Classes Organized In Recreational Project Monday

60 Boys and 70 Girls Enroll
In Different Activities; Much
Equipment Still Needed.

With a total enrollment of sixty boys and seventy girls, the recreational project work, headed by Coach H. F. Brockman, got under way in earnest the first of this week. Various classes were organized Monday and Tuesday, and more will become organized rapidly.

Monday a girl's handicraft class was organized, the girls making boxes in which they will keep sewing materials and equipment. Tuesday they did soap carving. They will also learn knitting and sewing. Mrs. Otis Hughes gave a demonstration of the art of basket weaving to the group Tuesday, and plans are being made to start a basket weaving class, under the directorship of Mrs. Otis Hughes.

A girl's swimming class started Wednesday, with Mrs. John Misko, instructor, and Beulah McGinnis assistant. The classes are being held on the east side of Anderson's Island, where the water is shallow, and the children will be carefully watched and supervised at all times.

Under the able supervision of Rev. Willard McCarthy, manual training classes were started Tuesday in the basement of the Christian church. Thirty boys were present for the first meeting. Girls' classes will be organized next week in manual training, as well as in golf, tennis and kitenball.

The schedule being followed now is: Girl's handicraft from 1:30 to 3:00 at the Legion hall. Boy's handicraft, 1:00 to 3:00 in the Christian church basement. Both boys and girls athletics from 3:00 to 5:00 every day. Sponsors of the project are very glad to note that adults are taking an interest in the project, and that tennis groups, made up of adults, have been playing on the tennis courts in the evening.

The Business and Professional Women's club have had a meeting and subscribed $10 to the fund. Mrs. John Misko donated a bolt of wire for a backstop, and several other donations have been made. The committee still has need for used tennis rackets, used tennis balls, tennis net, and kitenballs. The girls' handicraft group need yarn and materials for sewing classes. Funds are needed to buy raffia, for basket weaving. Anyone having donations to make, may call Mrs. M. Biemond, phone 49W, and she will see that they are called for. All donated articles that are wanted back will be marked and carefully used, and no harrasing accidents will be returned in good condition.

The committee wishes to thank the Legionnaires for the use of the Legion hall, the Ladies Auxiliary for the basement of the Legion hall, and the owners of the lots which are being converted into playgrounds. The lots are the one adjacent to the F. A. Barta home, directly south of the Ord high school building, the lot owned by J. G. Hastings on the corner of 23rd and L Street, the old Hardenbrook place on the corner of 23rd and M Street, the lot south of the Bohemian hall, and the vacant lot on the east end of O Street.

The finance committee asks that all organizations who have been asked to make donations, have a meeting as soon as possible and then call Mrs. John Misko as to what donations they have decided upon.

Children desiring to register may do so at any time. Girls may register at the Legion hall, and boys at the senior high school building. More helpers are needed to instruct the various groups, and anyone who is willing to supervise any girls or boys athletics or other groups, are asked to call at the Legion hall at 1:30, any day of the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puncocchar will leave Sunday morning for Grand Island, and from there will leave on a ten day's vacation to Idaho. In Idaho, they will visit the George Wachter family. Mrs. Puncocchar's mother, Mrs. Frank Zeleski will come up from her home in Grand Island to keep house for her grandsons, Eugene and Dick.

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Wachter and children returned Thursday from a trip through Saskatchewan and Manitoba, Canada, and the western part of Minnesota. They visited for a couple of weeks with Mrs. Wachter's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Erben and family at Tisdale. Several days were spent visiting relatives at Clarissa and Eagle Bend, Minn. They also visited for a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Blaha of Bellwood, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Bonne of David City.

Threshing In Full Swing Over County

Threshing in process on the Emil Sedlacek farm east of Ord is depicted in the above picture taken by staff photographer H. E. Jones. The oats, Mr. Sedlacek reports, averages 35 bushels to the acre. Many such scenes will be found over the county as the threshing season is now in full swing.

Nebraska's Rig Rodeo Starts Wednesday

With a feeling that we have again prepared a program that will fully meet with your approval we are extending an invitation to attend Nebraska's Big Rodeo, which will be held at Burwell, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, August 7, 8 and 9. In addition to the usual frontier Rodeo events, consisting of Roping, Bulldogging, Bronc, Steer Calg and Mule Riding, the management is offering for your approval Ole Graham's Juvenile Riders and Acrobats, a special that is in itself worth the price of admission, there will also be a band of Sioux Indians direct from the bad lands of the Dakotas, camped on the grounds, a full card of running races with pari-mutuel betting privileges for those that desire, the Landis Carnival Company, and many other attractions. The afternoon performance commences at one o'clock ordinarily continue until six o'clock while the evening program under the floodlights starts at eight. Nebraska's Big Rodeo every year shows to an increased attendance which is sufficient proof that the show has always been all that was claimed for it. This year a great program has been prepared. At no show in Nebraska can you see as much action for the money as at Nebraska's Big Rodeo.

One Site Suggested For Artificial Lake

Following is a letter which is most interesting and may prove helpful. Can someone look into this and give some idea how large a lake could be built there? But read the letter, which follows:

Burwell, Nebr., July 27, 1935
H. D. Leggett,
Ord, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Leggett:
After reading your column in the Ord Quiz, am quite interested in your quest for a site for an artificial lake. As you asked for suggestions, first, I, like yourself would like it near Fort Hartsum. Falling there allow me to suggest a place mostly in Garfield county, an old lake bed known to we old timers as "the swamp". It is owned by Wm. O'Conner. There are living springs there and several years ago O'Conner ran a ditch to the river to take the water, or drain the land. This joins the Goodnow farm on the north. Possibly it might be worth investigating.

Very sincerely,
Maude Goodnow.

The fact that there are natural springs there is a big asset for the well would help to keep the lake cool, once it is built and filled. If people get interested, someone is going to find a site that will be both acceptable and feasible. The fact that this location, mentioned by Miss Goodnow, is on the line between Garfield and Valley counties, ought to make it easy for all hands to unite on some sort of program. We want other suggestions.

Two Ord Girls Win Trip To Seward Camp

Misses Ruth and Norma Benn have been notified that they have been awarded prize trips to the 4-H Conservation and Restoration of Wild Life camp to be held at Seward from August 20 to 23. They received these awards for the outstanding work done in the conservation and restoration of wild life. Nebraska was divided into eight districts and five trips were awarded each district. Twenty-nine counties comprised the district that Valley county is in. All expenses will be paid by a Minneapolis firm that is sponsoring the camp.

Special instruction in judging work will be given at Scotia on August 10. All 4-H club members should plan to attend.

Fair Board Meeting Every Monday Night

At the regular meeting of the fair board Monday evening arrangements were made to buy 100 auto fire covers advertising the fair. A committee was named to arrange for a loud speaker system for the fair grounds during the fair. Considerable time was spent discussing the premium list and we are assured that the board will soon have the revised list ready for publication.

Auto race entry blanks have been ordered and as soon as they can be sent out the race superintendent will begin to get replies from the boys who want to race at the Ord fair this year. A number have been heard from during the last week and there seems to be more interest than usual, as all who write say they are telling the other boys as fast as they see them. The track is looming up fine and bids fair to be better than at any previous meet.

Ord Wins, Loses To Ashton Team

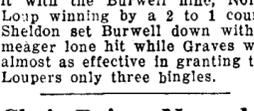

Ord divided its doubleheader program with Ashton Sunday, Ord winning the opener 5 to 3 and dropping the finale 11 to 2. Ashton, by winning the second game, won the first half championship of the Loup Valley Baseball league. The first game counts on the second half schedule.

North Loup had a close time of it with the Burwell nine, North Loup winning by a 2 to 1 count. Sheldon set Burwell down with a meager lone hit while Graves was almost as effective in granting the Loupers only three bingles.

Chris Beiers Named Concession Supt.

Chris Beiers, local implement dealer, has been named as concession superintendent by the fair board, at their meeting Monday evening and anyone interested in getting a concession for the coming year can do so by consulting Mr. Beiers.

These Girls Listen To Instructor

Girls as well as boys enjoy the tennis courts of the Recreational Project and such scenes as the above are common. All playgrounds are supervised and orderly, no boy or girl, who want to take part, are denied a chance to do so.

Reaching a peak of 106 Saturday, the temperatures this week have been extremely high, and show no signs of abating. Friday the official report was 103 degrees. Saturday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock, it soared to 106 degrees for the high of the summer. Temperature Sunday was recorded at 104 degrees, continuing Monday and reaching the same level. The high for Tuesday was 102 degrees. Wednesday morning the temperature at 6:00 A. M. was 90 degrees, and by noon had reached 100 degrees.

Oscar W. Enger, 78, Passed On Tuesday

Funeral of Long Time Resident of Ord To Be Held Thursday
Afternoon at 2:30.

Oscar W. Enger, 78, long time resident of Ord, passed away Tuesday, July 30 at the Weekes Sanitarium.

Mr. Enger was born in Christiana, Norway, the son of Hans and Christiana Enger. His father died in 1858, his mother later marrying Rasmus Hansen, and in 1868 the family came to America to settle in Dodge county. Later the family lived at Cuming, Colfax, York and Hamilton counties.

In 1892, Mr. Enger was married to Miss Martha Watt in York county. To this couple, four sons, Henry, Clarence, Raymond and Ivan, were born. Clarence passed away in 1918.

In the spring of 1895, Mr. Enger sold his Hamilton county farm and purchased 160 acres in Valley county, where he lived until 1918, when he moved to Ord. His wife, Mrs. Oscar Enger, passed away in 1934, and since that time he has made his home with a son, Henry.

Surviving Mr. Enger are three sons, Henry J. of Ord, Ray of Ogden, Utah, and Ivan of Grand Island, a half-brother, Emil Hansen of Burwell, and a granddaughter, Opal, of Holstein, Nebraska.

Funeral services will be held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 at the M. E. church. Interment will be in Ord cemetery.

Bert Sells and Sons Again In Trouble

Fries Filed Charge of Trespassing Against Father; Son Has Fight With Lewin, Is Jailed.

Last Friday M. L. Fries filed a charge of trespass against Bert Sells and his sons, Orville and Fortis and they were arrested and brought into county court and when they plead not guilty, were released under $100 bond each for their appearance today for trial. The trouble grew out of some threshing machine deal and the Quiz knows nothing about what the facts purport to be.

The same evening Elbert Sells, another son of Bert Sells, got into an argument with A. L. Lewin, son-in-law of Mr. Fries and the argument developed into a fist fight, in which, from appearances, Lewin got the worst of the battle. Anyhow, he filed a charge of assault against young Lewin who was arrested and after being held in the Arcadia jail over night, was brought to Ord. He plead not guilty and was released on $100 bond and his trial set for today in the county court. The Quiz is informed that the Sells have employed attorneys and will fight both cases.

Saturday Hottest Day Reports Weatherman

Reaching a peak of 106 Saturday, the temperatures this week have been extremely high, and show no signs of abating. Friday the official report was 103 degrees. Saturday afternoon about 3:00 o'clock, it soared to 106 degrees for the high of the summer. Temperature Sunday was recorded at 104 degrees, continuing Monday and reaching the same level. The high for Tuesday was 102 degrees. Wednesday morning the temperature at 6:00 A. M. was 90 degrees, and by noon had reached 100 degrees.

Action Scene on City Playground

Whish! And there goes the K-ball. These boys enjoy a fast game of kitenball and can be seen daily on any one of the Recreational Playgrounds in the city. The enthusiasm grows as the time goes on. Many new faces have been reporting to Coach Helmut Brockman and his assistants and a place is always waiting for them.

Cullen Lake Story

Jackpine Lodge, Cullen Lake, Nisawa, Minn., Friday, July 26.
Dear Quiz:

I held off writing a letter for the paper this week as long as possible in hopes I could report that fish have resumed biting but they are still wary and apparently well fed so there are no fish stories to write.

The Cullen lakes, all three of them, are "dead" so far as fishing is concerned and bluegills are about the only kind of fish that can be caught easily. Crappies are biting good on Lower Cullen, they tell me in town, but aren't doing much on Middle Cullen or on the upper lake. Strangers coming to this lake this summer for the first time might easily be forgiven for believing there are few fish here but I've been coming here too long to think that.

The bass, walleyes and other game fish are just having one of those "off" spells they have so frequently, nobody knows why. In August or September they will start hitting and will soon make up for lost time. Too late for us, however, for our vacation is about over and by the time this appears in print, or soon afterward, we will be home.

Weather has been unusually warm for the past week but until last night every night has been cool, even chilly. Last night the evening was sultry and we were sure a storm was coming. Sure enough, about 1:30 the wind began to blow a gale from the west and soon rain began to pour down. It must have rained 1 1/2 inches and the rain was welcome to farmers here.

One pasture that never fails us is swimming and we have been going into the water two or three times daily during the warm weather. Miss Oiga Vodehnal, who is here with us, has to go in even oftener than that and a couple of nights ago fell off the dock, clothes and all, as we were coming in from a fishing trip. Since she has developed into quite a swimmer in the two years she has been coming to Cullen with us there was no occasion for alarm even had the water been deep, which it wasn't.

Only one other cottage beside our own is occupied at present and that is the Simpson cottage. Last Monday Mrs. Simpson drove into camp, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Will Bartlett, of Ord, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Nelson of Omaha. They are planning to leave for home tomorrow or next day and appear to be having a fine time catching bluegills and crappies though Will, a veteran fisherman, is disappointed that larger fish aren't biting. They are out on the point in front of the cottage now, fishing bluegills.

Yesterday, in response to rumors that walleyed pike are biting on Gull lake, I made a trip to the fishing grounds off Piney Harbor resort. We got a good boat and put in the morning trolling but caught only one pike. Gust Almquist, manager of the resort, told me when I came in that the fish are acting "funny." One day they strike like wolves and the next day don't strike at all, he said. Just our luck to hit them on the wrong day. We hope to go back and try them again early next week.

Big Bass lake, after a week of inactivity, again is the best bet for fishing up here. Two days ago Ray Luther and a couple of Kansas Cityans caught 10 black bass there that aggregated 30 pounds in weight. Later the same day Clarence Luther took two fishermen over and caught 7 bass, two of which weighed over 5 pounds each. This evening or tomorrow Ray and I are going over and try for some of these mammoth bass. I want to send a box of fish to a few of my Ord friends but hate to send bluegills, even though we consider them about the best to eat of any fish here. Hope I have some luck on Big Bass tomorrow. Bet that John, Ole, Ed, Doc and some of the others hope so too.

Very truly,
E. C. Leggett.

Mr. and Mrs. Terrell Maddox and family of Scotia and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bots visited Sunday at the Sam Guggenmos home.

Timmerman Licked, Ord Man Pays Fine

Perry Timmerman went to the home of his wife's grandmother last Friday to see his children, as the Quiz gets the story. Mr. and Mrs. Timmerman are separated and in the process of getting a divorce. While there Perry got into an argument about the matter and when the dispute waxed hot, Harry Patchen, another member of the family by marriage, was called. He went to bat with Perry and gave him a good trimming, as the Quiz is informed and later plead guilty to an assault and paid a fine of five and costs assessed by Judge Anderson, the total amount being $11.16.

Funeral Held Tuesday For Mrs. A. Asimus

The maiden name of Mrs. Adolph Asimus was Miss Ellen Anderson. She was born at Malmo, Sweden, November 1, 1865. She came to the Cedar valley with her brother, John Anderson in the pioneer days of 1882. There she became acquainted with Mr. Asimus who was a homesteader near the Anderson homestead and they were married in 1891. She continued to live on the Asimus ranch all the years until her health failed in 1928 and since that time until her death the first of this week, she has been cared for by the Sisters of Mercy at the Mercy Hospital in Council Bluffs, Iowa, and has had the tenderest care and everything for her comfort that money would buy. She is survived by her two sons, Carl and Tony.

Mrs. Asimus united with the Swedish Lutheran church at Malmo, Sweden in her girlhood and was always faithful to the faith. Until illness came to her she was one of the most hospitable of women and the Asimus home was famous for the royal entertainment given to all visitors, both Mr. and Mrs. Asimus being jolly and friendly people.

The remains were brought to Ord Monday evening and the funeral held Tuesday morning at 9:30 from the Sowl funeral parlors. Rev. Smith of the M. E. church had charge of the services and Mrs. Mark Tolen sang. Interment was in the Ord cemetery beside the husband who preceded her in death some years ago.

Offers 48 4-H Girls Free Chicago Trips

Forty-eight 4-H Club girls, one from each state, are offered free educational trips to Chicago this fall and all expenses paid for a week's stay at the 14th National Club Congress as championship prizes in the National Girls' Record Contest.

Every bona-fide 4-H club girl in Valley County and the state who is regularly enrolled in home economic projects may compete. In addition to the free trip given state champions a handsome gold medal is awarded to county winners, and as a grand climax to the contest the highest ranking state champion is presented a $400 cash college scholarship by Montgomery Ward, sponsoring the contest for the tenth year.

Council Oak Stores Will Locate In Ord

The Council Oaks Stores, a Sloux City, Iowa firm, signed a lease this week with the Hager Company, for the Keown building just north of the Hager offices. They stated that they would be unable to get their new store started before September 1st.

Grasshoppers Move Into Ord Monday

Monday evening there were thousands of grasshoppers in Ord, apparently passing through. Under the street lights in the west part of town they were so numerous that cars driving through them were literally flooded with the hoppers and the pavements were a shambles of crushed hoppers. They seemed to have disappeared the next morning and citizens are wondering whether some other locality is going to be visited with a greater army of them. Those that the writer saw, seemed to be about half grown, and were of the flying variety.

Mrs. W. W. Haskell Is Much Improved

Dr. Orr, physician-surgeon who is caring for Mrs. W. W. Haskell in Lincoln, writes most encouragingly to the family in Ord. Dr. Orr says Mrs. Haskell will be able to leave the hospital in a couple of weeks, and be taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Herman Mattley. This is all good news to the members of the family and to all the many friends of this good woman.

Burwell Man Bitten By Black Widow Spider

Dr. C. W. Weekes Warns People
To Be On Lookout For Dreaded Insect.

The intention, in writing this little story, is more than a desire to give the news. We desire to warn the public that there is danger in being bitten by the black widow spider.

Sunday Gus Sherbarth of Burwell was brought to the Weekes hospital suffering terribly from the bite of one of the spiders. Inside of a few seconds after he was bitten he was so paralyzed that he was unable to walk and Dr. Weekes, who cared for him, says he has never seen a person in greater agony. He is recovering as this is written and will no doubt be as well as ever in a few days, though still at the hospital, but a warning may save others from the same experience, which might not terminate as well as the Sherbarth case is ending.

When bitten Mr. Sherbarth was using an out-of-doors toilet, not often used and he noticed spider webs, but thought nothing of there being any danger. A later examination of several similar places seems to indicate that they are a favorite breeding and lurking place for these dangerous insects. This means that people should, to protect the health of their families, see that plenty of slacked lime or other cleanser is used and that cobwebs be brushed away.

Dr. Weekes says that while most adults who have been bitten, have recovered, the fatality is much higher in children. City Attorney Ralph Norman tells Dr. Weekes that his children have found several of the spiders and had them in bottles, seemingly a most dangerous form of play. Only a few hours before Mr. Sherbarth was taken to the hospital, J. H. Capron found one of the spiders in his garage and reported the matter. Barns, garages, basements are favorite lurking places. This is not a pleasing subject for a story but the Quiz is seeking to perform a public service in writing it and hopes it will be heeded.

The great trouble with our congress is that we have too few men like Norris and former Senator Howell and Senator Glass and too many political accidents like, without calling names, at least 75 per cent of the members of both houses.

I wish that Quiz correspondents would read this item and remember it and act on it. When there is a death of a prominent person in your neighborhood try to get us a late picture, a good clear one with shiny light background preferred. If there is a bad accident, try, at once, to get us a picture. It doesn't usually bother to get the story into type. It can be set in a few moments if the copy is a bit late, but it takes more time to make the cut and if that comes late there is always a rush of other work also. Quiz readers seem to like the pictures. The Quiz is the only weekly paper in the state making its own cuts and trying to give its readers a lot of up-to-the-minute news pictures each week. We have got to have the assistance of our correspondents. Last week we had two or three cuts that we should have had, and could have had, if the correspondents had been up on their toes a week sooner. I am not finding fault but we must have faster service on the pictures.

Heard a fellow cussing about the way Italy is apparently trying to gobble up Ethiopia but I am guessing the Ethiopians won't be treated any worse than the American Indians were at the hands of our forefathers.

Walt Desch, who just returned from Idaho, says that there is a fine potato crop there; that the farmers are bringing in fine large potatoes and getting 35 cents per hundred pounds for them, a price that will not pay them anything after hiring the spuds harvested, and he says that some farmers with several acres, told him they just would not harvest them. It is the distribution system that we have in this country, again, the man who owns the land, furnishes the seed, does all the work and hauls them to town, can't get near as much as the common carrier that hauls the product a few hundred miles to the consumer. The latter is allowed to set the price on his work, the former is not. And it is the fault of the former for he is the vast majority if he would only get organized.

I can see no salvation for the farmer unless the pending legislation in congress, is passed, re-financing the farm loans at 2 per cent and giving a long time in which to pay off the loan. Wall Street and financial interests generally are of course fighting this legislation, really doubt if they are justified, for they would, in the end, be better off with a home owning farming country instead of a farming country of renters, which is bound to be the result of the present trend.

Bill Petty is quite a gardener and his latest claim is that he has the earliest sweet corn in Valley county this year. He has roasting ears this week end and says he has not heard of anyone else having them yet. If Bill has any competition I would like to hear about it.

An interesting rumor is current at Lincoln, according to Arthur Evans Wilcox, a capital city press correspondent. It is to the effect that Judge Bayard H. Paine is seriously entertaining the idea of becoming a candidate for the United States senate, filing in the republican primary against Senator Norris. It's not only interesting. It's intriguing. Senator Norris is a progressive republican who has only recently been proposed by leading democrats as the candidate to be produced through the democratic primary. Judge Paine is a progressive democrat and is thus proposed to be produced through the republican primaries, which at present promise to be dominated by Mr. McKelvie and his conservative associates. One doesn't get quite all of it upon first reading at length and second reading by title. But it is eye-brow-lifting news.

This is probably just a newspaper story. Judge Paine is a fine gentleman, a good lawyer, has many, many friends and almost no enemies, and he would be a credit to Nebraska as a member of the senate. But Judge Paine is also a most astute politician and he knows that, in a fight for the senate against Senator Norris, he would not be able to win. Judge Paine is still a comparatively young man and he probably does not want to take that kind of a licking at this time. No, the Quiz does not believe Judge Paine will cross-swords with Senator Norris.

Valley county farmers have not often been bothered with rust on their grain. One farmer who has resided in Valley county most of his life told me he never seen the rust but once before and that was during a weather condition similar to what we have had this season. Still, a few years ago the government spent thousands of dollars for nice trucks and for college students who spent two or more summer vacations eradicating the barberry bushes because they caused grain rust. Sometimes these experts who always traveled in pairs, were found by sweating farmers, sitting in the shade, presumably trying to imagine where another barberry bush could be found. Occasionally one of the bushes was brought into town. But now, after, supposedly, all the terrible plague bushes have been dug, the rust comes again. What the government should do now, is to organize another bureau, appoint fifty or a hundred college professors at big salaries to manage it, and start eradicating something, for evidently the hated barberry was not responsible for the rust. We have been buncoed again but while we were being buncoed a bunch of white collar guys had a good job.

And I read, now, in the daily papers, that another fallacy or fad is being exploded. For years doctors have advised the feeding of cod liver oil to children and manufacturers have insisted that their product was the only hope the children had of attaining manhood and womanhood. Now a different set of experts has discovered that it is not the best thing to do, to feed so much cod liver oil. Just what their game is, I don't know but it is safe to believe that they have an ax to grind and after ballyhooing against cod liver oil for a while, they may come out with a claim that goats milk is the only salvation for the kiddies.

A lot of folks are finding fault with the hot weather but no one is doing anything about it.

Eugene has been at Cullen three weeks and over and has not sent any fish home yet and if I want a mess of fish I will probably have to go back and catch them for myself. This younger generation, but what's the use. Alfred Weigardt is just the same. But you just watch Ol' Bill Bartlett. I am betting he will find the fish and get 'em too. And if Charley Stichter was up there he would get them and so would Joe Beran, but these younger bridge playing fellows, well, they just don't have the patience.

"Few employees are promoted for having forgotten to remember," says Fred Howard and he said a mouthful.

There is really more need of air-conditioned comfort rooms in filling stations than there is for air-conditioned theatres in the same towns.

If you have submitted a story for the historical page and it has not been returned it will be published in due time. We are dating them as they are received and will print them in their regular order. Don't get excited for yours will be printed soon. We only have a few ahead so someone should be sending in some. And, by the way, if you have a picture that will go good with your story and send it and we use it, you get paid for the space it takes and that adds to the amount you get.

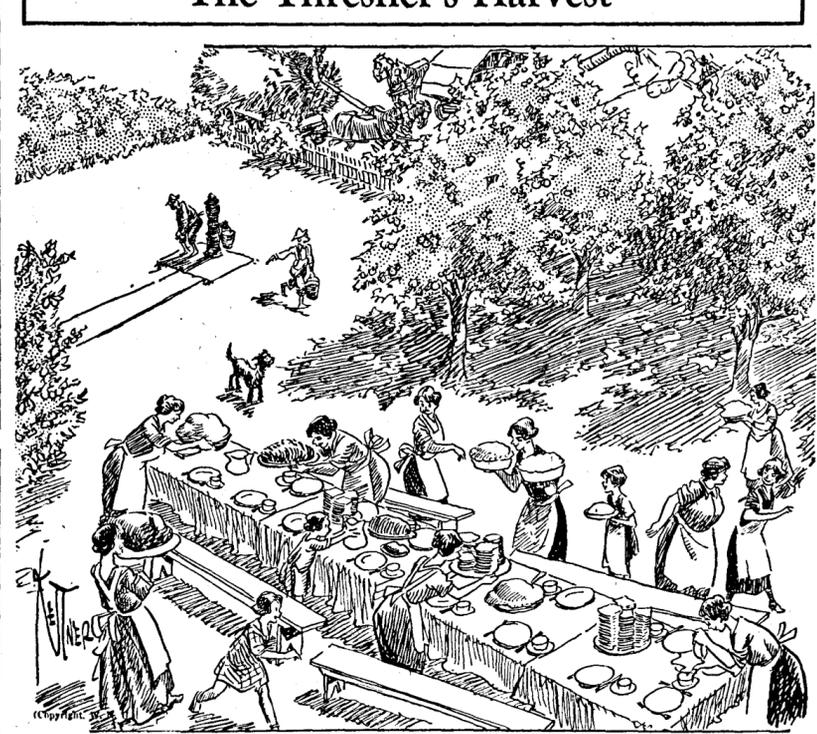

When Col. Weller was back in Washington a year or two ago he got his business attended to and was walking aimlessly about. The lady at the information desk, no doubt thinking to assist him in having a good time, asked if he would like to see the 40-foot mural in the lobby above. He went up and pretty soon the information woman's phone rang and an angry voice inquired, "Who in . . . etc., sent a sap up here looking for a 40-foot mule?" It seems Weller had never heard of a mural.

Lucky Thirteen Club.
The Lucky Thirteen club met at the Evt Smith home Wednesday, July 17. The leader had them judge tie backs. There were three there. Mildred Klaucek and Evelyn Ollis picked some songs for us to sing. The next meeting will be held at the Will Ollis home on Wednesday, July 31.

The Thresher's Harvest

Something Different

Either someone is kidding Dr. F. J. Osentowski and his girl friend, or else the Doctor and his girl are kidding the rest of the public. I believe the young lady's name is Irma Novolny, and I have heard she hails from Kimball, but I can't be sure of either of these last two remarks. Anyway, while here the two received considerable mail addressed to Dr. and Mrs. F. J. Osentowski. There was some rumor concerning them being newlyweds. Now you kid them and maybe we'll all find out just what is what.

We have a habit of bringing mail for the whole camp, whoever goes to Nisswa first, or perhaps I should say last. Which is why I know about the addresses on mail coming to the Osentowskis.

Oscar Wallin is so furious I don't think H. D. Leggett's life would be worth a nickel, at Cullen lake, or even a plugged nickel, and I hereby advise Mr. Leggett to stay in Ord.

It seems the Quiz publisher referred to Oscar as "Leif Ericson" and that's what did the damage. For Leif was a Norseman, and Oscar is not, Oscar is half Swede and half Dane! And is he insulted.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Bartlett and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Nelson took a day's trip to Duluth this past week and enjoyed it immensely. The men were particularly interested, because they located the world's largest dunker. They report that the big polar bears, ten foot tall, white ones from the north, take three slices of bread at a time from their meal supply, slap it in the water, slap it out again and swallow it as one bite.

The Bartlett's like it up here very much. They fish constantly, and Mrs. Bartlett likes it as well as her husband. I didn't know this Ord plover fan was such an ardent fisherman, but she goes out with her husband and their son-in-law, and they stay patiently on one bar for hours, whether they catch anything or not.

At present, the fishing is fine but the catching very poor.

I know Olga Vodehnal's Valley county friends will want to hear about her latest. She is always up to something. Last summer Olga learned to swim up here, and got so she could dive and pop up and have more fun than a fish in the water. She always swam in a bathing suit, however, taking time to make this change.

This summer, she went in clothes and all, rather by accident. Coming in from a bluegill stream, with Cere, she had stepped out of the boat once on the dock, but got back in the boat for a minute. Then on her second exit she neglected to look for the dock before she put her foot on it, with the result that she walked into the lake, at about a three or four foot depth. We all laughed, Olga too.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Touring up and down the Nebraska colony here on Cullen Lake, Minn., I collected some recipes of which the owners were very proud. Among those they bragged on, and I feel sure the recipes are worth bragging on, are the following. Since they were collected from dandy cooks, you will want to keep the ones below and try them out on your family:

Sour Cream Cookies.
Combine one cup butter, two cups sugar, two eggs, and two-thirds cup sour cream. Use soda according to the cream, usually one teaspoon is the correct amount. Add flour enough to make a soft dough, flavoring with vanilla or your favorite flavor. Roll out, cut in rounds. Sprinkle with sugar, roll lightly again, and bake. Mrs. L. B. Fenner, Burwell.

Sunshine Strawberry Preserves.
Wash and clean the strawberries. Weigh them and use one pound of sugar to one pound of berries. Put the sugar in a kettle with enough water to moisten the bottom of the kettle. Let it boil until clear. Add the strawberries and let come to a rolling boil. Take off and let settle down. Let boil up again. Remove from fire and dip the berries carefully off into shallow dishes. Cover with a couple of thicknesses of fine mosquito net, set in the sun for three days. Add the strawberry juice to the berries as it evaporates. Can cold in sterilized jars. Mrs. L. B. Fenner, Burwell.

Ginger Cookies.
Cream together one cup butter or half butter, half shortening, with one cup brown sugar. Put in one-half cup white sugar and fill the cup with sorghum. Beat in two eggs, add one tablespoon cream, preferably sour, with one teaspoon soda, beaten into it. Put in two teaspoons ginger, one teaspoon cinnamon, one sprinkle of cloves, one sprinkle of nutmeg, and enough flour to stiffen, generally about five cups. Put in a pan in the ice box for a few hours, then slice from the end of the roll and bake. One-half cup chopped nuts is a desirable addition to these cookies too. They have a delicate ginger flavor.

Mrs. J. E. Gelow, Grand Island.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Jake:

More or Less Panegyric. Probably the sickness and in-temperment in the hospital of Dr. Hemphill has caused more concern and inquiries in this section of the country than any case of sickness for many years. In fact it is doubted if there is a man in this section of the country who is better known.

First having been confined to his home, with pains that he said morphine would not soften, then the removal to Weekes' hospital (some said to get him away from so many callers), then the arriving of his two doctor sons from Oklahoma, and they hurriedly trekking him off to Kansas City, has all caused untold speculation and concern. Repeatedly it has been told he was dead, or dying. No one in town seemed to know of his welfare so as to correctly inform the many people for miles around who call daily as well as the home folks.

The last reports are that he is improving, and Dr. Weekes wants it definitely understood his diagnosis was the same as was given at Kansas City.

And right now, we may as well tell a little about this well known personage, this country doctor, should there be a reader of the paper who does not know. For many years he has been one of the leading doctors in the county. So long has he been established that he is more or less a fixture throughout a great radius around North Loup. So many confinement cases has he had that the people he has helped into the world would make a city like Ord. So many times has he been called during times of travail that the safety of the community, we feel, rests with him. We are all uneasy when he is gone.

In diagnosis, he is slow to commit himself. In fact he is so slow and non-committal that disgust is registered frequently. But it is a standing opinion that when he finally concludes what the trouble is, he is almost sure to be right. In fact he has the reputation of being one of the best diagnosticians in the state.

So much experience has he had that some say he has become hardened to trivial ailments. He will not grant this to be so, but it is generally conceded, when a person is seriously sick, and Dr. Hemphill is in earnest, he is as good as lives.

Although he worked his way through college splitting wood he financed his two sons through medical colleges, and educated his daughter equally. He said he was giving them something no one could take away.

He is one of North Loup's most loyal citizens. He has served on nearly every board in the country. He is a constant supporter of all its public endeavors in a financial way. He is a conscientious republican, and one of the staunchest members of the S. D. Baptist church.

He never has charged a preacher for his services and never refused to go to sickness when called regardless of whether he expected any pay, or how much the patient owed him.

He Wants to Know.
A five year old nephew is visiting his cousin Dick from the city of Long Beach. He is eager to learn the farming business. When milking he asked, "How much do these cows hold?" "Which one gives the cream?" "And 'Do you milk the horses?'" After Dick and he had gone to the pasture for the cows and returned, he came to me and reported, "We had an awfully hard time getting them in, Uncle George (first time I was ever called that) We had to get a whip and whip 'em. Then they toddled right along."

A Liar's Club.
Julius Schoning admitted he was hard up. That is better than some folks anyway. He said he hated to miss the Quiz, and his time had expired, but he didn't have the dollar.
He said he would make a proposition. He and I would both ponder over it for a few weeks. Then we would both see who could tell the biggest lie. If he told the biggest one, I'd give him the paper. If mine was the biggest he'd pay.
He should really pay double, but I took him on anyway at his proposition, and we decided Leggett should be the judge. He told me before we parted that he presumed I'd win because I had so much practice.

Random Thoughts.
An afternoon party of women the other day was reported by the guests to have been a hot time. A spice and medicine man reported that I am spoiling his business. When the ladies see a man coming into the yard they think it is the Rovin' Reporter and hide. Stark reminders of the drouth—those trees with naked limbs. Do I recall, during the war, of some official requiring us to make tight bottoms on our racks so as to save every kernel of grain? To eliminate a shortage.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

The annual county convention of the W. C. T. U. was held at the Methodist church. State president, Mrs. Mamie M. Claffin was present to deliver the address. Following the program, a reception was given for Mr. and Mrs. Claffin.

Jim Ferguson, long time resident of Ord, died of cancer. His death occurred at North Loup. William J. Ramsey and Miss Arthella Lowe were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Lowe of Wabach. They made their immediate home on the Dowhower property near Ord. The Bohemian cemetery society, which has owned a cemetery on the high hill southwest of Ord, bought a five-acre tract west of what was then the Ord cemetery. Mrs. Bessie Zablouill and Joe Viner were married at Burwell. A big celebration was held at Woodman hall in the honor of the event that evening.

Madams A. J. Firkins, Clark Lamberton, A. F. Kosmata and Etha Timm entertained at a Kensington for 150 guests. The Kensington was held on the lawn of the Firkins home.

25 Years Ago This Week.

The amount of corn planted in 1910 was 6,477,282 acres, with a harvest of 169,179,137 bushels, valued at $98,123,871. If loaded on standard sized freight cars, it would make a train extending from Chicago to Denver, with 172 miles of cars still laying on side tracks. The value of the wheat crop was about $46,000,000, and the number of bushes was 50,313,600.

A rain is badly needed in this section of the country, the rainfall this year being about half the normal amount.

Anna Kerestine Dundersen died at Ord at the age of 60 years, and 11 months. In 1865 she was married to Hans Thusen. Surviving her were five children.

Owen Conway of Scotia and Miss Gladys Browning of Ord were married at Grand Island.

A Tough Old Bird
Five Billions More?
News of Hogs
Submarines Wanted

Amos R. E. Pinchot, who has left sure and thinks, utters profound truth writing to one of the "professionals."

"Capitalism is a tough old bird, that will live a good deal longer than any of us will." Capitalism, which means government by organized dollars and industry, instead of organized soldiers, will last longer than the present generation, longer than this century. Capitalism is the new financial feudalism that replaced military feudalism. There is no reason why it should not last as long as military feudalism lasted, many centuries.

Senator Borah, one of the senate's able men, predicts that congress will sit until November 1, and that five thousand one hundred and twenty millions more will be appropriated for immediate spending. That would make about an even ten billions in extra appropriation for this year.

Two thousand one hundred and twenty millions of the money would pay the soldiers' bonus in "greenbacks," and three thousand millions would be used to take up mortgages on farms.

"Hogs sell up to $10.10, best price since September, 1930." That comes from Kansas City—ten dollars and ten cents for a hog weighing one hundred pounds. That may not mean much to you; it means much to the farmers that raise hogs. It also has meaning for housekeepers that buy sausages.

For some mysterious reason, when pork prices go up 10 per cent sausage prices go up 100 per cent.

Rear Admiral Yates Stirling, Jr., commanding Brooklyn navy yard, says America needs long-range submarines to protect our interests in the Pacific.

Since 1913, when sweet peace returned, wise Japan, according to Admiral Stirling, has built 64 submarines, including 27 of long range, each carrying six torpedo tubes, powerful guns, able to cross the Pacific and return without refueling. Japan has also a special fleet of eight submarines for placing destructive ocean mines, four of them able to operate 5,000 miles from their base. Each could place 45 bombs in the path of enemy shipping.

Newell P. Sherman, choir singer, Boy Scout master, fell in love with a girl sixteen, admits that to make his way clear he upset a canoe, throwing the mother of his two children into the water, kept pushing her away from the boat until she sank and drowned. This young gentleman is 6 feet 4 inches tall, but the electric chair can doubtless be arranged to fit him.

You will hope that no tender-hearted parole board will say, "He ought to have another chance." One chance to drown the mother of your two children seems enough.

Home reports Fascist excitement because "Japan assumes the role of Abyssinian champion."

Mussolini's press says Japan sets herself up as leader of Asiatic and African peoples, "against the civilization and culture of the white race."

A Fascist newspaper calls Japan "the enemy of Europe and America, dreaming of world conquest." That seems to be a keg of powder with only a spark lacking.

Scientists experimenting with guinea pigs take one or ten or a hundred guinea pigs, never all the guinea pigs at once.

College professors, union labor leaders, convinced of their ability to invent a better government, gentlemen who believe in no government at all, and other experimenters, should select a definite number of American guinea pigs for experiment, not practice on the 130,000,000 all at once.

Miss Margaret McDermott, splinter lady of Chicago, left $25,000 for an old spitz dog. Many write to the executors saying they simply "adore animals," especially spitz dogs, and would like to take care of "Fet" in return for the income of $25,000.

That interests men that leave large fortunes to daughters or sons. Fortune hunters from abroad are always ready to spend money left to daughters, and scheming ladies, foreign or native, are ready to help a young gentleman spend his inherited money, as recently illustrated in a certain Ryan case.

Arcadia Couple Celebrate In Honor Of Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Van Dyke of Arcadia celebrated their Golden wedding anniversary Sunday, July 21 at a family covered dish dinner, held on the lawn of their home. Four long tables beautifully decorated with garden bouquets, were placed on the lawn, and the dinner was served, cafeteria style.

The wedding cake was attractively decorated with a golden arch, under which stood a miniature bride and groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke were married at Gibbon by Rev. Hulburst in 1885. 19 years of their married life were spent near Shelton, after which they moved to Colorado for six years.

Five years were spent on a ranch in Sherman County and the remaining years on a farm near Broken Bow until in March, when they moved to Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke were blessed with ten children, seven of whom are living at the present time.

Two children, Mrs. Inez Neal and Edgar Van Dyke were unable to be present to celebrate the occasion.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Van Dyke are Mrs. Inez Neal of Boone, Ia. Edger Lof, of Salem, Ore., Mrs. Ruth Adame, Ralph and Sidney and Sidney Ven Dyke, all of Broken Bow, Mrs. Dorothy Sloggett and Loyal, jr. of Arcadia.

A daughter, Blanche, died in infancy, Mrs. Clara Wirz passed away in 1927 and a son, Robert died in 1930.

Also included among the guests were Mrs. Sarah Van Dyke of Shelton, who prepared the wedding dinner fifty years ago, an uncle, Jim Hall, 86, of Callaway, and Mr. Van Dyke's only living sister, Mrs. Winnie McAllen of Warren, Ohio.

Over 100 guests were present to enjoy the bounteous dinner and many more friends called in the afternoon to extend their best wishes to this happily married couple.

Mrs. D. P. Lee went to Fort Collins, Colo., last Saturday where she will visit her son, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee and attend the wedding of her son Miles. Allen Lee, who has been visiting with his grandmother most of this vacation returned to his home with her.

Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Cruikshank entertained Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Walgreen and Marjory of Benedict, Neb., at dinner Monday.

Word was received of the arrival of a boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Evans of Los Angeles, Calif., on July 25th.

Kirby-Wilson.

Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wilson received word of the marriage of their son John to Miss Wanda Kirby of Fresno, Calif., at her home with close relatives present. John has been employed with Montgomery Ward & Co., at Petaluma, Calif. The marriage occurred July 16th.

Ritzly Room 4-H Club.

Virginia Davis was hostess to the Ritzly Room 4-H club Thursday, July 25, with all members and one visitor present.

The business meeting was held and the refinishing of furniture was discussed, also suitable curtains for the girls' room. During the remainder of the meeting we discussed demonstration and judging. We judged pictures and picture frames.

After the meeting light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Jeanette Clements, Thursday August 1.

Virginia Davis, News Reporter.

Tuesday morning R. W. Haas, Emil Darges, and Eugene Puncchar left for Omaha where Mr. Darges bought a new Ford car, returning to Ord Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Jorgensen and Kenneth and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Manchester called at Mel Bowers' Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook and children were at Jim Cook's Sunday evening.

Mrs. Iona Leach and children drove to Shelton Sunday to take Mrs. Virgil Adamson and baby down. Sunday evening Pearl and Virgil left for Southernland where Virgil has work on a dam.

Wilberta Rendell has been visiting her sister Mrs. Paul Hayes.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Collins had a picnic at the Loup City park Sunday.

Ayers-Lee.

In the State Journal appeared a picture of Miss Opal Ayers of Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Ayers of Sabetha, Kansas, who was married Sunday, July 27, to Miles N. Lee of Broken Bow, son of Mrs. D. R. Lee of Arcadia. The ceremony took place at 1:00 o'clock at Ft. Collins, Colo. The bride wore a jacket dress of yellow crepe with hat and gloves to match.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska for three years and is a member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority. She taught school at Arcadia for three years and has been working in the department of agriculture at the state capitol for the past two years. During her residence in Lincoln, Miss Ayers made her home with her aunt, Mrs. S. K. Ayers and while teaching in Arcadia made her home with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Baird and family. Mr. Lee was graduated from the university law college and is practicing law at Broken Bow where the couple will reside.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee's many friends wish to extend to them congratulations and good wishes for a happy wedded life.

Winnie Mabel Russell.

Winnie Mabel Larson was born on a farm east of St. Edward in Platte county, Nebraska, November 26, 1884 and passed away at her home in Arcadia, Neb., July 27, 1935 at the age of 50 years. 8 months and 1 day, after an illness of 2 weeks. She was united in marriage to Fred J. Russell of Monroe, Neb., Dec. 11, 1901. They resided at Monroe for a year after which they moved to Arcadia where they have made their home since.

She leaves to mourn her going her husband, five living children, Ora, Dwain, Alberta, Ada and Winnifred, all of Arcadia and three grandchildren, Milo and Troy Woody and Jean Russell. One daughter, Mrs. Paul Woody preceded her in death in 1930. Six sisters, Mrs. Ida Watts and Mrs. Tillie Watts, both of Genoa, Calif., Mrs. Tom Hill of Denver, Colo., Mrs. Eva Perkins of Omaha, Neb., Mrs. Virgil Atkins of Sidney, Neb., and three brothers, Frank Larson of Genoa, Joe of Loretta, and Harry of St. Edward, mourn her passing. A sister, Mrs. Ed Watts, and one brother, Bernie passed away some time ago.

She was very active in the Up-to-Date club, the W. C. T. U., and the Congregational Ladies Aid. As a devoted wife and mother she will be greatly missed in the home and community at large.

Funeral services were held at the Congregational church Monday afternoon in charge of Rev. Burligh, former pastor of this church. Music was furnished by a sextette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Weddel, Mrs. Cecil Weddel, Mrs. Edith Bossen, Mrs. Brownie Barger and Mr. Grant Cruikshank. Pallbearers were C. H. Downing, C. C. Hawthorne, Cash Routh, L. P. Fenster, Brady Masters and George Parker. The Up-to-Date club marched in the body. Interment was made in the Arcadia cemetery.

Nebraska's BIG RODEO

August 6 is entry day only and there will be no program that day.

For the following three days, there is an unusual array of arena events, for besides the usual roping, bulldogging, tying, bucking and other exciting rodeo events, there will be the Sioux Indians, the horse racing under Pari-Mutual permit and Ole Graham's Juvenile Trick Riders and Equestrian Acrobats.

And the big night show. Don't forget that. It, alone, will be worth several times the cost of admission, with its Bands, Dances, Carnival, Indian Dances, Trick Riding, etc.

City Cemetery to be a Real Beauty Spot

A water system is now being installed in the cemetery and, when completed it will be possible to water nearly every lot. The work will progress as there are funds available to take care of the expense.

There are not so many cemeteries in Nebraska that have city water service and lot owners should take advantage of this improvement and keep their lots in a condition that will help make the cemetery beautiful. The caretaker (Mr. Barnard) now has the roadways and perpetual upkeep lots in fine shape but there are a few lots that have grown up to Russian thistles and weeds and detract very much from the general appearance of the cemetery. Every lot owner can do their bit by keeping their lot looking nice or arranging with Mr. Barnard to have it watered and kept up.

Sunday School Class Hold Reunion

Among the early settlers on Davis Creek of over fifty years ago, were the following families: Marsh Van Kirks, from Texas, Joe Clarke, from Illinois, Jim Wheatcrafts from Iowa, Vol Earnests from Ohio, and Ed Houtbys from Iowa. These five families were represented by their daughters in a Sunday school class which was organized about three years later. The class included Alice Van Kirk, Lucy Clark, Della Wheatcraft, Blanch Earnest, and Dollie Houtby. It was taught by Mrs. Andy Friend, and met in the old school house. All of these girls grew to womanhood, married, and established homes in Valles county, and all of them are still residents of this county except one, Mrs. C. O. Earnest of San Diego, California.

Sunday school at ten. Morning worship at eleven.
Union evening service on the lawn of the U. B. church at 8 o'clock. Rev. McCarthy will preach.
The officers of the United Brethren church have prepared some large floodlights on the roofs of church and parsonage, to light the lawn for the Sunday night union services. This is a decided improvement, as it gives plenty of light, and does not attract the bugs which usually come when lights are hung nearer the ground.
Our Sunday school and church congregation is keeping up in a fine way, through these summer months. A number of visitors were present last week. We appreciate the fact that many people bring their guests to church with them.

Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Presbyterian Church Notes.
Sunday school at 10:00 A. M. Morning worship, 10:45. Subject, "The Christ and the Gospels". Young people's meeting at 7:00 P. M. Come and bring your Bible. Arvella Benjamin will be the leader.
Prayer services Tuesday at 7:30 P. M.

Choir practice Friday at 7:30. Wednesday, August 7, the Missionary society meets at the home of Mrs. Will Ollis at 2:30. At 6:30 the families gather for a covered dish supper. Members are asked to bring their gifts for the "White Cross". There will be a free will offering.

Pentecostal Church Notes
There will be no church service next Sunday morning or Sunday night as the pastor will be at our yearly camp meeting in Hastings, Nebr. Let us go if possible. Everyone who is not going, remember our Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Also there will be leaders to take charge at the Wednesday night service 8:00 and the young people's meeting on Friday night. We will try to be back for Sunday, Aug. 11. Everyone remember these services.
Remember our camp meeting, August 1-11 in Hastings, Nebr., in Prospect park.
Earl Cummings, Pastor.

Christian Church.
Our sermon subject next Sunday morning will be "The Great Sun". A chart sermon. In the evening at the union service Mr. McCarthy will preach, subject, "The Stones of the Temple". Illustrated by a model.
Mid-week Bible study Thursday evening.
Bible school at 10 A. M.
All had a good time at the picnic.
The fifth district convention will be held in our church next Wednesday. Let us all be there.

Christian Science Services.
The subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, August 4, is "Love".
The Golden Text is from Jeremiah 31:3: "The Lord hath appeared of old unto me, saying, Yea, I have loved thee with an everlasting love: therefore with loving kindness have I drawn thee."
A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from 1 John 4:16: "And we have known and believed the love that God hath to us: God is love; and he that dwelleth in love dwelleth in God and God in him."
A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "That God is a corporeal being, nobody can truly affirm. The Bible represents Him as saying: "Thou canst not see My face; for there shall no man see Me and live". Not materially but spiritually we know Him as divine Mind, as Life, Truth and Love." (page 140).

Madison, Nebr., July 27. This is Saturday and many of the boys have taken advantage of the fact to go home.

Since my last letter I have been promoted to orderly in the hospital. The catch to it is that we have no hospital, the temporary quarters being set up in the same room in which the supply room and sergeant's sleeping quarters are located.

It may be of interest to you people to know just what kind of men are here. I helped make out a list of the men for the hospital yesterday and while I was at it I went over the list to determine the ages of the men present.

Edward F. Maybee of this company has the honor of being the only veteran from a list of nine to successfully pass the senior life saving tests put on at Krug park, Omaha, under the auspices of the Nebraska Red Cross.

The weather is very dry here now, and a few more days like the past three, will do a lot of damage to the corn, which is not hurt at all now.

Dear Editor: I came to Aberdeen, Washington a year ago and have seen many beautiful places of interest, one of which I will describe, "Mt. Rainier", one of Washington's most beautiful scenes.

kept its place we did not mind driving through those forest lands and flower laden mountain sides.

As we drove on a few miles we came upon a large bridge which spanned a large water fall the Narada Falls, this was one of the most beautiful sights of the highway.

Water! one could stop anywhere along the highway and take your cup and just put it under a little stream that trickled its way downward to some unknown place.

We drove through this valley as far as we could go with the car to the Paradise Inn. This is a very interesting place and is not very far from the top of the mountain.

North Loup News

Mrs. C. B. Clark and Nettie arrived home from Boulder, Colo., Tuesday evening.

Margaret Schudel has been having a vacation from her work in Lincoln. She has been visiting relatives and friends in Scotia and North Loup. She returned to Lincoln Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Hatfield and children of Spalding spent a few days last week with Mr. and Mrs. John Goodrich.

Mrs. Myra Gowen entertained a few friends Thursday afternoon at a Kensington in honor of her daughter, Nola Wredenburgh. Those present were Ruth L. Babcock, Jessie S. Babcock, Eunice Rood, Mildred Davis, Addie and Geraldine Gowen, Inez Hutchins and Jo Hutchins.

Art and Inez Hutchins drove to Grand Island Thursday evening to meet Irma Hutchins.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutton came from Salem, W. Va., last Wednesday to spend a week with their daughter, Mrs. Harley Warren. Miss Rella Hickman, close friend of Mrs. Warren came with them, as did also Katherine and Marjorie Greene, who have been attending college in Salem the past year. The Greene girls are house guests of their grandmother, Mrs. Emma Greene.

Mr. and Mrs. L. O. Greene, Herbert and Donald, drove up from Hagler Friday to see Katharine and Marjorie. They are staying at Mrs. Emma Greene's.

The D. R. Sandy family returned late Saturday night. They had cut their trip short to be back for chautauqua.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Noll, Avery and Nadine spent Sunday with the George Hutchins family. Beecher VanHorn of Tekamah spent the week end with home folks. He is driving a new Plymouth car.

The Horace Crandalls of Curtis have been visiting relatives in Ord and North Loup. Sunday the Horace Crandall family and Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Crandall were dinner guests of Mrs. Dena Lewis and Mrs. Davis at Ord.

Mrs. Ruth Sporleder surprised the adult members of the Babcock family when she telephoned from St. Paul Sunday night. She had come from Albuquerque, N. M., to Denver where she visited friends for a few days, then came as far as St. Paul by bus. The children of the Babcock families had known Ruth was coming and all of them, even Phyllis, Joe and Belta, had succeeded in keeping the secret, so that the older members of the family were really surprised.

The Babcock, Gowen and L. O. Greene families had a picnic supper on the Erlo Babcock lawn Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stephens of East Orange, N. J., are house guests of Mr. Stephens' parents, Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Stephens.

Last Tuesday night the South Side Business Men played the North Side and won 15-3. Dr. Dallam was the manager for the South Side and Bates Copeland for the North Side.

Mary T. Davis and Eunice Rood went to Edison Monday on business. Myrtle Lewis and a nurse friend brought Dena Lewis back from Dodge Center, Minn., last week arriving in Ord Friday afternoon. Miss Lewis and her friend are nurses in South Dakota and have been on a vacation trip including Dodge Center. After calling at the Roy Lewis and Frances Maxson homes Friday night they left Saturday morning for South Dakota.

In a freak game played at North Loup last Sunday North Loup defeated Burwell by a score of two to one. The game was a pitchers' battle from the start. Burwell only getting one hit and North Loup three. There were no earned runs. Kelly Barber the second man at bat in the first inning got a clean single through second but died on first. From then on until the sixth there was no semblance of either a hit or run. Burwell got one man as far as third in the second inning, when Parks walked, stole second and went to third on a fielders choice. In the sixth Barber got life on an error at first and went to second on the overthrow. Noyes hit a high fly to the outfield and Barber scored when the fielder dropped the ball. In the first of the seventh Breneman got a clean single. Burwell's only hit and stole second. Sheldon threw wild to second and he went to third and scored on Knapp's error trying to catch him at third. North Loup scored their second run in the seventh when Chadwick singled, went clear to third on Faudt's sacrifice and scored when an error was made on Cress' easy roller. That finished the scoring. Batteries were: Burwell, Graves and F. Partridge; North Loup, Sheldon and Hutchins.

The first two nights of the North Loup Home Talent chautauqua were well attended and the performances have been up to the regular high standard of previous years.

Howard Fox of Gary, Indiana, arrived in North Loup early Monday morning for a visit with his mother Mrs. Charles White and other relatives and friends.

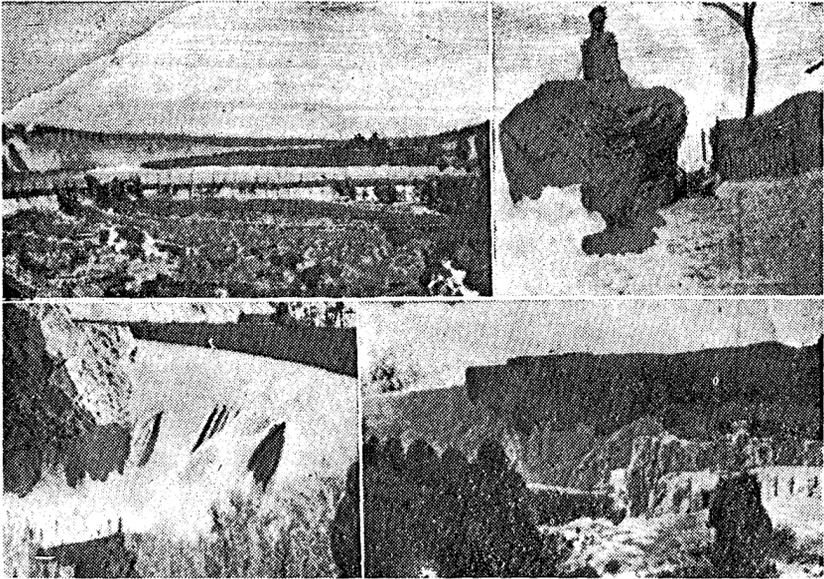

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Fisher and son Gordon came from York to attend the chautauqua and visit with North Loup people.

When Eunice Rood and Mary T. Davis came back from Edison Monday evening Lida Rich came back with them. She was a guest of the Otto Bartz' until Wednesday evening when she went to Burwell to visit the Ed Helbig's.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Sayre and Jeannette left early Monday morning for a Canadian trip.

Walt Desch is a deliberate fellow so when he recently took a trip to Nampa, Idaho to visit his brother, S. H. Desch, he took plenty of time for the trip and attempted to see as much of the crops and country and places of interest as possible. He had with him his sister, and her daughter, Mrs. Archer and Miss Ruth of Omaha and it was their first trip west and over the mountains which was an added reason for seeing things. Wait, himself, has made the trip 11 times, usually driving. The first day they made it to Ping Bluffs, Wyoming. Wait says the finest crops he ever saw was between Arnold and North Platte, although it was getting dry this side of Broken Bow. The second night was spent at Rock Springs, Wyoming. The worst roads encountered on the trip, were in western Nebraska and he says the roads across Wyoming are perfect. The third day from Ord they drove into Twin Falls, Idaho where they visited with Rolin Brickner, son of Charley. His wife is a daughter of the Alford Carleus of Ord. Rollin, or "Mike" as he is called, has a good job in a creamery.

Out of Twin Falls Walt showed his passengers the high Jerome bridge over the Snake river. It is 365 feet high, said to be the highest bridge in the world. A few years ago an autoist missed the bridge, went over the bank into the river and they are still hunting for him and his car. They then drove to Boise and through the wonderful park, the zoo the state capitol and the state museum, then the remainder of the trip, 20 miles to Nampa where they spent a week visiting their brother who is a business man there. They saw and talked with Dow Harris, employed by the Nampa Credit association and with Ozis Timm, formerly in the barber business in Ord. They had left Andy Cook at Gooding where Mrs. Cook had been since spring, visiting the Ray Cook family. They visited Shoshone Falls near Twin Falls on the Snake. They saw the Arrowhead dam on the Boise river 25 miles below Boise and they took a picture of Miss Ruth on top of the great rock on Sherman Hill in Wyoming, the highest point being 7,500 feet above sea level.

On the way home they got into Salt Lake City on Sunday and visited the Mormon temple. Wait says the Salt River valley is the most beautiful he ever saw. There is a wonderful crop of grain of all kinds, also fruit of all kinds in great abundance. At Emmet, black sweet cherries are raised and 68 cars of them shipped from there alone this season. The cherry crop was about over when they were there. The cherries could be purchased of dealers there. Wait says, at 6 cents a lb, he buying some at that price to ship home. Fruit prices, generally, are low, probably due partly to the great abundance.

—Albert Haught was a visitor at Mrs. C. C. Haught's Monday afternoon.

—Will Gabriel, Mrs. G. C. Haught, Roland and Ruth Haught spent last Thursday with Will's aunt, Mrs. E. E. Williams and family of Scotia.

—Mrs. Roy Nelson spent the week end visiting her mother, Mrs. C. C. Haught and sister Ruth and her two brothers of Omaha, Roland Haught and Will Gabriel.

—Misses Mildred Jacobsen and Erma Gossard were in Ord visiting Thursday. Miss Gossard was a guest Thursday night in the Alvin Hill home, Miss Jacobsen staying in the George Parkins home. Miss Jacobsen and Miss Gossard attended the Business and Professional Women's club picnic held at the Val Pullen home Thursday evening. Friday morning they left for Broken Bow.

—Miss Margaret Armstrong came up from Hastings Monday to visit for several days in the Will Ollis home.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Huggins and son, Bill of Omaha came Friday evening to visit until Sunday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. James Milford and daughter.

Curious Problem Presented in Ethiopia

(Written by one of the leading students of everyday problems).

The reader who is trying to make something out of the world situation can well afford to turn to the map of Africa on this page and figure out to his own satisfaction how and why Europe has so complete control.

If we turn to the statistics of the British government we come upon "British South Africa," "British East Africa," "British West Africa" and "Minor African Possessions."

If we turn to the statistics of France we come upon "Algeria," "Tunisia," "French Equatorial Africa," "Cameroon," "Somalia," "Madagascar," "If we turn to Italy it is "Eritrea," "Tripolitania and Cyrenaica."

Several reasons are given why in this almost universal sweep down over Africa Ethiopia (Abyssinia) was not taken, why it is the only area in Africa not controlled by Europe, if we look on Egypt as under British control. Here is the division of Africa agreed upon in the Versailles treaty, as given in the Encyclopedia Britannica:

	Square miles
France	4,200,000
Britain	3,984,000
Belgium	980,000
Portugal	788,000
Italy	680,000
Egypt	350,000
Ethiopia	350,000
Spain	140,000
Liberia	40,000

When we consider that the total area of the North American continent is given at 8,000,000 square miles, while Africa is put at 11,500,000 we can have some adequate notion of just what is involved in this European occupation, and understand why Italy under Mussolini feels like insisting on its share.

Of course what has happened in Africa is precisely what happened in North and South America both of which, including Central America, are wholly under the domination of the European races. Nor were the Europeans very particular about how they occupied the new western world, so long as they occupied it. The history of our American disposal of the Indian would not look so very well even in contrast with what Europe has done and is still doing in Africa.

The cold biological fact seems to be that for some reason all the European groups were dominating, and began to spread. They took all of North and South America and substantially all of Africa, and today all of Asia directly or indirectly by Japan and parts of China. Geographically the Japanese stand in Asia about as the Ethiopians stand in Africa, but in other ways the Japanese are much more like the Europeans, dominating and spreading. The feeling is that they will soon be in control of Asia if some outbreak does not bring either Russia or the United States into the situation.

Speaking of the Japanese racially, it is well to remember that they offered to prove to our supreme court that they are in fact descendants of a branch of the Nordics, one-half of whom went over into Scandinavia and the other half east to the Japanese islands. Our supreme court refused to interpret the word "white" in that sense but insisted on having it mean what it means in our common speech. But the Japanese offered to prove their origin among what we call the white races, which ought to be remembered when we consider how like the Europeans they are in their ambitions and in their organization.

Ethiopia (the Encyclopedia Britannica prefers Abyssinia but says "officially Ethiopia") is a most peculiar spot racially and in every other way. First of all it is mountainous which makes it hard for an invading army. If Italy actually opens war it will be a costly war. Being mountainous Ethiopia has a mountainous people and in all history the mountainous peoples have been hardest to subdue. Half larger than the state of Texas, with an estimated 10 millions of people, Ethiopia is not to be taken too lightly.

Racially the Ethiopians seem to be more like the Egyptians than like the other colored races of the south and central parts. Religiously they are Christians of a primitive type known as the Coptic sect, a sect which confines education exclusively to the clergy. In the earlier times Egypt and Ethiopia were under the same ruler and the connection was "very intimate." The Britannica says: "In early times the Hebrews had commercial intercourse with the Ethiopians, the ancient tradition being that the Queen of Sheba who visited King Solomon was a monarch of their country and from Menelik, son of Solomon and Sheba, the Ethiopians claim their royal descent."

Ethiopia was admitted to the League of Nations in 1923, after a decree making the slave trade punishable by death. Italy and Ethiopia are both members of the League and both signers of the Kellogg pact and it is hard to see how war can be justified until something has been done to release one or both parties from the obligation to submit their differences to League settlement.

There is a growing suspicion that Mussolini is encouraging trouble largely to keep his home people from growing restless. It is always easy to keep the home people united by stirring up a foreign war.

Whatever Mussolini's motive, he is beginning something that will not be ended at once, and may not be ended as he wishes or expects.

Dog Buried Eight Days Rescued by Boy Comrade
Santa Cruz, Calif.—A wire-haired dog, buried for eight days, was rescued here by his playmate, Jack English, nine, from death in a rabbit hole.

The boy and others searched for the dog for eight days without result. While visiting a remote part of a neighbor's yard the English boy heard a faint whine which seemed to come from underground. He investigated, and found a rabbit hole caved in. It was believed the dog pursued a rabbit too far into its hole.

VOL 15 NO. 19

North Loup Man's Will Is Contested By Widow, Brother

Will Wetzel's $15,000 Bequest To Stepdaughter Questioned In County Court Here.

An estate valued at $15,000, willed by the late William B. Wetzel, of North Loup, to his stepdaughter, Mrs. Vern W. Robbins, is at stake in Valley county court, suits contesting the validity of the will having been filed by Bert M. Hardenbrook, as guardian ad litem for Mr. Wetzel's widow, and Gus P. Wetzel, a brother of the deceased. A hearing on these suits was scheduled to be held before Judge John L. Andersen last Friday but was continued until September 6.

Mr. Wetzel passed away July 3 and a few days later his will, drawn about a year previously and witnessed by Dr. Charles Murphy and Tom Lanigan, both of Greeley, was presented for probate by Vern W. Robbins, who was named executor in the will.

Money To Stepdaughter.

Value of the estate was estimated at $15,000, of which $10,000 is in real estate and $5,000 in personal property. Only beneficiary named by Mr. Wetzel was his stepdaughter, Mrs. Laura B. Robbins, daughter of Mr. Wetzel's wife by a previous marriage. During the last years of his life she was as dear to him as his own daughter could have been, said Mr. Wetzel in the will. He mentions his wife, Abbie Wetzel, as being 79 years old and in ill health, physically and mentally, and therefore incompetent to administer her own affairs, which is given as his reason for leaving the entire estate to Mrs. Robbins. He expressed, in his will, his belief that Mrs. Robbins would continue to care for her mother throughout her lifetime.

Since, under Nebraska law, the widow is entitled to one-half of the estate when there are no living children, Mrs. Wetzel would seem to be entitled to one-half of this estate and to determine her status in the case, she never having been legally declared incompetent, the court appointed Attorney Hardenbrook to look after her interests.

Competency Challenged.

On July 23 he filed a document protesting admission of the will to probate. A few days later Gus P. Wetzel, who also is represented by Mr. Hardenbrook, also protested the will on the grounds that neither the widow, himself nor his children, who are next of kin to the deceased, were named as beneficiaries. Undue influence to induce William Wetzel to draw the will as he did also is alleged in these suits and it is claimed that the deceased being past 70 years old and in ill health, was not mentally competent at the time the will was drawn.

P. J. Barrett, of Greeley, is attorney for Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and will seek to establish validity of the will and have it admitted to probate. The continuance until September 6 was granted by Judge Andersen so that attorneys may secure depositions from the two witnesses, one of whom now lives in Albuquerque, N. M., and the other in Washington, D. C., as to the competency of the late Mr. Wetzel at the time the will was drawn.

This is the first contest case filed in Valley county in several years and both because of the size of the estate and the prominence of parties involved it is attracting much interest.

Motorcycle, Auto Collide, Two Hurt

Leonard "Spec" Ludington suffered a brain concussion and Joe Kreilek had a shoulder blade broken last Wednesday evening when the motorcycle on which they were riding collided with a car driven by Mrs. Joe Jirak at the corner of 20th and L streets in O. d. Young Ludington was most severely injured but is recovering.

The accident happened about 7:30 and was witnessed by several people. Mrs. Jirak accompanied by her young son, drove onto the L street pavement from the north just as the motorcycle driven by Ludington, with Kreilek on the baggage rack as passenger, approached on L street from the east. Both were going slowly and the motorcycle hit the rear bumper of the Jirak car.

Both men were thrown off the motorcycle, Ludington striking his head first on the paving. R. O. Hunter and Guy LeMasters, first to reach the scene of the crash, took them to the Ord hospital where they were attended by Dr. C. J. Miller. Both were taken to their own homes the same night. Neither Mrs. Jirak nor her son was hurt nor was the car greatly damaged. No attempt was made to fix responsibility for the accident.

Week-end guests of the Stanley McLain family were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Jewell of Lincoln.

Gilroy Truck Crashes on No. 16 Highway

Here is the Clayton Gilroy truck as it was hauled into Ord after a collision with a car driven by Carl Brandes, of Central City, at the junction of Highways Nos. 14 and 16 near that town last Thursday. The truck, loaded with popcorn, was being driven to Omaha by Mr. Gilroy. With him was his father, Sam Gilroy, who received numerous cuts and bruises about the head and body, one cut on the head requiring two stitches to close. Clayton received a gash on the forehead and body injuries. Mr. Brandes was shaken up badly.

Magazine Peddler Steals Watch, Is Caught By Woman

Ord Matron's Quick Thinking Results In Arrest Of Thief On Burglary Charges.

Arnold Weyman, 19, of New York City, is one magazine salesman who for the next year or so will not victimize women to whom he attempts to sell magazines. Tuesday afternoon he stole a gold watch from the C. E. Gilroy home and a few minutes later was lodged in county jail, captured and delivered over to Sheriff George Round by Mrs. Gilroy. Burglary charges were filed yesterday by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee and young Weyman has agreed to plead guilty. The penalty for this offense may be from 1 to 10 years in a state institution.

Walked Right In.

According to the tale told County Attorney Lee by the prisoner, he went to the Gilroy home Tuesday afternoon to sell magazines and immediately walked into the house and sat down in a chair. Magazine salesmen usually do this if the door isn't locked, he says, because housewives are distrustful and try to keep the peddler from entering.

"If we once get in it's hard for them to kick us out without listening to our story," he said. Mrs. Gilroy was at the Sam Gilroy home next door and when young Weyman discovered the house was deserted he proceeded to prowl around. On the top of a dresser in the bedroom he found a gold watch, which he promptly pocketed.

About this time Mrs. Gilroy returned home. Through a window she saw the man in the middle of the room but when she entered he had resumed his seat near the door and at once began his sales talk. Suspecting that he had stolen something she pretended to be unsuspecting and to be interested in his magazines, in the meantime inspecting the top of the dresser and noting that the watch was gone.

Do Not Resist.

"Come with me, young man," said Mrs. Gilroy, and marched him to the Sam Gilroy home where she called the sheriff. Weyman made no resistance. The watch was not found on his person when he was searched but later he admitted having dropped it in tall grass while Mrs. Gilroy was marching him next door and the watch was recovered.

A district court hearing probably will be held today.

150 Now Enrolled In Recreational Work of 9 Kinds

Swimming Classes Largest But Much Interest In Arts and Manual Training.

With classes organized in nine events, the enrollment of recreational classes in Ord is increasing daily, and now totals about 150. Classes are taught by capable instructors in manual training, handcrafts, swimming, basket weaving, knitting and sewing, tennis, golf, kittenball and art. Several changes have been made in the schedule and days have been set aside for special instruction in different sports. The schedule is: girls' handcraft from 2:00 to 3:30 at the Legion hall, girls' swimming from 3:30 to 5:00 everyday, boys' handcraft from

Burt Sell, 3 Sons, Are Convicted Of Trespass, Assault

Arcadia Men Found Guilty On Petty Charges By Two County Court Juries.

Another episode in the series of legal skirmishes in which members of the Sell family have been concerned took place in county court here Saturday when Elbert Sell, 20-year-old son of Burt, was convicted by a jury of assault and battery upon the person of N. A. Lewin, son-in-law of M. L. Fries. Notice of appeal to district court was given promptly by young Sell's attorney, John P. Misko.

The alleged assault occurred on the main street of Arcadia July 26, and young Sell was arrested that day by Marshal James Coons and held in jail there over night. The next day, upon complaint filed by Lewin, he was brought to Ord and pleaded not guilty to the charge, hearing being set for August 1. Later it was continued to August 3.

Jurymen Selected.

First move of Defense Attorney Misko was a demand for trial by jury, which was granted by Judge John L. Andersen. Jurymen chosen were L. J. Auble, Lawrence Mason, Robert Newton,

Johnson Barn Struck By Lightning, Burns

Arcadia—(Special)—The barn on the Cramer farm which is being farmed by James Johnson was struck by lightning Friday morning and burned to the ground. Three cows and one horse were killed, three horses were injured and thirty bushels of grain burned. One of the cows belonged to Mrs. George Duryea and was being kept by Mr. Johnson. One set of harness and a little grain that can be used as chicken feed was the only property saved from the barn.

Nursery School Is Closed For Repairs

The Ord nursery school closed Friday for the period of time needed to clean and repair the quarters they have occupied for the past two months.

Mrs. Ella Hughes, nurse, and Miss Mae Helleberg, teacher, have been overseeing arrangements for renovation of the quarters and repair of the equipment, waiting homes for the purpose of safeguarding the enrollees' health and making general arrangements for re-opening the center.

August 12 to September 7, inclusive, is the time set for a training period to be held in Lincoln. The classes are held for all directors, teachers, nurses and dietitians in nursery schools. Mrs. Andersen will be unable to attend on account of illness but Mrs. Hughes and Miss Helleberg will attend the entire session. The date of re-opening of the school will be announced later.

July 1935, Hot Month, Records Reveal

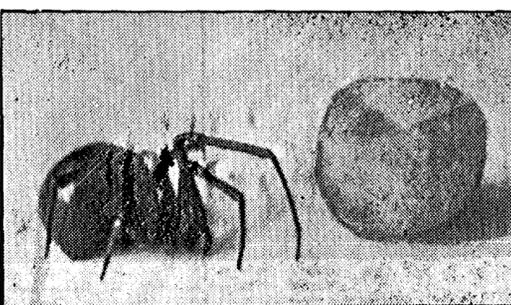

Only Five Days Was High Point Below 90; Average Almost As High As In 1934.

People who remained in Ord throughout the month of July this year don't need government records to prove to them that it was a hot month but for the benefit of subscribers living elsewhere the following temperature figures, secured from Horace Travis, government recorder for this vicinity, are printed. As a basis for comparison the figures for each day in July, 1934, which is commonly regarded as the hottest month in Ord's history, also are shown. These figures show the high point recorded by the thermometer for each day of the month.

July 1.....99	101
July 2.....94	98
July 3.....93	108
July 4.....93	89
July 5.....90	78
July 6.....87	72
July 7.....83	85
July 8.....96	102
July 9.....100	98
July 10.....84	97
July 11.....90	100
July 12.....87	103
July 13.....91	103
July 14.....91	102
July 15.....93	112
July 16.....96	110
July 17.....95	106
July 18.....92	104
July 19.....98	115
July 20.....91	110
July 21.....90	106
July 22.....84	104
July 23.....90	104
July 24.....100	100
July 25.....102	96
July 26.....106	81
July 27.....104	84
July 28.....104	91
July 29.....100	87
July 30.....100	93
July 31.....96	104

As this comparison shows on only eight days last month did the thermometer record temperatures 100 or higher whereas in July 1934, there were eighteen such days. Even so, the average temperature last month was almost as high as in July, 1934.

Spider Submits to Quiz Photographer

This black widow spider was found in an outdoor toilet in west Ord Sunday evening by Acel Vincent and was photographed by H. E. Jones, staff photographer for the Quiz. Beside her is shown her clutch of eggs. Poisonous black widow spiders made their first appearance in Nebraska last summer and are even more numerous this year. One man in the Loup valley has already been bitten by this insect and was very ill for several days. When you see a black, shiny spider like the above—watch out!

87 Men Taken Off FERA Relief List By Grain Harvest

Only 40 Employables Are Getting Relief Now, Says Kruml; WPA Takes Over Soon.

To the FERA in Valley county the small grain harvest has been a boon indeed for 87 men have been taken off relief temporarily because of the wealth of labor needed in harvesting activities, said Relief Director Frank Kruml Tuesday. Only about 40 employables are still on relief and most of them are women, there being only about 5 men still unemployed, he estimated.

FERA regulations, however, require that relief clients must be off the list for 30 days before their case cards can be closed so this gain in employment is only temporary, as many if not most of those now employed in harvest fields will need relief again within 30 days.

WPA To Take Over.

Within a month or six weeks FERA activity in this county will be ended, it is said, and the new WPA will take over. The plan is that all employables will be given work on WPA projects while unemployed will be cared for by the county, providing the county's financial condition is such that it can assume this burden. Federal assistance will be forthcoming if the load is too great for the county to carry.

At present there are eleven people employed in executive FERA work here and notice that their services are no longer required has already been issued to three of these, Director Kruml says. As the WPA takes over others will be released and when the WPA is fully organized here it is thought that four or five employables can handle the work. Joe Jennings, present FERA work director, will be in direct charge of the WPA program with Kruml as director of certification. To secure work on WPA projects people must be certified as being on the relief rolls, which work Kruml's office will do. Several tentative projects have been sent to district WPA authorities for approval.

Col. Art Goebel Does Sky Writing At Burwell Rodeo

Col. Arthur C. Goebel, winner of the Dole flight from San Francisco to the Hawaiian Islands in 1927 for which he was presented $25,000, was one of the greatest attractions at the Burwell rodeo this week. Flying a low-wing monoplane owned by the Phillips Petroleum Co., Goebel did sky-writing both yesterday and today, writing in smoke the words "Phillips 66" in letters one-half mile high, the entire slogan being four miles long.

Col. Goebel is one of the famous aviators of America and he was brought to Burwell through the efforts of Frank Piskorski, distributor of Phillips products in Ord and Burwell. So thrilled were people at his daring feats performed above the rodeo grounds that Mr. Piskorski is making an effort to bring Col. Goebel to Ord for the auto races in September.

Dean Oliver Married.

Relatives here have received word that Dean Oliver, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Oliver, was married last Wednesday, July 31, at Yuma, Ariz., to Mrs. Anna May Galle. They will make their home at Escondido, Calif., where Dean is a citrus fruit packer. The Oliver family formerly lived at Olean.

—Mrs. Will Misko and her son, Gerald Kelm are in Iowa visiting her relatives.

Ord Men Growing Beards To Boost Fair, Auto Races

Whisker Club Being Formed Now, All Valley County Men Are Eligible To Join.

If you see a man with a dirty-looking crop of whiskers on his face don't look down your nose at him with the idea that he has carelessly neglected to shave. Chances are he's a member of the Loup Valley Fair and Whisker Club and is growing a beard to help advertise the big Valley county fair and auto races to be held in Ord September 16, 17, 18 and 19.

Decision to form a Whisker Club was made in Ord early this week and already boosters have secured the signatures of about 100 Ord men who agree to last their beards grow until the last hour of the final day of the auto races.

Whisker Club agreements are being circulated by Jerry Petska and several other business men and it is hoped that 500 or more members can be secured. Not only Ord men but also men and boys of adjoining farm communities and other Valley county towns are invited to join. It is also planned to secure as members all traveling men who "make" Ord regularly.

All Types of Beards.

Although only about six weeks remain before fair time some wondrous whiskery growths should make their appearance before that time. Some members plan to grow full beards, others favor VanDyke effects or the type known as burnsides, still others will emulate Chester A. Arthur and not a few plan to grow sweeping "handlebar" moustaches to go with their stubby chins. The agreement that members sign requires them to sprout "either whole or half-beards", whatever a "half-beard" is.

Penalty for shaving, first offense will be a fine of $1.00 and a second offense will subject the member to an appearance before a kangaroo court which will devise and inflict suitable punishment.

Will Wear Badges.

It is planned to secure badges to be worn by all members, these badges setting forth that the wearer is a member in good standing of the Loup Valley Fair and Whisker Club and giving the dates of the Valley county fair. Each member will be asked to pay for his own badge.

From fines collected it is planned to award prizes for the best beards in evidence on the first day of the auto races.

Within the next few days Whisker Club members will meet to elect officers and plan a program of advertising the fair and auto races. Date and place of this meeting will be announced next week.

Early-Day Settler Of Geranium Twp. Answers Summons

Mrs. Antona Parkos Died Friday, Aug. 2, At Age of 70; Is Mourned by 7 Children.

Mrs. Antona Parkos passed away at the Ord hospital last Friday, following an illness of two years. She was brought to the hospital two or three days before from her home in Geranium where it was thought she could have better care than was possible at the home. At the time of her death Mrs. Parkos was a few months past 70 years of age.

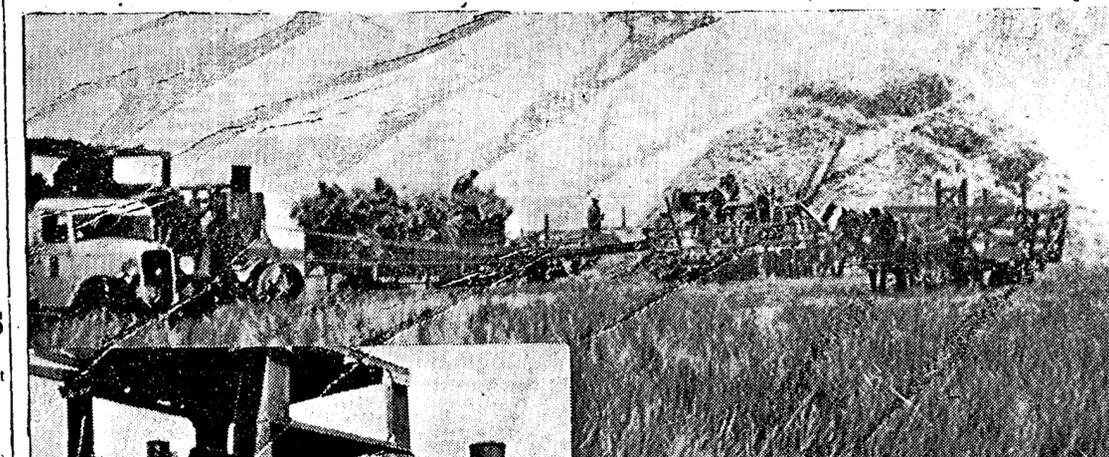

Marie Vernoch was born in the village of Zeusice, county of Caslav, Czechoslovakia, on June 8, 1865, coming to the United States soon afterwards with her parents. She was married to Albert Parkos in 1881 in Howard county, Mo., and they came at once to their homestead in Geranium township, this county, and that was the family home since. Mr. Parkos passed away about four years ago. He had taken the homestead in 1875.

Deceased was a devout member of the Geranium Catholic church and her funeral was held there at 9 a. m. Monday, August 5, with interment in the Geranium Catholic cemetery beside her husband and a son, Frank, deceased. Pallbearers were Ernest Parkos, Vencil Sedlacek, Albert Parkos, Jr., Matt Turek, Jr. Father Thies of Sargent had charge of the funeral services.

She is survived by the following children, all of this vicinity except one. They are Mrs. Antona (Matt) Turek, Albert Parkos (James) Sedlacek, John Parkos, Mrs. Anna Blah, of St. Paul, Neb., and Frank A. Parkos. There are also surviving brothers and sisters as follows: Mrs. Col.

Threshing Time! Crews Working Now in a Score of Communities

The picture above was taken on the Henry Benn farm north of town where wheat was being threshed last week. In a score of different communities all over Valley county similar work is under way this week. Wheat yields are, for the most part, disappointing but the yields of oats, barley and rye are very good where fields were not hit by hail. Note the enormous stack of straw at the right of the picture above.

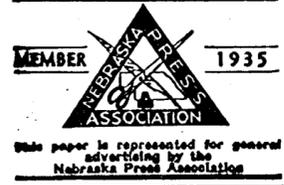

Below is shown Archie Keep, who operated the Avery 4-cylinder high-wheel threshing engine used on the Benn farm and others in that community. Archie also has been operating an old steamer south of Ord.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

The reason for the delay in all federal work is the red tape that has to be unwound, and there is no sense in it.

I wonder who should see that the automobile laws are enforced. I am thinking now, mainly, of the driving of cars without lights. Surely someone should have authority to warn violators; it must be the duty of someone to do this. I would like to know who.

Any evening and every evening I sit on my lawn in front of the Quiz office and see many cars pass, some with one light and no tall light, many with no tall light, some without a light of any kind. And trucks drive with only one light. I met two on a recent evening, both loaded heavily with stock, and each with only one light. It is dangerous. They are hard to meet. Some day a serious accident will happen and someone will be killed. Where will the responsibility be placed? It seems to me the people violating the automobile laws should be warned. A light bulb is not expensive and anyone able to buy gas can buy a bulb and protect the driving public by having his car in shape. Driving is dangerous enough at best.

The meanest person in the world is the person, man or woman, who will tell a scandalous thing about a person, then when faced and asked his or her authority, hide behind the statement, "I heard it."

As a rule the fellow who is always and eternally getting into trouble, thinks he is always right and the other fellow to blame. At least he always claims that.

The season is at hand when you will be starting the old daily paper. Remember that the Quiz wants to end in your subscription and get the small commission. It don't cost you any more.

And there are a lot of folks who expect to come in with some cash, as soon as threshing is over. We have been getting very little subscription and the whole overhead expense goes on every week.

Fred Howard admits that he came pretty near being the victim of a black widow while in Omaha recently.

There have been a number of lynchings recently, over the country. It would probably be safe to say that, in most cases, the reason is that justice is meted out so slowly in the courts. If a criminal has the money, with which to employ lawyers he can prolong his case almost indefinitely.

If enough of the voters decide, as some with whom I have recently talked, that Roosevelt is in reality as great a dictator as Hitler, and if the republicans nominate an acceptable man to the masses, then, in that case, Roosevelt will not be reelected in 1936. But there are a lot of "ifs" in the way.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Read It and Weep. An expert newspaper reporter is supposed to always state the facts and never his own ideas. The assumption is that the public cares nothing for his whippersnapper opinions on any subject.

Of course I am not an expert reporter, and sometimes deviate from this rule, but in the present case I am going to make an extra attempt to hew straight to the line.

My sister is visiting me at this time from Long Beach, Calif. When a columnist has nothing else to write about he may resort to his relatives. It doesn't matter much if they do get mad.

This good sister's husband hailed from the grand old Republican state of Iowa. That state which for the second time (in 1932) since man's mind runneth not to the contrary (once in 1912) had failed to vote in the Republican ranks; that state where the tall corn grows; that state that has a sort of a feeling they are a little better than the rest of the world, and perhaps are.

Nevertheless this husband wandered over the line to the Nebraska university and a love story might be told if it was not off the subject. So far so good. A friend from the Iowa town trekked to Long Beach to visit. He had tall piles of corn at home, and nearly impossible to pay taxes on, and his mind, and "heart was in his home land." He was thinking of pulling stakes for sunny California. The price of corn and hogs was keeping his nose to the grindstone so to speak.

Between fishing with no fish and bathing in the chilly waves, this Iowa sauntered languidly to the dock one morning. There to his astonishment he saw a cargo of corn being unloaded from Argentina.

He was dumfounded. Had not the government just been urging him to reduce his acres of corn? Had not the government passed out bulletins telling of the great surpluses in this good old U. S. A? Were they not paying him and others all over the land to reduce? He hurried back to his sister's home and told what he had seen. My sister and her husband were not excited. Unloading corn from Argentina there was not unusual to them.

"But why do they do it?" the visitor exclaimed. "The government needs the revenues from the duties levied on the corn to pay the farmers not to raise it. Got to have it to pay expenses."

And then the brother-in-law went to the kitchen to prepare a sandwich for his week-end friend. He brought forth a can of canned beef and on the label was printed, "Packed in Brazil."

Our Iowa friend did walk the floor then but no in the lachrymose manner in which he sauntered to the pier a few hours before. After a few minutes without saying a word he donned his hat and sallied out onto the street and hailed a newsboy. The Iowa grabbed a paper and noticed there a small item about the cargo of corn. He extracted a dollar from his pocket and bought out the little fellow. With his arms full of papers our farmer trudged to the postoffice and mailed a marked copy to every friend in Iowa who had kicked over the traces in the last election and voted other than their usual way of high protective tariffs.

Now I have not given any of my opinions have I? Just telling the story as it was told to me. Read it and weep.

Time Now To Cancel. A neighbor of mine was notified he had over-planted a fraction of an acre too much corn. Along with the notification was a blank to sign and return in the event he did not want to destroy the corn, and he then would be relieved from the contract and also from the benefit payments.

"I'd dis up half the farm now," he exclaimed. "This would be a great time to give it up after I have gone to the loss of planting a third of the farm to pop corn, cane and truck. Anxious enough for a fellow to back out now after it is too late to plant corn."

Wrecking Crew. Geo. P. Hoke, of the Scotia Register, refers to us fellows who are measuring the corn ground as a part of "the wrecking crew," and trying to outdo the "Power that rules the universe," who sends floods and droughts to destroy crops. Many of the folks over here in Greeley county think George is a radical and rise up in wrath when he bursts forth.

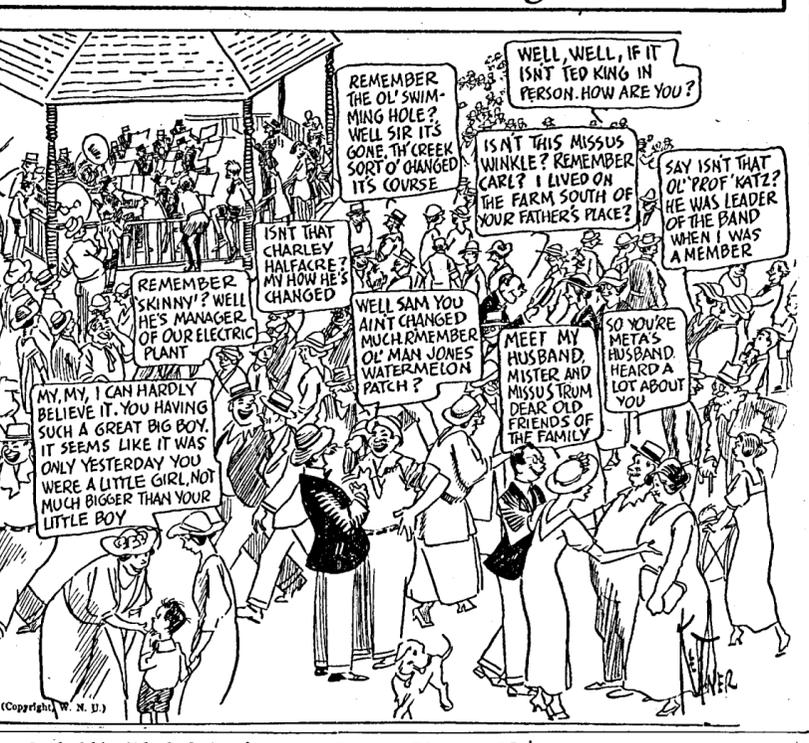

When I was at Vere Leonard's he told me his sows had exceeded the speed limit set up by the government and had produced seven too many pigs. I, in turn wrote it in the Work Sheet.

Now the printer got it all mixed up and wrote thirty-seven too many. At least I am laying the blame on the printer as he is not here to defend himself.

Nevertheless, after the paper came out, Vere was nearly swamped with letters and run into dithers answering the phone from folks over the county inquiring what he was going to do with all those extra pigs, and wanting him to give the tiny squealers to one person or another.

Vere was not mad as some people are at trivial errors. He laughed and said it just goes to show how well it pays to advertise in the Quiz.

The Homecoming

Then I asked him if he had given them away yet. My sows weren't hitting on all six at accouchement time and failed to gain the proper speed in the production business. He said "No, I do not have to give them away before December 1, and by then the Supreme Court may kick the whole thing out the window."

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week. Herbert Dunning, Ord merchant, and Miss Maude Welsh were married in Vassar, Michigan. Mr. and Mrs. Dunning returned to Ord to make their home shortly after the ceremony.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church had a social at the D. B. Smithe home. About fifty were present.

The new school census, completed this week, shows a total of 692 children of school age in Ord, this number being 17 more than the previous year.

Hail again did much damage to Valley county corn crops this week, falling with a heavy rain storm. The storm was general all over the Loup valley, Haskell creek, and the Sand Flats, where hail, accompanied by hard winds, ruined crops completely.

25 Years Ago This Week. The county meeting of the W. C. T. U. is in progress in Ord. State President Mamie M. Clafflin present to give some very interesting talks.

Miss Victoria Wisda came from Merna to accept a position as bookkeeper and linotypist in the Journal office.

Rudolph and Mads. Sorensen returned from Canada this week. Rudolf invested in a section of land in Canada while there.

Miss Edith Robbins returned to Ord from finishing summer school work at Kearney. She plans to leave soon for Europe where she will spend a year or two abroad in the study of music.

Fay Paist, employed at the First National Bank, suffered a rather serious accident, when he was thrown from his bicycle and knocked unconscious.

Two Birthdays Mussolini Waiting? Italy's Gold in London Match This, Mr. Swope

Two important human beings celebrated their birthdays recently. Henry Ford was seventy-two. If you saw him going upstairs two steps at a time and guessed his age, you would say, at most, fifty-five.

Mussolini has just celebrated his fifty-second birthday. You may spend a profitable three minutes contrasting these two leaders of men in your imagination's eye.

Henry Ford has made millions of people independent of the law of gravitation.

History will tell exactly what Mussolini has done. His test lies in the future.

The London Times and Universal Service announce a clash between Ethiopians and Italians, 20 Ethiopians and 40 Italians, killed, a stream supplying the Italian camp turned in a new direction and the Italians compelled to retreat.

Rome "has no information" on the incident.

Perhaps Mussolini, who knows that war should supply only good news, is wanting to add something such as "Air bombardment of Addis Ababa has inflicted swift retribution for the killing of 40 Italians."

Italy has $100,000,000 in gold stored in London and can't get it. Why cannot Italy get that gold? England says to Italy, "When you pay the money you borrowed in the war, you can have your gold."

Britons are practical. When they lent money to Italy they said, "Send along your gold; not that we question your honor, but as a mere formality."

Too bad this simple-minded country didn't think of that when it shipped $100,000,000 abroad. Perhaps we shall think of it next time, more probably not.

The General Electric company has developed, electrically, a temperature of 13,000 degrees Fahrenheit, announced as "hotter than the sun's 9,000 degrees."

But, 9,000 is only the sun's external temperature. Go to some distance into the sun's interior, where atoms are throwing off electrons to supply us and other planets with heat and light, and you would find a temperature of 40,000,000,000 degrees centigrade. When will Gerard Swope develop that temperature artificially?

Thomas E. Dewey, chosen to fight racketeering in New York, says in a broadcast:

"The criminal underworld plays no favorites. It preys on the public, on industry and on labor alike. Organized labor has been one of its most recent and most tragic victims. Many originally honest and sound labor unions have been slowly but surely infected with the virus of organized crime. Today certain corrupt labor leaders operate as extortionists both upon industry and upon members of their own unions."

An intelligent group of motorists announce a "safe driving campaign for August," urging automobile drivers to consider safety, particularly in their own cars.

The safest thing would be to send tens of thousands of cars now running to the junk pile, get new cars and live longer. Modern tires give miraculous mileage, but often they look "good for ten thousand miles more" when they have reached the danger point.

In Yugoslavia 20 years ago Alexander Bogar, now living in Minneapolis, Minn., killed a friend in a fight. Wishing to make amends, he offered to marry the widow. That could not be done. He has saved $15,000, working in mines, and now offers the money to the twenty-two-year-old daughter of the man he killed. She is poor and will accept.

Atone by payment is almost as old as murder. There are still countries in which crime may be paid for in cash, the amount depending on the rank of the person murdered.

George, former king of Greece, will take the crown if 60 per cent of Greeks vote in his favor. He thinks 60 per cent enough. Once crowned, George might be surprised to find what 40 per cent of Greeks could do.

The British forbade shipment of arms from England to Abyssinia, also shipments from England to Italy. Annoyed, the emperor of Ethiopia declines to provide special guards for the British legation at Addis Ababa. The British will send their own guards. They have a way of protecting their nations.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

I am awfully glad to print recipes in season, for that is when they are of the most value. Sometimes they come into this office too late to be printed for use that year. Quiz columns are often written five or six days before they are published, sometimes longer than that, so that recipes arriving late for next week might have to be put aside for ten days or more before they could be used. So please send in your cooking recipes plenty early, so that they may be sure to reach the eyes of the cooks who are interested in time to be of some service.

Rhubarb Pineapple Preserves. Wash and cut up rhubarb, pour boiling water over it, let stand for fifteen minutes, then drain and measure. To three cups of pulp in a pan add two cups of crushed pineapple and three cups of sugar. Cook one hour, put in jars and seal.

Mrs. Henry Walkemeyer. Mrs. Satterfield sends in a bunch of dandy ice cream and sherbet recipes. How about your favorites? May we print them? And please sign your name to each recipe. They are of little value to other cooks when unsigned. Not so many of us care to take a chance and waste ingredients in a recipe untried for us.

Caramel Ice Cream. Brown two cups of sugar, and afterward add a little hot water, stirring until smooth. Use with six cups scalded milk, three heaping tablespoons flour, yolks of three eggs. Add to caramel syrup, cook and cool. Then add to two cups sugar, one tablespoon vanilla, enough milk and cream, half and half, to make two gallons. Freeze at once after adding custard. When beginning to freeze the three egg whites, beaten stiff, are put in.

Fruit Sherbet. Boil together one quart sugar, three pints of water, when dissolved let cool, and add one quart can of crushed pineapple, two mashed bananas, juice of two lemons, juice of two oranges. When half-frozen add one quart of cream. This makes six quarts.

Vanilla Ice Cream. Beat five eggs until thick, stir in two cups of sugar, then one pint of cream, one tablespoon vanilla, and a pinch of salt. Put in a three-quarter freezer, fill with milk to within one and one-half inches of the top. Freeze, then pack and let stand an hour or so before using.

Pickled Onions. Pour over four quarts of small white onions enough boiling water to cover, let stand two minutes. Drain, cover with cold water and peel. Let stand in salt water overnight. Place in a colander, rinse with cold water and drain. The one-fourth cup mixed pickle spices in a bag and boil with two cups sugar and two quarts vinegar. Remove spices, put in onions, let boil up, and pour at once into jars and seal.

North Loup News

Stewart-Hutchins.

Saturday Aug. 3, at 10:30 a. m., Mrs. Florence Stewart and W. T. Hutchins were united in marriage at the home of one of the bride's daughters. The newly married couple are spending a couple of weeks at a resort in Minnesota. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins, who were married a few weeks ago, are also vacationing in Minnesota with the W. T. Hutchins'. After their vacation is over the newly married couple expect to attend the various fairs at which Mr. Hutchins helps put on the Aero-motor windmill display. After the state fair they will be in North Loup.

Hutchins-Fox.

On Saturday evening at 8:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins occurred the marriage of their daughter Inez to Howard Fox of Gary, Indiana. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Hurley Warren, using the single ring service. Guests present were Mrs. Chas. White, mother of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins, Mrs. Arthur Hutchins and Richard, Mr. and Mrs. George Hutchins, Teddy and Wilton, Miss Irma Hutchins of Montrose, Colo., and Mrs. Ruth Sporerder of Albuquerque, N. M. Following the ceremony refreshments of ice cream, iced tea and cookies were served. Inez is a North Loup girl, having lived here all of her life, excepting the years she spent away at school. She was graduated from North Loup high school, attended college for two years at Milton, Wis., and took her A. B. degree at Morningside college in Sioux City, Ia. She has been teaching at Fruita, Colo., the past year and had been hired to teach there again next year. She has taken part in many North Loup activities, her most recent work being the directing of the chautauqua play, "Bless His Little Heart".

The Erlo, Albert and A. H. Babcock families, Mrs. Ruth Sporerder, Mrs. Myra Gowen, Mrs. Nola Vredenburg, Bobby and David were Saturday dinner guests at the George Gowen home. Irma Hutchins spent Friday and stayed over night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Manchester. Elizabeth Pettit came down from Ord Friday evening and the two girls who played together as children renewed their acquaintance.

All friends of Lenore VanHorn Crouse are invited to a shower to be held in the Seventh Day Baptist church basement Thursday afternoon. The bride will be represented by proxy and the gifts will be shipped to her later.

Mrs. Clarence Babcock and Bonnie are back home after having a nice vacation with her sons Chester and Gilbert.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the George Hutchins home Sunday evening for a picnic supper and to spend the evening. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Robbin Van Boskirk and two children, of Lincoln, Mrs. Nola Vredenburg and two children of Long Beach, Calif., Miss Irma Hutchins of Montrose, Colo., and Mrs. Ruth Sporerder of Albuquerque, N. M. North Loupers present were the G. L. and Art Hutchins families, the Albert, Erlo and Art Babcock families, the George Gowen family and Mrs. Myra Gowen, Mrs. Hattie Clement, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hutchins and Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen.

MRS. HOWARD FOX.

Howard Fox was reared in Milton, Wisconsin, attending both high school and college there, being graduated from the latter some few years ago. For several years he has held a position as chemist in the Gary Steel mills. He is an expert trombone player and for a number of years has played in bands wherever he happened to be. Two summers ago he was a member of the North Loup band.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fox left early Sunday morning for their home in Gary, Indiana. They were accompanied as far as Marshalltown, Ia., by Mrs. Hazel Cook who has been visiting her father, Chas. White and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lovelace, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Koch, all of Lincoln were week end guests of the D. R. Sandys'. The Sandys and their guests spent most of their time at Ericson fishing, with almost no luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bailey returned to North Loup Friday after spending several weeks with her people in Missouri. They also visited St. Louis and several Illinois towns. Mrs. Bailey's father Mr. John Stehmetz, came home with them.

Mrs. Prudence Dallam came home from Peru Wednesday. She has been with Dr. Dallam's people there for several weeks.

Mrs. Dallam received a pleasant surprise Saturday evening when Mr. and Mrs. Lu Parsons of Cleveland, Ohio, called on her. Mrs. Parsons was Miss Grace Stenberg who was kindergarten teacher in Ord at the same time that Mrs. Dallam taught there. Mrs. Parsons is now head librarian in Technical High in Cleveland and her husband is an instructor in a boys' school there.

They are on their homeward journey after traveling in the west and spending some time at Glacier National Park. Mrs. Parsons' mother lives at Genoa and they will visit her before going on to Cleveland. Ellamae Sersheit went to kindergarten to Miss Stenberg and she was fortunate in being able to see her Saturday night at the Dallam's.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Willoughby, Beulah and Thelma, are on a two weeks vacation trip to Yellowstone National park. Mrs. Lee Lewis and her sister-in-law, Miss Lewis, of Scotts Bluff have been visiting Mrs. Lewis' brothers, Lou and I. L. Sheldon, for a few days.

Mrs. Ruth L. Babcock was hostess Tuesday afternoon at a shower honoring Mrs. Harlon Brennick. Those present were Nola Vredenburg, Erma Hutchins, Ruth Sporerder, Gladys Christensen, Ruth Hutchins, Myra Hutchins, Myra Gowen, Esther Babcock, Arada VanHorn, Ethel Hamer, Winnie Hamer, Jessie S. Babcock, Maybelle Warren, Addie Gowen, Joe Hutchins and Ruth Babcock.

Chas. Sayre, Arthur Collins, Clifford Goodrich, Paul Jones, Clark Roby, Alfred Crandall, Melvin Cornell, Floyd Reddon and Chas. Paudt went to Ericson Friday night to install the new officers in the I. O. O. F. Agnes Manchester and Esther Collins spent Friday evening with Myrtle Sayre.

The Wantz family visited in the Frank and Paul White, Walter Cummins, and Wm. Horner homes this past week.

Mrs. Walter Noll and children helped celebrate Mr. Shirley's birthday in Ord Saturday.

The monthly Christian Endeavor social was held in the Wiberg home on Friday evening of the past week. Choir practice was also held.

Mrs. Myrtle Cochran visited in the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Struckman, near Burwell Sunday.

Merrill Mason accompanied his parents to church Sunday, very attentively observing the sessions for the first time.

Threshing is still in full swing in this community with reports good to fair yields of oats which not hailed and other small grain fair to poor. The profusion of straw would lead an unacquainted traveler to believe the crop to be a record breaker. Even with the better yield, when it takes two hundred to four hundred bushels of oats at 32c to pay the threshing bill leaves many farmers little but straw after rent, twine and harvest labor is paid for.

The absence of rain and increasing heat ranging from 100 to 107 for the past several days has had its effect upon the corn and unless moisture in sufficient quantities soon falls, there will be no corn crop, any more than fodder. We are still looking for rain.

Hilltop Jabbers

Mrs. John Lech Jr., and daughter Lillian and Magdalen Konkoleski visited at Steve Dubas' Friday evening.

Sunday dinner guests in the Frank Konkoleski home were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Platek. Afternoon callers were Stanley Golka and Joe Kusek.

North Loup News

Mrs. Lucy Currie arrived in North Loup last Wednesday from Derby, Colo. She came through with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bingham, who went on up to Ord to visit Mrs. Bingham's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bingham spent Friday and stayed over night at Elmer Kirk's. The Bingham's called on Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon and Mrs. Abney Saturday.

Harry Gillespie went to Murdock Saturday after his wife. They came home Sunday.

Birdene Ingerson is working at the Merrill McCellan home.

Dorothea Newman, of Columbus was in North Loup Monday on business.

Eight of the Kumungoes met for a beefsteak fry and watermelon feed in the G. L. Hutchins grove Monday night. Irma Hutchins acted as hostess in Inez absence.

Marjory Thelin, Nettie Clark, Margaret Rood, Helen Madson, Betty Eberhart, Ellamae Sershen and Ruth Sporleder were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Ign Pokraka had Sunday night supper with Mr. and Mrs. John Rapp of Ashton.

Lyle Cox met with an accident Monday while riding his bicycle. He cut a gash in his knee and Dr. Royer of Scotia sewed it up.

Donald Fisher left early Tuesday morning for Troy, Kas. Mrs. Alfred Crandall went as far as St. Joseph, Mo., with Donald and on to Brookfield to visit relatives. Lucene Fisher went to her grandfather Anderson's near Tecumseh. They expect to be gone about ten days.

Margaret Rood is spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Grace Rood. Margaret has been working in Lincoln.

George Darby, said to be the oldest living cowboy, stopped in North Loup on his way to the Burwell Rodeo. His home is in Cashion, Oklahoma and he is 97 years old.

Tuesday afternoon, Betty Eberhart was hostess at a birthday party for her six small nieces, all of whom have had birthdays recently. Probably the most important feature, in the eyes of the little girls, was a trip to Bartz store where each one was allowed to pick out material for a dress, according to her own taste.

In honor of the birthdays of Vera Anderson and Bud Beebe, their mother, Mrs. Lou Stine had a seven o'clock dinner at her home on last Tuesday evening. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Anderson and Jacky Lou, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Beebe and Charles, Mr. and Mrs. Westburg and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Cox.

Mrs. Will Stine accompanied her husband to Grand Island Monday.

Kendall and Robert Patterson and Harold Dallam attended a picnic last Wednesday in Grand Island, given by the Independent for paper carriers.

Mary Ann Bartz, Birdene Ingerson, Beth Barber and Mary Frances Manchester spent Sunday at the river.

The I. K. Pattersons celebrated Kendall's birthday Sunday evening by inviting their neighbors, the Westberg and Cox families over for ice cream.

Mr. and Mrs. Elnor Hurley and Colleen and Mrs. Ethel Tatlow of Cotesfield are on a ten day vacation in Colorado. Mrs. Tatlow and daughter are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burdick in Denver and the Hurleys are in camp at Evergreen with the Paul Robinsons.

Mrs. Nola Vredenburg received word that Mr. Vredenburg was driving through from Long Beach, Calif. He expected to be here Tuesday or Wednesday.

Marjorie Mae Manchester spent Saturday with Donna Brown at Ord.

Segel Chadwick, of Chillicothe, Mo., called on his nieces in North Loup last Wednesday. He is visiting a brother at Cotesfield and expects to be in North Loup later for a longer stay.

Mrs. Clarence Babcock and all of her children but Merwin went to the river Sunday for a picnic.

Mr. and Mrs. B. K. McIntyre of Sterling, Colo., have been visiting relatives and friends in North Loup. They left Wednesday.

A large cousin dinner was held Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jefferies. The dinner was to have been on Mrs. Jefferies' birthday about a week ago but was postponed in order to have Mrs. B. K. McIntyre here. Mrs. McIntyre was formerly Grace Mulligan.

The Greeley kittenball tournament started Sunday night. North Loup won its first game of the tournament, beating Cotesfield 18 to 8.

150 Now Enrolled In Recreational Work of 9 Kinds

1:00 to 3:00 in the Christian church basement, and boys' sports from 3:00 to 5:00. Special instruction will be given Monday in golf, Tuesday in swimming, Wednesday in kittenball, Thursday in swimming and Friday in golf.

Boys who do not wish to take lessons in golf or swimming may play kittenball or tennis on any afternoon, receiving special instruction on the days assigned to that particular sport.

Numerous boys have volunteered their services in helping Coach H. F. Brockman. Eldon Benda and Jean Kohl instruct classes in kittenball. Tennis assistants include Arthur Auble, Eldon Benda and Jean Kohl. Boys' swimming lessons are given at Mortensen's camp. Mr. Brockman is assisted by Elmer Palmier, Don Tunnick and Jean Kohl with these lessons.

Bud Shirley, caretaker of Bussell park, has kindly consented to devote as much of his spare time as possible to teaching golf on Monday and Friday. He will be assisted by Elmer Palmier, Jean Kohl and Eldon Benda. These boys also help direct girls' athletics.

Rev. Willard McCarthy has been devoting a great deal of his time to teaching a class in manual training and under his fine supervision children are turning out some splendid products. About 20 boys are enrolled in this class, and have been spending their time for the past week in making bird houses and airplanes. Boyd Holway and Gerald Clark assist Rev. McCarthy in the instruction of this class.

Mrs. M. Blomond instructs a class of 25 girls in knitting, sewing and crocheting. Small girls express a keen interest and enthusiasm for this work, and eagerly look forward to learning each new step. At the present time they are making sweaters, scarfs, hats and bags. Mrs. Cecil Clark has offered to help instruct this group. Mrs. Otis Hughes' basket weaving class has been temporarily stopped because of lack of materials. Raffle, which has been ordered, will arrive today and classes will resume their work.

Martha Mae Barta, Marlon Grace Cushing and Pauline Barta, assisted by Mrs. Ed Kokes, are instructing art classes. The groups have been doing soap carving, making scrapbooks and boxes in which to keep their materials. This week they will do putty moulding, making pin trays, bowls and other small articles.

Excellent progress has been made by the swimming classes. Fifty boys are taking lessons from Coach Brockman and his assistants and sixty girls are enrolled in girls' swimming, taught by Mrs. John Misko and Beulah McGinnis. By September 1 it is predicted that girls will be swimming two strokes, the Australian crawl, taught by Beulah McGinnis, and the side stroke, instructed by Miss Misko. There has been some talk of starting a women's swimming class, and anyone interested is asked to call Mrs. Frank Fafetta.

The committee wishes to acknowledge and express their thanks for donations received as follows: Eastern Star, $5; Chamber of Commerce, $15; Sophie McBeth for skeins of embroidery thread, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen for various tennis apparatus, the Farmers Store and the Safeway for rolls of wrapping paper, and Auble Brothers for a roll of wire fencing, and the Crosby, Karty and Kokes Hardware stores for 3 pounds of putty each. Chairman of the project would be very glad to see the playgrounds used by adults any day before noon and after 5:00 in the evening.

Assistants are badly needed to help Mrs. M. Blomond with her knitting, sewing and crocheting classes. Cars are wanted to transport children to and from the river ever afternoon at 3:30 and 5:00 free swimming lessons will be given to any adult who would like to take them, in return for this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kokes were helping with the hay at Chas. Kokes' last Tuesday.

Mrs. Emil Kokes and Mrs. Ed Verstraete attended Study club last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jerry Petka.

Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hackel visited at the home of Lloyd Hunt Sunday.

Forrest Watson trucked hogs to Omaha Saturday for several neighbors and was to bring back horses from Sioux City for Fred Buchfinck.

Seventh Day Baptists Held First Church Service Among Valley County Settlers

By Mrs. E. J. Babcock.

In August, 1871, an historical event occurred which is seldom mentioned. It was a religious service, the first in the upper North Loup valley, possibly the first north of St. Paul. Robert Harvey, at the head of a party of state surveyors made camp over Sunday on the big island near Ord. Sunday morning he called his men together and led a short religious service.

On May 12, 1872, was another religious service, but it was farther south, just over the line in Howard Co. on the east side of the river. A party of workmen were building a house in the neighborhood and Rev. George Hillman conducted a religious service with them.

But neither of these were church services, nor were they participated in by actual settlers. The first real church meeting, composed of settlers and people of a common faith and who expected to organize a living church, was held six days later, May 18, 1872.

The Seventh Day Baptists had been coming into the valley for two or three weeks. One would hardly recognize the place if he could see it with the eyes of the first living who can remember that first view from the Chalk Hill. The valley lay broad and smiling in its Spring dress of green, as it lies now. The same low hills bordered it on both sides, the same silvery, placid river divided it. But how lonesome it looked without a sign of human habitation (for even Happy Jack's dug-out was back in the Chalk Hills) and not a tree in sight except a fringe of willows along the river.

In the sixty-three years since, Mrs. Mary Davis has never completely overcome a feeling of homesickness for the wooded hills of her girlhood.

Gilbert Johnson was the first to arrive in the new colony. He came from Minnesota and found no one here made a temporary home with Happy Jack.

On May 5, came a group from Humboldt, Nebraska. They were A. H. Davis, A. H. Terry, L. S. Davis, A. J. Davis, Lydia Ann Davis, T. C. Davis and wife, John and Jesse Furrow, Gerritt

Maxson, Martin Elliott and U. M. Babcock. However, three of the men, the Furrows and Babcock and L. C. Jacobs who had come earlier from Kansas, left in a few days, Jacobs and Furrow returning later with their families. There also came A. L. Clarke, of Welton, Iowa, and Algernon Whitford and George Babcock, of Albion, Wisconsin.

On May 6, a large group came from Dakota, Wisconsin, where the originators of this colony movement lived. They were John and Mary Sheldon, Charles and Mary Wellman and small son Lowell, Mansel and Mary Davis and Mansel's father, Mrs. Sarah Jones with her three boys, her mother, Mrs. Van Alen and her aunt, Mrs. Kate Brown, Dan Marvot and wife and two sons, Oliver Garthwaite and Amos Burdick, his wife, four boys and one girl. The daughter, Mamie, Mrs. Alza Stewart, the man who took the first homestead in Vall. Co. but who belonged to the settlement east of the river.

On the 13th came Elder Oscar Babcock and George and Charles Rood also from Dakota, Wisconsin. The Roods had waited at Grand Island to bring Elder Babcock who came by train, all the rest having come by covered wagon and taking a full month for the trip. George's wife and baby Stella had stopped at Lone Tree, (now Central City) to visit relatives, so were not present at the first meeting.

The evening before the first of the Brookfield, Missouri, crowd dropped into camp. They were Herman and Retta Babcock and small son Everette. Late on the 17th the rest of the Missourians, having come by ox teams, made a belated appearance, John Manuel and wife, Frank Larkin and George Larkin with his wife Electa, step-children Ed and Emma Brace and little Leal. With them came also Rev. Ira Bristol, father-in-law of Elder Babcock and the minister who later performed the second marriage ceremony in Valley Co. Elder Babcock performing the first.

The settlers had formed themselves into two camps, the Wisconsin and Missouri people stopping near the mouth of Mira Creek, the others farther up the river, a mile or two east of the present town of North Loup, where several years later a cement marker was put up. It was at this upper camp that the two groups came together on the Sabbath Day, May 18, for the first church service in the valley. It was a beautiful May morning as they gathered in the shade of the scanty timber with the birds and the rippling water joining in their song of praise.

No one can remember back sixty-three years and given Elder Babcock's text or other details except one. One of the hymns was that most appropriate one, "Shall we gather at the river?" and Charlie Rood led the singing. Rev. Babcock used a rocking chair for a pulpit, but we are not sure whose. Some said Mrs. Dan M'Maryott's, but as she belonged to the lower camp it was not likely and has been denied. Jud Davis felt sure it was the property of his sister, Lydia Ann, but that, too, is denied by some. Others claim it was owned by Mrs. Van Alen on whose homestead the meeting was held. So there we leave it.

Next day the crowd scattered. Many of the men returned home for their families, others moved onto their claims. As time went on they scattered still more. Most of them have gone to that better land and are gathered by a more beautiful river than the North Loup. As far as we know only three grown people are still living Mrs. Mary Davis and her brother C. J. Rood, and Algernon Whitford, of Milton, Wis. Of the children we are sure of only four, Emma Brace (Green) and Low-ell Wellman, yet of North Loup, Tom James of Burwell and Leal Larkin Battle creek Michigan. Though there may be a few more.

One of the men to return for family was Elder Babcock. On account of the sickness and death of his wife, he did not come back with his four little motherless children till November. Then the "get-togethers" the settlers had been holding all Summer and Fall became real church services again.

March 23, 1873, the Seventh Day Baptist church was organized, the first one in the valley. It was in the palatial dug-out of Dr. Charles Badger, the first and only doctor for miles around and for several years, that the settlers gathered. It was not only commodious but centrally located and Badger's marble-topped stand and lace curtains made it seem a very fine place. It was situated where the McClellan barn now stands.

Rev. Oscar Babcock was elected pastor, N. W. Babcock, Deacon, A. H. Terry, clerk, John Sheldon, Treasurer, and A. H. Davis, chorister.

L. C. Jacobs was clerk of the meeting. There were forty-four charter members, besides some on their way to make their homes here who were considered charter members. The youngest name on the list was Elder Babcock's oldest son Edwin, then twelve years old. Two of this group have retained their membership in the old church for sixty-two years and the only ones living at North Loup, Mary Davis and Chas. Rood. Probably only two others are still living, Mrs. Jennie Rood, of Milton, Wisconsin and Mrs. Rocella Babcock, of Gentry, Arkansas. A. H. Babcock, Myra Babcock Gowen, Emma Brace (Green) and Lowell Wellman, all of North Loup, were at the meeting as little children. N. W. Babcock, the first man ordained as deacon in the valley served his church fifty-three years until his death. Three months after the first meeting, Geo. B. Rood was made deacon.

At a church meeting, March 30, the minister's salary was fixed at $200, and in the grasshopper years he remitted a third of it. At one time his total years salary was two loads of wood.

For several years this was the only church in this part of the valley and was the center of all social as well as religious life. Many political and business leaders came from its fold, including several of the first country officers, and it is still one of the dominant churches of Valley County.

4-H Sewing Club. The meeting was held at the home of Vera Severns. The meeting was called to order by President, Norma Benn. Roll call was then taken, the club members answering with the name of a wild flower.

After the meeting games were played and light refreshments were served. The next meeting will be held the 15th of August with Margie Smith at her home. Jeannette Clements, Reporter

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Madison, Nebr., Aug. 4th.

To the Quiz: Two weeks ago I asked any of my friends who appreciated the junk I have been writing to send me a card or letter and tell me so, and to date I have not heard from any one. Thanks. If nobody cares to read this, I'll quit. Will be in Burwell for the rodeo this week, thanks to the courtesy of the management, who feel that they still need me to help put it over. The officers here could not understand at first why I wanted to go to Burwell for a rodeo when there is to be one here in about three weeks. Most of you probably can.

Well, the CCC boys had charge of a military funeral last Sunday afternoon, through the courtesy of Jones-Radant Post No. 35 of Madison. Company 4724 furnished the guard of honor, the color bearers and color guards, the firing squad, and the musician, who not only blew taps but also made a short speech. By the way, this same musician, E. L. Maybee, now claims to be the youngest World War vet in camp, and he doubtless is, as he was born Feb. 25th, 1903, and overstated his age three years in order to get in.

Maybe is also organizing a class in swimming and life saving. There is no pool here, but there is a good one at Creston, and two citizens of Madison, when approached on the subject, kindly volunteered to take the members of the class over there for their lessons. Maybe is the man who qualified in Omaha as senior life saving instructor. Last but not least, Maybe is organizing a drum and bugle corps unit, which will either consist of members from the VCC, or from the CCC and from Madison as well. There are at least a dozen men here who have been buglers at one time or another, and quite a number have had experience with the drum.

A class in journalism has been organized, and holds meetings each Monday evening, at which time items for the Madison Star-Mall are corrected and put in shape to be turned in Tuesday morning. By special arrangement with the Star-Mall, the camp paper will be printed as a part of the paper, and will consist of three or more columns under special heading called "Veterans Chorus, Co. 4724". Of course I am mixed up in it, and we have three men on the staff who have been in the newspaper game as publishers.

Work on the buildings here, which had been held up by failure of the lumber to arrive, has been resumed, following the receipt of two cars of material. However, it will be impossible to complete any of the buildings until some material not yet received arrives. The floor of the hospital has been laid, and the underpinning for the floors of two of the barracks and the recreation hall is in place, the water lines and sewers were laid the past week from the recreation hall and headquarters building, and the ditches refilled, making it much easier to walk around.

In the bath house a number of tubs are furnished for washing clothes, and since the company arrived a new washing machine has been purchased, which is in almost constant use. There is no excuse for the men not to keep clean, and many of them are proving expert washerwomen. After using the blankets for sleeping for nearly three weeks, the new sheets arrived about ten days ago, and each man received two, and a new pair issued to each man. The sheets will be laundered without expense to the men. Friday the new cotton O. D. trousers arrived and were issued two to a man. They are much neater to wear than the overalls, and cooler than the wool O. D.'s issued earlier. Possibly I will write more next week. JOHN L. WARD.

Joe Rohla, Leroy Lashmett and Frank Sershen. County Attorney Alvin B. Lee prosecuted the case.

Principal witnesses Saturday were Lewin and young Sell and their stories conflicted in almost every detail.

According to Lewin, the young man accosted him and inquired why he had his father arrested, to which Lewin answered that he did not have him arrested. (Burt Sell had been taken into custody a day or two previously upon trespassing charges filed by M. L. Fries.) Then, without provocation, young Sell struck him in the face and knocked him down, Lewin testified. His forehead was badly bruised and his cheek cut open, he said.

Testifies to Blow.

When his turn came to take the witness stand young Sell testified that Lewin called him "a dirty Red" and drew back his arm as if to strike him, after which he knocked Lewin down. Their testimony differed as to whether Lewin struck a blow during the fight, Sell claiming that he did and Lewin that he did not.

Other witnesses included Marshal Coons, Abe Hagey, Leslie Combs and John Bray, all of whom were standing or sitting across the street some distance away and did not hear the conversation or see the blows struck but did see Lewin lying on the sidewalk after Sell knocked him down, and hurried to the scene quickly. Marshal Coons testified that he took Sell into custody upon instructions from Lewin.

The case was given to the jury about 3:00 and it remained in session until about 8:30 p. m., bringing in a verdict of guilty with a recommendation for leniency. Judge Anderson then assessed a fine of $30 and costs and young Sell filed notice of appeal, being released on a $250 appearance bond.

There was great interest in this case and the court room was crowded, dozens of people from Arcadia being present.

Convicted of Trespass.

Another case in which the Sell family was concerned was heard in county court here Tuesday afternoon when Burt Sell and two of his sons, Orville and Portius, were found guilty of trespass by a jury, Burt being fined $25 and costs and the boys $20 and costs each.

The offense was alleged to have been committed on July 7 when Burt and the two boys appeared at a farm owned by Mrs. Lewin, daughter of Mr. Fries, and hauled away with a tractor a threshing machine that was stored in a corn crib there. William George, tenant on the farm, protested their taking the threshing machine, he testified in court Tuesday, but the Sell men took it anyway.

Complaint in this case was filed by M. L. Fries, who also was a witness for the state. Other witnesses for the state included George, his son and Mrs. Lewin. Defense witnesses were Burt Sell and his sons who denied the trespass. They stored the machine in George's corn crib several months previously with his consent, they said, and they also claimed that George assisted them in removing the machine from the shed.

Ownership Uncertain.

Ownership of this machine was disputed, Fries claiming it and the Sells testifying that it was the property of the John Deere Plow Co. for whom they claimed to be acting in removing the machine.

This case was given to the jury, which was composed of Ed Mauer, H. E. Barnes, Theron Beehrle, Henry Stara, H. E. Hallen and Charles Hunt, about 5 o'clock and the verdict of guilty was brought in at 8:00. Judge John L. Anderson promptly imposed penalty upon the defendants but Defense Attorney John P. Misko filed notice of appeal to district court and the prisoners were released on bond. County Attorney Lee prosecuted this case also.

50th Anniversary of Great Hailstorm

Monday, August 5 was the fiftieth anniversary of the great hailstorm of 1885, which caused the worst destruction around Ord of any storm in history, says W. A. Anderson, who is one of the few people still living who were here at that time.

The temperature was about 96 that day and there wasn't a cloud in the sky until late afternoon when the storm came up from the north, recalls Anderson. Instead of coming from the west, as most hailstorms do, this storm came

Kuklish Hurls 1-Hit Game And Ord Wins 6 to 0

Victory Over No. Loupers Keeps Ord in Forefront of Battle For 2nd Half Pennant.

Barney Kuklish was "right" Sunday and when Barney is "right" few baseball teams can do much with his fast-breaking curves and his fire-balls.

Sunday Barney was even "righter" than usual and limited the North Loup team to one stingy single, Ord winning 6 to 0. As a result of this victory Ord remains in the forefront of the Loup Valley league pennant chase for the second half of the split season. Ashton won the first half.

The tall Elyria filinger has everything a pitcher needs, always, except control and now seems to be rapidly developing this branch of the art. Sunday, besides holding North Loup to one hit, he struck out eight batsmen, gave only two free passes and hit no batters.

Sheldon, the veteran North Loup hurler, gave up only six hits to Ord but the same number of errors perpetrated by the team enabled Ord to tally six times. Three of Ord's hits were 2-ply clouts. The game was played on the fair grounds in the presence of a large crowd.

Davis Creek News

Bert Cummins was surprised Thursday evening and reminded he had passed another milestone in life, when more than ninety friends and neighbors came with ice cream and cake to help him celebrate his birthday. Bert was re-elected superintendent of the United Brethren Sunday school Sunday. He was first superintendent in 1915 and has filled that office continuously with the exception of three years since that time.

Johnnie, 4 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Fred of near Litchfield, had the misfortune last week to have a door fall on him, dislocating his hip. Mrs. Fred taught school at Davis Creek about 17 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Egglehoff took their son Kenneth to Ord Monday morning and Dr. Barta removed his tonsils. He came home about noon and is getting along nicely.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roby and children spent Sunday afternoon at Rueben Athey's. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Weed were supper guests of Mrs. Weed's brother, Will Wheatcraft.

down the valley. From Fort Hartsuff north of Elyria to the Big Bend region southeast of Ord, the storm cut a swath three miles wide, pulverizing every bit of vegetation. Corn, which stood higher than it does this summer and was in perfect condition for a bumper crop, was absolutely ruined, he claims. The hailstones were as big as lemons and covered the ground in a white blanket several inches deep when the storm was over.

Arcadia Personals

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fowler of Milburn spent the week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Welty and family.

Mrs. Jim Stone gave a birthday dinner in honor of Mr. Stone's 58th birthday. About 70 friends and neighbors helped celebrate the occasion.

Dr. B. W. Burleigh is filling Dr. J. W. Baldr's vacancy while on his vacation for two weeks.

Mrs. John Welty and family went to Fremont Sunday morning to spend the week-end visiting in the Arthur Welty home.

Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Warden and Mavis returned Monday after several days visit in South Dakota with Mrs. Warden's parents Mr. and Mrs. Dworak and other relatives and friends.

Glen Buck spent several days visiting his mother last week.

NOTICE OF PROBATE OF WILL.

In the County Court of Valley County, State of Nebraska:

In the matter of the estate of Oscar Enger, Deceased.

To all persons interested in said estate of Oscar Enger, deceased:

Whereas, R. E. Enger has filed in my office an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Oscar Enger, deceased, and a petition having been filed herein by R. E. Enger, asking to have the same admitted to probate and for the issuance of letters testamentary, which relates to real and personal property.

I have therefore appointed Monday, the 26th day of August, 1935 at one o'clock in the afternoon of said day at the County Court Room, in said county, as the time and place for hearing said will, at which time and place you and all concerned may appear and contest the allowance of the same.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand and official seal this 6th day of August, 1935.

(SEAL) JOHN ANDERSEN,
County Judge.

"Brain Truster" Was Ord Visitor

Former Ord Boy Has Worked For 3 Governments as Expert In Farm Management.

The Ord Haskells were happily surprised by receiving a call Tuesday evening from Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Haskell of Washington, D. C.

Earl's early school days were passed in Ord, being a member of the J. R. Williams family until his high school years. He graduated from the Nebraska University School of Agriculture in 1904 and received his Bachelor and Master Degrees at Ames, Iowa in 1908 and 1909. The U. S. government then employed him for four years in the Philippines in agricultural research.

From 1913 to 1920 he was in the office of Farm Management at Washington, D. C. He then served the government of Ecuador in their department of agriculture for one year. The U. S. government then employed him in the Department of Middle American Agricultural Research. He then served the Mexican government in the year of 1925 in an agricultural survey of the State of Tabasco.

The Persian government then employed him in the years of 1925-1928 as their Director General of Agriculture, introducing American agricultural ideas into that ancient country.

He then served the U. S. government, 1930-1932, on the Federal Farm Board of Agricultural Economics.

Although he denies being a Brain Truster, he was drafted into the AAA at its first organization in 1933 and is still serving in that capacity.

He attended the World Wool Growers' Convention at Denver and Laramie as the representative of the AAA. After these meetings he was given a brief vacation and visited Yellowstone park with his wife. On their way home they stopped at Ord and were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Haskell Tuesday night. Early Wednesday morning they left for Lincoln and Wahoo to visit relatives.

lins of Hemingford, Anton Suchanek of St. Paul, Bob Suchanek of Loup City and Vincent Suchanek of Ord, all of whom attended the funeral. Also Mrs. Katie Schoonover of Chicago, Mrs. Rosie Bartunek of Wolbach and Mrs. Mary Beza of California, who were not able to be present. Also grandchildren and many other relatives and friends, who mourn the going of a good mother, a good neighbor and a good friend. Being among the earliest settlers of Valley county and Geranium township, the Parkos family knew all the hardships of pioneer life on the homestead and they were one of the few families who remained on the homestead to the end of their lives.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to take this means of thanking the neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses shown us during the illness and after the death of our mother, Mrs. Antona Parkos, the singers for their help, all who sent beautiful flowers and every one who in any way helped us during our bereavement.

THE FAMILY.

—Harold Haskell left Thursday morning for Fort Crook to enter the C. M. T. C. camp. He will be there during the month of August.

VOL. 53 NO. 20

Quiz Publisher Is Again Sojourning At Cullen Lake

Mr. and Mrs. Leggett Hope To Escape Heat; Fish Biting Good Now, Letter Says.

Nisswa, Minn., August 10, 1935
 Dear Quiz:

When the Missus and I left Ord at 1 p. m. Thursday, the air was stifling. Eugene or Hil reported at noon that the official mark was 104 and I know that it continued to get hotter for some time. We drove via Ericson, Bartlett, Elgin, Neligh and north to No. 20, then east to 81, then north to Yankton, east on 50 for a time, then north to strike No. 16 a few miles west of Sioux Falls, where we spent the night in a cabin camp. It seemed to get hotter until about 4 p. m., when the mounting clouds all around the north and east, got high enough to shut off the sun, which was some relief, and about 4:30 the wind suddenly changed to the east and it was delightful driving from then on. We arrived at Sioux Falls at 9 p. m., about three car lengths ahead of one of the worst storms I have seen. There was a high wind, a heavy rain and plenty of hail and it lasted for a long time, then came up a couple of times during the night and rained. I am hoping to hear that Valley county got some of that rain. We got up at 4 a. m. and were on our way and a gas station attendant in the edge of the town said it rained several inches. He didn't know how much. He also said there was a lot of wind damage. The hall on the cabin roof damaged it enough so it leaked and I was glad my car was in a shed.

We had a nice day for driving Friday, except for a couple of hours in the afternoon when there was no breeze and it got mighty hot. That was while going through a stretch of parched country between St. Cloud and Brainerd. They need rain there badly. That hundred miles from Ord to Neligh was the only dry country we saw and the crops everywhere are wonderful. I never saw better. The corn and clover and alfalfa from St. Cloud to Brainerd are injured with the dry weather and heat much worse than crops were in Valley county when we left. I realized, though, that it wouldn't take many days like Thursday to ruin our crops.

I have turned over several new leaves and one of them is, not to drive as fast as I have been accustomed to drive. I believe more than 90% of the car accidents are the result of fast driving. My heat indicator registered right around 180 all the time till 4:30 p. m. Thursday and I drove between 30 and 35 miles, not over the latter speed. We were going mostly north with a hot wind from the south, so it was natural the car would heat. When the cool wind came from the east it soon went down to 150 and then 140 and it never got above 150 on the balance of the trip. I drove right at 45 miles all the time, never up to 50. Our mileage was 619 and we bought 30 gallons of gas, filling our tank just as we got here, and it was when we started. That gave us between 20 and 21 miles to the gallon.

We stopped at Red Wood Falls.

Whisker Club Will Elect Friday Night

The Ord Whisker club, organization of Ord men formed last week to boost the Valley county fair and auto races, will meet at 8:00 tomorrow night at the city hall, adopt by-laws and regulation elect officers, organize its kangaroo court and take other steps to make the booster organization effective.

Petitions are now being circulated and already about 160 men have joined the club and agreed to wear either beards, large moustaches or long sideburns until the auto races end. Several membership petitions are now being circulated in farming districts with good results.

About 30 members attended an impromptu Whisker club session Tuesday night and elected Jerry Petska temporary chairman, John Andersen temporary vice-chairman and Dr. Lee Nay temporary secretary. These men will arrange for badges, write the by-laws and call the meeting to order tomorrow night, at which time permanent officers will be chosen. All Whisker club signers and others interested are urged to attend.

LeRoy Whitford Jailed.
 For being intoxicated and creating a disturbance in his home neighborhood in northwest Ord Thursday night LeRoy Whitford was arrested by Night Marshal Roy Erdue and the next day in county court was fined $12 and costs by Judge Andersen.

E. L. Kokes was a business visitor in Scotia and Greeley Monday.

Was Sale Pavilion, Now Smoking Embers

Charred joists and smoking embers were the only things left Wednesday noon to mark the place where the Williams sale pavilion stood on Arcadia's main street. The sale barn was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. H. E. Jones, Quiz photographer, took this picture. In the foreground are seen ruins of the sale barn and in the rear is shown the old Burt Sell implement building.

Arcadia Sale Barn Destroyed By Fire, Village Threatened

Ord Fire Department Called To Help Put Out Blaze; Fred Hollingshead Hurt.

Arcadia, Aug. 14.—(Special)—Spontaneous combustion in a hay-mow filled with green alfalfa hay is believed to have been the cause of a fire that completely destroyed the Williams sale barn here and gutted near-by buildings between 9 and 10 a. m. today. For a time the whole north side of the business district was threatened but a bucket brigade was organized to assist the local fire department and the blaze was brought under control. Loup City and Ord fire departments were called but arrived too late to be of much assistance, as the flames were subjugated quicker than had appeared possible.

The sale barn, property of Col. Dwan Williams, was valued at several thousand dollars and was about one-fourth covered by insurance. Five or six tons of hay also were burned but no livestock was destroyed.

The Sell implement store next door was gutted and the Downing implement shop and Dr. Christ's office were charred. Two adjacent residences caught fire but were extinguished with little damage.

Only person injured was Fred Hollingshead, who was run over by a horse truck. At first it was feared his leg was broken but Dr. J. W. Baird says the injuries consist only of severe bruises.

45% Grant Given Middle Loup By PWA Authorities

Offer $941,850 As Free Gift, Bond Issue To Provide Rest of Money Needed.

Church bells pealed, sirens shrilled and people cheered in Arcadia, Loup City and Comstock last week when it was announced that the PWA had offered to approve the Middle Loup power and irrigation project and that a grant of $941,850 had been accepted by district officials.

Terms on which the project was approved are said to be as follows: The PWA will make a 45% grant totaling $941,850 to the district and the balance of money needed to develop the project, about $1,150,000, will be raised by a bond issue. The grant will be contingent upon the district being able to sell the bonds to private investors or banks.

Bonds Eagerly Sought.
 Directors of the district are confident they can market the bonds and say this offer of the PWA means that the Middle Loup's 3-year fight for recognition has been entirely successful.

Four different offers to purchase the bonds have already been received, it was claimed at Arcadia Friday.

Much red tape still remains to be unwound before the money is available and construction can be started, as PWA authorities said that the project still must pass the works progress administration, budget bureau, the advisory allotment committee and get the president's signature. With a recommendation from the PWA assured its final approval is merely a matter of time however.

Met Many Reverses.
 Started three years ago before President Roosevelt took office, the Middle Loup project sought funds first from the RFC, later from the PWA and now will receive its grant from the newly organized WPA. At several times during the three years it seemed

Baker Is Victim Of Farm Accident

George Baker, who lives on a farm in the edge of Greeley county, was the victim of an unusual farm accident last Wednesday about 5:30 p. m., being struck in the left eye by the handle of a pitchfork welded by his son, Raymond. Mr. Baker will lose the sight of his eye, it is feared. He was attended by Dr. F. A. Barta and stayed in the home of a friend, L. D. Pierce, while in Ord for medical treatment. Saturday he was taken to Omaha for treatment.

Mr. Baker had been showing his son how to stack grain and had just handed him the pitchfork. Not knowing his father was standing so close, young Baker swung the fork and the end of the handle struck him in the eye. He was wearing spectacles and slivers of glass were forced into the eye.

"Lucky it wasn't my good eye," Baker commented. He has long been troubled with partial loss of sight in his left eye due to a cataract.

Six Beer Dealers In Ord Closed By State Inspector

But They'll Reopen in Ten Days When New Licenses Arrive From State Commission.

By order of D. B. Buckley, inspector for the Nebraska liquor commission, six of the seven dealers selling beer at retail in Ord quit business temporarily Tuesday. All expect to resume selling beer in about ten days when their new state licenses arrive.

Reason for this wholesale closing, which threatens a beer drought in Ord, is that licenses of these dealers expired August 10 and because of confusion in orders issued by the state liquor commission their new licenses have not yet been granted.

When the Nebraska beer law was adopted two years ago Ord dealers secured licenses under this law, the licenses being renewed a year ago. Last winter the state legislature passed the hard liquor law which also placed beer dealers under authority of the state liquor commission. To sell beer now dealers must secure licenses from the new commission.

Andersen Still Open.
 Dealers affected by Inspector Buckley's closing order were Mark K. Sharp, Freda Buchtmack, J. A. Riley, Glen Johnson, New Cafe and Frank Kasal. Only dealer still selling beer in Ord yesterday was Hans Andersen, who secured his license a few weeks ago from the liquor commission and so is not affected by the closing order.

The Ord city council has called a special meeting for Monday, Aug. 19, to consider applications of beer dealers for licenses. Applications approved will be sent to the liquor commission the next day and it is hoped that beer taverns may reopen here about August 22 or 23.

Viggo Hansen Hurt In Auto Accident

S. V. Hansen, chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors, suffered deep cuts on the forehead and nose Tuesday when his car overturned at 12:45 p. m. near the Ed Hackel farm. A front tire blowing out threw the car into the ditch. The car was almost a total wreck, damage being estimated at $200 which was fully covered by insurance.

Plenipostponed.
 Because of hot weather and other conditions the Burwell Wranglers club has postponed the old settlers' picnic announced for August 18 until a date in September to be announced later.

Carnival, Free Acts Engaged For Valley Co. Fair

Parachute Drops, Music Revues, Will Vie With Auto Races As Amusement Features.

Announcement is made this week by S. W. Roe, secretary of the Valley county fair association, that the Fredericks Amusement Company shows will appear in Ord during the Valley county fair Sept. 16 to 19. This is one of the largest carnivals touring Nebraska and will bring five rides, five shows and fifteen concessions to the fair here.

Free acts engaged include the Spies Sisters and the Willards, Mr. Roe announces. In the Spies act, are seven sisters who dance, sing and put on a regular musical revue each afternoon during the fair. The Willard act, a trapeze and acrobatic act, is also counted on to please crowds.

Two Bands Will Play.
 Music will be provided two days by the Ord band and the Scotta-North Loup band will provide music the third day. Night programs of the home talent sort, supplemented probably by professional entertainers, will be provided every evening. One evening program will be provided by the Ord community, another by North Loup and the third by Arcadia.

Balloon ascensions and parachute drops will take place two days of the fair, Secretary Roe promises, this feature being provided by the Fredericks company. Born in St. Paul, Nebr., Mr. Fredericks is well known to the secretary of the fair association here, who assures fair patrons that the company is a clean, high calibre amusement group.

Work of rebuilding the grandstand has been completed and considerable work also has been done on the race track. As soon as it rains to pack the track a little harder, work of getting it in shape for fast auto races will be resumed.

Many Racing Cars.
 Clyde Baker, secretary of racing, is receiving many inquiries from owners of racing cars and has sent out over 100 entry blanks. He promises that 25 or 30 of the fastest dirt-track drivers in the country will compete all three days of the fair.

According to present plans, the premium list will be printed in next week's Quiz. Clare Clement has charge of the committee for the premium list. Extra copies will be printed so everybody who does not take the Quiz may get one on request.

With only a month to go before fair time officers and directors will meet often to perfect arrangements and no effort will be spared to make the revived Valley county fair and auto races as successful as in former years.

Co. Levy Is Fixed At 45 Mills; 2.15 Mills State Levy

Supervisors Up Levy 1/2 Mill, State and City Levies Are Slightly Higher Also.

Valley county supervisors, meeting last week as a board of equalization, adopted a schedule of tax levies for 1935 that is one-half mill higher than the county levy for 1934, the new levy for taxation purposes in Valley county totaling 4.5 mills as compared with 4 mills last year.

The 1935 levy is divided as follows: General fund, 3 mills; bridge fund, 3 mills; interest and bond fund, .5 mills; mothers' pension fund, .05 mills; fair fund, .15 mills; unemployment relief fund, .5 mills. In 1934 a levy of 3 mills was made for the general fund, .22 mills for the bridge fund, .43 mills for interest and bond fund and .35 mills for the poor relief fund.

The state levy also is slightly higher this year than last, being 2.15 mills as compared with 2.1 mill last year.

Ord city levy also is higher, totalling 7.40 mills compared with 6.9 mills last year. The North Loup levy, 8.5 mills, is the same as in 1934 and the Arcadia village levy, 1.3 mills, is considerably lower than the 2.5 mill levy last year.

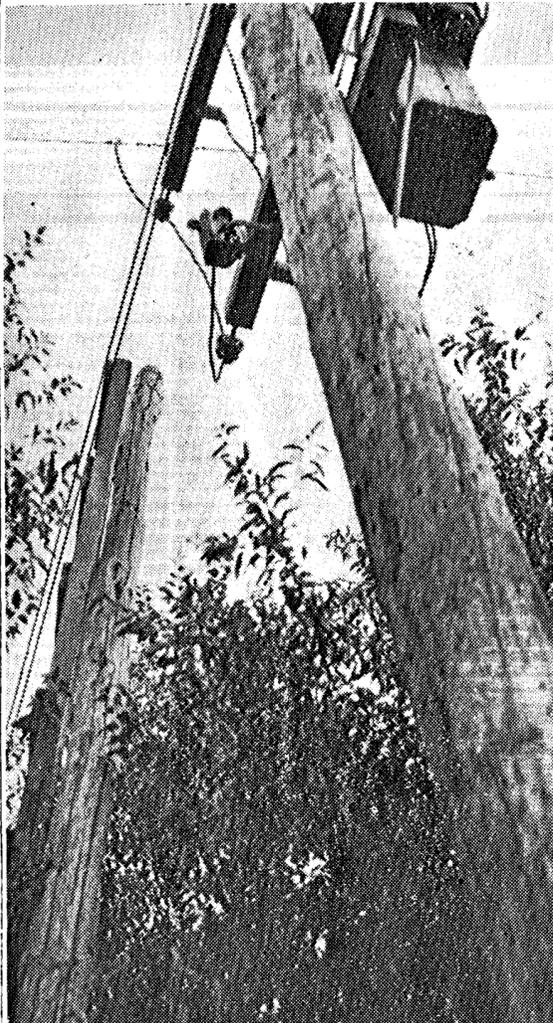

Every male and female inhabitant of Valley county between the ages of 21 and 50 years also will be required to pay a special tax of $2.00 this year to raise money for the old age pension law passed by the Nebraska legislature last winter.

Complete state, city, village, township and school district levies will be listed next week in proceedings of the county board of supervisors.

Marion J. Cushing Is Electrocutted Tuesday

Where Cushing Tragedy Occurred

Killed Instantly When He Touched 6,600-Volt Line

Political Leader Was Fixing Telephone, Ladder Slipped; Whole State Grieves.

Marion J. Cushing, 47, four times representative of the 77th district in the state legislature and prominently mentioned as a 1936 candidate for governor of Nebraska, was instantly killed Tuesday afternoon when he touched a 6,600-volt power line while repairing a telephone line at his farm home 2 miles east of Ord.

The tragic accident happened about 2:00 p. m. Mr. Cushing had just returned from Ord and announced to his wife his intention of repairing the farm telephone line, which was out of order.

Near the driveway into the Cushing farmstead is located the telephone pole which conveys the telephone line into the house. Three feet from the telephone pole stands one of the poles of the Western Public Service company's high-tension line, which carries 6,600 volts.

Ladder Slipped.

Marion placed a ladder against the telephone pole and mounted it, telephone wire in hand. As he worked at the top of this pole the ladder slipped, apparently, and Marion reached out for support. Instead of grasping the pole his hand came in contact with a loop of the high-voltage power line and 6,600 volts of electricity flowed through his body, the telephone wire in his other hand furnishing a ground.

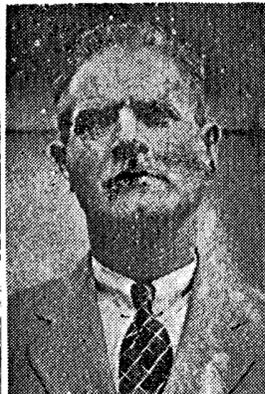

The shock knocked Cushing's body off the pole and he fell to the ditch at the side of the highway, breaking a large branch off a tree as he fell.

A short circuit apparently was created on the telephone line as Mrs. Cushing, who was in the house, heard the previously "dead" telephone ring, and ran out, expecting to find that her husband had successfully repaired the line. Instead she found his body lying in the ditch.

Try to Revive Him.

Whole State Mourns

This picture of Marion J. Cushing, latest one available, was taken by a Quiz photographer on the day that he returned home, drawn and tired, from his heroic labors in the 1935 state legislature. His tragic and untimely death is being mourned by the whole state of Nebraska. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at the M. E. church.

$58,000 of Corn-Hog Money Distributed

Part of the Group 1 signers of corn-hog contracts in Valley county received their first 1935 payment Saturday, the total amount distributed through County Agent C. C. Dale's office being $58,522.75. This payment was made on the basis of 15c per bushel on corn and $10.50 per head on hogs. First payments to signers in Groups 2 and 3 is not expected for some time.

Tuesday, Aug. 20th Will Be Circus Day; Schell Bros. Coming

4-Ring Circus To Exhibit Near Bohemian Hall In Ord; 9 Elephants With Show.

That time-honored phrase so dear to the hearts of children "the circus is coming," is being heard in Ord this week. Tuesday advertising appeared for the big Schell Bros., four-ring circus which will appear on the lots south of the Bohemian hall next Tuesday, Aug. 20.

The Schell Bros. circus is one of the largest circuses making small cities in the middle west. It is a four-ring show, employs over 300 performers and carries with it a huge menagerie. There are nine elephants, several lions, tigers, panthers, camels, seals and other animals, the advance agent promises. Twenty clowns will provide fun for the children.

It has been four years since a circus visited Ord so the coming of Schell Bros. is awaited with interest. Performances will be given both afternoon and evening in a tent seating 5,000 people. Bargain prices will prevail. The Schell circus travels by truck and has 54 modern trucks and about 30 large house-trailers in which performers eat and sleep. The circus plays in Wayne the day before it arrives here.

Ord Schools Will Suspend Two Days During Auto Races

Students May Attend Afternoon Programs, Board Decides; Calendar Announced.

The Ord schools will convene on Monday, Sept. 9, and the year's term will end on May 29, it was decided Monday evening by the board of education in adopting a calendar for the year. In the plan adopted there will be 176 teaching days.

Vacation days in the Ord schools this year will include two afternoons during the Valley county fair; two days during teachers' conventions, two days at Thanksgiving time, ten days at Christmas and two days of spring vacation.

During the fair September 16 to 19 classes will be alternated so students may take two afternoons off and still miss only one day's work. School will be held as usual on the other two days of the fair. Morning classes will be held all five days.

Teachers' conventions this year will be held on Oct. 24 and 25, the Thanksgiving vacation comes on Nov. 23 and 29, Christmas vacation from Dec. 23 to Jan. 2 and spring vacation will be held two weeks in advance of the opening of school and all junior and senior high school pupils are to register this year, the advance registration making it possible to get organized and thus run classes on schedule the first day.

A complete list of faculty members and courses offered will be announced next week.

Magazine Peddler To Nebraska Prison

Arnold Weyman, 19-year-old magazine peddler who stole a gold watch at the Clayton Gilroy home last week and was caught by Mrs. Gilroy, plead guilty to a charge of burglary in district court before Judge E. P. Clements late Wednesday afternoon. Judge Clements sentenced him to serve a year in the state reformatory and he was taken to Lincoln Sunday by Sheriff Round. The young man claims New York as his home.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Minn., to visit the Ramsey State Park and I took pictures of the buffalo, bobcat, bluffs, etc. Perhaps the boys will use some of them in the Quiz if they turn out good. The park is on the Minnesota river and driving down into it is like driving down the Rocky Mountains. There is a fine gravel road with numerous hairpin turns and it is all through heavy virgin timber. Must be several hundred acres in the Park and a birdseye view from the top of the bank on the north where we went out, is beautiful. They had eight or ten buffalo and lots of small animals and birds, and the keeper told us they had 20 deer and some elk, but we did not see them. He said they were tame but hid out most of the time during the day, in the tall grass to protect themselves from the flies.

We stopped in Brainerd for a few necessary supplies and drove into camp at 4 p. m. Found everything o. k., and it probably took us 20 minutes to get the cottage opened up and the car unloaded and put away in the garage. Then I got into the lake. The water is just a bit warmer than I like it.

I found the Augustines back in camp. Mr. Augustine has Oscar Wallin helping him and they have been doing a great job of cleaning up the shore and cutting rushes. They expect to stay here through August and perhaps longer. Mr. Augustine and Clarence Luther have been fishing walleyes on Gull the last two mornings, getting 18 one morning and 26 the other. We were little more than in camp when Mr. Augustine came down with a package of nice walleye steaks and we are having some of them for our dinner today.

Another good neighbor is Mrs. Wester, who, with her daughters, is spending a month in the Mackowsky cottage. We had hardly gotten unloaded when she sent her daughter over with a box of nice red raspberries and are we living high. The Missus has long believed that we eat too much and she said, "When we get up to the lake we will go slow on the eats." And we are. Today for dinner all we had was steaked walleyed pike, sliced fresh tomatoes, red raspberries with cream and sugar, coffee, cookies and cake. A starvation diet, I say, and if things don't change I am coming home where I don't have to starve.

I have grounds for a big damage suit against Ernie Augustine and as soon as I can get time, I am going to town and get an honest lawyer (now every body lawyer) and sue him for ten thousand at least. He cut a few tons of bullrushes yesterday when there was no wind. He cut them out to the northwest of my dock. Today the wind came up from the northwest and all his rushes are down against my shore and dock.

Byron Simpson has asked me to go fishing with him at 3 a. m. tomorrow, over on Gladstone lake, five or six miles to the south. It is a small lake, but according to his tell, the bass are so thick there that some have to swim above the others to have room, double-decked as it were, like they ship sheep. And they are all big ones. A couple of fellows were there a couple of days ago and got 32 bass in a couple of hours, finally quitting when a big bass grabbed the bait and the fisherman allowed it to snap the line rather than be yanked into the lake. It is lucky the game warden didn't happen along when those birds were coming out. I am going to wear a life preserver so if I get jerked in I won't drown.

It is getting dry here. My place is looking well, only there is a great crop of weeds and we were busy all morning pulling them and wheeling them away. We will soon have it cleaned up.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wallin are the parents of a fine baby girl, 6 1/2 lbs. Born last evening. They had ordered a boy and were going to name him Calvin Eugene. Now they are up in the air and don't know what the little girl will be called. Oscar says they can file the other name away for future use. Anyhow mother and baby are doing as fine as can be and Oscar promises to shave his red whiskers off. I told him he looked all right for a lumber jack but that he looked like hell for a nurse.

Yesterday when we got here, it was pretty warm for a time, as there was no breeze. Today there is a nice breeze from the northwest and it is as nice in the shade as one could ask for. It would be pretty warm in the sun chopping wood I guess.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Jake:
Who Comes First?
Loating in an oil station the other day, the proprietor and I fell to talking trivial matters such as accounts. And these are something like the words he used:

"It has got to rain pretty soon or it will just be too bad for some of us. The small grain is not turning out as good in many places as was first expected. The corn crop is what will pay the bills to me."

"Won't any of the fellows pay you any money out of their small grain?" I asked.

"No. Not much. In the first place the price is not any too good. Then second, most fellows have a seed loan or a feed loan. Those both come before my fuel bill. And if they haven't one of those loans, they have a loan to a machinery company. When all the other bills are paid they will pay me if there is any left."

"But they couldn't have farmed if you hadn't furnished the fuel for the tractors," I argued.

"No. They couldn't have farmed without the tractor fuel any more than they could without feed for horses or seed, but that does not make any difference. I am a good fellow and trust them for one of the necessary adjuncts to farm with, but I can go to thunder if there is not enough to go around."

"They surely don't have to pay their tractor installment before they pay for the fuel to run it with, do they?"

"I do not know as they have to but they do. The machinery collector will send out a professional collector that the farmer never saw before or expects to see again, and this collector just gives them hell. He says all the mean things he can think of and threatens to take the machine away from them."

"The farmer is ashamed to be talked to so, and afraid the neighbors will hear of it or that he may lose his implement, so he turns Heavens and earth to pay. He lets local bills go."

"Why don't you try the same tactics?"

"In the first place I can't hardly take the gasoline or tractor fuel away from them. In the second place if I tried that kind of collection methods the customer probably never would pay, and surely never by any more at my place. The word would soon get spread around and all his relatives would quit too."

"Does it act the same with the machinery companies?"

"No, the farmers seem to like the rough treatment of those high pressure collectors. They will go right back the next year or the next month and buy another implement on time if they can."

Right there is where I gave a little of my high powered encouragement. "It will surely rain soon, now that the rainmakers have this tree planting scheme started," I said.

Old Time Road Builder.
In talking with Ernest Rahmeyer a few days ago he told me that in 1885 or '86 he helped build and grade the road that is now being made into the highway running west from North Loup. He worked by the corner where Henry Lee now lives and at that time there was a little question if they had the road on the line or not.

This last month, some 48 or 50 years later, he helped haul the last load of dirt that finished the road by the corner at the same place.

Some Speller.
He also said his name was put in some old time book, along with his father, but it was spelled wrong and he himself did not know who they meant. He started to read about the man, and as he read along he thought that person's life history is surely very much like mine, (came from Germany, settled here, etc.) and after a few minutes he decided they must mean his very own self they were telling about.

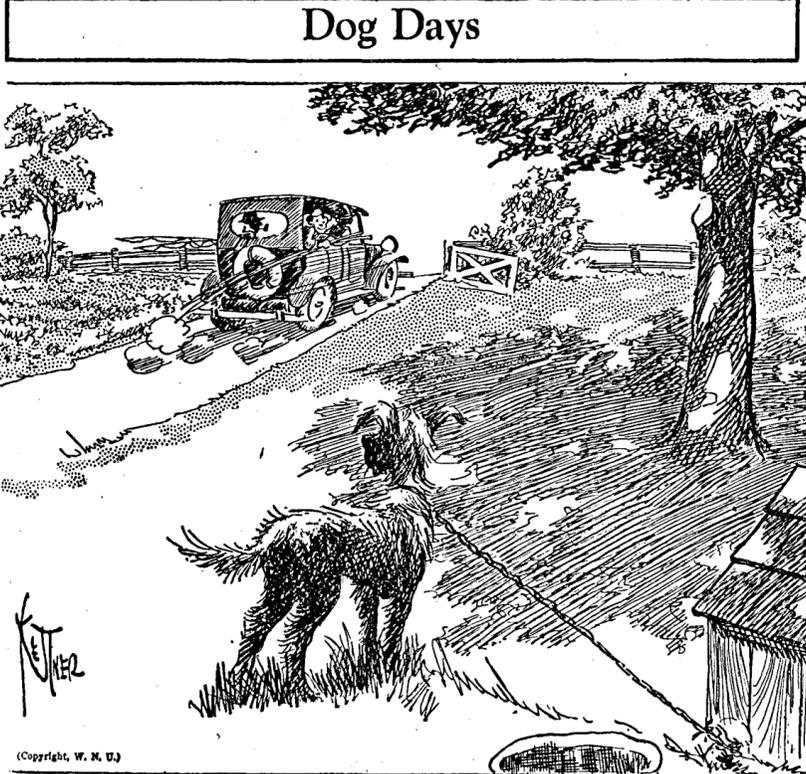

As I understood him to say the book was the "Trail of the Loup." I looked it through it for a name similar to Ernest's and I couldn't find it either. That fellow must have taken his spelling lessons from the same teacher I did.

Shriveled Wheat.
I was told that a man wrote the Lord's Prayer on a grain of wheat and that it was displayed at the World's Fair last year. I found a head of wheat in my rye, and I'll bet that fellow didn't pick a grain that was shriveled like those I found.

Corn-Hogs Again.
Went to Greeley and got my first corn-hog check yesterday. I will have to make the confession that I had not paid taxes. I walked from the corn-hog room (if that is what you call it) to the treasurer's office and paid them on the spot. My check just did the trick, (personal and real estate,) and enough shekels left to get drunk on. That is, enough for me to get drunk on.

I read in the daily paper how the farmers in some section were unanimously for the corn-hog program. Why wouldn't they be, pray tell? There are plenty of fellows who are getting a dollar a day and quite a few as high as two. They don't need to grow a crop.

Flying Needles.
The members of the Flying Needles sewing club met with Catherine Miska Thursday, August 8. The made over dresses were looked at. Several demonstrations were given.
The next meeting will be held with Rosemary Nielsen. The girls are supposed to bring their suits and little child's dress.

Dog Days

Something Different

Year after year Burwell people continue to pull together for their Big Moment, the Burwell Rodeo, and year after year their long hours of working and planning are rewarded with good crowds, good shows, and general good times for hundreds, as well as prizes and money rewards for a goodly number.

Burwell business men seem to have a lot of pep. Their boosting organizations never descend to squabbling, or forget or neglect to work as a result of disagreements. They continue to keep their eyes on the main objective, are forever busy improving the rodeo, and as a result it is a success year after year when other county holidays, fairs and such, go kaffoosy.

Even depression years did not stop them, though it interfered somewhat. But still they kept plodding along.

I heard some who thought the pari-mutuel betting slowed up the races too much. But many enjoyed the betting, even though they lost. One Ordite played every race the second day, and at the end of his many and vast manipulations had acquired twenty cents more than he began with.

Long intervals between acts do tend to bore the crowd, of course, as in any other show or festival. Things have to keep happening to keep a big crowd happy.

The crowd was quite universally thrilled by the Loop-a-plane on the midway, the ride that looked like a big hammer swinging over and over. A genuine thrill, the daring souls who rode it each one declared, as far as I was able to hear, "I wouldn't ride it again for $5." Sometimes the amount was $10 or $25. I don't think anyone went twice.

Rumor says the blond young lady who did the contortions at the night shows, Miss Mary Baker, is a sister of our county court house employee, Clyde Baker, and that her home was originally North Loup.

At any rate, she earned her money.

Once we saw three drunks, or at least three wabblers, who decided to cut from one carnival street to another through a narrow byway, not meant for the public. They went uncertainly forward, and the last of them stopped short with some big cuss words, calling the attention of the others to his leg.

On his leg was a sizable monkey, who had leaped out of a crate and fastened himself on the young fellow as he passed by. The wabber probably thought he had the D. T.'s and was seeing things.

Doc Osenowski wants me to tell the public that his friends actually made a practical joke stick, and that he and his girl are not married. The trip to Minnesota with the Jim Petka family was just a vacation and not a honeymoon, but I guess they have been kept very busy explaining this fact since coming home.

I don't know who began it, I don't, but I think this column probably helped to spread the news. Anyway, the young couple seem to have been much harassed since that time by would-be well wishers. I'm glad to help correct the erroneous idea that Dr. Osenowski is married, for he emphatically is not.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Sandwiches make a big hit in the summer time, perhaps because summer time is picnic time. Of course sandwiches always delight the children, and then there are lots of housewives who have the problem of packing lunches for lunch boxes, and to them sandwiches are always of great interest.

Fresh vegetables play an important role in summer menus, too. They lend a crisp variety to meals, may be served so many ways to delight the family. Please send the Quiz your best ideas for fixing fresh vegetables for the table and your prize sandwich recipes as well. Other cooks will try them and be very grateful to you.

Combine two cups diced beets, three hard boiled eggs, diced, with salad dressing and one-half cup cream. Serve on lettuce leaves. This mixture can also be used in sandwiches.

Carrot Preserves.
Wash and scrape three pounds of carrots, dice and boil until tender. Let the water cook down as much as possible, drain, saving the liquid which should not be more than one-half cup. Pare thinly the yellow rind from five large lemons and put through the food chopper. To this add the liquid from the carrots, six cups of sugar and juice of the lemons. Cook, stirring frequently until the mixture is the consistency of preserves, about 45 minutes. Pour into sterilized glasses and cover with parafine.

Club Sandwich.
Toast three slices of bread and spread with soft butter. On one slice put a lettuce leaf, sliced tomato, two strips of broiled bacon, cover with mayonnaise. On the second slice lay lettuce, sliced cold chicken and sliced tomato, cover with mayonnaise. Salt, put slices together and lay the third slice of toast on top. Pin together with toothpicks. Put in the oven two or three minutes to reheat the toast. Serve very hot.

Wholesome Sandwich.
Grind together one pound cream cheese, one pound boiled ham, one small can pimientos, add enough mayonnaise to make of spreading consistency. Put in a dash of cayenne pepper.

Penny Puffs.
Soak one cake compressed yeast in one-half cup warm water one hour. Dissolve in two cups boiling water two rounded tablespoons lard, two-thirds cup sugar and one tablespoon salt. Let cool and add dissolved yeast to mixture. Put in two well beaten eggs. Stiffen almost as stiff as bread and allow to rise. These may be made into Parkerhouse rolls, penny puffs, or clover leaf rolls. To make clover leaf rolls, put three tiny balls in each gem pan. If kept in a cool place this dough will keep a week. In this way you can have hot rolls every day.

BACK FORTY

Red spider mites have infested many trees in this community. They may be found on most of the elms in the city, as well as on certain other kinds of trees and shrubbery. A few trees appear to be dying as a result of the infestation.

The injuries caused by red spiders result from the sucking out of plant juices, giving the foliage an unhealthy, mottled appearance. On some local trees the leaves have turned brown and are dropping off. The trees will probably recover and come out with new foliage next spring.

Red spiders are not always red, but may be orange, green, or almost black in color. They are very tiny, but may be seen as they move about on the under sides of leaves where they have spun very fine webs for their protection. The eggs, which are either clear, opaque, or straw-colored, may also be observed.

The red spiders are probably here as an aftermath of the drouth. They are most troublesome during dry seasons, and in arid or semi-arid regions. These pests are said to be especially fond of fruit trees, cultivated flowers, vines, and truck crops.

As red spiders live through the winter in the adult stage, beneath leaves, weeds, and trash, the destruction of such debris will aid in reducing their numbers. Dusting with a mixture of 50 per cent sulphur and 50 per cent hydrated lime is recommended for controlling the red spiders, as is also spraying with summer strength lime-sulphur wash. Nicotine sulphate spray will also destroy them.

Why So Many Men?
Bitterness in Berlin
Frank H. Hitchcock Dead
The Snake Has Rights

Why does Mussolini need so many men for little Abyssinia? If he attacks, he will go through the air with bombs, poison gas or both. He certainly will not march hundreds of thousands of men through swamps, and over hot sand. He now has 925,000 men under arms, with 340,000 Fascist militia ready to be called, plus 200,000 others, born two years before the big war started. Is something else present or expected, back of all this man power? Even if Japan should come in, that would only mean a more complicated air war.

Arthur Brisbane

Berlin reports increased bitterness in the war against the Catholic church, with official posters, eight feet high, printed in red, scattered through the city, attacking alleged Catholic opposition to Nazi rule.

The posters speak of the "grafting Center (Catholic) party, working hand in hand with Bolshevism," and declare that Catholics, "the eternal enemies of the reich, wish to destroy the unity of Germany." The posters are believed to indicate new and more bitter attacks on Catholic organizations.

Many Americans will learn with sincere regret of the death of Frank H. Hitchcock, postmaster general in President Taft's cabinet and at the time of his death publisher of the Tucson Daily Citizen.

Frank Hitchcock, typical, intelligent American, will be remembered as first to appreciate the airplane's importance in connection with distribution of mail. Twenty-four years ago, when flying was new, he flew, taking a pouch of mail with him, and advocated immediate use of planes over "impassable stretches of country."

At Thomasville, N. C., Rev. Campbell Holmes, "Holy Roller" preacher, allowed a rattlesnake to bite him as he preached, "just to show you that God will take care of me." There was excitement and admiration in the congregation. Next day his arm was badly swollen, he was violently ill, death threatened, but the "Holy Roller" preacher refused medical attention. The reverend gentleman perhaps forgot that the same great power that gave him his beautiful faith also gave the rattlesnake its powerful poison. Each creature has its gifts, not safely ignored.

Did you buy bonds in the big war excitement, when little ladies, seated on elephants, sang patriotic songs and begged you to give "lill it hurts"?

One hundred and eighty-five million dollars' worth of government bonds are mislaid somewhere, perhaps hidden in old trunks, in desks, safe-deposit boxes, by those now dead. The government would like to get these past-due bonds and pay for them.

One out of every three married couples in the United States is childless, news not complimentary to the childless families. Exceptions are cases in which nature refuses to send children.

You would not value a chain of steel with every third link broken, or a chain of heredity with every third link missing. The "childless family" news should make this country revise stupid laws against immigration, shutting out men and women willing to have children, and work for them.

Madame Evelyn, who reads the stars, the future, the crystal globe and the lines in your hand on the New Jersey beach, read the "lines" for a 200-pound customer, then sighed and said: "I see only trouble ahead of you."

The client also sighed, and he, says Madame Evelyn, stood up and said, "You are an excellent fortune teller, and here's the beginning of the trouble," and socked me on the jaw, knocking me out of my chair."

Americans interested in cotton production and wondering how long our export figures will stand up will want to know that Japanese cotton buyers have "folded up," as one Texas cotton grower put it; have moved out of Texas, apparently giving up all idea of buying cotton there.

The late Nathan Straus used to say "If a German loses one of his relatives, he feels badly. If he loses money, he goes to bed sick."

German trade and industry will "go to bed sick" if it persists in its present attitude toward those that promote business and prosperity in every country where Jews are treated fairly.

RESOLUTION.
WHEREAS, it has been found more convenient for the orderly transaction of business to permit the FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN ORD, NEBRASKA, to secure the City of Ord, Nebraska, for all money kept on deposit by it in said bank, by placing bonds with the FEDERAL RESERVE BANK OF OMAHA, NEBRASKA, under the terms of Joint Custody receipts which are issued in favor of First National Bank in Ord, Nebraska, and the City Clerk of Ord, Nebraska.

RESOLVED, that the City Clerk and the City Treasurer of the City of Ord be and they hereby authorized and directed to accept joint custody receipts issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Omaha, Nebraska, made in favor of First National Bank in Ord, Nebraska, and City Clerk of Ord, Nebraska, evidencing the pledging of securities for the safe return of funds of the City of Ord, Nebraska, placed or kept on deposit in said FIRST NATIONAL BANK IN ORD, NEBRASKA.

RESOLVED FURTHER,
1. That the City Clerk of the City of Ord, shall be the Custodian of all such Joint Custody receipts, and that he and the treasurer of the City of Ord, shall issue their Joint Receipt for all Joint Custody receipts to said First National Bank in Ord, Nebraska.
2. That all duly authorized and appointed depositories receiving funds on deposit belonging to the City of Ord, Nebraska, shall be required to pledge securities in the total amount of One hundred ten (110) percent of all money on deposit with said institutions, and that all securities so pledged shall be pledged only on approval of the Finance Committee of the City Board of Ord, Nebraska.

3. That in the event application is made by the respective depositories of the City of Ord to withdraw or substitute any of the securities pledged for security of City funds the City Clerk is hereby authorized and instructed to allow such withdrawals or substitutions of securities only upon the written order of the Treasurer and the members of the Finance Committee of the City of Ord, Nebraska.

It was moved by Sershen and seconded by Gudmundsen that the foregoing resolution be accepted as read. Motion carried.

They're Learning to Swim and Having Fun' Too

Above is shown Instructor Helmut Brockman and his assistants with their boys' swimming class, part of the Recreational program in Ord. About one-third of the boys in this class could swim before taking the project lessons but they can take care of themselves in the water to better advantage now. Others couldn't swim a stroke but are learning rapidly. This picture was taken on the Mortensen farm north of Ord.

Below is shown Instructor Brockman with a beginning student who is taking his first lesson. Ord mothers will feel that their boys are safe when swimming if they learn this summer under competent instructors.

Methodist Church.

Mrs. Tom Fuson of New York City will sing again at our morning service next Sunday, at 11 o'clock. This will be her last appearance at our Sunday services before returning to her home.

Union evening service on the lawn of the U. B. church, 8 o'clock. Rev. Woodruff will be the preacher. By agreement of the churches of the city, the offering at the union service next Sunday night will be given to Rev. H. A. Miller who gave the stereopticon sermon last Sunday night. It is to be used in his missionary work in Africa. A large congregation heard his address.

Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

United Brethren Church.

Sunday school at 10 o'clock with the election of Sunday school officers.

The morning worship at 11 o'clock. Christian Endeavor at 7:00 o'clock at the parsonage. Leader, Opal Miller.

The union service at 8 o'clock. Rev. Brother Woodruff will bring the message. Rev. Brother Smith will have charge of the service with special music by the Methodist church.

We would call your attention to the fact that on next Sunday evening the offering will go to Rev. Harry Miller, returned missionary, under the African Inland Mission, who spoke on last Sunday evening. This is a faith mission supported by Christian people from the various Christian churches. The missionaries are all members of some orthodox church in America or elsewhere. After hearing Mr. Miller we feel sure you will want to bring a gift that he may be able soon to return to the field. If you cannot be present at the service on next Sunday evening you may hand your offering to the pastor of any of the four churches engaged in these union Sunday evening services. This offering has not been solicited on the part of our missionary friend but is wholly voluntary on the part of the Christians at Ord. Prayer meeting Thursday night, led by Mrs. Archie Waterman.

Wins at the Rodeo

In 1934 Mrs. Matt Keefe, using flour milled by the Elyria Milling Co., won first prize on white bread at the Burwell Fair and Rodeo.

Proving that this victory was no accident and that Elyria flour is really the best for all kinds of baking, Mrs. J. W. Penas last week won the following prizes at the 1935 Burwell fair: 1st on Buns; 1st on Cherry Pie; 2nd on Graham Bread; 2nd on Rye Bread; 2nd on Kollaces. Mrs. Penas says: "I hereby certify that I used Elyria flour in winning these premiums."

YOU DON'T HAVE TO "BREAK IN" THE FORD V-8

You can drive it 50 miles an hour the day you buy it

THE FORD V-8 is ready for normal driving when you buy it. There is no tedious period of breaking-in for 500 or 1000 miles. You can drive it up to 50 miles an hour the first day. And after the first hundred miles you can drive it as fast as you desire.

That means greater motoring enjoyment for every motorist. It is especially important to motorists who are thinking about a new car for a vacation trip — to physicians, salesmen and all those who use a car for business. Instead of dragging along at slow speeds for days, you can make good time from the start.

The reason for this is as important as the result. The Ford V-8 needs no breaking-in because of unusual accuracy in the manufacture of moving parts and the smoothness of bearing surfaces. Clearances are correct when you buy the car. It is not necessary to depend on a long wearing-in period to eliminate tightness and insure smooth running. Longer life, greater economy and better performance are bound to result from such precision methods. The Ford V-8 gives you fine-car construction, along with fine-car performance, comfort, safety and beauty.

Elyria News

An increased attendance at Sunday school last Sunday was reported.

Mrs. John Michalek of Omaha is visiting numerous relatives here. Sunday afternoon she visited at the home of her brother, M. G. Kusek. She was formerly Cella Kusek and lived here with her parents before her marriage.

Saturday the Elyria boys' and girls' 4-H clubs drove to Scotia where they attended a judging school directed by the extension service of the University of Nebraska. Leonard Dlugosh and Will Dodge drove cars, taking the members down. The trip not only proved enjoyable but educational. Richard, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Golka, had the misfortune to break his arm Thursday when he fell from a horse he had been riding.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Brown of Ord spent Sunday at the Wm. near North Loup and Chas. Turner Helleberg home.

She Goes In For Black Widows

Miss Rose Baum, upper left, probably knows more about black widow spiders than anyone in Valley county. All summer she has been catching them, imprisoning them in glass bottles and observing their habits. She has caught over 300 of the spiders, part of them being shown in the row of bottles above. The second bottle from the left contains about 150 mature spiders, the bottle at the right several hundred baby black widows hatched in captivity.

Thursday Miss Rose Baum brought to Ord a collection of 300 black widow spiders which she caught on the farm of her brother-in-law, Joe Verzal, who lives 6 miles west of Ord. Most of the spiders were found in an outside storm cave, although a large number were found in the basement under the house. A few were discovered in the yard, lurking under tin pans and boards.

Miss Baum, who has been working on the Verzal farm for several months, began catching the spiders in April, preserving them in alcohol. The spiders, which abounded in the sides of the slanting storm cave and the steps of the basement, were captured by the use of nets and sticks and kept in enclosed jars. While doing the work, Miss Baum clad herself in high boots, heavy clothing, and gloves, which afforded maximum protection from the dangerous insect.

Thought Common Spiders.
The storm cellar in which the spiders were found, had been used the previous year for storage of fruits, potatoes and canned vegetables and although spiders were noticed a number of times, no significance was attached to their presence, and they were regarded as just another spider. Several months ago when stories of black widow spiders first began to appear, they examined the spiders more closely, and discovered they were the dreaded black widows.

The spiders reproduce very rapidly, between 200 and 300 small spiders hatching from a single egg. The small spider is not poisonous and is quite colorless. In about two weeks it has grown to a bug the size of a match head and has turned to a medium gray. In another two weeks, the spider turns black, and it is then that it becomes dangerous, although the bite of a very small spider is painful and causes extreme swelling and discomfort.

Kill Each Other.
Miss Baum, who has been studying their growth and habits, says that if two spiders are placed together, one will kill the other for food, in preference to any other insect. This they do by secreting a sticky fluid which renders the spider helpless. They then beat the helpless spider with their long hind legs until death is brought about. Ordinarily they feed on flies and other insects. They have a very small web, unlike that of the ordinary spider, and a number of them make their home in the sides of the dirt storm cellar.

Some of the spiders have been given to Ord doctors by Miss Baum for research work, and also to universities throughout the country for experimental purposes.

Iva Rogers Dies August 7th After Weeks of Illness

Daughter of Late John Rogers Passes Just Eleven Weeks After Father's Death.

Iva Pearl, twin daughter of John C. and Nina Rogers was born September 30, 1889 in Vinton community, Valley county, Nebraska, and departed this life on August 7, 1935 at 8:30 a. m. in the Ord family residence.

Iva spent her childhood and youth in the Vinton neighborhood moving to Ord in 1916. Because of her deep interest in humanity, she with her twin sister, Eva M., planned to devote her life to the profession of nursing, starting her preparation when 21 years of age in the Omaha Methodist Hospital. Due to ill health, Iva was unable to continue her training but her interest in this profession of mercy was ever one of her greatest interests in life, and the denial of participation in this profession was a source of constant sorrow to her.

In childhood she became a member of the Vinton Methodist church, later transferring her membership to the Ord class. Ill health interfered with an active life in her church especially the latter part of her earthly pilgrimage. Recently she was called to mourn the passing of her father, whose care she tenderly shared until it became apparent that the price of her service to her beloved parent was too great for her strength. Following a complete breakdown, she was taken to a Lincoln hospital for treatment. After being called home because of the passing of her father, she was tenderly cared for in the home until just eleven weeks to the day from her father's calling, she was summoned from her intense suffering.

She leaves beside her aged mother, four sisters, Mrs. R. G. Burrows of Vinton, Eva M. of Ord, Mrs. Lizzie Honeycutt and Mrs. Sadie Skinner of Broken Bow and two brothers, Jay and Leon of Ord and a number of nephews, nieces and other relatives and friends. There were also a sister who died in infancy and a brother, John who passed away in 1911.

Funeral services were held from the Ord home, Friday morning, August 9, Rev. Chas. F. Wantz, pastor of the Midvale United Brethren church being in charge. Mrs. Clarence Davis sang two solos accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Kirby McGrew. Six nephews, Laverne, Edward and Richard Burrows, Guy Jensen, Billy Skinner and Harry Gebauer served as pallbearers. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

J. J. Stara Writes.
From his home in Aberdeen, Wash., the Quiz receives a letter from J. J. Stara, formerly a tailor in Ord, and enclosed were two snapshots showing a flood in the Chehalis valley last February, when 6 to 8 feet of water covered the whole valley. Mr. Stara says he enjoys the news pictures in the Quiz.

respiration while her mother ran to a neighbor's home to telephone for help. Carl Astmus, who drove along the highway about that time, also assisted.

Dr. F. A. Barta was called and reached the scene within a few minutes but Mr. Cushing was beyond help and, according to Dr. Barta, he must have been killed instantly. Flesh was burned from the forefinger of his left hand, showing where he touched the power line. Sheriff George Round and County Attorney Alvin B. Lee also visited the scene of the tragedy immediately and Marlon's body then was brought to Ord in the Sowl ambulance.

Death of no other man could have shocked Ord people and Nebraskans generally as did the death of Mr. Cushing. Son of the late F. M. Cushing, scout, plainsman and one of the first settlers in the North Loup valley, Marlon was entirely an Ord product. He was born here in 1887, was reared in this community, was educated in the Ord schools and later in Grand Island Baptist college, and spent his entire life here.

Trusted by Everyone.
As a young man he was a great baseball pitcher, winning many games for the Ord team, and he had several opportunities to go into professional baseball where experts believe he would have developed into one of the greatest pitchers of all time. Instead he elected to become a farmer but such an able man was he and so deeply was he trusted by his friends, among whom are included everybody in the Loup valleys, that he was elected president of the Ord

State bank, a position he held several years. Seven years ago he offered himself as a candidate for the state legislature and was elected by a tremendous majority. Voters of Valley and Garfield counties returned him to the legislature again in 1930, 1932 and for a fourth term in 1934 and he was one of the most popular, able and influential men in the legislature.

Last year he served as president of the Valley County Corn-Hog Control association and at the time of his death he was president of the Broken Bow Production Credit association.

In writing about his death the Omaha World-Herald said: "The accident removed from the Nebraska political scene a man whose legislative career caused many observers to predict he would fill the place of Senator George W. Norris, when the veteran Nebraskan retires. Political Independent.

"The last bicameral legislative session this year was Cushing's fourth term. He was one of the few bicameral members who supported the Norris unicameral legislature plan, both before and after its adoption by the people of Nebraska last November.

"Although officially the republican house leader, Cushing was known for his independence in political action and liberal thought, after the manner of Norris.

Ablest, Most Popular.
"In informal polls of observers during the last session, Cushing was voted among the ablest of the legislators and by many the most popular.

Although Cushing played an outstanding part in almost every important debate of the session, he went down to defeat on his two favorite measures. Almost singlehandedly he fought for adoption of a state income tax and for ratification of the federal child labor amendment, but they lost."

And the State Journal said: "Tried for Income Tax.

"Marlon Cushing was an outstanding legislator thru four sessions. He was minority floor leader during the 1935 session and was credited with much influence both with members of his own party and of the party in control. He tried through his career to put on the statute books an income tax law. He made progress but not quite enough along this line. Last winter his income tax received more support than did the sales tax.

"He was a hard fighter but always reasonable. His opponents were unable to ruffle him under fire. He had a deep respect for the late Trenmor Cone, the seldom in full agreement with him. He was considered by many as the most forceful member in either house or senate. His word always was rated at 100 percent. He was expert in discovering weak points in bills under consideration. He was willing to give and take in the interests of good legislation.

Besides his widow Marlon will be mourned by his mother, Mrs. F. M. Cushing, by two children, Marlon Grace, a student at Doane College, and Robert, a student in the Nebraska university, and by two brothers, Herbert L. Cushing, deputy state superintendent of schools, and Frank Cushing, Ord.

day, August 1, at the Methodist church here and burial will be made in Ord cemetery. Ord friends will be pallbearers and men who served with Marlon in the legislature will be honorary pallbearers.

The affection in which the late legislator was held by people of Nebraska is proved by dozens of long-distance telephone calls that came to relatives yesterday from colleagues and friends over the state. Many of Marlon's colleagues in the legislature, as well as several state officials, will be here for the funeral. Arrangements for the final rites have not yet been completed although time for the service is definitely set at 2:30 p. m. Friday. Ord business houses will close that afternoon and townspeople will unite in paying their respects to the man who was, in many ways, Ord's foremost citizen.

ATTEST: Rex Jewett, City Clerk. G. B. Flagg, Mayor.

The Mayor and City Council of the City of Ord met in adjourned special session in response to the summons of Mayor Flagg for a special session on the evening of July 18, 1935 at 8:00 o'clock P. M. The following call was sent out: You and each of you are hereby notified that a special meeting of the City Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, is called to meet in the City Hall at 8:00 o'clock P. M., on the 18th day of July, 1935, the purpose of said meeting being to consider the installing of gasoline tanks in the residential section of Ord, and to consider the matter of vacations for the employees of the City of Ord.
G. B. Flagg, Mayor.
Service of the above call is hereby acknowledged this 18th day of July, 1935.
The Mayor directed the acting Clerk to call the roll. The following Councilmen were present: Val Pullen, Curt Gudmundsen, Guy Burrows, Anton Bartunek, Frank Serghen, Jay Auble.
The matter of the application of Holloway for permission to put gasoline tanks underground in the residential section of Ord was brought up. The matter was discussed pro and con. Moved by Gudmundsen and seconded by Burrows that the application be denied for the reason that it is the desire of the Council to prohibit the installment of gasoline storage tanks in the residential districts. Motion carried, unanimously.
The matter of vacations for the City employees was brought up. Moved by Auble and seconded by Bartunek that the employees of the City of Ord have one week vacation on full pay. Motion carried.
There being no further business to come before the Mayor and Council at this time it was moved by Gudmundsen and seconded by Burrows that the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, adjourn.
ATTEST: Dorothy Seerley, Acting Clerk. G. B. Flagg, Mayor.

You Don't Know
What True
Meat
Satisfaction
Is Until You
Start Buying Here

Lots of people who have been thinking for years they were buying as good meat as could be bought in Ord have now changed to our market and have told us: "We didn't know what good meat was until we started buying here."

We are selling only U. S. inspected, top quality, beef, pork and lamb. Our beef is all corn-fed steer and heifer meat and its so good it simply melts in your mouth. Our pork and lamb are lean and tender, trimmed so you have practically no waste. It's actually cheaper to buy meat here.

We invite a trial.

Custer Rodeo-Fair On At Broken Bow 3 Days Next Week

The Custer Rodeo and Fair is on at Broken Bow Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of next week, August 21-23, and the management looks for the greatest attendance in the fifty year history of their fair. Big contracts have been made for rodeo stock, for trick riders, ropers and cowboy clowns. One hundred cowboys, among them state and world champions, are expected and a very large percentage of these have already signified their intention to be there. The usual afternoon rodeo program will be followed by a huge night show with the arena lighted with powerful floodlights.

At the night show a boxing tournament has been arranged, which the management insists will insure a tremendous attendance. Twenty to twenty-five rounds of boxing will follow a night rodeo program. This fight card is put on under the rules of the Athletic Division of the State Public Welfare Department. It will be clean sport but will be fast and furious with some of the best boxers in the fight game in the state in the contests. The management insists that the night show will be the biggest drawing card that has ever been put on the Custer County fair grounds, owing to the topnotch fighters that have been matched for each night event.

that the project would be rejected. First the engineering division of the PWA reported adversely, then the finance division rejected the project, but through all these reverses Middle Loup boosters fought on, never losing hope of ultimate approval. At least $25,000 was spent in boosting the project.

The district has 42,300 acres of land signed up for irrigation and claims to have 10 towns signed up for power. About 10 million kilowatt hours of energy will be developed annually by the project when completed.

H. H. Henningson, Omaha, is engineer for the project and C. A. Sorensen, Lincoln, and Kenneth Finlayson, Omaha, are its attorneys. The latter is a law partner of Senator Burke. H. S. Kinsey, Arcadia, is secretary of the district.

Same Offer to No. Loup.

An offer similar to that accepted by the Middle Loup was made to the North Loup power and irrigation district some time ago but was rejected because directors of this district did not believe the bonds could be sold to private investors, President Bert M. Hardenbrook says. The North Loup district is still hopeful of PWA approval which will embody a grant of 45 per cent and a loan of the balance needed.

Guilt of Battery.

In the case of Bert Sell in county court here last week, the charge upon which he was convicted by the jury was battery instead of assault and battery as stated in the Quiz. He insists that a correction be made.

Cool Your Eggs

—CHICAGO

The problem of cooling eggs on the average farm is no simple matter during the hot summer months as eggs should be kept at a temperature below 63 degrees. Low temperature is necessary to prevent germ development in fertile eggs and to prevent the yolks in both fertile and non-fertile eggs from softening and flattening out.

Eggs should be gathered three or four times every day during the hot weather and put in the coolest place available—in the basement or cellar. They should not be put into the case immediately, but should be allowed to cool. The ideal container for cooling eggs is a wire tray. The next best is the wire basket, and it perhaps is more practical as it can be used in gathering the eggs thus saving one handling as the eggs can remain in the wire basket until properly cooled. Actual tests show that eggs placed on a wire tray will cool in one-third the time it takes them to cool in a galvanized pail. It is also important to have the case cool before putting eggs into it. Remember, eggs deteriorate rapidly at temperatures over 68 degrees. After the eggs are properly cooled they should be put in cases and delivered to your creamery or buying station at least three times each week. Don't wait until the case is full, sell them as often as you can.

CHEVROLET

Moves the Circus

Next Tuesday, Aug. 20, the famous Schell Bros. circus, one of the largest traveling circuses, will visit Ord. This circus travels by truck and EVERY TRUCK USED BY SCHELL BROS. IS A CHEVROLET.

Naturally a large circus, traveling thousands of miles every season, making jumps of 100 miles or more every day, must have the most efficient, economical transportation it is possible to secure. That's why Schell Bros. chose CHEVROLET.

SCHELL BROS. USE 54 CHEVROLET TRUCKS AND WITH THEM TRANSPORT ELEPHANTS, TIGERS, AND ALL THEIR OTHER ANIMALS AS WELL AS THEIR HUGE TENTS, PARAPHERNALIA AND OVER 300 PERFORMERS.

We urge truck owners or prospective truck buyers of this community to visit the Schell Bros. circus, inspect these 54 Chevrolet Trucks and ask the management about them.

Whole State Pays Final Respects To Marion J. Cushing

Funeral Rites Friday Attended By Gov. Cochran and Other State Officials.

People of Nebraska paid their last respects to one of this state's most famous men Friday when Marion J. Cushing, four times a state representative and considered certain of a brilliant future in politics, was laid to rest in Ord cemetery after funeral rites at the Methodist church. Attending the service as official representative of the state was Governor Roy B. Cochran. Cities of Lincoln, Omaha and Columbus sent official representatives and also present were many state senators, representatives and other officials from almost every county of Nebraska.

Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., pastor of the Ord Presbyterian church, conducted the simple rites with the assistance of Rev. Willard McCarthy, Rev. Mearl C. Smith and Rev. George Wash. of Lincoln, the latter having served as chaplain of the 1935 house of representatives.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Mark Tolen, who sang "Come, Come Ye, Disconsolate," and "Some Morning," accompanied at the piano by Mrs. James B. Ollis. Pallbearers were life-long friends and neighbors of the Cushing family, Leo Long, John Vodehnal, R. C. Bailey, George A. Munn, Fred Coe and Ben Arnold.

Honored by Legislators.

Honorary pallbearers included Governor Cochran, O. Edwin Schultz of Elba, W. G. Putney of Wahoo, Jay Hastings of Osceola, John B. Peterson of Ashland, Julius Oleson of Ashland, John Hovekost of Hooper, L. G. Gillespie of O'Neill, Carl Bremer of Aurora, L. C. Nurnberg of Wakefield, J. W. Reilly of Rosalie, Louis M. Jepperson of Hubbard, Otto C. Weber of Leigh, Peter H. Claussen of Leigh, Rev. Martin Schroeder of Bloomfield, John F. Doyle of Greeley, H. M. Johnston of Doniphan, J. S. Steele of Kimball, A. G. Jensen of Fremont, J. A. Brown, John S. Bishop, C. J. Mitchell, J. Cass Cornell, Charles Cornell, Chester Ager and James E. Reed, of Lincoln, R. C. Regan and Ed T. Lusinski of Columbus, W. T. Haycock of Callaway, George Sullivan of Omaha, Roy Henderson of Riverview, W. E. Buckindorf of Bassett, B. F. Newlon of Palmer, C. F. Beushausen of Loup City, Henry Obink of Lincoln, W. H. O'Gara of Laurel, Francis McDermott and Harry S. Bryne of Omaha.

Schell Circus Was Largely Attended

Tuesday was circus day in Ord, the Schell Bros. show appearing here, and so large was the crowd attracted by the event that it plainly demonstrated that Valley county is "circus hungry" and would turn out in even larger numbers for a real show. Unfortunately, the Schell attractions did not live up to advance announcements and many in the crowd were disappointed.

One elephant, three lions, a bear and a few ponies comprise the "huge" menagerie. Even so, the Schell show was a good little circus of its kind, cleanly managed and appealing to the children if not so much so to adults.

According to the manager, this circus has met with many troubles since opening the season in March in northern Texas. Its itinerary took it up through the "dust bowl" of Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas and for 21 consecutive days dust was so heavy that performance could not be given. Then in Minnesota rains and heavy winds were encountered, further handicapping the show, and many performers had to be released for financial reasons. The circus is only half as large now as when the season opened, Manager Schell claims. Losses this season aggregate $9,000.

Before coming here the show played in St. Paul and the next day went to Loup City.

FIX YOUR HEADLIGHTS!
It has been called to my attention that many motorists of this community have become careless about their headlights and tail lights and I wish to serve warning to all drivers to have their lights fixed at once or arrested likely to follow. 21-11

Snake Invades Kitchen.
Elyria—(Special)—Mrs. Steve Jablonski received a shock Sunday morning when she discovered a large bullsnake curled up comfortably behind the kitchen range. She has no idea how the snake got into the kitchen. The snake was killed by Mrs. Frank Jablonski and everything was serene in the Jablonski kitchen again.

Burwell Rodeo Grandstand Demolished by Cyclone Friday

This mass of splintered, broken timbers and twisted roofing and guy wires formerly was the center section of the north grandstand on the Burwell rodeo grounds, demolished by a cyclone Friday evening between 8:30 and 9:00. Cyclones are notorious for freakish destruction and never was this more evident than at Burwell Friday, for the rodeo grounds was the only place affected. People living near-by did not even know until next morning that the grandstand had been demolished.

East and west sections of the north grandstand were unharmed but sheet iron roofing was torn from the south section of the west grandstand and blown up against a fence 150 yards away. About .35 inches of rain accompanied the big wind.

Burwell grandstands are insured for $6,600 and rodeo officials report a very satisfactory settlement with an insurance adjuster who visited Burwell Monday. Photo by Jensen.

One Inch of Rain Falls Monday Eve, Weather Is Cooler

Pastures, Late Corn Helped By Belated Downpour; Too Late To Help Many Fields.

After seven weeks of virtual drought, a belated one inch rain fell over most of Valley county Monday evening and although it came too late to help many corn fields it was welcomed by farmers anyway, having a beneficial effect upon pastures, gardens and late corn. Some sections reported more than an inch, Arcadia getting 1.31, North Loup 1.25 and the west part of the county 1.45. On the other hand, Elyria got only .25 although north of there a few miles 1.5 inches fell.

Much difference of opinion exists as to the condition of Valley county corn fields. Yesterday a visitor to the Quiz office made the statement that the entire county wouldn't average 5 bushels to the acre. Another man estimated 10 bushels. Still another said fields in his community wouldn't make any corn, in fact were too dry to make good silage. And another thought that, with plentiful rainfall in the next two or three weeks the county would have half a crop. All agree that conditions aren't nearly so serious as a year ago, anyway.

Cooler weather was ushered in by the Monday evening rain, the week previous having been above normal for mid-August.

Recreation Projects Drawing To Close

Recreational project work will be brought to a close in this city in a couple of weeks because of the opening of the schools. Much progress has been made in every line of endeavor and the work under the supervision of Coach Brockman, has been most successful.

Saturday members of the recreational classes put on a parade prizes being offered for the best costumes and characterizations. Bobby Klima as Mahatma Ghandi won first prize and Harold Goff, disguised as a monkey won second boy's prize. Donna Brown as a hula hula dancer and Viona Vov Old Mother Hubbard won first and second girls' prizes. Another parade will be given this Saturday evening and prizes will again be awarded. Exhibits of the various lines of work will be displayed in the windows of Aulsebrook's, McKee Hardware, and McBeth's Beauty shop.

The committees wish to acknowledge and thank the Rebekah lodge for $5 and the Rotarians for $5. The committee appreciates that their requests for donations have met with splendid cooperation, no organization yet asked having failed to donate.

—Mrs. Anna Kovarik, Miss Mary Kovarik and Mrs. Emma Klimesh and son Elvin of Spillville, Ia., visited last week with their cousins, Misses Elizabeth, Barbara and M'nie Lukes and an aunt, Mrs. Anna Martin.

Rural Schools Will Open September 2d

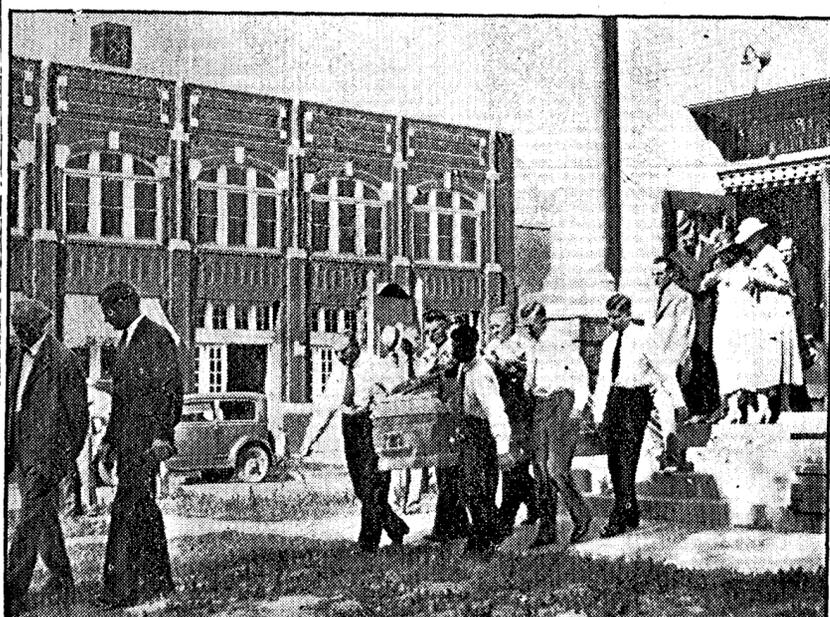

Although opening day for rural schools of Valley county comes on Monday, Sept. 2, less than two weeks away, Miss Clara L. McClatchey, superintendent of schools, has not yet been able to compile a complete list of teachers for publication. Each week during the summer there have been resignations and district boards have been forced to elect new teachers. Some teachers are quitting to accept better paid jobs in other counties, a few have resigned to get married. Two more resignations were made last week Miss McClatchey says. She hopes to publish a complete list of Valley county's rural teachers next week.

Ord Baseballers Win One, Lose Two

Ord baseball fans were served a large sports menu last week end, one game being played here Saturday and two Sunday. In the Saturday clash with the Pine Ridge Indians Manager L. J. Aulsebrook's team was worsted, 16 to 8, but in the first game Sunday afternoon rebounded to score a 21 to 3 victory over the redskins. In the nightcap Sunday Arcadia defeated Ord, 8 to 4, in a Loup Valley league game. This Sunday the Tuxedos, a fast negro ball team, will play in Ord.

—James D. n. of Burwell will be able to return to his home at Burwell in a few days following a major operation at the Weekes Sanitarium.

Borne to Last Resting Place as Hundreds Grieve

Hundreds of sorrowing friends stood with hats off as the coffin containing the body of Marion J. Cushing was carried tenderly to the waiting hearse Friday afternoon after funeral rites at the Methodist church. In this photograph are shown Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., and Rev. Willard McCarthy preceding the coffin, which was borne by John Vodehnal, Ben Arnold, Leo Long, Fred Coe, R. C. Bailey and George A. Munn. At the rear of the coffin is seen Orville H. Sowl and just leaving the church door is the widow, supported by her children, Robert and Marlon Grace. Roy L. Cochran, governor of Nebraska, can be seen—hat off—over the shoulder of Mr. Vodehnal.

Ord Schools Are In Readiness For Opening Sept. 9th

Stokers Installed, Much Repair Work Done; Only One New Member of Faculty.

The Ord board of education completed the set-up for the coming school year at the August meeting. An official calendar was adopted, the staff completed and general plans approved. In the main the Ord schools will be much the same this year as in the past. That is, no major changes in curricula or policy are anticipated.

The usual courses and subjects will be offered in the high school. Ord has the plan of graduating students in any of the following courses as well as combinations of the same. The courses are: Vocational Agriculture, a three year course; College Preparatory, the usual offerings in this line; Commercial, a complete course in commercial subjects; General course, an elective course to meet the individual needs and desires of special pupils; Normal Training, as prescribed by the state superintendent and leading to a teacher's certificate, good in the rural schools.

Many Special Courses.
In addition to the above courses there are many subjects and departments that offer special attraction or opportunities to the pupils interested. Two years of double courses are given in Home Making. This work is broader than the formal Home Economics and really gives the girls training that they can take home and use. The two years of Manual Arts, also stresses practical work for the boys. The machinery is available for the more advanced work along with the home shop projects.

One New Instructor.
The faculty for the 1935-36 term will be as follows:
Junior-Senior High School—Wilbur D. Cass, Principal, Mae Baird, home economics, H. F. Brockman, manual arts, athletics.

Council Approves Beer Applications

No objections being filed, the Ord city council in special session Monday evening approved applications for beer licenses filed by Mary K. Sharp, Freda Buchinck, Glen Johnson, J. A. Riley, Frank Kasal and New Cafe. The approved applications were sent to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission at Lincoln Tuesday morning and beer dealers are hoping to receive their licenses today. They have been unable to sell beer for over a week because of lack of licenses.

Famous Violinist Opens Ord Studio

Prof. Frank J. Kolbaba, famous violinist and pupil of the celebrated Sevcik, is opening a studio in the Jerry Puncotchar residence here. For over thirty years Prof. Kolbaba has taught violin at Howard Payne college, Baylor college for Women, Washburn college, New Mexico State Teachers college and privately in Chicago, Omaha and in Prague, Czechoslovakia.

Convinced Dictionary Editor He Was Right

W. W. HASKELL.
In 1882 when Mr. Haskell founded this newspaper he cast about for a name that was short, expressive and easily remembered, finally deciding on the word "Quiz" and so this newspaper became the only one so named in the United States. But the editor of Webster's dictionary of "quiz" as clownish buffoonery, whereas Editor Haskell thought it to mean a terse query. So ensued a long correspondence and finally the dictionary editor conceded that Mr. Haskell was right and he was wrong, changing his definition of "quiz" in the next edition of his dictionary. Mr. Haskell passed away last Friday at his home here at the age of 78.

Whisker Club's 1st Kangaroo Court Is Planned Friday

Will Punish Reneging Members In Comical Ways; 350 Men Are Now Raising Whiskers.

The Ord Whisker club, now 350 strong, held its first official meeting Friday night at official hall and elected F. E. McQuillan president, Bert Boquet vice-president, and Dr. Lee C. Nay secretary. Also organized was a kangaroo court which will have Tom Springer as presiding judge, assisted by John Perliniski, Glen Johnson, John P. Misko and Ed Michalek as associate judges.

This club, organized by business men to help boost the Valley county fair and auto races, is about the most interesting thing in Ord just at present. In joining members agree to grow some size or shape of beard, moustache or sideburns until the auto races end and failure to do so subjects the members to severe penalties at the hands of the kangaroo court.

Date of Molzer Concert Changed

The Molzer troupe which was scheduled to appear this week with the Ord municipal band informed friends here last Saturday that it would be impossible for them to leave Lincoln, as previously announced. They will appear in concert Wednesday evening, Aug. 28, on the court house steps immediately following a short program by the city band.

This group includes Professor and Mrs. August Molzer, and their sons Robert, Victor and Clarence. Eunice Bingham, Garnette Mayhew, Jean Ellsworth, and John Schildneek.

Mrs. Skolil Rites To Be Held Today

Funeral services will be held at the Bohemian hall at 2:00 this afternoon for Mrs. Magdalena Skolil, 78, who passed away Monday, August 19, at her home in east Ord. Mrs. Skolil was the mother of Ed Skolil, former Comstock banker who now lives in California, and of Joe Skolil, Emil Skolil and Mrs. J. W. Vodehnal, of the Ord community. Other children are James Skolil, of Comstock, and Mrs. John Novotny, of Kimball. A complete obituary will appear next week.

W. W. Haskell, 78, Founder of Quiz, Dies August 16th

Was Pernicious Anemia Sufferer For 12 Years; Brilliant Writer; Able Editor.

William W. Haskell, 78, founder of the Ord Quiz and its editor and publisher for 35 years, passed away Friday, August 16 at his home in Ord after a long and wasting illness with pernicious anemia. First afflicted with this ailment twelve years ago, he promptly quit active work and adopted a regimen of diet and rest that soon restored him to comparative health and it was only a few months ago that he became bedfast. During the closing weeks of his life he was given several blood transfusions, donors being his son, John, and his grandson, Harold, but he grew steadily weaker, although he was mentally alert and retained his interest in the affairs of life until the very day of his death.

Will Haskell was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sylvester S. Haskell and was born Jan. 23, 1857, near Earlville, Ill., the next to the youngest in a family of eight children, three of whom, Mrs. John R. Williams of Lincoln, Mrs. Mary Jones of Canon City, Colo., and Alverdo Haskell of West Plains, Mo., survive.

Worked Way Through Uni.
After completing his common school education he attended Northwestern University, Evanston, Ill., from which he graduated, having provided the funds for his university course by selling maps throughout the middle west.

On Nov. 6, 1881 at Chicago he was married to Victoria Cutler and soon thereafter the newly married couple came to Ord where Mr. Haskell, with the help of his young wife, established the Quiz which he published until 1918, in which year he sold it to H. D. Leggett, the present owner.

A brilliant, forceful writer and an able editor, Mr. Haskell made both friends and enemies with his newspaper. He was strongly opposed to liquor and throughout his life as publisher of the Quiz he fought it with his newspaper, finally, in 1914, seeing Ord vote dry and remain so for 21 years. Although he never sought a political office he was a staunch republican and exerted a tremendous influence along political lines. A believer in strict economy in city government, his editorial writings on this and other questions made the Quiz widely read over the state and for years Mr. Haskell was quoted by other newspapers more often, perhaps, than any other Nebraska editor.

Active in Many Lines.
At one time Mr. Haskell owned the Ord gas plant and he also had extensive farm and city real estate holdings.

In early life Mr. Haskell became a member of the Methodist church and was active in the varied activities of this faith as long as his health permitted. In 1900 he was sent as a lay delegate of the west Nebraska conference to the general conference of the Methodist church in Los Angeles. He served as superintendent of the Ord Sunday school and held many other church offices. As a teacher of a men's class, he made his work so interesting that many members joined the Sunday school as a result.

Besides his wife, Mr. Haskell is survived by a son, John R. Haskell of Ord, two daughters, Mrs. D. O. N. Lindberg of Decatur, Ill., and Mrs. Herman N. Mattley of Lincoln, seven grandchildren, many nieces and nephews and a host of friends in Nebraska and especially in the Loup valleys. Two daughters, Zilpha and Zerna, preceded him in death.

Wife In Hospital.

On July 21 his devoted wife accidentally fell and suffered a broken hip, being taken to Lincoln General hospital. Her great regret is that she was denied the privilege of caring for her husband in his last days. Until that accident, her splendid care and courageous spirit prolonged his life far beyond the normal time of one so afflicted.

Funeral services for Mr. Haskell were held at 10:00 a. m. Monday, Aug. 19, from the Methodist church, Rev. Mearl C. Smith being the minister in charge. Pallbearers were Walter Desch, Will Hather, Val Pullen, R. C. Greenfield, Ben Eberhart and Sam Roe and the list of honorary pallbearers included James Misko, W. A. Anderson, Royal Bailey, C. W. Clark, J. H. Capron and R. J. Clark. Music was furnished by Mrs. Thomas Fuston, of New York City, accompanied by the piano by Mrs. James B. Ollis. Interment was in the family plot in Ord cemetery.

John Zulkoski Jailed.
John Zulkoski, of Ord, was arrested Wednesday evening and last Thursday in county court Judge John L. Andersen sentenced him to serve 20 days in jail, also to pay costs of $8.00. The charge was intoxication.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

(Written in the Leggett cottage at Cullen Lake, Niswau, Minn.)
There was great excitement in Niswau the other day when a black widow was discovered in a woman's bathing suit. Nothing of the kind had happened there before and all wanted to see it. It was a full grown black widow and I am told she came up from Oklahoma with some millionaire oil people as their cook. I didn't learn whether she has the distinctive red emblem, common to the kind you are thinking about, or not.

Reube Lincoln and family drove in early Monday morning and he has been so busy painting the new addition to the L. & L. cottage, built by Ross Lakin when he was here, that he has not had time to fish yet. He says it was plenty hot Sunday when they left Ord and that as yet, no rain has come to gladden the parched farms and gardens.

Reports of fabulous catches of bass induced the Missus and I to go over to Lake Gladstone a couple of times this week, but we found the said reports greatly exaggerated. At any rate we failed to get the large strings of big bass, and so did the several other fishing parties that were on the lake, when we were. One expects to take with some degree of allowance, all fish stories. I never gave full credit to the catfish and carp tales told by Bill Bartlett and Charley Stichter, but the man who runs this Gladstone lake report is a bigger liar than either of them or than I am. He weighs fully 300 pounds.

The Simpsons drove over to Aitken Tuesday to go blueberrying but when they got home Byron Jr. admitted to me that they picked their blueberries with a silver hook. The blueberry season is about over so far as this part of the country is concerned. I believe the crop this year was the best for several years.

We are getting the finest sweet-corn we have ever had, from Oscar Wallin. It is golden bantam and there is not a worm in a carload. As a rule the roasting ears up here are not nearly as good as they are in Nebraska but this year the Wallin corn is an exception.

Speaking about that Gladstone lake, the former owner was drowned in the lake and his body was in cold storage all winter. It seems that he was out on the ice when the lake first froze over. Then the large northern pike, they tell me, came up and can be seen against the under side of the ice. He had a frog spear and was spearing through the thin ice. A snow storm came up and it was thought he got confused and instead of walking toward the shore, he went the other way and walked off into open water. At any rate his body was not recovered until the ice went out in the spring. His widow sold the farm and left.

I went out this morning in front of the cottage and told the Missus I wanted six small sunfish for dinner and that I was going to keep just the ones that got hurt in catching. I did this and when I had six injured ones I quit. I had 2 small bass and 4 sunfish, all so greedy that they swallowed the hook. I kept a count of the small bass that I put back in the lake and there were an even dozen of them. I don't know how many small bluegills I put back. I got three large ones and put them into the live box, against the box I am trying to get to ship to Ord. But nothing but small fish will strike this week.

Byron Simpson and son Bud went to the upper lake Wednesday at noon and spent 8 hours of hard work and came home with three fish, one walleye and two bass. I think that is too hard work for the amount of fish. On the other hand the Wallins went up there Tuesday afternoon, got into the big bluegills and came home with 85. There were 7 of them in the party and they sure had a beautiful lot of fish.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Jake: Kittenball.
During the last week I have dissipated to the extent of attending the kittenball games held at the tournament at North Loup. In popularity this game, for the nonce, has forged far ahead of the old time hard baseball. The games are all played at night with the powerful bright lights from overhead.

There was much discussion about the arrangement of the schedule. Many folks thought it was intentional on the part of the management so as to make it easy for North Loup to get in on the final money. That is to so arrange the schedule so that their team had only less expert teams to beat until the last game.

One or two of the committee were non-committal about it. Another said it was only an accident. He said when they were arranging the schedule there were certain teams that did not want to come one night, and others would not come other nights. Some of them had to come from long distances and so it was felt those folks must be accommodated. Further, both North Loup teams must be put in the same bracket. Otherwise it might occur that both N. L. teams would play in the finals and receive all the final money. Then people would talk that it was all out and dried.

Then it is better also if possible to have two teams of nearby towns to play in the finals. Better yet for the home team on account of the gate receipts. Should two teams like Comstock and Elba come to the finals at North Loup there would not be near the interest or gate receipts as if North Loup and Scotia or Ord were playing. It positively will not work to draw the names out of a hat.

Be that as it may, when the schedules came out, soon there was all kinds of talk that it was a sell-out for North Loup. And as a result some of the fellows on the street decided to get up a team and beat the N. L. team who (so they said) had fixed the thing up so they were sure to win. Three N. L. home talent players were employed and then the manager drove to Grand Island and employed the best pitcher he could find, and also five players from Ashton. Then he presented them for the tournament.

Now there was something about how he should have entered his team earlier in the season, and about paying his fee, that some said was not quite orthodox. And on that ground the argument was started and anything but loving names called and the fight finished, with no eyes blacked or ribs caved in. The worst part of it was, this fight of the grandstand was staged back of the grandstand, so it was not advertised in advance and the benefit of the gate receipts was not had.

We all turned out on Thursday night to see another home town scrap and were very disappointed to find everything had been fixed up and the goose hung high. And it all goes to show one of the many advantages there are in living in a little place.

Part of the Game.
In the event some of you happen to have missed the games, I might give a little resume of some of the things a hill billy like myself sees with an eye for everything but what he should have his eyes for.

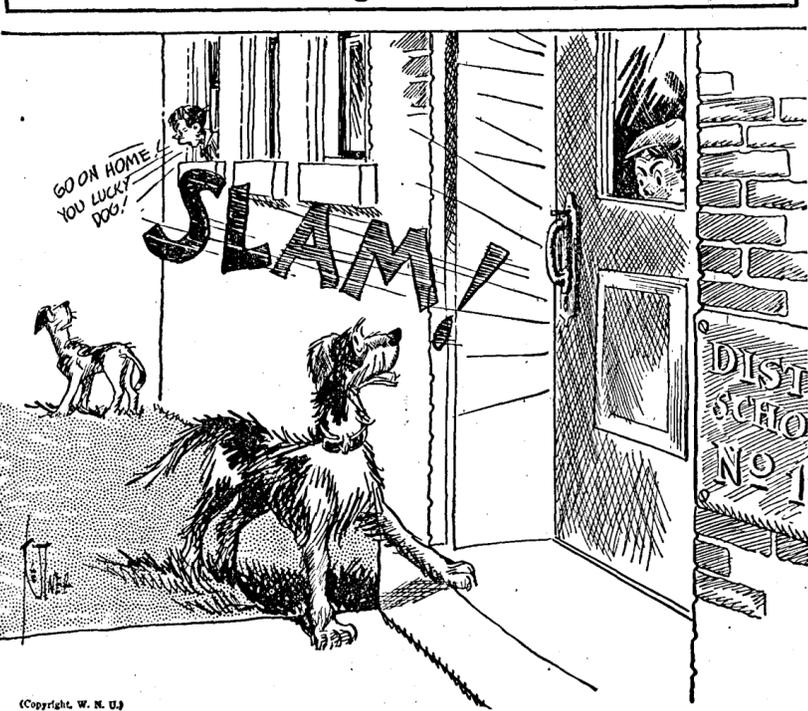

In the first place Clarence (Dutch) Lee is the doughy "empire." He stands unemotionally and sphinx-like close behind the catcher, with no mask, pronouncing his decisions quickly and finally with a grunt and a raise of the hand. Fast balls whizzing by his ear concern him no more than a rhinoceros would be concerned should a fly buzz about his back. An inevitable cigarette hangs limp downward from the corner of Clarence's lip, and the fact of it being lighted seems to be his least concern. The scowls and shaking fists of the disgruntled crabbers concern him like the fly above mentioned. And this "empire" is one of the star performers.

The monkeyshines of the infield each time a man is put out and the ball is delivered to the pitcher, is a part of the performance. The third baseman gets the ball. He throws it to shortstop, and he to second and he to the first baseman who decorously walks over and to be sure the ball is properly presented to the pitcher, hands it, and says very seriously and confidentially, "That a boy. Take your time." Sometimes a love tap is administered.

Dan Sautter of Scotia I believe is the crack showman of the crowd. He is a past master in spewing the inane babble to the pitcher or batter such as "That's all right 'o' boy. Take your time. Look 'em over." And he is the most expert crabber of the crowd, feigning dire madness upon any occasion. We all are disgusted and amused simultaneously at "Danny, 'o' boy."

Another item of interest is the remarkable recovery of an injured player. A ball will bang him on the shin or arm or stomach. He will writhe in agony. The other players will gather around and rub and offer condolences. A pretty scene is presented with the suffering hero the center of attraction. And then suddenly he is completely recovered and playing better than ever. My wife insists Clarence Lee was hit on the head by a fast one, but he never winced. Once he raised his foot when a hot grounder was about to hit him.

The Parting of the Ways

Copyright, W. N. O.

And it is said each game is played three times. The first time in the evening. The second right after the game and the third, (the post mortem) lasting throughout the entire next day.

When one runs short of anything else to yell, it is time to expand his larynx and proclaim to the world, "KILL THE UMPIRE." One woman in the grandstand expressed herself with disgust, "He sure likes to be the umpire."

Economy.
Art Hutchins and his wife are attempting to save their money for their old age, should they stand the gaff that long. So they decided if they just dress their three little boys up and take them to the kittenball game they would save the expense of hiring a girl to stay with them, which would have been something like a quarter. "Then," Art opined, "they will go to sleep soon anyway."

But by the time Art has supplied pop, ice cream and popcorn to the twins and the older one, he concluded the next time he would be money ahead to hire a girl and leave the boys at home.

At the end of the second game the kids were still as awake as they had been when wanting a bottle of pop. Art and his wife were so anxious to see how the third game started they tarried a few minutes longer with the crying, squirming babies. Deciding in the fourth inning the game was going to be one-sided, and no use to stay any longer, about eleven-thirty these folks began to gather their brood to go home. But everyone was asleep.

Politics.
One fellow on the street suggested the motto for the Republicans next year to be, "bigger and more PERA checks. And that reminds me. I received a fan letter from Iowa in regard to the column last week where I mentioned my sister's guest watching the unloading of a cargo of corn from Argentina at Long Beach. Next week we will print part of that letter or all of it, but I will warn you in advance, it is only for the Republicans.

BACK FORTY

The current black stem rust epidemic in barberry-free areas has led many to believe that the destruction of barberry bushes is useless. All small grain was more or less rusty this summer. It did not matter whether there were any barberry bushes in the neighborhood or not. Nevertheless, the fact remains that in most years the destructive outbreaks of black stem rust in this region have been traced to bushes of the common barberry, 375 of which have been destroyed in Valley county.

Black stem rust is spread from the bushes to small grains, beginning in May. It is also brought in from the south by southerly winds during June. In normal seasons the small grains ripen in time to escape the wind carried spores of rust which come from the south.

The late ripening of grain this year increased the infection from wind-blown spores greatly. Weather conditions were also favorable to the development of rust, in that the stems and leaves of the small grain plants held moisture after rains and heavy dews. Serious infection was thus brought about from a source which is ordinarily not very harmful. Winter wheat was hardest hit by the epidemic, and barley and oats were also affected.

Black stem rust is far more injurious than the common orange leaf rust with which it is often confused. Orange leaf rust is orange in color, forms round pustules, and does not break through the skin of the plant as does black stem rust. The latter raises long black scars. It has both red and black stages, and appears on both stems and leaves.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.
Twenty-three Ord cars made a booster trip "around the horn" to advertise the Valley county fair. Guy Burrows and Jim Mortensen, in the "ambulance car" that brought up the rear, fixed blow-outs and other minor mishaps in short order and every car finished the trip except Ernie Orcutt's which was disabled in crossing one of the bad holes near Goodenow siding.

Miss Marie Gross was married to Frank Kusek of Tarnov, Nebr.

Kirby and Laverne McGrew, who had been camped at Crete with the soldier boys, came home for a brief visit.

G. L. Larkin, of North Loup, got his bakery started and was doing a fine business.

Grover Cleveland Alexander was having his best season in the majors, having already won 19 games while losing only 7. He pitched his third no-hit game of the season. Five years in the majors, he needed less than 100 strikeouts to reach a total of 1,000.

Mrs. Anna E. Sawyer passed away at her home near Elyria and was taken to Stockville for burial.

25 Years Ago This Week.
Mrs. Thomas Roberts, a sister of Mrs. Z. C. Harris of Burwell, committed suicide by drowning near the river bridge at Burwell. Her body was found two miles down river the next morning.

For several years Charles Partridge of Hotel Ord had been experimenting with raising Mongolian pheasants, planning to liberate them with the hope that they would populate the Loup valleys with their kind and gradually replace the prairie chicken as a game bird. He liberated several broods in the sand hills north of Ord.

Joe Kamarad applied for a job in Gollmar Bros. circus when it visited Ord and was promptly accepted. Donned in a red toga, he was on duty in front of the lion cages while the show was in Ord and left with the circus that night.

Milford C. Stacy and Miss Bessie Clements were married by Judge Gudmundsen and promptly left to spend a few weeks in the mountains.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Of cold summertime desserts, none strikes the spot with the whole family and is so good for the kiddies as fresh ice cream, wholesome and nourishing. Ice cream is not difficult to make, has in it milk, cream, eggs, sugar, just the things that are good for the children.

Apricot Ice.
Press through a sieve one quart can of apricots; add the juice of three lemons, three cups of sugar, and one pint of whipped cream. Put in a one-gallon freezer and fill with milk nearly to the top. Orange or pineapple juice may be used instead of lemon.

Mrs. George Satterfield. Tutti-Frutti Ice Cream.
Soak in one quart of milk one and one-half cups marshmallows cut fine. Mix with one small bottle of maraschino cherries, cut fine, one medium can of diced pineapple, one-half pound English walnuts cut fine, one mashed banana, one and one-half cups sugar, one pint of rich cream, three eggs beaten light. Freeze.

Velvet.
Combine the juice of three lemons and grated rind of two lemons with three cups of sugar and two quarts of milk. Add one pint of cream and freeze.

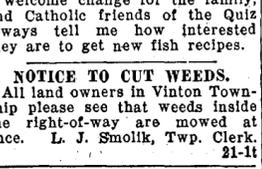

Mrs. George Satterfield. Dutch Windmill Salad.
Shred one-half head of lettuce, wash and crisp. Grate one small carrot, add two tablespoons pineapple (a small grated apple may be substituted) with two tablespoons of salad dressing. Mix the lettuce with salad dressing, arrange on four salad plates. Peel two ripe bananas, cut in halves, cut each half in four long slices. Arrange the slices to form the arms of a windmill in the lettuce and pile the carrot mixture in the center. Carrots four persons.

Mrs. H. Walkemeyer. Sour Cream Cake.
Beat together one cup sugar, one egg, three-fourths teaspoon baking soda, one cup sour cream, one and one-half cups flour. Put four tablespoons cocoa in a little boiling water to make it light. Flavor with vanilla and bake in a quick oven.

Mrs. Guy Sample. Salmon Souffle.
Mince fine one can of salmon. Soak one-half cup bread crumbs in one-half cup milk. Put in one level teaspoon of salt, and two teaspoons of vinegar of lemon juice, and three egg yolks. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs, and put in a buttered baking dish. Bake forty-five minutes, setting the baking dish in a pan of hot water.

Mr. Charles Cooper. We will gladly print more recipes for fish dishes. They offer a welcome change for the family, and Catholic friends of the Quiz always tell me how interested they are to get new fish recipes.

NOTICE TO CUT WEEDS.
All land owners in Vinton Township please see that weeds inside the right-of-way are mowed at once. L. J. Smolik, Twp. Clerk. 21-11

DR. RICH says:
Several people who have had rectal trouble for many years have recently come to the Sanitarium for a cure because their condition had become so much worse than ever before. That's what nearly always happens when such an important matter is neglected. Save time, money and suffering by getting cured quickly. Dr. Rich, Rectal Specialist, Grand Island, Nebr. (1)

Something DIFFERENT

As unique as a hobby could be, surely, is the one in which Miss Rose Baum, sister of Mrs. Joe Verzal, has been indulging since early last spring.

In her leisure moments, she dons a series of protective garments that envelop her and cover up hands, etc., carefully. Then she goes to the Verzal fruit cellar and hunts spiders, the black widow kind. She has a collection of 300 and more now, some of them she has watched develop for nearly an entire life span.

The hobby, begun in April, has proved fascinating, she says, and in addition is ridding the fruit cellar of danger.

Not content with falling in Cullen Lake, Minnesota, Olga came home and fell in the river! I'm afraid she is getting the falling-in habit.

The Ben Janssen family were much mystified recently when one of their little daughters came in the house to report seeing an "Angel" flying over the house.

On investigation, they found the big bird was an eagle.

Hi Anderson bought his small daughters each a would-be furry dog at the Burwell rodeo, the kind that hop and squeak when a bulb is squeezed. Turning on wrong side up, he read aloud "Made in Japan."

Coralee thus reported when Shirley came into the room: "Deedee, Daddy says these little dogs were made in some kind of a pan."

Margaret Ann Robinson, 21 inches high, nineteen years of age and probably the tiniest midget in the world, whose pictures recent-graced state papers, is a niece by marriage of Mr. and Mrs. Broich of Ord, did you know that? Or at least some relative, perhaps slightly distant. A nephew of the Broich's, Clifford Robinson of Alliance, married the mother of the tiny young lady.

Ord, Valley county, Nebraska, yes and this whole corner of the United States lost a guardian, a defender, a valuable political advisor and friend, lost one who was universally trusted and respected as a leader when Marion Cushing was electrocuted last week.

The horrible tragedy sickened all who knew this Godfearing, upright man. We can't replace Marion Cushing.

Marion Cushing lead the legislature around by the nose, by special request of the legislature itself. A Democratic legislator, and he was a Republican. And the legislature liked it. Mr. Cushing had often been mentioned as a will-be governor before long. And now we have lost our friend at court.

Home, Nebraska has something more unique than a bunch of bearded trampish-looking citizens. At Homer, a number of them formed a bald-headed men's group, and they weren't that way to start with, either. Barbers carefully shaved a small round spot on the dome of each member.

I suppose, then, that if the men are invited out and find it necessary to look genteel for an evening, etc., they simply leave their hats on. —Irma.

Expression of Appreciation.
The people of Ord, the Loup valley and the entire state have been so kind that we feel we must make this statement through the press, since it is impossible to see you all personally.

We will ever treasure the memory of your kindly ministrations, incident to the great loss we have suffered—the passing of Marion.

Mrs. Marion J. Cushing, Robert and Marion Cushing, Herbert L. Cushing and family.
Frank L. Cushing.

—Miss Mildred Haas returned Wednesday from a three months' vacation trip west, considerable time being spent in California and Utah. She returned with friends from Grand Island by way of Yellowstone park and the Black Hills.

Strange and powerful is "confidence." You cannot see it, feel it, weigh it, but you can easily destroy it.

Lovely woman, led by Paris fashion designers, is still trying to find out what she really wants. Universal Service dispatches from Paris describe "dresses as transparent as lace curtains from the knee down; skin-tight evening gowns with cut-out designs as big as elm leaves from under the arms to the hip-line. Cape coats of white fur, slit wide open on both sides." One gown is made entirely of "plated gold braid."

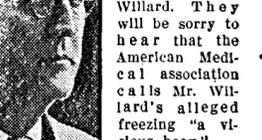

When will women settle down finally to some one style, as men have done?
Interesting item in taxation news. For instance, government will collect income tax on "public relief." If your generous Uncle Sam gives you $24 a month, the amount that unions now spur, he will take back $13.12 in income tax.
That seems like giving your little boy a stick of candy and biting off the end of it.

Nobody Was Frozen
One Strike Subsides
The Emperor Has Lions
1,000,000 Tiny Pigs

Several have written to this column offering to let themselves be "frozen stiff and then returned to life" in the interest of science, as suggested by a Los Angeles chemist, R. S. Willard. They will be sorry to hear that the American Medical Association calls Mr. Willard's alleged freezing "a vicious hoax."

Arthur Brisbane lard of freezing a dead monkey and then substituting a live one, supposed to have been frozen and thawed out.

Doctor Fishbein, editor of the American Medical Association Journal, says anybody frozen stiff would surely die.

It was an interesting yarn while it lasted.

New York's strike of union men against President Roosevelt, General Johnson and the WPA ("Works Progress administration") seems temporarily to have collapsed. Mr. Meany, New York labor leader, said all union men would go out and stay out and nonunion men would follow. The news is that the non-union men did not follow, and the union men went back to work.

Robert Moses of the park department, who employs 25,000 workers on park projects, reports only 110 deserters.

An interesting photograph from Addis Ababa shows two servants of the Ethiopian emperor riding on lions, one female, one male, in the palace garden. The emperor's lions are trained in this fashion for use as "watch dogs." You can easily believe that intruders "keep out."

For war purposes, however, lions are not particularly valuable. Tear gas and deadly poison gas would discourage the lions, as they would men, and lions cannot jump as high as an airplane.

In Chicago's stockyards half the hog pens are closed, prices are soaring, men have lost jobs, all for lack of hogs to push around and butcher. The yards are suffering.

And only a little while ago an earnest government, determined to help the farmer and promote prosperity, was butchering tens of thousands of "farrow sows" to get rid of them before their little pigs could be born. "Too many little pigs will make too many big hogs," said the government.

You can imagine the ghosts of a million pigs floating over the stockyards, squeaking in their baby voices, "We told you so."

War talk continues. Mussolini announces a new air weapon "overwhelmingly powerful," but does not say what it is. Plain TNT and poison gas are powerful enough.

Hitler announcing that his country is "ready to meet any outside peril," adds: "No power on earth can attack us." That seems a little overconfident.

Uncle Sam, with all his spending, makes a little something for himself. His money-issuing privileges, paper dollars worth about 50 cents, and silver coins containing less than half their value in silver, have given the treasury a profit of about $3,000,000,000.

And at this moment it does not appear to have hurt anybody. Who understands money?

Stocks are better, prices higher, in London and Wall Street. The London Daily Mail says: "A stock exchange boom seems to do more for world trade than anything. The reason is that it gives confidence everywhere."

Strange and powerful is "confidence." You cannot see it, feel it, weigh it, but you can easily destroy it.

—Guests Sunday in the Tom Lambdin home were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Launey and children of Broken Bow, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Arnold and children, Elmer Lambdin and Mrs. Isaac Arnold. Mrs. Launey and Mrs. Arnold are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lambdin.

—Dr. and Mrs. K. C. McGrew and family went to Ericson Sunday and will camp there for a few days. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. McGrew and Lloyd drove over Sunday afternoon, returning Sunday evening.

—Mrs. S. E. Stover, sister of Mrs. C. C. Shepard, is visiting her from Washington, D. C. She will visit in the Shepard home until the first of September.

—Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Goodhand went to Arcadia to investigate the fire, remaining to spend the afternoon and evening in the Fred Whitman home.

—Mrs. Susie Barnes returned Monday morning, a month earlier than she had planned, from an extended trip to Washington.

—Herschel Place went last week to Palmer to visit his parents for a week, this being his vacation from his work in the J. W. Gilbert barber shop.

—Misses Grace and Clara King visited from Wednesday until Saturday with friends at York and Minden.

—Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Slechta and Mrs. Olive Marquard drove to Grand Island to visit Miss Myrtle Andrew, who has been visiting in the Slechta home. From Grand Island Miss Andrew continued to her home at Jefferson, Ia.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson returned Sunday from a week's visit with his daughters, Mrs. Merrill Eckels at Greeley, Colo., and Mrs. Morris Krieg of Denver. To their Ord friends they will be remembered as Alice Zell and Marjorie Johnson. Enroute home Mr. and Mrs. Johnson stopped at Kimball where they visited his brother, Carl Johnson and family. While in Colorado they enjoyed trips through Estes park and the Denver city park.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Tunncliff and sons, Eddie and Robert Dean, Miss Ruth Oliver and E. M. Tunncliff of Burwell returned to Ord Sunday after a trip to Kewanee, Ill., and Onawa, Ia. They drove to Kewanee after Mr. Tunncliff's father, E. M. Tunncliff of Burwell and their two sons who had been visiting there for a few weeks. They report that crops in that section of the country are wonderful, rainfall being sufficient for good growth.

Whole State Pays Final Respects To Marion J. Cushing

Most of the pallbearers served with Repr. Cushing in the house during his four terms there. Although many were of opposite political faiths and fought bitterly with the Ord representative over legislative matters all were alike in their personal friendship and faith in the Ord man.

1,000 At Funeral. Business houses of Ord closed during the funeral and most proprietors and employees attended the services. The Methodist church, which has a seating capacity of about 800, was entirely filled and at least 200 people waited outside until the services ended. The procession that followed the Sowl hearse bearing the body of Repr. Cushing to the cemetery was over a mile long.

Marion J. Cushing, who was born at Ord on Sept. 11, 1857, met death at his farm home east of town on Aug. 13 as the result of an electric shock sustained through contact with a 6,600 volt power line while he was repairing a broken telephone wire.

He was the second son of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Cushing, pioneer settlers of the North Loup valley, and was married to Ruth Odell Work, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Work, on Dec. 30, 1912. He is mourned by his widow, a son Robert, 21, now a senior at the University of Nebraska, a daughter, Marlon Grace, 19, a junior at Doane College, his eldest brother, Frank, and his younger brother, Herbert, present deputy state superintendent of public instruction.

Popular As Student. He attended the Ord public schools and later when the family moved to Grand Island was, for a time, a student at Grand Island College. In high school and college he was popular among his classmates and as the youngest member of the literary society to which he belonged he distinguished himself by his marked ability as a parliamentarian.

As a boy Marion earned much of his own way by driving what was then known as the "town herd" and by his work in potato and beet fields. Later when the family carried on extensive potato growing and employed much extra help it was often the subject of comment that Marion did not ask his employees to work as hard as he did himself.

While his father taught him the gospel of hard work he also taught him to play and early in life he showed marked ability as a baseball pitcher. One of his outstanding achievements was a no-hit no-run game which he pitched against Loup City in his early twenties. Shortly after this he received an offer to try out with the Cleveland Indians but did not accept it, largely in deference to the wishes of his mother and his future bride who did not wish to have him engage in Sunday sports.

Inspired By Leggett. Marion always took a keen interest in government and was a careful student of political movements. Largely through the inspiration of H. D. Leggett he became a candidate for the legislature in the autumn of 1928, was elected and served the district made up of Valley and Garfield counties until his death. While his life-long occupation was farming he found time to serve on various agriculture committees. He was chairman of the Valley County Corn Hog Control association, president of the Broken Bow Production Credit corporation and for two years was president of the Ord State bank.

As a member of the Nebraska legislature Marion early won recognition because of his independence. He joined with the democratic governor and a democratic minority in the 1931 session in forcing a reduction of state appropriations, the wisdom of which was thoroughly vindicated by later developments.

Throughout his legislative career he remained devoted to certain great principles and demonstrated on innumerable occasions his willingness to go down fighting single-handed rather than yield to mere political expediency. He constantly championed a revision of tax procedure with special effort in behalf of a state income tax law. He stood without equivocation for the dry cause and his fight for the Child Labor Amendment in the last session in the face of hopeless defeat won the admiration of friend and foe alike.

Follower of Norris. Never exultant in victory and always cheerful and courteous in defeat he frequently was mentioned by democrats and republicans alike as a certain candidate for governor in coming years. Strikingly similar to Senator George W. Norris, whom he greatly admired, Mr. Cushing might well have become governor or senator had he lived.

Recognized as the best parliamentarian in the House he frequently won the gratitude of new members by assisting them in getting the floor for debate even though he knew they were to speak in opposition to the measures he was supporting. His courage, his honesty and his integrity have never been questioned either by his neighbors or by co-workers in the legislature. He was a Moses in the wilderness of loose thinking and his zeal and devotion were all for the state of his birth without regard for partisan political advantage. The worthy causes for which he stood will live on and a great heart throbs for the common people he loved are written indelibly on the pages of laws he helped enact.

Nebraska and the Loup valley have lost an able champion.

Beaux and Belles Of the Future

Carrie Lou Vincent, 14-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ace Vincent, celebrated her birthday June 27.

Harold Ronald Fish, son of Mr. and Mrs. Devillo Fish of Ord, was two years old May 28.

The next meeting will be at Margery Nielsen's. It will be her birthday, August 22nd. Mary Viola Arthur, News Rep.

Speaker of House, Former Attorney General, Newspapers Unite In Praise of M. J. Cushing

C. W. Parsons, editor Burwell Tribune: "The writer knew Marlon Cushing well, knew him to be an honest, square-shooting public citizen. His presence will be greatly missed by his family, his neighbors and the state and country at large."

H. D. Leggett, publisher Ord Quiz, from his summer cottage at Cullen Lake, Minn.: "I do not know of a single man in Nebraska who can take the place of Marlon and in whom the people can place the confidence they placed in him. News of his death, which first came to me from the columns of the Bee-News, almost floored me. Words cannot express my sorrow."

A. F. Buechler, editor Grand Island Independent: "His death is a severe loss, not only to Valley county but also to Nebraska as a whole, and in particular just at this time, to the republican party. He was an independent republican, a real republican of the safely progressive school of thought, a stalwart Nebraskan. The loss to Ord's citizenry and to her business circles is thus supplemented by the loss of an able man of such state-wide repute that he was regarded by many as the logical candidate for governor of the progressive wing of the party."

W. H. O'Gara, of Laurel, speaker of the House of Representatives: "I was grieved and shocked to hear of the untimely death of Marlon Cushing. I served in Nebraska Legislature during the entire time that he was a member. Having had many years previous experience I was in a position to observe new members and their rise to power on becoming a member of that body. No man, in my experience, rose more quickly than Marlon Cushing. Honest, clean living, competent and with native ability he soon took his place as one of the leaders. His first two terms were served when the majority party of which he was a member, had control. The loss of majority by the Republican party in no way minimized his influence. He was just as strong and effective in the minority as he was when his party was in the majority."

"While he and I differed sharply on occasions, we both realized that we were fighting measures and not fighting each other, and the friendship early established held to the last."

"As Speaker of the House, of the last regular session, it was my duty to appoint special committees and Conference committees. Such was my confidence in Marlon Cushing's ability that, as the records of the House Journal show, I appointed him to more Conference Committees than any other member of the House. Nothing that I could say could more clearly demonstrate my confidence in his integrity and ability. "Not only is his untimely death a loss to the Community and to the State but a personal loss to us all."

Bert M. Hardenbrook, president North Loup Power and Irrigation district: "The writer in company with thousands of Nebraskans feels in the death of Marlon J. Cushing, the loss of a personal friend. He was exceedingly conscientious and to every public duty devoted his best thought and energy. He was in truth and in fact what has been often designated as the noblest work of God, an Honest Man. "He was a good listener and a man of strong conviction. He has sacrificed much in his untiring efforts to help his fellow men, and society has lost an able champion."

C. A. Sorensen of Lincoln, former attorney-general of Nebraska: "The death of Marlon J. Cushing leaves a hole that the waters of time will not soon fill up. He was clean, he was honest, and stood for all that was highest and best. "The people of Valley county may not know it, but Cushing had thousands of friends in every part of the state. He was the leader of the tens of thousands of voters who hope to see government less partisan, more efficient, and for the masses rather than the classes. There can be no harm in now letting it be known that progressive Republicans and Independents were planning to run in 1936, if their consent could be secured, Norris for Senator, and Cushing for Governor. This matter was discussed at a small conference in Lincoln just a few days ago."

"One wonders what was the secret of his power. As one who has watched him in the Legislature and in conferences on public questions, I think I came to see that it was not only his ability to think clearly and state propositions succinctly, but his stark naked intellectual honesty. He never evaded. Unlike most politicians, he did not attempt to carry water on two shoulders. He told the world where he stood in clear and unambiguous language. For his integrity and high personal ideals he was loved by even those who fought his bills."

"Nebraska has lost a great progressive leader, and the injury to our state is irreparable, for leaders like him appear on the scene only at rare intervals."

District 77 Hit Hard by Cushing's Death

Large delegations from Burwell, Arcadia, North Loup and Elyria, as well as from most rural communities in Valley and Garfield counties, which comprise the old 77th representative district which Mr. Cushing served for four terms, attended his funeral rites in Ord Friday. His tragic death was a terrible shock to people of this district.

George R. Mann, head of the Nebraska Legislative Bureau, Lincoln

"The sudden death of my boyhood friend, Marlon J. Cushing, came as a distinct shock to me. I arrived in Ord shortly after he left us a week ago Tuesday. I could hardly believe that he was gone. During high school and pre-college days, we lived on adjoining farms and grew to young manhood together. From 1909 to 1929 we only met occasionally but from mutual friends I learned that he was laying the foundation for his future brilliant career in the Legislature and had already distinguished himself for keen mental development, community service, sterling integrity, keen foresight, business success and leadership.

"The Ord community knew Marlon J. Cushing as a man whose daily life inspired everyone with whom he came in contact to strive for the higher and nobler things. It was my privilege to be situated so that I came in contact with him daily in his public service as a legislator during his entire legislative career. As a state representative he was recognized as a great power for progressive and constructive legislation. No selfish or narrow motive controlled his position on any bill. He was studious, capable and incorruptible. His power of analysis of bills under discussion was uncanny. If it was a wolf bill dressed up in sheep's clothing he saw the joker at once. He probably killed or assisted in beheading more vicious legislation than any other Nebraska law-maker. He was always calm, fair to his adversary and carried his point upon the merits of the controversy. He was a master parliamentarian and a persuasive and convincing speaker.

"With Nebraska on the threshold of the unicameral legislature, his loss to the state will be particularly felt in Nebraska legislative halls. His usefulness in a one-house body would have naturally increased. Had he cared to enter other fields of public service, there is no doubt that he could have had any public office which the people of Nebraska had power to give. The passing of Marlon J. Cushing brought to sudden end not a mere office holder and politician. The imprint he made upon the public policy of this state through the laws he wrote on our statute books will be his everlasting monument."

The Biography of Mrs. M. B. Goodenow

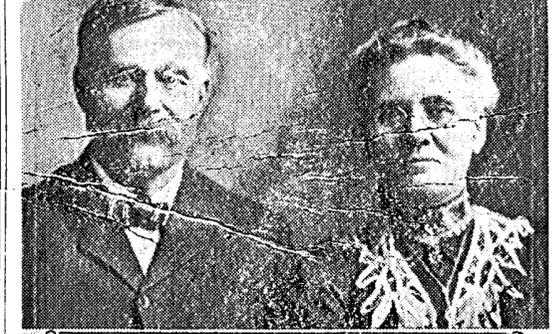

By Clara Butts, Burwell, in Nebraska History Magazine.

"Grandma, tell about the Battle of Pebble Creek first." Arlis plumped down on the blanket under the big elm and hugged her knees.

"No, Grandma, tell about the Sloux Creek fight first. I've got an arrow head here that Grandpa found on Sloux Creek." Arlis displayed the piece of flint in her moist little palm.

fertile fields, its lofty trees, and quaint, old-fashioned house set back from the road. You could stand in the yard and see the valley for miles up and down the river; could see the tall grasses dip and nod in the meadows as the winds swam through the sea of green.

And then there was the river. Fed by many springs, the clear,

Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Goodenow

Mrs. Goodenow, seated in a rocker in the shade of the old tree, looked into the eager faces of her great-granddaughters and smiled. They had heard the stories many times and the Indian skirmish on Pebble Creek was always the favorite of Arlis, while Arlis stood out for the Sloux Creek fight.

The nine-year-old twin girls from South Dakota were spending a week with their great-grandmother, Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, and their great-aunt, Maude Goodenow on a farm near Burwell, Nebraska. It was a treat for anyone to visit the Goodenow farm with its Grandpa was born," said Arlis. "Agreed? Well, your great-grandfather, Melville B. Goodenow, was born in New York on a farm near Lake George in 1844. His parents moved to Iowa when he was four years old."

"It seems to be a Goodenow trait to want to be in frontier settlements," said Maude.

"He enlisted in the Civil war in 1861 and was mustered out of the army in '66. Mel and I were married in January, '69, and in the fall of '71 he came to Nebraska. After filing on a pre-emption near Albion, he returned to Iowa. The next spring he loaded a wagon with supplies and implements and came back to his claim."

"And Charley Briggs had jumped it!" Arlis interjected.

"Yes, that's true. And Mel had let him ride out to Albion with him when he came the first time. Mel left his loaded wagon at Albion, and, accompanied by a Mr. Hamon and Jim, a Pawnee Indian guide, he started west in a light wagon belonging to Mr. Hamon.

"They went as far as Long Pine and finding the remains of a camp of the Sloux Indians, Jim, the Pawnee, refused to go farther. They turned back, Jim heading straight down the Beaver for Albion, while Mel and Mr. Hamon crossed the hills until they came to the North Loup. They saw the valley first from the clay bluffs of the cedar canyons across the river."

"I can see the canyon now," said Arlis. "Right over there."

"That was when Grandpa told Mr. Hamon that this land was good enough for him," Arlis supplied.

"Mr. Goodenow selected this land where we now sit as his claim that day in the spring of '72. He cut the logs for his one-room house from the cedar canyons across the river and, making them into a raft, floated them across, then snaked them up to this spot. That summer he took twenty acres of ground and put up several stacks of hay, always keeping his gun near him."

"Mel's clothing and shoes wore out that summer and he made a shirt and trousers out of grain sacks, and shoes and a hat out of straw."

"He must have looked funny," Arlis smiled.

"He looked just as well as the rest of them," Arlis defended.

"That was easy! There wasn't any one else here!"

"Oh yes, there was, Arlis. Your grandfather was the farthest outpost of civilization for several months, his nearest neighbor being eight miles away, but people really neighbored for a distance of fifteen or twenty miles. And no automobiles."

"Mel was dressed in this homemade outfit when he started for Iowa after me and the children in the fall of '72. He stopped at the cabin of Peter Mortensen, a settler near Ord who was here when Mel came. The two had grown to be close friends. Mr. Mortensen was elected to the office of State Treasurer in later years.

"For goodness sakes, Mel! Don't go back to Iowa looking like that! I'm afraid you'd have a hard time persuading Mrs. Goodenow to come to a country where people dress that way. Here's ten dollars. Buy some clothes when you get to Grand Island."

"Mel thanked him and purchased clothing with it."

"Was he all dressed up when he got to Iowa, Grandma?" Arlis asked.

"Well, I thought he looked fine," Mrs. Goodenow laughed.

"That winter a prairie fire destroyed nearly all the hay in Mr. Mortensen's settlement, so Mel wrote him to go up to his claim and get what hay he needed. Mr. Mortensen did this, allowing Mel one dollar per ton, thus repaying the ten dollar loan."

"You forgot about the pig that Grandpa brought to Mr. Mortensen."

"No, I hadn't got that far, Arlis. There's not much danger of me forgetting anything with both of you knowing the story almost as well as I do. Your grandfather brought Mr. Mortensen a Chester White pig when we came the next spring. Mr. Mortensen was delighted and planned to get a start of hogs from this one. He kept it larded out because he had no grain for it. He said the sun must have been too hot or its diet of grass too rich for it, for it died. It was years before he got a start in hogs again.

"Our relatives in Iowa sent us a barrel of pickled pork and the news of it soon spread. One day Mrs. Fanny Woods, a neighbor, brought her children to spend the day.

"We've come for dinner," she said. "I hear you have some pickled pork. I'm so hungry for pork."

I cooked it for dinner and gave her a slab of it to take home."

"One would think that with all the wild meat that the settlers had that they wouldn't have missed pork so much, but I guess it must be the 'Great American Dish'," Maude said.

"Can you remember what the pickled pork tasted like, Aunt Maude?" asked Arlis.

"That's a long time to carry a taste in your mouth," laughed Maude. "I'll tell you what I can remember. The First Christmas tree in this community was at our home in '74. Mrs. Bob Hill made little ducks out of cotton flannel for all the children. They were, indeed, a joy to us. My brother Claude and I hung up our stockings that night. Mother tied up a spoonful of sugar in a little package for each of us and C. B. Coffin found two marbles in the bottom of his trunk. Early the next morning we stole our stockings and were happy with our gifts. We were allowed a cup of coffee with the spoonful of sugar in it for breakfast. Claude and I then sat on the floor and rolled the marbles to each other. It is a Christmas I shall always remember.

"After the Indian wars in '66 and '67, the government, in '69, made a treaty with the Indians and there was no open warfare although they annoyed the settlers by stealing from them. The Sloux were supposed to stay on their reservation in Dakota, and the Pawnees on one near Genoa. These tribes were bitter enemies, both

The Remedy for Crop Failures

Once again, or ever since 1930, we have had a corn crop failure. It has been 5 years since Valley county has had a general good corn crop. Something different must be done than just crop farming. Some farmers have solved the problem by keeping a dairy herd and making silage for winter feed out of the dried up corn fields.

A good dairy herd of 10 cows will bring the owner around $1,000 a year with 25c butterfat, which is about an average price here year in and year out. They will do this on grass, corn silage, alfalfa hay, a very little grain and good care.

We have a surplus of Jersey bulls and if you want to start on this $1,000-per-year plan to counteract crop failures why not start right. Buy a bull calf from us from a 500-lbs. of butterfat per year cow and raise your own bull. We will sell you a Jersey bull calf for $10 to $25.

Hay Fever

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, nationally known medical health authority and President of the Chicago Board of Health, made the following statement in speaking of the air-conditioned trains:

"This contribution to the health and comfort of the traveling public should give real encouragement to those who in the past have suffered because of the atmospheric conditions associated with cross-country travel, especially those afflicted with hay fever."

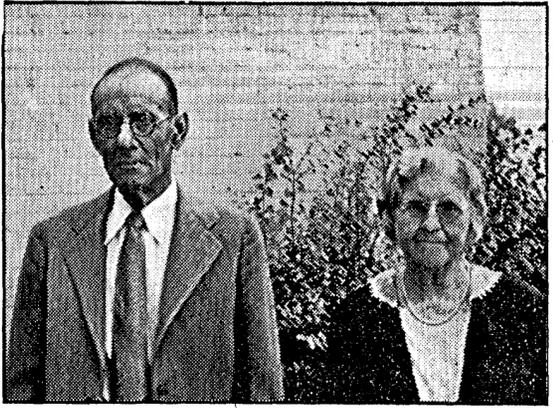

You may forget about the heat and pollen-laden dust of all forms of highway travel—forget all fear of travel from past discomforts and danger of highway hazards, and accidents. Union Pacific has banished all of that with its safe, air-conditioned coaches. You don't know what travel comfort is until you are on one of its new air-conditioned trains, enjoying cool, clean, quiet, health-giving comforts not even found at home.

Coach and tourist car patrons on the new special coach-tourist car section of the LOS ANGELES LIMITED, known as "THE CHALLENGER", and on the PORTLAND ROSE, now enjoy new low-cost meals in air-conditioned comfort: only 25 cents for breakfast, 30 cents for luncheons and 35 cents for dinners. And for these patrons—stewardesses, who are trained nurses, free pillows, free drinking cups, and free porter service.

Deluxe air-conditioned coaches for women and children only, now operated on "THE CHALLENGER". Ask Your Union Pacific Agent for full information.

Mr. and Mrs. John Cruzan, North Loup, Celebrated 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. John Cruzan celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage Tuesday, Aug. 20, at their home in North Loup. They were married at the first old settler's picnic held in Polk county, in Maxwell's grove, and one of their witnesses was Alvinas Lance, then governor of Nebraska. Chas. White of Barker neighborhood also attended this picnic and was present at the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Cruzan settled first in Polk county, Nebraska, but in a short time they went to eastern Colorado, where they homesteaded, remaining there for most of seven years. In December, 1893, they came to Valley county, farming the place where Harold Fisher now lives. With the exception of two years spent in Arkansas, they have lived in Valley county ever since, moving to the village of North Loup in 1907. Since that time Mr. Cruzan has followed the carpenter trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Cruzan have been the parents of five children, one of whom died in infancy in 1899. The other four children were present at the golden wedding celebration. They are Ira Cruzan of White Cloud, Mich., Roy Cruzan of North Loup, Mrs. Edith Larkin of Culver, Oregon and Nema Cruzan of North Loup.

Open house was held at the Cruzan home Tuesday afternoon. Refreshments were served and a large number of friends called to offer congratulations.

Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Christian Science Services.
"Mind" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, August 25.
The Golden Text is from I Corinthians 2:16: "Who hath known the mind of the Lord that he may instruct him? But we have the mind of Christ."
A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from Romans 11: 33, 34, 36: "O the depth of the riches both of the wisdom and knowledge of God! how unsearchable are his judgments, and his ways past finding out! For who hath known the mind of the Lord? Or who hath been his counsellor? For of him, and through him, and to him, are all things, to whom be glory forever. Amen."
A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "If God were limited to man or matter, or if the infinite could be circumscribed within the finite, God would be corporeal, and unlimited Mind would seem to spring from a limited body; but this is an impossibility. Infinite Mind can have no starting point, and can return to no limit." (page 294).

—Monday E. C. James and Fred Rothert drove to Grand Island, bringing back with them Mrs. W. J. Sleek and small daughter Sally Jean. Mrs. Sleek will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. James until Saturday, when she will return to her home at Lincoln.

"All Gasolines are Alike"

If you feel that all gasolines are pretty much alike, we make only one request.

Take on a tankful of Standard Red Crown, the Live Power Gasoline for 1935. Test it carefully for getaway, speed, hill-climbing and mileage. Be critical, but fair.

We can forecast the result. The point is we know what the extra Live Power in Standard Red Crown Gasoline will do when released in any engine, new or aged. We want you to know.

Standard Red Crown also contains Tetraethyl, the finest anti-knock fluid known. It's ready now wherever you see the familiar Standard sign.

He'll Drive Lloyd Fisher's Car In Auto Races Sept. 17, 18, 19

Clyde "Cowboy" Gilbert, of Longmont, Colo., will pilot Lloyd Fisher's new racing car in auto races to be held here as a feature of the Valley county fair next month. Gilbert piloted the Fisher job here in former years and this picture was taken during the time trials that year. Handsome "Cowboy" Gilbert was a consistent money-winner in Fisher's old job and he's said to be literally burning up tracks in the new car. Gilbert assured Racing Supt. Clyde Baker recently that the Ord races this year would attract most of the fastest dirt track drivers in the business. They like to race at Ord," he said.

The past summer has found the custodians of the Ord city schools hard at work as usual. Each summer the three men, Oscar Goff, Ralph Hatfield and Harry Wolf, do many things in preparation for the next term. The summer work is as necessary and important as the daily work during the school year. The policy of the Ord board has always been that of clean, sanitary buildings. It is "some job" to keep buildings in the desired condition when used by over 700 people 175 to 180 days per year.

New Stokers Installed.
This summer the following work has been done in addition to the cleaning and polishing of floors, woodwork, windows, etc., seven rooms painted, bathrooms and toilets painted, all cement floors painted; 125 seats refinished like new; sidewalks and grounds leveled and repaired; lawns watered and mowed. Special workmen have installed stokers in each building, changed ten

Crop Failures? No, Not On This Farm

Rain may come or it may not but J. R. Stoltz and John Lickly don't worry about it nearly as much as they used to. They shouldn't, when by starting the pump they can send a stream of water like this coursing over their fields. This unusual picture was taken by H. E. Jones on the Stoltz-Lickly farm in Springdale where fields of tall corn prove that pump irrigation pays. The irrigation well was installed this spring and produces up to 800 gallons per minute without trouble. About 550 gallons per minute were flowing down this ditch, with the well being operated at part capacity.

BIOGRAPHY OF MRS. M. B. GOODENOW

coveting the North Loup valley as a hunting ground.

"Mel and the children and I came out here in the latter part of March, '73. While we were coming, some of the settlers had a skirmish with the Indians at Sioux Creek. A mare and colt were stolen from Mr. Post. Fourteen men under the command of Happy Jack, a trapper and Indian guide, followed the tracks up the canyons west. The tracks divided but the settlers went west. They camped for the night on Sioux Creek where there was plenty of wood and water. The young men of the party slept little, telling many stories of how they would teach the Indians a lesson when they caught up with them.

"They hadn't traveled far the next morning when they heard shouts behind them, and turning, saw the Indians with their red blankets and feathered hats on their little ponies, coming straight toward them.

"Mr. Mortensen said their courage went down into their knees and made them shake."

"Pgh," said Arlis.

"Happy Jack advised the men not to shoot as the Indians would probably go on if not molested. But they didn't. They took aim over the horses' backs and sent the bullets whizzing toward the settlers. The Indians had Winchester repeating rifles, while the white men had mostly muzzle-loading guns and little ammunition.

"Why, Mr. Mortensen had a good gun and 27 rounds of ammunition," Arlis said.

"Yes, he had borrowed a needle gun but he said that he was too frightened to use it. After a while he gave it to Frank Post and said he had only 7 rounds left and must have lost the rest. He must have done his share of the shooting, I have always believed."

"Maybe he killed twenty Indians and was so scared he didn't know it!" Arlis supplied.

"When they got back to Mr. Post's home they found that the party of Indians that divided from the others had doubled back and drove off ten other horses.

"After the Sioux Creek trouble, the settlers were so uneasy, that they petitioned the government for the protection. Captain Mix was sent out from Fort Omaha with a number of soldiers. They scouted around for a few weeks and started back. They were caught at Loup City in the terrible blizzard of April 13, 1873. They abandoned their horses in a plum thicket under a high bank and sought shelter in a little store building, one of the two buildings there. The storm lasted for three days. They found fifty of their horses dead. The place is still called "Dead Horse Run."

"The next month a second command under Captain Munsen came into the valley and camped at "Happy Jack's Gulch." That's about a mile from here."

"I know. We've seen the Gulch," said Arlis.

"But the soldiers wouldn't stay away from the fort at Omaha, and went back leaving the settlers unprotected. There were many scares that winter and one real fight."

"Now this is the Battle of Pebble Creek," announced Arlis, sitting up.

"One afternoon the Indians went to the Richard McCliman's place and, after killing most of the chickens, had a feast. They then went to the Harry Colby farm and killed a fat cow. They loaded it on to their ponies and going up the river they entered the trappers' shack and stole furs, blankets and clothing. The trappers were away at the time but George McAnulty and Bob Hill saw them from across the river. They crossed on the ice and shot at the Indians as they were leaving.

"There was no sleep for the settlers that night as they planned to attack the Indians the next morning at Pebble Creek where they had gone into camp.

"The morning of January 13 was the coldest of the year. About dawn the white men, with "Buckskin Charley" White in command, crept up near the big tepee, Buckskin Charley, a trapper and guide, knew a little Indian jargon. He entered the camp and demanded the return of the stolen articles.

"The Indian chief stepped out in front and, holding a cartridge high above his head, uttered the Sioux war cry.

"Buckskin Charley ordered his men to seek shelter behind the bank of the Loup river. The Indians opened fire and for about ten minutes the bullets flew thick and fast.

"A young man, Marlon Little-GOODENOW STORY 3 field, one of the trappers, rose to fire and an Indian bullet struck him in the head. He fell back on the river bank, dead."

"Both little girls had come to stand close to Mrs. Goodenow. Arlis slipped her hand in her grandmother's. Arlis threw her arm over the back of the rocker and traced patterns in the dust with her toe.

"The wives of the settlers were wild with fear. We could hear the sharp report of the guns in the early morning hour, and had no way of knowing if our husbands were safe. After it grew lighter, Mrs. Hill and I saw them loading something into a wagon and knew that it was the body of a man.

"Marlon Littlefield made the supreme sacrifice that January morning in the remaking of a frontier into this peaceful valley.

"The Indians withdrew and the saddened settlers came down to the ford and went on to their

The next day the body of Marlon Littlefield was sent to his former home near Sutton.

"But, Grandma, you didn't tell about how scared you were. Didn't you know when you got under—"

"Sh-h—, let Grandma tell it," Arlis cautioned.

"Perhaps I'm not so proud of it that I want to tell it," said Mrs. Goodenow.

"Your grandfather had brought me and the two children over to stay with Mrs. Hill and her children while he and Mr. Hill went to Pebble Creek. After the men had gone we heard horses tramping around the dugout. We were sure that it was Indians.

"Mrs. Hill told me to guard the door while she guarded the window. I told her I was so frightened I couldn't.

"Well, you guard the window and I'll guard the door," she said. She had a revolver and was not afraid to use it.

"I kept saying 'I can't, I can't.' 'Finally I could stand it no longer. I just lay down on the floor and rolled right under the bed where we had put the children. Fortunately it was a home-made affair or I never could have gotten under it. Mrs. Hill always teased me about my courage. However, the horses that we heard belonged to Charley and Dave Post who were a little late going to Pebble Creek."

"Aunt Maud, were you surprised to see Grandma come crawling under the bed with you?" Arlis asked.

"I don't remember. But it seems to me that I'd feel rather comforted to be close to my mother at a time like that."

(To be concluded next week.)

Winfield Arnold Fatally Injured In Farm Accident

Fell Into Feeder of Threshing Machine at Will Prien Farm Tuesday Afternoon.

Winfield Arnold, 34, was fatally injured about 4:30 Tuesday afternoon when he fell into the feeder of a threshing machine on the Will Prien farm south of Ord and suffered terrible lacerations from the whirling knives. He passed away in Hillcrest hospital here yesterday morning.

Young Arnold, a son-in-law of John Lunney, was operating the threshing machine owned by Lunney and was threshing wheat on the Prien farm. He had been greasing the machine and started to walk toward the front of the outfit, losing his footing and plunging headfirst into the feeder.

Kirby Attempts Rescue. Pitching bundles beside the machine was Arthur Kirby and when he saw Arnold fall he immediately leaped to the top of the machine and grabbed his feet. By pulling hard he managed to halt the separator chain, in the meantime shouting to Mr. Lunney to stop the tractor. Young Kirby's father, Morris Kirby, was driving a rack only a few feet away and came to his son's assistance quickly. They carried Arnold to the Lunney car and he was brought to town. He was attended by Dr. C. W. Weekes.

Flesh was practically stripped from Arnold's left arm and he was terribly cut elsewhere about the body but his most serious injury was a great gash in his side through which one lung protruded. All ribs on this side were crushed. Evidently he twisted his body sideways as he fell into the feeder for there were no cuts on his head. Had Arthur Kirby not acted so quickly Arnold surely would have been drawn into the cylinder and cut to bits. It is thought that he fainted as he fell into the feeder and realized the horrible death in store for him.

Shock and loss of blood were the causes of death, said Dr. Weekes yesterday. From the start there was no chance to save his life.

Several Men At Scene. Other witnesses of the accident included Harry Pooschke, George Nasser, Richard Prien, Archie Boyce, Gus Foth and Will Prien, all of whom were working on the threshing and extended what aid they could. It was the worst threshing machine accident here in several years.

Young Arnold is married and has two small children, also several brothers and sisters. Funeral arrangements have not yet been made.

Car Rolls 4 Times, Occupants Not Hurt

"God sure had you boys by the hand tonight," remarked Sheriff Round to Everett Holloway and Arlo Grunkemeyer, both of Burwell, whose car rolled over four times after colliding with a car driven by Mose Lippincott, of Hastings, near the Henry Stara home north of Ord at midnight Monday. Except for minor scratches and bruises the young men were unhurt.

Young Holloway's Plymouth was almost a total wreck but Lippincott's new Ford did not appear to be greatly damaged. Occupants of the Hastings car were not hurt either. Lippincott is a contractor there, well known in Ord. He was enroute to Taylor when the collision occurred and the Burwell car was coming to Ord.

Fiftieth Anniversary of Boleszyn Church Founding To Be Celebrated Sept. Fifth

Thursday, Sept. 5, will be a gala day for people living in Boleszyn, Eureka township, nine miles west of Elyria. At 10 o'clock in the morning, a religious ceremony, a solemn mass will be celebrated, marking the 50th year when the first holy sacrifice of mass was offered in an unpretentious edifice constructed through the efforts of a small group of early Polish settlers adhering to the Catholic faith. The Most Rev. S. V. Bona, D. D., Catholic bishop of Grand Island, and a large number of clergy from neighboring towns and settlements, will take part in the morning celebration.

Fifty years of struggle with adverse weather conditions and economic stress, fifty years of indomitable pioneer courage displayed by grandparents and inherited by the grandchildren is still in evidence today. A small surviving number of the original settlers have since moved to Ord and other towns to enjoy their declining years in comfort offered by the facilities and conveniences of a city, leaving behind their sons and grandsons to carry on, who still occupy sites of old homesteads

Benn Girls Won Trip To 4-H Camp

Norma and Ruth Benn returned Saturday from a week's vacation at the 4-H Conservation and Restoration of Wild Life camp held at Seward. The camp was held under the direction and auspices of the state 4-H boys and girls clubs. Cooperating with the 4-H authorities were the Nebraska division of the Izaak Walton league and the Nebraska Game and Fish association. The purpose of this camp is to promote interest in conservation and restoration of our wild life and outdoor resources.

Many 4-H boys and girls are working along this line in their home communities, and the camp to be held annually will be a reward to those who do the best work. Ruth and Norma won prize trips with all expenses paid because of outstanding work they had done.

The camp days were divided into wild animal, bird, plant, and fish days. Recreational periods were held every day under the direction of Angeline Tauchen and Ralph Copenhaver. Another daily event was a two hour swim in Seward's big swimming pool.

Some of the outstanding speeches were given by Frank B. O'Connell, sec'y game, forestation, and parks commission; J. A. Lytle, educational director of the Nebraska state commission; L. M. Gates, state entomologist; Ward Betzer, president of Nebraska Izaak Walton league; and Professors Swenk, Bare, Rosenquist, and Maxwell of the University of Nebraska. Other outstanding features were a crack shooting exhibition by Kenneth Beagle, a casting demonstration, demonstration of bird calls, live exhibits of wild animals, fish, and various wild flowers, plants and trees, a trip to Smiley's lily pools, a bird tour, and a fishing contest. This was the first camp of its kind held in Nebraska and a tree was planted in the park to commemorate the occasion.

2.65 Inch Rain Cheers Farmers

Saturday Night Soaking Helps Pastures, Wets Ground For Fall Plowing, Planting.

A rain of 2.65 inches, heaviest Valley county has had since June, fell here Saturday evening. The downpour began about 8:00 and lasted most of the night, falling gently after the first few moments. It seemed to be general throughout central Nebraska with some communities reporting as much as 4 inches.

Although this moisture came too late to be of material benefit to corn it was most welcome for it assures fall pasturage and will aid in fall plowing and small grain planting. Valley county will have a large acreage of winter wheat this year.

Air Circus Will Be Given Sunday

An air circus will be held Sunday afternoon, Sept. 1, on the Joe Gregory farm north of Ord by the Burnham-Miller flying troupe of Omaha. There will be six or seven planes on the grounds and aerial acrobatics, wingwalking, a parachute jump and many other thrilling features will be given. The planes also will be available for passenger use. Admission prices are nominal but the show measures up to any ever given in this part of the country. It is claimed.

Famous Red-Haired Speed Demon Will Compete In Races

'Red' Campbell, Well Known Thru Eastern Circuit, to Invade Western Territory.

Prospects for a fast field of drivers at auto races to be held in Ord three days next month during the Valley county fair took a big upward bound Tuesday when Racing Superintendent Clyde Baker received the entry of "Red" Campbell, famous eastern dirt track driver. Though Campbell has competed in California this is his first invasion of the middle west.

Driving a Miller Special owned by Ralph Morgan, of Indianapolis, the titan-haired driver was the big money-winner at a race meet held recently in Paterson, N. J. He also copped the feature event at Langhorne Speedway, in Pennsylvania, on June 16. Langhorne is the eastern center of big-league auto racing and to win there a man has to have about as good a car as can be built and in addition be willing to risk his life every second during the grueling 50-mile grind.

Rain Continues At Cullen Lake But Fish Biting

Enjoying Trip, Quiz Publisher Writes; E. M. Hosman And Family Fishing There.

Dear Quiz: How I wish Valley county could get half as much rain as this country gets. Not as fast however. Last Saturday night it rained 4 inches. If it rained that way there it would do as much harm as good but here the soil is sand and the most of the water goes right in and the next day you wouldn't know it had rained. Sunday night it rained about an inch and Monday night we got another three inch rain. Since then we have had just little sprinkles a couple of times. Before Saturday rain was really needed here. There is a good corn crop and it is practically made now. It has to be, for it probably won't be long until frost will come. Some years here frost holds off till September 10th. In Valley county some years we get a little frost by that time but it is the exception. Here, the grain fields are a mass of green a foot high and the farmers have worlds of pasture this year. I see some plowing for rye and wheat. They plan on getting that sowed by September 10th. The tree foliage this season is heavy due to the large amount of moisture that this country has received. Now we are looking forward to the first frost to turn the leaves all the colors of the rainbow. We are hoping that a few light frosts will come first. A heavy freeze to start with turns everything brown and most of the beauty of fall is missed. We have never seen it that way but one year. Usually there is a light frost or two and the coloring is gradual.

Yesterday, Thursday, Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Gross of Albion departed for their home after spending almost a week with us. We had hoped they would stay longer but a business matter required that Mr. Gross be home by Saturday night of this week. They went via Omaha and expected to spend Friday night with their son Truman and family. Mr. Gross had a fine box of Cullen lake fish which he took along in the car. Yesterday afternoon the Missus and I went to Upper Cullen and were fishing for walleyes on the bar when who should come motoring along but E. M. Hosman and his sons Dick and Bob. They are staying down on lower Cullen. Mrs. Hosman and their youngest daughter are there also. They drove into our camp today and looked the place over. Mr. Hosman is anxious to find some suitable place to build or place already built that he can buy and says he would like to locate here. I showed him the vacant lots that the Ord colony has. Possibly he will be interested in some of them. He and his sons had a fine string of fish yesterday, among them several walleyes, all good ones and one weighing 5 pounds. I think the Hosmans would be a fine addition to our camp. Mr. Hosman said his father and mother and his older daughters are in California this summer.

Will Show Pictures of Will Rogers, Post

M. Blomond of the Ord Theatre announced yesterday that he had secured a newsreel showing the high lights of the lives of Will Rogers and Wiley Post, who were killed in an airplane crash in Alaska a couple of weeks ago. The first showing will be Sunday afternoon and will continue Monday and Tuesday.

Writing New Plans.

A visit to the Retirement Administration office in the court house yesterday discloses that Director Loves McMinden and his assistants are busy writing new plans for farm people who need increased funds for feed, seed and other farm operations for the coming year. The office wishes to hear from all people interested in having plans written.

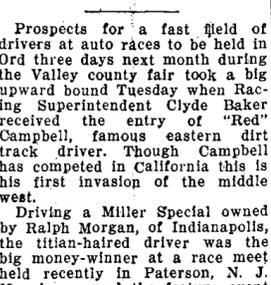

Negro Softballers Make Drive in Vain

The Tuxedos, negro kitenball team from Omaha, made a long drive in vain Sunday, coming to Ord for the purpose of playing the Ord team under the lights at Bussell park only to find that the field was too muddy. The negro team, who claim the world's colored softball championship, will play in Ord next Sunday evening instead, Manager L. J. Auble announces.

—Jesse A. Kovanda went to Aurora Tuesday to act as agricultural and livestock judge at the Aurora fair.

Victims of Whisker Club Mock Trials

Whiskers itch and they mar masculine beauty but most Whisker club members prefer to wear them rather than go before the club's kangaroo court. Here's what happened to three members who decided not to grow beards. Left to right—Mayor Gould Flagg, as he swept the pavement Saturday afternoon by Whisker club order; Stanley McLain, in feminine attire; C. J. Mortensen, showing what the well-dressed man will not wear when strolling. It was fun for everybody—even the victims. The next session of the kangaroo court will be held Friday evening, at which time a public address system will broadcast the proceedings.

Molzer Troupe Again Honors Ord By Visit

Prof. and Mrs. August Molzer, daughter Jean and sons Victor and Leonard, Miss Eunice Bingham, Miss Garnet Mayhew, Miss Margaret Baker and Raymond Reed, all of Lincoln, are spending this week in Ord as guests of their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sowl. This is the third consecutive summer that the Molzer party has honored Ord by a visit and, as usual, their visit this year was eagerly awaited and is being greatly enjoyed by music lovers of this city, for Prof. Molzer and his fellow musicians always contribute liberally of their great talent while here. Monday evening they were guests of the Rotary club at dinner and afterward entertained Rotarians. Mr. Reed, who is director of music at Doane college and clarinet soloist with the Lincoln municipal band, gave a clarinet solo. Miss Bingham, whose violin artistry has thrilled Ordites in former years, played a group of selections. Miss Baker, an accomplished pianist, and the Misses Bingham and Mayhew played two numbers as a piano-cello-violin trio and one of the most popular features was tap dancing by little Jean Molzer, with piano accompaniment by her brother, Victor. Wednesday evening the Molzer party were to give a program in the Methodist church auditorium after the band concert and it is predicted that this, too, was greatly enjoyed by a large crowd. The Molzers and their hosts, Mr. and Mrs. Sowl, are being entertained quite extensively by their many friends during their stay here.

North Loup District Board Undisturbed By Tri-County News

Plenty of Money Left So Plan To Continue Fight; Will Sound Out Bond Market.

Directors of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district, in session here Tuesday evening, were not disturbed by the news that the PWA has approved the huge Tri-County project and appropriated $20,000,000 for its development, said President Bert M. Hardenbrook the next morning. The meeting was held to consider an unofficial offer to approve the North Loup project on terms similar to those granted the Middle Loup recently, he said. This approval took the form of a 45 per cent outright grant from the PWA, with requirement that other money needed be raised by sale of revenue bonds to private investors. Middle Loup officers are now trying to market these bonds. While the PWA has not offered officially to approve the North Loup project in similar fashion officers of the local district have been given to understand that such approval will be forthcoming if the district will accept it. Although they did not decide to reject such an offer if it is made the directors voted to go on fighting for an approval that will embody a loan and grant from PWA funds because they fear such bonds cannot be sold to private investors. In the meantime an attempt will be made to find a market for such bonds and if it develops that they can be sold the PWA will be informed that a 45 per cent grant is acceptable.

Corn-Hog Signers May Put In Wheat

There is no limit on wheat acreage that Valley county corn-hog contract signers may plant this fall, said County Agent C. C. Dale yesterday. Limitation on acreage this year applies only to farmers who sign wheat contracts. Enough rain has fallen already to assure good planting conditions and it is likely that Valley county's wheat acreage will be larger than for several years.

New Store to Open.

Monday Joe Rowbal began making changes in the plumbing of the Williams building south of the postoffice, soon to be occupied by Council Oak Stores, of Sioux City, a grocery chain. Remodeling will be pushed rapidly and it is hoped the new store can open early in September. This company also is opening new stores at Burwell and Ansley.

Court Fight Seen.

The Tri-County still has a rocky road to travel before work can be started, President Hardenbrook told his fellow directors Monday. The Platte Valley district has filed objections to its approval and will fight the case to the final court before giving in, which may delay the project for years.

Will Offer Prizes For 4-H Club Work

Valley county 4-H club members will be given an opportunity to display their accomplishments during the year at the county fair and auto races to be held September 16, 17, 18 and 19. Exhibits of club work will be on display in a special 4-H club building under the direction of Valley county's club committee. Every club member should plan to exhibit his club projects. The fair board is planning to pay suitable cash prizes for various articles. A list of the premiums will be found elsewhere in the Quiz. The committee is working very hard to make this a success and the cooperation of leaders, parents, and members is needed. 4-H club work needs backing of community organizations, business houses, and individuals to make it a success.

To State Hospital.

Joe, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Swoboda, was taken to Ingleside hospital at Hastings Monday by Deputy Sheriff Fred Cohen and will undergo treatment there. Long a sufferer with epilepsy, his mental condition has been growing worse lately and it was thought best to commit him to the state institution for a time.

Hairy Men's 1st Kangaroo Court Attended By 500

Visitors to Ord Saturday afternoon were treated to an unusual spectacle, the sight of Mayor Gould B. Flagg busily sweeping the pavement, while C. J. Mortensen paraded about the streets garbed only in a bathing suit with Stanley McLain, in feminine costume as his consort. Uninformed people may have supposed these prominent citizens to have been slightly insane but they were not—they were merely victims of the Ord Whisker club's first kangaroo court, which amused over 500 people on the court house steps Friday evening.

With Arthur Capron in the judge's chair and J. D. McCall as prosecuting attorney the court got under way soon after eight o'clock, a choice assortment of prisoners having been assembled by the Whisker club's police chief, Dale Norman, and his fellow cops, Vernon Andersen, O. E. Carlson, Freeman Haight, Wayne Norman, Lynn Beghly, Ed Parkos, F. E. McQuillan and Harry Wolf.

Most of the prisoners were charged either with failing to grow whiskers after joining the club or failing to wear the club's membership ribbon, although one man was arraigned for raising a beard without joining the club. Culpits brought before the court included Mayor Flagg, Banker Mortensen, Mark Tolen, Ellsworth Ball, John John, jr., Charles Sobon and others. Each was tried in farcical fashion and found guilty by Judge Capron and as penalties for violating club regulations a variety of amusing punishments were imposed. Sobon was forced to haul Miss Garnette Jackman about the stage in a coaster wagon and John was ordered to sing a Bohemian song. By order of the court a Whisker club barber, L. W. Benjamin, was ordered to shave off half of Ellsworth Ball's whiskers, which he did on the spot. Ball pretended to fall into a dead faint while the operation was in progress but he was revived when Vernie Andersen emptied the contents of Judge Capron's water pitcher on his head.

Other victims were ordered to pay penalties in public Saturday afternoon and while Flagg was sweeping and Mortensen and McLain were parading they were guarded by Whisker club policemen armed with sawed-off shotguns. Both the trial Friday night and the program Saturday afternoon were most amusing.

The club's police squad is equipped with two fast cruiser cars with which to run down victims and these cars, with sirens screaming and bells ringing, were in constant use Friday evening.

The Whisker club, organized to help advertise the fair and auto races, now has a membership of over 800 and more are joining daily. The next kangaroo court will be held tomorrow evening and it is planned to hold programs two evenings next week, probably on Monday and Wednesday although this has not been definitely decided. The Whisker club will hold a general meeting tonight at the city hall.

Tuesday night club representatives met with the fair board and outlined plans for a mammoth booster trip to be held the week before the fair. While plans are not yet complete it is likely that the itinerary will include not only the near-by towns usually visited but also Grand Island and Hastings.

Will Show Pictures of Will Rogers, Post

M. Blomond of the Ord Theatre announced yesterday that he had secured a newsreel showing the high lights of the lives of Will Rogers and Wiley Post, who were killed in an airplane crash in Alaska a couple of weeks ago. The first showing will be Sunday afternoon and will continue Monday and Tuesday.

Writing New Plans.

A visit to the Retirement Administration office in the court house yesterday discloses that Director Loves McMinden and his assistants are busy writing new plans for farm people who need increased funds for feed, seed and other farm operations for the coming year. The office wishes to hear from all people interested in having plans written.

Negro Softballers Make Drive in Vain

The Tuxedos, negro kitenball team from Omaha, made a long drive in vain Sunday, coming to Ord for the purpose of playing the Ord team under the lights at Bussell park only to find that the field was too muddy. The negro team, who claim the world's colored softball championship, will play in Ord next Sunday evening instead, Manager L. J. Auble announces.

Hairy Men's 1st Kangaroo Court Attended By 500

Visitors to Ord Saturday afternoon were treated to an unusual spectacle, the sight of Mayor Gould B. Flagg busily sweeping the pavement, while C. J. Mortensen paraded about the streets garbed only in a bathing suit with Stanley McLain, in feminine costume as his consort. Uninformed people may have supposed these prominent citizens to have been slightly insane but they were not—they were merely victims of the Ord Whisker club's first kangaroo court, which amused over 500 people on the court house steps Friday evening.

With Arthur Capron in the judge's chair and J. D. McCall as prosecuting attorney the court got under way soon after eight o'clock, a choice assortment of prisoners having been assembled by the Whisker club's police chief, Dale Norman, and his fellow cops, Vernon Andersen, O. E. Carlson, Freeman Haight, Wayne Norman, Lynn Beghly, Ed Parkos, F. E. McQuillan and Harry Wolf.

Most of the prisoners were charged either with failing to grow whiskers after joining the club or failing to wear the club's membership ribbon, although one man was arraigned for raising a beard without joining the club. Culpits brought before the court included Mayor Flagg, Banker Mortensen, Mark Tolen, Ellsworth Ball, John John, jr., Charles Sobon and others. Each was tried in farcical fashion and found guilty by Judge Capron and as penalties for violating club regulations a variety of amusing punishments were imposed. Sobon was forced to haul Miss Garnette Jackman about the stage in a coaster wagon and John was ordered to sing a Bohemian song. By order of the court a Whisker club barber, L. W. Benjamin, was ordered to shave off half of Ellsworth Ball's whiskers, which he did on the spot. Ball pretended to fall into a dead faint while the operation was in progress but he was revived when Vernie Andersen emptied the contents of Judge Capron's water pitcher on his head.

Other victims were ordered to pay penalties in public Saturday afternoon and while Flagg was sweeping and Mortensen and McLain were parading they were guarded by Whisker club policemen armed with sawed-off shotguns. Both the trial Friday night and the program Saturday afternoon were most amusing.

Will Offer Prizes For 4-H Club Work

Valley county 4-H club members will be given an opportunity to display their accomplishments during the year at the county fair and auto races to be held September 16, 17, 18 and 19. Exhibits of club work will be on display in a special 4-H club building under the direction of Valley county's club committee. Every club member should plan to exhibit his club projects. The fair board is planning to pay suitable cash prizes for various articles. A list of the premiums will be found elsewhere in the Quiz. The committee is working very hard to make this a success and the cooperation of leaders, parents, and members is needed. 4-H club work needs backing of community organizations, business houses, and individuals to make it a success.

To State Hospital.

Joe, 21-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Swoboda, was taken to Ingleside hospital at Hastings Monday by Deputy Sheriff Fred Cohen and will undergo treatment there. Long a sufferer with epilepsy, his mental condition has been growing worse lately and it was thought best to commit him to the state institution for a time.

ther Clarence and his brother-in-law, Oscar Wallin helping him guide them. They were on the upper lake this morning and while they were not getting any walleyes, they had a nice string of crappies. The Missus and I were the first ones up there this morning, getting there at 4:30 but a half dozen other boats came boiling up after us a few moments and the pike bar looked like the scene of a war fleet maneuver. Everyone caught crappies, blueheads and bluegills and mighty few pike.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln decided to return home yesterday and Rube came in a moment to say goodbye. He said they had been disappointed at intended to come, not coming, so decided to go home. He said he had caught plenty of fish while here and had a good time. The L. & L. cottage looks mighty nice since he finished painting and trimming it and a few more years of improvements and it will be one of the best in camp. We in this colony have a way of building our properties piecemeal. We had to do that, adding a room or a porch as we could spare the money to do so and several others have adopted the same plan, whether for the same reason of course I do not know.

Mr. Augustine has finished painting their cottage and it is looking mighty nice. That big front porch is a wonderful addition to the looks and I know it also adds just half to the comfort of the place. He told me he would build a garage next year. Several of the home owners here have been pulling the wild rice and cutting the rushes out in the lake front, which is a great improvement.

The outer end of my dock is still under water and when the wind blows we have to wade a couple of sections to get out to the livebox, as the water is up just level with the top of the dock and is easily slopped over. It is inches higher than it was when I put the dock out in June and I thought then the lake was the highest I had seen it.

BACK FORTY

Poor corn crops can best be used as silage. There are plenty of other roughage feeds this season, but none of them can so nearly take the place of green grass.

An acre of corn in silage will make twice as much beef as when the ears are husked out and fed as grain. Silage makes twenty percent more beef than ground fodder. An acre of corn fed as silage with alfalfa will make nearly three times as much beef as the same acre if fed as shelled corn with alfalfa.

Dairy cows will produce from eleven to eighteen percent more milk on corn silage than if the same acreage is fed as fodder.

Silage can be stored most cheaply in earth trenches with sloping sidewalls. The corn may be chopped up, or stored in bundles. Silage is generally made when the kernels are beginning to dent, and at that stage it usually contains the right amount of moisture. Great quantities of water must be added if silage is made from dry corn fodder. The silage is packed down and then covered over with a four-inch layer of dirt.

Trench silos have many advantages. Some of these are as follows:

1. Quickly, cheaply, and easily built.
2. Can be adjusted in size by digging out or filling in.
3. Safe from storms, fires, poison gases, and freezing.
4. Can be filled with whole bundles and without a blower.
5. They preserve ensilage with little spoiling if corn is cut at proper time, packed and covered with dirt.

A Rogers Highway Our Policy? Here It Is Why Go to Town? To Discourage Vice

From Tulsa, Okla., in which state Will Rogers was born, J. D. Underwood telegraphs suggesting as "the highest tribute and a lasting memorial to Will Rogers," that Highway 66, which runs from Rogers' new home in California to his old home at Claremore, Okla., be extended on to New York, and the whole road named "Will Rogers Highway." If every American highway with friends of Will Rogers living on both sides from one end to the other were named for him, there would be many "Will Rogers" highways.

Thus runs the headlines: "ITALY BARS ALL PEACE TALK." "BRITAIN WEIGHS SANCTIONS. WANTS TO KNOW OUR POLICY."

If she wants to know the policy of 99 out of a 100 ordinary Americans, and 100 per cent of all common sense Americans, it would be this:

To mind our own business; let European nations, alternately murdering each other and robbing inferior nations, attend to their business in their way.

Our policy now, with Italy swallowing Ethiopia, should be exactly what it was when our British friends were swallowing the lands of the Boers, absorbing that country with its valuable gold and diamond mines. We did nothing then. Why should we invent a special policy for Mussolini now?

France and England "fear Mussolini may involve three continents in the Ethiopian war." Has Europe heard of the New England farmer who said: "I'm on my way to town to get drunk, and Lord how I dread it." He need not have gone to town. European nations need not be dragged into a tri-continental war if they don't want to be dragged.

A very old poker player of the New York Press club, when he "raised the pot," remarked usually: "The only way to discourage vice is to make it expensive." That idea seems to be working in Germany. Doctor Schacht, head of the great German bank, leading financier of the Reich, warns Germany that "Nazi individuals indulging themselves in the pleasure of treating defenseless Jews brutally, are endangering Germany's prosperity. Such wanton brutality constitutes a great menace to German trade everywhere, according to Doctor Schacht, who knows.

Republicans report greatly increased demand for the nomination of Senator Borah, since the announcement that, if nominated, he will run. This will be mournful news for some Republican corporation-best minds, for whether they have to be "lashed with scorpions," or with something else, would make little difference to some of them who consider Senator Borah distinctly in the "scorpion" class.

An old gentleman of eighty-one strolled into a New York police station, remarking: "I have just talked from Kansas City and shall talk back again tonight." He was "moved to a psychopathic ward. If he had substituted the verb "fly" or "walk," the police would not have disturbed him, for he could have flown in from Kansas City during the day very easily and flown back again at night. If 25 years ago he had said, "I just flew in from Kansas City," he would have been sent to the dangerous ward. So there is progress.

At Sverdlovsk, Russian government engineers, digging sewers under the city, find gold ore that indicates a rich gold field underlying the town. The government owns practically all the city, and can easily take the rest, and a further increase in Russia's gold production, already more than three times as great as that of the United States, may be expected.

Those who believe in the wickedness of Russia may ask: "Why does Providence allow such wicked people to find so much gold?" One answer is, "The quickest way to make them stop their wickedness is to make them rich, and gold would do that." Gold might not change the existing government of Russia but another generation will see another kind of government, and ownership of such a lump of gold, as we possess, might make that next Russian government consider Lenin and Stalin "old fashioned."

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week. Mrs. Z. H. Fales and Mrs. A. H. Van Tuyl, two well known Ord women, passed away in a single week.

The 13th annual Valley county fair, just ended, was pronounced a great success.

Ray Weidenhaft and Miss Mabel Hallock were united in marriage and went to Ericson to make their home.

The old Star restaurant was sold at sheriff's sale to its former owner, Mr. Freeman, who at once leased it to Madams Ramsey and Burrows who planned to change the name to the Merchants cafe.

Lucy Kasal severed her connection with the telephone company and went to Comstock to teach a country school. Her sister, Yasta, returned from Red Oak, Ia., and took her place at the switchboard.

25 Years Ago This Week. A game warden arrested Art Hall, Ozzie Timm and Ed Timm for shooting prairie chickens out of season but they pleaded not guilty and had the case postponed a week.

Cecil Newbecker quit as Route 2 mail carrier and resumed his teaching duties. W. A. Anderson was carrying the mail until a regular carrier could be named.

The Vincent Kokes and Paul Bartunek families went to Roberts, Ida., for a long vacation.

J. A. Ollis, Jr., who was superintendent of the horse department at the state fair, went to Lincoln to begin preparing for the big show.

Angie B. Orcutt, just back from St. Louis, announced the biggest stock of millinery ever brought to Ord.

DR. RICH says:

One of the big problems in medicine today still continues to be cancer. If those who suffer with rectal trouble could see a picture of their condition, there would be very little delay in getting a cure quickly. A little too late is much too late when cancer has once begun. Be fair to yourself and those who depend on you. Dr. Rich, Rectal Specialist, Grand Island, Nebr.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

So many good cookie and cake recipes come in constantly, and so it seems good cooks must be prouder of their ability to stir up crisp cookies and delicate textured cakes than almost anything else they make. Of course many of these we receive are duplicates, but still we try to print them all, give everyone a chance to try them who is interested.

When sending in recipes please be very sure to sign your name, either on the envelope, on recipe or some place where it cannot be missed. We do not print them without names, and they are of little value without a signature. If we wanted to print recipes promiscuously, it would be easy to use any cookbook, magazine, or daily paper. But the idea is that these are recipes of your friends and neighbors, tried here in Valley county or nearby. So please do not be falsely modest. Kindly sign your recipes when you send them to the Quiz.

Peanut Cookies.
Cream together four tablespoons butter, one cup sugar, and two well beaten eggs, and four tablespoons milk. Sift together one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder, two cups flour, and add to the first mixture. Stir in two cups chopped roasted peanuts. Drop on greased sheet and bake in a hot oven.

Caramel Cookies with Filling.
Stir together two cups brown sugar, three-fourths cup lard and three eggs until smooth and light. Then sift in one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt, four cups flour. No liquid is required. Mix until well blended then turn on a platter and mold in cylindrical form. Chill and slice very thin. Spread with date and walnut filling and cover with another slice. Bake in a moderate oven.

Date and Walnut Filling.
Cook until thick one cup chopped dates, one-half cup sugar, one-half cup water, one cup chopped walnuts.

Orange Cake.
Beat together one cup sugar, one cup sour milk, one level teaspoon soda, one-half cup butter or lard, two beaten eggs, two cups flour, one level teaspoon salt. Add one cup raisins ground with the peeling of one orange. While hot from the oven cover with the juice of an orange and one cup sugar. Use more orange if desired.

Mince-meat Cookies.
Boil together and cool one package of mince-meat and one cup water. Cream one cup shortening and one and one-half cups sugar, add one egg and put into the mince-meat. Sift one teaspoon soda and one teaspoon baking powder with three and one-half cups flour. Add to the batter. Mix well and bake.

Spice Cookies.
Beat together one cup sugar and one cup butter and lard mixed. Add three-fourths cup sorghum, and dissolve one teaspoon soda in one-half cup hot water. Beat eggs, one teaspoon cinnamon and one teaspoon nutmeg, one-half teaspoon ginger into the batter, with flour enough to roll out. Bake in a quick oven.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Jake:
For the Republicans Only.

Following is part of a letter from Iowa received last week: "Mrs. Vredenburgh has handed me a paper with the article regarding the Argentine corn arriving at the Long Beach port and as I seem to be the principal I want to compliment you in spreading this information as it surely is the truth."

"The sad part of the matter is that the grains that I witnessed arriving in this country both on the Gulf coast and the Pacific coast last winter was only child play to what has happened since that time; for instance the importation of over one hundred million bushels of Argentine corn through the port of Philadelphia; the importation of a full supply of oats by the Quaker Oats Company right into our good state of Iowa where they have one of their largest factories at 35 cents per bushel after disposing of their full warehouses to the government for seed purposes at seventy-five cents per bushel. (Nice little profit for these people.)"

"Through the ruthless destruction of hogs and the curtailment of pork production we have come to the point where pork is out of the question for the "forgotten man." I suppose the potato growers of Nebraska and other producing states will like the recent tax of seventy-five cents per hundred and I am sure the working man (consumer) will surely like it. The sugar beet man must like the acreage reduction of beets so that we can import more than the 75 per cent we already import.

"All the administration has to do now to finish us off is to inflate the money and confiscate the wealth or competency of the man who has tolled a lifetime to have a little something in his old age.

"The only man I can think of who would be half-way satisfied with the program is the relief man and I am now wondering if the program is carried out what will become of him."

This letter carries on with increasing intensity, such as calling the new deal a rotten deal, and quoting Hearst when he said, "I thank God for a Supreme court."

Then in a post script he adds that Clifford (my Bro-in-law) and he are going to the Minnesota lakes for a few days next week. "You can probably tell by the tone of this letter that I need to cool off a little."

Perplexed.
All that sounds good for the G. O. P.ers but I cannot forget for some reason those 170 head of hogs I fed that winter that I sold for two and a half cents a pound. And I cannot forget how nice it has been the last two years to have the Federal government pay me enough and then some to pay my taxes to the county treasurer. And all that for not raising hogs and corn.

But to save my skin I cannot figure out the idea of hiring us fellows not to raise corn and wheat and beets and potatoes, and then let foreign countries import the same commodities into our country.

And now my head is going around politically, and I guess I'll join the communists and be "agin' everything."

Growing Spuds.
I heard of a fellow over by Horace that threshed his wheat and it went three bushels to the acre. It was not very good quality at that. That is a little like I raise potatoes. He got his seed back. And that is what I aim for in the potato business.
It is this way. In the spring when I plant the potatoes they are soft and in the fall when I dig them they are usually nice and hard. So if I get as many as I plant I feel I have done pretty well.

Card of Thanks.
We are very thankful to the friends and neighbors who have been so kind to us and to our beloved husband and father during his long sickness. We also are most grateful to the friends who aided us during the sad hours following his death. We want you all to know that we appreciate your help and sympathy and regret that only in this poor way we are able to thank all of you.

Mrs. W. W. Haskell and Children.

WE DON'T WANT TO SELL All The Meat

We can't expect and don't want to sell all the meat bought by people of Ord and community but as more and more people are finding out that the U. S. inspected, corn-fed meat we handle is better and costs no more our business is increasing daily.

What better advertisement is there than a satisfied customer? That's the kind of customers we have. They buy once, then come back day after day.

We're building a business by selling better meats for less money. If you want the best, come here.

Ord Young Ladies On Eastern Trip

Two Ord young ladies—Miss Marie Hall, cashier for the Protective Savings & Loan association and Mrs. Tamar Gruber, secretary to County Agent C. C. Dale—left Friday on a vacation trip that will take them to Chicago, New York, Washington and other eastern points. Although they have only two weeks' vacations the Ord women expect to cover much territory and see many sights of historic interest before returning home.

The vacation trip being taken by Miss Hall and Mrs. Gruber is an all-expense tour sponsored by the New York Central and B & O railroads. Representatives of these lines escort the tourists on all stages of the trip, which started from Chicago Sunday. First stop was at Niagara Falls, to which point they went from Chicago by rail. From Niagara Falls they went to Albany through the famous Mohawk valley, traveling by rail, and at Albany boarded a steamer and traveled down the Hudson river to New York, arriving there at 5:00 p. m. Monday. Two days were spent there and yesterday they planned to leave by train for Atlantic City. Tomorrow they will spend in Philadelphia and Washington, with side trips to Arlington cemetery and Mount Vernon, and at 4:00 p. m. Saturday they leave for home, arriving in Chicago early Sunday morning.

Miss Hall and Mrs. Gruber have been planning this trip for a long time and their friends hope they will enjoy the trip as greatly as they anticipated.

—Mrs. Otis Hughes and daughter Jeanette returned Sunday from spending several days at Sargent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayo.

Jones-Ingraham Wed.

Tuesday morning at the Methodist parsonage Allen M. Jones, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones of Arcadia and Miss Hulda L. Ingraham of Arcadia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Ingraham, were united in marriage. Rev. Mearl C. Smith officiated at the services, the double ring ceremony being used.

The couple was attended by Miss Irma Lenz and Alfred V. Burson, both of Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will make their home with the groom's parents for a short time, after which they expect to move to a farm in Mira Valley.

Have 25th Anniversary.

Sunday, August 25, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fryzek, sr., celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary. They were surprised at a family dinner by their children. Present were Mrs. Ralph Burson, her husband and two children, Frank, Jr., Joe, Vencil, Jerry and George Fryzek. Miss Lydia Ptacnik was also a guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Fryzek were married at Ord 25 years ago and have since made their home in this community. Before her marriage, Mrs. Fryzek was Miss Bessie Fier.

Ord Couple Wed.

Noda Shirley and Tony Grabowski, popular Ord couple, last week informally announced their marriage which occurred May 31 at Bartlett. The ceremony was performed by Judge John Burney.

Miss Shirley, who graduated from the Ord high school with the class of 1920, has since been city telephone operator, and the groom has operated a garage in Ord for several years. The couple left Sunday to make their home at North Platte where Mr. Grabowski is employed in the Chevrolet garage.

Guests at Kasson's.

Sunday Mrs. Devillo Fish and children drove to North Loup where they were guests at a dinner. Present also were Mrs. Orpha Kasson of Omaha, Mrs. Mable Rouse and three children and Mrs. Bessie Williams of Texas, Mrs. Amy Taylor of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kasson and family of Elba and Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Kasson and family.

Bennett Barn Burns.
The W. D. Bennett barn burned to the ground Saturday night. This is the second fire which has occurred within two weeks and makes five complete losses since the first of June in and around Arcadia, which are the Bryson school house, Leland Evans barn, James Johnson barn, Williams sale barn and the barn belonging to W. D. Bennett which was struck by lightning while Mr. and Mrs. Bennett and their son Ray were asleep Saturday evening about 10 o'clock.

The fire was discovered nearly an hour after the lightning struck so it evidently had been smoldering some time. Roy Jameson who was driving past the Bennett home saw a flame and reported it and drove back and rolled out the Buick car belonging to Ray. Several things of value were stored in the loft and tools amounting to nearly $100 were destroyed. The total loss was approximately $900 and was partially covered by insurance.

NO child deserves the handicap of defective eyesight. You owe it to your child to be sure that he is not suffering with an unsuspected but harmful deficiency of vision. Many children go for years with headaches, cross dispositions, and poor school marks without their parents even knowing the source of the trouble—defects of vision that could easily be corrected. Give your child an even break at success—have his eyes examined before school starts.

Biography of Mrs. M. B. Goodenow

"There was one more Indian fight," Mrs. Goodenow resumed, "known as the Battle of the Blow-out in '76. The settlers tracked the Indians to a blowout and notified the soldiers. Sergeant Dougherty lost his life in this encounter. Your grandfather had been appointed First Lieutenant of the Home Guards in February '74, by Governor Furnas, and they did their part in all of these raids. Mel was elected sheriff of Valley County in '75.

"After the battle of Pebble Creek Congress appropriated one hundred thousand dollars to build a fort. It was located across the river and a few miles down. Fort Hartsuff was started in September, 1874. It speeded up the settlement of this valley by many years and the building of it provided work for the destitute settlers who had lost all of their crops that year by grasshoppers.

"One day in July they came in droves and ate all the crops. Mel and I drove down to the soldier's camp to tell them to come get their ears before the hoppers ate them, but before we got home, the corn was all eaten and even the blanket that I put over some I had gathered was all in holes."

"What became of the fort and the soldiers?" Avis wanted to know. "The first buildings were completed in December, '74, and celebrated with a grand ball. Every one went and was very proud of the fort. Captain Munsen was the first commander at the fort. Captain Coppinger took it over in April, '75 with Company A, 23rd Infantry. In December, '76, Company K, 14th Infantry under Captain Carpenter, came to the fort. Captain Munsen again assumed command in November, '78 and kept it until the fort was abandoned in May, 1881.

"At the close of the Sioux War of '76 when Custer was killed, the remnant of the Sioux were settled on their reservation in Dakota and as the Pawnees had been moved to Oklahoma, they were too far apart to fight and the Indian troubles of the Loup were over.

"Oh," cried Arlis sitting up. "We almost forgot about the horse race!"

"I don't remember about a horse race," said Avis wrinkling her brows. "Don't you remember about the time Grandpa beat the soldiers to Grand Island on Billie?" "Yes, do tell that."

"Some of the soldiers in Captain Munsen's company who were camped on Jack's Gulch decided to make a little easy money by filing on the settlers' claims and then compel them to pay for the relinquishment.

"While Mr. Goodenow was in Iowa collecting some money that was owing to him a group of the soldiers looked over the claims in this community, searching out the corners, getting the numbers and asking questions about the land. I didn't know what they were planning but as soon as Mel got home I told him.

"I must start for Grand Island at once and file on this land before they do," he said. "It's lucky I have this money."

"I fixed him a lunch of bread and milk and he started within a few minutes before Billie, his pony, had rested from the Iowa trip.

"He stopped at Mr. Mortensen's place and told him where he was going. Mortensen stepped into the house and came out with a loaf of bread. "Ride as fast as you can," he said, "but when you get on the bridge at St. Paul, if you are ahead of the soldiers, stop and give this bread to Billie."

"Mel took it and hurried on. He met a man late that night coming his way. Mel asked if he had seen anything of the soldiers as he wished to reach the army doctor.

"The man told him that they were camped just this side of St. Paul. Mel knew that if he would ride all night he could beat them. "He arrived in Grand Island about sunup and was sitting on the steps of the land office when the men came to open up. He kept two clerks busy and filed on his own land and on that of many of his neighbors for them, paying the filing fee from the money he had collected. It cost $2.50 to file on a pre-emption and $14.00 for a homestead.

"He was all through and coming down the steps when the soldiers dashed up, their horses covered with foam. The man Mel met became suspicious of him wanting a doctor and turning around, went back to tell the soldiers. They knew what he was going to do and started at once for Grand Island.

"I have filed on all the land in the Loup valley except one quarter I left for you, Doc," Mel called out as they came up. "They turned and cursed but could do nothing about it."

"Did Billie get his bread on the St. Paul bridge?"

"Yes, Avis, and a good rub-down and rest before starting home. The neighbors were very grateful to Mel for saving their claims. Some of them helped to dig our well to pay for the filing fee.

"After the Nineties with the two drouth years, the settlers in the North Loup valley began to prosper, to improve their farms and gradually to grow away from pioneer settlement into a rich agricultural community."

"I often wonder, Mother, what really tried you the most. Was it the exciting, dangerous time or was it the steady grind of everyday living with a deprivation and disappointments?" Maude asked.

List of Premiums

Loup Valley Agricultural Society Fair and Auto Races, Sept. 16-19

ANNOUNCEMENT TO EXHIBITORS AT THE 1935 LOUP VALLEY FAIR:

The Loup Valley Agricultural Society has always paid its premiums 100% and paid them during or at the close of the fair. It is our intention to continue this practice but should conditions make it necessary we will prorate all 1935 premiums.

We will furnish hay and straw to exhibitors as in past years but will charge stall and pen rent. Horse and cattle stalls double $2.00 each. Hog and sheep pens $1.00 each.

In case there is no competition only 2nd premium will be paid.

Horses and Mules

CHARLES BURDICK, Superintendent

Premiums paid on Percherons, Belgians and Clydesdales.

All exhibition animals must be recorded or eligible to registration in their respective association.

The age of horses will be computed from January 1st.

All breeding animals 5 years old, in order to compete for prizes, must be producers.

To each premium there must be two or more exhibitors to constitute competition, however, in case there is but a single exhibit in a class second money will be paid.

Produce of one mare consists of 2 animals, either sex, any age, bred by exhibitor.

Biography of Mrs. M. B. Goodenow

"I can't remember that life in any way was so very hard," Mrs. Goodenow replied. "It all seems so worth-while; I wouldn't change anything if I could. I remember one time we were really worried. We were out of matches and with the nearest store one hundred miles away, we tried to keep a fire going all of the time. One night we fell asleep and it went out."

"It was zero weather the next morning. Mel said, 'Maybe we could get some fire if I shot off the old musket.'"

"I got a handful of cotton out of one of the comforters and we put a lot of powder in the barrel then stuffed the cotton in. Mel pulled the trigger and the cotton flew out into the room. The report was terrible, but the cotton smoked a little and we blew on it until we got a fire."

The sun slid behind a cloud and a breeze came up from the river. "It looks like we are going to have a shower," said Maude.

"How many times I've watched the clouds from here in the sixty-one years that I've lived here, mused Mrs. Goodenow.

She sat for long moments looking off toward the gray bluffs across the river, the wind blowing wisps of white hair about her face. They knew that she was thinking of that day in the early spring of '72 when Mr. Goodenow had said that this land—this spot—was good enough for him.

"Neither Mel nor I ever thought of leaving this country or this farm."

A rain crow swooped down above them and, uttering a hoarse cry, winged up into the dark clouds.

"Mel died in September, 1928." Her dim eyes still searched the canyons.

The wind fell away to a dead calm. The leaves of the corn in a nearby patch hung limp. Motionless.

"Pioneer women don't accomplish much except to stand by their husbands," Mrs. Goodenow said thoughtfully.

"I don't know of any greater thing that a woman could do," said Maude.

Protect Your Grain Against Loss By Fire and Wind

There will be more grain kept in bins on the farm this year than there has been for many years. On account of short crops for several years the amount of grain held on farms has been reduced from year to year consequently insurance protecting grain against loss by fire and wind has been reduced.

For the small cost of $5.50 per $1,000 we will insure your grain against loss by fire from any cause and from wind for one year.

In case of loss you will be paid promptly or will have the money to replace your grain.

Call us by Telephone 47 or when in Ord call at our office if you wish this protection.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Skoll Thursday

At the Bohemian hall at 2:00 p. m. Thursday, Aug. 22, funeral rites were held for Mrs. Magdalena Skoll, who passed away at her home in Ord two days previously at the age of 79. Rev. B. A. Filipi, of Clarkson, conducted the services and music was furnished by the Misses Minnie and Elizabeth Lukesh, accompanied at the piano by Miss Olga Lukesh. Two selections in Bohemian and one in English were sung in accordance with a wish expressed by Mrs. Skoll before her death. Pallbearers included Jos. Holoun, James Hrebec, Ign. Peshia, Ign. Gizinski, Frank Visek, sr., and John Kovarik. Mrs. L. Mazac and Mrs. F. J. L. Benda had charge of the floral offerings. Interment was in Ord cemetery.

Magdalena Bedlivy, was born in the village of Chvalsouice, county of Pisek, Czechoslovakia, in the year of 1856. At the age of 18 years she moved to Germany where she became employed until the year of 1876, when she came to America in the hope of better opportunities and improving her circumstances. She came to Milligan, Nebr., where she again secured employment for four years, in order to earn enough to repay her fare.

There she became acquainted with Joseph Skoll, to whom she was married in the year of 1880, after which they came west to Valley county and established a home on a homestead upon which Mr. Skoll had filed.

There she managed the farming activities for two years, most of the time alone, through good and through bad times, and where she was even menaced by the Indians, while her husband was at Milligan working.

When after the two years he returned, he found his beloved wife, faithful and tireless in her efforts, and when they became permanently established in their home, and after they had gone through all sorts of adversities, and thought that their situation and conditions she suffered the tragic loss of her husband in death in the year 1911.

Again she took and carried on the farming activities in order that she might be able to provide for her children, and in 1918 suffered a second blow, the death of her oldest son Frank.

In 1920, she retired from the farm and moved to Ord, for a permanent rest, and where she resided until the 16th of June, 1935, when she moved out to the home of her oldest daughter, Mrs. Anna Vodehnal, who provided for her with loving care, until her death on the 19th day of August, 1935.

She leaves surviving her six children, Mrs. Anna Vodehnal and Emil Skoll, Ord, James Skoll, Comstock, Edward Skoll, California, Joseph Skoll, Ord, and Mrs. Marie Novotny, Kimball; one sister in Czechoslovakia, twenty-seven grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Card of Thanks.

We take this means of expressing our gratitude to all who extended sympathy and assistance during the illness and after the death of our beloved mother, Mrs. Magdalena Skoll. The Children.

Davis Creek News

Mrs. Ina Collins and Rachel Williams were hostesses at the United Brethren church Wednesday to the ladies aid society. Because of so many threshing there was an unusually small crowd present. The ladies finished quilting a quilt for Miss Sylvia Baker.

Mrs. O. H. Mitchell entertained the Methodist Ladies Aid society Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell took Miss Hannah Mitchell to North Loup Thursday and from there she went to Fremont to resume her work in a tailor shop.

Joe Petrytus was ill Friday, and was taken to Ord to the Weekes hospital, where he underwent an appendix operation Friday evening. He is getting along as well as could be expected.

Mrs. Petrytus has been staying at the Clyde Baker home so as to be near him. About 4 1/2 inches of rain was our portion last week, coming in 3 rains. The largest, 2 3/4 inches came during Saturday night.

Will Wheatcraft's and Everett Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Gizinski and baby and Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Finley were among those who were over night guests of relatives in Ord Saturday night because of the rain.

Mrs. Iona Leach and daughters helped Charles and Phillip Mrsny cook for threshers Friday and Saturday.

Jim Caddy had the largest job of oats threshing in this neighborhood. He got 3,097 bushels of oats off of 63 acres. Ernest Johnson has had the best yield of rye 23 bushels to the acre. John Lunney had a good yield of Spelts about 40 bushels to the acre, and has already sold 1,000 bushels. Charley Mrsny's wheat made about 10 bushels. Alfred Jorgensen had one field of oats that made 42 bushels.

Lone Star News

This community received approximately two inches of rain Saturday night.

Mrs. Charley Hopkins accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Davis to Iowa to visit relatives.

Mrs. John Hopkins helped Pearl Hopkins cook for threshers Saturday.

Lloyd Werber returned home from Martin, S. D., Saturday to stay for a few days. When he returns he plans on taking Mrs. Werber and baby back with him. Clarence Guggenmos returned from there last Sunday.

A picnic dinner was held at the A. Guggenmos home in honor of Mrs. Ode Stillwell and children from Cheyenne, Wyo., who are visiting her parents and other relatives. She visited in the Clarence Guggenmos home Monday and in the home of Mrs. J. S. Werber Tuesday.

Fall Seeding

Fall seeding of permanent pastures at this season of the year is highly recommended.

With the present moisture and nice weather it would be an ideal time to seed—Brome Grass, Blue Grass, Meadow Fescue, etc. into the established pasture or make a new permanent pasture.

Brome Grass is outstanding among the grasses for pasture as it will make twice as much feed per acre as blue grass and is resistant to heat, drought and weed invasion.

We have a supply of these grasses and with lower prices the cost of seeding this fall will be at least one-third less than last spring.

Let us help you with your pasture problems.

LAWN SEEDING

Conditions are ideal for re-seeding your lawn. You will be pleased with the results of fall seeding as it is possible to keep the soil moist until the seed germinates and weeds are not a menace at this season of the year.

Seeding costs are lower than last spring.

If you have grubs in your lawn we have an economical poison that will control them.

May we help you with your lawn problems.

15 Cars Already Signed For Meet Here Sept. 16-19

Valley Co. Fair 2 Weeks Away But Drivers Entering; At Least 30 Expected.

With fifteen racing cars definitely under contract to compete, auto races to be held in connection with the Valley county fair September 16 to 19 promise to be as fast as any held in previous years. Though it is almost two weeks before the races start more entries are coming by every mail and Racing Superintendent Clyde Baker believes at least thirty cars will be here for time trials on opening day.

Last week Baker and Alfred Weigard drove to Belleville, Kas., where races were being held in connection with the Tri-State fair. There were 37 drivers present and most of them signified their intention of competing at Ord.

Entries so far include:
Fifteen Have Entered.
Vic Felt, Deer Trail, Colo., Hisso driver.
H. D. Cowan, Atchison, Kas., Frontenac, Emmett Underwood driver.
Lloyd Fisher, Longmont, Colo., Fisher Special, Cowboy Gilbert driver.
C. E. Johnson, Lincoln, Messer Special, Bill Morris driver.
Art Mortinson, Denver, Fronty D. O., Al Mortinson driver.
Ralph Morgan, Indianapolis, Miller Special, Red Campbell driver.

Charles Boye, Omaha, Dreyer Special, Charles Boye, driver.
George Lawhorn, St. Joseph, Lawhorn Special, George Chitwood driver.
McCombs Coming Back.
H. H. Hanson, Rhineland, Wis., Hal Special, Vern McCombs driver.
H. H. Bennett, St. Joseph, Frontenac, Ted Parker driver.
Stark Hickey, Detroit, McDowell Special, Howard Jennings driver.
Martin Lake, Sioux City, Model A. D. O., Bert Ficken driver.
Rogers & Tersnor, West Franklin, Ill., Hisso Special, John Tersnor driver.
Jack Keys, Otis, Kas., American Gyro, Pat Cunningham driver.
Al Banks, Hastings, Frontenac, Al Banks driver.

Several of these owners and drivers have appeared here in former years, notably Felt, Axtell, Fisher, Gilbert, Lawhorn, McCombs, Ficken and Cunningham. Both of the latter piloted John Bagley's car in different years and are noted dirt track drivers.

Canton Car Entered.
Among cars in the above list that are new to Ord two are creating much comment among local racing fans. One, Morgan's car from Indianapolis, piloted by Campbell, has been a stand-out on eastern tracks. The other, owned by Hickey of Detroit, is "Shorty" Canton's old racing car. Canton, one of the ranking drivers in the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis each year, sold the car to Hickey shortly before his death on the speedway.

Race Superintendent Baker has received word from John Bagley, who is now racing in the east, that he will make every effort to get here by Sept. 16. Bagley has never missed a race meet in Ord yet. His present car, piloted by Doc McKenzie, has been winning consistently in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and is now the leading contender for AAA dirt track honors for the season.

"Don't make any mistake about it, we're going to have a real race meet this year," said Baker yesterday. Drivers at Belleville were enthusiastic over the reopening of races here, he said. The Ord track is regarded as the fastest in the middle west by all followers of the game and the best drivers will surely be here to compete, not only because prize money is large but also because there is considerable fame attached to winning at Ord.

Optometrists Will Hear Dr. Parkins
Optometrists from all over the state of Nebraska will meet in Ord on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 8 and 9, to attend the clinic concerning visual problems of school children, at which time Dr. George A. Parkins, director of the Department of Research, Nebraska Association of Optometrists, will present the results of his research in the Ord schools during the past two years. This research has been concerned with visual problems of children and means of alleviating their difficulties.

Prospects Bright For Ord Football

With ten lettermen returning to the lineup prospects appear bright for a winning Ord high school football eleven this fall. Coach Brockman issued the first call Monday morning and was greeted with a turnout of forty candidates. Returning veterans around whom the '35 Chanticleer team will be built include: Marks, Tunncliff, Haskell, Koelling, Blessing, Jones, Pray, Clark, Rose and Richardson.

Road work, setting-up exercises and other forms of light drill work make up the early practice schedules. The opening game finds Ord playing at Scotia under the lights, Sept. 27.

The schedule:
Sept. 27—Scotia, there.
Oct. 5—St. Paul, there.
Oct. 11—Broken Bow, there.
Oct. 18—Burwell, here.
Nov. 1—Ravenna, here.
Nov. 8—Open.
Nov. 15—Arcadia, there.
Nov. 22—Sargent, here.
Nov. 29—Loup City, here.

Pheasant Season In Valley County; Protests Heard

Game Commission Declares 10-Day Open Period Though Birds Very Scarce.

Although pheasants are said to be so scarce in Valley and surrounding counties this year that hardly enough are present for breeding stock, the Nebraska fish and game commission last week included this area in the ten-day open season that will start October 20 and close October 29.

Many protests are being heard against the long-tailed fliers being hunted this fall. Last summer's disastrous drouth reduced the pheasant crop greatly and practically no birds were hatched in this section. Then came the 1934 open season, which still further decreased the supply of old birds. Then, to make conditions even worse, floods in June this year drowned most of the few broods hatched.

Are Scarce Everywhere.
Other counties in this section that will share with Valley the doubtful honor of having an open season on pheasants are Greeley, Custer, Blaine, Loup, Garfield, Wheeler, Sherman and Howard. In all the pheasant situation is said to be practically the same as in Valley county, although small areas around the Cedar and Calamus rivers contain a fair proportion of pheasants.

The game commission is trying a new policy this year in some counties and that is to have two open seasons. In Scottsbluff, Morrill, Garden, Keith, Lincoln, Knox, Pierce, Antelope, Cedar, Wayne, Dixon, Dakota and Thurston counties it will be legal to shoot pheasants between Oct. 20 to 29 again from Nov. 17 to 21. A few southeast and northwest Nebraska counties will have no open season whatever.

Helen Seiffert Is Visiting At Arcadia

Arcadia—(Special)—Mrs. Viola Shepherd of Bridgeport, Nebr., sister of George Bryson, and Mrs. Kate Garrison, of Denver, a niece of Mr. Bryson, visited in the Bryson home Sunday. They were enroute to Fremont where Mrs. Shepherd, superintendent of the Morrill county schools, was taking Miss Helen Seiffert to meet her instructor and go on to Massachusetts to enter her second year of schooling.

Little Helen, who is seven years old, is deprived of her hearing, sight and speech but has developed to be a bright child. Her parents being poor and no way of educating her appealed to several prominent movie stars and radio artists and finally one of the leading newspapers started a subscription and soon enough money was raised to educate her. She has several brothers and sisters.

Wetzel Will Case Is Settled, Widow Gets Half Estate

In county court here last Thursday the William Wetzel will case was settled when an agreement was entered into between Vern W. Robbins, executor, and Bert M. Hardenbrook, guardian ad litem for the widow, Mrs. Abbie Wetzel, that the latter is to receive one-half the estate after expenses of probating it are paid. Gus P. Wetzel, who also had filed objections to the will being admitted to probate, withdrew his suit.

Funeral Services Held Friday For Accident Victim

Winfield Arnold, Killed Last Week In Threshing Mishap, Buried In Ord Cemetery.

Winfield I. Arnold, eldest son of Isaac and Tillie Arnold, was born at Mt. Pleasant, Ia., on April 17, 1901 and departed this life in Ord, Nebraska on August 28th, 1935, aged 34 years, 4 months and 11 days. His death resulted from injuries sustained by his falling into a grain separator while threshing in Mira Valley.

Win, as he was affectionately known by his friends, moved with his parents when a small boy from Iowa to Valley county, growing to manhood and spending his life on various farms and ranches always as a very dependable hand.

On February 9, 1927, he was united in marriage to Ida M. Lunney of Davis Creek community. Two children came to bless this union, first a little daughter, Elva Marie and then a son, Virgil Eugene.

Was Greatly Respected.
Honest and upright in his dealings and much sought for when mechanical work was involved, Win Arnold found opportunity to meet many people and win their esteem. But his real joy was in his family and his love for them and their provision was the center of his life.

Misfortune robbed him of his father four years ago the 11th of this month when he was fatally crushed by an auto in North Loup. Now with the suddenness and violence with which fate has again struck the family, the shock and sorrow is doubly hard to bear.

Besides the loving wife and two children, Win is survived by his mother, Mrs. Tillie Arnold of Ord, two sisters, Mrs. Ord Twombly of Arcadia and Mrs. Ivan Cook of Davis Creek and two brothers, Clayton and Floyd of Mira Valley, beside nephews, nieces, and other relatives and an unnumbered host of friends who will miss the quiet but sincere friendship Win displayed.

Funeral services were held Friday at 2:00 P. M. from the Sowl chapel, Rev. Chas. F. Wantz of Midvale in charge. Music was furnished by a double quartette from Davis Creek church and burial was in the Ord cemetery. Pall bearers were Guy Sample, Archie Jefferies, Emery Zentz, Archie Mason, Jack McCarville, Arthur Kirby.

Beaux and Belles Of the Future

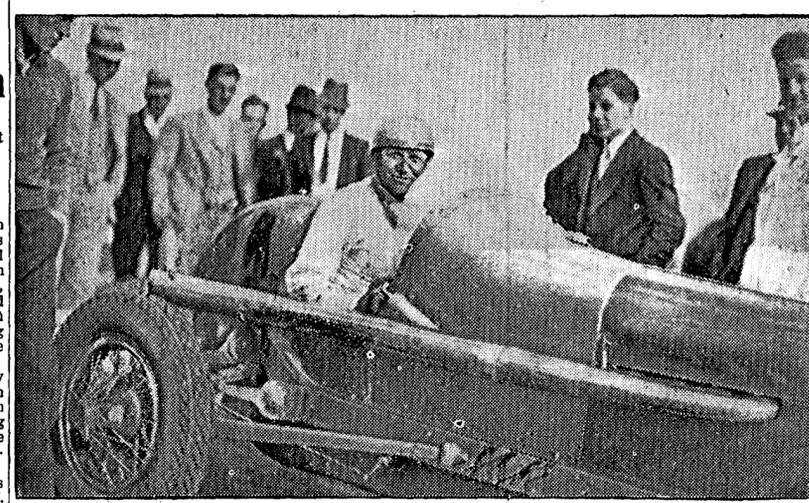

Gary Waite, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Waite of Arcadia, was two years old March 23.

Ruth Mary Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hayes of Ord, she is 20 months old, her birthday being December 4.

Steel Helmets, Latest Fashion Note for Race Car Drivers

It took them sixteen years to get wise but racing car pilots finally adopted steel helmets similar to those worn by United States soldiers in the World War. In this picture "Red" Campbell, who pilots the speedy Miller Special owned by Ralph Morgan of Indianapolis, is wearing one of the new crash-proof helmets. First worn by drivers in the Decoration Day classic at Indianapolis in 1934, such helmets have now been generally adopted and probably most of the speed demons who compete in Ord two weeks hence will be wearing them. The helmets extend well down over the neck and protect the base of the wearer's skull.

Whisker Club Will Have Booster Trip Wedn'day, Sept. 11

Petska, Boquet in Charge Of Arrangements; Opera Star At 2nd Court Session.

The second session of the Ord Whisker club's kangaroo court was held Monday evening before a crowd of 500 people. John Perlinski served as chief justice for the second court session with Rex Jewett enacting the role of prosecuting attorney. Dale Norman, chief of police and his right hand man, Freeman Haught, were assisted in leading and running down law breakers by a squad of special deputies including "Swede" Carlson, Chester Austin and Ed Parkos.

The opening case was that of Bill Heinz of the Donald Co., Grand Island, charged with not growing any more whiskers than he has had on his face the past 83 years. After a serious debate between prosecuting Attorney Jewett and the defendant's attorney, Jack Riley, Judge Perlinski decided that a liberal fine would be suitable punishment for such a grave offense. Fred Gillette of Armour Meat Co., Grand Island, was the second case charged with both resisting arrest and standing on the streets of Ord acting like a gentleman.

Shaved for a Woman.
Other interesting trials on the night's program included that of "Buck" Parkins charged with shaving off his whiskers because of a woman, Joe Jablonski charged with being a resident of Elyria, several members of the Jesse Busse orchestra charged with not being men at all, and Roy Pardue, city nightwatch, charged with not staying awake all night.

The peak of the evening's fun was reached when Minnie Oppenbottom, alias Tom Springer, was brought before the court disguised as an opera singer from gay Patee. Minnie was charged with standing on the street corner trying to make love to County Sheriff George Round. After a heated argument, in which chief of police Norman took the lady's side, Judge Perlinski pronounced the sentence which said that Minnie would present one of her opera selections before the court. After the selection "El Troubadour", was sung Judge Perlinski gave Minnie the right of making love to any citizen in the city.

Air Show Put Off Until Next Sunday

Because of adverse weather conditions the Burnham-Miller air circus advertised to be held in the north of Ord was postponed until next Sunday, Sept. 8, at which time it will be held if the weather permits. At least eight planes will be on the grounds and take part in various events, the management promises.

Only licensed ships and licensed pilots take part in this air circus.

Theater Won Tourney

The Ord Theater softball team with a 10-1 victory over "Pidge" Johnson's team in the finals easily won the Inter-City championship of the Inter-City softball league in a tournament held last week. Mr. Biemond, sponsor of the team presented, each member of the winning team with courtesy tickets to the Ord theater.

Kolbaba, Molzer Met In Ord After 20 Years

Twenty years ago in Omaha Prof. August Molzer and Prof. Kolbaba, both violinists and instructors, were close friends but they had lost track of each other and met for the first time in twenty years when Prof. Molzer visited Ord. Prof. Kolbaba has opened a violin studio here.

Pre-Enrollment In Ord High School Up 10 Per Cent

Record-Breaking Freshman Class Enters, Says Cass; Board Elects New Teacher.

Advance registration figures indicate that the enrollment in Ord high school this year will be about 10 per cent greater than last, it was stated yesterday by Willard Bell, superintendent, and Wilbur D. Cass, principal. When classes convene next Monday about 300 students will be enrolled in 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade classes, with junior high enrollment boosting the north school total well toward the 400 mark.

This year's freshman class will be the largest in many years if not in history, 91 students having already enrolled for the first year's work. So far only 57 have registered as sophomores and 52 as seniors but the junior class will be larger than usual, 70 having registered already, to which should be added 24 who were in high school last year. Out of 234 known registrants in high school 140 are non-resident pupils, Principal Cass states.

Monday evening the board of education met to elect a successor to Walter D. Lukenbach, commercial instructor, who resigned a few days before to accept a better-paid position as head of the same department in Holdrege high school. The board was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Olivia Hanson, of Lindsay, who has for the past four years been commercial teacher in the Longmont, Colo., schools.

355th Infantry To Hold Reunion

The 355th Nebraska Infantry will hold their sixteenth annual reunion at Broken Bow on Sunday and Monday, September 8 and 9, the Quiz is informed by Walter Thornton, president, and Harry Weekly, secretary, both of Broken Bow. Several Company I men of this vicinity are planning to attend, it is said. Last year the reunion was held at Norfolk.

1935 Rain Total Now 25.89, Highest In Twelve Years

But July-August Drouth Has Cut Corn Crop Greatly; No Frost Yet, Says Travis.

Valley county's moisture total so far in 1935 stands at 25.89 inches, the greatest total registered by this time of year since 1923, says Horace W. Travis, government weather recorder for this vicinity. Heavy rains in late August brought 4.45 inches and early days of September brought .69 inches, pushing the year's total to the highest point in 12 years.

Rainfall records that have stood for many years may be broken if September, October, November and December are normally moist, Travis believes. In 1930, wettest in recent years, the total was 31.10. In 1923 the total was 32.73 and in 1920 was 33.16. This year may end with greater moisture than any of these.

In spite of heavy rainfall, Valley county's corn crop this year is from 50 to 75 percent below normal, proving that it is not total moisture so much as timeliness of rains that make good crops. Drouth in late July and early August, just when corn was in greatest danger, caused the big crop loss this year.

There has been no frost so far, rumor to the contrary, Mr. Travis says. Lowest mark registered on his thermometer is 39 degrees on the night of August 30 and again on September 3. The past ten days have seen temperatures generally below normal but warmer weather is forecast.

Tires Cheaper, Farm Prices Up, Says Lakin

"Farm prices have advanced so rapidly in the last two years, as compared to tire prices, that the farmer today in terms of his own commodities can buy a new U. S. Royal at a saving ranging as high as 75 per cent."

This announcement was made today by the L. & L. Tire & Battery Station, U. S. tire dealers. Ross Lakin said that the United States Rubber company has just completed a survey which revealed the advantageous buying position which farmers are now enjoying.

"Why, only two years ago it took 282 pounds of hogs to buy a 4.75 x 19 U. S. Royal, one of our most popular sizes," said Mr. Lakin. "Today only 103.4 pounds are needed. The same thing goes for wheat. Two years ago I would have insisted on 24.4 bushels of wheat for that tire. Now 9.3 bushels will finance the deal."

Hardenbrook Goes To Capitol, Will Demand Approval

No. Loup Project Has Excellent Chance Right Now, Says Wire From Congressman Coffee.

In response to a telegram from Congressman Harry Coffee that the North Loup power and irrigation project has an excellent chance for immediate approval by the PWA and that presence of an officer of the district was needed immediately, Bert M. Hardenbrook, district president, left last Friday for Washington, D. C. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hardenbrook and they probably will be in the east for two weeks or longer.

The message from Congressman Coffee stated that he is trying to expedite approval of the North Loup project and stayed in Washington several days after the adjournment of Congress for that purpose.

Restudy Under Way.
J. D. Ross, head of the PWA power division, began a restudy of the project last week, Coffee said, and a decision is expected shortly. Liberalization of PWA requirements resulted in the approval of the Tri-County project recently and it is believed the North Loup also will be approved. The administration is determined to get hundreds of projects started this fall so that employment may be furnished to men now on relief during the winter months. Irked at slowness of the PWA, it is claimed that President Roosevelt has taken matters into his own hands and ordered all worthy projects approved without further delay.

Before leaving Mr. Hardenbrook promised to keep people of the North Loup valley informed, through the columns of the Quiz, with progress of negotiations. He was hopeful that an approval would be offered by the end of this week but expected to remain longer if it proves necessary.

At a recent meeting of directors of the North Loup district, President Hardenbrook was empowered to accept or reject any offer that may be made by the PWA.

108 Stockholders In Fair Association

To show that the Valley county fair is a real community undertaking in which every resident should be interested, Secretary S. W. Roe this week went over the stockholders' record and compiled figures showing that 108 different men living in all parts of the county own stock in the association. Eighty-nine have shares of $100 each, eleven have shares of $50 each and eight own shares of $400 each, making a total of $12,650 of stock.

For the restoration of the fair, Ord business and professional men have this year paid into the treasury $1,175 in voluntary contributions. With this money repairs on grandstand and buildings were made and preliminary expenses paid. When the fair opens it will not have a large deficit to overcome, thanks to the assistance of Ord people.

Ord Auction Business Better, Says Weller

The auction sale at the Ord pavilion last Saturday was the best in several months, says Col. E. C. Weller, and he is hopeful that a steady improvement will be noted. Not only were there larger and better consignments of cattle but also more buyers were present than usual, he states.

Likelihood that Valley county will have a considerable amount of corn as well as an abundance of roughage feed, coupled with the outlook for money making in feeding cattle, is bound to make the sale business better here, he believes.

Fined For Fighting

Charged with fighting with Elmer Golka near the sale barn Wednesday night, Richard Fitzgibbons was brought before Judge John L. Andersen Thursday and fined $5.00 and costs.
