HARLAN FRAZIER NEW PRESIDENT OF ORD C. OF C.

Retail Merchant Is Chosen Head Of Commercial Club, Plans For New Year Discussed.

H. T. Frazier, furniture dealer and undertaker, was elected president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce at its annual meeting Thursday evening, his election signifying the Chamber's intention to work aggressively along the lines of making Ord a better trading center during 1933. It has been some years since a retail merchant headed the Chamber of Commerce.

The new vice president elected Thursday is also a retailer, Freeman Haught, and retailers are predominant on the board of directors, which now lists as members C. J. Mortensen, John Goddard, Stanley McLain, M. F. Crosby, E. C. Leggett, O. A. Hager and H. B. VanDecar. Mr. McLain is a new member and others either held over or were re-elected Thursday except Mr. VanDecar, who becomes a director upon retiring as president.

Under the leadership of President VanDecar the Chamber has taken part in many worthy projects during the last two years, a report by Secretary Glen Auble proved. Mr. VanDecar has been unparaleled in his personal efforts on highway, telephone and redistricting matters and city affairs in general and has directed the business of the Chamber in a capable and praiseworthy manner.

Among major projects in which the Chamber of Commerce has taken part during the two years of Mr. VanDecar's regime are the successful drive to secure free delivery of mail in Ord and the successful effort to have Ord streets graveled while gravel was cheap. In the latter project Mr. VanDecar's efforts were ably seconded by Dr. Minnie, chairman of the Chamber committee, and the city was induced to carry out the graveled projects after considerable work done by the Chamber of Commerce.

Secretary Auble's report also revealed that the Chamber sponsored successful drives to secure free delivery of mail in Ord and the successful effort to have Ord streets graveled while gravel was cheap. In the latter project Mr. VanDecar's efforts were ably seconded by Dr. Minnie, chairman of the Chamber committee, and the city was induced to carry out the graveled projects after considerable work done by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber's committee on public welfare, led by John Goddard, succeeded in transferring most of the expense of a night marshal from merchants to the city, it was revealed by the report and another committee led by Mr. Frazier was active in inducing the telephone company to list street numbers in the telephone directory. Much of the credit for securing free delivery of express in the residence section of Ord also should go to the Chamber.

Until September 1, 1932 the Chamber gave $5 per month toward the support of the Ord band, it was reported. Another matter in which the club was active was the Col. E. C. Weller law suit, in which a petition of intervention was filed in Col. Weller's behalf.

Two important campaigns are being carried on by the Chamber at present, the fight to bring about redistricting of Valley county as to supervisors and the campaign to reduce about a reduction in telephone rates and improvement of telephone service in Ord. The first campaign is being held up pending action of the county board at its January meeting, at which time a mandamus suit will be filed if the board does not take action. The telephone campaign already has resulted in better service being established and it is hoped that further progress will be made.

Secretary Auble reported that, thanks to the new dues system inaugurated two years ago, the Chamber has been in a flourishing financial condition and has $230 in the treasury at the present time.

Some discussion was held Thursday relative to taxation matters and President VanDecar appointed a committee composed of Dr. McGinnis, Gould Flag and M. F. Crosby to meet with the Taxpayers' League in discussing the county engineer and other questions. The Chamber expressed its desire to cooperate with the League in all matters for the good of Valley county.

Though only a small crowd attended the meeting much enthusiasm was shown and it is hoped that an aggressive campaign to make Ord a more important center for retail business may be planned and carried out during 1933. Efforts of President Frazier and his fellow officers will be directed toward formulating a series of special bargain days, community days and other trade days and the plan will be announced later.

Longer Vacation At Burwell.

The Burwell schools will not open until next Monday, Jan. 9, it has been decided to extend the here a week because of the 4 other sickness. The only an eight day end Tuesday.

Farm Bureau Budget Again Set at $2900

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Valley County Farm Bureau was held at County Agent C. C. Dale's office Friday, the principal object of the meeting being to fix the amount of the budget for 1933, to be submitted to the county board of supervisors at the meeting January 10. After considerable discussion it was decided to fix the budget at $2,900, the same as last year.

There was some sentiment in favor of reducing the budget but others pointed out that a reduction of $300 was made last year and that further reduction might hamper the work of the bureau. It was decided to fix the budget at $2,900 and then pursue an economical policy throughout the year, using only that portion of the budget that is absolutely necessary but thus being prepared for all demands that may occur.

The board decided to lay off Mr. Dale's office assistant, Miss Ellen Andersen, as a temporary economy measure.

The date for the annual farm bureau general meeting was fixed, directors deciding to wait until after the county board of supervisors allows the budget or rejects it before making further plans.

CITY TO REBATE 1/4 OF DECEMBER ELECTRIC BILLS

City Dads Decide on Dividend To Patrons At Informal Session Wednesday Evening.

Last Wednesday evening Mayor Wm. Moses and members of the Ord city council, sitting informally as directors of the municipal electric light plant, decided upon a dividend or rebate to Ord users of electricity. Their action will be formally ratified at the regular council meeting tomorrow evening.

First it was proposed to reduce the December bills, payable in January, at the rate of 25 per cent. Then the city dads decided that this would not be entirely fair to people who use electric stoves, or refrigerators during the summer but shut them off during the winter, so it was decided to make the rebate at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent on the gross revenue of the Ord plant during the last seven months of 1932, which amounts to approximately 25 per cent of the December revenue. Thus every patron, whether he uses electricity during the summer or during the winter will be equally favored.

In other words, every patron of the municipal plant will have his December bill discounted by an amount equal to 3 1/2 per cent of the money he has paid to the city for electric current during the months of June, July, August, September, October, November and December.

Since the electric plant's revenue during these months was $18,000, the total amount of the dividend will be about $630, which is surely a nice Christmas gift to Ord people even if it is a trifle belated.

Councilmen decided upon this action because of the fact that the municipal plant continues to operate profitably even with the rate reduction made last May 1 and even with the plant absorbing the 3 per cent federal tax. At the same time general economic conditions are adverse and many patrons find it difficult to keep up with necessary expenses. For these reasons, Mayor Moses, councilman and George Allen, light plant manager, decided that a dividend might be welcomed by patrons at this particular time.

See South American Films.

Norman Collison was a guest of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening and with a small projector showed moving pictures that he took in northern Argentina, South America, where he has been employed for some years by the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey. They were much enjoyed by Rotarians. Other guests Monday were Arthur Capron, Dr. G. W. Taylor and Roland Ayres.

WE THANK YOU.

I appreciate the nice daily paper subscription business that has come to the Quiz the past month. Thank you. As you know, all of you, business is rather poor for everyone, and for us as well as others. If every friend of the Quiz would let us have their daily paper and magazine business, the small commission we would receive would help a lot and it is business that does not cost you a single cent. It just leaves 10 per cent of your money in Valley county instead of its going to Lincoln or Omaha or elsewhere. In fact, it actually saves you a few cents postage. We guarantee you satisfaction and all you need get by sending it in yourself. Call us, phone 17, and tell us to take care of it and pay us any time before the first of the month following. Is that fair? H. D. Leggett, Publisher, The Quiz.

—Monday Miss Claralee VanWiedrove to Grand Island accompanied by Rev. D. C. Williamson and Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Williamson.

Burwell Man Has Dream That May Solve Popcorn Surplus

Fenner Dreams That Ground Popcorn Is Tasty; Tries It, Dream Comes True.

Because L. B. Fenner of Burwell ate too much buttered popcorn and night recently he had a dream, and because he had this dream people of his city are eating a new kind of breakfast food and using a new kind of corn meal this week. If the idea spreads, it may help in disposing of the upper Loup Valley's big popcorn surplus.

Finding himself alone in the house on a recent evening, Mr. Fenner turned for diversion to the old-fashioned pastime of popping corn. It was almost his first attempt at corn popping and he buttered the fluffy kernels too thoroughly, or something, which may account for the nightmare he had when he retired to bed after eating a popcorn meal.

The Burwell man dreamed that he had tried the experiment of grinding popcorn into fine meal for use in cooking "johnnycakes" and other foods in which ordinary corn meal is commonly used. To his surprise the popcorn meal proved delicious, much more so than ordinary corn meal. The next morning Mr. Fenner, with the dream thoroughly remembered, bought a peck of popcorn and took it to a Burwell miller to have it ground, thinking it would do no harm to try out the dream experiment.

The dream came true! Baked in corn bread the new and delicious taste of the popcorn meal proved a revelation, Mr. Fenner relates. Each separate particle of the meal seemed to pop in the oven, causing the "johnnycake" to raise and be delightfully light, he says. Cooked in milk to mush the same thing happened. To pancakes the popcorn meal proved a new flavor. In fact, popcorn meal can be used in any way that ordinary corn meal is used and is much better, Mr. Fenner says. Nobody who tastes popcorn meal once will ever use ordinary corn meal again, he claims.

It has long been known that popcorn possesses high food value, and farmers who have ground it and fed it to their cattle have been surprised at the fine gains the cattle made. If it now comes into general use for human consumption there is the possibility of the big popcorn surplus in this area will be reduced considerably.

Mr. Fenner is attempting to secure a copyright or patent on his dream idea but that will not prevent him from wanting to try popcorn meal from his own mill. Mr. Fenner's dream idea, say that ground popcorn has been marketed before, with only fair success. Robert Noll reports that a Central City man installed expensive equipment to grind popcorn a few years ago and lost considerable money on the venture when the public failed to respond to the new kind of corn meal.

Ord Woman Passes Thursday; Was 67

Mrs. Frances Zikmund Goes To Her Reward; Leaves Large Family; Funeral Held Sunday.

At the country home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Dworkar, at 1:00 p. m. on Thursday, Dec. 29, Mrs. Frances Zikmund went to her reward after an illness of two years during which she was tenderly cared for by her children. She was laid to rest in the Bohemian National cemetery Saturday afternoon, following funeral services held at the Bohemian hall with Rev. B. A. Filipi in charge. Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. at the Bohemian hall with Rev. B. A. Filipi in charge. Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. at the Bohemian hall with Rev. B. A. Filipi in charge.

Frances, daughter of Joseph and Marie Vancura, was born March 3, 1865 in Bohemia and came to this country in 1885, the next year becoming the bride of V. J. Zikmund at Ord, Neb. Nine children were born to them, one son dying in infancy and the rest remaining to mourn their mother's departure. They are Mrs. Mary Dworkar, Ord; Mrs. Lillian Novotny, Kimball; Will J. Joe, Anton, and Emil Zikmund, Mrs. Minnie Thomsen and Mrs. Helen Meese, all of Ord. Two brothers, Louis and Charlie Vancura, also survive and there are two grand children. Two years ago Mrs. Zikmund was divorced from her husband, who now lives in Missouri.

From 1901 until her illness became serious Mrs. Zikmund lived in Ord, enjoying the respect and affection of a wide circle of friends. She was an affectionate mother and enjoyed nothing so much as being with her children and she will be sincerely mourned by all who knew her.

EDWARD HOUTBY DIES; WAS DAVIS CREEK PIONEER

North Loup Man Who Came Here In 1881 Slips Peacefully To Rest Friday Noon.

Edward Houtby, eighty-one years old and one of the last of the Davis Creek pioneers, slipped peacefully to rest at his home in North Loup village last Friday, Dec. 30, when he died of cerebral hemorrhage at 12:10 p. m. He was laid to rest in North Loup cemetery after services at the M. E. church in that village Sunday afternoon, Rev. W. H. Stevens being in charge. Pall bearers were old friends, Merrill McClellan, Joe Fisher, Frank Johnson, E. E. Williams, T. J. Thelin and Ed Miller and music was given by a mixed quartette composed of Mrs. Harold Hoepner, Miss Naomi Yost, Kent Manchester and Roy Hudson.

Mr. Houtby was born in Rock county, Wisconsin on June 23, 1851, the third of seven children born to Thomas and Mary Houtby who had come from England to America a few years before. Edward spent his childhood on his father's farm but at sixteen started out for himself, going to Madison county, Iowa and finding work on a farm. Here he was married on Nov. 12, 1874 to Miss Mary Young and they continued their residence in Madison county for seven years.

In the fall of 1881 Mr. and Mrs. Houtby and their two children, George and Dollie, came to Nebraska in a covered wagon and filed on Section 30 in upper Davis creek, where the family lived for eight years. The railroad had not built yet and Mr. Houtby devoted much of his time to freighting lumber and merchandise from Grand Island to lumber yards and merchants in North Loup, Ord, Arcadia and Loup City. The Houtby family was accompanied to Nebraska by Charles Thrasher and he and Mr. Houtby farmed together at first. When railroad construction started the two were employed on the rail between Grand Island and St. Paul. Mr. Houtby operating the farm two weeks while his friend Mr. Thrasher doing the farm work for two weeks while Mr. Houtby worked on the rails. Money was scarce in those days, probably even scarcer than now, and cash wages were much needed in that pioneer home.

In 1889 Mr. Houtby sold his place in Section 30 and bought a quarter section in Section 20, later adding to his land by the purchase of Section 20 in eight room and house, one of the first sod houses ever built in this part of Nebraska, was built on this place and was the family home until 1909, when Mr. Houtby retired from active farming and moved to the village of North Loup where he built a large, comfortable home in which he resided until his death.

Mrs. Pesek is teaching her third term in the Ord junior high and also is girls athletic coach. Frequent to teaching here she taught for two years in Geranium high school and is regarded both at Geranium and Ord as a very capable teacher. She returned to Ord Monday to resume teaching and this week is receiving congratulations of her many friends.

Arcadia, Jan. 2.—(Special)—Lloyd Larson, son of Mrs. Sid Scott, had his left foot painfully injured last week when he discharged a shotgun which he thought was not loaded. The shot charged struck his foot and an x-ray showed the necessity of amputating two toes, which was done.

—Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Furtak are parents of a baby girl born Monday morning at Grand Island. She has been named Mary Patricia. The Furtaks formerly lived here while Floyd was employed in the Penney store. They are now living in Fremont where Floyd holds a similar position.

Court Term Fixed.

The Quiz received from Judge Ralph R. North of Grand Island a card showing the terms of district court decided on for 1933. In Valley county the spring equity term will be held on the 20th Judge North on the bench and the jury term on May 31, also with Judge North. The fall equity term comes on Sept. 19 and the fall jury term on October 16, both with Judge E. P. Clements presiding.

CUSHING AUTHOR OF BILL TO O. K. NORRIS MEASURE

Ord Man Proposes First Bill Be Fore State Solons; Would Ap- prove Lame Duck Amend.

To Repr. Marion J. Cushing, of Ord, goes the honor of being the author of the first bill filed in the 1933 state legislature, which convened in Lincoln Monday for its biennial session. Mr. Cushing's bill was a joint and concurrent resolution calling for Nebraska's approval of the Norris "lame duck" amendment to the United States constitution, the amendment which will result in the president and other federal officers assuming their offices upon the January 1 following their election instead of waiting until March 4. Mr. Cushing announced that the resolution would be permitted to take its regular course but he hoped it would be among the first passed by the legislature.

A Greeley man, George W. O'Malley, was elected speaker of the house at Lincoln Monday. He is a democrat and has served in the legislature for ten years. A former Ord woman, Mrs. Mabel Gudmundsen Gillespie, of Gretna, was a candidate for speaker but got only four votes.

Members of the state senate elected Monday was Frank McCarter, a Bayard democrat serving his first term in the legislature. Joseph P. O'Rourke, of Farrington, was named chairman of the committee on education, an important appointment that completed the utter overthrow of the "old guard" in the senate.

Economy will be the great issue in the state legislature this year, it appears, as almost the only topic of discussion among solons is how to reduce appropriations so that state taxes may be lowered.

Governor Chas. W. Bryan, who has been suffering with pneumonia and heart trouble since the day after his re-election in November, was given the oath of office last week. It was divulged at Lincoln Monday. He is too ill to participate in formal inauguration ceremonies today. The new lieutenant governor, Walter H. Jorgensen, has also been ill for several weeks but will be able to take his oath of office today.

License Plates Delayed.

Valley county auto owners are driving their cars past the first of January this year with 1932 license plates, and are doing it legally. The reason is that 1933 plates have not yet been received by County Treasurer George Satterfield. Due to a mix-up in the state reformatory, where Nebraska license plates are made, the Valley county plates were not shipped out in December as scheduled. Near-by counties all have their plates and Mr. Satterfield has been keeping the telephone wires hot trying to find out when he may expect the Valley county plates. So far he has been unable to get much information but is hoping that they will arrive soon.

—Saturday, Dale, little son of Rev. and Mrs. L. M. Real, was ill with flu. The Real family had returned home the day before from a few days stay with relatives in Kansas. The first part of the week Dale was improved but Rev. Real was forced to keep his bed.

1932 Busiest Year For District Court Clerk

The year 1932 was the busiest the office of district court clerk in Valley county has ever had, says Clerk Arthur Weigardt after checking up the number of cases filed last year. There were 142 cases filed here in 1932, whereas the largest number filed in any former year was 116 in 1924. In 1930, the year before Mr. Weigardt took over the office, the number of cases filed was only 46.

Foreclosures predominated here last year, the records show, as 70 such cases were filed. The total number of filings handled in all cases by Mr. Weigardt was 1,523. With the exception of occasional office help that he paid for out of his own pocket, Mr. Weigardt handled the increased business of his office without assistance in 1932.

LAWYERS ELECT HARDENBROOK VICE PRESIDENT

Bert M. Hardenbrook, prominent Ord attorney, last Thursday was honored by election as one of the vice presidents of the Nebraska Bar association, holding its annual convention at Lincoln. C. A. Magaw, Omaha, and George Turner, Lincoln, were the other vice presidents elected.

Virgil Haggart, a former St. Paul lawyer well known here, was chosen treasurer of the association. He now lives in Omaha.

Fourteen years ago Mr. and Mrs. Dlugosh retired from active farming and moved to Ord and here the faithful wife and mother spent her declining years in comfort, tenderly cared for by her children. She enjoyed remarkably good health until recently and her death last Saturday after an illness of only three days was a shock to all.

SCRIP PLAN WILL BE DISCUSSED AT MEETING FRIDAY

Community Issuance of Fiat Money To Be Considered As Means of Restoring Business.

The "Hawarden scrip plan," that much-discussed idea that originated in Hawarden, Ia., and is spreading like wild-fire throughout the United States, has come to Ord.

Tomorrow evening, January 6, at the city hall a meeting will be held under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce and the plan will be discussed in detail with a view to adopting it in Ord. It meets with the approval of business and city authorities. The meeting starts at 7:30 p. m. Frank Korab, a Clay Center man, will explain the Hawarden plan and answer all questions that may be asked. Mr. Korab who was sent to Hawarden, Ia., by the Clay Center Commercial club to investigate the scrip plan, kindly consented to come to Ord when requested to do so by the Chamber of Commerce. The plan was adopted by Clay Center last week as a result of Mr. Korab's report.

The "Hawarden scrip plan," which is simply a plan of currency expansion carried out by a community, is the same as some other responsible agency has employed men in the community to work on city projects and pay them in scrip. This scrip is self-liquidating in that stamps are sold by the city and each time the scrip changes hands in exchange for merchandise or labor, a stamp must be attached to it. When the requisite number of stamps have been attached the scrip is redeemed at its face value for the city of whatever agency sponsors the plan.

It is argued that adoption of the Hawarden plan results in an immediate increase in employment and a restoration of normal purchasing power to a community which naturally causes an immediate increase in business. Scrip issued under this plan is the same as money, except that each time it changes hands a stamp must be attached to it. The plan may either be sponsored by the city or by the Chamber of Commerce, preferably by the city as work done by unemployed men who are to be paid in scrip should be on public projects that will benefit every resident of the city.

Many communities throughout the country have adopted this plan, either as used at Hawarden, or with modifications to fit to the community adopting it. The meeting tomorrow night is to determine whether the plan is feasible for Ord.

While the meeting is sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce and members of that body are urged to attend, every business man in the city is likewise invited as well as anybody else interested. Members of the city council and county board also are urged to be present. Business men from nearby towns are extending a special invitation to be present.

TWO PUBLIC SALES.

There are so few public sales nowadays that a sale is real news. There are two advertised in the Quiz this week. Harry Abraham will have a clean-up sale at the farm southwest of North Loup on January 9 and on January 11 Joe Ryseav, who lives on the Grand farm northeast of Arcadia, will sell all his farming equipment. Both sales are being held for the present at least and both have good offerings.

A meeting of the Valley County Red Cross will be held at 2:30 p. m. Friday, Dec. 13 at the court house in Ord, announces Miss Clara McClatchey, local chairman. This is the annual meeting and officers will be elected and reports given. It is desired that all who joined during the recent drive attend this meeting.

SCRIP AND PROSPERITY.

In the opinion of many who have observed the progress of our present economic depression, seen the constantly mounting curve of unemployment and the constantly declining curve of business activity, the most encouraging hope of recovery lies in widespread adoption of the so-called "Hawarden scrip plan" which is being used by several Nebraska cities and which will be proposed for adoption by Ord in the near future. It is claimed, and the experience of the city of Hawarden, Ia., substantiates the claim, that this plan immediately relieves unemployment in the community using it and also acts as an immediate stimulus to general business. Nationally adopted, it seems that business everywhere would be improved and the return of prosperity hastened.

Details of the Hawarden plan appear elsewhere in this issue so there is no need of going into them here except to say that the city of Ord, which would be the sponsor of the plan, would also be the largest beneficiary if it would profit largely in the way of civic improvements. The plan is self-liquidating and will cost the city not one cent. There are possibly fifty heads of families in Ord who are unemployed. Put these fifty men to work at even a nominal wage, paid in scrip, assure them sufficient money each week to support their families, and general business is bound to be benefited. Release of an additional weekly pay roll of $500 to $750 would cause more merchandise—groceries and clothing and shoes to move from the shelves of Ord stores. As the merchandise is sold the stores would have to replace it, which would help wholesaler and manufacturer and railroad and create a great need for raw materials. Multiply this community's effort by the efforts of a thousand like communities and unemployed millions would be back to work and prosperity would return.

Old fashioned "Yankee ingenuity" is seen at its best in the Hawarden plan. It proves that the United States has quit complaining about the depression and is figuring out ways to beat it. The quiz hopes that our city council, if urged to adopt the Hawarden plan by the Chamber of Commerce after a thorough investigation by the organization, will hasten to do so at into effect at the earliest possible moment.

NORRIS AND THE BEER BILL.

In the United States senate this year Nebraska's George W. Norris occupies a unique position. A life long prohibitionist, Senator Norris is leading the fight for legislation to permit the manufacture of 3.2 per cent beer. He is doing so not because his views in regard to the use of intoxicants have changed but because he has come to believe that beer of low alcoholic content is non-intoxicating in fact and that by legalizing it the rest of the 18th amendment can be saved. In the mood the country is in now, Senator Norris believes that if people are not given legal beer soon they will overturn the entire prohibition structure to get it or legislate their way back to the saloon with all its evils.

We are not prepared to state that Senator Norris is wrong, neither are we going to endorse his stand against it. Legalizing beer might satisfy people in the city and we believe that the majority of those who are now demanding beer will not be satisfied with it when they get it. When they discover what weak and feeble stuff it is they will demand something stronger and will get it either by legal purchase or by continuing to patronize bootleggers.

Another unique situation has arisen in connection with the beer bill that recently passed the House of Representatives. It provides a fine of $1,000 or imprisonment of six months for home brewing without a brewer's license, which would cost $1,000 if purchased. The theory is that home brewing will be discouraged and people will be compelled to purchase beer on which a tax of 45 a barrel is collected by the government. It probably will so work out—in wet states. In a state like Nebraska, however, where beer cannot be legally sold even if it is legalized by the federal government, the new liberalization of prohibition will actually make the penalties for home brewing more severe under the beer law than they are under the 18th amendment. The new beer bill is likely to dry Nebraska up, a thing the 18th amendment has been able to accomplish. Of the Nebraska constitution amended to permit the sale of beer but it is at least a two job to do it, even if a majority of our people favor such an amendment.

There is no doubt that a majority of people of the United States want a change in the prohibition laws. Whether Senator Norris is right and they will be satisfied with 3.2 per cent beer remains to be seen.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

I am sorry that President Hoover did not see fit to do as was suggested, resign after election and let the new administration begin to function at once. From all we can read in the daily press, he is likely to veto most of the legislation passed, if any is passed, by the present short session. The people of the country said by their votes, in a most emphatic manner, that they had lost all confidence in him.

I have had to take a good deal of good natured joshing about the size of last week's Quiz. It was the first time since I have owned it that less than 8 pages were printed. Last week was a very quiet week. No news of importance was left out and there was very little advertising and there was nothing to fill more pages with. The expense of hiring extra help to set extra material of a miscellaneous nature, to fill another 4 pages, is a greater expense than we can undertake and unless there is an upturn in advertising patronage, you readers may as well look for smaller papers for several months to come. Several of our exchanges did the same as we did last week. For months the copy in cash has been greater than the income and that cannot last indefinitely.

I am one who does not believe that loaning money to the farmers will bring back prosperity. If the government or some other agency, could and would loan at a lower rate of interest, many farmers could borrow money and pay off present debts, and then if conditions improve, might dig out. But borrowing more money on top of what is already borrowed, makes a bigger interest charge and the present interest would be paid. It just won't work. Debts must be reduced instead of increased.

Whenever the national, state, and school districts of this country make the same effort to reduce operating costs that 99 per cent of the farmers and business men have been forced to make, then we will have real economy and at least a fifty per cent less expensive government. The trouble is, it takes so long to get economies started in public affairs.

Our own state capital building, with its rich furnishings, is an example. They say about fifty per cent of the state representatives are farmers and I am wondering if they would feel a bit out of place purchasing their way through rich carved leather covered doors and wading knee deep in oriental plush rugs, then sitting down in plush upholstered chairs and casting their votes on legislation by using a voting machine installed by the state at a cost of around forty thousand dollars. Wading through the plush rugs may remind them of the barnyard at home in a wet time but the chairs will not be much like the old one-legged milk stool.

Just now the Omaha city government is making a big gesture at reform by dumping a few slot machines into the Missouri river. Probably it will not do more, out state, than cause a smile. The same kind of thing has happened many times before. Omaha and other of the large cities, makes periodical spurges at cleaning up crime. Yes, and the little towns do the same thing. How well we can remember similar efforts made in Ord, one time on gambling, another time on gambling, and so on down the list, just enough to satisfy the people, and then all is forgotten until a public demand forces another gesture.

I have said often, and I repeat now, that I believe this city government should find some method of letting people who are in straightened financial circumstances, have work and earn their living. I am sure any Ord man worthy the name of man, would much rather work and support his family, than to have the public to do it for him. But at present work cannot be had. I personally know a number of good men, who I know would like to work, always did work when work was to be had and who would not refuse to work for almost any wage even though it be unreasonably small. But they cannot get work. The city has money and there are plenty of things the city could find to give men employment. So some means should be worked out at once to put them to work.

And that brings to my mind, another matter. It is now past the first of January and 1933 is on the way. It will soon be time to plan our 1933 gardens. It is time now, in fact, for the 1933 seed catalogues are beginning to come. It is really a lot of fun to make garden, in the winter, sitting beside the fire. And when the winter of 1933-34 gets here, it will be nice to have a cellar full of canned vegetables and fruits. There are many vacant lots in town and every family willing to do the necessary work can have a good garden in 1933, of course barring hail, drought and other such things that none of us can control. But if we wait to see whether those calamities are going to hit us, it is then too late to make the garden. The best way is to start planning now. Make arrangements for the garden plot, speak for the seeds and when the time comes get a lot of enjoyment out of making the garden and watching it grow. During the years when I was employed in a lumber yard and had to work hard at manual labor, I always raised a good garden. It is a lot better than being dependent on someone for what we could raise ourselves.

The American Legion and Auxiliary have changed their meeting night. After this they will meet on the second Monday evening of each month.

Something Different

By George Round, Jr.

All of us have a word or two we love to mispronounce, even if we know better. What is your pet one?

Of course we all have to learn, and make many laughable errors while at it. A little fellow in a local schoolroom, trying to read aloud the word "picturesque" for the first time, caused the teacher to hide a smile and his fellow students to chuckle when he called it "picture-ess-que-ee". But the boy didn't mind; he'd learned how to say it.

Mrs. Ernest Weller has promised me a sample of her taste in poetry since last summer sometime at last, after chasing her on horseback with two knives and a shotgun, I secured this:

Methusalem ate what he found on his plate,
And never, as people do now,
Did he note the amount of the caloric count;
He ate it because it was chow.
He wasn't disturbed as at dinner he sat,
Destroying a roast or a pie,
To think it was lacking in granular fat.

Or a couple of vitamins shy,
He cheerfully chewed every species of food,
Untroubled by worries or fears,
Lest his health might be hurt by some fancy dessert—
And he lived over nine hundred years —Author unknown.

Very finicky about the diet provided at her house, and a great stickler for milk when you should have milk, and etc., nevertheless Mrs. Weller says the poem expresses the way she would like to be.

An Ord man with a Santa Claus figure heard about a little boy who had been promised a sled for months and months. Whenever, in this poor family, he was denied something he was wild for, when his kitten had to be given away, whenever he couldn't go to the show like the other boys did, his parents always consoled him with the promise of a sled, a bright, shiny new one. Santa was bringing it at Christmas time.

But times got worse and Santa got poorer. Prospects of a new sled for the small boy got smaller and smaller. And at last the poor harassed parents knew they never would be able to see that Santa brought it.

The Santa-figured Ord man heard about it and bought one for the little boy. And the last I heard the parents were still trying to find the good-hearted Santa who sent it. Moral: There is a Santa Claus.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

These cold days call for nourishing foods, something solid and substantial. Still we don't want meat diets exclusively, and fresh groceries come high, so the problem is, what to do?

Many pleasant variations are possible with the help of fruits available all the year around, and lots of delightful possibilities are also found in baked delicacies.

Cherry Angel Food
Use an ordinary angel food cake recipe. Pour half the batter in the cake pan and sprinkle with one-half cup chopped candied cherries. Pour in the rest of the batter and bake as usual.

Mrs. Clauie Dalby
Carrot and Pineapple Salad
Prepare one package lemon Jello and let cool. Then add one small can shredded pineapple and three-fourth cup ground raw carrots. Serve with pink or green mayonnaise dressing.

Mrs. O. E. Wesenberg
Eggless Cream Cookies
Mix one cup white sugar, one cup sour cream dissolved in one teaspoon of soda in the cream. Put in one-half cup raisins, pinch of salt, one teaspoon flavor and enough flour to make a stiff batter. Roll thin, cut and bake in a quick oven.

Mrs. Pete Kochanowski, Rt. 4, Burwell.
Pineapple Cream Pie
Heat one can of grated pineapple in top of a double boiler, mix two tablespoons cornstarch and one cup sugar with one cup sweet cream and add to the pineapple. Cook until mixture thickens, stirring constantly. Add the lightly beaten yolks of three eggs and two tablespoons of butter, and cook two minutes more. Pour on crusts already baked and serve with whipped cream.

Gertrude Ann Foth, Rt. 2, Ord.

AM I RIGHT?

Well we have gained one or two readers in the past two weeks. Dr. Chas. Talbot, former Broken Bow young man but now practicing in Alliance and well known in Ord, is one of the additional readers. Then Ellen Andersen is the second and "Peanuts" Jensen the third. What a crowd.

Agricultural Interests this week are centered in Lincoln at the annual Organized Agriculture meetings being held on the college of Agriculture campus. Though no Valley county farmers took an active part in the meetings, some attended the sessions. At least one local corn producer had corn entered in the state corn show.

But how many Valley county farmers wouldn't like to produce a ton of pork per acre in six months? It seems reasonable but Claus Van Boeling of Blue Hill who won the 1932 pig crop contest did that very thing—or practically so. His six sows averaged 1,991 pounds of pork in the 180 days. However, "Hugs" remember when "Hugs" Ward's club sow raised practically a ton of pork in six months but this practical hog man had six sows that made such a record.

And another state champion is a farmer near Sutherland by the name of Shoup. He is the grand champion corn producer. Entered in the 1932 ten acre corn yield contest, his corn averaged 112 bushels per acre to set a new state record. The corn was planted on ground formerly in beets and alfalfa.

Sounds like Coach Cecil Molzen should have a good basketball team this year. At least it is about time Ord high was producing a top notcher. . . . And congratulations to "Rocky" from the big "Hugs" team, they say, still appreciates the picture the Great Dane dog takes. . . . And we hear that Zola Barta will not be back in school the second semester. . . . Lucene Hardin noticed her name in this column recently. Now she is a reader and so is Maggie King.

Times must be bad if there is to be no city basketball league in Ord this winter. Started several years ago, the league operated successfully for sometime and it will be an unfortunate thing if it cannot be continued again this year. The Quiz in former years usually had a strong aggregation, quintet or what have you on the basketball court. Dr. Lee Nay and William Heuck were among the big shots on the team. Andy Lores McMinder was one of the stars of the league as was Curtis Gudmundsen.

Two Cass county 4-H club members have learned how to produce curly tailed porkers that almost bark. They recently had a Chester female dog raise two Chester White pigs successfully and plan the experiment again. The dog suckled the two pigs for seven weeks when it was thought that the piglets were helpless. But one could not stand too many "barking pigs" around the farmstead. And the "grunting" dogs would not be appropriate.

One Nebraska legislator from western Nebraska hitch-hiked to Lincoln for the session which opened this week. True economy. Lancaster county taxpayers are urging drastic cuts in public pay. One of the taxpayers even wants the schools suspended for one year.

A Bladder Physic

Is a medicine that works on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Drives out impurities and excess acids that cause irritation which results in getting up nights, frequent desire, burning, leg pains and backache. Get a 25c test box of BU-KETS. (5 gr. Tablets) the pleasant bladder physic from any druggist. After four days if not relieved, go back and get your money. You will feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. McLean & Sorensen, Druggists, say BUKETS is a best seller.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. The Ord Mercantile company, of which H. D. Leggett was manager, purchased the Leggett-Wisda Hardware company.

Ladies of the Arcadia Rebekah lodge gave a tea in honor of Eva B. Shuman, who was leaving that village to take up her duties as county superintendent in Ord. James Auble passed away Dec. 21 1907 at the home of his son W. L. D. Auble in California.

Sam Stacy and Arthur Clements returned to Omaha after the holidays to continue their work of disposing of Colorado irrigated lands, on which they were doing a big business.

The Laurel club had issued invitations for an old-fashioned party to be held at the August Beck home. People were cautioned to appear in their old clothes and bring with them tablet, pencil and lunch pail.

20 Years Ago This Week. Marion J. Cushing and Miss Ruth Odell Work were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. P. A. Davies officiating.

Jack E. Martin, sent to the state penitentiary from Ord for burglaries and horse stealing, drew a knife and attempted the life of the warden there, wounding him badly. John Misko was shot in the mouth by a pellet from an air rifle, his lip being perforated and the inside of his mouth badly hurt.

Harry Bailey returned from Chicago having topped the market at 10c with two carloads of cattle of his own raising. Charles Pinley shipped with him and got about $75 a head for calves that he bought a year before for $15.

While helping his father roll up a barb wire fence, Dannie Cook of Mira Valley had a hand badly crippled.

Ming Coombs sold his second hand store to George Hise of Burwell, taking several lots and a house in that city in the deal.

QUIZ FORUM

Democrats Displease Cronk. Looking Glass, Ore., Dec. 17, 1932 To the Quiz Forum:

Now that election is over and the nation saved? I may be permitted to get another "small jag" "off of my chest" also to thank little Pat Fuson for the nice things he said about me. I can't hardly realize that 35 years have passed since Pat knew me as a dangerous radical and the Quiz readers may still think me radical. Pat you say "as a good standpat Democrat I would hate to have to answer some of the questions that old boy might ask me." And I beg leave to ask you a few. First, will you kindly tell me what a standpat Democrat is? That certainly is a new one on me. If it is any kin to a standpat Republican may the good Lord deliver us. In 1897 I was acquainted with the 16 to 1 democrats in the legislature elected on a platform pledging economy and the first rattle out of the box they introduced a bill to raid the state treasury for an even half million dollars to set Omaha up in the show business. Also to have ten thousand copies of the governor's message printed in book form to be scattered to the winds. Apparently the only thing they knew for sure was sixteen to one and as a party they don't know sixteen to one any more and I am free to confess that the past record of the democrat party has not been such as to inspire me with any degree of confidence for the future. I wish to ask another question: "If the best brains of the nation, both Democrat and Republican, have not been able to solve the tariff question since 1776, do you expect Roosevelt to solve it in four years? The Republican platform "pledges support to the American system of protective tariff". Sure they do. If it was not for the tariff, if they were to meet themselves coming

Ten Nebraskans Win Master Farmer Honor

Lincoln, Jan. 3.—Ten Nebraskans and one Colorado man today were honored as "Master Farmers" at the seventh annual Master Farmer dinner tonight.

Those honored were Leo Nell, Dawson county; Albert F. Engles, Nemaha county; William L. Yates, Hall county; Samuel Hudson, Cherokee county; W. R. Gloy, Perkins county; Theron Wallin, Lancaster county; William Kelm, Nuckolls county; O. R. Thompson, Cuming county; John Volk, Madison county; and A. G. Cornforth, Elbert county, Colorado.

This year's judges included W. H. Brokaw, University of Nebraska agricultural college extension director; George Jackson, state fair secretary; and H. O. Filley of the agricultural college.

Recognition was also given the families of these men, as the medals were presented jointly to the farmers and their wives.

Two Ranchers. The Nebraska Farmer, sponsor of the awards, announced the average net worth of the winners was $59,836, although when they began farming their worth only averaged $86 each. They have an average of $36,635 invested in land and $12,322 in permanent improvements. Six of the group have no indebtedness and the average indebtedness of the entire group is only $2,691. The average number of acres owned is 1,551. Two are ranchers and the other nine are general farmers. Their average age is 54. The 11 men have farmed an average of 32 years.

All have comfortable homes equipped with labor-saving home equipment, all have electric lights and all but one have water systems in their homes.

Seven of the 11 men have been members of school boards. Seven have been officers in the church and all are members of farm organizations. Of the 18 children in the 11 families, all have completed the eighth grade and are in high school or have finished.

Income Tax Payers Behind Demand For Veteran Cost Cut

Just where does Mr. John W. Taxpayer come in on this matter of relief for the World War veterans that is being discussed so much at the present time and about which much will be said in the present session of Congress?

That is a question which John Goddard, commander of Fidelity post of the American Legion at Ord is glad to answer, particularly as so much has been said on the matter that is not backed up by facts, so that people as a whole have a wrong idea on who pays the bill.

An effort has been made to convince the average taxpayer that the huge taxes weighing him down are due primarily to payments made by the Federal Government to veterans. In this connection, the statement is made that World War Veterans' costs will reach twenty-one and one-half billion dollars by 1945, this being designated to make the average citizen feel that his present unhappy tax situation has an even darker future. And the World War veterans are to blame, it is claimed.

Last March a report was brought out by the National Industrial Conference Board of New York City which makes an exhaustive analysis of the cost of Government in the United States. Taxation costs of Federal, state and local Government are set forth in detail for each year up to 1930. From these figures it is learned that in 1921 the Federal taxes amounted to $5.93 per capita or 55.5 percent of all local, state and federal taxes; while in 1930 they had dropped to $28.15 per capita or 33.3 percent. State taxes which amounted to $1.24 or 8.9 percent per capita in 1921 had increased to $14.45 or 17.3 percent in 1930. Local taxes, amounting to $29.19 or 35.6 percent per capita in 1921, shot up to $40.73 or 48.9 percent in 1930. It is evident from these figures that the Federal taxes are tending toward a decrease, while state and local taxes are becoming higher each year.

Keeping the relative proportion of federal, state and local taxes in mind, it must be remembered that veterans' costs are a charge against the federal government, not against the state and local governments. Those who have been attacking expenditures for veterans, endeavor to create the impression that it is the veterans' costs which have contributed so greatly to the huge increase in the cost of all government (federal, state and local), so that the back of Mr. John W. Taxpayer is being broken by the load. Yet federal taxes have been reduced while state and local taxes, based largely on property taxes, have shown a big increase. It is these property taxes, affecting twenty-nine million families in the United States, which have been increasing so rapidly during the past ten years, and these taxes bear no relation to Federal payments to disabled World War veterans.

Income taxes pay a large portion of the expenses of the Federal Government, including the benefits paid to disabled veterans and their dependants. It is easy to show that these income taxes do not constitute an actual burden on those who pay them. Treasury department statistics for the year 1928, one of the most prosperous in history, show there were 4,070,000 people who paid Federal income taxes at that time. Of that total, 99 percent paid but one-fifth of the income taxes. The average income tax paid by each of these people was $34.00, on net incomes averaging $4,870.00. So each of these persons had left after paying their income tax the sum of $4,606.00. It is evident that this tax did not weigh them down. This leaves 45,000 persons, or 1 percent of the total number paying Federal income taxes, whose net incomes exceeded $50,000.00 each.

As a matter of fact, the average net income of this group was $150,000.00 each, and they paid an average of $21,000.00 in Federal income taxes. After these taxes were paid, each of them with an average net income of $150,000.00 had left on the average the net income of $129,000.00, surely enough to provide the necessities of life and a few luxuries.

A further analysis of these two income-paying groups shows that for each $1.00 the average income taxpayer paid $330.00. Does this give some idea as to where the fight against veterans' benefits originates? Few people in the smaller towns pay income taxes to the Federal Government, and if so, because they would not have to pay these taxes unless their net incomes had been of good size. If a person has a "lean" year financially, the income tax is reduced or abolished. That does not hold true in regard to veterans' taxes, for it is the tendency to increase these taxes.

Since it is the big income taxpayer who bears the big part of the expense of veterans' benefits—and can afford to do so—where can the sincerity or honesty of opponents of these benefits be, when they pretend their attack on disabled veterans are being made in the interest of the average taxpayer?

Ear Corn Costly As Coal For Fuel

LINCOLN, NEBR.—At present prices the cost of burning ear corn for fuel purposes is very nearly the same as the cost of coal. This, generally, is the result of tests made on the problem by the mechanical engineering department of the University of Nebraska, under the direction of Prof. A. Luebs.

Results of the test showed that bituminous coal was about 3.09 times as efficient a fuel as corn, while anthracite coal was 3.96 times as efficient as corn. Based on current retail prices for bituminous coal at $9.00 and $11.50 for anthracite, the real heating value of a 70 pound bushel of corn would be from 10.1 cents to 10.2 cents. As this was being written corn in Lincoln was worth 11 cents per bushel.

Professor Luebs points out the fact that according to calorimeter tests, corn is from 45 to 63 per cent as efficient as coal. The calorimeter is an instrument used for scientific measurement of heat. However, this result does not accurately reflect the heating value of the two fuels as they would be used in the average home plant. For that reason, the tests were made in an ordinary furnace, the fuels being fired at about two-thirds "boiler rating" which is the most efficient boiler load.

Ordinary corn from this year's crop was used in the test, while Franklin county bituminous and Arkansas anthracite were tested. The corn contained 14.9 per cent moisture as tested. Luebs points out the obvious fact that the longer the corn is stored, the more efficient a fuel it will be. The tests continued for one day and final measurements were then taken.

Professor Luebs' conclusions on the tests were: "In order for corn to be a cheaper fuel than coal, it would have to be bought at a price less than 10.1 to 10.2 cents, for the price of coal considered. Corn that has been stored for a longer period will contain less moisture and will therefore have a slightly higher fuel value. Another factor which should be considered is that corn, because of its bulkiness, requires more frequent attention in firing.

"These results are considered reasonably accurate for all domestic size plants, and for plants slightly larger. For larger plants because of greater efficiency, corn at one to two cents higher would compare favorably with this coal."

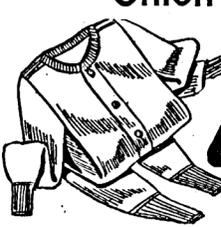

Luebs is planning further fuel tests to determine the value of wood for firing in comparison to other fuels.

Senator Howell represented Nebraska last week in a conference at Washington, D. C. with Colorado and Wyoming senators and state officials on the matter of water rights. Governor Bryan did not comply with the suggestion that a Nebraska delegation go to Washington for the conference. He stated that the water matter was extremely important to Nebraska and that difficulties should not be settled on snap judgment. The present conference will probably lead to others in which difficulties can be settled after being given careful consideration.

A state representative from Omaha has received three replies to a questionnaire he sent out to other representatives to learn their attitude on a beer bill. Only five of those replying were opposed to the suggestion. The legality of such a bill, if it should be passed, is doubtful unless the state constitution is amended.

Depositors of three failed Nebraska national banks shared in a huge dividend payment made by the federal government just before Christmas. Dividends totaling nearly nine millions were paid to depositors of sixty banks over the country. Depositors of failed state banks at Chalco and Pleasantdale received dividends last week amounting to $15,000.

Contracts were recently let by the highway department for two miles of paving, viaducts and bridges at Falls City. A five-mile paving contract near Fremont has also been awarded. The first job had been held up pending settlement of a right-of-way controversy. The latter one was submitted to rebidding because of change in gravel freight rates.

The biennial report of the state auditor for the term ending July 1, 1932 has been completed in printed form. The report shows total state resources at $1 million dollars with a state indebtedness of $56,000 less than two years ago. The cash balance showed as 5 million which is about 2 1/2 million less than two years ago. The general fund balance was $1,834,000, about $600,000 less than the last report. 87,365 warrants were written during the two years. Bonds issued by state subdivisions during the period of slightly more than an increase of slightly more than a million over the previous period. Total bonded indebtedness of subdivisions at the time of the report was 107 million, a decrease of 2 1/2 million. The latter item shows that Nebraska communities have paid nearly 15 million dollars to reduce bonded indebtedness during the two year period.

Federal income tax facts for 1930 show that Nebraska had at that time 40 millionaires. Persons with incomes of $50,000 or more per year are classed as millionaires. Final tabulation of income tax figures for 1930 reveals that 27,271 Nebraska people paid income tax on net incomes totaling 114 million dollars. In the entire nation preliminary figures for 1931 showed a decrease of nearly 30 per cent in individual net income totals from 1930 and corporation net income shows a reduction of nearly 50 per cent.

A conference between the grain men of the state and the state railway commission was held last Wednesday to discuss the proposed reduced freight rates on corn from Nebraska to points on the Union Pacific. The grain men asked the commission to join them in requesting that the interstate commerce commission withdraw all pending rate controversies. It is believed that if this were done the railroads would voluntarily put the desired grain rates into effect. If present rate controversies are continued the railroads will be hesitant to establish lower grain rates because such action might be used against them in other matters. A similar conference with the railroads is planned by the commission before definite action is taken.

Attorneys for the state railway commission have filed a motion with the interstate commerce commission asking for a rehearing of the Minneapolis & Omaha railroad case. Several months ago the secus application to abandon its Wynot branch in the northern part of the state received favorable action. In the new motion, eight reasons are given why the case should be reopened and the railroad required to continue operation of the line.

Nebraska potato growers have asked the state railway commission to intervene in their behalf in the potato rate case now before the interstate commerce commission. The Nebraska commission recently planned a plan for the shipment of seed potatoes to the southwest and the producers want the territory extended to include the south and southeast. Nebraska markets a great quantity of seed potatoes in southern states.

That 3,200 men are employed on federal aid and state highway work in Nebraska was shown by a recent report of the federal labor department. Due to weakness following his long illness, it will be impossible for Governor Bryan to deliver his inaugural message to the legislature this week. His secretary will probably read the message. The governor's physicians issued the following statement concerning his condition last Friday: "Governor Bryan is suffering from coronary artery disease, (arteries of the heart). It is necessary under the circumstances for him to remain quiet, but the transaction of important business is not forbidden."

Legislative wheels were set in motion in the house of representatives by Frank Marsh, outgoing secretary of state. Ted Metcalfe, present lieutenant-governor presided over the senate the first three days of this week and presided over the joint session Thursday. Marsh and Metcalfe will be replaced by their successors, Harry Swanson, secretary of state, and Walter H. Jurgensen, lieutenant-governor, Friday morning.

County Attorney Beal of Omaha, speaking before the Nebraska County Attorney's association last week proposed to have the legislature give county courts jurisdiction over misdemeanors with minimum fines for $500 and jail penalties of six months.

Recent school fire losses in three Nebraska communities total approximately $125,000. Children of the three towns, Wauneta, Ewing and Murray, will attend school in lodge halls, store buildings and churches until new quarters are provided for them. In each of the fires which occurred during the past two weeks, loss was partially covered by insurance.

The state historical society is occupying the huge room on the first floor of the capitol directly under the representative chamber. A display of historical souvenirs including an old log cabin is being installed there. The historical material of the Nebraska press, collected during the past thirty years by Henry A. Brainard is also being installed there. The exhibit will be open to all capitol visitors while the legislature is in session.

A mortgage foreclosure moratorium bill drawn up by Representative Tremore Cone has caused more than usual comment. Cone has sent copies of it to other legislators and attorneys for criticism. The bill does not change contracts but changes district court procedure. It may meet opposition due to the fact that it gives district courts the power to alter the present mortgage foreclosure law by court procedure. Cone has drawn up another bill designed to reduce delinquent tax penalties. It proposes to secure tax collections on tax delinquent properties by issuance of tax investment securities bearing three annual interest coupons. It would have various county officers donate services in redemption actions, confined to one foreclosure with limited advertising.

The annual fall pig survey has just been completed by the state and federal divisions of statistics. It shows a 2 per cent decrease in this fall's pig crop as compared with a year ago. Nebraska's crop totaled 1,352,000 pigs. In the entire United States, the fall pig crop shows an increase of 4 per cent over last year.

Advising Care In Using Canned Foods

Despite the fact that several Nebraska people have succumbed as a result of eating spoiled canned foods, Miss Florence Atwood of the college of agriculture extension service declared today that if the necessary precautions are taken in preparing the food there is no danger of being poisoned.

Taking the needed precautions is doubly important this year, the food specialist says, in view of the fact that more food has probably been canned this summer and fall than in normal years. Increased canning has thus increased the danger. Two deaths have been reported to the college of agriculture thus far from botulism, caused by poisoning from "Remember, the person opening the can is responsible to those eating the product," is the slogan adopted by Miss Atwood. Non-acid vegetables and meats should be boiled ten minutes before using even though there is no sign of spoilage. The boiling destroys the toxin or poison produced by certain bacteria.

In using the canned foods the odor of the contents should be noted. It should be characteristic of the product. Any "off" odor probably indicates spoilage. The contents should also be examined carefully to see whether it appears sound and natural in color and texture.

All food showing any sign of spoilage either by appearance or odor should be destroyed by burning as a precaution. Bacteria continue to thrive in the soil. Neither should the spoiled products be fed to animals even after boiling. Though the bacteria may not harm the animal they would probably pollute the soil through the excretion of the animal.

SANTA CLAUS

By C. A. Lord

Is there a Santa Claus? I'll tell you. I was born in March 26, and December 25th, 1871. I woke up at eleven thirty P. M. Christmas eve and I saw him with a fur cap on and a heavy overcoat, slipping by the fireplace in our old log house near Salem, Nebraska. Mother was asleep but the shadow of the ceiling which I was looking at with wide open eyes attracted my attention. I peeped over mother and saw "Santa" with a smile of delight hid behind his black whiskers, placing nuts, and oranges in our heavy yarn socks that hung beside the fireplace. I knew then who Santa Claus was but I never told any one for many Christmases after that. But two just two Christmases after that we buried my Santa in our cemetery at Salem, Nebraska. It was a dark snowy day, I rode there and back in the back of a lumber wagon with straw in it and blankets over me. I felt so badly because mother was crying all the way, I could not hear her and moan. I can still hear the wind whistling through the wagon spokes and the rattle of the wagon through rough places in the road. But the next Christmas Santa came back, and he was all right again, and mother's face shone so brightly that morning that her personality mingled with that of daddy's and the real Santa Claus that I have been unable to distinguish the difference until now. Even last night I awoke late, the moon shown dimly through my east bedroom window, a quiver on the white plastered wall looked to me like the shadow of an arch angel's wing wafted back from the long ago. Yes, there is a Santa Claus.

Announcement
To Patrons of the Ord Municipal Light Plant

The Ord Municipal Light Plant continues to enjoy prosperous operation, even with the reductions made last May 1 and also with the plant absorbing the 3 per cent federal tax. Because of this fact we, the undersigned, elected by you to manage our city's utilities, have decided that in view of present adverse economic conditions a dividend declared by the light plant might be very welcome to patrons.

Therefore, we have decided that the Municipal Light Plant will pay a dividend or rebate to consumers of electricity, this dividend to be 3 1/2 per cent of the gross revenue of the plant during the last seven months of 1932, or a total of $630. This amount will be rebated to patrons on their December bills for electric current, which became payable January 1, 1933.

Each user of electricity will have his December bill discounted by an amount equal to 3 1/2 per cent of the money he has paid to the city for electric current during the months of June, July, August, September, October, November and up to December 28. We have decided upon this method of rebating so as to favor equally all patrons, whether they use electricity during the summer or during the winter or both. The rebate amounts to approximately 25 per cent of the gross revenue of the plant for the month of December.

Our Municipal plant belongs to all of us and we make this announcement merely as servants of the owners. We hope that it will meet with your approval.

Dentist Gives Swift Kick to Banker At New Year's Party

At a New Year's eve bridge party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Holub in Elyria Saturday evening, Dr. F. L. Blessing administered a swift kick to Emil Fafelta, in a very prominent portion of the latter's anatomy. Usually a kick in the pants is cause for hostilities but no fight resulted this time for the kick was given only as part of the program. Dr. Blessing attired in a scanty one-piece bathing suit and with a Cupid's bow knot tied about his middle, booted Father Time, portrayed by Mr. Fafelta, out of the house.

The party was attended by five tables of bridge players and was one of the most enjoyable of the winter season. Father Time Fafelta proved that bridge playing wisdom comes with age when he won high prize at the party. Mr. and Mrs. Holub served delicious refreshments and their guests say that it was a most successful party.

While living on Davis Creek two more children, Myrtle and Edgar, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Houtby. About the time they moved to town their granddaughter, Hattie, was left motherless and her grandparents kept her as their own. Seldom has a more beautiful relationship existed than that between the old couple and the young grandchild and as she grew older the care which they had given her was richly repaid in love and devotion to them. For years Hattie watched over the grandmother in her failing health until she was released by death on Sept. 28, 1930. Since then Hattie and her grandfather have been inseparable and devoted companions and while his passing leaves her lonely she is left with the beautiful memory of their years together until the very last hour of her life, interrupted by the death and burial who terminated his life instantly.

With Mr. Houtby's death the last of the pioneers who settled on Davis Creek have passed on with the single exception of Chas. Thrasher, who still survives and is an esteemed citizen of North Loup.

Mr. Houtby took an active part in community affairs, both on Davis Creek and in the village. He united with the Methodist church in his youth and took an active interest in the work all his life. For twenty years he was a member of the school superintendent of the Davis Creek church and after moving to town was a faithful attendant at services when his health permitted.

During most of his residence in the village he acted as road overseer and for a number of years he carried the mail to and from the depot. He was a great worker, deliberate but tireless. Honest and upright in all his dealings, his genial nature drew all men to him. He bore financial reverses, trouble and sorrow with high courage, his calm and cheerful bearing, testifying to his strength of character. He will be greatly missed but his memory will be revered by his children and by neighbors and friends.

Surviving him, besides his granddaughter Hattie, are his four children, George, of Ord, Dolle, of North Loup, Myrtle and Edgar, of Los Angeles, Calif. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, besides two brothers, Henry of Fresno, Calif., and William, of Madison, Wis.

Tuesday Mrs. Forrest Johnson was staying in the home of her father, Bert Hardenbrook. He and also Mrs. Hardenbrook were ill in bed with flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koelling and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koelling were called to Elmwood, Ia., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Winter, mother of the Madams Koelling, this week.

A word to Quiz subscribers:

Last week the Quiz was a four-page newspaper.
 Today it is a ten-page newspaper.

Why?

Last week there was not sufficient advertising in the Quiz even to pay the expense of printing four pages.

Today the Quiz is well filled with advertising, making it possible to issue a larger newspaper.

In other words, the more advertising a newspaper has the better paper it is able to issue.

Why Do Merchants Advertise?

There is only one reason: Because the investment they make in advertising is profitable to them in the way of increased sales. Therefore, the more sales they make as a result of their advertising, the more profitable it will be to them and the more advertising will they run.

How Does This Help the Subscriber?

It helps him in this way: If his newspaper is liberally patronized by advertisers, the publisher will be able to print more news and more features, to give better and quicker news service and publish a newspaper that is more satisfactory to subscribers.

What Can the Subscriber Do About It?

He can read the advertising in his newspaper every week, shape his buying plans accordingly and PATRONIZE THE MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE IN HIS NEWSPAPER. Not only will his newspaper be larger and better, but the subscriber also will profit by buying his merchandise at a saving for merchants always advertise their best specials, usually at a liberal discount.

The subscriber can also help by urging his merchant to advertise through the newspaper instead of by circulars, hand bills, mimeograph sheets and other mediums.

The Quiz is read by 95 per cent of the people of Ord's trade territory. Most of these people read the advertising and profit accordingly. If you have not been doing so, begin today.

Christian Science. "Sacrament" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ. Scientist, for Sunday, January 8.

The Golden Text is from Hebrews 13:16: "To do good and to communicate forget not; for with such sacrifices God is well pleased."

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from John 21:9, 12: "As soon as they came to land, they saw a fire of coals there, and fish laid thereon, and bread . . . Jesus saith unto them, Come and dine."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "This spiritual meeting with our Lord in the dawn of a new light is the morning meal which Christian Scientists commemorate. They bow before Christ, Truth, to receive more of his reappearing and silently to commune with the divine Principle, Love. They celebrate their Lord's victory over death, his probation in the flesh after death, his exemplification of human probation, and his spiritual and final ascension above matter, or the flesh, when he rose out of material sight." EDWARD HOUTBY DIES; WAS DAVIS CREEK PIONEER

While living on Davis Creek two more children, Myrtle and Edgar, were born to Mr. and Mrs. Houtby. About the time they moved to town their granddaughter, Hattie, was left motherless and her grandparents kept her as their own. Selma has a more beautiful relationship extended than that between the old couple and the young grandchild and as she grew older the care which they had given her was richly repaid in love and devotion to them. For years Hattie watched over the grandmother in her failing health until she was released by death on Sept. 23, 1930. Since then Hattie and her grandfather have been inseparable and devoted companions and while his passing leaves her lonely she is left with the beautiful memory of their years together until the very last hour of pleasant visiting was interrupted by the death angel who terminated his life instantly.

With Mr. Houtby's death the last of the pioneers who settled on Davis Creek have passed on with the single exception of Chas. Thrasher, who still survives, and is an esteemed citizen of North Loup.

Mr. Houtby took an active part in community affairs, both on Davis Creek and in the village. He united with the Methodist church in his youth and took an active interest in the work until his life. For twenty years he served as Sunday school superintendent of the Davis Creek church and after moving to town was a faithful attendant at services when his health permitted.

During most of his residence in Ord he was engaged as a road overseer and for a long period of years carried the mail to and from the depot. He was a great worker, deliberate but tireless. Honest and upright in all his dealings, his genial nature drew all men to him. His bereaved relatives, friends and sorrow with high courage, his calm and cheerful bearing testifying to his strength of character. He will be greatly missed but his memory will be revered by his children and by neighbors and friends.

Surviving him, besides his granddaughter Hattie, are his four children, George, of Ord, Dollie, of North Loup, Myrtle and Edgar, of Los Angeles, Calif. He also leaves eleven grandchildren and nine great grandchildren, besides two brothers, Henry of Fresno, Calif., and William, of Madison, Wis.

Tuesday Mrs. Forrest Johnson was staying in the home of her father, Bert Hardenbrook. He and also Mrs. Hardenbrook were ill in bed with flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Koelling and children and Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Koelling were called to Elmwood, Ia., to attend the funeral of Mrs. Winter, mother of the Madams Koelling, this week.

A word to Quiz subscribers:

Last week the Quiz was a four-page newspaper.

Today it is a ten-page newspaper.

Why?

Last week there was not sufficient advertising in the Quiz even to pay the expense of printing four pages.

Today the Quiz is well filled with advertising, making it possible to issue a larger newspaper.

In other words, the more advertising a newspaper has the better paper it is able to issue.

Why Do Merchants Advertise?

There is only one reason: Because the investment they make in advertising is profitable to them in the way of increased sales. Therefore, the more sales they make as a result of their advertising, the more profitable it will be to them and the more advertising will they run.

How Does This Help the Subscriber?

It helps him in this way: If his newspaper is liberally patronized by advertisers, the publisher will be able to print more news and more features, to give better and quicker news service and publish a newspaper that is more satisfactory to subscribers.

What Can the Subscriber Do About It?

He can read the advertising in his newspaper every week, shape his buying plans accordingly and PATRONIZE THE MERCHANTS WHO ADVERTISE IN HIS NEWSPAPER. Not only will his newspaper be larger and better, but the subscriber also will profit by buying his merchandise at a saving for merchants always advertise their best specials, usually at a liberal discount.

The subscriber can also help by urging his merchant to advertise through the newspaper instead of by circulars, hand bills, mimeograph sheets and other mediums.

The Quiz is read by 95 per cent of the people of Ord's trade territory. Most of these people read the advertising and profit accordingly. If you have not been doing so, begin today.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

(Continued from page two) Both parties stand for private control of all public utilities, for the control of the circulating medium for private graft and the enslavement of the people and the ultimate destruction of the nation. For the gold standard with one hundred and fifty billions of dollars of bonded and mortgaged indebtedness in the U. S. payable in gold coin with only a little over eleven billions dollars of gold in the known world and that owned by the big international banks. Can you imagine what the result will be and what premium will be placed on gold where gold payment is demanded according to contract. Shades of Jefferson, Jackson and Bryan. In answer to the question, 'What is the cause of our present industrial condition?' The republican answer 'It is the act of God' and to the question 'What is your remedy?' They answer 'we will let God continue to run things.' To the first question the Democrats answer 'The Republican party and their robber tariff.' And to the question, 'what is your remedy?' they answer (if I read their platform correctly) 'kick the republicans out and us in and let us monkey with the tariff and let us boozed for four years.' And the country has taken them at their word. If there is a person living that really expects their remedy to produce results, I would either have to discount his intelligence or question his sanity. You are fortunate that you didn't have the influence of the Quiz and Loyalist in your campaign. If you had (judging by the Valley county vote) you surely would have been elected and I can scarcely think of a greater misfortune that could befall a honest man than to be elected to a legislature or Congress composed of standpat Republicans and standpat democrats. You would become so disgusted you too would become a 'dangerous radical' or you would either fall thru your breeches and hang yourself or whip your grandmother. J. H. CRONK.

DR. RICH says: Grand Island, Nebr., Jan. 4, 1933. To tackle cheerfully and courageously the distasteful job that requires a little worry and work is the thing we usually want to sidestep. When one can bring his mind to do a thing promptly and good naturedly, the battle is won. After that it is easy. It is not our obstacles—it is ourselves. Just over the hill is a beautiful valley, but you must climb that hill to see it. For more than 30 years in Grand Island, my patients have said to me, 'I wish I had come to you sooner'. Wasted time and money, needless suffering, impaired health can be avoided when disease is corrected quickly. Rectal sufferers are inclined to not only neglect their condition, but also allow themselves to be improperly treated for many reasons those who have had such an experience know only too well. A real OPPORTUNITY in anything will not amount to much unless and until you accept it. You have the privilege now of coming to a Rectal Specialist of a great many years experience and get a guaranteed cure for your Piles for only $50.00. Investigate this opportunity. Enclose this advertisement and write for further information. Correspondence is always welcome. (1)

VALLEY COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT IN RADIO TALK

Clara McClatchey Discusses Rural School Problems Over KFOR At Lincoln Friday.

Miss Clara M. McClatchey, Valley county superintendent of schools, spoke over radio station KFOR, Lincoln, last Friday. Her topic was "Rural School Problems" and the speech was given upon the invitation and under the auspices of the Lincoln School of Commerce, in which Miss McClatchey formerly was a teacher. Her address follows, in part:

"Do the people who support our school understand its stabilizing force in time of distress? Probably the schools of the nation have never before been called upon to prove or defend their stabilizing force as they are having to do at the present time. Intelligence and judgment are being every effort to reduce school expenses without unnecessary retrenchments in education or wholesale lowering standards. They realize the futility of demanding money for school purposes if there is no money available, but at the same time they are making extensive studies of conditions to ascertain if the need of reduction of teaching force and salaries are as essential for school economy as the public has been led to believe. One county in one of our eastern states made a thorough study and some of the facts gathered in the investigation showed that some of the ideas about teachers and teachers' salaries were not quite as represented. For example, it showed that though the cost of teachers' educational preparation is the same as for many other professions that there is a wide difference between the income of the teaching and other professions, always showing the other professions more remunerative. This study also showed that in spite of repeated reports of the mounting cost of the schools, the teaching cost per pupils in one city's school was actually less in 1931-32 than in 1920-21. The school custodian in this same school received a higher average salary than did the teachers in 1920-21 and for the year 1931-32 the custodian's salary averaged higher than all teachers except those in the senior high schools.

BELL GIVES UP CONTRACT, ASKS SALARY BE CUT

School Superintendent Says Being Paid Too Much; Was Cut 10 Per Cent, More Later.

"Gentlemen, my salary is too high considering general conditions and the ability of people to pay." So ran the revolutionary statement of Millard Bell, Ord superintendent of schools, when he appeared before a meeting of the board of education Monday evening. He holds a three-year contract which has 1-2 years to run and he voluntarily relinquished his contract Monday evening, inviting school board members to cut his salary in any amount they thought right.

The school board took advantage of Mr. Bell's offer to the extent of cutting his salary ten per cent and announced that another cut would be made before the next term of school opens unless general conditions improve in the mean time. Last fall the salaries of Ord high school teachers were cut 10 per cent and grade teachers 5 per cent, no other school employees being affected by these cuts. Monday evening the board decided upon a 15 per cent cut for school house janitors, Harry Wolf, Clifford Goff and a 10 per cent cut in the salary of Mr. Bell's secretary, Miss Clara Stern. A 20 per cent cut in the salary of Ralph W. Norman, secretary of the board.

The annual expense of the Ord schools has been cut approximately $5,000 during the present term and the board proposes to cut it $10,000 more before the next term opens.

Last week we were almost swamped by children, all of them wanting calendars. Supposing that they had been sent by Quiz subscribers, we gave calendars to all applicants at first but later discovered that the children were wanting them for themselves and that in some occasions several had been given out to children of one family.

LET'S ADOPT SCRIP.

The Quiz believes that the mayor and city council of Ord should adapt the Hawarden scrip plan and start the ball rolling with the issue of not less than $500 worth of scrip, using the scrip to pay men given jobs on city projects.

Nobody will deny that every person is entitled to the necessities of life. Any able bodied man would vastly prefer to earn the essentials of living than to have them given to him, yet under present conditions he is denied the opportunity to do so.

Under the scrip plan jobs could immediately be thrown open for most of our unemployed, if not all of them. There are numerous projects that could be carried out without expense to the city treasury and this is just what the scrip plan proposes.

At the same time, business in Ord will be greatly stimulated. Five hundred dollars in scrip, by the time it becomes redeemable, will have created twenty-six thousand dollars of business and at the same time have given several days work to each of our unemployed.

There is no danger, no "kick-back" to the scrip plan. Such economists as Roger Babson and Irving Fisher endorse it. The plan is being used by 146 cities and towns in the United States with more taking it up every day.

The Quiz hopes that the county government will issue scrip on a large scale that is possible for the city to do but believes that the City of Ord should set an example for the county by issuing $500 in scrip immediately.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. Henry Druddik, who had been living at Geranium started for Bohemia with the intention of making his home there.

Miss Alta B. Jones and Mr. Harry Olson were married in California and expected to live at Selma.

John Long, who had spent several months working as a carpenter at Silverton, Colo., returned to his home in Springdale.

Doane Spewill was taking a course in typewriting and short hand at the Grand Island business college.

B. F. Bowen returned from Colorado by the prairie schooner route and reported a hard trip. He encountered much snow in Kansas. Soon after returning home he was married to Miss Stella Hewitt and expected to make his future home here.

20 Years Ago This Week. While working at the Ord laundry, Louis Sargent had two fingers of her right hand crushed in the mangle, both fingers having to be amputated.

Somebody started a rumor that the city water commissioner, while cleaning the city reservoir, had found a dead dog therein and the town was in an alarmed mood. It was proved that the rumor was false.

The Ord high school football team received an invitation to attend a banquet in Omaha and four of the boys went down.

President J. C. Work and Secretary P. C. Perryman of the Ord Commercial club went to Loup City to attend a meeting of the club of that town.

Maggie Tolson and Mary Munn finished their visit at home and returned to Omaha, where they were learning to be nurses.

The finest milk in the world is retailed in Ord for 5 cents a quart. In Lincoln it sells to the consumer for 7 cents, but the producer only gets about 1.6 cents a quart for it.

It is said that there are a hundred railroad presidents in the United States, who are drawing a hundred thousand dollars or more a year in salary.

I believe it is going to be a better day for all of us when we get rid of that man Mills in the treasury department. I believe Andy Mellon ran the government for years, largely for the benefit of himself and his business associates.

I had occasion to go to Grand Island one day recently on business and I thought, as I drove down the valley of the North Loup, that it was as beautiful a drive as I had ever seen.

Many used Democratic donkeys as a central motif in one way or another. On one card the Mr. and Mrs. photographed, were seen astride the donkey.

Of course the cleverest greetings were those which originated in the minds of the senders or were specially made for them. For example, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Purcell sent extremely suitable and attractive ones.

A young cartoonist on a state paper habitually cartoons himself onto the jolly greetings he mails just before the visit of Mr. S. Claus each year.

A good many neighbors use photographs of their snow-covered residences to add a personal touch to their greetings at Christmas time. Some send calendars with their best wishes.

They explained that their business rules made it necessary that they pay subscriptions about Jan. 1st, that being the reason they didn't take advantage of our $1 offer when others did and when they had the chance. Something DIFFERENT

Glenn Johnson want to know why not a whiskey club for Ord, since mustache-raising has become the chief indoor sport of a number of Ordians.

Among the new converts to mustaches, the little toothbrushy ones, are Edwin Clements, who looks younger than ever with the lip trimming; Dr. McGrew, who looks suitably professional; and John Lewis, who looks like a professional too? John Misko has raised two or three mustaches lately for practice, and is expected to enter the ranks seriously when he is through rehearsing.

The best one of the season was the remark Little Kenneth Staley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elroy Staley, made to his mother recently enroute home from a lodge at which an oyster supper was a feature.

Evidently oysters in soup were something new to her, for she inquired for the first time, since he told his mother in the tone of a discoverer: "Mama, I found six gizzards in my soup."

Christmas cards this year took many novel forms. Numbers of them were hand made of various types, linoleum hand-blocking playing a prominent part, in an attractive way.

To do this, a suitable picture is drawn, traced off onto the linoleum, the parts carved out with a knife when the lines are wanted, the ink rolled over it and a paper pressed on it. However, it is not easy to produce workmanlike results.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

It is not economical to plan to use the oven for only one thing when baking, and if possible you should bake several foods while it is heated. Of course it does not make so much difference to those who need the oven heat for warmth, but if you are using electricity or gas, by all means plan oven meals or a couple or three things to bake, while you are at it.

Chocolate Steamed Pudding. Combine one egg, three-fourth cup sugar, four tablespoons cocoa, one cup flour, one and one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half cup milk, one-half cup chopped nuts, one teaspoon vanilla, one tablespoon butter, a pinch of salt. Steam and serve with whipped cream. Mrs. Charley Urban.

Ham Smothered with Sweet Potatoes. Brown two slices of ham lightly on both sides and place in a baking dish. Spread three sweet potatoes, which have been peeled and sliced, over the ham, and sprinkle with sugar. Add hot water to the drippings in the pan and pour over the ham and sweet potatoes. Cover and bake in a moderate oven until the ham is tender. Baste the potatoes occasionally with the gravy and toward the last remove the lid and let the top brown.

cloves and nutmeg, two cups raw apples, chopped, grated or sliced thin, one cup raisins, pinch of salt, two and one-half cups flour. Bake in a moderate oven until done. Mrs. Guy Sample, Rt. 1, No. Loup Baked Cabbage.

Take a medium sized head of cabbage and cut in quarters, cook in salted water until tender but not too soft. Grease a baking pan well, carefully lift the cooked cabbage into this pan. Beat three eggs, add one-half cup milk, salt, one teaspoon baking powder and flour to make a batter like for pancakes, mix well and pour over the cabbage. Bake until done.

Mrs. James Greber, Phillips, Wis. If you have some recipes which would fit in nicely with a baked meal, will you please send them? Quiz readers will appreciate your kindness in passing along a recipe for a tasty dish.

Add one-half cup butter to one cup brown sugar, break in one egg and beat hard. Add one-half cup sweet milk and one-half cup water, then one and one-half cups flour with one level teaspoon of soda and one-half teaspoon of salt. Add one cup of nut meats or a cup of nuts and raisins mixed. Put the cake in rather a cool oven so it will have a chance to raise either as a loaf or as a layer cake.

BACK FORTY

Can farmers afford to produce beef and pork at shipped in feed prices? Truckers are bringing up corn in enormous quantities, and finding ready sale for it.

Eastern Nebraska farmers are probably selling because they do not believe it pays to feed 12 cent corn to livestock.

To feed out a steer requires around 45 bushels of corn and a half ton of alfalfa. The value of these feeds amounts to $10.00 when corn is 18 cents, and hay is worth 5 dollars a ton.

A steer will gain somewhere between 300 and 450 pounds during the feeding period. If the minimum gain is made, the feed cost is $2.3 per hundred pounds of gain.

No allowance is made in this figure for labor, equipment, interest, or death losses. But even if 1 dollar is set aside per cwt. for these costs, it is not as bad as it seems using good judgment when they buy 18 cent corn.

Pigs following steers are quite apt to make an additional profit. Swine fed alone will eat about 7 bushels of corn and 50 pounds of tankage in growing 100 pounds of pork.

At 18 cents a bushel for corn, and 25 dollars a ton for tankage, the feed cost in producing a hundred pounds of pork is $1.39.

A series of years, one year with a fat man who was selling his grain and roughage through livestock receives a larger income than he who sells his grain at the elevator.

QUIZ FORUM

Anderson Changes Opinion (Editorial on Diesel Engine) A few weeks ago in this department, Mr. Anderson expressed his disapproval of the suggestion made in a Quiz editorial that a Diesel engine might be wise investment for Ord to make. Since then he has investigated and now writes the following letter.)

Since writing the article recently in regard to some improvements in our light and water plant I was suggested to me that I do a little personal investigation on my own account and report what I found for the benefit of others who may wish to know what the time to look up such things.

As I have more time than anything else and as I am interested in the future of Ord as much as I have been in the past, I decided to do this. I have consulted in my findings I have not consulted any member of the city council and therefore have no idea of what view they take of the situation as it exists. As the question of cost to produce current between our present plant and a Diesel Oil engine was the issue I was investigating I went to Burwell to investigate their Diesel oil engine system. Their power plant has now been in use about five years. In 1927 they had an indebtedness of $66,000.00. Their tax levy was 11 1-2 mills and their rates for current were 15c KW for maximum night rate and scale down. Top power rate 8c scaled down. Maximum heat rate 5c KW scaled down. Since 1927 they have put in new street lighting system, new power house costing $5,000.00, new switch board, two new turbine pumps in city wells, over 3,000 ft. water mains and also a new 240 hp. Diesel oil engine. The city has free street lighting and the rate for electric current has been lowered every year and today sells current at the lowest price of any city in Nebraska, viz 3.19c per KW for the first hundred KW. The manager informed me that present rate is as follows: First 200 KW per month 3.75 next 20 KW 3.75, all over 400 KW 2.2 per month. Power rate: First 200 KW per month 3.75, next 200 KW 3; all over 500 KW at 2.2 per month. Commercial rate:

6 sets of heavy work harness, bought new last spring, 18 horse collars, good ones, extra good saddle, new 4-section drag, new 18 ft. disk, 2 gang plows, walking plow, nearly new wagon, cultivators, dog-devil, 2 good self-feeders, 300 and 500 bushel capacity, 3 large portable hog houses with shingled roof and floored. State Capitol News

By PARKE F. KEAYS

The governor's budget message flashed appropriations from tax funds for the coming biennium to $150,000,000, $123,000,000, the amount appropriated two years ago. Appropriations of funds other than property taxes under the proposed budget are cut from $29,000,000 of two years ago to $15,535,000 for the coming biennium.

The following decreases by departments are shown through the budget: executive departments, $150,000; governor's department, none; code departments, $677,000; university, $371,000; normal schools, $231,000; state institutions, $731,000; construction and repairs, state institutions, $650,000; sundry departments, $142,000.

In an inaugural message, Governor Bryan recommended abolition of several bureaus, suggesting that their work be combined with that of existing offices. Bureaus which would be effected included child welfare, state library commission, legislative reference bureau, bank commissioner and gasoline tax bureau. He recommended that the attorney general be made appointive by the governor.

Additional powers were asked for in controlling the appointment of state accountant, militia officers and game, forestation and fish commission. He advocates reduction of state gasoline tax from four to three cents with counties still to receive 25 percent. Revisions of various laws were suggested to permit re-assessment of real estate any year that the state board orders, to provide fewer exemptions on property taxation, to give depositors in failed banks first lien on assets. He also suggested that legislation be passed to permit merging or consolidation of counties and that the county offices of register of deeds, assessor and clerk of district court be eliminated. He recommends the repeal of the intangible tax law and the code, also repeal of truck laws enacted by the last session.

New legislation was suggested as follows: state income tax prohibiting entry of deficiency judgment in foreclosures and reduction of legal interest rate from 7 to 6 percent, contract rate from 10 to 8 percent, payment of taxes in semi-annual installments, removal of party circle from ballot. His message suggested several other new pieces of legislation including reduction of salaries of state officers although amounts were not mentioned.

Representative George W. O'Malley of Greeley was elected speaker of the house on the first ballot at the democratic caucus Monday night of last week. Three other candidates, W. H. O'Gara of Cedar county, Mabel Gillespie of Sarpy and John Havekost of Dodge, were considered by the caucus. The caucus also elected Max Adams, Howard county, as clerk. Rev. Thos. D. Davis, Fairfield, chaplain, and John Washington Porter of Albion were sergeant-at-arms. Frank S. Wells of Fairbury, who was the caucus chairman, by precedent would have become chairman of the committee on committees. Mr. Wells, however, requested that this place be filled by the caucus and as a result W. H. O'Gara was elected to head that committee.

Senator Frank McCarter of Bayard was chosen president pro-tem of the senate at the democratic caucus last Monday night. The caucus elected Senator J. P. O'Furey of Hartington as chairman of the committee on committees. Both of these men are now members of the senate and their election drew the spotlight from the veteran senate democrats led by Frush of Wahoo and Banning of Union.

The house and senate went into joint session Wednesday afternoon to accept the abstract of votes cast at last November's election. Another joint session was held Thursday morning for inaugural ceremonies and to hear the governor's budget message. Following the Thursday session both houses adjourned until Friday morning after news was received of the death of Ex-President Coolidge. At a joint session Friday morning the governor's budget message was presented. The first bill introduced in the house and senate was for the ratification of the Norris amendment eliminating lame duck sessions of congress. Both houses suspended rules to speed the passage of the measure.

The hopper is rapidly being filled with bills. At the close of the week bills introduced in both houses had nearly reached the hundred mark. There is considerable duplication in the contents of some of the bills.

Net gasoline tax collections for December totaled $615,000. Of this amount $154,000 was distributed to counties for local road work.

The seven democratic presidential electors for Nebraska met at the governor's office last Wednesday and cast their votes for Roosevelt and Garner. A change in the federal law does away with the previous practice of sending a messenger to Washington at considerable expense to carry the vote. This year was sent to Washington by registered mail and copies were filed with the secretary of state and a district judge.

Argument of the state's demurrer of a Nebraska oil men's association brought out some interesting facts last Wednesday. Under the present law the state treasurer cannot legally make public reports by gasoline dealers showing amount of gasoline imported in their respective towns, and the oil men's association is attempting to have the reports open for public inspection or else to have the law declared contrary to the federal and state constitutions. A district judge before whom it was argued overruled the state's demurrer to the action. The judge's decision was based on the fact that by another Nebraska statute all citizens are fully empowered to examine records at any time.

THE QUIZ FORUM.

First 50 KWH per month 5.6; next KWH 4.875 per month; all over 100 KWH at 4.125 per month. The heat rate is 2.2 KWH. Their water rate is low, being 15c per 100 cubic feet with a 50c minimum.

Not only these low rates but a Christmas present was made to all patrons of a cancelled light bill for December. And to add to this the fact that the city is out of debt and has a cash surplus on hand of around $1,000 makes a pretty good showing for a town of practically half the size of Ord.

This is all the result of a superior method of producing the electric current at a cost very much lower than we can possibly produce it with our steam plant. My investigation leads me to but one conclusion and that is that we are losing easily $10,000 per year right off by using our present method.

A new system could be put in at a cost of from $40,000 to $45,000 and would pay for itself entirely out of earnings above our present system in less than five years. Very largely the saving would be in the cost of fuel as our coal costs the city about $5.35 per ton in the bin and oil cost will be around 5 or 6c per gallon.

There are no ashes or cinders around an oil equipped plant and very little noise. If I am correctly informed we produce and use about one million K. W. H. during one year. If we saved only one cent per K. W. H. for the year our cost would be reduced by $10,000.

Were the city to put in a new plant at this time it would give some work for our unemployed at a time when so many men would be glad of a job. Not only that but at this time cost of material ought to be as low as it will ever get.

The only real objection to a new and better system is that we have an excellent steam plant that would not be of much value to sell and we could only use as a stand-by in case of emergency.

That is very true but this is a world of progress and if we are to stay here we must improve over what they are using that would cost by quite an item.

Now I am sitting on the "sidelines", as it were, and also watching the world go by, but always while here will take an interest in Ord, in Valley county and the State of Nebraska.

From the investigation I have made I believe it would be a grave mistake to not make move to improve our plant. I would think that a matter that ought to be taken up by the Commercial club and the Rotary club and might suggest that any taxpayer look up the facts as I have stated them and see if I have overstated the question.

Also I think our city council ought to consider the question as even if a decision in favor of an improvement be decided on it will take several months or maybe a year to put a new system in working condition.

Now I should be very glad for some one to come out and show wherein I have made misstatements or am wrong in any reasoning.

W. A. Anderson.

200 PRESENT AT SCRIP MEETING FRIDAY EVENING

A study of the plan discloses that it is really an expansion of currency with a provision limiting the expansion when it has reached its purpose. Should a city like Ord decide to issue $1,000 in scrip this amount would, when retired, have paid off $52,000 in debts of the city.

All manner of instruments are in this remarkable orchestra—a whole flock of violins led by Orville Sowl and his fiddle which was an heirloom when Stradevarius was a kid; a great harp which would not look so top-heavy if it stood on the other end; clarinets, oboes, a trombone, trumpet, cello, drums, etc.

When you mention a cello in Ord you naturally think of Edwin Clements. Edwin first began to play on the violin, but did not take to it very well. He used to like to lie on his back when practicing it until his good mother would stand it no longer. Just what she did to Edwin and that violin she never told me, but I got the impression that there are good uses for broomsticks other than sweeping the floor. Anyway Edwin has always sat up while playing the cello.

There are also tympans in the aggregation. These are a brood of little drums resulting from the cross of bass drum and a floor of bells, but they don't take much after their dad. They do not go thump-thump through the whole piece. The first intimation you have that the tympans are going to do something is when Arthur Auble begins to slowly shoo up toward the ceiling and about the time he reaches six feet or so the tympans begin to rattle in various pitches and when your mouth is open in wonder and admiration they suddenly stop and Arthur subsides.

The church auditorium was well packed last Sunday night by a highly entertained audience. The audience did not expect a good but there was a subtle something that told you that it wanted to applaud.

Several things demand special mention in this program: "The Holy City" sung by Mark Telen; "In the Garden," violin solo by Mr. Sowl; "Down to the Sea in Ships," bass solo by Elwin Auble; and interspersed through the overture a clarinet solo by Elizabeth Janssen, cornet solos by Dr. Kirby McGrew and cello solos by Mr. Clements.

Glen Auble, the director, overlooked an accordion solo by Arthur Auble which will be given later and will be just as acceptable.

The final number was an overture by Suppe, "Morning, Noon and Night in Vienna," a very difficult piece and very well played. Methodist Church Reporter.

Auble Concert Good.

If you are willing to take the say-so of a fellow who knows nothing about the technique of music, one who judges music solely by the effect of sweet sounds upon his untutored ears, you may set it down that about the best thing in the music line that has come to Ord recently was the program put on at the Methodist church last Sunday evening by the Auble Bros. orchestra.

The program was practically the one this orchestra put on at Burwell a month ago, and which they hope to give the people of Scotia soon.

All manner of instruments are in this remarkable orchestra—a whole flock of violins led by Orville Sowl and his fiddle which was an heirloom when Stradevarius was a kid; a great harp which would not look so top-heavy if it stood on the other end; clarinets, oboes, a trombone, trumpet, cello, drums, etc.

ESTABLISHED APRIL 1882

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 19, 1933.

VOL. 51 NO. 43

1933 ESTIMATE CUT $22,500 BY COUNTY BOARD

Bridge Fund Down Ten Thousand, No Road Fund Estimated; Farm Bureau Cut $900.

Demonstrating that the Valley county board of supervisors has embarked on a real economy program for 1933, the board's committee on estimates headed by Henry Desmuller last Thursday brought in a report estimating the county's 1933 expenditures at $84,900, a decrease of $22,500 from the estimates made for the past year. Other members of the committee were Joe Vasicek and J. A. Barber and the report was endorsed by unanimous acceptance by the county board.

While meaningless in itself, the annual estimate of expenditures limits levies that may be made next July. Except under certain emergency provisions, the board may not levy in excess of the amounts provided for in the annual estimate whereas it is likely that the full amount estimated will not be levied.

To make a reduction of $22,500 this year the board decreased its bridge fund estimate $10,000, eliminated last year's road fund estimate of $10,000 and cut by $2,500 the fund for court house bonds and interest.

Here is the estimate as adopted last Thursday:

General fund.....	$50,000.00
Court House bonds.....	7,500.00
County Fair Fund.....	2,000.00
County Bridge Fund.....	25,000.00
County Road Fund.....	NONE
Soldier's Relief.....	200.00
Mother's Pension.....	200.00
Total.....	$84,900.00

It is extremely unlikely that the estimate of $2,000 for the county fair will ever be levied and it is also unlikely that the entire bridge fund estimate will be levied, unless emergencies such as heavy floods in the spring make it necessary. The county plans little bridge construction for the coming summer but made the bridge estimate simply as a matter of protection.

The desire to economize was shown throughout the board's session last Friday. Clayton Ward, president of the Valley county farm bureau, appeared before the board with two fellow directors, Don Round and Joe Rousek, to request that the farm bureau budget of $2,500 be allowed, only to be informed that this was too high and that the budget would have to be reduced or it would be rejected. Mr. Ward continued with an offer to cut it to $2,400 but Chairman Johnson stated that this was still too high.

Another saving of $600 was made in the salary paid to R. G. Ayres, county engineer, who was elected for 1933 at a salary of $1,800 instead of the $2,400 that he was paid last year. The board also cut the wage of Dave Haight, court house janitor, from $100 per month to $85 a month and reduced the highway and bridge employees much lower than last year was also adopted.

The Taxpayers' league had requested that the number of telephones in the court house be cut to three, one being left on each floor, but supervisors want the league one better by eliminating all phones in the court house except one in the sheriff's office. Phones in other offices were removed Saturday.

The board took no action on the league's request that county officers be called together and asked to reduce their salaries voluntarily 15 per cent. A spokesman for the board states that Attorney General C. A. Sorensen ruled last year that it would be contrary to statute for a duly elected officer to reduce his salary voluntarily, it being held that this would be indirect bribery of voters. The only way county officers could do this, were they inclined to do so, would be for them to make a voluntary donation amounting to 15 per cent of their salaries to the Welfare Board or some other relief organization.

Nether did the board take action on the league's request that mileage be limited to 4 1/2¢ per mile. Supervisors are allowed 10¢ per mile and the sheriff is allowed 15¢ per mile by statute. County Engineer Ayres is allowed only 3¢ per mile and never has drawn more than this amount. County Agent Dale is allowed 5¢ per mile but this is fixed by the state and not by the county board. These are the only officers drawing mileage in this county.

A complete report of the board's activities throughout the session will be found in the board proceedings on another page of today's Quiz.

Infantile Paralysis Victim.

Arcaida, Jan. 17.—Anson Dockhorn, 2 1/2 year old son of Mr and Mrs. Gie Dockhorn of this neighborhood, has been very ill for the past week. The cause of the illness has not been definitely determined but the symptoms are those of infantile paralysis so the home has been placed under a quarantine.

Chester Fox Is Fined $100 on Booze Charge

Possession of a small quantity of liquor just as costly as having a large quantity—at least in Valley county. Arrested with a half pint of alcohol on his hip Friday by Marshal L. H. Covert, Chester Fox appeared in county court the next day and plead guilty to a possession charge filed against him by County Attorney Munn. Judge John L. Andersen fined him $100, the penalty provided by Nebraska statutes, and ordered him to pay the costs in the case, $8.05. So far young Mr. Fox has paid neither fine nor costs and it is likely that Valley county will have him as a guest for a month or so.

INCOME TAX BILL INTRODUCED BY MARION CUSHING

Married Men Who Makes Less Than 1 Thousand Exempted; Senate Bill Taxes Everyone.

Representative Marion Cushing of Ord, one of the few republicans in the lower house of the Nebraska legislature, last week proposed his state income tax bill, upon which he has been working for several years. Co-sponsors of the bill are Lukens, of Bloomfield, Anderson, of Kearney, Jensen and Haveston, of Dodge, Burr, of Adams, Bluff, of Hall, and Anderson, of Nuckolls. All are farmers.

The Cushing measure would tax single persons with a net income of $500 or more and married persons with a net income of $1,000 or more, the rate graduating from 1 per cent on the smaller incomes to 5 per cent on annual incomes of $5,000 or more.

Senator McCarter, of Bayard, president pro tem of the state senate, also proposed a "one tax" bill last week, his bill using noted for its brevity and the simplicity of its operation. It proposed a straight tax of 1 per cent on gross income, with no exemptions, and provided for payment by the month to county treasurers much as telephone and electric bills are paid at present.

Miss Helen Glover Weds In California

Miss Helen Glover, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Glover of Ord, was married at the Congregational church in San Bernardino, Calif., on Dec. 21, 1932. Mr. Brown, it is announced this morning, is an Ord high school graduate and also a graduate of the University of Nebraska. After teaching in Nebraska for a few years she accepted a position in Klamath Falls, Ore., later going to Palo Alto, Calif., to attend Leland Stanford university, where she was given a master's degree. Mr. Brown received his doctor's degree from Leland Stanford and is now in the salary paid to R. G. Ayres, county engineer, who was elected for 1933 at a salary of $1,800 instead of the $2,400 that he was paid last year.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon during Christmas vacation in the snow covered mountains of California and then returned to the state school during the week which will finish her year's work at Glendora, after which she and her husband will make their home in Palo Alto.

Philip Osentowski Guilty, Fined $25

County Judge John Andersen presided at his first misdemeanor trial Wednesday afternoon before a crowd which stuffed and overflowed the district court room, the case being that of assault and battery brought by Edmund Osentowski and his wife Helen against his uncle, Philip Osentowski. Judge Andersen found Philip guilty and fined him $25 and costs, but the case was promptly appealed by the attorneys for the defense, Hardenbrook & Misko, and appeal bond was filed.

Young Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Osentowski asserted on the stand that Philip Osentowski struck at them with a tree limb three or four feet long and 1 1/4 inches in diameter, also that Edmund ducked the blow and that it struck Helen on the right wrist. This happened on Jan. 2, 1933, on the highway near their home, they testified.

Philip and members of his family and a friend, Frank Pineda, told an exactly opposite tale from the witness stand, declaring Philip was ill that day, confined to his home and did not leave the house all day. Questions were put to Osentowski through John Pinski, who was called in to act as interpreter.

Prosecutor George Munn and the defense lawyers engaged in several lively verbal fights, greatly to the glee of the throng who listened.

FRANK GOLKA'S OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Celebration at Ord Tuesday To Honor Couple Who Married And Came Here in 1883.

Monday, Jan. 16, was a gay and exciting day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank X. Golka in Ord, when dozens of their relatives, friends called at their home all afternoon and evening, soft music was heard constantly, much good food was available, and beautiful decorations in evidence throughout the house. The occasion for all the party and trimmings was the fiftieth anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Golka, which took place in Milwaukee, Wis., in 1883.

Mr. Golka came to this country in 1877 and his wife arrived two years later. After working in Chicago awhile, Mr. Golka came out to investigate the North Loup valley, and in 1880 he saw what is now Geranium township land and liked it so much that he bought a quarter section. Returning to Illinois, he worked three years more before going to Milwaukee to be married. With his bride, the young man turned westward at once and came directly to Valley county, where the family home has been ever since that time.

Arrived in this fertile new land the young Mr. and Mrs. Golka had no house to live in, but kindly neighbors, the John Petska family, took them in until their sod house was ready to occupy. The Petska home was only half a mile from them, and so work could progress easily on the new soddy. Sod was secured from a fertile logoon plain where the grass was thick and tall. A few cuts with a foot or more wide and long enough to throw over the house for a roof, and the grass was so good that the strips never broke. The new house, 52 feet long, was quite an undertaking, and it was nearly two months before it was ready to occupy.

EAST ORD QUINT LOSES TO DANES, BEATS RAVENNA

Molzen Cagers Lose At Dannebrog 31 to 26, Reverse Dope To Beat Ravenna, 34 to 23.

Coach Molzen's Ord sharpshooters met an obstacle in their rush for Loup valley championship, realizing that the Dannebrog team at Dannebrog they lost by the score of 31 to 26 in a game distinguished by the fast play of the inexperienced Danes. Dannebrog, Loup valley champions last year, lost most of their team by graduation but are back again this year with a new crop of cagers that will be world beaters by the time the season ends.

Proving that their defeat Friday was only a happenstance, the Ord team turned out Tuesday evening and beat the fast Ravenna team on the Ord floor by a score of 34 to 23. Deadly basket shooting by Benda and Smith, a whirlwind floor game by Steinworth and excellent guarding by little Bert Boquet and Guy Keup featured the game Tuesday evening.

Ravenna started out fast and before the game was five minutes old led by a score of 7 to 0. Then the Dannebrogers went into action and their sharp passing attack worked perfectly, rang up five field goals in quick succession, forcing Ravenna to take time out to consider the situation. Their consideration didn't alter things, though, for Ord continued to score field goals and at half time led 22 to 12, maintaining about a ten point lead throughout the last half.

Tomorrow evening Farwell plays in the Ord gymnasium. This team is coached by L. A. Garner, a 1924 alumnus of Ord high school, and has been acting as "Jack, the Giant Killer" in its basketball relations with larger valley schools this year. Burwell was originally scheduled to play here Friday evening but cancelled the game and Farwell was substituted.

Valley County Boys At Western National

Four members of Valley county caft clubs, accompanied by their coach, County Agent Dale, drove to Denver last Friday where their calves were being exhibited at the Western National Livestock Show. Boys making the trip were Melvin Koelling, Harlan Wyrick, Gilbert Babcock and Orvel Sorensen. The latter's Hereford won fifth place in the summer yearling class, which was the best prize won by the local group. Competition was very strong. Mr. Dale reports, as calves were shown from states of Nebraska, Kansas, Colorado, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Utah and New Mexico. The local people returned home Monday.

Fred Swanson Wins Winter Golf Game With 30 Round

Mid-winter golf is Fred Swanson's favorite dish—he loves it. Playing the Ord course Sunday in company with seven other golfers, Fred came through with a snappy 30 which, in case you don't know it, boys and girls, is just three strokes under par for the course. On his first round Sunday he shot 39, then smashed par by three strokes on his second round.

The Ord course has been in unusually good condition for mid-winter, due to the lack of moisture and the California weather that we have been having. Several golfers have been playing the course regularly throughout late December and early January.

LEON GARDNER HURT BY BLAST FROM SHOTGUN

Sargent Young Man, Former Filling Station Manager Here, Has Right Shoulder Hurt.

Leon Gardner, 25-year-old Sargent man and formerly manager of the Phillips 66 gas station here, was badly hurt at Burwell last Friday when a 16-gauge shotgun discharged as he ascended toward his home. The shot charge struck him in the right shoulder and shattered the shoulder blade.

The accident occurred at the home of Mrs. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McMullen, where young Gardner had been assisting in hanging wood. In the evening Gardner was in the kitchen of the McMullen home trying to repair the damaged stock of the gun. He reached across a chair to pick the gun up by the muzzle and when he pulled it toward him the hammer of the gun hit the edge of the chair, the weapon discharging at point blank range.

Following x-ray examinations he was rushed to Hillcrest hospital here where an operation was performed early Saturday morning by Drs. Weekes and Crum. Although the wound is not serious, a few shot penetrated his lungs they do not seem to be troubling him, Dr. Weekes states.

He is a son of George Gardner, a well known local association with him in the management of the Phillips station here a few months ago.

Andersen Store to Move. Hans Andersen and his son, Frank, who are associated in the grocery and meat business, this week leased the store room on the west side of the square occupied for many years by the Parkins jewelry store and will move into it about the first of February. They are announcing a reduction sale of groceries this week, preparatory to moving.

Sargent Put On Probation. Because during the football season they used a player not listed on eligibility lists furnished to other schools, Sargent high school last week was put on probation by the Nebraska High School Athletic association and the case will be decided at the next meeting of the Board of Control March 19. Sargent won the Loup valley association football championship last fall and this offense may result in their title being cancelled and awarded to the runner-up team, Arcaida.

22 Young Folks Represent Valley County At University of Nebraska This Year

FINAL CANVASS ON SCRIP PLAN WILL BE MADE

C. of C. Committee Will Circulate Petition To Find Out Whether Merchants Want It.

Whether or not the Ord city council will be petitioned to adopt the scrip plan remains uncertain as the Quiz goes to press this week.

Last Thursday evening a meeting was held at the city hall to discuss scrip and about forty business men attended, which is only about half of the merchants and business men who should have been represented there.

Harlan T. Frazier, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the meeting and Secretary Glen Aulsebrook explained the plan in detail, which he did. The meeting was then turned into an open forum discussion, with merchants submitting a list of questions or state objections. During this discussion some opposition to scrip developed but it was opposition to details of handling the plan rather than to scrip itself.

Officers and directors of the Chamber of Commerce, who are almost unanimous in favoring scrip, presented a petition drawn up for presentation to the city council and invited all who favor scrip to sign the petition. About twenty did so.

The petition, if presented to the council, will ask that body to issue $500 in self-liquidating scrip and plan city projects that will furnish employment to some of Ord's idle men, paying them in scrip which will be honored at its face value by all merchants who subscribe to the plan. The petition also requests the city to sell stamps to be applied to the scrip, each person through whose hands it passes applying a 2¢ stamp. In this way scrip will have its own life and will not be a mere piece of paper.

The petition also asks the council to appoint a committee to administer the plan, this committee to be composed of five men, one to be appointed by the council, one by the Chamber of Commerce, one by the board of education, one by the Rotary club and one by the Welfare Board.

Young Man Arrested, Released. Darrel Luddington, young Ord man, was taken into custody Saturday evening by Marshal L. H. Covert upon suspicion of intoxication and was taken to the court house for questioning. There it was brought out that his odd actions were caused, not by indulgence in liquor, but by barbitol tablets that he had taken to relieve pain. A few months ago Darrel was badly hurt in a highway accident and ever since then he has suffered excruciating pain during which he has been taking these tablets. Saturday evening he took four of them, officers were told, and they acted as a stimulant and hypnotic, causing him to act peculiarly. He was released.

Firemen's Ball Feb. 7. The Ord Volunteer Fire Department this week announces that their annual ball will be held on Tuesday, February 7, at the Bohemian hall. This is the forty-fifth annual ball and as usual Fire Chief Shirley will lead the grand march. There will be good music by a popular orchestra playing both old time and modern music.

The next meeting of the O. O. S. club will be held in the home of Mrs. H. G. Frey.

Clara McClatchey Heads Red Cross

At the annual meeting of the Valley County Red Cross, held last Friday afternoon at the court house, Miss Clara M. McClatchey was re-elected county chairman. Will Ramsey, Jr., of Arcaida, was chosen vice chairman and Jos. P. Baria was elected secretary-treasurer.

The matter of distribution of the Red Cross flour and cotton goods was discussed and it was reported that this work has been turned over to Valley county through its welfare and relief committees. Mrs. Wm. Carlton was appointed chairman of the Red Cross Volunteer Service Committee and any Ord ladies desiring to help Red Cross sewing should see her.

FUNERAL RITES OF MRS. SHIRLEY IN ORD SUNDAY

Former Ordite Who Died in Denver Laid To Rest Here; Husband Died 38 Years Ago.

Last rites were held at the Sowl funeral parlors Sunday afternoon at two o'clock for Mrs. John P. Shirley, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lottie Weare, in Denver on Tuesday, January 10. At the time of her death Mrs. Shirley was 83 years, 10 months and 11 days of age. For about fifteen years she had made her home with Mrs. Weare in Denver. Before that the Shirley home was in Ord for many years, and here Mrs. Shirley made a circle of staunch friends.

Mary Hanna Lancaster was born February 21, 1844. As a very young girl she became a member of the Baptist church, to which she clung through life. In 1861 she was united in marriage to John P. Shirley and to them were born eight children: Ambrose J. of Ord, Maud M. Anderson of Denver, Thomas F. and Orville E., both of whom passed away within the last year or two, Franklin M. who died

LEGION'S FIRST DUTY AT HOME, SAYS ARMSTRONG

State Commander Announces Membership Program; Local Committees Appointed.

Plans for participation in the American Legion's state-wide membership enrollment are being perfected by Commander John Goddard of Fidelity Post, No. 38, who before in carrying out the plan has set up a local organization and see that all members of the Legion are enrolled during the week beginning January 16.

Each post throughout the entire state is devoting this week to this work as it represents a most important job for the veterans this year. The added burdens in welfare and relief work, along with the Legion's customary activities in community service, Americanism and boys' work, make necessary the full working strength of the organization.

Department Commander Robert M. Armstrong is appealing to all eligible ex-service men and particularly all former members of the Legion to renew their membership early, as their assistance will be needed to a greater extent than ever before in carrying out the Legion's program of relief and service. The slogan he has suggested is "Keep Step and Carry On." He points out that the Legion's opportunity for real service is not diminishing but rather increasing with the passage of years, and he urges the membership to assume leadership in the meritorious work of each locality for the alleviation of distress, the building of character and the establishment of a better and more wholesome community.

He said in his message to Ord post officers, "The Department of Nebraska is only as big and as worthwhile as the local post. To the people of a town where the American Legion Post is dead or dying, the Department of Nebraska and the national organization are dead ones. The way to make your organization felt and respected is for you to obtain a representative membership and then set busy helping the people of your community to do worthwhile things."

Two Public Sales. Two clean-up sales are being advertised in today's Quiz, the W. J. Hibbs sale to be held on the farm near North Loup next Tuesday, Jan. 24, and the Frank Kruml sale to be held on the Jim Kruml farm northeast of Ord next Wednesday, Jan. 25. See these advertisements elsewhere in the paper.

Farmers Meeting Today. The annual stockholders' meeting of the Farmers Grain & Supply company is being held this afternoon at the Bohemian hall.

FARM HOLIDAY MOVEMENT NOW COMING TO ORD

Valley County Association Will Be Formed at Meeting Here Next Monday, January 23.

The Farmers Holiday Association comes to Valley county!

At 2 p. m. next Monday, January 23, a meeting of this organization will be held at the district court room in Ord for the purpose of forming a Valley county association. Three Davis Creek farmers who are interested in the movement, R. B. Brunsdon, Sam and Ed Jefferies, were in Ord yesterday making arrangements for the meeting. They state that if the district court room is not large enough to accommodate the crowd of farmers that attend, the meeting will be held elsewhere, possibly at the opera house.

Two weeks ago the Farmers Holiday association was organized in Sherman county and R. Brunsdon, Loup City newspaper man served as temporary chairman of the meeting. Mr. Brunsdon has agreed to come to Ord next Monday to help start the local association. The meeting from Newman Grove also will be here, it is promised.

Everybody has read in the dailies about the Farmers Holiday movement and its militant actions in demanding and securing justice for farmers. The movement has often been misrepresented, Messrs. Rich, Sample and Jeffries claim, and some people have the idea that it is an organization seeking to invoke "gang law." This is not so, they claim. The purpose of the organization, as set forth in its by-laws, is "to direct the action of the Nebraska farmers in all forms of struggle against the money interests that are threatening the farm population with immediate ruin."

"We are resolved that the Holiday Association of Nebraska shall be representative of farmers only," the by-laws set forth. "The day of the 'salaried leader' is over. Therefore no dues shall be collected nor shall any organizer or officer receive a salary. To finance the small expenses necessary to operate the farmers are called upon to help with contributions at local meetings to defray the cost of gas and oil of any organizer's car, coming from township to township, and for the transportation of dues and feed organizers working in their communities."

The Holiday Association's program of immediate demands follows:

"We demand cost of production for our farm products, plus an amount which will insure us a decent standard of living. Our debts, rents, taxes and mortgages on the farm are too high when prices were high. We cannot pay any of these until debts and prices get back to the same level. Our cash income now is now too small to make a decent living to our families. Therefore, we demand a moratorium on mortgages and interest for poor families until such time as the prices they receive are adequate to insure them their share of the good things of life. "Inasmuch as our government has established the principle of cancellation as in respect to European war debts, we demand the cancellation of feed and seed loans by the government."

"We demand that the heavily mortgaged land of the poor farmers be exempt from taxes, the exemption to take place before December 1. The sum necessary for the operation of government must be raised by increased taxes on corporations and trusts, and by the enforcement of tax levies against banks and insurance companies already a part of the law of the state but never before enforced. "We demand a moratorium on rents until such time as the prices of the farmers' products equal the cost of production plus a decent standard of living. "We demand that there be no evictions and that the government officers publicly pledge themselves at once against evictions."

The Holiday association is determined to realize its program of higher prices not by forcing city consumers to pay a higher price but by cutting down the profits of middle men and moneyed interests by by-laws. The organization also promises free food and milk to the needy and unemployed in the cities. There is much interest locally in this movement and the meeting next Monday will probably be largely attended.

NOT ENOUGH ADVERTISING.
Many merchants who are complaining that there is no business and citing a variety of reasons for this condition have overlooked the one basic reason. They have quit trying to get business. Merchants in other towns who have gone aggressively after business are getting it, even in these difficult times. There is still business to be had, for the man who will work for it in an intelligent and aggressive manner.

During the winter weeks of 1932 the Quiz proved that people will still buy when something that they want and need is offered them at a price they can afford to pay. We refer to our two Dollar Day campaigns on subscription, in which we secured almost 1,500 new and renewal subscriptions, and took in upwards of $2,000. There is still business to be had, and plenty of it, as this experiment proved.

Too few are the merchants who plan their entire commercial existence around an intelligent use of advertising. They know their business in other ways but they think last of advertising when they should think of it first. No store can succeed in this age without the use of advertising in one form or another and of all kinds the most successful when properly and intelligently used is newspaper advertising.

One of the most successful merchants in the United States credits his entire success to advertising. Here is his credo:
1. I advertise regularly. Every issue of the paper takes my story to its readers.
2. I make every ad look like mine. Years ago I adopted a distinctive style, and have stuck to it. I use plenty of white space; my ads are never hard to read.
3. I put into newspaper advertising a definite proportion of my gross sales. I fix this at the beginning of the year. My rule is to make it three per cent of the previous year's gross, with more if special conditions justify it.
4. I brighten my ads with frequent illustrations, either humorous or practical.
5. I am careful never to overpromise. When I make claims I back them up with reasons. Then when I really have an unusual bargain, people believe me when I "whoop" up a little.
6. I think advertising all the time. I buy goods that will advertise well. Sometimes I buy goods just for their advertising value.

7. I get good display for my ads by seeing that the copy is in the newspaper office in plenty of time. I do this by having a definite hour to write the copy.
8. Whenever possible, I carry the nationally advertised goods and advertise them in my own paper. I feature them. Sometimes they give me a smaller margin than fly-by-night concerns, but I find that I sell faster and make more money in the end, besides pleasing more customers.
9. I always plan my window and counter displays to link up with my newspaper advertising. Each helps the other.
10. My sales people back up my advertising. They often help with suggestions for it, and I see to it that they always read the paper. Every business man who reads this article should clip this retailer's advice and hang it over his desk, where he can study it for a few minutes every day. In it is the secret of successful merchandising.

CHECKING UP ON TERRY.
It will be interesting, two years from now, to see whether our congressman, Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, is a candidate for reelection. Unless he reverses his opinion during the next twenty-four months he will not be, for last week before the Nebraska Beet Growers association he expressed the opinion that congressmen should not be re-elected year after year. The public should "pass the jobs around to get better results," he said, to quote him accurately.

Furthermore, young Mr. Carpenter believes that the $10,000 salary paid 19 congressmen is too high. They are thus provided with too much luxury and prevented from having a true picture of the needs and desires of their constituents, he said.
All of this may be good political flub-dub but it is the kind of dope that may rebound upon its author two years hence. Mr. Carpenter may be telling the truth as he sees it now but two years in public office have caused better men than he to change their minds. Two years from now Terry will be putting out the same old stuff that other congressmen put out—"in his first term a congressman just gets acquainted and learns the ropes. After that he is in shape to give his district some service. Don't send a new man to Washington, re-select me." How Terry will wish then that he had made fewer speeches in the winter of 1932-33.

The Quiz has no quarrel with Congressman Carpenter's statement that $10,000 a year is too much salary. We believe it is, just as we believe he is wrong in urging that a new man be sent to Washington every term or two. Eastern states have learned that they get nowhere by changing congressmen. Consequently, they keep re-electing the same ones, by seniority, become heads of all important committees while the west and central west with constant changes, lose all seniority rights. The east dominates in the House of Representatives solely because the purview of the west and central west will bet Terry will have come around to this way of thinking but then some hard-hearted editor will bounce up to repeat Terry's speech of last week.

Truly silence is golden.

SAVE THE GAME COMMISSION.
A situation has developed at Lincoln that presages grave disaster to the bipartisan game and fish commission that has so ably developed Nebraska's lakes and recreation grounds in recent years. Governor Bryan in his annual message recommended that the administration of conservation in Nebraska be placed under the direct control of the governor with a bi-partisan board serving only in an advisory capacity, and who game warden and state parks and state sheriff's office. From this recommendation it would appear that Bryan is trying to make the game and fish commission a political football and fix things so that politicians can get their hands on game funds and divert them to other uses. With a democratic legislature at his beck and call it is likely that Governor Bryan's plan will succeed unless sport lovers immediately go into action to warn legislators not to accede to the Bryan recommendation.

Under the game and fish commission in recent years a constructive program of conservation of our natural resources has been carried out. Using only the funds paid by sportsmen for licenses, the commission has restocked lakes and streams, established state parks and game refuges and otherwise acted in a sagacious and far-seeing manner. If the Bryan recommendation is followed this work cannot be continued because instead of being able to plan a program of conservation for the future and carry it out the commission will be on a political basis and newcomers will hold places on it every two years, or at least every time a new governor takes office. Furthermore, it is probable that the commission will be cut playing politics to re-elect the governor who appointed them, instead of carrying out the work for which they are appointed.
It should be understood that not one penny of tax money is used for fish and game conservation. Every dollar used for this work is paid by sportsmen themselves and there is no reason why the money that sportsmen pay for hunting and fishing licenses should be diverted to general fund uses.

Write to your representative and your senator, Mr. Sportsman, and have your friends do likewise. Let's keep conservation work going in Nebraska.

FREE PUBLICITY.
Why do editors so love to give away newspaper space—their stock in the trade—to the clever publicity artists who send them reams of advertising carefully disguised as news. There is some justification for the editor who gives away some of his space to boost his own town and its institutions but none whatever for the editor who falls for city space grafters. Not only does he injure himself when he accepts their gift but he hurts the whole newspaper profession.

Loup valley editors, who probably not the worst offenders in the world, fall for a good many of these grafts. In one of our exchanges this week we note almost a column of "advice in the feeding of dogs" which serves no other purpose than to advertise the merits of a certain dog food concocted principally of horse meat. Does this editor think that the dog-food manufacturer will ever spend a thin dime for advertising space when he can get it free? Another valley paper prints a flock of recipes in which canned pineapple is the principal ingredient. Still another helps a music publisher "plug" his latest song hits. Another helps to advertise a current movie production, still another, a well known kind of weather stripping. A good fourth of our exchanges prove that their editors have "bitten" on one publicity graft or another. We're even afraid to examine the Quiz columns carefully for fear some of this material has crept in.
No other business man is so careless about giving away his stock in trade as is the editor. No other business man has so many demands as the editor. Everybody with "something to sell or some cause to advance" takes the attitude that the newspaper should advertise for him free.

We believe every publisher should adopt a resolution to ban free publicity from his columns in 1933.

Shower for Newlyweds.
On Sunday evening, Jan. 8 a shower was held in the Steve Papernik home in honor of Edward Penas, Agnes Hruby, Valerian Shonka and Alice Penas, who were principals in a double wedding ceremony at the Ord Catholic church two days later. Many beautiful and useful gifts were presented to the two couples by a large crowd of friends. Mr. and Mrs. Penas and Mr. and Mrs. Shonka desire to thank their friends for the gifts.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

Judging from the newspaper lists of proposed laws being introduced, our legislators are willing to cut the salaries of everyone and everything but their own. They first made a great hellaballoo about not issuing postage stamps to the members and adopted a resolution to let each pay his own postage when he wrote home, but they soon reconsidered that and allowed themselves several times as many stamps as most of them will use. Someone introduced a bill seeking to cut the salaries of the members ten per cent and they killed that move almost before it got started.

I liked what Supt. Bell did recently in volunteering to take a salary cut. Now is a mighty poor time for any salary man to get the idea that he must not take a cut, if he is still getting what was a fair salary before the depression. Most of us are in the same predicament of thousands of dollars, are having a hard struggle to keep things going; many of them cannot pay their taxes now; lots of men with families are without work and are out of the few days of work in months, and a salary man will be drawing the same salary that he was mighty glad to take when most living costs were double or more than double what they are now, is in no shape to resist a cut. He has got to come to the realization that he had better jump at the chance to take it while the taking is good.

I don't know what a scrip plan would do for Ord but I would like to see it tried out on a small scale. It can't hurt much if only $500 is issued to start with. The only question is whether it will circulate. The boys in the Quiz office say they are willing to take at least 20 per cent of their wages in scrip. They go out and spend that much or more every week. They will all take more of the scrip than they can use. Stop and think how over it will circulate. The boys in the Quiz office say they are willing to take at least 20 per cent of their pay in scrip. With only $500 in circulation, there would not be near enough to go around and the scrip would have to be doubled. The Quiz scrip for subscription, job printing, merchandise and if we don't get enough to pay the help their 20 per cent and buy what we have to buy each week, I will take some cash out of the bill (if there is any there) and over to the bank to get it. I'll give the scrip to the bank and they will give me the cash. I'll give the scrip to the bank and they will give me the cash. I'll give the scrip to the bank and they will give me the cash.

It was quite a job to send out the calendars, but all have now been sent, outside of Ord city and Ord rural routes, that we had on our spindles to send. There is a calendar for every Quiz subscriber and we want you to have yours. In the calendar, in order to protect them from undue pressure in those states where the government of Saskatchewan has set up a Debt Adjustment Bureau.
When a farmer cannot meet his obligations he applies to this agency. The Bureau steps in, and is nearly always able to effect an agreement between the debtor and his creditors.
If they cannot agree, the Debt Adjusting Bureau issues a certificate and under it takes full charge of the settlement. No suit, seizure, or any other legal proceedings can then be taken without authority of the commissioner.
The farmer sells his produce in the name of the commissioner, who distributes the proceeds, all the way from the farm to the market, for the maintenance of himself and family. The Bureau endeavors to secure enough to carry the property for interest and taxes. Frequently less is accepted.
The same protection is offered to urban home owners and merchants. It would seem that here is one government act which really does something for farmers and others hard pressed to meet their debts.
It has become necessary in view of the fact that the purchasing power of agriculture is about one-half of the prewar period. Taking prices of 1910-1914 as equal to 100, some current prices are listed below.

Ray Enger New Fire Chief.
Burwell firemen recently elected Ray Enger fire chief and he took charge of the firemen for the first time last Friday when the McClimans home there burned. The house was one of the largest in Burwell and was one of the landmarks of that city, located as it is on the main highway leading into town. The fire broke out in the attic and for a time the three-story structure was in danger of being completely destroyed but firemen soon had the blaze under control. Ray is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Enger, Ord, and for some years has been in the electric business at Burwell. Recently he purchased an interest in the Miller & Reasoner garage, also.
—The James Ollis family have moved back to town and for the next few weeks will stay in the home of Mrs. Ollis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Hastings. Mrs. Hastings is in ill health.

Ora Taylor, who had been editing a paper at Greeley, returned to his work on the Quiz and Norm Parks resigned to accept a job in Denver. Directors of the First National held their annual meeting and in appreciation of Joe Baria's faithful work made him assistant cashier at a nice increase in salary, also giving him a few days vacation which he spent by going to Lincoln to the democratic love-feast with W. J. Bryan.

While coming down town on horse back Ralph Norman suffered an accident that kept him out of crutches for some weeks. The horse was not shod and slipped on the icy street, falling on Ralph and breaking both bones in one his legs.

John Bremer was re-elected chairman of the county board. Mr. Bremer was still laid up from injuries received by a bad fall. Charlie Brown sold his north side restaurant to Warren Draper and Steve Parks.

G. F. Houtby, who had recently purchased the Thrasher implement business at North Loup, was remodeling the building.

John Boettger, of Enterprise, was about to embark in the well and windmill business. Machinery was being installed in the new creamery building at North Loup.

Rollin Bond who had job as advance agent for the Schubert musical shows and was in Omaha on business, ran up to Ord to spend the week end with his mother and sister.

The death of Joseph Ord in Philadelphia revived the story that he was a grandson of the King of England. A story in the Philadelphia Inquirer said that Joseph Ord's father, James Ord, was the son of Mrs. Fitzherbert and the then Prince of Wales, who later became King George IV of England. Paris proving their morganatic marriage had been discovered, the Philadelphia paper said. The James Ord who was the grandson of a king had four sons, Judge Pacifico Ord, Gen. O. C. Ord, John Ord, a Kansas physician in Baltimore, and Joseph Ord. This town was named after General Ord, who at one time commanded the Department of the Platte.

Mr. and Mrs. Marlon Crosby had returned from Canada and Marlon was working in Lincoln for Cornell Bros.

Judge A. A. Laverty, one of Ord's early settlers, passed away at his home in South Omaha.

Something DIFFERENT

Someone informed me the other day that there were four Frank Johnson's in the four towns in the Loup Valley, Burwell, Elyria, Ord and North Loup, one to a town of course.

Rather odd if it's true. You may have the task of checking up in the town closest to you.

Fishing licenses for the ensuing year, 1933 are now on sale of course, but you would think it would be a little while yet till using time for them wouldn't you? But Emil Fafetta has already purchased his 1933 fishing license, he trustfully confided to a Quiz reporter, and is quite enthused about the approaching season. The seasonable weather had him nearly ready to start, before the cold snap the first of the week.
It is also rumored, Mrs. Chapman reports to me, that Bill Bartlett and Guy Burrows are in a similar condition, each with a high fishing fever. Probably there are several more victims of this untimely illness.

I think the Minnesota pastor who had the brilliant inspiration of asking each errand family to donate a penny a week to his fund for less fortunate had a real idea.
Any family that is working that cares to do so promises a penny a week to his fund for families without jobs. This idea works no hardship on anyone, and really aids the others, too, as the papers printing the story give the amount of donations to be $50.
If we need to, we could do that here. Or more. This is Nebraska.

One thing about "Hard Time" dances in depression days, people aren't too proud to actually dress the part, says a Quiz visitor who called Monday night's week.
In supposedly better days, a hard time dance brought about six couples in terrible looking regalia, those six being good sports who wanted to have a good time. But now, everyone is willing to wear old clothes, probably because it is so hard to do.
Are they having fun at the hard time dances? Dignity is forgotten, patched and torn clothes the order of the evening, the ice is well broken at the start, and a jolly good time is the result.
One of the advantages of a dependable, all wool and yard wide depression, eh?

Snut Pudding.
Mix one-half cup sugar, two cups ground bread crumbs and one cup ground snut together as you would for pie crust. Add one teaspoon cinnamon, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon nutmeg, one-fourth teaspoon salt and one teaspoon soda, also one cup raisins and nuts. Lastly put in two cups sweet milk. Stir well, put in a square greased baking pan and bake 45 minutes in a slow oven. Serve with whipped cream. This is good, and may be made quickly. Irene Miller.

Apple Roll-Overs.
Sift flour, measure out one cup and add one teaspoon baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt and sift again. Cut in three tablespoons butter or other shortening, beat an egg and stir in one-third cup milk, then add all the flour is moist and until it forms a soft dough. Turn out on a slightly floured surface and roll out for 30 seconds, roll one-eighth inch thick and cut in squares about 3 by 3 inches. Spread with thick apple sauce, sprinkle with sugar and cinnamon and pinch corners together. Bake on an ungreased baking sheet about 15 minutes or until done. This makes eight or ten. We like these in place of hot biscuits. Mrs. John J. Michalek, Omaha

State Capitol News
By PARKE F. KEAYS
At the conclusion of the second week's work, the legislature had nearly 200 bills in the hopper. A few more bills have been introduced in the house than in the senate.
Both the house and senate were deluged during the week with petitions from groups of their constituents. A great number of petitions were from groups of independent merchants over the state asking for special taxation on certain stores. A number of other petitions from various sections of the state urged that the legislature should not tamper with Nebraska's law prohibiting manufacture and sale of liquor.
The committee on privileges and election recommended that the house dismiss the contest brought by John S. Bishop, republican, against Wm. H. Moler, democrat, for a seat in the house as representative from Lancaster county. The house laid the report over for one day. Friday morning, however, they adopted the recommendation of the committee, confirming Meier's election to the house. Representative Cushing, minority member of the committee, opposed adoption of the majority report on the floor but the report was adopted by an overwhelming vote.
The senate found it necessary to recall a resolution which had been passed in regard to salaries of its employees. The committee dealing with this subject had recommended a substantial reduction of salaries of all employees. It was later learned, however, that the salaries of three of the employees were provided for in the statutes and could not be altered by the senate. Consequently, the entire matter was referred again to the committee for readjustment.
An opinion obtained by both houses from the attorney general was favorable to the use of the electric voting machine. The attorney general construed that the constitutional requirement that voting in the legislature be "viva voce" meant that the voting should not be by secret ballot. The ruling pointed out that the voting machine, through its system of lights, revealed the vote of each member and recorded it the same as if the old system of yeas and nays vote was followed. The matter was discussed on the floor of the senate Thursday and Friday. A motion was made to amend the senate rules to permit the use of the machine and to use it on voting on an inconsequential bill, thereby making a test case for the supreme court. The motion was tabled, however, and a committee of three was named to confer with a like committee from the house and the attorney general to make a further report on the matter. In the house the matter was referred to the rules committee and no definite action had been taken at the end of the week.
Nearly two-thirds of the membership of the senate have gone on record as favoring a reduction of salaries of state officers, including the governor.
The appointment of State Tax Commissioner Smith, which was confirmed during the first week, was reconsidered and the appointment of Kenneth Wherry as a member of the board of control was held up pending action on salary reductions.
A number of senators introduced a state salaries bill which does not cut the pay of legislators but brings about reduction of $200 per year in the salary of tax commissioner, $800 on state officers and district court judges, $1,400 for members of the board of control and $2,000 for members of the railway commission. In the case of elective officers, the salary reductions would probably not be effective during the present term of office. In the case of appointive officers, however, the reduction would become effective immediately.
S. F. 1, ratifying the federal constitution amendment eliminating lame duck sessions of congress, was rapidly passed by the senate. When it started on its way in the house, however, certain amendments were made in phrasology and the bill was returned to the senate for approval of the amendments.
The two legislative pay bills were passed in both houses and the first checks were issued late last week, giving the members $300 of their salary, plus mileage.

The motion was tabled, however, and a committee of three was named to confer with a like committee from the house and the attorney general to make a further report on the matter. In the house the matter was referred to the rules committee and no definite action had been taken at the end of the week.
Nearly two-thirds of the membership of the senate have gone on record as favoring a reduction of salaries of state officers, including the governor.
The appointment of State Tax Commissioner Smith, which was confirmed during the first week, was reconsidered and the appointment of Kenneth Wherry as a member of the board of control was held up pending action on salary reductions.
A number of senators introduced a state salaries bill which does not cut the pay of legislators but brings about reduction of $200 per year in the salary of tax commissioner, $800 on state officers and district court judges, $1,400 for members of the board of control and $2,000 for members of the railway commission. In the case of elective officers, the salary reductions would probably not be effective during the present term of office. In the case of appointive officers, however, the reduction would become effective immediately.
S. F. 1, ratifying the federal constitution amendment eliminating lame duck sessions of congress, was rapidly passed by the senate. When it started on its way in the house, however, certain amendments were made in phrasology and the bill was returned to the senate for approval of the amendments.
The two legislative pay bills were passed in both houses and the first checks were issued late last week, giving the members $300 of their salary, plus mileage.
Both the house and senate were deluged during the week with petitions from groups of their constituents. A great number of petitions were from groups of independent merchants over the state asking for special taxation on certain stores. A number of other petitions from various sections of the state urged that the legislature should not tamper with Nebraska's law prohibiting manufacture and sale of liquor.
The committee on privileges and election recommended that the house dismiss the contest brought by John S. Bishop, republican, against Wm. H. Moler, democrat, for a seat in the house as representative from Lancaster county. The house laid the report over for one day. Friday morning, however, they adopted the recommendation of the committee, confirming Meier's election to the house. Representative Cushing, minority member of the committee, opposed adoption of the majority report on the floor but the report was adopted by an overwhelming vote.
The senate found it necessary to recall a resolution which had been passed in regard to salaries of its employees. The committee dealing with this subject had recommended a substantial reduction of salaries of all employees. It was later learned, however, that the salaries of three of the employees were provided for in the statutes and could not be altered by the senate. Consequently, the entire matter was referred again to the committee for readjustment.
An opinion obtained by both houses from the attorney general was favorable to the use of the electric voting machine. The attorney general construed that the constitutional requirement that voting in the legislature be "viva voce" meant that the voting should not be by secret ballot. The ruling pointed out that the voting machine, through its system of lights, revealed the vote of each member and recorded it the same as if the old system of yeas and nays vote was followed. The matter was discussed on the floor of the senate Thursday and Friday. A motion was made to amend the senate rules to permit the use of the machine and to use it on voting on an inconsequential bill, thereby making a test case for the supreme court. The motion was tabled, however, and a committee of three was named to confer with a like committee from the house and the attorney general to make a further report on the matter. FRANK GOLKA'S OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY fore it was ready. But it lasted, solid and warm, for twenty years. Six boys and five girls were born to join the Golka family among them being Joe, Frank and Theodore, who farm near Ord; Mrs. Sophie Kusek, Mrs. Angie Rusovskil and Stanley of near Elvira, Mrs. Mary Powell and John Golka, both of Alberta, Canada, Mrs. Cecilia Slobazewski of Kimball, Edward, who farms in western Nebraska, and Mrs. Helen Synak, who now lives in Utah. All the children have married, though Joe and Mary have lost their mates through death. There are 68 grandchildren, and five great grandchildren in the Golka family now.

Honoring the happy pair, Father Lawler officiated at a special mass for them Monday evening. At that time the union was renewed and blessed, and special music was provided. The church was well filled for the service.

Decorations of gold and white crepe paper and flowers gave the Golka home a festive air Monday, and the table was ornamented with a big yellow cake elaborately trimmed, and fern leaves were grouped about it. At noon a delicious dinner was served to about a hundred friends and relatives, and approximately the same number were there for supper. The Golkas received all manner of lovely gifts from those who called throughout the day. Music was provided from noon until nearly four a. m. Tuesday by Greenwald's orchestra, with dancing and conversation as the amusements. Mr. and Mrs. Golka did their share of the dancing, and the tiny children entertained the crowd the same way, dancing too.

Four of the children were unable to come home to help celebrate, Cecilia, Edward, Helen and John. But the house was crowded all day with throngs of guests, each of whom wished Mr. and Mrs. Golka many happy returns of their golden wedding day.

FUNERAL RITES OF MRS. SHIRLEY IN ORD SUNDAY

at the age of two years, Rose E. who passed away when a tiny baby, Ruthford B. of Ord and Lottie P. Weare of Denver.

Mrs. Shirley came from Iowa to Nebraska in 1869, and here she spent most of her life. Mr. Shirley preceded her in death 38 years ago last May. Left to mourn besides the two sons and two daughters, are two sisters, Mrs. O. Finley of Red Oak, Ia., and Mrs. Sarah Cummings, who now makes her home in California, 29 grandchildren, 27 great grandchildren and three great, great grandchildren.

A very hard working woman, Mrs. Shirley was conscientious to a fault. She was an excellent needlewoman and housekeeper, was always a devout Christian and gained much comfort from her religion. She made many friends wherever she went, and will be much missed.

Rev. William McCarthy preached the final sermon, and a quartet including J. R. Stoltz, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Mrs. A. S. Koupal and Mrs. Joseph Barla sang, accompanied by Mrs. Marion Cushing at the organ. Pall bearers were Alvin Blessing, William Bartlett, W. W. Haskell, H. D. Leggett, Will Gruber, and George Round. Interment was made beside the body of her husband in the Ord cemetery. Services were also held in Denver before the body of Mrs. Shirley was brought here.

Mrs. Maud Anderson and her daughter, Mrs. Ordie Whippman of Denver came to Ord for the last services, but Mrs. Lottie Weare was in a serious accident shortly before the death of her mother and was unable to come. A son of Mrs. Weare has been very ill and he also could not make the trip to the funeral of Mrs. Shirley.

Why Not Try the Scrip Plan?

I was talking the other day with a city councilman and he made this statement:

"Why should we try the scrip plan? The city has plenty of money and when there is city work to be done we can hire men and pay cash!"

I have no reason to doubt the truth of this man's statement. True, the city has a big surplus in cash and in securities, $80,000 or thereabouts, it is reported. If work HAD to be done, no doubt the plan of paying cash would be followed. But the fact remains that very little city work is being done, probably because no emergency has come up that would force the city to dispense some of its big cash surplus. And at the same time there are possibly fifty or more Ord families dependent wholly or in part on public or private charity.

No thinking Ordite would advocate the city dissipating the funds it has on hand for something not needed; in fact, I do not believe many would favor the city starting any foolish projects that are not needed even if scrip were being paid. However, there are some things that could be done with practically no cash outlay to the city could be done with practically no cash outlay to the city government and at the same time provide work for idle men in Ord I would be in favor of them. And for that purpose I would like to see the city try out the scrip plan, on a small scale at first and with the idea of issuing more if the first issue proves successful.

We must not overlook the fact that Ord has an unemployment problem, not so serious probably as larger cities but a problem that the City, the County, the Red Cross the Welfare Board and other relief agencies are having to take serious cognizance of. Our unemployed men and their families are entitled to the necessities of life and are going to get them. Isn't it better and more desirable that these men be permitted to EARN their necessities than it is to GIVE them food, clothing and fuel? I believe it is.

A scrip issue of $500 spent for labor at something that would add to the beauty of Ord parks or the usefulness of Ord streets would mean three or four hundred days of labor for a group of men who need the work. It would also mean the spending in Ord, with Ord merchants, in the next year of a total of $26,000 that would not otherwise be spent and it could not possibly do any harm. If it started off well and led to the issuance of double that amount, or $1,000, it would mean that $52,000 would be spent with Ord business houses during the next year that would not otherwise be spent. Surely that is worth something, even if you lose eight entirely of the major purpose of scrip, which is unemployment relief.

I believe that Ord's business people should forget their differences and unite in urging the council to put the scrip plan into effect and give it a trial.

H. D. LEGGETT

AM I RIGHT?

By George Round, Jr.

Ord, at the present time, is listed as one of the outstanding high school cage teams in the state. The victory over Sargent put the boys over the top with sports writers in Lincoln even though the Molzen boys lost to Dannebrog. Since Ord has not had a championship team for many years, a revival of the sport might occur in the city if Molzen is able to turn out a pennant winner this year.

Evidently Marion Cushing, Ord representative in the state legislature, is doing things despite the fact that he is a republican. He has enlisted the support of others for his income tax measure and those in and around the capitol feel that it will become a law.

Syl Furtak, Ord boy, is reported as planning on returning to the university the second semester. Saw Bill Brown recently. Bill Orcutt is living in sunny California....

Women's extension project leader meetings to be held in Valley county next semester. Considerable attention. Since the January lesson features the use of home butchered meats, it is a practical one and is being received enthusiastically over the state.

Frank Vodehnal of Ord who was recently elected vice-president of the bee-keepers association, is rapidly becoming known over the state for his work in the honey field. O. S. Bore, extension entomologist at the agricultural college, in particular has complimented Vodehnal highly for his enterprise in stimulating interest in the industry.

We learn that the Valley county 4-H national championship crops judging team may compete in the judging contest in Canada next summer. Given such an opportunity, the Valley county boys should come through.

Mr. Frazier, stating the position of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday, said that in his opinion the Chamber has gone about as far as it should in trying to secure adoption of scrip by Ord. Two meetings have been called and the proposition has been explained thoroughly so that all should understand it by now, if they have any desire to do so. He does not believe that the city council should be asked to adopt scrip unless a large majority of merchants of the city favor this action, as the plan's success is dependent upon wholehearted co-operation from all people of the city. To make the plan successful everybody will have to agree to use scrip, he says. Landlords will have to accept it for rent, the city will have to accept it for electric and water bills, employees will have to accept a portion of their wages in scrip, in short, the plan requires full and complete co-operation from everybody, including the mayor and city council. The plan will work if it has this kind of co-operation, as has been proved elsewhere.

A Chamber of Commerce committee will go around the business district with the petition this week to find out just how each merchant stands on the scrip plan. If a majority favors it the petition will be presented to the council. It is likely that another meeting will be called soon to discuss the project.

The Quiz understands that scrip is also being discussed at North Loup and Arcadia, with excellent prospects that it will be adopted in one or both places. The county board of supervisors also devoted considerable time to a discussion of the plan last week and it is reported that three of the board's seven members are in favor of Valley county adopting scrip to take care of the needy and also on road and bridge work next spring. Other supervisors were not fully informed about the plan and wished to study it further before making decision.

'Cheap' Meat Is Often The Highest Priced

Many people nowadays are falling for the lure of "cheap" meat. Too often such meat proves the highest priced in the long run. What profit is there in buying a large quantity of pork or beef at a slightly lower price per pound if you cannot use it to the best advantage?

HOW MODERN WOMEN LOSE FAT SAFELY

Gain Physical Vigor—Youthfulness With Clear Skin and Vivacious Eyes That Sparkle With Glorious Health. Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses. Every morning take one-half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar—in 4 weeks get on the scales and note how many pounds of fat have vanished. Get a bottle of Kruschen Salts—the cost is trifling and it lasts 4 weeks. If even this first bottle doesn't convince you this is the easiest, safest and surest way to lose fat—if you don't feel a superb improvement in health—no gloriously energetic—vigorous—alive—your money gladly returned. Proceedings of the County Board

Gentlemen: We, members of committee on Roads and Bridges, have investigated the prevailing wages now in force in the Road and Bridge maintenance and considered the value of experienced help as against inexperienced help, and the wages paid for such labor generally by other counties, recommend the adoption of the following scale of wages for Valley County, for the year, 1933: Grading Foreman, 42 1/4 per hour; Blade Grader Foreman, 42 1/4; Tractor, elevator or grader operators, 40; Bridge Gang Foreman, 42 1/4; Truck Drivers, 26; Bridge Labor, (common) 25c; Highway Patrolmen from 40 to 47 1/2 per month; Engineer's Assistant $65 per month; chainmen 25c per hour. Respectfully submitted, Morris Sorenson, J. A. Barber, Committee.

Moved by Sorenson, seconded by Ball, that foregoing report and scale of wages, be accepted and adopted, and upon roll call, supervisors voted as follows: Sorenson, yes; Desmul, yes; Ball, yes; Vasicek, no; Hansen, yes; Barber, yes; Motion carried.

Six petitions signed by 114 citizens and taxpayers of Valley County, urging the County Board of Supervisors, in the interest of economy in the construction and maintenance of roads and bridges, to retain the office of County Engineer and Highway Commissioner and employ a trained man to supervise the work of highway construction, value is received for all money spent in this department, since the County derives about $25,000.00 per year from automobile license fees and gasoline tax, which money must be spent on the highways of the County, further petitioning the County Board to retain the County Engineer for the year, 1933, and after considering and discussing the matter and the petitions, it was moved by Sorenson and seconded by Barber that the said petitions be granted and the office of county highway commissioner and engineer be retained, and upon roll call, supervisors voted as follows: Sorenson, yes; Desmul, yes; Ball, no; Vasicek, no; Hansen, yes; Barber, yes. Motion carried.

The following application was then read and considered:
To the Honorable Board of Supervisors, Valley County, Nebraska, I herewith make application for the position of Highway Commissioner for the year, 1933. I offer my services at $150 per month to be paid by road funds. I expect to perform the duties of County Surveyor as well, all fees received from the office of County Surveyor to be retained by me. Rollin C. Ayres

After considering the above application it was moved by Barber, seconded by Sorenson, that said application be accepted and Mr. Ayres hired, and on roll call supervisors voted as follows: Sorenson, yes; Desmul, yes; Ball, yes; Vasicek, no; Hansen, yes; Barber, yes. Motion carried.

Moved by Vasicek and seconded by Ball that all county telephones in the court house and in the county shop, except the telephone in the office of the sheriff, be disconnected, effective this date. Motion carried.

Moved by Barber, second by Ball that D. C. Haught be hired court house janitor for the year 1933 at a salary of $85 per month. Motion carried.

The matter of providing transportation for the highway commissioner and surveyor came up for consideration and discussion, and it was moved by Ball, seconded by Barber, that the application of Rollin C. Ayres be reconsidered, whereupon supervisors voted as follows: Sorenson, yes; Desmul, yes; Ball, yes; Vasicek, yes; Barber, yes; Motion carried.

Mr. Ayres then asked leave to amend his application to provide for mileage on his own personal car while on county business, in addition to salary, which permission was granted by chairman, and Mr. Ayres amended his application as follows: "Mileage on private car on official business to be paid for by the county, at the rate of 3c per mile; gasoline, oil to be furnished me by Valley county."

Moved by Ball that the application of Mr. Ayres as amended be accepted, and on roll call supervisors voted as follows: Sorenson, yes; Desmul, yes; Ball, yes; Vasicek, no; Hansen, yes; Barber, yes. Motion carried.

ANNUAL PUREBRED SALE AT BROKEN BOW
The third annual sale of purebred cattle of the Central Nebraska Breeders Association will be held at Broken Bow on Wednesday, February 8th at the fair grounds. This is the 4th sale of the association, an extra sale having been held in April 1932. There will be no spring sale in 1933 due to the lack of saleable animals.
The demand for bulls is especially good, according to M. L. Gould, Sales Manager. This, no doubt, is caused by the fact that many breeders were discouraged over the prices received last year and did not keep any bulls for 1933.
The sale this year is somewhat smaller than usual, only 50 head being consigned. There will be 25 head of Hereford bulls and 4 Hereford cows offered. In the Short-horn division, there are only 10 bulls and 22 cows and heifers. These animals have all been inspected and are as good a lot as have ever been offered in one bunch in this section of the country.
Sale catalogs are now ready and are available by writing to Secretary and Sales Manager, M. L. Gould, Broken Bow, Nebr. 45-11

Again Chevrolet leads the way to economical transportation! Chevrolet announces a greatly improved line of Chevrolet six-cylinder trucks—featuring a new engine. A new rear axle. A new frame. Many progressive changes in design and construction. And selling at new, greatly reduced prices that only the world's largest builder of cars and trucks could achieve.

All 1 1/2-ton models are now powered by a remarkable new Six-Cylinder Special Truck Engine. This is basically the same reliable power plant of last year—but Chevrolet has made it even smoother, more powerful, and more economical by the addition of 33 new improvements and refinements.

Chevrolet has also introduced an entirely new type of rear axle with the outstanding mechanical advantages of a four-pin differential and a straddle-mounted pinion with bearing support on both sides.

In addition, the Chevrolet 131-inch truck now has a much stronger frame, with deeper, heavier side members. The 1 1/2-ton models have a sturdier universal joint, as well as larger brakes, improved springs, and a new 15-gallon fuel tank.

Nothing that Chevrolet has ever done before in trucks can equal the importance of this announcement: A stronger, more powerful, more durable six-cylinder line. Even more economical than last year. And priced as low as $440!

750 PRESENT AT FARM HOLIDAY MEETING MONDAY

Opera House Packed To Capacity As Farmers Organize To Halt Foreclosure Sales.

The largest crowd of farmers that has attended a public meeting in Ord in many years gathered at the opera house Monday to organize a Farmers' Holiday association with the intention of calling a halt to foreclosure sales, withholding farm products from the market, bringing about a reduction of taxes and an increase in the price paid for farm products. Conservative estimates place the crowd at 750 and many more would have attended had there been room in the hall. Probably 1,200 were here for the meeting.

Frank Golus, Sherman county farmer who is chairman of the Farm Holiday group there, and A. E. Brunson, Loup City editor and secretary of the group, were the speakers. The meeting was called to order by Arthur Mensing, president of the Taxpayers League of Valley county.

Mr. Brunson was called on to explain the purpose of the Farmers' Holiday movement, which he did to the accompaniment of cheers and handclaps from the crowd as he scored telling points.

"This organization is nothing new," Mr. Brunson stated. "It is simply an organization of farmers united to fight for their rights."

After reciting the aims of the Farm Holiday association, he said: "The foreclosure law was a good law a few years ago. It was intended to protect the wealthy class against the shiftless and order-do-well class who might take advantage of them. Today it does not stop there but takes away from our best farmers the fruit of a lifetime of hard work and frugal ways. It is now an unjust law and we are organized to fight it."

"It is simply impossible for a farmer, no matter how good he is, to make any money or even make a living with farm products at their present prices," Mr. Brunson brought out. "Corn at 10c, oats at 10c, wheat at 15c, hogs at 2c, give the farmer who raises them no chance of paying interest and taxes. It is no fault of the farmer that these prices are as they are; therefore he should not be penalized for them by having to give up his farm, the speaker said. It is the intention of the Farmers' Holiday association to bring about a moratorium on mortgages and interest until prices rise to a decent level. Mr. Brunson said, and it is also the intention of the association to stop foreclosure sales and induce mortgage holders to give mortgages an extension of a year or more before starting foreclosure actions."

"Some people will tell you that we are taking the law into our own hands," he said. "We are not; we are merely righting an injustice. All we ask is that the mortgage and interest be carried along until prices rise and we are in better shape to meet them."

"We aim to pay every cent that we owe," he continued. "We will not protect a deadbeat trying to beat a bill. All we ask is that a deserving farmer be given another chance before his home is taken away from him."

Mr. Brunson then introduced Mr. Golus, who told something about the work of the Farm Holiday group in Sherman county. "Congress has been talking about a moratorium on mortgages for two months," Mr. Golus said. "In Sherman county we've been organized less than three weeks and we've stopped foreclosure sales already." The crowd applauded the statement loudly.

Proposed Bill Would Divide 11th District

Attorney Larsen, of Taylor, who represents Loup and other counties in the state legislature, last Saturday proposed a bill which, if passed, will take away part of the big 11th judicial district of which Valley county is a part, and in all probability will do away with the office now held by Judge E. P. Clements. The bill is known as House Roll 206.

If passed, the bill would take away from the 11th, 12th and 13th judicial districts the counties of Loup, Blaine, Thomas, Hooker, McPherson, Arthur, Logan and Grant counties, forming them into a new district to be known as the 19th.

The 11th district now has two judges, Clements of Ord and Horth of Grand Island, and with several counties taken away from it, the 11th district would be so much smaller that one judge could handle the work. Since the population center of Grand Island would still be in the smaller district, it is thought likely that a Grand Island man would usually be elected as judge.

Lawyers do not believe that the change would effect Judge Clements, as he was just re-elected for four years and probably will not be a candidate for reelection at the end of that period.

Quiz To Publish New Serial By Harold Titus

Beginning in today's issue, the Quiz will publish a new novel from the pen of Harold Titus, noted as the author of many stories of the north woods. The name of the novel is "Below Zero" and will run as a serial, with generous installments published each week.

Few men know the north woods as well as Mr. Titus. He is a native of Traverse City, Mich., and his lullaby as an infant was the ring of the woodsman's axe and the crash of the pine and spruce as they fell. Many of his stories have been printed in magazines and in book form and his newest one, "Below Zero," has been enjoyed by all who have read it.

Old Tom Belknap, timber hound and manager for his Kampfest operations but refused to give his son the job, even though the boy was thoroughly qualified to handle it. "Too young," he said. The boy, thought differently. They clashed, and Young John went out into the woods to prove his father wrong. You will enjoy the thrilling plot and the tender romance that develops.

Begin reading "Below Zero" today and follow it in the weeks to come.

DAM BOOSTERS RAISING FUND FOR SURVEYING

Enthusiasm Runs High For Big Irrigation Development On Middle Loup River.

Over on the Middle Loup river, in the communities of Loup City, Arcadia and Comstock, the only topic of conversation these days is the proposed $750,000 irrigation and hydro-electric project. This project is being sponsored by the Dam Boosters, an organization with members all of the three towns mentioned above.

The project involves building a big dam at the Narrows, between Arcadia and Comstock, and there, by irrigating 35 or 40 thousand acres of land in the Middle Loup valley. Electric current generated at the dam would be used in the three towns involved and a big surplus would be left to sell to other towns.

A mass meeting was held last Wednesday evening in the district court room at Loup City and talks were made by former Attorney General C. A. Sorensen, who discussed the legal phases of the project, Mr. Henningson, of the Henningson Engineering company, and D. E. W. Jones, a surveyor. At previous meetings talks have been made by John W. Towle, state chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and Dr. Condra, of the University of Nebraska.

Dr. J. E. Bowman, of Loup City, is president of the Dam Boosters and the organization last week undertook to raise the sum of $5,000 with which to make preliminary surveys to submit to the R. F. C., which is expected to loan the money for carrying out the project. Almost the full amount has already been pledged, the Quiz learns.

—Enroute to their home in Ellington can be started early this spring. It will furnish labor for three or four hundred men for eighteen months, it is claimed.

M. V. Community Club In Musical Program

The January meeting of the Mira Valley Community club, held last Thursday evening in Valleyside school house, took the form of a musical program. A large crowd was present to enjoy the various numbers presented by Mira Valley people. The program included music by Chris Poppe with his accordion and George Cook with his guitar, a piano duet by Mrs. Koell and Emma Lenz, a musical reading by Mary Clement, a pantomime by Mrs. Ross Leonard, several selections by a string trio and several by a male quartet. George Clement drew three pictures while appropriate music was played and altogether the program was very enjoyable. Mrs. Peterson was in charge of the committee for the program.

Sheriff In Omaha. Sheriff George Round left yesterday by auto for Omaha, where he is attending the state convention of sheriffs for a couple of days. Deputy Sheriff Keep is in charge of the office here during his absence. Sheriff Round went by way of Lincoln where he expected to interview the state treasurer relative to a gas bootlegging case that he is investigating. Sheriff Waters of Garfield county was making the trip with him.

—Monday Dr. Kirby McGrew was called to attend five babies, who were ill and had a temperature of about 104. All had flu and some were threatened with pneumonia.

Burwell Wranglers Meet With Rotarians

The Burwell Wranglers club, twenty strong, were guests of the Ord Rotary club at Thorne's cafe Monday evening. They brought with them three young ladies and a young man, all talented singers, who furnished the program in charming style, the young man singing two solos and the girls several numbers as a trio. Will Hoffman, Burwell banker, spoke on behalf of the Wranglers club, his topic being "Blowing Bubbles." It was one of the best talks that has ever been given before the Rotary club and dealt with present economic conditions and our hopes for the future. Carl Dale responded on behalf of the local club. J. A. Kovanda, vice president of the Rotary club, presided at the meeting.

Joe Vasicek Elected Director By Farmers

Joe Vasicek, veteran Valley county supervisor, was the only new director elected to the official board of the Farmers Grain & Supply Company at that organization's annual meeting of stockholders last Thursday. John Bremer was re-elected as a director.

The meeting was held in the Bohemian hall here and was attended by the largest number of stockholders that has been present at an annual meeting in several years. The report of General Manager Wm. Heuck showed that the company last year operated at a net loss of approximately $7,000.

The board of directors will meet soon to elect new officers and organize for the coming year.

Injured In Fight. Dick Mansler, young Kearney man, was injured early Monday morning in a fight that followed a dance held in a hall at Elyria, the fight taking place on the highway south of that village. Mr. Mansler's neck was dislocated and he was brought to the Ord hospital for treatment. The fight was investigated by officers but no complaints have been filed.

EMIL CLEMENT DIED JAN. 18 IN MINNESOTA

Body of Former Popular Ordite Is Brought Here For Burial; Lived Here 30 Years.

Last rites were held at the Ord Presbyterian church Monday at 2 p. m. for Emil Clement, Ord man who passed away on January 18 at Askov, Minn., where for the past eight years he has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Will Oleson, also former Ord people. Rev. M. Reed conducted the services and pall-bearers were six of Mr. Clement's old friends and neighbors, Chris Hansen, Chris Nielsen, Jim Hansen, Jess Mortensen and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Rasmussen. Interment was made in Ord cemetery.

Carl Christian Emil Clement was born at Oster, on the island of Lolland, Denmark, on April 24, 1857 and when he came to Ord last Wednesday he was 75 years 8 months and 24 days old. The cause of death was broncho pneumonia which he contracted after an attack of influenza. During his fatal illness he was tenderly cared for by his niece, Mrs. Oleson and her family.

Coming to the United States in 1893 after having been engaged in business in Denmark for some years, Mr. Clement came at once to Ord, Neb., where he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clement. He lived in this community for thirty years, occupying himself with farm work and also clerking in several Ord stores. A well educated man, Mr. Clement was in great demand as a speaker at meetings of the Danish Brotherhood, to which he belonged. He was an able musician, a good mixer and social events were not complete in this community without his presence. He became a member of the Lutheran church at Askov, Minn.

Mr. Clement never married and the nearest relatives he leaves in this country are his nieces and nephews, Mrs. Will Oleson and Mrs. Fred Oleson, of Askov, Minn., Mrs. Will Worm, of Taylor, Mrs. Roy Browning, of Minneapolis, Mrs. Ralph Flynn, of Seattle, and Elliott and Harry Clement of Ord.

Sample Re-elected Popcorn Days Head

North Loup, Jan. 25.—(Special)—At the annual meeting of the Popcorn Days committee of the Community Service club Monday evening, H. C. Sample was re-elected president for the ensuing year. Claud Thomas was chosen as treasurer to succeed Bill Schudel. Plans were made for holding the big celebration next year.

Following this meeting, the club discussed several matters of particular interest at this time, one being the proposed issue of scrip. No definite action was taken but it was decided to send a delegation to Minden today to attend a meeting on the same matter there.

The club decided to again sponsor a grade school track meet this spring.

A chronic sufferer with asthma, Mr. Long was hard hit by the flu when six brothers and the sisters. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church yesterday with Rev. Mearl C. Smith in charge and interment was in Ord cemetery.

Deceased was born in Germany May 12, 1872 and came to this country when eleven years old with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Long, settling in Madison county, Nebraska. There most of his life was spent.

On Nov. 7, 1901 he was united in marriage to Miss Emma Pota, who is a sister of the Pota boys of Valley county. To them were born seven children, Mrs. John Oltmer of Leigh, Neb., Robert, Johnnie, Anna, Rudolf, Gertrude and Addie, all at home. Besides his widow and children Mr. Long is mourned by two grandchildren, Gerdine and Velma Oltmer, and a number of other relatives.

Mr. Long was well-to-do and a substantial citizen in every way, respected and liked by all who knew him.

His life he was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran faith but since coming to the Ord community Mr. Long had attended the Methodist church. He was a member of the Royal Highlander lodge.

Scotia Man Is Run Over By Auto, Hurt

Lloyd Scott, of Scotia, is in Hillcrest hospital here suffering with injuries received when he was run over and run over on the streets of Scotia Saturday evening by a car driven by Leo Murphy, also of that village. The bones in both of his legs were crushed, Dr. C. W. Weeks reports. Friends went to his assistance upon seeing the accident and brought him immediately to the hospital here.

Mrs. Rose Novotny Is Laid To Rest

Settler Here In 1880 Died Jan. 18 At Daughter's Home, Was Buried Saturday.

Mrs. Rose Novotny was laid to rest in the Catholic cemetery here on Saturday Jan. 21, 1933, after funeral services at the Catholic church, with Father Lawler officiating. Mrs. Novotny passed away last Wednesday evening at 10 p. m. at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Risan, being at the time of her death 78 years, nine months and 17 days of age.

Born on March 31, 1854 in Kosova, Hora, Selcani, Bohemia, Mrs. Novotny's maiden name was Rose Tuma. In the year 1870 she became the bride of Joseph Novotny and in 1880 Mr. and Mrs. Novotny and five small children moved to the United States and settled west of Ord in Valley county. Four more children were born to the union after their immigration to America.

In 1889 the family moved to Brown county, Nebraska, but did not stay long, deciding in 1896 to go to Oklahoma to make their home. There they lived on a farm 3 1/2 miles east of Prague, Mr. Novotny preceded his wife in death, passing away in 1903. Two years later his widow moved from the farm to Shawnee, Okla., and in 1919 she came to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joe Risan, where she made her home until her death. She had not been very well for quite a period before her last illness.

Left to mourn were five sons and three daughters: John Novotny of Shawnee, Okla., Albert Novotny of Padin, Okla., Tony Novotny of Okemaha, Okla., Louis Novotny of Wagner, Okla., J. M. Novotny of Ord, Mrs. Mary Sestak, of Prague, Okla., Mrs. Anna Hardwick of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Frances Risan of Ord. A son, Frank, preceded his mother in death.

Interested chiefly in her home and family, Mrs. Novotny never neglected many friends in the several communities where she lived who will miss her now that she is gone to her last rest.

The baby girl of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Duncan will be for a few days in Ord yesterday attending to business matters and greeting friends.

We Are Willing to Stand Our Share of the Depression

For the past two years and more we farmers of Valley county have had to take one blow after another, with no chance to hit back. We say "we farmers" because in a county like Valley we are all farmers, whether we till the soil on the farm or live in town and sell goods, run a dray, give legal advice, treat the sick or publish a newspaper. We are all farmers, for all of us must depend upon the products of the soil for business. If the dirt farmer gets good prices for the products he raises, then we all prosper. If, as at present, farm products bring only a third of normal prices, then we town farmers are up against it just the same as are the real dirt farmers.

When conditions were good, the Quiz had a profitable business. Now our business is just half what it was two years ago. The Quiz publisher believes it is the duty of every business man to take his full share of the loss right along with his farmer friends. Acting on this policy, the Quiz many months ago cut its subscription price from $2.50 per year to $2.00. Then, when we saw the struggle Ord merchants were having we cut the price of advertising from 35c per inch to 25c per inch. Then, because many of our subscribers were back on their subscription and could not pay even at the rate of $2.00 per year, we announced that on a certain day, Nov. 11, 1932, we would accept subscription payments at the rate of $1.00 per year. More than 700 took advantage of this offer. Then, to be absolutely fair to everyone, we repeated the $1.00 offer on Dec. 13, 1932 and more than 1,000 subscribers took advantage of it. Throughout the course of the depression we have tried to be fair to our subscribers and to our merchants. We have also tried to be fair to users of commercial printing by reducing the price of job work all along the line.

WE HAVE TRIED TO TAKE OUR FULL SHARE OF THE DEPRESSION.

In common with many men wiser than ourselves, we thought the depression was about over last fall when produce prices started up. Now they are going down again and we begin to fear that the depression is with us to stay for some time yet. Again we want to TAKE OUR FULL SHARE OF THE DEPRESSION ALONG WITH THE DIRT FARMER, so here is what we are going to do:

2c Hog, 10c corn price for the Quiz. Effective at once—today—and lasting until the farmer gets a decent price for the things he has to sell, the PRICE OF THE QUIZ WILL BE $1.00 PER YEAR, to everybody.

When corn is up to 35c, wheat to 75c, hogs to $5 or $6, and other things in proportion, then, and not until then, we will ask you to pay us a decent price for the Quiz. During the present emergency we are willing to "take it on the chin," just like so many other people are doing.

The Quiz publisher has lived in Valley county 40 years and believes he knows the people of this county and we believe that when Quiz subscribers are again getting a fair return for their labor, they will be glad to pay us what the Quiz is worth. Many other publishers and some other business men have tried to dissuade us from this act. "It's easy to get prices down but awfully hard to get them up again," they have said. "Your subscribers won't appreciate the sacrifices on your part that this will involve," they have said. But the Quiz publisher believes he knows the people of Valley and surrounding counties better than that. He believes they will appreciate what we are doing and will be willing to pay a decent price for what they have to buy whenever they begin to get a decent price for what they have to sell.

We are going to stick with you, Quiz subscribers, just as long as we can and we ask you to stick with us the same way. When you can do so, we ask you to patronize the Quiz. We can make a small commission by sending in your daily newspaper and magazine subscriptions and we are asking you to give us this business. If you need printing, we can do it for you as cheap and as well as any printer anywhere can, and we will need the business. If you are getting the Quiz, and it is paid in advance, send another copy to a relative or friend. If you owe us, pay up your back subscription at the rate of $1 per year and pay a year ahead at the same rate. If you are not getting it, and owe us some back subscription, do the same thing. And if you have never been a Quiz subscriber, start taking the paper now.

Another way in which members of the Quiz family may help is by urging their favorite merchant to patronize the Quiz with his advertising. Tell him that the Quiz is your paper and that if he advertises in it you will read his announcements. Ask him not to spend his money on circulars, usually printed elsewhere, but to spend his advertising appropriation in the Quiz instead. We are co-operating with you; we ask you to co-operate with us. We hope that the depression is about over. We hope that good times are on the way. But as long as the depression lasts, and until we can all be prosperous together, we pledge ourselves to bear OUR FAIR SHARE right along with everybody else.

Heart Attack Fatal To Burwell Farmer

Jack Fraise, who lived on the Beat farm in Garfield county, passed away suddenly last Thursday evening from the same kind of a heart attack that caused the death of President Coolidge recently. Just as he opened the door to walk into the house he was stricken and though his wife helped him to a chair and did all that was possible for him he passed away almost immediately. He was 55 years old and had suffered from high blood pressure for years.

Mr. Fraise is survived by a married daughter, Mrs. Fred McCowan of North Loup, two sisters living in Kansas and other relatives in Iowa and Missouri. Funeral services were held at his home Sunday, after which the body was taken to North Loup for burial.

The deceased came to Garfield county seven years ago from Iowa and until last year was foreman on the Spelts ranch, which he resigned to start farming for himself.

W. W. Johnson, of Kearney, district manager of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, was in Ord yesterday attending to business matters and greeting friends.

HASKELL CREEK FARMER TAKES HIS OWN LIFE

Carl Holm's Second Attempt At Suicide Is Successful; Shoots Self Sunday.

Carl S. Holm's determination to die by his own hand was realized Sunday when, at about 9:45 a. m., he shot himself through the head in a field only a quarter of a mile from his farm home on Haskell Creek and almost within sight of a group of relatives and friends who were searching for him. He died almost instantly.

The facts, as reported to the Quiz, are as follows: For several months Mr. Holm has been brooding over recent financial reverses and has been acting in a morose, often gloomy, way for long walks alone and remaining away from his home until all hours of the night.

Last Saturday, about 4 p. m., he absented himself from home and did not return during the night. His wife, not wanting to alarm the neighborhood needlessly, did not report his absence until Sunday morning when she called her brothers, Andrew and Mikkel Nielsen, who live in Ord. The Nielsen brothers, driving to the Holm farm at once, enlisted the help of neighbors and began a search for their brother-in-law.

The whole neighborhood was scoured but no sign of the missing man was found and the group re-assembled at the Holm farm. One member of the group, looking up the slope of a high hill southeast of the farm house, saw Mr. Holm walk behind a straw stack near the top of the hill. The group of men started up the hill toward him and all at once a shot rang out. They ran to the straw stack and there, gasping his last breath, was Mr. Holm.

Sitting down beside the straw stack, he had propped a double barrel shotgun up behind him and, with the aid of a long stick, pulled the trigger. The shot chanced had struck him at the back of the head, tearing the whole top of the head off.

Evidently Mr. Holm had spent the whole night brooding over his courage for the suicidal act but had postponed it until, with his friends and neighbors almost upon him, he turned the gun upon himself before he could be prevented from the act. Apparently Mr. Holm had spent the night at the straw stack on the hill, as blankets and a lap robe from his car were found there. He left no note to explain his action but Sheriff George Round and Coroner George Munro, who were summoned to the scene immediately pronounced it a clear case of suicide.

This was Mr. Holm's second attempt to take his life. It will be remembered that on May 31,

Ord Cagers Win Farwell Game But Lose to Loup City

Coach Cecil Molzen's Ord basketball team participated in two fast games during the past week, winning from Farwell Friday evening but losing to Loup City Tuesday night by a score of 20 to 18. The game was played in the Loup City gym, which is of the "crack-brick" type and the small floor handicapped the Ord boys considerably. Nevertheless, they put up a good game and lost by such a small margin that they are hoping to turn the tables on Loup City when that team plays on the Ord floor later in the season. Loup City has won five consecutive games without a loss this season.

The Farwell-Ord game last Friday evening was a thriller, the Ord boys winning by a score of 26 to 18. Farwell had a big, rangy team and gave the Molzen-men a good tussle, though the locals took an early lead and were never in danger. Farwell's reserves were much inferior to their starting quint.

Richard Smith, young Ord forward, was high scorer of the evening with 12 points. Guy Keep, center, played his best game of the year and Bert Coquet continued his good work at guard, also sinking a basket from well past the center of the floor. Benda, always dependable, excelled on both defense and attack while Steinwold played his usual good floor game. Bush, a guard, looked best for Farwell.

A preliminary game was played between the 7th and 8th grades, the 7th grade team winning by a wide margin. Between halves a boxing match between Bob Ranshaw and Bob Hughes pleased the spectators, Ralph Norman serving as referee. Ted Bert, of Ravenna, refereed the main basketball game.

Broken Bow plays on the Ord floor tomorrow evening and with attendance constantly increasing as a result of the fast game being played by the Ord team, it is expected that a capacity crowd will be present.

THE COST OF EDUCATION.

Board of education members, both here and elsewhere throughout Nebraska, are considerably alarmed as to what action the legislature will take this winter in cutting down the free tuition allowance paid to school districts like Ord that maintain modern high schools and accept tuition students. At present such districts are allowed $108 annually per tuition student. A tuition student, it should be explained, is one who goes outside his own district for his education and whose own district pays some other district for educating him.

The Taxpayers' league program calls for this to be cut in half and in line with this provision, one legislator has introduced a bill for free tuition to $54 per pupil. A bill proposed by Marion Cushing, our own representative, would cut it to $72. Several other bills cutting this allowance have been introduced but none seem to have a chance of passing.

The allowance of $108 per pupil has stood for several years and in the opinion of school men is not very much too high. In 1929-30 in Ord the actual school cost per pupil, both tuition student and otherwise, was approximately $120, which does not include depreciation on building or interest on capital investment. In 1930-31 the board of education succeeded in cutting this to approximately $109.50 per pupil and in 1932-33 to about $100.

Secretary Norman of the school board tells us that it will be absolutely impossible for them to cut this lower than to $90 per pupil and even this cut can be made only by limiting the curriculum offered. It may readily be seen that should the legislature make a drastic cut such as is suggested by the Taxpayers' league, schools like Ord will have to refuse to accept tuition students as the residents of Ord school district cannot be taxed to pay for the education of boys and girls from other districts. If this comes to pass there will be about 144 young people who will be denied the advantages of a high school education in the Ord territory alone, to say nothing of thousands of others in other parts of the state.

For reasons of economy it may be necessary to bring about this situation, but the legislature should not make a drastic cut in the free tuition allowance without considering what the consequences may be. If we must get into a situation of this sort, let us do so with our eyes open.

ONE HOPEFUL SIGN.

In these depressing days it is refreshing to hear one cheerful note sounding over and above the general bedlam of farm and business complaints. If the following story, reported by a friend of the Quiz, is not of the hopeful sort, then what?

A couple of weeks ago, W. L. D. Auble and his son, L. J., went up to Winner, S. D. to look after farm interests near there. They have a fine farm near Winner, well improved and abundantly stocked, but their tenant was smitten with the depression bug and was homesick for his old home in Missouri. He had notified the Aubles that he wished to quit and asked them to come up there and let him get back to the south. The Aubles' two young Otho Ferris, son of A. J. Ferris, with them as a possible manager of the place. They had no trouble with the homesick tenant, and soon had made arrangements to take over the operations of the farm with Otho as manager.

"Almost every Quiz reader knows 'Date' Auble, who can hate with a terrific hatred but whose likes are almost as emphatic. And here is the cheerful part of this little story: In glowing terms, Date told of the condition of things he found on his farm at Winner. Crops were abundant there last year. Fodder and grain are plentiful and cheap and cribs are bursting with corn. His small grain and alfalfa racks with fodder. His herds of young cattle and hogs are in the pink of condition. Twice a day several buckets of rich milk are brought to the separator and every evening a full-fledged egg comes from the thrifty flock of hens. Supplied with these products, the farm is sure of abundance to eat and a steady income on the produce market, not to mention the certain increase of herds and flocks."

Date's eyes sparkle as he paints the picture of a farm life that he so heartily enjoys, his regret being that approaching age and the enfeebled condition of his wife's health prevents him from going up there and starting a farm career again.

Why cannot a similar story be related of a million other farm scenes, just as they used to be during the decades that have gone? The answer is—debt! During normal times debt judiciously and carefully employed enabled millions of farmers to build up prosperous homes from very meagre beginnings. But links with times like these, debt is fatal.

However, there are comparatively few farmers who have little or no debt to contend with but those few are little affected by the war wide depression now raging. Would that there were more of them.

CUSHING GETTING RESULTS.

Many of the more important bills so far introduced in the state legislature bear the name of Marion J. Cushing, our own representative there. Though a republican in a legislature that is predominantly democratic, Marion is showing an ability to work with the majority party that promises results pleasing to his constituents.

The income tax bill, admittedly one of the most important pieces of legislation to be taken up this winter, was introduced by Repr. Cushing. A bill to repeal the present intangible tax law also has been introduced by him. Early this week Marion presented a bill that the Quiz believes is a good one—providing that the state railway commission shall furnish to county assessors all valuations placed on public utilities for rate making or stock selling purposes, the same to be used by the several boards as basis for their assessments. This will include telephone and telegraph companies, pipe line companies, electric power companies and others.

Too often public utilities value their properties highly in the statements they file with the railway commission but when it comes to paying taxes their property is not nearly so valued. This is because rates are fixed so as to bring a fair return upon their investment, therefore they are anxious to make their investment appear high. If they reverse themselves in turning it is not to wonder at, as the higher the valuation the more taxes they will have to pay. The Nebraska Continental Telephone company's Ord property is a case in point. It is valued at $1,000,000 for charging purposes is $69,000; for tax paying purposes is $30,000.

In our opinion this is a good law and we hope it is passed by the legislature.

Something DIFFERENT

A proud little old lady, more than seventy, did not want anyone to know she was having her own teeth out and false ones in. So she went to a nearby city, which happened to be Chicago, and had her dental work done.

Being in a hurry, she decided to fly home, and took an airplane. But the passage was rough, and the trip made her sick. And in the course of the illness her teeth went out the window.

This story comes to me fourth-hand. You know... the sister of a friend had some friends who knew the modern grandmother, who lost her new teeth.

Did you see the stories in the daily papers about the production of Edgar Allan Poe's tragedy, "Politian", which was presented for the first time 124 years after his death? The play was given by the Raven Club of the University of Virginia, which meets in a room where Poe was wont to study.

Russell Hill, son of Mrs. Otto Hill of North Loup, while in Virginia, as a member of a chautauqua troupe, visited this room and sat at the table where many of Poe's immortal poems were written.

Russell, who graduated from high school in Ord and has many friends here, also visited Thomas Jefferson's home, now occupied by Sigma Phi Epsilon, which is Russell's fraternity, and also that of Edgar Poe's, Quiz editor. In a room on the top floor of this house, formerly Jefferson's study, Russell found that a barrel of apple jack was a permanent fixture.

Mrs. Combs thought that rolling pin wisecrack last week was simply terrible. "I think it would be better to tell all about it," declared she. Adding, "For, just think of the suspense!"

One of those bitterly cold days a few weeks ago, you surely remember when we had them, in spite of the fact that it has been lovelier weather hereabouts than California could furnish, for most of our days... anyway, on one of those zero days, Miss Lulu Bailey wanted to go downtown. But it was awfully cold out.

So did her neighbor, Mrs. Olf Olson. She had errands to do downtown, too. But it was so terribly cold out. And the two ladies, comparing notes, both wanted to go but didn't want to walk. And since Olf had the Olson automobile, it seemed they would have to walk if they went.

"Of course we could take the ice truck; it's out here!" proposed Joyce laughingly, making what she considered a dandy joke. "Why, I'll ride in the ice truck!" promptly answered Miss Lulu. "I'm not a bit proud. And I don't think it would be any colder than riding in an open car. Is there something back there I could sit on to sit in the back part of the truck?"

So downtown they went, the two modern and daring Ord damsels. They sat "way up high, on the front seat. They figured it was such a cold day no one would see them. But I thought it would be more fun to tell it than to keep it.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

State Senator W. E. Martin of North Dakota, introduced the following resolution, one day last week, in the senate of his state, and the day following, it was adopted by a large majority. The resolution follows:

"Whereas ever since the civil war the states of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, New York, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island and New Jersey, because of their dense population and consequent dominant voice in Congress have so manipulated Congress that said states have become rich at the expense of the rest of the union, we recommend that the remaining 39 states secede from the above named states, carrying with us the Star-Spangled Banner, and leaving them the stripes which they so richly deserve, and then we can proceed to build anew and carry out the principles of Democratic government as founded by the immortal Washington and Jefferson."

From all over the country, Senator Martin has received telegrams and letters congratulating him. Of course Senator Martin does not want these 39 states mentioned to secede from the United States, those citizens who wrote and wired him. What Senator Martin wanted to do was to bring home to the unfair and foolish people of the far northeastern part of this country, by giving them a good hard jolt, the way the balance of the country feel toward them. If, however, the suggestion of Senator Martin should be accepted and there should be a committee appointed from the 39 seceding states, to pick a suitable place for the capitol of the new country, I suggest that Lincoln, in Nebraska, be given careful consideration. From what I hear, the 10 million dollar capital building might do for a temporary home for the new government, and surely the salubrious climate of this favored state would be all that could be desired. Possibly, outside of Nebraska, California or Florida have the best climate for an all the year capital, but both are too far to the edge of the world for Nebraska and Nebraska is centrally located.

While our legislators are looking for a chance to cut a few nickles and dime off state expense here and there, they might just as well reject the bill for a $35,000,000 voting machine which someone ordered for the legislature. I don't know who ordered it but whoever did ought to pay for it. The only theory on which its purchase could possibly be justified, would be that it would save time so the cost of it could be saved by having a shorter session of the legislature. When the present session is over, we will all know that there will be just as much time used as though there was no electric voting machine. Its purchase was just another sample of someone spending the people's money because some slick salesman wanted the money.

As has been pointed out, perhaps the new Holiday Association which is being formed here, won't do any good—I mean immediate, direct good. If there was not a very serious condition, there would be no Holiday Association movement. If there had not been a serious condition being done in the milk situation here in Nebraska, there would have been no milk war. If conditions had been even tolerable, back in the 90's, there would have been no Pop party. Only a comparatively few years ago, there was a Non-Resistant League, which had among its members, conditions got so bad that something had to be done and the people started a revolt. The politicians granted some of the things asked for in other words, threw a sort of sop to the people and all the things were forgotten in the first times after the great war. Back in the 90's the Pops got some of the things they wanted and then forgot and the politicians soon gobbled everything up again. Conditions are worse now than ever before and something is going to be done. The unrest is spreading. So far, Congress has not seen the handwriting on the wall and is frittering its time away in worse than useless quarreling. We know what the people don't want. We know what the people do want. We know what the people are doing. There was a chance to vote? How many present members of congress do you suppose would be elected, the way they are acting? Why can't they see that they have just about gone the limit of their usefulness to the people. Unless something constructive is done, unless the people get relief, there will surely be a revolution. A few of the people can be stood up against a stone wall and shot, but it is hard to do to all of them. Just so, a small percentage of the people can be dispossessed of their land and homes and personal belongings, but when the percentage is as large as it is now, something is going to happen.

It is not the fault of the people that they are being deprived of their property at this time, that is, not in a vast majority of cases. It is true that they borrowed money and gave security on what they had. But it is also true that the present financial condition is not the fault of the borrowers, but rather of a manipulation of the purchasing power of the country by someone who has the handling of such things, until at this time it takes more than four times as much produce of the farm to pay what was borrowed, as it did when the money was borrowed. I claim that the people who loaned the money should have just as many of the same priced dollars as they loaned, but they should not have the number of dollars loaned when each one is worth four or more times as much as it was then. I also claim the farmer who borrowed the money should have a right to repay the debt with the same priced money that the borrowed and if that was possible at this time, ninety percent of the borrowers would pay their obligations. The other ten per cent who are always never-does-wells, are the ones who should be foreclosed. The higher ups of this country have been and still are, in favor of cutting in half the debts of foreign countries to this country. The people of Ord, Valley county, Nebraska and the other states, bought Liberty bonds to provide the money that was loaned. As I understand it, those loans have already been scaled down one half and now many leading politicians and eastern bankers want the balance cancelled. Of course, in the case of the big eastern bankers, they want that done to make their private loans better. I intend that it is at least as important that there be a scaling down of the mortgage on the debts of the farmers, as it is for the debts that the foreign countries owe us. I claim that the first interest of our hired men in Washington, for that is what they are, should be to look after the welfare of the people of this country.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Cherry Dessert.

Stir one-half cup sugar and three heaping tablespoons of flour (which has been sifted) into one quart of home-canned cherries. Cook until cherries are thickened. Pour into a shallow baking pan and cover with the following short-cake batter: One tablespoon butter mixed with one-half cup sugar, one egg, one-half cup sweet milk, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder. Mix for a cake and bake in a moderate oven. Chill and cut in squares. Serve with whipped cream, slightly flavored.

Any other canned fruits may be used in place of cherries. Minnie Klappal, Comstock

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Young trees are often girdled by the borers which are so common in the West. A pair of cotton-tails or jackrabbits may destroy an entire orchard or grove. Field mice contribute to the damage below ground, where they are assisted in their work by pocket gophers. Mature trees are often killed out so rapidly around here that the saving of saplings is becoming a necessity. Trees from which the bark was gnawed all the way around the trunk usually die. In the case of the smaller trees, the injury is not so serious, but they are discouraged in several ways.

Mechanical protectors placed about the trunks of trees give considerable protection. They are made of wood, wire screen, building paper, gunny sacks, and other material. They are placed over the trunk when deep snows cover them and permit rodents to eat on the portions above.

Protective washes are often injurious to young trees, and many are not permanent enough to give all winter protection. A pall of blood, saved from butchering and brushed on trees has kept away rabbits all winter. Sulfonated oil is probably best for all winter protection against rabbits and mice. It is made by boiling lard or tallow with one part of sulfuric acid to ten parts of water. The rate is three ounces per quart of oil. Of the other washes, tar, creosote and axle grease may injure trees.

Three that have been gnawed completely around may be saved by bridge grafting. This should be done very early in the spring, while the trees are still dormant.

MAKES WOMEN LOSE FAT

Miss Rea M. Haines of Dayton, Ohio, writes: "I weighed 150 so started to take Kruschen. I never was so surprised as when I weighed myself the first week—I lost 7 pounds. I just bought my 3rd jar and am down to 145—am still taking them and never felt better in my life." (June 17, 1932)

To take off fat—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—one bottle that last 4 weeks costs but a few cents—get it at any drug store in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the SAFE and harmless way to lose fat—your money gladly returned.

Don't accept anything but Kruschen because you must reduce safely. Quiz Want Ads get results.

The action of the legislature in confirming Governor Bryan's appointment of Dr. M. M. Sullivan of Spalding to the Game, Forestation and Parks Commission is regarded by some as indicative of legislative sentiment to work in harmony to a great extent with the Governor's program. The confirmation of the appointment was held up and submitted to a joint committee of the house and senate for investigation. This committee held public hearings on the appointment Wednesday night of last week and made its report to a joint session Friday morning. The report indicated that there was no opposition to Dr. Sullivan for personal reasons but indicated that there was some objection to his appointment since it left the orthwestern lake country without actual representation on the board. Legislators from that section were besieged with telegrams urging that Sullivan's appointment be not confirmed and that a commissioner from that section be chosen instead.

Speaker George O'Malley of Greeley from Sullivan's district took the floor at the joint session Friday morning urging Sullivan's appointment. His reason was two fold, he stated, in that Dr. Sullivan resided in his district and that he desired the legislature to be in accord with Governor Bryan's policies.

Dr. Sullivan is from the third congressional district and the game commission now has one representative from each of the five districts. Representative Warrington of Mason City was a popular man when he returned to Lincoln the early part of last week after a week and a half absence from the state. As chairman of the house committee on accounts and expenditures it was necessary for him to sign all vouchers for house members before they could draw their first installment of legislative salary.

Representative Muir of Lancaster county has advanced reasons why her bill to reduce salaries of state officers should be passed immediately. She points out that amendments to the constitution made in 1922 provide that "until otherwise provided by law the following salaries shall be paid." She takes the position that since the salaries have gone unchanged since that time, the constitutional provision would enable them to become immediately effective. She proposes to reduce the governor's salary from $7,500 to $5,000 and other executive state officers from $5,000 to $3,500.

A bill by Green of Cheyenne county would limit all workers in this state with the exception of farm laborers to 8 hours per day, women 6 hours per day. He says that enforcement of this law would provide 10,000 additional jobs over the state.

The original joint committee from both houses appointed to confer on the proposed capitol dedication has been enlarged to 20 instead of the original 10. Ten members from each house have been named in the committee. The original resolution concerning the capitol dedication contemplated that ceremonies would take place during this legislative session. It has now been decided, however, that the dedication be postponed until later and Labor Day has been suggested as the date. Rumor has it that the dedication ceremonies will cover an entire week at that time. This, it is pointed out, would coincide with the dates of the State Fair, although the position of the latter event is as yet uncertain.

The state board of agriculture, operating body of the State Fair, held its annual meeting in Lincoln last week. Perry Reed of Henderson, who was president of the organization during the past year, was elected secretary replacing George Jackson, who is now 74 years old, announced that he would not be a candidate for the place. The salary of the secretary was reduced from $4,000 to $2,400. Tradition was broken when Tril Tolon of Ord, first vice-president

Closing discussions of the meeting centered around the matter of continuing or discontinuing the fair in 1933. The fair at the present time faces a large deficit and a legislative appropriation will be necessary for its continuance. No definite announcement of plans was made by the fair management since it is awaiting the action of the legislature.

The first bill to die in the present legislature was H. R. 30 by Meier of Lancaster revising the present system of car licensing. Thereby, a bill for the indefinite postponement of the measure.

Bills introduced the past week that have held the spot light of interest are the tax exemption bill on gasoline for farm purposes introduced by Representative Sheldon of Ogallala; a bill by Senator Green of Cheyenne for a model the two senatorial districts in Lancaster county; an old age pension bill by Representative Crouse of Douglas empowering boards to provide pensions not exceeding $50 yearly for certain widows 70 years of age; a bill by Representative Heater of Frontier would prohibit exhibition of motion pictures in which women are shown smoking; a bill by Representative Gass and LaVelle to enable a failed bank to make certain agreements with depositors and debtors to enable the banks to continue in operation. Several bills proposed in the Governor's program have made their appearance this week.

The house passed the bill by Gillespie of Sarpy providing that real property shall be assessed on April 1, 1933 and 1934 and every two years thereafter.

The house gave definite approval Thursday to bills by Cane reducing the legal rate of interest from 7 to 6 percent and the contract rate from 10 to 8 percent.

More than 100 Nebraska boys recently took examination under the civil service commission to secure one of the five appointments with Congressman Robert G. Simmons will make to Annapolis and West Point. So many made applications that Simmons asked assistance of the civil service commission. The examinations were held in 12 cities.

As a result of a district court decree, State Treasurer Hall has announced that he will open the records of the gasoline tax division to the inspection of the public and, particularly C. S. Sutherland, secretary of the Nebraska Independent Oil Men's association. A statute in connection with the gasoline tax collection provided that the records should not be open to the public. Sutherland instituted action against former State Treasurer Bass who had been enforcing this law. The district court, however, ruled that such a provision was constitutional and granted a writ of mandamus in the matter.

More than 100 irrigators met at Lexington last week and passed two resolutions relative to their wants. One of the resolutions declared opposition to legislation permitting diversion of Platte river waters. The second asked for an appropriation of $50,000 from the state for a study of irrigation problems. Congressman Simmons discussed the legislative situation with the group. The 45-mile railroad between Coburn and Wynot may again be opened for business depending on the decision of the interstate commerce commission. Business organizations along the route have pledged greater use of the line since abandonment had been recommended because it had not paid expenses. The case is set for rehearing in Washington on January 25.

Nebraska democrats have been asked to contribute $10,000 to help make up the deficit of $950,000 of the national committee. A drive will be made for funds in an effort to put the party out of debt before President-elect Roosevelt takes office.

A Romance of the North Woods

CHAPTER I

In his younger days Tom Belknap may have squirmed now and then; most men who have undergone the vicissitudes of fortune-building in the lumber industry have. But this much is certain; for a brace of decades, if he had occasionally felt discomfort, he kept well to himself, concealed behind that brusque, gruff front.

Now, however, he put on a first-rate exhibition of a man in an uncomfortable corner as Harrington, small and gray and amazed, stood in that spacious chamber and stared at him.

The old fellow had made his assertion with a growl, as he always did when at variance with his aides and ordinarily that tone ended argument abruptly. Not today.

"But," said Harrington after that long pause occasioned by increased indignation, "what's the boy going to say to that?"

"He'll do as he's told." "Twice? You'll disappoint him twice, Tom? A boy with... with as much spirit as you have yourself, he won't let you get away so easily."

"I'm not going to let you get away so easily," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"You're not going to let me get away so easily either," said Tom, "but I'm not going to let you get away so easily either."

"Then you stumbled on to a location and the properties that fitted like a glove to a plan. You couldn't wait for me to start, of course. You had to go ahead because if any demonstration is going to be of account it's got to show profit, and big timber holdings can't be carried along any more without operating. You and Gorbelle got the mill up and running, the best mill ever built. You got the chemical plans operating. You were going to exercise your agreement with Gorbelle and buy him out and we'd go to it... you and I... Together!"

He extended one hand in a little gesture. "And when I thought I was ready for that, I went up to Witch Hill. I'll admit now that it was a bitter dose. But I took it, didn't I? I stayed on longer than you'd said I'd have to stay before getting my finger into the Kampeft thing. I've been waiting for word that I could drop it, and the word has never come."

"We wound her up. When I know you and mother were going today I got the last of the equipment loaded, the last chore done, and high-tailed down here without even stopping to buy civilized clothes because I thought, 'Kampeft at last! And instead of that I'm told that I am now superintendent at Belknap Seven!'"

His lax fist fell on the desk, and he nodded as if wearied. "His father snuffed and rattled the sheets of paper he held."

"That the trouble with you young gaffers. Don't have the guts to wait. Got to jump in and learn."

"That's the Trouble With You Young Gaffers—Don't Have the Guts to Wait."

Jobs from the top down. Stuffed shirts, for God knows how many years; yes-men. You won't take the time to learn from the bottom up!"

"Doesn't that mean anything?" John asked with a curt gesture towards the paper in the age-mottled hands.

The man's eyes dropped to that scrawl, written on the letter-head of the Witch Hill Lumber company. He read it once more:

"To whom it may concern, dear sir. John Steele has worked as camp foreman here for one year. He is only a kid but as good a logger as ever wore sox. Respy. J. McIver supt."

The lowering of his face concealed from the son's burning eyes the pride which swept it, and John could not know the warmth which re-reading the words generated again in the old heart, nor the chagrin and fear at what he was now doing. But the belittling grunt and the dismissing gesture as he tossed the letter back to the desk top made the boy stir on his feet and tighten his lips.

"Sandy," old Tom growled. "Sandy, writin' a recommendation!" He laughed. "Think he's ever done that for anybody before? Not much. Why, he was so rattled he left out the only part of your name that counts! Done it for you because he like you. As my old-timers always 've done, he probably babbled you from the time—"

"Babbled!" The interruption was not with anger. "Babbled he did he? D—funny babbling I'd call it!" He laughed bitterly. "I know what went ahead of me to Witch Hill. Sandy told me when it was all over. You ordered him to see what kind of a Belknap was left in the college professors got through with me! You told him to make it as rough for me as he knew how!"

He nodded again, that brisk, irate gesture.

The annual township meeting was held at the Library Tuesday evening of last week. Usual matters of business were taken up, including electing a road overseer and levying taxes for the maintenance of the township's roads and bridges and the township library.

The budget for the township was increased from $1,500 to $2,000 and the library budget decreased from $1,450 to $1,200. The township, as the result of a decreased levy last year, finds itself in a position where it will be able to take care of the barest necessities and emergencies in the way of maintaining the roads and bridges this year, so it was deemed expedient to increase the budget at least five hundred dollars at the Tuesday meeting.

The committee in charge of solicitation for Arcadia's quota of the funds for the survey of the power and irrigation project which is to be constructed at the "Narrows", a point in the Middle Loup river about nine miles northwest of Arcadia are busy at this time lining the business places of Arcadia up for a holiday Wednesday afternoon, January 25th. It is the plan of the committee to induce each and every business place in town to close from 12:30 p. m. to 5:30 and all meet at the flag pole with necessary automobiles to enable them to canvass the whole territory tributary to Arcadia with a view to securing sufficient funds to insure the surveying of the project. A company of engineers from Omaha has agreed to survey the territory for the sum of $5,000 which they say is about half the usual charge for a survey of this kind but they feel so confident that the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will see fit to finance the project that they are willing to do the work at a veying cheaper. The committee has met with a great measure of success in their solicitation so far but it is desired to complete this part of the work at one stroke, hence the half holiday that everyone may join in the work. 750 PRESENT AT FARM HOLIDAY MEETING MONDAY

The speaker told in detail how this has been accomplished, citing individual cases by name. In some cases it is possible to affect a settlement peaceably by a direct meeting with the mortgage holder. In others, a committee will appear on the district judge will secure the desired results. In a minority of cases it is necessary, to quote Mr. Golus: "To unite and see how tough we can make it for such a man" in a Sherman county, most results so far have been accomplished by arbitration, he said.

After learning the purposes of the association and the methods by which these aims are accomplished, farmers present decided to organize a Valley county association and in a time than it takes to write about it township meetings were under way in various corners of the room. Thirteen out of the county's fifteen townships were represented at Monday's meeting and in each of these thirteen townships temporary organizations were formed and the offices of chairman, secretary and treasurer were filled. These officers are as follows:

- Elyria Township—Frank Petka, chairman; Antonio Welton, secretary; Joe Kusek, treasurer.
- Noble Township—Art Mensing, chairman; A. J. Campbell, secretary; Henry Enger, treasurer.
- Springdale Township—Chas. Arnold, chairman; Arthur McLean, secretary; Bob Collins, treasurer.
- Independent Township—Chas. A. Collins, chairman; A. B. Barnhart, secretary-treasurer.
- Eureka Township—James Ruzicka, chairman; Carl Treptow, secretary; Joe Kusek, treasurer.
- Michigan Township—Ole Nelson, chairman; Andrew Nelson, secretary; Ralph Sperling, treasurer.
- Ord Township—Will Zikmund, chairman; Burr Robbins, secretary; Henry Vachal, treasurer.
- Yale Township—T. Walke, chairman; N. Dorsey, secretary; F. Holmes, treasurer.
- Vinton Township—Ernest Coats, chairman; Ben Mason, secretary; John Wozniak, treasurer.
- Enterprise Township—Homer Jones, chairman; Leo Nelson, secretary; Albert Haught, treasurer.
- North Loup Township—E. F. Padock, chairman; W. G. Stanton, secretary; B. J. Brown, treasurer.
- Arcadia Township—Orlan Larkin, chairman; Joe Peterson, secretary-treasurer.
- Davis Creek Township—John Lunney, chairman; Elmer Stevens, secretary; Guy Sample, treasurer.
- Liberty Township—Jos. Petka, chairman; E. W. Hunsaker, secretary; Joe Wojtaszek, treasurer.

The organizers stressed the fact that these officers are only temporary and that permanent officers are to be elected at mass meetings are held in the various townships. Sherman county has a membership of 2,000, he said, and it is hoped that Valley county will secure nearly as many.

The meeting then proceeded to elect county officers with the result that Albert Mensing was elected county chairman and E. S. Coats county secretary. These are positions of authority and responsibility, the organizers stressed, and the county officers so elected will co-operate in township meetings and help to secure speakers for them. They will also take direct lead in treating with mortgage holders in all foreclosure matters.

There are no paid officers in the Farmers Holiday association and there are no dues, the speakers stressed. A collection is taken up at each meeting, each person donating whatever amount he desires. Money so collected is used in payment of gasoline and oil bills of organizers and for supplies such as membership cards, postage, etc. About $30 was contributed by the crowd Monday.

It was an enthusiastic crowd and the Farmers Holiday movement starts off with a bang in Valley county. Many township meetings have already been arranged and will be held in the school houses or other public meeting places as follows: Elyria, on Saturday, Jan. 28, at 8 p. m.; Springdale, on Monday, Jan. 30, at 8 p. m.; Noble, on Tuesday, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m.; Eureka, on Saturday, Jan. 28 at 3 p. m.; Davis Creek, on Tuesday, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m.; North Loup, on Thursday, Feb. 2, at 10 a. m.; Ord, on Friday, February 3, at 8 p. m. Anybody desiring to know the exact place at which these meetings will be held may find out by inquiry from township officers. The county officers and outside speakers as well will be present at all meetings, it is stated, and the Farmers' Holiday movement is expected to progress until every farmer in Valley county is a member.

The wood from which the cane was made was obtained from a tree on the Truman Freeland land near Burwell. Mr. Freeland was Garfield county's first settler, homesteading there in 1872. The cane was presented to Governor Bryan in behalf of the Burwell Wranglers club.

Early Days In Ord Are Recalled By Old Photograph Display At Aule's

A window display that has the public fancy firmly clutched the past few days is the one in Aule Brothers front window. Here may be found an arrayed through most any time pointing or arguing "who" that is????

In one photograph Charlie Burdick is shown with a beautiful pair of matched horses. Later he is shown with a New Yorker, a horse he bought for $400, quite a sum, he thought. But a little later he heard the New Yorker had turned them for $1,000, which is quite a little more than $400.

Will Ramsey is pictured with several of his finest horses. One picture especially interesting now shows Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey proudly seated in a fine rubber-tired buggy which was the talk of the town then, because it had cost $250. Mr. and Mrs. Ramsey sit in it aloofly and aristocratically, as becomes the owners of such a vehicle, and Mrs. Ramsey is resplendent in a Gibson-girlish outfit.

Numbers of pictures of early Ord are included in the pioneer photographs, which have been brought in and loaned by their owners for the public edification. One twenty-year-old photo shows muddy streets and rows of buggies sitting with tongues pointing skyward. The buggies are horseless, and the scene seems to understand. Quite a contrast, however, to the smooth blocks of paving, and the rows of cars parked along them in the present.

Other pictures show the court-house of many years ago surrounded by hitched teams and wagons. Not many of the buildings are recognizable to one who only knew them in their present form. The photos of early Ord are chiefly remarkable for their lack of houses, and the evening congregations the past few weeks. The church is not always full, yet the average has been large that for the morning service, and the evening service for the past month, which will be announced later.

Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Kovanda is the newly elected teacher of the Young Married People's class. Both are well prepared for their particular classes. Two excellent addresses were given last Sunday night by Prof. W. D. Cass and Supt. M. D. Bell of the Ord schools. Their subject was, "How the Church Can Help the School." Methodist teachers were guests of honor for the evening. Miss Viola Crouch rendered two piano solos, and a group of teachers gave a vocal selection. We are gratified at the Sunday

1932, he staggered out of the hills west of Horace with a tal of having been "taken for a ride" by an unknown hold-up and forced, at the point of a gun, to drink a drug that put him to sleep for several hours. He claimed to have been robbed of $56. Officers organized a posse to search for the supposed hold-up but after investigating concluded that Mr. Holm's tale was a hoax told to cover up an attempt at suicide. Later Mr. Holm admitted that he had tried to take his own life by taking poison but said that the poison only made him ill and stupified him instead of ending his life.

Ever since then his mental condition had grown steadily worse, friends have observed. The fact that he was about to lose his farm by foreclosure action is believed to have been responsible for most of his worry and this fact undoubtedly contributed to his determination to take his own life.

Born in Denmark on Jan. 21, 1878 Mr. Holm's death occurred just one day after he became 53 years old, which strengthens the belief that he had intended to commit suicide on the evening of his birthday but postponed the act until the following morning.

He came to the United States in 1904 and at once established his home on Haskell Creek north of Ord, and on March 8, 1905 was married to Miss Ann M. Nielsen. Two children were born to them, the first child dying in infancy. The other child, Henry, grew to manhood and recently completed his college training, and is a source of comfort to his widowed mother.

In 1925 Mr. Holm became a member of the Ord Presbyterian church and has been a faithful attendant at services ever since. He was a kind and loving husband and father, a good neighbor and a fine citizen of his adopted country. He was trusted and honored by his neighbors and leaves a host of sincere friends, who are doing all that is possible to comfort the bereaved family.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Presbyterian church with Rev. L. M. Real in charge and interment was made in the Ord cemetery. Pallbearers were Will Nelson, Peter Rasmussen, Elliot Clement, Chris Nielsen, Jim Hansen and Chris Hansen, all friends and neighbors.

RESPECTED ORD WOMAN GOES ON FINAL JOURNEY

Mrs. George Schoumacker Dies Here January 18; Two Husbands Preceded in Death.

Last rites were held at the Sowl funeral parlors here at 2 p. m. Friday for Mrs. George Schoumacker, who passed away at her Ord home last Wednesday evening, January 18, with heart failure. She was 63 years, 8 months and 29 days of age when death came.

Cornelia Howard was born at Muskaday, Wis., April 20, 1869 and came to Rock county, Nebraska in 1892, becoming a member of the Methodist church at Atkinson, Neb. There she was united in marriage to William L. Brown on Nov. 8, 1889 and four children were born to them, Dolly, Ethel, Edith and another daughter who passed away in infancy.

The family came to Valley county in 1894 and the deceased spent the rest of her life in or near this county. She was widowed on Aug. 20, 1897 and was again united in marriage, becoming the wife of Charley Young of this county on Sept. 4, 1898. Two children came to bless the union, Carl and Irene.

Mr. Young passed away August 29, 1918 and twelve years later his widow was married to George Schoumacker, the ceremony taking place at Loup City on Sept. 19, 1930. They came to Ord soon afterward and for the past two years this city has been their home.

Mrs. Schoumacker became ill the first of August and has been a very patient sufferer, even in illness being a kind and loving wife and mother. She leaves to mourn, her husband, four children, Mrs. E. F. Paddock, North Loup, Mrs. H. B. Hamer, Ballagh, Carl Young, Horace, and Mrs. Glen Trump Comstock; also a half sister, Mrs. Daisy Paddock, North Loup, and a half brother, Harry Howard, Rock Island, Ill. She also leaves 16 grandchildren, 2 great grandchildren and a host of friends. Always a hard working woman and very happy in her religion, Mrs. Schoumacker endured her suffering patiently but was ready and willing to go for her reward. For sixty years she was a member of the Methodist church. Her husband, Rev. H. H. Spracklen preached the final sermon and three songs, "Shall We Gather at the River," "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Face to Face" were sung by Mrs. A. S. Koppal and Mrs. Joe F. Barta. Pall bearers were A. J. Cook, Robert Nay, George Round, Jack Brown, George Court and John Moudry. Interment was in North Loup cemetery beside the body of her second husband.

Sam Roe's Mother Dies at St. Paul

Mrs. Mary Roe, aged mother of S. W. Roe of Ord and a pioneer in Howard county, passed away last Friday evening at her home in St. Paul. She had been indisposed for about three weeks but her condition was not regarded as critical so her sudden death was a shock to her husband and relatives. She was eighty-eight years old.

Born March 21, 1844 in Peterborough county, Ontario, Canada, Mary McCracken was married in 1863 to Henry Roe in Brussels, Ontario and came with him to Howard county, Nebraska in 1872. Seven children were born to them, three preceding their mother in death. Mr. Roe also preceded her, dying Feb. 11, 1908. Children who survive are Mrs. Susanna Morris, of St. Paul, S. W. Roe, of Ord, Rev. John B. Roe of Riverdale, and Mrs. Ella Harvey, of St. Paul.

As a pioneer in Howard county, Mrs. Roe proved a great worker for the good of the community, always interested in everything beneficial to her home and adopted county. With her husband she was instrumental in bringing about the building of the Warsaw M. E. church in 1872 and throughout her life she was a willing worker in this church. For sixty years Mrs. Roe taught at a Methodist Sunday school class and was active in the work of the home and foreign missionary societies and in the Eastern Star.

Funeral services were held Monday at St. Paul with Rev. Raymond Rush having charge. He was assisted by Rev. Primrose, of St. Paul, and Rev. Tillingham, of Dannebrog. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Roe and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roe of Ord, attended the services.

In past years Mrs. Roe has often visited here and leaves many friends who will regret her passing.

"And what of it?"
"This!" He flung his cap into a chair and slapped the desk. "I didn't squawk! I didn't even ask for a fair trial. It was just the black flies so bad Sandy couldn't keep roadbuilders in the woods. He put me in there with what he had left of a crew and I stuck. I was the only one of the gang I started with who stayed through, and when we wound up I was boss!"
"Did I get something better then? Guess again! I swamped, I drove team. I went with the loading crew, and every place was put I set the next morning of 'em. Yeah. College boy. Getting sandpapered because he was son of the push!"
He nodded once more, a bit white now.
"Four things I'd proved I could do better than anybody else there. Four!"—holding up the fingers of a trembling hand. "Saws next. Could I get a partner to stay with me even at the money I made for him? I could not. They brought in a Finn who'd never found a man to stand his pace; he hoisted his turkey the ninth day and went out with his tail dragging, and when Swanson got sick there was nothing else to do but put me in to run the show, was there?"
"You know what happened then? Forty cents a thousand I saved you below anything that'd ever been done at Witch Hill, and when we were winding up the job at the end of the week they brought me in working their heads off for you and showed the lowest labor turnover they'd ever had in the country since God knows when!"
"Stuffed-shirt? Yes-man? H—! s—!"
"My," said old Tom, with forced sardonic mildness. "My, you're proud, ain't you?"
The boy caught his breath as though for a stormy denial; checked himself and flared:
"You're d—d right I am! It showed what I can do on one job; it gave me something to go on when I ask for the bigger one that's been promised me!" His voice trembled. "You'd admit it to anybody else, too; you'd admit it of any other kid who turned the trick. Then, sir, why the devil won't you admit it to and about me?"
His fist fell to the desk again, but this time with a sharp thud. Tom Kelknap's eyes left that accusing gaze, and he stared once more through the window.

Truck Load of Gas Brought Into Ord

Much excitement was created in Ord Tuesday morning when it was reported that Sheriff George Round had arrested a trucking company that was attempting to bring a load of "bootleg" gasoline into Ord from Wichita, Kas., without paying the required state gas tax. Investigation by the Ord Quiz reveals that there are few facts behind this version of the affair.

A truck load of gasoline was brought here Tuesday morning by the Triangle Oil company of Central City, the Quiz learns, but as far as we can find out the Nebraska tax of 4c per gallon was paid at the refinery and will be remitted to the state treasurer in the regular manner. Sheriff Round, who had received a tip that some bootleg gas was being brought here, stopped the truck and questioned the driver also getting a sample of the gasoline for analysis. No arrests were made and the driver was permitted to deliver the gas to local filling stations who had ordered it.

The trucking of gasoline to points distant from the refinery is a comparatively new practice, we are informed. The truck that came to Ord Tuesday held 2,200 gallons of the fluid and works on a regular schedule to the refinery in Wichita to points in eastern and central Nebraska. Though the truck has been in operation only three weeks it has already traveled 3,000 miles, making a round trip every 24 hours. Two drivers accompany the truck one driving while the other sleeps.

The gasoline being brought here is a red, high test gas and is the product of an independent refinery, the Quiz is told. The gas is laid down here at a price that permits independent filling stations to buy it and compete on an equal basis with filling stations owned by large corporations.

Independent Ord stations are planning to get a truck load of gasoline in this manner every week, the Quiz is informed, and hints of a drop in local gasoline prices are being heard.

BUD BRICKNER WINNER OF U. P. SCHOLARSHIP

Gets $100 Tuition At State Uni
For Club Work; Arcadia
Boys Get Club Trips.

Awards for outstanding accomplishments in 4-H club work have been made to three Valley county boys, it is announced this week by County Agent Carl C. Dale, donors of the awards being the Union Pacific and Burlington railroads and the Union Stockyards of Omaha. A $100 scholarship at the University of Nebraska and two free trips to Club week constitute the three awards.

Bud Brickner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brickner of Ord, is the winner of the $100 scholarship offered by the Union Pacific. Bud is a member of the Ord Corn Club, and in club work he has been interested for two years. He was a member of the Valley county team that won the United States championship in crops judging in Chicago recently and won the honor of being the best individual crop judge of the state. The scholarship will entitle young Brickner to two semesters of study at the agricultural college of the University of Nebraska with his tuition paid by the railroad. Or, if he elects to take a short course at the college instead of enrolling for a regular course, the railroad will pay his tuition to the amount of $50. Harold Benn, who won this scholarship last year, is now taking a short course in Lincoln.

The Union Pacific annually awards a scholarship of this nature in each county in which the line operates, to that boy or girl who is judged most proficient in club work.

The Burlington railroad's award, which is a trip to club week at Lincoln in June, is won this year by Max Cruickshank, of Arcadia. It is awarded each year in each county in which the Burlington operates to that boy or girl who has made the biggest success as a club leader. Max leads the square in the club. Last year the trip was won by Harold Benn.

The other free trip to club week offered by the Union Stockyards of Omaha and is won this year by J. C. Ward, also of Arcadia, who was adjudged to have the highest ranking in pig club work of any boy in the county. The ranking is determined by success in showmanship, attendance at meetings, etc. J. C. Ward's brother, Preston, won this award last year.

Andersen Grocery Moves.
Hans Andersen and his son, Frank, have been busy this week moving their stock of groceries and meats from their former store on the east side of the square to the west side store formerly occupied by George Parkins. This room has been re-decorated, new shelving has been built and the Andersen Grocery and Market is now ready for business in its new location.

Scotia Bank Closes Monday to Reorganize

The Bank of Scotia, a state bank of which Edward Kokes of Ord is president, failed to open its doors for business Monday morning and the officers say it will be closed for about a month while a reorganization takes place. The bank has a capital stock of $30,000 and its last statement listed deposits at $261,633 and loans at $186,000. Other officers are S. T. Grohosky, cashier, and Howard Grohosky, assistant cashier.

Law Suit Over $50 Bull Is Tried Here

County Judge John Andersen heard evidence Wednesday morning in the case of Lee and Howard Huff, plaintiffs, vs. Mrs. I. C. Clark, defendant, and then took it under advisement until Saturday morning, when he will render a verdict in the matter which involves a $50 Holstein bull, now deceased.

Howard Huff at first loaned the animal to the Clarks and says in his testimony that he later sold it to them, declining, however, to take a note for the debt. Mrs. Clark declares they borrowed it but made no arrangements to buy the bull, and denied that it was purchased or owned by them. Howard now wants his $50, the bull having died.

Monday Frank Blaha Jr., was able to walk out for a short time. He has been a very sick man for several weeks. It will be a long time before he is strong again but he says he is gaining each day.

Kirk Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lewis has been in honor of Miss Alice Polak, who is soon to marry Elwin Dunlap. There were about fifty guests and a bountiful dinner was served. There was a miscellaneous shower and the bride received some nice gifts.

GOOD CROWDS AT FARM HOLIDAY TWP. MEETINGS

Campaign for Membership In County Is Going Forward; 3
More Meetings Coming.

Good crowds have been present at all township meetings of the Farmers Holiday association held so far in Valley county, reported Secretary Ernest Coats yesterday, and as soon as permanent organizations in all townships are completed the organization will be ready to go ahead with a campaign to stop mortgage foreclosures and bring about improvement in agricultural conditions generally.

During the past week meetings have been held in Elyria, Springdale, Eureka, Noble and Davis Creek townships, all meetings being attended by enthusiastic crowds of farmers.

Next meeting is being held in the town hall at North Loup at 7:30 o'clock, according to the North Loup township chairman, E. F. Paddock.

Two meetings are scheduled to be held tomorrow evening, Friday. Ord township will meet in the city hall at 7:30 o'clock and Vinton township at Cottonwood school house at the same hour.

Secretary Coats stated yesterday that the association has done no work as yet toward stopping foreclosure sales but several cases are under consideration. President Arthur Mensing could not be reached for a statement yesterday.

Notice to Dog Owners.
Complaints have come to me that stray dogs have been doing lots of damage in several country districts and I am hereby requesting dog owners to keep their dogs on their own premises or they are likely to be killed. Farmers generally are requested to kill stray dogs upon sight as their depredations cannot be allowed to continue.

SCHOOL HEADS ATTEND DINNER, HEAR DR. BROADY

Loup Valley Teachers And School Board Members Convene At Burwell Thursday.

One of the most interesting meetings that the Loup Valley High School association has held since its formation a few years ago took place at Burwell last Thursday evening when faculty and school board members from nine of the eleven schools in the association met at the church, Congregational church, basement for the purpose of hearing a talk by Dr. Broady, principal of the Teachers college of the University of Nebraska.

The Loup Valley association consists of eleven schools, Taylor, Sarfraz, Taylor, Arcadia, Loup City, Ravenna, Paul Scott, Ord, North Loup and Burwell and all of them were represented at the meeting except Loup City and Comstock.

Sixty-three plates were laid in the church basement and ladies of the church served a delicious dinner, after which Supt. Benton of Dannebrog, president of the association, presided at the program. Group singing led by Professor Duncan of Ord was enjoyed during the meal, as were also several numbers by a group of Burwell High school girls and by the 8th grade chorus.

Professor John Opp, of the Burwell schools, gave the address of welcome, which was responded to on behalf of the visitors by C. E. Replough, school board member from Taylor. The program then followed included a talk by Supt. Bell, of Ord, and a report by Ralph Norman, secretary of the Ord school board. A short business meeting followed, after which came the main address by Dr. Broady, who stated that the program of the Nebraska State Teachers association and a former Ord school superintendent, had expected to be present for the meeting but was unable to come.

Those from Ord who attended the meeting were M. D. Bell, W. D. Cline, A. Kova, Howard C. Loken, back W. and Mrs. W. S. Watkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Molzen, D. S. Duncan, Gould Flagg, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, Ralph Norman and Horace Travis. From North Loup went Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Hager, Mr. and Mrs. Hemphill and Edith Hart, Homer Sample, Roy Cox, Arthur Stillman and Frank Johnson. Arcadia people in attendance included Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Thompson and Elmer Wibbel.

Gets $2,500 Verdict For Accident Hurts

After deliberating five hours, a district court jury at Wahoo last Thursday brought in a verdict of $2,500 for Mrs. Philip Wellman, of Omaha, in her suit against John H. Berry, of Wahoo. She was awarded the damages for personal injuries suffered in a collision between cars driven by Mr. Berry and Mr. Wellman on Thanksgiving day, 1931. The case was tried last fall but a $3,700 verdict for Mrs. Wellman was set aside in favor of a new trial.

Mrs. Wellman is the former Priscilla VanDecar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. VanDecar of Ord.

Arcadia Man Dies Of Heart Trouble

Arcadia, Febr. 1.—(Special)—N. H. Ames, 61-year-old farm resident of this community, passed away suddenly at 12:30 a. m. Monday, after a brief illness of several days. Though Mr. Ames had been in poor health all winter his condition was not regarded as serious, so his sudden death was a great shock to friends and relatives. He had made plans to move to Missouri and had arranged to leave on Tuesday of this week, the sale being called off because of his death. Funeral services were held at the Congregational church here at 2 p. m. today and burial was in Arcadia cemetery. Professor Hutches, principal of Shelton Academy, conducted the services. Mr. Ames is survived by his wife, one son, Everett, of Arcadia, and three married daughters who reside elsewhere.

Burwell Co-op Pays $11,000 In Dividends

The Burwell Butter Factory, a co-operative institution, closed another successful year last Saturday with the payment of $11,000 to its patrons in the form of dividends. The payment being made at the rate of 3c per pound of butterfat. The creamery churned almost 450,000 pounds of butter during the past year. Ralph Brownell has managed the creamery for ten years and it is regarded as one of the most successful in Nebraska. Charles Meyer, who received a dividend check of $125, sold the most butterfat of any individual.

Mrs. Klein's Brother Dead.
Frank Dilla, 51, a brother of Mrs. John Klein of Ord, passed away last Tuesday, Jan. 24, at his home in St. Joe, Mo., where for the past 25 years he had been a government meat inspector. He leaves a widow, four sons and a daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Klein and Mrs. Julius Dilla, of Loup City, drove as far as Grand Island and took the train to St. Joe to attend the funeral. They returned home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hughes recently motored to Scotia and visited Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Messersmith.

Co. Treasurer Says License Plate Cost May Be Reduced

County Treasurer George A. Satterfield is hinting to prospective purchasers of automobile license plates that the cost of these articles may come down this winter; in fact, he is advising auto owners not to purchase them pending action by the legislature.

The legislative committee in charge of this matter recently told county treasurers that a bill would be passed reducing the cost of plates and advised treasurers to hold up selling plates whenever possible, so as to avoid the red tape incidental to making a refund later. Peace of mind for the legislature is the committee to refrain from arresting cars operating on 1932 plates, until action is taken in the legislature.

Mr. Satterfield thinks that the charge will be reduced to a flat rate of $5 per car without regard size, or possibly to $3 for light cars and $6 for heavy cars.

C. OF C. TO OPEN BIG MEMBERSHIP DRIVE ON FRIDAY

Directors Decide to Reduce Dues, Name Committee to Solicit; Drop Scrip Plan.

Fifty new members before Friday night is the goal of the Ord Chamber of Commerce in a membership drive that will begin at an early hour tomorrow morning and continue throughout the day. Stanley McLain is chairman of the membership committee and will be assisted in the drive tomorrow by Freeman Haught, Val Pullen, Arthur Capron and Glen Auble.

Directors of the Chamber, at their January meeting last Thursday evening, decided to reduce the dues from 40 per cent to 50c per month so admitted members will have an added advantage in their quest for new members tomorrow. Those who have been active in Chamber of Commerce work during the past few years feel that much has been accomplished but that much more can be done in the future if a majority of the city's business interests lend their support to the work.

At the meeting Thursday evening the new president, Harlan T. Frazier, appointed his standing committees for 1933 as follows:

City development—Fred Coe, Edw. Clements, Virgil Sowl, Wm. Sack.

Rural-urban—E. C. Leggett, E. C. Weller, Guy Burrows, L. V. Kokes, Gould Flagg.

MORATORIUM ON FARM MORTGAGES SEEN IN OFFING

Big Insurance Companies Say
Will Hold Off Foreclosures
In Iowa; Bryan in Action.

A moratorium on farm mortgages—the goal sought by the Farmers' Holiday association and other farm organizations—is seen faintly in the offing, as a result of developments throughout the country during the past week. That act of farm organizations everywhere are adopting the policy of resisting sales by foreclosure is believed to have spurred big insurance companies and legislative bodies in many states into action.

In Iowa Governor Clyde Herring has issued a proclamation in which he requests mortgagees to hold up foreclosure action on farm lands until the Iowa legislature has had time to pass moratorium legislation. According to his request, the New York Life Insurance company, the Aetna, and General Guaranty insurance companies have proclaimed a temporary moratorium. Other companies are said to be contemplating the same action and there is no doubt that if Iowa farmers are granted this boon that it will be extended to Nebraska as well.

At Lincoln this week Governor Charles W. Bryan, still sick in bed, appointed a board of conciliation to assist in settling farm mortgage disputes. Tax Commissioner Wm. H. Smith was named chairman of the board and other members are H. C. Kenny, of Omaha, president of the Farmers Union, C. L. Deets, of Broken Bow, master of the state Grange, P. P. Cedar, of Genoa, president of the Farm Bureau Federation, H. C. Parmenter of Yutan, president of the Farm Holiday association, Louis S. Clark, of Omaha, president of the Nebraska Mortgage Bankers association, and Stanley Mair, of Lincoln, president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce. Advisory boards in each county to work with the state board are contemplated by Gov. Bryan.

In a foreclosure dispute, Chairman Smith says, the local board might prevail on the money lender to be satisfied with the sum for which the mortgaged land will sell now rather than demand a deficiency judgment also. Or, if he refused, the board would confer with the courts and advise him of the circumstances. The boards will act without compensation and purely in an advisory capacity.

Legislation about a moratorium on farm mortgages is contemplated in Congress and also in various state legislatures, daily newspapers of the week reveal, and there is every possibility that some beneficial farm relief will be enacted within the next few weeks.

Ord Cagers Defeat Ericson, Broken B.

Custer County Boys No Match For
Ordites; Battle Snow To Play
Ericson Tuesday Eve.

Heralded as a fast team but failing to live up to their reputation, the Broken Bow basketball team was no match for Ord last Friday in a game played on the Ord high school floor. Coach Cecil Molzeu started his first team and when the initial period ended the count was 14 to 1 in Ord's favor, which resulted in Ord substitutes being sent in to gain experience. The second team played most of the game and Ord won handily by a score of 28 to 16.

Tuesday evening of this week the Ord boys got some experience in fighting drifted roads when they drove to Ericson to play. Both the Ord first and second teams won the trip and both teams won, the first squad winning 19 to 6 and the second team 16 to 3.

SIX INCH SNOW BREAKS PERFECT JANUARY RECORD

Blizzard On Last Day of Month
Is First Bad Weather in 41
Days, Says Travis.

Forty-one days of perfect weather came to a close Tuesday morning when, beginning with a fine rain that changed to snow as the temperature dropped, a blizzard of fair-sized proportions raged over Valley county. Six inches of snow fell during the day, according to the report of Horace Travis, official government weather observer, and the snow was accompanied by high winds. Snow drifted badly during the evening but the wind died down about midnight and roads were readily opened up when Wednesday dawned bright and clear.

The heavy snow of Tuesday contained 36 of an inch of moisture, Mr. Travis reports, and it was the only moisture that fell during January. This was not unusual as January is usually a dry month here. In January, 1932, the precipitation total was the same, 36, and in 1931 it was only 31 of an inch. In 1930 the moisture total was 70, in 1929 it was 24, in 1928 it was 66 and in 1927 it was 100.

The last snow previous to the one Tuesday came on Dec. 9 and 10, Mr. Travis records show, when 4 1/2 inches fell. On Dec. 25 a light rain fell, 1-100th of an inch to be exact. Between Dec. 19, our last zero day, and Tuesday, Jan. 31, the weather here was almost perfect. The coldest temperature yesterday was 4 degrees above zero.

Unless a lot of snow comes during February and March, this fall and winter are going to be away under 1932 in snowfall for last year was an unusual year in this respect. 41 inches of snow falling during the five winter months, November, December, January, February and March.

Prospects for a good crop next summer are still normal in spite of the dry winter, Mr. Travis here says. Between March and April rain-fall that makes crops in Valley county, he says, and if we have normal moisture in these months this year we should have good crops next summer regardless of the dry winter.

SURVEYING WORK BEGINS MONDAY ON MIDDLE LOUP

Dam Boosters Raise $5,000 To Pay For Initial Work in Huge Irrigation Project.

Bright and early Monday morning a crew of eight surveyors under the leadership of D. E. W. Jones, of the Henningsen Engineering Company, of Omaha, began the work of surveying the Middle Loup valley to determine the feasibility of a $750,000 irrigation and power project that is being talked of there. If the surveys prove the project feasible, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation will loan money to carry out the project and Comstock will be built.

Never in the history of the Middle Loup valley has so much enthusiasm for a project been shown as during the campaign for Comstock being the target of the Saturday with the announcement that $5,000 had been raised to guarantee the expense of the initial survey.

The communities of Comstock, Arcadia and Loup City took part in the money-raising campaign, Comstock being the largest. Last Wednesday afternoon Arcadia people finished raising their quota when every business place in town closed and about forty carloads of people spent the afternoon soliciting funds.

Friday evening a rousing meeting was held at the Belling hall in Arcadia at which time announcement was made that the Arcadia quota had been raised. Bert M. Hardenbrook, of Ord was one of the speakers at this meeting.

Saturday afternoon the campaign came to a close when Loup City went over the top with its portion of the $5,000 fund. Last Wednesday afternoon Arcadia people finished raising their quota when every business place in town closed and about forty carloads of people spent the afternoon soliciting funds.

It is thought that the work of surveying will take from six weeks to two months, after which it will not be long before the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's decision in the matter will be known. R. F. C. officials who have inspected preliminary surveys have expressed themselves as favorable to the project so it is thought that there is little doubt that their final decision will be favorable.

The project contemplates construction of a huge dam at the Narrows where it will generate an enormous amount of electricity. The Western Public Service Company is reported to have already submitted an offer to buy all the electricity produced at 1/2¢ per kilowatt hour.

The entire Middle Loup valley from Comstock to a point below Loup City will be irrigated with water from the reservoir above the dam. Engineers have stated that enough water will be available to irrigate 100,000 acres of land.

To build the dam several hundred men will be employed for a period of a year or more and the dredging of ditches for irrigation will require additional labor. The project is one of the largest ever planned by a central Nebraska community and if it goes through there seems no doubt that prosperity will settle permanently in the Middle Loup valley, as it has in other regions where irrigation has been brought.

The meeting at Arcadia Friday evening was attended by H. T. Frazier, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, who states that in his opinion the North Loup valley offers a similar opportunity for the development of an irrigation and hydro-electric project. The Chamber of Commerce will have in communication with John W. Towle, Nebraska chairman of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, and if he expresses himself as being favorably inclined toward considering another such project it is likely that steps will be taken to acquaint people of the North Loup valley with the advantages that the plan of financing being used at Arcadia offers.

A Romance of the North Woods

By Harold Titus
W.N.U. SERVICE

"No," he said dryly, as if to end debate with himself, and the suggested alteration of his face which had threatened, perhaps, a melting, a softening, came to nothing. "It goes back to where we started; that I'm running this outfit yet and hiring men and putting 'em where I think they'll do me the most good."

"One thing," he pronounced, "you've got to learn is to know men to get along with men. You don't like Gorbel—"

"No, I never have! Neither does anybody else around this outfit!"—with an inclusive gesture. "You've got a price on his interest, and even if you aren't ready to buy him out I won't lock horns with him. Let me run the outfit, and the mill; let him get into the bank. I want to get into the woods, Tom, and at Kampfest. There'd be no conflict!"

"As I was saying; you don't like Gorbel, and for no reason I can see. You've got to learn why you like and don't like men. You've only been on one job. You try another, now, and come spring you show me what you're worth. You'll see where I get back."

"The lined face and eyes showed pain against it. 'We've had a lot of gable this afternoon! Here's your letter from Sandy. See if you can make a showin' somewhere else, and when I get back... we'll see what we can see'."

"He rose. "That's all, then?" John asked, oddly restrained.

"That's all there is. The Century leaves in two hours. If you go, you'll get a good bye from your mother you'd better be about it."

The boy stood irresolute, conflicting impulses surging within him. When, with a sweeping movement, he snatched up his cap.

"Good-bye, sir," crisply. "Good-bye, John, I... well, good-bye!"—gruffly.

Their hands met briefly, formally. "You'll go on to Seven tomorrow... Difficult to tell whether it was a statement or query; difficult to tell, too, whether the clearing of his throat had been necessary or not."

"I seem to have my orders," the boy said, and none could have told what impulse lay behind the words. He wheeled and went quickly out, and for a long moment after he had gone his father stood, a gaunt, wearied old figure. He lifted one hand with a helpless movement and sank into the great chair, chin on knuckles. . . . An unhappy man, this, helpless to rectify his mood . . .

CHAPTER II
Now when a young man, fever hot with rebellion, at odds with his world, set upon, treated unfairly, finding his firmest trust betrayed, mad to his marrow, steps off a train into a strange town and is hit in the mouth by a stranger, certain events are bound to follow. For one thing, the pressure of temper within him finds relief.

It was not enough for young John Belknap to come to a decision as to what to do; easy enough to decide that the Mid-West headquarters, up in the wilderness, was as good a place as any for a young man going out on his own to present himself and ask for a chance. Easy, simple!

But not so easy to summon that rage which would wipe out the hurt. He had had his fondest hopes betrayed by the one human being he had trusted above all others. It cut as deep as a knife, him drive himself into a furious temper.

He had boarded a late train, pack-sack over his shoulder, oblivious to the stares of people in the station, telling himself that he had been double-crossed and abused to a point which was intolerable. Through the remaining hours of the night he had tossed in his berth, letting that rage eat up the disappointment and heartache. Today, on a less comfortable train, his fire mounted and as the cars rocked and bounced on northward over increasingly rough steel, he sat for long intervals without moving a muscle, the fire in his eyes growing, the darkness in his heart deepening.

Snow fell. Now and again some of it sifted down from the ventilators to the greasy rattan seats of the smoker. The brakeman came in and lighted oil lamps as waning afternoon brought wintry darkness. One more change now, and he would be on the Kampfest line. . . . But he was not going to stop at Kampfest!

"You're out of luck," the conductor said; "getting into Kampfest tonight. They got three cars off on a culvert and it may take 'em until noon to get their line open. Tell you what; the Junction boarding house's a fright. You could go on to Shoestring where there's a good place to stay and come back in the morning in time to get the express."

"Shoestring? Never heard of it." "Spry little town." The conductor smiled grimly as he adjusted the wick of his lantern. "If the branch hadn't been blocked this afternoon, you might've seen some big times there tonight. . . ."

John did not heed this. He said, "Much obliged," and settled back in the corner of his seat with his wrath.

Soon the brakeman rose and sung out: "Shoestring!" Buttoning his Mackinaw, slinging his pack-sack to one shoulder, John stood in the end of the car as they jolted to a stop. He was the only passenger disembarking, and when he pulled the door open snow whirled about him. Moving figures showed against the glow of depot lights.

A voice sung out sharply: "That's him!" He dropped to shin-deep snow on the platform, and a bulking figure moved to confront him.

"You'd better git back on the train," the man said. "You ain't welcome here!"

"Check him through!" some one called harshly.

"Who are you to—?" "We ain't here to argue, Jack! You git back aboard that car and keep your feet out of Shoestring and you'll be better off!"

The big man grasped his arm determinedly, and as John twisted to free himself he slipped. He flung out a hand to catch his balance and, on the gesture, a stinging blow caught him full in the mouth.

An instant before, and despite his black mood, he would have argued; but that fist on his lips dropped a red curtain before his eyes, coagulated all the anger which had kept him hot for two days and a night, stripped reason from him.

He crouched; he rushed. He was going to let no gang put him back on any train! He bore into them, through them, until he had distance between himself and the car and then straightened, catching one a stiff blow on the neck that spun him about. He whirled and drove his fist hard into a belly.

Voices, then, sharp and profane. Someone struck him on the cheek, and with an uppercut John dropped a man who charged in from the right. A state of blood on his lips goaded him.

He Whirled and Drove His Fist Hard Into a Belly.

They came on with a rush. He kicked one's feet from under him, and the falling fellow tripped another. He struck and kicked and elbowed and ducked. His head rocked sideways from a blow, and he squeezed his eyes shut for a split instant to check the mounting dizziness. They could have had him down and beaten to a pulp in one minute, if they'd used their heads. They were too mad, too eager to carry the fight; they got in one another's way, fended off the blows of their fellows.

A man, charging him, checked and veered, and he had a fleeting glimpse of a small figure on the edge of the group, shoving at his assailants, holding up a dissuading hand.

A voice, then a girl's voice, was raised sharply. "Stop! Stop! Tiny, Ezra, Way-Bill! Let him alone!"

The "him" was beyond a doubt John Steele Belknap, but that young man was now in no mood to be let alone! The figure of the leader was before him, poised, waiting; perhaps in indecision at the sudden willing of spirit or intent among his fellows; perhaps waiting on this stranger who was so unwelcome in their midst. for the latter his wait was brief because as he kicked free from those impending hands John rushed him, striking out quickly with short savage blows, glorying in this moment of even odds.

A cry, then, as John bareheaded, face set, burst into the light. "Tain't him, Tiny! Tain't him!"

Now this, Tiny might, in another instant, have had reason to claim that the about distracted him, did he remember upon his knees!

Full on the point of Tiny's chin his knuckles struck and the man's legs staggered. The force of the blow struck upon his knees!

John heard that sound and a tingle ran through him. He lurched on forward, crouching as if to escape upon his fallen adversary.

The man's face was bruised and bleeding. He lay lax, and when John raised one of the great arms it dropped back limply.

"Get hold here!"—sharply. "Carry him inside where I can see!" And gently, easily, considering the man's weight, he slid an arm beneath the broad shoulders and raised the torso.

Others helped, for the most part wordlessly, and they shuffled into the waiting room with their burden, placing it carefully on the floor beside the stove.

John was heedless of the crowd that pressed close again. He removed the thick cap from Tiny's head and with light, careful fingers rummaged through the stiff hair.

"Get me some snow!" John said, and two scurried outside. With his handkerchief he wiped blood from the man's chin, and when the snow came he took great handful and held it against brow and temples.

Tiny grimaced and puckered his lips and stirred. He moaned next and opened one eye and whimpered.

"What th' h—l!" he began, and the crowd stirred, as in relief. John drew a deep breath, then, and looked up at the faces above him; weather-beaten, vigorous faces, they were, and as his eyes swept them they turned on him with curious expressions.

"He wants to know what the h—l," he began. "And that makes two of us. What the h—l does it—?"

He broke short. He had settled back to his heels, searching those faces with a demand for explanation, when he saw her. She had stood beside him, looking down. Very small and slight of figure she was, and the face beneath the smug turban of beaver was as gentle as those others were rough.

A study of tax levies disclosed the fact that Arcadia people are experiencing (rather than enjoying) the peculiar position of the lowest of any of their nearby neighboring towns and very few towns of the state can boast of as low a levy. The total levy in Arcadia is $21.47 for each thousand dollars of assessed value, while neighboring towns run from $31.57 to as high as $68.98. Burwell with a levy of $19.97, which doubtless includes any township tax while Arcadia has a levy of $2.30 for this purpose, is the only town in this section with a lower levy.

Prospects of a short and snappy session of the legislature were shattered last Thursday when the house voted for adjournment until Monday of this week.

Both the house and senate passed resolutions recommending the consolidation of the legislative programs of all these organizations.

The most important step taken by the legislature this week, in the opinion of administration leaders, was the passage of the banking bill.

The house passed the barber bill Monday last week by use of the voting machine.

A bill ratifying the purchase of $1,200,000 of government bonds by former State Treasurer Bass passed the house with only a few dissenting votes.

The house passed a resolution memorializing congress not to appropriate funds for waterways navigation development for two years.

The senate continued its probing activities when several resolutions were adopted calling for special committees to investigate the university of Nebraska, law enforcement department, banking department, state governmental subdivisions and highway department.

A senate committee was authorized to ask the state treasurer for a list of delinquent gasoline taxes.

The senate, after discussing and amending S. F. 52 relating to salaries of certain state officers, reported advancement. This bill, which originally provided for a cut of $1,500 a year in the Governor's salary, was amended to increase the reduction to $2,500.

railway commissioners, members of the board of control, state tax commissioner and other officers.

Governor Bryan's bill proposing code revision has been considerably patched up in committee to make its initial appearance before the house by transfer of the fire marshal to the department of inspection instead of the state sheriff's department and eliminating the proposed efficiency engineer recommended by the Governor.

Three bills have been introduced in the legislature for the creation of a state owned and operated bank. One bill is in the senate and two in the house.

The Stringfellow bill in the house would cut present auto registration fees in half, farm tractor registration fees one-third and reduce commercial truck licenses considerably.

Officers of the Farmers Holiday Association have called a meeting of legislative committees of several farm and labor organizations to be held in Lincoln, February 13.

Insurance policy holders in Nebraska paid a total of $226,000 in special insurance taxes during 1931.

Although enrollment for 1932 in the University of Nebraska was slightly less than the previous year, the number of degrees and certificates increased.

Only $31,000 of this amount was used for supervision of insurance companies while the remainder went into the general revenue funds.

The average monthly farm wage in Nebraska is now $16.75 with room and board. The average for the United States is $14.77.

The Nebraska Insurance Commission has ordered certain insurance companies in the state to discontinue making of discriminatory rates on automobile insurance.

An increase in building operations in thirty-seven states east of the Rockies is reported for the period January 1st to 15th. Contracts awarded totaled over 43 million dollars as compared with 37 millions for the same period in 1932.

Depositors in failed state banks at Wobach, Jack, Macon, Dorchester, Wauneta, Brownlee and Irvington were paid $27,000 in dividends recently.

A number of Nebraska cities, including Spalding, the Clay Center, have issued scrip on the same plan used by some towns in Iowa.

The Loup county attorney, Mr. Larsen, having been elected, the state legislature, county supervisors of Loup county last week appointed Guy Laverty of Burwell county attorney. He will go to Taylor every Tuesday to care for the duties.

Dr. M. M. Sullivan, of Spalding, last week was confirmed by the legislature as a member of the game and fish commission, to which position he was appointed by Governor Bryan. He succeeds F. A. Baldwin, of Alnoworth.

Spalding has adopted the scrip plan, issuing only $100 in scrip as a starter but planning a larger issue later. Alliance is about to issue scrip, beginning with $500.
