VOL. 52 NO

PHONE COMPANY ORDERED TO CUT RATES AUGUST 1

R. R. Commission Heeds Ord Plea But Phone People Appeal To Supreme Court.

Taking favorable action in the Ord Chamber of Commerce's plea for a reduction of telephone rates in Ord, the Nebraska railway commission last Thursday ordered the Nebraska Continental Telephone company to reduce rates here August 1 and thereafter, the reduction varying from 50c per month on business phones to 10c per month on rural phones not owned by the company.

The order issued Thursday by the railway commission was signed by Commissioners Floyd Bollen and Hugh Drake. Chairman C. A. Randall agreed with Bollen and Drake in certain portions of the order but dissented in other portions. He refused to agree to reductions in switching charges to farm companies but the order was issued anyway because of the 2 to 1 vote against him.

Rural exchange rates on company-owned phones are ordered reduced from $1.50 per month to $1 per month, switching rates from $3.50 per month to $3.00 per month, rural phones not owned by the company from 50c per month to 40c per month, business phones in Ord from $3.50 per month to $3.00 per month, metallic residence phones from $1.75 per month to $1.50 per month and grounded residence phones from $1.50 per month to $1.25 per month.

The company also was directed to cease giving free toll service to North Loup and Burwell numbers from Ord and instead collect 10c per call. The statement issued by the commission says that evidence shows that only 25 per cent of the Ord patrons make use of this free service and that other patrons should not have to assist them in paying for it.

The commission's order was drawn by Commissioner Bollen and was based on Mr. Bollen's theory that "rates should be based on the value of service." Commissioner Drake, although disagreeing with this theory and expressing the belief that rates should be based so as to bring a fair return to telephone companies on their investment, signed the order anyway to test it out.

If the Nebraska Continental does not succeed in getting the commission's order overruled in the Supreme court, the Chamber of Commerce has won a big victory for telephone patrons of Ord and vicinity. For six months or more the Chamber, through Bert M. Hardenbrook and H. B. VanDecar as attorneys, fought for a reduction of this sort. At times the fight appeared hopeless but with the election of Commissioner Bollen last November new hope was given, as Bollen has long been an enemy of drastic rates as charged by corporations. The fight was climaxed by a public hearing held in Ord early in the spring at which time testimony was introduced to show that the telephone company has been charging too high rates here. This hearing was concluded in Lincoln a few days later and since then Ord people have been awaiting the commission's decision.

If the reduced rates go into effect August 1 as per the commission's order, Ord people will be saved about $150 per month, it is estimated. This saving will be increased by whatever amount is saved by rural telephone patrons. It is probable, however, that the reduction cannot become effective until the company's appeal is settled by the Supreme court, which may take several months.

H. T. Frazier, president, and Glen Auble, secretary of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, expressed themselves last Friday as being well pleased with the reduction ordered by the railway commission.

"It is not as much as we hoped for but is better than nothing," President Frazier said. He called attention to the fact that Attorneys Hardenbrook and VanDecar spent a great deal of time for many months in working on this case, that they did this work without pay, and that the gratitude of telephone users of this vicinity is due them.

Has Cheek Bone Crushed. While playing baseball at Clement's grove Tuesday morning Lawrence Mitchell of Davis Creek was struck in the cheek by a baseball and the cheek bone was crushed. He is being attended by Dr. H. N. Norris, who says that it may be necessary to operate to reduce the fracture.

Orchestra Car Wrecked. Hildebrandt & Kokes had engaged Bob Brown and his orchestra of Kearney to play for a dance at their Orchard Pavilion on July 4th and a large crowd of dancers were disappointed when the orchestra had a wreck enroute to Ord and could not get here. The Huggo orchestra filled in at the pavilion after their show in town closed at 11 o'clock.

Commerce Body Getting Inquiries About Popcorn

That popcorn may soon resume its rightful place as one of the North Loup valley's principle crops is indicated by the fact that the Ord Chamber of Commerce is again beginning to get inquiries about this grain. Two came this week from large users of popcorn, one from Toronto, Canada and the other from Chincinnati. Both were referred to the three Ord popcorn dealers, Dickinson Seed Company, Noll Seed company and Weckes Seed company.

In former years many inquiries came to the Ord commercial club but during 1931, 1932 and the early part of 1933 they quit entirely. Apparently there was such a small demand for popcorn that large users had no difficulty in supplying their needs.

Both of the letters, received by Secretary Glen Auble this week cited the fact that Valley county popcorn is of such high quality that it pops as it comes from the field, with very little drying treatment needed.

There is still a big surplus of popcorn but it looks as though the quality grain raised in this region will soon come into its own.

MIDDLE LOUP IS RE-APPROVED BY COCHRAN FRIDAY

Jones Out As Chief Engineer And District May Now Go Ahead And Get Federal Loan.

The Middle Loup power and irrigation project, with all legal entanglements now removed, is going ahead with plans for securing a federal loan and people of the Loup City, Arcadia and Comstock neighborhoods are jubilant. The district was re-approved Friday by State Engineer Roy L. Cochran and a state certificate of approval has been issued.

Engineer Cochran issued a statement saying that the district had rescinded the objectionable contracts which had led to cancellation of its certificate of approval, had filed a new engineering set-up and had agreed to make no commitments unless approved by the state engineer's office.

Details of the Middle Loup district's new engineering set-up were not made public at Lincoln but items in the Loup City paper last week indicate that D. E. W. Jones has been released as chief engineer and that the H. H. Henningson company, who drew the plans, will act in this capacity. Governor Bryan several weeks ago ordered the district's certificate of approval cancelled because of alleged objectionable contracts entered into with Jones and Attorney C. A. Sorensen. Whether Mr. Sorensen continues as attorney under the new set-up was not revealed.

The Middle Loup project now occupies substantially the same position as the North Loup project—both have been approved by the state, both have engineering details completed and both are ready to let contracts for construction whenever federal money becomes available.

Mr. Hardenbrook told the Quiz yesterday that an application for federal funds to carry out the North Loup project would be prepared immediately, even though the public works administrator for Nebraska has not yet been appointed by President Roosevelt. Mr. Hardenbrook expects to go to Lincoln tomorrow and meet the engineers, E. H. Dunmire and N. T. Veatch, Jr., and with them and C. A. Sorensen prepare the application for a federal loan. This application will be filed as soon as the administrator is named.

Married Forty Years Aged Woman Would Divorce Husband

On April 19, 1893, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Brannon were married in Ord and since then they have lived in North Loup, rearing a large family of children to manhood and womanhood. Last week in district court here Mrs. Brannon filed suit to divorce her husband, charging him with extreme cruelty. She is represented by Hardenbrook & Misko. She also asks that a court order to restrain her husband from molesting her be issued, as she claims he is a man of ungovernable temper and says that she fears for her life.

Publisher Returning Home. Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leggett and Kent Ferris, who have spent the past month in the Quiz publisher's cottage at Cullen Lake, near Nisswa, Minn., are expected to return home tomorrow. Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leggett and Mr. and Mrs. John Misko and son James will leave for Cullen lake to spend three weeks.

VALLEY COUNTY GETS RAIN AND HAIL THURSDAY

Rainfall Is Spotty But Most Of County Benefitted; Hail Does Some Damage.

A downpour of rain that ranged from 3 inches in portions of Eureka township to none at all in the vicinity of Arcadia visited Valley county late Thursday afternoon, the rain being accompanied by hail that did heavy damage in some neighborhoods. In Ord only .57 inches of moisture fell, bringing the June rainfall total of this community to 1.62 inches. No hail fell in Ord.

At North Loup about 1-4 inches of rain fell but at Jake Earnest's farm a short distance west the rain was recorded at 1.63 inches. Hail fell at the Earnest farm but did very little damage. Farther west on Davis Creek hail damaged small grains, set corn back severely and broke windows in some buildings.

In the Barker neighborhood hail stones as large as baseballs fell, it is claimed. Many windows were broken, hundreds of chickens were killed, some buildings were damaged and some stock injured by the big chunks of ice.

In Maiden Valley it is reported that only a quarter of an inch of rain fell, with no hail. At Elyria about an inch of rain is reported but a few miles north of there there was no moisture at all. At the Henry Vodehnal farm about an inch of rain fell.

Probably the most severe hail damage was in Midvale where halibuts as large as walnuts striped corn and did severe damage to other crops. Gardens suffered in all neighborhoods where hail fell.

Archie Geweke told the Quiz yesterday that in his neighborhood hail only set the corn back but in Midvale about one stalk in every four was cut off and would not come back. He estimated the crop damage in a limited area around Midvale at July 25 per cent.

The hail damage was restricted to comparatively small areas, however, and if timely rains come in July it seems certain that Valley county will raise a bumper crop. The early drought damaged corn not at all, most farmers agree.

The weather has been somewhat cooler since Thursday night's storm, although Friday and Saturday were very sultry. Yesterday was hot again, with prospects of rain.

PUNCOCHAR TOT STRUCK BY CAR, IS BADLY HURT

Six-Year-Old Girl's Left Foot Is Mangled When She Dodges In Front of Sorensen Car.

Darlene, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Puncochar, suffered painful injuries to her left foot Monday noon when she dodged in front of a car driven by Carl Sorensen and was run over. Taken at once to the Ord Hospital, the little girl was attended by Dr. J. G. Krumi.

With several other children, Darlene was playing in the yard of the Sorensen home Monday. The children were chasing each other around the house and ran into the Sorensen driveway just as Mr. Sorensen drove into it from the street. He saw the children too late to stop the car, even at the slow speed it was traveling, and Darlene's left foot was run over. The other children were not hit.

The girl's foot was terribly mangled, skin and flesh being stripped from one side of it and the tendons and ligaments being torn. It is feared that two of her toes may be permanently crippled.

New President Installed. J. A. Kovanda, elected recently as president of the Ord Rotary club, was installed Monday evening. Other new officers include Ed F. Beranek, vice president, Joseph P. 149 Delegates Attend Farm Holiday Meet

One hundred and forty-nine voting delegates attended the first state convention of the Farmers' Holiday association, Madison county plan, held last Thursday and Friday at the Sherman county fair grounds in Loup City. The convention was said to have been a great success.

Thirty-two farmers had been named as delegates from Valley county and 23 of them were present, Secretary E. S. Coats says. One of the local delegates, Frank Carkoski, was appointed a member of the resolutions committee.

State officers elected Friday were J. J. Schefcik, of Alliance, president; Carl Wiklund, of Loup City, vice president; Andrew Dahlsten, of Newman Grove, secretary-treasurer.

Speakers at the convention included Harry Lux, of Lincoln, Lem Harris, of Washington, D. C., Mother Bloor, militant female organizer from Iowa, Chas. Taylor, of Montana, Otto Frederickson, of Arkansas, Ed Richmond, share crop negro from Arkansas, and many others. Greetings from Holiday associations of other states were read.

The convention lasted throughout two days and ended with a monster picnic at the state park near Loup City Friday evening.

C. OF C. WILL TRY GET PAVING ON NO. 11 THRU ORD

Federal Funds Allotted to Nebr. Make It Possible; McGinnis Committee on the Job.

At a meeting of directors of the Ord Chamber of Commerce last Thursday evening it was decided to make an effort to have Highway No. 11 paved through the city of Ord, under the provisions of the Public Works act allotting several million dollars to be used in Nebraska for work of this kind. Dr. J. W. McGinnis and members of his highway committee will have charge of the campaign.

Highway No. 11 is a state and federal highway and under the provisions of the Public Works act it should be possible to have it paved through Ord, directors believe. A portion of funds allotted to Nebraska are set aside expressly for paving federal highways through municipalities.

Dr. McGinnis and other highway committeemen may make a trip to Lincoln this week to consult State Engineer Cochran and urge inclusion of paving through Ord in this summer's program.

Chamber of Commerce directors are also hopeful of securing inclusion of the state highway between Ord and Ericson in this summer's graveling program. Ericson road enthusiasts are said to be working toward this end, also.

Seth Parker Coming. SETH PARKER is coming to town. Yes, that most loved of all radio stars is to be impersonated at the M. E. church on Thursday evening, July 6 at 8:15, by the well known dramatic artist and singer, John Howard.

Mr. Howard is remarkably like Mr. Parker in his appearance, singing voice, and ability to tell the stories which have made that artist so famous. He will be assisted in his production by a full company of local artists and singers. "A Night in Jonesport" is the original setting of the radio Seth Parker programs.

Beautiful stage settings, the old familiar music and songs, and the interesting stories, together with the local interest attached, will make this one of the most delightful evenings of entertainment we have had in a long time. There will be a small admission charge of 10 and 15 cents. 15-1t

Alimony Defaulter On Bread and Water

Melvin Grier, of Wayne county, is in county jail serving a fifteen day sentence for contempt of court, the sentence being ordered Saturday by District Judge E. P. Clements when Grier was brought before him and charged with having failed to pay $15 per month alimony to his divorced wife, Vesta Grier of North Loup. The couple were divorced here last December and Grier was ordered to contribute $15 monthly toward the support of his wife and their child. He had paid only $5 in six months, his wife charged.

In sentencing Grier to jail Judge Clements ordered that the first five days and the last five days of his fifteen day sentence be served on a diet of bread and water. Upon his release he must immediately pay the alimony in arrears and make arrangements to pay regularly in future or he will be liable to another jail sentence.

Hugo Show in Ord. Harry Hugo and his players came to Ord from Burwell, where they had played a week and Monday they gave their first show in Ord and will be here all week. Hugo players put on clean shows and have been coming here for years.

CITY COUNCIL TO DISCUSS BEER AT JULY SESSION

Ordinance Must Be Passed Before City Licenses May Be Sold; Beer Legal Aug. 10.

When the Ord city council holds its July meeting tomorrow evening a momentous question will be up for decision. The meeting will not be a dry one, for the principle question to be settled involves beer, which becomes legal in Nebraska on August 10th.

Before anybody will be permitted to sell 3.2 beer in Ord he must purchase a city license and before said licenses may be sold the council must pass a city ordinance to fix the license price, fix the hours when beer may be sold, define the conditions under which it may be sold and fix the penalties for selling it in an illegal manner. The council meeting Friday night will be devoted principally to passage of such an ordinance.

Mayor Wm. H. Moses told a Quiz reporter this week that the city should not, in his opinion, tax beer heavily by fixing a high city license fee. The beverage is already being taxed heavily by the federal government, and by the state, he points out. A model city ordinance drawn up by attorneys for the Nebraska League of Municipalities is being studied by City Attorney Ralph W. Norman and, with minor changes, will probably be submitted for the council's approval.

No applications for city licenses to sell beer were on file with City Clerk Lucinda Thorne Monday but as soon as the machinery for issuing licenses is set up there will probably be several of them. Any licensee must be bonded in the amount of $500 and it was claimed Monday that the Ord agent of one bonding company had fourteen applications for bonds, indicating that there will be plenty of beer sellers to supply the demands of Ord's thirsty citizens.

ORD CELEBRATED SAFE AND SANE FOURTH OF JULY

Family Picnics At River, Parks And Clement's Grove Were Principle Features.

Ord celebrated a safe and sane 4th of July Tuesday, as is proved by the fact that not a single serious accident has been reported by Ord doctors. Family picnics at shady places near the river, in the Ord parks and at Clement's grove were the principle features of the day. Many Ordites spent the day fishing and a few visited Sargent, Taylor and other places where celebrations were in progress.

The largest crowd that gathered in the Ord neighborhood was at Clement's grove, where the most successful celebration in several years was held. The Ord band played there during the afternoon and Representative Marlon J. Cushing delivered the principle address in an enjoyable program.

Two baseball games were held, Davis Creek beating Mira Valley 10 to 9 in a ten-inning clash in the morning and Ord beating Mira Valley 10 to 7 in the afternoon. Races, sports of various kinds and a huge picnic dinner rounded out the celebration.

Bounced from Rumble Seat. Recently Kenneth Brecken underwent an experience he would not care to repeat. He was returning to his home in Comstock after attending a dance near Ord and was alone in the rumble seat of a car belonging to C. L. Brundson. When the car turned a corner six miles from Comstock Kenneth was thrown out and other people in the car did not miss him until they reached town. They started back after him. He was not badly injured and had walked about a mile and a half on the homeward way. Kenneth says no more rumble seats for him.

Popular Couple Married. Friday Miss Helen Schauer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Schauer of Olean and Arthur Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Jensen, were married in St. Paul, Nebr. Charlie Bals Writes. An interesting letter from Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Bals, Ordites who are spending the summer in Belgium, will be found on page two of this issue of the Quiz. Readers will hope for more such interesting communications from Mr. Bals' pen.

Mrs. David Wigent was called to Garfield county Saturday to see her aged parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pacas. They were both ill but are improved.

Arcadia Boy Lands 36-Lb. Salmon In Alaska

Arcadia, July 5.—(Special)—Sportsmen of this village have been landing a few seven and eight pound fish in the Middle Loup river recently but Wallace Doe, Arcadia boy who is vacationing at Red Bluffs Bay, Alaska, writes that he landed a 36-pound and a 24-pound King salmon in a recent day's fishing. He also said that deer and bear are plentiful and that he would soon be off on a bear hunt.

Wallace is a son of Percy E. Doe, owner of the Electric Theatre, and Lorena W. Doe, postmistress of this village. He has spent several vacations fishing and hunting in different parts of the United States and spent some time in Wyoming and Washington before leaving for Alaska.

Arcadia people are following with interest Wallace's adventures in the far northern region.

RETIRED MAIL CARRIER DIES HERE JULY 4TH

Walter White, Who Served Route 1 Patrons 17 Years, Passes; Funeral Friday.

Walter Scott White was born at Clinton, Wisconsin, September 18, 1858, and in that vicinity he grew to young manhood, attending the common schools and learning the trade of cigar maker. In 1879 he came to Valley county, Nebr., and settled in Springdale near the present site of Sumter, where he was engaged for many years in farming.

Among the acquaintances of his youth was Miss Anna A. Logan, who, with her parents, came to southern Nebraska, and on August 2, 1881, became his bride at Ord. The home of these two in Springdale was for many years a delightful meeting place for friends and relatives.

Three children were born to them, all surviving him. These are Dr. George M. of Lewistown, Mont., Scott L. of Kimball, Nebr., and Helen R. Godell of Schuyler, Nebr.

For 17 years he served as mail carrier on rural route 1, retiring at the age of 65.

He moved to Ord in 1907 where his home was until his death, in the early morning of July 4, 1933, at his home in Ord. For ten years or more his health has been failing, but serious sickness began about three weeks ago.

The deceased acquired many warm friends during his long residence in Valley county, the writer being one of them. During the past two years our associations have been very intimate, during which time many excellent qualities of the man were disclosed which the fifty years of prior acquaintance had not revealed.

He was a devoted husband, fully appreciating the merits of his capable wife, his devotion being not slackened by the 11 years which have lapsed since her death. He was a fond father and was careful to see that his little estate was carefully preserved for his children. He was a keen observer and his remarkable memory was stored with interesting and instructive incidents in the lives of his Springdale neighbors and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott White and Mr. and Mrs. John Godell are here and George and family are expected to arrive today.

The funeral is expected to be held Friday from the Methodist church.

KOELLING HEIR BRING SUIT TO DIVIDE ESTATE

Charge Wife of Henry Koelling Exercised Undue Influence Got All of His Property

In district court here this a law suit was filed that pro to develop into a real court session. The suit concerns the estate of Henry Koelling, who died on May 12, 1933, means of survivorship deeds, the other heirs charge were proved by undue influence when Koelling was of unsound mind, widow Emma Koelling, in the entire estate.

The other heirs are sisters, brothers of the late Mr. Koelling and include Augusta L. Geis, Carl W. Koelling, Herman Koelling, Alvina L. Lenz, Anna Cook, Elsie E. Shoemaker and Iam R. Koelling.

It is alleged that when Henry Koelling committed suicide in 1911 he was the owner of all of block 5, Hillside addition to a part of lot 5, block 21. In addition, the east half of the southwest quarter of section 35, township 18, and the northeast quarter and the east half of the southwest quarter of section 10, township 18, all of the real estate being located in Valley county.

The heirs claim that on August 25, 1932 Mr. Koelling, because of the undue influence exerted by wife, deeded all of the above described real estate to Curtis B. munsden and that the latter deeded it back to Henry Koelling and ma Koelling by survivorship deed which provided that whichever lived the other should own the property.

It is claimed that Mr. Gudmundsen had no real interest in transaction and was employed as a medium to the transfer.

Henry Koelling, his brothers, sisters claim, was in weak, sickly condition on and August 25, 1932, was easily influenced, was of unsound mind, was wholly incompetent to transact business. They claim that married life with Emma Koelling was not a happy one, that she quarrelsome and dominating that she influenced him unduly, induced him to make the transfer described above.

By means of this transfer, Koelling is alleged to have into possession of all her husband's property instead of only the interest to which a widow is entitled.

The heirs elect not to claim title to or interest in lot 7, block 5, Hillside addition, which was Koelling homestead but asking court to enjoin Mrs. Koelling administratrix of her husband's estate from selling or encumbering any of the other real estate, ask that the court cancel and null the transaction in which Gudmundsen figured as a medium and cause the estate to be divided on a legal basis.

Davis & Vogelanz of Ord of the firm of Cleary, Suhr and of Grand Island are acting as attorneys for the Koelling heirs, their suit against Mrs. Koelling.

Drought Killed Pheasants. Farmers claim the June drought and extreme hot weather has ead off a large number of pheasants. It is thought the absence of dew during the month has caused a lack of mol which was needed by the birds. However, there seem to be plenty of the older pheasants.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Letter From Belgium

Dear Mr. Leggett: It is 3 weeks today that we landed in Belgium, and up till now we have received only one copy of the Quiz.

We had a lovely trip from Ord to New York. We made good time and had no trouble at all.

We left New York on the 19th of May on the S. S. Pennland, which took the northern road.

We landed at Antwerp on May the 29th at 7 a. m. and were met by our relatives later in the forenoon.

Conditions in Belgium are bad. The whole is running the country, making the labor class real worthless men and women.

Industry suffers terribly by this, as they have to pay more and more taxes right along and they cannot make it.

On arrival where the lighting left nothing to the imagination, it appeared that the mother of one of the girls was included in the group.

Can you imagine the embarrassment ensuing? The widowers did not know what to do.

Ob, what a sour climax to a was-to-have-been frothy party!

I am all for fewer, cooler, more comfortable and gayer-colored clothes for men, as I set forth for you-all a week or two ago.

Our sufferings during the war taught us to be patient, they say, although I am afraid they are not over the worst as yet.

With very best regards to yourself and all our friends. We are Sincerely yours,

P. S. Today we drove all through the country. The crops look fine and they say that the prospects are good all over.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

I need recipes and I need them at once if this column is to continue to be published in The Quiz.

Please send your recipes in today. Send in good recipes but do not send in those you have already seen printed in here several times with varied signatures.

Grind through the food chopper two large heads of cabbage, eight carrots, five red sweet peppers, six onions.

One of the neighbors who is usually inspired just dropped in to suggest a breechcloth.

cup milk, salt and pepper. Mix all together, bake in a buttered dish forty-five minutes. Serves six. Mrs. O. E. Wesenberg, Omaha.

Wash, scrape and cut a large bunch of carrots in small pieces, slice two onions and cook together until tender.

Sour Cream Raisin Cake. Mix one cup sour cream with one cup sugar, add two beaten egg yolks.

Bring to the boiling point one pint of buttermilk, stir in enough cornmeal to make a mush.

While Mrs. Burrows was out of town a few days recently at Pipel Lake, her husband, Guy Burrows, arranged for a most unusual surprise for her.

Not many minutes after Mrs. Burrows departed, all unsuspecting, carpenters appeared with their equipment and a lot of new lumber was stacked up for use.

I believe the H. T. Frazier family must hold the title for being the most movingest family in town, for the length of time they've been here.

Not long ago some married men who were temporarily wifeless insisted on a group of young ladies coming over to the home of one of the gentlemen for a party.

On arrival where the lighting left nothing to the imagination, it appeared that the mother of one of the girls was included in the group.

Can you imagine the embarrassment ensuing? The widowers did not know what to do.

400 Telephones Installed During the Past Month. During the past month we have installed more than 400 telephones. A number of these telephones have been placed in farm homes in the 14 counties of Nebraska in which we operate. During the past year many people have had their telephone service discontinued in an attempt to reduce expenses. Most of these people have found that such action has robbed their homes of a service for which there is no substitute and in an emergency its value is priceless. Now that conditions are better and the prospects for the future are brighter, people everywhere are having their telephones reconnected, and put back into service. Governor Bryan last week gave formal approval to the Sutherland and North Loup irrigation and power projects. The former project is now legally entitled to ask the federal government for a loan of $4,800,000 and the latter for $2,300,000 for construction of reservoirs, canals and power plant. It is likely that the Columbus project and the Middle Loup projects will also gain the necessary approval early in July.

Nebraska has been allotted $7,800,000 of federal funds under the Industrial Recovery Act for highway construction. Bids will be called for soon on new road projects in the state. It is understood that the governor is asking a minimum wage of 40 cents per hour for common labor and 60 cents for skilled labor. In view of the advancing cost of living and the short working hours on the federal projects, this is deemed a fair wage.

Chairman Randall of the Railway Commission has brought suit in a test case to force the state treasurer to sign his quarterly salary warrant. The recent legislature passed a law reducing salaries of constitutional officers. The point sought in this test case is whether or not the salary reductions will be immediately effective or will not be in force until present terms of present officers expire. The supreme court unanimously held that the legislature is without power to reduce salaries of constitutional officers during the term for which they are elected.

The Nebraska manufacturers association held a session in Lincoln last week to consider their course of action in cooperating and taking advantage of the provisions of the new Industrial Recovery Act. A committee was named to confer with the governor and start work on preparation of a code under which the various industries would operate. The Industrial Recovery Act has as its primary purpose the adoption of fair wage and hour agreements, increase in employment and elimination of unfair competition in industry. It proposes to place all business on a profitable basis with more and better paid employees as a means of bringing the country back to prosperous conditions. While the act contemplates action in all industries it will first affect the five major industries of the United States.

Officials from the extension service of a number of mid-western states met at Kansas City last week with federal officials to learn the details of the wheat allotment plan. It is planned that in the larger wheat producing states, of which Nebraska is one, that county and smaller group meetings of farmers will be held to explain the plan and secure their cooperation. The plan contemplates that in states where a majority of farmers sign agreements for crop reduction, benefit payments for the reduced acreage will be based on consumption of wheat. Definite details as to the amount of benefit payments and percentage of acreage reduction will be announced after the primary work on the project is completed.

The state treasurer has announced collections of gas tax for month of June amounting to $675,814 as compared with $665,211 in May and $712,571 in June of last year.

Because of a moratorium act by the recent legislature and at the demand of lessees all state lands are to be reappraised by the state land commissioner. The commissioner has compiled a tabulation showing the present acreage of state land in each county with the present appraised values. The state started with 2,979,865 acres and now has 1,587,000 acres under lease. There are 5,665 persons holding 7,500 leases. The total appraised value is now $6,292,502. Cherry county is first in the list, having 232,770 acres of state school lands under lease, the average value there being $2.22 per acre with 800 lessees. The lowest counties are Douglas and Saunders, each having 40 acres under lease, the average appraisement in Saunders being $12.50 per acre, with 1 lessee and in Douglas $50 per acre and 1 lessee. York county has the highest single appraised value of $80 per acre, with an average of $49 and 873 acres.

A state commission has been appointed by Governor Bryan to meet with the governors of Colorado and Wyoming for a discussion of interstate water rights involving appropriations from the Platte river. The commission is composed of Attorney General Good, State Engineer Cochran, R. H. Willis of Bridgeport, chief of the state irrigation bureau, H. L. Williams of North Platte, president of the state irrigation association, and R. O. Chambers of Minatare, president of the Pathfinder irrigation district. The meeting will be held in Denver on July 14.

J. N. Norton, former democratic representative from Nebraska, has been appointed as field representative of the farm relief administration.

The state normal board has effected a reduction of salaries to apply to all state normal schools. Present salaries at the four schools, located at Peru, Kearney, Chadron and Wayne, amount to $602,827. Effective with the new school year, this total will be reduced to $481,203, or a little more than 20 percent. Athletic expenses of the four schools were reduced and the new rules concerning conference games adopted.

The order by Secretary Wallace for elimination of market news service of the department of agriculture has been rescinded and plans have been announced for the continuance of the service on a greatly reduced basis. The plan as announced was to abolish the service entirely and save $1,300,000. Under the new plan the cost of the service will be limited to $575,000 for the year.

Not long ago the bureau on Indian affairs issued an order for the closing of the Indian school at Genoa. However, this order has now been modified and the school, along with a number of others in the country, will be maintained but on curtailed basis. The number of students at the schools will be reduced.

A delegation of thirty men from northwestern Nebraska called at the capitol last week in the interests of improving highway 20, covering a distance of about 150 miles west from O'Neill to the Wyoming line. Future road plans for this state will not be revealed until after the return of the federal district engineer from Washington.

We made a statement in these columns last week to the effect that the revenue from beer would approximate 280 million dollars annually if sales continued at the April-May rate. According to figures made public later, this was an error. Beer taxes for twenty-three days in April amounted to $9,138,863 and for May 11,536,026. At that rate, the total annual revenue would exceed $133,000,000.

Nebraska officers have been holding up gas trucks along the southern boundary of the state against the failure of importers of the gas to show bonds and licenses. The director of the gas tax and inspection department reports that 197 dealers out of about 800 in this state have not yet obtained licenses.

The American federation of labor estimates that unemployment has declined by over one million since March 1. During the month of May more than 95,000 persons returned to work. The federation estimates that 12,500,000 people were still on the unemployed list at the end of May.

Irrigation in the eastern part of this state has been virtually unknown until this year. Because of the prolonged drought farmers are resorting to makeshift irrigation arrangements to save potatoes, alfalfa and corn.

The federal treasury will issue checks on July 1 for more than $6,000,000 to 183,000 men working in the conservation camps and their families. The men will receive an average of $5 each and each family $25.

The federal reserve board reports that 5,536 of the 6,699 federal reserve member banks have been licensed to reopen on a normal basis, thereby freeing more than 26 billion dollars of their combined deposits of 28 billions prior to the bank holiday in March. Total money in circulation was 170 million dollars larger at the end of May than at the end of January. The bulletin issued by the board says a part of this increase reflects the recent growth in business activity.

The federal reserve bank of Chicago announces that slaughtering establishments in creased their business 12-1-2 percent in May over that of April, it being 14 percent greater than in May of last year, and 11-1-2 percent greater than the past year's monthly average.

The following article was taken from the Grand Island Independent: "Oscar Thelander, octogenarian and a resident of Nebraska since 1871, died at 8:10 o'clock Friday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. E. Boblett, 404 East Eighth street. He had been ill for the past year and for the past three months had been cared for at the Boblett home. Mr. Thelander was born in Stockholm, Sweden, Nov. 9, 1850, being 82 years of age at the time of his demise. When 12 years of age, he emigrated to the United States, taking up his residence with an uncle in Illinois. In 1871 he moved to Swedeholm, Neb., where he united with the Lutheran church, of which he since has been a faithful member. In February of 1885 he was united in marriage to Miss Ida Peterson, a union to which eleven children were born. For the past 23 years he resided in the vicinity of Arcadia, engaged as a farmer. His wife preceded him in death on June 13, 1924, also a son, Victor. Left to mourn his passing are seven daughters, Mrs. J. H. Swanson of Osceola, Mrs. O. M. Youngquist of Hector, Minn., Mrs. E. E. Boblett and Mrs. Laverne Crabtree of this city, Mrs. J. C. Hogue of Branson, Mo., Mrs. A. Pearson of Arcadia and Mrs. M. W. Graham of York; three sons, Carl, Joe and Henry of Arcadia, also 23 grandchildren and one great-grandchild; a brother, Otto at Swedeholm and a host of other relatives and friends. Funeral services will be held at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in the Lutheran church at Swedeholm, with burial beside the grave of his wife in the Swedeholm cemetery." Mrs. M. A. Pearson and family, Joe Thelander and family and Henry Thelander and family of Arcadia attended the funeral services which were held Sunday.

He was free, but Gorbelt also was free, and scrambling towards the stove, stooping over to retrieve the pistol. He gave a cry of triumph as he whirled, weapon in his hand. He brought the muzzle to his mark but as he pulled he ducked because an ax was swinging towards him, flung hastily and none too surely. A man on his knees cannot seize an ax and fling it all in one movement and be sure. But it was good enough. The tongue of flame spurted wide and Gorbelt fell heavily as the ax head caught him full on the hip. John was on his limp body in an instant. He had the hands crossed on the small of the man's back, pinned there by a knee as he stripped his own belt from his waist. He felt the other struggle slightly as he took the first hitch about those hands, and he struggled harder in a second. . . but it did him no good. He might curse and threaten and thresh the floor with his body. He was bound securely. He was through!

CHAPTER XIV

John found her cowering against the wall. He lifted her slowly to her feet. "It's all right, Ellen!" he said gently. "It's all over!" He led her out into the wrecked room, which showed Paul Gorbelt, bound hand and foot in a chair, leaning forward, sobbing, straining with futile movements against his bonds. The man looked up then. He stared at them with glazed eyes. "That's what you wanted!" he croaked. "That's what you wanted!"—nodding at them as they stood John supporting the girl by an arm about her shoulders. "That's why you came, eh?" "No, Gorbelt, I didn't know, or it would have been why. I came with a warrant that Nat Bradshaw tried to serve. . . And there'll be another for you by now. For murder, maybe, Gorbelt—" "Murder? Murder?" His voice was shrill and he wrenched his wrists against the unyielding belt. "No, no! That can't be. . . No murder. Mistake, I'll tell you, Belknap! D—n mistake!" "Tell you"—licking his lips. "I'll tell you. . . I'll trade with you Belknap. . . John, I'll trade. You got her now. . . She's yours, when she knows. . . I'll trade you what I know for this warrant you talk about! . . . Let me loose. . . I'll tell everything." "I'm not going to untie you, Gorbelt," John said evenly while he watched as one fascinated the play of desperation on that wretched countenance and felt Ellen press close to him. "Oh, yes you will!" Tears sprang to Gorbelt's eyes. "I'll give you all you want now, for just a moment's start! I'll go away; I'll stay. . . I'll never bother you again. You can go to your father then, and tell him you found out what he couldn't. Great man, old Tom; smart. But you'll be smarter than he. . ." He licked his lips again. "See? It'll give you prestige; that's what you want now. . . after Ellen, there. Prestige with the

Cushing Mentioned As Governor Candidate

Earl C. Cushing, chairman of the republican central committee in Lancaster county, last week received 2,600 letters from party workers over the state in which potential candidates for state office in 1934 were mentioned. In the list of possible candidates for governor was Marlon J. Cushing of Ord, who had been suggested by several workers as a strong candidate. Mr. Cushing has never indicated that he will be a candidate for gubernatorial honors and is still keeping silent, although his name has been mentioned number of times. He was probably the most influential member of the lower house of the Nebraska legislature last session. Others mentioned to Chairman Green as possible candidates for governor included Dwight Griswold, of Gordon, Kenneth S. Wherry, of Pawnee City, E. B. Perry, of Lincoln, Charles J. Warner, of Waverly, and Hugh Butler of Omaha.

Business Recovery Campaign

June 15 - July 15, 1933. Orders have been received for the installation of more than 200 new telephones since June 15 according to District Manager Johnson of the Nebraska Continental Telephone Company. These new subscribers have been secured by telephone employees during the past two weeks of sales work during which special offers were made to secure new customers and will continue until July 15. "We are impressed with the optimistic viewpoint of the people we have called upon," reports District Manager Johnson, "many of our orders for telephone service, especially in the rural areas, have been received because the service is needed in order that farmers may take advantage of increased prices in farm commodities. "We are going to do our part in bringing back better times by making certain that everyone who wants a telephone has an opportunity to order it now," states District Manager Johnson. Employees of the Company will continue to call on the people in the territory in which they operate for the next two weeks.

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1933.

VOL. 51 NO. 16

OFFICERS CHOSEN FOR NORTH LOUP VALLEY DISTRICT

Hardenbrook Is President, Barta Secretary; District Is Now Legal Sub-Division.

The North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District is now a legally organized subdivision of the state of Nebraska, with power to issue revenue bonds as collateral for a federal loan.

Last Wednesday evening in Ord the formal organization meeting was held with all of the eleven directors present. Officers were chosen, committees appointed, by-laws adopted, engineers employed and other necessary business transacted.

Bert M. Hardenbrook, who was instrumental in starting the talk of irrigation for the North Loup valley, was elected president of the district. Roy Hudson, North Loup lumberman, is vice president; Jos. P. Barta of Ord is secretary and Harry Doran of Burwell is treasurer. Other directors are Royal C. Bailey, Ord; Ralph Brownell and Luther Pierce, Burwell; Charles Newbecker, Taylor, E. A. Holub, Elyria, Chas. Bridges and W. O. Zangger, North Loup. Officers' salaries were not fixed but all directors will draw pay at $6 per day actually spent in working for the district or attending meetings, the pay being conditional upon the district obtaining a federal loan and the power and irrigation project being carried out.

Duties of the various officers were defined in by-laws passed Wednesday evening.

Officers were authorized to enter into a contract with Black & Veatch, of Kansas City, employing them as engineers for the project at a fee not to exceed 5 per cent of the total cost of the project. This action is subject to approval by State Engineer R. L. Cochran and Governor Chas. W. Bryan.

President Hardenbrook and the engineers were appointed as a committee to negotiate for the sale of electric current created by the project and a resolution introduced by Director Bridges and passed unanimously provided that power shall be sold to the highest bidder, after necessary needs of the district are taken care of.

C. A. Sorensen, attorney of Lincoln, was appointed counsel for the district for the purpose of making application for federal funds. Whether he will act as attorney for the district in other legal work will be determined in future.

President Hardenbrook went to Lincoln last Friday and met Attorney Sorensen and two members of the Black & Veatch firm, E. H. Dunmire and N. T. Veatch, jr., and Saturday the four men prepared the district's application for a federal loan of $2,900,000 or whatever amount is deemed necessary to build the power and irrigation systems.

This application was scheduled to be filed with the public administrator for Nebraska as soon as the latter was appointed by President Roosevelt. There will probably be no future developments until army engineers have inspected the proposed project and the public administrator has ruled upon its feasibility, which may require three or four weeks.

MUCH-LOVED ORD MOTHER PASSES AWAY TUESDAY

Mrs. James G. Hastings Dies At Family Home; Funeral To Be Held Today.

Maud Petty Gray was born March 7, 1873 at Pittsburgh, Pa., coming to Nebraska with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Moore Gray in 1884.

She lived with her parents on the farm in Mira Valley until June 15, 1893 when she was married to James G. Hastings and returned to Pittsburgh where they made their home for a number of years.

In the spring of 1908 Mr. and Mrs. Hastings with their two daughters returned to Nebraska, taking up their residence on the old Gray farm in Mira Valley. This was their home until seven years ago when they moved to Ord. Mrs. Hastings was taken to her heavenly home on the afternoon of July 11, 1933.

She leaves to mourn her going her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Wm. M. Ollis and Mrs. James B. Ollis, both of Ord, one daughter, Alice B. having died in infancy; one sister, Mrs. Scott L. White of Kimball; two brothers, Robert R. Gray of Lincoln and Wilmore Gray of Kimball; six grandchildren and many other relatives and friends.

Funeral services will be held at the home in Ord at 2:30 today, Thursday, July 13, with her pastor, Rev. Real in charge of the services. Funeral Director Frazier has the funeral. The friends present will be dismissed following the services at the house and a private burial will be had later in the day.

SUNDAY RESULTS IN LOUP VALLEY BASEBALL LOOP

Wolbach, Scotia and the North Loup Teams Add to Their Win Columns.

Old man "Hook" Duryea was in old-time form Sunday and held the Ord baseballers to four hits and no runs while his mates collected a total of 13 hits and 8 runs off the delivery of "Dutch" Clement, new Ord twirler. Duryea held the Ord boys in check at all times, striking out 11 and allowing only one base on balls. The Ord boys not only failed to hit but made seven errors behind Clement, keeping him in trouble a good share of the time.

In the other Loup Valley league games Wolbach won from Greeley 8 to 3 and North Loup continued their winning streak by beating St. Paul 5 to 3.

Man Whose Case Baffled Doctors Dies Near Omaha After Long Illness

Henry Koelling Left $40,000 To All Heirs

That Henry Koelling, who committed suicide on May 12, 1933, left securities and personal property to the value of approximately $40,000, besides the real estate over which court action is being had, is the statement made last Friday by Ralph W. Norman, of the law firm of Munn & Norman, who are representing Mrs. Emma Koelling, his widow. The $40,000 in mortgages and personal property will be divided equally between Mrs. Koelling and the other heirs as provided by law, Mr. Norman says. Only the real estate is in dispute, he says.

Mrs. Koelling's answer to the suit filed last week by her husband's brothers and sisters will be filed in district court soon.

Ord Kittenball Teams Start Play This Week

For several weeks it has been rumored that Ord would have a kittenball league this summer but not until this week did it get under way in earnest. A four-team league has been organized and started play Monday night when the court House Rats defeated the Barbers, 28 to 9. The Rats had the edge all the way through do in part to the twirling of Ayres and the home run hitting of Dave "Bambino" Haught and others. The Barbers, gathered together for the first time, plainly showed that they will be a good aggregation if they can get a little teamwork.

Tuesday evening the High School team, managed by Coach Molzen, trimmed the Sinclair Hot-Shots, 14 to 8.

Games Next Monday and Tuesday evening will be played between The Court House Rats and the High School and The Barbers and Hot Shots.

The ground south of the Bohemian hall has been leveled off and otherwise put in shape by the kittenballers and it is planned to hold all games at this location.

So much enthusiasm has arisen that it may be necessary to enlarge the league and add a few teams. Several organizations are now planning teams.

Coryell Oil Company Opening Station Here

Mention was made in the Quiz a couple of weeks ago, of the removing of the old feed mill south of the Ford Garage but at that time it was impossible to learn what was going on the corner, one of the best in town. It now develops that the Coryell Oil Company has secured the location and will open their new filling station there Saturday of this week. An announcement of the event will be found in this week's paper.

The manager for the new station is to be Kenneth Leach, who is and has been on the job superintending the erection of the station. He will be assisted for the present by Frank Sershen. Mr. Leach is not a stranger to many Valley county people, as he was raised in the Davis Creek country. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Leach, who live at Clarks at present. Mr. Leach is a pleasant young gentleman to meet and we trust his opening Saturday, will be pleasing to him.

BEER ORDINANCE IS PASSED FRIDAY BY CITY COUNCIL

City to Rebate Part of Water Bills for This Quarter; Other Important Measures Decided.

The city council meeting last Friday night was important and a full report will be found in the proceedings printed in this paper. An allowance on water bills by the city will be good news to many Ordites, who are not only glad to have the saving but also to know that their city finances are in such a flourishing condition that this rebate is possible.

Probably the beer ordinance will hold greater interest for many than anything else. A complete copy of the beer ordinance will be found on page 6. Read it carefully. When the Quiz inquired Tuesday there were no applications on file at the office of the city clerk for licenses but necessary blanks for bonds, etc. have been secured now and no doubt many applications will be made in the next few weeks. There is not likely to be any scarcity of places where the new 3.2 beverage can be bought, either by the glass, case or keg when the legal date for sale arrives. It is believed that fifteen or more permits will be asked for in Ord.

One matter that is important to Ordites, is the dog license matter. Many Ord dogs are not yet provided with city tags to show that their 1933 license has been paid.

Medical Profession Unable To Diagnose Case; Funeral Held at Arcadia Yesterday.

Guy M. Holly, 31, Arcadia, whose strange case baffled all members of the medical profession who observed, died Sunday at the home of his sister, Mrs. Oscar Lowe of Honey Creek, Ia., from what an autopsy revealed as "multiple abscesses of the liver and terminal peritonitis."

Holly, taken ill in March, entered a hospital at Grand Island on April 3. He was released after four weeks of observation, when the doctors were unable to determine his trouble. After staying home two weeks, he entered the University hospital in Omaha, where he remained off and on until July 5, when he was taken to the home of his sister.

At first he was thought to have been suffering of Malta fever, and then later of some obscure tropical disease, but both of these diagnoses proved untrue. His case in some respects resembled what is known as "relapsing fever." The unusual aspects of the case excited the medical profession.

He is survived by his wife, Pearl, a 9-month-old son, Jesse, and two sisters, Mrs. Walter Gilbert of Oklahoma City, and Mrs. Oscar Lowe of Honey Creek, Ia.

Funeral services were held yesterday at Arcadia.

BLESSING PARTY HAS SERIOUS CAR ACCIDENT

Strike Bad Spot in Road, Car Rolls Over Three Times; Was Wrecked Badly.

Last Saturday evening as "Dutch" Blessing and wife, his brother Clinton of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Miller of Grand Island, were driving to the Emil Kokes farm southwest of Ord to a dance, the Blessing car struck a bad spot in the road and rolled over three times. All the occupants were more or less injured and the car, a brand new Plymouth that "Dutch" bought a week before, was badly wrecked.

At first it was thought "Dutch" Blessing had a broken back but it develops that it was a dislocation, with the ligaments of one leg badly torn loose and he will be confined to his bed for several days. Mrs. Blessing and Mrs. Miller escaped with numerous cuts and bruises, Paul Miller has a broken rib and a badly cut leg and Clinton Blessing has a broken rib and numerous cuts and bruises. But for the fact that the car is a steel body car, no doubt the accident would have been a terrible tragedy. Both doors were torn from the car, all glass was broken out except the small glass in the rear and the body was badly twisted. A new body may be required, though the car was taken to Grand Island to see if repairs could be made. "Dutch" is hoping that the old saying is true that the third time is the charm, for this is the third near car he has had wrecked inside of 30 days after buying it.

Thinks Corn Crop Sure. Orin Kellison, prominent Mira Valley farmer and former county commissioner, was in the Quiz office Tuesday and when asked how the corn was looking, replied that the prospect for a good crop was the best he had ever seen. He said he had 265 acres, 70 acres of which was damaged with hail some time ago but he said that 70 acres looked like it might make a much better crop than he had raised in recent years. The balance of his acreage, he said, was shoulder high, tasseling and shooting and he thought there was plenty of moisture to complete the tasseling and shooting process in fine shape and he said that one more good rain, later, to make it fill, would insure a bumper crop.

Attend Managers' Meeting. Joe Puncocar, local Food Center manager, and Bill Sheehan, meat cutter for the same firm, spent Monday in Clay Center and Hastings, attending a meeting of Food Center managers. The men left Ord early Monday and drove to Clay Center where they spent the forenoon visiting KMMJ and meeting other managers. In the afternoon the entire group went to Hastings where a general meeting was held, ending with a big banquet at the Alexander hotel in the evening.

Jolly Sisters are holding their next meeting in the country home of Mrs. I. C. Clark.

An advertisement appears in this issue, warning dog owners that they must comply with the city ordinance at once or lose their dog and the Quiz is giving all the information and urging all to read the mayor's advertisement, so that no Ord child may have to grieve because a loved pet is missing.

PROSPECTS FOR FEDERAL LOAN LOOK PROMISING

Norris Strongly Favors Nebraska Projects; Will Urge Early Inspection and Financing.

In another column will be found a story regarding the organization of our power and irrigation district. That story was written by the editor before he left. Since then Mr. Ickes, cabinet officer in President Roosevelt's cabinet, has been appointed by the president to direct the public works program, under which our project comes. Mr. Ickes is a progressive republican from Illinois. He owes his appointment, no doubt, to Senator Norris, who is very strongly in favor of these Nebraska projects if the engineers pronounce them feasible, which we have no doubt will be done in our case. Mr. Ickes is also a friend of C. A. Sorensen.

Now this seems to be the situation, as this writer sees it, since studying the matter the past few days. Senator Norris will not recommend anything that smacks of pork barrel but he will strongly urge the financing of the North Loup, Middle Loup and other Nebraska projects if the army engineers pronounce them feasible and his influence will have a whole lot of weight. If our project is not feasible none of us want it for it would be a white elephant on our hands. We believe, though, that the North Loup project is the best project, by far, of any of the Nebraska projects. Mr. Veatch of the firm of Black & Veatch says he is confident we will get the money. Mr. Sorensen, who has made numerous trips to Washington and talked with those in authority, says he is sure we will go over the top in fine shape. The writer, talked with Mr. Hardenbrook, who has labored day and night for many months to see his undertaking a success, just before he left on a short vacation trip and he is very confident. These reasons are why we feel pretty safe in saying, this week, to Quiz readers, that the government is going to approve our project.

If that is done, estimate tables prepared by the engineers show that there will be four million man hours of labor to be done and paid for. The monthly pay roll will be $161,000.00 a month for a period of 18 months and the labor cost will be $1,789,849.00. Material will cost $747,700.00 and engineering and all other overhead costs will be $166,181.00. Now these figures mean that every man who wants to work in the whole valley will find profitable employment for at least a year and a half and permanent jobs will be provided for many for all time to come. These permanent jobs will go to those who make good during the construction period and for that reason it behooves all who get work, if the work starts, to look to the future.

In a formal statement, soon after his appointment, Mr. Ickes urged speed in all proposed projects, so that those out of work may be put to work as speedily as possible. The purpose of the government in backing these enterprises, is to bring back prosperity, and the only way that can be done is to enable the people to live and spend money. They can't spend money unless they have it and they can't get it unless they can get work. If our project is feasible it is going to get government O. K. The writer expects to be able to tell you, within 30 days, that the money is ready and that contracts will be let as speedily as possible. Then watch us all go.

Little Girl Recovering. Darlene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Puncocar, is recovering nicely from injuries received when she was struck by a car driven by Carl Sorensen. It is believed that her foot will not be badly crippled. Although it was an unavoidable accident none could feel worse than Mr. Sorensen over the mishap. The little girl is at home although she was taken to the hospital after the accident.

Editor Enjoying Minnesota Fishing. A letter received yesterday from Irma, says the Leggett-Misko party is enjoying their vacation at Cullen lake. The letter was written soon after they arrived and of course they had not as yet gotten very deeply into their vacation. No doubt Eugene will be sending a letter of real thrilling details of their big catches for next week but unless he sends some evidence along, we shall take his stories with more or less allowance. In these days it takes more than a fisherman's say-so to prove a big catch. Irma says they made the trip without car trouble of any kind and since they arrived there at an early hour Sunday morning, after leaving Ord at 1 p. m. Saturday, we assume they made night good time. Of course they drove all night. They expected to stay there for three weeks when they left. She said it was hot and sticky, threatening rain and she hoped it would, so the skies could clear again.

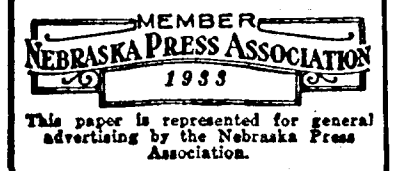

Frank Dasher is visiting for a few weeks with relatives in Lincoln.

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

I understand that the Hugo people claim the credit for bringing the nice rain of last week but I insist on at least dividing honors with them. It has been dry so long and started raining just as I returned from Minnesota, and I surely think that I brought the rain. And it rained all the way down too. Yes, and I didn't see any better crop prospects anywhere than I saw in Valley county and around Ord since returning home. And a number of farmers and business men with whom I have talked, agree that we never had a better prospect for a bumper corn crop. While the dry weather has hurt the small grain and hay crops, corn is deeply rooted with a little more timely rain we are sure to have a crop. As I wrote before, corn was larger in Minnesota when we got there June 9, than it was when we left here June 8 and they tell me up there that they never had as good a corn prospect as they have this year. They have had lots of rain all the spring, until June, corn is tasseled out in many fields, which is twice or three times as big as it usually is at this season and they are getting fine rains since July 1st, so they will have a crop, barring hail. Up there, they raise a small, early variety of corn. While it looks thrifty it don't have the deep green color that Iowa and Nebraska corn has now. We saw one strip about 25 miles across, south of Storm Lake, Iowa, that is in bad shape from dry weather. The pastures are as bare and brown as we ever saw them in late August and corn is very small. Of course it is a poor strip of country, too.

We left the lake at 4:30 a. m. Thursday and drove down to Harlan, Iowa, arriving there at 4:30 p. m., a distance of 433 miles, where we stayed over night with the L. T. Hollaway family. We left there about 9 a. m. Friday and got home at 5 p. m. Mrs. Elsie Callaway came home with us and will spend the balance of the summer with her Ord relatives. We made the entire trip up and back and did considerable driving around while there, without as much as a down tire, which we think is a pretty good record. We averaged about 20 miles to the gallon of gas. We have put about fifteen thousand miles on our Plymouth car and have always changed the oil every 500 miles and we never have to add oil and don't appear to ever use any, as it always shows full when we come to change the oil.

Another thing that we have learned to like is a trailer. We had one built just before starting on the trip up and have used it both ways and it is sure nice not to have a car loaded with baggage to ride in. After the first 50 miles we never noticed having a trailer behind the car.

It was the hottest June we ever saw in Minnesota. As a rule June is always the hottest month up there but we never saw it hot practically all the time, as it was this year. The first three weeks we were there it ranged between 90 and 100 every day. The last week was ideal with a day temperature of 70 and 75 and down to 55 and 60 at night. It always cooled down at night however, so as to be comfortable to sleep with covers. Kent Ferris, who accompanied us, says he had the finest vacation he ever had and he hopes to go again.

The Judge Clements and Edwin Clements families arrived last week Sunday evening. Dr. and Mrs. Gelow and his father arrived earlier in the day. The Gross people were looking forward to their son Truman and family from Omaha, coming, when we left. B. A. Simpson left for Omaha the day before we came and was going to take his son B. A. Simpson Jr. and family up to spend two months. The McCowsky family of Des Moines who own the south cottage in the colony, write that friends will occupy their cottage this month, so all cottages will be full except the Brickner cottage.

We were treated to a fine picnic supper on the Hi Anderson lawn Friday evening when we arrived home. Eugene's and Flora's folks joining in preparing the supper and there was fried chicken, ice cream and cake, sandwiches and all the other things that go to make a perfect picnic, though we did have to hunt around and find an ant to put in the ice cream, for no picnic is complete without ants in the food.

We found Eugene and John Misko getting ready to leave as soon as possible after we got home and there was just about time to change the oil and grease the car, before they were off. They left right after lunch Saturday and expected to be in camp early Sunday morning and now we will be looking forward to some real fish stories. I didn't make any sensational catches this year. The fact is that we older people don't take our fishing as seriously as we did a dozen years ago but are satisfied to sit in an easy chair on the porch a lot of the time, or swap lies with our neighbors up and down the camp. Not that anyone gets a chance to tell many when visiting with Frank Gross for he knows more good ones than anyone I know. I have sometimes thought I would like to get him and Albert McMinds together and offer a small prize for the one who stayed the longest telling stories. I never knew a good story to fall to remind either of them of another good one and I know Frank has one for every occasion. Some of them are good parlor stories and some wouldn't pass muster in a W. C. T. U. convention. We made quite a lot of improvement in our place this year, by getting a big brush pile that had accumulated back of the garage, carried out to the road and burned and we also cleaned out all the underbrush back next to the road and burned it and last spring we had a number of white pines, some Chinese elms and weeping willows set out. They are all making a nice growth and we will set out more trees next spring. We are trying to see how many different varieties of trees we can have growing on the tract.

Well, this will be enough for this time. Eugene will be gone at least three weeks and longer if he wants to stay. I was only going to be gone two weeks but he wrote, urging us to stay longer and he took on a lot of extra work to let us do so and now we want him to stay just as long as he likes. In the mean time I will have charge of the Quiz and am asking that you readers be not too critical for I shall not be able to get out as good a paper as you are used to having. Help me all you can by phoning in any important news, get your advertising copy in as early as possible and we will all work together to make the best possible paper while the editor and his able assistant, Irma, are on their vacation. They will have a better time if the paper is somewhere near up to standard when they read it each week. H. D. LEGGETT

Christian Science. "Life" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, July 16.

The Golden Text is from John 17:3: "This is life eternal, that they might know thee the only true God, and Jesus Christ, whom thou hast sent."

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from John 5: 24, 26, and reads: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and believeth in Him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation; but is passed from death unto life. For as the Father hath life in himself; so hath he given the Son to have life in himself."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "When being is understood, Life will be recognized as neither material nor finite, but as infinite—as God, universal good; and the belief that life, or mind, was ever in a finite form, or good in evil, will be destroyed." (page 76).

Something Different

Once upon a time a very dirty household had occasion to celebrate a marriage in its midst.

A neighbor lady, speaking kindly-like to one of the younger children made conversation by remarking, "And so you're going to have a wedding at your house!"

"Oh, I don't know, but we're going to have something, I guess," answered the little tot, " 'cause the folks are cleaning up a room."

Lee Nay went into an elaborate song and dance not long ago, emerging more puzzled than ever.

Receiving his water bill for the winter quarter, Lee decided it was 'way too much. "I must have a leaky faucet," he thought. But investigation proved he didn't have, and so the doctor began some research work.

With a pall he measured the flow from a faucet in a minute, etc. Then he figured out by a long, laborious process that if every faucet in the house had run so many gallons of water the whole winter quarter . . . his water bill would still not have been as much as the statement said. And now he is waiting for someone to explain to him whether there is something the matter with his figures and his head, or . . . well, anyway, he knows it took a lot of work to figure it out.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. KOVANDA

Folks who are considering the caponizing of cockerels as a means of making money, may take these figures as fairly accurate.

The value of 100 two pound cockerels at ten cents per pound is $20. The cost of caponizing at five cents per bird is $5. Feed for eight months at $1 per hundred weight is $83. Equipment cost might be figured at about $3. This makes a total cost of $91, not counting labor.

The possible income might be figured on 90 birds weighing eight pounds each at 15 cents per pound, or $108. If the farm can furnish feed at less than $1 per hundred, if the value of cockerels is less than ten cents a pound, or if the cost of the operation is less than five cents per bird, the poultry raiser can make more cash profit than indicated above. On the other hand if costs are higher or death losses greater, the profits will be less. In either case the birds must be well fed so they have plenty of weight when they are marketed next winter.

It is difficult to say just how profitable capons will be. Farmers who report immense profits are often poor bookkeepers. Feed costs mount as birds grow older. But it is safe to say that capons almost always yield some net income, especially as a sideline to a regular poultry business.

Most poultrymen think they can do better to sell their surplus cockerels as broilers as long as the market holds up and rely upon caponizing only for later-hatched chicks. Others caponize just a few for home use, as the meat is a much greater delicacy than common chicken.

The operation of caponizing is quite simple, and any careful person can learn to do it after a little practise.

Art Lang out in Mira Valley has a theory he swears by.

Observant and remembering, he says that it doesn't rain on July 4 each year, as everyone says it does. But, he declares, it does rain on July 3 each year! Making this proclamation before that date this year, he avowed the only year it had not rained on July 3 in a number of years was in 1927.

Probably the Weather Man figured Art had it planned out too certainly, for on July 3, 1933 it did not rain. Or at least not in Ord.

Co-operation is a great thing. Discovering by over-the-fence chats that the Arthur Capron family wanted only white meat of chicken and did not like the dark part, and that the Keith Lewis family took the same view of the situation only in reverse, that is liked dark meat of chicken but not the white meat, the two families now amicably split their chickens. And everyone is satisfied.

A story heard recently tickled me.

St. Peter heard a knocking at the gate, and called to know who was pounding.

"It is I," answered a voice.

"Oh, dern," said St. Peter, "it's another one of them school teachers!"

A fine rain fell here last Thursday and Friday nights totaling two inches and with the three inches received the previous week makes the ground in fine shape, although too late for small grain which is almost a total failure. The corn is now growing at a record speed. In the territory east and southeast three and four inches are reported and the highway intersection at the Catholic church is two feet under water, nearly as deep as it was a year ago last June when the same place was inundated, rendering it almost impossible to reach the church from either direction.

up. I don't even want you to guess that there's a mess until I get it fixed up. Then I can tell you and save my face. That is straining a point, perhaps, but if you ever have the sort of a son you should have—such a son as you are to me—you'll get the idea that the admiration and respect of a boy will keep his old dad hustling to be worthy of them. "You'll be in soon. For the second time I'm going to steer you away from Kampfest. It's going to break your heart and mine, too. But you're not going to show it; neither am I. The reason is that we're Belknaps, and the breed doesn't show hurts or affections much. It feels a lot, though, and so if the doctors are wrong and you have to get your explanation this way, please believe that I'm hurting you so I can have a chance to wash the clothes I've dirtied and by doing so keep your respect. "And above all, you must realize this: That an old man has a devil of a time playing up to what a father of a son like you should be. I'm so proud of you it keeps me awake nights. Good luck; God bless you. TOM" Harrington paused. His voice had shaken a trifle on the last. John blinked his eyes and cleared his throat with a brave, long hur-rump!

Plans for the spending of $7,800,000 of federal money on Nebraska roads have been drafted by Governor Bryan, State Engineer Cochran and Federal Engineer Shoemaker. These plans must be approved by the federal authorities in Washington but it is expected that the first letting, which will amount to about one million dollars, will be made within two or three weeks. Highway improvements will be made in about 75 counties, thereby distributing relief funds to the greatest possible extent. Almost daily good roads delegations visit Governor Bryan and State Engineer Cochran in connection with improving roads in their respective parts of the state.

The state board of educational lands and funds last week authorized the purchase of $225,500 worth of bonds at par. The purchase includes three issues of City of Lincoln bonds for $213,500; a $6,000 issue of the Bayard school district, and a $6,000 issue of the town of Gretna.

The total cash balance in the state treasury at the end of June was $4,245,334, or $830,000 less than the cash on hand a year ago. This decrease is accounted for by the cost of the legislative session, emergency appropriations and the extension of the delinquent tax date by two months. Tax payments were due July 1 and this revenue will cause a good showing for the month of July. The general fund with a balance of $782,000 shows a decrease as the bulk of revenue in this fund is from taxation.

The state fair board last week announced new admission prices for the 1933 Nebraska state fair. The regular admission charge at the main gate will be 50 cents during the day, and 25 cents for automobiles. In the evening the charge will be 25 cents with automobiles admitted free. The most desirable seats in the grandstand will cost 50 cents and all other seats 25c, for both day and night programs. On Sunday the main gate admission will be 25 cents for both afternoon and evening.

According to the state treasurer, there was $424,910.71 in the state temporary school fund on July 1. This amount represents the semi-annual apportionment to the support of public schools. With the semi-annual apportionment of $397,709 in January this makes a total of $822,619 for the year. This total is $84,341 less than the 1932 total. The state received $207,000 as interest on the apportionment for 1932 and $144,055 interest in July 1933 on school land leases.

At the recent reorganization of the state board of control, Henry Behrens of Beemer succeeded Harry S. Thorpe, who has completed his six year term. Mrs. Nellie G. Benson is the oldest member in point of service and automatically became chairman of the board.

The state treasurer has distributed a total of $210,784 to counties as gas tax apportionments. Depositors in failed state banks in Nebraska received $237,199 as dividends during the month of June. Twenty-six banks shared in the distribution and payments ranged from one-half of one per cent up to 10 per cent. In the case of twenty of the banks previous dividends of from 5 to 65 per cent had been paid. During the last week depositors in failed state banks at North Loup, Inavale, Wynot, Raymond and Stapleton received $29,573 as dividends.

Eighty-eight additional trains have been put into use on one line in this state to take care of the increase in carload shipments of grain. During the month of June carloadings increased 23 per cent as compared with a year ago. It is expected that even greater business will develop after this year's harvest is completed.

A total of 130,000 cattle and 283,000 hogs were received at the Omaha stockyards during the month of June. As compared with June of last year, this was an increase of 21,000 cattle and 35,000 hogs.

In a suit between the state banking department and the Bridgeport bank, the district judge decided that the banking department must pay back to the receiver of the failed Bridgeport bank the amount paid as assessments to the guaranty fund. The judge held that, according to state statutes then in force, the withdrawal of assessments to the guaranty fund while the bank was in the hands of the guaranty fund commission was an illegal diversion of trust funds.

The 1933 supplement to the compiled statutes of Nebraska will cost the state $1,795 for compilation and $2,866 for printing. The contract for compiling the statutes was awarded to Homer Kyle and Ross Newkirk, former assistant to Attorney General Sorensen.

Revenue from beer, since its legalization on April 7, has exceeded 7 million dollars for thirty-two states and the District of Columbia. This is in addition to the amount collected by the federal government. In eighteen states the sale of beer has been legal since April while several states made reports for one month only. Several of the states have no excise tax while others collect an inspection fee of so much per gallon.

The public works administration in Washington expects 100,000 men to receive jobs on the highways within six weeks time as the federal 400 million dollar highway fund is now available to the states.

Governor Bryan left the mansion for the first time in eight months when he and Mrs. B. Ryan rode to their farm southwest of Lincoln recently. The trip was made in order that Mr. Bryan might inspect his livestock raised there and see the progress made on the farm. The governor is steadily improving and sits up for half a day at a time.

During the federal fiscal year, which ended June 30, the government spent one and one-half billion dollars more than it collected. During the last year the government spent $3,929,647,813 and collected from all sources $2,068,294,508. Income taxes collected amounted to $744,144,328 or $311,668,000 less than the previous year. Over $850,000,000 was received from miscellaneous internal revenue which was almost twice as much as the previous year's figures. Duties from customs totaled $248,000,000.

Nebraska has an estimated population of 1,392,000 or an increase of 14,037 over the 1930 figures. The federal census bureau reports the population of the United States has increased nearly 3 millions. The figures for this year being 125,693,000 compared with 122,770,000 in 1930.

According to census bureau statistics, marriages in Nebraska increased 6.6 percent from 1931 to 1932. For the country as a whole marriages decreased 7.5 percent, divorces decreased 12.7 percent and annulments decreased from 4,339 in 1931 to 3,900 in 1932. The census bureau attributes the increase in Nebraska marriages to Iowa's five-day notice law. The recent Iowa legislature repealed that law.

DR. RICH says:

Grand Island, Nebr. July 12, 1933—
I believe that fear prevents the majority of people who suffer with rectal trouble from obtaining a cure as quickly as they would if they were afflicted with any other disease. Rectal troubles are frequently very painful, so the fear of further pain while being cured is an occasion of neglect and delay.

Patients who have been treated at the Sanitarium during the past thirty years will be glad to tell you that the fear of pain while being cured here is unnecessary. My treatment for any curable rectal trouble is mild. It is different. It is backed by an experience of years devoted entirely to giving a lifetime guaranteed cure, pleasantly and agreeably.

A cordial invitation is extended every rectal sufferer to write to me or visit me in Grand Island. A wise person should shop three times before he buys. Perhaps my prices, accommodations, the explanation of my treatment, and the thousands of letters you may read from cured patients will appeal to you. There is always a better way of doing things. You will find that better way here. (1)

Dr. Rich

Tells How She Lost 15 Pounds of Fat

Rheumatism Gone Too.

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter:

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism so much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist their functional organs to perform their functions properly—little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.

Weather Forecasting Is Explained by Prof. Blair

LINCOLN, Nebr.—"There are no simple, easy rules for forecasting the weather that will apply under all conditions," explained Weather Observer T. A. Blair, assistant professor of meteorology at the University of Nebraska here, in discussing weather conditions during the past month. "No two days, as no two human faces, are exactly alike. That is because there are so many different factors making up the weather, and all of these are constantly changing."

If your rheumatic pains become acute, if frogs crawl out of the pond, if your corns bother you with unusual intensity, or if there is a ring around the moon, you still cannot be sure it is going to rain, according to Professor Blair.

Professor Blair went on to explain that in order to make a forecast of the weather it is necessary to have telegraphic reports of weather conditions over a large area including temperature, humidity, wind and its direction, rainfall, cloudiness, and most important the air pressure. The conditions are then plotted on a weather map. The weather observer then studies this map and compares its conditions with previously experienced conditions and makes his predictions.

Areas of high air pressure, marked "high" on the weather map, are places above which there is a greater weight of air and consequently the wind blows out of these areas toward the areas of lower pressure, pointed out Professor Blair. As the air rushes into this area of low pressure it forces itself to rise. This rising air cools and may cool to a point where moisture in the air condenses and it rains. The "low" areas are commonly regarded as storm centers.

When the pressure is high in the south and southeast and low in the north of us, then we get the hot, dry, south winds with which Nebraska has had recent experience. When the area of low pressure moves up from the southwest, bringing warm moist air from the Gulf of Mexico, we have general and heavy rains. It frequently rains on the southern and eastern sides of a "low," according to Professor Blair, and in the summer the coming of cooler air from the north will frequently force the warm air to rise and produce showers which are commonly said to "break the hot spell". In these cases it is not the showers that caused the break in the weather but the cooler air that caused the showers.

Hager Tells of Trip To Eastern Cities

Ord Real Estate Man Spends Three Weeks on Trip; Writes Of Famous Sights Enroute.

The following story by C. A. Hager, about their recent eastern trip, was written at the request of the Quiz and we are sure you will enjoy it.—Editor. I will take a few minutes time and write briefly of the most interesting parts of the trip. Our main object was to take Chauncey to Jersey City, N. J., where he will take his interns for one year and possibly two. Lucille was anxious to see the extreme eastern part of the United States so came home for a few days visit and accompanied us.

We started Monday June 19th and returned July 11th, being gone three weeks and two days. I might mention that the prospect for corn is very good, except southern Illinois and Indiana where it has been very dry, with rain soon they will raise very little corn. The dry district is limited to a small area so that if the crop matures it will be one of the largest corn crops raised for years. The small grain crop is very poor except in the extreme east where they have had an abundance of rain all spring.

It was very hot in Nebraska the day we started but after crossing the Missouri river seemed to be much cooler in Iowa and the entire trip until we returned to Nebraska was nice and cool and especially in Pennsylvania, New York and New Jersey.

We were in Chicago two days and enjoyed the short time very much. There is too much to see at the Century of Progress fair in a short time and I doubt if one was there for a week or ten days he would be satisfied that he had seen all the main things of interest. We spent nearly the entire morning in the building of Science which is very interesting. The medical department is in this building and naturally Chauncey wanted to spend some time in that department which no doubt was very instructive to him. He went back in the evening and spent several hours in that department. We were very fortunate as both days we were there the wind was blowing across the lake causing a nice cool breeze. Hotel accommodations are very reasonable and good meals can be had on the ground as cheaply as on the outside in the city. Early in the morning of the second day we enjoyed what is called the lake shore drive and I presume the most beautiful part of Chicago.

It is only one day's drive from Chicago to Uniontown, Pa., where we visited a few days and enjoyed it very much. It had been arranged for a family reunion and after about one hundred near relatives had gathered in a fine oak grove we enjoyed a bounteous dinner and the afternoon was enjoyed in visiting and recalling incidents of our childhood days.

The drive from Uniontown across a spur of the Allegheny mountains to the home of my brothers and sisters is very interesting. Going up the three mile slope on the west side of the mountain my memory drifted back forty years when as a boy I hauled lumber across the mountains with an ox team, making the trip 4 miles each way, in one day from our old home to Uniontown. 500 feet was a good size load for either an ox or horse team. Now large trucks haul 4,000 to 5,000 feet. We received $1.00 per cwt. net at that time, now oak lumber sells for $60.00 to $100.00 per 1,000 feet depending on the grade.

After crossing this mountain the first historic place is General Braddock's monument and grave, then just a short distance is Fort Necessity where Washington had the first encounter with the French and Indians. This is just across the National road and in plain view of my father's home. After the close of the war Washington purchased a large tract of land in that locality.

After a few days visit in Pennsylvania we drove to Jersey City, N. J., which is only one days drive. This was the most interesting part of our trip as the road crossing the Allegheny, Cumberland and Blue Ridge mountains was the route we took. This road follows or is close to the General Braddock road or National road, originally constructed throughout the mountains by Washington's army when he entered eastern Pennsylvania. Looking at the Blue Mountains one can realize that they are rightly named, as they look as blue as indigo from a distance and are surely very beautiful. This road goes through Cumberland and Harrisburgh, the only large towns to mention. We arrived at Jersey City early in the evening and of course Chauncey drove direct to the St. Francis hospital which is a building over 70 years old. After he put in one day looking through the building he took us through and we were delighted with the cleanliness and fine appearance of the interior so we felt perfectly satisfied and I know he will like it there, and no doubt he will be kept busy, as they have 600 rooms in the two buildings he will work in.

Death of Judge Aaron Wall Recalls Early Outlaw Gangs

It is through the courtesy of the Sherman County Times that we are able to present this story this week.

Judge Aaron Wall was born in Lancastershire, England, August 7, 1848 and was the eldest of 13 children born to Edward and Agnes Wall. At the time of his death July 12 he was 84 years, 11 months and 6 days of age. Judge Wall was brought to the United States by his parents in 1851 and the family located at Caledonia, New York. Later the family moved to the state of Michigan where Mr. Wall grew to manhood. In 1871 Judge Wall graduated from law school and was admitted to the bar and moved to Saline county, Nebraska. Two years later he was married to Mrs. Addie Brill and the following year they moved to Sweetwater, Nebr. In 1887 he moved to Loup City, following his election as county judge of Sherman county. His first wife, Mrs. Addie Wall, died June 17, 1924 and later he married Mrs. Margaret Morgan. He is survived by one brother, James Wall of Bell, California, four sisters Mrs. Agnes Hottenger and Mrs. Kate Thayer, both in California, Mrs. Martha Young and Mrs. Florence Herbert both in Michigan, two stepchildren Mrs. Minnie Johnson and Mrs. George Brill of Loup City and one nephew, Max Wall of Arcadia. There are also two nieces, Mrs. Pearl Scott and Miss Ina Wall and a sister-in-law, Mrs. John Wall, of Arcadia.

Judge Wall was one of the leading attorneys in Nebraska and was noted as a successful criminal lawyer. He was often referred to as the silver-tongued orator for he had the ability to thrill his hearers when he talked. He served two terms as state senator from his district and was a leading member. He was a member of the last constitutional convention, serving on most important committees. Judge Wall came within a few votes of being nominated for congress on one occasion and came within one vote of being nominated for district judge. He was a life-long republican and has, for fifty years, been one of the leading counselors of his party in both county and state.

Perhaps one of his finest traits of character was his sympathetic nature. He always wanted to be on the side of the oppressed and would share his last dollar with anyone who was in need. But he had that in his makeup that if a fight was necessary he was there to the finish. This is plainly evident in his many skirmishes especially in the early history of the county, when cattle thieves were in evidence. The Olive gang, one of the most powerful and much feared cattle rustlers in the country who had no respect for law or human life tangled with Mr. Wall. Jim Roberts, living on Beaver Creek, was arrested by this gang in April 1878, charged with stealing cattle, and Mr. Wall was acting as his council, the case being brought before Captain Hutchinson, a justice of the peace of that locality. The Olive gang tried to keep Judge Wall out of the room where court was held, standing around the walls with revolvers cocked. He managed to get inside, however, but was unable to get a fair hearing, although he asked to see the Justice's docket, which was refused him. He then told the court that if he were allowed to talk a few minutes with the prisoner he would then go away. As the gang wished him out of the way, Judge Wall was allowed to consult with his client and they repaired to a point near the barn where the judge had his buggy; the gang standing guard with cocked weapons. During the talk they hit upon a plan that at a given signal Mr. Roberts should jump into a buggy and the judge should cut the horses loose. When anyone came near they were talking earnestly about the case, but they carefully watched their chance, and although it hardly seemed possible they were taken by a spirited animal safely to Loup City. They were pursued some distance, but thought their pursuers had given up the chase before they reached their destination. They had hardly got into the house and got the team unhitched when Mrs. Roberts came in from the Roberts ranch saying Bob Olive and his cowboys were coming. They had with them a warrant from Justice Hutchinson for the arrest of Mr. Wall and intended taking him back for trial. Upon hearing a gentle rap on the door, he saw a man he did not know, and who asked for a minutes conversation with him. When he stepped out he was immediately surrounded and all chance of escape cut off, five glittering revolvers pointed at his head, though not one of the gang was courageous to attempt to arrest him. A large part of the afternoon was spent in an effort to effect his arrest, during which time many of the citizens of Loup City gathered around. Mr. Wall told them if he went with them he would not be given a fair trial, calling them a band of outlaws and cowards, and offering to take one at a time and "lick the whole outfit" if they would lay down their arms, or if they would give him a chance to get his revolver from inside, to give them a round with it. He was standing with his back against the building and with no weapon but his pen-knife, with which he was whittling a stick. They were so enraged at his remarks that finally they tried to throw a rope over his head, but each attempt to do so failed, and at one time one of them tried to take hold of him, but Mr. Wall struck at him with his knife with an upward thrust, ripping his vest from the bottom up. He appealed to the citizens for help and John Swain, son-in-law of J. C. Fletcher, who had recently come to the state in search of a location in the west, stepped up and offered to defend him with his life. Though the revolvers were leveled at his head, Mr. Swain did not flinch, but stepped fearlessly to Mr. Wall's side.

Mr. Wall finally agreed to go with them if an officer of Sherman county and a sufficient number of citizens to protect him would go along, and suggest repairing to the court room, which was on the second floor in the Massasoit house. They all consented and a messenger was sent for Deputy Sheriff Reuben French. Mr. Wall, then county judge, busied himself with papers and put the county seal on some blanks he had filled out, in order to have the seal for a weapon, and upon the arrival of the sheriff said, "I command you to call court." After quietly sending another messenger for Martin Brambaugh, Judge Wall commanded the officer to arrest the entire Olive gang for contempt of court, but when Mr. French tried to carry out the orders the outlaws pointed their revolvers at him and he weakened. They then grew desperate and determined to take Mr. Wall with them, but he said "County court is in session and I cannot leave." All this was done to delay matters. The town was thrilled. Someone slipped a revolver in Judge Wall's pocket. John Harkins came in with a sledge hammer in his hand and while he did not use it, it had a quieting effect on the outlaws. Brambaugh came in due time and demanded, "What is the matter here?" and when informed that he was deputized an officer of the court and to arrest the men who had caused the trouble for contempt of court. "Here is my revolver," said the Judge, laying it on the table, Brambaugh picked it up with one hand and with the other took Bob Olive by the throat, saying, "You are my prisoner." In a few minutes they were all under arrest and Judge Wall passed fines on all of them for contempt of court.

The above is only one incident in the life of Judge Wall. In the early days history of the county Judge Wall had similar experiences but his cunning forethought always brought him out ahead.

Funeral services for Judge Wall were held from the Presbyterian church in Loup City Saturday afternoon, July 15 and were in charge of Rev. L. M. Harwood the pastor, assisted by Rev. G. M. Carter, pastor of the Methodist church. Many floral offerings from all parts of the state, testified to the high regard in which the departed was held by those who knew him. Interment was in the Loup City cemetery.

Arcadia Boy Hunting In Alaska, Gets Bear

Friends of Wallace Doe, Arcadia boy vacationing in Alaska, will be interested in the following extract from a letter to his mother, Lorena Doe, Arcadia postmaster, written from Red Bluff Bay on July 4th: "Went hunting last Sunday at 4 a. m. and got my bear. He's a big one, and a pretty hide, but he is just beginning to shed so don't know if I can save the pelt or not. I shot him on the head at 175 yards. The shot went about four inches too low for a vital piece inside. He ran away up on the mountain, and it took us about three hours to trail him. When we found him we just looked over a deadfall on a cliff, and he lay on his side, but in about two seconds he reared up and came for us. He was lying only about ten feet away, and when I shot he was only eight feet off. However, I got in a lucky shot just below his eye and knocked him cold. Then I had to shoot him through the neck before he passed out. I've had some thrills, but that was the biggest I ever hope to have. He was a 'brownie' and would have stood about eight feet tall on his hind legs. He weighed around four hundred pounds."

Safeway Manager on Vacation.

Vern Laughrey, who has been manager at the Safeway store for some time, is away on a three weeks vacation, after which he will report at Grand Island and will probably be transferred to another store. C. L. Naviaux is in charge of the Ord store, coming here Monday from the St. Paul store. Mr. Laughrey has made many friends while in Ord and they will be sorry to see him leave.

Mr. and Mrs. George Allen Drove to Burwell Sunday for a short stay.

MRS. TOM GRAFIUS DIES AT HOSPITAL IN MINNESOTA

High Blood Pressure Given As Cause of Death; Funeral Not Arranged.

A message was received Monday mid-day, that Mrs. Thomas Grafius had died at her home, Glenwood, Minn., that day. Her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. Brown, who went up there early in July, knew she was not in good health and it had been arranged that she would come home with them for a visit and rest. In fact while she was in very poor health some months ago, she had seemed to improve and neither her husband or parents realized that she was in a serious condition. She began to grow worse and last week a council of doctors was called and the trouble was pronounced high blood pressure and she was taken to the hospital to rest and treatment.

Freda Fern Brown was born near Ord and grew to womanhood here, graduating from Ord high school with the class of 1918. She would have been 32 years old in August had she lived till then. She was married to Thomas Grafius in Ord eight years ago and for several years they have had their home at Glenwood, Minnesota, where Mr. Grafius is manager of J. C. Penney store. They have no children.

The body, we understand, is being brought overland to Ord and will arrive sometime Wednesday of this week but at this time we are unable to say about funeral arrangements and more than likely friends will have to depend on the bulletin in the postoffice for that information.

Ruptured Appendix Causes Girl's Death

Minnie Lucy Danczak, 12-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Danczak passed away at an early hour Wednesday, July 12. A ruptured appendix was the cause of death, the child being helped before the seriousness of the condition was realized. She survived by her parents, one sister and two brothers. Funeral services will be held at the Catholic church in Burwell Friday morning, July 21, at 10 o'clock. Father Ziolkowski officiating. Interment will be in the cemetery at Burwell. Funeral director, Sowl has charge of the funeral. The parents have the heartfelt sympathy of many friends and neighbors in their sad bereavement.

Big Whoopie Dance.

In writing in this week to send copy for their dance advertisement for this week and Sunday, R. Hildebrandt says to watch the paper next week for an announcement of a big whoopie dance so be sure to watch, next week for the advertising of the Orchard Pavilion, run by Hildebrandt and Kokes.

Dr. Shepard Talks to Rotarians.

Dr. C. C. Shepard who returned last week from nearly a year spent in California, was the Monday evening speaker at the Rotarian dinner. He told of his trip and the many places visited while he was away, the program being most interesting.

St. Paul Votes for Light Plant

At a special election held at St. Paul Tuesday the voters decided by a large majority that they wanted the city to engage in the light and power business. The Central Power Company has a franchise and is furnishing light and power at present. The vote favor of the city entering the business was about seven to one.

Camp Meeting in Clements Grove

The annual camp meeting of the assembly of God church will be held this year in this vicinity. Clements Grove having been chosen as the location. Arrangements are now well under way and work is being done at the grove to accommodate many expected campers from over the state, also out of state campers are expected. In years past several hundred people have gathered for this kind of outing at camping.

In the many arrangements to home folks have not been forgotten, especially those who are deprived a way of transportation. Mr. Williams has made arrangements with those in charge to run a daily and regular bus to the campground at a very reasonable rate. The public is invited to attend the camp. No charges for campers, and free parking space.

Eschleman New Texaco Manager

I. W. Eschleman was checked yesterday as manager of the Texaco station in place of D. Troyer, who has been managing the station for some time. Eschleman has been employed the Weekes Seed Company some years. We are not advised what Mr. Troyer's plans are.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska

H. D. LEGGETT . . . PUBLISHER
E. C. LEGGETT EDITOR

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1879.

Councilman Frank Travis handed the writer a 16-page weekly newspaper printed at Cardiff, Wales, England the other day and we looked it over with lots of interest. It is a large paper, 16 pages in that issue, each sheet a column or two larger than the Quiz, but there was not a great lot of advertising. One funny feature, the front page was solid advertising, mostly small ads. Noticed California Syrup of Figs, Wrigley Gum and other American products advertised. And there was a classified department about like that carried on the back page of the Quiz. One ad run like this: "Refined, homely woman, (good, experienced cook) seeks post with husband's (unpaid) assistance. When would you find an American woman publicly admitting that she was homely, yet it might be a good comment in many instances. There are lots of pictures in the paper, and the stories are made prominent with many large type headings. The paper is printed on Saturday. These seem to be no ads of food stuffs, such ads as form a large part of the advertising in our papers. Relatives send these papers to Mr. Travis occasionally.

TODAY'S TASK.
Here is something furnished for the scrapbook by the Christian Science Monitor, and if its suggestions were followed we would have a more friendly and more helpful world:

- I will wait till tomorrow to whine about my woes; today I will sing my song.
- I will wait till tomorrow to give up; today I will keep the bulldog grip.
- I will wait till tomorrow to pass judgment upon my fellows; today I will accept them and enjoy them.
- I will wait till tomorrow to get even with the other fellow; today I will put in the time getting even with myself.
- I will wait till tomorrow to worry about things over which I have no control; today I'll concentrate my efforts on things within my control.
- I will wait till tomorrow to fall down on my job; today I'll hold it down even if it balks like a mule.
- I will wait till tomorrow to read trash; today I'll treat my mind to the best that there is in the whole realm of literature.
- I will wait till tomorrow to say the unkind word; today I will say only the kind and helpful things.
- I will wait till tomorrow to get in such a way that I shall make enemies; today I will bend all my efforts toward making friends.
- I will wait till tomorrow to beiggardly; today I will give generously of myself and my means.
- Tomorrow and I shall never meet, since each tomorrow as it passes through the portals of time, becomes today. Hence all I need do is to live my best today, which does not seem so much of a task.

CHARACTERS.
Under this heading last week, Joe Alden of the York Republican, discussed two Nebraska editors, Lou Frazier of the Fairmont Chronicle and Fred Howard of the Clay County Sun. A good many years ago Joe was employed for a few weeks or months on the Quiz. There are four or five hundred editors in Nebraska and many clever writers among them, but there is not one among them who can put words together more beautifully than can Joe Alden and this goes for either writing or speaking. Joe is not an orator, but he is sincere, earnest, refined talker and writer. When he talks or writes he knows his subject and he has the ability to put words together so they make his meaning clear and appeal to the better nature of those who hear him. So I am adding Joe Alden to his own list of Nebraska editorial characters. And here is what he said about Lou and Fred, both of whom have been so often mentioned in this newspaper that their names will be familiar to our readers:

"Sometimes we think the rugged characters who used to dominate the newspapers and make them broad and high in the back have passed. Then we remember the Lou Fraziers and the Fred Howards and get back with a sigh of satisfaction.
Lou Frazier has been editing the Fairmont Chronicle so long the first settlers over there have forgotten the beginning. Lou himself says he has been pilot of the Chronicle for forty-eight years. In his "Sidelight" column which greets the eye of the reader first when he scans the Chronicle's first page, the rugged old veteran expresses his opinions. No one could be blamed if they did, for they would know he is getting common and prosaic. In that department he wields a two-handed instrument that is a combination of battle ax and a silver platter. The edge of the instrument shatters many shams; the shining surface of the tray bears lovely flowers for the living. We cannot know how long the instrument will last nor how many the days of vigor of the wielder may have, but we bid him a safe journey on his forty-ninth journey.
In his "Sunbeams" column Fred Howard of the Clay Center Sun displays a genius like unto that which has brought fame and wealth to other paragaphers. Readers of The Republican have reason to know of this man's keen observations and witty sayings, for nearly every week some of the fruits of this pen are culled for a department we publish. We could not always agree with Fred Howard. He would not want us to. He prefers not to agree with anyone else. He is a hard-headed, sharp-witted, glib-tongued, don't-care sort of chap who walks down the side streets and make the folks who live there seem endowed with greatness, while he himself as their critic and informer rides in a chariot of genius.

If some quirk of fate were to remove Lew Frazier and Fred Howard from the newspaper orbits in which they move, Nebraskans who know them or of them would say, "There went two old rascals who left two large apertures where their portly forms broke through."

My Own Column

By H. D. LEGGETT

Have you ever heard of the five tragedies? If not, here they are: A man struck a match to see if the gasoline tank in his car was empty. It wasn't.
A man patted a strange bulldog on the head to see if the critter was affectionate. It wasn't.
A man speeded up to see if he could beat a train to the crossing. He couldn't.
A man touched a trolley wire to see if it was charged. It was.
A man cut out his advertising to see if he could save money. He didn't.—Stolen.

A few days before we came home from Minnesota Frank Gross came down one evening and invited us up to breakfast, saying that he was going to be the cook and that we would have fish and all the trimmings. "And Mrs. Gross is not getting to have a thing to do with getting the breakfast either," said Frank. Well, we were there right on time and it was a fine breakfast but I noticed that Mrs. Gross was officiating around and putting some of the finishing touches to the breakfast. Yes, it was a fine one. Those walleed pike were cooked just right, there was good coffee, jollis, grape jam, grape fruit and a nice dish of oatmeal to end the meal with.

Folks have funny customs, or notions. The Gross people always end the morning meal with a dish of oatmeal. We always eat our oatmeal first. I knew a man once who always ate his pie first and another who thought brown beef gravy was the finest dressing for a generous piece of apple pie. I saw an old timer up in Brainard, Minnesota who, when he went into the cafe to get a glass of beer, had to find a box or stool to put one foot up on, brass rails being prohibited under the Minnesota rules and this old chap couldn't forget the old days. He said he couldn't enjoy his beer with both feet on the floor.

Fourth class postmasters are under civil service and have been for some time. Now President Roosevelt is asking that legislation be passed putting all postmasters under civil service. To do this will take action by congress and before that can be done a large per cent of the present postmasters will be replaced with good democrats. Some writers in the daily press are asking what the object is, of the president. So far no one has ventured to suggest that it was purely a political move to make the country safe for the democrats and I may be wrong in suggesting it. Some writers insist that the president is asking this change purely for the benefit of the service and I am inclined to believe the service might be benefitted by such a rule in a great majority of towns.

Take Ord for instance. Postmaster Clements is, I believe, giving general satisfaction. He and his force are courteous and accommodating and give splendid service but there are a lot of Valley county democrats who would not want this office put under civil service until after a democrat is appointed and

Let Us Serve You With MEAT . . . that satisfies

How often have you purchased meat, only to be dissatisfied with its quality when it is served? No mistakes of that sort, if you buy your meat here. We select only the best of animals to butcher and try always to sell our customers meat that we know will please them.

Don't be satisfied with less than the best, but don't pay more than you need to for meat. We sell the best, always, at economical prices.

Pecenka & Perlinski

that will not be done for about three years yet unless Mr. Clements is summarily dismissed, which is not likely.

There is a lot of discussion in the papers about the proposed sixty-six county irrigation district. I believe it is no more or less than a move on the part of the power trust to try to block such projects as ours in this valley and I am pleased that Emerson Purcell has declined to serve as a director from Custer county. There are thousands of voters who are going to remember the fellows who are fostering it, if they come up for election to office in future years.

One thing is sure, people who didn't have water available, got it in the neck on early gardens but there is still time to raise many kinds of vegetables. Even peas are being planted as far as seed is available, though I fear it is too hot in the latter part of the season to make a crop. Sweet corn can still be planted and grown as can beets, carrots, cucumbers, string beans and probably several others and a nice fall garden will come in handy.

M. McBeth of Spalding, while in Ord the other day, predicted that there would be lots of 60-bushel to the acre yields of corn in this section this fall. He thinks we are going to raise the best crop of corn we ever had. That means that a lot of fellows who couldn't get work last fall, will get a lot of corn shucking to do this fall.

According to a story now being widely published, one printer got weary of bidding on trivial jobs, and when a surgeon asked for bids on a small quantity of letterheads and requested that the type form be left standing, so that he might have the benefit of cheaper rates for future orders, the printer wrote the surgeon this letter: "Am in the market for bids on one operation for appendicitis. One, two or five inch incision—with or without ether—also with or without nurse. If appendix is found to be sound, want quotations to include putting back same, and canceling order. If removed, successful bidder is expected to hold incision open for about sixty days as I expect to be in the market for an operation for gall stones at that time and want to save the extra cost of cutting."

I was 62 years old Monday, July 17 and am pretty chipper for a kid that age. The Missus baked some chickens and Flora made some ice cream and we had all the other things that properly go with such a dinner, only we had it the day before, Sunday, and I adjourned my regular dieting for that one day. We had planned on a picnic but the threatening weather made it seem advisable not to go up to the Clements picnic grounds and it was well that we did not for about the time we would have been eating it rained plenty. I don't seem to feel quite equal to doing as much work as I could forty years ago when I came to Ord but since Eugene is away, I manage to do a pretty good days work at that. Then, when I see William Wigent, W. A. Anderson, A. Sutton and others, hale and hearty, I realize that I am only just a kid yet.

QUIZ FORUM

Aberdeen, Wash, June 11, 1933.
Dear Sir:
I enjoy the Ord Quiz so much, but most of all the Cook's Col-Yum-Yum. I am including a few of my most favorite recipes, in fact I have good many others to come. I enjoy good and well prepared meals as well as my husband, so I am happy to pass them on while the vegetables are plentiful this time of year.
Sincerely yours,
Mrs. S. Trask.

Editor Quiz:
There are many opinions as to what is the matter with the country. I will give mine, for what it is worth. I sit down to dinner. There is coffee from Brazil. It is sweetened with sugar from Cuba. There is meat from the Argentine and bananas from Central America. I buy a pair of shoes made from imported hide. My neighbor tries to sell hide and can't, brings it home and buries it. Leather is $1.00 per pound. In a farm paper cheaper it is to feed cocoanut meal than the barley that is raised here or the corn that comes from Nebraska. We have soft and climate well adapted to raising all of these things. Put a high tariff on them and they will be produced here. Farmers raising those things won't have to raise wheat and other things to sell at a loss. People say we can't consume nearly as much as we raise, therefore a tariff will do the farmer no good. As we have been consuming much more than we raise it is foolish to say it can't be done. If the farmers are busy and making profit, then the other people will be busy.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Again I say, send in recipes at once or this column of help for cooks will have to be discontinued.

The Quiz is glad to donate the space and work involved, in an effort to help tired, harassed cooks of summer time. Won't you do a small thing . . . mail in at least a pair of your favorites, and accept the thanks of the Quiz and numbers of readers as well.

Baked Stuffed Peppers.
Cut stem end from each pepper and trim off green part, mincing fine. Try this in butter or dripping with some minced onion until clear but not brown, add diced toast and shake until delicate brown. Moisten with stock or tomato juice and add minced cooked ham. Pack in green pepper shells and set close together in casserole that can be covered, pour in enough stock or tomato juice to half cover the peppers, bake until tender, about 30 minutes. Remove cover, sprinkle lightly with cheese and put back in oven to brown. Serve with tomato sauce. If in a hurry par boil peppers.

Mrs. S. Trask.

Corn and Green Pepper Sauce.
Remove stems and cores from fresh peppers, cut across in fine rings. Fry ham or bacon in skillet that can be covered. Throw in peppers and cook 5 minutes, until beginning to clear but not brown. Add cooked corn, whole kernel type. Season with salt, pepper and paprika. Cover and cook about 12 minutes. Garnish with ham or bacon.

Mrs. S. Trask.

Vegetable Casserole.
1-2 bunch celery, 4 medium carrots, 1 onion, 1 pound peas, 2 medium potatoes, 2 1-2 cups white sauce. Fry 2 slices diced bacon, remove pieces. Add chopped and cut vegetables. Fry until partially cooked but not brown. Cook peas and potatoes in a little water. Add vegetables and bacon pieces. Put in casserole. Cover with pastry or tiny biscuits. Bake until brown. Salt and pepper to taste.

Mrs. S. Trask.

Polished Beets.
Prepare boiled beets as usual. Peel, slice and chop about 2 cups of beets. Melt 1 tablespoon butter, add 1 tablespoon flour and blend well, stirring constantly. Do not allow mixture to brown. Add salt and pepper to taste and add 1-2 cup boiled vinegar and continue stirring until smooth and creamy. Combine the diced beets with this sauce, add a few tablespoons of thick cream and let simmer about 1-2 hour.

DR. RICH says!

Grand Island, Neb., July 20, 1933
Among the patients treated at the Sanitarium last week was a lady from Sidney, Nebraska (name on request). She had suffered with rectal trouble for twenty years. After considering other places and talking with several people who have been treated here, she decided to come to me for cure.

Her husband says, "I am thankful I took my wife to Dr. Rich. The examination was most considerate, thoughtful and kind and the treatment of such a bad case surprisingly free of any distress we had anticipated. I would like to see everyone who has rectal trouble go to Dr. Rich. I know now there is a better way to cure this affliction."

It is worth repeating that for more than thirty years, in one location, Grand Island, I have devoted all this time to curing rectal troubles pleasantly, with the finest consideration and sympathy for those who suffer. There is no need to fear examination or treatment here. Write for information or visit me in Grand Island. (1)

—Christian Science. "Truth" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, July 23.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 100:5: "The Lord is good; his mercy is everlasting; and his truth endureth to all generations."

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from Matt. 5:17-18: "Think not that I am come to destroy the law, or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to fulfill. For verily I say unto you, Till heaven and earth pass, one jot or tittle shall in no wise pass from the law, till all be fulfilled."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy reads: "Divine Mind rightly demands man's entire obedience, affection and strength. No reservation is made for any lesser loyalty. Obedience to Truth gives man power and strength. Submission to error superinduces loss of power. Truth casts out evils and materialistic methods with the actual spiritual law, the law which gives sight to the blind, hearing to the deaf, feet to the lame." (page 183).

Arcadia Department

By MRS. RAY GOLDEN

Funeral services for Guy Holly were held at the Methodist church in Arcadia Thursday afternoon of last week at 2:30, conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. O. Gaither. The body was taken to Albion Friday for burial where services were held at the grave at 1 o'clock. Rev. Gaither accompanied the relatives to Albion and had charge of the services there.

Guy Holly, son of Frank and Celestia Holly was born on a farm twelve miles east of Ansley in Custer county, Nebr. on Febr. 6, 1902 and died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Oscar Lowe of Honey Creek, Ia. July 10, 1933 at the age of 31 years, 5 months and 4 days. Guy lived with his parents on the farm until seventeen years of age. As a young man he worked as a farm hand in Custer and Kimball counties. He was married to Miss Pearl Warford of Arcadia on June 4, 1930. To this union was born a son, Jessie Guy. Last March they moved to the farm owned by Mrs. J. W. Warford. Here Guy became ill with a malady which baffled physicians. After a month's illness he was taken to the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island where he remained for four weeks. He returned home and two weeks later was taken to the University hospital in Omaha. He was there for eight weeks but his condition baffled all the medical skill and science. He was removed to the home of his sister in Iowa a short time before his death. An autopsy performed in Omaha Monday revealed that death was due to a multiple abscess of the liver and terminal peritonitis. Mr. Holly's mother preceded him in death in 1909, his father in 1918 and his brother Ervin in 1929. He leaves to perpetuate his memory his wife, baby son, two sisters, Mrs. Edith Gilbert of Oklahoma City, Mrs. Geo. Lowe, Honey Creek, Ia. and a great number of friends and relatives.

Rainfall in Arcadia the past ten days has totaled about five inches. Older residents of the territory agree that the prospects for a corn crop are better at this time than at any period in the past twenty-five years. Most of the corn is at the tasseling stage and is in ideal condition.

Tells How She Took 4 ins. Off Hips 7 ins. Off Waist

In 40 days by taking Kruschen Salts, Mrs. Helga Blaug of New York City reduced 26 1-2 lbs.—took 4 inches off hips, 3 inches off bust and 7 1-2 inches off waist. She writes: "I haven't gone hungry a moment—I feel fine and look 10 years younger."

To get rid of double chins, bulging hips, ugly rolls of fat on waist and upper arms SAFELY and without discomfort—at the same time build up glorious health and acquire a clear skin, bright eyes, energy and vivaciousness—to look younger and feel it—take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning before breakfast.

One jar lasts 4 weeks and costs but a trifle at any drug store the world over. Make sure you get Kruschen because it's SAFE. Money back if not joyfully satisfied.

Though Valley county farmers do not produce a great deal of winter wheat, it is possible that the wheat acreage adjustment program can benefit them materially in a financial fashion. Although nothing too definite is known about the benefit payments, it is possible, if all wheat growers agreed to cut acreage in the county, that $40,000 in payments for reduction would come into the county. County Agent Dale has the particulars of the wheat program.

We drove one day in New York City, taking what is known as the river drive, leading by Grant's tomb and Rockefeller's $1,000,000 church thence across the Brooklyn bridge to Coney Island where we ate lunch and spent a few hours viewing the ocean and sights along the beach. On our return we came back through the congested part of the city, up 5th Ave., along Wall St., viewing some of the large buildings such as the Empire building. I predicted that we would have much difficulty going through the main business part of the city but we found it very convenient, there being a cop at every intersection to instruct us.

On our return we drove in sight of the Statue of Liberty, then drove our car on the ferry and across the Hudson river. Here we took some time to go through the largest ship in the United States, the Majestic. This ship weighs 54,000 tons. The beauty and convenience of one of these fine ships is hard to comprehend. By the side of the Majestic was anchored the Laviathan which was captured from the Germans and now is condemned and we understood that it was out of commission and will never be repaired.

We spent four days in New York and Jersey City, then started on our return and came over the same route to Uniontown, Pa., then from there were on the National highway all the way to Kansas City, passing through Wheeling, W. Va., where early in the morning we met a large herd of elephants, numbering 36. After inquiring we learned that Barnum and Bailey were showing there that day so we took in the free parade. The National highway leads through Columbus, Springfield, Indianapolis, St. Louis to Kansas City. After driving about 100 miles before breakfast the second day on our return one of the party reminded us it was time to eat just as we were driving into Greenfield, Indiana. Lucille mentioned to us that this is the birthplace of James Whitcomb Riley, the Hoosier poet. After breakfast we drove by his birthplace home which is over 100 years old and is in a very good state of preservation. We were able to see the interior as we wished to purchase some pictures of the old home. This is through the part of the country that I mentioned of being very dry and in fact I doubt if good crops are raised any year, as the soil is not fertile; buildings not well kept up, showing that the country is on the decline. We arrived in Kansas City and visited there three days. Called on Harry Bailey who is very comfortably located in an apartment with his son Louie. Both boys have good positions and have developed into good business men. Harry said to tell any of his old friends if they happen to be in Kansas City to be sure and call to see him. He is located at 2733 Benton.

We were anticipating rather a lonesome trip home from Kansas City after leaving Chauncey in New Jersey and Lucille at Kansas City but were cheered up by Miss Ethel Ollis who is dietician in the Research hospital in Kansas City, who came home with us for a visit with her people here in Ord.

After returning home we found we had traveled over 3,500 miles with no car trouble except a flat casing before we got out of Nebraska and another after leaving Omaha on our return. We drove four days going to York, 1,720 miles but on the turn, as I was driving all the I took one extra day, making short day drives except the day from Kansas City, making a detour in Iowa figured 440 miles. I just wish to mention a conditions in the east which know will be gratifying to people here as we know a change for improvement or depression start the east and we get the change later. Uniontown, Pa., is located in the center of the coal and industry of the east. In a large city in the east conditions all line of industry are rapidly improving, coal mines are full blast, saw mills are all in operation that have been shut for several years, steel industry has taken on new life and all place people are encouraged say conditions are back to all normal.

A bit of Luck Here.
One wayfarer and his family, who landed in Greeley from a freight train last Friday, struck a bit of luck here this week.
The head of the family landed a job at the farm of Frank Henke, seven miles south of Greeley.
Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Walters and their two sons, William and Leslie, took up their abode in the covered scale shed of the Greeley Grain company. All their earthly belongings consisted of bed clothing and a few cooking utensils.
But Mr. Walters is of good appearance and earnest. He wanted a job to support his family. He wasn't particular about wages. He had been seeking work for months, but was unable to find a job until he reached Greeley.
Walters said he went broke in the horse business. He is a native of Kentucky, but for years has traveled over the country. For the last year, he said, he and his family have been traveling via freight trains.

Meets Accidental Death.
Mrs. W. S. Peterson received the sad news of the recent death of Swan Carlson at the family home at Selma, Calif. Death was the result of an automobile accident a couple of weeks before. Old time residents will remember the Carlson family, who came to this vicinity from Stromberg and purchased the Wm. Johns farm. Mr. Carlson later sold the farm to the present owner Jos. Mach. The friends of this family will regret to learn of his death.
—Burwell Tribune.

Only the oldest inhabitants will remember James Thorp who homesteaded in this county years ago at a time when automobiles, aeroplanes, the radio and other modern conveniences were undreamed of. A roof to cover your head was almost a luxury in the days that he located in this vicinity. Mr. Thorp now lives at Oakland, California, and has been spending a couple of months visiting in Kansas and came this week to look over his old pioneer home. He is visiting his niece Mrs. Art Butts in Burwell, and talking over old times with the few old residents that still reside here.
—Burwell Tribune.

Man Legally Dead Returns.
David Corwin, 42, of Cotesfield, who four years ago was declared legally dead, has returned. He left home in 1929 and went west. In the meantime his parents died and he could not be located.
When the Corwin estate was probated the court declared the missing son legally dead and ordered T. T. Bell, administrator, to distribute the estate among the three daughters. The administrator delayed settlement in the hopes that Corwin might put in an appearance. He did. Now he will receive his share of the estate, about $2,000.

Coyote Routs Motorist.
A Greeley man reports an unusual experience. While T. F. Byrne was fishing in the Cedar river near Ericson a vicious coyote and her litter of eight pups took possession of his motor car. When Byrne returned to the car, the mother coyote snarled in a threatening manner and refused to leave with her brood. Byrne was unarmed. He was forced to abandon the car for the night. When he returned the next morning the coyotes were gone.

Catches Big Catfish in Pibel.
The big fish of Pibel Lake has been captured. Or, at any rate, at least one of them has. Last Sunday, Carl Johnson caught the great grandfather of them all, when he hauled a catfish weighting 45 pounds from the water. The fish was a monster, having a large girth, and being three and a half feet in length.
Johnson was fishing with a grasshopper as bait on an ordinary line. When he realized the huge attempt to pull him out, but work-proportions of his catch, he did not ed him in to the shallow water, and then waded in and hauled him out. The catch was made in the morning, on the northeast side of the lake.
Last week a catfish weighing more than 20 pounds was caught at Pibel lake, but Sunday's catch puts all others in the shade.
So far as the writer has heard, this is the largest fish caught in this vicinity for a number of years. If a larger one has been caught, we would like to hear of it.
Catfish are not ordinarily caught at Pibel lake, though it is known that some were there. Many years ago, the lake was first stocked with fish taken from the river, and as the lake has never been entirely drained since then, some of this species have remained.

News Source.

We were interested in the Topeka, Kansas, Journal's editorial proposing a moratorium on newspapers. It explained the government's activities in behalf of all lines of endeavor excepting that of publishing newspapers; that the newspaper is expected to boost every industry and every business, show anxiety over the earnings of everybody and breathe courage on all occasions. Despite its efforts in supporting others' hopes, its shrinking advertising columns are usually regarded with cool indifference. Its sympathy for others, its public service shaped to strengthen communities individually and collectively, seldom draw a word of appreciation, seldom an expressed desire to reciprocate. It manifests regret over others' losses; rarely is there evidence of solicitude over its losses. It maintains staggering overheads to keep up standards of service while its advertisers slash advertising appropriations. So, the Topeka Journal, doubtless at a time when its spirits were running especially low, expressed hope for a moratorium, that would suspend every news source in the world, thus to impress its value to the public, its protection to society.

Charles Smrha of Milligan, upon the recommendation of Arthur Mullen, has been appointed as manager of the Nebraska office of the home owners' loan corporation. The set-up for Nebraska will include appointment of an assistant manager, a manager for each branch office established, appraisers and attorneys.

George W. O'Malley, state legislator of Greeley, who was appointed federal collector of internal revenue for Nebraska, is now in charge of that office in Omaha. Some new appointments have been made within the department and some changes are being made in the 12 zone collectors for the state. Although federal authority has not yet been received, Governor Bryan has announced tentative plans for highway construction in northeastern Nebraska. The governor has announced these plans in advance of all others, because of the acute unemployment situation in that section and he wishes to assure those waiting to do the work that plans are ready and work will be started at the earliest possible time.

Announcement has been made of the appointment of Randall Biart of Bellevue as director of state relief. Mr. Biart has been doing welfare relief work in Sarpy county and has also been active in American Legion community work. He will be assisted by J. H. Rowland. Two new members, Dr. F. W. Heagy of Omaha, and F. D. Throp of Lincoln, have been added to the relief committee. The governor's plans for relief work in the state with federal funds have been approved and the work will be underway just as soon as reports are received from all counties as to their needs. Immediate relief has been given to take care of the emergency situation in Dakota county.

Citizens of Weeping Water are planning to establish a cement plant costing $1,500,000 if federal aid funds can be secured. A delegation from that town, which recently called on Governor Bryan, said the purpose of the plant would be to keep down the price of concrete for state highway work. At present the state is paying $1.75 to $1.78 a barrel for cement. The delegation said the plant would produce 3,000,000 barrels of cement annually to sell for 98 cents to $1.05 a barrel. The governor gave enthusiastic support to the plans. Interest payments on mortgages held by the federal land bank of Omaha have been reduced over one million dollars. Borrowers are also granted the privilege of deferring payments on the principal for the next five years. The terms of the farm credit bill now in operation have made this relief possible. Of the 29 thousand borrowers of the Omaha bank, very few farmers have indicated they will take advantage of the deferral plan. As a result of increasing prices for farm products more than one million dollars in delinquent installments were collected in June for the Omaha district.

More than fifty prominent corn and hog producers of Nebraska at their conference in Lincoln last week voted to work with the federal government in the formation of plans to control the production and price of hogs. Delegates from this conference were chosen to attend the national convention to be held in Des Moines later this month.

As a result of a 15 percent reduction by the federal government and the elimination of state funds, national guardsmen of Nebraska will receive but 85 cents per day during the national encampment at Ashland. Formerly, privates received $2 per day. During the coming year, the regular 43 drill periods will be held but the men will receive pay for only thirty-six of the drills. In normal times 1700 men were in attendance at the camp but indications are that number will be decreased this year.

Officials of one railway system in this state reported a 35 percent increase in grain carloadings in Nebraska for the first week in July, as compared with same period a year ago. The grain exchange in Omaha reported receipt of 387 cars in one day last week. It is reported this is the biggest single day's run since the year 1931. Of the total number, there were 176 cars containing corn, 146 cars of wheat, 56 cars of oats, 8 of rye and 1 of barley.

In the interest of economy, State Land Commissioner Conklin, who is also custodian of the state capitol building, will have the outside windows washed only once this year. It is estimated it will give ten men work from a week to a month each and will cost about $590.

The state equalization board at a meeting last week made a 16 percent cut in assessments of five major railroads in Nebraska, thereby reducing the aggregate valuations of the lines from 207 million dollars to 173 millions. The railroads had requested that the new valuations be established on the average values of stocks and bonds of the roads as of April 1, 1933 but the board arrived at the valuation by using the values for the four years past. The assessments made for the various roads are as follows: Burlington, 80 millions, a decrease of 15.56 percent; Chicago & North-western, 17 1-2 millions, decrease of 21.93 percent; Union Pacific, 67 millions, a decrease of 14.12 percent; Rock Island, 4 1-2 millions, a decrease of 22.42 percent; C. St. P. M. & O. 4 millions, a decrease of 23.52 percent. Assessments for other roads in the state have not yet been established.

The state bureau of banking announces the payment of $68,000 in dividends to depositors in failed banks at Martinsburg, Dunbar, Sumner, Cotesfield, Henderson, Bruno, Naper, Hershey and Orleans. The banking bureau has issued a call for state bank conditions as of June 30, this year.

The federal internal revenue bureau collected $1,616,000,000 in taxes during the 1933 fiscal year which just closed. This is an increase of $58,494,000 compared with the 1932 fiscal year. Miscellaneous internal revenue collections increased 368 millions, the total being $669,440,000, while corporation and individual income taxes were considerably less than previously. Nebraska's total contribution for the fiscal year was $1,375,364 as corporation income taxes; $981,865 as individual income taxes and $1,497,000 miscellaneous taxes.

Nebraska had 614 bankruptcies, during the fiscal year ending June 30, as compared with 555 in the previous year. Of the total for the past year, farm bankruptcies totaled 97, or 18.9 percent. This is considered low compared with South Dakota which led the nation with 45.3 percent of all bankruptcy cases attributed to farmers and Iowa with 45 percent. Iowa ranked third of all states in the number of farmer bankruptcies; Illinois being first and Ohio second. For the United States as a whole, farmers represented only 7.7 percent of all cases.

The state and federal agricultural statisticians estimate the condition of the Nebraska corn crop as 79 percent which indicates that the crop will be below that of last year but above the five year average. The statistician estimates the crop at 255,450,000 bushels, compared with 269,293,000 bushels last year and a five year average of 230,002,000 bushels. It is thought that about 31 percent of last year's corn crop is being held on farms. The estimated production of oats is 24 million bushels as compared with 74 million last year, and a five year average of 67 million. The indicated crop of winter wheat is placed at 24 million bushels, or 1 million less than last year. Nine million bushels, or one-half of last year's crop, is estimated for the barley crop. Other estimations on crop productions are as follows: Potato, 7 million bushels; tame hay, 2 1-2 million tons; alfalfa, 1 1-2 million tons and wild hay 1 1-2 million tons. As estimated, all crop productions are below the yields of last year.

The banking crisis of last March caused postal savings deposits to increase to a total of over 1 billion dollars at the end of that month, which was an increase of 106 millions over that of February. While total deposits have increased each month, the rate of increase by the end of May had dropped sharply, indicating returning confidence in the banks of the country. The depression has caused a great increase in postal savings. The total deposits at the end of the 1930 fiscal year was 175 millions; 194 millions at the end of 1931 and 784 millions at the end of 1932.

State Game Warden O'Connell has predicted a sixty day hunting season in Nebraska this fall for migratory water fowl. He indicates that no great changes are in prospect for the hunting season.

Nebraska has 239 licensed aircraft pilots and 103 licensed and 53 unlicensed aircraft. There is one licensed glider pilot and six gliders in the state.

"Because it MADE GOOD the trend is to Plymouth!"

FOR TWENTY YEARS most of the low price cars were produced by two big manufacturers. Again and again other big companies entered that field and after six or eight months — gave up.

People became superstitious about it. There spread a romantic childish idea of a mass production magic — some great, closely guarded secret . . . Plymouth broke the spell, two years ago. Proved that a third manufacturer with the right product could compete in the low price car field. That Plymouth car reflected the very latest ideas in car design.

The public welcomed the Plymouth heartily. It was a low volume year for the automobile industry but a record-breaking year for Plymouth.

Would Plymouth owners repeat? They did. The following year was a continuation of the triumph. Plymouth style, Plymouth engineering — Plymouth value — had MADE GOOD! The swing away from the other low price cars, to Plymouth, is getting bigger every day.

Test the TRUTH of These Assertions

Find out what it is that makes people desert their old favorites and change to Plymouth. That's what they are doing. They are finding more value—more modern conveniences, more automobile pleasure! A PLYMOUTH demonstration will show you.

1500 to 2,000 Head of Feeder Pigs

This week we will have one of the largest runs of good feeding pigs that has ever been sold in one auction in Ord. They all come from the grasshopper infested area of South Dakota, the same quality of pigs that we have been selling the past three weeks. They come from a territory where cholera and negro are unknown. Everyone who has bought or seen these pigs say they are the best we have ever handled. Buy as many of these pigs as you can handle and carry them along on pasture until your own crop matures. Hogs will be higher, so buy them now while they are available.

100 Head of Cattle

We will have a pretty good run of all kinds of cattle for this week. Cattle too will be higher later on, our advice is to buy them as early as you can.

Fable of Tetley's Treatise on Women

By GEORGE ADE

© Bell Syndicate.—WNU Service.

THOSE of you who were so fortunate as to attend the Literary Exercises in connection with the Graduating of the Class of '22 from Bingham College, no doubt will recall the masterly Oration delivered by Herman Tetley. It was the only Speech made by any Graduate and Herm was selected for this Signal Honor because he resembled William Jennings Bryan when the latter was the Boy Orator of the Platte, instead of the Fully Matured Real Estate Booster of Florida. Herm had a flashing eye, an aquiline Beak and his Hair met the Collar. You could tell, by looking at this Lady-Buck that he had been incarnated for the Special Purpose of making Speeches.

It was a very hot Day and a great many sons of Old Bingham, wearing Facial Decorations of Ivy and Alfalfa, had come from as far away as Rock Island Ill., and Chillicothe, Ohio. In spite of the tropical Humidity, the Orator of the Day was fully clad in the Habitments which must be adopted by anyone who hopes to put over an Oration. He wore a long-tailed, ball-bearing Suit of Winter Clothes and had a little white Hickey inside the Weskit, than which nothing could be more Marmadale. Also he was shod with Patent Leathers of dazzling Radiance.

The Vestment Enactment has made Claret Cup an Equivalent of Arson, but the Bird who wears Patent Leather Shoes in the morning goes scot free. Yet there are those who prate of Justice. No doubt the Reader will be interested to learn what Herman Tetley talked about. Well, he talked about 25 minutes and his Subject was "Certain Phases of Feminism." Read it over again and read it slowly and you will perceive that the Hero who started across the Atlantic Ocean in a Dinghy was a Piker when compared with Herman.

Not only did he sum up, briefly, the whole Significance of Woman's recent Itch to hold Office, invade the Professions and put Nan back into the Nine-Hole, but he went ahead and proved that it was all contrary to the Basic Laws of Nature. When he allowed that there were certain fundamental and biological Differences between He and She, which would forever disqualify the Gentler Sex from tackling any rugged Task, he thought he had stumbled upon a new and glittering Truth. He even went so far as to advance the novel Theory that Woman's True Sphere is within the Home.

He did not know that Adam said exactly the same Thing two Days after He lost the Rib, and kept on saying it up to the Day of the Fruit Episode. Adam continued to refer to Himself as the Head of the Household even after he was taking Orders. The Records are not complete, but undoubtedly he used to say to Cain and Abel: "What I say goes, but I don't like to have any Argument with you Ma."

Not long after Commencement Day we find Herman back in Sycamore, where his Dad owned the principal Bank. For a great many years the Male Parent of the Class Orator had been engaged in helping Farmers who were up against it and sometimes he collected no more than the Legal Rate of Interest. Tetley, Sr., had quite a sense of humor, for he often said that the Lord had prospered him. He had a rattling which gave the Son a local importance not to be attained by putting the Hand inside the Coat and spelling a lot of Websterian Observations.

Herman had read in a Folder that Traval has a Broadening Influence, so he talked the Gynvor into letting him go to Europe before he settled down and used his Algebra in running the Bank.

Herman started for the Old World, accompanied by the vast Store of Knowledge which he had acquired at Bingham. He was still strong in the Belief that Woman should not attempt anything more intricate than knitting a Sweater for some Male Relative. He liked the Type of Girl who admired him and his whole Attitude toward the Inferior Sex was one of god-like Forbearance and Patience, tinged with mild Amusement, but Old Tet, '22, didn't believe that any Flapper could tell him anything he hadn't known for three or four years.

Baby-Face Kids Him Along. On the Train he met an Actress who had washed up and walked out, leaving Hollywood flat, because the Directors were not Genteel. She had lost her purse and borrowed $40 from the Class Orator. He gave her his New York Address, but up to the time of his Sailing the Letter had not arrived, probably because the Postal Service is so unreliable in a crowded City. So many letters are being sent to so many different People, it is small wonder that some of them are mislaid. On the Liner it happened that his Deck Chair adjoined one on which reclined a Young Thing with Roly-

Poly eyes and Lips of Supernatural Redness. He classified her at once, bringing to bear all of the Psychology he had mastered during his Senior Year. About the only Thing to be said in her Favor was that she was a Good listener. She encouraged the cultured young Aristocrat from Sycamore to go ahead and blate about Himself for Hours at a Time and when she learned that he had been Manager of the Glee Club she got all worked up and said he must have got many a Thrill out of the Job.

She asked him where he had his Hair Cut, and if that was a Real Pearl in his Stick-Pin, and did they have Movies in Sycamore and had he ever thought of going on the Stage and if so, Why? It didn't take Herm long to size her up as Cute but Shallow—Beautiful but Dumb. He never read any of the Letters she wrote Back to Madge and Ethel and Lora, telling about the Goofie she had been stringing. It is very difficult for an Intellectual Giant to realize that he is being Joshed by some Baby-Face whose Brain seems to be absolutely at Rest.

In every Large City on the Other Side the educated Greenie went into Shops and permitted hypnotic Sales-Girls to load him up with Junk he didn't need and didn't want. And yet, it seemed to him, all of the time, that they were a lot of deferring Menials who simply wanted to learn his Royal Pleasure.

Becoming a Trained Seal. He came back Home with a busted Letter of Credit but the Complex of Superiority was working overtime. He still suspected that the Creator had put aside all other Engagements and devoted a Week to working out the Plans and Specifications for Herman Wyckoff Tetley, Bingham, '22. It's certainly great if you can feel that Way. It helps one to get through many a Rainy Afternoon—you know, just get in front of a Mirror and wallow in your own Personality.

It was about Christmas Time, 1923, that the handsome Young Gentleman with the best Speaking Voice ever heard at his Alma Mater, first met the Grass Widow known as Geraldine. When Herman got a Flash at the vivacious Shoulder-Blades and the carefully-blended Complexion and the Third Act Costume, he should have crossed his Fingers and run Two Miles in the Opposite Direction, but he was rather Intrigued, if the Reader will permit us to get away with that Word. He felt that Geraldine might prove to be an Interesting Study. She turned out to be Nothing Else But Never having attended Bingham College she had to rely on some Practical Knowledge she had picked up on the Side. She sired up the cocky Vaudeictorian and speared him as if he had been a Fish. She took the proud Patrician and made him a Trained Seal.

Long after, when the Lawyer showed him the Letters which had been purchased for $10,000 and asked him where he got such words as "Babyola," "Snoopkins," and "Honey-Bunch," he said he sent her the notes to keep her from dying of a Broken Heart or Committing Suicide, as per Threat.

It required the Services of all the high-priced Attorneys in Sycamore to side-track the Breach-of-Promise Suit. The Fact that the expensive Detectives from the City dug up on Geraldine almost enough to send her to the Chair, did not alter the Fact that an old respected Family, such as the Tetleys, dating away back to the Time of the Spanish-American War, could not afford to be involved in an unsavory Scandal.

The local Bank received a Crimp from which it will not recover for many a Moon. Geraldine started for Atlantic City to work at her Trade. Herman kept under Cover for Weeks. Most of the time he was in his Room, reading, over and over again, his Masterpiece entitled, "Certain Phases of Feminism." When he came to that Part about Women being the Weaker Vessel

Great Salt Lake

The Great Salt lake is almost devoid of life on account of the salinity of its water and its surface is almost devoid of boats because of its specific gravity which makes it difficult to handle craft. The students of the Utah university have recently built a boat adapted for passage about the Great lake and this they will make certain observations as to the movement of the water. Observations on the lake during the past summer appear to indicate that wind causes tides, similar to ocean tides, which run across the lake in conformity with the natural period of its oscillation. This and other research work will be continued, using the student-built craft. — Washington Star.

VOL. 51 NO. 18

VALLEY COUNTY WHEAT GROWERS TO REDUCE CROP

All Wheat Farmers May Receive Benefit from Agricultural Act; Committee Named.

Valley county farmers who grow wheat are to be given an opportunity to take advantage of the Government Wheat Reduction program under the terms of the Agricultural Adjustment Act, and receive benefit payments for such reduction.

A county organization has been set up to acquaint farmers with the provisions of the law and give them the opportunity to decide whether or not they wish to sign contracts.

In brief the plan is this: Each wheat grower will give a statement of his acreage and production for the years 1930, '31 and '32. He will be asked to reduce his production for 1934 in an amount, not definitely decided but probably 20 percent. In return for this he will receive a benefit payment of thirty-cents per bushel on that portion of his average production which is used in the United States which will be 54-percent of his normal production.

The first installment of 2-3 of this amount will be paid soon after September 15th. The second installment will be paid next April when it has been shown that the reduction has actually been made.

A county committee has been selected for Valley county with the following named members: Wm. Heuck, Ord, John White, Arcadia, Henry Desmoul, Ord, John B. Zulkoski, Elyria, and E. O. Schuler of North Loup. This committee met last Saturday at the County Agent's office and heard the supervisor in charge of organization in this district. It was decided to hold county and community meetings as necessary to explain the plan to all wheat growers of Valley county. These meetings will be held in about two weeks. It is hoped that every wheat grower will consider the plan thoughtfully and then decide for himself whether or not it is best for him to sign a contract to reduce his acreage.

Mark Tolen won the first flight defeating Alfred Weigard. Joe Jirak and Curt Gudmundsen were the only other Ord golfers to win their flight.

It also says that work is to be started soon on the Ericson-Burwell road and it is expected that road will be improved this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuson will be visiting Ord relatives and friends for a few weeks. They expected to arrive this week from the west where they have been filling concert engagements for some weeks.

Standard Oil Company To Sell New Gasoline

The Standard Oil Company has prepared and is now ready to market as its regular grade gasoline a new purple-colored motor fuel containing tetraethyl lead concentrate known in the trade as "Q" brand, anti-knock compound. Company officials state that the new product meets the specifications of many premium gasolines of the past. With its new high anti-knock rating added to its other qualities, it will equal any gasolines in its class and far surpass many of them. No premium price is charged. The new gasoline has been manufactured for some time by the refiners and supplies are already going to the field for distribution. Motorists will be asked to try Standard's new purple-colored super motor fuel and make their own conclusions.

Miss Virginia VanDecar gave a golf picnic Thursday evening honoring two out of town visitors, Miss Mary Williams of St. Paul and Margaret Cornell of Lincoln.

Government Laying Foundation For Irrigation and Power Loans

So many people keep asking if there is anything new in the power and irrigation matter that we want to print something, but there is not very much that can be said with authority. Getting about three million dollars with which to make these developments, is a big thing and there are a lot of things that have to be done before the actual cash can be had and before contracts can be let. Fault is being found with the administration because of the delay in naming a director in this state, to pass on the feasibility of our project and other projects, but this fault is being voiced by people who do not know much about the matter or the many factors entering into it. For that reason the Quiz is going to try to explain somewhat the reasons for the delay. Those who watch the daily papers know that Mr. Arthur Mullen has recommended the appointment of a 3-man board in this state to have charge of the expanding of the public money. This board is composed of an engineer, Mr. Lattinier of Omaha, Dan V. Stevens of Fremont and J. E. Lawrence of Lincoln if the recommendation of Mr. Mullen is followed, which is very likely. Friendship is not going to cut a bit of figure in the matter but it happens that two of these men are personal friends of President Hardenbrook of our organization and that is not going to do any harm at least, and the writer hopes to see this suggested board of three named and it will probably be done this week. Many times in the past when there was a lot of money to be expended and a lot of material to be bought, big producers have taken advantage of the situation to raise the price of the material and grab an unfair share of the cash. President Roosevelt knows this and for that reason has held off on making these appointments until he could get his organization perfected and fair price agreements signed by the big producers, before getting the point of buying materials. In doing this he has shown his great wisdom. He desired that as much as possible of the money to be expended, be spent with laborers. As you who have read the papers and who heard his address Monday evening know, he is going to have his agreements well on the way by the time you read this and we believe the necessary management machinery will be set up and that progress will be more rapid. The wonderful growth that corn and other crops have made since we have had abundance of rain, proves conclusively what we could do here every year with sufficient water that could be used at just the right time, and we believe the demand is as great or even greater than ever for irrigation. We believe all should be patient until the administration moves in the matter and then all get behind the movement and push with all our might. The Quiz believes we are going to get the government backing to put this big project across, but it must be remembered that it is a big project and unless the foundations are properly laid, a successful finish cannot be expected. As soon as other developments come the Quiz will keep you posted.

At a meeting held last Wednesday evening in the court house it was decided to add two more teams to the Ord Kitten Ball league, the Merchants and the K. P.'s being the new members. In order to keep records straight it will be necessary to erase the games already played and start anew. The new six-team league opened the official playing season Monday night when the Barbers trimmed the Merchants 10 to 9. Tuesday evening the Court House boys tangled with the K. P.'s winning by a score of 14 to 13. The Hot Shots are scheduled to meet the high school tonight.

In arranging for two new teams many new faces will be seen in the line-ups. The new K. P. team looks like a winner, according to Justice Norman, but they will find plenty of competition from the other five teams. The brand of kittenball has improved in the last few practice games. Last week the Hot Shots staged a seven-inning rally to win from the Court House Rats, while the High School held the Barbers to two runs and won easily. Much interest has sprung up among the women of Ord and several women's teams have been organized and are playing regularly. We understand some of the ladies, as well as men, encountered some difficulty in getting around after the first game or two. One Ord woman, who it is reported, got three homers, two doubles, and a single out of six times at bat, was unable to arise the next morning and her husband threatened to get a wrecker. This woman was in there hitting them at the next game but had a substitute doing the running for her. Much good exercise is being derived from kittenball and the crowds are getting larger at each game. No admission is charged and it's all for exercise and fun.

Says Education Must Come First

Lincoln, July 22.—Herbert L. Cushing, Deputy state superintendent, in an address here Friday said if education is not provided for "we may expect to see a temporary and mushroom prosperity topple under the weight of a 'new deal'."

"Is it sensible," he asked of the industrial recovery program, "to launch out into this vast experimental unknown without giving education a place in the vanguard of the procession? Is it sane to set in motion undertakings which will change our whole economic structure and not recognize the importance of equipping boys and girls to live in a new world wrought out of a new deal?"

"Is it good business judgment during these trying times to slight the activity that builds down deep to the solid rock the foundations upon which an enlightened democracy can alone hope to erect a superstructure of strength and endurance?"

Cushing said the nation can afford three billion dollars for the best educational structure as well as for recovery of industry.—Grand Island Ind.

She was born at Dayton, Indiana, Dec. 5, 1843. Her parents were Wesley and Elizabeth Cain. She was married to Urban Miller at Plattsmouth, Nebraska in 1866. She is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Rent Stephens of Iroquois, S. D., Mrs. Etta Johnson and Mrs. Cora Watson of Lincoln, Nebraska and Mrs. Florence Sershen of Ord. There are also three sons, Harry of Thermopolis, Wyo., Bert of Clarke, Nebr., and Ned of Lincoln, Nebr. There are three children deceased. There is also one sister, Mrs. J. C. Carson of Valparaiso, Ind., 24 grandchildren and 18 great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held Monday at 2:30 p. m. from South's chapel, Rev. Smith of the M. E. church officiating. John Mason, Noble Ralston, George Hubbard, Marlon Crosby, Lawrence Burger and William Bartlett were the pall bearers. Mrs. Mark Tolen sang and Mrs. Harry McBeth presided at the organ. Interment was in the Ord cemetery. Deceased was loved by a large circle of friends for her many sterling qualities and only in recent years has she been prevented by the infirmities of approaching old age from participating in the activities of social life, as was her custom for so long.

Clements Party Home.

Judge E. P. Clements and Postmaster Edwin Clements with their families arrived home from their Minnesota vacation, Saturday evening, having made the entire trip that day. They ran into the rain, or rather the rain caught up with them, after a hard race, between O'Neil and Atkinson and they drove in the rain the balance of the way to Ord. They all agree that they never had a more enjoyable vacation and were all feeling fine after catching up on their sleep. They left the lake at 3:15 a. m. and arrived at Ord at 7:20 p. m. and the distance traveled was about 630 miles. Judge Clements went to Grand Island Wednesday to hold court and expected to have about two weeks steady court work.

Mrs. L. D. Milliken was hostess Thursday to the So and Sew club. Miss Rena Bakker of Springfield, S. D., and Mrs. C. C. Shepard were guests.

COATS OUTLINES NEBRASKA FARM HOLIDAY IDEALS

Says Organization Born of Necessity; Has Spread All Over Nebraska, Border States.

By ERNEST S. COATS Secretary of the Valley County Farm Holiday Association.

Ever since the state convention at Loup City the latter part of June the interest in our Farm Holiday Association has increased wonderfully in Valley county and I am asked a hundred questions about it, by business men of Ord, as well as by farmers. And since I wrote the open letter to Mr. McKelvie, publisher of the Nebraska Farmer a few weeks ago, I have been told someone should write an article and tell the public all about the Holiday, its past and what it proposes for the future.

I have the state secretary's report at hand and will quote some from it, and the rest of the article will be from my own experience and knowledge of the Holiday association since its origin last fall in Madison county. Quoting from the secretary's report: "The Holiday Association of Nebraska, Madison county plan, was, it may be truly said, born of necessity. When in September, 1932 a group of Madison county farmers in the vicinity of Newman Grove, realized that scores of farmers in the community would be dispossessed of their horses, cows and farming equipment, their only means of providing a living for themselves and families, through foreclosure

Big Fish on Strike... says Editor

Friday July 21 1933 Jackpine Lodge, Cullen Lake, Niswaw Minn.

Dear Quiz: When I came up here two weeks ago tomorrow in company with my wife Mr. and Mrs. John Misko and son Jimmy and Mrs. Darlene Anderson I planned to write a letter of thrilling fish stories for publication each week. This is the first letter I have written to date, not because I haven't wanted to but because the fish have been very disobedient and have refused to strike—the big ones, that is. We can always catch bluegills and crappies in large numbers and I never saw the lake so full of small bass. But only a few large bass have been caught in this end of camp this year and no big northern pike have been reported. Moreover, the wall-eye pike are on a strike, both here and in Gull Lake where we usually catch so many of them.

Soon after we arrived we made a couple of good catches of wall-eyes in Upper Cullen—eight the first time and nine the second. None of them were large, about four pounds being the biggest. And since then Cullen lake wall-eyes have refused to bite. To Frank Gross, the former Ord man who now lives in Albion and has a fine summer home here, must go the credit for telling the best fish story of the season. Or rather turtle story, and it is vouchered for by several unimpeachable witnesses.

Frank's son, Truman, of Omaha, is here visiting his parents and has a little Johnson motor with which he loves to troll for big fish. He has hooked several monsters so far, with the net result that he has smashed three rods and hasn't landed a single big fish. Yesterday he was trolling in the bay in front of the Ord camp and had a terrific strike. He said it felt like he had a sack of sugar on the end of his line. Then the line broke and he lost his leader and the Dare-devil spinner with which he was trolling.

Mr. Gross' neighbor, Mr. Humphreysville, of Clarinda, Ia., has a small minnow box in the lake at his dock and this morning found that a large turtle had crawled in from the box and eaten all of his minnows. When they took the turtle out of the box they noticed a cat-gul leader and a piece of fishing line about three feet long hanging from his mouth. They investigated after cutting off the big turtle's head and performing an operation on him they found a Dare-devil spinner in his stomach. A comparison of the line proved that the spinner had belonged to Truman Gross. So who says a turtle won't strike a moving bait?

Truman may not think so much of my telling the turtle story but he won't mind my mentioning the fact that he was hooked onto a wall-eyed pike that weighed ten or twelve pounds for a while yesterday. He was trolling and using a light split bamboo fly rod so had a hard tussle all over the west end of Middle Cullen before he subjugated the fish. It was laying alongside the boat, belly-up, and Truman, not having a landing net, was debating with himself how to land it when Mr. Fish gave one last despairing flop, broke the line and vanished into the depths.

It seems to be an article about the big fish that got away, for I must mention the experience that Byron Simpson, Jr., of Omaha, had a couple of days ago. He hooked a big northern pike and tired it out but was afraid to grasp it in his hands and lift it into the boat, as he remembered the experience of Mr. Swartwood, of Lower Cullen, the day before. Mr. Swartwood had his right hand all most stripped of flesh by a 19-pounder but landed the fish. Young Simpson was afraid the same thing might happen to him, and the fish got away.

The weather has been delightful up here, warm during the day but almost too cold at night. We have had wood fires several evenings but not so often as last summer, when we had to have a fire constantly. Rain has fallen a few evenings but the lake is lower than when we arrived and near-by farmers say that a soaking rain is needed badly.

The Nebraska camp was full when we arrived but most of the cottages are empty now. Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner and Harold Hershey of Burwell left yesterday, Dr. and Mrs. Gelow of Grand Island left a few days before, and the Clements families are going early in the morning. Truman Gross and Byron Simpson, Jr., and their families will leave for their homes in Omaha tomorrow, leaving the Gross, Humphreysville and MacKowsky cottages and our own the only ones still occupied. We will be here another week and will leave for home about the time this letter reaches print, if it does.

Even though John and I haven't caught any big fish we have had a wonderful time this summer, which applies to our better halves as well. The girls swim once or twice every day, either in our own lake or on the wonderful beach at Pelican Lake three miles away. Grandpa Jim Misko would swell up and burst with pride if he could see the way his ten-months-old grandson takes to the water. The baby is a favorite in the camp and almost every day one of the neighbors walks in and asks if he can't take Jimmy over "to show him to the women."

It's time to close Quiz readers, as the girls are about ready to leave for Brainerd to buy supplies and mail letters. And John is hollering that it is time to get ice. Our home-made ice box holds four 150-pound cakes of ice and we go to the ice house two blocks away and wheel this quantity to our cottage on a wheelbarrow every three or four days. John says he knows now how Red Grange kept in condition for football by hauling ice. But even this and the strenuous exercise of rowing and swimming hasn't kept us from gaining about ten pounds apiece in two weeks, so reducing diets will be in order in the Misko and Leggett homes when we return to Ord.

Our party sends regards to all their Quiz-reading friends and we wish you could all be here to enjoy a meal of fish with us. We eat fish at least once a day and could catch enough bluegills and crappies to feed a hundred people daily instead of only five, which proves that fishing really isn't so poor even if the big ones aren't hitting.

Car Lights Shut Off, Rolls Over In Ditch

While returning from the Weller Auction Co. sale at Atkinson last Wednesday, Lloyd Parks and Joe Kokes of Ord, and Carl Grunke-meyer of Burwell rolled over in the Parks car and were more or less shaken up. The accident occurred a short time after dark, shortly after the men had left Atkinson. The three were riding in a light coupe and were driving with lights. In some manner one of the men hit the light switch with his knees and put out the lights. Mr. Parks, who was driving, applied the brakes but the car went off the road and tipped over. Mr. Grunke-meyer received a bad glass cut on his arm and an injured leg. The others escaped with only slight bruises.

Has Sixty Great Grandchildren. Ross Vincent jr., born July 16th to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Vincent of Scottsbluff, Nebr., is Mrs. Alice Vincent's 60th great grandchild. She has 24 grandchildren.

Judging Team To Canada. Carl Dale and his stock judging team left early this morning for Canada where they will do judging at some of the large stock shows. The boys from Valley county, accompanying Mr. Dale are Bud Brickner, Chas. Barnhart, Valerian Clochon, Harold Benn and Bill Garnick.

Mrs. Lou Simpson Dies. Mrs. Lou Simpson, for many years a resident of near Elyria, died and the remains have been shipped to Ord and the funeral will be held this Thursday afternoon from the Sewell Funeral Home. We are unable to get an obituary for this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dworak drove to Bellwood Sunday. They were going to Lincoln before returning home.

Young Musicians Will Get Vacation

Many Praise Work of Prof. Duncan; Youthful Students Will End Summer's Practice With Recital.

For two months Dean S. Duncan, director of music in the Ord schools, has been training a hundred or more boys and girls in voice and instrumental music and whether a lot of progress has been made can best be judged by the parents and friends of the youngsters if they will attend the recital which is to be given next Tuesday evening, August 1st at the high school auditorium. All are cordially invited. At that time Professor Duncan will tell somewhat of the work that has been done and the public will hear how many hours of real practice the students, most of them below the high school age, have put in. All kinds of instruments are being taught.

Last week the students and their parents had a picnic at the park and a few friends, hearing about it, asked for "eats" a short program was given and so enthusiastic was the reaction on the part of those present, that in all probability, next year, the public generally will be invited to participate in the picnic and enjoy the open air concert which will follow. Those with whom the Quiz has talked, feel that Mr. Duncan is giving the youngsters great training, and building, in Ord, a music minded group that, in a few years more, will make it possible to have two or three good bands available if the occasion demands. With a hundred or more graders given several hours a day of music training and practice a day for a couple of months of the summer vacation, a lot of their spare time when there would be nothing to do but get into mischief, at the same time teaching them something that is going to be a source of pleasure and profit to them all their lives, is a fine thing and should have the approval and encouragement of everyone. Better plan to attend the program at the high school auditorium August 1st. It will end the summer vacation music training.

90-Year Old Ord Man Honored At Dinner

William Wigent, one of the pioneers of this county and one of its oldest and most highly esteemed residents, was honored at a birthday dinner, given by the local G. A. R. ladies and held in the American Legion hall, Tuesday. There were 23 guests, J. H. Carson being another honored guest, though it was not his birthday. Mr. Wigent received many letters, postcards and gifts with expressions of congratulation and well wishes for his continued good health. A letter from Merritt Fuson hoped he would live and enjoy life for another 90 years. All of Mr. Wigent's old friends call him Bill. He has lived in Valley county for sixty years.

Mr. Wigent came to Valley county from Wisconsin with his wife and little 5-year old daughter 60 years ago and settled in Springfield. For many years there was a country postoffice out there and he was the second postmaster. Mrs. Wigent used to make out the government reports and on one occasion she received a very pretty picture from the government at Washington for her promptness and the neatness of her penmanship in making the reports. Mr. Wigent's life companion passed on 23 years ago and for many years his only daughter, the little 5-year old girl who came with them to Nebraska in the early days, Mrs. Nancy Covert, has been his housekeeper. Mr. Wigent has a great fund of interesting stories of those early pioneer days which he can tell and which he sometimes delights to repeat to his friends and grandchildren. He has five grandchildren and 14 great-grandchildren.

It was a wonderful dinner that was served Tuesday. Mr. Wigent received two nice birthday cakes, one of them made by Mrs. Cecil Clark, State President of the G. A. R. The afternoon was spent with visiting and singing old army songs and the occasion will remain fresh in the memories of all who were privileged to be present.

Gets Four Road Contracts. Fred Ulrich has been awarded four good road graveling contracts, totaling over seven thousand dollars. He has to have the work completed in 60 days. A couple of the contracts are in the vicinity of Burwell and two are on the Potash Highway west from Dunning.

Quiz Foreman On Vacation. H. J. McBeth and wife and four children left last evening for Cullen Lake where they will spend a week or more fishing and resting and having a good time. They were accompanied by Assistant Postmaster Guy LeMasters and family and they will all occupy the Clements cottage. It is the first time the LeMasters have been up there and they were looking forward with great interest to the many new things they expected to see.

There were 168 votes cast at the village election at North Loup last spring. The new state law provides that if 50 per cent of the voters sign a petition asking the village board not to grant licenses to sell the new 3.2 beer, the hands of the board are tied. North Loup citizens just exactly doubled the requirements of the law by getting 100 per cent of the voters. A similar petition was filed with the county board asking that no permit be granted to sell the beverage within three miles of the village of North Loup.

In its story of the matter last week the Loyalist points out that all the surrounding towns will have been. That paper also says that only two or three of the business people of the town signed the petition and that several desired to handle the new brew. No doubt North Loup business men feel that much trade will go to the surrounding towns because the beer cannot be bought at home. Perhaps this will prove to be true and then again, perhaps North Loup will really profit by not having beer. There may be a good many families within the trading radius of that village who are opposed to the sale of beer and who will go to North Loup and make up any loss that may be sustained by reason of not having beer there. That remains to be seen.

PROMINENT ORD YOUNG FARMER DIED MONDAY

Ernest M. Hill Victim of Lung Infection, Ill Short Time, Funeral Yesterday.

The entire community was shocked Monday morning when word was passed around that Ernie Hill was dead, many not even knowing that he had been sick. He was ill only about a week and the Saturday before his death he rode to Ord from his farm home, with Dr. Lee Nay, to consult with other doctors regarding his condition, then was taken to the home of his mother in Ord. His trouble was quinzly, an infection centering in one lung. Ernest Melvin Hill was born at the Hill home west of Ord in Valley county, Nebraska May 7, 1895 and died at the home of his mother, Mrs. Alvin Hill in Ord July 24, 1933 at 10:30 a. m. He was married November 24, 1924 to Miss Helen K. Johnson and is survived by his wife, one daughter Alice May Hill, his mother Mrs. Alvin Hill, two brothers, Alfred Hill and William Hill all of Ord, two nieces, Phyllis Hill of Ord and Sharron Lee of Moberly, Mo., two nephews, Donald Hill of Ord and Frederick Harris Young of Genoa, Nebr. and many other relatives and his friends are numbered by those who knew him.

Ernie, as all his friends called him, was in the clothing business in Ord with his brother for some years and after disposing of their business he moved onto a farm a dozen miles or more north of Ord where they have lived since and where he was making a marked success of the business during these trying times.

He was a veteran of the world war, serving over seas and it was after his return that he went into business. He was always active in lodge and all civic matters, was a leading factor in promoting the Valley county fair for several years and served on the fair board as long as the fair was functioning. He was always very active in promoting any social events that were being sponsored by Ord business men and his advice and council was always sought and freely given.

Deceased was a member of the Ord Presbyterian church. Funeral services, which were largely attended, were held from the Ord Methodist church yesterday at 2:30, July 26, Rev. Rea of the Presbyterian church officiating and interment was in the Ord cemetery.

North Loup Pioneer Passes Away Monday

North Loup, July 26 (Special)—Charles Thrasher, pioneer settler in Valley county, passed away at Green Gables in Lincoln, Monday evening. Mr. Thrasher had been in failing health for some time and was recently taken to the Lincoln institution in the hope that his health could be benefited. Funeral services are being held in the North Loup M. E. church this Thursday, afternoon and interment will be in the North Loup cemetery.

THE ORD QUIZ

My Own Column By H. D. LEGGETT

Last year when business conditions got so bad, the Quiz, wanting to do its share to help and at the same time, be able to pay its bills, reduced advertising prices one third, cut job work prices materially and cut the price of the Quiz from $2 to $1 per year. The reduction brought in substantial subscription returns, showing that the people want to read the Quiz, but job work has been shrinking, as has advertising income and we were disappointed in thinking the cut in prices would increase the business. The only result was a further shrink in our income and this forced the further salary cuts. At the present time the Quiz job work department is without a single job on the hook, the first time in the memory of the writer when such was the case. Yet we know that many Ord business men need stationery, statements, doggers, envelopes and other printing. Some have told us so. Prices are advancing, a good corn crop is almost sure and there is going to be a good business ahead. A careful use of printers ink for sale bills, post cards, advertising, circular letters, etc. will hasten a return of that business. The Quiz has skilled laborers, men who have been with us for years, men with families. Their present pay is only half what it used to be, yet the costs of living are increasing. One-half the help we have could easily handle the business we have to do, but we will need the help later, they couldn't get jobs now if we were to let them go, so the writer keeps them on, lets them do the work that he could do if it wasn't for putting them out of a job and hopes for more business. So I am now asking those business men who need printing, to bring in a job or two. Don't have it all done at once, all you need, and don't leave it all to be done in a bunch when the rush comes as it surely will. If half of the business firms in Ord would bring in one job each we could have something to do and some chance to collect enough at the end of the month to pay running expenses. And the subscriptions, there are several hundred past due. We have not sent statements for many months and do not plan on doing so now, but those who can pay up should do so without a statement. Three or four have in the past week, which makes me think we are headed for improvement. One man brought in a couple of dollars and said he had been intending to do so but always forgot it. I can't forget it Saturday night, and get away with it, for the boys have to have their money to live. So folks, if you do a subscription, come in and pay up now. I will surely appreciate it and you will enjoy your paper better. I sold it to you for a dollar when it helped you. It is no more than fair that you help me out now. The Quiz is now $2 but advertising and job work have not advanced, though paper is about 25 per cent higher and prices have got to advance on the finished work.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Mission, S. D., July 11, 1933.
Cool's Col-Yum-Yum
Dear Madam:
In your request for more recipes I will send a few.
Saw Mrs. Vincent Hlavica's recipe for home-made yeast. We use it and find it fine. We use these variations: home ground corn and hop tea. I will copy the recipe and add variations. Pardon me for copying this.
Home Made Yeast Cake.
Bring to boiling point one pint of buttermilk, stir in enough cornmeal to make a mush. Have three cakes of yeast soaked in water and softened. Cool the mush and add the yeast. Let rise three to four hours in a warm place. Then add enough cornmeal to work out in cakes. When making a new batch we use 3 cakes of this yeast and add some hop tea. The hop tea gives the yeast new life. We use home ground cornmeal also. Have used this yeast all spring and summer and haven't bought any yeast from stores.
Pork and Beans.
1 quart white beans. Wash and soak overnight. Boil in same water, add 1-teaspoon soda and boil until the skins will curl when blown on or just a few minutes longer. Drain. In baking dish place 1-2 cup finely cut onion, 1-2 cup bacon, ham or salt pork, cut fine, 1-2 cup white sugar, 2 cups strained tomatoes, 1 tablespoon salt, 1-4 teaspoon pepper, 1-2 teaspoon dry mustard. Add beans and water enough to cover, bake in a slow oven 4 or 5 hours. These beans can be canned by baking until done and processing at least 3 hours. A batch will make 4 pints. They are fine to open on a hot day when one wants beans and doesn't want a fire all day.
Coffee Cake.
2 quarts bread sponge, 2 cups strong coffee, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup butter or lard, 1 teaspoon each cinnamon and ginger. Raisins if desired. Mix like bread and let raise.
Cabbage Salad.
Mix three cups of shredded cabbage, one cup of apple, cut in small cubes, one-half cup of sliced celery, and a cup of grated pineapple, with the desired amount of Bolled Salad Dressing.
Mix one-half teaspoon of mustard, one-half teaspoon of salt, and one-fourth teaspoon of pepper. Add the yolks of two eggs and mix thoroughly. Add one-fourth cup of butter and one-fourth cup of vinegar. Set the saucepan over hot water and stir until the mixture becomes smooth and thick. Then remove from the fire and beat in the white of one egg, beaten dry. Return the saucepan to the hot water to set the egg. Beat the mixture constantly while it is in hot water. When the mixture is cold, fold in one half cup of thick cream beaten solid.
Lemon Pie.
2 cups water, 1 tablespoon butter, grated rind of 1-2 lemon and juice of 1 lemon. Boil the above, add 2 egg yolks, sugar to taste, 2 tablespoons flour. Use water to make paste. This makes 1 pie filling.
I like the Cooks Col-Yum-Yum fine, so consequently don't want to see it discontinued. These are not all hot weather dishes but they are some of my favorites.
An interested reader of the Quiz.

So far there is not much copy in sight for the Cook's Col Yum Yum. Perhaps Irma is all out of recipes. I notice she has been urging that a lot of them be sent in. I am sure they will be coming because so many tell me they like that department. And we need them to select from when it comes to making the 1933-34 calendar.

The administration keeps the newspapers full of dope about the hurry to get things moving to help the depression. If this is not mostly hot air why don't they get a Nebraska administrator appointed so some of the proposed irrigation projects can be started. It will be lots cheaper and easier to do that kind of work in the summer than in the winter and as it stacks up now, it is going to be winter before the politicians get together and ready to go to work.

Andy Cook said he just found that there were no potatoes on his spring-planted vines so, last week, he planted spuds again and still expects to get a crop. A farmer took out a lot of seed corn and was going to plant corn in his field where no crop was raised. It is claimed a Valley county man, a few years ago, planted corn July 29 and raised 60 bushels to the acre.

Dillo Troyer had one of his pet theories busted wide open last Thursday night. I was in his place of business and the goldfish in his tank were swimming to the top of the water and had their mouths open. Dillo said that was a sure sign it was going to rain that night, what he had never know it to fall. It didn't rain.

It begins to look as though it was going to be unanimous, the states voting for repeal of the 18th amendment. I believe 50 per cent of the people voting, never saw a real, old fashioned saloon in action and a lot of the other 50 per cent who are voting, are voting wet be-

Time speeds on One year has passed
Since death its gloom, its shadows cast
Within our home there all seemed bright

For up in heaven we will meet again.

cause they are disgusted with the way the dry laws were administered. I don't believe very many who know the old saloon as it was, want it back and I am just as sure that we are going to have it back or something worse. And I believe a few years of it will convince a large majority that they don't want it. The next time this country goes dry it will be for good.

If all the proposed irrigation and power projects should get going what would it do to the power trust? What would you, Mr. Quiz reader, do if you were the power trust and saw your business being ruined? Well, that is just what the power trust is doing. And who would you pick to help you put it over? The fellows who have always trained with you of course and that is just what the power trust is doing. If the power trust is successful in queering our deal those who helped or tried to help, will be rewarded. Watch and see.

Something DIFFERENT

Just south of Nisswa, the postoffice of the Ord colony on Cullen Lake, is a huge tree with boards nailed to the trunk for steps, ladder-fashion. Which seems like spilling a perfectly good pine tree until you look aloft and see a tree-house in the branches, high above the ground.

If there is anything I think would be fascinating it would be to have a playhouse or a little tea-house up in the air like that.

Cullen Lake camp, being very law abiding, has never had any truck with game wardens or any other form of law officers. But the last year or two some newly appointed and hence very important game wardens have made this part of their regular beat, and find it necessary to tour over here once in a while.

It is possible to distinguish the game wardens about a mile away because of the high powered snort of their high powered motor, which is a dandy and enable them to catch any other boat in these parts. This loud warning racket is of course a great help to any fishermen who happen to be fishing without licenses or otherwise law-breaking.

The sunsets in this part of Minnesota are the most beautiful imaginable, seen over our lake.

There comes a time every still evening when the water exactly duplicates the sky and all its colors. The dock appears to be leading out into the sky. The nearest I can come to describing it is to compare the scene to one of those silver and black silhouettes now popular. The trees before the house and the shore-line across the lake form the black interruptions in the silver of the picture.

So far, two helpful friends have offered these suggestions in the "Men, Wear Less Clothes" campaign which Fred Howard and I decided to sponsor.

One was the breech cloth, and the other was back-to-the-flig-leaf. However, ahem. I see the Duke of Marlborough is working toward more comfortable standards, over in England. His Grace according to "News-Week" appeared at a formal banquet in white linen trousers, soft collar and shirt, and spent the evening commiserating with other guests who were all in evening clothes with "hard and brutal" collars. So now Fred Howard and I can speak of "me and the Duke", and won't that be fun?

Across the lake each evening someone plays chimes, or bells, and the melodies float across with distance adding to their charm. Their faintness gives them an unreal, faery quality.

I guess I like my music faint. No disrespect to the Ord band, but I enjoy their concerts more when we sit out on our lawn in the evenings than I ever would parked in a car close to all the horn-blowing of automobiles. Heard in the distance the band music is delightful.

Mrs. John Misko scared herself nearly to death today when we were swimming in Pelican Lake. After sun-bathing on a hundred-foot-wide strip of sand on the beach for some time, she at last swam out to deeper water and was having an elegant time doing a crawl stroke when she happened to glance down below her in the clear water.

There she saw a huge black creature reaching out with arms and legs, octopus fashion. Having seen too many mystery movies, she at once thought of a big black octopus, though she had never heard of any in Minnesota. About that time she kicked up a little sand and a white powdery look arose, and she got more octopus-frightened and hit for shore. Arrived there it took her several minutes to remember that the big black thing would be her shadow, swimming beneath her wherever she went with the sun brightly shining! Case of a lovely imagination, eh?

John and Gene got themselves in disgrace with the W. C. T. U. element of this camp.

Fishing in the sun is hot work, sitting over a bar for hours, waiting for bites that never come. So the boys take a water bottle along. Recently they ran across an elegant big brown bottle which years ago held some kind of fine hard liquor and immediately adopted it for their water bottle.

So a few evenings ago when several boats were side by side on the pike bar the boys pulled out this brown bottle which was really full of water and began to swig at it in the most appreciative manner, much to the disgust, apparently, of some of the members of the fishing fleet, who were not wise to the contents of the bottle.

"Hydraulic Brakes COST MORE"

all engineers know they are BETTER"

IN THE LAST TEN YEARS there have been built over one million cars and taxicabs with Hydraulic Brakes. They are the simplest and most effective type of brakes used for automobiles. They are the safest.

It is common knowledge among engineers that mechanical brakes, with all of the mechanical units involved, do not lend themselves to permanent adjustment. And it is poor equalization of brakes at the four wheels more than any other one mechanical factor which causes accidents. Plymouth Hydraulic Brakes are self-equalizing, quick and positive.

Hydraulic brakes cost more to put on a car but they save money for the owner in upkeep. They require the least imaginable attention. They give longer life to the brake facings and tires.

Get these modern brakes on the next car you buy. You will prefer them to any other. Plymouth is the only low price car that is equipped with Hydraulic Brakes..

FIND OUT! greatest value in low priced cars. It's a big story. An advertisement can't give it to you. It's worth investigating personally. Call us for a demonstration.

IN ANSWER TO A LADY'S LETTER

A lady writes to say that she does not understand why an 8-cylinder car does not cost more to run than a car with fewer cylinders. She refers to my statement that our Ford V-8 develops more power on a gallon of gas than any car we have made.

The use of 8-cylinders does not mean the addition of two or four extra fuel consumers. It is not, for example, a 4-cylinder engine multiplied by two. Our 8-cylinder engine takes the fuel supply of an ordinary 4-cylinder engine and divides it eight ways. And why?

By reducing four larger explosions into eight smaller ones, we get engine smoothness and quietness. Eight-cylinders indicate the way the gas is used, not the amount. It is just the difference between going upstairs in four long jumps or in eight ordinary steps.

Two things use up gas—bad engine design and useless car weight. Besides having an engine that gets a high percentage of power out of the fuel, the Ford V-8 has a light, strong body and chassis so that no power is wasted in moving excess weight.

The only extravagance about the new Ford V-8 engine is in the building of it. The extravagance is ours—the economy is yours.

The whole question of car economy needs clearing up. An economical car gives economy all round. Price, operation, upkeep, all play their part. If what you save on gas you lose elsewhere, that is not economy.

As to upkeep, our dealers say that in recent years the improved quality of Ford cars has cut down their repair business 50 per cent.

As to price with quality,—judge for yourself.

As to economy, here is the record of a stock car three weeks out of shop in Oklahoma:

On a run of 10,054 miles at the rate of 1,000 miles a day—the Ford V-8 gave 18.8 miles per gallon of gas. Not a drop of water was added to the radiator. The oil was changed once in 1,000 miles.

That should answer a lot of questions.

State University Hospital Aids Local County Indigent

OMAHA, Nebr.—A total of 493 patient days at the University of Nebraska college of medicine hospital here were used by Valley county people last year, according to figures recently announced by hospital authorities. A total of 72,368 patient days service was given by the hospital during the past year. The patients were of all types, but were alike in being in need of treatment and in having but little to pay for it. Patients must have an application signed by a physician and county official before they are admitted to the hospital.

Each county in the state is entitled to a certain number of hospital days per year, based on the population of the county itself. A hospital day is the care of one patient for one day. If the annual total number of patient days had been evenly distributed over the past year, there would have been about 200 patients in the University hospital at all times.

The past year showed the greatest amount of hospital service ever rendered by the University hospital, according to authorities, who pointed out that the 1932-33 figure was 72,368, as compared with the 1931-32 figure of 70,667, and the 1928-29 figure of about 43,000.

In caring for this average of 200 patients a day, the hospital rendered all forms of service. During the year many hundreds of major and minor operations were performed, thousands of x-ray examinations and treatments were given, and thousands of prescriptions filled and laboratory tests made.

In addition to the medical service offered the indigent people, about 3,500 patients a month were cared for at the dispensary or outpatient department. Here are served the thousands who are unable to pay for private doctors and who do not require hospitalization.

During the coming year all county quotas will be reduced, declare University officials, due to reduced legislative appropriations. It has been necessary to close two of the 11 wards in the hospital and to reduce the number by about 1,000 to 1,200 the dispensary visits that are made each month.

Prisoners are provided with groceries but they must prepare their own meals.

If they are poor cooks, they must be content with poor meals.—World Herald.

The following story appeared in a state paper Tuesday:

"T. H. Murphy of Greeley, owner of a half dozen filling stations, reports that as he was motoring between Ericson and Bartlett, he overtook a hound chasing a jack-rabbit.

The dog was close to the rabbit as Murphy approached. Murphy slowed his car. The jack jumped onto the running board. Murphy stepped on the gas. After riding the running board for a quarter of a mile the jack leaped to the side of the road. The hound had given up the chase."

She must have liked it for she did not register any disapproval, and plans to come again. Mearl C. Smith, Minister. Christian Science. The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, for Sunday, July 30, is "Love". The Golden Text is from Isaiah 49:13: "Sing, O heavens; and break forth into singing, O mountains; for the Lord hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted." A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon reads "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us. God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God, and God in him." (I John 4:16). A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "People go into ecstasies over the sense of a personal Jehovah, though with scarcely a spark of love in the hearts; yet God is Love, and without Love, God, immortality cannot appear. Mortals believe in a finite personal God; while God is infinite Love, which must be unlimited." (page 312).

of mortgages, most of which were held by receivers of busted banks, and thrown on an already overburdened charity, unless something was done to prevent it, they decided that such an outrage must not be permitted. They got together on a program and began to organize. The chief demand about which they all rallied was that there was to be no foreclosures, forced sales or evictions until the depression is over. After the first demonstration of power of united action in stopping foreclosure sales, the rush to join the organization became a stampede, spreading over the state like a prairie fire, and even crossing the border into other states. Mortgage holders realized the impossibility of holding sheriff sales against united opposition of Holiday farmers granted extensions of time and made settlements as demanded by the Holiday action committee and thus thousands of foreclosures were forestalled and thousands of families saved from being driven into the ranks of the unemployed and soup lines. Thousands of cases of dispute between landlords and tenants and between creditors and debtors have been amicably settled by Holiday action committees, without resorting to lawyers and courts, and in nearly every case, satisfactory to both sides, thus saving untold thousands of dollars that would otherwise have been spent in litigation.

When the four thousand farmers marched on our legislature the past winter, the automobile license fee was reduced from $8 to $3 and a moratorium law granted, which although jockeyed so as to be of little value to us, nevertheless an admission by the lawmakers that our demands were just and had to be given some kind of recognition. Now my own comment is this, the next time our legislature meets our demands will be met in full and the number of our holiday members will be so great that the opposition will not show their hand. Don't be scared, the radical don't get a look-in with the rank and file of our members and all we ask is justice and a square deal for everyone. We don't place the dollar above human beings. We are accused of beating our debts. That is a falsehood, or in the language of we farmers, a damned lie. A few dead beats may join our organization, expecting to get out of paying their just dues, but they are sure to get a jolt, as we help no dead-beats, and they are so far in the minority, they can't harm us. We here in Valley county, have been very fortunate, compared with the rest of the state, or a good part of the state, in spite of our poor years had failed banks. Mortgage sales have been very scarce and most of the farmers are still on the land. Our bankers here in Ord, have not bore down on the farmer like in the other counties. Maybe there are a little more human than in other places. They did fall down bad on their job of financing the farmer and business man and we were left to struggle along as best we could, without their aid, that we were led to believe would always be extended to us. They were fighting for their business lives the same as the rest of us, so I think maybe they have learned it is best not to butt up against organized opposition, as they also know what organized wealth can do to the little country banker as well as the farmer. But there is one menace in our midst, we are getting on to, that is the parties that go out and buy notes or judgments, say for example of the receiver of a busted bank four thousand dollars worth of paper for $800, then try and collect the whole business, even if they bust a man in the transaction. That is worse than highway robbery. The depositors are robbed on one side and a family made destitute on the other. The Holiday members are on the job. Once in a while we find a farmer who says, "I don't believe in organization; I believe in going it alone, besides I would not break the law." There are not many of these fellows left and sometimes when the Holiday plan is explained, they see it different as to breaking the law. That is the last thing we want to do. I suppose this party that is so afraid that we are going to break the law, by stopping mortgage sales and getting reductions on his auto license from $8 to $3 and settling disputes for people out of court, and keeping the renter on his farm, that was about to be turned out in the road for not being able to pay his cash rent for the year before on account of crop failures, will hold up his hands in horror when I tell him the few things we expect to do in the future. We expect to be able to nominate and elect a man or woman that is favorable to the Holiday plan, to every office in county and state. Over in Thurston county, the county close to my old home county, they had a Holiday association that sprang up nearly overnight. Conditions were bad and growing worse. Jail and foreclosure faced many farmers. My brother-in-law lives there. He is the secretary of their county organization. He had a little experience as county judge. The Holiday association ran him for the office against a party that opposed the association. Well, my brother-in-law was elected at the last election with a 500-majority. We don't expect to fill the offices with all farmers. But the fellow who gets there must have prospects of giving the farmer and laborer a square deal and if he don't we won't go down to Lincoln with on-

MORE SAFETY MORE MILEAGE

Table with 2 columns: ALL-WEATHER and PATHFINDER. Rows of tire sizes and prices.

STRANGE fact about the tire business is - the PRICE of all tires is about alike. You might as well pick the best - in quality, in safety, in mileage.

What's the best in quality? The public says Goodyear - preferred by more people than any THREE other makes.

What's the best in safety? Accurate tests on wet concrete show Goodyears will stop a car quicker than any other tire. The next best tire skidded 10% more - other tires skidded up to 77% more under exactly the same conditions.

What's the best in mileage? Bus fleet records show Goodyear Tires give 97% more mileage than they gave five years ago.

Now that all prices are headed UP - it's more important than ever to get the most for your money. Better look over your tires and buy new Goodyears now while prices are still low.

ly 4,000 which is quite a bunch, but 20,000 will be in the march. Organization will get us there. Another crime we expect to commit is to settle the rent question. Now as it is, every renter bids against his neighbor and the consequence is, the renter promises more than he can pay. Next year he has to move and some other renter goes through the same agony. A uniform share rent will be worked out, that is fair both to landlord and renter and if there is a dead beat renter, he will reform or get out of the picture. Another crime we expect to commit, unless it is otherwise remedied, is to get the federal land bank to give us a Holiday appraisal on our land. Millions of dollars have been set aside to finance our farm mortgages and the way it looks as this is written, our land is appraised so low that very few can get money enough to pay off their present mortgage. We hope this will be remedied soon but if not, we will start a state-wide movement to get the appraisal value so that the average farmer can get enough on his land to pay off the present loan, with a federal loan, that carries a smaller rate of interest and a long term of years to pay the principal. It is the opinion of leading farmers that if this farm mortgage refinancing can be carried out, it will help to bring back to prosperity, the farmer quicker than anything else. Some of my readers may say, "this is no interest to me; I am not a farmer." If you live in Nebraska you are a farmer, directly or indirectly, as all our wealth comes from the farm. You prosper or go broke along with the farmer. So don't make faces at the overworked men and women when they organize to better their condition. All right, put your faith in Roosevelt. I have got mine there also. But lets keep our Holiday organization and get it perfected, for the chances are that we will need it and need it mighty bad in the near future. Quoting again from the state secretary's report: "The Holiday association of Nebraska, Madison county plan, endorsed the farmers relief conference held in Washington D. C., Dec. 7 to 10, 1932 and sent 24 delegates. It also endorsed and sponsored the Nebraska farmers relief conference held in Lincoln Feb. 15 and 16, 1933, where several thousand farmers marched to the state capitol and presented their demands to the state legislature." Again this is my own dope. Considering the activities of our own organization and the lack of experience in organization work, we have made very few mistakes. The opposition showed their hand in a few cases. One place where the farmers gathered to protect a fellow member from being sold on mortgage sale, tear gas was used against them to disperse the crowd, who had not shown any violence against anyone. Their only offense was in gathering in great numbers to protest the sale. The use of tear gas caused this, our state convention to write into their demands, that we demand that local governments make no expenditures for tear gas which is purchased to use against us and that local governments having tear gas in their possession, get rid of this viscous weapon at once. We refuse to pay taxes to any local government having this stuff in their possession. Another demand at the state convention went on record, we demand a moratorium on cash rents until such time as the prices of the farmers products equal the cost of production plus a decent standard of living. It was also resolved to keep in touch with national committee for action and cooperate in every way possible for our united benefit. This movement is now under way in many states. While under different names, we are all hooked up nationally. Greetings to the farmers of the first state convention of the Holiday association of Nebraska, Madison county plan, were sent by the following: North Dakota Farmers State Committee For Action; The Farmers State Committee For Action of Washington; South Dakota Committee of Action; Farmers Protective Association, Pennsylvania and New Jersey; Wisconsin Farmers Committee of Action; Philadelphia Milk United Front Strike committee and many others, so we are not alone here in Valley county. County, state and nation are organized. The populist orator of our fathers with the boy compared with the non-partisan league of a few years ago. The non-partisan league was tame compared with this movement of desperate farmers fighting for a right to live and feed their families on a plot of ground they can call home. We feel like singing "My Country 'Tis of Thee" if we own a few acres of it to call home, but who wants to sing "My Landlord It's of Thee We Sing?" In conclusion we don't dwell on our troubles all the time. We forget them to gather together and have good times together occasionally, which is a mighty good thing. The local or township organizations are having dances and ice cream socials. Our county organization was offered the Kokes pavilion southwest of Ord to hold county dance, so last Friday evening we held it. There are several local orchestras in our membership, such as the Paddock, Carkoski's and the Greenwatts. They furnish the music free and the two hundred people gathered there sure had a good time and there wasn't a drunk on the grounds. Now we are offering two halls in the county free to have some county dances so we expect some more good times. Communities that do not care for dancing are having other entertainments.

Power economy possibilities not possessed by any other known fast vehicle are attributed to the new high speed, light weight, stream lined passenger train now being built for service on Union Pacific lines.

The effect of the changes are such that the train, traveling at its maximum speed of 110 miles per hour, will jab a clean hole through the air and let the air close again behind without any fuss and turmoil.

The 3-car aluminum alloy, tubular shaped train is now being built in Chicago by the Pullman Car and Manufacturing Co. When completed the entire train will weigh approximately 80 tons which is the weight of one modern Pullman sleeping car.

According to announcement of the Union Pacific the operation of the new train is scheduled to begin on December 1.

When Governor Bryan returns to his office at the capitol he will find it equipped with a cooling apparatus. IT WAS the doctor who spoke. He said, "Pemberton, I have to tell you that your wife won't live through the night."

In order to hide his personal anguish and professional distress the doctor put into his voice a certain roughness. But as he stood in that dimly lit room in which the figure of Pemberton was bending forward with his face between his hands, he said to himself, "Oh, my God, where have we got to in medical science when such a beautiful thing must slip through our fingers in all the glory of youth?"

The doctor had been, and was still, desperately in love with Enid, and had not recovered from the sudden and utter collapse of his hopes when, having asked her to be his wife three years before, she had said these triumphant words: "But, my dear, haven't you heard the news? I'm going to be Mrs. Pemberton—the wife of Nicholas Pemberton, one of our country's greatest authors."

Since then he had resented Pemberton. Rumor had it, and he believed it to be true, that Enid and her husband were among the very few happily married couples within a radius of fifty miles of their old and charming home. During his concentration upon what had been of necessity nothing but a case, he had, however, tumbled upon something which pointed to the fact that there had been a skeleton in the most private cupboard of that old place.

And so, instead of leaving the room after making his statement, he shut the door and went to the fireplace.

"Pemberton," he said, "there's something behind all this which is defeating me. Your wife is entering upon the crisis of her illness. In ordinary cases it would of course be touch and go, although the odds would be with me. But in this case they are against me—heavily against me—because Enid hasn't the will to live. D—n it, she wants to die! This means—something, and I want to know what."

"It means that she wants to escape from me."

"Escape from you. Why? You've loved her, haven't you. Haven't you done every mortal thing to make her happy?"

"Yes, I have loved her. I still love her and I've done every mortal thing, so far as I had the capacity, to make her happy with me."

"Well, then, what do you mean?"

"I must sum up my failure in two most terrible words—too old. To which I must add that she has been forced to divide me with my work. My work has erected a barrier between us over which she has never been able to climb. Before this illness hit her I stood here late one night and prayed to God that she might obtain her freedom with some decent fellow nearer her own age."

The doctor stood aghast. No wonder he was being defeated.

"I must go back," he said. "She may want to die, but by Heaven, I shall put up a fight against death with all the strength I have."

He went to the door and came back. How he hated this man!

"Here's a note addressed to you. I found it on the floor."

Pemberton took it.

The note was addressed to himself in the round, bland, schoolgirl writing that he knew so well.

"Pembie, my darling, you've dramatized all this. You've seen me with the eyes of a novelist from the very first. We haven't been living in life but in the pages of a manuscript. You have never been too old, as you have made yourself out to be. And if I resented your work because it took you away from me, each one of your books has been almost as much my child as it has been yours. You know I loved you when I married you and I adore and admire you now, but you made up your mind that the story must end unhappily and die. But even when I am dead I shall sit outside your door and wait my love through the keyhole. I've done this every day since you married me though you never discovered it."

You should have heard those creaking boards and seen the figure of that gaunt gray man as he plunged up that wide old staircase in a frantic effort to push aside that other gaunt gray figure which was standing by the bed!

"What do you want?"

It was the doctor who spoke, as the nurse rose to her feet.

"It's my fight," called out Pemberton, flinging himself on his knees and placing one arm with utter tenderness and sudden understanding over the flaccid body that lay on the bed. "Enid, Enid, I love you. Make the end of this story a happy one by living. Together we'll make a serial of this story which shall run on and on."

The little hand to which he had pressed his lips trembled and was withdrawn, presently to be placed like an inspiration on his head.

And although there was not a single creak from those old oak boards, Death went away from that house.
