THE ORD QUIZ

Annual Roll Call Nov. 11-25, 1936

ESTABLISHED APRIL 1882

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 5, 1936.

VOL. 53. NO. 32

2-3RDS OF VOTERS MUST BE RIGHT!

McClellan and Roe Re-elected To Head Fair Association

Stockholders Met Monday At Court House to Transact Necessary Business.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society was held at the court house Monday afternoon, Nov. 2. Due to the bad weather conditions only about twenty members were present. President C. W. McClellan opened the meeting. Secretary Roe read the minutes of the last meeting, which were accepted as read. The secretary's report for the year followed, it being accepted without correction. In the absence of the treasurer, Horace Travis, the secretary read his report as well as that of Emil Fafetta, who preceded him in the office. A ballot vote showed that the three retiring directors were the popular choice for reelection for the three year terms. They are Henry Enger, Don Round and S. W. Roe. An informal ballot to determine a successor for Ches Chinn, resigned, brought out the names of A. H. Jackman, Val Pullen and Edward Kokes. Kokes was elected on the first formal ballot, his term being for two years. This being all the regular business to be transacted, the meeting adjourned.

A directors' meeting was held immediately after the adjournment of the stockholders meeting, with Roe, McClellan, Enger, McGinnis, Jorgensen, Clement and Kokes present. Rounds and Bals were absent. McClellan was chosen president by ballot, as was Clarence Clement for vice-president. The first ballot elected Kokes secretary but he declined the honor, and S. W. Roe was re-elected. Horace Travis, present incumbent, was the unanimous choice of the meeting for treasurer. The reports of the two treasurers for 1936, E. R. Fafetta and Horace Travis, is being printed in this issue of the Quiz for the information of any of the stockholders who were unable to attend the meeting.

Herbert A. Schmid New Pharmacist

Herbert A. Schmid is the new pharmacist at the Sorenson drug store, commencing work Saturday morning. Mr. Schmid is no stranger to Ord people, as he spent the years of his youth in the Melia neighborhood, where his father John Schmid, was well known twenty years ago. Graduating from Ord high in 1917 Herbert attended school in Lincoln, later working in a Lincoln drug store. From there he went to Exeter, and for several years owned and operated a drug store in Litchfield. Selling out there, he has since been employed in Broken Bow, except the past three years, in which he worked for the government. He quit that job at four o'clock Friday, coming to Ord at once to commence work. His last job in Ord was in 1917 when he worked for a time for P. C. Perryman at his west side clothing store. Mr. Schmid is married and has two sons, one of whom has graduated from high school. The other will graduate from the Broken Bow high school at Christmas time. The family will move to Ord as soon as arrangements can be made. Ord people are glad to welcome them.

Geweke, Norman Rotary Speakers

An old-fashioned political debate with Ralph W. Norman, democratic county chairman, and Archie Geweke, republican chairman, as antagonists was the program feature at the Ord Rotary club's weekly dinner at Thorne's cafe Monday evening. Each discussed issues of the election from the viewpoint of his own party, the talks proving most interesting to Rotarians present. Carl Dale introduced the speakers.

9 Above Coldest Registered Here

A temperature of 9 degrees above zero early Tuesday morning was the coldest registered during the cold spell by Horace Travis' official government thermometer, though unofficial instruments measured it near the zero mark. The cold wave hit Sunday afternoon and lasted throughout Monday and Tuesday. Yesterday was considerably warmed. A little sleet and snow fell here but western Nebraska had 6 inches of snow with the mercury descending to 12 degrees below zero.

Bill Moses Changes Politics, Plasters Car for Landon

Bill Moses as every one knows, is an ardent democrat, while Jim Misko is a dyed-in-the-wool republican. So when a bunch of the boys saw Bill Moses' car parked on the west side of the square Thursday afternoon with the windshield plastered with Landon posters, they all hung around to see the culmination of the joke. After a while Bill and Jim came down from the K. of P. hall. What Bill thought when he saw the desecration of his car is a matter of conjecture, but there is no doubt as to what he said. He wound up with the remark that he knew of only one man who would do such a trick, and that was Jim Misko. However he knew Jim could not have done it, as he had been playing cards with him all afternoon. So he had, as soon as he got the stickers pasted on. There was no harm done, and everybody enjoyed the joke, even Bill.

Four Directors Of No. Loup District Were Re-Elected

Hardenbrook Heads List with 2,248 Votes, Roy Hudson Was Second High.

The four directors of the North Loup power and irrigation district whose terms expire January 1 were re-elected at the election Tuesday. President Bert M. Hardenbrook being high may with a total of 2,248 votes in the district which includes six voting precincts in Valley county, two in Garfield and two in Loup.

Vice-President Roy W. Hudson of North Loup was second high with 2,052 votes and E. A. Holub with 1,927. Harry Doran of Burwell had 1,934 votes. Candidates defeated were E. L. Vogeltanz, of Ord, who had 1,431 votes and L. B. Fenner, of Burwell with 980.

The vote in Valley county alone was as follows: Hardenbrook 1,313; Hudson 1,302; Holub 1,297; Doran 1,172; Vogeltanz 887; Fenner 508.

Official board of the district thus will remain the same as it has been.

Other directors, who had endorsed and campaigned for the men whose terms expired, expressed themselves yesterday as being very pleased with the result.

Tracy Frost Winner In Legislature Race

Tracy T. Frost, of St. Paul, was victorious over John F. Doyle, of Greeley, in the 29th unincorporated legislative race, his majority being about 300. Valley county gave Doyle 1,977 votes to 1,355 for his opponent but Frost had a majority of about 800 in Howard county and defeated Doyle in the latter's own county by over 200 votes. Doyle carried Wheeler county by about 100 but conceded his defeat to the Quiz in a telephone conversation yesterday afternoon.

Junior Class Play Nov. 10th Feature

On Tuesday, Nov. 10 at the high school auditorium, juniors will present their annual class play, "It Won't Be Long Now", and the public is cordially invited to attend. Miss Ellen Servine, dramatics coach, is director and Miss Barbara Hansen is class sponsor. The play is a 3-act comedy drama dealing with present-day problems and will be given by an exceptionally able and well-trained cast of sixteen. It contains an abundance of clean, wholesome humor, a well developed plot and numerous clever situations. Tickets may be reserved at the Beranek drug store. Juniors will use proceeds of the play to pay expenses incident to the junior-senior banquet next spring.

One Day Moody Conference.

The Moody Bible Institute of Chicago, Illinois, is sponsoring a one-day conference at the United Brethren church Monday, November 9th. These conferences are being held throughout the United States and in other countries. Songs sung in the great Moody and Sankey revivals will be used. Rev. C. F. Stark, minister of the City Wide Gospel Tabernacle of Lincoln, Neb., will conduct this conference, remaining throughout the week, being in charge of special services both afternoon and evening.

No. Loup District Says Plans Ready For Other Canals

Ready to Let Contracts When Right-of-Way Is Bought; Construction Started.

Engineers' plans, complete in every detail, are ready on the other 66 miles of the main canal system of the North Loup power and irrigation project and just as soon as right-of-way required is optioned the district is ready to let contracts, it was stated yesterday by E. H. Dummire, engineer-manager.

The Litwiller Construction Company, with a huge dragline and other machinery, is at work constructing the initial ten miles of canal between Ord and North Loup work starting last week on the Kokes-Vogeltanz farm near Ord. The big ditch across this place had been practically finished yesterday.

Construction was held up Saturday because of a breakdown but began again Monday morning and is being pushed rapidly.

Manager Dummire has several men working at the job of optioning right-of-way and said yesterday that acreage necessary on the Taylor-Ord canal in Valley county is almost all optioned. In Garfield about half of necessary options have been secured but in Loup county the work has only started. No doubt this will be the next unit of construction to be started.

Employees of the district had their first "pay day" Tuesday, drawing salaries unpaid since they began work Sept. 1. Checks for supplies furnished the district by merchants will be mailed out within a few days, it is promised.

Church Improvements Completed.

The Ord Presbyterian church is installing new pews this week and laying new carpets thus completing a series of improvements which began a month or more ago. These include a new roof, redecorating the interior, new steps in front, and a new floor in the basement.

Vodehnal Raises Peculiar Carrot

J. W. Vodehnal of Springdale brought to the Quiz office a carrot grown in his garden which is one of the most peculiar on record. It is a perfect imitation of a person's hand, or more accurately, of a monkey's hand, as the thumb is not apposed as in the human species. Mr. Vodehnal who is now 56 years of age and has farmed all his life, states that he never saw anything like this carrot before. Vodehnal did his first farming for Henry Klima, starting when he was thirteen years old and remaining at the same place for seven years. In 1918 he purchased the Emmett Collins place in Springdale, and in spite of the troublous times since, he has managed to keep it in his possession which is some achievement. The carrot he brought in was watered from the well by Mrs. Vodehnal. Ninety acres of corn carefully tended this year will hardly pay for the trouble of husking, but Mr. Vodehnal is looking forward to the time in the near future when he can turn the waters of the North Loup over his fertile acres and reap a crop that the pioneers of the valley did not even dream of.

Giant Dragline Moves Cubic Yard of Earth Every 15 Seconds on No. Loup Project; First Shovel-Full

The Quiz photographer, H. E. Jones, had to dodge quickly when he took this photo, which shows the first shovel-full of earth being moved by the giant dragline used in digging the Ord-North Loup canal near Ord. Operator of the machine, who perhaps doesn't like photographers or maybe was only trying to give Mr. Jones a thrill, almost dumped the ton of dirt on his head but the close-up picture that resulted was worth the chances he took.

This dragline, owned by Litwiller Bros., of Seward, moves a cubic yard of earth every 15 seconds. It went into operation Saturday on the Kokes-Vogeltanz farm near Ord and will complete ten miles of main canal for the North Loup project within the next thirty days.

Suchanek, Bremer, Elected to Board

The Valley county board of supervisors will seat two new members at the annual meeting in January, as result of the election Tuesday.

In Dist. No. 6 the veteran supervisor and present board chairman, Charles E. Johnson, was defeated for reelection by his republican opponent, John G. Bremer. Total vote was: Johnson, 197; Bremer, 248. Davis Creek township gave Johnson 69 votes, Bremer 51, Independent gave Johnson 89 votes, Bremer 61, and Enterprise township gave Johnson 39 votes and Bremer 136, the vote in this township swinging the election to Mr. Bremer.

Other new member will be Jos. V. Suchanek, in District 2, who defeated B. R. Hackel by 263 votes to 131. The vote by townships was as follows: Geranium—Suchanek, 131, Hackel, 13; Vinton—Suchanek, 48, Hackel, 39; Liberty—Suchanek, 84, Hackel, 29.

Both Mr. Bremer and Mr. Suchanek are prominent farmers of their respective communities, always active in township activities and community affairs. Mr. Bremer has had previous experience as a supervisor.

Will Display New Chevrolets Saturday

A carload of new Chevrolets will be displayed Saturday, Nov. 7, by the Ord Auto Sales Company at their display room at 1404 M St. Several of the new models will be placed on display at that time. The display room has been completely redecorated for this occasion. Arrangements have been made to display these models to the best advantage, and to accommodate the large crowds that are expected to attend the showing. The public is cordially invited to take advantage of this opportunity to examine and take a ride in this wonderful new car.

Bredthauer Car Damaged.

An accident due to the sleet occurred Monday morning on the hill road south of Ord. D. C. Willhamson's car failed to make the hill near the Everett Boettger place as he was bringing his son in to school. They got in with Arnold Bredthauer and his daughter. On the north side of the same hill the car skidded hitting the fence on one side and breaking off a post. From there it swung to the other side, breaking off two more posts and smashing all the fenders. Luckily the car did not turn over, and none of the occupants was injured.

Armistice Day Program.

There will be a special Armistice day program at the high school at eleven o'clock on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, to which the public is cordially invited. The Legion will have a speaker.

Ord High Students Prefer G. O. P., Is Straw Vote Result

Students of Ord high school held their own election Tuesday, voting for the state and national candidates on regular ballots. Landon received 195 votes to 173 for Roosevelt, Simmons was the preference over Norris for senator by a vote of 167 to 112, Cochran led Griswold for governor, 179 to 177, and Harry Coffee was the choice for congress by a vote of 200 to 151 for Cullen Wright.

Other candidates who led in high school balloting were Harry Swanson for secretary of state, T. W. Bass for treasurer, Dick Johnson for attorney general, and for the 29th district legislative seat Doyle had a big majority over Frost and for district judges Clements and Kroger lead.

Students voted on local offices to o, "electing" Henry Benn township clerk, Clyde Baker treasurer and J. A. Brown justice of the peace.

First Aid Station Planned for Elyria

Arrangement are being completed to establish a Red Cross first aid station at Elyria, it was stated yesterday by LeRoy Frazier, chairman of first aid and life saving work for the Valley county chapter. This station, similar to one already in use at Colesfield, will offer prompt first aid to victims of automobile or other accidents. It is a policy of the Red Cross to have such stations in communities where no doctors live.

Rural teachers will be given a chance this year to take first aid courses given by Dr. J. G. Krum under the auspices of the Red Cross. Mr. Frazier says. More complete announcement of this work will be made next week.

4,200 Attended Missionary Rally

The missionary rally being conducted from the Ord Presbyterian church closed Sunday evening, and the pastor, Rev. S. A. Woodruff, Jr., feels that much good was accomplished during the ten day series of meetings. These were held in various places in Ord and in many of the country schools, the total number of meetings held being 48, and the total attendance 4,200. Mr. Lasse who lectured on conditions in the Congo country of Africa, left at once for Chicago, where he opens a series of meetings this week. He stated that the missionary problem in the dark continent is being greatly simplified, as the government is constructing good roads which furnish access to all the more populous areas. He also stated that due to game laws recently enacted and rigidly enforced a big game hunting is almost a thing of the past. Mr. Lasse whose headquarters is in Yunnan, China, is certain that the use of opium in the past cost China the leadership of the world. It is estimated that one hundred years ago in large areas fully 80 percent of the inhabitants used opium. Another deplorable custom still much practiced in the interior provinces, is the binding of little girls' feet. This and the raising of opium are unlawful, but all laws are very difficult to enforce.

American Legion To Hold Carnival

At the regular meeting of Fidelity Post, No. 33 Tuesday evening plans were discussed for the big dance and carnival to be held on the evening of Armistice Day next week. Present plans call for a big dance at the Z. C. B. J. hall for which Warren Ritchie's orchestra has been secured. Tickets for this affair, are being sold not only in Ord, but calls are coming from many of the surrounding towns where legionnaires are pushing ticket sales. Plans for the jivey carnival, which will be held in the Ord opera house, are practically complete, and the supplies for the various stands are arriving. Among the several stands that will interest the public are the grab bag, wheels of fortune, corn games a grocery and a fortune teller. The Ladies Auxiliary will assist the men in any way they can. Plans for the district convention on Dec. 16 were also discussed, and all the necessary preliminary steps have been taken to make this affair an outstanding success. A number of cases of vets and their families in need were discussed by the relief officer, and in most cases satisfactory results had been obtained.

Will Display New Chevrolets Saturday

A carload of new Chevrolets will be displayed Saturday, Nov. 7, by the Ord Auto Sales Company at their display room at 1404 M St. Several of the new models will be placed on display at that time. ### Roosevelt Swept Into Presidency By Popular Vote

Biggest Landslide in History For Franklin D.; Landon Gets Only 2 States.

Capturing almost two-thirds of the votes cast throughout the 48 states Tuesday, Franklin D. Roosevelt was reelected president of the United States in the greatest election landslide in history, far greater than the landslide for Hoover in 1928 and greater even than the vote by which he was elected for a first term in 1932.

Incomplete reports yesterday indicated that President Roosevelt had won the electoral vote of 46 states, leaving only Maine and Vermont for his republican opponent, Governor Alf M. Landon. New Hampshire was still in doubt but such states as Connecticut and Massachusetts, conceded to Landon in pre-election polls, were safely in the Roosevelt column. Even Kansas, home state of Gov. Landon, gave a sizable majority to the president.

A majority of 75,000 for Roosevelt in Nebraska was forecast yesterday on the basis of partial returns.

Nebraska voters also reelected Gov. Roy Cochran over Dwight Griswold by an estimated majority of 50,000 and swept practically every democratic state candidate into office along with him.

Senator George W. Norris, nominally republican but running as a "by petition" candidate with democratic endorsement, was an exception to the rule. He apparently was reelected by at least 25,000 votes with Robert G. Simmons, republican, in second place and Democrat Terry Carpenter, the orphan candidate, a weak third.

Valley was one of the few Nebraska counties that stayed in the republican column. This county gave Landon 1,998 votes to 1,926 for Roosevelt, gave Simmons 1,760 votes to 1,511 for Norris and 643 for Carpenter and gave Griswold 2,188 votes to 1,762 for Cochran. Harry B. Coffee, served 5th district congressman, carried Valley county 2,023 to 1,584 for Cullen Wright and also carried the district safely, being conceded reelection at an early hour Wednesday. Brown, the Townsend candidate, got 226 votes in Valley county.

A complete unofficial summary of the Valley county vote on all national, state and county candidates appears on another page today. Next week the Quiz will print a summary of the national popular and electoral votes, the official vote for Valley county and the vote on township officers, thus assuring complete coverage of the election in all its phases.

Clements, Kroger, Re-elected Judges

Edwin P. Clements, of Ord, and E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, were reelected 5th district judges at the election Tuesday. Returns from most counties of the district are complete and totals so far are as follows: Kroger, 14,333; Clements, 12,664; Abbott, 8,424. Included in these totals are the complete vote of Valley, Garfield, Loup, Wheeler, Thomas, Greeley and Howard counties and all of Hall county except one precinct. Grant, Blaine and Hooker counties, all of small voting population, have not been heard from.

Valley county gave Judge Clements 2,517 votes, Kroger 2,029 and Abbott 1,078; Wheeler county gave Clements 531, Kroger 420 and Abbott 117; Garfield county gave Clements 807, Kroger 579 and Abbott 398; Thomas county gave Clements 441, Kroger 287 and Abbott 214; Loup county gave Clements 320, Kroger 190 and Abbott 154; Greeley gave Clements 1,852, Kroger 1,665 and Abbott 994; Howard gave Kroger 2,567, Clements 2,167 and Abbott 1,053.

Hall county, most populous in the district, gave Judge Kroger 6,601 votes, Abbott 4,416 and Judge Clement 4,029, with one precinct that cast about 800 votes yet to report. Both Kroger and Abbott are residents of Grand Island.

Grant, Blaine and Hooker counties are expected to increase Judge Clements' vote so it is likely his total will be very close to Judge Kroger's in the final summary.

Catholic Ladies Holding Supper. The Catholic ladies of Ord are completing plans for their annual supper and dance, which will be held next Saturday in the Bohemian hall. A chicken supper will be served from 5 to 8, after which the dance will be held. This is one of the popular events of the year.

Gilroys Have Fine Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gilroy and son and Minnie Gilroy left two week ago for a trip to California in the Gilroy car. Their cousins, David and Richard Preston of North Loup made the trip at the same time in a truck, taking with them a load of furniture for Len Sutton, of Arcadia. The second day out they ran into a storm of snow and sleet, and were forced to lay over for a short time at Rawlins, Wyo. The next day they went on to Provo, U., and the next night found them at the little town of Mesquite, Nev. They had a standard license for the truck when they left, but were required to spend an additional $5 for a special license to get it across Utah. Then, when they reached Yermo, one of the ports of entry into California, they had to buy still another license to conform to the state law there, which required $10.93 more. At Yermo an agricultural inspector looked over their load, and finding that the furniture was packed with sacks of hay, made them leave sacks and all and go on without having the furniture packed. Luckily the furniture was well loaded and the roads good, so little damage resulted. The reason given for taking out the hay was that it might contain insect pests and plant diseases, which if permitted to come in might cause untold damage to plant life. The idea also no doubt furnishes a soft job for a group of deserving politicians. At eight o'clock the next evening after leaving Mesquite they arrived in El Monte, a suburb of Los Angeles, and drove down the street, hub deep in water while more was pouring out of leaden skies. There was an abundance of all kinds of fruit, but they decided against trying to bring any home because of the endless red tape that would have to be unwound. The Gilroys did not see anyone they knew while in California, but the Preston boys met a family named Brown who formerly ran a bakery in North Loup, and at Wamsutter, Indian for "top of the world" they found some people named Banker who lived in Burwell some fifteen years ago. They also saw Clara Lee VanWie in California. On the way back they stopped at Pleasant Grove, U., and bought a load of apples which they brought home with them, and most of them were sold the first two days after they got here. Strangely enough, a bushel of apples weighs 44 pounds in Utah, against 48 in Nebraska, which makes it inconvenient to figure. They would have stayed longer, and planned to visit Mrs. Gilroy's relatives in San Francisco but were afraid of snow in the mountains. All through the grazing section they saw thousands of sheep, nearly all being moved south for the winter. It was deer hunting season, and it was estimated that there would be a total of 35,000 deer killed. They stopped at one place where a man had his dinner ready to eat, and he gave them all a taste of real venison.

November 3 was Mrs. Guy Sample's birthday and her relatives went in Sunday for a family dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Vincent of Ashton, Mr. and Mrs. James Sample, Irene, Mike Honeycutt, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Honeycutt and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Rich and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sample and daughter were all there and spent the day. Mr. and Mrs. John Palser and family were supper guests of their daughter, Mrs. Stella Kerr in North Loup Saturday evening. Lee Foot of Kearney was a guest in the Jim Cook home Sunday. Sunday visitors at Mr. Palser's were Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Rowe and Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. George Palser and Eugene, Florence Palser and Mr. and Mrs. Carol Palser and children.

Haskell Creek News

The Happy Circle club met last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Leonard Woods, nearly all the members were present and spent a pleasant afternoon. The next meeting of the club will be on Nov. 12 with Mrs. Charlie Marshall. The committee members are Mrs. Martin Michalek, Mrs. Will Nelson and Mrs. L. S. Larsen. The pupils of District 45 and their teacher, Anna Mortensen and the pupils of the Lone Star district with Dorothy Nelson, their teacher, were treasure hunting Friday afternoon. Different signs which they found led them to the Will Nelson home, where they were met at the door by a witch in full Hallowe'en costume. After playing several games, refreshments carrying out the Hallowe'en idea, were served. Thelma Nielsen of Bradshaw was visiting in the Carl Hansen home last week. Mrs. Rudolph Collison and sons of Bruning and Mrs. N. C. Jorgensen were visiting in the Walter and Henry Jorgensen homes Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nielsen were guests at L. M. Umstead's Sunday. Thelma Nielsen of Bradshaw and Kathryn Clement visited at school at Haskell Creek last week. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and family were dinner guests Sunday at Mrs. N. C. Jorgensen's in Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Jorgensen called at P. L. Plejdrup's also during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Woods, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Woods and daughter and Duane Woods were at Chris Nielsen's Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and daughters were week end visitors at Axel Lindhartsen's.

Chanticleers Smash Ravenna, 26 to 0, In Friday Conflict

Coach Brockman's Ord high school Chanticleers clung tightly to their second place position in the Mid Six Conference last week as they dispensed of their third Mid Six foe of the season, Ravenna by an impressive 26-0 score.

Play by both elevens was ragged at times, fumbles being frequent occurrences on both teams. Below is given a play by play account of the 26 to 0 Chanticleer victory. This account of the game is given by Kendall Wiegardt.

Play by Play.
Ord kicked off to Ravenna but the ball rolled out of bounds and Ord was required to kick off again. This time Ravenna fumbled and Ord recovered on Ravenna's 25 yard line. Gains of three, six, and seven yards made it first and a goal on Ravenna's ten yard line. Zulkoski slipped through for the touchdown. On the conversion, the ball bounced erratically off the upright.

Ord again kicked off. Ravenna returned to their twenty-seven where they again fumbled and Ord recovered. Ord was forced to punt and the ball rolled over the goal line and was brought back to the twenty. Ravenna fumbled once more and Ord recovered. Ord attempted a lateral which was intercepted. The ball changed hands a few times and was in Ravenna's possession at the end of the quarter.

Ravenna started a march down the field and finally gained a first down on Ord's five yard line. They gained one yard, then two, another gain made it inches to go. Luck was with Ord and Ravenna was penalized five yards for too much time in the huddle. They did not make the score. A little later Ord started down the field. They went down to Ravenna's fifteen where a pass was intercepted by Ravenna. Then Ravenna fumbled and Ord had the ball on Ravenna's twenty-one. A pass to Haskell was completed for the second touchdown. The conversion was not good.

Ord kicked off and the half ended. Score: Ord 12, Ravenna 0.

Ravenna kicked off in the second half. Ord started down the field. They reached Ravenna's four yard line where they fumbled. The ball changed hands several times, Ord gaining all the time until they had the ball on Ravenna's twenty. They ran the ball down to the nine yard line where they again fumbled. After the ball exchanged hands a few times, Ord carried it down the field from Ravenna's forty-four to a touchdown. Haskell carried it over for the score. The conversion by Clark was good.

Once again Ord kicked off. A few plays later, Ord intercepted a pass on Ravenna's twenty-four and on the fifth play, a lateral from Haskell to Barnes was completed for the touchdown. Clark converted, making the score: Ord 26, Ravenna 0.

Ord kicked off and three plays were run off before the final gun sounded. The final score: ORD 26, Ravenna 0.

Who's Who In Ord Football

VERL TIMMERMAN.

"Rough 'em up gang!" Yep, it was Verl Timmerman the big fellow that plays tackle who uttered that remark—and does he treat 'em rough! Verl had no experience on the gridiron until this year, weighs 165 pounds, and is five feet eleven inches tall.

BOYD ROSE.

Boyd Rose is a real little scrapper and has appeared in several games this year. He's only a sophomore and all he has to say is, "wait until next year." Boyd is planning on doing plenty of damage next year after he has a little more weight and experience. He plays the center position, was a reserve last year, weighs 135 pounds, and is five feet six inches tall.

Ravenna Jr. III Undefeated.
Ravenna Junior high school defeated the Kearney Junior high 21-7 last week to remain undefeated thus far this season. This was the second win of the Ravenna team over Kearney this season, taking an 8-7 victory over Kearney early in the season. Ravenna's undefeated team will play Barr Junior High of Grand Island this Friday on the Ravenna field.

Chanticleers Ready For C. C. Bisons

"Cork Central City!" was the hue and cry raised in the Chanticleer football camp this week as the Chanticleer football machine put in some hard practice preparing for the Central City Bison Friday night. The Bison-Chanticleer clash is to be played under the lights and the kickoff is scheduled for eight o'clock.

Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord eleven will go against a team Friday night that will be fighting desperately—trying to get in their first win of the season. Thus far Coach Olan Wilson's Central City crew haven't shown much—losing six consecutive games—although a big turnout was made for football this year at the Central City school and seven lettermen returned to the 1936 lineup. The Bison team is a good heavy outfit this year, one of the heaviest that the school has displayed in several years.

Non-Conference Fee.

This game will be the first meeting of these two teams for a long period of years and will be a non-conference affair, the only non-conference game on the Chanticleer schedule this year. The contest will be the sixth battle of the season for the Red and White team. Last week's football results show that while Ord was giving Ravenna "the works" to the tune of 26 to 0, Central City was having tough breaks galore to lose out to Schuyler 25 to 0. Quarterback Novacek of the Schuyler eleven was the main reason for the Bison defeat, Novacek breaking away for 40 and 50 yard runs consistently.

Four veteran backfield men, Shields, Murray, Carlsen and Erickson will appear in the Central City lineup, while in the line there will be only three veterans, Schippman, G. Clayton and Hesselger. Coach Wilson has been changing and shifting his lineups severely during the past three Central City games endeavoring to find a clicking combination. Last week against Schuyler, Shields and Erickson got away for several long runs which failed to materialize into touchdowns only because of numerous fumbles. Central City's record this year is as follows:

- C. City 0, St. Paul 6.
- C. City 0, Columbus 31.
- C. City 6, David City 14.
- C. City 13, Osceola 14.
- C. City 0, Albion 14.
- C. City 0, Schuyler 25.

Brownies Increase Lead in Mix-Six

Loup City removed another block in the path of becoming Mid Six champions this year as Coach Brown's squad routed Broken Bow with a 14 to 0 decision. Ord clung tightly onto second place in the conference as they eased Ravenna with a 26-0 shutout.

Scotia started on an upward climb as Coach Ebmeier's eleven rolled over Burwell, 18 to 6. Sargent did some nice work and kept St. Paul in the cellar position of the Loup Valley conference as Coach Copeland's men took a close 6-0 victory.

Duck Hunting Will Be Good—O'Connell

Frank B. O'Connell chief state conservation officer said that he believed that if Nebraska sportsmen were given a break in the weather duck hunting would be very good during the month of November. A telegraphic survey conducted by O'Connell showed an unusually large number of ducks were on the northern lakes and streams waiting to start their southern migration.

Game commissioners of the four states to the north of Nebraska reported ducks and geese in satisfactory numbers with the northern flight not yet begun. O'Connell reports that this means that the Canadian provinces hold large numbers of waterfowl that may be targets for Nebraska's sportsmen's gunfire between November 1 and November 30 inclusive dates for the 1936 migratory waterfowl season in this state.

The duck season in the Dakotas, Minnesota and Montana opened October 10 and lasts through November 3-30 days. Nebraska is directly in the center of the central prairie flyway, down which two-thirds of the ducks migrate from Canada to Mexico.

FOOTBALL SCOREBOARD

Loup City 14, Broken Bow 0
Ord 26, Ravenna 0
Scotia 15, Burwell 6
Sargent 6, St. Paul 0
Schuyler 25, Central City 0
Grand Island 20, Columbus 0.

Ping Pong Season Starts At Ord Hi

As chilling winter winds begin to blow and all outdoor sports draw to a close, Ord high school students are turning to their favorite indoor sport—ping pong. Already the large refinished ping pong table has been brought out of summer storage and preliminary games are being held daily. As usual, the Hi-Y is sponsoring all ping pong activities in Ord high school this year. New rules have been made this year prohibiting any one person to appear on the schedule to play ping pong more than once daily.

Wilbur D. Cass, former principal of Ord high school and now in charge of Arcadia public schools has been the singles champion for the past two years. High school ping pong fans will probably remember the championship finals played last year between Mr. Cass and Gerold Brown. In a series of three games in which Cass won over Brown 21-17 in the first set, lost 21-9 in the second, and was given the championship in the third set when he defeated Brown 21-18. Boyd Holloway and Garold Brown as a team were given the doubles championship after defeating Lillian Kusek and Richard Burrows in the finals.

Sport Shorts

Dean Marks, better known as Kearney as "Groucho" Marks, got into the game several times last week as the Kearney state college B team flattened Hastings 31 to 0.

"The way Haskell, Ord high school fullback, hits the line it seems like a brick wall could hardly stop him. Instead of being stopped when it looks like he should be, he keeps plowing ahead with almost all the opposing team on his back.—Burwell Spotlight.

A huge golden eagle, measuring seven feet from wingtip to wingtip was shot by D. Koch of Dannebrog last Saturday at the farm of his grandfather, Fred Deltelsen. The big bird was after chickens when shot down.

A new system of awarding activity letters is being tried out this year in Burwell high school. A purple chenille letter mounted on white felt will be awarded to all students earning 60 activity points. A certain number of points will be given to each student in each activity he participates in. Points will be given in athletics, classes, dramatics, journalism, music and scholarship.

An Associated Press dispatch gives forth the information that football in 1936 is taking approximately the same toll of life it did a year ago, and once more most of the deaths are attributable to sandlot and high school games. The records show 18 deaths thus far this season and 23 fatalities among football players since Jan. 1. At the same stage of the 1935 season, the toll stood at 17.

Athlete's Lament.

Can't study in the winter,
Gotta play basketball.
Can't study in the spring,
Gotta run track.

7 Non-Conference Games Scheduled

Loup Valley football gets under way again this week after being badly broken up by teachers conventions last week and seven non-conference games head the list of games to be played.

Sargent can almost make or break Anselmo as the two teams meet this Friday in a game which will almost clinch the Custer county championship for Anselmo if they emerge victorious over Coach Copeland's Sargent high gridgers. St. Paul will attempt to bring a little glory to the Loup Valley region as Coach Fred Weeks' Apostles meet the strong Shelton high school eleven on the St. Paul field. Broken Bow takes on a tough assignment as they meet Calloway on the Calloway gridiron. North Loup has been busy this week preparing for a real battle with the Grand Island Reserves when the two teams meet this Friday on the North Loup field. Other non-conference battles see Taylor playing at Mason City; Wolbach at Scotia and Anselmo at Comstock.

Burwell high school goes against Coach Tuning's Arcadians in the lone Loup Valley conference contest of the week. Ord will attempt to make it seven straight losses for the Central City squad as they meet the Chanticleers on the Ord field. Ravenna has a cloak of gloom hanging over their camp this week as they prepare to meet the Mid Six conference leaders—Loup City—on the Loup City field. Games this week: Ravenna at Loup City. Central City at Ord. Burwell at Arcadia. Wolbach at Scotia. Taylor at Mason City. Broken Bow at Calloway. G. I. Reserves at North Loup. Anselmo at Sargent. Shelton at St. Paul. Anselmo at Comstock.

Gray Leads Kimball.
According to a report in the state papers Ed Gray, halfback, scored 22 of the 34 points by which Kimball beat Mintare in a 34 to 0 victory. This is of interest to Quiz readers as young Gray is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. V. M. Gray, who formerly lived out in Mira Valley, and is a nephew of Mrs. James Hastings of Ord.

Our Store Is Under New Management Next Week Only

Next week, Nov. 8 to 14, we are cooperating with the Ord Schools and the Business and Professional Women's club of Ord in their observance of American Education Week by "placing our store under new management."

Six students, members of the senior class of Ord High School, will work in our store all next week to learn by observation and actual experience all they can of modern business practice.

We are appointing each of these students to a position of responsibility and for that week our regular employes will "take orders" from these students.

HERE ARE OUR

"New Managers"

CHARLES DLUGOSH
General Manager

LEONARD SOBON
Assistant Manager

VIRGINIA CLARK
Manager, Ladies Ready-to-wear Department

RUTH HAAS
Manager, Piece Goods Department

BARBARA DALE

DORIS WALBRECHT
Bookkeeper

Throughout next week every department of our store will offer great values in seasonable merchandise. Ask our "new managers" about these bargains when you visit our store.

Purpose of American Education Week is to establish better understanding between the schools and the public. Under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's Club the plan of having students do actual business work in stores and offices during this week was originated and we are happy to do our part. Come in and get acquainted next week with our "new managers."

Dannebrog Begins Basketball Practice

While most of the Loup Valley schools are still in the midst of a hotly contested football conference trophy race, Dannebrog has turned to their major sport, basketball. Already several practices have been held and the Dannebrog high school is looking forward to a very successful season. A difficult 15-game schedule has been prepared for their team this year and they will play in two tournaments, Loup Valley and Howard County tournaments to be held Febr. 16-18 and March 3-5 respectively. The Dannebrog team will meet the following Loup Valley teams: St. Paul, there, Dec. 15; Scotia, at Dannebrog, Jan. 20; Arcadia, at Dannebrog, Jan. 29; Loup City, there Febr. 2; Burwell, there, Febr. 12.

Noted Decorator Visits Here.
Mr. and Mrs. Carl Soppelsa, of Chicago, Ill., arrived in Ord last Tuesday and are visiting relatives and friends. They have just completed a tour of the southern states, and came direct from Miami, Florida. Mr. Soppelsa formerly attended the Chicago Art Institute, and is now employed in the interior decorating business in Chicago. He formerly attended St. Mary's school in Grand Island, and is quite well known around Ord. He is a relative of Mrs. Jacob Shoemaker. The Soppelsas will be here about a month, and would be glad to see all their former acquaintances. Friday they visited Mr. and Mrs. John T. Windolph in Grand Island.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osentowski moved Monday from the apartment in the Frank Hron building to rooms in the Steven Carkoski home in west Ord.

Home Made Hams & Bacon

The hogs were raised and fattened in Valley county, they were butchered, cut up and properly refrigerated here in Ord, we selected the choicest hams and the leanest, tenderest sides, they were pickled and smoked in our own market and smoke house, and the result is REAL HOME MADE HAMS AND BACON, the kind everybody likes.

We are proud of our home smoked meats. The fact that we can afford to sell them a little cheaper than packing house ham and bacon of equal quality is just another reason why you should ask for HOME MADE when you buy ham or bacon.

Meet With Mrs. Romans.

The Keystone class of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Claude Romans for their monthly covered dish luncheon party. Sixteen were present and a very enjoyable time is reported. Mrs. Romans is teacher of the class.

Mons S. Monsen Has 79th Birthday Party

Friday was a day of importance to our old friend, Mons S. Monsen, who was 79 years old, or rather young on that date. To tell the truth, Mons looks more like a man of sixty. Forty-eight years ago last April Mons left his home in Denmark and came straight through to Ord, where he has made his home ever since. Once or twice he has felt the urge to visit the home of his younger years, but to date he has never gotten around to make the trip. If one may judge by present appearances, Mr. Monsen should be with us another twenty years.

Epworth League Party

Allen Zikmund entertained the members of the Epworth League Friday evening at the Henry Zikmund home. There were about thirty members present. Later in the evening they all went over to the Sumter school where a program was being put on. The Sumter teacher is Miss Verna Stowell.

League Halloween Party

The young people's Evangelical League of the Mira Valley Evangelical church held a Halloween party Saturday night. The first part of the party was held in the church, after which all went to Harry Foth's pasture, where the night formed a suitable background for the spooks and hobgoblins of the occasion. About forty young people were present, all of whom enjoyed the novel idea greatly.

Pinochle Party

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Waterman entertained Saturday evening at a pinochle party and waffle supper. The guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman, Mrs. L. L. Oliver, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oliver and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huff and children, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Shoemaker and son, and Miss Dolsie Waterman.

Surprise Birthday Party

Mrs. Sally Kingston Dies In Hastings

Mrs. Sally Kingston, mother of Charles Kingston of Ord, and resident of Hamilton county for more than half a century, passed away at a Hastings hospital Oct. 26th, at the age of 90 years and 13 days. She was born in Berryman county, Mich., Oct. 13th, 1846. On April 18th she was married to James Kingston, who shortly afterward enlisted in the army of Grant for four years. To them twelve children were born, eleven of whom are still alive. Her husband passed away 33 years ago. The Kingstons were truly pioneers and suffered all the perils and discomforts that are the lot of early settlers. After the war they moved from Wisconsin to Iowa, making the journey by ox team and covered wagon. Their oxen died after they arrived, but they had two cows, and Mr. Kingston broke them to drive, using them to break sod for their first crops. When they decided to move to Nebraska they drove the two oxen on the trip. They also suffered from drought and the raids of the grasshoppers. In their new home they found very little wood to burn, and in the severest weather they often found it necessary to remain in bed much of the time to keep from freezing to death. Mrs. Kingston was a woman of lovely disposition and will be remembered by many friends in Ord with whom she visited. On her 90th birthday, two weeks ago, a family reunion was held, and all the children were present except one son.

Ord Teachers at Convention

Ord high school was well represented at the six district teachers conventions held in Nebraska last week. C. C. Thompson attended the Kearney convention, making the trip with Mr. Eddy. Miss Elva

Johnson also attended the Kearney convention, being accompanied by Miss Barbara Hansen. Miss Ellen Servine accompanied Miss Ludlow to the Lincoln convention. Other teachers to attend the Lincoln convention were Miss Bernice Sote, Miss Viola Crouch and Burdett Cowel. Mr. Stoddard, principal of Ord city schools attended the Kearney convention, driving his own car. Jesse Kovanda drove to the Lincoln convention.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Botts visited at Sam Guggenmos' several days last week.

Cushing Addresses Nebraska Teachers

President Herbert L. Cushing, of the Kearney State Teachers college, was among speakers who addressed Nebraska teachers who assembled at district conventions last week.

President Cushing was designated a program speaker before being elected to the position which he now holds. He addressed the Lincoln teachers convention on Thursday and spoke to the District Four group at Kearney on Friday.

Privileged with perspectives so divergent as those of county superintendent and of one second in command of the state's educational system, President Cushing brought to his listeners a revealing appreciation of Nebraska education. He has been a member of the state department of public instruction staff since 1927, and served as director of certification prior to that time.

All-Time Semester Enrollment Mark Set by State University

Lincoln, Nebr.—When Rex N. Carr of Lincoln recently paid his fees at the University of Nebraska he enabled the state university to set an all-time record for any semester's enrollment. Carr's registration gave the University a first semester collegiate enrollment of 6536 as compared with the previous all-time record of 6535 set the first semester of 1929-30. Other delayed registrations have now brought the current semester total to about 6550. Carr is a senior taking a pre-med course.

Reports coming to University of Nebraska officials from all parts of the country indicate that new streams of eager students have returned to colleges from coast to coast. While the increase has been moderate in the east, many middle western schools are reporting new records.

The present enrollment at the University of Nebraska is about 5 per cent greater than at the same time last year when 6239 college students enrolled the first semester. The average increase this year in the enrollment at the various colleges of the country is about 6 per cent. There are about the same number of freshmen registered at Nebraska this year as last, with more upperclass students enrolled this year.

In size and percentage of increase the state university ranks well among the schools of the country. In the east, for instance, Pittsburgh with 4,420 students shows an increase of 2 per cent. In the middle west, Indiana with 5,326 students, reports an increase of 11.5 per cent; Iowa University with 5,332 shows an increase of 7 per cent; Kansas with 4,493 students shows an increase of 5.6 per cent; Minnesota with its 12,785 first semester students, reports a 10 per cent increase; while Missouri with its 4,210 students shows an increase of 11.1 per cent.

These auctions will continue every Saturday, as usual, and Mr. Keeler will handle the auctioneering end until other arrangements can be made.

—Archie Waterman met with a rather peculiar accident at ten o'clock Sunday evening, while driving his car home from church in Ord. Near the Bide-a-Wee ranch an oil truck from Bassett lost off a spare tire and wheel, which dropped to the ground directly in front of the Waterman car. The car ran over it with the result that the entire running gear was wrecked. The car did not upset and no one was hurt. The owner of the truck agreed to settle all damages.

—James Aagaard brought the publisher three nice cottons the other day, and were they good. Jim can shoot as well as he can sing, and he pops them through the head with a 22, and they are not messy like shotgun killed rabbits.

—Dr. Earl Wise recently returned from Detroit driving a new Chrysler. He is driving it around Ord with Alaska number plates, which cause quite a lot of comment, as they are unusual to say the least.

—Herbert L. Cushing's place as deputy state superintendent, left vacant when he accepted the post as president of Kearney normal school, has been filled by the appointment of Charles Franklin Dienst, superintendent of the schools of Wayne, Nebr.

—In addition to the stock sale of the Ord Livestock Market and the regular community sale Saturday, Jug Tedrow held a sale of Mrs. McCarty's household goods at the residence on South 16th St. There was a large crowd in attendance, and most of the offering brought good prices.

—Mrs. Mike Peters of Alliance came Saturday to visit her sister, Mrs. Elvin Hower and family. The Peters family left Ord about a year ago. Mike is employed at Alliance as an electrician.

—Mrs. Will Misko left last week for Nora Springs, Iowa, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Kuenle. She also planned to spend some time in Waterloo, Des Moines and Mason City, returning home at the end of this week.

—Ralph Norman and Art Easterbrook were the speakers at a democratic rally at Arcadia Saturday evening. They spoke on the street, using a loud speaker system. Ray Lutz of Arcadia introduced the speakers. After the talks free dances were held in two halls, both of which were well attended.

—D. L. Wolf, who has been down to Sulphur Springs, Mo., for two weeks taking treatments for rheumatism, returned home on the bus Friday morning. He felt much better than when he went down.

—A four-act play "The Lost Church" was given in the Mira Valley Evangelical church Sunday evening, the young people of the church taking the different parts in the cast.

—Lawrence Shunkweiler of Ord, and Roy Nightengale and Brother Lashmut of Burwell made up a hunting party that got their limit of ducks Sunday near Ainsworth. They reported the ducks very plentiful, due to the cold wave.

—Fred Meineke who has charge of all business on the big Asimus ranch over in the Dry Cedar country, was an Ord visitor Wednesday. When the Asimus boys went into the oil business over in O'Neill they found themselves so busy that they had practically no time to spare to look after the ranch. However, they feel that everything there will be well taken care of with Meineke at the helm.

—Claude Roe came up from Lincoln Saturday and visited over night with his parents Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Roe and brother Howard. Sunday morning he left for the Pine Ridge country, where he went to look into a position that had been offered him teaching in the Indian school. If the work suits him, he plans to go to work at once. Mr. Roe is well qualified for the work, as he is a graduate of the university and has had several years experience.

—Mrs. Everett Petty has received word from her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Staple, that they have sold their home in Omaha, and will buy a smaller place, probably a cottage. This move was made because of the serious illness of their daughter Mildred, and will mean a reduction of housework. Mr. Staple is still with the Federal Land Bank, for which organization he has worked the past twenty years. He and Mrs. Staple are still enjoying fair health in spite of their advanced years.

—The Swift Cream Buying station, 1637 L St., Mike Savage manager, has been completely repainted, and presents a very neat appearance. This is one of the Bailey buildings, and the work was done by Norman J. Holt.

—Albert Radil and daughter Margaret, of Western, Nebr., arrived Wednesday afternoon for a visit with their mother, Mary Radil and brothers Otto and Anton and sisters, Mrs. J. T. Knezacek and Mrs. Ida Skoll.

—Chester Barnes, manager of the Ord station of the Dugan Oil Co., is to go to Cedar Rapids, Ia., to attend an oil burner school, the idea being to be able to service oil burners. The company is handling fuel oil and Mr. Barnes' ability to render this service should be of special convenience to the patrons.

—Tony Asimus of O'Neill was in Ord for a short time Saturday afternoon, looking after business matters. He says that their business in O'Neill is booming, that they have two stations there now as well as a restaurant, and that they have just opened up a new station at Butte, Nebr. Business conditions in the O'Neill territory are better than in most parts of the state, he believes.

—Lou Zimmerman, formerly of Ericson, came over to Ord Thursday morning and left for his home in Albuquerque, N. M. He was called to Norfolk last week by the death of his brother Jake, and took the opportunity to pay a short visit to his old friends and neighbors. He is now staying with his sons, two of whom live there, but will move on a small fruit farm of his own in the spring. He reports everything on the boom in his section and depression is unknown.

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

Since Eugene has ruled that this department has to be written during the week end I won't be able to comment on election results, at least until next week.

But I am glad it is now over. This has been considerable of a mud slinging campaign. It has been a case of the pot calling the kettle black and people generally were getting sick of it.

I think one of the greatest jokes of the campaign was the play by the democrats to get the votes of the colored people, promising to give them equally with the whites.

I am not claiming that they shouldn't have it but anyone who now is thinking the democrats are going to give it to them, need only spend a few weeks down south to be fully disillusioned.

It was hard for me to be contented in Ord while the weather was so nice but I hear now that it is no longer so nice at Cullen Lake and I am better satisfied here. A nice day on Cullen with boat and motor and rod and reel is something to be desired and enjoyed.

If everyone could remember that phone 30 at the Quiz office will get Eugene or the news reporter, John Ward and that I will get the old man himself, you would be saving yourselves lots of time. All so us, but we don't count. We are here to serve you. But when you call news items to 17 the call usually has to be shifted to 30 and you have a little delay. We maintain two phones for your convenience in doing business with us.

When I remember that the Quiz is more than fifty years old I think it is quite aged but I presume John L. Ward would resent it if I should intimate that he is aged, though he says he got started the same year the Quiz was born. John says he lived two years in a little house on the back end of the Quiz lot while going to school. Not that he didn't go to school more than two years. But he does feel like he is getting back home to be working on the Quiz. I am asking that whenever you know a piece of news that you call 30 and ask for John L. Ward and tell him the news. That will make it easier for him while he is getting organized in his new work and he will appreciate it I assure you.

I have been getting a nice business the past ten days, sending in daily paper renewals and subscriptions. I am agent for all the daily papers and I appreciate this business and it don't cost you a cent to let me have it. Saves you a few pennies in fact. Just phone 17 and tell me to send in your renewals for any of the papers. I will attend to it promptly.

I was talking to a friend on the street and seeing Ellsworth Ball coming up the walk, I waited until he was in hearing distance and remarked that Drayman Ball, running for supervisor, was one man that I just wouldn't vote for. In about fifteen minutes a friend of Mr. Ball barged into the Quiz office and calling Eugene aside, asked "Why has the old man got it in for Ball?" Eugene didn't know anything about it and told the man that he didn't think that was true. "Well," said the man, "he says he won't vote for him." Thinking a minute, Eugene told the man that the fact that I was not in the Ball district might be the reason. I think the big watermelon that I got a little later came from Ellsworth but I can't prove it.

I get disgusted when I look over the clothing ads. There are lots of pictures of fine looking gentlemen trying on suits of clothing and overcoats, but they are all slim jims—not one with a waist line of over 40. And the same goes for women, only it is just as well if I don't comment too much on that. But the style makers seem to think that there are no women with a waist measure of over two feet and you would think that 48 to 52 waist lines in men were unheard of, when the fact is that there are a lot of big men and women and they all have to wear clothes, especially if it keeps on getting colder.

I think Bert Cornell is mad on me. Why do I think so? Well, for years when he would come in to pay his subscription, he would stay for a visit, but last Saturday he came in and paid up for a year and didn't waste any words. He may be mad because I said I was going to vote for Landon.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Good Old Days.

Old timers will recall elections of olden days before the secret ballot and those old timers will also vouch that those were days of real excitement. Even this last election that some people claim is laden with more interest than any previous, was not like the old times.

A big hall would be rented for the election. Each party would print their own ballots and each party would have headquarters in the hall. When a person would enter the hall he would be attacked by all forces, if he had not been attacked before and his vote purchased. If his vote had been purchased the purchaser would lead him by the arm into the polling place, secure a ballot from the right party, take him to a desk where the two would mark the ballot and then present it to the counters. There was no danger of the party voting wrong for the ballot would be marked with the purchaser looking on.

If the man's mind was not clear on some issue the different parties would present their arguments after he came into the hall, first one and then the other. There was no danger but what one could easily become informed.

The story is told and the actual names given (which I guess I better not tell) of how John Doe, who was a rabid prohibitionist got Ike Smith convinced to vote his way. Now John Doe was a short, curly headed, fat man with a quick temper and a profuse list of adjectives that flowed forth without effort when the occasion arose. On the other hand Ike Smith was a tall, gangling bumpkin wearing a coat several sizes too large and his mind was of an insipid nature, easily convinced one way or the other.

For several days John had been working on Ike with good results and when he came driving his old white mules into town on election day John walked over, helps Ike tie the mules which wasn't necessary and gallantly escorts his lanky friend to election.

All went well until they got into the hall. There John had to leave like stand in the center of the hall while he went after a ballot. This was bad business for there were several waiting at the ticket booth for ballots and John could not get back for a time.

As Ike stood there looking over the crowd, wondering what it was all about and what he would do after it was over, along came Richard Roe and began talking with Ike. Richard was a well dressed man with church affiliations and a gift of palaver. Soon Ike found out that John was all wrong about this political business and that the prohibitionist party was not the one he wanted to vote at all. It was the Republican ticket he wanted to vote. But Richard already had a ballot in his hand so he and Ike went off arm in arm to mark the ballot properly as it should be marked.

And just then John got his ticket and sallied forth to find his convert and saw him walking off with Richard. A blue smoke of profanity began to arise from the melee. John ran along side of Richard shaking his fist, daring him to fight and emitting anything but words of love and christianity. But Richard did not want to fight. He wanted votes and that is what he got. He knew very well if he took time out to take John on for a round a demotion might start an onslaught of mud and arguments onto Ike's back.

It is rather peculiar some of the instances surrounding WPA work. I met a man the other day who had no crop. He has three horses, one cow, a flock of chickens that are not laying and he has not feed enough to keep them over winter nor feed enough for his horses or cow. He said he did not have a dollar. He was cutting wood, turning on hope something would turn up. I asked him why he didn't apply for work on the road. He said I may have to after while but I haven't yet and I'm not going to until I get hungrier than I am now. I'm not going to if there is any other way out.

Then there is another man who has a crop of corn and potatoes and he has been hiring five men or more to shuck his corn and he continues to work on the road. The two-forty he makes on the road is more than the men make shucking corn so he is ahead. He says that the road work is much easier and when the corn is husked he can go on through the winter with his job without making his application again. Another little point to his reasoning is, so it is alleged, that some of the men he hires cannot qualify to get on WPA and thereby he is helping his neighbor along.

And then there is another man who said he rather work on the road and pay his bills than not work and not pay.

And then the story is afloat that if one goes where these road men are working and sees the big cars parked around—but then, I say a car of some kind is nearly a necessity now days.

Unwritten Fiction

And then the story is rife that forty dollars a month is not enough to be employed some of us any money on that wage.

Soft Snap.

It was told me as a fact that the gravel contractor who graveled the road west of North Loup was so efficient with his work that he had a number of WPA hours left over that should have been used up. In place of raking the road once he raked a good deal of it twice and then he had two hundred hours that he did not know what to do with. It had to be used so he employed some of his men to lay around down by the river for that two hundred hours. Same story as hiring the men to carry stones three miles in buckets when building the bridge. And there is a little matter the administration should correct.

Hats.

A few days ago Ripley pictured a woman with a hat and it was alleged she had worn it for fifteen years. My wife and daughter informed me there is the woman I should have got. Well I'll admit my wife has a dozen or twenty hats in the attic that as far as I can see are as good as they ever were. No where near worn out.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

In early election returns Hughes and Wilson were deadlocked, with California yet to hear from and the election depending entirely upon that state, which normally voted republican. In the local election Sheriff Sutton lost to Wilson Bell, Wright lost to Hagemeyer for clerk of district court and E. S. Bair was elected assessor. Valley county gave a majority of 450 to the prohibition amendment.

The picture, "Birth of a Nation" was shown at the Ord opera house to enormous crowds and it was said to be the greatest movie ever seen here.

J. W. Harbert was the new owner of the Charles photography gallery, coming here from Greeley. Cars owned by Chas. Novotny and Anton Grabowski burned. A. W. Tunnell and Miss Mabel McMullen were married at Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Beran were in California spending the winter with Mrs. Joe Krisko at Chico. John was ill in bed for two months but was greatly improved. Mrs. Alan Clements went to Laineo Grande, Tex., to join her husband, who was captain in I Company stationed on the border.

Mansell Davis, one of the first settlers, was called to his reward. He came here in 1871, settling near North Loup, and the following summer brought his bride, Mary Rood, there to live.

25 Years Ago This Week.

County officers elected included Otto Murschel, county clerk; L. R. Bright, clerk of court; L. F. Paist, treasurer; H. Gudmundsen, judge; Dr. P. A. Barta, coroner; Charles Nelson, surveyor; J. W. Mason, J. D. Albers and J. H. Carson, supervisors.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

White Giants are one of the most unpopular breeds of poultry on the market. In Nebraska and other midwestern states these chickens are being discriminated against to the extent of five cents a pound.

An effort is being made to discourage this breed of poultry, which, when packed shows up in the box with green legs. The greenish color continues up the bird, between the legs, over the thighs and around the back, giving a spoiled appearance. Regardless of how freshly killed, this undesirable greenish cast may be present. It causes butcher and consumer objection, according to poultry packers.

Certain packers do not want White Giants packed even in their second grades. They prefer not to buy them at any price.

White Giants were accepted as a standard breed by the American Poultry Association just a few years ago. This was probably a mistake, since they are not good layers, and there are too many breeds of chickens anyway. But the past efforts of White Giant breeders to select for willow green shanks was a far more serious error.

The Giants do fill a need where heavy roasting chickens and capons are in demand, and those who strain without purpose. Hatcherymen are being advised to select only yellow shanked birds for breeding flocks, and it is believed that the green color can be eliminated by proper selection.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

This is positively the last call for recipes for the Quiz yearly cook-book calendar. If you have any pet recipes you would like to see proudly bearing your name in this cook-book about to be issued send them in at once. At once means within a few days. A week from now will be too late, so Good Cooks, please get into action.

Each year for several years the Quiz has issued this calendar and cook-book. After the calendar is obsolete, the recipes are still a pleasure to use. Each recipe bears the name of the person who sent it in, who has tried it, who vouches for the goodness of the dish. By this neighborly means, we all trade recipes. I enjoy your best culinary works of art, and in return you may try mine. These cook-books are very well liked by Quiz subscribers. . . . send in your favorite recipes now, so that you will be represented therein in 1937. Send them in at once, please.

Beet Relish.
Grind one quart of cooked, peeled beets, and one quart of cabbage. Add one-half cup horseradish (I use the evaporated) and one-half teaspoon pepper, one-half teaspoon mustard, one-half teaspoon salt. Put in sugar and vinegar to taste. Cook until a little tender, usually half or three-quarters of an hour.

Mrs. I. E. Tash, Alliance. This beet relish, in addition to tasting very good with cold meat or beef, is a gay spot of color for any plate, makes it more fascinating to the eye.

Sweet Potato and Orange Casserole.

Boll five sweet potatoes until almost tender. Arrange a layer of sliced potatoes in the bottom of a casserole, sprinkle with brown sugar, dot with bits of butter, cover with thinly sliced orange, skin and all. Repeat layers until one orange, one-third cup brown sugar, one-fourth cup butter has been used. Combine one-half cup orange juice with one-fourth cup strained honey, cover the top with brown sugar mixed with fine bread crumbs, dot with butter. Cover casserole. Bake one hour, basting occasionally in 350 degree F. oven. This serves about six.

Mrs. E. L. Yates, Omaha. It is time to send in fruit cake, fruit pudding, and other fruit cakes, including stuffing for turkey, goose, chicken, duck, whatever you are going to have. Please send in Thanksgiving and Christmas recipes now.

Fruit Cookies.
Cream one cup shortening and two cups brown sugar thoroughly. Add two eggs and four tablespoons cream and beat two minutes. Sift together one-fourth teaspoon salt, two teaspoons cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one teaspoon nutmeg, four cups flour, one teaspoon soda. Add dry ingredients and one cup chopped dates, one cup black walnuts, and one teaspoon vanilla. Chill the dough, then break off bits and flatten down three inches apart on greased cookie sheet. Flatten dough with a fork dipped in hot water to prevent sticking. Bake twelve minutes in a moderate oven.

Something DIFFERENT

It is time Ord had some of the things other small cities are accustomed to be proud of: it is time Ord had a good library, time Ord had an auditorium big enough to attract conventions, time Ord children had that swimming pool they are entitled to, and it is time for other things too. It takes a lot of planning, a lot of work, to make a modern town the place people are happy to live, and in which they are contented to raise their children and satisfied to spend their working and leisure hours, and their hard earned money.

Now Ord and the North Loup Valley have irrigation. Really it is the first great big project we have secured—and we secured it the first time that we all cooperated. Working together, a group is all-powerful. Pulling contrariwise, none of us accomplish anything.

Like the cartoon of the two calves on a short rope, who each wanted to go to pail of milk of his own. When the two calves drank together, they quickly finished all the milk in both pails.

Ord has lacked a library for years. It is one of the most glaring defects of the city, noticed immediately by visitors or newcomers. Now the library recently purchased a centrally located lot, everyone is eager to see the building laborers actually begun. We will never realize how much Ord has missed for years until we have a real library in a building just for that purpose.

Think how nice it will be to have an alcove for children. There they will find all their own books. There they will have tables for their own magazines, or for studying, finding needed references for school work. There in their own corner there will be room and privacy for a story telling hour, or several of them.

If you think we don't need a big auditorium, remember the large groups Ord has entertained. There was the P. E. O. convention. Ord members had to be most careful about attending their state convention, in their own city of Ord—because there was no room for them.

There are many convention groups that will not consider Ord, because it does not have a hall big enough for them. Or, possibly they refuse to consider Ord as a convention city because we do not have rooming and boarding facilities for a mob of visitors. Ord does not have rooms for sleeping many, nor does it have accommodations for feeding a number. Witness the way the church ladies must be of service whether they wish to serve hot meals or not.

You have probably heard considerable about Ord wanting a swimming pool. And needing it. There has been lots of talk about it. And very little else. And we still want a swimming pool. And we still need a swimming pool. —Irma.

BURWELL NEWS

The annual stockholders meeting of the Garfield County Frontier Fair association will be held Nov. 10 at the court house, according to an announcement by the secretary, F. W. Manast. Special interest is shown in the meeting as the past year was the first in which the free gate idea was tried, and it is understood that there is a fair balance in the treasury after all expenses are paid, including the cost of the paint and a part of the work of giving all the buildings a going over.

The members of the Junior Matrons club met at the home of Susie Anderson, with Minnie Anderson assisting. Sixteen members were present at roll call. Mrs. E. J. Smith gave a very interesting lesson on "When Shall We Stop Playing," and Minnie Anderson presented the subject, "The Important Job of Homemaking," which was discussed by all with much interest. "Storing of Vegetables for Winter" was another important subject led by Vivian Anderson. Minnie Anderson received a lovely birthday gift from the club. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E. J. Smith.

At a bridge party given by Miss Phyllis Richey, Miss Grace Munroe and Miss Frances Stoddart at the Stoddart home in Scottsbluff, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Richey to Carl Erb of Hastings. Miss Richey is in the employ of the Western Public service company and is the daughter of Mrs. Irene Richey, widow of Crawford, but formerly of Burwell. Mr. Erb is employed as engineer by the Tri-county project at Hastings.

The evening division of the women's club met at the Doran home, with Audrey Harwood and Vera McClatchey acting as hostesses. There were 32 members present. A delicious dessert luncheon was served. Miss Lenore Apckon had charge of the lesson and gave a very interesting book report on "Around the World in Eleven Years."

Among those who attended the state bankers convention in Omaha last week was O. W. Johnson. He was accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and son Bobbie, Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Jones and Miss Betty Upton, who was headed for the teachers' meeting in Omaha, and the others except Mr. Johnson stopped in Lincoln for a visit with relatives.

The father and son banquet at the Burwell Christian church was a pronounced success. There being one hundred present, the dinner was served by the ladies of the church. The principal speaker of the evening was Judge E. G. Kroeger, who took for his topic the different courts, beginning with the justice of the peace and taking up each kind of court up to the United States Supreme court, showing the functions of each and the essential differences in them. A male quartet, consisting of Wood, Gram, Walter and Banks sang three selections which were very much enjoyed. Another pleasant feature was the ladies trio, Mrs. Hansen, Mrs. Langstrom and Mrs. Struve. Each of these groups was accompanied by Burwell's new music teacher, Mr. Struve, on the piano. Miss Betty Upton sang a very pleasing solo. The church orchestra, under the leadership of Morris McGrew, played several selections.

Too late for last week's news it was learned that one of the Anderson oil transport trucks, owned by LeRoy Anderson of Burwell, was totally wrecked south of Belleville, Kas, early last Sunday morning. The driver and Banks sang, was rendered unconscious and was at first taken to the hospital, where it was found that he was practically uninjured. As near as he can recall the circumstances, he crashed into a freighter truck from behind, but is at loss to know just how it occurred. The identity of the other driver is not known, as he drove on. The transport was so completely wrecked that Mr. Anderson at once put in an order for a new one.

W. L. Goodell and family were in Ord Saturday attending the sale of Mrs. McCarthy's household effects. They are old acquaintances.

Walter Preliminary Hearing. Orin J. Miller, proprietor of a South Omaha grocery valued preliminary hearing on two counts of receiving stolen property, and was bound over to the district court by Police Judge Palmer Wednesday afternoon. The first count charges Miller with receiving 66 tubs of butter, valued at $1,267, stolen from the Wesley, Ia., Farmers Creamery association; the other charges that he received $2,200 worth of butter and other products from the Iowa, Ia., Farmers Creamery association and the Hansell, Ia., Creamery association. Mr. Miller was in business in Burwell for a period of ten years, a part of which time he also owned a store in St. Paul.

Mortensen Elected To Banker's Board

Mr. and Mrs. F. P. O'Neill, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and Ralph Misko returned the latter part of the week from the state bankers convention in Omaha, where Mr. Mortensen was chosen Nebraska member of the executive council for a three year term. The members of this council meet at a time and place to be decided later in a national executive meeting. This recognition of Mr. Mortensen's ability is gratifying to his Ord friends. Pictures of Mr. Mortensen and of J. M. Sorensen, now of Fremont, but formerly of Ord, appeared in an Omaha paper Friday.

Farm Measuring Has Been Completed

County Agent C. C. Dale stated that the work of measuring farms under the farm conservation program, which was to be completed by Nov. 1, is now done. There were 32 field supervisors employed in the work, the measurements being taken with a one hundred foot steel tape. In all 850 farms have been measured. These measurements are brought in to the office where the work of computing the acreage is done. The applications for payment will be filled out locally, signed by farmers and forwarded. While items in the newspapers state that payments are already being made in other states, it will be some time before they can be made in Nebraska, as there is a much larger acreage here and the work takes much more time.

Red Cross Attacks Toll of Accidents

The American Red Cross this year inaugurates a battle against accidents in the homes and on the farms, according to Verne Weller, chairman of the accident prevention committee of the Red Cross chapter in Valley county. In an effort to prevent accidents literature is being distributed through Miss Clara McClatchey, county school superintendent, and C. C. Thompson, Ord school superintendent, to all students in the county. It is hoped that through this prevention work accidents may be materially decreased.

Valley County Oil Men Organize

Wholesale and retail oil dealers and their employees of Valley county met at the Ord Hotel last Thursday evening, Oct. 29, and perfected the organization of the Valley County Petroleum Industries committee. The local group is affiliated with the Nebraska Petroleum Industries committee, which is the state trade association of oil men with local organizations in each of the 93 counties. The main objective of the organization is to secure fair and equitable taxes and legislation for Nebraska motorists and those supplying their needs.

Officers are as follows: Chairman, Ben Janssen, Ord; first vice-chairman, Jess H. Marvel, Arcadia; vice-chairman, Charles Wozniak, Elyria; vice-chairmen, Ed. Farkos and Ed. Oetken, Ord; secretary, Joe Osentowski, Ord; legislative committee G. B. Flagg, Frank Pliskorski, L. J. Auble, Ord; public relations committee, I. S. Sheldon, North Loup, Phillip Wentek, Elyria, Vern Porter, Ord; local affairs committee, Frank Kapustka, Vernon Andersen, C. S. Barnes, Ord, Frank S. Henline of Lincoln assistant secretary of the Nebraska Petroleum committee addressed the meeting.

Waterfowl Season Opened Favorably

Ord nimrods, fearful that this year's open season on ducks and geese which began Nov. 1 would start after most of the birds had migrated southward, were given good sport Sunday and Monday. Pushed by the cold wave, large flocks of waterfowl went down the Loup rivers. Many good kills were reported, principally of mallards and bluebills. A few geese, mostly of the smaller varieties, were killed here. The river, except the channel, was frozen over Tuesday but was thawing as the cold weather moderated and hunters now are hopeful of several weeks of good hunting.

Judge, Surveyor Had No Opponents

John L. Andersen, county judge, and Harold O. Strombom, county surveyor, were reelected to their respective offices without opposition at the election Tuesday. Judge Andersen will begin his second 4-year term January 1 while Mr. Strombom, who succeeded R. C. Ayres as county engineer and surveyor, will be beginning his first full elective term of four years. Although unopposed, each was given a nice vote Tuesday.

Mrs. Susie Barnes Died Friday After A Short Illness

Enjoyed Excellent Health Till Few Days Before; Rode In Airplane at Omaha.

After an illness of only a few days Mrs. Susie Barnes, 75, a resident of Ord more than fifty-five years, passed away at 1:50 a. m. Friday, Nov. 6, at the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island. Sunday afternoon brief funeral rites were held at the Sowl chapel here, Rev. Merit C. Smith conducting, and the body then was taken to Omaha where services were held at 2:00 p. m. Monday by Dr. C. C. Wilson, former pastor of the Ord Methodist church. Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery beside her husband Charles W. Barnes, who died 20 years ago.

Until stricken with the illness that proved fatal last week, Mrs. Barnes enjoyed unusually good health and displayed a zest for living seldom seen in women of her age. Only two weeks ago she returned from Omaha where, while visiting a daughter, she enjoyed a ride in an airplane, horseback riding and a visit to a night club. Apparently in her usual health when she returned home, she became ill a few days later and succumbed.

Susie Arnold was born in Brimfield, Ill., on Dec. 19, 1860 and at the time of her death Friday, Nov. 6, was 75 years, 10 months and 16 days of age.

Her father, William Arnold, was a soldier in the Civil War, and Susie was born while her father was at the front, fighting for his country. She was the eldest of 9 children. Shortly after her birth her father came home on a furlough, bringing with him a young comrade named Charles Barnes. Both were members of the 11th Illinois Cavalry under Col. Robert "Bob" Ingersoll. A happy and unusual romance must have had its beginning, for 21 years after this young comrade of her father saw her as a baby, and held her in his arms, they were married and led a happy life together until his death some 20 years ago.

Being the eldest child of this large family, she had a heavy responsibility in helping bring them up and when she was 18 her mother died, leaving the entire burden of care to her, which burden she assumed in a most creditable manner.

Road Work Going On In Valley County

Valley county completed four days' work on the hill on the Ord-Burgent road commonly known as the Danczak hill. The pitch of the east side of this hill was 13 per cent grade, which is too steep for safety. Ed Anderson was foreman on the job, which presents a very workmanlike appearance. County Surveyor Strombom also reports that work is now being done on the canyon road a mile north of the Everett Boettger place south of Ord. The road here follows a canyon for some distance, making some dangerous curves, as well as places for the snow to lodge and the rains to wash when there is any rain. This road is being put over the hill on the east side of the canyon and will be a much better and safer highway when completed. Another similar project is being put through on the highway 2 1/2 miles south of North Loup where snow caused serious trouble last winter. As in the road mentioned above, the road here is being taken out of the canyon and placed upon higher ground.

Burwell Rodeo Elects Directors

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Garfield county fair association was held in Burwell Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 10, with a good representation present. The president, Harry Doran opened the meeting. The secretary, F. W. Manasil, read the minutes of the last meeting, and also his annual report, which was accepted. The auditor, E. E. Troxell, read his report for 1936, which was also accepted. After some talk and some good suggestions for improving the fair for 1937, the meeting proceeded to elect directors, as follows: For one year, Russell A. Mitchell; for two years, K. M. Parsons, C. J. Bleach and J. E. Cram, all of whom are present incumbents. E. E. Troxell was the choice of the meeting for auditor for 1937. The membership was well pleased with the report, which showed that the fair for 1936 was a financial success. In the near future the directors will meet to elect officers for the year 1937.

The Tuesday study club met Tuesday of this week with Mrs. Almond Brod for a covered dish luncheon. There was a good attendance.

New Supervisors To Take Office Jan. 1

JOHN G. BREMER.

JOS. V. SUCHANEK.

Two new supervisors will be inducted into membership on the Valley county board of supervisors at the first meeting in 1937. John G. Bremer and Jos. V. Suchanek, both well known farmers, Mr. Bremer defeated Charles E. Johnson, former board chairman, for reelection and Mr. Suchanek will succeed Henry Desmul, who was not a candidate for reelection. Both of these informal portraits were taken by the Quiz photographer, H. E. Jones.

November 17 Will Be Ord's Biggest Dollar Day Event

Most Stores Participating in Offering Special Values for Thrifty Shoppers.

Ord has had many "dollar day" events in the past and usually they have been liberally patronized but the Dollar Day announced for next Tuesday, Nov. 17 will, it is believed, set new records for values and likewise for the crowd it will attract to this city.

Most of the important stores in town are participating in this event, offering extra-special values that will prove of interest to every thrifty shopper.

It will pay every person who gets a copy of today's Quiz—and a large number of sample copies are being mailed out—to read carefully every ad in the 14 pages. Many stores offer specials for this week end as well as for Dollar Day next Tuesday.

Ord always is a good place to trade. Its stores carry the largest stock of merchandise within a fifty to seventy-five mile radius, prices quoted by Ord stores are always low. When stores of the town band together for a community-wide bargain day the result is an event worth coming miles to attend.

Think of buying ladies shoes for $1.00 per pair; outing flannel at $1.00 for 12 yards; standard No. 2 corn at 12 cents for $1.00; toasters and other electrical appliances at $1.00 each; 3 no-fade house dresses for $1.00; new fall hats for $1.00; permanent waves for $1.00; a 6-lb. roast of beef for $1.00; 100 square feet of roofing for $1.00; but these are only samples of the hundreds of Dollar Day bargains advertised in this issue.

Ord stores are employing extra clerks and will be ready to serve a bumper crowd of shoppers next Tuesday. Come early and visit every store whose ad appears in this issue.

No. Loup Employs 6 New Surveyors, Opens New Office

Parties Working North End of District to Have Office in Burwell.

Employment of six more surveyors and opening of a sub-office at Burwell are principal developments this week in regard to the North Loup power and irrigation district, it was learned at the office in Ord yesterday. Engineering work must be pushed while weather remains good, which is the reason for the force of surveyors being augmented at this time.

New men who went to work this week under the direction of A. V. Ferry, chief of staff on the job for Black & Veatch, are George Brewster, Mr. Down, Mr. Patterson, all of Kansas City, Robert Wheeler of Hastings, James Allen, of Grand Island, and Frank Highleyman, of Ogallala.

Brewster will be chief of party working out of Burwell, Down is an instrument man, Patterson is an office engineer and will be stationed at Ord, Wheeler and Allen are rodmen and Highleyman is project engineer.

In addition to these engineers E. H. Dunmire, general manager, expects to put three or four local men to work under the direction of R. H. Armstrong taking soundings and gauging the flow of the river. Armstrong, formerly employed by the U. S. geodetic survey in Colorado, came to Ord last week to supervise gauging stations to be established at Taylor, Burwell, Ord, North Loup and Scotia. He also will have charge of making soundings to determine what type of foundation must be used for the various structures needed. A new truck has been bought for Armstrong's use by the district.

Engineer-Manager Dunmire announces receipt of authority from the Public Works Administration to pay for right-of-way on the Ord-North Loup canal which has previously been under option. Only one land owner, Clayton Gilroy has refused to option right-of-way through his farm on this ten mile stretch of canal and the necessary land will be condemned in the near future unless a compromise agreement with Mr. Gilroy can be made, it was said yesterday.

Optioning of right-of-way on the Burwell-Sumter canal is progressing nicely and it is hoped that construction may be started on this canal in the near future. Optioning on the Taylor-Ord canal is proceeding more slowly, particularly at the north end.

Almost a mile of main canal between Ord and North Loup has been constructed and the work is progressing satisfactorily.

Mrs. Palmatter Breaks Arm. Mrs. Lottie Clark received a letter last week which stated that Mrs. Charles Palmatter, who is now in Chicago, fell and broke her right arm in two places. She is now in a cast and will remain so for two weeks. She and her husband are at the home of their daughter, Mrs. William Grindey. Charley is enjoying good health.

Ord Is Nebraska's 35th City, May Jump to 20th

It is interesting to note that Ord, with its population of 2,226 according to the 1930 census, is the thirty-fifth city in Nebraska in population. This out of a total of some seven hundred towns and villages, is not a bad standing. Ord is larger than such well known cities as Albion, Crawford, Fullerton, Geneva, Kimball, Bayard, Madison, Ogallala, O'Neill, St. Paul, Tecumseh, Tekamah, Valentine and West Point, the last named by only a single person. Of the thirty-four larger than Ord, fourteen have less than three thousand population, and with the coming of irrigation Ord should be able to surpass all of these by 1940, and land in twentieth place. It is a goal to strive for.

$2,000 Fire Loss Resulted Sunday Afternoon When Upper Floor of M. Biemond Home Guttled by Flames

Fire of unknown origin gutted the entire upper floor of the M. Biemond home at 1617 O Street Sunday afternoon, partitions and the roof being burned away. Damage, which was amply covered by insurance, is estimated at $2,000.00. Practically all furniture was removed from the house, much of it without damage.

What time the fire started is not known but it probably had been burning several hours before it was discovered just as the Biemond family were sitting down to dinner. About two hours previously Jack Janssen had noticed smoke apparently coming out of the roof beside the chimney but naturally thought it was being blown down to the roof by the breeze.

Firemen, who responded in record time to the siren alarm, found the attic a sheet of flame and the blaze coming through the roof in several places. Chemicals were not sufficient to cope with the fire and of course much water damage resulted on the second floor.

This house is owned by the Orcuttis, who now live in California. Pending arrangements by them to repair or rebuild the Biemond family has moved into a house owned by Gust Rose in west Ord.

Water Shortage Is Feared By City, So Willow Dam Built

Water in East Channel Is Backed Up 2 Feet and Diverted to West.

Fearing that during sub-zero weather this winter water in the shallow west channel of the North Loup river might freeze to the bottom and make pumping of water for city purposes impossible, Ord authorities last week began construction of a brush dam across the east channel and the work was finished Tuesday. This dam has diverted the main volume of water to the west channel and will successfully accomplish all that was hoped, it is thought now.

When Ord's water filtration plant was built a pump house was installed just north of the river bridge. At that time the main channel was on the west side of the river and water at the pump intake was several feet deep. Shifting of the channel to the east side occurred gradually.

All summer water at the pump intake was only 1 to 3 feet in depth and as the east channel deepened less water was coming down the west branch of the river every week.

Mike Yocum, of Almeria, an expert in willow dam construction, was employed to supervise building of a brush dam and a force of about twelve local men did the actual work. George Allen, light and water commissioner, also assisted.

Willows were cut, tied into bundles and fastened together with wire, forming a dam about four feet in thickness and about 100 feet long across the east branch. A gate in the middle will be opened and closed as necessary during high and low water periods.

Water has been backed up about two feet by the brush dam. Although the dam may go out when it breaks up next spring it is thought that diversion of the channel to the west side will have solved the city's problem for years to come.

At any rate, there is no danger of a water shortage this winter.

Mayor Issues Red Cross Proclamation

In a proclamation issued Monday, Mayor Gould B. Biagg of Ord officially designated the period from Nov. 11 to Nov. 25 as the annual Red Cross Roll Call in Ord and vicinity and urged people to become members of this great organization.

Farm Measuring Finished.

Eben Moss of the Garfield county farm bureau, was in Ord Tuesday on business with the Valley county bureau. He was also here in the interests of the soil conservation program. He states that work of measuring farms in Garfield county will be finished this week.

J. M. Holmes Voted Fifty Years In One Place

To J. M. Holmes of Yale township goes the unusual honor of having cast every vote in his life, covering a period of fifty years, in one polling place. Mr. Holmes started out voting in the election of 1886 in the school house in Yale township where the voting has been done ever since that time, and this year, at the age of 71, he went to the same place to cast his ballot. It is true that the school house has been remodeled in that time, but it is still on the same site. Mr. Holmes had to choose between Harrison and Cleveland the first time he voted for a president in 1888, and in all has had thirteen chances to express his choice for chief executive. It must be remembered, however, that in those days, the name of the presidential candidate did not appear on the ticket and a man had to vote for the party instead of the man.

Gregg-Shiley Will Sell.

Paul Gregg and Ted Shiley, both of whom are leaving Valley county with intention of settling in northern Idaho, are advertising a joint clean-up sale in today's Quiz. They have a big offering including some good horses and milk cows. See their ad on another page.

Famous Magician To Appear in Ord

MAURICE LENSER.

Under the auspices of the music department of Ord high school Maurice Lenser, famous young magician, will present his program of "honest deception" at the high school auditorium Monday, Nov. 16. Only 26 years old, Mr. Lenser has had much magical experience. He began fooling people at the age of 7, gave programs during high school and college days to help pay expenses, and has since been on the stage. His magic is up-to-date and unusual and his glib tongue entertains the audience while his hands perform miracles. Ord people will enjoy the Lenser program.

Ord High Juniors Capably Present Their Annual Play

Virginia Sack, Arden Clark, Robert Williamson, Had Leading Parts.

Amidst the tuneful theme song "A Fine Romance" the junior class presented their class play "It Won't Be Long Now" to a large audience in the high school auditorium Tuesday evening. The play was a huge success, each character enacting his part to perfection.

Kendall Wiegardt, alias William Meek, the timid office clerk and Vernon Maloleps, the office boy who expected to own the business in a short while, added much to the program with their plots to secure "raises" from the boss. Simon Danczak, as the faithful old butler of seventy years, gave a splendid portrayal of the part.

Virginia Sack very ably portrayed Ann Winston, the heart's desire of Robert Preston, the tight, hard-fisted millionaire who never mixed sentiment with business. Robert Williamson characterized the part of Robert Preston, who wanted to die but couldn't.

Arden Clark enacted the part of Charles Dobson, the flashy politician who was out to get money whether the method employed was good or bad. Dr. Tally, the scheming physician who gave the millionaire the jolt of a life time, was enacted by Robert Green.

Miss Wilkes, the office stenographer, who also wished to secure a "raise" from the boss was capably acted by Frances Dumeey. Jean Ferguson gave an excellent portrayal of Vivian Darrell, a flapper and "gold digger."

Other characters who acted their parts very capably were Jack Petty, as Rev. Dr. Loring, a "fake" minister; Vere Carson, the Irish policeman; Frank Cullen, alias Lloyd Sack, a politician; Virginia Davis, as Olga, a Swedish cook; Harriet Marshall, acting the part of Frances, the maid; and Lonnie Nelson and Willis Plate the two photographers.

This successful play was most capably directed by Miss Ellen Servino, Ord high school dramatics instructor, Miss Barbara Hansen junior class sponsor, was in direct charge. Music for the play was taken care of by the high school orchestra. A girls' trio with Marjorie Coe, Dorothy Auble, and Ruth Auble as members sang a number of selections.

Shirley Working in Omaha.

Norm Holt received a letter from a member of an Omaha paint concern in which he stated that he had met Ford Shirley, who is doing work for the Ohio National Insurance company there. The writer commented very favorably on the quality of work Shirley was putting out.

Theo Miller of Arcadia was in Ord on business Tuesday.

Cummins Heads New Auction Firm, Lease Weller Barn

Grunkmeyers Dispose of Ord Interests to Popular Davis Creek Man.

Another change in the management of the Ord Livestock Market founded and conducted for many years by E. C. Weller is announced this week, the new firm being headed by M. B. Cummins, popular Davis Creek township farmer and auctioneer. Associated with him are his son, Corwin, and C. S. Burdick, of Ord.

Early last spring Col. Weller leased the property to C. F. and Herman Grunkmeyer, of Burwell, who operated it until the sudden death two weeks ago of Carl Grunkmeyer. Since Carl was the auctioneer upon whom rested responsibility for doing the selling, his brother Herman was faced with the problem either of hiring an auctioneer each week or subleasing the entire property.

Weller, now in business at Atkinson, came to Ord last week and a three-cornered deal was made by which Mr. Grunkmeyer was released from his contract and it was assumed by Col. Bert Cummins and his associates. The Cummins firm held its first sale last Saturday, selling about 300 head of cattle and a large number of horses and pigs. The first sale was "a hummer," Col. Cummins says, with 42 actual buyers and 34 consignors of stock.

The new operator of the Ord auction ring is no stranger here. He has been in the auction business for the past twenty years, crying many farm and livestock sales, and there are few better auctioneers in this part of the state than Bert Cummins. Possessing a splendid personality, a wide acquaintance, powerful, resonant voice and a great fund of knowledge of the auction business, he is sure to succeed here. His partner, C. S. Burdick, also is a good auctioneer although he is better known as a ringman and the combination of Cummins & Burdick, with the assistance of Corwin Cummins in the management, seems a happy one.

The new firm will hold livestock auctions every Saturday in Ord and will also make a specialty of crying farm sales.

Friday, Nov. 20 has been set as date for the Cummins clean-up sale and it will be one of the largest ever held here. Unusual in recent years, a free lunch will be served at noon.

The Weller house, which has been occupied by the Carl Grunkmeyer family, also was leased by Col. Cummins and after holding a clean-up sale on his Davis Creek farm next week he will move his family to town. The Grunkmeyers have returned to their home in Burwell to live.

Rotary Club Will Sponsor Ice Rink

An ice skating rink north of the high school building will be installed this year under the sponsorship of the Ord Rotary club, in cooperation with the city, it was decided Monday evening by Rotarians. Expense of the rink will be paid by the club and water for it will be furnished by the city. President E. C. Zerget appointed a committee composed of J. A. Kovanda and George Allen to make necessary arrangements.

In two previous winters Rotarians have sponsored ice skating ponds which furnished much pleasure for young people of the city. By starting work earlier this year it is thought the rink can be made much more satisfactory. The Rotary club also sponsored tennis courts last summer as part of its service to the city.

Speakers at the club's dinner Monday evening were Mr. Holmes, district supervisor of the Soil Conservation Act, and Dr. George A. Parkins, who recently returned from a trip to the eastern coast.

Grand Island Sends Fox Family Back

The Clarence Fox family was returned to Ord the latter part of last week, and county authorities found a place for them in the little Dewhurst property in west Ord. They have been living in Grand Island for some months but about two weeks ago Clarence got into trouble through issuing bad checks, and disappeared. He had been selling cars for a Grand Island firm. When the family went to Grand Island some months ago the authorities were notified that they could stay on condition that they did not become a public charge, and Mrs. Fox says that her husband had not contributed to their support for several weeks before he left. When the Grand Island authorities found that the family was a public charge they loaded them on a bus and their household goods on a truck, started them for Ord, and phoned local officers that they were on the way.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett
That story, that Lloyd Benjamin charged Archie Geweke double for shaving him the day after election because his face was so long, proves to be untrue and I suspect that Ralph Norman started the story.

Last week I had to write this column so early that I couldn't comment on election and this week I am just like the proverbial little boy. I have nothing to say.

I think the joke is on John F. Doyle, defeated candidate for the unicameral. He spent his time and money campaigning while his opponent, Tracy Frost, held a government job and drew wages all the time and spent his time campaigning too and was elected.

There were more than twice as many voters who wanted Roosevelt as there were who wanted Landon for president and since we think the majority should rule, those who wanted Landon must make the best of it. Such a great majority could hardly be wrong.

If Pat Fuson doesn't erupt pretty soon and say something mean about me I shall think he is sick, and being a democrat I can't think of anything that he has to be sick about or of.

Springfield, Ohio, a city of seventy thousand, voted at the recent election on the proposition of having a special levy of 3 mills to raise needed revenue to keep the schools of that city going, and the voters killed the proposition. Now the board of education has closed the schools and told the teachers and pupils to take all their belongings with them as it was uncertain when school would open again.

B-r-r-r, it's getting cold. Good evenings to read and when you get ready to send for the Bee-News, or one of the other daily papers, let me order it for you, either new or renewal. Costs you no more and I like to have the business.

Buck, Eugene's Chesapeake dog, takes his politics seriously but we have been unable to determine whether his disappearance election night was due to sadness because he had lost or whether he went celebrating. At any rate he didn't get home till late the following Saturday and if he was celebrating it must have been some celebration. We don't know what his politics is. When I would say, "Buck, if you are a democrat, wag your tail," he would wag. If I asked him if he was a republican it was the same and when I asked him if he was a communist he would wag everything back of his ears.

Steel production in the U. S. is the highest in seven years and the great steel companies are planning new mills for the production which they see coming, one company has started a building which is to cost many millions of dollars. Directors of the U. S. chamber of commerce, last week, gave out a statement that we as a nation, are definitely on the up-grade. Reading the daily papers I see many places where a building boom is on. What do we eat what party is in power if business is really coming back? There is plenty of room in Valley county for a business boom and I am expecting it too.

Returns From California.
Charles Jefferies, whose home is over on Davis Creek, arrived in Ord Thursday from a trip to the west. When he left here he first went to the vicinity of Lewiston, Ida., where he remained for seven weeks. From there he went to Chico, Calif., where he spent six weeks, and the last two weeks he has been in Los Angeles. While there he visited Lorraine and Mildred Haas, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haas of Ord, who are employed in that city. On the way home he saw Ray Enger at Ogden, U. Mr. Enger is employed by the Union Pacific in the maintenance department of their air conditioning service, and has worked in that capacity since he left Burwell some two years ago. This is one of the new developments in railroading and Ray, who is well qualified for the work, got in on the ground floor. Mr. Jefferies will probably remain here for some time, but he likes the west and hopes to return there to make his home.

Card of Thanks.
We want to thank all our relatives and friends for all the beautiful gifts present.
Mr. and Mrs. Anton Baran.

Mrs. Ed Schudel of North Loup entered the Weekes hospital Thursday for diabetic treatment.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Post Mortem.
It was a fight between the rich and the poor, as is so prevalent over the world, and has been throughout the ages, and this time the poor man won. The Republicans may not have intended it such, but it was that anyway.

Landon was reputed to be a financial success. Roosevelt has not been. But successful men are apt to be good collectors, almost have to be, and hard bargainers. George Mayo predicted to me the democrats would win by saying, "Landon says he will balance the budget. The farmers are afraid he may force payment of farm loans and not loan more unless with good security, which most of the farmers do not have. They know what Roosevelt will do. He had been an easy creditor. The laboring man and man on relief know they will have work. The pensioners were afraid they might lose under a change."

Little did the national debt worry this great group of people. The country going to smash on account of its debt means nothing to them. Things have gone to smash anyway for a man on relief. He sees no justice in him being hungry and a lucky neighbor having plenty and a big car to drive. Taxes mean nothing to the poor man. He does not pay any. Why he gets in relief is from his rich brother.

The unconstitutionality of the laws is foolish to the poor man. The returning of the processing taxes to the packers only disgusted the poor man more with the supreme court. The supreme court is to protect property rights, so the rich can keep what they have from the poor. Talking constitutions is like so much Greek to the poor man. Even Theodore Roosevelt said during a miners strike to the effect, "To heck with the constitution when the people want coal."

The increase of the income tax which caused so much gnashing of teeth did not worry the poor man any. He only wished he had to pay some.

The shipping in of corn from Argentina which the republicans worried so over is the salvation of most of the farmers. If it was not for that the price would go to five dollars a bushel and most of us have to buy.

The coercion or dictation to the farmer was all foolishness. Of course they told us what to plant if we contracted. But that was the contract. We didn't have to contract if we didn't want to. I know a number of men who didn't and they planted what they pleased.

It was a fight of the poor against the rich, taking a different form than in England, or Russia, but that was it and the democrats encouraged it.

And like Lincoln said, "The Lord must have loved the poor people. He made so many of them."

Another help to the democrats that was not so important was the fact that Landon was not a good speaker, although he got better toward the last. Roosevelt is one of the best.

How They Feel.
North Loup has the distinction of having gone republican. For the township board and assessor Ed Lee, Dr. Hemphill and Roy Lewis (all rampart G. O. P.'ers) were elected. John Bremer was also elected and he's a North Louper too. At least we always claimed him. But then it is suspected he is inclined to be a mugwumper. Someone said he voted for Norris. Well if there wasn't worse men than John Bremer in the land we wouldn't need to worry, even if he does get his shoes mixed up.

My boy, a seven year old, mentioned in an argument at school as how Roosevelt had got us in debt so badly. Everett Portis replied, "Yes, but Landon is a tight wad. Of course both boys thought it all out themselves."

Bud Knapp says the politicians will not be able to do anything for three months now. It will take that long to scrape off the mud.

Bill Cox said miracles do happen he guessed. If anyone had told him a week ago that Geo. Gowen would ever vote democratic he wouldn't have believed it. He was telling some of the fellows.

"Why do you say that," I asked. "I haven't heard of there being any republican votes."

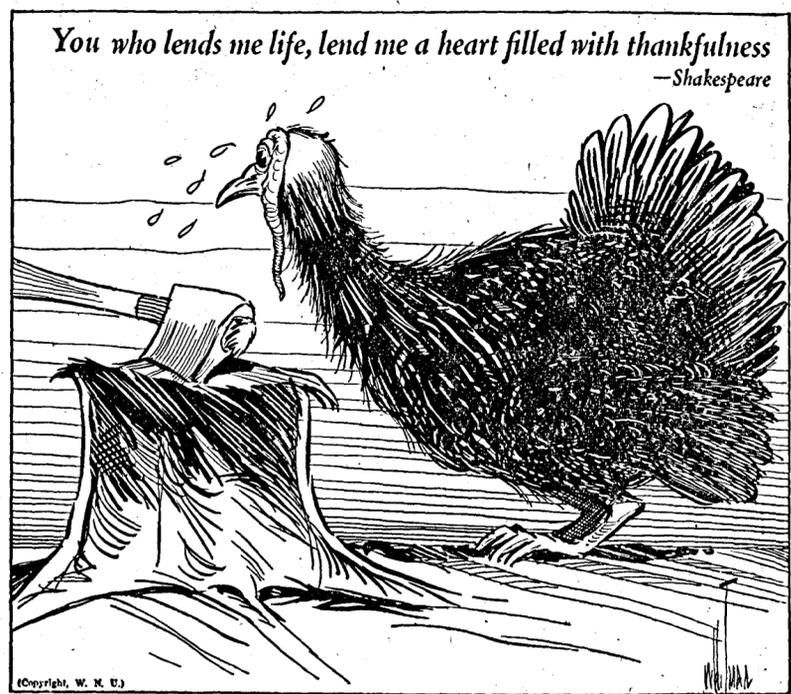

Roy Cox reports hearing a man say that in four years they will be paying a premium for republicans. Roy didn't know whether they'd pay a premium to have them vote or pay the premium to put them in a museum.

Wm. Herzog (I. H. C. salesman) and Houzer were talking politics with me. They told of another salesman who is a rampant democrat coming into a restaurant and proclaiming loudly he'd bet a hundred dollars the democrats didn't get all the votes they paid for.

Wm. also thought Al Smith had double crossed Landon and felt in his own mind he was paid well by the democrats to talk as he did. Wm. said, "Suppose I go around the country and tell everyone what I mean, fellow you are. If I just tell it enough the folks will begin to think you are a pretty decent guy and I am the skunk."

John Cruzan, my kids have it doped out, is surely in a bad way. Clem Meyers and Art Hutchins must also be careful but they are not in the predicament of John Cruzan and his wife. John's home is within 40 feet of the polling place. He'd sure be in a bad fix the last few weeks if he tried to

TURKEY DAZE

to be installed at Elyria, Red Cross officials have decided. It will be similar to the one at Cotesfield.

These first aid stations are not meant to replace doctors or their work in any way. But they are meant to help in emergencies until a doctor can arrive. In case of accidents they are a great help. Sometimes a difference of half a minute in applying a tourniquet or applying artificial aid to respiration saves a life. It is for helping in those first precious minutes before the doctor comes that Red Cross first aid stations are intended.

Since there is no doctor at Elyria, and medical aid must drive from Ord or Burwell to that place, a first aid station for that young city seems just the ticket.

I read there is a move on foot to make every filling station an efficient place to secure first aid after an accident.

Pointing out that in hundreds of cases accident victims are when found hauled straight to the closest filling station, those in favor of this first aid believe it would save many lives.

There is also a move on foot for the government to start taking a little interest in mothers and new babies. For a long time the government has helped farmers save litters of pigs, newborn calves, helped increase crop yields, in fact it has done almost everything. But it has never helped mothers and babies.

The United States, which you and I like to think of as one of the most enlightened countries in the world, actually has one of the highest rates of deaths for mothers and babies.

It does seem as though mothers should rate as much government interest as sows. It does seem as though new babies are as important as baby pigs.

How about you informing yourself on this subject, Reader? Or would you rather read football forecasts?

Mothers and babies . . . so many families have both of them, you know.

—Irma.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Farm folks have the best chance of living to a ripe old age. The duration of life in the country is considerably longer than in the city.

In fifteen large cities the newborn child, if a boy, can be expected to live to the average age of 52. If the boy is raised on a farm he will live to be 56 to 60, the age varying with the state in which he resides.

For girl babies the expectation of life is 55 in the cities, and from 60 to 62 years on the farms. These ages have been determined from statistical evidence gathered by the U. S. Bureau of the Census.

Young men, say 17 years old, who have survived the dangers of infancy and childhood, can expect to live 45 years longer in the large cities; in the country they will live about 50 years longer. Young ladies of the same age will average 47 years longer in cities, and 50 years longer in the country. Women generally outlive men.

There is less sickness among the farming population, despite the poor sanitary facilities in the average farm home. This greater healthfulness is due largely to the fuller home life on the farm, a better diet, more fresh air, sunshine and exercise.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

Ord's treasury was empty, the Quiz reported, both bond funds being exhausted and bills allowed exceeding cash on hand by $2,546.00. At the same meeting when Treasurer Wisda made this report the city agreed to furnish free electric current for the three electric trolleys in town that were individually owned by McMinder and Huff.

Byron Johnson bought a 300 acre farm near North Loup from Charles Rich, the price being $56 per acre.

Carl Wilson traded the ice plant in Ord for the Ed Jensen ranch on the sand flats. Wilson put the ranch on the market and soon traded it to Albert McMinder for the Dan McEachron place in Mira Valley, which was valued at $100 per acre.

The Fred Hallock jewelry store and the James & Anderson dry goods store at Burwell were partially destroyed by fire.

Robert Nay bought the Will Abnermy quarter as a speculation; price being $40.00.

A third son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Davis.

Mrs. C. Fuson returned from a five months' visit in Iowa and Illinois.

C. C. Shepard, president, announced a meeting of the Valley County Good Roads club.

James S. Bussell went to Wichita, Kas., to visit and planned to go from there to Oklahoma City.

A strong blizzard hit Ord on Nov. 5, one of the most severe storms ever seen as such an early date. Canyons were filled with snow and roads were almost impassable.

25 Years Ago This Week.

Coach Reed's football team beat Spalding on the Ord field, score being 30 to 0. Earlier in the season Spalding beat Ord 9 to 0. Deweller was the star.

The D. B. Smith family was moving into town from the farm and were to occupy the Otto Murschell house on main street which they purchased recently. Evet Smith was to operate the farm.

Mrs. H. M. Grady.
Mince Meat Drop Cookies.
Boll together and cook; one package of mince meat; one cup of water, set aside. Cream one cup shortening, one and one-half cups sugar, one egg, then combine with the mince meat mixture. Sift one teaspoon soda with one teaspoon baking powder and about three and one-half cups flour. Add to the batter and mix well. Drop from spoon and bake. These cookies stay moist.

Mrs. L. H. Covert.
Carrot Boat Salad.
To make the boats, boil two large carrots until tender, cut lengthwise, scoop out centers and fill with the following mixture: one cup shredded cabbage combined with one-half cup crushed pineapple, one-fourth cup blanched almonds, covered with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce leaves with salted waters.

Mrs. George Nass.
Hurry, if you still have recipes you want installed in the Quiz calendar. It is almost too late for them now.

Misko's Joke Backfired.
Last week the Quiz told how Jim Misko plastered Bill Moses' car with Landon stickers; to the great chagrin of the owner. The joke backfired, as some jokes do. One day shortly after the first episode Ralph Norman came into Misko's presence carrying a very impressive looking paper, purporting to be a complaint filed against Mr. Misko for violating one of the city ordinances by pasting posters on a car without consent of the owner. At first Jim was inclined to treat the matter as a joke, but Ralph was insistent, and after a while Jim became worried, and went over to see lawyer John about it. John had been told what to expect, and it was some time before Mr. Misko's mind was set at ease.

New Corn for Drouth Areas.
Twenty-seven Cuming and Burt county farmers returned recently from DeKalb, Ill., where they inspected a new hybrid corn which is producing exceptional yields under drouth conditions. Fields they inspected averaged from 75 to 109 bushels per acre although other varieties of corn near by yielded only 32 to 40 bushels.

Almost Icted Judge.
Howard H. Iton, of Geneva, almost was elected county judge of Fillmore county last week. He received 2,900 votes. So did his opponent, present Judge George Landgren; but when the mail vote was counted Landgren has 2,903 and was declared elected, subject to the official recount. Mr. Hamilton is a relative of Dr. and Mrs. George A. Parkins of Ord and visited here last summer.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Really unusual recipes have been coming to this department the last few days, probably intended for the Quiz cook-book calendar. Many new recipes are delicious, and will make a big hit in almost any family. This is especially true of those printed in the Quiz, since they have been tried and liked by some members of the big family of Quiz readers; and are sent in to be printed so that you may enjoy them too.

Cranberry Apple Sauce.
Wash, pare and core one and one-half cupful of apples, then slice them before measuring. To these add one and one-half cups of cranberries and one cup of water and cook slowly until soft. Then add one cup of sugar and stir until dissolved; Remove and serve hot with meats or cold as a sauce for luncheon or supper.

Mrs. H. M. Grady, Kearney.
Pumpkin Pie with Cheese Crust.
Sift three-fourths cup flour and one-half teaspoon salt, rub in two ounces grated cheese and three tablespoons butter; then sufficient cold water to make a stiff dough. Roll thin and line a pie tin. Fill with the following mixture: one and one-half cups strained pumpkin, two cups milk, two-thirds cup brown sugar, one teaspoon cinn-

DON'T GO ON DRIVING WITH SUMMER-GRADE OIL . . . CHANGE NOW!

* TRIPLE-TREATED ISO-VIS "D" MAKES IT EASY...AND SAFE TO START COLD ENGINES FAST

A MOTOR OIL that makes it easy to start a cold engine fast doesn't necessarily make it safe to start fast—but here's one that does both.

MAKES IT EASY, because Iso-Vis "D" in the winter grades flows in bitter winter weather. With it in your crankcase you will have an easy turning engine, for Iso-Vis "D" 10-W has a low pour-point of 20° below zero!

MAKES IT SAFE, because Iso-Vis "D" in the winter grades possesses a "body" so tough that it maintains an unbroken coating of protection for the costly moving parts of your engine, no matter how quickly you put your car into action, nor how hard and long you drive it.

You'll be wise to put "triple-treated" Iso-Vis "D" in your engine right now. Have the Standard Dealer drain the summer-grade oil from your crankcase, flush it clean and refill with Iso-Vis "D", 10-W or 20-W. It's only an 8-minute job at most.

* Iso-Vis "D" is Triple-Treated by Standard Oil Company. It is (1) Vacuum Distilled, (2) de-waxed by the Propane process, and (3) purified by the Chlorox Extraction process.

Dispensed from glass bottles at 25¢ a qt. or in refinery sealed cans at 30¢ a qt.

—Mrs. Elmer Keebler of Greeley was in Ord consulting Dr. H. N. Norris Friday.

—Dr. F. L. Blessing went to Crete Friday to bring home his daughter, Charlotte, who is a student in Doane college.

—Ben Morris, Jr., is carrying around a very lame wrist, contracted when he fell off the side of a car on which he was riding to the football game Friday evening.

—Mrs. Belle F. Oliver and daughter Ruth, of Kewanee, Ill., are spending the week at the A. W. Tunniff home. Miss Ruth was called to care for W. L. McMullen during his final illness.

—Mrs. Mary Ulrich arrived Sunday from Alhambra, Calif., where she has been visiting with her daughter, Mrs. C. D. Anderson, and will make her home with her daughter, Mrs. Leroy Frazier.

—Jerry J. Puncocchar is the new manager of the Spalding Food Center store, taking over his duties Monday of last week. He moved into the H. A. Riley residence in the east end of town.

—James Campbell returned to Chicago Monday in order to vote. Some people think more of their franchise than others do of their wives. It is a pity that only about 60 per cent of our citizens have enough interest in civic affairs to vote.

—Noble Balston came down from his work on the new school building at Burwell Saturday morning. He says that weather conditions are slowing down the work there, as the windows are not all in, but figures that everything will move right along as soon as the building is inclosed.

—Mrs. C. F. Grunkemeyer and family are moving this week back to their home in Burwell. These people were very popular here, and their many friends regret that they must go.

—Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris report the following arrivals: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Layher, Sumter, a seven pound boy at 8:00 p.m. Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dahlin, Elyria, an eight pound girl at 2:20 a. m. Saturday. Mrs. Johnson and Mrs. Dahlin are taking care of them. All concerned are doing well.

—Mr. and Mrs. Arlo Grunkemeyer and her sister, Mrs. Corder left Saturday morning for Huntington Park, Calif., where the Grunkemeyers live. Mrs. Corder's home is in Los Angeles. They have been here for the past two weeks, having been called here by the illness and death of Arlo's father, C. F. Grunkemeyer. The two ladies are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Williams.

Hoffman Has Ridden Bicycle 40,000 Miles

Some ride a bicycle for business and some for pleasure, but Jake Hoffman has been combining the two for the past nearly forty years, and in that time has traveled more than 40,000 miles. Jake bought his first bike in 1898 and has owned one continuously since that time. He started work for the Koupal & Barstow Lumber company in March, 1904, and has ridden to and from work twice per day until the present time, or more than 32 years. He averages better than three miles per day, or 1200 miles per year. He owned one bicycle for fifteen years, and the speedometer registered more than 15,000 miles. His present bike is nine years old, and has over 10,000 miles to its credit. In addition to the record he made for traveling by bicycle, Jake's record of delivering satisfactory service to one firm for over 32 years is unusual, to say the least.

—Zola Barta was home from her duties at Kearney Normal over the week end.

—An 8½ pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Rex Clement early Saturday morning.

—J. H. Eyerly of North Loup was in Ord on business Wednesday.

—Fred Christensen, Max Cruickshank, and Mrs. Roy Norris, all of Arcadia, were in Ord on business Thursday.

—Frank Bartos, commissioner of the second district in Garfield county, was in Ord on business Thursday.

—Art Lange of North Loup went through Ord Thursday enroute to the Indian country of South Dakota to look after business matters.

—Mrs. R. O. Hunter and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stanton of North Dakota went to Hastings Thursday to visit Lloyd and Pat VanWie, the two sons of Mrs. Hunter.

—Ralph Haas and Lloyd Zeleski of the Ord Auto Sales company, went to Kearney Thursday to attend a one day Chevrolet sales school.

—Mrs. Cecil Hansen, who resigned some two weeks ago as city librarian, is still acting in that capacity, as the board has not as yet appointed her successor.

—A baby was born last week to Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beran, 8¼ miles west of Ord, but the little one passed away shortly after birth. Mrs. John Ward is taking care of Mrs. Beran.

—Due to the illness of J. M. Van-Skike, his second hand store on North 16 street has been closed, and the goods moved and stored in the back room of the McGrew shoe shop.

—Bill Cohen and wife returned to their home in Wauzeka, Wis., Thursday, after a two weeks' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cohen, his brother Gerald and wife, and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert LeMasters. The LeMasters went back with them for a short visit.

—Ronald Rose was a rather sick young man Thursday afternoon when he swallowed some gasoline while trying to siphon it through a rubber hose. Dr. H. N. Norris was called and he soon recovered.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Auble went to Winner, S. D., Monday of last week and report getting stuck in snow drifts in Dakota, which is some record for the second day of November. The snow was nearly a foot deep in the vicinity of Winner.

—Frank Zulkoski of Elyria, who got out of the hospital some three weeks ago, is somewhat the worse for wear as a result of a tussle he had with a horse he was trying to ride. Frank says the horse rode him instead.

—N. J. Holt redecored the front of the Kull building on the east side of the square the first of the week. This building is rented to a Mr. Russell, who plans to open a drug store there soon.

—Mrs. F. J. Osentowski and J. G. Kruml attended the Creighton homecoming Saturday. Maxine Haskell, Dr. Osentowski's assistant, went with them and will remain to take a short course in dental assistance.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Stanton left Saturday noon for their home in St. Johns, N. D. Mrs. Stanton has been here for the past month having her teeth taken care of by Dr. G. R. Gard, and Mr. Stanton came down about a week ago to take her home. They were visiting the R. O. Hunter family and other relatives.

—Charles Waegh, of Tilden, Nebr., was a bus passenger to Burwell Friday evening, going up to visit his brother-in-law, Bernard Harris and family. He expects to remain two weeks to a month. He reports that Bernard's father, Tom Harris, is quite ill at his home near St. Marys, Ida. He is suffering from high blood pressure. The Harris' went out there a year ago and homesteaded.

—Emory Thomsen is proudly displaying a leg band he took off the leg of a mallard drake he shot last Wednesday on the river near Ord. This is one of the markings of the government biological survey and is put on the legs of wild ducks for the purpose of determining the direction and duration of their flight between summer and winter quarters. The band bore the date 1935, and the number 516298 and instructions to notify biological survey, Washington D. C., which Emory has done, but as yet has not received a reply. Once several years ago he says he killed a duck with a similar leg band, but this one had no instructions on it, and so he did not report the fact to Washington.

—R. J. Clark, who has been quite ill for some time, is much improved at this writing, and is able to get up and around the house. He has been troubled with asthma. The family recently had word from their son Ansel, who lives at Frederick, Colo., to the effect that their son, Melvin, a senior in the University of Colorado, had been chosen delegate to the national convention of engineers at Ann Arbor, Mich. On this trip he spent a day in Chicago and then went on to see the sights in Detroit. He visited the Ford plant and the Ford museum, which is almost equivalent to a trip around the world. From there he went on to Ann Arbor, where the three day convention was held. On the return trip he saw a professional football game at Evanston, Ill., and went through the Studebaker plant at South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Ansel Clark's parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Bullock, are now living in Boulder, Colo. Several years ago he was pastor of the Ord Christian church.

SOCIETY

Missionary Society Meets.

The ladies missionary society of the Methodist church met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Robert Noll, there being a good attendance. The meeting was led by Mrs. Mearl C. Smith.

General Aid Society Meets.

The general aid society of the Methodist church met at the church Wednesday afternoon, the meeting being led by the vice-president, Mrs. Leo Long. There was a very good attendance. Mrs. O. E. Carlson was elected chairman of the Kensington group.

Women's Club Meets.

The Ord Woman's club held a very interesting meeting at Mrs. L. D. Milliken's last Tuesday. Mrs. G. W. Taylor, the leader, conducted an unusually interesting lesson on Boulder Dam. For purposes of illustration Mrs. Taylor had constructed a paper mache model of the dam, and also a topographical map. Mrs. Taylor spoke on history and the river. Mrs. Milliken took for her topic, financing the dam. The Imperial valley was the subject presented by Mrs. C. J. Miller. Mrs. John P. Misko spoke on preparation and construction of Boulder City. Mrs. Taylor closed with an explanation of the model of the dam. Mrs. Ed Kokes, the critic, gave a talk on the Red Cross.

Married at Elyria.

St. Mary's church of Elyria was the scene of a very lovely wedding Wednesday morning, Nov. 4, at 9:00 o'clock, when Miss Frances Konkolewski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Konkolewski, became the bride of Anton Baran, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Baran. Father Szumski officiated at the wedding ceremony and at the nuptial mass. Leonard Dlugosh was the organist as the bridal party entered the church.

The bride was gowned in a white satin dress with a long veil made cap fashion and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by Miss Clara Konkolewski and Julia Baran, who wore pink taffeta made tunic effect and pink veil hats. They carried bouquets of white carnations. Vivian Zulkoski and Gladys Grabowski, flower girls, were dressed

Personals

—Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox, of Ansley drove to Ord Wednesday and were guests at the E. C. Leggett home.

—Mrs. C. J. Mortensen underwent major surgery for the removal of her appendix and a fibroid tumor at the Ord hospital Wednesday morning, the operation being performed by Dr. C. J. Miller. At 2:00 p. m. Mrs. Mortensen was reported to have come through the ordeal as well as could be expected.

—The contest for road overseer in Road Dist. No. 5 in Garfield county was no pushover for either of the contestants, as results proved. William Flock and Herman Swanson each received 31 votes, making it necessary to draw for it or flip a coin. Swanson was the lucky man, and will hold the job for the next two years, at least. This District is over in Dry Creek precinct in the Rosevale country.

So and Sew Club Meets.

Mrs. C. J. Miller was hostess to the So and Sew club last Thursday. Besides the members the following guests were present: Mrs. Stoddard, Mrs. Thompson, Mrs. Jay Aulsebrook, Mrs. Sack, Mrs. Frank Faifeita, Mrs. Kenneth Jensen, Mrs. Emil Faifeita and Mrs. Bernice Brady.

Party at Will Berans.

The relatives of the Will Beran family came in bringing lunch with them Sunday for a "cheer up" surprise party. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Will Beran and son, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kokes, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beran, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Vodehnal, Misses Mildred and Harriet Hrdy, and Mrs. John Ward.

Merrymix Club Meets.

The Merry Mix club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. John Mason. One guest, Mrs. Florence Chapman, was present. A birthday party, complete with a birthday cake was held in honor of two members, Mrs. Severson and Mrs. Jerry Petska.

Party For Mrs. Carson.

Mrs. W. H. Carson had a birthday on Monday of last week and her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Carson and Vere Carson, came to eat dinner with her. Mrs. Ellis Carson baked a lovely cake which was highly appreciated. They came back in the evening for lunch.

Missionary Society Meets.

The Presbyterian Missionary society met last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, with Mrs. Wilford Williams acting as co-hostess. There was a very good attendance.

Z. C. B. J. Meets.

The Z. C. B. J. met at the hall Sunday afternoon for a very interesting meeting. There was a good attendance and lunch was served at 4:30. Plans are being made for a special Thanksgiving meeting.

Mrs. Haskell Honored.

D. D. of O. members met Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. F. C. Williams. The meeting was in honor of Mrs. W. W. Haskell, who is one of the oldest members and is usually unable to attend the meetings. Mrs. Lova Trindle, another old member, was able to be present.

Junior Matrons Meet.

The Junior Matrons club met Friday with Mrs. Frank Faifeita, with a good attendance of members. There were also a number of guests. They were Mrs. Dean Duncan, Mrs. Ed Gnaster, Mrs. Ed Kokes and Mrs. C. C. Thompson.

IT PAYS TO TRADE IN ORD!

Mrs. Susie Barnes Died Friday After A Short Illness

After her marriage to Charles Barnes on March 9th, 1881, they moved to Ord, where they took their places in helping to develop a new country. The railroad had not come to Ord at that time, and they took a stage coach from Grand Island.

The following July she went back to Brimfield, Ill., on a visit, and returning she brought her 14 year old sister, Annie, now Mrs. C. E. McGrew, to make her home with her.

On another trip Aug. 1, 1886, Mrs. Barnes with her sister Annie and daughter Ethel took the last stage coach from North Loup to Ord, just before the dedication of the new Union Pacific railroad train, and narrowly escaped death. Friends will recall an account of this given recently in the Ord Quiz.

To Mr. and Mrs. Barnes three children were born, Mrs. Ethel Neale who passed away July 25, 1934; Mrs. Mildred Thernanson of Omaha and Mrs. Nema Hanscom of Ferndale, Wash.

Mrs. Barnes was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, having joined the Ord society by letter more than 50 years ago. Only one other person, Mrs. W. W. Haskell, has been a member of this church for a longer consecutive number of years. She also was a member of the Rebekah lodge and the G. A. R.

Besides her two daughter, Mrs. Barnes is survived by one sister, Mrs. C. E. McGrew of Ord; three brothers, Henry Arnold of Brimfield, Ill., George Arnold of Mandota, Ill., and James Arnold of Glasford, Ill.

She is also survived by two granddaughters, Mrs. Glen Barnard of Burwell, and Meria G. Thernanson of Omaha, and three great grandchildren, LaVorne, Lavern and Duane Barnard.

Chevrolet Showine a Success. Public acceptance of the new Chevrolet, which was placed on display by the Ord Auto Sales company Saturday, was very fine, according to a statement made Monday by the manager, Ed Gnaster. People seem to be very much enthused over the new models. Two cars were delivered Monday, one to Dr. J. G. Kruml, the other to Leonard Manchester, and the company has several more orders. A carload of new models was unloaded Saturday, another Monday, and there are two more cars ordered.

City Builds Brush Dam Across Loup to Protect Water Supply

Ord's water supply was endangered when the main channel of the North Loup river near the bridge shifted to the east side of the island so the city put a gang of men to work last week building the brush dam shown in this picture, which was taken by H. E. Jones, staff photographer. The dam raised the water level two feet, diverted water around the point of the island toward the west side, and now it is thought Ord's water supply is safe. (See story on Page 1.)

Social Security Act To Get Under Way January 1st

Ord Postoffice To Send Out Blanks to All Affected; Will Tax Salaries.

In co-operation with the social security board, the postoffice department is preparing to launch machinery for the enforcement beginning January 1, of the social security act. The Ord postoffice now has, or soon will have, application forms to be distributed among employers and workers of Ord. The business will be handled along lines similar to those set up for handling of adjusted service bonds. Under the terms of the social security act for the 1937 calendar year, the employer must pay one per cent of his pay roll, 2 per cent for 1938 and, in 1939 and thereafter, 3 per cent. The employee shall pay one per cent of his wage for the first three years, 1 1/2 per cent for the next three years and three percent from and after 1949. On Nov. 17 and 18 the postoffice will distribute to every employer who employs one or more persons, applications for identification number. Among other things, the employer shall state, on this card, business name of establishment, number of persons employed, nature of business, principal goods or services manufactured or sold and whether or not a branch or subsidiary company.

These filled in blanks shall be returned to the postoffice not later than Nov. 21. When these cards come in the department will circulate blanks to workers, these being in the nature of applications for account numbers. They will be delivered to the employer for distribution among his employees. When filled in they may be returned by the worker to the employer, delivered to a mail carrier or turned in at the postoffice. They must be in the office not later than Dec. 5. These returned cards then go back to the social security board unit and different forms, with account numbers filled in are prepared, the stub going back to the employee and the rest of the card going to the social security headquarters at Baltimore, Md. While these forms are to be made out by the individual any who desire help may come to the local postoffice and assistance will be rendered. Mark Tolen has been designated to have this matter in charge.

This application for account number of the employee contains in blank 16 answers to be supplied, among them the following: Address, age, business, name of present employer, date and place of birth, full names of mother and father; sex, color, whether or not registered with the U. S. employment service. The following classification or groups are listed as exemptions:

- (1) Self-employment.
- (2) Employees of the railroad industry who are subject to Carriers Taxing Act, approved Aug. 29, 1935 (49 Stat. 974).
- (3) Agricultural labor.
- (4) Domestic service in a private home.
- (5) Casual labor not in the course of the employer's trade or business.
- (6) Service performed as an officer or member of the crew of a vessel documented under the laws of the United States or any foreign country.
- (7) Service performed in the employ of the United States Government or of an instrumentality of the United States.
- (8) Service performed in the employ of a State, a political subdivision thereof, or an instrumentality of one or more states or political subdivisions.
- (9) Service performed in the

Parkins Back From Eastern Trip, Got News from Home

"No matter how far you travel away from home you'll still meet people you know and hear news from home," said Dr. George A. Parkins, in a reminiscent mood upon his return Thursday from a $3,000 mile trip to Southbridge, Mass., where he met other men doing research in optometry. Dr. Parkins is research director of the American Research Council of Optometry.

At Southbridge one of the first men he met was the superintendent of schools, a Nebraska man who preceded Bert Cushing as deputy state superintendent of schools. When he picked up a copy of the New York Times one of the first items he saw related to Harold Garnick breaking his shoulder blade during a game of touch football.

Dr. Parkins visited various cities in New York and Massachusetts and reports a pleasant and profitable trip.

employ of a corporation, community chest, fund, or foundation, organized and operated exclusively for religious, charitable, scientific, literary, or educational purposes, or for the prevention of cruelty to children or animals, no part of the net earnings of inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual.

J. F. Cita Assigned No. Loup Inspector

Will Oversee Construction of Big Project To Assure Good Workmanship.

The assignment of Joseph F. Cita as resident engineer inspector of the new $1,695,000 PWA financed irrigation system for the North Loup power and irrigation project was consummated last week by the arrival on November 3 of Mr. Cita at Ord to assume his duties, it was announced today by J. D. Evans, state engineer inspector of the federal emergency administration of public works in the state of Nebraska.

Construction of the new irrigation system was made possible by an outright PWA grant of $16,000 and was begun October 1 on the day of the big celebration at Ord, and when Senator George W. Norris first furrow of sod which was witnessed by other prominent notables, officials of the District and hundreds of friends interested in this well worth-while undertaking.

Mr. Cita brings with him a wide experience, gained as an engineer on other important undertakings, to aid the authorities and contractors in speeding the new irrigation system to completion. "It will be his duty," Mr. Evans announced, "to see that the new system is constructed in accordance with the high standards embodied in the plans and specifications. He will see to it that the quality of materials used is in accordance with requirements, that workmen are paid in accordance with established wage scales, and that they are adequately protected against accidents."

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank the volunteer firemen and all other friends and neighbors who helped us and those who offered us shelter during our recent fire.

Get Pilots' Licenses. Monday Bill Becker, of Burwell, Evelyn Sharp and Elwin Dunlap, of Ord, went to Grand Island and took examinations of airplane pilot licenses, given by Inspector Montee, Becker and Miss Sharp were given private plane licenses and Dunlap an amateur license.

First Aid School To Open Soon With Kruml Instructor

work, as they are in a position where the administering of first aid is required several times during the school year. However, the class will not be restricted to teachers only, and any one who is interested in the work can enroll in the next week or two by seeing Mr. Frazier. The Red Cross first aid school was endorsed by County Superintendent Clara McClatchey at the county teachers' institute recently. There are 77 schools in the county with a total of 118 teachers, and it is hoped that all of these will enroll. In case the class should be too large two classes will be held instead.

Dr. J. G. Kruml will teach the class, which will probably be held in the court house, more complete information being given through the Quiz next week. A certificate will be given upon completion of a sixteen hour course. It is planned to hold a two hour session beginning at 7:30 each Friday evening and running through eight weeks. The total cost of the course will be the price of the text book, which will probably be fifty cents. It is hoped that upon completion of this course an advanced course can be offered any who wish to take it. It is expected that all teachers who can get in for the classes will avail themselves of the opportunity, as a first aid certificate should be of material assistance in securing a position as a teacher.

A highway first aid station has been established with headquarters at Elyria, at the Wozniak filling station. Archie Cienny will take the course in first aid, and will supervise the station, and it is hoped that Miss Wozniak, who assists in running the filling station, will also qualify for first aid work, and supplement the work of Mr. Cienny. Various other people in Elyria are expected to take the course. The Red Cross will furnish all equipment for this station, including splints, bandages, slings, disinfectants, etc.

The Red Cross has taught first aid to 1,173,000 persons; it has trained 700,000 persons in water safety and rescue methods. These nearly 2,000,000 life savers on land and sea are present at the beach and swimming pool, near the scene of every serious accident. They represent the interest of your Red Cross membership, interest which compounds annually.

BAKED FRESH DAILY

Our bakers work while you sleep so you may have fresh rolls with your morning coffee, fresh bread throughout the day. Come in early any morning—you'll find our whole line of bakery goods still warm from the oven. And there is certain to be something in the roll and pastry line that will appeal to you.

This week we will bake specially:

For Friday:
Cream Puffs, doz. 40c
Pecan-Nut Bread, 15c

For Tuesday:
Brownies, doz. 20c
Cranberry Pie, 25c

We invite you to visit us on Dollar Day next Tuesday.

ORD CITY Bakery

so that your boy, your girl, a friend or relative, will have a better chance to live when accident strikes near home. Join the Red Cross now through your local chapter and support these and other Red Cross services.

77 Ord Hi Seniors Working in Stores To Get Experience

American Education Week Is Being Observed Here In Practical Manner.

Seventy-seven Ord high school seniors plunged into the Ord business district Monday morning of this week to carry out the new educational plan of the Business and Professional Women's club, in observance of American Education Week.

Downtown shoppers found student workers in nearly every place of business in the city from grocery stores to the desk of the county clerk.

Student-workers were at their posts promptly at 9:00 each morning this week, were dismissed at 12:00 for lunch, and were back at their posts promptly at 1 p. m. where they worked until 4 p. m. Interview by a Quiz reporter, both students and proprietors heartily endorsed the new plan, students exclaiming that it was "grand."

Duck Hunting Was Good On Streets Of Broken Bow

Broken Bow hunters had good duck hunting right on the city streets Monday last week. During the sleet storm in the early hours Monday morning, several ducks dropped on Main street of the city.

Clyde Ganow, working in a nearby filling station, with some difficulty caught one of the ducks and a short time later Chris Jorgensen of the Arrow hotel caught one in front of his place of business.

A number of ducks landed on the street. Ganow was not sure whether they mistook the icy pavement for a body of water or were weighed down by the sleet. He stated that the one he caught carried a heavy coating of ice on its wings and back.

al Emblem" by the Ord high school band, the Legionnaires marched to the auditorium stage. Tom Springer then took charge of the program and "America" was sung by the assembly. Alfred Wiegardt, well-known Ord Legionnaire, was the honorary speaker for the program and spoke upon what the American Legion is doing in America today. Mr. Wiegardt declared that "all attempts to end wars are futile, that we shall have them as long as the world exists." At the close of Mr. Wiegardt's speech, the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by the assembly and taps were blown. Principal F. L. Stoddard brought the program to a close.

Guy Lutz, Arcadia community farmer, gave a half hour chalk talk dealing with the Armistice at the high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon.

Frank McQuillan was granted a license to sell beer by the state board the past week.

Chanticleers Push Over 2 Touchdowns In Third Period to Trample C. C. Bisons

Ord Line Stalwarts Aid As Fullback Haskell Away on Scoring Dashes.

With the mercury hanging around the zero mark, making anything but straight football impossible, Coach Helmut Brockman's Chanticleers clinched a solid 12 to 0 decision over the Central City Bisons last Friday night.

Coming back at the end of the first half with the game still a scoreless tie, the Red and White ran up two touchdowns in a third quarter rally. Outstanding work was accomplished by the Ord line in the third quarter, enabling Haskell to break away twice for 15 yard touchdown runs.

Numerous costly penalties were imposed upon both teams in this game as can be seen in the play by play description given below by Kendall Wiegard.

First Quarter.
Central City kicked-off and Ord returned to their own forty-eight. The first play lost seven yards. The next gained nothing and they punted. Central City returned to their twenty-five. They were held to one yard on two plays. They then punted. The Chanticleers brought the ball back to their twenty-six. They gained eleven yards on three plays and failed to gain it back on the next three plays so they punted. The Central City eleven returned to their forty-seven. They were penalized fifteen yards. An incomplete pass and a couple of short plunges did not gain it back and they punted. Ord returned to the twenty. They were held for two yards. Then they broke loose for nine. A march was started. Three more plays gained another first and ten. A few more plays gained them a first down on Central City's forty-seven. A couple more plays made it first on the Bison's thirty. They were held for two yards. The next play gained nothing. Thus ended the first quarter. No score.

Second Quarter.
Ord started off the second quarter with an incomplete pass. A run brought the ball to the Central City nineteen. They gained four yards and fumbled. Central City recovered on their fourteen. Ord was offside on the next play and gained five for Central City. Then the Central City eleven started up the field. The next two plays and they had reached the twenty-five. A few more and they had gained the forty-three. A couple more carried it over the mid-stripe and on to a first down on Ord's forty-five. Two more plays and they were away to Ord's twenty-five. They slowly worked their way to Ord's thirteen. They were then held for four downs and Ord regained the ball on their own seven. Ord punted and Central City again had a first and ten on Ord's forty-five. A complete pass brought them to Ord's twenty-five. Here they were held so they punted. It was a bad punt and Ord returned to their forty-two. The half ended with no score.

Third Quarter.
Ord kicked off in the second half. The ball rolled out on the twenty-eight. Ord again kicked off and stopped the Bisons on the ten. They were forced to punt and Ord returned the ball to Central City's thirty-two. Three plays carried the ball to the Central City's sixteen. They gained a couple of yards. Haskell then dodged through the last fourteen yards for a touchdown. The conversion was not good. Ord kicked off for the second time that quarter. Central City returned to their thirty-two. A couple of plays and they punted. Ord returned to their thirty-eight. A short gain and they slipped through the line and gained the Central City thirty-one before they were stopped. A couple of gains and they plowed through to the Bison's eleven. Two plays gained the five. Then a gain of three yards. One yard to go for a first down, but they met a stone wall. Central City regained control of the ball on their two yard line. They punted. Ord returned to the Central City twenty-five. A penalty gained them fifteen yards and Haskell plowed through the last ten yards for another touchdown. Again the conversion was not good. For the third time in the third quarter, Ord kicked off. Central City returned to their twenty-six. They made little gain and punted. Ord returned to their thirty-six. They made a first down on their own forty-eight. They crossed the mid-stripe and punted. Central City returned to their own twenty. They passed. Barnes intercepted and carried it over the goal line. The ball was called back and Ord penalized for clipping. Then they were penalized again. They punted and Central City returned to their twenty-one. The third quarter ended with the ball in the Bison's possession.

Fourth Quarter.
Central City punted. Ord returned to their forty-six. They plowed across mid-field to the Central City forty-three. Then they forced their way to the Bison's thirty-two. They were held and punted. Central City returned to their twenty-five. The Bisons were forced to punt. Ord brought the ball back to their forty-one. Again they crossed the fifty and gained a first on the Central City forty-four. They punted. Central City returned to their twenty-four. They failed to make the required ten in the next two and punted. Ord returned to the forty-seven. The Chanticleers crossed the mid-stripe and punted. Central City returned to the forty-three. They tried a pass which was intercepted. The final gun sounded and the score was Ord 12, Central City 0.

Pep? Plenty Of It, When These Three Ord High Students Go Into Action

"Ord, rah, rah, rah, Ord! Come on now, get a little pep into it!" Yowzah! Ord high's three cheerleaders, Wilma Kriska, Harold Mella and Mary Beranek, are in action and it those yells don't inspire the team—they're just plain dear. Wilma and Harold are "old hands" at the task of cheerleading but Mary was taken into the honorary fold just this year, and is she doing good? Just ask any of those four hundred students!

Brockman Team Will Face Toughest Test Against Tuning Men

"All set for Arcadia!" Brockman's Ord high gridgers as they polished up their offensive and defensive machinery in hard daily workouts this week. The Husky-Chanticleer battle is the "big" game of the week and many fans from over the entire Loup Valley are expected to attend. The game will be a combination Loup Valley-Mid Six conference contest to be played under the lights at Bussell park Friday night, with the kick-off scheduled for eight o'clock.

"Tough" Game Foreseen.
This game will undoubtedly be one of the hardest games of the year for Coach Brockman's crew, if the Red and White manage to survive the Arcadia game on the heavy end of the score, they will be in direct line for both the Loup Valley and Mid Six football championships along with "Bullet" Brown's Loup City outfit.

Friday night will see the Chanticleers fighting against a team that is regarded as one of the best in the Loup Valley, standing only one step below Ord in both the Mid Six and Loup Valley conferences. Thus far this season Coach Tuning's Huskies have chalked up wins over Scotia, 13-0; Taylor, 33-0; North Loup, 34-0; Burwell, 26-0; Sargent, 12-0; losing out only once and that the conference-leading Loup City eleven, 6-0. Comparing the scores of several of the games played by both the Ord and Arcadia teams shows that both teams are evenly matched, Arcadia winning over Burwell 26-0; Ord winning 33-6. In eight years of play between these two teams, Ord has taken it on the chin four times from the Arcadia eleven, has held Arcadia to a draw four times; and has won a single game.

Past Arcadia-Ord Scores.

Loup City Given Scare But Wins Out

Ravenna dropped another game last week, but in doing so they gave Coach Bullet Brown's Loup City eleven a scare they won't forget for a long time. Ravenna led the game 7 to 6 right up to the last minute of the game when the Brownies pulled a trick play to score and maintain their lead in the Mid Six conference. Arcadia poured it on Burwell 26 to 0 to score another Loup Valley win. St. Paul won over Shelton 19-13 in a non-conference contest. Scotia lost out by a single point to Wolbach, 14-13; Broken Bow ran over Callaway 14 to 9; North Loup held the Grand Island Reserves to a scoreless draw and Comstock put another one into their win column as they ousted Anselmo 19 to 0.

FOOTBALL SCOREBOARD

Loup City 13, Ravenna 7
Ord 12, Central City 0
Arcadia 26, Burwell 0
Scotia 1, Wolbach 14
Broken Bow 14, Callaway 9
G. I. Res. 0, North Loup 0
Shelton 13, St. Paul 19
Comstock 19, Anselmo 0

Champ in Ping Pong Will Be Determined

At the regular meeting of the Ord Hi-Y last Wednesday evening, the first of four ping pong tournaments got under way. This series of tournaments is open only to Hi-Y members and the winner of the series will be awarded a trophy. In order to be declared winner of the tournament it was decided that "sald winner must win three of the four tournaments." In case two contenders win two individual tournaments each, a play-off championship match consisting of three sets shall be played.

Plans were also laid for the holding of an "all-school" ping pong tournament, open to all high school students and any faculty members who wish to contend. In this tournament to decide the champion ping pong player of Ord high school, both singles and doubles will be played, awards being made for winners of each division.

In the singles section of the "all school" tournament two divisions will be made, no games between boy and girl contestants being allowed, boys playing boys, girls playing girls. Boy and girl combinations however, will be eligible for play in the doubles division of tournament play.

Girls Playing Soccer.
The G. A. A. girls have been conducting a soccer tournament with games being played twice weekly. Two teams are competing in the tournament, the "Hot Shots" captained by Barbara Dale and the "Cornhuskers" captained by Jerrine Burrows. The "Cornhuskers" are leading the way at the present time with a long string of wins over the Hot Shots. Miss Helen Myers announces that the award for the winning team of the tournament will be a party, given by the losers.

SPORT SHORTS

All of the Bi-Six teams try to trim Nebraska. Kansas-U., had their stab at it Saturday, and see where it go'em!

He: "If Davis hadn't lost his head in that last game we'd have won."
She: "Oh, was it that bad I heard it wast just his ear."

The Comstock football team is planning to attend the Nebraska-Kansas State game at Lincoln on Nov. 21. Comstock has two open dates on their schedule, Nov. 13 and 20.

Did that big bonfire feel plenty good at the Ord-C. City game last week? Who was the fellow who shouted out "Hey Williams, don't look now—but your pants are on fire!" And did you see that referee with no hat or coat on?

Jack Scott Stole New Chevrolet In St. Louis, Drove It to Arcadia

17-Year-Old Boy Finally Caught at No. Loup
After Long Chase.

When Jack Scott, 17, son of Walter Scott of St. Louis, arrived at the home of his uncle George Scott in Arcadia last Wednesday, he was driving a new Chevrolet. He claimed that the car had been loaned him by his father. However, his uncle had received a telegram from the young man's father to the effect that the car had been stolen, and asking that they hold him until he could arrive. The boy was not informed of the fact that they knew of the stolen car, but George mentioned the fact that Walter was coming, which of course put Jack on his guard. The uncle kept close watch on the young man most of the time, but Thursday when Clyde Baird arrived with his gasoline truck, they went down into the basement for a few minutes. This gave Jack a chance to make a getaway, which he at once proceeded to take.

George followed the car for a short distance, but was soon left behind, whereupon he called Sheriff George Round, who suggested that the lad would probably head for Loup City. Then he called the sheriff of Sherman county, who kept a close watch. Meanwhile George got into his car and headed for Loup City. A short distance down the road he came upon the car turned over in the ditch, and the boy gone. He decided that some one had found him hurt and had taken him on to Loup City, so he drove down there, only to learn that the sheriff had seen no signs of him. He at once returned and found the car gone.

What had happened was that the boy, who is a cripple and uses crutches, had gone to a farm house and phoned to Arcadia for a wrecker to come out. As soon as the car was put back in the road it was ready to run, and Jack had then taken the road in the direction of Ord. The uncle came on through to Ord, where no trace of him could be found. They then went on to North Loup where they found the car standing in a garage, with Jack at the wheel. When he saw his uncle he at once drove out, hoping to escape, but George jumped upon the running board and hung on all the way to the corner east of Olean, with the car going at terrific speed. At this place George grew desperate, smashed the glass in the car window with his fist and compelled the boy to stop the car.

Sheriff Round arrived about this time and after consultation it was decided to keep the boy at his uncle's home pending the arrival of his father. Mr. Scott went to Grand Island and brought his brother to Arcadia, and they decided to take the young man back to his home in St. Louis. From Arcadia they went to Knox county to visit the Clayton R. Ward family. Mr. Ward is a brother-in-law to the Scotts.

PERSONALS

—Mrs. Wendell Hather was in Grand Island Friday.

—Miss Ada Rowbal was in Grand Island over Sunday.

—A. W. Tunncliff left Tuesday morning for Chicago. He expects to return in about ten days.

—The Town Talk cafe installed a new refrigerator box Monday, Chris Mikkelsen doing the work.

—Rev. and Mrs. Earl Cummings are visiting at the Joe Rowbal home. She was formerly Dorothy Rowbal.

—Luella Walbrecht went to Grand Island Monday afternoon. There she will visit her aunt, Mrs. James Michelson for a week.

—Mrs. P. J. Gerdes of near Burwell was a bus passenger Monday for York, where she will spend a week visiting.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Sanders and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jefferies of Burwell were in Ord on a business mission Monday.

—Mrs. W. L. McMullen, sr., and Mrs. McMullen, jr., came down from Burwell Sunday to spend the day with the A. W. Tunncliffs.

—Bert Hughes, father of Paul Hughes, visited his son and family from Thursday until Tuesday when he returned to his home at Clarinda, Ia.

—The glass above the large windows in the C. A. Hager Co., building was taken out and new glass installed. Some of this glass was broken several years ago by an explosion inside the building, and this had begun to fall out. Frank Glover and Andrew Nielsen did the work.

—Max Stepp of Wolbach is the new meat cutter at the Prochaska meat market at 1510 L street. He will move his family to Ord later as soon as suitable arrangements can be made. Mrs. Stepp is a trained nurse, and she is taking care of Mr. Stepp's father, who is in very poor health.

—Kenneth Timmerman went out to Los Angeles, Calif., on August 17, returned home yesterday, having made the trip all the way with Charles Jefferies. He had work most of the time while there, and likes the country. He believes that business conditions there are much better than here, but the present is a poor time to make the trip, because of bad weather in the mountains.

Guinea Pigs Serving Noble Purpose, Show Effect of Narcotics on Humans

Aren't they cute These two guinea pigs, namely—Sambo and Lily, are getting to be pretty popular with the high school students—especially when Sambo nips one of Lily's ears! Photo by Laverne Duemey.

By Laverne Lakin.

"Oh, Miss Meyers, where'd you get these cute puppies!" exclaims one of the girl visitors to the high school biology department. "Goodness sakes, girl, those aren't puppies—they're guinea pigs. Ever hear of them?" answers Miss Helen Meyers, the high school biology instructor, and then she goes on to explain why, how, and where she secured the small black and white "pigs".

Lily and Sambo were bought and placed in the biological department of Ord high school for a noble as well as interesting purpose—to prove to biology students the effect of narcotics upon the human body.

Lily and Sambo are kept in two separate pens in order to work out the experiment. Each guinea pig receives every day exactly the same rations as the other, one tablespoon of oats, two small cabbage leaves, and once in a while for a change, a small portion of alfalfa. Each day Lily and Sambo receive a small jar of water, but the water served to the tiny rodents is not the same. Lily, the white pig, receives plain, pure drinking water while Sambo, the black pig, is served water which contain a small percentage of alcohol.

During the first two weeks of the experiment, Sambo gradually lost weight while Lily gained

Co. Board Met Tuesday.
The county board met in a one day session Tuesday. Among other matters taken up was the contract with Fred Ulrich for the production of 9,000 yards of gravel at 30c per yard, same to be used in graveling primary county roads starting out of the towns in the county. This contract was approved. The board also established as a county road one mile along the north side of section 1, Twp. 18, Range 16, in Liberty township, and at the same time voted to abandon the present county road which runs south one half mile from the Manderson school, and one mile west. A resolution was adopted that all federal and state offices in the courthouse be locked at 6:00 p. m., and all activities cease. Also that all master keys be surrendered to the clerk's office. Further, that the relief office remain open Saturday afternoon for the convenience of relief recipients.

Business Men O. K. Student Workers

"What do Ord business men think of the educational plan now being tried out in this city?" That was the question asked of a number of Ord business men this week by a Quiz reporter.

Here is what business men think of the new plan:

"Educational! Not only to the high school students but to the clerks in the stores as well. We enjoy having the students in, and hope they enjoy it too."—Dwight Keyes, Golden Rule.

"I think it is a wonderful idea."—Ed Beranek, Beranek Drug Store

"I think if we had those seniors with us for a while they might tell us something we do not know."—Frank Kapustka, Standard Oil Co.

"This plan is just O. K."—Harold Finch, J. C. Penney Co.

"The plan has given the business men a chance to see what our high school students can do, and has given the students a chance to see some of the real things connected with business, they would not see otherwise. It has been a medium of securing for the store good extra help, which otherwise would have been undiscovered."—Tom Springer.

"This educational plan in Ord is a success and the reason for that is that it gives the students a chance to meet the public from a business viewpoint."—Joe Puncchar, Food Center.

"I think the plan is O. K. and enjoy having clerks that are willing to learn what they can about our business. The student we have is agreeable and willing to learn."—Carl Sorensen, Sorensen Drug Store.

North Loup News

Mrs. Dale Halverson came up from Lincoln on the bus Friday evening and is spending this week with her mother, Mrs. Grace Rood.

Mrs. Jennie Bee came down from Ord Saturday to attend church. She was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins.

Project leaders from four clubs met with Miss Grace Lee at the home of Mrs. Floyd Hutchins on Thursday. Mrs. Clyde Baker, the county chairman, Miss Selma Robbins, group chairman and Mrs. George Gowen were guests. The lesson on patterns was most interesting and is to be given at the next regular meeting of the various clubs.

The Twentieth Century club will meet on Friday at the home of Mrs. Floyd Hutchins.

Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Robbins and Mrs. Harriet Clement were visitors in Loup City last Thursday.

Mrs. Emma Greene and daughter Leo came from Poole to spend the week end in North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner of Ord and the Acker family of Horace were Sunday guests of the Don Horners.

Paul Van Kleec, who has been employed in Lexington has returned and is making some repairs on his farm. He is staying with the Lloyd Manchesters.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. William Horner on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mitchell of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Eglehoff and son Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Manchester and daughter Connie.

Jean Sample went to Omaha on Monday to finish her training in cosmetology. She came home at the time of her mother's illness some weeks ago.

Mrs. Harriet Clement was a dinner guest of Mrs. Grace Rood and Margaret Saturday.

Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hill and son and Mrs. Eva Hill arrived in North Loup Wednesday from Farina, Ill., where Rev. Hill has been pastor of the S. D. B. church for several years.

At the morning services last Sabbath Rev. Hill was installed as pastor of the North Loup Seventh Day Baptist church. Mrs. Hill was also accepted as a church member. Rev. W. H. Stephens of the M. E. church and Rev. C. E. Nichols of the Evangelical church assisted with the service, each bringing a welcome from his own church to the new pastor.

A church social and supper to welcome Rev. Hill and family was given at the church Sunday evening. A large crowd attended and enjoyed the evening together. Following the supper toasts were given by members of the various organizations of the church. Music was furnished by the orchestra under the director of Chas. Barber. A solo by Marlam Maxson, a vocal trio by Ida Babcock, Mary Babcock and Jeanne Barber and a reading by Florence Hamer were greatly enjoyed by all present. As the last of the toasts Rev. Hill responded to the welcomes given to him from the church and Sabbath school. At the close of the program Kenneth Barber had charge of some games.

Mrs. Eva Hill is staying for the present with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Barber.

Mrs. Jessie S. Babcock and her Sabbath school class of girls were hostesses Sunday afternoon in the church basement at a miscellaneous shower for Beth Williams who is soon to become the bride of Cecil Severance. A mock wedding furnished entertainment for the more than forty guests. Florence Hamer took the part of the bride with Lillian Babcock as the groom. Bridesmaid and best man were Luella Van Horn and Iris Barber respectively. The part of the minister was taken by Dorothy Eyerly. At the close of the ceremony slips, on which were written names of articles to be found in the week's laundry were passed out to the guests. Then the old washer woman and her little girl (Myra Barber and Belva Babcock) came in with a large tub filled with gifts for the prospective bride. As these were handed to her they were named and the guest, on whose slip the name of the article appeared, gave directions for laundering it. Each guest then presented Beth with her own favorite recipe. Refreshments of parkerhouse rolls with meat filling and white cake with pink whipped cream were served. The basement was also decorated in pink and white.

Mary Ann Bartz moved to Ord Sunday and is sharing light house-keeping rooms with Christine Kozial of Burwell. Both girls are employed in Mr. Dunmire's office.

Mr. R. P. McCune attended the livestock sale at Atkinson Tuesday.

The Community club held a supper and business meeting Monday night at the I. O. O. F. hall. About thirty were in attendance. Several matters of business were discussed. Plans were made for the annual supper for the football team, also for street decorations at the Christmas season. It was also decided to entertain the members' wives at their next meeting, November 30.

Mrs. Harry Gillespie and Miss Viola Everett were supper guests of Mrs. Wm. Vodehnal Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Willoughby drove to Grand Island Sunday after their daughter, Thelma, who has been taking a course in cosmetology. Miss Willoughby has completed her course and expects to stay with her parents until she takes her state board examination in January.

Beulah Willoughby and Phyllis for 3 1/2 months returned home Monday evening. They have been employed picking fruit.

Archie Lee who is also employed in Marsing, Ida., was married to Miss Muriel Post, Oct. 31. Mrs. Lee was formerly a Kansas girl. The young couple expect to come to North Loup soon and start farming here in the spring.

The American Legion and Auxiliary held a special Armistice Day supper at the Legion hall Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Hugh Adams left Tuesday for Long Beach, Calif. She is accompanying her mother who lives at Ulisses and they expect to remain in California until March 1. A sister of Mr. Adams will keep house for him while his wife is gone.

An entertainment for the purpose of raising funds for the community building will be held in the Frank Johnson store building Dec. 3. There will be an antique exhibit as well as quilts and hand made rugs. A jitney supper will also be served.

Charles R. Grow Rites at Loup City

Charles R. Grow, former Loup City resident, was killed two weeks ago in Oklahoma City when struck by an automobile. Funeral services were held at Loup City Thursday. Charles R. Grow was born on a farm four miles south of Loup City, June 5, 1884. He was the son of D. C. and Hattie Grow. When a small child he moved with his parents to Loup City, where he grew to manhood. He received his education in the Loup City schools, and learned the barber trade at the E. L. Patton barber shop. He went to Oklahoma in 1911, where he has since made his home. In October 1913 he married Alma Brower and to this union one daughter, Eva was born.

Surviving are his wife and daughter, three brothers, D. D., F. A., and J. C., all of Loup City; three sisters, Mrs. W. P. Reed of Loup City, Mrs. W. R. Waite of Ord, and Mrs. Max Jeffords, of Wenatchee, Wash. Other relatives were a niece, Mrs. Vaughn Gensler and baby, of Montrose, Colo., Lloyd Grow, Laramie, Wyo., Mr. and Mrs. Ora Tockey Broken Bow, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reed and daughter, Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Waite and son, Arcadia. Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Waite and daughters Lucy and Alice, of Ord, attended the services.

Irrigation Ditch Being Dug Below Ord As Part of North Loup Project Filled With Seepage Water

No, the waters of the North Loup river haven't been turned into the irrigation ditch being built below Ord but the ditch is filled with water just the same. So low is the land through which the ditch is being dug that seepage water from the river fills it. The ditch is eight feet wide and five feet deep. This picture by the Quiz photographer, H. E. Jones, was taken from the south, looking northward. The big dragline with which the ditch is being dug can be seen in the background. A surveyor is constantly on the job with his transit to see that the ditch is dug on the proper levels.

Germany, Sweden, Contributed Most To Nebraska's 'Foreign' Population

Lincoln, Neb.—Germany has contributed the largest proportion of foreign stock in Nebraska shows a report by Dr. James M. Reinhardt of the sociology department at the University of Nebraska. This group approximates 35 per cent of the 479,853 persons included in this classification as based upon the 1930 census figures. His figures also reveal that Nebraska in that year had a total population of 1,377,963, and of this number only 24,361 were non-whites.

Dr. Reinhardt's survey is interesting because it reveals the tendencies of the different groups either to congregate by themselves or to scatter widely over the state.

The shifts from farming communities to the cities have been greatest among the native stocks followed by native born of foreign or mixed parentage and least among the foreign-born," he says. "About 20 per cent of the foreign-born Germans in Nebraska outside of Omaha and Lincoln are found in Dodge, Gage, Hall and Madison counties, yet less than one-tenth of the children of foreign-born German parentage outside these two cities live in these four counties.

"The Swedish people are also widely distributed. They have settled heavily in Burt, Phelps Saunders and Knox counties, while a good many are scattered over Cedar, Dodge, Hamilton, Howard, Kearney, Nuckolls and Washington counties. Norwegian settlements are strongest in Boone and Madison, though first generation Norwegian children live in Cedar and Dixon counties.

"The University sociologist's figures show that strong Polish communities are found in Howard, Nance, Platte and Valley counties, while the Russian people live largely in Adams, Clay, Hitchcock, Morrill and Scotts Bluff counties.

Burwell Firemen Have New Truck

After getting along with their old home made model T fire truck for a dozen years or more, the patience of the Burwell fire fighters has been rewarded. They are now the proud possessors of the very latest thing in fire fighting equipment for the small town. This truck arrived Thursday evening, Nov. 5. It is equipped with a large booster pump, having a pumping capacity of 700 gallons per minute. It has five lights, one of which is a powerful search light which can be turned in any direction. This new equipment is mounted upon a new Chevrolet truck with dual wheels on the rear. Several of the Burwell firemen have been out around town taking the corners at about thirty miles per hour. The Burwell fire fighters are justly entitled to new equipment, when their record in the recent past is taken into consideration. The last serious fire occurred Aug. 5, 1935, when the big barn on the J. E. Cram place just south of town was burned to the ground. It is worthy of note that this fire was outside the village limits of Burwell. There have been two or three calls since that time, but there was no loss in any case. Fifteen months without a fire loss is a record for any fire department to feel proud of.

—W. F. Manasil, Burwell attorney, was in Ord on important business Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. Manasil accompanying him.

Christian Science Services. "Mortals and Immortals" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, November 15.

The Golden Text is from Romans 8:13, 16: "If ye live after the flesh ye shall die; but if ye through the Spirit do mortify the deeds of the body, ye shall live." The Spirit itself beareth witness with our spirit, that we are the children of God.

A passage from the Bible used in the lesson-sermon is from I Corinthians 15:48: "As is the earthly, such are they also that are heavenly; such are they also that are heavenly."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Mortals are the counterparts of immortals. . . . In divine Science, God and the real man are inseparable as divine Principle and idea." (page 476).

Methodist Church. Sunday school at ten, morning worship at 11. New members are being added to our school at about every meeting.

The officers of the Epworth League were formally installed at the morning worship service last Sunday. The young men of the League ushered and received the offering.

Enthusiastic plans were made by the teachers and membership committees for enlarging our membership during this Silver Anniversary year. Generous programs were made by all classes from the children to the adults.

The passing of Mrs. Susie Barnes took from our church a member whose name had been on the roll more than 50 years. Her name appears on the oldest record book of the church, having united by letter January 17, 1886. Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

United Brethren.

"Seek ye the Lord while He may be found. Call ye upon Him while He is near." Intense interest on the part of many is evidenced as we sit together under the ministry of Rev. Mr. Stark of Lincoln as he opens up the Word of God each afternoon at 2 o'clock and sounds forth the Gospel message of salvation and victory in Christ.

Miss Rosa Anderson of Dannebrog came Monday to attend the Moody conference and remained for the week of special meetings. Miss Anderson is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute and is giving of her talented life in the ministry of music and song.

The Sunday services are: Sunday school at 10 o'clock. Mr. Stark will speak at three services Sunday, 10:30, 2:30 and 7:30. This will be the closing day of the meetings.

Miss Anderson will speak to the young people at the Christian Endeavor hour. The young people of the other churches are invited to meet with us.

Woodman Hall

Not to disappoint any candidate running for office Geranium voters distributed their choice on the ballots last Tuesday. Even Lemke received one vote.

Eureka's polling place, which was previously held at the school house was changed this year to the Jungman hall.

Thomas Waldmann left last Wednesday for Omaha to consult an eye specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Ysetecka and family from near Sargent were visitors at the Louis Volt home last Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Klapp and daughter, Minnie were Sargent visitors last Tuesday.

Ernest Pliva, Charles Vselecka and Paul Waldmann drove to the Calamus river last Thursday morning to try their luck at duck hunting. They report more hunters than ducks in that territory. But as a proof of their effort they did bring home a duck on their return Friday evening.

Mrs. Mary Kriz of Sargent passed away at her home last Wednesday. The funeral was held from the National hall Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment in the National cemetery.

Visitors at the Ed Waldmann home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Will Waldmann and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph John and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waldmann and son Larry.

As a result of last Tuesday's election the successful Geranium township officers are as follows: Will Waldmann, clerk; Vence Bruba, Jr., treasurer; Albert Ptacnik, justice of peace; Joe Holoun, assessor; Louis Volt, road overseer of our road district; and Joe Suchy, supervisor to succeed Henry Desmuel.

Mrs. Frank Sestak and her mother, Mrs. Frank Kamarad were business callers in Ord Monday.

Mrs. Joe Kamarad spent Monday with her mother, Mrs. Joe Waldmann.

They Caught the Coyotes

Joe Toryan, jr., Emil and Ed Toryan and Frank J. Kovaril, who live over west of Jungman hall, were in Ord Wednesday with two fine coyotes their dogs had caught in the hills south of Ord. The boys have a fine bunch of hounds, who understand the tricks of coyote hunting, and who seldom fail to get their quarry when they once get on its trail. The boys have hunted several times in the hills to the south of town, and have caught eight coyotes in all. This is one of the last hideouts and one from which it has been hard to dislodge them.

In Judge Andersen's Court.

In county Judge John L. Andersen's court Nov. 7, Ross Blessing made a plea of guilty to a charge of assault and battery and paid a fine of $5.00 and costs, amounting to $11.00 in all. At the same time Mervin Smith of Loup City made a plea of guilty to a like charge and paid $11.00 fine and costs. The difficulty occurred at a dance the night before. On Monday, Nov. 9, Tom Kapustka was found guilty on an intoxication charge and drew a fine of $10.00 and costs, or a total of $18.00. All these were paid.

Parks, November 6.

The 1936 Red Cross Poster

THIS year's American Red Cross poster emphasizes the theme that the Red Cross is "of, by and for the people." Four million men and women are members of the Red Cross and through their membership dues they support its activities. Only in time of major disaster when needs for relief reach great proportions does the Red Cross ask the public for disaster relief funds. The membership funds represent the financial support of the Red Cross, and in turn this money is used to carry the Red Cross work of mercy to distressed citizens. Membership is open to all, without regard to race, color or creed, and the Red Cross services are given to all, without restriction. The annual Roll Call for members is held Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11-28. The poster for 1936 is by Walter W. Seaton, noted illustrator and painter of movie and radio stars.

Revival Meetings To Close Nov. 15

DR. WM. OESCHGER. Special meetings are being conducted this week at the Mira Valley Evangelical church by Dr. Oeschger, who is a most interesting speaker and brings messages direct to the hearts of his hearers. Next Sunday will be Fellowship Sunday, when each family is invited to bring a basket dinner and eat the noon meal together. Services began Nov. 5 and will close Nov. 15. Dr. Oeschger's topic tonight is "Repentance Unto Life." Friday evening he speaks on "The Great Acknowledgment." Sunday his subject is "The Poverty of Jesus. Our Riches." Sunday afternoon a praise service will be held and Sunday evening he speaks on "The Perils of Neglect." All evening programs start at 8:00. The public is cordially invited.

Election Sets a New Record With 43,000,000 Votes Cast

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, elected to a second term by a greater plurality than any candidate has ever enjoyed in the past, finds himself now with perhaps more power than has ever before been trusted to any man in the world. He polled some 25,500,000 popular votes, to set a new all-time record. Gov. Alf M. Landon of Kansas, his Republican opponent, was a bit shy of 16,000,000, while William Lemke, the Union party candidate, polled about three-fourths of a million.

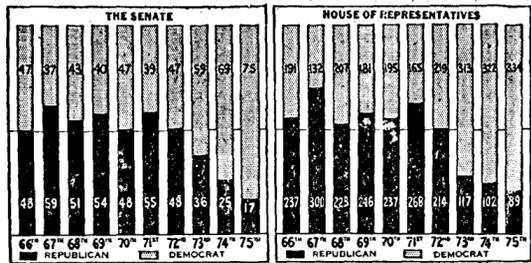

These results were based upon 107,309 districts reported out of the 122,722 in the United States. It was estimated that the total vote, with all districts reported, would approximate 43,000,000, also a new all-time record.

The American people, providing the incumbent Democratic candidate with 523 votes in the electoral college to 8 for Governor Landon, also voiced their approval of the New Deal by materially increasing the Democratic majority in both houses of congress.

The senate in the Seventy-fifth congress will find the Democrats with 75 of the 96 seats, outnumbering the opposition more than 4 to 1. The house of representatives, where the Republicans had hoped to recover as much as 125 seats, will see the Democrats even stronger than before, holding 334 seats against 89 for the G. O. P.

Party Line-Ups in 10 Congresses

This chart shows how Republicans and Democrats will share seats in both houses of seventy-fifth congress, as compared with nine preceding congresses.

Here's How Parties Line Up in Congress

With smashing Democratic victories all down the line, this is the way the houses of the Seventy-fifth congress will line up, as compared with the Seventy-fourth congress. The next house of representatives:

Democrats	334
Republicans	89
Progressives	7
Farmer-Laborites	5

Total ..... 435

The last house of representatives lined up as follows:

Democrats	321
Republicans	104
Progressives	7
Farmer-Laborites	3

Total ..... 435

The senate of the Seventy-fifth congress will find the seats distributed this way:

Democrats	75
Republicans	17
Progressives	1
Independent	1
Farmer-Labor	2

Total ..... 96

The party alignment in the old senate was:

Democrats	70
Republicans	23
Farmer-Labor	2
Progressives	1

Total Voted Grows

The total vote in the 1936 election surpassed that of four years before by more than 3,000,000.

Reminiscences of Early Days

By W. A. ANDERSON

come over tomorrow. He came, and with Mr. B— we raised the rod up on end and let it down the well. We fastened it to the end of the rope by the loop. I put a cross stick in the loop and was lowered into the well bottom some hundred and twenty feet below.

It was not a pleasant situation but as it was my own plan it was the only way I could know if there was water somewhere under one hundred fifty feet. When the auger rested on bottom of the well I detached the rod from the rope and by use of a short stick in the loop the rod began experimental work. You see I had to sit on the cross stick and by putting a short stick through the loop at upper end of rod I could turn the auger and thus proceed to sink it down perhaps six inches or a foot before raising the rod each time. When the rod was raised up I was lowered to the bottom of the well and I found the dirt from the auger bit almost wet. Again I was raised up on the rope and again I let down the auger. This time the auger turned very easy and as I was raised up again and the auger came out of the ground I saw the hole made by the auger. I gave a yell of delight and called the boys to let me down to bottom which they did and they could also see the water like a spot of silver shining at the bottom. I can imagine how one boring for oil feels after working for days and weeks in sinking the drill and suddenly the oil is struck. I don't think any oilman was more overjoyed than I was when I could see actual water and I could still stay on my claim. That was one of the great days of my life.

The next day I went to Ord and took back what I might call my driving rod to Mr. Weaver. I offered to pay for use of same which he refused as no damage had been done to them and he was glad to have them apart and cut off the auger and put them in perfect shape as when I received them. I had a little money left over from what myself and wife had earned in harvest and as I came home stopped at the saw mill that was then where the Cedar Lawn now is. The saw mill was then managed by Burney Wear. From him I bought enough cottonwood twelve inch boards to finish curbing the well where necessary. I had found by the auger test that there would be only one more streak or strata of sand that would need to be curbed and that two hundred feet of lumber would be sufficient which proved to be the case. This lumber cost me thirty dollars per thousand and took pretty much of my harvest money I had left.

Then also there was some lumber needed to make a curb around the top of the well and new rope and wheel to finish the well so it could be ready for use.

I obtained help from neighbors living west of us and the well was completed on Sept. 5th, 1879. This was the third anniversary of our wedding and my wife and I declared a holiday as it was one of the great days of our life.

But winter was coming on, endless amount of work in preparing for its coming. In building my permanent stable I was looking for protection from the wind and so built it on the south slope of a canyon and it was a nice sunny place and well protected from the wind, but later on I was to find it had disadvantages also. With my neighbor B—'s house completed and my stable finished we were pretty well fixed for the coming winter. I built a log crib for my corn and estimated I had around one hundred and fifty bushels from my crop on the sod I had broken. We also had raised a lot of squash and wagon loads of melons in spite of the damage done them by jackrabbits and wandering deer which seemed to have a habit of taking a bite or two out of each melon as they passed through the patch.

We also had a nice lot of potatoes grown under the sod but not enough to last over winter. We had most everything pecked except meat and lard for cooking. I was out one evening after my Jennie mare and came across a badger. It did not take me long to get off and kill him with the butt of my whip. I threw him across in front of my saddle and balanced him by holding him by the tail. As I rode along driving the cows I happened to glance down at the badger who it seems had some to life and was at every move of the horse trying to fasten his teeth in my leg.

Of course I knew what a circus we would have should he get his teeth in me and I let him drop instantly and got off and killed him pretty dead. When I got home we looked the badger over and when I skinned him I found a roll of fat around the entire body more than a half inch thick. My wife said why not use that fat in place of butter for cooking and mix with the venison tallow which was about all we had except butter for shortening. This mixture proved to be as good as lard. This fat which I took from the badger was what he would have lived on during his winter hibernating.

Coyotes, skunks and civet cats were pests as we began raising chickens and turkeys. My aunt at Scotia had given us a few turkey eggs and we got four turkeys from the hatch. But some way both the turkeys and chickens disappeared quite frequently. So I got a shepherd dog which helped quite a lot and also was company for my wife when I was away. I never allowed the dog to go to town or leave the place. Often the dog would make a sudden move and be chasing a coyote we had not seen.

I was out for a load of hay one day in the fall and my wife went along also. We got our load and as always had the gun along on the load. As we came over the hill in sight of the house I noticed a flock of Canadian geese on a small patch of rye not far from the house. I changed the direction of the team so we would pass by them about fifty yards away.

When nearing them I gave the lines to my wife and made ready to shoot. When we had got almost past I had my wife turn sharply as though going around them and that brought us in easy range of them. Just as they rose to fly I fired and got two of them and as the flock rose I got another. We had roast goose and so did our neighbor B— and family. They were fine and fat after their summer in the far north. The elk I had gotten in the early spring made us meat for quite a while as we dried and smoked it by hanging it around the stove pipe.

And now I will tell of the first deer. We had seen them often but always too far off to shoot with any chance of success. One day late in May after I had decided we must have some meat I thought to try my luck. But up to this time I had only my 30-30 rifle, a muzzle loader, and the old double barreled shot gun that my father had sent me from Iowa. So far only jackrabbits and such small game were our meat supply, except the elk.

The corn was planted and coming on fine and we had a nice garden started on the sod. I had been very busy so far in getting our sod house in condition so we could be fairly comfortable and breaking sod so we would have a crop. We saw deer quite often as we went for water but not within range of my rifle. There was a state militia company on the valley that had been organized as a defense in case of an Indian raid on the settlement.

J. F. Chubbuck was captain and as we were in as great danger as anyone in case of a raid, I and neighbor B— took a day off and were sworn in the state militia and received our needle guns and bought some cartridges as supply by the state had already been exhausted. The guns were very much superior to our shot guns and my small rifle, and could be depended upon for long distance shooting up to a thousand yards or even farther if one could guess the elevation. As we were in very much need of some meat I decided to try for a deer or possibly elk or antelope.

This time I decided to try hunting on horseback and so saddled up my mare and started out to the west among the rough broken hills to see what I could find. It was afternoon and about 4 o'clock and I rode along the high ridge tops and could look down into the valleys and canyons between the hills and not was there any game in sight. At this time of the year the deer were shedding their winter coat of grey and were now assuming a reddish color and one could see them quite a long distance when the sun shone on them. After riding about 3 miles I came over the top of a ridge and not a half mile away I could see the red back of a deer feeding on the tops of the nettles as it walked up the deeper part of the canyon. As the wind was blowing from where I was toward it I had to work around about a mile to get to the windward and in so doing was out of sight of the animal unless disturbed, about where it would be. I rode my mare around and picked her only within about 300 yards of where I knew the deer must be feeding. Slowly and cautiously I walked forward to the ridge behind which I knew the deer was. It had not moved up the ravine quite as fast as I had anticipated and I lay behind the ridge and could see every motion it made as it came nearer to me. Finally when opposite where I was concealed I took deliberate aim and fired. The deer dropped in its tracks as I had held just behind the shoulder and at that distance of perhaps 60 yards, could hardly have missed it. I at once ran toward where it lay and in doing so nearly ran over another deer that was laying in the nettles. It got up in a hurry and another one a little farther away got up and ran also. However I was not interested in them but in the one I had shot. I went and got my mare where she was picketed and tried to get her near enough to throw the deer across her back but she would not come near and we danced around quite a while but she always evaded me when I tried to throw it across and finally I had to give up that plan of getting that deer to our sod house.

Finally I decided on another plan. I took my picket rope which I always had with me and fastened it to the deer and attached it to the tail of my mare. I got on and we started for home some 3 miles away. After going a quarter of a mile I looked back to see if all were coming well and just then on a knoll of higher ground the deer turned over and I noticed that the hair was worn off the hide by the old grass stubs of the previous year. At that rate of wear my deer would about all be worn away by the time home was reached. So I stopped and dismounted and tried a new plan.

I picketed my mare and dragged the deer up beside a gully in the canyon. I stuck my needle gun muzzle in the ground deep enough so it would stand up with butt in the air. I then led the mare along the canyon up to where the deer lay, she being below the bank where the deer was laying. I then took off my blouse and put over her head and threw the deer on in front of the saddle. In a moment I was in the saddle with one hand on the bridle rein and the other balancing the deer as at once she began kicking and rearing to dislodge the deer and myself. For several minutes there was quite a circus but I got her out of the deeper place and gave her a chance to throw us off but finally she decided it was no use and became quiet. I then rode to where my needle gun was stuck in the ground and we headed for home with the deer on in front of the saddle.

Occasionally when the legs of the deer would swing around and strike her in the flank she would stop and kick and try her best to dislodge her load and I had to be careful to go down the hills at an angle so the deer would not slip too far ahead. We got home and both I and the mare were pretty well tired out but after that trip I had very little trouble in bringing home any game I might get. This deer was killed on land now owned (1936) by Hans Clement and on Sec. 12-20-13. I divided the deer among my neighbors and we dried some of it and smoked it for winter use.

The winter of 1879-80 was very mild and few storms and only a little snow, barely enough at any time to be able to track a deer. The winter was spent mostly in getting firewood. The oak canyons were alive every day with people from Greeley county after wood and the supply was soon gone and later on even the stumps were grubbed out and used for fuel. To make my wood last longer I had a stove made in which to burn cornstalks.

Going to Mr. Weaver at Ord, I told him what I wanted and he made, out of sheet iron, a box 2 ft. 18 inches high and 3 1/2 feet long.

One end was closed and the other end was hinged so the entire end could be opened with the door. To be continued.)

The Ord Quiz

They Caught the Coyotes

Joe Toryan, jr., Emil and Ed Toryan and Frank J. Kovaril, who live over west of Jungman hall, were in Ord Wednesday with two fine bunch of hounds, who understand the tricks of coyote hunting, and who seldom fail to get their quarry when they once get on its trail. The boys have hunted several times in the hills to the south of town, and have caught eight coyotes in all. This is one of the last hideouts and one from which it has been hard to dislodge them.

The 1936 Red Cross Poster

THIS year's American Red Cross poster emphasizes the theme that the Red Cross is "of, by and for the people."
Four million men and women are members of the Red Cross and through their membership dues they support its activities. Only in time of major disaster when needs for relief reach great proportions does the Red Cross ask the public for disaster relief funds. The membership funds represent the financial support of the Red Cross, and in turn this money is used to carry the Red Cross work of mercy to distressed citizens. Membership is open to all, without regard to race, color or creed, and the Red Cross services are given to all, without restriction.
The annual Roll Call for members is held Armistice Day to Thanksgiving Day, November 11-26.
The poster for 1936 is by Walter W. Seaton, noted illustrator and painter of movie and radio stars.

Revival Meetings To Close Nov. 15

Special meetings are being conducted this week at the Mira Valley Evangelical church by Dr. Oeschger, who is a most interesting speaker and brings messages direct to the hearts of his hearers. Next Sunday will be Fellowship Sunday, when each family is invited to bring a basket dinner and at the noon meal together. Services began Nov. 5 and will close Nov. 15.
Dr. Oeschger's topic tonight is "Repentance Unto Life." Friday evening he speaks on "The Great Acknowledgment." Sunday his subject is "The Poverty of Jesus. Our Riches." Sunday afternoon a praise service will be held and Sunday evening he speaks on "The Perils of Neglect."
All evening programs start at 8:00. The public is cordially invited.

Stroke Suffered Nov. 3 Fatal To Aged Ord Woman

Mrs. James Vanskike Laid To Rest in Ord Cemetery at 3:00 Yesterday.

Mrs. James Vanskike, Nettie Tolbert, was born in Bath, Steuben county, New York, October 3, 1860. In 1879 she came to Nebraska to make her home, and on June 12, 1882 she was united in marriage to James M. Vanskike. To this union four children were born, of whom one, Mrs. E. T. Weekes of Beatrice, Nebr., is living. Mrs. Vanskike passed away on Monday, November 16, in Ord at the age of 76 years, 1 month and 13 days.

The Vanskikes spent the early years of their married life just east of Scotia in a settlement called Lamartine. In the early days a Methodist church was built there, and they attended church in that place until they moved to North Loup many years later. The family went through the vicissitudes of frontier life, and while there are but few remaining who were there in the early days, the Vanskikes are kindly remembered by them for their many acts of kindness.

After living for a time in North Loup, the family moved to Ord some thirty-two or more years ago, and have made this their home ever since.

After coming to Ord Mrs. Vanskike affiliated with the Presbyterian church. She was a woman of quiet disposition, and a great lover of her home, in which she spent nearly all her time. She will be remembered by those who were privileged to become her close acquaintances as a true friend and good neighbor in time of trouble.

About ten years ago she joined the Jolly Sisters club, and was always ready to do her part in the club's affairs.

The funeral was held from the Sowl chapel Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, the pastor of the Presbyterian church, Rev. S. A. Woodruff, Jr., having the services in charge. The pall bearers were Clarence Blessing, W. S. King, Joseph P. Barta, Will Hather, James G. Hastings and Guy Lemasters. Music was furnished by a mixed quartet, Dr. F. L. Blessing, J. R. Stoltz, Mrs. Anthony Koupal and Mrs. J. P. Barta, with Mrs. James Ollis at the piano.

Another pioneer has gone to her reward, and a sincere friend and neighbor will be sadly missed by those who knew her best.

Magician Lenser Was Great Crowd Pleaser

Monday evening at the high school auditorium Maurice Lenser, magician of lux, put on one of the best entertainments seen in Ord for some time. His bag of tricks contained many of the familiar type, but also a large assortment of comparatively new ones, all of which were mystifying, not only to the younger generation, but to their elders as well. While only 26 years of age, Mr. Lenser has reduced the art of honest deception to a science, and can well be classed with the greatest magicians of America. Working without assistants and without the usual dark velvet background so common to tricks of legerdemain, he produced astonishing effects. The performances were accompanied by clever chatter which served to entertain, and at times no doubt distract the crowd's attention from what was really happening. A very large crowd was in attendance. The show was put on under the auspices of the music department.

Ord Woman's Father Called 'Best Citizen'

Dr. A. H. Hostetter, of Douglas, Neb., father of Mrs. Gould B. Flegg of Ord, was greatly honored last week when the Rotary club of Nebraska City designated him as the "man who contributed most to the welfare of the community during the past year." He was presented with a plaque, suitably engraved.

Dr. Hostetter is a pioneer physician at Douglas, which is near Nebraska City. An editorial in the World-Herald Monday was written in commendation of his splendid record of service to Otoe county.

He has often visited his daughter, wife of the mayor of this city, and has many friends in Ord.

84th Birthday on Thanksgiving.
Very few of us live to see an eighty-fourth birthday, but when that birthday falls on Thanksgiving, it certainly is interesting. Mrs. W. A. Anderson will celebrate her 84th natal day next Thursday, on the day designated for being thankful. Mrs. Anderson has much to be thankful for, she believes, in spite of the infirmities that must come with advanced years. Her health is better now than it has been for some time, and she and Mr. Anderson have spent more than 43 happy years together.

Haskell and Clark Were Big Factors in Arcadia Defeat

GERALD CLARK.

HAROLD HASKELL.

These two Chanticleers were big aids in piling a defeat on top of Arcadia in last week's game. Haskell was booting the ball to equal any college player and Clark—that wide awake halfback—was the fellow who snatched the Arcadia pass out of the air to run 40 yards for the decisive touchdown.

H. E. Jones Quits, Goes to Oregon

Howard E. Jones, for the past 1 1/2 years expert printer, photographer and photo-engraver on the Quiz staff, resigned his position and Sunday left for Oregon where he has another job in view. Mrs. Jones and her son, Donald are still here but expect to sell their household goods and join Mr. Jones in Oregon in the near future. Mrs. Jones' father, W. L. Stevens of Callaway, recently purchased land in Oregon and accompanied Mr. Jones on the trip by auto Sunday.

Jones' departure upon such brief notice is proving embarrassing to the Quiz, as he was the only person on the staff familiar with the photo-engraving equipment with which local pictures are made. Until another photo-engraver can be developed or employed this newspaper will have to give up printing pictures but we hope to be able to resume within a week or two. Laverne Duemey, who was studying under Jones, will attempt to carry on the work and perhaps by next week we will have the pictures again.

Believes Demand For Farms Better

Frank Zablouid believes that the demand for good land is growing, as he has had more inquiries for good farms recently than for several years. The following are some of the sales he has closed recently. The Vandecar place of 298 acres near Arcadia was bought by Charles A. Blakeslee of Arcadia for the purchase price being $11,000. The Johnson and Peterson quarter section just west of Ord on the Sargent road was purchased by Wilbur Rogers, the consideration being $12,500. The Dumond eighty southeast of Ord, which has no buildings, went to Frank Pilonowski for $3,600. In all Frank has engineered the sale of seven good farms so far in 1936, which is some record for these strenuous times.

Guy Burrows Manufactured Gun Last Winter; Has 57 Small Parts.

Those Burrows boys, Guy and Jack, have quite a hobby for collecting old guns and similar articles. As is well known Guy is an expert in the repair of all kinds of guns. The large number of weapons to be seen in his shop at the filling station at 1406 L St., is proof that the public knows of this special activity of his, but very few know that Guy has in his possession a revolver, every piece of which he made himself. Last winter, when the snow was piled high in the streets and highways, and when cars were few and far between, Guy had to have something to do to fill in the dull days. He began with a block of steel one by one and one half inches by one foot in size, and when he finally finished he had one of the neatest looking pistols to be seen anywhere. As Jack puts it, this is the only gun of its kind in the world. To look at it one would figure that it was a factory made article, but the absence of any numbers or letters on any of the pieces disproves this. There are 57 pieces in all in the gun, every one of which Guy worked out by hand, the entire job requiring about two months time. When finished the gun not only shoots but with deadly power and accuracy. George Round heard about it and came down to give the new weapon the once over. Since then every state man who comes to town has to take a look. When the state sheriffs had their last meeting, Guy received a special invitation to attend, and to bring his hand made gun with him. While conditions at the time prevented him from going, it is understood that the invitation is a permanent one.

This gun is the prize piece, but not the only unusual one in the Burrows Bros. collection. Jack owns most of the old timers, the oldest of which is a Springfield made in 1837. In the first place this was a flintlock, but later it was rebuilt into a standard muzzle loader. Another gun put out in 1858, one of a type much used during the Civil war, has a place just in front of the lock in which a roll of paper cap material was put, this being intended to feed into the space beneath the hammer as it was needed. However, it was not a great success, and was later given up for the standard cap type of gun. Then there is an early type of Springfield, and a modern Springfield remodeled into a sporting rifle. The boys have a muzzle loading revolver of the Smith and Weston variety, and two Colts, 36 and 45 caliber. There is also a "Peacemaker" 45 caliber. There are a dozen or more shotguns of various types. An added feature in the room is several stuffed and mounted birds, the work of Willis Garner, who has shown some real talent in this line of work. An hour in the Burrows curiosity shop is certainly well spent.

Burlington Motor Derailed, Trucker Killed at Wolbach

Truck Struck Train Early In Morning Wednesday And Driver's Throat Cut.

John Peterson, a truck driver employed by the Farmers Creamery company of Wolbach, was instantly killed about 7:15 a. m. Wednesday when his truck struck the C. B. & Q. motor train that comes to Ord. The accident occurred on the first highway crossing east of Wolbach.

According to the report received by Henry Frey, agent at Ord for the Burlington, Peterson was coming down a hill from the north and struck the rear end of the motor at the crossing.

The motor was derailed, the air tank torn off and the rear wheels damaged. A wrecker was brought up from Aurora to get the motor back on the rails and tow it in for repairs.

Peterson's throat was cut, apparently by flying glass, and he died almost instantly. His truck was completely demolished. Neither train men nor passengers on the motor were hurt.

Ord received no Burlington mail yesterday because of this accident but the freight train from Burwell made its east-bound run at the usual time and west-bound traffic was resumed in the afternoon.

Cummins Sale Tomorrow—Bert and Corwin Cummins' big clean-up sale will be held Friday, Nov. 20 on the farm at Davis Creek and plans for an enormous crowd are being made. The Cummins offering is a big one as they have been farming about 600 acres and have all the equipment necessary to run such a large place. A free lunch will be served during the noon hour.

Farm Credit Men Meet In Ord, May Open Office Here

Four Counties In Proposed District; May Employ New Secretary, Open Office.

F. E. Prentice, with the farm credit administration of Washington, D. C., and M. M. Inhelder of the Federal Land Bank of Omaha were in Ord Monday to attend a meeting of the boards of the farm credit associations of Loup, Garfield, Valley counties and the two associations at Greeley and Spalding in Greeley county. The members of these boards met here for the purpose of forming a district association, a plan that is being generally adopted not only through out the 8th Federal Land Bank district, of which this is a part, but also all over the United States. The idea is to group the associations under one secretary in a central location for greater facility of operation. Under this plan the servicing of all loans will be done out of one office to be located at Ord. The Federal Land Bank of Omaha is to make certain allowances to the five associations and they will jointly hire their secretary-treasurer, rent their office, pay other necessary expenses and use the balance to build up a reserve. This plan is being adopted over the entire district, and about three-fifths of the territory has adopted the plan to date. Those present at the meeting seemed favorably disposed toward the plan, but as one of the associations was not sufficiently represented, no final action can be taken until another meeting is held.

Legion Carnival Was a Success

The Legion carnival and dance held on the evening of Armistice day was a success in every way, according to the report of Commander Cecil Clark, who had charge of the carnival, and Service Officer Alfred Wiegardt, who had charge of the dance. The dance, which was held in the Z. C. B. hall, with music furnished by Warren Ritchie's orchestra, was very enjoyable, there being a total sale of 350 dance tickets. The carnival consisted of a large variety of booths, among which were the gypsy fortune tellers, who in spite of their gaudy garb and face paint could be recognized as Mrs. Long and Mrs. Gregory. Mrs. Wiegardt did a very effective job of bringing in the customers, looking very fetching in her Spanish costume. On the same side of the street the grocery store of Horace Travis and Glenn Johnson did a flourishing business. Next in line were the corn games, presided over most of the time by Spencer Waterman, J. D. McCall and Joe Karty with Dwight Keyes calling off the numbers in a voice that could be heard all over the hall. This game drew more attention than the others, speaking well for the personality of the clerks. Otto Pecena, Harry Wolf, Frank Fafeta and Alpha Banks were kept busy with their wheel of fortune games, which attracted a large number of players. Bob Hall was in charge of the blanket game, while Mrs. Hall was looking after the novelty stand in the adjoining booth. The fish pond, run mainly by Henry Enger and Lotie Clark, had to close early, as the fish lasted only half the evening. In addition to those already mentioned there were a large number of the Legion boys as well as the Auxiliary who contributed to make the affair a success. The boys wish to express their appreciation for the many gifts donated by Ord merchants, as well as the public for their hearty co-operation. As a result the organization realized a tidy sum, which will be used for putting across the district convention on Dec. 16, and also for the relief of local vets in need.

Union Thanksgiving Service.

The ministers of Ord held a special meeting and decided upon a union Thanksgiving service. This will be held at the Presbyterian church Thanksgiving day at 10 A. M. Miss Mamie Young will be the speaker. The meeting will be informal, and all who desire may come. It will be a testimony and praise meeting, and there will be good singing.

Ord's Dollar Day Attracted Crowd

The largest week-day crowd Ord has seen in a long time was attracted to this city Tuesday by the "Dollar Day" advertised by Ord stores and almost every store participating reports an excellent business. The special values for that day were snapped up by eager shoppers and stores also sold much winter wearing apparel. The event was so successful that plans are being made to hold another Dollar Day soon after the first of the year.

Evelyn Sharp Youngest Girl In U.S. To Get License to Pilot Airplanes

Evelyn Sharp, Ord's girl flyer who has been headlining the local and state papers for some time, won the right to pilot any single motored plane and carry passengers, by passing the required tests at Grand Island last Monday, Nov. 9. To meet the requirements for a license she had to have fifty flying hours to her credit and be able to put the plane through a certain number of specified maneuvers in a manner satisfactory to the inspectors. She passed the tests with high honors and from here on is a fully qualified pilot of any single motored plane. In fact this is the best license she can obtain until she reaches the age of twenty years, so all that she can do for the present is to pile up flying hours, which she will undoubtedly do. Miss Sharp was sixteen years old on October 1, and she can justly lay claim to being the youngest girl in the United States to win a pilot's license. At the same time that she won this signal honor another girl pilot, Miss Priscilla Murphy of Brookline, Mass., a girl only about nine weeks older than Miss Sharp, met her death in a crash at Syracuse, N. Y. Miss Murphy had been conceded the honor of being the youngest girl pilot by many of the eastern papers, but news dispatches indicate that she was still a student pilot and had not yet qualified for her pilot's license. Those who saw Miss Sharp qualify at Grand Island say that it was a thrilling sight to see her handle the plane in the required maneuvers, in spite of the fact that there was a stiff wind blowing at the time. Monday evening Miss Sharp was an honored guest of the Ord Rotary club and was introduced by James Misko, who told Rotarians of her achievements.

Anderson, Kokes, Leading Names In Telephone Book

It used to be considered in the old days that the names of Smith, Brown or Jones should lead the field in any community, but according to a survey of the local telephone book, these names are far outdistanced. The leading names, believe it or not, are Anderson and Kokes, which, cancelling duplications, appear twelve times each. The Hansens run a close second with eleven, although there is a chance that some of them should be Hansons. Next in order come the Cooks and the Vodehnals, each with eight. Nelson, Placnik and Lukes each appear seven times. But the Johnsons are only six, and the Smiths five, the Jones and the Browns three each, and the Whites and the Grays, none. Also of interest is the fact that although the directory was put out in July, at least fourteen names have already been removed from the list through removal or death, and more than that number added.

Social Security Act Progressing

Employers Must Fill Out Blanks, Return Them By Nov. 21, 1936.

In co-operation with the social security board, the Ord postoffice last week distributed among business men application forms to be filled out. According to the plan, these filled in blanks shall be returned to the postoffice not later than Nov. 21. If any employer should not understand fully what is required, he may have any assistance necessary by conferring with Mark Toien at the postoffice, as he has been designated to have this matter in charge. Promptness is important, as any delay beyond the specified time will tend to slow up the entire program.

Dr. Clark Foreman Gives 'Go Ahead' To Loup Projects

Washington PWA Official, Latenser Here Monday, Say Preliminary Work O. K.

No. Loup To Let Canal Contracts

Start Advertising Next Week For Other 66 Miles; Is Plan of Dumfries.

Dr. Clark Foreman, chief of the electrical section of the Public Works Administration at Washington, D. C., was an Ord visitor Monday night and Tuesday morning. Accompanied by John Latenser, jr., of Omaha, PWA engineer for Nebraska, Dr. Foreman came here to inspect the North and Middle Loup power and irrigation projects.

In Ord he met informally with P. H. Dumfries, engineer-manager and members of the board of directors, Monday evening and the next morning he made a hurried inspection of the project from Ord to Taylor. At 1:00 Tuesday afternoon he met with Middle Loup officials at Arcadia and later in the afternoon left for North Platte.

Result of Dr. Foreman's visit was a "go ahead" signal for both projects. From now on neither project will be confronted with so many obstacles. Preliminary work done on both projects is completely satisfactory, Dr. Foreman said, and he pledged his cooperation in getting construction started on a larger scale.

The North Loup project was given tentative permission to start advertising next week for bids on the remaining 66 miles of main canal, subject to remaining options for right-of-way being signed by the time advertising is completed, which will be three weeks.

Friday evening Engineer-Manager Dumfries will drive to Omaha for a conference with state PWA officials and hopes for official confirmation of permission to go ahead with advertising for bids on canal construction.

On the Taylor-Ord canal most right-of-way has been optioned and without doubt advertising for bids will start next week. Considerable right-of-way remains to be optioned on the Burwell-Summer canal so construction may be held up on this, although Dumfries is hopeful property owners will sign up quickly and not force any further delay.

Another result of Dr. Foreman's visit was instructions given the North Loup district to requisition funds immediately for payment of right-of-way options on the North Loup-Ord canal. Land owners of this canal will be paid out of the first grant of $84,000 which is already deposited to the district's credit at Omaha. Land owners on other canals will be paid out of the second grant, which will be forthcoming at once, Dr. Foreman assured local officials.

The district also was authorized to go ahead with issuance of revenue bonds, thereby bringing closer the time when loan money will be available. Until these bonds are issued and accepted only grant money can be used.

Prior to this authorization the district has understood it must first secure contracts for the sale of electrical energy. Dr. Foreman gave instructions that such contracts need not necessarily be secured at the present time.

Local officials are very pleased with the result of his visit and the friendly attitude he displayed.

Russell Pharmacy Will Open In Ord

V. W. Russell of Belgrade, Neb., is planning on holding a formal opening of his new store in the Kull building on the east side of the square in the near future. The decorating of the interior is about completed, N. J. Holt doing the work. Most of the shelving was shipped here and is now in place, and Mr. Russell is getting his stock in as rapidly as possible. His assistant, Arnold Babbitt, has been here for ten days assisting in the work. The store will consist of a line of standard drugs and also a special line of drugs for veterinary purposes. He will also have a soda fountain and booths for the convenience of his patrons. There will be a prescription counter across the back of the store. They will also carry a line of ten cent gift articles. The name of the new business will be the Russell Pharmacy.

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

"Pumpkin pie with cheese crust", says a recipe in Irma's column last week. It seems to me apple pie with cheese crust would be more in keeping, because you know, "Apple pie without cheese is like a kiss without a squeeze."

Yes, I take daily newspaper and magazine subscriptions. I make a small commission on them and am glad to have the business.

I am your fellow townsman. I am a responsible party. I am easy to find.

Out of town strangers are hard to locate if something goes wrong. I am right here to adjust complaints should a mistake be made. It costs you nothing, in fact saves you a little to let me handle this business.

Business conditions must be getting better because from every hand we hear reports of better wages, new manufacturing plants, increased stock valuing and if we had a crop in Valley county we would be in fine shape here too. Lack of good crops the past few years is about all that ails us in this locality.

Doghouse, Inc.: For men who have incurred the disfavor of their wives and seek solace in the similar misery of their fellows, a new organization has been formed in Baltimore, Md., known as Doghouse, Inc. It is described as a bachelor club for married men who can manage to get out for an evening. The head of National Kennel No. 1 is Al W. Johnson, Great Dane. The next ranking officer is Clarence Ninen, Grand Shepherd.

The new social security law about which there has been so much talk makes it necessary for Revenue Collector O'Malley at Omaha to add seventy new employees to his staff January 1st.

There is only one way in which farming can be a financial success such as in manufacturing, and that is by controlled production. It is also certain, as proved by past experience, that farmers will not organize among themselves and stay organized. It must be a government controlled and directed proposition, nation wide in scope. The big trouble is to find the right method for doing it.

The political experts spent months telling what the election results would be and now it looks like they were going to spend months trying to explain why they were wrong. It looks to me like they would find it hard to market their guesses when the next campaign comes around.

I believe that some way should be found to banish visits from the stork to families who already have larger families than they are able to support, so as to not further increase the burden on the public.

It is sometimes hard to separate the sheep from the goats. There are so many democrat senators in Washington that there is not room for all of them and 13 of them have got to sit across on the republican side with the goats.

There is lots of talk about organizing a new "progressive" or "liberal" party for 1940. Of course most of the talk is being done by the stand-pat republicans and the stand-pat democrats, and wouldn't they be a hell of a bunch to organize a "liberal party." The election just passed shows conclusively that most of the progressively inclined in both and all parties voted for Mr. Roosevelt. He is plenty progressive and he is in the saddle for four years yet, so why start worrying so soon about another party. If the present administration proves successful in continuing the present trend to better times, why would we want to turn the country back to the Hoovers, Al. Smiths, Ogden Mills, Carter Glass, Albert Dicksons, etc.? There is no use of getting excited now, about organizing a new party, the only purpose of which is to let the "outs" get in.

But I would like to see the Ord Chamber of Commerce get busy and make some definite plans to properly advertise the resources of Ord and Valley county to the whole world.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Taking It to Heart.

The disappointment in losing the race for Presidency usually is so acute that few men ever recover to try it again. William Jennings Bryan is probably the one great exception. But there is Herbert Hoover and Al Smith who say never again. Davis and Cox are almost forgotten. That was completely discouraged although later he was made Supreme Court Justice as was Charles Hughes.

Perhaps this is accounted because of the fact that the candidates are always with enthusiastic people of their own faith. There is that ever whoop hurrah and the spirit of sure victory. It does not seem as if they could possibly lose with everyone yelling for them. The let down comes so sudden and so disheartening.

This is partly true with lesser offices although we have two candidates, Simmons and Griswold, who do not seem to know defeat. We admire them for that quality but not quite enough. Chas. Bryan ran several times before he was elected governor. But then think of the great number of men who have run for important offices and then dropped out of the time light entirely such as Rendal, Wheary, and a host of others I can't even remember.

One of the worst disappointed men I ever knew was no less than Fred Swanson. Fred was the nicest man in the world and he ran for County Clerk, but he might have known that he was up against almost impossible odds to beat Ign. Klima, for when it comes to picking the nicest fellow in the land, Ign. is just a little nicer.

But everyone talked encouraging to Fred, (they couldn't talk otherwise to that fellow) and when he came to me (although I couldn't vote for him) I said "Fred, I hope you make it," but trying to ease the fall I added, "I'm afraid you won't. Ign. is too well known and from Ord. You might get elected sometime but don't get your hopes too high now."

And then the man with Fred patted him on the back and said, "We're not going to give up, are we, Fred?" And then another man said as to how he believed Fred had a good chance. Fred borrowed money and a car and canvassed the county.

Well, Fred needed the job and was so disappointed that he soon moved to Washington. The motor that he and his wife departed on stopped running a mile south of North Loup and Irvin Thelin drove down and asked Fred and his wife to come back and have supper with him and wait until the engine came from Grand Island. But Fred and his wife said, "No. We've left that county now. We're never going back." The county lost a fine citizen.

He writes a letter now and then and trying to hide the touch of nostalgia that crops out between the lines, he tells of the wonderful new land of apples and opportunity and of his fine job working on the night shift in a chain grocery.

Might Have Been Right.

The Literary Digest seems to be in a quandary to know why they missed in their prediction so far. I am wondering if when they took the poll, which was weeks before the election, the results would have been more as their poll indicated. It seemed to me the sentiment changed materially as the campaign went on.

Landon was not a good enough radio speaker to inspire many votes and expert politicians said as I do, that everyone of Roosevelt's speeches were gravely with pathos, and sentiment and made a million votes.

More than that we had all gotten tired of mud slinging and the Republicans did too much of that. Landon would have had a better chance the first of October.

More Pigs, Less Kids.

Mrs. Leggett says last week that the government should start taking interest in mothers and new born babies and thinks they should be rated as high for the government as sows and little pigs.

Our first two children were born during Bob Simmons's reign as congressman. He took a special interest in those kids and wrote me a letter saying that Mrs. Simmons had gotten a good deal of benefit from some government bulletin published on the care of babies and mothers, etc. He offered to send the bulletins to us and without our request he did so. There was a small bale of these booklets and my wife digested them all. I think she did for she could talk of nothing but baby raising for a few years such as diet, calories, gains and clothing.

Looking at it all from a little different angle I think the average young married couple are less interested in raising children than they are in learning how to raise them. And too, a little knowledge along that line might not be so bad for some of the families who are on relief. Where a family of six or eight live in a house 10x20, with the father on relief, and a new youngster coming along every other year or less, the question is not how to raise them. It is how not to raise them. And that knowledge is against the law to disseminate.

Which?

The question arose in our Sabbath school class a few weeks ago in regard to missionaries. Paul's missionary journey has been the theme for some time now.

We all had a son. I asked the question, "Supposing we could choose our son's career and he would obey without question. We had two choices. One that he might go as a student to West Point. Many of his expenses would be paid there. He would be graduated a lieutenant and with all the mental training to go ahead and be a general of the United States army. He would be insured good pay and for the most part a life of ease and distinction. Lets take the hypothetical case and say that he does that very thing and succeeds to be a Major-General.

Or he can be a missionary such as I knew once. He worked his way through college nearly injuring his health. He went to China where he worked in a hospital during famine, war, plague and also in India fighting the east system, disease, fatalism. He returned home seldom and always with very little money. But he eventually became famous and when not on duty was always in demand to tell one side of the world what the other side is doing.

Both boys made good and I asked the class which they would choose if they could do that choosing. The answer was unanimous.

For Fifty Dollars. This all seems rather serious does it not? All right then, the discussion arose in our house, Dick propounding it, if you would eat a mouse for fifty dollars. Dick said he would. Geraldine would like to have the fifty dollars pretty bad but not quite that bad. Her mother wouldn't even discuss it, and I said I'm pretty hard up right now. No one better start making offers.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Holiday times mean fun in the kitchen, as Mother busily steams plum pudding, makes cookies, tests the candy. There's the turkey to stuff, the dressing to make, pumpkin pie to fix, cranberry sauce to mold, so many fascinating things to do.

Orange Sunshine Cake.

Put two scant cups sugar in a bowl, and add about a tablespoon of grated orange rind, beat five egg yolks until very light, add sugar and beat again. Put in one-half cup water and one-half cup orange juice, alternating with two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder and a pinch of salt, which have been sifted together. Fold in five stiffly beaten egg whites last. Put in a slow oven until the cakes raises, then increase the heat to about 350 degrees F. It takes about an hour to bake this cake, and I put it in a regular angel food pan.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A farmer paid four dollars for a beefsteak dinner at a recent political convention, and claims that he sold a whole cow for four dollars just the week before. He is at a loss to understand why there is such a difference between the price of beefsteak on the hoof and meat on the hook.

It was what the farmer had with his steak that made the dinner cost so much. The finest steaks are retailing at about forty cents a pound. They are cut from the carcasses of young grain-fed calves, however, and not from four dollar cows. It is doubtful whether such animals as the latter can be used for food.

About 55 per cent of the average beef animal is meat, the rest consisting of by-products, moisture, and waste materials. Only a small percentage of the meat animal is steak. The two most popular cuts, the steak and loin, often bring as much as do all the remaining cuts although they represent only about one-fourth of the meat animal.

The packers claim that they sell the beef from an animal for less than the live animal costs them. This is made possible by the value of the hide and other by-products. Butchers often find that they can purchase meat from the packers as cheaply as to do their own killing.

In fact, neither the packers, the butchers, nor the restaurants get very rich through handling meat. They all have their operating expenses, such as rent, payrolls, power, supplies, fuel, repairs, insurance, depreciation, interest, and taxes.

The livestock feeder has the privilege of slaughtering his own animals and selling directly to the consumer, but he seldom does it. Meat is rarely peddled from door to door.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mande Jackman Gies Writes.

Dear Quiz Force:
Once again I am reminded in a very unique way that my "home town paper" is about to expire. Since I must have this visit from home every week, I'm enclosing herewith my check for two dollars, which will stand me in good grace for another year. I'm also being extra good this time and I'm enclosing two recipes for Irma's column, have planned to do this a number of times, but it's so much easier to put it off.

Of course you know we are the proud parents now of Patricia Louise, and a mighty sweet baby we think. I think you should all make a trip out here just to see her. So much for this time.

Sincerely,
Maude Jackman Gies,
El Centro, Calif.

Trapper Bill Here Saturday.

W. H. Jones, formerly of Ericson, now of Spalding, was in Ord Saturday. Jones, who is better known among the old timers as Trapper Bill, banteringly offered the scrap with either Melvin or Ray Clements, or Ed Dudschus, and even included the writer in the list, but all declined the pleasure. He then let out the interesting information that he was 86 years old on last St. Valentine's day. This is remarkable, as he looks and acts about like the average man of sixty, and without doubt could give a good account of himself with a man half his age. Mr. Jones said he was in town looking for a man who would trade a good car for a homestead in Colorado. He had his youngest son with him, the baby, he called him. This son, Albert, is past fifty years of age.

BURWELL NEWS NOTES.

W. L. Goodell was called upon by Mr. West, teacher of agriculture to give an address at the opening period, 9:00 to 9:20 Monday morning at the high school. Mr. West read the scripture and Mr. Goodell spoke on "The Courage To Form Good Habits."

Carl Moss of Broken Bow was over to Burwell Friday, Nov. 13 to visit his mother, Mrs. Nona Moss. He brought with him Roy Davis, who visited at the W. L. Goodell home. Mr. Davis and Mr. Goodell were friends some years ago at Cotner college.

J. J. Meyers and F. W. Manasi were of the huge party of Ford dealers who were the guests of the Ford Motor Company recently. Each branch or territory had a special train out of Omaha. The train upon which the men traveled consisted of eighteen pullmans, and carried a total of three hundred dealers. They left Omaha on Nov. 5 just after the Foster May broadcast, arriving in Detroit on Nov. 6. They went first to the showrooms on the Michigan State Fair grounds. There were about 7,000 dealers from all parts of the United States and Canada, and also some branch managers from foreign countries. They arrived on 35 special trains in all. At the fair grounds they were shown the various Ford cars and other Ford products for 1937. They here met Henry and Edsel Ford and also a number of the high officials of the Ford industry. Mr. Ford hired all the available busses in Detroit, but these were insufficient, so he hired three hundred more from Chicago to transport the dealers to his River Rouge plant and also to the Greenfield village, where the famed Ford museum is located. At this place a delegation of managers and dealers presented Henry and Edsel Ford with a Cape Cod Windmill. This was a very interesting ceremony. They returned to Omaha November 8, and back to Burwell Nov. 9.

Mrs. R. W. Johnson and Mrs. Elmer Miller were in Ord Tuesday.

Mrs. Goodenow and daughter Maude were in Ord shopping Tuesday.

Judge and Mrs. Ben Rose and Mr. and Mrs. Igenitz and son Rex attended the Nebraska-Pittsburgh game in Lincoln Saturday, returning home Saturday night.

Nov. 10 a marriage license was issued to Ralph Wiberg and Lenora M. Jurczinski, both of Burwell. They were married by Rev. Murray of Burwell on Nov. 11th. The event was celebrated with a wedding dance at the J. N. Johnson hall that same evening. Ralph is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. S.

Wiberg of Burwell, and the bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jurczinski of Burwell. They are both very popular young people and their friends unite in wishing them the best things of life.

A marriage license was issued Nov. 10 to Richard S. Young and Dorothy Marie Schuyler, both of Sargent, Nebraska. They were united in marriage by Judge Rose the same day. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Schuyler and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Young.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Hallock attended the Nebraska-Pitt game at Lincoln Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Grunkemeyer and son Marlin motored to Wolbach Thursday evening and spent the night with Mrs. Grunkemeyer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Miller. Friday they drove to Omaha and on to Lincoln that evening. They attended the Nebraska-Pitt game Saturday, returning to Wolbach Saturday night. They came back to Burwell Monday morning bringing their son, who had enjoyed a fine visit with his grandparents in Wolbach.

—L. T. Johnson, treasurer of the Brown-McDonald company, was in Ord on business Monday and Tuesday of this week Attend Florist's Convention.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. (Bob) Noll went to Columbus Friday and Saturday of last week to attend the Nebraska State Florists' convention, which was being held there. At this convention the flower growers over the state displayed their wares. It is usually a two day school, which serves to keep people interested in the latest designs in wreaths, wedding flowers and other decorations. Two representatives from the national flower growers' association were present and gave interesting addresses.

—Jake Earnest of North Loup was a business visitor in Ord on Tuesday.

North Loup News

The marriage of Beth Williams and Cecil Severance at the close of the sermon at the Seventh Day Baptist church last Sabbath came as a surprise to most of those present. Rev. Claud Hill stepped down from the rostrum, the young people came down the aisle to meet him, and the ceremony was performed using the single ring service. The bride was becomingly attired in a gown of blue crepe and the groom wore a dark business suit. After the closing hymn the couple received the congratulations and best wishes of members of the congregation and then went to the Roy Lewis home where a family dinner in their honor had been planned. Guests, in addition to Carrie and Marcia Rood who are living with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis this winter, were Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams and son Melvin, Mrs. Lillian Zlomke and daughter Arline of Evanston, Wyo., and Eunice Rood of Edison. Mrs. Zlomke is a sister of the groom.

Beth, who is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams of Mira Valley and has lived in that neighborhood all her life, is a popular member of the younger set in the Seventh Day Baptist church. She was graduated from the North Loup high school with the class of 1935 and since that time has been at home with her parents. Cecil Severance has been employed by W. O. Zangger for several years and expects to go on working for him for the time at least. The newly weds are at the Zangger home and expect to take care of things there while the Zanggers take a trip to California later on. This correspondent wishes to join the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Severance in wishing them happiness.

Book Week Is Now Being Observed

Ord Library Places 200 New Volumes on Shelves, New Readers Invited.

The opening of "Book Week," a national event that occurs annually from Nov. 15 to 21, was observed this year by the Ord library by the addition of 200 new volumes to its shelves. After being on display briefly, the books were placed at the disposal of readers several days ago and already have given pleasure to many readers.

"Although Book Week is a commercial enterprise it is one which I heartily endorse," says Mrs. C. W. Hevner, library chairman of Nebraska women's clubs. "It helps to make us book-conscious. Its theme this year is 'Books to Grow on' and I am hoping that every woman who reads this will by hook or crook come upon a good book and read it."

A good book is defined by Mrs. Hevner as one which makes the life of its readers more abundant by widening their experience, developing and enriching their minds, enlarging their understanding and their sympathies. Of such books the Ord library has hundreds, says Mrs. C. E. Goodhand, member of the township library board.

New readers particularly are invited to become acquainted with the Ord library, its books and magazines, during Book Week. Although much cramped for space the library now has more books than ever before and is subscribing to more periodicals than at any time since the library was formed.

Visit the Ord library during Book Week.

Clark Intercepts Pass and Runs For Only Score Friday

Tuning Team Proves Tough Competition, Outplays Ord Thru First Period.

With both teams fighting evenly the first half, the Ord high Chanticleers came back in the final portion of the game last Friday night to score a 6 to 0 win over Coach Tuning's Arcadians.

Ord's score came in the early moments of the fourth quarter when "Bud" Clark, keen-eyed Chanticleer halfback, intercepted an Arcadia pass and ran 40 yards for the decisive touchdown. Ord threatened to score again in the final moments of the game when the Chanticleers carried the ball to the 1 yard line. With four downs to make the score, the ball was fumbled and recovered by a Husky.

Arcadia held a slight edge in the first half of play, the Chanticleers playing on the defense most of the time. During the second half the Arcadians were outplayed by the Chanticleers, the ball going into Ord territory only once.

The following play by play description of the game given by Kendall Weigardt shows how the Chanticleers won over the Huskies.

First Quarter.

Arcadia kicked off and Ord returned to their thirty-eight. They started off with a bang and a pass. The pass was completed for a first down on Arcadia's forty-two. They gained seven yards, lost one, gained three more, then punted. Arcadia was put back to their nine. After a gain of one yard they punted. Ord returned to Arcadia's thirty-seven. They lost a yard. After another play that netted nothing, they attempted a pass. It was intercepted by Arcadia on their fifteen. They punted but the ball was called back and Ord penalized five yards. They gained twelve yards on the next play and a first down. Ord held for the first play but allowed a five yard gain on the next. Arcadia punted and Ord was forced back to their twenty-seven. The Chanticleers were penalized fifteen yards for holding. They gained back seven and punted. Arcadia fumbled and Ord recovered only to be penalized for clipping which gave them a first down on their own forty-three. A brilliant run brought the ball to Arcadia's forty. After a gain of three yards, they fumbled and Arcadia recovered on their own forty. Gains of five, three and two yards gave them a first down on the mid-stripe. Ord held for no gain. Then Arcadia forced her way through for one yard. Then they punted. Ord returned to their thirty-two. They were penalized five yards but gained it back plus a yard on the next play.

Second Quarter.

Ord punted. Arcadia returned to their forty-six and tried a pass which was incomplete. I line plunge netted only a yard so they punted. Ord carried the ball back to their twenty-nine where they gained four yards, lost one and punted. Arcadia returned to their forty-five. A run gained six yards. This was the second and last time Arcadia had possession of the ball in Ord territory. Arcadia punted. Ord returned to their twenty and after gains of four and two yards they punted. Arcadia returned to their own thirty-six and immediately punted. The Chanticleers brought the ball back to their thirty-six. They gained three yards but after an incomplete pass were forced to punt. Arcadia was forced back to their twenty-seven. They tried a pass which was incomplete and punted. Ord returned only to their thirty-four. On the next play, Arcadia slipped through to throw Ord for an eleven yard loss. Ord was forced to punt. Arcadia returned to their forty-two. A mighty drive gained them eight yards but Ord held them to no gain on the next play. Then Arcadia was penalized five yards for backfield in motion and consequently punted. Ord again came up to their thirty-four but were penalized fifteen yards for clipping, giving them a first down on their twenty-two. They punted. Ord returned to Arcadia forty-seven. Gained two yards but were penalized fifteen. They completed a pass of twelve yards just as the half ended.

Third Quarter.

Arcadia kicked off in the second half and Ord returned to their forty. They gained five yards. Then five more yards alone, with a penalty of fifteen yards on Arcadia for clipping. This gave them a first down on Arcadia's thirty-five. They gained five yards, were held to no gain, tried a pass that failed and gained another yard. It was not enough and Arcadia gained possession of the ball on their own twenty-nine. They gained a yard and then lost twenty on a fumble.

A punt. The ball rolled out on Arcadia's thirty. Ord made gains of two, four and five yards which gave them a first down on Arcadia's nineteen. On the first play they lost two yards, then gained four and fumbled. Arcadia recovered on their twenty-two. They were penalized five yards for offside. It was still first and ten to go for Arcadia and in three plays they made it by inches. The next two plays gained but four yards, they punted. Ord was forced back to their own forty. They gained five yards, had two incomplete passes and punted. Arcadia lost back to their fourteen. They lost a yard and punted. Ord returned to the Arcadia forty but was penalized by officials fifteen yards for clipping. They gained two yards and tried to pass which was not completed and they were forced to punt. Ord returned to Arcadia's twenty-three. They gained seven yards as the quarter ended. Still no score for either team.

Fourth Quarter.

Ord gained a yard, then was held for no gain. Clark attempted to kick a field goal but it was no good and Arcadia had the ball on their twenty. They tried a pass which was incomplete. They tried another and gained thirteen yards. On the next play—An Arcadia pass—Clark intercepted and galloped madly from the thirty-three yard line and crossed the goal line standing up. The attempted conversion was not good. Ord kicked off and Arcadia returned to their thirty-three. They gained three yards and attempted a pass which was incomplete. They tried another which was intercepted. Ord had the ball on Arcadia's thirty. They lost a yard, gained it back, and gained four more. Then Haskell got off a beautiful punt which rolled out on the five yard line. Arcadia gained four yards. Then two more and punted. Ord returned to Arcadia's forty-six. They gained four yards, two yards, no gain and punted. The punt was blocked and Arcadia recovered on their forty-six. They lost nine yards and had an incomplete pass. They attempted another pass which Ord intercepted, returning to the Arcadia twenty-five. They were penalized fifteen yards for holding. Arcadia was penalized five yards for offside. Then Ord gained a yard. Then nine more made it inches to go. Arcadia took time out and were penalized five yards for too many time-out periods, giving Ord a first down on the Arcadia thirteen. They regained it. They made four more. A two yard gain brought them to the one yard line. Then they fumbled. Arcadia recovered and gained four yards as the final gun sounded.

Completes Irrigation Well.

The Third City, Sand Co., of Grand Island recently completed a 24 inch well for Ed Timmerman on his farm in Springdale. This well is 60 feet deep and Ed figures that it should supply a sufficient quantity of water to irrigate 80 acres. The well has not yet been tested, but the owner expects to use an eight inch rotary pump on it. If the flow is not sufficient a smaller pipe will be sunk in the center of the larger one to augment the flow. The work was completed by Albert Niedfeldt. Earl Depew of Grand Island started the work, but broke his leg in an accident there on Oct. 14. Word from him in Grand Island is to the effect that he may lose the limb, as infection set in and amputation may be necessary to save his life.

Conference Races Almost Decided

The fiery pace of the Loup Valley and Mid Six football race is slowly dying down as the schedules of the teams near completion for the 1936 season.

Coach Fred Weeks' St. Paul Apostles wind up the season Friday as they meet Arcadia on the Arcadia field.

Ord will have a tough time with Sargent this Friday as they meet Coach Copeland's eleven on the Sargent gridiron. North Loup will travel to Taylor for the remaining Loup Valley conference game of the week.

Coach Brown's Loup City eleven will lay idle this week preparing for the big championship game with Ord on Thanksgiving. Comstock high school also will remain idle this week, getting into action against Arcadia on Turkey Day.

Other games this week: Anselby at Merna. Lexington at Broken Bow. Central City at Seward. Greeley at Scotia. Tilden at Wolbach.

Sargent Is Next Foe Of Ord Chanticleers

"Sock Sargent! Sock Sargent!—then Loup City! Lets go gang!" These yells and cheers can be heard most any time around the Chanticleer football camp this week, as the redshirts dig into heavy drill work, preparing for Sargent this Friday.

There is no over-confidence in the Red and White camp this week—all of the players know that Sargent has been resting for nearly two weeks getting in shape for the Ord game. Both teams will be at full strength for the game, no seriously injured players are on either of the two elevens. In 1935 Ord won over Sargent 14 to 0, in 1935 Ord again won 12 to 0.

This game will be a Loup Valley conference contest, to be played under the lights on the Sargent field Friday night providing the weather permits, otherwise the game will be played off on Friday afternoon.

Coach Copeland's Sargent squad is built this year around six lettermen, Orland Campbell, Ralph Petet, Forrest Abbott, Farish Ames, Roger Hein and Harold Mason.

The Sargent eleven this year has become noted for their ground gaining aerial plays. Two backfield men, Ames, quarterback, and Olsen, halfback are the main sparkplugs in the Sargent passing attack. Ralph Petet, halfback, has made several sensational runs this season, usually getting away on sweeping runs around the ends.

The Sargent season record thus far is as follows: Sargent 0, Arcadia 12. Sargent 26, Taylor 0. Sargent 6, Broken Bow 0. Sargent 0, Anselby 13. Sargent 0, Callaway 0. Sargent 0, Merna 7. Sargent 6, St. Paul 0.

Ord G. A. A. Girls Are Entertained

Members of the G. A. A. held a dinner Tuesday evening in the high school auditorium. The losers of the soccer tournament which was played during the past several weeks gave the dinner in honor of the winners. The "Hot Shots" captained by Barbara Dale was the team to give the "feed" to the winners, the "Cornhuskers" captained by Jerline Burrows. Miss Helen Myers, G. A. A. sponsor, announces that the club will now take up the game of basketball, practices to start immediately.

Grand Island Now Favored Over Lincoln

The semi-windup of the 1936 Nebraska high school pigskin campaign is under way this week with many of the prep leaders of the state billed for important, if not to say decisive games.

One of the week's leading attractions is the Lincoln high school invasion of Grand Island. Last year the Third City eleven was the only team to score on the capital city outfit. This season Coach Roy Mandery's Grand Island crew has so much defensive strength that Lincoln is entering the game on the short end of the odds.

The Central Six conference title will be decided when Aurora plays at Fullerton. Both teams have played great football this season and game will be one of the year's high spots. Neligh threatens the Elgin winning streak in the northeast while Ainsworth will be a source of worry to the fast-stepping O'Neill club. The northeast feature, however, promises to be Hartington at Wakefield battle.

In the far west Alliance is favored over Bayard and Scottsbluff kets the nod over Morrill. South Platte Valley fans will flock to Imperial to watch the crack Chase county gridders meet Chappell. York goes against Jackson high of Lincoln, which is almost ready to finish an all victorious season.

Teaching in Pine Ridge. A letter from Claude M. Roe states that he is now working at the teaching game at the Pine Ridge Indian Reservation, his specific job being instructor in agriculture, under the civil service. He says that his job is not so much a teaching job but is more of an advisory one in the agriculture work carried on in the school. The school has an enrollment of about 500 Indian students, with twelve grades. The school farms about one thousand acres, and also has one of the largest range herds in southwestern South Dakota. He incloses two dollars, which will insure him of getting the home news for the next year.

Woodman Hall

The county grader is working on the road between the Edward Radl and Edwin Vodehnal places.

Frank Smolik purchased a bull at the Broken Bow cattle sale last week.

Vencil Piacnik and Richard Parisko picked corn for Frank Smolik last week.

Mrs. Jos. Waldmann spent last Monday with her daughter, Mrs. Rudolph John.

Chanticleers Will Attend Uni Game

Announcement was made this week by authorities that over forty members of the Ord high school football team of 1936 would make the trip to Lincoln this Saturday to attend the Nebraska-Kansas State game.

The Chanticleers will leave Ord early Saturday morning in private cars, arriving in time to get dinner, do a little "shopping" and see the game. They will leave Lincoln early Saturday evening.

BURWELL NEWS

Lyman Kern, who has been studying law at home for some time, will go to Lincoln this week to take the state bar examination.

Mr. Ackerson, Burwell high coach, took Miss Apking and Miss Andrews, two Burwell teachers, and Virginia Rose Hemmett to the game at Lincoln Saturday.

Tracey Shafer and wife of Cheyenne, Wyo., are visitors at the Vere Shafer home.

Ray Norton, who has been operator at the Burlington depot, has been transferred to Fremont, and Earl Reuter will return to the Burwell job.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dworak, sr., of Ord spent Monday visiting with their daughter, Mrs. Jack Johnson and family.

Bob Hoppes was taken suddenly ill and was taken to Omaha, his wife and Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Heitz accompanying him.

The Methodists are making great preparations for their bazaar and goose dinner, which will take place at the church this coming Saturday.

A meeting was held at the Congregational church Tuesday night which was very largely attended. Tuesday of this week Rev. J. Bruce Wylie, John Penas and William Mathauer went to Columbus to a district meeting of the Odd-fellows. Rev. Wylie was recently elected grand chaplain for the state of Nebraska.

A bad car wreck due to a blown out tire occurred on highway 11 near Goodenow Sunday evening. Lou Zalud, Darrell Carpenter and Carol Nixon were returning from Ord in a Pontiac belonging to the Bredthauer motor company. The front tire blew out near the place named, causing the car to swerve first into one guard rail, then into the other, then to turn over completely several times, finally coming to a stop two hundred feet from where the car first hit the fence. Nixon was uninjured, but both the others were knocked out, and they were taken to the Ord hospital, where it was found that they were practically unharmed. The car, however, is almost completely demolished. How the boys escaped so luckily is a mystery.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Joe M. Jablonski was a pleasant Quiz caller Saturday.

—Mrs. Richie Kepp and family and Mrs. Jud Tedro went to Grand Island Friday.

—Dr. A. J. and Mrs. Ferguson went to Grand Island Sunday to visit the latter's sisters, Myrtle Milligan and Nina Thompson.

—John Weist of Scotia was in Ord Saturday on business. Mr. Weist says he very seldom gets up to Ord.

—Murray Nelson, Ellis Carson and Cecil Wolf went to Omaha Saturday with the avowed intention of taking in the final day of the auto show.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasper went to Omaha Wednesday of last week to consult the doctors there in regard to Mrs. Kasper's health. Ed came back but she remained for observation and treatment.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Horner of North Loup came up Saturday and spent the evening and Sunday visiting their son Ernest and family, and daughter, Mrs. R. W. Haas and family.

—A friendly feature Saturday was the serving of free coffee and doughnuts by the Gamble store in connection with their demonstration of radios and washing machines. The public appreciated this, and also the radio outside announcing the Nebraska-Pittsburg football game.

—Marion Fox of Spalding CCC camp is home this week on a six day leave. He arrived Friday evening. He says that the Spalding camp has an enrollment of 150 now, although about a year ago there was some talk of closing it entirely.

—Herman Desel of Mira Valley, who had a sale not long ago and disposed of his personal property with the intention of going out west to locate, has changed his mind, and is now buying back. He expects to continue farming on the same place next year. His friends are glad to hear that he will remain in Valley county.

—Mrs. John Reagle was taken to Miller's hospital Friday for examination and treatment. She has been a sufferer from high blood pressure for some time.

—Announcement has been received by Ord relatives of the marriage of Attorney Arthur A. Clements, which took place Oct. 29, at Paonia, Colo. The bride was Mrs. Letha Hollingsworth, an old time neighbor and friend. Mr. Clements' old time friends here join in wishing them a happy life.

—Leaks in water pipes called for digging them up in front of the Phillips 66 station and Frank's Service Station the past week. In the latter case it was necessary to cut a hole in the paving to shut the water off at the main, as the leak was outside the shut off box. Lambdin Bros., leveled up the sidewalk in front of the Milford building.

—S. B. Warden, editor and publisher of the Arcadian, and Robert Dvorak, editor of the Milligan paper, were in Ord Saturday getting a supply of type and other printing material that Mr. Warden recently purchased from the W. W. Haskell estate. Mr. Warden also purchased the job press, which he resold to the Scotia Register.

—Dr. William Oeschger closed a very interesting and successful series of meetings at the Mira Valley Evangelical church Sunday evening. He spoke each evening through the week, and on Sunday morning took for his topic "The Poverty of Jesus, Our Riches." A basket dinner was eaten at the church and a fellowship meeting followed. The meeting closed on Sunday evening with a sermon on "The Peril of Neglect."

—A recent letter from Mrs. Eva Holman says that her daughter, Mrs. Rance Peterson, was recently operated on in a Los Angeles hospital for fibroid tumor. She went through the operation fine and is on the way to recovery. Their home is in Wilmington and Rance is employed on a coast steamer plying between San Pedro and Mazatlan, Mexico. They have their own home and are doing fine. Their daughter Zona recently graduated from high school.

—By a queer quirk of fate, George McNulty had just stepped from the train at Scotia on his return from a visit to his son John in Bothell, Wash., when he was handed a telegram telling him of his son's death. John L. Means McNulty, like the writer, was named for John L. Means, a well known bridge builder of central Nebraska in the early days. John was also a graduate of the Ord high school, class of 1903, and while a student here gained a state wide reputation for his ability to spell practically any word in the dictionary.

—Earl McNutt, Mrs. McNutt and their son and daughter-in-law were in Ord Monday forenoon, where they hunted up Clay McGrew, whom Mr. McNutt had not seen since he left Garfield county some 32 years ago. Mr. McNutt is a son of J. B. McNutt, who was one of the founders and chief citizens of the once prosperous but now defunct town of Willow Springs, the site of which was about three miles east of where Burwell is now. Needless to say, Clay did not know him, and he would not have known Clay had he not known where to find him. From here he went to Burwell for a day, where he planned to renew acquaintance with I. W. McGrew and other timers. He will also visit his sister and family. She is Mrs. Charley Ashman. The McNutts live in Eugene, Ore., where the younger man was a pupil of Victor Morris, who is a cousin of the McGrews.

—The Orville Sowl and John Misko families attended the football game at Lincoln Saturday, and then went to Omaha, where they attended the San Carlo Opera company performance, returning to Ord Sunday evening.

—Palmer Canfield moved last week from the old Rosevale store farm to the place he formerly occupied on the Dry Cedar. He lived on the former place since 1934, and spent sixteen years on the Dry Cedar farm.

—A letter from John T. Nelson who is located at Barber, Ark., makes the boss for letting the democrats beat him so bad. He says that they are wading in mud to their knees, having had seven inches of rain in two weeks, and that it is so wet that they cannot get into the meadow to cut hay. Imagine cutting hay in November, but of course that is away down south.

—H. A. Hoard of Seattle is a new Quiz subscriber this week. He formerly lived here, and his wife is the former Nellie Ollis.

—Manager E. H. Dunmire went to Omaha Saturday morning to attend to business for the North Loup Irrigation district.

—Harvey Parks and Toots Harris were busy reshingling the H. B. VanDecar home at 1909 L St. last week.

—Paul Gard, Ord wrestler, lost in a preliminary match at Falls City last Wednesday night to one Jerry Adam, of Lincoln.

—Elroy Bohannan went to Chatsworth, Ia., Tuesday morning to visit an aunt, Mrs. Laura Patrick.

—Business visitors in Ord on Thursday included Frank Masin and Joseph Bruha, of Burwell, Edward Slocum, of Arcadia and Clarence Wilson of Elyria.

—Mrs. William Stine, of North Loup, was in Ord Thursday being treated at the Miller hospital for asthma. Unless she improves soon she plans on going to Arizona for a time.

—Albert Andreason, son of H. P. Andreason the efficient baker in the Johnson bakery, closed his work here last week, and has gone to Beatrice to work for the Dempster company at that place. He was employed there before he came to the bakery to work some six months ago. His place here will be taken by another man in a few days. H. P. Andreason has been doing a splendid job in the bakery since he came here, and of course he will remain right on the job.

—The Quiz received a letter the past week from Mrs. J. L. Van Ness, formerly of Randlett, Okla., asking that her address be changed from there to her new home 545 3-4 Virginia Ave., Hollywood, Calif. She states that she has been out there for the past three months, and that her people at Randlett read the paper and then send it on, sometimes. She wants to be sure of getting it all the time so as to get the home news. She states that she surely is in love with the country there, and incloses the money to keep her subscription up to date.

Proceedings of the County Board

November 10, 1936, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Regular meeting called to order by Chairman with supervisors Jablonski, Desmul, Hansen, Zikmund, Ball, Johnson and Barber, present upon roll call.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved as read.

Bank balances as of close of business on October 31, 1936, read as follows: First National Bank, Ord—$31,853.82; Arcadia State Bank—$18,887.16; First National Bank, Arcadia—$11,961.84.

Upon motion duly carried, warrants were ordered drawn upon County Special Highway Fund, for $387.00 and $2.42, in favor of the Department of Agriculture & Inspection, in payment of gasoline tax.

Report of Road and Bridge Committee for month of October, was read and upon motion duly carried, accepted, and ordered placed on file.

Supervisor Ball then introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas, the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation District has made known to this Board that many section and quarter section corners in Valley County, Nebraska, are lost, some by reason of road construction, maintenance and public travel, and some for other reasons, and

Whereas, the establishment of such lost corners are necessary to said District for the establishment and construction of its main irrigation canals, and

Whereas, it is the duty of the County Surveyor to perpetuate existing corners of land surveys along the public highways, where such corners are liable to destruction either by public travel or construction and maintenance of highways, and

Whereas, it would be expedient and reasonable for the County Surveyor of Valley County, Nebraska, to establish such lost corners with the assistance of two competent chainmen to be furnished by said district.

Now Therefore Be It Resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Valley County, Nebraska, and the County Surveyor of Valley County, Nebraska, is hereby ordered to establish all lost section and quarter section corners within that part of said District within Valley County, Nebraska, as may be necessary for the establishment and construction of the main irrigation canals of said District within Valley County, Nebraska, without fee; provided, said District shall furnish and supply without cost to said County two competent chainmen for such work, to work under and direction and supervision of said County Surveyor.

This resolution and order shall in no way affect those cases coming under Section 34-201 of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929.

(Signed) Ellsworth Ball, Jr.

Motion to adopt was seconded by Hansen, and same being concurred in, upon roll call all supervisors voted "yes" and motion was carried and resolution duly adopted.

Contract and specifications for 9,000 cu. yds. of Class "A" gravel to be furnished by Fred Ulrich, at 30c per cu. yd., for County Roads, was read, considered, approved, and upon motion duly carried, was entered into, and forthwith signed by the members of Board, upon motion unanimously carried.

RESOLUTION.

Whereas Section 39-227, of the compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, as amended by the 1933 Legislature provides that the Board of Supervisors of each County, shall have power to and may in its discretion relocate or abandon County Roads or portions thereof, such abandoned Roads to become Township Roads, and

Supervisor Hansen then introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

RESOLUTION.

Whereas Section 2650 of the year, 1929, provides, That the Board of Supervisors of each County shall after taking effect of this Act select and designate from the laid out and platted public roads within the county; certain roads to be known as County Roads which shall be direct highways leading to and from rural schools, also highways connecting cities, villages and market centers and shall be main traveled roads.

Therefore: Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Valley County, Nebraska, that the following described road be designated as County Highway as follows, to-wit: Commencing at the northeast corner of Section 1, and running thence west on north line of said section to the northwest corner thereof, in township 18 north, of range 16 west, of the 6th P. M., to connect already designated County Highways.

(Signed) S. V. Hansen.

Motion to adopt resolution was seconded by Jablonski, and being concurred, roll was called, and all supervisors voting "yes" motion was declared carried, and resolution unanimously adopted.

Supervisor Desmul then introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption:

Whereas Section 39-227, of the compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, as amended by the 1933 Legislature, provides that the Board of Supervisors of each County, shall have power to and may in its discretion relocate or abandon County Roads or portions thereof, such abandoned roads to become Township Roads, and

Whereas certain portion of present County Highway, commencing at the northeast corner of Section 1, in Township 18 north, Range 16 west, of the 6th P. M., and running thence south about one-half mile, thence west along half section line about one mile to the west quarter corner of said Section 1, has been relocated, according to law,

Be It Resolved that the said described and relocated portion of said County Highway be abandoned as a County Road or Highway, and turned back to Liberty Township to become a Township Road, providing however that proper notice of the time and place for hearing said matter be given as required by law.

(Signed) Henry Desmul

Motion to adopt foregoing resolution was seconded by Hansen, and being concurred in, roll was called and all supervisors voting "yes" Chairman declared motion unanimously carried and said Resolution duly adopted.

The Arcadia Champion

Department of the Ord Quiz EDITH BOSSEN, Reporter Phone 9603

Landon-White.
At the Congregational parsonage Wednesday evening, November 11, 1936, at eight o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Elena Landon, daughter of Carlos Landon, of Arcadia, and John W. White, of Arcadia. Rev. Howell performed the wedding ceremony in the presence of Mrs. Fred Stone and Mr. and Mrs. Everett White. The bride was dressed in a brown silk with matching accessories. The groom wore a black suit. Thursday morning they left for Lincoln and Omaha where they will spend about two weeks visiting relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. White are well known in Arcadia and have many friends to wish them happiness. Mrs. White kept house for her father for many years, having the loss of her mother when a child. Mr. White was a prosperous farmer until he retired about two years ago and moved to town where he has a comfortable home for his bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Whitman of Rock Springs, Wyo., arrived in Arcadia Friday for a visit with Mrs. Whitman's mother, Mrs. Apa Hyatt, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitman, also other friends and relatives. Mr. Whitman had the misfortune to cut his hand severely across the palm when at work on an oil well.

Mrs. Oscar Jewell spent Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Larson.

Miss Elaine Hawthorne was a week end guest at the Bauhard home.

Paul Barth and Mr. Day of Horace were in Arcadia Saturday on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne were Sunday dinner guests in the Marion Crosby home at Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Garnett, parents of Mrs. Ray Waterbury and sisters, Mrs. Gladys Banker and Mrs. Heapy of Litchfield visited Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waterbury.

Mrs. Frank Jurkiewicz who was taken to the hospital at Loup City last Sunday, passed away in the hospital Saturday. The funeral will be Tuesday afternoon, November 17. Mrs. Jurkiewicz was a victim of pneumonia.

Miss Elaine Hawthorne and Lowell Bauhard visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Meyer.

Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne's sisters, Mrs. A. H. Meyer of Burwell and Mrs. Fred Meyer of North Loup were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne and family.

Mesdames Don Round, W. J. Ramsey, George Parker, Guy Lutz and Miss Elaine Hawthorne motored to Greeley Thursday where they attended the Inter-County Federation of Women's clubs. There were 99 ladies registered. They will meet in the spring at Loup City.

Mrs. Charlie Scott has moved in town from the farm for the winter. Mrs. Belle Wall, her mother, will spend the winter in her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Arnold visited their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Arnold at Rockville Friday.

Iver McCall of Arcadia and Chester Weekes of Ord went to St. Louis Saturday morning. They returned to Arcadia that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson of McCook arrived in Arcadia Friday for a few days visit with relatives. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Marie Peterson and Miss Esther Peterson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Joe Peterson of McCook Saturday overnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lutz were Ord business visitors Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kingstons and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Arnold were Ord visitors Saturday.

Mrs. Clara Easterbrook who is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Edith Bossen, was able to auto to the home of Mrs. Ray Lutz Saturday afternoon. This is her first outing since the first of September.

Thursday afternoon Miss Ada Russell and Mrs. Harold Valett were hostesses to the Congregational ladies aid. This was the November birthday anniversary table and three large cakes were baked and donated by Mrs. Fred Milburn, Mrs. Ray Hill and Mrs. Duane Russell. Those who celebrated their birthdays were Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Walter Woody and Miss Ada Russell.

Fifteen of the Arcadia Rebekah kensington ladies took well filled baskets Wednesday and motored to Ord where they surprised Mrs. Lloyd Owens for an all day meeting. The day was beautiful and the ladies had a very enjoyable time.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Pester and two children, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stone, their son and daughter and Mrs. Sarah Stephenson of Arcadia drove to Kearney Sunday to the Earl Burtis home where they met Mr. and Mrs. Ed Burke, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Burke and Mrs. Grace Walker and two children of Alma. Together they enjoyed the day with a family picnic dinner.

F. H. Rhodes who has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruikshank for nearly three years was taken to Ord Thursday by Max Cruikshank. From Ord he went to Grand Island where he took the through Union Pacific train for San Diego, Calif. He expects to be gone two or three weeks on business.

A very good Armistice program was enjoyed at the Arcadia high school auditorium Wednesday afternoon at 1:00 o'clock. Mrs. Lyle Lutz presented the high school with a large American flag as a gift from the American Legation and Auxiliary. E. L. Vogelanz of Ord delivered a special message to the school children. Other selections and a miscellaneous program was fittingly rendered.

Mrs. George C. Ballantyne, sister of Alvin Haywood left Thursday for her home at Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Ballantyne came to attend the funeral of her sister, Clara Haywood, who suddenly passed on while here in Arcadia, visiting her brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bar were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Benson.

Miss Edna Elliott and Miss Louise Eberspacher of Ord entertained at an oyster supper Friday evening Marjory Norris, Coraly Crist, Alfred and Oscar Benson, and Harold Elliott. Afterward the young people attended the football game.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cremeen went to Red Cloud Sunday morning and returned home Monday evening.

Art Shoemaker had the misfortune to break his collar bone Monday morning as he stepped from a truck when he returned home from the Wes Aufrecht place. The truck was moving and he fell as he left the truck.

More Arcadia news will be found on another page in this issue.

Christian Science Services- The title of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, November 22, is "Soul and Body." The Golden Text is from Matthew 6:22: "The light of the body is the eye; if therefore thine eye be single, thy whole body shall be full of light." A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from II Corinthians 3:18: "But we all, with open face beholding as in a glass the glory of the Lord, are changed from glory to glory, even as by the Spirit of the Lord." A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "Soul is the substance, Life, and Intelligence of man which is individualized, but not in matter. Soul can never reflect anything inferior to Spirit. Man is the expression of Soul." (page 477).

amount of goods for sale, and the quality was above the average. Down at the Ord Livestock Company's sale a large crowd did some spirited bidding on the offering, which was all of fine quality. This was the first sale personally conducted by the new owners, M. B. and Corwin Cummins and C. S. Burdick. Even while both the sales were in progress the crowd on the streets was so large that it was difficult to get around.

Seed Corn Prospects Good.

Early in the season many Valley county farmers predicted that the seed corn crop in this county would be insufficient to care for the needs of the farmers next year. However later reports are more encouraging. Saturday J. Z. Marks made the statement that he believed there would be practically enough at home to supply the county's needs. While there was not a great deal of good corn raised the past year, all that was raised is ideal for seed as it had a good fall in which to ripen. Some sources of supply are the fields which were raised by irrigation, some from the Loup river, and others from irrigation wells. A report says that Thead Nelson, over in the Dry Cedar country has a field of white corn that should make 20 to 25 bushels per acre, and it is of splendid quality. It might be well for any farmer who plans to send away for his seed to be sure the local supply is insufficient, as home grown corn is by far the best for local use.

First Aid Course To Open Nov. 27

LeRoy Frazier is chairman of the enrollment committee for the Red Cross first aid class, which will start Friday, Nov. 27. By arrangement with the county board these classes will be held in the waiting room in the lower floor of the court house. Dr. J. G. Kruml will be the instructor, and the hours of study will be from 7:30 to 9:30 each Friday night. Several have already enrolled and more are coming in from time to time, but the committee hopes that all who wish to take the course will plan to enroll as soon as possible, so that arrangements can be made for their accommodation. To J. A. Kovanda goes the honor of being the first person to enroll for this course. It would be difficult to over stress the vital importance of taking this course, which makes any one, proficient in the important duty of administering first aid in time of need. So important is it that most of the major industries require a first aid certificate as a part of their applicants' fitness for holding positions. In the industrial world the need for this assistance is likely to face any one at any time. The Red Cross has watched the accident problem for some time. It has brought first aid to the motorist by establishing more than 1,000 Red Cross emergency highway first aid stations manned by at

Irrigation Water Available Next May Is Prospect

Farmers Under Ord-No. Loup Canal May Save Crops In Summer of 1937.

That irrigation water may be available next spring for farms under the Ord-North Loup canal, now under construction, was the possibility voiced yesterday by E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the North Loup power and irrigation project. "If ever the thing 'clicks' the way we hope it will the water will be ready," Mr. Dunmire said yesterday.

Work on this 10-mile canal, first in the district's 70-mile system, is progressing rapidly. Litwiller Bros., the contractors, are using a big dragline, an elevating grader and other equipment and hope to have the ten miles finished within the next thirty days.

Absence of all moisture makes the work go faster as there is no frost in the ground and if dry weather continues it is likely that digging can be continued all winter.

Engineer-Manager Dunmire has requested the project engineers, Black & Veatch, to make surveys at once for all laterals leading off the Ord-North Loup canal. Several more surveyors are being added to the Black & Veatch force here this week.

The diversion dam below Ord will be built early next spring, according to present plans, and the district's ability to furnish irrigation water in the Ord-North Loup section will depend upon this dam being completed on schedule.

With farmers facing the prospect of another drouth season, the news that water may be available for several thousand acres next spring should be welcome.

Advertising for bids on the Taylor-Ord canal will begin next Thursday and construction probably will start thirty days later, it was stated yesterday. Engineers have submitted all plans and specifications for this canal and they have been approved. Right-of-way signing on this canal is practically complete, only two or three individuals still holding out. Arrangements have been made with the Lincoln Joint Stock Land Bank, owner of several farms in the area affected, to sign their land as soon as their own appraiser completes his work.

Right-of-way signing on the Burwell-Sumner canal is proceeding more slowly and unless land owners on this canal sign quickly it is likely that construction cannot be started until long after the first of the year.

V. J. Desmul Will Sell.
V. J. Desmul, who is quitting farming with the intention of moving his family to the state of Washington, is advertising a clean-up sale in today's Quiz. He has a good offering including some extra good working horses and milk cows. See his ad.

Radio Installed By Ord Schools

A new Zenith eight-tube radio has been purchased and installed in the Ord schools. Three aeriels have been erected and lead-ins are to be found in the grade building in the assembly room, in the high school music room and in the high school auditorium.

Many of the high school music students will now be able to enjoy the National Music Appreciation Hour conducted by Walter Hamrosch and the New York symphony orchestra, the American School of the Air, and other educational entertainments.

Ord Stores Placing Christmas Displays

Many Ord stores have been decorated for the Christmas season during the past few days and probably by the end of this week every store in town will have Christmas merchandise displayed and Christmas decorations in place. The Brown-McDonald store, the Springer Variety and the Gamble Store will open their toy departments this week, the Brown-McDonald store announcing that Santa Claus in person will inaugurate their opening.

Directors of the chamber of commerce will meet this week to make plans for completing street decorations so the lights may be turned on next week. More elaborate decorations than ever before are being planned.

D. D. of O. Meets.

Two New Members In Ord Rotary Club

The Ord Rotary club this week elected to membership two prominent Ord men, C. C. Thompson, new superintendent of the local schools, and Dwight W. Keyes, manager of the Brown-McDonald store. Millard Bell, former school superintendent here, and John Goddard, former manager of the Brown-McDonald store, also held membership in the club while living here. The Rotary club now has a membership of 25.

Rotarians enjoyed a turkey dinner in honor of Thanksgiving, at their regular meeting Monday evening. Roy Mearl C. Smith, of the Ord Methodist church, was the principal speaker on the program, his talk following the Thanksgiving theme.

In New Location.
Petka and Michalek have moved their liquor store from the location in the Haskell building to the offices in the back part of the old Ord State Bank building, formerly occupied by Dr. C. A. Brink. They moved most of the stock Sunday completing the job Monday forenoon. They believe that the new location is as good as the old, and has the advantage of being on a level with the sidewalk.

Ord Streets Are Being Graveled As New WPA Project

2 Inches Gravel Surface On 14.4 Miles of Streets Is Plan; 12 Employed.

Streets of Ord are being given a new surface of gravel by WPA workmen, the work starting about two weeks ago. Late in the summer the city applied for a WPA loan and grant for a project of this kind and it was approved only recently.

The city has purchased a gravel pump and it is located near the river bridge east of Ord. By agreement with the WPA, the city furnishes the pump and the gravel while the WPA furnishes trucks, drivers and men to spread the gravel on the streets. About 12 men are working on this project.

Two inches of gravel surfacing will be applied to 14.4 miles of city streets during the winter under this project. Some of the streets already were graveled while others are getting surfacing for the first time.

Thespians "Tap" New Members

Seven new members were taken into the Ord high school "Thespians" club, an honorary dramatic society, at a special tapping ceremony held in the high school auditorium Wednesday morning.

Details of the ceremony were in charge of Laverne Lakin, Thespians president and Miss Ellen Servino, sponsor of the club. New members taken into the club include: Virginia Sack, Kendall Weigardt, Wilma Krikac, Robert Williamson, Frances Duemey, Clay Nelson and Jack Janssen.

522 People Ate Pancakes.

George Spangler of the Nebraska Consolidated Mills was in Ord Saturday, and in co-operation with Bob Noll put on a pancake and coffee feed at the Noll Seed company's offices. 522 people took advantage of the opportunity, and from 1:00 to 5:00 p. m. there was a waiting list all the time. The demand was so great that they ran out of material shortly before seven o'clock, the hour scheduled for closing. During the afternoon two prizes were given away, a 48 lb. sack of flour being won by Nels C. Nelson, and a 24 lb. sack by Pete Weiland.

Cohen Got the Money.

Acting upon information furnished him, Sheriff Round sent his deputy, Fred J. Cohen, down to Omaha Wednesday to bring back either the money or the man in the case of one Swatman, who had left a bad check in Ord. Fred got his man, but, figuring that the money would be better than having the man lay out the charge in jail, he stayed with him most of the day, and finally Swatman succeeded in borrowing the necessary money from a friend to make good the check, fine and costs, and won his liberty. Mr. Cohen returned to Ord late the same day.

R. Evelyn Alvord Heads Osteopaths

Dr. R. Evelyn Alvord, of Lexington, Ky., recently was elected president of the Kentucky Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons at a two-day session held recently in Louisville, the Quiz learns. Dr. Alvord also was one of the principal speakers at the convention. She will be remembered as a former Ord girl and graduated from Ord high school about 1921, later attending the osteopathic college at Kirksville, Mo.

Valley County's 1936 Tax Total Is $288,563.26

Schools Use Biggest Share of Taxes Levied, Report By Clerk Klima Proves.

In 1936 the total amount of taxes levied in Valley county was $288,563.26, a statement prepared recently by County Clerk Ign. Klima, jr., shows, the tax total including funds for the support of schools, the state county, city, village and township governments and for various miscellaneous purposes.

As usual, school taxes comprise the major portion of the taxes levied, total amount used for schools in 1936 being $127,377. This includes all districts for general purposes, bonds and free high school tuition. The average levy in mills in the various subdivisions was 7.057.

The Valley county government uses the next largest portion of the tax total, Clerk Klima's statement shows, the amount being $62,879.24. Purposes for which this money will be used include: general fund, bridges and road funds, court house, bonds and interest, mothers' pensions, fair and unemployment relief.

Cities and villages of the county use $30,839.70 of the tax total for general funds, street lights, water, cemeteries, parks, bands, fire departments, paving intersections, bonds and interest, waterworks, city halls, etc.

Townships get their large slice of tax money also, total used for this purpose being $32,036.96. Bridges and roads, library and general fund, are the uses to which this money is put by the townships.

The state gets the smallest portion of tax funds collected here, the state government's share being $24,856.76.

Miscellaneous taxes such as old age pension, poll taxes and bee taxes, claim $10,573.60.

Many Marriage Licenses Issued

County Judge John L. Andersen has been a busy man the past month, with the result that to date thirteen licenses to marry have been issued in November, with nearly a week yet to go. Some of these have already been reported in the columns of the Quiz, but the following are of recent date.

A license was issued to Anton K. Dubesh of Anstey and Phyllis B. Rusmisset of Mason City. They were married by Judge Andersen with Madeline Konkalesko and Wilbur J. Campbell as witnesses.

A license was issued to Lloyd Konkalesko, of Ord, and Velma Palu, of Loup City.

A license was issued to William J. Waddington, of Calro, and Opal Post, of North Loup.

A license was issued to Dillo Edward Troyer and Alyce Marie Novotny, both of Ord. They were married by Rev. Martin A. Lawler, with Emanuel F. Weverka of Sargent and Antonia Polak, of Ord, as witnesses.

A license was issued to Harold J. Lewjohann and Verna Mae Augustine, both of Ord. They were married at St. Mary's church by Rev. Constantine Szumski, with Ben Augustyn and Josephine Grabowski as witnesses.

Gilbert Nelson and Elsie M. Lindquist of Burwell were issued a license and later married by County Judge Andersen. The witnesses were Bernice Meyers and W. A. Gross.

Uniforms Furnished Ord Police Force

Regulation police uniforms, brass buttons and everything, have been purchased for Chief of Police L. H. Covert and Night Officer Roy Pardue by the Ord city council. They arrived Monday and henceforth members of Ord's police force will appear in uniform whenever they are on duty. The uniforms are dark blue in color, trimmed with gold braid. Knee-length overcoats of the same blue fabric are provided for wear over the regulation uniform during intensely cold weather.

Physicians of Four Counties Will Meet

Dec. 2 is set for the date of the meeting of the Four County Medical group which will be held in Ord. This place will be at the Thorne cafe and a dinner will be served there. The principal speaker of the meeting will be Dr. Allen of Omaha, who will give a talk on tuberculosis, its cause and cure. Dr. F. A. Barta will give a paper on emergency cases of injury to the eyes. All agree that the doctor is a real authority of this subject. Another interesting feature of the meeting will be the showing by Dr. Wise of some three thousand feet of moving picture film taken by him and depicting some hunting scenes in Alaska. Those who have had the pleasure of seeing these films are loud in their praise. The counties included in this meet are Valley, Greeley, Wheeler and Garfield. Dr. C. J. Miller is the president, and Dr. O'Toole of Greeley is secretary-treasurer.

Forms In Social Security Program Are Now Available

Employees' Forms Were Sent Out Wednesday, Must Be Returned Dec. 5.

The Ord postoffice now has all the necessary forms for employees under the social security act and supplies of these were mailed out to employers Wednesday. These include Form SS-5 which is to be filled out by the employer, a folder of information for the employee and instructions to employers relative to the distribution of these folders. The postoffice department has agreed to distribute to employers the necessary application blanks. These should be distributed, in turn, to individual employees in order that they may supply the information requested.

These forms, SS-5, are to be filled out by the employee and returned to the local postoffice not later than Dec. 5. No postage is required. These filled in forms may be returned to the employer, who in turn will deliver them to the postoffice, or they may be handed in at the postoffice by the individual. Any one, whether now working or not, may call at the postoffice and obtain one of these blanks, which when filled out and mailed in, will give him a number and immediately establish credit when employment is obtained.

Those who have not filled out Form SS-4, for employers only, should do so at once and mail direct to the Social Security Board, Baltimore, Md. So far as the local office is concerned, the time for returning SS-4 forms closes Nov. 21. It is suggested that employees read carefully the instructions in the folder provided before starting to fill out form SS-5.

Will Open Furniture Exchange.

V. A. Miller is going into the used furniture business and is planning to open up about Dec. 1 in the place formerly occupied by J. M. VanSkiike. He plans to run the place more on the order of a furniture exchange and will probably deal in almost any kind of used goods that seems to be in demand. This business has always done well in Ord, and there is no reason to suppose that it will not in the future.

PERSONALS

—Mrs. Mattie Shepherd submitted to a major operation at Hillcrest Saturday. She is doing nicely.

—The series of special meetings scheduled to be held at the Midvale United Brethren church last week failed to materialize, due to the inability of the evangelist to come. The meetings have been postponed indefinitely.

—Mrs. Tom Williams reports that Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Williams are expected in Ord shortly after Thanksgiving for a visit with the Tom Williams family. They are now visiting in the eastern part of the state. Mr. Williams has two brothers, Billy and Arthur in Omaha, and Reese in Peru, and Mrs. Williams has relatives at Auburn. The Williams family have not visited in Ord for thirty-three years. Their home now is in Monmouth, Ore.

—Mrs. J. T. Knezacek and nephew, John Wozab left Wednesday planning to go first to Western, where Mrs. Knezacek will stop for a visit with her sister, Mrs. Nick Rohla. John will go on to Wilbur to visit his father, John Wozab, Thursday they will all meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Luzum, at Dorchester, Neb., for Thanksgiving dinner. Mrs. Luzum is also a sister of the two ladies. Friday they will return to Ord, bringing Mrs. Rohla with them. She will visit with her father, J. F. Radil and other relatives here.

—Rowan Sutton, of Kimball, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Chase and W. R. Waite, of Loup City, were in Ord yesterday to see their father, A. Sutton who has been quite ill. His condition is reported somewhat improved.

Dr. John Round Named Assistant To Noted Surgeon

Chief Assistant of Dr. Percy, Chicago Specialist, Is Honor for Ord Man.

Dr. John Round, graduate of Ord high school and a son of Sheriff and Mrs. George S. Round of this city, recently was appointed first assistant to Dr. Percy, chief surgeon of the famous Augustana hospital in Chicago, according to word received by Dr. C. J. Miller. This is a great honor and privilege for Dr. Round, as Dr. Percy is recognized as Chicago's foremost surgeon and also is considered one of the most able in the entire United States.

After attending Ord high school Dr. Round was a student at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln. Completing his pre-medical course there he enrolled at the University of Nebraska college of medicine in Omaha, graduating with high honors. He then served for one year as an intern in a Cleveland hospital, going from there to Augustana hospital in Chicago where he has been surgical interne for the past 1 1/2 years. His recent appointment gives him another year at Augustana.

Dr. C. W. Weekes, who has taken postgraduate work in surgery under Dr. Percy at Augustana hospital several times, agrees with Dr. C. J. Miller in saying that Percy is a great surgeon and that Dr. Round is most fortunate in having this opportunity to work with him.

Depression Ended Beyond Rockies, Is Ray Enger's Claim

Ray Enger, who with Mrs. Enger, Edna and Robert, is spending a ten day vacation in Ord, North Loup and Burwell visiting friends and relatives, is very much in love with his new job, as well as his new location. The job is a comparatively new one, and has been developed through the introduction of air conditioning on the cars on the main lines of the Union Pacific. It is Ray's job as electrician to service the lighting, heating and cooling of the cars. He is notified ahead of the train's arrival of any work that will need to be done on any of the cars upon arrival, and it is his job to get the work done inside the limit of one-half hour, or if more time is required to have the car set out and another put in to take its place. There is considerable easy work between trains but he has to work fast while the train is in.

He says that when you get beyond the Rocky mountains you leave the depression behind. In the city of Ogden, where he is located, work is plentiful at all times, and unemployment almost unknown. There is a greater demand for skilled labor than for common, and specialists in almost any line can readily find work. He believes that what makes the depression so noticeable in Nebraska is the continued loss of crops. They came here from one of the finest climates to be found anywhere, and twice since they arrived the wind has blown a veritable hurricane, almost hiding the sun with clouds of dust. Due to the proximity of the mountains, the winds never blow very hard at Ogden, and dust is not noticeable in the air.

The air conditioning process in the trains is very interesting, as every bit of air coming into the trains is sucked in through a filter that removes most of the dust. Then it is recirculated and passes through a second filter which completes the job of purification. The outer filter is a substance resembling steel shavings, which is sprayed with oil, the oil collecting the dust from the air as it passes through. The inner filter is similar but is finer and is more like honeycombed paper. This takes out all the remaining dust. These filters are cleaned on all cars coming into the yards at Ogden, and are used over and over until they become so saturated with dirt that they are useless.

The windows and doors of the cars are kept closed and practically air tight. By special means the air inside the car is kept under slight pressure at all times, which causes the air to flow outward when the doors are opened, thus preventing the dust from entering. The air in summer is kept cool by a recently developed water cooling system, which is very effective, and heated in the winter without the old time stuffy effect. In Ray's estimation a person would be foolish to travel any way but by train for the small difference in the cost. The family are returning to Ogden the end of this week.

—Dr. Norris reports the following: Anton Liberski injured his right knee last Friday. He is recovering nicely. Mrs. Alvie Baker of Atkinson came in for treatment. She is subject to appendicitis.

Status Of Credit Office Uncertain

Representatives from the five farm credit associations representing Loup, Garfield, Valley and Greeley counties met in Ord Monday for a second session, in which it was hoped that the organization could be effected, and a district office opened in Ord. In the first meeting Garfield county was not sufficiently represented, and the matter of forming a district organization, selecting a secretary-treasurer and renting an office could not be decided upon at that time. All the associations were adequately represented Monday, but no definite agreement was reached, and this leaves the proposition of forming a district organization up in the air, for the time, at least. M. M. Inhelder of the Federal Land Bank of Omaha was at the meeting. It is hoped that this organization can be perfected about the first of the year.

A Big Sale Coming.

Henry Jorgensen has reserved Dec. 16 for the date of his big farm sale, and promises that this will be one of the biggest sales of the season. He has an extra large amount of stock, machinery and all that pertains to a well kept farm, and buyers would do well to keep the date in mind.

Drouth Farmers On WPA Must Be Laid Off, Felton Orders

Will Be Transferred to RA, Given Direct Grants If Needed, Is Promised.

Orders to lay off, not later than Dec. 15, approximately 160 farmers getting drouth relief in the form of WPA labor, were received this week by Jesse E. Spray, WPA administrator for Valley county, from Dwight F. Felton, state director. Felton's orders are being carried out.

Drouth farmers whose names are removed from WPA rolls by this order will be transferred to the Resettlement Administration which will make an investigation and give direct relief to those farmers in greatest need of assistance, according to the Felton order.

About 275 men have been getting WPA work in Valley county and 160 of them are affected by this order, Mr. Spray said Tuesday. Most of the work being done by WPA workmen is on the county road system and all projects are well along will be completed before Dec. 15.

Many Are Taking First Aid Course.

Leroy Frazier, chairman of the enrollment committee for the Red Cross first aid classes, reports that enrollments are coming in rapidly, and that there will be enough for a large class Friday evening when the work starts. The classes will meet in the downstairs lobby of the court house, with Dr. J. G. Krum in charge. Books for the course have been ordered, and enough extra to take care of all late enrollments. This opportunity to take this interesting and useful course should not be overlooked by any who are seeking or likely to seek positions of responsibility where the need for expert knowledge might arise at any time.

Volunteer workers are the backbone of the Red Cross. There are many in your community, aiding your chapter. They make clothes, layettes and many other articles needed by the needy. They collect and renovate old clothes. Many are trained as health aides and hospital workers. Help to support all Red Cross work by volunteering membership with your chapter. Join now, and be sure to attend the first aid classes, beginning Friday.

Third Dust Storm Hits Ord Tuesday

The third and worst dust storm this fall struck Ord early Tuesday and by noon visibility was reduced to a quarter mile or less. The storm Tuesday was worse than those Friday and Sunday but not so bad as the dust storms experienced here during the fall of 1933 and the spring of 1934.

Lack of moisture in October is blamed for the present dust clouds. In Ord only 29 inches of moisture fell last month and the state average is only 38 inches. September also was an extremely dry month and so far in November only a trace of moisture has fallen.

This fall has been the driest in history, says Horace Travis, weather recorder. He promises a weather report comparing this fall with similar months in 1933, 1934 and 1935, for publication next week.

James M. Vanskiike, Oldest Oddfellow, Claimed By Death

Died Saturday at Beatrice, Five Days After Wife's Death in Ord.

Five days after the passing away of his wife of fifty-five years, James M. VanSkiike, who has made his home in Ord for nearly 35 years, passed away Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. E. T. Weekes, at Beatrice. A short time ago Mr. VanSkiike celebrated his eighty-first birthday, and up to the time of his final illness, which began on the evening of Nov. 3, he enjoyed as good health as could be expected at his age. Indeed, up to the date mentioned above he kept up his work of operating a used furniture store, in which work he has been engaged for the past fifteen years.

The VanSkiikes made their first Nebraska home in the Lamartine neighborhood east of Scottia and had a part in the founding and development of a Methodist church at that place. After spending a number of years there, during which they went through the trials and troubles of pioneer life, they moved to North Loup. At this place Mr. VanSkiike had the honor of being one of the charter members of North Loup Lodge No. 142, I. O. O. F., and during his stay there he had a very active part in the work of the lodge.

The family moved to Ord nearly 35 years ago, where Mr. VanSkiike at first opened a harness shop, which he ran for several years. He also transferred his membership from the North Loup Lodge to Ord Lodge No. 30, I. O. O. F. For many years he was very active in the work of the lodge here, until the infirmities of age made it difficult for him to attend.

The body was brought to the Sowl funeral parlors, from which services were held Monday morning at ten o'clock, the body being laid beside that of his wife in the Ord cemetery. Rev. S. A. Woodruff of the Presbyterian church had charge of the services. The pall bearers were Anton Bartunek, Charles Schmidt, Jacob Hoffman, George Dalley, Andrew Purcell and John Burrows, all fellow members of the Odd Fellow lodge. A quartet, Dr. F. L. Blessing, J. R. Stoltz, Mrs. Anthony Koupal and Mrs. J. P. Barta sang, with Mrs. James Ollis at the piano. His passing will be keenly felt by those who knew him best.

Farm Bureau Notes.

The central Nebraska organized agriculture program, sponsored by the farm bureaus of Valley, Greeley, Garfield, Sherman and Howard counties will be held at St. Paul on Dec. 11. A full day's program has been planned and talks of special interest will be one on irrigation problems by Ivan D. Wood, agricultural engineer, and one on rural electrification, by O. W. Meier of the Rural Electrification Administration. No doubt many Valley county farmers will want to attend this meeting. A complete program will be published next week.

There will be a turkey meeting at the W. H. Schudel farm, one mile east and two miles north of North Loup on Nov. 30, at 2:00 p. m. J. H. Claybaugh, extension poultry specialist, will demonstrate selection, testing and banding of breeding stock to be followed by a general discussion of poultry problems. The demonstration is sponsored by the Nebraska college of agriculture, the Nebraska Poultry Improvement association, and the farm bureaus of the adjoining counties. Any one who is interested is invited to attend this meeting.

New South Side Jeweler.

L. A. Muncy of Des Moines, Ia., who recently rented the west room in the Haskell building on the south side of the square, bought in the complete stock and fixtures of a jewelry store he bought at Minden, Neb. The goods came in by truck Monday, and he is busy getting everything in readiness for his opening, which will be about Dec. 1. He plans to carry a complete stock of jewelry and also a gift line, and will feature expert watch repairing. He will open under the name of the South Side Jeweler. He has a wife and baby, and will move his family here as soon as possible.

Sold Liquor To Minors, Is Fined

Two cases were heard in Judge Anderson's court the past week. Albert Kosmicki was arrested on Nov. 19, charged with selling liquor to minors. He entered a plea of guilty and paid a fine and costs amounting to $18.00. John Foyles was charged with intoxicating Nov. 21, and paid a fine and costs of $18.00.

Week End Guest.

Robert Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo., was a week end guest at the Dr. C. J. Miller home.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

A state paper heading on a story from Burwell says M. U. M. is the name of a woman's club just organized there. I thought there must be a catch in it and that mum didn't mean what it seemed.

Those who are impatient because the work on the ditch seems to be going slow, must remember that it is a big job to get the surveys made, estimates figured and final plans completed for so long a ditch. It didn't take long to get the first ten miles ready and work has already started on that. In a short time now the whole 66 miles of ditch will be contracted and things will begin to hum. If the ground stays dry there will be little frost and work can be carried on all winter.

I suggested two weeks ago that the Chamber of Commerce get busy and start a campaign to acquaint the people of Nebraska and further of the possibilities of this country. Upon more careful thought I realize that it is urging a pretty big order. If the coming of the ditch is going to do for Ord and Valley county what we hope and expect it to do and if we are going to get the full benefit from it that we should get we have got to have a Chamber of Commerce that is more than a social affair. Under its present set-up with small per capita dues as now, we can't expect to get any more out of it than we are getting.

What I would like to see Ord business men do is to reorganize the Chamber of Commerce into a real, aggressive organization and begin doing things. In order to do that it should have a chest of not less than five thousand dollars a year with a paid secretary trained to do the work such an organization should do. In order to have that we must have the support of every business house, paying yearly the amount of the budget warranted by the amount of business done by them. If the business interests of Ord can see it that way, the Quiz is ready to pay its pro rata share of the budget up to $300.00 a year for the purpose. It is true that not many towns in Nebraska the size of Ord go after the business of the future that hard. It is also true that not many towns in Nebraska the size of Ord have the future prospect that Ord now has. It is up to us as business men to say whether we want to grasp the opportunity presented or not.

A week or so before election D. P. Felton, Nebraska WPA director, issued a statement in which he said that no one now working would lose his job after election. Last week WPA workers in Ord received a letter, a copy of which we have on file, saying that they would be laid off between now and December 1 or 15 at the latest. At the same time the state press carried the news that the thirty thousand WPA workers in Nebraska to be reduced to half that number before the middle of December. Do you suppose President Roosevelt is going to have that done? I don't know about most of the fifteen thousand who are going to be laid off but I do know that the men who have received letters in Ord telling them that they will be laid off, have no other means of living. They were given forty dollars a month for working when it was warm. It is harder to starve when it is cold than when it is warm and unless the government employs them there is no work for them.

The farm moratorium will end next March. What is going to be done about it. Shall it be extended? It was passed four years ago for two years and extended two years ago by the legislature, for another two years. It has not enabled many if any to save their farms or homes during those years because we have not had crops. Had there been crops many would have been able to pay out or at least reduce their loans. It has enabled many to stay in their homes and the mortgage holder has been protected, in that he has received rent, which is all he could have done anyhow as land has not been selling. If the coming legislature sees fit to extend the moratorium again and if we get crops it will do what it was designed to do, during the next two years: I am believing the legislature will think it is best to still continue the moratorium, at least until Nebraska farmers have a crop and get a chance to save their homes.

About 150 of the 185 whose Quiz expired November 15, have not as yet sent in their renewal. Mostly this is carelessness. Most of them want the paper. All of them, if they can't spare $2 can send $1 to pay for six months, if they want the paper. One or two, or a dozen of course don't amount to much at a dollar a piece, but there are now around seven or eight hundred who should pay.

I am very grateful for the large number of daily paper subscriptions I have been receiving the past couple of weeks. Phone me if you can't get in right when your daily expires and I will attend to the matter for you.

Wants 10 1/2 Million.
Director Tolson of the state assistance board is asking the legislature to approve a ten and a half million dollar budget for the next two years, or about 50 percent more than the property tax assessment for that period. While the $2 head tax raised only half a million dollars last year the yield is expected to be doubled. Two million will be contributed from liquor taxes if the present basis is used. An effort will be made to increase this contribution. The cent a gallon gasoline tax yields four and a half millions for the biennium. A battle is promised against continuing this tax. Where the other three million will come from is not suggested, that being the legislature's job. Only 57.27 percent of the total relief budget goes for old age assistance. The number of persons getting this aid has reached nearly 23 thousand. The last month's payments averaged $14.93, and with more money coming in it may reach $20 by the first of the year. The sum is unsatisfactory to many recipients.—State Journal.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Church Finances.
Church finances, during hectic times of drouth and privation such as we are now witnessing, are frequently in a bad way. It is a wonder churches continue at all. Churches continue and exist because of the sacrifices of the members and because of the fact that the congregation does not tith. So frequently we hear it said if everyone would just tithe there would be no worries about the church finances. This might be true if the church would lay up reserves in the flush times to carry them over the depressions but I never heard of a church doing that. Each year it spends the money as it comes in and it keeps going in bad years because the faithful members do not tithe. They give anyway. If they tithed the church would be owing the members.

Ralph Comstock, years ago became a convert to tithing. So one afternoon he and his wife sat down to figure out their share to give. They figured and figured. It had been a bad year—halled out, hogs died with the cholera, chickens drowned, their cows bloated and their best horse got the bellyache. I said they figured and figured. Finally they concluded the church owed them a little. But the next day Ralph dropped a half dollar in the collection plate just the same as usual. He said he would tithe next year.

Many fellows are presented with the problem that I heard a man mention the other day. He had many debts (who hasn't) and interest that wasn't paid. Also he was a religious duffer and felt he must give some to keep the church going. One of his creditors was a penurious lady that attended the same church. He did not know whether to give the church his usual fifty cents a week or pay her. I took note of him after that and noticed he made it a point to always sit behind the lady in church and watch her closely when the platter was passed and carefully snitch his coin into the collection without her seeing him. Otherwise he was afraid she would say or think he was really giving her money.

One Way to Raise Money.
Ed Lee told me this item the other day. At one time years ago he was the financial officer of the Evangelical church. He was also the janitor, which proved to be a good combination as you shall soon see. When the coal bin was running low Ed would fall to boom the fire as usual. Now Ed didn't really say he did this or didn't do it. What he did say was that the church was short of money and Clarence was a small boy then and he didn't take as much pains to build the fire that morning as he should and Ed didn't stoke it any too much after the folks came.

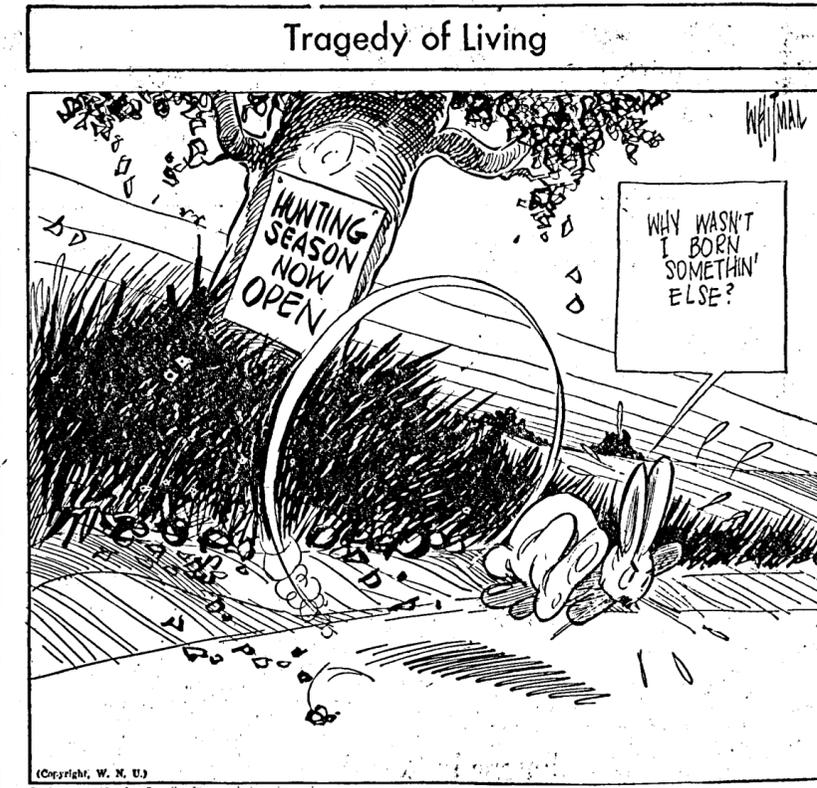

As the people walked out of the church Ed carefully mentioned to each one that they better fork over and among them was a man who came none too often. Ed asked him to help them out a little and the man asked how much. Ed said he didn't like to say how much but brother so and so was giving so much. Ed thought this man might do the same.

The man was a little hostile. He said, "Well, I'll give it this time, but if you don't heat the church better I won't next." This all didn't worry Ed much for by the next time it would be summer.

Might Divert the Thoughts.
Ed Hurley tells of belonging to a little church once where there was one wealthy member that always gave five dollars. The other members were average wealth, mostly quite poor. It was a habit of that church to announce the amount of the collection at the end of each service.

But one day they failed to make the announcement. Upon inquiry it was discovered the collection that day was five dollars and five cents. The church treasurer didn't want to start any guessing games.

Scalping a Little.
I knew a man from Montana who belonged to a small church up in that wild country. The depot agent was the man who took the collection. There being no official platter he used his ten gallon hat and when the job was completed he emptied it by turning it quickly over on the table. The hat was a good bit larger than was necessary to hold the collection but this depot agent told my friend and he in turn told me, "I never failed yet to get ten or fifteen cents that caught in the hat band."

To Bad He Forgot.
And then the church is confronted with situations like Elnor Hurley discovered a few days ago. A little tot came into Elnor's store and reaching deep in his pocket was terribly surprised to find a penny. At least he pretended to be surprised. "Oh!" he exclaimed. "I should have given that to the Sunday School and plum forgot. I guess I'll just buy a piece of candy."

Making Change.
Jim Johnson said he sat beside an old couple in church and witnessed what might have been grounds for an estrangement. As the platter went by Jim this before mentioned lady tossed in a dollar bill. Her husband was next to take the plate and he took the dollar putting back fifty cents. The lady saw the disgraceful and thrifty act of her husband and grabbed the platter, replacing another dollar, taking out the fifty cent piece and decorously planting it in her own bag. Jim said it was all done so quickly that very few if any but him saw it.

Returning the Contribution.
My father used to tell the story of a local church. At the Christmas program when the collection was taken for the children's home someone put in some buttons. After the money was counted, the collector jumped up and said, "I wish the person who put in these buttons would come and get them. The children don't need buttons. They need safety pins." Strange but no one went after the buttons.

Doing Their Bit.
And then a few weeks ago when the money was counted in one of our churches there appeared a boondoggle Democratic dollar of which were passed out so freely as campaign literature. Although this would not buy coal and pay the preacher the treasurer was thankful feeling the member who gave it was ground down to that kind of money and he was giving his tenth. At another time there was a half cent stamp and that no doubt, was a person's mite.

All of which goes to show that there is a little good left in the old world yet if the church continues and keep going when other businesses fail and flounder in the depression.

QUIZ FORUM

Expects Ord to Change.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
Am enclosing my check for a year's subscription to the Ord Quiz. Please see that this week's Quiz is mailed to me in case this renewal does not reach you in time for the regular mailing—I don't want to miss one copy. There are too many interesting things going on with the irrigation boom, and the next few years will see a changed Ord I expect. I am glad to have visited there once more as it used to be and will look forward to seeing the new Ord. The election and excitement is over for most people of the United States but Washington D. C.'ers will have some excitement yet, with the inaugural, the changes, etc.—though not as much as four years ago I suppose. Washington was rather a jumbled mess then. We are all wondering what will happen here now with respect to jobs both in Civil Service and out of Civil Service.

Sincerely,
Pearl Ward Wilkie, 1202 Garfield St., Silver Spring, Md.

Something Different

Since the highway into Grand Island was changed, many fond parents and sharp-eyed children have exclaimed over the small but complete-looking play house to be seen on the west side of the street in a grand Island backyard. A very cunning small white house nestles near a large white house, built, so they say, by a contractor for his daughter. The play house has green shutters, curtains at the windows, a small door for entrance, it looks like a small fairy house. From the highway it seems to be ten by twelve feet, or some such measurement.

It is said that the little owner quickly tired of er handsome toy, and does not enjoy it very much. —00—
A Christmas or two ago an Ord father had a carpenter build a pretty little doll house for his daughter. It was complete even to tiny electric lights, front door-step. Grow-ups admired the tiny house equally with small folks, and it was the seven days wonder of the town. I wonder if Paula Sowl tired of her toy play house as speedily as did the young Grand Island mistress of a mansion?

Ord's city electricians very brilliantly saved themselves some work. When they strung the colored electric globes for the irrigation celebration Oct. 11, the Ord streets surrounding the square were bright with lights. The Christmas lights were used to secure this gay effect. And it was decided that since the city would need to be illuminated at least a month or six weeks before Christmas, it would be a foolish waste of energy to take the lights down Oct. 12 or Oct. 13 and then put them up again in a few days. So the lights were left up. And when decorating time for the holidays comes . . . or is it here already? . . . winding evergreen strands about the posts will complete the gala appearance of our streets in readiness for Christmas shoppers.

The Penney store in Alliance had a window at Fall Festival time that drew crowds and comments alike. An island window out in front was floored with straw, clean and bright. I don't know where they got such clean straw in such a dry country as that is this fall. Then four old turkey gobblers were introduced into the window. Some yellow pumpkins and cornstalks completed the dressing of the window and a water pan and some corn or something for the turkeys the necessities.

Notice I said "corn or something." I am no professional turkey raiser, and don't want to have my farmer public both jump on me at once. I hereby admit I wouldn't know how to feed turkeys. Children crowded thick around those handsome strutting gobblers, and it was quite a sight to see the four stately fellows with their enormous tails spread, stalking indignantly about. They made quite a racket, too. Adults were also pleased to stop and admire the window.

The turkeys came from the Trenkle farm, where they had 1100 turkeys this fall. Mrs. Trenkle, it is said, turns her turkeys out to graze with a turkey-herd, and lets them roam from dawn till dark, knowing they are safe. A carefully planned diet also insures that she will raise plenty of the once hatched. She has had remarkable success with turkeys, and the pretty bungalow on their farm was paid for by turkey money.

A year or two ago on Kerry's birthday, I grumbled because I couldn't find a good old-fashioned rocking horse for him, nor could I find a drum. As a result, two or three drums were sent to Kerry, and offers of several other drums received.

Now I see rocking horses for sale . . . but it is too late, I don't want a rocking horse. Kerry doesn't need a rocking horse. Kerry is now fascinated by pictures and tales of Jack-in-the-box, and this old-time surprise seems to be extinct. I can't find one anywhere. Have you seen one in the stores? Even if I could just show him one, it would help.

Everyone likes Shirley Temple. I am going to hold out, though, and eventually become famous as the only woman in the world who hasn't seen one of her movies. That's probably the only way I'll ever get famous.

But I don't know when anything has shocked me as much as learning that Shirley Temple is the favorite movie star of Ray Luther! A professional guide, a brawny Minnesota he-man who snorts and sneers at pie and stuff like that . . . "woman-food" . . . and then he fell for Shirley and her dimples. Ho-ho, Ray! Aren't slipping, are you, Ray

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.
J. W. Wheatcraft and A. J. Friend, neighbors on Davis Creek and both men of advanced years, were severely hurt when the Ford in which they were riding overturned on a hill. Charlie Johnson came along and took Mr. Friend to the home of his daughter in North Loup where he was attended by a doctor.

The county board called a mass meeting of taxpayers on Dec. 6 to discuss the question of building a new court house and whether to finance it by a bond issue or by five annual levies.

L. B. Weller came to Ord to visit his brother Frank and help him audit the books of the Weller Bros. lumber yard. Ed McComas, Ord druggist, got a telegram saying his aged mother had died at Brownsville.

The VanDecar section near Arcadia was sold at auction, Mike Chlewski buying it for $53 per acre. Ord beat North Loup 27 to 7 and thereby won the Loup valley championship for a short week, depending on the outcome of a game with North Loup on their home field Thanksgiving day.

A meeting of farmers to form a national loan association was announced by B. H. Alvord, Jos. P. Barta, W. J. Hather and Frank Petska.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Conway was seriously ill with pneumonia and could not live, it was feared.

25 Years Ago This Week.
Stepping over a night in Grand Island on his way home from Omaha, James Rybin was struck over the head and robbed of money and a fine watch. Grand Island police later caught the footpad, a man named Roberts, and recovered Mr. Rybin's property.

Coming home from Omaha in his new car, A. M. Mutter hit a hog near Valley, his car overturned and he was badly hurt.

Jos Bartos sold his prosperous business at Elyria to the Holub brothers, of Schuyler. Odd Fellows elected Roscoe Watson noble grand and J. W. McGinnis, J. P. Hoffman and Joe Barta to other offices. George Kirby and wife celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary. Ben Madison of Ord and Lillian Ulm of Burwell were married. A dancing party was given by the younger set for Marcela Calhoun, of Denver, who was visiting here. Reed's orchestra played. While eating oysters at the Larkin restaurant Mrs. Dee Greene found an oyster containing 33 pearls, some as large as grains of popcorn. Other North Loup inhabitants were reported to be eating oysters at a great rate. An ice gorge, most unusual for this time of year, formed and took out the west bridge across the Loup near Burwell. Another gorge near Willow Springs was noticed in time so dynamite could be used to save the bridge.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Cold days are pudding days. Many a time does the busy housewife stir up a pudding to tuck into the oven to add to the wash-day menu, or to fill up cold, hungry school-children. Some of them are inexpensive, and no trouble to make. Oftimes puddings use left-overs of bread and fruit with raisins, spices, milk and eggs.

Then there are the holiday puddings, expensive, loads of work, requiring fifty ingredients, hours of time to combine and to steam or bake. The result is so rich, so fruity and delicious that it thrills while it fills the whole family.

Quick Brown Pudding.
Boil for three minutes one cup brown sugar, two and one-half cups boiling water, butter the size of an egg. In another pan, stir together one cup white sugar, one cup raisins, one-half teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon cinnamon, one cup flour, one teaspoon baking powder, three-fourths cup sweet milk, beat well. Pour the syrup on top and bake one-half hour.

Mrs. Clarence Anderson, California.

Christmas Fruit Cake.
Put in a pan two cups brown sugar, two-thirds cup lard, two cups cold water, two cups raisins, two cups currants, one teaspoon salt, two teaspoons cinnamon, one teaspoon cloves, one-half teaspoon nutmeg. Boil three minutes and cool. Then add one-half cup of chopped lemon, orange, or citron peel, two teaspoons soda stirred in three teaspoons warm water. Sift four cups flour with one teaspoon baking powder, add to the batter, and lastly put in one and one-half cups chopped nuts. Bake one and one-half hours in a moderately slow oven in a large angel food tin.

Mrs. E. L. Yates, Omaha. Holiday recipes should be sent in for printing at once, many cooks will have already made their holiday goodies. Cakes, cookies, puddings, pies, stuffings for fowl, may we print your proudest recipes?

White Cake.
Mix one cup sugar and one-half cup shortening with the hands until very creamy, add a little from one cup water, then a little from two cups of flour or a trifle over, alternating and keeping smooth. Sift into the flour two teaspoons baking powder and a pinch of salt. Lastly add three stiffly beaten egg whites and flavoring to taste.

Mrs. E. T. Woolery, sr. Onion Soup with Toast and Cheese.

Cook six medium sized onions, chopped fine, in two tablespoons fat until yellow. Add one pint boiling water and simmer twenty minutes or until tender. Add one quart of meat broth. Blend four tablespoons cold water with four tablespoons flour, stir in some of the hot soup, mix well and add to the soup. Put in salt and pepper to taste, cook a few minutes. Pour the soup into bowls or plates, place on top of each a slice of toasted bread, sprinkle with finely grated cheese and serve at once.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Three major drouths have taken place in this country since the keeping of weather records was started about one hundred years ago. The first of these commenced around 1830 and continued for ten years. The second began in 1838 and lasted until 1896. The third originated in 1930 and persists up to the present time.

These drouths seem to have started at well spaced, regular intervals. The two earlier ones were briefly broken during their course. The second drouth was interrupted by fairly abundant rainfall in 1892, but was most severe in 1894-95. Both were followed by years of comparatively heavy rainfall.

No one knows what caused the present drouth or how long it will last. It was not started by lake drainage, intensive cultivation, or radio broadcasting. Weather experts all agree that rainfall depends on atmospheric mass motion rather than on ponds and forests. They add that the country will not turn into a desert.

The popular fallacy that the works of man affect the weather goes back to the time of Columbus. The famous navigator was once quoted as saying that cutting down trees on the western part of Jamaica had resulted in the lessening of afternoon storms.

One authority on climate has the courage to predict that we may receive much cooler summers by 1939 or 1940. Meanwhile, we shall have to expect some more spring dust storms, and another small winter wheat harvest in 1937.

Saturday's Crowd Large.

Each Saturday brings a large crowd to Ord, and the people come from a long distance. Since the coming of the auto this tendency to travel far from home has grown by leaps and bounds. In a single trip around the square Saturday the writer saw the following counties represented in the auto numbers: 1, 2, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, 25, 36, 37, 41, 46, 47, 49, 56, 62, 75, 81, 83, 84, 88, making twenty-two counties in all, or nearly one-fourth of the entire state. There were also out-state cars from South Dakota, Illinois, California, Colorado, and Missouri. The location of Ord may have something to do with this, but it takes more than just that. Ord must have something that other towns of like size cannot offer.

LIQUOR STORE In New Location

Our liquor store, formerly located in the Haskell building on the south side of the square, is now in new quarters in the old State Bank building, across the street north of the Farmers Store. We invite our old customers and many new ones to visit us there.

Complete stock of Wines, Whiskies, Gin and Liqueurs of all kinds for your approval.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parks of Atkinson, were Ord visitors Sunday.

—Dwight W. Keyes, manager of the Brown-McDonald store, was a Kearney visitor Thursday evening.

—Pike Hill and wife left Friday for Basin, Wyo., where they will make their future home. Pike has a job there as linotype operator.

—Pillow case and scarf set, to imbroder, regular price $1.00, special for Friday and Saturday, 75c. Stoltz Variety Store.

—Speaking of men who deceive their looks, nobody would think that Ira D. Lindsey will be 82 years old on next Sunday, Nov. 29, but he will.

—Mrs. E. H. Petty and daughter Joyce went to Omaha Friday morning where she will assist her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Staple, to move to their new location.

—Gust Rose, who is a very active man in spite of his eighty odd years, left Friday for Hooper, Neb., where he will spend some time visiting his halfbrother, Chas. Hansen.

—Mrs. L. L. Oliver left Friday morning for her home at Escondido, Calif., after an extended visit here. She was taken as far as Grand Island by Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oliver and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stichter and his sister Mrs. Hove of Tacoma, Wash., left Friday for Nettleton, Mo., to visit their son, Charles Stichter, and daughters Hazel Foley and Nettie Leedom. They will be gone about three weeks.

—Charles Bals sent two cars of fat cattle to Omaha last Sunday, he and Mrs. Bals following the same day by auto. He hit a good market and disposed of the offering to advantage. They returned home Monday.

—Mamie Young, U. B. minister, was in Lincoln from Monday to Thursday attending a series of services in the city wide Gospel Tabernacle, and hearing sermons by Dr. Bruce Corbin. She reports the meetings of great interest.

—Robert Psota, Forrest Watson and Frank Jobst went to Omaha with cattle by truck last Sunday. Their cattle struck a fair market Monday.

—From the Calamus country comes a report of seeing a seven prong buck near the river a few days ago. The animal was so tame that the observers got within fifty yards of him, which was close enough to count the prongs.

A deer of this size is not usual in the sand hill country. The same party that saw this one saw six does, but they were further away.

—Mrs. Herbert Schmidt and son Robert were over from Broken Bow Saturday evening to take Herbert home for an over Sunday visit. A little later Mr. Schmidt plans on moving his family here.

—L. W. Wilkerson, mail clerk on the Ord-Grand Island run, has been taking his vacation the past week. He and his wife and son are visiting her people in Missouri.

—Ralph Norman went down to Red Cloud Friday to represent Dwain Williams of Arcadia in a suit brought for divorce by his wife, who now lives in Webster county. Mrs. Williams was granted her divorce, Mr. Norman getting a very satisfactory settlement.

—John Godard, formerly manager of the Brown-McDonald store in Ord, writes friends that he has opened a department store at Grant's Pass, Ore., about three weeks ago and is doing a remarkably good business. Grant's Pass is a city of about 5,000 population.

—Friends of the Goddard family, who left Ord in August, will be glad to learn that they like their new location so well.

—Mr. and Mrs. Daryl K. Hardenbrook, of Fremont, drove to Ord Saturday evening and Monday.

Daryl went to work in the composing room of the Quiz office where he may have permanent employment. He learned the printing trade in Ord but lately has been employed by a Fremont printing plant. Mrs. Hardenbrook returned Sunday to Fremont, where she is employed in the office of an attorney.

—Pillow case and scarf set, to imbroder, regular price $1.00, special for Friday and Saturday, 75c. Stoltz Variety Store.

—Col. E. C. Weller, of Atkinson, came to Ord last Thursday and the next day was chief auctioneer at the big farm sale held by B. B. Cummins at his Davis Creek farm.

The sale was a hummer, grossing about $4,500. The Cummins family have moved to the E. C. Weller house in Ord, formerly occupied by the C. F. Grankemeyer family.

—Last week Mrs. Will Preston of North Loup lost a purse containing some money on the streets of Ord, and advertised the same in the Quiz. Friday Mrs. Axel Jorgensen saw the ad and reported to the Quiz that she had found the purse on the street and was watching the Quiz to see who had lost it. So the finder found the owner and everybody is happy, just through the use of a little Quiz want ad.

—Toys and gift items suitable for each one on your Christmas list, now on display.

—Mrs. Gertrude Kelly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grabowski, is here for a visit with her parents and other relatives. She flew from Boston to Grand Island, her parents going down Sunday to bring her home. It is two years since she last visited here. She came in and ordered the Quiz so that she can keep in touch with events in her old home.

—Elroy Bohannon returned Saturday from his visit to Iowa. While there he had an opportunity to see crop conditions in the northwest counties of the state. He says the corn there is so poor that it did not even make good ensilage, and the oats crop was mostly cut off by grasshoppers. Further south in the neighborhood of Marshalltown the people complain of having no crop, but some of the corn, there is making as high as sixty bushels per acre.

—Miss Clara McClatchey reports visiting two schools last week which were celebrating patrons' day, which is a part of American Education week. District 40 was one of these schools. They featured a rhythm band which was very cleverly planned and executed, music to the edification of the pupils as well as the visitors. In the other school the children put on a puppet show. Miss Mildred Hrdy is the teacher of this school, No. 30, and Aloha Stewart teaches in No. 40.

—Sunday was an eventful day for Mrs. W. W. Haskell, as it was her 78th birthday. A little birthday party was arranged for her at her son John's home. Other guests were Mrs. W. H. Carson and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Greenfield. Most of all her pleasures she enjoyed that day, she appreciated especially a telegram she received from her grandson, David Lindberg, who is attending school at the Institute of Technology near Boston, Mass. This is a military school and young Lindberg is in his second year there. Mrs. Haskell recalls that she spent her first birthday in Valley county in Ord just 55 years ago, and she has spent most of them here since that time. She also remembers that it was shortly after that time, in March, 1882, that Ord's first great fire occurred, in which five of the principal buildings of the then young town were completely destroyed. Among them were Harter's store, Stacy's meat market, and a new three-room law office belonging to A. M. Robbins. It is doubtful if a dozen people now living here can recall the fire or all the people who owned the buildings, especially Mr. Harter.

Kerchal-Dansky.

At 3:30 p. m., Wednesday, Nov. 18, at the Methodist parsonage in Ord, occurred the beautiful wedding of Edward R. Kerchal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kerchal, and Marie Dansky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dansky, of Hay Springs, Neb. The bride was beautifully attired in a white satin gown with long sleeves and a standup collar with rosettes of white pearl at the neck, and a three yard train swept the floor. She wore a white lace hat with a crown of white net, a beautiful veil was attached to the hat. She carried a bouquet of white calla lilies. The bridesmaids, Evelyn Dansky of Rushville, sister of the bride, and Louise Petska, of Ord, were charmingly adorned in satin formal dresses of Peacock blue, wearing elbow gloves and gold hats. They wore corsages of gold chrysanthemums. The flower girls, Eldine Hybl, niece of the groom, and Dona Gene Price, cousin of the bride were dressed in white taffeta dresses, carrying bouquets of gold chrysanthemums. The groom was dressed in a dark suit, as were his attendants, Virgil Rose, of Rushville, and Adam Dubas, of Ord. Mrs. Mearl C. Smith played the wedding march as a prelude to the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Mearl C. Smith.

At 6:45 at the Rudolph Kerchal home a sumptuous wedding dinner was served to the immediate relatives and intimate friends. The table was tastefully decorated for the occasion, with gold for the color scheme, with a center piece, a lovely wedding cake, which included a bridal arch across the top, and eight lovely candles which were lighted during the meal. The couple received many lovely and useful gifts, which attest their popularity in the community. In the evening a wedding dance was held at the Z. C. B. J. hall, which was very largely attended.

Mr. Kerchal grew to manhood in this community, and received his education in the schools here. For nearly ten years he has been employed by the Ord Co-operative creamery, a position which he has filled with credit to himself and the highest satisfaction of his employers. His bride made her home in Alliance nearly all her life, and attended the schools at that place. Since coming here last August she has been employed in the Springer Variety store. Their many friends unite in wishing them the best of life's blessings.

Entertains Friends.

Miss Agnes Viner entertained several girl friends at her home Monday in honor of Miss Elsie Simmons, who is leaving in a few days. Those present were Margaret Keller, Evelyn Lott and Tillie Urban. A midnight lunch was served.

Women Faculty Members Entertained.

The women faculty members of the Ord public schools were entertained at a Thanksgiving party at the home of Mrs. C. C. Shepard, Misses Thelma Ludlow, Ellen Servine, and Bernice Slotz, were the hostesses for the occasion. Bridge and rook were played and favors of pine cone turkeys were presented to the guests.

Theater Party.

A party was held Saturday at the Ed C. Whelan home in honor of Edward, Jr., eight years old. Several little guests were treated first to a theater party, and then went home with Edward and were served refreshments.

Extension Club Tuesday.

The Tuesday Extension club met in a Kensington Tuesday at the Kenneth Draper home. There were two guests, Mrs. Mike Kosmata and Mrs. Kenneth Jensen.

Thanksgiving Greetings.

Mrs. J. P. Barta, Martha Mae, and Mrs. C. Fuson were delightfully surprised Sunday evening when they received a long distance phone call from Merritt H. Fuson, now located in Butte, Mont. Mrs. Fuson happened to be at her daughter's home so all three got to visit with him for a short time.

Entertain at Bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Dye entertained four tables of bridge Sunday night. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roe, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Arvin Dye, Mr. and Mrs. Don Miller, and Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jensen.

B. and P. Women's Club Meets.

The Ord Business and Professional women's club met Tuesday evening at the Thorné Cafe. Barbara Dale was a guest of the club and told of the class of seniors who worked in the various business places two weeks ago. Different members also gave talks on the work done by seniors who worked in their places of business. As usual a splendid dinner was enjoyed.

Entertained at Dinner.

Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller entertained at dinner Saturday night. The following were guests: Robert Helvey, of Sheridan, Wyo., Richard Armstrong, of Sabetha, Kas., Miss Martha Mae Barta, Miss Mary Williams and C. J. Mortensen.

The Ceska Beseda club will hold its regular meeting Friday, Nov. 27.

Patrons and students of Springdale school will hold a social gathering at the school house Friday evening sponsored by the 4-H and ladies Kensington clubs and the public is invited.

The study circle of the Methodist church met with Mrs. George D. Walker Tuesday afternoon. Sixteen were present. Refreshments were served.

The Social Forecast.

The Royal Neighbors meet next Friday night.

The American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary meet next Tuesday night.

The Delta Deck club meets with Mrs. Ed Holub at Elyria, Tuesday Dec. 1.

Ord Contractors meet next Sunday with the L. B. Fenner at Burwell.

The P. E. O. meets next Monday night.

An invitation Thanksgiving dance will be held at the K. of P. hall tonight.

Woodman Hall

A great deal of real estate exchanged hands last Thursday and again Sunday but it was a give and take free for all. Although our real estate is taken from us we still remain on the tax list.

Thomas Waldmann lost one of his work horses last Sunday with his impact. Although the veterinarian was called out to the farm twice nothing could be done to save him.

Last Thursday Rudolph Vodehnal returned home from Mitchell, Neb., where he was employed several weeks.

Glen Bruner trucked two loads of wood for Frank Sestak and Jos. Kamarad the first of the week. They still have several loads to haul from the Cech place near the Jungman hall.

Frank and Joe Sestak are enjoying a visit from a brother and his family from Prague, Okla., this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waldmann and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Rudolf John and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kriak and sons were supper guests at Will Waldmann's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Waldmann and son Paul and daughter Mildred and Albert Kamarad were inner guests at Joe Kamarad's Sunday.

The Kotrc orchestra of Sargent played for a masquerade dance at the National hall Sunday night. An unusually large number of masks turned out to enjoy the merriment. Evelyn Parkos and Verna Krahulik dressed as pill-primers received 1st prize, Mrs. Frank Mottl and Elmer Parkos as Uncle Sam and soldier took 2nd, Mrs. Jim Tonar and Mrs. Frank Hruby as Scotch couple 3rd, Nadine Urban and Lorene Volt as a Chinese couple took 4th, Mrs. Ed Lukesh and Mrs. Mraz as butter-knives 5th, and Janac boys dressed as Indians 6th.

Siler Killed Two Elk.

Grant Siler of Burke, S. D., son of Ed Siler, once well known in Ord, and a friend named Pete Peterson went to Custer, S. D., during the recent hunting season and each was lucky enough to get an elk. They also hunted deer, but could not get close enough to them for a good shot because of the snow. They got the elk on the last day of the hunt. While they were returning home with an elk on each front fender of the car, the front springs broke and the car turned over three times near Rapid City, damaging the machine, but the men escaped with minor bruises. They reported three hundred hunting, but most of them save it up for a bad job on account of the snow.

Five Officials Here Have Records Of Long Service to City, County

Ord and Valley county have long had a reputation of being a satisfactory place in which to live, but did it ever occur to you that it is also a good place in which to work and that many of those who work in Ord are making real records for long and satisfactory service. For a single individual to roll up a service record for ten years or more often calls for special comment in the local papers, but in Ord we find no less than four who have far surpassed that record, and one county official is near the top in point of service.

Valley county's official who has made good for a long period is George Round, who was elected to the office of sheriff in the fall of 1918, and is now rounding out the eighteenth year on the job. In that time he has become recognized as one of the most able and sensible enforcement officials in the entire state and wherever you go they all know George.

In point of public service the pal mmust of course go to A. J. (Bud) Shirley, who record with the Ord fire department, most of it as chief, is so long that it would require a lot of time to find out just when it began. However, it is safe to say that his record is ahead of that of any fireman in Nebraska, and possibly any in the United States. In fact, this record will be checked up to find for a fact if Bud isn't the day of them all in the whole U. S. A.

But it is not only in this respect that Bud is entitled to consideration as an old timer. He hauled express for the city for a decade or two in the early days, and when the park board needed a man upon whom they could depend to make a real park out of the tract of land that Uncle Jimmy Bussell had donated for the purpose, they called upon Bud, and he has been at it ever since. The first entry in the city records which indicates that Bud was working in this capacity was back in September, 1918 although it is possible that he worked on the park before that time. Anyway, this gives him more than eighteen years as park police and more than twice that much time as fire chief.

W. H. Barnard, according to the records, drew his first pay as cemetery sexton at a meeting held July 2, 1914. As this was for the month of June, this would make him a full 22½ years in the service of the city, except that for a time about 1918 he took the job at the park. However, he preferred his job in the cemetery, and has been there ever since. John Work was mayor at the time of Barnard's first appointment, although it is uncertain whether the sexton was regularly appointed at that time, or just hired to do the work.

Next in the order of long service for the city of Ord comes Roy Pardue, who was appointed night watch at the opening of the fiscal year 1919, or to be exact at the first meeting in May. Jim Misko was the mayor at that time and after much deliberation the council appointed Roy for the job, there being several other applicants. That they made no mistake is shown by the fact that Roy has held the job steadily ever since, and there has never been any question of getting another man.

Len Covert started his long tenure of office as marshal of Ord on May 2, 1924, being appointed by J. C. Rogers, who was mayor at that time. He has held the position to the satisfaction of all concerned, and so far as the writer knows, he is likely to continue to hold it so long as he cares for the job. While a comparatively young man for a law enforcement official when he started he made good from the

There is the list, and the record is one for any town or county to envy. If any other town in the state can even approach this record, we are willing to be shown.

Harold Benn Honored. Harold W. Benn was given the Alpha Beta award at the Nebraska Agricultural college for attaining the highest freshman scholastic rating last year. Approximately fifty students were recognized at the annual honors convocation. Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benn, of Ord, and his work in the Ord schools was also outstanding.

The weather has been too mild during the weeks when Winter Coats ordinarily sell the fastest, consequently women haven't bought as rapidly as usual and we are overstocked with coats. There are four months of winter weather ahead and in giving you these great price reductions now instead of at the end of the season we give you an opportunity to enjoy your new coat, bought at a saving, practically all winter.

The original prices are clearly marked on each tag so you can be sure of the value you get. All the important styles of the season are included and you will find your favorite fur trimmings.

Sizes 14 to 20, 36 to 50 are included.

BURWELL NEWS

Bum Philipps was canvassing the Ord territory the first part of the week in his new Chevrolet, looking for furs to buy. In the past two years he has built up a fine business in this line.

An every member canvass is being carried on this week by the committee of the Christian church, the idea being to get a line on conditions for 1937. It is hoped this will be completed by Dec. 1.

Three Burwell young men, Frank Iwanski, Leonard Snyder and Harley Owens, narrowly escaped serious injury or worse when a car they were driving up from Scotia failed to make a turn in the highway just below the Ord fairgrounds and turned over. Frank was caught beneath the side of the car, and pinned down until the car could be lifted. He is still in considerable pain, and at first internal injuries were feared. However, it is likely that he will get along all right as nothing serious has developed. The car was somewhat damaged, but the boys managed to take it to Burwell under its own power.

Maralee Anderson, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Anderson, is quite seriously ill at home, and under the care of a trained nurse. Her trouble seems to be the result of using serum to prevent the mumps.

Burwell's new school building is now completely enclosed, permitting the workmen to carry on operations inside despite weather conditions. The work is progressing as well as the contractor, Oscar Alquist has hoped for, and the building will doubtless be ready for use by the start of the second semester of school, about the middle of January.

Leland Pierce, who joined the navy some months ago, is home for a twelve day furlough. He is looking fine and has been gaining weight steadily ever since he left. He is stationed at the Great Lakes training school, and will be headed for sea in about three weeks. So far he has not taken part in any of the school's athletic activities except on the swimming team. He says that new men are coming in at the rate of about two hundred per month.

Eighteen or twenty young people of the Burwell Methodist church together with the minister, J. Bruce Wylie and wife, went up to Chambers Sunday evening and put on the evening service at the church there.

Glenn Hazard and Mabel Sybrant of Bassett appeared before Judge Ben Rose Wednesday afternoon and obtained the necessary permit to marry. The judge then took them to the W. L. Goodell

45 Holstein and Guernsey Heifers, Many Turkeys, Keep Ed Pocock Busy Even Though His Corn Crop Was Failure

Due to the drouth this summer the corn crop on most farms was a failure and Ed Pocock's farm was no exception but lack of corn picking work hasn't given Ed a fall vacation, as a visit to his Maiden Valley Stock Farm proved a few days ago.

For weeks reports of his fine herd of Holstein and Guernsey heifers have been coming in and this visit proved that such reports have not been exaggerated, for the herd is as fine as can be found anywhere.

There are 34 of the Holsteins, all well and evenly marked, making it difficult to pick out the best from the rest. The same held good for the Guerneys, a breed not so common in this section but rapidly increasing in popularity.

Mr. Pocock got these heifers from Wisconsin last spring, planning on selling them to other farmers who want to develop their milk herds, but when the drouth struck he decided to hold them over until times are more favorable. Care of this fine herd occupies a good share of Mr. Pocock's time.

Recently a man wrote from Idaho wanting to buy three carloads of milk stock but this is rather too large a single order to fill on short notice, and besides Mr. Pocock would like to see these heifers all stay in Valley county and build up milk production in local herds.

To date the cattle have been getting along mostly on roughage but during the winter they will get some cotton cake and possibly other feeds. The proportion of one pound of cake per animal per day is the amount recommended and the one which Mr. Pocock probably will use. He will feed it in bunks, though out in the range country they usually take out a sack on horseback and string it over the prairie, claiming that the cattle get every bit of it.

All his heifers will be fresh in the spring and one can imagine that Ed then will be really busy, milking 45 cows per day, unless he should sell part of them.

On the day the Quiz reporter called Mr. Pocock had been cutting wood all morning, or at least he claimed he had, to make a good showing before company.

Turkeys are another specialty on the Pocock farm and he had 40 or more, all very fine birds. They were recently weighed and fifteen of the gobblers were found to weigh better than 20 pounds, the largest weighing 26. The largest of the hens weighed 16 pounds. Mr. Pocock found it necessary to put fencing around the chimneys of his house as the turkeys fly up on the roof and recently one knocked a brick down inside and smoked the inmates out of the house. There is a large cottonwood in the Pocock yard and the birds roost in it, making their way to the very top. The bronze turkey, as it is commonly known, was developed from the wild American variety and when allowed too much freedom will revert to its wild ways. Wild turkeys are not uncommon along the Niobrara river and in the territory around Halsey and it is hoped that in time they will become common again. The gobblers in Mr. Pocock's flock frequently stage fierce battles, although they seldom get hurt.

Tuesday evening a social evening was enjoyed by upwards of 100 people, neighbors of the Bert Cummins family at the United Brethren church. Captains were selected and they chose up sides for an old fashioned spell down which was enjoyed by all.

The losing side put on a program consisting of a reading by Gwendolyn Fritsch, although she was one of the winners, recitations by Mrs. Carol Palser, Clifford Collins and Chris Larsen. John Howe told a story which caused much merriment. Vivian and Waunetta Cummins sang a duet accompanied at the piano by Ina Collins. A lunch of sandwiches, cake, pickles and coffee was served. Everyone seemed to have a good time.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Palser and children were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beck of Scotia Sunday, at a family dinner, it being her father's 69th birthday. All of their children and their families were present, also all of Mr. Beck's brothers and sisters. 4 sisters had just recently returned from Pennsylvania where they visited the old home place. They brought back many pictures which all enjoyed. Seven years ago one of these sisters visited Mr. Beck and that was the first time she had seen her, although she is much older than he. When Mr. Beck's parents came to Pennsylvania from Denmark this sister had worked and did not come with the family. Mr. Beck was born in this country and when this sister came from Denmark Mr. Beck had moved west.

Turkey Day Will Close Grid Season. The Loup Valley football season will come to a close on Thursday when a number of final games are to be played. Taylor ends the season with Burwell on the Burwell field. Scotia goes against North Loup on the North Loup field in what appears to be an unusually good game. Broken Bow plays the lid down on the 1936 season in a game with the powerful Ansley eleven.

Comstock will attempt to raise one more notch in the conference standings as they play their annual Turkey Day game with Coach Tuning's Arcadians on the Arcadia field. Ord plays Loup City on Thanksgiving for the championships of both the Loup Valley and Mid Six conferences.

NEW 1937 STUDEBAKER challenges all cars in gas economy!

STUDEBAKER DEFLATES GAS MILEAGE CLAIMS!

STUDEBAKER cars have made magnificent records in gasoline economy. But you don't care about records achieved under special circumstances. You want to know what good, bad and indifferent drivers get under average conditions!

O. K. We will tell you! Studebaker hired Facts, Inc., a business research organization, to question 500 owners of each of the ten most popular makes of automobiles (1936 models). Each driver was asked: "What gasoline mileage do you get?"

The best showing was made by Studebaker. Owners of the Dictator, with overdrive, testified to an average of 18.166 miles per gallon. Even the most popular lightest weight, lowest priced cars used more gas per mile.

Without overdrive, the Studebaker Dictator showed 17.199 miles per gallon—which is better than one of the two most popular, lowest priced cars.

STUDEBAKER'S CHALLENGE! No other standard make of car can beat the gas mileage of the Dictator equipped with automatic overdrive in the hands of the average driver under ordinary conditions.

Col. E. C. Weller, of Atkinson, was an Ord visitor Monday.

F. E. McQuillan and Murray Nelson drove to Broken Bow Monday on business.

Decorated cake and bread boxes, 98c. Stoltz Variety Store.

Dr. F. L. Blessing drove to Crete Wednesday after his daughter, Charlotte, who will spend the Thanksgiving vacation at her home here.

After spending several days with Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Weekes and other relatives and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oliver and infant daughter Judith Lee returned Sunday to their home at Onawa, Ia.

Thelma Anderson, who has been employed by Dr. George A. Parkins for the past six months received an urgent message calling her back to her home in Marcus, Ia. She left at once, and Maxine Johnson is taking her place with Dr. Parkins.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Z. Marks and sons Leonard and Donald recently returned from a trip they took to Idaho. They went out primarily to visit Mr. Mark's sister, Minnie Lyons, who lives at Idaho Falls. The men took the opportunity to pick up potatoes raised under irrigation, and liked the job, after the first few days. The potato crop was good, and there was plenty of work while it lasted. However there were a lot of people from the outside, which shortened the work season. Joe says he likes irrigation. The farmer they worked for got two carloads of first grade potatoes of five acres, then filled his cellar from the remaining 8 1/2 acres and had 1300 sacks of No. 1 potatoes left over. While they were away they paid a visit to Yellowstone Park.

Located at Kearney.

A letter from R. D. Poochok who is with the Department of Roads and Irrigation, states that he has been moved from Ansley to Kearney, where he will be located for some time. He is there on a project on U. S. No. 30. He states that while the project is only 1,200 feet long, it will cost nearly $42,000.00 on account of a large drainage structure.

Two Conference Titles at Stake When Ord Chanticleers Face Loup City

Game Today Will Attract Biggest Crowd in Prep Football History.

Season's Records Show Teams Equal

Loup City Has Big Weight Advantage, Brockman Boys Are Speedier Team.

"Lick Loup City! On to the Mid Six and Loup Valley championships!" These are the passwords to the Chanticleer football camp this week as the undefeated Ord eleven prepares for the closing game of the year at Loup City on Thanksgiving. School spirit and enthusiasm is running at a white-hot peak as the Red and White prepares for the decisive battle today and rightfully so, for the Ord-Loup City clash will not decide the winner of one championship race—but two—both the Mid Six and Loup Valley conferences. This will be the second time in less than five years that the annual Ord-Loup City game on Thanksgiving has been a deciding game in the selecting of conference winners.

Loup City Leading.
Loup City is leading the Mid Six conference in its first year of play with an unbeaten record in conference games. The Ord eleven is unbeaten but has marked on its record a scoreless tie with St. Paul in the second game of the season. In the Loup Valley conference Ord and Loup City are tied for the lead, the games not being considered in the computing of standings, however in case of a victory over the Chanticleers, the Brownies will undoubtedly be handed the Loup Valley as well as the Mid Six championship title.

Teams Well Matched.
The game is regarded as a "natural" by the fans and are predicting the winner by the flip of a coin. Loup City, with a line that will average well over 170 pounds, holds an overwhelming weight advantage over the Brockman squad. However the Chanticleers plan to even this up by the use of their well known speed. The Ord eleven is considered by many as the fastest, shiftest team in either conference.

In games between the two teams during the past twelve years, the teams are now at a deadlock, each team having won four games, lost four games and tied four games.

Will Be At Full Power.
With the return of Clark Plants to the line-up, Loup City will be at full power for the game. Plants, one of the best interference running backs in the Valley injured his knee in the Loup City-Broken Bow game and has been out of the line-up ever since, but from all reports he is now back and is as strong as ever.

Ord has no seriously injured men on the list and will take to the field also at full power. Loup City has been resting for a period of two weeks in preparation for the decisive game while the Ordites were forced to use their entire first string throughout the game with Sargent last week.

Watch Spelts.

Dick Spelts, Loup City's slippery quarterback who has been running rough shod over everything in sight this year is regarded as the outstanding individual performer of the Brownlee team and is the man to "watch". He can kick, pass, or plunge equally well and is widely known for his broken field running. In the Loup City-Broken Bow contest, Spelts took a punt on his 11 yard line, reversed his field and stepped off 89 yards unassisted to give Loup a 14-0 win over the Indians. Ed Augustyn and Harold Maciejewski, two 180 pound tackles, are also slated to bear some watching from the Chanticleers, these two players being the "spark plugs" of the Loup line.

Season's Scores Even.

In figuring up comparative scores we find that Loup City trampled St. Paul 20-6, while the Chanticleers were held to a scoreless tie by the Apostles. Loup City nosed out a last minute 13 to 7 win over Ravenna while the Chanticleers won over the Ramenites easily by a score of 26 to 0. Arcadia was a tough team for either eleven to overcome, both teams winning out over Arcadia by a 6-0 verdict. Ord ran over Burwell 33-6 while the best Loup City could do was a 21-0 decision. The Brownies tumbled Broken Bow 14-0 while the Chanticleers rolled up a 12-0 win.

In games played this year the Chanticleers have chalked up 103 points in 7 games for an average of 15 points per game. The Brownies have rolled up a total of 138 points in eight games for an average of 17 points per game. Forty-five points have been scored against Loup City during the season's play and Ord has been scored on only once for a total of six points.

Six Play Final Game.
As the Chanticleers take the field against the Brownies, six seniors will be playing their last football for Ord high. Those winding up their prep football careers tomorrow are Richard Burrows, tackle; Charles Dlugosh, guard; Gerald Clark, halfback; Dean Barta, end; Harold Haskell, fullback, and Elno Zikmund, center.

Huge Crowd Expected.
One of the largest crowds in Loup Valley football history is expected to attend the Thanksgiving Day game at Loup City. It is expected that over 100 cars from Ord alone will make the trip to Loup City Thursday afternoon while other towns in the valley, although they don't have a team entered in the championship play, are also

Winner Today Will Be Tops In Central Nebraska!

ORD HIGH SCHOOL CHANTICLEERS

LOUP CITY BROWNIES

They're tops in both conferences! These two teams will have it out at Loup City today in their annual Thanksgiving Day clash. Loup City is leading the Mid-Six conference in its first year of competition, with an unbeaten record in conference games. Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord high school Chanticleers are unbeaten but have a tie marked across their record. A win over Loup City will give them the title, in the Loup Valley conference, Ord and Loup City are tied for the lead, tie games not being considered in percentage standings, so the Turkey Day contest will also decide the winner of this conference.

expecting to attend the game in large numbers.

Sargent Puts Up Stubborn Defense, Ord Lucky to Win

Blocked Punt Recovered In Sargent End Zone Gives Ord 6-0 Victory.

Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord Chanticleers experienced considerable difficulty in nosing out a 6-0 victory over a determined Sargent eleven on the Sargent gridiron last Friday night.

Play by both teams was ragged, a heavy wind making anything but straight football impossible. The Chanticleers evidently had an "off night" as they drove deep into the Sargent territory five times only to be held by a stout Sargent defense. The ball was in Sargent territory almost the entire game, Sargent going into the Ord zone only once and then only to the 34 yard line.

Blocks Punt For Touchdown.
Ord's lone score came late in the fourth quarter when a Sargent

Third Quarter.
Again Ord kicked off and Sargent returned to their twenty-nine. Two plays totaled five yards and they punted. Sargent broke through to block the punt but the ball rolled up to the thirty-eight where a Sargent player fell on it, making it first and ten on the thirty-eight. A gain of two yards. No gain. Punt. Ord returned to their forty-three and passed. The pass was completed, gaining Ord a first down on the Sargent thirty-six. Ord fumbled and Sargent recovered on their forty-two. They gained two yards but fumbled and lost nine yards. Punt. Ord returned only to their twenty-one. First play netted nine yards. Next five. An incomplete pass. A ten yard run gained a first down on their forty-five. Ord added three yards. An incomplete pass. A line smash for two yards. Punt. Sargent returned to their thirty and gained three yards on the next two plays. Punt. Ord returned to their thirty-seven. They gained four yards and attempted two passes, both incomplete. Ord attempted to punt but fumbled and Sargent recovered on Ord's thirty-four. A run gained six yards. A one yard loss. As the quarter ended, Sargent attempted a short pass which was incomplete.

Fourth Quarter.
Sargent tried another pass which was incomplete. Punt. Ord broke through to block the punt and recovered on their thirty-four. Two plays added three yards. A penalty of five yards. Punt. Sargent was forced back to their twenty-seven. A loss of three yards, gained it back and punted. A brilliant return by the Ord quarter

Ord Grid Players See Huskers Play

Forty Ord high football players made their annual trip to Lincoln Saturday and saw the Huskers trample Kansas State 40-0 at Memorial Stadium. The trip to Lincoln was made in cars driven by local men. Those taking cars were: Mr. Marks, Mr. Hitchman, Mr. Wolf, Ronald Rose, Mr. Zikmund, Emil Darges, Mr. Weekes, Ed Beranek, Mr. Melia and Mr. James.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

—Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Beuck moved to Gibbon last week, where Mr. Beuck has purchased a theater.
—C. E. Austin of near Burwell, was a Quiz visitor Wednesday, while attending to business matters in Ord, and joined our family of readers.
—Miss Luella Paddock, who has been employed in Omaha for the past two years, is at home for a Thanksgiving visit with her mother, Mrs. Daisy Paddock and family.

—Miss Luella Naab, night nurse at Hillcrest hospital, went to Burwell to spend Thanksgiving day with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Naab on their farm near Kent.
—Theron Beehrle received a letter from his son Clarence and grandson Ray, who are at Olympia, Wash. They tell of motor boating across the bay on a fishing trip, and Ray told his grandpa he would get a real thrill on a trip like that with the waves rolling and the seals following the boat all the way. Incidentally Theron did a little fishing himself Tuesday. He was fishing for fish, but the high wind kept the fish from biting and he tells a fact that when he pulled his line in he had a duck on it instead of a fish. Don't believe that one unless you want to.

—Mr. and Mrs. George D. Walker and family went to Broken Bow Wednesday afternoon where they will be joined by Mrs. Walker's brother, Jerry Edwards, the party then going on to Oconto to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Walker's parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Edwards.

—John K. Jensen has been moving houses all over Central Nebraska for the past thirty or more years and is still at it. He recently returned from Highland precinct in Garfield county, where he had finished moving a house for the Joe Dewey family. Some three weeks ago Mrs. Dewey who was going down to Burwell to meet her husband who was coming home on the train, started a fire in the kitchen stove before leaving so that the house would be warm when they returned. When they got back they found the house burned to the ground. In some manner the building had ignited, probably from sparks from the stove. The building John moved was a house on property belonging to the Ballagh estate.

—Earl Woolery, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Woolery returned Tuesday from Oregon where he has been working for some time. He says that there is no more work there this winter, but that he expects to return when work opens up in the spring.

—Mrs. Leslie Mason has received word that her father, J. A. Haggart, formerly of St. Paul, was seriously injured when struck down by an automobile at Bellflower, Calif. The report states that three ribs were fractured, puncturing a lung, and a leg was broken. Pneumonia is feared. He is being cared for at a hospital in Bellflower. Mr. Haggart had gone there to spend the winter as another daughter lives there. He is nearly 83 years of age.

—Leslie Mason was in Ord Wednesday to get Andrew Nielsen to go out to his place and straighten up his barn, which was blown partly over by the heavy wind Tuesday. Andrew said he would turn the barn around the other way so that the next wind would straighten it up.
