IRRIGATION PLANS TO WASHINGTON ABOUT MAY 20TH

Engineers to Finish Survey This Week; Scotia, Almeria Are Left Out of Project.

By May 20th, according to present indications, a party consisting of Bert M. Hardenbrook, C. A. Sorensen, and N. T. Veatch, Jr., representing the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District, will leave for Washington, D. C., to appear before the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's advisory council of engineers and formally request a loan to carry out an irrigation and hydro-electric project in the North Loup valley.

Engineer Dunmire's party of surveyors will finish work this week or early next week, it was stated yesterday, and after that a couple of weeks work in the Kansas City office of Black & Veatch must be done before the plans are ready for submission. The plans must then be approved by Roy Cochran, state engineer, and Prof. Clark Mickey, the R. F. C. consulting engineer in Nebraska.

The exact amount of money that will be asked for is not known, pending the drawing of final plans by Black & Veatch, but it will be $600,000 or more, in all probability.

Messrs. Burrell and Brock, two young surveyors from the office of Dr. G. E. Condra's conservation and soil survey division in Lincoln, arrived in Ord Tuesday to make soundings in the river at the sites of various proposed diversion dams to determine how deep foundations will have to go. They did similar work in the Middle Loup valley Monday.

The Scotia and Almeria neighborhoods will not be included in the North Loup valley project, it was definitely decided last week, due to the failure of both communities to raise sufficient money to pay for a preliminary survey. It was decided, however, to furnish irrigation for land in the vicinity of Taylor by pumping from the river, using electricity generated by the power plants as the motive power. About 2,000 acres that cannot be reached by the ditch will thus be given irrigation.

Frank Valasek Is Trampled By Bull

Last Friday Frank Valasek was bruised all over and suffered some bone injuries when he was trampled by a bull at his farm in Springdale. Luckily, he was quite near a fence when he was first attacked and knocked down by the animal and finally succeeded in climbing over the fence to safety. He had to crawl to the fence an inch at a time as the bull watched him so closely and threatened to trample him again whenever he attempted to rise. Dr. Lee Nay is caring for Mr. Valasek and states that there are apparently no internal injuries.

Long List of Ord Students Honored

Twenty-six Ord high school students are listed on the Honor Roll at the end of the fifth six weeks of the present term. Listing on the Honor Roll is given in recognition of superior scholarship to students whose grades included two A's and two B's. The twenty-six so honored were: Darlene Anderson, Arthur Auble, Pauline Barta, Margaret Bonne, Twilla Brickner, Donna Burrows, Jack Catlin, Paul Dana, Dorothy Fish, Viola, Mae Flynn, Everett Gross, Kathryn Holub, Delta Marie Hoyt, Irma Kokes, Ruth Koupp, Edwin Lenz, Kenneth McGinnis, Audrey Melia, Henry Nielsen, Dorothy Nelson, Delma Palmatier, Thelma Palmatier, Mildred Smith, Verna Stowell, Edward Urban, Donald Williamson.

Cushing Car Is Hit By Tornado, Saved From Disaster

Tuesday's edition of the Omaha World-Herald has the following to say about Herbert L. Cushing, former superintendent of the Ord schools and once county superintendent of valley county:

"H. L. Cushing, director of certification in the state superintendent's office, was driving through Madison county Saturday when a tornado struck. "He found his car suddenly hurtling across the road and stopped, thinking he had a flat tire, but it was just the heavy wind. When it began to rain he had to stop and soon heard a dull thud. When the storm subsided he found three telephone poles across the road in front of him, one only about 15 yards away."

K. OF P. LODGE PRESENTS PLAY, "SCHOOL DAZE"

Knights and Sisters Take Parts In Farce Comedy Monday; Nice Crowd Present.

The farce-comedy, "School Daze," which was written by the man who writes the comical sign-board slogans used as advertising by a prominent refining company, was presented by Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters at their hall Monday evening in the presence of a good sized crowd. It was a scream, say people who attended.

Miss Frances Bratt, as Miss Snodgrass, the school teacher, had a prominent part as did Leroy Frazier as Mr. Twiddleum, a visiting school board member. Among the "children" were Opal Kosmata, Luella Johnson, Fern Draper, Agnes Frazier, Evelyn McIndies, Vera Andersen, Fern Parks, Lloyd Benjamin, Mike Kosmata, Carl Dale, Herschel McGrew, Dale Norman, Wayne Norman, Lynn Beeghly, Wm. A. Bartlett and J. W. McGinnis. Mr. Benjamin as "White Rose," the colored child, Luella Johnson as a tale-telling school girl and Carl Dale as a sissy, were especially good but all of the characters are entitled to praise for their impersonations.

Several specialty numbers were much enjoyed, among them a violin solo played by Orville Sowl, a baritone solo by LeRoy Frazier, a soprano solo by Lucille Tolen and a quartet number by Edgar Mouser, F. L. Blessing, LeRoy Frazier and E. H. Petty. Miss Zelma Frushour also gave a reading that was much applauded. Pianists were Mrs. Stanley McLain and Mrs. O. H. Sowl.

School Children To Join In Song-Fest

Hundreds Will Sing From Steps Of Court House Next Friday, May 12, in County Chorus.

Hundreds of Valley county school children will sing in unison in Ord next Friday, May 12, announces Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools, the occasion being the annual song festival for rural school children. If weather is good the concert will be given at 2:30 p. m. from the court house steps. Otherwise it will take place at the Ord high school auditorium.

Throughout the year students in rural schools have been learning rural songs recommended by the state superintendent's office and it is these songs that will be sung next Friday.

All of the schools without previous practice together, will unite and sing in one great chorus, says Miss McClatchey. She is hoping that 350 or 400 students will take part. Last year, in spite of bad roads and a snowstorm, 200 children sang in the chorus.

'Know Your School Week' Observed Here

Last week was the annual "Know Your School" week in the Ord schools and as usual large numbers of patrons and friends visited the various rooms during the week. Two programs also were given, one at the south school Wednesday evening and another at the north school Thursday evening. Songs, playlets, exercises and exhibits of school work featured the grade school program; playlets, demonstrations and musical numbers the high school program. Both were well attended and Supt. Millard Bell expresses himself as being very well pleased with the interest taken in the schools by patrons.

VALLEY COUNTY'S REFORESTATION QUOTA IS NAMED

Eighteen Young Men Are Waiting Travel Orders; County Will Save in Relief Funds.

Eighteen young Valley county men, selected Saturday from forty-six applicants for reforestation jobs, this week are awaiting orders to proceed to Fort Crook or some other military point for training before taking up their new work. The orders are expected hourly, says Ralph W. Norman, who was chairman of the committee making the selections. Other members of the committee were Joe Vasicek and Morris Sorensen.

To be eligible for jobs in President Roosevelt's reforestation corps young men had to be from 18 to 25 years old, unemployed, unmarried but with dependents and Chairman Norman says that almost all of the forty-six applicants fulfilled all of these qualifications so the task of his committee was a difficult one.

Young men finally selected to make up Valley county's quota of 18 are Vern Stewart, Harry E. Edwards, Sidney Fuller, N. E. Larkin and Eugene C. Meyers, all of North Loup; John Higgins, and Davis Aubert, Arcadia; Edward Laclina, Frank L. Peckham, Albert Adams, Alvin Carlsen, Raymond Richardson, Russell R. Madison, Milton Meyers, Herman Jensen, Lester Manchester and Willard Ball, all of Ord; and Donald Nelson, Elyria.

Before being enrolled in the reforestation army these young men will be given a physical examination and in the event that some of them fail to pass their places will be filled from among the list of applicants still on file with Chairman Norman's committee. Word from Fort Crook is that about 5 per cent of those taking the examination have failed to pass but Mr. Norman said yesterday that he believed all of Valley county's quota would be able to meet the physical requirements, which are not believed to be very stringent.

Reforestation workers will be paid $1 per day and will also be given board, room and clothing. When they enroll they do so for a period of six months and are subject to semi-military discipline while in the corps, though their work does not include military training and they will not wear military uniforms.

Each young man given a job agrees to allot $25 of his pay each month to his dependents at home, which will help counties like Valley greatly in their unemployment relief expenses. Twelve of the eighteen young men selected here come from families that have been receiving county aid. The boys will be taken to Grand Island for enrollment in the reforestation corps and then will be taken to Fort Crook, near Omaha, for two weeks of conditioning and training before being taken to their new work. There is no federal reforestation work scheduled in Nebraska so it is likely that the boys will be taken to some western state.

Instructions issued yesterday by Chairman Norman tells the boys to travel light but to be prepared to be away from home six months. Clothing, blankets and camp equipment will be provided by the government, but reforestation workers are advised to take one good suit of clothes to be used on excursions away from camp.

F. M. Harris Dies Sunday at Wolbach

Frederick Miner Harris, for nine years a farmer in the Ord neighborhood, passed away at 11:15 Sunday, April 23, at his home in Wolbach, death resulting from cerebral hemorrhage after an illness of eight weeks. Born June 26, 1853 in Rock Island, Ill., Mr. Harris was married in Kansas April 7, 1883 to Isabel Eaks and five children were born to them, all of whom survive. They are Mrs. Ruth Flynn, of Blair; L. Dow Harris, Wolbach; and Emil Harris, Sheridan, Wyo.; Miner Harris, Wolbach; and Emil Harris, Western. His widow, two sisters and a brother also survive.

From 1902 until 1911 the Harris family lived on a farm north of Ord and Mr. Harris won many staunch friends who will mourn his death. He had lived in Wolbach since 1923 and funeral services were held there at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, after which the body was brought to Ord for burial.

School Exhibit In Spring This Year

Because Valley county will not have a fair next fall, rural schools of the county will hold their annual exhibit this spring. County Superintendent McClatchey said yesterday. Miss Sarah McLain has donated the use of her business building on the south side of the square in Ord and the exhibit will be held there. It will open May 20 and be open one week, closing Saturday evening, May 27. All school exhibits usually shown at the fair will be on display. 6-2t

Mrs. Parkos Enters Freak Egg in Ord Quiz Contest

A freak egg laid by one of her White Orpington hens was entered Tuesday by Mrs. A. F. Parkos in the Quiz "big egg" contest, which was started three weeks ago when E. H. Bartholomew, of North Loup, brought a huge egg to the Quiz publisher Ed Klancey which was an egg larger than that of Bartholomew's contribution, so the contest was on in earnest.

The egg brought by Mrs. Parkos Tuesday is a double egg, that is one complete egg, shell and all, inside of another. The whole egg measures 6 1/2 x 7 1/4 in. It is not as large as two eggs gathered from her flock previously, Mrs. Parkos says. The same hen, she thinks, produced all the large ones, laying them about a week or ten days apart. The record, 9 x 9 inches, is still held by Ed Klancey's White Plymouth Rock hen with Mr. Bartholomew's R. I. Red hen in second position with an egg 6 1/2 x 8 3/4 inches.

IRL TOLEN SUES PHONE COMPANY FOR $400 WAGES

Was Hired in 1930 to Influence Public Opinion, Was Paid Only $50, Tolen Claims.

Claiming that about October 1, 1930 he was employed by the Nebraska Continental Telephone company as an "undercover man" in Ord, and that he worked three months in an attempt to influence public opinion to make possible the installation of automatic telephone service at higher rates here, Irl D. Tolen of Lincoln is suing the telephone company for $400 in a suit filed in Valley county court yesterday. District Manager W. Y. Johnson, of Kearney, who employed him, agreed to pay him "fair and reasonable compensation" but to date has paid him only $50, Mr. Tolen claims. He asks $400 as the balance due him for three months of work.

It will be remembered that in the fall of 1930 the telephone company was in the midst of a campaign to install automatic phones here and went so far as to have circulated a petition in which many Ordites asked the Nebraska Continental to install such service at a large increase in rates. The move was blocked by a counter-petition circulated by business men who felt that the rate demands of the telephone company were too high. It was during this campaign that Mr. Tolen was employed, he claims.

In the suit filed yesterday he designates the services he was employed to perform as those of a "solicitor, promoter and general utility man" and says that he was requested and solicited to accept such employment by District Manager Johnson.

In addition to influencing public sentiment to make possible the installation of automatic telephones at higher rates in Ord, Mr. Tolen was also supposed to help effect a consolidation between the Nebraska Continental and the Garfield Mutual exchange at Burwell, which consolidation was vigorously opposed by certain stockholders of the latter concern.

Mr. Tolen, in his petition yesterday, claims that he put forth for three months an organized effort both to effect the Burwell consolidation and also to influence public opinion favorably in Ord.

A fair and reasonable remuneration for his efforts would be $450, Mr. Tolen believes, whereas he has been paid only $50 by Manager Johnson. The latter paid him $25 sometime in 1931 and another $25 sometime in 1932 and repeatedly promised to pay the balance of the $450 but has failed to do so, Tolen claims. He asks judgment in the amount of $400 with interest at the rate of 7 per cent from July 1, 1931 until the present. He is represented in the suit by Attorney H. B. VanDecar.

Mr. Tolen is one of Ord's best known citizens, having served as county treasurer and in other public offices here and also as publisher of the Ord Journal for several years. He was an unsuccessful candidate for railway commissioner in 1932 and at present is deputy secretary of state under Harry R. Swanson.

ORD HIGH WINS PLAQUE FOR BEST F. F. A. CHAPTER

Kovanda's Ag Students Are Best In Nebraska, Was Decision At Lincoln Convention.

The Ord high school agricultural department has received the plaque award for having the outstanding F. F. A. chapter in Nebraska during the past year. The presentation was made at Lincoln last Friday at the state convention of the Future Farmers of America.

The custom of awarding a plaque each year to the best chapter began four years ago. Beatrice was the first school to win the trophy. It was won by Newman Grove during the next term. Last spring the trophy was won by Minden, with Hastings placing second, and Ord third. The three high ranking schools for 1932-33 are Ord first, Albion second and Nebraska third.

There are 73 vocational agriculture departments in Nebraska, and 55 of these have organized F. F. A. chapters which compete for district honors. The state winner is chosen from the first place schools in each of the eight districts. The district winners receive certificates of merit.

Four Ord State Farmers were prominent in the affairs of the 1933 convention. They were Harold Benn, Adrian Tolen, Paul Dana, and State President Charles Barnhart. Archie Hatfield and David Barnhart also attended as official delegates.

Paul Dana was one of the twenty-two Nebraska boys to receive gold State Farmer keys at the convention. The keys were awarded by S. R. McKelvie, who was in turn presented with an honorary key by Charles Barnhart, in behalf of the Nebraska F. F. A.

A report was given by Charles Barnhart of the national convention, and of his experience in winning the degree of American Farmer, at Kansas City. There are only four Nebraska boys that have ever received this highest degree of the F. F. A.

The plaques, such as Ord brought home, become the permanent properties of each annual winner. The 1933 plaque consists of a mahogany shield, on which are mounted the bronze emblems of the F. F. A.—the plow, the owl, the rising sun, and the cross-section of an ear of corn. It is awarded on the basis of a score card which consists of the following eight factors:

1. Supervised practice.
2. Cooperative activities.
3. Community service.
4. Leadership.
5. Earnings and savings.
6. Scholarship.
7. Conduct of meetings.
8. Recreation.

New state F. F. A. officers for 1933-34 were presented by retiring president Charles Barnhart. The new officers are: Wallace Thorson of Mead, president; Morris Lowenstein, Kearney, vice-president; Edward Keizer, Fullerton, secretary; Willie Shove, Beatrice, treasurer; Frank Bergner, Sidney, reporter.

Dewey Munson of Stapleton is elected director of District 5 to succeed Harold Benn of Ord.

The Ord chapter's big stuffed owl was used at the meeting, and was presented to the state association at the close of the convention.

Ord Contract Players In Bridge Olympics

Eight Ord contract bridge players, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta, Judge E. P. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements, C. J. Mortensen, J. D. McCall and Chris Belers, drove to St. Paul Monday evening and participated in the bridge Olympics, a contract bridge event arranged by Ely Culbertson and his associates and taking place simultaneously in all of the principle cities and towns of the world. More than 100,000 bridge players took part in the world-wide event, all playing the same sixteen hands arranged and sent out under seals by the Culbertson studio in New York City.

There were six tables of players in the Olympics at St. Paul, the Ordites say, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Midway in the play a lunch was enjoyed at the Howard Hotel. Prizes will be awarded, not on the basis of high score but for precision in bidding and playing the hands, many of which were of the "freak" variety. A careful record was kept of the various bids and of the opening leads and these will be compared with a report of how the hands should have been bid and played, sent out from the Culbertson headquarters. How well or how poorly the Ord players fared will not be known for several days.

Will Attend Convention.
Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. Nancy Covert and Mrs. Ed Holloway are planning to go to Lincoln May 16 to attend a state G. A. R. convention. Mrs. Clark is senior vice president of the ladies assembly and the other two are delegates from the Ord chapter. 6-2t

Fred Ulrich Plans Private Lake For Fishermen

As soon as he completes his present contract to furnish gravel for the Wolbach-Greely road, Fred Ulrich of Ord plans to start dredging a private lake on his farm north of town. The lake will be about 400 feet square and about twenty feet deep at its deepest point, Mr. Ulrich says. He will stock it with bullheads, sunfish and bass and when the fish have had time to grow to a suitable size he will permit fishing there.

A portion of the Ulrich farm lies in the river bottom and pumped out it will fill with water from the subterranean flow. This flow will also keep the water purified and Fred believes it may be possible to use a portion of the lake for swimming.

Gravel pumped from the lake bed will be piled up and used for future highway contracts, Mr. Ulrich says.

PANAMA CANAL ZONE DESCRIBED BY CURTIS MAN

Morse Tells Rotarians Canal Is One Government Activity That Makes Profit.

An intensely interesting description of the Panama canal and its functions was given Monday evening before the Ord Rotary club by C. K. Morse, superintendent of schools at Curtis, Neb., who three years ago inspected every school in the Canal Zone on behalf of the United States government. People may object to the government in business, Supt. Morse said, but the Canal Zone is one government activity that is actually a money maker.

The Panama Canal Zone is a strip of land across the Isthmus of Panama and everything in it is owned by the government, the speaker stated. The Zone was acquired from the republic of Panama, which seceded from Colombia and sold the Zone to the United States when Theodore Roosevelt was president.

The entire Zone is a fortified army post, says Supt. Morse, with 17,000 soldiers stationed there in peace time and 55,000 in war time. It is so heavily fortified that the Curtis man says he does not believe all the navies of the world could capture it.

The canal itself was built by army engineers commanded by Colonel Gatons and is a stupendous feat of engineering. There are two huge locks, Gatun Locks, where ships are raised at the east end of the canal and Miraflores Locks, where they are lowered at the west end.

To pass through the canal a ship must pay $1.25 per ton when loaded and $1.00 per ton when in ballast, which means that liners pay $20,000 or more to pass through. Supt. Morse says he has seen the British war ship, Hood, pass through at a cost of $70,000 and the United States aircraft carrier, Lexington, cross at a cost of $55,000. Daily tolls often run to $1,000,000, he says. Although the canal is only about thirty-two miles long it takes eight hours for a ship to pass through.

Supt. Morse's talk was one of the most interesting that Ord Rotarians have heard. It was illustrated with maps of the Canal Zone and diagrams of the Gatun and Miraflores locks and members of the Rotary club gained a new insight into the functions of the Panama canal through hearing Supt. Morse's speech.

Valley County Soil Gets Good Soaking

April, often a dry month in this part of Nebraska, ended with a fine rain that lasted throughout Saturday and soaked the ground to a depth of several inches. At Ord only .85 of an inch of moisture fell, according to the official weather recorder, but in other parts of the county as much as two inches were reported. Total April rainfall was close to 3 inches and May is starting off well as a drizzling rain lasted all day yesterday and bids fair to continue today.

Winter wheat, of which there is very little in this county, was greatly damaged by the dry fall and winter, but spring-planted grains are looking good and the ground is now in ideal shape for corn planting. Farmers are waiting only for a day or two of dry weather to continue their operations full speed ahead.

Public Notice.
All business men, participating in the business circus, and all others who wish to attend, will please attend a meeting at the city hall this Thursday, evening at 8 o'clock. It is important that all be there on time. Retail Com. Chamber of Commerce. Glen Aule, Sec'y.

65 ORD FIRMS UNITE TO HOLD BUSINESS CIRCUS

Fun for Everybody Next Week And 1,500 Free Prizes Will Be Distributed in City.

Ord's biggest event so far in 1933, possibly the most important business-sponsored event that has ever been held here, will occur next Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13, when Ord's first "business circus" will be in full swing. Sixty-five business firms of Ord are sponsoring and taking part in the circus and the entire populations of Valley, Wheeler, Garfield, Sherman, Greeley, Loup and Custer counties are invited and expected to be present.

Although all of the firms participating are offering great merchandise bargains for the two days this is not the prime purpose of holding the business circus at this time, the real reason being that Ord merchants are desirous of promoting some form of free entertainment to show people of Valley and surrounding counties just how much their business is appreciated by Ord.

And that is what the business circus will be—an entertainment feature par excellence!

Window decorations, the costumes of proprietors and clerks, street decorations and everything about Ord on those two days will carry out the circus idea. There will be dozens of clowns and prizes will be awarded not only to the most comically dressed business man or clerk participating but also for the most comically decorated windows.

Two parades will be held, one at 4 p. m. Friday and the other at 11 a. m. Saturday in which hundreds of clowns and other circus characters will take part. The Ord Municipal Band, dressed in clown costumes, will take part in both parades and play throughout the two days. On Friday evening there will be dances at both halls in Ord, at one of which there will be four orchestras dressed in clown costumes.

The famous Golly-wogs, rural entertainers who have made a great hit over radio station KMMJ Clay Center, will be in Ord throughout both days of the circus and will make every effort to provide entertainment for the crowds. KMMJ is assisting in advertising the circus by broadcasting announcements about it several times each day.

Another novelty will be the distribution, each day, of hundreds of envelopes on the streets of Ord, in these envelopes being coupons entitling the finders to free prizes at the sixty-five Ord stores taking part. These prizes will include theater tickets, shoes, hosiery, gasoline, haircuts, shaves, maracas, finger-waves, clothing, groceries, lunches and other items, entirely free to the person who picks up the envelopes.

Another feature of the business circus will be a kangaroo court each day, plans for which are not entirely complete. Business men who fail to appear in circus costume will be arrested by a special police detail and hauled before this kangaroo court, which will be in session in some public place throughout both days. In court they will be sentenced to perform various comical stunts which will be carried out in public, with a clown police detail to see that they do them.

Many other plans are being worked out to provide entertainment and amusement for young and old throughout both days. On Friday all rural school children in Valley county will be in Ord taking part in a song festival and special stunts will be worked out for their amusement.

The affair is being conducted by business men under the direction of F. C. Rossow, of Broken Bow, who originated the "business circus" idea and carried it out with success there, providing amusement for 2,500 people on Friday and Saturday. The retailing committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, composed of Glen Aule, Stanley McLain, Freeman Haight, Wm. Heuck, John Godard and H. T. Frazier, has general charge of arrangements and will appoint sub-committees to conduct the kangaroo court, judge window displays and costumes and other features of the business circus.

Everybody in central Nebraska is invited to be in Ord next weekend, May 12 and 13, and enjoy the biggest free entertainment they have ever seen. More complete details in next week's Quiz but don't wait—come to Ord Friday morning prepared to stay all day and it is certain that you will be back Saturday.

Notice.
There will be a meeting and rehearsal of the Ord Municipal band at the city hall next Monday, May 8, at 8:00 p. m.

—Monday morning Rey, and Mrs. W. M. Lemar and children and Miss Mae Lemar and Miss Dorothy Rowland left for Bayard, Neb. Miss Mae will stay there with her people. The Lemar family will visit in Bayard and Scottsbluff. Miss Dorothy has relatives in the latter place. They expect to be away a couple of weeks.

The Weather.

Showers today, with not much change in temperature. Friday probably unsettled. Fine weather promised for May 12 and 13, dates of Ord's big Business Circus.

THE ORD QUIZ

The Business Circus.

The big circus which is being put on by the Ord business men, Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13, promises to be the biggest event ever seen in Ord. Everyone within 100 miles expected and all invited.

IRRIGATION PLANS TO WASHINGTON ABOUT MAY 20TH

By May 20th, according to present indications, a party consisting of Bert M. Hardenbrook, C. A. Sorensen, and N. T. Veatch, Jr., representing the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District, will leave for Washington, D. C. to appear before the Reconstruction Finance Corporation's advisory council of engineers and formally request a loan to carry out an irrigation and hydro-electric project in the North Loup valley.

Engineer Dumire's party of surveyors will finish work this week or early next week, it was stated yesterday, and after that a couple of weeks work in the Kansas City office of Black & Veatch must be done before the plans are ready for submission.

The exact amount of money that will be asked for is not known, pending the drawing of final plans by Black & Veatch, but it will be $600,000 or more, in all probability.

Messrs. Burrell and Brock, two young surveyors from the office of Dr. G. E. Condra's conservation and soil survey division in Lincoln, arrived in Ord Tuesday to make soundings in the river at the sites of various proposed diversion dams to determine how deep foundations will have to go. They did similar work in the Middle Loup valley Monday.

The Scotia and Almeria neighborhoods will not be included in the North Loup valley project, it was definitely decided last week, due to the failure of both communities to raise sufficient money to pay for a preliminary survey. It was decided, however, to furnish irrigation for land in the vicinity of Taylor by pumping from the river, using electricity generated by the power plants as the motive power. About 2,000 acres that cannot be reached by the ditch will thus be given irrigation.

Frank Valasek Is Trampled By Bull

Last Friday Frank Valasek was bruised all over and suffered some bone injuries when he was trampled by a bull at his farm in Springdale. Luckily, he was quite near a fence when he was first attacked and knocked down by the animal and finally succeeded in climbing over the fence to safety. He had to crawl to the fence an inch at a time as the bull watched him so closely and threatened to trample him again whenever he attempted to rise. Dr. Lee Nay is caring for Mr. Valasek and states that there are apparently no internal injuries.

Long List of Ord Students Honored

Twenty-six Ord high school students are listed on the Honor Roll at the end of the fifth six weeks of the present term. Listing on the Honor Roll is given in recognition of superior scholarship to students whose grades included two A's and two B's. The twenty-six so honored were: Darlene Anderson, Arthur Aubie, Pauline Barta, Margaret Bonne, Twila Bricker, Donna Burrows, Jack Catlin, Paul Dana, Dorothy Fish, Viola Mae Flynn, Everett Goss, Kathryn Holub, Delta Marie Hoyt, Irma Kokes, Ruth Koupal, Edwin Lenz, Kenneth McGinnis, Audrey Melia, Henry Nielsen, Dorothy Nelson, Delma Palmatier, Thelma Palmatier, Mildred Smith, Verna Stowell, Edward Urban, Donald Williamson.

Cushing Car Is Hit By Tornado, Saved From Disaster

Tuesday's edition of the Omaha World-Herald has the following to say about Herbert L. Cushing, former superintendent of the Ord schools and once county superintendent of Valley county: "H. L. Cushing, director of certification in the state superintendent's office, was driving through Madison county Saturday when a tornado struck."

"He found his car suddenly hurtling across the road and stopped, thinking he had a flat tire, but it was just the heavy wind. When it began to rain he had to stop and soon heard a dull thud. When the storm subsided he found three telephone poles across the road in front of him, one only about 15 yards away."

K. OF P. LODGE PRESENTS PLAY, "SCHOOL DAZE"

Knights and Sisters Take Parts In Farce Comedy Monday; Nice Crowd Present.

The farce-comedy, "School Daze," which was written by the man who writes the comical sign-board slogans used as advertising by a prominent refining company, was presented by Knights of Pythias and Pythian Sisters at their hall Monday evening in the presence of a good sized crowd. It was a scream, say people who attended.

Miss Frances Bradt, as Miss Snodgrass, the school teacher, had a prominent part as did Leroy Frazier as Mr. Twiddleum, a visiting school board member. Among the "children" were Opal Kosmata, Luella Johnson, Fern Draper, Agnes Frazier, Evelyn McMindes, Vera Andersen, Fern Parks, Lloyd Benjamin, Mike Kosmata, Carl Dale, Herschel McGrew, Dale Norman, Wayne Norman, Lynn Beeghly, Wm. A. Bartlett and J. W. McGinnis. Mr. Benjamin as "White Rose," the colored child, Luella Johnson as a tale-telling school girl and Carl Dale as a sissy, were especially good but all of the characters are entitled to praise for their impersonations.

Several specialty numbers were much enjoyed, among them a violin solo played by Orville Sowl, a baritone solo by LeRoy Frazier, a soprano solo by Lucille Tolén and a quartet number by Edgar Mouser, F. L. Blessing, LeRoy Frazier and E. H. Petty. Miss Zelma Frushour also gave a reading that was much applauded. Pianists were Mrs. Stanley McLain and Mrs. O. H. Sowl.

School Children To Join In Song-Fest

Hundreds Will Sing From Steps Of Court House Next Friday, May 12, in County Chorus.

Hundreds of Valley county school children will sing in unison in Ord next Friday, May 12, announces Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools, on the occasion being the annual song festival for rural school children. If weather is good the concert will be given at 2:30 p. m. from the court house steps. Otherwise it will take place at the Ord high school auditorium.

Throughout the year students in rural schools have been learning rural songs recommended by the state superintendent's office and it is these songs that will be sung next Friday.

'Know Your School Week' Observed Here

Last week was the annual "Know Your School" week in the Ord schools and as usual large numbers of patrons and friends visited the various rooms during the week. Two programs also were given, one at the south school Wednesday evening and another at the north school Thursday evening. Songs, playlets, exercises and exhibits of school work featured the grade school program; playlets, demonstrations and musical numbers the high school program. Both were well attended and Supt. Millard Bell expresses himself as being very well pleased with the interest taken in the schools by patrons.

Taxpayers League Meeting. A meeting of the taxpayers league will be held at the court room in Ord at 2 p. m. Monday March 8. Jos. Waldmann, President.

VALLEY COUNTY'S REFORESTATION QUOTA IS NAMED

Eighteen Young Men Are Waiting Travel Orders; County Will Save in Relief Funds.

Eighteen young Valley county men, selected Saturday from forty-six applicants for reforestation jobs, this week are awaiting orders to proceed to Fort Crook or some other military point for training before taking up their new work. The orders are expected hourly, says Ralph W. Norman, who was chairman of the committee making the selections. Other members of the committee were Joe Vastek and Morris Sorensen.

To be eligible for jobs in President Roosevelt's reforestation corps young men had to be from 18 to 25 years old, unemployed, unmarried but with dependents and Chairman Norman says that almost all of the forty-six applicants fulfilled all of these qualifications so the task of his committee was a difficult one.

Young men finally selected to make up Valley county's quota of 18 are Vern Stewart, Harry E. Edwards, Sidney Fuller, N. E. Larkin and Eugene C. Meyers, all of North Loup; John Higgins, and Davis Aubert, Arcadia; Edward Lacinia, Frank L. Peckham, Albert Adams, Alvin Carlsen, Raymond Richardson, Russell R. Madison, Milton Meyers, Herman Jensen, Lester Manchester and Willard Ball, all of Ord; and Donald Nelson, Elyria.

Before being enrolled in the reforestation army these young men will be given a physical examination and in the event that some of them fail to pass their places will be filled from among the list of applicants still on file with Chairman Norman's committee. Word from Fort Crook is that about 5 per cent of those taking the examination have failed to pass but Mr. Norman said yesterday that he believed all of Valley county's quota would be able to meet the physical requirements, which are not believed to be very stringent.

Reforestation workers will be paid $1 per day and will also be given board, room and clothing. When they enroll they do so for a period of six months and are subject to semi-military discipline while in the corps, though their work does not include military training and they will not wear military uniforms.

Each young man given a job agrees to allot $25 of his pay each month to his dependents at home, which will help counties like Valley greatly in their unemployment relief expenses. Twelve of the eighteen young men selected here come from families that have been receiving county aid.

It is believed that the boys will be taken to Grand Island for enrollment in the reforestation corps and then will be taken to Fort Crook, near Omaha, for two weeks of conditioning and training before being taken to their new work. There is no federal reforestation work scheduled in Nebraska so it is likely that the boys will be taken to some western state.

Instructions issued yesterday by Chairman Norman tells the boys to travel light but to be prepared to be away from home six months. Clothing, blankets and camp equipment will be provided by government but reforestation workers are advised to take one good suit of clothes to be used on excursions away from camp.

F. M. Harris Dies Sunday at Wolbach

Frederick Miner Harris, for nine years a farmer in the Ord neighborhood, passed away at 11:15 Sunday, April 28, at his home in Wolbach, death resulting from cerebral hemorrhage after an illness of eight weeks. Born June 26, 1853 in Rock Island, Ill., Mr. Harris was married in Kansas April 7, 1883 to Isabel Eaks and five children were born to them, all of whom survive. They are Mrs. Ruth Flynn, of Blair; L. Dow Harris, Wolbach; and Emil Harris, Sheridan, Wyo.; Miner Harris, Wolbach; and Emil Harris, Western. His widow, two sisters and a brother also survive.

From 1902 until 1911 the Harris family lived on a farm north of Ord and Mr. Harris won many staunch friends who will mourn his death. He had lived in Wolbach since 1923 and funeral services were held there at 9:30 a. m. Tuesday, after which the body was brought to Ord for burial.

School Exhibit In Spring This Year

Because Valley county will not have a fair next fall, rural schools of the county will hold their annual exhibit this spring, County Superintendent McClatchey said yesterday. Miss Sarah McLain has donated the use of her business building on the south side of the square in Ord and the exhibit will be held there. It will open May 20 and be open one week, closing Saturday evening, May 27. All school exhibits usually shown at the fair will be on display.

Mrs. Parkos Enters Freak Egg in Ord Quiz Contest

A freak egg laid by one of her White Orpington hens was entered Tuesday by Mrs. A. E. Parkos in the Quiz "big egg" contest, which was started three weeks ago when E. H. Bartholomew, of North Loup, brought a huge egg to the Quiz publisher for his Easter breakfast. Later Ed Klancey brought in an egg larger than the Bartholomew contribution, so the contest was on in earnest.

The egg brought by Mrs. Parkos Tuesday is a double egg, that is one complete egg, shell and all, inside of another. The whole egg measures 6 1/2 x 7 3/4 in. It is not as large as two eggs gathered from her flock previously, Mrs. Parkos says. The same hen, she thinks, produced all the large ones, laying them about a week or ten days apart.

The record, 9x9 inches, is still held by Ed Klancey's White Plymouth Rock hen with Mr. Bartholomew's R. I. Red hen in second position with an egg 6 3/4 x 8 1/2 inches.

IRL TOLEN SUES PHONE COMPANY FOR $400 WAGES

Was Hired in 1930 to Influence Public Opinion, Was Paid Only $50, Tolen Claims.

Claiming that about October 1, 1930 he was employed by the Nebraska Continental Telephone company as an "undercover man" in Ord, and that he worked three months in an attempt to influence public opinion to make possible the installation of automatic telephone service at higher rates here, Irl D. Tolen of Lincoln is suing the telephone company for $400 in a suit filed in Valley county court yesterday. District Manager W. W. Johnson, of Kearney, who employed him, agreed to pay him "fair and reasonable compensation" but to date has paid him only $50, Mr. Tolen claims. He asks $400 as the balance due him for the three months of work.

It will be remembered that in the fall of 1930 the telephone company was in the midst of a campaign to install automatic phones here and went so far as to have circulated a petition in which many Ordites asked the Nebraska Continental to install such service at a large increase in rates. The move was blocked by a counter-petition circulated by business men who felt that the rate demands of the telephone company were too high. It was during this campaign that Mr. Tolen was employed, he claims.

In the suit filed yesterday he designates the services he was employed to perform as those of a "solicitor, promoter and general utility man" and says that he was requested and solicited to accept such employment by District Manager Johnson.

In addition to influencing public sentiment to make possible the installation of automatic telephones at higher rates in Ord, Mr. Tolen was also supposed to help effect a consolidation between the Nebraska Continental and the Garfield Mutual exchange at Burwell, which consolidation was vigorously opposed by certain stockholders of the latter concern.

Mr. Tolen, in his petition yesterday, claims that he put forth for three months an organized effort both to effect the Burwell consolidation and also to influence public opinion favorably in Ord.

A fair and reasonable remuneration for his efforts would be $450, Mr. Tolen believes, whereas he has been paid only $50 by Manager Johnson. The latter paid him $25 sometime in 1931 and another $25 sometime in 1932 and repeatedly promised to pay the balance of the $450 but has failed to do so, Tolen claims. He asks judgment in the amount of $400 with interest at the rate of 7 per cent from July 1, 1931 until the present. He is represented in the suit by Attorney H. B. VanDecar.

Mr. Tolen is one of Ord's best known citizens, having served as county treasurer and in other public offices here and also as publisher of the Ord Journal for several years. He was an unsuccessful candidate for railway commissioner in 1932 and at present is deputy secretary of state under Harry R. Swanson.

ORD HIGH WINS PLAQUE FOR BEST F. F. A. CHAPTER

Kovanda's Ag Students Are Best In Nebraska, Was Decision At Lincoln Convention.

The Ord high school agricultural department has received the plaque award for having the outstanding F. F. A. chapter in Nebraska during the past year. The presentation was made at Lincoln last Friday at the state convention of the Future Farmers of America.

The custom of awarding a plaque each year to the best chapter began four years ago. Beatrice was the first school to win the trophy. It was won by Newman Grove during the next term. Last spring the trophy was won by Minden, with Hastings placing second, and Ord third. The three high ranking schools for 1932-33 are Ord first, Albion second and Nehawka third.

There are 73 vocational agricultural departments in Nebraska, and 55 of these have organized F. F. A. chapters which compete for district honors. The state winner is chosen from the first place schools in each of the eight districts. The district winners receive certificates of merit.

Four Ord State Farmers were prominent in the affairs of the 1933 convention. They were Harold Benn, Adrian Tolen, Paul Dana, and State President Charles Barnhart. Archie Hatfield and David Barnhart also attended as official delegates.

Paul Dana was one of the twenty-two Nebraska boys to receive gold State Farmer keys at the convention. The keys were awarded by S. R. McKelvie, who was in turn presented with an honorary key by Charles Barnhart, in behalf of the Nebraska F. F. A.

A report was given by Charles Barnhart of the national convention, and of his experience in winning the degree of American Farmer at Kansas City. There are only four Nebraska boys that have ever received this highest degree of the F. F. A.

The plaques, such as Ord brought home, become the permanent properties of each annual winner. The 1933 plaque consists of a mahogany shield, on which are mounted the bronze emblems of the F. F. A.—the plow, the owl, the rising sun, and the cross-section of an ear of corn. It is awarded on the basis of a score-card which consists of the following eight factors:

- 1. Supervised practice. 2. Cooperative activities. 3. Community service. 4. Leadership. 5. Earnings and savings. 6. Scholarship. 7. Conduct of meetings. 8. Recreation.

New state F. F. A. officers for 1933-34 were presented by retiring president Charles Barnhart. The new officers are Wallace Thorson of Mead, president; Morris Lowenstein, Kearney, vice-president; Edward Kitzek, Fullerton, secretary; Willie Sheve, Beatrice, treasurer; Frank Bergren, Sidney, reporter.

Dewey Munson of Stapleton was elected director of District 5 to succeed Harold Benn of Ord.

Ord Contract Players In Bridge Olympics

Eight Ord contract bridge players, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta, Judge E. P. Clements, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements, C. J. Mortensen, J. D. McCall and Chris Beiers, drove to St. Paul Monday evening and participated in the bridge Olympics, a contract bridge event arranged by Ely Culbertson and his associates and taking place simultaneously in all of the principle cities and towns of the world. More than 100,000 bridge players took part in the world-wide event, all playing the same sixteen hands arranged and sent out under seals by the Culbertson studio in New York City.

There were six tables of players in the Olympics at St. Paul, the Ordites say, and a very enjoyable evening was spent. Midway in the play a lunch was enjoyed at the Howard Hotel.

Prizes will be awarded, not on the basis of high score but for precision in bidding and playing the hands, many of which were of the "freak" variety. A careful record was kept of the various bids and of the opening leads and these will be compared with a report of how the hands should have been bid and played, sent out from the Culbertson headquarters. How well or how poorly the Ord players fared will not be known for several days.

Will Attend Convention. Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mrs. Nancy Covert and Mrs. Ed Holloway are planning to go to Lincoln May 16 to attend a state G. A. R. convention. Mrs. Clark is senior vice president of the ladies assembly and the other two are delegates from the Ord chapter.

Fred Ulrich Plans Private Lake For Fishermen

As soon as he completes his present contract to furnish gravel for the Wolbach-Greeley road, Fred Ulrich of Ord plans to start dredging a private lake on his farm north of town. The lake will be about 400 feet square and about twenty feet deep at its deepest point, Mr. Ulrich says. He will stock it with bullheads, sunfish and bass and when the fish have had time to grow to a suitable size he will permit fishing there.

A portion of the Ulrich farm lies in the river bottom and when the lake is dredged and pumped out it will fill with water from the subterranean flow. This flow will also keep the water purified and Fred believes it may be possible to use a portion of the lake for swimming.

Gravel pumped from the lake bed will be piled up and used for future highway contracts, Mr. Ulrich says.

PANAMA CANAL ZONE DESCRIBED BY CURTIS MAN

Morse Tells Rotarians Canal Is One Government Activity That Makes Profit.

An intensely interesting description of the Panama canal and its functions was given Monday evening before the Ord Rotary club by C. K. Morse, superintendent of schools at Curtis, Nebr., who three years ago inspected every school in the Canal Zone on behalf of the United States government. People may object to the government in business, Supt. Morse said, but the Canal Zone is one government activity that is actually a money maker.

The Panama Canal Zone is a strip of land across the Isthmus of Panama and everything in it is owned by the government, the speaker stated. The Republic of Panama, which seceded from Colombia and sold the Zone to the United States when Theodore Roosevelt was president.

The entire Zone is a fortified army post, says Supt. Morse, with 17,000 soldiers stationed there in peace time and 55,000 in war time. It is so heavily fortified that the Curtis man says he does not believe all the navies of the world could capture it.

The canal itself was built by army engineers commanded by Colonel Gatos and is a stupendous feat of engineering. There are two huge locks, Gatun Locks, where ships are raised at the east end of the canal and Miraflores Locks, where they are lowered at the west end.

To pass through the canal a ship must pay $1.25 per ton when loaded and $1.00 per ton when in ballast, which means that liners pay $20,000 or more to pass through. Supt. Morse says he has seen the British war ship, Hood, pass through at a cost of $70,000 and the United States aircraft carrier, Lexington, cross at a cost of $55,000. Daily tolls often run to $1,000,000, he says. Although the canal is only about thirty-two miles long it takes eight hours for a ship to pass through.

Supt. Morse's talk was one of the most interesting that Ord Rotarians have heard. It was illustrated with maps of the Canal Zone and diagrams of the Gatun and Miraflores locks and members of the Rotary club gained a new insight into the functions of the Panama canal through hearing Supt. Morse's speech.

Valley County Soil Gets Good Soaking

April, often a dry month in this part of Nebraska, ended with a fine rain that lasted throughout Saturday and soaked the ground to a depth of several inches. At Ord only .85 of an inch of moisture fell, according to the official weather recorder, but in other parts of the county as much as two inches were reported. Total April rainfall was close to 3 inches and May is starting off well as a drizzling rain lasted all day yesterday and bids fair to continue today.

Winter wheat, of which there is very little in this county, was greatly damaged by the dry fall and winter but spring-planted grains are looking good and the ground is now in ideal shape for corn planting. Farmers are waiting only for a day or two of dry weather to continue their operations full speed ahead.

Public Notice. All business men, participating in the business circus, and all others who wish to attend, will please attend a meeting at the city hall this Thursday, evening at 8 o'clock. It is important that all be there on time. Retail Com. Chamber of Commerce. Glen Able, Sec'y.

65 ORD FIRMS UNITE TO HOLD BUSINESS CIRCUS

Fun for Everybody Next Week And 1,500 Free Prizes Will Be Distributed in City.

Ord's biggest event so far in 1933, possibly the most important business-sponsored event that has ever been held here, will occur next Friday and Saturday, May 12 and 13, when Ord's first "business circus" will be in full swing. Sixty-five business firms of Ord are sponsoring and taking part in the circus and the entire populations of Valley, Wheeler, Garfield, Sherman, Greeley, Loup and Custer counties are invited and expected to be present.

Although all of the firms participating are offering great merchandise bargains for two days this is not the prime purpose of holding the business circus at this time, the real reason being that Ord merchants are desirous of promoting some form of free entertainment to show people of Valley and surrounding counties just how much their business is appreciated by Ord.

And that is what the business circus will be—an entertainment feature par excellence!

Window decorations, the costumes of proprietors and clerks, street decorations and everything about Ord on those two days will carry out the circus idea. There will be dozens of clowns and prizes will be awarded not only to the most comically dressed business man or clerk participating but also for the most comically decorated windows.

Two parades will be held, one at 4 p. m. Friday and the other at 11 a. m. Saturday in which hundreds of clowns and other circus characters will take part. The Ord Municipal Band, dressed in clown costumes, will take part in both parades and play throughout the two days. On Friday evening there will be dances at both halls in Ord, at one of which there will be four orchestras dressed in clown costumes.

The famous Golly-wogs, rural entertainers who have made a great hit over radio station KMMJ, Clay Center, will be in Ord throughout both days of the circus and will make every effort to provide entertainment for the crowds. KMMJ is assisting in advertising the circus by broadcasting announcements about it several times each day.

Another novelty will be the distribution, each day, of hundreds of envelopes on the streets of Ord, in these envelopes being coupons entitling the finders to free prizes at the sixty-five Ord stores taking part. These prizes will include theatre tickets, shoes, hosiery, gasoline, haircuts, shaves, maracas, finger-waves, clothing, groceries, lunches and other items entirely free to the person who picks up the envelopes.

Another feature of the business circus will be a kangaroo court each day, plans for which are not entirely complete. Business men who fail to appear in circus costume will be arrested by a special police detail and hauled before this kangaroo court, which will be in session in some public place throughout both days. In court they will be sentenced to perform various comical stunts which will be carried out in public, with a clown police detail to see that they do them.

Many other plans are being worked out to provide entertainment and amusement for young and old throughout both days. On Friday all rural school children in Valley county will be in Ord taking part in a song festival and special stunts will be worked out for their amusement.

The affair is being conducted by business men under the direction of F. C. Rossow, of Broken Bow, who originated the "business circus" idea and carried it out with success there, providing amusement for 2,500 people on Friday and Saturday. The retelling committee of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, composed of Glen Able, Stanley McLain, Freeman Haight, Wm. Heuck, John Godard and H. T. Frazier, has general charge of arrangements and will appoint sub-committees to conduct the kangaroo court, judge window displays and costumes and other features of the business circus.

Everybody in central Nebraska is invited to be in Ord next week-end, May 12 and 13, and enjoy the biggest free entertainment they have ever seen. More complete details in next week's Quiz but don't wait—come to Ord Friday morning prepared to stay all day and it is certain that you will be back Saturday.

Notice. There will be a meeting and rehearsal of the Ord Municipal band at the city hall next Monday, May 8, at 8:00 p. m.

Monday morning Rey, and Mrs. W. M. Lemar and children and Miss Mae Lemar and Miss Dorothy Rowal left for Bayard, Nebr. Miss Mae will stay there with her people. The Lemar family will visit in Bayard and Scottsbluff. Miss Dorothy has relatives in the latter place. They expect to be away a couple of weeks.

Woodman Hall

About one and a quarter inches of rain fell Saturday afternoon and night which now puts the ground in fine shape. The subsoil was still quite dry and pastures very slow after being burnt from last summer's drought but since this fine rain we hope all will revive again.

The Geranium boys were victorious in a game of baseball against Longwood at the National hall last Sunday afternoon.

Louis Bohy of Burwell and his helpers gathered over 200 head of cattle in this section last Saturday and drove them to pasture on their ranch north of Taylor, where they will be pastured this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Krikac and daughters, Mrs. Mildred Honke, Mrs. Mary Clansend and their granddaughter, Miss Mildred Honke, all of Butte, Nebr., drove up Wednesday to attend the funeral of Mrs. V. Krikac of Comstock. They returned home Thursday afternoon.

Chas Krikac and family visited at Frank Krikac's Sunday.

Jimmie Hrbec helped Frank Smolik prepare his cattle for pasture last Saturday.

Ord has started a new industry, worm raising. Every little helps these hard times. But H. D. for got to tell us what he expects to do with the worms after he gets them fat. Perhaps he is planning to get a patent on the industry.

Mrs. Frank Krikac and daughters Lillian and Wilma drove to Sargent last Tuesday on business.

—Yesterday Madams Nancy Covert and Lottie Clark drove to the Springdale school and in the name of the ladies of the G. A. R. presented that school district with a flag. These ladies have been giving these flags to districts where they have none of their own.

—Mrs. Emma Floral, wife of M. P. Floral of Comstock, died at one o'clock Tuesday morning at a hospital in Grand Island. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kriz of Comstock and the body was taken there for burial. Mrs. Floral was about thirty years old and leaves four little children. She is a niece of Frank Kriz of Ord.

—Rev. Wm. Bahr of Valley county had charge of the services Sunday in the Burwell Lutheran church. It was the occasion of the confirmation of the first adult class. After the services a dinner was served by the ladies of the church in the church basement. Seventy-five were present.

—Mrs. Archie Waterman has received word of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Ralph Mann of Berthoud, Colo. The last report was that Mrs. Mann was a little improved. The latter is well acquainted here as Ord was her former home.

—Monday Mr. and Mrs. Carl Flynn and daughter of North Loup and Dick Flynn of Blair were guests in the home of their mother, Mrs. M. Flynn. Mrs. Dick Flynn had been in Wolbach for several days with relatives. Her father, F. M. Harris had been ill and has passed away.

—Sunday Mrs. Margaret Wentworth and family are looking forward to a visit with a daughter of Mrs. Wentworth, Mrs. O. J. Jacobsen and husband of Iowa City. Mr. Jacobsen will be in Lincoln and deliver an address at the state university and on the 5th and 6th of this month he is to act as a judge in a school contest in Kearney.

—Six out of eighteen boys in Burwell were selected Saturday from the applications for work in the reforestation service. L. B. Fenner was the chairman of the committee for selection. Guy Ward, a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, was one selected but he failed to accept as he said he had work now, driving a truck.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ben Hollingshead have returned to their home in Cedar Rapids, Iowa. The latter had been here for two weeks assisting in caring for her father-in-law, J. H. Hollingshead. A daughter, Mrs. Jess Casteel of Keyapaha, S. D., was here before her sister-in-law came. Another daughter, Mrs. Chester Barnes of Arcadia, has also spent considerable time in her parents' home. Mr. Hollingshead does not improve and the services of a nurse are needed. Miss Margaret Whaley now has charge of the sick room.

HAIL Insurance

The New Deal

See us and let us explain this New Deal plan of writing your hail insurance. You pay, not cash, but a small percent of the estimated crop for the district you are in. If you will see us we will show you and explain the plan and you will be pleased. What you pay depends on the price per bushel of the crop insured, at harvest time or next fall. It costs you nothing to see us and learn all about it anyhow.

AUCTION

at the Weller Sale Pavilion, Ord
Sat., May 6
1:15 P. M.

100 HEAD OF CATTLE

We have the promise of a nice bunch of whiteface stockers, depending on the weather whether they can get in or not. They are just the stuff to go out onto pasture and make a fine growth this summer. There will be a few milk cows, two or three good bulls, a few calves and possibly two or three imported milch goats.

100 HEAD OF HOGS

We expect to have 75 head of dandy feeder pigs, a few Poland China and Duroc bred sows and possibly a couple of sows with litters.

14 HEAD OF HORSES

Some real good work horses, a couple of young matched teams and three or four good colts.

Machinery and Miscellaneous

There will be several pieces of good farm machinery and various kinds of farm seeds. Don't overlook this opportunity.

We can't expect to have the large offerings that we had earlier in the season but there will be plenty of real bargains so attend the sale. If you have something to dispose of, bring it in this week. There will be room for it.

Weller Auction Co.

"Chance!" Barter shouted. "Say you got a lot of guns, talkin' of givin' me a chance to get out of fightin' you!"
John nodded. "Yes, I have. Enough guns so you don't scare me very much, Baxter. And plenty to tell you what I've come to tell."
Baxter's eyes swept a segment of the circle about them; he swallowed quickly. This was something new in the way of an encounter.
"Tell? What you got to tell me?" he demanded.
"This. Probably you've heard the boys saying that I came pretty near getting mine this evening, out at the mill. A load let go and I had to take to the pond. I'd trusted those stakes, Baxter. They're the best patent stakes made. I didn't think they'd let go."
"My guess seems to 've been pretty good. In the fresh snow behind that car were a man's tracks. He stood for quite a time in the shadow of the trucks; he stooped down there, to see what was going on on the other side of the car. When the thing happened that he'd waited and watched for, he tiptoed to the trips and let 'em go. Then he ran."
He paused a moment and his eyes for the first time smoldered.

Patriotic Spirit Is Symbolized By Memorial Poppy

"The patriotic spirit of America which enabled the nation to put forth its great World War effort is symbolized in the little red memorial poppy," Mrs. C. W. Clark, president of the Ord unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, declared today as the unit members continued preparations for the observance of Poppy Day here late this month. She expressed belief that the wearing of the poppy in honor of the war dead would help reawaken a strong spirit of patriotism for the nation's peace-time efforts.

"The poppy is the badge of remembrance for those who sacrificed their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Clark said. "It stands for the highest type of patriotism that we can conceive. It recalls the spirit of those days when every American was dedicating his energies and resources to the national cause and when life itself was not too much to give for the country."

"Remembering those days, it is difficult to understand how Americans can be daunted by the country's present difficulties. A people who only fifteen short years ago united with such devotion and energy to meet a war emergency, most certainly have the power to meet any emergencies of peace. The poppy, that symbol of patriotic sacrifice, should awaken in all our hearts a deeper conception of our own duties to our country today and inspire us to give in peace the type of service the men who died among the poppies in France gave in time of war."

Volunteer workers from the American Legion Auxiliary will offer poppies on the streets on Poppy Day, May 27. The poppies have been made by disabled veterans and all contributions received will be used for the Auxiliary's relief and rehabilitation work among the disabled men and their families.

Ordn Team Defeated By Scotia, 7 to 5

It was a good ball game after the first inning, that clash between Ord and Scotia at Russell park Sunday, but the six-run lead that Ord spotted their opponents in the first frame was too much for Manager Auble's boys to make up and the final score was 7 to 5, with Scotia leading.

Kuklish, nominated by the Ord pilot for mound duty, was wild and ineffective and in the first inning Scotia ran up a six run lead before Allen was sent to the mound to relieve Kuklish. After that they got but a single run while the Ordites scored five.

North Loup plays in Ord this Sunday and there will be no more ball games lost in the first stanza, the Ord players promise.

Inter-City Rotary Meeting At Ansley

Five Ord Members Attended Last Friday, Clarence M. Davis On List of Speakers.

Five of the members of the Ord Rotary club attended an inter-city meeting of Rotary clubs in this vicinity, held at Ansley last Friday evening. The regular clubs participating were the Ansley, Arden, Broken Bow, Grand Island, Loup City and Ord clubs, but there were also Rotarians present from Crete, Kearney, Scotts Bluff, Omaha and Council Bluffs. The total number present was in excess of one hundred, and the five local Rotarians were President Orville Sowl, Dr. Geo. R. Gard, Clarence M. Davis, James Misko and Millard Bell. The meeting was held in the Methodist church at Ansley, the regular meeting place of the Ansley club.

The theme for the talks was the various letters of the words "New Deal". Frank Davis of Broken Bow acted as toastmaster, and Clarence M. Davis was the speaker for the Ord club. Among the other speakers were Dr. Howard Stevens of Broken Bow, W. H. Line of Loup City, Dell Olmsted of Ansley, Dr. Earl Johnson of Grand Island, Cullen Wright of Scotts Bluff, District Governor Ray Myers of Council Bluffs, Hugh Butler of Kearney, Dr. Earl Johnson of Grand Island was the principal speaker and he gave a talk that was listened to with the greatest of interest.

A feature of the convention was the fact that there were present a list, the present and the next district governor of this Rotary district, Reuben Clark of Kearney, was district governor several years ago. Hugh Butler, the president of the Omaha Rotary club this year, was the governor who will be in charge of this district after the international convention in Boston in June, and Ray Myers of Council Bluffs is the present district governor.

Dr. Geo. R. Gard of Ord was in charge of the singing, and led the group present in the singing of the old favorites, as well as the newer song hits. The Ord Rotarians expressed themselves as being highly pleased with the meeting. It is planned to have another inter-city meeting, likely at Broken Bow, within the next few months.

At Burwell last week the Wranglers club decided to sponsor an educational campaign to acquaint farmers with the advantages of sugar beet production, the campaign to start immediately.

A committee consisting of Osce Johnson, O. J. Miller, Guy Laverty, O. A. Norland and Dr. E. J. Smith was appointed to carry on this work. Boss L. D. Pierce brought out the fact that beets raised near Burwell last year had the highest sugar content of any raised in the state, so it is believed that sugar beet production will be a paying proposition there as soon as irrigation is available. A speaker from the state university will discuss this subject at Burwell in the near future.

Former Attorney General Sorensen, who is now in Washington, writes President Hardenbrook that the prospects of securing an R. F. C. loan look very good and he is anxious to have plans ready so that formal application may be made at the earliest possible moment. He is trying to have legislation passed by Congress to make self-liquidating features of the Wagner act more flexible and believes he will accomplish this aim.

Probably by today, President Hardenbrook expects to be informed by engineers exactly where main canals will be located. It is known now that one canal will start four miles above Taylor on the south side of the river and continue along the edge of the hills to Ord, with a small reservoir near Sioux Creek where a power plant will be located. At Ord the water will either be returned to the river and another diversion dam built below town to irrigate the Ord-North Loup acreage or a large reservoir back of Ord to impound the water and lead it around the city. Ord people are favoring this latter plan, because if the former is adopted much irrigable land south of Ord will be lost. On the north side a diversion dam will be constructed near Pebbie creek, north of Burwell, and a ditch will continue down river to a point near Sumter with a power plant to be located near the mouth of Gravel creek, where a 55-foot drop will be gained. There will be no impounding dam in the river itself, engineers having decided that it is possible to produce electric energy more economically by using the water in the main canals. All of these plans are, of course, subject to change by the Black & Veatch office in Kansas City.

From all standpoints the entire project looks more feasible every day and sponsors are counting confidently on the Reconstruction Finance Corporation making a loan to carry it out.

The schedule of the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation project is being maintained very satisfactorily. The drilling has been completed and the data is in the hands of the state department who are preparing a report. D. E. Wynn Jones, the consulting engineer and manager has been in Lincoln and Omaha the past week looking after necessary details. C. A. Sorensen, former attorney-general, who has been retained as attorney of the project as well as other projects in the state has been in Washington the past two weeks looking toward legislation which will be highly beneficial in securing funds from the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

The law as it stands at present prohibits the corporation from financing a project where any doubt exists as to the probability of its being self-liquidating. Of the billion and a half dollars which have been available through the Reconstruction Finance Corporation only about thirteen percent has been made use of on account of the present restrictions by law. An amendment to the law is to be considered by the present congress and everything points at this time, to favorable action which will make it possible for the corporation to finance projects which are shown to be needed and which will relieve the present unemployment situation without so much stress upon its being self-liquidating. With the enactment of such law the success of the Middle Loup project, as well as others in the state is practically assured. Mr. Sorensen is bending his every effort toward early consideration of the amendment and in a letter to the officials of the Middle Loup project, as well week he expressed the opinion that his efforts would be rewarded.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska

H. D. LEGGETT . . . PUBLISHER E. C. LEGGETT EDITOR

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1919.

THE IOWA OUTRAGE.

Much as one may be inclined to sympathize with farmers in the financial troubles that they have suffered from the depression, there can be no condoning such outrages as occurred at Lemars, Ia., last week when Judge Bradley, presiding in his district court room, was dragged from the bench by a mob of Farm Holiday members, thrown into a truck and carried into the country where he was beaten and threatened with lynching. All right thinking citizens will commend Governor Herring for declaring martial law and dispatching national guards to the disturbed area.

There was no excuse for the Iowa outrage.

Courts and law-makers there, as in Nebraska, had done as much as the constitution permits to mitigate the lot of farmers. Beyond that point they were not empowered to go and no man who calls himself an American should expect them to do more.

Such episodes as the Iowa outrage cannot be tolerated in the United States, for they forecast an utter and absolute breakdown of civil law and eventually a bloody revolution.

Any organization that seeks to accomplish its aims by taking the law into its own hands is a dangerous organization. So long as its efforts are directed toward relieving injustices by arbitration the danger remains only a potential one, but when arbitration fails the spectre of mob law lifts its ghastly head. So it happened in Iowa. So it is likely to happen wherever level-headed leaders of such an organization lose control of their followers.

The Farm Holiday association in Nebraska is only distantly related to Milo Reno's association in Iowa. Its aims are in most instances the same but its methods, so far as have been more conservative. Nevertheless, it is potentially dangerous and now that so many of its aims have been accomplished by peaceful means and through the efforts of courts and legislators the need for the association no longer exists.

The association in Valley County has had, and still has, the respect of most good citizens. Its policy has been commendable throughout the winter and spring. Now, much as Farm Holiday members here may decry the injustices that are undoubtedly at the root of the Iowa disturbance, to retain the respect that their organization now enjoys they should issue an official disclaimer of sympathy with the methods used to correct those injustices.

Farm Holiday members of this community are, scarcely without exception, good citizens of the United States and they want no taint of communism attached to their names. This taint has been placed there by the Iowa outrage and it should be most quickly removed.

There must be no recurrence of such episodes and the processes of civil law must continue to function in a natural, orderly fashion. Now, when Prosperity is coming into sight, is no time to precipitate a struggle between classes and classes.

ITS TIME TO BUY.

The United States is off the gold standard. The merchant, the farmer, the man in the street, may say "This means nothing to me." But it does. It means everything. To the merchant the fact that this country is off the gold standard and inflation has started means that it is time to make an aggressive effort to sell. To the farmer it means that his products are worth much more than they were a week ago, in fact it is conservatively estimated that the American farmer is worth today several hundred millions of dollars more than last week at this time. To the man in the street the present situation whispers suggestively, "It's time to buy." And there speaks the voice of Wisdom.

It is most certainly time to buy. For three years it has been the art of wisdom to wait, to delay to purchase even of necessities for tomorrow, next week, next year prices would be lower. Now the reverse is true. There is no time to wait in hope of lower prices because prices are sky-rocketing upward and will continue to do so for some time to come. Buy now! The Quiz makes this suggestion in all sincerity, for the good of its readers. Use your cash, use your credit, but buy now! Buy necessities, buy luxuries, buy property, buy what you plan to buy in future NOW, while prices are still comparatively low. Money is worth only what it will buy and right now it will buy more than it will next week, and more than it will next month and next year.

THE "NEW G. O. P."

It is no secret that David Reed, senator from Pennsylvania, is definitely in the race for the republican presidential nomination in 1936. Senator Reed, with the aid of Ogden Mills, secretary of the treasury under Hoover, has taken over the republican party and is shaping it to his own ends, with the form of Andrew Mellon seen distinctly in the background.

There can be no success for the republican party that the Reed-Mills-Mellon triumvirate is trying to form. Voters of the United States definitely renounced this type of republicanism when they elected Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency last fall by the biggest majority in history.

Immediately after the election November 8th Nebraska's C. Al Sorensen, then retiring as attorney-general, pointed out to influential republicans of the state that the party must be re-organized from within and dominated by different men if it is to succeed four years hence. Mr. Sorensen was right then and what he said is equally true now.

The country wants no more of Andrew Mellon and his henchmen and it is as Mellon henchmen that Reed and Mills are indelibly stamped. A new G. O. P. is needed, a new republican party organized and led by progressives of the Sorensen type, if the democratic party is to be given any opposition in 1936.

Something DIFFERENT

At Easter time the florist's window in Alliance was of great interest, and a crowd was usually gathered before the window, especially Mamas and Children.

Little chickens wobbled about the window, and in most alarming colors. There was orange, lavender, green, pink and blue. The hatchery lady, experimenting, had dyed those colored chicks brought to the children who received them for Easter. I am told that the Food Center window in Ord presented a similar sight.

Alliance has an unusually fine gardener at the head of beautification work now. A park which has been only soil and struggling trees for many years back, the last summer or two has been improved until it is as beautiful as any bit of park in Denver or even Pasadena. Thick grassy terraces now cover half the area of the park, and the trees are big enough to yield fine shade. Clever rock retaining walls made of broken sidewalks here and there give curves and variety to the landscape and one little walk leads down to a tiny sunken garden with evergreen plantings. A very Japanese bridge spans a low place. And often and unexpectedly there are patches of flowers, attractive ones which have always been considered "impossible to grow in Alliance".

Many ornamental lights make the walks inviting. A former ordinary bandstand has been pulled down. In its place a sod house museum will be erected within the next few weeks. The second half of the park is now being beautified, Mr. Bowers the gardener having ordered curved drives, and plenty of grass under the trees.

Since trees are very difficult to grow in that country, and must be watered and tended carefully, they are always planted 'way too thick. So about half of the trees had to be taken out.

Then to be sure the trees remaining got a good start, Mr. Bowers had the limestone layer, a few feet below the surface, blasted through below each tree, so as to be sure the roots could run deep and straight down, in place of spreading shallowly and giving the tree an infirm clutch.

The park has many other beauties. Of course there has been a playground for years, with all the necessary equipment to please small park goers.

There is a rectangular lily pool, quite a big one, and last season it was fully of pretty fish when along came some mean, ornery person with a complex and dumped in several cans of lye, killing all the fish. Now Alliance is seriously considering adding two more blocks up the little valley to the present park area.

New Relief Works Wonders for Stomach Sufferers

Bisma-Rex is a new antacid treatment that is bringing welcome relief to people who have suffered for years from the agonies of acid stomach. It acts four ways to give this relief. Neutralizes excess acid; relieves the stomach of gas; soothes the irritated membranes; and aids digestion of foods most likely to ferment. It is sold only at Rexall Drug Stores. Go to Ed F. Beranek's Rexall Drug Store today and ask for Bisma-Rex. Big package for 50c.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

The advertising in the Quiz for the month of April, was just half, in dollars and cents, what it was a year ago in the same month. Due to the business conditions, Quiz rates have been reduced more than 25 per cent, so the number of inches of advertising has not shrunk as much as the cash volume. Still, I feel that Ord merchants could profitably use a little more space than they are using. By reducing the subscription price of the Quiz, I have maintained my list, in fact somewhat increased it, and this was done so advertisers would have the largest possible coverage. The Quiz does actually cover better than ninety per cent of the heads of families in this trade territory. I am sure there is some borrowing, too, so probably almost a hundred per cent of the people in the trade territory read the advertising messages of Ord business men each week. There was a time in the history of Nebraska weekly newspapers, when less than a quarter page ad looked like chicken feed. That is not true now and if you want a 4-inch single it won't cost you much and I assure you, Mr. Ord Business Man, that it will look good to me. There are plenty of business houses in Ord, if all of them would use just a little space, so that the Quiz would look much more like a newspaper than it does now. You know we used to always print 12 pages and most of the time 16 pages. Now it is often a real task to have decent advertising in 8 pages. That not only don't pay expenses of running the paper, but it actually carries an unfavorable impression to visitors and people outside the county, who get or see the paper.

But there are still people who have confidence in this valley. I got a letter a while back with a short time subscription to the Quiz. Last Friday I got a letter from the subscriber, sending a year's subscription and he took time to write a little letter. Among other things, he said he was very much interested in the proposed irrigation in this valley and that as soon as it was assured, he would move his family and business to Ord. He said he liked this country and believed it was destined to develop into a wonderful valley. He did not give me permission to print the letter but anyone interested can read it by calling at the office. And I might say that this is not the only man who is watching to see irrigation bring prosperity to this valley again.

In writing to renew his subscription, Walter Parks of Rhame, N. D. says that it has been so wet there, that the farmers are just getting into the fields and that it is still plenty wet.

Don't forget, those of you who have not as yet taken advantage of the $1 Quiz subscription rate, quitting time Saturday of this week is the last time you can do so. After that it is $2. We feel that we have taken our loss as long as we can and there are not more than a couple of dozen who have not had advantage of the $1 rate anyhow. If we don't hear from them there is only one thing we can think and that is that they are not much interested and will not care if the paper is stopped. We don't want to force it onto anyone.

Don't this nice weather make you feel like fixing up the place, planting flowers, etc.? There are going to be lots of people visiting Ord this summer and the better the homes look the better impression we will make and the more people will want to live here. Just try to remember when we have had even a bad storm. Ord and Valley county is a pretty good place in which to live, don't you think?

And now those daily papers again. If you are going to take a daily paper, new or renewal, let me send in your subscription. It don't cost you any more and I make a small commission. You would as soon leave that much of the subscription price in Ord since it don't cost you anything to do so.

Probably that new 3.2 beer wouldn't taste half as good if we didn't think we were violating the law a little when drinking it. I haven't seen any of it yet.

This is the season of greens again. I know one family that put up quarts and quarts of lamb-quarter greens last spring, for use throughout the year and they say they were just as good as the fresh all the time. Nothing is healthier, that is sure, than an occasional mess of nice greens of most any kind and, personally, I like to have the occasions come pretty close together. Dandelions make good greens and are the first in the spring but you can't always be sure, when you see a person gathering them that they are for greens. Some feed them to chickens.

I don't believe there is anything that farmers and land owners could do that would pay better in the long run, than to plant, say 10 or 20 acres of their land to trees. They say there is too much grain being raised anyhow. The state or government will, possibly, furnish the trees and what difference it would make in the looks of this country, if there were a piece of growing timber on each quarter or half section. And it would be worth a lot to the next generation, and many future generations.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

There are several materials which add to the elaborateness of any menu, at a small cost, and provide new and novel flavors to the many dishes to which they may be added. Among such foodstuffs I would mention pineapple, cheeses of all types, garnishes like plimatoes, stuffed olives, etc. Of course these things have food value of their own, and enrich anything they garnish.

Do you use such foods often? You should. Such simple touches do much to enliven a menu and to give it a surprise touch. Your family will relish old dishes of which they have tired, when some small change is made, such as grating cheese over the top of your baked corn, etc.

What do you do in this line? Please send in recipes you have given them novel surprise touches. The Quiz family will enjoy them, I'm sure.

Corn Oysters. Mix well together one pint of corn, one cup flour, two well beaten eggs, one tablespoon sweet cream, one-half teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Drop with spoon into hot butter or lard, fry brown on both sides and serve hot.

Mrs. H. T. Walkemeyer. Name if Yourself Cake. Mix two cups sugar, one cup shortening, two cups milk, four cups flour, four level teaspoons baking powder. Divide the batter. Beat five eggs separately, putting the whites into one-half the batter, the yolks into the other half. This makes two good sized cakes, and may be baked either in loaf or layers. Seven minute icing is good on both cakes.

Mrs. Clarence Blessing. Rhubarb. Line a pie plate with pie dough. Slice enough rhubarb to fill pie quite full. Pour over this one cup of thick sour cream. Then mix one and one-fourth cups sugar with two tablespoons flour and pinch of salt and spread over the cream and rhubarb. Put on the top crust and bake as any ordinary rhubarb pie. This is very good.

Mrs. Charles Huebner. Ice Box Rolls. Mix together one cup mashed potato, one cup scalded milk, one-half cup sugar, three-fourths cup lard, two eggs, two cups flour and one cake compressed yeast. Let rise for about two hours. Then add approximately four cups flour, let rise again. Bake or set in ice box and use as wanted.

Sophia Kasper, Omaha. Sweet Potatoes Different. Peel and slice into one-fourth inch slices sweet potatoes and tart apples. Place a layer of sweet potatoes in baking dish, then layer of apples, sprinkle with brown sugar, cinnamon and salt and dot generously with butter. Continue the layers until you have prepared the desired amount. Bake in a moderate oven for at least one hour.

Mrs. Ross Leonard. Snow Cake. Combine one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one-half cup sweet milk, one and one-half cups flour, four egg whites and one teaspoon baking powder.

Mrs. Walter Coats, Arcadia. Beg Your Pardon. The Quiz has been advised that some errors were made last week in our account of the 50th anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Gar Jensen of Irace. The name of one of their children, James J. Jensen, of Kanorado, Kas., was omitted and the affair was held in the school house instead of in the Jensen home. Dick Karre purchased the Jensen farm fourteen years ago instead of renting it as stated in the Quiz.

10 PEOPLE OUT OF EVERY 100 HAVE STOMACH ULCER. Acidity, indigestion, heartburn, sour stomach often lead to ulcers. Don't ruin your stomach. Counteract these conditions with Dr. Emil's Adla Tablets. Ed F. Beranek, Druggist.

State Capitol News

By PARKE F. KEAYS

Members of the legislature last week continued to work away on less important measures with one eye on the tug of war between the House and Senate on the appropriation bill. On Monday the Senate passed the bill with additions of approximately $800,000 over appropriations recommended by the House. The bill as completed by the Senate appropriates $10,694,000 to be spent from tax moneys during the next two years. The Senate showed liberality in direct contrast to the cutting and whittling previously done by the House. The appropriations as outlined by the Senate were $91,000 in excess of the governor's budget which was submitted to guide both houses at the beginning of the session. It is understood that while the Governor does not thoroughly approve of several additions made by the Senate he is in accord with their general attitude towards following the budget rather than accepting the cuts made by the House.

The first joint conference committee appointed included Chairman Wells, Fairbury, of the House finance committee and Representatives Chase of Omaha and LaVelle of Wallace, Chairman Callon of the Senate finance committee and Senators Banning of Union and Warner of Lancaster. Senator Callon voted against the passage of the appropriation bill in the Senate since he did not favor some of the additions made by the Senate. Warner and Banning, however, were understood to be in favor of standing pat for Senate increases. Representative Wells, as spokesman for the house group, favored compromising but not to the extent of accepting the $800,000 Senate increase. It was the general belief that several conference committee reports would have to be made before the House and Senate would agree. There was little fear, however, that an agreement would be reached which would make a special session necessary. Adjourning of the legislature depends upon the passage of the appropriation measure.

A threat of a special session loomed, however, on another measure. The governor's bill for reorganization of the state banking department and placing it more fully under executive control was passed by the Senate a short time ago but was indefinitely postponed by a House committee. Immediately the pot began to boil. Word came from those close to the Governor that if the bill was not given consideration by the House and passed, an extra session would be in order. It is said that bankers quite generally disapprove the bill, alleging that it places the banking department too much in politics. The administration, however, insists on having additional powers over the banking department to better handle receiverships and general banking matters. As a result the bill was revived by the House for further consideration but by a close enough vote to disclose that it is not overly popular with that group.

The beer bill, which passed the House recently and has since been in the hands of a Senate committee, was placed on file before the Senate early last week. If had undergone some remodeling in the hands of the committee. The most notable addition was the replacement of a health and safety clause which is in effect a safeguard against referendum action threatened by drys if the bill is passed. The bill was tossed about in the Senate last Thursday and further amendments were added. A sliding scale of retail licenses was pinned on making licenses range from $10 in small towns to $100 in those above 10,000 population. The bill was advanced to final reading by a vote of 17 to 15 and was passed Friday by a vote of 18 to 13. It is rumored that the bill may be vetoed by the Governor.

The Governor's bill providing for election of delegates to a convention for repeal or maintenance of the federal 18th amendment has passed both houses. The House by a narrow margin vote revived a senate bill to submit state prohibition to a vote of the people in 1934. It will be acted on this week.

Senators refused to allow radio broadcast of beer bill discussion last Thursday. Before voting against broadcasting several senators censured the House for its oratorical circus in broadcasting beer proceedings the previous week.

Dry members of the House made charges against the beer lobby a few days ago and suggested an investigation of the activities of individuals purported by working for the passage of the beer measure. In arguments that followed wets of the House pointed a finger of suspicion at a number of other interests that have maintained a lobby on bills of various natures and suggested that if one lobby was investigated all should be. As a result the House voted for a general investigation of the lobby and a committee of three was appointed by the speaker to conduct the investigation. Two of these were in favor of the investigation while one was not. Since their appointment members of the committee which they say will be necessary before any real work can be done. It has even been suggested that this lobby investigating committee may ask for an appropriation of $25,000 through the conference committee which is now at work on the appropriation bill. It is pointed out that to conduct such an investigation it will be necessary to call people from various parts of the state and go to a great deal of expense to get to the bottom of all the various interests for and against certain legislation.

In passing a bill recently, transferring collection of gasoline tax from the state treasurer's department to the agricultural department, ment, sections of the statutes providing for the four-cent gas tax were repealed and not replaced. This oversight was discovered early this week and immediately caused grave concern. The House under direction of Speaker O'Malley, however, recovered a discarded Senate bill and tacked the necessary provisions onto it. This matter will have to be rushed through before the close of the session in order to make the maintenance of the four-cent gas tax entirely legal. Fifty-fifty division of gas funds between state and counties will probably be revised to five-eighths to the state and three-eighths to counties.

The Senate last week killed the Banning sales tax measure. Similar measures are in operation in a number of states but the Senate was in doubt as to the amount of revenue which could be raised in this manner and how the tax would effect business men in border towns of the state.

The bill repealing the deficiency judgment law was passed by the Senate. This bill was passed early in the session by the House. It has been found that the title of the bill did not include the emergency clause which is embodied in the bill. This oversight makes the bill ineffective for three months and there is some doubt as to whether the bill can become a law at all in its present status.

By special message the Governor introduced a bill last week which would permit the creation of transportation districts in the state to take over the operation of railroad lines which railroad companies are to abandon by permission of the inter-state commission. The specific purpose of this bill is to assist citizens in the northeast part of the state who have been opposing abandonment of a short branch railroad running from South Dakota to Wynot, Nebraska. Truck competition has made operation of the road unprofitable. Under the plan suggested in the Governor's bill a district with provisions for taxation to make up loss would be created to continue operation of the road.

The House adopted a resolution urging the federal government to take action against certain meat packers under the Sherman Anti-Trust act.

The Senate passed a House bill to bar public employment of a married person whose spouse is already on the public payroll, when either of them receives more than $2,000 a year. Certain amendments added by the Senate and the bill was sent to conference.

The House and Senate have agreed on a bill to reduce salaries of state officers. The attorney general believes reductions will not be effective until after present terms have expired. Some legislators, however, are of the opinion that cuts are immediately effective. State officers, it is said, are ready to take legal steps to resist immediate cuts.

The state treasurer reports that $532,064 has been collected as state gas tax up to and including April 20. This amount is $101,000 less than for the same period last year. Treasurer Hall states that the bank moratorium in March accounts for the greater part of the decrease as it caused dealers' sales to fall off and less use of cars.

Nebraska spent $478,509 for highway construction and $78,298 for highway maintenance in March. Since July 1, 1931 a total of $15,527,961 has been spent for highway construction and $5,323,223 for mainenance. Total expenditures of the state were $1,245,181 during March which is about $200,000 less than during the previous month. Total expenditures since June 1931 are $37,622,256.

Last month's expenditures are classified as follows: Salaries and wages, $435,417; supplies, $102,106; office expense, $63,872; material and parts, $10,755; equipment, $10,239; lands and buildings, $39,031; roads and maintenance, $556,808; fixed charges, $15,852; revolving funds, $11,496.

The United States Department of agriculture reports that there were 375,716 automobiles registered in Nebraska in 1932. This is a decrease of 9.7 percent from 1930 to 1932. Washington was the only state where car registration increased during that period. Registration in Arkansas decreased 24.7 percent which was the greatest shown by any state.

Depositors in failed state bank at Naponee received $5,047 in dividends last week.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Barber, Ark., R. 2, April 24, 1933 Dear Editor Quiz:

We enjoy the Quiz more than ever since we have moved, so many people that we knew that we love to hear from. We always miss Union Ridge news when it is not in.

We are having lots of rain and gardens are surely doing fine. Strawberries are beginning to ripen and what large, lovely berries, but not so many of them as usual on account of the drought last summer and not being cared for properly.

We had a lovely trip down here after we passed Kansas City. It was too cold to be enjoyable before as we left the 14th of February. The Ozarks are very pretty in southeast Missouri and the northern part of Arkansas. We want to go up that way sightseeing some time.

We like our new home quite well. Times are hard in Arkansas, like they are in Nebraska. Debts are not so large here, but people can live much cheaper. There is a lot shorter feeding season. Grass is as good here now as it is up there in June. Land is quite cheap here. They do not rotate their crops here as we did, but raise the same crops year after year on the same land, but they say it builds up real fast. If more people from the cities were on these cheap places, making their own living, it looks like the Red Cross and welfare boards would be relieved of a great burden.

Yours truly, Mrs. John T. Nelson

Ord Church Notes

Bethany Lutheran Church.
S. S. Kaldahl, Pastor.
Sunday School at 10:00 a. m.
Luther League at 8:00 p. m., on May 7 at the home of Elna Mortensen.

Christian Church.
Next Sunday morning our subject will be "Christ Cleansing the Temple." In the evening an illustrated sermon on Christian growth. Union service with the Presbyterian people at our church.
Mid-week Bible study Thursday evening.
Woman's missionary society to-night, Thursday, May 4 at the home of Miss McCune.
We are planning a fine sermon in decoration for Mother's day. You will want to be out both for the special sermon and to honor your mother.

Methodist Church.
Services next Sunday as follows: Sunday School 10 a. m.; Morning Worship 11 a. m.; Junior League, Epworth League and Fellowship Circle, 7 p. m.; Evening Worship 8 p. m.
Our two months Go-To-Church Campaign ended last Sunday, with gratifying results. The largest results being shown in the evening services. The Epworth League has steadily grown in number and interest. A Junior League organized by Mrs. Leo Long has had a fine attendance with many of the children remaining for the regular evening service. The Sunday evening service has had an average attendance of 187, and the average total for each Sunday 524. The Sunday school and morning worship service have remained about as formerly.
Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Christian Science.
"Adam and Fallen Man" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Church of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, May 7.
The Golden Text is from Hosea 14:1: "O Israel, return unto the Lord thy God; for thou hast fallen by thine iniquity."
A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from Genesis 1:27, 31, and reads: "So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them. . . . And God saw everything that He had made, and behold, it was very good."
A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "The Scriptures inform us that man is made in the image and likeness of God. Matter is not the likeness of God. The likeness of Spirit cannot be so unlike Spirit. Man is spiritual and perfect; and because he is spiritual and perfect, he must be so understood in Christian Science." (Page 475).

Presbyterian Church.
You could worship God in the open but you need a more closely defined worship. You need the liturgy, the music, the admonition of the minister, the quietness of arranged prayer periods before you really begin to see God. Going alone in the open to find God is like turning primary children loose in a historical museum expecting that they will learn all about the forces which have shaken the world. I believe in the ministry of air and recreation but you have still to prove to me that the average person uses such periods to find God.
Bible Study 10. Worship program 10:45. The unified service is a wonderful plan for folks to get the most in the least possible time and will be especially appreciated during the spring and summer.
Young people's meeting 7. Union church services at the Christian church 8.
Baseball practice every Monday 4:15 and Saturday 2. All ages wanted. If you like to play ball here is your chance.
The aid circle will meet at the church Wednesday 2:30 p. m. all the ladies of the church are invited. Choir practice Wednesday, 8. The class in church administration meets on Thursday, 8. It is not too late to join the class and make up the work you missed. We have 29 members.

A fine musical program is being planned for Mother's day, May 14. Also baptism service and reception of members.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Wozniak entertained many relatives and friends Wednesday evening at a dance in honor of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Albin Carkoski. The dance was given at the Clemny hall and Greenwalt's orchestra furnished the music.
George Jablonski, of LoP City, spent several days of last week here with his sons.
Mr. and Mrs. Joe Flakus and daughter of Burwell were supper guests at the Leon Clemny home on Wednesday.
Mrs. E. A. Holub, daughter Kathryn and Sylvester Carkoski drove to Grand Island Saturday where they spent the day.
Carol Jean Clemny spent from Friday evening until Monday evening at the Chas. Clemny home near Burwell.
Mrs. Will Dodge and children entertained a few friends and relatives Tuesday evening at a surprise party in honor of Mr. Dodge and Albin Carkoski, who both had a birthday that day.
Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Zulkoski and children drove to the John Boro home near Comstock Tuesday to spend the evening.
The Jolly Home Makers club is planning to entertain their families and a few friends at a party Saturday evening at which time Helen Bartunek and Mrs. James Clemny will demonstrate the lesson "Recreation in the Home."

once at work, sheltered by "Old Tom" Belknap's name and reputation. Gorbels discovers that Steele is John Belknap.
CHAPTER VII.—Having evidence of Gorbels' complicity in the burning of the Richards stables, Sheriff Bradshaw interviews him. Gorbels admits the dead man had been in his employ and claims he had discharged him for being drunk, the afternoon of the fire. Steele and Bradshaw arrange for an autopsy on the body. Gorbels sends an anonymous letter to Ellen, informing her of Steele's identity, and insinuating that, acting for his father, John is responsible for her business troubles. John is unable to make a satisfactory explanation, and Ellen, against the dictate of her heart, discharges him.
CHAPTER VIII.—Young Belknap asks Gorbels to give him employment in the Belknap lumber plant. Sheriff Bradshaw cleverly induces Gorbels to incriminate himself in the burning of the Richards stables.
CHAPTER IX.—Gorbels' stenographer, Marie Varnell, whom he has lured from a position in the Belknap offices at Chicago to become his mistress at Kampfest, turns on him and promises to reveal his treachery to John.
Now continue the story.

The third was painted white; it set back thirty feet from the street. As he came abreast of it the door of the storm-house, which during the winter, protected the tiny front porch from weather, opened inward. He saw her standing there and she beckoned.
"Come in," she said, looking down the street, and closed the door, shutting them into the little cubicle. "All right now"—speaking in a normal tone. "Old lady Vogle—this is her house—is deaf as a post. She sleeps like a log, too. If anybody comes up the walk here, you go straight through the kitchen and out the back door."
"Who would come?" he asked, suspicious now.
"Paul Gorbels might come," she said.
"Yes! And if he found you here with me he'd . . . he might kill me!"—dramatically.
"In the habit of coming to your room, is he?"
"Yes," she said. "I'm not going to try to put anything over on you, Mr. Belknap. I couldn't, even if I wanted to, and I don't want to."
"That's generous, I'm sure. But . . ."
"I know this is a wild sounding sort of thing, but I want you to believe that everything I say is God's truth!"
"It's a long story, Mr. Belknap. It's the kind of a story with a moral, far as I'm concerned, I guess." She laughed, a trifle bitterly.
"I'm coming clean. I've got to show you how I know these things, and to make you understand why I tell 'em to you. A girl's got to shoot square as long as the other party does. I've done my part up here. I've been given a dirty deal from the beginning!" And now her voice was coarse, unpleasant, filled with anger.
"Don't misjudge me, Mr. Belknap! Please don't do that! I was only a kid when Paul Gorbels commenced coming into the Chicago office. I was a tylist there and he . . . well . . . he propositioned me while he was in and out of Chicago, seeing your father about building the new plant here. As soon as we could make good with the town, so there wouldn't be any gossip, he said, we'd be married. Well, we made good with the town. He's smart; I've been awful careful. We've got by, but I haven't heard any wedding bells! First it was the excuse of heading off gossip, because he's awful particular about his standing. . . . Then it was something else again.
"You see, everything had been between Paul and your father. None of the others in the Chicago office had anything to do with it. This plant isn't supervised and audited like the Belknap company plants are. I never knew why.
"But a year ago Paul came back all in a huff. Your father wasn't just satisfied with the way things were going. He'd commenced to ask questions about the plant and the bank that were hard for Paul to answer. He came up himself, just as snow came, and there was a lot of tall scratching, I'm here to tell the world! But he never found out anything.
"Now Paul commenced to figure that he was about through with your father. He'd gone as far as he could in getting stock in this company. He was going a good deal further in other ways that I'll explain after a while.
"All along, I'd had a feeling that he wasn't shooting straight with me. I hadn't been here a month before I was sure of it. It seems that he'd been trying to make this Ellen Richards for a . . .
"Surprise you?" she laughed as she felt John start violently. "Well, he had! He'd been gone on her since before her father died, but the old man didn't like him, and I guess whatever he knew he handed on to this girl, because she didn't fall.
"It's got under my skin, of course. A girl can't help it if she gets jealous, Mr. Belknap. Well, as I say, she didn't have time for anything but her job, anyhow, after her father died. You see, the bank here had a lot of their notes and Paul knew all about her affairs. He got his big idea about that property last fall. I remember the day he hit on it. He figured that the Richards company was in such a bad way that he could close it up in a few weeks if he could crowd it a little harder. He wanted to do that, but he didn't dare until he heard your father was going to Europe. He counted the days until he heard your father was safe and then opened up.
"She laughed a bit nervously. "I guess you know what happened. Well, he did it, all on his own, and timed it so your father wouldn't get wind of what was going on before he sailed. He started gumming up her railroad; he brought in this Baxter to clean up her men. He did a lot of other things that I don't know about probably, thinking he could force her to the wall, buy at his own price and then he could go over there as sole owner, leaving his stock in this company in the bank as security for the loan it would take to swing the deal. Get it? He'd be free of your father, then.

"Now, I happen to know how he worked it. He let the story out—as he's a way of doing—that your father was responsible for all this. He's smart, Paul! He spread that story pretty cute, I'll say. But you, Mr. Belknap, sort of upset his buggy.
"He found out who this John Steele was and you'd ought to've heard him rave! He dictated that letter and I had to write it to Ellen Richards. The dirty double-crosser."
She fumbled for her handkerchief and blew her nose with vigor. "Well!" said John, with his heart rapping his ribs. "Well, and it's about as I had figured out. He's played his own game, using my father's cards and my father's name."
"That's it! But that ain't the half of it, John!" Again her hand was on his arm.
"The thing that got your father suspicious was how the lumber was grading. It showed up an awful lot of low-grade stuff. Well, that's easy . . . if you're inside. Every week, car after car of good Number Two Common and better rools out of Kampfest, billed to the North Star Lumber company in St. Paul as cull! Yes, sir! You can check on that!"—nodding. Her voice was a bit hoarse now. "And that North Star company is Paul Gorbels. He owns it. I know that and he doesn't know how I found out. Oh, he'd kill me if he knew this! But it's true"—desperately. It's true, John. He's double-crossing your father every day in the week, and when your father tried to check up on it by an inspection at the other end, Gorbels fixed that, too, some way. I think he switched cars in St. Paul on the inspector. In other words, he's stealing Belknap & Gorbels blind!"
She ended, breathing rapidly and John stood there, so close to her, triumphant emotions surging in his heart.
He looked down at her face, so close to his. "I'm sorry," he said, and meant that . . . Poor, light-headed kid! He thought. A gold-digger, yes; coarse, vindictive, cruel, selfish. She wanted him to kiss her now. She was swaying close to him.
He put his hands on her shoulders gently.
"Thank you, Marie," he said. "Maybe there are things I'll be asking of you later! Just do your job and wait. If I have to see you, I'll write a note and let you plan the meeting."
"I'm awfully obliged. Good night!"
He went then, leaving her in the doorway. She watched him go and finally turned into the house with a sigh.
"Gosh!" she said. "Gosh . . . As hard to make as a million dollars."
In his room at the boarding house John wrote a letter before he turned in. It was to Bradshaw, brief and to the point. And the concluding paragraph read:
"And so send the following message to T. A. Wolcott, St. Anthony's Trust Co., Minneapolis. He is an old friend; open his reply and follow any leads he may give you."
"Please find out at once all you can about investors in and officers of North Star Lumber Co. St. Paul, also advise me of its local standing stop Send reply to Nat Bradshaw, this address—JOHN BELKNAP."

Paul Gorbels had not attended the dance. He had had other matters to occupy him. Neither had Baxter been in the recreation hall, though on other Saturday nights he had occupied his place by the fire and made his uncouth observations of women for the benefit of boys and low-grade men.
Tonight he stood in the shadow of a lumber pile with Gorbels and took his orders, but he took those orders, snapped at him coldly, with grace.
"But 'spose it kills him!" the man muttered.
"So much the better!"
"Good G—d, Gorbels, I don't want to kill any of old Tom Belknap's!"
"I'm giving you your orders. If you don't go through with it . . . remember, I know who has your thumbprints and your pictures."
"That crowds me, Gorbels. I 's'pose I'll have to do it. You've got me in a hole."
"Good guess . . . This week, remember. You've every chance in the world to get away with it!"
And so while John Belknap toiled at the hotpond in a fever of suspense and excitement, death stalked him, waiting, skulking in the shadows. But this morning he was on the far side of the pond; that evening he worked close to another of the crew. This day, one man alone could not handle the stake trips on the tilted, heavily laden cars; the next, the pond was full and no loads had been set in . . . So on, until Thursday.
Thursday afternoon, then, with the yard engine setting in more cars, pulling out, leaving the loads on the canted track beside the pond; to throw dark shadows beyond them. A prowler could come through the lumber yard then, and stand well screened to watch. He could stoop and look beneath the cars and see the pond-men working. He could slip forward silently in the snow, squatting on the dark side of the trucks . . . waiting, watching . . .
Across the pond was Ole, tooling a log slowly towards the side where other workers were busy. And now around the end of the pond came John Belknap, walking swiftly, pikepole over his shoulder. He was abreast the car now, and the prowler, hands on the trips, bent low to look beneath, saw his legs.

A hiss of breath, a jerk with great hands and logs were careening down upon the man beneath them!
On the first stir, John looked sharply. He had a glimpse of a smooth beech log bursting from the chains that had held it, hurtling at him through the air, out-riding a score of others, rolling, bouncing, leaping towards him!
No place to go, there! Eight feet ahead would put him in the clear; eight feet backward, and he would be safe. But eight feet are . . . two strides. It takes a man time to get under way.
One other place, then; the pond! Before the pike-pole which had been on his shoulder hit the ground he dived for a gap between two logs in the pond. To strike them, to have rolling timber come on him, would crush life out. He had to make it!
Eyes open, hands extended, he cut the water. His hip brushed the log and as he went under swimming mightily, he felt the first of the down-rolling deck touch his leg. Touch it! That was all. He had found an opening. He had missed catastrophe by inches . . .
Ole had seen. With a cry he saw John disappear. He gauged the distance. He swung his pike-pole. He brought his weight to bear on a high-riding log, and shoved it with all his strength, crowding it away with his pole, shoving the one on which he stood in the opposite direction with his feet.

"Hi!" he yelled, "Hi, John!"
A bulging, a swirling . . . An arm shot through; a face showed, and John Belknap, grasping a log, was choking and gagging for breath!
The excited Swede tried to drag him out.
"All right! Let me breathe!" he gasped, and Ole stood up as others came running.
"What happened? Anybody hurt? What was it? . . . Chattering then, as John, still panting, shaking with cold, dragged himself out.
"All right!" he gasped, and then, to Ole, "Much obliged . . . Seemed to swim . . . an hour looking for a hole!"
"Gosh, John, you come by a fire now!" said Ole as, water streaming from his woolen clothing, John made his way to shore across the logs.
He was shivering, but he shook his head.
"Not now, Ole. Not yet! Got something to do, first."
As he trotted around the pond, under the slide and made for the car from which four thousand feet of logs had rumbled down to menace him, Ole put down his pike-pole and followed.
"Careful, Ole!" the boy cautioned, teeth chattering. "Don't step in his tracks. Got a match?"
Edging along so that his feet would not obliterate any of the traces there in the newly-fallen snow, the older man drew matches from his pocket and lighted one.
He came in from yonder," John said, pointing to lumber piles. "He stood there behind that truck a while; squatted down, see? There's where his weight rocked upon the balls of his feet . . . Came over here and afterwards went out that way. See where he ran."
"Who, John?" Ole asked, puzzled.
"Whoever tripped the stakes to let the foad down on me!" John laughed harshly. "You didn't think they just let go, did you, Ole?"
"Yumpin' Yesus!" breathed his companion.
"Hasten with the light now. Let's see what we can see!"
Together they bent low over the tracks, while Ole struck a fresh match.

"New rubbers, see, Ole? . . . See that star brand in the heel? Old ones wouldn't leave a clean mark like that: looks like the work of a die . . . Heavy . . . big man." Quickly he spanned the footprints with spread fingers to gauge the dimensions of the footmarks. "Long stepper, too! See how far he stepped when he lit out for cover? Tall as I am, Ole."
The Swede was speechless until John, starting off into the shadows of the lumber yard, involuntarily moaned with the cold.
"Py gosh, Yonny, you come by a fire now quick!"
He went then, standing before open fire-box in the boiler room, undressing there, staring at the roaring orange mass of blazing wood which drove the cold from his body and set his garments steaming. The fighting light in his eyes was something to behold, and as he later changed from his half-dried clothing in his room, rubbing his great body briskly to drive out the last of the chill, his movements were quick and sharp, possessing a distinctly vindictive quality.
He did not eat. He went, instead from store to store where footwear was sold in Kampfest. In the third and last place where he might find a clew the proprietor advised one to bet his life he had rubbers.
John did not listen as the man extolled the virtues of his wares. He held a rubber in his hand, gazing at the raised star in the heel.
"Gold many?"
"Well, not many. Only two pairs, yet. You ask the boys, though. They'll tell you they fit fine around the foot! Try one on and—"
"Not now. Who bought?"
The merchant scratched his head and told him the names of his purchasers. The last man mentioned crystallized the suspicion that had been in John's mind.
The recreation hall was accommodating its usual evening throng when John entered. Baxter was sitting grinning at the wall, a pimply faced lad grinning at him from one side; another loafer sitting bent far forward; elbows on his knees; scyophants. He looked up, perhaps a trifle warily as John approached. His hands were in his pockets, one foot crossed over the other knee.
"Put up your foot, Baxter!" John said sharply, coming to a halt before him.
The man started.
"Who says so?" he asked truculently.
"I do. Put it up!"
The man laughed.
"If you want my foot up," he growled, drawing his hands from his pockets, "you go down and git it and—"
John went down with a swoop and a crouch, a swing of his one hand, fastening on the man's ankle, a backward sway, dragging Baxter from his chair with a thud, a crash, an oath.
One leg in the air, held there by that hand, seated on the floor for a split second, the man gawped while his face flooded with ugliness.
John stared down at the sole; big star; little stars, crepe rubber on the sole.
"Thought so!" he said with his sharp nod and let the resisting leg go.
Baxter had started to turn over with a mighty heave of his great body as John relinquished his grip. His foot dropped and upset him again, but he came up with an agile scramble, cursing, clenching his fists.
But a man, even a fighting man, a bullying fighting man, doesn't wade in and crush a man who stands before him, mind on something other than fighting so completely that he pays no attention to the drawing back of your fist.
Baxter remained poised, ready to strike, but not striking, facing the torrent of words from young Belknap, who stepped closer, one hand, palm upward, extended in a businesslike sideways gesture.

"If you'd put it up, it'd saved you being set down on your tail, Baxter. I wanted to see the bottom of your new rubber because I found a track in the snow a couple of hours ago, and put alongside of other things I found out, I figured your rubber made that print."
"Don't get ready to fight yet!" John went on, as he might have talked to an enraged child. "Maybe there'll be some fighting between us but not until you've had your chance to get out of it."

A Romance of the North Woods

By HAROLD TITUS

CHAPTER I.—"Tom" Belknap, big timber operator, ordered by his physicians to take a complete rest, plans a three months' trip abroad. Promises of advancement he has made to his son John, just commencing in the business, are broken, for no apparent reason, and the young man is indignant. Paul Gorbels, Belknap's partner, whom John and other business associates of Belknap cordially dislike, is a bone of contention. Father and son part without a complete understanding.
CHAPTER II.—At Shoestring, his train delayed by a wreck, John is ordered to leave at once. He refuses, and after a fist fight, his attackers realize it is a case of mistaken identity. John learns his father is believed to be out to wreck the Richards lumber company. Bewildered and unbelieving, he seeks employment with that company. At the office he finds Gorbels bullying a young girl, and throws him out. Gorbels does not recognize him. The girl is Ellen Richards, owner of the company. A letter he carries gives John's name as John Steele, the Belknap being dropped inadvertently, and John, knowing the feeling against his father, allows Ellen to believe that is his name.
CHAPTER III.—Ellen engages John as her foreman. A series of underhand tricks designed to handicap operations of the Richards company culminates in the deliberate working of a locomotive drawing a snow plow.
CHAPTER IV.—After heroic efforts the locomotive is got back on the rails. John, admiring Ellen's bravery under the conditions, begins to have a sentimental attachment for the girl, which is returned.
CHAPTER V.—The Richards barn and stables burn in a night fire and a stranger is killed. John finds and carries out the dead body of a stranger. He realizes the fire was set, but refuses to believe his father could be a party to such an act. Steele and Sheriff Bradshaw arrange to work together on the case.
CHAPTER VI.—John is satisfied that Gorbels is the malignant influ-

North Loup News

Mrs. V. J. Thomas and daughters, Mrs. Isa Creager and Maud autoed to Syracuse Friday morning to be present at the celebration of the eightieth birthday of Mrs. Mary Cramer, a sister of Mrs. Thomas which was held at the Cramer home there on Monday, May 1, midst a gathering of relatives and friends.

Mrs. Myra Barber had as a week end guest her friend Miss Lillian Glebe of Blue Hill, news reporter of the Blue Hill Leader. Miss Glebe accompanied Mary Davis who drove up from Edgar. Other North Loup visitors accompanying Miss Davis were the two little granddaughters of Mrs. Eva Kizer, the Earl Hart children, whose home is at Ong, Nebr., and Miss Noremberg who teaches at Harvard. The party returned to their respective homes Sunday p. m.

Mrs. Gertrude Jensen was most delightfully surprised when Monday afternoon her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris of Yakima, Wash., drove into their yard having arrived via auto Sunday evening at their son's home in Grand Island after leaving Yakima on Tuesday morning previous. The last report Mrs. Jensen received from her people they thought they would not be able to make the trip owing to Mr. Harris' rather frail health. They will spend two months visiting among their children and many friends of Greeley Center and community which neighborhood was their home for many years. Tuesday afternoon they drove to their daughter's home, Mrs. Dick Acker and family who reside north of Horace. This is Mr. and Mrs. Harris' first visit home in four years.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helbig and Grace Rich were Wednesday evening visitors at the Elvin Barnhart home. They accompanied Mr. Rice of Burwell.

Election of officers for the new year resulted as follows: Pres., Zola Schudel; v. pres., Laura Christensen; sec.-treas., Florence Fortis, and Adelaide Gowan and Laura Christensen, project leaders for the ensuing year.

Misses Frieda and Carla Nelson of Ord were Sunday guests at the Ray Drawbridge home.

AM I RIGHT?

An Ord boy, Paul Dana, is a "state farmer" for 1933-34. He was given the honor last week in Lincoln when the Future Farmers of America held their annual convention. Charles Barnhart, another Ord boy, played a big part in the meeting. He is past president of the organization and presided over the session in a capable fashion. Among the vocational agriculture boys, Charles is known as the "hot stuff."

And to Irma Leggett, Bill Garnick and myself say thanks for the term "children"... Evidently there will be no farm bureau ball league in Valley County this year. Many of the players on the Auble team this year are graduates of that circuit. "Porky" Misko may be home this summer... Jesse Kovanda should have brought his championship dairy cattle judging team to Lincoln last week for the contests... Carl Dale may take a junior crops judging team to Canada this summer for international competition.

Shady groves of trees for wind-break and woodlot purposes may dot the horizon in Valley county twenty years from now in spots where seedlings and transplant trees were planted this year. Valley county farmers planted over 10,000 of the governmental trees ordered through County Agent Dale's office.

Emil Polnick, prominent Red Cloud farmer, is one who has a real philosophy of farm success. He says the time has come when the man on the farm must do something different than his neighbors if he is to financially hold his own. The statement is true.

He practices what he preaches. He creep-fed 29 calves this past year. When they were marketed in Kansas City, the animals topped the market. He did something just a little different than his neighbors. It paid him well.

Some Valley county farmers probably have done things just a little different than their neighbors this year also. If so, let's hear about them.

Even though Nebraska is not getting any national reforestation work, a project is being completed in Scottsbluff and Morrill counties this week that has given temporary employment to 180 men. Sixty-thousand Scotch pine trees were planted in a soil erosion control demonstration in the enterprise which was engineered by Clayton Watkins, extension forester at the Nebraska college of agriculture.

Get's Marine Discharge
Ray Bryan, of North Loup, who for the past few years has been a corporal in the signal department of the marine corps, arrived in his home town last Saturday accompanied by his wife and two children. His enlistment had expired and rather than re-enlist and be sent to the Guam Islands Mr. Bryan decided to take his honorable discharge and seek civil employment. He is a radio expert and last Christmas, while stationed in San Diego, intercepted several amateur radio broadcasts made by Howard Jones, of the Quiz force.

Mr. and Mrs. Billie Worrell drove to Holdrege last Sunday to see Roy Gourley who is very ill. Reuben Nolde, Carl Wolf, Rudolph Plate and Jerry Manchester drove their cattle to section one to pasture this summer.

Ten members of the U. R. club enjoyed a very pleasant afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mildred Horner last Thursday afternoon as the lesson was on "Recreation." This was the last lesson of the year and during the summer the club will meet only once a month. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Horner. Mrs. Chris Bachemeyer, who was a guest, is now a new member of the club.

Roy Williams and wife and Verna Leach drove to Central City last Saturday and spent the week end at the home of Velma's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Leach. Harry Tolen visited at the Will Naeve home last Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Clyde Barrett and son Bud spent last Sunday at the Worrell home.

Orin Manchester was very sick last week with tonsillitis and Dr. Royer from Scotia was called to relieve him.

The young people of the neighborhood enjoyed hanging May baskets.

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MAY 11, 1933.

VOL. 52 NO. 7

PLANS COMPLETE FOR ORD'S FIRST BUSINESS CIRCUS

City Will Don Gala Attire Friday Morning; Much Entertainment Planned for Visitors.

With indications good for favorable weather—the one thing that now appears to be needed—the big Business Circus sponsored by sixty-five Ord business firms and arranged under the supervision of F. C. Rossow, of Broken Bow, promises to be a big success. Elaborate preparations have been made by the stores and others taking part, and not in years have so many retailers attended a public meeting as were present at the circus meeting held last Thursday evening in the city hall, at which time arrangements for the two-day circus were completed.

The Business Circus will be a big affair—that much is sure.

Not only are business men of the city cooperating almost 100 per cent to put it over, but professional men also have formed a Business Circus club and are cooperating to make the event a success. Wives of business and professional men, teachers and students in the Ord schools and everybody else in the city likewise will have a part in the circus.

On Tuesday a 10-car booster trip was held, forty-five Ordites visiting Burwell, Taylor, Sargent, Comstock, North Loup and other towns to extol the sights to be seen and the sounds to be heard in Ord this Friday and Saturday. All of the boosters were comically garbed, had with them a band and other entertainment, and report a very successful trip with much interest shown in towns visited.

Those who furnished cars for the booster trip were Joe Dvorak, Joe Osentowski, Ed Beranek, Ben Janssen, John Sharp, Murray Nelson, Shorty Grabowski, James Petska and Ed Parkos, M. Blomond furnishing a driver and L. J. Auble gasoline for the Parkos car.

The program committee for the circus is headed by Freeman Hought and has as other members Preston Loomis and Bert Boquet. These men, who have been working on plans for the past ten days, say that the Business Circus is going to be the biggest event Ord has ever put on.

Two parades are planned, one to be held at 4 p. m. Friday and the other at the same hour Saturday. At least fifty business firms will have floats in this parade, there will be three bands, dozens of clowns, a stage coach, Zoma the Wild Man, an eight-foot dog, bathing beauties, a Kula dancer, wild animals, zebras and other sights too plentiful to enumerate. The parade will start from the high school building at 4 o'clock each afternoon and parade around the entire business section. Ord stores will close from 3 p. m. until 4:30 p. m., on Friday but will be open all day Saturday.

Nor will the parade be the only sight of interest, for throughout both days there will be amusement and entertainment for visitors, all entirely free. Instead of performing from a stage, as is usually done, all of the fun-making stunts will be given on the streets and sidewalks, right in the midst of the crowds. In fact there will be several stunts going on in different parts of the business district all the time, so nobody can possibly see everything no matter how hard they try.

The kangaroo court is, of course, counted on to furnish its share of amusement. John P. Misko has been named chairman of the committee making arrangements for the kangaroo court and has appointed as his bailiffs and other officials Steve Carkoski, C. C. Dale, Joe Puncocchar, Edgar Mouser and Archie Keep, with others to be named later. A patrol wagon will take offenders into custody, they will be tried publicly and if found guilty will be sentenced to perform various comical stunts calculated to assist in promoting the business district. The court will start functioning at an early hour Friday morning to punish business people who fail to appear arrayed in circus costumes. Ord's entire business district will be in circus garb throughout Friday and Saturday. Every merchant, every clerk, every professional man will be in costume.

Livestock Is Killed In Electrical Storm

North Loup, May 9.—(Special)—Three milch cows and two calves, the property of Kent and Sterling, Manchester and Clifton Clark were killed Saturday night when a bolt of lightning struck the shed in which they were kept and burned it to the ground. The shed was on the Manchester farm just north of town, which is rented by the Clark family who were in town Saturday evening. A neighbor, Jim Johnson, noticed the flames and was first on the scene but the fire had too great a start to be extinguished.

Another milch cow escaped from the burning shed in a miraculous manner, freeing herself from a stallion and kicking open a closed door to gain her freedom. From the position of the bodies of the other animals it was thought that they were electrocuted.

The damage was not covered by insurance.

Loup City Woman Seeks Heart Balm

At Kearney last week Mrs. Maggie White, of Loup City, filed suit in district court against Miss Hilda Weimers, of Poole, charging alienation of her husband's affections and seeking damages in the amount of $25,000.

Mrs. White is the wife of Merlyn G. White, former operator of a trucking business here, and her suit against Miss Weimers is an outgrowth of a police court case here in March. Police charged that Mr. White and Miss Weimers were living together in Ord and the former was charged with using a room for immoral purposes and paid a fine of $50 and costs. Miss Weimers was sent to her home at Poole by county officers.

Married in 1922, Mr. and Mrs. White have not lived together for several years and at the time of his arrest White told Valley county officers that his wife would not live with him but would not consent to a divorce.

Miss Weimers is said to be an orphaned minor who will inherit a considerable amount of property when she becomes of age next fall. Mrs. White has employed a Kearney firm of attorneys to present her alienation of affections case against the Poole young woman.

Myrtle Tully Dead.
According to an obituary item in the Lincoln State Journal, Miss Myrtle Tully passed away there Monday at the age of 32. She leaves four brothers and four sisters. They are: Harlan J., of Didsbury, Alberta, Frank A., of Canada, John J., of Walton, Alaska, Eddie F., of Cody, Wyo., Mrs. L. C. Brown, Mrs. A. B. Fiala, Mrs. F. D. Weaver and Miss Cecel Tully all of Lincoln. Funeral services were held in Lincoln yesterday and the body is being brought to Ord for burial today.

Every store will have at least one comical window display and many of the stores will be decorated in comical fashions inside and out. Prizes have been offered for the best costumes and most comical store windows by the Business Circus club.

The only out-of-town entertainers who will appear in connection with the circus are the famous Gully-Jumpers, who usually sing and play over Radio Station KMMJ, Clay Center. They will be here in person and will sing and play at various places around the square on both days.

Nor will the evenings be without their share of merriment for dances are planned for both evenings. At the Bohemian hall Friday night four clown orchestras will alternate in providing music, with dancers being given a chance to vote on which orchestra is the best and with a cash prize waiting for the best orchestra. Another dance is scheduled for the Opera House the same night and other dances will be provided for Saturday night. A free band concert by the Ord Town Band (formerly the Ord Municipal Band) is also on the program each evening.

Ord schools will be dismissed at 3:20 p. m. Friday and city school children will have a chance to mingle with rural children to the benefit of the Valley county song-test Friday. Many of the students are planning to don gala attire, as well as their elders.

Another feature of the two days will be the giving away, entirely free of 2,000 free gifts ranging from cups of coffee to pairs of shoes. Coupons entitling the finders to these free gifts will be enclosed in envelopes and the envelopes will be distributed on the streets by clowns all day Friday and Saturday. Everybody will have an equal opportunity to get a free gift.

Ord invites the entire countryside to enjoy Circus days. They are free, entirely and absolutely free, and though merchants are offering many merchandise bargains for the benefit of thrifty visitors the days are not primarily bargain days. Rather, they were planned as an evidence of Ord's appreciation of the trade given its merchants day in and day out, the year around.

Visit Ord during the Business Circus. You've never seen anything like it and you'll enjoy every minute of your visit.

THREE ARRESTED, PROSECUTED ON BOOZE CHARGES

Keller, Seerley Get Jail Terms, Rodeo Rider Fined in County Court Here Monday.

Arraigned in county court Monday, three violators of Nebraska's stringent liquor laws were penalized in varying degrees. R. C. Keller, being punished most severely by a fine of $100 and costs and a jail sentence of 30 days. L. W. Seerley, on a second offense intoxication charge, drew a 30 day jail sentence and Ray Brown, of Burwell, was fined $15 and costs for intoxication.

Keller and Seerley were arrested Saturday night by city officers after a search of Keller's home had revealed five pints of alcohol. Both were riding in Keller's car when arrested and both were intoxicated, officers claim.

In county court Monday Keller was charged with possession of liquor, on which charge he was fined $100, and also with driving while intoxicated, for which he was sentenced to thirty days in jail, the first ten days and the last ten days to be at hard labor. As provided by law his driving license was revoked for a period of one year, all registration certificates in his name were ordered canceled and it was ordered that before he can procure another driving license he must give bond for the payment of any damages he may do while driving an automobile.

Mr. Seerley's offense was only intoxication but since this was the second time he had appeared in court here on the same charge this winter Judge Andersen sentenced him to 30 days in jail and ordered that his diet consist only of bread and water on the first two and last two days of his sentence.

The Burwell man fined here Tuesday was arrested in Elyria Sunday evening by Deputy Sheriff Archie Keep. He is a noted rodeo performer and has often won prizes at the Burwell rodeo and other famous shows. Before submitting to arrest Sunday night he gave Deputy Keep quite a battle, the latter says.

Neither Brown nor Keller had paid their fines yesterday and none of the three had paid costs assessed against them so it is likely that the Valley county jail will have three inmates for several weeks to come.

Baseball Game Postponed.

Rain Saturday night forced postponement of the Loup Valley league baseball game between Ord and North Loup, scheduled to be played last Sunday at the fair grounds. League rules require that postponed games be played off during the week following but Manager Jake Earnest of North Loup was unable to assemble his team for a mid-week game. This Sunday Ord plays Greeley at that town.

Elwin Auble Given Honors at Kearney

Elwin Auble, only Ord high school student to journey to the state music contest at Kearney last week-end, won honors in the bass solo section of the meet when he, and also three other contestants out of the sixteen were given an excellent rating by the judges. No higher honors were accorded, no singers in his division being accorded superior honors, so Elwin received as high honors as were given. The old practice of giving first, second, etc., has been abandoned.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Auble of Ord, Elwin was the only entrant in the contest, because the high school was short of available funds with which to send other music groups. Elwin paid his own expenses to the contest. He is a student under Dean S. Duncan, public school music instructor, and a special student under James Aagaard.

School Board Organized.
Newly organized for work for the coming year is the school board, with Dr. J. W. McGinnis re-elected secretary of the Ord board. Dr. C. J. Miller is a new member, replacing Fred Coe. Committees appointed include finance, Horace Travis, Stoltz, Miller; fuel, Stoltz, Norman and Gould; teachers, Norman, Flagg, Travis; buildings and grounds, Miller, Travis, Norman; books and supplies, Flagg, Miller and Stoltz.

A Special Convocation.
Special convocation services will be held at the high school auditorium Friday afternoon at one o'clock, with about 70 musicians playing in one massed band. The public is cordially urged to attend.

—Christian Missionary society met Thursday evening with Miss May McCune. Mrs. C. Fuson was co-hostess. There was a good attendance.

—The American Legion and Auxiliary met Monday evening in their hall. Plans were made for poppy day. Serving committee members were Madams Roy Severson and Cecil Clark.

3.2 Beer Is Legal In Nebraska After August 9th

At 1 minute after 12 o'clock on August 9, 1933, beer of 3.2 per cent alcoholic content may be sold legally in Nebraska. The beer bill, passed ten days ago by the legislature, became a law at midnight last Saturday without Governor Bryan's signature. The governor had five days in which to sign or veto the beer bill and when he failed to take any action in the five-day period that ended Saturday the bill became a law without his signature.

The beer bill goes into effect ninety days after adjournment of the legislature Tuesday.

Another beer bill passed by the legislature Monday permits Nebraska breweries to manufacture beer and sell it immediately outside the state. This bill was passed with the emergency clause, so unless it is vetoed by Governor Bryan several Omaha breweries will be shipping beer to Iowa, Missouri and other points by this time next week.

The Anti-Saloon League, W. C. T. U. and other prohibition organizations threaten to invoke the referendum to stop the sale of 3.2 beer in Nebraska before Jan. 1, 1934. Whether or not this action will be taken will be determined this week.

LEGAL DISTRICT FOR IRRIGATION WILL BE FORMED

Petitions Out Last of This Week, Hardenbrook Says; Survey Of Valley Finished.

By the end of this week petitions will be circulated as the first step in the formation of a legal irrigation and power district in the North Loup valley, says Bert M. Hardenbrook, who returned Saturday from Lincoln where he consulted with Attorney C. A. Sorenson. The signing of 15 per cent of the legal voters in territory affected by the irrigation project will be necessary to form the district, Mr. Hardenbrook says, and he does not believe that it will be difficult to secure this number of signatures.

The district will be organized under the provisions of Senate File 310, the enabling act passed by the Nebraska legislature a few weeks ago.

Surveyors have finished their work and Engineer E. H. Dummire, who was in charge of the survey left yesterday for Kansas City where plans and blue prints for the project are being drawn up in the office of Black & Veatch. Messrs. Brock and Bureleigh, who came from Lincoln with equipment for making soundings in the river, finished their work and left Ord Monday. They report having found rock formations in the river bed at or near the sites of proposed diversion dams.

President Hardenbrook reports that Attorney Sorenson, who returned last week from Washington where he consulted with R. F. C. engineers, is still very optimistic about prospects of getting an R. F. C. loan. He is urging haste in making application, however, so engineers are putting forth every effort to get plans into shape immediately.

Will Enter Track Meet.

The track meet, to have been held at North Loup Wednesday was again postponed because of bad weather, and will be held next Tuesday, possibly in Ord. Jack Tunnicliff and Richard Smith will represent Ord at the state track meet Saturday, Jack entering the 100 yd. and 220 yd. dash events, and Richard the pole vaulting.

Fire, Then Baby At Beams' Home

Spontaneous combustion in a large assortment of Watkins goods caused considerable excitement Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Will Beams, Arcadia. Gases had formed in the room and the suction or pressure held the door so tightly shut that it had to be forced open. Then fire broke out and the Beams' household goods were carried into the street. However, the property did not burn. The exact amount of damage to the goods cannot be learned.

At 1:10 a. m. Wednesday Mrs. Beams gave birth to a seven pound daughter, Dr. Kirby McGrew of Ord being in attendance. She had become very nervous during the afternoon's excitement but her condition is said to be satisfactory.

—Miss Frances Bradt went to Hastings and spent the week end with her sister, Miss Ruth Bradt.

—Miss Thelma Partridge was hostess Saturday afternoon to the Jolliffe club. Madams Joe Catlin, Edwin Clements and Stanley McLain were guests.

2 CROPS JUDGING TEAMS ENTERED IN WORLD EVENT

World-Wide Contest at Regina, Can., Will See Two Valley County Teams Compete.

Valley county will be heavily represented in the world-wide grain exhibition and judging contest to be held at Regina, Canada, this summer, said County Agent C. C. Dale yesterday, for not only will his 1932 United States championship team be entered but also a second team made up of Wm. Garnick and Harold Benn, Ord, and Clifford Heyne, of Wisner. All will compete in crops judging events in which $6,600 are offered as cash prizes.

Formal entry blanks were mailed to officials at Regina this week, said Mr. Dale, and he is sure that both teams will be permitted to enter.

Crops judging events at Regina are divided into three divisions, one for college teams, one for intermediate teams and one for junior teams. The Garnick-Benn-Heyne team will be entered in the intermediate division and Valley county's national championship team which is composed of Charles Barnhart, Valerian Clouch and Bud Brickner, will be entered in the junior division.

The boys last named won the Nebraska championship at the state fair last fall and then went on to Chicago to win the national championship at the International Livestock show. At first officials at Regina were not going to allow this team to enter for the reason that no formal elimination contest was held in Nebraska but County Agent Dale secured letters from Dwight Felton, state secretary of agriculture, and Governor C. W. Bryan, urging the Regina show to accept the entry. Regina officials have indicated that they will do so.

County Agent Dale feels that this team has an excellent chance of copying honors in the junior division and if they do win they will probably win at least $1,000 in cash prizes since the total amount offered as prizes in the junior division is $3,500.

He also thinks that his intermediate division team will have a good chance to win. Bill Garnick and Harold Benn were members of the Dale-coached team that won the national championship at Chicago in 1930 while the third member, Clifford Heyne, is an excellent crops judge. All three of the boys are freshmen or short course students at the University of Nebraska. Prizes offered at Regina in the intermediate division total $3,500 also.

It is pointed out, however, that the competition in all divisions at Regina will be very stiff. State champion teams from almost every state in the union will be present, as will the champions of each Canadian province, England, Australia, New Zealand and other countries. It will be a rare experience for the Valley county boys to judge crops in such company, whether they win or lose.

The Regina show will be held between July 25 and August 4 but the exact date of the crops judging contest has not yet been announced. Valley county boys who enter will pay their own expenses on the trip, Mr. Dale says. He expects to accompany them as coach and chaperone.

Sargent Matron Dead.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Lydia Seiver Williams, of Sargent, was in Hillcrest for a few days and then returned to her own home, later entering a Broken Bow hospital for a major operation. She passed away on April 28 and was buried in Sargent last Tuesday. She leaves her husband, Clarence Williams, and seven children born to her first marriage with Mr. Seiver, who was killed in 1920 when the Standard Oil truck he was driving upset north of Sargent.

Will Have Quilt, Rug Show.

The quilting division of the M. E. Aid is planning a quilt and rug display at their church basement next Wednesday, May 17, and everybody wishing to display a quilt or rug is invited to do so. Mrs. Henry Marks and Mrs. Ed Finney are in charge of the show. A cafeteria luncheon will be served in connection with the show.

Wed at Grand Island.

Saturday morning Miss Mary Leona O'Connor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael of Burwell, was married at Grand Island to T. F. Sundermeyer, of Hastings. The bride is a registered nurse who has been on general duty at St. Francis hospital since her graduation there in the nurses' class of 1929. She has a number of friends in Ord.

Occupation Tax Now Due.
Your occupation tax is now due. Please don't wait for an officer to come to collect it. Call at the city office to pay. 6-21

—Mrs. Pat Dally had a birthday last Wednesday and received a postcard shower from her numerous friends. Mrs. Dally is ill and confined to her bed most of the time.

Ord Rotarians Are Guests of Teachers

Members of the Ord Rotary club and school board members were guests of teachers in the Ord schools at a dinner served in the high school auditorium Monday evening.

After a delicious dinner served by Mrs. Orrin Slote, a program was given with Miss Zelma Frushour as mistress of ceremonies. The program included short talks by Orville H. Sowl, Ralph Norman, Clarence M. Davis and Millard D. Bell, a few quartet numbers by men teachers, ably assisted by the high school quartet, and two playlets given by the teachers. Group singing was enjoyed with Dean S. Duncan as leader.

The dinner was one of the most enjoyable affairs given in Ord this year.

Farm Land Selling, Says W. A. Posey

Joint Stock Land Banks Sold 11 Farms Last Week; Expects Real Estate Business Improve.

W. A. Posey, of Lincoln, who has charge of the farms for sale by the Fremont and Lincoln Joint Stock Land banks, was a Quiz visitor yesterday and gives quite an optimistic report on land sales. The two banks sold eleven farms last week, Mr. Posey says, and he is looking for improvement in the real estate business. Federal inflationary measures are causing people to put their money into farm property, he says.

Mr. Posey states that his company's loans in Valley county have held up remarkably well and that the percent of foreclosures is not large considering that they have over $1,500,000 loaned in this county. Farms taken by foreclosure in this vicinity have sold readily, he says.

The banks he represents have sold seven Valley county farms totaling 2,711 acres for a total of $53,000 in recent months, the Lincoln man says. Four of the seven sales were cash deals and on the entire seven deals only $14,500 was carried back on mortgages.

A list of the farms is furnished by Mr. Posey as follows: Helbig 160, sold to Joe Velega, Ord; Rathburn 281, sold to Earl Hanson, Ord; Barr 100, sold to J. A. Wibbels, Wolbach; Clemmy 360, sold to Joe Rutar, Burwell; Doran ranch, 1,600, sold to V. Hejsek, Ord; Hanson, 80, sold to Chris Thomsen, Ord; Garnick, 130, sold to Anna and Lillian Zalina, Ord. Other real estate agents likewise report increased inquiries about farm property. They say that the joint stock land banks will sell almost any of their farms to anyone who will pay up the back interest and taxes and assume the mortgage, or will offer a nice discount for cash. Many land sales will be made in the next few months, it is believed.

Leonard To Inspect Federal Borrowers

L. J. Paulsen, regional manager of the federal crop production loan office at Minneapolis, has instructed L. R. Leonard, field inspector for central Nebraska counties, to complete plans immediately for an inspection of the seeding program of all crop production loan borrowers. It is expected that Mr. Leonard will devote almost all his time to this inspection work for the next several weeks.

It is necessary that regulations governing the federal loans be strictly followed, Mr. Leonard says. Borrowers are obligated to reduce acreage of cash crops 30 per cent, besides which they must seed the entire acreage for which loans are obtained or return the over-borrowing either to Mr. Leonard or to the regional office at Minneapolis.

Another Big Egg Arrives.

Another unusually large egg was brought to the Quiz office Saturday, this time by Mrs. Joe Knopik, who says that it was laid by Rhode Island Red hen. Nine inches by eight inches in circumference, it was the second largest egg entered so far in the Quiz competition. Ed Klanczy's 9 x 9 inch egg is still the largest.

2.35 Inches Rain In May.

So far in May 2.35 inches of moisture has fallen in Ord, reports Horace Travis, government weather observer. Tuesday night rain was the heaviest of the month, .85 inches. More is in prospect today, with clearing skies Friday. The ground is now thoroughly soaked and the greatest need is sunshine and warm weather.

Notice to Scrip Holders.

All people having in their possession any of the Ord scrip must cash it by May 15 or it will be invalid. L. D. Milliken, treasurer.

—Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wear of Council Bluffs, Iowa drove to Ord Tuesday evening to spend a few hours with their mother, Mrs. Mamie Wear and to see their grandmother, Mrs. Frances Mills who is ill.

ORD HI SCHOOL WILL GRADUATE LARGEST CLASS

87 Will Be Given Diplomas May 25; Cushing Will Deliver 1933 Commencement Address.

The largest senior class ever to graduate from the local high school will receive diplomas at Commencement exercises to be held in the high school auditorium Thursday evening, May 25. Eighty-seven names appear on the class roll of which thirty-nine are boys and forty-eight are girls. Miss Elizabeth Shaver is class sponsor. Some idea may be shown of how the size of Ord graduating classes has increased by comparing the size of the present class with those of last year and of ten and twenty years ago. In 1932 a class of seventy-one, twenty-nine boys and forty-two girls received diplomas. In 1923, thirty-nine were graduated, twelve boys and twenty-seven girls. In 1912-1913, there were enrolled in the twelfth grade, twenty-five students.

Herbert L. Cushing, formerly superintendent of schools at Ord, now connected with the state superintendent's office, and at present director of certification for the state of Nebraska, will deliver the commencement address.

Baccalaureate services will take place in the high school auditorium Sunday evening, May 21. Rev. Willard McCarthy will preach the sermon and music will be furnished by the union choir.

Other commencement activities are the junior-senior banquet Wednesday, May 17. The senior class play "Daddy Long Legs" will be presented Friday, May 19. Monday, May 22 will be recognition night, at which time honor letters will be presented, recognition for athletics, scholarship, etc.

Tuesday evening, May 23, will be the senior party and Wednesday evening, May 24 the graduating class will present the usual senior class night program. This will include the valedictory, salutatory addresses, class prophecy, will and history, together with special numbers.

A list of the graduates follows: Eva Adamek, Leota Auble, Clara Augustyn, Marjorie Ball, Wilma Barnard, Evelyn Barta, Opal Beebe, Myrtle Benson, Margaret Bonne, Twila Brickner, Doris Carlson, Wilma Cochran, Lois Collins, Fern Cook, Virginia Craig, Leona Crouch, Martha Culp, Marie Desmond, Sylvia Dobrowsky, Viola Mae Flynn, Esther Glaser, Myra Hiner, Helen Holden, Gwendolyn Hughes, Wilhelmina Janssen, Ruth Jones, Irma Kokes, Henrietta Krcelick, Audrey Mella, Jessamine Meyer, Catherine Ollis, Irene Osentowski, Thelma Palmatier, Helen Parkos, Alice Pawloski, Eva Patnick, Dorothy Seerley, Wilma Slavicek, Edna Smolik, Evelyn Smith, Leone Stevens, Verna Stowell, Doris Tatlow, Alyce Verstraete, Ruth Wiberg, Evelyn Williamson, Lucille Wozniak, Elma Zikmund.

Sheriff Moran Dies.

Sheriff Frank Moran, 66, of Greeley county, passed away Saturday after a major operation in a hospital at Grand Island. Pneumonia was the cause of death. He had lived in Greeley county for fifty years and had been sheriff there since 1925. Sheriff George Round of Ord went to Spalding Monday to attend funeral services.

League Meeting Cancelled.

A meeting of the Taxpayers League of Valley county was scheduled to be held at the district court room Monday afternoon but was called off when only a handful of members attended. President Waldmann and Secretary Goodhand were present but other officers and members were conspicuous by their absence. Whether an attempt to hold a meeting later will be made has not been announced.

Married at Geranium.

At Geranium Catholic church last week occurred the marriage of two people well known in Ord, Lumire C. Klima and Miss Lillian Chalupsky, both of Comstock. They will make their home in that village after a wedding tour of Montana and other western states.

Earnest Coming Home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Earnest, of North Loup, are reported to be on the way home from California. They went there a few weeks ago and Mr. Earnest expected to locate in that state but he writes that business conditions are much worse there than here.

WE WANT THE RESERVOIR.

Good news for Ord people is contained in a rumored statement by Engineer E. H. Dunmire last week, to the effect that a reservoir in the hills west of Ord is practically a necessity in connection with the irrigation project. Not only because a beautiful fishing, boating and picnicking place will thus come into being do we want it, but also because the existence of a reservoir assures that irrigable land right up to the city limits will be furnished with water.

Two different methods were contemplated by the engineers, one to restore water to the river by means of a ditch just north of Ord and take it out by another diversion dam just south of town; the other to impound the water in a reservoir west of town and during the irrigating season lead water out of this reservoir to irrigate the acres south of Ord. At present the latter method is receiving most favorable consideration.

Either method is quite expensive but the first is much more so than the second and not nearly so satisfactory. In the event that the reservoir is dispensed with, some enormously expensive ditch right-of-way would have to be purchased from land owners south of Ord who would not be given any irrigation. About 3,000 acres of the most fertile and valuable land in the valley would be deprived of irrigation although the ditch would run across this land.

With a reservoir, almost every acre that is irrigable can be given water and right-of-way costs will not be nearly so great. A large lake coming almost to the city limits will be established. This lake can be stocked with game fish, its banks can be made into a beautiful park and Ord will soon become a mecca for sportsmen as well as for increased business.

Yes, Ord wants the reservoir.

PITY THE CAR OWNER.

If any taxpayer is entitled to sympathy, surely it is the man who owns and drives an automobile for he is literally taxed to death. That he continues to pay the various taxes assessed against him is a great tribute to the convenience of the motor-driven vehicle but if taxes on cars and gasoline continue to mount there will come a point where only the wealthy can afford to drive, which surely will be another instance of killing the goose that lays golden eggs.

When a man purchases an automobile he pays a federal tax, then on his car he pays a personal property tax, then he buys a license which is nothing but another tax, then upon the fuel that he buys he pays a state and federal tax and upon his lubricating oil he pays another federal tax.

Now, to benefit agriculture, it is proposed that refiners be required to blend a certain percentage of alcohol distilled from corn with the gasoline. Even at the present price of corn it is impossible to produce a water-free alcohol at a price that will not necessitate a premium price on the blended fuel, experts declare, and as the price of corn mounts this premium will increase also. If a 2 to 4c per gallon premium would be required for alkyl-gas at present corn prices, the spread would surely be much greater when the price of corn gets back to normal.

There is no doubt that such a move would benefit agriculture, but would not an increase in the price of gasoline cut both ways? The farmer is a big user of gasoline, as everybody is nowadays. There is no point in putting money into one pocket and taking it out of another and Repr. Shallenberger's alkyl-gas bill seems to be that kind of a measure.

ADVICE ON ADVERTISING

"When you are in business, do not leave too much to the public imagination. Tell them about it." This is the advice of George Brandels, of Omaha, Nebraska's most eminently successful merchant. Only fifty-five years old, Mr. Brandels has built up in Omaha one of the nation's great department stores. When almost all other businesses in his city cut their advertising appropriations he increased his, and as a result has occupied an enviable financial position throughout the depression.

Often times you'll hear a merchant make the remark that there isn't any use spending money for advertising because nobody has any money and couldn't buy anything if they wanted to. Mr. Brandels knows different. He knows there is plenty of money in circulation and that a goodly share of it is going to the store that is able to offer real bargains, honest bargains and is willing to tell the public about them.

Day after day you'll see the Brandels advertisements in both Omaha dailies. Sometimes they are a single page, more often a double page, frequently four or eight or twelve pages. The store's bill for newspaper advertising—which, incidentally, is practically the only kind used—is tremendous, but it pays!

Ord merchants, or the merchants of any town, can win by following Mr. Brandels' advice: "Don't leave too much to their imagination."

THE PENDULUM SWINGS.

The pendulum always swings back. The history of the depression has been that of a pendulum swinging always in the same direction, always downward, but now the first faint signs are evident to show that history is repeating itself and that the pendulum is beginning its swing in the other direction.

If it is possible for Americans to learn anything from history, which frequently appears doubtful, we should be in position to reap great benefits from the experience of the past few years. We should be able to realize that, because the pendulum swung so far in its downward stroke, it will swing equally far upward. There is a boom in store for us, a boom beside which that of 1928 and 1929 will seem puny.

It is very questionable whether we want that kind of a boom or not, in fact if a steady level of moderate prosperity over a longer period of years could be assured by abstaining from booms it would be vastly preferable. We did not know enough to prevent the great depression even though it was clearly indicated by signs that should have been unmistakable to economists; how then can we be expected to avoid the coming boom period, which will just as surely be followed by another period of stringency?

Perhaps twenty years or so from now our technological knowledge will be sufficiently great so that some system may be worked out to maintain economic conditions at one level, thus avoiding depressions and avoiding booms. National and world planning will have to be done and it now appears that nations of the world are becoming willing to do that sort of planning. Just as business competitors are learning that there is no profit for anybody if a cut-throat policy is followed, so the world is learning that no nation can enjoy permanent prosperity unless a large portion of the nations are enjoying it also.

In fact, it looks as though the world has seized upon an idea—that however different in dress, in speech, in appearance the peoples of the various nations may be, they have one thing in common: they must have food, fuel and clothing, or they perish. With that simple premise clearly in mind, our statesmen should be able to formulate some economic system under which all nations may live happily and prosperously.

THE GAME COMMISSION.

How many people who enjoy fishing, hunting and picnicking in and around the various lakes and rivers of Nebraska even know of the existence of the Nebraska state game, reforestation and parks commission? All too few, yet this commission has done more to perpetuate outdoor sports in Nebraska than has any other agency.

The commission has seven members with the governor of the state as chairman and the state game warden as one of the members. At present it is made up of Governor Bryan, E. R. Purcell, Guy R. Spencer, J. B. Douglas, George B. Hastings, M. M. Sullivan and Frank B. O'Connell. The names of all these men are known to well informed sportsmen.

A ten-year program has been adopted by the commission and it has been commended by sportsmen all over the United States. Major objectives in this program, as given by Outdoor Nebraska are: Game: Statewide pheasant hunting; rehabilitation of the quail; stocking of Hungarian partridge; reserves and feeding grounds for migratory waterfowl; public shooting grounds. Fish: Fish for every angler; reduced cost and common sense business in fish production; good fishing at state-owned lakes where public can fish free; preservation of lakes.

Recreation: A state-wide system of recreation grounds for Nebraska citizens; shade and picnicking facilities at fishing lakes; conservation of Nebraska's outdoors. Law enforcement: Equality for all; constant war against the despoiler and destroyer of wild life; strict observance of game laws by citizens. Education: Appreciation of Nebraska's outdoors through education; make the boys and girls of tomorrow lovers of wild creatures and nature's handwork; cooperation of all citizens to the end that Nebraska shall have suitable recreation and wholesome outdoor facilities; program of reforestation throughout Nebraska.

General: Full value to the purchaser of hunting and fishing permits; square deal to farmers and sportsmen; stabilization of water in Platte river.

Hampered though it has been by lack of funds, (no tax moneys are used by the commission, only funds realized from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses) the commission has made a fine start toward carrying out this program. To protect the public against the constantly-growing practice of rich men leasing the land around lakes and streams, the commission has by purchase and lease provided land upon almost every lake and stream in the state so that the public will have access to them. Reserves and resting places for waterfowl have been provided. Fish hatcheries have been built and a re-stocking program is being carried out. In portions of Nebraska that have no natural lakes sand-pits have been flooded and stocked with fish. A system of state parks like that at Victoria Springs in Custer county has been built up. In countless other ways the commission is making Nebraska a better state for the enjoyment of outdoor sports.

Citizens generally should support the commission in its work. There is nothing in the ten-year program to which the true sportsman cannot unhesitatingly subscribe. If the commission is given the moral and financial support that will enable

Wife Talks Advertising

A couple of weeks ago I noticed an article in your paper in which you asked: "What peculiar twisting of the mind is it that causes the good people of this territory to pay the extra expense of going away from home to trade when they can get the same and often better bargains from merchants at Pierce?"

Well, if you will allow me a little space I think I can answer your question in part, at least. First, I consider Pierce my home town—my trading town, when all things are equal, though three other towns are not so very much farther away from my neighborhood. I am well acquainted with nearly every merchant in Pierce and it is to them that I am going to speak plainly, but in the kindest of spirit.

Did it ever occur to you merchants of Pierce, that you might be partly to blame, perhaps all to blame, for this condition? I'll tell you briefly why I think you are.

We women out on the farms are everlastingly looking for bargains. This is especially true in these times of low prices. Every housewife in my neighborhood is doing this. I know because we talk it over. The call comes to our mail box regularly every Thursday forenoon and after a hasty glance at the neighborhood news we dive into the advertising section. We look for bargains—for Friday and Saturday Specials. It means bread and meat, groceries and such things to us. If we do not find anything in that line, well then its just too bad for the Pierce merchant for that week. For a number of months lately I have noticed that the Pierce merchants have fallen down in their bargain offers. At least we have not seen them very often in The Call, lately, and that is the only county paper taken in this neighborhood so far as I know. There has been considerable comment by the women out here in that regard. Well, they say they know where they CAN get bargains, or think they do, anyway, they go—and they don't stop at Pierce on their way.

Perhaps the merchants of Pierce do not realize that in these times when it is hard to make ends meet we women folks look at the advertising columns more than ever. Perhaps they think it does not pay to advertise their goods in these times. If so it seems to me they are standing in their own light instead of inviting trade they are driving it to other towns where the merchants use printers ink continuously and consistently. Times have changed and methods of doing business have also changed. The merchant who does not keep up with modern times is doomed. The "penny-wise, pound foolish" individual is still hanging on the ropes.—Mrs. R. H. in Pierce County Call.

it to carry out its program, boys and girls of the next generation will be able to enjoy outdoor Nebraska as we of the present have been able to.

By H. D. LEGGETT

Several friends of the Quiz have brought in unusually large hen eggs recently so when Alice Burson, in gathering the eggs the other day, found an egg of unusual size, she at once said she was going to bring it to me and Friday she presented it, saying it was for my breakfast. The joke was on me though, for while the large, double yolked eggs which have been brought in, when cooked with a few slices of nice bacon, make a fine breakfast for me, the unusual thing about the size of the egg Alice brought, was its smallness. It was a hen egg all right, but was no larger than a robin's egg and it took a couple of regular size hen eggs Saturday morning, to go with it to make a breakfast. I am saying here and now, however, that we are always glad to get unusual or freak things to write about. They are always read with interest.

When You and I Were Young, Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week.

John Long, who had been spending the winter with his parents, left for Colorado Springs where he had been engaged in the contracting business the previous year. With his partner, he planned to go to old Mexico to do similar work.

A prairie fire swept the country from north of Brewster to a point near Burwell, burning up 25 barns, one complete set of buildings, many wagons and several head of stock.

The cellar for the new opera house had been excavated and the building was expected to be finished within ninety days.

Mrs. C. H. Bate was found dead in her bed, death evidently having resulted from a heart attack.

Five saloon permits were issued by the Ord city council and four of the five immediately paid the $1,000 license fee. Wencil F. Adamek, to whom a permit had been issued, did not pay the fee and indicated that he had changed his mind about starting a saloon.

A new gravity clock was installed in George Parkins' show window and was attracting much attention.

S. J. W. Brown returned from a trip to Oregon where he invested a considerable amount of money in property. He said that he might move to that state in a couple of years.

Dr. Haldeman and family returned from a long sojourn on the west coast. They stayed in southern California until after the big United States fleet arrived in those waters.

30 Years Ago This Week.

A cement walk across Bussell park to the cemetery had just been installed under the direction of Park Commissioner A. M. Mutter. The Cap Harris gang did the work.

Two barns were struck by lightning and destroyed by fire, one in Michigan township on the farm of Joe Klatt, Jr., and the other on the F. M. Osgentwsk place.

The Right Rev. Bishop Duffy, of Kearney, visited Ord for the first time, the occasion being special services that Ord Catholics were holding.

Chris Domgaard sold the Ord laundry fixtures to his father, L. Domgaard, who moved the laundry to Loup City.

Darlene, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watson, fell on the sidewalk and was seriously injured. She was under a doctor's care and was suffering from broken ribs and internal injuries.

W. J. Hather sold his herd of 42 registered Shorthorns to a Pilger firm of pure bred breeders.

Bass Season Is Closed.

For the next thirty days, until June 10, Nebraska nimrods must refrain from catching black bass and rock bass under penalty of the law. The bass season closed May 1 for a forty day period. This is the spawning season of these popular fish. All other fish may be legally taken while the bass season is closed.

town to trade in, better stores, better and larger stocks of goods, a better newspaper, better churches and better preachers for them to listen to and if we do all those things then the people in this trading area owe it to Ord to pay a reasonable profit for the service they receive. The Quiz is now $2 a year again and no one can buy it any less, but because business was bad I cut the price in half for a period of many months and practically every subscriber on the list took advantage of that offer and paid up for a year or more and some of them for five years. Some came two and three times to pay a dollar at a time and I was glad to have them take advantage of the offer. I now expect them to come, when their time expires and just as willingly pay the $2 which the Quiz is worth and I believe they will do so. And I hope my friend who took a job at me last week will think the matter over and get informed as to just how much the Quiz is really doing, entirely free of charge, for this community. A column in the Quiz at the present low advertising rate, is $5. I have not measured it up and am not interested in doing so, but I believe we give the churches of this city at least a column for their church notes each week. We do it gladly and would feel badly if the good ministers would not permit us to thus assist their wonderful work, but, just the same, it is worth money to them and is a great convenience to the church going public. We do the same as far as we are permitted, for the various lodges and other civic organizations. If our friend will just take the time some week to actually measure that class of matter in the Quiz and then multiply the inches by 52, the number of weeks in a year, he will change his mind about Leggett and will not be gully, again, of being so unfair.

Dean Moser says it has been several years since we have had as fine a rain as we had the past couple of weeks, a rain that came as nice and did as much good.

If, in the irrigation scheme, it develops that a storage reservoir is needed in the vicinity of Ord, won't it be fine? It would be hard to estimate the value such a reservoir would be to Ord.

I have heard of men getting a black eye from running into a door from the kick of a mule, from the falling of a shelf or from running into a clothes line, but Orville Sowl was awarded the rubber lemon squeezer the other day when he showed a beautiful shiner and said the baby bunted him with its head.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

How do you fix vegetables at your house? Always the same? Do you always cream the onions, put a heavy sauce on peas, beans and carrots? If you only mash or plain boil potatoes, and invariably fix vegetables the same old way, I'm surprised your boarders stay with you!

Add a little variety to the menu; do things a little bit different now and then. And if you have some very different ways of serving vegetables won't you please send in the recipes to the Quiz so that neighboring cooks may please their families with different ways of serving the same old vegetables, too?

Baked Hominy and Tomatoes. Mix two cups drained hominy (may be chopped fine) with one and one-half cups canned tomatoes, one beaten egg. In a sauce pan melt four tablespoons butter, add one cup bread crumbs until well mixed. Add half the buttered crumbs to the hominy mixture and season with salt and pepper. Cheese added to this dish gives a nice flavor, and so does a bit of left-over meat. Pour into a greased baking dish, cover with the remaining buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven of 350 degrees for 30 minutes.

The donor's name was not attached to the above recipe.

Butter Cookies. Cream three-fourths cup butter with one-half cup sugar, add two egg yolks beaten until thick. Add two tablespoons sweet cream, grated rind of two oranges, two cups flour. Knead until smooth and roll out in a thin sheet. Cut in cookie shapes and sprinkle the tops with finely chopped walnuts.

Mrs. J. P. Miller, Paul, Ida. (Mr. H. D. Leggett personally recommends these cookies as among the finest he has ever eaten.)

Raisin Pudding. Put in a large skillet and stir well one cup brown sugar, two cups hot water, two tablespoons butter. Make a dough of one-half cup sugar, one-fourth cup butter, one-half cup milk, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup flour, one cup cooked raisins, pinch of salt and vanilla to taste. Add this to the first mixture, without stirring. Bake thirty minutes.

Mrs. Ernest Lange. Sift together five or six times four tablespoons cocoa, three cups sifted flour, two cups sugar, then add two cups sour cream, two eggs, two level teaspoons soda, two scant teaspoons salt, and vanilla to taste. Bake about forty minutes in a moderate oven. If the batter seems too stiff add a little water or milk. One-half teaspoon cream of tartar added at the very last makes it of fine texture.

Mrs. J. P. Miller. Banana Cream Cake. Sift three and one-half cups pastry flour once, put in three and one-half teaspoons baking powder and sift three more times. Cream well one-half cup butter and one and one-fourth cup sugar, add three well beaten egg yolks and the white of one egg which has been beaten with one-half egg-shell of water added. Lastly put in the flour mixture and three-fourths cup milk. Bake in two layers, thirty to thirty-five minutes.

Filling: Beat one egg white well, add two cups powdered sugar and one sour apple grated. Slice two bananas lengthwise and cover with filling, putting this between and on top of each layer.

Gertrude Ann Foth, Rt. 2, Ord.

Apple Sauce Cake.

Cream one cup sugar with one-half cup butter, add one egg, one teaspoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon nutmeg. Add one cup unsweetened apple sauce with one teaspoon soda. Put in one-half cup raisins and one-half cup walnuts, two cups flour, pinch of salt and mix thoroughly. Bake in a greased pan for one hour. After the cake cools add your favorite icing.

Something Different

Aren't you glad to see Rufe Clark on his feet again?

I found out why my friend Mrs. McGrew no longer calls up to report interesting little happenings of Ord's east side for this column. I have been missing her. She doesn't have a telephone any longer!

A most peculiar accident happened recently, though not in Ord. My mother reported it to me. A few doors from her lived, a few months ago, two beautiful big St. Bernard dogs.

One day one of the dogs got badly tangled up with an Austin. "No," said my mother, "it didn't hurt the dog any, though I guess it frightened her nearly to death. . . . she stays out of the street since the accident. . . . But the Austin was quite a wreck!"

A five-year-old friend of mine cried, complaining of an earache. After considerable ministrations and some questioning, his mother ascertained that "it only hurts when I yawn!"

"Well, don't yawn then," announced The Mama in a practical tone of voice. The little boy was silent for a short spell, then . . . "Well, but Mama, I'm afraid I'll get sleepy!"

Even children must have dual personalities. A little fellow, less than three, was a brave soul and never cried if he could help it. One evening his mother heard him jumping up and down on the bed and started in to investigate. Knowing this to be against the rules, Billy jerked out the light and dived for the head of the bed. Doing so, he gave his head a good crack and made it hurt badly for a moment.

When his mother reached the bedroom she heard Billy going on like this, alternately whimpering and cussing: "Boo-hoo-hoo-demmit-boo-hoo-hoo-demmit-boo-hoo, etc."

An interesting explanation is made in the Greeley Citizen this week by a brother of W. B. Weekes of Ord, which applies to local members of the family also:

The Why of Odd Spelling. "Why do you spell your name with what seems to be an extra 'e'?"

That question was put to Sam Weekes Monday.

"My father's ancestors came from England," Weekes answered. There were two families named Weekes. In order to make a distinction between the two families, one of them added the extra letter. My father, who was born in Illinois was a descendant of the family that made the addition to the spelling of the name."

Harry James McBeth, junior, occasionally pulls the wrong word out of the bag when he grabs for one. A few days ago he informed his aunt, Miss Lena Clements, that she was "only a tenderloin", when he meant to say "only a tenderfoot."

But that is not half as unusual as his remark after a picnic on the Clements farm near Burwell last fall. He declared after reaching home that he noticed "Uncle Edwin still had his still up there." The whole family rose up and pondered, at last deducing the fact that "Uncle Edwin still had his blind (for duck hunting) up there."

And Shirley Beth Anderson informed her mother a few days ago that she liked that song they sang over the radio so much now . . . "You know, that one about 'In the alley, you-hoo'."

"The Echo in the Valley" is the title she referred to, so she thought, which name do you like best?

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Dandelions and crab or water-grass are starting to show up on lawns. Both pests may be held in check by spraying with chorate. 4 ounces of sodium chlorate are dissolved in 1 gallon of water, and this amount of solution is sprayed over a square rod of lawn. The chlorate solution does a more satisfactory job of extermination on water grass than it does with dandelions. It hurts young dandelions, but does not kill many of the old tough ones. The spraying does not do any noticeable harm to the blue grass.

Colorado has discovered that ammonium sulphate fertilizer seems to keep down dandelions. This should be good news to Henry Ford and his associates. Ford's commercial ammonium sulphate fertilizer has been generally regarded as the best rejuvenator for lawns in this country. In addition to hurting dandelions, it does not mar appearances, or contain weed seed as does barnyard manure. It also gives quicker results, and is easier to apply. Ford fertilizer is crushed and mixed with sand. It is scattered at the rate of 1-4 to 1-2 pound on 100 square feet of ground. Ford stations sell it at reasonable prices.

Dandelions and crab grass are sometimes controlled by letting the grass grow. Most folks are in too great a hurry to mow the lawn in the spring. Blue grass will often take care of crab grass and many other weeds if allowed to grow naturally. When clipped early, it has no chance to gain the strength needed for keeping down weeds later in the summer. It should not be clipped closer than one and one-half inches above the ground.

Crab or water grass appears following overdoes of water to the lawn. A good soaking not oftener than once a week is recommended instead. If the weeds still appear, it may be just as well to let the lawn dry up until rains come.

Our dandelions grow well here because we have lots of lime in our soils, and therefore no acids. They were introduced fifty years ago by an old settler who was trying to find something that would cover up the bare, open spaces. He succeeded admirably.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

A Letter From Frank Kull. To the Editor of the Quiz:

As Will Rogers says you can write most anything they please but the next thing is to get anybody to read it. As the bad times are the first and last subject discussed and it is difficult to resist the hard beaten path I will try to keep away from it as much as possible.

Mr. Cummings says he reads my letters in the Quiz if nobody else does. Now George is always ready to hand his friends roses but does not always strip off the thorns. George once remarked he enjoyed the company of children. He said their mind was so free from work and worries. Now there are some oldtimers who will agree with me that work with George has been a hard master and worries a cruel one. Now considering Mr. Cummings age and the fact he in comparison is like a candle that is burning at both ends is a pretty well preserved man and here is hoping George will make us a visit . . . that is, however, if he cannot go to visit anybody else.

When we first came to California orange groves were selling at five to six thousand dollars per acre and about all the republicans could talk about were their millions. Now they either have turned Democrat or entered their names on the roll call for the bread lines. There are a few however stand-patters who voted 'er straight. They were afraid in case of a new administration it would not get the right mixture to the booze and that would be bad.

The time has arrived when we must reckon with the tax collector. I have in the past been able to manage my property to have it pay taxes and a little besides but will acknowledge it has got beyond my control.

I have a few facts and figures how costs of government, federal, state and local taxes have steadily risen dating back from 1913 of that year taxes were $2,919,000,000 or 8 1/2% of the peoples income, closing of the late administration of 1932 the taxes had risen to the amount of $15,090,000,000 or 40 3-5% of the people's income. In 1919 we had a salaried officer to every 19 taxpayers. In 1932 a commissioner to every 11 taxpayers. Now there is a little housecleaning we have lost 55 officers canned in the emigration department alone whose sole duty it was snooping upon inoffensive strangers.

It is a question in my mind whether it is policy to prohibit the small fellow from competing against big business. That is just what happened to the truck man, the prohibitive license.

These men saved the stock feeders in Valle county thousands of dollars in feed bills and labor, our saving alone would amount to $75, 120 bushel of apples were trucked out which could find no local buyer. In Scottsbluff county there was an over-production of potatoes, railroad transportation, middle man's profit and commission were prohibitive. The same conditions held true with the fruit in Kansas. The truck men solved the problem by making exchanges, besides finding employment and keeping his family out of the bread line. But he was burning up our roads scattering germs, even a man died in Germany. What are the roads for? They were not wearing them out one-half as fast as the maintainers running up and down every fifteen minutes, stirring up a cloud of dust, grinding up the gravel.

Times must be picking up back there I see our editor is buying fish worms and is selling them at a profit. What gets me how he manages to get one hundred anglers to lay out straight while he counts them at ten cents per hundred.

The missus has just returned from a visit to the neighbors. John the small was apologizing for the shortcomings of his pet rabbit. Says we have to keep him in a box because he makes his toilet on the rug.

The "gadget" is a little machine that shows the difference between ordinary cord, used in other tires, and Super-twist cord, used in Goodyears. That difference is in the stretch and come-back—you can see how Super-twist cord stretches and comes back, how the cord in other tires loses its life and elasticity... It takes about 3 minutes to tell the story—but as this customer said—"If every car owner could see that demonstration, there wouldn't be anything used but Goodyear Tires."

North Loup News

Dean Wilton and Dale Willis are the names of the Hutchins' twin boys. Mother and babes are doing fine under the efficient care of their nurse, Miss Merle Davis.

Five North Loup young men who last week received a government call for reforestation work are awaiting a second call to appear for examination for such which will be given in Grand Island. They are Eugene Meyers, Nell Larkin, LaVern Stewart, Harry Edwards and Sydney Fuller.

The last community sale of the season is being held this Thursday afternoon at the sale pavilion.

Mrs. Martin Swanson, Albert Emma and Selma moved last week end to a farm near Greeley from which community they came here last spring.

Miss Vost with a carload of music students drove to Kearney Friday to participate in the state contest. Those ranking were Rex Bingham, excellent on 2nd place, Maxine Johnson, piano number, good, Virginia Moulton, contralto, good, Harold Currie, average.

The outstanding social event of the week is the Junior-Senior banquet which is being observed this evening in the basement of the S. D. B. church. Members of the Senior class are busy at practice on their play, "The Colonel's Maid" which will be presented next Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock. Following is the cast of characters: Col. Studd, Arthur Taylor; Bob Ruddy, his son, Arthur Bartz; Mrs. Carroll, sister-in-law of Col. Rudd, Katherine Chadwick; Julia, her daughter, Mary Ann Bartz; Ned Graydon, Julia's sweetheart, Donald VanHorn; Marjorie Byrd, daughter of the Col., Vester Peterson; Merton Barber, a lawyer, and a most prominent character, the Chinaman, Ching-a-Ling, Earl Cruzan. The play is a scream throughout.

Everett Manchester entertained his teacher, Eric Waltemade and a number of boy friends at dinner Friday evening honoring his fourteenth birthday. Of course Everett's mother was chief hostess.

Dinner guests in the Fred Bartz home Friday evening were Frank Johnson, Miss Sadie Crink and Miss Nellie Parker.

A. D. Moulton is North Loup's newly elected mayor taking the place of J. A. Barber who had served for several years.

Glen Johnson was re-elected by the new village board as water and street commissioner and marshal with a reduction in salary.

Newly elected officers of the Library board which met Monday evening are as follows: Pres., Mrs. W. J. Hemphill; Sec., Mrs. L. O. Green; Treas., Mrs. J. A. Barber. Miss Fannie McClellan of the NoLo club was appointed as the new member to fill the place left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Lillie Jones. The board accepted with profound regrets Mrs. Jones' resignation and a vote of appreciation was extended for her faithful services on the library board which place Mrs. Jones has filled since its organization in 1925.

Misses Crink and Peterson entertained the members of the young ladies Sunday school class at Miss Peterson's home Thursday evening, the affair being the last social occasion of its kind before the teachers will return to their various homes for the summer holidays. Miss Crink has sponsored this class as teacher for the past several months, her services being appreciated here as they have been in many other places besides the school room.

S. Downey, photographer who had been very busy here the past week autoed to Greeley Monday to continue his work. His wife came Saturday night from their home at O'Neill and was his guest at the Otto Bartz home until Monday morning.

The Women's Missionary society of the S. D. B. church held an all day meeting Tuesday at the parsonage.

The committee composing the welfare board which has served most faithfully in the past several months under the faithful leadership of Mrs. Chas. Barber dissolved business. They were given a hearty vote of thanks.

At the May meeting of the school board Miss Della Nass of Mira Valley was elected as Home Economics teacher. Miss Nass is a sister of Herman Nass who lives south of town. Among the many applicants for janitor Reeve Manchester was re-elected with a reduction in salary.

Mrs. Inez Hill was hostess Tuesday of last week to the NoLo club at the Hemphill home with Mrs. Hemphill assistant. The lesson "The Home" was conducted by Nina Johnson. Mrs. Marianne Whitford was a guest. The last meeting of the year will be held at the McClellan country home in the form of a picnic with a nature study lesson.

The fortnightly club convened at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hudson on Wednesday afternoon, with Mrs. Georgia Green as leader of a very interesting program on American music both vocal and instrumental. "My favorite opera" was given in response to roll call. A report was given by the club's representative to the convention at Loup City, Mrs. Myra Barber. The hostess, assisted by Florence Hudson and Muriel Bartz served a dainty luncheon.

C. G. Tenney had the misfortune Saturday evening to break a bone in his wrist while cranking his car. He has been suffering considerably with it.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Bryan and two children of San Diego, Calif., are visiting for a time at the home of the former's parents, the Ray Bryans of Dist. 42. They drove through.

Will Watson and Amel Haun of Lincoln spent Saturday and Sunday with Grover Barnhart's and Mrs. Charley Barnhart.

Mrs. Everett Wright who has been confined to her bed with heart trouble for the past several months is slightly improved.

Mrs. H. H. Speltz of Loup City was a Friday night guest of Mrs. Homer Rupert.

The Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the M. E. church met with Mrs. Winnie Bartz Thursday afternoon for their May lesson on "The Newer Patriotism", lead by Mrs. Mattie Sheldon. An interesting report of the district meeting at North Platte was given by the delegate, Mrs. W. H. Stephens. Ten members and four visitors were present.

Dist. 42 school, which is taught by Mrs. Dorothy Knapp, on April 26 won first place in the one-room school meet held here for the second successive year. Willis Bridge, Edith VanNess and Floyd Tenney were high point scorers. In appreciation of Mrs. Knapp's three years of successful teaching, patrons of Dist. 42 paid the school a surprise visit last Wednesday, giving a fine program and then serving a lovely lunch. The affair was planned by Mrs. Chas. Bridge and Mrs. C. G. Tenney.

JUST 46 POUNDS OF FAT GONE

Feels 20 Years Younger

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 150 to 110 lbs., my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger. A pinch a day, keeps the fat away." Mrs. Vale Walter, Seattle, Washington (Dec. 30, 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFE-LY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks cost but a trifle at any drugstore in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully satisfy you—money back.

Paramount legislative activities of last week were confined to the ABC bill of the session (appropriations, banking and beer, and county salaries). The conference committee of the House and Senate, which had been working for a week to bring the two bodies together on the general appropriations measure, brought in a report Thursday morning which was accepted in the Senate but did not pull a sufficient number of votes in the House for passage. As originally passed by the House, the appropriations bill carried $9,413,000, to be appropriated from new tax funds and $409,000 reappropriated. The Senate added nearly $900,000 to the bill and when it was passed by that body it carried $10,278,000 to be appropriated from new tax funds and $426,000 reappropriated. The first conference report split the difference between the two bodies almost in the middle and appropriated $9,853,000 from new tax funds and reappropriated $401,000. Friday morning the conference committee brought in its second report to the House which carried a net reduction of $7,000 over the previous report. The House passed the measure shortly before noon Friday carrying $9,846,000 from new tax funds and reappropriated $401,000. Sixty-six votes were cast in favor of the measure which was more than the three-fifths majority needed. There were some few items in the bill which were more than the Governor's original budget recommended. The appropriation measure, however, was approximately $400,000 short in total of the original Bryan budget. The Senate accepted the conference report later in the day so that the appropriation matter has definitely been disposed of.

Immediately talk was heard of adjournment Saturday night but many members pointed to the beer and banking matters as legislation which should be taken care of before adjournment and the county salary bill had been thrown back into conference just before the passage of the appropriation bill in the House. The beer bill which was passed by both houses and sent to the Governor early last week caused considerable speculation. The Governor had five days in which to sign, veto or allow the bill to become a law without his signature. In case of a veto there was talk of passing the bill over his veto. In case he did not sign the bill there would be little to do but go home and wait for the 90 day period to elapse before the state could become a market for the 3.2 brew. And in wet circles there is apprehension over activities of dry organizations which might bring about a referendum on the beer matter and render the law ineffective until it could be voted on by the people in the next general election.

The Governor's banking bill giving more flexibility and greater powers to the state banking department in banking matters was delayed for specific amendments in the House and indications were that the Senate could not possibly have an opportunity to consider it until early this week. The county salary bill as it passed the House sometime ago cut lower salaries approximately 20 percent while higher salaries were cut to even a greater extent. After a senate committee and the senate itself had worked over the bill for some time the senate made a flat 15 percent reduction. When the bill came back to the House last Friday for concurrence in this amendment it was rejected and placed in the hands of a conference committee and there was little indication that differences could be quickly ironed out. Two bills reducing interest on delinquent taxes and providing for semi-annual payment of taxes were definitely approved by both the House and Senate last week.

The House and Senate have both passed a bill to permit counties to vote on adoption of the county manager plan of government. Proponents of the plan believe it opens the way to greater economies in county government and point to the success of the plan as it has been used in certain cities in Nebraska. Alliance has been one of the outstanding successes with the plan. Efforts were made in the Senate to override the Governor's veto on two bills but the Senate voted to sustain the Governor. One of the bills was to permit the sale of a small tract of land to an individual in Cheyenne county while another was to reduce fees charged by the state agricultural department for inspection of scales, weights and measures.

On last Thursday the Nebraska legislature established a new record for lengthy sessions and at that time it was apparent that the session would extend through several more days. The House has put in 59 working days this session and the Senate 83. The legislature adjourned May 2 in 1933 and 1931. The Nebraska legislature in 1871 remained in session until June. Regular work, however, had been completed sometime previous, the members remaining to consider the impeachment of Governor Butler.

A bill redistricting Lancaster county and certain districts in Douglas county was passed by the Senate last week. There was much political talk in connection with this bill, republicans charging that the democrats were redistricting to facilitate the election of democratic senators and representatives while democrats countered with the argument that the republicans had arranged the districts for their own benefit years ago and that the democrats were righting the situation. A beer bill enabling Nebraska breweries to make 3.2 beer for sale in other states regardless of whether or not it may be sold in Nebraska was passed by the Senate last week.

The House and Senate both passed a bill repealing the law requiring a full crew of trainmen on trains in this state. It was argued that this bill would enable some branch lines to continue operating through the reduction in expenses made possible by the bill. The Senate tabled reports of special committees appointed early in the session to investigate the capitol commission and state highway department. The House and Senate both had the investigating fever early in the session but little has come of any of the investigations.

The House and Senate both approved a bill reducing mileage allowance of public employees to 5 cents a mile, with the exception of sheriffs who will receive 8 cents. Conference reports have been accepted by both houses on a bill facilitating abolishment of farm bureaus by submitting the same to a vote of the people, and limiting public employment of married couples.

The House passed a bill permitting the banking department to authorize banks to establish offices in communities without banks for receiving deposits and payment of checks. Depositors in failed state banks at Hampton, Henderson, Sutherland and St. Edward received $36,513 in dividends recently.

Nebraska consumed over 195 million gallons of gasoline in 1932, which is a decrease of 14.1 percent from 1931. Tax receipts amounted to $7,809,000 on the net gallons taxed in 1932. Total revenue from gasoline taxes and licenses for the sale of gasoline in the United States amounted to $514,000,000 in 1932, more than 14 billion gallons being taxed. Of the total national revenue, 301 millions went to state and county road bond payments, 16 millions to city streets and the balance to collection, administration costs and expenses other than highways.

The state treasurer has announced that the state's balances showed increases for the month of April. The current revenue fund increased from $2,172,384 to $2,307,724 and current trust funds increased from $460,451 to $510,424. The increases in the permanent trust fund was from $2,701,270 to $2,926,433.

The public debt of the United States increased three billion dollars in the last year. At the end of April the debt amounted to more than 21 billions compared to over 18 billions on the same date a year ago. During April the debt increased 78 million dollars. The deficit of the government for the last nine months totaled $1,585,625,598 as compared with $2,334,105,142 the previous year. Government duties decreased from 292 millions to 207 millions.

QUIZ FORUM

About Cow Testing. To the Editor of the Quiz: I would like to take a little space in your columns this week to discuss the cow testing work.

Now about the testing: Our year of Dairy Herd Improvement association work finishes the last day of this month and we start a new year June 1.

Testing costs are now very low, the tester charges only $2.50 per month for 10 cows and 10c per month for every cow over 10.

I will endeavor to give some of the advantages of belonging to the association and having your herd tested.

After 19 years of testing work we have several 500 pound or better cows in our herd and in spite of having several 2-year-olds and some dry cows, our whole herd averaged right at 400 pounds.

Times are getting better so everyone says but if the bossy cow is a help in hard times and drought, why neglect her in good times?

We have the best dairy country out of doors, abundance of alfalfa, always plenty of corn stalks for silage and usually plenty of corn.

If anyone is interested in this testing work, let me know or talk with the county agent.

We suggest a trip to our draining rack Say "YES" and let us drain and refill your crankcase with fresh Texaco Motor Oil.

Christian Science. The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ Scientist, for Sunday, May 14, is "Mortals and Immortals."

The Golden Text is from Galatians 4:7: "Thou art no more a servant, but a son; and if a son, then an heir of God through Christ."

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from Proverbs 9:10, 11: "The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; and the knowledge of the holy is understanding. For by me thy days shall be multiplied, and the years of thy life shall be increased."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Man is not a pendulum, swinging between evil and good; joy and sorrow, sickness and health, life and death. Life and its faculties are not measured by calendars. The eternal and immortal are the eternal likeness of their maker." (page 246).

Who Are The Winners?

In all walks of life the thrifty are the winners. Big earners and small alike, those who make a practice of saving part of the income, develop into the wealthy or well to do.

Again you'll find the people who make saving a habit are winners in other respects. They own their own homes and enjoy other comforts of life. They really know what true living is. Moreover, in later year when their earning power has waned, their savings go on working for them, assuring a comfortable old age.

Save systematically and bring financial success into your life.

HENRY KOELLING SUICIDE VICTIM FRIDAY EVENING

Well-to-do Ordite Takes Monoxide Gas, Dies; Had Brooded Over Ill Health for Months.

After months of brooding over ill health and fancied financial troubles, Henry Koelling of Ord died last Friday afternoon from the effects of monoxide gas, self-administered by means of a hose attached to the exhaust pipe of his car.

Mr. Koelling was last seen alive by his wife, who left their home in west Ord about 3:00 p. m. to attend the circus festivities going on in the business district.

About 6:45 o'clock Mrs. Koelling returned home and on the kitchen table found a brief note. It bore neither heading nor signature and said: "In the garage."

Running outside, Mrs. Koelling saw at once that the garage doors were closed and, hearing the automobile running inside, she knew what had happened as her husband had frequently threatened to commit suicide.

Glen Auble was first on the scene and opened the garage doors and shut off the car, then ran to summon Dr. C. W. Weekes, the family physician.

Slumped over in the rear seat of the car was Mr. Koelling. From the exhaust pipe a rubber hose led to a rear window and into the back seat.

Thinking that life might not be extinct, Mr. Parkins removed the body to the lawn and applied artificial respiration until Dr. Weekes arrived.

The case was unquestionably one of suicide and beyond a brief examination officers held no inquest. An effort was made to determine the time of death but the exact time could not be fixed.

The deceased had been in ill health ever since a bullet pierced his brain as the result of an accident while farming in Mira Valley fifteen years ago when Mr. Koelling accidentally shot himself in the head with a .22 calibre rifle.

Born in Rehme, Germany on Sept. 5, 1875, Henry Koelling came to the United States with his parents at the age of six.

Flined for Intoxication. Two young Ord men, Virgil L. Severson and Lee Grabowski, were arrested for intoxication Saturday night and in county court Monday pleaded guilty and were fined $15 and costs, each paying a total of $27.00.

Rotary Annus at Dinner. Wives of Ord Rotarians were entertained at dinner by their husbands Monday evening, the dinner being served at Thorne's Cafe.

Has Article Printed. Dr. George A. Parkins of Ord was honored last week when an article written by him was printed in the year book of the New York Society of Optometrists.

Roy Worden, who underwent an operation for the removal of his gall-bladder in the Ord Hospital last week, is said to be recovering, though his condition is still serious.

Forest Corps Go To G. I. For Examination

Ralph W. Norman, chairman of the committee appointed to select Valley county's quota for the Civilian Conservation Corps, has been notified by Wm. H. Smith, state tax commissioner, in charge of this relief work, that army surgeons will be sent to various sections of the state to conduct the preliminary physical examination of boys enrolled in the corps.

Transportation to Grand Island will be provided by the county board and boys who pass the examination will be furnished transportation from Grand Island to Fort Crook by the government.

North Loup Boy's Parole Revoked

Ralph Manchester Caught With Beer Saturday Night, Sent Back To Kearney Reform School.

Ralph Manchester, 19-year-old North Loup boy who has been at liberty two years on a parole from the state reform school at Kearney, was taken back to the penal institution Monday night.

Four years ago the North Loup boy was sent to the reform school for forging checks, petty larceny and other minor crimes.

For a time after his return home the boy behaved but lately has been in various scrapes which culminated in his arrest here Saturday night on a charge of peddling beer.

Young Manchester also was wanted at Burwell for forging the name of his brother, Clarence, on a check and also is alleged to have stolen tires from a car owned by another brother and sold them in Ord.

It is probable that he will be kept at the reform school until after his 21st birthday, now that his parole has been revoked.

Set Out Irish Junipers. For the past week W. M. Barnard, with several helpers, has been busy setting out 100 Irish junipers in the Ord cemetery.

Will Organize Chapter Isaac Walton League

Mrs. Mildred Spann of Atkinson, Nebraska, secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska division of the Isaac Walton League, was an Ord visitor for a short time yesterday morning, talking with local people interested in the organization of a chapter of the League in Ord.

Tomorrow evening at the high school auditorium the Ord high school graduating class will present their play, "Daddy Long Legs," a three-act comedy drama.

Senior Play Friday Eve. In the cast are Eldon Bender, Harold Williams, Gerald Keim, Donald Williamson, Billy Baird, Marjorie Ball, Thelma Palmatier, Helen Holden, Evelyn Smith, Irma Kokes, Viola Mae Flynn, Twila Brickner, Gwendolyn Hughes, Audrey Melia, Margaret Bonnet, Wilma Slavicek and Irene Osentowski.

To University Hospital. Miss Georgie Benson and Mrs. Clifford Kohl, both daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John Benson, Ord, were taken to University hospital at Omaha Monday by Archie Keep.

Notice. The Chamber of Commerce requests that any committee in connection with the Circus having any bills to be presented, will present same to the secretary, Glen Auble, and they will be allowed.

Claude Roe will leave Sunday for Fort Crook. He is a 2nd lieutenant in the reserve corps and has been called to report for a few weeks training.

ORD HIGH SENIORS ARE GUESTS ON TRIP TO ICELAND

Entertained by Juniors Wednesday Eve At Annual Banquet in Transformed Gymnasium.

Very gay and different Wednesday evening was the junior banquet given to the seniors who are graduating in the class of 1933.

The banquet tables were arranged to radiate from a common point, a la the aurora borealis, and white tapers decorated each table.

A most mysterious menu was written in the little booklets, containing such items as air hole, walrus, igloo, moss, snowberry, white bear, glacier, snowballs, illumination, borealis snowdrops.

Between courses, a clever little dance was given by Misses Anna Jensen, Dorothy Auble, Mary Beranek, and Norma Mae Snell, accompanied by Wilma Severson at the piano.

The banquet hall has never looked more attractive than it did for the banquet last evening, and a great deal of credit is due to Miss Mae Baird and the junior class as a whole.

Jack Tunnicliff made a noble showing for Ord when he won first in both the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes.

Mrs. Pearl Miller Passes Suddenly

Respected Old Woman Dies Thursday In Diabetic Coma; Had Been Ill Only One Day.

At about 9:30 p. m. last Thursday, May 11, Mrs. Pearl Miller passed away at her farm home north of Ord as the result of a diabetic coma.

Born May 6, 1881 in Kossuth, Ia., Pearl Elizabeth Conrod came to Ord with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Conrod and grew to womanhood here, being married on April 17, 1901 to Charles A. Miller.

The deceased had for several years been a member of the Christian Science Society and this society conducted the funeral services at Sowl's chapel Sunday afternoon.

Reserved seats for the Senior play "Daddy Long Legs" are on sale at Beranek's Drug store. The price is 35c for reserved seats, 25c for bleacher seats. Time: 8 o'clock, Friday May 19th. -8-1t

8th Grade Promotion Exercises May 23rd

At 2:30 p. m. next Tuesday, May 23, in the Methodist church at Ord the annual 8th grade promotion exercises of the country schools of Valley county will be held.

Will Open Grocery Store. C. D. Searson, of Council Bluffs, was in Ord last week end and made arrangements to rent Miss Sarah McLain's modern building and will open a modern grocery store.

PRICE OF HOGS 1c LB. HIGHER ON ORD MARKET

Light Hogs Quoted Yesterday At $4.25, Up 95c per Cwt. From Last Week's Market.

A startling gain in the value of hogs since last Wednesday has been registered in the Ord market.

A gain of almost $1 a hundred means that hogs now on Valley county farms are worth at least $100,000 more than they were a week ago.

Arcadia Wins Loup Valley Track Meet

After twice setting the day and having to postpone their track meet because of unfavorable weather, the Loup Valley High School association held its track meet Monday afternoon at 2:30 with very little previous notice.

Jack Tunnicliff made a noble showing for Ord when he won first in both the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes.

Arcadia won first place in the relay races in both the high school and grade school sections.

In the grade meet Ord placed first, Arcadia second and North Loup and Scotia third and fourth.

Officials for the high school meet were Coach Bailey of North Loup, general manager of the day, Superintendent Thompson of Arcadia, Clerk, Superintendent Bell of Ord, announcer, Coach Zorn of Burwell, official starter.

Tonight will be the close of the bridge tournament that has for several weeks been enjoyed by members of the Pythian Sisters.

JOSEPH MARESH FOUND DEAD IN PASTURE FRIDAY

Heart Attack Resulted Fatally To Respected Vinton Farmer; Funeral Monday.

Joseph Maresch, prominent farmer of the Vinton locality was found dead about 6:30 p. m. last Friday, May 12, in a pasture about one-fourth of a mile from his home.

At noon yesterday Ord livestock dealers were paying $4.25 per cwt. for good light hogs and $3.70 per cwt. for sows, the gain on each being just 95c per cwt. since last Wednesday.

Funeral services were held at the Ord Catholic church at 10 a. m. Monday in the presence of one of the largest gatherings that ever attended a funeral in Ord.

With only five cases set for trial, Valley county's spring jury term of district court will open next Monday at 10 a. m. with Judge Ralph R. Horth, of Grand Island, on the bench.

Mrs. Harry Johnson Stricken Sunday, Dies

North Loup, May 17.—(Special)—Funeral services were held at the Methodist church here this afternoon for Mrs. Harry Johnson, who passed away at 3:00 a. m. Monday, five hours after suffering a stroke of paralysis.

Fourteen months ago, while visiting at the home of a friend in Colorado, the deceased suffered a stroke of paralysis from which she recovered.

She had lived in this village only a few months, having become the bride of Mr. Johnson last November. She was formerly Mrs. Lutie Ditto and her only relative, a half-sister, lives in Kentucky.

Bryan Vetoes Slash In Salaries Of County Officers

Surprising and displeasing to most taxpayers was the veto by Governor Chas. W. Bryan Monday of House Bill No. 510, the bill passed by the legislature and provided for a reduction of 16 per cent in the salaries of county officers.

For two years taxpayers' organizations have been agitating a salary reduction bill. A majority of the 1933 house of representatives approved a 20 per cent reduction and only as a compromise measure was the reduction cut to 16 per cent.

Mrs. L. B. Fenner of Burwell was an Ord visitor, Saturday.

Largest Crowd in 10 Years Sees Free Entertainment; All Pleased With Show.

Five thousand people, the largest crowd congregated in Ord's business district in the past ten years, attended Ord's big business circus Saturday and that everybody in the crowd was having the time of his life.

The finest kind of cooperation prevailed between all of Ord's business interests and the result was the best community show that this city has ever sponsored.

The parade was headed by a group of horsemen, then came the Ord Municipal Band, and after the band came the various floats. On one float a group of Chinese musicians played oriental music, atop another a circus band performed, on another one a Hula dancer went through her antics.

Novelty floats—Flag Motor Company, first; Stoltz Variety Store, second. Commercial floats—L & L Tire and Battery Station, first; Ord Co-op Oil company, second. Comedy floats—Bucking auto owned by Murray Nelson, first; Brown Oil company, second.

Prizes had also been offered for the best decorated windows in two classes, novelty and comedy. In the novelty class first prize went to Chase's Toggery and second prize to the Andersen Grocery; in the comedy class McLain & Sorenson won first prize and Beranek's second.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska

H. D. LEGGETT . . . PUBLISHER
E. C. LEGGETT EDITOR

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1879.

DON'T WAIT TO BUY.

It is only human, during the course of a depression, to delay the purchase of needed articles as long as possible. Not only is hard-earned and none too plentiful cash thus conserved, but also there is always the possibility that prices may be further reduced by the time need for the article becomes imperative.

During the course of a boom period the reverse of this dictum is true. It is better, most people have found, to purchase in advance any articles that may be needed in future, lest they be more expensive later.

For almost three years people have delayed in making purchases. They did so because they were short of money, first, and secondly because prices were constantly being lowered.

There is no longer any reason for delaying. Money is worth more, will buy more, right now than it will when the administration's inflationary policies get well under way. Last week statistics proved that the cost of many staples had advanced from 40 to 65 per cent over the January and February low levels. Raw silk, for instance, had advanced 42 per cent; cotton, 66 per cent; wool, 62 per cent; leather, 14 per cent; rayon, 10 per cent. One Ord store has been selling an excellent grade of sheets for 98c per pair. Last week they supply of these sheets was sold out and a new shipment of the very same sheets arrived—but they must be sold at $1.19 per pair. Future shipments will be even higher in price, the store owner said. The same is true of almost all merchandise.

In all sincerity the Quiz says: "Buy now."

Anything you wait before purchasing will cost you more.

To make money go farther, buy now.

A NEWSLESS NEWSPAPER.

George C. Snow, publisher of the Chadron Journal, last week performed a signal service for the newspaper fraternity of Nebraska, the Alliance Times-Herald reports. Having grown weary of publishing a newspaper virtually without advertising, he issued last week's edition of the Journal as a "newsless newspaper." There were four solid pages of advertising and Publisher Snow sent a copy to every family in the Chadron trade territory.

What caused Mr. Snow to make such a change in the type of paper he issues? Well, for several years Chadron has been a very hot-bed of mimeograph sheets and store circulars. While the regular newspaper lost money on every issue because of lack of advertising, two or three solid advertising sheets were being issued there and several of the larger stores were getting out circulars weekly or monthly. Finally Snow tired of publishing a newspaper at his own expense, changed to a solid advertising newspaper and made money on his first such issue.

In the issue of the Journal printed last week there wasn't a church notice of any kind, not a club notice, not a story about community activities, not a death notice, nor an account of any public event. There was just no news of any kind—nothing went into the sheet that wasn't paid for.

Of course subscribers of the Journal will complain, as they paid $2.00 per year for a newspaper, not an advertising sheet. But they must realize that newspapers can't be sold for $2.00 per year without advertising support and that if advertisers want to patronize newsless sheets, a newspaper being printed with little or no advertising must charge a higher subscription price—possibly $10 or $15 per year.

Every community needs a good newspaper and as merchants awake to this fact the newsless sheets will naturally die out. As people of a community learn that they cannot have a newsy paper at a low price unless it is patronized by advertisers they are going to insist that advertisers patronize the home town newspaper and quit their mimeographed sheets and their store circulars. An object lesson such as Mr. Snow is giving may be needed and surely can be furnished in every town. Newspaper publishers should be grateful to the Chadron man for showing the way.

THE DRY'S DILEMMA.

Organized drys of Nebraska are in a quandary about whether or not they should invoke the referendum law to stop legal sale of beer in Nebraska. If the referendum is not invoked, 3.2 per cent beer will go on sale legally about August 9, 1933. By circulating petitions and securing 27,000 signatures—a comparatively simple matter—dry's could hold up legal sale of beer until after the general election of 1934.

On the surface the question seems an easy one to decide but here's the rub—if the sale of beer is stopped for almost two years, the "back-fire" is likely to sweep Nebraska into the out-and-out wet column and result in this state's ratifying repeal of the 18th amendment.

Right now there seems to be no doubt that Nebraska is a wet state, at least wet to the extent that a majority favors 3.2 beer. Nebraska's enforcement problem becomes more serious daily, with border counties in open revolt. It is no secret that 3.2 beer may be bought almost anywhere in the state now, if one is willing to pay for it. But Iowa, Missouri, Colorado and other states are getting the tax revenues from its sale—not Nebraska.

If organized drys are wise they will not try to referendum Nebraska's 3.2 beer bill. Conditions are changing rapidly and it is likely that, given a mild beer, people of this state may be willing to get along without a change in the 18th amendment. Nothing is more certain than that, if denied legal beer now, people who want it will in 1934, assure getting it legally in future by voting out all of Nebraska's prohibitory laws.

Something Different

A couple of large charity benefits in the form of bridge parties were recently given in Comstock, with many people from other towns attending. One party was held in the afternoon and the second that same evening.

Mrs. Orin Mutter, formerly of Ord but now living in Comstock, covered herself with glory by winning second high at both parties.

From the general happiness of bystanders, part-takers and visitors at Ord's business circus last week, I am sure this town holiday was just what the doctor ordered, and I have heard a number of people express themselves of the same conviction. Never was a jollier, gaytime had in these parts, nor more heartily enjoyed by one and all.

I am sorry we didn't hold that holiday a year ago, when the depression was worse and we needed a holiday even more than we did this year.

Roger Miller pulled a good one Sunday, but perhaps I shouldn't tell on him.

Stalking into the Bakery, Roger requested a penny's worth of candy. With his usual pleasantness, Spot inquired of Roger how come that penny didn't go in the Sunday school plate that morning?

Said Roger, "It would have, if I hadn't taken it out of the envelope and just put it in the envelope."

Carl Anderson, home from the west coast on a very brief, say 28 hour, visit, swears that Ord is much more attractive than it was a few years ago.

"Right from the edge of town we noticed the improvement," says Carl, "How much nicer the yards looked and how many more flowers and shrubs were growing, and how much better the places looked in general. . . . Oh, there's a great improvement in the past two or three years."

I was glad to soak up those kind words, on behalf of the former Yard and Garden Committee, which worked several seasons with the improvement and beautification of Ord in mind.

I was quite hurt because Mrs. Guy Burrows didn't wear her elegant get-up Saturday as well as Friday. With that bustle.

Did you see Leota Crosby's hoop-skirt? She was acting as Marlon Grace Cushing's mother. And Grace Pullen looked entirely lady-like. . . . ancient phrase now, isn't it? . . . in her sweet black outfit.

John Goddard's eyebrows and Joe Dworak's nose were frightening. . . don't you say so? I thought John was impersonating Simon Legree, but I hear he was "only" a ring-master of the circus.

Who were all those girls the clowns kissed? I didn't know. And who was heaving those eggs around? And who was that woman peddling snuff. . . nobody ever found out. Did the Lashmett hula dancer horrify you as it did some of the more delicate of the bystanders? And I didn't think Bert Boquet was so dern vicious as a wild man did you?

I'll bet Sophie McBeth hasn't been so exposed in a long time. Did Ernest Coats ever milk that Ford, I didn't see? In case you want to know, the blind man and his outfit took in a total of 47c by a hard afternoon's begging. In addition to finding out that Doc Blessing could play violin, we discovered Judge John Misko could also.

John, by the way, furnished his share of the entertainment, everyone says. Did you see Art Capron as a lady. . . umm!

I claim Kenneth Draper made a beautiful gal. . . but I guess he is disgusted with hearing about it. . . toward the end of the day he grunted in response to all compliments. Mrs. Bill Heuck worked two days making her husband's clown suit. . . and it took a bolt of cloth. The Farmer's Store crew outdid themselves dressing up.

Thelma Partridge proved so talented at shop-lifting that she even got a horse collar out of Will Misko's shop. She is thinking of going into the business. Molly had her neatly fitting suit made to order for the occasion, and made a fop-pish man, didn't she? Fred Coe's suit was the tightest thing in town those two days. And Ray Kocina was the most circus-looking nigger, what?

Jim Misko was scared to death the Kangaroo Patrol was going to nab him, but he wasn't alone. Many an over-dignified Ordite dressed up solely to avoid the same risk. Luella, when asked why she was so clean a painter, said she was one of So and So's painters. "they never work!" Buck Parkins fascinated me, with that big red hat, big pipe, georgette dress and what-not. And the Auble's looked too nice. . . did you see their mummy?

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

The Quiz has received an order for advertising to the extent of over twenty dollars, from a tobacco growers outfit in Kentucky. Nothing is said about ever paying for the advertising so the copy was filed and a letter written, advising the concern that it would be run in the paper upon receipt of the money. I figure we are out of the postage, stationery and time of writing. I am wondering how many Nebraska publishers will fall for the bunk.

We never had a nicer spring for getting shrubs and flowers started and I am sorry someone didn't sponsor a yard and garden contest again this year. The Quiz has done so for the past two years and great improvement is seen in Ord as a result of the efforts the managers of the contest. The work of the committee, responsible for putting the contest over, is considerable and it is really too much, to ask the same committee to do the work every year. It would have been nice, had the Chamber of Commerce seen fit to sponsor it this year. In my judgment, there is nothing that could be done, that would show greater results, this year and in the coming years, than such a contest.

Then there is the monthly flower show, which proved quite a success and very interesting, last year. It is really not too late, yet, to promote that again this year. Who will get behind such a movement. The Quiz will of course, be glad to help all it can.

Carl Anderson drove into Ord last Tuesday evening from Oregon, after an absence of five years and he said he was surprised at the great improvement he saw on every hand in Ord. I suppose we who are here all the time, and see the daily growth, don't notice the improvement like one who comes at intervals. Carl says Ord is one of the prettiest towns he has seen anywhere on his travels.

We may not get beer even in August, in Ord. If, as has been stated, the move can be blocked by a petition of 50 per cent of the voters at the last city election, asking the city council not to grant licenses, then it is likely we will have to go thirsty till the election in December 1934. No one knows what will happen then. There was a very small vote at the spring election this year and it won't be much of a trick to get half that number in this city to sign a petition against granting beer licenses.

I noticed by the Independent that our friend and former neighbor, Mrs. Adolph Fuss, won 1st in the tulip show in the Island last week. Many entries were made and the show was a hummer. The Fuss family moved to the Island from Mira Valley some years ago.

Prices of everything are steadily advancing, grains, stock and all kinds of securities. Yes, and the things we have to buy are also advancing. Notice comes that all kinds of paper are advancing in price. The goods the merchants handle in the stores are also advancing and people who buy from present stocks will make a substantial saving without a doubt. The daily papers tell every day of the factories that are being opened and the men that are being put to work. Mr. Carl Anderson, from Portland, Oregon, who was visiting in Ord, told me last week that he knew of four large sawmills that had been closed for a long time, just recently opened and giving employment to hundreds of men. He said business was showing great improvement in Portland. Men who are feeding cattle in Valley county, with prospects of only breaking even or of small profits, now expect to make a nice profit if they can hold off from shipping their stock a short time longer. Farm land is beginning to sell and inquiries are coming to Ord for houses and rooms to rent. I believe that in six months from now we will all know for sure that better times are here and that the depression is a thing of the past. Anyhow, it is high time to begin making plans for doing things.

I am sure everyone understands that the Quiz is now back on the $2 rate. I wrote about it for several weeks and everyone on the Quiz list except a couple of dozen, took advantage of the $1 price. I was glad to make the price $1 for it enabled many, who otherwise would have had to quit to keep on taking the paper. It was impossible, however, to keep on selling the Quiz for $1 and so, on May 6, as advertised, that low price ended and the rate is now and will continue to be $2. There are a few who should send in a couple of dollars to renew their subscriptions.

A good many years ago, when some of my family was ill, Mrs. Charley Urban assisted us with the house work. She was a good cook then and I have no doubt she is a better one now, for experience improves all of us. Anyhow, she always remembers that I am a good feeder and one day last week she brought me a sample of the splendid cheese she makes and to be sure that I had a full meal, she also brought along a couple of monster double yolks eggs. After a while, when catfishing gets good, I am going down the river fishing and shall make it a point to go up to the Urban house after a drink of water, just at the noon hour and of course if I am asked, I shall stay to dinner and this is not a hint, either.

I was disappointed when the daily papers said a few days ago that President Roosevelt was going to London to the big talkfest. Wilson made that mistake. I was glad, later, when the president denied the statement and said he had no intention of going. I believe he intends to stay right at home and direct us back to prosperity.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

When it is nearly time to eat and you have no dessert ready, and your meal lacks a little of being substantial enough, do you think about puddings as a suitable dish for completing your menu.

There are many kinds of puddings, and many of them are simple, easy and quick to make. Most puddings contain a good deal of nourishment, and oftentimes in a better form for children than is to be found in cake, pie, and other heavier desserts.

What puddings do you make? Send in your finest pudding recipe to be printed in the Quiz.

Chocolate Pudding.
Mix together one-half cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, one-half teaspoon cinnamon and one tablespoon cocoa with one half cup sweet milk, one cup flour, one cup raisins. Mix like cake. Separately, bring to a boil (in a baking pan) three cups water, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt. Then drop the batter by spoonfuls into the boiling syrup. Put in the oven and bake thirty minutes.

Growing potatoes under straw is an old practice that is profitable where straw can be obtained. During several droughty years, the only potatoes raised were on a few farms where the owners had the luck or foresight to cover their potatoes with straw. The mulched potatoes yielded less during wet seasons, but wet years come less frequently than dry ones in this country. Many farmers assure themselves of potatoes to eat by planting one patch that is mulched and one patch that is cultivated each spring.

Mulched potatoes will outyield the others three years out of five. In the past four years they have outyielded cultivated ones by from 5 to 60 percent, in a series of experiments being tried out over the state. The straw is put on just after the potatoes are out of the ground. It may also be put on at planting time. It should be from 2 to 4 inches in depth when settled.

Mulched potatoes are freer from disease, and therefore bring a premium on the market. They are in greater demand for both seed and table use. Mulching is the only way to produce good potato seed in the warmer sections of Nebraska. Soil remains 6 to 8 degrees cooler under straw, and this tends to hold back the various diseases. It has even been claimed that mulching will rejuvenate run down tubers.

Mulching keeps down weeds. Applying straw is less work than cultivating if the straw stack is conveniently located. The straw leaves soil in better condition for succeeding crops.

Straw has proven superior to paper mulch around potatoes and tomatoes. It produces higher yields, better quality vegetables, and is less expensive than the commercial product. It is not recommended for other vegetables.

Water in Place Of Meals Helps Stomach

Stomach trouble is often helped by skipping one meal. Drink lots of water. Add a spoonful of Adalrika each morning to clean out poisons in stomach and bowels. Ed F. Beranek, Druggist.

Elected Star Officers.

Marrried At Geranium.
On Tuesday, May 9, at St. Wenceslaus church at Geranium occurred the marriage of Miss Agnes L. Holoun, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. F. Holoun, to Lumire F. Ptacnik, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ptacnik. Rev. Father N. A. Thees of Sargent performed the ceremony in the presence of relatives of the contracting parties and a few friends. The bride wore a white satin gown trimmed with white lace and a white veil with a wreath of orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid, Miss Alice Holoun, was attractive in a gown of yellow crepe. The bride carried a bouquet of white roses.

After the ceremony, dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents and in the evening a large crowd chartered the happy couple at the Ord Bohemian hall, where dancing was enjoyed to music by Joe Lukesh's orchestra.

Mr. and Mrs. Ptacnik will live on the groom's farm nine miles west of Ord.

The New Deal

See us and let us explain this New Deal plan of writing your hail insurance. You pay, not cash, but a small percent of the estimated crop for the district you are in. If you will see us we will show you and explain the plan and you will be pleased. What you pay depends on the price per bushel of the crop insured, at harvest time or next fall. It costs you nothing to see us and learn all about it any-how.

A great thing has occurred amongst us. We have made a complete turn-around, and at last America's face is toward the future. Three years---1929 to 1932---we Americans looked backward. All our old financial and political machinery was geared to pull us out of the depression by the same door through which we entered. We thought it simply a case of going back the way we came. It failed. We now realize that the way out is forward---through it.

Thanks for that belongs to President Roosevelt. Inauguration Day he turned the Ship of State around. Having observed the failure of sincere efforts to haul us back the way we came, he designed a new method---new political and financial machinery---to pull us out the way we are going---forward. He is clearing international obstacles out of the way; he does not stand in awe of tariffs. The people begin to feel that he does not take advice from the "interests"; that he has courage and loyalty to work for one supreme interest only---the welfare of the American people. That is a big achievement for two months in office.

And now we all look to what is coming; we grow less and less concerned with what is behind. We are looking for a hand-hold on the haul rope. Every man wants to do what he can, and all he can.

The best thing I can do for the Country is to create industry by building good motor cars. If I knew anything better to do, I would do it. Industry must be my contribution. Motor cars must face ahead to the future, like everything else. They are so much a part of the Nation's daily life that if they lag behind they hold the Country back.

World War Poppies To Be Sold Here Made At Lincoln
Ord will observe "Poppy Day" this year on May 27, the Saturday before Memorial day. It has been announced by Mrs. Anna Lincoln, chairman of the poppy committee of Ord unit of the American Legion Auxiliary. The unit is making extensive preparations for the observance of the day and is hoping for the full co-operation of all other organizations and individuals. Memorial poppies, to be worn in honor of the World war dead, will be made available to everyone in the city by volunteer workers from the Auxiliary unit. Organization of the workers is going forward rapidly under Mrs. Lincoln's direction and the unit expects to have its "poppy girls" in all parts of the down town district throughout the day. The flowers for the sale have been ordered from the Veterans hospital at Lincoln where they have been made by disabled World war veterans. "Poppy Day is the day for personal tribute to the men who lost their lives in the country's service," Mrs. Lincoln explained. "It is a day when all can show that they still remember and honor the sacrifices made by those who defended America during the great war crisis and that they are carrying on for America in time of peace. The poppy is a patriotic symbol which means honor for the dead and service for the living. "No price will be asked for the American Legion Auxiliary poppies. The Auxiliary wants everyone to wear a poppy and to contribute for the flower according to his means. All contributions will be used for relief work among the disabled veterans and their families, the bulk of the money going to support the relief activities of our Auxiliary unit among needy families in this city."

DAHLIAS.
Are as easily grown as potato and now is the time to plant them. I have a fine assortment of colors. The bulbs have started to grow and will produce an abundance of blooms six to eight inches in diameter. Call for them soon. H. Capron, Ord.

When he was a boy of fourteen his father died and being the second child of a family of eight children and the oldest boy, much of the responsibility of the management of the farm devolved upon him. He bore this responsibility in a very creditable manner and what seemed to be a hardship in his youth proved a splendid training school for the young farmer and business man. He later conducted his own business affairs with honesty and success.

A highly esteemed resident of the Mira Valley community, Mr. Koelling was held in high esteem by all who knew him. On March 11, 1917 he was married to Emma Merkle of Huntley, Neb., and they made their home on the Mira Valley farm for a time, until the shooting accident that almost took his life. Then came trips to specialists in Omaha and Rochester and after a year of illness his health slowly recovered. Mr. and Mrs. Koelling then moved to Ord and he regained much of his former strength, though he was never entirely well. About eight months ago his health again failed and this time he was unable to improve so death Friday came to him as a release after long suffering with a mental condition that he was unable to overcome.

As an Ord citizen Mr. Koelling won the esteem of neighbors and a wide circle of friends. He was a lover of children, always delighted by their company and sharing their joys and sorrows as only a true friend could. Only a few hours before his death Friday he was seen playing with a group of neighborhood children on the front porch of his home.

When fifteen years old, the deceased united with the Evangelical church of Mira Valley and was always faithful in his attendance until his health failed. He was an active worker and financial supporter of the church of his choice. Besides his wife he leaves four sisters, Mrs. Henry Geweke, Mrs. Edward Lenz, Mrs. Edward Cook, all of Mira Valley; and Mrs. Irvin Shoemaker, of Scotia; and three brothers, Carl, Herman and William, all of Mira Valley.

Funeral services were held at the Ord Methodist church at 2 p. m. Monday, Rev. Mearl C. Smith of Ord and Rev. Noremberg of the Mira Valley Evangelical church officiating. Pall-bearers were Henry and Archie Geweke, Merrill, Harold and Melvin Koelling and Edwin Lenz, all nephews of the deceased. Music was furnished by a quartet composed of R. J. Stoltz, Glen Auble, Mrs. E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Mark Tolén, accompanied by Mrs. Glen Auble at the piano. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

Card of Thanks. We want to express our sincere appreciation to the Z. C. B. J. lodge and all others who sent flowers, to neighbors, friends and relatives for their sympathy and aid after the death of our beloved husband and father, and particularly to those who served dinner, Mrs. Verstraete, Mrs. Hunt, Mrs. Watson and Mrs. Vodehnal.

Mrs. Mary Maresh and children—Eastern Star will meet tomorrow evening. Mrs. Mark Tolén and committee will serve.

HOW SHE LOST 29 POUNDS IN 3 MONTHS

"I am using your Kruschen Salts to reduce and I've used a bottle and a half and dieted some and lost 29 pounds in 3 months. I feel so much better and intend to keep on taking the Salts as I was almost 50 pounds overweight." Mrs. Thelma Gravelly, Roseville, Calif. (Jan. 11, 1933).

To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spirited and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drugstore in the world but be sure and get Kruschen Salts the SAFE way to reduce wide hips, prominent front and double chin and again feel the joy of living—money back if dissatisfied after the first jar.

W. H. Holt, 100 years old, of Newport, R. I. is believed to be the oldest living Odd Fellow in the United States.

League Leaders Beaten By Ord

Greeley Team Errs Six Times While Ord Bunches Hits; Ord In Tie For Second Place Now.

Bunching hits while the Greeley team was making six errors, Ord defeated the Loup Valley baseball league leaders 10 to 2 in a game played on the Greeley diamond Sunday and, as a result of North Loup losing to Wobach, went into a tie for second place in the league. Greeley is still in first position.

Allen was on the mound for Ord Sunday and limited the Greeley swatters to four measly hits while his mates made but two bobbles. Kuklish and Wolf, with two safe hits each led the Ord assault.

Monday Mrs. Fred Hallock left for her home in Lincoln. She had come to Ord to have her tonsils removed by Dr. C. J. Miller. She was feeling much improved when she returned home. While here she stayed with her sister, Mrs. Jos. P. Barta and family, and her mother, Mrs. C. Fuson. Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield and children spent Sunday in the home of Mrs. Satterfield's mother, Mrs. Ward Moore in Taylor. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Shinn of Goodenow station and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Moon of Sargent. Mrs. Marion Cushing drove to Palmer last Wednesday to meet her husband, Repr. Cushing, who was returning home from Lincoln, the state legislature having adjourned. He had come that far by auto with an acquaintance. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Wegrzyn were Sunday evening dinner guests in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zukoski. Junior Matrons are meeting tomorrow afternoon with Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. Miss Esther Hansen of Omaha is here visiting. Her brother, Cecil Hansen is one of this year's graduates. Miss Hansen is a nurse in the Methodist hospital and expects to finish this year. Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark and son spent Sunday in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hohn. Otterbein Guild gave a Mother's Day entertainment Friday evening in the home of Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Spracklen. Charley Dalley, who is employed as U. P. agent in Denman, Nebr., is in Ord on account of the severe illness of his mother, Mrs. Pat Dalley. Mrs. Lizzie Knapp of North Loup spent Sunday in Ord with her mother, Mrs. M. Flynn. Cecil Knapp drove to Ord Monday after his mother. Donald and Charles Harmon of Elyria spent Friday and Saturday with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Harmon came after them Saturday evening. Mrs. C. J. Mortensen returned home Saturday from Oak Hill and Tampa, Florida. She was away for several weeks. Mr. Mortensen met her in Kansas City. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker went to North Loup and spent Mother's Day with the latter's people, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cummins. Mrs. Nell Peterson of Davis Creek was a dinner guest Monday in the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Alice Vincent. An eight pound daughter was born yesterday to Rev. and Mrs. Wm. Bahr of Mira Valley with Dr. Henry Norris in attendance. Mrs. Martha Mutter went to Burwell Saturday evening and spent Mother's Day with her daughter Mrs. W. C. Parsons and family. They brought Mrs. Mutter home Sunday evening. Ben Rose came from Burwell Sunday and Mrs. Rose and Robert accompanied him home. They had been spending a couple of days with Mrs. Rose's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams. Mr. and Mrs. Chris Petersen and eight children of Grand Island spent Mother's Day with Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Roe. When the Roe's returned home from church that morning the Petersens were all there. They had not forgotten to bring plenty of good eats. The children all enjoy eating as they are a healthy bunch and as it is a big family they did not expect Aunt Jessie Roe to be prepared for so many. They all had a fine time. The children spent two weeks last summer on the Roe farm. Mr. and Mrs. Roe also enjoyed having all of their children at home that day, Howard Roe, editor of the Scotta Register, Claude Roe and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roe and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson have a baby girl born Monday morning with Dr. C. W. Weekes in attendance. Monday Gilbert Gaylord and son Gary of Arcadia drove to Ord and spent a few hours with Mr. Gaylord's mother, Mrs. Henry Fales. H. O. A. club has postponed its meeting until the first Friday in June. Mr. and Mrs. George Finch left Monday with Mr. and Mrs. W. L. D. Aulsebrook for the Aulsebrook near Winner, S. D. The Finchs expected to be away for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Levi Chipps had several guests Sunday in their country home, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Boyce and family, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Petersen and family and Mr. and Mrs. John Lanham. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Sorensen and Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt spent Sunday afternoon with relatives in Elyria. On Mother's Day Mrs. Alice Vincent received a letter and some fine California fruit from a daughter Mrs. Jim Nay, Los Angeles, Calif. The Old Fashioned Dance club met Friday evening in the Ord opera house. An orchestra from Burwell furnished the music. Card of Thanks. We take this means of thanking all who extended sympathy and kindness during our recent bereavement at the loss of our mother and sister, Mrs. Pearl Miller. Donald Miller and family; Miss Olive Miller; Barton A. Miller; C. S. Coonrod and family; Mrs. Paul Ofield and family; Mrs. H. E. Ricks and family.

bers. So are yours. Yours have the stars and the sole. I haven't measured yours yet, because I want to give you a run for your money. "I've got this proposition to make: If you weren't the man in those rubbers, stay right here in Kampfest. If you're here tomorrow night at this time I'm coming in here and take your rubber off and measure it and if it's the same size as that worn by the man who tried to make pulp of me with saw logs, I'm going to make pulp of you with the only things I know how to fight with! . . . These!" He extended his hand, then turned and in an amazed silence made his way toward the door. Baxter hitched at his pants and turned, looking into the faces about him. But now he read there not the sniveling admiration of the admittedly inferior, not the apprehensive glances of men who feared him. He saw only contempt and rising smiles. He knew well enough what they were thinking; that at last he had encountered fear by finding a man who had no fear. He fell into a morose silence from which he roused now and again to mutter threats of what would happen if John so much as stuck his face inside that door tomorrow night. . . . But he was afraid, this Baxter; he was afraid, this Baxter; from his head, was goading; beyond waited a youth who dismissed his threat as casually as he would brush at a buzzing fly. And when the fly freight went through Kampfest at two the next morning a heavy man with a grain sack over his shoulder boarded the caboose. "Where you want to go, Jack?" the conductor asked. "Any place . . . Out of this dump!" Baxter growled.

CHAPTER X It was at noon the next day that McWethy, the mill foreman, hailed John as returned from dinner. "Got a new job for you," he said. "Barn boss. Ever run a barn before?" "Never." McWethy whittled off a chew of plug before he spoke again. "Well," he said dryly. "I guess you're barn boss, anyhow." He stared through the dusty window a moment and then turned troubled eyes on the boy. "You most got yours last night, son. I heard you lay out Baxter. He hauled between days, but . . . I got just this to say"—grimly—"Watch your step! Until lately I've figured I was workin' for a white man, but . . . things change, seem to. Or else wolves are slippin' off their sheepskins." "And you don't want to talk because you're just playing a hunch. That's fine, Mac. I'll watch my step!" That night a letter was waiting for John, postmarked Shoestring. Within was a single sheet of paper and written on it the words: "Meet me in the same place.—N. B." The sheriff was there before him, driving his team to keep them from cooling too rapidly. "News!" he whispered. "Here . . . Here's telegrams and a flash-light." John, spread the sheets on his knees and snapped on the beam. "Yeah. That come first!" Bradshaw muttered, leaning forward to see. John read: "North Star Lumber Co. subsidiary to Mid-West Forest Products stop Latter incorporated year ago in Michigan stop North Star statement excellent and carries comfortable cash balance locally." "Now when I got that," Nat said, "I telegraphed right down to Lansing. Read what they say!" "Mid-West Forest Products articles incorporated show Deman Hill pres. Paul Gorbelt vice pres. Agnes Hill secy. and treas." The paper shook in John's hand. "Now Hill," said Nat, "is Gorbelt's brother-in-law. This North Star company seems to be all in the family. What's the low-down, if it's any of my business?" John told, briefly, what Marie had told him, and the sheriff whistled. "Rimmin' your father all ways from the jack!! If he ain't a crook!" "Poor old Tom!" John muttered. "This'll hurt. If there has been anything he prided himself on, it was picking men. This is the first time I know of that he's gone away wrong. Findin' it out'll be like poison to him." "It looks son like you were doin' a whole lot to drain that poison out. What's happened here since you had your talk with this stenographer?" The boy related yesterday's happenings and his change of work, and the sheriff gumbled in a rage. "Do you think there's a chance Gorbelt might get scared and jump?" John asked. The sheriff pondered a moment. "Not much chance," he said. "He's got too much at stake to jump before he's sure trouble is on his heels. No . . . he won't jump." John itched to be at the bank records, to know what they might reveal, but he could make no move in that direction without exposing his entire hand. So he waited, performing his duties about the barn, spending his evenings in the recreation hall. It was Saturday night; another week was down. He was buying some necessary things when he met McWethy. "Say, Gorbelt phoned he'd bargained for another team to be delivered tonight or tomorrow," he said. "You'd gone when I come past the barn." "All right; there are empty stalls they can stand 'em in." "Watchin' your step?" "Every move!" And John grinned as the other twisted his head in grim approval. He went to sleep dreaming of Ellen Richards, and woke with an empty feeling . . . Hang on! he told himself. Hang on and keep going and you'll be able to show her how much of her trouble can be laid at old Tom's door! He was out at four o'clock, wading through new drifts towards the barn to feed and water. The barn was silent; no one was about. He opened the door and reached for the lantern that hung inside and lighted it. The warm smell of the stable was strong. He swung the lantern and looked to the left. "Hullo!" he muttered. A strange black horse was standing there, halter rope dangling, eyeing him with head up. Coal black, night black he was; a handsome creature, though the eye looked defiant. One of the new horses, delivered last night probably and insecurely tied. "Well, boy, enjoying liberty?" John asked, and slipping the lantern ball over one arm advanced, hand extended, to catch the rope. With a squeal that stopped John's heart, with his lip flickering over the long, yellow teeth, with a greenish glitter springing to life in his eyes, the animal rushed him. So quickly did it happen, so close the quarters, that John could not turn and run. To the left the outer wall blocked him, without niche or corner within reach to use as sanctuary. To the right stood other horses, and as the black squealed the one nearest danced and wrung his tail. All in a flash. In a split second John swayed backward, not daring to turn, and used the only weapon he had; the lantern. He swung it the full length of his arm and let it go full in the creature's face as he poised for the downward pitch that meant broken bones and torn flesh. The animal cried out as the lantern struck his nose. The glass broke with a crash and a tinkling; the light went out, John had a vague impression of the horses going side-ways, over against a stall partition as he quickly turned and fled. He did not go far. Feet thudded behind him. The killer squealed again, and as John caught a stanchion in one hand and swung himself in beside another horse the black thundered at his heels. "Whoa!" he cried, as the horse which gave him protection kicked! "Whoa you!" The tide horse kicked again and squealed and lunged forward as the black's teeth nipped his hip. John was up in the manger by then, trying to quiet the one horse as the outlaw backed away, stamping. He stood a bit shaky, stroking the snuffing muzzle in the darkness. "The black was standing there waiting for him, he thought, waiting like a surly bear might wait for his quarry to emerge, stamping now and again. The other horses were restless from the disturbance. John slipped through into the feed alley, found a pitchfork, walked along to the far end of the building and crawled through the hay window into a box-stall, used for sick horses when occasion demanded. He stood against the door which gave into the stall row, listening. Then, careful to make little sound, he slid it open. That done, he retreated to the feed alley again and moved along, trying to locate the strange horse. He found that the animal was now standing behind a vacant stall, head down, almost as though listening himself. Cautiously John crawled through to the manger, standing erect, dragging the fork with him. Then he stepped down and with a quick stroke, fork held before him, was in the litterway, confronting the black. "He could hear the savage teeth popping in the darkness, felt a forefoot strike out at the torturing fork. But the animal reluctantly gave ground. At the door of the box-stall John swung the fork sideways at the horse's head to turn him. The beast bit and struck. He made a stand, there, until John got the time point against the neck and shoved, and with a scream the black yielded, turned into the box-stall and thundered to a far corner. John had the door closed in a second, set the hasp in place and drew a deep breath. "Now . . . Something else to figure out!" he muttered. The first of the teamsters trailed in as daylight drove back the shadows. "Here, Tim; take a look at this pony, will you?" "My G—d!" the man said. "That's old DeForest's renegade! What's that horse doin' here?" John explained that the horse had been sold to Gorbelt and had been delivered after quitting time last night. "Gorbelt bought him?" he demanded. "Cripes, that horse's been in this country for five years and DeForest's the only man who walks who can get near him and come away whole. You mean Gorbelt was thinking of buyin' him?" John shrugged. "That's the way I took it. Where does this DeForest live?" "Three miles west and half a mile south." "I guess, so long as I'm running this barn, well try to do without him. What say?" "If you want me around here; or anybody else who knows that horse, you will! Why, it's a wonder he ain't killed a dozen men. And you handled him alone?" "Three miles west and half a mile south over sleigh roads, and an hour with DeForest; a long, haggling hour that got him nowhere. The horse-trader, shrewd, truculent, was a hard nut to crack and his sharp story of an attempt at a half sale of undesirable property seemed to hold water. As John went slowly back towards town he saw two people on skis a quarter of a mile away. He watched them for a time and made up his mind that it was Gorbelt with Marie. They seemed to be watching him, too, although because of the glare of an early March sun on the snow he could not be sure. On Monday morning he stood for the second time in Paul Gorbelt's office. The man turned on him a face that was lined now; hollows showed beneath eyes that roved a bit; eyes that had been so well controlled a fortnight before, so steady, so bland. But they would not obey the remnant of self-control that tried to direct the light in them this day. Uneasy eyes, they were, and the man's voice was slightly husked. "You sent word by Mac Saturday night that you'd bought a new team," John said. "Yes. DeForest came in and offered a bargain. I thought I'd let you have 'em tried out." "Well," dryly—"he just came in to take 'em back." "So soon? You . . . you tried them?" "One tried me. A horse was loose in the barn when I went in yesterday. He'd never been properly tied up." He spoke dispassionately and watched for change in the face before him; but Gorbelt held steady now. "Well . . . I don't . . . I don't get you. Did you send the team back because the man was careless on a detail?" "Don't stall, Gorbelt!" John cried, and the other straightened as color whipped into his face. "Don't stall another syllable. I'm here because good luck was with me!" Gorbelt shoved back his chair. "What's the idea?" he asked thickly, rising. "I don't like this, Belknap, whatever it may be!" "No, you don't like it!" Rage now, had young John; had his eyes and his voice and his gesture. "You tried to frame me with a man once and with a horse next. You—" "Frame you!" His voice was a snarl. "Have known for year, likely about DeForest's outlaw black. If you haven't, it's the one thing you haven't known about this country! Shut up, now and let me talk!" with a commanding gesture as Gorbelt swung around the corner of the desk. "I found him loose in the barn. He tried to get me and didn't. My teamsters all know him; every man-jack of them knew that no sane man would buy the horse." (Continued on Page 8).

State Capital News

After an unusual last minute rush of work in which a number of bills urged by the Bryan administration were passed, the legislature adjourned Tuesday night. Business came officially to a close in the Senate at a few minutes after 9 P. M. and in the House a short time later. Adjournment time had been set for 5 o'clock Monday but the almost impossible task that faced enrolling clerks to prepare bills for final passage and signatures forced the adjournment hour over until 12 Tuesday. Clocks in both houses were stopped at that time although the members of the two houses worked and recessed for nearly nine more hours until the gavel made their final bang. Although Nebraska's legislature proved itself considerably wet from the standpoint of passing the beer bill, which will be effective in August, and in passing two bills that will permit the people of the state to vote on national and state prohibition at the next election, it refused to go further. Early last week Senator McCarter of Bayard introduced a resolution in the senate setting forth the fact that 3.2 percent beer is a non-intoxicating beverage. The senators turned the resolution down, however, by a vote of 20 to 4. During the closing days of the session McCarter was unusually interested in beer matters due to the fact that the city of Scottsbluff had protested the three month's wait before legalized beer could be sold in Nebraska and had taken steps to put the beverage on sale late in May at the same time Wyoming's beer bill takes effect. Both houses passed a bill to immediately legalize the manufacture of 3.2 percent beer in Nebraska for sale in states where sale of beer is now legal. This made the fourth wet measure to pass both houses, the other measures being the bill which would legalize the sale of beer in Nebraska and to submit federal and state prohibition to the voters at the next general election. Much speculation had taken place on what the governor would do with the 3.2 beer bill. As many had supposed, however, he permitted the bill to become a law without his signature. On the other wet measures it was thought that he would follow the same procedure. Nebraska is outstanding among commonwealths of the United States as one of the few subdivisions that is in splendid financial condition. Nebraska has not had a deficit for a number of years and has no bonded indebtedness. Maryland and Mississippi are both in similar condition. Nebraska's biennial appropriation bill calling for 10 million dollars in round numbers from property taxes is considerably lower than in former years. Mississippi had added much new revenue from a 2 percent sales tax which has left the state government with an unusually big balance. Though Nebraska's legislative session was a record breaker for this particular state at the time of its adjournment there were 8 other state legislatures struggling with the problem of balancing the budget. Among the really important bills that were passed in the closing hours of the session was H. R. 511 county salary reduction bill. It had been tossed about in the legislative mill for weeks and at times had carried an intricate schedule of reductions ranging from 15 to 25 percent. After much difficulty, however, it was ironed out on a flat 16 percent reduction basis with cuts not to apply to salaries under about $1,200. One of the hard fought bills in the latter end of the session was the Governor's bill for reorganization of the banking department. When the bill was first considered in the House several amendments were made which were not acceptable to the Governor. The House then backed up and struck certain of those provisions. In the last hours of the session he offered a bill amending the banking measure disposed of by the House had fixed certain limitations on salaries and the Governor's amended bill was for removal of this limitation. There was much difficulty in disposing of the measure until finally the limitations were made on maximum salaries with special considerations under which the two chief deputies of the department could be raised considerably from their previous status. The republican minority which was responsible for the happy thought in connection with this hard fought amendment was helpful in putting the measure to final passage before adjournment. During the spare moments of the last two days just before adjournment of the legislature scores of flowery and even sentimental resolutions were read before both houses commending various officers, legislative groups and employees. To an outsider who is familiar with the blocs, cliques and personalities and their quarrels during the session this process of reading soothing resolutions was like applying putty to the scars and nail-holes in political coffins and monuments. A bill which had been killed early in the session was revived by Cushing, republican, of Ord in the House and was passed by both branches. It was to permit building and loan associations to borrow money from the federal home loan bank system. It had been opposed early in the session by building and loan companies themselves but their attitude changed late in the session paving the way for passage of the measure. One of the last minute measures sponsored by the Governor was a bill to postpone the delinquency date on 1932 taxes from May 1, 1933 to July 1. It was felt that this additional period of grace would give farmers, especially, an opportunity to hold their grain and products for high prices on the rising market. Attorneys in the senate received a shock that rallied to kill a measure which would have enabled laymen to direct pleadings and other legal functions in connection with probate cases. The general claims bill was forced into conference and was then finally passed by both houses. The senate struck out an old claim of Scotts Bluff county for state aid bridge construction of several years ago. The claim totaled approximately $60,000. Minor disagreements on the bill between the house and senate were ironed out. Bills in both the House and Senate having to do with the highway system and setting up a preferred list of state highways were not allowed to pass the two bodies. After much argument the House passed a bill recommended by the Governor to permit districts to be formed in certain parts of the state to take over the operation of branch line railroads under the direction of the state railway commission. Provision was made for taxation within districts formed under the law to make up possible losses. The particular case which the bill was designed to effect was in connection with a branch line railroad running from Wynot, Nebr., in the northeast corner, over into South Dakota. Some northeastern Nebraska citizens brought pressure to bear on their legislators to secure the bill. When the measure reached the Senate, however, it was rapidly killed. A total of 156 bills was passed by the session of the legislature which adjourned early last week. At the time of adjournment not quite two-thirds of the bills had been signed by the Governor. At the last regular session of the legislature two years ago 163 bills were passed and 8 more were passed at the special session a few months later, making a total of 171 that year. Representative W. H. O'Garra in a talk the last day of the session predicted that a special session might have to be called to enact new revenue measures. He suggested income or sales tax legislation as a solution of the revenue problem. A delegation of law enforcement officers from Dakota county visited the Governor on Tuesday, the last day of the legislative session, in connection with difficulties that had arisen in South St. Louis City. A score of people listed among the unemployed and destitute had walked into a chain grocery store the previous evening and helped themselves to several dollars worth of food. The delegation had in mind the necessity of calling on the national guard to handle the situation which was said to be backed by several hundred dependent people in that particular community. State Tax Commissioner Smith turned over the $200 balance in the drought relief fund to them for immediate relief of the situation and the delegation learned that a highway project and other work for unskilled labor would soon aid in giving employment and money to at least a part of the needy men. The state fair board managers at a meeting last Wednesday at the state capitol unanimously voted for a state fair to be held as usual this year. The exact dates are yet to be determined. The board is attempting to fit its budget to the appropriation granted by the recent legislature. Increased business in the livestock market has enabled the Omaha packing companies to add 600 men to their payrolls since the first of the year. Reports are that if present business conditions continue the number of men employed may be increased. The quarterly report of the Reconstruction Finance corporation discloses that 12,718 loans aggregating over two and one-half billion dollars have been authorized during the 14 months of its existence. Of the total amount of cash advanced, 413 million dollars have been repaid to the corporation. Nebraska was one of the seven states not asking for aid for state relief purposes. Taxes amounting to $135,725 on real property were paid by the Great Western Sugar company to Scotts Bluff county last week. Last November this company paid over $71,000 on personal property. In accordance with recent legislation enacted, the eight women prisoners at the state penitentiary were transferred last week to the reformatory at York. A total of $4,889 as dividends has been paid by the banking department to depositors in state banks at Sidney, Bloomfield, Syracuse and Ashland. The state purchasing agent recently awarded contracts to two rubber companies for pneumatic and solid tires for the use of all state departments for one year. The cost to the state last year was $5,800 for pneumatic tires and $4,100 for solid tires and it is estimated the price will be about the same for this year.

Appearance of Fishermen, Not Robins, Best Sign That Spring Is Here

Hardy robins may winter in Valley county but not even the hardest fisherman will practice his hobby when chilly blasts blow, so when fishermen begin to put in their appearance after months of winter it is a sure sign that spring is here.

Even before the vernal equinox, as scientists call the coming of spring, a few fishermen like Clarence Blessing and Theron Behrle, to say nothing of Joe Beran and Charlie Stichter, were becoming restless, but when the temperature got up to the 70's last Wednesday and Thursday fish poles were dragged out of the garage and spring officially arrived. Here are a few pictures taken around Hardenbrook Dam by the Quiz photographer. At the upper left, a young man is seeking minnow bait, probably hoping catfish as well as carp and suckers will be hungry. Below him John Beran holds up a fine trio of carp weighing about 3 lbs. each and caught at the dam. At upper right a Dworak boy and two young Sowers trudge toward the dam, bait cans in their hands and poles a-shoulder. At lower left Clate McGrew, with pipe alight and his pole settled comfortably over his knee, waits patiently for a bite. Where he is fishing a couple of fishermen caught 50 lbs. of carp a few days before. Clate has been told. And if Clate is the dean of dam fishermen (no pun intended) surely young Bobby Shunkweiler, at lower right, is the novice of the crowd at Hardenbrook Dam Thursday.

By Lillian Karty.

It was the twenty-third day of March. Two days before spring had officially begun. The thermometer had risen to the sweltering spring temperature of 80 degrees, and only a few hazy white clouds marred the otherwise perfect blue sky. "Just what is spring?" I mused to myself. Webster's dictionary gave me the answer. "Spring—a season of the year when plants begin to grow." I walked outdoors and sure enough, there in front of the Quiz office the grass was beginning to get green. In the ditch, a few weeds began to pop their heads out of the ground. Up in a tree, the incessant chirping of some bird arrested my attention. It was a robin. "Well," I thought, "Spring must be here." But I was still skeptical, so I decided to find out for myself. I soon found myself at the Hardenbrook Dam. And it was there that I made the astonishing discovery. "Spring is here!" For, seated around all sides of the dam, and on top of the railroad bridge was a large group of men... each holding a long stick to which a line was attached. The surest sign of spring... fishermen. Lady Luck seemed to be against the men that day. In plain English... the fish weren't biting. "Hash" McGrew said that the fish had started biting about four days ago. "How's luck today?" I asked three boys who were poised precariously on the cement edge of one of the canals. "Well," replied Kendall Wiegard, "we've got about fifteen fish altogether." All the men used worms for bait. Judging from the number of schoolboys bringing in fish, fishing must be the favorite spring sport. And here, my dear readers is a reliable tip... Whenever you see a man or a boy headed toward the river carrying his fishpole and a can of worms, "spring is here."

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Clarke-McNary Trees Shipped. Many farmers in Valley county were busy this week or will be within a few days planting trees received under the Clarke-McNary program.

Broadleaf varietals were shipped from Fremont beginning March 23 and ending March 27. Shipment of evergreen seedlings from the Nebraska National Forest at Halsey began March 28 and is scheduled to continue through March 31.

If you are among those planting trees this spring, here are suggestions from Clayton W. Watkins, senior extension forester at the Nebraska Agricultural college, that may help your trees survive and grow thrifty this year.

Trees are much more likely to live if they are unwrapped at once, and roots placed in a bucket of water or mud. They should be planted directly from the bucket, removing only one tree at a time.

In planting, the roots should be spread as much as possible, with moist dirt packed around them. The dirt should be tamped, since roots cannot start growth in loose soil. A couple gallons of water should be poured around each tree before the hole is filled and a slight depression should be left in which to collect water.

Buy From Nebraska Dealers. Valley county farmers are urged by R. C. Kinch, state seed analyst to buy seed for 1939 planting from reliable seedsmen located within Nebraska.

"Those who buy from mail order houses or other dealers outside of the state can secure very little or no protection under the Nebraska seed law," said Kinch.

"This is particularly important with hybrid corn, where a number of out-of-state dealers handle varieties, the adaptation of which is unknown. Farmers should always examine the tag which bears the analysis of the seed and if the seedsman cannot produce a statement of the analysis, the farmer should refuse to buy. Quality, and not price, should be the main factor in purchasing seeds."

Our Sister States. Valley county farmers are urged by the editor to reply: "We are not sure but we judge they are: Miss Ouri, Missus Ipp, Ida Ho, Mary Land, Callie Fornia, Allie Bama, Louisa Anna, Della Ware, and Minnie Sota.—The Palmerite.

Barn Has Narrow Escape on Bridge Place Thursday

A feed bunk filled with straw caught fire on the Charles Bridge place Thursday afternoon, and for a time it looked as though the big barn, shown in the background, would catch fire. If the barn had caught the fire might have spread to No. 42 school house across the road. The wind was from the south. Had it been from the west or northwest the barn would have been doomed. As it was Mr. Bridge sent for the North Loup fire department when the corner of the barn began to scorch.—Birmingham Photo.

Burwell News

Written by REV. W. L. GOODELL

The last meeting of the adult evening poultry school was held last Thursday evening in the high school auditorium. A pot luck supper was served at 8 o'clock and was enjoyed by a large crowd. During the meal the Burwell Woman's chorus under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Langstrom presented a musical program, Miss Evelyn Banks gave a humorous reading and Mrs. Langstrom led the group in the singing of several songs. Geo. West gave a discussion on "The Selecting and Judging of Show Birds." A poultry and egg show was held in connection with this last meeting and the judges were Henry Engle, vocational agricultural instructor of Sargent and Jim Corke, hatchery man of Sargent. There were 15 pens of chickens and 14 dozen eggs to be judged. Ribbons were provided by the F. P. A., and the Burwell business men furnished prizes. The F. P. A. committee in charge of the show was Gerald Quinn, Erwin Rhode, Calvin Conner and Delvin Conner. The State Department of Vocational Education, the local school board and the superintendent awarded 40 certificates to members of the evening school on the basis of regular attendance and satisfactory progress in Poultry Husbandry. These certificates were awarded by Jack Quinn, chairman of the committee. This school has proved to be such a success that it was voted to have another school of the same type next year. The attendance was good throughout the entire series of ten meetings, averaging about 75 per night. Owen Galbreath, 6 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Galbreath, who reside near Brewster, returned to his home Saturday after recovering from pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Ebel of Fairbault, Minn., who have been spending the winter in California stopped in Burwell last Friday on their way to their home in Minnesota and were guests until Tuesday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elvie Hansen and family. AMERICANS ALL, IMMIGRANTS ALL

About seven years after the close of the Civil war and about the time that the people of Missouri had heard about the war being over, the couple whose photo appears above immigrated into the North Loup valley and took a homestead on Skunk Creek. That was six months before the celebrated Freeman homestead was taken in Jefferson county, but they were so far from civilization that nobody heard about their claim until two years afterward.

They were a happy-go-lucky couple, as the above tintype proves, and made the most of their misfortunes, even if the head of the house had to have his picture taken barefooted. They arrived at the railroad station at Elyria in the spring of 1871, with their entire belongings tied up in a handkerchief, and spent practically all their money for filing fees on the land they homesteaded.

They had no farming animals and during the first year the husband dug up fourteen acres of the best land with a mattock and planted corn, having brought the seed with him in his coat pocket. They were blessed with a fair crop that first year, but the price was low, so he stored one thousand bushels in the elevator at Willow Springs, and kept the remaining 400 bushels to feed the stock.

During the first year they had no cow, so the wife managed to keep the family in butter and cheese by utilizing the juice from the milkweed plant, which grew in abundance in the canyons, on their claim. For meat they picked up the prairie chickens, which were killed by the dozen when they flew into the telegraph lines when flying across the valley.

Those prairie chickens were so thick that when a flock started to fly above their place they would sometimes darken the sun for hours, and the feathers they shed while in flight would cover the ground to a depth of several inches. They gathered up the feathers and carried them to Grand Island, where they were worth ten dollars per ton on the open market, and soon had a nice nest egg stored away against the time of need.

The summer of 1874 will always be remembered by them as the grasshopper year. That was the year when practically the entire crop was eaten and the settlers left without provisions for the winter. However this valiant couple were not to be defeated by mere insects. They read their Bible, and therein learned of the eating of locusts in Egypt. So they gathered up and dried twenty bushels of locusts, and had plenty to last thru the winter.

The winter of 1876 was really cold. Stormy weather started in early, and by Nov. 1 the flat in front of their house had been converted into a huge lake, and it was simply covered with ducks and geese. They would faint and have caught and eaten some of the birds but without firearms they were helpless for a time. Later old man winter came to their aid in a remarkable way.

About the first of December the cold weather struck, and it struck so suddenly that the ducks and geese had no chance to rise, and were all frozen into the ice. From then on when they wanted a duck dinner, all they had to do was to go out and chop out a cake of ice with a duck in it. They later filled their ice house with cakes of ice, each containing a duck or a goose.

The years have dealt kindly with this worthy couple, who still live on the claim they took when they first came to the valley. Each Christmas they have a feast and invite their children and all relatives in for the occasion. The cooking job is getting to be somewhat of a burden on the old lady, as there were two hundred present at the last dinner party.

Mildred Hrdy spent the week end at the Edw. Beran home. Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph John and Marjorie were Friday evening visitors in the Ed Waldmann home. Eugene Novotny spent Sunday afternoon with Marvin Rybin.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson and family spent Friday evening at Roy Nelson's. Callers at Frank Wadas' last week were Ign. Urbanski, Stanley Golka and Anton Weiniak.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Szwaneck, Melvin and Francis were Sunday evening visitors at Frank Baran's. Visitors at Joe Rutar's Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutar, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dobrowsky and daughter Karmon.

Casper Gregoroski spent from Friday evening to Sunday with the Tom Paprocki family. Tom Paprocki and James were Thursday evening callers at Anton Weiniak's.

Stanley Golka and sons were callers at Tom Paprocki's Sunday. They also called at Frank Baran's Sunday. Raymond Wadas visited school all day Wednesday.

Christian Science.
"Soul and Body" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, May 21.

The Golden Text is from Romans 12:1: "I beseech you therefore, brethren, by the mercies of God, that ye present your bodies a living sacrifice, holy, acceptable unto God, which is your reasonable service."
A Scriptural passage used in the lesson-sermon is from II Corinthians 6:14, 16: "Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness... And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are temple of the living God."

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, used in the lesson sermon, reads: "The material body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged." (page 302).

lial body and mind are temporal, but the real man is spiritual and eternal. The identity of the real man is not lost, but found through this explanation for the conscious infinitude of existence and of all identity is thereby discerned and remains unchanged." (page 302).

Awards were also made to business men who wore the most unique and funniest costumes. In the novelty class Glen Auble, in an elaborate Chinese costume, won first and L. W. Benjamin, who was garbed as a woman, was given second. For the funniest costume John Goddard, as a circus ringmaster, won first and James Gilbert, in a Scotch get-up, won second. As a novelty clown Ernie Lashmet, in a Spanish costume, won first and Thelma Partridge, dressed as a gypsy, won second while Bert Boquet, as Zoma the wild man, was adjudged the funniest clown and Bill Tunniffelt, who sold "the morning paper," was given second place.

Of most interest, besides the parades, was the kangaroo courtably presided over by Attorney John P. Misko throughout both days. Judge Misko had as helpers Carl Dale and Dale Norman as prosecuting attorneys, R. C. Ayres as defense attorney, Joe Dworak, Steve Carkoski, D. E. Troyer and occasional volunteers as sheriffs, and this group put on a continuous show that kept the crowd laughing constantly. Business men who failed to dress as circus men were hauled into court and sentenced to perform a variety of comical stunts. George Gard, for instance, had to wash the windows of the bakery with a toothbrush, Jerry Petska had to stand on a corner and eat three pounds of dried prunes; and other punishments too numerous to mention were meted out to offenders.

The rural school children's song-fest was a big feature of the Friday program. This event was arranged by Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, and 230 children took part, singing in unison from the court house steps with Glen Auble as leader and Miss Keo Auble as pianist. Had roads been better Friday the number taking part would undoubtedly have been larger.

Dozens of impromptu stunts, arranged by small groups and carried out on the spur of the moment, helped to entertain the crowd both days. And when there wasn't anything else to do, people could get enjoyment out of scrutinizing the horde of men and women in fancy dress and speculating as to their identities. There were dozens of clowns, about as many negroes, a hula dancer or two, many men dressed in women's clothing and vice versa, and the net result was ridiculously funny.

The key-note of both days was laughter and good will and the way Ord's bankers and other business men discarded their dignity and entered into the spirit of the occasion was very commendable. To F. C. Roggso, of Broken Bow, who originated the business circus idea and worked here for three weeks to put it over is due much of the credit for the affair's success. He was aided and abetted by a committee consisting of Preston Loomis, Freeman Haught and Bert Boquet, who put in an enormous amount of time and thought to see that everything went off well. Ord people and visitors alike joined to furnish entertainment, in fact one of the most enjoyable features Saturday was furnished by Greenwalt's orchestra from Arcadia, who came to Ord in negro costume and played on the streets for several hours, pleasing all who heard them.

Gully-jumpers, a pair of entertainers from the radio station at Clay Center, performed several times Saturday under the auspices of the Food Center, the Brown Oil company and the Megrue Oil company, furnishing another feature that was greatly enjoyed. Two dances were staged in town Friday evening and one Saturday evening and all were largely attended. Four local orchestras played for the dance at the Bohemian hall Friday night and a prize of $5 was awarded to Joe Puncocoar and his Merry Music Makers for being the best of the four.

Two thousand envelopes containing coupons good for free gifts were distributed on the two days and a goodly share of the crowd captured envelopes and got gifts at some Ord store. These gifts ranged from a cup of coffee to a pair of shoes and included almost everything sold in Ord.

The circus was successful in a business way as well as an entertainment feature, Ord stores reporting the biggest day's business Saturday that they have had in several months. Some idea of the size of the crowd may be gathered from the fact that the Ord creamery bought 7,600 pounds of butterfat Saturday, paying out over $1,600 for butterfat alone. Other produce dealers also report being very busy.

The whole circus was so successful that Ord people are almost unanimous in urging that it be made an annual spring event in this city.

The U. S. Army has a new "bat-tle car" which carries a crew of 3 soldiers, is armed with 2 machine guns and has a speed of a mile a minute.

Mother's Day Service.
Rev. Willard McCarthy again arranged for an unusual setting in the Christian church Sunday to emphasize his remarks about Mother's Day and in honor of the occasion. The sermon, tying in with the background, was thus made doubly effective.

Rev. Wantz of Mira Valley, an artist with colored chalks, drew a life-sized group representing a mother and her young son and daughter. In the foreground, this group were looking at a huge map of the world, done in pastel water colors by Rev. McCarthy. Dominating the map of the world was a big figure in blue chalks representing Christ, brooding over his people, showing that Christ may be found in any land. The mother, whose children were about to set forth into the world, was gazing at the big map, wondering whether her children would find Christ no matter what part of the world they explored.

Pretty vines were twined about the edge of the picture, and about the base of the map sat pots and vases full of roses, tulips, lilacs and many other flowers. The scene, with the sermon, was most effective, and a credit to those who created it, Rev. McCarthy and the ladies of his church and Rev. Wantz, creator of the figures.

Celebrate Golden Wedding.

At their home in Exeter recently Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Young, former Valley county residents, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage. In describing the event the Exeter newspaper says: "Once upon a time a son was born at Salem, N. C. This son was afterward known as J. B. Young. When he was about six months old he went with his parents to Cass county, Mo. In 1870 he moved to Allen county, Kas. Sometime later a daughter was born in Dallas City, Ill. She was later known as Miss Elizabeth Lambdin. This family also moved to Allen county, Kas., arriving there in 1872. As a result of these two moves the two young people, J. B. Young and Elizabeth Lambdin, were married Feb. 26, 1883. On leaving Kansas they moved to Valley county, Nebraska, then in 1911 to Fillmore county, settling on a farm near Burress and retired from farming in 1918, locating in Exeter where they since have lived."

On their golden anniversary the children of Mr. and Mrs. Young planned a surprise for them. The Billy Worrall and Clyde Barrett families and Albert Brown attended the funeral of Ray Gourley at Holdrege Sunday afternoon. Mr. Gourley, a resident of this community until ten years ago, passed away Thursday at the family home in Holdrege following a major operation a few weeks ago. He was chief of police at Holdrege. The deceased leaves his wife and one brother, Guy of Florida.

Mrs. Edith Bartz and other relatives received word last week end of the death of George Kettle, an old time resident of this community who died Wednesday, May 10 at his home in Santa Ana, Calif. His wife and two daughters, Esther and Mrs. Gertrude Cleary of that vicinity survive.

The S. D. B. congregation honored Mother's Day Saturday with special services at their church and on Sunday morning the Friends and Methodist churches commemorated the day in the same manner. The rostrums were decorated with lovely plants, but lowliest of all flowers at the Methodist church were the baskets of wild sweet peas which Mrs. Betty Manchester and her juniors gathered on a six mile jaunt Saturday afternoon. Every mother present received a tiny bouquet.

Rev. Orville Dillon of the Friends church rendered the baccalaureate address at the Methodist church Sunday evening, an address plainly spoken and to the point. Special music was furnished by the high school chorus and a young ladies trio.

Born Thursday to Mr. and Mrs. John Jenkins of Riverdale, a son, Doane Wesley, Dr. Royer of Scotia was in attendance. Riverdale school closed Tuesday with a picnic at the school house. Mr. and Mrs. John Schultz were guests of Burwell friends Sunday. The Walter Thorngate family were guests of Mrs. Thorngate's people, the George Sample's, honoring Mother's Day.

A fine home talent program was rendered last Thursday evening by Riverdale patrons.

The passing of Mrs. Mildred Finch Hoopengartner at her home in Lynwood, Calif., came as a shock to her friends here which community was her childhood home, and the family home after her marriage to Willis Hoopengartner, then of Central City. Mrs.

About twenty members of the Epworth League liked to the chalk hills Friday evening for a picnic lunch and social time in honor of the teachers of the North Loup school.

True to the annual custom the Juniors of the North Loup high school, with their mothers as hostesses banqueted the Seniors last Thursday evening, the affair taking place in the basement of the S. D. B. church which was beautifully decorated in Japanese style. Surrounding the pretty tables glistening with silver and cut glass with centerpieces of Japanese design at which sixty-five plates were laid, was a Japanese court of lattice work, the Junior-Senior colors of pink and gold and green and white forming the color scheme with a crayon drawing of Mt. Fuji in the distance. Above, lights gleamed through Japanese coverings and Japanese parasols fastened in pairs with gold chrysanthemums hung about the court. The banquet in general was sponsored by coach W. D. Bailey who with Mrs. Bailey devoted much time and labor to its success and to whom was due much of the originality manifested in the tiny favors depicting hand-painted Japanese personages under tiny colored parasols. Also the menu and toasts printed on painted cut-outs representing Japanese houses. The Midnight Frolics orchestra furnished music during the three course dinner. With Ervin VanHorn acting as toastmaster the following toasts were given: address of welcome, Maxine Johnson; Response, Ben VanHorn; using the word Fuji, Lewis Hamer spoke on "Fairness"; "Joyfulness"; Lorna May Shiner; "Individualism"; Richard Preston; "Youth"; Beth Barber; "Adventure"; Vesta Peterson; "Moral"; Miss Yost; "Inspiration"; Merlyn Babcock. At the close those so desiring accompanied the orchestra to the Legion Hall where dancing was in order. Friday morning the entire group returned to the same quarters where they did justice to a delicious breakfast sponsored by the Seniors with their mothers as chief cooks. Ows mounted on cards very cleverly designed from pine cones by Miss Mary Frances Manchester served as favors and place cards.

Miss Sadie Crink received a telegram from her brother's home near Fremont very early Monday morning stating her brother, Arthur Crink passed away suddenly at three a. m. Mr. Crink had been very low two months ago with sinus and heart trouble but apparently had regained his usual health so that the news came as a shock to Miss Crink who with Mrs. Mayme Goodrich departed via auto Monday morning for the Crink home two miles west of Fremont. Mrs. Goodrich will visit in Omaha and will return here with Miss Crink following the funeral. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Rusmisset and Mildred called on friends here Sunday evening enroute to their home at Palmer after a visit with Ord friends over Saturday night and Sunday.

Mrs. Louise London of Greeley Center who had been visiting relatives and friends at Scotia, her former home was a guest of the Fred Bartz family Monday night and of Mrs. Lillie Jones at dinner Tuesday.

Mrs. Bertha Elsie and daughters Grace and Lucille entertained at dinner Tuesday evening for Mr. Waltemade, Miss Peterson and Miss Opal Post.

By Harold Titus W.N.U. SERVICE

"I called on DeForest. You'd schooled him well, Gorbel. You'd probably schooled Baxter well, too, but I didn't bother trying to break him down!"

"Man, you're crazy! DeForest? An outlaw horse? Baxter? What the devil are you driving at?"

The rigidity went from John Belknap's posture and he laughed helplessly. "You're good!" he said. "You're good, you good! Why don't you try to fight like a man. You've guts enough to try murder, why don't you try it in the open? Why won't you let—"

"Look here! I'm d—d if I'll let any added kid talk to me like this! I'm d—d if— Murder? Fight? Somebody trying to harm you and you're trying to hand the blame on me? That it? Now why in the name of heaven should I want to harm you?"

A quick warning flickered through John's anger. Roused as he was, Gorbel's craft had not deserted him. Frying, he was now, using the fertile field of high rage, when bars of caution are down, to discover what and how much John Belknap knew, and the boy drove back his temper and his contempt, striving to match cunning with cunning.

"I haven't the slightest idea," he said. "Not an idea to my back! But you don't want me here; you're trying to drive me out."

He thought a shadow of relief appeared in that face before him. Gorbel let out a short breath of disgust. "Drive you out!" he muttered, as though such an idea were the depth of absurdity. "Why, I haven't even remembered you were around the job a dozen times since you came in. But if you're not drunk, you're insane and there's room here for neither booze fighter nor madmen!"

"I'm fired, then?" "Right now!" John shrugged. "Your privilege," he said.

"And you'll get out of the company boarding house today!" "And out of Kampfest, too!" "Steady, neighbor!" John's rage was passing; he was noting the anxiety in the other's tone now, as of one who presses rashly into a welcome opening. "Little too far, that. I'm staying in town, Gorbel. Things have been quiet in Shoestring since I came here. That was my principal reason in coming in person, please!"

He went out without another word, closing the door firmly, and Paul Gorbel, standing there, eyes on the door, let a hand lift slowly to his chin, fingers fumbling with the flesh there.

He stood so for a long interval. Then swiftly, a bit unsteadily, he crossed the room and locked the door.

Fear was riding the man now, fear and desperation. Not fear of the possibility that John Belknap might be able to prove a case against him through either Baxter or DeForest.

Another fear gnawed at him, had been grinding him for days, and something about John Belknap's attitude made him feel that the lad was not thinking wholly of his own safety. He had had the manner of one who knows more than he tells, of one who is waiting, with all confidence, for a tremendous moment.

For years Paul Gorbel's conscience had not troubled him; he had taken what he could take, by fair means or foul, escaping detection but piling up in his own heart a cumulative burden of fear. He had not admitted that fear even to himself until lately, and then, like a festering wound, it had commenced to let him keep his mind on his affairs during daylight; it would not let him sleep.

Other nights he had thought that pounding in his ear was the heavy beating of his heart; last night it had been like the fall of collective feet. . . . thudding in awkward measure as men marched in lock-step; . . . Last night . . . and young Belknap knew more than he had said.

He halted in mid-room and looked about like one trapped. Then he went to his desk, opened a locked drawer, and slipped the pistol that lay there into his pocket. After a time he unlocked the door and went through the motions of functioning as a managing partner.

And over in Shoestring Ellen Richards was going through the motions of performing her daily tasks.

Evidence of strain was heavy upon her, a different sort of strain than that which had racked her when the man she now knew to be John Belknap came to her employ. Matters had eased in the woods; the Belknap and Gorbel operation on her railroad had slowed down on log production; her transportation facilities had been able to take care of both jobs handily; a reserve of logs was growing in her year; the dark clouds which had hovered over her business affairs were seeming to lift.

But things had happened to her which robbed this turn of events of any joy; things which wakened her from sound sleep with heart racing, with a feeling of having called out in her dreams appealingly to the man who came into her life and gone out of it again, leaving her job in order but life in chaos.

During waking hours she knew that she thought of John Belknap only with contempt, but at night, as she slept, he came to her in dreams, laughter mingling with the determination in his eyes, and she lived again those moments in the office at camp when she yielded impulsively to his arms, when she raised her face hungrily for his lips . . .

Sweet, the dreams were! But she shuddered on waking. To surrender her heart to a man who had deceived her, who had sworn allegiance only to undermine her worldly possessions, was unthinkable. And yet that heart remained untractable. Her mind persuaded, argued, badgered, even stormed, in certain moments, but when the mind dropped into deep rest that heart went its forbidden way.

Yesterday the woman who kept her house had declared her ill. This morning the old bookkeeper had eyed her over the rims of his spectacles and said one word: "Peaked."

"Something, you're coming down with something," he declared. "Sakes, but you do look peaked! You better go home and rest."

"Home? To lie there in the room where she dreamed tenderly at night of a man who was her worst enemy? Home? To live again and again those moments which once had been sweet but which now, even in memory, whipped the heat of humiliation to her cheeks?"

Not home! A girl can't stay in the theatre of heart-break when her nerves are rubbed raw and drawn singing tight, can she? "Tell the barn to hitch up the drivers," she said. "I'll have them take me out towards the Mad Woman. A day or two at Wolf's is what I need, I guess."

A mad day for Paul Gorbel was dawdling to its close, with light snow falling outside. He had changed to woods clothing at noon, intending to drive to one of the camps. But fear held him in town, that fear which grew with the hours.

A cruiser came in, dropping his pack in the hallway. He had been to the northward for a fortnight, and Gorbel appeared to listen while the man made a brief report of his activity and his findings.

"Didn't expect you back so soon," Paul said. "Nor would I've made it but for findin' old man Richards' cabin empty. Run on to him headed east with his outfit after wolves that are raiding the Caribou deer yard. I knew he'd camp over there until he'd got the wolves or used up all his tricks, so I moved my stuff down into his camp. It was closer to those descriptions, you see. I didn't have to spend most of my time goin' from camp to timber."

The mill whistle blew then; in the back office chairs scraped and feet sounded. "Another day," Gorbel said. "Come in tomorrow and we'll go over this matter again."

The woodsman left. Soon afterward a team pulled to a halt before the office, and the big man on the seat of the light sleigh kicked robs from about his feet and rose. Inside Gorbel strained forward, tense, waiting.

"Come in!" he said unsteadily. The knob turned and Nat Bradshaw's big bulk showed in the gloom. "Oh!" he said. "You, Gorbel?" "Hullo!" Gorbel said, fighting for his self-control. "Hullo, Nat! Just leaving . . ."

The sheriff did not advance, but stood there, saying nothing, sliding his hands into his pants pockets, feet spread, back against that door . . . an ominous blocking figure. "Then I'm just in time," he said dryly. "I've come for you, Gorbel!"

"Yeah. You . . . finally!"—the word fell heavily. "No trap nafted of the fabrics of guilt imaginings was closing on Paul Gorbel. This was real. "Why . . . why, what the devil are you driving at?" he demanded, rallying a show of bluster.

"Turn on your light and I'll read why." Light! Light, with the sheriff standing there against the door, suspicious, ready for any emergency? "They're burned out, he lied. "Fuse blew just before you drove up . . . What do you mean you'll read why?"

"I've got a warrant for you, Gorbel," the sheriff said slowly. "It's for arson." He paused. "Arson!" Gorbel's voice crackled. "Yeah. Ain't a pleasant word, is it? Ain't a pleasant crime, neither. Bad as murder, Gorbel. You overstepped yourself in your story. The university says the lad you put in the way of being killed hadn't been drinking for long . . . Put on your hat and coat; we've got a drive to make."

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, MAY 25, 1933.

VOL. 52 NO. 9

131 GRADUATES OF 8TH GRADES GIVEN DIPLOMAS

Promotion Exercises Are Held Here Tuesday; Floyd Tenney Had Highest Average, 94.

One hundred and thirty-one happy, healthy examples of Valley county's most valuable crop—future citizens—were assembled in the Ord Methodist church Tuesday afternoon. The 131 were eighth grade graduates of Valley county's rural schools and they were assembled to receive diplomas from the hand of Miss Clara M. McClatchey, county superintendent of schools.

In the group was Floyd Tenney, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Tenney of District 42, who had the highest general average of any eighth grade student in the county this year. His average in all subjects for the year was 95 and was honored by being given a diploma embellished with gold seal. All students whose general average was over 90 received this seal but there were only eight of them. Others were Willard Cushing, Loraine Duda and Alma Polak, whose average was 92, Wilma Krikac, Lillian Moravec and Alice Matherhouse, whose average was 91, and Erma Novotny, whose average was 90.

Students whose general average was between 85 and 89 were given diplomas with green seals attached. There were thirty-five in this group. The remainder of the 131 graduates passed with averages above 75 but below 85 and they received diplomas without seals.

Glen I. Anderson, a former superintendent of schools in Wheeler county, gave the principal address Tuesday afternoon. Mr. Anderson is an accomplished chalk talk artist and illustrated his remarks with clever cartoons as he progressed.

Other numbers on the program included a vocal solo by Margaret Petty, piano solos by Wilma Sevrens and Audrey Koll, and the singing of "My Nebraska" by the entire group of graduates. Miss Keo Auble played a march as the group assembled in the church auditorium. The invocation and benediction were pronounced by Rev. Willard McCarthy of the Ord Christian church.

Students who were given diplomas Tuesday afternoon were: Ernest Augustyn, Bessie Abelson, Lela Axthelm, Evelyn Adamek, Robert Ackles, Gladys Boyce, Richard Burrows, Florian Bonkiewicz, Musa Benson, Milo Bresley, Willis Bridge, Frank Blaly, Vernon Beran, Franklin Bremer, Frances Bremer, Mary Collins, Ruth Clement, Frank Cernik, Helen Cruikshank, Willard Cushing, William Cadek, Blanche Chittock, Ruth Cook, Esther Dugosh, Leonard Dugosh, Doris Dalby, Frank Dasher, Blanche Dorsey, Loraine Duda, John Lee Deamont, Merle DeLong, Irene Dworak, Chester Dubas, Margaret Elliott, Melvyn Ferris, Elizabeth Flynn, Dean Fuss, Elnor Greenwalt, Esther Greenwalt, Edmund Gray, Evelyn Howell, Joseph Hubby, Russell Hackett, Lillie Hrebec, Marie Hrebec, Louise Hulinisky, Rose Hrebec, Lorene Hunt, Ada Holsington, Robert Jacobs, Ella John, Verna Jones, Gerald Jones, Maxine Jablonski, George Jefferies, Pearl Kapustka, Elnora Kusek, Wilma Krikac, Leo Kapustka, Raymond Kerchal, Delivan Kingston, Joseph Kovarik, Edward Knapp, Lila Koelling, Magdaline Konkoleski, Edward Knebel, Leonard Klanecky, Johnnie Kuehl, Josephine Lutz, Rosemary Lutz, Helen Lybarger, Ava Leach, Richard McCull, Gertrude Moore, Eva Mulligan, Fred Murray, Clara Mica, Mildred McGee, Fred Mella, Yvonne Mlakowski, Lillian Moravec, Alice Matherhouse, Leslie Mares, Alice Nevriy, Erma Novotny, Avona Nolde, Elsie Nelson, Wilbur Nielsen, Bessie Novak, Venice Naprstek, Marjorie Nauenburg, Leonard Otto, Laverne Pierson, Edith Ptacnik, Vencil Ptacnik, Angeline Paprocki, Willie Ptacnik, George Paldar, Eddie Paldar, Alma Polak, Lester Peterson, Downing Rounds, Morris Rathburn, Paul Rysavy, Frank Rybin, Joyce Sheperd, Harry Stobbe, Bessie Svoboda, Leonard Sobon, Albert Simons, Mildred Smith, Elizabeth Smith, Helen Silver, Evelyn Skala, Francis Simons, Earl Taylor, Verl Timmerman, Floyd Tenney, John Turjek, Lucille Ulich, Johnnie Valasek, Elsie Wiberg, Doris Walbrecht, Agnes Wadas, Alice Wolczechoski, Ina Warford, Helen Warford, Udell Williams, Dwan White, Elizabeth Walahoski, Elsie Zlomke.

Wounded Pelican Goes On Hunger Strike, Dies

Arcadia, May 23.—(Special)—Unlike Mahatma Gandhi, who has gone for three weeks without eating, the pelican can live only a few days when he doesn't take his meals regularly. This is the latest scientific discovery of Arnold Tuning, coach of athletics and science instructor in the high school here.

Last week Coach Tuning captured a pelican on the river near here. The bird had a mangled wing, probably from being shot. Pelicans are rare in this section of the country and it attracted quite a bit of attention. But the bird refused to eat unless fed forcibly and lived only a few days.

SENIOR PLAY IS WELL RECEIVED BY LARGE CROWD

Old Favorite, 'Daddy Long Legs' Was Presented Friday Evening By Class Of 1933.

One of the prettiest and best liked senior plays ever presented here was "Daddy Long Legs", given Friday night before a large audience at the high school auditorium by a cast chosen from members of the 1933 graduating class. Leads were played by Miss Theima Palmater and Eldon Benda, and the two young people were brilliantly successful in their roles, interpreting them with fine feeling and to the great delight of the audience.

There were a number of other parts, and all of them seemed to be unusually well presented, and well cast. Included in this group were Audrey Mella, Gwendolyn Hughes, Margaret Bonne, Wilma Slavicek, Irene Osewowski and Donald Williamson as orphans, also Tom Twila Brickner, Gerald Kelm, Marjorie Ball, Evelyn Smith, Irma Kokes, Viola Mae Flynn, Halten Pierce, Helen Holden, Walter Brown. It would be difficult to choose which of these performers was best.

The play, a sweet story of a little orphan who falls in love with her benefactor, is an old favorite and was received enthusiastically. Miss Laverne Hans was responsible for the fine coaching evident. Three changes of scene were used, the furniture being furnished through the courtesy of the Farmers Grain and Supply company to provide the college set, the living room background and the country home scene. The opening scene with all the little orphans in blue checked gingham was especially effective.

Specialties between the acts were a novelty duet by Catherine Ollis and Harold Koelling, "Sparkling Peggy Jane", and a pirate dance clever and cunning, done by Gwendolyn Hughes and Audrey Mella. Roland Tedro accompanied at the piano for both numbers.

Miss Elizabeth Shaver, senior sponsor, reports approximately $108 taken in, practically every penny of which will be taken up by play expenses, and cap and gown fees. Cap and gown rental is about $1.75 per student, and there are 87 graduates this year.

Memorial Services At Christian Church

Protestant churches of Ord are holding union Memorial services at the Christian church Sunday evening and the public is cordially invited to attend. All of the Ord pastors will have a part in the program, and the congregation will sing several patriotic numbers. Miss Dorothy Campbell will give a reading and James Aagaard will sing two special selections. The service promises to be very interesting.

Has Hand Badly Mangled. While helping to pull a pump on the farm of John Hornick last Wednesday, Fred Cohen of Ord got one hand caught in the pump "dog" and had it badly mangled. Fourteen stitches were required to close the various wounds and Fred will be carrying his hand in a sling for some time to come.

Mrs. Mary Garbitz, Oldest Resident Of Elyria, Dies Sunday

Mrs. Mary Garbitz, 93 years old and the oldest resident of Elyria so far as is known, passed away at her home there Sunday. She had been ill but a short time. Funeral services were held Tuesday morning in the Elyria Catholic church with Father Murray of Burwell in charge and interment was in the Elyria cemetery.

—Alice, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Johnson, was three years old Sunday. The day was celebrated in the Johnson country home. There were several guests, among them Mr. and Mrs. Jens Hansen and young people of Ord.

FARM HOLIDAY OFFICERS WERE ORD VISITORS

Harry Lux And Others Had Planned Meeting Here Monday, Will Return Later.

Arriving in Ord with the intention of addressing a county meeting of the Farmers' Holiday association Monday evening, Harry Lux and other leaders of the organization were disappointed to learn that a letter announcing their coming had been delayed in reaching Ernest S. Coats, Valley county secretary, and that consequently the meeting had not been advertised. The group will return to Ord at a later date, Secretary Coats says.

In the group besides Mr. Lux were Charles G. Taylor, a former state senator in Montana and now editor of the Producers News and chairman of the United Farmers League, Robert E. Hall, editor of the national publication of the Holiday association, and Otto Anström, a state committeeman of the Holiday association in South Dakota.

Only a few days ago Mr. Lux, who is an organizer for the association was released from jail at Wilber. He and several other Holiday members were jailed there some weeks ago when deputy sheriffs broke up a Holiday meeting being held in the court house. Lux characterizes the officials as "rough neck deputies" and says that tear gas bombs were used to break up the meeting. The farmers attending the meeting had used violence in any way, he claims, and the only charge against them was that they failed to disperse when ordered to do so by officers. The story told by Mr. Lux differs greatly from newspaper accounts of the Wilber affair.

The group is holding meetings in several Nebraska counties and will return to Ord within a few weeks, Secretary Coats says. Mr. Lux will describe the Wilber case, Senator Taylor will tell how the farmer should meet President Roosevelt's "new deal", Mr. Anström will discuss conditions in Russia, Poland and Northern Africa, in all of which regions he was located as a tractor expert for a large machinery company, and Editor Hall will tell about the new farmers' weekly which he is publishing in Washington, D. C.

The Farm Holiday association has 800 members in Valley county, Secretary Coats says, and a monster meeting is expected when the Lux party returns to Ord. The meeting will be announced in all Valley county papers when the exact date is determined, he says.

West Nebr. Tornado Only Big Wind Here

Western Nebraska was visited Monday evening by a tornado in which nine people were killed, twenty-eight injured and heavy property damage done but the tornado was only a big wind here. The wind blew at 30-mile-an-hour velocity throughout Monday, Monday night and most of Tuesday but broken limbs, a few telephone wires blown down and other minor damage was done. A nice shower of 29 inches fell here Monday night.

Most of the deaths occurred at Tryon, a sand hill town in Arthur county. Tryon has a population of only 100 but six were killed and several injured there. There were several injuries at North Platte and about fifty homes were blown down. The national Red Cross has representatives at North Platte and Tryon to estimate relief needs.

Committed to Ingleside. Miss Ruby Vanslyke was committed to the state hospital at Hastings by the Valley county insanity commission Saturday and was taken to that institution Sunday by Sheriff George Round. While not insane in the commonly accepted meaning of the term, Miss Vanslyke suffers from a nervous ailment and it was thought that treatment at Ingleside might prove beneficial.

Planning Golf Tourney. The Ord Golf club is planning to hold the first invitation tournament of 1933 on Sunday, June 4 and players from all towns in central Nebraska are invited to participate. Mike Kosmata is chairman of the club's tournament committee.

Miss Keo Auble and her school district 17 enjoyed a picnic Tuesday in the school house. They had planned on going to the park but decided it was not a good day for an out-of-doors picnic.

Sunday Mrs. Frank Sereshen enjoyed a visit with her niece, Miss Alberta Watson and the latter's friend, Gay Bose, of Lincoln. They arrived Saturday night, returning home Sunday evening.

Mrs. John Sedlacek sr. is quite ill and has been confined to her bed for three weeks.

—Joe and His Merry Music Makers played for a dance Friday evening at Rockville.

Patchen Acquitted In District Court

Onnie Patchen, on trial in district court Monday for allegedly being intoxicated one evening more than a year ago, was found not guilty by a jury that debated the question from about 4:45 until almost 9:00 p. m. The case Monday was Mr. Patchen's third trial for the same offense. He was found guilty in county court, appealed to the district court and was tried last March with the jury disagreeing and making a new trial necessary. Judge R. R. Horth of Grand Island was on the bench Monday.

Witnesses introduced by County Attorney George Munn and by the defense attorneys, C. M. Davis and E. L. Vogelitz, were the same as testified in the first district court trial last March and their testimony was substantially the same. Officers Covert and Pardue, who made the arrest, were star witnesses for the prosecution. The defense maintained that Patchen was ill from having eaten too many onions and was not intoxicated as the prosecution claimed.

Jury members who heard the case and brought in the verdict that freed Mr. Patchen were Ben Philbrick, R. S. Cook, Alex Long, Roy McGee, George Boettger, Allan Tappan, Clifton McClellan, Frank Benda, Will Nelson, Ed Schudel, Ross Lakin and Martin Guggenmos.

LADIES OF G. A. R. ELECT ORD LADY STATE PRESIDENT

Mrs. C. W. Clark Given High Office At State Convention; Mrs. Holloway State Sec'y.

For the next year, at least, Ord will be state headquarters for the Ladies Department of the G. A. R. for last week at the state convention in Lincoln Mrs. Cecil W. Clark of Ord was elected state president of the organization and Mrs. Ed Holloway of Ord was appointed state secretary. The two went to the convention as delegates from the Ord chapter.

An indefatigable worker for several years in G. A. R. affairs, Mrs. Clark's election to the presidency was a well deserved promotion from the office of senior vice president which she held last year. Mrs. Lunetta Konkrigt, of Seward, is the retiring president.

There are thirteen chapters of Ladies of the G. A. R. in Nebraska and about seventy-five delegates attended the convention in Lincoln. G. A. R. members, plenteous in number, met at the same time and the Ord delegates report seeing Mr. Fletcher, who once ran a store in Ord. He is straight and tall, appears to be in excellent health, and saw in a quartet made up of Civil war veterans, they say.

After attending the convention in Lincoln both Mrs. Clark and Mrs. Holloway went to Omaha to visit relatives.

Expecting Forest Call. Still impatiently awaiting the call to appear at Grand Island for physical examinations are the eighteen Valley county boys chosen a few weeks ago for reforestation work. Ralph Norman, chairman of the committee in charge of selecting Valley county quota, says that he expects the call next week. Fort Crook, where the boys will be taken for two weeks' preliminary training, is now filled to capacity with eastern Nebraska forest recruits, and when this group completes its training he expects central Nebraska quotas to be called.

—Donetta, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Johnson, has chicken pox and whooping cough at the same time. However, she is not very ill and is able to be around the house.

Legion Auxiliary Will Sell Poppies In Ord Saturday To Help War Vets

Citizens of Ord who have not forgotten the war-time service and sacrifice of our million men will have the opportunity to contribute to the support of those who came back from France crippled and maimed.

This opportunity will present itself Saturday, when members of the American Legion Auxiliary will sell poppies on the streets of Ord. These little poppies were made by veterans in the government hospital at Lincoln, disabled men who receive little or no compensation from the government.

There is no set price on these little red flowers—you merely accept one, wear it in your lapel, and contribute to the fund whatever you can afford.

In a proclamation issued today by Mayor Wm. Moses, this coming Saturday is designated as "Poppy Day" in Ord. The proclamation calls upon all citizens of Ord to observe the day by wearing a poppy in memory of the War dead. It says:

"Whereas, in the great crisis of the World war the young men of Valley county offered their services to our country with an ex-

IRRIGATION PLANS READY BY JUNE 1, VEATCH REPORTS

Inflationary Moves Make Estimate Of Costs Difficult; Veatch To Lincoln This Week.

Federal inflationary policies have made it difficult to estimate the cost of carrying out the North Loup valley hydro-electric and irrigation project, says N. T. Veatch, Jr., of the Kansas city engineering firm of Black & Veatch, in a letter to Ord officers of the district this week, but he is confidently expecting to have final plans and figures ready by June 1. Mr. Veatch will go to Lincoln the latter part of this week and will be met there by Bert M. Hardenbrook. The two will go over with C. A. Sorensen the final plans, after which steps will be taken to form a legal district.

A survey of the valley was completed two weeks ago by Engineer Dunmire and his crew and since then the Kansas City engineering firm has been busy drawing up plans for presentation to the Reconstruction Finance Corporation.

Thirty days ago, Mr. Veatch writes, he would have estimated the project's cost at one figure, today it is much higher because of advancing commodity prices and thirty days from now it probably will have to be still higher. He has applied to the R. F. C. for permission to apply for a loan on the basis of present values, the loan to be automatically increased as inflation continues.

Plans for the Middle Loup project are now in the hands of State Engineer Cochran, daily papers report. Originally estimated to cost $750,000, Middle Loup people are now asking for a million dollars. Cochran must approve the project and it must then be approved by Professor Mickey of the state university, who is R. F. C. consulting engineer for Nebraska, before it goes to the R. F. C. office in Washington.

Fifty thousand acres would be irrigated in the Middle Loup valley but only a small amount of power will be available for sale, it is reported, for the reason that much of the electric energy will be used to pump water from the river for irrigation. No power will be sold during the irrigating season.

The Black & Veatch plans for this valley contemplate two power plants, one on each side of the river. While land on one side of the river is being irrigated the power plant on the other side will be producing power, and vice versa, thus assuring a constant production of power that may be sold at the firm power rate and help to amortize the cost of the project.

President Hardenbrook denied yesterday that the local project will unite with others in Nebraska and request an R. F. C. loan of approximately $25,000,000 for the whole group. Other projects expecting to apply for R. F. C. money are the Columbus hydro-electric project, the Sutherland power and irrigation project, the Middle Loup project and the Tri-County project.

"We believe we have the best set-up here of any project contemplated in Nebraska," Mr. Hardenbrook says, "and it would be only jeopardizing our chances of getting an R. F. C. loan to hook up with other projects that may not be as feasible."

No Decision on Phones.

No decision on Ord telephone rates has been received as yet from the Nebraska railway commission, which is considering evidence presented at the recent hearings. Bert Hardenbrook and H. B. Vandecar, who conducted Ord's case against the Nebraska Continental, are confident that some reduction in rates will be ordered.

Baseball Here Sunday.

A Loup Valley league baseball game will be played at Bussell park Sunday, Manager Auble's Ord team meeting Wolbach. In the first game of the season Ord beat Wolbach but since then the Wolbach team is improved and a fast game will result Sunday. Allen and Mattern will do the hurling work for Ord.

Vogeler Makes $487 By Waiting For "New Deal"

North Loup, May 23.—(Special)—Because he waited 20 days before disposing of his wool clip, William Vogeler of this vicinity is better off today by $478. When he clipped his flock of sheep a month ago he was offered 9c per pound for the wool. He refused to accept this price, waited 20 days and sold his wool on the Omaha market for 25c per pound, receiving a check last week for $500 as a result. In the opinion of Mr. Vogeler, President Roosevelt's "new deal" has worked to his benefit already.

GRISWOLD WILL SPEAK HERE ON MEMORIAL DAY

Gordon Editor, Governor Candidate Last Fall, Will Talk As Guest of Legion.

Dwight Griswold, of Gordon, former state commander of the American Legion and last fall republican nominee for governor of Nebraska, will deliver the principle address at Legion ceremonies to be held next Tuesday, May 30, in connection with Memorial Day.

Each year Fidelity Post No. 38, of the American Legion, takes charge of Memorial Day exercises in Ord and the usual program will be given this year, it was stated yesterday by Commander John Goddard and E. P. Clements, Jr., who has been named chairman of the committee in charge of the exercises.

At 9:30 a. m. the procession will assemble at the memorial plot near the south gate of the cemetery in the following order: Colors, band, firing squad, Civil war veterans, Spanish war veterans, World war veterans, others. At 9:50 a. m. the procession will march to the veterans' plot in the cemetery where the customary services will be held. Mr. Griswold's address will be the concluding feature of these services.

There are only two G. A. R. members left in Ord and vicinity, John Carson and Wm. Wigent, and they will be especially honored in services this year. On last Decoration day there were three, O. Philbrick having died since.

All World war veterans are requested to assemble at the memorial plot promptly at 9:30. Mr. Clements says. Any veteran or veteran's family who are unable to obtain transportation to the cemetery will be furnished transportation if they will notify O. H. Sowl before Monday, May 29. Anybody knowing of a veteran's grave which has not been marked with the proper marker is requested to notify E. P. Clements, Jr., and the grave will be marked.

In case of rain the service will be conducted in the high school auditorium at 10 a. m.

If weather is suitable, the first band concert of the season will be given by the Ord Municipal band from the court house steps at 7:30 p. m., it is announced by Dean S. Duncan, director.

Mrs. A. F. Kosmata, Alvin Jensen, Win Bridge Tournament

Last Thursday evening was the final session of the bridge tournament sponsored by the Pythian Sisters and held on seven evenings during the winter and spring months. Among lady entrants Mrs. A. F. Kosmata had high score receiving a beautiful pillow as a prize. Alvin Jensen was high among men players and was awarded a smoking stand. Booby prizes went to Mrs. W. L. Blessing and Lynn Beeghly.

The woman winner, Mrs. Kosmata, was not present at the final session but had a big enough lead to win first place anyway.

Baseball Here Sunday. A Loup Valley league baseball game will be played at Bussell park Sunday, Manager Auble's Ord team meeting Wolbach. In the first game of the season Ord beat Wolbach but since then the Wolbach team is improved and a fast game will result Sunday. Allen and Mattern will do the hurling work for Ord.

Henry Ford Dearborn, Mich. May 15, 1933 Time and again I am told—by my own organization and by others—that I penalize myself by quality. Friendly critics protest our putting into the Ford V-8 what they call "twenty-year steel." They say such quality is not necessary; the public does not expect it; and that the public does not know the difference anyway. But I know the difference. I know that the car a man sees is not the car he drives—he drives the car which the engineer sees. The car which is seen, comprises beauty of design, color and attractive accessories,—all desirable, of course. The best evidence that we think so is that they are all found on the Ford V-8. But these are not the car. The car proper, which is the basis of all the rest, is the type of engine and its reliability; the structure of chassis and body, ruggedly durable; the long thought and experiment given to safety factors; the steady development of comfort, convenience and economy. These make the car. A car can be built that will last two or three years. But we have never built one. We want the basic material of our car to be as dependable the day it is discarded as the day it is bought. Ford cars built 15 years ago are still on the road. It costs more to build a durable car—but two items we do not skimp are cost and conscience. A great many things could "get by"—the public would never know the difference. But we would know. The new Ford V-8 is a car that I endorse without any hesitancy. I know what is in it. I trust our whole thirty years' reputation with it. It is even better than our previous V-8. It is larger, more rugged and mechanically a better job all round. I readily say this in an advertisement because I know the car will back it up. Henry Ford

Miss Minnie Holoun completed another successful year of school last Friday. She and her pupils enjoyed a picnic last Friday. Miss Holoun has signed the contract to teach next year.

Several applications for the position as teacher for the Geranium high school have been received. There seems to be good prospects for a fair enrollment and if plans can be made no doubt there will again be school. Further arrangements will be made at the school meeting to be held soon and if any students are interested the school board will be glad to hear from them.

Alice Mathouser, Lillian Moravec and Rosie Hrebec are those from our school who passed the county eighth grade examinations. They all received very good grades and plan to attend high school next year.

Jos. Moravec's made a business trip to Sargent Friday.

The local baseball team played the Longwood team at the National Hall and beat them by a score of 5 to 4. The Modern Woodmen held a meeting at their hall last Saturday night. Plans are under way for Memorial day services to be held at the Community hall.

Lefty Hansen Too Much for Ord Boys; North Loup in Lead

Lefty Hansen, St. Paul's new port-side twirler, was too much for Manager Bud Auble's Ord team Sunday and St. Paul won their first game of the Loup valley league season, beating Ord 8 to 6. Allen allowed the Paulites only eight hits but nine Ord errors didn't help matters any.

While Ord was losing to the tall-end St. Paul team North Loup was assuming league leadership by beating Greeley, 9 to 2, while Scotia stepped up into a tie for second place by beating Wolbach 7 to 3.

Here are the box scores of the Ord-St. Paul and North Loup-Wolbach games Sunday:

Box score for Ord (6) vs St. Paul (8). Includes statistics for Warford, Burrows, Lashmett, Dittman, etc.

Box score for North Loup (9) vs St. Paul (8). Includes statistics for Manning, Madsen, Ross, etc.

By HAROLD TITUS

SYNOPSIS

CHAPTER I.—"Tom" Belknap, big timber operator, ordered by his physicians to take a complete rest, plans a three months' trip abroad. Promises of advancement he has made to his son John, just commencing in the business, are broken, for no apparent reason, and the young man is indignant. Paul Gorbelt, Belknap's partner, whom John and other business associates of Belknap cordially dislike, is a bone of contention. Father and son part without a complete understanding.

CHAPTER II.—At Shoestring, his train delayed by a wreck, John is ordered to leave at once. He refuses, and after a fist fight, his attackers realize it is a case of mistaken identity. John learns his father is believed to be out to wreck the Richards lumber company. Bewildered and unbelieving, he seeks employment with that company. At the office he finds Gorbelt bullying a young girl, and recognizes her. The girl is Ellen Richards, owner of the company. A letter he carries gives John's name as John Steele, the Belknap being dropped inadvertently, and John, knowing the feeling against his father, allows Ellen to believe that is his name.

CHAPTER III.—Ellen engages John as her foreman. A series of underhand tricks designed to handicap operations of the Richards company culminates in the deliberate wrecking of a locomotive drawing a snow plow.

CHAPTER IV.—After heroic efforts the locomotive is got back on the rails. John, admiring Ellen's bravery under the conditions, begins to have a sentimental attachment for the girl, which is returned.

CHAPTER V.—The Richards barn and stables burn in a night fire and a stranger is killed. John finds and carries out the dead body of a stranger. He realizes the fire was set, but refuses to believe his father could be a party to such an act. Steele and Sheriff Bradshaw arrange to work together on the case.

CHAPTER VI.—John is satisfied that Gorbelt is the malignant influence at work, sheltered by "Old Tom" Belknap's name and reputation. Gorbelt discovers that "Steele" is John Belknap.

CHAPTER VII.—Having evidence of Gorbelt's complicity in the burning of the Richards stables, Sheriff Bradshaw interviews him. Gorbelt admits the dead man had been in his employ and claims he had discharged him for being drunk, the afternoon of the fire. Steele and Bradshaw arrange for an autopsy on the body. Gorbelt sends an anonymous letter to Ellen, informing her of Steele's identity, and insinuating that, acting for his father, John is responsible for her business troubles. John is unable to make a satisfactory explanation, and Ellen, against the dictates of her heart, discharges him.

CHAPTER VIII.—Young Belknap asks Gorbelt to give him employment in the Belknap lumber plant. Sheriff Bradshaw cleverly induces Gorbelt to incriminate himself in the burning of the Richards stables.

CHAPTER IX.—Gorbelt's stenographer, Marie Varnell, whom he has lured from a position in the Belknap offices at Chicago to become his mistress at Kampfest, turns on him and promises to reveal his treachery to John. An attempt engineered by Gorbelt, to kill John, apparently by accident, is unsuccessful.

CHAPTER X.—John, though convinced Gorbelt had planned the death trap, has no positive proof. He is made barn boss, by Gorbelt's orders, and another attempt is made to bring about his death. Escaping again, he openly accuses Gorbelt of the attempted assassinations. After a heated interview John is discharged but remains in Kampfest, on watch. Ellen, realizing her affection for John, but convinced of his duplicity, is miserable. To get away from all that reminds her of him she decides to visit her uncle, Wolf Richards, not knowing he is away on a hunting trip. Now continue the story.

"Look here, Nat! . . . Why, there's some mistake! There's some devilish mistake behind this! Arson? . . . Good G—d, Nat, you don't—"

Bitterness was rising in the sheriff's heart, a contempt that must be voiced.

"I don't aim to visit with you. I've got you cold, Gorbelt! For a long time you've fooled us all, but that's over now. I'm glad I'm sheriff of this county to take back to my fall a firebug, a skunk!"

Lights danced before Paul Gorbelt's eyes, though there were no lights. A roaring sounded in his ears. The mountain of doom was moving towards him, to overwhelm him, to blot him out, to smash his cupidity, his loves, his ambitions.

He turned as if to tear open a window and jump, and a great hand caught his arm.

"No, you don't! If I have to—I'll—"

The man shrank in the sheriff's clutch, tried to tear away. He made strange sounds in his throat as his trembling hand tugged at a hip pocket.

"Let me go!" he screamed. "Let me go, you fool!"

"No . . . you've gone to the end of your rope, and it—"

The pistol came out. The stream of fire was short, barely the span of a man's hand, so close was it held to the sheriff's breast. The report filled the room, and then as Gorbelt felt those stout fingers loosen on his arm, the sheriff drew a long, retching breath . . .

"Shot!" he muttered. "Shot . . . and . . . and—"

He threw out a hand awkwardly for support and dragged a chair over with him as he fell against the desk . . .

Paul Gorbelt was at the door springing the lock. He drew it shut behind him. He went along the corridor and down the steps with breath sputtering through set lips . . . Inside, the man on the floor breathed heavily, trying to speak, to call out, fighting against the pain, struggling to rise; then slumping backward to lie and pant. But his eyes were open and through the low window he watched the lighted stores across the way.

John Belknap entered the boarding house late for supper. He had visited, after closing hours, with the young cashier of the Bank of Kampfest, paving the way for fol-

Union Memorial services will be held at the S. D. B. church Sunday evening. On Tuesday, Memorial day, the Legion and Auxiliary will as usual have charge of the services which will include a procession to the cemetery at 10 a. m. where a program will be rendered. Little girls will act as flower bearers.

Guest day will be observed tomorrow by the Legion Auxiliary at the Legion Hall where final plans will be made for Memorial day. Mrs. Myra Barber is in charge of the program.

A fitting and most enjoyable close to the year's school activities was the mixed program rendered by the grade children and the high school girls' glee club in the gymnasium Friday morning, many parents and friends being present. Delightful features of the program were the parade and dance of the buttercups by Miss Thelin's primaries, parade and playlet of the Japanese boys and girls, with their many colored parasols, toy balloons and varicolored garb, with phonograph music accompaniment, their teacher, Miss Velma Peterson being sponsor, also the Mother's Day playlet presented by members of Miss Parker's intermediates, unique and amusing was the mock wrestling match by the members of Mr. Walmated's grammar grade pupils, and most amusing was the exhibition of a group of freshman girls attired as clowns. Dinner served under the auspices of the P. T. A. closed the day's activities for all except the seniors who with their teachers, enjoyed a picnic party at the chalk hills.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peterson drove from Brooks, Minn., for a few days visit at the Mill Earnest home and among other relatives and to accompany their daughter, Miss Velma to her home. Miss Peterson who has taught the 2nd primary here the past two years will be greatly missed among her circle of friends and in the various ways in which she willingly served.

Error About Manchester. The Quiz regrets having made some errors in the item about Ralph Manchester being returned to the reformatory last week. Our story stated that he was sent there originally because of forgery and petty larceny. The facts are that he pilfered a quantity of wine from the Sowokinos cellar and for this and for driving a car at the age of 14, coupled with other minor escapades that led officers to believe he was incorrigible, he was sent to the penal institution. The Quiz also stated that two weeks ago he stole tires from his brother's car and sold them. The fact is that the tires were in the care of his brother but not on his brother's car. We make these corrections at the instance of the boy's mother.

Notice to Public. The Commander-in-Chief of the G. A. R. asks us to request that on Memorial Day people do not decorate with flags the graves of anybody except former soldiers. Mrs. C. W. Clark, rPresident 9-1

Quiz Publisher Tells About Trip To Cody, Wyo.

Dear Quiz Folks:

This is the boss broadcasting and I have seen more country, most of it set up on edge, in the past seven days, than I ever saw before in my life.

Mrs. Daniel Burke had been with us for a year and she was desirous of going to the home of her son, Clayton Burke, at Cody, Wyo., to spend the summer. She will return to Ord some time before winter to again be with us.

We left Ord at 7 a. m. last week Thursday and drove back into Ord yesterday at 10:45. When we arrived at Cody at 6 p. m. Friday, 2 days after leaving home, we had traveled 803 miles. The trip home was a little shorter because we learned of a shortcut that saved a little. We could make the trip again with about 50 miles less than we did on the way out this time.

The roads were ideal on the way out. We only found one or two places where road work was in progress to slow us up. On the way home we stopped at Lusk, Wyo. Monday night, and shortly after we got into camp it started to rain and 2 1-4 inches of water fell and there was a terrible wind all night. It was so wet and muddy Tuesday morning that we didn't start on till nearly 12 noon and then we had to drive in very slippery mud for about 50 miles on some new road grading that was fine when we went over it going up. For the second night on the way home, we stopped in a fine camp at Hyannis.

We found the Clayton Burke family well. Clayton is the Cody manager of a large lumber and hardware concern and he says business is steadily improving, though like here, it has been tough. The Burkes showed us a mighty fine time and the many friends of Clayton will be glad to know that he has a very good and responsible position. They say they like Cody the best of any place they ever lived, have a fine home and are happy. We saw many points of interest with the crowning event Sunday when we went up the Shoshone river gorge 35 miles. The Shoshone dam is a huge affair and 1 1-2 miles of the road along the side of the mountain above the dam and lake is wild enough to give anyone plenty of thrills. We were told it was the worst strip of road anywhere on road 20 across the country from coast to coast. It was perfectly safe, well graded, wide enough almost everywhere for two cars to meet, but in places it was very crooked and steep. We passed through solid rock. On the 35-mile trip we saw deer, elk, moose and antelope running wild. We hoped to see a bear but were disappointed, though a 600-pound one was killed close to where we visited friends of the Burkes the day we arrived there. We counted over a hundred deer on the trip up and back, fifty of them being in one mountain field of probably not over 30 acres. They had come down to enjoy a feed of alfalfa which a mountain ranger had planted for his horses. He saw them almost as soon as we did and was out driving them off. His alfalfa was well fenced but those deer would bound over a 6-wire fence as easily as I could step across a 2x4. They were not wild and we could drive as close as ten yards to them before they would run away. If we stopped the car they sure made tracks but if we kept the car going slowly we could get close to them. There seemed to be an abundance of game up that river valley. We drove to within 20 miles of the Cody entrance to Yellowstone Park. The entrance is 55 miles west of Cody. Cody is a town of 1800 and of course is full of reminders of Buffalo Bill. He had a large cattle ranch near there, owned a large hotel there, then there was the Buffalo Bill filling station, tourist camp by the same name and numerous other enterprises which reminded one of the famous scout and showman.

All in all, it was a most enjoyable trip, well worth taking and about which I could write much more, had Eugene not told me to make it short and snappy. But I don't care much for mountain scenery, in which feeling the Missus joins me. We didn't see us care greatly for Wind River Canyon, a 12-mile drive, very winding along the side of the mountain, which we had to take both going and coming. It was built on water level, was wide enough for three cars most places and perfectly safe and surely awe-inspiring in many places. But the further east I came on the way home, the better I felt and when I struck Valley county on the Ord-Sargent road I said, "This is the most beautiful sight I have seen in a week," and the Missus said "You bet." She shouldn't use slang that way.

Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Christian Science Services. "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, May 28.

The Golden Text is from Romans 8:31: "If God be for us, who can be against us?"

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from I John 2:15, 16: "Love not the world, neither the things that are in the world. If any man love the world, the love of the Father is not in him. For all that is in the world, the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eyes, and the pride of life, is not of the Father, but is of the world."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Mortal mind, acting from the basis of sensation in matter, is animal magnetism; but this so-called mind, from which comes all evil, contradicts itself, and must finally yield to the eternal truth, or the divine Mind, expressed in Science." (page 178).

BACK FORTY

Spraying fruit trees generally means the difference between a crop and no crop. It has become a necessity if any amount of decent fruit is to be raised.

Fairly good results from spraying can be secured by giving trees only the so-called second and fourth sprays. These are applied just as the petals drop off, and during the middle of July. Of course four or more sprays give more satisfactory results.

The two important sprays for cherries, peaches and plums are those put on just after the flower shucks have fallen and again three weeks later.

A combination spray is used on most fruit. It is made by dissolving 1 1-2 gallons of commercial lime-sulphur solution, and 1 1-4 pounds of powdered lead arsenate in fifty gallons of water. These ingredients destroy both insects and diseases. Mixed together they should poison codling moth, canker worm, tent caterpillar, curculio, blotch, scab, and many other enemies of fruit.

Lime-sulphur kills scale insects if diluted with water 35 times when used against diseases. Black Leaf 40 is a more powerful contact killer for insects, and is often used against green leaf hoppers that eat vines, and other soft bodied bugs. Bordeaux mixture is sometimes sprayed on fungous diseases; it may be used with lead arsenate to make another combination spray. Lead arsenate kills leaf eating insects.

A bucket sprayer can be used where just a few trees need treatment. It should have an extension hose and rod at least twenty feet in length. Fastened to the end of the rod should be an angle nozzle that throws a fine mist. For the average orchard a single action barrel sprayer with about twenty-five feet of hose is best. The outfit is usually mounted on a sled or wagon.

Preparations are being made in Otoe county to begin coal mining in the very near future. It has been discovered there is a vein of coal 14 to 30 inches thick lying 15 to 30 feet below the surface. Specimens of coal from the deposit test 10,826 B.T.U.'s. There is a state law which offers a reward of $4,000 for discovery of a vein of coal 26 inches thick and $5,000 for one 36 inches thick. The veins must be of sufficient capacity to pay to be mined. To date no one has successfully proved claim to such rewards.

School Notes. Mary Fish celebrated her ninth birthday May 9 and brought a candy treat to school. Those who received perfect attendance award booklets for attending 160 or more days were Eldon, Edith and Frank Cernik, Donald Jensen, Esther Zangger, Carol Urban, Richard and Mary Fish. Mary's perfect attendance record for the entire year was marred by only one day's absence on account of illness. The new croquet set, purchased with the prize money from the float, has given us much pleasure the past week. Esther Zangger, Evalene Van-Slyke, Verna Christensen, Mary and Richard Fish, having learned all of the words to all of the songs, took part in the Rural school chorus. School was dismissed that afternoon. The closing day picnic for the pupils only was at the Ord park May 20. Everyone had a good time and an excellent lunch. Another enjoyable feature was the visit to Koupal's park. Mrs. Cernik and Mrs. Zangger furnished cars.

State Capitol News

State accountants in checking the bonded investments of the state board of educational lands and funds recently reported finding a discrepancy of $75,000 in this department. It has been the practice for many years for bonding houses to remove coupons from the bonds in order to bring about a readjustment in interest rates. According to state accountants' statement these specific transactions were checked but do not compensate for the discrepancy which represents a loss to the state. The state board of educational lands and funds is a constitutional body consisting of the governor, secretary of state, treasurer, attorney general and state land commissioner.

Appropriations made by the recent legislature from tax funds for the coming biennium totals $11,073,000 or a decrease of $3,450,000 from the past biennium.

The governor gave sharp warning that the state liquor law would be enforced when the Scottsbluff city council proposed to issue licenses for the sale of 3.2 beer in that city immediately. As the situation now stands, the sale of beer will not be legal in Nebraska until early in August. Scottsbluff proposed, however, to offer Nebraska residents the privilege of buying brew at home instead of crossing into Wyoming towns not far distant to drink their ale and make regular purchases of other commodities. After Bryan's statement was received, however, the council withdrew from its former action and will now await the time when the Nebraska law becomes effective.

Much interest was shown immediately after the adjournment of the legislature in what disposal the Governor would make of the manufacturer's beer bill, a new law passed by the legislature to enable Nebraska brewers to manufacture 3.2 beer for sale in other states, regardless of whether or not beer might legally be sold in Nebraska. It is understood that some pressure was applied to the Governor by dry organizations to veto the bill. The governor, however, permitted it to become a law without his signature just as he did the bill legalizing sale of beer in the state.

Harry Conklin, state land commissioner, assisted by deputies soon will begin reappraising two million acres of state school lands. Recent legislation makes this reappraisal necessary and a moratorium on school land leases is in effect. Under the moratorium the renters of state school lands have had rental payment dates extended to December 31, 1934.

Twelve hundred Nebraska boys and young men were assembled at various points over the state last week to take examinations to enable them to secure employment in the federal reforestation projects. They are to be sent first to Fort Crook and will later be transferred to the scene of their real activities.

The state engineer last week called for bids on gravel resurfacing projects on 353 miles of Nebraska highways. The letting will be held June 8.

The cost of the recent legislature was $187,279. The amount, however, was $34,389 less than the amount appropriated to meet the expense of the session. A total of $116,741 was spent for salaries of officers and members, $70,759 for salaries of employees, mileage of members, supplies and incidentals, and $10,301 for printing of house and senate journals.

From the state superintendent's office $1,131 has been distributed to Blaine, Cherry and Thomas counties for the forest reserve fund. This money paid by the federal government for forest land which would otherwise pay school taxes.

Nebraska farmers received 134 million dollars for crops and livestock sold for cash in 1932, compared with 419 millions during the prosperous year of 1929. The cash income for crops for Nebraska dropped from 125 millions in 1929 to less than 25 millions in 1932. The cash income for livestock decreased from 294 millions to 109 millions for the same period. The cash income for farmers in this state decreased more than 65 percent while the decrease for the whole nation was less than 60 percent.

The state banking department reports payment of $20,993 as dividends to depositors in failed state banks at Page, Stapleton, Pleasant Dale, Burchard and Wauneta.

Nebraska has shipped 31,093 one hundred pound bags of beans from last year's bean crop, according to the state and federal crop statistician. Nebraska is ninth in the list of states for bean shipments.

The total value of exports from Nebraska in 1932 was over 3 million dollars or about one-half the value in 1931. Exports of lard decreased from more than 2 million to less than 1 million. Exports of other animal oils and fats increased from $22,000 in 1931 to $110,000 in 1932. Cured meat exports were valued at over $218,000 or half of the 1931 value. Other Nebraska exports included animals and inedible animal products, vegetable food products, hides and skins, salted and pickled pork, bacon, metals machinery, vehicles and chemicals.

The federal government reports that to date the revenues received through taxes on the new legalized 3.2 percent beer have exceeded 10 million dollars.

Federal government collections since last July 1 total $1,716,138,281 which is $59,542 more than the amount collected during the same period of the previous fiscal year.

The federal government estimates that 14,915,000 farmers in the country will be directly affected by the administration's farm bill program to improve prices. The seven basic commodities listed in this farm bill are wheat, cotton, corn, hogs, rice, dairy products and tobacco.

A plow company in Lincoln reports that it has enjoyed an increase of from 10 to 50 percent of full capacity production within the past month. The manager stated that his company has had the largest business for the first half of May in the company's history.

The state tax commissioner has received word that the federal government will call for an enrollment of 25,000 World War veterans in the emergency conservation work. The commissioner is assuming that Nebraska's quota will be 275 veterans if the number chosen is in proportion to the number of boys called for this work. Detailed instructions as to whether the men will be called out of the state have not yet been received.

The Middle Loup public power and irrigation district has made application to the state department of public works for the construction of a project to cost 1 million dollars or less, the cost of construction to be paid from the revenue received. The petition states that it is the intention to irrigate 50,000 acres of land in the Middle Loup valley.

The state auditor reports that during April he registered city bonds amounting to $131,000, of which $88,000 was in refunding bonds and $43,000 in new bonds. The total of city bonds retired was $118,500. New bond issues were for the cities of Columbus, Long Pine, Bridgeport, village of Peru and a school district in Boone county.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska
H. D. LECCETT - PUBLISHER
E. C. LECCETT - EDITOR

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1919.

THE MAN WE FORGOT TO HATE.
The American Magazine in its May issue prints an article on our own Senator George W. Norris, written by Beverly Smith and entitled "The Man We Forgot to Hate" from which the editor of that magazine has kindly given us permission to quote.

The author begins by recalling an incident which took place April 5, 1917, while he and another young American soldier were discussing the war in Europe and the action of six United States Senators who voted against that declaration of war. Senator Norris, the author mentions, is the only one of that "little band of willful men" now alive. Mr. Smith describes most graphically the well-loved Nebraska Senator whose face is known to all our citizens, and, in speaking of his thoughtful moods, wonders perhaps if this last of the willful six may not often be thinking of the results of that war, of the millions of good men who are dead, of the tattered bonus armies, of the great and increasing national debt, of the $300 million dollars a year paid to veterans, of the sorry mess of prohibition, passed with war-time fervor, of the dictatorship in Germany, of the nickname "Uncle Sby-leck".

From this retrospect, Mr. Smith continues:
I thought of the many other battles of his thirty-year career in House and Senate, of the lost causes he has led; of his fights, sometimes victorious, against party inertia, the power interests, corruption, theft of government resources.

During the last year his success has been mounting. Past seventy, his political star shines more brightly than ever before. Never has he been so generally esteemed, and his bitterest enemies pay tribute to his honesty and tenacity.

Three of his "lost causes", ridiculed just a few years ago, are turning into personal triumphs. His views on water power and the government development of Muscle Shoals are essentially those of the new administration. His fight to prevent the use of Federal injunctions to break up strikes was won with legislation passed by Congress last year.

And his ten-year struggle to abolish the futile lame-duck sessions of Congress, of which this year saw the last, ended victoriously with the recent passage of the Twentieth Amendment to the Constitution.

A small incident set him on the path of his own conscience. He always followed it resolutely, though it has led through strange, lonely, and unpopular places, and he will follow it to the end. "When I take the oath of office, I swear to uphold the Constitution and laws," he says, "and not a party leader with whom I may disagree".

"Norris," Senator Arthur Capper of Kansas once remarked, "is a perambulating Declaration of Independence in human form."

"Norris is congenitally, illogically, and irrevocably honest. That's the trouble with him."

If he could have his way he would cut the membership of the House to 200 and that of the Senate to 48, one from each state instead of two.

In 1917, came Norris' greatest trial. He knew that the war spirit was running like prairie fire; that he hadn't a chance to stop it. He was warned that he might be lynched. Deliberately and coolly he took his stand, opposing the war measures with all his power. Then he went back to war-inflamed Nebraska, and hired the largest hall in Lincoln. No one could be found to serve as his chairman or to introduce him. Friends warned him that he would not come out alive.

At eight o'clock sharp Norris walked onto the platform, alone. The hall was jammed. There was not a handclap, not a cheer, just a curious, breathing silence. "I have come home," he said, "to tell you the truth."

Those who heard him, say it was Norris' greatest speech. Slowly the hostile audience warmed to him. At the end they were crying and cheering and warming up on the platform to shake his hand. Most of them were still in favor of war, but they were also in favor of George Norris.

In 1930 he talked of retiring, but activities of his enemies again stirred his fighting spirit. Rumors were being spread in Nebraska that he was a rich man, that he lived in a palatial $175,000 home in Washington, that he owed a millionaire's retreat in Wisconsin, and that he was a cruel father who whipped his children.

The truth is that his apartment in Washington is modest middle-class, his retreat in Wisconsin is a cabin which he partly built with his own hands, and his three daughters are long since grown up and happily married.

The next trick his opponents played on him was, as Norris says, "truly dastardly." If you choose, as he does, to ignore its humorous aspects. Last year certain of Norris' regular Republican opponents introduced another Nebraskan named George W. Norris, a grocery clerk, to file for the Republican senatorial nomination against the senator. They hoped thus to confuse the election, for the two Georges would be quite indistinguishable, not only to the voters, but to the election officials who tried to count the ballots.

In the end the conspiracy failed. Grocer George's application was thrown out by the courts. Norris was triumphantly reelected.

But don't speak smilingly of Grocer George to Senator George. The senator is not amused. Norris' desk is in the back of the Senate chamber, next to that of another veteran insurgent, Borah of Idaho. The two are friends, and often work together, but are of contrasting types. Borah blinds his colleagues with his eloquence, then retires majestically to his office; Norris reasons with them, then comes back the next day and reasons with them again.

Senator and Mrs. Norris live quietly in Washington. They seldom go out in the evening. Norris studies tirelessly and is usually the best-informed man in the Senate on any subject he tackles.

In the summer he and Mrs. Norris get into their little car and drive up to their cabin on Rainbow Lake, Waupaca, Wis. There the veteran senator renews his strength. He still swims with a powerful stroke. He tramps through the forest, goes on picnics with Mrs. Norris, and chops and saws his own wood. It is dangerous for anybody from the city to try and take the other end of the crosscut saw with the senator.

Norris, in my opinion, is one of the greatest senators. I think in the future he may be remembered as we now remember Clay, Webster, and Calhoun. His strength lies in his fearlessness, his honesty, his everlasting industry and combativeness. His weaknesses are weaknesses of democracy itself. Norris' great mistake is his assumption that the majority of ordinary men are as able, unselfish, and public spirited as himself. If they were, war, graft, corruption, gangsterism, and excessive taxes would be abolished. Every voter would be a statesman, and the millennium would be here.

Norris, a little tired, fights on. He even finds encouraging signs and portents. "You know," he told me hopefully, "I am getting lots of letters these days from college students. I think young men are becoming more and more interested in politics."

In the darkening office his crest of white hair stood up like a plume.

UNFAVORABLE PUBLICITY.

What a sorry mess is the Omaha police department, with its chronic bickering and its constant scandals. If Omaha wants publicity it surely gets the same through its police department, but in the eyes of the state Omaha would be much more favorably regarded if the police department mess could be cleaned up, once and for all.

Few of us who are not "in the know" can pretend to know what the fuss is all about. We only know that the names of Danbaum, Palmatag, Thorpe, Potach, Anderson and a few others are constantly in the news, each time under unfavorable circumstances. In the opinion of the out-stater each has been found guilty of grafting and worse, time after time, though shuffled back and forth from sergeant to captain positions depending upon who is commissioner.

The latest Omaha police scandal involves the striking and kicking of a reporter by the new police commissioner, Myers. Surely no provocation given by the reporter should have been great enough to make the head of the police department of a great city so forget himself.

Out-state Nebraska would take more pride and have more regard for its metropolis if the police department could be cleaned up once and for all. What Omaha needs is a police system that functions quietly, courteously and efficiently, without constant shake-ups and continuous scandal. It would seem that such a system might be put into effect there.

A PARTY BREAKDOWN.

The democratic party is at it again. Political history proves that on the infrequent occasions when democrats have been able to unite behind one leader they have been successful in electing a president. But it likewise shows us that most of the time the party has broken down by internal warfare.

Democrats can never work together harmoniously. Perhaps because they are "out" so much that each prominent democrat tries to grab off all he can for himself as soon as his party gets "in".

It is not a dignified spectacle that Nebraska democrats are presenting at the present time. National Committeeman Mullen apparently is trying to become a multi-millionaire while he has the chance. He gets his law partner, Hanley, an appointment on the radio commission, then immediately accepts a retainer of $50,000 a year as counsel for the Radio Corporation of America. He insists that all applications for R. F. C. loans must pass through his hands. He insists upon being sole controller of federal patronage in Nebraska. In fact, he makes himself so autocratic that now the other wing of the party, led by Ritchie, is trying to have him removed as national committeeman from Nebraska. The move is doomed to failure but it forecasts the breakdown of the democratic party in Nebraska.

Governor Bryan contributes his share toward that breakdown when for three months he fails to appoint a senator to replace Howell. Secretary of State Swanson gets in one mess after another. Other democratic office holders, from top to bottom of the state system, are embroiled in arguments.

Behind Roosevelt the party presented a solid front in 1932 but now, the battle won, a hundred little captains are fighting over the spoils. The republican party, with its traditional solidarity, will have little opposition four years hence.

25 Years Ago This Week.
John Ward, the Quiz reporter in Enterprise, reported that Walter Byington owned a cow that gave partially churned cream. To convert it into butter only a little stirring with a spoon was necessary.

G. H. Kinsey of Arcadia announced his decision to make the race for state senator.

County Attorney Oleson came out with a warning that anybody who desecrated the peace of Decorah days by indulging in horse racing, ball playing, etc., would be fined $100 and costs.

Mrs. Frank Vopat was badly burned about the face and arms. She had poured some gasoline into the wash boiler to assist in cleansing the clothes. Then, in stirring the liquid, some slopped over on the stove and the result was a fire in the kitchen. Mrs. Vopat was expected to be out and about in a few days.

Fifteen were graduating from Ord high school. Among them were W. C. Looftburrow, Herbert Cushing, Milford Stacy, Sophie Reithard, Winnie Parks, Josephine Cernik, Archie Coombs, Ralph Battle, Joseph Aldrich, Fred Brink, O. Stewart, Miner Harris, Mable Moore, Maxwell Westover and Otto Wirsig.

Mrs. I. G. Shepard was knocked unconscious and was badly bruised when the team she was holding ran away as her husband got out to open the gate.

20 Years Ago This Week.
E. V. Holloway had a finger cut off while operating a disc.

Mrs. Peter Christian of Arcadia died from ptomaine poisoning as a result of eating some kind of canned goods.

The senior class was hanged in effigy by the lawless element of the junior class.

Bud Shirley was hauling a slot machine to Bill Timm's place and was knocked unconscious when the machine fell over and hit him in the head.

Mrs. Jay Lester Norton of Elyria passed away at the age of fifty-one. Other deaths of the week included Miss Helen Goodrich, Mrs. S. B. Clift, Mrs. Grace R. Dockhorn and John Zabloudil.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Many a good cook lacks the nerve to tackle making cake. However, I think this fear is unfounded. In these days of oven thermometers and fool-proof recipes. When directions are carefully followed, with recipes as accurate as possible, there now seems little danger of having a real, honest-to-goodness cake failure.

Chocolate Cake.
Melt two squares of chocolate over warm water, add butter the size of an egg and let cool for a few minutes. Add one cup sugar and one well beaten egg, beat well. Then add one cup milk, alternately with one cup of flour with which has been sifted with one teaspoon soda, pinch of baking powder.

Whipped Cream Cake.
Put one cup of cream in a deep dish and whip until stiff. Add one cup water, one cup sugar, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla, one-fourth teaspoon salt, two cups flour, and lastly the stiffly beaten whites, of four eggs. Bake in a loaf. The cream may be either sweet or a little sour, just so it is not too rich. A powdered sugar icing is best on this cake.

Brown Stone Front Cake.
Boil together until smooth and glossy yolks of two eggs well beaten with one-half cup sweet milk, two squares chocolate. Then combine one cup sugar, butter size of an egg, one-half cup sweet milk in which has been dissolved one scant teaspoon soda, and one one-half cups flour. Stir in the first mixture, which should be boiling hot. Flavor with vanilla.

Mrs. Willis Waite, Arcadia.
Sunshine Cake.
Beat eight egg yolks with one cup sugar and four tablespoons of cold water. Sift one cup flour four times and add. Beat eight egg whites and add one teaspoon cream of tartar. Add the egg whites last.

Tillie Urban.
Spiced Cake with Baked Icing.
Mix one cup brown sugar with one-half cup shortening, one whole egg and one yolk, one and one-third cups flour, sifted with one teaspoon soda, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon each of cinnamon, nutmeg and cloves, and one half cup sour milk. Mix in the order given. Spread this icing over the batter before baking: one egg white beaten stiff, into which is folded one-half cup brown sugar and one-fourth cup finely chopped nut meats. Bake in a square pan 8x8 inches in a moderate oven for 35 minutes.

Mrs. John Klein.
Peanut Butter Cookies.
Mix one-half cup shortening, one-half cup peanut butter, one cup sugar, two eggs, one-fourth cup milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder and a pinch of salt. Drop by teaspoon on greased tins. Have ready three-fourths cup chopped peanuts and sprinkle over the top. Bake in a moderate oven.

Marie Boyce.
Oatmeal Pancakes.
Soak one cup oats overnight in one cup sweet milk. In the morning beat into it one egg, one teaspoon salt, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, one cup flour and one cup milk and bake.

Something DIFFERENT

In a school not more than ten miles from Ord, a question in agriculture was, "Name two kinds of cattle".
One poor puzzled daughter (of the farm?) after much heavy concentration scribbled down: "Cows and bulls".

W. W. Haskell came in to report a novel sign before Mr. Pet-ska's grocery, furniture and dry goods store.

It seems that Jerry had put out a blackboard sign which read, "Special Sale on Furniture". A clever wag came along, noticed the spacing between Sale and On was very brief, erased the "e" on Sale and fastened it to the next word. Then the sign read: "Special Salon Furniture".

Speaking of the Petska family, do you ever drive by their home to see how many nice shrubs and trellis-work pieces they have in their yard? The Petska's take very good care of their flowers and yard, and the result shows in a noticeable way.

Mrs. Alfred Bartunek called up to say that H. D. Leggett inspired the costume of the "old lady selling snuff" in the recent Business Circus celebration. You remember that last week I said the identity of this mysterious old lady had never been discovered by a number of those enjoying the circus?

Mrs. Bartunek declared that the mysterious party was none other than her father, Ignac Pesha, and that Mr. Pesha was inveigled into donning this impenetrable disguise by Mr. Leggett's jolly remarks about seeing that the kangaroo court got hold of Mr. Pesha. I asked about the snuff selling business, but Mrs. Bartunek insisted that it was a very poor line, just at the present time.

Mr. Pesha had a lot of fun in his fool-proof disguise. For thirty or forty minutes he stood conversing with an old friend, C. A. Hager. But in spite of their long friendship and the fact that Mr. Hager tried and tried to remember that voice and manner, it was more than half an hour before Mr. Hager guessed the right answer. During which minutes, of course, Mr. Pesha was having the time of his life.

Did you ever stop to think how many gorgeous heads of pretty hair we have in Ord?

Firstly, there's Ann Kocina. If you have ever seen her gorgeous curls, I need say no more.

Then there's Zola Barfa. And her sister Evelyn. They both have pretty curls. The Quiz daughter, Flora Leggett Anderson, has fascinating black locks, and her finest daughter as beautiful brown ringlets, tightly curled.

Florence Anderson, daughter of the Albert Anderson's, has beautiful blonde waves and curls, strictly natural, too. Garnet Jackman has lovely brunette tresses, to my mind, and her hairdressing rival, Mazie has pretty hair... would you call it chestnut?

Beautiful hair isn't confined to younger people, either. I think Bess Petty's white pompadour couldn't be more attractive. Several years ago at the auto races I discovered by sitting above and behind Mrs. Roy Bailey that her iron gray waves and curls were most pleasing.

Having started this list, it is rather difficult to stop. And then there are all the men in Ord and vicinity who have "pretty" hair. For example, aren't Judge Clements' white curls nice and crisp?

The basket found near the bed that had been occupied by Mrs. Anne Burley before her death at Hillsboro, O., contained $4200 in bonds, $80 in cash, 2 diamond rings and other valuable articles.

HAIL Insurance The New Deal

See us and let us explain this New Deal plan of writing your hail insurance. You pay, not cash, but a small percent of the estimated crop for the district you are in. If you will see us we will show you and explain the plan and you will be pleased. What you pay depends on the price per bushel of the crop insured, at harvest time or next fall. It costs you nothing to see us and learn all about it anyhow.

Says Her Husband Lost 16 Pounds In 4 Weeks

"I have never found a medicine that 'peeps' you up like Kruschen Salts and better still, leaves you 'pepped up'. I take it two or three times a week—not to reduce but merely to feel good and clean. My husband took it to reduce, he lost 16 pounds in 4 weeks." Mrs. E. A. Ferris, Washington, D. C. (December 29, 1932).
To lose fat and at the same time gain in physical attractiveness and feel spritful and youthful take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at any drug store in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully please you—money back.

A recent test of ball-bearings in railway locomotives revealed that 3 women of average strength could easily pull a 200-ton engine.

ALL WASTE PARTS REMOVED

Super Shell is higher in Anti-Knock than any Gasoline to which Ethyl has not been added!

"It certainly gives mileage."
"It's got wonderful pick-up."
"It's even better than you say!"

In all parts of the country the word's going round—"Change to Super Shell. It's better than ever and there's no more 3¢ premium!"

They're right. Super Shell always sold at 3¢ extra per gallon. Now it sells at the price of ordinary gas—and every car can now afford it—every motorist can now enjoy premium performance without paying extra.

112,327 of you motorists told us the qualities you wanted most in a gasoline. Super Shell has these qualities—

Instant starting, rapid-fire pick-up, surging power, and an anti-knock rating higher than any gasoline to which ethyl has not been added.

And especially, extra mileage. That's why everyone is saying: "Change to Super Shell!" It is colored golden for your protection. Results will prove to you why Super Shell is "TODAY'S BIG FAVORITE!"

● If you prefer an ethylized fuel, it is obtainable under the name of Super-Shell Ethyl—an improved gasoline with ethyl added. A double-premium gasoline at a single-premium price.

Sixteen members of the Arcadia Men's Cribbage club went to Comstock last Thursday evening where they were entertained by the Comstock Cribbage club. Arcadia lost by 160 points for the evening's play.

The May Festival given at the Community Park last Friday afternoon was attended by a large and appreciative audience. The festival was presented by the music department of the Arcadia public school and was directed by Miss Mildred Rife, assisted by a number of the grade teachers. The program included numbers by the boys chorus, eighth grade mixed chorus, girls glee club and by the orchestra. The cantata "A Rose Dream" was given by pupils of the lower grades. Leading parts were taken by Hope Milburn, Jeanette Gaither, Meredith Harris, Lucille Starr, Frances Milburn, Vivian Pester and Robert Mather. Large groups of children represented fairies, giants, elves, tulips, daisies, black-eyed susans, frogs, roses, buttercups and violets. The children were all gowned in fancy costumes adding interest and beauty to the scene. The program was splendid in every detail and much credit is due to the directors. Miss Freda Milburn acted as pianist.

The Junior-Senior banquet of the Arcadia high school was held at the Methodist church basement Friday evening, May 19th. The banquet room was decorated to represent the radio, using the class colors of blue and white for the color scheme. The pillar supports of the basement were wrapped with streamers of blue and white crepe paper and a large blue and white aerial was suspended across the center of the room. Four large dining tables were arranged in the form of a square and in the center of the square was a table profusely adorned with huge bouquets of lavender and white lilacs. Blue and white aerials were used as centerpieces on each table and blue and white candles were placed at each end of the tables. The favors were small blue radios containing candy. The white place cards were tied with blue ribbon and the menu and toast list was printed in a white booklet with a blue cover in the shape of a microphone. A large blue microphone was placed at one corner of the square and was used by the toastmaster and entertainers for broadcasting the program. The waitresses were eight girls chosen from the freshman and sophomore classes and they were dressed in white with cape collars and hair bands of blue. The banquet dinner was served by the ladies of the Methodist church.

Orvel Sorensen served as toastmaster and announced the following program: "Address of Welcome" Gerald Murray; "Response" Robert Jeffrey; "Juniors Broadcasting" Junior Aufrecht; "Tuning In" Audrey Whitman; "Programs" Lind Golden; "Listening In" Marguerite Rettenmayer; "Changing Stations" Coraly Lewin; "Seniors Signing Off" Paul Easterbrook. Much credit is due the class sponsor, Miss Elizabeth Haywood and the members of the junior class for the success of the banquet.

A very interesting display of trophies which the Arcadia school football and track and field teams have won in the past occupies a window at the Hastings furniture and jewelry store. There are trophies of the following: Loup Valley high school association, Football, 1932, Track and Field, 1931 and 1933, Relay Baton 1931 and 1933; Ericson Invitation Meet, 1929, 1931 and 1933, Relay Cup 1930 and 1933; Junior Division of Wrangler's Meet at Burwell, cup 1931 and 1932, relay 1931. The display rests upon a pennant which was awarded Arcadia for winning the relay at the Seven Valley meet at Callaway in 1931. It is interesting to note that all of the trophies with the exception of the Ericson invitation meet for 1929 have been won since Arnold Tuning became coach of athletics of the Arcadia school. Mr. Tuning in his four years with the Arcadia school has developed several outstanding athletes, who would no doubt, without the proper training and supervision passed unnoticed. Jared Berton Miller was born at Arcadia, Nebr. August 17, 1915. He was the only son of Bert and Beulah Miller who reside at 1513 West Third street, North Platte. The family came to North Platte in 1916. He was attending school at Torrington, Wyo. and would have graduated from the high school this spring. On April 30 he was stricken with appendicitis and taken to a hospital in Cheyenne, Wyo., where he died May 7, at the age of 17 years 8 months and 20 days. He is survived by his father and mother, his grandfather, J. Miller in Denmark and grandmother, Mrs. J. P. Ford and six uncles and five aunts. The mother is just recovering from an operation and could not attend the funeral services. Jared said to his father shortly before he died, "I have no regrets and I do not fear death for I have tried to live a good life and do things for which I would never be ashamed."

Baccalaureate services for the senior class of the Arcadia high school were held at the Methodist church Sunday evening. The church was filled to capacity. The prayer and scripture reading were given by Rev. R. O. Gaither, pastor of the Methodist church and the baccalaureate sermon was delivered by Rev. A. E. Rüdink, Congregational pastor. Music was furnished by a quartette composed of Miss Mildred Rife, Miss Edith Hranac, Horace Mott and H. D. Weddel. Commencement exercises will be held at the church this evening.

Harlow Freeman and grandson, Harlow Freeman of Buffalo, Wyo. spent the past week with friends and relatives in Arcadia. Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee and family of Fort Collins, Colo. drove to Hastings last Thursday where Mrs. Lee and baby remained to be with the former's mother, Mrs. Joel Moore who is ill. Dr. Lee and son Allen came to Arcadia Sunday for a visit with the former's parents, Dr. and Mrs. D. R. Lee. Dr. Lee returned to Fort Collins the first of the week leaving Allen for a visit with his grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Doe entertained at a dance at the Owls Roost Friday evening in honor of Mr. Doe's birthday. A lunch of ice cream, cake and coffee was served at the close of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Cash Routh entertained the members of the Arcadia school faculty, Messdames C. C. Thompson, Horace Mott and Cecil Weddel at a six o'clock dinner at their home Monday evening. Allen Hollingshead was taken to the University hospital at Omaha last week where an examination revealed that his limb, which he injured some time ago while pole vaulting, was getting along satisfactorily and he was allowed to return home instead of remaining for further treatment. He is now able to get around with the aid of crutches. D. E. McGregor of Gibbon, president of the Nebraska Central Telephone Co. was in Arcadia Saturday on business connected with the local telephone exchange. Miss Irene Downing will arrive in Arcadia Sunday from Long Pine to spend the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Downing. Irene has been re-elected to teach at Long Pine again next year. The eight members of the Afternoon Bridge club who held low score for the seasons playing entertained the remaining eight members at bridge at the home of Mrs. Belle Woll Tuesday afternoon.

Guy Holly was taken to Omaha last week for treatment at the University hospital. The cause of his illness has not yet been determined and has proved very baffling to the medical staff.

The Arcadia public school will close Friday for the summer vacation. Grade picnics will be held at the Community park.

Mrs. Love Jeffrey of Grand Island visited relatives in Arcadia this week, coming to attend the graduation exercises, her son, Robert being a member of the class.

The Ladies Aid society of the Methodist church will meet at the church basement Friday afternoon. The afternoon will be spent preparing a box to send to the Methodist hospital in Omaha.

Decoration day services will be held on the porch of the M. L. Fries home Tuesday afternoon at 2 p. m. Rev. M. M. Long of Dorchester will be the principal speaker. The Arcadia American Legion Auxiliary and the American Legion Post of Comstock will have charge of the services at the grave following the afternoon speaking.

A number of eighth grade pupils from the rural schools attended the eighth grade promotion exercises at Ord Tuesday.

Mrs. Frank Evans will dispose of her household goods at public sale at the sale barn Friday. Mrs. Evans and family expect to leave Wednesday for Elizabeth, New Jersey where they will make their home with Gerald Evans.

J. L. Dorsey left for Hampton Monday for a visit with relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Brady Masters returned from Grand Island Saturday where Mrs. Masters went through the clinic. She will return to Grand Island the latter part of this week for an operation.

Mrs. J. H. Marvel, Miss Maxine Marvel and Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne were Grand Island visitors last Thursday. Miss Mildred Clark and Hale Cook of Kearney were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen Sunday.

Wash Peters and son of Ord were in Arcadia Monday on business. Miss Esther Woodworth entertained the freshman class of the Arcadia high school, their sponsor, Horace Mott and Supt. Thompson at a party at her home Monday evening.

Mrs. Vernon Rosenquist of Omaha is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Cadwell. Miss Gladys McMichael entertained a number of young people at a farewell party at her home Monday evening in honor of Miss Lois Evans.

P. E. Clement of Omaha was a guest of his niece, Mrs. Ed Christensen last Friday. The majority of the rural schools closed last Friday for the summer months. Picnics were held the closing day.

Mrs. Christine O'Connor and family and Mrs. Jim Coons visited friends and relatives in Boelus Sunday.

The Arcadia Wonder Cribbage club met with Anton Nelson Monday evening. Charles Hollingshead moved into first place in the standings. Mrs. Nelson served a delicious lunch at the close of the evening.

Rev. R. O. Gaither and family have been granted a three weeks vacation from the former's duties as pastor of the Methodist church. They expect to leave next week for a visit with relatives in Nebraska and Missouri.

A. E. McGrew of Comstock has installed his skating rink on the Hawthorne lots one block east and two block south of the Standard oil filling station. The opening was held Saturday and was well attended.

Mrs. Ray Lutz entertained the pupils and teacher of District No. 4 at a picnic last Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Nora Marsh, Mrs. Carl Peterson of Sargent and Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGrew of Comstock were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bennett.

The Eastern Star ladies entertained at a farewell party at the Community park last Wednesday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Horace Mott. Each lady presented Mrs. Mott with a lovely handkerchief.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weekes and son of Chicago spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Weekes' father, Charley Hollingshead. They had been visiting Mrs. Weekes' grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead and other relatives at Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bennett and son and Mrs. Margaret Johnson of Sargent were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bennett Sunday evening. They were enroute home from Ravenna where they had spent the day with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Claus Franzen entertained about seventy-five relatives and friends at a miscellaneous shower at their home Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moore who were married May 10th. Mrs. Moore was formerly Miss Sophia Franzen. The couple were presented with a number of lovely gifts.

shank and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Brownie Barger.

Arcadia defeated Loup City at baseball Sunday in the Central Nebraska league by the score of 11 to 10. Charles Downing was on the mound for Arcadia and pitched a very good game.

Tire prices may never be so Low again!

GOODYEAR certainly makes it worth while for you to put money in tires now. Your dollars never bought tires to equal the quality, the safety, the mileage which Goodyear is today building in every tire wearing the Goodyear name—

And because Goodyear now concentrates on two main lines of tires—a real saving in costs is passed on to you.

Look at the present prices of the world's most popular tire, the Goodyear All-Weather — and the prices of the thrifty Goodyear Pathfinder — and you'll certainly agree, it's smart to buy Goodyears NOW— while prices are still down close to bottom, and your money buys more than it may ever buy again.
