit Schools, Learn About Modern Teaching Methods

Grade and High Schools Give Fine Programs During 'Know Your School' Week Apr. 25-29.

By Irma Ellis Leggett Never have so many parents evinced an interest in schoolwork and in visiting the schools as attended the exhibitions of regular work and inspected the schools during the week of April 25 to 29.

The program at the grade school Tuesday evening at their open house included folk songs and dances by the kindergartners, reading by the first grade and also an exhibition of the rhythm band by the same grade, Miss Hallen's class.

HELEN TRAVIS, LAVERN ALDRICH ARE WED SUNDAY

Popular Ord High Graduate Becomes Bride of Farmer At Home Ceremony.

On Sunday, May 1, at high noon Miss Helen Grace Travis, daughter of Fred Travis, became the bride of Lavern V. Aldrich at a beautiful ceremony held at the family home near Ord.

Promptly at 12 o'clock the bridal pair, attended by Miss Fern Aldrich, sister of the groom, and by Alvin Travis, brother of the bride, took their places under a beautifully decorated arch which had been erected in a bay window of the living room of the Travis home.

The bride was charmingly dressed in a jacketed frock of soft beige color, with trim of a slightly darker rose color. She carried an armload of pink roses and buds and snapdragons.

Miss Keo Auble played Lohengrin's wedding march as the party approached, and also directly after the double ring service was read. Immediately after the ceremony a three-course wedding dinner was served to about 64 friends, neighbors and relatives. Those who came from other places to witness the marriage include Mr. and Mrs. Merle Denning and family, Elm Creek; Mrs. Martin Wolfe of Valley Junction, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Lewis and family of Burwell; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Aldrich of Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. Rothwell Strohl of Taylor and Mrs. Floyd Dye of Sargent.

The bride is the youngest daughter of Fred Travis and the late Mrs. Travis, the mother having passed away several years ago. The new Mrs. Aldrich graduated from Ord high school in 1924 and two years later graduated from the Kearney normal school; she then taught school a year and since then has stayed at home and helped her father and brothers.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Aldrich of near Taylor. He came over to Valley county about five years ago and since that time has been farming near Ord. He will take his bride to the old Loomis place in Winton township to reside. There the young couple are at home now and there they are receiving the best wishes of their many friends.

Bee Keepers Will Meet Next Tuesday

Bee keepers of Valley county will hold a meeting next Tuesday, May 10, at the F. M. Vodehnal farm west of Ord, announces Mr. Vodehnal, who is president of the county association. All bee keepers, honey consumers and anybody interested are invited to come.

Catholic ladies society met last Wednesday with Mrs. Lyle McBeth. There was a good attendance. Mrs. McBeth's mother, Mrs. J. C. Meese, assisted at the serving hour.

3 of Year's Best At Ord Theatre Within Week

Three of the year's best pictures come to the Ord Theatre within the space of the next seven days, Manager Hoogenboezem says this week. The three are "Girl Crazy," "Fireman Save My Child," with Joe E. Brown, and "Around the World in 80 Minutes," the great Douglas Fairbanks picture.

First of the three is the Joe E. Brown feature. Brown is the comedian with the huge mouth and "Fireman Save My Child" is a rip snort farce comedy filled with the newest gags. It's a winner.

Of general interest always is the Wheeler and Woolsey team and in "Girl Crazy" they are at their fastest and funniest. This week Sunday and Monday Bill Doug Fairbanks, Sr. (not Junior) is the star of "Around the World in 80 Minutes." Old fans and younger ones alike will enjoy this fast moving tale of a ship snort all over the globe.

The Ord Theatre management is making a great effort to show the best films of the whole industry. E. K. O. First National and United Artists released the three pictures that show here this week and Universal, Paramount, M-G-M, Pathe and Warner Bros. pictures, the very best from each company, also are being shown here soon after they are released.

NORTH LOUP MAN HIT BY BALL 14 YEARS AGO DIES

Lee Larkin Was Watching Game At Ord Fairgrounds When Hit In Head, Paralyzed.

North Loup, May 3.—(Special)—Fourteen years ago while watching a ball game on the fair grounds at Ord, Lee Larkin was struck in the head by a baseball. Partially paralyzed ever since, he passed away at the Frank Larkin home here. During much of his long period of invalidism he was a great sufferer.

A few days after the accident that cut him down Mr. Larkin submitted to brain surgery at St. Francis hospital in Grand Island where the operation was only partly successful and failed to restore his faculties. In spite of his suffering, he was of a happy disposition and always tried to minimize his own troubles and help others.

He was born Dec. 25, 1891 in this village, and his entire life was spent here. Just after the accident that crippled him for life the young man was called to serve his country during the World war but of course could not do so.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Larkin, and by seven brothers and one sister, Roy, Rex and Ned Larkin, of North Loup, Burr, of Culver, Ore., Jay, of Boulder, Colo., Fay of Cashmere, Wash., Don, of Grand Island, and Mrs. Lottie Sample, of Seattle, Wash.

Funeral services were held at the home Sunday, Rev. H. E. Warren conducting them. Music was furnished by Dell Barber, Arch Moulton, Ava Johnson and Esther Babcock. Pall bearers were Paul Madison, Merrill Wellman, Clare Clement, Esli Maxson, Albert Combs and Rex White. Interment was in the family lot in North Loup cemetery.

Gets Pair of Shiners.

Frank Peteka has been coming in for a lot of good natured kidding from his friends the past few days, the reason being a pair of black eyes and a swelled nose that he has been wearing. He received the hurts last Friday when he fell down a flight of stairs at the Jerry Peteka store. He was carrying a big chair down the stairs when it slipped and fell. One leg of the chair poked him in the face, which caused the damage to his features.

Suffers From Horse Kick.

George Sample, of Davis Creek, was hurt by a horse last Wednesday and though he is able to be up he is still very weak and sore. Dr. Hemphill was called to attend him three times the day he was hurt.

ADRIAN TOLEN WINS TITLE AS BEST SPEAKER

Competed in Lincoln, Won State F. F. A. Championship; Will Enter National Contest.

The state championship in the Future Farmers of America public speaking contest was won by Adrian Tolen, Ord high school senior, when he competed last week in a contest held at the College of Agriculture, Lincoln. By winning this contest Adrian won the right to represent Nebraska in the national contest held in Kansas City next fall.

Before competing at Lincoln, Adrian won the western Nebraska title at North Platte against a field of six competitors. All district winners entered the state event at Lincoln but Adrian was still victorious. Judges declared his talk was the best ever heard at a state contest.

"Taxation" was the subject of Adrian's talk and he illustrated his remarks by the use of charts depicting tax revenue and expenditure in Valley county. Citizens get full value for their tax dollar, was his contention. He denounced the plan of reducing teachers' salaries and said any cut made should be moderate. "Doing away with the public schools or departments in them would only aggravate the present situation," Adrian declared. "It would shove children into the unemployed line by taking them out of school and would make the unemployment situation much more serious. In addition it would propagate crime by affording more leisure time to children of school age."

Consolidation of counties also was declared by young Tolen, who said that local pride would prove a powerful factor in preventing consolidation. Adrian is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irl D. Tolen, of Ord.

FARM BASEBALL TEAMS PLAY 1ST GAMES OF SEASON

Oak Creek Taken In for 8th Team, Opening Games Show That Rivalry Is Keen.

The Valley County Farm Bureau Baseball league opened its third season Sunday, when eight teams representing widely scattered portions of the county swung into action. The weather was slightly on the chilly side but mid-season ball was played by several of the teams.

The other Ord team fared better. Manager Auble's Delcos beating Elyria 4 to 0; Mattern, former Burwellite, was on the hillock for the Delcos and Scorer Peterson credited him with a 4-hit performance. If Mattern pitches this kind of ball when the chilly winds of spring blow what will he do along about July? He whiffed 11 Elyria batters. Ernie Vodehnal and Pep (the 2nd) Kuklisch shared the mound burden for Elyria and were nicked for eight hits. Jim Covert, with 3 hits, was the leading slugger of the game.

Arcadia and Mira Valley tangled in an interesting clash on the Mira Valley ballgrounds, the former team tallying 4 times while the M. V. boys could cross the platter but twice. Mell Williams gave up only 2 hits, according to the official summary, but his mates made three runs and did a lot of damage. Holmes was the Arcadia moundsman.

Oak Creek walloped Burwell in their first appearance Sunday. Players who participated in Sunday games were:

50 ARCADIAN ASK CO. BOARD FOR ROAD, GET IT

Would Have Highway Run Straight West From Arcadia To Custer County Line.

A delegation of fifty people from Arcadia and vicinity was in Ord Tuesday to meet with the Valley county board of supervisors, their purpose being to petition the board to designate a township road to run straight west from Arcadia to the county line.

Leaders of the delegation appeared to be Burt Sell, M. L. Fries, Charles Luedtke and Harry Belling, though others spoke also. All speakers told about the advantages of the road they asked for over the present highway, which is known locally as "the Hansen road" because it passes the farm of S. V. Hansen, present Arcadia supervisor.

The present road goes west one mile from Arcadia, then south one mile. It was so laid out to avoid a mile of very hilly land on the west edge of Section 28. Part of it has been improved recently and the Valley county board has received tentative assurance from the state department of public works that this road would be taken over soon by the state and maintained as a state highway, thus relieving Valley county of considerable expense each year.

Some of the delegation, however, protested that if any road is to be taken over by the state it should run directly west from Arcadia to the line. Otherwise, many people living west and northwest of that village would have to travel (Continued on Page 4.)

$11,578 Is Seed Loan Total Now

Applications Made Prior To Closing Date April 30 Will Bring Valley County Total of $15,000.

To date $11,578 in federal seed loans has been disbursed in Valley county, reported Ign. Klima, jr., county clerk, yesterday. Seventy different farmers shared in this sum, the smallest federal loan being $25 and the largest $350.

April 30 was the final date upon which applications for seed loans could be made and several came in at the last minute. Mr. Klima thinks that the seed loan total for this county will be approximately $15,000 when the work is completed. Applications for loans were made through a committee but disbursements were made through the county clerk's office.

Track Meet Yesterday. The annual Loup Valley track and field meet was held on the Ord fairgrounds yesterday with ten schools competing. Since the Quiz now goes to press early Wednesday evening it is impossible to give the results today.

Terry Carpenter, Not Osborne, Nominated

Terry Carpenter, a lumberman at Spottsbuff, is the democratic nominee for Congress in the 5th district instead of Thomas C. Osborne, Alliance preacher. This was the announcement made last Friday by Frank Marsh, secretary of state, after he completed an official tabulation of the votes. The race was so close that until the final tabulation by Mr. Marsh the result was in doubt.

The vote of the three leading candidates was as follows: Terry Carpenter, 4,703; Thomas C. Osborne, 4,676; Guy V. Doran, 4,668.

ANNUAL SENIOR PLAY PRESENTED HERE TOMORROW

"Mummy and the Mumps" Is Name Of Comedy; Tickets On Sale At McLain-Sorensen's.

Friday evening, May 6th, the senior class presents a most interesting comedy called "The Mummy and the Mumps," involving Charles Shepard as Sir Hector Fish and a very dumb "dumbbell" called Dulse Dumble, which part is most laughably played by Iola Mae Williams. Then Rosemary Needham is the head of an exclusive girls' school, and her first name, of course, is Agatha. Harold Benn is a budding detective, Dola Flynn and Virginia Vandecar are a couple of young heroines who get into heaps of trouble. Mary Weintak is a lady reporter and Rodney Stoltz has a haughty part. Adrian Tolen will once more be the heavy comedian, and Anthony Kokes also has an amusing role to play.

Miss Jean Nelson is coaching the cast, who are working hard to produce good entertainment. The high school auditorium will be the place where the play is given.

Madams Koupal And Weller Win Prizes At 1st Flower Show

Mrs. Rudolph Koupal was awarded first prize for the most attractive bouquet of flowers last weekend, when Mr. Noll of the Noll Seed company decided that the old favorite color scheme of pink, blue and white was the best after all. Mrs. Koupal had combined white tulips with a rosy flush of pink at the top of each petal with several hyacinth stalks of soft blue color, arranging them in a fan shaped vase. Her prize was a pot of blue hydrangeas.

Mrs. Ernest Weller won first place for the loveliest individual flower, her entry being a large, attractive double white tulip. Her prize was a pot of pink geraniums.

Mr. Noll said that crowds thronged his store most of the day Saturday and until late that evening to see the spring flowers on display. A goodly number of entries were submitted, among them tulips, hyacinths, myrtle in flower and many others.

At the J. C. Penney company will be held the second flower show, two weeks after the first. Dates are May 13 and 14, Friday and Saturday.

Arcadia Seniors Will Give Play

A three act comedy, "George In a Jam," is the Arcadia senior class play this year and it will be presented at the theatre there tomorrow evening, May 6. In the cast are Harold Gates, Lavonne Bartley, Arthur Lutz, Lenora Holmes, Everett Johnson, Mary Elizabeth Cook, Evelyn Hyatt, Janet Cook, Glenn Jameson and Louis Drake.

Arcadia Tabby Cat Adopts a Baby Squirrel

Arcadia, May 4.—(Special)—A mother cat belonging to the L. G. Arnold family has very graciously adopted a baby squirrel, which seems perfectly happy with its new mother. It all happened when Billy Arnold and a couple of other boys found three baby squirrels. Each boy took a squirrel but when they got home were at a loss to know how to feed them. Billy decided to trust his to the family cat, which had lately acquired three kittens. The old cat seemed delighted and her first job was to give the baby squirrel a tongue bath, so that it wouldn't disgrace her kittens by being dirty. This all took place about two weeks ago and now the squirrel and kittens play together as the best of friends. The kittens seem to enjoy playing with the squirrel's long, bushy tail.

The boys who took the other two squirrels were less fortunate. Billy's being the only one that survived.

ORD MEN GIVEN ENCOURAGEMENT ON ERICSON ROAD

Gov. Bryan Much interested, Asks Delegation For More Information About It.

Encouragement that the Ord-Ericson highway may be taken over by the state and graveled before many months pass was given a delegation of Ord and Ericson men who called upon Governor Chas. W. Bryan in Lincoln last Friday. The delegation was well received by the chief executive, who showed much interest in the highway and requested Ord men to send him more information about it.

A through highway from Sloux City to North Platte with the Ord-Ericson road as an important part of it is the aim of local men who over at the meeting. The portion from Bartlett to Ericson, to Ord already has been designated by the legislature as a state highway but has never been taken over by the state.

When and if completed, the road would be graveled from Elgin to Bartlett, Bartlett to Ericson, Ericson to Ord, Ord to Comstock and Comstock to Broken Bow by way of Westerville.

ORD MEN GIVEN ENCOURAGEMENT ON ERICSON ROAD

Gov. Bryan Much interested, Asks Delegation For More Information About It.

Encouragement that the Ord-Ericson highway may be taken over by the state and graveled before many months pass was given a delegation of Ord and Ericson men who called upon Governor Chas. W. Bryan in Lincoln last Friday.

The delegation was well received by the chief executive, who showed much interest in the highway and requested Ord men to send him more information about it.

When and if completed, the road would be graveled from Elgin to Bartlett, Bartlett to Ericson, Ericson to Ord, Ord to Comstock and Comstock to Broken Bow by way of Westerville.

The local delegation's trip to Lincoln was decided on last Thursday evening when two Ericson men, Ray Weldenhaft and E. Hafner, met with directors of the Ord Chamber of Commerce. Both Ericson men have devoted much study to highway problems and requested aid from the Ord Chamber in getting the Ericson to Ord road graveled by the state. Since such a project is of immense importance to Ord as well as to Ericson, Wheeler county men met with instant encouragement here.

Ord men who made the trip were E. C. James, chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors, and Marlon J. Cushing, state representative. Both of them are familiar with highway matters and both of them have been studying for years to secure more state highways for this section of the state.

Mr. James reports that the state engineer, Roy L. Cochran, seems very favorable to the state taking over the Ord-Ericson unit. Both he and Governor Bryan advised the delegation members to send them complete information on the present condition of the road, its outlets, amount of traffic over it, etc., and both indicated that if the state gas tax stays anywhere near normal this summer it will be possible for the state to take over the road.

That portion of the road that lies in Valley county has been developed under the supervision of Engineer R. C. Ayres so that it comes close to state specifications now. Most of the heavy work has deferred minor injuries Sunday evening take it over and without very heavy additional expense make a splendid graveled road of it. Portions of the highway in Garfield and Wheeler counties are in poor shape, however, and practically a new highway will have to be built.

Several Comstock men will confer with the governor this week relative to completion of a gravel highway from Comstock to Ord. Comstock has no all-weather outlet whatever and is entitled to one, people there feel, and they will work with Ord and Ericson to bring about completion of a Sloux City to North Platte highway running through the three communities.

Two Young People Hurt In Car Smash

Miss Victoria Kusek, teacher at Elyria, and Bill Johnson, who is employed on the Howard Huff farm, suffered minor injuries Sunday evening when the car in which they were riding crashed into a bank west of Bussell park and was wrecked. Two other occupants of the car, Edwin Clemmy and Miss Emma Stanek, escaped unharmed.

Miss Kusek's injuries consisted of a bad cut in her scalp accompanied by a light concussion. Johnson suffered a broken bone in one hand, cuts and bruises.

Loose gravel and a passing car are blamed by the driver, Mr. Johnson. The car, a Buick sedan belonging to Howard Huff, was so badly wrecked that it will cost $200 to repair it, the Ford garage estimates.

Arcadia Man Loses Foot In Buz Buzz

Herman Schultz, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Schultz, of Arcadia, sustained an amputation of one foot Saturday morning when his foot came in contact with a buzz saw with which he was working on the Marlon Dubbs farm near Wood River. The foot was so badly mangled that it had to be amputated at the ankle by surgeons at St. Francis hospital, Grand Island.

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Will Bartlett will go to Lincoln where they will visit their daughter, Mrs. J. B. Gilmore and family and Mr. Bartlett will attend a K. of P. convention.

WALL STREET RACKETEERS
A congressional investigation committee did a great service to the country last week when it exposed a piece of racketeering which has been the cause of its own undoing.

When racketeering is mentioned we ordinarily think of Al Capone or some of his minions, butting in on the public through control of vice, crime and booze or by extortion from some legitimate business.

Some of these racketeers bear honored names. There are listed among them Rockefeller, Whitneys, a Raskob, and others whose names have been synonymous with financial integrity and business sagacity.

In 1929, we knew, securities went sky high but we accepted the explanation that was given to us.

Men who were officers or directors in great industrial concerns have not hesitated to "sell short" the stock of their own concerns in order to enrich themselves.

We repeat, the senate did a great service in exposing these brokers and their methods. The "sucker" will not be so readily gulled into playing the Wall street game again.

DISCOURAGING PEDDLERS.
In Greeley last week the town board amended its ordinance covering sales by peddlers so that in future it will cost $10 per day license fee for outsiders to sell produce from trucks instead of $5 per day as in the past.

Let it be understood that such an ordinance should not and does not apply to local truck growers who sell produce. Perhaps it might be framed so as to apply to all people whose residences are outside of Valley county and who seek to sell on the streets of Ord.

It is not fair to local merchants who pay taxes here to permit houses to house sales license free. We wish some way could be found to stop silk hostery peddlers and the like. The city council should devote itself to discouraging outside peddlers.

THE WET-DRY POLL

Wets feel that they have cause for rejoicing in the result of the Literary Digest's prohibition poll. Final results announced last week reveal that about 5 million votes were cast and that 73.51 percent of those votes favor repeal of the 18th amendment.

Furthermore, a close examination of the Digest poll will reveal that which may sweep the 18th amendment out of the constitution a few years from now unless it is stopped.

Wets have gained strength, drys have lost in the past two years. Except for revealing that fact, the Digest poll is without practical value.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

When the omnibus bill was presented to the House of Representatives last Friday, it contained a clause which would have been fatal to vocational education.

Before the day was over, someone from the floor moved that the clause affecting vocational education be stricken out. The motion was put to a vote and carried by a 5 to 1 majority.

Folks who had known nothing of the work became informed and interested. Governor Bryan sent in a telegram of protest, after studying Nebraska's Future Farmer program.

Representatives were informed that elimination of vocational teaching would result in a need for extra academic teachers. That this cut in federal taxes would make the burden of local school taxes all the more unbearable.

In his campaign speeches, President Hoover strongly endorsed the state and federal programs of vocational education. Only a few weeks ago he made these statements: "However the national economy may vary, or whatever fiscal adjustments may need to be made, the first obligation upon the national resources is the undiminished support of the public schools."

His change of heart is traceable directly to the influence of the National Education association committee, headed by Ray Lyman Wilbur, secretary of the Interior.

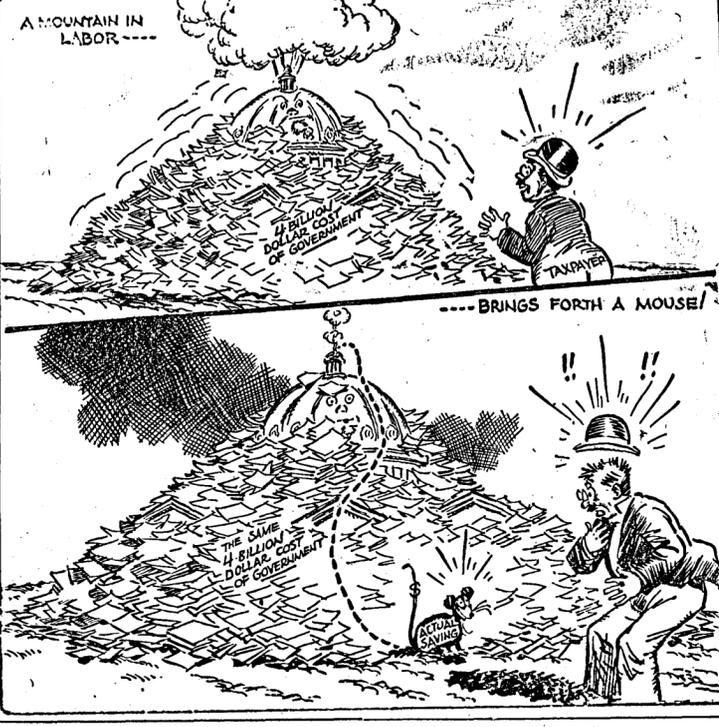

Falls, Is Injured.
Mrs. Paul Miller with her little daughter Aileen Rae in her arms fell down stairs Saturday in their home in Grand Island.

Just at the foot of the slope an oval lily pool or fish pond has been sunk into the lawn. It is made of cement with occasional cobblestones, and in the center of the pool rises a tall symmetrical bird bath.

Back of the new cobblestone work a short distance is an arbor or seat with a curved top, in a white trellis fashion. Matching the seat in style is a rather high white picket fence which has been newly installed across the back and side of the lawn which surrounds the Bals home.

CONGRESS GIVES BIRTH TO ECONOMY

Something DIFFERENT

A friend and neighbor wrote in a regular eulogy the other day about Gib Gaylord. Several passages about what a cheerful, happy, fellow he was, in spite of considerable hard luck.

Some of the nice things in the letter were about his new bride, to go. It seems she has about as many good traits as Gilbert, and is as affectionately regarded around her home town, which is Arcadia.

The mating season seems to be here. So many brides and weddings. And of course just as many grooms as brides. . . isn't that queer? John Lemmon quietly took the fatal step a few days ago, and at last reports was searching for a suitable nest to occupy.

Among the school teaching force, Cupid has made a far better average of strikes than usual. Rumor has it that Mrs. Raskob will become a Mrs. shortly after the last schoolday; Miss Blanchard is reported seriously interested in matrimony; Miss Hostetter has permitted her intentions to wed to be published to her friends.

One of Jess Howerton's neighbors wanted you to try your luck with this puzzle: Two men, A and B, each had a different number of sheep. If A gave B one each had the same number. If B gave A one A would have twice as many as B. How many did each have?

Miss McClatchey, our county superintendent, almost became the owner of a nice police pup the other day. Or so she thought. Sheriff Round came in her office with an armful of the cutest, clumsiest, biggest-footed police pups, soft and cuddly and cunning. He inquired of Miss McClatchey if she wanted one for a pet?

Before she committed herself, however, she learned that the pups were not German police pups at all, but were coyote puppies brought in by Axel Lindhartsen. There were eight of the cute little fellows, and although the courthouse attaches fell in love with them, a coyote is a coyote, and so they were killed.

I think Mr. Krikac, over at Comstock, must have been pretty well squelched by my last directed remarks at him. At least all has been peaceful and calm on that horizon since that time.

The Charles Bals place is going to look nicer than ever this year, several charming features having been added to their garden and lawn at the east side of the Bals home.

Just at the foot of the slope an oval lily pool or fish pond has been sunk into the lawn. It is made of cement with occasional cobblestones, and in the center of the pool rises a tall symmetrical bird bath.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

A new meat dish tones up your whole menu and makes the family believe they have a company meal. It is a real treat to serve something new and unexpected to them occasionally. Don't let them be too sure of having hash on Monday or fish on Friday. Plan to surprise them, and see how pleased and interested they will be in their meals.

Cabbage and Carrot Salad. 1 small head cabbage. 2 medium sized carrots. 1 onion. Mayonnaise. Add diced onion and carrot to shredded cabbage. Add mayonnaise sweetened to taste. Whipped sour cream to which has been added sugar and vinegar may be substituted for mayonnaise.

White Cake. 2 c. sugar. 2-3 c. butter. 1 c. sweet milk. 5 egg whites, stiffly beaten. 3 c. flour. 2 tsp. baking powder. Flavor with vanilla

Mrs. Walter H. Jones, Arcadia. Mrs. Jones also sends a recipe for another way to make white cake. They differ somewhat, but are both unusually good. Take your choice.

Ord Man's Sister Inherits Fortune

Mrs. Theresa Wilson, sister of John Higgins of Ord, has inherited a fortune from a former employer in Minneapolis, Minn., the Greeley Citizen reported last week.

The exact amount of the "fortune" was not revealed, the newspaper stating simply that Mrs. Wilson was left "a large sum of money."

John Higgins is an employe of the state department of public works and operates a highway maintainer, making his home in Ord.

Quiz want ads get results!

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

It always pleases us to know that people get results from their advertising. Mrs. Lloyd Hunt placed a small classified ad in the Quiz advertising hatching eggs and she was in Saturday to pay for her ad and said she had more orders than she could fill, "people coming from Davis Creek, Arcadia and all over" was the way she put it.

Unless there is a material improvement in the business of the Quiz in the very near future we shall have to discontinue the colored supplement, much as we hate to do so. Frankly, business is terrible and the overhead must be reduced so the income will more nearly pay expenses, something it has not been doing for some months.

A young man came in Saturday to place a classified ad in this week's paper, asking for a place where he can work for room and board the coming fall and attend school in Ord. I was impressed with this young man's appearance and believe that whoever gets his services will not be sorry for giving him the chance he wants for better pay.

was unfortunate in having the first flower show of the season, as the weather has been cold and there were not many flowers to be brought in. Still, he had something like fifteen entries and some very beautiful flowers and there was a lot of interest shown. I don't know who will have the show next week but a front page story this week will disclose the name of the business house and I want to urge all flower lovers to make up the best showing possible and bring them in. A lot of effort is being expended and no small expense is incurred in this effort and every merchant should be encouraged. You can't all win, of course. But that is no reason not to encourage, with your flowers, such a wonderful project. I mean the country people as well as those in town. Some of the most beautiful flowers I had last year came from ladies from the country. In fact, flowers from a woman really has the best chance to have good flowers. I want to urge the country women to get right into the game next week and every week when there is a flower show.

el many miles out of their way when they come to town, they said. It was stated that 42 Arcadia business people have signed a petition asking for the road straight west. County Engineer Ayres met with the board and was closely questioned by the delegation. He has made surveys of both routes and stated that in his opinion it would cost $6,800 to build a one-mile road along the west edge of Section 28, this being the route sought by the delegation. This cost, if paid out of township funds, would be prohibitive, in his opinion.

Mr. Sell, who seemed to be chief spokesman for the delegation, emphasized the fact that his people were not asking the county to spend any money on the road. All they want, he said, is to have their route designated as a township road, so they will be in shape to present their claims to the state.

Chairman E. C. James, of the county board, said that in his opinion designating this road would result in confusion that would hold up the entire project for years and the result will be that Arcadia will get no state highway at all for some time.

Supervisor Joe Vastcek however, introduced a resolution to designate the route west of Arcadia as a township road and upon roll call Supervisors Johnson, Barber, Sorenson and Vastcek voted "yes," thus passing the resolution. Supervisors Hansen and Clochou voted "no" and Chairman James, who is required to vote only when a tie has to be settled, put himself on record against the resolution by a loud "no."

This entire road question is a hard one to decide, many favoring the Hansen route and many others preferring the route directly west. It will now be up to state engineers to decide which route is best.

Nearly 500 Visit Schools, Learn About Modern Teaching Methods
In addition to the excellent program arranged, the grades had on display very fine work and a complete display of practically all types of school work now demanded. Booklets made and arranged and titled by the pupils hung in rows in almost every room. Some of them were made in spelling, some in show penmanship; some were put together for geography class; some were on special topics such as birds, Easter, Washington. Numbers of drawings showed the skill of their young makers. These were partly freehand, partly copies, and the subject range was wide. Some splendid pen and ink work showed physiology being learned. Miss Swain's room has become fond of poetry, and begs her to permit them to try to "rhyme" many of their lessons. Dandy little poems were written by these youngsters... you wouldn't believe what they can do in this line. Quite different to teach them to love poetry this way; the formerly popular method was to stuff it into them. A large number of models adorned almost every classroom. Farms were especially fascinating to the younger children, and several sand table hand with models of birds and berries; David Milliken and Ruth Tolen painted especially good landscapes; many children had nearly perfect work on display. A row of neatly written letters posted showed several in a beautiful hand with scarcely an error. Ruth Aulse and Anna Jensen had no mistakes at all in their efforts; Opal Miller's was good and so was the work of Jerrine Burrows. The blackboards held many types of displays. Cut paper work in color was extremely attractive; some of it was combined with colored chalk to make peaceful pictures of contented cows and calves; pictures of flowering trees with children playing and fishing beneath their boughs. School work of every kind on exhibit, and the public, parents and taxpayers, might see where their money went. The high school program included a speed test by the commercial students; Latin play by language pupils; a poster parade of facts about Nebraska, given by the normal trainers. A harp solo by Leota Aulse was the music department's contribution; a mock fraternity initiation was given by the science department. Elwin Aulse sang two numbers to delight the audience. The home economics department presented a fashion revue of clothes made by the girls themselves. Miss Hostetter's gym class presented their wares for the public; Mr. Kovanda's boys mixed feeds under the eyes of the public. The exhibit in each room were part of the regular class work and in several instances the poorest work of the class was displayed beside the best. In such cases youngsters displaying the wares of the room to parents, and the teachers and students alike, were especially proud. In the chemistry and physics laboratory a large snake pickled in alcohol horrified the visitors; alongside it were set up equipment for several experiments that had been working out. In Miss Easley's room diagrammed sentences adorned the walls, beside vocational guidance booklets, hygiene and English papers and posters. Foods were temptingly displayed in the home economics rooms, alongside model school lunches, a table properly set, an exhibit of clothing made this year, art work and child care work done by the students. Contract work on spelling and hygiene drewbooks, health posters and graphs of grades made were seen in Miss Lukesh's room. Penmanship class is now taught by a student in that grade, and Miss Lukesh was gratified last week when the young teacher dictated to the penmanship class of his own accord an Arbor day article. Booklets on As You Like It and pictures of Shakespeare's life were posted in another classroom, beside a comparison of Latin study "then" with "now". Nearby posters indicated Nebraska products in picture and print, with legends showing the rank of the state in the various fields, and not far away disarmament and political cartoons made other studies evident. Competition is used to encourage the students, and on one wall were exhibited drawings of the high school annual. The best one, as selected by the class, was that of Earle Woolery. A very attractive choice it was, too. Huge maps were hung in some classrooms, with representations of the products found in each section of the state. The display showed not only the range of work done by the students, but typical examples, clever and highly marked papers made by leaders of the room perhaps being found by samples which had only been able to get into "G". The public came and admired, discussed and inspected thoroughly and went home wiser and friendlier toward the Ord schools.

Don't Take a Chance on the Future SAVE!
When you go along living from hand to mouth, spending every cent you earn, you are taking big chances on the future. Perhaps your earning power will continue, perhaps it may increase, but you are taking chances on illness, or loss of your job, or on another depression, when you fail to save money as you earn it. Don't take chances on the future when it is so easy to save. The Protective way took the "if" from "thrift."

Emil Clement, 30 Year Ord Resident, Honored by Friends
From the Askov (Minn.) American comes the following account of a social gathering held there to honor the seventy-fifth birthday of Emil Clement, who for thirty years was a resident of the Ord community. Mr. Clement went to Askov nine years ago and has since made his home with relatives there. So many former Ord people now live in or near Askov that it seems almost like his old home to Mr. Clement. All his friends here will read the following story with interest: "The Will Olesen home, 4 miles east of Askov, was the scene of a happy social gathering Sunday afternoon and evening when the 75th birthday anniversary of Emil Clement, uncle of Mrs. Olesen, was celebrated among relatives and friends, some of them former neighbors from Nebraska but now residing in this community. The time was spent in social visiting and recalling of incidents from the pioneer days in Nebraska and other places. "Mr. Clement is a man of small stature but has a string of names being baptized Carl Christian Emil Clement in his native country of Denmark. He was born on April 24, 1857, at Osler Ulslev, near Nysted, on the island of Lolland. He was engaged in business for a time in his native country and came to America at the age of 36 in 1893, settling at Ord, Nebr., where he stayed for some years on a farm, helping his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clement, now both deceased. He also clerked in a store at Ord and has a reputation of being a very good cook, now and then helping out his bachelor friends with good meals. Mr. Clement never married. Thirty years of his life was spent in the Ord neighborhood where he was well and favorably known. Social events in those days were not complete in that community if Emil Clement was not present for he had enjoyed good schooling in his younger days, could give an extemporaneous talk any time and loved to sing. He has also written some poetry now and then and with his natural friendly ways gained scores of friends who were always glad to be in his company. "About nine years ago he came to the Askov community and has since made his home with relatives here, most of the time at the Will Olesen home where he thoroughly enjoys his declining years. He is still in good health except for defective hearing which has not been so good the last few years. "Mr. Clement's nearest relatives in this country where he has now spent 39 years, are his nieces and nephews: Mrs. Will Olesen and Mrs. Fred Olesen of this community; Mrs. Wm. Worm, Ord, Nebr.; Mrs. Roy Browning, Minneapolis; Mrs. Ralph Flynn, Seattle, Wash.; and Elliott and Harry Clement, Ord, Nebr. "The many Askov friends and old timers in Nebraska will wish for this congenial gentleman many more happy birthdays and continued good health." More Fish for Ericson. J. W. Conger, owner of Ericson lake, has been promised by Frank B. O'Connell, state game warden, that a big shipment of bullheads will be planted in the lake soon. The bass season in Nebraska closed April 30 for several weeks prior to that bass were striking good at Ericson. Several huge catfish also have been caught there, the largest weighing 27 pounds. Bluegills, crappies and rock bass are reported to be biting also and several Ord fishermen have been going over there almost every day. --Miss Nina Bisher of Taylor was spending a week in Ord. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Bill Moon and daughter Virginia took Miss Bisher to her home. She is a sister of Mrs. Moon.

WARNS OF GRASSHOPPER MENACE

St. Paul Man Buys The Chevrolet Agency

AUG. MUDLOFF IS NEW OWNER, ED SEYLER TO YORK

Largest Chevy Agency in Central Nebraska Changes Hands; Ord Will Miss Mr. Seyler.

Just at midnight Monday a business deal was closed that brings to Ord Aug. Mudloff, veteran Howard county automobile man, who becomes owner of the Chevrolet agency here. Mr. Mudloff purchased the agency from the Graham-Seyler Chevrolet company, who have been in business here since Feb. 1, 1929.

The amount of money involved was not revealed but it must have been sizeable for the Graham-Seyler agency has been one of the largest in central Nebraska. In a little over three years 1,800 automobiles, new and used, have been sold by Mr. Seyler and his salesmen. The company does an average annual business of $200,000 and has 12 employees.

Everything owned here by the Graham-Seyler company except used cars and shop equipment was bought by Mr. Mudloff, who also assumed a lease on the Newbecker garage for a period of years.

Most of the Graham-Seyler employees will be retained by the new management and the business will be conducted on about the same scale as previously.

The new owner has been selling automobiles for 17 years, for the first five at Farwell and for the past twelve at St. Paul. Until five years ago he sold Buick cars and many Ord people have bought Buicks from him. At present he holds the Chevrolet franchise in St. Paul.

Edward Gnaster, who has been employed by Mr. Mudloff for several years, will be sent to Ord to manage the Ord business which will be known as "The Ord Chevrolet Sales Company." Mr. Gnaster is married and his little daughter, Monica Jean, is four years old. Mr. Gnaster is here already and his family will join him as soon as he finds a home to answer their needs.

Carl Dale is the out-going president of the organization and as such retains a position on the board of directors. Other officers are the newly elected pair compose the seven. Mr. Bell was the out-going vice-president, and Ernest Weller and Gould Flagg finished terms as directors.

The speaker of the evening, Rollin C. Ayres, official surveyor and county engineer for Valley County, explained clearly and in a fascinating way the work done by his department. He described exactly what was done and where with the county money used on highways and maintenance, making a splendid talk.

Rev. Willard McCarthy of the Ord Christian church is winning quite a reputation among his parishioners for doing the unusual to make his sermons distinctly emphatic.

Mother's day, last Sunday, the congregation entered a softly lighted church to find an immense green mountain had sprung up behind the pulpit. The mountain had many flowers, and at the base were massed lilies, tulips and other real flowers. At the foot was a picture of a mother teaching her two small children their Bible lessons, while behind them, at the top of a white stairway, stood the aged grandmother who stretched out her arms from the gateway to eternal life.

The sermon was pictured in the tableau presented. The pictures drawn in chalk were the work of Rev. Charles Wantz, of Mira Valley. The carpenter work and extensive decorating was done by Rev. McCarthy.

Sunday there was a reception and shower for Mrs. Gilbert Gaylord in the home of her mother, Mrs. Henry Fales. Several friends were there for dinner, and during the day numerous friends and relatives from Arcadia and Ord called upon the young people.

Burwell Is Beat By Mira Valley, Ord Delcos Win

The Mira Valley Reds hit their stride in the farm bureau league competition Sunday and in a fast ten inning game they defeated Burwell, the score being 4 to 3. Other games found the Ord Delcos beating the Ord Camels, 3 to 3, Olean beat Elyria 12 to 6 and Arcadia walloped Oak Creek, 9 to 6. By next week the Quiz hopes to have arrangements complete so that box scores of all games can be printed.

Digs Out 8 Baby Coyotes That hid in them near hills! So says Steve Dubas of near Elyria for last week he located a coyote den and succeeded in digging out eight young coyotes on which he collected bounty of $2 each. While he was digging the mother coyote ran from the den and Mr. Dubas shot her. He brought the nine scalps in and was given a check for $18 by County Clerk Klima. Over 100 coyotes have been killed in Valley county so far this year, the county clerk says.

ORVILLE SOWL CHOSEN TO HEAD ROTARY CLUB

Newly elected officers chosen by the Rotary club at their regular Monday night dinner were: Orville Sowl, president; Jesse Kovanda, vice-president; George Parkins, elected treasurer; Joseph P. Barta, re-elected secretary. New members selected for the board of directors were Keith C. Lewis and Marlon Crosby. Dr. George Gard was chosen delegate to the Seattle convention and Millard Bell was selected as secretary. C. C. Dale was elected delegate to the Hastings convention next week, and Orville Sowl was alternate delegate.

Carl Dale is the out-going president of the organization and as such retains a position on the board of directors. Other officers are the newly elected pair compose the seven. Mr. Bell was the out-going vice-president, and Ernest Weller and Gould Flagg finished terms as directors.

The speaker of the evening, Rollin C. Ayres, official surveyor and county engineer for Valley County, explained clearly and in a fascinating way the work done by his department. $9.96 In Groceries Fills Big Window

Nearly everyone can remember when a ten-dollar bill wouldn't buy even a hundred pound sack of sugar, let alone a whole store window full of provisions. But times have changed, as people who have noticed the south window of the Crosby store will testify.

This display, which is a part of a national campaign being conducted by Frigidaire, is sponsored by the Ord dealer, L. J. Auble, Groceries in the window were furnished by Jerry Petska, whose store is equipped with Frigidaire refrigeration.

A survey made some time ago among Frigidaire users, Mr. Auble states, revealed that their average savings was $9.96 a month because with adequate refrigeration they could buy food in larger quantities, because there was no spoilage of food, etc. And $9.96 will buy a powerful lot of provisions these days.

The display is an eye-opener to the people who may believe that the cost of living hasn't come down much.

St. Paul Wins Again. St. Paul men evidently know more about the game of duplicate auction bridge than Ord men do for Tuesday evening, for the second time this spring, eight St. Paul players beat eight Ord men in a match game. Ordites who journeyed to St. Paul for the match were Dr. Barta, J. D. McCall, August Petersen, Chris Beters, Lester Norton, Lyle McBeth, E. L. Vogeltanz and C. J. Mortenson.

Otterbain Guild had charge of the program for Mother's day at the morning services in the U. B. church. Tomorrow evening the girls will entertain their mothers in the home of Mrs. Ernest Woolery.

ORD'S OFFICIAL STAFF REMAINS SAME FOR 1932

Mayor Moses Re-Appoints Covert, Pardue and Others; Carl Sorensen Heads Council.

With the single exception of police judge, Ord's official family will remain the same throughout the coming year as it was during the past twelve months. This was determined last Friday evening when Mayor Wm. A. Moses and the new city council held their organization meeting.

Appointments made by Mayor Moses and confirmed by the council by a unanimous vote were: L. H. Covert, city police and street commissioner.

Ira Lindsey, city hall janitor. Roy Pardue, night police. A. J. Shirley, park police. Ralph W. Norman, city attorney. Dr. C. C. Shepard, city physician. W. H. Barnard, cemetery sexton. A. J. Shirley, tire chief. Carl Sorensen, president of the council. Lucinda Thorne, city bookkeeper. Geo. H. Allen, light and water commissioner.

J. H. Hollingshead, police judge. With the exception of judge, all other appointments are "hold overs" from the previous year. Judge Hollingshead replaces as police judge O. G. Petty, elected at the April 5 election but no longer a resident of the city.

There were thirteen applications for the position of city marshal, those wanting the job including Ed Dudschus, C. F. Sorensen, C. R. Hunt, Ace Vincent, J. E. Hawley, Geo. Owen, L. H. Covert, Edward Koukal, Ed Hansen, A. W. Albers, C. R. Kingston, E. T. Woolery and Julius Jensen. Ten applicants for night watch included Roy Pardue, J. L. Pedro, Emory Thomsen, Wm. Tolbert, Anton Wegzyn, Joe Wash, John Rowbal, Frank Amek, Bert Hurbert and Ed Dudschus.

The applications were considered individually both by the mayor and by councilmen, after which Mayor Moses indicated to councilmen that any of the applicants they should decide on would be acceptable to him. The council refused to make the decision so the mayor then appointed Marshal Covert and Night Marshal Pardue for another term, which appointments were confirmed by the city council by a unanimous vote.

MAY 28 WILL BE POPPY DAY

Auxiliary Ladies Will Sell The Bright Red Flowers Just Ahead of Memorial Day

Saturday, May 28, will be "Poppy Day" in Ord. On that day every person in the city will be asked to wear a bright red poppy in honor of the men who gave their lives in the World War. Mrs. Alfred Wiegard, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary has announced. The poppies will be sold through the city by the Auxiliary women, and the entire proceeds will go to the relief and rehabilitation funds of the Auxiliary.

The local poppy sale will be part of a nation-wide observance of "Poppy Day". This year more than ten million replicas of the poppy of Flanders are being offered by Auxiliary women who will distribute the flowers on the streets of practically every city and town in the country. Thousands of disabled veterans have been working for many weeks making the flowers for the sale.

Poppy Day will have a two-fold message to the people of Ord; first it will call to them to wear a poppy as a personal tribute to the memory of those gallant young men who gave their lives for America in the World War, and second, it will appeal to them to help lighten the burden for those who are paying the price of America's victory in suffering and hardships, the disabled veterans, their families and the families of the dead. Every penny which the people of the city contribute for their poppies will go to the relief of the living victims of the war, the bulk of the money remaining right here in Ord to finance the Auxiliary's relief activities.

Tunnell's Back In Game Good news to his many friends was contained in Bill Tunnell's announcement last week that he is opening a repair shop in the Williams garage here. Bill is an expert mechanic and since he sold his interest in the Ford garage to Gould Flagg he has been pining away for something to keep busy at. He has a repair shop newly equipped he won't lack for plenty to do.

Mrs. Lester Norton was the teacher who did the coaching for the successful school.

Only two schools entered the one act play classification, Haskell Creek competing against Elyria. The audience liked the brief plays very much. Seven contestants tried for honors in the reading portion of the contest. The contestants were Rev. W. McCarthy and Miss Elva Johnson, all of Ord. The judges thought that all the entries were unusually fine, and commended the teacher-coaches and the students on their work.

Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, was in active charge of the arrangements for the meet.

Co-op Oil Starts Build New Station

Work on a new filling station to cost $4,000 was begun yesterday morning by the Ord Co-operative Oil company on its lot at the corner of 17th and L streets. The company, which has leased the C. C. Brown station since it was organized a few years ago, will be installed in the new station within three weeks, estimates Secretary J. G. Hastings.

C. E. Goodhand has the contract for building the station and it will be made of buff brick with contrasting trim. Rest rooms and all other features of a modern station will be included in its construction and cement driveways will lead to it from both 17th and L streets.

The baby's parents are separated but Mrs. Lunney, who is employed in Grand Island, came here right after the accident to be with the baby.

LOUP CITY WINS ANNUAL VALLEY CINDER COMPET

17 Records Fall As High School And Grade Athletes of Loup Region Contest In Ord

Eight Loup valley association records smashed in a single day by high school athletes. Nine more new marks set by grade school boys. That's what happened at the Annual Loup Valley High School Association track and field meet held May 4 on the fair grounds in Ord. It was a history-making day for Loup valley athletes.

The high school meet was won by Loup City with 35 1-2 points, it was interested in things like that. Arcadia was second with 27 1-2 and Sargent was a close third with 23 1-4. North Loup had 15 3-4 points, Comstock 13, Burwell 12 1-4, St. Paul 11 1-2, Dannebrog 11 1-4, Ord 2 and Scotia 1 3-4.

Among grade school boys a little Ord fellow named Bird was the whole show. He won high scores with 26 1-4 points which he made

Flower Show On At Penney Store

Entries Will Begin Tomorrow, Show Lasts Through Saturday; 2 Prizes Offered Best Flowers.

The second flower show to be held in Ord this summer will open tomorrow at noon at the J. C. Penney company store, and will close Saturday night. It is expected that a large number of entries will bring in their bouquets of cut flowers, and that the total number of entries in the second show will greatly exceed the total list of entries in the first show. The first flower show of this type to be held in Ord took place just two weeks ago at the Noll Seed company, and much interest was displayed by the public. Two awards are available to gardeners. The first is given for the handsomest bouquet of cut flowers brought in, in the judgement of Kieth C. Lewis, manager of the local Penney store. The second award is given for the most perfect and the prettiest individual blossom brought to the flower exhibit.

The two prizes given will be selected by Mr. Lewis, and will be well worth striving for, so if you are a flower lover, arrange to bring it to the Penney store before closing time Friday afternoon, May 13. You may be lucky enough to win a prize.

These flower shows are being sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, through the Yard and Garden committee. This is the first season such flower shows have been held here, and one is scheduled for every two weeks, to be held in the store of some progressive Ord merchant. The merchant is the judge, and gives prizes where he thinks they belong. Every kind of flower and shrub has a chance to be shown while in its prime, so do not miss your opportunity.

Ord Leads St. Paul In Slugging Match

By a score of 17 to 14 the Ord high school baseball team walloped St. Paul on the local diamond last Friday. Both teams were slugging the ball but the Chanticleer hurler, Earl Klein, seemed to be able to control things in the pinches and Ord was always out in front. Kenneth McGinnis, catcher, and Eldon Benda, third baseman, also looked good for the home team. Tomorrow Ord plays at St. Paul.

Many Marriages Here. Although County Judge Hollingshead did not issue any licenses to wed until the first of March, he has made a record since that time, having issued 16 marriage licenses and married 12 of the young couples also.

8th Grades Will Be Given Diplomas

Diplomas will be issued to 130 or 140 eighth grade graduates of Valley county on May 24, Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, states. The exact number of graduates will be determined by the grades made this week, as examinations are now being given.

The promotion day program will be held at the Ord Theatre. The rural school chorus will sing again at that time, and all who missed hearing this feature a few weeks ago will have another opportunity. Mrs. Severns will direct. In addition, the Elyria one-act play will be repeated, and the reading given with which Miss Vernice Johnson of Elyria won first prize, both honors being given at the Valley county declamatory contest last week.

SENIORS MAKE HIT WITH PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

Adrian Tolen, Iolanae Williams And Fine Cast Appear in "Mummy and the Mumps"

Adrian Tolen was probably the funniest character in an excruciatingly funny play Friday evening when the senior class of the Ord high school presented one of the latest senior plays to be given in several years. "The Mummy and the Mumps" involved so many amusing situations, and was full of such naturally funny but light and frothy conversation that the audience sat fascinated.

As a rube bellhop, Adrian gave a dandy performance and a clever one, but his hip-wiggling walk was what brought down the house. After practicing for days, Adrian learned to do a most peculiar amble which had only to be seen to be enjoyed.

The entire cast was most satisfactory, taking their rolls expertly. Anthony Kokes, with his graceful fan-fluttering lady-like female impersonation and his blonde wig, gave a splendid performance, really much better than an amateur should. Another female impersonator was Charles Shepard, and he gave an excellent impersonation of stiff necked Agatha Laddlaw, head mistress for an exclusive girls' school, played by Rosemary Needham. Both are favorites with local people.

As always, Iola Mae Williams was 100 percent in her characterization and the audience perked up each time she appeared. Harold Benn was a super-extra fine sheriff, and Mary Wehliak as a nosy girl reporter determined to learn the news could hardly be surpassed. Dola Flynn did the difficult feat of falling in love with a mummy to the great satisfaction of the applauding audience; Virginia VanDecar took her part with unusual vivacity and genuineness.

The play as a whole was extremely good and much enjoyed. Credit for the coaching goes to Miss Jean Nelson of the high school faculty. Kenneth McGinnis was business manager; Florence Kokes property manager for the play.

Between the first and second acts tap dancing by five young ladies entertained the house; between the second and third acts Wayne Johnson gave an excellent reading.

Rodeo Rider Is Fined For Liquor

Fred Furgerson Pleads Guilty to Possession and Sale; Two Men From Comstock Are Fined.

Business has been rushing in county court during the past week, principally because according to the law of the land it is illegal to have, sell or drink that liquid commonly called "hooch." No less than four men have felt the teeth of this law here this week.

Fred Furgerson, who drives a Cheyenne, Wyo. car and gives his profession as a rodeo rider, was fined $100 on each of two counts, possession and sale, when he was arraigned in county court Tuesday. He was arrested here by Sheriff Luff a few days before.

Two Comstock men, Ernest G. Stone and Floyd A. Lewis, paid fines of $20 and costs last Thursday when they pled guilty to intoxication charges. An Ord boy, Dean Worden, was fined a similar amount for intoxication the same day.

PESTS MUST BE CONTROLLED NOW SAYS AGENT DALE

County Gravelly Threatened By Crop Eaters, He Warns, After Investigating.

That many parts of Valley county are facing crop destruction by grasshoppers is the warning issued yesterday by County Agent Carl C. Dale, who has been investigating the insects on several farms adjacent to Ord. They are present in such numbers that unless measures are taken immediately many crops are doomed, he warns.

A sample of earth brought to the Quiz office yesterday by Mr. Dale revealed dozens of hopper eggs and grasshoppers in only a handful of dirt. The sample was taken from a fence row on the Joe Verzal farm just north of Ord. Many other places were infested worse than the Verzal farm last summer, Mr. Dale says, so probably other regions contain even more little "hopper eggs this spring.

The "hoppers are just hatching now and continued warm weather will complete the hatch in a week or ten days, the county agent believes. Apparently the cold killed only a small percentage of the eggs and dry, sunny weather this spring has been just right to bring about a heavy hatch.

Barring a spell of cold, rainy weather at once, Valley county will be up against one of the most serious problems in its history this summer, the county agent predicts.

"Nobody ever accused me of being a calamity howler," said Dale in a statement, "but the number of little 'hoppers and unhatched eggs present in soil samples that I have examined prove that unless immediate control measures are taken some farmers aren't going to raise much of a crop this summer."

He requests farmers to conduct an immediate examination of their fields, paying particular attention to fence rows. A few inches below the surface little brown pods containing grasshopper eggs will be found if they are present, he says. Whenever eggs are found in large numbers or wherever the "hoppers have already hatched out in quantities, the county agent asks farmers to report to his office so that the seriousness of the situation may be estimated at once.

Poison bran is the most effective control measure known but this work must be started when the "hoppers are very tiny or it will fail. Poison will be used on the Verzal farm and others in a few days.

Arrangements will be made by the Valley county farm bureau for poison bran to be handled through some local agency, probably through the Farmers Grain & Supply company as was done last year. This poison will be available at cost to farmers.

There are two bills before Congress at present designed to bring grasshopper eradication at federal expense. Mr. Dale says, but whether they will pass in time to do any good is a question. Control measures must be started immediately, he warns, or the pests will get beyond control and this part of Nebraska may be facing the same situation that confronted South Dakota last summer.

Lightning Strikes Philbrick Farm; Car and Buildings Burn

Dave Philbrick and his son Bill were astounded Thursday night last week to be awakened by neighbors who were driving by on their way home from a dance. But they were more surprised to be told that a good sized fire was raging in their back yard.

Investigation showed that Bill's car, a Chrysler 52 sedan bought two or three years ago, was a complete loss, and also that several hundred bushels of grain, mostly corn and oats, a granary and a crib were burned up. Other small outbuildings were damaged somewhat. No insurance was carried on either the car or the damaged buildings.

As a violent thunderstorm and general rain with plenty of lightning was going on about that time, it is thought that lightning started the blaze on the Frank White farm in District 42, which the Philbricks occupy. In trying to put out the fire Bill Philbrick was badly burned about the feet.

Organize Girls' Clubs. Mrs. Leo Nelson, formerly Glo Garrick, and Miss Ellen Andersen, are driving about Valley county Tuesday organizing girls' clubs for 4-H and home economics work. This is promoted through the rural schools, and has been of great assistance to girls where it has been perfected.

My Own Column
By H. D. LEGGETT

Until Monday of this week it had been close to fifty years since I enjoyed a mess of cowslip greens and never has a springtime passed during all those years that I didn't yearn for the succulent greens that were so familiar on the tables of Michigan farmers in the springtime.

There's always some wisecracker within hearing in these modern times. It seems. Even in Sunday school. Less than ten days ago in the Methodist church a class of older men were listening to their teacher, Mrs. Robert Noll. Perhaps only waiting for a chance to trip her up.

Even the filling stations are flowering out, or going to. Panels at the Texaco station, with fresh green paint and plenty of cleaning, applied with elbow grease and water, as well as many more improving details are wreaking a wholesome change in the appearance of this station.

For 40 years is long enough to wish for some one thing. When half way 'cross the continent it grows like everything. Now just a word of warning Ma thinks I'd better say that perhaps you'd better drain them, you remember well the day she let the beet greens go 'ker-flop,' and we did want them so. But the best fish always get away. Is a truth we ought to know.

If the democrats would quit fighting over Roosevelt, Al Smith, Garner and all the others and nominate George W. Norris for president I presume he would be elected as the next president of the United States. After all, the non partisan idea is the right idea. Party politics have surely proved to be a monumental failure.

Something DIFFERENT

You've seen filling stations and other stucco-finished places with millions of shiny bits of colored glass pieces catching the light on the surface, haven't you? Do you know how that effect is secured. Very simple. And also, not expensive. Bright colored glass bottles, any old pieces of glass with a decided color, are broken. Then the small pieces of glass are brightened by throwing into the finished wall, with the gay, colorful effect you've noticed.

The new boy who came to the Goddard home to live not long ago received his new name from his big sister. Donna Lee, who is about three, is an opinionated young lady and has decided views of her own on many subjects, and the new baby brother was no exception. When the matter of a suitable name for him was discussed, Donna Lee had one idea and would hear of no other. The baby must be named Jackie Lee, and that was all there was to it.

The next flower show is at Penney's, and if the first one is any criterion, you'll be missing something if you don't go in to see and admire it. In spite of the damage done by a slow, cold spring of unsuitable weather, the Noll flower show on recent Friday afternoon and Saturday was lavishly patronized and well entered. Of course as the idea becomes accepted, the number of entries in these shows will increase. And then, later this year, will be more flowers in bloom. So probably the earlier in the season you enter, the better your chance of winning.

There's always some wisecracker within hearing in these modern times. It seems. Even in Sunday school. Less than ten days ago in the Methodist church a class of older men were listening to their teacher, Mrs. Robert Noll. Perhaps only waiting for a chance to trip her up. And it came.

Even the filling stations are flowering out, or going to. Panels at the Texaco station, with fresh green paint and plenty of cleaning, applied with elbow grease and water, as well as many more improving details are wreaking a wholesome change in the appearance of this station. The former checkerboard station recently put on a dark green coat with fancy red trimmings. And Bernard Smith is even putting some growing sprigs of something or other around his tiny new eating house for cars.

For 40 years is long enough to wish for some one thing. When half way 'cross the continent it grows like everything. Now just a word of warning Ma thinks I'd better say that perhaps you'd better drain them, you remember well the day she let the beet greens go 'ker-flop,' and we did want them so. But the best fish always get away. Is a truth we ought to know.

The Maud referred to is my cousin. My aunt has been ill for several weeks and her daughter has been driving into town to assist in caring for her.

If the democrats would quit fighting over Roosevelt, Al Smith, Garner and all the others and nominate George W. Norris for president I presume he would be elected as the next president of the United States. After all, the non partisan idea is the right idea. Party politics have surely proved to be a monumental failure.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. County Judge Gudmundsen had not issued a marriage license since April 3, which he said was the longest time without a marriage license in the ten years he had been judge.

The Omaha Bee-News was sued by a noted Omaha gambler, Thomas Dennison, and a jury gave Dennison $7,500. He charged that his good reputation had been libeled by the Bee-News. Charlie Detweiler had another runaway with his fractious horse, Jim Nay, who was in the buggy with him, was thrown out and was not badly hurt but Detweiler had his face disfigured.

20 Years Ago This Week. A baseball club with Jonie Level as captain was planned. Commercial club committee consisting of E. P. Clements, G. W. Taylor and P. C. Perryman was around getting signatures. King, Albert McMindes' prize white bulldog, disappeared and after five days later was the dog found locked up in a cell at the jail.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

The easily made, rich and delicious graham cracker, desserts seem to be gaining in favor with every passing day, as more and more cooks learn to make them, and more families decide to like them. One point in favor of this type of dessert is that it can be made a good many hours beforehand and be ready and waiting in the ice box or some cool place. Then when the hungry family troop in, it is ready. This feature also makes it an ideal dessert to have for company; it can be prepared, put away ready to serve and forgotten leaving the cook with a cool calm head for the bustle of just before the meal.

Angel Pie
1 1/2 graham crackers, rolled fine.
1 c. sugar. 3 eggs. 1 tsp. baking powder. 1/4 c. broken walnuts. Pinch of salt.
Beat egg yolks with sugar, add graham cracker crumbs and baking powder. Add nuts and fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Turn into a deep buttered pan. Bake about 30 minutes. Serve cold with whipped cream or custard sauce.

Plain But Good Cake.
1 c. sugar. 1 c. sour cream. 1 egg. 1 tsp. baking powder. 1/4 tsp. soda. 1 tsp. flavoring.
Cream sugar and egg. Add soda to the cream and stir until it foams in glass. Add to sugar and egg mixture, then put in enough flour with the baking powder to drop most all together from the spoon at one time. Add 1/2 cup of Raisins. If the cream is too rich put in as a substitute 1/4 c. water or milk. You can use 1 c. milk and 1 tsp. butter in place of cream.

Macaroni With Salmon.
1 large can salmon. 1 pt. cream gravy. 1 pkg. macaroni. 2 tsp. butter. 1/4 c. bread or cracker crumbs.
Boil macaroni until tender and drain. Grease baking dish. Alternate layers of macaroni with salmon until all is used. On each layer add cream gravy and bits of butter. Sprinkle with crumbs on top and bake until thoroughly heated.

Homemade French Mustard.
3 tsp. mustard. 1 tsp. white sugar. Pinch of salt.
Mix an egg in mixture until smooth. Add 1 c. vinegar gradually. Put on stove and stir and cook until smooth (four to five minutes). Take off and add 1 tsp. olive oil. Ellen Stanton, Marquette.
Make two eggs into noodles and cook them in salted water until done. Drain off surplus juice. Fry until rather brown 1 lb. each of ground pork and beef and 2 onions, in a generous lump of butter. Place noodles and meat in a roaster or baking dish and add 1 bunch of celery cut up, 1 qt. or less of tomatoes and 1 small can of mushrooms. Bake 1 hour. This may be warmed over many times and is still good. Kathryn Long, Rt. 2.

BACK FORTY
By J. A. KOVANDA

Last year's seed corn appears to be of fairly good quality. Samples tested in the school laboratory sprouted around ninety percent. However, the short crop and difficult harvest of the past season have forced many local farmers to use two-year-old seed. Some of this is blistered, and of course age does no good. Thicker planting may offset poor seed to some extent, as a stand of corn can be somewhat irregular and yet yield just as much.

The farmer of today handles seed corn but slightly different from the way grandfather did. At that, he usually gets a good stand of corn. The chief change he has made is in picking smooth, medium shallow kernel ears. Grandpa wanted them deep-kernelled and rough. Field seed selection has come in. It has theoretical advantages. From a practical standpoint it seems to make little difference except in years when corn is frost damaged and the new baby boy, who is a crib in May yielded as well as that which was hand-picked in September.

Seed treatment has come in, and gone out. Commercial seed corn preparations are desirable east of the Missouri river, but not in the drier regions of the west. At Lincoln and North Platte, where they were tried out, they had no effect on germination, stand, growth, crop vigor, smut, barrenness, lodging, yield or quality of product. Another kind of seed treatment is that of using detergents against worms or pheasants. Coal tar is the substance generally used. A tablespoonful is warmed and mixed with a half-bushel of grain. The corn is spread out to dry afterward, or dried by applying an absorbent medium, as ashes, land plaster or powdered earth. This treatment against pests is not an absolute cure, but it may help. Substances like kerosene or fish oil injure the germinating power of grain. Hybrid seed corn has been somewhat of a disappointment. Until further improvement takes place the farmer cannot afford to pay the price asked for seed. The average yields of hybrid corn over the state have been little different from the yields of ordinary corn.

Haskell Creek

The farmers in this community are starting corn planting. The Haskell Creek school presented four short plays at the county play and declamatory contest last Thursday evening. The grade room gave "The Opening Day of School" and "Jimmie at the Telephone". "All Out of Tune" and "Henry's Mail Order Wife" were given by the high school. All of these have been given at programs at District 45. "Henry's Mail Order Wife" was awarded second place by the judges.

WHEREAS, Edgar Guest's poem "Bifocal Troubles" was written several years ago, it was perhaps inspired by actual bifocal experiences. Now, however Ful-Vue Bifocals remove the difficulties he mentions, and give secure dependable vision for both distance and reading.

Bifocal Troubles

by Edgar A. Guest (Reprinted by permission) The wise optician smiled and said: "The upper half to look ahead. The lower half whereby to read. And thus one pair is all you need. Have patience. In a week or two Bifocals will not trouble you. I muttered as I left the shop: "For distance always use the bottom lenses you will need When you sit down to write or read." I raised my foot high in the air To mount a step which wasn't there. The level street became a hill. I looked at people standing still. And since I used the lower glass There seemed no room for me to pass. I turned a corner of the street And knocked a woman from her feet. And all that day throughout the town My eyes kept looking up and down. "That fellow's drunk", I heard men say. As I went reeling down the way. With those Bifocals on my face The town became a crazy place. Bifocal troubles curious are. The far seems near, the near seems far. You step up heights that don't exist. And jostle folks you should have missed. Until man grows bifocal wise He finds he can't believe his eyes.

and we might add:

(with apologies to Mr. Guest) But time and change have altered things. And now a new bifocal brings The greatest ease of vision clear For seeing far or seeing near. There's no confusion when you wear The "Ful-Vue" lens—just try a pair! Drs. Nay & Nay

Resolution

Be it Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of the County of Valley, of the State of Nebraska that whereas, there was filed on April 26th, 1932, a petition and application by Floyd E. Bossen and Pauline Bossen, of said County, setting forth that on or about May 21st, 1906, a plat was made by the Village of Arcadia to a tract of land in the North-west quarter of the Section thirteen (13) Township seventeen (17) north of range sixteen (16) west of the sixth Principal Meridian, in Valley County, Nebraska, which plat was thereafter filed for record and recorded in the office of the County Clerk of Valley County, Nebraska, in book 6 of miscellaneous records, on page 161, and that thereafter on April 6, 1932, the said Floyd E. Bossen and Pauline Bossen, his wife, the owners of all said North-west quarter, did, in accordance with the provisions of Section 17-418 Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, 1929, vacate the same, but that there might be some question as to whether or not the vacation of said plat by the owners of said real estate is sufficient in the event the land so platted is not directly attached to the Village, and whether or not the said vacation of plat should not be made by this board of said County, pursuant to the sixth subdivision of Section 26-105 of said Compiled Statutes, and whereas, it appears that the said vacation of said plat is made on the petition of all of the owners thereof and that same appears to fall within the provisions of the section of the statutes, last cited, therefore, be it resolved that the said vacation of the said plat, hereinafter referred to, is hereby duly authorized in accordance with the provisions of said section.

Motion to adopt said resolution was duly seconded and concurred in and upon a unanimous vote of the supervisors duly carried and said resolution duly adopted.

Supervisor Johnson then introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption.

Resolution

DOUGLAS COUNTY MEN ELECTED AS STATE CHAIRMEN

Robert Smith Is G. O. P Choice, Burke Named by Dems; Both Parties Stay On Dry Side.

Election of Douglas county men as state chairman and bitter fights on the prohibition question were the principle developments at state conventions of the republican and democratic parties, held last Thursday in Lincoln and Omaha. Several Valley county people were present at each convention.

Valley county delegates to the democratic convention who attended were Ralph W. Norman, Ign. Klimka, Dale Norman, Irl D. Tolén, George Mayo and C. E. Wozniak.

In attendance at the republican gathering were E. C. James, Clarence M. Davis, Bert M. Hardenbrook, M. L. Fries, E. C. Leggett, Mrs. Anthony Thill, Mrs. Cora James and C. O. Rettenmayer.

Father of Ten Fined For No-Fund Checks

J. F. Rodgers, who formerly lived about 20 miles south of Basett, was brought before Judge Hollingshead Tuesday afternoon on charges of writing no fund checks a number of weeks ago to the Graham-Seyler Chevrolet company. The checks were dated March 11, one being for $33.70 and the second for $1. Charges on the larger amount were dismissed, as pressing them would send Rodgers to the penitentiary. On the smaller amount he pled guilty and was fined $5, to which was added $23.40 for costs incurred by the court. Rodgers had moved his family to the south part of the state, and as he is the father of 10 children who would become state charges, the more serious charge was not pressed. He apparently will have out his time in jail, not having the money to pay his fine and the costs. He has made the checks good.

May 28 Is Poppy Day; Do Your Bit

Thousands of Disabled Veterans Are Dependent on Little Red Flowers Sold Each Spring.

"How soon will the poppy work begin again?" That is the question being asked in government hospitals in many parts of the country and in the poppy work rooms of the American Legion Auxiliary, the question holds first importance. For during the winter and spring several thousand disabled ex-service men have been given employment making the little red flowers that are sold just before Memorial day each year by members of the Auxiliary. For many of these disabled war heroes poppy making is the only means of making money, so naturally they are interested. The poppy sale in Ord this spring will be held May 28 by the Auxiliary, members of which are hoping that everyone in Ord will wear a poppy that day, first to pay tribute to the war dead and, second, to provide funds for relief work among disabled veterans and their families.

Ord Woman's Mother Dies. Mrs. J. P. Waldron, 79, of El Monte, Calif., passed away Sunday, May 8th, and was buried the following Tuesday. She leaves her husband, two daughters and four sons, one of the daughters being Mrs. W. H. Barnard, of Ord, who reached her mother's bedside four days before death came. Mrs. Barnard expects to return to Ord at once.

Annual Being Printed. Copy for the Ord high school annual has been delivered to the job department of the Quiz and it will be ready for delivery in a couple of weeks. The book will be of about sixty pages, printed in two colors, and will be a handsome job when completed.

DR. W.H.S. MORTON

Dr. Morton, who is principal of Teachers College High School, University of Nebraska, will give the address at Ord high school commencement exercises to be held here May 26. Dr. Morton is widely known as educator and lecturer. He is a brother of Mrs. Frances Peterson of Ord, widow of the late Ole Peterson.

JOHN BOETTGER WAS MARRIED AT CHAMBERS

Marriage April 16 Was Kept A Secret Because Of Illness Of John's Mother.

A complete surprise to his many friends is the announcement made this week by John O. Boettger, well known Ord welder and windmill man, that on April 16, at Chambers, he was united in marriage to Miss Pearl Hardy. The ceremony was performed in the bride's home there by Rev. W. L. Peters, pastor of her church, in the presence of only her immediate relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Boettger will make their home here. The marriage is the culmination of a romance that began years ago when Mr. Boettger and Miss Hardy knew each other as boy and girl. Separated by the years, each had heard that the other was dead. They met again early last fall when Miss Hardy, who is a trained nurse, came here to care for Mr. Boettger's mother, Mrs. Hannah Boettger, who suffers from heart trouble. Mr. Boettger resumed his courtship and they have decided to be married but delayed because of the shock it might be to John's mother. Her condition improved somewhat and they were married at Chambers but until now have kept the happy event a secret for the same reason that prompted them to delay it. Mrs. Boettger will continue to care for her husband's mother.

Ord people who know the bride are high in their praises of her capability, unselfishness and beauty of character while the bridegroom needs no introduction whatever to Quiz readers. He has for years been in business here and his many friends will congratulate him upon his marriage and wish for him and his bride every happiness that life can bestow.

Ball Games Postponed. Cold, rainy weather Sunday forced a postponement of Farm Bureau league baseball games scheduled for that day.

Donald Paddock Wins Javelin Throw At State Meet

By heaving the javelin 165 feet 4 1/2 inches, Donald Paddock of North Loup placed first in this event at the state track and field meet held in Lincoln Saturday. He was competing in Group 1, composed of smaller schools, but his winning heave was farther than any athlete in the entire tournament could do. Cardwell, of Seward, made the next best javelin throw, 161 feet. The Group 3 championship at the state meet was won by Loup City, principally because of the fine work of Carl Eisner, who won both 100 and 200 yard sprints. Eisner stepped the century in 9.9 seconds to win his class. Phillips, of Omaha Central, was the fastest sprinter competing. His century time of 27 seconds is a new Nebraska record but was not allowed because of a breeze at his back.

One Arcadia Lad, Stone, placed third in the 380 yard run. No Ord athletes competed at the state meet.

Dick Lovald, Who Worked on Soil Survey Here Last Year, Will Be Prospector.

As spring lengthens into summer a young geologist well known in Valley county is pushing northward, intent on wresting from the Great Bear Lake region of Northern Canada the secret of fabulous radium deposits rumored to be hidden there. The young man is Richard H. Lovald, who worked most of last summer on the Valley county soil survey and who made numerous friends while here. He was a university classmate and close friend of Olof Olsson, of Ord.

In company with another young geologist, Lawrence Hewitt, Lovald left last week for Edmonton, Alberta, where they will outfit for their trip into the Northern Canadian Great Bear Lake, only 1,500 miles from the North Pole, is their objective and they hope to reach there by July 1, when the ice goes out of the lakes and the region becomes accessible to prospectors for two brief months.

To finance their expedition Lovald and Hewitt induced friends to "grubstake" them to the extent of about $1,000. Another $1,000 they raised themselves. To get to the far north country they will drive their auto to Edmonton and outfit there, leaving May 17 by train for Waterways, the jumping off place. From Waterways they will canoe 287 miles up the Athabasca river to Fort Smith, making a 16 mile portage. A lake steamer will take them the next 384 miles across Great Slave lake to Rae, where the last lap of the trip is begun. From Rae northwest to Great Bear Lake stretches a chain of small lakes, connected by rivers. Lovald and Hewitt expect to cover this 310 miles in sixteen or twenty days. Arriving at Hunter Bay, on Great Bear lake, about July 1, they will then have two months to prospect for radium and other precious minerals before winter drives them out of the country.

The Great Bear region is more than 3,000 miles north of Lincoln and only 1,500 miles from the North Pole. The country is locked in ice and snow ten months of the year and everything the young prospectors need they must carry with them as no supplies can be brought in the country. Radio is the only means of communication with civilization, though the Canadian Airways are arranging a system of planes to carry radium seekers into the wilderness this summer. Game and fish abound in the country so the sides being a great mineral country it is a veritable sportsman's paradise.

Just last year radium, gold and other precious minerals were discovered on Great Bear by a man named Hunter and his party. Prospectors are reported to be enroute northward this spring. Lovald and Hewitt are carrying with them a small motion picture camera and besides doing prospecting they expect to take many pictures that will form the basis of a lecture work when they return to civilization next fall. Many here will remember Dick Lovald and will wish him success in his perilous expedition to the far north.

G. A. R. Plant Weeping Willow. A few weeks ago when many improvements were made on the grounds of the Ord Legion hall, the Quiz stated that a weeping willow in honor of the Legion members in honor of their war dead. This was an error, as the willow was set out by members of the Grand Army of the Republic to honor the memory of members of their order who have passed on. The weeping willow will be a fitting tribute to Civil war heroes of Ord and vicinity.

North Loup Bank Pays 2nd Dividend

Application for permission to pay a second dividend of 10 percent to its depositors was filed Monday by the North Loup State bank in district court here. The application was granted and checks are now being mailed to depositors from Lincoln. The dividend aggregates $15,932.24, the same amount that was distributed early in March when the first ten percent dividend was paid.

Smith Files the Coop. Bernard Smith, well known Ord oil man, who recently started a filling station opposite the creamery, left Sunday for parts unknown. As the Quiz gets the facts, Smith has been attending to too much outside business and not paying close enough attention to his filling station and his bills became so pressing that rather than face the music longer, he gave his wife a bill of sale of everything he had and disappeared. Mrs. Smith is in charge of the business and tells the Quiz that she expects to continue the business and will, if given time and support, pay up the bills left by her husband. She is right on the job giving the business her personal attention. She will attend to the buying and selling business and in addition spend as much time as possible at the station.

HOPPER CONTROL MUST START NOW, SAYS AGENT DALE

Poison Mixture Now on Sale, Is To Be Spread in Early Morn; Cool Weather Helps.

"Valley county farmers will have to depend upon their own application of control measures and upon Mother Nature in their fight against grasshoppers," said County Agent C. C. Dale yesterday in discussing the grasshopper situation in this county. Hoppers are hatching out and it is time to spread poison now, he says. Grasshopper reports have come in since last week from many widely separated parts of the county, he reports, and it seems to be a problem that the whole county will have to face. Davis Creek, Geranium, Vinton, Elyria, and Noble township farmers have reported 'hoppers to be hatching in great numbers.

Cool weather the last few days has retarded the hatch and helped matters somewhat. Mr. Dale says, but with the weather warming up he recommends spreading poisoned bran at once. Grasshoppers will not feed unless the temperature is above 50 degrees so warm mornings should be selected for doing the work.

A shipment of poisoned bran was received last week and is now on sale by the Farmers Grain & Supply company at cost prices. Some farmers may want to mix their own poison and the following formula is recommended by the county agent. To 100 pounds of coarse flaked bran add six pounds of white arsenic, three ounces of amyl acetate and about ten gallons of water, or enough to form a crumbly mash. This mixture will cover 15 to 20 acres once the control work has been started. The mash should be spread early in the morning hours before the warmth of the day, the mash should be spread early.

Valley county's situation is far from being hopeless, Mr. Dale declares. Hard, driving rains in the next month or six weeks would drown the hatching grasshoppers and would be a great aid in the control work but since there is no surety that such rains will come he recommends spreading poisoned bran as the only effective way of overcoming the grasshopper menace.

BANQUET GIVEN ON FRIDAY, THE 13, IS PLEASANT

No Untoward Incidents Occur At Junior-Senior Affair At Arcadia.

Arcadia, May 16.—(Special)—The old superstition about Friday, the 13th, being an unlucky day was exploded here last Friday when the annual junior-senior banquet was held and enjoyed by each guest finding his place by such affairs held here in years.

The dining room of the Methodist church was the scene of the banquet but guests met at the A. E. Haywood home, later going to the banquet room which had been transformed into a garden party. Seventeen small tables were arranged under a bower of blue and gold streamers cut in modernistic designs while evergreen boughs adorned with brightly colored birds enclosed the garden on all sides and a fish pool was every where. Blue and gold booklets contained the menu and program and place cards were especially clever, each guest finding his place by his own picture which had been secured before hand and mounted on the card.

A splendid dinner prepared by the Methodist ladies was served by a group of freshman and sophomore girls dressed in white with modernistic aprons and caps of blue and gold. After the dinner Wallace Mather presided as toastmaster and toasts were given by Glenn Jameson, Helene Starr, Robert Jeffrey, Margaret Beatts and Marguerite Rettenmayer.

Credit for the banquet's outstanding success is due the juniors and their sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Haywood. Those present besides members of the junior and senior classes were the school faculty, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, Mrs. Horace Mott and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Routh.

Ord Minister's Son Wins Highest Honor, $1000 Scholarship at Duke

Herbert F. Wright Now Studies For Doctor's Degree; Has Won Many Honors.

Word has been received in Ord that still more scholastic honors are being won by Herbert F. Wright, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Wright of the Methodist church.

Doing really remarkable work in his field, young Wright has made his way rapidly. Graduating from Wesleyan in '30 with distinction in the line of psychology and philosophy, he chose from several fellowships one at Cincinnati university, graduating from that school last June with a master's degree. The work he did there, research on the sub-normal child, won him an opportunity to use fellowships either at Yale, with $500 a year, or at Duke, with $650.

Mr. Wright selected Duke, partly because he would be studying under Dr. William McDougall, considered one of the greatest psychologists. Recently Mr. Wright, who has one more year of work before winning his doctor's degree, was informed that he had won the highest honor possible at that school, the Anton Duke memorial fellowship, with which goes $1,000 a year. Because of his very fine work, it had been given to him in spite of the fact that his department was not eligible to be considered, as the award had been made in the psychology department the year previous.

Mrs. Wright also is very brilliant, music being her special interest. A Ewing, Neb., girl, she also won fellowships with Wesleyan. However, she is postponing most of her studies until after her husband gets his next degree.

The pair, who have no children, spend their summers as counselors at a camp for boys and girls near Cleveland, earning about $300 a summer in addition to their regular salaries. Mrs. Wright modestly preferred not to tell about their son and his wife, although they are very proud of their achievements.

Mrs. John Pishna Passes Wednesday

Illness After Child Birth Results In Death of Young Ericson Woman At Carlton Home Here.

Ill since the birth of a daughter here two weeks ago, Mrs. John Pishna, 27, of near Ericson, passed away yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. William Carlton where she had been cared for during her last illness. Mrs. Pishna, whose maiden name was Agnes Marie Sprinkle, was born March 27, 1905 at Cowles, Neb., and on the same date in 1929 was married to John Pishna. She is survived by her husband and two children, Carl Lewis, 2 years old, and Beth Dorene, two weeks. Several brothers and sisters also are left to mourn. Mrs. Pishna was a member of the Christian church and funeral services will be held at that church in Cowles with interment in the cemetery there.

MIKE PESEK IS HURT JUMPING A FENCE, DIES

Well Known Geranium Resident Was Injured Internally; Funeral Monday at Hall.

Injured internally a few days before when he leaped a fence and fell, Mike Pesek, 42-year-old resident of the Geranium township neighborhood, passed away Saturday at an Ord hospital. An operation was performed in an attempt to correct his internal injuries but peritonitis had set in and took his life.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the National hall with Rev. B. A. Filipi, of Clarkston, in charge and burial was in the National cemetery. Besides his wife, deceased is survived by five brothers, Joe, John, Adolph, Lewis and Frank, all of them of the Comstock neighborhood. Mrs. Pesek was in Omaha for medical attention when her husband was hurt and reached his bedside at the hospital only a few moments before he passed away. Mr. Pesek was one of the most generally respected and liked residents of the Comstock vicinity and his sudden death was a great shock.

Attended Rotary Meet. Carl C. Dale was in Hastings Monday attending the district Rotary convention as a delegate from the Ord club.

NEW MUNICIPAL CODE UNDER WAY FOR CITY OF ORD

Administration Includes Revision of Ordinances in Municipal Program for 1932.

The Mayor and Council have undertaken an essential and required municipal improvement after giving the matter careful thought and consideration. The local lawmakers, commencing Monday, May 16, have assembled in adjourned regular session each evening and have settled down to the task of revising the present city ordinances.

Since June 23, 1881, when Ord was incorporated as a village by the County Board, two ordinance compilations have been made. Claude A. Davis, then City Attorney, prepared Ord's first ordinance pamphlet in 1912, and Bert M. Hardenbrook, former city attorney, and at present a member of the Valley County Bar, brought the ordinance down to date a second time in the compilation of 1925. The work of the former compilers was carefully done but the ordinances, as they compiled them, are out of date and out of print. Original records of passage and approval of ordinances contained in previous compilations are incomplete, scattered or lost. No proofs of publication or certificates of passage or authenticity were ever made, apparently, with respect to ordinances passed prior to 1912. Very few original ordinance manuscripts, upon which the 1912 and 1925 compilations were based for their legality are signed or sealed. Since 1925 the only ordinance information available is found in a scrap-book made up of newspaper clippings which is inconvenient and unsatisfactory. Further reprinting of old ordinances, as has been the custom heretofore, the Mayor and Council determined would be a waste of public funds.

For the reasons outlined above, the Mayor and Council concluded at this time to revise all ordinances of a general or permanent nature, to restate, revamp, re-enact, as new and independent local laws, based on a new original record of passage and approval, and to supplement the old laws, as revised, with such new ordinances as statutory changes in the city's legislative charter powers and as present and anticipated conditions require. All old, useless, antiquated ordinance underbrush, which has crept into the city ordinances for the last fifty-one years, is, in the present revision, being eliminated. Ordinances of a special nature, relating to completed public improvement procedure and to legislation purely historical, are digested in a Reference Table which follows the text and are conveniently cross-referenced to old ordinance compilations and to the scrap-book for those who have occasion to consult the same.

George R. Mann, Lawyer, Lincoln, Nebraska, Co-Compiler and Index Editor of the 1929 Compiled Statutes of Nebraska and its 1931 Cumulative Supplement; General Counsel for both Houses of the State Legislature since 1919 in drafting bills and in preparing original legislative procedure incident to the enactment of state statutes; Editor, Municipal Legal Department, Nebraska Municipal Record, published monthly, the official organ of the League of Nebraska Municipalities, of which the city of Ord is a member town; and who has worked in the municipal law field since 1915, serving more than 350 Nebraska cities and villages, has been employed as special counsel to assist City Attorney Ralph W. Norman to prepare Ord's new Municipal Code.

It is to be hoped, that since the Mayor and Council has undertaken ordinance revision seriously, that the new code will be complete, broad and comprehensive enough in scope to satisfy the city's present and future needs for the next ten years. The job should not be half done.

The Ord Quiz has been awarded the printing contract and the city fathers can rest assured that from a mechanical point of view, the new ordinance volumes will reflect high grade workmanship in every respect. The new local laws will be in force and effect and available for distribution June 13, 1932.

Soil Survey Is Being Completed

R. L. Gemmill, of the state and federal division of soil survey, arrived in Ord last week and is completing the soil survey of Valley county begun last summer. Mr. Gemmill was in charge of the work then but when the first snowfall came in the fall one township remained to be surveyed. It will take about three weeks to complete the work, Gemmill reports. He is working alone at present but will be joined in a few days by Mr. Nieschmidt, who worked with him last fall for several weeks.

Temperature Drops 60 Degrees In 24 Hours

One of those sharp changes in temperature for which Nebraska is famous took place between Saturday night and Sunday, the mercury dropping from a high of 93 Saturday afternoon to a low of 33 before midnight the next day. For several days last week the weather was unseasonably hot but since the sharp drop Sunday more moderate temperatures have prevailed. No damage was done Sunday night by the light frost.

MRS. R. KOUPAL, MRS. KOKES WIN FLOWER SHOW

Pansies Get 1st Prize at Penney Show. Gorgeous Feather Tulip Wins Second.

A good many people stopped last Saturday to admire the display of flowers in the south window of the J. C. Penney company store, when the entries in the second flower show of the summer were on exhibit. Fifteen or twenty exceptionally attractive arrangements of flowers were entered, and although the number was not as large as expected, the quality and coloring of the blooms was gorgeous.

Mrs. Rudolph Koupal won first prize with a dainty collection of pansies in an unusually clever vase, and Mrs. Vincent Kokes was adjudged to have brought the finest individual blossom, a large 'feather' tulip in purple and yellow coloring. The word feather in this connection means that the tulip is streaked in a delicate way, somewhat reminiscent of a feather.

Keth Lewis, manager of the Penney store, awarded as prizes $1.50 in trade to the first prize winner and $75 in trade to the second prize winner.

The third flower show will be held on May 27 at the Food Centers, Inc. The flower shows are being held every two weeks this year, the proprietor of the store in which the show is given being the judge and jury. Two awards are made each time; one for the most attractive bouquet, the other for the most attractive individual flower. The system of holding flower shows every two weeks was worked out by the Chamber of Commerce committee in charge of the Yard and Garden contest locally. By holding the flower shows every two weeks it is hoped that every flower and shrub that blooms will have a chance to be exhibited while in prime condition. The flower shows are open for entries on Friday afternoon at the announced place of exhibit, every other week. The display is held over to be shown on Saturday, for the benefit of the public. Thus the next flower show is slated for Friday, May 27 at the Food Center and the flowers will be on display all day Saturday following.

Welfare Board Asks For More Clothing

A request for more used clothing is being made this week by the Ord Welfare Board, workers in the organization stating that the need is great. Work has not opened up here this spring as it has in former years and children in several families need clothing greatly. Donations of foodstuffs also will be much appreciated. Anyone having donations to make is asked to leave them either with Mrs. Wm. Carlton or Rev. L. M. Real.

Seyler Will Sell All Used Cars At Auction

As a means of quickly disposing of the stock of used cars that they had when they sold their Chevrolet agency August Ludloff last week, the Graham-Seyler company has decided to hold an auction of used cars and trucks next Monday, May 23. Manager Ed Seyler is advertising 27 good cars and trucks in a large ad on page six of today's Quiz. It will pay anybody who is in the market for a good used car at a bargain price to read this ad, which says that no by-bidding will be allowed and that the cars will positively be sold at this auction. Coffee and doughnuts will be served to everybody attending the sale. Col. E. C. Weller is the auctioneer.

BALANCING THE BUDGET.

We have always been taught that the way to do something is to do it. In the light of this aphorism the attempts of Congress to balance the federal budget would be ridiculously comic if the situation were not so serious.

Federal finances are in sorry straits, we know.

In fiscal 1931 the treasury came out 900 millions in the red. In fiscal 1932 this deficit increased to 1,885 millions and since then 448 millions more have been added to the deficit with hundreds of millions yet to come because of Reconstruction Finance Corporation demands.

Congress has for weeks been working on how to increase federal revenues to meet federal expenditures. That has been the real aim of Congress, though some may contend that they have been trying to cut down federal expenses to meet revenues anyway. Whatever they have been doing in their attempts to balance the budget, little success has attended their efforts.

As fast as a tax bill that would do the job has been drafted lobbyists from some industry that has been taxed will appear and talk Congress out of it, after which the bill will be re-drafted taxing other industries which in turn send their high pressure lobbyists, thus going through the whole sorry procedure over and over again.

We, for one, are tired of it. Like the weary negro, honesty pays, then he hears any more about it. If Congress wants to balance the budget why not do it and have it done, once and for all. Sure, somebody's got to get hurt. The toes of a lot of industries and businesses and classes and masses must be stepped on. Nobody yet has developed a painless method of taxation and nobody ever will.

The other day we read about a man who broke his leg and who also suffered from chronic appendicitis. He requested that the doctors remove his appendix at the same time they set his leg, thus invaliding him only once. That is our idea about this federal budget balancing muddle. Let's do the entire job at one operation. We're going to be crippled up a long time from the effects of the budget, but while we'll be out of the hospital, sound and well, ready to go for another prosperity joy ride.

In our opinion Congress should tax everything, if necessary, and get the budget balanced at once. Make all the effects of the budget accumulated deficit of the budget last two years may be paid off, too, instead of leaving the huge sum for future generations to pay.

The way to get an unpleasant task done is to do it.

HOLD THE HOGS BACK.

Nothing hurts a county like Valley so much as $2.00 and $2.50 hogs. The price has been at this level for two weeks and more. Poultry prices are almost as low, in fact prices of all farm produce are below the cost of production.

Is there any way to meet or to overcome this drastic situation? The best minds of the country have been working on it for four years and have evolved no solution except curtailing production. The large sense that is probably the only solution until things get back to normal but one Ord man who has bought and sold agricultural produce for years believes that present hog prices might be raised somewhat if farmers everywhere would hold the hogs back from market for a few days or possibly a week or two.

The same procedure might be followed with poultry.

If every farmer would say: "I will ship no hogs, I will sell no poultry, until the price reaches at least the cost of production," and then stick to it, prices would soon show improvement.

Supplies held by packers and on the shelves of wholesalers and retailers would soon be exhausted and there would be an eager demand for replacements. Then, if producers would sell judiciously and not glut the market as soon as a price raise came, prices might be held to more profitable levels. At least, if there is a surplus, it is better to have it out of sight on the farm than at the nation's markets for everyone to see.

Such a method could not be followed, of course, with perishable produce like butterfat and eggs but it might work with beef and other non-perishable products. Agitation against direct buying of hogs, long on the wane, is being revived again now as commission men claim that packers buy a large percentage of their needs outright, at prices fixed by the glutted central markets.

For the next year pork producers might profitably cut in half their hog production and realize more money from half a crop than they do now from a whole one. Unfortunately putting such a plan in effect requires a degree of organized effort that agriculture cannot bring about at present.

There is no earthly use of our attacking the kid ourselves, but conditions. They are bad and may get worse before they get better. There are silver linings to the dark clouds, though, and one of them is that all of us are realizing as never before that agriculture is the fountain for any prosperity we may have. Any program that attempts to bring about economic improvement without realizing this as a basic fact is bound to fail.

DOES HONESTY PAY?

Dwight Griswold, the republican nominee for governor, made his campaign on a personal platform declaring for political honesty, which prompts Glen Cramer, editor of the Albion News, to say: "If Mr. Griswold is elected next November and stands by his pledge to deal truthfully with the public, to take credit only where he is entitled to credit, to give the other fellow his just dues, to acknowledge the part that may be played in his administration by economic factors, it will be indeed a 'new deal'."

When Mr. Griswold claims credit for saving taxpayers of the state 3 million dollars on highway contracts, we should expect Mr. Griswold to say he used every means in his power to see that contracts were awarded at the lowest figures possible with good workmanship and the decline in labor and material prices had meant a saving of millions to the state.

Instead of proclaiming that he had reduced state taxes 25 percent Mr. Griswold, if he were governor, might expect to say that "with the co-operation of the legislature we managed to reduce your taxes about 14 percent. A part of this cut was made possible by the fact that the state capitol building no longer demands appropriations. Another thing, we didn't have any deficit to make up at the beginning of our administration, Governor Weaver having taken care of that."

Knowing Mr. Griswold as we do and having confidence in him as we have we are sure Mr. Cramer's expectations would be realized were Mr. Griswold governor at present. In his work in the American Legion and in the Nebraska Press association Griswold was never one to "hog the glory." He was never one to make unwarranted claims or extravagant statements.

If political honesty pays, then Dwight Griswold will be the next governor of Nebraska. If the public can show its approval of his tactics by electing him or by defeating him can show that political chicanery is preferred to honesty.

WHAT OF THE FUTURE?

Drink and laugh and love and lie, Dance the reeling midnight thru. For tomorrow we shall die— But, alas, we never do.

So writes Dorothy Parker in a little quatrain that describes our feelings perfectly that we reproduce here.

We've been told so often recently that the country is going to rack and ruin that sometimes we almost believe it. Then reason triumphs and we know that the wildest optimism may feel now, but still fall far short of what the future actually holds for us.

We can remember, as pointed out in an article in 'My Own Column' today when a certain religious sect was openly converting to the world was coming to an end on a certain day. They believed it so strongly that they gave away their possessions, threw away their clothing, indulged in the widest emotional excesses, because they just knew that the world would end anyway and that nothing mattered any more.

When the fateful day came and the world went right along as before those people were ashamed of themselves and were sorry that they allowed their emotionalism to overcome their reason and thus trick them into making paupers of themselves in a world that still moved on.

A lot of us today are figuring much as those people did. We may be believing in an actual ending of the world but we are just as foolish when we speak of the depression becoming perpetual. We need to cast out our bogey man, and plan confidently for a wonderful future.

We have solved many of our own bogeys by remembering Mrs. Parker's ironic little verse. Whenever we find ourselves beginning to give credence to all the terrible things our imagination conjures up, we repeat "....but alas we never do."

Daniel C. Bailey, Springdale pioneer, was laid to rest.

Ord had just received a four inch snowstorm.

Jack Martin and Oliver Lord, held in the Valley county jail for looting the Earnest hardware at North Loup, picked the lock on their cell with a piece of glass and escaped. A big man hunt was on.

Two old timers, Lorenzo Blessing and Jens Pedersen, went to their reward.

Tales of big hail stones came from the Rosevale vicinity, L. E. Firkings having measured two that were 6 1/2 and 7 inches around. Much hail was falling throughout the county.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

People come along the street and find me bending over, digging dandelions and seem to get a lot of kick out of kidding me. Really I do not expect to rid the lawn of the dandelions but I am doing a good job of reducing the size of my stomach. It is a splendid exercise for that purpose and there seems to be no danger of running out of a job.

I notice that Mr. Carpenter, democrat candidate for congress in this district, says he will work for the doing away with the wheat board if he is elected. No doubt that promise will get him a good many votes. I can't see any good the wheat board ever did for the farmers. Of course the great salaries its members drew and are still drawing does them some good.

I am coming to believe, more and more, that one great trouble with this country is the large percentage of people doing unproductive work, drawing salaries as officials of various and many kinds, without in any way adding to the wealth of the country and always at the expense of those who work for a living. That's what makes our expense of government so high, that's what reduces taxes without first lopping off the things that make taxes and, seemingly, no one wants to do without the things that make expense.

Here is a thought for the fellows who think that times are never going to improve and that business has gone permanently to the dogs. This is not my own idea but was handed to me by a friend but I do sincerely believe in it: "When we were a small lad we heard our father tell many times of the day 'when the world came to an end.' 'At 11 o'clock in the morning it became as black as midnight and a shower of stars fell to the earth. People dropped to their knees, the good and the bad, the just and the unjust because everybody was sure it was the end of the world.' 'The following morning the sun shone as brightly as it ever had, and as the men folks dusted off their pants at the knees they became aware of a crowd and said they just did as the crowd did, that they didn't believe a word of it even when it was happening.' 'Years later, and in our remembrance, the members of a certain religious organization gave away or threw away some of their goods and chattels, because they said they had it all figured out, based on Bible predictions, that on a certain day the world would come to an end. Well, of course, it did not happen, but many of the best men, as a result of their fanaticism, lived in poverty to the end of their days.' 'At the present time, certain people are going to have the world go to smash based on algebraic deductions.' 'Having lived through so many cycles when everything was 'going to go boom,' when business was never going to be on a paying basis again, when it was predicted that there would be no work for anybody and no money with which to purchase everybody wanting to sell and nobody in a position to buy, and then seeing the thing switch with prosperity once more in the saddle, you can hardly blame us when we refuse to join the pessimistic army, when we go right along working hard and allowing the Almighty to run things as he deems best for the good of all.'"

I am reminded that subscription money is coming in pretty slow and some folks are going to miss their Quiz. I am sorry to cut anyone off the list but will have to do so. Some of you who are not paying could pay a part and thus help me out, even if you are unable to pay all. One dollar is better than no dollar if you can't spare two dollars. I reduced the price of the Quiz to try meeting conditions as they are and you readers will have to co-operate a little better. So if you miss the weekly visits of the Quiz, remember why it is. It costs several cents to keep sending statements and results do not justify it.

More Coyotes Captured. Jay Rogers, Warren Lincoln and Duane Woods came to the front as coyote exterminators Friday when they located a den and a dog wire, pulled forth eight young coyotes and killed them. The coyotes were found in Garfield county so the scalps were taken to Burwell and the bounty collected there.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Byington left Friday for their home in Lincoln. They had come to Ord to bring Mrs. W. H. Carson home. The latter had been spending a few weeks in Lincoln.

Something Different

There are always plenty of fascinating things to watch in addition to other people. We don't have to be interested in gossip or in our neighbor's business all the time. Take a walk and look about you; Old Lady Nature will surprise you!

Did you ever concentrate your attention closely on a number of ambitious ants attempting to move a large dead bug or worm? Try it sometime; their eager activity and boundless efforts will take your mind off your troubles. If any.

A few days ago I saw a large Mama pig disporting herself, playing foolishly with her little piglets. Tut, tut, such a lack of dignity for a matron to show.

Then I watched the noisiest sparrow fight. Two began to quarrel like human battles, their friends kept taking sides until the matter became serious. Such a commotion arose and such a din, that a pompous, well-fed, Robin gentleman became disgusted and had to fly away, in order to avoid losing his dignified and aloof bearing.

If you aren't taking part in the Ord flower shows, you are just another non-cooperating old stick. You must help. Even if you don't want a prize. Don't be proud; go out and cut some of your prettiest blossoms and wield them into the handsomest arrangement you know about; take them to the flower show and give your fellow townsmen an opportunity to enjoy them.

Ord has improved its dress wonderfully in the past few years. A new personal pride has been evident in all parts of our little city, as we all tried to dress up our yards.

Even if you have no money to spend; even if you haven't much to work with, still just to clean up your place helps a lot. It gives you a feeling of having done your duty to the community.

And a brushed-up, tidy appearance is the first step toward improvement. If you can't afford to buy all the flowers and plants you would like to put out, don't worry about that, either. Plenty of your neighbors will spare you slips and plants of theirs as soon as they realize you are interested. One of the signs of a true gardener is his or her anxiety to share the own flowers, as well as their ardor.

Beside the railroad tracks in a neighboring town, in front of someone's small boxcar home, is a handy little would-be garden. Every traveler who looks can see that in this spot an effort to beautify has been made by some home and nature lover.

A small mound bordered with big rocks shows the beginning of a rock garden. Beside it a larger, sunken place, also bordered with rocks, points out the location of a small pool. That front yard is going to be pretty some of these days soon. And it is going to show up by contrast with the drab, uncurbed or hexcar homes close by.

This railroader had even gone to the trouble of building great, tall lattice sections, which he mounted beside the tracks to obscure an unsightly view.

Rough gardens and pools are being installed in Ord in a wholesale fashion this season. Numbers of backyards and side yards show by a pile of gravel, a pit in the dirt, or a heap of rocks, that they aspire to become this fashionable type of garden. And there are a lot of them in Ord already.

Several in a row are going in on neighboring lots north of Emil Fafaita's. Mortensen's are going to have one; John Misko's will undoubtedly be the biggest, and will reflect some evergreens.

Some of them hold fish; some only flowers. If you have never seen the one on the back of the former Dr. Ferguson home, now occupied by the Ed Seylers and soon to be lived in by the Harlan T. Frazier family, don't miss it.

Don't take it for granted that you have no flowers to take to the flower shows in Ord this summer. The ordinary flowers aren't sure to win, you know. An arrangement of flowering vines; a bowl of sprigs from flowering shrubs; any sort of bouquet may win. The merchant in whose store the contest is held is the sole judge, you know. (Probably with the help of his wife!)

At the first flower show an extremely delightful arrangement of myrtle in full flower was brought by Mrs. Joe Dworak and received much admiration.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Time for picnics, outdoor parties, and lunches of all kinds has come again.

Fixing up lunchable lunches requires making cookies, cakes and salads, cold meats and things of that type. Preparing foods that will travel in safety and without losing their goodness: fixing dishes that may be prepared in the morning for a picnic supper without losing flavor and becoming messy.

If you have some especially good sandwich filling that you always make, or if you are depending on for something different that you always take to picnics, send in the recipe, please. Don't be selfish. Help other picnics to be successful, too.

Brownstone Front Cake. Part 1: 1/2 c. egg, chocolate; 1-2 c. sweet milk, cook slowly until thick, cool.

Part 2: 1-2 c. sugar; 1-2 c. butter; 1-2 c. sweet milk; 1 tsp. soda dissolved in milk; 1-2 c. flour; 3 eggs; 1 tsp. vanilla.

Cream butter; add sugar gradually and beat. Beat eggs until light and add. Sift flour three times and add flour and milk alternately, beating well after each addition. Add chocolate mixture, vanilla, and bake in rather slow oven. I bake in layers. —Mrs. Ruth Atkinson.

Sweet Hot Bread. 1-4 c. sugar; 1-4 c. butter; cream together, drop one egg in whole. Beat into sugar and butter and then add 1-2 c. milk, 1-2 tsp. salt, 1 heaping tsp. baking powder, 1-2 c. flour, scant measure. Four into buttered tin, sprinkle with sugar. Lots of butter and ground cinnamon. Bake like cake. Cut in squares and serve hot.

—Mrs. Bill Hish, North Loup. Of this recipe Mrs. Hish says, "Sweet hot bread is very good in school lunches and takes the place of cake." You will want to try it.

Summer Salad. 2 pkg. lemon or lime jello, 1 no. 2 can crushed pineapple, 1 large or 2 small cucumbers.

Prepare jello as usual, using pineapple juice as the liquid. Set in ice box to chill. Pare and dice cucumber, salting well. When the gelatine is cold add pineapple and cucumbers. Put back in a cold place and let it set. Serve on lettuce leaves and top with your favorite dressing. This serves 10 to 14 persons. —Georgia Benson.

We have sold our entire garage business in Ord, with the exception of used cars, to the Mudloff Auto Co. of St. Paul, Nebr. Possession must be given by the 25th of May. Never again will such an opportunity present itself to the auto buying public of central Nebraska. You who attended our Used Car Reduction Auction on Dec. 21st will remember that when we put a car up it really sells regardless of price. You can easily afford to quit your work and drive 200 or 300 miles if necessary to attend this sale. This is our farewell sale. You have been very generous with your patronage during our three years of business in Ord. We appreciate it very much and I personally assure you that you can buy at this auction at your own price any car or truck, at from 25 to 50 per cent less than you could if we were not quitting business.

COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES HERE NEXT THURSDAY

Arrangements for the important last rites for the members of the graduating class are practically complete. The baccalaureate program has been arranged for Sunday, May 22, at 8 p. m. at the high school auditorium. A professional will open the program, Rev. H. H. Spracklen will give the invocation, Mr. J. W. McGinnis will lead in prayer, Mrs. Mark Tolon will sing "Some Morning, O Some Morning," by Forman.

Rev. L. M. Real will preach to the graduates on the topic "What to Think about One's Self," after which the choir will sing "Put on Thy Strength, O Zion." Rev. H. H. Spracklen will pronounce the benediction, Mrs. Marion Cushing will play the recessional, closing the evening's program.

The commencement program begins with a professional by the high school orchestra, following which Rev. W. H. Wright will give the invocation. A mixed chorus of high school voices will sing "Awake with the Lark" and "Over the Hills at Break of Day" directed by Miss Bligood.

The address to the graduates will be made by Dr. W. H. Morton, who is a member of the school administration department of the University of Nebraska. He was formerly superintendent of the city schools at Beatrice, Nebr., and is expected to make a fine talk.

Elwin Auble will sing a vocal solo, after which Principal Cass will present to the audience the graduates of the class of 1932 of the Ord high school. Dr. J. W. McGinnis, as president of the board of education, will present the diplomas and give the awards won by honor students. Rev. Willard McCarthy will give the benediction.

Arrangements for the junior-senior banquet being held strictly secret until the banquet hour Thursday, tonight. Miss Johnson, sponsor of the juniors, and the juniors themselves, have been very careful to let no word of the color scheme, the decorative motif, the menu, etc. The ladies of the Methodist church have been asked to serve the seven o'clock banquet that is the high point of the year to members of the two classes.

Dr. J. W. Fredrickson is sponsor for the seniors, who announced after a committee meeting Monday night that the class night program, which is to be given Wednesday, May 25, will be as follows: Seniors will hold their Class Night program on Tuesday, May 24, they decided this week but they are not revealing who will take part in the various stunts until the fateful night arrives. The program will include the giving of the class history, class prophecy, class poem, class play and class song, two valedictory addresses, and several musical features. The program will end with the Ord high school song sung by the seniors.

Unique Plot In "The Broken Wing" Shocked! Memory gone! Who is he? He had dropped from the clouds, his airplane wrecked. Uninvited he crashed into the home of the most tantalizing, most alluring, most beautiful senorita imaginable. And this captivating little maiden nursed him back to life—and love. But who is he? His past life is a blank. Then, most disconcertingly, a charming American girl arrives and tells him she is his wife.

This is the plot of "The Broken Wing," which comes to the screen of the Ord Theatre Friday and Saturday. In it are Lupe Velez, Leo Carrillo and Melvyn Douglas and its a real thriller that's different.

Two other fine pictures will be seen in Ord within the next week. On Sunday comes "Street Scene," made from the famous Pulitzer prize play of the same name, and next Wednesday comes Edna Ferber's "The Expert," featuring Chic Sale and little Dickie Moore. Both are strong pictures that uphold the Ord Theatre's reputation for getting the best in the cinema line when it is new.

—Paul Carkoski of Big Springs was in Ord Monday and his sister Mrs. John Perlinaki. Paul was on the way home from Lincoln where he had been a patient in a hospital.

Christian Science. The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, May 22, is "Soul and Body."

"The Golden Text is from I Cor. 3:16: 'Know ye not that ye are the temple of God; and that the Spirit of God dwelleth in You?'"

A scripture passage used in the lesson-sermon is from II Cor. 5:1, and reads: 'For we know that if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, an house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens.'

From the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, the following relative passage will be read: "When understanding changes the standpoints of life and intelligence from a material to a spiritual basis, we shall gain the reality of life, the control of Soul over sense, and we shall perceive Christianity, or Truth, in its divine Principle. This must be the climax before harmonious and immortal man is obtained and his capabilities revealed." (page 322).

A loving invitation is extended to attend our services next Sunday at 11 o'clock at 312 So. 16th St.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Wednesday of last week Mrs. Frank Johnson was hostess to the Ladies Missionary society. An excellent meeting was held with a good attendance. Mrs. Guy Burrows, the newly-elected president may be congratulated upon the splendid response made by the ladies of the church under her leadership. The ladies aid society is never failing in providing a helpful program for the purpose of helping the individual members to find a definite avenue of expression in service of the kingdom's work. The delightful luncheon served at the church Wednesday, was but one of the unusual events occurring as a part of the curriculum under the direction of Mrs. VanDecar.

The comrade class accompanied by their sponsor Mrs. Guold Flagg and Rev. L. M. Real, had a very enjoyable picnic last week after a basket luncheon. Mrs. Flagg served ice cream. While the Pioneer and Friendly Indian boys are busy playing baseball, the father sex of the tribes are finding much enjoyment in the hikes that their pastor is sponsoring. HAROLD SCHUDEL IS COUNTY'S BEST EIGHTH GRADER

Finishes Lower Grades With
Average of 97 2-14; Diplomas
Are Given Out Tuesday.

Of the 118 graduates of the eighth grade who were honored at the graduation exercises Tuesday evening at the Ord Theater, Harold Schudel had the highest average, 97 and 2-14. He went to school at Dist 3 near North Loup, and so did one of the two boys who tied for second honors, Kenneth Egglehoff, whose average was 96 and 11-14. Exactly the same average was secured by Charles Zanger of Dist 14, Fourth high in valley county was Floyd Huebner of Dist 10 who made 96 and 2-14. Fifth high was Junior Lutz with 95 and 12-14.

The record of the first five is the more unusual because all five marks are held by boys. Girls are inclined to win out in such records over their less serious brothers.

In the second group of five, averages show Millcent Fischer, Dist. 20 had 94 and 12-14; Darrel Noll, Dist. 54, had 94 and 6-14; Kenneth Koelling, Dist. 57, made 94 and 4-14; Wilma Severns of Dist. 2 made 94 and 1-14; Rebecca Cullen of Dist. 10 was close behind with 94 even.

Two rural school choruses one including sixth to tenth grade students, the other pupils of the lower grades, sang eight songs each, and were much enjoyed. "Not A Man In The House" the prize winning one-act play by the Elvira pupils was given again, and Miss Vernice Johnson repeated her prize winning reading, both delighting the audience. Emanuel and Richard Lukesh of Dist. 67 sang for the crowd, and suitable recognition was given the winners of the county spelling contest this spring, and also to the students making the finest averages during the past year.

Included on the list of graduates were also: Theodore Augustyn, 33; Irene Anderson, 56; Ila Ackles, 19; Theodore Baker, 19; Roy

FORMER ORD GIRL SUES FOR $25,000

Priscilla VanDecar Wellman,
Badly Hurt Last Fall in Car
Crash, Sues Wahoo Man.

Mrs. Philip Wellman of Omaha, formerly Priscilla VanDecar of Ord, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. VanDecar, filed suit in the district court of Saunders county at Wahoo last week for damages in the amount of $25,000 for injuries sustained in an accident Nov. 24, 1931. Mrs. Wellman also filed suit for damages for $8,000, the suit arising from the same accident. John H. Barry of Wahoo is the defendant in both cases.

The accident happened last Thanksgiving when the two cars, going in opposite directions, were about to pass. According to the Wellmans, the other car skidded off the road, then suddenly swung back on the pavement and struck their car, injuring Mrs. Wellman quite seriously. Twelve of her teeth were knocked out, her jaw fractured in two places, her skull fractured in two places, necessitating long and painful treatment and several sojourns at a hospital in Omaha where they make their home.

Wayne Coats And Ellen Dowse Wed

Wayne Coats, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Coats of Mira Valley, quietly secured a bride Saturday morning when he took Miss Ellen Dowse of Comstock, daughter of Elmer Dowse, to Bassett with him and there married her, with the help of Rev. Furrier, Methodist minister of that place.

Mr. Coats and his bride drove on to Long Pine and spent a couple of days before returning to the Ernest Coats farm, where they will make their home with the groom's parents. Wayne is associated with his father in the milk business.

The newly-weds were the recipients of a hearty chivalric Wednesday evening, a small proof of the esteem in which a wide circle of friends hold them. They have the best wishes of many.

Daniel Burke Dies Of Spotted Fever

Spotted fever, a disease affecting the brain and spinal column, caused the death in Paul, Ida, last Friday of Daniel J. Burke, 75, former resident of Ord. He had been ill only six days with the fever and before that time had been Mr. Burke's good health.

Funeral services were held in Paul Monday. From 1898 to 1914 the Burke family lived in Ord, Mr. Burke being employed first in the J. C. Hayes hardware store and then becoming part owner of the Wood Lumber Company, which was sold later to the Sack interests.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nettie Burke, and by one son, Clayton, of Cody, Wyo. Mrs. Burke is a sister of Judge E. P. Clements and Mrs. M. Leggett.

CLEMENTS RULES BANK MUST PAY SCHOOL DEPOSITS

Such Deposits Are Special Trust
Fund, Rules District Judge;
Case May Be Appealed.

District Judge E. P. Clements cleaned up the docket Saturday when he rendered decisions in a number of cases, most interesting of which was probably the divorce action heard in which Vesta Kildow Grier of North Loup sought an absolute divorce from her husband, Melvin Grier. Mrs. Grier contended that he had been cruel, and alleged abusive and insulting language, rage, jealousy without cause, that her husband had failed to provide a home for her and that he had given her only $6 in the time before and the seven months since their baby was born.

Mrs. Grier asked an absolute divorce, custody of seven months old baby, $1000 per month alimony and permanent alimony and child support, and money for her suit and attorney fees. Davis and Vogeltanz are her attorneys.

In her action Mrs. Grier alleged that her husband insisted she come to live with him and his parents at Wayne, Neb., and when she went there he used his influence to get her to have the marriage annulled. Such action, started by him, is now pending in the courts at Wayne, it is said. Mrs. Grier filed her petition on May 18.

Several claims were heard in which school districts requested the court to allow their claims as a special trust fund, which would as such be paid out by the receiver for the former State Bank of Ord. Judge Clements under a new law passed only a year or so ago, so ruled. Among the districts suing were No. 3, No. 6, No. 17, and several others. It is expected that these cases will travel to the supreme court of Nebraska to test the validity of the law under which they were allowed.

Judge Clements granted to Receiver Hopka of the former State Bank of Ord the right to sue for double liability, successful prosecution of which suit would mean that the bank would put up twice as much money as they had stock.

Delcos Retain Lead In Farm Bureau Loop

The Ord Delco-Lights retained their lead in the Farm Bureau Baseball league Sunday when they defeated Oak Creek 7 to 6. The Delcos are undefeated in league play so far. Other games played Sunday saw Elvira beat Burwell, 8 to 6, and Arcadia beat the Ord Camels, 8 to 1. All three of these games were postponed from the previous Sunday, when rain prevented play. The other postponed game, Mira Valley vs. Olean, was not played off Sunday. Next Sunday Oak Creek will play at Olean, the Ord Camels will play at Burwell, Elvira will play at Arcadia, and Mira Valley will meet the Ord Delcos on the Ord diamond.

Friday Mrs. Howard Barnes had a birthday. In the evening about 40 friends arrived and spent the evening. It was a complete surprise to Mrs. Barnes.

HAWAIIAN MOTIF FEATURES JUNIOR SENIOR BANQUET

Big Social Event of Ord High School Is Elaborate Affair,
Gives Pleasure to Guests.

Over 200 people were served Thursday evening at the high school auditorium at one of the most unique and most elaborately planned junior-senior banquets ever to be held in Ord. Hawaiian motif was used throughout, under the guidance of Miss Elva Johnson, sponsor of the juniors.

Beginning with the carefully worded invitations, which bore a message arranged to also read "Aloha Oe" when read in a straight up and down, together with a black and white Hawaiian scene. Most elaborate decorations of crepe paper and flowers walled and called the banquet hall, with gay parrots, many flowers and green ferns, and a table on every side. Billy Bald, George Allen and Melvin Hackel were in charge of the wall decorations.

On the stage, arranged as a background were three large panels of tropical scenery, suitably filled with palms, volcanoes, islands and blue sea. A couple of these were the work of Emanuel Sevenker, and one of them was done by Roland Tedro; all of them were well done.

Table decorations also were very ornate. Irma Kokke, Viola Mae Flynn and Wilhelmina Jansen having put forth their best efforts. The latter fashioned numbers of little palm trees which ornamented the middle of the long tables. Before the place of each diner stood a tiny lavender and white hula girl, made of crepe paper, her white button face dominated by two large blue eyes, her arms and legs pipstems fashioned of fine wire, but her feet, exceedingly large, two big and inviting pieces of white candy.

MASONIC LODGE ENJOYS DINNER

Usual Banquet Gives Place This Year To Covered Dishes;
Dancing Follows.

In place of their usual elaborate annual banquet, the members of the local Masonic organization held an informal covered dish dinner and spent a pleasant evening at their banquet hall Friday evening, about 125 being present for the affair.

Members brought delicious dishes from home, and these served informally comprised the banquet. Clarence Davis acted as toastmaster very satisfactorily. He called upon George Satterfield, worshipful master, who gave an address of welcome, and upon Mrs. Esther Erickson, who is worthy master of the O. E. S. present, who also made a splendid talk.

Miracle Man's Coming To Theatre

Two or three outstanding pictures are to be shown at the Ord Theater in the next few days. Manager Hoogenboom announces, revealing that he has secured the famous "Miracle Man", which made Thomas Meighan and Betty Compton favorites. This time the wonderful story will feature Sylvia Sidney and Chester Morris, both of whom have ardent admirers galore. With a pair like this and a story like this.....

"The Cohens and Kellys in Hollywood" is more of the clean, laughable adventures into which this pair of friendly enemies are always falling. The sort of show that really lifts your troubles off and laughs them away.

"Union Depot" is like nothing else, and could not be any better show than it is. Whatever you like, this show has it, for it is packed with everything. It has a handsome hero in Doug Fairbanks, Jr., a poor but beautiful leading lady in Joan Blondell, it has thieves, counterfeit money, police, gunmen, madmen, secret service men, cute children, collisions, sudden deaths! What more could you want?

On June 1, Miss Elsie Frederickson, one of the Ord high school commercial teachers, and Oliver Collison, of Ord, will be married at the home of the bride in McCook, Nebr.

Ed Seyler Honor Guest At Smoker

Tuesday evening at the Legion hall a smoker sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce was held in honor of Ed Seyler, who is leaving Ord to enter the automobile business in York. A few short speeches, plenty of smokes, group singing, card playing and a fine
lunch served by Auxiliary ladies formed the evening's program. H.
B. Vandecar, president of the Chamber presided.

Several informal talks were highly complimentary to Mr. Seyler, who entered business here a little over three years ago and has been one of Ord's most progressive business men. Orville Sovl expressed the Rotary club's regret at losing a member, E. C. Leggett made a similar talk on behalf of the commercial club, and other talks were made by E. C. Wellner, Irl D. Tolen and Ed Vogeltanz. Mr. Seyler responded, expressing his sorrow at leaving Ord.

Yesterday Mr. Seyler went to York and will remain here until the latter part of this week. At a used car auction Monday, the Graham-Seyler agency sold 18 cars and eight cars that remained unsold formed a caravan that went to York the next day.

CROP PROSPECTS BOOM AS HEAVY RAIN FALLS HERE

Tuesday Evening Down-pour
Totals 1 1/2 Inches in Places,
Kills Hoppers, Helps Corn.

Prospects for a good crop in valley county soared higher Tuesday evening when a down-pour of rain that totaled one inch and 1-2 inches in places fell in Ord and throughout the county. Horace Travis, official moisture recorder, reported the total as 1.10 inches while W. A. Anderson's rainfall gauge showed 1-1-2 inches. Community report about the same total while in the sand flats a little less than an inch fell.

The rain was accompanied by a high wind and an electrical storm but aside from many branches blown from trees no property damage is reported. The rain was of the driving type and millions of tiny grasshoppers were drowned, thus enhancing crop prospects measurably.

Valley county's corn planting season has been ideal this year, bright, sunny days with the soil in the Ord report about planting though a little dry for the seed to germinate properly. Most of the corn was in before the rain Tuesday night and with continued warm weather the corn should grow rapidly.

Rev. Real Gives Sermon To Seniors

Baccalaureate Services Held Sunday
Evening at High School; Music
Is Exceptionally Fine.

Baccalaureate services for the graduating class of 1932 were held Sunday evening at the auditorium of the Ord high school with a large crowd present. Assembling at 8 p. m., the professional music was played by a string quartette consisting of Edwin Clements, Horace Travis, Orville Sowl and Dr. J. B. Blesing, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Iva Sowl.

Rev. H. H. Spracklen invoked the blessing, after which a union choir sang "Behold Darkness Shall Cover the Earth". Rev. W. H. Wright read suitable passages from the Bible. Miss Elva Bloodgood and Dr. Blesing sang a duet which was exceptionally pleasing, following which Rev. Willard McCarty led the assembly in prayer.

Mrs. Marc Tolen in her usual sweet clear voice sang "Some Mornings, O Some Mornings" by Forman. Rev. L. M. Real preached the sermon of the evening, his topic being "What to Think about One's Self", in which he not only told graduates what to think about themselves, but gave them considerable food for thought on other matters as well. The choir next sang "Put on Thy Strength, O Zion"; then Rev. Spracklen pronounced the benediction. Mrs. Marion Cushing at the piano played recessional music as the audience of about 500 people filed out.

—Tomorrow Mr. and Mrs. Jos. P. Barta and Miss Pauline will drive to Lincoln and stay until Saturday morning when they will go to Columbia, Mo. after their daughter and sister, Miss Martha Mae Barta, who has been taking a year's school work at Stephens college.

Two Valedictorians For Ord High School

Marlan Cushing, Charles Shepard,
In Tie, Both Give Addresses
Tuesday At Class Night Program.

A large crowd assembled Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium to see just what the class night of the seniors could bring forth, and learned to their astonishment that two valedictorians were featured on the program, because there was no difference in the official standings of Marlon Cushing and Charles Shepard. So both the young people were honored, each of them making a valedictory address, and both the speeches were unusually thoughtful and remarkably good.

The company's new station is progressing rapidly under the supervision of the contractor, C. E. Goodhand.

Since the co-operative company was organized it has leased the Charles Brown filling station and the Quiz is informed that Mr. Brown expects to go back into business himself upon the termination of the co-op's lease.

FRED WEGRZYN MEETS DEATH IN ROAD ACCIDENT

Former Ord Young Man Died
Tuesday At Dunlap; Funeral
Probably Will Be Here.

Word was received Tuesday here of the sudden death in an accident of Fred Wegrzyn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wegrzyn of Ord, which occurred at Dunlap, a little settlement consisting of a store and postoffice on the Nebraska river about 30 miles north of Alliance, Nebr. Little is known as to just what actually happened. The young man, who was 27 or 28 years old, was killed almost instantly when either a truck or his road maintainer overturned on him. Married and no prospects at all, and his wife visited in Ord relatives at Easter time this spring. His wife was a Dunlap girl, and with her help and that of her mother, Fred operated the little store and filling station and took care of the postoffice business at Dunlap.

A fine, hard working young man, Fred went out to that country to work, several years ago, staying with his aunt, Mrs. Perliniski, who lives in Alliance. He liked the work, married a local girl, and had good prospects at the time of his sudden death. He leaves to mourn a devoted family, Stella, Pauline, Chester, Joe, Floyd and Eva and his parents all of whom live near Ord, and Anna and Louie, both of whom are married and live in Omaha, as well as his young wife, Vim. All of the family left for Dunlap Wednesday morning, the Omaha relatives arriving here Tuesday night.

Flower Show Will Be At Food Center

Another of the fine flower shows that are attracting such crowds of admirers is scheduled to be held Friday, May 27 and Saturday, May 28, tomorrow and the next day at the Food Center in this city. These exhibits are splendid, and some very rare and unusual flowers are being shown. If you have not taken advantage of the chance to see the best flower growers in Ord, do so this time.

Those wishing to enter flowers in the display should bring their bouquets in Friday afternoon in the containers in which they wish them shown. All entries must be in by closing time Friday evening, and will be arranged on tables for display Saturday. Joe Puncoschar, manager of the Food Center, is the judge, and for what seems to him to be the best bouquet and what seems to be the finest individual flower, he will give two prizes from his stock. For the prettiest bouquet his prize will be something from his stock of from $1 to $15 in value, and for the most attractive single bloom he will give, also from his store, something of from 75c to $1 in value.

LEGION, LADIES OF G. A. R. PLAN FOR DECORATION DAY

J. A. R. Ladies Sponsor Program
At Methodist Church Sunday;
Legion in Charge Monday.

Memorial day will be well observed in Ord this year, with special programs arranged for both Sunday and Monday, under the sponsorship of the local churches, the Ladies of the G. A. R. and members of the American Legion.

Sunday morning each church will observe Decoration Day in the way that seems most fitting to the pastor and the members of his congregation. Special services have been arranged at most of the churches, and will suitably honor the dead with both beautiful music and flowers and with words of praise.

G. A. R. ladies have gone to a great deal of trouble to see that a fine program to honor those who are gone is held Sunday evening. Their committee in charge, Rev. W. H. Wright, Rev. H. H. Spracklen, Mrs. C. F. O. Schmidt, Mrs. Callista Fuson and Mrs. Ed Holloway, decided upon a union church meeting Sunday evening at the Methodist church as the most proper form of memorial service for them to arrange. Members of all churches and the general public is cordially asked to attend.

The nut cups were also made by the clever fingers of junior girls, and took the form of small paper boats, sailing madly for Hawaii. The programs for the evening, close by each plate, were white ukeleles, also the work of juniors. Lifting the white paper covers, on the second page, a typed and inked message bade the diner welcome to the isle of paradise. On the third page was found the menu, served by the ladies of the Methodist church. It consisted of paradise salad with saltines; baked ham, raisin sauce, au gratin potatoes, green wax beans, rolls, radishes, jelly and olives. The final course was pineapple bavarian cream, served with wafers and coffee.

The program for the evening, also enclosed inside the small mandolin, was opened by Miss Thelma Palmatier, president of the junior class who acted as toastmistress. The first letter, the most artistically spelled out "Aloha Oe", and the first one was "A Toast to the seniors" by Twila Brickner. Edwin Lenz spoke on "Leis"; Dola Flynn talked briefly on the subject "Out to Sea". Next an especially engaging dance was done by two sophomore boys and eight sophomore girls, who had been trained in Hawaiian maneuvers—but not the Hula hula—by Miss Hostetter.

Miss Elsie Frederickson, senior sponsor, addressed the crowd on "anchors". Irma Kokes talked on "Outlook"; Charles Shepard spoke lastly with the topic, "End of Our Voyage". Following, Elwin Auble sang as a solo, "Aloha Oe". Music throughout the evening was furnished by Auble's orchestra, with the audience singing and humming occasionally.

Over the back of each chair was hung a lei, to be worn by that particular diner as he enjoyed a real Hawaiian evening.

The many young waitresses and waiters, all members of the sophomore class, were dressed in white clothes, to complete the picture. They were drilled to perform the immense task of serving several courses to the crowd by Miss Lucine Hardin.

The juniors did practically all the work themselves, with very little help or expense. Eva Adamek and Thelma Palmatier painted the invitations which were sent to the seniors and other guests; Gerald Keim and Edwin Lenz trucked tables, chairs, flowers and many other things back and forth and worked very hard.

Preceding the banquet, a reception was held upstairs, those in the receiving line being Mr. Bell, Mr. Cass, Thelma Palmatier, class president, Billy Baird, class vice president, and Miss Johnson, class sponsor. Billy Baird and Miss Johnson shared each group downstairs and saw them seated at their table, so that no confusion resulted. Guests were the members of the school board and their wives—Mr. and Mrs. Horace Travis, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Stoltz, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coe, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Norman and Mr. and Mrs. Gould Flagg, and also the school faculty.

The guests were almost unanimous in pronouncing the banquet, from invitations to toasts, decorations, entertainment and food, the finest of its kind. Soft, beautiful gowns of the diners, pleasing background, everything combined to make the juniors receive high praise for a most satisfying evening.

Sargent Gets Motor.

A motor car was sent over the Burlington line to Sargent Thursday and that will be what they will receive for passenger service hereafter. The people of Sargent were expecting the change as the railroad company installed a "Y" about two months ago. Previous to Thursday a steam train had operated upon that branch for about forty-four years.

Reduced 30 Pounds Never Felt Better

Safe Way To Lose Fat

Take the case of Miss Madelone Crowley, for instance, who lives in Little Rock, Ark. Just read her letter:

"I have used Kruschen Salts for one year—when I started I weighed 140 pounds—now I weigh 110 pounds and never felt better in my life."

That's the big reason a host of men and women take Kruschen to lose weight—as the fat goes you gain in health—skin clears—eyes grow bright—activity replaces indolence.

Take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast—cut down on fatty meats, potatoes and sweets—a jar of Kruschen that costs but a trifle lasts 4 weeks—get it at McLain & Sorensen's or any drugstore in the world—but for your health's sake demand and get Kruschen Salts.

TIME FOR PICNICS, STEAK FRIES AND WIENER ROASTS

Now is the time when the call of the outdoors is strongest, when you like to take your own family or a group of friends and journey to some quiet spot in the hills or near the river and enjoy a sociable meal close to nature.

If you are planning a picnic you'll need a ham to boil or a tender roast to slice when it gets cold. Or perhaps you plan a steak fry and need those thick cuts that taste so good when broiled over an open fire. Or a wienie roast.

For all of these events let us help. We've been purveying fine meats for years and can please you.

Rev. McCarthy Builds Model of Temple From Instructions Found in Holy Book

Once more Rev. McCarthy is receiving enthusiastic compliments and much admiration for illustrating his sermon with a practical and interesting model. This time the tiny but complete construction represented the temple which God instructed the children of the wilderness to build that they might take their church with them as they traveled. The Lord told them exactly how it was to be constructed, posts, boards, curtains, furniture, etc., and as close as he could Rev. McCarthy built that temple and used it to show his congregation last Sunday as he sermonized upon the subject. Of grooved wooden boards gilded the sides of the tiny rectangular temple come down when cross-boards, which lock the walls in place, are taken from their slots. Inside, divided into two parts by a silk veil of several colors, embroidered, the people prayed before an altar, and their prayers went over the curtain to the throne built for God and were heard there. All over the temple three curtains are thrown, tentlike but fitting making it dark. Light is given by the famous seven branched candlestick. About the temple is a small courtyard, enclosed by a high fence of stakes and more embroidered curtains, all of which can be dismantled and carried. Each Jew's family carried a certain part, and this too was represented in the small model. In this courtyard stands the sacrificial altar. Ladies of the Christian church embroidered the cherubs, palms and flowers which adorned the curtains. Both of curtains were hung on tiny rods; the whole model was built according to scale and drew many to inspect it. Rev. McCarthy and his church ladies are to be commended for their ambition and its results.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Leon Clemm, daughter Carol Jean and Phyllis Ann Dodge who expect to spend a few weeks visiting relatives in Lincoln and David City. Gertrude Dugosh is spending a few days visiting in the Chas. and Joe Dugosh homes before going to her home in Wyoming. She was teacher in the Fort Hartuff school the past two years and does not plan to teach next year. Mrs. James Clemm and children spent from Thursday until Friday in Ord at the Frank Blaha jr. home. Arlene Schuyler of Burwell came down Saturday and is a guest of Vernice Johnson this week. Mrs. Norton and her eighth grade pupils were very much pleased with grades received in the recent examinations. Vernice Johnson, Wanda Clochon and Erwin Dodge all have averages above 90 and Dennie Zulkoski also passed with an average of 80 which is considered good. Frazier Funeral home, Ord. Ambulance service. Day phone 38; Night 193. Kathryn Holub, Genevieve Jablonski, Loreta Kusek and Christina Koziol are the 10th grade graduates and all plan on entering Ord High school next year. All the girls, with the exception of Christina Koziol, started in the Elyria schools the same year and have gone through the eleven years of school together. Mrs. Wm. Treptow was pleasantly surprised Tuesday afternoon when members of the Progressive club came in to spend the afternoon with her. She has been bedfast for many weeks with a broken hip bone. Home made ice cream and cakes were brought to which full justice was done. Last week Chas. Flakus and Anton Swanek hauled the lumber from the coal shed that E. A. Holub purchased recently to the Holub farm and Frank T. Zulkoski has charge of the building of the barn, which will be built from the lumber. Wm. Dittman is staying at the Joe Clemm home while helping with the building on the Holub farm. A good crowd was out Sunday afternoon to see the Elyria ball team win a game for the first time this season. They played the Burwell team, the score being 8 to 8 in their favor. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Clemm received word that their daughter Helen and her cousin, Barbara Clemm who are in California were recent victims in a holdup. They obtained but a few dollars and a wrist watch. Luckily the girls had more money in a purse in the car seat behind them which the bandits overlooked.

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1879.

WILL RADIO WAKE UP? The new method of radio control proposed in Canada should cause radio magnates to wake up and begin to give the public a better type of programs, more free from advertising.

Canada's new bill, which has already passed the House of Commons, proposes to set up a coast-to-coast chain of powerful stations under Dominion ownership, reduction of the advertising content of programs to not more than 5 per cent, supervision of broadcasts by commission, and gradual buying out and regulation of present small Canadian stations.

Some such common sense method of regulating radio will have to be adopted by our own government unless radio station owners in this country see the handwriting on the wall.

The percentage of radio broadcast time devoted to advertising in this country varies from 15 per cent to 60 per cent; the lower figure for chain broadcasts and the higher for programs broadcast by small stations operated as adjunct to mail order businesses.

There are 609 stations licensed in the United States and these 609 are packed onto 94 broadcast channels, making a program from which a dozen or so of the stronger stations emerge.

Our whole radio situation requires cleaning up. For instance, there is no justification for one merchant who was fortunate enough to get control of a radio license in the days when the industry was an infant to use that license now for the purpose of unfairly competing against other merchants who are unable to secure licenses. Neither is it fair to people who buy expensive radio sets to have advertising forced down their throats.

Canada's bill, modeled after the English system to a certain extent, should give those in control of radio at present something to think about. If they think wisely they will reduce their abuses and so make government intervention unnecessary.

25 Years Ago This Week. Campbell Bros. circus came to Ord and when it left it was richer by one good musician for Ora Taylor, a printer on the Quiz, secured a job in the circus band and left with the show.

Oliver Lord and Jack Martin, who looted the hardware at North Loup and later escaped from the Valley county jail, were re-captured north of town by Henry Mattley, who brought them to Ord with the assistance of Sheriff Sutton. Judge Paul was holding court here at the time and promptly sentenced the two to the state penitentiary.

The Quiz, which had been issued as a semi-weekly for several months, went back to publishing once a week. Th twice a week venture was unprofitable, the editor reported.

C. E. Goodhand was the successful bidder on the First National bank building. The cost was to be about $17,000.

The Ord gas plant was being rebuilt to manufacture water gas, which was said to be a much superior product. The contractor in charge and the cost of the changes was estimated at $7,000.

20 Years Ago This Week. Manager E. P. Clements sent the Ord baseball team against the Scotia Champions in the season's opener and Ord won, 5 to 3. Durvea and Cushing were the Ord pitchers with Alan Clements as catcher; Cook and Ammerman were the Scotia battery.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

The stock of Speaker Garner has gone down a lot so far as I am concerned, since his proposal to issue a billion dollars of bonds to finance a great building program and to pass a sales tax bill to raise money to pay the interest on the bonds. It will just make another lot of bonds to pay the rich eastern bankers interest on and the people who need assistance are framed to pay the interest, when they are unable to pay running expenses now. There is only one thing that will bring back prosperity and that is currency inflation. The people all got in debt. Then they were deflated and have to try to pay the debt under present deflated conditions. They should be allowed to pay their debts with the same priced dollar that they borrowed and there would be no trouble.

If you owe subscription don't wait to get $2 or $4 to pay in but bring in $1 or even 50c to apply on your subscription. That will at least show your good will and every small payment helps.

I just can't enthuse over dandelion greens but lamb's quarter, commonly called pigweed, now that's something to talk about. A mess of pigweed greens, fried salt pork, a nice made after frying the pork to pour over the greens, and mashed potatoes and graham gems, that's what I call a real meal. Of course it don't do any harm to have a nice hunk of pie to top off with but one can get along without it.

I notice that while Prohibition Investigator Wilson says Grand Island is the wettest spot on the map, the list of those caught does not contain the names, understood in this section to be the "big shots" in the third ward racket. Mr. Wilson evidently just caught some of the small violators.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Mrs. Spencer Waterman very recklessly began what I hope is a new style the other day, when she not only brought in a recipe for a new and delicious pickle, but also brought me a nice sample of the pickle to try! I hope you all take the hint, and do the same next time you bring in a recipe. Wouldn't it be fun to have meals out of the neighbors very finest recipes? If I can just get my correspondents trained, all my cooking troubles will be over.

Mixed Pickle. 2 moderate size cabbages, cut small, 3 doz. green tomatoes, peeled and cut in 3 pieces, 3 small green peppers, 2 doz. cucumbers cut irregularly, 3 qts. tiny cucumbers, sprinkle with salt and let stand over night. Scald with weak vinegar, each sort separately, the cabbage longest. Put in jar 1 tbsp. tumeric, 1 tbsp. celery seed, 1 tbsp. white mustard seed, 1 tbsp. cinnamon. Boil 3 1-2 qts. vinegar, 4 lbs. brown sugar and pour over vegetables. Add 1 handful of seeded raisins. Pack and seal.

Mrs. Spencer Waterman. And say, those pickles were awfully good, and kept such a lively green color, and also retained their crispness.

Then here is what a lady wrote to Mr. H. D. Leggett about the recipe below: "Speaking of greens, was a favorite kind that I don't believe many people know about, so I'm sending the recipe for the Cook's Col-Yum. I never tasted the kind of greens you have been telling about but if they are better than the humble dandelion they must be good. Then too, the dandelion is the first green to appear in the spring." And here is her recipe for:

Dandelion Greens. Small dandelion leaves, 2 eggs, vinegar, 1 tsp. sugar, salt to taste, onions, 4 medium boiled potatoes, any left-over meat. Select very small tender dandelion leaves (the bleached ones found under leaves or grass in early spring are best), wash thoroughly. Add to these chopped green onions. Let stand in cold water until ready for use. Cut meat in small pieces and fry brown. Mash hot boiled potatoes with the meat, then add beaten eggs, to which vinegar, salt and sugar have been added. Mix with potatoes and cook until eggs are done. Pour over dandelions and onions and mix.

Mrs. Joe Peterson, Arcadia. Spanish Delight. 1 can peas, 2 c. cooked macaroni, 2 c. strained tomatoes, 1 lb. round steak. Run steak through a coarse grinder. Fry. Combine mixture and cook slowly until time to serve. Greta Brickner.

Maraschino Pear Pie. Prepare a rich pie crust first. Drain and chop 1-2 c. maraschino cherries and 1 can of Bartlett pears. Add 1-2 c. syrup from pears and 3 tbsp. lemon juice. Heat to boiling point. Mix 1-2 c. Sugar and 2 tbsp. flour and moisten with a little cold juice. Then add to the hot fruit, stirring until thick. Add 1 tbsp. butter and cool. Put in filling and arrange narrow strips of pastry over the top. Bake until brown. Mrs. Archle Boyce.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Conner and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Conner of Burwell were Ord visitors Saturday evening.

Something DIFFERENT

Some time take a few minutes off and stop in at George Satterfield's office in the courthouse to view the license display he has posted. Either he or the clerk in the office of the county treasurer, Clyde Baker, will point out the interesting ones to you. There is one for almost every year since they have been issued, and they are stacking up so that pretty soon there will have to be an addition to the wall.

Some of the earliest ones, really issued in the horse and buggy days, are of leather! Then there are a number of curious looking affairs. One time the state decided to save money and let the old licenses to be used over and over, changing each year by merely adding a small emblem of metal, a bell or etc., which was to be screwed over the old emblem. But that didn't take so well and was soon abandoned.

Then the licenses were put on smaller plates, year after year in money, but that wasn't satisfactory either. Among the early licenses are several with histories of their own. Certain numbers were used by certain residents year after year, often Dr. Shepard, who had about the first car in these parts, donated a license or two, as did several other daring early day drivers.

I believe there are not more than about a dozen kinds of iris grown in Ord, in all. Look at them closely; this is their blooming season. Notice the different colorings, and tell me if you find more than a certain few kinds in the yards they adorn. Aren't they attractive, though?

Mrs. Louie Mazac has the nicest one, I think, and do you know why? It smells so fragrantly, that's why I like it. It is a creamy, light-headed one, and smells like... guess what? Lemon blossoms!

Now if someone would only evolve a nice smell to attach to all these white spirea bushes in place of the one they now have, I'd think everything was dandy.

The Washington bi-centennial celebration committee suggests that you plant a red-white-and-blue garden this year, in commemoration.

If you care for things different, you might try this. Surely something very charming might be built about this plan. It isn't too late, if you hurry!

Mr. Krikac says the reason he hasn't been wisecracking at me in his Comstock paper is because he's been so busy knitting 125 a pair of socks, and since he knew I was a sandhiller, he was sure that knitting socks for me was a large task. Not very gentlemanly of him to suggest that I have large feet, do you think so?

I never did bring up the size of Mr. Krikac's feet in this here discussion! Even if I am a sandhiller and have large feet, I'm a lady, I am. In my argumenting.

If you want to start a real argument, just ask in any crowd: "What's the best way to get rid of sandhillers?"

I am positive there is much more thought, and much more feeling on this question than on who ought to pay the war debts, and why. And the dandelion diggers and the anti-diggers will just about fight, if you rile them gently.

Which reminds me of the smart crack in Popeye, of Thimble theater fame in the comics. A fellow in the background of the strip, a few days ago, kept aggravating an argument Popeye was having with another fellow by yelling: "Let's you and him fight!"

Isn't that just the way most of us do? Sit back and think someone else should do a little fighting for some cause or other? Possibly our cause?

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READ. Muleshoe, Texas May 21, 1932

To The Ord Quiz Dear friends: Please find enclosed draft for subscription, $2. Many thanks for continuing the paper and waiting so patiently. At this time I might state that as long as I have children and land and old time friends in Valley county I shall want the Quiz. Should I at times fail to remit Jan. 1st, date of expiration, just continue the paper and remittance will soon follow.

Am sorry to note so many old time friends have moved to Long Beach, Calif., or passed to the great beyond. I missed many familiar faces in Ord. Last year, this, for a favorable spring, this, for crops in Texas. One doesn't really know how to appreciate the pleasant springtime of the west Texas plains until having first passed through the month or more of the trade winds. As Ord and North Loup are the popcorn center of the world, so this portion of Texas is the sudan center of the world. And I believe there is enough Sudan seed stored this year in this portion of the plains to supply the U. S. A. for a year or more. At present the four large-bins and the driveway of my barn is running over with Sudan seed. No price. The average price in ten years on Sudan seed is from four to six cents per lb, the highest this year, 60 cents. On account of low prices and insufficient storage room both Kaffir and Sudan has stood in ricks and shocks in many fields all winter. Some have stacked for another year. Now many are planting and threshing at the same time. And the Gregorys are one of the many, and with no better prices out there, year after year. If God so wills, I expect to go back to the old home again this fall and spend a year with Joe and family. Best regards. Mrs. J. W. Gregory Sr.

Why I Keep Bees. Some people keep bees for profit, some keep them for pleasure, while still others claim to keep them for honey for home use. I fall to understand why a person keeps from five to twenty colonies of bees in dilapidated boxes or old hives that were out of date twenty years ago, when two colonies of bees in modern hives if given only two hours attention a year will produce more honey than the largest family can possibly use in a year.

But that is another story. I was going to tell why I keep bees. Last fall I packed most of my hives for winter in pairs. Late in the winter I observed that in one of the hives one colony had perished while the other one was in fine shape. Very recently, during a fine afternoon of clear weather, I opened the hives and found that to one of the hives the entrance had clogged with dead bees and the colony had smothered. Upon opening the hive to my surprise I found a few live bees, about one-fourth of a tea cup full of liquor bees, and I was glad that the few bees had a live queen among them. Almost famished from lack of care from the very few bees. A queen that I had shipped in from the south a year ago last fall and notation on the hive showed that she had not been exceptionally well last year. But there was no brood and no chance whatever to start broodraising with the few bees that she had around her.

When the other hive was opened I found it over-flowing with bees all the way to the top of the frames. In this hive I found one queen, frames almost filled with brood and most of it was sealed ready to hatch, an indication that these bees would swarm very early, which I did not want. While I was studying the comb of brood and the queen, other hive had taken to wings and deserted the poor queen. There she was all alone slowly crawling over the combs. I gently picked her up by the wings with my fingers and gently placed her on one of the young bees out of the over populated colony and wondered what would happen. And there I saw one of the prettiest sights that can happen among the bees. The queen started to crawl very slowly over the comb of brood without showing the least bit of excitement. The bees did not pile onto her and try to kill her as they often do with a strange queen. Presently a bee which the queen happened to meet, ran towards her and started to feed her. Almost instantly other bees noticed the hungry queen. Another bee lined up alongside of the first one, facing the queen, and then another one, and another, taking their turn about feeding her. And in a few moments the bees had formed a perfect ring around the queen all facing her and standing as close to each other as they could pack, while the feeding was going on. And there I stood watching them for several minutes. Then I placed her back in her hive with six or seven frames of brood and adhering bees from the over populated colony and replaced the brood with empty combs and closed both hives. F. M. VODEHNAL
