THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, JANUARY 3, 1935.

VOL. 52, NO. 40

LEGISLATURE TO CONVENE JAN. 1, O'GARA SPEAKER

Veteran Laurel Democrat To Head Lower House; Cushing Minority Leader.

Nebraska's 50th and last two-house legislature convened at the state capitol in Lincoln at noon January 1 with democrats controlling two-thirds of the votes in both house and senate and settled down to what will probably be one of the longest and most important sessions in the history of the state.

Organization plans were completed at caucuses the previous day, W. H. O'Gara, veteran democrat from Laurel, being elected speaker of the house and Cloyd L. Stewart, democrat from Clay Center, president pro tem of the senate.

Marion J. Cushing, of Ord, was nominated for house speaker but the enormous democratic majority made election of a republican impossible. Cushing later was chosen minority house leader. Charles J. Warner, of Waverly, is senate minority leader.

Other officers include W. F. Haycock, (d) of Callaway, house chairman of committee on committees and Senator John S. Callan (d) of Odell, who holds a similar position in the senate.

Important non-member employees of house and senate are: Max Adams, Dannerbrog, chief clerk of house; George Kirk, Plainview, house sergeant-at-arms; Rev. George A. Wash, Lincoln, house chaplain; Charles Dinau, Omaha, first assistant secretary of senate; William W. Hughes, Auburn, senate sergeant-at-arms; Rev. L. L. Chambers, Lincoln, senate chaplain.

Secretary of State Harry R. Swanson called the house to order at noon Tuesday and soon yielded the chair to Rep. Ed Lusinski, of Platte Center, temporary chairman, who was followed by Speaker O'Gara. Lieutenant-Governor Jorgensen presided over the senate.

Important legislation which is expected to engross the attention of senators for the first few weeks includes a liquor enabling and control act, several bills for which have already been proposed, legislation to legalize pari-mutuel race betting, and legislation to establish districts for the new 1-house legislature which will convene in 1937 and thereafter.

Horses Dying From Russian Thistle Hay

Many deaths of horses and cattle, supposedly as a result of eating Russian thistle hay that was not properly prepared, have been reported in Nebraska, particularly in the Platte valley country. A few such deaths have occurred in Valley county.

Russian thistle hay, properly prepared and fed, is a valuable and nutritious feed, say livestock feeding experts. Russian thistles, particularly if cut late in the fall after the thorns hardened, should be ground, moistened and mixed with other feeds before being fed to livestock. If properly prepared, Russian thistle feeds will not prove dangerous to horses and cattle, it is claimed.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wachtrle and family and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dana and family are moving to Buhl, Ida., expecting to leave about the 15th of this month.

Thursday Ed Gnaster made a business trip to Grand Island.

Porcupine Caught, Beaver Seen On Turtle Creek

A porcupine caught last Friday in the Woodman Hall neighborhood and a pair of beavers reported to have taken up residence on Turtle Creek are among Valley county's strange visitors in 1934.

The porcupine was caught by Paul Waldmann, Wm. Moravec, Ernest Piva and Gilbert Konvalin. It was first discovered by a dog, who poked his nose against the strange animal and backed away, yelping, with his nose resembling a pincushion. The boys finally looped wire about the porcupine's legs and carried it home alive. Since porcupines are not native to this region the animal is quite a curiosity.

Reports that two or more beavers are living on Turtle Creek have been current for several weeks and several have reported seeing the animals, which formerly lived on the Loup rivers in large numbers but have largely disappeared in recent years.

"ONE-EYED" CARS.
No greater hazard in night automobile driving exists than "one-eyed" cars, of which there are a rapidly increasing number to be noted on the highways. Enforcement of the law against driving with only one light is very lax, although it should be easy to enforce. If every town, village and city in the state would employ special traffic officers for a few nights, giving them orders to stop every "one-eyed" car and require that the missing light be fixed immediately upon penalty of arrest, the evil could be corrected in large measure at a minimum of expense. Adequate publicity should be given to such a campaign, which would have the effect of causing motorists to check up on their lights before venturing onto highways at night. Some cities in Nebraska have conducted campaigns of this sort with salutary effect but a state-wide campaign is needed.

THEY QUIT ADVERTISING.

"I've been in business in Ord twenty-five years and everybody owns me and what I sell so I don't need to advertise."

How often has the Quiz heard of a statement made! And how fallacious such an argument is. Everybody may know you and what you have to sell but do they think of you when they need something in your line? Likely they do not. They think of the fellow who is always reminding them that he has the goods and service.

Almost everyone can go back in memory and recall a long list of familiar articles of merchandise that aren't even on the market any more. Why? They quit advertising!

Among such things are Pears Soap, Pearline, Sapolio, Silk Soap, Sweet Caporols, Force, Egg-O-See, Lion Coffee, Rubifoam, Agricola. How many of these could you buy if you visited every store in Ord and inquired for them specifically? None, or one or two at the most.

If we wanted to be real ornery we might mention the names of several local firms that have ceased to exist because they were "too well known to advertise." As well as the names of a few present-day Ord firms that are on their way out for the same reason.

As an epitaph for almost every product or firm that formerly was popular but has ceased to be might truthfully be written: "They quit advertising."

MADE WORK OR A DOLE?

The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has come to the parting of the ways and this session of Congress will decide whether the "made work" policy will be continued or a direct dole be substituted. It is argued that a direct cash dole would be cheaper, which is doubtless true, but while admitting the many evils of the "made work" system the Quiz protests against substitution of the dole. Why not, instead, put men to work at projects which will be of lasting value, even if the immediate cost be greater?

In Valley county thousands of dollars have been spent each month for over a year by the CWA and FERA on trivial projects which have had little to recommend them except the excuse they furnished to give groceries and clothes to unemployed men without putting these men on direct relief. Such projects are a joke even to men who work on them. They are destructive of self-respect. They are ruinous to public morale.

Had it been possible to divert this work to some worth-while project—a community building, a swimming pool, a new library building or any one of a dozen other needed civic improvements—how much finer it would have been. Or if the PWA had approved our irrigation project a big start might have been made with the funds expended otherwise.

It seems certain that the FERA system will be changed at this session of Congress. It is to be hoped that the change will be toward the building of improvements that can be enjoyed by the future generations who will have the bills to pay.

A CHANCE TO SAVE.

Lawyers of the state, as well as other people interested in efficiency and economy in state government, should be interested in a bill which, the Quiz understands, will be presented at this session of the legislature to provide for decennial compiling and revising of the Statutes of Nebraska, with supplements thereto, under the general supervision and direction of a Reviser of Statute, a new officer created by the bill.

Figures compiled by sponsors of the bill show that the state of Nebraska has spent $35,000 per biennium for decennial Statute compilations, biennial supplements and session laws. By merging all these activities under a Reviser of statute, the sum of $17,000 could be saved each biennium, it is claimed. An additional advantage would be that the Compiled Statutes of 1933 would be available for use under the new system not later than Dec. 31, 1933, instead of a year later as will be the case if the present system is continued. It is also argued that fewer and better laws will result if all work is done under the direction of a competent Reviser of Statute. A better opportunity will be afforded to weed out obsolete laws and to restate articles of the statutes in brief form, since this task can be done between legislative sessions, time being too short while the legislature is in session as under the present plan.

The proposed bill seems to have much to recommend it aside from the saving in tax money it will permit.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Something DIFFERENT

Wintertime is the season for heavier foods, for rich desserts, for pies, pastries to grace your table the oftener. Cold weather makes heavier demands upon the body, energy is consumed rapidly, and so heavier meals and richer desserts are more suitable than at other times of the year. What favorites do you prepare? Which ones do your family like the best? The Quiz will be glad to print your best recipes, send them in.

Apple Dumplings Baked In Syrup.

Roll out pastry thin and cut into six inch squares. Core and peel enough apples to place one on each square of pastry, filling the cavity of the apple with brown sugar preferably or white if you wish, a teaspoon of butter, and a pinch of cinnamon. Wet edges of pastry and bring up over the apples. Place close together in a greased baking pan and bake about fifteen minutes in a hot oven, 400 F., after which pour into the pan around the dumplings a syrup made by cooking together one cup brown sugar, three-fourths cup water and one-half cup corn syrup and continue baking until apples are tender. Serve with a spoonful of the syrup if desired a spoonful of hard sauce.

Mrs. Lester Shipley.
Maple Nut Pie.

Cream together four tablespoons butter and one cup brown sugar, then add three tablespoons flour, one-eighth teaspoon salt, two egg yolks. Stir thoroughly then add one cup water, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon maple flavoring, one-half cup pecan or walnut meats. Pour pie filling into pie plate lined with uncooked pie crust. Bake 25 minutes, then top with a meringue made of two egg whites beaten stiff with two tablespoons sugar.

One Dish Dinner.

Using any kind of meat, chicken, pork or beef, roll in flour and fry until brown. Put in a baking dish, add a little more flour on top, pour water to cover, salt and pepper to taste. Strips carrots, cut lengthwise and put a layer on top of the meat, also a layer of sliced potatoes. Baste with the liquid. If the liquid boils out add more water to have enough for gravy when done. If the meat is not very tender it will have to be baked for a while before you put the carrots and potatoes in. A touch of onion is good. Bake until the potatoes are a little brown when done. This is best served out of the dish in which it is cooked, good for cold winter dinners.

Mrs. Mike Socha.
Homemade Yeast Cakes.

Let one quart of buttermilk come to a boil then stir in enough cornmeal to make it quite stiff. Remove from fire and cool, then add two dry yeast cakes soaked in a little warm water and let rise until morning. Add one cup of white flour, let stand until light, then add enough cornmeal to make a stiff batter and roll out on pastry board one-fourth inch thick and cut into two inch squares. Let dry over night, then put in a cheesecloth bag and hang near the stove to dry for two or three days. Put in paper sacks and set in a cool place. Use like any ordinary yeast cakes.

THE FOOD CENTER

Why Not

Start The

New Year Right?

Among the good resolutions you will make as 1935, why not resolve to do all your meat buying at a market that:

1. Sells quality meats at economy prices—always.

2. Is maintained in clean, sanitary condition—always.

3. Appreciates your business—always.

4. Gives prompt and courteous service—always.

If you make such a resolution you will naturally do your meat buying exclusively at our market.

THE NEW FORD V-8 FOR 1935

NOW ON DISPLAY

A New Ford V-8 That Brings New Beauty,
New Safety, and a New Kind of Riding Comfort Within Reach of Millions of People ease of handling. You can take curves with greater safety.

There are many new features in the Ford V-8 for 1935 which make the car still easier to drive. New brakes give more power for stopping quickly with far less foot pressure on the pedal.

A new type of easy-pressure clutch employs centrifugal force to increase efficiency at higher speeds. New steering mechanism makes the car still easier to handle. New, wider, roomier seats.

The New Ford V-8 for 1935 retains the V-8 engine which has demonstrated its dependability and economy in the service of more than a million owners. There are refinements, but no change in basic design. You buy premium performance when you buy this Ford V-8—full 85 horsepower and capable of 80 miles an hour. All Ford V-8 cars for 1935 come equipped with Safety Glass throughout at no additional cost.

We invite you to see this New Ford V-8 for 1935 at the showrooms of Ford dealers. You will want to ride in it—to drive it yourself. You will find it a new experience in motoring.

Abbreviations "A. D." "B. C."

The fixing of the date of the Christian era and the commencement of using the abbreviations B. C. and A. D. is said to have originated with Dionysius Exiguus, a learned monk of the Sixth century.

"I suppose you won't like it, Don," she said to him, "but I'm going to the dance tonight regardless. I'll call up Bob Ames. He'll take me."

Bob Ames? Of course she had gone around with Bob before she had met Don. She never had cared much for him. She knew, however, that Bob Ames cared for her, and Don knew it, too. From anger and regret, Mary's emotions swung to the other extreme. A gnawing fear took hold of her. Divorce? She didn't want a divorce.

Don would realize she hadn't meant those things, and he'd signal his forgiveness. Several times in the past she had stood here on the porch regretting heated words, and then she had been comforted by Don's signal.

It had been a sort of game with them. The signal sometimes had been a wave of the hand; at other times, when Don was busy inside the caboose or watching signals from the far side of the engine, it was a handkerchief tied somewhere for her to see.

At the first sound of Don's train Mary was back on the porch. It was a fast freight. She gripped the porch rail with taut fingers, as the engine came abreast of the house. There were three men on the head end. Was that Don leaning against the farther side of the tender? It couldn't be! Don would be on this side, waving to her. It looked like Don, but—

At noon Donald Fenton dropped down from the engine cab and waited for the caboose to come up.

Standing there beside the tracks, he swore softly to himself for having been too stubborn to wave to Mary.

With weighted feet he swung aboard the forward steps of the lazy caboose when it came up. The shrewd old eyes of the gray-haired conductor, Lundy, surveyed him.

"I saw Mary on the porch as we came by," he said. "Did you wave from the front end?"

"Why—er—" "Shut up," said the old man gently. "You didn't, or she wouldn't of been standin' there like that when the hack rolled past. You two had some sort o' fuss. I saw it on your face as soon's you hit the roundhouse. I'm an old busybody. I see everything."

Don sat down on a bunk while the conductor started for the rear platform muttering loudly: "Well, I guess the danged thing ought to be dry by now. It's been hangin' on the rail ever since we left the yards."

Don looked out to see him undo a large bandanna from the caboose rail and tuck it in a rear pocket.

He leaped up from the bunk. "Was that—on the rail—when the hind end passed the house?"

The conductor chuckled. "It was, son—unless it fell off and ran after the hack to tie itself back on."

A lump came up in Don's throat.

"Busybody?" he managed to say.

"You're a d—n old angel, Lundy. That's what!"

Junior Expression club, 2:30. Popcorn balls will be served after the devotional meeting.

Young People's meeting, 6:30.

This meeting has been well attended and is growing in interest.

Union evening services at the United Brethren church, 7:30.

A sunny deck and a steamer chair and nothing to do but to lie in it, with the sea to watch and the throb of distant engines lulling you to sleep and every comfort cared for. That is all well enough for a week or two. But would you be willing to sail the seas your whole life long as nothing but a passenger? The boredom of it would prove intolerable.

There are thousands of men who spend their lives in sailing the seas, but they are members of the crews of the ships that bear them, alert with interest in their work and proud of their skill. The trouble with many church members is that they remain mere passengers, year in, year out. They never find any way to help to make the ship go. Each member and friend of church is earnestly requested to find his place in helping to make the church go for the New Year of 1935.

IMPORTANT ANNOUNCEMENT

TO FRIENDS AND CUSTOMERS!

On July 31st. of the present year, Mr. H. W. Eckberg and Mr. W. F. Vestal sold their stock interests in The Brown-Eckberg Company to the McDonald brothers of New York City and Oakland, California.

While a transfer of stock usually carries little interest to the public, we feel we owe it to the people of this community to state the exact changes in our company. Mr. E. E. Brown, president, and one of the founders, retains his entire interests and continues as president of the company. Mr. L. T. Johnson, Holdrege, Nebraska, also closely identified with the organization, retains his former interests and serves as secretary-treasurer. Mr. D. G. McDonald, Hastings, serves as vice-president, and Mr. J. C. McDonald, McCook, is on the directorate. Store managers also retain their interests.

The successful policies of this company which caused its growth will continue exactly the same in the future. There will be no change in our merchandising policies—the same high standards of quality—the same complete stocks will be carried as heretofore.

The men who have come into the company have spent their lives in the merchandising business. They know that a constant supply of new merchandise must flow through the stores at all times—and at the lowest prices to be found. In this manner we are advertising a joint REORGANIZATION JANUARY CLEARANCE AND WHITE SALE. The term reorganization applies to a reorganization of the goods in stock—a house cleaning of all odd lots and ends. We have made great preparations. The prices will speak for themselves. Note them.

January CLEARANCE

STARTS THURSDAY, JANUARY 3

This unusual January Event is planned to accomplish three things. First—to effect an immediate clearance of all winter goods. Second—absolute disposal of goods carried over from previous seasons or longer. Third—to present our Annual January WHITE SALE. Our JANUARY CLEARANCE is too well known to need extended comment. The second objective we wish to detail. It is a clean sweep of all Odd Lots. Broken Lines or Slow Sellers—at truly ridiculous prices—goods that are lemons to us, but bargains to you. Qualities are not impaired. It is merely the fact that quantities in some cases are very small. Hence early choosing is necessary. The White Goods Sale embraces merchandise that is spic and span and new, bought for the event and featured at extremely low prices.

DR. RICH SAYS:

A Christmas letter from a lady in Casper, Wyoming (name on request) who was a patient of mine a year ago, includes this splendid recommendation of my work. "I am just fine, and I owe it all to you. When it came my time to leave Grand Island, I didn't know if I wanted to go or not. You were all so lovely to me. No one should ever dread going to you for their care."

What more could anyone suffering with rectal trouble wish for, than to learn that they can come here too and be cured under pleasant conditions. There could not be anything more valuable than the opinion of a cured and satisfied patient. Begin the New Year in the best of health. See Dr. Rich, Rectal Specialist at Grand Island, for your cure.

GREETINGS, 1935

In the hustle and bustle of business,
With its savings and slavings and grind,
We're too apt to credit success.
To the work of our own hands and mind.

But we pause as we fashion our handiwork,
To give credit where credit is due,
To thankfully say that our progress results
From the friendship of such folks as you.

We thank you, one and all, for the business you gave us in 1934 and wish for you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Mayas Are of Oriental Origin, Chinese Assert
An Oriental origin of the ancient Mayas and Aztecs, former partly civilized races of Central America, is deduced by a Chinese anthropologist, from similarities between ancient Chinese blood rites and the known Mayan and Aztec rites in which the blood of sacrificial victims was poured over statues of the gods and other sacred objects, according to a communication to the Royal Society of Canada.

Both the Mayas and the Aztecs held religious sacrifices of war captives and other human beings, in some of which the bleeding heart was cut from the still-living body of the victim and its blood poured on the altar or scattered on the temple steps. In ancient Maya ruins there were found disks of porous sandstone showing what are believed to be traces of such human blood, soaked up by the sandstone at the time of sacrifice and apparently buried for some superstitious or religious reason.

These American evidences compared with similar customs practiced 6,000 or more years ago among primitive tribes of China and Central Asia, although it is not certain that the ancient Orientals made actual human sacrifices.

Still other similarities to ancient Chinese and Mayan cultures are believed to exist in the language, in the interlocking series of two kinds of months of different lengths used in the famous Mayan calendar, in the Mayan myths of man's creation out of mud and so on; all of which suggests that the original Mayas probably came from ancient China in junks and other vessels 6,000 or more years ago.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Dread of Storms Cause Many People to Suffer

More human suffering is caused by the dread of storms than by the storms themselves, asserts a writer in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

No one will appreciate the truth of this statement who has not felt such dread himself or been associated with persons who do. It is a very acute form of suffering which such people pass through when they see a storm coming up and often during the whole time it lasts. Some people are chiefly afraid of the wind, while it is the total storm effect which frightens others.

Most adults who suffer in this way developed the fear when children and through association with older people who were afraid. That the fear can be overcome is witnessed by many adults who were in dread of storms when young but who have gradually taught themselves better. Children do not seem to have an instinctive dread of storms. If, when storm comes up, they see the adults about them taking it as a matter of course, perhaps showing interest and pleasure in some of the phenomena, laughing at an unusually sharp crash of thunder, etc., they, too, accept storms without fear.

Metals and Oxygen
Practically all metals must be separated from oxygen as a prime step in their production, for most metal ores contain the metal only in oxide form, notes a writer in the Chicago Tribune. Aluminum is no exception. But while iron is very easy to reduce from iron oxide, aluminum is extremely difficult. With iron, the ore is charged into the blast furnace with limestone and coke and the furnace is blown with air. The reducing gases from the coke convert the iron into metallic form, and the impurities, like silica and alumina, pass into the slag. But when this is tried on aluminum ore it is necessary to generate such great heat to melt it that most of the associated impurities likewise are reduced to metals and metalloids, and alloy with and contaminate the aluminum.

Shaking Head to Mean "No"
The custom of shaking the head to indicate "no," writes G. R. Turner, in the Kansas City Times, had its inception among the lower animals. A mother animal, trying to get her offspring to accept food that she had brought to it, occasionally found that the young animal had had sufficient food or did not fancy the kind of food offered. The natural reaction of the infant animal under such circumstances was to close the mouth tight and shake the head from side to side to prevent its mother from forcing food into its mouth. Thus was evolved the human habit of closing the lips and shaking the head from side to side to indicate a negative answer.

Burma Women Independent
Women in Burma are as independent as any of their sisters in the world. When a girl marries she does not change her name, she wears no sign of marriage, such as a ring. Marriage does not confer on a husband any right to his wife's property. She keeps hers, he keeps his.

Sea Absorbing City
Santorin, a Greek island in the Cyclades, is a corruption of Saint Irene. Many prehistoric dwellings have been found there. At Scars, nearby, may be seen a village that is gradually falling into the sea.

Two Prisons on Alcatraz: Dungeon Under Buildings

There are really two prisons on Alcatraz Island in San Francisco bay, notes a writer in the New York Times, for beneath the buildings are dungeons which are never penetrated by daylight or the sound of wind and waves. Legend relates that these underground cells are remains of a prison built by the Spaniards shortly after De Ayala sailed through the Golden Gate on his voyage of discovery. But some military authorities assert that they are abandoned powder magazines.

The government came into possession of Alcatraz some time before the Civil war. In 1854, the construction of a fort was started on the island. Four years later the fortifications were completed with a lighthouse and "impregnable" batteries, the first defense of its kind along the Pacific coast. During the Civil war the fort became a concentration point for federal troops, and to Alcatraz were sent civilians who had manifested disloyalty to the Union.

In 1913 army officers led a movement to turn the island over to the Immigration service, and thus to discontinue its use as military prison. This agitation was unsuccessful, however, but two years later the term "military prison" was changed to "disciplinary barracks." When the United States entered the World War, numbers of conscientious objectors, some of them socially prominent, were transferred to the prison, where they rubbed elbows with hardened army malefactors. Finally, the Department of Justice assumed control of Alcatraz.

"Deaf as a Fish" Really May Be Correct Statement

We use the expression "blind as a bat" without warrant, but "deaf as a fish" would be in order, since it is practically proved that fishes "are stone deaf," says a writer in Tit-Bits Magazine. Hearing is so often associated with seeing that, when fishes are startled, it is usually impossible to be sure whether it was the sight of something, or the sound it made, that affected them. The splash of a stone in the water frightens them, but it is the fright caused by the sight of a solid object, by the noise of its fall, or by the commotion it causes.

To test the effect of sound on fishes experiments were conducted in a large aquarium occupied by a variety of species. A protected electric bell was placed in the glass-sided tank, and sounded repeatedly without any visible effect on the fishes whatever. To determine whether a high-pitched and shrill sound would disturb them, a whistle of penetrating note was introduced. None of the fishes took the slightest notice, showing neither fear nor curiosity.

Romance of Richard First

Scarcely a stone of the edifice in which Richard the Lion Hearted was married to Princess Berengaria in Limassol, Cyprus, in the Twelfth century, is still standing, but the story of the wedding is still common gossip. A Fifteenth century building in the neighborhood is the little ruined monastery of St. Nicholas of the Cats. Nicholas was a monk who kept innumerable cats in order to destroy the small snakes with which the place was once infested.

Icebergs an Annoyance

Small icebergs are often quite a nuisance to a whaling ship in the Atlantic, writes E. D. Sutton, Madison, Wis., in Collier's Weekly. Sometimes they will follow a vessel for days, even after they have been pushed away and the ship has changed its anchorage several times to get away from them. If they persist, the whaler's crew, out of patience, takes old cable and ties them to rocks or bigger bergs—for the rest of the season.

Rabbit Fur Grown to Order

Rabbits, which furnish a large part of the world's fur under 90 different names, are bred so their coats are quite similar to the furs of rarer animals. This scientific breeding produces desirable colors, designs, hair length and durability and the resemblance to more costly fur is so close that the expensive process of dyeing and trimming are no longer necessary.—Collier's Weekly.

Byron Loved His Dog

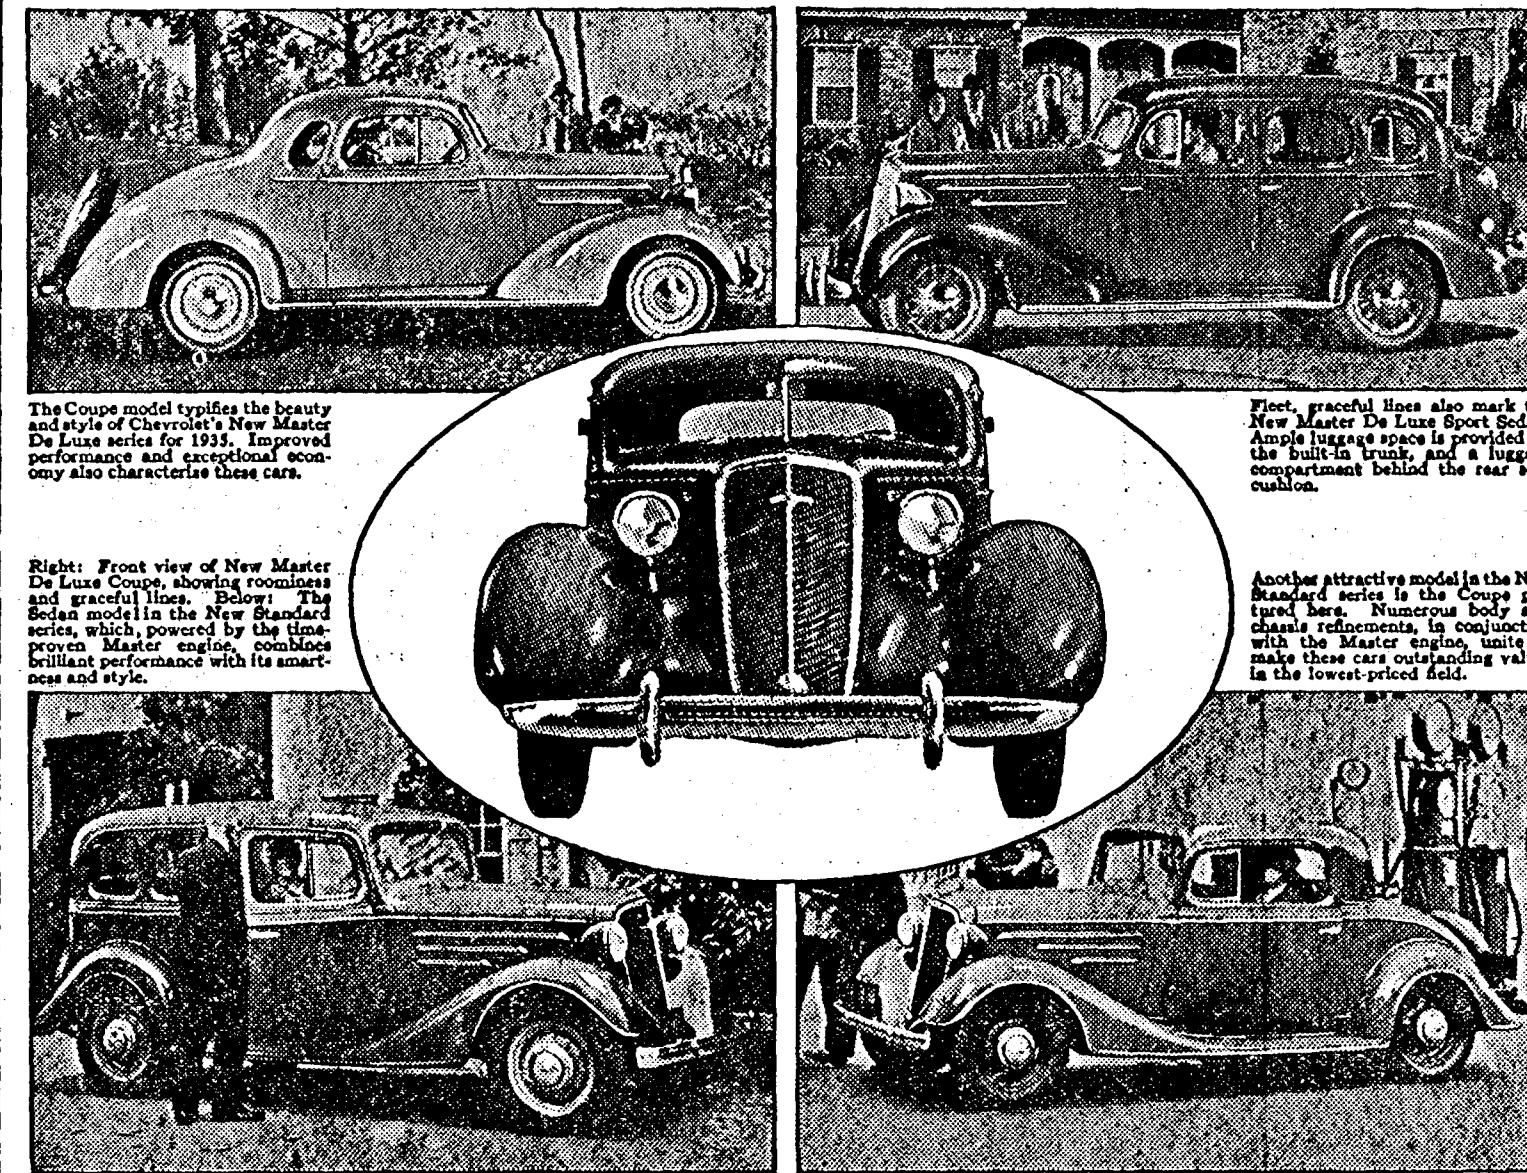

For years Lord Byron had as his inseparable companion Bowlsain, a fine specimen of Newfoundland dog. On the death of the dog Byron wrote the following epitaph for its grave: "Near this spot are deposited the remains of one who possessed beauty without vanity, strength without insolence, courage without ferocity, and all the virtues of man without his vices."

The Yellow Sea

This large but shallow arm of the Pacific ocean is almost at all times characterized by waters of a yellowish hue. Responsible for its yellow muddy color are the sands that blow over it from the Gobi desert and the yellow soil that empties into it from the Yellow river of China.

Chevrolet Announces Two New Lines for 1935

The Coupe model typifies the beauty and style of Chevrolet's New Master De Luxe series for 1935. Improved performance and exceptional economy also characterize these cars.

Right: Front view of New Master De Luxe Coupe, showing roominess and graceful lines. Below: The Sedan model in the New Standard series, which features the time-proven Master engine in combination with its smartness and style.

Typical of Chevrolet's two new lines of cars are the models illustrated here. The Master De Luxe series reveals strong emphasis on beauty and style. Mechanically, the Master De Luxe series and the New Standard series have much in common, including the Master engine, in which numerous refinements have been made to enhance performance, durability and economy. As these pictures reveal, the New Master De Luxe departs distinctly from previous Chevrolets in the striking advance which has been made in body design and trim.

BRISBANE

A Pretty Good Christmas
Germs Travel High
We Are Coughing Better
Prairie Dogs, Catacombs

It was a satisfactory Christmas, the best since the depression began. The nation at least knows that the depression is here and that attending to it, instead of talking about things "just around the corner," is the program.

The government knows that money was made to be spent in emergencies and that helping the people is cheaper than revolution. The government is spending and helping.

Colonel Lindbergh proves, after transatlantic flights, that bacteria can travel across the ocean by air. The winds of the North Atlantic carry microscopic germs of life through the upper air. Disease germs might travel, thus, across either ocean.

That interests anybody planning to make war more interesting by adding disease germs to poison gas and high explosives.

Scientists already believe that, since life cannot be created in one division and the boys who did not letter but were right there just the same have been placed in another division. A short resume of each member of both first and second teams follows.

Letters Awarded

Here's the Honor Roll of Boys Who Played Ten or More Quarters of Football.

Our squad this year because of difficulties in finding a clicking combination was shifted around frequently, making it almost impossible to choose or pick out what might be called the first eleven. However, although it was not possible to pick out eleven men and say "Here's the first team," all the boys who have played ten quarters and received their letter have been placed in one division and the boys who did not letter but were right there just the same have been placed in another division. A short resume of each member of both first and second teams follows.

Leonard Greathouse.

Leonard, who has played his last year for Ord high in the football realm, is an outstanding player. He has lettered in three sports namely, track, basketball and baseball which makes him an all-around sportsman. Leonard, besides being elected co-captain of the 1934 Ord team, and being chosen to fill the position of fullback in the All Valley Team, was also given honorable mention on the All-State team.

Leonard started the season at end but because Rowbal, regular end, was injured in the first game, he was handed the fullback position. Throughout the season he played a brilliant game in this position. Greathouse was always a hard fighter and the opposing teams kept a wary eye open for him.

Dave Barnhart.

Dave, always a dependable ground gainer, was usually the one to set the "fireworks" off.

Dave, after an absence of two years returned this year and alternated between guard and half-back position until he was forced from play because of ineligibility. Fans particularly remember Barnhart in the Ord-Ravenna game. He was sent in in the third quarter with Ord on their own ten yard line. On the first play Barnhart seized the ball, flashed down field for over sixty yards before being tackled. Nothing could stop him.

Don Tunnicliff.

Don, a freshman this year, has already proven his qualities as a real football player. He alternated between quarterback and half-back position during the season. This year he had a height of five feet, two inches and weighed 122 pounds, a little light perhaps, but what he lacked in weight he made up in fight. Don will be back next year and rarin' to go—your fans will be looking for him on the field next season.

Delbert Benson.

Delbert, playing his last year for Ord, played an excellent game of football. He was an especially good defensive man, one of the best on the team. He played the tackle position, alternating with Wilson at that post. When Benson went in the game as a substitute, the other team usually re-marked after the first few plays.

Charles Jones.

Charles has plenty of fight and plays a good game, alternating between guard and tackle positions during the season. He provided plenty of trouble for his opponents. Charles weighs 155 pounds, is six feet tall, and has one more year to play for Ord High. Ord fans will be looking for him on the field next year!

Paul Carlsen.

Paul, playing his last year of high school competition, was known because of his coolness under "pressure" or when the going was rough. Paul was always a steady fighter and always got the team out of the tough spots with his generalship at quarterback on the team. Paul is also a wrestling man, being a state champion in his class. He was a little handicapped by weight but like some of his teammates, made up for weight with fight. Carlsen was always feared when he started on an end run—ask any of the teams he played against!

Kenneth Michels.

Kenneth, playing his last game, has lettered for two years in football, where he plays end. He comes from Reynolds, Nebraska to attend the Ord school. Kenneth proved a formidable threat to opposing teams especially on the punts. He was usually down upon his man before the opposing player could even get started, and he thus recovered several fumbled punts during the season. Michels weighs 135 pounds and is five feet, nine inches tall. He is a real fighter and booster for Ord High school.

Paul Blessing.

Paul, a tall rangy fellow, played an outstanding game at end position during the season. Paul was always "Johnnie on the spot" if there was a play to be turned in and he was also an excellent pass receiver, the combination of Greathouse to Blessing working many times during the season. Blessing is a junior and has one more year to play for Ord. Paul weighs 154 pounds, is six feet, two inches tall, and is a dandy player.

Kenneth Koelling.

Kenneth coming to us from Mira Valley, is spending his first year at Ord High. He played an outstanding game at guard throughout the season, receiving honorable mention on the All-State team. Kenneth has one more year to play football, this being his junior year. Weighing 168 pounds and measuring five feet, ten inches, Kenneth should make a speedy and hard hitting tackler as well as interference runner. A junior, he has one more year of football in which to go places and students of Ord High believe he will.

Gerald Clark.

Gerald, better known as Bud, has two more years to play his favorite sport—football. Throughout the season he played a dependable and steady game at center. Clark, who measures five feet, ten inches and tips the scales at 155 pounds, promises to be a big factor in the success of next year's football team.

Ronald Rose.

Ronald, alternating with Clark at center succeeded in making things tough for his opponents. Rose, weighing 152 pounds is five feet, ten inches tall. He has one more year to play and will be plenty bad for his foes to handle next fall—just wait and see.

Richard Severson.

Richard, playing at tackle, concluded his football career in the Loup City-Ord game. Richard, besides being elected as co-captain of the 1934 Ord team was also unanimously chosen to fill one of the tackle posts on the All Valley team. Severson, weighing 175 pounds and with a height of six feet, two inches, is an equally good basketball man. Severson was the strongest point in the line—always ready to do his share, and more, if necessary.

Mr. Baruch, entering whole-heartedly into the President's campaign to prevent profits for munitions makers in wartime, wisely urges preparation, says the country should buy and store thousands of tons of use in the event of war. Here Are the Boys Who Will Make Headlines in 1935

Horace Johnson, who hails from Fort Worth, Texas, is spending his first year at Ord High. He plays halfback position in a very capable manner and will undoubtedly see service on the first team next fall. Johnson is a Junior, is 5 feet, 7 inches, and weighs 132 pounds. Next year!

Dale Melia with two years of experience behind him, will certainly see service at the halfback position next year. Dale was unable to handle the halfback position as regular duty. He'll be there next fall!

Edward Puncochar, a loyal member of the team if there ever was one, is also bound to see service next fall. Ed has been out for football regularly the last two years but has not yet succeeded in landing that regular halfback position yet. Puncochar has two more years to get what he wants and if he stays with it—By Jingoes! he'll get it. He is a little handicapped by weight, weighing only 122 pounds ad with a height of 5 feet and 7 inches.

Harold Stone, another old reliable, has one more year to get that much desired post—halfback. Harold is 5 feet, 8 inches high, weighs 132 pounds, comes from Comstock has spent two years on the reserve team, and looks like a good prospect for the 1935 team. Just wait!

Harry Zulkoski, a Freshie, has plenty of time to get that very much desired position at halfback. Harry weighs 115 pounds and is 5 feet, 4 inches tall, a very good prospect for next season.

Robert Jacobs, a loyal member of the team, is another boy handicapped by weight. Robert has been faithful in his practice for the past two years and will undoubtedly receive more than a glance next year when selections are made for end positions. Jacobs weighs 125 pounds and is 5 foot, 6 inches tall.

Erwin Dodge, putting in his first year at Ord High school this year, comes to us from Elyria. Erwin lacked only a quarter or two of making his letter this year so it certainly looks like we'll have plenty of good material for guard positions next year.

Dale Hughes, another Freshie, is ready to go places as soon as he gains some experience. Dale weighs 130 pounds and is 5 ft. 7 in. tall. Some more good material for those guard positions next fall!

Reuben Cook, a large tall boy, will undoubtedly find a position next fall. Reuben has one more year to spend in Ord High. He weighs 145 and is a six footer. Lack of experience was the only thing that kept him from filling that end position this year, watch him go next season!

Jack Petty, a Freshie, is rather light for a guard position—but he's got plenty of time! Jack weighs 110 pounds and is 5 feet 5 1/2 inches tall. Better keep your eye on this boy!

Don Vincent another Freshman, will probably get a chance at that

The Oracle is made possible by this group of loyal Ord business and professional men and women:

Dr. F. L. Blessing, Orville H. Sowl, Ed F. Beranek, J. C. Penney Co., John P. Misko, L & L Tire and Battery Station, Aubie Motors, Dr. C. W. Weeks, Chase's Toggery, Dr. Glen D. Barney Fuller returned Monday to Kearney Normal following a brief vacation.

A most happy and appropriate way of spending New Year's day is the annual church dinner and social which the Baptist church folks have celebrated for many years. The number in attendance and both quantity and quality of the dinner this year was typical of past years. The tables supervised in their setting by Mrs. Clara Holmes, bore favors of big red apples, each containing a motto significant of the new year. General supervisors of the dinner were Messrs. and Madame Roy Lewis, Ben Moulton and Ford Eyrely. The shut-ins were also remembered with baskets of food which were taken to their homes.

Dr. and Mrs. Geo. Hemphill accompanied by the doctor's mother, returned to their home at Pawhuska, Okla., following the season's vacation here. Dr. W. J. Hemphill left via train Saturday afternoon for Pennsylvania, his old home to be with a sister who is in very poor health. Enroute the doctor stopped over in Chicago to visit his daughter, Miss Gertrude who is engaged in settlement work there. Upon his return he will drive to Pawhuska and if present plans materialize Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill will spend the remainder of the winter in California.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Green and sons left Wednesday morning via auto for Haigler, Nebr., where Mr. Green will resume his work as superintendent of schools there.

Johnny Turek was a visitor at Smolk's Sunday afternoon.

John Janac was a visitor at Lew Smolk's Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Veleba and family visited in the Charles Clochon home Saturday night.

Visitors in the Lew Smolk home Sunday afternoon were Charles Janac, John Turek and Ed Kerchal of Arcadia.

Mrs. Charles Veleba received a letter from her sister in Marshall, Mo., and she states in her letter that they have seventeen inches of snow on the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kokes and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Marash and family called in the Lew Smolk home Sunday evening.

Mr. L. F. Zabloudil and son Ernest, Vencil Bouda and son Billy spent Wednesday night in Aurora visiting with L. F. Zabloudil's father, Mr. Frank Zabloudil who was hurt recently in an auto accident.

Old Sam's Advice

By E. L. GILL
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service.

THE flower caught Bill Holland's eye. Blooming there so whitely in the stagnant waters of the swamp. He grasped old Sam Matthias by the shoulder and pointed it out. Old Sam grunted in non-committal fashion.

Young Bill had not been a cheerful companion to Old Sam on this last trip and Old Sam was showing his disappointment. Young Bill, for his part, was both definitely disappointed and irritated with Old Sam. He had come to the mountain shack of the old guide, seeking sympathy and help in the major trials of his twenty-two years. But Old Sam was bored.

The old man's attitude deepened Bill's resentment toward the world in general—and Betty in particular. The entire trouble, of course, was Betty. It was an ancient story that Bill told Old Sam—a story of the magnificent love of a boy for a girl; the boy imbued with the idealism of the age of chivalry hopelessly, fantastically in love with a fascinating bit of a girl suddenly lured by the restraint of old-fashioned standards and "out to find what life is all about."

It was not, Bill often told him, that he had any desire whatever for the young lady's affection any longer. The maddening thing was that he couldn't rid his heart and mind and soul of her.

"I wouldn't know what to say to that, son," Old Sam condescended once or twice during the day. Nothing more. And when night had settled and they sat on the porch of the mountain shack Old Sam talked of trout.

"I'm going to bed," the youth said. "Got a little somethin' I'd might like to do tonight, been a thinkin' of that flower we saw back there in the swamp today. Somethin' sort of queer about that. Don't hanker much for sleep myself and have a mind to take the lantern and have a look. Better come along, you'll sleep the better for it."

The swamp was little more than a ten minute walk along the trail. Old Sam, boots drawn to his hips, led the way, carrying the lantern. The youth followed, flashlight in hand. At the edge of the water they stopped and, at Old Sam's direction, Bill searched the surface of the swamp until the flashlight caught the white flower.

1934 MORTGAGE FILINGS DOUBLE RECORD OF 1933

Releases Also Greatly Increased,
County Clerk's Summary Of Year's Work Proves.

That 283 farm mortgages aggregating $904,926 were filed in his office in 1934 is shown in a summary of the year's business compiled by County Clerk Ign. Klima, Jr., last week. In 1933 only 124 totaling $347,213 were filed. Releases also doubled 1933, 250 totaling $1,256,716 being filed last year whereas in 1933 the number was 126 totaling $742,215.

The year 1934 also brought a vast increase in the number of city real estate mortgaged filed, the total being $6 for an aggregate amount of $167,505. In 1933 the total was $1 and the aggregate amount was $78,292. Releases also increased sharply in 1934, 116 for an aggregate amount of $211,508 being filed as against 55 aggregating $79,499 in the previous year.

Most of this activity, which brought greatly added work to the county clerk and his deputy, Lloyd Rusk, is attributable to the federal government's refinancing program, the report shows. Of the 283 farm mortgages recorded in 1934, 235 were in favor of the Federal Land Bank or Land Bank Commissioner. Of the 86 city real estate mortgages 58 were in favor of the Home Owners Loan Corporation.

As against this increase in real estate mortgage filings, 1934 brought a sharp decrease in chattel filings and an increase in chattel mortgage releases, the report proves. In 1934 a total of 2,200 chattel mortgages aggregating $935,533 were filed as compared with 2,400 aggregating $1,340,712 in 1933. The number released was 1,982 aggregating $1,190,290 as against 1,129 aggregating $1,245,191 in 1933.

In addition to handling all the instruments totaled above, the county clerk's office filed papers on 330 government corn loans, the government having loaned $146,250 on $25,000 bushels of corn in Valley county, and besides Mr. Klima and his deputy compiled over 100 chattel mortgage abstracts in connection with the chattel loans. Everything mentioned above for which the fees are retained by Valley county. Thousands of claims and other items on which fees are not paid were also handled by the clerk's office.

If people wonder why Messrs. Klima and Rusk seem buried with work every day, they may get some idea of the reason by reading this article. Figures show that twice as much work than in 1933 actually was done in the office in 1934, with no extra help except FERA employees or employees whose wages were paid by Klima and Rusk.

The Valley county clerk and his deputy are hoping that 1935 doesn't bring another increase in work.

Weather Story Coming.
Horace W. Travis, government weather reporter in Ord, has promised to have ready for publication next week a resume of weather conditions in 1934, comparing this drouth year with former years and showing rainfall, temperatures and other weather information for every month of the year.

The Methodist church people enjoyed a get-together meeting Sunday evening in the dining room in the church basement. They had a covered dish dinner. Several members gave interesting talks. There was music and a general social and religious time is reported.

Want to Buy a Hog? Try a Want Ad In the Quiz

George Nay wanted to buy a Duroc-Jersey boar. He didn't know where to buy it and rather than waste time and gasoline in driving around to find out he spent 25¢ for a Quiz want ad. The ad was printed last Thursday and the same day he began to get telephone calls from farmers who had Duroc-Jersey boars to sell. Friday he bought just the animal he wanted, but the results continued to come. One North Loup man telephoned and described a boar he wanted to sell, then loaded the animal on a trailer and took it to the Nay farm to show Mr. Nay. Monday Nay was still getting answers to his ad.

If you want to buy or sell, rent or trade your cheapest and best medium is the Classified Advertising department of the Quiz.

Forges Check, Gets 20 Days in Co. Jail

James Harvey, 20, of Taylor, was sentenced to serve 20 days in county jail Friday when he pleaded guilty in county court to a charge of forgery filed by Alvin B. Lee, Valley county's new attorney, whose first official action it was.

According to the story told in court, young Harvey went to Frank Hron's store Friday and purchased some clothing, tendering in payment a First National bank check in the amount of $10, allegedly signed by George R. Satterfield. Young Harvey admitted forging Satterfield's signature. He was arrested within thirty minutes after the transaction took place.

Questioned in court, he said he didn't know why he committed this offense. It was the first time he ever did such a thing, he said, which statement tallied with an investigation made at Taylor by local officers. Young Harvey comes of a very good family and has never been in trouble before, it is learned, and his previous good record prompted Judge Andersen to give him the minimum sentence.

Haskell Has Transfusion.
W. W. Haskell, who has been severely ill at his home in Ord for several weeks, was taken to Hillcrest hospital Monday and underwent a blood transfusion, the operation being performed by Dr. C. W. Weeks. Harold Haskell was the donor of blood. This is the second transfusion Mr. Haskell has had in recent weeks. He was taken back to his home Monday afternoon and it is hoped his condition will improve.

Mrs. W. A. Wright Is Laid To Rest

Former Ord Woman Who Died In Omaha Was Buried Here After Services Friday.

Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Ord Friday for Mrs. W. A. Wright, former Ord woman who passed away in Omaha Monday, Dec. 31. Rev. E. E. Hosman, pastor of the Methodist church where the Wrights lived in Ord and later the pastor of Mrs. Wright's church in Omaha, conducted the obsequies with the assistance of Rev. Mearl C. Smith. The services were largely attended by friends of the Wright family. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

Emma McDowell was born in Guernsey county, Ohio, and at the age of three moved with her parents to Winterstet, Ia., where on May 18, 1882 she was married to William A. Wright. They lived in Iowa for the following seven years, during which time three sons, Carl, Walter and Robert, were born. In 1889 the family moved to Nebraska and located at Greeley where Thomas, Eva, Howard, James and Lila were born. In 1909 the family came to Ord, which was their home until 1926, since which time Mrs. Wright had been living with her children in Brainerd, Nebr., Omaha, Neb., and Fort Worth, Tex. At the time of death she was living with her daughter, Miss Lila, who is a teacher in the Omaha schools.

Mrs. Wright is mourned by two daughters and four sons. They are Mrs. Paul Lambrecht and Miss Lila Wright, Omaha; Walter Wright, Fort Worth Tex.; Thomas and Howard Wright, Brainerd, Nebr.; Wm. Wright, Omaha. Her husband and three sons, Carl, Robert and James, preceded her in death. She is also mourned by two sisters Mrs. Mary Buchanan, Mrs. Charles, Ia., and Mrs. Etta Miller, Chicago, and by a brother, Wm. McDowell, Des Moines, Ia. The deceased was a kind neighborly woman, devoted to her family and friends, active in church and club work when she lived in Ord, and her memory is revered by a host of friends and former neighbors here.

Adopt A Little Girl.

In county court here Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. J. Burson took out adoption papers for little Mabel Bechtol, 10 years old, whom they took from the Knox County Home, in Ohio, about a year ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holub of Elyria drove to Omaha Tuesday, taking their daughter, Miss Kathryn, that far on her return to her studies in Stephens college in Columbia, Mo. Miss Kathryn had been spending a few weeks at home.

Dan Bartlett, who is employed in Stapleton, spent Sunday at home. He came as far as Comstock with a friend. Mr. Bartlett drove his own auto to Stapleton. It had been here for some time.

Sunday Miss Irma Kokes left on the bus. She was returning to her studies in Doane college, Crete. Her father, L. V. Kokes, nearly always takes his daughter to her school but he was ill and away from his work for several days last week. He was able to be out Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield had several guests from Taylor Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterfield, Mrs. Everett Satterfield, Mrs. Ward Moore and Tom Moore and Mrs. Paul Tockey and two children.

FIRE DAMAGES RUTAR HATCHERY FRIDAY MORNING

Office Gutted, Hatchery Room Damaged; Building Probably Cannot Be Repaired.

Fire, caused by an exploding kerosene can, caused several hundred dollars worth of damage to the Rutar Hatchery Friday morning and damaged the building, owned by the estate of the late Mrs. W. N. Hawkins, almost beyond repair. It was the most disastrous fire Ord has had since the Milford building burned.

Stanley Rutar, who is associated in the management of the hatchery with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Rutar, was alone in the building when the fire started.

He had built a fire in a coal stove in the office at the front of the building and had gone into the back room to make an inspection of the hatchery equipment when he heard an explosion in the office and ran out to find it in flames. It is thought that a live coal fell out of the stove and ignited fumes from a kerosene can setting near by, causing the can to explode and shower the office with blazing oil.

Young Rutar turned in the fire alarm and then ran from the building with his clothing burning in several places. So rapidly did the fire spread that nothing was saved from the office.

Firemen reached the scene in record time but not for almost an hour was the blaze extinguished, though workers prevented the whole building from being destroyed by their prompt and efficient work.

Office and hatchery room were separated by a partition and though this partition was destroyed the fire was extinguished before the expensive electric incubator in the rear was burned. The incubator was not in use at the time of the fire.

Loss to Mr. Rutar, besides a typewriter, adding machine, filing cabinets, desk, chairs and office supplies, included the battery brooders in the hatchery room, which were damaged beyond repair. His loss, exclusive of insurance, will be from $400 to $500. Mr. Rutar estimates.

A. J. Shirley, fire chief, estimates damage to the building at about 50 per cent of its value and it is doubtful if city authorities will permit Mrs. Knudsen, administrator of the Hawkins estate, to have repairs made, as a city ordinance prohibits repairing frame structures within the city fire limits when they are damaged by fire. It is likely that the building will be ordered razed when the city council meets January 29.

The Rutars are planning to rent another building and re-open for business as soon as arrangements can be made.

3 Marriages Performed.

Judge John L. Andersen has been called on recently to perform three marriages. On Dec. 30 he married Myrtle Dietenger and Arthur Scherberg, both of Loup county; on Dec. 31 he married LaVau Ballard, Burwell, to Edmund Clemany, Elyria; and on Jan. 3 he married Ike W. Friend, Ericson, to Mrs. Esther Prickett, Waterloo.

Mrs. Esther Crisp Dies in Grand Island

Mrs. Sylvia Esther Crisp, better known in Ord as Esther Smith, her maiden name, passed away at the family home in Grand Island at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday after an illness of several years duration. She was 29 years old at death and is survived by her husband, one daughter, Imogene, her mother, Mrs. Carrie Washa and two sisters, Mrs. Willa Wallace and Mrs. Evelyn Savin, all of Grand Island, and three brothers, Ernest Smith, Sidney, Patrick Smith, Kimball, and Ote Smith, Jackson, Wyo.

Mrs. Crisp was born in Ord and attended the Ord schools, leaving here about fourteen years ago with her mother. Since then she has lived in Grand Island. A heart ailment with which she had suffered since childhood was responsible for her death.

Horace Davis Named State Fire Marshal

Horace M. Davis, of Lincoln, former Ord postmaster and publisher of the Ord Journal, last Thursday was appointed Nebraska fire marshal by Governor R. L. Cochran. He succeeds L. J. Butcher in the post. Mr. Davis had served as deputy state fire marshal for several years previously.

Dan Bartlett, who is employed in Stapleton, spent Sunday at home. He came as far as Comstock with a friend. Mr. Bartlett drove his own auto to Stapleton. It had been here for some time.

Sunday Miss Irma Kokes left on the bus. She was returning to her studies in Doane college, Crete. Her father, L. V. Kokes, nearly always takes his daughter to her school but he was ill and away from his work for several days last week. He was able to be out Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Satterfield had several guests from Taylor Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. John Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterfield, Mrs. Everett Satterfield, Mrs. Ward Moore and Tom Moore and Mrs. Paul Tockey and two children.

Safeway Manager Wants Ads, Not Circulars

Another strong endorsement for newspaper advertising was given this week by Fred Cahill, manager of the popular Safeway store in Ord, which is one of the largest users of Quiz space each week. He said:

"In former years it was the policy of my company to mail out circulars at frequent intervals. About eight months ago we discontinued this policy and diverted our entire advertising appropriation to the purchase of newspaper space."

"In Ord, as well as in other towns, increase in business resulting from this change of policy has been most satisfactory."

"In the month of December, 1934, by the use of advertising space in the Quiz, we had the biggest month's business since our store was established in Ord. The Saturday before Christmas brought the largest single day's business our store has ever had. Yes, Quiz advertising has paid dividends. We wouldn't think of getting along without it."

Abtractors from Shelter Belt Counties Will Hear Plans In Ord This Morning.

Abstractors from every Nebraska county embraced in the proposed federal shelter belt, meeting at the call of Arthur B. Capron, president of the Nebraska Title association, will convene in Ord this morning to hear federal men who are in charge of the shelter belt program explain the project and outline plans for carrying it out. The meeting will be held at the city hall.

Alva A. Simpson, of Washington, D. C., chief of lands, department of agriculture, Mr. Bohannon, chief counsel, and Clayton Watkins, shelter belt director for Nebraska, will be here to speak between 11 and 12 o'clock this morning. The meeting is not open to the public.

At least fifty members of the title association, probably more, will be in Ord for the meeting.

Will Attend Title Meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur B. Capron are planning to leave by auto Saturday for Oklahoma City, where on Monday Mr. Capron will attend a meeting of the American Title Association. He is president of the Nebraska Title association. They will be accompanied as far as Wichita, Kas., by Mr. and Mrs. George Work, who will visit there a few days.

Urged to Order Small Grain Seed

Farmers who will need small grain for spring seeding should place their orders with their township drouth committeeen or at the county agent's office at once. There are two reasons for this, first, the government seed supply may be too short to supply the demand and, second, on orders which do not reach Lincoln by January 31, there will be an increase in price of one per cent. The seed situation will be very serious here this spring unless farmers anticipate their needs and get their orders in soon.

Must Replace Flues In County Boilers

After being in use for fifteen years without repair, the flues in one of the big boilers that heat the Valley county court house went out of commission just before Christmas and must be replaced. There are 46 flues in each boiler. Some of the flues in the second boiler are corroded and should be replaced also, Custerian D. C. Haught says. Usually only one boiler is used at a time but occasionally both are needed during the coldest weather.

Supervisors on the old committee on buildings and grounds referred this matter to the new board Tuesday. Bids on replacing the flues were called for but there was such a wide variation in the two bids that the board rejected all bids and instructed Legion auxiliary members will meet at the Yancey Hotel. Several from Ord are planning to attend.

Special attention was being given to the North and Middle Loup projects. Burke said the proposed Tri-County project was not in shape for quick action.

Mr. T. Veatch, Jr., member of Black and Veatch, engineers of the North Loup project is now in Washington and hopeful of early action on the project.

Legion Meeting Today.

A state American Legion meeting is being held today in Grand Island with National Commander Frank Belgrano, of California, as the guest of honor. The Legion will convene at the Elks club while Auxiliary members will meet at the Yancey Hotel. Several from Ord are planning to attend.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Milliken drove to Grand Island Saturday taking their son James that far. He was leaving for his college work in Baltimore, Md. An aunt of Mrs. Milliken, Miss Frances Zabloudil, who is in a hospital recovering from injuries received in an auto accident. He is improving but his physician wants him to stay a week or two longer.

Lew Zabloudil was in Aurora Saturday, returning Sunday. He went down to see his father, Frank Zabloudil, who is in a hospital recovering from injuries received in an auto accident. He is improving but his physician wants him to stay a week or two longer.

CHAMPIONSHIP FORM IS SHOWN BY ORD CAGERS

Trounce St. Paul, 34-30, Wallop Sargent, 62-18, As Season Gets Running Start.

They may be slightly premature, but Ord basketball fans are already predicting a valley and possible state championship team representing Ord high school this spring.

On the meager evidence afforded by two games these predictions may be justified, as the team coached by Helmut Brockman took the St. Paul Apostles into camp handily Friday evening by a score of 34 to 30 and then repeated by administering a 62-18 wallop to Sargent Tuesday night on the Ord floor. As result of these victories and the future ones these pressage, cage interest is beginning to run at fever heat in Ord.

Coach Brockman has four 6-footers on his first team this year, Blessing, Greathouse, Severson and Tunnicliff all being lofty lads who know how the court game should be played. Michels, fifth member of the Ord quintet, isn't a 6-footer but fans say he is good enough to hold his own against any competitor. Ord is likely to encounter. Lack of reserve strength may prove a handicap though several second team members are developing nicely.

The Ord-St. Paul game was a nip-and-tuck affair, with the Apostles leading at the half-way mark, 15 to 12. In the third quarter Ord went into action and soon led, 22 to 18. Each team scored 12 points in the final period. A large crowd of Ord fans drove to St. Paul for this game.

Tuesday night the local gymnasium was crowded and though the Chanticleers completely outplayed Sargent it was a worth while exhibition from the viewpoint of local fans. The first team played three quarters and when they left the floor the score was something like 52 to 5 in favor of Ord, which indicates the local team's margin of superiority. Sargent slightly outplayed the Ord second team in the fourth period.

If the Chanticleers do not become over-confident and take a setback, Ord seems to be headed for a valley championship and should go well in state competition also. Tomorrow night Ord plays at Broken Bow, which game will furnish a better basis for comparison than the St. Paul and Sargent games.

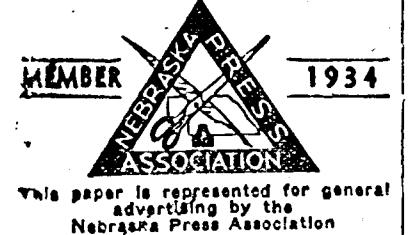

Will Meet to Plan 1935 Crop Control

Agricultural agents and members of corn-hog allotment committees from several nearby counties will meet in Ord next Monday to discuss plans for getting the 1935 production control program under way, says C. C. Dale, Valley county agent and secretary of the local corn-hog committee. J. L. Claybaugh, of Lincoln, district supervisor, will lead the meeting. Immediately thereafter meetings will be held in all parts of Valley county to explain the 1935 plan

NOT A FAIR DEAL.

Probably no taxpayer, unless it be the automobile owner, is so discriminated against as the sportsman, the man who loves hunting, fishing and is willing to buy a license each year entitling him to pursue these sports. Never, in Nebraska, has he been given a fair deal which is why a state sportsmen's organization is asking the legislature for redress this winter.

For years in Nebraska it was a common custom of the governor and legislature to divert to the general fund license moneys paid in by sportsmen. But with organization of the commission on game, fish, parks and reforestation this practice was stopped and, under the able administration of Game Warden O'Connell sportsmen of the state were given something for their money.

Unfairness is still being practiced, however, in the commission's policy of establishing and maintaining state parks with money derived from the sale of fishing and hunting licenses. Last year 10 per cent of license money went toward establishment of new state parks and 18 per cent toward park maintenance.

State parks are usually picnic grounds, beauty spots, scenic drives—places where Nebraskans may go to enjoy a day's outing. Such they are well worth while. Nebraska needs them and Nebraska wants them. But they should not be purchased nor maintained by fishermen and hunters of the state, who usually are the last to make use of them. Fishermen want to go where there are fish waters where there are ducks and geese, rabbits and other game. They aren't interested in beauty spots and picnic grounds solely as such. And because it is the fisherman and the hunter who planks up his little $1.00 each year for a license, the wishes of this class of taxpayers should be considered.

This editor believes that every penny of license money should be used to improve fishing and hunting in Nebraska. It should be used to restock lakes and streams, to provide refuges for migratory birds, to feed game in winter, to provide proper policing of areas where fish and game may be found, and for all other purposes that will give the fisherman and hunter his money's worth.

A few of the state parks offer fishing facilities, true, but most of them do not. Let the state parks be supported from the general fund of the state, we say, and use money from hunting and fishing licenses as it should be used.

QUIZ FORUM

More Nature Stories.

The Editor of the Quiz: I read the skunk stories from Mid Creek and while Vinton townsmen hasn't any skunks, these animals seem to think Vinton isn't worth a cent, we do have plenty of pheasants and jackrabbits. These stories appear to be the order of the day, Mid Garner and George G. having had some good ones last week. I will tell you a few about jackrabbits and pheasants, that I heard at the old-time community dance in Ord Friday evening, when it was ladies' choice and a lot of older men had to sit back and watch the young fellows dance with the best girls.

You see Hanson Bros. across the road and I am running a sort of race to see who can get poor first. They are feeding 200 head of cattle and I am feeding 70 head of cows, so it is some race. Neighbor King Hoff has about 2,000 acres of land and has protected pheasants and rabbits for years, so there are lots of them in these parts and Hanson's feed yards and pens are where they get their living. One neighbor told me he had 500 jackrabbits and 1,000 pheasants in Hanson's hog pasture. His neighbor said he went over to see the bachelors and said Carl him when he arrived home, seeing his latest widow home. In the dance he found the house blown open and six pheasants sitting on the foot board of the bed waiting for Lew to get up and eat the hogs. Some tame! And jackrabbits are even worse than pheasants. They come here by hundreds and I can't buy shells fast enough to scare them away. We have a fancy bird and a German police dog.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Albers were visiting last Tuesday in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Long.

at the dance: A fellow dancer said he was going home through Vinton the other Saturday eve and saw about thirty jackrabbits up in the tops of Hanson's cottonwood trees eating the tender limbs. One other wild-flower like myself at the dance told about going out to cut wood in his canyon and took his gun along for protection. He laid the gun down and went to work but looked around to see four rooster pheasants sitting on his gun barrel and one had picked the sight off.

All the fellows who told these stories are honest, they don't drink anything but water so they were sure they weren't seeing things. As you know I am a truthful sort of a fellow so you had better believe these stories. I heard a lot more at the dance but thought some of them were stretching the truth so my conscience won't permit me to tell them. I know H. D. Leggett wants us fellows to always tell the truth like George G. and those Davis Creek story tellers.

I don't see why the Lord, in His wisdom, didn't make more of us handsome, like Fred Coe, Col. Wheeler, Orville Sowle and Mike Perlinski. Mr. and Jerry Petska and Doc Nay are too—well, you know, and Bud Auble and Doc Barto are beginning to show a little stomach, too. Frank Hron charges me 20 per cent more for a pair of pants than he does most men. But I could say something mean about him too, if he would take his hat off, but I won't do it.

I believe that the farmer who is in shape to raise and market a good bunch of pigs in 1935 will realize a good profit. There are many who cannot do so because of present feed and financial conditions.

I don't have any patience with those who are always saying that the manufacturer passes the tax on to the "poor consumer". Why not? And what else could the manufacturer do? For instance, take cigarettes. A 10¢ package. The tax is 6¢ and that goes to Uncle Sam. The grower, manufacturer, wholesaler, retailer and all the others, including the package it is in, get 4¢. And this is true of everything that is manufactured, only of course the tax is not as great in most cases. The tax, just like the package and the raw material, is a part of the cost of manufacture.

You may not believe advertising will pay you in your business, but just for fun, look around Ord and see who is doing the best business in each line. Then see whether they are Quiz advertisers or not. Any one can figure it out.

Lou Holloway called up from Harlan, Iowa Saturday night and said "If you are going to have oyster stew for supper next Saturday, home-made sausage and buckwheat cakes for breakfast Sunday morning and turkey with all the trimmings for dinner, we will be with you. And what could I do? Yes, we are expecting them."

An Ord man made an awful holler to me the other day because his neighbor borrowed his Quiz. "Why?" said this man, "they had the nerve to come and get it before we even had a chance to look at it". I am compiling a list of the borrowers and when I get it completed I am going to publish it.

There is a Nebraska law that requires all township clerks to publish an annual financial statement. Only a very few Valley county townships do this. Serious consequences might follow failure to do so. The cost is very small. The Quiz will be glad to have this business and now is the time.

Every QUIZ subscriber whose subscription expires this January 15, has received a government post card notice, or at least, one has been mailed. Don't overlook this reminder. Would you just as soon let the QUIZ make a little commission on your daily paper subscriptions and save yourself a little time and expense also? We appreciate the business. Phone us if you are not coming in. The QUIZ is 17.

Before the HouseTHE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

So many requests have come in for the famous H. D. Leggett corned beef recipe that you find it in this column this week. It is very good, little trouble to make, different. You will like it.

If you have favorite meat treatments you administer at your house, write them to the Quiz. Others are sure to see them and be much interested.

Canned Beef. Bring to a boil one quart of water, one cup of salt, and a piece of saltpeter the size of a pea. Let the liquid get cold, then pour it over a piece of beef that weighs four pounds, and let stand in the brine for three days, when it is ready to cook and use as you like. A piece of meat that is thick and not too lean is best for this.

Mrs. H. D. Leggett. Richard Teague received a unique Christmas gift from his mother-in-law, Mrs. Amolla Partridge. He was presented with a membership in the Ord Rotary club, or rather with the funds for membership. The deal was closed when he was formally received into the club a week ago Monday at Stevens Point, Wis.

The Misses Ollis and Knott and George R. Mann returned to their studies at Doane but train service was interrupted by a snow storm.

As I have often told you, Ord though a beautiful city is marred by many eyesores which could be easily and inexpensively removed if the initial steps were taken.

Added to the official list of eyesores is now the building where an Ord hatchery burned out a few days ago. It may be interesting to inspect the remains after a fire, to speculate upon something like that which we don't quite understand, but not by the farthest stretch of the imagination could it be called picturesque, charming, lovely in its simplicity, pleasing, or passably attractive.

Salad Dressing. A young man of our city who is considerably about town recently provided a carload of ladies with the spectacle of himself unclad. But since he did it unwittingly, without premeditation, not intending to reveal his excellent physique, it was, as far as I know, quietly forgiven and forgotten by the witnesses.

Miss Taylor taught here in 1926 and 1927, or thereabouts, and as Mrs. Chapman says, "was a very sweet young lady", so it is very suitable that the sweet young lady send back gifts of sweet cake, the cake arriving via the VanDecar family.

Davis, a former Ordite, as chairman of the Hall county republican central committee. The former president is now living at Palo Alto, Calif., and said his mission in Chicago was private business.

Fenner Bank Officer. The state banking department last week approved a charter for the new bank at Columbus, Nebr., which has as officers L. B. Fenner, president, R. V. One other story I heard

Care of The County Board Ord, Nebr.

Dear Jake:

The word comes from Texas that some bandits escaped with the police car, kidnapping three policemen, who were later freed without injury. There is nothing about all this to excite comment except to show what exceedingly nice fellows some of these bandits are.

I am afraid the police would not be so polite. Had they had the chance, I will warrant they would have shut these nice bandits up, grilled them, threw them in jail, put uncomfortable handcuffs on them, dragged them into court, perhaps given them a sentence or hung them, and caused them all sorts of inconvenience. No doubt these nice bank bandits were harking back to their early childhood training and were acting on the good old principal of the Golden Rule. More than that the Good Book says "Bring up a child in the way he should go; and when he is old he will not depart from it."

The law against bank robbing should be repealed and the bank robbers licensed. By licensing them, we will increase our tax revenues, which could be used for schools, 4-H clubs, roads, county fairs, bridges, pavings, viaducts, and testing cows for tuberculosis eradication, thereby helping the farmer.

The scheme would not only supply a new source of employment as bank robbers but would supply further employment in the form of night watchmen, bank guards, deputy sheriffs and tax collectors, to say nothing of the boom it would make to the speedy car and the poverty stricken munition industries.

It might be further added we may as well license the bank robbers, for it has been proven beyond a doubt the law against bank hold-ups cannot be enforced (if a person wants to rob a bank he will rob it anyway) and we may as well get a little revenue out of it.

Congress should pass on the measure as soon as possible after they convene so as to quickly get the wheels of progress moving and prosperity dawning. From all appearances, this prosperity business is yet around the corner.

As soon as the bill is railroaded through Congress both houses, the president should sign it with at least six revolvers, shooting the signatures with a dotted line. These revolvers should be used for souvenirs and presented to notorious bandits, who have done so much toward making this law possible.

Then the President's wife should make a speech over the radio and tell the nation that in this new and enlightened age, our young folks, including girls, should learn to rob banks in moderation, and conduct themselves properly.

Mr. Russell may find greater richness in Irish farmhouses, but it is a richness of the character and of the mind, not the surroundings. There is little barrenness about, other than intellectual, in our rural life with its automobile, radio, moving pictures within easy reach, rural delivery, porcelain bath tubs, mail order catalogues, prayer meetings, revivals, annual circus, the public library, soon reached by automobile.

Next summer our ships of war, "venturing almost to Oriental waters," will engage in far-flung war games covering more than 5,000,000 square miles of the Pacific ocean.

How interesting that will be, and how rapidly those ships would come running home to hide away in port if a few large bombing planes should sail out from Asia, from Tokyo or Russia's Vladivostok, over those 5,000,000 square miles of the Pacific, and drop explosive bombs and poison gas bombs on the battlefields!

Geological explorers from the Byrd expedition, near the South pole, report important veins of mineral quartz discovered in mountains along the coast of Marie Byrd Land.

If the geologists should bring back actual samples rich in gold, how quickly men would find a way to reach those mountains, how indifferent to death they would be in the effort to get there!

In Kansas a terrific dust storm, hiding the sun, suggests that the Agricultural department help farmers by developing some temporary covercrops that could be sown on wheat and corn fields when the crops come off, a nitrogen-fixing plant if possible. It would protect dusty surfaces from high winds and be plowed under, contributing humus, before the next planting.

In the Northwest, farmers have used the "duckfoot" cultivator, which cuts a path 60 feet wide, going through the roots of weeds and not destroying the protection of the stubble from wind and the washing of heavy rains.

A wise motto of earlier days was: "When in doubt, refrain." In Russia and other countries where the will of one takes the place of slow decisions by the majority, the maxims reads: "When in doubt, shoot." Moscow reports 14 more executed to avenge the killing of Sergei Kirov, making 117 lives taken to explode that one murder.

By Fred J. Minder

Pomp and circumstance marked the opening of the Fifteenth session of the Nebraska legislature which will be the last, for a while at least, that will be comprised of two houses, a house and senate. By no small majority the voters of Nebraska last November adopted the one-house plan, and it will be in 1937 that the unicameral system takes effect.

Organization, honorary procedure and finally the inauguration and inaugural ball marked the first week of what probably will be one of the most hectic sessions ever held in Nebraska. This week the 133 solons will buckle down to work, and facing them are at least four major problems any one of which may cause serious disruption to the peace, quiet and speed hoped for by all assembled.

Heading the list of major problems is the creation of a state liquor control system to regulate the sale of intoxicants after an eighteen-year dry era of national and state prohibition. Probably as important and as dangerous so far as solonic tranquility is concerned is the translation into legislation of the state's much-discussed electoral mandate to transfer legislative authority to a unicameral assembly in 1937. Development of machinery under which pari-mutuel betting once more may be conducted in the state likewise presents a perplexing problem, and the fourth major point is solution of problems created by insistent demands for revision of the Nebraska taxing system.

The administration, after careful survey, has fostered a liquor control bill. It will hit the hopper and go to committee this week. Solons generally are divided on this problem. The administration plans call for creation of a commission of three men to dispense licenses. At least a score of ideas are being incubated into measures for introduction by as many representatives and senators. Generally, the republican minority lean toward a bill carrying a local option feature. Much is heard about and considerable study is being given the Slough Creek bill under which liquor was regulated in the state years ago.

The unicameral system will offer many snares. Already there is inconsistent conversation that the present senatorial districts be utilized in the redistricting of the state for the new legislative system, but other solons insist that the maximum number of representatives—fifty in number—should be the final layout. That plan or any other plan that provides for more or less than thirty-three representatives will require a complete redistricting of the state and threaten the peace and tranquility of a session.

A state racing commission of three men is proposed in a bill prepared by Mac Baldridge of Omaha to handle the pari-mutuel problem. The bill was introduced by Senators Regan of Columbus and others. The bill was drawn by Baldridge for Ak-Sar-Ben and embodies the principles of the Omaha organization seeks in the law.

Senate File No. 1 hit the hopper the opening day of the session. It is a bill providing for the broadcasting of all the regular football games at the University of Nebraska, and was introduced by a group of senators. Under its provision, the proceeds arising out of the broadcasting contracts shall be credited to and expended by the Nebraska athletic board. The bill carries an emergency clause and provides further that during the months of June and July each year the regents of the university shall invite bids for the exclusive broadcast rights of the games. It provides for the placing of ads in both Lincoln and Omaha papers and in daily papers in Chicago and New York advertising the bids at least twenty days before the contract is let.

Representative Cone of Valley, veteran of many sessions introduced H. R. 1, a bill to extend the mortgage moratorium another two years. H. R. 3, by Bock of David City would refund the surplus in corn loan inspection fund to farmers. This fund was used as political football material during the campaign. Bock refused to say whether the bill was introduced at the request of the administration.

Starting his eleventh legislative session, including three specials, W. H. O'Gara of Laurel was named speaker of the house over his opponent John Havekost of Dodge county by a 37 to 30 vote in the caucus. Representative Marion J. Cushing is minority floor leader, and new post, that of assistant minority floor leader was tendered John Comstock of Lancaster.

On the other side of the rostrum the senate organized with C. L. Stewart of Clay Center as president pro tem and Hugo Srb, former senator as secretary.

The house is divided with 67 democratic and 33 republican members, while the senate has 22 democratic and 11 republican members. Under this two-third division, selection of democratic caucus was equivalent to election. The campaigning was fast and furious in hotel lobbies prior to the caucuses, and at one time it was deemed advisable to place badges on jobseekers to keep them from wasting time shaking hands with other job-seekers in their quest for favor.

The budget recommendations of retiring Governor Charles W. Bryan, delivered to the solons in joint assembly called for expenditures of $11,628,055 during the two years beginning July 1, 1935. This is an increase of $615,918 over the gross amount appropriated by the 1933 legislature for use in the state. Governor Cochran has fifteen legislative days to present his budget message. It is awaited with a great deal of anticipation by the majority party solons.

The smile of the week came rather unexpectedly. A representative had moved to accept the offer of a loud speaker syndicate to install its equipment gratis in the house chamber for a few days free. Representing McClelland Grand Island rose and declared he could see no sense for all this kind of foolishness. Hearing in the vast chamber is often difficult. The opposing representative fortunately has a seat near the front of the hall. The equipment went in.

There was note of tragedy in the other branch with the arrival of word of the death of Senator Frank M. McCarter of Bayard, who died New Year's morning at a Stoutsburg hospital where he was being attended for injuries received in an automobile accident two weeks prior. McCarter was president pro tem of the senate during the 1933 session. He came to the capital two years ago after defeating his republican opponent and friend, former state senator Henry Springer, to work for a state income tax.

Resolutions adopted by both branches place the employees on salaries equal to those of the session two years ago, when, through rigid economy programs, there was a drastic cut over wages paid during the prior sessions.

Governor Cochran became the state's chief executive and the new legislature convened in an atmosphere differing markedly from the scene of the convening of the forty-ninth session. The depression-weary months of the 1933 session definitely are in the background. Instead of turning immediately to problems of emergency relief, such as were necessitated by the crisis of aroused citizens in 1933 and by ultimatums of farm marchers, the fifteenth session is approaching its problems in a more studied manner.

Irregardless of the marked difference of environment, however, political observers predict the 1935 session may outlast the record-breaking assembly of 1933, which continued from January 3 to May 9.

Thus the ball rolls merrily on, and out of it all will come probably some of the most constructive legislation enacted since the opening of the World War. Solons apparently feel their grave responsibility, despite the fact that this session marks the death knell for many of them, and a vast majority will be responsible, knowing full well they cannot return two years hence.

Now that Governor Cochran has been inaugurated and delivered his message to the legislature, the solons can settle down to work. There was little doubt in the minds of the people's representatives as to the sincerity of the new chief executive's candor. He agreed with retiring Governor Bryan on some things, disagreed with him on others and failed to mention some things that the seasoned executive mentioned as he delivered his final words as governor. Cochran and Bryan are in accord on three things—against diversion of gasoline tax money from road work, for abolishing the office of land commissioner and for continuation of the mortgage moratorium. Cochran favors inculcating into the liquor control measure something that will permit the sale of liquor by the drink. On this Bryan frowned and declared his opposition. Cochran expressed his partiality to local receivership for banks and this brought an emphatic frown from Bryan. Cochran in his ringing message voiced opposition to any new taxes or increases in present levies. No new taxes was one of the planks in the democratic platform. The matter of a commission known as a compensation court of three members to handle cases now under supervision of the labor department is sought by Cochran. The expenses of such a commission or court would be paid by the insurance companies. Cochran declared that the matter of relief should be handled by the counties. Any money remaining in the capitol fund after the building is completed according to plans of the architects Cochran would use under his recommendation to carry out the desires of the capitol environs committee in cooperation with the city of Lincoln, paying particular attention to the widening of fifteenth street program. He would take the custody of the building from the commissioner of lands and buildings and turn it over to the governor and the department of irrigation and roads. Bryan, touching on some things that Cochran failed to mention, declared he was for ratification of the child labor amendment by Nebraska if it was absolutely certain that it does not apply to farmers. Bryan also said the old age pension levy should be trebled to meet the ever-increasing needs.

Halling the "new pioneer era" opened up by Nebraska's public power and irrigation districts organized under Senate File 310 passed by the 1933 legislature, Democratic National committeeman Keith Neville, of North Platte, appeared before both branches of the party's legislature in party caucus to urge furtherance of unity in program toward a "fuller realization" of the resources of Nebraska. Selection by the former governor of this as one of his two topics for discussion before the democratic majorities in both houses was held by some members as significant that further legislation along these lines is in the offing, legislation tending toward expansion and further development of the state's natural resources and electrification of rural areas. Neville also urged the democratic majority to adopt in general the recommendations which the administration may present for incorporation into a liquor control measure. Calling upon "reasonable wets to write their own ticket as the dries were permitted to write their own ticket in 1917" without obstructionist tactics, Neville declared that if every member insisted upon writing into a liquor law his own ideas as to details, no generally satisfactory measure can be produced. Neville outlined the general principles which the legislature should seek to incorporate in a liquor control measure which will meet general approval by ridding the state of the bootlegger—permit sale by drink, allow for ease of procurement, and a low price. He said that studies made by Attorney General Wright in several mid-western states offer convincing proof that state stores are unsatisfactory. In counselling the solons to abide in general by the administration's measure, Neville said that "if there is any benefit to Nebraska from being a year behind the other states in repealing prohibition it is in being able to profit from their experience."

State Treasurer George Hall took the oath of office to succeed himself to that post when other state officers were inaugurated last week, but is without official bond. Bonding companies refused him a bond on the grounds that the premium—$2,500—was not sufficient to insure the state against loss through the officer who handles more than $5,000,000 in cash and $14,000,000 in securities during his term of office as covered by the bond. The action of the bonding companies was no reflection on Hall, it was pointed out, but rather a condemnation on the system through which the state allows so little to finance its treasurer's bond.

Senator Rolla VanKirk, republican, Lancaster county, has introduced a bill providing for creation of a state police force of not more than one hundred nor fewer than fifty men, to have charge of law enforcement in Nebraska. The police force, if the law is adopted, not only would enforce the laws of the state, but would have full jurisdiction over boxing and wrestling matches and would handle the duties of the state fire marshal. A board of state police, consisting of chief, the attorney general and the commissioner of public lands and buildings would have charge of the force. The chief would be chairman of the board, and would be appointed by the governor to draw a salary of $4,000 a year.

A kick-back of the investigation into the Nebraska primary of 1930 by the United States senate flared when Senator George W. Norris disclosed that he has asked to have arrangements made to assure C. E. Sandall, present U. S. District attorney for Nebraska being permitted to complete handling of the perjury charge against Victor Seymour, arising out of the inquisition, Sandall's term expired months ago, but he has remained in office because of a dispute among democratic leaders in Nebraska over patronage. Recently Senator-elect Burke announced he would appoint Joseph T. Votava of Omaha to Sandall's post just as soon as he took the oath of office as senator from Nebraska. It was then that Norris disclosed that he had previously requested that Sandall either be retained until the Seymour case was tried, or employed as special counsel. He said that Senator Thompson made a recommendation for Sandall's successor, but he obtained a promise from Thompson that the new man, if appointed, would let Sandall handle the perjury case. Thompson's recommendation never was submitted to the senate.

Nebraska's drought year crops were valued at $86,461,000 by A. E. Anderson, state and federal crop statistician, who, at the time he made the report, noted the critical shortage of feed as offsetting the relatively favorable figure. Anderson calculated only 800,052 tons of feed grains, including corn, oats and barley, were produced this year, which amounted to 10.3 percent of the ten year average. He warned that higher prices which gave the $86,461,000 value to sharply reduced crops were not entirely benefits because many farmers must buy food on the rising market to keep their livestock. The 1934 value of crops compared closely with the 1932 value of $87,550,000 when production was relatively good but prices were very much lower.

Anderson reported a reduction of more than six million acres in production in comparison with the previous five years. He estimated 12,974,000 acres were cultivated in 1934. In 1933, the acreage totaled 18,510,000. A peak of acres in production was reached in 1931 when 20,072,000 were under cultivation. The 1934 corn crop was estimated at 21,363,000 bushels worth $19,013,000 and representing only a 3.2 bushel average yield of 6,676,000 acres. The best production year of the half decade was 1932, when 269,233,000 bushels were raised, but were valued at only $37,701,000 at an average price of 14 cents a bushel. In 1934 Anderson valued the corn crop at 89 cents a bushel. A better showing was made by winter wheat. Nebraska raised 15,008,000 bushels in 1934, which was valued at 89 cents a bushel for a total of $13,357,000. This value was nearly double the $7,003,000 estimate for 1932, when the production was almost 11,000,000 bushels higher but the price was only 27 cents a bushel.

The last good wheat year was 1929, when 52,890,000 bushels of the winter grain were produced at 99 cents a bushel. The 1934 spring wheat crop was valued at only $706,000. The production was only 830,000 bushels compared with the average of between 2,000,000 and 3,000,000 bushels. The comparisons were similar for other crops such as potatoes, beans, apples and sugar beets.

With a monthly average of 18,000 men given employment directly or indirectly during the past year by highway work, as estimated by Acting State Engineer A. T. Lobdell in his report to the governor, highway work, carried on principally by the use of federal funds, has played an important part in the re-employment program in Nebraska. Lobdell estimated that for every man employed directly on highway work, 1.4 other men were provided with jobs indirectly.

Bertie Goes to the Circus

By CHET GRANT

WNW Service.

THE Iron Horse, plugging and chugging, achieved the crown of the last steep hill, the one that overlooks Foxboro and came to a momentary halt. George Blake nodded down to his right and barked savagely, "There's your doggone circus!" Little Bertie, aged six, repressed a shriek of delight and merely grinned. Bertie was psychic. He realized that his cousin George was in no mood for overtures of any kind.

Life was indeed a burning doughnut to George, guiding the Iron Horse down to the circus grounds. Another perfect holiday spoiled; another positive proof that his parents were in league against his happiness; forcing him to take little Bertie to the circus when his whole being yearned to be with one. Mabel Porter. His mother's parting shots still rang in his ears. "Don't you dare let anything happen to little Bertie! Don't you dare overload his stomach! Don't you let go of his hand!" Cripes! You'd think the troublesome little hellion was made of solid gold!

"O'mon," George growled, climbing out of the parked Iron Horse, "And no monkey business, feller."

Who can resist a circus? Even George, after an hour in the Big Top, had to admit that he was enjoying himself. But it was at the pink lemonade stand that the world took on its rosiest hue. The lemonade was served by a girl in a crisp gingham dress. She had lots of blond hair and saucer blue eyes. George drank three glasses as slowly as possible, but the girl never so much as smiled at him. And right at that moment Bertie disappeared into thin air!

The three glasses of pink lemonade became a ball of ice in George's stomach. He gazed frantically around and suddenly saw Bertie's suit squeezing through the crowds. With a yell of rage George set off in pursuit. Coming up behind his unsuspecting victim he scooped him into his arms.

"For two cents I'd belt you one," George rapped out. "What's the idea of running away when . . ."

"You belt me, brother," a deep bass voice rumbled in the squirming bundle. George held, "and I'll sock you one myself!" George dropped the midget as if he were a hot coal.

Wiping the perspiration from his brow, George went into the throng again.

Just when he was ready to look for a policeman by some coincidence, he found himself at the pink lemonade stand again.

Wonder of wonders, the blond girl smiled at him! "I'm glad you came back," she greeted him. "Your little cousin has been helping me. He crawled under the table, you know."

She handed George a tall glass of the rosy liquid. "Here, cool off."

Well, she was stunning to George, so he grinned amiably at Bertie, who was sticking empty bottles behind the counter. All was right with the world. George ordered another glass of the cooling beverage. It was like nectar coming from her hands. He wanted to tell her something of the sort, but lost his nerve. Instead he asked for another glass, and another . . .

"You must like that stuff," she observed, frowning.

"It's swell," George enthused. "Like you," he dared to say.

"That's no compliment," she smiled.

"Well, anyhow," George grinned, "a couple of glasses won't hurt me. I . . . uk! . . . s'cuse me."

"A couple! You've had ten." The girl led Bertie outside the stand. "You'd better get your big cousin started for home," she advised.

Mrs. Blake was wiping the supper dishes when the telephone rang. Its summons startled her and she picked up the instrument with misgiving.

"Hello, Hello, Aunt Frances. This is Bertie."

"Bertie! Why, my dear child, what . . ."

"I'm standing on a soap box, Aunt Frances. I wanted to call you up."

"Yes'm."

"You're all right, Bertie?" Mrs. Blake asked suddenly.

"Oh, yes'm, I'm all right. But, Aunt Frances . . ."

"Yes, dear."

"Aunt Frances, I think you 'n' Uncle Charlie'd better come down here to Foxboro and bring us home."

"Bring you home?"

"Yes'm. You see, Aunt Frances, George, he's awful sick."

"Bertie! What's the matter with George?" Mrs. Blake trembled.

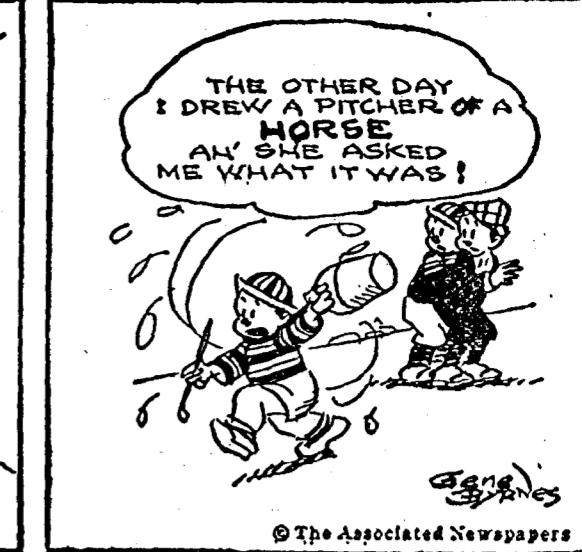

"Oh, George's all right, Aunt Frances, only his stomach ain't."

"What's the matter with his stomach?"

"Well, I guess, Aunt Frances, George had too much lemonade 'n' . . ."

There was a resounding crash as Bertie fell off the soap box. Mrs. Blake ran to the back of the house and called her husband. In a moment the family car rolled out of the garage and much as we would like to follow them, perhaps it is best if we draw the curtain now on George's ignominious homecoming.

AM I RIGHT?

By George Round, Jr.

Organized Agriculture at the Nebraska college of agriculture will close today in Lincoln. At least one Ord man F. M. Vodehnal, will play a big part in week of farm problem discussions. He is president of the Nebraska Beekeepers' association and highly regarded in "honey circles" throughout the state.

The appearance of Chester Davis, administrator of all AAA programs and a speaker who talks straight from the shoulder without "fudging," probably attracted numerous Valley county people to the state capitol for the week's activities. Don Round, Art Mensing and Marlon Cushing, all members of the corn-hog allotment committee, as well as others were expected to attend.

And as usual the honoring of Ernest Coats for the development of his outstanding Jersey herd occurred. Mention the name in most any dairy circle and pronounced recognition of a good and able dairyman is bestowed upon the Ord man.

Perhaps all of the newspaper talk about compulsory adjustment control of farm production is the "bunk." At least that is the only place where it is being discussed with any reliable data to back up statements. State administrators of AAA programs frankly have opposed such a plan in the past and there is little reason to believe they have changed their minds. However, they do not make legislation.

Evidently the Ord high basketball team is off to a winning start again this year. Here's power to you boys!...Chris Mathis, that former star football player at the University of Nebraska who has a number of friends in Ord, is back attending school. This time it is to finish up his academic work. He has been playing professional football in Kansas City and St. Louis for the past several months...."Ike" Blessing and Bill Pierce were welcome visitors recently. And to our amazement we find that Frank Walker, Waverly farmer, used to live north of Ord in the Haskell Creek area. He still has many friends in and about Ord....

To those Valley county farmers hoping to get atlas sorgo for spring planting: P. H. Stewart, extension agronomist at the college of agriculture, says little genuine seed will be available this spring. Much of that planted in 1934 failed to mature and much of that which did turned out to be other varieties of sorghums. Although much so-called atlas will probably be on the market, not all will be "true seed." Another variety, hegari, has done well in experimental tests in Lincoln and is a good emergency forage crop.

One of the most serious problems in the 1935 corn-hog program will probably be the lack of small grain seed to plant the retained acre for the year. If administrators can allow farmers to plant the "contracted acres," of which there are none this year, to corn for fodder purposes, the situation will be simplified a great deal.

CHANTICLEERS OPEN SEASON, NOSE OUT ST. PAUL APOSTLES, 34 TO 30

Brockman Cagers Show Class in Initial Tilt, Are Favored To Capture Valley Title.

The Red and White took a big step in the direction of a successful 1935 basketball season when they edged out the strong St. Paul quintet on the St. Paul floor Friday evening by a close 34-30 score. The end of the first quarter found Ord in the lead but in the second quarter the Apostles forged ahead, the score at the half being Ord 12, St. Paul 15. In the third quarter the Chanticleers really opened up, scoring 10 points to the Apostles 3. The St. Paul team sputtered in the fourth quarter, almost tying the game several times, but the Ordites proved their superiority and kept a nice lead until the game ended.

The Chanticleers were all stars, Michels chalking up 11 points to his credit, Blessing 10 and Greathouse 9. Severson and Tunnicliff both made baskets at critical points in the game besides playing a nice defensive game. Day of St. Paul, was high point man of the game, ringing up 14 points.

A large delegation of Ord fans were on hand to see the game and all are predicting a wonderful season for the boys. Dean Duncan took a surprise band composed of Ord High students to the game totally unknown to any of the players or fans from Ord. This band gave the team a big surprise as well as added pep.

Ord Girl Reserves Enjoy Good Times

Along with the Girl Reserve's meetings are parties and hikes. This year's all-girl party was a Looking Glass or Get Acquainted party. Due to conflicts this semester, this was the only party held, but plans are under way for a masquerade party January 11.

Due to the fact that only one party could be held, a part of the meetings have been turned into some form of entertainment. At the Caucus Race, the girls took part in various races conducted by Beulah McGinnis. To the surprise of all, each received a prize.

At the meeting of Oct. 29, since it was so close to Halloween, two witches told fortunes. Apples were served for refreshments. At the Thanksgiving meeting oyster stew was served. Evelyn Jorgensen and Evelyn Loft were the very competent cooks.

The Court Trial was in the form of play entitled, "Who Stole the Tarts?" Jelly Tarts were served as refreshments.

In the coming semester will be a week that every Girl Reserve looks forward to—"Heart-Sister Week." It's fun to see what gift your heart sister has left for you each day. Identity is revealed at a party.

Besides other parties and hikes which have been planned, there is a Mother-Daughter Tea and a Farewell party for the Seniors.

G. R. Ceremonials For New Members

When the Girl Reserves welcome new girls into their club they hold a ceremonial. Most of the ceremonies of the Ord Girl Reserves have been those of candle lighting. The candle is the symbol of the source of all light and as the girls watch these beautiful ceremonies, they take on a great meaning.

Twice a year, usually in November and in February candle-light services are held to initiate new members.

In May an installation ceremony is held for the new cabinet.

The last week of school, the Seniors of the club are presented with candles. Those who have been members for one year are given a green one; for two years, pink; for three years, blue; and for four years, a gold one.

Ord Faculty Has Pot-Luck Social

The faculty of the grade and high schools held a pot luck supper and social in the high school auditorium last Wednesday evening.

The evening was spent enjoyably in playing volleyball and a baseball game. Miss Kosmata, Miss Swain, and Miss Wallin were members of the food committee and Miss Crouch, Mr. Bell and Miss LeValley made up the entertainment committee.

Plans have been tentatively made to have a faculty social every Wednesday evening.

"Eves dropping again," remarked LaVerne Lakin as Eva Umstead fell down stairs.

EDITORIALS

This issue of the paper is a semi-Girl Reserve edition and we of the Oracle and Annual Staffs would like to extend to Miss Johnson our sincere thanks and appreciation for her help on such short notice and also to Laverne Lakin, our Sports editor, who wrote practically all of the material for the football edition of last week.

And while we are handing out praise, I certainly think Miss Crouch deserves a vote of "Thanks" from the high school students for the convenient little basketball booklets given to the students last Tuesday. It must have taken a great deal of time and planning to prepare five hundred such books.

The Ord basketball team started the season right by winning from St. Paul last Friday evening. Watch them go through the rest of the schedule in the same manner.

Next week ends the semester at Ord High and most students are anxiously if not doubtfully awaiting them. Do you accept tests cheerfully and earnestly, confident that you will get a good grade, or with a shrug of the shoulders and a carelessness "I Don't Care"? Are you learning new things in school each day or are you just "settling by"? What does it profit one to 'get by' in school? What the world demands today is tireless workers, those who are bound to reach the top. How does your report card classify you? As a worker whose goal is the top or just another student?

Blessed is he who expects to flunk, for he shall not be disappointed.

Friends and classmates of Barbara Dale would like to wish her a speedy recovery from her minor operation in Miller's hospital. May she soon be back in school where her absence has been most noticeable.

A PENNY FOR YOUR THOUGHTS—

The following question was put before the students this week:

"Who is your favorite actress or actor and why?"

"Joan Crawford because she's got 'heat' in them dancing feet."—Maxine Haskell.

"William Powell and Myrna Loy because they make a good couple."—Alma Jorgensen.

"Claudette Colbert" because she's different.—Eleanore Verstrete.

"Janet Gaynor because she's so darn sweet."—Eva Umstead.

"Shirley Temple" because she's so clever for her age.—Mildred Smith.

"Clark Gable" and his fascinating eyes.—Marie Viner.

Clark Gable. He's got that something."—Louise Dowhower.

"Lou Ayres because he's so romantic."—Irene Drughosh.

"Maxine Haskell, she's got chic."—Ruth Koupal.

"Ken Maynard because he's a regular fellow."—Byrnice Leach.

"Mae West because she's best known and most popular."—Louise Gross.

"Jean Harlow because I like the type of character she portrays."—Pauline Carlson.

"Otto Kruger." He looks like somebody I know."—Beulah McGinnis.

FEATS OF STRENGTH, ENDURANCE, DEMONSTRATED AT CONVOCATION

Girl Reserves Club Has Forty Members

The present Ord Girl Reserves club has about forty members. It meets every other Monday night at 7:30. The meetings are planned around a central theme. This semester the theme was "Alice in Wonderland." The program was as follows:

Sept. 28—Looking Glass Party, (Party for all high school girls.)

Oct. 1—Down the Rabbit Hole, (Expectations of the school year.)

Oct. 4—Mad Hatter's Tea Party, (Convocation program.)

Oct. 15—Caucus Race, (Everyone received a prize.)

Oct. 29—Advice from the Caterpillar, (Health Lesson.)

Nov. 12—Candle Light Service, (Initiation of new members.)

Nov. 26—Too Much Pepper in the Soup, (Thanksgiving meeting.)

Dec. 10—Court Trial, (Who Stole the Tarts?)

Jan. 7—Alice's Visit with the Duchess, (Beauty lesson.)

Jan. 11—Masquerade Party.

Jan. 21—the Awakening, (Review of the Semester's program.)

Of our forty members there are twelve who belong to the cabinet. The four main officers are elected by vote of the entire club sometime in April. The chairmen of the different committees are chosen by the Senior members of the going-out cabinet.

The officers for this semester were as follows: President, Pauline Barta; Vice-president, Ruth Koupal; Secretary, Harriet Hrdy; Treasurer, Program Chairman, Alma Hansen and Eleanor Kepp; Social Chairmen, Beulah McGinnis and Evelyn Loft; Publicity Chairman, Dorothy Auble; Music Chairman, Dorothy Allen; Social Welfare Chairman, Evelyn Jorgensen, and Planist, Wilma Seversen.

The cabinet might be called the heart of the organization. As strong and active will be the club. These girls meet once a month to discuss all matters of the club and then present them to the club at regular meetings.

pointed out, require only $40,000 or at the most $60,000 as a bond for the county treasurer and the board may decide today to reduce the bond required. It is thought that the Nebraska legislature at its present session will take some action to remedy the situation, as 38 county treasurers are said to be in the same predicament as Mr. Satterfield. The bonding company's increase in rates is no reflection upon the honesty of these county treasurers, it is pointed out, but only because of dissatisfaction with certain Nebraska statutory provisions relating to auditing. For the present Satterfield will continue in effect until a new bond is arranged.

Must Hire Surveyor.

The board continued in session all day yesterday and will be in session today, expecting to finish up tonight. Yesterday's work consisted mostly of committee investigations and reports. Today claims will be allowed, an official paper designated and other important business transacted. The question of appointing a county engineer to replace Rollin C. Ayres, resigned, also remains to be settled. A dozen or more applications are on file and more are expected. On Monday the board heard the personal applications of several candidates without taking any action.

38,665 SHELTER TRACTS IN NEBR. TITLE MEN TOLD

Gov't Must Lease 1,600,00 Acres To Carry Out 6-State Program During Next Five Years.

Some idea of the magnitude of the proposed federal shelter belt and the vast amount of preliminary work that must be done before actual tree planting may be started was gained by abstractors of this district at a meeting held Thursday afternoon at the city hall in Ord. About 30 abstractors, several of whom drove 300 miles or more, were present to hear Alva A. Simpson and J. S. Bohannon, shelter belt executives, explain the vast project. The meeting was called by A. B. Capron, of Ord, president of the Nebraska Title association who presided.

Thirty-two Nebraska counties are included in the project and 38,645 tracts of land averaging 4 to 5 acres each will be leased in this state, Simpson said. To lease this land 29,000 individual land owners must be contacted. In Valley county 1,300 tracts will be leased.

The shelter belt program embraces six states and when it is completed 1,600,000 acres will be planted to trees, he said. Three billion trees and shrubs will be used and it is estimated that the project will take five years to finish.

In getting the program started the government expects to secure from each land owner a 1-year lease, renewable for 10 years, and an option to purchase the land at the end of the 10-year period. The purchase price in each instance will be negotiated in advance. The meeting here Thursday was to acquaint abstractors with the form of certificate of title the government will require in getting the leases. The government must know it is dealing with the rightful owner and will require a certificate of title furnished by a bonded abstractor. Later, if Congress appropriates sufficient funds to purchase the land, abstracts of title will be wanted, which will mean more work for abstractors.

"This shelter belt program is purely voluntary and we will not exercise condemnation proceedings to acquire land from farmers who do not wish to lease or sell their land," Simpson said.

Corn-Hog Meetings Starting Next Week

The 1935 corn-hog adjustment program will get under way in Valley county next week, according to an announcement made by County Agent, C. C. Dale. The first steps in the program will be a series of meetings to discuss the changes in the contract from the 1934 contract. Following is a tentative schedule of township meetings:

Monday, January 21—Geranium and south Eureka at National hall at 2 p. m.; Noble at the Brick school house at 8 p. m.

Tuesday, January 22—Vinton at Cottonwood school house at 8 p. m.

Wednesday, January 23—Elyria and North Eureka at Elyria town hall at 2 p. m.; Enterprise and Davis Creek at District 10 school house at 8 p. m.

Thursday, January 24—Arcadia, Liberty and Yale at Arcadia opera househouse at 2 p. m.

Friday, January 25—North Loup and Independent at North Loup town hall at 2 p. m.

Saturday, January 26—Ord, Michigan and Springdale at the district court room, Ord, at 2 p. m.

A schedule of contract signing days for the various townships will be announced next week.

Reckless Driving Charge Is Filed

Last Thursday in county court here reckless driving charges were filed by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee, against William Weldner, of Fremont, who is alleged to have killed a horse belonging to Stanley Gross, Vinton farmer, on July 27, 1934. Weldner was brought to Ord Friday by Deputy Sheriff Kepp and posted bond of $50. Judge Anderson set the case for trial February 8.

This action is the aftermath of the case told about in last week's Quiz. Weldner, claiming he was ready to settle for the horse he killed, enticed Mr. Gross to Fremont, and then had him served with a summons in a $100 suit for damages to his car.

Gross returned home bolling mad and immediately induced County Attorney Lee to file reckless driving charges against Weldner.

1934 Best Business Year Since 1930 For Farmers G. & S. Co.

Stockholders of the Farmers Grain & Supply company holding their annual meeting last Thursday afternoon at the Bohemian hall, were told by William Heuck, general manager, that the company in 1934 had its best business year since 1930. Continued improvement in 1935 was prophesied.

The terms of two directors, Carl Koelling and Charles Sternecker, had expired and the former was reelected. Henry Benn was elected to replace Sternecker. The new board of directors who met some time this week to elect officers. Last year John Bremer was president, Charles Sternecker vice president and Chris Nielsen secretary.

The Farmers Grain & Supply company in December completed its twentieth year of operation.

Cattle Sale Called Off.

Due to the fact that very few cattle have been listed, there will be no further government cattle sales in Valley county in the near future. In order to hold a sale it would have been necessary to have from 150 to 200 head listed for sale and only about 35 head have been listed to date. Under these circumstances the state drouth relief administration felt it was not advisable to grant a sale date to this county.

HERMAN RACHUY, UNCLE OF ORDITE, WAS FOUND DEAD

Last Seen Alive Monday At Home In Ericson, Body Was Found Friday Evening.

Herman Rachuy, 74-year-old resident of Ericson, was found dead in his home there Friday evening. From the condition of the body and the fact that Mr. Rachuy was last seen alive on Monday, it is thought death occurred at least three days before the body was found. Examination by doctors disclosed that a pulmonary hemorrhage was probably the cause of death. Rachuy was an uncle of Henry Rachuy, a farmer of the Ord community.

The deceased had lived in Ericson for about twenty years, residents of that village say. A bachelor, he occupied a little house near the Burlington depot. It was his custom to spend most of his time at home so his absence from the village streets was not immediately noticed.

Other applicants Friday included Kenneth Jensen, R. D. Pocock, Thorwald Sorensen, Chris Belers, Don Tolbert, Albert Peterson and Edward Anderson, all of Ord; Oscar Persons, Central City; P. H. Gaudreault, Hastings; E. McLain, Forest Ranch, Calif.; G. A. Kennedy, Denver; and Walt Pope, Scotia. Salaries asked varied from $90 per month to $2,400 per year. Former Engineer Ayres was paid $2,000 last year.

Mr. Rachuy was born in Germany and came to the United States in 1885, locating in York county. While still a young man he came to Valley county and lived on a farm west of Ord several years, moving from here to Garfield county and later to Ericson. Mr. Rachuy never married but is mourned by seven nieces and eight nephews.

The body was brought to the Ordville H. Sowl mortuary in Ord and funeral services were held in the Sowl chapel at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, Jan. 15, Rev. C. F. Wantz of the Midvale United Brethren church being in charge. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

H. O. STROMBOM IS APPOINTED CO. ENGINEER

Ong Man, Now FERA Surveyor, Will Succeed Ayres, Draw Salary Of $1,500 Per Year.

Harold O. Strombom, 25 years old and for several months stationed in Ord as an FERA surveyor in soil and erosion work, Friday was appointed Valley county surveyor and highway commissioner by county supervisors. He succeeds Rollin C. Ayres, who resigned just before Christmas and has entered the employ of the state department of highways and bridges.

Strombom, one of 12 applicants for the position, will be paid a salary of $1,500 per year. He is to furnish his own car and the gas and oil to run it but will receive 5¢ per mile for his mileage while on county business. A condition of his employment is that he is to remit to Valley county all fees earned as a surveyor or engineer.

Before the board considered applications discussion was held as to whether or not Valley county should employ a technically trained engineer this year. A vote on this question resulted in six years and one nay being cast.

Strombom, who submitted a written application and also made a personal appearance before the board, is said to be well qualified. He attended high school at Ong, Nebr., took university work at Wesleyan University, Lincoln, and was graduated from the University of Nebraska college of engineering. Since then he has had extensive experience with the Burlington railroad and in highway and other civil engineering. He is married and has one child. The family has been living in Ord since August.

By the terms of a resolution passed by the board Friday, the new county engineer is forbidden, while employed by Valley county, to accept other employment unless he remits the fees therefore to the county treasury. It was stated by supervisors, in explaining the resolution, that the former engineer also served as engineer for the city of Ord and devoted considerable time to this work, retaining the fees he earned in this capacity.

Other applicants Friday included Kenneth Jensen, R. D. Pocock, Thorwald Sorensen, Chris Belers, Don Tolbert, Albert Peterson and Edward Anderson, all of Ord; Oscar Persons, Central City; P. H. Gaudreault, Hastings; E. McLain, Forest Ranch, Calif.; G. A. Kennedy, Denver; and Walt Pope, Scotia. Salaries asked varied from $90 per month to $2,400 per year. Former Engineer Ayres was paid $2,000 last year.

Other criminal law violations prosecuted by Munn totaled 257 on which fines totaling $2,706.75 and costs of $1,891.70 were collected. Restitutions totaled $2,011.10, judgments $80 and alimony $390.

Mr. Munn represented Valley county in 44 civil proceedings during his two terms, collecting for the county a grand total of $29,256.46 in such cases. Costs were $36.14. The grand total of payments in all matters handled by Mr. Munn is $44,290.70.

Thirty-six county jail sentences were ordered, the total number of days served by offenders being 997. Six boys and two girls were sentenced to state industrial schools, thirteen criminals to the state penitentiary, thirteen to the reformatory and four were paroled.

An interesting fact brought out in the report is that pleas of guilty were entered in every felony case prosecuted by Munn in the eight years. No felony trials were held in the entire period, which resulted in an enormous saving of money to Valley county.

Mrs. Agnes Saunders Visits Ord Tuesday, Praises Community For Fine Cooperation.

Mrs. Agnes Saunders, of Lincoln, state supervisor of nursery schools, was an Ord visitor Tuesday and was high in her praise of the FERA nursery school being conducted here. She also praised the fine spirit of cooperation shown by the board of education, doctors, dentists and the community at large.

"Although the Ord nursery school was one of the last to be established in Nebraska it is rapidly becoming one of the best in the state," Mrs. Saunders said. "Assistance given the school by the Ord community is exceptional."

She also lauded Mrs. Lucine Andersen, nursery school director, and her assistants, Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Daily and Miss Hellberg. The Ord school has an enrollment of 30 at present and facilities for more children of pre-kindergarten age are available, Mrs. Saunders says. As the enrollment increases the staff will be enlarged, she promises.

Although established with FERA funds, these nursery schools are under the direct administration of Chas. W. Taylor, state superintendent of schools. In Ord the school is under the general direction of Supt. M. D. Bell and the board of education so it is really a local project although made possible by federal funds.

Vodehnal Is Re-elected.

F. M. Vodehnal, well known Ord farmer, was re-elected president of the Nebraska Bee-keepers association last week at Lincoln where bee-keepers gathered during Organized Agriculture sessions. Mr. Vodehnal was lauded as one of the most active and popular members of the association has ever had.

Rebekahs Hold Banquet.

Ladies in a membership contest held by the Rebekah lodge entered the winners at a banquet served in the Odd Fellows hall Tuesday evening, 33 members and guests being present. Tables were prettily decorated in the Rebekah colors, pink and green, with place cards and nut-cups in similar colors, and a delicious two-course dinner was served.

Newspaper Ads Built Business, Says Puncochar

Joe Puncochar, manager of the Food Centers, Inc., store in Ord ever since this home-owned chain was organized, is another believer in the value of newspaper advertising.

"We have always been liberal users of Quilts space, having had an ad in practically every issue for several years. Our advertising, more than any other single factor, has built our large and successful business," Mr. Puncochar says.

"During the past three years, when many stores were complaining about business, our volume has remained high," the popular groceryman claims.

"We absolutely know people read our Quilts ads and shop from them, because they come in week after week and inquire directly for the articles advertised. We always buy extra quantities of the items in our ads and even then are frequently sold out before closing time Saturday night.

"We have tried circulars occasionally but nothing gets results like our Quilts advertising," says Mr. Puncochar.

Moisture records for 1894 and 1934 are as follows:

1894—January, .28; February, .31; March, .92; April, .24; May, .69; June, .85; July, 3.43; August, .42; September, 1.95; October, 1.55; November, .05; December, .28.

1894—January, .24; February, .49; March, .41; April, .28; May, .40; June, 1.38; July, 1.22; August, .85; September, 3.29; October, .40; November, .91; December, 1.11.

Unlike 1894, 1934 was a year of extremes, says Travis, the first five months being the driest period recorded in 44 years, giving us a total of only 1.82 inches of moisture for the entire period. With this abnormal dryness came many dirt winds and on March 16, during the night, one of the worst dirt storms approached that we have any record of.

May, usually a month of mild, moist weather, came and left with nothing of record but high temperatures, very little moisture and dry, hot winds. June continued the hot winds and set new temperatures for that month.

The month of July, 1934, will go down in history as the hottest month, believes Travis, for during this month came eighteen consecutive days with temperatures ranging from 98 to 112. August was a very similar month, establishing high temperature records for that month as well.

Up to this point in 1934 the total moisture that fell here was only 5.27 inches as compared with 10.34 inches for the same period in 1894. September, however, brought some relief with its rainfall of 3.29 inches, which lowered temperatures to about normal for the month. October, November and December continued about normal in both rainfall and temperatures.

Other criminal law violations prosecuted by Munn totaled 257 on which fines totaling $2,706.75 and costs of $1,891.70 were collected. Restitutions totaled $2,011.10, judgments $80 and alimony $390.

Further details of Mrs. Stark's death are not obtainable until the arrival of her daughter so the complete obituary will be published next week. Vern Stark, of Ord, is a son of the deceased.

John H. Carson, one of Ord's oldest and most respected citizens, was critically injured Tuesday afternoon when he fell while descending the cement steps of the Van Slyke house on South 19 street, which he owns. His skull was fractured at the base of the brain says Dr. C. J. Miller, who is attending him in the Ord Hospital. His hands and wrists were also cut and bruised.

Mr. Carson makes his home with the J. C. Rogers family. Soon after dinner Tuesday he crossed the street to the Van Slyke house on an errand. More Redheaded Boys Red hair is said to occur more frequently among boys than among girls.

Pears From Old World

The cultivated pears so popular in this country are imports from the Old world. The best of these have been developed from species that originally grew wild in Europe.

A species imported from China, while less fine in flavor, has an advantage so far as southern orchardists are concerned, for it will grow farther south than will the European species.

Ross Barrier in Antarctic

The Ross barrier in the Antarctic is a gigantic sheet of ice partly over the land and partly afloat, with an area greater than the state of California.

Hibernation

A number of animals undergo hibernation. In this hibernating process, the animal is at rest. It expends very little energy and uses up the fat which has been stored during the feeding season. The animal is really in a deep sleep and the heart action is not suspended. In death the heart action stops, bodily functions cease and mortification sets in.

Drying Oils

The bureau of standards says that the most commonly used chemical characteristic which distinguishes a semi-drying oil, such as cottonseed oil, from a drying oil is the iodine number, which is lower for cottonseed than for linseed oil. The drying oils contain a greater proportion of the glycerides of unsaturated fatty acids, such as linoleic and linolenic acids.

Land of Middle Ages

In many respects, Inner Mongolia is a "Land of the Middle Ages." Mongol horsemen still lasso wild ponies with slip nooses on long poles, and in reception for the Dalai Lama attracts rainbow-hued, silk-robed princes across hundreds of miles of rolling plains. The Mongol chiefs still prefer to live in felt yurts, or tents, as did their ancestors, and visitors of note are received not in permanent buildings but in yurts which are entered through a wooden vestibule.

"Friendship," said Hi Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "is sometimes a mark of mutual esteem and sometimes only an evidence of mutual toleration."

"Admitted to the Bar"

The term "admitted to the bar" is traceable to the old English custom of having a barrier or partition separating the seats of the benchers or readers from the rest of the hall, to which students after attaining a certain standing were "called" from the body of the hall in order that they might take part in the proceedings of the court.

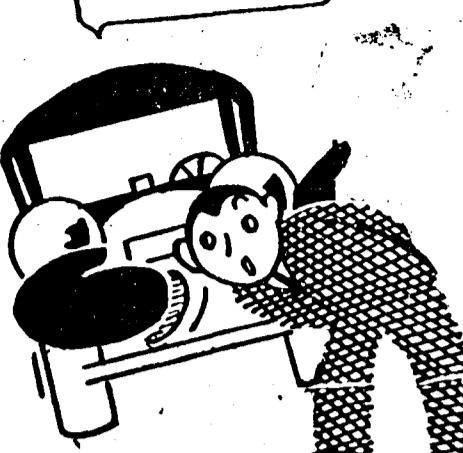

First Prince of Wales

The first prince of Wales was Edward, son of Edward I, king of England, who was born at Carnarvon, Wales, in 1307, during his father's residence in Wales. The king is said to have won the favor of the Welsh people by telling them that he would give them a prince who could not speak a word of English.

North American Bears
There are three well defined types of bears in North America other than the polar bear which inhabits the coasts of the Arctic ocean. The big brown bears, which are the largest, are found only in Alaska. The two types found in the United States are the grizzlies and the black bears. The last are the only American bears which climb trees, the other types being too large and heavy.

Proceedings of the County Board

January 8, 1935, at 10:00 A. M.
Meeting called to order by County Clerk Klima, with supervisors Desmul and Ball and Johnson and supervisors-elect Jablonski, Zikmund, Barber and Hansen, present upon roll-call.

Supervisor Johnson was then nominated and elected temporary chairman, took charge of meeting and appointed supervisors Desmul and Ball, as committee on credentials of newly elected supervisors Jablonski, Zikmund, Barber and Hansen, who later submitted the following report:

We, your committee on credentials of newly elected members of this Board of County Supervisors beg to report that we have examined the Official Bonds of the newly elected supervisors, namely, S. V. Hansen, J. A. Barber, Henry A. Zikmund and Joe J. Jablonski, whose bonds are now on file in the office of the County Judge in approved form and find that said supervisors are entitled to be seated on this Board as duly qualified and elected supervisors from their respective districts. (Signed) Henry Desmul, Ellsworth Ball Jr.

Report of credentials committee was upon motion accepted and supervisors-elect seated as the duly elected, qualified and acting supervisors from their respective districts.

Ballots for nomination and election of permanent chairman were then prepared, first ballot to nominate and second ballot to elect. Result of first nominating, stood Hansen—4, Ball—3, second ballot electing, stood Hansen—4, Ball—3, whereupon Hansen was declared elected and took charge of meeting.

"REG'LAR FELLERS"

Using His Head

News from the Legislature

By Fred J. Minder

Timidly, but none-the-less firmly, bills providing the necessary legislation for adoption of Nebraska's unicameral legislature in 1937 have been introduced by representatives. Likewise, a sales tax law, appearing under the name of a replacement tax, has been offered for consideration. Introduction of these measures and scores of others, the adoption of resolutions and the ultimate passage of companion bills providing salaries for legislators, their train fare, salaries of employees and expenses for the legislature marked the activities of the lawmakers after their first week end vacation.

First bills to pass both houses and be signed by the governor are H. R. 25, granting $80,000 for mileage of members of both houses, pay of employees and supplies, and H. R. 26, appropriating $120,500 for salaries of legislators and officers of both houses.

Resolutions held the spotlight at least for a time. Rep. Cone, (D), Valley, was named chairman of a committee of five members to investigate the milk and dairy industry of the state, particularly as to the spread between price received by producer and that paid by consumer. The resolution carried with it an appropriation of $300 for the work. Cone promised it would be no "whitewash" committee.

Rep. Bentzen, (R), Naper, introduced a resolution memorializing the federal government to continue to care for the "unemployables" for at least three more months. The plan of federal relief officials was to turn this element on the relief rolls back to the state, county and city for care on February 1.

An early petition from constituents was addressed to Rep. Hanthorn, (R), Superior, requesting a clause in the repeal act against giving away liquor and against advertising that commodity.

A second unicameral bill, this one by Rep. Carl T. Bremer, (D), Aurora, reduces the fifty-member aurora, as introduced in the earlier bill to forty members, still within the terms of the public mandate of not less than thirty nor more than fifty members. One difference of course, is the amount of salary to each legislator and the second the difference in redistricting the state. Douglas county would have six legislators and Lancaster three under the terms of the bill known as H. R. 73. One county, Gage, would be represented singly as a district in itself.

A two percent gross sales tax, known as the retailers occupation tax act, and termed H. R. 76, has been introduced by three republicans, Perigo of Scottsbluff, Frank of Kearney and Comstock of Lancaster, the former two farmers and the latter an attorney. The title carries the words: "to provide use as a replacement tax to reduce mill levies on personal and real property throughout the state and to provide penalties."

The tax is imposed, under terms of the measure, upon persons engaged in the business of selling tangible personal property at retail, tax not, however, imposed upon the privilege of engaging in any business in interstate commerce. The bill is copied after the plan in effect in Illinois for nearly two years where it is reported to have raised approximately $480 per capita. The bill carries the savings but not the emergency clause. If enacted, it would become effective three months after the legislature adjourns. Perigo said that in normal times, revenue in this state from the proposed act should approximate from $10,000,000 to $11,000,000 annually.

While both party platforms are evenly against new tax structures and Governor Cochran takes much the same position, introduction of the bill say it is purely re-argument, that its sole purpose is to relieve the taxpayer and that it's should not be construed as additional.

Introduction of the measure brought sharp division of opinion among members of the lower branch. A majority of members interviewed on the basis of introduction and no study, declared themselves opposed to sales taxes. Mrs. A. Moline, (D), Buffalo, said he probably would present a sales tax bill more to his liking than that presented by his republican brother.

Party leaders have not universally accepted the theory that both party platforms proclaimed against any form of additional tax. They are not agreed as to whether a replacement tax, possibly in the form of a sales tax, wears the toga of newness. It is said, for instance, that if a sales tax, in form of re-famous "I. P." column, "I. P." meaning indefinitely postponed.

H. R. 71, by Webber, (D), Franklin, provides for election of city attorneys in cities of the second class, now appointive.

In H. R. 32, John W. Porter, (D), Albion, prohibits the sale of malt beverages of less than 3.2 percent alcohol by weight; forbids keeping for sale such beverages usable for spiking and forbids spiking of near beer upon premises, penalty, $100 fine or not to exceed 30 days imprisonment or both.

H. R. 28, by Hastings, (R), Oceola, would place all elective county officers on non-political ballot.

Aside from introduction of Porter's anti-near beer sale bill, the liquor control legislation lay virtually dormant during the second week of the session. Some little surprise was expressed when, after Governor Cochran in his inaugural address left no doubt that he favored liquor cheap enough to be available to all, thereby eliminating the bootlegger, the first lady of the state, in an elaborate interview declared that the executive mansion would be dry.

The governor said he and the attorney general were working in harmony on a liquor control bill, based on study by the latter of conditions in several midwestern states, made following his election in November, but Cochran denied that he was fathoming a liquor bill.

It appears that the small bloc of local option advocates will control the final drafting of the liquor control measure. Lined up with a firm determination to fight through their prospective feature that cities, counties and districts that prefer prohibition shall have it through the ballot, the small bloc form a formidable barrier to the thing the liberal element would accomplish. If a control measure is passed without the emergency clause, it lays the proposition wide open to a referendum. Dry organizations are keeping a keen eye on all movements that would be to their advantage. In order to discourage this prolonged process, the passage with emergency is necessary. It requires two-thirds of the votes in both branches to bring that clause. There are two-thirds of each house elected as democrats, but they are far from being in accord on liquor legislation. Therefore, the optionists are necessary, although not so many in number, powerfully necessary, to round up the necessary 67 house and 22 senate votes to assure passage of the bill with emergency clause. Beer legislation two years ago passed, but without the emergency clause, and had the governor vetoed it, there still remains some doubt that it would have been possible to muster the necessary two-thirds votes in the house and senate to override the veto. But Governor Bryan did nothing—he let the act become a law without his signature.

The House voted to increase the daily postage allowance to members from 24 cents two years ago to 36 cents this year—an increase of $12 for each working day. The first element of economy talk entered into the prolonged discussion of the resolution. The senate voted a like amount for its members.

The House committee on committees carried out the mandate of the lower branch in building a committee on unicameral legislation. Naming of two members from each congressional district with the speaker chairman and member at large does not quite fit the member apportionment, but it is not far out of line.

Amendments to the old age pension act are contained in two bills introduced in the house, both of which decrease the age of beneficiaries and increase the tax load to citizens. Rep. Chas. Vogt, (D), Liberty, and one of the youngest members of the legislature has a bill which increases maximum benefits under the act from 65 to 60 years and increases the pension tax assessed against all persons between 21 and 50 years from 50 cents to $2.50 per year.

Rep. Henry Obbink, (R), and Lester Dunn, (R), both of Lincoln, introduced a bill which would increase the pension from $20 a month to $30, reduce the age limit from 65 to 60 years, funds for which are to be provided by levying a charge of $2 a year to take the place of the present poll tax on all persons between the ages of 21 and 60 years, the present law calling for payment of 50 cents from all between 21 and 60.

The pari-mutuel racing bill, drawn to prevent commercial gambling but allowing use of machines by non-profit corporations has been introduced by a group of house members. It is known as H. R. 36.

Rep. Putney (D), Wahoo, introduced a bill permitting depositors in failed state banks to elect their own receivers. Present law makes the state the receiver.

H. R. 53, by Rep. Hanthorn, (R), Superior, provides that three-eighths of the monies in the state gasoline fund at the end of each month be remitted to counties for the purpose of eradicating bindweed from streets, alleys, roads and highways.

A number of bills have been introduced in both houses furthering the democratic party plan to abolish the office of land commissioner and turn over control of the capitol to the governor and the bureau of roads and bridges. The bills, in most instances are duplicates and will find themselves listed in the measure. He urged early action on the unicameral legislature and asked that a joint committee representing both legislative branches be appointed to consider enabling legislation. The governor's plan for the joint committee has been carried out.

Motion carried. The following claims were presented and read.

A SENSIBLE PROGRAM

With Congressional approval of appropriations for the President's new work relief program comes assurance that the government at last intends to adopt a sensible method of combatting the relief and unemployment problems. The administration's change of front is to be applauded, for not only does it give hope of employment to millions of men now on relief but it also makes possible the building of public improvements that will be of lasting value to the country and will actually benefit future generations who will have to pay the bills.

Such a program should have been adopted thirteen months ago when the ill-fated and expensive CWA was getting under way. Over a billion dollars was spent on the CWA experiment with practically nothing to show for it today. The FERA, too, was a mistake as it was administered and it is fortunate that the President has realized this mistake.

The Loup valleys of the present and the future stand to gain much by this change in federal policy. Our power and irrigation projects are, we understand, slated for early development with work relief funds. And why not? They are needed improvements, beneficial to the entire population of a large area which is hard-hit by drought and unemployment. Hundreds, even thousands, of men in these two valleys must have federal aid, either work relief or direct relief, to tide them over the coming months. In the Loup projects there are jobs that need doing, the plans are all drawn and work can be created quickly, the labor is available and the government will have to furnish funds to feed these laborers and their families anyway. Far better to put men to work on projects like these than to waste the money on useless, hole-in-the-ground experiments. All over the country the same holds true. There is work of lasting value to be done. It is time for the country to be up and doing this work.

What is needed at Washington now is an immediate and complete slashing of red tape so action can be had quickly. The new work relief program should be got under way as quickly as the CWA started activities last winter.

Here in the Loup valleys we're ready, Mr. President. We've been hoping and praying for this action for two years. We've dug deep into our own pockets to provide funds for surveys so when your administration finally awoke to our needs the work could be started almost over night.

Prosperity will return to this great land of ours when honest men are permitted to do an honest day's work at honest wages on worth-while public projects. The North and Middle Loup power and irrigation projects answer all the qualifications.

Mr. President, we're ready to go!

OLD AGE PENSIONS.

Some form of old age pensions will be adopted during the present session of Congress, it seems certain, and the Quiz is inclined to favor such action, as well as unemployment insurance, if a plan can be devised that will accomplish the desired purpose without pushing the nation over the brink of bankruptcy.

In the interests of social security such legislation is desirable but Congress will not, and should not, act favorably upon such hare-brained schemes as the Townsend Plan and similar plans which their backers are pushing forth as panacea for all the nation's ills.

Backers of the Townsend Plan claim that 15,000,000 adults in the United States are pledged to demand its adoption by Congress. This plan would have the government pay to every person in the country over 60 years old the sum of $200 monthly, only provision being that recipients would agree to spend the money within thirty days after receiving it. Sponsors of the plan claim it would bring about immediate prosperity. A sales tax is proposed as the means of raising money to pay the $200 monthly pensions to our nine millions or more people who are 60 years old or older.

Mark Sullivan, the Washington political writer, gives the best argument against it we have seen. Most people who have parents over 60 years old, Sullivan says, would agree that they cannot afford to contribute $200 per month or $4,800 per year, to the support of each parent. The children of most families would find it utterly impossible to contribute so lavishly toward the support of their aged parents. Yet advocates of the Townsend plan seem to feel that the aggregate of all the children in the country can afford to support the aggregate of all parents in the country at this rate. What one cannot do all can do, they speciously argue.

It is claimed that the cost of the Townsend Plan would be 40 billions of dollars per year, over half the entire national income. Some sales tax would be needed to pay a cost like that.

Old age pensions are needed, no doubt, but not on such a scale as the Townsend Plan contemplates. Congressmen are going to be in hot water until this plan is finally disposed of and a substitute adopted and it seems reasonable to believe that they will bend every effort toward getting out of the mess by killing the Townsend bill as quickly and painlessly as possible.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Readers of this Col-yum have been quite generous in their responses to our numerous pleas for good recipes, since issuance of the annual calendar. There are enough recipes on hand to keep the Col-yum going for three or four weeks; then we will have to beg for recipes again. Don't quit the good work, Quiz cooks; keep on sending the recipes that are time-tested and liked by your family and friends.

This week we present the first of several recipes sent by Miss May Yard, of Omaha. Miss Yard is the Service Editor of the Western Newspaper Union, from which much of the feature material in the Quiz comes, and for several years has been reading the Quiz as it crosses her desk. "I've certainly enjoyed your col-yum of good things to eat," Miss Yard writes, "and thinking maybe your readers might enjoy some of the recipes which my folks consider mighty good eating I'm attaching a few herewith." Thank you, Miss Yard.

French Cream Pie.

1-2 lb. vanilla wafers, 1-2 cups powdered sugar, sifted, 3 eggs, 3-4 cup butter, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1-2 pint whipping cream, 1-2 cup pecans or black walnuts—do not use English walnuts, 1 small bottle maraschino cherries, 2 teaspoons powdered sugar for whipping cream. Use about a 10x12 pan or glass refrigerator dish and line with wax paper. Roll vanilla wafers real fine and line pan with about 1-3 of quantity of crumbs. (1st layer). Cream butter, powdered sugar until real creamy, then add eggs (unbeaten) one at time and beat well. Add vanilla to the above. (2nd layer). Whip cream stiff, add 2 teaspoons powdered sugar, chopped nuts and cherries, which are chopped pretty fine, and fold into whipping cream. (3rd layer). Sprinkle balance of crumbs on top. Cover pan with wax paper and chill at least 24 hours—the longer it is chilled the more solid it will be (about 3 days the best. Cut in small squares, top with whipped cream and cherry. This serves about 10.

—Miss May Yard.

Noodle Surprise.

Cook one-half package egg noodles in boiling salted water 15 minutes. When done arrange in buttered baking dish in alternate layers with one-fourth pound grated loaf pimento cheese and one can corn, (Golden Bantam is best). Pour in enough milk to cover mixture and on top put a teaspoon butter. Scatter cracker or bread crumbs on top and bake in oven until brown.

Mrs. Oliver, who lived on a farm at Olean most of her life, is now living at Escondido, Calif.

Apple Sauce Drop Cookies.

1 cup warm applesauce, 1 cup sugar, 3-4 cup shortening, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon cloves, soda, allspice and cinnamon, 2 1-2 cups flour, 1-2 cup raisins, 1-2 cup nuts. Put soda in applesauce, mix as for other cookies.

—Mrs. A. E. Bohy.

This recipe comes from another former Ordite, Mrs. Al Bohy, who is now living in Ontario, Ore. "Received my Quiz calendar the other day and decided if I wanted one next year I'd better send in some recipes." Mrs. Bohy writes. Wish more women who received calendars and enjoy them felt the same.

Chocolate Nut Ice Box Cake.

Line two loaf cake pans with waxed paper. Arrange split ladyfingers (four dozen for the entire recipe) vanilla wafers or pieces of sponge cake over the bottom and sides of the pans, over this spread a layer of filling, arrange another layer of ladyfingers, cover with the rest of the filling, finish with more ladyfingers. Store in the ice box for twenty-four hours. Unmold on platters and garnish with the following, to unsweetened whipped cream add cut marshmallows, chopped bananas and vanilla. Mix well. Pipe some cream on top and make a border of the rest. Garnish with maraschino cherries.

Make the filling by melting four squares bitter chocolate in a double boiler, add two cups sugar, one-half cup water, the beaten yolks of eight eggs, cook and stir until very thick, beat with a rotary beater until very smooth, set aside to cool. Cream together one and one-half cups butter, gradually beat in two cups powdered sugar, whip the cold chocolate mixture into it, add two teaspoons vanilla and one cup chopped nuts. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of eight eggs.

—Mrs. George A. Parkins.

This recipe has been requested by several who tasted it, and Mrs. Parkins saved herself a lot of trouble by turning it over to this column!

When You And I Were Young Maggie

Care of The County Board Ord, Nebr.

We read an article the other day of how the husband of a young married couple had a fairly good job as newspaper reporter and about three thousand dollars. Against the advice of their friends who proclaimed their foolishness at great length, these young folks decided to give up their job and spend their three thousand dollars savings by taking a trip around the world.

This they did and had a wonderful time. They spent a number of weeks in China, and happened to be there when Japan was invading Manchuria and Shanghai. They earned a few dollars reporting the war. The trip took about a year, and when they landed home again in New York and paid one month's rent in advance, they had something like seventeen dollars left. They were lucky in getting a job similar to the one they had left and have a chance to write their memoirs for a profit.

My wife and I fell to talking this over. Six years ago we had something like three thousand dollars and at one time later we thought we had even more property. We moved on to this farm and worked like nailers. We practiced thrift and frugality to the best of our knowledge, pinching, saving, working, scheming. We experienced the death of a favorite boy, depression, bank failure, and many crop failures. We followed advice of bankers, life insurance companies, and savings and loans, laying up for a rainy day.

After 20 years as postal clerk on the Ord run, W. C. Boydston accepted a position at the union depot in Omaha and moved his family there from Ord.

George Perkins was holding a big auction sale of jewelry. L. B. Brick of Chicago was auctioneer.

J. W. Gregory, veteran supervisor, was elected board chairman.

Ralph Staple bought the Auble jewelry store at Wolbach.

Mat Kosmatka rented his farm in Michigan township to Louis Puncochar and moved to Ord to recover his health.

In the meantime, I have learned what practically everyone in Ord and environs swallows as children. A vast amount of money was reported used in this fashion. Mrs. Perkins said John gulped down a whole dozen of tiny dressmaker's buttons on a string, little red ones, and that George senior outlined eating a large bolt, or something like that. Though he does claim he's never been the same!

From Iowa via phone the Lou Hallways said for me not to worry... that was the refrain of every tale. "We had a little girl who swallowed about everything she could find, and none of it ever hurt her," they assured us.

And as I say, every story ended, "Don't worry about him, I think he'll be all right."

One of Olof Olsson's nephews shows decided talent as a financier and is thrifty too, always saving some of each allowance, never broke.

Recently one of the Johnson boys needed a nickel, and put up his sweater as security, borrowing it from his brother. When the borrower again had money he was astounded to learn it was held for the price of fifty cents! The Olssons gasped... What to do?

Finally Olof delivered a long lecture in which he stated that since the Olssons would have to replace the held sweater, they would be "holding the sack" on the deal, so to speak, and could not permit it.

"And anyway," finished Olof, after a lengthy discourse full of good reasons, "you ought to be satisfied with one hundred percent on your money, Horace. You know there's a law against charging too much interest!"

My Own Column

I don't know how many bed mattresses Jerry Petska sold during his auction. I know he sold 57 because that many of the paper wrappers blew up onto my yard but I suppose some were taken home with the wrappers on them.

Yes, I still have some of the 1935 Cook Calendars. They will be passed to those getting paid in advance, as long as the supply lasts. But there are sure to be some disappointments.

This completes 51 consecutive years for the present publisher in the Chronicle office, 49½ years of which time he has been owner and publisher. Too long, see you? Maybe and perhaps. But regardless, we expect to remain enough longer to sit on the graves of several tightwads and moochers. The graves we refer to are both human and financial. Aside from that everything with us is all right—and it's a good old world, after all.—Lou Frazier in the Fairmont (Neb.) Chronicle.

Knowing Lou as I do, I am surprised that he is so mild in his punishment of the moochers unless he has been misquoted.

Readers of this column will recall that at the time the filings were made for the primary nominations for "senator for the short term", it was held that such nominations would be empty honors and that one so filing, even if elected, could never become senator. An Omaha lawyer named Hunter, was nominated and elected. But he never was senator even though he drew some salary. Senator Robinson informed him Thursday that there was no way in which he could qualify and be sworn in. He has a few weeks of the salary for an office he never held. Senator Thompson retains the dignity of having been the qualified senator until Jan. 2, 1935—and the further honor of refusing to quarrel about the salary!—Gus Buechler in G. I. Independent.

We must watch this man Hunter. It was announced in the public prints that he employed several clerks, and secretaries, apparently making a big splash at public expense, when, as matter of fact, he was not entitled to any salary. Neither is he entitled now, to be called "Senator," but here is betting that he will capitalize on the fact as far as possible.

In writing to renew her Quiz for 1935, Mrs. Emma Overton wishes to send a fat "trusty" outdoors for a cigar, and the automatic "electric eye" at the gate saw him, flashed a light and the innocent fat "trusty" was searched. A small metal shoehorn was found in his big loose shoe.

The electric eye flashes when anybody passing the gate has any sort of metal in his possession. No prisoner's friend hereafter can take in a pistol, file or steel saw.

If you buy alcoholic drinks, buy from dealers in whom you have confidence. The federal government has seized one million one hundred thousand empty whisky, wine and liquor bottles to prevent bootleggers refilling them with bootleg supplies.

An empty whisky bottle, bought for two cents, filled with eight cents' worth of bootleg whisky, may mean profit for the bootlegger and mean poison for the consumer.

To comfort those appropriating and spending large sums of public money fighting the depression it can be said, quite reasonably, that there would be no danger in spending $100,000,000 more, considering that the normal income of the United States, in really good times, is close to $100,000,000. If a man spent one or even two years' income to settle all his troubles you'd think the price reasonable.

SOPHS SHATTER TRADITION, WIN SOCCER TOURNEY

3-Year Reign of Senior Girls Broken Monday As Sophs Win 13 to 9 Victory.

An inspired Sophomore team defeated every class team in Ord High School and took away the honors which have been held for the past three years by the present Senior class. This tournament for girls is an annual event in the school and is under the direction of Miss Viola Crouch. Every game in the tournament was a fast, thrilling affair which kept the many spectators on their feet throughout the fray. A brief summary of each game is given below:

Sophs vs. Freshmen—This game was a flip of the coin from the opening to the ending whistle. The first half ended with the Sophs ahead by a nice 8-4 lead. The Freshies came back the second half and played as if they were possessed; as a result the score was tied 14-14 at the end of the final half. Two minutes were allowed for the 14-14 tie to be played off—the Sophs showed their superiority by defeating the Freshies 16-14.

Juniors vs. Seniors—The Juniors were the under dogs throughout this game never once threatening to overtake the seniors. The score: Juniors 13—Seniors 18.

Seniors vs. Sophs—The seniors lost this game in the first half when the Sophs built up a fine five point lead and continued to hold it throughout the game. The first half was ended with the Sophs in the lead 12-7. Both teams fought to a deadstall in the final half, neither team being hardly able to score on the others defense. The final score read Sophs 13—Seniors 9. This game lost the tournament for the Seniors, putting them into second place.

Freshmen vs. Seniors—This game was one of the closest contests of the tournament. The first half was a nip and tuck affair with Freshmen having the edge 8-6. In the second half the Seniors let loose and nosed the Freshies out by a meager 16-13 score.

Sophs vs. Juniors—This game was an upset to the Juniors—a very unpleasant one, too. The Juniors built up a comfortable 4 point lead the first half, Juniors 11 Sophomores 7. The Sophs came back the second half and proved to be unbeatable. This spirit was undoubtedly caused by the fact that the tournament championship was at stake! If they won, O. K. If they lost—final score, Sophs 21, Juniors 13. The members of the winning team was made up of the following girls: Irene Whiting, Captain; Wilma Krikac, Evelyn Sharp, Virginia Klein, Virginia Weeks, Virginia Clark, Norma Mae Snell, Lorraine Kusek, Marjorie Coe, Ruth Haas, Josephine Romans, and Dorothy Auble.

Other teams and their members was as follows: Juniors: Meyers, J. Auble, Loft, Viner, Benjamin, Verstraete, Jones, Cornell, Severns, Koupa.

Freshies: Beranek, Duemeyer, Rasmussen, Burrows, Jensen, Ferguson, Auble, Larson, McCall, Ferguson. Seniors: Jorgensen, Barta, Dana, Loft, Kepp, Fish, Bossen, Hansen, Haskell, McGinnis.

Kiddies' Column

The Atkinson children are back in school after being absent because of scarlet fever.

The other day when the kindergarten children were getting ready to come over to the high school, their teacher was telling them to be good boys and girls. One little boy raised his hand and asked, "Will the program last more than fifteen minutes?" "I don't know how long it will last," said his teacher, "Why?" "Well I can only be good fifteen minutes," was the reply.

The sixth grade English class has organized a "Young Citizen's Club". Kenneth Van Kleeck, who has been on a two-week's visit at Amarillo, Tex., has returned to school.

Miss Rowbal's class has been drawing winter flowers and painting them with tempera.

Keith Christoffersen is again going to nursery school after several week's absence. Donald Strombaum is a new pupil in the nursery school.

The nursery received a large number of Christmas toys from the Girl Reserves.

There are now thirty-two children enrolled in the nursery school.

The fifth and sixth art classes have been making finger paintings with starch.

The following students made perfect scores on a spelling test of 38 review words: Marie Boyer, Dorothy Haas, Marilyn O'Neal, Mary Jane Higgins, Vivian Zikmund, Darlene Puncuchar, Carolyn Auble, Phyllis Anderson, Barbara Parks, Harriet Mazac, Alice May Hill, George Sedlacek, and Joyce Petty.

Basketball, Grand Island vs. Ord, at the high school auditorium Saturday, January 26.

CHEER UP

Ye students who weep, ye students who wail,
Ye students who study and students who fail,
You think you'd be happy if schools were taboo
So this is the question I put up to you.

Would you be happy just playing all day,
Getting up in the morning and having to say,
"Now what, of what, can I do?"

Do you think you would like to seek suitable work,
A marcelled stenog's reply with a smirk,
"Sorry, nothing today!"

Would you care if mother asked you to be,
Nursemaid to Bobby or sister Marie?
Really, wouldn't you mind?

Ponder these things, every "over-worked" student,
You'll find that for thought they make very good food.

Then go back to school with your head held up high,
And say, "From today on, my limits the sky!"

EDITORIALS

The first semester is nearly ended and I have heard no complaints from anyone. In fact, loud hurrahs seem to be the general trend among the students. The closing of the semester signifies that one half of the year is over. Has it been a semester of good grades, and worthwhile activities on which you can look back with pride or has it been not quite what it should be? If you belong to the latter class, get a fresh start with the new semester and establish an enviable record; if to the first, keep up the good work.

New stamp books will be on sale soon and I am sure no one will want to be without one. There will be a number of activities, night programs, interclass tournaments, and the senior class play, not to mention the home basketball games, which alone would make it worthwhile to buy a stampbook and attending all the school events.

This week a new topic of gossip and conversation has been provided in the form of the senior class pictures. It is impossible, nearly to walk down the halls without running into one or two groups who are avidly discussing them. So if you don't want to get stopped for a half hour, you'd better give them a cold shoulder. I might add that Mr. George Jensen did the photographing and the results are, on the whole, very satisfactory.

To Aid the Blind
There were several systems of reading for the blind in existence before the invention of Braille. The earliest authentic records of tangible letters for the blind were invented by Francesco Lucas, a Spaniard. In 1640 a writing master in Paris cast a movable leaden type for their use. Valentine Haüy was the first to emboss paper as a means of reading for the blind. At the beginning of the Nineteenth century 23 different methods of embossed printing were in existence. Well known types besides Braille were the Moon type, invented by Doctor Moon of Brighton in 1847; Frere's and Lucas'.

Sleep

The time of day appears to have little importance in influencing sleep, except that persons trying to sleep in the day are more frequently upset by noise and light. Professors of psychology who have conducted tests pertaining to sleep have found that persons sleep more soundly when they first go to sleep than they do in the latter part of sleep.

Labor used will be primarily rural and local, the shelter belt heads explained. Farmers will be employed to prepare the land for planting and to fence the tracts. When tree planting starts it is possible that some men will be employed from local relief rolls to supplement work done by farmers. It is not planned to use CCC camp boys. The prevailing local rate will be paid for labor, Simpson explained. Some work already has been done in Custer county and this was paid for at 35¢ per hour.

To illustrate the value of shelter belts in increasing soil fertility and decreasing erosion, the speaker quoted from a report published in Denmark, where shelter belt work has been done, proving that this work increased rye yields 16.9 per cent, potato yields 25.6 per cent, clover and grasses 30.2 per cent and other crops in proportion.

Mr. Simpson is Chief of Lands for the entire shelter belt project and Mr. Bohannon, who also spoke, is Chief Counsel in the project's legal department.

Abstractors who attended the meeting included R. D. Drulliner, Benkleman; R. W. Derauf, Trenton; J. W. Lanigan and Jesse Scott, Greeley; H. O. Smith and F. A. Wisner, Lexington; Edgell & Edgell, of Rushville; M. E. Scott, North Platte; J. G. Leonard, C. R. Luce and Willis Cadwell, Broken Bow; R. H. Mathew and W. H. Line, Loup City; H. J. Hammond, O'Neill; Leon L. Heinz, Benkleman; Mamie McAndrews, Ainsworth; W. Whittle, Butte; A. O. Auserold, Bartlett; Frank M. Colfer, McCook; Paul E. Peterson and Frank Morrison, Stockville; Carl E. Peterson, Hayes Center; Ross Amspoker, Springview; A. B. Capron and J. H. Capron, Ord.

At noon the group enjoyed a dinner at Thorne's cafe, returning immediately to the city hall for an afternoon business session. It was an important meeting and President Capron expresses himself as being very pleased with the fine attendance.

"See how easy it is, if you just stop to plan!" he was saying, condescendingly. "Even a nitwit could follow this scheme and have time to rest besides."

Esther's smile only became sweetener. "You rest now, dear," she said in a concerned voice. "I must catch up on some tag ends so that this schedule can go into effect in the morning without a hitch. I'm sure you'll find that things will run along as smoothly as they do in your office."

Bennie woke at six, as usual, and Esther fed him and put him into his kiddy pen to play. She prepared breakfast and put her hat, coat, and suitcase near the front door. The alarm rang at seven. She heard Ben getting up as she slipped out the door.

"Well, how did the time budget work out, dear?" Esther, radiant, burst into the kitchen at twelve-thirty, three days later. Ben was preparing canned soup. The baby was sleeping.

"There! You've awakened the baby!" Ben's eyes were pleading. He was bit embarrassed.

"Not off schedule, surely!" Esther appeared horrified. With a gasp she threw her arms around her unhappy husband. "Sorry I ran out on you, Sweet," she cooed. "But I got so tired of working so inefficiently. I knew the baby was safe, and as long as you could run things so much more efficiently—"

"Cut it, Esther," Ben said. "I couldn't work the darn thing even the first day. I had Else come in to do some of the things, but even that—"

"Some one called up, and there were five minutes wasted," Esther said.

"And Mrs. Roberts talked half hour over the fence while I burned the rubbish, Nosey," Ben confessed.

"And there was always something extra popping up, wasn't there, old dear?" Esther was really sorry for her husband.

"If you hadn't come today, I'd have hired everything done," he said.

"I was wondering if you would."

"Well, I was too stubborn, I guess," Ben admitted. "I just wanted to prove to you that it could be done. But it couldn't."

"Not with an infant around," Esther sympathized, hastening into the kitchen just in time to keep the soup from burning.

"EFFICIENCY! That's what you women need to learn!" Ben Gardner paced up and down, around little heaps of things not yet picked up from the bedroom floor. "If men ran their offices as carelessly as you women run your homes!" he continued. "If we utterly disregarded system the way you housekeepers do. Oh heavens! what a mess it would be."

"Oh hush up, you make me nervous." Esther shoved back bright curls. "I'm tired of always hearing you rave about masculine efficiency."

Esther surveyed the cluttered room. She did try to plan, but there was always something coming up. One could say, "Dishes, 8 to 8:15; beds, 8:15 to 8:30; and so on. It looked fine on paper. But baby would choose 8:00 to fuss.

"Forget it or you'd dull your shots." She kept her voice bright—it was still early in the day and she had a lot to do. She had to be cheerful. Baby to bathe, dress, feed, put to sleep; dishes to wash and wipe; kitchen to mop; baby's washing; beds; clean up the living room; lunch—the morning seemed too short. Oh, well, no need for lunch exactly at twelve today Ben's vacation took care of that.

Twelve o'clock. "Lunch ready?" Ben's booming voice woke the baby. Little Ben had refused to stay on schedule that morning and had started his nap an hour late.

"You quiet the baby. I'll be right down to fix something." Esther called from their bedroom.

"What! Nothing ready for lunch? Why it's twelve o'clock!" Ben sounded peeved.

"Nuh hurry today, dear, you know," Esther called. "You don't have to be anywhere at one."

"You women!" Ben exploded again. "Say, listen here, Esther. This afternoon you and I are going to take an hour off and I'll plan your work for you, since you don't seem able to do it yourself." Ben lost his temper completely and Esther knew that his golf had been bad. But she grew very resentful.

Lunch was a quiet,ullen affair.

At three, after little Ben went to sleep—on schedule—Esther joined her husband on the terrace. She carried pencil and paper. Her voice was soft—too soft, if Ben had stopped to notice. It put him off his guard.

2 MORE VALLEY TEAMS TROUNCED BY ORD CAGERS

Scotia, Loup City Overwhelmed By High-Scoring Chanticleers; G. I. Game to Be Test.

Coach Brockman's high-scoring Ord basketball team continued its march toward Loup Valley and possible state honors during the past week by meting out sound trouncings to two more Valley opponents, Scotia and Loup City. Both were literally overwhelmed by Ord, the Scotia team being beaten Friday evening on the Scotia floor by a score of 53 to 14 and Loup City falling on the Ord floor Tuesday evening by a count of 55 to 7.

So far the Ord team composed of Greathouse, Severson, Blessing, Tunnicliff and Michels is undefeated and only one team—St. Paul—has forced the Ord boys to extend themselves. St. Paul was beaten 34 to 30, Sargent 62 to 18, Dannebrog 42 to 9, Taylor 39 to 7, Scotia 54 to 14 and Loup City 55 to 7. So far Ord has amassed a point total of 286 to 85 for their opponents.

In every game played this season except the opening clash with St. Paul, the Chanticleers could have doubled their score had they desired. Against Scotia, Coach Brockman had his second team in action much of the time and against Loup City both the second and third teams saw service.

Tuesday evening the Chanticleer starting quintet scored 55 points in less than three quarters of the game and guarded so well that Loup City was unable to score a single field goal against them.

Games tomorrow night and Saturday night will prove crucial tests for Ord. The Broken Bow quint, which plays here tomorrow night, beat Sargent last week by almost as large a score as Ord did. Grand Island, the Chanticleer's Saturday night foe, is one of the best cage teams in Nebraska.

Should Brockman's boys get past these encounters with their record unmarred Ord fans will be justified in hoping for state tournament honors. Ord is practically assured of the Loup Valley title, having met and conquered in impressive manner most of the teams that usually furnish their strongest competition.

Take Examination in Ord.
Nine applicants for the position of postmaster in Burwell were in Ord Saturday taking an examination before Assistant Postmaster Guy LeMasters of Ord, who is officially designated to give such examinations. The applicants included Naomi Fackler, Sylvia Wilson, Flint, Mary Brandfas, Fred Wheeler, Lyman Kern, Bernard Wunderlich, H. B. Herse, L. R. Williams and Wilford M. Haines. Appointment will be made from the three who pass the examination with the highest grades.

Frank Meese Elected To State Fair Board

Frank Meese, young farmer of the Ord community, last week was chosen a member of the Nebraska State Fair board, which was in session at Lincoln. He replaces another Ord man, Irl D. Tolm, who held membership on the board for many years. Harry Doran, Burwell, has also been elected to the state fair board.

Census Takers Appointed.
Although it is rumored that farm census enumerators have been appointed and are at work in Valley county, neither the Quiz nor Ralph W. Norman, chairman of the local democratic committee, has been officially notified to that effect. Norman has written Mr. Moeller, of Kearney, district census director, and it is hoped that names of the four enumerators may be announced next week.

Elwin Auble Loses To Loup City Boxer

Elwin Auble, of Ord, who boxed in the main event on the Loup City fight card Tuesday evening lost his 3-round bout with "Stack" Bukowski by a single point, the decision of one judge and the referee favoring Bukowski. Elwin has become a favorite with central Nebraska boxing fans because of the clever, aggressive battles he puts up. He has fought on four of the Loup City cards but this was his first experience as a main event fighter. The matches at Loup City are sponsored by the Legion post of that city and many Ord fans attend regularly.

Notice to Car Owners.

James L. Sibal Laid To Rest at Ogallala

James L. Sibal, once a farmer in the Ord community, passed away at St. Mary's hospital in North Platte on January 13 after a brief illness. Funeral services were held at St. Luke's church, Ogallala, with Rev. Father Kinney of Stapleton officiating, and interment was in St. Luke's cemetery.

Mr. Sibal was born in Czechoslovakia on Sept. 6, 1882 and came to the United States with his parents in 1884, the family settling on a farm near St. Paul. In 1902 James Sibal came to Valley country and went to farming, later moving to a farm near Burwell where he lived until 1925, in which year he moved to Keith county and located south of Roscoe.

He was married Feb. 3, 1904 at Ord to Miss Mary Pokorney and five children were born to them, Mrs. Otto Hahn of Ogallala, Mrs. Joseph Vancura of Venango, William and Alice, who are still at home, and Agnes, who died 17 years ago. He is also mourned by a brother, John of Ogallala, and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Blaha of Ord and Mrs. G. G. Getscher of Omaha.

Mr. Sibal was always respected as an industrious and prosperous farmer when he lived in Valley and Garfield counties and his death is being mourned by many former friends and neighbors.

REORGANIZATION OF WELLER LBR. CO. TAKES PLACE

F. M. and Verne H. Weller Take Over Ord Interests, Incorporated Company for $50,000.

An important business change took place in Ord this week when Frank M. Weller and Verne H. Weller, of Greeley, Colo., took over the lumber and coal yard operated for many years by Weller Bros. of Omaha. They have incorporated the Weller Lumber Company in the amount of $50,000 and the Ord business will be conducted under this name. Verne H. Weller will remain in Ord as manager, assisted for the present by R. V. Sweet, manager for Weller Bros. for the past few years.

Frank Weller is no stranger to Ord people, as he operated the yard here when it was purchased by Weller Bros. from Krocetti Bros. many years ago. Verne Weller is his nephew and has learned the lumber and coal business in Frank Weller's Colorado yards.

Change in Train Time.
A change in the time of the departure of the Union Pacific's eastward bound afternoon train went into effect Monday. This train, which formerly left Ord at 4:10 p.m., now leaves at 3:40 p.m. To go on this train mail matter must be posted not later than 3:10 p.m., says Postmaster Edwin Clements.

100 EXPECTED TO ATTEND ANNUAL C. OF C. DINNER

Presbyterian Church Basement Is Scene of Meeting Tonight; Officers to Be Chosen.

Attendance of 100 or more is expected at the annual dinner and meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, which will be held in the basement of the Presbyterian church starting at 6:15 this evening. The Chamber has a membership of slightly over 100 and most of them will be present, as well as several guests. The dinner is free to members, who may bring guests at a cost of 30c per plate.

Most important business to be transacted this evening is the annual election of officers. Val Pullen, Chamber president, has appointed a nominating committee composed of H. D. Leggett, George Allen and Bert M. Hardenbrook, who will nominate candidates for president, vice president and the board of directors. Nominations may be made from the floor also.

A committee composed of J. Edgar Moyer, F. V. Haught and Glen D. Auble has general charge of arrangements for the dinner and program and members who wish to attend may make reservations with any committee members.

The program will include reports by President Pullen, Secretary Glen Auble and Treasurer C. J. Mortensen and plans will be made for 1935.

Immediately after this annual meeting membership drive will be staged, according to present plan, and another banquet honoring the new members will be held late in February.

Will Marry in California.

Mrs. R. J. Topf, of Los Angeles, Calif., entertained recently in Ord or of her sister, Miss Delta Marie Hoyt, and fiance, Arlliss E. Parker, the engagement being announced at this party. Miss Hoyt is the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hoyt of Ord, and graduated from Ord high school last spring, going to California in August. Mr. Parker is employed in the Chrysler plant at Los Angeles as an inspector. The marriage will take place at the home of Mrs. Topf early next summer, after which Mr. Parker and his bride will live in Maywood, Calif.

Job Seeker Braves Zero Blast, Almost Dies But Lands Job

Braaving the sub-zero blasts of Saturday night in order to keep an appointment with North Loup school officers Sunday, Loyall Miller of Lebanon, Kas., almost lost his life but landed the teaching position he sought.

Miller left Topeka, Kas., Saturday evening in response to a telephone call from W. D. Balfay, superintendent of North Loup schools, and drove nearly all night though the temperature was 10 degrees below zero and he was driving against a bitter north wind. About 9:00 a. m. Sunday, suffering from exposure, he stopped at the Jens Rasmussen home near Cotesfield to get warm. Already numb and with his face and hands blue from cold, Miller was in serious condition and Mr. Rasmussen summoned Dr. Howard Royer of Scotia, who took him to his home for emergency treatment. Later he took him to the Bailey home in North Loup where he was put to bed. Monday Miller was much better.

The young man is a graduate of the Kansas State Agricultural College and has been employed by the government as a homestead rehabilitation adviser at Lebanon, Kas. Tuesday he was elected to the position of Smith-Hughes agriculture instructor in the North Loup schools, taking the place of Ray Murray, who resigned to accept a higher-salaried position in the Broken Bow schools.

The only condition of Miller's employment is that he must have his Kansas teachers certificate transferred to Nebraska, which he is attempting to do.

Two Get Jail Sentences.

Two young men, LaVerne Drake and William Long, were arrested Friday night by Marshal Glen Johnson of North Loup and the next day in county court here pleaded guilty to intoxication, aggravated by charges of resisting arrest. Long was sentenced to serve 30 days in county jail and Drake 25 days. Both were ordered to pay costs by Judge John L. Andersen, before whom they appeared.

Change in Train Time.
A change in the time of the departure of the Union Pacific's eastward bound afternoon train went into effect Monday. This train, which formerly left Ord at 4:10 p.m., now leaves at 3:40 p.m. To go on this train mail matter must be posted not later than 3:10 p.m., says Postmaster Edwin Clements.

Catholics Meet at Burwell.

The Ord district of the diocesan council of Catholic women, which includes Burwell, Ord, Elyria, Spalding, Greeley, Granum and O'Connor, is holding a quarterly meeting in Burwell today. Several from Ord and Elyria are attending.

Assistant Manager Christensen of the Safeway store has been in poor health for several weeks and has had his tonsils removed by Dr. C. W. Weeks.

Quiz Advertising Sells Used Cars For L. J. Auble

One of the most consistent advertisers in Ord is L. J. "Bud" Auble, of Auble Motors, who rarely lets an issue of the Quiz go out without his message to prospective used car buyers. His Quiz advertising has been uniformly profitable, Mr. Auble says.

"The used car business is a tough racket but I've discovered one thing—if I want to sell cars, keep them moving off the floor, keep my stock changing so as to appeal to all classes of buyers—I've got to let people know through advertising what cars I have to sell," asserts Auble. "Advertising isn't a luxury, it's a necessity, in the used car business."

Besides selling new and used cars, tires, gasoline and oil and doing a general garage business, Auble Motors sell Frigidaire electric refrigerators, radios and Delco light plants. Elwin "Brother" Auble is associated with his father and though the Aubles took over the Blaha garage comparatively short time ago the firm name "Auble Motors" is already known all over Valley and surrounding counties.

"Wish every business firm in Ord was a regular Quiz advertiser," comments "Bud" Auble. "Ord would be a better business

MRS. W. A. STARK DIED, IN CALIF., INTERMENT IN ORD

Friends Throng Sowl Chapel As Last Rites Held for Former Resident of Ord

Final rites were held at the Sowl chapel Thursday afternoon, Jan. 17, for Mrs. W. A. Stark, former Ord woman who passed away at Los Angeles, Calif., on January 10. Rev. Mearl C. Smith, of the Ord Methodist church, conducted the funeral services and interment was in Ord cemetery. The chapel was thronged with old-time friends of the deceased.

Grace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cromwell, was born in Stevens Point, Wis., on May 25, 1874 and came to Valley county with her parents about 1881. On March 31, 1896, she was married at Ord to W. A. Stark and for many years lived on a farm in Mira Valley, later moving to Ord. In 1918 the Stark family moved to Lincoln, later to Colorado and then to California, which remained Mrs. Stark's home until her death.

Left to mourn, besides her husband, are two daughters, Mrs. Lillias Hollingsworth and Mrs. Alaine Franklin, both of Los Angeles, and two sons, Mac Stark, Long Beach, and Vern Stark, Ord. Three sisters, Mrs. C. E. Corlett and Mrs. E. M. Collins, Nampa, Idaho, Mrs. Abbie Daggett, Huntington Park, Calif., and a brother, Everett Cromwell, Thomas, Okla., also survive. One sister, Mrs. J. M. Keating, and three grandchildren preceded her in death.

Mrs. Stark became a member of the Methodist church at Vinton early in life and retained her church affiliation to the end. For the past five years her health had been poor but her condition was no worse than usual until January 6 when she suffered a stroke of apoplexy and was taken to a hospital. At first it was thought she would recover but she grew weaker and passed away four days later at the age of 60.

Urban Orchestra Coming.
Lumin Urban's dance band, in which Rolland Tedro of Ord plays piano, is booked to play for a dance in Ord in the near future. Under the management of Al J. Gabel of Winona, Minn., this orchestra had a successful summer season in Minnesota and Wisconsin and is now playing in Nebraska and adjacent states during the winter. It is said to be a marvelous waltz band.

Other pairs competing Sunday, in the order in which they placed, were as follows: Roberta Chase and Margaret Frazier, 6th; Eunice Chase and Mrs. Lester Norton, 7th; Ellen Andersen and Garnet Jackman, 8th; Lester Norton and Leon Clemmy, 9th; Dr. F. A. Barta and Mrs. K. C. Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, tied for 10th and 11th; Lyle and Harry McBeth, 12th.

The tournament is a three-session affair and the pair with the highest point total at the end will be declared Ord city contract bridge champions for 1935.

In the first session held two weeks previously J. D. McCall and Shirley Norton were high with 64 1-2 points and they now lead with 128 1-2 points for the two rounds. Other pairs who may overtake McCall and Norton are Petersen and Belers, who have 124 1-2 points, Archle and Johnny Clemmy, who have 121, and Madam Barta and Vogeltanz, who have 120 1-2.

Six other pairs have match point totals of 100 or higher, Leggett and Misko being highest with 112, but have practically no chance of coping the champion ship, although all pairs are expected to try hard in the final session in order to raise their final ranking.

At present it is planned to hold the final tournament Sunday afternoon, Feb. 3, at the K. of P. hall, starting at 2:00 p.m. Late in February or early in March local contract enthusiasts also plan to hold an invitation Loup Valley tournament. Several top ranking players from St. Paul, Callaway, Grand Island, Columbus, Fremont and other cities have already agreed to compete in this event.

Start Cutting Ice On Patchen Pond

A crew of fourteen men started cutting ice on the Ord ice pond Tuesday, the work being directed by Harry Patchen. Extremely cold weather of the past week has frozen ice to a thickness of 13 inches and the ice is said to be of fine quality. The Patchen ice house will be filled and ice is also being sold to farmers who have their own ice houses.

J. H. Carson Improving.
John H. Carson, who suffered a fractured skull last week when he fell while descending the steps of one of his residence properties, is still in the Ord Hospital but is reported to be improving. His son, Kit Carson, was planning to drive to Ord Sunday from Omaha because of the severe cold postponed the trip a few days.

Military Honors For L. H. Wells

Military honors were conferred upon Lorenzo H. Wells, a former Ord man, when he was laid to rest at Burkett cemetery in Grand Island Friday, Jan. 18, after funeral services conducted in the chapel at the Soldiers home by Rev. A. C. Smith of the Nazarene church. Spanish-American war veterans provided a firing squad and other details incident to a military burial.

Mr. Wells passed away on Tuesday, Jan. 15, at Pershing hospital, Burwell. He had lived in the Soldiers home several years. Guests were to be the grade and nursery school teachers. As it was so very cold that night the party was postponed until this evening.

Will Sell February 5th.
George Fisk is announcing a clean-up sale to be held at his farm in the south part of Valley county on Tuesday, February 5. This is an absolute clean-up, as Mr. Fisk is planning to quit farming, and the offering will be large.

Jean Madison Is Dead.

Jean Madison, of Orange, Calif., passed away Jan. 15, the

By FRED J. MINDER

With the introduction of three liquor control bills, five measures designed to unlock the state's money vaults, and scores of others on various topics, Nebraska legislators swung into the spirit of the session by memorializing congress for several things they believe of benefit to the state and advanced to general file, or relegated to the graveyard of indefinite postponement several others.

Besides a bill that would put the state in the distillery business, two others dealing with liquor control, both by democrats, have been introduced. Both measures provide for a system of state-owned stores for package sale only, and both legalize sale by the drink under numerous restrictions.

Rep. Summers, (D), Beatrice and Havocost, (D), Hooper, fathered H. R. 139 which makes no provision for local option, but that feature is included in H. R. 145, by Wachtler, (D), Omaha. Both measures set up state commissions with absolute power over licenses and permits. Wachtler's bill would return license fees collected by the state back to the city or county where the licensee is a resident, while placing 25 percent gross profit tax on liquor for the benefit of the state general fund.

The other measure, however, gives 30 percent of net profits from licenses and state store sales to the state general fund, 20 percent to county old age funds and 50 percent to city and county general funds.

Steele, (R), Kimball, has on file H. R. 128 which would set up the state in the distillery business with a quarter of million dollars in a revolving fund to finance it. The measure appropriates part of the profits back to the counties.

Wachtler's measure differs materially from that which legislators assume will come from the attorney general in the way of an administration liquor control bill. It serves as a composite of three major thoughts on control: package sale, local option and hand to mouth drinking. The option feature is supposedly favorable to the governor.

Wachtler declared that in the final analysis, repeal legislation may represent a melting pot of opinion. The bill of the attorney general is expected to call for a commission of three to administer the law. Wachtler, in his measure, recommends four members, two democrats and two republicans. The attorney general's bill is not expected to follow the Iowa plan as pertains to state stores. Wachtler's bill will permit state store set-ups on basis of population.

Night clubs, restaurants and hotels, under the Wachtler bill, alone will be permitted to sell liquor by the drink. A $2,000 annual license against hotels and $1,000 against restaurants and night clubs is proposed. Drug stores will be permitted, under the measure, to sell only on prescription. The state will be limited to 25 percent profit, and state stores, as proposed, may sell only in packages.

Recommendations of an Omaha liquor fact-finding commission that the legislature set up a liquor control bill embodying a provision permitting local option on a double or single license system was taken under consideration. Omaha wants a bill, the commission said, that will completely eliminate the bootlegger and relieve the police department of enforcement problems. The only argument whatsoever for separate licensing of beer and hard liquor dispensers is that counties which prefer to remain dry may restrict dealers to the sale of beer alone.

In Omaha, it was pointed out, the majority of beer dealers also want to dispense hard liquor thereby making a double license a necessity.

Governor Cochran has five measures introduced for speeding up the re-opening of the state treasury. They would raise the premium rate on the treasurer's bond from one-fourth to one-half of one percent per year; provides burglary insurance on all securities in the vaults; requires $10,000 surety bond on treasurer's bond clerk and from $1,000 to $10,000 on other treasury employees; provides annual audit of treasurer's office and removes treasurer's liability if banks holding state deposits refuse payment of interest required by law.

The state supreme court, in a decision sustained the demurrers of Omaha banks, defendants in an action brought by Treasurer George Hall to determine whether he is state treasurer. This decision amounted to naught so far as bringing a speedy opening of the treasury, closed since January 1, when Hall was refused bond on the grounds that the premium allowed by the state was insufficient to cover the risk.

Meanwhile the senate and house went into the open market and borrowed $500 each to buy stamps to keep the legislative mills grinding. Employes as well as legislators are without pay, as are all other state employees. Hall continues to take in money, but can pay out none, until he furnishes bond, or his status is changed by legislative act.

Rep. Hyde, (D), Dawson, is author of a house bill to be introduced which would set up a "Bank of Nebraska" with $1,000,000 of United States bonds to start the machinery and keep it rolling.

The child labor amendment to the federal constitution had a brief day in court and was condemned and praised in turn. Chairman Crowley of the senate committee on constitutional amendments indicated, after hearing four Lutheran leaders voice opposition and four other state leaders approve the measure, that further petitions would be reviewed at an early meeting of the committee.

The House advanced to third reading legislation calling for cooperation with Kansas and Colorado on use of Republican river water for Arkansas irrigation project.

A House resolution, memorializing congress to abolish the federal one-cent gasoline tax is on file. The tax is termed prohibitive on top of state gasoline taxes. The federal tax amounts to $2,000,000 annually in Nebraska, the resolution asserts.

Another resolution, this time in the Senate, urges congress to provide funds to fight binderweed menace in Nebraska. It provides that the words and music of a song written by B. H. Toves be designated as the state song.

With a vote of about two to one, the senate approved a resolution sponsored by five of the republican members calling on Congress to provide for immediate payment of the soldier bonus. Debate on the question involved the question of the government's ability to meet the obligation at this time, without incurring additional public debt or increases in taxes. The House adopted a similar resolution by unanimous vote.

A chain store tax bill appeared under the sponsorship of Hopkins, (D), Alma, and others. It provides exemption for gasoline stations and domestic co-operative stores, and taxes on graduated scale chain stores—$10 for each store less than five in number operated by any one firm in the state to $500 for each store 100 or more in number.

Outlawing of the gold clause in all contracts, public or private, so far as the state is concerned, by declaring it against public policy and classifying it as usury was sponsored in a special message from Governor Cochran to the legislature and the introduction of bills to that effect with the gubernatorial request that they be speeded.

A proposed tobacco tax to enrich the old age pension fund in respective counties is the feature of H. R. 96, by Dugan, (D), Omaha. The tax would be administered by the department of agriculture and is aimed at cigars and manufactured tobacco, ten percent of retail price; cigarettes about one mill each, (about one cent per package of twenty); cigarette papers taxed one-half cent per book of fifty. Chewing tobacco apparently is not taxable. The bill provides for search and seizure of untaxed goods.

The word economy, apparently is not as pronounced in the vocabularies of solons this session as it was in 1933, when there was viewing with alarm every time a dollar expenditure was advocated. Along this line, the senate, in its first payroll adoption not only raised virtually every officer and employee over the amount received in 1933, but created at least three new posts. Salaries advanced from about $83 per working day paid last session to $126.50 this year. Proofreader's wage is not included. Last session that post paid $3.75 per day. This session the pay is 50 cents an hour.

The chief justice and judges of the supreme court have submitted to the judiciary committee of the House suggested changes in existing laws. The statute authorizes such suggestions from the court. No recommendations as to policy of the legislature are made, but there are suggestions as to laws which the court found by experience should be amended or repealed.

Among the laws held unconstitutional because it contains more than one subject is the old law against nepotism. Another is the conflict between statutes, one fixing ten percent and the other nine percent as the maximum contract interest rate. Another void law is one requiring 12 percent interest in addition to the said price or land sold for nonpayment of taxes.

The intangible tax law passed by the last legislature has been held void and is cited by the judges as needing attention.

Another recommendation of far-reaching nature if acted upon by the legislature is one for a constitutional amendment terminating in the district court all civil cases involving $1,000 or less.

An attempt to "unseat" certain conservatives from leadership in the republican party of the state was foreseen in the actions of George Kline, chairman of the Nebraska Progressive league. The attempt, it was learned, was aimed primarily at Robert G. Simmons, Lincoln, defeated candidate for U. S. senator last fall, and C. A. McCloud, York. Others were listed for the dislodgment procedure, said Kline, who conferred with Warner of Waverly, minority senate leader and Cushing, Ord, minority house leader. Cushing said he has not always favored the party's conservative leaders but both he and Warner indicated they were not inclined to do anything about party organization at the present.

Dwight Griswold, of Gordon, defeated republican gubernatorial candidate, at a smoker for republican legislators, predicted that a third and radically different party would spring up and control politics in Nebraska in 1936. He said its recruits would come largely from persons taken off relief rolls, and while he predicted a third party, he likewise indicated they had a place in the republican folds. He declared with emphasis that the new deal was dead.

Schools have been taking the brunt of tax reduction—56 percent or more than one-half of the reductions in government tax costs, State Superintendent Taylor advised in his biennial report. He declared that further tax cuts affect that schools will soon be unable to function under curtailed allotments.

The University of Nebraska submitted the identical figures it asked in the budget presented to Bryan before he retired as governor. A total of $4,164,600 was asked for the 1935-37 biennium but Bryan recommended only $3,578,600. The last legislature appropriated $3,331,680.

BRISBANE

One Thing Important
Paid for Not Doing
$10 a Month
What Do We Want of Japan?

One piece of news in the world is important to the United States. If Washington doesn't know it, the governments of Europe and Asia do know it.

That news is Amelia Earhart's flight, nonstop in eighteen hours, across 2,400 miles of the Pacific ocean, from Hawaii to the United States. All American citizens, especially those on the Pacific coast and elderly, out-of-date gentlemen who are supposed to provide for the defense of this country, should ask themselves:

If a young woman, entirely alone without sleep, no assistant to help with navigation, can fly, unseen across the Pacific ocean and land in California to receive a bunch of roses, eighteen hours from Hawaii, what do you think five or ten thousand powerful bombing and swift pursuit planes could do, coming from Asia or from Europe?

The mercury dropped to 18 below zero Saturday and Sunday with high winds and a little snow. Dorothy Philbrick spent the week end in the Dave Guggenmos home.

A birthday dinner was held Friday in the A. Guggenmos home honoring Mrs. Guggenmos and her grandson whose birthdays were the same day. The Dave, Walter, Sam and Clarence Guggenmos families and Werber families were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Vasicek returned from Pokorney's Saturday night where they had been doing chores while their folks attended a funeral at Ogallala.

The telephone line has been broken since the storm, severing all communication.

Lela Guggenmos remained in Ord over the week end taking teachers exams Friday.

Mrs. Ben Janssen has been ill with a cold and the flu. Monday she was improved.

A number of Taylor people were in Ord last week consulting Dr. F. A. Barta about their eyes, the list including Kenneth Hurlbert, Mrs. George Clay, Mrs. C. R. Roblyer, Miss Nellie Cooney and Mrs. T. E. Croughwell. Mrs. Tom R. Connor and son, Harold, of Burwell, John Chalupa and son, of Anselmo, and Ben L. Sheppard of Comstock were here for the same purpose.

The Washington correspondent who says "only" does not know what $40 a month would mean to millions of old people whose lives are made bitter not by deprivation, not by poverty, hunger or cold, but by the fact that they depend upon the cold charity of others, particularly on the charity of relatives.

Give $40 a month to the old that are dependent and you will bring happiness into the last years of millions of lives, and that would be worthy of a great nation.

The honorable Japanese chief of information in the foreign office says the United States is planning an attack on Japan. Any Japanese who believes it lacks the usual intelligence for which you give all Japanese credit. Nations start wars because they want something. What does the United States want from Japan?

Uncle Sam, in a mild fit of idiocy, is now giving away the Philippines.

Asiatic Islands richer in resources than the Japanese Islands.

We got those islands from the Spanish war. Should we start an other war, spend billions, kill many of our Japanese friends and burn

up their country by fire bombard ment from airplanes merely to get more Asiatic Islands, to be given away later?

The thirst of the people means profit to the government. Uncle

Sam during 1934 collected an average of more than $1,000,000 a day in liquor taxes, a total amount of $374,500,232. Beer alone yielded

$200,000,000; spirits distilled in America, $121,000,00; imported spirits, $15,000,000; imported wines,

$6,000,000. Men will pay for what they want and endure taxation cheerfully.

It is easy to understand why tens of millions follow the trial of Bruno

Hauptmann for the kidnapping and killing of the Lindbergh baby with such intense interest. The trial is a mystery in itself. Gradually un-wound in court like the chapters in a detective story, it holds public attention, the horrible nature of the crime increasing the interest tenfold.

Eighty-nine Russian fishermen, living on the edge of the Caspian sea, ought to be grateful to the American Wright brothers that invented the airplane. With their boats they had drifted ten days on an ice floe and were starving.

Along came a big Russian plane, flying low, to drop tiny parachutes that brought food, tobacco and alcohol. Then the fishermen, hopelessly lost, out of sight of land, got in their boats and the airplane guided them to the shortest route to shore.

This reporter sat next to Amelia

Earhart at a dinner recently, did not recognize her, thought she looked, as the French say, "like somebody," asked, "Do you write, fly, or what do you do?" She said,

"I fly a little, and I write a little."

She will have a great deal to write

ORDINANCE NO. 97
AN ORDINANCE PROVIDING FOR THE ISSUANCE OF BONDS OF THE CITY OF ORD, NEBRASKA, TO BE KNOWN AS DISTRICT PAVING BONDS OR DISTRICT NUMBER FIVE, OR THE PRINCIPAL AMOUNT OF $5,525.00 TO PAY FOR SAID STREET IMPROVEMENTS IN STREET IMPROVEMENT DISTRICT NUMBER FIVE, PRESCRIBING THE FORM OF SAID BONDS AND PROVIDING FOR THE CREATION OF A SINKING FUND AND THE COLLECTION OF TAXES TO PAY THE SAME.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ORD, VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA:

Section 1. The Mayor and City Council hereby find and certify that pursuant to an Ordinance heretofore enacted, Street Improvement District Number Five of the City of Ord was created and said Street Improvements constructed therein which improvements have been completed and accepted by the City; that the unpaid cost of said paving and improvements (exclusive of intersections and areas formed by the crossing of streets, avenues and alleys) in said District, is the sum of FIVE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE and no-100...DOLLARS.

That all conditions, acts and things required by law to exist or to be done precedent to the issuance of District Paving Bonds of said City to pay for said paving and improvements (exclusive of intersections and alleys aforesaid) do exist and have been done as required by law.

Section 2. To pay the cost of said paving and improvements (exclusive of intersections and areas formed by the crossing of streets, avenues and alleys) in said street improvement district there shall be and are hereby ordered issued District Paving Bonds of the City of Ord, Nebraska, in the principal amount of ($5,525.00) FIVE THOUSAND FIVE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE and no-100...DOLLARS, consisting of Ten Bonds numbered from Two to Eleven both inclusive, which bonds shall be for $500.00 each and one bond Number One for $525.00; all of said bonds shall be dated the first day of January, 1935, and bear interest at the rate of Four per cent per annum payable on the First day of July, 1935, and semi-annually thereafter on the first day of January and the first day of July, in each year.

The principal of said bonds shall mature as follows:— FIVE HUNDRED TWENTY-FIVE and no-100 DOLLARS on the First day of January, 1936, and FIVE HUNDRED and no-100 DOLLARS on the First day of January, in each of the years 1937 to 1944, inclusive, and two FIVE HUNDRED and no-100 DOLLARS bonds on January First, 1945.

Attached to each of said bonds shall be interest coupons for the amount of the respective interest payments to become due thereon and payable at the time said interest payments become due.

Section 3. Said bonds shall be executed on behalf of the City by the Mayor and shall have the City Seal impressed on each bond; the interest coupons shall be executed on behalf of the City by having affixed thereto the engraved facsimile signature of the Mayor and City Clerk.

Section 4. Special assessments levied upon the real estate in said District and the interest on said assessments shall constitute a sinking fund for the payment of the principal and interest on said bonds and in case sufficient money is not collected from said special assessments to pay said interest and principal on said bonds at the time such interest and principal respectively become due, then the Mayor and the City Council shall cause to be levied and collected annually a tax by valuation upon all the taxable property in the City in addition to other taxes, sufficient in amount to fully pay the principal and interest of said City including this Bond do not exceed any limitation imposed by law.

Section 5. The said bonds and coupons shall be in substantially the following form:—

North Loup News

The birthday of Mrs. Nellie Fisher was celebrated most fittingly at this lady's home last Friday when twenty-five visitors, mostly cousins of the honoree, were present. The day was spent in happy reminiscences of past years and a most delicious dinner was served as a special feature. The most prominent dish perhaps, was a delicious and beautifully decorated pink and white birthday cake prepared by Mrs. Harold Fisher. Guests included, Mrs. Anna Tappan with her son, Allan and family, the Ed and Ray Posts, Iona Leach and daughter, Ora of Davis Creek, Billings Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jeffries, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller, Louis Miller, Mrs. Jim Sample and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mulligan of Dix, Nebr., and the Harold Fisher family of Barker.

Lorna May Shineman is recovering nicely from a recent appendicitis operation at Hillcrest hospital. It is expected she will be able to be brought home Thursday.

The many friends of Mrs. Florence Smith of Grand Island, were very sorry to hear of her serious fall on Tuesday evening of last week when both bones in her limb were broken above the ankle. In a letter from Mrs. Lillian Jones Saturday to her daughter, Mrs. Hoepner, Mrs. Jones stated that Mrs. Smith had been taken to St. Francis hospital Saturday morning when the bones were set and the limb put into a cast. She was then brought home and Saturday evening she was resting comfortably. Her daughter, Mrs. Vera Simpson of Norfolk, is with her mother for a time.

Mr. and Mrs. Bohrer were awakened at 2:30 Friday morning by a telephone call from their son-in-law, Victor Cook, who with his wife and little daughter had just arrived at the Chris Backemeyer home in Elmwood from the east. Mr. Cook has been employed since about Oct. 1 on a large fruit farm owned by his wife's uncle, R. S. Johnston, at New Wilmington, Pa. After a few days visit at Elmwood and Lincoln they are returning to their home at Davis Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. John Davis with Mac Green, who makes his home with them, changed their place of residence Monday, moving from the Will Kildow property east of town to the old home residence of George E. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Post and baby were week-end visitors of Mr. Post's people. The family are moving in the near future from their farm near Cairo to Ord where Ray will be engaged in auto repairing.

The ice harvest is on at North Loup, Joe and Willard Chadwick are supervising the cutting of it. Work began in real earnest at the bayou Tuesday morning.

One hundred and twenty books were repaired by the board members at the Library Thursday. Also a fine collection of historical books presented to the library recently by Mrs. Geo. Johnson, were catalogued and placed on the shelves.

Members of the 20th Century club and others who may wish to attend will please remember Monday afternoon's meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruth Hutchins an outstanding lesson of the year, on rug making will be presented by the project leaders, Madama Florence Hutchins and Fern Maxson.

Mrs. J. A. Barber was hostess Friday afternoon to the ladies of the Legion Auxiliary. A happy and profitable afternoon with a good attendance is reported. Mrs. Alice Coplen was a guest.

Conservation of our Natural Resources was the subject of study at No Lo club which met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Rhoda Manchester. Roll call was responded to by relating "How I Prepare My Favorite Vegetable." Mrs. Jessie Babcock was leader.

Mrs. Will Stine was at her daughter's home, Mrs. Vera Anderson in Scotia Friday when this lady entertained at a delightful miscellaneous shower for the recent bride, Mrs. Merritt King. Many lovely and useful gifts were presented by the thirty-five ladies present.

Dr. W. J. Hemphill departed via auto Wednesday of last week for Pawhuska, Okla., where Mrs. Hemphill has been the guest of her sons, Drs. Paul and George and their families since Christmas while the doctor visited a sister in Pennsylvania. After a brief stay in Pawhuska, Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill are leaving via the southern route for a two months rest and vacation at points on the Pacific coast. This will be the doctor's first vacation of any length that he will have experienced in his thirty years of practice here.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox and sons with Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Cox braved Sunday's storm and drove to their daughter's home at Cotesfield, the Ernest Horners, spending the day and returning Sunday evening.

Mary Frances Manchester and Fern Rich went to Lincoln via bus Friday morning where the girls expected to find employment.

Harry Gillespie and Mrs. Everett autoed to Murdock Friday morning returning the same evening with Mr. Gillespie's mother who will visit in the home here for awhile.

Mrs. King and daughter, Bernice were guests of Mrs. King's brother and family, the Sherrill Rassets of Grand Island from Wednesday until their return via bus Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lundstedt were week-end guests of the former's people at Guide Rock. They returned Monday.

Mrs. Grace Holman and Miss Hazel entertained at dinner Tuesday evening. Guests were Rev. and Mrs. Stephens, Mrs. King and Bernice and Mr. and Mrs. Post and Opal.

SOPHS WRESTED SOCCER HONORS FROM SR. GIRLS

Team Headed by Irene Whiting
Won 3 Straight To Take Class Championship.

This year the Sophomore girls won the soccer tournament which the girls who are Seniors this year, have held since they were Freshmen.

The Sophomore girls selected a captain whom they felt would do her best to help them win. The captain chosen was Irene Whiting.

The Sophomore girls won their first game with the Freshmen. At the end of this game the two teams were tied. An allowance of five minutes was given to play off the tie. The Sophomore girls took advantage of this and won the game by a 14-16 score.

In the second round of the tournament the Sophomore girls played against the strong Senior team. The end of this game showed that the Sophomore girls had won by a score of 13 to 9.

The third round of the tournament was the Sophomores' most trying game. It was with the Juniors. The Sophomores couldn't seem to get up enough pep until the second half of the game. Then they kicked their way to victory. The score of this game was 21 to 13.

Sophomore Class Has 54 Members

Convocations

The operation of Bonehead Scotia was performed by members of the Junor class at a pep rally Friday, January 18.

He was operated on for a corn on his ear; non-parallel cheeks; inflated chest; and weak knees. The doctors were: Dr. Ketcham, Reuben Cook, Dr. Kutem, Darrel Noll. The nurses: Miss Despair, Virginia Fox; Miss Defeat, Louise Petska. Frank Pray was Knock-em-down, and Paul Adamek was Bonehead Scotia.

The pep band furnished music for the convocation.

The Freshmen class presented an enjoyable convocation last week. Arden Clark was master of ceremonies.

The program opened with two vocal solos, "Cloud Shadows" and "Call Me Darling" sung by Virginia Clark. Jerrine Burrows played the accompaniment. Gwendolyn Cass played a piano solo.

Soph Convocation On Dec. 14th Enjoyable

The sophomore class presented their class day convocation, December fourteenth. A short play entitled "Do Your Worst" with Virginia Weekes, Laverne Lakin and Harold Mella in the leading roles of hero, heroine and the heroine's father, was given. Irene Whiting and Gerald Goff played the parts of the villain and his sister.

A cornet solo was played by Dean Barta with Wilma Severs as accompanist. A yell led by Virginia Weekes closed this enjoyable convocation.

WHERE YOU FIND ONE—YOU'LL FIND THE OTHER

Virginia Clark and Josephine Romans.

Barbara Dale and Marjorie Coe, Irene Whiting and Evelyn Sharp, Wilma Krikac and Virginia Weekes.

The school board, park board, and representatives of the Kitten Ball League meet in a joint meeting at the City Hall, Thursday to discuss plans including the Park for the mutual benefit. Progress was reported and tentative plans were discussed.

The office has received a copy of the 23rd Biennial of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to the governor of Nebraska. This report gives educational data in organized, condensed form. A new feature this year is the Emergency Education program.

Replay Section of Tournament

The Sophomores and Seniors replayed the section of the tournament in which they played last Monday night. In this game the score ended Seniors 21, Sophomores 11.

A kind old gentleman seeing Gerald Clark on his paper route asked, "Don't all those papers make you tired, my boy?"

Bud soon answered, "Naw, I don't read 'em."

Girl Reserves Have Last 'Alice' Program

The G. R. program last Monday night, the last of the Alice in Wonderland series, was in charge of Alma Hansen.

The program opened with songs which was followed by the scripture, "Alice in Wonderland" was next reviewed.

Dorothy Fish and Harriet Hrdy gave two humorous readings.

A group reading of the G. R. code was then held.

An interesting and clever playlet, entitled, "Alice Looks at the World," was given. The characters were as follows: Alice, Pauline Barta; Blue Eagle, Lillian Kusek; Mad Hatter, Virginia Weekes; Red Queen, Wilma Krikac; and the Girl Reserves, Ruth Haas, Mildred Craig, Charlotte Blessing, Lillian Kusek, and Virginia Sack.

The meeting was closed with a song, "Follow The Dream" and benediction.

The theme of the second semester program will be "Grandmother's Trunk." All the G. R. are looking forward to "Heart Sister Week" which will be held the week beginning February eleventh ending February fifteen.

Convocations

The operation of Bonehead Scotia was performed by members of the Junor class at a pep rally Friday, January 18.

He was operated on for a corn on his ear; non-parallel cheeks; inflated chest; and weak knees. The doctors were: Dr. Ketcham, Reuben Cook, Dr. Kutem, Darrel Noll. The nurses: Miss Despair, Virginia Fox; Miss Defeat, Louise Petska. Frank Pray was Knock-em-down, and Paul Adamek was Bonehead Scotia.

The pep band furnished music for the convocation.

The Freshmen class presented an enjoyable convocation last week. Arden Clark was master of ceremonies.

The program opened with two vocal solos, "Cloud Shadows" and "Call Me Darling" sung by Virginia Clark. Jerrine Burrows played the accompaniment. Gwendolyn Cass played a piano solo.

Sophomore Smiles

Boyd—"Shine your shoes, Sir?"

Man—"No."

Boyd (Urgently)—"Shine 'em so you can see your face in 'em?"

Man—"No, I tell you!"

Boyd (Hissing)—"Coward."

Harold Mella—"Is it possible to confide a secret to you?"

Laverne Lakin—"Certainly, I will be as silent as the grave."

Harold—"Well then, I have a pressing need for two bits."

Laverne—"Do not worry. It is as if I had heard nothing."

High Cost of Living.

Armona Achen—"My father is very religious. He always bows his head and says something before meals."

Marjorie Coe—"Mine always says something, too, but he doesn't bow his head."

Armona—"Well, what does he say?"

Marjorie—"Go easy on the butter, kid, its 40¢ a pound."

"Are you first in anything at school, Lester?"

"Why sure, first out of the building when the bell rings."

C. OF C. MEMBERS MEET THURSDAY, REELECT OFFICERS

Over 100 Enjoy Peppy Dinner, Program, Then Give Vote of Confidence to Officers.

More than 100 members of the Ord Chamber of Commerce gathered in the Presbyterian church basement Thursday evening for the annual dinner and election of officers, the meeting being one of the peppiest and most enjoyable ever held by Ord's business organization. A vote of satisfaction with the manner in which affairs of the Chamber have been conducted during the past year was expressed by members when they voted unanimously to reelect Val Pullen as president, F. V. Haught vice president and E. C. Leggett, C. A. Hager and Stanley McLain to the board of directors.

A delicious two-course dinner was served by ladies of the Presbyterian church, after which President Pullen presided over a fine program which began with a group of vocal selections by the Legion's male chorus, with Mrs. K. C. McGrew at the piano. The Legion chorus, led by Dean S. Duncan, gave its usual enjoyable performance. Orville H. Sowl played a violin solo, which also was much enjoyed.

Bill Thomas, state secretary of boy's Hi-Y clubs, was present and showed moving pictures taken at Camp Sheldon, near Columbus, accompanying the pictures with a description of camp life and boys' work in general.

Several local people spoke on community affairs, County Agent C. C. Dale outlining the 1935 corn-hog program, Mrs. Gould B. Flagg explaining the P. E. O. organization, which will hold its annual state convention in Ord next spring. Bert M. Hardenbrook, who discussed the present status of the

New Member for Rotary.
Edward L. Kokes, insurance and real estate man, became member of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening. He is the third new member taken in this year, Walter Luenbukah and Richard E. Teague being the others. Two boys from the 9th grade in Ord high school were honored guests of Dr. George A. Perkins, president of Rotary, Monday evening. In spite of the fact that they are handicapped by markedly deficient vision these boys, Donald Vincent and Lewis Jensen, have received grades ranging from 90 to 100 in all their school studies. Rev. L. M. Real was Rotary speaker Monday eve.

Grand Island Snaps Ord's String of Wins

By the narrow margin of three points, a fast Grand Island team Saturday evening halted the Ord basketball team's victorious march, beating the Chanticleers 37 to 34 in one of the most exciting games ever played on the Ord floor.

Coach Mandery's Grand Island boys were "hot" in the first half while the Chanticleers failed to play their usual game. Going into the second half Ord trailed, 13 to 29, but started to "click" and completely outplayed the Islanders for two periods. Had the game lasted five minutes longer it is conceded that Ord would have won, as Grand Island was totally unable to halt Ord's clever offense.

Callahan played a wonderful game for the Islanders while Greathouse and Blessing scintillated for Ord. The Grand Island coach said his team played its best game of the season here and prophesied that Ord would win if the teams met again.

Before the Grand Island game Ord had won eight straight, their eighth victim being Broken Bow, whom they defeated 47 to 24 last Friday evening. Tuesday night the Ord boys resumed their winning ways by taking Comstock into camp 30 to 5 on the Comstock floor. Tomorrow night Ord faces a tough opponent, Ravenna, in the cool gym.

Mrs. McCurville to Hastings.
Last Friday Sheriff George E. C. Deputy Sheriff Archie Keep and Jack McCurville took Mrs. McCurville to Hastings for treatment in the state hospital at Ingleside. This is the second time she has been committed to the state hospital. Considerable improvement in her mental condition followed her first commitment and it is hoped that further improvement may occur this time.

Carl Zeiger Family Leaving.
The Carl Zeiger family, who recently held a clean-up sale, are leaving Saturday for Aberdeen, Ida., where Carl has rented a 120-acre irrigated farm. The Zeiger family have lived here 20 years, the past 14 being spent on the old Chris Lindhartsen farm, and they have a host of friends who are sorry to see this fine family leave Valley county.

Iowans Take Over Brown Service Sta.

Two men from LaPorte City, Ia., M. G. Ballheim and A. B. Slechta, last Friday leased and took possession of the service station established and operated for years by the late Charles C. Brown. They have also leased the garage building south of the Brown station, built by R. O. Hunter but owned for several years by the late Mr. Brown. The new firm will conduct a modern super-service station, specializing in car greasing and washing. A. W. Tuncliff, who has a car repair shop in the former Hunter garage, will continue to operate independently of the station.

The Ballheim family has moved into the Alvyn Blessing house on M street. Mr. Slechta and his son, Harold, have rooms in the Blessing house also. Harold Slechta will drive a tank wagon for the new station.

Messrs. Ballheim and Slechta are hustlers and appear to be thoroughly familiar with the service station business. They expect to install additional equipment and will make a strong bid for their share of the business.

S. B. Brown Will Sell.
S. B. Brown announces a cleanup sale of livestock and machinery to be held on the old Wlada farm eight miles northeast of Ord tomorrow, Feb. 1. Mr. Brown is quitting farming.

Lawrence Persak Commits Suicide

Lawrence Persak, formerly a farmer in Valley county, committed suicide at his farm home in Howard county on Tuesday, Jan. 22. It is believed that Persak was temporarily insane. Before he shot himself he hung a black flag on his mail box and another in the front window of his home.

Jacob DeLaurant, a mail carrier, noticed the flag and drove to the home of Albert and Martin Madson, neighbors, and told them what he saw. These brothers, and several men who were visiting in their home, accompanied DeLaurant to the Persak farm.

The party found the lifeless body of Mr. Persak in bed. There was a rifle at his side but no blood was visible. They were not sure he had killed himself so did not touch the body but called the sheriff and coroner, who made an examination and announced that he had shot himself.

Mr. Persak had lived alone since his wife became ill and was forced to enter the state hospital for the insane some years ago. A daughter lives with her grandmother, Louis Wurczenski, in Howard county. Persak was a veteran of the World War and had been in poor health for some time.

When the Persak family lived here they occupied the old Karty farm eight miles west of Ord, now owned and occupied by Joseph Nevrivly.

Bridge Tourney Sunday.

The third and final session of the Ord contract bridge tournament will be held at the K. of P. hall at 2:00 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 3, and all players who have participated in the first two sessions are counted on by the committee to play again. When play is completed Sunday the results of all three sessions will be tabulated and the pair with the highest match point total will be declared Ord city bridge champions for 1935.

Pairs with the best chance of winning out are J. D. McCall and Shirley Norton, August Petersen and Chris Belers, Mrs. F. A. Barta and Mrs. E. L. Vogelzang, John and Archie Clemmy.

Puncochar Wins Suit of Clothes

Because the Food Center store in Ord has in the past six months done the best business of any store in the Food Centers chain, Manager Joe Puncochar is the winner of a new $40 suit, which was presented to him yesterday by Dean Gray, of Hastings, general manager.

Winning contests is getting to be a habit with the genial Joe, as six months ago he won a $60 watch offered by his company to the manager whose store did the best business.

Joe says he will wear his new suit Saturday for the first time and he hopes all his friends will come to see it and accept his personal thanks for the fine business they gave his store, which made it possible for him to win.

P. E. O. Plans Convention.

Miss Virginia VanDecar was hostess to the last meeting of the P. E. O. Mrs. VanDecar was co-hostess. The state convention of the P. E. O. will be held in Ord May 6-8.

At the meeting in the VanDecar home reports were made from the several committees who had been appointed to make arrangements for the coming convention. The next meeting will be held Monday in Mrs. Orville H. Sowl's home. Miss Gertrude Hawkins will be co-hostess.

FARMING CENSUS GETS UNDER WAY IN THIS COUNTY

Four Enumerators Appointed,
Work Well Started; Census Returns Are Confidential.

The federal farm census, a nation-wide tabulation to determine farm population, crop production in 1934 and the number of livestock and farm fowls, got underway in Valley county last week and is now well along toward completion. Four enumerators appointed by the district supervisor, Melvin G. Mueller, of Kearney, are working daily.

Enumerators in Valley county are Charles Clochon, Mrs. Morris Sorenson, William Ollis and George Bell. Each is assigned a definite district and enumerators will be paid at the rate of 50¢ per completed schedule except schedules returned from Ord city, North Loup and Arcadia for which they will be paid at the rate of 25¢.

Clochon's district includes Eureka, Geranium, Liberty and Michigan townships; Mrs. Sorenson has Elyria, Noble and Ord townships and Ord city; Ollis is enumerator in Davis Creek, Independent, Springdale and North Loup townships and North Loup village; and Bell's district consists of Arcadia, Enterprise, Vinton and Yale townships and Arcadia village.

There are 100 inquiries on the farm schedule being used by enumerators, these inquiries relating to the tenure, age and race of the farm operator; the acres in his farm; the classes of land, according to use in 1934; the farm value; number of farm dwellings occupied and unoccupied; farm population; number of persons now living on farms who lived elsewhere five years ago; number of family laborers and hired help; acreage and production of crops in 1934; number of livestock on farms; and the production of milk, eggs, wool and mohair in 1934.

Because of the effects of drought and economic conditions this is perhaps the most important agricultural census ever taken, as information gathered will be used in the government's program of crop and livestock control, farm credit, subsistence homesteads and marginal land retirement.

Individual returns are confidential government reports, as provided by law, and no individual figures will be used for taxation purposes or given to any tax official. All enumerators are sworn to secrecy.

Taxpayers League Will Have Meeting

The annual meeting of the Taxpayers League of Valley county will be held in the district court room at Ord at 2:00 p. m. Saturday, Feb. 2, it is announced today by the officers, J. J. Waldmann, president, and C. E. Goodhand, secretary. Election of officers for the ensuing year will be held and official reports of the past year's activities will be presented. Resolutions as to future activities of the League will be decided upon.

"All who feel that governing costs are too high are invited to come to this meeting and boost for less spending of public funds," says President Waldmann.

The Legionnaire, official publication of the American Legion in Nebraska in a recent issue published a photograph of the Ord high school band, members of which were garbed in new uniforms purchased with funds raised by the Ord Legion and Auxiliary posts.

About the Ord band the Legionnaire says:

"Ord high school has a cracking good band. The organization has participated in a number of contests for such groups, always making a good record, but being marked down because its uniforms weren't up to standard. That's where the Legion post at Ord stepped in. Legionnaires there are as proud of their high school band as anyone, but they were the group which took some action about those uniforms. All kinds of entertainments and different stunts were put on to get funds, and this winter the band has blossomed out in snappy new uniforms, presented by the Ord Legion post. Members of the band now they are going to cop first place in all contests from here on out, to repay the Legion for its interest in getting the uniforms."

Omaha and Lincoln daily newspapers have also printed pictures of the Ord band.

Will Play at St. Paul.

Eight Ord contract bridge players are driving to St. Paul this evening to play a team-of-eight match against players of that city. In the Ord group will be Dr. F. A. Barta, J. D. McCall, E. C. Leggett, John P. Misko, Lester Norton, Shirley Norton, Archie Clemmy and John Clemmy.

Meat Business Has Been Built Up By Advertising

Probably the most consistent user of newspaper advertising space in Ord is the firm of Pecenka & Perlinski. For over five years this meat market has had an ad in every issue of the Quiz and the proprietors, Joe Pecenka and John Perlinski, believe their regular use of Quiz advertising has been most profitable.

"Good advertising never fails," is an old saying among advertising men and it has proved true in the case of Pecenka & Perlinski. They have never believed in trying to "jerk" customers into the market by means of cut-price items; instead they have tried, in their advertising, to exert a steady "pull" by telling a true story about the quality of their meats, the cleanliness of their market, the courteous service they give and the fair prices that are always in effect.

"That's the kind of market we try to run—why not tell people about it?" asks John Perlinski. He and his partner have been doing just that—"telling about it"—in almost 300 consecutive issues of this newspaper, which is a record that few, if any, Nebraska meat markets can equal.

Wanted by Jack Jefford, Who Will Hold Classes Mondays.

Jack Jefford, head of the Jetford Aviation Service, of Broken Bow, was in Ord Monday and made arrangements to open a flying school here. Six pupils have already been enrolled and took their first lessons Monday. It is hoped that a total enrollment of from 10 to 15 pupils may be secured.

The plane used by Pilot Jefford Monday was a 4-passenger Stinson-Detroiter cabin ship but he also owns two training planes, a Curtiss Robin and a Flyabout, and hereafter will give lessons to his Ord pupils with one of these ships. Both are cabin planes. All three of his planes are equipped with dual controls.

Students already enrolled here include Ed Parkos, Ellis Carson, Elwin Aubie, Elwin Dunlap, C. B. Gudmundsen and Chester Frey. Pilot Jefford has conducted a flying school at Broken Bow ever since a municipal airport was established there and has 21 pupils who are flying alone, he says. They range in age from 16 to 58. During his nine years of flying Jefford has instructed 261 students and has never had an accident nor have any of his students had accidents. Jefford has 2,400 air hours to his credit and holds a federal transport license.

Classes will be conducted in Ord every Monday, if weather is suitable, or the first nice day later in the week if Monday proves inclement. Next Monday the Hatherfield east of Ord will be used for a landing field but Jefford is looking around in hopes of finding a larger and more suitable field.

Anybody interested in learning to fly may secure information from Elwin Dunlap or by seeing Pilot Jefford next Monday.

Anna Novotny And Floyd Peterson Wed

At the Ord Catholic church at 8:00 a. m. Monday, Miss Anna Novotny, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Novotny, became the bride of Floyd Peterson, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Father Lawler. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Alice Novotny, sister of the bride, and Dillo E. Troyer. Later a wedding dinner was served in the home of the bride's parents, many relatives of the bride being present.

Mr. Peterson, who came here from Miami, Okla., has been employed in the Brown service station. His bride is part owner of the Parrot Beauty Shop and expects to continue her work. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have started housekeeping in the Charles King house on South Q street.

Abbie in Golden Gloves.

Elwin Aubie, of Ord, is competing in the Golden Gloves amateur boxing tournament being held in Grand Island this week. Several Ord fans are making nightly trips to the Island to see these matches.

Renamed As Director.

W. T. Barstow is one of three Lincoln men who have been re-elected directors of the Lincoln Grain Exchange. Mr. Barstow has many friends in Ord and is a partner in the Koupal & Barstow firm.

HEART TROUBLE CAUSES DEATH OF CHRIS JENSEN

Sargent Man, With Barstow Interests 43 Years, Passed On Sunday Afternoon.

Jens Christian Jensen, 62, manager of the Koupal & Barstow lumber yard in Sargent for the past thirty-three years, passed away at his home in Sargent at 1:30 p. m. Saturday, Jan. 26, the immediate cause of death being heart trouble. Mr. Jensen had been in failing health for the past year but was seriously ill for only four days before his death. Funeral services were held at the Methodist church in Sargent Tuesday, Rev. Eastabrook conducting, and the body was brought to the Ord cemetery for interment.

Born in Thist, Denmark, on Oct. 15, 1872, "Chris" Jensen came to the United States when a young man of 20 and immediately came to Ord, where he entered the employ of the Ravenna Creamery Co. He worked for this company both at Ord and Ravenna for several years, then became an employee of the W. T. Barstow Grain company, managing an elevator at Sargent. Later he worked in the Koupal & Barstow lumber yard in Ord and in 1902, when this company opened a yard at Sargent, he became manager, which position he held until his death. More than forty years of his life were spent in the employ of the Barstow interests.

On June 14, 1902 Mr. Jensen was married at Ord to Miss Ozzie Selby, and to them were born four children of whom one daughter, Helen, died eighteen years ago and was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery. Left to mourn, besides the widow, are two daughters, Mrs. John Goetsche and Miss Hazel Jensen, and one son, George Jensen, all of Sargent. He also leaves one brother, Nels Jensen, of Ord, four grandchildren, a niece living in California and three sisters who live in Denmark. His parents and one sister preceded him in death.

Mr. Jensen was a member of the M. W. A., I. O. O. F., and Royal Neighbor fraternal orders and of the Methodist church. While living in Sargent he served as a member of the board of education. Odd Fellows conducted their impressive rites in connection with the obsequies Tuesday afternoon.

After Mr. Johnson's death in 1886, Mrs. Johnson, her daughter Alfred and Parmella Mead, was born near Chesertown, N. Y., Oct. 5, 1852 and passed away at her home in Ord, Nebraska, Jan. 26, 1935 at the advanced age of 82 years, 3 months and 21 days.

At an early age her parents moved to Clinton County, Ill., where she grew to womanhood. Here she was married to Harry T. Johnson, Aug. 8, 1878. They together with her mother, older sister and brother started for Nebraska in covered wagons, settling near Ashland, where she resided five years. They came to Valley county in 1883, settling on a homestead in Mira Valley.

After Mr. Johnson's death in 1886, Mrs. Johnson, her daughter Alfred and Parmella Mead, moved to Perkins County, Nebraska, to make their home with her brother, Orrison Mead. There they lived until 1896 when they, together with their brother, returned to the farm in Mira Valley. Here they lived until 1916, when they retired and moved to their home in Ord, where she lived until her death last Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Johnson became a Christian in early life and wherever she lived was ever active in church and Sunday school and missionary societies, until advanced age and failing health a year and a half ago put an end to her participation, but not her interest in all things spiritual.

She is survived by her brother Orrison P. Mead, one daughter Mrs. Lillian J. Williamson, five grandchildren and one great-grandchild, also other distant relatives and many friends.

BUECHLER VS. BEUSHAUSEN.

Gus Buechler, editor of the Grand Island Independent, and Charlie Beushausen, publisher of the Sherman County Times, have for several weeks been having an editorial argument that is more earnest than dignified. The Times claimed, and continues to claim, that the Independent is owned and controlled by a public utility company and that, acting upon orders from this utility, Editor Buechler is opposing the North and Middle Loup projects. This charge has been denied by Buechler, who claims that not only is the Independent free from utility domination but is whole-heartedly in favor of development of the North and Middle Loups.

As a result of a misconception of Editor Buechler's motives the Quiz took part in this argument in its early stages. At that time we thought that Buechler, in his desire to advance the interests of the Sutherland project, of which he is a director, was attempting maliciously to blight the chances of PWA approval for the two Loups. Let it be said here that the Quiz has never attributed to Editor Buechler any ulterior motive other than a desire to serve the Platte valley at the expense of the two Loups. We now believe that we did him an injustice in ascribing this motive to him and it is with a sincere desire to pour oil on troubled waters that this is written.

Editor Buechler, we know, thinks that power can be produced more cheaply by Diesel engines than by hydro-electric development. He has said repeatedly, both in his newspaper and in personal conversations, that production of power would be a hindrance, not a help, to successful irrigation development of the two Loups. His view is shared by certain federal authorities, who maintain that power development is not economically feasible on either Loup river at the present time. No market for power in larger quantities than can be produced by the Sutherland and Columbus projects exists in Nebraska at present, PWA engineers say, so Editor Buechler has this authority as justification for his attitude.

Last summer when the Grand Island editor, as a member of the state FERA board, tried to get an appropriation of $700,000 for the North Loup project we believe he was desirous of helping the project and was not, as the Sherman County Times has claimed, attempting to "sidetrack" it.

Of course directors of the North Loup project could not afford to accept this offer because all the money had to be expended for labor and no provision was made for water rights, right-of-way, materials, etc., which would require several hundreds of thousands of dollars.

The Independent editor must admit that some of his editorial utterances of a year ago, when the fight against the Tri-County was at its hottest, were susceptible of misinterpretation by discouraged Loup valley people who had seen millions allotted to projects in Nebraska that they felt, and still feel, are inferior to our own. So far as the Quiz is concerned, however, we are absolving him from maliciously attempting to hinder our projects and crediting him with a sincere, if misdirected, desire to help the North Loup along when he proposed an FERA allotment.

Whether Mr. Buechler is right or wrong in his belief that the Loups should be developed for irrigation only, or with a minimum of power, we are going to grant that he is honest in his belief.

The Quiz has believed from the start, and has stated on many occasions, that farmers of this valley cannot afford to pay for irrigation unless power shares the cost. A charge of $4, $5, $6 or more per acre for water is out of the question and it is a certainty that the cost would be at least this high if money for irrigation development only is borrowed from the PWA.

But the whole outlook has changed: With a federal appropriation of almost $5 billion for work relief projects in the offing, of which Nebraska will get an estimated $9 million, it may be possible for us to construct an irrigation system in the Loup valley, cutting power production to a figure designed to take care of the valley's needs. If the project should be designated as a work relief project the money would not have to be repaid, in all probability. From some federal credit agency it should be possible to borrow a sum sufficient for right-of-way, water rights, engineering and legal counsel, material and incidentals, which sum would of course have to be repaid. However, under such a set-up the cost of water per acre should not be prohibitive. Additional power development may come later, as the Nebraska market expands.

If Editor Buechler really desires to be of service to the North and Middle Loups, as he persistently claims, let him recommend, editorially and personally, action along this line in both valleys. Let him insist that our revenue bonds be accepted as security, as revenue bonds were accepted for the Sutherland and Columbus projects.

The time for fighting among ourselves is past. To the Independent, its able editor Mr. Buechler and to the city of Grand Island the Quiz apologize for any injustice that may have resulted from the misunderstanding that is now being cleared up. It is sincerely to be hoped that the Buechler-Beushausen argument may be abandoned and that the Quiz, the Times and the Independent may work in harmony for the best interests of the Platte and the two Loups.

CHILD LABOR LAWS. The Nebraska legislature should, at its present session, ratify the proposed federal child labor amendment, the Quiz believes. This progressive amendment, passed by Congress in 1924, has not yet secured ratification from a large enough number of states to permit it to become a part of the constitution. Nebraska's ratification is one of the few needed.

There is considerable opposition to the amendment in Nebraska, most of it because certain classes appear to have a misconception of the intent and purpose of the amendment, which is designed solely to prevent exploitation of children by southern textile mills, city sweat shops and other unscrupulous employers.

Certain church organizations are said to be fighting the child labor amendment because they fear its adoption might permit congress to enact a law preventing parents from sending their children to parochial schools.

Such a fear is unfounded and absurd. Our national and state constitution already guarantee absolute freedom of religious belief and so long as parochial schools meet requirements laid down by the school laws of the state they have nothing to fear from either state or nation, regardless of the adoption or rejection of the child labor amendment.

Farmers, too, are said to be signing petitions against the amendment because they fear its adoption may prevent them giving their children farm tasks to do. Such fears is also unfounded. Only people who prefer to be deceived rather than enlightened can be made to believe that Congress will ever pass a law preventing children from helping their parents in the home or on the farm. Such a law would be political suicide for every congressman who voted for it.

Farmers and church organizations should be the chief supporters of the child labor amendment, farmers because its adoption would increase their markets by increasing adult employment and church organizations because it is an unselfish, humane attempt to curb the exploitation of children by greedy employers.

By all means Nebraska should ratify the federal child labor amendment.

The Immortal

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Uncle Jake:
 As Oscar was driving out of the yard, his wife Lydia yelled, "Be careful what you say for George will put it all in the paper." On the other hand she reasoned as she sauntered back into the house, "It might not be so bad, for that is on the way to find out what those fellows are up to while they are away."

Speeding west through Mira Valley, picking up Herb and on north to Ord over that disgraceful road in the hills. And I wondered as we hurried along why any of the Mira Valley folks would run the gauntlet of those menacing curves and grades just to trade in the county seat.

On north to Elyria, where some bright kid has increased the population of that city from 100 to 1001 by simply adding one straight black mark on the road sign. On north to Burwell, across the river and north again.

Through and near the Cedar canyons, where my Grandfather Babcock, in 1872, along with other daring young fellows drove their ox teams, but not as quickly as we came today. In constant fear of Indians, they felled the cedars and hauled them out to build the first houses, school houses and churches of the county, some of which are still standing.

Mr. Frank M. Gross, Albion.

Jellied Pineapple and Cheese Salad

Heat one cup crushed pineapple, add two tablespoons lemon juice and one-half cup sugar. Stir until sugar is dissolved. Add one tablespoon granulated gelatine which has been soaking in a one-fourth cup of cold water for ten minutes. Let chill, and when beginning to set add one-half cup whipped cream mixed with one-half cup whipped cream. Chill until firm, serve on lettuce in slices and garnish with this dressing: Mix well two tablespoons chopped celery, two tablespoons chopped pepper, two tablespoons chopped onion, one-half cup mayonnaise.

Mary Yard, Omaha.

Apple Cheese Salad

Combine three cups cabbage chopped fine with one cup diced apples, one-half cup celery, cut fine, one-half cup shredded cream cheese and one shredded lettuce heart. Toss together lightly with a good oil dressing, serve on lettuce leaves and garnish with pimento cut in dainty pieces.

Mrs. W. L. Grabowski

Butter Rolls

Sift flour and measure three cups. To one and one-half cups of flour add one teaspoon salt and one-half cup butter or substitute, and work like pie crust. Combine one-fourth cup evaporated milk and one-fourth cup hot water, when lukewarm add two cakes compressed yeast and one tablespoon sugar. Blend well and stir into the first mixture, cover and let stand twenty minutes. Then add three well beaten eggs, one teaspoon vanilla, and the rest of the flour, stir until smooth. The dough will be stiff but slightly sticky. Tie the dough loosely in a piece of cheesecloth and drop into a ball of cool water, 70 to 80 degrees F. In about an hour the dough will rise to the top of the water. Turn out on a plate, cut off pieces the size of an egg, roll each one in a mixture of one cup chopped nuts and one-half cup sugar. Twist into a figure eight, place on a greased baking sheet. Let stand five minutes, then bake in a hot oven ten to fifteen minutes. This makes 36 rolls.

Mr. George A. Parkins.

You Name It

Cut up one-half cup American cheese and ten or twelve green olives. Add the cheese to one can of kidney beans and put in a double boiler to heat. Add three-fourths cup sweet cream and stir to keep smooth. Add the olives.

Or Maybe the Exhaust

"Many a man," said Uncle Eben, "thinks he's doing on a automobile when he's only honker."

placing it on the table, "No, I am going to drink chicken soup."

"Why do you call it chicken soup?"

"Because after you take two drinks of this, hic, you want to lay."

Returning home again after supper, with a truck load of horses, hoping we had bought bargains. Four hours on the road at night, cooped close in a cab, makes friends fonder, or foes more bitter. We go trekking together too often to be foes.

Now can Lydia and Oscar say I tattled on them?

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

There are lots of wintertime salads that are good and also different. Of course we do not season to taste. Serve hot on toast. If you like it thicker or use less cream. This is delicious with a "different" taste.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

Cham Rathbun passed away at the age of 31 at the home of his sister, Mrs. Orin Kellison. When a lad of 15 he was taken sick, supposedly as a result of going into the river on a hot summer day, and never recovered his health.

C. E. Goodhand was low bidder on a big government building at McCook, his bid of $89,500 being accepted.

James Leggett, father of H. D. Leggett of Ord, passed away at his home in Allegan, Mich. Mr. Leggett was a Civil war veteran.

Ord's big delegation of 47 returned from the state firemen's convention at Nebraska City. Jacob Hoffman was made first state vice-president and Walter Bundy was appointed chairman of an important state committee. The boys made the trip in a special car.

Guy Lutman, Burlington operator in Ord, was sent to Burwell to be relief station agent for Joe Gavin, who was ill.

Two weeks after his wife's death C. Harley Snow also passed away, diabetes being the cause.

Captain Alan Clements reported the arrival of 60 steel lockers for the use of the Ord militia company.

25 Years Ago This Week.

A new bank was organized at Elyria with A. A. Hayek as president and W. M. Costello as cashier.

Ollie's shipment of 1,170 yearling lambs brought $7.50 on the Omaha market. Snowball, Marie Hall's little pet, brought $8.50, the highest of anything yet, which induced Editor Haskell to break in poetry, ending with the words: Marie cried but when Grandpa heard

For almost as many years as I can remember Charley Leonard has come into my office about this time of year and paid for his Quiz in advance and remained for a nice visit. So I was shocked for a minute the other day when his son, Ross, same in and said he wanted to pay his father's subscription for another year. And I made haste to ask if his father was under the weather. But he was not, was just doing the right thing by not running around in the cold more than was necessary. But I did miss the visit I had expected to have with him when he came in. Mr. Leonard probably does not suspect it, but I have been following tips that he has given me from time to time, to the conduct of my own business, for several years.

There is a lot of fuss made about the inability of counties to collect the personal tax on automobiles. The claim is made that they buy their licenses in January, then are assessed in April, the levy is made in July or August and when it is time to collect the taxes, the autos are gone from the country. This condition of course exists mostly among transients. It seems to me this could be solved by collecting the tax, based on the previous year's rate, when the license is bought. Any person able to own a car should also be able to pay the tax, or else he should not own the car.

One Swell Vacation

By G. W. VON BERNUTH
© McClure Newsman Syndicate.
WNU Service.

SAY, I sure was glad to see those four people again! I'll say! Ten years since I'd spent my vacation at Maple View—you know, a feller that's unmarried liked to go different places an' see the world. On the train I'd begun to wonder if I'd have to spend a couple a days gettin' acquainted. So when I sees them four sittin' there on the porch, just like it was ten years back, I don't contain myself.

"Well, for cryin' out loud!" I hollers.

"Well, for cryin' out loud!" yells Al, suddenly tumblin' to who I was. "If it ain't old Herbie back here again!"

"Say, whadda y' know!" says Maybelle. She's Al's wife.

An' Fred an' Myrtle, they was just as surprised as the other two, an' boy! did they give me the glad hand! Maybelle, she's one a them impulsive girls (but no harm in her, you understand) she up an' threw her arms right around my neck an' kissed me. Say, it was grand.

Just as Maybelle was takin' her arms from around my neck I suddenly remembered that Al useta be awful jealous of Maybelle. But say, he never bats an eyelash. If anything it was Fred that was lookin' sour, an' that struck me funny, too, for all Myrtle done (she's pretty reserved, Myrtle) was shake hands with me. I put it all down to imagination. An' sure enough, I musta been right, because just then, when I happened to notice a sweet-lookin' little Jane an' says (you know, the way you do) "some baby!" Fred laffed an' dragged me up to her an' says, "Miss Geary, meet Mr. Herbert Dill, Herbie f' short."

"Pleased to meet you, I'm sure, Herbie," says Miss Geary. Say, she was a cute little trick. "You an' me's goin' to get better acquainted before my vacation's over, baby."

Well, everybody laffed, an' I c'd see how we was goin' to be a pretty congenial bunch, especially when Al says: "Say, whatsa matter with us all goin' over to Laurel Grove tonight?"

O. K. with me, if Blue Eyes here will come along," says I, not forgettin' my manners.

Well, Blue Eyes says she would, so about eight o'clock Al brings his roadster around, an' we all pile into it. Al, he was drivin', an' he says: "Who's comin' in front with me?" Maybelle pipes up an' says, "I am." Well everybody laffed at that, but in she gets, an' then Al says: "Fred, just to square things, you got to sit in the rumble."

So of course, that only leaves me to get in with Al an' Maybelle, with Fred in the rumble, sittin' between Myrtle an' Miss Geary.

"Say, this is like old times," I says.

Well, when we got outta the car at Laurel Grove, Fred, he was lookin' sour again, an' when Maybelle grabbed my arm an' started steerin' me toward the dance hall, he says to me, "I thought you ast Miss Geary to come with you tonight." He said it kinda nasty-like, an' I started to come back at him but I didn't want to start nothin' so I says:

"Where's my blue eyed baby?"

Well, we went in the dance hall an' danced a couple dances, an' then we strolled over to the outdoor cabaret. We set down at one of the tables. Maybelle was next to me, an' after a while she begins makin' passes at me. I see that wouldn't do, so while the others was standin' up watchin' the cabaret show, I grabbed her by the wrist an' says: "You come with me, girlie." We went down by the lake an' I hired a canoe, but we hadn't any more got pushed off from shore than I heard a hollerin', an' there was the others. Fred was in th' lead, an' he didn't stop for water or nothin', he come right out to where we was.

"Hey, how do you get that way—talkin' Maybelle out in a canoe?" he yells, an' I see he was mad clean through.

"What's that t' you?" says I, gettin' mad myself. "If Al don't mind, you should worry. Maybelle's his wife, not yours." An' with that I give Fred a push with the paddle, an' he sits right down in th' water.

Well, we never heard such a yell as that feller Al let out. He laffed an' laffed an' laffed. I thought he was laffin' because Fred looked so funny settin' there in the water, but then I heard him gaspin', "Oh, boy! Oh, boy! Mabelle! My wife!" "Well, ain't she?" says I.

"Oh, boy!" says he, laffin' some more. "Oh, boy! you need to get hep all right! Why, Maybelle ain't been my wife for five years. I'm married to Myrtle now, an' Maybelle's Fred's wife."

Say, I never heard the end of it. Oh, sure, we made it up all right. When Fred realized that I'd thought Maybelle was still Al's wife, he understood everything. Fact is, he apologized to me as much as I apologized to him. Fred's a perfect gentleman. Oh, yes, I had a fine vacation. Nothin' like a congenial bunch to make you have a good vacation. But after that night I stuck to my own girl pretty well. In fact, here she comes now. Mr. Smith, meet my wife, Mrs. Dill, Miss Geary that was."

Nebraska solons have squared their shoulders and gone to work with vengeance toward cleaning up the greatest mass of detail to confront any legislature in this state since territorial days, complicated further by an almost unprecedented situation—utter stagnation of state funds—through the failure of the treasurer to procure bond for the premium permitted by law.

Governor Cochran's budget message will be the important feature of the next week. The appropriation bill that accompanies the message has been termed second most important of the session, superseded only by liquor control legislation, with unicameral, parimutuel and tax legislation playing supposedly minor roles.

With the governor's signature attached to the co-surety bill, S. F. 95, after rapid approval by both branches of the legislature it was believed that the way was then opened for the bonding companies to furnish George Hall, state treasurer, with the $1,000,000 bond, thus opening the vaults of the treasurer's office for business. It was indicated, however, that the surety companies may still demand that money for an audit be appropriated, and a measure setting up that proposition is well en route to passage.

With execution of the new bond, more than $5,000,000 in cash and $14,000,000 in securities, tied up in the vaults of the treasury for more than three weeks will be released and legislators, as well as other state employees could receive their long overdue salaries.

A resolution, opposing participation by the United States in the world court, stating that debts owed this country by foreign nations have not been paid, and this country should not take part in any entanglements abroad was adopted by the Senate 22 to 8. Ten republicans and 12 democrats voted for the resolution and the eight negative votes were cast by democrats. Copies of the resolution will be sent to U. S. Senators Burke and Norris.

H. R. 86 and 87, two bills providing for a commission to draw up a pact for use of interstate waters, between Nebraska, Kansas, Wyoming and Colorado, passed both legislative branches and were signed by Governor Cochran.

It will be the duty of the board of control to appoint a warden for the state penitentiary. Dan G. Kavanaugh, who succeeded W. T. Fenton, resigned, last August, died at Lincoln on January 24. Deputy warden Dudschus, recently appointed deputy warden is at the helm of prison affairs.

Two bills paving the way for President Roosevelt's social security program in Nebraska have started through the legislative mill in the House. Schroeder (D), Bloomfield, has bills that provide for overhauling the old age pension statutes and for a system of compulsory state-wide health insurance. Under the health insurance bill, a three percent contribution by employee matched by a one and one-half percent contribution by employers and one-half percent contribution by the state would be funded to give injured or sick employees half-pay during disability. Provisions are made for small additions for defendants. Employees receiving less than $250 a month are brought under the bill, and payments would be limited to $15 a week.

Under the second measure an old age pension system financed by equal contributions of one per cent from the state, employer and employee is set up. Pensions would be limited to between $25 and $35 per month, depending upon condition of the fund.

Fire Insurance Costs

Come Down!

The State Farmers Insurance Company of Omaha has reduced the initial cost of Fire, Lightning and Tornado insurance by approximately 35 per cent. The initial cost used to be $10 per thousand; now it is only $7.00. This company is the oldest fire insurance company in Omaha, 40 years of honest dealing with the farmers. A maternity benefit equal to those provided for male employees for disability and sickness is set up in the health insurance measure for women who are employed. In addition, both men and women employees and women dependent on male employees have a cash benefit of $15 for each child. Medical and hospital benefits also are made available to mothers. The bill provides for a commission to administer them, and there is a provision for elaborate councils and appeal boards provided.

Sen. Kaspar, (D), Prague, who brought an unsuccessful suit last year to knock out the act of 1933 which abolished the party circle on ballots, has introduced S. F. 110 repealing the 1933 law and restoring the circle to its former place.

Sen. Pedersen, (D), Guido Rock, would open the doors for chartering state banks with $5,000 and $15,000 capital in smaller cities and villages. Present law sets $25,000 as the minimum.

The Senate, 25 to 3, passed and sent to the House Governor Cochran's bill to outlaw the gold clause in contracts as usury.

Two state NRA bills have made their appearance in the Senate. The proposals, not included in recommendations of either Governor Cochran or former Governor Bryan, which would put the state government behind the enforcement of federal NRA codes in Nebraska, were introduced by McMahon, Wells, Green and Stewart, democrats, in S. F. 107 and in S. F. 116, by McMahon, laborite member from Omaha.

S. F. 107 gives legal force and recognition to all "codes of fair competition" promulgated by the national government and applies them to all employers and employees in lines of business conducted wholly within Nebraska, which are not subject to federal jurisdiction. The acts of governing boards for every industry and branch of trade or operating under the national NRA law, are accepted for this state and made binding upon its employers. All penalties for fine and imprisonment prescribed by federal law for violation are likewise made applicable.

The chief executive is given the same power to approve, cancel, or modify codes within the state in the same manner that the president is empowered to do under the national recovery act. Compulsory collective bargaining with employees, regulation against company unions, minimum wages and hours of labor are provided for in the setup.

The McMahon bill applies particularly to the service trades and exempts all kinds of business engaged in selling merchandise.

Both measures carry the emergency clauses and provide they shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval.

Although nothing tangible has as yet been done with liquor control legislation, bills introduced tend to indicate which way the land lays, and it is indicated as exceedingly divided as to individual opinion.

The House lifted from the dead by a 59 to 21 vote, the Porter bill directed as spiking of beer and providing that no malt beverage containing less than 3.2 percent alcohol could be sold or consumed in the state. The bill is on general file, but it was killed when the enacting clause was struck.

Meanwhile, three Omaha democrats, Gutoski, Proskocil and Sutton, tossed into the hopper a bill prohibiting sale or consumption of beverages containing more than one-half of one percent alcohol in any room or in any building where dancing is allowed or permitted. Gutoski plans to follow this measure with one taxing and licensing near beer on the same basis as 3.2 beer, on the theory that the de-alcoholization method makes it more costly to manufacture near beer than 3.2, a tax may discourage manufacture and marketing of it.

A fourth liquor control bill is in the hands of House judiciary committee. It is the measure of Weber, (D), Leigh, and makes no provision for local option. It would be illegal to sell beer and in the same place where hard liquor is retailed. Sale by the drink would be permitted in hotels, lodges, and clubs in operation in one location three years prior to passage of the bill. The bill permits sale by the package and drink and re-enacts many of the provisions in the old Slocumb law. It provides for remonstrance petitions to keep liquor out of any community. The measure differs from the other three bills, one of which puts the state in the liquor manufacturing business, in providing that all liquor, hard and soft, must be stored before sale in state warehouses and testing and inspection, and no liquor could be sold that does not bear a state seal attesting its approval. It provides for private sale only, setting up no state-operated stores, and creates a state commission of three members, named by the governor and approved by the legislature, commissioners' salaries to be fixed at $4,000 and terms at six years.

The bill would prohibit sale of liquor on Sunday.

Construction of a 400-mile pipeline from Sidney to supply eastern Nebraska with drinking water, a project that would cost more than $20,000,000, to be suggested to PWA authorities has been outlined by Green, (D), Sidney, senate member. He also recommended the construction of a new river bed for the North Platte river for 140 miles from Morrill county to a point near North Platte, as a means of preventing water losses due to seepage. This project also will be submitted to the federal government. The pipeline would bring water from the underground flow of the Grace river near Sidney to Omaha and Lincoln, which always has had difficulty in obtaining pure water, Green said. Every city along the Platte and every city and large town south of the Platte would be furnished with an ample supply. His river ditch proposal would prevent water seepage from the North Platte as it flows east from Bridgeport to North Platte. The ditch would be 75 feet wide on the bottom, 135 feet wide on top and would fill with 13 feet of water, he said.

The much discussed "prairie dog" bill, once killed on committee, but raised from the dead, has passed the House. It puts eradication work under the department of agriculture at the expense of landowners, where the latter does not respond to warnings to get rid of the pests.

The McMahon bill applies particularly to the service trades and exempts all kinds of business engaged in selling merchandise.

Both measures carry the emergency clauses and provide they shall go into effect immediately upon passage and approval.

The bill that may raise automobile license fees for those purchasing cars after the first of the year is fated to be spiking of beer and providing that no malt beverage containing less than 3.2 percent alcohol could be sold or consumed in the state. The bill is on general file, but it was killed when the enacting clause was struck.

CITY COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

January 14, 1935.

The Mayor and City Council of the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, met in adjourned special session, pursuant to the adjournment of January 4, 1935, in the City Hall at 2:30 o'clock P.M. Mayor Flagg presided. City Clerk Rex Jewett recorded the proceedings.

The Mayor instructed the Clerk to call the roll. The Clerk called the roll, and the following Councilmen were present: Frank Travis, Frank Sershen, Anton Bartunek, Val Pullen, Guy Burrows, Curtis Gudmundsen.

The bids for equipping the Ord Electric & Water plant with Diesel power were presented to the Council, and were opened and read by Engineer Lutz of Black & Veatch.

The bids of Worthington, Fairbanks-Morse, and Butler Brothers were submitted. After hearing the itemized bids, the Council adjourned until 7:30 o'clock of the same day in order to allow the engineers opportunity to tabulate and equalize the various bids.

The Council again convening after the recess, the Mayor instructed the Clerk to call the roll. The Clerk called the roll and the following Councilmen were again present: Anton Bartunek, Frank Sershen, Frank Travis, Val Pullen, Guy Burrows, Curtis Gudmundsen.

The itemized bids of the various companies were brought in and read to the Council by Engineer Lutz. The bids were discussed pro and con.

The following resolution was presented to and read by the Clerk:

WHEREAS it appears that the bid submitted by Butler Brothers for two Diesel engines and auxiliary equipment is the lowest and best bid.

Now therefore be it resolved that the Mayor and City Clerk be and they are authorized and directed to enter into a contract with Butler Brothers for the purchase of said equipment, said to be in accordance with the plans and specifications prepared by Black & Veatch.

Be it further resolved that the Certified checks submitted by the unsuccessful bidders be returned to them.

Moved by Councilman Gudmundsen and seconded by Councilman Burros that the above resolution be accepted and passed. Councilman Gudmundsen called for the question. The Mayor put the question and instructed the Clerk to call the roll. The Clerk called the roll, and the following was the vote on this motion:

Yeas: Pullen, Burrows, Gudmundsen, Bartunek, Sershen, Travis.

Nays: None.

Motion: Carried.

There being no further business to come before the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, it was moved by Pullen and seconded by Sershen that the Mayor and Council adjourn.

ATTEST:
Rex Jewett,
City Clerk.
G. B. Flagg,
Mayor.

What the World War Cost.

Washington, Jan. 16.—The cost of the World war to the United States was officially set at about $50,000,000,000 today.

The estimate was disclosed in the detailed annual report of the treasury. In it, Secretary Morgenthau figured the cost of the war as follows:

Estimated cost to June 30, 1921, $27,729,000,000.
Interest on war debt, $9,557,000,000.

Veterans administration, $6,391,000.
Settlement of war claims, $88,000,000.

Mrs. Susie Barnes was able to come up town Saturday. She had been quite ill for several days.

O. B. Mutter of Comstock was among those to go to Broken Bow last Saturday and answer the questions in the civil service examinations for the local postoffice job.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Ballheim of LaPorte, Ia., and A. B. Slechta and son Howard of Waterloo, Ia., have arrived in Ord and tomorrow will take over the Brown filling station. Mrs. Slechta and another son will arrive in a few days. The two families are living in the Alvin Blessing home property on Main street.

Mrs. Kirby McGrew and her daughter, Miss Patricia drove to Clarkson Friday taking their cousin, Miss Carrie Hesseltine of Pietz, Colo., to visit Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones. Miss Hesseltine is a return missionary and teacher from Moulineau, Burma, India. She taught in a girls' school in that city for twelve years and plans on returning to India. At one time Miss Hesseltine was a teacher in the Broken Bow schools. While in Ord she visited her cousins, Madams Glen Auble and Kirby McGrew.

Old Age Pensions
Does Lashing Do Good?
Those Cosmic Rays
6,000-Year-Old Graves

Financial conservatism is agitated because old-age pensions as planned, moderately, by the President, would cost one billion dollars a year. Conservatism might better worry about Doctor Townsend's plan to give two hundred dollars a month to everybody past sixty years of age, and cost at least twenty-four thousand million dollars a year.

Conservatism might also worry about billions spent uselessly in state, national or local government costs, and taxes that run above thirteen thousand million dollars a year.

At Wilmington, Del., three young men, eighteen, twenty and twenty-three years old, were lashed in public, a crowd of one hundred looking on.

After the lashing, on the bare back, the youths began ten-year prison sentences for burglary. The lash frightens criminals more than imprisonment, as was proved in London, where an epidemic of "garrotting" ended as soon as the lash was used. But what will be the mental state of those young men when they leave prison after long association with experienced criminals, and constant brooding on the humiliation and pain of the lashing?

Can it be hoped that they will be reformed, or be anything except confirmed criminals, and enemies of society?

A learned German says he has discovered the source of "cosmic rays" that bombard all space, constantly passing through your body, although you don't know it, driven by the terrific energy of billions of volts. The professor suggests that the bombardment may occasionally break down a few of the atoms in the human body, thus slowly changing heredity.

That sounds like a great deal of trouble, to change heredity, which depends, really, on the right girl choosing the right kind of father for her children.

Doctor Sukenik, professor of archaeology in the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, has discovered graves six thousand years old, that go far back of Moses and Job and others well known.

These graves were dug, and filled, long before the Jewish nation had made Jerusalem their principal city, when other, earlier races inhabited the site of "old Jerusalem."

Talking into a telephone in the White House, with amplifiers at the other end, the President greeted six hundred members of the Holland society, at dinner in New York. He felt pride in contributions made to this country by the men of Holland through three hundred years. The Roosevelts are of Dutch origin, but unlike his distant cousin, Theodore Roosevelt, the President did not recite any childlike Dutch poems about cows in "the kops." To know what the old Hollanders really were, as fighters and "stayers," read Motley.

Names that sound strange to Western ears figure in the case of Tony Fon Lew, "Chinese doll bride." She and her alleged father, Mr. Gin Lem, are accused of arranging marriages, taking money, and then not marrying.

Mr. Kack Lew Gee, angry Chinese merchant, says he paid $1,800 to marry the toy bride, but got no bride. Other interesting names figure in a discussion that almost caused war between the Los Angeles Hop Sing Tong and the Four Families Association.

Chinese names sound strange to our ears, but Jones or Robinson would sound ridiculous to the Chinese. Fon Lew and her pretended father ran away to China, but will be brought back and Gin Lem will be tried for violating the Mann act.

The Saar plebiscite, as was certain in advance, proves to be superficially a victory for Hitler. In reality, it proves the devotion of Germans to Germany under any conditions.

With the population of the Saar more than 95 per cent German, voters were asked whether they wished once more to resume German citizenship, throw in their lot with France, or remain suspended in the air as wards of the League of Nations. It was certain that Germans would vote for Germany.

Our national defense authorities are delighted because a great American navy plane labeled XP2H-1 flew nonstop to the Canal Zone from Norfolk, 2,000 miles, in 25 hours. Amelia Earhart recently flew 2,400 miles in 19 hours, alone, without sleep.

And a Russian plane has flown 7,500 miles nonstop.

Uncle Sam, to equal Russia, need only multiply that 2,000-mile nonstop flight by three, and add 1,500 miles to the total.

GRAND ISLAND SNAPS ORD'S WIN STREAK SAT'DAY BY 37-34 SCORE

Islanders Take Early Lead and Manage to Stay Ahead; Ord Defeats Broken Bow.

Ord High divided its two latest basketball conquests by handing the fast Broken Bow outfit a sound 40-24 drubbing and dropping a close one to the Grand Island basket shooting artists.

The Broken Bow game was a fast, exciting one despite the heavy lead piled up by the Chanticleers. The real contest in this game did not start until the second half when both teams made the same number of baskets. Greathouse at pivot position carried away scoring honors for this game, making a total of fifteen points. Brown, Broken Bow forward, broke thru the powerful Ord defense to hang up a total of thirteen points. This made the seventh straight victory for the Chanticleers.

One of the largest crowds in Ord basketball history watched the Chanticleers give Grand Island High the so-called "run for their money." The red and white in the first half of this contest were absolutely trampled over, the score at the end of the first quarter being Ord 1, Grand Island 14 and at the half Ord 13, Grand Island 29. The Ordites were not able to "click" and all attempts at scoring were promptly smothered by the brilliant defense put up by the Islanders. The Chanticleers came back in the second half and turned on the "heat." The large lead acquired by the Islanders was slowly but surely cut down till the score stood at the end of the final quarter Ord 34, Grand Island 37.

Blessing and Greathouse ran wild in the final quarter of the game, sinking baskets from all positions and angles of the floor. Although a desperate last minute rally was put up the Ordites were unable to catch up with the fast stepping and fast shooting Islanders. The Chanticleers lacked only three points of tying the game when the final whistle was blown. Grand Island's entire offense was put in one man—Callahan, in the final half. Callahan did all the scoring for the Islanders in the last portion of the game with Blessing and Greathouse providing the fireworks for Ord. Callahan, playing his last game for the purple and gold gave an amazing demonstration of basket shooting, flipping the ball through the hoop from any position with equal ease. Callahan took scoring honors of the game with a total of twenty points while Blessing pressed close behind with seventeen point counters.

In the preliminary game Ord Reserve vs. Grand Island seconds, the Islanders proved to be too much for the Ordites, the final score Grand Island 28, Ord 12.

Dot Kokes, one of Miss Wallin's pupils brought some narcissus bulbs to school. One of them is in bloom.

In Miss Hallen's room only eleven pupils were present on Monday. Five pupils of this room were not absent or tardy all semester.

The third graders are making designs out of circles.

The following fourth graders had perfect attendance for the semester: Irene Barnes, Betty Puncuchar, Frank Misko, and Bobby Jones. The bulletin board in this room shows an interesting project of differences between old and new cars.

The fourth graders had 100 in reviews for the semester.

Miss Kosmata reports seven people with perfect attendance for this semester. They are: Patty Achen, Gene Anderson, Phyllis Anderson, Norma Holt, Marilyn O'Neill, Darlene Puncuchar, and Betty Wiegard.

The second graders report a tie in their number race.

Shirley Davison from Broken Bow is a new pupil in the 5th grade.

In Miss Finley's room the sixth grade is making booklets about France. The fifth graders are making food posters in hygiene class. The sixth graders were sorry to lose two of their members. Anton Wozchowski moved to Chicago and Virginia Wachtrile moved to Idaho.

LaVern Gross has been absent from school this week due to an injury to his leg.

It is reported that league 3 of the South school beat one of the Junior HI teams in basketball this week.

The sixth graders are proud of the fact that ten members of the class bought activity stamp books.

Myrtle Auble and Warren Allen were reporters this week.

Teacher is study hall: "Irene you mustn't laugh out loud in the school room."

Irene Whiting: "I didn't mean to but you see I was smiling and the smile just busted."

Ruth Haas—"Every time your little nephew looks into my face he smiles."

Wilma Krikac—"Well I may not be exactly polite, but it shows he has a sense of humor."

EDITORIALS

I'm sure I am echoing the thoughts of very O. H. S. student in extending congratulations to the basketball squad. With the season a little over half finished, they have totaled three hundred and fifty points to their opponents one hundred and forty-six. They have, as you no doubt know, won every game except the recent Grand Island game which they lost by a very small margin. Had the first half of the game equaled the fine playing of the last half, this game would also have been ours.

I'd be willing to wager that the well-known, Grand Island center never jumped as high before in his life as he did against Ord's center and in spite of his best efforts, he was out-tipped at nearly every turn.

Really, I'm surprised at the seniors. Here it is almost three weeks since the Juniors had a meeting to decide what type of banquet is going to be held this year and not more than half of the seniors have found out. Very unusual to say the least.

During the last week several high school commercial students have had an opportunity to do practice work for downtown business men. This not only affords good experience, but may be the means of securing a job for the student after graduation, providing their work measures up to the standard which their employer feels it should.

This week a new system of grade school reporting is being used and will continue throughout the second semester. Instead of a reporter interviewing the teachers each week, one or two members of the sixth grade English classes will write the news as an English assignment. This week the news was written by Myrtle Auble and Warren Allen and it is printed just as it was given to us.

"Success consists, not so much in staying up nights, as being wide awake in the daytime." I think this little proverb might well apply to a number of high school students who wonder why they never get as good grades as their fellow students when they take books home and study night after night and their friend never does take a book home.

Perhaps the secret of this person's success and good grades is the fact that he studies and pays attention in class while you enjoy yourself.

Wise and Otherwise

Charlotte Blessing: "So, you don't like my new dress?"
Barbara Dale: "No, but outside of that I think you're all right."

Frank Pray: "I haven't any idea."
Miss Crouch: Did you add that problem four times to check it, Delbert?

Barbara: "Well, aren't you curious?"
Delbert Benson: Yes, and here are four answers.

This Week's Sponsor is Chase's Toggery

A well known institution of Ord with which you are undoubtedly acquainted is Chase's Toggery, a shop selling wear for women exclusively which has been in the same location in the Auble building ready and waiting for friends and customers since opening for business in Ord some twelve years ago this past fall. It is owned and operated most efficiently by Miss Eunice Chase, who has been in charge continuously or practically so since the business began. Miss Chase's sister, Muriel, now Mrs. Keith Lewis, was formerly associated with her in management of the business.

Chase's Toggery does just what the title of the shop implies, and completely togs out the well dressed woman, excepting only shoes. Found in this shop are dresses, coats, suits, hats, stockings, sweaters, blouses, girdles, underwear, house dresses, embroidery, purses, gloves, handkerchiefs, as well as costume jewelry and small gifts suitable for bridge prizes.

Still featured by this store are some of the same lines handled when it opened, namely Levine dresses, Formfit girdles, Munsingwear of all kinds, Bucklin embroidery packages. A number of complete and beautiful style showings held at intervals have displayed these wares to the public in a fascinating and enlightening fashion, the shows arranged and carried out entirely by the Chase sisters.

The Chase girls "grew up behind the counter," as Eunice says, in our neighbor town, Loup City, where their father has long operated a store handling groceries, dry goods, ready-to-wear and a variety of other things. Eunice graduated from high school in that city in 1915, Muriel in 1919. Eunice has been active in the business since its inception, and though not now aided by Mrs. Lewis, has at various times been helped also by Lucien, now Mrs. H. D. Maxwell of Alliance, and for the past five years by a younger sister, Roberta, who graduated from the Loup City high school in 1929.

A succession of other Ord girls who have found jobs in Chase's Toggery are Alice Palmette, now a Chicago housewife, Jeanne Johnson, now Mrs. W. L. Blessing, Alice Parkos, as well as Dorothy Boquet, a standby for many years. All of these young ladies graduated from the Ord high school.

The Presbyterian church is favored by the members of this family who conduct the Toggery, otherwise they are not joiners to any extent. Eunice is a member of Les Belles Femmes, of the Business and Professional Women's club, of the Chamber of Commerce, while Roberta is a member of Eight Belles. Both are cheerful and willing to donate plenty of time and work to any good cause, and such dependability alone would create a wide circle of friends.

Chase's Toggery not only caters to the younger set with catchy, youthful styles, but sells as well becoming clothes for the woman who is a little older or who wishes something conservative and not too expensive. Most high school girls are probably familiar with their long wearing hosiery and the virtues of other ready-to-wear found in this store on the north side of Ord's square, but if they are not, a call there will surely be the first of many more.

The Oracle is made possible by this group of loyal Ord business and professional men and women:

Dr. F. L. Blessing, Orville H. Sowl, Ed F. Beranek, J. C. Penney Co., John P. Mikko, L & L Tire and Battery Station, Aubie Motors, Dr. C. W. Weeks, Chase's Pharmacy, Dr. Glen D. Auble, Nebraska State Bank, A. J. Auble, Stoltz Variety Store, Dr. A. Barta, Harlan T. Frazier, Gould B. Flagg, First National Bank, Protective Savings & Loan Ass'n, Ord Co-operative Creamery Co., Noll Seed Co., Sack Lumber & Coal Co., Davis & Vogelmann, McLain-Sorenson Drug Co., Brown-Ekberg Co., Dr. George A. Convocations

A Young Lion Tamer.

We heard this one on Mildred Smith when she was just a trifle smaller than she is now.

Her mother heard a great comotion, as if cyclones mixed with battering rams, and hurried upstairs to discover what was the matter. She found Mildred sitting in the middle of the floor with a broad smile on her face.

"Oh Mama," she said delightedly. "I've locked Grandpa and Uncle George in the cupboard and when they get a little angrier I am going to play Daniel in the lion's den."

GIRL RESERVES ANNOUNCE TOPICS FOR SECOND SEMESTER PROGRAMS

Initiation Febr. 22.

The Girl Reserves have chosen "Grandmother's Trunk" as their theme topic for the second semester.

A pot luck supper and hobby meeting, the first meeting of the second semester, will be held February 4. "Adventures in the Atlantic" is the topic for the evening. Virginia Weeks is the leader.

The Related Science class is keeping a record of the weather. This record includes the temperature, and kind of weather.

In April the Senior Normal Trainers will have their week of practice teaching. During this week they will be the acting instructor in some rural school.

Next Wednesday the Senior Normal Trainers will visit district schools. They will observe in the schools taught by Mrs. Dorothy Knapp, Mrs. Agnes Manchester, Alice Adamek and Mildred Haas.

The Public Speaking classes have been studying and learning orations. The following week will be devoted to the students to the writing of the ten-minute oration.

The Advanced Arithmetic class, a new second semester class has been mentally working addition and subtraction problems.

About fifty new arithmetic and civics books were received last week by the school.

Plans are being discussed in regard to the declamatory contest which will be held in the near future. A meeting of prospective entrants will be held some day this week.
