Ord in Gala Garb, Ready to Play Host To Valley Region

Program Complete, Decorations In Place; Weather Man Expected to Do Best.

With plans for the day's program perfected and all decorations in place, the city of Ord is ready this morning to play host to thousands of visitors from the North Loup valley region and elsewhere at the big irrigation celebration. If the weather man does his part and provides a pleasant day the celebration no doubt will be the most successful central Nebraska has ever seen.

Members of the celebration committee, Ralph Norman, Roy Bailey and George Allen, have been working long hours during the past week and, with their sub-committees, have met almost nightly to complete plans.

For visitors to Ord today there won't be an idle moment, thanks to entertainment that starts at an early hour in the morning and continues until midnight.

The electric fire siren at the city plant will shriek for fifteen minutes beginning at 8:45 to acquaint citizens with the fact that visitors are beginning to arrive and that the committee expects every resident of Ord to do his part in entertaining them.

First, and from a practical viewpoint the most important event of today, will be opening of bids and letting of contracts for the first ten miles of the Ord-North Loup canal, first unit in the $1,655,000 project. This business will be taken care of by Engineer Manager E. H. Dunmire, President Bert M. Hardenbrook and directors of the district at the city hall between 9:30 and 10:00 this morning.

About fourteen contractors are expected to have representatives at this meeting. At 10:30 another interesting feature will start. Col. Val Kuska's practical irrigation demonstration. Every farmer whose land lies under the ditch should see this, which will be held at the Mrs. Matt Parkos place in north Ord. Use of the leveler, ditcher and other tools will be demonstrated, water will be applied to the 5-acre tract from a city hydrant and every step of irrigation will be explained and demonstrated. J. A. Kovanda and his Smith-Hughes boys will help Mr. Kuska.

Representatives of the Union Pacific and C. B. & Q. railroads will arrive in special cars at an early hour this morning and will be met by A. W. Pierce, official greeter for the celebration committee. Delegations from the Hastings and Grand Island chambers of commerce, from the South Omaha union stockyards and from other power and irrigation districts of Nebraska will arrive during the morning. Loup City, Broken Bow, North Loup and other nearby towns will send big delegations. The Burwell Wranglers club, in cowboy regalia, will accompany the Burwell uniformed band to Ord, arriving soon after the noon hour.

Tom Springer, chairman of the committee on entertainment, went to Omaha last week and was fortunate in securing some especially good free acts, principal one being Grace Russell's Rosebud Revue, with eighteen members of the cast. This is a dancing and singing show with plenty of comedy numbers sprinkled through it. Other free acts include Dakota Bob & Co., Dorothy Sorys, Marvel Shackleton, a tenor singer, a kiddies' revue, all professional numbers. This program will be given in the afternoon and again in the evening.

Decorations and lighting effects were installed yesterday, with only finishing touches to be added early this morning. Stores are being decorated in blue and white to conform to the street decorating color scheme. The west side of the court house will bear a map of the North Loup project and numerous banners telling about industries of the valley.

An added feature that should thrill crowds is a half-hour of stunt flying by Jack Jefford, one of the nation's best pilots, says he will "shoot the works" with upside-down flying, Immelman turns, barrel rolls, loop-the-loop, falling leaf and other stunts invented by himself. He will take the air at 3:00, it will take him about twenty minutes to reach his "ceiling" and then the show will begin. Watch for him about 3:30, readers.

The ground-breaking ceremony, now scheduled to be held at the W. O. Zangger farm at Olean, will be an important afternoon event and a large portion of the crowd no doubt will drive to Olean to witness it. Senator Norris, Editor Lawrence and Mr. Hardenbrook will take prominent parts.

Then there will be free movies at the Ord Theatre from 1:00 to 6:00, music throughout the day by the Ord, Burwell, Scotia and North Loup bands, twelve or fifteen con-

Teachers Institute To Convene In Ord October 8th, 9th

Schools Will Close During Annual Session; Four Instructors Coming.

The annual Valley county teachers' institute will be held at the high school auditorium in Ord next Thursday and Friday, October 8 and 9, and all schools will close those two days so teachers may attend as required by the Nebraska school laws, announces Miss Clara M. McClatchey, county school superintendent.

Four competent instructors have been employed, the group including Mrs. Edna Shores, of David City, whose topic is rural school music; Miss Zelma Wonderly, Webster county superintendent, who will be primary instructor; Mrs. Augusta Maguire Wither, of Mitchell, S. D., who will lecture on art appreciation; and Miss Nettie Mills, of Lincoln, who is a penmanship expert.

Of special interest will be Mrs. Wither's lessons and members of all study clubs as well as the teachers are urged to attend. She will talk at 11:05 and 3:30 on Thursday, at 9:15 and 2:30 on Friday. Music by the Ord high school music department will open the sessions Thursday afternoon and Friday morning. Friday afternoon the Ord drama department will present the play "Figureheads." Registration is at 8:30 Thursday morning.

Rally Day Sunday At M. E. Church

Annual Rally Day services will be observed next Sunday at the Methodist church, starting at ten o'clock when the Sunday school session begins.

All departments of the school will meet in the church auditorium for a big song service led by the orchestra. The classes have set as a goal to "break all records of the past."

Each class is organized in their own way to get all former members back, and as many new ones as possible. Cash prizes will be given to the classes having the largest percentage increase in attendance. This money is to be used to purchase class room equipment. There is considerable competition among classes for these honors.

Each class is also making one poster to be placed about town, announcing the special feature. The church service at eleven will be a Recognition service for Sunday school officers and teachers. A new order of service will be held, and the choir will appear in their white surplices, for the first time since last spring.

Ord Woman's Suit for Damages In Husband's Death Was Settled Out of Court

Mrs. Marion J. Cushing's suit for damages against the Western Public Service Company because of the death of her husband in 1935 has been settled out of court, it was announced Monday by C. A. Sorensen, one of her attorneys. Attorney Sorensen made the announcement at Arcadia, where he was handling legal business for the Middle Loup project. Munn & Norman, of Ord, also attorneys for Mrs. Cushing, confirmed the announcement.

Marion Cushing, prominent member of the state legislature and often mentioned as a candidate for governor, was killed when he touched a high voltage electric wire belonging to the Western Public Service Company. He was repairing a telephone line when the accident occurred.

A few weeks ago Mrs. Cushing filed suit for damages against the utility concern and hearing in federal court was scheduled to be held this fall.

The settlement revealed Monday calls for payment of $9,000.00 to Mrs. Cushing as damages, according to Attorney Sorensen.

Mrs. Cushing is a resident of Ord but recently rented a house in Lincoln and is living there while her children, Robert and Marion Grace, are attending the University of Nebraska this year.

Much encouraged about his general health as a result of a check-up by specialists at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., Bert M. Hardenbrook returned Tuesday evening to his home here. Mr. Hardenbrook, who is president of the North Loup project, was told that the condition for which he was treated at Rochester last spring has responded greatly and that his general physical condition is much better now than it was at that time. He was instructed to return in three months for further treatment. Friends are happy to know about Mr. Hardenbrook's improvement and that he will be able to take part in the Ord celebration today.

Men Who Donated To Ord Irrigation Want Money Refund

A fine attendance of chamber of commerce members and others was present last Thursday evening at the Legion hall when the question of what to do with money being refunded by the North Loup power and irrigation project was under discussion. By almost a unanimous vote, those present signified their desire to have the money refunded on a pro rata basis to the original donors. A proposal to use the money instead for the purpose of advertising the valley and thus attracting new inhabitants and new industries met with little favor. President John P. Misko, who presided, appointed a committee composed of E. C. Leggett, Fred W. Coe and Keith Lewis to submit advertising suggestions at a general meeting of the chamber to be held in October. Other members are asked to be present with suggestions also.

Mrs. Mary Beran Observed Her 80th Birthday Monday

Monday at her home in Ord where she resides alone Mrs. Mary Beran, early-day pioneer woman, celebrated her 80th birthday.

Fifty-eight years ago a bride and groom arrived in this valley on the 28th of May and took up their homestead not far from the few buildings which then constituted the village of Ord. Mr. and Mrs. John Beran lived their first year in a one-room sod house but the following year they were able to build their own two-room house, a'so of sod with earthen floor and brush top, covered with sod, but it was very warm, said Mrs. Beran.

Here they lived for six years, and although few people then occupied the valley, their life was not so lonely as Mr. Beran was official postmaster and neighbors came to their sod home for mail. After six years they moved to the small village of Ord where they have since lived, where their ten children were born. Two children died in infancy, another daughter, Mrs. Frank Barta passed away three years ago.

John Beran died on September 11, 1917 and his widow has since lived alone, her children having married and departed for new homes. Mrs. Beran now has twenty-one grandchildren and ten great grandchildren, several of whom she has never seen. A daughter, Mrs. Tony Krikac lives at Chico, Calif., Mrs. Louise Allen resides at Stanton, Nebr., Mrs. Mary Eder is located in Montana, Mrs. Alice Sutyach in Wyoming and Mrs. Amelia Paldar at Battle Creek, Nebr. Two sons, Anton and John reside with their families at Omaha and Lubbock, Tex.

Her birthday place a hay house on a wintry day in Minnesota, Mrs. Beran was accustomed to hardship, did not mind the cold winters, poor food lack of minor necessities and hard work which she endured as one of Ord's pioneer women. "But believe me, I appreciate a comfortable life now," she says.

This year Mrs. Beran had an oil burner installed in her home because to build her own fires was too difficult for a lady of eighty years. Mrs. Beran enjoys the radio but is unable to read much because of poor eyesight. She is spry and able, does all her own household work except the washing and until she injured her back in a fall last winter took an active part in several social functions and clubs.

She is not out of touch with happenings, is glad that the irrigation project was approved but believes it a trifle foolish to spend so much money on a celebration. Mrs. Beran has always voted but doesn't know whether she will at the next election or not as she doesn't approve of the present administration.

And, unlike many old people, she has no desire ever to ride in an airplane.

North Loup Project Has Less Than 3,500 Acres Yet To Sign

A Few Land Owners Can Still Get Water; 18 Bidders At Letting This Morning.

At noon yesterday the North Loup power and irrigation district had 34,723 acres signed, including contracts mailed to non-resident owners, reported Engineer-Manager E. H. Dunmire. The district's water right calls for only enough water to irrigate 38,000 acres so less than 3,500 acres remain to be signed.

A total of 28,273 acres had been signed in the local office, of which 18,688 is located in Valley county, 6,337 in Garfield, 4,368 in Loup and 330 in Greeley county. There are two ditches, one on each side of the river, in Valley county, which accounts for the much larger amount here.

Farmers who are planning to sign their land for irrigation must act quickly to avoid disappointment, officials of the district stress. There are still almost 15,000 irri-gable acres unsigned in the district and water enough for only 3,227 acres besides the acreage signed.

The Ord-North Loup canal contract letting will keep directors busy most of this morning. Eighteen sets of specifications have been taken out by contractors, 12 through the local office and six through Black & Veatch in Kansas City. To secure specifications a contractor had to deposit $25 and he can get his money back only by filing a bid today so it is assumed that eighteen bids will be filed.

The Bureau of Roads and Irrigation, state of Nebraska, will officially have charge of the letting but the Public Works Administration will have two or three representatives here to check the bids and the federal Bureau of Investigation also will have an agent here.

It is believed name of the low bidder may be announced by noon today.

Ground Breaking At Zangger Farm

A last minute change of plans by Ord's irrigation celebration committee will have today's ground-breaking ceremony take place on the W. O. Zangger farm near Olean instead of on the Penas farm as announced last week. It was originally planned to hold this on the Zangger farm but because the Penas place is closer to Ord it was deemed advisable to change. Later, for several reasons, the committee changed the ceremony back to the Zangger place. It will occur at 3:00 this afternoon.

Valley County To Start Gravel Road System This Fall

Fred Ulrich Pumping Gravel, WPA Labor Will Spread It On Important Roads.

The beginning of a graveled road system for Valley county was envisaged last week when the county board entered into a contract with Fred Ulrich to have him keep his gravel pumping outfit busy until freeze-up pumping and piling about 10,000 cubic yards of gravel, which later will be distributed on important county roads by WPA labor.

After freeze-up it will be difficult to find useful projects with which to busy WPA workmen but this graveling project can be worked at throughout the winter.

First roads to be graveled will probably be the Ord-Sargent road, the Springsdale road and the Ord-Loup City road. Only a mile or two on the Ord end of each will be graveled at the start, after which gravel will be hauled to North Loup, Arcadia and Elyria to begin surfacing roads leading out of those towns.

With such activity in progress over a few years it is thought the whole county road system can be graveled.

Cost to Valley county will be only what the gravel costs, all other expense items being paid by the WPA.

—Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Finley and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draper drove to Almeria Sunday and were guests of the Ed Yocum family. Other members of the Yocum family were also guests.

—Len Collins was discharged from Weekes' Sanitarium Monday and is now at the home of his sister, Miss Helen Collins until completely recovered.

See Ord As Site For Alfalfa Mill

Officials of the Denver Alfalfa and Milling Products Co., of Lamar, Colo., were in Ord last week investigating prospects for establishing an alfalfa meal mill here in the near future. They inspected several sites available near the railway tracks and expressed themselves as delighted with the possibilities of Ord as a location for one of their mills.

This company established a mill of 1,000 tons capacity near Cozad about a year ago and it is running to capacity now. Farmers are paid $9.00 per ton for alfalfa in the field this year, the company hauling it green to the dehydration plant in Cozad. Natural gas is used for fuel in the ovens at Cozad but fuel oil could be used should a mill be established at Ord, the officials told local men.

An alfalfa mill furnishes considerable employment in the late summer and early fall and also gives farmers a sure market for their alfalfa. Ord will welcome such an industry, particularly now that irrigation is assured.

Rotary Governor Here Next Monday

Because of a misunderstanding in regard to dates, the district governor of Rotary International, L. D. Phelan, of Aberdeen, S. D., did not come to Ord Monday to meet with the local club. Instead he will be here next Monday, October 5, and the meeting will be held at noon at Thorne's cafe. In the absence of Governor Phelan the Rotary club speaker was George Gowen, of North Loup, who gave a talk most interesting to members. Dr. George Gard also told about experiences on his recent trip to the Texas centennial.

Reminiscences of Early Days

By W. A. ANDERSON

When I got home with my antelope of maybe ten pounds in weight and began dressing it my wife noticed that the stomach was full of milk and why not save it and use the rennet to make some cheese? I did so and a few days later my wife made a small cheese, probably the very first cheese made in Valley county. This was the first antelope meat we had and it was fine, even better than veal. This was not the first large game I had killed as I will explain. After we had completed my sod house, my neighbor Mr. B— had to also have a sod house on his claim and we made another vigorous hunt for material that would be necessary. We had made a trail to the Loup Valley but as yet had found no way to get into the rough hills to the northwest from our side of them. So one morning early we took the trail to the valley and from there went up Haskell Creek on the search for timber for rafters and perhaps a tree that would do for a ridge pole for the soddy we were to build for him. We had found that there were clumps of box elder, ash and elm in the hills and along the creek and so hunted in the side canyons of the creek as we went up. Here and there we picked up a few poles fit for rafters and soon after noon we were loaded with poles and were about on the place now owned by Mr. Jorgensen.

We fed our team and as it was now about two o'clock we ate our lunch and discussed the possibility of going on east up some branch of the creek and thus get over the ridge and home without going back to the valley, a trip that way would be about fifteen miles. We knew we could not be more than half that distance could we get through the hills.

We decided to make the attempt anyway and risk getting lost in the hills over night. So we hitched up the team and I went ahead a hundred yards or more on foot to look out the best route for the team and load. By signals I could indicate best points to drive and where to cross canyons. It came on to rain, a light drizzle, and was somewhat puzzled as to directions but knew the canyons must start up near the ridge.

I had followed up a branch leading southeast and kept on the left-hand side, the team was following route indicated. As I came up over a rising point of ground right in front of me was a plum thicket and between me and the thicket stood an animal, the like of which I had never seen. It stood head up staring at me and was as much surprised as I was. It was misting rain now and of course I had my rifle with me ready for instant use. I raised my rifle and took deliberate aim at the animal but the percussion cap had gotten wet and the gun failed to fire. I began to search in my vest pocket for a new cap. The click of the gun aroused the animal and it at once turned and ran around the thicket and up the coulle. Meanwhile I had a fresh cap on my rifle and was ready to shoot. As the animal ran around the plum thicket another one got up and ran after it. It ran a few rods and stopped for an instant to see what it was running from—as it had not seen me. That instant was my opportunity and when the rifle cracked I knew that my aim had been sure. I was not over seventy-five yards away and I could hit a circle two inches in size at fifty yards nearly every time and I knew that bullet had went where I had intended it to go.

It ran behind a point and was out of sight for a minute while I ran up to keep it in view. When I came around the point both of the animals were running up by the side of the coulle but the one in the rear had its head down as it ran. All at once it disappeared but the other ran a few yards and stopped. I had my gun loaded while watching them and kept on up the coulle to where I had last seen it. When I got to where I had last seen it there was a deep gully and it had dropped into it, and had I not known it must be some where very close might have missed it entirely. Meanwhile the other animal was running back and forth on the hillside in easy gun-shot but one was enough and I did not shoot. I climbed down into the washout and bled the animal. Meanwhile Mr. B— had come up with the team and load of poles and asked me what I had shot at. I told him I did not know but when we both examined it we decided it must be an elk, though neither of us had ever seen such an animal previously. By this time the mate had ran away over the hills.

We decided to unload the poles as it was now getting late and load on the elk. I removed the entrails and we backed the wagon into the washout and by using some poles as skids we managed to get it into the wagon box.

We kept on up the draw and in a general direction we thought would lead us out of the hills and over the ridge. I kept ahead as scout and Mr. B— followed with the team under my directions. We finally found a way out and found ourselves near the line of Valley and Garfield counties. Our road was easy from there to our claims and we were there before dark.

Just as we reached the "soddy" another team was driving up from the southeast and we met Charley Parks and brother Horatio who had been down on the Platte for loads of corn and had come by way of Cedar Rapids to save distance. Of course they passed the night with us as any newcomer was always welcome.

We thought the elk would weigh about three hundred and fifty pounds or more. When I came to skin the animal I found I had cut the artery between the heart and lungs. How it had ran so far was always a puzzle to me. We dried a lot of the meat after salting and smoking it after Indian fashion. We also took about 25 pounds or more to our neighbor Mr. M— where we went for most of our water supply. Our garden now was coming on fine and also our sod corn.

July came and we had an offer of work in the harvest field and my wife as cook for the harvest hands near where the town of Horace is now located. So we together earned about twenty-five dollars which was quite a lot of money for us at that time. So we drove our cow and two calves with us and shut our door for a time. The wheat crop was very good that year and my cousin bought a new wire binding harvester that was just being put out by the McCormick Co. As they had several hundred acres of grain they kept the machine going almost night and day only changing teams and drivers. My work was shocking the grain and also help with the threshing. One thing I shall never forget about that experience was the plague of fleas that infested the premises. In that early period it seemed that fleas were almost indigenous to Nebraska and we found them a curse that prevented any sound sleep. We found that drenching the floor with cold water was the best method to dispose of them temporarily.

When we returned to our soddy after harvest I had let our neighbor Mr. M—, where we got water have one of my team of horses in breaking sod as one of his had died. He was to pay me in work on the well in return for its use.

passed through a strata of joint clay and sand that had cracks in it and could almost be taken out in chunks. I had curbed it and thought I had it safe. One day when down one hundred and twenty feet and was stooped over putting in some curbing a large chunk of that joint clay dropped and struck me on my back and knocked the breath out of me and bruised me up when driven on the curbing. When I recovered my senses I found that I was alive and revived enough to ask that the bucket be sent down so I could get out of the well. I had strength to hold on and so got out, but in pretty bad shape and for a week was not able to do any work. There was the well some hundred and twenty feet deep and not a sign of water whatsoever. When that lump of clay struck me I thought that the whole well had caved in on me.

But water must be had if I remained on the land and I had some deep thinking to do. First I must curb the dangerous part and hang on a cross stick twenty feet from the bottom to do it. The work in the well did not appeal to me like it did at the time we started it. I was very much discouraged and wrote the land office at Washington, D. C. to see if I could not cancel my paper and file on a claim elsewhere. They advised me that unless the land could be proven worthless or of no value whatsoever no new claim could be taken. Down at one hundred and twenty feet I found pieces of petrified wood so I knew that sometime in the past history of the earth there had been a forest there and this had been the surface of the earth. I was utterly discouraged as it is no pleasure to swing at the end of a rope with one hundred and twenty feet of space below you to drop if the men at the windlass were to fall for one moment to stay by their job or the rope to break or another cave in of earth should occur at a time when I was at work below.

Also there was no more indication of water than at ten feet from the top. That was one time when it seemed we were about at the end of our hopes of a home on the homestead. I had broken out about ten acres of land and planted to sod corn and it was looking fine. I had a fairly good sod house or dugout and also a stable of posts poles with a hay rack.

There was a man at Ord by the name of Marcus E. Getter who had a well auger and did well boring and put down a wooden casing eight inches in diameter. I had very little money but I decided to go and consult him about the well next day. So I drove to Ord next day but found he was at Ft. Hart suit cutting hay on a contract for the government to furnish hay for the cavalry horses and mules as well as other stock kept at the fort. It was too late that day to drive to the fort so I drove home and the next day drove to the fort and met Mr. Getter and told him of my trouble and asked could he come with his well boring outfit and make me a well. Oh yes he could come in two or three weeks but I would have to go to bottom of the well and attend to the auger while work was being done. Of course that was the dangerous part of the work in case of accident. I asked him how deep he could go with his auger and he said the limit was one hundred and fifty feet. If you bore to that depth and find no water do I have to pay all the same? Oh yes of course. What would be the cost. Seventy-five cents per foot for any depth, he might bore and also board him and his crew of men and a team while he was on the job which might not take more than three or four days or at the most a week. I told him I had no money now and what about the pay? Oh, we could fix that alright as I could give him a bill of sale on my team, wagon and a cow or two to secure him pay for his work.

Mr. Getter was a very pleasant man to talk with and the asking for a bill of sale of practically everything I owned did not seem to disturb him in the least but with me it was the very reverse. I left him in a very good humor with the understanding that I would let him know my decision when he returned to Ord. If ever there was a time when I was at my wits end it was when I left him and started for home. It was impossible to live on the claim and haul water every day which I would have to do if I kept my stock and I knew that and I also knew that I had only a few dollars of what I and my wife had earned in harvest and no one to whom I could go to borrow and if I was to borrow how could I repay and when and now to give a bill of sale on my team and stock was unthinkable. I turned over every idea in my head as I drove slowly away from Mr. Getter. One thing was certain in my mind and that was that I must know there was water at less than one hundred fifty feet or Mr. Getter would have my team and stock and I would have to abandon my claim. Nothing quite so serious had confronted me and I did some deep thinking on my way back to Ord.

The result was that when I got to Ord a decision had come to me. I went to Mr. F. W. Weaver, who had recently opened a hardware and implement store and asked him would he loan me two twelve foot pieces of iron rod, three fourths of an inch in diameter. He readily complied and I also bought a two inch auger of him for a dollar. With these articles I went to blacksmith shop of W. A. Hobson and had the rods welded together and auger welded on one end and a loop made at the other end, making a rod twenty-five feet long. I fastened this under the wagon so it would drag on the ground as I drove home. It was late when I got home that night and I did not sleep much as the question of a well or abandon my claim would be settled tomorrow. As I came home from Ord asked my neighbor west where we got water to (Continued next week)

Attempted Hold Up.

An attempt was made last Wednesday morning to hold up the county treasurer's office at St. Paul. A woman entered the office and after commanding L. C. Madson, deputy treasurer to unlock the door into his quarters, she leveled a gun at him. Madson called to T. T. Frost, working in an adjoining room. Instead of obeying a command to enter, Frost backed out of the room and called for help. The woman, however, realizing that she would be caught made a hasty exit and drove out of town. It was believed that the bandit was a man dressed in woman's attire because of her large stature. Her weight was believed to be about 180, she wore glasses and a veil.

Frank Rinaker Dead

Frank Rinaker of Loup County last Wednesday morning took his own life, with a double barreled shot gun. Leaving the house at 10 in the morning, he walked to a neighboring farm where he had a few days earlier dug a grave. His body was not discovered until Friday. Sand had drifted into the grave and partially covered the body. The cause of the suicide was believed to be differences of opinion of the management of his farm.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Eugene intimates that I have been a little lax in preparing this department, and suggests that I get my copy ready early. I don't want to be separated from the Quiz pay roll so I guess I had better get busy.

I feel sometimes that the Quiz readers get sick and tired of this department, and as I am not crazy about writing it, I would really like to know whether it is desired or not and I would be governed accordingly.

We returned home last week Wednesday, the Missus, Mrs. Burke and myself. The weather was perfect when we left the cottage last week Tuesday morning and we were all lamenting the fact that we had to come home. Then when we got to Niswaw we found a letter from Eugene saying we could stay longer as well as not if we desired and that made it harder than ever to come on. But the cottage was closed up, shutters nailed down, dock piled on the lake shore and boats put away in the garage and it would have been a half day's work or more to get set to enjoy life again and we didn't want to miss the celebration this week. But we will plan to stay next year as long as the weather is good.

One reason we hated to come home now was the fact that the larger fish were just starting to strike. Bass had not been striking, but on Monday Ray Luther and wife Esther went over to Big Bass lake to bring one of my boats home. I had sent it over two or three weeks before, but had not had much luck fishing there and that was largely what decided us to come home when we did. Having to go after the boat Ray thought it would be a good time to take his Missus along and in the boat he had a good time to construct her in the art of bass fishing. I suspect he also wanted her to help load the boat. Anyhow, they came home about 2 p. m. with eight black bass that weighed a total of 35 pounds. Ray had a party of our fishermen who had just driven in from Princeton, Ill., and he proceeded to pep them up by showing them the string of big bass and had no trouble in getting them to engage him to guide them for several days. I accused him of borrowing the bass from the tame fish farm just to build up business, but he denied that and gave me the biggest one in the lot to bring home. He dropped me a card, later to tell me that his party got five large bass and thirty crappies the following day over there. And the crappies in that lake grow big, we seldom get one under 1 1/2 pounds and they have been caught up to 3 1/2 there.

As a rule the first half of October is a delightful time to be up there. Last year was the exception, as we left there September 25 and came then because of the bad weather and there was no more good weather or good fishing. Judge and Mrs. Clements and the Missus and I spent the first half of October there some years ago and had the most wonderful bass fishing.

Remember that I like to send in your new and renewal Bee-News subscriptions. In fact I want to send your new and renewal subscriptions for any of the daily papers. It don't cost you any more and it saves you a little time and postage and we make a small commission, which you could not get anyhow if you sent it in yourself.

It has been some weeks since we sent statements to those Quiz subscribers who are in arrears. Our card system gives us a pretty good picture of our subscribers, most of whom, I am glad to say, are very fair and honorable with us. Those who have treated us fairly in the past are not stopped promptly, as we wish to be as reasonable as possible. If we have to stop a paper for non-payment, a record is made on the card and the card kept and if, later, that delinquent comes in and again subscribes we use the same card and the next time his or her subscription expires we stop the paper promptly. By pursuing this policy for a few years we know at once what we may expect from each subscriber. For that reason it pays the subscriber to protect his or her credit by paying up promptly. Now, as I said above, it has just about a year ago that we sent statements to the few in arrears but I am going to do that in the next few days. I hope you have appreciated the favor I have shown you, by keeping your paper coming, and will show it by paying up promptly when you get the notice. It costs more than one would think

I hope you will all be here for the big celebration today. I believe this ditch, when it is completed and we begin to learn to use it, will prove to be a great boon for this valley. I can see no reason why, in a few years, Ord should not be a town of five thousand instead of less than half that as now. I think the Chamber of Commerce should take immediate steps to advertise the advantages of Ord and the North Loup Valley. I can see no reason why, inside of the next few years, this town should not have a beet sugar factory, an artichoke reducing plant, an alfalfa meal mill, a canning factory, a pickle factory, and perhaps others. I don't think the business men of Ord and the farmers of this vicinity are surpassed anywhere, when it comes to thrift and resourcefulness. We have been whipped by bad crop years and consequent poor business so long, that it is not surprising that a lot of people have been getting weak-kneed on whether this valley could ever come back. Getting the ditch is going to change all that. All lines of business will slowly pick up from now on and in a year from now there will be a vastly different feeling.

BACK FORTY

A bigger acreage of winter wheat is being planted this fall. In recent years the climate has been more favorable toward small grain crops than for corn production. Summer drouths have been followed by more than average amounts of autumn rainfall. Wheat and rye have also benefited from winter snows and spring rains to mature ahead of the hot, dry blasts that devastated crops in July and August.

The trend toward more small grain and less corn is probably a step in the right direction. Since a poor stand of small grain can always be planted to corn in the spring, such diversification tends to reduce the danger of total crop failure. Winter grazing is supplied by the small grain crops. A farmer who plants rye is quite sure of raising something every year.

A farmer who plants some of his land to fall grains also balances labor schedule so that the farm work is more evenly distributed through the year. The small grains make crop rotation easier and prevent erosion. Thus the loss of fertility may be reduced.

The grain sorghums are also coming into the farm picture more and more as the dry cycle continues. Sorghum will burn up like corn does. They simply stand still and wait for it to rain. Twenty bushel yields are common over Nebraska this year. Grain sorghums are good substitutes for corn, and almost equal to corn in feeding value.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM!

Mrs. Warren Lincoln says their family is very fond of eggplant, too, but she fixes it a little differently. She slices it very thin, soaks it in salt water, then dips it first in flour, then in beaten eggs, then in fine cracker crumbs before trying it in hot fat. And she serves eggplant with a slice of lemon here and there, to flavor more than to garnish. Now we have three methods of cooking this little-used vegetable. How do you do it?

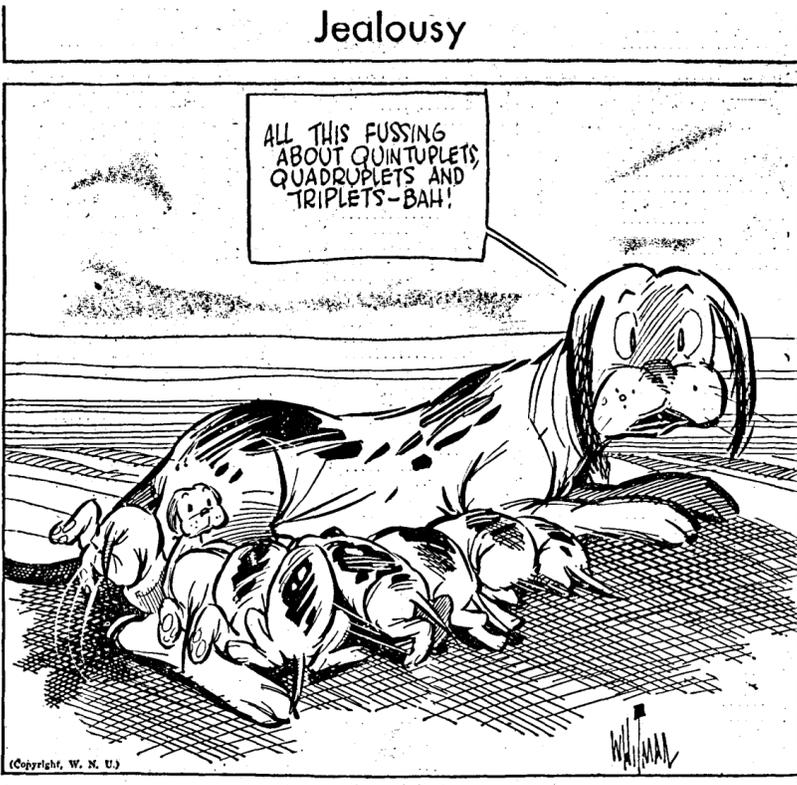

Bananas are something a lot of us use only as a fruit, though they are recommended to broil and to cook in several ways. Below is one of the old stand-by ways to serve bananas one of the recipes nearly everyone likes.

Banana Custard Pie.
Beat two eggs light, add three-fourths cup sugar, a pinch of salt, one-fourth teaspoon vanilla, one-half cup cream and one-half cup milk. Slice three bananas into an unbaked pie crust, pour the mixture over the sliced bananas and sprinkle top with two tablespoons finely crushed walnuts. Put in a hot oven at first and then proceed as for any custard pie.

Apricot Upside Down Muffins.
Sift together two cups flour, one half cup sugar, three teaspoons baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Add one-fourth cup melted butter, two eggs and one cup milk and beat until the batter is smooth and light. Place one teaspoon sugar in each muffin pan and brown until melted and thoroughly blended. Next place a cooked dried apricot, cut side down in each pan and fill half full of batter and bake in moderate oven.

Kringles.
Mix one pound butter, one and one-half pounds flour, a pinch of salt, one teaspoon vanilla and enough thick cream to make a dough. Roll and sprinkle sugar on top. Cut in strips and turn into the shape of a figure eight. These are good for lunches.

Crisp Oatmeal Cookies.
Use one cup shortening, half butter and half lard, blend with one cup sugar, add ten tablespoons sweet milk, one-half teaspoon soda dissolved in the milk. Put in a pinch of salt, one teaspoon grated nutmeg, two cups flour, two cups rolled oats, one-half cup chopped nuts or raisins. Roll thin and cut large. Bake slowly. Perfectly delicious and will keep for weeks.

Cranberry Surprise.
Wash and drain one pound cranberries, quarter and core six apples but do not peel. Quarter and remove seeds from one orange but do not peel. Grind these ingredients together in the food chopper and add one and one-half cups sugar. Pack in a covered dish and place in the refrigerator until ready to use as a relish with meat. It will keep for several weeks. For a variation, to use as salad: drain off juice after the fruit has stood overnight in the sugar. Add one cup diced pineapple. Dissolve one package of lemon jello and when partially congealed stir in the fruit mixture. When firm serve on a lettuce leaf with dressing.

When You And I Were Young Maggie
20 Years Ago This Week.
E. H. Stacy's car overturned and he and his wife, Miss Flavia Twombly and Mrs. C. H. Potter were pinned beneath the car. Mrs. Potter was the worst hurt, having a broken wrist and numerous other injuries.

Ord's epidemic of Ford stealing continued, cars owned by Mike Novotny and Mott Rathbun being stolen, the latter for the second time.

Undertaker McLain bought a new Chalmers auto to hearse, first motorized hearse in this section. Previously it had looked rather odd to see a long funeral procession of cars headed by a horse-drawn hearse.

A. C. Wilson traded off his ice plant to Ed Jensen for a farm.

D. B. Huff leased the building lately run by Bell and Lambertson and was moving his Ford cars and supplies. Mr. Huff was doing a very prosperous business.

John Klein returned from North Platte and resumed his job as superintendent of the round house. He passed examination and was on the U. P. extra list as an engineer.

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Keown left to spend a week fishing and camping on the Cedar river.

25 Years Ago This Week.
Dr. Clason, Charles Hunt, John Lickly and Welby Masters went to South Dakota to get their names in the pot for the big land drawing.

Lady Weaver, the "guidless wonder" horse, was a favorite with Valley county fair audiences, performing in trotting races without a driver. The whole fair program was pronounced excellent and crowds were good.

The Ravenna creamery announced it would start retailing pasteurized milk and cream for family use price of milk being 6c per quart.

A two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Harris fell from the top of the grandstand during the fair but did not seem to be injured unless internal injuries should show up later.

John Pokorney sold his farm to Charles Bals and then bought the Joe Carkoski livery barn and outfit, taking possession at once.

Unlucky Word
Jud Tunkins says he hates to admit being superstitious, but what history he has read doesn't show that the word "communism" has ever been lucky for anybody.

Something Different

In wartime, Ed Vogeltanz was an airplane pilot. He flew everywhere, and in everything. In the days when planes were far less safe than they are now. But now, though business necessities cause him to travel often and for considerable distances, he always speeds by car, no matter where he has to go. There are two reasons for this staying on the ground he does; one of them is that his insurance policies call for it; the second and dominant reason is that his wife won't let him travel by air. She doesn't believe in it.

It would be convenient soon, for example, to fly to Minneapolis to see the Nebraska-Minnesota game which several local men want to witness, but do not like the prospect of a 500-mile trip there and back.

So Mr. Vogeltanz and his friends will make the trip more slowly by automobile.

Curt Parsons and his son Kenneth, at Burwell, have been having a lot of fun fishing in the North Loup river this fall, and have been getting some dandy catches, too. In fact when a customer walked in the other day just as they were about to take off on a fishing expedition, they both said "Aw Heck" like any disappointed small boy.

Or maybe they just thought it.

Someone tells me—but it is probably a false rumor—that the Klimas didn't know the other day that their car was afire, and that they went across the block and stood about, wondering where the fire was, talking casually with neighbors. Only to end up at home soon, finding the fire fighting equipment being used on their car, which stood close beside the house and some way had burst into flame. No, not the Ign. Klima family.

Ord is really taking the irrigation celebration to heart, and young and old, one and all, are looking forward to today, the day of days.

Ord has not ordered her shoppers and friends a celebration for many years, neither on the fourth of July nor any other customarily celebrated date. So she has a lot to make up for.

Feeling like achieving irrigation was the same as finding the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow, everyone is happy, wanting a holiday over it. Everything that any of the committee in charge could suggest or think of is being planned to make the day more of a holiday for the people of this valley.

"Is everybody happy?" is today's theme song for Ord and her visitors.

PERSONALS
—M. McBeth of Spalding was a business visitor in Ord Monday.

—Mrs. George Howard and baby of Lincoln arrived in Ord last Tuesday to visit at the home of Mrs. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Abernethy.

—Mr. and Mrs. Peter Naab drove to Ord early Monday morning bringing their daughter, Miss Luella back to her work at Weekes Sanitarium. She had gone to Burwell Sunday morning to spend the day with her family.

—Allen Dean Lakin, small son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lakin, was injured quite badly Sunday morning when he was bitten on the face by a dog owned by the G. A. Satterfield family. It was necessary to have several stitches taken to close the wound. Dr. J. G. Kruml performing the work.

Jealousy

Nevertheless while I was engaged I glanced toward the serving table and saw four young women and a tall lanky boy emerging with trays piled high with steaming vlands. A short, stocky girl with a lot of responsibility registered on her brow and a lot of ginger in her feet was acting as the engine. The boy was the caboose.

After a few furtive glances she sped a table at the far corner, by the way of around a water tank which was on a post that was near where I was sitting. The engine started off suddenly, her tray in front of her and she struck a lively pace. The other cars followed close behind, apparently giving little thought to the route, their mind only on following the leader and also keeping the tray level as possible so the coffee and soup would be in the proper place upon arrival.

Everything seemed to be running smoothly at a good fast walk. They made it to the first corner in due time and started round the curve when suddenly and without warning the engine changed her mind. She saw another table that suited her better. One where she could have a better view of the pretty women in the room and their nice clothes. Of course the men were of no interest. I could give a little dissertation on women changing their minds, but there isn't room in the paper this week.

The engine stopped, backed a little and changed her course. The first car stopped also but none too quickly. There was a general telescope of the train. Steam pressure was applied on the brakes but the floor was slick and the result was bad enough, especially since such dinners cost in the neighborhood of sixty-nine cents.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Random Irrigation Thoughts.
If the ground is as dry on the Ed Penas farm where the ground breaking ceremonies are to take place next Thursday as the ground is on my farm, Mr. Penas better tote out a few barrels of water and sprinkle around or Senator Norris might break his arm holding those plow handles. It might be a good idea to use a sulky plow.

I presume the committee knows what they are doing in getting a pair of mules to pull that plow, but it would be my guess—off hand, even if Mr. Lawrence is a newspaper editor, that he would lack sufficient vocabulary to handle that kind of power to the greatest efficiency. Mules need an altogether different line of chatter than editors commonly exhibit.

Being somewhat of a horse and mule fancier myself I will say that I do not envy their lot for the next year or so. It might be a good hint to the merchants to stock up with a good line of whips and blacksnakes, for I am predicting many fellows will think them cheaper than corn at a dollar and twenty per.

Some of the old timers in North Loup had a peek of experience with the old ditch and some of that experience was not so pleasant as one might think. In as much as the new ditch will follow very close to the same path as the old one, some of those bitter trials may be returned. But I presume modern engineers would have little use for advice from those old fogies.

There was another feature that might be recalled from the old ditch. Prior to the building of it and during the construction there was a series of very dry years something like we have been experiencing of late. But as soon as the water began to run and he available it began to rain and they had a series of relatively wet years, which didn't help the sale of water any.

But what put the final kibosh to the old ditch was a downpour of what some said four inches of rain in an hour. Great chunks of the hills fell down into the ditch, damming it and the water caused untold damage. The whole system was built on a shoe string for money anyway and they never could accumulate enough money again to properly repair the ditch. Then there came a series of wet years.

Well, we will all be glad for the wet years if they come again.

Better Stay Out.
The seriousness of having served a term in the penitentiary might be illustrated by a little incident told me a few weeks ago by a man who had been there and returned.

There was a young man who served his time in the institution and after he was released he got a job as salesman for a concern in Omaha. His territory was Wyoming and he went forth and sold more goods than any man on the road for the company.

After he had been out a few months he was called into the head office and discharged. When he asked why, he was told by the boss that they were very well pleased with his work but they had a rule that they could not hire a person that had ever been in the penitentiary. The boss was sorry that regulation or rule was on the books of the company but he could not do differently.

A Telescope.
The last time I was in Omaha I saw a wreck so to speak. A wreck which one might describe as a telescope. Well, I do not know exactly what to call it but it was a wreck to be sure.

I was eating in a cafeteria restaurant, peacefully as one could under the circumstances of know-

Improving Human Breed?

Fourteen concerns have offered to build small airplanes to cost as little as $750. That is important aviation news; the bureau of air commerce is to be congratulated on its effort to encourage individual flying.

The day is coming when there will be more machines in the air than there are automobiles on the ground now. More than 25,000,000 airplanes may sound like exaggeration.

But it sounded like exaggeration some years ago when this writer published editorials urging citizens not to spread tacks and cut glass on roads, to puncture automobile tires, because, before long, automobiles would be used by workers going to and from work. That prediction came true.

Some one preparing a list of ten things that Christians would and would not do says:

"There would be no private wealth; Jesus denounced great possessions as alien to His gospel, and fatal to His kingdom.

"There would be no poverty and no war, because real Christians would refuse to fight."

In this civilization, if Christians refused to fight, they would rapidly diminish in numbers and the Pacific coast would be settled by Asiatics.

The founder of Christianity taught that what was due to Caesar should be rendered unto him.

If He were on earth now He might say the same of organized capital, knowing that it supplies, in our complicated system, the possibility of steady work.

Nobody, not even a clergyman, can be positive as to what Christ's commands would be if he returned in this age of flying machines, automobiles, public schools and the strange problem of too much of almost everything, combined with want among many thousands of families lacking food and the government wondering occasionally what to do with millions of bushels of wheat.

Chanticleers Take 34 To 0 Victory Over Scotia Tigers

Brockman's New Linemen Show Promise as Chanticleers Capture 1st Game.

Flashing considerable power, the Ord Chanticleers chucked over an impressive 34 to 0 victory over the Scotia Tigers last Friday night in the first Loup Valley clash of the season for the Ordies. The Tigers made a battle royal of the first half of play but made a fiasco of the last period, enabling the Chanticleers to roll up 27 counters in the final section of play.

Team Looks Good.
Every Chanticleer player performed at top-notch ability in the first clash of the season. Don Tunnicliff's returning of punts was little short of sensational, and the passing and booting of Gerald Clark, the driving power displayed by Barnes and the high class punting by Haskell were to be highly recommended as was Harry Zulkoski's work at the quarter position. Linemen all performed exceptionally well, Koupal and Cetak doing some fine work in turning in plays and some tackling of their own special brand; Leroy Zikmund and Charles Dlugosh at the guard positions were "all there" on those well known Chanticleer center plunges, being reinforced from time to time by Petty and Tatlow, two up and coming candidates for the guard positions. Burrows and James took charge of the tackle positions in very business-like manner and Hughes provided some commendable work on defense at the center post.

Kicking Power Displayed.
The first touchdown of the game was marked up for the Chanticleers in the last minute of play of the first quarter when Haskell plunged through the line for the final two yards and a touchdown. Gerald Clark executed a perfect kick to make the try for extra point good.

On the second play of the next quarter, Ord secured the ball when a Scotia punt was blocked by the Chanticleers. With the ball resting on the 24 yard line, the Ord eleven was held in check by the Tigers losing the ball on downs. A series of punts between both teams took place in this quarter, the second period ending with the score still at the 7 to 0 mark in favor of the Chanticleers and the ball resting on their own 33 yard line.

Chanticleers Break Loose.
After the intermission, Coach Brockman's team really began to open up on the offense. The fireworks were started when Tunnicliff broke loose on the second play of the half to make a 57 yard touchdown run, however this counter was not allowed because of a clipping offense and the 23 yard line. The Ord line began to flash its power at this time enabling the backfield to move the ball up to the three yard line. After a number of off-tackle plays Haskell broke through for the second touchdown. A pass from Clark to Haskell on the following play made the try for extra point good, making the game 14 to 0. The Ord line clicked to perfection once more in this period as another Scotia punt was blocked and recovered by a Chanticleer on the Scotia 15 yard line. By sheer power the Ord eleven marched down to the two yard line, where Haskell again edged the ball over the white line. A nicely executed pass from Barnes to Haskell on the next play made the try for point good and left the score 21 to 0 in Ord's favor. A fumble on the Scotia team gave Ord the possession of the ball in the few remaining minutes of play in the third quarter and the period ended with the ball on the Scotia 22 yard line.

Clark Skirts End.
With the Ord line performing in professional manner, the pigskin was brought from the 22 yard line to the 4 yard line where Clark skirted the end for another score. On this play, a hurried pass from center sent the ball back to Clark in a bit too speedy manner, the ball bouncing off his shoulder pads. However, Clark caught the ball as it bounced into mid-air and behind some brilliant interference was able to sail around left end and for the touchdown. A grounded pass made the try for extra point a failure.

A series of punts and a recovered Scotia fumble gave Ord the ball on the 40 yard line, and a string of perfectly executed plays brought the ball down to the 20 yard line. With the line clearing the way and the backfield running some flashy interference, Tunnicliff raced the remaining 20 yards for the final score of the game. The try for extra point was successful, and the remaining few minutes of play saw the Ord eleven again striding down the field in a touchdown march which was cut short by the final whistle.

A strong wind blowing directly from the north made the game a strain upon the spectators' eyesight the last half of play, dust blowing directly into the sideline bleachers. The Ord high school band, under the direction of Arden Clark during the absence of Dean S. Duncan, provided plenty of music for the affair and presented a snappy marching drill between the halves. The Auble Bros. public address system was located on the field and a play-by-play account of the game was given.

Who's Who In Ord Football

EMIL KRIKAC.
"Small but mighty!" Yes, sir, that's the title that fits Emil Krikac perfectly. Emil, better known to his friends as "Spider", is regarded as the general all-around handy man on the team, playing any of the backfield positions with equal skill. He can kick, pass, and run and can do a mighty nice job at the quarterback position. Emil is handicapped a little this year because of weight, budging the scales at only 112 pounds. He is 5 ft. 3 in., a sophomore in high school and was a reserve on last year's football squad.

EDWIN HITCHMAN.
Edwin Hitchman, another promising sophomore player, has shown considerable ability and is expected to be seeing a lot of the first string center position before the season draws to a close. Edwin weighs 150 pounds is 5 ft. 9 in. high and has a year of work on the reserve team behind him for experience.

Grid Season Popping.
Loup Valley grid machines began popping on all four this week as the first games in the Loup Valley football conference were played.

Coach Brown's Loup City eleven got off to a good start as they played some tight football in the second half to win from Arcadia 6 to 0. Another 6 to 0 score was chalked up when Comstock won over Burwell 6-0. Sargent had a good time, running over Taylor 26 to 0 and Ord dispensed with Scotia to the tune of 34 to 0. In a non-conference battle Ravenna lost out to Shelton, 6 to 0.

Beauty and Efficiency Join In Person of Virginia Klein, Ord's Drum Major

The shrill call of a whistle, the rolling of drums, the tramping of many feet—and the Ord high school 60 piece band comes marching out onto the field. At the head of the band, baton glistening in the sun, comes Virginia Klein, Ord's veteran drum major, in all of her glorifying attire. Virginia, a senior in Ord high school, is acting as drum major of the high school band for her fourth and final year. Her job is not an easy one as some suppose, but instead

Ord Will Battle St. Paul Apostles On St. Paul Field

With a 34 to 0 victory under their belts, the Ord Chanticleers will attempt to add another scalp to their collection Friday night when they meet St. Paul on the St. Paul field. The game will start at 8 o'clock and will be played under the lights.

The Ord-St. Paul clash will be the second step for the Ord eleven to overcome in their attempt to take the Loup Valley football championship for another year. Last year the Loup Valley championship Ord team took a 19 to 0 decision over the Apostles.

St. Paul Is Strong.
The St. Paul eleven this year promises to be one of the strongest teams in the Loup Valley and Mid Six conferences. Coach Fred C. Weeks has been having forty men reporting daily for grid practice and will mold his 1936 eleven around nine returning lettermen.

According to word received from St. Paul high school Le Gate, a returning veteran and the quarter-back sparkplug of the entire Apostle team, was injured in a pre-season game and may not appear in the lineup for the Ord-St. Paul game. The Apostles won over Central City, rated as one of the strongest in Central Nebraska by a 6-0 verdict last Friday on the Central City field. This fact alone points out the St. Paul game as a critical clash.

Ordies Are Hopeful.
With the brilliant showing made by the Chanticleers in the Scotia game last week, fans are sure that Ord will provide the Apostles with plenty of trouble and are giving them more than a slight edge to come out on top of the fracas.

The names and weights of the "first" fifteen men on the St. Paul squad this year, are as follows: Ends, Davis, 156; V. Leth, 145; C. Leth, 133; D. ## G. A. A. Initiates 9 At Scavenger Hunt Activity in the Ord high school Girls Athletic Association organization got under way last week as a large number of new members were initiated into the club for the 1936-37 school year.

Initiation of new members took form in the shape of a "scavenger" hunt in which the entire club took part. The girls were divided into six groups or teams and were assigned to find the following articles: one eyelash curler, several angleworms, a horsehair, a rose, a feather from a chicken's tail, a burned out radio tube, several different colors of thread, three white stones, a picture of a green house, an unbroken egg yolk, a calendar, and a nursery book.

Included in the list of new members were Loretta Mae Achen, Allice Mazac, Lucille Lakin, Betty Meyer, Mae Klein, Joy Loit, Alberta Flynn, Shirley Schrader and Viona Wolfe. The initiation was brought to a close in the evening with a pot luck supper.

Miss Helen Myers, new sponsor of the G. A. A., was assisted in arranging the initiation by the club officers Mary Beranek, president; Irene Whiting, vice-president; and Jerrine Burrows, secretary.

Ord's Irrigation Celebration Was Attended by 8,000

Crowd Gathered Early, Saw Whole Program Carried Through Successfully.

In spite of a day that dawned gray and blustery with a few flakes of snow flying and continued cold until sunset, a crowd estimated at between eight and nine thousand people attended the irrigation celebration held in Ord Thursday, Oct. 1, to commemorate beginning of construction of the North Loup power and irrigation project.

Efforts of the celebration committee composed of Ralph Norman, George Allen and R. C. Batley, with help from numerous assistants, to arrange a program that would please visitors were completely successful and from beginning to end various events of the day proved enjoyable.

The big crowd began to gather by mid-morning and before noon streets in the business district were thronged and parking spaces within easy walking distance of the square were at a premium. Until mid-afternoon people continued to come and for the evening program scarcely another person could have crowded into the square. It was the biggest crowd in Ord's history, beyond doubt.

Sounding of the fire siren officially opened the day at 8:45 and next event was letting of the contract for construction of the first unit in the project, ten miles of canal between Ord and North Loup, to the Litwiller Bros. Construction Co. of Seward, their bid of $9,180 being found low by directors of the project.

A. T. Lobdell, chief of the Nebraska bureau of roads and bridges, supervised the contract letting, assisted by A. W. Bohner, of Grand Island, district engineer. The PWA and the federal bureau of investigation also were represented.

The bid made by Litwiller Bros. is regarded as extremely low, being at the rate of only 6.8c per cubic yard for dirt moving. Next bidder was the Dobson-Humphreys Co., of Omaha, with $10,665 and third was Roberts Construction Co., of Lincoln, with $11,340. Fifteen other bids were filed.

After the contract letting at the city hall the next important event was a demonstration of irrigating conducted by Val Kuska, of the Burlington railroad, which was witnessed by several hundred people. A plot on the Mrs. Matt Parkos farm was prepared, the ground leveled, ditches dug and water from a city fire hydrant applied by Col. Kuska following the best methods of successful irrigators. He was assisted by J. A. Kovanda and high school agriculture students.

About 10:30 the Ord high school band, led by Dean S. Duncan marched down the street and about the square, resplendent in their red and white uniforms and from then on events of interest occurred with rapidity throughout the day. Three other bands, Scotia, Burwell and North Loup, assisted in providing music. In the late afternoon and evening all four bands played in unison under the direction of Prof. James King, of Hastings. They had been practicing several weeks on three march numbers and played them in inspiring fashion.

Free movies during the afternoon were provided and there never was a moment when the Ord Theatre wasn't crowded. It is estimated that more than 2,000 people saw the free show in this theatre.

Free acts selected and employed by Tom Springer proved a revelation. People had not expected or hoped for vaudeville of such high

Wife of Early Day Ord Preacher Dead

Mary L. Barrow, wife of the Rev. Shaw Barrow, died at her home at Meadville, Pa., on Friday, Oct. 2.

Mrs. Barrow was the daughter of the late Lauren C. Beach and Mary C. Gignoney Beach of Meadville. Born on October 26, 1878, most of her life was spent in Meadville. In 1904 she was united in marriage with Rev. Barrow and shared in his pastoral work in Ord, Jackson, Mich., Windsor, Vt., Ridgewood, N. J., and Troy, New York.

Older Ord residents will remember kindly Rev. and Mrs. Barrow. Rev. Barrow's first charge following his marriage was the Unitarian church in Ord, and during their stay here made many friends. For the past several years, Rev. Barrow has worked in the office of the store house department of the Erie railroad shops at Meadville.

Mrs. Barrow is survived by her husband and one daughter, Mrs. Marian G. Warner of Mountain, Wis., as well as many distant relatives and a host of friends.

Patriotic Drunk Walks Away With Chase Flag

Miss Eunice Chase, owner of the Chase Toggery, reports that during the irrigation celebration last Thursday a stranger walked away with the United States flag and standard that decorated the front of her store and paraded off with it over his shoulder, inspired probably by equal parts of patriotism, band music and intoxicants. Identity of the patriotic drunk is not known and so far the flag and standard haven't been recovered.

Middle Loup Will Have Celebration At Arcadia Later

Senator Norris Unable to Attend October 15; Program Postponed.

Just as we go to press we are informed by phone that this celebration has been postponed because Senator Norris cannot be present. The message says the celebration may be held October 16 and perhaps later, but the Quiz will tell you definitely next week just when it will be held and we have the promise of the complete program also.

Twenty thousand acres in the Middle Loup project have been signed for irrigation, water rights have been approved, general offices opened at Arcadia, advertising for bids on construction is under way and the project is progressing with all speed possible.

John Kapustka, 87, Dies In Ord Home

John Kapustka was born in Poland in 1849 and there grew to manhood. He departed this life at his home in Ord, Saturday evening, Oct. 3, being at the time of his death 87 years of age. He was married November 12, 1875 to Regina Welgus in their native land and six years later they came to America, first making their home in Platte county. About four years later they removed to Holt county and that was their home for a time, then they came to Valley county and this has been the family home since. Mrs. Kapustka passed to the great beyond Aug. 16, 1932.

To this union were born Joseph Kapustka of Burwell, Thomas Kapustka of Arcadia, Mrs. Sophie Setlek of Comstock, Mrs. Mary Kaczka of Elyria, Pete Kapustka of Ord, Andrew Kapustka of Arcadia and Mrs. Anna Boro of Comstock, and these, with 39 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren and a host of friends, are left to mourn the going of Mr. Kapustka.

Funeral services were held from the Ord Catholic church at the nine o'clock mass Monday morning, October 5 and interment was in the Ord Catholic cemetery beside the remains of his wife. Rev. Father Lawler had charge of the services.

Reduced Freight Rates In Effect

Farmers and dealers in Valley county, can secure reduced freight rates on carload shipments of hay, grain, bagged feeds, etc which is to be used as feed for livestock in this county.

Shippers should be careful to follow these instructions. First make sure that the shipment comes from territory to which the drouth rate applies. This may be done by contacting the local agent of the Railroad.

Second see or call the county agricultural agent and learn whether or not the local committee will certify that the shipper is entitled to the drouth rate according to the regulations as laid down by the railroads.

Third, bill all shipments to C. C. Dale, County Agricultural Agent, in care of the purchaser at whatever railroad point within the county, the feed is to be unloaded. This is important as no certificate can be made out unless the shipment is billed to the county agricultural agent.

Fourth, bring the bill of lading to the county agent's office for endorsement and secure the drouth certificate on the shipment.

If a dealer is to secure the reduced rate he must secure a receipt on a form provided, from each person who buys any part of the feed.

These are the rules and regulations as laid down by the railroad and must be followed if farmers within the county are to secure the benefit of reduced freight rates.

Hundreds Watch As Senator Norris Grasps Plow, Drives Four-Mule Team To Break Sod For the North Loup Valley Irrigation Project

An event of great economic and historical significance to people of central Nebraska took place on the W. O. Zangger farm at Olean last Thursday when Senator George W. Norris, grasping the handles of a plow pulled by four mules, broke ground for the first canal in the big North Loup power and irrigation project. Hundreds of people gathered in a semi-circle about Senator Norris as he stepped to the plow. He handed the reins to James E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, but Lawrence laughingly handed one of them to Edgar Howard, of Columbus, 80-year-old ex-congressman. Editor Lawrence "clucked" to the mules and the ground-breaking began. A furrow about ten rods long was plowed, after which the mules were attached to a scraper and the three Litwiller brothers, of Seward, successful bidders for construction of the first ten-mile unit of canal, continued the ground-breaking work.

Roy Hudson, vice-president of the North Loup district, acted as master of ceremonies at the ground breaking and afterward introduced as speakers Bert M. Hardenbrook, district president, Senator Norris, Editor Lawrence, Congressman Harry B. Coffey and Edgar Howard, all of whom spoke briefly in praise of the project.

How Can Anybody Object to Spending Money To Put Water on Thirsty Soil—Sen. Norris

Before the microphone at North Loup ground-breaking ceremonies Thursday afternoon, Senator George W. Norris made a speech that will long be remembered by his hearers. "I don't see how anybody can object to spending money to put water on thirsty soil," he declared, and he elaborated this theme in defense of conservation work. Nebraska's foremost conservationist, Senator Norris believes in the use of all natural resources by the people and he was instrumental in securing PWA money for the North Loup. Behind him in this picture taken by H. E. Jones is seen Roy W. Hudson, master of ceremonies.

President Coming to Nebraska.

Methodists Shatter Rally Day Records

With an attendance of 213 at Sunday school last week, the Methodist Sunday school broke the Rally Day records for the past five years, since the present pastor came to Ord.

Prizes were given to classes having the largest percentage increase in attendance. The first was won by a class of small children taught by Mrs. Wilbur Rogers, the second by the Junior High boys, taught by Cash Rathbun, and the third by an adult class taught by Mrs. Leo Long.

Mrs. Long had the largest class, 49 being present. There are three other classes of adults in the school.

This school is well organized with four departments and 27 officers and teachers, all of whom were present Sunday. There are 16 separate classes. The church service following Sunday school consisted of an Installation Program for the officers and teachers.

Townsend Meeting Saturday. There is to be a Townsend meeting from the west steps of the court house Saturday night, Tom Bradstreet of Grand Island being the speaker. All are invited to hear this speaker.

Politics Absent In Speeches Made At Ord Thursday

'Democrat Rally' Lacking As Speakers Discuss the No. Loup Project.

Disappointing to republicans who had predicted that the speaking program at Ord's irrigation celebration would be nothing but a "democratic rally," speakers Thursday evening avoided politics and confined their addresses to discussion of water conservation, irrigation in general and the North Loup project in particular. Over 5,000 people heard the speeches.

Ralph W. Norman served capably as master of ceremonies, introducing first E. H. Dummire, engineer-manager of the project, Mr. Dummire said only a few words. Speaking only briefly were President Bert M. Hardenbrook and Congressman Harry B. Coffey.

Introduced by Chairman Norman, the able editor of the Lincoln Star, James E. Lawrence, made a splendid talk in praise of Nebraska and its resources and in laudation of Senator Norris and the work he has done in the United States senate, then introducing the senator who made the main speech of the evening.

Senator Norris got a fine reception from the big crowd and his powerful speech, made without the aid of notes, drew rounds of applause at frequent intervals. He praised the administration's conservation program and predicted banishment of drouth in the central states when the long-range program of water conservation is completed.

Governor Cochran, who arrived late, was then introduced by Mr. Norman and was greeted heartily by the big crowd, some claiming that he received more applause even than Senator Norris. He spoke very briefly.

The speaking program lasted about 1 1/2 hours and in spite of the chilly evening few people left the court house yard while it was in progress.

He is also a busy executive of the Great Northern railway so will be kept pretty busy until his term as governor ends next July. Other Rotary guests Monday were Dwight Griswold, of Gordon, George Parkins, jr., of Topeka, and John P. Misko.

Those who attended the meetings last year will want to return this year and bring your friends with you. Plan now to attend all the meetings.

BURWELL NEWS

Alders Celebrate 57th.

Mr. and Mrs. Alec Alder quietly celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary at their home in Burwell on Monday, Sept. 28th. They had made no plans for any kind of celebration, but the neighbors, feeling that such an important event should not pass unobserved, arranged a surprise party for them, a number of families happening in at about three o'clock in the afternoon and spending a few hours in a social time.

Alec Alder was born in Virginia, Aug. 1st, 1856. Amanda Butcher was born in Harrison County, Mo., Nov. 24th, 1862. They were married in Missouri, Sept. 28th, 1879. In 1886 they came from Missouri to Cherry county, where they lived until 1899, when they moved to the vicinity of Burwell, where they have lived ever since.

They have two living children, Essie Johnson, wife of W. P. Johnson, of Trumbull, Nebr., and Roy Alder, of Burwell. They are enjoying a fair state of health in spite of their advanced years, and look forward to many more years of happy wedded life. They are well known and very popular in Burwell.

Last Friday the first sale was held in the new sale pavilion of the Burwell Auction Company. For about eighteen months past the company has been holding its sales in the former Petersen stock yards on the east side of the street south of the Burlington depot. This place was remodeled at the time to answer the purpose, but has been outgrown for some time. Last summer the company bought the Rooney stockyards across the street west of the depot. The past two or three weeks have been busy remodeling and rebuilding to suit their present needs. The main building is octagonal in shape, 32 feet on a side, with the sale ring in the center, and a seating capacity of seven hundred in the seats erected on the north and west sides. The pens are to the south with one gate to bring in the stock and another to drive them out of. A raised platform for the auctioneer and clerks occupies the southeast corner. A large ante room on the east provides space for the listing of stock and for settling accounts. While the building was not entirely finished last Friday, an effort is being made to have everything complete for the coming week. One of the new ideas here is the construction of a good sized lunch room in connection with the office. This will be run under the direction of an expert cook who will put out first class lunches at reasonable prices. The sale Friday consisted of nearly five hundred head of cattle, all of which brought good prices, also a smaller offering of hogs. It is predicted that more seating space will be needed in a very short time.

Rev. W. L. Goodell is still in bed from the effects of the attack of anemia he suffered some time ago, but he is gradually improving, and is hoping to be permitted to sit up some this week. In the meanwhile an attendance contest in the Christian Sunday school between two teams captained by Dr. Wood and McKinley Helmkamp came to a close last Sunday with the white side winning over the red. Sunday was rally day at the Sunday school and the total attendance for the day was 112.

Burwell's new $120,000.00 school building is being erected rapidly and is now looking very much as it will when the work is finally completed. The walls are all up, and at the present time about one fourth of the roof, commencing at the north end, has been poured. The building will be all enclosed before Nov. 1st, which will leave more than two months to complete the inside work. It is expected that the building will be ready for use by the second week of January in time for the second semester of school.

Prominent Burwell Couple Observe Their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Burwell, Sept. 29th. At one o'clock a two course dinner was served to the immediate family, who are; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meyer and three daughters, of Ord; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Meyer, two daughters and son Raleigh and wife, of North Loup. Mrs. Ethel Miller and daughter Myrtle Tully, of San Leandro, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Meyer and two daughters, and Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Meyer, all of Burwell. Also present were Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne and three children, of Arcadia. Mrs. Hawthorne is a sister of Mrs. Meyer.

The table set for twenty-seven, was graced with a large wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom on top, serving as a centerpiece. At each end of the table were white candles and fallen golden grapes. Nut cups and favors were in matching colors. The three youngest granddaughters, Bonnie Meyer, daughter of Charlie Meyer, Fern Meyer, daughter of Fred Meyer, and Betty Meyer, daughter of Arthur Meyer served as waitresses, dressed in appropriate gold and white costumes.

The dining room was decorated with gold streamers from the center to the sides of the room. The afternoon was spent in a social time. At 7:30 in the evening a public reception was held, the reception room being lighted with lamps and candles. The guests were received at the door by the Meyer children and ushered to the dining room where they were served with punch or coffee and waters. A miscellaneous program of readings, and musical numbers on the piano, violin and cornet was given throughout the entire evening.

Mrs. Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Peters came with her family from Illinois to Nebraska in 1880, first settling in Clay county for a year and coming to Valley county in 1881. Mr. Meyer was also born in the same neighborhood in Illinois, and he and his wife were school day sweethearts in those days. They were married at Ord, Sept. 29th 1886, living on the river side farm near Goodenow for a period of 24 years. Starting from a very modest beginning they gradually accumulated a large ranch there. They spent the first year in a log house, then moving into a sod house for a few years, thus meeting with all the vicissitudes of pioneer life.

Before leaving the ranch Mr. Meyer engaged quite extensively in stock raising, and when they moved to Burwell in 1910 he went into the livestock business continuing until 1917, when he sold out and bought into the grain, coal and implement business, which he still runs. Their many friends unite in wishing them many more years of happy married life.

The Burwell football team went over to O'Neill to take the measure of the team from that town. It was a well fought contest, the final score being 26 to 0.

L. B. Fenner is home from the hospital at Grand Island, and looks very healthy indeed for a man who has been under treatment for so long a time. While he was away affairs at the office moved right along under the direction of C. R. Ilgenfritz and H. H. Herse.

Barber will explain the various candidates and platforms.

Ord Chanticleer Attack Bogs Down, 0-0 Tie Is Result

Brockman Boys Lose "Drive" In Apostle Clash; Too Much Celebration.

On a warm, if not too hot, afternoon, before a large victory-lustful group of Ord fans, Coach Brockman's Ord high school Chanticleers were held to a 0-0 tie against the St. Paul Apostles on the St. Paul field last Friday afternoon.

With the flashiness shown by the Chanticleers against Scotia in the first game of the season apparently "lost"—and nobody knows where," the Ord eleven was unable to get under way for a winning march down the field. The Ord-St. Paul clash was the second game of the season for the Ordites, the result of the game counting on both the Mid Six and the Loup Valley conference standings.

The game was a slow affair as a whole, straight football being played up to the last quarter when passing broke out from both teams. The two teams were about evenly matched, the Apostles perhaps having a little to spare on the weight side of the sheet.

St. Paul Comes Close.

In the first half play was confined chiefly to the distance between the 20-yard lines, however the St. Paul team began to click in the second quarter and gave the Chanticleers a scare. The Apostles brought the ball up to the 10-yard line in this quarter of play but could proceed no farther with the tight defense put up by the Chanticleers. Pass plays and end runs were tried continuously, but fruitlessly, and the Apostles were forced to give up the ball to the Chanticleers.

The third quarter saw both teams returning to the field with determination written on their faces. The Ord team fought hard in this quarter but were unable to "get going" because of numerous penalties, intercepted passes and fumbles. The fourth quarter saw the Ordites making their strongest bid for a winning touchdown. Several chances for scoring came in this quarter, once when Gerald "Bud" Clark nabbed an Apostle pass and again as a pass from Clark to Haskell was fumbled deep down into the scoring zone.

Team Lacked "Pep."

The Chanticleer team seemed to lack the pep and driving power shown in practices the first of the week and spectators commented and laid the blame at the feet of the irrigation celebration held in Ord the day before the contest. At times both the line and backfield seemed to be functioning perfectly but each time the Ordite march would be halted as it neared the 20-yard line, and the Apostles began to apply the pressure.

The starting lineups:

Arcadia Looks Like Victor Over Scotia

Only two Loup Valley and two Mid Six Conference games are on tap for this week's schedule of football games. Ravenna will play its first Mid Six game of the season Friday as they go to St. Paul to meet the Apostles. The Broken Bow Indians come to Ord Friday night for their first Mid Six game with the Ord Chanticleers.

Arcadia will meet the Scotia Tigers on the Tigers' field Friday in what appear to be an easy game for the Arcadians. Burwell will meet Loup City on the Loup City field in the remaining Loup Valley game, with the Wranglers as the underdog.

Comstock high school will attempt to hang their fourth straight victory of the season as they go to Merna. Ansley will have it out with Calloway on the Calloway field.

Games this week:
 Broken Bow at Ord
 Ravenna at St. Paul
 Arcadia at Scotia
 Burwell at Loup City
 Comstock at Merna
 Ansley at Calloway.

Who's Who In Ord Football

CHARLES CETAK.

"Let me hit 'em! Let's get going!" Yessir, he's the "rainiest" man on the Chanticleer team and there is no man on the team who digs into the game any more than "Charlie." Cetak, working along with Koupal at the end positions makes one of the best pair of ends to be found in these parts. Charlie also does some fine tackling of his own special brand and he really goes down under those punts in a hurry! Charley weighs 150 pounds is 6 ft. 1/2 inch tall and has lettered one year in football and one year in track.

DICK KOUPAL.

Only a sophomore this year but man-o-man, can he play football! Dick Koupal holds down one of the end positions on the Chanticleer team and he "holds it" in a very excellent way. He has a manner of tackling that makes the opposing team think twice before they try an end run in his direction and when a pass play from Clark to Koupal is called—watch out! Dick weighs 145 pounds, is 5 ft. 9 inches tall, and has lettered in football one year.

Loup City Loses To Ansley Eleven

Loup Valley and Mid Six football had a bumpy time of it last week as some very close as well as very lopsided scores were chalked up.

In Loup Valley competition, Scotia made a trip to Taylor where they steam-rolled the Taylor eleven 33 to 0 for the third straight loss of the season for the Taylor boys. Arcadia had an easy time of it on their home field as they discarded the light North Loup team with a tall 34 to 0 verdict. In the remaining Loup Valley game, Ord had it out with St. Paul on the Apostles field, fighting to a 0-0 draw.

In non-conference games the Loup Valley and Mid Six teams fared lightly, coming out on the wrong end of several large scores. Ansley cleaned up on Coach "Bullet" Brown's team to the tune of 18 to 6, while Central City lost out to David City by a 14 to 6 score. Sargent had a tough time of it but came through to beat Broken Bow 6-0 on the Indian field. Ravenna tried hard but was unable to break up a 6 to 6 tie with the Litchfield gridsters. The Comstock eleven marked up their third straight win of the season by decisioning Mason City 14 to 0.

MID SIX CONFERENCE STANDINGS.

Team	w.	l.	t.	Pct.
Loup City	1	0	0	1.000
Ord	0	0	1	.000
St. Paul	0	0	1	.000
Arcadia	0	1	0	.000
Ravenna	0	0	0	.000
Broken Bow	0	0	0	.000

Battle Royal When Indians Play in Ord

"Let's scalp the Indians" was the byword in the Ord football camp this week as the Chanticleers really dug into practice work preparing for a battle royal with the Broken Bow Indians on the Busel park field Friday night. The game will be played under the lights and will start promptly at eight o'clock.

Last week's football results show that both teams were on the right side of the score sheet as Ord battled with the St. Paul Apostles to secure a scoreless tie decision and the Broken Bow lads went down under the passing attack of Coach Copeland's Sargent high gridsters, 6 to 0.

The Ord-Broken Bow struggle will be the third game of the season for the Ordites and the second Mid Six conference game to be played. The result of this game will count only on the Mid Six standings however, as Broken Bow high school is not included in the Loup Valley conference. Last year saw the Chanticleers win a hard fought battle with the Indians by a lone touchdown, 7 to 0.

Coach Ed Metz and his assistant Gaylord Hendrickson had a big turnout for football this year at Broken Bow high school but they are still gloomy over the prospects of the coming season. Very few of last year's regulars are back in the lineup and everyone of the 1935 backfield, which was rated as one of the best in Central Nebraska, graduated last year. The game last week with Sargent was the opening game of the season for the Custer county boys and they held the Sargent eleven well in hand until the final quarter when their aerial defense broke down, enabling Sargent to score. Last year's contest between the two teams saw them play to a 0 to 0 tie before one of the largest crowds ever assembled for a gridiron clash in this part of the state. Ord fans are giving the home a good chance to win if they come back into form and play the same type of football they exhibited in the Scotia game two weeks ago.

BRIEF SPORTS NOTES.

About fifteen Junior High school gridsters are reporting for workouts to the new junior high coach, Frank Lee. Straight practice work is being held and several games with outside competition are being planned.

The grade school athletic coach, B. A. Eddy, announces that play in the grade school round-robin football tournament has gotten under way and games will continue to be played between the four entered teams on Tuesday and Thursday nights. Last week the Cornhuskers took a 19 to 13 win from the Gophers. # Dr. Earl Wise, Back in Ord After 5 Years in Alaska, Displays Gold

Climate on Alaskan Coast Milder Than Here, Says Native Ord Man.

After spending 4 1/2 years in Valdez, Alaska in the practice of the medical and dental profession, Dr. Earl E. Wise returned to Ord Monday. He returned to Seattle by steamer, then came by plane to Grand Island—the trip taking only 13 hours—and made the last lap of his long journey by rail. Here he will visit his father, A. J. Wise and later may locate in California or one of the other west coast states.

Contrary to general belief, climate on the coast of Alaska is quite temperate. Although winters are long the temperature seldom drops lower than 10 degrees below the zero mark. In the interior much colder weather prevails, naturally.

Alaska is a wonderful country for the man interested in hunting or fishing, Dr. Wise says. Fish abound in the streams and bays and waterfowl always are present in great numbers. Within a twenty minute walk of Valdez one could kill all the ducks and geese he desires. The hunting season on such fowl this fall is from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15, much earlier than here.

Bear, deer, caribou and other game animals are found in the mountains and Valdez hunters go by airplane to hunt them, always bringing back game. Dr. Wise killed several bears, large and small, on these trips.

To friends he is displaying samples of the gold for which Alaska is famous, both placer gold and gold-bearing quartz. In a little glass vial he has a dozen or so small nuggets of gold that are worth over $50, he says. A piece of quartz no larger than a golf ball contains $46 worth of gold. Such quartz is worth $50,000 per ton.

Greatest drawback to living in Alaska is that there isn't enough to do, relates Dr. Wise. "Most of the men go in for drinking or card playing; I was never very much of a hand for either so I got three or four dogs and spent my spare time hunting and hiking," says the young physician.

Alaska is a land of business opportunity, though there isn't the hustle and bustle displayed in the States, he says.

As a boy in Ord Dr. Wise was a star football player and later at Creighton was a great fullback, the greatest that college ever had in the estimation of sports writers. He won mention on several "all" teams.

His decision to leave Alaska and return to Ord now was prompted by the state of his father's health. Although Mr. Wise is not bedfast his health is not the best. His son hopes to induce him to join him in a trip to California with the idea of locating there.

quality to be present free at this celebration. The Rosebud Revue probably was most enjoyed but the knife throwing act thrilled the crowd and other numbers were almost equally appreciated.

Until long after the evening speaking program, which was held on the platform with Ralph W. Norman as master of ceremonies, the town was crowded, people being loath to go home after spending such an enjoyable day. Dances at the two Ord halls were free to all who cared for this pastime and both were largely attended.

Special mention should be made of the business district's magnificent decorations and lights, the former being the work of Ed Kokes and his fellow members of the Ord Booster club and the lighting effects being the work of Chester Austin and helpers. Never has Ord been more elaborately decorated and merchants cooperated by placing blue and white decorations in their windows and on their store fronts. The whole west side of the court house was a mass of flags, banners and bunting, the speakers' platform was draped in bunting and every light standard in the business district bore flags and bunting.

A part of the program added at the last minute but enjoyed by many was the airplane stunting by Jack Jefford. For twenty minutes he thrilled the crowd with death-defying stunts, concluding with a sideslip that brought his plane almost to the ground before he flattened out and glided to safety. It was a great exhibition by a great aviator.

So much was going on in Ord Thursday that not everything could be seen by the crowd but it is always better to have too much entertainment than too little, the committee felt, and no expense was spared. Cost of the celebration to donors was about $1,500.

Merchants, who remained open until 6:00, report Thursday as their biggest mid-week business day in years. Already a move has been started to provide funds for a similar free day on October 1 each autumn.

A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from John 1:1, 3: "In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Sin, sickness, and death are comprised in human material belief, and belong not to the divine Mind. They are without real origin or existence. They have neither Principle or permanence, but belong with all that is material and temporal, to the nothingness of error, which simulates the creations of Truth." (page 286-7).

Congressman Pictures North Loup Valley As Creation New Wealth

Congressman Harry B. Coffey, from the Nebraska fifth district, Thursday addressed citizens of the North Loup river valley at Ord, where they gathered to celebrate the "beginning of an era of development which will bring prosperity to the people of the North Loup Valley," to quote the Nebraska congressman who as a first term in Washington earned a position in the committee on agriculture.

"The construction of this project will not only provide employment, thus creating greater purchasing power among those now employed in your communities, but will create new wealth now latent. With the completion of this project the resources of this valley will be developed. It will stimulate new enterprises in the valley as the productivity of the land is increased by irrigation. It will provide in the future insurance against crop failures due to the drouth," said Congressman Coffey in opening his remarks.

"Prosperous towns will grow into cities as the larger volume of products from your irrigated farms flow to market. Your farming population must be greatly increased and new farm homes built in order to intensively cultivate your irrigated land. Business in your towns will increase in proportion to the increased productivity. Cheap power and new crops will attract new industries," he added.

"I can visualize this valley ten years hence as a veritable garden spot with flourishing cities and towns teeming with new activities," the speaker prophesied.

Congressman Coffey then traced the efforts of Senators Burke and Norris and himself in Washington with Public Works Administration officials. First, he said, he found the North Loup project, along with the Middle Loup project, rejected in the engineering and finance divisions and set himself to work to get both projects revived.

"The first gleam of hope came when the power division was set up in the Public Works Administration. Mr. Foreman and Mr. Wingfield, of this division, gave friendly consideration to these projects and helped to set the stage for PWA approval," said Congressman Coffey.

"Those of us in Washington, Senator Norris, Senator Burke and I were doing everything we could. Governor Cochran came down and gave them a shot. Bert Hardenbrook came down and stayed with us until PWA approved the project. Others were doing their part. However, in the final allocation of funds, there was only money enough to take care of approximately one-third of the PWA projects that had been approved and disappointment stared us in the face from that allocation last year," continued Mr. Coffey.

This year in the house we made a determined effort to "earmark funds" for the PWA to finance such projects, said Coffey. The house amendment was defeated. But, continued Mr. Coffey, the battle in the house crystallized sentiment favoring the "earmarking" of funds for PWA out of the relief appropriation.

"Thanks to our good senators from Nebraska, when the bill was considered in the Senate an amendment was voted to earmark $300,000,000 for PWA projects. This amendment was later accepted by the House in the conference report. Our hopes were again relived, but other obstacles arose," related the speaker.

The application for the project was changed by an amendment to take power from Sutherland, Tri-County and Columbus hookups, department engineers contending that power could be supplied to the district cheaper in that way than it could be developed by the district itself, explained Mr. Coffey.

"About the first of August an announcement was made that relief labor must be available in the community to secure approval of pending PWA projects, and as a consequence the Loup River projects were not included in the first list of projects approved.

"Fearing the final approval would not be granted, I wrote to President Roosevelt depicting the severe ravages of the drouth in Nebraska, setting forth the relief that would be needed later as a result of crop failures in the Middle Loup and North Loup projects. I urged the president to approve these projects to insure the people of the Middle and North Loup valleys against future crop failures and that immediate construction of the projects would furnish employment to those in distress this year because of the drouth," said Mr. Coffey.

Mr. Coffey read the reply he received from President Roosevelt under date of August 10, in which the president assured the fifth district congressman that he was greatly concerned about the drouth conditions in Nebraska and promised to give further consideration to approving loans and grants to the North Loup and Middle Loup projects.

"Four days later the projects were approved. As a result of the concerted efforts of all concerned and the splendid cooperation of Senator Norris, President Roosevelt gave you this project," said Mr. Coffey.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Not So Smart.

Recently some friends of ours became the proud parents of their first child. Although the event was thirty days late of expectation, they had everything ready, even to the announcement cards. Each day for thirty days their friends expected the mail man to bring that little letter and these friends had to wait in suspense all that time.

I will recall our first such experience. We thought we were very smart. More, that first child was a wonder to be sure. We sent fancy cards to many people; the event was placed on the front page in the local paper; friends and relatives from far and near came to view the tiny new comer; they proclaimed him a perfect image of his dad, or mother; and some said he looked for the world like his grandfather; and the aunts and great aunts nearly came to quarrel over who should hold him when he bawled, which was most of the time.

Each month we took a snapshot of him and then as he got a year old we had his picture taken and then at two we had another. We kept a little book of his first words, of his first step, and of the smart things he did and said and it took quite a book to be sure. He was a wonderful child. We were proud to take him to church and delighted to have others fondle him and exclaim over his growth. Later when he brought home good grades from school we tooted it mildly far and wide.

We fed him on diet (including carrots, poor thing) studied books that Robert Simmons sent us and weighed the child regularly. We could tell to the ounce how much he weighed and if he failed to make the gain some week we hurried him to the doctor. We clothed him in the fanciest pictured blankets and rubber pants and bathed him forty times a day. He had a whole room full of toys.

A sister came along when he was about two and took some of his attention. We sent a few cards for her (some that were left over from the first child) and took a snapshot picture or two and at about a year bought an eight dollar picture of the two kids together. She really looked more like her mother or father, but there was not so much study of facial traits as for the first one. She grew fine but we never recorded any weights—we just knew she was healthy enough—and if she was asleep in the cab we never wakened her to put her on display. She said smart and cute things and once in a while we would record them in her book, but we were pretty busy and didn't take the trouble very often. The aunts would take her and walk the floor if it was necessary to keep the din from carrying us off entirely.

And then the third stranger came one night to make his home with us. He was a pert little fellow and meant business. He wasn't going to take a back seat because of his size, and well enough for him it was too.

On the back sheet of the local paper was a mere mention of the arrival. These things had occurred so often at our house they ceased to be news any more. There were no cards left and consequently none sent.

When he cried he was given something to eat and there was no pacing the floor. He grew battling his rights, knowing his only weapon at that time was his vocal cords and he made the most of it. The relatives had him looking like his dad and there were no arguments and nothing to be bragged about. He had no pictures unless he crowded his way into the snapshot when the bunch was taken.

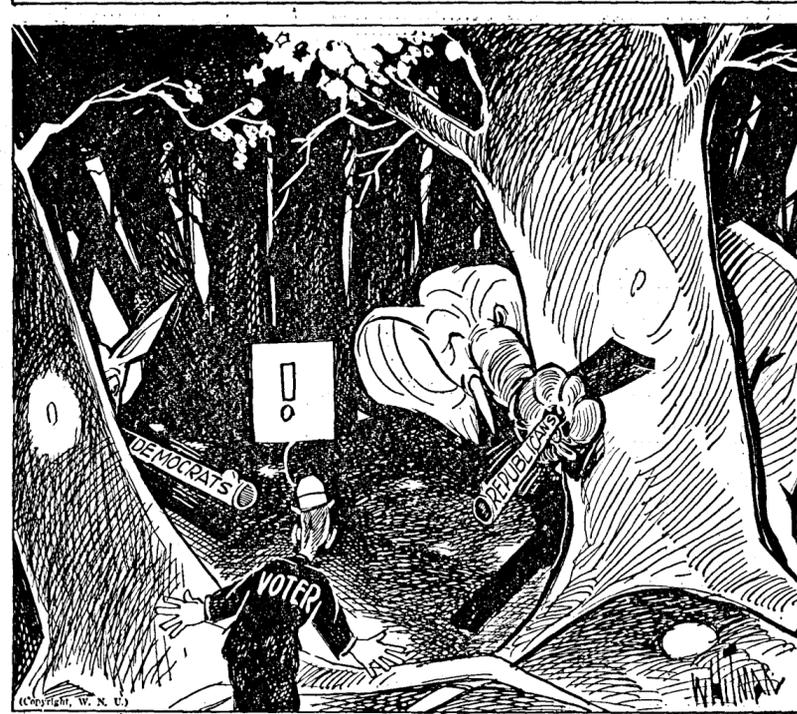

We never took him to church until he was big enough to go in to a class. We left him with his grandparents for them to give the bottle if he demanded. He had to play with his brother's cast off toys and wear out his brother's outgrown clothes. We had long since lost the diet books—he ate the same fare as the rest of us. He sat at the end of the table until he whipped the crowd for a better place. He said smart things and later got good grades in school, but why shouldn't he, his brother and sister had? He grew strong like a cyprus stick and was craftier than either of the other children but there never was a scratch of a note made of it. We had a ten cent stamp picture taken of him.

We thought no less of him than the first child, in fact we were very proud that he could make his way without the guiding hand of, and the trouble to his elders. He had become a matter of habit with us—a matter of course. This child raising had become a fixed affair of the household and there was nothing so alarming or noteworthy as we could see. We could raise children, our folks had raised children and there were very few other people who had not done or were doing the same.

Alfalfa Seed Again.

Bud Knapp, who has been buying alfalfa seed over the country, told me that he paid one man $3500. for seed of fifty acres of ground. He had bought seed that went as high as twelve and a half bushels to the acre. The price now for good seed is $11.40 a bushel.

The Big Show.

My wife and I and the kids enjoyed the program in Ord very much Thursday night. The kids wearied a little of the speeches as did their dad but were awakened quite thoroughly at the dagger throwing.

Something Different

Glen Able caught the fancy of the crowd at irrigation day when he and his helpers tossed overboard hundreds of frail wooden gliders. The little planes descended tippy-turvy over the facade of the Nebraska State bank, while below a wild crowd fought to get them. Of course the biggest, tallest boys soon had arms full of the little craft, while four year olds cried for them, couldn't catch one.

I walked up to a boy with a pleasant face who had several. He was excitedly telling his companions: "Some old hen came along and said 'Give me one of those' and grabbed one! What do you think of that?" Having all kinds of crust, I heard this, but nevertheless asked "Could I please have one for my little boy?" The young fellow gave me one with a crippled wing. Kerry, not three, was thrilled.

Then he looked a bit ashamed, cried after us, "Here, let me give you a good one." "Oh no," said I, "My little boy won't know the difference; he'll like this one just as well."

The little car ride was a big hit with the children, though it took practically a HOG to get a ride on it. Bigger children liked to ride around, looking superior and bored, while the ones couldn't take possession of a car for themselves, and unless a rude adult accompanied them, got no ride whatever.

Out-of-town people liked the entertainment, I hear. Burwellians thought the day most pleasant, called the entertainment acts all good. Hurray for Ord, and for Tom Springer. He is the one to thank if the entertainment was of good quality. And if other towns now like Ord a bit better, that is fine too. We haven't taken much pains to make our neighboring towns fond of us, have we?

water; the Red Cross got it to them, laboriously. Some towns were threatened with typhoid from drinking foul water; the Red Cross got a plane to drop the precious serum to protect these people from typhoid. Many people could find no trace of their loved ones; the Red Cross aided them, helped identify stragglers, children, odd bodies, brought together again families, loving ones. Many families had no food, no shelter, but the Red Cross was there to help, as fast as it could.

Think twice when you are asked to join the Red Cross. Some time when you cannot reach the scene of a disaster, or are powerless to help, the Red Cross may rescue your child or help your father and mother after an earthquake. That dollar is the best money you can ever spend. It is bound to help some one. Join the Red Cross. Hunt up the membership committee, don't wait for them to chase you down. And give them your aid.

The Phillips filling station had a crowd around it a week or two ago when a rattlesnake in a cramped cage was there to see, and also a coyote puppy. Children were bug-eyed looking at the two wild things in captivity. I see the coyote puppy chained to the wall of Able's garage now. I am sorry for him. He is in a tough spot, poor fellow.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Some kind subscriber brought in two more eggplant recipes but failed to leave her name. If we keep on finding new eggplant recipes aren't getting to be able to keep eggplant in stock.

Stuffed Eggplant.

Cut eggplant in two scrape out all the inside, put it in a sauce pan with a little minced veal, ham or chicken; cover with water and boil until soft. Drain off the water add two tablespoons of dry crumbs, one tablespoon butter, one half minced onion, salt and pepper. Stuff each half of the hull with the mixture, dot with butter and bake fifteen minutes.

Eggplant Loaf.

Melt one-third cup butter in a pan, chop one onion fine and brown lightly in butter. Add three cups mashed, cooked eggplant, one-half cup top milk or undiluted evaporated milk, one-half teaspoon salt, one-fourth teaspoon pepper, one-fourth teaspoon mustard, one-fourth teaspoon cloves, one egg beaten light. Cut off top of crust of small loaf of bread, remove center of loaf. Fill with eggplant mixture, strew with three fourths cup chopped nuts or shredded ham. Dot with butter, bake in a moderate oven twenty-five minutes, 325 to 350 degrees F. The oven should not be too hot or the bread will toast crisp. Serve on a platter surrounded with baked tomato halves and lettuce.

The Quiz will gladly give credit if the donor of the above recipes will report her name.

Only two more weeks to receive recipes for the calendar. Send in any of yours at once that you would like to see used in this yearly Quiz feature.

Stuffed Peppers.

Put one cup cooked meat through a food chopper, blend with one-half cup cooked rice, add one-half teaspoon salt, pepper to taste. Melt two tablespoons butter, add one small chopped onion, cook slowly until the onion is tender. Add to first mixture, beat one egg and blend in thoroughly. Add one-half cup grated cheese and stir into mixture with a fork. Cut off a thin slice from the stem end of four medium sized green peppers, remove the seeds and pith. Cut a thin slice from the bottom of the peppers, so they will stand up. Parboil the peppers in boiling salted water two minutes, drain, fill with the cheese and rice mix-double liability hanging over the heads of stockholders in state banks is an invitation to switch their banks out of the state system and into the national system because national banks, after July 1, 1937, will be exempt from the double liability provision.

Another reason was that the system of strict examinations of state banks, coupled with the fact that most of our state banks are protected by the Federal Deposit Insurance Act, makes the double liability requirement not necessary to the adequate protection of depositors in the state banks.

Unless the people of Nebraska approve the amendment repealing the double liability feature of the constitution as it applies to state banks, there is danger that there will be a steady decline in the number of state banks. Many communities cannot support a national bank, the minimum new capital requirement of which is $50,000.

Congress saw the desirability of repealing the provision in the national banking act providing for double liability of stockholders in the national banks, following the passage of the Federal Deposit Insurance Act. A number of states have repealed the provision as it relates to their state banks. Other states undoubtedly will do likewise. Nebraska has an opportunity to follow their example in November. It will be a step forward in modernizing and actually strengthening the banking system of the state.

Miss Mary Hawkins was married to Louis B. Knudsen at Bloomfield.

25 Years Ago This Week.

Robert Nay bought the Aldrich farm across the river, paying $92-50 per acre.

Dr. Emma Robbins returned from a missionary meeting at Topeka and announced that she would leave soon for China to do medical missionary work.

A unique horse deal came to light when Joe Warwick was seen driving a fine looking horse about town. A little detective work by the Quiz editor revealed the fact that Warwick acquired the horse from W. D. Long, who had purchased it from Harvey Mann, several years before. In the course of the Mann-Long horse deal Long scolded the remark that the horse was so aged it would live only a year or two longer and said he would take the horse at his figure, a low one, and agreed to give Mann two tons of hay every year as long as the horse lived. The horse continued to live and Long had scrupulously lived up to his bargain, delivering two tons of hay to Mann every year even though total worth of the hay far exceeded the horse's value at the time he bought it.

At Mary Ann Cornell's birthday party she was given a unique gift, the spoon used by President Taft at a reception held for him in Hastings. Mrs. Perryman was the donor.

THIS WEEK

One Human Shipload

A Floating Microcosm
Intelligent Mrs. Widener
Mrs. Astor and Dr. Carrel

On Board the Normandie. — The ancient writer made this admission:

There are three things which are too wonderful for me, yea, four which I know not:
The way of an eagle in the air; the way of a serpent upon a rock; the way of a ship in the midst of the sea; and the way of a man with a maid.

What would Arthur Brisbane that inspired writer say of this modern ship in the midst of the sea? The biggest ship he ever saw could be hung from the ceiling of the dining salon on this boat or tucked away in a corner of the sun deck, disturbing no one.

A modern ocean liner, Queen Mary, Normandie, Rex or Europa, as it crosses the ocean indifferent to waves and winds, is a small world in itself, a microcosm, with this little earth playing the role of "Cosmos." If this ship should sail to some new, uninhabited island of Utopia, it might supply everything necessary to start a new civilization better than the one invented by Sir Thomas More, who has been made a saint since he wrote "Utopia" to amuse himself and had his head cut off for his Catholic faith.

On board, with his friend, George Bacon, is Myron Taylor, head of the United States Steel company, biggest industrial unit on earth. He would supply the material for skyscrapers, ships, railroads and machinery, plus organization.

Simon Guggenheim would tell them how to make corporations profitable, by "holding on."

Various newspaper workers on the boat would be ready to start "The New Utopia Gazette"; Floyd Gibbons for war correspondent, plus members of the Edward H. Butler family, that own the Buffalo News, and the able Abraham Cahan, known to more New Yorkers than any editor in America, with one exception. And, most important to newspaper prosperity, the ship carries Mrs. George D. Widener of Philadelphia, who has traveled up and down in every corner of the earth and says to your narrator: "Mr. Brisbane, I have always wanted to meet you, because I read your articles every day."

There spoke the nucleus of a highly intelligent reading public.

Mrs. Vincent Astor, on her way back from a grouse moor in Scotland, would resume her real job of promoting deep music, finding co-operators in the passenger list —Madame Flagstad, the admirable Norwegian singer, a deep soprano able to make Isolda more impressive than Wagner ever imagined her. On board also is Arthur Bodanzky, ready to conduct the "New Utopia orchestra." Mayor LaGuardia of New York will tell you how earnestly Mrs. Astor talks to him about her plans for a great musical center. But Mr. LaGuardia will never know what shudders would sweep from Ward McAllister's pineal gland to his Achilles tendon if he could hear Mayor LaGuardia say of the young lady in question, "That Mrs. Astor is a nice, serious girl, thoroughly in earnest."

To make this list complete, P. G. Wodehouse is on board, one who could and should describe this shipload of "important humanity" going nowhere in particular, for no reason in particular, some in the steerage, some "tourist" and some, with cabins on the sundeck, whose names break up passenger list continuity to make room for the magic words "maid, valet and chauffeur."

The contest between modern ships for the "Atlantic blue ribbon," or ocean championship, held at this moment by the British Queen Mary, supplies most amazing proof of modern engineering efficiency. Consider that, in a race across 3,000 miles of water, the Queen Mary, after being beaten several times by the French liner Normandie, beat the latter and took the Atlantic blue ribbon by a margin of less than half a mile, across 3,000 miles of ocean.

The oftener you cross, the more clearly you realize that the ocean is a great deal too big for our small planet. It is all one ocean—Atlantic, Pacific, Arctic, Antarctic, all touching—water covering three-quarters of the earth's surface.

Consider the Pacific; take your world map, Mercator's projection, fold it over from Asia toward New York and beyond. It will cover the United States, the Atlantic ocean and all Europe to the Bosphorus.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Crop insurance will probably be the next type of government farm program, as both presidential candidates are advocating it. Premiums will be paid to the government in grain, and payments by farmers to the government may begin in 1937 if there are large yields of those crops included under the program.

The sizes of premium rates will depend on local risks. A farmer who has burned out five years out of ten will pay a higher rate than a farmer who has been hit by drouth only one year in ten. The farmers of eastern Iowa will not have to pay for the drouth losses of western Kansas.

The grain which is paid to the government in the form of premiums will be kept off the market until a drouth year comes. It will then be given back to insured farmers in such amounts as to bring their production up to about 75 percent of normal.

The removal of portions of big crops from the markets and their storage for insurance should have a good effect on the price of the remainder.

The crop insurance plan may be tied up with production control to avoid the danger of piling up overly large reserves. The plan will be a voluntary one, and farmers need not participate unless they want to.

Might Lose State Banks.

At the general election on November 3, Nebraska voters will pass upon an amendment to the state constitution which repeals the provision for double liability of the stockholders in state banks.

Several sound reasons actuated the Nebraska legislature in submitting this amendment to the voters for their approval. One of the principal reasons was that the

Pioneer Laid To Rest Wednesday

Charley Hanford Freeman, son of Parish and Mary Davis Freeman, was born Jan. 6, 1852 at Mendon, New York and departed this life on September 28, 1936 at his home in Lee Park, near Arcadia at the age of 84 years, 8 mo. and 22 days. On Nov. 8, 1875 he was united in marriage to Julia A. Hall at Portage, Mich.

Three children were born to this union, two of whom are living.

On April 14, 1877 with his brother Harlow, he left Kalamazoo, Mich., for Nebraska. They came by train to Lincoln and from there by team to Lee Park looking for a place to locate. After filling on the homestead where he was still making his home at the time of his death, he and his brother Harlow returned to Lincoln where Charley worked in a brick yard during the summer. In October 1878 his wife and infant son and her parents joined him. After a week's stay in Lincoln they journeyed to the new land in a covered wagon and entered into the duties of building a home. They built their first sod house and when completed it cost a dollar and a half. A few weeks later there was a prairie fire. They succeeded in saving their few possessions by putting them on the ground where the sod had been broken for the house. At first they lived mostly on wild meat. Their bread was made of corn which they ground in an old coffee mill. Fifty cents worth of sugar lasted them all the first winter.

Grand Island was the nearest railroad town and he drove a team of oxen there to market his produce and obtain provisions. While in Grand Island one time the state was visited with a blizzard. Charley left in the middle of the night walking the distance from Grand Island to Lee Park. He dug wells by hand for fifty cents a day to get money to buy their first cow. Mr. Freeman took an active part in civic things. He was an honest, and upright citizen. He leaves to mourn his departure one son, Clifford with whom he made his home, one daughter, Mrs. Hattie Johnson. His wife passed away on Nov. 19, 1915 after a long illness, a son died at the age of 8. He is also survived by two brothers Willis of Chula Vista, Calif., and Ed Freeman of Lincoln, one sister, Mrs. Frankie Thompson of Los Angeles, Calif., and many other relatives. Funeral services were held at the old home in Lee Park, Wednesday, Sept. 30, 1936, with Rev. Hendricson officiating. Messrs. Harold Weddel and Lowell Finney rendered three selections. The pallbearers were Messrs. Ed Freeman, Eldora Johnson, N. P. Carver, W. Bennet, W. Pickett and C. True. Burial was made beside his wife in Lee Park cemetery.—Arcadian.

No. Loup Project Has 32,000 Acres Signed-Dunnire

All PWA Requirements Have Been Fulfilled; Contract Lettings Scheduled.

Fulfilling all PWA loan and grant requirements for the next three years, the North Loup power and irrigation project has 32,000 acres signed, the Quiz is informed by E. H. Dunnire, general manager. Contracts for several hundred more acres have been mailed to non-resident owners, upon their requests, and are expected back by every mail.

The PWA required that 30,000 out of the district's 48,000 irrigable acres be signed before any money could be given the district. Now that this requirement has been met the first installment of grant money, probably about $35,000, is expected at once. More funds will be made available as the district requires them, it is promised.

Litwiler Bros., of Seward, who were low bidders on the first ten miles of canal between Ord and North Loup, have posted a bond to assure performance of their contract and the bond has been approved by Guy Laverty, district attorney. Tuesday evening directors met and formally signed the contract. It now goes to PWA officials in Omaha for approval and as soon as this approval is given the contractor will begin moving equipment on the ground ready to begin work within ten days.

Advertising for bids on the other 66 miles of main canal will start next week, says Engineer-Manager Dunnire, with contract letting scheduled for either Nov. 6 or Nov. 9. About Nov. 1 advertising for bids on various structures such as the canal headgates will begin, with this letting scheduled for Nov. 30.

"All work under way by Christmas," is the motto of the office force at Ord, and Mr. Dunnire is working with his assistants fifteen or sixteen hours daily to accomplish the desired results.

Republicans Plan Rally October 23

Archie Geweke, chairman of the Valley county republican central committee, announces that a county-wide rally will be held in Ord Friday evening, October 23, out doors if weather permits and in the opera house if it is a cold evening. Several state candidates will be here and principal speakers will be Cullen N. Wright, candidate for congressman, W. H. Schilling, nationally known dairy expert, who will represent the national committee and Mrs. Elsie Diers, of Lincoln, who will represent the state committee. More complete announcement of the program will be made next week.

Richard O. Johnson, republican candidate for attorney-general of Nebraska, visited Ord briefly Tuesday afternoon and spoke on main street to a small but attentive crowd. Dick Johnson is a Havelock, Neb., boy who began life as a laborer in the Burlington shops and there suffered an injury that forced him to enter less strenuous lines of work. He has been conspicuously successful in the legal profession, represented his district in the state senate and was the republican candidate for attorney general two years ago, polling a big vote. Dick makes friends wherever he travels and no doubt will carry Valley county at the November election, as he has many admirers here.

Landon Favored In Ord Rotary Club Straw Ballot

Rotarians of Ord favor the republican ticket, it was learned Monday evening when a "straw vote" was taken as a program feature. For president Alf M. Landon lead President Roosevelt 13 to 7 and Dwight Griswold lead Roy Cochran for governor 12 to 8. Only exception was in the senatorial vote, George W. Norris receiving 9, Robert G. Simmons 7 and Terry Carpenter 4.

Four years ago the same club took a straw vote on Hoover and Roosevelt and Hoover lead by an even wider margin than Landon does this year.

Claims Alabama Favored by Triple A

A charge that Alabama has benefited by Nebraska's loss in the Triple A and Canadian reciprocal trade agreement was made by Robert G. Simmons, Republican nominee for the U. S. Senate, speaking at Grant Thursday morning.

"Alabama, home of Senator Black who has been sent into Nebraska to extol the virtues of the New Deal, was paid for not planting 2 1/2 million acres of cotton, but was allowed to plant grains, vegetables and grasses on this land," he declared.

"So while 4 1/2 million acres of rich Nebraska farm land stood idle, while our farm labor was thrown out of jobs, and workers on the trucks and railroads, in the packing houses, in the mills and processing plants, in the warehouses and stores were unemployed because of much less of our crops to haul, process and sell, Alabama has been planting our crops, raising our animals, and profiting by our loss," he emphasized.

To substantiate this statement he showed figures that while Nebraska reduced her wheat acreage 24%, Alabama raised hers 89%; while Nebraska reduced her corn acres 26%, Alabama increased hers 19%; while Nebraska's hogs were cut 38%, Alabama's increased 5%, and this in spite of the fact that Alabama farmers were paid around $460,000 to decrease her corn and hog production; while Nebraska's cattle decreased 7.8%, Alabama's increased 15%; while Nebraska's dairy cattle decreased 7%, Alabama increased hers 10%; while Nebraska's cheese production fell off 33%, Alabama increased hers 224%. Alabama increased her acreage of peanuts 14%, of potatoes 26%, sweet potatoes 26%, of truck crops 37%.

Mr. Simmons accused the reciprocal trade agreement of allowing Canada to ship dairy and beef cattle, cream, poultry, hay, cheese, butter, horses, potatoes, milk, ham, bacon, fresh and smoked meats into this country to compete with Nebraska's products while it did not compete with Alabama's crops.

"The Triple A has made us reduce our production because they say there aren't enough markets, and at the same time they have divided the market we had with southern states and Canada," he stated.

"Senator Black speaks for Alabama. Alabama's interests are not ours. I speak for Nebraska's welfare. Shall we support Alabama or Nebraska in this election?"

Marching Contest At Hastings Won By Ord Musicians

Bohumir Kryl, 2 Other Judges Decide Duncan-Led Band of 12 Entered.

Ord high school's 60-piece band under the leadership of Dean S. Duncan was declared winner in a marching contest at Hastings Tuesday, in competition with eleven other bands numbering over 500 central Nebraska prep school musicians. Holdrege took second place in the contest.

The city of Hastings was host to a great group of musicians from surrounding towns Tuesday, occasion being the appearance there of Bohumir Kryl, world renowned cornetist and band leader, with his famous orchestra. The Tehama Temple Shrine sponsored the Kryl concert.

Visiting bands assembled at the city auditorium at 2:00 for a huge mass concert directed by Kryl. Led by the famous conductor, the 500 prep school musicians played the national anthem and "Stars and Stripes Forever", a march number.

After this concert the bands marched in parade from the auditorium over a circuit route through the city. As they marched they were judged on appearance and playing ability by three judges, one of whom was Director Kryl.

Bands participating included those from Geneva, Edgar, Red Cloud, Scotia, Holdrege, Grand Island, Ord, Hastings College, Hastings high school, Superior, Axtell and Tehama Temple.

After the contest Kryl and his orchestra gave the first of their two contests scheduled for that day, to which all high school musicians and their sponsors were admitted free.

Ord musicians made the trip to Hastings in busses and private cars, returning home Tuesday evening.

Barta was called to reduce the fracture and states that both bones in the boy's right leg were broken.

5 Times As Many Lard Orders As She Could Fill

"For heaven's sake don't run my classified ad again; I had five times as many orders as I could fill," said Mrs. Charles Mason in the Quiz office Saturday. At a cost of 25c she had advertised home-rendered lard for sale.

With such a demand evident for home-rendered lard evidently other farm women can cash in on this business if they advertise their lard.

30 Cars of Beer Leave Storz Plant

A 30-car trainload of Winterbru beer left the Storz Brewery this week, marking the opening of the winter beer season. The size of this first shipment is an indication of how the winter beer idea has taken hold with the public. The Storz Brewing Co., reports that sales of Winterbru are already far in advance of what they were for a similar period last year.

The idea of a winter beer gained impetus in this country last year when the Storz Brewing Co. brought out "Winterbru." Winter beer has been popular in Europe for the past 75 years. Bock beer is the traditional beer in the spring. For summer a light, cooling beer is the favorite, and in the fall and winter a heavier beer with a decided warming effect is in demand.

This 30-car train is the first shipment of a large volume of orders. Daily from now on truckloads of Winterbru will leave the brewery bound for all important distribution centers in the Middle-West.

Prominent Speaker Coming. Jean Kirkland of Wyoming, said to be one of the best speakers out for the Townsend old age plan, will speak from the court house steps Saturday afternoon at 2:30 on October 24. Don't miss this good speaker.

Two Jury Trials May Be Required In Dr. Nay Case

Legal Snarl Seen; Kroger Overruled Lee Demurrer To Defense Pleading.

A legal mix-up that may require two jury trials to settle loomed Monday in the manslaughter case of State vs. Dr. Lee C. Nay when Judge E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, overruled a demurrer filed by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee and ordered a jury hearing on a plea in abatement filed by Davis & Vegetanz, attorneys for Dr. Nay.

During the Valley county fair Dean Wolf, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wolf, was killed when he dashed across the race track and was struck by Dr. Nay's car.

A coroner's jury held that Dr. Nay was driving in a criminally negligent manner, the jury verdict being the basis upon which County Attorney Lee filed manslaughter charges against Dr. Nay.

Joe Bartos, one of the jurors, was seriously ill during the last day of the hearing and when he signed the jury verdict and, upon the basis that he was mentally incompetent to serve legally upon such a jury, defense attorneys asked County Judge John L. Andersen to dismiss the charge.

Judge Andersen overruled this plea, Dr. Nay waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to district court under $1,000 bond, and then his attorneys filed in district court another plea in abatement, asking the district judge to set aside the indictment because of Juror Bartos' incompetence at the time of the coroner's jury hearing.

Dr. Nay never was legally indicted, they reasoned, and therefore should not be tried for the offense.

To this plea County Attorney Lee demurred, claiming that the coroner's jury was legally empaneled, that Juror Bartos was mentally competent and that the Nay indictment was legally sufficient. This demurrer was overruled Monday by Judge Kroger after a hotly contested argument between the various lawyers involved.

Status of the case at present is that a jury must be empaneled to decide the plea in abatement. In other words, a jury must determine whether or not Juror Bartos was mentally competent when he signed the verdict. Judges are allowed to decide only questions of law and since this is a question of fact the jury trial becomes necessary.

Should a jury in district court decide that Juror Bartos, since deceased, was legally competent to serve, another trial of the manslaughter charge itself will be necessary. Should the jury decide he was incompetent the charge against Dr. Nay must necessarily be dismissed.

Judge Kroger gave County Attorney Lee 20 days in which to file an answer to the plea in abatement and then will hold a hearing. If his ruling on this answer does not again change the status of the case a jury will be empaneled late in November or early in December to decide whether the plea shall stand and Dr. Nay be released or whether he shall be tried for manslaughter later.

Ord Rallies, Pushes Over 2 Touchdowns To Wallop Indians

Broken Bow Tough Foe But Brockman Gridders Take Them on Ord Field.

By Kendall Wiegardt.
Coming back in the final half to score two touchdowns, the Ord high school Chanticleers took a 12 to 0 victory over the Broken Bow Indians on the Bussell Park field last Friday night.

With this victory the Ord team now stands on the top rung of the Mid Six Conference ladder, although a tie game with St Paul will be placed against them in the final standings if several teams are undefeated.

A play by play account of the battle, following the game from the first whistle to the final tackle is given below:

First Quarter.
Broken Bow kicked off to Ord. Ord fumbled the kick and an Indian fell on the ball on Ord's twenty-third yard line. Ord put up a stone-wall defense and Broken Bow gained only one yard on the next four plays. The ball changed hands and Ord promptly punted. Broken Bow brought the ball back to their thirty-five. They gained seven yards on the first play. Then one yard. A seven yard run put the ball on the mid-stripe for a first down. A four yard loss and a two yard loss forced Broken Bow to punt. Ord returned the ball to their twenty-one yard line retributed with a punt. Broken Bow returned to mid field and after a one yard gain punted. The ball rolled out on Ord's three yard line and Haskell kicked in the shadow of his goal. Broken Bow brought the ball back to Ord's twenty-two yard line. The first play was good for seven yards. On the next two they gained another yard. Then they broke loose for nine yards, making it first and goal to go on Ord's five yard line. A yard was lost on the first play but a two yard gain made it third and four to go. Another yard was gained. Slipping through the line a Chanticleer threw Broken Bow for a six yard loss. Haskell was again punting from the end zone. Broken Bow carried the ball to the Ord forty-two yard line. After a two yard loss and an incomplete pass they punted. Ord brought the ball back to their seventeen at this point the quarter ended.

Second Quarter.
Haskell started the second quarter off with a bang, running fourteen yards to a first down. Two more gains of six yards each were made and another first down on their own forty-three. An end run lost nine yards. Nothing was gained on the next play. Then Ord fumbled and Broken Bow recovered on Ord's thirty-four. Broken Bow made nothing on the first try gained two yards on the next, had an incomplete pass and lost a yard. Ord's ball on their own thirty-three. Two gains of two and eight yards respectively made a first down. Eight yards were lost. Haskell punted, but Broken Bow was penalized fifteen yards for roughing the kicker, making it Ord's ball, first and ten, on the Broken Bow forty-four. Gains of six, three and five yards made it first down on Broken Bow's thirty. Four yards were gained. A pass was incomplete. On another pass play, the ball was fumbled and Broken Bow recovered on their own forty-two. Ord was offside on the next play, gaining five yards for the Indians. A completed pass was good for sixteen yards, bringing the ball down to Ord's thirty-seven. A pass was incomplete. Two yards were gained. Haskell intercepted a pass to end the half.

Third Quarter.
Ord kicked off and caught the ball carrier on his own twenty. Broken Bow punted but it was a bad punt and Ord gained possession of the ball on Broken Bow's thirty-three. Two plays gained one yard but the next two lost sixteen yards. The Indian's ball on their own forty-six. A loss of two yards and another loss of two yards forced a punt. Ord was put back to their twenty-eight. A gain of four yards and a loss of ten yards caused another punt. Broken Bow returned to their own forty-seven where a six yard loss and two incomplete passes forced a punt. Broken Bow returned the ball to their own thirty-six. A fifteen yard penalty gave them a first down. On Ord's forty-eight they gained two yards and then five more yards on a penalty against Ord, but lost seven on a fumble and still five more to the red which resulted in a punt. Ord returned to their thirty-three. After an incomplete pass and a gain of five yards, a pass, Clark to Haskell, was completed for twenty-four yards. Another pass, Clark to Barta, was good for twenty yards, making it first and ten on Broken Bow's eighteen. The quarter ended before another play could be put into operation.

Fourth Quarter.
A gain of three yards, another of five, and a third of two gave Ord a first down on Broken Bow's eight yard line. A seven yard gain made it second and a yard to go.

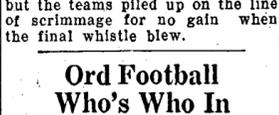

Harold Haskell crashed the line for the first touchdown. The pass for extra point was incomplete. Ord again kicked off. The Indians returned the kick to their thirty. The first play lost a yard. A pass gained five yards, and a line smash resulted in one more yard to the good. A punt was necessary and Ord returned it to their own twenty-eight. Gains of five, four, and five yards made a first down on their own forty-four. They gained eight yards, but lost half of them on a fumble. Another yard was gained. Then a punt. The Indians returned to their twenty-seven. They had one incomplete pass and attempted another but an Ord player intercepted it and ran the ball down to Broken Bow's four yard line. One yard was gained. A yard more gained. Barnes plowed through the line for the two remaining yards and a touchdown. On the conversion, Clark's kick went a bit to the west. Once again Ord kicked off. Broken Bow returned to their thirty-two. A gain of two yards and a punt. Ord returned the ball to their thirty-six yard line. A gain of five yards. Three more yards were gained, but the teams piled up on the line of scrimmage for no gain when the final whistle blew.

Ord Football Who's Who In

EDGAR BARNES.

Of course everyone knows this player. When you see a flash of red and a fleeting figure driving into the line you'll know that it is Edgar Barnes carrying the ball. Edgar is regarded as one of the fastest men on the squad this year and can be dealt out plenty of punishment as well as take it. Edgar is a junior and has one year of football experience behind him. Playing the halfback position he weighs 150 pounds and is 5 foot 9 inches tall.

DONALD VINCENT.

Fans meet Don Vincent, a mighty fine player if there ever was one. Don is a junior in Ord high school and with a year of letter experience behind him, he's really showing up in brilliant fashion at that guard position this season. Don weighs 130 pounds, is 5 foot 6 inches tall, and has one year of football experience behind him.

Junior III Team Plays.
Frank Lee's Junior High football eleven will see action today in their first game of the season versus the Ravenna junior high school team. The Ord junior high eleven has been practicing diligently during the past three weeks and is in good shape for the game. Although not much is known of the power of the Ravenna junior high eleven, a good game is assured between the two teams as they meet for the first time on the Bussell Park field this afternoon.

Tryouts for the Junior class play "It Won't Be Long Now" were held Monday evening, however results of the tryouts will not be announced until the latter part of the week.

Scotia-Comstock Clash Headliner

Gaining momentum weekly, the Loup Valley and Mid Six football conferences roll along this week with two games to be played in the Mid Six and three contests in the Loup Valley. One non-conference game is on the slate.

In the Mid Six Conference schedule, Coach Brown's Loup City eleven goes against St. Paul on the Apostle field in what appears to be a "fight to the finish." Another contest that looks like it should be equally as hot is the Ravenna-Broken Bow game, Coach Stan Johnson's Ravenna gridders will play the Indians on the Broken Bow field.

Comstock Against Scotia.
The Scotia Tigers are whetting their claws in a business like manner as they prepare to bring defeat to the Comstock gridders. Comstock now leads the Loup Valley Conference and will try to make it their fourth victory of the season as they play the Tigers on the Scotia field. Last week the Comstock team had their record marred with a 6 to 0 kicking at the hands of Merna high school.

Another good game is promised to the fans as Coach Copeland's Sargent eleven meets Arcadia on the Arcadia gridiron.

The Ord high Chanticleers are planning on making their third consecutive victory as they play the Burwell eleven on the Wrangler's field.

Wolbach at North Loup.
Several non-conference games are on tap this week as Wolbach come to North Loup, Shelton attacks Ansley at Ansley, Central City travels to Columbus, Anselmo plays at Litchfield, and Greeley plays at Clark.

Games this week:
Sargent at Arcadia.
Shelton at Ansley.
Ravenna at Broken Bow.
Ord at Burwell.
Central City at Columbus.
Greeley at Clark.
Comstock at Scotia.
Grand Island at Kearney.

25 Ord Girls To Sargent "Play Day"

Miss Helen Myers, new sponsor of the Ord high school G. A. A., announced last week that 25 local high school girls will make the trip to Sargent Oct. 20 for the annual first semester "Play Day."

The girls' play day idea was established in the Loup Valley several years ago and has since proven to be a very worthy program. The play day is a girls' athletic day, but is all for fun and friendship. Teams are organized in all girls' sports and the girls play all the various games during the day. The main difference between the girls' play day and boys' sports, is that the members of the teams are selected from several towns and not all from one town or school. Quite often it happens that only one girl from each town is on a team. The plan is to place the emphasis on good sportsmanship and friendship and not on the mere matter of winning a game.

Girls who have taken part in several of these "play days" will testify as to their value in getting acquainted with students from other high schools. The students of one school find their neighbors are much the same as they are themselves and after all are pretty nice people to know. The high school girls in the Loup Valley have proven the fact that all that is needed to get schools together on a friendly basis is to get acquainted. Once the students know each other, friendly contests will follow.

Ord high school girls to make the trip this year include Ruth Aule, Loretta Mae Achen, Mary Beranek, Jerrine Burrows, Virginia Clark, Barbara Dale, Marilyn Dale, Frances Duemey, Alberta Flynn, Mae Klein, Evelyn Sharp, Shirley Schrader, Margie Jean Smith, Eleanor Wolf, Irene Whiting, Betty Meyer, Lucille Lakin, Joy Loft, Alice Mazac and Eloise Norris.

Ord School News.

Judge Kroger of Grand Island was the featured speaker at a special convocation in Ord high school Monday. Mr. Kroger spoke on the topic, "An Airplane Flight to Amsterdam", in which he described sights seen while on a circuit tour of Holland, the same circuit trip as was taken by Will Rogers several years ago.

A new system of issuing report cards was being discussed this week by Superintendent Thompson and Principal Stoddard. The proposed plans call for report cards in Ord public schools to be issued quarterly instead of every six weeks. In this manner, students would receive only four report cards per year as compared with six with the method now being used.

For Those Who Want Super Quality Beef

Because of several requests we have decided to carry in our refrigerators at all times all Steak and Roast cuts of SUPER QUALITY BEEF. This is aged, corn-fed beef, guaranteed top quality and branded on the side of each piece as such by a famous packing house. It commands a little higher price than the grade of beef we ordinarily sell but when you want to serve something extra-good we suggest you try it, even though it costs a little more per pound.

We will continue to sell, also, the same good quality, low price Beef that we have been selling. When you need anything in the meat line, smoked, salt or fresh, come here first. We have what you want at the price you want to pay.

Stop the "Spending Spree" by the State House Political Machine

How Your Tax Bill Has Grown
(The following figures, taken from the official records of the state treasurer, show the tax income of the state government.)

	Last Year Under Bryan	First Year Under Cochran
Property tax	$4,530,053.49	$ 4,330,679.45
Gasoline tax	9,574,839.97	11,205,676.29
Tax on insurance-premiums, liquor, inspection fees, etc.	4,246,389.88	6,139,307.93
TOTALS	$18,351,283.34	$21,675,663.67

INCREASE in NEBRASKA tax burden in first year under COCHRAN $3,324,380.33

NOTE: The above figures do not include one penny of federal money. This is money which came out of the pockets of the people of Nebraska.

Who Says Cochran Has Not Created New Taxes?

- 1—How about the one-cent additional gas tax?
- 2—How about the $2,000,000 in liquor taxes?
- 3—How about the $2 head tax on every person under fifty years of age?

If the cost of our government had been held down, the income from liquor taxes would have brought about a real reduction in the property tax levy.

Field in honor of the donor. They have a lovely place but it has been permitted to run down thru lack of rains. The new $35,000.00 municipal swimming pool is being built on a hillside in the park, and at the present time most of the necessary dirt has been moved, and work will start soon on the concrete. It is laid out on a large scale, with most of the space to be used for swimming and a deeper spot in the middle of the east side for diving. At the top of this same hill is located the city's million gallon reservoir, from the top of which a splendid view of the valley can be obtained, including a mile wide stretch of sand down through the middle which they call the Platte river, and from which it is hoped to obtain enough water to irrigate the entire valley. The writer and daughter accepted an invitation of W. F. Herman, proprietor of Burwell's Leather Store, and went to Kearney for the day Sunday. Went down by the way of Nos. 53 and 83, Sargent and Ansley, and got another view of some of the most beautiful country in Nebraska at a time when it is looking the best, with the autumn leaves putting on their holiday attire. Arrived in time to attend the Kearney Christian church and hear a splendid sermon and an impressive service by Rev. Wayne Green, who has held the pastorate seven years. We ate dinner, not lunch, at the Allison Hotel, which is one of the quaint old style buildings which have not gone through the horrors of modernization. Mrs. Allison, a lady of the old school, serves meals family style, and the popularity of the plan is attested by the number of her patrons, who crowd the capacity of the large dining room each meal time. After dinner I went up and took a large look at Kearney's justly famous Good Samaritan hospital, a five story brick building which is a credit to any city. The Bert Hemmett family lives one block west of the hospital, so I visited them for a time, then Bert and I went up to the city park known as Harmon number of others are busy putting the first coat of paint on the buildings down at the fair grounds. This is one of the largest undertakings of the kind in this section, there being 70,000 feet of space to cover. A two coat job would take one man a full painting season to complete. The plan is to put on one coat this fall and another coat in the spring, which should make the buildings look like new. Andy Snyder is in charge of the work.

It is reported that the work on the Ericson-Burwell highway is about completed, after nearly a full year's work. This has been a very difficult proposition, due to the condition of the dirt which had to be used for the fills, and it has been very hard for even cars to get through most of the summer while truck traffic was almost out of the question.

The Burwell football team, light and comparatively inexperienced, took another defeat at the hands of the Loup City team on their own grounds Friday night, the final score being 21 to 0. This week Ord comes here for the first home game of the schedule.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Keeps Going.

I happened along the road a few days ago where I had to wait a few minutes while John K. Jensen and his men were moving a building. He seems to do no physical work at all, having to use a cane and a crutch both, but he kept his head working all the time and the business of moving the house progressing. He shuffled about quickly from one place to another under the house and in front, watching it closely, telling his men to do this and that and doing an expert job.

Might make some of us young bucks with all our legs and arms to work with a little embarrassed when we howl about some little touch of rheumatism perhaps.

Turkey Business.

I was favored with a visit by H. C. Crandall of Curtis last week. He has charge of all the farm operations at the State Agriculture school there.

His wife said he was crazy over the turkey raising business. He told me that of all his work, dairy, chickens, sheep, hogs, beef, cattle, etc.) the turkey raising paid the best and some years was the only thing that paid. They keep actual book account of all their expenses for each department and this includes labor which the average farmer might not figure.

They raise turkeys similar to the way Bill Schudel is raising them. It is different in that at Curtis they take their turkeys out along a creek and an alfalfa patch and have a caretaker with them all the time. Another way they do differently is that they get eggs from California and raise some of their turkeys much earlier than Bill does. They have seven hundred February hatched poults that weigh 26 pounds now and they planned to sell them this week.

After two years experience Bill thinks May 1st is about the best time to get the little turkeys. The bad weather is usually over by that time and turkeys grow faster than any farm animal. Bill says it takes seven pounds of feed to grow one pound of turkey. Bill feeds and mixes his own feed and it costs him very nearly two cents a pound. If he can sell his turkeys for 20 cents a pound he has a profit of seven cents a pound. Last year he got 22 cents a pound and sees no reason why he cannot do that again.

One secret of success with turkeys is to roll the feed to them and roll the right kind of feed. That is a balanced ration. Last year Bill sorted out his fattest and best turkeys to sell at Thanksgiving, saving the rest for Christmas. He sold them to a packing house at Columbus and the manager there said those were the best turkeys that had been in the plant in two years. When he came to buy Bill's hens this summer he paid two cents more for them than he paid anyone else. Bill takes no special credit for this only that he fed them a balanced ration from a self feeder.

Bill kept a hundred and thirty hens last year for setting eggs. If he can get a good contract for eggs next year he plans to keep three hundred. He sold all his eggs for 17c each last year and he sold $800. worth of them from his 130 hens. Figuring the feed, and difference the hens brought under what they would have brought the fall before he made $200 which was nothing great but helped that much.

H. C. Crandall hires a man to care for his turkeys at $60 a month and still his thousand turkeys or more will make the school $1 apiece if they sell like they usually do. Bill made over $1 apiece last year from his. He was so enthusiastic over the business that he has nearly twice as many as last year.

Bill does not keep any chickens at all. Chickens are carriers of the dreaded disease of blackhead which is fatal to turkeys but does not kill chickens. Each man tries to keep the houses and pens as clean as possible but that is quite a job for a thousand turkeys. Feeding in self feeders partly solves the problem. Mr. Crandall keeps both hens and turkeys and broods them both in the same coops (not at the same time) and when the turkeys get a month or so old they are taken to the alfalfa field. Bill raises his in his hog house and they are confined rather close all the time. Each way seems to be successful. Neither man has had any serious death losses.

Some people think the turkey business will be over done but there seems to be no sign of that yet. Here we have an advantage over California and Texas because we are closer to the feed and closer to market. They perhaps have an advantage in earlier springs, some people think there is no advantage in getting one's turkeys too early. There is plenty of time to grow them from May 1st to Thanksgiving and Christmas.

Works the Boy.

Herman Stobbe was telling me the other day that he bought a tractor last spring. Before that with horses he had to do all the work, and now with the tractor his boy does it all.

Dangerous! Dangerous!

At the N. L. river bridge there has been a pair of wild geese camping for several days. I drove across the other day and they sat just north about five rods as unconcerned and as unafraid as if they were in the wilds of Canada. Apparently they had become lost from their flock. It was only a few days before that I saw a couple of hunters with tall boots and big guns emerge from under the end of the bridge. This is a little out of season but I am wondering if those men would have remembered that if no one was near and those large geese sat so close.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

A number of old timers held a reunion in Ord, the occasion being the visit here of Judge Loren Gaffy, of Pierre, S. D., Mrs. C. D. Doyle, of Los Angeles, and Mrs. E. B. Penny, of Fullerton. All were at one time residents of the Balley district east of Ord.

Olean school changed teachers for the third time. First Bethel Watson taught there, then Myrtle Milligan and finally Rachel Flynn, who seemed to be a stayer.

Republicans had a lot of fun with democrat candidates who were conducting a school house campaign and whose custom it was to repair at midnight to Jontie Level's restaurant to eat. One night when they reached there they found that republicans had decorated the place with republican banners and also had provided menus reading as follows: "Bair Sandwiches, Carkoski Con Carne, Brox Beans, Sutton Chops, J. R. Berry Pie, Flavia Twombly Ice Cream. Not responsible for change or cigars left on counters."

Ord high added another victory to its list by beating Loup City, 35 to 0. The Ord line-up listed Bartunek, Peterson, Schmidt, Ball-ey, Collison, Captain Batie, McGrew, Wood Detweiler, Haldeman and Johnson, with Moten, Dalley, Amick, Long, Blessing, Dworak and Wright as substitutes.

25 Years Ago This Week.

The Standard Oil company's oil house near the tracks was destroyed by fire. Manager Ben Bowen saved his team and wagon and later dashed back into the flames to shut off valves leading to the oil tanks, thus preventing an explosion, risking his life many times while doing so. The fire attracted a big crowd of people.

William Jennings Bryan came to Ord and made a speech. He was speaking on behalf of the democratic state and national ticket, making three speeches daily at a fee of $100 per speech paid by the state committee.

An axle on a Burlington coal car broke about a mile from Ord and the train was wrecked, considerable damage being done to the train and many rods of track destroyed. It took all day Saturday and part of Sunday to clear the track.

The Parks alfalfa stacks north of town burned, about 150 tons of hay being thus destroyed. Charlie Davis' famous English coach dog "Speck" presented his owner with five little speckled beauties.

Something DIFFERENT

Magdaline Ambrose has a hobby and becomes an ardent expostulator the minute she finds someone to educate. The other day she found me.

Thereupon I learned that women are better paid and work under better conditions in California than practically any other state in the union. There they have minimum wage laws for women, and the hours that women may work are specified by law also.

House workers, dime store employees, stenographers, they are all protected alike in that western paradise for women. Ideal working conditions are in force, proper light, heat, food, etc. Mrs. Ambrose says that three dollars a day is the least wage permitted women clerks and that Claralee Van-Wien who recently left Ord for the west coast, now has an excellent selling position at a fee of three dollars and forty cents per day; that Claralee did not even have to hunt the job—the job hunted her!

Other states could learn many things from California, and not alone about women and their working. California has figured out how to secure licenses and fees from all who would move into that state even for a brief time. Travelling automobile dealers are restricted from competing with California. Merchants unless they live there a certain period, are duly licensed. Tourists pay gas tax and every other kind, for the privileges they enjoy, the fine highways, etc.

Teachers all know California for a Promised Land. But to teach here, at a fine salary, they must study in California schools! A smart law.

Yes, California protects her own. Much better than Nebraska does.

Lewin Turns First Shovel of Dirt As Middle Loup Project Started Actual Construction Near Comstock on October 1

The Middle Loup power and irrigation project, which will bring water to 35,000 thirsty acres in that valley, had a ground-breaking ceremony on Thursday, October 1, as this picture by S. B. Warden, editor of the Arcadian, shows. In the foreground is seen N. A. Lewin, treasurer of the district, as he turned the first shovel of earth on the farm of President Walter Gibbons near Comstock. Also in the picture, left to right, are John Murray, a director of the district, Clark Reynolds, W. E. Standeven, PWA supervisor of both the Middle and North Loup projects, H. H. Henningson, chief engineer, and Mr. Dunbar.

This watermelon, which is claimed to be the largest raised in Valley county this year, was raised by H. M. Brandenburg, of Arcadia, and weighed 43 pounds. It was 24 inches long and 36 inches in circumference.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A number of unusual feeding practices will be carried on this winter by farmers who wish to avoid high priced corn. Some will feed wheat to hogs and poultry. Wheat is about as good as corn here. Corn rarely outsells wheat, but is doing so, pound for pound, in some markets at the present time.

Rye is nearly as good as corn and costs ten dollars a ton less. Animals do not like the taste of rye, however, and it is best fed in mixtures with other grains. Rye can be used for cattle or hogs.

Tankage is another cheap feed under present prices. For hogs, a pound of tankage replaces four pounds of corn. With corn at two cents, feeders could afford to pay eight cents a pound for tankage. Actually, they may buy it for less than half that much.

In ordinary years it does not pay to feed molasses. At present prices, molasses is cheaper than corn. It is an excellent substitute for corn, and can be used successfully up to one-fourth of the ration.

Commercial feeds generally cost more than those raised on the farm. But when home grown feeds fail, the better brands of commercial feeds are often as economical to buy as anything.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Is For Dwight Griswold.

To the Editor of the Quiz: I have been asked by many people, including a number of Quiz readers, why I am campaigning for the republican candidate for governor, Dwight Griswold, as I have been known in the past as a democrat.

As far as I am concerned, I always vote and support the best man and I believe each and every party has some good or better men than the opposing party.

Mr. Griswold has been my personal friend for over 15 years and I don't know of any man in the state that from a business standpoint would be better qualified for the honorable office than Dwight Griswold. He never promises anything unless he can fulfill his promise and I am convinced that if he is elected governor he will accord the same treatment to citizens of Nebraska regardless of nationality.

Therefore I don't hesitate to recommend Mr. Griswold to all my friends as sincere, honest and the best qualified man for governor of Nebraska.

JOS. G. NEKUDA.

Mistook Steers for Cows. To the Editor of the Quiz: I am enclosing a copy of a deed published in the Santa Ana Register drawn by Ole Hansen and properly recorded which should interest Quiz readers. (Editor's Note—The deed is too long to reproduce but may be seen at the office by anyone interested.) Mr. Hansen is widely known as a business man and is looking in the future. Declaring that wildcat spending of tax money for bird fountains, dog swimming pools, golf courses, alligator ponds and the like must cease, he says that this fall when citizens vote they should take into consideration these facts. While $1,400,000,000 has been spent in California in the 3 1/2 years I will ask readers to judge whether it should have been spent by mentioning some of the items. Down at Newport $2,000,000 was spent to dredge out a pond for a pleasure resort, several hundred thousand dollars for maintenance, $1,350,000 for flood control dams on the Santa Ana river, $50,000 for drawing plans of dams by engineers in the seven years we have been here and crossing the river from time to time on bridges I have not seen enough water in its bed to water a decent bunch of steers. Just above us at Westminster the government has gone in the dairy business. There were some 143 men, all democrats and on payrolls. $14,000 was spent for equipment, not much money when you hold your breath and consider what it sometimes spends. The first shipment of dairy cows turned out to be steers. When this was finally discovered after some slight misunderstanding between the steers and the milkmaids everybody had a $2,000 laugh on the taxpayers. Anyway they finally got rid of the steers and got a shipment of cows which have not made much better records than the steers. But as F. D. R. says we must spend to save and destroy to have. Now it might appear to a stranger that the whole state of California is being laid out in parks but work is progressing so much. Mr. Gross has a man slow. There appear to be more bosses than workmen but if it was not for the brain trust we would be going back to horse and buggy days.

F. S. KULL

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Regardless of who is the next president, I feel that one of his first acts should be to have every alien red deported.

And I can't help but feel that Terry Carpenter is getting a rotten deal. He was the choice of his party primary for senator and I hear a lot of resentment expressed by democrats, because the administration is trying to ditch him.

People ordinarily, when they think about their Quiz subscription, say to themselves, "My subscription is only $2., and that won't break Leggett if I wait a while." And that is true. But the thing they don't remember is that I have 500 to 700 such subscriptions due, and that means real money these days.

I feel this way about Dr. Bass, the republican candidate for state treasurer. I didn't think, before the primary, that he should run. He did run and he was the choice of the republican primary. Now I think he is entitled to republican votes. His honesty is not questioned. It is pretty generally agreed that his ability and qualifications are far ahead of his opponent.

The 1937 Cook Calendar is going to be the finest we ever made. The Quiz art and engraving department, under the management of Howard Jones, will make the cover. I don't know yet, what it will be. There are several plans being considered. Irma is already preparing her part of the copy. Special paper has already been ordered, also special inks. And a calendar will be mailed to every Quiz subscriber in good standing January 1. I hope you will all get one.

of the Ord Quiz, had his price and played Faust to the Mephistopheles of Senator Norris (that was) in a manner which was far from cheerful. The price of Hank's political soul was an irrigation project for the Loup country adjacent to his home town, Ord. I am laughing at the making of the government grant and praising his tactics, while grieving over the price he paid. I wish it understood, however, that I have one perfectly good political soul which I will consider trading for an irrigation project which will bring me the best county in Nebraska the one thing necessary to make of Clay County a perpetual Eden.—Fred Howard in Clay County Sun.

Last week the Missus and I got a letter from Frank M. Gross, inviting us over to the Cross Circle ranch for Sunday dinner. One of the big inducements was plenty of fried chicken. A lot of the Quiz readers know the Gross'. At one time they lived in Ord and had a meat market. Two or three years ago Mr. Gross started buying up sections of the sand hills just west and north of Bartlett. His east end headquarters and ranch home is a half mile west and a half mile north of Bartlett. He has sixteen deeded sections in the ranch and leases a few other sections. Sixteen fine wells, some of them with big cement reservoirs on top of a near by hill, and almost as large as a lake, supply plenty of water at all times, even during the past dry summer. He has a set of smaller improvements near the west end of the ranch, which is fifteen miles long, where he keeps a man to look after things there. A few more sections, three I think he said, to the north of his present holdings, will give him an outlet onto the Beaver valley. He has bought 64 stacks of hay on that beautiful valley this year and plans on sending a herd of his cattle over there long enough to eat up that hay. His home ranch buildings are large and modern and it looks to me as though he had feed enough there to feed all the cattle in Wheeler county. There are mountains of baled hay, one shed against the big barn has 700 bushels of shelled corn shipped from Iowa, another has a load of cotton cake in sacks. The windmill back of the house is pumping water into a large cement reservoir, from which it is piped to large galvanized tanks in all the surrounding yards. I think I saw a dozen such. The water goes first to the supply tank in the house then back to the cement reservoir thus always insuring a supply of fresh cold water. Mr. and Mrs. Gross are the salt of the earth. Frank is 70 years young, 6 feet 2 or 3 inches, walks with a springy step of a young man and is as forward looking and hopeful, apparently, as he was at 25 years of age. The entertainment for us was a drive over the ranch where we saw the cattle, the stacks and racks of hay, the complete water systems. Mr. Gross did not overstock his ranch and there was plenty of feed everywhere. It was about 12:30 when we got back to the ranch house and dinner was ready. In addition to the fried chicken which was there in great abundance, there were several vegetables, salads, two kinds, jellies, pickles, home made bread and home made butter, pie and cake and other things. There ought to be a law against feeding guests so much. Mr. Gross has a man slow. Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maulding, working for him and Mrs. Maulding is a swell cook. The Gross' live at Albion but Mr. Gross' spends much of his time on the ranch, and is training Mr. Maulding to look after it when he is away. He often goes west on buying trips, or to Omaha to market stock. They are feeding about three hundred large steers at the present time. After dinner we drove over the north end of the ranch and over onto Beaver valley. We had taken in the west end of the forenoon. It was six o'clock when we returned and supper was about ready, though after the big dinner we didn't feel like doing justice to supper. Mr. Gross had made his plans to be able to supply many small feeders this fall, and when the drouth spotted the prospect for a corn crop he had between twelve and thirteen hundred head of cattle on hand. About half of them have been sold and he is now feeding nearly half of the balance himself. He says he hopes they will make a little money but he is not very sure about it. It was about dark when we finally got started for home and we didn't hurry, as some of the road was not so good, but we made the trip safely and have another most pleasant day to remember and talk about. The good joke about the whole affair was the fact that the day before was the 46th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Gross and they talked it over and decided to defer the celebration a day and invite us to help them celebrate the occasion. But they didn't tell us what the occasion was. On the way over the Missus asked me if I knew what day it was and I said sure, it is Sunday. She didn't inform me further but when we got there and they told us the day before was their wedding anniversary, the Missus told us all that Sunday was our 33th wedding anniversary. I just can't remember birthdays and such occasions and always have to be told, but anyhow, we celebrated two wedding anniversaries together.

Inquisitiveness

Gov. Alf Landon's inquisitiveness has been a marvel to every newspaper man assigned to cover his activities as Republican candidate for president. They find themselves answering more questions than they ask. That he is versed in a wide range of subjects is demonstrated by the straight-to-the-point questions he pumps at them.

L. L. Watson And Mrs. A. Sutton Die At Bailey Hospital

Two Ord People Advanced In Years Pass Within Week At Green Gables.

LYSANDER L. WATSON.
Lysander L. Watson, for more than fifty years a farmer in Mira Valley, passed away at the Bailey sanitarium in Lincoln last Tuesday, Oct. 13, at the age of eighty and the body was brought to Ord for funeral services in Sowl's chapel Friday afternoon, interment being in Ord cemetery.

Since 1883, except for six years when he lived in Texas, Mr. Watson lived near the Grace school house and was one of the respected and influential citizens of that community. Until a few months ago his health remained excellent in spite of his advanced years.

Born in Dover, N. H., on Dec. 20, 1855, Mr. Watson grew to manhood in New England and after his school years were over he learned the stone-cutter's trade, in which he was engaged for a number of years. He also had employment as a traveling salesman for some time.

In 1883 he came to Valley county, arriving Jan. 16, and located on a fertile farm in Mira Valley which he farmed continuously until just a few months before his death except the period from 1893 to 1899 when he lived at Lavaca, Tex.

His marriage to Miss Myra Travis occurred June 1, 1888 and four children were born to them, two dying in infancy. Besides his wife he is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. Henry Hiner, and one son, Forrest Watson, both of whom live in Ord. There are also seven grandchildren and one great grandson. One brother, Walter S. Watson, of Harvard, Mass., and one sister, Mrs. Della Starkey, of Los Angeles, also survive.

Rev. Mearl C. Smith conducted the funeral rites Friday, which were attended by a great number of his former Mira Valley neighbors and his friends of other Valley county communities.

MRS. ALONZO SUTTON.

After an illness of 1 1/2 years, during which she was given care at the Bailey sanitarium in Lincoln, Mrs. Alonzo Sutton, 84, passed away at that institution Monday October 19. The body was brought to Ord and funeral services will be held at 2:00 p. m. today at the Frazier chapel with Rev. S. A. Woodruff, Jr., in charge, and interment in the family lot at Ord cemetery will follow.

Ellen Kennedy was born at Greensburg, Pa., on Febr. 22, 1851 and when eight years old came with her parents to Iowa where she grew to womanhood. On Febr. 6, 1873 she was married to Wm. H. Braden and in 1891 they came to Valley county, living first at Arcadia and then moving to Ord.

One daughter, Sara Jane, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Braden but died when only 3 years old. Mr. Braden, a prominent Ord citizen, passed away Dec. 31, 1914.

On Jan. 12, 1918 Mrs. Braden was married to Alonzo Sutton, pioneer Ord resident and for many years sheriff of Valley county. They established their home in this city and lived most happily together until Mrs. Sutton's health began to fail about eighteen months ago, since which time she had been tenderly cared for at the Lincoln sanitarium.

There she was quite happy and seemed to be recovering her health but five weeks ago she fell while getting out of bed and fractured a hip. The pain of this injury was a material factor in her death.

She is mourned by her husband who resides in Ord, and by several nephews and nephews, her only living blood relatives. Mrs. Sutton was one of a family of eleven children and all brothers and sisters preceded her in death.

Relatives here for the funeral today include Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chase, of Loup City, R. D. Sutton of Morrill, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Johnson, of Kimball, Neb. Mrs. Sutton was a life-long member of the Presbyterian church, she was a good wife and a fine neighbor and her passing will be genuinely mourned by acquaintances and friends.

Notice.

The Study Circle of the Methodist church will have a jifney supper Friday night, October 23 at the Methodist church from 6:00 to 8:00. Nothing over 5c. The menu consists of chicken noodle soup, Spanish delight, baked beans, scalloped potatoes, cranberry salad, cabbage salad, rolls and butter, apple, marshmallow pudding, cake and coffee.

Ord Doctor Hunting In Canada Kills Huge Moose

Dr. J. G. Kruml, Ord man who left a few days ago for a big game hunting trip, in the Rainy River country of Canada writes to Ord friends that he was successful in killing a huge moose on the first day of the Canada open season. It was the first big game animal Dr. Kruml has ever killed. The moose had a horn spread of 43 1/4 inches.

The Ord physician made the trip to Lake of the Woods in company of two Grand Island friends.

Herbert L. Cushing Elected President Of Kearney Normal

Ord Man, Long Prominent In Educational Work, Gets Important Position.

Herbert L. Cushing, born in Ord as his legal residence, was notified at Lincoln Monday that he had been elected to the presidency of Kearney Normal by the 7-member state normal board. He will assume his new duties at once.

More than forty applicants were considered by the board before they announced selection of Mr. Cushing, who for several years has been deputy state superintendent of schools under Charles W. Taylor. He will succeed the late Dr. George E. Martin.

Since death of Dr. Martin the college has been managed by a faculty committee.

Presidency of Kearney Normal now pays a salary of $4,170 per year. Formerly the salary was $5,000 but this was reduced by the legislature at the 1933 session.

Mr. Cushing is 46 years old, is married to the former Miss Laurie Watson, and is the father of three children, aged 20, 18 and 16. His father was the late F. M. Cushing, a pioneer of this community.

Most of "Bert" Cushing's life was spent in the Ord community. He attended school here, later was graduated from Grand Island college and taught in the Valley county schools, became county superintendent and served two terms most successfully as superintendent of the Ord city schools.

Other activities in which he has been engaged included newspaper work on the Quiz and the Journal, farming and serving two years as secretary of the Nebraska pure food commission.

For the past eight years he has been deputy of public instruction and has made his home at Lincoln where he is a deacon in the First Baptist church.

Mr. Cushing holds the degree of bachelor of arts from Grand Island college, master of arts from the University of Nebraska and has taken advanced work both at University of Nebraska and University of Chicago.

His friends here are happy to learn of his well deserved promotion to such an important position as the Kearney Normal presidency and are confident that the state normal board made the wisest selection possible.

Will Speak in Bohemian.
Rudolph Mulac, a republican speaker, will give a talk in the Bohemian language in Ord at 8:30 Saturday afternoon, announces Archie Geweke, chairman of the county committee.

City Librarian Resigns.
After ably and efficiently executing their duties as city librarian for the past ten years, Mrs. Cecil Hansen, formerly Grace Pullen tendered her resignation to board members at their meeting last week. Although no action has yet been taken by members of the library board, Miss Mae Helleberg, for several years assistant librarian, is acting in unofficial capacity.

Norton to Speak Saturday.
Former Congressman John N. Norton is coming to Ord to speak Saturday afternoon this week. His speech will be made on the court house steps if weather permits, otherwise in the Ord opera house.

Townsend Speech Saturday.
Jean Kirkland of Wyoming, will speak in Ord at 2:30 Saturday under the auspices of the local Townsend club. He is said to be one of the best speakers on the old age pension plan and anybody interested is advised to hear him without fail.

Schilling, Diers, Wright, Speakers At Rally Friday

Archie Geweke, G. O. P. Head Here, Announces Plans For Indoor Meeting.

Farmers, particularly, will be interested in the speech of William F. Schilling, of Minneapolis, who will speak here Friday, Oct. 23 under the auspices of the Valley county republican central committee. Mr. Schilling is a farmer, dairyman, author and lecturer on agricultural topics whose reputation is nationwide.

Born in Hutchinson, Kas., in 1872 he received a high school education and then learned the printer's trade. He became editor of the Appleton, Minn., Press, then editor of the Northfield, Minn., News for 13 years, where his writing on farm subjects attracted national attention.

He has been engaged in the raising of purebred Holstein cattle since 1900, is widely known as an advocate of cooperation in dairying among farmers and has since 1917 been president of the Twin City Milk Producers association of over 8,500 members. He is a member of the governing board of the Minnesota Farm Institute.

Mr. Schilling will speak here Friday evening at the Valley county republican rally, along with other speakers of note. His conclusions in regard to the present administration and its effect upon agriculture should prove helpful to voters in forming conclusions as to voting at the fall election.

Cullen N. Wright, of Scottsbluff, republican nominee for Congress, is another speaker at this meeting. Noted as an after-dinner speaker and entertainer, Mr. Wright mixes homely philosophy with his wit and is worth going miles to hear. He is as well acquainted with irrigation and its possibilities as any man in Nebraska, having been a farmer and banker in the North Platte region during the past forty years, and is also acquainted with problems of the farmer and cattle raiser.

Mrs. Elsie Diers, vice-chairman of the Nebraska republican committee will discuss issues of the campaign as they apply to women voters.

Although this meeting is heralded as a "republican rally", the general public regardless of political affiliations are invited to be present and hear issues of 1936 discussed by these speakers.

The meeting will be held at the opera house, starting at 7:30.

Legion to Sponsor Armistice Affair

Ord post of the American Legion is planning a dance and carnival for the evening of Armistice Day, Nov. 11, both the opera house and the Bohemian hall have been leased by Legionnaires. At the opera house Warren Ritchie's orchestra, of Omaha, will play for dancing and at the Bohemian hall a carnival will be held. More complete announcement will be made by the Legion in succeeding issues.

Bazaar Was Successful.
The bazaar and dance held Sunday at Elyria under the auspices of St. Mary's church was most successful. A nice sum was realized and parishioners wish to thank Ord people and others who attended. Lester Norton was winner of the quilt.

Alfalfa Seed Is 'Big Money' Crop For Many Farmers; Price High

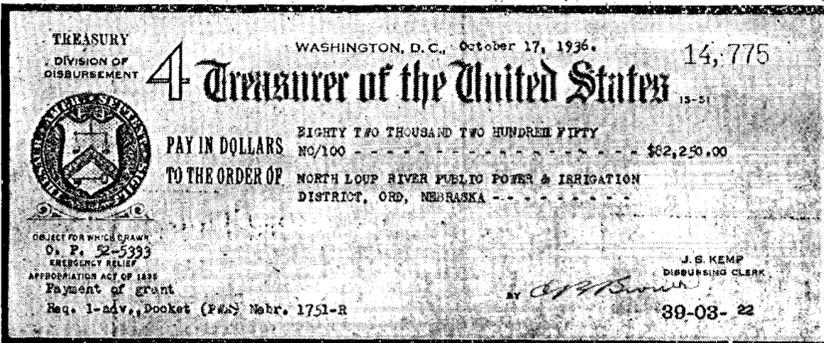

To many farmers of Valley and surrounding counties the 1936 drouth was a blessing in disguise because they raised a bumper crop of alfalfa seed and the seed is worth up to 21c per pound, highest in history.

One Ord seed buyer estimated yesterday that $200,000 has been paid for alfalfa seed this fall in territory adjacent to Ord. The estimate made by another was $250,000. It is impossible to arrive at a definite figure because, in addition to local buyers, several outside seed companies have sent buyers here.

Ordinarily Valley county doesn't produce much alfalfa seed—we get too much rain fall for the seed to mature properly. But ordinarily Valley county farmers don't care because the seed is usually worth around 10c per pound.

This year drouth conditions, coupled with the extra demand generated by the Soil Conservation Act, sky-rocketed the price to more than double normal figures and Valley county farmers who

If District Can't Get Right-of-Way Project May Die

PWA Rules Construction Can't Start Til Options For All Main Canal Are Signed.

The most serious obstacle to immediate construction of the North Loup project is a new ruling by the PWA that options for all right-of-way must be secured, reveals E. H. Dumfries, engineer-manager, in a letter to the Quiz today. His letter, which appears on this page, should be read carefully by every person owning land in the district.

Although a contract was recently to the Litwiller Construction Company for building the first ten miles of canal and $82,250 in actual money has been given the district for preliminary expense, first construction cannot be started until right-of-way for the whole 76 miles of canal is assured.

The situation is serious. A certain amount of money to buy right-of-way has been allowed the district by the PWA. Appraisers have been through the district and fixed fair values upon every piece of right-of-way needed. The district must adhere to values fixed by appraisers in order to stay within the amount allowed for this purpose by the PWA.

The entire North Loup project conceivably may be lost if land owners attempt to "hold up" the district for excessive right-of-way prices.

Even though sacrifices are involved, for the greatest good of the greatest number each North Loup valley land owner should option his right-of-way land to the district immediately.

Mechanic Loses Eye From Recent Injury

Norris VanWie, of Hastings, son of Mrs. R. O. Hunter of Ord, underwent an operation Monday for the removal of one eye. The eye had been cut about a week before by a piece of flying metal and the sight destroyed. He had been suffering intense pain for several days and sight of the other eye was being affected.

VanWie, who was born and reared in the Ord community, was working on a motor and dropped a pair of pliers that struck him in the eyeball. He has been employed at Hastings as a mechanic for several years.

Must Option All Right-of-Way Before Work Can Be Started

E. C. Leggett, Editor The Ord Quiz Ord, Nebraska

Dear Mr. Leggett:

We are always glad to advise you of any news which is of interest to the Valley and we are writing you at this time to let you know that we have received our first check from the Public Works Administration in the amount of $82,250.00 to cover preliminary expenses for the organization of the District. As evidence of this news we are enclosing for your use a photograph of this check.

This advanced grant money has been sent us by the PWA for the specific purpose of paying preliminary expenses and preliminary administration costs. There are some conditions in connection with the advance of this grant money that we want to advise you of so that you may give the information to your readers.

There are certain conditions that we must fulfill yet before the PWA will accept our first contract and permit us to start construction. We must show them, first, that we are able to build the entire Project for the money which has been allotted to us for this purpose. We have on file now the Engineers' Estimate of costs which is sufficient to show the PWA that we will be able to build this Project within the money allowed or it.

In addition to this it is necessary that we option the entire seventy-six miles of right-of-way within the money allotted for this specific purpose before the PWA will give us their acceptance of our first contract award and permit us to start construction or to advertise for bids for any other work.

We believe that this is pertinent information and proper news, and we are therefore writing you this and hoping that you will give the news item to your readers and make it clear to them that we must option all of our right-of-way within the funds available before we can start actual construction of the Project, the first contract of which has already been let.

Very truly yours,
E. H. DUMFRIES,
Engineer-Manager

Will Establish PWA Inspectors On Loup Projects

Chief Inspector Evans In Ord Tuesday, Will Have 8 Men Working Here.

Joseph D. Evans, chief engineer inspector for the Public Works Administration in Nebraska, was in Ord Tuesday conferring with Black & Veatch, engineers on the North Loup project and Walter E. Standeven, PWA project engineer. Earlier in the day he met with Middle Loup officials at Arcadia.

Mr. Evans' mission was to determine when PWA inspectors will be needed on these projects. He was informed here that actual construction on the North Loup project will commence within two weeks, and he was asked to assign at least one permanent inspector to Ord for earlier stages of the work.

A capable and experienced engineer formerly stationed on the Columbus project job will be sent here within a few days, Mr. Evans promised, and his inspection department will make every effort to facilitate plans of the engineers and contractors.

All PWA construction work must be inspected at all stages by inspectors especially qualified for such work, to meet PWA requirements under which loans and grants are given.

When the North Loup project gets into full construction about eight inspectors will be working in the valley, it is claimed.

McQuillan Given Ord Beer License

Mayor Gould B. Flagg and members of the city council, in special session Monday evening, decided unanimously to approve issuance of a beer license to F. E. McQuillan, who recently opened a restaurant in Ord. Mr. McQuillan applied for both on-sale and off-sale licenses and without doubt the approval of the Ord council will be followed by the state liquor commission and licenses issued to Mr. McQuillan at once.

Catholic ladies will hold a bake and rummage sale at the Millford building October 24, beginning at 10 a. m.

John Doyle Against All New Taxation

John F. Doyle, of Greeley, candidate for the unicameral legislature, was an Ord visitor Saturday and while here enunciated the principles upon which he seeks election in the district of which Valley county is a part.

Mr. Doyle was a member of the 1935 house, representing the 19th district. He operates a grocery store at Greeley and also a merchandise truck line. A war veteran, he has served as secretary of the Greeley county fair, as city councilman and as commander of the Legion post.

"I oppose new or additional taxes except to pay for the social security program," Doyle says. "I will support added taxes to pay what the aged have been led to believe they were going to get," he continued, but qualified this statement by saying he believes a tax could be imposed on foreign mortgages to raise additional money needed. In the 1935 session Doyle voted "no" on sales tax and income tax bills.

Mr. Doyle opposes ratification of the child labor amendment, favors a law to place local government units on a cash basis, supports a $30 per month old age pension. He wants to see the liquor law revised to reduce license fees and divorce sale of beer and hard liquor.

Issue Report Cards Four Times Yearly

Report cards in Ord high school will be issued quarterly and not every six weeks as has been done in previous years it was decided by Supt. C. C. Thompson last week.

It is thought the new system will do away with the disrupting of regular class work for the six weeks' tests. The report cards themselves have been changed somewhat this year. In addition to attendance and department, the number in the class and the number receiving each grade will also be placed on each card. The number of which the student is standing in his class will be circled. In this manner the student can judge more clearly his rating in class work in comparison with his classmates.

Report cards will be issued to students on the following dates: November 10, January 26, March 30 and May 28.

Tuesday $146,650 Given By PWA For Preliminary Work

No. Loup Received $82,250; And Middle Loup $64,200; Officials Elated.

Tuesday morning money from the Public Works Administration in the amount of $146,650 was received by officials of the North and Middle Loup power and irrigation projects, each payment representing approximately 5 per cent of funds allotted by the PWA for construction of the project.

Last lingering doubt in the minds of a few people that approval of the projects was only a pre-election maneuver on the part of the Roosevelt administration was allayed by receipt of these funds.

Bert M. Hardenbrook, president of the North Loup, received a check for $82,250.00 but because of his absence from the city it was not generally known that the money had been received until yesterday. His daughter, Mrs. Forrest Johnson, found the check in his mail and after a telephone conversation with her father at Rochester, Minn., turned it over to Harry Doran, of Burwell, treasurer of the North Loup district.

The Middle Loup check for $64,250 was received by Walter Gibbons, of Comstock, district president.

Money received Tuesday was requisitioned by officials of the two districts for payment of administrative and engineering expense up to starting of construction. When construction gets under way further requisitions will be made as work progresses and officials have the assurance of the PWA that the money will be provided promptly as it is required.

E. H. Dumfries, engineer-manager of the North Loup district, said yesterday that before obligations incurred so far by the district can be paid, a trust agreement must be signed and the big check deposited in the Omaha National Bank, official depository for the district. Directors were in session yesterday to sign this trust agreement.

Of the $82,250 received by the North Loup, $42,000 will be paid to the general engineers, Black & Veatch, as fees, $7,000 will be used for preliminary expenses, $9,000 to pay field employees of the district itself, $22,250 for administrative expense, salaries, office fixtures, printing and like expenses, and $2,000 for miscellaneous expense.

Mr. Dumfries returned late Tuesday from Kansas City and Omaha where he had been conferring with Black & Veatch engineers and with PWA officials. He is elated over the arrival of first funds, which he had been expecting for several days.

The North Loup district so far has met promptly every requirement imposed by the PWA and if new requirements can also be met there is no reason why rapid progress cannot be made, he says.

W. L. McMullen Dies At Burwell

McMullen, sr., prominent pioneer banker and merchant of Burwell, will be grieved to learn of his death after an eight weeks' illness at the family home in Burwell at midnight Tuesday. Funeral services will be held at the home at 10:00 Friday morning, followed by burial in the Ord cemetery. Services will be conducted by the Burwell Masonic lodge of which Mr. McMullen was a charter member.

14 Ord Firemen To Annual Convention

Fourteen members of the Ord fire department left Tuesday for Columbus where the annual 3-day convention of the Nebraska State Volunteer Firemen's association is being held. Christian Science Services.
 "Probation After Death" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, October 25.
 The Golden Text is from Job 17:9: "The righteous also shall hold on his way, and he that hath clean hands shall be stronger and stronger."
 A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from Psalms 34: 19, 22: "Many are the afflictions of the righteous; but the Lord delivereth him out of them all. . . . The Lord redeemeth the soul of his servants: and none of them that trust in him shall be desolate."
 A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Either here or hereafter, suffering of Science must destroy all illusions regarding life and mind, and regenerate material sense and self. . . . The death of a false material sense and of sin, not the death of organic matter, is what reveals man and Life, harmonious, real, and eternal." (page 296).

Pheasant Season to Open.
 Although the annual open season on pheasants opens in Nebraska Sunday, October 25, the news means little to Ord hunters because the season is closed in Valley and all adjacent counties this fall due to scarcity of birds following the drouth of 1934, the hard winter of 1935 and the drouth of this summer. Closest counties where hunting is permitted are Lincoln county, on the west, and Rock, Brown and Holt counties, to the north. Bag limit this fall is four, of which one may be a hen. Birds are said to be most plentiful in Garden and other counties along the Platte river.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Traveled Across Continent In a Model T Truck.

Mossy Rock, Washington October 1, 1936.

Editor of the Quiz:

A friend asked me to write a letter for the Quiz about our trip and the country where we have located so here is the tale of the trip in a 1926 Model T truck from Valley County to Mossy Rock, Wash. We left Ord at noon on the last day of the Valley county fair. After stopping at the cemetery to do a bit of work, we continued to Loup City where we got the necessary supplies and had lunch. At 2:30 we left Loup City and got along fine until about 8 miles out of Kearney when we had a flat. We had no tools to fix it, the rain was pouring down, the fan belt wouldn't work and we limped into Kearney after dark. Had no assurance of where R. A. Grants lived but finally found them. They are the parents of Mrs. Lewis Bower. Stayed with them overnight.

We got the truck in running order and went on about 10:00 a. m. Crops looked about the same as at home until we got to the irrigated land. There hay was fine and most of the crops were looking good although it was too hot for vegetables and flowers. I thought of Louisa Hubbard while we ate dinner in Lexington.

North Platte is much larger than I expected. Looks like a lovely place to live. At Lodgepole we had hands put in the truck and a forgetful mechanic left some waste in the engine. Oil would not circulate and for two days we remained at Dix waiting for the engine to be pulled. Seemed like Nebraska was trying to hold onto us.

Resuming our journey, everything was going good though of necessity slow as we were well loaded for a Model T. Made Sherman Hill, elevation 8,835 feet without trouble. Saw Ames monument honoring the man who made possible the building of the first Union Pacific railroad. Picked up a few rocks and went on. It's a forty mile grade up which must be descended in ten miles. Most people coast to the bottom but with our load we took no chances. At the summit it is impossible to get water. They have to haul it so won't even sell it. Of course one could get a drink of water or pop but nothing for the car. The nights there are lovely with dozens of beautiful trees.

At Laramie, Wyo., we were near a coal mine. $2.50 a ton for good coal which sounded good to Nebraskans. Laramie is a nice town, obviously busy. We spent two days at Rawlins. Could not be there when Julia and Gene Clark came there to visit. They are well and Gene is attending Greeley, Colo., teacher's college. We lightened our load at Rawlins sending some things to Lewis by freight. After that we traveled easter. Many hundreds of miles we drove, seeing nothing but sage and Russian thistle. There is plenty of evidence however, of wealth in the oil wells and large herds of sheep. We were told that the sheep were back in the hills about a hundred miles. When they are driven down for the winter, if there is no snow they eat the Russian thistle and sage. If snow is on the ground they are fed hay but we saw none except in river beds.

Point of Rocks was very interesting, rocks of all shapes, sizes and color being in evidence. When we were there the wind was blowing very hard but we spent a comfortable and interesting night, sleeping and eating in the truck. Particularly interesting was Hanna, where coal of that name is mined. The mountains here were harder for us to pull than Sherman Hill. There is lots of coal scattered along the road like Davis Creek men scatter corn when it is plentiful. Also interesting was the beautiful prosperous town of Rock Springs where coal of that kind is mined. Mell asked a man what they did for a living. He replied, "Mine and run filling stations." No talk of hard times, though. The rocks here are five or six hundred feet straight up over the road and one wonders what would happen if one fell. Beautifully colored, oddly shaped, it is thrilling just to see them.

At Granger we took the old Oregon trail. For about 40 miles we saw no sign of life, not even birds. We traveled as fast as we could through that territory, carrying water, oil and plenty of gas. In western Wyoming crops look good, as they irrigate a great deal. In a small town, we stopped for dinner and a boy, who talked with us for a few minutes, told us they had ten flocks of sheep, 2,000 in a flock. But way back in the hills and we saw only a few, but plenty of hay was being put up for winter feed.

Idaho is interesting. Plenty of high mountains in the eastern part. Scenery is beautiful at Soda Springs and Lava Springs. Mountains are close to the road on one side, lovely foliage lines the other with the river near at hand. Pocatella is a large lumber town and we enjoyed visiting it. Just out of the city we stopped to fix another flat, and were surprised to learn how heavily irrigated Idaho land yields.

After leaving American Falls we detoured to avoid the mountains near Twin Falls. At Jerome I saw the finest market for strawberries, only 10c for a large box. Large blue plums sold for 89c a bushel, pears $1.00 and grapes, $1.29. Vegetables were very cheap and from there on it did not cost us much to live. All day the engine grew worse but we made Wendell where an examination revealed a broken piston. Around this territory corn yields as high as 80 bushels to the acre. Mell stopped to talk with a former Ordite, now operating a filling station. During the visit we learned that it is a relative of Judge E. P. Clements. We were driving up a long hill out of Gooding when we were passed by a commercial truck which stopped in front of us. It turned out to be Ray Cook and a Burwell man who wanted to see who was in the Nebraska truck and we had a nice visit with them. The country here would gladden the heart of any farmer where water gets to it but where not irrigated, it is still sage and thistle.

Our next stop was at Bliss and although very few people are there for its size it is the busiest place I ever saw. It was a siding for freight cars and just above us was the airway beacon revolving all night. The railroad had the only well, 500 feet deep, and was so bitter we drank coffee or tea most of the trip.

On the Idaho-Oregon line, we saw thousands of bushels of apples near Payette, Weiser and Ontario. We changed time at Huntington and ran into cold, snow and stormy weather and we dreaded the long mountainous climb ahead of us. We were worried during the next day because the engine seemed to pull so hard as we seemed to be going down hill and only after looking at a nearby stream did we realize that we were climbing up. A woman filling station attendant told us that we were going up-grade and that it was a very steep climb. We did not worry about the car after that as we were already half way up one of the worst climbs. We camped that night by a stream in the Blue Mountains of Oregon and in the morning had three tires to fix before resuming the journey.

As we ascended it grew cold, rained and snowed and we both put on all the coats we could but still shook with the cold. A flat tire made matters worse. Finally we reached the summit and enjoyed a beautiful drive and view before taking the hairpin drive to Pendleton where the Pendleton Roundup was just breaking up. Saw lots of Indians and their ponies as well as other showmen returning home. At Gmatilla we came in sight of the Columbia. Not much water for quite a ways but a beautiful rocky gorge. Rocks and the country are a masterpiece of scenic beauty. When they can irrigate they raise wonderful fruits and melons. Canteloupe were selling for 50c per bushel. Tomatoes also were plentiful.

In Washington we stopped at Orchard where we were offered work but we wanted to go on Apples and pears covered the ground. The country around Vancouver was about the loveliest we had seen during the trip. After visiting some of the large stores in Vancouver we took the Pacific highway for Addie's home and arrived there just three weeks from the day we left Kearney. A wonderful trip even though we got tired of the cramped quarters and the dirt.

This is a wonderful land though one needs some friend to show the way and help get a job, but we shall always be glad to see a face from our own towns of Ord, North Loup and vicinity. I have canned 45 quarts of pears and several pints of blackberries. They cost us nothing as all we have to do is gather them from the ground and all the people are very willing to give us some of the things they are wasting.

Addie and Ed have a lovely place, a regular fruit and nut farm I husked filberts two days at 20c an hour. Saw gorgeous roses, tall and in full bloom. Well, this is too long and if it is printed may write a shorter one sometime.

"We have found by experience that American institutions serve our purpose better than those of any other country. We not only want to safeguard our freedom, but we also want security and abundance of the good things of life. We are told, however, by defeatists that we cannot have both. We must, they say, choose between freedom and security. They insist we must give up one in order to gain the other. Let us not surrender to any such counsel of despair."—Gov. A. J. Many small acreages of sorgums were grown in the county this fall. The farmers observed that these sorgum patches were left alone by grasshoppers. The fact that sorgums are a grasshopper insurance crop may be a good reason for planting them in 1937.

These sorgums also appear to be the most drought resistant of any grain crop. When hot winds come the fields of corn may die, but sorgums simply remain dormant and await more favorable weather. At the Nebraska experiment station, however, the season has been so dry and hot that the sorgums are still waiting. The different varieties have all been greatly retarded in growth. Many of the tall growing kinds, such as Atlas, are only two or three feet high now. The outstanding variety at the station this year is Cheyenne. It is an early sweet stalk sorgum grown chiefly for forage.

Atlas sorgo, that has proven so popular in the past, will be rushed to head out this season as the drought has retarded it to such an extent. But in total forage, as during past years, it will probably outrank all varieties in amount of rough feed secured per acre. Atlas sorgo seed will be extremely scarce next spring.

The seeds of the various sorgums are similar in composition. Though less palatable than corn, their nutritive value ranges from fully equal to this grain to fifteen per cent less.

For horses, milk cows, fattening cattle, and pigs the sorgum grain is generally ground. Grinding for sheep is unnecessary. Often the unthreshed heads, or forage carrying the heads is supplied to idle horses, colts and young stock. The product obtained by grinding the entire heads is called "head chop", and resembles corn-and-cob meal in composition.

Sorgums should not be pastured when green because of danger from prussic acid poisoning.

Fritz Kreisler to Play.

Fritz Kreisler, world famous violinist, will appear in concert at the Omaha city auditorium on Friday, Nov. 6, to help raise money for the Bee-News free shoe fund. It will be Mr. Kreisler's first concert in Omaha in over three years. Because every penny of profit from the concert goes to buy shoes for needy Omaha children Mr. Kreisler consented to the very low ticket price schedule of 55c to $2.20, including tax. Orders for tickets may be sent to the Omaha Bee-News.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

There is usually some fire when there is a lot of smoke and from the things that are continually coming to light, it might not be a bad idea to elect a man as governor like Dwight Griswold.

Mr. Griswold is described as being "tight." He is careful in conducting his own business and has been able to make a success of them. We need a governor who will be "tight" for a while.

I hold no brief to defend Irl Tolens. I think he selected a most inopportune time to ask for an increase in wages for himself and his office force. It hardly seems reasonable to me that he would make the pronouncement that he did without some encouragement from his official board.

However each and everyone of them from the governor down hastens to give Irl thunder for what he did. In other words if Tolens did act at their suggestion, they at once left him to bear the brunt of the opposition alone and denied responsibility in the matter.

I don't really know about how big a job Mr. Tolens has. I do know that I wouldn't want to undertake to handle it. I also know that no big corporation or big business would think of trying to hire a man capable of dispensing as much money as Tolens' department has to spend, for a salary of three thousand dollars a year.

Irl Tolens is big enough for the job five thousand dollars would be a small salary for him. The lady who came out from Washington to tell the special session what to do said that ten thousand dollars a year was about the right figure but the legislators thought that was too much. Probably Irl will get his increase and probably his board who so loudly deny it now will favor it later, but I still think it was unwise to spring the matter until after election.

I do think if Dwight Griswold is elected governor we will get more and better roads in Valley county. It is a damned shame that roads should be built according to voting strength of communities and the western half of Nebraska has suffered in the past because that was done, I fear.

Valley county citizens who wish to do so can help materially in bringing more population to Valley county by subscribing for and sending the Quiz to relatives who are in other states. Many more people than the one who gets it, usually read the paper and often someone will see it who will become interested and come this way. This is no sacrifice on your part because your relative who gets it will get more than value received. We are continually doing this kind of missionary work. There is no week when we don't send ten or a dozen papers to people at a distance whom we think might be interested in Valley county. In some towns Chambers of Commerce subscribe for a considerable number and have them sent to such prospects as they continually get.

Ernest Coats had better keep pretty close check on his cow boys. A cow boy out in the western part of the state killed a dozen pure bred cows the other day because he says he got sick of milking. He will probably get sick of his new hotel room down at Ingleside before he gets out too.

I like to send in your dally paper subscriptions because I get a ten per cent commission which you couldn't get anyhow, so you are no doubt glad to let me have it. You gave a little trouble and postage too. From now on you will have more time to read. The balance of the campaign will be interesting, the election returns alone will be worth the price of the dally three months to you and the aftermath of the election every one will want to read and keep posted on. Regardless of who is elected president the six months after election will be the biggest newspaper period in several years so far as interesting news goes.

Fellow came in the other day mad as a hatter and said "I paid you $2 only 60 days ago and now I get a notice saying my Quiz has expired. How come." I looked the matter up and explained to him that when he paid he was ten months in arrears and that he was now getting a notice in the regular course of events. After checking the matter up himself he came back and said I was right, that he had been too careless and paid a year in advance and asked me to mark his card to take him off the day he was out. He said that would remind him and he would be in at once and pay again. I don't think, however, that I will have to do as he asked for he will not forget again.

In writing to renew their subscription Mark Guggenmos says they don't want to miss a single copy, which is news that I like to hear. He says they don't know when they will be home, but not as long as he has steady work in Denver.

I am well acquainted with John P. Doyle, unicameral candidate from this district. I have talked with his neighbors in Greeley and know how he stands with them. I know of his work in the last regular session of the legislature when he was in the house, from his fellow members and I know personally of his work in the special session when I was in the senate; for he often came across from the house to talk over with me pending legislation, and I often saw him in action. I have talked with him about roads that we want and I am convinced that if he is in the coming session we will have his assistance. I don't know his opponent personally but I do know somewhat of his record and reputation and from that knowledge I believe this district will be better served if Mr. Doyle is elected. For that reason I shall vote for John P. Doyle for the unicameral.

When I have to send a couple of postcard notices and then a couple of letters or cards in envelopes, to collect a $2 subscription, it has cost me 16c at least and that is 8 per cent of the money. And that is supposing that I collect all of them, which I do not do. All of which has convinced me that I would be ahead to stop all papers promptly when the time paid for expires. This would work a little hardship on a few perhaps and for that reason I have hesitated to do it. I think I shall have to make that the rule in the near future, as the loss is too great and the work too much, under the present system. Or perhaps I should say lack of system.

QUIZ FORUM

Upholds the New Deal.

To the Ord Quiz:
H. D. Leggett promises to vote for Landon, so I want to say a few words for Roosevelt. I think as far as farmer and small town man are concerned we ought to stand solid back of President Roosevelt for reelection to another term.

The fight is not between democrats and republicans, its a fight between the rich and the poor. The Jefferson Democrats prove that by bolting their party. In New York the rich fellows have organized a club known as Liberty League for the purpose to fight Roosevelt and his New Deal. Roosevelt wants to help the common class of people and the rich fellows have to contribute with some of their excess profits. This is something they never did before. There are many other reasons why the big fellows' fight Roosevelt. Rural electrification another. New Deal measure for which Senator Norris has been fighting the power trust for many years, or since the World War; Muscle Shoals power plant in Tennessee. The government built this electric power plant some time before the World War at a cost of $160,000,000. The government was manufacturing nitrates here for the World War and after the war the plant was shut down and the power trust has succeeded in keeping it closed, in spite of Senator Norris' fight for opening it by the government or renting it. This power plant has been greatly enlarged by the New Deal. Seven states will be using this electricity and will get it at cost. Also electric appliances such as refrigerators will be bought by the public at greatly reduced prices. This power plant is known now by the name of the Tennessee Valley Association.

Roosevelt said this power will be used as a "yard stick" for the whole U. S. A. We will now know what it costs to produce electricity the rates will be set here for the whole country. That is why the electric power trust was so earthily afraid of this yard stick. They were reducing power rates all over the country of their own accord, 18 corporations have sued the government last year. They claimed the government had no right to go in business. The case was brought before U. S. Supreme Court which has decided in favor of the government.

What do you think would have happened here in Valley county or I might say in the whole state also neighboring states if it hadn't been for the New Deal. Valley county farmers have received about $230,000 in corn-hog checks in 1934. Mr. Leggett, I am sure quite a few of these dollars have helped to pay subscription to the Quiz. In spite of this help there were 750 Valley county farmers that secured government loans. These farmers had all of their property mortgaged. Think of that, almost 3 out of every 4 farmers had no equity in their property, all of this misery cannot be laid to the drought, not by any means.

Farmers had a lot of broken promises and a lot of pity from Hoover's Administration, that was about as far as it went. Agriculture has been shamefully neglected and robbed. We cannot vote for the same system that ended in 1932. Farmers were no more than slaves to the organized industry. Farmers by the thousands in almost every state lost all of their property through no fault of their own. A few years ago I saw a published report of International Harvester Co., it said that their chairman's salary per year is $50,000 on top of this salary he received a special bonus of $360,000. There are many other high officers there that do not stay there just for their health. Farmers are compelled to tend their crops with old worn-out implements as they cannot afford to pay war prices for new ones.

It is my honest belief that if Roosevelt was not at the head of this government that approval on these irrigation projects would have never been secured. Landon is promising western farmers that he will uphold the Farmers Program, at the same time he promises eastern corporations that he will reduce their taxes. Where he will get the money to do this he does not say, it is unreasonable to expect that Landon will uphold the Farm Program because the fellows that put Landon on the ticket and financed his campaign are the most bitter enemies of this program. I heard several men say that they had a notion to vote for Landon but as long as he tries to ride into office on Hoover's coat tail they had no use for him.

JOS. ROUSEK.

Something DIFFERENT

And now, little wee boys and girls, come gather around Grandma Leggett's knee, and she'll tell you how Grandma is really the one who "got" irrigation for the fertile North Loup valley, "way back in 1936, years ago. It was in the summer time, children, and in those days Grandma used to fiddle around the Quiz office some. Grandma tried to get lady subscribers to send in cooking recipes to print, and sometimes wrote a little other stuff for the paper, or helped Grandma read proofs. So, one summer day in the year 1936, Grandma was in your Great Grandpa Homer Leggett's big chair, sitting behind his big desk. You know he was a Big Man, in more ways than one.

Now this was the day when Great Grandpa Leggett and Great Grandma Leggett had left in their automobile—no, I know you never saw one, but don't interrupt me, Dalmatia. As I was saying, they had started that day for a place in Minnesota where they used to go to fish every summer.

I was sitting there typing, when I glanced on a nearby shelf and saw several inches of typewritten copy left by your Great Grandfather. It was MOC or so we used to call it—the column he wrote for the Quiz each week. It was a good column too, for he wrote in a humorous fashion that pleased many. I guess the only time his readers didn't care for his MOC was when he asked them why they didn't come in and pay up their subscriptions.

—You wouldn't know what a subscription was, Eugene—that was in the days before the government published all the newspapers. Sit quietly if you want me to tell you how I was a Joan of Arc, or somebody.

Well, where was I, I'm so forgetful these days. Oh yes, I picked up this copy; headed My Own Column, and said to your Grandfather, "Here's MOC" Grandfather was very pleased and replied he didn't know his father had written any of his column. Grandfather took it out to the linotype, and it went in the Quiz that week.

Later, it was re-printed in the state papers, and helped to put the irrigation and power project over, so everyone seemed to think. So you see, children, if I hadn't found that copy, that Mr. Leggett had written but really didn't intend to put in the paper, perhaps this valley might not be full of

By George Gowen

All Politics.
A week or so ago George Mayo and Melvin Cornell took an auto trip to Ainsworth. There are two papers at Ainsworth, one a democrat and the other republican.

George and Melvin made it up between themselves to go and make a visit to each office and while in the republican paper's office George would take off his pins and both men would pretend to be republicans and then when they called at the other office Melvin would take off his republican badges and they would talk as if they both were democrats.

They called at the democrat office first and both George and Melvin talked democratic doctrines and arguments and Melvin really outdid himself talking, so George said, and the editor thought they were wonderfully enlightened personages and he shook hands pleased like that he was privileged to interview two such smart men from Valley county.

The men winked as they trudged to the office of the republican paper. George jerked off his badges and Melvin replaced his sunflower. They got along equally as well here although George admitted it was pretty hard medicine for him to even pretend to be a republican, but he did it anyway like a good sport and seemed to be making a very good impression.

And then all at once a lady stepped into the office. She opened her eyes and then exclaimed, "Well, if it isn't George Mayo." Then she turned to the editor and elucidated, "This man is one of the most prominent democrats in the state."

The lady was no less than Ella Swan, a long time resident of North Loup, and also a long time close neighbor of George Mayo.

Duane T. Swanson Will Justify Your Vote For Railway Commissioner

That was very fine and noble thing to do on such cold days as we have been having this fall, but the pinch came when the possessors of this fire would not let anyone warm up by it if they would not swear allegiance to the democrats. Each time a man would draw near he would be asked, I've heard of people being starved into doing things but never of them being frozen into it before. Well that's one way to get votes. I think a good deal less of the republicans that they did not conceive of the idea first.

A Close Problem.
And then there is the story that is rife on Rev. Claud Hill who is moving here from Farina, Ill. He plans to pack his things and load them in a truck so as to leave Illinois Tuesday, November 3rd or election morning. He is a very conscientious republican and he plans to vote there and then leave immediately for his new home.

Now going a little deeper into the situation, Rev. Hill has employed Doug, Barber of North Loup to come after his things. Doug plans to take his wife and make a little visit with some relatives enroute. Being on the road all day Doug and his wife will be unable to vote unless by mail and probably will not think it worth the trouble. So by Rev. Hill planning his departure thus so he and his wife can vote he is placing Doug, and his wife so they can't.

This seems all very foolish at first thought, remaining there to vote and hindering another from voting, but upon second consideration one wonders if it is all a coincidence or done purposely. Doug, and his wife are ardent democrats.

The question arises. Under such a circumstance how many votes will Rev. Hill and his wife be responsible for. Two or four or one and a half each. Norris said a vote for Carpenter would mean a half a vote for Simmons. I'll admit I'm not much of a mathematician.

Carpenter.
Although I am a republican I always read what Carpenter has to say. He can say more interesting things in a short time than any of the other candidates. And I'm not sure but he is about half right at that.

Issue Special Edition.
One of the most interesting newspapers that has come to the Quiz in a long time is the 26-page 50th anniversary edition issued last week by Lyman Cass, editor of the Ravenna News. Science Works Two Ways

Even in this day of flaming youth, mature age still has its usefulness.

Arthur Brisbane He left the bench to run for President against Woodrow Wilson, and would doubtless have been elected had he not gone to California. Had he been elected he would have remained in the United States and probably would have saved the country ten thousand million dollars that Woodrow Wilson shovelled out in his ecstasy of self-approval.

Rioting in London's "Mile End Road," in which the faces of men and women were slashed with razor blades and one man was thrown through a shop window, etc., seems rather "un-English," to put it mildly. Fist fighting has been encouraged by distinguished Englishmen, including judges, on the ground that it is "better than using knives."

It is better, doubtless, but what about the razor blades?

Germany honors its youngest grandfather, Herman Jahneke, farm laborer, thirty-six years old. Married at seventeen, his eldest daughter became a mother at seventeen.

If all you want is children, that record is satisfactory, although any mouse family could beat it by 25,000 per cent, and almost any microbe by a billion per cent.

If good children were desired, it would have been better for Mr. Jahneke to have his first child at 36, and his first grandchild at 60 or 70; at least that was Plato's opinion.

Justice uses science—the electric chair, the lethal chamber—to punish criminals. The criminal uses science to carry on his trade. An SOS signal, purporting to come from a yacht in distress, drew the coast guard away from the coast of Hawaii, making it convenient for smugglers of narcotics to bring in their cargo. Tear gas, comparatively modern, was used to empty a New York theater where there was labor trouble.

Japan, until recently convinced, mistakenly, that this country is her enemy, and for excellent reasons keeping close watch on Russia and her anti-Japanese Vladivostok airplane and submarine base, now turns suspicious attention on dear old John Bull.

Britain is supposed to have asked nine nations to protest against Japan's demands on China. That should not worry Japan too much. The same old John Bull got fifty-one nations to protest Mussolini's attack on Ethiopia; but, paying no attention, the able Italian went ahead swallowing Ethiopia; sending the little Haile Selassie to live in Switzerland.

In his villa at San Remo, the Duke of Bora D'Olmo celebrates his one hundred and sixth birthday in excellent health. He has been active in Italian court circles since 1841, before the beginning of the United States-Mexican war.

Mussolini tells 200 farmers and industrialists to prepare for a "decisive conflict" that will be necessary "to preserve order against anarchy."

Those that favor the "present civilization," he said, will have to preserve it. "We are at the dawn of a decisive conflict between the representatives of order and anarchy."

Dr. Irving Langmuir, brilliant Nobel prize winner, announced a "counterpart of life," produced chemically; interesting, probably not important. Until some professor can produce "some counterpart of life" able to think, manufacture telescopes, explore the universe and run for office, man's domination will not be threatened. A cigar store Indian is a "counterpart," but not an Indian.

European nations are preparing to recognize the Spanish rebels when they take Madrid and set up a national government. The idea is to take prompt action and forestall the victorious insurgents' giving Spanish territory to Italy or Germany; the Balearic islands to Italy for instance, to use as naval and air bases, with Ceuta for Germany. This would upset the balance of power in the western Mediterranean and disturb old England, with Egypt and the Suez Canal or her mind.

BURWELL NEWS

A building is being put up by the state of Nebraska on one of the vacant lots along the south line of the village for the purpose of housing the road machinery owned by the state and used on this section of the highway patrol. Of course there will at times be other materials kept there, and ample space will be provided for all future needs. This is a convenient location as the lot is located just one block east of where highway No. 11 turns into the village, and it fronts on the present route of highway No. 53. In the past materials and machinery belonging to the state has been kept by Patrolman Richardson in the barn on the lot where he lives in southwest Burwell, but this place is entirely inadequate for present requirements.

Andy Snyder with a total crew of seven men is getting the Nebraska's Big Rodeo grounds in splendid condition. The crew painted all of last week, with about another week to go. All the buildings and picket fences will receive a coat of paint this fall, and most of them will get a second one next spring. The work is uneven as some of the buildings have not been painted for seven or eight years, while other were gone over more recently. However, Andy plans to have all of them snow white when the work is done. Those who are working on the job are George Hill, George Baker, George Snyder, Bob Snyder, Leonard Snyder, James Ward and John Ward.

W. F. Herman, Burwell harness maker, Monday received word that a brother-in-law, Chester Strokey, of Lyman, Nebr., had passed away. He left by car Tuesday morning, Wallace Griffith going with him. The funeral was held Wednesday at Morrill, and among the attendants were Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Helbig, who moved from Burwell to Morrill last spring. Mr. Herman had a very pleasant visit with the Helbigs before returning. They live on a farm just south of Morrill, and tried out the irrigation plan the past year with good results. The beet crop in Scottsbluff county is one of the best in years, and all the factories are working full time to get out the sugar. Mr. Herman returned Thursday but Griffith found a job at Morrill, and remained there.

Another Ord-Burwell football game has come and gone, and the 33 to 6 Burwell defeat is a matter of history. The result was a foregone conclusion, as Burwell has perhaps the weakest team in the Loup Valley conference this year, while Ord bids fair to cop top honors. But for the first time this year Ord was scored upon, and the touchdown was made by fourteen year old Bobby Bangert, a freshman of the squad and playing in his fourth regular game. He scored it more miraculously, he scored single handed after taking an Ord kickoff on his own twenty yard line. There was no time to wait for interference, as the red shirted boys were right upon him. He side stepped, wriggled, sunfished for twenty yards before getting into the open, and when he did it was just too bad, as he is one of the fastest young men in the entire Loup Valley. Bangert bore his full share of the Ord attack for nearly the full game, and like the rest of the team was battered and bruised by the power house tactics of one of the best teams Ord has ever put in the field. But the team never gave up, and fought all the way, one of the best fights they have shown this season. The carrying of a kickoff back for a touchdown is a very unusual feat, and has been played twice by Burwell against Ord, the other time being three years ago, when Burwell defeated Ord 33 to 0. The play that time was planned ahead and executed by two seniors, Asa Anderson carrying the ball and Leonard Manasil faking a carry and drawing the Ord team to one side of the field while Asa went down the other with Pete Ballard running interference. This was considered a remarkable feat at the time. But what of a fourteen year old freshman going up against a far better team and putting the play through alone? Bob has three more years to go, and the Loup Valley will certainly hear from him in days to come.

Two recent Burwell weddings are as follows: Last Monday Lonnie B. Roy and Nellie Johnson, of Loup City were issued a license to wed. On Wednesday, Oct. 14th, C. R. Shields of Doniphan and Olga Nelson of Grand Island were issued a license to marry, and later the ceremony was performed by his honor, Ben Rose. Vern Miller and Ethel Black, both of Burwell were married by County Judge Smith at his office in Taylor. These young people are well and favorably known here. From Gering Nebr., comes the word of the marriage of Edward Hise, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Hise, to Elizabeth Johnson, sister of Ted R. Johnson, of Gering.

A Townsend meeting which was very largely attended was held at the Burwell Christian church last Monday night. The meeting was addressed by Tom Bradstreet of Grand Island, who made a very interesting and instructive talk. As an added feature a playlet of three acts along the line of the Townsend plan was put on. Interest in the Townsend plan is increasing in Burwell as time goes on.

Wieners and Bologna

For years this market has been famous for its high-quality, all meat Wieners and Bologna. No others taste as good, we are told constantly by people who have tried packing-house wieners and bologna or those made by other markets. Frequently we receive mail orders from former Ordites who just can't forget the delicious, succulent Wieners and Bologna they used to buy here.

Although the management of our market has changed we still make Wieners and Bologna after the same recipes used for many years. If you haven't been using them, try some today. If you have—and most families of the Ord community have—we know you'll come back often for more.

We also make our own liverwurst, head cheese and many other spiced meat products.

Notice To Taxpayers

DO NOT BE FOOLED by New Dealers who say you will not have to pay your share of the extravagance and waste of the New Deal State and National administrations. The average citizen always pays the bill, not only in direct taxes but in taxes upon everything his family eats and wears. Only a SMALL part of this staggering tax bill can be paid by the rich, and they will pass it on to the consumer. In the end, IT MUST COME OUT OF YOUR POCKET!

Four years ago, before he went on this wild spree of political spending, Franklin D. Roosevelt said: "Taxes are paid in the sweat of every man who labors. Our workers may never see a tax bill, but they pay in deductions from wages, in increased cost of what they buy."

That is true today, but President Roosevelt seems to have forgotten it.

NOW is the time to stop this waste of your money—before it is too late. Vote to take the politicians off of the taxpayers' back—there is ONLY ONE way to do it—

Chanticleers Mark Up 33-6 Victory

Concentrating its attack in the second half, the Ord high Chanticleers pushed over four touchdowns to turn back a fighting Burwell team 33 to 6 on the Wrangler field last Friday afternoon. This third Loup Valley conference win of the season left Ord still at the top of the conference along with Comstock and Loup City.

First Half Dull.
The first half of play was marked by many fumbles and ragged playing on the part of both teams, Ord scoring only one touchdown in the first frame, the try for extra point failing to be good and leaving the Chanticleers with a 6 to 0 margin.

Coach Brockman's men were unable to "get going" against the Longhorns every attempt to march down the field being stopped by the Wrangler defense. Although much substituting was done, a team that could put on offensive power and to "click" could not be found. The Chanticleer defense was working in fairly good shape however and attempts by the Wranglers to push over a score were utter failures.

Chanticleers "Opened Up."
From the opening whistle of the third quarter, the Red and White opened up and really began to "pour on the heat." The line began to click and the backfield began the work of gaining yardage in a business-like manner. Aided by consistent drives down the field and several distance-gaining passes the Chanticleers marked up four touchdowns in this final half.

Burwell Finally Scores.
It was not until late in the fourth quarter with about a minute of play left to go that the Burwellites put over their lone touchdown against the Ordites. With the Ord team made up of second and third team members, Clark being the only regular in the lineup, the Wrangler quarterback took the ball on the kickoff from Ord and covered the entire distance to the goal stripe for the Touchdown. The try for extra point was no good.

Comstock Upset By Fine Scotia Team

Scotia got under way last Friday to furnish the fireworks for the Loup Valley conference by upsetting the leading Comstock eleven 13 to 7 on the Scotia gridiron. This win brings Coach Ebmieders team up into the 500 per cent class and sets Comstock down into fourth position in the conference standings.

In other conference battles, Broken Bow had a field day to dispose of the Ravenna team 30 to 9 in a Mid Six game. In the remaining Mid Six clash of last week Loup City broke loose to plow under St. Paul to the tune of 20 to 6.

Loup Valley conference contests saw Ord roll over Burwell in a third quarter rally 33-6, while Arcadia had a hard fight to take a 12 to 0 decision over Sargent high school.

Non conference games played last week show Wolbach battling to a 0-0 tie with North Loup on the North Loup field, Ansley showing a 26 to 0 beating on top of Shelton and Columbus pouring it on a Central City team for a 31 to 0 decision.

Who's Who In Ord Football

RICHARD BURROWS.
Another "up and at 'em" Chanticleer on the squad this year—Richard Burrows. Burrows shifts between the guard and tackle positions and he takes care of either assignment in a big way. Richard has had one year experience as a reserve prior to his work this fall, he is a senior this year, weighs 150 pounds and is five feet, ten inches tall.

CHARLES DLUGOSH.
Only a first year man but does he smack through the defense? Yessir you guessed right, his name is Charles Dlugosh and he takes care of that right guard position on the Chanticleer team this year. "Charlie" has had no previous experience on the gridiron but he holds down his post like a veteran. He weighs 145 pounds and is five feet six inches tall.

Ord Girls Enjoyed Sargent's 'Play Day'

Twenty Ord high school G. A. A. girls under the sponsorship of Miss Helen Myers made the trip Tuesday to Sargent where they attended the annual first semester Loup Valley "playday."

Schools from Comstock, Loup City, Sargent, Ord, Arcadia, Scotia, St. Paul, Burwell, North Loup and Taylor were invited to attend the playday.

Ord G. A. A. girls to make the trip included: Ruth Auble, Loretta Mae Achen, Mary Beranek, Jerrine Burrows, Virginia Clark, Barbara Dale, Alberta Dale, Frances Dumeley, Alberta Flynn, Mae Klein, Evelyn Sharp, Shirley Schrader, Margie Jean Smith, Eleanore Wolf, Irene Whiting, Betty Meyer, Lucille Lakin Joy Lott, Alice Mazac and Eloise Norris.

British Legal Practice

After the separation of the United States from Britain, America's courts permitted reference to the decisions of English courts which preceded, but not to those which followed the Revolution.

5 Conference Games On Week's Schedule

Two Loup Valley and two Mid Six conference games are on the schedule for this week's grid play.

Taylor goes against Loup City on the Loup City field Friday night in what appears to be another easy victory for the Loup City team. Comstock will attempt to build up her percentage in a game with the North Loup eleven on the North Loup gridiron.

Broken Bow will play St. Paul Friday in a Mid Six game on the Apostle field. In the remaining Mid Six game to be played Arcadia will journey to Ravenna for a "fight to the finish" battle.

Non conference games slated for this week include Sargent playing at Merna, Central City at Albion, Ansley at Litchfield, Bassett at Burwell, and Grand Island Reserves at Greeley.

Junior Hi Team Loses to Ravenna

Coach Frank Lee's junior high gridgers went down to defeat on the home field last Friday afternoon as they lost to Ravenna junior high by a 19 to 12 score.

Ravenna whipped their offensive machine into shape the first quarter and were never headed by the Ordite, although the Ord team made a wonderful comeback after the first frame of the game to chalk up two touchdowns.

- How about the one-cent additional gas tax.
  - How about the $2,000,000 in liquor taxes.
  - How about the $3 head tax on every person under fifty years of age?
- If the cost of our government had been held down, the income from liquor taxes would have brought about a real reduction in the property tax levy.

Ord Wary Despite Ravenna's Showing

Football activity in the Chanticleer camp this week is a little slower as the Red and White take full advantage of a much needed week's "breather." No games are to be played this week by the Chanticleers, the next contest being with Ravenna Wednesday Oct. 23 on the home field.

While Ord was thumping Burwell 33-6 in a last half rally last Friday Broken Bow was giving it to the Ravenna team with both barrels for a 30 to 9 verdict in favor of the Indians.

The Ord-Ravenna clash will be the fifth game of the season for the Chanticleers and the third Mid Six encounter on the schedule this year. A win over Ravenna will give Ord two wins and one tie game in the conference.

Wary of Ravenna.
Coach Brockman's footballers are keeping a wary eye on the Ravenna team this year despite the poor showing made by Ravenna thus far this season. Last year Ravenna was the team who smeared up the Chanticleer football record by scoring a lone touchdown—the only football team to score on the Red and White in 1935.

Coach Stan Johnson of Ravenna has 17 members of his 1935 squad back in the fold this year and also has Jack Smaha, a Fullerton letterman, in the lineup. Veterans on the Ravenna eleven this year include: Meek, Jelinek, Hale, Luth, Capellan, Hamilton, Mackey, Svanda, Barton, Harmon, Zoucha, Miller, Jungles, Loddie, Kunes, Bauers and Chick Olson.

She adds that it is not surprising that she knows but few of the present population as there were 500 or more at the annual Ord picnic in Long Beach last Sunday. A splendid time was enjoyed as old friends met and visited in California.

—Miss Mamie Siler writes from Long Beach, Calif., to renew her Quiz subscription and asks that we give her best regards to all Ord friends. Although so many people have left Ord being replaced by new people until she knows only a few names, she writes that she would not be without the Quiz. # North Loup News

Mrs. Inez Hill entertained at dinner Thursday H. H. Thorgate, Chas. Rood, Mrs. Mary R. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Alpha Crandall, Beecher Van Horn and children. Beecher Van Horn made a trip to Lincoln last Thursday to take Mr. and Mrs. Roy Larkin and baby down to the Orthopedic hospital, where the baby is to have treatment following an injury to its back. Vesta Thorgate and Mrs. Myra Barber were also passengers. Thirteen ladies besides the hostesses were present at the first fall meeting of the Twentieth Century club at the home of Mrs. Leona Knapp last Thursday afternoon. During the business meeting, Mrs. Dorothy Knapp was appointed news reporter taking the place of Mrs. Sandy who moved away. It was also decided to have one purely social meeting each month. The president Viola Everett had charge of this lesson which was on home making. Verne Robbins is driving a new blue Plymouth coupe. Mr. Will Harrod and Mr. and Mrs. Leon Emery of Central City called on Mrs. Ray Knapp Wednesday afternoon. No Lo club met last Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. B. Clark with Mrs. Clifton Clark as hostess. Miss Viola Everett was a guest and two new members Vesta Thorgate and Mrs. Claud Thomas were present for the first time. Roll call was a fact about Columbus. The lesson was on the West Indies. Those taking part were Mrs. Mary Clark, Mrs. John Manchester, Mrs. Chas. Cress, Mrs. A. L. Hutchins, Mrs. C. B. Clark, Mrs. Guy Kerr, Mrs. R. O. Babcock, Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock, and Mrs. Clara Holmes. Mrs. Cress also favored the club with a reading, "Our Guide in Genoa," from Mark Twain's "Innocents Abroad." Mr. and Mrs. George Sample left Wednesday for Escondido, Calif., where they will visit their daughter Mrs. Steve Finch. The Fortnightly club ladies were hostesses to three car loads of Burwell Women's club members last Wednesday in the M. E. church parlors. Mrs. McCrory, as president of the Greeley club, extended an invitation to the Fortnightly and Burwell club members to attend the Inter-County Federation meeting at Greeley, Nov. 12. The program opened with the singing of "America the Beautiful" by the entire group led by Mrs. Genevieve Hoepfner. Mrs. Merle Zangger then gave a most interesting review on the book "Your Moneys Worth." Following Mrs. Zangger was a saxophone solo "I Love a Little Cottage" by Mrs. Zola Schudel, accompanied by Mrs. Ruth Hutchins. The second book review "One Hundred Million Guinea Pig" was given by Mrs. Myrie Sayre. A vocal solo "When You Come to the End of the Day" by Mrs. Genevieve Hoepfner was the concluding number, after which Mrs. Elfrida Vodehnal conducted a "mixer." The hostesses, Mrs. Ardell Bailey, Mrs. Ruth Babcock, Mrs. Mary Thelin and Mrs. Jessie S. Babcock served an appetizing lunch of chicken salad, rolls, pumpkin pie with whipped cream and coffee. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Gowan. Fortnightly club members have been very happy to learn that one of their number, Mrs. Myra T. Barber, has won second prize in the poetry division of the annual contest sponsored by the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs. Mrs. Barber received notification of the honor together with a very urgent request to be present at the state convention which is being held in Beatrice this week. She hopes to attend the convention at least one day. The poem submitted "Indian Trail" is only one of many which Mrs. Barber has written. Cox and daughter, Helen of Council Bluffs, Ia., were guests of relatives in North Loup last week from Wednesday until Friday.

Law Should Be Repealed.
On November 3, this year, Nebraska voters will have an opportunity to remove from the state constitution one of the antiquated provisions that date from the days when private banks were in existence and when strict regulation of banks was unknown. At that time it was considered necessary by the framers of the constitutional provisions that every possible safeguard be given depositors in the poorly regulated banks of that period. About the best they could do was to provide that stockholders in all state banks should be liable for double the value of the stock they owned. In the early days of banking such provision probably was a protection to the depositors, but the time when it is necessary to guard the depositor against loss has passed. Depositors in state banks of the present day are amply protected in other and far more efficient ways. Strict regulation, rigid examinations and higher requirements for bankers make failure of banks with loss to depositors very rare. In addition most of our state banks have taken advantage of the new Federal Deposit Insurance Act which guarantees deposits up to $5,000 each. The antiquated double liability requirement, however, is still in the state constitution. The last legislature, recognizing its utility under modern banking practice, submitted an amendment to the constitution to repeal the double liability provision. This has been done by congress so far as national banks are concerned. It has also been done by a number of states. Nebraska will be doing only the fair thing by our state banks, and by communities that cannot support a national bank, if the people vote for repeal of the provision next November.

Two Extremes
While the Roosevelt administration was spending two dollars for each dollar of revenue received, and creating a deficit of more than $14,000,000,000, Gov. Alf M. Landon was holding down government expenses in Kansas and seeing to it that the state did not spend more than its revenue.

Artichokes Thrive on Valley County Soil, Photos Prove

Both pictures shown above were taken by H. E. Jones, the Quiz photographer, on the R. C. Bailey farm northeast of Ord. Mr. Bailey has an 11-acre field of artichokes planted last spring. Tops, or foliage, in this field are sufficient to winter 40 head of cattle.
The picture on the left shows artichokes from one average plant. Held in the hand of L. J. Auble, local agent for the United Artichoke Company, is one tuber, enough seed for two plants next year.
On the right is shown an artichoke plant just as it was taken from the ground. Each plant bears an average of 5 pounds at present, with additional growth expected.
Near North Loup some artichoke plants on irrigated land are running as high as 12 pounds to the plant.
Ord farmers are beginning to believe that the white Jerusalem artichoke will in future prove a most profitable crop in this community. Many have fields this year, more are signing up acreage for next season, Mr. Auble reports. Eventually it is hoped an artichoke processing plant may be constructed in Ord.

$760 worth of seed and there have been many other sales of equal or greater quantities to local buyers.

Alfalfa seed is worth more as it comes from the threshing machines this fall than it usually sells for at retail in the spring. Even seed from third cutting alfalfa, slightly frosted, is bringing about 16 1/2c per pound.

Local men buying seed include the Noll Seed Co., Weekes Seed Co., and Val Pullen. All have purchased considerable quantities, the Weekes people having bought the most. Knapp Bros., of North Loup have bought a tremendous amount, probably as much as all three of the Ord dealers combined. Outside buyers have snapped up some of the largest consignments. And still there is a great amount of alfalfa seed on Valley county farms which will be sold in the next few weeks.

Russians Well Fed, Happier Under Stalin Than Under Czarist Regime

Soviet Program Succeeding,
Mrs. Mortensen Believes
After Tour of Russia

That the rank and file of people in Russia are better fed and are happier under the soviet system than they were in days of the czars is the opinion of Mrs. Crawford J. Mortensen, who toured Russia this summer and related her experiences Monday evening at a "ladies night" program of the Ord rotary club.

Although few Russians are well dressed they all appear to be getting enough to eat and seem to believe in Stalin and in the sovlets, she says.

"We're not starving any more;
soon we'll have enough clothes to wear," she was told by Russian men, women and children.

In company with several other Americans, the Ord woman traveled extensively in Europe during July and August. The party entered Russia from Helsinki, Finland, and visited Leningrad, Moscow, Kiev, Yalta, Odessa and other Russian cities.

There are no churches left in Russia, she says, thus confirming newspaper and magazine reports read frequently by Ord people.
The government of Russia is frankly atheistic and many of fine old cathedrals have been destroyed while others were turned into museums.

More suffering, dour faces, were seen in Leningrad and other cities in north Russia than in the Ukraine district of the south, she reports. Bountiful crops of wheat and corn were being harvested in the Ukraine, often called "the breadbasket of Europe," when her party journeyed through. Prosperity was much more evident in the south than in the north.

Women work on an equality with men and at jobs customarily considered men's jobs throughout Russia. While women are at work the children are cared for in state-operated schools located near each factory or state farm. Compensation insurance to protect workers during periods of illness and when they are not able to work because of old age has been established by the government.

Her interesting talk, about 45 minutes long, was listened to attentionly by Rotarians, their wives, and a group of guests that included R. L. Maxon of Champaign, Ill.,
Superintendent and Mrs. C. C.
Thompson, Principal and Mrs. C.
Stoddard, Mr. and Mrs. Eddy and Frank Lee, new member of the Ord high school faculty.

The dinner was served in the party room at Thorne's cafe, decorations following the Hallowe'en motif.

WORK ON PROJECT STARTS TODAY

No. Loup Project Offices Now Have 20 People Working

8 Busy Under Dunmire, 12 Under Engineer Ferry; Activity Increasing.

With twenty people now working in the offices of the North Loup power and irrigation project, the city hall is a beehive of activity as preliminary phases of the big undertaking are being worked out.

In the general offices of the district, which occupy two suites of rooms at the front of the second floor, Engineer-Manager E. H. Dunmire and seven assistants are employed. This group includes Guy Laverty, of Burwell, attorney for the project, Ruth J. Bradt, secretary, Mary Ann Bartz and Christine Kozel, stenographers, Martha Mae Barta, clerk, Charles R. Wareham, of Kearney, auditor, and R. H. Armstrong, of Denver, recorder.

Mr. Armstrong, latest addition to the force, will be in charge of water flow gauging stations soon to be established at four or five points in the North Loup river. He was previously employed at Denver by the U. S. geodetic survey.

Eleven engineers, chainmen and rodmen are now working under A. V. Ferry, of Kansas City, the project engineer, in the big room which formerly was the firemen's hall. Carpenters partitioned this room into separate offices for various divisions of the staff.

Working with Engineer Ferry are Harold W. Reid, of Genoa, chief of party, who has moved his family consisting of his wife and two children to Ord, K. R. Jensen, instrument man, Arvin Dye, chainman, Chas. Zanger, chainman, W. H. Neumarker, of Genoa, instrument man, A. D. Myhre, of Genoa, rodman, George Allen Jr., rodman, George Hewitt, of Lexington, rodman, Don Proudfit, of Columbus, draftsman, Jack Meisenbach, of Heartwell, rodman, and Hugh Hallett, of Lincoln, instrument man. Several of this group are married and have rented houses and apartments in Ord. All are working out of this city at the present time.

Directors of the district hold meetings almost every day and often in the evening and Manager Dunmire also has a force of ten appraisers, all North Loup valley men, busy at the work of signing right-of-way options.

In the near future the force busy in Ord will be increased by the addition of several PWA inspectors and representatives of the various contractors who are awarded portions of the job. W. E. Standeven, PWA project engineer, also is here much of the time.

Fair Stockholders Will Meet Monday

Stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society, which holds each August a fair and auto race meet in Ord, will hold their annual meeting at the district court room in Ord at 2:00 p. m., Monday, Nov. 2. S. W. Roe, secretary of the fair association, says that directors wish to call the attention of people generally to three important facts in regard to the 1936 fair.

1. The race track was rebuilt this summer in a way that makes it not only the fastest track in Nebraska but also faster than tracks in any adjoining state.

2. For the first time in 12 years the fair was given no direct subscription from business men nor any indirect subscription such as print advertising in the premium books.

3. Indebtedness of the association was reduced $800 this year. Directors realize this fine record was made possible only by the cooperation and good will of the people of Valley county and they thank everybody who attended the show or assisted in putting it over.

At the annual meeting next Monday directors will be elected, reports of officers heard and other business transacted. A large attendance of stockholders is desired.

Republican Tea Friday

A tea party to which the public is cordially invited will be held Friday afternoon at 2:30 at the American Legion hall. Mrs. J. A. Barber of North Loup will have charge of the meeting. Mrs. John F. Misko and Mrs. O. H. Sowl will have charge of the music, and Mrs. Henry Marks, Mrs. Sam Marks and Mrs. Walter Noll will be the hostesses.

Missionary Rally Will End Nov. 1st

Two missionaries are engaged in a missionary rally under the auspices of the Ord Presbyterian church, and with the assistance of the pastor, S. A. Woodruff, Jr., Rev. Fred Lasse speaks from his own actual experiences in the Congo territory of Africa. Rev. Leo Lapp has intimate first hand knowledge of conditions in China. The rally opened Oct. 18, and will continue until Nov. 1. In addition to the regular services in the church, these men are going out to various schools throughout the county, and speaking to the children from an educational point of view. The children are showing great interest in these talks, and it is likely that the men will have more engagements than they will be able to fill in the time allotted them. Talks have been made in the Arcadia and North Loup schools, as well as the high and grade schools in Ord. Country schools visited included Springdale, Melia, Batley, Maiden Valley, Olean, Elm Creek, No. 10, Brace, Vinton, No. 57 and Hayes Creek.

Pneumonia Brings Death Monday To C.F. Grunkemeyer

Popular Ord Auctioneer Was Stricken At Bassett and Lived Only Few Days.

Taken ill very suddenly while crying a livestock auction at Bassett last Wednesday, Carl F. Grunkemeyer was brought home that night suffering from a severe cold that had developed into pneumonia by the next day. For four days he made a gallant fight against the disease and the most expert medical help in central Nebraska was enlisted to help him but everything was unavailing and he died at his home in Ord about 8:30 p. m. Monday, Oct. 26.

About a year ago Mr. Grunkemeyer had an attack of pneumonia and almost died and although he apparently made a complete recovery it is thought likely that his former illness made the second attack go harder with him. His sudden death is a terrible shock to business associates and friends throughout Nebraska and South Dakota.

Carl F. Grunkemeyer was born Feb. 22, 1887, at Aurora, Neb., and passed away at his home in Ord, Monday, Oct. 26th, being 49 years, 8 months and 4 days old at the time of his death. He started in the meat business at the age of 14 years, first working for others, and later for more than twenty years running a business of his own in Burwell. He came to Burwell 33 years ago, and in 1907 was married to Sarah Alice Jenkins of Burwell. To this union nine children were born, all of whom, with his devoted wife are left to mourn his passing. They are Ralph and Lynn of Louisville, Colo., Arlo of Huntington Park, Calif., Rollin, Carl, Albert, Sarah Alice, Marguerite and Dwight. Rollin and Carl are running the meat market in Burwell and the others are at home.

In addition to his work in the meat market, at which he made a pronounced success and a reputation for fair dealing and high quality goods, Mr. Grunkemeyer many years ago began to use the clear powerful voice with which he was blessed in the auctioneering business. This is the work that won him personal acquaintance with half the people in central Nebraska, as well as a large number in South Dakota, where he often went to cry livestock sales.

Mr. Grunkemeyer took over the Ord Livestock Market from E. C. Weller last spring, taking charge at once, and he was enjoying a splendid business at the time of his death. Col. James Webb, of Grand Island, substituted for him last Saturday and probably will continue to do so until Herman Grunkemeyer, his partner in the Ord business, can make some permanent arrangements.

Funeral services were held from the Burwell Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. Richardson of Bassett having charge of the services. Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery. He was a member of the Burwell Masonic fraternity who had a part in the services. Left to mourn in addition to his immediate family already mentioned are three sisters, Mrs. Lizzie Hilpert and Mrs. Vena Beynon, of Burwell, and Mrs. Freda Oberg, of Aurora; four brothers, Fred, William and Herman, of Burwell, and August of Bridgeport, Neb.; another sister, Mrs. Fred Shepherd, of Omaha, died last spring.

Ord Seniors Will "Go to School" In Stores Nov. 8-13

Will Do Practical Work As Education Week Feature; B.W.P.C. Sponsor.

Declaring that the public school system is sound in principle but not in practice, the Ord Business and Professional Women's club, assisted by the Ord chamber of commerce, is developing an entirely new plan which will get underway November 8 to 14 in observance of American Education Week.

Ord high school seniors, under the new plan, will "go to school" in local business houses and offices for an entire week. The students will work for Ord business and professional men and women instead of attending classes, although school hours and discipline will be present at his business position at 9 a. m. each day, will be allowed one hour for lunch, and will be dismissed from his post at 4 p. m. The seniors are expected to learn as much about the business as possible.

Principal purpose of American Education Week is to establish a better understanding between the schools and the public and it is believed the plan of having high school seniors do actual work in stores and offices will be a splendid method of accomplishing this purpose.

Business men often complain they have difficulty in finding competent help and naturally schools come in for their share of criticism. Members of the B. & P. W. C. believe this is because the work that schools attempt to do is sound in principle but weak in practice, reason being that schools are financially unable to buy equipment for vocational training.

By sponsoring the plan of having seniors work for a week under actual working conditions, the club offers to employers a plan of cooperative education. Potential job-seekers will be given real practices work. Several firms already have indicated their willingness to take one or several seniors for that week and others are being contacted daily.

Students will be given a chance to express their preferences as to working places but no promise will be made by the committee in charge as to where each will be placed. A grading system will be employed in the plan, any transient failures being reported to the school.

Committee in charge is composed of Superintendent C. C. Thompson, two business people and one or two teachers.

Conscience Hurt, So Restores 89c He Stole Years Ago

John L. Andersen, county judge, received an unusual letter this week. Enclosed was a $1.00 bill. The letter said:

"Enclosed here please find $1.00 which I am returning to you to place in the proper hands. Years ago while the Andersen Grocery was in business I stole an article valued at 89c. My conscience has bothered me ever since. I hope you can do this for me please." The letter was postmarked at Ord and was signed simply "A Friend." Judge Andersen gave the dollar to his father, Hans Andersen, who assures the anonymous sender that his theft is freely forgiven.

Radium Used To Help Hardenbrook

No. Loup District Chief Back from Rochester, Health Is Improved.

Bert M. Hardenbrook, president of the North Loup power and irrigation district, returned Thursday after a ten-day stay in Rochester, Minn., where specialists diagnosed his ailment as a "fast growing cancer" of the jaw and gave him daily radium treatments to head off the malignant growth before it became more serious.

For several months a growth on the left side of Mr. Hardenbrook's face has been troubling him and twice he has gone to Rochester recently, first for a comprehensive examination and then for a series of treatments.

There is little doubt that Mr. Hardenbrook came to them in time to permit a complete cure of the cancer, the Rochester doctors say. He will return during the Christmas holidays for more treatments.

Mrs. Hardenbrook and Forrest Johnson accompanied the district president on the trip. They attended the Nebraska-Minnesota football game at Minneapolis before going to Rochester.

Temperature Took Sharp Nose Dive

Valley county got its first real touch of winter last Wednesday night when the temperature dropped to an unofficial figure of 10 degrees. The previous day a little snow fell but melted rapidly. Around O'Neill four inches of snow was reported. The latter part of last week was warmed but Sunday was windy and cold and a 12-degree temperature was reported Monday morning.

RA Program Given Fine Endorsement By Bankers, Clients

Filled Great Need, Opine Many Interviewed; 171 Families on List.

Businessmen, Resettlement Administration clients and county officials endorsed the activities of that agency in Valley county in a series of interviews last Tuesday. Lores McMinder, local Resettlement representative reports. "In an effort to see the reaction of our program on the public and the demand for it for next year, a representative of the Lincoln office and I talked to a number of Ord people," McMinder said. "In every instance we found the same wholehearted support of our policies which has been evidenced in the past by the fine cooperation of bankers and merchants."

In Valley county, McMinder said 171 farm families have received standard loans from the Resettlement Administration in the amount of $109,563.09. In addition 172 grant cases have received $8,485. Owing to the adverse conditions of the past year none of the clients

Injured in Car Accident.

A young man named Walter Linke was brought to the Weekes hospital Saturday evening suffering from a compound fracture of the right femur, which occurred in a car accident on the highway between Ord and Burwell. The fracture was reduced and he is getting along as well as could be hoped for.

Annual Red Cross Drive Is Planned

The Ord chapter of the Red Cross is formulating plans this week for the annual roll call campaign, which will open Nov. 11 and continue until Thanksgiving. Mr. Karl, fieldman for the American National Red Cross, has been here and has helped organize the roll call campaign, of which Mrs. Keith Lewis is chairman. The movie trailer is being shown this week at North Loup and Arcadia, and later will be shown at Ord. Verne Weller is the new chairman for home and farm accident prevention, and is organizing this activity at the present time. He promises the Quiz full details of what he proposes to do for next week's issue. Without doubt the Red Cross is one of the most worthy activities in the United States today, and should receive the support of everyone.

New Re-Employment Service Manager

Richard H. Mills is the new National Re-employment Service manager, succeeding Clifford Wendenhall. The office, which has jurisdiction over the five counties, Loup, Garfield, Wheeler, Greeley and Valley, will reinterview all relief persons in these counties as soon as possible, with the view to bringing their applications up-to-date, cataloging any new qualifications they may find, and in some cases eliminating the names of persons who have found steady employment, and no longer need to be on the list. To facilitate the work C. A. Bellinger of Arcadia and Dallis R. Berney, of Bartlett, have been added to the office force. The Valley county personnel will be kept as it is in the additional work which the coming of the ditch will produce, but extra help in other districts will be dropped as soon as the recapitulation is completed.

W. L. McMullen, 77, Was Laid To Rest In Ord Cemetery

Pioneer Merchant of No. Loup Valley Mourned by All; Funeral was Friday.

William L. McMullen was born at Bilgo, Clarion county, Pa., on Jan. 11, 1859, and passed away at his home in Burwell at midnight, Tuesday, Oct. 20, 1936, at the age of 77 years. In infancy he moved with his parents to Oil City, Pa., where he attended school and grew to young manhood. At the age of 24 and in the spring of 1883 he came west to Ord, and associated with G. W. Milford in the operation of the Milford store.

His marriage to Miss Cora Cord, also of Ord, occurred Nov. 10, 1885 and four children were born to them, all of whom grew to maturity. The eldest daughter, Mrs. E. J. Smith passed away Oct. 23, 1917. Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. W. Tunnell, of Ord, and two sons Will and Henry, both of whom reside in Burwell. There are also six grandsons and two granddaughters. One brother, Richard J. lives in Oil City, Pa.

For ten years after his marriage he continued to engage in business in Ord, Kent, and Taylor, Neb. In 1895 he moved to Burwell and opened the McMullen and Conrad store. Disposing of this business after a number of years of successful operation he became president of the First National bank of Burwell, a position he filled very ably for a period of twenty-five years. Eighteen years ago he sold his banking interests and retired to private life.

However, being of unusually active mind and body he soon associated with his two sons in the formation and conduct of the McMullen Bros. store, an activity he followed up until the time of his fatal illness which began eight weeks ago. "Billy," as he was affectionately known throughout the length and breadth of the Loup valley, numbered his friends by his acquaintances, many of whom will look back to earlier struggles in life and recall it was Billy McMullen's guiding hand, kindly advice, or financial assistance which placed them in the way of better things for their own individual life.

Mr. McMullen affiliated with the Burwell Methodist church, and the funeral services were held from the home Oct. 23, at ten o'clock, the minister, J. Bruce Wylie, having the services in charge. He was also a member of the Burwell Masonic lodge, and his lodge brethren attended in a body. Interment was made in the Ord cemetery. Thus passes the last of Burwell's merchants of the old school, who had the happy faculty of being able to adapt himself to new ways.

Democrat Rally Monday Evening

A democratic rally was held at the Ord Opera House Monday evening under the auspices of the local committee. Tom W. Lannigan of Washington, D. C., formerly of Greeley, was the principal speaker and spoke to a full house who received his talk with much enthusiasm. Arnold Tunning of Arcadia also gave a short talk. Much interest was shown, a number of republicans also being present. At the close of the meeting a dance was held, the music being furnished by Puncocchar's orchestra.

Latenser Reverses Last Week's Ruling, Issues Work Order

Contractors Have Equipment Here, Work Starts Today Near Ord Railroad Bridge.

Construction begins today on the North Loup power and irrigation project! Permission to "go ahead" was given E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager, yesterday by W. E. Standeven, resident engineer representing the Public Works Administration, who received official instructions to that effect from John Latenser, of Omaha, the PWA engineer for Nebraska.

The Kokes-Vogeltanz farm about one-half mile south of Ord will be the starting point and construction will proceed down the canal toward North Loup.

Members of the Litwiller Construction Co., of Seward, contractors for the first ten miles of canal, were in Ord yesterday and about noon received orders from Mr. Dunmire to get their equipment on the ground, their force of men recruited and be ready to begin work at once.

An enormous dragline, requiring two flat cars to transport, had been shipped to Ord by the Litwiller firm and was being unloaded from the C. B. & Q. trackage yesterday and moved to the Kokes farm. Tractors, graders and other equipment were transported here by truck last week and unloaded near Olean so it required only a few hours to move this equipment to the Kokes and Vogelanz place.

The Public Works Administration's order to start work was a complete reversal of a ruling issued last week that no construction would be permitted until all right-of-way was under option.

Monday evening Engineer-Manager Dunmire reported to Mr. Latenser that the district had 30,000 acres of land signed for water, thus conforming with PWA requirements, and asked for a modification of last week's ruling. Latenser took the matter up with authorities at Washington, urging need of haste in getting work started, while the weather remains good, and Tuesday evening received orders to reverse the previous ruling and start work at once. He promptly mailed a work order to his local representative, Mr. Standeven, who transmitted it to Dunmire. Not a day will be lost in getting work under way, the latter says.

Slashing red tape that previously had threatened to hold up the project indefinitely, all departments of the Public Works Administration in Nebraska will cooperate to assure haste, it was promised.

Joseph D. Evans, state engineer-inspector, came to Ord yesterday and was in conference with officials of the district relative to placing a resident inspector here at once. He assured them that Joseph F. Cita will come to Ord early next week as the resident engineer-inspector on the North Loup project and will be in charge of all inspection, later to be assisted by several other men. Mr. Cita has been stationed on the Loup river project at Columbus for the past two years in charge of the desilting works and diversion dams. Officials of the North Loup district feel fortunate in securing a man to represent the Public Works Administration here who has had experience in this kind of work.

Mr. Evans assured the district officers that Cita will be here quickly and that construction will not be delayed through lack of inspection.

About twenty men will be employed on the ditch today, with a larger force to be added when the work gets to rolling. About 30 days will be required to finish the first ten miles of canal, the contractors estimate. Actual dirt moving may not get under way until Saturday.

Engineer-Manager Dunmire said yesterday that the work order given him permits construction only of the first unit. Until options for right-of-way on the other canals are signed up he will not advertise for further bids. As soon as all right-of-way on the Burwell Sumter canal is signed, this being the territory where appraisers are working now, he will advertise for bids on this canal. Appraisers then will begin getting options on the Taylor-Ord canal right-of-way. Only a certain amount of money is available to pay for right-of-way and he is hopeful that land owners will sign options quickly so construction will not be halted.

"It Won't Be Long Now" Until Annual Junior Class Play Will Be Presented By Able Cast at H. S. Auditorium

Unique! Yes, that's the word that best describes the junior class play, "It Won't Be Long Now," which will be presented at the Ord high school auditorium on Tuesday, Nov. 10 by an able cast of juniors of Ord high school under the sponsorship of Miss Olivia Hanson.

H. E. Jones, Quiz photographer, took this picture of the "It Won't Be Long Now" cast Monday. In the first row, left to right, are Vernon Malolepsy, Willis Plate and Lonnie Nelson, in the second row are Harriet Marshall, Jean Ferguson, Robert Williamson, Virginia Sack, Frances Duemey and Virginia Davis, and in the back row are Jack Petty, Kendall Weigardt, Robert Green, Simon Danczak, Arden Clark and Lloyd Sack.

"It Won't Be Long Now" is a modern 3-act comedy which combines delightful humor with interesting possibilities for characterization and the plot has that 'something different' which makes a play popular.

Arcadia, Loup City, Ord Appear Class of Both Conferences

As the sixth week of official conference play rolls around it begins to look like Coach "Bullet" Brown's Loup City eleven, Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord Chanticleers, and Coach Tunning's Arcadia squad will be in the finals in a big way both in the Loup Valley and the Mid Six Conferences. Comstock, Scotta and Sargent may prove to be "dark horses" in the Loup Valley Conference while St. Paul has been gaining steadily in the Mid Six. Broken Bow is on the "breaking point" with one win, one loss, and one tie marked on their schedule. Ravenna is down in the depths of despair with three consecutive losses in the Mid Six. St. Paul has played only two conference games in the Loup Valley conference and may get under way before the season comes to a close. North Loup, Burwell and Taylor have received frowning glances from Lady Luck as these teams have two, three, and five conference losses chalked up to them respectively.

The summary of the games played by the three league leaders thus far this year are as follows:

- Loup City 6, Arcadia 0
- Loup City 6, Ansley 13
- Loup City 21, Burwell 0
- Loup City 20, St. Paul 6
- Loup City 39, Taylor 14
- Loup City 32, Oppnts. 38.
- Ord 34, Scotta 0
- Ord 12, Broken Bow 0

Who's Who In Ord Football

DEAN BARTA.

He is only a first year man but he's playing plenty of football on the Chanticleer squad this year. Dean plays end on the Red and White eleven and already has been on the receiving end of several distance gaining pass plays. Barta is a senior in Ord high school this year, has had no previous experience on the gridiron, lettered in basketball one year, weighs 145 pounds and is 5 feet 10 inches tall.

JUNIOR JAMES.

Fans, meet Junior James, the fellow that is holding down one of those tackle positions this year. Junior played on the reserve team last year, lack of experience being all that kept him off the first string, but he came back this year and he's really "goin' to town." James is a junior in Ord high school, has not as yet lettered in any of the sports offered, tips the scales as 155 pounds and is 6 feet tall.

Harold Garnick Hurt.

Harold Garnick Hurt, University of Nebraska freshman football player, received a broken collar bone last week. He was injured while playing in an intramural touch football game. Garnick, a member of the Farm House fraternity team, was taken to a hospital immediately after being hurt where an operation was performed.

North Loup Scores Comstock, Lose 7-6

North Loup's eleven made a fighting attempt to get out of the cellar position in the Loup Valley conference last week as they scored the fourth place Comstock team "out of a year's growth" as the latter team won by a hair-breadth 7 to 6 decision.

In the remaining Loup Valley conference game of last week's schedule Loup City had an easy time in dispensing Taylor, 39 to 14. Coach "Bullet" Brown saved his first string regulars, the second and third Loup City teams playing almost the entire game.

The St. Paul Wildcats held Broken Bow to a tie game at St. Paul last Friday, the score being 6-6. St. Paul scored first in the opening quarter using mostly pass plays. Broken Bow evened up the score in the third quarter. The Indians were held on the Apostles three yard line for four downs late in the game, St. Paul punting out of danger as the game ended.

Arcadia had it out with Ravenna on the Ravenna home field, the Arcadians blowing over Ravenna with a neat 28 to 0 victory. This win puts Arcadia up into the 500 per cent class, and left Ravenna still in the cellar with three losses chalked up after their name.

Non-conference play saw Merna fight hard to take a 7 to 0 win over Coach Copeland's Sargent high griders. Albion put Central City under the pansies 44 to 0; Ansley had a close one with Litchfield, Ansley winning 12 to 6 and Ravenna Junior high held Walnut Junior high of Grand Island to a 7-7 draw verdict.

Mid-Six Uses New Percentage Method

Many Ord fans will probably be puzzled over the new percentages and standings shown in the Mid Six conference this week. The reason for the changes in both Ord and St. Paul's percentages is the new rule which is being used in the Mid Six conference this year. The rule says that "a tie game shall count one-half won and one-half lost." With the application of this new rule a team that plays to a draw decision will gain one-half game in the standings while on the other hand if a team is in the top rungs of the conference, a tie game will count against them. Standings in the Loup Valley conference will still be determined by the old method "a tie game shall count as no game."

Ord Undefeated In Second Season

A recent survey made by Gregg McBride of the Lincoln Star shows that Imperial and Mitchell are the only Nebraska high school football teams working on two-year winning streaks. Coach Sid Werner's Imperial team were all-victorious last year and have opened the 1936 season with consecutive wins over Holyoke, Colo.; McCook Trenton and Oshkosh. Coach Gerald Dennis' Mitch team was supreme in western Nebraska football last year and have chalked up wins this season over Lyman, Kimball, Minatare and Morrill.

North Platte and Lincoln, undefeated and untied last year both have been held to even terms this year. Grant and Cambridge held North Platte while Omaha South was tied by Lincoln.

Limit Entries For State Music Meet

Nebraska high school officials approved a proposal to limit entries in the annual state high school music contest to individuals and groups which win "superior" ratings in district contests, in a mail vote tabulated last Saturday. In the past years, entries winning "superior" or excellent ratings in district contests qualified for the state meet but the contest grew until it was so large that officials proposed the change. Nearly 4800 entries were made at Kearney last year in the state contest. With the new change in the constitution into effect, O. L. Webb secretary of the Nebraska High School Activities association said he believed the 1937 contest would not have more than 2,500 or 3,000 entries.

What Does Agricultural Extension Work Mean To Valley County?

If retained by the voters it means that we will have the following:

A soil conservation office in the county where farmers can do their business and receive their checks for cooperating in the Soil Conservation program.

Both political parties have declared in favor of this program for next year and the Nebraska Soil Conservation Committee and the Nebraska Extension Service have ruled that they will not maintain an office in any county which does not provide local support.

A Local Resettlement Office. This office will also be removed from any county which does not support the work.

A local office for handling drouth relief. Reduced rates on shipments of feed for livestock and all government loans.

These activities are all headed up by the County Agent's office. In addition to these activities the office carries on the regular Extension program with:

- 260 Boys and girls enrolled in 4 H clubs.
- 381 Women enrolled in Project Clubs.

THE COST—The cost accordig to law cannot exceed $2000.00 per year from County Funds.

Money is used for the following purposes:

- Part salary of the County Agent.
- Mileage for Home Agent.
- Office Help, and Office Expenses.
- The salary of the Home Agent is paid entirely from the University Extension Funds.
- The salary of the County Agent is paid in part from these same funds.
- Less than two-thirds of a cent of each dollar paid in taxes in Valley County goes to support this office.

We Believe the Farm Bureau Essential to Valley County Because:

If no office is maintained in this county, farmers wishing to take advantage of any of the services mentioned will be required to drive to one of the surrounding county seat towns, and pay for the services when they get there. The extra expense of driving back and forth will amount to more than the taxes they pay to support the local office. The work can be handled much more economically at home than at some point outside the county. The cost of carrying on the Corn-Hog program has been less in Valley County than in any surrounding county.

The budget for the Soil Conservation Association in this county is less than that of surrounding counties. This gives the farmers who are cooperating in this county a larger percent of their benefit payments, than in counties where the work has been maintained on an emergency basis.

We believe that under present conditions agricultural extension work is profitable and necessary in this county, and is assisting farmers and business men in a big way. We believe that whether you are a farmer, business or professional man or woman, or whatever your occupation, it is to your interest to vote "YES" on this question.

"SHALL AN APPROPRIATION BE MADE ANNUALLY FROM THE GENERAL FUND OF THE COUNTY FOR THE SUPPORT OF AGRICULTURAL EXTENSION WORK?"

Wieners and Bologna

For years this market has been famous for its high-quality, all meat Wieners and Bologna. No others taste as good, we are told constantly by people who have tried packing-house wieners and bologna or those made by other markets. Frequently we receive mail orders from former Ordites who just can't forget the delicious, succulent Wieners and Bologna they used to buy here.

Although the management of our market has changed we still make Wieners and Bologna after the same recipes used for many years. If you haven't been using them, try some today. If you have—and most families of the Ord community have—we know you'll come back often for more.

We also make our own liverwurst, head cheese and many other spiced meat products.

The NEW DEAL in Valley County

We are now in the closing week of one of the most important political campaigns in American History, and the ONE REAL QUESTION is
Have the Benefits of the New Deal been Worth What They Cost?

Out of all the maze of Claims and Counter Claims many of which are necessarily nothing more than the efforts of politicians to get themselves on the public payroll at any cost, and the loose and irresponsible talk about "spending" and "waste" that is not backed by anything more than mere suspicion, there emerges this one question, with reference to the 1936 presidential election:

"HAVE THE BENEFITS OF THE NEW DEAL BEEN WORTH WHAT THEY COST, OR WOULD THE COUNTRY HAVE BEEN BETTER OFF WITHOUT THEM?"

Let us examine the national situation in the light of definite figures, apply them right here in our home county, and see just how WE have been affected:

THE NATIONAL DEBT

At the end of the first year of the Hoover administration (1930) the national debt was $16,185,000,000

At the end of the Hoover administration (1933) the national debt had increased to 22,588,000,000

Making a gross increase during the last 3 years of the Hoover administration of $ 6,403,000,000

But during the last few dark and terrible months of that administration the government had loaned—chiefly to large insurance companies and banks, including the famous Dawes bank in Chicago 754,000,000

Leaving a NET increase in the national debt under Hoover of $ 5,649,000,000

(Approximately $1,900,000,000 per year for the last three years).

At the end of the Hoover administration the national debt, as shown above, was $22,588,000,000

At the end of the third year of the Roosevelt administration (March 1936) the national debt was 30,577,000,000

GROSS increase during first 3 years under Roosevelt $ 7,988,000,000

But of this amount MORE THAN HALF, or $4,473,000,000, had been LOANED, NOT SPENT, in an effort to rescue the country from the most appalling economic situation it had ever faced. Deducting these loans..... 4,473,000,000

NET increase in national debt during first 3 years of Roosevelt administration.....$ 3,515,000,000

Average yearly NET increase under Roosevelt less than $1,200,000,000, or $700,000,000 LESS per year than during the last 3 years of Hoover's administration.

JUST HOW DID THIS NET INCREASE OF $3,515,000,000 IN THE NATIONAL DEBT DURING THE FIRST 3 YEARS OF THE ROOSEVELT ADMINISTRATION AFFECT VALLEY COUNTY?

Out of approximately 130,000,000 people in the United States, Nebraska has about 1,300,000, or approximately one per cent. One per cent is, in fact, the figure used by Republican speakers in this campaign. Every informed person knows that an agricultural state like Nebraska, without many millionaires and their bloated incomes, DOES NOT pay a share of the federal taxes in proportion to its population. However let us assume Nebraska does pay its full proportionate share, which would be one per cent, of the NET increase in the national debt under the Roosevelt administration, which would be for Nebraska $35,150,000.

Dividing this amount equally among all of Nebraska's 1,300,000 people makes a per capita share of $27 each. This county's share would be $262,157.00

WHAT DID VALLEY COUNTY GET FOR THIS?

Here is the record as of July 1, 1936. Corn-Hog and Wheat benefit payments..... 564,532.67
War Veteran's Bonus..... 150,831.13
Rural Rehabilitation grants..... 13,788.00
Public Works grants..... 34,555.00
Social Security payments..... 7,708.41
Federal Emergency relief—money granted outright to needy people amounting to about one-half this county's share of the debt increase..... 110,958.00
Works Progress Administration and Civil Works Administration—outright grants for road and civic projects giving employment to needy persons..... 57,418.98
Total Federal funds not loaned, which do not have to be repaid.....$939,792.19

In addition, the Resettlement Administration has reduced farm indebtedness in this county by $9,961.00 by voluntary agreement between farmers and their creditors.

And the Federal Housing administration insured home modernization and building loans that totalled $741.71 in this county.

Statements to the effect that this county's share of the national debt increase under Roosevelt is $591,045. Ignore the very important fact of RECOVERABLE ASSETS—money borrowed by the government and then loaned to various communities, organizations, or individuals.

WHAT ABOUT THE LOANS?

So far we have dealt only with that portion of the increased national debt that is represented by outright expenditures, and which produced a NET increase in the national debt. Many Republican speakers ignore the fact that over half the money disbursed under the Roosevelt administration has been LOANED, NOT SPENT.

The above table shows that of the $7,988,000,000 increase in the national debt during the first three years of the Roosevelt administration, $4,473,000,000—considerably more than half—was LOANED, NOT SPENT. This latter sum of nearly five billions of dollars was loaned to individuals, firms and communities who expect to and are expected to pay it back. How did Valley County fare in this regard?

Using the same basis of deduction as was used to determine Valley County's per capita share of federal money SPENT, the per capita share of money LOANED as applied to this county was a little less than $35 per inhabitant, or a total of $328,888 for the county as a whole.

When farms by the hundreds were being taken away under foreclosure from Valley County people who had worked on those farms for many years; when hundreds of Valley County farmers were faced with necessity of leaving their farms and seeking some sort of employment in the towns, where already there was a great surplus of men; when hundreds of Valley County people were faced with the loss of their homes; when every town in the county found itself unable to provide work for its people;

HOW WAS THE SITUATION MET?

The Farm Credit Administration loaned through Federal Land Bank and Lank Bank Commissioners $ 979,200.00
332 Crop and Feed Loans..... 49,145.00
544 Emergency Drouth Relief Loans..... 195,704.00
Production Credit Loans.....
Home Owners Loans Totalled..... 148,586.00
Reconstruction Finance Corp. Loans..... 101,500.00
Resettlement Loans to sorely distressed farm families..... 215,274.48
Public Works long-time loans.....
Total Loans.....$1,689,409.48

Therefore, of the increase in the national debt which resulted from LOANS made by the government, people of Valley County have a proportionate share of $328,888. But Valley County people and Valley County communities received practically $1,350,000 MORE THAN THAT in loans from various government agencies in less than three years. It is true these loans must eventually be paid back, but, despite drouths in 1934 and 1936 and a partial crop failure in 1935, Valley County people have made an excellent record in repaying these loans, and THE FARMERS ARE STILL ON THEIR LAND, THE HOME OWNERS STILL HAVE THEIR HOUSES; FARM FAMILIES UTTERLY HOPELESS OTHERWISE, ARE STILL TOGETHER BECAUSE OF THE RESETTLEMENT LOANS. . . . AND, WITHOUT A SINGLE GOOD CROP YEAR IN 1934, 1935 OR 1936, CONDITIONS ARE SO MUCH BETTER THAN THEY WERE IN 1932 THAT COMPARISON IS ALMOST RIDICULOUS.

HOW WILL THE BILL BE PAID?

The federal government can levy NO real or personal taxes against any of your property. Federal taxes are of four kinds and THOSE ONLY. They are INCOME TAXES, EXCISE TAXES, INHERITANCE TAXES and IMPORT TAXES. Increases in these FEDERAL taxes have affected only the following Valley County people:

1. Those with net annual incomes over $5,000.
2. Those who inherit estates of over $50,000.
3. Those who pay duty on imports from foreign countries.
4. Those who use tobacco, liquor or a few other unimportant items on which there is a government excise tax.

Do You Think There Has Been Unreasonable Waste in Valley County?

Calling this money "wasted" is to say that the farmers of Valley County were not entitled to the same kind of help other industries had been receiving for many years.

Calling this money "wasted" is to say that Valley County farmers should have been required to sit idly by and see their land taken under foreclosure by the big insurance companies, some of which had themselves been so cheerfully helped during the Hoover administration. Calling this money "wasted" is to say that Valley County farmers are dishonest and will not pay back the money they have borrowed from the government. Valley County farmers have always paid their debts when they could, and will pay these debts also if prices of farm products remain at decent levels. No one thinks these, or any other farm debts, could be paid with $1.50 hogs, 10-cent corn and 20-cent wheat.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that the cattlemen who borrowed from the Production Credit Association should have been required to lose their cattle and see them forced on an already glutted market to further depress prices that already meant RUIN for everyone in the cattle business.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that owners of homes in the towns of Valley County should have been called upon to lose these homes to mortgage holders, rather than have them rescued by the Home Owners Loan Corporation, placed in decent repair and again made the home of a happy and reasonably carefree family, with the right to pay off their debt on easy terms.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that the needy,—yes HUNGRY people—who received food and clothes through the FERA should have been allowed to freeze and starve, including the little children who could not possibly have been at fault. No doubt it was possible that the money put out for relief could have been disbursed at a little less cost, but the work in Valley County was in the hands of good, conscientious people, who would not willfully waste any money that was intended for the poor and unfortunate.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that farm families, people who had spent their lives and received all their training on farms, should have been required—after the depression of 1929 to 1932 had "floored" them—to move to town, seek employment in strange lines of work where no such employment existed, and turn their back upon every hope, just for the lack of the few horses, the few cattle, hogs and chickens that the government supplied through the Resettlement Administration.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that the man in town—in almost every case not only willing, but desperately anxious to work—should not have been given any employment on the CWA or PWA projects, but should have been required to look out for himself or let his family starve.

Calling this money "wasted" means to say that the farmers, who, after the drouth of 1934, did not have feed to maintain their work horses through the winter should have been required to sell the horses and take their own chances of replacing them the following spring. Do you think the Feed and Seed loans were "wasted money"?

Calling this money "wasted" means to say there should have been no CCC camps. But consider this: During the latter part of the 1929-to-1933 depression it was more difficult for a young man to find work than it had been in many, many years. Perhaps more than at any time in the history of the nation. The highways were full of good boys who came from excellent families, forced to become wanderers over the country, searching vainly for employment that did not exist even for the home people in the places where they went. At the beginning of the year 1933 there were 402 boys and young men in the Nebraska state reformatory at Lincoln, 402 first-offense criminals. At the beginning of the year 1936 this number had fallen from 402 to 302, and it was the first period of time in the entire history of the state that there had been a DECREASE in the population of any Nebraska penal institution. Asked what he thought was the chief reason for this, the reformatory superintendent answered, "the CCC camps." It is a well known fact that boys out of work are first class prospects for careers of crime. Boys in the CCC camps were given health, interesting work, under orderly, wholesome conditions, and $25.00 out of each one's monthly wages was sent back to help his family. The CCC camps were and are very definitely a part of the Roosevelt administration, and rescuing boys from lives as criminals or hoboes is "waste" only in the minds of the uninformed, the unreasonably prejudiced or the job-hungry politician. Valley County had her share of boys in the CCC camps, and many deserving families found the $25.00 a month of tremendous help in keeping the home together, and younger children fed, clothed and in school.

Too call this money "wasted" means that our old people who are receiving Old Age Assistance payments are not entitled to even this measure of relief. Half of this money comes from the federal treasury, the other half from the State of Nebraska. Remember that many of these fine old folks who are receiving these payments found it necessary to apply for them, not because of any fault of their own but because of losses they sustained in the financial collapse of 1929 to 1933. Do you think it is "waste" for these good old people to be helped in their declining years?

During the final months of the Hoover administration every possible effort was made to "jack up" the prices of farm products in an attempt to win farmer votes. And here is the result as shown by the market report published in a Valley County newspaper the week before the 1932 election:

HOGS—per 100 pounds.....$2.75
WHEAT—per bushel..... .30
CORN—per bushel..... .30
OATS—per bushel..... .12

Do you want to go back to $2.50 to $2.75 hogs?

BURWELL NEWS

Davis, Davis and Davis, proprietors of the Garfield County Shoe Service were out drumming up trade on the streets of Burwell in a literal sense Saturday. One of the boys played the snare drum, another the bass drum, while the third dispensed lively and musical airs on a collection of flutes and flutes, at which he seemed very expert. This is a newly arrived business, located just north across the alley from the Burwell Tribune. The Davises rented this place and moved here from Sargent about a week ago, Saturday being their formal opening day.

The Burwell Auto company, under the management of Chris Hald has just completed a series of improvements started shortly before the rodeo, which transforms their former location into a much better place in which to transact business. The two separate buildings have been made into one by the addition of two large openings, one about the middle of the dividing wall and the other nearer the front. This facilitates the moving of cars from one part of the establishment to another without the need of driving them out into the street. The large auto drive in the west building is still used, and leads to the repair shop in the rear, the extra space in front being used for storage. The large door in the front of the east side has been cut down, leaving a small door into the office and display room in the front part, the new cars being driven into this through the side door from the west building. The office has a full line of shelves and drawers for accessories and parts. To the rear of the office is another large storage space, where good used cars are kept for display. The front has new glass throughout, with solid brick footing beneath, and it makes the new display room very attractive and a credit to the town.

LeRoy Anderson, proprietor of Burwell's Oil Transport business, is building a garage in his yard in east Burwell, twenty-four by thirty-six feet in size, where he plans to service and overhaul his fleet of three large transport trucks. The past summer this work has been done largely in the open, but his steadily increasing business requires a better location for the work. The building is being put up by Ray Wilson.

Clifford Clark Post No. 298, American Legion is in receipt of a letter from C. W. Clark, Commander of Fidelity Post No. 38, of Ord, in which he announces the Sixth District convention, which will be held in Ord, Dec. 16th. It is evident from the letter that the Ord boys are putting forth every effort to make this one of the most enjoyable events of the year. Without doubt Burwell will have a live delegation present to help make the convention a success. There are forty American Legion posts in the sixth district, which extends all over central Nebraska, and there will be a total of 145 accredited representatives, the local commanders and adjutants making a total of eighty more. The Ladies Auxiliary also meets at the same time, which should bring a couple of hundred more, thus making the Ordites realize that they have been visited.

Bassett defeated Burwell in a well played game at the local grounds Friday afternoon by a score of thirteen to nothing. In spite of the lopsided score the game was a thriller throughout, and the visitors would have chalked up at least two more touchdowns but for the heroic defense the lighter Burwell team showed in the pinches. On one occasion they were held for four downs without a score, with only a yard to go to make it. The Burwell team is mostly freshmen and sophomores, and should be among the leaders two years from now.

Just one month from the time the Burwell Auction company moved into its new sales pavilion south of the Burlington depot they find themselves wondering what they will do with the increasing crowds which are already taxing the capacity of the seats, designed to hold seven hundred people. These sales are attended by all of the cattle men of the valley, and large numbers are attracted from a distance. In fact, this company is well known all over central Nebraska, and is so located near the supply of stock that they are able each week to show as many stock as it is possible to sell in one day. The sale the past week ran well into the evening, and it is possible that an extra day may have to be added soon to take care of the extra consignments of stock.

Despite the fact that Julius Olsen, president of the Nebraska Blacksmith and Welders association, of Ashland, recently stated at the state convention in Omaha that the village blacksmith is a thing of the past, Burwell has no less than four blacksmith shops and so far all of them seem to be making a living. W. F. Grunke-meyer and John Bohn have been established a long time, and Jess Scott opened up his shop some two years ago. Two men recently arrived from Albion bought out the Alloway shop and are now open for business. Due to the proximity of the hay country and the greater use of horses during the winter, there is much more blacksmithing here than in some of the larger places.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska
The Quiz is $2.00 a year.

H. D. LEGGETT . . . . PUBLISHER
E. C. LEGGETT . . . . . EDITOR
H. J. MCBETH . . . . . FOREMAN

Entered at the Postoffice at Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter Under Act of March 3, 1879.

KEEP THE FARM BUREAU.

At the general election next Tuesday voters of Valley county will have an opportunity to express their opinion, by the ballot method, on the advisability of retaining a county agricultural agent and agricultural extension work in general.

The Quiz believes it is imperative that voters mark their ballots "yes" on this important question.

If conditions were normal there might be some justification for attempts to do away with agricultural extension work in Valley county. But they are not. The government has embarked upon a vast program of Soil Conservation, resettlement and drought relief. Scarcely a farmer can be found in the county who is not vitally affected by one or all of these programs. All are headed up in the county agent's office. Should voters recommend that no appropriation be made hereafter to support such an office, the soil conservation program would be abandoned in this county, the resettlement office would be moved to some other county seat where a county agent is maintained, and such matters as drought relief, feed and seed loans, various other government loans for farmers, reduced rates on freight shipments, and like matters would all be handled at Loup City, Broken Bow or some other nearby county seat.

Farmers who wish to take advantage of any of these services would have to drive to the other county seat to do it. Ord, centrally located in the county, is within easy driving distance for every farmer who has such business to transact. How would a farmer of Elyria community, as an example like to drive clear to Loup City to get answers to some of the innumerable questions that arise in complying with the soil conservation program?

The county agent's office is not costly to Valley county taxpayers. According to law it cannot exceed $2,000 of county funds per year, which represents less than 2-3 of 1 cent in each tax dollar. Additional expense in mileage to the hundreds of farmers who would have to drive long distances to transact their business would amount to far more than the maximum of $2,000 that this office can cost Valley county taxpayers.

At present 260 boys and girls are enrolled in 4-H clubs and 381 women are taking part in extension work. The Quiz submits that these services alone are of far greater value than the $2,000 per year they cost in county funds. This year, of all years, is no time to do away with the county agent in Valley county. Voters should realize all that the agricultural extension office means and vote "yes" on their ballots next Tuesday.

Let's keep the county agent.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Those people who believe in the "soak the rich" plan of paying the public debt have something to think about in the way Senator Couzens of Michigan, who died last week, handled his business. To go back, years ago when Henry Ford started to make a gas wagon, Couzens, a young man, working in a coal yard, got interested and put in all the money he had and all he could raise, less than two thousand dollars in all. He threw in with Ford, grew with the Ford concern, was treasurer of the company and had large part in its management. Finally, a few years ago he got at the outs with the Fords and sold his interest to them for thirty million dollars. What did he do with the money? Invested it in tax free government securities. Instead of investing his money in some kind of business where he would have to give employment to a lot of men and where he would be continually taking long chances, he played safe and escaped paying taxes. Of course when he buys clothing or shoes or anything else he pays a share of the tax the same as any other citizen. And thousands upon thousands of other rich Americans have done and are still doing the same as did Senator Couzens. They are within their legal rights in doing so too. The fault is with a law that would permit it. If they had to pay taxes on their money thus invested the interest rate that they can get would not permit them to handle it that way and in order to get a return on their money they would have to invest it in some form of business. I believe this one thing has done more than anything else to cause the unemployment now prevalent in the U. S.

I have had it in mind to discuss briefly the matter of paying the year's Quiz subscription of $2 in two or more installments. At the beginning of the hard times it was my suggestion that payment might be made of $1 for 6 months or even 50c for 3 months if that was found necessary. Now I find that many people plenty able to pay their year's subscription in advance, will send check for $1 and some of them a check for 50c and on these foreign checks I have to pay a 3c fee. If it is necessary to do it that way in order to have the paper I am glad to have it that way but in a lot of cases it is not necessary. I have to pay a 3 cent fee on all foreign checks. It also makes me send statements 2 or 3 times a year instead of once and when all postage and fees are paid it makes too big a hole on the $2 annual subscription. I trust this condition will be cured at once by all distant subscribers.

I got a letter the other day from my friend George Martin of Brownville, Tex., that was a disappointment. I had written him asking just when the Texas sweet grapefruit would be good. I had, a few days before, bought some "alleged" Texas sweets and they were not fit to eat and I am hankering for some real good, juicy Texas sweets. So when he wrote me that I couldn't expect any good ones before Thanksgiving and not many even then, I was disappointed. Mr. Martin says they artificially color some of the earliest grapefruit and get past the government inspection with them but he says they are not good and that he himself will not eat them.

The democrats are telling us how much less our taxes are and one Ord man took the trouble to look his up and he says they are trying to bunco us. It would be a good thing for a lot of people to look into this matter and see what the facts are. It is a bad thing to put too much dependence in campaign stories.

It is the duty of everyone to vote. A person who will not take the trouble to vote has no right to kick on what those elected do afterward. Next Tuesday is election day. It looks, from reading the papers which feature the straw votes, like the people of the U. S. are going to divide pretty near even on the vote this year. I believe for the most part that people vote for what they think is the best interest of the country. There are a few democrats who would vote the democrat ticket regardless and there are some republicans who would vote that ticket no matter how big a rascal their candidate was and how good the man on the other ticket might be. But there are not many like that probably. Next Tuesday is election day. I have decided just how I am going to vote. No doubt you who read this have also decided. We won't all agree either. I may be wrong. I am not too sure that I am right but I am voting for what I think is the best. So are you. Now all that remains is to be sure and vote and also be sure that your neighbor votes. Don't try to tell him or her how to vote. Use your best judgment and let them do the same and everything will come out all right. In the final analysis the American people will get the job done right.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

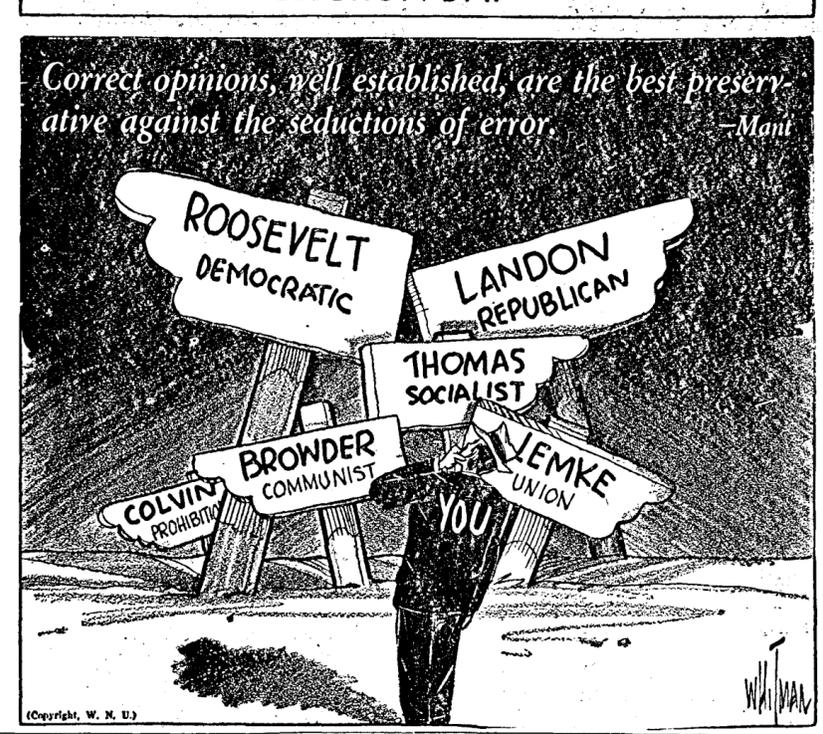

The closing of the pheasant season in this vicinity may be attributed largely to the requests of local nimrods. Whether or not the majority wanted a closed season is unknown. There were two sides to the argument and the decision favored those who voiced their opinion at the proper time and in the right direction.

Acting on this advice the State Department of Game, Forestation, and Parks declared no open season on pheasants in our county or adjacent territory. They have one logical reason for having taken this position—sportsmen asked for it.

When the season was closed, it was thought that the birds would be too scarce to shoot. But now the farmers are reporting the largest pheasant population in three years. At least the ring-necks are more concentrated within certain areas, often to the detriment of crops in those places. If pheasants are too scarce to hunt here now, it must have been a serious mistake to have shot them during the two previous open seasons.

The State Department also published the statement that pheasants would be protected on account of the grasshopper epidemic. Unfortunately, pheasants do not destroy very many grasshoppers. They are dominantly granivorous eating mostly waste grain.

Something Different

Of all the Knock-Knock games played, the biggest and best knocking is now being done by the republicans and the democrats.

An though we may all be interested in politics and candidates at this season, I believe the public must be getting fed up on this eternal knocking.

Soon we will be skeptical of the politicians and their glorious promises as we are of publicity stories from Hollywood. Neither party admits to a single fault, both of them claim all the virtues. No one could be as perfect as they each claim to be.

It looks as if we might as well choose our candidates because we like the way he kisses the baby or because he has a kind face. Or because the opponent's necktie offended our taste. One reason seems as good as another.

Personalities do not seem to be barred so I will repeat a tale on Mrs. Roosevelt that the Alliance Times Herald prints a few days ago:

Inquired a shocked friend of a young mother "But why do you have Mrs. Roosevelt's picture over little Sarah's bed? I thought you had always been a staunch republican."

"So I am" was the unperturbed reply. "But I told Sarah she would grow up to look like that if she didn't stop sucking her thumb."

And in spite of having repeated the above unkind tale, I want to say I have always admired Mrs. Roosevelt. I'm not sure she wouldn't make a sounder president than her husband, Franklin D.

I think there are still a lot of people who haven't decided how they are going to vote in November. There seem to be so many cross-currents and unexpected undertows beneath the surface of the boiling political pot.

The west end of Nebraska wants Griswold, because they don't think Cochran has done right by them. They consider he hasn't put enough highway money in the western Nebraska counties.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week, A. C. Wheeler was making arrangements to move to Fairbury. Ernest Wheeler and wife also planned to go there to live on a farm.

Rudolph Collison returned home after wandering over the west with Lee Carson for some time. A night prowler tried to break into the John Klein house but John had been hunting that day and had his shotgun ready so soon frightened the would-be thief away.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Bob Did It. Arthur C. Hutchins, manager of the North Loup cheese factory has recently revealed a little experience with some of our prominent politicians and which also includes W. F. Schilling who was a recent speaker in Ord.

The event I am about to relate occurred in December 1932 at the time W. F. Schilling was a member of the Federal Farm Board representing the dairy interests of the nation. It was also at a time that Bob Simmons was finishing his term, serving in the lame duck session and when Terry Carpenter was member elect to take Bob's place.

As has been reported in the papers and as Mr. Schilling has made known, the cheese factories in and around Gering were next to bankruptcy. The only thing to keep them from closing was the fact that the Federal Farm Board, with the cooperation of Mr. Simmons and Mr. Schilling was instrumental in making a loan of some $50,000 thereby putting the institutions back into operation and saving the farmers of that country a valuable factory.

they bought the cheese. So much for Legge.

After the loan was made by the Federal Farm Board a man by the name of Chas. M. Kearney, who had been chairman of the republican county committee out there, was put in charge and the institutions continued to manufacture cheese.

And then they began selling the cheese in Omaha for approximately one and a half cent a pound less than the market price and that much less than the North Loup cheese factory had contracts with Swift and Co., at Omaha to sell their cheese for.

This was not so good. The manager of the Swift plant called Art up and said they were in a hole for they could not sell the cheese they bought from N. L. without taking a big loss. Art knew this would eventually mean the loss of his own contract and also loss of the factory and possibly bankruptcy, for cheese manufacture at that time was none too profitable. The western factories could sell that way as long as they could get the grants from the government. Art promised the Swift man he would do what he could.

He at once wrote to Mr. Schilling, Mr. Kearney, Terry Carpenter and Bob Simmons. Mr. Schilling answered and gave Art considerable information on the manufacture of cheese and butter which was none too accurate and really would have looked better to an experienced cheeseman like Art if it had not been said. Schilling did say after his dissertation that "by selling cheese at 10 1/2 per pound (which was 1 1/2 under the market) would be giving the farmer on the present market a fair price for his products." In other words N. L. cheese factory was getting too much money.

Art got no satisfaction from Mr. Kearney or from Terry Carpenter, the latter of which said he had seen Mr. Kearney and "you may count on anything from me that is equitable and just to all concerned." All of which did not make Art any happier for Mr. Kearney was not cooperating.

Mr. Simmons was the only one that took any great interest in the matter. He promised to do what he could about it and when he visited Mr. Schilling the latter said he had not received or mislaid any letter from Art. So Mr. Simmons wrote Art a letter requesting him to write to Mr. Schilling at once. So Art wrote a second letter to Mr. Schilling but with no results.

Then a second letter to Bob Simmons telling him there had been no results from Mr. Schilling. Art was beginning to get pretty disgusted by this time. It looked to him as if the bolstering of the western factories was only to the expense and perhaps the ruin of his and the other cheese factories of the state. Art began telling the Farm Board a few things, which he might not have done had they given him a little more consideration.

And then a letter pronto from Bob Simmons saying he would see to the matter at once and then a telegram from him saying there would be no more cheese from the Gering plants sold in Nebraska.

Exactly what happened Art does not know but he does know that Mr. Simmons straightened things out and saved the factory at North Loup and there was no more selling cheese by the Gering plants in Omaha under the market price. And Art does know that since that time he has had a kindly feeling in his heart for Bob Simmons.

Art does not know yet why the western cheese had to be sold under the market unless they were making an inferior grade. Art has had no trouble ever selling his cheese for market price in Omaha.

Political Musing. It was reported in the papers a few days ago an item in regard to Norris that has such a close bearing to us folks in the Loup Valley that I think it worth repeating whether it is true or not. It was said that Norris was urged to file for the senatorial nomination by the democrat leaders including the President so as to beat Carpenter and Simmons. Norris refused, so the story went and would not consent until the two Loup irrigation projects were granted. It all rings as if it might be true for he accepted as a petition candidate shortly after the word was sent insuring us of an irrigation plant.

As a prognosticator I am at a loss to predict the results of the senatorial race. I thought at first that the entry of Norris would surely split the ticket and assure the office for Simmons. But the democrats have swung so universally to Norris and he no doubt will garner a few republican votes that he may get the office yet. I say he may get a few republican votes but I have not seen a G. O. P'er who is going to vote for him. More than that Carpenter must have some following or he would not have got the nomination.

It is amusing how some folks' ideas change concerning politicians. I have an aunt who eight years ago could not say mean enough things about Al Smith and now she thinks he is a fine fellow. The opposite is true with Norris. When he was a republican, or pretended and ran as such, this aunt voted for him and thought him fine. Now it is just the reverse and more than that she always had a secret antipathy for Thomas Jefferson. Now she thinks he was not so bad.

One thing against Norris is the fact that political experts say the association with either party is worth 40,000 votes. There are that many people in both parties who will vote "straight." Even with the party circle gone this fact is more or less true and Norris will not benefit from either.

Bug Cox said he believed he would vote for Lemke. He said he had been told he would throw his vote away, for his man could not get elected but Bug believed it that was his conscience he should vote it regardless, even if it did no more than give courage to the candidate.

Vote Republican This Year

Landon FOR PRESIDENT      Simmons FOR SENATOR      Griswold FOR GOVERNOR      Wright FOR CONGRESS

New England's Yankees, the Pennsylvania Dutch, Ohio valley business men and New York state's chautauquans, all had a hand in "the making" of Alf M. Landon, just as did the University of Kansas, the farmlands of the Mississippi valley, and the midcontinent oil fields, scattered so far and wide.

Thus, the Republican candidate for President has more sides to his nature than the Tammany boss, Jim Farley, gave him credit for when slightly referring to this candidate from "a typical prairie state."

By working summers on a pipeline gang to defray college expenses, young Alf Landon learned much about the oil business. By plugging hard through law school, he passed his state bar exams, and became a full-fledged lawyer. By turning then to banking, where he started at $75 per month, he learned in three years more than the fundamentals of the banking business.

He learned why some men succeed where others fail; why some have good credit and others none; what policies are practical and what are not. With such a background, it may be easier to understand why Alf Landon's career as business man and Kansas' chief executive has registered one achievement after another for over a quarter century.

In political fields, he made his mark by unusual achievements. Without ever holding elective office, he found his first candidacy rewarded with the office of governor of Kansas, in the 1932 Democratic landslide. He was the only Republican governor in the Mississippi valley, and in 1934 he was the only Republican governor elected in the entire United States.

FRANK KNOX SAID:

"I have learned the important lesson that the greatest achievement of any man is service to his fellow citizens. In this spirit of service I accept the call of my party."

"I pledge myself to the principles of sound and honest government. I pledge my personal loyalty to that great governor of a prairie state, the next President of the United States, the Honorable Alf Landon."

—Acceptance Speech

Don't Be Fooled!

The drought raised the prices of grain in America and all the world. The New Deal asks you to credit it with this high price. Then what caused the similar raise in prices in other parts of the world?

The Literary Digest poll in New York City gives Roosevelt almost twice the votes it gives to Landon. That is the home of Tammany and Wall Street. The rest of New York state, made up of farmers and the residents of the smaller cities and towns gives an even higher percentage of votes for Landon over Roosevelt than the big city gives to Roosevelt, and indicates a fine majority for Landon in that state. This poll shows over 54% for Landon in this country and less than 41% for the New Deal. Roosevelt has only a very few states for him, except in the solid south, and indicates a big victory for the Republican candidate from "A typical prairie state," as Farley calls Kansas.

Who would be your best friend, the man of moderate means from Kansas, who made what he has himself or the vastly rich man from New York who inherited all he has?

Progressive Republican Backs Simmons.

Former State Senator Kenneth Wherry, in an interview here Thursday, stated that he could not follow Senator Norris this year because the Senator has wandered away from the progressive principles he has so long advocated.

"At our county fair," said Mr. Wherry, "at which I was glad of the opportunity of introducing a man with such a splendid record of national statesmanship, he rather surprised me in saying that he owed the republican party nothing, he owed the country nothing, his record was clear, I could not help but think that he did owe it to the country to support its free institutions, its form of government. And when he asks the progressives of Nebraska to make a scrap of paper out of our primary law and to follow Jim Farley, and a Roosevelt, with all of his new political adventures leading to no one definitely knows where, I cannot follow. It is Senator Norris who has departed from progressive republicanism, not the Nebraska progressives who are departing from Norris. I am for the entire republican ticket and find the only sane senatorial vote to be for the republican primary nominee, Robert G. Simmons."

—Grand Island Independent

Alfred M. Landon

Frank Knox

The American people will not merely elect a President on November 3rd—they will choose a form of government. For that reason, we ask you to consider carefully the facts before you vote. Don't be fooled by eleventh hour rumors. There is just one issue now—the form of government under which you choose to live.

VOTE REPUBLICAN!

BABIES CAN'T VOTE!

Babies can't ask questions now. But there are questions in the wondering eyes of a baby which place a heavy burden of responsibility upon parents these days.

"What's the big sack I'm carrying? It's my share of the national debt. I was born with it but it's heavy, Mama. Why is the sack I have to carry thirteen times as heavy as the sack you had to carry when you were born, Mama? Will you get me a little bank right away so I can begin saving now, and then I can pay it off when I'm a man. What's that? It grows—Government spending and interest? And that funny man, Mr. Tugwell, thinks it's wrong to save. He says: "We have been pitiable, grubbing creatures—laboring in sweat and sorrow to make money—to hide it away like misers for our children."

"But, Mama, you'll save money for me, I know you will."

Fathers and mothers, November 3rd will determine the future of America. Whether we are to follow in the way of Washington, Lincoln and Jefferson, or whether we are to choose the wandering trail of European dictatorship.

His real friends:

In every poll Roosevelt has his strength in the biggest cities. You know they don't farm. They buy farm products. They want food stuffs to be cheap. Is he fooling them into thinking he will keep farm prices low OR is he fooling us? It is one or the other.

VOTE REPUBLICAN

Elect Dwight Griswold Governor

The people of Nebraska need a governor in the State House in Lincoln who will give us a business administration.

Dwight Griswold, Republican, who comes from the sand hills and grass roots of Nebraska, has, within the last few weeks, electrified the people of the state by his hard-hitting, aggressive campaign for the governorship.

He has traveled for weeks throughout the state, visiting hundreds of cities and towns and talking with many thousands of men and women. And everywhere and all of the time he has stressed this one dominant thought:

"Nebraska is entitled to an honest, efficient and strictly business administration."

There is something about this man Griswold that convinces you he means what he says.

VOTE REPUBLICAN

Elect Robert G. Simmons United States Senator

A Real Nebraskan

Born in Scotts Bluff County of pioneer parents, reared in an agricultural community, he early learned and has never forgotten the lessons that labor, privation and thrift so indelibly teach. All his life he has been a resident of the state, both east and west. Worked on a farm. Attended Hastings College and graduated from the University of Nebraska Law College with honors. Served in the U. S. Army Air Service during the World War. Past State Commander of American Legion. Congressman from the 6th district for four terms. "Bob Simmons knows Nebraska's problems and possibilities. He is fitted in every way to best serve ALL NEBRASKA."

CULLEN N. WRIGHT for CONGRESS

Out west in the panhandle of Nebraska, there is a man who, although living in the extreme west end of the state, enjoys an acquaintance which reaches across Nebraska to the Missouri river. This man, known affectionately by Cornhuskers as "The Will Rogers of Nebraska," is a candidate for congress from the Fifth Congressional district on the Republican ticket.

Cul Wright is one of the typical western Nebraskans who have fought the battles of drouth, blizzards and agricultural reverses through many years.

Cul Wright was not born with a silver spoon in his mouth, but has been a successful business man. He has taken the jolts of depression along with his neighbors and friends and with his wide knowledge of the western Nebraska problems, will undoubtedly be honored by the election as representative.

When you think of billions of additional debts of the United States that the New Deal has piled up for us to pay, we don't know what that really means. If some one had put away a dollar when Christ was born and put away a dollar every minute of every day of every year since then it would amount to only one billion. That gives us just a little idea of what a luxury the spending of the New Deal has been. Has it been worth the price to you? Have you had your share of these billions you will have to help pay back?

Hundreds of copies of a Washington, D. C. paper called "Labor", were thrown into the autos in Ord Saturday. It was boosting Roosevelt and Norris. Why? Is a labor union an organization of farmers? You know better. Is there much union labor in Nebraska? Are their candidates primarily interested in getting the most returns to the farmer? Why is it so interested in getting the votes of Valley County farmers for their candidates? Just give that matter your earnest thought.

BURWELL NEWS.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud McGrew and Georgene Michael, who have been here for a week visiting the McGrews and Mrs. McGrew's relatives at Comstock, left Monday morning for their home at Tulare, Calif. Since going out there three years ago, Bud has had constant employment at good wages, and Miss Michael also has a good position.

Overlooked last week was the birthday party given Mrs. J. N. Johnson by her children, all of whom were home for the occasion except the oldest daughter, Mrs. Edith Skove, of Roverdale, who was unable to come. The date was Oct. 18th, Mrs. Johnson's 62 birthday. Those who were present were Mr. and Mrs. Revolinski and son, of Sargent; Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson and family, of Ord; Florence Hughes and husband, of Burwell; and Raymond Johnson, wife and two daughters, and Bill Johnson, wife, daughter and son, all of Burwell.

Among those who are one the disabled list at present are Dorothy Goodell, 11 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Goodell, who is still carrying her left arm in a sling as a result of having a felon on the thumb. The affection appeared last May, and has been causing trouble ever since. Edith Smith, 12 year old daughter of Oscar Smith, broke her right arm while playing on one of the playground devices at Fenner's park.

Rev. T. C. Murray of the Burwell Sacred Heart church is home again after a summer spent in Ireland. He returns looking much better than when he went away. Rev. Murray has had a long pastorate in Burwell and is justly popular here. Rev. McDonald of Greeley was in charge of the Burwell work in Rev. Murray's absence.

A Mr. Olsen of Omaha came up Friday to do some work on the ovens at the Claussen Bakery. He tore out the old fire boxes Saturday and rebuilt them during the day and Saturday night, finishing his work in the early hours Sunday morning, in order not to interfere with the important business of getting out the bread for the village. The Clausens expect to be able to get out even better goods now that everything is in first class condition.

Ray Wilson, Burwell's premier lightweight wrestler for more than thirty years, still takes them on as they come. At the sale ring Friday evening he spotted Eddie Heber thirty years in age and forty pounds in weight, and in spite of these handicaps, he made a good showing until the younger man's superior weight wore him out. Heber won the only fall of the match. In the early days Ray would take on any man any weight and in his best days was never thrown. However, when a man gets to be fifty four years old and is grandpa several times, he should be entitled to any advantages instead of giving them away.

Hermesmeier Not Guilty.

A verdict of not guilty was brought in by a Greeley county jury last week in the George Hermesmeier case. Hermesmeier was accused of manslaughter in the accidental death of Lorraine, 4-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Klein of Scotia.

Doyle
the Man for the People

Doyle—Was co-introducer on Delinquent Tax Bill which brought much relief to the taxpayer as well as delinquent taxpayer.

Doyle—Was the introducer of the Auto Tax Bill which is indirectly responsible for fifty per cent of state tax reduction. The reduction was made possible through an increase in valuation of thirty million dollars. Doyle's auto bill produced $14,141,293 of this increased valuation.

Doyle—Was co-introducer on the old age pension bill, did and will support legislation to raise the pension to $30.00 to the needy.

Doyle—And two others were instrumental in getting resolution approved by the Nebraska House of Representatives—asking the President, both congressmen and all representatives of Nebraska, WPA and PWA officials to work for the north and Middle Loup irrigation projects which put the whole state behind your project.

Doyle—Was a strong supporter of the Cone Bonding Bill and if not declared unconstitutional, will save the taxpayers of Nebraska over two hundred and fifty thousand dollars per year.

THIS WEEK

24,720 Miles in 18 Days
Some Ladies' Hats
Gen. Butler's Peace Plan
12 Ladies Good and True

H. R. Ekins, first-class newspaper man, has gone around the globe by airplane, covering 24,720 miles in 18 days, 14 hours, 56 minutes. Such a trip seems wonderfully fast now. Soon it will seem wonderfully slow. Air progress is rapid. Because it was done scientifically, by machinery, the eighteen-day trip seems less romantic than the Nelly Bly seventy-odd day trip that beat Jules Verne's "Around the World in Eighty Days." Nelly Bly, clever newspaper woman, knew how to make it interesting, going out of her way to travel by elephant, camel, jinrickshas, etc. Flying around the world costs about $5,000.

Arthur Brisbane

Some day some woman, let us hope, will balance her fashion budget, decide just what she wants to wear, and then wear it, as men have done, but the day is far away. These are some of the hats from which your wife, daughter, sister will choose this season:

Hats shaped like East Indian war shields; hats heavy in gold embroidery; flat pillbox turbans, gold braided; Russian style hats off the face, with tall tiara fronts; hats of Persian lamb and embroidered felt; small toques, dipped down front and back, covered with soft feathers, "the military touch predominating."

Why, do you suppose, do women take so much trouble to spoil faces and heads naturally beautiful? It cannot all be the fault of hat-makers.

Gen. Smedley D. Butler, retired fighting major general of the United States marines, asks the Women's Christian temperance union to start a campaign against drunken automobile drivers, and also help peace by working for a constitutional amendment forbidding the President or congress to send troops out of the country.

You cannot change men by legislation, as was discovered in our prohibition mistake; you must change the men from the inside.

For the first time in history, New Jersey, selecting a jury all women, has surprised some, annoyed others. Why? For ages women have been judged and sentenced by individual men or groups of men. They have been ducked, branded with hot irons, put in the stocks, beheaded, hanged, burned alive.

Is there injustice in turning the thing around for a change; at least no twelve women would burn or duck anybody.

Lloyd's, British insurance concern, will insure you against anything happening, if it "guesses" that it will not happen; it usually guesses correctly. It refuses to insure against war striking England, although until lately the charge for that insurance was only one-fifth of one per cent; 200 pounds for 100,000 pounds insurance.

Somebody in Lloyd's possesses intelligence. That big organization does not like to think of war with airplanes added.

News from the East interests Americans: they might have to pay the bill. Japan and Russia, supposed recently to be on the verge of war, are said to have an understanding about things in the east that would involve depriving the British of profitable locations and rights. This does not please Britain, but that is the business of Japan, Russia and England.

Interesting flying item: Russia order in Baltimore a passenger "clipper" plane, to cost $1,000,000 and carry forty-four passengers, besides a crew of six.

The plane, very fast, can go 4,000 miles without taking on fuel, a range that would bring it across the Atlantic nicely, if it ever wanted to come back with a load of explosives instead of passengers.

The Irish Catholic hierarchy, sitting at Maynooth College, Cardinal Macrory presiding, denounces communism and persecution of the Catholic church in Spain, "mindful of Spain's kindness to our ancestors." On October 25 all Catholic churches in Ireland will take up collections "for the relief of Spanish Catholics." Mexico, once as "Catholic" as Ireland or any nation, sends, from its Chamber of Deputies, a message of sympathy to the Spanish government at Madrid.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Mrs. E. N. Finley has had her property on 1919 P street remodelled, changing it into an apartment house with three apartments. The apartments are all spoken for and will be occupied by three families working on the ditch. Their names are Reed, Myrtle and King.

—Hugh Starr drove down from up in the Dry Cedar country Monday bringing Tommy Conner and the latter's daughter Ruth, aged 11, who submitted to a tonsillectomy operation at the Ord hospital. She withstood the operation well, and is doing nicely at the present time.

—Joe Adamek of LaJunta, Colo., was here for a short visit with his brother, Frank. He had been to Omaha with a friend, Frank Woods and they came back by way of Ord. This is the first visit Mr. Adamek has made here for more than five years. He is a jeweler and optometrist and reports business as good there as in most places.

—Among Ord sportsmen who hunted the elusive pheasant Sunday were Jim Patska, Bill Patska and Rube Lincoln, all of whom bagged the limit. Another party, Frank O'Neill and Bill Sack, also got their full quota. Lawrence Shunkweller and Ed Oetken lacked one of the limit. Ign. Klima, Vernie Anderson, Harold Strombom and Dave Hought got a total of four. All these people went up to Holt county, where some found the birds plentiful and others had trouble locating any.

—Trade your old furniture for new at Frazier's store. 31-11

—Mrs. William Heuch and children spent last week in Madison visiting her father, E. D. Resseguie, and other relatives. Sunday Mr. Heuch drove to Madison for a couple of days pheasant hunting, bringing his family back to Ord Tuesday.

Norton Spoke Saturday.
Former Congressman John N. Norton spoke to a large and interested crowd from the steps of the courthouse Saturday at 2:30 p. m. The day was ideal for the occasion, and Mr. Norton is an interesting speaker.

Sinks Flowing Well.
J. A. Bodyfield last week completed a flowing well on his Dry Cedar ranch. At a depth of 90 feet a satisfactory flow of water was found. The pond which previously supplied water to Bodyfield's stock went completely dry this summer.

Spoke in Bohemian.
Rudolph Mulac gave the republican view point in the present campaign to a large crowd at the Bohemian Hall at 3:30 Saturday afternoon. Mr. Mulac is a very interesting speaker, and talked in the Bohemian language.

Republican Rally Attended By 245

Cullen Wright, W. H. Schilling Were Headliners Friday Eve at Meeting.

The republican meeting at the Ord opera house Friday evening was well attended, a count showing 245 people in attendance and the unusual thing about the meeting was the fact that practically all stayed until the last speaker finished. The speakers were Cullen N. Wright of Scottsbluff, candidate for congress, Mrs. Elsie Diers of Lincoln, vice-chairman of the state republican committee, and W. H. Schilling of Northfield, Minn.

Prior to the meeting the speakers were entertained at a dinner at the Keep cafe and a few republicans of the city were invited by the officers of the central committee to be present and meet the visitors and assist in their entertainment. Following the dinner Mr. Wright spoke for a few moments before adjournment was taken to the hall.

Mrs. Diers was raised in Wheeler county and has many friends and acquaintances in Ord and Valley county. Her work in the campaign is helping to organize the women into a working force to see that the vote is gotten out next Tuesday and it was along this line that her short talk was made.

Cullen Wright is a real artist when it comes to speaking in public. He has the reputation of being one of the best after dinner speakers in the state. He has been engaged in ranching and cattle raising and feeding has been one of the most extensive cattle feeders in western Nebraska. He is a lawyer but quit the practice 20 years ago to devote his time to his farming and other business and he does know the needs of the farmer and cattle man. And more than that, he is able to present what he knows in an entertaining manner.

Mr. Schilling was a country newspaper editor for many years, drifted into the dairy business near Northfield in order, as he says, to prove his theories to the farmers of that vicinity and at present his sons who handle the farm on shares, are milking 45 cows and will milk 25 more soon. Mr. Schilling says he was raised milking and that he can get under a cow and milk as good as ever but he admits that he has a lot more trouble getting out from under the cow than he did forty years ago. He has traveled extensively in many foreign countries in his dairy work and has spoken in every state in the union, for he has been active in promoting better dairying conditions for many years. He is a most entertaining speaker and his hearers would have been glad to have him continue his talk Friday night, much longer.

Townsend Plan Discussed.
Jean Kirkland, one of the best known speakers in behalf of the Townsend plan, gave a very able address from the west steps of the courthouse Saturday afternoon at about 4:30 o'clock.

Plant Fish in Cedar.
Four thousand trout, 1,600 bass and 500 perch were planted in the Cedar river by state fish trucks last week. Some were placed near Ericson and others taken up the river to the Flea-Hop ranch.

YOU MUST CHOOSE

The American people will not merely elect a President on November 3rd—will choose a form of government. For that reason, we ask you to consider fully the facts before you vote.

Several prominent economists have said recently that this may be our last election. Fascism is coming to the United States. They point out the similarity in national affairs now, and in European nations before popular government was overthrown there.

Our national budget is unbalanced. . . national debt near the danger point and growing. . . political carpet-baggers wasting the taxpayers' money . . . millions still unemployed. . . Supreme Court standing as a bulwark against regimentation of farmers, laborers and business men.

The Republican campaign is a crusade to save the American form of government for the protection of your home and family life . . . for the free opportunity to work and live as your fathers did.

Freedom and tolerance in all walks of life has long been the prime concern of government . . . if you wish to keep America free from regimentation and dictatorship . . . if you want to continue to follow the dictates of your conscience and to practice your rights as granted you in the Constitution of the United States, cast your vote for those who will safeguard your liberties.

VOTE REPUBLICAN

DONT BE FOOLED by eleventh hour rumors, or efforts to stir up racial prejudice by injecting issues that belong to the past. There is just one issue now—the form of government under which we choose to live.

QUIZ FORUM

Alky-Gas Plant Open.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
The Atchison alcohol plant is in operation with Dr. Leo. M. Christensen in charge.

The blend is made with ordinary straight gasoline and the addition of the anhydrous ethyl alcohol increases the octane rating to the neighborhood of 70. The result is improved blended fuel therefore commands a premium of 2c per gallon over the ordinary straight gasoline and is marketed at regular gasoline prices.

This differential of 2c per gallon when spread over 10 gallons fully compensates for the difference in cost of alcohol and of the straight gasoline without any burden being placed on the consumer.

The first day the station was open, automobiles were lined up several blocks long all day long to load up with the new fuel. The only question now is raw material. But we will not have a drought every year and besides the Jerusalem Artichoke which is drought-resistant, looks more promising than ever.

If you have time, write our friends, Dr. L. M. Christensen care of Bailor Manufacturing Company, Atchison, Kas., and Mr. W. W. Buffum, The Chemical Foundation, 654 Madison Avenue, New York City, for more complete information.

They have worked hard, long and faithfully in spite of most unfortunate and often bitter opposition and in the fact of certain skepticism uncalled for from some of the high and mighty. They are an unusual combination and possess that fine, stubborn courage which has never been plagued with the spirit of defeatism.

Cordially yours,

Dr. J. G. Kruml Back from Hunting Trip In Canada; Killed Moose, Deer, Ducks

Dr. J. G. Kruml, who returned Sunday from a hunting trip to Canada, reports a splendid time. The party consisted of Dr. Kruml, Dr. Watson and wife of Grand Island, and T. F. Kinman and wife, also of Grand Island. The party left Grand Island Oct. 4 in two cars, making the trip to Calvert's camp in the Lake-of-the-Woods country without mishap. The last twelve miles of the trip had to be made by boat.

From the game standpoint the trip was very successful, all the men getting deer, and Dr. Kruml also bagged a large moose. There was also wonderful duck shooting, the weather being ideal for this sport.

The weather was very cold all the time they were out, and consequently they had very little success catching lake trout, which are the principal game fish of that section. They caught a number of northern pike, but they are considered about as carp are in Nebraska.

Deer were very plentiful, and usually were found five or six in a drove. They brought home the hind quarters of the moose, and the entire carcass of a deer, and Dr. Kruml sent the moose's head to Storey, of Duluth, Minn., to have it mounted.

The timber wolves are plentiful and very large, some weighing up to two hundred pounds. Dr. Watson wounded one, thought to weigh about 175 pounds, and got lost in the woods while trying to follow its trail. The guides had to get out in the night and hunt for him.

When the party left last Friday morning for home the ice was so deep that it was impossible to make the landing and it was necessary to land at another place and take the cars around twelve miles to pick up the party. There were numerous forest fires in the vicinity, and the smoke was so thick that at one time the boat in which they were traveling got lost out in the lake and landed at the wrong place.

This was the first try Dr. Kruml had had for moose, but he feels certain that it will not be the last.

Obituary

JOHN JACOB HAAS.

John Jacob Haas was born in Cheboygan, Wis., May 25, 1858, and departed this life at his home in Burwell, Oct. 25, 1936, aged 78 years, 5 months. Mr. Haas was the son of a Methodist preacher and in his boyhood moved with the family to the various charges served by his father. When a young man he spent several years in Iowa and was employed in a harness shop in Westfield, Ia. In 1888 he came west to see his oldtime sweetheart, Lura Anita Becker. He was so infatuated with the charms of this new country and his boyhood sweetheart that he never returned, and carried his return trip ticket until his death.

He was employed in the Becker store in Burwell, where he won the hand of his sweetheart and employer's daughter, and Jan. 1, 1889 they were united in marriage. To this union was born one son, Ralph W., of Ord. Mr. Haas remained in the employ of the Becker store until 1904, when he decided to try ranch life. From 1904 to 1920 they lived on a farm near Burwell. Because of impaired health he retired from the farm in 1920, and had made his home in Burwell continuously ever since.

Besides his wife and son there remain to mourn his passing one grandson and two granddaughters of Ord, and two granddaughters of Los Angeles, one brother Wm. Haas, of Council Bluffs, Ia., five sisters, Mrs. George Backus and Jennie Haas of Clinton, Ia., Mrs. Leslie Kinyon of Palmroy, Ia., Mrs. John Clements, of Carroll, Ia., and Mrs. Wm. Watson of Vail, Ia. One brother and one sister preceded him in death. Mr. Haas was afflicted with deafness and it was difficult for him to carry on a conversation. He spent most of his time in his home with books. Most of the books in the city library show signs of his having read them.

The funeral was conducted from the Burwell Methodist church Tuesday afternoon by the pastor, J. Bruce Wylie, and the body laid to rest in the Burwell cemetery to await the final resurrection.

13 Ord Firemen Went to Columbus

Thirteen Ord firemen attended the state firemen's convention last week at Columbus, going down Tuesday and returning Thursday. Those who went were Chief A. J. Shirley, Alvin Jensen, George Anderson, Vernon Andersen, F. V. Haught, Ed V. Lukesh, Archie Bradt, Archie and Guy Keep, Ed Oetken and C. R. Turnblade.

The Union Pacific railroad had an old horse drawn fire engine, vintage of 1886, polished up and on exhibition, the exhibit causing much interest. In notable contrast was the new $14,000.00 combination fire engine and ladder truck that the city of Columbus has just acquired. This is the very latest in fire fighting equipment, and was constantly surrounded by crowds of interested visitors.

A total of 1100 firemen registered for the convention, and perhaps two hundred more were present but failed to register. High light of the program was a demonstration of fire fighting by the Omaha fire department, upon a five story structure built especially for the purpose. There was also a demonstration in fire prevention by the state fire department of Lincoln. Governor Cochran spoke as a part of the program on Wednesday.

The meetings were held in a large new auditorium which is two stories high and covers about one fourth of a block. The fire trucks are housed below, with all the city offices upstairs. The police department is also in the same building.

The parade was one of the best in recent years, and heartily enjoyed. The Ord delegation returned full of praise for the courteous treatment accorded them by the fire boys of Columbus. The state meeting next year will be held at North Platte.

Woodman Hall

Old man winter has just put in an early appearance with cold north winds and the hopes for a good rain before winter sets in, has about vanished and makes us farmers wonder what is in store for us another year. Those lucky enough to be under the prospective irrigation ditch should do all in their power to hasten the work and start the water flowing onto the parched and thirsty soil.

Miss Minnie Veverka, who is employed in Grand Island, arrived home last Thursday to spend a few days with home folks.

Sunday dinner guests at Will Waldmann's were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Waldmann and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Kamarad and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waldmann and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waldmann and family and Miss Mary Horner.

The Veverka place is vacant so finding no aid there he walked across the field to Ernest Pliva's where he was accommodated and in gratitude took Mr. and Mrs. Pliva for a short airplane ride which was quite a thrill for the young couple especially when it came so unexpected.

Ed Radil, with the help of his neighbors threshed his corn fodder last Saturday.

You Need This Man in the United States Senate

Senator Norris never has betrayed his State, his constituency, his Nation, nor the common men and women of America. He never has faltered in his fight for justice, in his battle for human rights, and in the struggle for better government.

Senator Norris has to his credit the greatest number of achievements of any member of the Senate, and he stands before the American people as one of the greatest liberal leaders in all the history of the Nation.

Senator Norris has waged a consistent battle against arrogant special privilege, against strongly entrenched greed, against those who would shape government to suit their own ends. He has the hatred and the enmity of those who would exploit the people. He has the faith and the love of the people themselves. They believe in him because of the enemies he has made.

Senator Norris drove "Canonism" from the federal legislative procedure, he abolished the "Lame Duck" Congress, he championed the cause of the farmer, and he has fought the battles of labor. In that vital matter of government, taxation, he has insisted that great wealth, always seeking its avenue of escape, should be made to pay its just proportionate share. He gave to Nebraska a comprehensive program of conservation of natural resources. He gave Nebraska and the nation rural electrification. In him Nebraska has a representative whose prestige and whose influence are recognized generally.

Senator Norris voted against the war with Germany, and at this time, in a troubled world, he represents the trusted champion of peace for America.

"The Three Bugaboos": TAXES, IMPORTS, DEBTS or The Tale of Republican Deceit

President Roosevelt's record of action instead of their own 12 years of do-nothing policies, has left the G. O. P. nothing but malicious criticism and gross distortion of facts with which to campaign. Their Apostles of Fear and Deceit today are walling about taxes, about the national debt, about farm imports, and are conjuring up these preposterous bugaboos in an attempt to deceive and confuse the American people. Intelligent Americans, however, will not listen to their unfounded ravings. They will get the truth from facts.

TAXATION
THE CONSTITUTION PROHIBITS THE LEVYING OF ANY DIRECT FEDERAL TAX ON YOUR HOME, FARM OR PERSONAL PROPERTY
Said President Roosevelt at Worcester, Mass.: "The (republicans) know that the federal government does not tax real estate—that it cannot tax real estate. If they (the republicans) do not know that, I suggest they read the Constitution of the United States."
In his Lincoln speech, President Roosevelt said: "There never has been and there never will be a federal tax on farms as long as I have anything to do with it."
Recovery will be paid for by import and luxury taxes, and by income and inheritance taxes on those who can afford to pay.
At Worcester, Mass., said President Roosevelt: "Here is my principle. Taxes shall be levied according to ability to pay. That is the only American principle. . . . Taxes are higher for those who can afford to pay high taxes. They are lower for those who can afford to pay less."
Get this, Mr. Taxpayer: Today more than 99 per cent of the heads of American families pay less income tax than in 1932; only 1 per cent (the very rich) pay more.

IMPORTS
The next time Republican fear-mongers try to distort the import and trade picture by comparing Hoover's dismal 1935 with 1935, nail them with these facts:
1. The value of competing farm imports in 1935 and again in 1936 is less than for any one year from 1922 to 1931 when the G. O. P. was in power. In 1935 competing farm imports totaled $489,000,000; in 1929 they were $808,000,000, about twice as much.
2. We actually imported more cattle and pork in Republican years than we do today. 1928 and 1929 imports of pork and beef both exceeded those of 1935.
3. Imports of butter in 1923 exceeded those of 1935, and canned beef imports of 1935 were 3 million pounds less than in 1929 and other Republican years. This is the same canned beef Bob Simmons is displaying and which flooded the country while he was Congressman.
4. Imports of wheat and corn, necessitated by severe drought, came to only 4 per cent and 1 per cent, respectively, of the drought loss.
Wouldn't you, Mr. Farmer, rather sell your wheat for $1 and your corn for $1 and have a small amount of imports than sell your wheat for 30 cents and your corn for 10 cents and have no imports?
Roosevelt has restored both your foreign markets and your high prices, Mr. Farmer, thru the trade treaties.

NATIONAL DEBT
Distorted and falsified by the Republicans as no other issue has been that of the national debt. The Republican national committee thru its speakers and papers has tried to tell intelligent American citizens that they, their children, and their grandchildren will be paying off this debt for generations.
But intelligent Americans will not be deceived by such utter poppycock.
Here is the truth about the national debt:
Under Hoover, in three years, the national debt rose 6 1/2 billions, of which 3 billion was loaned and will be repaid. The net increase under Hoover was over 5 1/2 billions, or an average of almost 2 billion dollars per year for the last three Hoover years. Hoover willed Mr. Roosevelt an empty treasury and a 22 million dollar deficit.
Under Roosevelt, in three years, the national debt rose 11 billions, of which 5 billions were loaned and will be repaid. The net increase, including, don't forget, over 2 billions for the bonus, was 6 1/2 billion dollars for 3 1/2 years or 100 million dollars less per year than under Hoover.
But that debt increase of 6 1/2 billions brought us increased national income and wealth totaling 125 billions. In other words, for each $50 we spent, we realized $1,000. If we had not paid the bonus, there would have been no deficit in 1936.
Today our total national debt is only 8 per cent of our national wealth. Government bonds are selling at a premium, and our national credit is at the highest level in history.

Where Does Roosevelt's Opponent Stand On Any Issue?
After Five Months All We Know About Him Is That He Decided to Oppose the New Deal.
You know where Roosevelt stands! His record is a prosperous America!
Balance his constructive program against the deceitful and malicious campaign tactics of his enemies and there remains but one course of action, have paid out in full but 10 per cent of the total amount loaned has been repaid, he added. "Most of the repayments were made from money received from hogs," the local supervisor said, "although one fellow received a soldier's bonus and immediately came in and made a payment."

Carl Dale, county agent and chairman of the advisory committee for the RA, reported the work as "filling a real need." As to repayment of loans he said, "It is a good record considering the crop conditions in the county." The work of RA is closely allied with that of extension service and Mr. Dale reports that the programs have worked out to mutual advantages in Valley county.

Debt adjustment figures show that through voluntary agreement of creditor and debtor 28 cases have been adjusted with a total adjustment of $9,961 from an original debt of $33,647, McMIndes reported. Out of this amount $371 have been paid to the county treasurer in taxes.

C. J. Mortensen, president of the Nebraska State bank, at Ord, expressed himself as very much in sympathy with the program and said that it had been very beneficial to the county as a whole and that it had proved to be a very satisfactory way of keeping the farmer on the farm and extending credit to him that it would have been impossible for him to secure through banks and other credit agencies.

Clifton Severance, Resettlement client, interviewed as to his views on the program, said, "I don't know what we'd have done without it. We were clear down to bed rock." Severance has repaid $300 of his loan, has two horses and two cows which he secured from his loan and is now working on WPA.

Merchants expressing themselves as highly pleased with the program and finding it beneficial to themselves as well as to their customers were William Heuck of the Farmers Grain Supply company and the proprietors of the hatcheries in Ord. One of the latter reported that half his sales of baby chicks had been made to rehabilitation clients.

McMIndes expressed himself as grateful for the way in which the merchants had cooperated with RA clients, waiting sometimes until their checks came through. William Heuck said that many times farmers had come to him for feed and had not received their checks but he was glad to carry them as he had done a lot of business through the clients of RA and always found them to be satisfactory customers. "There would be a lot of business houses out of business and a lot less people would be operating independently today if it hadn't been for the help given by the federal agencies," Heuck said.

Both Ord banks approved the way the rehabilitation work had been carried on in Valley county and each bank estimated there would be from twenty to twenty-five of their cases which would need standard farm loans next spring.

Various musical groups appeared at the missionary meeting last week, a girls' sextet composed of Jennine Burrows, Marjorie Coe, Norma Mae Snell, Virginia Klein, Ruth Haas and Jane Ferguson appeared on the program last Wednesday night. Also appearing on the Wednesday evening program was Harry James McBeth who played an oboe solo accompanied by Dick Koupal.

Let Them Finish The Big Task They Started

Four of the present directors of the North Loup public power and irrigation district are candidates for reelection at the election next Tuesday. The group includes President Bert M. Hardenbrook, Vice President Roy Hudson, Treasurer Harry Doran and Director Ed Holub.

Because these men are so intimately familiar with problems connected with the big project, friends urge voters to cast ballots for these four men next Tuesday. This is no reflection upon the other candidates, both capable, successful men who would be decided assets to any board of directors, but simply because it is felt that Hardenbrook, Hudson, Doran and Holub should be permitted to help finish the big task that they started.

Other members of the board whose terms do not expire this year strongly endorse their colleagues' candidacy, knowing the handicap under which new directors would have to work to familiarize themselves with the hundred and one phases of the project while it is under construction.

Burwell Wranglers Have Good Meeting

The Burwell Wranglers club met in regular session Monday night with a very good attendance. W. L. Goodell, regular song leader, was back on the job after several weeks' illness, and his presence and help was highly appreciated. In the absence of L. B. Fenner, B. A. Rose acted as boss. C. R. Ilgenfritz, acting chairman, introduced Judge E. G. Kroger, just returned from a hunting trip. The judge told interesting incidents of one of his trips over to France, describing a number of buildings and other improvements which were the result of Napoleon's activities. The club made plans to observe father and son week with a banquet some time during father and son week, the second week of November. It was also decided to get in touch with the town board and have the Christmas lighting put up earlier this year than last.

While hunting pheasants Sunday, Edward E. Gatz, 39, manager of the Council Oak store at O'Neill, dropped dead in a corn field. An unsuspected heart ailment was the cause. Mr. Gatz was quite well known in Ord, coming here once weekly to inspect the Council Oak store managed by C. E. Schrader.
