North Loup Given $156,500 By PWA, Work Will Start

2nd Grant Requisition Was Honored, All Obstacles to Early Start Gone.

E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the North Loup power and irrigation project, announces receipt Monday of a treasury warrant for $156,500.00 as a second grant requisition honored by the Public Works Administration, and said this removes all obstacles in the way of immediate starting work on the project.

Early last November the district got its first grant of $82,500, with which administrative and engineering costs were paid and construction started on the North Loup canal. The second grant of $156,500 will permit beginning of construction on the Taylor-Ord and Burwell-Sumter canals and completion of the Ord-North Loup canal, as well as manufacture of drainage structures needed on all canals.

At a contract letting Thursday morning directors of the district awarded the job of manufacturing tile and building drainage structures to the contracting firm of Orshak & Christensen, of Fremont, whose bid of $57,064.30 was lower than the bids of seven other contractors.

Fremont Firm Gets Contract.

This contract, as well as a contract for canal construction given in December to the Edward F. Morgan Co., Inc., of Jackson, Miss., was approved early this week by PWA officials in Omaha, who had delayed approval of the canal bid pending word from Washington that the PWA would release more money to the North Loup project. Receipt of funds Monday brought about immediate contract approval at Omaha.

Orshak & Christensen have been notified to get their tile making equipment on the ground and start work immediately, says Mr. Dunmire. He estimates that 20 men will be given employment in the tile manufacturing plant and about 30 men installing drainage structures by the Fremont firm.

Work to Start Soon.

The Mississippi contractor whose bid was low on canal construction is being notified this week to get his equipment on the ground and is expected to begin work within a brief period. This is a large firm and will start work simultaneously on all canals, hence will need considerable local labor, predicts Dunmire.

All "red japs" has now been slashed and prospects for work on the North Loup project to go ahead rapidly are excellent. Without doubt 200 to 300 men will be working within sixty days.

Valley Will Unite, Boost Station Bill

Communities of Ord, North Loup and Burwell all will be represented at Lincoln next Tuesday, March 9, when the unicameral bill No. 340 comes up before the agriculture committee for hearing at 2:00 p. m. President John P. Misko, of the Ord chamber of commerce, is hopeful that at least eight car loads of men will go from here while Burwell and North Loup promise three or four car loads each.

This bill, if passed, will appropriate from state funds $20,000 for establishment of a state-federal agricultural experiment station in the North Loup valley, something vitally important here with irrigation coming. Men making the trip to Lincoln hope to show, by their presence in large numbers and by oral testimony, that the whole upper North Loup valley is solidly behind the bill.

Senator Neubauer, chairman of the unicameral's agriculture committee, has promised to call the hearing in one of the largest hearing rooms in the capitol building so the North Loup delegation may be accommodated.

Anybody willing to make the trip is asked to enroll his name with President Misko.

Melia, Haskell Boys Popular Students

HAROLD MELIA.

The esteem in which Harold Haskell and Harold Melia were held by fellow students was proved Tuesday when high school classrooms were almost deserted during the funeral rites, which were held in the morning for Harold Melia and in the afternoon for Harold Haskell.

Although the high school did not dismiss all classes, students who wished to attend the funerals were permitted to do so and most students and many teachers did so. Both were seniors and their fellow class members attended in a body.

City Caucuses Called Tonight

Committees of Ord's two city political parties, the Citizens and Good Government, announce that both will hold their annual caucuses at 8:00 tonight in the American Legion hall. The Citizens will convene in the upper floor and the Good Government party in the basement rooms.

According to City Clerk Rex Jewett, the city officials whose terms expire this spring and for whom successors must be nominated at the caucuses and elected Tuesday, April 6, are Councilman A. J. Auble, A. Bartunek and Frank Sershen, and school board members, L. D. Milliken and Dr. F. L. Blessing.

Mr. and Mrs. Purcell Married 57 Years

Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Purcell may not look that old, but nevertheless they have been married a full 57 years. They were married at Winterset, Ia., Febr. 4, 1880. They spent the first 14 years of married life in Iowa, coming to Valley county in 1894. They lived for many years in Mira Valley, and since that time have made their home in Ord. Until he came to Ord Andy was a farmer, and a good one. Since then he has engaged in carpenter work, and still swings a wicked hammer, in spite of his 79 years. Mrs. Purcell is the same age, and neither of them look that old by at least ten years. They have two daughters, Mrs. J. Z. Marks of Mira Valley, and Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt of Ord.

—The Will Ollis family moved into the Sol Brox property just across the river north of Ord March 1, and Mr. Ollis took up his work with Hastings and Ollis Tuesday morning.

Spring Opening Is Being Announced By Ord Merchants

New Season's Merchandise All in Place, Windows Decorated for Spring.

Although spring doesn't officially begin until March 21 the arrival of spring merchandise has inspired Ord merchants to announce today that this week is Ord's official "spring opening" and the public is extended a cordial invitation, through the columns of today's Quiz, to visit Ord stores this week and see what spring has in store for men and women who want to be well dressed at Easter.

Almost without exception, Ord stores cooperate in this "spring opening" and are decorating their windows and the interior of their stores in harmony with the event.

Many new style notes are struck in women's apparel for spring. The tailored suit costume is revived as classic in every woman's wardrobe and all Ord stores are showing many of these, as well as the 3-piece swaggar suits, popular because of their adaptability to all weather conditions that spring may bring. Another new suit trend is the bolero jacket suit, cut to the waist or above the waist length. Cape suits are quite smart also.

Skirts Will Shorten.

Many women's coats this spring are "fitted," some are furred, others are not, many have belts and others are swaggar types. All are shown by the Ord stores.

Shorter skirts, lower necks, forms the new fashion formula for frocks. Street dresses are 13 inches from the floor and sport frocks are cut to 14 inch lengths. The shorter skirts call attention to new shoe colors and styling and colored handbags to match shoes are often carried. Gabardine is used in both shoes and handbags very smartly this spring.

Columns might be written about the new spring bonnets, so varied are the styles, but the best thing for every woman to do is to visit Ord this week and make the rounds of the stores.

Men's apparel also gets attention this week from Ord merchants. Three stores announcing arrival of new suits, hats, topcoats, shoes and accessories. Easter comes unusually early—March 23—and there is none too much time for selecting the spring outfit.

Jensen Nearly Loses Eye.

Arthur Jensen had a narrow escape from losing the sight of an eye Friday morning. As he went out to the barn he saw a board lying in the yard which he thought would make good kindling. He hit it with the ax and a part of it flew up, hitting his eye and bruising it badly. He came to town at once and had it examined. At present he is resting easily at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. P. K. Jensen in Ord. His eye is gradually improving, and he is able to see with it to a limited extent. He believes it will be as good as ever when the swelling subsides.

19 on Honor Roll For First Semester

Nineteen Ord high school students received positions on the first semester honor roll, announced Supt. Stoddard this week. Students to get this rating had a total of 4 A's or 3 A's and 1 B. Lorraine Kusek and Virginia Davis, senior and junior respectively, are both taking five subjects and deserve special mention for making at least 3 A's and two B's. The honor roll: Barbara Dale, Lorraine Kusek, Lillian Kusek, Elizabeth Smith, Virginia Davis, Opal Miller, Jane Ferguson, Wilma Kluna, Lillian Hrebec, Christina Petersen, Betty Vogelant, Shirley Schrader, Helen Work, Harry McBeth, Dean Misko, Irene Auble, Beverly Davis, Amelia Lola and LaVay Umstead.

Belers Sells Tractors.

Chris Belers reports the following sales of tractors so far this spring: Viggo Hansen of Arcadia, Twin City tractor; Henry Petroska, John Deere tractor; Jim Lipinski of Comstock, John Deere tractor and tractor plow; Jim Klanecky, John Deere tractor. To date business has been better than for some time, which is very encouraging.

Curran Here Next Week.

Edward P. Curran of Greeley, deputy revenue collector for this district, will be at the court house in Ord Thursday and Friday, March 11 and 12, to assist taxpayers with social security and income tax returns.

Hundreds Visited Scene of Wreck—Here's What They Saw

A Ford car torn, twisted and crushed... a truck so badly damaged that it probably never will run again... is what hundreds of curious motorists saw who visited the scene of the wreck in which Harold Melia and Harold Haskell were killed Sunday morning. The collision happened about 3-4ths of a mile south of Elyria, on a wide, straight highway. The car at the left was a sedan but the whole top was sheared off in the crash. The steel cab of the truck, mashed but not crushed in, probably saved the lives of the four young people who were riding in the front seat of the truck. The old Ford had no steel top to protect its occupants, which may be one reason two of them were killed and the other two terribly hurt. Photos by Lavern Duemey and John Ward.

Ord Cagers Will Not Compete In District Meet

Coach Helmut Brockman announced Monday afternoon that the Ord basketball team will be withdrawn from the regional tournament to be held at Hastings, starting Wednesday. This decision was made by the team members themselves, deciding against going because of the tragic death of one of their former friends and players. Communication with state headquarters gave forth the information that they would be exempt from all 250 actions governing withdrawal from state tournaments and that no other changes will be made in the tournament drawings. Grand Island which was to have been Ord's first opponent, will have a bye.

Driver Of Truck Is Held Blameless For 2 Fatalities

Accident Unavoidable, Jury Decides After Hearing Witnesses Monday.

The terrible accident in which two Ord high school students were killed and two other young people were seriously injured five miles north of Ord early Sunday morning was "unavoidable," decided a coroner's jury Monday afternoon, after hearing testimony for several hours. No blame should be attached to Richard Hughes, driver of the truck, the jury recommended.

Members of the jury were Frank Sershen, E. H. Petty, A. J. Cook, Charles Blessing, Leonard Parks and E. W. Gruber.

Witnesses interviewed by the jury included young Hughes, James Cetak, Bernice Ruzovski and Irene Ruzovski, occupants of the truck which crashed into a car driven by Harold Melia with the result that young Melia and Harold Haskell were killed and Eugene Puncocchar and Miss Oleta Rose seriously hurt.

All gave identical accounts of the collision.

Windshields Were Frosted.

They had attended a late show and the boys were taking the two Ruzovski girls to their home near Elyria, they related. The truck was going about 30 miles per hour, in Hughes' opinion, and about 35 according to Cetak, who said he had looked at the speedometer a moment or two before the crash. The truck windshield was frosted over on the right side but the driver's side was clear and young Hughes had an uninterrupted view of the road ahead. He saw the car coming but thought it farther away, he testified. His truck was well over toward the right side of the road when the collision occurred, he said, and this statement was substantiated by other members of the party.

The jury visited the Ord Hospital and talked to Eugene Puncocchar, who didn't know how fast the Melia car was traveling but thought it was about 40 miles per hour. He saw the truck coming and is sure Harold Melia, driver of the car saw it also, Eugene told the jury. Harold swerved farther toward the side of the road and just then the car seemed to hit a bump or ridge and swing back toward the center of the road, Eugene said. Just then the collision happened.

Other witnesses heard included Joe Dlugosh, to whose home Richard Hughes ran to summon assistance and who was one of the first people to reach the wreck, Frank Piskorski, who drove along soon afterward and helped carry Harold Melia to the Dlugosh home to await arrival of an ambulance, and Dr. F. A. Barta, who testified to condition of the young people when they were brought to the hospital. Orville Sowl and H. T. Frazier also gave testimony as to the injuries sustained by the two boys who were killed.

No Liquor Evidence.

The jury made an effort to run down rumors that Richard Hughes had been drinking beer before the accident but could find no evidence to substantiate such rumors. So far as the jury could determine liquor played no part in the

Annis Petersen On Big Island Farm Since 1882

When the Quiz reported that Archie Waterman had lived on the same section for 40 years last week, we started something, and in a little while a report came in to the effect that Annis Petersen has lived on the same farm up the Loup river near the big island for about 55 years, or since 1882. We have not seen Mr. Petersen this week, but have reason to believe that the report is true. If it is, he is doubtless the champion, as no one else has been reported to date with a longer tenure on one farm. If any subscriber thinks he can produce a man with a longer record than the above, the Quiz is ready to be convinced. When we find the man who has lived the longest on one place of any man in the county, we will have his picture in the Quiz.

Frank Piskorski Has Locker System

The modern cold storage locker system now being built and installed by Frank Piskorski in the former Ravenna Creamery building is attracting much local attention. It is the first of its kind to be put into practical use in Ord, and a number of people have already applied for lockers. The principle of the proposition is that of a huge refrigerator. This consists of two separate rooms, one containing the lockers and the other in which meat can be hung to cool. The temperature of the latter room is slightly above the freezing point, and it is provided with a butcher's block and other conveniences for cutting the meat into suitable pieces to store in the lockers. Meat brought in is allowed to cool for 48 hours if necessary before it is cut up. The owner then cuts it up, wraps it in cellophane and packs it in his locker. These lockers are 16 by 20 inches, with a depth of 30 inches and will hold about 400 pounds of meat if properly cut and packed. The temperature in the locker rooms is slightly above zero all the time, which is an absolute guarantee that the meat will remain fresh. Each locker is provided with an individual lock and keys, so that a man cannot get into any locker but his own. The rooms will consist of six walls with air spaces between, above, below and on all four sides, so that outside temperatures will not affect the temperature inside. At first Frank will install fifty to one hundred lockers, with an ultimate capacity of 500, in case they are needed.

Infant Daughter Dies.

Midnight Joy Ride Ended in Tragedy, Pain, For Group Of Popular Youngsters.

A midnight joy ride ended in tragedy early Sunday when Harold Haskell and Harold Melia, popular and prominent members of the senior class of Ord high school, were killed and six other Ord and Elyria young people were injured, two quite seriously, in an automobile-truck collision on No. 11 highway five miles north of Ord.

Coming toward Ord, a Ford car driven by Harold Melia collided almost head-on with a truck driven by Richard Hughes, who was accompanied by another boy and two girls.

The Melia car was literally torn to pieces by the impact, the top being stripped off and twisted at right angle to the chassis, all glass being broken and the frame and body mangled until the car was almost unrecognizable. Front axle of the truck was broken, front wheels torn off and left twenty feet behind the body, the cab crushed and the stock rack splintered.

Miracle Any Escaped.

How any of the passengers in either truck or car escaped death seems a miracle.

In the Melia car, besides the driver, were Eugene Puncocchar, Harold Haskell and Miss Oleta Rose.

Harold Melia 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Melia, was terribly cut and suffered internal injuries which caused his death within a few minutes while he was being brought to Ord in an ambulance.

Harold Haskell, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Haskell, had one eye torn out, his face crushed and a piece of steel penetrated his brain, causing his death in the Ord hospital about two hours after the accident.

Miss Rose suffered deep cuts about the head and body, one hip

Council To Grant A Gas Franchise At March Meeting

Hearing Thursday Revealed Sentiment For Natural Gas; Changes Made.

Public sentiment in Ord, at least so far as was revealed at the city council's special meeting Thursday evening, is in favor of granting a 25-year franchise to the Ak-Sar-Ben Natural Gas company and the franchise ordinance probably will be passed at the regular March meeting tomorrow night.

Messrs. Lee and Laughlin, representatives of the company, met with the Ord council Thursday evening and submitted their proposition, which was discussed at much length.

In the main, the franchise asked by the company is satisfactory to city officials but three modifications were suggested by City Attorney Ralph W. Norman, with the approval of councilmen.

Must Start Work Soon.

One change from the standard franchise would require the Ak-Sar-Ben company to install equipment and be ready to furnish gas to Ord consumers within 18 months after granting of the franchise, upon penalty of franchise forfeiture.

MRS. JOHN P. MISKO.

That the Red Cross accomplished helpful work during 1936 was proved by reports of committee chairmen and officers.

Mrs. Mortensen, disaster relief chairman, reported $770.25 donated by civic, business, social and religious organizations, schools and individuals of Valley county during the recent Ohio and Mississippi flood crisis. The entire amount was forwarded to headquarters in St. Louis. Several boxes of clothing also were contributed and as the national chapter was unable to use these garments they will be used in local Red Cross relief work.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

It seems to me that was rather a dirty dig that Bert Cushing took at Winnie Cornell's country last week.

If you will read the daily paper reports of crime and accidents you will almost always find booze mixed up in it.

I am glad the committee having the bill in charge, knocked out the proposed doctoring of the primary law. If it is to be changed let the people change it.

Almost every letter I get with subscription payment, says they don't want to miss a single copy. Perhaps that is hot air. I don't know. A lot of you who are in arrears will be missing it though unless we hear from you pronto.

That idea of Senator Ragan to clutter up the laws with a law, the purpose of which would be to take away the license of a funeral director or embalmer who uses profane or obscene language in front of a dead body, seems silly to me. In the first place no funeral director would do such a thing and in the second place the dead body wouldn't care if he did. I fear that the aged senator from Columbus is getting childish.

We are mailing a number of sample copies of the Quiz this week and if you happen to get one this is an invitation for you to subscribe for the paper. As you know, a dollar will pay for six months if you don't want to spend two dollars for a year. Mrs. Edith Bossen at Arcadia, Mrs. Josephine Hutchins at North Loup and Rev. Goodell at Burwell are authorized to take both new and renewal subscriptions for the Quiz and they will be glad to make the commission we allow them for doing the work and you will be promptly receipted from this office. They all report to us each week or oftener. I want to say to you that you can save the price of the Quiz several times during the year by taking advantage of the sale advertising appearing in it each week. We are mailing 2500 copies of the paper this week. Read the news, old time stories, advertising, look at the cartoons and pictures and then if you owe us pay us; if you don't take the paper, send us your subscription; if you do, send it to some absent member of the family. They will sure appreciate it.

Scanning a Nebraska exchange I found this story: "Miss Selma Dowdell became the bride of Mr. Ernest Dingbobbie." Now with names like that, nothing short of Schnappsobbie would be appropriate for the offspring.

I was checking over the February expirations. I am not going to the expense of sending those of you who have not paid up and who have not communicated with me about your wishes, a second notice but you know who you are and I trust you will send a remittance at once. I will take care of it for 6 months and in looking over the list, I doubt if there is a one who cannot do that.

I have got about a hundred of the 1937 Cook Calendars left and as long as they last I will give one to those who subscribe or pay up if you ask for it. Sometimes I forget to hand one out unless you ask for it.

George Gowen was in Ord Monday and someone asked him what Dog Heaven really was and he replied, "A thousand miles of telephone poles."

I notice an item in the account of the doings of the Unlcameral to the effect that it is within the range of possibility that in due time the Platte river may be navigable for river freight. And Ol' Gus Buechler has been trying to make us believe that the darn river was without water.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

No Crop Failure. There is one crop that never fails—yea, there are two. We shall not tarry here on the first; it is the second one that has been under my close observation for the last two days.

For many years we have had a dog. It was like I read of a woman's grievance,—when one died she got another. The last dog we had was a fine dog. But his running gears wore out. Now there are two prime essentials for a dog,—well perhaps three. The running gears, the horn and third, the fleas.

After this last dog had crossed the Stygian ferry the neighborhood felt quite relieved. The cats got a little food, the rabbits caught their breath, the passers by could swipe my gas and chickens, the skunks could venture near. Yes, we were quite relieved for about a week when all of a sudden a new dog dropped in and made his home here.

This is a fine dog too. He is pure white with pert ears, a twisted tail and qualifies as a dog very nobly. He is good for nothing on earth that I have found yet. Dick took a strong fancy to him at once and coddled him. I would have nothing to do with him not wanting to form an affection and after waiting and advertising I decided to kill him and plant him beneath the sod. I dug the hole one afternoon. I dug it deep. I borrowed a gun and then looked for the dog. He was not to be found. It was morning before I saw him again and he was so tickled to see me that I lost all interest in the murder and the hole still remains unused and the soft music unsung.

Yesterday I decided to haul some hay. It was a six mile trip and through town. The dog decided to go along. Fine, I thought. Some car may run over him, or he may get lost in the metropolis and I shall be rid of him. Having nothing better to do on this long jaunt, I put in my time watching his work. He circumnavigated every house and barnyard along the trip. He surveyed and cross examined every quarter section on each side of the road. He nosed out and gave violent chase to every rabbit in this end of the country. He caught and devoured no less than two. He frightened a flock of pheasants and unearthed two civit cats. He carried a dead hen in his mouth for eighty rods and the hen was a long time dead too. Never once did he check his speed to a walk or even a trot. I believe he travelled a hundred miles.

All the dogs on the route came bounding out to greet him as we passed. I was reminded of all the people standing at the road sides to wave. Every place had one dog and some more. One had three dogs and three kids. One aplece. Another had two dogs and no kids. Another three dogs and one kid. Another had ten dogs. A fine litter. I took a hasty survey as I jounced along and I am sure the dogs are in the majority. There were thirty-one dogs that rushed to the road to greet us in the six miles besides the city blue-bloods. All fine dogs with good running gears and extra good horns. I am not so sure about the fleas.

As we entered town the dogs came running out to meet us like the fire whistle had been blown. They came from everywhere in swarms, four or a dozen in a group. They would bristle up to my dog stiff legged. He'd run as if his life were in great danger and when the attacking dog would get too near, and begin nipping his heels, my dog would stop, growl and chase the other dog back a block or two. He sawed clear through town this way without engaging in a single battle.

As we drove onto the highway there were still from one to a dozen dogs about darting back and forth like hornets after a little boy who has punched a stick in their nest. I looked to the north and south and spied several cars coming at seventy miles an hour or more. Now, I thought, He'll surely get killed and it will save me the trouble. I really hoped that from one to a dozen of the dogs conciliating about my wagon would get smashed and mine included.

But no such good luck. The drivers performed all manner of maneuvers to save the poor dogs. One driver slid all four wheels for nearly a rod and I thought for certain his car was going to upset, but he saved the dogs anyway. Another, after a quick swerve brought his car to a stop and got out and came back to make amends and help weep over the life he thought he had snuffed out. He surely was no hit and run driver.

I tied my team for a rest and went to town for a while. Surely I thought the hound will get lost now. But I was wrong. Upon my return he was there keeping guard over my property. He was as tickled to see me coming as if I really was his friend in place of his murderer who lacked the nerve. I reached down for the first time and felt guilty doing it. I felt guilty for I had tried repeatedly to give him away, even to the town marshal. The latter had refused saying he had killed all the dogs he wanted to. Some one else told me the city has a nice litter of pups under the town hall, and I might be able to get one. A source of production I found. But if the marshal killed any dogs it is like swatting flies. There's so many left no one misses the one's that are gone.

My dog's on the stoop now dreaming of another day, after hay. He gives a yip at the moon or the neighbor's dog now and then and is happy to see me every time I venture out whether I feel like being happy or not. Oh, I guess I'll keep him a while longer. He's a good dog. Yes a good dog, but don't know what he's good for.

Loyalty.

H. D. speaking of the Ord Bakery and the out-of-town bake trucks bringing bread into town I must say in North Loup we have had somewhat the same experience. The loyalty here has been more pronounced. Every merchant handles the North Loup bread and all but two handle nothing else. At a church dinner someone took note of the bread wrappers brought and there was only one of the entire group that was an out of town wrapper. Just why this loyalty has had this support one does not know but it seems like there is something wrong with the people in a town like Ord, or something wrong with the bread, or every merchant would at least be as loyal to the home enterprise as one in Grand Island or Hastings. Perhaps education on the part of the citizens to call for the Ord product would have something to do with it. One of our merchants makes the boast he never handled anything but North Loup bread, or cheese, or brooms, all three of which are manufactured in our own town.

Something Different

This contest business has certainly taken the country. For a while the advertisements were all built around testimonials. If Mrs. Ritz of Palm Beach did her washing with Quik-Bubbles while gowned in an evening frock sitting on a lovely divan, you were s'posed to catch the idea, go and do likewise.

But now that Santa Claus has tried the various brands of cigarettes, all the brides have endorsed one kind of soap, all the movie stars have endorsed another, and all the skin specialists have recommended a third kind of complexion soap, so that we all know just what to do

Now the radio is full of contests. You may contest for a hundred feet of garden hose, or what would you do with them. Dope . . . for a pound of coffee, for a carton of Coca Cola, for an Easter outfit worth $50, for hundreds and thousands and hundreds of thousands of dollars. Not to mention new cars, sterling silver platters, sacks of flour, $5 worth of groceries, free stationery for life, trips hither and trips yon . . . you have to come back, you know. The law of gravity or something.

Magazines too are full of contests. And newspapers. One big daily has everyone trying to guess what it is, and tiny everyday objects are photographed large and at peculiar angles so that you really must guess. A flock of cartoons advertises one cigarette now. Pictures of movie stars, jumbled together with the wrong chins and eyebrows, is supposed to help you spend your evenings winning something or other. Writing jingles for Singing Sam and some other radio man, jingles for the Chicago Daily Tribune at $100 each . . . the woods are full of contests.

Have they made you contest-conscious yet? Or only bored?

Another way to keep yourself on tenter-hooks is to start worrying about "who got the money at the movies". I sort of think the best way to get money, get rich, is still the same old pattern . . . go work for it. You are more likely to make money stacking pennies together than you are trying to name Andy's baby. Or was it Amos? And thus get wealthy.

At the New York dog show the most shown breed was the "Merrie Cocker" spaniel, silky little dogs with floppy ears, long-haired and not so tall, you know. Second in popularity you'd never guess, for it was the dachshund. The ones they raised under dressers, when they had dressers. Where do they raise them now? Third came Scotties and fourth were wire-haired terriers, fifth the smaller bulldogs.

I guess we aren't very fashionable out here. Not a dachshund on the landscape.

A joker played a joke on himself a few days ago.

A customer entered a business house, and in the course of affairs pulled money from a pocket. Out slipped a rabbit's foot, fell to the floor unnoticed.

The garage boss in question picked up the rabbit's foot, slipped it in his own pocket, then led the conversation around adroitly until the customer said: "You're a lucky fellow" to which the garage man said: "Why shouldn't I be. I carry a rabbit's foot, and whipped out the rabbit's foot he had picked up."

"So do I," answered the customer, reaching in a pocket for his own lucky token. The garage man got ready to laugh, but he never made it, for the customer actually pulled out a rabbit's foot. The fellow had been carrying not one, but two.

The Ord team were Haldeman and Johnson, forwards, Woods, center, and Battle and Peterson, guards.

A large number of Valley county families were moving to the vicinity of Arnold, in Custer county. They were Frank Potter, R. R. Potter, Frank Eastburn, E. E. Martly, P. D. Long, Truman Smith and Lloyd VanWie and their wives and families.

The Quiz contracted for a new advertising service, known as the Bonnet-Brown Sales Service of Chicago.

Ed McComas sold his south side drug store to Fred Burkard.

Public sales were advertised by J. C. Rogers, Chester A. Swinson and Mrs. W. P. Summers. Residence property was advertised for auction by Mrs. C. I. Siler, John Auble and James C. Wisda. In a special supplement were public sales by W. A. and John Slavicek, R. E. Thompson and L. S. White.

25 Years Ago This Week. The sudden death of Hon. Peter Mortensen, Valley county's leading citizen, was featured and an excellent likeness of him adorned the front page of the Quiz. Pictures of any kind were a rarity in the country papers of 25 years ago.

Henry Benn and Julia Albers were married. The teachers of the Ord high school gave the superintendent, C. S. Jones a surprise party on his birthday.

Hans Clement passed away at the age of 86. It was announced that Theodore Roosevelt had definitely decided to run for president.

A false alarm called out the Arcadia fire fighters to put out a fire in the school building.

Ed Milligan went to Florida with a carload of horses.

J. B. Nay and Company were advertising loans on real estate at lowest rates.

The associated doctors of South Dakota were advertised to be in Burwell for one day only. That was before the day of Ord hospitals.

Rev. and Mrs. Kechley of the Ord Christian church were expected to leave for a new field.

Manager Huff of the Ord Independent Telephone company was announcing the purchase of a new switchboard.

Public sales of the week included C. R. Trim, Nels Johnson, Murray Cornell, F. W. Adamek and E. F. Burson.

So many good meat loaf recipes have come in that we are printing them this week, in spite of the fact that it is Lent. We feel sure many cooks will be interested in serving the family a good and a different meat loaf, and of course these are all tested recipes.

Ham Loaf. Mix one pound smoked cured ham that has been ground, with two pounds pork sausage, then add two beaten eggs, two cups bread crumbs, one cup milk. Use no salt, but pepper to taste. Mold into a loaf, bake two hours.

Meat Loaf. Combine two pounds ground beef with one pound ground pork, put in two eggs, one pint milk, two cups bread crumbs, salt, pepper and onion as desired. Add one-half cup water after the meat loaf has been placed in the roaster. Bake one and one-half hours.

Meat Loaf Pie. Melt two tablespoons of butter or drippings in a frying pan, add two-thirds cup sliced onions, one sliced green pepper and cook until soft. Break one-pound hamburger into small pieces and cook until brown. Remove crusts from twelve slices of bread and cut off two corners of each slice to make twelve triangles. Fit six triangles into the bottom of a buttered baking dish, points toward the center. Add one teaspoon salt and one large can of tomatoes to the meat mixture. Put a layer of meat on the bread, then a layer of bread, alternating layers until bread is all used up, finishing with a layer of bread on top. Butter the top

Court Bill Due for Floor in April; Time Lag May Block Measure

WASHINGTON LETTER

WASHINGTON—The Senate Judiciary Committee is expected to have the supreme court reorganization bill ready for debate on the floor early in April. Those who oppose the president's plan to liberalize the court will try to build up enough pressure before that time to block the measure.

The opposition here is already reinforced by resolutions adopted in some state legislatures, and by the support of bar associations and other conservative groups. An overwhelmingly hostile press is supplemented by the work of Publisher Frank E. Gannett's National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government.

Telegrams and letters which congressmen have received are preponderantly against the Roosevelt proposal. Picked men from both sides are broadcasting their sentiments by radio, and Roosevelt is holding conferences with members of Congress at night to equip them with verbal ammunition for the fight.

ADMINISTRATORISTS feel they have a slight edge in the Senate and Roosevelt feels confident his court plan will become law. The chief reasons for confidence on the administration side are:

- 1—The demonstration of popular approval Roosevelt received in the November election.
- 2—The New Deal measures which the president feels sure the people want, and can have only under a changed supreme court.
- 3—Roosevelt's recognized effectiveness over the radio. He will utilize this as never before when he decides the time is ripe to appeal directly to the people.

Probably he will pull this act from his sleeve some time early in March before committee hearings on the bill begin.

4—Roosevelt can hold out patronage as an inducement to those congressmen who are reluctant to follow him in this move.

Some of the liberals and antagonistic Democrats whom Roosevelt has reached but has not quite persuaded to get in line, are holding out for a compromise. It is possible that the president may be reconciled to some changes in his bill before it is passed, but it isn't likely he will compromise on any basis that will not enable him to uphold a liberal majority on the supreme court.

THE separate bill permitting justices to retire on full pay ($20,000 a year) has administration backing. Roosevelt hopes by this to let the public know the aged justices he wants removed would be "taken care of." Also there is the possibility that two or three of the older justices will take advantage of this retirement privilege when the bill passes. Heretofore Congress has passed a special pension act when a justice retired.

Secretary Wallace's statement that the New Deal farm program could hardly be considered safe under recent supreme court rulings brought support for the court plan from organized farm owner groups. Labor's Non-Partisan League (John L. Lewis) and the American Federation of Labor (William Green) are in the Roosevelt camp. Also it's reasonable to expect that Roosevelt's election support among Negroes may be behind this bill.

slices. Bake in a moderate oven, 375 degrees for about thirty minutes or until the crust is brown.

Chicken Croquette's. Combine two cups chopped cold chicken with two tablespoons finely chopped celery, one teaspoon nutmeg, one cup very thick white sauce, then beat in one egg, two tablespoons water, three-fourths cup fine bread crumbs. Fry in deep hot fat and serve promptly.

Meat Loaf. Mix three pounds ground beef with one pound ground pork, one small onion minced fine, two eggs, one cup dry bread crumbs, one-fourth teaspoon dry mustard, salt to taste. Shape into a roll, cook one hour and add one pint tomatoes. Finish cooking.

Uncooked Fudge. Mash six three ounce packages of cream cheese, add three squares of melted bitter chocolate, add two cups sugar, one teaspoon vanilla, one beaten egg. Form into a roll, chill and cut. Or chill, form into balls, roll in chopped nuts.

Do you have any Lenten dishes or any Easter salad suggestions? We would like to print some. Also some new cooky recipes, and some more lemon recipes. Or if you have some dandy ways to serve rhubarb, send them in to the Quiz, please.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Jesus spoke of His mission and its fulfillment, through sorrow and sacrifice, in mystic words which foretold of the shadow of death and of destiny which was already over the circle of disciples.

The disciples undoubtedly must have been puzzled by words that they could not quite understand; and it must also have been a keen disappointment to them to be told that the kingdom that they supposed was going to be realized in earthly power and glory was in reality to be established through loss and sacrifice.

It was to disciples in this puzzled state of mind that Jesus expressed the words of our lesson, "Let not your heart be troubled." The remaining portion of that verse may be variously translated as "Ye believe in God, believe also in me"; or as a twofold exhortation, "Believe in God, believe also in me."

Jesus spoke to the disciples in parables or in symbols. He speaks of mansions in His Father's house. He speaks of a place that He is going to prepare for the disciples, and He speaks of coming again and receiving them unto Himself. He speaks of a way that He is going that the disciples know.

WAS it any wonder that Thomas spoke out very plainly and said, "Lord, we know not whither thou goest; and how know we the way?" It was this word of Thomas that brought

THE BACK FORTY.

By J. A. Kovanda. March is the best time to seed lawns. Blue grass must be planted early so that it will come up and make a good turf before the summer weeds start growing.

A thoroughly prepared seed bed is one that has been spaded, pulverized and packed. Well rotted manure may be added. Light applications of fertilizer, two or three times a year are better than one heavy one. If the soil is hard and heavy, some fine sand can be mixed with it.

Blue grass is either planted straight, or with a mixture. Where the latter is desired, 60 per cent of Kentucky bluegrass, 20 per cent Canada blue, 10 per cent redtop, 10 per cent perennial rye, and a trace of white clover makes a fine combination.

A pound of seed sows about 200 square feet. It may be scattered by hand, and a quarter inch of dirt raked over it. Some folks cover the seed with rich, black dirt carried in from the garden.

The ground must be kept continually moist by sprinkling twice a day until the grass is two inches high. Lawns should not be cut shorter than two inches, and ought not to be mowed at all when the drouth periods come.

A sure but expensive way to get a stand of grass is by sodding. Bent grass sod has been used to produce some of Ord's finest lawns.

One way in which a city can get more green lawns is by reducing its water rate. Even then it is a hard job. Weeds, insects, children and dogs must be kept out. Our climate is not well suited for growing lawns.

Christ—Eternal Life

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 7 Text: John 14:1-15

JESUS spoke of His mission and its fulfillment, through sorrow and sacrifice, in mystic words which foretold of the shadow of death and of destiny which was already over the circle of disciples.

The disciples undoubtedly must have been puzzled by words that they could not quite understand; and it must also have been a keen disappointment to them to be told that the kingdom that they supposed was going to be realized in earthly power and glory was in reality to be established through loss and sacrifice.

It was to disciples in this puzzled state of mind that Jesus expressed the words of our lesson, "Let not your heart be troubled." The remaining portion of that verse may be variously translated as "Ye believe in God, believe also in me"; or as a twofold exhortation, "Believe in God, believe also in me."

Jesus spoke to the disciples in parables or in symbols. He speaks of mansions in His Father's house. He speaks of a place that He is going to prepare for the disciples, and He speaks of coming again and receiving them unto Himself. He speaks of a way that He is going that the disciples know.

WHERE does this lead? Right back to the love that we have seen emphasized in the preceding lesson. "If ye love me," says Jesus, "ye will keep my commandments." It is in response to the love of Christ that the message of Christ is revealed, and that one is led to see in Jesus the earthly manifestation of a loving God and Father. If one cannot find the evidence of God and the way to God in Jesus, where can he find God?

Artery Cut, Lost Blood.
Eugene Puncocar, 16, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puncocar, had scalp wounds and bruises but his condition was not regarded as serious. He was weakened by loss of blood from a severed artery in one temple.

In the truck, besides the driver, were James Cetak, Irene Ruzovski and Bernice Ruzovski. All suffered minor cuts and bruises but immediately after the accident the girls were taken to their home near Elyria without medical treatment and apparently were not greatly hurt. Hughes and Cetak came to the Ord hospital and were given first aid by doctors but were then able to go to their own homes.

The Haskell, Melia and Puncocar boys were employed at the Food Center store on Saturdays and when it closed Saturday night they took the Melia twins home, then drove to Burwell. There they were joined by Miss Rose who is employed in a beauty shop there and wished to spend the week end in Ord with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Rose. After getting Miss Rose they started on the return trip to Ord.

In the meantime, Hughes, Cetak and the Ruzovski sisters had attended a late show in Ord and started for Elyria.

Thought Car Farther Away.
According to young Hughes, who gives the most coherent account of the accident, he saw the lights of the Melia car but thought the car was some distance down the road. Whether Harold Melia saw the truck coming or not is not known, as he never regained consciousness after the crash. Eugene Puncocar, who was riding in the front seat, is sure Harold saw the truck, as he slowed down, swerved toward the shoulder of the road, then back again.

Car and truck collided in the center of the road, not quite head-on, with terrific force. Young Hughes says he was driving the truck about 35 miles per hour and it is likely the Melia car was going 45 to 50 miles per hour, although he may have been driving more slowly. Fogged windshield no doubt played a part in the collision.

The truck overturned and was found resting on one side in the middle of the highway. The car was partly in the road and partly in the ditch. Harold Haskell, who had been sleeping in the back seat of the car, was found in the ditch while the driver, Harold Melia, was found lying beside the car in a pool of blood and broken glass. Eugene Puncocar and the Rose girl climbed out of the car's wreckage.

One of the first cars to pass the wreck was driven by Ed Simes, of Burwell, who brought Harold Haskell, Eugene and Miss Rose to the Ord hospital. In the meantime Richard Hughes had run to the Joe Dlugosh home near-by and telephoned Sheriff George Round requesting that an ambulance be sent out.

Apparently the accident happened about 1:30 a. m., as Sheriff Round says it was exactly 1:45 when he was notified and hospital employees say it was 2:00 when the injured boys and girl reached the hospital.

Three Ord Doctors Called.
Dr. C. J. Miller, Dr. Lee C. Nay and Dr. F. A. Barta worked almost all night over Harold Haskell, who was alive when he was brought to the hospital, and over the survivors. Harold Melia, who was brought to the hospital in Sow's ambulance, died on the way to town. He was still breathing when lifted into the ambulance but was dead when carried into the hospital a few minutes later.

Because of the prominence of the young people involved, as well as the horror of the crash itself, this accident shocked Ord people as no other ever has. It was the sole topic of conversation on the streets Sunday and Monday.

Both Lads Popular.
Few boys who ever attended Ord high school were more popular with schoolmates or more prominent in athletics and other high school activities than was Harold Haskell. For three seasons he had been the mainstay of Coach Brockman's Loup Valley and Mid-Six conference football teams and this year was co-captain of the football team, also being a member of the basketball team which last week won the Loup Valley conference championship. He was a clean, fine, hard-working lad, respected and loved by the whole community.

Although less prominent in athletics than young Haskell, Harold Melia was no less beloved by his classmates. Both boys were seniors and would have completed their high school careers in a few weeks.

Their sudden deaths prostrated members of their families, particularly Mrs. John Haskell who is not in the best of health. Her son recovered consciousness on the operating table long enough to gasp out, "I'm sorry," to his father just before he passed away.

Because of the circumstances County Attorney Alvin B. Lee ordered an inquest, an account of which appears elsewhere in this issue.

A Weekly Feature — The Ord City Bakery

"We eat nothing but Gold Seal bread baked in Ord because it's so fresh, so tasty, so nourishing," is probably what Joe Jirak is saying to Mrs. Forrest Johnson as he buys a loaf of bread in the picture at the top. In the bottom picture is shown a section of showcases at the Ord City Bakery in which are kept the dozens of varieties of bread and pastry which please the taste of patrons and result every week in more people deciding to buy nothing but Ord-made bakery products.

LeRoy Frazier, first aid chairman, reported that many town and rural people availed themselves of instruction in first aid and life saving given by the Red Cross during 1936. The life saving courses were given last summer under the direction of Miss Beulah McGinnis, who had previously been schooled with local Red Cross help. Dr. J. G. Kruml directed courses in first aid work.

Mrs. Wm. Carlton, local relief chairman, reported much clothing, bedding, fuel and groceries distributed from time to time during the year. A special effort was made at Christmas time to furnish poor families with dinners.

It was also reported that the local American Legion auxiliary is working on layettes to be made from material furnished by the Red Cross.

Mrs. E. L. Kokes reported contacting some of the teachers in preparation for junior Red Cross work this summer.

Horace Travis, treasurer, gave a report of finances which was accepted. Although Mrs. Keith Lewis, roll call chairman, could not accident. Roy Clement, operator of a filling station, testified that one of the truck's headlights had been broken but that Thursday before the accident he put a new bulb in place, over which the driver of the truck tied a light cloth. In lieu of a new lens. Both lights were clearly visible, in Clement's opinion.

Sheriff Round, County Attorney Lee and members of the jury made a sincere effort to run down all rumors bearing on the accident seemingly, and the coroner's verdict that the accident was unavoidable seems the only one possible under the circumstances.

City Council Proceedings, February 25, 1937. Opening.

The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, met in special session in the City Hall of Ord, Nebraska, pursuant to the following call:

Call for Special Meeting.
Notice is hereby given that a Special Meeting of the Mayor and City Council will be held in the Council Chambers in the City Hall in said City at 7:30 P. M., on February 25, 1937; the purpose of said meeting is to consider the granting of a franchise to the Aksarben Natural Gas Co., giving them the permission and right to construct, maintain and operate a gas transmission and distribution system in the City of Ord for the furnishing, transmission, distribution and sale of gas for lighting, heating, domestic, industrial and other uses in said municipality and prescribing the terms and conditions under which said distribution system may be constructed and maintained and said gas furnished to the residents and inhabitants of said municipality and to grant said franchise if deemed advisable by the Mayor and Council.

Service of the above call is hereby accepted this 25th day of February, 1937.

A. Bartunek.

A. J. Auble.
Joe Rohla.
Frank Sershen.
Guy Burrows.
Val Pullen.

The matter of granting a franchise to the Aksarben Natural Gas Co., was brought up and discussed. A franchise was offered by a representative of the Aksarben Natural Gas Co., and was read and discussed by the council. A few minor changes were suggested by City Attorney Norman, and these were incorporated in the offered franchise. The amended franchise was then taken by the Aksarben representative to be examined and discussed by the officials of his company. The final decision on the franchise to be reached later.

There being no further business to come before the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Nebraska, it was moved by Pullen and seconded by Burrows that the Mayor and Council adjourn.

Obituary

Mrs. George Cooper.
Mrs. George Cooper passed away at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Ed Bredthauer of Los Angeles Saturday of last week. She had been making her home there since December. The funeral was held Friday at Scotia, and burial was made in the Scotia cemetery. She leaves to mourn her passing two daughters, Mrs. Bredthauer, and Mrs. L. O. Chitty, of Grand Island; one son, Louis, of Long View, Wash.; a brother, Will T. Hather, of Ord; a sister, Mrs. Sarah Divine of Portland, Ore., and nine grandchildren. She was also a sister of W. A. Anderson's first wife. The Hathers, Mr. Anderson and Frank Cushing attended the funeral from Ord.

Mrs. Magdalene Neumann.
Mrs. Magdalene Neumann, a resident of Nebraska since 1872, passed away at the home of her son Fred near Grand Island. She had been in poor health several years, but suffered a stroke on Jan. 24, followed by flu, which caused her death. She was nearly 71 years of age. Funeral services were held Monday, Feb. 15 in the Lutheran church, and burial was made in the Kelso cemetery. On Sept. 15, 1884 she was united in marriage to Carl Frederick Neumann, to which union eight children were born. One son died in infancy, and a daughter, Mrs. Emma Smith, died in 1917. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Lizzie Houtby of Ord, and Mrs. Amella Kucera of Hazard; four sons, Charles of Parwell, Fred of Grand Island, and William and Henry of North Loup; 23 grandchildren; three sisters, Mrs. Emma Hansen and Mrs. Martha Tockey of Boelus and Mrs. Lizzie Christensen of Loup City; two brothers, Charles and Henry Dethlefs of Rockville. Her husband died in 1931.

Walnut is America's Most Valuable Wood

The most valuable tree of its size ever cut in America is believed to be the Napoleon tree, a walnut tree of southern Oregon which produced approximately 85,000 square feet of piano veneer and cost piano manufacturers nearly $50,000.00. Yet in spite of its present value 25 to 30 years ago walnut trees were cut down and made into fence posts in various places in Nebraska. Had these short sighted owners permitted nature to take its course the timber in some cases would have been worth more than the land on which it was produced.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Steve Sowokinos is moving to the Janac farm this week.

—Mrs. S. Frederickson went down to Cotesfield on the bus Friday.

—Alfred Sorensen came over from Loup City for a visit with relatives and friends here, Friday. His wife is a patient in the Amick hospital at Loup City.

—Louis Shine, special agent of the Northwestern National insurance company, was in Ord Friday on business, and went from here to St. Paul in the evening.

—Ed Mauer is busier than a cross eyed, one armed piano player, having one cafe in Ord and another in Hastings, and he says he spends so much time on the road back and forth that he has little left to attend to business. He was a morning bus passenger for Hastings Friday.

—Earl Klein was in Ord a few days the past week, visiting with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Klein and family. He has been working in Council Bluffs but was on his way to California, where he is accepting a position with a telephone and telegraph company. They telegraphed to him at Council Bluffs to come at once, as they had a position for him.

—H. D. King, publisher of the Franklin Sentinel, and D. S. Brady, former publisher, were in Ord Friday making an inspection of the Quiz plant, with a view to bringing their interesting publication up to standard of the best country papers in the state. They were very much impressed with the Quiz's system of getting out a paper.

—L. D. Pierce brought into the Quiz office a strange looking contraption which would keep the younger generation guessing for some time. It was nothing less than a pair of candle snuffers, very common fifty to one hundred years ago, but unheard of today. They were built like a pair of shears, with a compartment on one of the blades to receive the part of the wick cut off. The points were sharp to use in spreading the wick after it was trimmed. Strange looking today, but essential to a former generation. The world do move.

—Mrs. George Walker writes that she is moving back to her home in New Raymer, Colo., March 1st and wants her paper sent there. She has been at Benkelman, Nebr., for some time.

—Mrs. Sadie Armstrong, daughters Jean Armstrong and Ruth Armstrong and daughter Barbara Jean, and O. P. R. Bell, all of Hastings, were Ord visitors Thursday. Mrs. Armstrong is a sister of Wm. and James Ollis, and she and Mr. Bell were former residents in Mira Valley.

—Mrs. Donald Brennick writes from Machias, Wash., renewing her subscription to the Quiz. She says they have changed their address again, and is sending the new address, as she doesn't wish to lose out on a single issue.

—Mrs. J. N. Johnson came up from Kearney last Wednesday on the train, visited with her daughter Mrs. George Anderson and family until evening and then went on to her home in Burwell on the evening bus.

—John L. W. Nelson got away from his mail duties long enough last week to come up and visit his wife and son Freddie and her mother, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett. He came up Tuesday and left Friday.

—Stanley Rutar is displaying the Hawkins million dollar brooder, which is the very latest thing in brooders, with special compartments for feed and water, and a perfect substitute for the hen under which the chicks can hover and get warm. Each section has a capacity of 1000 baby chicks.

—Stanley Rutar was down to North Loup Thursday taking blood tests of William Schudel's flock of 200 hen turkeys and 15 toms. The toms are as fine a bunch of turkeys as can be found anywhere, running in weight all the way from 30 to 42 pounds per bird.

—Early this week Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Weekes left for Florida where they expect to spend three or four weeks. Mrs. Weekes met her husband in Beatrice, where he had been visiting his brother, E. T. Weekes, and they drove from there to the southern state. Dr. W. J. Hemphill of North Loup is taking care of Dr. Weekes' practice during his absence.

Little Stories About People You Know

—The Dick Karre family are moving this week from Horace to a farm on R. F. D. No. 1, Ord.

—Mrs. Pete Jensen writes to change her address from North Loup to Scotia.

—Ed J. Skala is moving and his address is changed from Route 3 to Route 1.

—Mr. and Mrs. Anton Danczak of Ord were visitors of Mrs. Mary Soboleczk near Loup City recently.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stoddard visited her mother, Mrs. Pauline Hansen in Loup City last week.

—Garnet Jackman went to North Loup on the bus Saturday afternoon to visit with her family over Sunday.

—The Methodist ladies are having a church supper and bazaar Saturday, March 6 in the church basement.

—Mrs. Clara Butts of Burwell was a bus passenger to Omaha Sunday on business. She returned Tuesday.

—Barbara and Marilyn Parks returned from a visit to relatives in Grand Island Sunday morning. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parks took them down Friday.

—C. A. Anderson sold a Plymouth pickup to Donald Cass of Burwell, and also a Plymouth sedan to Dr. J. W. McGinnis.

—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Vodehnal and son visited recently with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Vodehnal, in Loup City.

—Charles Gross is listed as entering St. Francis hospital at Grand Island Friday for surgical treatment. He lives at Burwell.

—Loup City will be host to this district of the Nebraska League of Municipalities of which Ord is one. The date is not yet set, but will be late in March or early in April.

—Frank Rakosky has his well machine out at the Rosevale school house, and will start on a new well for the school as soon as weather permits.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cremeen were over from Arcadia on business Wednesday. While here they visited with her sister, Mrs. F. C. Williams and other relatives.

—Mrs. A. J. Auble was in Omaha first of the week visiting her daughters, Leota and Joy, who are taking nurse training at Nebraska Methodist hospital. She rode down with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Sack Monday, returning with them to Ord Friday.

—Since about the middle of January Miss Evelyn Coe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coe of Ord, has been in Omaha as an employee of the Nebraska Power company and is reported to like her work very much.

—Evelyn G. Sharp of Ord had her photo in the Saturday Omaha Bee-News, and is there classed as one of the nation's five youngest fliers. She holds a private license, which required fifty hours solo flying to acquire, and which is the highest she can get until she is older. Meanwhile she is piling up flying hours at every opportunity.

—A fire, caused by the burning out of a chimney setting fire to the shingles, called the fire department to the John Mason home Thursday forenoon. John was at home and by throwing water on the blaze from the inside, had most of the fire out when the department arrived. A hole was burned through the roof, which will require about $25.00 to repair.

—Mrs. Jonie Level writes. Mrs. Jonie Level writes telling of the terrible floods they are having in California. She says that up at Bill Timm's home, which is in the mountains, the creek washed away a house, and the flood roared so that the only way they could hear each other was to shout at the top of their voices. The bridges were all washed away and on the way back they had to walk planks over wild flowing streams, and walk four miles before they got to where someone could meet them.

—She says the fruit crop is so damaged that it makes her think of the song about "The Old Gray Mare." She told Bill Timm that maybe there was gold in them that hills. He has made up his mind he wants to die up in the mountains, and will not come down into the valley and live with any of the rest of them. Maybe he is right.

this made for the development of experts in free throwing. It was nothing unusual for a player to throw a dozen or more free throws without a miss, and competition to find who would be the ultimate high man grew very keen. A certain wise guy whom I could name kept at it until one evening he threw 36 baskets without a miss. That seemed unbeatable, but the very next evening a bird named Allie Pierce who didn't claim to be much of a player started from scratch and threw 56 baskets without a miss, and then quit because he had to go home, and not because he had missed, as he hadn't. Ask Allie about it.

At that time the school had less than 70 pupils in the high school, and there were not enough interested in football to get a squad out for the game. The new game required only about half as many men, and that was the reason it made good from the start. In those days the game was played on an outdoor court, 50 by 80 feet in size. The hoops were fastened to the top of a post and had no backstop. This required that the ball must be thrown directly through the hoop.

Any one person could do all the free throwing for the team, and

ED F. BERANEK
"THE REXALL DRUGGIST"

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Almost as rapidly as the meeting room could be cleared, six members of the committee on public health and miscellaneous subjects dealt unanimously with a proposed legislative act permitting "mercy death" in Nebraska. Chairman Worthington of the committee, John Adams, Lester Dunn, Dr. A. L. Miller and Richard Regan administered the immediate and unanimous decision that put an end, apparently, to any possibility of legal killings in the state at least by the medium of the present legislative session.

Action of the committee proved counterwise to the sentiment expressed before it. The hearing, public in nature, attracted one of the largest crowds thus far this session.

The bill had been introduced by Senator Comstock of Lancaster but Dr. Inez Philbrick who admitted she probably was responsible for it, appeared in its support. Shortly after the bill was introduced three weeks ago, Dr. Philbrick turned to the radio to muster support. In the committee hearing she easily held her own under the crossfire of committee members. The scriptures were referred to on at least two occasions and there was a difference of opinion on one of the Ten Commandments, that declaring: Thou Shalt Not Kill. On this point Senator Regan of Columbus expressed doubt as to the legislature's right to change the Commandments.

"But we can amend them," declared Senator Pizer of North Platte, a committee member.

"You can interpret them," retorted Dr. Philbrick.

Senator Miller, also a doctor, asked if Dr. Philbrick would object to making the state prison warden executioner under the act, and Dr. Philbrick replied:

"I would. I also object to considering this proposition in other than serious vein."

Senator Miller later said he was not serious in asking his question. He added, however, that euthanasia in some form, will come in time, but that it is premature. Admitting too, that the proposition had considerable merit, the senator-doctor said that many of the present-day so-called incurable ailments will in time be recognized as curable.

Several pastors appeared in behalf of the bill, and the only dissenting voice was that of a Lutheran minister of near Lincoln. He declared that, according to the scriptures, God only can give life and God alone may take it away.

In reply Dr. Philbrick said: "The world war took the lives of ten million men. Did God take them? Our courts constantly condemn men to death for the good of society." She added that suicide is not condemned in the scriptures, and said that "Thou Shalt Not Kill" has been changed in revised editions to "Thou Shalt Do No Murder." She reminded the committee of the words: "Blessed are the Merciful."

"We knock them into insensibility with morphine for months and I think we are criminals when we do it," Dr. Philbrick declared in speaking of modern day methods of administering to suffering and incurable patients. She said she looked upon the scriptures as inspiring only in parts. She doubted, she said, whether Joshua could have stopped the sun.

In killing the bill the senate committee rapidly disposed of a measure that has attracted nationwide attention. It bore the reputation of being the only one of its kind ever introduced in an American legislature, and upon its introduction, was the brunt of much adverse comment in many parts of the country. Organized medical groups, while not strong in condemnation, expressed dislike to it. The measure provided, that upon application from the victim of an incurable disease, the district judge would appoint disinterested doctors to make an examination of the applicant, a referee would be named, disposition of estate accomplished, and if all things were in order, the applicant would be removed to an accredited hospital and there, painlessly put to death.

The bill's fosterer and its introducer, presented splendid cases before the committee. Actual cases were referred to where death, in the opinion of medical men and women would have been merciful, much more so than continued life. But the committee failed to heed the plea of Senator Comstock, introducer, whose closing words to his argument were: "I trust the committee will be merciful with the bill."

Before the appropriations committee appeared Governor Cochran to explain his recommendation of about $13,000,000 for the Nebraska assistance program during the coming two years. The increasing number of aged persons receiving assistance would be offset by decreases effected by reinvestigation and "if we get a crop," declared the executive.

"If we don't get a crop," he added, "we don't know where to get the money. The people hardest up will be those paying for the program."

Half of the $13,000,000 for the assistance program, the governor's estimates show, would come from state money, the other half from federal funds. For each of the two years, the governor said, the state money would be raised as follows from these sources: $1,500,000 from liquor taxes; $1,050,000 from gasoline taxes and $1,000,000 from the $2 head tax—a total of $3,550,000.

University of Nebraska officials told the appropriations committee the institution must have at least $230,000 additional funds the next two years to operate upon because of an anticipated enrollment increase.

Chancellor Burnett declared the university was forced to dip into the reserve fund for $115,000 the last year to compensate 34 additional instructors and handle increased maintenance due to a 17 per cent boost in student population. The enrolled 6,546 resident students represents the largest enrollment in history he said.

The university originally sought $876,420 over the last biennial tax fund appropriation of $3,425,680 which was the same amount recommended by Governor Cochran in his budget message for the next two years.

One bill that threatened for a time to be highly controversial passed 31 to 7. It was LB 6, providing that counties shall add to the state levy a tax sufficient to pay for the care of indigent patients in state hospitals. The bill requires the signature of the governor to make it active. One of the opposing factors was Douglas county where it was contended that care of insane patients in state hospitals should be carried by the state with funds raised by state-wide tax. Senators from counties not sending patients to state hospitals had contended a proportionate tax system was logical, arguing that each county should pay for its own patients. During the last two years the law has provided that counties should provide funds for care of their patients by a county tax. Difficulty arose, in that some counties had already levied the amount allowed by law when the act was passed and could levy no more to supply funds for insane persons in state hospitals. The differences are overcome through passage of the new law.

Out of the senate appropriation committee has come the bill that, if enacted, will establish a Nebraska national guard aerial squadron. The measure reported out appropriates $10,000 to provide landing field rentals. Spokesman for the measure emphasized that the federal government will furnish a squadron of 13 observation planes if the bill passes. Besides providing the planes the federal government also will pay salaries of pilots and officers to be selected from Nebraska. One of the bill's supporters is Charles Doyle, secretary of the Nebraska aeronautic commission.

Prophecies of active water transportation on the Missouri river up as far as Omaha and Sioux City were made freely by proponents of a bill which would allow cities and villages to elect dock boards to construct and manage public wharves when the senate's government committee heard arguments on legislation. From the Omaha chamber of commerce came word that the Missouri would be navigable to Omaha within a year and possibly later next fall. It was deemed possible that the Platte and Elkhorn may be developed in future years to accommodate river shipping.

The bill under consideration was LB 95. Another proponent said that construction of the Fort Peck reservoir in Montana by the federal government assures an adequate supply of water in the Missouri, even in dry years. The bill drew no opposition. Railroads voiced no protest after an amendment was added protecting their right-of-ways against use as dock points.

Approximately 7 more stenographers were authorized by the senate in order that one stenographer may handle the requirements of three senators.

In complete accord was the senate when it voted unanimously for change in the rules that abolishes the legislative file, involving one of the steps through which bills were required to pass. Chairman of the rules committee, John Norton, explained it would make way for passing bills 3 days sooner than under the old system. The change does not do away with the "double-check" system inaugurated by Senator Warner at the opening of the session. The committee of the whole is likewise undisturbed by the rules change.

In a 4 to 3 decision the powerful judiciary committee put to death the bill that would have amended the primary law in Nebraska, a decision which stunned alike leaders of both political parties, sponsors of the bill. It was a committee of republicans and democrats, meeting on common ground that drafted the contents of the measure that would have changed the nominating proposition for candidates in the state. Several hearings were held at which leaders of both parties appeared, not in controversy in absolute accord, and it was with all assurance that the bill went to judgment of the committee. The action of dealing death was in its self a great surprise to all political-wise.

It was generally known that U. S. Senator Norris strenuously opposed the amendment. In a letter to a labor union leader in Grand Island, Norris condemned the amendment, declaring that in case such a law is enacted and signed by the governor he would assist in having referendum petitions circulated so the people may have an opportunity to vote on it.

In his report to the legislature on the action of committee, Chairman Dafeo stated a majority of the committee felt that the bill, if enacted into law would "bring back some of the evils of the old primary system and would not correct admitted defects under the present law."

What Other Editors Are Saying

Mrs. Darrell Watson and daughter Lola arrived here Friday to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Conger. Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Conger, Jr., of Grand Island spent Sunday with them. Mrs. Watson and Lola returned home with them, visiting there until Monday, when they returned to their home.—Sherman County Times.

Dewey Dunaway recently bought a buffalo from the estate of the late Senator Carey of Wyoming, a few weeks ago. Mr. Dunaway is training this buffalo to go with his trick mule, "Joe Louis", his trick horse and performing sheep, and will again make the fair and rodeo circuits the coming summer and fall as he did very successfully last year. As to the buffalo, just at present Dunaway says the animal "doesn't seem to know he is being trained, but sooner or later Dunaway says he will win the battle and a trained buffalo will be something never before witnessed by the public.—Arnold Sentinel.

Bryan M. ("Bitsy") Grant of Atlanta, lived up to his reputation as a "giant killer" by upsetting America's Number 1 tennis star, Donald Budget, of California, to win the fifth annual Miami Biltmore tennis championships. The mighty Atlanta atom is shown holding the trophy, emblematic of his victory at Coral Gables, Fla., recently.—Hastings Spotlight.

A farewell surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Palu, who will move to Perkins county soon. Dinner brought by the guests and served cafeteria style was enjoyed by the following: Messrs. and Mesdames Joe Palu and family, Ed Palu and family, Mike Mostek and family, Tony Stenka, Alex Plontkowski and daughter, Walter Darnatowski and family, Pete Kosmicki and family, Mrs. C. L. Mostek and family and Harry Slabuszewski.—Sherman County Times.

The dates for the Custer County Fair, originally set for the third week in August, have been advanced to the first week in August. This was done to avoid a conflict with the dates of the Loup Valley Fair and Races which will take place the third week of August. A committee conferred with the Ord fair board and found that the Ord dates could not be changed, as the fair here is part of an auto racing circuit, and any change would create a conflict with other auto racing fairs.

Sod House on Frank Stevens Homestead

Mr. Stevens came from Hartford, Conn., in 1878, to Nebraska, bringing his young son with him, where they stopped in Grand Island. Mr. Stevens worked there on the railroad at small wages, but managed to keep himself and child, also saved enough to pay for two lots where the Union Pacific depot now stands. He then decided to come on up the river and look for a homestead in the year 1880 or 1881. He homesteaded 2 1/2 miles west of Arcadia across the road from the farm now owned by Mrs. Minnie Rosenquist. At that time, Rev. and Mrs. Clark and two sons, Charlie and Dolph, lived on the Rosenquist farm. Mr. Stevens built a small sod house with a brush and dirt roof. His barn was dug out of the bank, the chicken house was of willows and covered with hay. His first team of horses, he went to Grand Island to buy, and with no other security he gave a mortgage on his lots. Grain was cheap and when the note was due he had no funds to settle, therefore he lost the team and lots in Grand Island.

In 1883 he married a woman with a daughter, the family of four occupied this small house which consisted of a stove and home made furniture. Cornstocks were used for fuel, but after a year or so there were plenty of cobs. By saving they began to climb the hill of success and built the new sod house which we see in the picture in the year 1889. A frame barn and windmill were erected in the year 1896. Mr. Stevens had a very severe sick spell that lasted several months which put him in debt, but when he regained his health he finally climbed to the top again and in 1910 he sold his farm and stock and moved to Arcadia, where he lived the rest of his life.

He was an invalid the last five years, passing away in the year 1923. Mrs. Stevens passed on in 1933. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill are now living in their home in Arcadia. Mrs. Hill has the little home-made stand that always stood by the bed for the lamp, which she values very highly and also one chair which has always been in use. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hill have the Gold Mine Cafe in Arcadia which is a neat and welcome place of business.

Chanticleers Blasted Loup City 35 to 14 In Season's Last Game

A rather jumbled-up squad of Ord Chanticleers piled up a 35-14 win over Coach Brown's Loup City cagers last Friday in the final game of the season for the Ordites. Frank Lee's second squad, made up in a greater part by junior high players, was also victorious as they won handily with a final 21 to 11 count.

This game was the last Mid Six conference game of the season and leaves Ord with a total of five wins, no defeats and the conference basketball title in their possession.

Four Ord players concluded their high school basketball careers in this game. Those boys who will be lost this year include Gerald Clark, guard; Harold Haskell, forward-center; Dean Barta, center; and Elno Zikmund, reserve center.

Cetak Looks Good.

In this final game of the season, with two regulars on the bench, Coach Brockman decided to give his reserve material a chance. Charles Cetak, lanky junior, was in the starting line-up and showed up nicely. The opening quarter of the game was a rather rough affair with Ord doing more than their share of the fouling. At the end of the first period Ord led by a narrow 8 to 6 margin. In the second quarter Hughes and Barta in slightly battered condition were sent into the game. The fouling came to a halt and Ord surged ahead to a 15 to 7 lead at the half time.

Clark Sinks Shots.

Gerald Clark did a little shooting in the third quarter and along with some plunkers laid in by Haskell and Zulkoski, the Ord team increased their lead to a 28 to 10 decision at the end of the third stanza. In the final period both teams fought on even terms Ord tossing in five points and Loup making four to bring the score up to the final 35 to 14 verdict.

Scoring was evenly divided with four Ordsters tying for scoring honors with a total of four baskets per each. Siebler at center did some effective shooting for his team to lead the Loup City scoring with a total of five points.

Hurlbert Outstanding.

In the second team game, the entire junior high five got a chance to get into the fray. Ray Hurlbert looking outstanding while Piskorski and Carlsen also showed up well. The Loupsters held the Ord team a little more in check the final half than the first, the Ordites leading 15 to 4 at the end of the first half. Arden Clark was high in the scoring with a total of eight points.

Did you ever attend a basketball game in which one of the contesting teams was Loup City? Didja ever notice Coach Brown during the game? He has one favorite (pet) phrase—"Go to work! Go to work!" Didn't help much the other night.

Coach says that track practices will start immediately. However, at the present time he's being held up by the snowdrifts. "Brock" says he's going to start to get the boys in form by having them jump rope. Some fun!

In the opinion of this column, Mr. Weitzel of Broken Bow is a good official. His method of "working" a game differs a little from the usual type. Notice that he touches the ball to the floor every time before he puts it into play?

Can it be that Loup City has gone "basketball minded"? To date, three large basketball tournaments, representing some 40 or 50 teams, have been held in Loup City. That's something.

Going back into the old records, in this case an annual which was put out by Ord high in 1921, we discover that in that year Ord won a basketball game with Aurora by the stupendous score of 2 to 0. It's almost unbelievable. Here's another: In the same year Ord played Broken Bow in a football game and received a neat 81 to 0 licking!

K. of C. Team Loses At Loup City, Will Play at Comstock

Ord's Knight of Columbus basketball team made their first appearance in actual play last Sunday night in the invitational tournament held at Loup City. Ord dropped their first round game, although they made their opponents sweat to do it, by a 25-41 score. The Wiggle Creek town team, their opponents, was an all-veteran and much more experienced team.

Dr. Osentowski and Syl Furtak, organizers of the team, say their team will try its luck again tonight when they journey to Comstock to enter a similar invitational tourney. The team, which was organized more for the purpose of having a little fun than for the winning of trophies and honors, has as members: Ed Whelan, Syl Furtak, Paul Waldman, Emil Sedlacek, Al Parkos, Ed Parkos, Dr. F. G. Kruml, George Kruml, Dr. Osentowski, and Joe Petska, along with a few other extras.

Ord boasts another basketball team which many of the fans know little or nothing about. This team is known as the Ord Independent team and is made up from the younger set of Ord youths, all of whom were former stars in their high school careers. Members of the team are: Richard Severson, Dale Mella, Jack Tunncliff, Guy Keep, Paul Carlsen, Bill Tunncliff and Everett Lashmuit.

Another L. City Tourney.
Sponsored by the Loup City Volunteer Fire Department, an invitational basketball tournament with 16 teams competing for honors was held this week in the Loup City auditorium. Finals were scheduled to be played Wednesday night.

First prize winners received gold basketballs, second place silver and third green gold bronze.

Comstock Holds Tourney.
A town team basketball tournament will take place in Comstock this Thursday and Friday with sixteen teams competing for high honors. The tournament is to be held in the Comstock high school auditorium.

St. Paul Team Ties.
The Phonograph bowling team of St. Paul is in a tie for first place with the Chapman Farmers Union team of Grand Island in the Out-of-Town bowling league at the Rockwell Alleys in Grand Island.

These boys all did their share in making the 1937 season a good one for the Chanticleers. Hughes and Zulkoski could always be depended on to give a good account of themselves in a game while Severson and Dahlin were first class reserves who will bear watching in next year's play.

Boelus Is Champlon.
Boelus virtually clinched the central Nebraska basketball league championship by smashing through a rugged Rockville crew 82 to 16 to remain undefeated in conference play. Litcheffield is in second place with only one defeat marked against them.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

—Dr. C. J. Miller went to Omaha Monday morning on business, returning Tuesday.

—Frank Bialy who as a member of the army contingent from Ft. Crook went to the Arkansas flood area, writes his sister, Mrs. Harry Marshall, a harrowing tale of conditions there. He said there was mud, sickness, and want everywhere, but that the needs of the people were being taken care of as rapidly as possible.

—Word received from Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peckham states that they are now located in California. Frank says that he is well pleased with the country, and while he has not seen the sun yet, he believes that it will be O. K. when the sun shines. The Keller boys, Wayne and Ed, are both where the Peckhams are. Wayne has a job, but Ed is out of work.

—Charles D. Sayre came up from North Loup to attend to a matter of business Saturday.

—Mr. and Mrs. Hans Thorne arrived from Idaho Falls, Ida., Thursday evening and left again Saturday morning after a short visit with relatives. He is working in a liquor store there and had to get back to work Monday morning. Hans says that his advice to anyone who thinks Idaho is a good place to get work is to stay where you are if you are making anything at all. He adds that a man could not even buy a job there, and that the home men get the preference.

—Joe Dworak and wife and son arrived in Ord Tuesday night of last week by auto. They came the southern route by way of Corpus Christi, Texas. There they took time to fish. At Prague, Okla., they stopped for a visit with the Emil Urban family, and saw Anton Novotny at Omika, Okla. They are staying out with her brother, John Ulrich and family until they have time to get located. Joe is looking for some business opportunity here. He says that California is a nice place to visit and spend money in, but not much of a place to make money. They went out there over the northern route, thus seeing a large section of the western country. Frank Dworak, jr., and family also plan on coming back to Ord in the near future.

—Mrs. R. C. Bailey underwent a nasal operation at the hands of Dr. F. A. Barta Monday.

Jack Scott Kills Federal Officer, Now Facing Death

Boy Who Came to Arcadia With Stolen Car Now In Oklahoma Prison.

Jack Scott, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Scott of St. Louis, Mo., is in the Oklahoma penitentiary awaiting trial on charges of killing a federal officer, learns Sheriff George S. Round and probably will either get the death penalty or be imprisoned for life.

In November this young man showed up at the home of his uncle, George Scott of Arcadia, with a new Chevrolet car which he claimed had been loaned to him by his father, who lived in the Arcadia community in former years. From his father, however, came word that the boy had stolen the car and George Scott was asked to keep boy and car there until his father arrived.

In some manner young Scott got news of his father's coming, drove the car out of the garage and went away with his uncle in pursuit. He soon outdistanced his uncle, who telephoned Sheriff Round and asked him to head the boy off if he came toward Ord. Finally the boy was caught near North Loup and when his father arrived from St. Louis he took him back to that city.

Now comes word that about two weeks ago he again stole his father's car and drove it to McAlester, Okla., where he held up a drug store. A policeman caught him in the act but he escaped by shooting the policeman through a shoulder. A deputy sheriff and a federal officer gave chase and caught up with Jack Scott near Ada, Okla. Again he attempted to shoot his way out, this time killing the federal officer and wounding the deputy, who finally disarmed and arrested the boy.

George Scott of Arcadia has been in McAlester recently to look into the case, as has the boy's father from St. Louis.

Mrs. Grace Rood Weds George Mayo

At Lincoln Monday morning occurred the marriage of Mrs. Grace F. Rood, former publisher of the North Loup Loyalist, to George Mayo, according to a letter received by Melvin Cornell, who has leased the newspaper. Immediately after the ceremony they left on a trip to the west coast, expecting to visit relatives and friends at several places along the way. This week end they are spending with a sister of Mrs. Mayo in Oklahoma.

Mrs. W. B. Gregg Dead.
Word was received here that Mrs. Wm. B. Gregg passed away Sunday evening at Genoa, where she had lived since about 1934. Funeral services are being held at Genoa this morning and the body will be brought to Ord for burial at 3:00 this afternoon. Mr. Gregg, a prominent Noble township farmer, died in 1933 and is buried in Ord cemetery also.

George Benn, sr., Was 91 Years Old Febr. 11

George Benn, sr., who with his good wife has lived in North Ord for the past 25 years, has been growing older so quietly and steadily that it is somewhat of a shock to wake to the realization that he passed his 91st birthday on Feb. 11th. The Quiz feels justified in claiming that he is the oldest man and probably the oldest person living in Valley county today. In spite of his many years, Mr. Benn is able to be about, and was out in the yard when the accompanying picture was taken by Lavern Dumey.

George Benn was born in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany, Feb. 11, 1846. He spent the first 25 or more years of his life there, being a soldier in the Franco-Prussian war of 1871. He came to Nebraska in 1883, and the same year he was married to Catherine Selh. They lived on Turtle creek for 18 years. In 1901 Mr. Benn bought the farm north of Ord on which his son Henry lives, and they lived there until 1912. They then moved into Ord and have made their home in north Ord since that time.

Two children came to bless this union. Henry, the oldest, is married and lives on the farm north of Ord, George, Jr., had a shop in Grand Island for many years, but recently disposed of it in order that he might be at home to look after his parents. It is a pleasure to think of these good old people who have been privileged to enjoy each other's society for a period of time almost as long as most of us are permitted to live. May Mr. Benn live to enjoy many more birthdays.

Wayne Norman Gets Promotion.
Wayne Norman, assistant buttermaker at the Ord Cooperative Creamery several years, has been employed as supervisor of the Myers Dairy, largest in Grand Island, and leaves this week to take up his new duties. He will move his family there at once. Emil Babka has been employed at the creamery here. He owns a home in Ord and will move his family to town soon.

Card of Thanks.
We wish to take this means of thanking our friends for their many acts of kindness and sympathy in our bereavement.

Jack Dyas Regrets.

A brief note received by the Quiz from Jack Dyas, of Hastings, who has refereed many basketball and football games here, says: "Please allow me to express the shock and deep regret that I share with people of Ord at the tragedy that has taken the lives of two boys whom I admired and counted as my friends. I have always appreciated the spirit shown by both Harold Haskell and Harold Mella in my association with them."

Irrigation School Here March 24-25

Dates for the irrigation school which is to be held in Ord by the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district, the extension service of the agricultural college, and the Valley county farm bureau, cooperating, have been definitely set for March 24 and 25.

One of the speakers who has been secured for this meeting is Fred Wallace, of Gibbon, a man known to practically every farmer in the state because of the fact that he has been state chairman of the corn-hog and agricultural conservation programs, since the first program was started in Nebraska. Mr. Wallace is almost as well known by his reputation as an expert grower of potatoes under irrigation and ranks as one of the leading potato growers of this state.

Valley county farmers will undoubtedly be greatly interested in hearing Mr. Wallace tell of his methods of potato growing. Other speakers from the Platte valley will also tell of their methods of handling other crops under irrigation.

Painting In Court House Progressing

The painting in the court house is progressing nicely this week. The reporter was slightly in error in stating that Norman Holt was working there. He was only loaning his equipment. The work of mixing the paint and combining the colors is in charge of Ernest Woolery, who is also in charge of the two crews of painters. Those who are working at present in addition to Mr. Woolery are Larry Botts, Carl Sorensen, Ed Duschus and Charlie Lane. The rooms in the southwest corner of the basement are all done, as well as those of the county agent. At present work is being done on both the men's and ladies' rest rooms. The entire basement will be completed next week.

Seed Corn Show In Ord March 13

A seed corn show and exchange will be held at the American Legion Hall in Ord, on Saturday March 13, according to an announcement from the county agent's office.

This show is made possible through the cooperation of Dwight Keyes, manager of the Brown-McDonald store, who is putting up $25.00 in cash to pay premiums. Every farmer who has seed corn for sale is invited to bring in his entries for this show. All entries should be 10-ear samples. Exhibitors will be allowed to display a card showing the amount they have for sale and the price. This will furnish an opportunity for the man who has seed for sale and the man who needs seed to get together, and the premiums will be an added attraction.

Elvin Froliek of the agronomy department of the college of agriculture has been secured to judge the exhibits. Mr. Froliek will also hold a meeting in the afternoon to discuss crop problems with the farmers.

A complete prize list will be published next week. If other Ord business firms wish to cooperate in offering prizes for this show they may do so by getting in touch with the county agent by Monday, March 7.

Will Instruct Men In Farm Leveling

Because of the interest in learning to handle a farm level for the running of contour lines for contour farming, terracing, and irrigation, the Valley county farm bureau, has arranged to hold a school for farmers who are interested in this line of work. The school will not be open to the public as only a limited number can be accepted, but those who are interested should register at the county agent's office before March 10.

It is desired to secure young men of at least high school education to receive this training. The school will be held on March 17, beginning at 9:30 a. m. The forenoon will be devoted to classroom work and the afternoon will be spent in the field, running contour lines.

Not more than one man per township will be accepted for this school. Instruction for constructing a simple farm level will be given, and only those men who intend to make or buy a level and prepare themselves to do this work will be considered. There is no fee for attending the school and receiving the training.

An engineer from the Agricultural college will be in charge.

HAROLD HASKELL.
William Harold Haskell was born on the Q-Z ranch north of Ord, March 8, 1917, and died Febr. 28, 1937 at the age of 19 years, 11 months and 20 days. The greater portion of his life was spent in Ord and vicinity. He was a member of the senior class of the Ord high school. He was a great lover of sports, and made a name for himself in football, basketball and track. He never permitted his zeal for athletics to interfere with his studies, and was noted for his clean sportsmanship. Harold was an active member of the Ord Methodist church, from which the funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon, in charge of the pastor, Rev. Mearl C. Smith, and burial made in the Ord cemetery. Besides his father and mother, John R. and Ruth Wilson Haskell, he leaves one sister, Ruth Maxine, grandmother, Mrs. W. W. Haskell, all of Ord, many near relatives and close friends.

W. HAROLD MELLA.
William Harold Mella was born Sept. 3, 1920, third son of Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Mella, and died Febr. 28, 1937, being 16 years, 6 months and 25 days of age at the time of his death. He was a student in the Ord high school, a member of the senior class, with high scholastic attainments and very popular with the teachers and his fellow students. Besides his father and mother he leaves one sister, Mrs. Harold Slechta, Vall, Iowa; five brothers, Ray, Charles, Dale, Martin and Marvin, all of Ord; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. McBeth of Spalding and Mrs. John Mella, of Greta; also a large number of other relatives and friends. Funeral services were held from the Catholic church Tuesday at 9:00 o'clock A. M., Rev. Father Lawler in charge. Classmates Don Tunnicliff, Dean Barta, Harold Barnes, Harry Zulkoski, Emil Darges and Willard Cushing acted as pall bearers. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Quill And Scroll Award Club Charter
Quill and Scroll, the international honorary society for high school journalists, had just granted a charter to the Ord high school in newspaper department. Nominees for membership of the local chapter, which will be started here immediately, will send in their qualifications for membership as soon as they have been approved by the sponsor. Staff members of the local high school paper "The Oracle" include LaVerne Lakin, editor; Lillian Karty, assistant editor; and Miss Bernice Slote, sponsor.

Ord Declam Contest Held This Friday

The annual local declamatory contest will be held in the high school auditorium on Friday night of this week. This contest is an elimination contest, the winners of which are eligible to compete in the sub-district contest to be held at Gibbon, Neb., this year.

Miss Ellen Seving says that some unusually fine talent is being displayed this year by the dramatic students and an excellent local contest is assured. All divisions of the regular contest tournaments will be represented in the local contest. Divisions will include: extemporaneous, dramatic, humorous, original oratory, and expression reading.

—Mrs. Sam Guggenmos and boys visited Mrs. Don Harmon Wednesday.

Legion and Auxiliary Meet.

The American Legion met in regular session at the hall Tuesday evening with a total of twenty members present. As it was the first regular meeting held this year, due to the condition of the weather through the winter, the report of the convention committee was read. Comrade Wiegard in charge of this matter, reported a total of $318.16 in receipts, with expenditures slightly less, leaving a small balance on hand.

In view of the fact that this was the first convention of this kind ever put on in Ord, putting it over without a financial loss was a remarkable performance. While much credit is due Mr. Wiegard, as well as all the officers and members of both the Legion and the Auxiliary, the members feel that a large share of the credit is due those who when approached for assistance of any kind, responded most cordially.

The members of both organizations wished the Quiz to express their appreciation of the hundreds of little acts of cooperation, without which the convention would have been a failure.

Keep Well Club Organized.

The Keep Well club was organized in the Spring creek school last week. The officers elected at the first meeting were: president, Frank Hosek; vice president, James Urbanski; secretary, Verna Vergin; news reporter, Pauline Wegryzn; cheer leader, Maynard Smith. A record of each pupil's height and weight is kept. Miss Lee, county extension agent, visits the school once a month to weigh the children.

Royal Kensington Meets.

The Royal Kensington club met Thursday for their second all day meeting of the month at the Earl Smith home. The lesson on "When We Go Shopping" was given. This was a lesson postponed from January. Mrs. S. I. Willard will be the next hostess.

Womens Club Meets.

The Women's club met Monday with Mrs. Anthony Koupal. The lesson, "Portland and the Northwest", was given by Mrs. G. W. Allen and Mrs. Chas. Bals, assisted by Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. H. T. Frazier, and Mrs. Evet Smith. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Edward Kokes.

Ladies Aid Meets.

The Ladies Aid of the Christian church met Wednesday with Mrs. John Mason. At one o'clock a covered dish luncheon was served. There was a good attendance, considering the threatening weather.

Party At Vodehnal's.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kokes and children, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beran and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Beran and son, Misses Mildred and Harriet Hrdy and Mrs. John Ward made up a party at the Ernest Vodehnal home Thursday evening. The Ernest Vodehnal family is moving this week to a place just south of Ord.

The Jollite club met Monday evening with Mrs. Olof Olsson, for a 7:00 o'clock buffet supper.

CHARLES BLAHA, SR.

Charles Blaha, sr., was born on Nov. 3, 1864 in Boskostejn, Moravia. He came to America with his parents at the age of 12 years and located in Howard county. He was married to Mary Sibal in the year 1887 and took a claim west of Ord in Woods park. He was there two years and then moved back to Howard county where he lived until 1903.

Moving back to Valley county he located northeast of Ord in the sand flats. Here he remained until 1932, when he retired from active work and moved to Ord, where he lived until his death Monday, March 1. His age at the time of his death was 72 years, 3 months and 28 days. He was preceded in death by his son Frank in 1906, at the age of 17 years, and by his brother Frank three years ago.

Surviving are five sons and two daughters; Charley, Rudolph and Louie, and Mrs. Joe Jelinek, all of Ord; Joe of Waverly, Nebr.; Mrs. John P. Rozmahel, of Viking Alberta, Canada; Edward of Bellwood, Nebr.; 16 grandchildren; 4 sisters and 2 brothers: Jacob Blaha, of St. Paul; Mrs. Albert Hosek and Mrs. Vincent Suchanek of Ord; Mrs. Anna Manasil and Joe Blaha of St. Paul; and Mrs. John Ambrose of Elba.

Funeral services were held from the Ord Catholic church Wednesday at 9:30 a. m. with Rev. Father Lawler in charge, and burial was made in the Ord Catholic cemetery. Throughout his entire life Mr. Blaha displayed the characteristics of an honest man and a good citizen. He raised his children in the fear of God and the respect of his fellow men, and he will be sincerely mourned by those who knew him best.

During the final ten months of his life he was bedfast, but he had the best of care from his devoted wife. Old time friends acted as pall bearers. They were, Frank Kokes, sr., John Kokes, sr., Joseph Novosad, P. Jelinek, Joseph Kruml, sr., and Will Gruber. The flower committee was Mrs. James Wachterle and Mrs. Lydia Fafeta.

Traffic Campaign Opened, Five Fined

B. V. Swift, salesman, was the first of three who were picked up Tuesday by Marshal Covert charged with speeding on highway No. 11 in Ord. He drew a fine of $5.00 and costs of $4.50. Ellis M. Carson, arrested on the same charge, received a like fine and costs, as did Noel L. Smith. All admitted that they were going in excess of 45 miles per hour when arrested, or more than double the posted speed of 20 miles per hour which is legal in Ord. Marshal Len Covert made all arrests, and all were fined in police court before Police Judge John L. Andersen. Yter Glenn Karr, driving a beer truck from Grand Island, was picked up and fined for driving in excess of 45 miles per hour. He also was fined $5.00 and $4.50 costs. Wednesday forenoon Elwin Aubie drove past a stop sign and paid a fine of $1.00 and costs of $4.50. The authorities have decided to put a stop to traffic violations in so far as Ord is concerned.

The Liberty Ladies Aid met at the home of Mrs. Lee Woodworth Wednesday for an all day meeting. A lovely covered dish dinner was served at noon. This is the first meeting in two months. Fifteen members were present, quilting for the hostess.

Mrs. W. R. Moody and sons of Ord, who have been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Armstrong, since the death of Ernest Armstrong at Cozad, returned home Saturday.

COLD STORAGE LOCKER SYSTEM

It is something new in this part of the country but such systems have been successfully operated in different states with the best of satisfaction. For the past three years the writer has watched the operation of similar cold storage locker systems in several towns and decided that the City of Ord and territory is large enough to support such a system here.

To acquaint you with this cold storage locker system we want to explain to you briefly how it is built and works:

We are building an insulated room 36x26 feet in size and are installing refrigerating equipment to keep it the year around at a temperature of about 10 above zero. In this room we are installing individual meat lockers, which will hold about 400 pounds of meat, under your own lock and key. You may have entrance to the room at any time you care to put your meat in or take it out.

Rental of lockers will be at the following rates:

Per month $1.10 -:- for 6 months $5.50
Per year $9.00

Sugar Factory Is Seeking Contracts Here—W. H. Denman

Will Build Sugar Dump This Summer; Factory Coming With Irrigation.

A little group of a dozen business men and farmers from the North Loup valley had luncheon together at the Thorne Cafe Saturday and important results for the valley may come partly as a result of that meeting. During the morning W. H. Denman, for a long time general manager of the Great Western beet sugar factory at Grand Island, drove to Ord for a conference with E. H. Dunmire regarding the possibility of getting a few beet contracts in the lower valley where water will be supplied for this growing season. Mr. Dunmire called a number of farmers and business men to join him in entertaining Mr. Denman at luncheon.

In talking to the group Mr. Denman stated that his company has long studied the North Loup valley; that they are familiar with its soil; with the steady flow of the river; with the climate. He said they have known for a long time that all needed to make it an ideal beet growing district is water on the soil. He said that as soon as it was announced that we were to have irrigation his company renewed its activities and that they now hope to contract a few hundred acres under the ditch where water will be supplied this year and he promised that suitable beet loading equipment such as they installed in the Platte valley will be installed in time to handle this year's crop without the raisers having to scoop the beets. He is not particular whether his company secures a few acres from a large number of growers or whether a few farmers, but he stated that it is very important that every grower make a success of the venture this season.

He said that a representative of his company will be in the valley in a week or ten days to meet the various farmers and try to find out what their desires are in the matter. Mr. Denman stated that as soon as the whole valley is watered his company will be interested in spending $1,500,000.00 in putting a sugar factory at some point in the valley, provided the people showed that they were beet-minded and interested.

Mr. Dunmire acted as toastmaster and introduced Mr. Denman and called upon most of those present for short talks. He said that seven or eight thousand acres of the 48 thousand acres suitable for irrigation in the valley, would be watered this year. He believed results this season will be more important to the development of the valley than any future two seasons and he pledged himself and his official board to do everything in their power to assist in making successful the efforts of all who plant crops under the new methods which will be necessary with irrigation.

Mr. Dunmire called on President Hudson who spoke along the same lines. Others who spoke briefly were City Manager George Allen, R. W. Norman, Val Pullen, John P. Misko, Ralph Brownell, Roy Bailey and H. D. Leggett, all of whom pledged their hearty cooperation to Mr. Denman in his efforts to introduce the growing of beets in the valley. Others present were Jos. P. Baria and W. O. Zangger.

Mr. Pullen said he believes with irrigation he will be able to get as much popcorn from contracting 500 acres as he had been able to get in recent years from 3500 acres and he thinks that will leave a lot of acres for beets and other crops. Mr. Denman stated that it is the history of all irrigated countries that the common crops are to a great extent dropped after a few years for more highly specialized crops such as potatoes, alfalfa, beets, artichokes, etc., and he is sure the same thing will happen here.

Co. Board Modifies Court Room Ruling

The regular meeting of the Valley county supervisors was held Tuesday, March 2. Several items of general interest were considered. The county bought a new Chevrolet truck for the use of the bridge department, trading in the International on it.

A delegation appeared before the board and asked that Road Dist. No. 20, comprising the south half of Michigan township, be divided, the southeast quarter to be designated as Dist. No. 20, and the southwest quarter to be designated as Dist. No. 35. The request was allowed as asked for.

The board passed a resolution that in the future the district court room may be used for county governmental meetings as well as its designated use as a district court room.

Burlington Freight Service Tri-Weekly

Beginning Monday, March 8, the Burlington railroad inaugurated tri-weekly freight service over their Palmer-Burwell branch. The freight will go down on Monday, Wednesday and Friday, and come up on Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday. Time for leaving Burwell has been advanced to 10:30 a. m. bringing the freight to Ord at about 11:00 a. m. The time of the north bound train has not been changed, but will be into Ord at 2:10 as usual.

Fire Truck Will Be Bought; Citizens To Vote on Swim Pool

Council Decides Submit Two Types of Poll at City Election April 6th.

At the meeting of the city council Friday evening A. J. Shirley and Cecil Clark appeared at the council's request in behalf of the Ord fire department, and presented a list of what they desired in the line of fire fighting equipment to put the town up to date in every respect. The list included a truck equipped with a pumper with a 600 gallon capacity mounted either in front or amidships, 800 feet of standard 2 1/2 inch hose and other equipment.

After giving the matter careful consideration Mayor Gould flaged appointed a committee of four, including Councilmen Burrows and Sershen, City Attorney Ralph Norman and A. J. Shirley to take whatever action was necessary on the proposition. It was found that the addition of 200 more feet of hose to the new truck's equipment would put it in line to meet the insurance requirements in bracket 6. It is likely that this will be done. A. J. Shirley pointed out that this equipment with reasonable care should give service over a period of twenty years, and that it should be bought to fill any reasonable need of the future.

C. E. Donigan, representative of a cement company, was present and talked with the council in regard to the contemplated swimming pool. It appears that two types of pool have been suggested, the cost in each case to be about the same, and in neither case to exceed $16,000.00. The comparative utility of the two styles was considered, and the council decided to give the public a chance to express a preference as to which type should be built. The voters will be given an opportunity to vote their preference at the spring election April 6.

Capron, O'Neal Back From Trip to West

A. B. Capron and F. P. O'Neal returned from their three week trip to the west, and express themselves as glad to see Nebraska and Valley county again. They left Feb. 14 by way of No. 30. In western Nebraska they ran into a severe dust storm, which continued until they reached Rawlins, Wyo. There they ran into a heavy snow storm. The next day they drove from Rawlins to Boise, Idaho, through country heavily blanketed with snow. Leaving Boise on the third day they drove to Portland by way of the scenic Columbia river drive, on No. 30. They reached Portland in a heavy drizzle, which continued through the night and all the next day. After three days they drove to Eugene and then west to the waterfront, thence north on No. 101 to Astoria.

Here they came to an advertised resort where a footpath led down the mountain side to a point where the breakers came in from the sea just below them. They went through a tunnel and into a cave from which they could see about 30 sea lions, some of which weighed a ton or more. This is claimed to be the only place where they can be seen in a wild state. From Astoria they went back to Portland, then up through Olympia and Tacoma to Seattle. From Seattle they came east through Snoqualmie Pass, through Yakima, and reached No. 30 at Pendleton. They followed No. 30 all the way back. The weather west of the Cascades was similar to ours of April or May.

There are no large farms in that section, being mostly gardens, orchards and chicken ranches, all of small size. The chief industries are mining, commercial fisheries and canneries, and, on the coast, commerce. Seattle derives a large income from exports and imports to and from Alaska and the Orient. While the western country is a nice place to take a vacation, both men were glad to see the North Loup valley at the end of the trip.

$47,251.81 Paid To Soil Conservation Act Cooperators

700 Out of Estimated 1,150 Checks Received; 10% Is Held Out for Expense.

About two-thirds of the Valley county farmers and landlords who cooperated with the federal government in 1936 under the Soil Conservation Act received benefit payments last week for their compliance, it is reported by the office of County Agent C. C. Dale.

Seven hundred checks totalling $47,251.81 were received and by Tuesday more than 80 per cent of them had been claimed. As soon as the checks arrived official notices were mailed to the farmers entitled to them.

There will be about 450 more checks coming soon, Dale's office says, and notices will be mailed out as soon as they come. "Don't come in and ask for your check unless you have received notice it is here," advises Mrs. Tamar Gruber, treasurer of the Soil Conservation organization here.

From all compliance payments 10 per cent is being withheld by the government until administrative costs are finally determined. Such costs will not exceed 3 per cent, it is thought now, so a second payment will be made to all farmers later in the spring.

Clement Hereford Sale March 18th At Pavilion Ord

60 Head Finest Cattle In Nebraska to Sell; A Big Sale Expected.

The annual purebred Hereford sale of the G. G. Clement & Sons farm is the largest cattle sale to be held in Valley county each March. Usually it is held on the Clement farm south of Ord but this year arrangements have been made to have the sale in the Ord pavilion and it will occur next Thursday, March 18.

Besides the Clement offering, many fine bulls and heifers have been consigned by H. C. Koelling & Sons, R. E. Psota, Long Bros. & Greley, and S. Hesselgeser, of Burwell. Anxiety 4th blood strains predominate in the entire offering. The Clement sale always attracts a big crowd of buyers and from advance requests for catalogs R. Claire Clement, sale manager, feels this year will be no exception. Auctioneers will be Thompson, Cummins & Burdick field men will be Chas. Corlke of the Journal-Stockman and Henry Biederman, of the Nebraska Farmer, and the First National bank of Ord will be clerk. See the Clement ad elsewhere in this issue and write Mr. Clement if you want a catalog.

Draper Buys Grocery. Kenneth Draper, for many years a popular clerk in the grocery department of the Farmers Grain and Supply Company, has purchased Haught's West Side Grocery and is having his official opening tomorrow. Much new stock has been installed and Mr. Draper assures customers that he will be able to furnish whatever they desire in either staple or fancy groceries. "Kenny" is an efficient likeable chap and should make a grand success of his first venture into business for himself.

Johnson, Auble Council Nominees

City caucuses were held Thursday evening at the Legion hall. The Good Government party held theirs in the lower room, with Clarence A. Davis as chairman and A. J. Auble as secretary. L. D. Milliken and Dr. F. L. Blessing, present in cumbents, were nominated for positions on the school board. For park board Dr. G. W. Taylor was nominated unanimously. Nominees for councilmen were A. J. Auble, 1st ward; Frank Sershen, 2nd ward; and Dr. J. W. McGinnis, 3d ward.

The Citizens' party met in the upstairs room. A. J. Shirley was chosen chairman and Alfred Wiegard, secretary. With two exceptions the ticket nominated was identical with that of the Good Government slate. In the first ward Frank Johnson will oppose A. J. Auble for councilman, while Ed Beranek, present incumbent, will oppose Dr. Taylor for member of the park board. There were about twenty-five out for each caucus.

Ord To Take Part In Music Festival

The seventh annual Loup valley music festival will be held next Thursday, March 18, in the Arcadia high school auditorium and Ord will be one of eleven high schools to participate. Comstock, Loup City, Taylor, North Loup, Sargent, Scotta, Burwell, St. Paul, Dannebrog and Arcadia are the others. Mrs. Mildred Rife Nye, music supervisor at Arcadia is general chairman. Prof. D. R. Appleman, of Kearney, will be critic of the day and the Kearney capella choir of 50 voices will present the artist program in the evening. Many Ord people are planning to accompany local high school musicians to Arcadia.

Max Pearson New Sinclair Oil Man

Max Pearson who has been Sinclair tank service man at Syracuse, Nebr., for the past three years has accepted the management of the tank service of the Sinclair Oil Co. here, and took up active management March 1. H. H. Kehbeck of Syracuse gave Mr. Pearson a very high recommendation for his new position, and while he did not like to lose him from the work at Syracuse, he did not want to stand in the way of his advancement.

Mr. and Mrs. Pearson will store their household goods for a short time until he is settled in his new job. Mrs. Pearson will visit relatives for about two weeks, after which time she plans to join her husband. The Syracuse Journal-Democrat speaks very highly of the Pearsons, and wishes them the best of success in their new location.

Ed Parks was the former Sinclair bulk dealer.

Has AutoGlide Delivery.

Jerry Petska has purchased one of the new AutoGlides which are becoming the rage in the larger cities and expects to put Jerry Jr. at work making deliveries for the store in his spare time. The AutoGlide is a vest pocket edition of the motorcycle and gets you where you want to go if you don't happen to hit a telephone pole. We'll bet Jerry Jr. doesn't like the idea a little bit. The first time the Quiz photographers see Jerry sr., astride the vehicle we will have a real picture.

$25 Cash Prizes For Corn Show In Ord Sat., March 13

Farmers Who Have Seed To Sell, Farmers Who Need It, Should Attend.

The premium list for the seed show to be held at the American Legion hall in Ord, on Saturday, March 13, is now complete. The show is open to any farmer in Valley county and other farmers in the Ord trade territory. All entries must be in place by 9:30 Saturday morning. Entries brought in before Saturday may be left at the county agent's office.

Since the idea of the show is largely to bring buyer and seller together exhibitors will be permitted to display a card stating the variety, amount they have for sale, the price, and germination test.

Prof. Elvin Frolk of the college of agriculture will judge the exhibits and in the afternoon at 1:30 will give a talk to all who are interested. Mr. Frolk will discuss crops in general, improved varieties of seed adapted to this section and will also discuss pasture problems.

Following is the list of premiums offered. All cash prizes are given by the Golden Rule Store. Yellow Dent Corn, 8 inches and over: 1st—$2.00; 2nd—$1.50; 3rd—$1.00; 4th—50c. White Dent Corn, 8 inches and over: 1st—$2.00; 2nd—$1.50; 3rd—$1.00; 4th—50c. Yellow Dent Corn, under 8 inches: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—75c; 3rd—50c. White Dent Corn, under 8 inches: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—75c; 3rd—50c. Rainbow Flint Corn: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—75c; 3rd—50c. Blue Flour Corn: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—75c; 3rd—50c.

Ed F. Beranek offers a special prize of 25 lbs. of Dr. Hess Stock Tonic for the best 10 ears of corn in the show. Small grain gallon samples: Oats: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—50c. Barley: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—50c. Small seeds gallon samples: Alfalfa: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—50c. Sweet Clover: 1st—$1.00; 2nd—50c.

Farmers who have seed on which no premiums are offered such as sorghums, millet, and samples of shelled corn are welcome to bring them in and display them with appropriate advertising.

Unightly Landmark Now Being Removed—Razing Barn Nearly Half Century Old

Verne Weller of the Weller Lumber company recently purchased the old breeding barn on the northeast corner of block 14, original townsite of Ord, and south across the street from the east end of the lumber yard, and this week a crew of men are busy tearing it down. Mr. Weller decided that it was time this relic of early days, now only an eyesore, should be removed. It is not only unsightly and a constant fire hazard, but is not the only building inside the fire limits that has outlived its usefulness. Mr. Weller will not replace the building at this time, but will sell the material for kindling. With the arrival of spring a cleanup campaign is in the offing and the removal of this barn will make a very good start. Next week the Quiz plans to have several pictures of the seamy side of Ord, other buildings inside the fire limits that have outlived their usefulness and are abandoned, but which nevertheless present a constant risk to fire.

Traffic Campaign In Ord Continues, More Arrests Made

City Determined to Enforce Safety Rules; Speeding, Stop Signs Watched.

Instructed by Mayor Gould B. Flagg to enforce strictly Ord's ordinances relating to operation of motor vehicles, Chief of Police L. H. Covert and assistant officers have arrested 17 drivers during the past week and halted them before Police Judge J. L. Andersen where all have been fined. The safety campaign will continue, city officials say, and drivers are warned to drive at a nominal rate of speed, stop at every stop sign, be sure their lights are in proper order and otherwise heed provisions of the municipal code. Arrests made since last Wednesday include:

- E. M. Nickolaus, speeding, fine and costs of $9.50 paid.
 - Jerry Murphy, speeding, fine and costs of $9.50 paid.
 - R. C. Bailey, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - J. A. Wellman, speeding, fine and costs of $11.82 paid.
 - John G. Foster, speeding, fine and costs of $10.50 paid.
 - R. C. Purcell, speeding, fine and costs of $11.50 paid.
 - N. A. Lewin, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - Fred W. Coe, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - Ivan Anderson, driving with only one headlight, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - M. C. Pimbeck, speeding, fine and costs of $11.50 paid.
 - George Spangler, speeding, fine and costs of $11.50 paid.
 - Arthur Nass, speeding, fine and costs of $11.50 paid.
 - Harold Moore, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $7.50 paid.
 - J. W. Gates, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - James Hejsek, failure to stop at stop sign, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
 - Alfred King, speeding, fine and costs of $11.50 paid.
 - J. N. Naughton, fine and costs of $5.50 paid.
- Last week previous to Wednesday five other drivers were arrested on similar charges so the total of arrests during Ord's present campaign now stands at 22.
- Fines collected on traffic charges go to the city school fund while all costs collected are turned over to the city general fund. The arresting officer and the police judge retain no part of the costs.

Ralph E. DeWolfe Is San Diego Cop

Ralph E. DeWolfe, well known in Ord more than twenty years ago, and a member of old Company I until he was rejected at Lincoln on the way to the Mexican Border, is now a member of the San Diego police force. Ira Lind says he handed in a clipping which was sent him. It shows a picture of Police Officer DeWolfe and two boys and a dog that were rescued with some difficulty after the boat they were in had drifted out to sea. When here Mr. DeWolfe who was a sergeant in the company, was also somewhat of a printer and worked at the trade in Greeley and other places. His friends of the old days will be glad to hear that he is making good in the west.

Delegation Went To Lincoln, Asked Unicams Pass 340

Bill to Provide Station For Ag Experiments Given Favorable Committee Report.

Tuesday a delegation of 32 men from Ord, Burwell, Taylor and North Loup drove to Lincoln to boost passage of bill No. 340 by the legislature. This bill, which provides for establishment of a state-federal agriculture experimental station within the North Loup power and irrigation district, was up for hearing before the unicameral committee on agriculture.

At 1:00 the local delegation met with Governor Roy L. Cochran, urging him to use his influence with legislators to bring about adoption of the bill. John P. Misko, president of the Ord chamber of commerce, spoke on behalf of the whole valley.

At 2:00 the agriculture committee hearing was held and Senator Frost, who represents this district, introduced several members of the delegation for brief talks. The speakers included W. O. Zangger, of North Loup, Thomas Banks, of Burwell, C. E. Newbecker, of Taylor, Roy W. Hudson, of North Loup, E. H. Dunmire and C. C. Dale, of Ord.

The speakers explained that farmers of this valley know little about irrigation and want to be taught what crops to plant for greatest profit. There is need, they explained, of intelligent direction, and since individual farmers cannot afford to carry on the many experiments needed a publicly financed experiment farm becomes almost a necessity.

Other irrigation projects in east central Nebraska also will benefit from experiments carried on in the North Loup, as will pump irrigators in this section of the state, the speakers explained.

Senator Frost also spoke in behalf of the bill, as did Senator Haycock, who represents Loup and Garfield counties.

The agriculture committee then endorsed No. 340, recommending that it be referred to the appropriations committee for action because it carries an appropriation of $20,000. If it is endorsed by this committee at another hearing next week the bill will come up for action by the legislature as a whole. Several local men plan to attend this next hearing.

Mid Garner Owns Rare Old Pistol

Milton W. Garner, better known as Mid, dropped into the Quiz office Tuesday to show a rare old pistol he has owned for the past 48 years. It is a single shot weapon, with the piece containing the firing pin built so that it turns to the left out of the way for loading or for removing the empty shell. It is the standard old style 44 caliber, and was a center fire, but Mr. Garner had it made into a rim fire so that he could buy shells to fire in it. It was manufactured by the Connecticut Arms and Mfg. Co., of Naubuc, Conn., and was patented Oct. 25, 1864.

It came into Mr. Garner's possession when the Cherokee strip was opened in Oklahoma in 1889. He was then too young to file on land himself, but got a job carrying sandwiches and lunches to men who were in line and who did not want to lose their places. A part Mexican named Henry Reace was in the line with a bicycle. When he ran out of money he gave Mr. Garner the pistol for keeping him in sandwiches until the starting gun. It is doubtful if there is another gun like it in Nebraska, as Mr. Garner has tried in vain to find one in various museums. He has had hundreds of chances to sell it at his own price, but it is not for sale.

First Artichoke Harvest Tuesday

Jim Skoll of the neighborhood north of Comstock harvested part of his artichoke crop Tuesday, bringing in a four ton load and leaving them at the Auble garage, where they will be taken by farmers and used as seed for 1937. It is time now to plant them, and they will be used for seed as fast as harvested. Mr. Skoll dug his artichokes with a potato digger, after which they were picked up by hand. He is well pleased with the way they turned out, and plans on planting a larger acreage this year.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mrs. C. E. McGrew Visits Former Ord Residents
1944 Penn. Ave., Los Angeles, Calif., March 2, 1937.
To the Editor of the Quiz:

Have been trying to get another letter off to you as there have been requests from different parts of the U. S. A. So many old friends to visit, with that there just isn't any time to write so I am taking time from sleeping hours after the rest have all gone to bed. Tonight I am at the home of J. B. Nays. Mr. and Mrs. Nays are looking well and enjoying life. Mrs. Alice Vincent is making her home here since coming to California. She is feeling quite well and tries to be her same jolly self but misses her friends back there. She said to me the other evening, "Why, Anna Lincoln was a real mother to me." She misses Mrs. Albert Lukes and many others. I was so surprised when she read an article to me of fine print without glasses. I think that's doing pretty well for one eighty-three years of age. More than most of us can do. By the way it seems that Mrs. Nays (Mrs. Vincent's eldest child) is following in her mother's footsteps in many respects. Mrs. Nays is sixty-six years of age and has never lost a tooth.

Pearl Nays makes her home with her parents and is holding the same job she had when we were out here fourteen years ago. She is with a wholesale millinery company. Pearl brought home what she thought would be a treat to us the other evening. It was a large cooked lobster. Well, I guess some of us gave it a funny look and Pearl said "Oh, it's delicious in salad." Mrs. Vincent said "What! Eat that animal!" To please Pearl we did wrinkle up our faces and condescend to taste it, swallowed hard, told a lie, because we told her it was good. As for myself though, I got even with her. I made a batch of salt risin bread for Mrs. Nays and when I saw Pearl sniff and turn up her nose at the salt risin bread, I said, "Now Pearl, we ate the lobster," so she wrinkled up her face, took a piece, spread it with butter, nibbled cautiously. Very soon her face straightened and she was taking big bites and it was really good.

We called at Frank Nays' last Sunday. They were all gone to Sunday school, but we waited until they came home. Frank and Elzina have changed some of course in fourteen years time but are well and happy with their fine family of healthy girls and boys.

I say boys, but two of them are young men, taller than Frank.

Last week I was down to San Diego. Went first to the home of Frances (Lindsey) Baker. Took dinner with them. Donald picked something besides a telephone operator. He got an honest to goodness cook. Some of us much older would be proud to turn out such dishes as she served that day. They have a fine sunny apartment and are very happy. Donald has a good job where there are three thousand men employed. I believe it is where airplanes are built. When I looked over to the plant the great mass of cars parked around it by the employees made me think of the cars at the Burwell rodeo.

After dinner Donald took us to Tia Juana. Well, that was something different, over into Mexico, guess I just can't describe it, but it was a beautiful day and seemed that all of southern California had driven down there. We had so much fun and believe it or not we enjoyed the two hours it took us to drive three-quarters of a mile when we started home. Cars were five deep before we got back over the line into California. There was an officer to search each line of cars. When the driver of a car seemed intoxicated he was ordered out of his car, made to walk the line, was whirled around a few times and tested out properly to find out if he was fit to drive. The result was that twenty of them were locked up in Mexico that night. Soon as we got over the line we came spinning back to San Diego.

The next day I visited in the home of Sam Powell, who used to live in Burwell. Mrs. Powell and Lela were home looking for me and it was indeed a very pleasant afternoon we spent together. Sam was out fishing, but came home in time for us to have the catch, which were smelts for dinner. Mr. and Mrs. Powell are real well and enjoying southern California very much. By the way, they have recently become great grandparents and Lela grandma. Friends of Sam there, I'm sure, would ask if Sam still sits in a rocking chair at the table. I was expecting him to draw up the rocking chair when we were gathering around the dinner table, but he said "No, I quit the rocking chair some time ago."

Leo Lindsey and wife came and spent an evening while I was with Frances and Donald. We had such a good visit and Leo lingered several times after starting home to ask more about his old time Ord friends and acquaintances. Francis took me to many places of interest, among which was the home and marriage place of Ramona, which was a hundred and twenty-five years old. We also went down to the dock and tried to find Willard Ball, formerly of Ord, but finally had to give it up as I had lost the name of the ship he was on.

On the way back to Los Angeles I was left in Long Beach at the home of Mrs. J. W. Harbert, sister of Mrs. Joe Rowbal of Ord, where the Ord ladies' club was meeting that day. I was ushered into the room full of silent, sober looking people. Just seemed to me they might have said before I came in, "Now, let's all keep still and see how many of us she recognizes." I stood there sort of bewildered for a little bit, gazed from one to another and finally recognized one here and there, then the laughter and jabber began in full force after the calm, as I walked around the room shaking hands with them. Guess I would have been about sick if I missed out on that as it seemed for a while that forenoon I might not get there. The rain nearly poured on us coming up from San Diego. There was not nearly as large a turnout as would have been if the weather had been better.

Mrs. Rudolph Sorensen told me she could get a much larger gathering of Ord ladies together here than she could back in Ord. They certainly were a jolly bunch and enjoyed each other. Dolly Level was on the serving committee. Her part was to make the dessert. She made a delicious pudding. I will mail you the recipe later for the cook's column. Dolly served it with a brandy sauce. Mamie Siler passed up her dish for a second helping and later when she didn't walk very straight across the room was accused of taking the second helping of pudding just to get more of the flavor of that sauce. I have twenty names of ladies who were there. There were also a few men, J. W. Harbert and Fred Bell, and George Jensen came in for a short visit when he called to take Mrs. Jensen home.

Last Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Nays, Mrs. Vincent and myself went over to Whittier to see the S. H. Martz family. They are all quite well. Fern stays at home, has a job of some kind working with fruit. I think it is sorting oranges. Mildred is married and teaches school. Vernon has a good job in Long Beach. His two children, a boy and girl live with his parents and attend high school. Sometimes I think there are more Ord people out here than there are in Ord and it seems out of the question to name each one. However, we are soon to have the Ord picnic and perhaps someone else will get busy and write an account of that. Mr. Bell told me they would set the date soon as the weather got a little more settled.

The women out here are still worrying about what the smudge from the smudge pots did to their houses when they were trying to keep the fruit from freezing. It really was bad, worse to clean than after a dust storm in Nebraska. It came in around the windows and doors and settled in curtains and over everything. They said children's faces had to be washed so much they got sore. Someone told me you could even see how far the bed covers had come up on their faces when they got up in the morning. I got here just a little too late to see it, glad of it. But I realized a little, how bad it must have been when a lady's beautiful grey Persian cat was pointed out to me. They said that was a sample of how the smudge had settled on everything that the cat's real color was snow white. So cheer up, you Nebraska housekeepers. It might be worse.

The Quiz Camera Visits Ord Stores

A Weekly Feature — The Brown McDonald Co.

Clerks in all departments were busy showing the new styles for spring to prospective customers when the Quiz camera made its appearance at the Brown-McDonald Company Golden Rule store one day recently. In the upper photo is seen Mrs. J. D. Tedro, of the women's ready-to-wear department, showing a spring coat. In the lower photo Don Lashmitt, men's ready-to-wear clerk, exhibits shirts to Judge John L. Andersen. Dwight W. Keyes, manager of the store, says spring business has been unusually good. He is planning some changes in the store, including addition of some new departments and installation of complete air-conditioning equipment so the store will be comfortable for shoppers during the hot summer weather.

Several days ago I was taken to Glendale to see the Forest Lawn Memorial Park. My, it is beautiful, wish I could describe it. In the park are two little churches where weddings and funerals are often held. One called "The Wee Kirk O' the Heather," had the story and pictures of Annie Laurie in colors on the windows and it was very interesting to walk from window to window and read. Each side of the church for several feet high was clear glass and next to this glass was the most beautiful bank of flowers growing and blooming I ever saw. The same idea of flowers is carried out in the other little church which is called "The Church of the Flowers".

At the side of one of these little churches is a beautiful little garden, enclosed with a hedge. One cannot see inside without stepping right up to the gate. About half way down and to one side is a beautiful statue of Jesus with bowed head, besides many other things that make it indeed heavenly. On the gate is a notice, "Do not enter this garden except for prayer." So one of our number said, "Well, why not step inside and have prayer?" So we went in and another one of our party led in prayer.

A funeral was just leaving one church when we got there and they were practicing for a wedding in the other but we had plenty of time to go through both. If I don't quit and get some sleep I won't be ready for the next trip Mr. and Mrs. Nays have planned. I am receiving the Quiz all right now, also got the back numbers. Thank you.

Ord Municipal Code On Motor Vehicles Should Be Heeded

At the present time the city authorities are prosecuting a vigorous campaign for preventing infractions of the traffic laws. For the purpose of acquainting the public with the main provisions of the law this article is being written. Chapter 2 of Ordinance No. 85 of the Municipal code of the city of Ord applies particularly to motor vehicles and the regulations concerning their use.

Speed Provisions.
Sec. 3, applying to speed in general and at intersections, reads as follows:—No person shall drive a vehicle on any street within the City at a speed greater than is reasonable and proper, having regard for the traffic and roadway and the condition of the street, or at a rate of speed greater than twenty (20) miles per hour. At all times the driver or operator of any vehicle operated on any street, alley or public way in said City shall have such vehicle under complete control. Any person operating a vehicle shall slow up on approaching a crossing at street intersections, highways or alleys, or when traversing curves or steep descents, or when making any turn from one street to another so as not to turn such corner or to cross such other street at a greater rate of speed than twelve (12) miles per hour, and shall always have such vehicle under full control. Provided, that the speed limits in this Section shall not apply to physicians, surgeons, police or fire vehicles or ambulances when answering emergency calls demanding excessive speed.

With cross streets every hundred yards and in most cases alleys in between, it is readily seen that a speed of more than twelve miles per hour is literally a violation of the law. However, it is not the intention of the officials to limit vehicles to this speed unless it is found that such speed is necessary to insure safety. In fact, a modern car, traveling at 20 miles per hour seems very slow indeed. There seems to be an impression among some drivers that the city has no jurisdiction over the speed of vehicles on state or federal highways within its limits, but nevertheless it has.

Reckless Driving.
The law states that no vehicle shall be driven, used, operated, parked or stopped in a careless, reckless or negligent manner or in such a manner as to endanger life, limb, person or property. No vehicle shall pass another going in the same direction while traversing any street intersection. Ample warning must be given when backing. No vehicle shall be driven through any funeral or other procession. No intoxicated person, and no person under 16 years of age shall drive a motor vehicle within this City.

Methods of Turning.
No "U" turns shall be made on any of the four corners of the public square. Drivers shall slow down at railway stations, theaters, schools or churches and drive in a cautious manner, always on the right side of the street. No turns shall be made except at street intersections.

Methods of Parking.
The general rules for parking are well enough understood to need no comment. However, no vehicle is to be left parked for a period greater than ten minutes, and then only while the owner is engaged in business that makes it impossible to park. All parking must be done when headed in the direction of traffic.

General Ordinance.
All motor vehicles shall be equipped with two efficient lights in front and at least one behind. Shall not make unnecessary noise. No person shall scatter glass, nails or tacks in the streets. All stop signs must be obeyed. Hand signals must be used when traffic requires it.

in the Ford "60"*

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 engine was first developed for Europe, where fuel costs are high. Two years' usage there proved its unusual economy.

When the "60" came to this country this year, the Ford Motor Company made no mileage claims—waited for facts, written on American roads by American drivers.

Now Ford "60" owners are reporting averages of 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline. That makes it the most economical Ford car ever built!

Best of all, the Ford "60" is just as big and roomy—just as handsome, sturdy and safe—as the famous 85-horsepower Ford V-8. And it sells at the lowest Ford price in years.

If you want a big car for a small budget—a car you can drive with pride and profit—see the thrifty "60" soon!

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

John Ward said the other day that he sometimes did things without thinking and a companion replied, "Well, that is a good thing, as otherwise you would never get anything done."

Mrs. Hall Barnes gave me an hour of real enjoyment last week when she sent me a copy of the Sheridan, Wyo., Press, a 48-page tabloid made up entirely of half-tones of Wyoming scenes with brief printed descriptions. The magazine is a real work of art from the printers' standpoint.

Heard Charley Stichter say that if this nice weather lasted a little longer he was going fishing. Henry Stara was seen digging for fish worms. George Work was studying his fish calendar when I was in his shop the other day and Noble Ralston stands and looks longingly at the river as he dreams of catching the red horse he will soon be catching. Yes, spring is almost here.

In another column will be found a story telling just what the automobile traffic ordinances in Ord say. Drivers will do well to refresh their memories, as there seems to be some misapprehension in the minds of some, as to what the ordinance provides. Better observe the speed limits and watch for the stop signs. When the sign says "stop" it don't mean slow up a little and then slide across. Watching the Legion hall corner for 15 minutes last Friday I saw 11 cars go west to that corner and five of the eleven stopped, four slowed down some and two barged right across, apparently oblivious of the stop sign.

While I do not believe the president should be given power to pack the supreme court, I do think something should be done to stop 5 to 4 decisions. Either a contested matter is right one way or the other and whichever way is right should have at least 7 of the 9 judges thinking that way, in my estimation. I am strongly in favor of the proposed retirement law which would retire the judges at 70 or 75 at the outside. I don't believe one man in a hundred is as good mentally at 70 or 75 as he was at 55 to 65.

Millions of dollars annually are to be given to steel workers under the new agreements being signed between steel manufacturers and workers. Steel stocks make a rapid advance in price when the news of increased pay for the workers was made and the following day the news dispatches said that advances in the price of steel would be made at once. This is important to farmers who had hoped that cheaper machinery might help them some but with steel prices advancing there is no chance for cheaper machinery. Perhaps some day the farmer will get a break.

"For Sale—Highchair. M. R. Cornell," says a for sale notice in the North Loup Loyalist. I have often seen young couples advertising the baby cab for sale too soon and then had them advertise for a baby cab a few months later, but for a young guy like Melvin to get rid of his highchair at this stage of the game is almost like selling one's red flannels in December.

A gentleman with his helpers, is busy making a list of every man in the Ord trade territory for the purpose of establishing a credit rating book. The method used is to give each business man who buys one of the books, a copy of the list and he goes through it and marks the name, "a," "b" or "c" as the case may be, "a" if he is good, prompt pay or don't owe anything, "b" if he is slow and careless, "c" if he owes no good and how business men have marked the list, as will be the case in Ord, a mimeographed copy of the list will be furnished each subscriber to the book. If a name is followed with, say 40 "a's" that man will be entitled to credit. If, on the other hand, a name is followed with a long list of "c's" and he owes numerous accounts, he will be considered no good and when the plan gets to working such men will have hard work to buy anything unless they have the cash. Too many people are careless with their credit. They get credit by promising to pay at a certain time but that time never comes.

I must commend Editor Melvin Cornell for the fine Loyalist that he issued last week. He has greatly improved the paper and if he continues to get the fine advertising support that the paper had last week, North Loup may well be proud of their local paper.

The violent attack which Senator Burke is making on the president's court plan does not increase my objection to the plan a bit for I am sure that Burke is and always has been a friend of the big interests.

Senator Burke predicts that a new political alignment will follow adoption of the president's court plan, indicating that such democrats as himself will be in a different group than the supporters of the plan. I suspect that Burke, the Liberty Leaguers, the stand pat republicans like Hoover, Mills & Co., and their followers will be found in one group and that they will be outnumbered ten to one by the great common people who will go along with the president. Now we will see how my prediction works out. Time alone can tell.

As this is written March 6 we have almost summer weather. With the temperature around 75 or 80 the buds are swelling and will be bursting open in a few more days of this weather comes. I am hoping the weather will catch cold and that we get some rain or snow and more appropriate March weather. If we don't get March weather in March we will probably get it in April or May.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

The city council accepted the suggestion of the Quiz and decided not to have any street lights burning on moonlit nights. In view of later developments the idea sounds comical.

Clark Lamberton came back from California and reported that he saw Sim Morrow and Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMillen, Mrs. Coombs and the Billings women at Fullerton, and that they all looked fine.

The following teachers were re-elected for the Ord schools: Jennie Dexter, Latin; Marie Goodhand mathematics; Roxy Auble, domestic science and music; Lella Moorman, 8th grade; Mrs. Clingman, 7th grade; Olive Conner, 6th grade; Grace Work, 4th grade; Clara McClatchey, combination grade; Ruth Ollis, 3d grade; Ethel Travis, 2d grade.

J. A. Davis, 87, of North Loup, and Josie Verzal, 25, of Geranium, were claimed by death.

M. F. Maynard was in Ord looking for a location for a picture show. He had his eye on the Siler building where Rutar's hatchery is now located. The writer met Mr. Maynard in the VCC camp at Madison, Nebr., 13 months ago.

Well remembered names in the news were Byron Haskell, A. E. Charlton, Stanley F. Dworak, E. M. Cushing, Henry Fales, Clarence Bailey, Will Detweiler, F. M. Davis G. T. Winter, E. J. Babcock, Alva Rockhold and D. B. Huff. All prominent citizens then, but all have left us.

The Quiz came out with a special section named the "Home Circle Magazine Section." It was printed elsewhere, the only home print being on the front page. It somewhat resembled the magazine section in the Sunday World-Herald.

The old Methodist parsonage was to be sold at auction, according to an ad. While nothing is said of a new one, doubtless it was being built.

The Quiz went on record as being in favor of war with Germany, but not in favor of preparedness.

25 Years Ago This Week.
The funeral of the late Peter Mortensen was conducted from the Ord opera house, and was the largest attended funeral ever held in Ord. Hundreds who wished to attend had to stand outside during the services which were conducted by the Presbyterian minister, Rev. P. A. Davies.

The plans for the new Bailey and Detweiler building were drawn and work was about to commence.

The seed corn special, sponsored by the Omaha chamber of commerce, the Burlington railroad and the Nebraska experiment station, visited Ord.

E. M. Williams was elected president of the First National bank, succeeding the late Peter Mortensen.

At the regular meeting of the commercial club a letter from the Farmers Telephone company was read, in which it was stated that a merger with the other company was out of the question.

Senator Norris Brown stated that he favored the direct primary, the income tax, a broad and liberal conservation policy, the ratification of peace treaties, but was opposed to the abuse of the injunction. A good policy to follow today.

F. J. Dworak and Son were advertising "Fish That Never Were Eaten."

Charles Brickner wrote a nice letter from Octavia, Nebr., where he was located at the time, telling about a heavy snow. He quoted corn at 55c, wheat, 91c, and hogs, $5.80.

J. Cass Cornell shipped his household goods and the family was moving to Lincoln, where Cass had an active interest in the affairs of Cooper and Cole company.

Local News

C. M. Davis made a business trip to Omaha Saturday.

Charles Hitchman was in Omaha all last week on business connected with the Federal Land Bank.

Mrs. Katie Marks went down to York the latter part of last week, returning to Ord on the morning bus Monday.

ROCKING THE COUNTRY

By George Gowen

Writing this column is like most other business. It is a feast or a famine. Today is a famine. I have nothing to write, so Dear Uncle Jake and your cohorts, move on over to Hank's side.

Hard on the Dog.
I taxed my brain last week about the dog. And he was disgruntled over that message, for the next day he pulled out and I have not seen him since. Now this is not a free advertisement for him back. You are welcome, thank you.

Rev. Hill said he had a dog he wished I'd write about if that'll drive 'em away. Well, here goes. They have a dandy dog. Soon after Rev. Hill and his family arrived into town, one of his parishioners, a young lad of ten, went to the trouble of donating Rev. Hill and his family a nice pup, and carrying it in six miles from the country.

This is a friendly pup. Delights in jumping on your lap and kisses you. Kisses your hand frequently and your face too if you wish. Makes a business of touching your hand or leg with his wet nose. Yes it is a dandy dog. Is especially hospitable to callers. And smart too. He has a mechanical turn of mind. In order to facilitate entering the porch without troubling to open the door, this dog just made a little hole in the screen. As the dog grew so did the hole.

I always knew we should be thoughtful in contributing to the minister's welfare but I never thought of giving him a dog. I wonder if that was the boy's tithe. One-tenth of his crop. If my dog comes back I am going to be more magnanimous than the boy. I'll take and give to the minister "my all".

Retract a Little.
And carrying the post mortem a little further, I shall have to apologise a little in regard to the strip two weeks ago about the man here stealing a sack of coal.

It happens he took the coal from Johnson's bins in place of the other although I do not think I mentioned any names. And Roy Hudson says he did not file the

Jots in Jest

That Fargo, N. D., sewing machine which was built in 1884 and still runs is probably similar to the one our laundress doesn't use.

Cambridge, Mass., man disputing Cincinnati's claim to having the first bathtub in America, probably claiming it was only a watering trough that floated one spring.

"Men who spend the public money ought to have some experience in the difficulty of making a dollar." And also the agony of making out an income tax return.

Stupid Stella thinks that cotton gin is the kind that makes her mouth taste so furry the next morning.

"Men's clothes will reflect the new philosophy of leisure," says a prominent clothier. There probably will be padded seats for sitdowners complaint because of the coal, but because of his desertion of his family.

More than that, Roy says he has never turned anyone down for fuel yet in cold weather and this very man that stole coal from him had got credit at Johnson's for fuel several times. Roy also says that he has lost very little by selling coal under such circumstances.

And Roy says more yet. He did not file the complaint until the welfare society had interviewed the case and finally decided it was the best and only thing to do. The welfare society has this family now under surveillance and are undecided what to do with it.

But the principle behind the whole affair is worth our sober thought. Of course this man should not steal coal. But why does society allow such families? What rights have the poor to the world's goods? In such cases I am reminded of reading English history. During one of the famines in Ireland when people were starving, speculators were shipping potatoes out of the country.

Random Thoughts.
And the story comes to me indirectly that Mr. Dunmire said there is a law in Kansas City if a person does not vote for six months he has to reinstate himself or he cannot vote again. On one of his absences at engineering work he was gone from home longer than six months so when he returned he thought he could not vote. But the person in charge told him, "Oh yes you can. You voted last time."

Mrs. Rood has been kind enough to give me a little religious paper and also the Writer's Digest that come to her office. The two magazines are of the same size and placing the Sabbath Recorder on top I brought the two home. I sat down and took the Writer's Digest and read it avidly. My wife thought I was more than interested in religion all of a sudden and did not disturb unusual turn of mind. After a while I arose and exclaimed, "It tells in here all about how to write the Sin suffer and repent (Confession) stories." I was quite interested.

She stood aghast. Then she thought I was joking.
I met Dick Karre in Ord the other day. He was a neighbor of mine living over the mountains to the east near Horace. He has rented a place north of Ord somewhere and is delighted with the change. He thinks perhaps he'll get pay in Valley county for shoveling snow and that's more than he could say for Greeley county.

Nevertheless, I was surprised to hear that Dick lost out in Greeley county. When such fellows as Dick lose out with farms like his, heaven help the rest of us. But we shall all be losing in another year if we don't get a crop.

The conditions of the farm buildings over the country is tragic to say the least. I dare say four out of five could take a thousand or more dollars worth of repairs and not know where it was spent. There are a few farms that are in quite good shape. Many of these belong to insurance companies. The Travelers Insurance spend the most on their farms of anyone that I know.

The renters who live on the Insurance Companies farms are not hesitant to ask for repairs either. In one instance there is a barn that many of us would be glad to have, but the renter in place of repairing the doors and windows is asking for a new barn. And I believe he is going to get it too. Now going back to the dog business. I can't drive everyone's dog away by writing a piece in the paper about it. If I do I shall have to have regular advertising rates. For the minister it is a different matter. I might make exceptions to widows and orphans too. And when I say that I am taking in a lot of territory. For those are the people who have lots of dogs.

Something Different

The law is clamping down on speeders in Ord and vicinity, and already beneficial effects are seen. Drivers are religiously observing stop signs that they have blithely passed up for many a day; cars on the highways speed into the city with one eye on the speedometer needle. Ord officers are really forcing the public to take automobile laws seriously, and are to be congratulated on their work.

When some of these one-eyed auto-monsters are shoved off the streets into the garage until they again see double; when we all get so we stop at stop signs automatically, slow down for schools and crossings, don't speed in or out of town, always give precedence to the car at our right when we come to an intersection, and observe a few other good driving rules . . . then the law can relax a bit.

Probably that day will never come . . . they probably save that situation for a special heaven for automobile enforcement officers.

Colds and flu have come, somewhat gone, so now we have spring. I can prove this . . . look at the roller skaters, the marble shooters. Have you seen any hoop-rollers?

Ord stores are showing straw hats again, another sign of spring. Soon it will be time for Ord city to clean up too, put on her spring dress, match the new green of the trees and grass with clean pavements, bright windows, a lack of garbage piles.

Ord will especially have to show a shining face this year, for with newcomers among us, new businesses rumored "about to start" here every day, we must make a good appearance, impress the world favorably. It is considerably more important to us to put our best foot forward this year, than it was last.

Rumor now says the Great Western Sugar company wants to put a plant in Ord, with the coming of irrigation and sure crops.

More than one sugar beet factory is likely to locate here, if the first refinery decides to do so. Such crops are said to grow better here than almost any place in Nebraska, each North Loup valley grown beet having greater sugar content than beets grown elsewhere, their experts declare.

The color of Ord would change in more ways than one. With the bustle of added business would come an influx of, likely, Russians, Mexicans, whatnot, at least these peoples usually follow this crop.

The smell of Ord would also change—for the worse. A sugar beet factory seems to find it necessary to create an unpleasant odor in the course of the refining. The appearance of the landscape would certainly change, for the better. Where sugar beets are grown by many farmers for such a company, the farmers learn to do a much better job of farming. They are forced to do this by the contracts for their beets. The refinery people at Scottsbluff inspect the fields of the farmers who have beets contracted to them several times in the course of a summer. When the inspectors approve a field for planting, it is beautiful, for clods are about the size of a marble, and the field looks as though it had been sifted into place. And leveled off with stakes and a string.

This is surely a year of goofy hats. They are fantastic, mad, perky, very full of unexpectedness. Vogue, the fashion magazine, says the hats should look amusing, but should not make the wearer look funny.

The best remark about them I have seen, I believe was in a recent World-Herald. That great newspaper stated that not for years had there been such good hats shown for women to have pictures taken in . . . the pictures to go in the family album and add to the general joy of those who view them.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Dates may be expensive but they transform an ordinary cake, cookie, salad or dessert into something that is much richer, more delicious, pertified. Available in Ord groceries a goodly share of the year, they are packed with nourishment, better than candy for the children, a good substitute for candy. Try them in apple salad, they do wonders for it.

Date Gems.
Sift together two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, three-fourths cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt. Beat in two eggs, three-fourths cup milk, four tablespoons melted shortening, one teaspoon almond extract, one teaspoon vanilla. Lastly put in one cup dates chopped, and one-third cup nuts cut fine. Pour in gem pans and bake in a quick oven. Without a name, this recipe cannot be credited. I think it came from Mrs. Walkemeyer.

Date Pudding.
Put one cup sugar, three tablespoons shortening, one cup chopped dates, one teaspoon soda, pour over it one cup boiling water and let stand. Mix one and one-half cups flour, salt to taste, one-half cup chopped nuts and add, when the first mixture cools. Bake in a shallow pan.

Mrs. Bert Mallory.

Date Pudding.
Sift one teaspoon soda over two cups chopped dates, add one cup boiling water, mix and let cool. Mix one cup sugar with one and one-half tablespoons butter or substitute, add one beaten egg, one and one-half cups flour, into which has been sifted one rounding teaspoon baking powder, one-half teaspoon salt. Combine with date mixture, add one-fourth cup chopped nuts. Pour in a well greased long baking pan, bake in a moderate oven for thirty minutes. For the second mixture, combine one cup sugar, one cup dates, one-fourth cup nut meats, one teaspoon cornstarch and one cup boiling water. Cook until smooth, keep hot and pour over the cake as soon as it comes from the oven. Serve with or without whipped cream. Serves twelve. Raisins may be substituted for half the dates.

Mrs. Ben Eberhart.
Gypsy Brown Burrs.
Run equal amounts of dates, nuts and coconut through a food chopper. Add lemon or orange juice to moisten, then knead the fruit paste. Shape into little balls. They may be rolled in toasted coconut.

A Prayer for His Disciples

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 14.
Text: John 16:5-7; 17:14-26.

THE words of Jesus to Peter at the Last Supper, "Simon, Simon, behold, Satan hath desired to have you, that he may sift you as wheat; but I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fall not," are recalled by this lesson on Jesus praying for His disciples. This was virtually the prayer of Jesus for His disciples that their faith should not fail, and that they should be equal to the burdens and responsibilities that they had accepted in becoming His disciples.

The love of Jesus for His disciples and His deep concern for them, was, if anything, intensified by His realization that some would leave them. He knew they would miss His supporting presence, and the inspiration of His own example of faith and courage.

Consequently He assured them that He would send them the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, whose presence would sustain them and who would bring to them all that His own early living presence had meant.

IN the presence of some, at least, who remembered and recorded His words, He prayed to the Father for the disciples, whom He was leaving. He realized that they would be in a hostile world where men would hate them. Yet His prayer was not that they would be taken from the world, but that in this world of evil, they should be kept from evil. His earnest yearning was that they should be sanctified in the truth; Jesus

Stewed Date Pudding.
Mix one and one-half pounds of cleaned and cut dates with two cups chopped walnuts, two cups bread crumbs, two cups sugar, one teaspoon baking powder, four beaten eggs. Steam one hour.

Mrs. Bill Schauer.
Next week we would like to print a column of Easter and Lenten dishes. Do you have one to recommend? Remember, these are real problems to many cooks. Let's help them.

And it is time for rhubarb recipes. Have you any, please? How do you make conserve, jelly, pie, sauce, how do you can rhubarb in your kitchen? May we have your recipe, please?

Ollis Finds Old Song Manuscript, "Hero Of Manila"

When the Will Ollis family moved recently from Springdale to the Brox place across the river, Will ran across the manuscript of an old song which was very much the rage some 39 years ago, but which the present generation never heard of. The title is "The Hero of Manila" and it is an eulogy of Admiral George Dewey.

The words of the song were written by O. L. Plants, and the music by W. W. Abbott. On the front page is a shield displaying the stars and stripes with a picture of the Admiral in a circular inset. The song was used as an advertising medium by a number of Ord's merchants of that day. At the top of the front page is the ad of L. E. Ballard's Cash Store, who said he sold staple and fancy groceries, confectionery, fruits and cigars.

At the bottom of the same page is the ad of E. L. (Elmer) Gard Ord's popular jeweler, who sold popular music, handled watches and jewelry and fitted glasses. At the top of the second page is the pertinent query, "Hi, do you wear Milford Shoes?" This has a comic illustration. At the bottom is the ad of Eret's Barber Shop, with the statement that "Cleanliness Is Next to Godliness."

Down through the center between the second and third pages is the ad of the fashionable merchant tailor, Jos. Cernik, illustrated with cuts which are now hopelessly out of style, of course. J. B. Kroetch, dealer in lumber and coal has his ad at the top of page three, while H. G. Westberg advertises his photo gallery at the bottom of the same page. Mr. Westberg is still with us, now living at North Loup.

The entire back page is given over to the ad of the Patty Drug company, with F. Edward Bax as manager. I doubt if ten people now living in Ord can remember him. They ask all to remember that they are leaders in the drug line. They advertise Heath and Milligan's Mixed Paints, wall paper, brushes, combs, toilet requisites Hilpert's Perfumes, writing tablets and school supplies, cameras and photo supplies, window glass Pratt's Food, prescriptions and patent medicines.

Only 39 years since the song was copyrighted, but if you don't think the world moves, look over the list of names above. Mr. Westberg is the only advertiser in the list that we know to be still alive, and he has not been in business here for many years. The late James Milford was the last of the list to go, but that has been a number of years since. In fact, any man who can continue for twenty years in the same town and in the same business can qualify as a pioneer.

BURWELL NEWS

John Janicek.
John Janicek was born in Dlouhi, Czechoslovakia, June 8, 1855 and passed away in his home 8 miles southwest of Burwell, Nebraska, March 8, 1937 at the age of 81 years and 9 months. In 1892 he came to America and worked on a farm 12 miles south of Burwell, Nebr. Later he settled on a homestead southwest of Burwell in Custer county. Seven years later he moved on a farm in Valley county. For several years he lived in a sod house on land that is near the present farm house.

On April 9, 1913 he was united in marriage to Mary Bural. To this union one son, John, was born.

Mr. Janicek was always a good neighbor, was kind and thoughtful of others. He will be greatly missed by his many friends and relatives.

Those who are left to mourn his loss are his wife and son, 2 brothers, Anton Janicek of Burwell, Nebr., and Joe Janicek of Omaha, Nebr., and one sister, Mrs. Joe Miner of Sargent, Nebr. One sister and two brothers preceded him in death.

Funeral services were held in the Jungman Hall southwest of Burwell, Wednesday, March 10 at 1 o'clock p. m. Rev. W. L. Goodell was in charge. Interment took place in the Lutheran cemetery.

The Burwell high school declamatory contest will be held in the Electric Theatre building Monday and Tuesday, March 15 and 16. Seven students have entered in the dramatic division, five in the humorous, six in the oratorical and three in original oration. A one-act play will be given, entitled "Which is the Way to Boston."

Miss Madge Bartholomew of Ericson underwent a major operation in the Cram Hospital Monday, March 8.

The Wranglers' Club met Monday evening, March 8 in the Hallock Hotel for their regular meeting. The program was in charge of Orville Norland. Rev. J. Bruce Wylie gave a very interesting talk on his recent trip to Hot Springs, Ark.

A farewell party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Brewer Sunday in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Eldon Smith. Mr. Brewer, who is employed by the Burlington, will be transferred from Burwell but does not know at the present time just where they will locate. Refreshments of ice cream and cake were enjoyed by all.

The Junior Ladies Aid of the Methodist church met with Mrs. Lloyd Carricker Wednesday afternoon for their regular meeting. The hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mrs. R. C. Lewis of Taylor returned to her home Sunday after recovering from an attack of the flu at the Cram Hospital.

Sheriff R. E. Johnson made a business trip to Hastings, Fairfield and Gibbon, returning to Burwell Monday evening. Two arrests were made. Jim Kirkendall of Burwell and Wesley Fish of Gibbon were placed in the county jail to await trial.

Three births have been reported at the Cram hospital. A 7 lb. daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Pishna of Burwell Saturday March 6. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Orval Conner on Friday, March 5 and a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Sprague on Tuesday, March 2.

The Misses Rosamond and Zelma Hemmett of Ogallala, Nebr. were guests in the home of their uncle, W. G. Hemmett for several days. They returned to their home Tuesday. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hemmett who were in business in Burwell until 8 years ago and are well known in this community.

The Burwell fire department has answered two calls in the past week. On Friday afternoon a garage and shed on the Wicks property, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Don Cain, caught fire as the result of trash burning near the buildings. Sunday afternoon a small building at the back of Carl Grunkemeyer's house caught fire and had gained considerable headway before the alarm was turned in. Although the firemen worked hard to save the building, it was impossible as a strong wind was blowing. The firemen did splendid work in keeping the fire from spreading to surrounding buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. Pay Livermore and family drove to Sargent Sunday to visit relatives.

Prof. and Mrs. Geo. West were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Button.

"My Dear, you're so light on your feet, I hardly know you're with me"

Paul Brewer and Dolphus Manrose were week end visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Brewer. Both young men are students in the state university at Lincoln, Nebr.

Stanley Penas left this week by auto for San Jose, Calif., where he has employment. He expects later to go to Oregon.

Joseph Price, a rancher for a number of years in this locality, passed away at his ranch 17 miles north of Burwell Monday, March 8. The funeral service was held at the home Wednesday afternoon, March 10, at 2 o'clock. Interment took place in the Burwell cemetery. Rev. J. Bruce Wylie officiated.

The New Century club met with Mrs. J. R. VanWagenen on Wednesday afternoon, March 3. Seventeen members were present. Mrs. Jessie Anderson and Mrs. Leona Kern had charge of the lesson on the subject, "Shortening the Working Hours." Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. Floyd Johnson was pleasantly surprised Sunday, March 7, by 26 of her relatives who went to her country home west of town to help celebrate her birthday. A covered dish dinner was served at noon. After a very pleasant afternoon together the visitors departed, wishing Mrs. Johnson many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dvorak and grandson Bobbie Joe, of Ord were in Burwell Wednesday, March 3, visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Johnson.

The Noble and Vice Grand of the I. O. O. F. Lodge No. 315 sponsored an oyster supper Tuesday evening, March 9 in the lodge hall. A campaign for larger attendance at the regular meetings is being held.

D. J. Errington has purchased one of the houses owned by W. E. Rice in the northwest part of town. They expect to move there in a short time. The house is occupied at the present time by the Henry Davis family.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid met Thursday afternoon, March 4, at the home of Mrs. E. Brohm. After the business meeting refreshments were served.

Twenty-four members of the Eastern Star enjoyed a 12 o'clock luncheon in the Hallock Hotel Tuesday, March 3. Mrs. Mary E. Finch of Alliance who is the District Supervisor was an honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Struve visited relatives in Deshler, Nebr., over the week end. They were accompanied by Miss Lenore Apking who visited her parents in Bruning.

Mrs. Bud Schuyler entertained a number of little guests and their mothers Thursday afternoon, March 4 in honor of her son Robert who celebrated his first birthday that day. At the close of a pleasant afternoon refreshments were served.

The members of the P. E. O. held their regular meeting Monday, March 1. Officers for the new year were elected as follows: President, Mrs. L. B. Fenner; vice president, Mrs. Geo. Tunnelcliff; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Clyde Hagenrit; corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. M. Rutt; treasurer, Mrs. Francis Thomas; guard, Mrs. A. L. Cram and Chaplain, Mrs. R. W. Wood.

Dr. and Mrs. R. B. Wood were guests in the home of relatives in Sargent, Sunday, March 7.

A new piece of valuable equipment which has been added to the Burwell high school is an all electric A. B. Dick Mimeograph. This will not only help in the publication of the Spotlight but will also be a valuable asset to the school equipment.

The G. A. A. girls of the high school, with their sponsors, Miss Nadine Andrews and Miss Cleo Nelson enjoyed a party at the home of Miss Sarah Livermore Monday evening, March 1. Thirteen members were present. A contest was recently held and the losing side entertained the winners with games during the evening. Refreshments were served.

Harold Treptow of Burwell was a passenger on the morning bus Monday. He was bound for the University hospital in Omaha, where he will undergo an examination of his right leg, which he had broken a year and a half ago, and which has never healed as it should. He is still wearing a brace on the limb.

A FRIEND in NEED

If fire or sickness should strike your home what would you do without a telephone? It's your only hope in emergencies. The telephone brings pleasure and convenience, but it's not a "fair-weather" friend—it stands by when you need help. For your family's sake you NEED a telephone.

What this engine means to you!

YOU'D never dream that fast freight service meant greater saving or newer styles, would you? That it really affected your home or pocketbook? Or that Union Pacific's gigantic "Challenger" freight locomotives saved you money?

Yes, that's what fast freight service means to you, and this is why it happened:

We wanted to offer the American shipper faster, more precise freight service, the kind you expect from crack passenger flyers.

We started out by buying fifty high-speed modern locomotives for main line service in 1928. Then we spent long months of experiment to set even higher standards. The result—a new type of super-powerful freight locomotive, the "Challenger," designed to handle heavy train loads at a speed of sixty miles an hour. Fifteen of these huge leviathans are now in service. Twenty-five more are being built.

These great "Challengers" enable us to maintain a speed which is 55% greater than it was in 1928 and reduced the time between Council Bluffs and Ogden—the great transcontinental speedway—to less than half of the former running time.

But more than that (and this is where you come in), fast schedules mean reduced inventories, lower stocks and replacements for stores and shops... enable shopkeepers to pass along this saving to you, in lower prices, because quick turnovers cut down costs and losses.

So today, when you do your shopping, buy a new suit or gown straight from a New York fashion designer, or even a tin of beans... your pocketbook will tell you the happy results of Union Pacific's policy of constantly planning for the future. Union Pacific always looks ahead!

Basketball Team Are Guests of Rotary Club
Coach Helmut Brockman, Assistant Coach Frank Lee, ten members of the Ord high school basketball team and their student manager, Horace Johnson, were guests of Dr. F. A. Barta at a dinner held in connection with the Rotary club's regular dinner Monday evening. The team had been promised a dinner by Dr. Barta on condition that they won the Loup Valley conference championship which they did. They also won the Mid-Six conference crown. The Ord cagers were defeated only twice during the season, both times by non-conference foes. Ord Rotarians were happy to entertain them Monday evening.

A program feature was tap dancing by Carolyn and Irene Auble, Beverly Davis and Mary Louise Miller. These girls have been studying tap dancing only since last fall and this was their second public appearance but they gave a very creditable performance which was heartily enjoyed by Rotarians and their guests.

K. Q. Club Meets.

Miss Dorothy Paulin New Director NERA

Mrs. Dena Lewis was advised of her appointment as Director of NERA Representative of Thurston county and will headquarter at Pender, Neb. She was granted a leave of absence and left Thursday morning to take up her new duties immediately.

Like in Valley county, the Thurston county office is a unified one, the Central Application Bureau, Distribution of Commodities, Certification of Labor to WPA, Old Age Assistance, Blind Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children, and Crippled Children's Services all being centralized in one department and under one director.

Mrs. Lewis has been employed in the Department of Assistance in Valley county since September 1934, and the past year had had complete charge of the Aid to Dependent Children, and Crippled Children's program in the county. She is very well qualified for the new position which is a promotion in recognition of her ability and loyalty to her profession.

The vacancy left by Mrs. Dorothy Paulin, who comes well recommended as a social welfare worker. She will assist with casework, and have charge of Aid to Dependent children and Crippled Children's program in this county.

The vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Zola Stara will not be filled at this time, according to a statement issued by Frank Kruml, County Assistance Director.

Married by Co. Judge.
Edward Bruna and Miss Ila Mae LeMasters, both of Belgrade, were united in marriage Saturday by County Judge John L. Andersen at his office.

Golden Wedding For Mr. and Mrs. A. Fuss
Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss of Grand Island celebrated their golden wedding at their home, 107 West 12 St., Sunday. Recognition was given the event at the Trinity Evangelical Lutheran church in the morning services, a reception following at the Trinity Lutheran school at 13 and Locust streets. The ladies Aid, of which Mrs. Fuss is a member, had placed a bouquet of potted tulips at the church, and friends and relatives placed bouquets of Easter lilies, roses and carnations.

Following the service a three-course dinner was served in the basement of the school building under the auspices of Mesdames Martin Brase, Ernest Buchfink and Carl Scheffel. A total of 116 guests were registered. Following the dinner an impressive fitting wedding anniversary service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Albert J. C. Moeller, followed by an address. A luncheon was served at 5:30 o'clock, after which the guests departed for their homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuss were married March 8, 1887, at York. They resided in York until 1894 when they moved to Mira Valley, where they lived until 1928. Nine children were born to them, six of whom are living. Two children passed away in infancy, and a son Louis, died about two months ago in Ord. The living children include William, Walter and Martin, all of Ord; Mary, Mrs. Adolph Hellwege, and Elfrida, Mrs. Walter Foth, both of Ord, and Hertha, Mrs. Walter Blum of York.

In attendance at the celebration were, from Ord: Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss and family; Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss and family; Mrs. Louise Fuss and family; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fuss and family; Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Hellwege and family; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foth and family; Martin Fuss; Mr. and Mrs. Ray Harding; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Bredthauer and family; Alfred Bangart; and Mr. and Mrs. Emil Foth. From York: Mr. and Mrs. Walter Blum; Mr. and Mrs. Reinard Fuss; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Blum and family; Mr. and Mrs. Gust Blum and family; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Fuss and son; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Fuss and family; Mr. and Mrs. Loyde Morgan; Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blum and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Heyden and family, of Waco; Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Sohrweid of Sumner; Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bredthauer, Scotia; Mr. and Mrs. George Colliprest of Lexington. From Grand Island: Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bredthauer; Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bredthauer and family; Rev. and Mrs. A. J. C. Moeller and family; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Brase; Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Buchfink and family; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Scheffel and family; Mrs. Rudolph Siebert; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hendershot; Prof. and Mrs. Otto Becker and daughter; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Quandt and family.

Say Artichokes Are Valuable For Feed

L. J. Auble, agent locally for the United Artichoke Company, has been collecting information recently on the value of artichokes—both tops and tubers—as a feed for milk cows and other livestock. A letter received by him this week from a prominent grower and feeder at Guernsey, Wyo., says, in part:

"We fed one pound of artichokes to produce one pound of milk in our dairy business. As milk flow was increased one-third more than with our former feeding the artichokes were increased one-third more also. Too many beet or beet tops dry up the cows where artichoke feeding increases milk and does not harm them in any way. They improve the cow's looks also, making their hair more glossy."

"We also fed brood sows artichokes. They produced better pigs and made fatter swine than when we fed beets, beet tops and grain feeding."

"Feed being very high on account of shortage we also fed artichokes to horses. We fed no grain, so as to give artichokes a good trial. The horses worked as well and looked as well as with the grain feeding."

"In my opinion artichokes is one of the best feeds for livestock."

Another letter from George Duval, of Arapahoe, says:

"We put in 25 acres down on the Republican near Holbrook and with no rain from June until August and no irrigation our artichokes went 400 bushels to the acre, besides which we cut 100 tons of tops for feed, cutting them 18 inches from the ground. Cut your tops after it freezes and run them through a Letz mill. We think as much of a ton of that feed as a ton of alfalfa and all stock will eat it and get fat. I will say this, that so far artichokes are the greatest feed crop and drouth resistant crop known today."

The Cold Storage LOCKER SYSTEM And It's Economy

By this I mean that it is an economical luxury for thrifty people. This storage has sprung up in hard times and not in good times, as Individual Locker Storage actually reduces living costs. While most modern improvements and luxuries have added to cost of living, the cold storage locker enables the customer to live better by giving him better quality and by saving nearly one-half of his annual meat bill.

United States Government statistics show the annual consumption of meat per capita is about 166 pounds. However, it can be safely assumed the locker users will be above the general average, so that the annual consumption can be figured at a little over 200 pounds. The average family of four will therefore use at least 800 pounds of meat per year. In June, 1936, the average price of beef cattle through the middle west was about 7½c per pound. Allowing 58%, which is the usual dressing weight, percentage on beves, the equivalent dressed meat price was 12½c per pound. Variation in market price will still maintain the same proportions. A family of four would be able to realize a saving on the annual meat bill as follows:

800 lbs. at 12½c.....	$100.00
Butchering and Processing.....	6.00
Annual Locker Rent.....	9.00
Annual Saving.....	97.00

Don't be confused that the writer is accusing the local butcher of charging you too much for meat at the retail price, as I do know that in most cases he is not charging enough to realize the returns on his investment, his help's salary and the general overhead, to derive any profits.

This kind of Cold Storage should and I believe it will work hand in hand with the Local meat markets for better Service in this community.

Opening dates for the Locker System will be announced later in this column.

A large crowd attended the Literary program given at the Pleasant Valley school house Friday evening. Those taking part are to be highly commended for their diligent work and talent. There will be another program March 19. Everybody is invited.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

The expense of feeding chicks can usually be reduced by mixing growing mash at home. The present high cost of grain, coupled with low poultry prices, makes it imperative that poultrymen cut expenses down to rock bottom.

Commercial mashers are selling at around three and one-half cents per pound. Ingredients for the following chick mash can be purchased on the market for an average cost of two and one-third cents:

Yellow cornmeal.....4 parts
Shorts.....2 parts
Brant.....2 parts
Meat and bone meal.....1 part

A hundred pounds of the above mash can be made for $2.30, or about a third less than the ready-mixed product. This formula gives excellent results when supplemented with some green feed.

Meat and bone meal is the most costly ingredient in the above mixture, costing $3.25 per hundred pounds. Cornmeal is worth $2.55. Shorts come at $2.00 and bran sells for $1.75.

There are many other formulas for home-mixed chick mashes. Some are better than the one given, but also more complicated, or perhaps costlier. Most any of them can be made at home, however, at a saving over the factory product.

Obituary

ALLEN F. LENZ.

Allen Frederick Lenz, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Lenz, was born Jan. 22, 1937 and was taken home to God in the early morning on Feb. 27, being but five weeks and one day old. His sudden leavetaking finds hearts broken and lonesome. Funeral services for the little one were held from the Mira Valley Evangelical church, in charge of Rev. C. E. Nichols, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

EMMA CAROLINE GREGG.

Emma Caroline Larson was born in Platte county near Genoa, Jan. 13, 1884. On April 6, 1904 she was united in marriage to William B. Gregg. To this union were born five children: Mrs. Frances Delahoyde of Genoa, Oakley K. of Naples, Idaho, a Paul A. and Russell B. of Genoa. A daughter, Charlotte, preceding her in death in 1918. Mr. Gregg passed away June 8, 1933. Besides her children she is survived by a grandson, Thomas Gregg Delahoyde, five brothers and four sisters and a host of relatives and friends.

She passed away Sunday, Feb. 28, at Genoa. Funeral services were held Thursday, Rev. W. H. Clem, pastor of the Congregation at church of Genoa officiating. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery. Mrs. Gregg had been in failing health for the last six months, and made her home with her daughter, Mrs. R. V. Delahoyde in Genoa.

Among those who accompanied the body to Ord were her brother, Oscar Larson and family, son and wife, of Genoa; Frank Larson of St. Paul; York, Wallace and Arctur Larson, of Genoa; sisters, Mrs. Nels Skoog, of Genoa; Mr. and Mrs. Howard Christmen of Platte Co., near Genoa; Mrs. Hoesak of Denver; and uncle, Ben Pearson and wife, of Genoa; Rev. W. H. Clem; and Mr. and Mrs. Delahoyde and three sons, of Genoa. Six nephews, all young men, acted as pall-bearers.

The Greggs lived for many years in the eastern part of Noble township, later moving to a ranch in Dry Cedar precinct in Garfield county. Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Gregg moved to Genoa. She was well known in Ord and in the neighborhoods where she lived, and her passing is a matter of keen regret to all who knew her.

ROSEBUD NEWS.

We see that Easter is just around the corner. The little folks have been making rabbits, Dutch windmills and Dutch boys and girls.

For art we made window decorations of Dutch boys and girls. Although we have lost one pupil, we have also gained another. Little Oscar Burt is starting to find out what school is like.

We have a new game for first grade reading. We call it "March Winds". We have spaces marked on one side of the blackboard. Each one has a kite and every time one misses a word in reading the kite goes down a space. We have a lot of fun seeing whose kite flies the higher.

We held our third 4-H club meeting Friday. We discussed food habits and digestion. We also enjoyed the story, "How Joe's Lunch Disappeared." Grace Lee visited us and we were weighed again. We have had a change in officers. Our secretary moved away so Donald Gould was chosen president and Nadine Urban took the office of secretary.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Urban, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Viner were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Stone.

Alice Burt spent the week end with Mary Plock.

Will Urban was an Ord visitor this week.

Miss Ila Ackles was an overnight guest at the Mike Johns home Tuesday evening.

The checker tournament last Tuesday evening at the McGrew Shoe Shop was not as well attended as usual, but those present had an enjoyable time. The scores: H. Poth, 135; C. McGrew, 130; E. Burrows, 75; W. Bell, 70; F. Clark, 15; E. Petty, 15.

CHECK THE SIZE when Making Comparisons

Readers of food ads frequently see the numbers 20-30, 50-60 and 90-100 used in connection with prunes. These numbers describe the sizes of the prunes that are advertised. Size 20-30 means that there are from 20 to 30 prunes to the pound; size 50-60 indicates from 50 to 60 prunes to the pound; and so on, with the other sizes.

The less the number of prunes to the pound the larger the prunes will be. The large prunes are somewhat higher priced, because they have more prune meat than those of the small size.

When you are buying prunes, be sure to find out the size that is offered for sale. This information will help you to make an accurate price comparison.

Proceedings of the County Board

March 2, 1937, at 10:00 A. M. Meeting called to order by Chairman with all supervisors present upon roll call.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

Various insurance agents appeared before meeting relative to renewal of the County Workmen's Compensation and Public Liability Insurance expiring March 5, 1937, presenting their propositions to Board, after which it was moved, that said insurance be renewed in the Anchor Casualty Company, of St. Paul, Minn.

It being 11:00 o'clock A. M., time set for opening truck bids and proposals, and bids of International Harvester Company, Ord Auto Sales Company and Richtmyer & Butler, being on file were, opened, read and tabulated, and upon motion duly carried, same were ordered placed on file.

Being noon, meeting recessed until 1:00 P. M., at which time again called to order with all members present.

The matter of trucks was again taken up and after due consideration, ballot prepared to determine preference, vote stood, one favoring International and six favoring Chevrolet.

It was then moved that County purchase one 1 1/2 ton Chevrolet truck, equipped in accordance with specifications in bid and proposal, equipped with U. S. tires, for the County Bridge Department, for the price bid, to-wit: $972.40, less trade-in allowance of $175.00 for the old 1931 Model A-2 International 1 1/2 ton truck, or a net of $797.40, payable in August 1937 by County Bridge Fund warrant on 1937 levy. Motion duly seconded and carried.

Bank balances as of February 28, 1937, read as follows: First National Bank—Arcadia, $9,001.91; Nebraska State Bank—Ord, $25,340.40; Arcadia State Bank, $14,916.93.

It was moved that County Treasurer be directed to file proper claims against the estates of the following recipients of Old Age Assistance, for the following amounts, to-wit: Eva L. Kizer, deceased for $71.00, and William Henry Bratt, deceased for $92.00, for benefits received, in accordance with provisions of Section 12, of House Roll No. 17, passed by 1935 State Legislature. Motion seconded and carried.

Supervisor Bremer then introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption.

WHEREAS, The Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District proposed to construct canals in Valley county, requiring the construction of bridges and siphons at the intersection of said canals with roads and highways within the county, and

WHEREAS, said District has submitted to the Board of Supervisors of Valley county a list of bridges that will be required, which bridges will be constructed in accordance with drawings submitted and in all respects to comply with the specifications provided by law for bridges as to carrying capacity, width, material, and all other provisions provided by law and said bridges will be maintained by the District as provided by law, and

WHEREAS, On account of the construction of said canals it may be advantageous to reroute and change the location of certain parts of existing roads or highways. Such relocations and constructions of said roads shall be mutually agreed upon by the District and the Board of Supervisors of Valley county.

THEREFORE, Be it resolved by the Board of Supervisors of Valley county, Nebraska, that the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District be and, hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain such bridges as may be necessary in accordance with the above description and drawings submitted to this board which are hereby approved, which drawings are to comply with the provisions of the statute as to material, capacity and dimensions; and they are further authorized to negotiate the relocation of such parts of any highways and to construct any necessary siphons under any roads or highways in said county at the expense of the District and without liability of any nature to said county.

Dated this 2nd day of March, 1937.

Motion to adopt was seconded by Zikmund. Upon roll call, all voted "aye" and resolution was declared duly adopted.

The matter of hiring County Highway Maintainers out to townships during times when same can be spared off of county highways, then came on for discussion after which it was moved by Suchanek that County Highway Maintainers, during such spare times, be hired out to townships for maintenance of township roads, at a price and upon terms and conditions agreeable to both county and township. Motion seconded and unanimously carried.

A delegation from Michigan township then presented and filed a petition signed by Charles E. Veleba, et al, asking that boundaries of Road District No. 20, be altered said district divided into two districts, and a new district thereby created, in accordance with provisions of Section 39-601 of 1929 Compiled statutes, and after hearing arguments in support of said petition, supervisor Zikmund introduced the following Resolution, to-wit:

WHEREAS Section 39-601 of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, provides manner in which the County Board shall divide the county into as many road districts as may be necessary, and alter the boundaries thereof as may seem necessary and proper; and

others, being residents and free holders of Michigan township and within or immediately adjacent to the west one-half of Township Road District No. 20, was filed in the office of the County Clerk and is now before this board, asking under the provisions of law that said Road District No. 20, be divided into two equal sized districts, and that Sections 21, 20, 19, 30, 29, 28, 31, 32 and 33 in said township, be created, established and designated as a separate Road District, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED by this Board in regular session assembled that the boundaries of said Road District No. 20, be so altered as to set-off the above numbered sections 21, 20, 19, 30, 29, 28, 31, 32 and 33, as a separate district and new Road District to be designated and hereafter known as Road District No. 35, it being deemed for public good and desirable, and that this Board of Supervisors appoint a Road Overseer for said new District so created, as is provided by law.

Motion to adopt was seconded by supervisor Ball, and upon roll call, all supervisors voted "yes" and motion was declared unanimously and said resolution duly adopted.

Moved by Ball, and seconded by Zikmund that F. M. Vodehnal, be appointed Road Overseer for the newly created Road District No. 35, in Michigan township. Motion unanimously carried.

Report of Kruml, County Assistance Director, showing summary of work performed, rate of number of cases in various district by population of district in county. Amount of funds spent under provisions of law relating to Old Age Assistance and Aid to Children, in the various communities, and the average amount of grants, and comparison made to show relation to county average, and state average, and upon motion duly carried, same was ordered filed for reference.

The matter of the use of the County District Court Room came on for discussion after which it was moved by Zikmund that the District Court Room, (in addition to court purposes,) hereafter shall be allowed to be used for gatherings or functions of strictly County Governmental nature only. Motion seconded by Bremer, and upon roll call, supervisors voted as follows—Jablonski, yes; Suchanek, yes; Bremer, yes; Zikmund, yes; Ball, no; Barber, no; Hansen, yes. Motion carried.

County Court Order vacating and revoking Mothers' Pension order in favor of Mrs. Caroline Catlin, was formally approved upon motion duly carried, such revocation being effective February 2, 1937.

County Court Orders granting Mothers' Pensions of $10.00 per month to Mrs. Almee Carmody, of Arcadia, and $20.00 per month to Mrs. Ella Marie Rasmussen, of Ord, for six months from Feb. 9, 1937, were both formally approved upon motion duly carried.

County Court Order reducing Mothers' Pension to Mrs. Anna M. Parkos, to $10.00 per month effective March 9, 1937, was formally approved upon motion duly carried.

The following official bonds bearing the endorsement of Committee on Bonds were presented and upon motion duly carried, same were approved.

Delbert Holmes, Road Overseer; Walter Dobson, Township Assessor; Edgar Pocock, Road Overseer; H. H. Hohn, Township Assessor; F. M. Vodehnal, Road Overseer.

After lengthy discussion of matter of support of Mrs. Emily Furtak, and children, supervisor Ball introduced the following resolution and moved its adoption to-wit:

Whereas, Emily Furtak, and her minor children, Bobby Joe Furtak, Edward Leonard Furtak and Carol Lee Joyce Furtak, are unable to earn a livelihood in consequence of an unavoidable cause, and

Whereas, Mrs. Tillie Beranek, of Sargent, Custer county, Nebraska, mother of said Emily Furtak, and grandmother of said minors, is the proper person and is of sufficient ability and able to support the said Emily Furtak and said minors, Now therefore be it resolved and the said Mrs. Tillie Beranek is hereby directed to support the said Emily Furtak, Carol Lee Joyce Furtak, Bobby Joe Furtak, Edward Leonard Furtak, having legal settlement in Valley county, Nebraska and the said Mrs. Tillie Beranek, on her failure or refusal so to do, shall forfeit and pay to this, the County Board Supervisors of Valley county, Nebraska, for the use of the poor of said county, the sum of $10.00 per week for each and every week aforesaid to be recovered in the name of such county board for the use of the poor of said county, before a justice of the peace or any other court having jurisdiction. A certified copy of this resolution and order shall be served on the said Mrs. Tillie Beranek, by the sheriff of the county in which she shall be found.

Motion to adopt was seconded by Jablonski, and upon roll call, all supervisors voting "yes" the motion was declared unanimously carried and said resolution adopted.

PRICE RAISE

Coming on Automobiles

This price raise hasn't been announced officially yet by the major motor companies but salesmen and others tell us it will go into effect within 30 days. Increases in steel prices as result of new wage scales for labor is the cause.

If you plan to buy a new car soon DON'T DELAY A SINGLE DAY. On our floor you will find a complete stock of 1937 PLYMOUTHs representing almost every body model and color combination. If you buy off the floor NOW you can still get the advantage of present prices. Right now the Chrysler Corporation will not permit us to accept a factory order except SUBJECT TO PRICE IN EFFECT ON DAY OF DELIVERY. But you can still buy a new Plymouth or Chrysler at the present low price if you buy one of these new models off our floor. They were shipped to Ord by railroad and have never been driven.

Used Cars Going Up Too

Whenever the price of new cars advances used car prices will go up in sympathy, so now is the time to select a used car if you are going to be in the market for one. We have the largest stock of used cars, all makes and models, all reconditioned and ready for the road, in our whole history. Buy your used car now.

State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Even in the "lean" years just past, but little significance has been placed on the importance of a penny, or the lack of it, that threw the Nebraska legislature into furor and resulted in Governor R. L. Cochran's initial opposition and absolute defeat of his purpose.

The senate refused to pass the governor's gas tax bill. The bill, known as LB 153, needed 29 votes to carry it through with the emergency clause; it mustered only 23. The governor's bill would have continued the 5 cent tax until June 30, 1939, giving 4.6 cents to the highway department and 4 of a cent to the state assistance fund.

Defeat of the Cochran proposal brought a retaliation from the state's executive to the effect that it was "up to the senate" now. By that the governor meant it was up to the legislature to find some source of revenue. In a radio address prior to final action on the bill, Cochran scored "special interests" for alleged misquotation over figures on state finance and federal aid for road building and state assistance. Politically wise say the governor did himself little if any good in his speech.

Meanwhile gas went down a cent a gallon over most of the state at midnight, February 28, when the two-year-old additional one-cent gas tax died. It was a continuation of this 1-cent per gallon tax that Cochran sought. Under the law now expired the entire penny added two years ago, to the then existing 4 cent tax per gallon on gas went to the assistance fund; his proposal for continuation of the additional cent divided the penny—6 of a cent for highways and 4 of a cent for assistance.

The battle occupied the attention of the senate most of a week and in view of the fact that March 1 and expiration of the old law neared while enactment of the continuation, dimmed, the senators dispensed for a time with their spring vacation and continued to work. Anyway, it was snowing in Lincoln the day the senators were to go home for four days, so many of them objected but little. Some discussion of a Sunday session reignited, but the senate agreed the matter could await Monday. Preliminary discussion on that day showed that little had been gained in bringing the warring factions together, and Tuesday the culmination of the battle came.

Declared Cochran after his bill had been defeated: "We are probably waiting for the perfect tax to come out of the heavens. It's up to the legislature to find some source of revenue. I made my recommendations to the legislature and they apparently have rejected them 100 per cent. It is their problem now. I cannot think that the members seriously wanted to turn down all of the plan, but apparently they have. State assistance, of course, is first, and highway work, which is a form of assistance, is second. It is a question of spending more for direct assistance, and not having tangible results."

Cochran said the fact that a portion of the extra tax for the highway department would produce a form of assistance in the way of jobs, apparently was overlooked. "I haven't any suggestions," Cochran continued. "I think it is up to the legislature to find the way."

The director of state assistance indicated that his department will have sufficient money to last until June 30 even without funds from the gas tax.

The state engineer's office said the senate's action in killing the gas tax bill means his department will have to revise completely the 2-year road program it had contemplated. The administration measure would have given the department additional state funds to match federal funds for road construction. The "letting" planned for March for road contracts is off, it was declared.

Meanwhile, senators turned shyly to nearly a score of other bills in different committees to find some substitute for the obliterated gas tax. Advocates of state assistance say that approximately $6,000 a day is gone from that fund through defeat of the administration measure. Out of it all may come some new form of taxation. Caution apparently has been swept aside in the war just ended. Assistance is needed—is imperative—and must be had; Cochran's last campaign was waged on a slogan "No New Forms of Taxes" but it is only too clear now that out of this congestion something has to give. Possibly it will be higher liquor taxes; it may fall on tobaccos in their various forms; and attempt to saddle it on real estate is not improbable but it is certain it must come from some place.

Meanwhile, sitting on the sideline with not a little bewilderment on their countenances, are the recipients of state assistance. They wonder, and rightly so, the why and wherefore of the fight and its conclusion; Nebraska loses its federal grant through the matching of state funds because some bloc sought to block the governor.

A new bill embodying Nebraska's co-operation with the federal soil conservation program will have to be introduced, declared Governor Cochran. The present legislative measure is not broad enough, he added. The legislature has the right to allow one of its members to introduce a bill, Cochran said, but if that is not done, "I will offer one myself. Something should be done on the question in the near future," he said.

Attorney General Hunter has appointed Bert L. Overcash of North Platte to succeed Paul P. Chaney, who returns to practice at Falls City and John G. Tomek of David City, to his staff. Tomek will represent the board of educational lands and funds as provided for in a resolution passed by the board recently. Overcash will be paid $3,600 a year; Tomek's salary has not been determined as yet.

Senator R. C. (Dick) Regan democrat veteran of many legislative sessions in both upper and lower houses, of Columbus, was stricken with a severe cold that threatened to develop into pneumonia. He is recovering at a Lincoln hospital. After relinquishing his duties as state child welfare director, Mrs. Maud E. Nuquist left for California to vacation until July 1 when she takes up her post as latest appointee to the state board of control. Harry Becker, assistant child welfare director is acting administrator of the office.

Kenneth S. Wherry of Pawnee City, former state senator and republican candidate for governor was elected senior president, and J. Lee Rankin of Lincoln junior president of the Founders' Day committee by the Nebraska republicans meeting in Lincoln.

Seeking support for LB 249, appropriating $68,000 for the purchase of a half interest in the Platte river bridge at Louisville, making it a free bridge, a large delegation from Louisville presented itself before the appropriations committee. It is the only intrastate bridge requiring tolls in Nebraska, sponsors said. In 1933 the state highway department entered into an agreement by which it paid $74,931 for a half interest in the bridge, with the understanding that the stockholders were to charge toll for retiring their half interest in the bridge. That amount has been reduced to about $68,000.

Definitely dead is the primary reform bill, sponsored by democrats and republicans alike, all high in the councils of their respective parties. The attempt to resurrect from the dead the bill killed by committee 5 to 4 failed 21 to 19. The 21 votes were mustered to abide by committee action.

Killed by committee was LB 131, a bill intended to do away with the 10 day privilege of storing grain in warehouses before storage contract is entered into.

Who shall have the right to carry licensed firearms?

Considerable debate over this problem arose in committee of the whole when LB 93 was under consideration. The bill is in the form of an antiterm measure, requiring the licensing of individuals who wish permission to possess or carry firearms under 17 inches in length, applying to revolvers and similar weapons, and requiring the licensing of persons selling guns. It was advanced to select file. Considerable debate ensued, however.

Asked Senator Van Seggern: "Do you think this will prevent criminals from getting their guns? Law abiding citizens will comply with the law but the criminals will not," he asserted.

Senator Brady declared the bill will do a good job of disarming the public with nothing in it to take care of the crook. Brady said there was a federal law against carrying around machine guns adding: "But every crook that wants one seems to get it."

Charles W. Bryan, mayor of Lincoln, former governor of Nebraska, may seek re-election to his post April 6. Whether he enters the campaign will be governed, he said, by activities of public utility companies and opponents of the present council's policies relating to the sale of beer and package liquor. Bryan has been mentioned in some political circles as a potential gubernatorial candidate on the democratic ticket in 1938.

Appropriations committee reported out to general file a measure giving the state board of control the right to pay maintenance up to $30 a month for children up to 16 years old adopted in private homes from the Nebraska home for dependent children to 16 years old adopted in private homes from the Nebraska home for dependent children at Lincoln. The original age was 18 years.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tuma of the Dannevirke community near Elba celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary a week ago Sunday.

—They have lived there 44 years and have 11 children. He is 76 and she is 73, and both are in fairly good health.

—Walter Lowenstein, district manager of Fuller brush salesmen was a passenger to St. Paul on the bus Saturday morning, going down on a business mission. He is making his home while in Ord at W. F. Williams.

—John Parkhurst, who went up to Burwell about a month ago to help his mother, Mrs. Julia Parkhurst get her chattels ready for a farm sale, was a passenger back to his home in Brady, Nebr., on the bus Saturday.

—Among those in attendance from a distance at the Haskell funeral last Tuesday were H. N. Matley, wife and daughter Dorothy of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Simpkins of Martin, S. D.; Floyd Simpkins of Gibbon, Nebr.; and Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Pearson of Wahoo.

—Kenneth McGinnis of Ord, a senior in the college of arts and sciences at the University of Nebraska, has been elected national adjutant of Phalanx, a military honorary organization, at a recent meeting of the organization.

—Mrs. LeRoy Lambdin of Grand Island was painfully injured when a car in which she was riding struck a parked car in Grand Island at 11 o'clock Thursday night. She was taken to St. Francis hospital, where it was found that she had suffered a bad gash over her right eye, and had lost several teeth.

—Herbert Engler, 20, of Elba, dropped dynamite he was carrying Saturday afternoon and was blasted to death one mile east of Elba. He and his father, Henry Engler, were blasting the river ice to form a channel under the bridge. Carrying the explosive from a nearby storage cabin, he dropped it and the caps ignited. The blast was so terrific that the young man's body was almost unrecognizable.

—While the vote at the general election in Greeley county last fall showed more votes for a $52,000.00 bond issue than against it, so many did not receive a majority of all votes cast. Accordingly another election will be held April 2, for the purpose of voting the same bond issue. The bonds are to be used to put Greeley county on a cash basis, as it is now about $50,000.00 in debt.

—Mrs. Roland Brickner and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Adams and Miss Wilda Adams left shortly after midnight Friday night in Mr. Adams' car. They will go first to Twin Falls, where the Brickners live. From there the rest of them will go on through to Washington. Mrs. Brickner has been here for several months visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Carlson and family. Her sister, Mrs. Alta Pearl, of Burwell came down and stayed over night Friday. She is now employed as stenographer in the office of the Peterson Transfer in Burwell.

Little Stories About People You Know

This story concerns a number of people, two of whom are still here. In the fall of 1900 Claude Hennold and the late Ed Armstrong were attending school in Ord and living in the little house that once stood on the south end of the Quiz lot. They brought their eats from home and batched there. One Friday they ate everything they had on hand except a part of a loaf of bread, expecting to go home after school. It happened that they had to stay for a class party that night. After the party they were hungry, so they wondered what they could do to replenish the larder. It occurred to one of them that W. B. Keown had a cow in a lot just across the alley, so they slipped out and milked her at midnight and feasted on bread and milk. Next morning Mr. Keown wondered what had happened to his cow.

A year later at Halloween's time Charley Clochon and I started out from this same house to pull some Halloween pranks, the above two boys, who had lost on a bet, telling us that they could have a lunch ready for us when we got back. When we returned the door stood ajar, and I happened to notice that they had set a washpan on top of the door, expecting us to get soaked when we came in. We opened the door carefully, and then left it as we had found it. Pretty soon the boys came back. They were in a hurry about getting in out of the cold and forgot all about the pan on the door, thus getting caught in their own trap. They had to change their clothes, but they had gone out and milked Oliver Cromwell's cow, so we all had plenty of bread and milk for lunch.

Ord Had Splendid Cage Season, Won 14, Lost Only 2

Made 473 Points to 282 By Opponents; Lost Only to Kearney, Hastings.

Coach Helmut Brockman's Ord high school cagers have completed another successful basketball season, this year winning championship honors in both the Mid Six and Loup Valley athletic conferences.

A survey of the seasons record shows that the Chanticleers piled up a total of 473 points to their opponents 282 for an average of nearly 30 points per game. Only two games were lost, those to Hastings and Kearney quintets.

Ord started out the season with a narrow 24 to 21 win over the hard fighting Sargent Bulldogs. Coach Copelands lads had played several games before meeting Ord, while this was the opening game of the season for the Ordites.

Kearney was supposed to have been Ord's next opponent, but bad weather conditions prevented the Ord team from making the trip. On the following Friday the Chanticleers met the St. Paul Apostles on the Ord floor. The St. Paul quint, weakened because of several sick regulars permitted the Ordsters to romp home to a 40 to 21 victory.

One of the fastest games of the year was played when the Chanticleers traveled to Broken Bow for their second Mid Six game. Despite the final 36 to 12 verdict, the game was a close contest from beginning to end.

In their next game the Ord quint looked very unimpressive as they stomped over Burwell 41 to 16. This was not to last long however, as in their next game the Ord five sallied along to a 27-12 win over a previously undefeated Spalding team.

Two Mid Six victories followed the Spalding clash, the Ordites rolling over Arcadia 32 to 18, and getting by Ravenna with a 26-15 score.

Ord's win streak was brought to an abrupt end however when they met the touted Hastings team on the Ord floor. After playing the Hastings five shoulder to shoulder the first half the Chanticleers wilted in the final portion of the game to lose 35 to 19.

Apparently a let-down after their strenuous game with Hastings, the Ord team had to give all they had to win out over Comstock 20 to 14. Ansley was done away with by a 28 to 17 decision.

Next came the Loup Valley tournament. In their opening contest the Ord team came near tasting defeat at the hands of Sargent.

With Sargent leading by a wide margin at the end of the third quarter the Brockman lads turned on the heat in the final quarter to turn in a 21 to 16 win. Arcadia was pushed aside with a 31 to 11 score. Dannebrog proved a tough one, but the Chanticleers got down to work to drag in a 25 to 13 win and move into the finals. Ord was much too classy a team for Taylor, giving them a 26 to 13 shellacking in the finals for the Loup Valley championship.

The postponed Kearney game was played at last the Chanticleers traveling to Kearney where the old jinx still remained with them as they lost out, 27 to 19. Ord claimed the Mid Six title after their next game, the last of the Mid Six schedule, in which they whipped Coach Brown's Loup City cagers 35 to 14.

Season's Record:
Ord 24, Sargent 21
Ord 40, St. Paul 21
Ord 41, Burwell 16
Ord 36, Broken Bow 12
Ord 27, Spalding 12

Spring Sports Will Start In Ord Hi

Coach Helmut Brockman has been busy issuing football and track equipment this week, getting prepared for a siege of track and spring football practice during the next few weeks.

A large number of boys are turning out for both sports this year, an unusually large number coming out for spring football. Although the boys are taking it easy, limbering up, this week, he says that hard drill work will start in earnest next week.

In the past few years Burdett Cowel has taken charge of the track teams but this year Coach Brockman will take over the job, at the same time assisting and directing spring football practices under Coach Frank Lee.

Ord Cagers Go To State Tournament Only As Spectators

Accompanied by Coaches Helmut Brockman and Frank Lee, the Ord basketball team will leave for Lincoln early Friday morning to attend the finals and semi-finals of the state basketball tournament.

While in Lincoln the team will attend sessions of the fourth annual coaches clinic during the day, attending the basketball games in the evening.

Features of the coaches clinic will be demonstrations of basketball offensive and defensive plays under the direction of Coach W. H. Browne; track demonstrations, which take place in the University stadium, under the direction of Henry F. Shulte; and a chance to see Nebraska's 1937 grid machine in action as they hold open practice in the stadium under their new coach, "Bill" Jones.

While in Lincoln the boys are planning to stay at the Lincoln Hotel and will probably leave for Ord sometime Sunday morning. The trip will be made in private cars.

Custer County Tournament.

The Custer County junior high school basketball tournament will be held at Broken Bow on Saturday, March 13 according to a report given in the Sargent Leader. The Sargent junior high team is being given the odds to take the honors in this tournament, having beaten all their tournament opponents in seasonal games.

Chanticleers Finish 1937 Season Undefeated in Conference Play, Won Loup Valley and Mid Six Championships

What's everybody smiling about? 'Fer gosh sakes who wouldn't smile with a basketball team as successful as the Ord high school quintet was this year! Those trophies represent the Loup Valley football and basketball championships as well as the team free throwing championship of the Valley. Only two defeats during a season's play isn't a bad record at all, considering those two defeats were handed to the Chanticleers by two Class A district champions.

St. Paul Upsets Dope, Whips G. I.

St. Paul beat Grand Island 27 to 19. The win was the biggest upset in the district tournament in years.

Leading from the start St. Paul turned on the heat in the last half to win going away. At the first quarter St. Paul was ahead 10 to 8 and stretched the margin to 15 to 8 at the half.

Coach Roy Mandery started his second string men, but sent in his regulars at the quarter.

Davis, St. Paul center, scored four goals and Lynch got three goals, and a free toss.—Hastings Spotlight.

All-Stars Win Tourney.

After Arnold had tied the score in the closing minutes of the final game in the Loup City Volunteer Fire Department's invitational tourney held at Loup City last week, the Loup City All Stars rallied to pull ahead with a four point margin to take the championship by a score of 32 to 29.

One of the best games of the tourney was between Arnold and Wolbach's of Grand Island in the semi-finals. Arnold finally secured a lead in the game to win 31 to 29.

Tournament scores included; St. Paul 40, Arcadia 14; Loup City 25, Litchfield 14; Arnold 31, Wiggle Creek 10; Wolbachs 16, Boelius 13; Loup City 38, St. Paul 18; Arnold 31, Wolbach's 29.

Dannebrog Wins Class C Tourney

Dannebrog won the Class C district tournament title at Elba last week, winning over North Loup in the finals by a score of 29 to 22.

Mortensen of Dannebrog scored 11 of his team's points while Annvas was high point man for North Loup.

An all tournament team picked by the official, Jack Dyas, consisted of: Funn, Dunn, Palmer, Hansen, Dannebrog; Mortensen, Dannebrog, center; Greene and Manchester of North Loup, guards.

Palmer won third place by winning over Farwell 25 to 16. Elba won the consolation trophy by winning over Ashton 36 to 16. Tournament scores include: Semi-finals, North Loup 34, Farwell 24; Palmer 35, Dannebrog 44; Consolation final, Elba 36, Ashton 16; Final, Dannebrog 29, North Loup 22. In the first round North Loup dispensed with the touted Elba team by a 33 to 21 score.

Correction, Quick

Ye sport editor has been dodging through back allies, down coal chutes and everything else since that article about Ord winning over Aurora in 1921 by the stupendous score of 2 to 0 was published in last week's paper. How was I to know that it was a forfeit game? I didn't see it, I only heard!

American Legion Birthday.

The American Legion will celebrate its eighteenth birthday March 15 to 17. A nation wide American Legion broadcast will go on the air from 8:30 to 10:00 P. M., Tuesday, March 16, over the blue network of the National Broadcasting company.

It was on March 15, 1919, that 1000 representative officers and enlisted men of the American expeditionary forces assembled in Paris, France, for the purpose of forming an association similar to the Grand Army of the Republic and the United Confederate veterans. The caucus was called to order by Eric Fisher Wood, Bennett C. Clark, now United States senator from Missouri, was chosen temporary chairman.

Maurice K. Gordon, an attorney now living at Madisonville, Kentucky, proposed the name "The American Legion". A second caucus was held in St. Louis, Mo., in May, 1919, with delegates of ex-soldiers from every state, and the Legion was launched upon its career.

POULTRY FEEDS

For the past five years we have had our own formulas for our Poultry feed and we have been able to sell a better poultry feed for less money than we could ship one in for.

RESULTS COUNT

We have reports from a number of users of our Poultry Feed that are getting 60% egg production from their flock and one user is getting 77% egg production. From these results it is no wonder that we have had such large sales from our Laying Mash.

STARTING MASH

This year we are selling our Starting Mash at $3.50 per 100 lbs. and are giving a feeder free with each bag of Starter. A large feeder will be given with two bags of Starter. Come in and look at this feed.

CONKEY'S HORSE FEED

You can save $15.00 on feed equal to 100 bushel of oats. Let us figure with you on your Horse feed requirements and you will surely save money.

WE INVITE

ALL PRODUCERS OF CREAM, POULTRY AND EGGS TO use this organization in marketing your Farm Produce.

OUR PROFITS ARE DIVIDED AMONG AND RETURNED TO THE PRODUCER

This Creamery was built ten years ago for ONE PURPOSE ONLY, and that was—To get more money for the Cream Poultry and Eggs produced in Valley county.

In addition to having distributed $140,000.00 among our patrons during this ten year period, we have been instrumental in maintaining much higher prices for Farm Produce in this community than has been paid in communities not served by a Cooperative Creamery.

WE NEED MORE CREAM

Larger volume will reduce the manufacturing cost on each pound of butter-fat handled and thereby increase the price that we can pay to the man who milks the cows.

BRING YOUR CREAM, POULTRY AND EGGS HERE and participate in the dividends and benefits to be derived from a Successful Cooperative Enterprise.

Grand Island Factory Is Seeking 250 to 750 Acres This Year.

A. C. Schweiger, a representative of the American Crystal Sugar company, of Grand Island, is in Ord all this week in an effort to sign up from 250 to 750 acres of land between Ord and North Loup on sugar beet contracts for the present season. If he is successful in signing up the acreage his company will build one or two beet dumps on the Union Pacific railroad near Ord, Schweiger promises.

A sliding scale in paying for beets, depending upon sugar content of the beets and price of sugar at time it is sold, is provided in the contract but Mr. Schweiger says farmers should receive from $5.50 to $7.50 per ton for their beets, according to present market indications.

Loren Butterfield, who raised beets under pump irrigation near Burwell last year, raised 20 tons per acre but Schweiger says this is higher than the average. He believes land under the Ord-North Loup canal will raise at least 12 tons per acre this summer, however. In the North Platte valley a 10 year average for all land, 50 per cent of which is not irrigated, is 10.4 tons per acre.

Seed will be furnished to North Loup valley farmers by his company at 14c per pound and carried on the company's books until the beets are sold in the fall, Schweiger says. About 18 pounds are required to plant an acre of beets. Planting must be done soon after April 1.

For those farmers who need to employ hand labor the sugar company will serve as a free labor agency. Cost of hand labor to raise a crop of beets will average about $21.50 per acre, he estimates.

When W. H. Denman, president of the Grand Island company, visited Ord recently he promised that as soon as the North Loup project is completed his firm will consider favorably the idea of building a sugar factory in this valley. Beets raised on land between Ord and North Loup this summer will be shipped to Grand Island for processing.

The sugar company will help farmers throughout the summer with advice and assistance and will do everything possible to make sugar beet raising profitable for them, both Schweiger and Denman promise.

From 50 to 100 pump irrigated acres will be contracted near Burwell this summer also.

Any farmer whose land is located on the Ord-North Loup canal and who is interested in the sugar beet contract may secure full information by calling for Mr. Schweiger at the North Loup district offices in Ord. He will be at the Hudson lumber yard in North Loup next Tuesday and will be at the irrigation school in Ord next Wednesday and Thursday afternoons.

A. B. Clark Purchases Grill Lumber Yard

Ansel B. Clark, son of R. J. Clark of Ord, has purchased the Grill lumber yard at Frederick, Colo., according to a newspaper story in the Frederick Farmer and Miner. For the past 12 years Ansel has managed the yard for Mr. Grill, who had owned since 1906. Ansel and his sons, Dick and Don, constitute the new management and have many plans for building up the business, which is already a thriving one.

A few weeks ago the Grill yard at Boulder, Colo., was bought by a firm of which Wayne Clements son of Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements of Ord, is a prominent member. Wayne Clements had managed the Grill yard at Boulder for many years.

Ernest Grill, member of one of Colorado's first families, is disposing of all his Colorado property interests and henceforth will live in California. That two former Ord men became owners of two yards in the Grill chain is interesting to all Quiz readers.

W. Nemeskal Rented Moses Farm 20 Years

William Nemeskal started renting the Anna Moses farm fifteen miles west of Ord twenty years ago and he has rented the same farm all the time since. The family have enjoyed their stay there, and after two decades they are proud of their landlord. They have never at any time had a misunderstanding of any kind, and wish to remain right there and get along with Bill Moses for many more years. Mr. Nemeskal writes the Quiz the above facts, which are sufficiently unusual to be worthy of special mention.

Will Let Contracts April 9th For Dams; Million Dollar Job

North Loup District Calling For Bids; Construction Getting Under Way.

In an official notice which appears in today's issue of the Quiz, directors of the North Loup power and irrigation district call for bids upon approximately a million dollar's worth of construction work—diversion dams, siphons, flumes, concrete structures, bridges and cross drainage works. Date of the letting, largest in the whole North Loup project, is Friday, April 9.

Work orders have been issued to Orshek & Christensen, low bidders on the job of building $57,000 worth of tiling and pipe, and they were trucking equipment to Ord yesterday with expectation of starting work at once. They will employ 20 to 30 local men, it is estimated.

Another work order has been issued to the Edward F. Morgan Co. of Jackson, Miss., who will dig the Taylor-Ord, Burwell-Sumter and part of the Ord-North Loup canals. Some of the Morgan machinery was unloaded near North Loup and a whole train load of heavy duty draglines and other dirt movers was expected to arrive last night over the Union Pacific railroad.

Arrival of spring is expected to see hundreds of men working on various phases of the big project. From now on the project is expected to progress rapidly.

Legion Convention In Burwell Monday

American Legion posts of Valley and Garfield counties will hold a joint convention at Burwell next Monday evening, March 22. District Commander D. A. Webber of Kearney, state Adjutant E. C. Patterson, of Lincoln, and Marcus Potect, former state commander, will be among the speakers.

New Petska Scooter Is Popular Vehicle

When Jerry Petska bought a new AutoGlide delivery scooter for his store he didn't know he was buying a vehicle that would be so popular but man's Ordites, harking back to their experiences with bicycles and motorcycles, have besought rides on the contraption. Here is seen Dr. Lee C. Nay astride the Petska scooter, which looks like a toy but will travel 35 miles per hour. A small box at the rear holds several orders of groceries. Photo by Jensen.

Commercial Club Drive for Members Will Start at Once

President Misko Appointed Standing Committees At Session Monday Eve.

Starting today or tomorrow, the Ord chamber of commerce will conduct a drive for new members with hope of adding 25 or 30 to the list. The chamber now has a membership of 101. Committee in charge of the drive is composed of Dwight Keyes, E. C. Leggett and James Gilbert. Dues of $1.50 per quarter will continue for the present.

A general meeting of chamber of commerce members will be held upon completion of the annual drive, a program of general interest will be given and refreshments served. This meeting will serve as a "get-acquainted" affair for old and new members.

Chamber directors met Monday evening and President John P. Misko announced committee appointments as follows:

Irrigation—Dr. C. J. Miller, Val Pullen, C. C. Dale, Royal Bailey, George Allen.

Entertainment—Dr. F. A. Barja, Tom Springer, Joe Puncocar, O. H. Sowl.

Retail—William Heuck, J. R. Stoltz, Hans Larsen, H. T. Frazer, Chris Schrader, Adam Dubos.

Rural relations—Fred Coe, Ben Janssen, J. A. Kovanda, Rudolph Koupal.

Membership—Dwight Keyes, E. C. Leggett, James Gilbert.

Roads—Ralph Norman, Gould Flagg, H. B. VanDecar, Geo. S. Round, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, H. O. Strombom.

Publicity—E. C. Leggett, Fred Coe.

Music promotion—J. R. Stoltz, Henry Frey, Dr. J. G. Kruml.

Civic improvements—Vernie Weller, Olof Olsson, George Allen, M. Biemond.

Alfred Wiegardt, secretary, was instructed by directors to write a letter to officials of the Union Pacific railroad urging them to build a new depot in Ord. About 1930, it is understood, the railroad had such a plan in mind but abandoned it because of business conditions. With prosperity returning it is hoped they may be receptive to the chamber's request.

To protect local businesses, the chamber will urge the city to enforce collection of occupation taxes, particularly those on hawkers, peddlers, auctioneers selling new merchandise, bread wagons selling to merchants and dry cleaners who may send wagons here to pick up clothing to be cleaned in city plants. Committees have been named to confer with councilmen relative to enforcing and strengthening the occupation tax structure.

Maggie Briley Died Saturday; Was 61

At the Catholic church Monday morning at 9:00, funeral rites were conducted by Father Lawler for Mrs. Margaret Briley, 61, who died at her home in Ord Saturday March 13, at 1:00 a. m., after an illness of many months. Interment was made in Ord cemetery.

Few Ord residents were better known than was Mrs. Briley. Although very little of her early life is known, it is established that her birth occurred on Christmas day—Dec. 25, 1875, that her mother died when she was six years old and that she was reared to maturity in the home of a lady named Lockwich.

Subsequently she was married to a man named Nels Briley, from whom she was separated shortly afterward. About 40 years ago she accompanied the Partridge family to Ord and served as cook in Hotel Ord as long as a dining room was operated by that hostelry. Twenty years ago she entered the restaurant business in partnership with Pete Jones, their restaurant being known as the Star Cafe, and about ten years ago entered a cafe partnership with Miss Gertrude Knebel which continued until her last illness.

Mrs. Briley was a marvelous cook and several generations of Ordites knew the fame of "Maggie's" viands. She was also a fine business woman and her restaurants always prospered financially.

Many have reason to know Maggie's kindness of heart, for her good deeds were many. She was generous to a fault, was of a happy disposition and those who came to know her well sing her praises in the most glowing terms. She will be greatly missed.

Egg Rolling Contest. If weather will permit, an egg rolling contest for grade school children of Ord will be held under the auspices of the Business and Professional Women's club on Easter Sunday. More complete details will be announced later.

57 Exhibits at Seed Corn Show Saturday

Three of the farmers who won prizes at the seed corn show in Ord Saturday. Other winners were not present. Left to right—W. G. Cook, Alfred Christensen and Ed Zikmund.

The seed corn show put on Saturday under the direction of the county farm bureau with cash prizes being offered by the Brown-McDonald company and a stock tonic special by Ed F. Beranek, was a success in every respect. There were a total of 57 different exhibits brought in by a large number of exhibitors, who not only entered their corn in the competition, but also had the seed for sale, which was a part of the rules governing the show. While a large amount of seed was sold during the day, no record was kept of this part of the show.

There were six main divisions in the corn show proper, with prize winners as follows: yellow dent corn, 8 inches and over, W. J. Cook, first, Alfred Christensen, second, R. R. Nightingale, third, and Cash Rathbun, fourth; yellow dent corn, under 8 inches, Kenneth Barber, first, Alfred Christensen, second, Don Marks, third; white dent corn, 8 inches and over, Ed Zikmund, first, Leon Carkoski, second, Ben Augustyn, third, and Don Marks, fourth; white dent corn, under 8 inches, Paul Wietzki, first, Don Marks, second.

In the rainbow flint division Alfred Christensen took first place and Ed Dubas second. There were no entries in the blue flour corn division. Kenneth Barber of North Loup took the sweepstakes honors with his exhibit of ten ears of small yellow dent corn. In the oats exhibit John Koll took first, Frank Krikac took second, Chris Johnsen took third. In alfalfa Frank Krikac took first and second and John Koll third. The show was very well attended, farmers coming and going all afternoon.

Kenneth Koelling Wins Scholarship

J. A. Kovanda, instructor of the Ord Smith-Hughes agricultural department, has just announced that Kenneth Koelling, a 1936 graduate, has been awarded the Union Pacific Railroad's $100 scholarship in agriculture.

This award is given annually to an outstanding vocational agriculture or home economics student in each county through which the Union Pacific railway passes. Mr. Koelling, with his scholarship, will attend the agricultural college at the University of Nebraska. The Union Pacific scholarship winner is selected largely on the basis of his project program. Each applicant's record book is personally examined by President Carl Gray. Candidates for the U. P. award in Valley county are selected from the Smith-Hughes home economics and agriculture departments of Ord and North Loup. Arcadia is not included in the competition because the Arcadia school does not offer these courses.

Koelling's work in the Ord agricultural system was of a very brilliant and exceptional type. In the state contest at North Platte last year he made a very impressive record, taking individual honors in the judging of all dairy products, being a member of the first place Ord team in the judging of crops and second-high individual in the judging of all livestock. Besides being an outstanding agricultural student, Koelling was a mainstay in the athletic teams turned out at Ord. He played tackle and half-back on the football teams, was a guard on the basketball team, first string pitcher on the 1935 baseball team, and took first in the broad jump at the Albion relays as well as being a member of an undefeated relay team.

City Will Condemn Unightly Buildings

Through the office of Horace M. Davis, state fire marshal, city officials of Ord are taking action to condemn and tear down several old, unightly buildings in Ord. The condemnation proceedings may take several months but will be pushed as rapidly as the law permits, the Quiz is assured by Mayor Flagg.

If owners of such structures would cooperate and voluntarily tear down the fire traps in question, they would be saved some expense and Ord would present a more slightly appearance at once. It is hoped that during Ord's annual clean-up campaign, which will be held in April, owners of such buildings will have them torn down.

—Ed Tunnickoff was down from Burwell for a visit with his son and family Tuesday, Bill accompanying his father to Burwell on the evening bus.

County Committee To Nellig Monday

Carl C. Dale, Charles Veleba, A. V. Mensing, Ed Stone and Albert Parkos, county agricultural committee, went to Nellig Monday to study the procedure for making out work sheets for soil conservation this year. This was done in preparation for the township sign-up meetings for the 1937 program. These meetings will be held soon Mr. Dale believes.

130 Ord Students To Arcadia Today

Over 130 Ord high school music students will leave Ord at 8:30 this morning to take part in the seventh annual Loup Valley high school music festival being held in Arcadia. The group of students will be transported to the festival by means of busses and a host of private cars.

Ord is scheduled to appear on the day's program at 10:15, being given 30 minutes to present their musical program. One Ord musical unit, the 60-piece band, does not appear on the morning program but will play in full costume as the first feature of the evening program.

The festival is sponsored by the Loup Valley High School Activities association, with local arrangements in charge of the Arcadia high school. Mildred Rife-Nye, Arcadia music supervisor, is chairman of the festival committee. Seven counties are represented in the festival, schools taking part being Comstock, Ord, Loup City, Taylor, North Loup, Sargent, Scotia, Burwell, St. Paul, Dannebrog and Arcadia.

Ag Station Bill On Floor of House

Word has been received here that uncameral bill No. 340, the bill to establish an agricultural experiment station in the North Loup valley, has been passed by the appropriations committee at Lincoln and will be up for amendment and debate on the floor of the house within the next few days. The bill had previously been passed by the agriculture committee.

Directors of the Ord chamber of commerce have asked H. D. Leggett, former state senator, to go to Lincoln and interview uncameral members in the interests of this bill. Every effort will be made to secure its passage.

Buttermakers At State Convention

F. W. Coe, manager of the Ord Co-operative Creamery, and O. E. Carlson, buttermaker of the same concern, are in attendance at the state convention of co-operative creameries in Lincoln this week. Mr. Coe went down Monday morning and Mr. Carlson in the afternoon. Samples of Ord butter went down about two weeks ago, and the Ord company is in hopes of placing well up toward the head of the list. They were expected home Wednesday evening.

American Legion Is Boosting Arbor Day

The Ord American Legion post is making plans for celebrating Arbor day in a fitting manner this year. Councilman A. J. Auble recently found that plenty of trees were available for the purpose and could be secured by application to the government. In collaboration with the cemetery board, a committee of the Legion decided to order 4,000 trees, 1,000 of which will be cedars, 1,500 jack pines, and the rest Chinese elm. The plan is to set a row of cedars around the outside of the cemetery eight feet apart. Over along the north side a grove of jack pines will be planted, with a hedge to the north of them to catch the snow in winter. The other trees will be placed wherever they are needed. The Legion will ask cooperation of other organizations when the day arrives, which this year will be April 14.

3 New Members In Ord Rotary Club

The Ord Rotary club last week elected three new members, Fred Cahill, manager of the Safeway Store, Ed Butler, of the Richtmyer & Butler Ford agency, and M. B. Cummins, of the Ord Livestock Pavilion. The club now has a membership roll of 28.

Do Ordites Want Bonds Issued For A Swimming Pool?

Sentiment of Voters Sought By Putting Question On Ballot April 6th.

Do people of Ord want a swimming pool to the extent that they will authorize issuance of bonds in an amount not to exceed $16,000 to pay for it?

That is what members of the city council want to know, and to sound out sentiment of taxpayers they have decided to submit the question at the regular spring election April 6. The ballot is "unofficial," that is, it will not in itself authorize the council to issue bonds should a majority favor the pool.

Regardless of result of the vote April 6 on this question, a special bond election will be required before bonds for a swimming pool can be issued. The vote at that time is taken only to guide the council in its future actions regarding the pool.

To understand the reason for this somewhat involved procedure it is necessary to detail the procedure up to this time.

Last summer sentiment for a concrete swimming pool developed in Ord and a large delegation representing most business and civic groups waited upon the council asking that a pool be built if a WPA grant could be secured to defray part of its cost. At its meeting last September the council voted to ask for a WPA grant and build a pool, using money

Relief Still Major Problem, Says Kruml

In spite of the coming of spring and the opening up of work on farms the Valley county relief problem does not grow much easier, according to Frank Kruml, relief director. The problem is complicated by the late development of the Loup irrigation projects, and the hope that many families outside the county have that work will soon develop. While there is no doubt that this work will open up later, there are more than enough available in the district to handle all the work for some time to come.

Following the only fair policy seven have been taken from the direct relief rolls in the past ten days who had a chance to work on farms and refused to do so. This policy will be continued in the future. Relief is to be granted only when no employment is available. On the other hand, several in the same period of time have withdrawn their names voluntarily from the relief rolls when they had secured employment, which attitude is highly commendable.

Ord Residents Will Picnic at Long Beach

Former Ord residents now living in California, and people from this community who are spending the winter there, will hold their semi-annual picnic at Bixby Park, in Long Beach, on Sunday, April 11, according to a notice received by the Quiz from Fred J. Bell. All are requested to bring well filled lunch baskets but coffee will be provided. Tables 1, 2 and 3 have been reserved for the picnic. The dinner will be served at 12:30 and the afternoon devoted to games and visiting.

Two Day Irrigation School To Be Held In Ord March 24-25

Loup Project Farmers Are Invited to Hear Group Of Able Speakers.

Under the sponsorship of the Valley county farm bureau, a 2-day irrigation school with a group of able speakers will be held at the Knights of Pythias hall in Ord next Wednesday and Thursday, March 24 and 25. All farmers whose land lies in the North or Middle Loup irrigation districts are invited to attend these afternoon sessions, which will begin at 1:30 and last until 4:30 each afternoon.

Program for the 2-day school is announced by Agricultural Agent C. C. Dale as follows:

Wednesday, March 24—"The North Loup Irrigation Project—What It Means," by E. H. Dunmire, Ord; "My Experience in Irrigation of Potatoes," by Fred Wallace, Gibbon; "Some Soil and Moisture Relationships," by D. L. Gross, extension agronomist, University of Nebraska; "Equipment with Which the Irrigation Farmer Should be Familiar," by Ivan D. Wood, extension agricultural engineer, University of Nebraska.

Thursday, March 25—"Problems of the Irrigation Farmer," by J. C. Adams, Dawson county agricultural agent; "Irrigation in Dawson County," by R. C. Johnson, Lexington; "My Experience with the Irrigation of Beets," by C. W. Kjar, Lexington; "Marketing Sugar Beets," by C. A. Schweiger, of the American Crystal Sugar Co., Grand Island.

Gross and Wood, who speak the first day, have appeared on programs here before and Valley county farmers know them; Mr. Wallace is perhaps Nebraska's best known potato grower and also has been active in corn-hog and other cooperative farm enterprises; these three talks should make the first afternoon school interesting.

County Agent Adams and the two farmers, Messrs. Johnson and Kjar, are headliners Thursday. All are thoroughly experienced in irrigation problems and will talk from the standpoint of farmers who have actually used all the practices that must become familiar to Loup valley farmers if they hope to succeed under irrigation.

It is hoped that a crowd of 200 farmers or more from all up and down the North Loup valley, with large contingents from the Middle Loup as well, may attend this 2-day school in Ord next week. County Agent C. C. Dale is in general charge of arrangements and can furnish any information in regard to the school.

Arrest Three More Traffic Violators

Continuing their campaign to make the streets of Ord safe for the public, Ord's officers arrested three more traffic violators in the past week, running the grand total to date up to 25. W. W. Ray was fined $5.00 and costs for speeding, a total of $11.50. L. W. Krueger paid a fine and costs of $9.50 for speeding. Herbert Bredthauer paid fine and costs of $9.50 for speeding. The fact that the number was cut from 17 last week to 3 this week proves that the campaign is having the desired effect. Some time after the snow fell Friday evening a car made a U turn on the southwest corner of the square, but luckily for the driver, no one was around at the time. However, the tracks were there to prove it. This form of traffic violation is usually done by local people who know better, but think they can get away with it. Catching one or two in the act, together with the assessed fine, might effect a cure.

Cookie Jar Empty, Ord Miss Stages Sit Down Strike

Ord's only sit down strike has been ended peacefully. Little Ellen, 6-year-old daughter of County Treasurer and Mrs. George A. Satterfield, staged the strike and abandoned it only when she had gained her objective.

The little girl wanted a cookie but the Satterfield cookie jar was empty and her mother announced that she didn't have time to bake at that time. Ellen put the cookie jar on the floor, sat down on it and declared that she would sit there until her mother baked cookies. Mrs. Satterfield's promise to replenish the cookie jar immediately ended the strike.

PERSONALS

A 5 3-4 pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Guggenmos Saturday, March 6.
A 9 pound boy was born to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Sargent Wednesday, March 10.
Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huff went to Omaha Saturday evening to visit his mother, Mrs. D. B. Huff.
The Joe Zukoske family has moved from northwest of Ord to the Arcadia neighborhood where they will farm this year.
Jean and Jane Ferguson and Edgar and Earl Barnes went to Grand Island on a shopping trip Saturday.
Mrs. Ollie Finch writes from Loveland, Colo., where they have recently taken charge of the Orange & Blue tourist cabin camp. She says they must have the Quiz coming to their new address.
Recent visitors to Ord include W. L. Smith of Plainview, Mrs. M. M. Evelith, Mrs. C. E. Johnson, Mrs. Mary Brandfas and Mrs. J. W. Kellogg of Burwell, and Mrs. Jennie Lambdin, of Greeley.
Mrs. Anna Krahulik and daughter Bess went to Omaha Sunday to be with Miss Mildred Krahulik who underwent an appendectomy at Clarkson hospital Monday. Bess will return Sunday but Mrs. Krahulik will remain longer.
Mrs. Mattie Luke writes from Burkett to renew her subscription for another year and says she expects to return to her home in Ord about May 1. She has spent the winters at the S. & S. Home for several years.
The Ord Fire Department held their regular meeting Friday evening. Retiring chief A. J. Shirley gave a talk and the by-laws were revised, after which refreshments were served by the committee, Lores McMindes, Curt Gudmundsen and George Anderson.
Four dentists of Grand Island, Drs. Houlette, George Leschinsky, Dowd and Clayton Moore, were in Ord Thursday in the interests of the Nebraska State Dental association. While here they called on all the Ord dentists.
Mrs. Lova Trindle informs the Quiz that she is still unable to walk since the fall she sustained on Dec. 8. She has spent most of the time in bed and has suffered a great deal of pain. It is hoped that she may improve with the coming of spring.
John Beran, who works for Jerry Petska in the store, has been off the job just five weeks because of a rheumatic trouble in his leg, which makes it almost impossible for him to walk. The ailment, whatever it is, does not respond readily to treatment.
Saturday morning Mrs. Olof Olsson and baby daughter left by train for Fort Worth, Tex., to visit her mother, Mrs. Emma Dryden, also planning to visit other relatives in San Antonio. They will be gone about three weeks, according to present plans. Mr. Olsson has been spending several days in Norfolk installing ice making equipment for an Omaha firm.
Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Robinson of North Platte, Nebr., were in Ord for a short time Monday morning they had been visiting in North Loup over Sunday, and went home by way of Ord and Arnold. Mr. Robinson has been running the Super Service Station at North Platte for the past five years. With the coming of the North Loup Power and Irrigation project he subscribed for the Quiz, which he had not been taking for some time, and he said that he was getting a lot of enjoyment out of the old time stories, many of which happened at a time when he was in Ord and working in the county treasurer's office.

40 Candidates Out For Track; Hope To Repeat As Champs

4 Lettermen Are Back From Team That Copped in Mid Six Last Year.

Although hard track practice didn't get under way until this week, Coaches Brockman and Lee have been working with about 40 young track aspirants for over two weeks. As the last particle of the basketball season was dislodged from thoughts, nearly all of the basketball players, who had been enjoying a two weeks rest period, turned out and practice got under way in earnest.
Spring football is also being taken up at this time and practice will continue for two or three weeks. Early practices have been given over to fundamental exercises including kicking, passing and some blocking. During the final two weeks of the spring football drills, fans will get to see the 1937 grid machine in action in several scrimmages.

Four Lettermen Back.

Four lettermen return to the told this year to make Ord's chances for a successful track season above par. In the short sprints, Charley Cetak will be piling up points; Dale Hughes in the 400 run looks like a sure bet; Gerald Clark is scheduled to break records this year (his senior year) in his favorite event—the mile run; Clay Nelson is a returning letterman who does his big work in the high-jump event. Included with these four lettermen is some exceptionally good new material on hand who, with a little practice, will develop into real point gainers.

Exceptional New Material.

Eino Zikmund, 170 pound senior, looks like a good all-around man as in early practices he has been tossing the javelin 135 feet, the shot around 40 feet, and the discus 100 feet. He is also an excellent pole vaulter.

Another good man takes form in Robert Jablonski who has been going places in the high jump event and really looks like he is going to give Nelson a close race during the season.

Edgar Barnes is showing up well in the short sprints. Everett Williams will make a bid for a position as a weight man.

Other boys who are doing brilliant work this spring include: Ray Hurlbert, high jump weights, broad jump; Richard Piskorski, sprints, hurdles; Leroy Zikmund, Mid Six Champions.

Last year the Ord track team took second place in the Loup Valley meet and scooped up first place in the Mid Six conference in its first year of existence. The 1936 squad was made up of Charles Cetak, Kenneth Koelling, Gerald Clark, Gerald Goff, Clay Nelson, Paul Blessing, Harold Stone, Dale Hughes, Charles Jones, Harold Haskell, Dale Melia and Dean Marks.

The first warming up event of the 1936 season was a triangular meet at Burwell in which Taylor forced Ord to second place. In a quadrangle meet at St. Paul, Ord took first with many points to spare. At the Loup Valley Championship meet at Burwell, Taylor again proved itself stronger than Ord. In the first annual Mid Six Conference meet which was held in Ord on May 1, Ord won after a trip and tuck race with Arcadia. The Chanticleers also took part in an invitational meet held in Albia where they won the relay team trophy and made a very good showing against such schools as Norfolk.

Records Established.

In the first annual Mid Six conference track meet several Ord men took first places to set the following records: Gerald Clark, mile, 5:00.3; Charles Cetak, 100 yard dash, 11.00; Charles Cetak, 220 yard dash, 24.7; Gerald Clark, 880 yard run, 2:13.3; Clay Nelson, high jump, 5 ft. 6 1-4 inches; Nelson, Cetak, Koelling, Jones, half-mile relay, 1:38.3.

The final standings of the Mid Six Meet were as follows: Ord, 41; Arcadia, 38; Broken Bow 27; St. Paul 9; Loup City, 8; and Ravenna 3. Hal J. Bowers of Lincoln served as starter for this meet.

"Plenty of Meets"—Brockman.

Although no exact dates have been set for meets which the Chanticleers will attend and compete in this year have been announced Coach Brockman says that Ord's tracksters will be kept busy as "plenty of meets" are being scheduled. Arcadia high school, runners-up in the Mid Six conference last year will probably be a number of lettermen reporting back to the line-up. Taylor will probably be back with another strong team this year, however, it is doubted whether they can come up to the last year's standard.

Sport Shorts.

Well, well, we hear some of the Ord boys got struck with the betting fever while at Lincoln for the state basketball championship finals. We also heard that their fever came to an abrupt halt when they saw the size of some of the "bettors" bankrolls!

Track boys report that its been rather cold to go outside in their abbreviated suits for workouts. Don't give up hope, boys—Old Sol will be here for a permanent stay soon.

Scanning over the Loup Valley track records we see that Ord holds only one record in the senior division. It'll take some jumper to go over the 20 foot, 3/4 inch broad jump record that Leonard Greathouse set in the 1935 meet.

Two fellows by the name of Bird and Cetak did some fine work in past Loup Valley junior high meets to give Ord a monopoly on the junior division records. Cetak holds records in the 50 yd. dash, shot put, and discus throw events; Bird, in 1932, set records in the 100 yd. dash, pole vault, and high jump events.

Certainly lots of boys planning to get in a little fishing during their spring vacation. Even if they have to fish through the ice—they say they're still going fishing!

One of the local old-timers gives the following advice on the fishing question: the very first warm day that comes along, get a supply of fish worms and kernal corn, the old rod and reel and hike to your favorite fishin' hole. If you don't make a whoppin' big catch of red horse, suckers and carp, why.....try again.

Because of the change of channels in the Loup river near and around Ord, they say catfishing will be on the up and up this year.

Coach will be issuing football equipment to all the spring footballers soon, and then the fun will start. Ord shouldn't have such a bad team next year. Think it over. Ditto for basketball.

It always seems that the football season is about twice as long as the basketball season. Why?

One subject is being discussed very much, pro and con, in the local school. The big question is—How can we get a new trophy case? Everyone is agreed that a new case is needed, but how to get it is a horse of a different color.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Eggs are so useful to the cook and find their way into so many dishes that go to the table, and yet new ways to use them are still turning up. Of course they are a standby with people who do not wish to eat meat during Lent.

Easter Salad.
 Boil six eggs until they are hard, peel and put in vinegar to stand overnight. The next morning take eggs from the vinegar, drain well. Prepare one box of lemon gelatine, let cool until it is like syrup. Place eggs upright in a mold and pour the gelatine over them. Set aside to thicken. To serve, cut in portions so that an egg centers each one. Put on a lettuce leaf, garnish with dressing.

Delma E. Moser.
Chicken Loaf.
 Mix together two cups cooked, minced chicken, one-half cup bread crumbs, one tablespoon chopped pimento, one tablespoon minced onion, two eggs, one-half teaspoon salt, one tablespoon minced celery or one-half teaspoon celery seed, one teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Pack in a greased loaf pan, brush top with cream dot with butter, bake forty-five minutes in a rather slow oven.

Orange Raisin Cake.
 Beat together one cup sugar, one-half cup butter, one egg, one cup sour milk in which one teaspoon soda has been dissolved. Put in one cup raisins, and one orange which have been ground together. Then add two and one-half cups flour and three-fourths teaspoon baking powder, beat for a minute. Bake in a long cake pan or in a loaf, for forty-five minutes in a slow oven.

Mrs. H. Ridge, Stoney Creek, Ontario, Canada.
Breaded Pork Chops.
 Pound pork chops like you would tough beef steak, dip them into bread crumbs which have been browned in the oven, rolled very fine, season with salt and pepper. Fry over a slow fire until done, let cool. Then add top milk and bake in a moderate oven for three-fourths of an hour. Keep them covered while baking.

Rosanna Rahmeyer.
Hawaiian Fruit Pie.
 Heat two cups milk in a double boiler. Add three-fourths cup sugar, one-fourth teaspoon salt three tablespoons cornstarch well stirred together previously. Then stir in three beaten egg yolks, cook until thick and take from the fire. Add two tablespoons butter, two tablespoons lemon juice, one and one-half cups grated pineapple, one cup cocoanut and cool. Pour into a baked pie shell. Top with a meringue made by folding six tablespoons sugar into three stiffly beaten egg whites. Brown in the oven.

Mrs. Charlie Huebner, Dannebrog.
 Please send in your rhubarb recipes now, as it is nearly that season when we will want to use that tart spring fruit again.

Little Stories About People You Know

Thirty-five years ago athletics existed under difficulties in the Ord high school, as well as others throughout central Nebraska. The rule in those days was that the work must be made up before you could compete in any contest, and when the baseball team, basketball team or track team wanted to go away from home the boys had to pay their own expenses. In spite of these handicaps the school developed some real athletes, and it was not a one man team at any time. To be lacking in athletic prowess was looked upon as a disgrace, and every man, no matter how built, endeavored to make a showing in the athletic field.

One of the boys who was not constructed along athletic lines was Irl Tolen. He was too short in the legs for the runs and the jumps, and did not have the necessary ranginess for a weight man. He had the nerve to try, but with a number of better equipped athletes in the game he failed to get anywhere. Nevertheless he was always practicing, especially in the running high jump. In those days people would bring their youngsters to school in buggies, and a hitchrack was maintained in front of the old north school for those who wanted to tie their horses.

It was directly in front of the walk leading out from the school building, and had a heavy cross piece on top of several posts. The horses had chewed this until the top was a mass of splinters. One noon as the boys and girls came marching out from the school house all the jumpers took a run and jumped over this cross bar, which was about 4 1/2 feet high. Of course all the good jumpers cleared it with ease. Irl was walking with a young lady who dared him to try it, so Tolen let his legs run away with his good judgment. With a mighty effort he made it, barely sliding over the top. I walked down town with him, and thought he acted rather preoccupied. When we got down in front of the doctor's office, Irl said, "I guess I'd better go in here." "When I slid over that bar I picked up a splinter two inches long," I told him to let it go, as nobody would notice it, but he said, "Maybe they won't, but I sure as thunder do."

School Notes

By LaVerne Lakin

Ord high school will act as hosts to a large number of central Nebraska towns on Tuesday, March 23, when the sub-district declamatory contest will be held. Schools eligible to enter the competition include Spaulding, Greeley, Wolbach, Arcadia, Scotia, North Loup and a number of others.

As usual, the speakers will appear on the afternoon program while the one-act plays will feature the evening's bill. A small admission is to be charged.

Ord will be represented in all divisions of the contest except the extemporaneous speaking event. Selections and contestants who will represent Ord are as follows: "As a Grain of Mustard Seed," Joy Loft; "The Man Who Laughed," Virginia Sack; "They Grind Exceedingly Small," Barbara Dale; "Social Security," by Richard Burrows.

A contest play will also be presented by the Ord dramatics department, "With the Help of Pierrett," a one-act comedy being chosen. The tentative cast: Punchedello, Laverne Lakin; Columbine, Armona Beth Achen; Harlequin, Barbara Dale; Pierrett, Eleanor Wolf.

Plans are being made for the Loup Valley Activities Association play day which will be held in Ord on Monday, April 5. Towns who have been invited to attend include Sargent, Comstock, Loup City, Dannebrog, St. Paul, Burwell, Taylor, Arcadia, North Loup and Scotia.

Miss Ellen Servine, Ord high school dramatics coach, read the play "Pier Pan" at the Presbyterian church last Friday. The program was sponsored by the Presbyterian Missionary Society.

School is being dismissed for two days this week, Thursday and Friday, for the official "spring vacation." Classes will be resumed on Monday, March 22.

The eighth history class is studying the history of our tariff and immigration problems. The sophomore English is studying a play, "As You Like It." Geometry classes are studying ratio and proportion problems. English eight is studying the poem, "Evangeline." Translation of "El Capitain Veneno" is taking place in the Spanish twelve class. At present the sophomore home economics classes are cooking, but they plan to start sewing on their spring dresses by the first of April. The shop class is busy making many useful articles such as smoking cabinets, corner shelves, end tables, book cases, kitchen stools, sewing cabinets, and magazine holders. The French Revolution is being studied by the American history classes. Related science classes are beginning a unit on chemistry in the home. Senior English is studying one-act plays and modern authors. The biology class is studying different types of soil.

Another of the musical convocations were given last Friday afternoon. The program was made up as follows: a soprano solo, "Il Bascio," by Arditi was sung by Dorothy Able; tenor solo, "Where E'er You Go" by Wandel, sung by Leonard Sobon; three selections, "Fairy Pipers," "Calm Be Thy Sleep," and "The Lord is My Shepherd" were given by the girls glee club.

The "Thespan Four," a boys' quartette with Leonard Sobon, LaVerne Duemey, Laverne Lakin and Jack Janssen sang at a Professional Women's dinner-meeting at Thorne's cafe Thursday evening.

Lectured in Massachusetts. An Ord man who is helping to bring fame to Ord, and incidentally making his own name known in professional circles over the United States, is Dr. George R. Parkins. He returned last week from Springfield, Mass., where he lectured to a large group of optometrists, and about April 1 will return to the east coast for another lecture. The reading work which he originated and developed in cooperation with M. D. Bell, then superintendent of Ord schools, is now being used in the schools of Southbridge, Mass., Dartmouth University, city schools of Omaha and East Texas Teachers' college. Dr. Parkins acts in an advisory capacity in each of these projects.

granted an On Sale retail beer license to sell beer in the said City on the following described property, to-wit: One story frame building, sixe 26x14 located on south 20 feet of lot 4, Block 13, Original townsite.

A hearing on said Application will be held in the Council Chamber in the City Hall on the 22nd day of March, 1937, at 8:00 o'clock P. M., at which time the Mayor and Council of said City will receive competent evidence, under oath, either orally or by affidavit, bearing on the propriety of issuing such license.

Dated at Ord, Nebraska, this 15th day of March, 1937.

Attest: Rex Jewett, City Clerk. G. B. Flagg, Mayor.

A. R. McClimans was down from Burwell in the interests of the Bisher sand trap Saturday. He had a pocket model which he was showing, and which seemed to have what it takes to keep the sand from filling up the head of an irrigation ditch. He expected to show it to the officials at the irrigation office but Mr. Dummire was out of town. He will come back later.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

When I referred to George Parkins the other day as "Doc" the Missus called me down. You should say "Doctor," he probably won't like to be called "Doc." Well I replied, I have known him for forty years and I am almost old enough to be his grandfather and if I happen to say "Doc" to him and he don't like it, he will just have to lump it. Just because he had got to be a big shot in the spectacle business and runs all over the U. S. lecturing, is no reason why I have got to get bifalutin when I talk to or about him.

Those nice, warm days sure did make my fingers itch to get hold of my steel casting rod or the pike boat rod and drop a nice chub minnow down to the gravel or the pike bar out in Upper Cullen. The season opens on the 15th and unless Ray writes me that the ice is not out yet, I am going to be there trying my luck about that time.

Sheriff Round is a great corree drinker and about his time the other day, he was drinking a cup at the Thorne Cafe. A lady rushed in and ordered a cup of coffee a few moments before bus leaving time and was not able to drink it because it was so hot. She was nervous, kept watching the bus office and finally George, always courteous, pushed his coffee over toward her and said, "Here, lady, it is about bus time and my coffee is all sauced and blowed; I will swap with you."

Lots of folks are funny and I guess we are all a little queer. I heard an auto horn honking almost continuously for fifteen or twenty minutes one day last week, to the great annoyance of scores of people. Finally I discovered that a woman and kid were sitting in an old wreck of a car on the main street and the kid was making the horn talk. If her purpose was to attract attention she surely accomplished the purpose by allowing the kid to do his stuff but if she could have heard the adverse comments that people made she would surely have realized that she was not doing anything smart.

As I sit here in my office looking out of the window toward the city hall, several autos drive up and begin disgorging their loads of surveyors and rodmen and chainmen with their maps and instrument cases. Their day's work on the irrigation ditch survey is finished. And as I watch those young fellows unload and guy each other as they carry their paraphernalia up to the office, my thoughts go back to the year 1895 when I was helping on the same kind of a job. Engineer E. M. Rohrbaugh was the engineer on the preliminary survey which we were making; I was rodman, I forget who the others of the gang were but I recall that we had high hopes then that the waters of the North Loup river would be harnessed to water the rich acres of this valley. And all down through the years since I have dreamed that some day we would get irrigation here and now it looks like the dream might come true and I am hoping that too many of us oldsters who worked then for irrigation, may not be taken by the grim reaper before we are allowed to see the dream come true. In those days we didn't dash out to our work in the morning and back in the evening in nice shiny cars. A part of the time George Millard who used to live in Springdale, drove us with a span of horses and a lumber wagon. Later Harve Potter was our teamster and his ponies and spring wagon were a welcome change from the more cumbersome vehicle which we started with. Later H. I. Rogers was our chariot driver and his team consisted of a bay mare and a dun colored mule, but we got there just the same. The first two drivers have gone to their reward and no doubt are watching our efforts to get irrigation from on high. We got paid for our work with district warrants but they were far below par when it came to trading them for clothing, board and room, etc., and but for the great interest that G. W. Milford had in the matter of irrigation, we would have been in hard lines. He was a hundred per cent back of the proposition however, and cashed a part of our warrants and though he did discount them some I think he finally had to take a considerable loss on his investment.

Jots in Jest.

CAPITOL workmen cut down a tree on the Supreme Court building grounds the other day, which indicates, perhaps, that it was past 70.

Boston telephone subscribers can now talk into a phone which, through a recording tape, repeats conversation. This is no improvement at all on the party line.

Historian suggests that this is the sidown era, meaning, probably, that the American workingman still isn't back on his feet.

Vermont hen lays four-yolked eggs, each about three inches long, proving, doubtless, that rugged individualism still exists in America.

That fellow who wrote a book answering any trailer question, failed to answer that one about how to park within five miles of the shopping district.

As a matter of fact, if the president is to be allowed to name to the supreme court men who will surely do his bidding, why not do away with the court and save that expense and let the president decide all matters. He would be no less a dictator doing that than he would be were he to appoint a court that would ask him how to decide cases.

One of the sure results of the many strikes now in progress in many lines of industry, will be to spur work on improved machinery so take the place of human labor. Some strikes, possibly in the manufacture of clothing, hostelry, etc., may be justified on account of the wages being paid, but the steel strikes, the automotive strikes and strikes in similar lines, are not and the claim is not made that a wage increase is the objective sought.

You have been out sometimes on a cold night and heard a coyote making a terrible noise and sometimes it sounded like half a hundred of the animals had turned loose to bark all at once. And that is the way it is with one or two misguided men who have been arrested and fined for violation of the safety laws. And I just want to warn business men not to pay too much attention to what some such offender says. Most of those arrested frankly admit their guilt and look at the matter fairly. After all it is not a heinous crime and only those who make chumps of themselves instead of taking the matter philosophically, are real lawbreakers. For most of them it was a thoughtless breaking of the law and probably will not be repeated. Investigation of those who kick up a big stink about it will, in most cases, show that they are lawlessly inclined and such people need curbing. The authorities in this case are doing a duty already too long deferred and are entitled to and should have the backing of every decent citizen.

Lawmakers do seem to have lots of time to have fun, between thinking up new laws, revising old ones, and quibbling with one another.

In Kansas the solons have consumed 333 barrels of apples this winter and that does not mention the oranges, and bananas they have eaten. Doctors should be miles away from that state house.

It seems that if a lawmaker appears in a red necktie his fellow representatives immediately inform him he owes one barrel of apples for munching purposes. And if the apple situation gets acute and no man wears a red tie so that he may be so penalized, the solons jump some poor fellow, inquire why he is not wearing a red tie, fine him one barrel of good eating apples regardless!

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Makes a Difference. I never borrow money yet but what I think of the old adage, "He who goes borrowing goes sorrowing." And there has been no one so borrowing more than I. I cannot help but think that that man who never borrows is the most happy. But that man is hard to find in these parts. Nearly all of us are distressingly in debt, so deeply in the mire that with good crops and good luck it will take years to pay out.

I am a close friend of a man who has kept relatively free from debt, not having experienced the throes of financial statements, securities, chattels, abstracts and the like. A few months ago he wanted to borrow a small amount of money and had to give his team as security. That was the first time he had ever had to encumber his team and he thought that was the last straw.

In desperate need of the money he mortgaged that team. He has worried continually over that mortgage and that team until he began to feel that the team were aware of the fact and were slow and sluggish with their work. A few days ago this man received his soil conservation check and he at once hurried and paid his note.

I met him coming down the road, the team pulling on the bits, a broad smile on his face. "Why all the good cheer?" I asked. "There has been no rain." And then he pointed out how the team was acting and he was sure it was because the plaster had been peeled off.

An Idea. The trip to Lincoln to try to impress on the legislature the importance of an experimental station in this valley was a noble enterprise to say the least. The idea was that the bigger the delegation the more would be the impression made.

Of course we cannot help what has been done but a little thought and planning for another such trip might save a lot of expense and time. If one carload of men would go a few hours before time to appear before the committee, and hire a bunch of loafers to gang in to the governor's office and clap at the proper time, yes, if each were paid a dollar, the same impression would be made and the governor and senators would never know the difference.

Now there's an idea for some enterprising fellow to establish a business. I'll not charge anything this time for the suggestion.

Random Thoughts. Some fellow said that next year would be better whether it rained or not. If it rained of course it would be better. If it didn't there will have to be aid sent in and that would make it better.

And Elno Hurley gave a definition of love, just as, if he knows more about that general subject than the rest of us. Well, here it is, "Inward inexpressibility. Outward all overness."

On the Jimmie Whiting place in Springdale are two small houses. Jack VanCleave lived there and lived in one house and slept in the other. And so Jack said, "When we went to bed we had to put on our overcoats and overshoes and pull down our ear flappers." That seemed rather strange for my wife usually made me at least take off my overshoes.

I never borrow money yet but what I think of the old adage, "He who goes borrowing goes sorrowing." And there has been no one so borrowing more than I.

Juicy Federal Plums May Become Lemons if Merit Bill Passes

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—When the president's reorganization bill comes out of the joint House and Senate committee where hearings are being held on the tentative draft, a lot of debate will center on the proposed extension of civil service to all federal agencies.

General civil service would mean a tremendous saving to taxpayers who now are supporting thousands of inefficient and useless political jobholders. But congressmen are reluctant to yield a single plum which is theirs to garner in the patronage shatecropper system.

Many New Deal measures are now being introduced which, if passed, will increase the patronage yield.

A new bill sponsored by Senator Wagner (Dem., N. Y.) calls for expenditure of a billion dollars on low-cost housing and specifies that the proposed Housing Authority may appoint without regard to civil service or the Classification Act "such officers, attorneys, and experts and . . . such skilled and unskilled labor as may be necessary for the prompt performance of its duties."

Some of the older and sounder members of Congress are tired of serving as personal employment agencies, and do it only because their fate in elections back home depends more often on jobs they get for their constituents than on how well they do their own jobs in Washington.

OFFICIALS who have had long experience in dealing with plum-pickers think they may not put up much of a fight against this feature of the reorganization bill, for the reason that what seems to motivate the average congressman is the fear that some member may get more juicy jobs than he.

It is expected that even the most ardent administrators may revolt against that part of the reorganization bill that gives the president greatly increased control over all executive departments.

Of the control Congress now has over the chief executive, almost none is left to that body, in the tentative draft of the bill, but the power to make or deny appropriations. If the bill reaches the Senate as the president's experts have written it, members probably will protest loudly over the proposal that only a few top appointments will have Senate confirmation.

Abolition of the comptroller general's office, mentioned in the president's public report on reorganization, still is in the bill before the joint committee. As it is now, Congress has control over executive expenditures through pre-audits made by that office. The president proposes to create, as a substitute, the office of auditor general and a system of post-audits which would be reported to Congress. It is doubtful if Congress will be pleased by this gesture.

ANOTHER controversial section of the original draft conferred upon the president the continuing power to reorganize after investigation the several agencies of government, by transfer, consolidation, segregation, establishment, and abolition of agencies and functions. This part of the bill proved such a bombshell in the committee hearings that it has been modified by the addition of two new sub-sections.

It isn't known at this time how many compromises the president is prepared to make when the bill meets open congressional opposition.

Probably what Roosevelt will find it most difficult to sell Congress will be the proposals to make new grants of power to himself continuing ones, and to exempt all but a handful of top appointments from Senate confirmation. And perhaps the proposal he will find it easiest to make Congress accept will be the proposed establishment of two new departments, of Public Works and Public Welfare.

and he got to showing me his old guns. He has a nice collection as well as Geo. Bartz and Dan Cook.

National Affairs.

I do not know as it is in place for me in a local paper to comment on national affairs. The field is so broad that I might fill the whole paper. I have attempted to make this column of more local interest, something that one does not get in other papers.

There is so much talking about the revamping of the Supreme Court that nearly everyone is talking of it. Little difference can be seen in a court of nine members or fifteen. Few people object to the idea of men over seventy giving their place to younger men. That is done in all walks of life. But the real trouble is not solved yet. There would be seven to eight decisions the same as a four to five. And how do we know but in a few years we would have an ultra conservative president and this new court of progressives would veto all his measures?

It immerses down to the fact that our President wants to appoint a Supreme Court that shall pass his measures and when he gets that much power added to power he already has, his conscience will be his only restraint. We want to remember that Hitler and Mussolini got their hold a little at a time.

Wallace for President.

All of us who raise eggs and attempt to sell them at a profit over the price of the hens' feed must remember and cast our vote for Secretary Wallace for President next time, that is if Roosevelt does not run for a third term.

The price of eggs was sliding, sliding, sliding, from thirty cents to five or ten perhaps as they do usually, when Secretary Wallace came to the rescue. He bought a few million dollars worth of eggs for relief and stopped the slide at seventeen and it has remained there ever since. Seventeen is hardly enough to pay a profit above the feed but it is better than ten.

M. E. Getter Writes.

M. E. Getter writes thanking the Quiz for the story about him in a recent issue. He says the story was fairly correct, but that Dr. Geo. R. Gard was in error in giving his birthplace as Nova Scotia. He was born in Masonville, Delaware county, New York. He also says that he hopes to make a trip to the North Loup valley when our irrigation system is completed and here is hoping he is able to do so.

As John Saw Crucifixion

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 21. Text: John 19:4-9, 14-18, 25-30

HISTORY has had many crucifixions. The crucifixion of Jesus is not unique in history, in the fact or manner of His death. Two men, in fact, were crucified with Jesus, one on His right hand, and one on the left. Nor does the uniqueness of the crucifixion of Jesus lie entirely in His innocence. Other men, innocent of charges against them, have been executed.

What does make the crucifixion of Jesus unique and significant as the most tragic and challenging event of all history is the purpose of His death, the yielding of Himself to die in fulfillment of a mission of love and redemption.

It was the supreme goodness of Jesus, revealing in His earthly life the divinity of a God of love, and revealing in His death the fullness of the divine sacrifice that men might know the richness of grace, and be drawn toward God's redeeming love.

COULD Jesus have avoided the cross? We cannot tell. There seemed a point in His life where the temptation to seek avoiding it was almost overwhelming. At the beginning of His ministry, there were temptations to turn from His divine mission to some scheme of earthly conquest or vain glory. The devil had lured Him with a vision of all the kingdoms of the world and the power that He might exercise over them.

At a later stage, there must have been an occasional temptation to lead a popular movement of revolt, such as many Jews wanted. And then, during the hour in the garden of Gethsemane, there came the earnest, agonizing prayer that, if it were possible, the cup might pass. It was too late. The hour of destiny had come, but it did not find an unwilling victim. Deeply in that spiritual conflict Jesus had triumphed.

In His anguish, He had said, "Nevertheless, not as I will, but as Thou wilt." The words that some had mockingly said of Him as He hung on the cross, "He saved others, Himself He cannot save," were literally true. It was the last supreme sacrifice of love and devotion to the truth.

FOR us the spiritual reality of the crucifixion depends to some extent upon the vividness with which we are able to reproduce the scene. In our contemplation of the suffering victims on the crosses, the Master and the two thieves, we perhaps are apt to forget that, standing by the cross among other women, was His mother.

Can we think of what that means? Mary, in the fullness and richness of her love, had followed her son even to the last agony. What deep and striking troubles she had experienced since the days when wise men had come honoring her newborn babe, and she had pondered all these things, and kept them in her heart."

But motherly devotion had stood the test of the years, and there could hardly have been an anguish of the cross deeper than the anguish of the mother who stood by her suffering son.

There is tenderness and beauty in the thought of Jesus for His mother as He turned to John and said, "Woman, behold thy son."

The most human picture of the crucifixion is this in John's Gospel, and the significance of the divine event, the tragedy of glory, is made all the more real in its human setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cooley of Chicago spent last Sunday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Round. Mr. Cooley is traveling salesman for office supplies and while working in Lincoln drove up to Arcadia for a brief visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Round received a telephone call from Mrs. Hal Cooley of Minneapolis that a son arrived at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Mayland. Mrs. Mayland was formerly Donna Cooley. Mr. and Mrs. Mayland have a little girl five years old.

Mrs. Belle Valette left Tuesday on the train from Grand Island, for Muscatine, Ia., for an extended visit with her sister. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill and two sons spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie John. The bank examiner worked Tuesday and Wednesday in the First National Bank.

A rather lucky accident happened early Sunday morning when six young people were returning home from Comstock. At the corner by Elmer Wibbel's home a wheel came off of William Bulger's car as he was driving home with the young folks. All the glass was broken as the car went over and the end split open. Ada Russell and Mildred Easterbrook escaped from the opening. Elmer Wibbel took the young folks in town to the office of Dr. Joe Baird for an examination but none of them was seriously hurt except for a few cuts and bruises. Those who were in the car were William Bulger, Mildred Easterbrook, Ada Russell, Doris Valette, Freda Milburn and Gerald Murray.

Edwin Youngquist left the first of the week for Kansas City where he will be for about three months. Mesdames Lillie Bly, Apa Hyatt, Dean Whitman, Lyle Lutz and C. C. Weddel were Grand Island visitors Tuesday.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A warning of impending drouth and grasshopper plagues was expressed by Agronomist Frolk at the Ord Corn Show last Saturday. Since no moisture has been stored up in the soil during the fall or winter, he declared that the land is going to need more than normal rainfall from now on if there is to be a harvest this year.

He recommended that each farmer plant about ten acres of some drouth resistant crop, preferably sorghum.

Kalo sorghum threshed out 25 bushels per acre at North Platte last summer, Frolk stated, when corn in adjoining fields was a total failure. He went on to explain that corn is ruined if hot winds come at silking time, but that sorghum can stand dormant through dry spells and resume their growth later on if rains come.

The grain sorghums are about 90 percent as good as corn for livestock, and better than corn for poultry. They are more of a growing feed, being higher in protein than corn, but lower in carbohydrates. They are planted like corn and harvested with a binder.

When a forage crop is desired, Alvin Frolk advised farmers to plant Atlas sorghum. Atlas will produce twice as many tons of silage per acre as corn. Frolk added that the genuine Atlas is rather costly and hard to get. Many poorer kinds are being sold on the market as Atlas. He handed out a list of Nebraska farmers who have the genuine certified varieties of sorghums and other crops.

Cheyenne sorghum was mentioned by Frolk as a good general purpose variety for both grain and forage. He also stated that Sudan grass, another sorghum, will be widely planted for pasture, and that about one farmer in twenty will lose animals from poisoning on Sudan grass.

Do Ordites Want Bonds Issued For A Swimming Pool?

from the electric fund for the city's share, if the WPA application was granted. WPA officials assured the city they would "have the application approved within two weeks." Building the pool during fall and winter months would furnish much labor when it was needed and assure the pool being ready for the summer of 1937, councilmen thought.

Accordingly, application for a WPA project was made in September. Nothing more was heard about the application until late December, when WPA representatives appeared before the council and said they were ready to start work on the project. "But," they said "the federal WPA program may be discontinued January 15 and if you start it now with our help and our money runs out you'll have to go ahead and finish it with your own funds."

The pool, according to WPA estimates, would cost $21,000, of which the city was to pay $8,800 and the WPA $12,200. All of the city's share and $2,200 of the WPA's share would go for materials, the balance of WPA's share for labor. Feeling that WPA labor estimates were too high in view of the fact that WPA would not guarantee to see the job through, city councilmen declined the proposition.

Right now the WPA has made the city exactly the same proposition again. The city must put up $8,800, for a pool to cost $21,000. The same "but" still exists, however. With irrigation work starting, the WPA may not have enough labor to finish the job since PWA has priority over WPA on available labor. And if the city signs up with WPA and starts the job it will be obligated to complete it at city expense if the WPA falls down.

Therefore, faced with a possibility that the city might have to defray all or most of the cost of building the pool, city officials decided to sound out public sentiment before going any farther.

To secure a pool it may be necessary to issue only the original $8,800 in bonds but to assure funds for completing the job once it is started, should the WPA be unable to furnish its share of labor, city officials want to know how people will feel about issuing a great total of $16,000. It may be possible to get the pool in as a WPA project in which event cost to the city will not be so great. And it might be possible to build a good pool, with the city paying the entire cost, for as little as $12,000. Architect McClure, who has conferred with city officials about it, believes a pool could be built for $13,000. But not as a WPA project.

Councilmen feel that the electric fund should not be called on to pay entire cost of a pool that will be used by all taxpayers; furthermore, with a rate reduction scheduled it is not likely that the electric fund will continue to build up a surplus.

There the swimming pool plan stands at present, so far as the Quiz can learn. If people want to see a pool built they should vote "yes" at the city election April 6. If sentiment is fairly evenly divided or in favor of a pool, Mayor Flagg promises that the city will get a definite proposition outlined and call a special election for the purpose of voting bonds, probably in June or July. If sentiment at the April election is strongly against a pool the whole project will, in all probability, be abandoned.

The pool being considered is 82½x45 feet in size, with a wading pool for children at one end, and the site being considered is in Bussett park east of the road.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

NORTH LOUP RIVER PUBLIC POWER AND IRRIGATION DISTRICT

MAIN LINE CANALS STRUCTURES AND APPURTENANCES

P. W. A. Docket 1751-PP-D

Sealed proposals will be received at the office of the Engineer-Manager for the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, at Ord, Nebraska, until 9:00 A. M. (C. S. T.) on the 9th day of April, 1937, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened, read and considered by the Board of Directors of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Owner, for furnishing all materials, labor, plant and equipment necessary for the construction of State Highway Structures over Main Line Canals and structures and appurtenances in connection with irrigation canals on the following sections:

- Section I. Diversions Works.
- Section II. Siphons, Flumes and Pipe Drops.
- Section III. Miscellaneous Concrete Structures.
- Section IV. Timber Bridges, Farm Crossings and Cross Drainage Structures on:
 - A. Ord-North Loup Main Line Canal
 - B. Taylor-Ord Main Line Canal
 - C. Burwell-Sumter Main Line Canal

Separate Contract for State Highway Crossings.

In accordance with the plans and specifications on file in the office of the Engineer-Manager in the City Hall at Ord, Nebraska.

All bids shall be made on forms approved by the Owner, copies of which may be obtained from the Engineer-Manager or from the Consulting Engineers, Black & Veatch, 4706 Broadway, Kansas City, Missouri. The complete contract documents, consisting of the specifications, instructions to bidders, proposal forms, bond form, contract stipulations and agreement, may be examined at the office of E. H. Dunmire, Engineer-Manager or at the office of the Consulting Engineers; a copy of the plans, specifications and contract documents may be obtained by the prospective bidders from the Engineer-Manager at Ord, Nebraska on deposit of the sum of $50.00 for all canal structures and $25.00 for State Highway Structures. The full amount of the deposit for one set of documents will be returned to each actual bidder on the return of the set of documents within a reasonable time after the receipt of bids; other deposits, less $30.00 on canal structures and less $10.00 on State Highway Structures, will be refunded upon the return of all documents in good condition within thirty days after the date of opening bids as stipulated above.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check on a solvent bank or an acceptable bidder's bond with an authorized Surety Company, in an amount of five per cent (5%) of the total bid, which may be retained until a contract for the project shall have been awarded. Bid checks and bonds will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders when their bids are rejected; the bid check or bond of the successful bidder will be returned when a satisfactory performance bond is approved by the Owner.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty days from the date set for the opening thereof.

The work to be done under this contract is a part of a project financed under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 administered by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

The award of the contract shall not be effective until it has been approved by the Owner. The Bond shall be in an amount of 100% of the Contract.

All concrete pipe shall be manufactured in a plant or plants located within the boundaries of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

The District reserves the right to omit the Construction of Structures ONL 2.48 and ONL 2.71 from Contract No. 4.

The Contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, but the Board of Directors of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Owner, reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive informalities in bids.

The North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Owner

Mr. Zajicek was a pleasant Quiz visitor Monday, coming in to renew his paper for another year and told us he had his oats all planted and was just choring around and marking time now till corn planting time.

Car Leaves Bridge West of Burwell Sunday, Falls 15 Feet; Driver and Friend Unhurt

Driving west out of Burwell at about 2:30 a. m. Sunday, a coupe driven by Martin Malmstien with Vernon Bose as companion went through the north railing at the east end of the Loup river bridge, fell fifteen feet, and landed on its side in the edge of the river. The men opened the left hand door, which was uppermost and climbed out without a scratch and without even getting wet. Further, when the car was pulled out on the road again it was ready to run, the only damage apparent being to the fenders on the left side. How any car could make such a jump with no worse injury to car or occupants is a mystery. Mr. Malmstien is a son of the man who with J. C. Penney, started the chain stores that now operate under the name of J. C. Penney company.

Ordinance No. 107.
 AN ORDINANCE granting to The Aksarben Natural Gas Company, a Nebraska corporation, its successors and assigns, the right, permission and authority to construct, maintain and operate a gas transmission and distribution system including mains, pipes, conduits, services and other appliances, in, under, upon, over, across and along the streets, alleys, bridges and public places within the present and future corporate limits of the Municipality of Ord, Nebraska, for the furnishing, transmission, distribution and sale of gas for lighting, heating, domestic, industrial and other uses, in said Municipality and elsewhere; limiting the term of said grant and prescribing the terms and conditions under which said Company may operate; fixing maximum rates to be charged in said Municipality and reserving the right to terminate the grant for failure to commence construction within the period allowed therefor.

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL OF THE CITY OF ORD, NEBRASKA:

SECTION 1. That in consideration of the benefits to be derived by the Municipality of Ord, Nebraska, and its inhabitants from the installation and operation of a gas distribution system in said Municipality, there be and hereby are granted to The Aksarben Natural Gas Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of Nebraska, its successors and assigns (hereinafter collectively referred to as "Grantee"), the right, permission and authority to construct, maintain and operate a gas transmission and distribution system within the limits of said Municipality, as the same now exist or may hereafter be extended, for a period of twenty-five (25) years from and after the date of final passage of this Ordinance; and for said purpose there are hereby further granted to Grantee the right, permission and authority during said period to lay, install, construct, maintain and operate in, under, upon, over, across and along all of the streets, alleys, bridges and public places within the present and future corporate limits of said Municipality, all mains, pipes, conduits, services and appliances necessary or convenient for the furnishing, transmitting, distributing and sale of natural gas, and for transmitting natural gas into, through and beyond the limits of said Municipality to other cities, villages and customers; it being understood and agreed that this franchise is not exclusive.

SECTION 2. That all mains, pipes and services laid or installed under this grant shall be so located and laid as not to obstruct or interfere with any water pipes, drains, sewers or other structures already installed, and all such mains, services and pipes shall be installed subject to approval of the Committee on Streets and Alleys or other authorized representatives of said Municipality.

GRANTEE, in doing any work in connection with said mains, pipes and services shall avoid, so far as practicable, interfering with the use of any street, alley or public place, and where the paving or surface of any street, alley or public place is disturbed, Grantee, at its own expense and in a manner satisfactory to the authorized representatives of said Municipality shall replace such paving or surface in as good condition as before such work was commenced.

In event that any time hereafter said Municipality shall lawfully elect to change or alter the grade of any street, alley or public place, Grantee, upon being directed by resolution of the Mayor and Council of said Municipality so to do, shall, where the same shall become necessary by reason of such change of grade, at its cost re-lay said mains, pipes or services.

SECTION 3. The grantee shall complete the construction and installation of its said distribution system and be ready to supply natural gas to consumers in said City within 18 months from the date this Ordinance takes effect and if grantee fails to comply strictly with this provision, the Mayor and Council of said City at any time after said date and during the continuance of such default, may cancel and annul this franchise by passing a repealing Ordinance for that purpose, and thereupon this franchise and each and all of the contractual provisions hereof shall be null and void. Provided, however, that there shall be added to such period any time reasonably lost due to litigation instituted by others or due to the action of the City, or its officials or other governmental body having jurisdiction or due to strikes or other causes beyond the grantee's control but no delay resulting from any of said causes shall operate to extend said time unless the grantee shall file with the Clerk of said City on or prior to the expiration of 18 months from the date this Ordinance takes effect, a statement in writing setting forth the dates and duration of any delay which it claims and specific cause thereof.

Picture of the Week

These two pictures submitted by Clarence Pierson might almost be printed under the heading "winter and summer in Springdale" for both were taken in the community where Mr. Pierson lives, one during the snowplow season and the other during dead of winter. In the upper view is shown a snowplow driven by Ed Anderson, clearing away some of those 3-foot drifts that blocked Springdale roads during January. The snowplow was constructed under Anderson's directions for the Valley county highway department at a cost of only $60 and does work as good as one of the factory-made plows that cost $1,000 or more. In the lower picture is shown one of the old style steam thrashing machines at work on a farm in Springdale. Few steam machines are still in use. Faces of the threshers will be familiar to most Quiz readers.

SECTION 4. Grantee shall have the right to make such reasonable rules and regulations in the conduct of its business as it may deem necessary or expedient. Grantee shall make such reasonable extensions of its mains from time to time, and shall install services to the curb line where mains are located in a street, and to property line where mains are located in an alley, as may be required to furnish service within said Municipality; therefore, but Grantee shall not be required to make any extensions for the purpose of serving any consumer or consumers which will require the installation of more than one hundred feet of main for each consumer to be served, nor where the estimated revenue to be derived from serving such consumer or consumers is not sufficient to show an adequate return upon the investment required to serve such consumer or consumers.

SECTION 5. Grantee shall file and make effective initially the schedule of rates for gas service set forth below, and shall furnish gas at such rates, or at such other reasonable, lawful, and valid rates (not higher than the schedule of rates set forth below) as may hereafter be established from time to time by Grantee, subject to approval of the proper body having jurisdiction over such rates for gas service by Grantee in said Municipality.

Schedule of Rates.
 Available to any customer using gas service at any one location:
 First 500 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 20c per 100 Cu. Ft.
 Next 1,500 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 15c per 100 Cu. Ft.
 Next 1,000 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 10c per 100 Cu. Ft.
 Next 7,000 Cu. Ft., per Mo., 60c per 1,000 Cu. Ft.
 Next 90,000 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 50c per 1,000 Cu. Ft.
 Next 100,000 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 40c per 1,000 Cu. Ft.
 Excess over 200,000 Cu. Ft. per Mo., 35c per 1,000 Cu. Ft.
MINIMUM
 The minimum monthly charge under this schedule shall be $1.00 per month per meter.

The foregoing rates are net and apply only when bills are paid on or before ten days after the monthly billing date. When not so paid, the gross rate, which is ten per cent higher than the above net rate will apply.

Grantee will not discriminate between consumers in the City of Ord and consumers in other Municipalities and shall put no rate in effect in any other Municipality which is lower than rates for like service in the city of Ord.

SECTION 6. Grantee shall furnish and install for its customers, and at its cost keep in repair, reliable meters. Grantee shall, at any time when requested in writing by any customer, upon the deposit of $1.50 by such customer, test the accuracy of the meter used by such customer.

If the meter is found to be more than three per cent (3%) high, Grantee will refund to such customer the One and 50-100 Dollars ($1.50) and adjust the customer's bill proportionately for the period of sixty days next preceding such test, unless the period of inaccuracy can be determined or agreed upon, in which case adjustment shall be for such period, but in no case shall any adjustment be made for a period exceeding sixty days immediately preceding such test. In event such meter is found to be not more than three per cent (3%) high, the One and 50-100 Dollars ($1.50) deposit shall be retained by Grantee to defray the expense of such test. Whenever at the request of a customer any gas meter is tested by Grantee, or any regulatory body having jurisdiction, to determine the accuracy with which said meter has been registering, the meter shall be considered as correct if found to have an average error of not more than three per cent (3%), and no adjustment of charges will be made unless the error is greater than three per cent (3%).

SECTION 7. Grantee in the construction of said gas transmission and distribution system within the limits of said Municipality shall use tested and approved pipes material and equipment.

SECTION 8. Grantee at all times will keep a map in the office of Grantee or of the Clerk of said Municipality, showing the size and location of its mains laid in its distribution system in said Municipality.

SECTION 9. That in case of the available supply of natural gas shall at any time fall or become insufficient to supply the needs of the public of said Municipality, or should Grantee by reason of termination of contracts or otherwise, be unable to furnish the service herein contemplated, or upon the termination of this franchise for any reason whatsoever Grantee shall have the right to remove any and all of its pipe, equipment, appliances and property from the streets, alleys, bridges and public places of said Municipality, but in such event Grantee shall restore other public places to as good condition as before such removal, and will hold said Municipality harmless from damage and expense incident to such removal.

SECTION 10. Grantee shall be required, and by acceptance hereof agrees, to save harmless said Municipality from and against all claims and demands, and from all loss and expense incurred as a result thereof, arising out of the negligence of Grantee in the laying, installing, removing, inspection or repair of any mains, pipes, services or appliances of Grantee, or in the use and operation thereof during the term of this Ordinance.

SECTION 11. This Ordinance and the rights, authority and franchise hereby granted shall terminate and be of no further force and effect (a) unless within sixty days after final passage of this Ordinance Grantee shall file with the Clerk of said Municipality a written acceptance hereof; also (b) if and when after such acceptance Grantee shall file with the Clerk of said Municipality a surrender hereof in writing.

SECTION 12. It is mutually agreed, as a consideration of this grant, that said Municipality shall have the right, upon notice given as hereinafter in this section provided, to purchase and acquire at the expiration of five years from the date of final passage of this Ordinance, or at the expiration of any period of two consecutive years ensuing said five-year period, all of the physical properties of Grantee in said Municipality constructed and operated by Grantee under and by virtue of this Ordinance as a part of the gas distribution system of Grantee in said Municipality, together with and subject to the gas purchase contract under which Grantee at the time shall be purchasing natural gas at the town border of said Municipality for resale and distribution through its said system in said Municipality, at and upon payment by said Municipality of a price to be agreed upon, or in event of failure to reach an agreement, then at a price to be determined by three competent appraisers to be chosen as hereinafter provided, but at not less than the cost of said properties to Grantee to the date of purchase, plus ten per cent (10%) upon such cost.

In case said Municipality elects to exercise its option under this section, it shall give Grantee notice in writing of such election not less than twelve months prior to the expiration of the period at the end of which said Municipality shall have elected to effect such purchase.

Upon receipt of such notice, Grantee shall afford the authorized representatives of said Municipality such reasonable access to its books of accounts and records as necessary to enable said Municipality to acquaint itself with Grantee's said cost to the time or times of such examinations, and will afford said Municipality every reasonable facility for the verification of Grantee's records of such cost, to the end of facilitating ready agreement upon such costs and the determination as early as practicable of the purchase price of said properties.

If said Municipality and Grantee shall fail within sixty days to reach an agreement with reference to such consideration, then the same shall be determined by three competent appraisers, of whom one shall be appointed by said Municipality, one by Grantee and the third by the two so chosen; the price so determined not to be less however, than above provided.

SECTION 13. That in the event the grantee herein shall at any time during the period of this franchise, without fault of the City or its officers and not being delayed by litigation or other matters not under its control, fail for more than one year to furnish gas, then this franchise may at the option of the Mayor and City Council be cancelled, annulled and terminated.

SECTION 14. Wherever the term "Grantee" is used herein, it shall be held to mean and include said The Aksarben Natural Gas Company, its successors and assigns.

SECTION 15. This ordinance shall be in full force and effect from and after its final passage and publication as required by law, and upon acceptance by Grantee shall be held to constitute a binding contract between said Municipality and Grantee, subject to its terms and conditions.

Passed this 5 day of March, 1937.

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Replacing LB 362, his soil conservation bill, Senator Norton of Polk has embodied the recommendations recently made by President Roosevelt in another bill placed before the Nebraska senate with its unanimous consent. The bill went to the agriculture committee. Provisions of the two bills Norton said, were substantially the same, except the new measure is long and detailed, describing organization of soil conservation districts, step by step.

In brief the new bill provides for a state soil conservation committee of 5-4 men from the agriculture branch of the University of Nebraska and the chief federal soil conservation officer assigned to the state. The committee would aid in organizing various conservation districts.

Twenty-five farmers in any one proposed district, upon petition to the state committee, could bring a referendum vote to see whether others in the area wanted to form a district. Upon organization, a district board of supervisors would be created—2 members appointed by the state committee and 3 elected by farmers of the district. It would be the duty of the supervisors to set up soil conservation rules to be followed in the district. Adoption of the rules could be made only by a majority vote of the district.

Adoption of the rules prescribing land use practices designed to prevent erosion, waste, etc., farmers in the district would be required to abide by them. Violation of the rules would be considered a misdemeanor, and upon conviction in court could bring a fine of from $10 to $500.

At the court's direction violators would be required to carry out the practices recommended by supervisors—such as checking erosion. Failing the violators, even after direction by the court to make requested improvements, the supervisors themselves could order the court, make them and charge the work to the unruly farmer.

A 3-man board of adjustment would be set up under the district supervisors. Its duty would be to hear complaints of farmers who maintained they could not live up to the rules laid down because of topographical difficulties or other reasons. Decision of the board would govern in the farmer's case. Made also is provision to discontinue the district after 5 years upon petition of 25 farmers within the district. Referendum vote, similar to organization, would decide.

The act gives the districts right to acquire land for experimental purposes. Included also is a little of the co-operative idea of the settlement program, that is the district could purchase machinery to be used within the district to halt erosion and promote water and soil conservation.

The child labor amendment has lost none of its drawing power. When it was aired in the form of LB 136 before legislative committee, more than 500 persons, a majority of them women, crowded the old senate chamber, some to speak, others to applaud and still others to listen.

The bill, introduced by John Adams, jr., of Omaha, is intended as a means of ratifying the proposed amendment to the federal constitution. Labor committee chairman, Lester Dunn of Lancaster conducted the hearing. He was in receipt of a telegram from Secretary of Labor Perkins urging ratification.

It is the third attempt on the part of ratificationists to get the bill through in Nebraska, the others, in successive legislatures, having fallen by the wayside. Much the same argument, pro and con, introduced at the prior committee hearings in other years was reviewed once more this year.

Proponents are optimistic over prospects. Eight additional states are needed to ratify the law nationally and this year. Kansas among others, passed ratification legislation.

After definitely holding the high-light as most-debated bill of the session and being put to death when up for final passage, Governor Cochran's gasoline tax measure once more hit the headlines when the senate voted 18 to 16 to refer it back to the highways committee for revision.

The bill was raised from the dead shortly after being killed, and placed on third reading file pending consideration of the Adams-Frost gas tax bill which was resting in general file. Although originally introduced as a bill to give a full cent of the gas tax to state assistance, the Adams-Frost measure came out of the highway committee looking much like the governor's bill. It amended the Adams-Frost bill would boost the gas tax back from 4 to 5 cents, giving half of the fifth penny to roads and half to assistance.

No serious fight on recommission of the governor's bill was staged, though some of its friends opposed, for, it was pointed out, the Adams-Frost bill can be revised to carry out Cochran's desires to the letter, enough votes being mustered. If votes are lacking, the Adams-Frost measure might serve as a compromise and thereby settle the costly gas tax fight.

The senate education committee is in possession of cost estimates of the proposed teachers' retirement system embodied in a bill numbered LB 138.

The retirement plan proposed that teachers pay 5 percent of their salary annually into a trust fund; dollars paid in by the teachers to be matched by money from the state and earnings and principal of the combined funds would give the annuities paid to retiring teachers, generally at 65 years.

It is estimated that the system would cost the state about $100,000 for the first biennium in addition to the $15,000 that LB 138 would appropriate for setting up the machinery.

Figures tended to show that 13,690 teachers of the state would pay into the fund $406,341 when the system got under way. The number of teachers retiring and the subsequent cost to the state during the next few years included the years 1937-38, retiring teachers 134, with state cost for annuities $55,101; 1940-41, retiring teachers 335, with state cost for annuities $100,339. It was indicated that the peak cost to the state would be reached in from 15 to 20 years when the sum would level off.

State Sheriff Flake aired a far-reaching long-time program for enlargement of Nebraska's law enforcement department in a hearing before appropriations committee. He appeared in support of the governor's recommendation that the legislature appropriate an additional $100,000 to his department's use, so 20 additional deputies may be employed to augment the present force of 16.

Highway patrolling is important Sheriff Flake emphasized. The department's program thus far has resulted in a lessening of serious accidents, he added. The additional men he seeks through the appropriation would be used for enforcement of criminal laws also, some of them to be placed on motorcycles.

Last biennium the state sheriff's office had an appropriation of $100,000 of which $50,000 came from tax money and $50,000 from part of the motor vehicles license. The plan for increasing the amount to $200,000 is through adding the income from a renewal of drivers' licenses every year at 75 cents each.

Flake said he was opposed to another bill before another committee which seeks to create a state highway patrol. If the force is made too large to begin with, the local officials will be inclined to shove all the work off onto the state patrol, he declared.

Further hearing was ordered before the committee on miscellaneous subjects proposed to judge the merit of LB 469, providing that all human corpses shall be buried so that they are covered by at least two and one-half feet of earth, and that mausoleums shall be constructed to admit proper ventilation.

At an initial hearing, John G. Hartigan of Fairbury argued for the bill representing, he said, the Fairbury cemetery association. He contended in order that burial in the earth be sanitary, bodies must be buried below the winter frost line. The bill, he said, was promoting sanitation.

Attorney Wilke of Lincoln declared the bill was not one promoting sanitation, but intended to put his client, R. H. Ray of Deshler out of business. Ray, with factories in Deshler and Fremont, builds air-tight vaults to cover the ordinary casket which is sunk into the ground leaving the top exposed bearing the name plate of the deceased. Declared Wilke: Many vaults are being purchased; because of the nameplate arrangement no monument is needed and because of this condition; the monument men are behind the bill and not the cemeteries.

A delegation from Deshler appeared to support Ray who, the claim, has a thriving industry in their midst.

Miscellaneous subjects committee reported to general file LB 537 which seeks to permit the growing or importation into Nebraska of hemp for manufacturing purposes, except for the purpose of manufacturing narcotics.

Frank Kloppling of Wayne, former legislator, appearing in behalf of the bill is interested in the promotion of an industry to manufacture textiles of the linen variety from a plant known as cannabis, closely related to the weed known as hashish or marijuana. Present laws prohibit importation of those plants into the state because marijuana is commonly used as a narcotic.

Nebraska soil is especially adapted to growing of cannabis and certain financial interests are ready to contract for the growing of the plant in a big way and establish factories in the vicinity of the Columbus power project if the bill passes, Kloppling told the committee.

In one of the "killingest" sessions thus far this session, judiciary committee put to death 15 bills at one sitting all of which had to do with changes in the present liquor control law. Three others were left for future consideration. LB 342, Senator Comstock's measure providing for purchase of liquor only by permit was slain. One bill, permitting appeals to the courts from liquor commission rulings made the grade to committee of the whole.

Among the number slaughtered were bills banning the sale by drink in all except restaurants, clubs, hotels or places doing exclusive liquor business; to prohibit employment of women as bartenders; limiting the number of licenses to be issued to one for each 750 population and to prohibit advertising and window display of liquor.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS ON BROODING AND FEEDING CHICKS

1. What is efficient brooding?
A. Providing at reasonable costs a suitable and comfortable environment for the development of chicks from hatching time until they can do without heat.

2. What are the essentials of a good brooder house?
A. (1) Weather proof—keep out the rain, wind and cold. (2) Retain the heat or prevent heat leaking out too rapidly. (3) Be well and evenly lighted with windows arranged so that direct sunshine may enter. (4) Built, arranged, and equipped to save labor and maintain sanitation.

3. What size and type of brooder house is best suited for the average farm?
A. The 10'x12' colony brooder house with sun parlor has proven highly satisfactory. It will accommodate 300 chicks, the number necessary for adding 100 pullets each year to the average farm flock of 150 hens.

12. What type of brooder is best adapted to colony house use—electric, kerosene or hard coal.
A. Electricity is probably more nearly fool-proof and uniform but it is also more expensive and requires a well insulated house. Not recommended for movable houses or early brooding without auxiliary heat.

13. How much space do chicks require in a brooder house?
A. Two chicks per square foot of floor space has proven most satisfactory.

14. How many chicks should be brooded in a unit?
A. Over 300 chicks in a brood generally require an experienced poultryman. Many farm poultry raisers who try brooding large broods have heavy losses.

15. What kind of litter is best in the brooder house, straw, chopped alfalfa, sand, peat moss, or shavings?
A. Profitable brooding is a matter of lowering the costs. For this reason, farm flock owners are encouraged to use material available on the farm such as fine, clean straw, chopped hay or ground corn cobs. Peat moss is good but the price makes its use expensive. Clean sand, if available, is good provided the chicks are fed as soon as they are put into the brooder.

22. What are these ingredients?
A. Home grown feeds supplemented with protein concentrates. (Ground corn and oats, wheat bran and shorts, and alfalfa meal mixed with a small amount of dried milk and meat and fish meal.)

23. What is a good tested ration for chicks and poult?
A. Experimental Station chick and poult Mash Mixture No. 8.

	With Skim Milk	410 lbs.
Yellow cornmeal	310 lbs.	200
Shorts or ground wheat	200	100
Bran	100	100
Alfalfa meal (from best quality hay)	100	50
Meat meal (60 per cent protein)	50	25
Fish meal	25	0
Dried Buttermilk	60	10
Salt	10	10
Cod Liver Oil	10	20
Ground Limestone	20	1000 lbs. 1000 lbs.

1. Expose chicks to direct sunshine whenever possible without chilling chicks. Cod liver oil is, after all, only a substitute.

2. Feed green feed (alfalfa, clover, lettuce, lawn clippings, etc.) cut in short lengths, when available.

3. Mash Mixture 8 is also recommended for starting poult.

24. What rate of growth can be expected from this ration as compared with ready mixed feeds?
A. Equal to any, not to mention the material reduction in the cost of raising chickens.

25. How are chicks fed, all mash or some mash and some grains?
A. For the first three or four weeks they may be given all mash. Scratch grain of equal parts by weight of cracked corn and wheat may be fed at four weeks. Feed one part scratch and two parts mash. Feed broilers all mash until marketed.

26. How much feeder space is required for chicks?
A. One inch per chick.

27. What feeding precautions are necessary to avoid trouble and disappointment?
A. Constant use of clean, fifth proof feeders, and waterers placed upon wire covered platforms large enough to comfortably accommodate the chicks.

28. (1) Approximately how much feed is required to produce a two-pound broiler? (2) a three-pound fryer? (3) A Leghorn pullet? (4) A heavy breed pullet?
A. (1) Six pounds. (2) Thirteen pounds. (3) Twenty-four pounds. (4) Twenty-eight pounds.

29. At what age should broiler attain weight of two pounds?
A. Eight to ten weeks. One pound per month is a good rate of growth and can be had from two months of age to maturity.

30. How much does the cost of feed affect the cost of raising pullets?
A. Each additional dollar per hundred weight added to the cost of feed adds 24 cents to the cost of raising a Leghorn pullet to production age and 28 cents to the cost of a heavy breed pullet. (Using the cost of the suggested ration as a base and estimating 80 percent of chicks are raised.)

Saturday Sale

at the Sale Ring in Ord Saturday, March 20 One o'clock

There was a strong demand for any and all kinds of stock in the last Saturday sale. We expect this to continue. The horse market was a little more active.

We expect 125 head of horses

75 of which are listed at the present time. We have some outstanding teams of mares, and some good 3 and 4 year old colts.

If you have some horses to sell we think this would be a very good time, as the buyers will be here.

In the cattle division, there will be 100 head. 31 head of these are Hereford calves of really good quality. There will also be several fat cows, stock cows, and milk cows.

100 head of hogs

The buyers will be here so consign your stock to the Ord Livestock Market.

If you try us, you will like the service.

STARTING MASH

We can save you money on Starting Mash this year. You can buy the best here at $3.50 per cwt. and get a feeder free. This is the same starting mash that our customers used last year and are getting such high egg production from those pullets and hens. Start your chicks off right.

LAYING MASH.

Many of your neighbors are feeding our Laying Mash and are really getting eggs. Why don't you try it out and be satisfied with the results.

HORSE FEED.

Why buy oats for your horse feed when you can buy Conkey's Horse feed and save $15.00 on feed equal to 100 bushels of oats. This feed is making friends around Ord and saving the farmers money.

PRAIRIE HAY.

We expect about 15 tons of good clay land prairie hay the last of the week. This hay is baled and will be priced cheap to move it at once. If you need hay come in and see this hay.

1,000 Students In Music Festival At Arcadia Thursday

11 Towns Gave Programs During Day; Artists' Program in Evening.

Well over 1,000 people attended the seventh annual Loup Valley music festival sponsored by the Loup Valley high school activities association which was held last Thursday at Arcadia.

Comstock, Ord, Loup City and Taylor were the towns who made up the morning program, each town being permitted 30 minutes in which to present their numbers. The afternoon's program was made up of selections by North Loup, Sargent, Scotia, Burwell, St. Paul, Dannebrog and Arcadia.

All of the day's numbers were greatly enjoyed by the large group in attendance. Many fine selections were presented by the various high school groups. Prof. D. R. Appelmann, head of the Kearney state teachers college music department, was critic of the day.

Under the direction of Dean Duncan, all the Ord musical organizations gave fine performances. The 60-piece Ord band, in full uniform, appeared on the evening program.

Mrs. Nye in Charge. Music supervisors of the various Loup Valley schools are Mildred Rife Nye, Arcadia; Melvin Struve, Burwell; Mrs. H. George, Comstock; Ruth Johnson, Dannebrog; Ida Schriefer, Loup City; Phyllis Gordon, North Loup; Dean Duncan, Ord; Clarence Fleharty, St. Paul; Lola Stroehcker, St. Paul; Violet Vaughn, Sargent; Wm. Haynes, Scotia; and Nema Cruzan, Taylor.

For the evening artist's program, the Arcadia high school auditorium was filled to capacity. The first part of the evening program took form with the presenting of one number by each school represented. Part two of the program was the singing of three songs, "America, the Beautiful," "Steal Away," and "Abide With Me" by a huge mass chorus composed of all Loup Valley high school glee clubs. Over 350 students directed by Prof. Appelmann participated and gave a wonderful performance considering that the huge groups had only one practice before appearing on the program.

Splendid Evening Program. The final group to appear on the evening program was the Kearney State Teachers College a capella choir under the direction of Prof. D. R. Appelmann. This feature program of the day was made up of four selections by the choir, and numbers by a girls sextette, Richard Mahan, pianist, and a men's octette. This was indeed a fine program and seldom do high school students have the privilege of hearing so talented a group as the Kearney College a capella choir.

Much of the credit for the success of the festival must be given to the committee in charge of the entire affair. This committee was made up of three persons, Mildred Rife Nye, Arcadia; E. G. Lightbody, Sargent; and Dean S. Duncan, Ord. The executive committee of the L. V. H. S. A. is made up of Thos. E. Cain, Burwell, president; John Ward, Taylor, vice-president; and W. D. Cass, secretary-treasurer, Arcadia.

Ord Butter Third In State Contest

Manager Fred W. Coe of the Ord Co-operative Creamery went down to the state meeting of co-operative creameries Monday morning of last week. Buttermaker O. A. Carlson went down the same afternoon. A sample of the butter had been sent down about two weeks before. Representatives from about thirty co-ops were present, and each company had a sample of their product. With such strenuous competition the Ord men have a right to be proud of the fact that Ord butter placed third. The only creameries able to make a better showing than Ord this year were Gordon, which placed first and Minden, winner of second place. The men returned home Wednesday evening, Mr. Carlson sporting a pen and pencil set which he won by taking third place.

City Will Start Tax Foreclosures

Ralph W. Norman, city attorney, has been authorized by the council to institute tax foreclosure proceedings against 26 properties in the city on which no taxes have been paid for many years. A petition will be filed in district court, the property advertised and the city, which already holds tax certificates, will thus be confirmed in title and may re-sell the property. Some business buildings, a garage, several desirable lots both for business and residence property, are included. About $15,000 in taxes is involved.

Sid's Booterie Will Occupy Kull Corner

Sid Solson who recently made arrangements to rent the Kull building formerly occupied by Tony's Shoe Store, is now in Ord and supervising the installation of shelving and furnishings. Mr. Solson comes from Flint, Mich., where he has been engaged in the same business for the past 8 1/2 years. He will operate the business under the name of Sid's Booterie. Norm Holt has been busy several days redecorating both the outside and the inside, using ivory for the interior and a rich green on the woodwork outside. Bert Needham is doing the carpenter work on the inside. Mr. Solson hopes to have everything ready for his opening the latter part of next week.

26 New Members For Ord Chamber; 'Smoker' Tonight

Annual Membership Drive Is Success; Newcomers To Be Honored at Meeting.

A general meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce, primarily for the purpose of welcoming new members, will be held at 8:00 tonight at the Knights of Pythias hall, officials announce, and all members, new and old, are invited and urged to be present.

Twenty-six new members were enrolled during the annual drive last week and three or four more are expected to sign up today. The chamber now has a membership list of almost 130, largest in history.

Dr. F. A. Barta is chairman of the entertainment committee for tonight's meeting and announces that a lunch will be served, a few informal talks heard and that the affair will be a "smoker." New members will be introduced and welcomed to the organization.

Any member who has a suggestion that can be acted upon by Ord's commercial club with benefit to the community is urged to bring it up for discussion at the meeting tonight.

Ord Postoffice Fixtures Changed

This week some changes are being made in the fixtures of the Ord postoffice to meet the requirements of the new lease. These changes include the removal of at least half of the boxes, leaving more than are needed since the coming of city delivery several years ago. This will leave room for an office for the postmaster in the front of the building. Because of the fact that the new lease is only for two years the old fixtures are being retained, although they are very much out of date. The work of alteration is being done by Toot Harris and Elvin W. (Red) Hower.

Postoffice employees are confident that a new federal building will be constructed here by the time the present lease expires.

Presbyterian Cantata

The choir of the Presbyterian church, under the direction of Dean S. Duncan, will present the cantata "Hosannah" by Roy Nolté Sunday at 7:30 p. m. This cantata is one of the outstanding musical productions that have the Resurrection as its theme. You are cordially invited to come to hear this musical treat.

Second Old Ord Building Is Being Razed

An old shack which has for years marred the appearance of Ord's business district is being torn down as result of the purchase last week by Verne Weller, of the Weller Lumber Company, of the building owned by Paul Robinson, located east of the Sinclair filling station on N street. Frank Lukesh began razing it immediately. Mr. Weller hopes to sell enough used lumber and kindling from it to pay cost of tearing it down. This building was last occupied by the Anderson Motor Company as a garage five or six years ago. Windows broken, rear wall caved in, floor rotted away, unpainted for twenty years or more, it formed an eyesore and a fire trap. Its removal will make available a location for a fine business building and no doubt some one will build a garage or other structure on this lot before long, as it is ideally located for such a purpose. In early years the building stood on the lot where the Lola Hardware is located. It was then occupied by the Sam Fackler grocery. When Wilmer Gray bought the property he had the old building moved to its present location and built the brick structure. This is the second old building that the Weller Lumber Company has bought and torn down. The old Blessing barn, another unsightly structure, is being razed also. There are several others in town that should be wrecked by their owners before city condemnation proceedings compel their removal.

Council Frowns On Night Club in Ord; 8 May Retail Beer

Ainsworth Man's Proposal Is Discouraged But He Will Still Seek License.

Eight licenses to sell beer at retail in Ord were granted with little debate by the city council, in special session Monday evening, but Mayor Flag and members of the council unofficially frowned upon a ninth application, that of Abe Abrams of Ainsworth, who says he will purchase the former John E. Sharp place "on the hill" in the southeast corner of Ord and conduct a "night club" if he can secure a license to sell beer.

Abrams is on a deal with E. O. Kull, present owner of the property, and told councilmen he is prepared to give this community a well conducted restaurant and night "hot spot" if they will permit him to sell beer on the premises.

Not Formally Rejected.

His application was not received in time for it to be advertised as the law provides, therefore councilmen took no official action on it Monday evening. They indicated to Mr. Abrams that the license will not be granted. The matter will come up for further discussion at the April meeting.

Abrams, displeased with the council's attitude, threatened to carry the matter to the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission if his application is rejected by the council. He believes the commission will grant him a license in spite of objections by the local governing body.

Ever since John E. Sharp built this place and operated it as John's Town Tavern the question of granting beer and dance licenses for it has been a bone of contention for the council. Attitude of the city dads now is that no license to sell beer will be granted outside of the business district, this attitude having been unofficially approved by citizens at an election two years ago.

Has Faith in Commission.

In similar cases over the state the Nebraska Liquor Control Commission has occasionally reversed decisions of local governing bodies and granted beer licenses, which Mr. Abrams believes they will do in this case.

Beer licenses were granted Monday evening to the New Cafe, Town Talk Cafe, Johnson Cafe, J. A. Riley, Frank Kasal, Ign. G. Ginzski, Mrs. Freda Buchfinck and Mrs. Mary Sharp. All except Ginzski have had licenses before. He will operate the pool hall formerly operated by Albert Kosmicki, whose beer license was cancelled after his plea of guilty to a charge of selling beer to minors.

Assessors To Meet In Ord Wednesday

County Assessor A. R. Brox called the annual meeting of precinct assessors for Wednesday, March 31. Mr. Brox went down to the state meeting of county assessors recently and many propositions of interest to township assessors were discussed. Legislation already passed and other laws pending are to add complications to their work this year. The automobile tax collecting law passed in 1934 is still causing assessors the whim-whams.

Southern Firm's Machinery Here, Canal Work to Be Rushed

Shortly after noon Tuesday four railway flat cars containing dirt moving machinery of the Edward W. Morgan Co., Inc., of Jackson, Miss., arrived in Ord by Burlington and Superintendent J. E. Morgan, with a crew, at once began work of unloading and assembling the equipment.

The Morgan firm has a contract to dig 63 miles of canal for the North Loup project, its bid of $100,650.00 being accepted at a letting in December. The Taylor-Ord and Burwell-Sumter canals, six miles on the lower end of the Ord-North Loup canal and a pump line canal north of Taylor will be built by the Morgan outfit.

They have two draglines, one of 2 1/2 cubic yard capacity with a boom 65 feet long and the other of 3 cubic yard capacity with an 80 foot boom. The dragline used by Litwiller Bros., on the Ord-North Loup canal is of only 1 cubic yard capacity and the one in use on the Middle Loup is of 2 yard size. Some idea of the size of the Morgan machine can be gained by comparing it with Mr. Morgan, a six-footer, who is standing beside it in this photograph.

Supt. Morgan, who arrived several days ago with seven skilled dragline and tractor operators, is hopeful of getting the machines assembled and work started in short order. The above picture shows only one of the draglines, the second one being on another track.

Soil Conservation Sign-Up Meetings Start This Week

Committeemen Were Given Full Instructions Monday, 1937 Program Under Way.

Signing of applications for 1937 soil conservation contracts is now under way in Valley county.

Monday afternoon township committeemen met at the Legion hall in Ord and were given instructions regarding the new program by Agricultural Agent C. C. Dale and members of the county committee, Charles Veleba, A. V. Mensing and Ed Stone.

Procedure this year is similar to the 1936 program in most respects but township committeemen will not visit each farm as was done last spring. Instead, meetings will be held in each township and farmers who want to cooperate and receive federal benefit payments must attend these meetings.

The following schedule of meetings is announced.

Tuesday, March 23—Springdale, at Arnold Bros. farm.

Thursday, March 25—Independent, at Barker school basement.

Friday, March 26—Arcadia, at Bellinger's hall.

Monday, March 29—Liberty, at Bellinger's hall.

Tuesday, March 30—Michigan, at Chas. Veleba farm.

Wednesday, March 31—Geranium, at National hall.

Thursday, April 1—Enterprise, at Dist. No. 9 school basement.

Friday, April 2—Davis Creek, at the school house.

Saturday, April 3—Noble, at Brick school house.

Monday, April 5—Elyria, at town hall.

Tuesday, April 6—Eureka, at Jungmann hall.

Wednesday, April 7—North Loup, at town hall.

Thursday, April 8—Ord, place to be announced later.

Friday, April 9—Vinton, place to be announced later.

Spelling Bee Will Be Held April 2

The Valley county spelling contest for grade school students will be held at the Ord high school auditorium, April 2, reports Clara McClatchey, county school superintendent. Two contestants for the interstate contests will be chosen at that time, and one for the World-Herald contest. The interstate contest will be held Friday, April 30, and the World-Herald contest Saturday, May 1.

Last week Lila Porter, teacher in Dist. No. 52, was out for the week with an attack of the mumps and Laura Nelson substituted for her. Miss McClatchey says. This week Mildred Timmerman, teacher in Dist. No. 71, is out with the same trouble, but no substitute was available to take her place.

Wild Geese, Confused.

A flock of five Canada geese apparently mistook the water gleaming on the paving in Ord's business district for a lake Tuesday night, as they circled about for several hours, sometimes coming down so low that they could be seen. Cranes were also flying overhead, but they did not stay around so long.

George Ayres Kills Self; Former Ordite

George M. Ayres, 53, Central City business man who was born and reared in Ord, killed himself in the office of the S. D. Ayres Lumber Company at Central City, the body being found Monday. An automatic shotgun found near the body was the instrument of death. Ayres had been in ill health, his wife told officers. Besides his widow he leaves one son and three daughters.

The son of S. D. Ayres, who once conducted the lumber yard owned by Koupal & Barstow now, George Ayres was well known here in early years.

Spring Snowfall Benefits Farmers

An eight inch snow fall, which missed being a spring rain by a margin of only a few degrees in temperature, gladdened the hearts of Valley county farmers Friday. Starting about nine o'clock in the morning and continuing steadily until 3 o'clock, the snow wet everything fully as much as a rain would have done. A twenty mile wind in the afternoon piled the snow in all exposed places. Weather reporter Horace Travis gives the official measurement at eight inches, with 73-100 of an inch moisture.

Although it has been foggy all week Travis reports that only .04 inches of moisture has fallen. Tuesday night red dust from Kansas fell heavily here. A snow storm was reported on the way yesterday.

Hope to Prove Worth Of Women as Jurors

Women will sit on a Nebraska jury for the first time in history next Thursday night, April 1, but it will be in a fictitious murder trial held in Ord under the sponsorship of the Business and Professional Women's club. It is part of the club's attempt to prove that state laws should be revised to permit women on juries.

The feminine jury will compete with a jury composed of men, and verdicts brought in by the two groups will be compared. Ord attorneys are being asked to serve as defender, prosecutor and judge at the mock trial. Who the victim will be and what circumstances of the case are will not be revealed until night of the trial. Miss Ellen Servine, club president, is in charge of staging the trial, with help from a large committee.

Czech Film In Ord.

An all-talking Czechoslovakian film, "Na ruzick ustlano," which is translated as "A Bed of Roses," will be shown at the Ord Theatre from 2 to 6 p. m. Saturday, Apr. 10, announces Manager M. Blomond. With an all-Czech cast, it should prove popular with Bohemian people of this community. This film will be shown only at the Saturday matinee, Blomond emphasizes.

—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jensen have moved from the R. O. Hunter home and are now located in the former Chester Austin home in east Ord.

—Catholic ladies will have a bake sale at Pecenka's meat market on Saturday, March 27. 51-21

$500,000 Artichoke Factory At Gering Is Aim of United

Plan Endorsed by the Gering Chamber of Commerce After Making Full Inquiry.

The United Artichoke company last week announced completion of a contract with the Oscar R. Krenz Copper and Brass Works, of San Francisco, for erection of an artichoke processing plant at Gering, Nebr., to cost $500,000, according to the Scottsbluff Star-Herald.

"The Gering chamber of commerce investigated the plans thoroughly and is absolutely certain the factory will be built and processing will get under way next fall as scheduled," said Theodore McCosh, an official of the Gering chamber, at a public artichoke meeting in Scottsbluff.

This plant, first of its kind in the United States, will process about 500 tons of artichokes daily and will operate 300 days per year. It will produce levulose syrup, with stock feed and industrial alcohol as by-products. Artichoke flour also may be a by-product.

Not a Seed Racket.

McCosh flayed "much injurious propaganda which has been in circulation," the Scottsbluff newspaper says. This propaganda has accused the artichoke company of operating a "seed selling" racket. "The present status of the United is as sound as it can be," McCosh is reported as saying, "and to prove this is not a seed racket the company has reduced the price of seed from 6c a pound to 3c, 1 1/2c below the market price."

The company does not permit the farmer to raise his own seed because, unless seed is graded and hand-sorted, the artichoke may revert to its wild state," officials of the United company say. To maintain sugar content and quality of the artichoke seed quality must be kept up. Sugar companies have similar regulations as to seed for sugar beets.

New Plant at Ravenna.

Mr. McCosh is not connected with the artichoke company in any way, the Scottsbluff Star-Herald says, and is a respected business man of the Gering community. According to L. J. Auble, who represents the United company in Ord and who has signed up 1,750 acres locally for artichoke production, the company has bought the old Ravenna Creamery company plant at Ravenna and is building a sub-factory at a cost of about $60,000. There some processes of artichoke manufacturing will be carried on, the resulting product being shipped to the Gering plant for conversion into syrups.

Bad Weather Hurts Irrigation School

Although wet weather and bad roads undoubtedly cut attendance at the irrigation school greatly, the school started at 1:30 yesterday as advertised and the full program was given. It will continue today unless snow makes it impossible for speakers to get here. A fair sized crowd of farmers attended yesterday. The school is being held at the Knights of Pythias hall in Ord under auspices of the Valley county farm bureau and all farmers interested in irrigation are invited to attend.

Ord's Muny Plant Announces 162-3% Electric Rate Cut.

Will Grant 33 1-3 Discount On March Bills; Use In Ord Homes Increasing.

Encouraged by the great increase in domestic use of electricity following the fast rate reduction, the Ord municipal electric department today announces another rate cut effective with March billings. The new reduction of 16 2-3 per cent will be given patrons in the form of an increased discount for prompt payment.

All bills paid before April 10, and before the tenth of each month hereafter, will be discounted 33 1-3 per cent instead of 20 per cent as heretofore. The general rate structure remains unchanged but the increased discount will be equivalent to a net reduction of 16 2-3 per cent for all patrons who pay their bills promptly, as most patrons of the Ord plant do.

Ord Rates Very Low.

This reduction brings Ord electric rates down to the level of the lowest in Nebraska, practically speaking. Because of difference in block structure, comparisons cannot be made but it is stated that only a few cities—Fremont, Falls City and possibly Grand Island—have rates lower than Ord's, and then only by a few cents on the average monthly bill. Burwell electric rates, often claimed to be lowest in Nebraska, are lower than Ord's new rates in the first block but higher thereafter, which means that Ord people who use considerable juice for domestic purposes will find their bill lower than if they lived in Burwell and used the same amount.

Minimum Bill 75c.

All classes of electric service except the minimum bill are affected by this reduction. Hereafter the minimum bill in Ord will be 75c per month.

Along with announcement of this reduction the electric department announces appointment of Ed G. Paine, of York, as supervisor of a new home appliance department. On behalf of the municipal plant he will conduct an aggressive campaign to educate Ord housewives in use of more electric appliances, which they can well afford to do at the low rates in effect here. Sale of ranges, water heaters, refrigerators and other appliances will be carried on by this new department in cooperation with local dealers.

As electric consumption increases, which it is bound to do because of the cheaper rates, it is believed by Light Plant Manager Allen that still further reductions may be possible.

A. J. Cook Falls From Ladder, Hurt

Saturday morning while removing snow from the roof of the Archie Bradt house A. J. Cook met with a serious accident. He was standing on a 16 foot ladder, which he had set, as he thought, just outside the walk in the snow. He had cleaned off all the snow he could reach on one side and turned on the ladder with his back to the building, when the bottom of the ladder slid out so fast that Andy did not even have a chance to throw himself off. He came down with great force on the cement walk, his back hitting the rounds of the ladder. Mrs. Bradt helped him into a chair and then called Archie, who got Leonard Parks and the Farmers Store delivery truck and got the injured man to his home. Dr. Lee C. Nay was called who found that the right thumb was out of joint and the right wrist fractured. He got Clarence Blessing and Fred Cohen to carry Cook down to the Ord Hospital, where an x-ray examination showed that no other bones were broken. He is resting easily, but will drive no more nails for some time to come.

Elgin Worrell Dies At Toulon, Illinois

Elgin Worrell, who recently moved to Toulon, Ill., and rented a farm there, passed away suddenly from pneumonia, according to word received by Mrs. Worrell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Needham, Friday morning. He passed away shortly after midnight Friday morning, and the body is being brought to Ord for burial this week. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Worrell of North Loup.

After going to Illinois Mr. Worrell bought complete tractor equipment for the fine farm he had rented, and was in position to go ahead and make a success of his venture. His sudden passing is a terrible shock to his relatives and friends here. Funeral services are being held today, Thursday, for Elgin Worrell from the Methodist church in North Loup, at 2:00 o'clock.

ABOUT A SWIMMING POOL.

This newspaper believes that the Ord city council is making an error in submitting to voters the swimming pool proposition in the manner it appears on the ballot. Asking people, unofficially, their opinion on the advisability of issuing not to exceed $18,000 in bonds for the purpose of building a pool in Bussell Park seems misleading and, in our judgment, can serve no useful purpose. Another election will be necessary before bonds can be issued anyway; voting unofficially at this time merely gives opponents of the measure two chances to defeat it.

Certain it is that much sentiment for a pool exists here, as the council learned last August. Other Nebraska communities have secured pools with WPA aid and it seems odd that this community cannot do likewise. In no case has it been a policy of WPA to guarantee completion of jobs they start, yet many civic improvements costing amounts greatly in excess of the cost of this pool have been completed throughout the nation with WPA help.

It will not cost the city $16,000 for a pool, whether it is constructed with WPA funds or by the city itself. Should the WPA proposition be accepted, and the pool completed, cost to the city will be only $3,800. Should the city issue its own bonds and build the pool without government help the cost should not exceed $13,000 to $14,000, according to the opinion of an architect consulted by the council.

With no desire to criticize actions of the council except in a constructive manner, the Quiz believes it would have been more advisable either to submit a definite bonding proposition to voters next week or await such time as a definite proposition could be submitted at a special election.

People who want a pool should vote "yes" on the unofficial proposition next week, thereby showing the council that a pool is wanted here. Councilmen—able men all—should then make the best financial arrangements possible for building a pool of suitable size and, if cost is not excessive, the Quiz believes voters will approve the plan even though issuance of bonds is involved.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

A farmer who does all his trading in Ord, told me last week that for a long time he had not dared to drive his car on the road at night and he added that they seldom came to town on Saturday, because of the heavy traffic and careless driving. He said as a rule they came in early Friday to do the weekly shopping and tried to get back home before the busy time of day. He said he greatly appreciated the present effort to slow up driving to a decent speed.

"How much is that rat poison," asked the customer.
"That AAA poison costs you 75c."
"Haven't you got any cheaper?" asked the customer.
"Yes, here is a pretty good poison, the CCC brand, that I can recommend for 50c."
"Anything still cheaper that you can recommend?"
"Well," said the druggist, "here is our WPA brand that will not kill them, but it will make them so lazy that you can stomp them."—Texas Outlook.

There are numerous boys who are never going to get anywhere because they fritter away their time and spend all the money they can get hold of in ways that are a detriment to them. Many of them are bright boys, graduates of high schools and if they would properly apply themselves to some thing useful, could in time make a name for themselves and have a home to be proud of. But boys or men whose highest ambition is to spend their time in beer joints, and crook their employer when they have an occasional job, will never be able to hold a responsible position.

This government is spending from 25 to 50 million dollars each to construct great war ships which, but the time they are completed, will be antiquated. If they were ever floated in opposition to an enemy they would be an easy mark for a bombing plane. It seems to me that the same money, spent for submarines and bombing planes, would buy enough of both to cut a ring of them all around the U. S. so close together that an enemy couldn't get a chance at us.

In direct contrast to what was being done a couple of years ago, Secretary Wallace is now urging farmers to grow increased acreages of everything except corn, giving as a reason that the granaries of the nation are the lowest in many years. It looks, now, like it might have been better if the money that was used to pay the farmers not to produce, had been used to buy farm products and give them to those who were hungry and let production go on.

Some writer has said, "As a man thinks, so is he." If what one thinks continually, affects his condition no doubt a man who is all the time whining about feeling bad makes his condition really worse. Anyhow, it is a bad habit, most unpleasant to his fellow men who have to hear his perpetual whine. Keeping one's troubles to one's self is a great virtue.

There must have been some virtue in the snow that we got last Friday, anyhow a number of people came in Saturday and Monday and paid their subscription and remarked that this moisture would give us a start toward a crop. By the way, a number of those who expired on the 15th of this month have failed to renew. Please attend to this matter, folks.

A group of public spirited Ord business men, organized into a planning board, working for the betterment of Ord and vicinity systematically and cooperating with the City Council, the Chamber of Commerce, the Rotary club, the Library board, the Business & Professional Womens club and other civic organizations, could accomplish great things. There are too few business men willing to devote any great amount of their time to such work, yet in the long run it would pay them to do so, provided there could be proper cooperation. And there are many of us who might be willing to do what was necessary but we don't know what to do or how to go about doing anything. If it was possible to secure, for a time at least, a man experienced in the work that should be done here, that would probably be the best thing to do.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Hitler. In a recent visit with Wm. Platte we fell to discussing politics and from that the subject naturally came up about Hitler. "Oh," Will said, "He's all right. They like him over there."

"They have to like him," I replied. "They might lose their heads if they didn't. At least they'd not dare to write that they didn't."

Will refuted that remark earnestly. "Oh, yes. They like him. And the letters we get are not censored. They've never been opened. Those folks write us what ever they want to."

Will went on how Hitler had furnished the people work, or at least a lot of them. There was something like five million out of employment when Hitler went into office. He put two million in an army which helped some and furnished employment for many of the others. "Oh," Will repeated emphatically, "They like him over there."

Then I changed the subject and said, "It's lucky you came over here when you did. You might have been an angel now." Will was three years in the German army. He came to America a short time before the war.

He didn't hardly think so. At least war didn't seem to worry him much. He said, "I had four brothers in the war and none of them got killed. The casualties of the German army were much smaller than the Allies. And the Germans were fighting all the rest

And then I asked him if he ever saw the Kaiser and Will said he had once when the Kaiser was reviewing the troops. But in spite of it all Will likes this country better and has more faith in Roosevelt and our government than Hitler and his.

Easy Enough. One of the most aggravating tasks for many of us is the opening of sacks. Chicken feed, sugar, flour, cotton cake and a multitude of articles come sacked and the sacks are sewed up. If a fellow gets hold of the right strings and pulls just right they rip out easily. If not it is an awful job and in the end the sack opener usually calls on the Lord. He calls on the Lord quite sternly if the weather is cold and the snow entwining about your neck.

Albert Babcock seems to be an expert at opening sacks. For some time while working in a big bakery he had to open fifty sacks of flour before breakfast. If he had the trouble I frequently have he'd be eating supper in place of breakfast.

Turn the sack so the long stitches are toward you and then go to the right. Pull the ends carefully so as not to make a knot and hokus pokus, the strings are flying.

Trees Again. When all is said and done many think the best forest tree for this country is the hackberry. There has been no tree that has stood the hazards of the last few years like they have. Some think the nicest trees in the village of North Loup are those around the house where Will Vodehnal lives, across the street west from the Methodist church. Fry Sheldon's trees are bigger and more stately but the hackberries at the Vodehnal place can hardly be excelled.

Many folks think the Chinese elm is the one and only tree for our country. But we must remember it is only an experiment yet. We have only had them for a few years. When I was younger I had quite a hobby of planting and studying trees. I thought then the American elm was the best for this section. We know now it is not. Very few hackberries have died and many of the elms forty years old have dropped their leaves.

Another thing in regard to the hackberry is a point Clem Meyers has brought out. He says the hackberry has a stronger wood and will crowd the others back to get room.

In planting a windbreak we do not want to overlook the cedar. They are a native of this country and if they once become rooted on seldom hears of them dying. Of course they are not popular like the spruce and pine but a live cedar is better than any dead tree.

Election is Over. There are many farmers in a quandary yet to know where the money for seed and feed is coming from. There are a great bulk of farmers who are not poor enough to borrow from the government but still have not adequate security to borrow of the banks.

Harry Salter has charge of the loaning in Greeley county. He is a fine fellow. He was over to see me before election time in regard to voting for a friend of his for clerk of the district court. Harry was so bland and pleasant that day that I voted for his man although I had never seen the candidate that I knew of.

But Harry was of a different disposition when I spoke about a loan. He frowned deeply when he learned I have a tractor. Well I suppose he couldn't do any more than Roosevelt said and there were others who needed Harry's attention more than I. Well, I voted for his friend anyway.

Farms to Rent.

Still we are in the middle of March and a lot of farms that are not rented. Most of the best farms have been taken now but many hill farms are yet without men to work them. The report around is that in Greeley county one loan company alone has a hundred farms without renters. That may be exaggerated but there are farms all over that are begging attention. A good rain might brighten the situation and some means of financing good but poor men would also help.

Who Is Honest?

And then the question arises as to who is good pay. A person spoke to me the other day in regard to a loan in the B. & L. as that man was gilt edged. We used to have lots of those fellows. They are hard to find any more. There are a great host of men who are at heart as honest as ever but are unable to pay. Just haven't the ability to make ends meet in these times.

The argument arose over the difference between a man who could pay and wouldn't and the man who would if he could but couldn't. There is no difference to the creditor. He loses in either case. But the debtor who would if he could will have a little better seat in Heaven surely.

Something Different

Dr. Taylor calls to my attention the fact that the model house near Des Moines, mentioned in this column last week, was planned by the same architect who designed the Ord high school. The model house meant is the one discussed in the American Magazine last month.

Verne Weller, young lumberman of our city, has been appointed head of a planning committee which hopes to beautify Ord. Young Mr. Weller takes his appointment very seriously, and is really anxious to see Ord improved.

It is hoped that Ord can have an objective, plan of improvement to be worked out year by year, with a definite aim in view. This is the way city planning committees secure beautiful boulevards, parks, drives, etc. Experts are called in, a certain objective decided upon, then a certain amount of the improving done each year. In that way, better results can be obtained, yet the expense need not be great at any time.

Ord has plenty of room for improvement, and if you do not believe it, take a drive. Look at the many ereosores, disused buildings that need scrapping, messed up vacant lots and backyards. Then drive out the highways that spread out from our city in every direction. Take a good look at these entrances to our city. Do you consider a single one of them appetizing? Would they interest you in Ord, if you didn't know the place? What idea of Ord do they give you?

There is plenty of room for improving Ord. It is to be hoped Mr. Weller and his committee will not be too disheartened when they see what a big task they have accepted.

Now I hear that Mrs. George Parkins, that good cook, has won a prize for a recipe for asparagus surprise, surprised asparagus, or something like that. From a magazine. Probably something she

Organized Labor Seen as New Power in Political Field

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON—Organized labor is looking for new fields, both political and industrial, to conquer. Large scale unionization by the C. I. O., with John L. Lewis and Sidney Hillman in the saddle, has not stopped with the steel settlement. The next move will be unionization of the huge textile industry.

More important, perhaps, is the prominence of organized labor in the political picture. Labor's Non-Partisan League, of C. I. O. unions and their affiliates, are campaigning to put over Roosevelt's plan to expand the Supreme Court.

All indications are that the Supreme Court fight will be close. There is a possibility that if Roosevelt wins, the support of labor will be the deciding factor. The claim of labor leaders that LNPL swung the elections in November, was not taken seriously. This time the Lewis labor group may find more credence for their claims.

THE prestige of the labor organization as well as that of Roosevelt will be affected if the Supreme Court plan is defeated. Such a defeat might mean that hopes for early wage and hour legislation would be futile. Success of the plan, conversely, would mean more power and more prestige both for the President and for John L. Lewis.

Roosevelt went into partnership with the militant labor group when he backed the Wagner labor relations bill, the Walsh-Healy bill, the Guffey coal bill, and the railroad pensions bill. In return, forming as near an approach to a labor party as anything in American history, the unions organized support for Roosevelt in the presidential elections. The President was far more helpful to the C. I. O. in winning the General Motors strike and in negotiating with the steel industry, than anyone will admit officially.

Now labor is battling alongside the President in the "fight of his life." If the President wins by only two or three votes, he obviously will be indebted to labor, and surely will reward his loyal labor troops by insisting on wage-hour and perhaps other labor legislation at this session of Congress.

LABOR'S Non-Partisan League claims to represent 2,500,000 organized workers in the C. I. O. unions, and other International, state, and local bodies. It has followed the plan, after its first public statement, of sending letters to all chairmen and members, as well as to all senators and congressmen. It called for mass meetings and asked officials it had supported to address them. Instead of distributing form letters to be mailed to congressmen, it has adopted "Let your congressman know how you feel" as a slogan.

From the button-holing of representatives on Capitol Hill by league delegates when they held their national convention here, it may be judged that of all the strong lobbies Washington has seen, this may prove to be the strongest of them all. Officials of the league promise "We've only started."

Chauncey Hager invented an ice cream freezer that fitted to the top of a washing machine, sold it to the Maytag people, thereby helping himself along the long path toward a doctor's degree.

One Auble invents an eye machine that is valuable, while another, in a totally different field, strives to make Valley county conscious of the future in artichoke growing. Then there is the potato chip field, as invaded by younger Auble girls.

Dr. Earl Wise holds an envied position as medical and dental officer aboard a liner between the west coast and somewhere over the Pacific.

William Carlton can make a jig-saw practically talk, and the whirlygigs he can cut out of wood! Frank Bailey, former Ord boy, is one of the modern heroes known as G-men, working for the department of justice.

Bert Cushing up and got to be president of a normal school, though he does not have a Smith Brothers beard, doesn't wear a black string tie, let his hair grow a la Edgar Howard, nor travel the streets of Kearney in an elderly frock coat.

His brother John Rounds falls off'n a mountain, thereby gets famous. Gladys Williams Rose, now of Burwell, invents clever gadgets for any time and place, recently demonstrating this anew with St. Patrick's day party favors and decorations for the table. Crawford Mortensen gets himself known as a time-table expert. His wife counters by becoming known as a traveller. —Irma.

Disciples See the Risen Lord International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for March 28. Text: John 20:19-29; 21:20-24 FOR the most remarkable testimony concerning the Resurrection of Jesus, one should turn to the records of His appearance to the disciples after His death. A later writer, referring to the facts of the life, death, and Resurrection of Jesus, said, "We have not followed cunningly devised fables." (II Peter, 1:16.) If the disciples had been devising fables in their story of the Resurrection of Jesus, they could hardly have gone about it in a poorer way. The stories of the post-Resurrection appearance of Jesus are so varied that they entirely dispose of the idea of any conspiracy on the part of the disciples to make up a story and all to tell the same tale.

BUT in addition to these, these stories of the appearance of Jesus to His disciples are among the most remarkable pages of the New Testament in their freshness and naturalness. Take, for instance, such a story as the meeting of the two disciples with Jesus and their conversation with Him on the way to Emmaus (Luke 24). The facts concerning that walk and interview take us into the most extreme spiritualistic phenomena, but the story is told with such simplicity that it bears in itself the evidence for the remarkable experience. It is not all the sort of thing, either in style or in its moral and spiritual content, that one finds in the general literature of supernaturalism. Much of such literature repels us by its crudity and credulousness, but the New Testament, in its record of miracles and especially in these stories of the Resurrection and reappearance of Jesus, moves us to faith by the simplicity, beauty, and spiritual quality of the record. This is true of all the post-Resurrection experiences, and it is particularly emphasized in this record in the Gospel of John. The story here is not based upon the remarkable physical fact that Jesus has come from the tomb, surviving the cross; but rather upon the reality of Christ, who is still with His disciples, commissioning them to go forth and fulfill His purposes of love and salvation in the world. He is still the Lord of Peace and Love, sending forth His disciples as the Father had sent Him, and breathing upon them the Holy Spirit. THE whole story lifts us above the level of miracle and physical wonder to the greater mystery of the continued and living divine presence, and the conviction that there is no force or power that can surpass or destroy the reality of Christ and all that He represents in human life and experience. This is the real Resurrection faith and the real reality of the Gospel. The emphasis is not upon physical wonder, but upon the spiritual reality of all that Jesus lived and preached of love and goodness and the grace of God.

Third of Nebraska Counties Represented Thursday at Hereford Sale Held in Ord; 64 Purebred Cattle Sold for $105 Average Exactly one third of the counties of the state of Nebraska were represented at the big Hereford cattle sale held at the Ord Auction company's sales pavilion Thursday. This was determined by a checkup of the car numbers on the cars parked in the vicinity of the sale yard. The above map shows vividly the drawing power of a quality sale properly advertised. All available parking space in the vicinity of the sale ring was taken. Shaded area of map represented in Ord Thursday.

To Homer Buell of Rose, Nebr., went the honor of buying the highest priced animal sold. He paid $325.00 for G. O. Clement and Sons' Domino Stantway, which the owners recommended as one of the best bulls they had ever put on sale. Second place honors went to Superior Stantway, a bull from the herd of H. C. Koelling and Sons, which brought $282.50 from Ed Dugan of Greeley.

Oread Domino 23d, owned by Mrs. Carl Koelling, took third place at $275.00 and was bought by Frank Wood and Jim Misko. Other high bidders and the price they paid were D. H. Deininger, St. Paul, $165.00; Elmer Hallock, Ericson, $156.00; John Meese and Chris Thomsen of Ord, and Mike Lacey of Spalding, $150.00 each; Thompson Cattle company, O'Neill, $155.00.

E. C. Weller of Atkinson bought the largest number of cattle, 6, for which he paid $660.00. H. C. Koelling and Sons, Dutch Nelson of Burwell and Fritz Bichel of Loup City each bought three head. Ed Dugan, Greeley; L. E. Ray, Rose; Clarence Price, Burwell; Dr. M. Hoops, Springfield, and William Kelly of Ord each bought two head.

Ed Lindstrom of Humboldt, S. D., was the only buyer from outside the state. His bid came in by mail. North Loup buyers were Ign. Pokraka, E. Lee, Bud Knapp, August Kriewald, John Kriewald and Morris Rendell. Burwell buyers included Lantis and Chaffin, Albert Nelson and Bill Klima. From Arcadia were Joe Lonowski and Robert Psota. Greeley buyers were Ken Long and R. H. McManus.

Local buyers not already mentioned were Charles Verzal, Elmer Hornickel, Jake Papirnek, A. W. Cornell and Art Mensing. Others from away included Jerry Novotny, Elba; Guerin and Son, Farnam; J. F. Forbes, Palmer; E. O. Stamaker, Stuart; A. Zaucha, Elba; Walter Pluge, Bartlett; Lewis Bros., Taylor; Frank O. Gutzman, Sargent; L. A. DeBauer, Schuyler; H. J. Williams, Florence; and P. F. A. Glimmer, Atton.

The consigners for the sale were G. O. Clement and Sons, George B. Clement, H. C. Koelling and Sons, Mrs. Carl Koelling, Will Koelling, George Bell, Cecil Severance, Samuel Hesselgesser, Anton Kapuska, Long Bros., Robert Noll, R. E. Psota, Jessie Engle and Sons, and Ed Caidin. A total of 64 head were sold, bringing an average of $105.00 per head.

The auctioneers were Thompson, Cummins and Burdick. James Petka of the First National Bank acted as clerk. Fieldmen were Charles Corkle of the Journal-Stockman and Henry Biedermann of the Nebraska Farmer. A field representative of the American Hereford Association was present and was very helpful in acting as ringman.

ORD ELECTRIC RATES REDUCED!

Effective on March billings, Electric Rates in Ord will be lowered by approximately 16 2-3rds per cent. This reduction will be accomplished by increasing the Discount for Prompt Payment of 20 per cent, now in effect, to

33 1/3 % discount

In other words, if your gross bill in March is $6.00 and you pay it before April 10, under the old rate you would have paid $4.80. Under the REDUCED RATES NOW GOING INTO EFFECT YOUR BILL, IF PAID BY APRIL 10, WOULD BE ONLY $4.00. The discount of 33 1-3 per cent will mean a reduction in your net bill of 16 2-3 per cent. This reduction will be effective on everything except Minimum Bills which will be 75c per month.

USE ELECTRICITY FOR ALL DOMESTIC PURPOSES

This rate cut is justified by increased domestic use apparent since the previous reduction was made and to hasten the acceptance of other labor saving home electric appliances, which Ord people can well afford to use under these low rates, the Electric Department of your city in cooperation with local electric appliance dealers, will actively push the sale of such merchandise.

ANNOUNCING APPOINTMENT OF A HOME APPLIANCE SUPERVISOR

We wish to announce the appointment of Mr. E. G. Paine, formerly of York, Nebr., as supervisor of our Home Appliance Department. Nine years of experience in this work enables him to recommend what appliances can economically be installed in your home to lighten the work of the housewife at a cost you can afford. From time to time this department will have Electric Shows, Cooking Schools and other interesting features for housewives and an aggressive campaign will be carried on to acquaint everybody with the advantages of using more electricity under Ord's extremely low rate system.

ORD MUNICIPAL ELECTRIC AND WATER DEPARTMENT

PERSONALS

Joseph Polan of Burwell added his name to the Quiz list this week. Miss Mildred Fiske, a teacher in the Grand Island schools, was a guest in the John P. Misko home over the week end. Mrs. Wm. Sack underwent a major operation at the Ord Hospital Thursday. She is recovering nicely at this time. Marvin and Donald Waterman spent Saturday night with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waterman. L. B. Woods of the Haskell Creek territory was a bus passenger to Grand Island Monday morning. Miss Myrtle Milligan was up from his school duties at Grand Island Saturday and Sunday visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Milligan. Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce are expecting their sons home for Easter, Paul, who teaches at Laurel, and Bill and his wife from Omaha. Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Waite and son and Mr. and Mrs. Jess Waddell of the Arcadia neighborhood, were Sunday evening visitors at the Willis Waite home. Charles Gross of Burwell, who has been receiving treatment at the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island for the past three weeks was released Monday. The storm Friday must have been more severe in Holdrege than here, as all the schools in the city were dismissed Friday afternoon because of the snow. Ches Chinn of North Loup visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. C. A. Gell in Gering last week. Mr. Chinn was on his way to California. Oscar Rose, oldest son of Gust Rose, arrived Sunday by auto from his home in Kellogg, Ia., and will visit here until Thursday. Mr. Rose has not been here to visit for four years. The Joe Knopik family who have been farming in the Comstock neighborhood the past year or two, have moved back into the Ord territory and ask to have their paper changed to Route 3. Miss Esther Jensen and her brother Arthur of Rosevale were guests in the home of their sister, Mrs. Nels Hansen Thursday and Friday. Arthur was having his tonsils removed by Dr. F. A. Barta. Russell Jones returned Monday from the Veterans' hospital at Leavenworth, Kas., where he had been for some time under treatment. He is still weak but is feeling much improved. Sunday a family dinner was had at the Walter Waterman home, Theron Beehrle being a guest also. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. James Arnold were visitors.

Phone Your News Items to No. 30

When out-of-town friends or relatives visit your home, the greatest compliment you can pay them is to have their visit mentioned in the columns of your home town paper. Just telephone No. 30, the Quiz news room. Mrs. Emma Overton who has been spending the winter at Lowry City, Mo., with her daughter, Mrs. Harris, writes that she has returned to her home at Bangor, Mich., and asks that her Quiz be sent there from now on. Mrs. J. M. Burkey of Grant was a pleasant Quiz visitor Monday. She has been staying in the home of her sister, Mrs. Ed Hollo-way for several weeks, but expects her people to come for her the latter part of this week and they will return home Sunday. J. J. Quinton came down from Burwell on the bus Monday morning. He has been working with the plumbing contractor, E. L. Rodwell, on the new school building for the past six months or more, but the work there is completed. Elmer Ollis has been in Ord for the past two weeks visiting his brothers, James and Will and other relatives. He was employed in Hastings for some time but plans to go west in a short time. He is not certain where he will locate. The potato crop in the Hastings and Ollis office is growing fine, thanks to the tender solicitation of Miss Twila Brickner, who admits planting the crop and tending it. The tallest vine, in fact the only one, measured 15 inches in height last Saturday, which is some potato for the time of year. Clifford Brown, of Broken Bow, is a new employee at the J. C. Penney Company store in Ord, replacing Harold Finch, who has resigned to accept a position as assistant manager of a Brown-McDonald store at Wayne. Harold has been in the Penney store here for many years, is popular in the community and friends are sorry to see him leave Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whelan went out to Cheyenne, leaving Ord by car very early Friday morning. At Broken Bow they ran into the snow storm and drove through snow all the rest of the way, the snowfall at Cheyenne being 9 1-2 inches. They went out to visit Mrs. Whelan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Weppner, and her brother, Al Weppner. They got back Sunday evening, finding the roads good all the way except on the gravel.

Artichoke Company Buys Ravenna Plant

These buildings, formerly the property of the Ravenna Creamery Company comprise the central Nebraska processing plant of the United Artichoke Company. In the upper picture are seen some of the buildings that will be used for storage of dehydrated tubers, while the large building in the lower picture will house company offices and machinery for processing the dried artichokes. L. J. Auble, local agent for the company, has taken several groups of Ord artichoke growers to Ravenna to see the new plant, which will when completed represent an investment of about $60,000.

District Judge E. P. Clements went to Greeley Wednesday to hold a session of court. H. C. Marks is improving after being confined to his home and bed by a severe attack of the flu. Ford Eyerly was up from North Loup Monday. Steve Grohosky came up from Scotia on business Saturday. Miss Elva Johnson spent her week end vacation at Nehawka getting back to Ord Sunday evening. George Round, Jr., is in Ord visiting relatives and convalescing from a recent operation for appendicitis. Mr. and Mrs. Rollin Dye are the parents of an 8 1-2 pound baby girl born Tuesday morning. All concerned are doing well. Mr. and Mrs. Lumir Zajicek and Miss Norma Turek of Crete returned to their home Sunday after spending a week visiting relatives. Miss Bess Krahulik returned Saturday from Omaha where she had been to see her sister Mildred who is in the Clarkson hospital. She is recovering from a recent operation. Mrs. Lores McMIndes went up to Atkinson Wednesday afternoon to visit Mrs. Albert McMIndes, returning Saturday morning. She reports Mrs. McMIndes enjoying good health. Virgil (Deacon) McBurney is loading up two carloads of iron which he will ship this week. Since starting in this line he has developed a rather extensive business. Clarence M. Davis and Ed Vogelantz were in Taylor Tuesday attending to matters in connection with the session of district court that Judge E. P. Clements was holding there. Mrs. John Lunney and two sons, Johnnie and Virgil, her son-in-law, Ralph Atkinson and two children, Merna and Bobbie, left this week for Missouri and Arkansas points, searching for a new location. As soon as they decide on a location, Mrs. Atkinson and two younger children and Mrs. Arnold and her two children will drive down to join them. Among those who attended the music festival at Arcadia last week were Miss Clara McClatchey, Mrs. Joe Puncocar, Mrs. C. J. Miller, Mrs. A. B. Capron, Mrs. Gould Flagg, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. O'Neal, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Mauer, Mrs. Hitchman and Mr. and Mrs. Will Ollis. A number of the ladies took their cars and took a load of school children with them which kindness was certainly appreciated. Mrs. Hall Barnes writes this week to have her copy of the Quiz sent to her new address, 127 W. Alger St., Sheridan, Wyo. She says they found a more desirable location. She also says that they have just had another seven inch snow, making a total of about 20 inches this winter, and that the farmers and ranchers are feeling good over the amount of moisture they have received.

Ord's Little "Sit Down" Striker—She Settled for Cookie

Little Ellen Satterfield, daughter of County Treasurer and Mrs. George A. Satterfield, was intensely in earnest when this picture was taken by LaVerne Lakin of the Quiz staff. Single handed, she was waging Ord's only "sit down" strike. When Ellen found the cookie can empty she placed it on the floor, sat down on it and said: "Sorry to have to tell you, mother, but this is a sit down strike." The incident got publicity in all the state papers and went out all over the country via Associated Press wires. County Judge John L. Andersen plans to attend the meeting of county judges at Lincoln next Saturday. This is an informal meeting to discuss matters of interest which come up in the course of office routine, as well as pending legislation. Duane Armstrong, a nephew of James B. Ollis of Ord, has been appointed service manager for the A. H. Jones Chrysler and Plymouth garage at Hastings, a nice promotion. He has formerly been located at Alliance. Young Armstrong is well known in Ord. Plenty of Snow in Idaho. Sam Brickner is in receipt of a letter from his sister, Mrs. Rose Howard, of Golden, Ida., in which she states that their section of the state had 117 inches of snow the past winter, and that it was still four feet deep on the level at the time she wrote. Golden is right in the mountains in the north central part of Idaho, and about the latitude of the north line of South Dakota. Even at that nearly ten feet of snow in one winter is enough for any community.

Christian Science Services. "Reality" is the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches for Sunday, March 28.

The Golden Text is from Psalms 90:1: "Lord, thou hast been our dwelling place in all generations." A passage from the Bible in the lesson-sermon is from 1 Chronicles 29:11: "Thine, O Lord, is the greatness, and the power, and the glory, and the victory, and the majesty; for all that is in the heaven and in the earth is thine; thine is the kingdom, O Lord, and thou are exalted as head above all."

A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, reads: "To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by peckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is. . . . No wisdom is wise but His wisdom, no truth is true but His truth, no love is love but the divine, no good is, but the good God bestows." (page 275).

Great Shortage of Rooms. Every week dozens of people—strangers coming here to work on the irrigation project—visit the Ord office to consult advertising columns in hope of finding rooms or apartments. Anybody with accommodations to rent should be able to rent them without difficulty if they will advertise them in the Ord. Right now several individuals and a number of families are seeking accommodations. Let people know what you have to rent.

Davis & Vogelantz, Attorneys. In the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

IN THE MATTER OF THE APPLICATION OF E. L. VOGELANTZ, ADMINISTRATOR DE BONIS NON OF THE ESTATE OF FRED A. BUCHFINCK, DECEASED, FOR LICENSE TO SELL REAL ESTATE.

ORDER TO SHOW CAUSE. Now on this 23rd day of March, 1937, this matter came on for hearing on the petition, under oath, of E. L. Vogelantz, administrator de bonis non of the estate of Fred A. Buchfinck, deceased, praying for the license to sell the following described real estate, to-wit: Part of Lots 1 and 2, in Block 12, of the Original Townsite of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, described as beginning at the Northeast corner of said Block 12, and running thence west 115 feet, thence south 25 feet, thence east 115 feet, thence north 25 feet to the place of beginning, and the South half of Section 28, Township 6, Range 41, in Chase County, Nebraska, for payment of debts and expenses of said estate since there is insufficient personal property to pay the same.

It is, therefore, ordered that all persons interested in said estate appear before one of the judges of the District Court in and for Valley County, Nebraska, in the District Court room in Ord, Nebraska, on the 7th day of May, 1937, at the hour of ten o'clock A. M., or as soon thereafter as the matter can be heard, to show cause, if any there be, why a license should not be granted to said administrator de bonis non to sell said real estate for such purpose. A copy of this order shall be published four successive weeks in The Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper published at Ord, Nebraska.

EDWIN P. CLEMENTS, Judge of the District Court. March 25-4.

Davis & Vogelantz, Attorneys. Order For And Notice Of Hearing Of Final Account And Petition For Distribution. In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska. (The State of Nebraska,) ss.

Valley County. In the matter of the estate of John Skala, Deceased. On the 22nd day of March, 1937, came the executor of said estate and rendered final account as such and filed petition for distribution. It is ordered that the 15th day of April, 1937, at ten o'clock A. M., in the County Court Room, in Ord, Nebraska, be fixed as the time and place for examining and allowing said account and hearing said petition. All persons interested in said estate, are required to appear at the time and place so designated and show cause, if such exists, why said account should not be allowed and petition granted.

It is ordered that notice be given by publication of a copy of this Order three successive weeks prior to said date in The Ord Quiz, a legal weekly newspaper of general circulation in said county. Witness my hand and seal this 24th day of March, 1937.

JOHN L. ANDERSEN, (SEAL) County Judge of Valley County, Nebraska. March 25-3.

Davis & Vogelantz, Attorneys. NOTICE To Thilie Haba, Louis Haba, her husband, Anna Dykast, Fred Dykast, her husband, Albert H. McMahon, McMahon, his wife, first and real name unknown, Merrill Pierce, Catherine Pierce, his wife, Louis Anderson, Anderson, his wife, first and real name unknown, Joseph B. Wood-and Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Helen Stichter attended a family dinner Wednesday at Della Manchester's in North Loup, celebrating the 40th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCall. Ed Jefferies, LeRoy and Vernon came Sunday from Oshkosh, after their household goods. They were over night guests at Archie Jefferies'. Ed says he thinks they will move to Payette, Ida. Mr. and Mrs. Charley Stichter and his sister and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stichter and children were over night guests at Will Wheatcraft's, Thursday night. Friday morning Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stichter and two small children left for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bolin and from there, to Washington where they expect to make their home. Phillip Mersny, Jr. is beginning to get around a little since injuring his leg some weeks ago when a toy cannon exploded. Everett Williams accompanied a group of ag boys and their teacher J. A. Kovanda, to Broken Bow Friday. The team that judged grain took 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes. Harold Finch and Miss Betty Upton were week end guests of his sister, Mrs. Ina Collins. Harold leaves in about a week or ten days for Wayne where he has a clerking job with the Brown McDonald Co. Harold was born and grew up on Davis Creek and has many friends who dislike to see him go but hope this move is for the best and that he will like his new job. The Furtig sisters were supper guests at Louie Axthelm's Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. George Falser and Eugene and Esther Rowe and Sharon spent Wednesday at John Falser's.

Ducks Going North, Spring Must Be Here

Even a snow storm last Friday failed to halt the northward migration of ducks and geese which had been under way several days and is still continuing. Thousands of ducks, mostly mallards and pintails, have been frequenting the North Loup river for ten days and people from Ericson say ponds in the Cedar river valley, as well as the river itself, have been "black with ducks." A few geese have been seen also.

Although sight of so many migrators has made the trigger fingers of countless nimrods itch it is thought most local hunters have been obeying the law. Both state and federal regulations protect ducks and geese in spring and penalties for shooting them are most severe.

Royal Kensington.

Mrs. Russell Waterman entertained the Royal Kensington club families at an all day meeting Thursday. Ten members were present, and Mrs. Sam Guggenmos was a visitor. Officers for the coming year were elected, as follows: Mrs. Nina Waterman, president; Mrs. Earl Smith, vice-president; Mrs. S. I. Willard, secretary-treasurer. Dues for the coming six months were paid. The delegates gave the lesson on "Planning the Leisure Hour".

Amazing Success Greets Adrienne

Smart Women Thrilled With New Harmonized Cosmetic Ensembles

"Harmony from head to toe! That is the beauty ideal of Adrienne, Livingston of New York in presenting her Adrienne Scientifically Harmonized Cosmetics. But even Adrienne herself is astounded at the way they have caught popular favor. She underestimated the real need for this new, revolutionizing type of cosmetics—creams, powders, lotions and make-up aids scientifically harmonized with each other, with the complexion, with the costume, in a complete beauty ensemble. The response has been overwhelming. Hundreds every day turn from antiquated make-up to assure themselves of smart new beauty by using Adrienne Cosmetic Ensembles. Ask your Rexall Druggist to help you choose your Adrienne Ensemble. You can get the complete ensemble at a price often paid for a single jar of cream!"

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Lemons have a refreshing flavor and add a tang to any meal and have the advantage of being available in winter when so many fruits are not.

Lemon Cake. Mix one cup sugar with one cup sour cream, two eggs. Then sift two cups of flour with one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda and one teaspoon baking powder.

Lemon Filled Cake. Combine one and one-half cups sugar, two-thirds cup butter, one cup milk or water, three cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon vanilla and one-half teaspoon almond extract.

Lemon Sponge Cake. Beat two eggs in a cup and fill with sweet cream, add one cup sugar, two cups flour, one teaspoon soda, two teaspoons cream of tartar, flavor with lemon.

Mrs. Belle Taylor, Sabetha, Kas. Date Filling. Stone and cut up two cups of dates into small pieces, add one-half cup powdered sugar, two tablespoons lemon juice, one-half cup whipped cream. Mix well and spread between layers.

Lemon Jelly Roll. Beat four egg yolks until light colored, add one cup sugar, one cup cake flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder, one teaspoon lemon extract, two tablespoons hot water. Lastly add the stiffly beaten whites of four eggs, bake at 350 degrees F. for eight minutes.

Lemon Sponge Cups. Cream two tablespoons butter, add four tablespoons flour, pinch of salt, five tablespoons lemon juice, grated rind of one lemon then stir in beaten yolks of three eggs mixed with one and one-half cups milk. Fold in the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Pour into custard cups and set the cups in a pan of water and bake about 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

Magazine Honors Mrs. George Parkins

Mrs. George A. Parkins, 2312 M. Street, Ord, Nebraska has just been awarded a Certificate of Recipe Endorsement by Better Homes & Gardens for her recipe, "Surprise Asparagus."

This certificate, which brings national recognition to Mrs. Parkins is given by Better Homes & Gardens only to distinguished recipes which pass its Tasting-Test Kitchen's high standards for dependability, excellence of taste, and family usefulness.

Mrs. Parkins' recipe follows: Surprise Asparagus.

1 No. 1 can asparagus, 4 slices buttered toast, 4 poached eggs, 1 1/2 cups medium white sauce, 1 1/2 tablespoons tomato catsup, 4 tablespoons grated cheese.

Make nest of asparagus on each slice of toast and place poached egg in center. Pour combined white sauce and catsup over egg and sprinkle with cheese and dash of paprika. Place under broiler until cheese melts. Serve immediately. Serves 4.

Mrs. Vermillion Is 94, Arcadia's Oldest

Arcadia—(Special)—Oldest resident of this village and one of the oldest in Valley county is Mrs. Mary Jane Vermillion, who on Feb. 6, 1937, celebrated her 94th birthday at her own home here. Many friends called on her that day, as well as on the day preceding and the day following her birthday, to extend greetings and express wishes that she may live to enjoy many more anniversaries of her natal day.

An adventurous, self-reliant life has been Mrs. Vermillion's. Born Feb. 6, 1843 in Hillsboro, Ind., her early years were spent in that state and when she reached maturity she was married to Mr. Vermillion, who became a Civil war soldier and died at quite an early age.

After his death, in 1889, year of the Indian uprising, Mrs. Vermillion came alone to Nebraska, hoping the climate would prove beneficial to her health. She settled on a farm of her own about 26 miles from Hay Springs. Her nearest neighbor lived three miles away.

MRS. MARY VERMILLION.

As a pioneer western Nebraska ranch owner Mrs. Vermillion did all the work usually done by men. Often she drove a team and wagon to town after supplies, posts or lumber but although she arrived home after dark many nights she never had a moment of fear. She always gathered and cut her own wood and often gathered loads of cow chips so as to have a big supply of fuel ready for the blizzards which often lasted for days.

Mrs. Vermillion drove miles in cold winter weather to attend church socials, driving a big strong young horse to a top buggy that was a man's job to handle. She loved to entertain and would cook and take a buggy full of food for a church supper, driving alone to and from church.

After a few years Mrs. Vermillion sold this place and bought a farm closer to neighbors and there also she enjoyed entertaining and having company, frequently having as many as 40 neighbors and friends to cook and bake for. Cheerful, jolly and of pleasing personality she made friends readily.

After disposing of her own farm Mrs. Vermillion for many years cooked for a large ranch. While there she set out a lot of trees, carrying water for them while they were getting rooted. Today the trees are so large they tower above the ranch house.

From this ranch Mrs. Vermillion went to the sandhills and homesteaded, building a sod house on which she did most of the work herself when past 65 years of age. For four years she lived in this place alone, two miles from a neighbor, never having a fear of being ill or that anything could happen to her. Indians passed her home one night but because she had no light burning they didn't notice the house and she wasn't molested, she recalls. About three miles from her place neighbors had built a fort as protection against Indians but it was never needed.

After selling her homestead Mrs. Vermillion bought a home in Alliance, living there until she began to fall in health and wanted to be near her granddaughter, Mrs. Albert Strathdee of Arcadia. She came here sixteen years ago.

Since coming here Mrs. Vermillion has taken an active part in church work, entertaining church organizations often until about a year ago, since which time she has been confined to her home most of the time.

In December, 1935 her only brother, William Wright, of Hillsboro, Ind., ten years her junior, came to Arcadia to visit her at the home of the Strathdees, where she was spending the winter. When he returned home he went by airplane from Omaha but three weeks later was stricken with paralysis and passed away.

Since the spring of 1936 Mrs. Vermillion has occupied her own home and done most of her own work, assisted only by Dotty Rambo, who stays with her.

Her interest in life is shown by the fact that at the age of 92 she enjoyed an airplane ride. She has one daughter, Mrs. Bebee, mother of Mrs. Albert Strathdee, who lives with another daughter, Mrs. Jack Bigelow, of Omaha, and is in poor health.

Mrs. Vermillion herself is bright and cheerful, recognizing and welcoming friends the minute they step into her home. As widow of a Civil war veteran she draws a pension of $40 monthly, upon which she subsists with the addition of her savings from years as a homesteader and farmer.

She is one of the pioneer women who deserve gold medals for courage and self-reliance.

Ord Sang In Morning. Ord appeared on the day's program at 10:15, with the exception of the band which played on the evening bill. The program of the Ord musical organization was as follows:

Orchestra—"Così Fan Tutti" by Mozart; "Gypsy Trail" by Pischel. Soprano Solo—"Il Baccio" by Arditi, Dorothy Auble.

Boys Glee Club—"Dance My Comrades", by Bennett; "Passing By" by Burling.

Tenor Solo—"Hope" by Powell Leonard Sobon.

Girls Glee Club—"Fairy Pipers" by Brewer; "Calm Be Thy Sleep" by King.

Band—"Amparito Roca" by Texidor; "Daphnis" by Holms.

Over 130 Ord high school music students took part in the music festival this year, all of them being transported to the scene of the event by private cars.

List of Musicians.

Three students, Helen Work, Opal Miller and Laurene Wolf, were unable to attend because of illness.

These Subscribers Took Quiz 25 Years

About twenty-five years ago the above men, Nels Knudsen and Guy Abrams, were attending a sale about three miles northeast of Ord. The photographer got them together and took the picture. Today Mr. Knudsen is located on a farm near Elyria, and Mr. Abrams address is Route 8, Lincoln. Both of them have taken the Quiz all these years.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Much publicity has been given to hybrid corn. Farm papers have carried frequent articles applauding its superiority. Favorable results have been reported from experimental tests with hybrid corn throughout the cornbelt. Agricultural colleges unanimously agree that good hybrid corn will outyield the old fashioned kind. All of which makes the average farmer wonder if perhaps he isn't missing out on something.

Hybrid corn would probably not be a very lucrative investment for a dry land farmer in Valley county. The seed is too high. It would cost at least ten dollars a bushel more than ordinary seed corn. It would produce about fifteen percent more, or three bushels extra per acre, on the basis of the average yield for the county. This increase would do little more than pay for the additional seed cost.

Under irrigation, hybrid corn ought to be a paying proposition, although it has not yet been tried here. A safe plan would be to list a few rows of several new strains and check the yields of each in the fall. A farmer had better go slow in dropping a good home-raised variety of corn. The hybrids can only be used for seed once.

Hybrids aren't good or bad in themselves. A careful breeder can develop strains of hybrid corn that will outyield the best open-pollinated kinds by over ten bushels per acre under the right conditions. An unlucky breeder may evolve a hybrid that is poorer than the corn now used.

Facts of D. L. Williams Fire.

To Mrs. Tom Williams the Quiz is indebted for a copy of the Monmouth, Ore., Herald containing all the facts relative to the loss by fire of D. L. Williams' business there during the holidays while he and his wife were visiting in Nebraska. The Fix-It Shop, as the place was called, was set on fire by Carl Nelson, a former employ of Mr. Williams, who was apparently disgruntled because of losing his job for drunken habits. He set the fire while intoxicated, and told several people about it before he became sober, so the case was clear against him. He not only damaged the building and stock but the fire for a time threatened the Monmouth hotel and other buildings in adjoining lots. The roof of Wallajah hall, a girls' dormitory, caught fire from the blaze, and was extinguished with difficulty. As a direct result of the fire Kenneth Roth, a 22 year old youth, was severely injured in a car wreck which followed, and after being put to bed, and while apparently out of his head, shot himself with a 22 rifle, causing his death. And all because a drunk wanted to get revenge on an employer who had fired him. He got his revenge, and 3 years in the state penitentiary.

As New Prosperity Billows Over Steel Industry

Mighty giant of activity is the nation's steel industry these days. Above, great plants echo the surge upward, reflect the story of new production records. Outstanding news in the steel industry is the raise in wages granted by many of the major companies and recognition by U. S. Steel of John L. Lewis' C. I. O. Goal of the C. I. O. is complete unionization of the great industry, estimated to include 450,000 to 500,000 workers.

It's a Highway Paved With Gold!

Connecting Julian and Ramona, Calif., in the heart of San Diego county's mining region, this highway is literally paved with gold. Constructed in 1926, it was found recently to assay $7 a ton. Material for the road was obtained from a quarry, and Fred Koelke and Orval Hammer are shown here searching for gold-bearing quartz on the quarry dump. County supervisors said it would not pay to tear up the road and sell the ore.

It's a bit difficult to steer this little porker, but that's the fun of it, Mrs. Paul Tison finds. Mrs. Tison is heading her entry into line for the spring "Pork Derby" held at Pinehurst, N. C. The derby proved that pigs, after all, "is pigs."

Best Performers in 1936 Movies

No. 1 actress and actor of 1936 are Luise Rainer and Paul Muni, above. Given the coveted award of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, Miss Rainer was cited for her portrayal of Anna Held in "The Great Ziegfeld." Muni won the award for his characterization of Louis Pasteur. Frank Capra was honored for his direction of "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," while Walter Brennan was cited for his work in "Come and Get It."

Not a City; It's a World Trailer Convention

This looks like a small town, but it's not—at least not a stationary town. It's the annual international convention of trailer users parked for business at Sarasota, Fla. More than 1400 trailers, housing 3500 persons, are shown here, representing every state and several foreign countries. Lower left, one of the delegates does a bit of pressing in the trailer community house. And, at right, a trailer wife cooks while the convention goes on.

RA Will Make Loans To Some New Clients

According to local RA director Lorez McMindes the RA will be in position to make a few new loans, because of a recent ruling of the national RA Funds approximating $1,700,000.00 which had originally been set aside to carry on the budgeted farm loan program through the months of May and June, are made available at once to meet spring needs.

"Only those farmers who are potential rehabilitation clients are eligible. Some standard rehabilitation clients whose loans have been based upon farm and home management plans will be given additional aid. Supervised credit as a means of farm rehabilitation is the goal," McMindes says.

Farmers who are eligible under the new ruling fall into two classes:

1. Those whose crop production needs have been financed by the emergency crop loans of the FCA but who need additional feed for subsistence livestock other than work stock, or a small amount of recoverable goods.

2. Farmers who have no FCA loan and are in need of feed, crop production needs, and/or a small amount of recoverable goods. A rejection from Farm Credit Administration will be required in such cases, but rejection itself does not mean that the farmer can get an RA loan.

"Because of limited funds, large loans for refinancing old indebtedness or other major outlays involving great expense will not be granted. Perhaps the greatest test of eligibility is whether the applicant farmer is one who ordinarily could be rehabilitated with a loan for the purchase of equipment, livestock, seed or other immediate farm necessities."

Realizing what the funds available would not begin to cover the demand from all sections of the four-state region, instructions to field workers emphasized that only those who gave the best indication of being able to rehabilitate themselves through a small loan be accepted.

THE COW EXCELS.

"The cow," said W. D. Hoard, "is the foster mother of the human race. From the day of the ancient Hindoo to this time have the thoughts of men turned to this kindly and beneficent creature as one of the chief sustaining forces of human life. I never look at a cow but I think of her with humility and a feeling of awe and inspiration."

She produces a superior food; it is well balanced, is all digestible and is the best carrier of the minerals and live-giving vitamins essential to growth, health, and reproduction.

She best conserves the roughages of the field and the by-products of the grains for human food, making useful to man the 75 per cent of crop growth that is otherwise not suitable for human food; and in doing so only 11 per cent of her feed is usable by man as compared with 40 per cent for the steer and 75 per cent for the hog.

She is the most efficient animal in turning feed into food, it being variously estimated that she will require only one-half to one-sixth as much feed to produce a given quantity of food as does the steer.

She conserves the fertility of the soil and requires of the farmer that kind of crop culture that is best for the land; she builds up rather than destroys the productivity of the earth.

She utilizes waste, labor and waste land, and she provides for the distribution of labor throughout twelve months of a year. She provides a steady income throughout the year that makes for safe and sane farming.

She supplies American agriculture with its largest single source of income and one-fifth to one-fourth of its total income, and at the same time furnishes the American consumer with one-fourth of his food.

She develops intelligence and manhood in her keeper. "The basis of modern dairying," said Dean Henry, "is the maternity of the cow. Whoever studies dairying from this point of view will grow into a better dairyman."

She rewards her owner according to his industry, his intelligence, and his keen perception of her needs and how to develop her. So far as her influence prevails there is contentment, humility and sweet homely life.

'Play Day' In Ord Monday, April 5

Plans for the annual spring girls' "play day" which is to be held at Ord this year, are being made in an extensive manner by the Ord high school G. A. A. department this week. This "play day", to which all the schools in the Loup Valley high school athletic association are invited, will be held on Monday, April 5. The following towns have been invited and will undoubtedly attend: Sargent, Comstock, Loup City, Dannebrog, St. Paul, Burwell, Taylor, Arcadia, North Loup and Scotta.

At a meeting held Monday evening it was decided that the theme of this large meeting of girls would be "Comics." Working hand in hand with this theme, a "Popeye-Wimpy" hot dog stand will be erected and numerous other funny paper characters will take prominent parts in the all-day program.

Ord Wins One-Act Play Honors 8th Consecutive Year

Declam Sub-District Meet In Ord Tuesday; Ord 2nd in Sweepstakes.

Presenting a fast moving one-act comedy, "With the Help of Pierret", an Ord high school play cast composed of Barbara Dale, Laverne Lakin, Armona Beth Achen and Eleanor Wolf swept through a list of nine competing schools to take championship play honors for what was unofficially reported as the eighth consecutive year for the local school.

Falling to secure another point, Ord dropped into second place in the sweepstakes award, Scotia high school taking top honors by winning over Ord with the small margin of 9 to 8. Arcadia, with six counters, took third position.

Well over 100 individual contestants from the District 4 region were entered in the sub-district declamatory contest held in the Ord high school auditorium all day Tuesday. Towns represented included Greeley, Burwell, Wolbach, Greeley (Sacred Heart), North Loup, Scotia, Arcadia, and Ord.

Edward Betz, of the Hastings college speech department, acted as judge of all events, selecting the winners of both the day and evening programs. The executive committee of the contest included Doris Steeves, Arcadia; C. C. Weinert, Greeley; and C. C. Thompson, Ord.

Barbara Dale was a double winner for Ord, taking first place in the dramatic reading division and also being a member of the championship play cast. Ord winners who qualified for the district contest to be held at Gibbon on April 9 were Laverne Lakin, Armona Beth Achen, Eleanor Wolf and Barbara Dale. Richard Burrows lost a close decision in the extemporaneous speaking division and was awarded a second place position. In the 1936 contest Burrows took first place in this division. Other Ord contestants who competed but failed to place included Virginia Sack, oratorical; and Joy Loft, humorous.

Carolyn Kinsey of Arcadia won first place honors in the humorous division with the selection "An Encounter with an Interviewer." Robert Pasdera with "Ropes" won the oratorical division. Richard Kerrigan was awarded top honors in the original oratory division while Leonard Tuma of Scotia was winner of the extemporaneous speaking event.

Standings of schools in awarding of the sweepstakes trophy were as follows: Scotia 9; Ord 8; Arcadia 6; Wolbach 6; Greeley 4; Burwell 3; Greeley (S. H.) 3; North Loup 1.

Physician Heal Thyself.

These words were spoken by the great High Physician many years ago. This rebuke has come down through the ages, and at last to me. It is not an easy thing, when applied to one's self. Perhaps I have not been a very patient sufferer, but my suffering has been severe.

The broken bones did not cause so much pain but the torn ligaments and injury to the nerve did. The nights—how long! I could not sleep. Just waiting for the dawn! That hour when those who sleep in bed, wake and turn on the other side to sleep again! It is the hour when most of us will die, because at that hour the tide of life is at its lowest ebb. The hour when most of us are waiting for the dawn to revive us, and one day the dawn will never come. Night after night I realized how my patients had struggled through the long hours, and how so many had waited for the dawn to revive them.

I have always said I wanted my flowers when I could appreciate their beauty and fragrance; and my songs when I could hear their melody. And so I want to thank all my friends, the church and the Sunday school, for so many beautiful flowers. I do not believe you folks want me to reduce, for I received so many boxes of candy, delicious home-made candy and from some of the finest candy shops between California and Omaha. And the good things to eat, cottage cheese and jams and jellies, sausage, chicken, guinea hen and turkey, fish and pastry. And not the least enjoyable, sandwiched in between, were dozens and dozens of letters, notes and cards of comfort and sympathy, some from patients years ago, whom I had lost all trace of. I shall never forget all your loving gifts of appreciation and sympathy. When I was a small boy I attended a camp meeting, and I remember the title of one of the songs which they sang, "Cast Thy Bread Upon the Waters, it Will Surely Return to You." This old song which had so little meaning to me as a boy, has revealed itself to me after these many years. There is an old, but true saying, "Know thyself". In the past, I have been too busy to know myself, but after I was forced to bed I had time to take stock and reflect over my life, and it has made a better man of me spiritually, if not physically.

One touching experience during my stay in bed, was a call one Sunday morning, of seventy-five children from the Primary Department of the Sunday school, who during their visit sang to me the songs I loved best to hear them sing. I am very happy in my church affiliation and fully appreciate the kindness and attention given me by the pastor and wife, and the church organizations.

I have always been very appreciative of the wonderful health and ability to work, which I have enjoyed continuously for the past thirty years. I like this little poem: "Some murmur when their sky is clear, And wholly bright to view, If one small speck of dark appear In their great heaven of blue; And some with thankful love are filed

If but one streak of light, One ray of God's great mercy glids The darkness of the night!"

2 Mid Six Track Meets Coming to Ord

At a meeting of Mid Six officers held at Arcadia last week, Ord was selected as the place for two Mid Six track meets to be held this year. Departing from the usual method of having only one track meet at which both the senior high and the junior high teams compete, the Mid Six officials decided to hold two separate meets. The senior high meet will be held on April 23 and the following day, April 24, a junior high school track meet will take place.

At the meeting, feeling ran strong for more junior high athletic meets and the possibility of holding a Mid Six junior high basketball tournament for the 1938 season was discussed pro and con.

Two new sports are being added to the Mid Six list this year. A tennis tournament will take place at St. Paul on May 11. High school golfers will get a chance to show their stuff in a golf tournament to be held at Broken Bow on May 5. These two events were regular features of the Loup Valley athletic conference several years ago but due to lack of interest, they were discarded. It was decided that no girls would be allowed to enter any of the Mid Six athletic events.

New officers for the conference were also selected for the 1937-38 term. New officers include Karl Pecht, Loup City, president; C. C. Thompson, Ord, vice-president; C. W. Lehman, Broken Bow, secretary and treasurer.

Obituary

Mrs. Cynthia King. Cynthia Annis Rasette was born April 30, 1874 at Hartford, Mich., and departed this life at North Loup on March 21, 1937 at the age of 62 years, 10 months and 21 days. She was the eldest daughter of William and Mary Rasette. When a child of 6 years she came with her parents to Nebraska and they settled on a farm in Springdale township near Ord. Here Cynthia grew to young womanhood. On Sept. 15, 1896 she was united in marriage to Elmer King. Two children came to bless this union, Wayne and Berenice. The husband and father passed away Sept. 12, 1933. Mrs. King has spent the past three years with her daughter Berenice. To mourn this death are the two children, Wayne King of Ord and Berenice King of North Loup and three grandchildren, Elizabeth Joyce and Raymond King, two brothers, Cyrelle Rasette of Grand Island, Will Rasette of Ord and two sisters, Mrs. Grace Swanson of Sidney and Emma Rasette of Ord, a stepdaughter, Mrs. Lena Rawles of Santa Ana, Calif., nine step-grandchildren, nieces and nephews and numerous friends.

She united with the Methodist church in her early days and remained a loyal, consistent member of the church up to the time of her death.

Funeral rites for Mrs. King were held Wednesday afternoon.

Sunday School Board Plans County Meet

The executive board of county Sunday schools met at the Gould Flagg home Monday afternoon to make plans for a county convention which will be held in Arcadia on April 20. The sessions will be held in the Arcadia Congregational church. The members of the county committee are Miss Clara McClatchey, Bert Cummins, Mrs. Edward Christensen and Miss Alice Johnson of North Loup, Mrs. Alfred Burson of Mira Valley, Mrs. Gould Flagg and Rev. Sidney L. McCaig, newly elected Methodist minister in Arcadia.

SOCIETY

Mayos 45th Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayo celebrated their 45th wedding anniversary at their home in Ord Sunday, March 14. Charles Mayo and Emma Kildow were married by County Judge Frank C. Cummins at Ord on March 11, 1892. Mr. Mayo still has a vivid recollection of the trip up from North Loup, which was made with a team and a two seated carriage. It was a cold day, and the party had to stop on the road and get warm at a farm house. Those who made the trip were the bride and groom, her sister, Bertha Kildow, his sister, Maude Mayo, his brother George Mayo and his future wife, Ollie Cress.

They lived on a farm a mile south of North Loup for a year, out in Davis Creek three years, just west of North Loup two years. Then they went to Missouri by the covered wagon route, coming back to North Loup after three years. They have made their home in this section ever since. Their children are Mrs. Ollie Hughes of Ord, Ruth of Chicago, Lloyd of Omaha, Mrs. Bert Mallory of north of Ord, and Margaret Landecker of California. Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Mallory helped plan the celebration, and were the only children able to be present. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cress and Ronald, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jackman and daughter Garnet, and Gladys Watts and daughter, Mary Jane, all of North Loup.

Club Meeting Postponed.

The meeting of the Elm Creek project club planned to be held at the Will Ollis home Friday, March 19, was postponed because of the snow storm. The meeting will be held next week, the date not yet being set.

Guests Thursday.

Thursday evening guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Turek, Jr., were Mr. and Mrs. Umfr Zurek and Norma Turek of Creston, and Mrs. Otto Turek and sons Carl and Ed. Misses Clara and Viola Gabriel of Comstock, Johnnie, Emma and John Weverka of Comstock, Louis and Edmund Kapuska, Joe Golka and daughters. The evening was spent in playing cards and visiting.

Contract Club Meets.

The Sunday evening Contract bridge club met this week in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leggett with all members present. Mrs. H. J. McBeth will be hostess in two weeks.

Helped Mrs. Trindle Celebrate Birthday.

Wednesday, March 17 was Mrs. Lova Trindle's 75th birthday and to help her spend the day happily a group of friends visited her taking material for a lovely lunch and spent the afternoon with her. On the following day, March 18, Mrs. George R. Gard took a luncheon to Mrs. Trindle's home and invited several of the latter's friends to spend the afternoon. Mrs. Trindle enjoyed both days very much. She has been in poor health for many months and bedfast most of the time but now is able to walk with the aid of a crutch. She received two delicious birthday cakes last week, for which she is duly grateful.

Party for Mrs. Thorne.

Tuesday was Mrs. Laura Thorne's 74th birthday, and a party of friends and relatives planned a surprise for her. They met at her home Tuesday evening, but the element of surprise was lacking, as a lady who could not come called Mrs. Thorne early and expressed her regrets. Those who were in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Clement and family, Mr. and Mrs. Maurus Jorgensen, Mrs. Nels Jorgensen and Mina, Mrs. Jil Tedro, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Gilroy and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keep. Mrs. Thorne received many lovely gifts.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Konkoleski entertained at their home Sunday evening at a 7:00 o'clock dinner in honor of the 20th birthday of their daughter Josephine. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Konkoleski, Louie Kaminski and Misses Pauline and Madalan Konkoleski.

Celebrates 81st Birthday.

D. A. Moser celebrated his 81st birthday March 14, and Mr. and Mrs. Levi Hunter were down from Burwell to visit him. He enjoys fairly good health but is not able to be out in bad weather, so he spends his time at an unusual hobby, that of cutting quilt patches. He has done a great deal of this work, and is an expert in planning a quilt.

G. H. Bridge Club Meets.

The G. H. Bridge club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Lores McMinds. Mrs. C. A. Anderson was a guest, and won high prize. Second high went to Mrs. J. D. McCall. Next meeting will be with Miss Norene Hardenbrook.

New Bridge Club.

The wives of several of the engineers now working on the irrigation and power project in Ord have organized a two table bridge club, and are meeting each Thursday afternoon. As yet they have not selected a name for their club.

Delta Deck Meets.

The Delta Deck club met Tuesday, March 25, with Mrs. Ed Shoemaker. The roll call will be "Your Favorite Recipe."

The O. O. S. club met Thursday, March 18, with Mrs. A. W. Pierce with most of the membership present. Guests included Mrs. Otis Hughes and Mrs. Anthony Thill. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Archie Bradt.

The Social Forecast.

The Westminster Guild will meet Friday evening at 7:30 with Mrs. Gould Flagg. The program will consist of special music and a drama, "The Five Thousandth Lesson." There will also be election of officers.

The Royal Kensington will meet Thursday, March 25, with Mrs. Ed Shoemaker. The roll call will be "Your Favorite Recipe."

Do not forget that the Inter-club contest at North Loup will be held at the Methodist church Monday, March 29. Joillate will meet next Monday evening with Mrs. K. C. Lewis as hostess.

Loan Associations Opening Office Here

E. W. Youell, field auditor of the Federal Land bank of Omaha is in Ord at the present time helping install a uniform plan of filing and bookkeeping. The Ord unit is not a consolidation of the several loan companies, but rather a co-ordination, the object being to cut down the overhead, insure more efficient handling of loans and place the responsibility of servicing with the various units. The intention is that each unit shall have the same system.

At a meeting held Febr. 14 the units from Spalding, Greeley, Valley, Garfield and Loup were all invited to participate in the formation of a joint management unit, but the units from Loup and Garfield failed to come in at that time. It is hoped that they may come in later. Spalding, Greeley and Valley went ahead and formed the joint unit, which is known as the Ord Joint Management Unit of National Farm Loan Associations. The office will be in the room until now occupied by the WPA sewing project in the back part of the Keown building on N St.

3 More Traffic Fines.

While traffic violators are few and hard to find in Ord since the campaign started two weeks ago, the officers picked up two more during the past week. They were Chester L. Weekes, who was fined $5.00 and $6.50 costs for speeding. March 17. Earl Davis, ice cream man from Grand Island, ran a stop sign March 16 and was assessed $1.00 and costs of $4.50, all of which was paid.

Ord Aggies Place In District Contest

Journeyed Ord Future Farmers Eleven to Broken Bow last Friday where they participated in the district livestock and crops judging contest. Anselmo, Broken Bow, Burwell, Litchfield, Loup City, Ord, and Sargent arrived for the agriculture contests and all were snowed in. The Ord group secured rooms at the Arrow Hotel, while the other schools remained over night in the Broken Bow school house.

Ord's contestants won first in crops judging and second in livestock judging, being defeated by Sargent in the latter event. Leroy Zikmund received high individual honors in crops judging while Harvey Krauhlik and Robert Miller looked good for Ord in the judging of livestock. The poultry judging contest was won by Burwell. Ord did not enter this event.

G. I. Defeats Ord.

The Grand Island Knights of Columbus team defeated the Ord aggregation Sunday by a score of 36 to 17. The Ord team was game, but were outclassed by the faster boys from the big city. This is the second regular game for the present lineup of the Ord team. Those who played for Ord were Zulkoski, Melia, Waldmann, Sedacek, Barta, Osetowski, Furtak Kruml and Parkos.

Inter-Club Contest Postponed.

The Inter-Club contest which was scheduled to be held at the North Loup Methodist church on Thursday, March 25, has been postponed because of the Elgin Worrell funeral, and will be held at the church Monday, March 29.

Accidents Decreasing.

The total number of accidents for Nebraska for the week ending March 13 was 245, as compared with 264 for the previous week. The number of injured was 155, as compared with 184 for the previous week. The number of disabled was 2, and number of deaths 9 as compared with 4 and 11 for the previous week. This is one of the best showings made so far this year, and is doubtless due to the publicity campaign for safety that is being carried on by a number of different organizations in the state.

—Mrs. Edward Kokes was taken by ambulance through the snow storm last Friday to St. Francis hospital in Grand Island, where she underwent a major operation Saturday. As this is written she is reported recovering nicely.

Freak Facts About Nebraska Cities

In view of the fact that Nebraska recently celebrated its seventieth anniversary of statehood, the following facts about the state might be of interest. First, I wonder why they put Western, Nebraska, in the eastern part of the state? Also, why did they put Westpoint at a point still further east. Likewise, who was so foolish as to put Center over toward the northeast corner? Central City, however, is more centrally located.

Examination shows that we have a Sargent, but no Corporal; a Page, but no Paragraph; a Valley, but no Hill; a Republican City, but no Democrat City; a Rising Bend, but no South Bend. North Bend is farther south than South Bend, Ind. Our capital was named for Lincoln, and we also have two members of his cabinet, Seward and Stanton, represented in the towns of the state. Further, Campbell was chief justice of the supreme court at the time.

While there are several hundred Nebraska cities, we have only one Nebraska City. There are ancient names such as Antioch, Hebron and Syracuse; classical names, Beatrice, Homer, Arcadia, Seneca; old English names, Albion, Scotia, Hastings; places made famous by Napoleon, Elba, Waterloo, St. Helena; famous historic places, Belradeg, Geneva, Oxford, Plymouth, Pruge, and Ravenna; then there is Columbus, who was born at Genoa; also that later explorer, Marquette.

There are Royal and Imperial, as opposed to Liberty, too much of which produces Lynch law. Also that lover of Liberty, Henry, and that great man of the past century, Greeley. Trees are represented by Laurel and Oak, and birds by Eagle. For watches you have your choice of Elgin or Hampton. We have one Friend, but no Enemy. Great inventors are Edison and Ericson. What policemen we have are represented by Dix.

The only foreign nation represented is Peru, and there is the great composer, Schubert. Vocations are Taylor, Potter, Miller and Hooper, but what does a Pilder do, or a Spencer, a Snyder, a Pender or a Schuyler? Four makes of auto are shown, only one of which is still being made. They are Dodge, Maxwell, Oakland and Mead are natural formations. Well known girls are Alma, Elsie, Merna, Rose and Amelia, and their boy friends, Chester, Herman, Arthur, Bennett and Carroll.

Entertainment is furnished by the celebrated team of comedians Laurel and Hardy and also by (Gracie) Allen, Taylor and Crawford. Great generals are Grant, O'Neill, Ord, Fremont and Kearney while those of the earlier days were Wayne and Arnold. Well known names of Revolutionary times are represented by Franklin, Trenton, Lexington, Concord and Benedict. Two famous comedians are Decatur and Nelson, and equally famous are the Indian chiefs, Ogallala, Osceola, Tecumseh and Red Cloud.

Indian tribes survive in the names of Arapahoe, Omaha, Otoe and Ponca. Nebraska's own great frontiersman, Cody, is also immortalized. Two great writers, Coleridge and Emerson, are represented. Auburn is the only out and out color, but there are also Red Cloud, Blue Hill, Blue Springs, Brownville and Greenwood. A reminder of the world war comes in Verdon. In fact, this could go on for some time to come, but what's the use. Nobody will read it anyway.

Warrants Cost Too Much.

Why do some county officials insist on buying printing from the Omaha Printing company and other supply firms even when such firms charge higher prices than the work could be bought for elsewhere?

Brief Bits of News

—Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lewis and son Kirk were Broken Bow visitors Sunday.

—Joe P. Savage of Columbus was a Sunday visitor at the Mike avage home.

—Dean Duncan went over to Broken Bow Monday to act as judge at the district music contest.

—Miss Eleanor Keep went to Lincoln Friday to be present at the wedding of a friend. She returned Tuesday.

—Leonard Cronk and his mother, Mrs. Frank Kasal, have returned home from Rochester, Minn., where Leonard underwent medical examinations.

—The children of George Anderson enjoyed a visit from their grandmother, Mrs. J. N. Johnson of Burwell, during the week end holiday.

—Ernest Jensen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Jensen, and Grace V. Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Hughes, were married March 16 by Rev. Mearl C. Smith, at the Methodist parsonage.

—Mrs. Fannie Peterson, who has been in California for nearly three months has returned, and says that she enjoyed her trip very much. She met and visited with a large number of former Valley county people while away.

—Jack Tunnicliff has been confined to his bed for several days with a bad cold and the flu. Wednesday Miss Oliver came up to help take care of him. His place at the Safeway is being supplied by the company and he will be back on the job as soon as he is able.

—Mrs. Percy Benson and daughter Lorene returned last week from Lincoln where Lorene was treated by an orthopedic specialist. He believes Lorene's foot is normalizing rapidly and says she will have to return for only a few more treatments.

—Jack Jeffords was over from Broken Bow Tuesday, bringing his brother Bill over to repair the Aerona of Chris Hald of Burwell, which was damaged in a crackup some time ago. Bill has been entrusted to O. K. the Omaha Printing company's bill because the price was 119 per cent too high. E. M. Jacobberger, chairman of Douglas county supervisors, demanded that Magret O. K. the bill in spite of the price. Magret still refused.

Now the board may pay for the warrants without Magret's O. K. Magret's experience in this instance tallies with results of county audits made by the Federation of Nebraska Taxpayers Leagues. These audits revealed that counties have paid to Omaha Print and other "combine" printing firms prices as high as $50.00 per thousand for warrants when they could have been bought for as little as $10.00 per thousand.

Proceedings of the City Council

March 5, 1937. The Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, met in adjourned regular session in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Mayor Flagg presided. City Clerk Rex Jewett recorded the proceedings of this meeting.

The Mayor directed the Clerk to call the roll. The Clerk called the roll and the following Councilmen were present: Val Pullen, Guy Burrows, Frank Sershen, Joe Rohla, Jay Auble, Anton Bartunek.

The minutes of the proceedings of February 5, 1937 and of February 25, 1937 were read, and by motion ordered placed on file.

The report of James B. Ollis, City Treasurer was read, and by motion ordered placed on file. The applications of the New Cafe, Jack Riley, Mary K. Sharp Johnson's Cafe, F. E. McQuillan Frank Kasal, Freda Buchfinck and Ign. Gzinski for beer licenses were read. It was moved and seconded that the applications be accepted, and a date set for a hearing thereon.

The date of March 22nd at which the Council will convene to hear and consider all objection to granting any or all of the said beer licenses, together with arguments for the granting of said licenses. The date of publication of the notice of said hearing to be published in the Ord Quiz, a legal newspaper on the date of March 18, 1937. Motion carried.

The application of Ed Michalek and of Frank Fafaita for a Liquor License were read. It was moved by Bartunek and seconded by Burrows that the application of Ed Michalek be approved. Carried. It was moved by Sershen and seconded by Burrows that the application of Frank Fafaita be approved. Motion carried.

The matter of the City purchasing a tractor from Warner Vergin for use in the Ord City cemetery was brought up and discussed. It was moved by Burrows and seconded by Pullen that the tractor be purchased, the sum being $50.00. Carried.

The matter of revising the electrical rates of the Municipal electric plant was brought up. The matter was discussed pro and con. It was moved by Rohla and seconded by Bartunek that the electrical committee meet with the Commissioner with a view to revising the rates for electrical energy, the committee being empowered to act. The matter of employing an extra man to further the sales of electrical appliances and devices was also left to the committee. Motion carried.

The matter of the City purchasing a new fire truck was brought up and discussed. A list of specifications was presented by A. J. Shirley and Cecil Clark, in behalf of the firemen. These were read and discussed. It was moved by Burrows and seconded by Pullen that the City Clerk advertise for bids on a fire truck for the City of Ord, said sealed bids to be filed with the city clerk, and opened on the evening of the 26th day of March, 1937. Motion carried.

It was moved by Burrows and seconded by Pullen that the Mayor appoint a committee to prepare the specifications and advertisement for the truck. Motion carried. The Mayor appointed as the committee A. J. Shirley, Ralph Norman, Guy Burrows and Frank Sershen.

The matter of appointing Judges and Clerk for the forthcoming municipal election was brought up. The councilmen from each ward conferred, and made the following appointments: First Ward—Judges: L. D. Pierce, Warren Lincoln, Andy Cook. Clerks: Mrs. Ernie Hill, Bess Petty.

Second Ward—Judges: Frank Beran, John Haskell, A. W. Pierce. Clerks: Mrs. Wm. Ramsey, Mrs. Wm. Tunnickliff.

Third Ward—Judges: A. S. Purcell, Anton Bartunek, E. W. Gruber. Clerks: Mrs. E. Achen, Mrs. Wm. Zablouddl. It was moved and seconded that the foregoing appointments be approved. Motion carried. Whereupon the Mayor announced that the introduction of Ordinances was now in order. Whereupon it was moved by Councilman Sershen and seconded by Councilman Pullen that the minutes of the proceedings of the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska in the matter of passing and approving Ordinance No. 107 be kept in a separate and distinct volume known as "Ordinance Record, City of Ord, Nebraska," and that said separate and distinct volume be incorporated in and made a part of these proceedings the same as though they were spread at large herein. The Mayor instructed the Clerk to call the roll. The Clerk called the roll and the following was the vote on this motion: Yeas—Pullen, Sershen, Burrows, Auble, Rohla and Bartunek. Nays—

None. Motion carried. The matter of a swimming pool was next in order. Mr. Donnegan came before the Council and talked on pools and costs. The suggestion was made that the matter of a pool be placed on the ballot for the coming municipal election, in order that the voters might express their opinion. Moved by Burrows and seconded by Pullen that this be done. Motion carried. A communication of the Ord Fire Department was read, announcing the recommendation of Cecil Clark as chief and the election of Cecil Clark as president and J. F. Hoffman as secretary-treasurer.

Scene of Texas School Explosion Killing 425

A terrific gas explosion, 10 minutes before dismissal time, left this scene of grim disaster at the New London, Tex., Consolidated School. At least 425 students and teacher were killed and 125 injured when gas, accumulating in the school's basement, suddenly ignited and shattered the two-story structure into a mass of tangled wreckage. Bricks and timber and debris were hurled hundreds of feet. The force of the explosion was felt three miles away. Children were horribly mangled. More than 1000 students were in the building at the time. One of the richest schools in the world, it is situated in the heart of the East Texas oil fields, and has 11 wells on its own grounds.

An Apology Is Due.

Last week the Quiz published a picture and a story of a car accident in which a car went through the bridge railing west of Burwell Sunday, March 14. The story was correct in every detail, but the Quiz should have given Louis Moore, Burwell druggist, credit not only for taking the picture, but also for finishing it and getting it to us on the early mail Monday. The service was certainly appreciated and the failure to give credit due was inexcusable.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman, Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Clifton, James Bell and Miss Dorothy Goodrich were Grand Island visitors Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Springer were in North Loup Monday afternoon. Mr. Springer has obtained a position in the Johnson elevator and they are moving to North Loup, going into the house being vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Noyes.

Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Miller entertained a number of friends and relatives at their home Saturday for dinner in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Stude, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jefferies.

The regular meeting of the North Loup Community Service club was held Monday night. Supper was served at the ideal cafe when the meeting was adjourned to the I. O. O. F. hall where the meeting was called to order by the president Dr. G. B. Clifton. The rural school track meet was explained by Supt. Bailey and the date given as the 23rd of April. The club voted to sponsor this and W. H. Vodehnal C. D. Knapp, F. N. Reddon, W. D. Bailey and A. C. Hutchins named as a committee to handle the meet. An Easter Egg hunt for the children was brought up, discussed and rejected. Clean-up week for North Loup in cooperation with the Legion Auxiliary was discussed and the club voted to cooperate in this and Geo. W. Hutchins and W. W. Willis named as the committee in charge. The topic of a band for North Loup this summer was left to the band committee of C. D. Sayre, Otto Bartz and Albert Babcock. They are to investigate and bring their findings before the next meeting. The membership committee of W. H. Vodehnal, M. R. Cornell and R. H. Knapp was appointed. The feed committee for the next meeting is Rev. Stephens D. S. Bohrer and Roy Cox.

W. O. Zanggers took Sunday dinner at the W. H. Vodehnal home. Mrs. Genevieve Hoepfner received a letter from her mother stating that they have purchased a deluxe house trailer and after Dr. Goodrich retires sometime in the early summer they expect to spend about a year traveling. They expect to spend some time in North Loup.

Helien Jane Hoepfner was hostess Tuesday night to the Standard Bearers.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Willoughby and Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby spent Tuesday in Grand Island. Art Willoughby attended the International Harvester school and the others spent the day with Mrs. Logan Garrison.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Charlotte and Paula spent Monday in Grand Island. James Bell rode as far as Grand Island with them on his way back to his work in Hastings.

Mary Francis and Betty Jo Manchester went to Omaha Saturday evening where they are spending several days visiting friends.

About forty people composed of the entire music department of the high school and teachers attended the music festival in Arcadia last Thursday. From one to one thirty in the afternoon they put on their program which consisted of several chorus numbers, solos by Florence Hudson, Muriel Bartz, and Edna Hawkes, two piano solos by Florence Hudson and Martha Miller and a couple numbers by the girls' sextette. In the evening the Girls' Glee club sang two numbers, and finished the day by listening to the very good concert given by the Kearney State Teachers College a capella Choir.

Friends were deeply grieved to learn of the death of Elgin Worrel at his home Saturday. They had had word that he had been ill with pleurisy but that he was better. Friday afternoon his father received word that he was worse and they left that afternoon in company with Mr. and Mrs. Orin Manchester. They got there about midnight Saturday night but death had come before they got there. Last fall Elgin had a farm sale and moved to his new home in Illinois. The body is being brought back to North Loup and the funeral will be held here Thursday. The obituary will be printed next week.

Relatives have received word that a daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. E. E. (Pete) Sayre of Escondido, Calif., on March 19th. Her name is Darlene Donna and she weighed seven pounds, two ounces.

Mrs. Cynthia King died at her home in North Loup Sunday night. She had been sick for a long while. She moved to North Loup only a few years ago. She is survived by two children, Bernice of North Loup and Wayne of Ord. Funeral services will be held at the Sowl Funeral home Wednesday afternoon and burial made in the Ord cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Christensen and Mrs. Harlon Brennick and Jenean spent Monday in Arcadia.

An American Doctor's Odyssey.

By Victor Helser. Here is the remarkable personal story of a distinguished American doctor, who for more than thirty years has traveled about the world, his life dedicated to a single idea—the application of knowledge to prevention of disease. Backed by the great Rockefeller Foundation he has probably inaugurated more movements to save and prolong human life than any other person. This story of Dr. Helser's fascinating medical adventures has recently received the national award for 1936 as the most outstanding biography. It can be found at the Ord library.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

With all ideas of a spring vacation dispelled, senators of Nebraska are working rapidly toward the time they will have to approach some of the session's major problems, trusting that just as soon as they are out of the way, adjournment will be in order.

Although standing committees are still setting dates for hearings on such legislation, and the latest date to appear is well past the middle of April, it was apparent that May 1 adjournment was not an impossibility. Ten days are required under the rules before final action can be taken after a bill has been acted upon by committee.

Senators are being polled individually on their reaction to unicameral as a whole, but the conductors of the survey decline to give partial results. Likewise, another enterprising journalist is seeking to learn whether the cost of this first unicameral legislature is going to be much less than the average run of two-house legislatures of other years.

One of the major problems yet to face the senate is the employees insurance bill. Another is the tie-up between the federal government and the state with regard to soil conservation and then, the all-important appropriations measure still is not in shape for senatorial action.

While these measures may be listed as all-important, senators generally agree that virtually every bill still unacted upon is of "equal importance." It must be remembered that some senator had his name to every bill that was introduced.

Following a series of unofficial and more or less secretly conducted caucuses, it became apparent that a compromise had been reached in the fight over Governor Cochran's gas tax bill that met defeat several weeks ago, then was thrown back into the legislative ring and has been bouncing around between the senate chamber and committee rooms since.

The compromise it appeared at first glance will cost the state a million dollars a year in loss of highway funds from the federal government. The governor wanted 4 cents of the nickel gas tax left for highway department disposal as at present and wanted to split the fifth penny 60 percent for highways and 40 percent for state assistance. The compromise is on a 50-50 basis where the fifth penny is concerned.

The suggested 50-50 agreement on the governor's plan drew approval from 29 senators, the number needed to pass the bill with the emergency clause. If they stay in line the state's gas tax will be boosted from 4 to 5 cents for a 2 year period ending June 30, 1939.

Half the additional penny will be available for matching federal allotments offered for farm to market roads and half will go for assistance to needy. Under the compromise the nickel gas tax would, on yearly basis provide $1,100,000 for relief; $1,100,000 for farm roads; $3,500,000 to counties for roads and $5,500,000 to state highways.

Loss of the cool million to the state apparently will result because the plan, differing from Cochran's, intends to allocate the additional half-penny for roads to the various counties for matching the federal government's farm to market road dollars.

The original plan of the governor was to take the money needed for farm road matching from the permanent one and one-half cent tax going to the counties. He proposed to give a portion of the additional cent not to the counties, but to the state highway department for meeting regular federal-aid dollars.

Thirty-three to nine with Senator Regan absent by illness was the vote on passage of LB 1, Senator Haycock's delinquent tax bill, permitting payment of back taxes without back interest and penalties before December 31, 1938.

The law carried the emergency clause and became effective when signed by the governor.

It was the third such measure passed by Nebraska legislatures. Those enacted in the 1935 regular session and the special session following were declared unconstitutional by the state supreme court, the first on technical grounds, the second for numerous reasons including one providing for installment payments.

Proponents of the Haycock measure contend the unconstitutional features of the 1937 edition have been overcome as embodied in the measure now law. Real and personal taxes are effected.

Delinquent taxpayers are given an opportunity to pay up without paying back interest and other penalties, providing they pay before December 31, 1938. If they met their delinquent tax payments the day the law became effective with the signing by the governor, they paid no interest whatsoever, merely the tax principal. Interest at 7 per cent is to be charged on the principal from the date the law became effective.

In event the tax delinquent falls to pay before the expiration date—December 31, 1938—then all the back interest, penalties, etc., plus the 7 percent interest accruing during the period of grace, will be charged against the principal. The pending battle by those who frowned on the measure as discriminating against the citizen who pays his taxes promptly, failed to materialize and the bill slid through so easily that even proponents were a bit astonished.

A bill, LB 524, appropriating $15,000 to study state and county departments with a view of ending the trend of "going crazy on government" has been reported upon favorably by the senate appropriations committee. The measure provides for a non-salaried commission of 5 "public-spirited" persons chosen by the legislature to investigate governmental agencies and report recommendations to the 1939 legislature. The $15,000 is to hire employees to dig out information.

Amos Thomas, introducer met agreement of the committee when he declared: "Government activities in the last few years have been increasing by leaps and bounds. We are simply going crazy on government, and if we continue at that rate we will have to build an annex to the state capitol."

Averring that the legislature can only scratch the surface but with the aid of a fact-finding body something in the way of reform could be accomplished, Thomas said: "Something must be done to simplify government and reduce its cost. If we could eliminate non-governmental activities we could maintain strictly governmental matters with less money. We have some obligations to meet such as education and old age assistance, and we must curtail elsewhere."

The itinerant truck regulation bill, LB 50, brought oratory but no action in committee of the whole in a preliminary discussion. Opponents declared its provisions were equal to "restraint against trade" legislation. Amendments were adopted which would make itinerant truckers pay a license fee of $25 for each truck, said fee going to the school fund; pay an occupation tax of $10 for each truck, said fee going to administration of the law; post a $250 indemnity bond to assure fair dealing and protect against bad check writing. In all the amendments the original provisions were tempered materially. Proponents of the measure said it was urged as protection to small town merchants from the "unfair and ruinous competition of irresponsible trucks."

They assured the senate the bill was amended to exempt household medicine salesmen who have done a great job of flooding members with protesting petitions against it. An attempt to kill the bill failed as did Senator Wells' amendment to exempt haulers of agricultural products. Progress was reported.

Death, 22 to 12, dealt by the senate to the free bridge resolution blasted for the time being at least hope of Missouri river cities to make the 7 existing toll bridges free in the near future. The resolution proposed the appointment of a 4-man committee from the legislature and the highway department to confer with similar committees from Iowa and South Dakota to see whether a plan to make toll boundary bridges free was feasible. Principle opposition came from good roads men from outside. They contended that the purchase of the bridges would take money from the gasoline fund needed for interior roads.

The much-debated firearms licensing measure died in committee of the whole 20 to 14. The bill would have required owners of guns with barrel lengths of less than 17 inches to obtain permits for possession from county sheriffs. Another permit would have been required to carry concealed weapons and gun dealers would have been required to obtain sale permits. Senator Worthing contended the bill had been amended to exempt sportsmen and farmers, and that farmers would be forced to carry a lot of red tape. Opponents said the law would not accomplish its purpose—keeping guns out of the hands of gangsters, and thugs. Said Senator Von Seggern: Laws already on the books make it unlawful for concealment of weapons.

Herbert Ford, treasurer and state superintendent of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon League, addressing the league's board of directors said that while the general ability of Nebraska's unicameral legislature is high, the body is characterized by caution and timidity.

"The feeling prevails that its chief task is to perfect a smooth piece of legislative machinery, do as little disturbing of existing laws as possible, and then go home," he declared. "Killing bills rather than passing them seems to be the chief sport."

Ford said that two years after repeal is insufficient time to assemble a legislative body that will show much aggressive leadership against liquor.

Law making in Nebraska may become an annual proposition. Little opposition was voiced when the legislative committee sent to general file John Norton's LB 394, which provides for an extra session of the legislature during the year alternating with the regular session, providing a majority of the legislators is not opposed to it, also for the calling of special sessions by a majority of the senators.

Senators unofficially and out of session took cognizance of a newspaper report from Norfolk which said approximately 650 farms in 5 northeast Nebraska counties representing 104,000 acres, still were without tenants for 1937, mainly because farmers are unable to finance seed and feed loans. The counties surveyed in the gathering

Ord High Dramatic Club Is Accepted By The National Thespian Organization

The Ord high school Thespian club has just received word that their application for membership in the National Thespian unit has been accepted and the Ord organization is now a full-fledged member of the national Thespians. Only six other high schools in the state of Nebraska are charter members of this organization.

This club was organized early in the school year under the direction of Miss Ellen Servino, dramatic coach, who is the person who put over the idea of having such a club. Pioneer members of the club, those who founded the local organization, are Laverne Lakin, president; Armona Beth Achen, vice-president; Barbara Ann Dale, secretary; Leonard Sobon, Evelyn Sharp, Lavern Duemey, Irene Whiting and Dorothy Auble.

Their first appearance on the stage was at a special convocation held on October 7, when they presented a one-act fantasy "Figureheads." The annual Christmas play was sponsored by the Thespian club, "Why the Chimes Rang" being presented. The big project of the year, the milestone in club history, was the presentation of a complete three-act play, "Spooky Tavern," on the night of Jan. 29. It was a huge success with the largest crowd ever to turn out for a home talent play being recorded.

The first annual dinner and initiation of the Thespians took place on December 7, when seven new members were taken into the club membership. New members include Frances Duemey, Clay of the newspaper's report are Knox, Boone, Cedar, Wayne and Madison.

Hearings have been held on LB 257 which would permit rural districts to organize fire prevention and fire fighting districts and to make a .10 levy for their support. The districts, so the bill provides, may purchase their own fire-fighting equipment or arrange with the nearby towns for emergency service.

Obituary

Prokop Casteck, Sr. To Mrs. J. W. Penas of Burwell the Quiz is indebted for the following obituary of her father, Prokop Casteck, Sr., of Schuyler:

Prokop Casteck Sr., passed away at his home in Schuyler, Neb., on Monday evening, March 1, 1937 after a short illness due to old age. Mr. Casteck had enjoyed unusually good health for one of his advanced years, retaining all his faculties until the last ten days before his death. He was born at Caslava, Czechoslovakia June 24, 1844, and died March 1, 1937 at the age of 92 years, 8 months and 7 days.

When just a youth he served in the Austro-Prussian war, where he was rewarded for his bravery. In May 1869 he was united in marriage to Miss Anna Hobza who preceded him in death Sept 3, 1927. To this union were born seven children, two sons passing in infancy in their native land and a daughter, Mrs. Mary Dobry who passed away in Phillips, Alberta, Canada, last August.

Those surviving are Prokop Casteck Jr., Mrs. Anna Konicek and Miss Elizabeth Casteck, all of Schuyler, and Mrs. Frances Penas, of Burwell; there are also 11 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren besides a host of friends. When a young man Mr. Casteck sought adventure and emigrated with his wife and four small children to the United States, where he became naturalized and made the United States "His Country."

He settled on a farm in Colfax precinct which was his home until 1906, when he retired and moved to their newly erected residence in the 3d Ward in Schuyler. Here they celebrated their fiftieth wedding anniversary in 1919. Mr. Casteck led a quiet unassuming life, always honest in all his dealings with his fellow men. His many years were rich in experiences in patience, endurance, hard labor and hospitality. He reaped a harvest of respect, good-will, good health and a long life.

had broken the game laws. The man saw him about the same time and the marathon which ensued would have been a sweet race to watch. The pursued had more stamina than the pursuer, and finally vanished over a distant hill. Owen said he didn't mind being outrun so much, but that the man had four big Canada geese in one hand and a shotgun in the other, and was wearing hip boots besides. The Wahoo Democrat draws a moral that the hound was running for a pinch while the hare was running for $100.00 and his 'shot-gun'.

A total of 805 prizes are soon to be distributed to the farmers who in 1936 did the best jobs of keeping farm accounts. This is a yearly occurrence and is put on under the auspices of the International Harvester company. The year begins March 1. The winners for the year just closed are about to be determined. Ogden Riddio of Frontier county was the winner for 1934, and Ray Lewandowski of Sherman county won first prize in 1935.

A new Linograph typesetting machine has been installed by the Greeley Citizen, replacing the old model which has been in use for 14 years. The machine is equipped with 9 faces of type, all the way from 6 point to the large letter head sizes.

A car driven on the wrong side of the Columbia river highway on several curves attracted the attention of a state policeman, according to the Hood River News. The driver, W. H. Coffey, was found to be too drunk to drive a car, and drew a sentence of 30 days in jail, a fine of $150.00 and costs, and lost his driving license for one year. They really crack down on them in Oregon, but when assesses five and costs for excessive speed they sure put up a squawk.

A family living near Central City is puzzled over the return of a pet crow that they had some 14 years ago. They have no way of being certain, but the present crow appears very tame and acts much as the one of salivated memory did. Parrots live a long time, why not a crow.

The Kerrville, Tex., Mountain Sun tells of a dentist there who is building a new $4,000.00 home and who put over 4,000 extracted teeth into the concrete of the foundation. Why not? He got the money to build the house by extracting the teeth. The collection was made up of windfalls, premature teeth worn out teeth and teeth that died of structural defects.

A check made out 15 years ago by an Omaha firm in favor of a Tekamah man came to light a few days ago after being mislaid all that time. The owner sent it in and in due time got the fifty cents it called for.

March 1st is known as moving day in Nebraska, and it is literally so in respect to the Holt county officials, who were moving into their new court house at that time. The move was made from the old courthouse to the new $110,000.00 structure in the adjoining city.

A. M. Bennett of Loup City has been cutting hair and trimming peffers in Loup City for a number of years. He has scraped the first down from the faces of many of the city's coming citizens, and has kept his mouth shut while doing so. Bennett has also acquired a knowledge of veterinary surgery and has brought back many a steed from a horses' heaven for his neighbors. But the crowning achievement of his career came recently when a stranger in town came and asked him for advice as a consulting attorney.

The city of Ravenna was out of juice for nearly an hour recently when a man moving a log line ran the boom into the power wires, shoving them together and causing a short. While no system is fool proof, the good old municipal plant idea of Ord and Burwell gives the best service of any that has been invented to date.

THIS IS THE CRITICAL PERIOD for OLD BOSSY

Probably she has been poorly wintered, didn't get much, if any, grain. But she kept right on trying and has been doing a good job of converting hay into cream checks. (Let's hope they were Ord Cooperative Creamery Checks.)

NOW SPRING IS HERE But the grass isn't green yet and it will probably be two months before the cows can go out in the pasture and really fill up. In the mean time Old Bossy will be eating hay and probably not such good hay either.

Butter-fat is a GOOD PRICE . . . and indications are that you will get good money for cream during the next several months. If you let Old Bossy get thin she won't give much milk and when these cold wet rains fall on her back she will need a little extra vitality, otherwise she may get stuck in the mud and die. If that happens, you get the hide but no more CREAM CHECKS and no more nice calves.

Now this Brainstorm is not being written by a Brain-truster to show you how to get more by producing less. It is being written for the sole purpose of calling your attention to the fact that it will pay you to give your cows a little special feed and attention from now until the grass is good.

If you are out of grain, if your hay is not so good, you can increase your cream check and improve the physical condition of your cows by feeding from one to two pounds of cotton seed cake or meal to each cow every day until grass comes on. The cost of this concentrated cow food is only about 2 1/2c per pound. If you feed the cow two pounds a day it will cost you 3 1/2c per week. We believe that your increased returns will be twice that much.
