Sudden Death Of Joseph H. Capron Shock To Friends

Ord Man Was Nebraska's Oldest Active Abstracter; Heart Attack Caused Death.

Joseph H. Capron, 79, last person still living in Valley county who set foot in the Loup valley as early as 1874, is dead. He passed away shortly after the noon hour Saturday, Nov. 2 at his home in Ord. Sitting in his favorite chair he was restfully reading a newspaper to his wife while she did the noon-day dishes. All at once he stopped reading in the middle of a sentence, Mrs. Capron heard him gasp and ran to his assistance only to find that he had died.

Three years ago Mr. Capron suffered an attack of pneumonia, first illness of his life. At that time doctors feared he would not recover but he rallied and within a few months had regained his former robust health. He was warned of a heart lesion, however, and it was from a sudden heart attack that he died Saturday.

Oldest Ord Business Man.

Oldest active abstracter in Nebraska, oldest Ord business man in point of years of continuous service, Mr. Capron's loss will be sincerely and genuinely mourned.

On Dec. 27, 1933, in response to repeated requests by his wife and children, Joseph H. Capron prepared a brief record of his life's activities and this record was found among his personal papers after his death. From it the Quiz is privileged to print the following: "My name is Joseph Henry Capron and our family records indicate that my birth occurred near Beloit, Wis., on Sept. 14, 1856. My parents were Elias S. Capron and Clarissa B. Capron, and I was fifth in a family of six children. I am the only survivor.

Worked For $3 Weekly.

"When I was about five years old the family moved to the town of Durand, in Illinois, where I attended school, graduating in 1872, and a little later in the year going to Freeport, Ill., to learn the printing business in the Freeport Journal office where my weekly wage was from $3 at first to $4.50 in 1874.

"Early in September, 1874, my elder brother, who was an army officer, sent for me to come to Nebraska and work for the government. I waited at Grand Island several days and then my brother came for me, and we drove a 4-mule ambulance through St. Paul and up the valley of the North Loup river to Bean creek where C. company of the 9th Infantry was in camp. War department officials had selected a site there on which to build an army post which was later named Fort Hart-suff.

8,000 Indians Too Many.

"My first work was as receiving clerk for the building materials being brought there. This lasted until the end of that year when I was promoted to Quartermaster's clerk at a salary of $125 monthly. My brother was the Quartermaster. I remained at the work until the post was nearly completed in November, 1875, when I went to Camp Sheridan in southwestern Dakota to take a similar job under Lieut. Hayden Delany of the 9th Infantry. Spotted Trail agency was a mile from our camp and when over 8,000 Indians gathered at the agency for the supplies furnished to them by the government the night was too much for my tender years and I resigned and returned to Durand.

"I worked in the Rockford Gazette office several months and in the early spring went to Manitowoc, Wis., where I was foreman of the printing office and editor of the Manitowoc Pilot, a democratic sheet owned by Ten Evck G. Olmstead, the county judge. On the death of the owner in the early spring of 1878 I gave up the Pilot job and returned to Rockford, working two months on the Rockford Journal. Early in May, 1878, a message from my brother called me to Cheyenne, Wyo., where I became a Quartermaster's agent and accompanied an outfit of some 600 soldiers and 35 citizen employees on an expedition to southeastern Montana where a summer camp was established on the Little Missouri river, ours being the middle camp of three employed in keeping.

Turkey Meeting At Schudels Nov. 12th

Much interest in turkey raising was aroused last week by a feature story, with photographs, published by the Quiz about Wm. Schudel, of Riverdale, and his success in turkey raising. Mr. Schudel raised 490 turkeys to maturity from a flock of 527 poults, and gives credit to modern methods for his success.

Next Tuesday, Nov. 12, a demonstration on turkey raising will be conducted at the Schudel farm by J. L. Cleburn, poultry expert from the University of Nebraska. All Valley and Greeley county farmers interested in turkey raising are invited to attend. Farm bureaus of both counties sponsor the meeting.

Loup Valley Saw Him First In 1874

JOSEPH H. CAPRON.
In 1874, on his 18th birthday, Joe Capron came to the Loup valley to become a quartermaster's clerk with the army detachment stationed at Bean Creek while building Fort Hart-suff. Except for four years spent in the east, this region was Mr. Capron's home until death claimed him Saturday, Nov. 2 at the age of 79. He was Ord's oldest business man and the oldest abstracter in Nebraska.

District Offices For Shelter Belt Are Opened in Ord

John Haskell To Be Office Manager, F. M. Hestbek As District Chief.

District offices for the shelter belt program in seven counties including Valley, Garfield, Blaine, Loup, Sherman, Greeley and Howard were opened in the old State bank building in Ord last week. John H. Haskell has been employed as office manager and will be in charge.

F. M. Hestbek, junior forester, supervises shelter belt work in this district from the Ord office. A soil expert will make periodic visits here, a surveying crew will work out of Ord part of the time and as the program gets under way additional clerical help will be hired.

So far eleven miles out of a desired fifty have been signed up for shelter belt planting in Valley county, Haskell says. Farmers are showing much interest in the program and it is thought fifty miles or more can be signed up here without difficulty. Planting will begin next spring.

Any farmer interested in having trees planted on his land at federal expense, with certain financial benefits to him, is advised to visit the district office for information.

Two Men Fined For Giving Bad Checks

Two farmers of the Ord community, James F. Jablonski and James Koziol, were fined in Valley county court this week on charges of giving no-fund checks and Sheriff George Round says the wave of no-check writing now in force does not stop more prosecutions will follow.

For giving a $10 no-fund check to Phillip Wentek, of Elyria, Jablonski was fined $10 and costs Monday, also being ordered to make good the check. Tuesday Koziol was fined $15.00 and costs for a bad check he gave to Joe Loh, of Ord. Costs in each case totalled $6.13, County Judge Anderson says.

District 30 School Terrorized By Black Widows

Add to the trials and tribulations of school teaching, the horror of black widow spiders, which have been causing trouble at District 30 school, taught by Mildred Hardy. Two weeks ago a nest was located and the school director, Frank Ryhlin, was summoned to smoke them out. Last week several more were found and Mr. Ryhlin was again called. This time he took along a gasoline blow-torch and went over the whole school house, killing ten mature spiders, many little ones and destroying many eggs and webs. It is now believed that the black widow menace is ended at District 30.

Education Week Begins Mond'y With Armistice Program

Public Invited to Attend All Convocations and Special Events Nov. 11 to 15.

An evening of classes and special demonstrations, convocations sponsored by community organizations at both buildings, and special invitations to patrons for visitation during the week of November 11-15 will feature the Ord observance of American Education Week. This national movement is directed toward the better interpretation of the school for the community. All parents and friends of the Ord schools are urged to attend "open house" next Tuesday evening, November 12, the special convocations during the week, and some part of the regular school week.

Evening rProgram Tuesday.

The Tuesday evening program, beginning at 7:30, will include the regular fourth and fifth period high school classes in thirty minute periods. These classes will be planned as regular work, and will demonstrate the ordinary procedure of the modern classroom. Following the school work, a series of special demonstrations will be presented in the auditorium, concluding with a talk by C. Ray Gates, superintendent of schools at Grand Island.

Convocations, beginning at one o'clock, will be presented at the high school Monday by the American Legion, on Wednesday by the P. E. O., on Thursday by the Woman's club, and on Friday by the chamber of commerce. The Legion program Monday will be in observance of Armistice day and will include a talk by Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., and music by the Legion chorus.

Norman Will Speak.

Special observances at the south school will include a convocation by the P. E. O., an address by Ralph W. Norman, and a program by the fifth and sixth grades' English classes. Rooms will have exhibits and special demonstrations, and all parents are invited to attend some classes during the week. The public is cordially invited to visit the schools during the week of November 11-15. American Education week will accomplish its purpose of creating a better understanding between the school and its patrons in regard to educational problems and accomplishments only if the community will accept this invitation to see the school in action.

Supervisors Send Members To Urge Old Age Pensions

Visit Legislature Today, Will Offer Local Board's Idea; Business Transacted.

The Valley county board of supervisors, in session Tuesday, decided to send a committee to Lincoln today to urge upon Senator H. D. Leggett and Rep. Ruth O. Cushing passage of a social security act that will deal fairly with counties as impoverished as Valley county is at the present time. The committee, which was composed of Chairman S. V. Hansen, Supervisors J. A. Barber, Joe Jablonski, Ellsworth Ball and Henry Desmull, drove to Lincoln yesterday morning.

First Pension Granted.

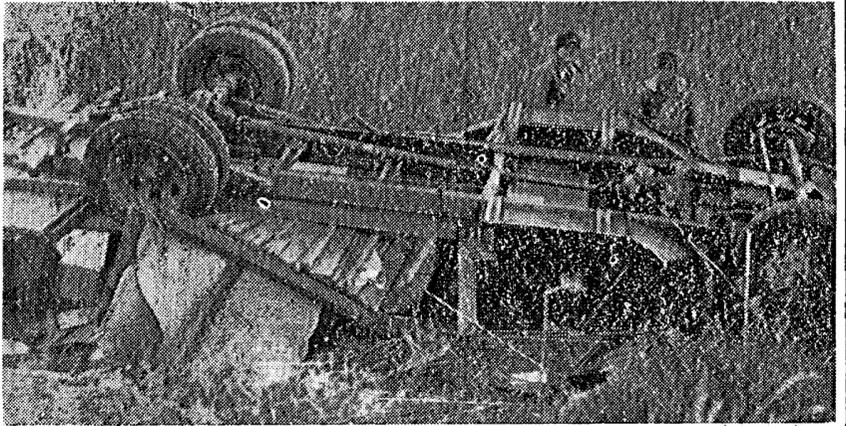

The first mother's pension ever granted in Valley county was given by the board to Mrs. Mary Klanecky, the pension being $7.50 per month. This is the first year Valley county has made a levy for mother's pensions and money raised will total only about $50 per month, so few pensions can be granted from this fund.

Supervisors instructed County Engineer Stromborg to lay off all office help and otherwise save as much money as possible in his department during winter months. Otherwise, only routine business was transacted and the board adjourned early.

Anton Nevrlka To Sell.

Sunday Anton Nevrlka and family returned from Lafayette, Ind., where they have been living since last March, and next Tuesday, in the farm of his brother, John, on the Ord-Comstock highway, Anton will sell his livestock and farm machinery preparatory to quitting farming. Then he will return to Lafayette to work in one of the grocery stores managed by his brother-in-law, H. J. Pesha, who formerly lived in Ord.

Peterson Truck Demolished in 25-Foot Fall Off Chalk Hills Grade, Driver Wades For Medical Aid

Here is the Reo truck owned by K. W. Peterson of Burwell, as it was found Saturday morning after going off a 25-foot bank the night before. Box and cab were demolished but the truck's cargo was practically undamaged. Jimmy Ward, driver, suffered a bad cut over one eye. This picture was taken by H. E. Jones, staff photographer.

Jimmy Ward Falls Asleep, Near-Fatal Accident Results

Clement Heads Searching Party, Finds Truck Overturned In Deep Chalk Hill Canyon.

North Loup, Nov. 5.—(Special)—His face covered with blood and his clothing soaked from wading in the river, Jimmy Ward of Burwell appeared at the "Doc" Burton farm south of Scotia Friday night.

"Can you let me wash my face here?" he asked, "there's something on it."

Mr. Burton promptly took him to Scotia for medical treatment and there learned that he was the driver of a Reo truck owned by K. W. Peterson of Burwell, which had slipped off a 25-foot bank into a deep canyon in the Chalk Hills near Jack creek.

Think Sleep Was Cause.

Young Ward had loaded his truck at the cheese factory here a short time before and then left with his load for Omaha. Near Jack creek he is thought to have fallen asleep, with the accident resulting.

After the truck crashed young Ward crawled from the wreck and, not seeing the lights of a farm house across the river, waded across to seek assistance. He was dazed from the scalp wound, which required seven stitches to close.

Following Jimmy was his brother, Guy, in another truck owned by Peterson. The two trucks were supposed to meet at St. Paul and Guy proceeded there without noticing the wrecked truck in the deep canyon.

Clement Finds Truck.

After arriving at St. Paul Guy Ward secured a car and drove back to North Loup to seek his brother. H. H. Clement headed a searching party that soon found the truck by noticing a couple of guard rail posts broken off.

Followed a frenzied search for Jimmy Ward, who was finally found in the doctor's office at Scotia and sent to his home at Burwell. His injuries did not prove serious.

Almost incredible as it sounds the truck's cargo was not greatly damaged and was transported to Omaha the next day by Guy Ward. The wrecked truck was brought here for repairs.

Mrs. Theron Beehrle Died Tuesday Night

About 8:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 5 Mrs. Theron Beehrle passed away at her home in Ord after a long period of ill health. She was 61 years old. Funeral services will be held at Sow's chapel at 2:00 p. m., Friday, Nov. 8 with Rev. Mearl C. Smith and Rev. Mammie Young in charge. The obituary is not available this week.

Football Team, Band, Will Go To Lincoln

Saturday morning over 100 high school band members and the Ord football squad will go to Lincoln where they will attend the Nebraska-Kansas football game. Cars will be driven by Ord business men and the groups will be admitted to the game at a reduced price. Twenty drivers have thus far expressed their willingness to drive down and two more cars are needed. Driving cars are Emil Berges, E. C. James, P. J. Mella, Coach H. F. Brockman, E. G. Cowell, R. N. Rose, J. A. Kovanda, Archie Keep, Mrs. C. A. Hitchman, Mrs. J. H. Jirak, L. D. Milliken, William Sack, Edwin Clements, Guy LeMasters, F. A. Barta, H. N. Norris, Dean S. Duncan, Alfred A. Weigardt, E. A. Vogelanz and M. D. Bell.

Goose Flight On, Shotkoski Kills 3 in Rye Field

Big Canada geese, most prized of all waterfowl by nmrods, have been flying this past week and several have been killed locally. To Frank Shotkoski, of Noble township, goes the honor of killing three of the big migrators Sunday afternoon. A flock of 11 lit in his rye field, Mr. Shotkoski crawled toward them, arose and shot three times, having the pleasure of seeing three fall. One weighed 10½ pounds, another 9 and the third 8. Many neighbors visited the Shotkoski home Sunday evening to see the geese, as few are killed away from river bottom farms.

Dean Barta also killed a goose last Thursday while hunting with his father, Dr. F. A. Barta, and probably there have been others killed of which the Quiz has not heard.

Duck hunting has been the best in several years for the past week, several limit kills of northern mallards and blue-bills having been made. If warmer weather comes Ord sportsmen believe hunting will continue good for some time; if it continues cold the flight is about over for this year.

New W. P. A. Office For Five Counties Is Opened In Ord

H. Dale Park Project Engineer In Charge; 4 Projects Now In Progress Here.

A branch WPA office for Valley, Loup, Wheeler, Garfield and Greeley counties is being opened this week in the Valley county court house, H. Dale Park being the project engineer in charge. Mr. Park was transferred here from Garfield county. He will be assisted in the office by Joe Johns.

The WPA program is just getting under way but already four projects employing 51 men are in progress here. Two other projects have been approved and fourteen more have been submitted for approval.

Activities of the relief office, headed by Frank Krumi, the re-employment office, headed by K. W. Broich, and the WPA office, headed by Mr. Park, will be coordinated in the new program.

To secure PWA labor a man must first present himself at the relief office for certification by Mr. Krumi, his card then going to the files of the reemployment office. Then, as labor is needed on WPA projects, it is requisitioned from the reemployment office.

Sponsors Pay Foreman.

Relief labor is paid for out of federal WPA funds but the wages of foremen, truck drivers and teamsters are paid by sponsors of the project, either township or county. Non-relief foremen having charge of the four projects now under way are Julius Jensen, F. W. Franzen, C. A. Roby and Andrew Kusek.

WPA laborers work 136 hours per month each, wage for unskilled labor being $32 as provided by the federal relief act. Intermediate labor is paid $38 per month, skilled labor $44 and professional labor $48.

The plan is to carry out the projects as labor is available, thereby distributing the program over the fall, winter and spring months.

Old-Time Yarn Omitted.

Because of lack of space the old-time story written by W. A. Anderson has to be omitted this week. It will be printed next week.

No Cold Oven For Mrs. Cornforth In Baking Angel Food

Tells Women at Omar School To Bake It for 45 Minutes at 350 Degrees F. Perfect!

A Masonic hall full of women listened eagerly to Mrs. Ida Cornforth Friday afternoon as she declared that angel food cake bakes perfectly at 350 degrees F. for 45 minutes, and revealed many other fascinating cookery secrets and shortcuts. Mrs. Cornforth, culinary expert, conducted a baking school in Ord under the auspices of the Farmers Grain & Supply company, on behalf of Omar Wonder Flour.

The large crowd, about twice as many as were planned for, could not be seated. Alises were jammed and Mrs. Cornforth and Mr. Murphy, who aided, early ran out of the recipe sheets which were given out free of charge along with other information and advice of Mrs. Cornforth. The crowd liked Mrs. Cornforth's gay manner of making fun of herself as she stirred up angel food, yellow cake with baked icing, filled date cookies, and other delicacies, using Omar Wonder Flour in them in place of more expensive prepared cake flour.

Gives Away Cakes.

At the end of the afternoon names were drawn to see what fortunate listeners won the prizes, in this case the prizes being the good things prepared by Mrs. Cornforth. The demonstrator told that at the last Iowa State Fair 149 out of 186 prize winning baked entries were made with the flour for which she is campaigning, Omar Wonder Flour.

Electrical devices and kitchen equipment arranged for the school were furnished through the courtesy of the Ord City Light and Water Department, Aulse Brothers, Farmers Grain & Supply Company. Miss Dorothy Allen assisted Mrs. Cornforth with her task. Those attending were delighted with the school and felt that the afternoon had been most profitably spent at the cooking school, the first to be held in Ord in several years.

Mrs. Timmerman Is Given Divorce

District court was in session here Monday with Judge Ernest Kroger, of Grand Island, on the bench but although it was the regular fall jury term no jury was called. Instead, most of the court's time was occupied with foreclosure and moratorium matters. There are 167 cases on the Valley county docket, of which 112 are foreclosure cases, says Alfred E. Weigardt, clerk of the district court.

Two divorce cases were heard by Judge Kroger Monday. The first was the suit of Mrs. Perry Timmerman and she was granted an absolute divorce with a $30 settlement from her husband in lieu of alimony. Custody of the two minor children was granted to Mr. and Mrs. Herman Timmerman, parents of the defendant.

In another case Mrs. Alma R. Day, former Miss Alma Owens was granted a divorce from her husband, Bernard Day, who lives in New York State.

District court was adjourned until December 9.

Will Open Beauty Shop.

Mrs. Leo Johnson will open the Elite Beauty Shop in the east part of the Benjamin barber shop, Saturday, Nov. 9. Mrs. Johnson has been an operator for the past eight years and is a graduate of both a Denner and a Lincoln school of cosmetology.

Wants 'Streamline Model' Fair In '36; Auto Races Dead?

Col. Weller Tells Stockholders People's Taste Changing, Thinks Races Should Go.

Advocating a radical change in the type of entertainment to be offered at the Valley county fair in 1936, E. C. Weller was the surprise speaker at the annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society held at the city hall in Ord Monday afternoon.

Auto races should be abandoned, afternoon entertainment should be restricted to the exhibits, judging, etc., with no admission charged, and the night programs each day should be composed of musical revues or similar modern amusement, Col. Weller believes.

"Auto races will not prove popular enough if repeated in 1936 to be a profitable feature," Weller told stockholders.

Says Taste Changing.

He cited the taste of films now being shown as compared to those of six or eight years ago to prove that people's taste in entertainment is changing and concluded with a plea for the Valley county fair to "keep up with the procession."

Col. Weller was one of the men active in starting auto racing at the Ord fair and served several years as race superintendent.

While taking no definite action toward deciding on what to do about the fair next year, officers and directors will welcome comments from the public. Should auto races be abandoned and a different type of program substituted or should the track be improved and races continued? Officers want to know how the public feels about it.

Mrs. Cushing Seated In Nebr. Legislature

Last Friday Mrs. Ruth O. Cushing, of Ord, widow of the late Marion J. Cushing, was seated as 77th district representative in the lower house of the Nebraska legislature. Appointed Thursday by Governor Cochran, she was confirmed at once by the House and thereby became the fifth woman member of that body this term.

Appointment of Mrs. Cushing brought to an end the Davis-Hardenbrook controversy. Both gentlemen expressed themselves as being well pleased with the appointment.

To Have Open House.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMullen, sr., of Burwell, will hold open house at their home on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 10, from 2:00 to 5:00 in honor of their 50th wedding anniversary. Their friends are cordially invited to call without further invitation. First couple to be married at a church wedding in Ord, the McMullens lived here several years in early days. Mrs. A. W. Tunnichliff, of Ord, is their daughter.

Ord Girl Hit By Car Only Slightly Injured

Marjorie Woolery, 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woolery was injured last Saturday morning when she was struck by a car driven by Arthur Lange. The accident occurred as the girl was crossing the pavement by the Claude Romana home on her way home.

Crossing the street, she did not notice the approaching car until it was almost upon her and because of the icy pavement, the driver was unable to stop in time to avoid striking the girl. She suffered a large gash on the forehead and several minor cuts and bruises but was not seriously injured. She was taken to the Romanas home where Dr. F. A. Barta restored her to consciousness and cared for the wound.

Radio Interference Will Be Eliminated

The electric department of the city of Ord has secured the services of a trained engineer, Mr. Field of Hastings, who is here this week with equipment specially designed to locate the sources of electric interference with the business district. Radio is under way to eliminate all radio interference in the city.

It is contrary to city ordinance for anybody to have apparatus that creates interference with radio reception but so far this ordinance never has been enforced. After Mr. Field has located all interference and given advice as to its correction, the city proposes to enforce its ordinance.

Material will be at hand so that local electricians may correct any apparatus found to be creating interference, say city officers, such material and the labor of installing it to be paid for by owners of such offending apparatus. Cooperation with Mr. Field is asked of every Ord resident.

—Mr. and Mrs. Soren Jensen of Blair are the parents of a baby boy born last Wednesday.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz:

Well, I have been politicking for a week, which is a new experience for me, as you readers know. You also know that being here was not my idea. I did not seek the job. I said, when the matter was proposed to me, that in my opinion, no new, inexperienced member would be able to accomplish much for the district. I thought the pay and mileage might pay the expense if the special session didn't last more than two weeks. I am now convinced that if I stay here more than two weeks, I will do so at my own expense, for to stay that long is going to cost all I will get. I find many who think we will be here much longer than two weeks. I could live much cheaper by getting a private room but I would not be as much in touch with the other legislators, for I don't have the nerve to take up room around the hotel lobby and spend my money outside. I think I am going to enjoy the work and shall try to vote on controversial matters, as I think will be for the best interest of the people of the 23rd district.

Thinking that some may be interested in having access to the Senate File and Journal, I am having three copies sent, one to Ign. Klima, Jr., at the office of the county clerk and one to the Arcadian and one to the Loyalist. This should give any one in Valley county a chance to watch the senate proceedings. I have also had copies sent to central points over the district, and the newspapers of where they may be found. I shall be very glad to hear from any interested voter, his views on any matter coming before the session. I think the Davis-Hardenbrook controversy has been most happily settled by the naming of Mrs. Cushing.

I hope some good may come to the Middle and North Loup projects, from the adoption of the resolution, which will be found on another page. This resolution was prepared by Mr. Davis when he thought he was going to serve in the house. When he was not seated he arranged to have it introduced over there and I introduced it in the Senate. I find a lot of sentiment here for both of our projects. The feeling seems to be that our projects are the most feasible of any of the proposed projects.

I had quite a battle with the Missus to get her to come with me but she finally came and I think she is enjoying her stay here.

Two senate files, one and two, were voted on this morning. They were both Omaha bills and both were killed. My vote was to kill by indefinite postponement. I voted that way because both of these bills provided that county boards might issue bonds without the people having a chance to vote on the matter. I am strong in the belief that the people who have to pay the bonds later shall have the say as to whether they shall be issued. Anyone interested further in what these two bills stood for, can easily read them by calling on Mr. Klima.

So far this is a mighty easy job. We meet at 10 a. m., go through the routine and adjourn, sometimes till 2 p. m., when we meet again and shortly adjourn until 10 a. m. the next day. Sometimes we are recessed for an hour to take care of some matter that is coming up. As soon as we get more bills over here there will be more work and I suspect that we will be plenty busy beginning next week. One thing, the new members are finding out is that they will need a lot of coaching before they know much about the work here. I am also finding the older members very nice and helpful. All one has to do is to be a bit modest, use his eyes a lot and his mouth very little (fortalking) and in the course of time he will be able to do his part of the work.

Something DIFFERENT

Writing from Askov, Minnesota, a young lady named Magdaline Abrahamson says she wants very much to come to Ord and work. Handy at office or housework she wants to know whether there are any jobs in Ord. Any spare jobs at your office or home?

I think there are plenty of capable people in Ord waiting for every job that can be created here in the next few months. I don't think Ord has more unemployed than other places, but neither does it have any less unemployment than the average town this size.

Probably a number of the ladies attending the demonstration of Omar Wonder flour noticed that Mrs. Ida Cornforth very much resembled an Ord woman famous for good cooking—Mrs. Festus Williams.

Over near Ansley my brother-in-law, Dr. Clyde Wilcox, bossed at a triple birthday party about ten days ago when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Hemphill became the parents of triplets. The triplets were named Rita Mae, Rena Marie, and Russell Lee, listed eldest first.

The biggest and fattest one, Rena Marie, has had quite a struggle. Though she weighed five pounds at birth she couldn't eat and had to have a tube poked in her stomach. Then she had no rectal opening. To date she has had two operations and two blood transfusions. She will probably have to have some more operations, but as she now acts like a normal new baby, spending all her hours sleeping except those devoted to eating. She is going to pull through O. K. due to the personal supervision of Clyde and Ethelyn, who took her home, fed her every two hours, as well as doing many other things to make her happy.

The other little girl, Rita Mae, is a little beauty. She and Russell are thriving like a couple of baby pigs. Three pounders at birth, they are rosy and sassy, while the five pound one is now so tiny—her arms as big as one of my fingers, for instance. But she's gaining.

Oлга Vodehnal was the nurse who washed and dressed these triplets and she got a great kick out of that, incidentally.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week. Joe Knezacek resumed his duties as U. P. depot agent after a short vacation. During his absence Emil Chotena was in charge. While visiting in Ord Mrs. Moss told friends that she had sold her restaurant in Burwell to a Mrs. Barker and planned to open a dressmaking shop.

Ed Stewart, one of the pioneers of Valley county, died at the home of his son-in-law, Claude Thomas. Mrs. Clark Lambertson went to Orange, Calif., for a visit, expecting to be joined by her husband in a few weeks. The annual party of the Ord Women's club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Blessing, 38 being present. Madams Taylor and Dunham composed the entertainment committee; Madams Daniels, Jones and Davis on the refreshment committee.

H. E. Babcock, formerly of North Loup, was married in Chicago to Miss Beryl Martin of New York City.

25 Years Ago This Week. The entire republican state ticket was elected, Aldrich being chosen governor over Dahlman by a margin of 25,000 votes. In the county race Claude Davis was chosen county attorney without opposition and M. E. McClellan defeated S. J. Botts for the state legislature by a majority of 223. Valley county gave J. A. Ollis, Jr., a majority of 351 over M. L. Fries for state senator.

Dora Nelson tripped on her back porch and her both legs quite badly. It was a couple of days before neighbors learned her plight, during which period she suffered greatly but after that she was tenderly cared for. People of the Garnick neighborhood gave a big reception for Rev. H. C. Barrett, new pastor for the Ord circuit.

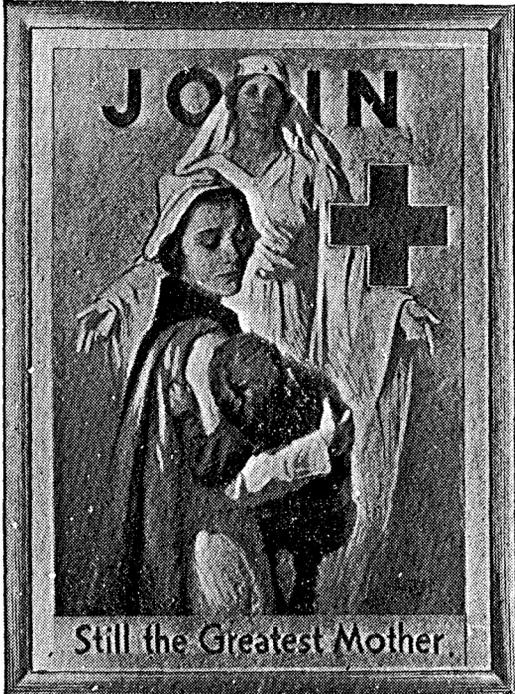

A band was organized at Elyria with a membership of 20. Arthur Wheeler was chosen president and W. M. Costello leader. Other officers were Jack Dodge, Frank Bartos, Lloyd Wheeler, Fritz Wetgardt and Will Fischer. Instruments were ordered.

1935 Red Cross Poster

THE compelling appeal of the most famous of Red Cross world war posters has been adapted by the distinguished artist Lawrence Wilbur in the 1935 Red Cross roll call poster.

"The Greatest Mother in the World" was the title given to the original creation of Alonzo Earl Foringer, eminent mural artist and illustrator of New York. The poster gave the keynote of the Second war fund drive of the Red Cross, and millions of copies were distributed throughout the nation.

In submitting a design for the 1935 poster, Wilbur, who has painted a number of posters for the Red Cross, placed the shadow, herolo figure of mercy in the background, with the practical Red Cross nurse succoring a sick and wounded child in the foreground. "Still the Greatest Mother" is his title.

The posters are distributed through 3,700 Red Cross chapters and 9,000 branches in an appeal to every man and woman to join as a member during the annual roll call.

BACK FORTY

City children generally have the advantage of better milk to drink than their country cousins. It is one of the reasons why city youngsters suffer less from tuberculosis. The latest development along this line for urban kiddies is "homogenized" milk. When milk is homogenized, it is put through a machine which mixes the cream so thoroughly with the milk that it cannot rise to the top. There is no cream line.

Polks wishing to use cream separately would prefer milk with a cream line, but if milk for drinking is not homogenized, the lucky child who receives the first glass of each bottle may get most of the cream unless the bottle is carefully shaken. And shaking the bottle has to be long and thorough to mix the cream with the skim milk.

It is a mistake for any farmer who owns a cow to sell a pint of milk or a pound of butter before his children, his wife and himself have milk to drink every day and cream and butter to eat at every meal. Rickets, bow legs, and poor teeth in children result from not using milk.

A man's family is worth more than a few gallons of milk. Sometimes the milk money has to be used to pay doctor bills for the family, sick because they had to do without dairy products. Those who are so anxious to get the cream can full that they compel their own boys and girls to eat counterfeit butter, are depriving them of the best food on earth and one for which there is no substitute.

ing the Indians out of the Black Hills. We had no trouble with the Indians and I enjoyed the summer.

Worked at Fort Hartsuff. Our outfit built a military telegraph line from our camp to Deadwood, some 77 miles, and late in October started on the return trip to Cheyenne. When in camp at Chugwater, about half-way between Laramie and Cheyenne, an order came sending our cavalry, with 400 pack mules and 30 six-mule wagons with supplies for the cavalry, to Fort Robinson, in Nebraska, to check the movement of the Cheyenne Indians from Indian territory to the Black Hills.

I was sent along to care for quartermaster's property, and remained there about five weeks before being relieved. Then I was sent to Fort Hartsuff to close up the accounts for the past summer, which occupied my time until the end of 1878.

"In January, 1879, I bought the little printing office belonging to Henry W. Nelson, at Ord, where he had been publishing the Valley County Courier, and I changed its name to the Valley County Journal. In March following, fire destroyed the office, only the press being saved. A new outfit was soon obtained and publication of the paper was resumed. Ord at this time had fourteen buildings.

Nominated But Lost. "Capt. Samuel Munson and Lieut. W. F. Norris, of Fort Hartsuff, bought a lot in Ord for me and a new building was erected for use as a printing office and sleeping quarters. That fall I was nominated for the office of county clerk but failed to make it, —a blessing in disguise.

"In 1882 Charles C. Wolf, of Freeport, Ill., bought an interest in the printing office and we worked together until 1884, when I took over his interest in the printing business and resigned as postmaster in his favor. On July 1, 1887 I sold the printing business to Wolf, who changed the name of the paper to The Prohibition Star and nursed it along until after the election that fall, when he sold it to William W. Haskell, who absorbed it in his Ord Quiz office. Wolf worked for the Quiz for some years and then returned to Freeport.

Learned Abstracting. "Edward M. Coffin and Arthur H. Schaefer were operating a law, loan and abstract office under the firm name of E. M. Coffin & Co., and I worked for them from July 1, 1887 until in May, 1888. Peter Mortensen spent most of that summer in Europe, leaving me in charge of his office, and upon his return we became partners in the land and loan business, under the name of Mortensen & Capron, this continuing until 1893 when it was dissolved. In the meantime I was writing up a set of abstract books from the county records, for myself, a job continuing until this day.

In this modest fashion does Mr. Capron chronicle a life that was distinguished for honesty, perseverance, hard work, probity and singleness of purpose. He does not relate how on Febr. 15, 1884 he was united in marriage to Miss Mary R. Ramsey, herself the daughter of a pioneer family who came to the Loup valley in covered wagons in 1878. The ceremony was performed in a sod house on the old Ramsey homestead 12 miles west of Ord, the place now occupied by Anton Norway. Rev. Wm. Wilson, then pastor of the Methodist church in Ord, performed the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Capron spent 53 years of happy married life together, celebrating their 50th anniversary in 1932 with a reception attended by a host of friends from all over the Loup valley region.

Leaves 5 Grandchildren. The two children of the Caprons, Hazel, now the wife of Fred W. Coe, and Arthur, who was associated in business with his father during the last several years of his life, grew to womanhood and manhood in Ord and were sources of constant help and inspiration to their parents. These two, with five grandchildren, Capron, Marjorie and Eve'yn Coe and Joe and David Capron, are left to comfort the bereaved widow.

Funeral services for Mr. Capron were held at 2:00 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 6, at the Methodist church with Rev. S. A. Woodruff, Jr., pastor of the Ord Presbyterian church, conducting. The deceased was a life-long member and supporter of this church.

Two hymns that Mr. Capron especially loved, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "Peace Be Unto Thee," were sung by a male quartet composed of Dr. F. L. Blessing, E. H. Petty, Edgar Mower and Edwin Clements, accompanied at the pipe organ by Mrs. Alvin Mazac. "Some Morning" was sung by Mrs. Mark Tolen, soprano soloist, with accompaniment by Mrs. Mazac.

Palbearers included R. C. Frey, C. A. Lager, H. B. VanDecar, Frank Koupal, Dr. C. J. Miller, Bert M. Hardenbrook, Dr. G. W. Taylor and John Connor and there was a large group of honorary palbearers, Wm. Bartlett, W. A. Anderson, H. D. Stowell, Fred Kuehl, sr., Ed Munn, Haws Timmerman, J. G. Hastings, D. A. Wooser, John Moudry, A. S. Purcell, George Pratt, R. J. Clark, H. G. Burson, Frank Glover, F. J. Dworak, sr., Albert King, Chas. Stiehler, Clarence Blessing, Joe Bartos, Anton Bartunek, Nels Johnson, Gust Rose, James Misko, Chas. Leonard, Wm. Moses, G. W. Noll, all of Ord, George Johnson and Ches Chinn, of North Loup, Wm. McMullen, of Burwell, G. W. McNulty of Scotia, C. O. Rettenmayer, George Hastings and P. W. Round of Arcadia.

A long procession including many cars from elsewhere followed the hearse to Ord cemetery, where interment was made. Crowd attending services in the church was estimated at 600, nearly all of whom were long-time personal friends of Mr. Capron, and floral offerings were many and beautiful. Ord business houses closed during the funeral.

So passes a man who was in many respects Ord's best known citizen. Though Mr. Capron never sought public office and was modest, quiet and self-effacing throughout his long life, he numbered his friends by the thousands and his quiet smile and cheerful words of greeting were cherished by business acquaintances and friends. With W. A. Anderson of Ord and G. W. McNulty of Scotia he shared the honor of being a repository of local historical lore, of which he never tired of talking. To his memory all honor and respect.

Bay of Fundy Power Religion Aids Mussolini Cheap Eggs for Soldiers Government Railroads?

Governor Brann of Maine is unwilling to share expenses, and President Roosevelt may drop the Passamaquoddy power project. That would be a national misfortune. While spending billions so freely, it would seem worth while to spend thirty-six little millions to harness the gigantic tide power in the Bay of Fundy.

Development of that project would supply the whole state of Maine with power and industrial prosperity and pay for itself.

To allow the vast power of one of the highest tides on earth to continue going to waste would be as foolish as it would be to cease using the power of Niagara.

In Milan, Cardinal Schuster, celebrating mass for those that died in the Fascist march on Rome, indorses earnestly Mussolini's invasion of Ethiopia, praising "the valiant army which, in intrepid obedience to the command of their fatherland at the price of their blood, open the doors of Ethiopia to the Catholic faith and the civilization of Rome.

Also, according to Associated Press, the cardinal praised Fascism as "promising the national morally wished by the Catholic church."

Italian soldiers in Ethiopia, much surprised, can buy as many fresh eggs as they want at ridiculously low prices.

Ethiopians will not eat eggs—their religion forbids them to devour "that which might have life in the future," but they are willing to sell the eggs to the Italian soldiers and let them imperil their immortal souls by "devouring future life" if they choose.

Ethiopian tribesmen have no scruples about eating the chicken, once it is hatched, which shows that religious scruples take interesting forms. What about the "future life" that the hen might have produced?

Railway labor unions plan a Washington lobby, to promote government purchase and operation of railroads. Owners of some railroads would gladly share the expense of that lobby if they could sell their railroads at a fair price.

Running a railroad in competition with automobiles, motor buses and trucks is like running a legitimate hotel in competition with night clubs and other former speakeasies.

Russia is a successful spy hunter, having convicted on the average one every six hours, according to "Collier's."

If, in Russia, you are convicted of spying, no second conviction is ever necessary or possible.

These 10,000 spies, to earn their money, must keep international suspicion alive, and that helps to keep war alive.

Rejoicing in the fact that "the 13 years of the Fascist regime have not passed in vain, and the world of plutocratic and conservative egotisms is obliged to take note of this," Mussolini denounces League of Nations sanctions aimed at him as "a preposterous crime destined to increase disorder and distress in every country."

Pan-American Air Lines asks air travelers: "Shall we serve cocktails to passengers?"

The answer should be emphatically "no." First, the average cocktail is unfit for any stomach, except perhaps that of a carion-eating hyena; second, it has been proved more than once that alcohol and flying do not mix well.

The President inspected "fortifications" of the Panama canal, returning from the Pacific to the Atlantic.

Unfortunately there are no fortifications on the Panama canal. The canal depends on its locks and they, open to attack from the air, could easily be destroyed. No engineer will deny that.

The way to have a "fortified" canal is to build one at sea level. In these spending days that might be done now, through Nicaragua.

Uncle Sam would have something to show for his money more substantial than groups of weary gentlemen "raking leaves."

There is encouragement in the fact that "regular jobs" not the artificial made-to-order kind, are increasing. Three hundred and fifty thousand men were hired in September, and payrolls for September are $12,000,000 a week above August.

Warner Brothers' successful production of "A Midsummer Night's Dream," under the direction of Max Reinhardt, proves courage and sound business judgment.

The picture is a financial as well as an artistic success, greater by far than any recent Shakespearean stage production with living actors.

North Loup high school's "Colonel Corns" met defeat against Taylor high school at the local field last Friday by a score of 13 to 0. Coach Thorpe's boys were handicapped somewhat by Schudel and Zanger being out due to injuries. At the start it looked like they might do something but late in the first quarter Taylor got the ball and went for the first touchdown and another one in the second quarter. Nothing seemed to be working right for the home boys that day, while Taylor was clicking on every play. In the last half Schudel went in for a little while and the boys opened up somewhat but not enough to do themselves any good and at the final gun the score still remained Taylor 13, North Loup 0.

Roberta Chase Wed To Lloyd H. Parks

At a quiet wedding, solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chase of Loup City, Miss Roberta Chase became the bride of Lloyd Parks, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parks of Ord, Saturday eve. Rev. Harwood, Presbyterian minister at Loup City, officiated at the ceremony.

The bride was informally dressed in a green afternoon gown and was unattended. A simple affair, only members of the bride's immediate family and the groom's parents were present. The room was attractively decorated in chrysanthemums and asters and immediately following the ceremony a wedding supper was served after which the bride and groom departed for Omaha.

The bride, a popular and charming young lady, has been associated with her sister in the management of Chase's Toggery in Ord for several years. The groom is employed by the Weiler Auction company at Atkinson, where the bride and groom will make their home next spring.

Pythian Dinner-Dance.
The Pythian Sisters and Knights of Pythias entertained a large number of guests at a covered dish dinner and dance Friday evening at the Pythian hall. Covers were laid for 77 guests at long tables attractively decorated with orange and black Hallowe'en streamers. Lighting during the dinner was afforded by lighted jack-o-lanterns which formed the centerpiece of the table. Black cats, witches, corn shocks and pumpkins completed the clever decorations which were planned by a committee consisting of Madams Mike Kosmata, Vernon Andersen, E. O. Carlson and Leonard Parks. Following the dinner, the floor was cleared for dancing and cards provided entertainment for those who did not dance.

Better Radio Reception Drive

The Electric Department of the City has secured a trained engineer with suitable equipment to locate such electrical sources as may be causing interference with radio reception.

This work will start by cleaning up the offending apparatus around the square and will later take in such parts of the residential section as may be necessary.

Material will be at hand for the local electricians to use in correcting such appliances as may be interfering—such material and labor for installing same to be paid for by the owner of the offending apparatus as provided by Ordinance of the City.

Please lend all possible co-operation to the Engineer carrying on this work.

Potatoes

On account of the heavy loss by freezing, in the Red River valley, North Dakota, Western Nebraska and Wyoming the potato market has advanced materially. The Chicago market this week is $2.00 per cwt. and other leading markets have shown an equal advance. The growers in Western Nebraska have raised the price 30c per cwt.

The second car of Kimball county dry land potatoes which I shipped in are for sale by C. A. Hager, The Farmers Store or the Food Center. We have two varieties, Cobblers and Bliss Triumphs and are all raised from certified seed. Either are choice for table use or for seed.

Miskos Return from Two Weeks In Arkansas, Says Mule Has Replaced Horse in South.

By DARLENE ANDERSON.

"We saw only one horse throughout our trip until we returned to Nebraska," say Mr. and Mrs. John Misko in telling of their experiences upon their return from a two weeks' trip to Bauxite, Ark. They explained that in Oklahoma, Tennessee and Arkansas the mule has replaced the horse almost entirely.

Leaving Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Misko made the trip by way of the Ozark mountains, which are particularly picturesque at this time of the year. Passing through Tennessee, they passed cotton plantations, some very large with imposing colonial houses and dozens of smaller dwellings nearby, occupied by the negroes who do practically all of the cotton planting, cultivating and harvesting. After arriving in Bauxite, a town of 22,000 which is made unusual by its very appearance, Mr. and Mrs. Misko were guests of the L. R. Brantling family. Mrs. Brantling is the former Louise Misko and is well known to many Ord people. Mr. Brantling is superintendent of the Bauxite mines, bauxite being the product from which aluminum is obtained. All buildings of Bauxite are painted aluminum color, an unimposing but effective way of advertising their most important industry.

Company Owns Town. The actual work of mining is done almost entirely by negroes, who labor, not by the hour, but until a set amount of work has been completed. Ore is first removed from the mines by mining cars, propelled by small engines and is taken to location, where it is crushed. It is then washed three or four times by various processes and when thoroughly cleaned is dried before being shipped, this being done to save freight expense. The dirt of the mines is of an unusual texture, soft to the touch but of such a nature that it will not crumble and care in. This is a great asset since it eliminates the use of timbers for propping. It is interesting to know that in Bauxite, and this is true of most mining towns of this territory, all buildings are owned by the company and competition of every kind is thereby eliminated. The city boasts one church, one store, one club house, one postoffice and, in fact, one of everything. There is a large community house for various entertainments and a club house where the unmarried live. Even the railroad, for about six miles out of Bauxite, is owned by the company.

Housewives of Bauxite find it impractical to buy expensive rugs, curtains and household furnishings, because bauxite dust, while very clean and fine, is quite destructive. A countless number of trinkets and oddities are manufactured from the product and Mr. and Mrs. Misko brought back with them some playing cards, identical to the ordinary card and equally flexible, but of aluminum.

Pottery Big Industry. Another important work of this section of the country is the pottery industry and it is near here that the nationally famous Camarc pottery is produced. Visiting the potteries was an interesting experience, the workers being very accommodating and unless they were too busy, the visitors were allowed to try their hand at shaping the clay into some simple article. There is an abundance of Neolox clay near the town of Benton, Ark., which is about five miles from Bauxite. In its natural form the clay is striped with blue, gray, green and rusty red, the colors varying in different localities, and is very soft and pliable. Entering the pottery, Mr. and Mrs. Misko passed through the office into the second room, devoid of everything except shelves upon which the newly molded pottery is placed. This is the drying room. Passing through a door, you enter a third room, the working shop. Occupying the center of the room is the potter's wheel, a round revolving wooden slab upon which the moulding of the clay is done. A small piece of clay is placed upon the exact center of the slab and as it turns around and around, the clay is moulded into the desired form by the deft hands of the worker, which, held perfectly still, shape the clay as the wheel turns. It is then removed from the block and is placed in the drying room where it dries for several days. It is then removed to a special building where it goes through the process of being "fired", the extreme temperature of 22,000 degrees Fahrenheit being required. Dozens of beautiful vases, pots, quaint ash trays and innumerable other articles are produced daily, the average time for an experienced worker per article being about five minutes.

Gators In Warm Barn. A sight-seeing trip to Hot Springs National park at Hot Springs, Ark., was much enjoyed. Here they saw the alligator farm, the home of about 60 alligators. At this season of the year the animals are very inactive and sluggish and just entering their fasting period which will continue for six months. During the summer time the alligators are placed on a small island which is bordered on all sides by a stream of water, about four feet wide and very deep. The animals sleep under water, and after eating crawl upon the island and sun themselves. Since they are tropical animals it is necessary during the winter months to place the animals into what might be called a barn, a warm enclosure where the animals sleep through the winter months. Most of the alligators are between seven and eight feet long and the average weight is two hundred pounds. To attain this size and weight requires from 25 to 30 years.

Another unusual feature of the trip was the visit to the ostrich farm, also at Hot Springs National park. The birds, taller by about two feet than a horse, are extremely dangerous. Even the keepers dare not venture into the ostrich pens unless armed with a rake, the only thing of which the ostrich is afraid. They have an appetite equal to that of a horse and they eat similarly, their principal food being hay. They possess great strength and it is not unusual for an ostrich to break through the heavy timbers of which their enclosure is constructed.

Bite Off An Ear. Watchers are warned to remain some distance from the pen since the bird is attracted to brilliant ornaments on clothing and have even been known to snip off an ear of some unsuspecting passer-by. The birds are valued for their plumes and each bird produces from 100 to 200 plumes every nine months. When the plumes are ready to be cut, the ostrich is herded into a pen by men protected with rakes and is then blindfolded while the work is in process. The ostriches are shipped to the United States from South America at a cost of from one to four thousand dollars and there are between 25 and 40 birds on this particular farm. The female ostrich is a light grey in color and the male is distinguished by his black feathers.

Characteristic of the people at Hot Springs is their friendliness. While walking around Mr. and Mrs. Misko were approached by a gentleman and during the course of the conversation he revealed that he was formerly a resident of Arcadia and had gone to Hot Springs twenty years previous, suffering with rheumatism. He was rapidly cured and had become so fond of the location that he decided to remain to make his home.

Returning to Ord, the Misko family came by way of Oklahoma, passing many oil wells enroute. The entire trip, they report, was made at a cost of $27, this including food, gasoline, and lodging out and back, which should induce more people to take trips.

Want Ten Years To Pay Off Feed Loans

Stockholders at the annual meeting of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society Monday unanimously passed the following resolution introduced by a committee composed of R. C. Clement, C. J. Mortensen and Ernest S. Coats:

To the governor of the Emergency Drouth Feed Loan Ass'n, Omaha, Nebr.:

"Whereas, the farmers of Valley and adjoining counties are suffering again from a partial crop failure and depleted livestock herds it is respectfully asked that their feed loans be amortized over a period of at least ten years. Therefore, it is suggested that every borrower of a feed loan use every effort to pay the interest on feed loan to Nov. 1, 1935 and that the principal be amortized into ten equal payments commencing with Nov. 1, 1938. This will enable the farmers to breed up their herds of livestock to former usefulness and to place his financial affairs in shape to provide the necessities of life for himself and his family, and to bring up his purchasing power so that all people may be benefited.

A similar resolution was introduced and passed at the District 3 meeting of the Cooperative Creamery Association in Ord last Wednesday.

Ravenna Ties Ord 6-6; Moral Victory

Playing smart, aggressive football and taking advantage of breaks, the Ravenna high school football team tied Ord 6 to 6 Friday night and thereby won a "moral victory," since on the basis of past performance Ord had been installed a heavy favorite in pregame dope. This was the first time Ord's goal line has been crossed this season.

Absence from the line-up of Quarterback Don Tunnicliff with a back injury was one factor in Ord's poor showing but lackadaisical football played by the Ord backfield was chiefly responsible. Ord's only touchdown was made on a 25-yard sprint around left end by Marks just before the third end. Early in the third quarter Ravenna tied the count and staved off the Ord attack for remainder of the game.

Ord has an open date this weekend and the boys will attend the Nebraska-Kansas game in Lincoln on Nov. 15 comes the toughest game of the year with Arcadia. Since Arcadia beat Ravenna 32 to 0 there seems little chance for the Chanticleers to do more than hold the score down, although a huge crowd of Ord fans will attend in hope that the boys will recover their early-season form and put up a good battle.

Tells Rotarians Of Loup Valley History

Miss Elizabeth Shaver, who was granted a leave of absence from her duties as history instructor in Ord high school last year to work for her Master's degree at the University of Nebraska, was speaker at the Ord Rotary club's dinner Monday evening and read excerpts from the thesis she prepared. Her subject was the history of Valley county and Miss Shaver went to all available historical records, including the files of the Quiz and other newspapers, and compiled an interesting and accurate history of this region dealing with its development from 1870 to 1934. Rotarians enjoyed her talk immensely.

Al Engles Buried Friday

Alvin Engles, 71-year-old Ord resident, passed away Tuesday, Oct. 29, at the Miller rooming house where he had been cared for during a long period of ill health and funeral services were held at Frazier's funeral parlors Friday afternoon, Rev. M. C. Smith in charge. LeRoy Frazier sang two solos, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Robert Noll.

Born in Ohio Nov. 2, 1863, Mr. Engles had lived in Ord many years but little is known about his history here as he has only one living relative, Mrs. Levi Hamilton, of LaJuna, Colo., a niece. He formerly operated a billiard parlor in Ord.

Highest Grade In Exam

LeRoy Frazier who completed a course at a Kansas City, Kas., college of embalming a few weeks ago and returned to Ord to become associated in business with his father, has received word that he passed his state board examinations with the highest average grade in a class of more than 30. His average was 93, next highest was 87.

Wants 'Streamline Model' Fair In '36; Auto Races Dead?

Charles Bals, who heads a committee appointed by directors a few weeks ago to report on cost of lengthening and widening the track, is in Excelsior Springs so his committee did not report Monday.

Expense Was $3,162.

R. Clare Clement, vice president, and S. W. Roe made the annual secretary's report showing expense of the 1935 fair, including interest on borrowed money, insurance, a payment of $200 on the mortgage and all other expenses to have been $3,162.99.

Auto races cost $2,485, largest single item of expense, premiums cost $1,293.10, printing and advertising cost $637.56, free acts $530, to mention some of the largest items.

E. R. Faletta, treasurer, reported receipts from all sources to have been $3,301.03, and the balance on hand Nov. 4 was $181.49. Still to come in is an item of $200 due Valley county from pari-mutuel racing at state fair and Ak-Sar-Ben and as soon as taxes are collected the fair will get $2,000 as its allotment from the Valley county treasurer. The fair association owes approximately $3,000, secured by a mortgage on the grounds and buildings.

Directors Re-elected.

Upon motions duly seconded both reports were accepted by stockholders, after which there followed election of three directors to succeed those whose terms expired, Ches Chinn, Henry Jorgensen and R. Clare Clement. Upon motion the rules were suspended and all three were reelected by acclamation.

"The fair association is in better financial shape than it has been in many years," Vice-President Clement tells the Quiz. He cites the value of grounds, permanent improvements and other assets of the association as compared with the comparatively small amount of borrowed money to prove that the association is ready to go on with the business of giving fairs.

Can't Purchase Stock.

Secretary Roe read a letter from E. A. Simpkins, now of Martin, S. D., asking the association to purchase his share of stock since he has not been living in Valley county for the past seven years. There are several other non-resident stockholders, Roe says, and it would be nice if the shares of all such could be taken up; however, until the mortgage is paid off this cannot legally be done. Upon motion of E. C. Weller it was decided to pay off the present mortgage before purchasing any outside stock but officers were instructed to assist Mr. Simpkins in finding a local buyer for his share of stock.

Immediately after the stockholders' meeting directors met and elected C. W. McClellan president, R. Clare Clement vice-president, S. W. Roe secretary and E. R. Faletta treasurer for the ensuing year.

North Loup Hopes Dashed As O. K. Is Called 'A Mistake'

Westbrook Wrote to House, Said Irrigation Approved; Letter Misinterpreted, Is Claim.

For two days last week it seemed certain that the North Loup power and irrigation project had finally been signed by President Roosevelt and Comptroller-General McCall but, like so many former reports of approval, this also was learned to be erroneous.

Two weeks ago the Nebraska legislature passed a resolution memorializing the WPA and PWA to approve the North and Middle Loup projects and provide funds for their construction at once. Friday the legislature received a letter from Lawrence Westbrook, WPA coordinator at Washington.

"There is a Project . . ."
Col. Westbrook said, in part: "A search of our files reveals there is a WPA project in the North Loup district, and that the project was approved by the president and subsequently by the comptroller-general on October 24. . . ."

As soon as this letter was made public at Lincoln newspapers reported the North Loup project as having been approved. Radio stations broadcast the news, the Associated Press and United Press telephoned Bert M. Hardenbrook, president of the district, to learn when construction would start, and the communities of Ord, Burwell and North Loup prepared to celebrate.

Was All A Mistake.
Saturday night came the unwelcome news that it was all a mistake.
Col. Westbrook's letter had been misinterpreted at Lincoln, it was learned. He said: "There is a WPA project in the North Loup irrigation district" and it was later learned that he referred to a small irrigation project near Almeria, sponsored by Loup county.

This project calls for expenditure of $5,000 for construction of 11 miles of canals from a point six miles from Almeria to south of Taylor. A. F. Alder, attorney for the project, said its plans call for irrigation of 1,500 acres between Taylor and Almeria, with generation of a small amount of electric energy for local use.

At Lincoln D. F. Felton, state WPA administrator, said work on this small project would begin soon.
No Loup Eligible.
Status of the North and Middle Loup projects seems to be unchanged. Funds have been allotted to neither, it seems, although the North Loup has been approved by all authorities and has for several weeks been eligible to receive an allotment.

About three weeks ago two members of the WPA power division were here from Washington to inspect the project, Messrs. Wingfield and Clark. Both the most favorably impressed and Mr. Clark promised to leave for Washington the next day to urge immediate allocation of funds.
"You may have dirt flying on this job before snow flies," he is quoted as having told officers of the district. Wingfield and Clark also inspected the Middle Loup project while here.

Creamery To Build New Chicken House

Workmen under the direction of "Toot" Harris have been busy several days tearing down the old Jim Scott house west of the Ord Cooperative Creamery, to make room for a modern chicken fattening house which will be built at once. This property has been owned by the creamery for several years, in anticipation of the time when such a building would be needed.
The old Scott house was built by a Mr. Pell in the 30's and while it was not one of the first houses in Ord, as had been reported, it was one of the oldest residential properties still in use. The Henry Hines family, who had lived in the house several years, have moved to the house formerly occupied by the Percy Ball family in east Ord.
Harris has the contract for building the creamery's new chicken house. It will be built of wood with screened sides and will contain wire batteries in which chickens will be fattened. Creamery officials believe they can pay higher prices for poultry and realize a profit for stockholders by having such a place available.

Nebraska Displacing Texas in Raising Turkeys, Says Clabaugh

County Agents Name C. C. Dale President

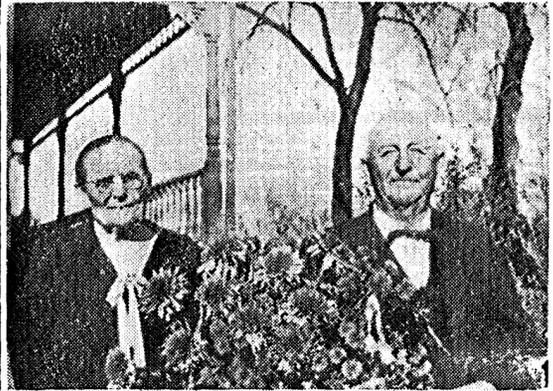

Valley county's veteran agricultural agent, Carl C. Dale, last Thursday was elected president of the Nebraska County Agents association, his selection being announced at the annual banquet of the Agricultural Extension conference held at the Cornhusker hotel in Lincoln. Mr. Dale has long been one of the most influential agricultural agents in Nebraska and his elevation to this high office was a deserved honor.

Carl Sorensen Will Manage Drug Store

Saturday evening a business deal was completed under the terms of which Carl Sorensen purchased the interest of his partner, Stanley McLain, in the drug store that has been conducted under the name of McLain-Sorensen Drug company. Mr. Sorensen took charge as sole owner Monday morning and was assisted by E. L. Achen, pharmacist, who has been with the partners for several years.
Mr. McLain told the Quiz Monday that he expects to move his family to Anacortes, Wash., in the near future, probably by December 1, and will engage in the 10c store business there with his brother-in-law, Jack Allenger. The latter is well known here, having visited the McLain family on several occasions while managing the Brown-Eckburg stores in O'Neill and North Platte. He went to Anacortes about a year ago.
Ord will be sorry to lose the McLain family. Stanley, a native Ordite, has been prominent in business circles ever since he engaged in business here while his wife, the former Miss Laura Boyd, has been popular in church, club and social affairs.
Without doubt Mr. Sorensen will be successful in the drug store business, to which he has gradually been devoting more time for the past few months.

Respected Ord Couple Quietly Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Monday, Nov. 11

It was fifty years ago, on Nov. 11, 1885, that Frank Koupal, then a promising young farmer, and Katherine John, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew John, were married at the farm home of Frank Osetowski, sr., near Ord. The ceremony was performed by a Polish priest from Elba and the wedding was attended by the whole community.
Mr. and Mrs. Koupal have since had a family of five children and a few old friends at their home in Ord. Present were their son, Rudolph Nebraska grown turkeys are replacing Texas turkeys in the U. S. market, J. H. Claybaugh, extension poultry specialist at the Nebraska college of agriculture, told a crowd of 125 people at a demonstration at the W. H. Schudel farm Tuesday. This development has come about because of the fact that Nebraska turkey growers are following a sanitation program in growing their poult and are self-feeding them a balanced ration until they reach maturity.

The sanitation program was worked out by Dr. L. VanEs of the Nebraska college of agriculture and consists in the main of brooding in disinfected, white-washed brooder houses, keeping the poult of ground where chickens have ranged to prevent blackhead, feeding and watering from elevated feeders and waterers and pulling wire screens underneath the roosts, these measures being to prevent the turkeys from becoming contaminated by droppings.

City Conducting Campaign To Stop Illegal Parking

Mayor Flagg Instructs Police To Enforce Ordinance Against Parallel Parking.

In an attempt to stop parallel parking of automobiles in the business district of Ord before a serious accident occurs, Mayor Gould B. Flagg this week instructed Chief of Police L. H. Covert and Night Officer Roy Pardue to enforce the city ordinance against this practice, beginning at once. Offenders will be given one warning and then if they persist in illegal parking will be prosecuted. Mayor Flagg indicates.

According to city ordinance, it is illegal to park on Ord streets in any manner other than at an angle of 45 degrees to the curb. Particularly on Saturdays, when parking spaces are filled, it has grown to be a practice for cars to be parked parallel to the curb in the rear of cars that are parked legally. Thus streets become blocked, traffic is impeded and it is a wonder accidents have not occurred before this.

Mayor Flagg asks business men not to drive their cars to work on Saturdays, thus leaving more parking stalls for visitors to the city. Unless the parking situation can be handled in this way it will be necessary to limit parking time on Saturdays, the mayor says, and this is bound to create difficulties.

Will Loan 45c Per Bu. On Corn

G. A. Barnhart, county warehouse inspector, has received official confirmation that the Commodity Credit corporation will lend 45c per bushel on ear corn of grade No. 3 or better, beginning Dec. 1. These loans are due July 1, 1936 and are about the same general conditions and terms as corn sealed last year.
"Farmers should note that corn must grade No. 3 or better at the time the loan is made, and it is my opinion that producers should go slow in the husking and cribbing of corn that still contains a high moisture content if they expect to make application for corn loans to the corporation," Barnhart says.

Willard McCarthy, Christian Pastor Here, Died Saturday

Character, Endeared To All In Six Years As Ordite.

Rev. Willard McCarthy, 64, pastor of the Ord Christian church for the last six years, passed away Saturday, Nov. 9, at his home here after an illness that began August 14. Funeral rites at the Christian church Tuesday afternoon were conducted by Rev. D. C. Williamson, of Midvale, assisted by pastors of all the Ord churches, and interment was made in Ord cemetery.

Death of Rev. McCarthy brought to its close a career of forty years as a preacher of the gospel, twenty-four years of this period having been spent in Nebraska. Besides preaching six years in Ord he had held charges in Chadron, Wakefield, Greenwood, Tecumseh and Chester, endearing himself to people of all these communities.

Served In Five States.
Born in St. Louis, Mich., on Sept. 30, 1871, Willard McCarthy grew to manhood and was educated for the ministry in that state. On June 26, 1901 at Saginaw, Mich., he was married to Miss Carrie Neman. There followed years of serving Christ as pastor of churches in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. Twenty-four years ago he came to Nebraska and this state remained his home until death.

REV. WILLARD MCCARTHY.
Besides his widow Rev. McCarthy is mourned by two sisters, Mrs. D. J. McCanne, of Denver, and Mrs. Mary Anderson, of St. Louis, Mich., as well as a great host of friends.

Was Lovable Man.
A saintly character was Rev. McCarthy's and it may truthfully be said that he devoted his life to doing good. He was fond of children, was a great lover of flowers, woodworking was another hobby and he also was a great reader, having made a study of Irish poetry. An interesting speaker, his talks before the Rotary club and other Ord organizations always were much enjoyed.

Rev. McCarthy's friends in Ord were not confined to the membership of the Christian church, in fact his friends were numbered by his acquaintances and he was asked to conduct funeral services and weddings for people not members of his church on many occasions. He was a benevolent, lovable man and his good deeds will live after him.

Pallbearers at the funeral rites Tuesday were Alfred Weigardt, Ross Lakin, Guy Burrows, Archie Waterman, E. L. Achen and A. J. Cook. Honorary pallbearers, twelve in number, were members of the Loup Valley Ministerial Society.

Annual Roll Call Opened Tuesday Morning, Chamber President First Member In County

The annual Red Cross roll call got under way Tuesday morning and here is shown John P. Misko, roll call chairman for Valley county, pinning the first button upon Val Pullen, president of the Ord chamber of commerce, who thus became the first 1936 member in this county. The membership drive continues until Thanksgiving.

Red Cross Drive Got Off To Good Start, Says Misko

Started Tuesday, Will End On Thanksgiving Day; 360 Is Valley County Quota.

"Valley county must make every effort to reach its Red Cross quota for 1936," said John P. Misko, Ord attorney and roll call chairman for Valley county, as he tabulated the results of Tuesday's drive for members. The annual roll call began Tuesday morning, lasts until Thanksgiving day.

About 125 members joined Tuesday, indicate preliminary reports reaching Misko from all parts of the county. The county quota for 1936 is 360 members.
Signed Eighty Himself.
Mr. Misko, who canvassed the business district of Ord himself Tuesday, signed 80 members. About 25 more have agreed to join the Red Cross before the drive ends, Misko says.

In canvassing the residential district of Ord a worker was named for each two blocks, these workers being directed by ward captains. Mrs. Keith C. Lewis captained first ward solicitors, Miss Bess Krahulik is captain for the second ward and Mrs. Vernon Anderson for the third. Soliciting in the wards is still under way.

Drive Will Continue.
In North Loup the work was directed by Mrs. W. J. Hemphill and Mrs. J. A. Barber, who had several assistants. In Arcadia Mrs. J. W. Baird and Mrs. J. H. Marvel had charge. Neither community has reported total membership secured.

Solicitation in rural communities is being conducted by volunteer workers in each school district but any farmers who are missed and who wish to join are asked to do so at either Ord, North Loup or Arcadia at any time before Thanksgiving.

Mr. Misko reports many contributions of 25c and 50c from non-members and $25 from Sheriff Round, who took this amount from the coin boxes of two confiscated slot machines.
Miss Clara McClatchey, county Red Cross chairman, expresses herself as being very well pleased with the work of Chairman Misko and his assistants.

"We are hoping the county will go over the top," she says.

Let Contracts For City Water Plant

Arcadia—(Special)—The village board Friday evening opened bids for construction and material in the new $15,000 municipal water plant and announced that contracts would be let to the following bidders: We'l. Johnson & Butterfield, of Burwell; tank, Omaha Steel Works; pump, Interstate Machine Co., Omaha; pipe and labor, Mr. S. A. Callaway; valves and fittings, Lane & Co., of Grand Island. Work will start as soon as each company can make necessary arrangements.
Expense of the new plant will be borne partly by the city and partly through a PWA loan and grant.

Flagg Closes Garage, Will Manage Texaco; Able To Sell Fords

Monday Gould B. Flagg, who has sold Ford cars in Ord for the past 12 years, voluntarily relinquished his Ford franchise, gave up his lease of the big Huff garage and announced that he is through with the automobile business in Ord. Instead he will devote his time to managing the Texaco filling station and bulk plant in Ord and Texaco stations in North Loup and Arcadia, which he has leased.

Yesterday L. J. Auble, of Auble Motors, announced completion of a deal by which Ford cars will be sold and serviced by his company, in conjunction with the Myers & Mansil company of Burwell. Ralph Haas, formerly with Flagg, will be with Auble Motors henceforth. New Fords have been ordered and will be on display at the Auble garage soon.

Four Missionaries Coming To Ord For Special Meetings

The Presbyterian church of Ord announces two weeks of special meetings beginning Sunday morning, Nov. 24 and continuing through Sunday, Dec. 8. The special feature of these services will be four missionary speakers, who come from various lands of the world to tell about strange people, habits, and customs that would keep the "Believe It Or Not" column full. They will bring information that interests both young and old and a vital message of the power of God in transforming lives. The following persons are to be the guest speakers:

Mrs. George Lubbers, who has spent several years in India and has, through her work, been brought into vital contact with the habits and customs of the peoples of that land. Her knowledge of the caste system and religions of that country will be most instructive and educational to all who hear her. Mrs. Lubbers will be in Ord from November 24 to December 1.

Misko To Direct Contract Tourney

John P. Misko, Ord lawyer, has been engaged to serve as director of a contract bridge tournament being held at Grand Island next Sunday, Nov. 17 under the auspices of the Elks club. Contract players of Ord and vicinity have been invited to compete and several are planning to do so.

North Loup Laborer Victim Wed'day Of Paving Accident

Pressure Tank Exploded, Man Killed Instantly in Mishap On North Loup Streets.

North Loup, Nov. 13.—(Special)—Otto Schmidt, 44-year-old laborer, was instantly killed at 9:00 this morning when a pressure tank at which members of a paving gang were heating their shovels exploded on the main street of the village.

He was struck squarely in the forehead by the heavy tank, blown upward with terrific force. A blood vessel in his temple was ruptured and he was killed instantly by the shock.

Tank Just Inspected.
About ten men were working on the paving project but nobody else was near when the tank exploded. Foreman Brown, in charge of the project for Yant Construction Company, of Omaha, had just walked away after inspecting the tank. He was about fifteen feet away when the explosion occurred.

Paving through this town was constructed with federal funds a year ago but only the center section was built. The village board recently authorized construction of shoulder paving to be built of asphaltic concrete and this work was being done when Schmidt was killed.

Pressure Not Known.
Working in cold weather, laborers found it necessary to heat their shovels before handling the sticky asphalt mixture so a pressure tank with flaming torch atop was rigged up. There was no gauge on the tank so it is not known how great the pressure was when the tank exploded.

Bottom of the tank was left standing in its original location, the whole top being blown upward to strike Mr. Schmidt. Oil was sprayed over the paving and sidewalk for many feet.

Quit Work For Day.
Immediately after the accident the foreman, Mr. Brown, ordered cessation of work for the day. It is the first fatal accident a man on his gang has suffered in the three years he has been with the Yant Construction Co., he told a Quiz reporter.

Mr. Schmidt has lived in this community for many years and formerly drove a milk truck for the cheese factory. He is unmarried but has many relatives, the Hornick and Malotte families of Davis Creek. Mrs. Malotte is his sister. He also leaves two brothers, Gus Schmidt, who lives south of Ord and C. F. O. Schmidt who lives in town.

Four-County Medical Society Organized

At a meeting of the practicing doctors of Valley, Garfield, Greeley and Wheeler counties last Wednesday evening, an organization to be known as the Four County Medical Society was formed and will be an active organization.

Following a dinner at Thorne's cafe, M. C. Smith, an employee of the state medical society, spoke. Election of officers was held. Dr. C. J. Miller of Ord being chosen president of the newly organized society. Dr. M. M. Sullivan of Spalding was elected vice-president and Dr. O'Toole of Greeley was chosen secretary. Present were Drs. J. W. Baird and C. D. Langford of Arcadia, F. A. Barta, J. G. Krumi and C. J. Miller of Ord, E. J. Smith and Roy E. Cram of Burwell, O'Toole of Greeley, Howard Royer of Scotia, Giever and M. M. Sullivan of Spalding and W. J. Hemphill of North Loup. Only four doctors, Brennan of Greeley, Bartlett of Spalding, Pinckney of Ericson and C. W. Weekes of Ord were unable to be present. Arrangements were made for the next meeting which will be the first Wednesday in December at Spalding.

Radio Interference Drive Succeeding

The drive for better radio reception being conducted by the electric department of the city under the direction of E. M. Field, trained engineer of Harvard, has resulted in the finding of many motors and appliances which cause interference. Testing around the square has been completed and Wednesday afternoon Mr. Field began tracing down appliances which cause trouble in the residential district.

Fifteen dozen condensers have been purchased by the city light and water department and when they are in use radio reception in Ord city promises to be greatly improved.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Lincoln, Nebr., Nov. 10, 1935.
Dear Quiz:

Eugene says I am to send something each week for the Quiz or he will stop payment on my checks. I have to write them because we have not yet been paid. To tell the truth we have accomplished very little in two weeks. The bills are just beginning to come over and possibly before this is printed we will have finished our work. But I doubt that. I suspect we will be here into next week.

The Missus and I were invited out to the Geo. R. Mann home one evening for dinner. Other guests were Dr. and Mrs. Senning. The Doctor is one of the instructors at the University and is much interested in political economy and is thinking along progressive lines. He has long been an admirer of Sen. Norris. On another evening we were guests of Supt. and Mrs. H. L. Cushing for dinner and we had delightful evenings on both occasions.

As I have said before I came down here with the idea of cooperating with the majority in the legislature to get the corrective and necessary legislation passed, and then adjourn and go home. This I have found impossible, first because the proposed bills were not ready when we got here and second because the so-called majority seemed to want to play horse and kill time and go against not only the declared program of the government, but contrary as well to the provisions of their own party platform.

In regard to the Will Rogers memorial fund, I wouldn't yield to anyone in my admiration for the great actor-author, but I suspect if Will Rogers could have his say, he would direct that all the money raised be used to allay the suffering of the poor. No monument which money can build, will begin to equal the monument already built in the hearts of over a hundred million Americans.

Now that Senator Norris has stated that he is NOT A CANDIDATE for reelection, we will probably soon find out who the candidates in both parties are. I am sorry personally, that Sen. Norris seeks to retire. Whether or not he is permitted to do so will depend on several things. So far he has withstood great pressure in his determination not to run. There is no question but what he wants to retire. On the other hand, there is no question in my mind but what the voters of Nebraska will demand an opportunity to vote for a progressive candidate for senator. So if the two parties are wise they will see that reasonably progressive men are filed. Otherwise the revolt will be so great that Sen. Norris will be drafted in spite of himself.

Starting Friday afternoon, the entire time of the senate has been taken up with consideration of the bank department report. Just how long this senate examination will take, I don't know. It is being conducted by a committee, in committee of the whole of the senate, and until this is ended we will be unable to go ahead with consideration of bills which we have before us.

H. D. Leggett.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to thank every one who so kindly ministered to us during the illness and death of our beloved son. The loving words of sympathy, the beautiful floral offerings and the remembrance of our every need will abide as a precious memory.

Something DIFFERENT

I see by the papers that up in Minnesota some hunters who were fond of having a little fun hunted pheasants while playing musical instruments, prancing across the fields as they tooted and blew and drummed. And flushed the birds, too.

What tunes do you suppose they played?

Then I read about another hunter who couldn't hit the ring-necked long-tailed, but whose dog came to him with a bird someone else had knocked down. The story declared the honest fellow came to town with the dog collar around his own neck, and the dog wearing hunting cap and coat with the bird in a pocket.

So many comments on the improved and clarified appearance of Ord with the several new Neon signs in place.

When all the high schoolers from Ord went to Lincoln, some of them saw city sights for the very first time, and some of them had never been beyond Valley county limits before.

One boy was fascinated by the street cars. He watched like one hypnotized. In fact he watched so intently that he walked smack dab into a lamp post and knocked himself pretty well out.

When he was picked up and brushed off, those with him began to inquire what on earth was he so interested in, what was he looking at, why didn't he look where he was going and similar questions.

Simply the Ord boy answered: "I wanted to see how they were going to get that street car around the corner."

I think one of the finest projects undertaken in Ord is the rejuvenation of old toys for Ord youths for the purpose of making some needy child happy at Christmas time.

Is this work going to be done in Ord this year?

Mrs. H. D. Leggett didn't want to go to Lincoln, when her husband went down to finish out the senatorial term of Alvin Blessing. Her family had to coax for days to get her to go.

But she went and she stayed, and the report came back to Ord that this quiet, home-loving woman was having a lot of fun in Lincoln. What on earth, thought Ord members of the family could Mrs. Leggett, senior, be doing in Lincoln to be so satisfied there?

They found out. She was attending the legislature, which, she reported, was "as good as a vaudeville." And added "I told some of them that I thought the ladies' aid society would do better."

Crazes sweep over the country two years ago it was jigsaw puzzles—and how the public enjoyed those up. Last year—or a few months ago, it was chain letters. Everyone was going to be wealthy from his chain letters. Among feminine Ord, tea towel chain letters have reached practically every woman—and each one plans to receive 27 tea towels.

Another feminine fad in Ord is knitting or crocheting a dress. Mrs. E. P. Clements, senior, is making a soft green boucle which will soon be finished. Miss Lena Clements just at the last stitches to a lovely lavender crocheted boucle dress. Mrs. Edwin Clements is making a peach colored dress, which will have an accompanying ecran hat done. Miss Beth Pullen, who teaches at Superior, has a beautiful crocheted dress. Miss Virginia Vandecar wears a stunning blue suit made by her mother, that is hand knitted. Mrs. L. B. Fenner of Burwell is the proud possessor of a knitted suit with matching hat and bag, also a crocheted dress—all made by herself.

It takes many hours of painstaking labor to create a dress or suit. But in addition to the pride of owning a handsome garment, here is the satisfaction of having entirely created something with one's own hands.

BACK FORTY

Migration of people from farms to cities must continue if cities maintain their population numbers in the future. In most instances the birth rate of cities has dropped below the death rate. The average sized family has fallen under and such a family may be termed a "suicide" family.

There must be at least 360 children under five years of age per 1,000 women between the ages of 15 and 44, to keep population stationary. The following table gives the number there actually are in various localities.

Table with 2 columns: Locality and Children. Rows include: All cities U. S. Stock (225), All cities over 100,000 (293), All cities from 25,000 to 100,000 (341), Rural villages (471), Farms (545), Lesle County Kentucky (915), Only one city of over 100,000 population, Salt Lake City, has a birth rate high enough to maintain a stationary population. The general decline in births everywhere is such that we may expect this country's population to stop increasing sometime between 1945 and 1960. As a result we may look forward to more federal aid for education. It is unfair to ask farm communities to educate folks and then let cities reap the benefits from their schooling. We may also expect the market for agricultural products to become stationary when the population ceases to grow.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Thousands of Ducks, Geese, At U. S. Reserve, Minatare, Nebr., Nov. 8. Special to the Ord Quiz. My first letter was written from Madison, some two months ago, and the reason that I failed to write more from there was that here seemed to be nothing more to write. However, since that time much has happened that may be of interest to the Quiz readers, and so I will try to put out a little more literature. About October 20th we received word that the company at Madison was to be broken up, and that about eighty were to be sent to Minatare and sixty to Columbus. All work in connection with the change was completed and the eighty started for Minatare on the morning of Oct. 23rd. We were transported in seven army trucks from Ft. Crook, and were taken over the southern route, passing through Humphrey, Platte Center, Genoa, Broken Central City, and Grand Island, arriving at the CCC camp at Ravenna at about one o'clock, where we ate the sandwiches we had taken with us, and plenty of coffee furnished by the camp.

At Ravenna I saw Leland Pierce, Furwell, who is an orderly in the hospital there, and who seems to be making good. From Ravenna we kept on up highway No. 1, arriving at the CCC camp at Halsey just at nightfall. The Halsey camp is one of the best located in the state, but the buildings are not of the quality to be found either here or at Madison. They furnished us with cots and blankets, and we all slept in their recreation hall, which is one of the best buildings they have. At Halsey I saw Howard Nixon, also of Burwell. He is driver of one of the trucks and has a good job besides being one of the members of the camp orchestra. Although he did not say so, I think he is the leader. We left Halsey early the next morning, and after a rather rough trip through the sand hill country, we landed in Alliance promptly at noon, and had some sandwiches there. The trip from Alliance to the Minatare camp took only two hours, so we had coffee and another lunch after we arrived here. The Minatare camp is located 11 miles north of the town of Minatare, on the south shore of Lake Minatare, which is formed by the dam which the government put in here twenty years ago to impound the seepage water from the Guernsey dam in Wyoming. The lake is one of a chain of four which extend to the northwest for a distance of ten miles. It is the largest and at present contains about a square mile of water, but in the spring will be at least four times as large. This is a U. S.

wild life refuge, and believe me, all the birds seem to know it. The mallards are here by the thousands, and there are several hundred Canada geese here also. They are fed on an open space to the south of the lake, and they make their home here until the lake freezes up, which will not happen until late. There is a drive around the lake, which is sixteen miles in length, and all the land between the drive and the high water mark is covered with trees planted by the government.

From the top of the bluffs three miles north on the opposite side of the lake can be seen one of the finest views to be had anywhere. On clear days it is possible to see west to Table Mountain in Wyoming, and southeast to Court-house and Jall rocks, which are about six miles south of Bridgeport. The Scotts Bluff National Monument, southwest of the town of Scottsbluff, is in plain sight to the southwest, its most interesting point being Dome Rock, which is a large dome and is almost inaccessible, special engineering feats being necessary to reach its top. To the south of Minatare are Castle Rock, Steamboat Rock and Smokestack Rock, while away over in Banner county is another Castle Rock, taller than all of them. The well known Chimney rock is located to the southeast of Minatare, and is not visible from here, being hidden by a large hill between. The panorama from the bluffs north of camp takes in a territory one hundred miles in length, and thirty miles in width.

The one thing that appealed to the men when they arrived here was the fact that the air is so much lighter and easier to breathe. The general health of all the Madison bunch has improved since coming here, and so far not a man has been on the hospital list. We also found that the food here is superior to what we had there, and the men are better prepared. Every man I have talked to lately has gained in weight, and has a good word to say for the camp. They two have quit, and they intended to quit when they came here. There is a gravel ridge to the southwest of the camp, which is composed almost entirely of pebbles of all sizes up to as large as Evet Smith's potatoes. Most of the men spend a part of their time up there looking over the assortment and picking out some of the nicest ones. The Madison group have spent most of their working time getting limestone rock out of a quarry seven miles northwest of camp, just over the line in Stour county. The rock we get out are hardly worth the effort required, but it furnishes employment, and is about all the work available here at this time of the year. More next time. John Ward.

Obituary

MRS. THERON BEEHRLE. Jennie Marie Thussen was born in Denmark, March 13, 1874, and died in Ord Tuesday, Nov. 5, 1935, aged 61 years, 7 months and 23 days.

She came to America with her parents when a child six years of age, where she grew up, received her education and engaged in the teaching profession.

She was married to Theron W. Beehrle Nov. 15, 1900, at Ord and most of their married life was spent on a farm just east of Summit. They moved to Ord in 1929.

Five children were born to them, two girls dying in infancy. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children, Charles W. of Yakima, Wash., Clarence L. of Vall, Wash., and Mary E. of Ord, also two grandchildren, Leroy Beehrle, 14, and Dollie May Beehrle, 12, one brother, Hans Thussen of Otis, Colo., and three sisters, Mrs. Elsie Waterman of Ord, Mrs. Mattie Gunderson of Otis, Colo., and Mrs. Mary Mattley of Burwell.

In her religious life she affiliated with the Methodist church. She was also a member of the Rebekah lodge. Funeral rites were held Friday, Nov. 8, at the Sowl chapel and interment was in the Ord cemetery.

ARCHIE L. HATFIELD. Archie Loraine Hatfield, son of Ralph and Hazel Hatfield, was born near Burwell in Garfield county, Nebraska, Oct. 15, 1916, and passed from this life at his home in Ord, Monday evening, November 4, aged 19 years and 20 days.

When he was about three years old his parents moved to Wyoming where they resided until the spring of 1926 when they came to Ord and where they have since resided.

He confessed his faith in Christ and accepted Him as a personal Saviour in 1931, uniting with the United Brethren church.

He found a place of leadership among the young people and at the time of his death was president of the Young People's Christian Endeavor society and of the Young People's class in the Sunday school. Archie was a worker. Whether at home, in the church or for his employer, he gave of the strength that was his.

He leaves to mourn his loss, his parents, two brothers, Gerald Oscar and Roland Duane; his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Hatfield of Gillette, Wyo., and Mrs. Emma Danner of Ord and a large number of relatives and friends. The funeral was held at Sowl's chapel Thursday afternoon, Nov. 7 at 2 o'clock, Mamie J. Young, pastor of the United Brethren church having charge of the services. Mrs. Verdie McBurney sang, "What a Friend we Have in Jesus," "My Jesus as Thou Wilt," and "The Home of the Soul". Miss Ella Bond presided at the organ.

His body was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery. Relatives from a distance attending the funeral were Walter Danner and family of Farnham; Garland and Douglas Hatfield, Adon, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Otto Thrasher and son, J. W. Lewis, Mrs. Vera Crouch, Mrs. Florence Satterfield, Taylor; Mr. and Mrs. Jake Clayton, Mr. and Mrs. Carol Hoppes and family, Mrs. Bee Hoppes, Mrs. Perry Danner and daughter Florence, Mr. and Mrs. Elza Danner, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Danner of Burwell.

Card of Thanks. We take this means of expressing our heartfelt gratitude to Rev. Smith, member of the U. B. church, neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness during the illness and after the death of our beloved wife and mother. Theron Beehrle and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. BRISBANE THIS WEEK

Something About Billions Earthquakes Marvelous New Cars News From Ethiopia

Silas H. Strawn, once head of the American Bar association and president of the United States Chamber of Commerce, says the country is spending $7,000 a minute, and thinks it is too much. Your small boy will tell you how much $7,000 a minute makes in one year. (Once "all the world wondered," or at least we did, when there was talk of spending one-quarter of a billion on the Panama canal. Now, any professor could spend that, after three minutes' thinking, and news that the nation's deficit has increased fifteen hundred millions in the past few weeks startles nobody.)

Arthur Brisbane

The world has passed through earthquake week. Earthquakes in Montana, greatest sufferer on this continent. Severe shocks are reported in Siam. Earthquakes in Buffalo, N. Y.; Ottawa, Toronto, Guayaquil, Ecuador; a busy seismographic week. And the moon is partly to blame. Its power of gravitation exercises a strong pull on the earth, as it shows in lifting the ocean tides. Dr. Harlan T. Stetson, of Harvard, says the moon causes "sub-surface adjustments of the earth."

The new cars of 1936, now on exhibition, are so extraordinarily beautiful that every American should see them, regardless of intention to buy a new car. Most encouraging is the determined energy that business men and engineers of the automobile industry have shown in fighting the depression, while improving that which seemed beyond improvement. Rome gives confirmation of the slaughter of six thousand women and children by Ethiopian warriors taking vengeance on the fathers of the children who deserted to Italy. Rome also reports the killing of five hundred Ethiopians by Italian bombing planes, "an attempt to assassinate Halle Selassie by an unnamed American negro."

Halle Selassie of Ethiopia has "flung the last available man into the battle line," relying on old men, young boys and women to run his government, reminding you of the late czar's announcement that he was going to send "his last monk." He did not live to do that. The national effort to "buy ourselves out of the hole" encounters difficulties. The President, to make $5 four billions cash spread as far as possible, announced top wages of $93 a month. But union labor says, "No; you must pay us full union wages," and New York may have a state-wide strike to back the demand. President Roosevelt, it is said, refuses to concede that public relief is a branch of union labor, and, even with 1936 looming ahead, may insist that two governments in the country are one too many.

Greece is ready to take back her king and many Greeks are growing "spike" mustaches like his. Many Germans grew mustaches, curling upward, to imitate their former Kaiser. There is not much in imitating mustaches. You wonder why the Greeks cannot find a Greek for king, if they must have a king. In days of "the glory that was Greece" it wasn't necessary to go outside among "barbarians" to find a ruler.

You may want to know that in England, where good times have really come back, the Tories have made heavy gains at the present election and the Labor party sustains heavy losses. Ramsay MacDonald, head of Britain's first Labor government, rejoices openly at labor's downfall. His work as prime minister seems to have changed his opinions. Experience often changes our minds.

"It is a very great rebuff for labor," says MacDonald. "The people are not being taken in by wild and reckless promises which they know cannot be carried out, in municipal or national government."

Ed Howe, an able writer of Kansas, is expected to "put aside his pencil and pen forever," because his doctor warns him that blindness is approaching. Perhaps Mr. Howe will tell his doctor: "Milton did much of his important writing after he was totally blind, and I can do the same." Mr. Howe can use a dictating machine, whereas Milton dictated to his daughters, who, uneducated, found it difficult to write down his Latin dictation.

Best Duck Flight in Years, Say These Nimrods

For Edward L. Kokes, left, and Lawrence Shunkweller, this year's flight of south-bound ducks has been the largest in many seasons and few flocks of migrators have gone down the river without leaving some ducks behind as tribute to the accuracy of these nimrods' aim with the scattergun. In this picture Kokes and Shunkweller are shown with fifteen mallards and bluebills which they killed on Sunday, Nov. 3. They have made limit kills several mornings, most of the birds being mallards. They hunt below the Sumter bridge.

North Loup News

The W. F. M. S. of the M. E. church met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Bohrer with Gertrude Lundstedt as leader. Ivan Comstock, A. H. Christian Science Services.
"Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, November 17.
The Golden Text is from II Corinthians 5:4: "We that are in this tabernacle do groan, being burdened: not for that we would be unclothed, but clothed upon, that mortality might be swallowed up of life."
A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from Romans 8: 16, 17: "The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God; and if children, then heirs: heirs of God, and joint-heirs with Christ if so be that we suffer with him, that we may also be glorified together."

Reminiscences of the Early 1880's

Writer Recalls Hazardous Trip To North Loup to Get Lumber For First Frame House.

By W. A. ANDERSON

When the writer first came on the Loup valley in Valley County it was by way of Springdale and the first house noted was the "Louden" place and now owned by Mr. Whiting. It was a log house and still in use as a residence. The next place was what at that time was called a log house. Across the road was the log house of R. W. Bantoff where the Springdale postoffice was located. A mile or more east was the log house of Johnson Geesey. Then on west to the log house of W. D. Long. There were sod houses along the way as well as dugouts, perhaps one of the earliest methods of building an inexpensive place to live. A sloping bank on hillside was selected, an excavation made, 6 or 8 feet wide and as far back in the hill as desired. Some sod was plowed up and a front wall was laid with the space for a door and window. Some logs were laid across excavation, some brush and weeds and dry grass were laid on top, a layer of sod was laid on, then dirt from the excavation was thrown on from 12 to 18 inches in depth, a place for the stovepipe to protrude and the residence was ready to be occupied. These "dugouts" were used usually only temporarily, until the more pretentious soddy could be built and which in some cases where a shingled roof was used, lasted for many years and were really quite comfortable.

On that first trip up the valley there was but one frame house on the north side of the river from where Sumner now is located to Fort Hartsum. That was the Rufus Collins place and is yet in evidence on the Vogelstanz farm. I and my neighbor B— learned when we were in Ord that there were settlers in Noble Township west of us and we decided to try going back to our camp that way. We went by Elm Grove and made the acquaintance of Mr. Frederick who was familiar with the country and gave us some advice about the lay of the hills when he found where we were located. All the settlers had either sod houses or "dugouts", though some of them were pretty poor habitations. We made the acquaintance of Arthur Laphorn, George Burwell, Jasper Arnold, David Briggs and the Muths family of four, father, mother and two sons. These were to be our nearest neighbors for years and were all friendly people, as it seemed everyone was in those early days. Most all settlers at that date were like myself, trying to exist and build a home for the future on the very limited means they had. Some of them had only a cow and one horse and some a yoke of oxen and others had no live stock, only perhaps a dog or a few chickens. And yet they would walk miles to do a day's work or help a neighbor build a "soddy" or dig a well. One could almost get a few days work with some of the earlier settlers, such as Uncle D. C. Bailly and get some provender such as meat or cornmeal. These were not the kind of men that Uncle Sam has sent up to Alaska, but were men with a vision and were determined to own a home of their own in spite of any hardships they might meet. By such men Nebraska has been built up and their sons and daughters are here yet.

A sod house was not an expensive proposition as money costs went but plenty of those early settlers were almost penniless. When I fled on my homestead I had less than $25.00 in cash left. The soddy, 12x24 ft., took a lot of labor but the entire cost in cash for the lumber, about 40 ft. of 2x8 for door jams and window frames and the windows was less than five dollars. It was well built and had it been covered with a shingled roof would have been good for ten years' service. So much for a sod house.

In the spring of 1882 there was an influx of settlers and numbers of them made my place their headquarters until they could get settled on their claims as my well was the only one for several miles and water as always was a prime necessity. Among these newcomers was Mr. L. who had filed on a claim in Section 8. He had previously had a preemption claim in Boone county, which he had sold and had some money and decided he would build a frame house.

At that time the U. P. R. ended at North Loup as the railroad company had decided that was as far as civilization was to be extended, anyway for the present. Mr. L. had brought with him a very fine yoke of oxen. I have never driven an ox team but they were quite common at that period in the settlement and development of our state. Mr. L. wished me to go with him to North Loup with my team and help him haul back material for the house he proposed to build. It was quite agreeable to me as I had a fat hog I wished to market and North Loup was then, one might say, the metropolis of the valley, as Ord had no stock buyers at that time. So one morning in early March we got started for North Loup. As we knew they had been crossing on the ice near North Loup we decided that was our best road and took the trail southeast by way of the head of Wallace Creek in Greeley county. North Loup was only about fifteen miles as a crow would fly and nearly due south. One trail was southeast to strike a wagon road leading from near where the town of Horace is now located, to the Loup valley. We got away about 8 o'clock and as my team traveled so much faster than the oxen, Mr. L. led the way. It was my first experience with oxen and as Mr. L. had to walk to drive his team I also walked most of the way. We had turned west into the canyon road by mid afternoon and ate our lunch as we moved along as the time was going by and we wished to cross the river as early as possible. At sundown we were almost in sight of the valley when as we crossed a deep ditch the reach of my wagon pulled out from the front bolster and the result was two wheels in the draw with wagon box on, and the front wheels with the team. It was a serious matter as it was now a snow and would soon be dark. There was no baling wire in those days but by using some rope and chain we got out of the draw, got the wagon coupled together and were on our way. We came out on the valley where Alonzo Shepherd lived, and it was then pitch dark. We asked him about the crossing to the river and about the road on the ice. He told us it was less than a mile to the crossing but the water was over the ice and would go out before night was over. Was it safe to cross now? He could not say but some one had crossed in the morning. Mr. L. and I discussed the matter and decided either we would have to chance the crossing or drive to the Scotts bridge five miles down the river, then cross and drive five miles back, which I knew would take all night. Mr. Shepherd invited us to stay over night and wait for another day. We were both tired and the temptation was great to take up with his kind invitation. However we took the trail to the river as it seemed our best bet and started across with brush which had been placed on the ice for the crossing would be washed away by snow.

When we came to the river bank all we could see was water running over the ice and there was a drop of about sixteen inches from the bank of the river to the ice. I knew very little about the Loup river at that time but had been told when frozen over that the water was all thrown to one side and made a channel ten or fifteen feet deep and very swift. I thought of Washington crossing the Delaware on the ice and Eliza in "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in getting away from the bloodhounds, how it would feel to be in there with a team of oxen, wagon horses, all in the broken up ice and a swift current also to carry us all under the ice. I got down on the ice to see if it was breaking up but it seemed solid yet. I climbed out on the bank and drove my team to where they had been crossing heretofore but they refused to take the drop-down onto the ice. I turned them around and Mr. L. drove his oxen up. They were no more anxious than my team to go down to that ice but we finally did succeed in getting them down and then finally we forced my team down also. There we were on the ice finally with the water about four inches deep swirling around us. The river was quite wide and we could see nothing to guide us to where the landing place was on the west side. So Mr. L. stayed with the teams while I waded over to locate the place of exit on the other bank. Finally I located it, not directly across but several rods farther up. I called to him and he grove to where he could hear my voice and we climbed the west bank with our teams and soon were on our way again. It was very dark and reminded me of Longfellow's poem when he said, "There is no light in heaven but the cold light of stars." It was after 10 o'clock when we drove up to the feed barn in North Loup. We soon had our teams cared for and in the cook room of the barn made our coffee, fried some bacon and had our supper. We dried our wet stockings by the stove and then to the hay loft of the barn for our night's sleep.

To sleep on the hay in the loft was what was expected of people who had their teams in the barn and also use of stove in cook room for those who wished to cook or make coffee. It may not be conducive to sleep to listen to the sound of a score or more of horses as they stamp on the floor all night.

We were up early and I hunted up Mr. Thane Redlon who was buying livestock at that time and he gave me five cents per pound for my hog which netted me $15.00 which was some money in homestead days.

As soon as the lumber office was open we were there. I think it was Richardson or Richards who kept the lumber yard and he soon figured out what Mr. L. wanted for his house and the price, which I now have forgotten. While we were in the office a man came in and said the river broke up last night. I looked at Mr. L. and he kind of grinned and said, "Luck was our way for once." We loaded up our wagons and Mr. L. started for Ord as his team was slow. I went uptown to call on some of the people I knew, the Roods Davis', Greens' and Babcocks. Some of the finest men who ever crossed the Missouri river were the men of that period and an homesteader got a royal welcome from the North Loup people. I also met Byron Johnson and V. J. Thomas, who became lifelong friends, but they have all disappeared into the "Land of Mist", and only one is left of all those men that day. These people sure were putting into practice their golden rule in their everyday life. The town was full of life as an up-river traffic was by way of North Loup and one met teamsters

Historical Stories Printed in Quiz Are Popular

Many favorable comments have been heard about the series of old-time stories being printed in the Quiz from week to week. Today we present an article by W. A. Anderson about the first frame house built in Noble Township. Next week's story will be "The Reminiscences of a Pioneer" by Garfield county teacher, Hannah Quinn. Several other stories have been submitted by pioneers and accepted by the Quiz to appear in early issues.

from points at Taylor and Brewster.

By 10 o'clock I was on my way with my load. A few miles out I passed Mr. L. with his ox team. When I crossed the bridge at Ord the river was full of floating ice. I thought of what might have occurred the night before and drove on home reaching there about 9 o'clock P. M. Some time during the night or early morning Mr. L. drove in. The next day we took our loads to his claim in Sec. 8 and he started work at once on his house. If I recall correctly the house was 16x22 ft. with 14 ft. posts. That was the very first frame house in Noble township and I am not quite sure but it was the second frame house on the north side of the river as I recall no other at that date. That house is yet standing but now used as a granary.

The sod house has disappeared with the homesteader and not many evidences are left of pioneer days. Of those who were here at the date of which I write scarcely a dozen are left. So life is like one grand movie show and we like are actors until the curtain comes down and the show is over.

Women Hard on Shoes

Up until the World war men used more shoes than women but in recent years the trend has changed and the men are making their shoes last longer. Out of the nearly 200,000,000 pairs produced annually in the United States, says Pathfinder Magazine, only about 75,000,000 pairs are men's.

NOTICE TO AUTOMOBILE DRIVERS

Section 12 of the Auto Ordinance of the City of Ord provides that all automobiles parked around the Court House square and one block each way therefrom shall be parked at the curb at an angle of 45 degrees and makes it unlawful to park in any other manner.

This absolutely prohibits parallel parking or parking in the street. To park otherwise than at the curb creates a dangerous traffic hazard which must be stopped. POLICE OFFICERS have been instructed to enforce this Ordinance so do not park your car out in the street.

To the Business Men of the City

If you business men did not park your cars on the square on Saturdays there would be plenty of room for farmers to park without stopping in the middle of the street. Leave your cars home on Saturday and there will be parking space for outside people.

Unless the traffic situation is taken care of in this way it will be necessary to limit parking time. We do not want to do this.

Lights

The Sheriff announces that the laws regulating automobile lights will be strictly enforced hereafter. See that your lights are in proper condition.

THE FASTEST-STARTING GASOLINE IN STANDARD OIL HISTORY HAS ARRIVED

35% QUICKER WARM-UP WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

AT THE PRICE OF "REGULAR" GASOLINE

SOME surprising new discoveries have been made recently about what it takes to start a cold automobile engine—start it and warm it up to full, smooth drive-away power faster.

For many years Standard's research staff has been at work on this problem. Not satisfied with laboratory experiment alone, they have conducted thousands of road tests—in all sorts of temperatures—using all sorts of gasoline formulas.

And now they come forward with a motor fuel that is different, in many respects, from any that ever went into a gasoline tank before—a motor fuel which embodies all these newly discovered principles—which really is quick starting without the drawbacks that so often go with that quality.

This new Standard Red Crown starts at the first flash of the spark. But on top of that it has fully 35% faster warm-up speed in zero temperatures. Actually it will get your car started and under way as quickly and easily in mid-winter as in mid-summer. You'll be free from vapor lock. You'll get better winter mileage. Try it!

It's ready in the pumps now—look for the STANDARD sign

Respected Ord Couple Quietly Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary Monday

"We hadn't forgotten it; we'd planned, on coming to Ord for months," Mrs. Wegrzyn answered. It was a happy reunion, even though celebrated in a quiet manner.

Frank Koupal is one of Ord's best known and most respected citizens. He also might rightfully claim to be one of this city's pioneer business men as he came to town in 1887, after farming two years near Ord. His first job was with the Novotny & Maish implement house but later he entered the employ of W. T. Barstow and worked in his Ord elevator for seven years.

Barstow, already on his way to wealth, discerned real business ability in young Frank Koupal and in 1903 they formed a partnership to sell lumber and coal under the name of Koupal & Barstow and purchased the Yeager & Mickelwait lumber yard in Ord.

President of Company.

In 1905 the company was incorporated under the same name. Mr. Koupal being president and Mr. Barstow secretary, which respective offices they still fill. Mr. Barstow has lived in Lincoln for many years.

The company prospered and soon line yards were opened at Sargent, Ericson, Elyria and Greeley. All except the Greeley yard are still owned by Koupal & Barstow.

In December, 1920, Mr. Koupal was chosen president of the First National Bank of Ord, which position he held with credit and dignity for a period of seven years. He is still an extensive stockholder in the bank.

Although he has not been actively engaged in business for several years Mr. Koupal still keeps a watchful eye on his financial affairs and advises and assists his son, Rudolph, who manages the Ord yard, and the managers of other yards in the Koupal & Barstow system.

Is Flower Lover.

For many years Mr. Koupal's greatest enjoyment has come from his tract west of Bussell park, which is perhaps the most beautiful estate in this part of Nebraska. Planted to trees, shrubs, foliage plants, flowers and flowering vines, with Dane creek winding through it, the place is a real beauty spot during the growing season. Mr. Koupal spends part of every day there.

His wife is noted as a wonderful cook and a real home maker, never so happy as when ministering to her husband, children and now to her grandchildren. Adrian and Ruth Tolen and Dick Koupal. Both Mr. and Mrs. Koupal enjoy excellent health.

The Quiz is certain that the hundreds of friends whom this worthy couple have made in their fifty years of residence in the Ord community will extend congratulations and wish Mr. and Mrs. Koupal many happy returns of a happy day—Monday, Nov. 11.

Junior Class Play Presented Friday, Attracted Crowd

"Importance of Being Earnest" Had Able Cast, Amusing To Big Audience.

Friday evening in the high school auditorium, the junior class play, "The Importance of Being Earnest," was ably presented by a cast of nine characters. Written by Oscar Wilde, the play afforded great acting possibilities and was capably directed by Miss Ellen Servino, dramatic instructor of the Ord schools. The play was quite well attended and the junior class realized a tidy sum which will be used to defray expenses of the annual junior-senior banquet next spring.

Leading the cast were Barbara Dale as Lady Bracknell and Laverne Lakin as John Worthing. As Algernon Moncrief, a nephew of Lady Bracknell, Leonard Sobon was excellent and Virginia DeHart acted with equal ability the role of Gwendolen Fairfax, Lady Bracknell's daughter. Lady Bracknell, a dignified English lady is interested only in one thing, the social welfare of her daughter, Gwendolen. Laverne Lakin as John Worthing is anxious to remove this one worry from her mind, but here complications arise. John Worthing at home, when he comes to town to see Miss Fairfax it is under the assumed name of Ernest, since he has this name implies everything desirable in a fiancé. To Lady Bracknell, Mr. Worthing does not measure up to the social requirements of one who would marry her daughter, and her consent to the marriage is refused. While John Worthing is in the city, Algernon Moncrief, with the excuse that he is going to visit a sick friend, Bunberry, a fictitious character invented for his convenience, Algernon under the name of Ernest visits John Worthing's home expressly to meet John's ward, Cecily, a charming young miss of eighteen, capably enacted by Armona Beth Achen. He is believed to be John's wicked brother, Ernest, who is in reality an invented character. After a number of misunderstandings when the entire truth is revealed and John Worthing is proven to be Ernest Moncrief, an elder brother of Algernon, Lady Bracknell gives her consent to the marriage of her daughter to Mr. Worthing. Cecily and Algernon find each other desirable and are also wed. Harold Mellis and Dr. Canon Chasuble, the rector, was very good and Dorothy Auble, as prim Miss Leodilla Prism, governess of Cecily adds much to the humor of the situation. Laverne Duemey and Lester Peterson enacted Moncrief and Lane respectively, two stately butlers in all their English dignity.

The first act occurs in the living room of Algernon Moncrief and the stage was beautifully set with modernistic furniture. Acts two and three take place in the garden at John Worthing's home. Music between acts was furnished by the high school orchestra, directed by Dean Duncan.

The production staff included Miss Elna Olson, class sponsor, Ruth Haas, student director, Jack Janssen, Laverne Duemey and Lester Peterson, artists, Lillian Kusek, Wilma Krikac and Richard Burrows, wardrobe, Lorraine Kusek, Norma Mae Snell and Willard Cushing, properties, Miss Bernice Slote and Josephine Romans, make-up, Harold Stone, business manager, Laverne Austin and Erma Novotny, book holders, and Margaret Lewis, advertising manager.

Arcadia Loses To Burwell In Upset Plays Ord Friday

The heavy, fast Arcadia football team, touted as the best in the Loup valley conference, caught a tartar in the person of the Burwell team Friday afternoon and went down to defeat, 14 to 7, in a hard, cleanly fought game on the Burwell field. It was Arcadia's first defeat of the season. Burwell has been beat several times and was snowed under by Ord a few weeks ago.

Loss of Elton Toops with a broken arm and Brown with a slight brain concussion is blamed for the defeat by Arcadia fans. Toops is out for the year but Brown, a shifty halfback, may be in suit when Ord plays at Arcadia tomorrow night.

Was An Earned Victory.

Burwell outdowned and out-yarded the Arcadia team, officials say, and earned the victory, although an Arcadia pass was almost completed in the end zone late in the game and had it been caught a tie score probably would have resulted. An Arcadia back fumbled the ball momentarily and officials refused to allow the score.

Coach Brockman's Ord team, fresh after a two weeks' layoff, will be accompanied to Arcadia Friday night by the entire band, most of the student body and a host of town fans. The game promises to be a tough one but Ord is conceded a slight edge.

Four Missionaries Coming To Ord For Special Meetings

years in the Belgian Congo, was heard in Ord this past summer at a union Sunday evening service. Mr. Miller's field of work brought him in contact with the pygmies, into the lake region of Central Africa, and the great Semeleke plain which has been described by Stanley, Roosevelt, and Carl Ackley as the greatest wild game area of the world. Rev. Miller will be here for the two week period of the meetings.

Rev. F. G. Knauer had the unique experience of serving for sixteen years in Cameroon, West Africa, where the church with the largest membership of any in the world, is located. Here, before a convert may become a member of the church, he must go out and win someone else to a definite conversion to Christ.

Leo C. Lapp comes from Yunnan, southwest China. He grew up as a boy in western Nebraska, studied in several schools in this country, taught in the Winnpeg Bible school, and then went as a missionary to China. Poor health forced him to return to America for medical attention after a short stay on the mission field. But an energetic temperament and inquisitive mind plunged him into finding out things about China along with his work. He comes to share with us a rich experience, from December 1 through December 8.

Nebraska Displacing Texas in Raising Best Turkeys, Says Clabaugh at Meet

department, develops a fine grained, juicy texture to the meat, and for this reason Nebraska birds are outselling those raised under range conditions in the southwest. Clabaugh demonstrated the method of picking a breeding flock, and stated that this should be done before any birds are marketed as many growers have followed the practice of selling the best birds and then using the culs for a breeding flock.

Profit $1.20 Per Bird.

Mr. Schudel has kept records of every cent of expense incurred in raising his turkeys and at present prices his flock of 490 birds show a profit of $1.20 each. This profit should be larger when the birds are completely finished for market.

Mr. Clabaugh spoke highly of the manner in which Mr. and Mrs. Schudel have handled their flock, which has enabled them to raise 13 percent of the turkeys which they bought as day old poults.

People were present at the meeting from Valley, Greeley, Howard, Sherman and Garfield counties. Another meeting of interest to turkey growers will be held at Burwell next Tuesday from 10 a. m. until 4 p. m. This meeting is under the auspices of the Burwell butter factory and Mr. Clabaugh will demonstrate, killing, picking and packing of turkeys for cooperative marketing.

All-Day Organized Agriculture Session Here December 10

Plans Announced By C. C. Dale Show Gaines, Filley And Other Experts Coming.

An all-day "organized agriculture" session that should prove of intense interest to hundreds of Valley county farmers and their families will be held in Ord on Tuesday, Dec. 10 under the auspices of the Valley county farm bureau, it was announced early this week by Carl C. Dale, county agricultural agent. The program will begin at 9:45 a. m. and last until late evening.

Speakers from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture and extension department who will be here for the day include N. W. Gaines, F. E. Musshell, Mrs. Angeline Anderson, Dr. S. W. Alford, H. C. Filley, Mrs. Gladys Ayars, W. W. Derrick, D. L. Gross.

Held in Five Towns. Holding this type of meeting in Ord is made possible through an arrangement perfected recently by central Nebraska county agents, Loup, Custer, Valley, Buffalo and Dawes counties are included in this area and during the week of Dec. 9 to 13 a one-day program will be offered in one town in each of these counties.

The meeting in Taylor will be held Dec. 9, Ord Dec. 10, Broken Bow, Dec. 11, Kearney Dec. 12 and Lexington Dec. 13.

Same speakers will address each of these meetings, each of which also will include local entertainment. Some of the topics to be discussed are "Poultry Problems of the County," "Profitable Poultry Management," "Childhood Problems," "Livestock Diseases," "Welfare in the U. S. A.," "Business Forms for Women," "Present Livestock Problems," "Soil Conservation Methods," and several others. Local speakers will have parts on the program.

For the Women Also. Several sessions for men and women will be held at 11:00 a. m. and again at 3:15 p. m. Mrs. Anderson will address women at the morning session, Mrs. Ayars and a local speaker in the afternoon. Mrs. Ayars will give her meat canning demonstration, which was presented to an overflow crowd at the Legion hall in Ord a few weeks ago.

One of the most interesting features of the day will be the "fun feed" to be held with Dr. Alford as toastmaster and N. W. Gaines as principal speaker at 6:00 p. m. Tickets for this banquet will be sold at the lowest price possible and it will be held at a place to be announced later.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce will cooperate with the farm bureau in making "Organized Agriculture" day in Ord a big success. Local people, whose names will be announced next week, will preside at each group meeting throughout the day and local committees will assist County Agent Dale with all arrangements.

Ben Brewster Dead.
Ben A. Brewster, veteran Nebraska newspaper man who for one time worked on the Ord Journal staff, passed away at Alliance last week. He had published the Alliance News since 1924. A staunch democrat, Brewster served as postmaster at Chadron during the World war and held other political offices. Surviving are his widow and three nephews.

Noll Flower Show Will Be Tomorrow

Tomorrow the Noll Seed Company of Ord will give its annual flower show and the public is invited to visit the Noll building and see a large display of floral designs, wedding bouquets, corsages, bridge prizes, blooming plants and novelties of all kinds. Orchids, gardenias and other rare flowers will be on display. A flower will be presented to each lady visiting the show.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noll have long been interested in the florist business and both are capable designers and makers of all types of floral designs. They held a flower show last autumn also.

30-Day Duck Season Closed Tuesday Eve

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock the 1935 duck season on ducks and geese in the Ord and Valley counties closed. The 30-day season this year was entirely satisfactory to some sportsmen, displeasing to others. It is generally conceded that more ducks and geese migrated down the Loup rivers than in several years but this resulted from freezing weather in the west rather than because migratory fowl are on the increase, it is thought.

The second week of the season brought the best sport locally and since then few ducks have been killed here.

Guests of Mrs. Alvin Hill at dinner Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hill, and children, Mrs. Ernie Hill and Alice Mae, Nels Johnson and Miss Erma Gossard.

Parkins System Of Eye Treatments Is Showing Results

The system of eye treatments developed by Dr. George A. Parkins and used for several months in the Ord schools continues to show excellent results and is attracting nation-wide attention, the Quiz learns Sunday. Dr. A. Taylor, of the department of educational psychology, University of Chicago, was in Ord conferring with Dr. Parkins about his system. Dr. Cox, Kansas City, Dr. Perigo, Norfolk, and Dr. Peterson, Elgin, also have been here in the past few days.

A group of 60 Ord school students is now taking these eye exercises, Dr. Parkins says. Five weeks ago their average reading rate was 214 words per minute, which has been increased to 300 words per minute. More important, their comprehension rate has increased from 53 per cent to 85 per cent in the same length of time.

New tabulations confirm Dr. Parkins' discovery that faulty eye movements are a greater factor than faulty vision in a person's ability to comprehend what he reads. The work being done in the Ord schools is extremely valuable and undoubtedly similar work will be undertaken in school systems in every state in the union in the near future.

Red Cross Helbed During 1935 Flood

Nebraskans must surely feel closer to the Red Cross, must feel that the actual help of the "greatest mother" was given when needed in our state May 30 and 31 last when the Republican river valley was flooded. The flood was one of the biggest disasters at which the Red Cross aided last year, and many Valley county citizens had sons and brothers or other relatives in the flood territory and learned for themselves how efficient the Red Cross aids in time of trouble.

The work of the Red Cross was invaluable at McCook and in flooded districts near there. Everything possible was done. An airplane was chartered to fly over the flooded areas and locate stranded victims, so that they could be aided, or the death toll would have been far more than 100 persons. At Benkelman marooned train passengers were fed. In McCook vacant houses were rented to shelter homeless families. At Cambridge two food centers were established and numbers of homeless were housed.

The Red Cross searched for the dead. It buried animal carcasses. It imported first typhoid vaccine and then smallpox vaccine as the flood victims seemed threatened with fresh disaster. The Red Cross helped to clean up the debris, rebuild 168 homes and build new ones, helped to feed 5 1/2 families and clothe them, gave 506 families household goods and gave livestock, farm supplies and equipment to 109 families. The Red Cross helped Nebraska... now it is our turn to help the Red Cross. Have you done it?

Zulkoski Committed To State Hospital

Upon an order issued two years ago by the Valley county insanity commission, John G. Zulkoski was taken Monday to the dispensary ward of the state hospital at Lincoln by Sheriff George S. Round and will be confined there for several months while taking treatment to cure him of his excessive liking for intoxicants.

Mr. Zulkoski was committed in March, 1933, but the ward was full so he was given his liberty until a place could be found for him there, good behavior being a condition of the parole.

Last week, despondent because he was unable to get work, Mr. Zulkoski went on another spree and was taken into custody, Thursday being held in county jail until he was taken to Lincoln Monday by the sheriff.

Quiz To Publish Early Next Week

Because next Thursday is Thanksgiving day and therefore a holiday, with no mail being carried on rural routes, the Quiz will be published a day early, either Tuesday night or early Wednesday morning. In order to print the paper early it will be necessary to have all news and advertising copy in the office at least 24 hours earlier than usual and the cooperation of correspondents and advertisers is solicited. Please let us have your copy early.

Contract Tourney Nov. 24. Several Ord players including Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogel, J. D. McCall and others are planning to play in the contract bridge tourney being held by the Elks club of Grand Island next Sunday, Nov. 24. The tournament will be directed by John P. Misko of Ord.

Ord, Arcadia Play To Scoreless Tie; Ord Still Leader

Sargent and Loup City Games To Determine Championship Of Loup Valley Conference.

Though a determined Arcadia team held Coach Brockman's Ord high school Chanticleers to a scoreless tie on a frigid Arcadia field Friday evening, the Chanticleers retained their lead in the Loup valley conference race and if they succeed in defeating Sargent and Loup City in coming games will win the bunting for the first time since the conference was formed.

The game Friday night was a thriller witnessed by a crowd of over 500. Throughout the first half Ord dominated but failed to cash in on three scoring opportunities, a penalty balking the first chance and strong opposition by the injury-ridden Arcadia team thwarting Ord twice.

Field Goal Went Wide. In the third period the tide changed, Arcadia uncorking a menacing offense that drove to Ord's three-yard line before an attempted field goal went wide and gave Ord the ball on their own 20-yard line.

It was Harold Haskell's punting that saved the Chanticleers on several occasions. Kicking for the sidelines to keep the ball away from Arcadia's flashy Indian quarterback, he placed the ball unerringly out of bounds, once on the Arcadia 12-yard line.

Many Boys Injured. Both teams played hard, clean football but so fierce was the action that several injuries resulted. In the first few minutes of play Dorsey suffered a broken finger and left the game, Tunniff aggravated his back injury and may not play again this year, Richardson suffered an injured ankle and leg and was on crutches the next day, although he lasted most of the game, and other Arcadia players suffered minor injuries.

Friday night Ord meets Sargent on Russell park field in a game that will have a decided bearing on the championship award. Sargent was beaten by a greatly improved St. Paul team but is strong competition for Ord, which will be minus the services of Tunniff and Richardson. Should Sargent outscore the Ord boys the race will be wide open, with Arcadia Loup City, St. Paul and Sargent as well as Ord, all having a chance to tie for the banner.

Leggett Home for Week-End. Senator and Mrs. H. D. Leggett returned to Ord for the week-end arriving Saturday evening. Sunday afternoon Mr. Leggett returned to Lincoln, his wife remaining in Ord. The legislature will adjourn some time this week Senator Leggett said.

Nebraska's 4-H Champions

It is an imposing array of rural boys and girls who compose the 1935 Nebraska 4-H club championship group. L. I. Frisbie, state club leader at the Nebraska college of agriculture, just recently made the announcement of the winners. The champions: Elsie Bernasek, Fillmore county, canning; Agnes Bruss, Lancaster county, cooking; Keith Gilmore, Custer county, baby beef; Frank Krivohlavek, Saline county, swine; Frances Rehmeier, Cass county, home economics; and Russell Pfeiffer, Douglas county, meat animal. All winners, except Pfeiffer, receive prize trips to the National Club Congress which opens in Chicago late this month. They will accompany a delegation of approximately 50 boys and girls to the 4-H event.

Dean Barta Kills Big Goose, Beats Father's Record

In over 20 years of hunting on the North Loup river Dr. F. A. Barta never killed a wild goose. He killed hundreds of ducks but somehow the goose flight always missed him. On the other hand his son Dean, in his first season of hunting, has already killed two geese, the first a Hutchins goose about two weeks ago and the second a 12-pound Canada goose which he killed Saturday on a creek near Elyria. An inveterate hunter, Dean has developed into an excellent wing shot by shooting crows and now the Barta family feasts on pheasants, ducks, geese, rabbits and squirrels often as result of Dean's prowess.

McMullens Observe 50th Anniversary

For 50 years William L. McMullen, sr., and Cora McMullen have lived together as husband and wife.

They have travelled together, hand in hand, side by side, heart to heart in sickness and in health, one in spirit, one in truth and one in purpose. They have fully exemplified that which makes America and free government—safe and secure—the homes of the nation.

On November 10, 1885, William L. McMullen and Cora McMullen were married in the Methodist church at Ord, Nebr. 200 guests were present.

On November 10, 1935, in their home in Burwell, 100 friends, a number who have known them all these 50 years and more met to congratulate them, wish them well, and ask God's blessings for them, for what they are and have been to this community, to the country and to themselves and their family.

Their home was tastefully decorated and refreshments were served to all callers. Their children and grandchildren were all present. Three or four who attended the wedding 50 years ago were there. Mrs. Hattie Scribner, who was bridesmaid, and W. T. Barstow of Lincoln and Mrs. M. B. Goodenow of Burwell, who were wedding guests.

On a table in the parlor was a very interesting display of the presents given them on their wedding day, carefully preserved, cherished and loved for half a century. Guests were present from far and near and telegrams and letters to the scores from coast to coast and from Canada to Mexico, were received from those who sent love and congratulations. It was in reality a moving and inspiring marriage anniversary and one that impressed those present with the glory and sanctity of marriage vows sacredly kept—Burwell Tribune.

Clements, Kroger, File For Re-Election

E. P. CLEMENTS

ERNEST G. KROGER

Thursday at Lincoln Irl D. Tolen, deputy secretary of state, announced receipt of the filings of Judge E. P. Clements, Ord, and Judge Ernest G. Kroger, Grand Island, for re-election as district judges in the 11th judicial district.

Judge Clements is completing his third elective term in this office, also having filled out an appointive term. Judge Kroger is completing his first term, having been appointed by Governor Bryan to fill out the term of Ralph R. Horth, deceased.

Both judges are highly regarded by constituents and it is extremely unlikely that any other candidates will file.

Pentecostal Church Notes. And as it is appointed unto man once to die, but after this the judgment.—Heb. 9:27. Cottage prayer meeting is to be held at the parsonage Friday night at 7:30. Sunday school, Sunday morning, 10 o'clock. Evening service, 7:30 p. m. Let us keep in mind the Sunday services and have 100 percent attendance. Midweek service, Wednesday night, 7:30. We invite you to attend any one or all of these services.

Christian Church Notes. Bible school at 10 o'clock followed by the worship service. This will be a Thanksgiving service and each one is expected to take some part. The women of the church have decided to continue the mid-week prayer meeting. They will meet tonight (Thursday) with Miss King. The barrel of fruit for the Child Saving Institute was packed and sent this week. December first is Woman's Day and the Woman's Missionary Society will have charge of the worship service for that day.

Methodist Church. "Girls' Day" next Sunday at the Sunday school and morning worship hour. Mrs. Hardenbrook is chairman of committee on arrangements. No evening service, as we dismiss to attend the special meetings at the Presbyterian church. Each Sunday of this present month has been a "special day" at the church service, and while the weather has been bad each Sunday, the committees in charge have had special features, and the attendance had been good, considering the unfavorable conditions. Our first quarterly conference comes December 1st. The district superintendent will be with us. Further announcement next week. Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Book Week Now Being Observed At Ord Library

Being Observed At Ord Library

Many New Books on Shelves, Will Be Checked Out On Saturday Evening.

In observance of National Book week, a week set aside throughout the country for particularly stressing the value of books and literature, the Ord city library has on display several dozen new books. These books will be on display all week and will not be checked out until between the hours of eight and nine on Saturday evening. Librarian Grace Pullen states:

Gasoline Price In Ord Is Coming Down
Yesterday the Service Oil company put into effect a 1c per gallon reduction in the price of their top grade gasoline, thereby taking the first step in what may develop into a "gasoline war" in Ord such as is raging in St. Paul and other central Nebraska cities. Questioned by the Quiz about the reason for this drop in price Fred Buchink said it was done "to bring the cost of gasoline in Ord more nearly in line with prices charged in other towns, some of which are abnormally low."

Sioux Falls Man Dropped Dead In Ord Restaurant

Heart Attack Claimed Insurance Man Wednesday Night, Body Shipped to Chicago.

Just as he was eating supper at the New Cafe last Wednesday evening, F. F. McGinnis, 55, a Sioux Falls, S. D., insurance man, dropped dead as result of a heart attack. Several other diners hastened to his assistance, Dr. F. A. Barta was called, but he was beyond aid.

Executive of the National Policy Holders Life Insurance association, McGinnis was travelling in Nebraska with a view to establishing agencies. He was accompanied by E. F. Blum, who was dining with him when his death occurred.

Leaves Wife, Children. McGinnis was married and his family lives in Bismarck, N. D. The body was taken to the Sowl funeral parlors and Friday was shipped to Chicago for burial. No inquest was held here, his death clearly being a result of heart failure.

According to Mrs. Partridge, owner of Hotel Ord where McGinnis was registered, the insurance man had been ill and confined to his room most of the day. He told her that he frequently had such attacks, which he called gastritis, or acute indigestion.

Was Wealthy Man. Mr. Blum, his companion, called at the Quiz office Friday to ask this newspaper to express his thanks to the many Ord people who offered assistance. "You surely have a friendly town here," he said.

McGinnis was quite a wealthy man, Blum says, having $50,000 in life insurance, much stock in the Sioux Falls company and considerable other property. He recently returned to the middle west from Spokane, Wash., where he had been interested in an insurance company. He was a thirty-second degree Mason and Ord members of that organization were quick to extend aid in making arrangements for the preparation and shipment of his body.

Staff Is Chosen For Ord Annual

The staff for the Ord high school 1936 annual was elected by a ballot vote last Wednesday. Editor of the 1936 Chanticleer is Eva Umstead. Kenneth Egglehoff was elected business manager. Charlotte Blesinger will have charge of photography, Evelyn Loft departmental and Maxine Jones art.

Due to the fact that two out of four classes have failed during the last four years in an attempt to publish a high school annual, it was decided that the annual would be sponsored by the activities association, thus making it a school project. It was further announced that the school would sponsor a carnival, profits of which would be added to the annual fund and the senior class will contribute to the project as a gift from the class. It was required that the editor and business manager be seniors, the other members being chosen at large from the classmen.

University of Nebraska Cow Holder of World Milk Record

Lincoln, Neb.—La Vertex Quantity, better known as "Quantity" or "Old Quantity", still remains the pride of the University of Nebraska herd at the University of Nebraska here. "Old Quantity" is the present holder of the world's life time milk production record, and, according to Prof. H. P. Davis, chairman of the department of dairy husbandry, she also holds the United States life time butterfat production record.

The cow has 227,831.8 pounds of milk to her credit and 8,455.4 pounds of fat. She and her dam have given 402,715.2 pounds of milk and 14,437.5 pounds of fat to give them the world's life time combination record.

She is now a twelve-year-old. "Old Quantity's" last annual record was 24,242.2 pounds of milk and 819.10 pounds of butterfat and as a four-year-old she produced 27,465.9 pounds of milk and 1,062.63 pounds of butterfat in 365 days.

The University of Nebraska dairy herd consists of 140 animals of the four principal breeds, Holsteins, Guernseys, Jerseys, and Ayrshires. The herd was started with a few animals in 1897. In that year seven cows averaged 307 pounds of butterfat and 6,510 pounds of milk. In 1934 the average per cow for 50 cows was 153 pounds of butterfat and 13,607 pounds of milk. This represents all breeds. The Holsteins averaged much higher than the others.

The herd has been improved through the application of sound principles of breeding, feeding, and housing. The college students have benefited from having the herd available for classroom use, and experimental work has been carried on also with the herd. Three-time and four-time milking studies show that considerable increase in production has resulted in certain instances from increasing the number of daily milkings. Extensive studies of the growth of dairy cattle have shown that skeletal maturity is reached in 60 months and that growth is even over the animal body. At present studies are being made of mastitis, the udder infection that causes stringy milk and so often ruins a cow's ability to produce.

Early Day Rose Hill Teacher Describes Pioneer School History of Garfield Co.

By HANNAH QUINN

In 1882 I came to the wild and woolly west, just in my youth, having passed grammar grade in school. No chance here for getting to school for four years. Then grasping an opportunity, I reviewed my work for two years, a three months term in spring and fall under County Superintendent Andrew Phillips. I taught my first term at Rose Hill District, beginning in March 1891, a term of three months at $25 per month, no cash in treasury, discount 10% was taken (now wages are much better). The school board consisted of George Bullis, J. B. Ashman and Leonard Hatfield. Fourteen pupils were enrolled, Etta Lenten, Edith Carson, Ethel Hale, Agnes Connor, Emma Ashman, Edith Butterfield, Maggie Connor, Ida Errington, Garfield Errington, Bryan Errington, Loran Butterfield, Jonathan Connor, Thomas Connor and Edward O'Hara, some of them driving a distance of eight miles. I rode horseback eight miles. It was a sod school house, 12x14 ft., lumber roof covered with tar paper and sod, a native cedar tree for a ridgepole, home-made desks and seats, dirt floor, a board painted for a black board 2x3 ft. Each pupil furnished his own books and other supplies.

I well remember the bright and smiling faces as they came each day in all kinds of weather, sometimes all covered with snow, sometimes all wet with rain, ready to start their day's work in the room heated by condensed hay (buffalo chips), twisted hay, plumb brush and willow brush, encountering many blizzards. On one occasion I dismissed school and guarded the building, our horses and buggies from prairie fire by backfire until help arrived. The closest farmer was one mile away. Often on a rainy morning, Gossamer covered, I would mount my pony and jauntingly wend my way through a canyon over slippery, muddy hills through the valley to the little old soddy to meet the smiling faces ready for work. And often we would meet unwelcome guests such as wary toads, sand turtles, bull snakes and sand vipers which we invited to vacate in a hurry.

On one occasion the roof cover was torn off by wind, letting the rain in. We took refuge under the ridgepole and one corner, the only dry spot in the room. The floor became so wet we were obliged to vacate, finishing our oral lessons for the day out in the sunshine, after the rain cleared away.

We closed our school with a picnic, all patrons joining in a jolly good time. Music was furnished for the program on an accordion by Pete Mohr. The children rendered the program very satisfactory to parents and teacher.

Thus closed one perfect day by a dance in the picnic bowery that night.

After a few years a two-room frame building was erected and high school has been taught, of which the community is very proud.

For a period of five years I continued teaching in Garfield county under similar circumstances with the exception of two terms in the Banner district, in which I had a nice frame building, and coal to burn to heat it. Thirty-two pupils were enrolled during the fall of 1892 and spring of 1893. After my marriage in 1894 I taught a year in Erinia Dist. No. 11 in a soddy. Five pupils were enrolled. I was director of the board when the new school house, barn and coal house was built in 1901-'02, of which the community is very proud and since a nine months' term has been taught each year with the enrollment of as high as 32 pupils.

George Nathan Bryson.
After a long and complicated battle for life, lasting over a period of several months, George Nathan Bryson, passed away at the Clarkson Hospital in Omaha, Nebraska, on Tuesday morning, Nov. 12, 1935. He passed on much in the same spirit in which he lived, thoughtful of self, and considerate to the end of those whom he would be compelled to leave behind. His age at death, 58 years, 10 months and 4 days.

George Bryson was born at Adams, Neb., on January 6, 1877, to Silas and Clarinda Bryson, the 14th of a family of fifteen children. The home to which he came was distinctively religious, and his life has been full of love for his family, neighbors and friends. His father and mother were instrumental in organizing and supporting the First Methodist church at Adams. He was a member of the Methodist church of Arcadia and loyal to the end.

On February 15, 1899 at Adams, occurred his marriage to Bertha Yockey. This home was blessed with three children, all of whom are living. The year following his marriage, Mr. Bryson came to this section of the state, where he has resided for 35 years.

He had been in recent months, a leader and great help in the interest of his school district, helping plan and build a fine building for the children about him. This was his last enterprise before his death, and his visit to the new building his last trip before he left for the hospital. This little building stands as a memory of a man who wanted others to succeed and the lives of the pupils will be a living memory of his work and interest. He leaves to mourn, his wife and three daughters, Mrs. Maude Milburn of Lander, Wyo., Mrs. Helen Fritts of Meriden, Kas., and Fern Ann at home, two brothers and five sisters. Dave of Ashby, Neb., John A. of Coleman, Tex., Mrs. Mollie Barmore, of Adams, Mrs. Ruth Bassett of Bayard, Mrs. Viola Shepherd of Ridgeport, Mrs. Gertrude Evans, Tuscon, Ariz., and Mrs. Lucretia Barnhouse of Wheeler, Kas. besides five granddaughters. Other relatives and friends would number high.

The services were held at the Arcadia Methodist church on Friday afternoon, November 14th, Rev. Lawrence Nye officiating. Music was furnished by Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Finey, Mrs. C. C. Weddel, Harold D. Weddel, and Mrs. Lawrence Nye. Pall bearers were Paul Holmes, John Jewell, Elmer Bridges, Earl Snodgrass, S. V. Hansen and C. H. Downing. The flowers were many and beautiful.

Those attending the funeral from out of town were J. A. Bryson, Coleman, Tex. D. F. Bryson, Ashby, Mrs. Viola Shepherd, Ridgeport, Mrs. Ruth Bassett, Bayard, Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Bryson, Calloway, Rubeen Bryson, Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Larsen, Mr. and Mrs. James Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Yockey, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tolson, all from Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Jack F...

Abbott, Mrs. Albert Bryant, Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Yockey, Halsey, Mrs. M. C. Galloway, Mrs. Loran Galloway, Mr. E. W. Galloway all of Merna, Mrs. Vernon Rosenquist, Omaha, and a number of friends from Comstock.

Cecil Weddel went to Loup City to meet Rev. Howell who held services in the Congregational church Sunday morning and evening. Mr. Howell is a candidate and Monday afternoon there will be a meeting to vote for a minister for regular services.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Crosby of Ord were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne.

Clyde Hawthorne and Walter Sorensen were in Hastings on business Wednesday. Dr. Kibby of Beatrice is opening a dental office in the rooms vacated by Dr. Warren.

Mrs. Clyde Spencer and baby Joyce are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Smith for a week. Mr. Spencer drove up from Loup City with them Saturday and returned home the same evening. Marie Owens will take charge as noble grand in the Rebekah lodge, left vacant by Lucille Bossen Higgins.

A test well by Allie Duryea at 80 feet found plenty of water to supply the city of Arcadia.

Mrs. Glenn Sordorf of North Platte came Sunday for a visit in the home of Russell Jones. Tuesday afternoon friends will have a miscellaneous shower and reception for her in the Russell Jones home. She was married a few weeks ago.

Christensen-Greenland.

MRS. THOMAS GREENLAND.

The marriage of Miss Mildred Christensen, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen, to Thomas Greenland, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George Greenland of Arcadia took place at high noon at the home of the bride's parents. The marriage lines were read by Rev. Melvin Off of Lincoln. Miss Helen McComb sang "I Love You Truly", as Miss Lockwood played the accompaniment. The young brides were friends from Shelton. The bride wore a very pretty green afternoon gown with accessories to match. Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Christensen, grandparents of the bride and who were celebrating their 54th wedding anniversary were bridesmaid and groomsmen. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served the wedding party and immediate relatives. After a wedding trip to Lincoln to visit the bride's sister, Miss Margaret, who attends university and to Omaha to visit Miss Anna Greenland who is taking nurse's training at the Clarkson hospital, Mr. and Mrs. Greenland will be at home on a farm near her parents. Both of these young people have lived and grown up near Arcadia. We extend congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Miller from North Platte, with Mrs. J. P. Ford, motored to Arcadia for the week end and visited many friends during their brief stay. Mr. and Mrs. Miller visited Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lueck over Saturday night and among those whom they called on were Mr. and Mrs. Brady Masters, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Braden, Mr. and Mrs. Lem Knapp and to North Loup to visit friends.

Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Camp were taken to the Hospital for tonsilectomy Saturday.

Roy Clark was quite badly bruised and some bones broken when he lost his balance in doing some work while in Bassett last week. He is fortunate that his fall was not more serious.

Arietta Ingraham and Mr. and Mrs. John Ingraham were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Wednesday. Mrs. Dave Ingraham returned to North Loup after a few days visit.

Mr. Fenster writes his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louie Fenster, he is seeing many wonderful sights and is now on his way to Santa Ana, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruikshank were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Parker.

Mrs. Edith Bossen and Mrs. C. A. Eastbrook called at the home of Mrs. Bryson Sunday afternoon.

Eiton Toops was again taken to Omaha and had his arm attended to, which was broken in playing football.

Bridge club will be entertained at the home of Mrs. Jennie Lee Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott entertained Mr. and Mrs. Prather and family and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Benson Sunday at dinner.

Mrs. Harvey Barr and Mrs. Martin Person visited Mrs. Guy Jensen Wednesday and spent the afternoon quilting.

Edna Elliott spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott.

George Brandenburg and Douglas True visited in Arcadia with some folks over the week end, returning to Potter.

Evelyn Brandenburg was a week end visitor with Vera Carver in North Loup.

The annual M. E. Aid supper will be Saturday night. A 10 pound baby girl was born to Dr. and Mrs. Warren Monday, November 18, 1935 and has been named Barbara Dee.

Auxiliary ladies met Friday in the home of Mrs. Schuela. Hostesses were Mrs. Schuela and Mrs. Warren. The afternoon was spent working on a quilt and making toys for Christmas.

Arthur Pierson was a visitor in Ord Saturday evening and Sunday. Bill George shipped a carload of sheep to Omaha Sunday. Mr. George and N. A. Lewin drove to Omaha the same day.

Mrs. Vernon Rosenquist left on the bus for Omaha Saturday morning. Her mother, Mrs. W. H. Cadwell whom she has been caring for the past month is much improved from the accident which wrenched her back and side about six weeks ago.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Mark Murray entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Fagan in honor of their mother Mrs. Bridget Fagan, who was 86 years old. Those present were Mrs. Jack Wilson, Mrs. Millie Cramer, Mrs. Abe Duryea, Mrs. Merle Myers and two granddaughters, Patsy and Ann Lundell. A dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

The neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Bennie Chlewicki took well filled baskets and surprised them by helping celebrate their birthdays which occurred the same week.

Mrs. Floyd Bossen gave a bridge party Thursday afternoon at her home.

Jerome Wood, who is at the hospital in Omaha, writes he is feeling much better but does not say when he will be home. He is taking treatments and may have an operation soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fowler who are on a large ranch near Brewster and have two large herds of cattle, white face and angus, milk 20 cows, will raise 100 calves another year, and with the help of their son farm with a tractor, and are busy people. They drove down to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Welby, over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson returned home Tuesday from Torrington, Wyo., where they have had work since last April. On their way home they visited relatives in Haxton, Colo.

ONE MILLION FORD V-8 CARS AND TRUCKS IN TEN MONTHS

ON OCTOBER 31 of last year, Henry Ford announced his intention to build a million Ford V-8s in 1935. We are pleased to report that this goal was reached in exactly ten months instead of a full year.

One million cars and trucks is an impressive total. But figures by themselves mean nothing. It is what they represent that counts. Selling a V-8 at a low price has brought a new kind of automobile within reach of the people. Producing it has provided steady work for hundreds of thousands of men in the Ford plants, in associated industries and on the farm.

These million Ford V-8 cars and trucks have helped to make things better all around. In the first ten months of 1935 the Ford Motor Company paid out in the United States alone, $140,119,326.00 for wages and $523,111,389.00 for materials.

Drone Bee Dies After Mating

After mating with the queen bee the drone dies a moment later. The queen bee lays eggs after this one mating the rest of her life—three or four years.

Use of Double Negative

In Anglo-Saxon, Greek, French and some other languages, the double negative acts only as a negative intensifier. In modern English it destroys the force of the first negative; in other words, two negatives make an affirmative.

Isn't It Funny

that real estate, and interest in real estate, forms the bulk of this nation's wealth, and yet the average citizen knows less about title matters than he does about sports?

TITLES are tricky things. A change of wording or punctuation, a mis-spelled name, or an error in recording can cause untold grief and expense in years to come.

Recently a deed was brought into this office with the request that we look up the name of the record owner and see if it agreed with that upon the deed. We found that the name of the owner varied from the way in which he executed the deed—that the marriage relationship was not shown—that the township and range were not correctly stated—and that the deed conveyed a "full" interest in the real estate, whereas the owner had only a 1-6 interest. Of course, correction of these matters was made before the deed was delivered for recording, and considerable expense saved.

Use our records and experience, and protect yourself against future trouble and expense. DON'T BUY A "PIG IN A POKE"!
We have the only set of abstract books and records in Valley County, and we solicit your patronage.

Victory Today Will Cinch Valley Title For Brockman Clan

Sargent Defeated Handily 12-0 Friday, Loup City Coming For Turkey Day Clash.

Flashing the most powerful offense they have shown since early season, the twice-tied but undefeated Ord high school Chanticleers beat Sargent 12 to 0 Friday night to retain top ranking in the Loup valley conference. Victory today over the fast Loup City team will give Ord its first championship since the conference was organized. Defeat today would leave the conference title unsettled, with several teams having the right to claim a share of it.

Minus the services of Quarterback Don Tunnick last week, Coach Brockman's boys put on a splendid exhibition of power and speed that had the Sargent team gasping. Furthermore, Ord's defense was so excellent that Sargent made not a single first down achieved without the aid of penalties.

Mella Flashy Runner.

Dale Mella proved a capable understudy for Tunnick. Playing the safety position, he made several excellent run-backs of punts and also caught a pass that put the ball in position for Ord's second touchdown. Mella is a fast, shifty runner and he furnished thrills for the large crowd as he eluded his way through Sargent tacklers.

Marks, Haskell and Koelling turned in their usual competent performances, all being strong factors in the scoring although Haskell actually plunged for both touchdowns. Koelling's fine passing, Marks' off-tackle slashes and Haskell's fine punting and powerful plunging kept Sargent off balance throughout the game. All the Ord linemen did wonderful work with Clark, the center, End Blessing, Guards Jones and Fray and Tackles Hughes and Rose playing a good share of the game.

Dick Koupal substituted capably for End Cotak during most of the fray. Richardson, hurt in the Arcadia game, acquitted himself with honor during the two periods he served against Sargent, although Hughes, his substitute, showed himself capable of handling the assignment. Coach Brockman substituted freely and the substitutes carried on quite as capably as the first-stringers.

Loup City Takes Beating.

While Ord was over-powering Sargent the Loup City team was taking an 18 to 0 thumping at the hands of Gothenburg, which team is one of Nebraska's strongest high school outfits. Fact that the Loup boys could hold Gothenburg to such a low score shows they will prove tough competition for Ord today.

On the basis of comparative scores Loup City and Ord should be very evenly matched, with a slight edge going to Loup City. Today's game will be played in the afternoon at Bussell park and Ord school officials are expecting the largest crowd of the year. Band Leader Dean S. Duncan has been working strenuously on a between-halves band pageant that will be more than worth the price of admission.

With a chance to cop the Loup valley conference banner for the first time in history, the Ord boys really are taking this game seriously and if they are beat today it will be because Loup City has even more of a do-or-die spirit.

O. A. Abbott Files For District Judge

O. A. Abbott, jr., former mayor of Grand Island and court reporter for District Judges Hanna and Clements in this district for 24 years, filed Saturday for nomination to the office of district judge in this judicial district. Judges Edwin P. Clements and E. G. Kroger, present incumbents, announced their candidacies several days before.

Mr. Abbott's filing came as a surprise to Ord friends, none of whom had known of his intentions. The Quiz understands that he has resigned as court reporter for Judge Clements.

Nursery School To Reopen December 2

Under the supervision of Mrs. Frank Andersen, the Ord nursery school will open next Monday, Dec. 2. Official orders to start the school have been received and at the present time equipment is being made ready, parents are being interviewed and necessary supplies are being ordered preparatory to opening.

Miss Agnes Saunders, state supervisor and Carl Hansen, district PWA man were in Ord last week in the interests of the project. Assisting Mrs. Andersen will be Mrs. Ella Hughes as nurse and housekeeper and Mrs. Opal Burrows as assistant instructor and cook.

84 Students Given Diphtheria Serum

Thursday morning 84 high school, grade school and pre-school children were inoculated for diphtheria at the grade school building. In charge of the work was Mrs. E. C. Weller and she was assisted by Miss Emma Hansen. Last year 360 students were inoculated against diphtheria, this bringing the total to 444 which will insure almost complete protection against an epidemic in this community.

The group this year included those who were absent or ill at the time the work was done last year, new students who have moved into the community and students who signed for the inoculation last year but who were unable to take it because of a shortage of serum. The work was handled financially the same as last year, 50c being charged all students if they were able to pay. About twelve pre-school children, under five years of age, were inoculated Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Tom Rockhold Dies In California

Mrs. I. J. Thein, of North Loup, received word Monday morning that her mother, Mrs. T. Rockhold, passed away at 5:30 p. m. at her home in Stockton, Calif., as a result of a heart attack. She was 84 years old. The Rockholds lived in Ord for many years.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a. m. Tuesday, Nov. 26, in Stockton and interment was in Park View cemetery beside her husband who died in October, 1934.

More Gods Than People In India - Mrs. Lubbers

Many Idols Worshipped, Says Speaker at Ord Church's Special Services.

India has over 355 million people but it has even more gods, said Mrs. George Lubbers, returned missionary who addressed audiences at the Presbyterian church's special service Sunday and Monday evenings. In time of famine the rain god, Indran, is invoked; during smallpox scourges the goddess Mariama must be worshipped; each new moon special ceremonies are observed and animal sacrifices offered to appease the anger of the gods.

Mrs. Lubbers speaks of India as a land of wayside shrines, of temples, of festivals. Each festival has its own significance; the festival of "lights" in November, the festival of "first fruits" after the harvest, the "fire walking" when cows are worshipped, their horns painted red and green, their necks adorned with beads and flower garlands. Mrs. Lubbers will tell more about the people of India Friday evening.

Rev. Harry A. Miller, another missionary speaking at the Presbyterian church meetings this week, was scheduled last night to tell about the pygmies of the Ituri forest in Africa. These diminutive people are very shy, do not allow outsiders to learn their language and live a nomadic life, Rev. Miller says. Their food consists of wild berries, roots, bananas and wild game.

Other speakers at the Presbyterian rally include F. G. Knauer, from Cameron, West Africa, and Leo Lapp, from Yunnan, China. The special services began November 24 and continue until December 8. Attendance so far has been very pleasing to Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., the local pastor.

St. Paul Couple Won Bridge Tournery

Ralph Haggart and P. Christensen, of St. Paul, won top ranking in the bridge tournament held at the Elks club in Grand Island Sunday in which sixty couples competed including Dr. F. A. Baria, Mrs. Keith Lewis, J. D. McCall and Lyle McBeth of Ord. The tournament was directed by John P. Misko of Ord.

Two couples, Herman Buckow and Wm. Mullen, of Grand Island, and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Cook of Fremont, tied for second. The Baria-Lewis pair from Ord finished sixth. Most of the players entered have competed at contract tournaments at Ord in former years and most of them have agreed to enter the third annual Loup valley tournament to be held here after the holidays.

Don Miller Will Sell.

Donald Miller is advertising a clean-up sale to be held next Tuesday, Dec. 5. He is planning to quit farming, will move to town and operate the Ed Michalek battery station which he is purchasing, says Mr. Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. McAllister drove to Grand Island last week end to visit Mr. McAllister's mother, Mrs. Mary McAllister.

Ord Business Men To Sponsor Silver Strike Days Again

Feature Popular Last Xmas Is Being Revived; $300 Will Be Distributed Free.

Reviving the "Silver Strike" feature that proved so popular during the holiday season of 1934, business men of Ord today announce that $300 will be distributed free to people who trade in Ord during the next four weeks. $75 in cash will be given away each Saturday, beginning Saturday, Nov. 31 and continuing until the Saturday before Christmas.

About 125 Ord business houses and professional men will take part in the Silver Strike campaign this year and will give the Strike coupons to customers. Silver Strike awards will be made at 1:30 p. m. each Saturday. The prize money will be divided as follows: First prize, $25; second prize $10; third and fourth prizes, $5 each; fifth to nineteenth prizes, $2 each.

Most Merchants In.

Complete details of this offer may be secured from any Silver Strike merchant, which includes most of the business men of Ord. Large window placards will be used to designate those taking part in the Silver Strike offer.

The prize awards are open to the world, only exception being Silver Strike merchants themselves, their employes and members of their families. Anybody else is eligible to register, deposit his coupon or coupons in the ballot boxes that will be located at strategic positions around the square, and claim his prize if his coupon is selected. Winners must be present when the awards are made or other coupons will be selected.

Come to Ord Saturday and throughout the next four weeks and participate in this unusual distribution of cash prizes. Ord is a good place to trade, holiday stocks are complete and the Silver Strike prizes are merely an added inducement.

60-Year Resident Of Greeley Passes

Funeral rites were held at Greeley Monday afternoon for Charles T. Weekes, 78, who passed away unexpectedly Saturday at the country home of his daughter, Mrs. Albert Anderson near Greeley. His death was due to heart disease from which he had suffered for the past two years. He was a brother of the late W. B. Weekes of Ord and was an uncle of Dr. C. W. Weekes of this city.

Mr. Weekes was a resident of Greeley county for sixty years, having homesteaded in O'Connor vicinity. He served as Greeley county treasurer from 1902 to 1906. Three sons and three daughters survive. Several Ord relatives and friends drove to Greeley for the funeral Monday.

Husking Bee Planned For Mrs. Ruth Cushing

Friends and neighbors of Mrs. Ruth Cushing are planning a husking bee at the Cushing farm for Friday of this week, and any and all friends of Mrs. Cushing and her late husband, Marlon J. Cushing, are invited to take part. Men with teams and wagons are especially desired but all other huskers are welcome also. Women of the neighborhood are taking in pies, cakes and a variety of other good things for the noon dinner. Ord business men are contributing cash for the purchase of meats and a big meal will be served to all the huskers.

Mrs. Cushing was appointed 7th district representative to succeed her husband and has been in Lincoln for the past month, therefore has been unable to make arrangements to have her crop harvested. By means of this husking bee her friends plan to relieve her of all worry in connection with her corn crop.

Dan Dugan Leases Cha's. Brown Station

Dan Dugan, of Oakdale, Neb., last week signed a lease for the filling station on the southeast corner of the Ord square, built by the late C. C. Brown and operated for the past several months by A. B. Slechts and son, Harold. The Slechts are returning to their former home in Iowa.

Harold T. Harmon will have charge of the Dugan station and moved his family to Ord Friday. They are living in one of Mrs. Wentworth's houses.

Mr. Dugan, in partnership with his brother-in-law, operates filling stations at Osmond, Creighton, Plainview and Oakdale. The White Eagle line of petroleum products will be sold in the Ord station and an extensive advertising campaign is planned.

North Loup Men Have Shooting Contest, Kill 744 Crows

Because Floyd Redlon's team killed 498 crows while Bates Copeland's team was killing only 246, the Redlon shooters were guests of the Copeland men at an oyster supper served in the Legion hall at North Loup Friday evening. The two captains are friendly rivals in the barber business at North Loup and members of their teams were North Loup business men. A total of 744 crows were killed during the contest. In this photograph by Wm. Vodehnal, Floyd Redlon, left, is being congratulated by Mr. Copeland while in the foreground is seen the pile of crow heads the men had just finished counting.

WPA Sewing Project Started Monday, Will Last 4 Months

Mrs. Alvin Hill Supervisor, 10 Women To Tave Employment; Total Cost Is $3,703.

A WPA sewing project that will give employment to ten women and a supervisor for the next four months got under way in Ord Monday, says H. Dale Park, WPA supervisor for this district. The rear room in the C. A. Hager & Company office building is being used and three sewing machines and other necessary equipment have been installed.

Mrs. Alvin Hill was named supervisor of the project, which will cost approximately $3,700 to carry out, including cost of materials.

Employable women on the relief rolls will be given jobs on this project. Working in shifts, each will put in 136 hours per month and will receive a monthly wage of $32. Garments and supplies for unemployed relief clients of Valley and Garfield counties will be manufactured, WPA officials say.

Two Couples United In Marriage Tuesday

Tuesday morning at 9:00 o'clock Miss Barbara Golka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Golka and Otis Burson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Burson, both of Ord, were united in marriage at the Geranium Catholic church, Father Thees performing the ceremony.

The bride was beautifully dressed in white satin, with a flowing white lace veil. She carried a bouquet of pink roses. Bridesmaids were Florence Golka and Lydia Ptacnik. They were attractively dressed in yellow satin and carried yellow roses. Attendants of the groom were Elmer Powell of Canada and Frank Fryzek.

At the Elyria Catholic church at the same time, Father Ziolkowski united in marriage Miss Rose Golka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Golka and Richard Fritzgibbons. The bride was also dressed in white satin and carried roses. The bridesmaids were Misses Clara Silver and Adeline Kusek. They were dressed in green satin and carried yellow roses. Attendants of the groom were Edmund Augustyn and Floyd Silver.

Following the weddings both couples were honored at a reception at the Frank Golka home. A great many friends and relatives were present. Tuesday evening a dance was given for them at National hall, music being furnished by Lukes' orchestra.

Notley Scott Dies At Murray, Iowa

Notley Scott, 62, pioneer central Nebraska telephone man, passed away Friday, Nov. 15, at the home of his aunt, Mrs. Hattie Bingham, in Murray, Ia., the Quiz learns. He had been in failing health for a year before his death. At the age of 13 Mr. Scott came to central Nebraska with his parents and settled in Broken Bow where he learned telephone work and became known all over this part of his brother. Better known in Ord as Jim Scott, he worked for the Independent Telephone Company while living in Ord.

Guests at the Entre Nous Kensington club which met with Mrs. Harry McBeth Friday afternoon were Madams George Parkins and George Parkins, jr.

Gas Price Cutter At St. Paul Is Fined

The demoralized price condition of gasoline at St. Paul has had an adverse effect upon general business conditions in Ord for some time as it attracted considerable trade from the southeast territory. The Quiz has reliable information that the chief disturber there was convicted and heavily fined last Saturday for selling adulterated gasoline, also that gas prices in St. Paul have been restored to normal.

Red Cross Drive Ends Today; To Be Short of Quota

The annual Red Cross roll call in Valley county will end today but apparently the county will fall far short of its quota, said John P. Misko, roll call chairman, yesterday. The county quota is 360 and so far about 180 members have been signed, he estimated. Only estimates are available from North Loup and Arcadia so total membership may be higher than is now thought, Mr. Misko said.

A. F. Brown, Former Ord Druggist, Dies

A. F. Brown, 68, at one time a druggist in Ord and for 30 years owner of a drug store in Dunning, Neb., died suddenly on Monday Nov. 18, the Quiz learns from copies of Denver newspapers sent to him by his stepdaughter, Mrs. Charles C. Davis, of Denver. Since last January Mr. Brown had been living in Barnum, a suburb of Denver, and managing a pharmacy. Mr. Brown seemingly was in the best of health on the morning of his death and was preparing to go to a wholesale house. He had stepped out to the rear of his store where he was struck very suddenly with a heart attack. He died before professional help could reach him.

The former Ord man is mourned by his widow, Mrs. Beesie Brown, one daughter, Mrs. Chester G. Swan, and two stepsons, Charles C. and W. H. Davis, all of Denver.

Ord's 'Organized Agriculture' Day Program Arranged

Everybody Cooperating 100 Per Cent, Dale Says; Expects An Enormous Crowd.

"If we don't have a blizzard on Tuesday, December 10, the 'Organized Agriculture' program here will be the finest, best attended and most successful meeting we have ever sponsored," prophesied G. C. Dale, Valley county agricultural agent, yesterday as he announced plans for the session.

Everybody is cooperating 100 per cent to make the day successful, Dale says. The Ord chamber of commerce is sponsoring the "fun feed" to be held at 6:00 p. m. at the Masonic hall and tickets will be sold at the minimum price of 35c each, the chamber underwriting balance of the cost. Moreover, the chamber's retail division is soliciting a group of prizes which will be awarded by lot to people registered at the day-time sessions.

Must Register Early.

To have a chance on these prizes people must register at the Ord high school auditorium between 9:30 and 10:00 a. m., says the county agent. The day's program begins with a joint session of men and women at 9:45, feature being a short concert by the Ord high school band.

The program for the day will be as follows:

10:00—Poultry meeting with Eret Smith chairman; address, "Profitable Poultry Management," by Prof. F. E. Muesel. Discussion on poultry questions to follow.

11:00—Women's session at city hall, Mrs. Glo Nelson chairman; talk, "Childhood Problems," by Mrs. Angeline Anderson.

11:00—Men's session at high school auditorium, Don Rounds chairman; talk, "Livestock Diseases," by Dr. S. W. Alford.

1:15—Joint session at high school auditorium with S. W. Roe chairman; group singing led by Mrs. N. W. Gaines.

1:30—Drawing for prizes.

1:35—"Wealth in the U. S. A.," by Prof. H. C. Filley.

2:30—"Songs My Mother Taught Me," by Mrs. N. W. Gaines.

3:15—Women's session at city hall with Mrs. Glo Nelson chairman; "What Women Should Know About Legal Forms," by John P. Misko.

4:00—Canning demonstration by Mrs. Gladys Ayars.

3:15—Men's session at high school auditorium with S. W. Roe as chairman; talk, "Present Livestock Problems," by W. W. Derrick.

4:00—"Soil Conservation Methods," by D. L. Gross.

6:00—Fun feed at Masonic hall with Dr. S. W. Alford as toastmaster and music by Aubie orchestra; group singing led by Mrs. N. W. Gaines; address of welcome by Ralph W. Norman; response by Ray Lutz; address, "The Abundant Life," by Newton W. Gaines.

Farmers of Valley and surrounding counties are cordially invited to be in Ord for Organized Agriculture day on Tuesday, December 10. A practical, profitable, enjoyable program is assured. Further announcement will be made next week.

Work of 5 Counties Handled By the NRS Office Located Here

Placing of labor on all state, federal, WPA, PWA and reforestation projects in the counties of Loup, Garfield, Wheeler, Sherman and Valley counties is handled through the Ord office by Director K. W. Broich and his clerks, Miss Alice Mickelsen and E. J. Ball, a Quiz reporter learned Monday on a visit to the court house.

At present there are about 20 projects employing from 225 to 250 men and women under way in the district, Director Broich says. During October over 400 men were placed through his office on gravel projects alone.

Projects furnishing the largest amount of work in Valley county at present are the shelter belt, which has 28 men working and expects to employ 150 before spring, and several road projects in different parts of the county. A sewing project that will give employment to 10 women got under way Monday in the Hager building in Ord.

New school houses will be built with WPA labor at Burwell and Loup City in the near future, Broich says, and numerous smaller construction and repair jobs will be done in the various counties of his district. Plenty of work for all employables on the relief rolls will be furnished, he prophesies.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Misko and Billy James of Lincoln were in Ord Sunday from Lincoln and spent the day visiting with the James Misko family.

20 Years Ago This Week.
The Burlington had a freight on their Burwell-Aurora branch on Thanksgiving day, which Agent James said was the first time this had happened since he had been working for the company. Big shipments was the reason given.

The bridge over the McDowell canyon was completed, according to Supervisor Clem Meyers of North Loup, and it was one of the best bridges in Valley county. Over 400 sacks of cement were used to make it.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Mickelwait returned to Ord from Richfield, Iowa, and were planning to spend the winter in the Geo. Mickelwait house while the latter was in California.

The big real estate holdings of W. I. Stephen in Valley county were reduced by the sale of 241 acres of unimproved land to Guy Clement and a 160 acre farm to E. H. Petty.

The Los Angeles, Calif., Tribune of Nov. 26 printed a double column picture of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, who were married there that day, and a long account of the romance of the happy pair. The Mortensens were planning a trip to Honolulu and would not be back in Ord to live until some time in May or June.

Forty-one passengers left Ord on the outgoing Sunday morning Union Pacific motor, in fact traffic had been so heavy that most days the U. P. was having to run a steam train.

25 Years Ago This Week.
B. F. Hallock, veteran grade school janitor, was remembered on his birthday by primary room pupils with a shower of candy and apples.

George Barnes, who drove the bus for Hotel Ord, was ill and unable to haul traveling men's trunks back and forth, therefore Bradt had to do the job for a week.

W. W. Haskell stopped at Hotel Boquet while visiting Omaha and found Bert's hotel a busy place indeed.

O. S. Smith, the city milkman, announced he would have to quit business because he couldn't sell milk at 6c and come out even when he had to buy feed. Some other optimist was being sought to run a dairy here.

Bert Trefren and Miss Katie Greenland were married on Thanksgiving day by Judge Gudmundsen.

Grover Cleveland Alexander, who pitched for the Syracuse, N. Y., team during the past summer, was signed by the Philadelphia team and expected to make the big league debut the following spring. The Quiz predicted that Ord's own Marion Cushing would soon be in the big show also.

J. Cass Cornell was chosen president of the Valley county fair association with W. B. Keown, O. P. Cromwell and A. J. Perkins as other officers. Final decision on whether to quit or go ahead with the fair was expected at a special meeting in January.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Port Robinson, Nebr. Nov. 21, 1935.

To the Ord Quiz:
Today is my birthday so I will celebrate it by writing to the Quiz. The reason for the new address is that a couple of us from Minatare were sent up here to get some real hospital experience. I worked in the hospital at Madison and am in line to work in the same capacity at Minatare whenever a vacancy occurs so I need of experience. As I just had a need of experience I am not yet certain as to the work or the length of time I will stay.

From what little I have seen of it, I believe this is one of the real beauty spots of Nebraska, nestling as it does in a lovely valley between ridges of picturesque buttes to the north, west and south. The hills are covered with the jack pine characteristic of the Pine Ridge country. We came here over highway No. 2, from Alliance and through Hemingford and Crawford, which is a few miles east. Saw some of the finest country that lies out of doors from Angola to Hemingford and believe the tall stories they tell of bumper crops well founded.

from the hills west of the fort, where the highest point in Nebraska is located. Anyone visiting the Black Hills should drive over to No. 2 either at Broken Bow or Merna, and follow it through to Hot Springs. They will see in that trip every type of scenery that the state furnishes, varying from the worst of the sand hills between Halsey and Alliance to the best agricultural land between Alliance and Hemingford.

Condra in his Geography of Nebraska, did not make his statements strong enough in regard to northwest Nebraska and the Scotts Bluff country. During the three weeks I spent at Minatare I took four trips to historic Scotts Bluff which stands guard through the ages over the entire north Platte valley in Nebraska. It so happened that the haze was too dense each time to see more than twenty miles to the southeast, but on two occasions it was possible to see Laramie Peak, 150 miles northwest in Wyoming.

In recent years the Boy Scouts and others have built a zig-zag path from the foot of the bluff on the east side to the top, a height of more than 500 feet and a total height of 800 feet above Scottsbluff town. The total height is 4,700 feet above sea level. A highway for cars is being built, commencing at the south side and winding through 3 huge tunnels, 2 of which are still in the process of construction. The work is being done by CCC boys from No. 762 which is located just northwest of the bluff. Since I arrived in camp at Minatare I have met a number of Burwell people, including Glenn Pales, Harry Mattern, Joe Bartuslak and son John and Ed McGuire and his two sons. I also had a short visit with Archie Potter, and found John Gerlicke working in the Ford garage. I saw Herb Severson, who runs a photo studio and is doing well. The evening of Armistice day I ate a roast duck supper with C. H. Schwamer and family. Charles is doing well in the eye business and still very much interested in the people of Ord and Burwell.

Something Different

"Tell Irma to put it in her column that Donnie Haught can do the hootchy-kootchy," said Mrs. Vernie Andersen to a friend.

"Don't you dare," exclaimed Mrs. Freeman Haught, mother of Donnie, "but if you do, be sure to tell Irma that his Aunt Vera (Mrs. Vernie) Andersen taught him!"

Mr. and Mrs. George Walker who live next door west of the Quiz office, are intimate friends of the Hemphill family near Ansley who are the proud parents of triplets. The Walkers and Hemphills grew up together over near Oconto, and a half dozen couples of them ran around together as young people.

In fact, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Walker married a sister of Mrs. Hemphill.

There is something very exhilarating about the time of year when toy displays become so gorgeous. No matter whether you are very young or have someone very young to buy for, the holiday displays are eye-catchers. Great big grown-up men get a peculiar glint in the eye at sight of wonderfully perfect little electric trains.

Mamas go into rhapsodies over the beautiful curts a la Shirley Temple that top so many doll heads now.

Musicians eye with amazement the marvellous drums for boys, complete with snares, triangles, any and all the equipment possible to attach to a drum or drummer.

There are little stoves that cook, little sewing machines that sew, irons that iron. And most modern touch on every side a representation of the Dionne quintuplets, each quinn with one bottle and one pair of pants.

It is most fascinating to be part of the audience as the Senate or House of Representatives at Lincoln continue with the heated arguments that dragged the special session to such length. The Senate is possibly a little more quiet and dignified, though in both places there are many members who sit and read papers, sleep, smoke, or otherwise seem a trifle bored by the proceedings.

I noticed some justification for the price Nebraska taxpayers paid for the thick carpet—it permits a lot of activity in both Senate and the House, members, messengers and friends rush in and out constantly—the heavy carpet makes all this traffic noiseless.

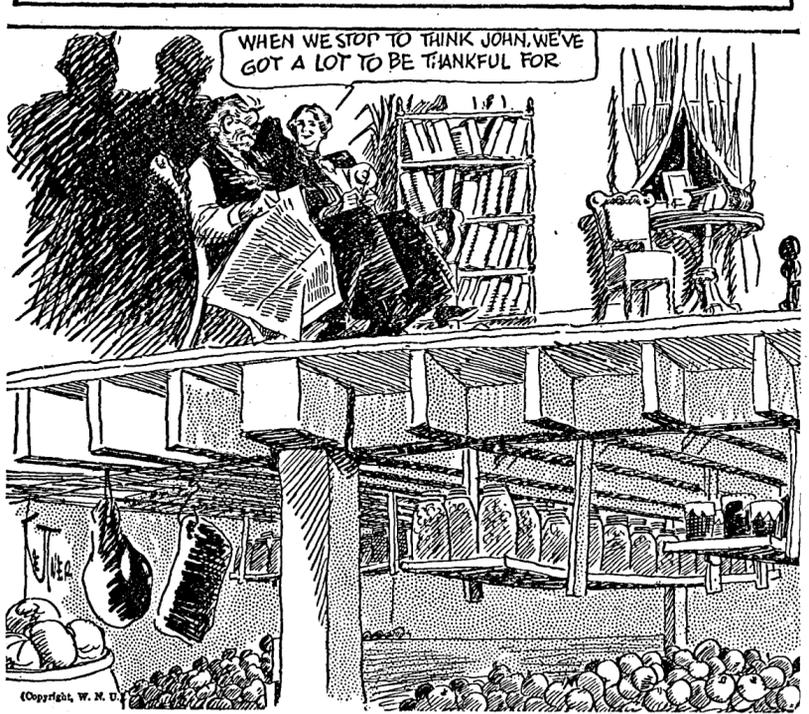

Similarly, I decided the distant vaulted ceilings had some reason for being. Those lofty arched corners are to catch cigar smoke. No matter how many smoke there, the Senate could surely never become thick or blue with smoke—the ceiling is too many miles high.

It is too bad to have a young couple as pleasant and affable as Mr. and Mrs. Stanley McLain move out of Ord to make a new home elsewhere.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Cranberries are much esteemed this time of the year, and add a colorful touch to many a holiday table, in addition to being used in everything from sherbet to cocktail, salad, cake and jelly. They are even used with vegetables and made into sauce for roasts. Wherever the little cranberry is used, something gains in flavor.

Cranberry Juice Cocktail.

Cook four cups of cranberries and four cups water until all the skins pop open, usually about five minutes. Strain through cheesecloth. Bring the juice to the boiling point and add two-thirds cup sugar. Cook two minutes, serve cold. Ginger ale added to this cocktail gives it a snap.

Cranberry Pie.

Place in a sauce pan one and one-half cups raw cranberries, cut in halves, one cup raisins, one cup water. Bring to a boil, then add one cup sugar which has been mixed with one and one-half tablespoons flour. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Make a lattice top of pastry strips and bake in a medium oven. Serve chilled with whipped cream on top.

Mock Cherry Pie.

Place in a sauce pan one-half cup raw cranberries cut in half, one-half cup raisins, seeded, one cup water. Bring to a boil, then add one cup sugar and one and one-half tablespoons cornstarch. Pour into unbaked pie shell, place strips over the top and bake in a moderate oven until the filling is firm and the pastry brown.

Cole Slaw De Luxe.

Chop a pound head of cabbage very fine and mix with two medium sized tart apples which have been cored and diced, and three tablespoons raisins. Add salt to taste and make a dressing of two medium sized bananas, mashed, two-thirds cup orange juice and one-fourth cup sugar. Combine with cabbage mixture and serve at once.

American Chop Suey.

Slice one bunch celery, three small onions, add one pound hamburger, one teaspoon salt and one-fourth teaspoon pepper. Put one tablespoon lard and one tablespoon butter in a frying pan, add mixture and fry twenty minutes. Cook one box of spaghetti or macaroni in boiling salted water, add the meat and vegetables, then two cans tomato soup or strained tomatoes and bake one hour in the oven.

Speckled Cake.

Sift flour, measure one and one-half cups, add two teaspoons baking powder, a pinch of salt and sift into a bowl. Add two and one-

Warfare in Ethiopia consists largely in surprising the enemy in some narrow gorge of valley. Ethiopians have thus surprised Italians on a small scale. Now the Italians have shown that the thing can be done from the air by killing 2,000 Ethiopian warriors, of whom 20,000 were massed in the Mel Mezoid valley, south of Makale. Ethiopians withstood, with fine courage, the attack with machine guns, incendiary and explosive bombs.

England really has free speech. On your soap box in Hyde Park you may say what you please, if you do not advocate crime. But England does not like free speech from another country, through the ether. The British Broadcasting company will not let Marconi talk from Rome to Englishmen over the radio. He might convince them that it is preposterous to try to starve out Italy for doing in Ethiopia what England has done in many places. The ruling seems hard on Marconi, considering that he invented radio. Without him there would be no "British Broadcasting company."

Those that make betting a business are often sound in their political judgments. They are at least cold, calculating; sentiment does not cloud their vision. On the Republican Presidential nomination the betting now stands: Senator William E. Borah, 8 to 1. Governor Landon of Kansas, 10 to 1. Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, 15 to 1. Col. Frank Knox of Illinois, 15 to 1. Governor Hoffman of New Jersey, Ogden L. Mills, Senator David A. Reed, all 20 to 1. Professional bettors agree that Governor Landon is gaining, and will probably lead the procession at 6 to 1 in a few days. Band wagon climbers are more and more polite to Governor Landon.

The "sanctions" wall thrown by England and France around Italy, smaller nations co-operating, to "suffocate and starve Italy," as Mussolini puts it, is now complete. Britain's ambassador is conferring with our State department concerning Japan's plan to seize Chinese provinces, containing 95,000,000 Chinese, 35,000,000 more than the total population of Japan. If the Japanese could control, arm and use 100,000,000 Chinese in the air and on the ground, that would be interesting. But it would not be our business, and it is to be hoped that the British will not persuade our state department that this country ought to attend to it.

Spiritually, politically and otherwise important is the proposed "merger" approved by bishops of the three branches of the Methodist Episcopal church. FASTEST-STARTING GASOLINE
IN STANDARD OIL HISTORY!
35% QUICKER WARM-UP WITH NEW STANDARD RED CROWN

Groucho, starting with his brothers Chico and Harpo Marx in M.G.M.'s new laugh maker, "A Night at the Opera," warns the boys to hold tight for a hair-trigger start. Evidently they know what to expect with Standard's new double-quick gasoline in the tank.

ADMITTEDLY, this picture stretches a point when it comes to actually illustrating the double-quick starting power of Standard's new winter gasoline.

But it is important that you know the facts about this genuine advancement, brought about by years of Standard Oil research: the production of winter gasoline which delivers mid-summer performance in cold weather—the fastest-acting gasoline in Standard history.

Fastest in the full sense of the word. Remarkably quick starting plus an even, steady flow of power as you get under way, without jerky, balky going—fully 35% greater warm-up speed at zero temperatures. Fast—but economical... for you actually get better winter mileage. Get some of this new Standard Red Crown... and SEE WHAT HAPPENS next time you step on the starter! Sold by Standard Oil Stations and Dealers at the price of "regular" gasoline—look for the STANDARD sign.

A Dash of Local Color

By NELSON S. BOND

© McClure Newspaper Syndicate. WNU Service.

CHET ANDERSON, grinning broadly, slid into a seat beside mine at Tony's.

"I've got time for one drink," he decided. "Then I've got to scoot over to the office. Just about make the deadline."

"Since when did you start writing deadline stuff?" I asked. "I thought the obit column was your specialty."

"One of Brown's brainstorms," explained Chet. "He's turned me into a sort of male sob-sister. I take a ride into the sticks every afternoon and come back with a local color jag on. I've got the biggest nowl here in my pocket. . . ." He tapped a couple of sheets of folded copy paper. "This story will knock 'em right off their pins. It's a natural. Let me tell you about it."

"I was driving along a road down East Orange way when I saw this old hick leaning on a rail fence, chewing a blade of grass and looking at the sky to see if it would rain tomorrow. He was the typical stage 'Rube' I've ever saw one. One slant at him and I knew I had my story for the day. I pulled up the car."

"'Hyah, Pop!' I said, 'How's tricks?'"

"'Wal,' he opined, 'things could be better; they could be wuss.'"

"'Guess it's pretty noisy around here sometimes,' I said, taking a squint at the vacant fields and the lonely road, 'when all the folks come down to market.'"

"'Well, you'd have died laughing. I don't think the old boy quite knew whether I was kidding or serious. He just stood there looking at me.'"

"'Never very busy around these parts, Son,' he says, 'but there sure is lots of time for thinkin'.'"

"I laughed. 'That might be all right for you, old timer,' I told him, 'but give me the Broadway glims every time. I'd get the jitters out here.'"

"'Does a man good to do some thinkin' once in a while,' draws the old fellow.

"'Maybe so,' I said, 'but in my business you have to act first and do your thinking afterward. I'm a newspaper reporter.'"

"'He nodded; sort of impressed. 'I've done a mite of writin' myself,' he says, finally, 'long time sence.'"

"'Well,' I said, 'why didn't you stick to it?'"

"'I gave it up,' said the old geezer seriously. 'I found that I couldn't worry and fret about hand-some writin' and still live happy.'"

"'Now, that was a shame,' I said, trying not to grin in his face. 'You might have become real famous if you'd kept at it.'"

"'Oh, I still do a little,' he says earnestly. . . 'mebbe a page or two a day. Seems like it eases my mind a bit. But I don't work too hard at it.'"

"'A page or two a day—can you beat it? It tickled me when I thought of the hundreds of good men here in the city slapping out thousands of words a day and never even getting to first base. I felt a little bit sorry for the old duffer.'"

"'Tell you what I'll do,' I said. 'Send me some of the stuff you've written some time, and if it's any good I'll try to fix it up and sell it for you. I've sold some things myself to magazines and newspapers. Maybe with a little reviving by somebody that knows the ropes your stuff will do for the syndicates.'"

"'The rube grins sort of sheepishly. 'Oh,' he says, 'I reckon I'll just go yammerin' along my own way.'"

"'Well, I gave him my name, all the time trying my best to hold back the chuckles, but after I got down the road a piece I had to stop and let it out. Honest, I thought I'd never make it back home. I was that tickled. I wrote the whole darned story down a little while ago—and boy! does it look goofy on paper! Can't you see the headline?'"

"UNKNOWN GENIUS WILL NOT MOVE TO CITY. Happy Where I Am, Says Local Shakespeare."

Chet chuckled and finished off his drink. I took a newspaper out of my pocket and unfolded it curiously. "Say, Chet," I said, "do you ever read the Dispatch?"

"'That rag?' said Chet. "I should say not! I stick to the Advertiser.'"

"'I was wondering,' I said. 'There's a syndicated daily column in here under the byline of E. Rowe—the Sage of Pumpkin Corner. They call him the grand old man of letters. His column this evening starts out, 'I met myself today—myself as I was nigh onto twenty years ago. A young man, fresh as a newly painted whip handle, and cocky as a gingerbread cake came to our little country retreat to teach us how to live. . . .'"

Chet clutched at the paper. "Let me see that!" he muttered thickly. "It's almost midnight, Chet," I warned him. "You'll miss your deadline."

He flung the paper to the floor. "T'll with it!" he grunted. "Let's have another drink!"

Collectors Find Prehistoric Bones In Wind-Blown Waste of Once Fertile Field

Overpasturing Killed Grasses, Top Soil Blew Off During Drouth; Now a Desert.

By GRACE BALDWIN.

Located some twenty miles east and four miles north of Burwell is a large blowout of some twenty or twenty-five acres extent. It is locally known as "The Desert". Originally it was a productive field situated in a large valley. After it had grown corn for several years it was fenced into pasture. A short time later that pasture and some others adjoining it were all rented by one man, Charles Augustine, who sent in about six hundred head of cattle to be summer pastured. He hired a man to live there and look after his stock.

As the only watering place was situated close to this old field the cattle gave the weedy area constant grief. Soon all the vegetation was eaten off or trampled down and the soil began to blow. It was only a short time until the dark top soil was all gone, leaving several feet of sand to be lifted and blown about. During the next few years the wind kept busy at work making of this tract a landmark of this locality. Several years ago thousands of cottonwood seedlings came up all over this "desert". If there had been normal rainfall the area by now would have been reclaimed by the trees. But several successive years of light rainfall followed by the drouth of 1934 killed out all the little trees except a few of the larger ones in the southeast corner. These have attained quite a fair sized growth.

The winds kept agitating the sand until many parts of the "desert" have had all the sand removed and left clay exposed. Had it not been for this strata of clay it is certain that many more acres would have been added to the desert area, for the blowing sand carried so far that much fertile land was covered by it. Many curious earthforms were cut out on this desert by erosion. Tall mounds out of the top of which grew coarse grass were the most curious. Long narrow ridges, perforated by holes, which had been the burrows of animals, were also characteristic of this area. However these are usually short lived. Even one week, and the next no trace of them remains. Two things about the "desert" which have so far remained permanent are first, a brick colored streak some three or four yards wide which extends for rods across its surface. Second, the presence of various colored flint rocks and arrowheads. The latter has been much sought by relic collectors of this and adjoining neighborhoods. There are also to be found many tusks of some unknown animal. These tusks resemble the tusks of a hog but are so numerous that there are many hundred more than there ever were hogs raised in that locality. All of these tusks are grooved the full length and are hollow. Occasionally a whole one is picked up, but for the most part only sections of them can be found. They are rather frail and require special care if they are kept in a collection.

Whether this "desert" will revert to weeds again, whether it will be reclaimed by trees, or whether it will remain a desert is known only to Mother Nature. But while it lasts it is a source of curiosity and pleasure to the sight-seers and collectors of western relics and an eyesore to those who own and operate the ranches upon which it is located.

Turtles Utter Sounds. When startled some turtles, such as wood turtles, give a loud snake-like hiss. The males of the large Galapagos tortoises, according to Darwin, bellow a roar in the breeding season. The common painted turtles utter a piping note, particularly in the spring.

Luffa is a Gourd. A luffa is a gourd commonly called rag-gourd, dishrag gourd, and vegetable sponge. The young fruit is cooked like squash and eaten in soups or stews. Sometimes it is sliced and dried. In this country, luffas are grown mostly for curries and ornaments. The fibrous interior of the dried fruit, when bleached and prepared, is used as a sponge for the bath and for scrubbing.

—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hall went to Mason City the last of the week to attend the sale of Mr. Hall's father, who is leaving at once for the west.

The United Brethren ladies appreciate very much the patronage at their bazaar and supper Thursday night. They served supper to upwards of 180 people. Their proceeds from their supper and sale amounted to almost $100. Especially do they thank those who assisted with the program, Mr. Cummins and Robert Noll for selling the articles, and Ida Arnold for cleaning the church. Mrs. Maggie Anyas came out Thursday morning and visited at John Williams' until Saturday afternoon. Thursday evening after Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson returned home from the bazaar Charley was playing bridge with his corn pickers when a severe pain came into his leg. He got up and the pain increased. Dr. Hemphill was called and found the pain was caused by a clot in the vein in the leg which affected Charley's heart very much. He feels like himself again but does not care to have that experience again. Will Wheatcraft, Bert Cummins, Paul White and Ralph Mitchell are among those who are through picking corn. Mrs. John Palser and Leona Ax-the'm entertained about 12 young people at a farewell party for Robert Mitchell Saturday evening at John Palser's. Robert says they expect to leave this week for Colorado. Mrs. Anna Tappan came out to John Palser's Sunday where Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Palser met her. She expects to spend a few weeks helping Mrs. Palser. Mr. and Mrs. Miles VanHorn and four children and Edith Jefferies of Cotesfield came Saturday to visit Ed Jefferies. Mrs. VanHorn is a sister of Mrs. Jefferies. They also plan to visit relatives at Cotesfield this week. Sig Iowenowski and Mr. Millington called at Art Maloutke's and John Williams' Sunday forenoon. Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Mrsny and children spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Charley Mrsny's. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson attended a book party at Lloyd Peterson's Friday evening and they spent Sunday evening at Howard Manchester's. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Petrytus moved to Loup City last Monday. He expects to work on the PWA.

Martin Vanburan Vance.

Martin Vanburan Vance, son of William Vance and Anna Mae Howard was born at Sidney, Ohio, December 14, 1863, and passed away at his home in Arcadia, Nebr., November 21, 1935, his age being 71 years, 10 months and 27 days.

He moved with his parents to Casey, Iowa, in 1866 and from there to Nebraska in 1869, living in this state most of his life. He first lived around Nebraska City, and nearly 32 years ago came to this section of the state, where he has since resided in Sherman and Valley counties. He and his wife retired to Arcadia in March, 1935 at which time his death occurred.

At Tecumseh, Nebr., on July 3, 1899 he was united in marriage to Ollie Cordelia Davis of Sterling, to which union was born six children five girls and one boy, all living. Mrs. Bertha Hain, Mrs. Evaline Summers, Mrs. Anna Lindell, Mrs. Olive Stone, Martin Vanburan Vance, Jr., all of Arcadia and Belle Leathman of New Kirk, Okla.

He leaves beside his wife and children, 10 grandchildren, two granddaughters, and several nephews and nieces. Also two brothers survive, Roscoe Vance of Lewellen, Nebr., and James Vance of Bladen, Nebr.

His family and their interests were ever in his mind, a kind and loving father has departed.

Services were conducted by Rev. Lawrence E. Nye on Sunday afternoon, November 24, 1935, at the Methodist church, the music being furnished by the church mixed quartet.

H. O. A. club met Wednesday afternoon with Doris Benson. The ladies quilted and a dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Grant Crikshank called on Mrs. Clara Easterbrook Sunday afternoon.

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Lee of Fort Collins, Colo. received as a gift on Armistice day, a baby boy. He will answer to the name of Daniel.

Mrs. Hattie Gipe left on the bus for southern California Friday morning.

Everyone... WANTS A LASTING CHRISTMAS GIFT! Give Something ELECTRICAL

For beauty, convenience and lasting economy, present your household with an electric gift this Christmas. A new range, a refrigerator, a washing machine, mangle, vacuum cleaner—the list is endless, and every electric gift is a practical gift and one that will be appreciated by its recipient for years to come.

Mr. Husband, we suggest that you visit this office and inspect our display of Hoipoint, Universal and Westinghouse Electric ranges. Bring the Mrs. along and watch her thrill as she sees all the little gadgets that have been built into these new stoves to change kitchen drudgery to pleasure.

We can sell you an electric stove at a reasonable price—let you pay for it monthly if you desire.

ORD'S ELECTRIC RATES ARE LOWER

A recent government survey shows that Ord's electric rates are 3rd lowest in Nebraska in the 100 and 250 KW classes, 6th lowest in the 25 KW class, in towns of 1,000 to 2,500 population. Ord people can afford to and should use more electricity.

For small electric appliances visit your regular electric appliance dealer.

How Plants Get Their Odor

Essential or aromatic oils occur in plants in special cells, or special collections of cells called glands. They are the basis of practically all the odors, including the fragrance of flowers, and serve to guide insects in connection with cross-pollination. Chemically they are in part hydrocarbon, or may also contain some oxygen, being formed, without doubt, from carbohydrates.

Age of the Horse

The first five years of a horse may be considered as equivalent to the first 20 years of a man; thus, a horse of five years may be comparatively considered as old as a man of twenty; a horse of ten years as a man of forty; a horse of fifteen as a man of fifty; a horse of twenty as a man of sixty; of twenty-five as a man of seventy; of thirty as a man of eighty, and of thirty-five as a man of ninety.

"AUCTION EVERY SATURDAY"

No Business Man

By JOHN HANLEY
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service.

STANDING beneath a fly-specked diploma that testified he had successfully completed a three-year course in pharmacy twenty years ago, Mr. Standish Rice looked across the counter at his ten-year-old customer.

"I'll have this ready in ten minutes, Rosie," he said.

"Will it be all right to leave it here until my mother comes? She'll call for it at five o'clock."

All right, Rosie.

The child left the store. Rice shuffled into the prescription room. "Business picking up?"

The druggist stared at his friend. Myron Burke, lounging in a chair beside the desk.

"Another one of the Boyle youngsters," he said.

"Rice read the prescription. Ipecac ammonium chloride. . . . No. Cold this time, I imagine."

He reached to the shelf for the bottle marked Srup of Ipecac.

"Mrs. Boyle paid anything on that bill she owes yet?" Myron, from the depths of the chair, grunted his question.

Rice shook his head. That was an old argument between him and Myron. "They'd have to pay cash at the chain stores," his friend always said. "You may not be able to sell at cut rates the way they do, but at least you can be as businesslike as they are."

"As cold blooded, you mean," Rice generally answered.

Now he said nothing. Mechanically he handed ammonium chloride and srup simplex. The old rebuttal was there in the back of his mind, waiting to be used. A druggist was more than a business man. He was as necessary to the art of healing as the physician himself. Take a doctor who stopped prescribing for a patient as soon as the ready cash ran out. He'd be a credit to his profession, wouldn't he? What would you say then of a druggist who'd refuse to fill a prescription for the same reason?

"That's a fine argument," Myron always said. "But don't forget that this store is supposed to support you. Who's going to take care of you when a lot of unpaid bills force you into the street? The customers you gave credit to, I suppose."

Thoughtfully the druggist pasted the label on the bottle. The chair in the corner groaned, and Myron rose to go.

"Who's coming for that medicine?"

Rice spoke to his friend for the first time. "Mrs. Boyle."

"Well, take my advice this time. Get the money or keep the medicine. The Boyles and three or four more like them will have you in the poorhouse if you keep on. Forget you're a druggist for a minute and try to behave like a sensible business man."

"The Boyles and three or four more like them will have you in the poorhouse."

Suppose Myron had known how close he'd come to the truth. That stack of bills on the desk. Drug supply houses couldn't wait for their money. The letters on the desk said so. Two of them were nasty. Both firms would send another letter. Harsher. And after the next letter?

"Get the money or keep the medicine."

It wasn't too late to begin now. He could start this afternoon. Start with Mrs. Boyle. Should he? Should he be a good business man? The questions repeated themselves. Bullied him. Demanded an answer.

The druggist tried to silence the sharp, insistent voice. But it grew louder, more insistent. And the gloom that had been gathering like a fog in his mind for months, deepened. Life never looked blacker than it looked at five o'clock when Mrs. Boyle came in.

"Is the medicine ready, Mr. Rice?"

He nodded and drew off paper to wrap the bottle.

The woman, tired and untidy, faced him nervously, running her finger along the edge of the counter.

"Could you . . . would you wait a week for the money, Mr. . . ."

The nagging voice was silent now, waiting for his answer.

"Perfectly all right, Mrs. Boyle," Rice heard himself say.

"I'm going to have it next week. Honestly." The woman's gratitude made it easier for her to speak now. "My husband's going back to work Monday. It's a steady job this time. And we're going to pay your bill first. You've been so kind to us with all the sickness we've had. I don't know another man who'd . . ."

"That's all right, Mrs. Boyle," Mr. Rice thought she was going to cry. "If your druggist won't trust you, he isn't much."

Mrs. Boyle bobbed her head gratefully. Watching her slither to the door, Mr. Rice felt the gloom of months slip from him. She was right! There wasn't another man who'd done what he had for her. But that was his job. After all, he was a druggist; and, as he told himself now with profound conviction, proud of it!
