

DEC. 10 ORGANIZED AGRICULTURE DAY

Ord Chanticleers Tie Loup City And Win Valley Crown

Leaders Battle to Salemate On Muddy Field While Arcadia Beats Comstock 12-7.

Battling Loup City to a scoreless tie on the muddy Bussett park field Thursday while Arcadia was chalking up a 12 to 7 victory over Comstock Coach Brockman's Ord high school Chanticleers won undisputed possession of the Loup valley conference championship for the first time since the organization was formed. Their season's record includes three ties but no defeats and they were unscathed on within their own circuit. The Turkey day game was a classic of clean, hard football, featured throughout by the punting of Haskell, the runbacks of punts by light Dale Melia and the splendid running and plunging of Slominski, Loup City's star back.

Threatened to Score. Play in the first, third and fourth quarters was dominated by Ord and was in Loup City territory for the most part but Ord lacked the punch to score. In the second quarter Loup City had Ord fans on the edges of their seats with a drive that carried to the Ord six-yard line before it was stopped, from which point Haskell kicked the ball out of danger.

If any individual should be singled out for special mention it is Harold Haskell. Standing in a sea of mud, his hands and shoes coated with slime, he punted the ball accurately time after time, one punt rolling out of bounds on the Loup City one-yard line and others on the eight, fourteen and eighteen-yard lines. Orders were out to keep the ball away from Summers and Slominski, spark-plug backs in the Brownie line-up, and Haskell solved the problem to the satisfaction of everybody by never giving these players a chance to handle the pigskin.

Pass Play Almost Good. Ord lost two excellent chances to score, once in the third quarter when Cetak failed to turn soon enough and thus missed an opportunity to catch a rifle pass on the Loup City goal line, and again in the final stanza after Melia ran a punt back to the Loup City twenty-five yard line. Three Ord plays put the ball inside the fifteen-yard stripe but a penalty nullified the efforts and Loup City held for downs.

It was a well-played game with few penalties being called, none whatever in the first half. The day was too cold for spectators but about the right temperature for players. Line men on both teams played superb defensive football and few were the times when a substantial yardage was made through the line.

During the 1935 season Ord defeated Sarant St. Paul, Burwell, Scottia, and Broken Bow, won from North Loup on a forfeit and were tied by Avenna, Arcadia and Loup City. Only time the Ord goal line was crossed was in the Favenna game, which ended in a 6 to 6 deadlock. They scored 9 points to 6 for all opponents. It was a highly successful season, one in which loyal Ordites feel great pride for their team and its coach, Helmut F. Brockman.

Seven seniors played their last game for Ord high, the list including those stellar backs, Marks, Koellin and Melia, one end, Blessing, both tackles, Richardson and Rose, and one guard, Pray.

Nebraska Team Third In Contest at Chicago

The University of Nebraska livestock judging team, of which Paul Pierce of Ord is a member, placed third in the judging contest held last week at Chicago in connection with the International livestock exposition. First place was won by Missouri and second by Purdue. Teams representing twenty-five states and several provinces in Canada were entered. The Nebraska team is generally given credit for having the best record in the United States this year, as it placed second in the Fort Worth contest, third at Kansas City and third at Chicago.

Paul, a son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce, is a senior at the Nebraska college of agriculture and was a member of the team last year also. He is expected home for the Christmas holidays.

Co. Board in Session. The Valley county board of supervisors held a quiet all-day session Tuesday, routine business being transacted and claims allowed. Proceedings of the board will be published in full next week.

Coach Brockman's Team Clinches Loup Valley Conference Championship

For the first time since the Loup Valley conference was organized Ord high school won the football championship, largely as a result of the able coaching of Coach Helmut F. Brockman and the heroic efforts of the sixteen lads pictured here, with the assistance of a few others who served as substitutes.

The entire Ord football squad will be guests of honor at a "victory" banquet Friday, Dec. 13th, to which the public is invited.

Rufus J. Collins Passes in Idaho; Burial Here Today

Another Pioneer of Springdale Community to Reward; Was 94 When Death Came.

At 2:00 p. m. today at the Frazier chapel in Ord funeral services will be held for Rufus J. Collins, a pioneer resident of the Springdale community, who died December 1 in Nampa, Ida., at the age of 94. Rev. Mearl C. Smith will conduct the rites and interment will be in Ord cemetery beside his wife, who died about twenty years ago.

Rufus Collins was born in Allegheny county, New York, in 1841 and grew to manhood there, going as a young man to Richmond, Wis., where he met and was married to Miss Elizabeth Root. One son, Emmett, was born to them.

In 1872 Mr. and Mrs. Collins, with their little son, moved with an ox team to Nebraska and took up a homestead in Valley county, the place now occupied by John Vodehnal. He lived on this homestead until about 1920 when he sold it and moved to Idaho. For a brief time he lived in Lincoln, Neb., while his grandchildren were attending University there, and then returned to his son's home in Nampa to spend the remaining years of his life. His death occurred in the home of his son, Emmett.

The Collins family are known to most Quiz readers. Mr. Collins was a prominent member of the community for almost fifty years and held several offices of trust in the early days when school district, township and county government was in process of formation. Strictly honest and honorable in all his dealings, he is remembered with confidence and affection by the few of his pioneer neighbors in Springdale who are still alive and by their sons and daughters who were growing to manhood and womanhood in the days before the turn of the century. To the fullest extent, Mr. Collins merited the title "good citizen" and as such he will be remembered.

Cushing, Sorensen in Ord. Herbert L. Cushing, deputy state superintendent of schools, and C. A. Sorensen, former attorney general of Nebraska, were Ord business visitors Monday. Mr. Cushing dedicated a new school house at Elba that night.

Home Loan Program Is Coming To Close

Less than a dozen applications remain to be acted on by the Home Owners Loan Corporation in Valley county, says Ralph W. Norman, local attorney, and when these are disposed of the loaning phase of the corporation's activity will come to a close. No new applications have been accepted since last June. So far 76 loans totalling $140,590.45 have been placed in Valley county, of which amount $11,671.71 went for the payment of taxes and $6,803.73 for repairs. Average amount of the loans has been $1,836.

About 25 of these loans are delinquent and Attorney Norman expects the corporation to start foreclosure proceedings in some cases soon.

NRS Chief Broick Pleads Guilty On Intoxication Charge

Kenneth W. Broick, district supervisor for the National Reemployment Service with offices in the Valley county court house, was arrested at Burwell Saturday night in a state of intoxication and Monday morning in Garfield county court pleaded guilty to such a charge. He was fined $5 and costs by Judge Ben Rose, paying a total of $12.95.

According to information given the Quiz, young Mr. Broick was accompanied by two Ord young ladies and a young man, none of whom was arrested. The party was causing a disturbance at the Anton Sindelar place which resulted in Marshal Roy Um being summoned. Drunkenness charges were filed by Sheriff Raymond Johnson, of Garfield county.

Broick supervises NRS work for the federal government in Valley, Sherman, Garfield, Loup and Wheeler counties. He was transferred to Ord a few months ago from Loup City, where he held a similar appointment. His escapade at Burwell Saturday is likely to result in cancellation of his appointment, the Quiz learns.

'36 Corn-Hog Plan Designed Increase Hog Production

Consumers Say Prices Too High Now, So AAA Wants 30 Per Cent More Raised.

Emphasizing that "balanced" farming is their aim, AAA officials at Washington, D. C., made public Monday details of the 1936-1937 contracts offered farmers for corn-hog control.

The contracts are designed to increase hog production by 20 percent in 1936. A shortage of hogs has led to higher prices, with protests from consumers. Leading features of the contracts:

1. Community and county control committees will make appraisals and determine a farmer's "base" production of hogs and his base corn acreage.
2. The contracting farmer will be permitted to raise 100 percent of the hog base.
3. He will be required to keep

Honor Banquet For Ord Football Boys

All football players on the 1935 Loup valley championship squad and Coaches Brockman and Cowell will be guests of honor at a Red and White banquet to be held Friday, December 13 in the Ord high school auditorium. The banquet, in honor of the Ord high school gridiron, will be open to the general public and everyone is extended a cordial invitation to attend. Miss Viola Crouch is supervising arrangements and she will be assisted by the three high school cheer leaders, Charlotte Blessing, Wilma Krikac and Harold Melia. The program following will be featured by speeches by honorary co-captains of the team, faculty members, coaches and school board members. Although plans have not yet been completed, Miss Crouch announces that ticket sale will start at once, the tickets being sold by student salesmen who will canvass the city.

Insurance Company Sues Valley County On $2,817.69 Claim

Compensation Insurance Carried On FERA Workmen Results In Damage Suit Tuesday.

In an action filed in district court here Tuesday the Turk-Somerville Company, of Omaha, agents in Nebraska for the Employers Mutual Casualty Co., of Des Moines, are attempting to collect $2,817.69 which they allege is due them as premiums upon compensation insurance carried on FERA workmen during the period from March, 1934, to November, 1935. Valley county will resist payment of the claim because it is excessive, says Ign. Kilma, Jr., county clerk, as spokesman for the board of supervisors.

Required by Nebraska compensation laws to carry insurance for all laborers, the Valley county board of supervisors placed a blanket policy with the Turk-Somerville company on March 5, 1934, the records show. Advance premiums of $92.88 were paid, the agreement being that balance was to be paid upon a payroll audit at the end of the policy year or at such time as FERA operations should cease.

$965 Check Rejected. In November the county board tendered a check in the sum of $965.48 in full payment of premiums to Turk-Somerville, this amount being arrived at as result

Anderson Motors Will Move To Huff Garage

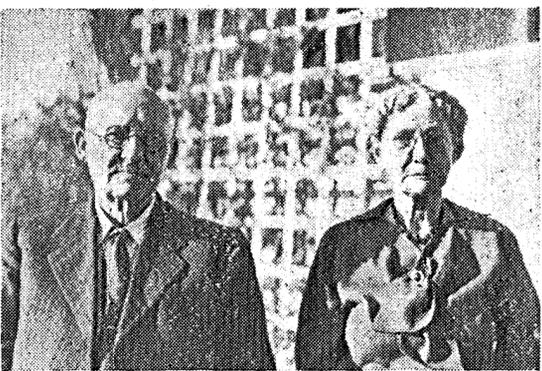

C. A. Anderson, manager of the Anderson Motor Co., completed a deal Monday with Lee Huff, of Omaha, to lease the big Huff garage in Ord, which has been occupied by the Ford agency ever since it was built. The Anderson company will continue to sell Chrysler and Plymouth automobiles, will sell gasoline and oil and will have a repair department for all makes of cars. Mr. Huff came to Ord and spent the week-end visiting his nephew, Howard Huff. He expects to leave soon for California.

4:00 Vesper Service At M. E. Church

A musical vesper service will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The vested choir with 30 singers will give several selections. The Ord string quartette, consisting of Orville H. Sowl, Edwin P. Clements, Horace Travis, and Dr. F. L. Blessing, will render two numbers. There will be a men's chorus, a ladies' chorus and a girls' trio. Soloists will include Mrs. Mark Tolén, lyric soprano; George Pratt, Jr., baritone; and Orville H. Sowl, violinist. Guest musicians will include a quartette from the Arcadia Methodist church who will render several numbers. This comes at an hour that will not interfere with any other church service, and people of all churches are invited to attend.

Golden Wedding Anniversary Observed Friday, Nov. 29, By C. E. Norris and Wife

Friday, November 29, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Norris celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their son, Dr. H. N. Norris at Ord. Open house was held in the afternoon and a host of friends called to extend congratulations.

C. E. Norris and Miss Elizabeth Cline were married on November 29, 1885 at Westerville, O., and lived there for half their married life. Mr. Norris was employed by the railroad. In 1910 they decided to change location and came to Ord where for seven years they were prosperous farmers of this vicinity. In 1917 the family moved to Ord and Mr. Norris opened a shoe, harness, paint and wallpaper shop. For 25 years residents of this community, Mr. and

Ed Naprstek Home Totally Destroyed In Turkey Day Fire

When Ed Naprstek and his family, who live north of the Brick school house on a farm owned by S. A. Bent of Denver, returned home after a Thanksgiving day visit with neighbors, they found that their home and all its contents had burned to the ground during the afternoon. Origin of the fire is unknown. The house was valued at $2,000, about half of which was covered by insurance. They had no insurance on their household goods.

Husk 2,000 Bu. Corn For Mrs. Cushing

Last Friday neighbors and friends of Mrs. Ruth Cushing, about seventy in number, gathered at her farm in Springdale and held a husking bee, 33 men husking 2,000 bushels of corn while the women prepared a big noon-day dinner and served it at the R. C. Greenfield home. Mrs. Cushing's corn averaged about 20 bushels to the acre, which was a slightly higher yield than had been expected. Four mechanical pickers were used in the field east of the Cushing house while seventeen wagons with hand pickers worked in the field south of the barn. About 100 acres were husked by the big crowd in a single day.

Mrs. Cushing is very grateful to everybody who helped in this neighborly deed, including Ord business men who made cash contributions for the purchase of meat and bread served at noon.

1st Shelter Belt Planting Will Be In Noble Township

Freezing Weather Causes Delay In Hestbeck's Plans; Men Busy Building Fence.

If the temperature has risen above the freezing point by the time this issue of the Quiz reaches subscribers, they may know that the first tree planting in Valley county's shelter belt system is under way. Tuesday 18 men under the direction of F. M. Hestbeck, junior forester in charge of the Ord office, and Mr. Dill, federal nurseryman, were ready to begin planting trees in Noble township but were held up by temperatures that ranged from 28 to 30 throughout the day.

According to plans revealed Tuesday morning, the first trees are to be planted on the Edward Kokes farm in Noble township, which is occupied by Joe Holzinger. Several adjacent farms are to be planted also.

Shelter belt officials said that first planting will be "experimental," following a new method. In the past planting of broadleaf varieties of trees in near-freezing weather has not been very successful but a new method has been developed that will succeed, it is thought.

About 12,000 seedling trees were on the Kokes farm Tuesday in readiness for planting. The WPA workmen on the planting crew were kept busy at fence building and preparation of soil pending orders to begin planting.

90 Miles Signed Up. A new type of Silver-Dammer especially developed to prepare the soil for large-scale planting of seedling trees has been purchased for use in Valley and adjacent counties, Mr. Hestbeck says, and has been used here for the last two or three weeks.

At least thirty miles will be planted here within the next few months, this acreage having already been signed up. Shelter belt officials are hopeful that fifteen or twenty miles more can be signed and farmers interested are asked to call at the shelter belt office in the old State bank building for details of the plan.

Liquor Stolen From Chas. Kasson Truck

Two cases of liquor and a case of yeast were stolen last Wednesday night from his truck, which was parked at the rear of his home, Charles Kasson reported to police the next day. Kasson had returned late from a trip to Grand Island and planned to unload his truck the next morning. In the shipment were five cases of liquor for the Fafetta store, two of which were stolen. Mr. Kasson heard no suspicious sounds during the night, he told officers, and there is no clue to identity of the thief.

Several Hundred Farmers Expected Spend Day In Ord

Everybody Invited to Attend Big All-Day Program Ending With 'Fun Feed' in Evening.

Several hundred Valley county farmers, their wives and families, as well as many of the citizens of Ord, North Loup and Arcadia, are expected to spend Tuesday, Dec. 10 attending "organized agriculture" sessions to be held in Ord with an imposing list of speakers and leaders from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture.

Head-liners at the meeting, which begins at 10:00 a. m. and lasts until late evening, include Newton W. Gaines, Prof. F. M. Muesel, Mrs. Angeline Anderson, Prof. H. C. Filley, Mrs. Gladys Ayars, Dr. S. W. Alford, W. W. Derrick and D. L. Gross.

Two Meeting Places. Sessions will be held both at the Ord high school auditorium and at the city hall. In the evening a "fun feed" sponsored by the Ord chamber of commerce will be held in the Masonic hall, Dr. Alford serving as toastmaster and speaker.

To encourage people to register early Tuesday morning the retail section of the chamber of commerce will give away several prizes donated by Ord merchants. These prizes to be drawn for at 1:30 p. m. To D. L. Gross must be eligible for prizes registration must be made between 9:30 and 10:00 a. m. at the high school auditorium.

Of Interest to Women. Several joint sessions for both men and women will be held during the day and there also will be sessions of particular interest to each group, these to be held separately.

A complete program of the day's activities follows: 9:30 to 10:00—Registration for prize drawing at high school auditorium.

Ord Silver Strike Awards Will Prove Popular Features

700 People At First Drawing, Saw Mrs. Heather and 18 Others Get Prizes.

Great interest is being shown in Ord's Silver Strike campaign, a crowd estimated at 700 witnessing the first distribution of cash prizes Saturday afternoon on the west steps of the court house. Dale Norman and F. V. Haught, in charge of the affair for Silver Strike merchants, conducted the drawing and made the awards.

Mrs. W. J. Hather won the first prize of $25 cash. Mrs. Clyde Baker second prize of $10 and Gertrude Clochbon third prize of $5. Another $5 prize was won by Joe Proskocil but he was not there to receive it.

Prizes of $2.00 each were awarded to Mrs. James Hrty, Olga Laakeb, C. C. Dale, Mrs. George Satterfield, Joe Bartos, Mrs. Frank Bruha, Mrs. A. J. Swanson, Mrs. Helen Jensen, Gust Poth, Dean Duncan, Mrs. A. J. Meyer, Mrs. Willbur McNamee and Mrs. James Nevrlka. Two others won by F. O. Johnston and H. Dale Park were unclaimed.

Ord business houses had begun giving away Silver Strike coupons only two days before the awards were made Saturday, which is the reason such a large proportion of prizes were won by Ordites. This week, without doubt, a large proportion will be taken by people from out of town.

There are 73 business places in Ord giving Silver Strike coupons. Don't forget—$300 in cash prizes will be given away during this 4-week campaign which closes the Saturday before Christmas.

THE SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

Believing in the fundamental theory of the Government of this nation, that it is a union of sovereign governments, the states retaining unto themselves the right of government in all matters, except those specifically delegated to the National Congress.

The paramount feature of the Social Security Program—as I understand, and as the people of Nebraska generally understand it—was that it was to provide an old age pension. It was my belief, and the belief of the people of the State of Nebraska generally, that it was to be an old age pension plan primarily for the State of Nebraska with some assistance from the Federal Government.

The old people, the unfortunates and those in want, have always been taken care of by the State of Nebraska. It was my belief, and the belief of the people of the State of Nebraska, that the special session of the Legislature would simplify and set up a better scheme of doing this work.

Soon after the Legislature convened it was very apparent that the program we would be called upon to consider and put into effect was an extremely complicated one. When the Legislature convened, no bills were ready for introduction. The Legislature was told that a member of the Attorney General's office was in Washington preparing the bills to meet the approval of Washington, and particularly the approval of the Social Security Board, which came into existence with passage of the new social security law No. 271 by the last Congress.

Clearly some consideration of the House of Representatives, in which the members of the House, duly elected by the people, advanced some ideas as to this important legislation, a great pressure from Washington was immediately felt and put into operation by the Governor and his chief assistants to prevent any change in this scheme.

A few days passed and a representative from Washington came to Lincoln—a woman who was represented to be an expert—and she found many changes necessary in the original bills to comply with the desires of Washington. However, she made it plain that she could not and would not guarantee the acceptance of the laws.

The impression was that the whole scheme of the legislative program was that the Legislature was called and must enact laws that would be satisfactory to Washington.

It was apparent to everyone that the legislative program that was to be enacted by the Fifty-first Special Session of the Legislature of the State of Nebraska was a complete surrender of the sovereign rights of the State to the Social Security Board in Washington.

The cost of the administration to the State of Nebraska in the original bills according to the judgment of the majority of our duly elected Legislators was fixed at 1 percent. The representative from Washington considered that amount entirely too low and through the efforts of the State administration it was increased to 2 percent, or just double what we thought it should be.

The various bills passed by the special session of the Legislature set up a complicated machinery of great cost operating not as a legislative agency but operating as an agency of the Social Security Board in Washington. The program that has been set up will control every human activity, not for the purpose of solving the immediate conditions in Nebraska but for all time and to please the Social Service Workers of the National Administration.

When this is in full and complete operation there are no sovereign rights reserved to the state. All of this has been accomplished under the guise of receiving assistance from the national administration. But this is a fallacy. What the state of Nebraska may receive from the National Administration is a small portion, and only a small portion, of the money taken from the citizens of the State of Nebraska by taxation under the Social Security Act.

The tax levied by the Federal Government for that part of the Social Security program dealing with old age pension, care of the blind, crippled children, child and maternal work relief is found in Title 8 of Public 271. This tax is a pay-roll tax of 1 percent paid by all employers with the exception of employers of agricultural help and domestic service, in other words, every person who employs a stenographer, a clerk in a store, a truck driver, a laborer and so on pays to the Federal Government a tax of 1 percent on the amount he pays. In addition to that amount the wage earner is taxed 1 percent on the wages he receives which amount is withheld by his employer and paid to the Federal Government. This is levied as an income tax.

No exact statistics are available as to the amount of this tax in 1934 but from the best available statistics it is estimated that it will be $7,400,000 during the year of 1935, double that amount in 1937 and three times that amount in 1939. As yet there is no definite appropriation of any of this amount of money back to the State of Nebraska for the various activities covered. Whether the Congress meeting in January will make such an appropriation is yet to be seen, but it probably will.

This, however, is only part of the story. The legislation enacted by the Special Session just closed. In addition to this federal tax levies a tax of more than $4,000,000 on the people of the State of Nebraska, partly by increasing the tax on gasoline by a head tax and partly by diverting other taxes from the liquor revenue. When the campaign was being made to restore the sale of liquor in Nebraska we were told that the liquor revenue would very materially decrease the general taxes of the state. We now find the major portion of the liquor taxes diverted to this new activity and we find an additional burden of approximately 30 percent placed upon those who use motor vehicle fuel.

It is estimated that the appropriation of some more than $4,000,000 by the special session is ample to take care of the various activities. If that is true then under the scheme set up by the national government we can receive only one-half of the amount needed for our own activities leaving a balance of $5,500,000 taxes taken out of the State of Nebraska under the National Security Act in the hands of the federal government under Title 8 of the National Security Act.

In addition to the $7,400,000 taxes for the year of 1936 under Title 8 of the National Security Act there is under Title 9 a pay-roll tax on employers of eight or more of $2,400,000 which like the tax under Title 8 doubles in 1937 and triples in 1938 so that we have a total tax taken from the State of Nebraska in 1936 from the wage earners of $9,800,000 which amount will be doubled in 1937 and tripled in 1938 plus the state taxes for these various activities.

Clearly the situation is that the state taxes of $4,000,000 will take care of all of these activities, we can receive back only one-half of that or $2,000,000, contributing to the Social Security Board at Washington, about $7,500,000 a year solely for the purpose of providing a scheme of supervision by the federal government of every human activity and the destroying of a sovereign state government.

My feeling now is that Nebraska would have been much better off, if we would look after our own relief as we have done in the past and had entirely rejected the domination of the national government. Workers of the national government. That of course would not have saved us from paying the taxes provided in 271 but it would have saved us from being overrun with government agents and social workers, snooping into every shop and home in Nebraska.

H. D. Leggett.

BACK FORTY

There are times when the exact legal description of a farm is necessary. It is needed when applying for fire insurance or had insurance, to learn the amount of tax paid on land, or to determine whether a mortgage has been recorded.

The "rectangular system" was adopted by Congress in 1785 as the legal method of describing and dividing lands. All bearings are measured from two lines which are at right angles to each other. These two lines are the principal meridians, which run north and south and the base lines, which run east and west. The sixth principal meridian extends south from Yankton, South Dakota through Nebraska forming the boundary between Wayne and Pierce, Madison and Stanton, Polk and Butler, York and Seward, Fillmore and Saline, Thayer and Jefferson counties.

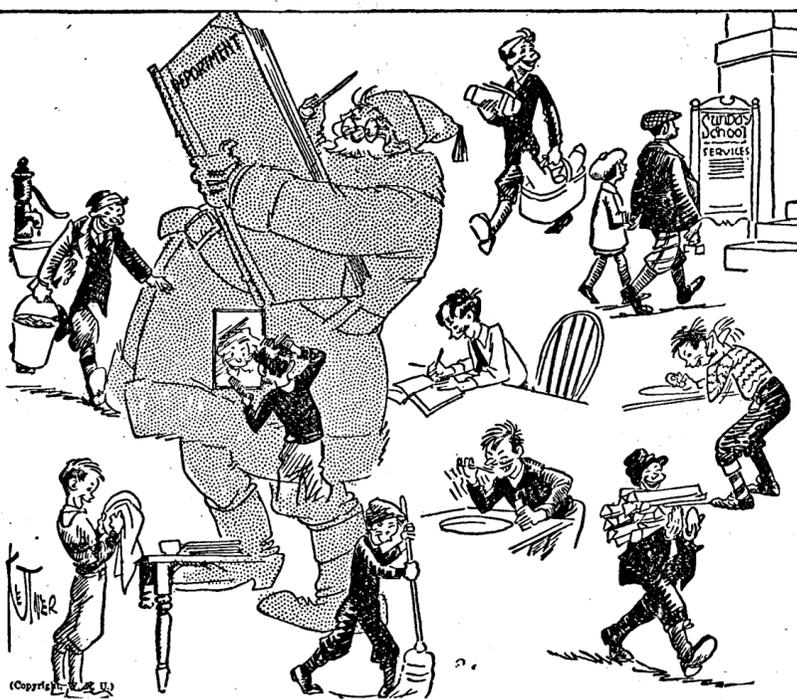

Commencing at the 6th principal meridian, and at intervals of every six miles, lines are run north and south parallel to the meridian. This plan is followed both east and west of this meridian and each strip is called a range. The ranges are numbered 1, 2, 3, etc., in each direction, beginning at the meridian. Since the range lines are 6 miles apart, their number will determine the distance from the meridian line.

The base line for Nebraska was established by Congress at the 40th latitude. It is the point where Nebraska and Kansas join. For the other states east and adjoining Nebraska the base line was established on the 34th latitude, which comes across Arkansas.

Beginning at the base line and continuing north every 6 miles, lines are drawn east and west parallel to the base line. These lines cross the range lines forming precincts or townships which are 36 sections in a township.

The sections in a township are numbered by beginning at the northeast corner of the township with 1 and continuing westward and including section 6. There are 36 sections in a township. A study of the county map will help to clarify this.

A Month of Miracles

20 Years Ago This Week.

The 1915 crop of corn was soft and improperly matured and farmers were wondering how to use it and how much it was worth. Gene Stacy was offering 35¢ for 85 pounds, which he believed was all it was worth. Others were paying even less. The soft corn was said to be much better for cattle than for hogs but not much good for either.

A fair meeting was held with President G. W. Taylor presiding. New officers elected included A. J. Firkins, Frank Koual, Alvin Blessing and Vincent Kokes. Sam Fackler, having lost 20 pounds during his illness, was back at work as of yore, much to the delight of his friends.

Thorwald Aagaard rented the M. P. Calhoun place and took possession, expecting to "batch" until work time in the spring when one of his sisters would keep house for him.

Leola Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harrison, became the bride of E. O. Hackel at a pretty home wedding.

Blinded by the lights of another car, D. B. Smith drove his Studebaker into a ditch and smashed it up quite badly. R. C. Bailey and son Glendall returned from a trip to Newport on which they had the bad luck to break the crankshaft of their car and had to be hauled 50 miles into Burwell behind a team.

OUR PIONEERS.

By Grace Baldwin. Contributed to the Quiz in appreciation of the Pioneer Story contest which it has been conducting and in honor of the Pioneers, whose courage and determination led to the settlement of the vast territory drained by the Loup River system.

A song for our Loup valley, In praise of its pioneers; They came to dwell Where none could tell The result of future years.

Of sod they built their houses, Their stables they made of hay; And cow chips dry They stacked up high To burn on the winter's day.

They weathered drouth and blizzard, Suffered the grasshopper scourge; But give up the fight As well as they might They never once felt the urge.

Indians gave them trouble, Prairie fires burned them out; But with courage strong They struggled along And never gave up to doubt.

They built their schools and churches, And held community fairs, And "spelling down" Held much renown While singing school taught them "airs".

They won a place in Congress, And earnestly cast their vote; And this frontier From year to year Grew into a state of note.

Success has crowned their efforts, And joy has soothed their griefs; And dauntless strength Has won at length And has molded our beliefs.

Something DIFFERENT

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Crosby want to nominate the meanest person in Ord. They claim this party, man or woman, is the one who stole their Thanksgiving duck. The wee-begone Crosbys, after a good number of expressions of disgust, finally said: "Whoever did it had better come back and get the kraut to go with him."

Implying that a duck, stolen or not, served without kraut, is indeed a feeble result for any thief to achieve.

An elderly Arcadia lady at the football game with Ord in her home city watched Coach Brockman as he went to take care of young Marks, one of Ord's own star football scene-shifters. Marks was like many another young athlete, and had a knee that flew in and out of the socket with the greatest of ease, at any rate some sort of trick knee.

Brockman rubbed the knee in question a few deft strokes, then Marks stood up and began to prance around like a spring colt, demonstrating that he was raring to go, in prime condition and what-not.

Said the very elderly spectator with envy, "If I thought he could make me prance like that again, I'd get a treatment!" Possibly she thought he was the Ord team's private osteopath. Or perhaps a relative of Ponce de Leon. Or a Canistota disciple.

One Ord merchant lost eight or nine dollars of my money last week. He never advertised what he could do, and I'm no mind reader.

So when I got ready to re-cover a chair, not knowing that anyone in Ord could do it, I finally, reluctantly, tackled the job myself. I would have preferred a professional job, a strictly tailored effect. I am no chair-covener, I don't know a thing about it. I didn't want to do it, for I was afraid of the result, afraid the appearance wouldn't suit me.

After I had the work a third finished, someone told me this Ord merchant wanted this kind of work, they thought. A few days later he told me he had heard I wanted that chair covered, had been intending to call me and ask for the work.

If he had advertised that he covered chairs, if it had been commonly known, he would have had a job. Probably there are lots of others who would like a shabby but favorite old chair re-covered, if they knew where to get the work done. How are they to find out if the merchant himself doesn't tell them?

Numbers of Ord mamas of youngsters will surely welcome a chance for their offspring to learn to dance. I have heard so many "wishes" for just this kind of instruction in Ord, I am sure a lot of little boys and girls are going to enjoy it.

Dance instruction is fine for several reasons. It helps teach the muscles of the body to obey when spoken to. It helps to strengthen weak children, it provides needed exercise for young bookworms, it keeps the smallest out of the streets and it teaches them to be graceful. As a child I early learned in "physical culture" class how to "relax", a trick that has stayed with me all these years. It isn't at all hard to do, perhaps that is why so many adults can't do it, because it is so simple.

So when you see little girls and boys practicing cartwheels next spring, when you see someone small trying to tap on the sidewalk while going home from school, you'll be noting some of those students who have enrolled in Mrs. Freese's dancing class.

We don't have sleighing winters any more, do we? Hardly even sleighing winters.

A friend announced the other day that she thought the children of this day missed a lot when they missed out on sleighing parties like they had when she was young. I never did get to go sleighing in my whole life, and I've always hankered to. To read about it, sleighing must have been great fun. Then there is that picture of the merry crew homeward bound over the snow in a big sleigh... wasn't the name of it "To Grandmother's House We Go", or is that a separate poem? Well, I am all crossed up as usual.

Anyway, I'd still like to go sleighing. —Irma.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

As the holiday season approaches we are especially interested in candy and cookies, fruit cake, steamed puddings, turkey stuffings, and other festive touches to add to company dinners or to set before casual callers. What candies do you make at this season each year? May we print the recipes?

Divinity.

Cook together three cups sugar, one cup white syrup, one cup water, until it forms a hard ball in cold water. Cook together one cup sugar and one-fourth cup water until it threads a hair. Beat the whites of three eggs, pour second mixture over egg whites, beating while you pour. When the first mixture is done add egg and other part, a little at a time. Put in one teaspoon vanilla and one-half cup walnuts. Beat until stiff. Turn on a greased platter to cool.

Mrs. Sam Marks.

Christmas Spice Cake.

Put in an enameled pan and let boil four minutes one cup sugar, one cup cold water, one-half cup shortening. When cold add one teaspoon soda to one and three-fourths cup flour, put in a pinch of salt, one cup seeded raisins, one teaspoon each of cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon. Mix and bake in a moderate oven.

Mrs. Donald Brenneck, Rt. 1, Snobomish, Wash. Cranberry Ice.

Cook together four cups cranberries with two cups water, strain, add two cups sugar and cook until dissolved. Add one-half package lemon jello, cool and freeze to the consistency of water ice.

Mrs. Oscar Bredthauer.

Scalloped Squash.

Peel squash, any kind, and slice. Place a layer of squash in a well buttered baking dish, sprinkle with salt, pepper and one tablespoon graham flour or crackers, then another layer of squash, etc., repeating until the dish is filled. Then pour in one-half cup cream and one cup milk, cover and bake one hour. Remove cover the last fifteen minutes.

Mrs. J. J. Waldmann.

Cranberry Catsup.

Wash and pick over two and one-half pounds cranberries, cover with vinegar and cook until they burst. Force through a sieve, then add two and two-thirds cups sugar, one tablespoon cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves. Return to the fire and simmer until thick, seal in jars. Serve as a relish with fowl or meat.

Mrs. George Nass.

Raisin Cream Pie.

Cook one and one-half cups seedless raisins until tender. Cream one cup sugar, one tablespoon butter and add two well beaten egg yolks, one-third teaspoon salt, one-third cup flour, three-fourths cup boiling water. Add to the raisins, cook until thick and cool. Put in vanilla to thicken, pour into a baked pie shell. Make a meringue of the egg whites, brown in the oven.

Mrs. G. D. Hoyt.

Again I want to say how nice it was of the H. O. A. club to take recipes at roll call time and send them to the Quiz. I am sure numberless readers will be grateful to Mrs. Hoyt, president of the club, and her fellow club members for their kind thoughtfulness.

Paging Japan Black Gold Best for War The Mighty Airplane Two Kinds of Treasure

When the Japanese plan to absorb a section of northern China with population of 95,000,000 seemed to have been abandoned, chaos broke loose in northern China. Industrious bandits, without fear of Japan's efficiency, began looting stores and Chinese merchants begged Japan to restore order.

Eleven Japanese divisions quartered outside the Great Wall are ready to move in, and Japan will hardly have the heart to stay out under such circumstances. Later Japan will not have the heart to stay out of the Philippines. Japanese confidence in the sun goddess seems justified. The drift in Japan's way, with westerners busy planning to kill each other.

There are, California tells you, several kinds of gold: yellow gold that took crowds to California in 1849; another yellow gold that grows on orange, lemon and grapefruit trees; the white gold water power rolling from the mountains, to produce black gold, power and fertility; and the oil in the ground.

Mussolini's determination to keep oil flowing into Italy, even at a risk of European war, shows that oil is more important in war now than yellow gold. It moves great tanks, keeps the planes in the air; it means motion, and successful motion means victory.

Mighty is the airplane in northern Brazil, where the "elbow" sticks out into the Atlantic. Soldiers said by the Associated Press to be guided by Communists decided to run the government and make it better. They locked up their officers and were just starting the new "better" government when official airplanes came along with bombs.

"Bang" went one or two bombs, aerial machine guns said "rat-tat-tat" a few times.

The revolutionary soldiers said, "That will do," and scattered in the interior. It is hard to "rise and throw off your chains" while capitalism is dropping bombs.

In Jacksonville, Fla., gentlemen fitting out an expedition to hunt for pirate treasure think they know where the gold is. They may find it; probably will not.

Other gentlemen are figuring out similar treasure expeditions in Wall street, regardless of what happened when they did that in 1920.

Men hunting pirate treasure and Wall street treasure will have plenty of excitement, and that probably is well worth the effort. "A dull life is no life."

The great Jonker diamond, biggest uncut stone on earth, is to be cut into smaller pieces, since no one rich enough to buy it now would wear so big a diamond.

It might have been sold to a Russian czar, Turkish sultan or Ethiopian emperor for use in a crown, "to increase majesty." But czars and sultans have vanished, Ethiopia's ruler is short of cash.

The big diamond will be cut into small pieces and sell for about $1,500,000. The largest "piece" will weigh 100 carats, the rest from 10 to 50 carats. Interesting opportunity for deserving Hollywood stars.

John S. Ciemiengo, sixteen, sentenced to die next January in the electric chair, helped George H. Hillebrand, twenty-six, to rob and murder an old poultry farmer.

Sixteen seems rather young for an electric chair candidate, but the Judge and Jury felt that by disposing of the young murderer now they would avoid robberies and murders in the future. Recent history of youthful criminal makes that probable.

"Foreign observers" in Ethiopia believe that Ethiopia is fighting a lost cause; also that, as the number of wounded increases and the case looks more and more hopeless, there might be a general massacre of whites. It is this should happen the "50 to 1" gentlemen of the League of Nations would have themselves to blame.

The "sanctions" and boycott will not prevent Italy defeating Ethiopia, but they do make the Ethiopian ruler over-confident, persuading him to sacrifice lives unnecessarily.

Bishops of England's Anglican church, the archbishop of Canterbury, leading, denounce Chancellor Hitler's persecution of German Jews, as they well may, and they hope that Christians in Great Britain and elsewhere will "exert their influence."

Henry Holm Married.
 Before a host of relatives and friends, Henry Holm, son of Mrs. Carl Holm, and Miss Veiva Misner were united in marriage last Saturday evening at the Presbyterian church manse at Hayward, Calif. The Rev. William Aulcy Pankey, pastor, officiated.

The bride was lovely in a dark suit with a white satin blouse and dark hat. She wore a corsage of gardenias and lilies-of-the-valley. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hartzell.

Henry Holm is well known to many Ord people, living in this vicinity all his life before moving to Hayward. Following a brief honeymoon, the couple will make their home in Hayward, where Mr. Holm is employed.

For Football Boys.
 Madams John Haskell and Rudolph Koupal entertained Ord football boys and coaches H. F. Brockman and B. C. Cowell at a 6:30 dinner Tuesday evening in the Methodist church.

Covers were laid for 29 at a long table, the centerpiece being a football, tied in red and white crepe paper. The table was laid with red streamers and goal posts were placed at each end of the table. A loop, bearing the letters L. V. H. S. Champions extended lengthwise along the table. Place-cards were little red footballs with the name imprinted in white and the entire dinner carried out the red and white color scheme.

At Cornell Home.
 Mrs. A. W. Cornell entertained a foursome at bridge Friday evening for Miss Mary Ann Cornell who was spending the week end in Ord. Present were Misses Marie Hall, Clara McClatchey and Eunice Chase.

Missionary Society Meet.
 The Presbyterian Missionary society met Wednesday afternoon for a special meeting in the church basement. A great many were present to hear the special program featuring a talk by Leo Lapp, a native Nebraskan who has been doing missionary work at Yunnan, China.

Wed at Los Angeles.
 At the Wilshire Wedding Chapel in Los Angeles on Sunday, November 24 occurred the marriage of two young people well known in Ord, Miss Gladys L. Wagner and L. Kenneth Lincoln. The bride is a sister of Madams Sam Bricker, Wm. Hansen and John Chipp, of Ord, and the groom a brother of Warren and Reuben Lincoln, of this city. He worked here as a relief operator in the Union Pacific depot for a time.

Celebrate 25th Anniversary.
 Friday evening friends and neighbors numbering 67 surprised Mr. and Mrs. George Houtby at their farm northeast of Ord in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. George Houtby and Miss Louise Newman were married November 30, 1910 at 3:30 in the Midvale church south of Ord, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Caldwell. Since that time they have made their home in and around this vicinity and are much liked and respected by their many neighbors and friends.

Mrs. Evert Smith officiated at a mock wedding after which pinocle and rook were enjoyed. At a late hour refreshments, brought by the guests, were served. S. O. S. club members from that vicinity presented Mr. and Mrs. Houtby with a silver gift.

On the Sunday following, Mr. and Mrs. Houtby were at home to about 40 relatives from Grand Island, Rockville, North Loup, Sargent and Scotia.

Eight Belles Meet.

Christian Science Services
 "God is the Only Cause and Creator" is the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science Churches for Sunday, December 8.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 93:1: "The Lord reigneth, he is clothed with majesty, he is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: the world also is established, that it cannot be moved."

 A passage from the Bible in the lesson-lesson is from I Chronicles 29:11: "Thine, O Lord, is the glory, and the victory, and the majesty: for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine, thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou art exalted as head above all."
 A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "God is individual, incorporeal. He is divine Principle, Love, the universal cause, the only creator, and there is no self-existence. He is all-inclusive, and is reflected by all that is real and eternal, and by nothing else." (page 331).

 IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA

In the Matter of the application of Clarence M. Davis, as Administrator with the Will annexed of the estate of Simpson W. Morrow, Deceased.

Order To Show Cause.
 Now on this 29th day of November, 1935, this matter came on for hearing on the petition, under oath of Clarence M. Davis, administrator with the will annexed of the estate of Simpson W. Morrow, deceased, praying for a license to sell the following described real estate, to-wit: The West half of the North-west quarter of Section 13, Township 18, North of Range 15, West of the sixth Principal Meridian, in Valley County, Nebraska, for the payment of debts and expenses against said estate, since there is insufficient personal property to pay the same.

It is, therefore, ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before one of the Judges of the District Court in and for Valley County, Nebraska, in the District Court room in Ord, in said county and state, on the 11th day of January, 1936, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to such administrator to sell such real estate for such purpose.

A copy of this order shall be published four successive weeks in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper published in said county.

Five Letter Men To Return; Ord Should Have Good Quintet

With the football season completed, Coach He'mut F. Brockman announced Monday morning that basketball practice at Ord high school will start immediately. On the Ord schedule are all the Loup valley teams plus two that have never before been regularly scheduled—Kearney and Hastings. Five veterans return to Coach Brockman's squad this year, which augurs well for success. The five are Clark, Tunncliff, Adamek, Marks and Blessing. Only one of these was a member of last year's starting quintet which won a conference championship for Ord but all saw considerable service. The 1935 team lost only three games out of eighteen and scored 906 points to 359 for their opponents, which gives the 1936 squad a real record to shoot at. Ord's 1936 schedule will be: Jan. 3—St. Paul at Ord. Jan. 7—Sargent at Sargent. Jan. 10—Dannebrog at Ord. Jan. 17—Scott's at Ord. Jan. 21—Loup City at Ord.

Jan. 24—Kearney at Ord. Jan. 31—Ravenna at Ravenna. Febr. 4—Arcadia at Ord. Febr. 7—Hastings at Hastings. Febr. 11—Broken Bow at Ord.

Ghosts

By PAUL MAURICE VEST

Illustration New paper syndicate WNU Service.

APPARENTLY they met quite by chance there on the crowded avenue. Each stole a surreptitious, swiftly appraising glance at the other.

She said: "Why, Don, how well you are looking. You don't seem a day older than you did ten years ago. And it has been ten years, hasn't it, since our divorce?"

"That's right, Lora. Ten years next month. But say, you're looking pretty fine yourself. I suppose that's because you haven't had me around to make your life miserable."

She laughed deprecatingly. "Perhaps you could say as much yourself. Getting another divorce?"

He glanced up quickly. "I suppose you've heard."

"How could I possibly keep from it? One's friends always think that an ex-wife is absorbingly interested in the affairs of her former husband."

"And aren't ex-wives a little interested sometimes?"

She smiled at him whimsically. "Possibly. Some ex-wives," she evaded. "But I thought you were dreadfully fond of Minka?"

Something glistened in the depths of his tired eyes, then went out. "No, never really fond of her. Fascinated, intrigued, perhaps, but never fond. But can't we forget Minka? This moment belongs to you and me."

A faint flush crept into her cheeks. "Don't . . ." her voice was very low. "I remember once before you said that. It was our wedding night."

For a moment their eyes met. Behind the tired masks the years had fashioned each saw the other of twenty years ago. Lora saw an eager, impetuous boy of twenty-one, eyes shining with courageous hope.

"Those first days—they were fun, and sort of glorious, weren't they? Remember that funny little three-room house with the roof that leaked unmercifully every time it rained?" he said.

"Ghosts," she murmured. "Poor, faded little ghosts out of the past."

He nodded his head. "But look at us today, Lora. We have all the things that we once thought we wanted. We can buy our way wherever we want to go. Yes, we have everything, I suppose—everything except the things that are really important. I believe I've learned that poverty can be more blessed than wealth. Let's go over to the Jade Tree and talk," he suggested. "You used to like to go there."

Together they stepped down from the curb so absorbed in each other that they didn't look where they were going. An oncoming truck bore down upon them. Sudden screeching of automobile horns. Screeching of brakes! Pedestrians gasped and closed their eyes.

Then one terrifying instant Lora caught a glimpse of that great, black hulk almost upon them.

"Darling!" she screamed.

And in a flash it was all over. Don had caught her in his strong arms and whisked her from in front of the vehicle.

Safe on the sidewalk she clung to him, sobbing a little.

He looked down at her. "What did you call me, Lora?" he asked gravely.

She tried to laugh but a sob caught in her throat. "I . . . think I must have called you darling—I was so terribly frightened."

Then suddenly his arms were around her and he kissed her, entirely oblivious to the amused glance of the interested passers-by.

"Lora," he whispered huskily. "I've been such a fool! Can't we wipe the slate clean—go back and start all over again where those two happy, foolish kids in that funny three room cottage left off—can't we?"

"I won't have to go back, Don," she replied in a voice that trembled with emotion. "You see, I've never stopped loving you."

"Lora! Lora, darling!" he cried eagerly, clasping her two hands in his. "You mean . . . you mean you'll really give me another chance?"

Tears glistened on her long lashes. "Don, dear, when the divorce is final and you are free, you'll find me in that little three room house." She paused and smiled up at him through her tears. "Only it isn't a funny house any more, but the dearest, coziest place you've ever seen. I bought it a long time ago and have made it into the little home I used to sit and dream about when we were first married."

He started to speak but the words caught in his throat. He could only put his arms about her tenderly and kiss her. Then at last, finding his voice, "Lora, we couldn't have met here by chance today. It must have been destiny."

She flushed ever so slightly and dropped her eyes. "I'm afraid I helped destiny along just a little bit," she confessed. "You see, since I learned about the divorce I've waited here on the avenue every night just in case you'd be passing this way from your office."

Myra Crandall Was First Teacher at Pleasant Hill School At Salary of $22.50 Monthly; Other Memories of Early Days

By IDA DAVIS BROWN.

About 1878 Cyrus E. Weaver and his sister's husband, W. W. Rathbun took homesteads on Sec. 30, Township 17, Range 13. T. D. and S. D. Wood, brothers from southern Minnesota located on Sec. 20. Also C. J. Rood had a timber claim on Sec. 20. In 1880 Joseph H. Clark and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Delight Tappan, took the rest of Sec. 30. In 1882 Mrs. Tappan's son Edwin, a red-headed young widower with a laugh that could not be duplicated, came to remain with his mother. Others had come and gone.

In 1888 when there was deep snow Mrs. Rathbun started to the Weaver home to have her niece fit a new dress. When she did not return her husband went in search and found her down in the snow which was packed as though she had struggled to get up. He called help and took her cold and unconscious into the Clark home where she died before morning. She had no children. Years later Mr. Rathbun also died in the Clark home.

Several years effort for a school in this section was crowned with success at a legal school meeting held March 31, 1884 in the Weaver home. This was a good-sized frame house, and except "Dave" Wood's smaller one, the only frame house near. Both of these houses are still in use. At this meeting Cyrus E. Weaver was elected moderator, Joseph H. Clark director and F. D. Wood treasurer. At a meeting a week later it was decided to have three months school. A levy of 15 mills for teaching fund, 5 mills for incidentals and 5 mills for building fund was voted. School opened June 9. The salary was $22.50 per month. It was taught by Miss Myra A. Crandall. She was sweet sixteen, although too modest to supply the adjective, and it was her first term as teacher. The sod dwelling on C. J. Rood's timber claim was used. The roll was probably as follows: Nellie, Billings, Elmer and Lucy Clark, two little Weaver brothers and Mamie and Ethel Wood, cousins. The expense of this year was $32.75.

During this term F. D. Wood traded his homestead to my mother, Mrs. Floretta Davis, for our Minnesota home. The teacher was boarding with this Wood family so she stayed with us the rest of the term. She paid 75c per week and went home Friday night. I cannot give the order in which the settlers came and went nor can I mention everyone but I believe I remember all.

maining quarter on Sec. 20 and Newell Sweet and family lived with him. Sec. 32 was early taken by John Smith NW 1/4, Fred Smith SW 1/4, N. V. Hanson, Joseph Heusen's father, SE 1/4. A Loup City lady filed on the NE 1/4 and supplied a different picture of homesteading. Her house was little more than a hole containing nothing of value but a little timber used in construction. The only scattered furrows of breaking. Her friends drove over to the claim with her remaining for her to eat and sleep "as often as the law required". It was called the old man's claim. Later John Smith acquired the land only.

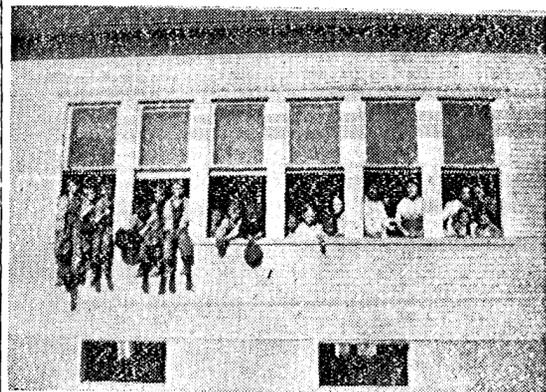

Wm. Worrell bought Fred Smith's claim. In 1911 when Dist. 70 was organized it took all this section and Sec. 31, "the Sachett section (speculators' land), also the Tappan and James Coleman arms on Sec. 30. Lawrence Coppen bought the NE 1/4 of 28. He and his wife were both excellent spellers. He served on the school board several years before moving away. Clyde Sample had this place and probably sold to the Knapps. The Rolhegbs and her father, Mr. Swank had the NW 1/4 until 1893. Mrs. Burt Williams had a card table they brought here which was then an antique.

Before the 1885 term C. J. Rood had moved back onto his claim and Mr. Weaver had moved away.

Near the creek on what is now the Finley farm was a herdman's board shack known as the Coy's shanty. This was used for the second term of school. There were about a dozen pupils. Lucy Clark Earnest, while visiting here this summer said all she remembered of that school was the hail and wind storm that broke out the windows and threatened to take the building, the scared look on the teacher's face and all taking to the creek bank for protection until the storm passed. Nellie

Modern School in District 43 Now

In this picture is seen one side of the modern school building that has been at use in Pleasant Hill district for several years. A photograph of the original sod school house is owned by Mrs. Ida Davis Brown but its state of preservation is such that a cut for newspaper use could not be made from it.

Fisher said Maggie Tappan's only grief seemed to be because her new sunbonnet was wet, and I remember that we taller ones had to wade back and forth and carry the little people going north across the flooded canyon.

At the April 1885 meeting it had been decided to build a sod school house. This was made near the southwest corner of C. J. Rood's land and was ready for the 1886 term. It was on a pretty site, level, grassy playground, with a natural wooded canyon back, and many birds and wild flowers. The furniture was home-made of nicely planed, unpainted boards. The heating equipment was a discarded cook stove that did duty until 1888, seems as though it was my mother's but if anyone else wants it for their mother, I'll not quarrel. Any of those mothers have the full quota of stars in their crown without it. But the stove was a pioneer and the originator of the nationally approved hot lunches for school children. Potatoes placed in the oven at morning recess came out done to a turn for lunch. Also we popped corn at the noon hour, thus getting the Loup valley popcorn industry off to a good start. "Great aches from little toe corns grow".

While in this house we had a child lost experience. At that time I was teaching and my eight or nine-year-old motherless cousin, Lester Sweet, was with us attending school. It was spring and Sunday when I sent him to carry dinner to mother, who was watching the cows up Oak canyon. When she came home near night she had not seen him. Evidently he had taken the wrong fork of the canyon and was lost. We sent word to his father and brothers in North Loup who came with additional help. Most of the men went horseback. We women secured what lanterns we could and searched holes and washouts in the nearby hills, calling and listening for an answer. The night turned freezing cold. Morning came with no news and we were so cold, tired and distracted. The school board had met somewhere out on the search and sent word school would be closed. The hunting party grew to some 75 men as another day and night brought no news. Tuesday afternoon he was found 15 miles south. A farmer had stopped him at nine o'clock Sunday night and found out who he was and that he was lost and exhausted. He told Lester he had orders to keep him until his father came for him. He treated the child well but made no effort to communicate with us.

In July 1886, Charley Barber, "the gilt edged timber" from the color of his hair, and his trade, rare red Louisa Davis and Edwin Tappan brought home his wife, Mrs. Anna. The Barbers were "just kids", and the Tappans, though older were just as jolly. After a few years the former moved away. The latter stayed and took time to live. Edwin called his place Sleepy Hollow. It was said when he was on his way to town he always met James Coleman coming home. However on lodge nights this was premeditated. When he passed in 1910, seldom had Valley county seen so large a funeral.

At first only a short school term a year was held. The 1887 meeting voted 6 months school. After that I think we had no less and for a number of years 3 months, before the state fixed the length of term.

In 1889 the first frame school house was built on the present site, which was donated "for one dollar" by Mrs. and Mrs. Chas. J. Rood. This was also the site of their sod house in which the first school was taught. I think it was in this house we organized a very worth while Literary society de wood are the only married teachers the district has hired. Anna Lambdin married during her school year and finished as Mrs. Treen. Mr. Underwood was hired for only 2 1/2 months, probably to finish out Elmer Clark's term. Elmer was one of the three pupils I remember, who became teachers in the same school and one of the three men teachers. Elmer has spent 10 years in official capacities in Alaska and is now in California. The third of the men teachers is now Rev. Herbert VanHorn, D. D., editor of the Sabbath Recorder, Plainfield, N. J. The other two who were pupils and later teachers at Pleasant Hill are Nina Wood Lewis and Fern LaBer Maxson. The Pleasant Hill church was built by the Friends in 1909 and was well attended for years but owing to changing conditions it was sold only a few years ago.

In the cemetery rests Mrs. Delight Tappan, her son Edwin and his two daughters. There are grand children of S. D. Wood, Joe Clark, Anna Tappan, George Finch and wife, grandparents of the present George Finch are there. And others, although most of our dead sleep elsewhere. In 1901, Mrs. Phoebe Clark, a beautiful Christian mother was taken from her seven children. Two years later Mrs. Sach, in her early womanhood left her two little boys and other mother and fathers and children have gone.

Of the organizers of the district there are left the two Wood men and Mrs. Rachel Wood, all in Minnesota.

The Rendells have had the longest residence. All of their six children did all their grade school work here as did all of Matt Brown's five children. Counting father and son the Whites have had a long continuous residence. All have been interested in school. Probably half of the men have served on the school board and only two women, Bertha Nelson and Lizzie Knapp. Several of the second generation have been on the board.

Two of my mother's children, all 12 of her grandchildren and five great grandchildren have been pupils at Pleasant Hill. Two generations of pupils dates back forty years and examples are numerous.

Clem Meyers began delivering our mail about 1904.

J. F. VanCadol bought the first auto about 1907. It was one of those that would skid in the mud and cause Van to shout "who," and Elmer Hubbard's car didn't skid. His wife said he never took it out until the dew was all off the grass. The busy B telephone line first passed through our district with several subscribers and in 1907 the O line took nearly all the rest.

And always invaders! From the youthful days of Joe Fisher

(D.) a generation later to Geo. Cowen (who thinks as much of his G. O. P. as of his G. G. G.) and down to the present young men who have entered and stolen the hearts of our dearest daughters and taken them to grace and bliss other school districts. All our teachers and pupils have married as soon as they considered themselves old enough. If a few are a little slow they have made such excellent grades in all other branches that we pass them magna cum laude with just a reminder to Morris that time flies.

When Bert Sayre's house burned the family lived in the school house while they rebuilt.

Roy Williams first built on the Will Davis place and Mr. Plate the quarter north where Jess Vaaler now lives. From the time "Green" Wood built the stone house the sod houses with their deep windows and honey interiors, their cool summers and warm winters gradually went until in 1900 or thereabouts they were things of the past. No, I do not ask for their return lest we entertain mice and snakes.

July 17, 1913, a school meeting voted to build our present school house 14x0 with full basement. Marcia Rood was the first teacher in this house.

We had another scare and this time a near fatality when Charlie

Sayre shot Joe Stillman in the abdomen while the boys were hunting.

A very large per cent of our children have entered high school and most of those have graduated. Very many of these graduates have gone to colleges or universities and a creditable number have brought home their sheepskins.

I acknowledge recent receipt of many memories, also thank and honor the actors who have staged this fifty year drama of "foot prints on the sands of time."

'36 Corn-Hog Plan Designed Increase Hog Production

his corn acreage 10 to 30 percent under his base.

4. A producer will receive $1.25 benefit payment for each hog in his base for 1936.

5. Corn benefits will be at the rate of 35 cents a bushel for 1936. Will be 2 payments.

Producers must grow at least 25 percent of the base corn acreage to qualify for payments. The 1936 payments are to be made in two installments, the first about August 1, and the second about December 31.

A pro rata share of local administrative costs will be deducted from each producer's adjustment payments.

Provision has been made for tenants and landlords to share in the benefit payments according to their interests in the assigned corn base and as the corn crops under the lease are divided on each separately owned tract.

Must Plant Contract Acres.

An alternative has been provided, whereby the tenants and landlords may make the division, subject to approval of the allotment committee, according to the number of adjusted corn acres on each separately owned tract. The hog payments are to be divided as the hog crop is divided.

Acres taken out of corn production must be planted in soil improving or erosion preventing crops.

Aims of the new program, the AAA said, are to balance the corn crop with livestock feeding requirements; to encourage better balanced cropping systems; to maintain a balance between producer and consumer interests, and to restore the balance in production between regions adversely affected by weather during the last two years.

No Less Than 30c.

The rate of payment for corn for 1937 is to be announced by Nov. 30, 1936, but it will not be less than 30 cents. Corn reduction required will be announced by the same date.

The contracts say that to obtain a maximum hog payment in 1937, the producer will not be asked to raise more than 60 percent, nor to reduce more than 25 percent from his market base.

The 1937 rate of payment cannot be less than the 1936 payments; and both hog payments will be made in a lump sum as soon as compliance has been checked at the end of a market year.

Must Raise Hogs Now.

If a producer fails to raise 50 percent of his base hog production, deductions at the rate of $2.50 a head will be made in his benefit payments. A reduction of $5 a head will be made for each hog raised in excess of 100 percent of the allotment.

In checking compliance, it was said, no consideration will be given to the uses made of the corn produced.

A contract signer with a corn base of 10 acres or more will be eligible for a benefit payment, while a signer with a market base of six hogs or more will be eligible for a hog payment.

The program was drafted after producers in a nation-wide referendum recently voted approval of production control.

What Are You Buying?

Recently a Valley County farm sold for $10,000.00. That is a lot of money for a "scrap of paper". But if the TITLE does not prove good, that is all that was purchased — a "scrap of paper", and perhaps a lot of lawsuits.

THE TITLE IS THE THING

that makes the value. If you purchase a piece of real estate, or an interest in real estate — remember that its value is limited by the TITLE given you by the seller.

employee here suffered an accident during the period involved, this man having one toe crushed when it was hit by an iron bar. The insurance company has paid this man $85 or $90, Kilma says, and this is the only loss suffered in Valley county by the insurance company.

The Turk-Somerville company is represented by a firm of Omaha attorneys and County Attorney Alvin Lee, possibly with assistance of other counsel, will represent Valley county in the suit should it ever come to trial. It is extremely likely that it will be settled out of court, however.

of the audit made a few weeks ago by Mr. Greenberg, of the VanBoskirk-Remington company, of Lincoln, who were employed to audit county books. Actual payroll basis was used by Greenberg in determining amount he thought Valley county should pay for the insurance, County Clerk Kilma says.

The Turk-Somerville company base their claim for $2,817.69 upon a ruling made by the Nebraska insurance commissioner which increases the rate of compensation insurance when it applies to FEIA workmen, contention being that these workmen are more likely to have accidents than others. This ruling forms the basis for several suits now pending in various Nebraska courts.

Another contention of the Turk-Somerville company is that Valley county should pay on a per-week basis for every FERA employee whose name went on the pay roll, even though he might have worked only an hour or a few hours. The Valley county board will resist this contention also.

Ord Owes Premium Too.

A number of Nebraska counties and many municipalities, among them the city of Ord, are withholding payment of premiums upon FERA compensation insurance until the various suits now pending are finally settled. One such suit pending elsewhere in Nebraska maintains that since FERA workmen were not put to work by the city or county but by the federal government, and since the time they worked and their rate of pay was specified by the government, the local government agency should not be held responsible for payment of premiums upon compensation insurance.

Seeking Big Cache Of Gold Buried In 1851 By Redskins

Colorado Man Claims Found It With Divining Rod, Will Dig Hole 53 Feet Deep.

Buried treasure! Who lives who doesn't thrill to those magic words?

And when the buried treasure is gold—a ton or more of it—in heavy, yellow bars, buried deep in the earth, it becomes a prize worth working for.

So think an earnest little band of treasure hunters led by T. M. Godfrey, of Denver, who are excavating on the Maynard Finley farm southwest of North Loup.

Although founded on historical incident, the story told by Mr. Godfrey is almost incredible, as is his method of locating the treasure, but he has thoroughly convinced his co-workers that the gold is where he says it is.

Gold Buried by Indians.
About 1851, says Mr. Godfrey, many wagon trains loaded with gold ingots left the gold fields of California for the east. Most of these wagon trains reached North Platte without difficulty but three, possibly four, left North Platte for Omaha and never reached that city.

Supposition was that they had been captured by Indians, their drivers massacred, wagons burned and treasure carried away. So much is historical fact, says Godfrey, who is an experienced Colorado mining man. His belief is that the Indians, unable to use the gold but knowing it to be of great value, buried it in one or several places in central Nebraska. He owns an old map, supposedly drawn by Indians, showing where such a gold horde was buried.

Gold Makes It Quiver.
Mr. Godfrey is the inventor of a divining rod which locates buried gold, according to his claims. A heavy, cigar-shaped object about five inches long, the instrument is mounted on a metal rod and placed in the earth. When gold is buried within a mile the instrument quivers.

Kroger Dismisses Burt Sell Appeal

Rules Bond Faulty, Says Arcadia Men Convicted In Co. Court Must Pay Their Fines.

Ruling that the bond was faulty under which Burt Sell and his sons, Orville and Portius, appealed their recent conviction in county court for trespassing, District Judge E. G. Kroger Monday dismissed the appeal and ordered the three Arcadia men to pay their fines and costs.

The ruling was made on a motion filed by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee, who asked that the appeal be dismissed because the bond was technically insufficient. This motion was sustained by Kroger.

Fines, Costs, About $140.
For trespassing upon a farm owned by Mrs. Lewin of Arcadia and removing a tractor owned by her father, M. L. Fryer, the three Sells were fined by Judge John L. Andersen in a county court case late in the summer. The appeal to district court has been pending ever since.

Burt Sell was fined $25 and his two sons $20 each at that time. Costs in the case will aggregate about $75.

Still pending in district court is a "petition in error" filed by attorneys for the Sells and until this case is settled sentence cannot be executed, court officials say. This case alleges that the county court erred at the time of the first trial.

Attorneys for Mr. Sell and his sons were Dewey Hanson, of Omaha, and John P. Misko, of Ord. County Attorney Lee acted for Valley county.

Finds for Will Misko.
Only other case to take up much of Judge Kroger's time at the session Monday was the Henry Misko v. Will Misko case, a partition action. A farm owned jointly by the two was sold at referee's sale recently and Henry Misko, as plaintiff, was attempting to have the sale set aside and the land resold. Judge Kroger already had confirmed the sale and he refused Monday to set the confirmation aside. John P. Misko represented his cousin, Will, and Henry was represented by James Lanigan, of Greeley.

A number of moratorium foreclosure cases and other routine matters were taken up by Judge Kroger during his visit to Ord Monday. He was accompanied by his court reporter, Arthur Bass of Grand Island.

Ill-D. Tolson was in Ord from Lincoln Sunday to visit his father, J. B. Tolson.

Plant 12,000 Trees on Edw. Kokes Farm To Start Shelter Belt Program

"Not much to look at now but some day it'll be a big tree," says E. W. Renshaw, of Lincoln, district shelter belt chief, as he examined the seedling held by Fred M. Hestbeck, who has charge of the work in Valley county. First planting in the 50-mile program contemplated here was done last Friday on the Edward Kokes farm in Noble township, occupied by Joe Holzinger.

Twelve thousand trees are being set out on the Kokes farm by WPA laborers. The planting will be ten rods in width and a mile long. Late fall planting of trees is experimental, say Renshaw and Hestbeck, and further planting must wait until next spring.

About thirty miles of Valley county land has already been signed up for the shelter belt and officials hope for twenty miles more before spring. Farmers interested may secure information at the Reforestation office located in the old State bank building, Ord.

John Miller Wins $25 Silver Strike Prize; Wasn't There

1,000 People At Second Drawing Saturday; Plan Big Event For the Final Week.

John Miller, who lives on the sand flats and does practically all his trading in Ord, was a little late in coming to town Saturday afternoon and as a result missed out on a $25 cash prize awarded him by the Silver Strike Committee.

Rules of the event require that winners must claim their prizes in person within fifteen minutes after the drawing is completed. Mr. Miller was about twenty minutes late.

Other prizes Saturday were won by Mrs. Frank A. Parkos, Mrs. Ben J. Julewski, Ralph Ackles, Miss Bessie Esota, Mrs. H. C. Marks, Lawrence Mason, Mrs. Louis Greenwalt, W. F. Vastick, Charles Perry, H. O. Strombom, J. L. Tedrow, Allen C. Tappan, Joe Hybl, Albena Urban, Mae Treptow, Jos. Nevriy, Emma J. Hughes and A. J. Wetzel. All except Messrs. Miller and Wetzel were present to claim their prizes.

More Big Events Coming.
A crowd estimated at 1,000 attended the drawing Saturday, which was conducted by Dale Norman and F. V. Haught. This event was the second in a series of four being held by Ord merchants during December. During the month $300 will be given away, of which about $120 has so far been claimed.

Saturday of this week $75 in cash will again be given and on Saturday, Dec. 21, the final Silver Strike drawing will be conducted. On Tuesday, Dec. 24, at 7:30 p. m., a community Christmas tree for all children will be sponsored by the Silver Strike merchants.

Red Cross To Hold Meeting Dec. 27th

Annual meeting of the Valley County Red Cross society will be held at the court house in Ord on Friday, Dec. 27, announces the county chairman, Miss Clara McClatchey, and at this time officers will be elected and plans made for the coming year. J. C. Samp, a representative of the midwestern branch, will be here to assist.

In the recent campaign 153 members joined in Ord, 49 in North Loup and a number in Arcadia, the final report from there not having been received.

A nominating committee has been appointed by Miss McClatchey to meet in Ord December 26, the chairman being John P. Misko and members Mrs. E. C. Leggett, D. C. Williamson, Will Ollis, Miss Fannie McClellan, Mrs. Dena Lewis, S. B. Warden and A. E. Haywood.

16 Pupils Enrolled In Nursery School

The nursery school, under the direction of Mrs. Helen Hill got under way Monday, Dec. 2 and now has a total enrollment of 16 pupils. The total enrollment has been limited to 20 and as soon as they are properly outfitted so that they are able to attend, four more children will be added. Mrs. Hill succeeds Mrs. Frank Andersen as director.

Now attending are Joan Lashmett, Lola Newton, Fernie Morris, Jackie Shunkweiler, Mory Lee Williams, Jimmy Keller, Clara Jess Swanda, Kenneth Adams, Allen Ray Blaha, Delores Blaha, Jerry Burrows, Karen Burrows, Jevly Bailey, Monte Lee Dally, Myllis Dahlin and Laverne Ludington. Assisting Mrs. Hill are Mrs. Ella Hughes and Mrs. Opal Burrows.

Will Buy Old Gold.

Banquet Climaxes Ord's Successful Agriculture Day

Crowd Smaller Than Expected But Speakers Brought Very Interesting Messages.

The first organized agriculture day to be celebrated in Ord was held Tuesday with something doing all day long to entertain the fifty or sixty farmers and their wives and families who registered. The climax was reached with a "fun feed" and public banquet held Tuesday evening at the Masonic hall. C. C. Dale, Valley county agricultural agent, was in charge of local arrangements, the University of Nebraska extension department cooperated by providing some splendid speakers, and the weather man cooperated by furnishing an ideal day.

Beginning with registration at the high school auditorium in mid-morning, a brief band concert opened the festivities, the music made by the Ord high school band, then Evet Smith as chairman presided at a poultry meeting. Professor F. E. Mussehl was the chief speaker, and the constructive talk was followed by a lively discussion. At eleven o'clock Mrs. Angeline Anderson spoke to a group of about thirty women on discipline problems of childhood and found her ideas much appreciated by the mothers, grandmothers and aunts present. Mrs. Glo Nelson was chairman of this section, held in a high school lecture room.

Alford Speech Excels.
Last of the morning meetings was a talk by Dr. S. W. Alford on diseases of livestock. Dr. Alford was introduced by Don Rounds, and farmers present voted the information they received practical in the extreme.

Five Ord Players Put On 'All' Team By Valley Coaches

Marks, Haskell, Blessing, Pray And Richardson On Honor Roll Chosen Last Saturday.

After crashing through to an undefeated 1935 season in Loup Valley conference football competition for the first time since the organization of the conference, the Ord high gridmen again received recognition when five of their number were named by Loup Valley coaches on the 1935 All-Valley team.

Paul Blessing, who played a consistent game at end all season was tied with Murphy of Scotia. Frank Pray fills a guard position, Lloyd Richardson was placed at tackle and two Ord men, Dean Marks and Harold Haskell, were chosen to the backfield. Arcadia placed three men on the team, Kudiac at end, Dorsey at guard and White in the backfield. Two Comstock men were chosen, Roth at tackle and Chelupsky, center. Loup City placed one man on the All-Valley team, Slominsky in the backfield.

Four of these Ord men, Richardson, Pray, Blessing and Marks will be lost through graduation and other squad members who played their last game for Ord Thanksgiving day include Ronald Rose, Charles Jones and Kenneth Koelling.

Martha Mae Barta and A. S. Koupal Win Automobiles in Gooch Contest

For writing the best essay in a contest sponsored by the Gooch Milling company of Lincoln, Miss Martha Mae Barta, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. P. Barta of Ord, last Friday was awarded a new Studebaker automobile valued at $1,100. And because the entry blank upon which Miss Barta submitted her essay came from a sack of flour purchased from A. S. Koupal, he also was awarded a new Studebaker.

Miss Barta was graduated from Ord high school, later attended Stevens college and last spring was graduated from University of Nebraska where she majored in fine arts. She has been at home with her parents since her graduation. This was the first contest she ever entered, Miss Barta says.

Both of the Ord people were awarded their prizes in a radio ceremony broadcast Friday and listened to by many Ordites.

City Offers Prizes For Yard Decorations

As has been the custom for several years the Light Department of the city of Ord again will offer prizes for the best yard and residence decorations this Christmas season. It is announced today. Impartial judges will tour the city a few days before Christmas and to the five homes selected as being best decorated will go the following prizes: Westinghouse sandwich grid, value $5.95; Westinghouse waffle iron, value $5.50; Westinghouse percolator, value $4.45; Westinghouse toaster, value $3.50; Westinghouse toaster, value $3.25. Come on, folks, let's make Ord the most beautifully decorated city in central Nebraska.

James S. Milliken Named For Annapolis

Senator George W. Norris announced Monday that he has appointed James S. Milliken, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Milliken of Ord, as one of three candidates for the United States naval academy at Annapolis, the appointment being effective in 1936. Others are Donald J. Stangell, Howells, and Elton R. Wiley, Lincoln. Alternates named were Lee Isaacson, North Platte, Frank Lomax, Broken Bow, and Marvin Loetter, Deshler.

Young Milliken is an Ord high school graduate, later attended Severna Academy, Severna Park, Maryland, and now is enrolled as a freshman student at the University of Nebraska. He placed second in the competitive examination to determine who will receive the three Annapolis appointments allotted to Senator Norris.

Ord Laundry Man Commits Suicide Late Monday Eve

Used Rope, Chloroform To End His Life; Funeral Rites Will Be Held Today.

About midnight Monday, Anton Carl Jensen, 41-year-old owner of the Ord laundry, committed suicide, his lifeless body being found at 7:45 a. m. the next day by his son, Louis. Ill health and financial worries were responsible for his act, relatives believe. Funeral rites will be held at 2:00 p. m. today at the Sowl chapel.

For some time Mr. Jensen had been in a despondent state and had been using intoxicants to excess, his wife told officers. He had threatened "almost everything," she says, but she did not believe he would carry any of his threats into effect.

"Yes, I Can't Stand It."
Monday evening he purchased a coil of rope at the Karty hardware, then walked down the street toward his laundry. As he passed the Mazac meat market Alvin Mazac, who was standing in the door way, called out:

"What are you going to do with the rope, Carl, hang yourself?"

"Yes," answered Mr. Jensen, "I can't stand it any longer."

His statement was not believed by Mazac, who assumed that his answer was given as a joke as the question had been asked. At the laundry later that evening Mr. Jensen attached the rope to a rafter, tied the other end about his neck and climbed a ladder placed against the wall. Then he pressed a cloth saturated with chloroform to his face, evidently, and held it there until the anesthetic took effect, when he toppled off the ladder, of course. His neck was broken.

Little Boy Found Body

His 14-year-old son Louis, who found the body when he opened the laundry Tuesday morning, at once ran and told his mother, who was at the Jensen home across the street. Officers were notified and the Valley county coroner, Dr. J. G. Kruml, Sheriff George S. Round and County Attorney Alvin B. Lee arrived at once and made an investigation which established the act as a clear case of suicide. No inquest was held.

According to Sheriff Round's investigation Mr. Jensen purchased the chloroform at the Beranek drug store on December 6, so evidently he had been contemplating the act for several days.

Last persons to see Mr. Jensen alive, 40 years of age, are Night Marshal Roy Pardue and others who were in the Johnson Cafe between 11 and 12 o'clock Monday night. Apparently Mr. Jensen went directly from there to the laundry and committed suicide. He had not been drinking Monday night, Marshal Pardue says.

Spent Money In Omaha.
Mrs. Jensen's family had made every effort to cure him of his craze for intoxicants. About two months ago he agreed to go to Excelsior Springs and take a cure, leaving town for that purpose, but he got only as far as Omaha where he spent all his money and returned home. In November he served a 10-day sentence in county jail for intoxication.

Left to mourn are the widow and seven children—Henry, Herman, Clara and Harvey, who are not at home, Louis and Anna, 14-year-old twins and Esther, 12, who still live under the parental roof. Henry and Harvey are believed to be working on the west coast, Herman is employed in a dairy at Omaha and Clara, a registered nurse in Chicago, arrived in Ord yesterday to attend the funeral rites and comfort her mother.

The Jensen family came to Ord from Omaha about five years ago and bought the Ord laundry, installing some new machinery and putting the plant on a paying basis at once. Apparently Mr. Jensen was a kind, indulgent husband and father and the family seemed very happy until he started to drink excessively. The Jensens are hard-working, respectable people and have a host of friends who sympathize with them in their present bereavement.

Broich Resigns As NRS Director Here

Clifford Luse, of St. Paul, is the new director of the National Re-employment Service succeeding K. W. Broich, who last Friday handed his resignation to District Supervisor Eddy, of Grand Island, who came here to investigate Broich's misdemeanor conviction at Burwell a few days before. The new district director took charge Monday and will handle the work in five adjacent counties including Valley. Offices will be maintained in the Valley county court house as before. Miss Alice Mickelsen continues as a clerk in the office, the other clerk P. J. Ball, having been transferred to Grand Island.

—Adam Alt of North Platte was a business visitor in Ord Tuesday.

Dennice Lodge No. 14 Initiates Class of 51; Is Largest Z. C. B. J. Lodge in West

In this photo by George Jensen is shown the class of fifty-one initiated Sunday afternoon at the Bohemian hall in Ord as new members of Dennice Lodge No. 14, Z. C. B. J. The Ord lodge is the biggest in the west and has some 300 members.

Initiatory rites Sunday were profitably performed by the ladies team from Slavin lodge of Comstock. The Joe Funcochar orchestra played the marches during the initiatory exercises which began with singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Then came the presentation of a welcome by nine little girls, then singing of the Czech-Slovakian national anthem, after which was a program of recitations, readings and songs. Addresses were delivered by Anton Bartunek and E. L. Vogelzang.

About 650 Z. C. B. J. lodge members from Ord, Sargent, Burwell, Comstock, Ravenna and St. Paul attended the initiation ceremonies. A supper was served to all and the evening was spent in playing cards and visiting. It was one of the largest crowds ever congregated in the Bohemian hall here.

Frank Prasek, a veteran Z. C. B. J. organizer, has spent the past three weeks here and to his efforts, and the cooperation given by officers of the local lodge, is credit due for initiation of this large class of members. The Z. C. B. J. lodge, otherwise known as the Western Bohemian Fraternal Association, has for its precepts truth, love and loyalty. It is also a life insurance association issuing standard policies to its members.

Will Hansen Buys Pasture At $5 Acre

The J. A. Brown Agency announced Tuesday completion of a real estate deal involving about $2,200 in which Will Hansen, of Mira Valley, purchased from a Chicago loan company an 1,840 acre pasture in Greeley county. As will be noted, price per acre was $5.00. M. McBeth, of Spalding, formerly leased this pasture, which is said to be as good as any such pasture land in that part of the country.

North Loup News

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Reddon were Sunday guests of the Arthur Collins family.

Mrs. Russell Kasson and Louise drove to Spalding Saturday after Mr. Kasson, after which they drove to Grand Island and spent the day.

Mrs. Myra Barber entertained Mrs. Lettie Buten and Mrs. Hattie Clement at Sunday dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cox, Nora White, Mrs. Edith Barts and Mrs. Genevieve Hoopner were shopping in Grand Island Friday.

An all church social was held in the basement of the S. D. B. church Sunday evening, starting off with supper. An unusually large crowd attended and a fine time is reported. When supper was over, while the crowd was still at the tables, a short program was given on an improvised stage in one end of the room. Following the program the dishes were carried to the kitchen, the tables put away, and the children were seated on one side of the room and the adults on the other. Each person had brought a small gift and placed it in a basket provided for the purpose, and these were passed out, each person receiving something in the place of what he put in. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen and daughter and Mrs. Rose Neff came over from Arcadia to be present and Mrs. Neff favored the crowd with some whistling solos. The party broke up at a late hour and it is hoped that all had a good time and will attend the next one to be given soon.

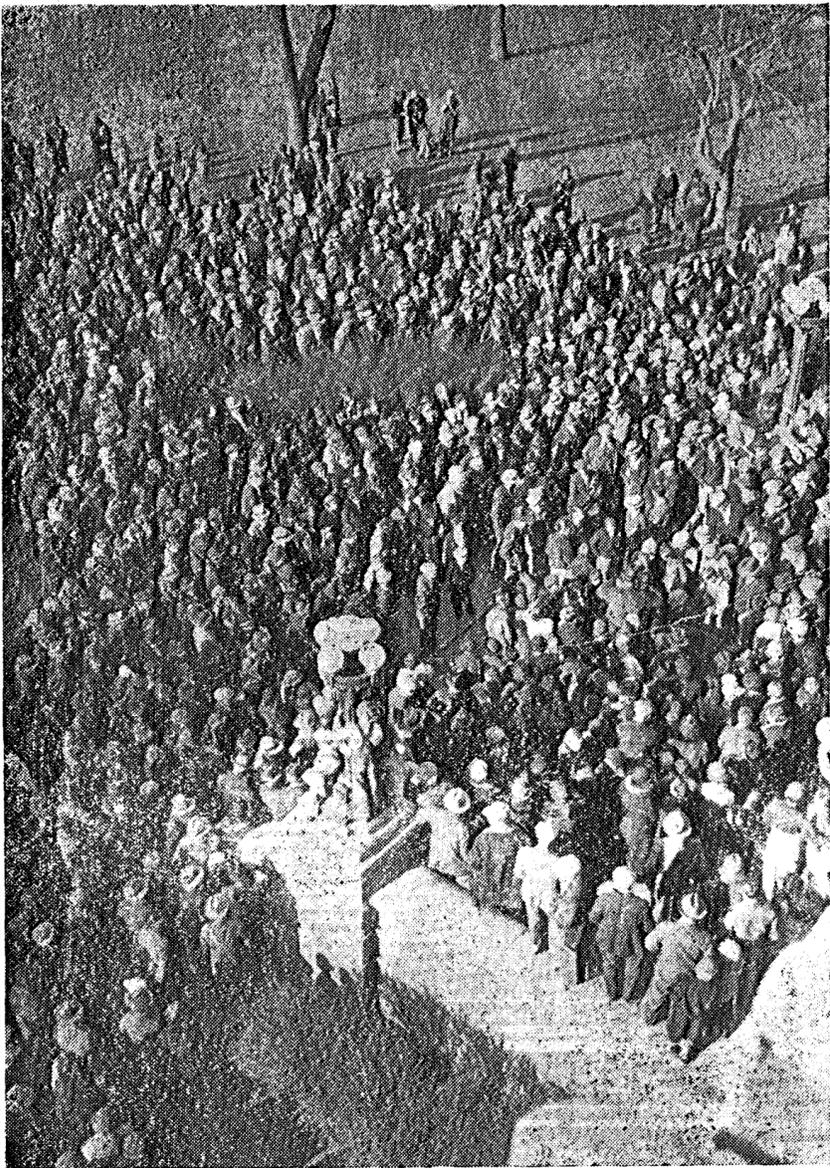

Miss Fannie McClellan and Jean Sample were hostesses at a miscellaneous shower Saturday afternoon in honor of Miss Thelma Bleach of Burwell, whose marriage to Samuel Sample will take place in the near future. About twenty-four guests were present. Each one had been asked to bring a snapshot of herself and these were put into an album for the bride-to-be. Then came the opening of the gifts. Miss Bleach was required to tell what she expected to use each one for before she opened it. If she failed to give a correct use she was forced to lay that particular gift aside for the time being. An appetizing lunch of chicken salad, parkerhouse rolls, cranberry jelly, cup cakes, chocolate mints and coffee were served at the close of a delightful afternoon.

Joe Knesacek, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sternecker of Ord visited at the Chas. John home on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sayre were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Canedy.

It's Ord's Annual Silver Strike, And How They Like It!

From the top of the court house Quiz Photographer Jones took this picture Saturday afternoon, which shows parts of the crowd of 1,000 that gathered when Silver Strike awards were announced by Dale Norman, the man with the megaphones. Each Saturday until Christmas $75 in cash will be given away by Ord merchants. On December 21, last Saturday before the Yule-tide, the sum will be considerably larger as all prizes unclaimed at earlier drawings will swell the $75 to almost twice that amount. About 78 Ord firms give Silver Strike coupons to customers. Ask for them and be part of the big crowd in Ord next Saturday when the drawing takes place at 1:30.

For a gift that will please your wife throughout the coming year and for many years to come, why not have a new electric range installed? You can scarcely realize the beauty, economy and lasting convenience of the new ranges until you see our display of

Hotpoint, Universal and Westinghouse ELECTRIC RANGES

Several models to select from, or if we do not have exactly the make or size you want we can get it for you. Ask your wife tonight what she'd like most for Christmas. Chances are she'll say: "A new electric stove."

Other good suggestions: Electric refrigerator, washing machine, water heater, vacuum cleaner, mangle, iron.

Ord's Electric Rates Are LOWER

A recent government survey of electric rates shows that Ord has the 3rd lowest rate in Nebraska in the 250 KW class, 3rd lowest in the 1100 KW class, 6th lowest in the 25 KW class in cities with a population of 1,000 to 2,500. You can't afford not to cook with electricity and use it to perform other household tasks. Truly electric rates are lower in Ord.

CHARLEY BUTLER, long, lean and somber-eyed, stared moodily after the slight figure of Marie Albers as she disappeared into the dusky blue depths of his auto court...

He reddened under the sprinkling of freckles and swallowed hard before he spoke. "Which one of those dylng-calf-eyed essies hooked you, Katie?"

"Not much like our kitchen back there, is it, Charley?" she said, and her lips moved in their slow, tantalizing smile.

"Are there some back steps where you can sit and kind of cool off after supper, Charley?"

"Katie!" he cried hoarsely. "Katie! I can't live without you. Love me just a little, Katie!"

Charley hurried down the path to Katie's back door. It was open, but his hand paused before his knock sounded on the screen.

"I saw your face in the mirror, Charley, when you stopped by my door, and I guess you don't understand too well."

61 Got WPA Work Here In November

Xmas Decorations In Ord Were Never More Beautiful

Evening visitors to Ord during the next two weeks will be repaid by a sight of the most beautiful Christmas decorations ever seen here. Thanks to the efforts of George Allen, Chester Austin and their assistants, as well as several public-spirited business men, the city is a blaze of Xmas lights.

Particular mention should be made of the scene atop the city hall, which shows the three wise men journeying toward the eastern star. Patterns were made by Mrs. Bud Martin, the designs were cut out of plywood and mounted by Mr. Austin, and a beautiful effect is presented.

A canopy of lights makes the court house and square a sight to behold. The city electric plant is beautifully decorated, as are the Ord Theatre, the Quiz office, the hotel and several other places. The fever of decorating is spreading into the residential district also.

Come to Ord next Saturday evening and see the scheme of illumination that makes this a real Christmas city.

Battery Station Under New Management

I have sold my battery and electric station to Donald Miller, who took charge Monday, and wish to thank all who were my customers during my many years of business in Ord. I also wish to speak a good word for my successor, who will take care of your needs in fine shape if you will be so kind as to give him an opportunity.

A Word from the New Owner

In taking over Ed Michalek's battery and electric station I am entering a new business but one in which I have had considerable experience and to which I have given considerable study. I will continue to carry a full line of tires, batteries and electric supplies, will specialize in battery charging and repairing and all auto electric work. May I have a share of your patronage? It will be appreciated.

Tennessee Calling

By SCOTT W. RYALL
© McClure Newspaper Syndicate.
WNU Service.

ADRIANE BARTON, sitting back in her chair, listened to the toastmaster's eulogies; listened cynically as he enlarged upon her medals and honorary degrees. These banqueters envied her athletic figure, the weather-bronzed face beneath its high piled mass of Nordic blond hair.

"Air queen," the toastmaster said then his words drifted into memories, vague thoughts of people who could never wear starched fronts if they had them, vague desires to be among them.

She remembered a little airport in Missouri or Tennessee—she couldn't remember which. There was a blustery little first cousin to a cyclone raging and she took a long chance in landing on the postage stamp field at dusk.

There was a moment of vast relief as the wheels settled safely she had turned the plane and rested the motor throbbing idly. The truth was she had been in trembling fright. Yes, she—the woman had done these things which people at the banquet so enthusiastically applauded.

A figure had left the shed at the far end of the landing field. She had watched it stumble, fall, then come trotting on. She opened the throttle with a still trembling hand and taxied toward it.

She saw a young man with flaming red hair that glistened in the last light of a stormy day. He was waving an arm cheerfully sweeping it in a half-circle to indicate where she should run the plane.

"Hullo," he greeted, when she cut the ignition, "you lucky guy Hop in the shed. There's coffee I'll stake the crate down."

"Sake it?" she asked, pulling out her helmet and turning out a cascade of golden hair.

He stared at her.

"A woman!" he exclaimed. "Lady, don't you think anything of your neck? This is no flying weather for a woman."

"Or anybody else," she said dryly. "Let's get to that coffee. The plane's all right."

He grinned.

"That's what you think. You may find it in the next county by morning. We're in for a blow."

She nodded, and as she was weary from the difficult fight with the winds and weakened by fear, she obeyed his suggestion.

The shed held the shadowy form of an old plane and a light glowed from a side room. Coffee was steaming on a small stove and gratefully she drank a cupful before he again appeared.

He looked at her critically, then went about laying a dinner, firing questions all the while. She did not tell him who she was and he did not ask.

He gave her every courtesy and later relinquished the room to her.

"I'm going over to a friend's," he said jovially. "Make yourself at home. I hope the roof doesn't blow off."

She objected, but not strenuously. It was a difficult situation. He went out into the wind now tearing and howling about the building. The storm cut loose then and the creaking of boards mingled with the rattling pound of rain until exhaustion claimed her and she slept soundly.

She awoke early, as was her habit, and her first thought was the plane. The redhead was already up on the cawling.

"Boy!" he called enthusiastically. "This is a wagon! I guess every guy has an ambition to hop off in one of these."

She laughed.

"It's a steady old boat. It sure stood up well last night."

"I've checked the engine."

"Thanks, I'll take it out of your way."

He looked his surprise.

"Too much wind yet," he warned. "better wait awhile. And there's something else—"

"I've taken it out in worse than this," she said, laughing, and as she insisted, he reluctantly helped her into the cockpit.

"Wait a minute," he said earnestly, climbed on the wing and looked long at her face.

She flushed under the gaze.

"Tell me your name," he said.

"Jane Doe."

He grimaced wryly. "Yeah, I've heard a lot of them. I'm Red. That's all. Just Red. And good luck!"

She laughed, he grinned, there was a roar of the motor, a short run and she felt a gust of wind fess it like a balloon. She circled the field, saw the tiny figure waving, then he was left behind—somewhere in Tennessee.

The toastmaster broke into her thought as he waved his arm and announced, "Miss Adriane Barton."

She rose before the panorama of white faces and thunder of clapping hands. Momentarily she stood there, trying to get her bearings, for she had been flying back just then, the rolling hills of Missouri beneath her, the more formidable peaks of Tennessee in the distance, her eyes peeled for a decaying airport and a mop of flaming red hair. . . .

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I can see no reason why Nebraska democrats should not do as President Roosevelt tells them, regarding voting for Senator Norris. We are all being regenerated from Washington. Even the late special session of the legislature was told exactly what to do by emissaries sent out from Washington, and did it, too, though some of them made a bad face. Pretty soon, if this thing keeps on, we will have to ask Washington for permission to blow our Nebraska noses.

There are thirteen new laws in the Nebraska Social Security set-up, all interwoven and hooked together and to understand the scheme, one must read and understand all of the thirteen new laws. Old age assistance is, supposedly, the main social security activity, but there is

Unemployment Relief
Blind Assistance
Vocational Rehabilitation
Maternal and Child Health
Child Welfare
Deaf, Blind Assistance
And there may be two or three more. Of course the largest part goes for two purposes, Relief and Old Age Assistance. The former gets 24.52 per cent of the money raised and the latter gets 57.27 per cent. Only 1.56 of the money raised goes for blind assistance. 15.56 per cent goes for dependent children and 0.78 per cent for crippled children and 0.31 per cent goes for child welfare. The law appropriates twenty-five thousand dollars of the money raised, for salaries and administration expenses, plus not more than 2 per cent of the money raised.

A good many people have asked about various laws and phases of the new laws and I have now received all the new laws passed by the special session, and anyone interested, can see them and read them at the Quiz office.

We have been very lenient this year, with our subscribers. Many owe us money now, some who probably could pay and would pay, except that they forget it when they are in town. Several paid the past week, who were behind several months. One man was back nearly a year and paid for two years, saying he thought it no more than right that he be out in front some of the time. We do need the money. We do hate to step anyone's paper. We won't, if you will be fair with us. If you are back and can't pay all, pay some. Show your good will. A half a loaf is better than no bread.

There is another thing. The new 1936 calendars are being made up now in the back shop and one will be mailed to everyone who is paid up. Those who are not paid will not get a cook calendar until they do pay, and then only if the supply has not been given out. We will count up all who are paid up and print that many and a few over. I don't dare say that my picture is going on the calendar this year because the rash would be so great to get it that the presses wouldn't be able to keep up with the demand. Better send along a remittance now and be sure to get your calendar.

One of the finest features we have ever had is the series of old time stories and everyone we have printed has been paid for in full. The first of the year a committee will judge the stories and a check for $10 will be mailed to the one selected by the three judges. Then we will start on 1936 and the same offer and rules will hold good for the coming year. Dr. Sheldon, head of the State Historical Society, has asked for the scrap book which we have made up for the use of the judges and when they have finished with it, I shall take it to Lincoln and present it to the society. Better be thinking about the stories you are going to write for next year. We would like to have one for every week.

Notice. Anyone to whom I owe any money, I wish you would present the bill by or before January 1st, 1936 and I will pay it. I would like to start the new year without petty debts. My bankers can worry about the big debts that I owe them.

Many people are asking the Quiz business office to send in their daily paper subscriptions and why shouldn't they? We are glad to do it because we make a little commission on each one and it doesn't cost the subscriber a thing, for he couldn't get the commission anyhow. We send the subscriptions promptly and some days have several to send with only one order to write and one postage to pay so we can do it cheaper than you can individually. Phone us if your daily is expiring, and we will send it and you drop in and pay us when you come to town. We do appreciate this business.

Former Senator Reed of Pennsylvania says he is not a candidate for president, though his name has often been mentioned. Sen. Reed is a very able man but, like Sam McKelvie and Herbert Hoover and Ogden Mills, any of whom are plenty competent to be president, is known as one of the so-called "old guard" and in the interest of harmony and success in the republican party this year, they must submerge their ambitions, if they have any, for the interest of both the state and nation, are demanding a more liberal and progressive set-up for 1936. Some western man, like Borah or Landon will have to be named for president if the republicans hope to win.

It is claimed by the republicans that even a western man can get the industrial east next year, and even many democrats admit it. It is conceded by both that for the most part the south will go for Roosevelt. The big fight is going to be in the farming section of the west. The states from Michigan west will decide the election in 1936 and the only hope for the republicans is that a western progressive man be named. Many favor Gov. Landon of Kansas but some feel that he lacks the national and international experience to make him the best candidate. Sen. Borah of Idaho has this experience and is thought by many to be the best bet.

Western farmers have been receiving lots of federal money and with the poor crops or no crops of the last few years, I am wondering what they, and the rest of us would have done, had the government, not come to the rescue. Even if we are saddled with a debt that future generations will have to pay, and even if the money doled out to us was our own money, still I am wondering whether the voters will be so ungrateful as to forget, in 1936, who fed them and vote the other ticket. It don't seem to me that they will, unless, domination from Washington is so strong that the voters become disgusted, as some of them already have.

There was a time since I can remember, when both judges in this judicial district resided at Grand Island. It was most unfair and was so recognized, even by the voters of the third city. This year two candidates have filed from Grand Island. It is a great convenience for the business interests of the district to have one of the judges well up in the Loup valley. Judge Clements has held the position for several terms. He is a lawyer of great experience and a judge who has seldom been reversed by the supreme court. Few if any judges in the whole state hold a better record in that respect. He is noted among the bar of the district for his fairness and courtesy to attorneys, jurors and litigants. Property owners, also, feel some that he is assured of a fair deal when he is on the bench in the trial of a case, and it is probable that the voters of the counties of the district outside of Hall county will vote for Judge Clements as one of the two whom they support at the primary polls. And even in Hall county where there are two candidates, a large percentage of the voters will be fair enough to agree that they are only entitled to one of the judges and will vote accordingly.

Some folks are blessed with friends and neighbors far past anything that they deserve and I am one of them so blessed. I think this so often, but what makes me think it again today, is the fact that my old friend Bert Cornell just came in with a nice mess of fresh, home made pork sausage and there is nothing like better, unless it is more of the same. I asked the Missus to eat some buckwheat cakes for breakfast with fresh sausage gravy and fresh sausage is about the finest morning dish I know of. I like to have some of Frank Vodehnal's honey to eat on the last dozen or so, too. There was no cereal or beef or jackrabbit in the pork sausage that Bert brought. It was the pure quill and as fine as I ever ate. It took me back 50 years and reminded me when we were kids in Michigan I first got acquainted with Bert about 40 years ago. The first business I ever did with him was when he took my newspaper, the Valley County Times back in the 90's. Then I bought rye of him when I was running an elevator down on the tracks. He used to haul it in with a big team of bay or black mules. And during all the years since he has been my good friend and customer and I hope the pleasant relations may last between us for many more years. Thank you Bert.

Scallops Related to Oysters
Scallops form a group of bivalves related to the oyster. The two shells are shaped like fans, usually marked with prominent ridges that radiate from the hinge, and the edges are undulated. They are found along our Atlantic shores. The central muscle is the edible part; the season is October to March.

Many Craters on Moon
The side of the moon seen from the earth is marked by about 30,000 craters ascribed to meteoric origin.

It Won't Be Long Now

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Fruit cake days are here again. It is a lot of work to make a fruit cake. They are expensive, too. For that reason housewives tend to cling to their old family recipes. I think, unless they have personal demonstration of the goodness of a new method.

Economy Fruit Cake.
Cream together one-half cup butter, one cup brown sugar, add two beaten eggs, then one-half cup honey or molasses and one-half cup thick berry jam. Dissolve one teaspoon soda in one cup sour milk, add. Sift together three cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon cinnamon, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-fourth teaspoon nutmeg, stir only until smooth. Add one and one-half cups raisins, one cup chopped dates or figs, one-half cup chopped nuts, mixed with one tablespoon of the flour-mixture. Place in one large pan or two or three smaller pans, lined with heavy waxed paper. Bake in slow oven, 325 to 340 degrees for 45 to 60 minutes.

Xmas Fruit Cake.
This is the best made these weeks before used. Combine one and one-half cups butter, one pound light brown sugar, two tablespoons milk, nine eggs, three pounds currants, one pound flour, two teaspoons mace, one teaspoon soda, one tablespoon cinnamon, one small jar maraschino cherries, one-half pound blanched shredded almonds, one pound citron cut fine, two teaspoons nutmeg, three pounds seeded raisins chopped, one-half pound chopped walnuts, eight red gumdrops and eight green gumdrops. Bake two and one-half hours in a slow oven.

Carmel Corn.
Put one large tablespoon lard in popper, heat until smoking hot, then take two-thirds cup popcorn, put two small tablespoons white sugar and one of brown and one small tablespoon butter on top of the popcorn, put in the popper when the lard is smoking hot and stir. Do not leave in the popper long or it will burn.

Cook without stirring until it forms a soft ball in water, two cups light brown sugar, one-third cup cream, one tablespoon butter. Remove from the fire, add one teaspoon vanilla and one-half cup peanuts or walnuts. Beat until creamy, turn on a buttered plate to cool.

Cream Taffy.
Place a granite ware vessel over the stove, have warm, pour in one cup boiling water, then three cups sugar, when boiling add four tablespoons vinegar, butter the size of an egg. Cook until brittle when dropped in cold water, pour in a buttered plate and when cool pull until white. Flavor with vanilla while pulling by adding a little at a time. Do not stir or jar while cooking.

Fried Beefsteak.
Slice and pound beefsteak and "tour". Fry in lard until brown on both sides. Pack beef in jars, put in a little of the lard, and add to each jar one teaspoon salt and pepper to taste. Cold pack for one and one-half hours, then seal. When opened to use, fry in lard and serve.

Form Ocean Whirlpool
The general circulatory system of the North Atlantic consists of a great whirl or vortex turning clockwise. The Gulf stream and the North Atlantic drift form the northern and northern portions of the vortex.

Something DIFFERENT

For the lovely biblical tableau in silhouette which tops the city hall of Ord these pre-Christmas days we are indebted to Mrs. Bud Mar-n, whose artistic fingers drew the paper patterns for the figures of the camels, the wise men, etc. After she drew them, Chet Austin, one of the city's electrical staff, sawed them out of plywood and installed them.

You remember that last Christmas the front window of the Martin home in east Ord had a similar scene pictured, with soft light behind it.

And by the way, are we going to have lots of beautiful Christmas decorations this Christmas in Ord? The downtown district is surely attractive, some think more attractive than ever before.

Ord friends are happy that Mar-thame Barta won for herself a Studebaker car by writing the winning letter for Gooch Ford. Both Marthamae and the Ord dealer who also was given a car because his customer won the contest, Anthony Koupal, were heard over the radio last Friday morning from a Lincoln station. I heard several comments on the pleasing quality of Marthamae's voice over the air.

Pauline was also lucky not long ago when she drew the $50 at the movies one evening when her ticket was the lucky one.

"How beautifully she speaks!" said an out-of-town visitor after meeting Mrs. Lester Norton. "Each word separately and perfectly." Which reminds me how seldom we hear such speech, how easy it is to be slovenly, to slur words, to use too many contractions, to speak too rapidly, to mumble. How few compliments like that one above are ever given or deserved.

One understands newspaper offices are poor places to preserve purity of English, freedom from slang. City newspaper offices, and lesser ones to a lesser extent are notorious for free speech. . . if you want to call it that. In other words, for profanity, for slang, for the newest catch-phrases. Supposedly because they must always write to please the public, most of which is supposed to prefer such conversation. One large chain of newspapers, big city dailies, carefully coaches its reporters and staff in general; no "high" writing is tolerated, most words of more than two syllables are carefully deleted. They phrase it: "Write to the truck-drivers!" Well, we are nearly all truck drivers in Ord.

Too many nice young couples leaving Ord. A week or two ago was the Stanley McLains. Now it is the Leonard Parks family. But everyone will wish Leonard and Fernie well in their new venture, selling aluminum ware. . . giving "aluminum dinners". —Irma.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Roscoe, Calif., Dec. 4, 1935. Dear Editor and Old friends: I haven't seen an Ord paper for many years and then Mr. Haskell was the editor. I don't know who is who in Ord any more, but may I come in and just say "Hall to the old gang of '93" and send greetings.

There was Gertrude Seivers, Eva Miner, Maggie Ferguson, Amy and Chaney Thompson, Alice Roby, Jack Keown and many other studying the three R's to the tune of a hickory stick under the direction of Dora Diers and Mr. Campbell.

Also Robie Trench, Vira Moulton, Elda Bailey, George B. Stanton and goodness knows who else in the Baptist church where I attended.

Well, that was a long time ago, wasn't it? But I still long for a sight of you and would love to hear from you. Maybe some are gone, who knows? Why can't we use our old home paper, The Quiz, as a sort of a get-acquainted-all-over-again bureau? I'm sure the editor wouldn't care. I will gladly answer anyone writing me.

With very best wishes from an old friend.

Ida Record Barron, P. O. Box 343, Roscoe, California.

Ft. Robinson, Nebr., Dec. 8, 1935. To the Quiz: Got a card a few days ago from my old friends, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Anderson, telling me to keep on writing, and that the Quiz gives all the news. I agree that it does, but since I got out here it has failed to arrive so I don't know what is going on.

Speaking of the Andersons reminds me that I was going to school to Mr. Anderson more than forty years ago. Perhaps he looked into my face in those days and wondered if I would ever amount to anything. I am afraid he is still wondering. Some of our teachers in those days, perhaps Mr. Anderson also, taught school for $30.00 per month and paid for their board, lodging and clothes. At that time I was considered a good job. Now I and a lot of other fellows are in the V. C. C. drawing $30.00 per month, net, clothes, board and lodging thrown in, and you ought to hear some of them howl. Of the kids who went to school under Mr. Anderson out at old No. 10, Bud Bell and Will Hevener are the only ones still living in the district. The rest of the Bells, the Lees, the Vopats, the Wards, the Armstrongs and the Honnolds have all moved away and a large percentage are dead and gone. But Mr. Anderson and his goodly wife are still able to thank the Lord for the blessings of a long life.

Since my last letter I have been nearly all over the Ft. Robinson Military Reservation, and it sure is one big place. I estimate it at 4 square miles and it probably is more. This is what is known as a Remount Detachment, and they raise horses here to supply the cavalry troops in other places. They have the very finest riding horses here to be found in the United States. There is a long range of buttes two miles north of the fort, which begins, the buttes I mean, about two miles straight west of Crawford and extend at least twenty miles west. The other day I climbed to the top, from which point you can get a splendid view of the Black Hills, about a hundred miles to the north. Some of the bad lands can be seen lying between. Highway No. 20 runs through Ft. Robinson. It is paved with crushed limestone rock, and is a much better road than No. 11. The fort is also on the Crawford to Casper line of the Burlington, and . . . White river, a branch of the Niobrara. Water is taken out of White river several miles up stream and is run through the grounds for irrigation purposes.

There are thirty-five patients in the hospital here at the present time, including myself. I don't know how long I will be here, but probably two months more. I do not think I mentioned before that much of the carpenter work on the buildings of the fort was under the direction of N. G. Clement of Mira Creek, who in his day was considered one of the best carpenters this country ever saw. I met a man here, Mr. A. W. Cross, who remembers Mr. Clement and who as a young man worked under him here. He showed me some of the work which Mr. Clement did, still in perfect condition in spite of the passage of time. Will try to write for next week. John S. Ward.

Arcadia, Nebr., Dec. 2, 1935. Dear Quiz: Please find enclosed my personal check for $2.50 to pay my own subscription for the Quiz, also for three months subscription for our son William, who is now in CCC camp at Fullerton. He was at home for a visit after a six weeks' stay and said he missed the Quiz since he left home, as he calls the Quiz a visitor, and so do we at home. Call it a good paper from a good town in a good county, as it is the only county paper we take and we like the best. I understand Valley county got a good crop of corn. What we got or raised here, is no corn, only a few soft nubbins, as we did not get rain in time to make a good corn crop. Since I left Valley county and moved to Sherman county I haven't seen a good corn crop. I also saw in the Quiz that Valley county got better ways to help a farmer when he needs it, which is also a good word for Ord. Farmers could live a lot cheaper as Ord is a good town and has good stores which sell their goods to us with times, as I see it in every Quiz, as I read their ads.

We would like your 1936 Cook Calendar. So please save one for us for which I am thanking you in advance and I want Mr. H. D. Leggett to have a picture on it this time. Please find enclosed a recipe to help you a little.

It is too early to wish all the Quiz force a Happy Christmas and New Year but I will so as to be on time.

Yours very truly,
Louis A. Dohnal.

BACK FORTY

Wood is the leading fuel in this county. A recent study shows that wood is used alone for heating purposes in most cases. Some coal is fired with it on less than half of the farms.

Wood and cobs are used for cooking the year around in most of the local farm kitchens. Kerosene or gasoline fuel is burned during the summer in a minority of farm homes.

One cord of ash, oak, elm, hickory, locust, beech, birch, hard maple, cherry, or long-leaf pine wood equals one ton of coal in heating value.

One and one-half cords of soft maple, Douglas fir, sycamore, shortleaf pine, western hemlock or red gum give the same amount of heat as a ton of coal.

Two cords of poplar, spruce, white pine, cedar, catalpa, redwood, basswood, or cypress equal a ton of coal.

In general, two pounds of any non-resinous dry wood have about as much heating value as a pound of good coal. Resin gives twice as much heat as wood, weight for weight. The pines and firs contain about 15 per cent resin, and this gives them greater heating power per ton.

The fuel value of woods depends in many cases upon such qualities as easy ignition, rapid burning, freedom from smoke and uniform heat, as well as on heating power. As a rule, soft woods burn more readily than hard woods, and light woods more rapidly than heavy woods.

Corn is sometimes burned instead of coal, during years of low grain prices. Laboratory tests have showed that 1 3/4 pounds of air-dry corn have the same heating value as one pound of coal. Corn can scarcely be burned in heaters designed for coal, however, with as good results.

The Henry Kriz family wrote to have their Quiz changed to Nampa, Idaho, where they recently moved from Grant, Nebraska.

35 Valley County Students at Uni

Lincoln, Nebr.—Valley county is represented by thirty-five students who are registered at the University of Nebraska this year, registration figures reveal. Of this number, twenty-four are from Ord, seven from Arcadia and four from North Loup.

This information has been collected about students here from Ord: Roland O. Pierce and George Hamilton Allen are both registered as freshmen in the University. The former has chosen agriculture for his college while the latter is enrolled in engineering.

Eldon Benda is in his second year of study in dental college. He belongs to Xi Psi Phi, professional dental group. Harold Benn is given the rating of a freshman in the college of agriculture. Floyd Beranek is a sophomore in pharmacy and Fred Virgil Cahill a third-year student in arts and sciences.

Evelyn Virginia Coe is enrolled for work in the college of agriculture where she is a junior. Joe X. Cuptl and Wayne Edward Johnson are both juniors in teachers' college. Robert Leavitt Cushing is attending the University agricultural college where he is a senior. He belongs to Farm House fraternity and to Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural college society.

Inez Clara Eberhart is a second-year student in teachers' college. Eldon William Lukesh is taking his fourth year's work in engineering college and James Stewart Milliken has chosen to enter the college of arts and sciences for his freshman year's study.

Viola May Flynn and Ruth Francis James are both in their first year of University and are registered in the college of business administration. Oscar Theodore Hellwege is taking graduate work, as is Elmer A. Palmalter. The latter is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, honorary scholastic arts and sciences organization, and of Sigma Xi, honorary scientific society. He is a graduate assistant in the botany department, having received his bachelor of arts degree from the University of Nebraska.

Maxine Johnson is a freshman student. She is studying a teachers' course. Kenneth Tidyman McGinnis is a third-year student in arts and sciences where he is taking a pre-medical course. He has been recently promoted to the rank of second lieutenant in the University ROTC and is a member of the 1935 Cornhusker varsity football squad.

E. Lloyd McGrew is a sophomore student in the college of arts and sciences as is Thelma D. Palmalter. Paul R. Pierce is an agricultural college senior and a member of Block & Bridle Club, agricultural college honorary group and of the senior livestock judging team.

Harold A. Sack is registered in the college of business administration for his second year of study. Julius Vala is beginning law school work. He is a member of Phi Alpha Delta, legal fraternity, and is a cadet first lieutenant Company I, of the University ROTC.

Arcadia is the home of these students: Vernon L. Dalby and Glenn Raymond Jameson are sophomores taking engineering courses. The latter belongs to Palladian Literary society. Orvis Ray Hill is also a sophomore and is taking work in arts and sciences. Orvis Bill Sorensen and Ervon Eugene Hollingshead are both freshmen in business administration. The latter plays freshman football.

Frank Morris Kingston is a third-year student in engineering. He belongs to Farm House fraternity. Arthur Lutz, freshman, is enrolled for study in teachers' college.

From North Loup these four students are enrolled: Lois R. Klidow is taking nurses' training at the University school of nursing on the Omaha campus. She will graduate with the class of 1936. Edna Frances Lee is a junior in teacher's college and Donald Leroy VanHorn a sophomore in the college of agriculture. Irvin Marlon VanHorn is a first-year student taking work in the college of engineering.

Enrollment at the University of Nebraska has increased almost 9 per cent over that of last year, registration figures reveal. With students here from all parts of the state, the United States and from many foreign countries, the University presents a cosmopolitan nature. Countries represented by students include Hawaii, the Philippines, Liberia, Porto Rico, Czechoslovakia, Germany and India.

Proceedings of the County Board

December 8, 1935 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. Regular meeting called to order by Chairman with supervisors Jablonski, Desmul, Ball, Zikmund, Barber, Johnson and Hansen, present upon roll call. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved as read. Bank balances as of November 30, 1935, read as follows: First National Bank, Ord, $32,151.64; Nebraska State Bank, $30,830.26; Ellyria State Bank, $3,346.72; First National Bank, Arcadia, $9,166.31. Petition of Lydia L. Kokes, et al, asking for the establishment and relocation of certain portions of road running through sections 27 and 34-19-14, and the vacation of the abandoned portions relocated, was read and considered, after which supervisor Zikmund offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, as follows: Be it hereby resolved that whereas a petition of Lydia L. Kokes and others has been filed for the vacation of the present road running over Section 27 and 34, Township 19 North of Range 14 West, of the sixth Principal Meridian in Valley County, Nebraska, which present road is referred to in said petition as being laid in accordance with Surveyor's Notes shown on Exhibit "A" attached thereto, and which petition also asks for the establishment of a new road across said premises to conform to Surveyor's Notes now of record and attached to said petition as Exhibit "B" and whereas, the owners of said land have petitioned for said road, and Charles Bals and E. C. McGrew, being the only other persons affected by said road, have filed a written consent and all have filed a waiver of damages and consent that said road be made and established without the publication or service of any notice whatsoever. Now, therefore, Be It Resolved by the County Board of Valley County, Nebraska, in due session, that the said road heretofore existing be vacated in accordance with said petition, and that the new road be established in accordance with said petition. Motion to adopt was seconded by supervisor Ball, and upon roll call all supervisors voted "Yes" whereupon the Chairman declared said resolution unanimously adopted. Application of Joseph A. Dugosh, for a Deed from the County of Valley, to a part of Lots 1 and 2, in block 12, of Original Town of Ord, pursuant to the provisions of Section 28-107, of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, was granted, and deed ordered signed and delivered. Official Bond of J. M. Fisher, North Loup Township Treasurer, $2,000.00 bearing endorsement of the committee on bonds, was approved upon motion duly carried. Petition of Jacob John, et al, asking for establishment of a road to a uniform width of 66 ft. along west side of sections 20 and 29, in township 19, range 15 west of the 6th P. M., and claims for damages awarded by appraisers, on account of same, came on for consideration, and upon motion duly carried, same were laid over. Report of H. O. Strombom, County Engineer, for the month of November, was read and upon motion duly carried same was accepted and ordered placed on file. Order of County Court, entered December 3rd, 1935, revoking Mother's Pension of $7.50 per month, granted to Anna Klanecky, on October 30, 1935, was read and approved. The matter of overhauling road maintenance machinery then came on for consideration and after considering that same should be done during the winter season, it was moved and seconded, that County Engineer, be authorized to make all necessary repairs to all maintainers. Motion carried. Report of Committee upon General Fund Claims, read as follows: Auble Bros., Court house supplies 14.42 R. C. Austin, Rental on sewing machines 8.75 J. A. When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week. A telegram from Holdfast, Alberta, said that Thos. Sorenson had been found dead. His nephew Rudolph went to bring the body back to Ord for burial. The Workmen lodge elected Harold Parks, Jay Hamilton, W. T. McLain, Hall Barnes, J. C. Wilds, Ernest Woolery, John Berry, F. C. Williams, R. J. Clark and Vincent Kokes as officers. Clarence O. Ward, former Ord boy, was elected captain of the football team for 1916 at the U. S. naval academy at Annapolis. Chas. Blaha returned from Rochester where he had been with his wife. During their absence their son Joe had an accident whereby he lost the sight of one eye. Miss Clara McClatchey was quite ill and couldn't teach at Olean so her place was being filled by Ada Mun. After a long illness with diabetes George M. Cooper passed away. Plans for a municipal Christmas tree were being made in Ord and over $100 had been raised by donations from merchants. 25 Years Ago This Week. Contractors were preparing to move the old Ravenna creamery building to the former site of the Lloyd & Trindle lumber yard. Postmaster A. M. Coonrod passed away. A couple of Broken Bow men bought the Scenic theatre, started recently by Gruber & Reed. Charles Smith called to tell the Quiz that a big meteor fell near Amity school house the night before. The Modern Woodmen lodge elected Oscar Nay, H. G. Dye, A. M. Daniels, W. A. Anderson, Fred Kemp, Henry Fales, John Ward and S. Huberts as officers. Rudolph Zabolouli returned to Prague, Okla., to spend the winter, hoping the change would help his rheumatism. Carbon paper, letter head or legal size by the box or quire a $2-4/

No, Not An Elephant's Grave; Its Buried Treasure!

Here, in a fine picture taken by the Quiz photographer, H. E. Jones, is shown the enormous hole being dug by gold seekers on the Maynard Finley farm southwest of North Loup. Led by T. M. Godfrey, a Colorado mining man who has invented a divining rod with which he locates gold, this group of treasure hunters expects to find a hoard of gold buried by Indians eighty-five years ago. The hole shown here is 8x10 feet in size will be sunk to bed rock, fifty-three feet down. At that point the diggers will "drift" along the rock until the gold is found or the search abandoned. This hole is going deeper at the rate of four to five feet daily. It was only ten feet deep when this picture was taken Friday. Six men are working on the big excavation job. (See story starting on Page 1.)

Seeking Big Cache Of Gold Buried In 1851 By Redskins

represents fifteen years of work and $3,600 in money." The mining man claims to have located near Cripple Creek, Colo., a stope from which 1-4 million dollars worth of gold ore was taken, his little instrument being responsible for this great discovery. It is practically infallible, he claims, and his statement is backed up by Ord people who tested him by "planting" gold coins in secret places. Invariably he located these buried coins, they say. Two Indian Villages. Now to bring the story up to date: It has long been known that Indian villages at one time were located on the place now occupied by Maynard Finley. Learning of this, Mr. Godfrey came to Ord and at once was excited to discover certain landmarks shown on his old map. Twelve Indian mounds mark the spot where the gold treasure was buried in 1851, he says, and he has located and will point out to anybody interested those Indian mounds on the Finley farm. Gold when buried will sink into the earth at a rate from 3 to 18 inches per year, claims Godfrey, and he believes that the gold buried by Indians has in the 85 years since sunk to bedrock. Bedrock, at the place where his little instrument shows the gold to be buried, is 53 feet below the surface of the earth, so the diggers will have to descend that far before they reach the place where the treasure should be found. Power Winch Erected. Site of the treasure, according to Godfrey, is atop a high hill on the Finley farm. To aid in the digging a latn and tar-paper hut has been built, in which is housed a gasoline engine and hoist. In front of the little hut a hole 8x10 feet is being dug, the earth being removed with the power hoist. Three men work at digging, another man guides the hoist as it lifts buckets of earth from the hole and a fifth man dumps the buckets. Mr. Godfrey operates the hoist from inside the hut. When a Quiz reporter visited the "gold mine" last Friday the hole was about 12 feet deep and Mr. Godfrey stated that he expected the work to proceed at a rate of from 4 to 5 feet daily. Starting Monday of this week it would be necessary to sink wooden shaft to prevent cave-ins, he said. Asked who is financing the treasure hunt, Mr. Godfrey said that he is but from other sources the Quiz learns that several Ordites have money invested in the undertaking.

Says He Found Gold. Before starting excavating Mr. Godfrey sunk a small hole with a core drill and not only established the fact that bed rock is only 53 feet below the surface at that point but also claims to have brought up flakes of pure gold on the drill point, indicating definitely that gold is buried there. Part of it is buried in metal containers, part in wooden chests, he says. Already Valley county's only gold mine is proving a mecca for the curious and Mr. Finley tells the Quiz, jokingly perhaps, that he may have to erect a fence and charge admission. Several carloads of people have visited the place daily in spite of the fact that no publicity has appeared about it until now. "It sounds like a joke, or a graft, but I really think there is something to it," says one man who is supposed to have money invested in the scheme. All the people working on the job, whether they are working for wages or in anticipation of sharing in the treasure, are firmly convinced there is also. May Find a Million. Should a ton of gold be found, which is the minimum amount the diggers expect, it would be worth $840,000 at present gold prices. Mr. Finley, as owner of the farm, would be entitled to an eighth of this sum as royalty while the balance would be shared by others concerned. The government, however, likely would claim a goodly part of the money as income tax. Joke, graft or real buried treasure, a trip to the Finley farm will prove interesting to all who read this story. A hole 8x10 feet in size and 53 feet in depth is worth seeing, even if there isn't anything at the bottom of it.

ject upon which John P. Misko, Ord attorney, was asked to speak. A practical talk, it was of vital concern to all who listened. A canning demonstration by Mrs. Gladys Ayars followed, and this too was intensely interesting to those who watched and listened. W. W. Derrick offered remarks on present livestock problems to the men's section and D. L. Gross spoke on methods of soil conservation in this day, both subjects on which the audiences wanted information.

The banquet was prepared by the Christian church ladies, served by a group of young girls. Dr. S. W. Alford as toastmaster kept the hall roaring with laughter. Auble Brothers provided music, featured two numbers by three Auble daughters that brought much applause, and the ever-popular Elwin Auble singing baritone songs. Mrs. Gaines again made an effective song leader, Ralph W. Norman once more proved his ability to welcome banqueters to the city of Ord capably. Ray Lutz made an excellent response for the farmers present. Newton W. Gaines as the speaker of the evening knew the way to keep his audience fascinated and sitting on the edge of their chairs while he rolled off droll stories and alternated them with pointed remarks. The banquet made a successful conclusion for a good day's entertainment, and undoubtedly will be the first of many such happy and informative affairs.

Union Stock Yards, Dec. 10, 1935 — Omaha—Receipts of cattle Monday were 13,000 head. Strictly choice cornfed beef were conspicuously scarce and while there was a good demand for these at steady prices the market ruled weak to lower on the general run of shortfed and warmed-up cattle. The same held true as to cows and heifers. Stock cattle and feeding steers met with a fairly broad demand at fully steady prices, fleshy kinds selling up to $8.50.

Abstracts Are Things of VALUE

You purchase a car, a radio, a suit, or anything else, and it depreciates in value as soon as you take it from the store, but, you purchase a reliable abstract of title to your property, whether it costs $15.00 or $50.00, and it will depreciate only $3.00, no matter how long it is in existence.

When you purchase real estate, or when you loan money on real estate, DEMAND A RELIABLE ABSTRACT. It is not only a protection for your investment, but a thing of VALUE.

We have the only set of abstract books and records in Valley County, and we solicit your patronage.

The afternoon program began with S. W. Roe chairman, who promptly introduced Mrs. N. W. Gaines. Mrs. Gaines proved to be a peppy song leader full of ideas and tunes. Following, Professor H. C. Filley made a good talk on the subject of the wealth of this country.

Professor Filley insisted overproduction was not the cause of the grief in which the farmer has recently found himself, asserting that a thirty-hour week was not going to be the solution. Mr. Filley said the surplus was needed for exporting, as it had always been, and that to cut production to bedrock was to leave nothing to trade for our needs from other lands. Neither will printing more money help the situation, he said, suggesting instead that we conserve natural resources, that our people remain resourceful as our forefathers, that education be continued, and thrift too. He said the monetary system must remain substantial, and that citizens must realize the government cannot support them since it gains wealth only from its citizens.

C. of C. Prizes Given.

The prize drawing resulted as follows: Wilbur Fuss won a picture from the Frazier Furniture store; Ann Zikmund $1 from C. J. Mortensen, John Caha won a fountain pen offered by Auble's, Wesley Peterson won a pair of hose from the Golden Rule, Henry Benn the candy offered by Beranek's drug store, P. E. Pockock the tie given by the Penney store, B. O. Schudel $1 at Koupal's, Mrs. Arthur Ferris won a package of Egg-a-day from the Sorensen drug store.

Kenneth Koelling's name was drawn to win the O' Cedar polish given by Dworak's variety store, Arthur Ferris won the O' Cedar polish offered by the Kokes Hardware store. Lloyd Richardson won two pounds of Old Trusty coffee from Food Center, Mrs. Joe Kretlek won 75c in trade at Stoltz Variety store. Evet Smith won a free haircut at the McGrew shop. Mrs. Louie Fuss was awarded the auto polish offered by the Kleinholz Oil station. Mrs. W. E. Lincoln, curiously, won the tire patches presented by the L & L Tire and Battery station.

After the drawing Mrs. Gaines spoke on the topic, "Songs Mother Taught Me", telling how much it was possible for them to mean in the life of the children who heard them, how Confucius said: "Let me write the songs of a nation and I care not who writes the laws."

THIS WEEK

"My Empire" Wants Peace "ME, Too," Says Selassie Poppuns for Uncle Sam $900,000,000 More

England's lord high chancellor, Viscount Halifax, read the king's speech, written by the king's cabinet. The king's references to steps "urgently necessary to safeguard my empire" are recommended to this government. We haven't any "empire" exactly, but we have a republic worth defending. Some of our loose billions might be well spent in that direction.

Arthur Brisbane

Ignoring some Italian friction, the king went on to say, "My relations with foreign powers continue friendly."

Mentioning the Italian misunderstanding, he said: "My government will continue to exert their influence in favor of peace." If it does, peace will come.

Halle Selassie, emperor of Ethiopia, sensibly asked the Patriarch Johannes, supreme authority of the Ethiopian Coptic church, to arrange peace, if he can, with Mussolini, and Abuna Cyril, high bishop of his church, is asked by Selassie to do his best.

And now comes from Universal Service the important authoritative report that Halle Selassie has agreed to give part of his territory in return for peace.

Washington says this country plans a series of Pacific ocean "Gibraltars," armed with 16-inch guns with a fighting range of 25 to 30 miles. Quite amusing, considering that the original Gibraltar has become a useless rock, thanks to airplanes and submarines. Invading airplanes might not be kind enough to come within 25 or 30 miles of these interesting fixed Gibraltars.

What this country needs for coast protection is airplanes, for fighting, and dirigibles for observation, located close enough together and high enough up in the air to make them really useful in the next war.

Uncle Sam borrows $900,000,000 more, bringing the national debt above $30,500,000,000, but $40,000,000,000 below the amount that certain "great bankers" told President Roosevelt this country could easily carry. Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. wants President Roosevelt to tell who the great bankers were, but it is understood that they talked in confidence.

Prince Sumi of Japan, brother of the Mikado, fourth son of the late Emperor Yoshihito, takes the title "Prince Mikasa," meaning, literally, "Prince of the Three Umbrellas." The name "Three Umbrellas" is taken from a Japanese mountain and is also the much revered name of the flagship on which Admiral Togo fought the battle of the Japan sea.

"Three Umbrellas" seems appropriate—one for Japan, one for China, one for the Philippines; all Japanese.

The village of Verde Cocha, near Guayaquil, in Ecuador, exists no longer. A landslide wiped out everything, instantly killing fifty inhabitants. A slice of green mountainside, two miles wide, came roaring down, and there was no trace of the village and no man lived to tell about it.

But other men will rebuild Verde Cocha, for men are as persistent as ants, that rebuild their villages when the gardener's hose sweeps them away.

Senator Borah of Idaho and Congressman Hamilton Fish, Jr., of New York, had a long talk, and reporters "guess" that Senator Borah and Mr. Fish have agreed to run side by side, Senator Borah for President, Mr. Fish for Vice President. It is not safe to "guess" about Senator Borah, but it would be wise for the Republicans to decide soon.

When experimenting starts, it keeps going. Hitler, manufacturing cannon, knows they will need "foeder," and insists on more babies. A German farmer gets a divorce because his wife wants no children. "It is the duty of German wives to perpetuate the German blood," the court says.

Miss Edna Maria Grantsas, twenty-two-year-old member of a Massachusetts school committee, says teachers talk too much, do not let the children talk enough. She says children should be encouraged to express themselves. The Massachusetts lady goes far when she says "If a child wants to yell out in class, let the child yell until he decides not to yell." Discipline is also a part of education.

Arcadia News

A social afternoon was spent Saturday at the home of Miss Gladys McMichael honoring Mrs. Raymond McDonald who was married November 22. This was a complete surprise as the new bride stepped into the room and found 25 girl friends to welcome her with the song "Here Comes the Bride". Miss Gladys McMichael was assisted by the Misses Betty Rettenmayer and Evelyn Fenster. Mrs. McDonald received many beautiful and useful gifts. Luncheon was served by the hostesses at the close of the afternoon. Guests included the Misses Fae Baird, Elizabeth Haywood, Doris Steever, Ada Russell, Ruth Jameson, Wilma Hagood, Alice O'Connor, Helen Cruikshank, Elizabeth Lewis, Freda Milburn, Mary Jane Rettenmayer, Mary Emily McDonald, Dottie Rambo, Ava Jones, Gladys Dobson, Ila Ackles, Margaret Norris, Fernie Roberts, Margaret Elliott, Dorothy Bly, Mrs. Lester Bly and Mrs. Martin Lybarger.

The Lee Park Friendship Aid will give a bazaar and 15 cent luncheon at the City meat market Saturday afternoon and evening. A number will be given with each lunch sold and the lucky number will draw a turkey.

Mrs. N. A. Lewin went to Omaha Tuesday to be with her father, Mr. M. L. Fries for a few days.

Mrs. Burbridge and two children from Montana stopped in Arcadia for a brief visit with the Jerome Woody's and Walter Woody's on their return home after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Woody in Newton, Ia.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe John of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill and boys of Arcadia were at the Charlie John home for a 7 o'clock dinner celebrating Miss Clara John's birthday Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Arnold entertained at a progressive rook party Wednesday evening, having 5 tables. Mr. and Mrs. Jameson won high score while Mrs. Edith Jossen and Grant Cruikshank were second. It was whispered to the crowd that it was the 24th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold and a few dimes found a cake cover for them.

The Women's Foreign Missionary society met with Mrs. Charli Weddel Wednesday. Mrs. Arthur Aufrecht had charge of the lesson studying South America and the book "Women Under the Southern Cross". In connection they served a 10 cent tea.

A goodly crowd from Arcadia visited Ord Saturday. Bennie Chillewski and Ralph Ackles won $5.00 each as a prize. Luckier than Brownie Barger who lost $10 by not being present at the Gayety in Arcadia Wednesday night.

Thursday the 5th and last division will serve Aid in the Congregational church basement, and a pound social will be given the new minister and wife, Rev. and Mrs. Howell. The entertaining committee are Madams Downing, Claude Mathers, Doc, Homer Jameson, Peterson, Cecil Weddel, Hawley and Charles Hollingshead.

Mrs. D. O. Hawley will entertain the Auxiliary Friday afternoon. A Christmas exchange and all toys for the Veterans hospital will be finished.

Mr. William A. Wright of Petersburg, Indiana, where he has lived all his life, arrived in Arcadia on the bus Saturday evening to visit his sister, Mrs. Mary Vermillion. It has been 45 years since they have met and the most remarkable mention is, Mrs. Vermillion will be 93 years old February 6th and Mr. Wright is past 83 years of age. Mr. Wright is returning home Tuesday. He attended the International Stock show in Chicago on his way here.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen and Mrs. Rose Neff of Lincoln attended a home coming in North Loup Sunday evening at the church. Mrs. Neff entertained with whistling. She has sold her home in Lincoln and after visiting here for a time will visit her three sons who are doctors, one living in California, one in Washington, D. C., and the other in Arizona.

The annual December Loup Valley high school activities association was held at Arcadia Saturday at the high school. Plans were laid for the annual music festival, basketball tournament and track meet. Officers were also elected for the coming year.

45 men with 15 wagons gathered the corn for Bill Thompson Monday. 14 women were there to help with the dinner.

Rebekah Kensington met with Mrs. Vernie Toops Wednesday afternoon, with a Christmas exchange and lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hastings entertained at a turkey dinner Monday evening, the occasion celebrating the 83th birthday of Mr. George Hastings sr. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Percie Doe, Mr. and Mrs. George Oleson, Alvin Haywood, Miss Elizabeth Haywood, Coach Tuning, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Bulger and Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings, jr.

A basket dinner and meeting of the Farmers Union was held in the Congregational church basement Friday.

The Congregational Aid served the football boys banquet Friday evening at the high school building.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hastings and Miss Dorothy Hastings were in Kearney Sunday night, at Fort Kearney meeting friends, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bank, Mr. and Mrs. Rosenberg, Dr. Jackson, Dr. Carr.

An accident occurred Saturday near the Leon Wozniak place when the car Mr. Walkemeyer was driving collided with one driven by two state highway men. Mr. Walkemeyer was hurt quite badly and a great gash cut in his limb which required several stitches to close. The other men were not so badly hurt.

A checker tournament will be the evening's entertainment at the home of Lem Knapp Tuesday evening.

Oscar Ewart and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitera of Columbus were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Joe Waldmann.

John Eicher of Broken Bow repaired the Delco motor for Joe Holoun last week.

Mrs. Wilma Vancura spent last week with her sister, Mrs. Edwin Vodehnal.

The Drouth

A drouth is commonly conceived to be a protracted period of deficient rainfall, but this conception is rather misleading, because the harmful effects that make the event of practical importance are really due to a scarcity of water in the soil, and the relation between rainfall and soil moisture is far from constant. The soil is moistened by rain and snow, and it is dried by drainage and evaporation. The latter process includes evaporation directly from the soil to the air and evaporation through plants, the latter process being distinguished as "transpiration."

Valley County's Farm Land Worth Only 11 Million

1935 Value About Half What It Was in 1930, New Gov't Census Figures Show.

A decrease in the value of Valley farm land from $21,250,785 in 1930 to only $11,728,625 in 1935 is the most striking feature of a new government census report released this week.

Number of farms in this county has increased during the five-year period, the report says, present number being 1,371 as compared with 1,300 in 1930.

Only 45 Acres Harvested. The drought of 1934 resulted in only 14,518 acres of land being harvested that year, as compared with 193,804 in 1930, commonly called a normal year.

Inventory items in the 1935 census are of January 1, 1935, but production items were for the calendar year of 1934.

Friends, Neighbors, Assisting Naprstek Family in New Start

Friends and neighbors of the Ed Naprstek family, whose home and household furnishings were destroyed by fire on November 28, are assisting them in getting a new start.

To all who have assisted them in their misfortune the Naprsteks are sincerely grateful and since they cannot see everybody to thank them personally they ask the Quiz to do it in this manner.

Ord's Former Play-Boy Grocer Still Full of Ideas; Is Insurance Salesman.

N. R. "Nick" Jacquot, Ord's former play-boy grocer who kept tongues wagging during the period of his residence in Ord two years ago, returned to this city for a few days last week.

Typical Jacquot suggestions: "I'm going to build a 1000-room hotel in Ord; have a drug store, movie theatre and recreation parlor in it."

"Where am I going to put it? Oh, I'll move the court house and put it in court house square."

"I'm going to sponsor a 'bank night' at all the Ord churches, if they'll cooperate with me. I'll give a $10 prize to the church having the biggest attendance, maybe a week from Sunday."

"I'm going to take Ord business men to Hollywood and make a movie with me playing the lead—something like Will Rogers. Won't it be a knock-out?"

"Too Many Roughnecks." Nick dropped into town last Wednesday, immediately rented both dance halls for that night and invited the dancing public of Ord and vicinity to be his guests at free dances.

At noon Thursday Nick attempted to make a speech to diners at the City Cafe, was dissuaded by the management. He distributed souvenirs to the patrons.

With a pocket full of cigars for his male friends and a brief case full of powder puffs for feminine acquaintances, Nick toured the town Friday morning, calling at almost every place of business.

Chain Store Insurance. He has established an insurance office in the Evans Hotel at Columbus and is trying to found branch agencies in every town in the state, he told a Quiz reporter.

On a former visit to Ord the ex-grocer let it be known that he was marrying a "rich Wall Street widow" but on his visit last week he said this was a mistake. He is unmarried.

Nick left Ord Friday afternoon on the Gressley truck, bound for Broken Bow. But he'll be back to put some of his ideas into effect; he promises he will.

Community Xmas Tree For Kiddies By Silver Strike

Santa Claus to Appear And Give Away Candy Tuesday Evening; Drawing on Saturday.

A community Christmas tree in the court house yard with Santa Claus scheduled to appear in person and distribute bags of candy to all children attending is being sponsored by Silver Strike merchants in Ord, the event taking place next Tuesday evening, Dec. 24, starting at 7:30 p. m.

The final Silver Strike drawing will take place on the court house steps at 1:30 p. m. Saturday of this week. This is the fourth such drawing. Great interest has been created in these drawings, as shown by the steadily increasing crowds present.

Every prize drawn Saturday was claimed within the fifteen-minute period allotted. First prize of $25 went to Aldrich Florian, second prize of $10 to Clyde Athey, prizes of $5 each to Sally Shotkoski and Rose Novak and $2 prizes to Mrs. Ralph Hatfield, H. Todd, Mrs. Blanch Leonard, Mrs. Wendell Hather, Virginia Davis, John Snawerdt, Mrs. Edward Beran, Mrs. Jis Mortensen, John Kokes, Vern Barnard, Mrs. Rudolph Hoske, John Prien, Edna Wertz, Evelyn Dumond and Frank Stara.

Dr. C. W. Weekes Returns. After a two months' absence taking postgraduate work in surgery at the Augustana hospital in Chicago, Dr. C. W. Weekes returned to Ord last Friday evening. He reports a pleasant trip and says he had an opportunity to learn advanced surgical technique under some of the foremost surgeons in the United States.

—Miss Doris Sanborn of Lincoln and Dr. Rudy Hamsa of Scotia were Sunday guests in the Edward Kokes home.

Ord Coop Creamery Pays Out $8,794.98 As 1935 Dividends

3c Per Pound Rebate Was Paid Friday; Nolls Sold Most Cream During 1935.

"Another very successful year" was the verdict of a large crowd of stockholders of the Ord Cooperative Creamery who gathered at the city hall in Ord Thursday afternoon to hear the annual report of Manager Fred Coe, elect new directors and transact other business of importance.

Manager Coe's report showed that the creamery enjoyed another profitable year in spite of distressing pasture conditions and a shortage of good milk cows in the Ord territory, both results of the 1934 drought. As proof of the creamery's successful operation during 1935 dividends aggregating $8,794.98 were paid to patrons and stockholders.

The patronage dividend this year was paid at the rate of 3c per pound of butterfat, the same amount as was paid during the last half of 1934.

Immediately after the meeting Thursday distribution of patronage checks began. Largest check, for $89.31, went to C. W. Noll who, with the aid of his wife, produced and sold to the creamery almost 1 1/2 tons of butterfat during the year. Since Mr. Noll is 78 and his wife 74 this was a remarkable achievement and in his talk Thursday Manager Coe paid them a real tribute.

Stockholders Applauded. "There are no finer people in the county or state than Mr. and Mrs. Noll."

Xmas Programs Being Given Today

This evening at 8:00 o'clock in the high school auditorium the Junior and Senior high school classes will present their annual Christmas program. The program is divided into three parts, the first by the Junior high school, the second by the music department and the third by the Senior high school.

As their contribution to the program the Junior high school members will present a play, "The Last Merry Christmas." The cast includes: Merry Christmas, Dean Misko; Hobo, Richard Piskorski; Shopper, Maxine Fox; Prosperous man, Joe Capron; Maurice, a rich girl, Shirley Schrader; Alice, a wealthy girl, Joy Loft; May and Jane, working girls, Betty Jane

Tried to Swindle No. Loup Physician

M. C. Froemke, representative of Denver bond concern, is being held in jail at Grand Island while officers investigate an alleged attempt to swindle Dr. W. J. Hemphill, of North Loup, out of $380 by selling him worthless insurance company stock. Dr. Hemphill gave him a check for $380 which Sheriff George Round secured from Grand Island officers Tuesday, so the North Loup physician is not out anything. What charges to file against Froemke has not yet been decided.

Ign. Klima Elected By County Officers

IGN. KLIMA, JR.

Ign. Klima, Jr., Valley county clerk, last week was chosen secretary-treasurer of the Nebraska Association of County Clerks and Registers of Deeds, at the annual state convention being held in Omaha. He held the same office in 1931.

Also attending the three-day convention of county officials from Valley county were County Engineer H. O. Strombom, S. V. Hansen, chairman of the county board, and Supervisor Joe Jablonski.

Advanced In Years, Maybe, But Nolls Milk 18 Cows Daily; Sold Most Cream to Co-Op

MR. AND MRS. CLAYTON W. NOLL, SR.

An inspiring example for younger farm couples of Valley county was furnished during 1935 by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Noll. In spite of the fact that Mr. Noll is 78 and his helpmate is 74, they sold a larger volume of cream to the Ord Cooperative Creamery than any other patron and drew the largest dividend check last week, $89.21.

Every day that the Quiz office opens for business, there is an overhead expense charge of a little over forty-three dollars that has to be paid and it has to be collected from some source before it can be paid out.

First matches were played Monday night this week, the Theatre five beating the Bakery team 11 to 4 while the Nebraska State team beat the First National 12 to 3. Hottest match was that between Mark Tolen and Axel Jorgensen, which was won by the latter. Axel formerly was champion at a CCC camp.

'Gold Mine' Passes 53-Foot Mark, No Bed Rock in Sight

Diggers at the "gold mine" being sunk at the Maynard Finley farm southwest of North Loup passed the 53-foot mark Tuesday without encountering bed rock, the Quiz learned in a telephone conversation with Mr. Finley that evening, and although the promoter, T. M. Godfrey of Colorado, still says he is confident gold will be found the hopes of some others interested are beginning to wane.

Mr. Finley told the Quiz that a few rock formations were found about the 53-foot level but that workmen dug through them without difficulty. He expected digging to continue yesterday, he told the Quiz.

Used His "Divining Rod." The Godfrey-led party expects to find a ton or more of gold supposedly stolen by Indians from wagon trains coming from California about 1851 and buried on what is now the Finley farm. Godfrey claims to have located this gold by means of a "divining rod" invented by himself. He made core drills and said the gold, in metal and wooden chests, rests on bedrock 53 feet deep.

To explain how the gold lies so far below the earth's surface Mr. Godfrey claimed that buried gold sinks at a rate of from 3 to 18 inches per year, depending on the soil in which it is buried. The Quiz investigated this statement by writing to the Western Mining Laboratories, of Denver, who replied that gold will not sink at all when buried in clay or other soil but will, on the other hand, have a tendency to come closer to the surface because of wind and water erosion. Only in mud or quicksand will gold sink, the laboratory reports.

There seems to be much interest in the "gold hunt" and several Ordites are said to have invested money in the project in hope of realizing a fabulous return.

File Petitions To Draft Leggett For 1-House Law Body

James, Zikmund, Jorgensen File Petitions With About 700 Signatures.

Petitions bearing the signatures of about 700 voters who wish Senator H. D. Leggett, publisher of the Quiz, to become a candidate for 29th district member of the first unicameral legislature, were filed at Lincoln early this week by E. C. James, chairman of the Valley county republican central committee, who had been quietly circulating such petitions for several days.

The filing at Lincoln was made after James, accompanied by County Supervisor Henry A. Zikmund and Henry Jorgensen, influential farmer, appeared in County Treasurer Satterfield's office in Ord Saturday and paid Mr. Leggett's filing fee while making a filing in his behalf.

Finds Much Enthusiasm. The petitions, said Mr. James, bear signatures of voters in every town of Valley, Greeley, Howard and Wheeler counties, which comprise the new district. He secured the signatures while making trips in connection with his insurance business and was assisted in every town by friends of Mr. Leggett living there, he said.

Believes in Unicameral. "I don't know what to do, now," said the Quiz man yesterday. "It is a pleasant surprise to learn that so many voters of the new district want me to get into the campaign. I'm going to give the matter further consideration; perhaps make a trip to Lincoln and look over the signatures on those petitions before deciding. I deeply appreciate the trouble Mr. James and my other friends took in circulating the petitions and thank all the voters who signed them. If I do decide to seek the nomination it will be because so many friends want me to, also because I believe strongly in the unicameral legislature as a means of giving Nebraska a more business-like and economical law-making body."

Three Men In Race. Senator Leggett supported the unicameral idea in the campaign of 1934, was in charge of circulating petitions in Valley county and at his own expense secured 1,100 signatures, and was delighted to see it adopted by a large majority by voters of Nebraska.

There are three other candidates already in the race for 29th district representative, Stanley Mead, farmer and gasoline station operator, and Ed Sorenson, flour mill owner, both of St. Paul, and John F. Doyle, of Greeley, who represented that county in the lower house of the last legislature. The office is non-political.

To become a candidate all Mr. Leggett has to do is accept the "by petition" filing made this week. He has thirty days in which to accept or reject the filing but says he will come to a definite decision within a week or ten days.

Fritz Bichel Sale Average Was $121

Most successful purebred cattle sale held in Central Nebraska in recent years was that of Fritz Bichel, held at Loup City on Dec. 12 under the management of R. Clare Clement of Ord. Ninety-three head were sold, bringing an average of $121 per head.

Asked a few days before the sale what he expected the average price would be, Sale Manager Clement said he expected about $70. Demand for good Herefords is stronger now than for many seasons, he learned, and he expects other sales in Nebraska this winter to go well also.

Leggett, Mrs. Cushing Address Rotary Club

Repr. Ruth O. Cushing and Senator H. D. Leggett were guests of the Ord Rotary club at dinner in Thorne's cafe Monday evening and both spoke, giving highlights of the recent special session of the legislature at Lincoln, of which both were members.

Mrs. Cushing and Mr. Leggett agreed that the Social Security act passed at this session cannot prove beneficial to Nebraska, first because it will cost taxpayers too much, and second, because it delivers over to the federal government too many state rights without bringing advantages in return. This legislation was practically dictated by "brain trusters" at Washington and was forced through the Nebraska legislature by Governor Cochran's big democratic majority, they said.

Two new members have been taken into the Rotary club here, Frank P. O'Neal and W. Kurt Miller.

High pinocle prizes were won by E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Alfred Abers. Mrs. C. A. Anderson won high and George Parkins second high at contract and W. D. Cass and Miss Edna Elliott won high prizes at auction. Light refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

Royal Kensington Tea.
At the Howard Huff home Thursday, members of the Royal Kensington club enjoyed a Christmas tea. Candles lighted the darkened room and following a demonstration of the lesson which was on the making of Christmas cookies, an exchange of gifts was made. A short playlet was presented by Madams Howard Huff and F. A. Clark. Dainty sandwiches and cookies were served with the tea.

Modern Priscillas Meet.
Mrs. Cecil Clark was hostess to members of the recently organized Modern Priscilla club at their Christmas meeting Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent playing Christmas games and a short playlet was given. Christmas decorations were attractive and the members had a gift exchange at the tea hour.

Junior Matrons Meet.
Mrs. Emil Fafetta was hostess to members of the Junior Matrons Kensington club at their regular meeting Friday afternoon. Guests were Madams E. A. Holub and Dean Duncan.

Mrs. John Mason was hostess to members of the O. O. S. Kensington club last Thursday at their Christmas party. All members were present and a Christmas program and discussion was enjoyed. Dinner guests in the E. C. Leggett home Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. Olof Olsson and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson.

North Loup News

The annual Christmas party of the Fortnightly club was given this year in the form of a one o'clock luncheon with a program and gift exchange following. Genevieve Hoepfner was the hostess and she was assisted by Zola Schudel. The members came dressed as children and each one brought a stocking and hung it up for old Santa to fill. As soon as the children had finished eating, Santa Claus appeared with lollipops and gifts for everyone. Next in the line of entertainment was a radio broadcast conducted by Santa Claus, who asked the children questions and even asked some of them to sing and recite. Before he left, Santa called out the names on the gifts which the club members had brought each other, then he went on his way. In addition to the club members guests were Viola Everett, Marjory Rydberg, Katherine Anderson, who played the part of Santa Claus, Ruth Hutchins and Ruth Babcock.

Seventeen ladies attended the Christmas tea party given by the Twentieth Century club, at the home of Mrs. Erlo Cox last Thursday. After the guests were presented to the hostess and her assistant, Mrs. Sadie Cox, several games were played under the direction of the project leaders, Fern Maxson and Rachel Sandy. A Christmas playlet was given by Fern Maxson and Josephine Hutchins following which the club sang a number of Christmas carols. Viola Everett and Selma Robbins officiated at the tea table which was provided with small cookies, mints and tea. The president, Florence Hutchins, then called the club to order for a short business meeting and the project lesson. Eula Noyes' resignation as secretary-treasurer was accepted and Leona Knapp was chosen to take her place. The next meeting will be with Selma Robbins.

The school operetta will be Wednesday evening instead of Friday as stated last week. Saturday evening while Mrs. Chas. Sayre was away from home her husband and some of the other men who play pinocle with the Sayres, fixed up a lunch and were all ready to entertain their wives when they appeared later. After supper they played a game of pinocle to see who would wash the dishes and the ladies were the losers.

Mrs. C. B. Clark and Merlyn were shopping in Grand Island last Wednesday. Clifton Clark went to St. Paul with them, to have some dental work done.

The members of the American Legion Auxillary had a special meeting and dinner at the home of Myra Barber on Friday, Dec. 13. Thirteen members sat down together to partake of the delicious dinner which included chicken pie and all the good things that go with it and which was finished off with home-made ice cream and cake. The ladies helped Mrs. Barber quilt a small quilt, and in appreciation for her faithful work in the organization presented her with a beautiful purse. In spite of the date and the number present, all had a lovely time, and no one experienced any bad luck.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Thorpe and baby and Mr. Thorpe's father, who is visiting them, drove to York Friday where they spent the week end with Mrs. Thorpe's people. Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Burris of Garrison, Ia., arrived Wednesday to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. W. O. Zanger and family.

Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock expects to leave Thursday for Lincoln, where she will spend the holidays with her son Edwin and family. The December P. T. A. meeting was held at the school house Tuesday evening. The business meeting was conducted by the vice president, Prudence Dallam. Miss Gordon then led the P. T. A. in several Christmas songs. A splendid talk by Rev. Hurley Warren on "True Meaning of Christmas" was followed by a two quartet arranged by Ava Johnson. Mary Weed then gave a humorous reading. Music by the Edwin Schude family brought the program up to the final number which was a Christmas play given by Myrtle Sayre, Fern and Marian Maxson and Josephine Hutchins. Popcorn balls and apples were served by Florence Hutchins and her committee.

The Nellie Shaw society held an all day meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sadie Cox. Russell Kasson came from Spalding to spend the week end with his family.

AND PLEASE SANTA DON'T LET HUBBY FORGET TO GIVE ME SOMETHING Electrical.

Ord's Electric Rates Are Lower

A government survey made recently brings out the fact that Ord has the 3rd lowest rates in Nebraska in both the 100 and 250 KW per month class, 6th lowest in the 25 KW class in towns with populations from 1,000 to 2,500.

These figures prove that Ord people can well afford to use more electricity. You can afford to cook with it, use it to clean your house, wash and iron your clothes, use it more for lighting purposes and in many other ways.

Ord Coop Creamery Pays Out $8,794.98 As 1935 Dividends

The patronage dividend checks were printed in red and green and bore the picture of Santa Claus carrying an enormous pack on his back. On the pack was lettering stating that since its organization the Ord creamery has paid $127,507 in dividends.

Organized in 1926, the Ord creamery's success has been outstanding although some other cooperative creameries organized about the same time have failed to survive.

Predicts Good Prices.

An encouraging prospect for fair to good butter prices during the coming two years was prophesied by Manager Coe in his report. The world price on butter is much higher than a year ago and surplus butter from such countries as New Zealand and Australia can be more profitably sold in Europe than in the United States, due to the 14c tariff prevailing here, so foreign butter should not compete with domestic butter to any great extent, he said. Farmers have a large tonnage of comparatively cheap feed on hand and at prevailing buttermilk prices it is certainly profitable to feed it to milk cows. The consuming public is buying more butter at higher prices than a year ago and since all milk being produced around eastern cities is required to supply the milk trade now and none is being turned into butter this is no longer a competitive factor.

A gradual increase in average prices paid for buttermilk in Ord during the past four years was noted by Coe. In 1932 the average price paid was 13.4 per pound, in 1933 it was 19.6c, in 1934 it was 23.8c and in 1935 was 27.3c. Last Thursday the price was 31c and prospects are good that the price will hold up.

Drouth Biggest Factor.

Loss of volume as an inevitable result of the 1934 drouth was the greatest obstacle the Ord creamery had to overcome this year, the manager's report showed. The cow population of Valley county was reduced 50 per cent, in itself a terrible blow to cream production. Then, because of high feed costs, many of the remaining cows were poorly wintered and their milk production was much lower than if they had been well fed. Because of the poor condition of these cows they failed to get with

Beaux and Belles Of the Future

Billy Joe Rowbal.
Billy Joe Rowbal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rowbal of Ord was a year old September 22.

Mrs. Noll, the manager said. "Their partnership is a real partnership and they are the kind of citizens who build up a country. It has been a pleasure to deal with them." Stockholders applauded Mr. Coe's remarks.

Nine next highest producers were McLain Bros., whose check was for $60.35, Frank J. Shotoski, $55.00, George Greenwalt, $54.92, John Lech, $53.46, John Dobberstine, $53.10, Ernest Coats, $53.10, Earl Hanson, $51.13, Roy L. Hanson, $50.09 and Ed Kasper, $49.60. calf and have not freshened at the usual time. The price of fat cows on the terminal markets was good this fall and many of these dry cows were sold for slaughter.

Because of all these factors the creamery's volume of business naturally dropped and the fact that a 3c patronage dividend could still be paid, as well as 3 per cent interest to stockholders, and that needed improvements could be made proves that the creamery has been efficiently operated, believe stockholders who attended the annual meeting and heard the reports.

"The success of a cooperative creamery is very closely related to the volume of its product and loss of volume is one hazard that cannot be insured against," said the manager.

Could Handle More Cream.

"The smaller volume of the past year demonstrates clearly that if we had 100 per cent cooperation from producers of the trade territory we could have paid a 4c dividend today instead of 3c. Had we bought 125,000 pounds more buttermilk our gross profit would have been increased over $6,000 and our operating expense would have been little higher," Coe stated.

Directors elected Thursday were A. W. Cornell, Chris Nielsen and L. D. Milliken, the first two being reelected after having served on the board almost since the creamery was started. Directors will meet soon to elect officers.

At present a new poultry house west of the creamery building is being completed. It will be equipped with feeding batteries and the creamery can then hold its poultry for six or seven days and get a gain in weight. Buttermilk, supplemented with commercial fattener, will be used as feed. Since profits from poultry go to help pay expenses increased earnings should be reflected in the dividends at the end of 1936.

Merry Christmas and a HAPPY NEW YEAR To Our Valley County Friends.

And this way will make it Merry and Happy for another year also... patronize the Ord Co-operative Creamery and get a dividend next December. We always have and probably always will. Dad Noll with his Jersey herd got high honors in Co-operative dividend. I had the honor of selling him three bulls in the past few years, and he also takes proper care of his Jerseys. I have sold more than a hundred cows in Nebraska and a lot of bulls. Hardly any stayed in Valley county. We have 50 head in our herd. I am offering to Valley county farmers 10 heifers to freshen after February 1st at $75 each and 2 bulls at $50 each. These heifers and bulls are from our milk herd that produces 400-lbs. to 500-lbs. of butterfat per year. We have one of the highest testing herds in the U. S. A. as proved by our five year testing work. A 400-lb. butterfat cow will bring you over $100 a year according to the 1935 prices. Start now with a few good ones.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Ft. Robinson, Nebr. Dec. 15, 1935

To the Quiz:
I received four copies of the Quiz this week and maybe I wasn't pleased. As Mr. Anderson said, "The Quiz has all the news." Through its columns I learned by some quirk of fortune the committee did a sensible thing and sent H. D. Leggett to Lincoln as senator. That was very proper. He has been telling everybody what ought to be done since 1918 and this doubtless gave him a chance to put his theories into practice. Of course this one session was just a starter, and he should have at least one more term to show what he can do. Also, that chair he occupied will be too large for almost any other man to occupy, except maybe Bill Bartlett. But I'd better quit this luncheon, or H. D. will be charging me up with political advertising.

We are all feeling rather sad today due to the death this morning of a Mr. Knott, who was educational director for western Nebraska. In this capacity he visited the camp at Minatare in November and I had a very pleasant visit with him. An emergency operation was performed last night at midnight but the case was hopeless from the first. This is the first death for this hospital for a long time.

The first real snow of the season fell here Friday, Dec. 13th and finished on the 14th, about six inches falling in all. It did not blow much, and will make quite a lot of much needed moisture when it melts. It certainly added to the beauty of the scenery as the dingy looking hills are now snowy white, while the pine trees stand out in sharp contrast.

Since coming here I have made a number of trips over the surrounding country, much of which has been used as a rifle and artillery range for the past 59 years. I have picked up a large number of the old 45-90's and 45-70's, the old lead bullet like those used in Custer's last fight and which went out of style 35 years or more ago. Then there are the Spanish American Krag-Jorgensen's and a Springfield of the later Springfield's. I also found a complete 77 mm shell. This is about 3 inches in diameter and 9 inches high, with a timing device in the nose. So far I have not been able to locate any Indian relics, but hope to do so before I leave.

There are two large monuments on the fort parade ground, which were dedicated last summer. They are just alike and occupy locations of equal prominence. One is to the memory of Colonel Robinson, for whom the Fort was named and the other in honor of Sioux Chief Crazy Horse. Both men lost their lives here, the Colonel falling in action and the chief while resisting arrest. I will doubtless be here for another two months, and as I have nothing to do but read and diet, it hadn't ought to be so hard to take. I help with the work whenever I feel like doing so but it is not compulsory.

Irma comments on the quality of Mrs. Lester Norton's voice. I recall that at one time she was one of the best debaters the old Ord High ever had, partly because of her brilliant wit, but principally because of her wonderful command of the English language. More next week. John L. Ward, Ft. Robinson, Nebraska.

The Legion boys sold numbers for a goose Saturday and Preston Ward held the lucky number.

The Lee Park Friendship Aid postponed their bazaar Saturday night on account of the storm.

Miss Fern Roberts entertained Saturday evening, Elizabeth Lewin and Bill Marvel, Viola Nelson and Floyd Smith, also Preston Ward.

Mrs. Walter Coats spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Dye.

Cribbage club met Thursday evening with Fred Milburn.

Friday the 13th proved an unlucky day for Mrs. Alvin Fees who caught the heel of her shoe on the back porch of their home, which threw her to the cement walk breaking her left wrist at the joint. Her ankle was sprained and a severe bruise above the ankle. This little woman certainly has grit, for she refused to take anything to relieve pain and never murmured during the work of Dr. Joe Baird in reducing the broken bone.

Mrs. Cecil Milburn and little daughter Scharyle, visited with Mrs. Edith Bossen Thursday afternoon and for lunch.

Abe Duryea went to Kearney Friday where he took the train for Glendale, Calif., to visit his daughter, Mrs. Albert Lindsey. Mrs. Lindsey sent him a ticket for the trip for a Christmas present. Mr. Duryea expects to be gone about 2 months.

Mrs. Homer Jameson's father, John Domingo of Weeping Water is in a Lincoln hospital for an operation for a cataract on his eye.

Birthdays were Maud Masters, Dec. 15, Grant Cruikshank Dec. 19, Bradie Masters, Dec. 20, Joyce Masters Dec. 21, Harold Valeit Dec. 30. Harold was the honor guest as he was the eldest. A sumptuous dinner was served and 3 birthday cakes adorned the table.

Anton Nelson went to Grand Island Tuesday and returned with Mrs. Porter Dunlap and took her to her home north of Arcadia. Mrs. Dunlap is much better since her operation and stood the trip home fine.

Tuesday Miss Della Higgins of Ord accompanied Sheriff George Round to Arcadia and visited a few hours with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Higgins and little son of Comstock visited Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Higgins Wednesday afternoon.

H. O. A. club meets Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Floyd Bonnell. This will be the last meeting until the first of the New Year and they will enjoy a Christmas exchange.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vesceilus of Chicago were invited to a party one evening there, and whom should they meet but Mr. and Mrs. Edward Toops. These young people are all from Arcadia and graduates from the Arcadia high school except Mr. Vesceilus.

Friday afternoon Mrs. Vernon Williams and Ann Lindall visited Mrs. Harold McClary.

W. J. Murray moved his barber chairs into the Bulger building and they will live in the back rooms. Rebekah lodge will convene in the I. O. O. F. hall Wednesday evening.

Benson-Jensen

MRS. ALVIN JENSEN.

Miss Fern Benson, eldest daughter of Gus Benson was married to Alvin Jensen, son of Mrs. Len Richardson Wednesday afternoon December 11, 1935 in Taylor. The wedding ceremony was performed by Therman Smith. The bride was dressed in a green silk crepe dress with a green coat and hat to match. They were attended by Miss Doris Benson, sister of the bride and Milo Smith.

Following the ceremony they drove to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fowler near Brewster and returned to Arcadia Thursday evening. The bride graduated in the 1934 class from the Arcadia high school and has been a clerk in the Waterbury store. She will continue as clerk until after the holidays and then join her husband at the Fowler ranch where he has work until spring.

Clayton Ward has received the appointment as supervisor of the rehabilitation work and will be stationed at Center, Nebr., which is the county seat. He received the appointment Thursday, from Lincoln and left early Friday morning.

Amos Hunt went to Lincoln Friday morning with Clayton Ward. Mrs. Hunt will leave in a few days on the bus for Lincoln as soon as she is able to make the journey and they will make an extended visit with their son Vernard Hunt. Mrs. Amos Hunt will take treatments in hope of regaining her health.

George Scott bought the Judah and Jung cafe Saturday, taking possession at once.

The American Legion boys will hold a turkey and goose shoot, in Mrs. Belle Wall's pasture south of Arcadia Sunday, Dec. 22. The proceeds will go towards paying for a banner for the Legion boys.

Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McClary entertained at a family dinner Saturday evening in honor of their little grandson, Wallace McClary's first birthday.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

You couldn't buy a nicer gift for an absent member of the family than a copy of the Quiz for 1936. A copy of the Cook Calendar will be sent with it.

I find a lot of farmers who can't just understand why this government curtailed their crops and then changed the tariff arrangements with other countries to allow the beef and pork and grain which they stopped the western farmers from raising, to come in to compete and beat down the prices. Neither can I. But then we are not supposed to know as much as the college professors who are now running the country.

Another thing for western farmers to remember, is that goods manufactured in the east are allowed to go into Canada and the other nations in exchange for allowing them to ship farm products into this country. And that will help the manufacturers of the east. But how is all this going to help the western farmer? I guess the whole trouble was done when congress allowed the president to change the tariff at will, a prerogative which Congress should have kept.

The Cook Calendar which the Quiz issues annually is not only a handy and useful article but more or less of an ornament and if I get the boys to put my picture on it this year, it will be much nicer than ever before, of course. I would like to send one to each and every Quiz subscriber but can send it only to those who are paid for. If you want one better get a part of the red if you are in it, for a date for sending the calendar drawing close.

That federal housing scheme down this side of Omaha where a hundred families are going to be placed on 800 acres of land, about 7 1/2 acres each after streets are taken out, is screwy. They are supposed to make a living on the land and pay annually to the government $350 until the place is paid for, something like four thousand dollars, and also pay some $50 a year in taxes. Farmers who have not been able to do anything like that well on a good half section will smile.

There are scores and hundreds and thousands of farmers who have been prosperous and made money in the past and who hope to do so again, but who are temporarily down and out. Many of them are receiving some sort of government help, seed loans, feed loans, rehabilitation help, relief labor or some other of the numerous forms of so called aid that is being dished out so lavishly. For the most part these men realize that this country is now further in debt than it ever was before. They also realize that this huge debt must be paid sooner or later, and realizing that, they know that if they ever do get on their feet again they will have to help pay that debt. They must also know that the larger that debt gets the less chance they have of ever getting a home of their own. So naturally, they want the spree of spending to stop as soon as possible and pretty soon it is going to stop. A 40-lb. wildcat was caught and killed by Charley Hughes at Burwell.

County Treasurer Paist remarked on the rapidity with which people were paying up their personal taxes. Out of a total of $54,000 due, $45,000 already had been paid.

Young people took up a collection and erected a tombstone over the grave of their young friend Grant Foght, who died in British Columbia and was brought back to Ord for burial.

F. M. Harris bought a farm near Topeka, Kas., and planned to move there. He paid $60 per acre. Frank Howard was having a bad tussle with inflammatory rheumatism. Frank Kosmata rented his farm in Poplar Grove district to Jim Cadek and was moving to town. Albert King, of Sumner, had a bunch of 63 hogs that averaged 183 pounds on November 13 and a month later weighed 254 pounds each, a big net gain.

actually spent in looking up data and writing the stories, but it is some remuneration and the writer will have the satisfaction of knowing that a public service is being rendered which will live in the archives of the state historical society in the state house at Lincoln for all time.

The Missus had several teeth pulled recently and had a pretty sore mouth and she told me her jaw was so lame that she could hardly get her mouth open and then she got mad when I tried to get her to go and have some more teeth out.

One of my most loyal friends of forty years is W. A. Anderson, himself one of the oldest settlers of Valley County. There is very seldom a day that Mr. Anderson does not visit my office and spend a few moments chatting, telling me any news he knows and in turn getting such gossip as I can pass on to him and when for any reason he fails to show up for more than a day or two, I notice it and wonder if he is ill and make inquiries. And if the Ruler over all of us should in His wisdom, call my good friend to answer the final summons which we must all do sooner or later, the loss to me is going to be a great one. Of course he is still only a kid of 82 and I shall be expecting to enjoy his visits for at least another ten years.

Two Howard county men have filled for the Unicameral from this, the 29th district, composed of Wheeler, Greeley, Howard and Valley counties. I know them both. One is Ed Sorensen, for the past few years proprietor of a flour mill at St. Paul. When I lived in St. Paul he was yard manager of the Chicago Lumber Company of that city and he is a fine fellow. He served his representative district in the legislature once or twice and I know he made a good record because he is an able, honest man who would do just exactly as he thought was right.

The other is Stanley Mead, a farmer, stockman, oil station operator living right on the highway as one turns south upon reaching St. Paul. He is a successful man in his line, honest as the day is long and if chosen would always be found working for the best interests of the people of the district. That is my opinion of those two men. Another Howard county man, I am told, is sure to file. He is Representative Frost, appointed to serve in the special session because the man who represented the district resigned shortly before and I have not had the opportunity of meeting Mr. Frost. No doubt, however, but he is a fine fellow, otherwise he would not have been named. Another man who has been named is Representative Doyle of Greeley county, who represented the old district made up of Greeley and Wheeler counties. I barely met him while in Lincoln, but found him a most likable gentleman and have no doubt he is fully competent. No one knows how many other filings there may be in this district. A number are mentioned by rumor, but many rumors do not materialize.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week.

In his Vinton Township notes Ernest S. Coats was advocating that Valley county hire a road engineer. Treasurer Tolen reported that road taxes would bring in $41,000 and Coats thought his large amount should be spent in a business-like way.

The new residence of E. E. Davis was nearing completion and was expected to be one of the most commodious farm houses in Valley county.

Immediately upon hearing of his father's death Carl Sorensen, who was living in Wellington, Colo., came to Ord to attend the funeral.

A. Ward, oldest man in the county, passed his 96th birthday but was reported to be in failing health.

The 11th grade English class at North Loup published an issue of the Loyalist with great success.

A Croatian tanbuhica orchestra was to appear on Ord's lyceum course.

Something Different

What a public improvement it was when the Ord Creamery tore down that old house and put up a new, white-painted house toward the back of the lot.

Going by with my husband I said to him, "I'll bet anything Mr. Coe will have a big flower bed over the whole front of the lot next summer!"

"Or," responded my belittling companion, "some nice chicken runs!" And remembering why the creamery built the cottage at the back of the lot, I was forced to conclude the prophesy might be more truth than fancy.

Mrs. C. E. McGrew called up to tell me the Crosby's weren't the only ones who had Thanksgiving foder stolen. A particularly suspicious pan of hot pecan rolls was gone when she stepped onto the back porch to bring it in. Said Henschel, mournfully discussing the theft, "Sometimes some one will say to you, 'My Mrs. McGrew, you do bake the loveliest pecan rolls! Then you'll know who enjoyed them!'"

Telling the tale at the house of a friend with a small boy present the youth broke into the conversation as she finished the story, saying, "That's right, Mrs. McGrew, you do!"

It is usual for little girls to learn poetry to speak at Christmas programs. Little girls have done this for years. But it is quite something different and fittingly mentioned in this column when the little seven-year-old's mama writes the poetry for her to recite.

Such is the case at the Bud Martine home, and little Shirley goes to sleep nights learning the verses thought up by her clever mother.

Everyone has seen the camels and wise men who travel across the top of the city hall every night. But imaginations paint the picture differently for each one who views it. Some say the smoke from the chimneys nearby looks like clouds in the sky, or that the wise men seem to travel in a cloud of light.

One modern speed demon of our city appropriately reports the smoke makes the camels appear to be kicking up a lot of dust.

And that reminds me of a cracking good joke on Jim Gilbert, who, 'tis said, has invested money in the gold diggin's now going on in our county. Mr. Gilbert stuck his head out the front door of his barber shop and hollered at Vern Stark, who was helping with electrical work incident to setting up the camels and wise men, "What do you see down that way?"

"Gold," bawled out Vern at the top of his lungs, and presto, the head of Mr. Gilbert withdrew silently into his barber shop.

Modern children don't care so much for modern representations of Santa Claus, it seems. Everyone else may go modern, but Santa has to stay old-fashioned to please his young public. Little Galen Allen saw a picture of Santa smoking a cigar on the back of a new magazine and did he have a fit? Several other Ord children also thought it odd for Santa to be so pictured.

The nursery school needs toys. They have practically none. Any dolls, buggies, or toys suitable for boys and girls between the ages of two and five years would be appreciated and used. If possible send durable toys or toys in good condition. But whatever you send can likely be used for the children.

Other things are needed too, but the nursery school is only asking for toys. Those your children have outgrown....can they have those?

If you have any toys you are willing to give to the nursery

BACK FORTY

A new set of rules has been developed for measuring haystacks. They are more accurate for all shapes and types of stacks than the old Government or Quarter-master rule, the Frye-Brulm rule, or each of several other rules commonly used.

For oblong stacks of the low, round-topped type such as are built in the Great Plains States with the overshot stacker, the rule is:

$$(0.52 \times O) - (0.44 \times W) \times WL$$

In this rule O equals the over, W equals the width, and L equals the length.

Studies have showed that rules in common use for determining the volume of round stacks are also inaccurate. The following round stack formula is recommended:

$$\text{Volume equals } (0.04 \times O) - (0.012 \times C) \text{ squared.}$$

In this formula C equals the circumference or distance around the stack at the ground, and O equals the over or distance from the ground on one side over the peak to the ground on the other side.

The formulas presented will give the volumes of stacks in cubic feet. These volumes are reduced to tons by dividing by the number of cubic feet in a ton.

Alfalfa stacks over 90 days old have about 470 cubic feet per ton. If the stacks are younger than this, they contain about 485 cubic feet per ton.

Wild hay stacks have 450 cubic feet per ton after 90 days. When younger they are estimated to have about 600 cubic feet per ton.

Many factors affect the density of hay in the stack and the number of cubic feet required for a ton. The greatest of these is moisture at stacking time. Tough or undercured hay will settle and become more compact than very dry or overcured hay. Other factors like texture and foreign material also affect density, but to a lesser extent.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dear Jake: Not a small item of expense of the farmer is that of feeding the threshers and help when large crews are on hand. One man said he spent twelve dollars in feeding the threshers two days. If he had known before hand what the cost was going to be he would have loaded them in a truck and taken them to town. Another man had threshers on hand for a week straight. This was because of the wet weather. Usually the men stay to supper.

Of course these threshers are hungry and should be filled up. Each lady seems to try to put on a young feast for every meal and one wonders if the men are not so anxious to stay because the fare is better there than it would be at home.

Alfred Christensen and I were talking the situation over. We decided the menus were altogether too elaborate. A simpler diet would fill the empty paunch as well, would sustain life and also would be such that the men would not be so apt to gorge and cause distress in their internal workings for a day or two after, and not bankrupt the man threshing.

We concluded that the lady cook make a big bowl of soup. A soup bone would do the trick and if the quantity ran short she might toss in another dipper of water.

Then for a more solid diet she might stew a large batch of turnips. If they were a little strong all the better. Threshers are usually strong men and they are not likely to overeat on turnips.

As a vegetable we suggest dandelion greens. These would supply iron to the blood and be easy on the pocketbook.

As a meat, liver is fine and considered a brain food. This organ needs food in these times to figure profits in corn-hog contracts. Goat meat is not so bad if the guest does not know it and goats sell for 50c a dozen at the sales.

As a dessert we suggest rice. I cooked some rice one day when the wife was gone. I only put over a half a gallon to stew thinking I could eat that much easily in a couple meals but we had rice all the rest of the winter. More than that rice is a wonderful food.

Then to keep some careless fellow from taking too much cream in his coffee or on his rice, accidentally have the cream sour, or barely turned. Very few people will take too much sour cream although it is as nourishing as sweet and even more digestible.

This menu should be carefully preserved in the cook book and published in the Quiz calendar and ever more there should be no excuse for complaint as to the expense of feeding threshers.

I stopped into the Ord Coop Creamery the other day and chatted with Fred Coe. He is quite worried over the plight of the pastures in this country. He showed me as to how the dairy and poultry industry in Nebraska exceeds all the other crops in income to the farmer. And if our pastures do not recoup we have lost one of our greatest assets.

We discovered that both of us had attended the University and both of us are wondering what good it ever did us. I like his another ending up working at something else entirely. My last venture was in the law course, just getting enough of it to arouse my curiosity for more, and he specialized in athletics, and he smiled a little when he told me how he could jump.

He is a very close friend of a Robin VanBoskirk, the auditor, who is my cousin by marriage. As I was leaving he said I looked very much like Robin's daughter (my second cousin). I have been wondering about that ever since, for she is a very pretty girl.

I met Sam Roe Pop Corn Days and after talking politics a few minutes and concluding we would have to pick another man for our representative or senator now that Cushing has gone away, and I suggested he run, he told me it was not politics, he wanted to see me about.

He said he was not sure that the fellows had to raise hogs to get their money for not raising hogs. He had the letter received early in the season telling they did not have to raise hogs and also the last notice. The last one was not positive but it seems the matter is left to the allotment committee, who ever they are.

Bill Schudel talked with the Greeley men about it. They received the same letter as the Valley county men and they swung their arms and said you did have to raise pigs to get your money for not raising pigs and wondered what was the matter with the Valley county heads to think otherwise. The safest plan is to go out and buy some high priced sows and raise some pigs.

Just as a matter of passing the time of day there was some Canadian bacon on sale in Scottia the other day according to Geo. Holk.

Mrs. George Nass. Breakfast Crumb Cake. Beat two eggs, dissolve one teaspoon soda in one pint buttermilk or sour milk. Add to eggs with half well added melted butter, one-half cup flour and two teaspoons baking powder which have been sifted together. Stir until a fairly stiff batter is formed. Bake on a hot griddle as for pancakes and serve at once with plenty of butter or syrup. Serves four to six persons. This is a good way to use up dry bread.

Mrs. Charlie Huebner. Popcorn Balls. Boil together two cups sugar, two tablespoons vinegar, one-half cup water, a small piece of butter, until it hardens a little in water. Pour over a dish pan full of freshly popped corn, stir it, then mold into balls, add coloring to the syrup for pink balls.

Alas, One Rich Man Only! Gasoline Is King All the Ships She Wants Senator Borah's View

Only one solitary American citizen had a net income of above $5,000,000 last year, and they were 59-cent dollars. The man did not realize it, perhaps, but he will realize it later as inflation, which is now a fact, becomes known to all.

Who the last, Ionesome, remote, unfriendly, melancholy, five-million-dollar-a-year-man is may not be told. The law forbids publishing income tax names, but the government tells you there is one and only one.

That "last one" of depression's summer must look around him, saddened, mourning over his old companions, withered and strewn.

What is important today may be nothing tomorrow; what was nothing yesterday may become all important now. Once man was helpless without his horse, camel, ox, yak, ass, mule, reindeer, dog sled or tame elephant. Now, in civilization, they mean little, while Lloyd George tells you, "Oil is the decisive factor in the Abyssinian campaign." Of all the great powers whose attitude is being canvassed, that of King Gasoline is most important. Without oil, Mussolini cannot win his war; with oil, victory is certain.

Japan at the naval conference will consider nothing less than a battle fleet as big as any the United States may build; no 5-5-3 ratio.

No American should object to that, if Japan can afford it. It is not the size of the fleet that counts. Unfortunate Spanish grandees in charge of the great Armada could testify to that, after they met Elizabeth's small fleet and big sea captivities.

Also, there is the fact that if real war started, above the clouds and under water, every fighting nation would hide its battleship targets out of airplane sight, in safe harbors; many battleships or few would make no difference.

The destruction of monopoly, without necessarily enacting new legislation.

An end of crop restriction. Senator Borah says restriction has always failed in depression, ever since the days of Roman emperors.

The scientific news, gruesome but important, tells you that the eyes of the dead can supply transparent tissue from the cornea, useful in curing blindness in the living. Tissue from dead eyes has been successfully transplanted to living eyes, and there is hope of thus curing certain types of blindness.

England has always acted like one "walking on eggs" in dealing with Japan, but she does say that Japan's proposed seizure of Chinese territory "harms the prestige of Japan and hampers the development of friendly future relations between Japan and her friends."

Walter C. Teagle, head of Standard Oil of New Jersey, did not make a deal to supply Mussolini with all his oil for thirty years, casually arranging to finance the Italian oil market up to $300,000,000. Mr. Teagle says so, and it is so. But when the wise John D. Rockefeller once said, "I want to see my managers, their desks cleared and their feet on the desks studying how to make money for Standard Oil," he had men like Walter Teagle in mind.

In Georgetown, British Guiana, a kindly clergyman sprinkled a tiny negro baby just born, naming him "Roosevelt Sessalie Caleb." The boy's parents, descendants of slaves, say the name was chosen to honor "the greatest man in the world, President Roosevelt."

The little baby may wonder later why his parents dragged in Halle Sessalie, in whose empire slavery still exists as a major industry.

An official representative of Huslia said to this writer not long since: "We have nothing to fear from Japan. They waited three years too long." While Japan was waiting, Russia established a great submarine and air base at Vladivostok, within short striking distance of everything Japanese.

Since then Japan and Russia have got along peacefully. This country may suddenly wake up to find problems more important than any theory on how to make everybody happy on short notice.

If your car doesn't run as fast as it did or if it is hard to start, bucks at low speeds or cuts out at high speeds, in all probability your Electrical System may be at fault.

Distributor and Ignition Points should be inspected for defects or wear. Spark Plugs should be cleaned and adjusted; the Generator should be cleaned or overhauled and the proper charging rate set; and the Starter checked. It is also important to keep the Battery filled and at the proper charge because a stiff cold motor requires more starting power. We are equipped with scientific instruments to clearly diagnose the trouble and fix it for you at a minimum expense. Our Work is Guaranteed.

Feed, Produce Ass'n. Closes Books, Quits

Secretary Henry Vodehnal reported yesterday to the Quiz that the Valley County Feed & Produce Association had just closed its business by collecting the last money due it and disbursing the money to those entitled to receive it. Walt Cummins received $4 and Ed Schudel $3.00 as a one dollar a ton rebate on damaged feed bought by them. The balance was paid to the officers and directors for services and mileage as follows: Ray Lutz, $6.50; S. W. Roe, $4.00; J. C. Anderson, $4.00; Henry Jorgensen, $4.00; Bert Cummins, $4.00; Henry Vodehnal, $13.59.

This comes to a close an organization that has handled a large amount of feed for Valley county farmers, with the collection and disbursement of $53.16, every account being cleaned up in full.

Vogeltanz and Viola Larsen; Ted, a poor boy, Warren Allen; Betty and Tommie, his sister and brother, Phyllis Munn and Raymond Furtak; and Ted's mother, Alberta Flynn. The play is under the directorship of Miss Bernice Slose.

The music department, directed by Dean S. Duncan will first present two selections, "Golden Summer Kiss Your Eyes", an old English tune and "Neath the Spell of Peaceful Night" by Bernard Hamblen. The songs will be by the B group of the girls glee club. The boys glee club will sing "Good King Wenceslas" and "Home on the Range." Edward and Viola Puncocchar will play a violin duet, "Dream of the Shepherdess" by August Labitsky. "The Star", a Mexican selection, and a "Christmas Cradle Song" by Alexine Prokoff will be rendered by the A group of the girls' glee club. The final selection, Mendelssohn's "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" will be sung by the entire boys and girls chorus.

The third part is a Christmas play, "Why the Chimes Rang" by the Senior high school. The cast includes Mildred Waldmann as Holgar, Vera Severns as Steen, Paul Carlsen as Uncle Bertel, Barbara Dale as an old woman, Ronald Rose as the priest, Ruth Haas as a rich man, Irene Whiting as the courtier, Louise Petska as a beautiful woman, Virginia DeHart as a young girl, Milo Bresley as a scholar, Adam Dubas as the king and Armona Beth Achen as the angel.

This afternoon at the grade school their Christmas program will be presented, beginning at 2:00 o'clock. The first division of the program will be in charge of the Kindergarten. A Christmas greeting will be given by Jimmie Kucera. Following will be a toy orchestra and a toy parade. This will be followed by a couple of group songs and a tap dance by Delores Knecht.

The first and second classes will present a two-act play entitled, "Santa's Toyshop." Two songs, "Old Carol" and "Beautiful Thoughts for Christmas" will be sung by the fifth and sixth graders. Members of the fifth and sixth classes will also present a play, "Christmas Sprites." The last number on the afternoon's program will be a pageant, "Christmas Night" by the third and fourth grade classes.

Saturday evening Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whelan.

Less Cows -- Yes!

The following suggestions for grain rations to feed Dairy cows is taken from a well known Dairy paper.

If you have plenty of alfalfa, feed one of the following mixtures:

- (1) ground corn, 100 pounds; ground oats, 400 pounds; ground barley, 100 pounds.
- (2) Ground corn, 300 pounds; ground oats, 200 pounds; wheat bran, 150 pounds.
- (3) Ground barley, 400 pounds; ground oats, 300 pounds; Linseed oil meal, 50 pounds; ground wheat 100 pounds.

If you have alfalfa or sweet clover hay to be fed along with corn silage, feed one of these mixtures:

- (1) Ground corn, 250 pounds; ground oats, 500 pounds; ground barley, 200 pounds; ground soy beans, 150 pounds.
- (2) Ground corn, 200 pounds; ground wheat, 150 pounds; ground oats, 400 pounds; linseed oil meal, 100 pounds; wheat bran, 100 pounds.
- (3) Ground barley, 400 pounds; ground oats, 400 pounds; Wheat 100 pounds; Linseed Oil Meal 100 pounds.

If wild or prairie hay, or corn stover are the only roughages, one of the following grain mixtures should be fed:

- (1) Ground corn, 400 pounds; wheat bran, 200 pounds; linseed oil meal, 300 pounds.
- (2) round oats, 300 pounds; ground corn 400 pounds; linseed oil meal, 350 pounds.
- (3) Ground corn, 200 pounds; ground barley, 200 pounds; wheat bran, 200 pounds; linseed oil meal, 300 pounds.

One pound of the mixture should be fed for each 3 to 4 pounds of milk produced daily by Holsteins and Ayrshires, and for each 2 or 3 pounds of milk produced by Jerseys or Guernseys.

Many Valley County farmers have corn, oats, wheat and barley this year and by grinding these grains and properly balancing the ration for their cows they will realize more money from their hay and roughage.

And don't forget that some good mineral mixture for a dairy cow is a good investment.

From the present outlook butterfat prices will be good for several months to come and a feasible butter shortage is in prospect.

William Wigent, 92, Civil War Veteran, Died Monday Eve

Ord Man Marched Thru Georgia With Sherman; Was Pioneer Postmaster in Springdale.

William Wigent, 92, one of Valley county's first settlers and one of Ord's last two surviving Civil war veterans, passed away at 6:15 p. m. Monday, Dec. 23 at his home in Ord, where he had been tenderly cared for during his last long illness by his only daughter, Mrs. Nancy Covert.

In spite of Mr. Wigent's advanced years his health was remarkably good until a few months ago and it was his custom to walk to the postoffice every morning, accompanied usually by a favorite dog.

William H. Wigent, son of Norman and Millan Marier Wigent was born in Onadago county, near Syracuse, New York on July 25, 1843 and died at his home in Ord on December 23, 1935. When a small child he moved with his parents to Michigan where as a young man of 19 he enlisted in 1862 in Company D, 66th Illinois Infantry Sharp Shooters and served until July 7, 1865 when he was mustered out of the service at Louisville, Ky.

Returning to the home community he was married at Deerfield, Mich., to Miss Mira Drake in September, 1866. To this union was born one daughter, Mrs. Nancy Covert of Ord. In 1875 Mr. and Mrs. Wigent with their small daughter came to Valley county, making the trip in a covered wagon. It took two months on the road and they reached their destination in June. They spent the first several months with the late W. D. Long who was also a pioneer in the Springdale neighborhood while their first home, a sod and dugout affair was being prepared. On March 9, 1876 they moved onto their own farm, a soldiers' rights homestead which Mr. Wigent still owned at the time of his death, being the only man in the community who owned his original farm home.

Mr. Wigent took an active part in the affairs of the community serving as County Commissioner, Constable Justice of the Peace and filling other positions of trust and giving his best to the proper fulfillment of each. In May, 1876 he was appointed postmaster at Springdale and the postoffice was in the Wigent home until it was transferred to Ord. Mrs. Wigent was his deputy. In the early years Mr. Wigent did much freighting, hauling loads of provisions and necessities from Grand Island before there was a bridge over the Loup river. While on the farm he was faithful to his work and made a success of his labors. He and his wife moved to Ord in 1907, where they spent five happy years. Mrs. Wigent died in April 1912. Two years later his daughter, Mrs. Covert came from Washington and made her home with him for a time, later moving to the Wigent farm where her sons, Bud and Jim still live. During the years while he lived in Ord, Mr. Wigent was a familiar figure on the streets and always had a greeting and a smile for everyone. He was a member of the Odd Fellows Lodge and a member of the local post of the G. A. R. until it disbanded about ten years ago. His hobby was pets, particularly dogs and he generally had one or two of them with him. In 1930 he contacted a serious illness and his daughter again moved into his home and has cared for him since. Mr. and Mrs. Wigent were among the finest of the early pioneers. No traveler was ever turned from their door, always being afforded food and lodging and the best of everything the home possessed. Going into homes of sickness and trouble, he and his wife were always ready to minister to any need and many a person cherishes

Froemke Released By Hall County Officers

M. C. Froemke, 36-year-old would-be bond salesman from Denver who was held by Hall county officers for a week while Sheriff George S. Round of Ord investigated details of his attempt to take Dr. W. J. Hemphill of North Loup for a financial ride, was released Saturday night when it was decided that a conviction would prove difficult.

Froemke is alleged to have taken a $380 check from Dr. Hemphill in exchange for worthless securities. He had made no attempt to cash the check and it was found on his person when he was taken into custody by Hall county officers.

The case was quite a mix-up, Froemke claiming that he was an accredited representative of Downs & Co., Denver bond concern, and the Downs company claiming that he had not been authorized to do business for them in Nebraska.

To prosecute Froemke would be a costly proposition with an excellent chance that he would evade punishment since he had not profited by his attempted swindle, say Valley county officers, hence they decided to release the man.

Gov't May Claim Ralph Manchester Under Mann Act

Took Burwell Girl to Idaho, Is Charge; Held Here For Selling Mortgaged Car.

Ralph Manchester, 22, is being held in county jail here on a charge of selling a mortgaged automobile but it is possible that he may be claimed by federal officials and face prosecution in federal court under a Mann act charge, said Sheriff George S. Round Monday. The Valley county sheriff drove to Council Bluffs after young Manchester last week.

Although Manchester has a wife and child living in Ord it is claimed that last summer he induced a Burwell girl to accompany him on an automobile trip to Idaho. Garfield county officers were in Ord Saturday conferring with local officials and they are also said to be in touch with federal officers.

Charge on which the man is being held at present is that he bought an automobile from Ed Gnaster, mortgaged it, then drove it to Cheyenne, Wyo., and sold it. He has also admitted participating in the theft of liquor from Charles Kasson's truck, a few weeks ago. Several other instances of petty thievery are ascribed to young Manchester, who has an all-around bad record.

Preliminary hearing on the car charge will be held in county court here January 9th, unless Manchester is claimed by federal officials before that time.

St. Paul Editor Visits.

Firemen Send Flowers When Veteran Chief, A.J. Shirley And Wife, Celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary Dec. 22

Ord's veteran fire chief, A. J. "Bud" Shirley and his wife observed the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage Sunday, December 22, and in this fine picture taken by H. E. Jones, the Quiz photographer, they are shown with the large bouquet sent by members of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department and with the beautiful cake baked and decorated by their daughter, Mrs. Cash Rathbun.

Ord Silver Strike Campaign Closes; Gave Away $300

Mrs. Edith Jones Won Biggest Prize Saturday; Joe Jirak Was Acceptable Santa

Saturday afternoon marked the close of Ord's four-week Silver Strike campaign, during which $300.00 in cash prizes were distributed to holiday patrons of Ord merchants. The campaign was a big success, created much interest, pleased people who traded in Ord during the period involved and brought extra trade to Ord stores taking part. Apparently everybody concerned is pleased with the campaign and probably something similar will be done next Christmas.

Winners in the final drawing Saturday afternoon were Mrs. Edith Jones, $25; Mrs. Joe Parkos, $10; Mrs. Frank Serksen and Joe Wegryn, Jr., $5; and $2 prizes to Chas. Palmatier, Donald Thompson, Anna Bruha, Helen Houtby, Agnes Pratt, Wes Miska, Henry Jorgensen, Frank Novak, Mrs. B. Suminski, Louis Vancura, Lloyd W. Wilson, E. R. Foth, Mrs. Joe Tondreau, Lucille Guggenmos and Marion Savage.

For the benefit of children of this community, the Silver Strike merchants put on an extra event, a community Xmas tree, in the court house yard Tuesday evening. Joe Jirak, in Santa Claus costume, distributed hundreds of bags of peanuts and candy to the children who crowded about him. A drawing for thirty merchandise prizes donated by Silver Strike stores took place. The affair was well attended and apparently was enjoyed by children and grown-up alike.

Holiday business in Ord was unusually good this year, especially during the last week before Christmas, and Ord business men, through the columns of the Quiz this week, are extending their thanks to people of this trade territory.

—Arriving by bus Tuesday to spend the Christmas holidays with families in Ord were Misses Florence Kokes of Lincoln and Miss Lenore Kokes from Omaha.

—Dale Harding was a bus passenger to North Loup Thursday morning where he spent the day.

Rules Governing Sale of Seeds Announced

A revision of the Rules and Regulations governing the sale of agricultural seeds has become necessary because of the changes made in the seed law by the last regular session of the legislature in House Bill No. 541 introduced by Representative August H. Bierman of Wayne county and John Havekost of Dodge county.

The law now requires that every lot of agricultural seeds offered or exposed for sale and seeding purposes within Nebraska must have attached to it a tag or label showing, not only the purity and germination of the seed, as was previously required, but also the locality where the seed was grown. The new Rules and Regulations which become effective December 17, 1935, interpret the word "locality" as state for seed grown in the United States and country for seed grown elsewhere.

The form of label the seed dealers will be expected to use is shown in the new Rules and Regulations and labels or tags that do not follow this form closely will not be approved by the Department.

It is believed that the law as it now stands will give added protection to the farming interests of the state both from seed that is not hardy in this climate and from weeds that are causing greater losses each year. It has been estimated that the annual loss because of weeds in the United States is three billion dollars and that this loss is greater than the combined annual losses suffered from plant diseases, insect pests and animal diseases. Nebraska undoubtedly suffers her share of this loss and much of it can be prevented by sowing only good seed.

The State Seed Laboratory is prepared to test seeds for the citizens of the state so they may know exactly what they are buying and planting. The Rules and Regulations tell how to take samples, how large the samples should be and how to send them to the laboratory for testing. Copies will be mailed upon request.

Valley County Red Cross Meet.

Emil Urban and family, who have for the past four years been farming a place owned by Mrs. Vincent Kokes near Olean, are holding a clean-up sale in the near future and then will move to Prague, Okla., where Emil has bought a restaurant from his cousin, Wm. J. Urban, a son of John Urban of Ord. Wm. Urban has another restaurant in a larger city about fifty miles from Prague and he expects to devote his whole time to it as soon as Emil arrives to take over his new business. Watch the Quiz for the date of Emil's clean-up sale as he will have a good offering of horses, cattle, machinery and household goods.

Golf, Flowers And Fighting Fires Are Ord Man's Hobbies

50 Years Married Needn't Make People Old, Bud Believes; Family Dinner Sunday.

Just a little less than fifty years ago, on Febr. 6, 1886, there arrived in Ord from Anita, Ia., a young couple who have in the years since played prominent parts in the civic activities of this community. They were A. J. "Bud" Shirley and his young bride, who had been married on Dec. 22, 1885 at Anita and decided to go farther west and grow up with the country.

For six months after their arrival here Mr. and Mrs. Shirley lived on a farm one-half mile west of town, then they moved into Ord and this community has ever since been their home.

At first young "Bud" Shirley found employment in a lumber yard but soon he took a contract to haul mail between the Ord post-office and the railway stations and for thirty-seven years he continued to hold this contract, also delivering express and doing a general hauling business.

Elected Chief in 1897.

Within a couple of years after his arrival Mr. Shirley became a member of the Ord volunteer fire department and showed a natural aptitude for fire fighting. Interested in this work, he devoted much study to modern methods of fire fighting and in 1897 his fellow members elected him to the office of chief, a position he has held ever since with the exception of three years. Frank E. Glover held the position two years and Guy Burrows one year during this period.

Ord has often been complimented upon the efficiency of its fire fighting equipment and methods and to Bud Shirley no small part of the credit for this is due. But even such an arduous occupation as fire chief couldn't furnish an outlet for all Bud's energies, even when coupled with constant work, so when the game of golf was introduced here about twenty years ago or a little longer Bud was one of the first to take up the new game. Not only did he become an expert player in short order but also he developed into a fine golf teacher. Always interested in all sports, flower growing, in park planning and management, in ways of amusing children as well as in golf, Bud was easily persuaded to take charge of Bussell park and the golf course and he has devoted most of his time for the past eighteen or twenty years to this work.

Parks a Credit to Ord.

Ord's parks are models of beauty, order and cleanliness; they contain floral nooks that delight the souls of beauty lovers; they are filled with swings and other amusement devices for the children; tables, fire places, etc., for picnickers—to Bud Shirley should most of the credit go. With his own hands, and usually by working about 16 hours a day, Bud has built up Ord's park system to its present high level and he is entitled to and has the appreciation of a grateful citizenry.

And during these years of business and civic activity for her husband, Mrs. Shirley has been the perfect helpmate, spending her time, principally in the home devising new dishes to tempt her husband's palate, sewing, cleaning and otherwise keeping busy.

Not Intoxicated, Say Harris, Foreman

Taken into custody Friday evening by Marshal L. H. Covert and faced with intoxication charges filed by County Attorney Lee, "Toot" Harris and Jack Foreman pleaded not guilty when arraigned in county court and were released on bail pending their trials January 13. They were arrested at Jack Riley's pool hall and had previously created a disturbance at Frank Kasal's establishment, officers say.

This is Foreman's first arrest but Harris has served time for intoxication on several occasions in the past three years and at the time of his last conviction was warned by Judge John L. Anderson that another offense would bring forth a stringent penalty.

Supt. Bell Has Operation.

Taken to the Ord Hospital last Wednesday evening, Millard D. Bell, superintendent of Ord schools, underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis performed by Dr. C. J. Miller. He is reported to be making a quick and satisfactory recovery.

Shelter Belt Men Offer to Clean Up Farmer Wood Lots

Will Use WPA Labor, Clean Out Old Trees, Replant Next Spring; No Expense.

In an effort to keep twenty-five WPA men allotted to them busy for the next three months while shelter belt planting cannot be done, the Ord office of the Plains Shelterbelt Project this week offers to owners of old wood lots an opportunity that serves much consideration.

A survey of wood lot in Valley county shows that many of them are filled with dead or diseased trees, says Don Harmon, in charge of the Ord office during the absence of F. M. Hestbeck on wood lots here to what the shelter belt office will do:

Using WPA labor, and with no expense to the farmer, all dead, diseased or insect-infested trees in wood lots will be removed during the winter months, brush will be cut out, the ground cultivated properly, and next spring trees removed will be replaced with young trees furnished by the government.

Must Furnish Equipment.

Owner of the wood lot must furnish such items, tractors, plows or other implements as are necessary, must agree to keep domestic animals out of the wood lot until the young trees attain sufficient growth, and must agree to cultivate the wood lot once annually for five years. When fencing is needed he must furnish materials but labor will be done by WPA workers.

This is a very generous offer and owners of old wood lots may secure complete details at the shelter belt office in the State bank building, Ord. Wood lot replanting has no connection with the shelter belt project itself, Mr. Harmon says.

Lewis Home Best Decorated, Wins 1st

To Mr. and Mrs. K. C. Lewis first prize was awarded Tuesday night in the contest sponsored by the Ord city Light Department for the most beautiful Christmas yard and residence decorations. The Lewis home was cleverly decorated, lights from the roof of the house to the window boxes forming a Christmas tree. A basement window was transformed into a fireplace and Santa Claus interior lighting gave the effect of burning logs in the hearth.

Second prize was won by the Clayton McGrew family, third by Mr. and Mrs. Ben Janssen, fourth by Mr. and Mrs. Bud Martin and fifth by Mrs. C. C. Shepard, all of whose homes were effectively lighted.

First prize offered was a Westinghouse sandwich grid, valued at $5.95; second, Westinghouse waffle iron, value $5.50; third, Westinghouse percolator, value $4.45; fourth, Westinghouse toaster, value $3.50 and fifth, Westinghouse Toaster, value $3.25.

Fined For Intoxication.

Robert Schaffer, of Garfield county, was arrested Saturday eve by Marshal L. H. Covert and in county court Monday morning plead guilty to an intoxication charge and was fined $10 and costs.

Give Home Talent Play.

Young people of the Maiden Valley community will present their play, "The Ranch on Sunset Trail," next Friday evening, Jan. 3, at the Haskell Creek school house. They gave the play with excellent success at Maiden Valley school last Wednesday.

Ord Man to Head Nebraska's Social Security Program

IrI D. Tolen Appointed Monday To Direct Expenditure of 10 Million During 1936.

IrI D. Tolen, former Ord resident, Monday was appointed by Gov. R. L. Cochran to the post of state assistance director, his duties being to direct Nebraska's social security program. His salary will be $3,000 per year and he began his new duties immediately.

As state assistance director Tolen will direct expenditure of approximately $10,000,000 between now and March 1, 1937 for old age pensions, direct relief, blind pensions, aid to dependent children and related activities.

He immediately began conferring with Assistant Attorney General Milton C. Murphy, author of the state's security legislation passed at the recent special session. Both men predicted the Nebraska plan will soon be approved by the federal board.

Old Age Help First.

Provisions for old age pensions, blind pensions and aid to dependent children will make up the first part of the security program to be submitted for approval, they predicted.

The new director, Mr. Tolen, is 48 years old and lived in Ord and vicinity for forty years. He served two terms as Valley county treasurer, was in the abstract and real estate business, was connected with lumber yards, published the Ord Journal for seven years and engaged in other activities. For 12 years he served as a member of the Nebraska state board of agriculture. His father, J. E. Tolen, lives in this city.

Has Held State Office.

In 1933 he was appointed deputy secretary of state at which time the family moved to Lincoln. His wife is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koupal, Ord, and there are two children, Adrian, a University of Nebraska student, and Ruth, 12 years old.

Position to which Mr. Tolen was named Monday is the most important post in Nebraska's new social security set-up, involving a high degree of responsibility. Ord friends congratulate him upon the appointment and prophesy that he will handle his new duties in efficient fashion.

Zocholl To Become Clements' Reporter

Joseph S. Zocholl, for 25 years president and owner of the St. Paul business college, last Friday accepted an appointment as court reporter for Judge E. P. Clements succeeding O. A. Abbott, Jr., who resigned when he entered the race for district judge in opposition to Judge Clements. Mr. Zocholl will not begin his new duties until June 1, however, and for the present Miss Frances Hubbard will serve as reporter for the Ord judge. Mr. Zocholl expects to employ competent instructors and continue operation of his business college, of which a good many Valley county people are graduates.

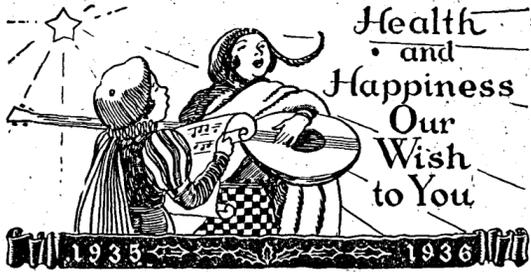

About June 1 the Zocholl family expects to move to Ord to make their home.

Theater Team Leads Ping-Pong League

Paddle welders on the Ord Theatre team lead the local ping-pong league with a percentage of 678 after matches Monday night. So far they have won ten sets and thirty-one games. Ranking of other teams is as follows: Nebraska State bank, 456; First National bank, 378; City Bakery, 356. Last Thursday evening the Theatre quint beat the Nebraska State 13 to 2 and the Bakery won from the First National team 9 to 5. Monday night the First Nationals beat the Theatre 11 to 4 and the Nebraska State won from the Bakery team.

—Mr. and Mrs. James Hasek and son were Grand Island bus passengers Tuesday afternoon.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

We have far more to be thankful for this Christmas than last. All of us have people dear to us who have found this world a much better place in which to live, they have found re-employment and given a chance to live up to the higher standards of happiness. A new season will soon be ushered in. Please accept our greetings for the jolliest Christmas season and the happiest New Year that you ever enjoyed.

We've Seen 54 CHRISTMASSES

Yearly it has been a privilege for more than a half century to extend our patrons a sincere and heartfelt greeting at the holiday period. This is a decided pleasure. You may not believe it, but to cater with unvarying success to the wants of old and young patrons brings a certain satisfaction that cannot be expressed in words. Your confidence in our stability is worth more to us than the comparatively short time required to give you the counsel and advice in financial matters.

Our best Christmas wish for you is that you have enjoyed the environs of home blessed with prosperity and that the New Year upon which we shall soon enter will bring you continuance of these blessings.

Xmas Programs Aply Presented By Students of City

Grade Program Given Thursday Afternoon, Junior-Senior High Affair in Evening.

In the high school auditorium last Thursday evening, December 19, the annual Christmas program was presented by the Ord Junior-Senior high school classes. The grade school program was offered Thursday afternoon at the grade school and a large crowd was in attendance at each presentation.

The grade school program opened with a Christmas greeting by Jimmie Kucera, this division of the program being presented by the kindergarten class. A toy orchestra and a parade followed after which two selections, "Christmas in the Air" and "Toy Parade" were sung. Dolores Knecht brought to a conclusion the kindergarten program with a clever tap dance. The first and second grade classes offered a two-act play entitled, "Santa's Toy Shop." The third division of the program was given by the fifth and sixth grades and opened with a song "Old Carol" by the fifth grade class. A play, "The Christmas Sprite" was presented by members of both the fifth and sixth grade classes, and their part in the program was concluded with a song, "Beautiful Thoughts for Christmas" by the sixth grade class. The general program was concluded with a pageant, "Christmas Night", by the third and fourth graders.

and Tommie, and Alberta Flynn as Ted's mother. Scene one occurred in a city street, the second in Ted's home and the third in his home the following morning.

Under the directorship of Dean S. Duncan, selections by the music department, which made up the second part of the program, were greatly enjoyed. Two selections, "Golden Slumber Kiss Your Eyes" and "Neath the Spell of Peaceful Night" were presented by the girls glee club. The A group of the girls glee club rendered two selections, "The Star" and "Christmas Cradle Song" and this section of the evening's entertainment was concluded with that popular Christmas selection, "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing", by the entire chorus.

The Senior high school members presented a two-act play, "Why the Chimes Rang", written by Elizabeth Aphorpe McFadden. Aply cast in this presentation were Mildred Waldmann as Holgar, Vera Severns as Steen, Paul Carlsen as Uncle Bertel, Barbara Dale as an old woman, Ronald Rose as the priest, Ruth Haas as a rich man, Irene Whiting as a courtier, Louise Petka as a beautiful woman, Virginia DeHart as a young girl, Milo Bresley as a scholar, Adam Dubas as the king and Armona Beth Achen as an angel. Scene one of this play took place in a woodcutter's cottage and scene two in a cathedral. This play, a dramatization of the original story by Raymond MacDonald Alden, was directed by Miss Elva Johnson and Miss Ellen Servine.

To All Our Customers We Say:

"Merry Xmas, Happy New Year"

Our business in 1935 was distinctly gratifying and we would be ungrateful indeed if we did not take advantage of the opportunity afforded by this happy holiday season to extend to our friends and customers Greetings of the Season.

To all of you we wish in simple, sincere fashion, the Merriest of Merry Christmases and the Happiest kind of a Happy New Year.

And a pledge for 1936:
We plan to hold the price of gasoline down to the lowest level possible, as we did in 1935.

We expect to continue selling X-L motor oil which we sincerely believe to be the finest oil on the market regardless of price. So long as possible we will continue selling this quality oil at 25c per quart.

Our station will continue to be Truckers Headquarters so whenever you want safe, sure, bonded transportation for livestock or loads of any kind we invite you to call us.

For corn, oats or feed of any kind—call us. And as spring work opens up we invite Tractor owners to see us about Tractor Fuel.

To one and all we pledge that our greatest efforts will be devoted to pleasing you. We thank you for the fine business you gave our station in 1935 and we hope you will come often during 1936.

A Debtor Partnership.

A large eastern insurance company has just sent to its agents an explanation of the plan it expects to adopt in the future in the matter of farm mortgages, together with the reasons therefor. Briefly, the company will hereafter give the mortgagor a chance to enter into a three-part partnership agreement, whereby the company assumes some sort of supervision to see that the farm is properly taken care of, and in return grants the privilege of skipping a payment of principal and interest any year when the price of corn on the Chicago market is below 51 cents per bushel.

The company in question recognizes that forced foreclosure, such as we have had too many of in the past, are bad for the insurance company as well as the farmer, so the company is willing to enter into this sort of partnership agreement.

Perhaps it represents a new era of relationship between debtor and creditor. There are times when the debtor does not want any interference with his business on the part of the creditor, but it is safe to assume that in most farm mortgages such an arrangement as is above referred to would be to the advantage of both parties.

Another thing: In agreeing to waive the annual payment on a mortgage any time the price of corn on the Chicago market is less than 51 cents this large eastern insurance company is admitting that the farmer should have at least that much money for his corn. An admission of that kind may be a long step in better understanding between the industrial east and the agricultural middle west.—Sac Sun, Sac City, Ia.

Skilled Labor Wanted.
Men seeking jobs and jobs seeking men, and the two can't get together. The men aren't prepared to fit the jobs.

It is a pathetic condition of everything being out of joint. There are plenty of "educated" and "trained" men, but they are not properly educated and trained for the specific jobs that need men. Those who have education cannot use it. There are 10,000,000 employables between the ages of 13 and 29 who never held a job. Many of these have been through the schools; many have studied in high schools and colleges. They tell the employment manager that they will do anything but they can't name the particular thing they know they can do well.

It is a serious situation and the remedy cannot be applied immediately. Mistakes of long standing will have to be corrected. A proposal has been made that manufacturers and other industrialists revive the apprentice system. That may help.

Certainly the whole system of education needs careful inspection and readjustment. Conditions change rapidly. Employment managers complain that even those trained in vocational schools are unsuitable because they are taught "tricks of the trade" that are now obsolete.

Evidently there are problems on which the industrialists and the educators should work together.—Evening News, Southridge, Mass.

John Ward writes. Fort Robinson, Dec. 22, 1935. To the Quiz:

Christmas again. I hope every Quiz reader has a real turkey dinner. I also hope I get an extra cracker in my soup. This place is great for reducing. Lost 22 pounds in the 30 days I have been here and the end is not yet. Wobly on my hind legs like a weak old (wee cold) calf, but it is neither the heat nor the liquor. Plenty cold here, and I don't drink. It isn't included in the diet. They don't wobble with the liquor they get here. It knocks them cold. I am right in line with the president's reduction program and it has its advantages—for the landlady. Besides your clothes slide on easier. I have a waist like Charles Atlas, if I only had the shoulders to match.

This would be a great place for Senator Leggett? Speaking of the Senator, reminds me. It was standing beside the highway the other day—a car came along; going fifty miles per hour, missed me by two feet. If it had been Leggett he would have been hurt. We will have our pictures taken together when I get back. Use it for a "before and after" picture for the cover of the 1937 Quiz Cook Book. If there are any new S.O.P. recipes in the cook book, I'd like to have them. I got a card from John O. Boettger and wife. He is a well man. I wish I could say as much. Old friends are the best, it seems. But enough! This is no obituary, I hope.

Met two former people from there since I arrived. One is James Petersen, a relative of John Miller of near Ord. He used to work for John K. Jensen about 10 years ago. He has been living here for more than 25 years and is at present one of the engineers in the Crawford light and power plant. His son John is one of the men here in the hospital and is in charge of the wards, (including myself) when he is working.

The other man I met is John Baldon who homesteaded near the Bodyfield place west of Ericson about 35 years ago. He left there in 1902 and has lived here ever since. He wished to be remembered to his old friends, the Bodyfield's, the Asmus's, Axel Hansen and others. They all take the Quiz, so you tell them.

All the patients who are able to do so are heading home for the holidays, which leaves more turkey (and soup) for the rest of us. One lad who won't go home now.

Getting One's Own Way "Everybody wants his own way," said Uncle Eben, "ceptin' maybe after he succeeds in gettin' it."

E. L. Vogeltanz, Attorney NOTICE FOR PRESENTATION OF CLAIMS

In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska. In the matter of the estate of Lewis F. Jobst, for months to come is Jimmy Marsh, the man who was hit by a car in Scottsbluff two months ago. He was terribly injured and the wonder is that he lived at all. He is getting every care here, and if anybody can bring him through, our Dr. Evans can. He gets lonely to receive postcards. If anybody wants to send them address James Marsh, care of Hospital, Ft. Robinson, Nebr., and I'll guarantee he will enjoy them.

The past week has been very quiet (including myself) and most of the snow has melted, with more coming tonight they tell me. I see by the last Quiz that both of H. D. Leggett's friends have filed his name for the senatorial race, which also meets with my approval. If he don't accept he will have to take a licking from me when I get out of here. With an Irishman, a Scandinavian, an Englishman and a newspaper man all in it should be some race. Next term we will be trying a brand new idea, and it requires half a hundred of the very best men the state can produce to make it the success it should be. If I were in the district I'd file myself, but H. D. is about the next best bet, as I see it from here. Yours, John L. Ward.

P. S. O'yes, I almost forgot. Tell Leggett to accept that filing. J. W.

FUNERAL COSTS

When time of bereavement comes and it is necessary that a family provide a funeral service for a loved one, the question arises—"how much should we pay for this service?" It is a general belief of people that a service is not complete unless a large sum of money is spent.

At Frazier's it is not necessary to spend a large amount of money in order to obtain a complete and appropriate funeral service. Frazier's render the finest possible service at all times. No matter what the price of the funeral is, the service is standard.

The cost of a service is a matter of your own desire. For as little as $100.00 or less families can have the comfort and satisfaction of Frazier's services.

Analysis: As selected by our patrons we show you a percentage analysis of a general run of the Funeral Services sold by Frazier's.

- 7% of funerals $100.00 or below.
- 34% $100.00 to $200.00.
- 27.5% $200.00 to $300.00.
- 17% $300.00 to $400.00.
- 7.5% $400.00 to $500.00.
- 7% $500.00 and above.

To protect you our prices are in plain figures. Without pressure, you may select from our display, the funeral that best meets your needs and financial condition.

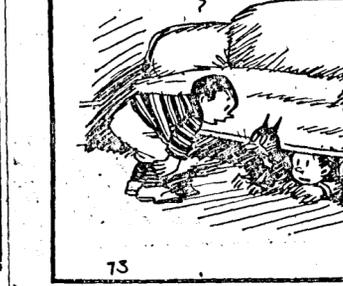

Our Services Are Complete!

Geo. Gowen went to Denver Friday on business.

The Christmas program at the Olean school was in the form of an operetta, "When Santa forgot the Smiths". The story had to do with a mother getting ready for a Christmas visit from a woman of great wealth. The whole family was made very uncomfortable and unhappy by her demands upon them. And to cap the climax word was received at a late date that the distinguished lady could not come. The twins then suggested inviting the Smiths with their ten children, to which the mother replied that they could do as they pleased, she washed her hands of the whole affair. So the Smiths had a merry Christmas after all. Esther Zangger played the parts of the mother and Santa Claus. Mary Fish and Fern Meyers were the twins. Eldon Cernik was the father and Edith Cernik took the grandmother and maid roles. Three cats in clever suits made by the mothers were Mildred Fish, Robert Kokes and Etta Urban. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were played by Martin Sonnenfeld and Carol Urban and the ten children were children from the lower grades. Between the two acts, some of the smaller children gave a drill. Mrs. Knapp is to be commended for attempting and putting over successfully this type of program with only nineteen pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner went out to Glen Eglehoff's Tuesday to stay over Christmas. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen and Mr. and Mrs. Will Eglehoff were guests also on Christmas day.

J. H. Eyerly left Saturday for Chicago to spend Christmas with his son, Dr. Bryan Eyerly. The trip is a gift from Dr. Eyerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knapp had as their guests on Christmas day Mr. and Mrs. Ed Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott of Scotts, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Lind Nelson and daughter.

Darrel Noyes is spending the vacation with home folks.

Bessie Eberhart and Mary Ann Bartz arrived Saturday for a two weeks visit with relatives and friends.

Lewis Hamer and Ned Larkin have a week's vacation from the CCC camp and are spending it at home.

Wallace Doe and Maxine Marvel called on Mary Ann Bartz Sunday evening.

Mrs. Katie Long and Donald were in Ord on business Saturday.

The Henning family visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sentek at Scotia Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Vodehnal and Idona Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vodehnal of Crete attended a family dinner in Ord Sunday.

Mrs. Arlene Fink and son of Lincoln who are visiting Garnette Jackman were Christmas guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackman. The Sterling Manchester family also spent Christmas with the Jackmans.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Helbig of Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Peterson and daughter of Minnesota, went to Edison to spend Christmas with the Idgie's parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bailey are spending their vacation with his mother at Elmwood.

Mr. and Mrs. Thorpe and Demaris left Friday for Waco. They will also spend part of their time in York.

The D. R. Sandys will have their Christmas dinner at noon in Omaha with her parents. In the evening they will go on to Ashland to be with his family.

Paul Weary of Kenesaw is a guest in the home of Carl Weber at Burwell. During the latter part of the vacation Mr. Weary and Miss Carmen Weber will visit Mr. Weary's parents at Beatrice.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins entertained his children and their families on Christmas day.

John Smith of Minatare, spent a few days in North Loup recently.

Chas. Horner returned to his home in Burwell Saturday after visiting North Loup relatives for a couple of weeks.

Announcement

Till very recently, we have made no effort to solicit repair work on furniture, etc., as we did not have the facilities.

We wish to announce now, that we will run—in connection to the retailing of home furnishings, a repair shop in which we will solicit your business.

The following list will give you an idea of the type of work we will do:

- Install new spring units in parlor suite cushions.
- Re-upholster Occasional and overstuffed chairs.
- Re-tile under construction on parlor suites.
- Re-glue chairs, etc.
- Refinish any type of furniture woodwork.
- Clean wool rugs.
- Re-size and rubberize your smaller wool rugs so they will not slide on highly finished floors. This new preparation also moth-proofs them.
- Rejuvenate and cover worn spots on piled mohair suits.

Check over your furnishings and see what needs re-conditioning—or trade your old in on new.

Here are Nebraska's 1935 pasture champions. They won top places in the first annual statewide pasture contest. Together with some 400 other farmers, they studied practical methods of restoring their grasslands to productivity and putting more land to grass.

The first annual Nebraska pasture improvement contest came to a close this week with the naming of the champions in each of two divisions. Nichols and Son, Brock, and Jacob Saltzman, Shickley, were the state champions in the temporary and permanent divisions.

Joe Sedlak of Shelby was second in the temporary division while John Kollman of Stuart placed second in the permanent class. Prizes totaling $1,500 were awarded state and county winners at a banquet held Tuesday by the Omaha Chamber of Commerce in Omaha. The Nebraska college of agriculture, the Agricultural Extension Service, the Nebraska Crop Growers' Association and the Omaha Chamber of Commerce have sponsored the event which has stimulated farm effort in improving pasture and grazing land.

The contest, which will probably be continued next year, attracted entrants from some 30

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

"Well, you are cracking down on us fellows," said one man Saturday, as he laid two dollars on the desk to pay his subscription up and about six months ahead. "And I don't blame you a bit," he added. Why should he? I have accommodated him by carrying him six months and he seemed to appreciate it. And I have accommodated some six hundred others by carrying them various lengths of time. I just found one man who is back two years come January 15. His card is marked "See Letter" and I looked the letter up and he begs me in that letter to keep sending the Quiz and says "I will pay you about the middle of January." That letter was written in September 1934, so he should have paid me in January 1935. He has paid no attention to my requests for payment since. I have written him a nice letter setting these facts out and told him in just as nice a way as I can, that I have to stop his paper January 1 which will do me no good. He is a good man. But he now owes me about $4 and it is much harder to pay than it would have been had he paid a dollar at a time, which he could no doubt have done. Now perhaps I have lost not only a customer but a friend as well. I can't afford to lose the $4 and I can't afford to lose the various amounts of from 50c to $4 which each of the more than six hundred now in arrears, owe me. I can't afford to take a chance on many of them getting to me as this man does and perhaps, losing it all and friendship besides. Now I believe that explains why I have decided to sell the Quiz from now on for cash. Six hundred twenty-six now in arrears and two hundred and eighty will expire January 15. That is a third of my list, approximately, and it is not fair to the other two-thirds of the list that is paid in advance to let it run that way, even if we could afford to do it. As I fed on the notice card which is being sent to all who are in arrears, we want to be more than fair. If you are going to lose your Quiz come in and we will try to adjust the matter so both you and I will be satisfied. Don't use one of my pink postage free envelopes to write and tell me that I will have to stop your paper because you can't pay. I know that I have to stop it if you don't pay and each of those envelopes that come back costs me four cents. Use them if you want to send money but don't use them to make excuses. I can't afford that and I know you, too, want to be fair.

BACK FORTY

For a great many farm women the best Christmas gift this year would be the assurance of water piped into the kitchen and waste piped out. Trips made over slippery paths to ice-coated platforms are dangerous. Carrying dish-water out into the cold takes a lot of time and energy.

The cost, in money and work, of getting water into the kitchen isn't so great. The average farm wife has more work than she can handle even with the best of equipment. The good news that her water carrying days are over would be a happy surprise for her on Christmas day.

A good many local farms already have complete pressure water systems. If the men had to work in the kitchens there would be more of them. Every farm will be so equipped eventually.

The following tables show the increase in modern home conveniences on Valley county farms during recent years as given in state statistical reports.

Water	Elect.	Yr. in house	Furnaces	lights,	radios
1921	134	80	97
1922	182	91	110
1923	288	98	123
1924	346	109	140		134
1925	346	121	165		225
1927	395	147	211		341
1928	397	158	230		405

Something DIFFERENT

It doesn't seem possible that in Ord, where you and I are warm and well-fed, not rich maybe, but have sufficient of everything, that there could be children who go to school without underclothes because they haven't any.

Gives you a shock, doesn't it? I thought perhaps it would. Yesterday you operate, stuffed yourself with turkey or chicken or goose or ham or something. Maybe you also had hot rolls, cranberry jelly, two or three vegetables in addition to potatoes, a salad, relish, pickles, jelly, pie, cream, coffee with a lot of ice and sugar in it. In lots of families Christmas or any other holiday means about such a banquet.

I agree with Mrs. John Misko, who said she thought it was a crime that in a happy little city like Ord, where everyone was comfortable, that anyone should go hungry, do without bedclothes or shoes, or food, or coal. She thought we should be able to take good care of our own needy, so comparatively few. I think so too don't you?

The question is, are you willing to do anything about it?

At the organized agriculture banquet, Mr. Lutz of Arcadia told how much appreciated the Aulsebrook family were in that city. He mentioned how willing the Aulsebrook families always were to come and play for any program or reason, without pay most of the time.

I think that was a fitting tribute. The Aulsebrooks, and there are a lot of them, are always willing to do their bit. They really have community spirit. When something has to be done, they are willing to get busy and see that it is accomplished. They are glad to play when asked, for they enjoy it.

And they have played at so many concerts, races, programs of various sorts in Ord, they are too much taken for granted, and too little thanked.

—o—o—

There are others too much taken for granted, too little thanked. There is Mrs. William Carlton. She takes care of all who need her. She is Ord's greatest mother, she waits on the sick, helps the needy, sews for those who need her, cans vegetables in the summer, looks after the new mammas and babies. She gets little money or material from anyone to work with, and darned few thanks from those she helps.

—o—o—

I know a few people in town who step down and order a load of coal sent out to a needy family when they hear about it. Darned few. I know a few who go downtown and buy warm coats or underwear for the children they learn about. Too few.

Several agencies in Ord work hard, do what they can. Some make layettes for new babies about to arrive though little wanted. Some make warm things for children, furnish Christmas dinners to the poor. All too few. Small drops of help, each one. Little spasms of help, real aid while they last. Lasting not long enough.

20 Years Ago This Week.

Total moisture for the year 1915 was 32.72 inches, reported James Milford, government observer in Ord, and this total was surpassed only twice since weather records had been kept in Ord. 1902 and 1905 were the years mentioned in Milford's report.

Alfred Jorgensen and Miss Mary J. Vance were united in marriage by the county judge.

Clark Lamberton, who had been suffering with inflammatory rheumatism, was down town for the first time in several weeks.

There were 19 bachelor farmers in Vinton township and Poplar Grove correspondent suggests that the township levy a special tax on bachelors in an effort to reduce their number and get new families started.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knezacek went to Omaha to attend the funeral of Joe's grandmother.

Complete Federal Control Through Social Security Program

When President Roosevelt on August 14th signed the Social Security Act in the presence of the press representatives and announced to them that it was the greatest piece of legislation that had ever been enacted and marked the beginning of a new order; few people understood the significance of the statement.

The Social Security Act was a part of the "must" legislation. No member of Congress, with the possible exception of a few administrative leaders, understood it. It is safe to say that the majority of Congress had not read it and those that had read it had no understanding of the historical background of social legislation in European countries and its failure.

As far back as 1880, Bismark, in planning a complete centralization of government, put into execution a plan of social security of almost the identical character as that enacted by our last government and in a few years was abandoned. England in seeking a way out of post war adjustment put the same plan into execution. It nearly wrecked that great government. The plan was tried in Italy and was a prime factor in the establishment of the Mussolini dictatorship. In Germany after the fall of the Empire the plan was again tried and the result was the Hitler dictatorship. In other countries social security plans had been tried and failed. With this historical background the Congress of this nation representing forty-eight sovereign governments, by reason of fear of loss of patronage of few minor jobs, or believing in the infallibility of party dictatorship, without study as to its possible effects enacted such legislation.

The American plan is unique. It rivals the Wallingford stories of a couple of decades ago, when J. Rufus Wallingford and his companion, Blackie Daw, would go into a community and organize an activity and purchase the county court house with bonds issued against the activity and then sell the bonds to the people and in return give them back the court house which they had themselves built, leave with the money and every one would be happy until they realized that all that they had received was that which they had already owned.

The parallel of the Wallingford operations and our Federal government is that under the limitations of the powers of Congress, the National Government could not set up a social security plan without further grants from the states. A request for such grant would of course have been rejected. A surrender of such powers was necessary in the scheme to make the Federal Government omnipotent.

The preliminary step was the various alphabetical bureaus and the distribution of federal funds for useless work. This brought into existence a larger number of federal employees in administrative work. It affords only a minimum of relief. Wages were lowered and the cost of living increased. As one of these activities became unpopular it was abandoned and a new one under a different alphabetical designation was established, but with the same personnel, enlarged each time and operating in the same manner. All of which was contrary to the traditions of the democratic party and in direct violation of the Chicago platform.

After two years of this wild spending, the way was open for the master stroke of a complete absorption of the state governments by the federal government—the Social Security Act—a complete control of every human activity; control of the human affairs of every home in America.

While the Federal Government under the limitations of the Constitution could not put such a scheme into immediate execution, sovereignty to bureaucratic Washington.

Shall the people of Nebraska continue to be ruled by fear? Let us hope that the answer is no.

H. D. LEGGETT.

It was found that Congress under the public welfare clause of the Constitution could levy an excise tax upon the pay rolls of employers and under the amendment authorizing income taxes could tax the wages of the working people. This is the Federal Security Act—a tax upon payrolls and upon wages. The entire amount goes to the Federal Government; approximately four billions of dollars for 1936, eight billions in 1937 and twelve billions in 1938.

None of this is returned to the states unless and until the state enacts social legislation in conformity with the plans of Washington, providing in the state an additional tax sufficient to care for half of such amount, but not to exceed $15.00 per month per person, would be returned to the state. This is the implied promise of the Federal Government. No definite legislation providing for this return has been enacted. If such promise is carried out, Nebraska will receive back only three million dollars out of sixteen million that we will contribute to Federal Government in 1936 and in addition must raise six million dollars by additional taxation which in the main falls upon the users of motor vehicle fuel. In all we are taxed in Nebraska twenty-two million dollars in the year of 1936 and the total amount actually expended and required is only six million, and a large portion of this amount is used in administration.

The Nebraska program is the most complicated, expensive and inefficient piece of legislation ever enacted in the history of the state. Governor Cochran acting the messenger of Washington, the lobbyist of the American League of Social Workers and closely following the instructions given him laid out the program, and it was followed. However, because of Governor Cochran's subservience to Washington, the legislature was not willing to place in his hands the sole administration of the act. It was placed under the Board of Public Lands and Funds, which is composed of the Governor, Attorney General, Secretary of State, State Treasurer and the Commissioner of Public Lands and Buildings to the extent of appointing the Director.

A month has passed since the legislature adjourned; about three million dollars is now available for distribution. Thousands of old people are in want and no appointment has been made because the American League of Social Workers desires and with cooperation of Washington intends to dictate the control of the work in Nebraska.

If the social workers are successful, every human activity in the state will be supervised. They will be able to go into every home and supervise every action. Those who will be the recipients of relief will be subjected to the closest supervision and direction.

The appointment as Director of Assistance of some one who has a human understanding would to some extent alleviate the evils of the system. Will this be done? The whole scheme is for the purpose of giving the Federal Government greater power. Wages are being lowered; living costs are being increased; the morale of the people is being destroyed. The entire destruction of this government is inevitable unless the people return to constitutional government.

The able men and women who sincerely believe in the principles of the democratic party and who have always kept platform and campaign pledges realize that our national government is not that of the democratic party but socialistic and communistic and that our state administration has violated every campaign promise and placed upon the people of Nebraska the heaviest tax burden ever imposed, and completely surrendered state

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Dr. Hutton, I was privileged to be the listener last week to a speech given by R. B. Hutton, Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of the state. Regardless of the text of his speech, which naturally was against liquor, he is one of the best speakers in the state and well worth hearing. His talks are full of quips and stories and an extensive vocabulary that keeps the attention every minute.

In talking with him after the meeting I found to my surprise that he has been a reader of the Quiz and also of this column. He was in a wreck last year and spent some time in a hospital and while there a nurse by the name of Eva Portis of Davis Creek, cared for him. She read the Quiz, every week and also passed the paper along to her patient.

He also commented on the humor in my column, if one can call it that and said he was also addicted with such a falling. He further said he helped men with their speeches sometimes, and President Harding, during his campaign for President and after elected, frequently sent his speeches to Dr. Hutton for the finishing touches.

And then as a starter for Dr. Hutton's talk he told the following story:

A farmer lived near an insane asylum and sold vegetables to the institution. One day he was let in the gate and an inmate came up and asked if he was a farmer and the vegetable man said he pretended to be.

Then the inmate asked if he ever tried being crazy and the farmer answered no, and the inmate told him he should for it was an easier way to make a living than farming. We folks get plenty to eat and wear here and are kept warm and the nuts on the outside pay the bills."

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Dark fruit cakes are rich and delectable, but there are many families that like the white ones better yet, considering them more delicate, a little more digestible. Both kinds call for a host of ingredients and a good deal of labor and patience on the part of the cook.

White Fruit Cake.
Into this cake goes one pound butter, two cups sugar, seven eggs, one box raisins, one box currants, one box dates, one cup sour cream, one-half teaspoon soda, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half pound hazel nuts, one-half pound almonds, vanilla to taste and flour to stiffen.

Mrs. Anna Pape, Scotia.
Poppy Seed Cake.
Cream together one-half cup butter and one and one-half cups sugar, add five-eighths cup poppy seeds, soaked over night in three-fourths cup milk. Put in two scant cups flour, a little at a time, with two teaspoons baking powder, then cut in four stiffly beaten egg whites. Bake in two layers. Make whites as follows: Beat the yolks of four eggs and add to three-fourths cup sugar and two tablespoons cornstarch, add to one and one-half cups scalded milk and cook in a double boiler. Put boiled white frosting on top the cake.

Alma M. Valasek.
Mexican Cream Roll.
Seed and dice one package dates; cook three cups sugar and one and one-half cups milk to the soft ball stage, then add the dates, cook again until it forms a soft ball when dropped into cold water. Cool, add one-fourth pound chopped walnuts, beat until firm, put on a damp cloth and shake from side to side to form a loaf. Don't cut until cold.

Mrs. Albert Brown.
Baked Squash or Sweet Potato.
Take three tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons flour, a pinch of salt and mix. Wet slices of squash or potato, dip into the mixture until well covered. Butter a baking dish, place the vegetable in the pan and bake ten minutes or until ready to turn. Then bake until brown and tender. If bits of butter are put over the top it isn't necessary to turn the squash.

Mrs. George Nass.
Buns.
Mix in the morning two quarts of flour, two cups bread sponge, one-half cup lard, one-half cup sugar, one and one-half cups warm water, one tablespoon salt. Set in a cool place all day. In the evening pinch off pieces of dough, form into buns, let rise over night and bake early next morning in a hot oven.

Mrs. Harvey Barr.
Raw Carrot Relish.
Grind through the coarse knife of the food chopper eight, medium carrots, nine green peppers, nine red peppers, two medium sized heads of cabbage and eight onions. Mix and add one-half cup salt and let stand three to four hours. Squeeze out juice and add the following: three cups vinegar, two cups sugar, two tablespoons celery seeds, two tablespoons mustard seeds. Mix well and can in pint jars.

Mrs. Willard Conner.
Poor Family Needs Bed.
In Ord there is a family of five—mother, father and three children—who have only one bed and in this all five are attempting to sleep. Mrs. Wm. Carlton tells the Quiz. The family is in dire need of others ways also, she says, but another bed is their greatest necessity. If any Quiz reader has an old but serviceable bed and is willing to donate it, Mrs. Carlton and the family concerned will be greatly appreciative.

Measuring Beauty
Homes and Automobiles

In New York Mr. Reisman took his young twenty-three-year-old secretary to live with his family. When he was sitting with her in his automobile one night, after midnight, his thirty-five-year-old wife, of whom he is said to have grown tired, came out with a revolver and killed the secretary. There is no news in this, except that it is, except that it is to be tried by a jury of 11 husbands and one bachelor. It would seem that one or two women might have been placed on the jury; if a man were tried by 11 wives and one spinster, he might complain. However, if all 11 husbands should read their consciences frankly they might make the best possible jury for the accused woman.

The highest navigable body of water on earth is Lake Titicaca, 12,000 feet above sea level, belonging to Bolivia and Peru.

Uncle Sam has agreed to send experts and show those countries how to stock the lake with fish.

Some physicist might answer this question: "Will the fish be affected by the high altitude as human beings are affected, or would the fact that water (with its ball-bearing molecules) is not compressible keep the fish from knowing whether the atmospheric pressure is great or slight?"

An English professional beauty, Rosemary Andree, convinced that her figure is the world's most beautiful, is challenged by an American girl named Mardee Hoff. Miss Hoff's friends say her figure is better than any since the Venus Acrochrope was cut out of marble. Mardee Hoff's figures might interest you: Age, twenty-one; Titian hair; bust, 34; hips, 36; waist, 24; thigh, 19½; ankle, 8.

Nothing is said about what is back of the forehead, or the size of the head, but both are probably satisfactory. Science says, "Intelligence goes with beauty," and that is probably true, except when intelligence is spoiled by flattery.

You read with horror about the number of deaths by automobiles on highways, and then read with surprise the report that 34,500 persons were killed in their homes by accident last year, making the home about as dangerous as the highway. The real danger is carelessness. The fault is with human beings, not with automobiles.

Men that work in crowded rooms, travel in crowded trains, sleep with their windows closed, may learn something from the sad fate of vast schools of salmon crowding in to spawn. Their great numbers exhausted the oxygen in the water and they floated on the surface dead.

An ancient Jewish writer said: "The blood is the life." He might have added: "Oxygen is the life of the blood."

Members of congress are bothered by thousands of letters from advocates of the Townsend plan, asking: "Will you vote to give everybody past sixty $200 a month pension, or will you not?"

Doctor Townsend says many congressmen have promised to support the bill. You would ask: Have they told how to get the $3,000,000,000 that the Townsend plan would cost every year?

The Republican party decides to hold its 1936 convention in Cleveland, casting 54 votes for Cleveland, 39 for Chicago and 6 for Kansas City. Each city had offered $150,000 as its contribution to convention expenses. The delegates will spend more than that, and then there is the glory.

In Peking, Chinese students, young men and women, "stormed through the streets" demanding that China defy Japan and fight to prevent further seizure of Chinese territory. Many students were wounded, 10 killed, 20 Chinese girls in the front rank defied bullets.

Students shouting "Down with Japanese Imperialism!" cannot do the work of airplanes, tanks and explosives. No use in shouting if you are not prepared for war.

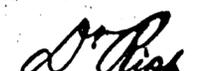

Those who have doubted that this earth is round, including one colored clergyman in the South, who writes frequently on the subject, would be convinced by photographs of the earth taken in the stratosphere, 72,000 feet up. Forty thousand square miles of the earth's surface appear on the photograph as a section of the sphere.

Last Sunday, Dec. 22, was a gala day in the Shirley home in Ord for that day "Budkey" and his bride of fifty years ago celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Gathered in the home were their three daughters, Lester Norton, Mrs. W. Mrs. Cash Rathbun, and amilies, and a was spent with feasting. Their children's gold ring sets to their anniversary had not been revealed to friends in advance, otherwise Mr. and Mrs. Shirley undoubtedly would have received a flood of congratulatory messages from their host of friends.

In excellent health in spite of their years Mr. and Mrs. Shirley—especially the former—enjoy life to the utmost. Bud is filled with plans for the coming golf season and his hopes of making Bussell park more beautiful. Part of almost every day he spends in his workshop, making bird houses, new swings and whatnots to install in the parks next spring.

"No reason why fifty years of married life need to make a man old," Bud has often said. His friends, observing his zest for living, are glad to agree.

May Bud and his wife enjoy many more anniversaries, is the wish of this newspaper and we are sure it will be echoed by everybody who knows Mr. and Mrs. Shirley.

With an area of only 35 square miles, San Marino is one of the smallest states in the world and in many ways the most unique, says the Washington Post. Although an independent republic, Italian influence is strong. The government nominally consists of a grand council of 60 members, one-third of whom are elected every two years. Two members of the council are chosen every six months to act as regents, these being the executives of the republic. And if you are going to get a used car, you want to get the best bargain possible. We have for your consideration this week an unlucky number of cars, 13, but that does not detract from their value and we are not superstitious when it comes to used cars. Every one of these cars is priced worth the money and you will say so when you see them. There is also one truck, making the number 14 in all. Come and look them over. We will give you a good trade if you want a better car than you now have.
