

Celebration Plans Taking Form; $800 Will Be Expended

Flag Named Committees
Monday Evening; All Day Program Planned.

Two meetings of the Ord Booster Club were held during the past week, with the result that plans for a real Fourth of July celebration are taking definite form. The finance committee, with B. A. Boquet as chairman and W. A. Thodal as very active assistant, completed canvassing the town, with very gratifying response on the part of the business men. Mr. Thodal reported at the meeting Monday night that the amount raised would be $800.00.

At the meeting Friday evening at the Legion hall general chairman Gould Flagg announced the following sub-committees: Publicity, John L. Ward; concessions, John Klein; parade, Alfred Wiegardt; decorations, Syl Furtak; dances, Joe Puncocchar; finance, B. A. Boquet; sound, F. E. McQuillan; athletics, L. J. Auble; free acts, Edward Kokes; miscellaneous, L. Shunkweiler and A. W. Pierce. Tentative estimates on expenditures for several items were as follows: advertising, $50.00; parade, $75.00; dance, $35.00; band, $35.00; contests, $50.00. The latter will include tug-of-war, and various races and contests for the kiddies as well as the grown-ups. It is likely that arrangements may be made with a professional decorator to dress up the business places, as this method produces the best results with the least outlay.

Two propositions that were held over for consideration Thursday evening were the athletic show and the fireworks display. There seemed to be a large number of opinions as to the type of show to be put on, and also the amount of money to be expended on it. A vote showed a fairly even division as to whether to put on an athletic show, and also a divergence of opinion as to which would draw the best, boxing or wrestling. This will be settled definitely Thursday night.

Two questions faced the proponents of fireworks: the question of keeping within legal limitations, and the question of whether they would be worth the money expended on them. A number expressed the opinion that it would require too large an outlay to insure an adequate display. Then, too, with free acts a free dance, and an athletic show, there should be plenty of excitement for the evening. The complete program will be ready for next week's Quiz.

Knocked Senseless By Lightning Bolt

Knocked unconscious by a bolt of lightning which struck near him, Paul Waldmann of the German community laid 20 minutes in a drenching rain before he regained his senses to walk the entire distance to his home.

This strange incident took place last Saturday afternoon. While he was disking in the field with his six horse team, a raging rainstorm came up. Paul immediately unhitched his horses and started for home. As he was passing through the field gate a blinding flash of lightning tore out of the sky, striking near him. He was knocked to the ground—unconscious. The terrified horses scurried for home. Paul, after lying on the ground in the beating rain for what he estimates as 20 minutes, regained consciousness and staggered home in a daze, not knowing exactly what had happened.

Raymond, the younger brother, was working in an adjoining field and saw the flash of lightning. He nearly had a run-away, but finally succeeded in subduing his frightened horses.

Film Star's Brother To Lecture in Ord

Michael Brent, said by sponsors of the lecture to be a brother of Film Star George Brent, will lecture at the Ord opera house next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons. Brent is a food authority and lecturer on natural health and his talks are of interest to women only. The Natural Health Science Institute of America and Dr. Johnston's Health Home, of Grand Island, sponsor his appearances in this city.

Chamber To Hold Meeting Thursday

A general meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce will be held at the K. of P. hall at 8:00 Thursday evening, announces Secretary Alfred Wiegardt, and all members are urged to be present to help in consideration of several important community questions. H. J. Young, a representative of the Portland Cement Association, will be the chamber's guest speaker.

Capron to Locate At Seattle, Wash.

A. B. Capron left Wednesday of this week by auto for Seattle, Wash., accompanied by his eldest son, Joe. Mrs. Capron and the younger son, David, will leave Ord Saturday for a visit in Omaha and thence by train to Seattle.

Mr. Capron has made several trips to the coast before and says that the climate there is ideal for his health. He has secured a position with the Consumers Research Bureau in Seattle, a home building company. Capron will take charge of the insurance and title claims of the company.

Capron's Ord office will not be closed as E. S. Murray, an experienced real estate agent from Bloomington, Neb., will take charge during Capron's absence. Capron has rented his residence on the hill to Ed Paine for the duration of his stay in Washington.

Hoppers Eat New Corn; Use of Poison Is Urged By Dale

Free Gov't. Poison Arrives
Damage Flooding In.

Although recent rains have slowed up the grasshopper hatches somewhat, it is only a reprieve and County Agent C. C. Dale urges farmers to take drastic action at this stage in order to gain the upper hand over the hoppers.

To combat the hoppers the Federal Government will furnish poison bait free of charge to all farmers who wish to use it. A carload of poison has been ordered sent to Valley county by Federal authorities and should arrive the latter part of this week. Immediately upon arriving it will be mixed and ready for distribution to farmers at the small cost of mixing.

Reports of damage by hoppers have practically flooded the county agent's office the past week. In many places the hoppers are eating off the newly planted corn. This is indeed a serious situation and should be taken care of at once.

Every farmer in Valley county who is bothered with hoppers should get some of the poison bait as soon as possible and apply it to the places where they are thickest. Usually they are most prevalent in such places as fence rows, alfalfa fields and waste land.

The poison mixture consists of sawdust, bran and sodium arsenate. In figuring the amount of bait needed, one should figure from five to ten pounds per acre, depending on the nature of the soil to be treated. A heavier application than ten pounds per acre is a waste of material. Poison may be spread by hand or by the use of an endgate seeder. When using the seeder, the material must be forced into the soil in order to get an even application. Farmers who will need poison are requested to get in touch with their township committeemen or to make their requests direct to the county agent's office.

Ord Schools Hire Two New Teachers

Supt. C. C. Thompson announces that two of the three vacant positions on the school faculty list have already been filled.

Keith Wolfe, superintendent-coach at Bradshaw for the past six years will take over the position left open when Burdett Cowell resigned in the middle of the school term last year. A graduate of Peru College, he will teach several subjects in the junior high besides taking charge of junior high athletics.

Esther Schoenleber, a home economics instructor at Callaway high school for the past two years, will take over the open position left by Miss Mary Williams. One position remains to be filled, that of Miss Elliott, a grade teacher who will teach in Kearney high next year.

Half Inch Soaker Fell Tuesday Night

Another half inch of rain, coming in the form of a slow drizzle that all soaked into the earth, again cheered Valley county farmers Tuesday night. It seemed to be general over the county. Showers of brief duration had brought another half inch during the previous week, according to Ord rain gauges. Several communities reported 1 1/2 to 2 inches Saturday afternoon. A good crop of small grain is assured, alfalfa and pastures are looking good, a corn crop is on the way—in fact agricultural prospects here are booming. Total May rainfall here was 3.44 inches, Horace Travis reports.

Natural Amphitheatre at Cemetery Ideal for Memorial Rites

Standing and sitting on the higher ground to the west, a big crowd witnessed memorial services held at the Ord cemetery Monday morning, as this picture proves. At the right, in the bottom of the natural amphitheatre which is being improved yearly by the American Legion, can be seen the speakers' stand, trimmed with flags and bunting.

Ord Boys Plan To Attend C.M.T.C. Camp

Dr. J. G. Kruml announced this week that a number of Ord boys have taken physical examinations and are planning to attend the Fort Crook C. M. T. C. camp this summer. Those who have taken exams include Arden Clark, Ernest James, Dale Hughes, Don Tunnick, Bill Goff, and Raymond Tatlow. Clark, James and Goff have received their traveling orders from state headquarters and are already completing plans to attend the one-month session which starts July 2 and ends July 31.

Kruml says there is still time for any boys who may be interested in going to the camp to register, although this must be done immediately as registration will soon be closed. A larger number of Ord boys may go to the camp this year as the quota usually allowed Ord has been increased. This will be Bill Goff's second year at the training camp.

Old Age Grants Will Be Reduced To $12 Monthly

Legislature Failed to Provide
185 Qualified Here.

Announcement is made this week by Frank Kruml, county assistance director, that it will be necessary to reduce old age assistance grants paid in Valley county by approximately one-third beginning July 1, 1937. Mr. Kruml states that the reason for this is that the amount of funds appropriated by the last session of the unicameral legislature provided $63,411.52 for old age assistance in Valley county for a period of two years, beginning July 1, 1937. This makes an average monthly payment of $2,642.5. The present payments amount to approximately $3,400 a month, therefore a substantial decrease will have to be made in the assistance grants beginning July 1 to conform to the amount of funds available for this type of assistance. Mr. Kruml states there are 185 qualified old age assistance recipients in the county as of June 1, 1937, receiving an average grant of $18.30. With the amount of funds available and estimating a case load of approximately 200 cases for the next biennium, it will be possible to pay only about $12.00 per case as a general average.

In the aid to dependent children program, no reduction will be necessary outside of the current budget. At the present time there are 22 cases in Valley county with an average assistance payment of $28.40 per case.

The Unicameral made no provision for Direct Relief and that responsibility will now fall directly upon the county beginning July 1, 1937.

Recreational Project.

All boys and girls over the age of five who are interested in Recreational Work should meet at the Legion hall tomorrow (Thursday) afternoon from 2 to 4 o'clock.

Memorial Rites In Ord Monday Were Attended by 1,500

Natural Amphitheatre Which Was Beautified by Legion
Is Scene of Program.

Fifteen hundred people attended Memorial day services in Ord Monday morning held in the cemetery under sponsorship of the American Legion.

Held in the natural amphitheatre which was only recently lined with numerous small fir and elm trees by the Legion, the service was indeed a beautiful sight. The speakers stand, completely surrounded by spruce plants formed the center of interest. A public address system had been installed and the large audience was able to hear every word of the program.

At 10:30 the parade started from the north gate of Bussell park. Headed by the colorful high school band, the procession included the firing squad, Civil war veterans, Spanish war veterans, G. A. R. ladies, American Legion Auxiliary and American Legion members.

Entering the amphitheatre from the north, each division of the procession marched to its assigned place. Prayer was offered by Orville Sowl after which the band played "America." The G. A. R. ladies next gave their service, preceded by a trumpet duet by Edwin Hitchman and Lloyd Sack. The Legion quartet, accompanied by Mrs. Harry McBeth, appeared on the program at two different times. Members of the quartet include Dean S. Duncan, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Leroy Frazier, and Tom Springer.

After another selection by the band, E. L. Vogelzang introduced the speaker, Judge Paul N. Kirk of Grand Island. Touching upon the present condition of government and its tendencies, his address was given utmost attention by a very appreciative audience.

A salute to the dead was given by the Legion firing squad composed of Frank Kapustka, Alfred Wiegardt, Ross Lakin, Carl Dale, John Horn, Cash Rathbun, Jim Gilbert and the commanding officer, Emil Fafetta. The service was brought to a close with the sounding of taps. Legionnaires should be commended for both their fine showing and the fine manner in which the service was conducted. Special mention should be given to the band for its rendition of "Taps." This was a new arrangement and was played for the first time last year at Arlington cemetery.

New Abstractor Arrives.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Murray of Bloomington, Neb., arrived in Ord Monday evening and are for the present occupying rooms in the Mrs. J. H. Capron home. Mr. Murray is taking over the active management of the Capron company. He is a man of large experience in abstracting, real-estate, farm loans and insurance, and comes to Ord highly recommended. He has had 27 years active experience. They are looking around for a house to rent.

Ellis Carson Buys Coats Milk Route

Tuesday a deal was completed in which E. S. Coats & Son sold their milk route in Ord to Ellis Carson, of the Carson Dairy, who henceforth will deliver milk to the Coats' customers as well as his own. He will deliver milk and cream to about 300 Ord homes, constituting by far the largest dairy business in Ord.

Wayne Coats, who has been handling the route, expects to leave for Oregon in ten days or two weeks.

Morgan Crew Moves Office to Burwell

A number of Ord residents who had been renting rooms to members of the J. E. Morgan Construction Co., gang were holding vacant rooms this week as a result of the moving of the entire company to Burwell, where they opened their offices this week. The change in residence was made because of the fact that the ditch-digging is now going on much nearer to Burwell than Ord.

Twister Damages Welniak Buildings

Freak Storm Struck East of Elyria Saturday; 1 1/2 In.
Of Rain Fell Also.

A double garage, two hog houses and a chicken coop were totally demolished and a double granary moved from its foundation Saturday afternoon by a freakish wind storm which struck the Cash Welniak farm one mile east of Elyria about 3 o'clock. Only other farmers reporting wind damage were Henry Stara, whose barn was turned on its foundation, and Louie Greenwalt, who had some trees uprooted. In a strip 2 miles wide about 1 1/2 inches of rain fell Saturday afternoon. The storm was of cyclonic proportions only at the Welniak place. There the garage was lifted from its foundations and hurled fully 200 feet. A car inside was not scratched. A wagon and corn sheller nearby were damaged.

Welniak's house, located about 50 feet from the garage, was not touched. The Welniak family were in town during the storm and discovered the damage upon their return home. All damage except the garage was covered by insurance.

Rejects Good Appointment.

While visiting in Ord Monday Miss Ruth Bradt, of Lincoln, received notice of her appointment to a civil service position with the department of agriculture. Because she recently accepted an excellent position as secretary to Major A. R. Wellwood, supervising project engineer, PWA, Miss Bradt declined the appointment. She returned to her work in Lincoln Monday afternoon.

Golfers to Compete Sunday for Prizes

A local golf tournament open only to members of the Ord golf club will be held on the Bussell Park golf links this Sunday. About 60 people belong to the club and according to present reports a large percentage of these are planning to take part in the tournament. Numerous prizes are being offered by the club for the following events: First place, silver plaque; medalist, medal; winners of each flight and runners-up, dozen golf balls and also a leather jacket and a pair of golf shoes; hole-in-one, a new golf bag; first three performers to make birdies on hole No. 5 will be given polo shirts.

Among the strong contenders in the club for first place ratings are Jay Auble, Verne Weller, M. Biedmond, and Alfred Wiegardt, all of whom have been shooting exceptionally low scores on the Ord course this season. This is the first of a number of local tournaments to be held during the summer.

Hurt Twice in Week.

Davis Creek—(Special)—Troubles never come singly, thinks Orin Larsen. Last week he stepped on a nail and has been suffering with this painful injury. Saturday a white riding a pony the pony jumped into a fence with him, gashing his leg so badly that ten stitches had to be taken.

First Band Concert Given This Evening

The first of a long series of summer band concerts by the Ord municipal band is scheduled for this evening, concert starting at 8:00.

Director Dean S. Duncan requests that people attending the concerts keep as quiet as possible while a number is being given, especially vocal selections. He also requests that parents see that their children do not climb around the edge of the band platform. This not only bothers the players but it is also a dangerous place for small children to play.

Officers Banish All Marble Games; Bank Nights Close

Gambling Devices Not Games
35 Are Taken Out.

Giving proprietors 24 hours to remove all marble games, punchboards, and other gambling devices, officers made a clean sweep of Valley county late last week and as a result of this clean-up, not a single such device may be found in operation in the county.

Officers ran into no difficulty in making proprietors give up the marble games. In fact, most of those who had them in their stores were more than glad to get rid of them. Their margin of profit from the machines was too small to pay them for the disorder and unruliness that usually prevailed when the games were being played.

Marble games, punchboards and many different types of skill games were plentiful in Valley county, reports officers. Over 35 marble games were found in the three towns of Ord, Arcadia, and North Loup. Elyria was found without a single machine in operation.

Guy Keep owned a number of the machines operating in Ord but had removed most of his machines before the proclamation was issued because they were not making money. Mrs. Estella Green also owned a large number of the machines in Ord, and has machines operating in several different counties. Several Grand Island firms also owned machines in Ord. Machines are being stored until a chance to sell them offers. Each machine is worth $60 to $90.

Bank nights came to a close last Saturday night in Ord, the entire $260 fund that had been accumulated being disbursed at the Saturday evening drawings. Final winners of money included $100 checks to both Evelyn Dumond and Melvin Clement. Closing of bank nights and the riddance of gambling devices is going on, not only in Valley county but all over Nebraska following the state attorney general's request that "bank nights be closed until the Supreme Court hands down its decision and that all gambling devices be done away with."

118 Now Enrolled In Bible School

The unfailingly vacation Bible school got off to a rolling start early this week as a total of 118 had enrolled in the two-week course by Tuesday morning. The school is still in time for children to enter the course and are urged to do so at once. Classes meet every morning over the two week period from the hours of 9:00 to 10:00.

An efficient corps of teachers is in charge. The primary department, which meets in the Presbyterian church, is under the direction of Mrs. C. E. Goodhand with Mrs. Highleyman, Margaret Holmes and Barbara Dale as teachers. Teachers of the junior-intermediate department, meeting in the Methodist church, are Ruth Kourley, Mrs. Ernest Horner, Miss Lois Inley, Helen Russell, Miss Young, Mrs. Carlton and Mrs. Worrell. Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., is taking charge of the teacher training course for senior high students.

Early this week Miss Mamie Young gave an interesting talk in the mid-morning assembly period. Rev. L. A. Reger and Bert Cummins are scheduled to give object talks for the remainder of this week.

Six Men Arrested On Traffic Charges

Two more auto law violations were recorded for the past week in Police Judge John L. Anderson's court. May 26 Frank Samla was fined one dollar and costs for failure to observe a stop sign, a total of $6.50. May 27, W. R. Jeffrey was fined one dollar and costs of $4.50 for passing up a stop sign, a total of $5.50. Both paid at once. The police court record for May shows a total of six arrested for traffic violations and a total in fines and costs of $41.00. Two of these arrests were for running stop signs and the other four for speeding.

'Keep Faith' Is Plea Made to Ord Grads By J. E. Lawrence

Graduation Speaker Says
71 Given Diplomas.

Stating that "unlimited opportunities are offered Ord graduates with the coming of the North Loup irrigation project," James E. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, gave both an impressive and encouraging address to 71 Ord high school seniors at commencement exercises held in the high school auditorium last Thursday evening.

Although he believes and emphasized the fact that better times are ahead for everyone, Editor Lawrence stated that it is impossible to foretell the future of America. With his frank and sincere manner of speech so well known to Nebraskans, he painted a vivid word picture of the progress of America since the World War. In closing his speech he gave one last bit of advice to 1937 graduates—"keep your faith in Nebraska."

A capacity crowd attended the graduation ceremonies, the large auditorium being literally packed with friends of the graduates and admirers of "Jimmie" Lawrence. Dressed in caps and gowns, the senior class marched to their honorary section of the auditorium, the high school orchestra playing the processional.

Invocation was given by Rev. S. A. Woodruff, followed by a trumpet solo by Lloyd Sack. After the commencement address, a girls' sextette composed of Jerrine Burrows, Virginia Dale, Margie Smith, Marilyn Dale, Shirley Schrader and Ruth Auble sang "Within a Dreaming Harbor." Principal F. L. Stoddard presented the class to Dr. C. J. Miller, president of the school board, who in turn accepted the class and presented seniors with their diplomas.

After diplomas had been received by the graduates, Dr. Miller next presented honorary students with their scholarships: Lorraine Kusek, valedictorian was given two scholarships, one to any church school in Nebraska and one to the Chillicothe Business College. Lillian Kusek, salutatorian, was given the normal school scholarship, and Barbara Dale was awarded the regents' scholarship offered by the University of Nebraska. Commencement exercises were brought to a close with benediction given by Rev. Woodruff.

Safe Crackers Draw Long Prison Terms

Sheriffs over northern Nebraska and southern South Dakota may now breathe a little more freely for a few days at least. Tuesday morning before Judge Earl Meyer at Alliance Gus Malmberg was sentenced to the penitentiary for six years. Thursday morning before Judge Dickenson at O'Neill Ray Brown was sentenced to ten years. The other member of the trio, implicated by his pals, Preston Pitzer, is in jail at O'Neill awaiting trial on a charge of robbing a liquor store at Atkinson.

These three men according to their own admissions robbed 37 stores, cracked 36 safes, robbed four postoffices and looted four county treasurers' vaults in Nebraska and South Dakota. Malmberg lived at Lusk, Wyo., where he had a wife and four children and alayed suspicion by holding down a WPA job, working on the road in spare time. Ray Brown was a resident of Rapid City, S. D., had been married, but it is understood to have been divorced.

Ray Brown was well known in Burwell, where he took part in rodeos for a period of about twelve years. He reached the zenith of his rodeo career in 1928, in which year he won a tie with Shorty Ricker for first place in the Burwell show. Preston (Peck) Pitzer also performed at Burwell on several occasions, his specialty being bareback riding. Brown was popular in Burwell in his earlier years, but more recently fell into ill repute.

Saturday Judge E. L. Meyer sentenced Gus Malmberg to an additional four years in the penitentiary after he had pleaded guilty to robberies in Sheridan county. This makes a total of ten years he must serve, with other charges still pending against him.

Condemnation Case Settled In Court

In the condemnation proceedings instituted by the irrigation district against 7.81 acres of land owned by John Meese and wife and tenanted by Frank Meese and wife, the owner was allowed $52,000, the tenant $22,000, due to the fact that the crop had been planted, and their wives $100 each, making a total of $57,400. The five men who decided the matter were John G. Bremer, Guy Burrows, Joseph Rohla, Joseph Serksen and L. J. Auble.

LOOKING BACK THROUGH THE YEARS.

The Quiz has on hand a picture of the public square of Ord, taken more than thirty years ago by F. J. Bell and we have the reality before us today. The contrasts of thirty years are so vivid that they are worthy of special mention.

It might be well to remember that all values are comparative. Fewer pupils graduated in those years largely because the outside student had to pay a tuition fee, which, while not large, was in many cases the deciding factor.

In 1904 only two cars had ever been seen in Ord. Around the inside of the public square and down the side streets were hitch racks where the farmers tied their teams when they came to town and on Saturdays every available space was taken.

The dirt streets and roads over which the horse drawn vehicles travelled were worse than the meanest roads to be found today. After every rain it was almost impossible to get anywhere until the roads dried.

Those were the days of the old square two-story court house in the center of the square. It was torn down not so long ago, yet not one of the 1937 graduates can remember how it looked.

The first part of the Misko block, the Ord hotel and the I. O. O. F. buildings are all that now remain of the old time buildings on the north and east sides of the square, and these have undergone many changes.

Most of the children went to school in the old high school building that was torn down some 17 years ago to make room for the splendid building in which the class of 1937 obtained their education.

the student had the choice of a Latin or German course, or if he cared to work harder, a combination of the two.

This has been written that the present graduating class might better appreciate the advantages they have enjoyed that were denied their parents. You think you have had difficulties. Thirty years ago we really had them.

A NEW COURT HOUSE.

The court house has been given a complete redecorating during the past two months and looks better today than it did when it was first built.

Dear Quiz Readers:

I am sitting on the front porch of Jack Pine Lodge trying to think of something to write that may interest you. It is now 10:30 in the forenoon, but I got up at six o'clock this morning to get things ready for the big washing that is in progress.

SO SAY THE CROSSES, ROW ON ROW

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

Birds

Those who enjoy birds would do well to stop on the North Loup bridge for a few minutes most any day and see the swallows there.

They light on the sand bar near by and feed on something there. When they light their wings are never still, but held high in a continual flutter.

There are other birds there too such as the bluebird, the sandpiper the kingfisher and all the more common varieties.

The Franklin gull has been here and gone. Many say he is a harbinger of rain. Whatever he is he is afraid to show his face.

It is interesting what a difference in our temperament the weather makes.

The first of last week I was at town. We had had that little rain and folks were encouraged that it might be a start for more.

I was to town again in a couple of days and I met no less than four people who had given it up as another dry year like 1934 and other years we have had nearly as bad.

I was in town again Friday. A number of farmers sat on a bench and their faces had a smiling countenance. There were such remarks as "We are sure now of oats getting high enough to cut. This ain't will make fodder. Can't cheat 's out of that. We'll get some hay

Jots in Jest

REPORTED that Wallis has cut down on Edward's smoking and Scotch, insisting also on more regular habits. The duke is practically married right now.

Then there's the fellow who mapped out a transcontinental tour without hitting a single exposition.

This being a king is all right. George made no promises, there is no worry about re-election in 1940, and so far as he is concerned the budget is balanced.

Astronomer says Mars is now suffering severe dust storms. Well, there's something for the Resettlement administration to work on.

Dummy is now among highest paid radio stars, which gives us some hope of getting on the air after all.

and pasture." They were of good cheer.

And then a last man came up and he lived west of North Loup where it rained too much. "Better not had the rain at all," he said.

Then after this fellow had entered his complaint another man remarked that it seemed nice to hear the frogs croak again.

Bank Nights.

The objection to and the stopping of the so called bank nights in the theaters seems to many a well founded move. Nevertheless it has been a life saver to many theaters.

Milt Earnest was telling me of a theater man in California who had a nice theater but his patronage hardly paid expenses. He was of a mind to close up when the bank night idea was devised.

It is a question whether the profit of the theater owners is of more importance than the public at large or not. With the bank night affair going on many attend shows who should not.

The same arguments prevail with pari-mutuel gambling and slot machines. The idea of the machines now where one shoots a ball is that it is a game of skill.

In the event you didn't know. In the event I had not mentioned it before I will quote a little passage from the daily "Corn prices soared.—Market reports indicated the supply of 1936 corn for all contracts has been almost exhausted.—Indications were that the 1937 corn crop, as yet ungrown, would fall to meet the U. S. consumer requirements." etc., etc.

And then Henry pays us not to plant corn. It makes a person wonder if we are not helping Argentina corn growers more than ourselves. We hope he (Henry) knows what he's doing. We are sure we don't.

Just in the event I hadn't mentioned it before.

There has been a great deal of discussion of late about the two books, "Old Jules" and "Gone With the Wind."

For literary purists and folks who enjoy the fine technique of writing and expressions that would make a person blush reading them to himself. Old Jules falls in that it is a biography of a person who was not a person outstanding enough to write a biography about and it falls as fiction because it is the truth and hence not fiction. Neither inspire the reader toward better living and that should be part of literature.

Norman Holt and Ernest Munn had finished up a job of painting all the buildings on the Charles Pfen farm in Mira Valley.

Pope Seerley was married to a young lady in Grand Island, although her name was not given.

Leon Clements, who had been here to visit his mother, Mrs. Eva Clements, returned to his home at Tomorrow, taking his mother back with him.

Gem Theater advertised the following program for the week: "Bettina Loves a Soldier", "Liberty", "Love and a Liar", "Sea Mates", "Tigers Unchained", "Wizard Plot", "When Cupid Slipped", "Lost Border Legion", "Fatal Violin", "Lost Messenger", "Purple Mask", and Theda Bara in her "Double Life" Fox feature.

F. E. Thorne was advertising a sale of second hand goods at auction at the northwest corner of the square. They are still holding sales in almost exactly the same location.

25 Years Ago This Week. Mrs. Herman Rood passed away at North Loup.

The Ord baseball team defeated Greeley on the Ord diamond by a score of 7 to 2. The Ord team consisted of Koupal, Springer, Misko, Thompson, Burger, Castle, Level, Clements and Cushing. Cushing struck out twelve and allowed only four hits.

Cynthia Robbins sold her home to Charles Partridge for $4,400.00, and moved to Lincoln.

Further particulars of the establishing of the Nebraska State bank were given. Local men had become interested in the concern. They were J. H. Carson, Charles Bals, John Rogers, E. N. Finley, Nels Jorgensen and J. C. Meese. The directors were Rogers, Bals, Finley, Grothan, VanDecar, Carson and Meese. The bank had bought the lot on which the McGrew barber shop stood, and planned to erect a fine new building and fit the basement up as a shop for Mr. McGrew.

In speaking of itinerant beggars, who had apparently been making Ord an objective, the Quiz wound up with, "In this country begging is a crime, for the able bodies can take care of themselves and public provision is made for all others."

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Senate's Farm Bill Would Penalize Non-Co-operating Producers

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—The Senate Agriculture Committee is considering a bill which farm leader authors propose shall be the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1937. The measure was developed out of the conference Secretary Wallace held here with heads of farm organizations last February. The bill embodies many of the principles, such as that of an ever-normal granary, for which Wallace has long been fighting. But there are some points in the bill on which administrationists and the farm groups do not agree.

One feature of the proposed law would make it possible to increase or decrease the import duty on wheat, corn, tobacco, or rice when the farm price varies by 10 per cent from the parity price. Objections already have been raised on this point as destructive of the administration's reciprocal agreements for trade in agricultural commodities.

The measure is designed to maintain normal supply levels for cotton, wheat, corn, rice and tobacco. The Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to enter into adjustment contracts with individual farmers who would co-operate to insure that their income might be stabilized. The theory is that the co-operator, or contracting farmer, would get a parity price for the normal yield of his acreage. The parity price would be the controlled market price, plus earned parity payments.

THE farmer under contract would be required to divert acreage planted to any of the five commodities mentioned, or keep his produce off the market, if the total supply should be much greater than normal. The bill drafters emphasize

M. D. L. Taylor, local gardener, reported very little call for his tomato and cabbage plants, due to the dry weather. He said that if it rained soon he would have more orders than he could fill. Local men are finding much the same situation this year.

The Ord Light and Fuel company were advertising gas flatirons for sale for $3.00 which were more dependable than anything on the market.

Cornell Bros., who recently bought out Cooper and Cole Bros. in Lincoln, reorganized and changed the name to Cornell-Wigman-Searl Co.

40 Years Ago This Week. There were 16 members in the graduating class at North Loup. Eugene Davis was valedictorian, and was presented by his parents with a fine gold watch and chain. He also received a 6-year scholarship from Doane college.

Under the Laurels was presented to a packed house by the North Loup Alumni association. The writer said, "North Loup is the home of a great many antiators, who have talent for tragedy and comedy". Charley Leonard and Henry Lee were hauling wheat to market.

Names mentioned in the Michigan items were J. R. Sharp, W. R. Bright, A. F. Johnson, August Graul, Charles Palmatier, A. S. Nelson, C. J. Nelson and John Monroe. The older generation will remember them all.

There were ten graduates from the Arcadia high school, and Clarence Beard won the highest honors and a 6 year Doane scholarship.

Forty years ago Memorial day also came on Sunday, and was celebrated on Monday, May 31. The editor remarks, "Since using the typewriter a few days the question now arises frequently, how did we ever get along without one so long."

Nine thousand pounds of butter and eggs were shipped over the B. and M. from Ord Tuesday.

"Toe", a third son, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Clayton McGrew of Burwell last week and Mrs. C. W. Barnes of Ord went up to see about it. "Tit" and "Tat" are the two older boys. It is reported that the fond parents had a girl's name picked out for this one and are greatly disappointed because they cannot use it."

that the signing of crop curtailment contracts is voluntary. But the bill would impose a penalty on those farmers who didn't sign up to keep within their quotas. The Secretary of Agriculture might at his discretion levy a 60% per cent tax on the sale price an unco-operative farmer received for his crops. If this law were enacted and came before the Supreme Court it is questionable that this so-called voluntary regulation would be declared constitutional. Supporting the majority decision of the court which invalidated the AAA, there is a pertinent opinion, "The farmer may of course refuse to comply, but the price of such refusal is a loss of benefits. . . . The power to confer or withhold benefits is the power to coerce or destroy."

SPONSORS of the proposed farm plan have been careful to say that "it is not based on any philosophy of scarcity" in an attempt to avoid for it the criticism directed against the original AAA. It is recommended instead as a plan for controlled abundance.

A Surplus Reserve Corp. would operate as an ever normal granary lever by making loans on wheat and corn. The loans would be secured by deposits of the commodity which the farmer had been required to make out of surplus.

Secretary of Agriculture has insisted in his conferences with farm organization heads that without "positive and universal" production control, they might make the mistake in their farm planning of encouraging unlimited production at a guaranteed price, a mistake which has already been costly to the government, as in the case of the Federal Farm Board.

On Joseph's Acceptance of Service

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 6, Text: Genesis 41:33-44.

DOUBTLESS one of the finest stories in all literature is that of Joseph, which begins with this lesson and continues to the end of the quarter.

Years ago, at a men's meeting that I conducted, a Baptist minister who was a very able reader recited the entire story as given in the King James version of the Bible, without comment of any kind.

It was one of the most impressive things to which I ever listened, and though I suppose I had read the story dozens of times, I had never realized before its greatness as a piece of literary art.

Here were all the elements of interest played up with simple and picturesque statement, the human problems and emotions of the story all interwoven deftly and in due proportion, with everything moving toward the climax of tragedy and triumph.

WE are concerned here not so much with the dramatic power of the story, as with its moral and spiritual teaching. Through experiences of indulgence and preferment as the youngest of many sons in the home of a father who lavished upon him disproportionate love and care, Joseph had come to power in the Kingdom of Egypt at a crucial time.

In his interpretation of Pharaoh's dream, he foresaw the prosperous years to be followed by the lean years of suffering and famine, and he determined, as a wise prime minister, to see that in the seven plentiful years food was stored up in Egypt against the coming years of need. Joseph wisely did not suggest his own preferment, but advised Pharaoh to seek out a man of discretion and wisdom. Pharaoh showed good judgment not only in accepting Joseph's warning of the coming years of famine and the need of preparation, but in choosing Joseph as the man who should work out his own plans. "There is none so discreet and wise as Thou."

THE test of a man comes, often, not in his days of trial, suffering, and adversity, but in the days of his affluence and power. Here was the real temptation in Joseph's life, a temptation that may have been far more difficult to overcome than the allurements of Potiphar's wife. Joseph stood the test.

With the signet ring of Pharaoh upon his hand signifying his authority, arrayed in fine linen, and with the gold chain about his neck, with the people crying before him, "Bow the knee!" as he rode in the royal chariot, Joseph was still the man of incorruptible life who had preserved his integrity through the brutal treatment of his brothers, and through his experiences of downfall and imprisonment.

He stands as an achievement of character. There is something here more than an ancient "success" story and the rise of a man to power. It is the record of a man who had not built his life upon the acquisition of power and wealth. His chief purpose in every opportunity that came to him, whether in adversity or triumph, was still to serve his fellow men.

Summer Plans Are Revealed by Teachers

All grade and high school teachers will return to Ord next year with the exception of three, Miss Elva Johnson, Miss Mary Williams and Miss Edna Elliott.

In an interview with a Quiz reporter last week the teachers gave the following information as to their plans for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmut Brockman will visit at the home of Mrs. Brockman's parents in Valparaiso and will then go to Elmwood for a visit in the home of Mr. Brockman's folks. Mr. Brockman will spend the latter part of the summer at Northwestern University in Illinois where he will take an advanced course in coaching.

Miss Ellen Servino will visit in Lincoln where her sister and parents now reside.

Frank Leo will spend a short time in his home town of Hastings and will then go to Lincoln for a summer course in the University of Nebraska.

Miss Elva Johnson will join her husband at Nehawka and will then leave for a vacation at Colorado Springs.

Miss Olivia Hansen will visit at her home in Lindsey and will later take a trip through Colorado.

Miss Viola Crouch plans to spend the summer at her home in Archard.

Miss Helen Myers will spend the summer at her home near Broken Bow.

C. C. Thompson plans to stay in Ord this summer as does Dean S. Duncan. Mr. Duncan plans to take a short course at a college the latter part of the summer.

J. A. Kovanda will spend the summer at Ord looking after some 75 or 80 farm projects being carried out by vocational agricultural students.

Miss Mary Williams will be married June 6, after which she will go to Laramie, Wyo.

Miss Bernice Slotz will take a summer course at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.

Miss Helen plans to attend the University of Nebraska this year.

Miss Adeline Kosnata will attend Hastings College for a summer course.

Louise Eberspacher will spend the summer at her home in Seward.

Miss Swain and Miss Rowbal plan to do a lot of traveling, first they will go to Des Moines to visit relatives of Miss Rowbal and will then, according to present plans, take a trip to the Pacific coast.

Miss Ludlow will divide her time between the cities of McCook and Denver.

B. A. Eddy plans to stay at his home in Ord this summer.

Miss Edna Elliott will take a summer course at the University of Nebraska. She has secured a fifth grade position at Kearney for next year.

Mrs. Bernice Brady will attend the State College of Oklahoma located at Stillwater.

Miss Elizabeth Lukes will do extensive traveling as she visits relatives in Boise, Ida., and in Seattle and Tacoma in Washington.

Add To Honor List.
Principal F. L. Stoddard wishes to add the following names to the list of letter students which were published in last week's Quiz: Scholastic, Jean Ferguson; music, Armona Achen, Alice Cronk, Viola Guggenmos, Evelyn Skala and Eldon Mathausser.

Babka-Kasper.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

One dish dinners are an aid that no busy housewife can afford to ignore, for they are extra convenient on a day when Mother is cleaning house, working in the yard, washing or doing any other long-drawn out task. The one dish includes a well balanced meal, containing as it does meat, vegetables, fat, starch.

Dainty Moore Dinner.
Render out a small amount of suet and brown two pounds of ground round steak in it, breaking the meat into small pieces. Add eight medium sized onions, and cook until transparent. Add one can of golden bonham corn, one small can of tomato puree, one small can of ripe olives which have been cut fine, salt and pepper to taste. Put in a baking dish, slice one-half pound cheese on top in a wheel design, using an olive for the center. Cook slowly in the oven two hours. Serve with salad and fresh or canned fruit.

Desdemona Van Ness.
Baked Ham.
Instead of broiling ham try baking it, after first soaking it in several lukewarm waters, then dry and put in a pan, pour milk to nearly cover it. Bake until brown or about three-fourths of an hour.

Mrs. Boyd Weed, Denver.
Vegetable Dinner.
Slice six medium sized carrots and six onions and cook together until tender. Cook potatoes in a separate pan and mash and season. Heap the potatoes in a large vegetable dish. Surround with carrots and onions and serve with gravy made from water in which the vegetables were cooked, with a little cream added. Heat one heaping tablespoon butter, blend with the flour to make cream sauce of the desired thickness, pour in vegetable water and cream and stir until cooked. Attractive and delicious.

Mrs. Ivan J. Cook, North Loup.
Someone sent in a lot of recipes without a name. Please send your name on your recipes, we like to give credit to the cook who took the time and trouble to write them in, and other cooks like to know whose ideas they are using, too. Below are two of these recipes:

Cherry Salad.
Stone ripe cherries, place a nut-meat in the center of each cherry. Prepare a mayonnaise, using lemon juice in place of vinegar. Put cherries on a lettuce leaf and add dressing just before serving time.

Rhubarb De Luxe.
Place in a buttered casserole four cups rhubarb cut in small pieces, two cups sugar, one-half teaspoon mace, one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon, twelve whole cloves, the grated rind juice and pulp of one orange. Cover and bake until rhubarb is tender. If very juicy uncover during the last fifteen minutes of cooking.

Uncooked Pie.
Roll one cup graham crackers fine, mix with four tablespoons of melted butter, line pie pan, pressing firmly into place. For filling mix one can Eagle brand condensed milk and one-third cup lemon juice with one tablespoon grated lemon rind, two egg yolks. Let the pie set one-half hour before serving. Use meringue or whipped cream for a topping.

Mrs. Perry Bell, Long Beach, California.

Ord School Notes

Graduates Have Dance.
An invitational dancing party, honoring the 1937 graduates, was given last Friday evening in the opera house by Don Tunnicliff and Willard Cushing. A large number of graduates attended the dance and all reported a good time. F. E. McQuillan's public address system provided music for the affair.

Tri S Initiates.
Tri S, honorary commercial society for Ord high school students, held initiation services last week at which time the following new members were taken in: Lydia Blaha, Kristina Kominek, Valasta Vodehnal, Irene Rashaw, Erna Larsen, Marjorie Coe, Jane Ferguson, Virginia Clark, Eleanor Iwanski, Bernice Zukoski, Gertrude Suminski, Liola Koelling, Simon Danzak and Kendall Wiegard.

G. A. A. Elects.
At a special election of the G. A. A. organization of Ord high school last week the following officers were elected: Betty Meyer, president; Joy Loft, vice-president; Eleanor Wolf, secretary; Margie Smith, recording secretary.

Girl Reserves Elect.
New officers for the local Girl Reserve chapter for the 1937-38 term include Jane Ferguson, president; Lucille Lakin, vice-president; Angelina Wachtler, secretary and Betty Meyer, treasurer.

Charlotte Blessing is home from her work at Kearney Normal for the summer.

Zangger Employs Mexicans, Will Raise 70 Acres of Sugar Beets This Summer

Here we see the Mexicans at work. Notice their bent postures as they use their short handled hoes.

A prophecy of what will come as soon as the North Loup irrigation system is completed may be found if one will take a short trip to the W. O. Zangger farm located 10 miles from Ord on the North Loup highway.

Working on the Zangger farm are five Mexicans, who arrived only a few days ago directly from San Antonio, Texas. They were employed by Mr. Zangger through the Grand Island division of the American Sugar Beet Company, with whom he has a contract for raising 70 acres of sugar beets this year.

Zangger is, depending on nothing but rainfall to raise the sugar beets this year, although he is eagerly looking forward to the time when he may depend on the canal which runs directly through his farm for his water supply.

Having worked just a little over a week, the Mexicans have already made a big dent in the 70 acres of beets now under cultivation. At the present time they are thinning the beets, leaving one plant to every ten inches. To a killing task. Supplied with hoes with short 10-inch handles, the Mexicans are bent hour after hour digging out bothersome weeds and surplus beet plants.

Mexicans are usually employed only during the beet season which usually lasts from May until October when the beets are topped. Working along at their usual rate, the Mexicans will usually cover one-half acre per man a day. When hurried however, they will cover much more ground than this. During the "season" the average worker usually earns around $200, being paid on a basis of the total number of acres that he covered.

Names of the workers are Charlie Silvers, Filogonis Cuellar, Luiz Cuellar, Juan Cardinas, and Shorty Torr.

In a conversation with Juan Cardinas, the only one of the five who can read and write clearly, he disclosed the fact that he had worked on a fruit farm in Texas before coming to Nebraska, this being his first year in the beet fields. He said that many places in Texas are as dry or dryer than Nebraska and that he believed the beets would survive the heat here this summer.

All of the five men sleep and eat in a one-room "shanty" which is located some distance north of the large Zangger farm house.

Interviewing Mrs. Zangger she declared that, "I never saw such people to work in all my life. The Mexicans arise and are at the field for work every morning at six o'clock. At noon they take not more than a half hour for lunch, and work steadily until about seven-thirty in the evening."

Reporter Lakin had difficulty in spelling Mexican names so Juan Cardinas gives him a little help.

Early Day Settlers Asked to Register

Since the announcement in last week's Quiz a number of settlers who were here before January 1, 1880 have reported, but there must still be quite a number whose names are not on the list. It is urged by the Burwell Wrangler's club, in charge of the old settlers' picnic to be held June 13, on the site of the battle of Pebble Creek near Burwell, that all early settlers give their names and the date of their arrival.

A partial list of those who came here prior to the above date is given below. If you can qualify and your name does not appear, let the Quiz know at once: Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Strong, Hawes and Herman Timmerman, Mrs. W. D. Long, R. J. Clark, Oscar Collins, Mrs. Marilla Flynn, Mrs. D. A. Moser, Charles Rood, Mrs. Mary Clement, Charles and Myra Boettger, Mrs. S. W. Roe, Henry C. Marks, W. A. Anderson, Mrs. F. E. Glover, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Severson, Mrs. M. B. Goodenow and Maude, Truman Freeland, Mrs. Alta McClimans, and Mrs. J. A. Herbst.

The above list is very incomplete, and will be filled out at the lower end of the valley by George McAnulty, who is the daddy of them all. There are also a number around Burwell who will be located by the Wranglers. Early settlers around North Loup may report to Charles Rood, who will send in the names. There should be a total of thirty to forty who are eligible to have their names placed on this honor roll.

Memorial Service Largely Attended

The union memorial service was held at the Methodist church in charge of the Ladies of the G. A. R., and was very largely attended. There was a very good representation of the G. A. R. ladies as well as Legionnaires and Auxiliaries. A quartet composed of Dean Duncan, Dr. F. L. Blessing, LeRoy Frazier and Tom Springer sang two selections. The message of the day was brought by Miss Mamie Young, minister of the Ord United Brethren church. The large building was filled to capacity and the sermon was highly appreciated. Special honor was paid to the memory of John Carson, Ord's last Civil war veteran, who passed away since last Memorial day, and to Mrs. Susie Barnes, widow of a Civil war veteran, who also died during the past year.

Pete Knight Killed.
Famous throughout the west and one of the best rodeo performers in the business, Pete Knight, 33, was in Hayward, Calif., a week ago Sunday when the horse he rode out of the chutes threw him and trampled him to death.

Knight was one of the star performers at Burwell a few years ago.

Editor Is Injured.
Glenn Cramer, editor of the Albion News, was badly bruised and shaken up when his car was wrecked by being hit by a truck for miles north of Central City last week. The rest of the force got out the paper last week with very little assistance from the boss.

Hi-Y Camp Dates Set.

Several Ord boys belonging to the local Hi-Y chapter have received letters from state headquarters inviting them to attend the annual Hi-Y camp at Camp Sheldon. The camp will be an eight day session this year lasting from August 21 to 28. Dr. Warren Baller of Lincoln is in charge of the camp activities this year.

Personal Items ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Last week Frank Rysavy, who has been working in a Safeway store at Fullerton, resigned his position and returned to Ord. In a couple of weeks he expects to leave for the west coast in search of employment.

—Sunday guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Draper were Mrs. Draper's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George W. Collipriest, of Lexington, and her sister, Mrs. Gertrude Kite, of Creighton. The three Draper children accompanied Mrs. Kite home for a visit. Last week Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blessing and children, who have been living in Lincoln, were in Ord for a couple of days enroute to Alliance, where they will live this summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. B. VanDecar, accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Wellman and family of Omaha, spent two days fishing at Lake Ericson, leaving Saturday afternoon and returning Monday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. C. J. West of Grand Island were also members of the fishing party. Fishing was very poor but all reported a good time. Mr. and Mrs. VanDecar are planning a trip to Fergus Falls, Minn., this summer and there they plan to have some real luck.

—Misses Lucy Rowbal and Inez Swain went to Kearney Friday to see Miss Rowbal's niece, Margaret Holmes receive her degree from the state teachers' college. Miss Holmes makes her home with her aunt and Miss Swain, and she came back to Ord with them.

—About forty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lenz and their family moved into Mira Valley where they lived for many years. The old people long since passed on, but last week the descendants decided to hold a family reunion.

They are scattered over Nebraska, so they chose the city park at Aurora as a central point at which to meet. They all got together there Saturday, May 29. Those in attendance were: Rev. and Mrs. Frank Lenz and Ogden of Kearney, Neb.; Rev. and Mrs. Walter Lenz and Duane, Crystal and Carol of Beaver Crossing, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. George Lenz of Elmwood, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. John Hopkins of Weeping Water, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lenz, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Koelling and Harold, Kenneth and Liola, Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Koelling, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Koelling, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Hornckel and Mervin, and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cook, all of Ord. One of the sisters, Mrs. Will Pahl and husband and son Warren of Elmwood were unable to be present. The reunion was held at this time as Rev. Frank Lenz has resigned his pastorate of the Kearney Evangelical church and has accepted the pastorate of a church at Dallas, Ore., to which place they will move this week.

—J. V. Howerton, writing from Buhl, Ida., sends his subscription to the Quiz. He says that since moving out there he has only been able to see the paper occasionally and he would like to see it all the time. He tells us that S. I. Willard of Malden Valley still lives in a sod house he built by himself thirty or thirty-one years ago. Thanks for telling us. Some day soon we will try to get a picture of Mr. Willard's house for the Quiz readers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Roland Reeves and children of Inland, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Briggs of Concordia, Kas., were visitors Sunday afternoon at the George Anderson home, enroute to their homes from a visit at Burwell.

Guests at Contract Club.

The Ord Contract club, meeting Sunday evening in the home of M. and Mrs. C. A. Anderson, had several substitute guests, among them being Mr. and Mrs. Olof Olsson and Mr. and Mrs. Don Prouditt; also Mrs. Grace Bartlett of Chadron, a sister of L. B. Fenner of Burwell.

Entertain for Lawrence.

After commencement exercises in Ord last Thursday evening, a group of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen honoring Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lawrence, of Lincoln. Mr. Lawrence, editor of the Lincoln Star, was principal speaker at the exercises. While in Ord the Lawrence were house guests of E. H. Dunmire at the Hardenbrook home.

In Voice Recital.

Miss Billie Jeanette Mattox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mattox of Ord, was presented in voice recital by Park College, of Parkdale, Mo., on Sunday, May 30. In a few days Miss Mattox will return home from college, where she has been studying voice, dramatics and dancing, and is planning to open classes for children in these subjects.

Delta Deck Tuesday.

Substitute guests at the Delta Deck club meeting Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. K. C. Lewis included Mrs. Lester Norton, Mrs. Olof Olsson and Mrs. E. C. Leggett. High score was won by the hostess. Lunch was served in the new cafe.

Auxiliary Installs.

Annual election and installation of officers for the American Legion Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening at their regular meeting. Officers for the coming term include: Mrs. Rosie Wardrop, president; Hazel Hall, first vice-president; Helen Horn, second vice-president; Mildred Gregory, treasurer; Doris Flagg, chaplain; Ruth Wolf, sergeant of arms; Mrs. Margy Rashaw, rehabilitation chairman. Executive committee, Lydia Fafetta, Olga Duncan and Iva Lakin.

Raggedy Ann Club Meets.

The Raggedy Ann 4-H club met at the Beverly Davis home Friday, May 28. Officers were elected as follows: Beverly Davis, president; LaVay Unstead, vice-president; Mary Kominek, secretary and treasurer; and Marie Rohla, news reporter. The leader is Virginia Davis and assistant leader Marilyn Dale. The next meeting will be held at the home of Jean Carlson on June 9th. Tea towels are to be hemmed before the next meeting. Beverly Davis will demonstrate how to set the table.

The Millers Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Kurt Miller entertained Saturday at a one o'clock luncheon at Thorne's Cafe. There being twelve guests present. Tuesday night they gave a dinner to a number of friends at Thorne's Cafe and will entertain there again on Thursday night. They plan to spend the week end visiting in Lincoln and will then go on to Kansas City where they will make their home.

Birthday Party.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Waterman and Dolse, Russell and Archie Waterman and their children all met at the Spencer Waterman home Friday evening for a supper in honor of Mrs. Russell Waterman's birthday, which occurred on Thursday, May 27.

Slumber Party.

Misses Lillian and Lorraine Kusch held a slumber party for a few of their friends Monday night. Included in the group of girls were Dorothy Auble, Norma Mae Snell and Armona Achen. All of the girls reported a perfectly sleepless night.

American Legion Meets.

The Ord American Legion post met at the hall Tuesday evening with about thirty members present. A number of matters were discussed, among them the coming 4th of July celebration. It was agreed to cooperate in every way possible in helping to make the affair a success. The Legion and Auxiliary are planning a big picnic for Legion members and their families at Bussell Park July 5. It is hoped to make this one of the biggest affairs of its kind ever held here. The Legion presented a little gift of remembrance to W. Kurt Miller and A. B. Capron, both of whom are leaving for other locations this week. The recreation project was discussed in much detail. The time has now come for enrollment in the various groups, and all who are interested should meet at the hall from 2:00 to 4:00 p. m. Thursday to enroll. If you are not able to come at that time, you may enroll later. The various groups are for archery, softball, golf, tennis and miscellaneous games for both old and young, as well as various hand crafts.

Party For Sershens.

and Mrs. Joe Puncocar, and Mr. and Mrs. Oje Puncocar, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Benjamin spent the evening Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sershen, pinocle being the entertainment. As usual the ladies played against the men, and for the first time in a blue moon, they met defeat. The losers served a very fine lunch. The Sershens plan to leave Saturday for their California trip.

Family Reunion.

A family reunion was held at Victoria Springs State Park in Custer county Sunday in honor of Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Crouch and granddaughter of Seymour, Iowa. There were relatives from Seward, Beaver Crossing, Garland, Broken Bow, Anselmo, Arnold, Merna, Loup City and the A. L. Crouch family from Ord, making a total of 49 persons present.

Picnic at Park.

A picnic honoring Mrs. Hans Clement, Mrs. Will Dittman and daughter and Mrs. Carl Holm was held at Bussell park Sunday. # News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

The usual calm prevails in Nebraska's capitol as once more routine activities hold forth and state officials need not pay attention to what the legislature may do with this or that bill. For the legislators have gone home.

Their departure from Lincoln marked the close of Nebraska's great experiment—the first unicameral legislature. However, the end of the initial session did not tend to silence those who have definite ideas on the success or failure of the unicameral form of lawmaking. Some enterprising newspapers carried articles, signed by various leading senators, the majority of whom were loud in their praise of unicameral. Others hurried to publish any derogatory material that might appear on the new setup.

The last official acts by Governor Cochran in handling the bills that were piled before him prior to the adjournment have been completed, and now the box score of the first unicameral can be totaled. It shows 531 bills introduced, 228 passed, 210 signed by the governor, one effective without the governor's signature, 18 vetoed, one passed over the veto, or a total of 212 laws enacted.

As to the cost of the unicameral in its initial session, $155,181.96 has been appropriated to cover the expenses. The sum of $97,337 has been disbursed. The last session of the bicameral cost $202,593. Claims of the last session paid to date include $37,499 to senators—half of their salary, and $59,383 for employes' salaries and expenses.

Governor Cochran clipped $12,913 from the $108,051 biennial claims bill before he signed the measure into law. The governor permitted the big "money-cart" bill—a 54 million dollar appropriation measure, to become effective without his signature. Since the budget bill was passed by a three-fifths majority in the legislature, the governor is powerless to veto any of its provisions. The executive was quoted as saying there was nothing he could add to it and there were things in the bill that he hated to be a party to.

Signed also was Senator Norton's bill permitting farmers to organize rural electrification cooperatives in areas which now have no electrical service. This bill, LB 252, permits 20 or more residents of any one area to incorporate into a non-stock, non-profit organization. Current is to be sold to members at cost and may be obtained from either public or private concerns.

When the senators had little else to do with spring in the air, quite naturally their thoughts turned, as do many women, to changing things around. The plan to remodel the old 34-seat senate chamber to meet future senators' needs was advocated but reached the wastebasket through the motivating power of Governor Cochran.

LB 559 directed members of the legislative council to let contracts for the remodeling. The legislators figured changes they wanted could be made in the old senate chamber for considerably less than $10,000 but that is the amount they appropriated for the job. Much complaint about the working conditions of the old 100-seat house chamber where they met for nearly five months was heard.

Besides the plan for altering the senate chamber the bill provided that the legislative clerk instead of the secretary of state should have charge of issuing the session laws. Killed by the veto.

The session laws will be handled as they have in the past and Legislative Clerk Hugo Srb, who is to receive $3600 a year, has little else to do than sit on the job.

Although he declared he knew nothing of a big "Warner for Governor" boom that an Omaha newspaper said was in the making soon, veteran legislator, Charles W. Warner of Lancaster county did not deny he would not run for governor. "Nobody has talked to me about an Omaha meeting," declared Republican Warner, who, with much mirth, took the jibes of fellow-senators during the legislature just closed that "Charlie is thinking about running for governor."

Its perfectly legal, said Attorney General Hunter, to transfer $50,000 from old age assistance funds to be used for direct relief in Douglas county, and so moved, as a member of the board of educational lands and funds, at its final meeting. Former Attorney General Wright held transfers of assistance funds to direct relief uses could not be done. Transfers, however, have been made from one assistance category to another, but never before transferred to direct relief.

Cognizant of the fact some persons in Nebraska are receiving relief they are not entitled to has brought about discussion on their removal from the rolls. Director N. V. Vandemoer of the state assistance committee said it had been suggested to him that those who have received assistance through misrepresentation be permitted to get off public aid rolls without much stir. He added that assistance clients who have received money to which they were not entitled under the law are probably afraid to withdraw from the assistance lists, fearing prosecution for fraud. Vandemoer explained he did not think there are many receiving aid who are not entitled to it, but when they do take money from the program, they are taking it from people who need it.

Nebraska is a big business institution if its monthly expenditures are an indicator. State expenditures for the month of April totaled $1,935,796, said State Tax Commissioner Smith. The total included payments for salaries $401,864; supplies $320,960; traveling expenses $99,860. The statement showed a total spent for highway construction since July 1, 1935 of $17,208,539 and for road maintenance $5,889,573. For state assistance for the same period was $7,287,633; for state university $6,756,810; for normal schools $1,304,201 and for penal and charitable institutions $4,600,548.

George W. Norris, Alva, Oklahoma, grocer, formerly of Broken Bow, and who gained national fame during a trial in U. S. District court for perjury in an attempt to defeat the U. S. Senator George W. Norris, is serving a 90-day term in the Lincoln jail. Grocer Norris was sentenced for perjury. When he stepped into his cell, the government had concluded its case against Norris that started in 1930 when he appeared before a U. S. senate committee probing the circumstances which resulted in a second George W. Norris entering the senatorial campaign against Senator Norris. The case was carried through the United States supreme court.

Looking forward to the development of valuable helium deposits that exist, he declares, in his congressional district, Rep. Karl Tefan of Norfolk, in Washington, has joined other congressmen in forming a national legislation toward early activity. Early construction of dirigibles, if the experts say they will be safe with helium gas, is contemplated in the plan.

"We will have all of highway No. 6 under contract by the end of the year," State Engineer A. C. Tilley told delegates to the annual meeting of the Roosevelt Highway association at McCook. Tilley said that of the 389 miles of the road in Nebraska, 259 are surfaced, 67 are now under contract and 63 are now being contracted. Delegates cheered when speakers pointed out the highway now is surfaced from the Atlantic coast to Hastings and will be completed to Greeley, Colorado, this year, eventually to be surfaced to the west coast.

Cheering was the word for western Nebraska irrigators that reported snowfall in the mountains at the headwater of the Platte during May has been 11 percent above normal. It was 87 percent under normal last year. Reports from several points in the basin supply also state that the ground is now saturated so that the early run-off of snow will find its way into the reservoir. A year ago great quantities of water were evaporated by the extreme heat of April and May; this year the reverse has been true with unusually cool weather.

Louis Buchholz of Falls City is now director of the state department of agriculture, replacing W. B. Banning of Union, who finished a two-year term at the post, and retired to his orchard interests. Otto K. DeVilbiss, ex-newspaperman succeeded Theodore Osterman of Central City as secretary to the governor, Osterman going into the post of member of the state liquor control commission, replacing Thomas Gass of Kearney. Osterman's appointment is for 6 years.

The Sower atop Nebraska's capitol building is protected from airplanes and airplanes are protected from the Sower by virtue of a big red lantern suspended beneath the figure's feet. The red lantern, carrying 2,000 watts of electricity is 33 inches high. It cost about $500 and $125 was paid to install it, figures at the capitol reveal. Four workers who did the job were insured for the occasion. They climbed to the peak of the dome by means of an inside ladder, but were required to build one of their own to reach the feet of the figure. The lantern was installed upon demand of the federal aeronautics commission.

Lack of big trees prevents McCook from having a chapter of the Disciples of Daniel Boone, declared President G. E. Roberts of Lincoln. Roberts contends there must be big trees under which he can meditate and his many visits to McCook indicated to him they don't exist. Roberts said the Disciples of Daniel Boone is a national squirrel hunting association with headquarters at Orleans, Nebraska.

Prospects for a good fruit crop generally look better than at any time in 10 years is the opinion of orchardists over the state. Ideal weather at blooming time and good weather conditions since are ideal for the young fruit. Apples and pears promise a full crop, E. H. Hoppert, extension horticulturist at the state agricultural college reports. Cherries will produce 60 to 70 percent of a full crop.

Lost in a dust storm while going after the cows, 8-year-old Richard Rowland and his dog spent a night in a canyon, unafraid but hungry. A searching party was organized, but the boy showed up unharmed before it swung into action. The boy's home is southwest of McCook.

Quiet Over Holidays. Ord was a very quiet city during the Memorial holidays this year, not a single arrest or serious accident having been reported. The outside world was not so quiet however, as the strike in Chicago became worse, auto accidents increased, and the Spanish situation became even more entangled.

That really makes a more interesting column than anything I can say, a rather high smelling one, perhaps.

And did you hear the story of the man who walked into a restaurant and called for wild duck, would have nothing but wild duck served to him. To which the waiter at last and impatiently replied, "Well, we have some nice tame ducks, I could step outside and irritate one of those for you."

"The finest book on practical psychology I have ever read. Every American ought to read it. This is what William Lyon Phelps says of 'The Return of Religion', by Henry C. Link.

Dr. Link, as director of the Psychological Service Center of New York City, is well qualified to write of the advantages or disadvantages of such varied subjects as playing tennis, dancing, bridge, happiness in marriage, social security, education and many others. At one time an agnostic, but now convinced that religion is the only guide for nation as well as for individual, he emphasizes his words with quotations from the Bible.

"Use your head less and your feet more," is repeated many times by the author and takes on a new significance to the reader. "The Return to Religion" was recommended by a committee from the P. E. O. sisterhood and is now on the shelves of the Ord public library.

BURWELL NEWS

Mrs. B. F. Janes.

Emma Katherine Hughes, daughter of Wildie and Amanda Hughes was born March 22, 1871 in Lexington, Va., and passed away in Burwell, Nebr., May 25, 1937 at the age of 66 years, 2 months and 3 days. Her parents moved to Muscatine, Ia., in 1879, where they lived for three years. Then on March 4, 1882 they moved to a homestead four miles west of Burwell. Her father passed away just one year after their arrival in Nebraska. Her mother passed away in 1910.

During her girlhood days she became a member of the Congregational church and has always been a faithful worker. For several years she was organist in the Kent Bible school.

On December 1, 1890 she was united in marriage to B. F. Janes and this union was blessed with 5 children. Byrd and Ray preceded their mother in death.

In 1899 the family built a new home in Burwell, into which they moved that year and have lived in the same place for the past 38 years. Mrs. Janes was a lover of flowers and took a great deal of pride in caring for her yard and garden. In fact the Janes place was always one of beauty.

She was a member of the Burwell Woman's club, a charter member of the Royal Neighbor lodge and a member of the ladies association and phylaxia class of the Congregational church.

Beside her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lloyd Anderson of Lincoln, Mrs. Osce Johnson and Miss Sarah Janes of Burwell, also two brothers, Charles and Emmett Hughes both of Burwell, and one grandson, Robert Johnson, besides a large number of friends.

The funeral service was held in the Congregational church Thursday, May 27 at 2:30 p. m., with Rev. W. L. Goodell of the Christian church in charge of the service. A mixed quartet sang, "The Old Rugged Cross," "No Night There," and "Beautiful Isle." Interment was in the Burwell cemetery.

Mrs. John W. Murphy, Mary M. Garvey was born December 4, 1880 in Pierce county, Nebraska and passed away in Burwell May 24, 1937, at the age of 56 years, 5 months and 20 days. She spent most of her early life in Pierce county. She attended the Methodist church when a girl. Since living in Burwell she attended the Methodist and Christian churches. On November 9, 1903 she was united in marriage to John W. Murphy and began house-keeping in Pierce, Nebr. Later they moved to Creighton, Nebr., and then to Burwell in 1931 where they resided until the present time. Mrs. Murphy had made many friends while living here and was always interested in church work.

Besides her husband she is survived by her father, C. A. Garvey, Norfolk, Nebr., three sisters, Mrs. Leona Roberts and Mrs. Emma Johnson of Norfolk and Mrs. Saphronia Green of Pierce, and four brothers, Cale Garvey of Pierce and Alonzo, Leonard and Frank all of Norfolk.

Funeral services were held Wednesday, May 26 at 2 o'clock at the Mitchell Funeral home. Rev. W. L. Goodell was in charge. Interment was in the Burwell cemetery.

Memorial Day services were held in the Burwell cemetery Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. The line of march included the community band, colors, firing squad, Civil war veterans, Spanish War veterans and citizens. The program consisted of a short talk by Post Commander Sorenson, prayer by Rev. Wylie, music by band, address by Rev. Wylie, the song, "The Star Spangled Banner," played by band and sung by audience, benediction by Rev. Wylie, saluting the dead by firing squad, and taps. The graves were beautifully decorated previous to the program.

Miss Virginia Rose Hemmett entertained her Sunday school class of intermediate girls of the Christian church, at a picnic northwest of town Friday evening. Rev. and Mrs. Goodell and Virginia were guests. Following a delicious supper, games and hill climbing were enjoyed.

Gerald Quinn, Dale Sizemore, Thomas Meuret, Herman Trep-tow, Wayne Wood, Billie Goodell and Chas. Clemens accompanied Geo. West and Glen Ackerson on a fishing trip to the Cedar river at Erickson Friday. They returned home Saturday evening. W. F. Herman visited relatives in Indianola and Kearney Sunday and Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Reeves and son of Inland, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Briggs of Concordia, Kas., drove to Burwell Sunday to decorate the grave of the mother of Mr. Reeves and Mrs. Briggs.

Poppy Day was observed here Saturday and proved very successful. 13 girls and women were on the job all day and sold 750 poppies and the contributions amounted to $63. This money will be used for welfare work of the Legion and Auxiliary. The girls who helped will be treated to ice cream and cake and a picture some evening this week.

Mrs. Joe Flakus is visiting relatives in Lincoln. Among those from out of town who attended the funeral of Mrs. B. F. Janes Thursday were Miss Sarah Janes of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Anderson of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Irving McKinley of Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Janes of Grand Island and Mr. and Mrs. I. L. Sheldon of North Loup.

Mrs. Francis Hoffman and children expect to leave Thursday to join Mr. Hoffman in Los Angeles, Calif., where they will make their future home.

Rev. and Mrs. Everett Majors of Chicago have been visiting in the home of Mr. Major's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson.

Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Haught and family and Mr. and Mrs. Will Treptow of Ord spent Sunday in the W. G. Hemmett home.

Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Goodell and family left Tuesday afternoon for Falls City where they will visit in the home of Mrs. Goodell's mother, Mrs. Ellen Will, for a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. Shafer and family of Aurora visited a few days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gavin.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. White of Lincoln, former residents of Burwell, spent a couple of days here this week, on business and for Decoration Day.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Farrar and family and Mr. Farrar's father spent Decoration Day in Fairfield.

Memorial services were held in Jungman hall, southwest of Burwell, Sunday afternoon. A number of people attended from here. The address of the afternoon was given by Rev. W. L. Goodell on the subject, "The Value of Loyalty and Patriotism."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker and family took Mr. Walker's mother to Cambridge Saturday, where she was called by the death of a sister. The Walker family then went on to McCook and spent Sunday with relatives. They were accompanied home by a niece, Miss Burnedette Gail who will visit here for a while.

By Equipping With NEW U.S. ROYALS NOW

YOU GET 46% QUICKER STOPS

Two identical cars are lined up - one with smooth, worn tires - the other with new U. S. Royals - on a slippery road at 40 miles an hour they go. At a given signal the brakes are applied. The car on the new U. S. Royals stops in almost half the distance.

HAVE TIRES LIKE NEW FOR SPRING

During the colder months the wear is negligible, averaging only 1/4 to 1/2 of normal summer wear. By equipping with new U.S. Royals you'll get the extra safety of the sharp, clean-cut edges of Ceyrubel tread - and still have practically new tires in spring.

PLYMOUTH

Biggest OF ALL THREE

...AND STANDS UP BEST

If to you size is a principal reason for choosing a car, you'll like this 1937 Plymouth best. Yet greater size is only one reason why you will discover Plymouth is the best buy of "All Three."

The Plymouth owners you know right here in town will tell you that Plymouth is the car that stands up best. Their own experiences have proved that. They have proved, too, that Plymouth is America's most economical full-powered car.

When you ride in a Plymouth you will discover that Plymouth's better value is due to Better Engineering... in the famous hushed ride... in balanced weight and balanced springing... in controlled hydraulic braking... in performance with economy.

Try a Plymouth. Drive it yourself. Come in today and ask us for a demonstration.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—W. Kurt Miller went to Grand Island Saturday to attend to business matters.

—Mrs. Alfred Albers has been ill several days with an attack of sciatic rheumatism.

—Mrs. Forrest Johnson was ill several days last week, being confined to bed part of the time.

—Mrs. E. C. Leggett and son Kerry returned Saturday from Alliance where they had spent a week with relatives.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Herrick and Elmer Brockman were Saturday visitors from Burwell.

—J. C. Cornell was shaking hands with friends on the street Saturday. He came up for a few days visit with his brother Berf.

—Earl Blessing and wife spent a few days visiting with the Blessings in Ord. He is now located in Lincoln.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Morse arrived Friday morning from Denver to spend a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Barnard. After Decoration day they left for Wooster, O.

—Mrs. Ed Kerchal drove to Grand Island Thursday, taking with her Mrs. Joe Osewski, Mrs. George Hughes and Wylan and Wauweta Cummins. Also down for the day were Louise, Petka and Mrs. Jack Meisenbach.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Newmarker left Tuesday for Ogalalla where he will be employed as an engineer on the big Tri-County project. Mr. Newmarker has been working as a field engineer for Black & Veatch on the North Loup project.

—Venell Bouda is recovering from the effects of an abscess that developed on his arm last week. It was on the fleshy part of his lower left arm, and for a time he had to carry the member in a sling.

—Irl D. Tolen came up from Lincoln Saturday and will spend a few days visiting here. He says that he has an open offer to go to work at almost as large a salary as he had been drawing, but that he wants to spend a few weeks getting in touch with outside affairs again.

—The Helmut Brockmans are visiting relatives in Valparaiso and Elmwood, after which they will go to Chicago, where Mr. Brockman will attend Northwestern university for the summer. E. H. Dunmire will live in the Brockman house for the summer. His daughter is coming to Ord to keep house for him.

—A. R. McClimans, member of the board of directors of Nebraska's Big Rodeo was down Friday attending to business matters. He says that the demand for concession space to date shows a great increase in interest in the show this year. He believes this interest is due to the fact that so much work is being done on the irrigation project.

—Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mann, of Lincoln, spent the week end as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. Mr. Mann, bill drafter for the Nebraska Legislative Reference Bureau, worked with the unicameral throughout its recent session, writing practically all legislation passed. He now is engaged in revising ordinances for the city of Ravenna. A son of Harvey Mann, he lived in Ord as a young man.

—Tony Astimus was down from O'Neill for a few days last week looking after affairs at the ranch, and came down to Ord to see some of his friends here. He reports that the oil business is moving along nicely. They now have three stations, and plan to put in more in the near future. The Astimus Bros. were lucky in that they started into the oil business just at the time when farming was going to the bad, and thus did not lose as heavily as they would have had they confined their entire attention to the farming game. Tony believes that a new era of prosperity is about to open up for the farmer, and that those who can possibly hold on should continue to do so.

—Paul Carlsen was home for the week end from the camp at Spalding. He had to hurry back, as the camp was to move Monday from there to a location somewhere between Newcastle, Wyo., and Custer, S. D. The train to move the men and equipment arrived in Spalding Sunday.

—Among those who were up from North Loup Saturday were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Lee, Ford Eyerly and V. W. Robbins. Robbins said he had been attending the sales at Broken Bow for several Saturdays, but decided to come to Ord for a change.

—Mr. and Mrs. Will R. Snell of Columbus, Nebr., were here last week to attend the graduation exercises. Mr. Snell's daughter, Norma Mae Snell, being one of the graduates. While here they visited with the Guy LeMasters family.

—Elmer Christoffersen has been going around on crutches for some time due to an accident that met up with him last week. He was getting wood out in the canyons. In picking up a heavy log he lost his balance and the log came down on his right knee when his foot was turned over, causing a serious sprain.

—In response to a message telling of the serious illness of his father, Dwight Keyes, manager of the Brown-McDonald store, left Saturday evening for New York City to be at his side. He went to Grand Island by car, from there to Chicago by train and from Chicago to New York by airplane.

—Last week Bill Garnick drove to Colorado and took his brother to a dude ranch near what is known as "Gold Hill," and Harold will be employed there this summer. Bill has worked several summers at Troutdale-in-the-Pines but this summer is helping his father on the farm near Blyria.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parks, of Atkinson, were Ord visitors Saturday. From here Lloyd went to Broken Bow on business and Mrs. Parks went to Loup City and the next day accompanied her father, A. E. Chase, on a trip to Omaha. Lloyd is still working for the Well-er Auction Company.

—Mrs. C. E. McGrew came home from her California trip last week, and made the Quiz office a pleasant call, during which she mentioned several matters of interest which she overlooked in her letters to the Quiz. She says that everywhere she went in California she received a wonderful welcome. Wherever she wanted to go some one was always ready with a car. At times they kept her too busy to write. She wishes to mention especially a trip she took with the J. B. Nay family to Roggevelt Memorial Park in the suburbs of Los Angeles. There they have the largest pipe organ in the world. The player is situated at a keyboard below the surface of the ground, and fifty feet away from the organ itself. He plays for two hours each Sunday afternoon, and the music can be heard a long distance. They made a trip to San Pedro and from one point along the road they could see Long Beach, Redondo Beach and Point Firman. Point Firman has the first harbor in the United States. She attended the last meeting of the Ord Ladies club. Dolly Level got up the program, assisted by the former Gladys Browning. Pauline Hansen Cleary, who speaks over the radio, gave a patriotic talk. The principal part of the program was "A Dream of Romance and was very cleverly acted out. She visited Rose Pierson's daughter in San Diego. She has a beauty parlor and home combined. She says that in one of the pictures in the California edition the man was Frank Nay instead of Donald Baker. When Mrs. McGrew got on the train to come home the stewardess who looked at her ticket, noticing she was from Ord, said, "My brother is going to marry Lois Wentworth." Yes, it is a small world.

To satisfy the decree of foreclosure rendered herein on the 5th day of May, 1937, together with interest, costs and accruing costs.

Dated this 28th day of May, 1937. GEORGE S. ROUND, Sheriff of Valley County, Nebraska. June 2-5t.

MY OWN COLUMN

nice and the grass beautiful green and six to eight inches tall, and the trees all in full leaf, that only a few weeks ago the snow was four to eight feet deep all over our tract. But the pictures which I have mailed to Eugene prove what I say for Jim Luther walked right up onto our kitchen with his skis without a bit of trouble. Sometimes the natives hereabouts jokingly say that they have nine months of winter and three months of cold weather, but I say it 110 here a couple of times for a short part of the day last year.

Oscar Wallin got himself a new pair of hip boots a few weeks ago and it was not long, while putting out a dock, that he got in too deep and got all the space not taken up by feet, filled with lake water. Now he is advertising them as follows in the Brainerd Dispatch: "FOR SALE CHEAP—One pair of almost new size hip gum boots."

The reason Oscar is selling them is because they are too large for even him. He is no infink as Poppe says, and wears a No. 14 boot. Someone had told Oscar that wet rubber boots could be dried out by filling them with hot oats. Not having any hot oats or even any to heat, Oscar struck upon the idea of using white beans instead and he had plenty of beans. He reasoned that since he had only used the boots a few weeks it wouldn't hurt the beans any after they dried out. So he heated up a couple of bushels of beans and filled both boots when he went to bed. When he got up in the morning and looked at his boots, he rubbed his eyes and took another look. Then he looked at his feet wondering if he really needed such large boots. He had forgotten that soaking white beans causes them to swell and had those beans swelled. Those boots are large enough for Paul Bunyon yelled Oscar to Ruth who had not yet come down. And so he wants to sell them and get another pair of 14's.

If Judge Clements was to drive in right now he wouldn't recognize his former Cullen Lake home and it is not nearly finished yet. When it is it is going to make a wonderful place for someone who wants to spend a week or two here. I am going to send Eugene a picture of it when I get it all finished and the yard cleaned up, and give him permission to use it in the Quiz.

Sunday afternoon as the Missus and I were sitting out in the yard enjoying our rock garden and the bright, warm sunshine, we heard a car stop in the back drive and looked around to see E. M. Hosman climbing out. You will remember him as a former Ord school superintendent. He has a position as Secretary of the Omaha Municipal University now, a very important position. He was accompanied by a Mr. Smith whom he introduced to us as assistant superintendent of Omaha schools. Mr. Smith has a summer home on another lake northeast of here a few miles and Mr. Hosman bought a place last year on Lower Cullen. The gentlemen were up looking their properties over, arranging for some improvements, and, I suspect, get a short respite from their winter's grind.

I wish I was posted on bird lore so I could recognize the many kinds of birds that are flitting from bush to tree all about me. It is a veritable symphony orchestra and there must be hundreds of them. They seem to be especially happy today. The Missus is on very good terms with many of them, tells me their names and some of their habits, where they spend their winter vacations, what they like to eat, etc. She gets a lot of pleasure studying about them. Wrens are building nests in several of our wren houses, hung out in the trees as soon as we got here. There is a pair of beautiful orioles building in the treetop of a jackpine in the yard, the swallows have taken possession of the martin house on the pole in the front yard and a terrific battle is being staged between the two tribes almost continually. Mr. and Mrs. Robin are building in a tree just over the wall in the Fenner yard and a pair of bluebirds are flitting about gathering materials so must be building themselves a home nearby but as yet we have not seen it. A pair of loons have a nest on the point between here and McDowell's, looks like a bank of mud raked up and there are two eggs look to be the size of goose eggs. We don't dare go close for fear of scaring them away. We hope, later to see the old birds conveying their two baby loons about the lake. Then there are several duck nests along our shore. I have not found them, have not looked for them in fact, for I would not scare them away for anything. I got some corn in town and scatter a handful in the edge of the lake for them and we throw bread crusts in also. Everything is gathered up and apparently enjoyed and later we expect to be feeding several broods of baby wild ducks. There are both mallards and teal nesting along our shore.

H. D. Leggett.

Rev. Real Is Grateful,

Greenfield, Tenn., May 28, 1937
The Ord Quiz
Dear Editor:

May I take this occasion to thank you and all of the Ord citizens for the evidence of your friendship as shown to us in our visit to Ord. It was our intention to write a card of thanks to each of the many families who entertained us in their homes. However there was a larger number who indicated their desire to entertain us, but because of the short time we were there they were not able to do so. To these we are equally thankful and to all others who greeted us with such friendliness. We especially thank Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller for opening to us their wonderful home and making us feel so welcome. The cheers that came from the students when I spoke at the school and that wonderful crowd that came from all religious faiths and from the surrounding country to the community service hall always shine as a bright light in our memories.

If you will be so kind to print this note of "Thank you" in your most excellent paper, we will know that it will reach every home and no one will be left out. We trust that they will feel our love and gratitude to them and know that it is real.

The Reals.

Ord's Successful Mentor of Sports

Crowded out of the Quiz last week because of lack of space, we present you now Coach Eddy, who has done a praiseworthy job in handling intramural sports at the grade school this year. Under his supervision, a ambitious grade youngsters have been given a chance to "strut their stuff" in all divisions of sports the year around.

—Mrs. Frank Zeleski came from Grand Island by bus Saturday night, visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puncchar. She returned to her home Monday with Henry Zeleski.

K. P. Softballers Beat Liverstock

Ord softballers got busy Tuesday night and slipped in one game of their schedule despite the fact that Old Man Rain made them postpone the last game of the evening. The postponed games from Tuesday, May 25 will be played Thursday night.

In the first clash, the K of P. team had a tough time of it in sinking the touted Livestock outfit by a narrow 7 to 6 score. Lynn Beeghy pitched perfect ball as he struck out 12 Livestock batters. The K. P.'s collected 11 hits while the Stockers secured a meager three.

Blasting the K. of C. team almost completely off the diamond, the Safeways won a 3 to 0 verdict in a game that went only 2 1/2 innings, and was then postponed on account of rain. Safeways secured 9 hits while the K. C.'s got only two.

Batteries included: Safeways (13) E. Barnes and D. Mella; K. of C. (7) T. Gaster and J. Kokes; K. of P. (7) L. Beeghy and H. Wolf; O. L. S. (6) L. Shunkweller and R. Christensen.

Nice Increase in Poppy Day Sales

Mrs. Alfred Wiegand, chairman of the Auxiliary "poppy day" committee, announced Monday morning that poppy sales this year were a slight increase over last year's sales. Auxiliary ladies, assisted by a host of school girls sold well over 1,100 poppies. Estimated receipts are somewhere between $115 and $120.

Lillian Karty was "tops" among the girl poppy-sellers, Lillian selling over $16 worth. Other girls reported fine sales and all who sold poppies are to be guests of the Auxiliary at a theatre party to be held the latter part of the week.

Marriage Licenses.

County Judge John L. Andersen issued three marriage licenses the past week. May 29th, Raymond Ericson of Edgar, Nebr., and Evelyn Miller of Orleans, Nebr., were granted a license. To date there has been no return. Both of the contracting parties are teachers.

June 1st, a license was issued to Ray W. Peterson, son of Mrs. Fanny Peterson, and Lois L. Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Collins. These young people are well known and popular here. No return had been made Wednesday morning.

May 26 a license was issued to Arnold L. Cook and Leona D. Baldwin, both of the Ericson neighborhood. The same day they were married by Judge Andersen in the presence of Miss Edith Cook and Herman E. Cook as witnesses.

—Ab. McLain was up from fork for Decoration Day.

Nebraska Now Has 981 Miles of Paving, Should Build More

So Contents Speaker at Ord
C. of C. Meeting; Stores To Close on July 5th.

A meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce was held at the K. of P. hall Thursday evening, with a fair attendance. President John P. Misko brought up two matters of interest. First, he said arrangements could be made for the chamber to use the K. of P. hall for future meetings. As there was not a very large attendance he did not feel that those present should take any definite action. It was therefore voted that the chair appoint a committee to confer with the K. of P. organization and report at a meeting to be called by chair at a later date.

Misko also asked for an expression of opinion on whether the business men should close on July 5, and it was agreed by all business men present that this should be done. The second matter brought up by Misko was the introduction of the speaker of the evening, H. J. Young, acting district engineer of the Portland Cement Association.

Mr. Young opened his talk with the statement that it would be difficult to find anyone who is not affected by the highway situation. He said he met people over the state who took the attitude that all the roads necessary were already built, and introduced the following figures to show that the work of building roads was barely begun.

Nebraska at the beginning of the year had 981 miles of paved roads, 882 miles of bituminous mat roads, 6899 miles of gravel roads, and 414 miles of graded earth roads, making a total of 8372 miles of maintained roads. In addition to this 2770 miles of roads in the state have been designated as state roads, but have not yet been marked and are not maintained. Of this grand total of 11,142 miles of roads less than 5 per cent are permanent.

In addition a number of demands are being made for changes in roads already existing. Among them he included the widening of arterial highways, and the elimination of grade crossings, the re-

Ord Affected By Big Truck Strike

Ord truckers, as well as several Ord stores which usually get their merchandise by truck, are being affected by the strike of drivers which is raging in Omaha this week. The truck drivers' union, an A. F. of L. affiliate, is attempting to organize all middle western drivers, charging each $7.00 to join and dues of $2.00 per month. Minimum wage of $27.50 for drivers is the strike's purpose, it is claimed.

Local haulers of livestock were halted at Omaha city limits Monday but were allowed to haul their cargoes on to the stockyards, being warned by pickets not to attempt bringing back any loads. At Grand Island picketing was attempted but county officers dispersed the picketers under threat of arresting them.

Merchandise for the Food Center grocery and other Ord stores, usually brought in by truck, came by rail Monday and Tuesday. It is believed the strike will be short-lived.

Disbarment Action Against Attorney

Attorney General Richard C. Hunter, filed disbarment proceedings Saturday against Fred P. Marconit, Omaha attorney for allegedly "unprofessional and unethical" conduct, in a case in which he represented an Ord woman. The complaint charged Marconit sold $2,649.00 worth of building and loan stock for Mrs. Pearl M. Wyrick of Ord in 1933 but told his client there was no market for the securities. He offered to buy them himself and later paid her $300.00, the attorney general charged. Later Mrs. Wyrick obtained a Douglas county district court judgment against Marconit, the complaint alleged. Marconit is also charged with failing to repay $500.00 which Mrs. Hedwig M. Effenberger gave him to invest in 1933. The complaint asserted that the lawyer has violated the oath under which he was admitted to practice, has failed to maintain due respect for justice, and has been guilty of unethical conduct.

New Dance Band.
"Little Gene" and his band, a new local dance band made their first public appearance Tuesday evening at the playground for an invitational dancing party at the opera house. Eugene Puncobar is in direct charge of the eight-piece band, with Emil Darges as sponsor and booking agent.

'Cone Shop' Afire, Search for 'Cohen' Is Started

Operators in the Ord telephone office certainly had people going last Friday morning when Ord firemen rushed to the scene of a fire at the Fairmont ice cream station. It was something like this:

"Number please?"
"Where is the fire?"
"At the cone shop."
"At Cohen's shop? Thank you."

Then the great search began. Housewives stood on doorsteps to yell to their next door neighbor, small children scurried to the house next door—all with the question, "Where is Cohen's shop?" The mystery was cleared up at noon when husbands got home. After much explaining (some even with the aid of diagrams) it was made clear that it was the "cone," or ice cream plant, and not "Cohen's shop" that had caught on fire.

This Week Final Chance to Register In Summer Project

70 Children Registered Now
Says Stoddard; Archery Classes Popular.

A final call for all children interested in taking recreational work is issued this week by F. L. Stoddard, director of the recreation project being sponsored this year by the American Legion and the Business and Professional Women's club.

A slightly different plan is being used this year in directing the project. The American Legion is furnishing the hall where the children meet and are given assistance in paying the director of the project by the B. and P. W. C. At the present time there are six people hired to instruct the children, these instructors being paid by means of WPA funds.

Sixty to seventy children, ranging in age from five to sixteen, are at the present time signed up for summer work. Director Stoddard says that there is still time for children who would like to enter any of the various classes to register.

One of the most interesting courses offered, according to registration figures, is that of archery. An archery range is to be constructed at Bussell park as soon as enough equipment is secured. Several regulation size targets are now under construction and will be finished soon.

Most of the small children now attending classes are very much interested in the making of turtles and frogs for their fish ponds and rock gardens at home. These queer little creatures, made out of old inner-tubes and stuffed with rags, are decorated with several types of paint and look very realistic when completed. There is much interest in softball and baseball and play will start as soon as the teams become organized.

Classes this week are being held only in the afternoon. Starting with Monday of next week classes will be held both in the morning and afternoon. Outdoor sports are being held at the fair grounds, the high school football grounds and the park. Instructors include Martin Wiegardt, Everett Petty, Bob Hughes, Seth Mason, Mrs. John Beran, Everett Bleach and Veina Kohl.

Ord 4-H Club Girls Meet in Lincoln

Miss Grace Lee and four of her 4-H club girls attended the state meeting at Lincoln, May 31 to June 5. Those who went were Virginia Davis, Marilyn Dale, Betty Smith and Mildred Timmerman. More than three hundred boys and girls were in attendance, there being no boys from this section this year. The daily program called for classes during the forenoon each day, and trips to various parts of the city in the afternoons. On Friday, June 4, they spent the entire day in Omaha and visited many places of interest. A glance at the daily program of 4-H club week shows that there was something doing for both boys and girls every minute of the time.

Miss Evangeline Bantz, NYA director, went to Burwell to look after her work there Monday. She took Donna Ward with her to do some stenographic work.

Ord's Celebration Will Be 'Safe and Sane'-No Fireworks

But Two Parades, Many Free Acts, Music, Will Provide Entertainment.

No fireworks but plenty of other entertainment including parades both morning and evening is the decision in regard to Ord's 4th of July celebration, which will be held on Monday, July 5th.

Meeting at Ed Kokes' office on Thursday evening, the Ord Booster club decided to ban fireworks, principally because of the danger of fire and injury to Ord citizens and visitors that would result from their use and also because using them would mean a big outlay of money for the actual entertainment secured.

Tentative plans to have a boxing or wrestling show in the evening also were dismissed, many business men having voted negatively on this form of entertainment. While no doubt of interest to many men visitors an athletic show would form little entertainment for women and children, who will compose a large part of the crowd, and hence committee heads put the ban on this proposition.

Plans now call for a night parade in addition to the one held in the forenoon. The floats at night will be lighted with lights of various colors and should prove a big attraction. Money has been added to the amount allotted for the parade and the parade committee will decide how this can be expended to the best advantage. The floats will be divided into several groups, including business floats, school floats and church and lodge floats.

Prizes will be given for the best decorated store windows, and also the best decorated store fronts. B. C. Boquet, chairman of the finance committee reported Thursday evening that better than half of the money subscribed had already been paid in and that he expects the rest in within a week. Boquet has ideas for a large number of floats, which he is furnishing to the business men who desire assistance in this respect.

Joe Puncobar, manager of the local Food Center store, announced that he will be able to get plenty of publicity for the Ord celebration over KMMJ, and was told to have them announce it twice per week until about June 25, after which time the program can be announced oftener and in more detail. L. J. Auble, WNAX dealer, said that the Yankton station will be glad to give Ord a similar amount of free publicity.

An effort is being made by the advertising chairman to get Lyle Moss, the KPA's "man on the street", for a short time during the day. He will appear as a part of the celebration program unless the cost should prove prohibitive. Chris Belter will be in charge of concessions, and will arrange to have any concessions come in that meet with the approval of the committee. The plan is not to permit any concession that will conflict with local concerns.

Tuesday morning Ed Kokes, W. A. Thodal and B. C. Boquet went to Lincoln, where they planned to complete arrangements for the Ord celebration. Mr. Kokes was to see several parties in regard to the free acts, and the entire group to interview some man relative to decorations. It is understood that all plans for the celebration will be completed at the next meeting, and that copy for the big bills will then be made up.

—Don Kohl of Madison is here for a visit with the Bill Heck family. He arrived Saturday night and will remain for three weeks. Don is a junior in the Madison high school.

Sinks 5-Footer To Win Golf Tourney

GLEN AUBLE.
Glen Auble sinks a five-foot put on hole eight to finish the match and give him a victory in the first flight over M. Biemond, medalist of Ord golf club tournament held last Sunday on the Bussell park links.

Biemond, Auble, Are Best Golfers

Despite a raging wind, Ord golfers went right ahead with their golf tournament last Sunday. Open only to club members, about 75 golfers took part in the tourney. Scores were unusually high because of the wind disadvantage. An open tournament is being planned to be held some time in August.

M. Biemond and Glen Auble both shot 33 to tie for medalist honors Sunday. Shooting an extra hole, however, Biemond proved his golfing ability to take first place and the silver cup.

In the first flight Glen Auble was the best man, ousting his main competitor, Biemond, by a narrow margin. A silver plaque was awarded Auble for first place in this flight. This plaque is to be won for three consecutive years by a single performer before it becomes his property. Sorenson's drug store presented the winner of this flight with one dozen golf balls.

Second flight honors were won by Mark Tolen, with John Misko taking the runner-up position. Tolen was given one dozen golf balls awarded by Beranek's drug store.

Dr. F. L. Blessing was winner of the third flight, his prize being a set of drink stirrers offered by Auble Bros. Ed Holub was second high in this flight.

Verne Weller was tops in the fourth flight, winning a leather jacket offered by J. C. Penney Co. Bert Boquet took runner-up honors.

In the fifth flight Ralph Misko won the sport shoes offered by Brown-McDonald. Bill Heck was second place man.

Three birdies were made on hole No. 5, Verne Weller, Dr. Blessing and Mark Tolen winning polo shirts offered by Brown-McDonald.

It's "Pop" Anderson Now.
Asa Anderson of the Quiz staff is wearing the smile that won't come off, and all because he has a daughter, Sonia Avonne, born to them at the Ord hospital at about 9:00 a. m. Sunday. All concerned are doing well, and Asa is setting type as fast as ever.

Weather Menu Is Varied-Rain, Wind, Then a June Frost

Inch of Rain Fell Friday, Gardens Nipped Saturday,
Chilly Days Since.

Heavy rain, strong winds and frosty nights gave Valley county a varied weather menu for the past week, making it one of the most unusual first weeks of June this community has ever seen.

Friday afternoon and evening almost an inch of rain fell in Ord, the official report by Horace Travis being .57 of an inch. In other communities, notably on upper Davis Creek, as much as 3 inches fell, washing some corn fields so greatly that replanting had to be done.

Saturday the wind blew a gale all day, blowing small grain crops flat and breaking branches off many trees. That night in some communities heavy frost was noted, though Travis' government thermometer in Ord showed only 40 degrees. In river bottom gardens tomato plants and other tender vegetables showed frosted leaves the next morning. Rudolph Kokes, who farms west of town, reported a frost so heavy that thirty acres of corn, just out of the ground, was frozen and had to be replanted. Less serious damage to tender corn plants is reported by a few other farmers.

Valley county has occasionally had killing frosts after June 1 in previous years, though the usual date of the last frost is from May 10 to May 20.

Fruit apparently was too far advanced to be damaged anywhere by the Saturday night frost and from present appearances a good crop is in the making. All small grains show promise of heavy yields also and corn, though late, is promising although the crop will depend upon three factors—cutworm and grasshopper damage and continued rainfall.

As a whole, the present farm outlook is quite encouraging. Forecast of more rainfall during the present week is pleasing to farmers also.

School Budget Fixed At $42,297

Slightly higher than the 1936-37 budget but far below the average for the past eight years, Ord's school budget for 1937-38 was fixed Monday evening by the board of education at $42,297. This amount was recommended by Superintendent C. C. Thompson and the board's finance committee, which is composed of Chairman Horace Travis, Secretary Ralph W. Norman and L. D. Mullen.

The budget last year was $41,036.72, of which only $40,405.29 was actually expended. Highest budget in recent years was in 1931-32 when $53,439.56 was budgeted and $952.28 more than the budget was spent. Average Ord school expense for the past seven terms has been $44,300. In addition its debt service—bonds and interest—which is fixed by the county treasurer's office.

Estimated receipts from state apportionment, tuition, beer and tobacco license, band allowance, vocational and normal training allowance and fines for the next term is $15,500, leaving the balance to be raised by taxation.

The Ord school district now is in the best financial shape it has been in for many years.

—Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Burson are planning to go to Mitchell Sunday to visit the B. Preston family, who now live there.

Borrowed 50c From Sheriff, Went on A "Beer Drunk"

When Sheriff George Round was accosted Saturday afternoon by an old acquaintance, Bernard Hughes of Garfield county, with a request for a 50c loan "to buy something to eat," the genial peace officer forked over the amount requested.

"Don't spend it for beer and get drunk," he warned Hughes. Sunday morning when Sheriff Round in his capacity of jailer opened the cells to feed his prisoners he was greeted by Hughes, who had been arrested the previous evening by city officers for drunkenness.

In county court Monday morning Hughes pleaded guilty and was fined $25.00 and costs of $5.00 by Judge Andersen. Unable to pay, he elected to "lay it out" in jail, where he will be fed thrice daily by Sheriff Round.

"The worst of it is I haven't even got my 50c back," mourns the Valley county sheriff.

Standeven Okeys All Contracts, One Work Order Issued

Work To Start at Once On Diversion Dams in the North Loup Project.

Early this afternoon officials of the North Loup power and irrigation project issued to the Western Asphalt Paving Corporation, of Sioux City, a work order authorizing them to go ahead at once with construction of three diversion dams, their contract for $140,960 having been approved this morning by W. E. Standeven PWA engineer in charge.

At the same time Standeven gave his approval to four other contracts let early in May by the district, one to the W. J. Assenmacher company for $162,210, another to the Inland Construction company involving $143,860 and a third to Orslek & Christensen for $23,544.20.

Work orders to these contractors will be issued "within a day or two," the Quiz was told early this afternoon by E. H. Dummire, engineer-manager of the district.

Last obstacle to starting of construction on the three diversion dams was removed by issuance of the work order today to the Western Asphalt Paving corporation. Largest of the three dams will be located just north of Burwell, another near Taylor and the third one just south of Ord.

Notified by telephone that the work order had been issued, officials of the corporation said they expected to get work under way at once.

Many Attend First Of Summer Concerts

A large number of people enjoyed the first band concert of the season given by the 50-piece Ord municipal band last Wednesday night. Leonard Soben was high-ly applauded for his tenor solo accompanied by the band.

By the use of a public address system the band is planning to present numerous feature numbers this summer. Two or three vocal or instrumental feature selections will be given at each concert.

—Norm J. Holt is busy at present putting a two coat job of paint on the Presbyterian church. He has the first coat on and is working on the finish coat.

Ord Rebekah Drill Team Attends District Meeting at Wolbach

At the convention Rebekahs elected the following officers for the coming year: Cella Wheeler, of Burwell, president; Martha Peterson, of North Loup, vice-president; Edith Wyman, of Ericson, warden; Emma Mathausser, of Burwell, secretary; Helen DeLaurent, of Wolbach, treasurer. Mrs. Jessie Wiegardt, of Ord, was appointed marshal, Agnes Manchester, of North Loup, conductor, Nellie Sample, of Wolbach, chaplain, Maggie King, of Ord, inside guardian, Lizzie Schaeffer, of Burwell, outside guardian and Margaret Wescott, of Ericson, musician. The next annual meeting will be held in Burwell.

Poison Delayed, Hopper Situation Getting Serious

Part of Ingredients Arrive
But Dale Informed Bran Coming Next Week.

Although cold, wet weather curtailing activity of valley county's grasshopper crop to some extent more are hatching all the time and the situation daily is becoming more serious, said County Agent C. C. Dale this morning. Complicating matters is the failure of a carload of hopper poison ordered for delivery two weeks ago to arrive in Ord.

A carload of sawdust to be used in the poison bait came yesterday Dale explains, and the poison to be used is at St. Paul and can be secured when needed. Eight tons of bran needed to make the mixture palatable to hoppers has not yet come. Yesterday County Agent Dale telephoned the Nebraska Consolidated Mills, who hold a contract with the government for 700 tons of bran to be used in grasshopper poison, and was informed that the shipment to Ord cannot be made until the middle of next week. The mill is working night and day, Dale was told, but is far behind on orders.

Dale telephoned at once to O. S. Bare, state entomologist who has charge of the poisoning program in Nebraska, to see if something can be done toward securing bran elsewhere. If this effort fails there is nothing to do but wait until next week, he says.

His office is deluged daily with complaints of grasshopper damage and farmers are very anxious to start spreading the poison bait in hope it will relieve the situation. The entire carload ordered for this county has been spoken for by farmers, Dale's office says.

Ord Becomes Mecca For Many Dopsters

How it started is not easy to figure out, but Ord authorities are convinced that it does not pay to give dope fiends a break. When one of them showed up several weeks ago, they were sorry for him, as he was obviously in pitiful condition for want of a shot of dope. They decided the only humane thing to do was to take him to a doctor and have this done, after which he was taken out of town and told to be on his way.

This same man has been back three or four times since, and when he again showed up Monday afternoon he was loaded in a car and hauled down No. 11 below North Loup and told to be on his way. This man apparently told some of his fellow addicts, for there have been a number in Ord at different times. Two more showed up Tuesday, and they were taken out of town like the rest. One of these men came to Dr. W. J. Hemphill's office in North Loup a couple of weeks ago and begged a shot of dope. Upon being refused he drew a razor and cut the muscles of his arm, thinking the doctor would then take pity on him. The doctor still refused and he came up to Ord where his arm was looked after by Dr. Kramer. Hop heads might as well know once for all that they will get no dope in Ord from now on.

Dedication Picnic At Burwell Sunday

Next Sunday, June 13, will be held the combination dedication and old settlers' picnic at Burwell. This is the occasion on which the monument erected near Pebble creek some time ago will be dedicated to the memory of Marlon Littlefield, who died there in a skirmish with the Indians, Jan. 20, 1874, according to the inscription on his gravestone, but on Jan. 19, according to local records of the time. The monument is located on a level plot of ground on the Pebble creek scenic road, about 100 rods east of Pebble creek.

According to present plans a basket dinner will be eaten at noon, and the dedication services will follow. Anyone who has been a resident of the valley 35 years or more is considered an old settler, and welcome to attend the picnic. The dedication itself is open to the public. An honor roll of the oldest settlers, those who came here in the '70s, is being made up. Since last report two more have been added to the list, Peter Anderson and Wm. Cronk. If eligible, please report.

Mrs. George Heiblg Dies.
Mrs. James Misko received word that her sister-in-law, Mrs. George Heiblg, passed away Sunday at their home at Sterling, Colo. She left Tuesday afternoon to be present for the funeral, which is being held today, Wednesday. which I can remember, in a territory which depends upon irrigation, I was at a loss to understand why the water in your river had not long since been put to a beneficial use for farm irrigation purposes. To me it appeared almost criminal. What Colorado could do with this water! Here the water is more valuable than the land. As I sat on the bridge and saw the water running away I could not believe my eyes. The Lord helps those who help themselves.—He gave you the river—use it!

Here in Colorado everyone is enthusiastic over the Grand Lake Diversion Project whereby we are to expend $14,000,000 to divert water from the other side of the Continental Divide and another $10,000,000 for reservoirs to collect and develop the water, making a total of $24,000,000 which would not develop as much water as you have in your river at your back door. The above would be the value of your river to us, if we had it, why don't you use it?

I prophesy that after the water has been used a short time that you will soon be using all that you can take out and wishing for more. Then the feeling toward irrigation there will be greatly changed.

Yours very truly,
Tracy C. Cameron,
Attorney-at-Law.

—Olaf Olsson went to McCook Sunday and is working there a few days in his profession of refrigeration engineer. He is expected back in Ord today or tomorrow.

One and one-fourth inches of rain was our portion Tuesday night. It surely came down nice and did much good. Friday we had three showers but in the afternoon it really rained. Van Greger said they got between 3 and 4 inches of rain and at John Williams' there was 1 5-8 inches. For about 30 minutes it rained hard and washed the fields enough to wash out corn and cover other parts of the fields so deep that replanting will be necessary in many fields.

Born Monday, May 31 to Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Rowe of Loup City, a son. Mr. and Mrs. John Palser and family were down to see them last Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Guy Kerr and family of North Loup were there Sunday to see the baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Larsen and sons spent Sunday at her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Quartz. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson were at Clinton Peterson's Sunday. Mrs. Peterson was in Loup City helping care for her mother, Mrs. Jay Cole who is seriously ill with heart trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eglehoff and Paul Dean went to Lincoln Saturday and visited his uncle, Mr. and Mrs. John Nebergall. They also viewed the capital building, the penitentiary, the museum and other places of interest. Kenneth Eglehoff was also a week end guest at his uncles. They returned home by way of Gresham Sunday and visited the cemetery there. They were supper guests Sunday evening at Will Eglehoff's.

Paul Reger has been helping Van Greger the past week.

Richard Palser spent last week at his brothers, George Palser Sunday he and Mr. and Mrs. George Palser and Eugene were at Wilber Rowe's. Richard came home Sunday evening with Guy Kerr's.

Helen Joyce Sayre spent several days last week at Clifford Collins'. Her parents were supper guests at Clifford's Wednesday evening.

—Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Betty and Mrs. Iona Leach and children and Maynard Desel spent Sunday afternoon at John Williams'.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend the Children's Day services at the United Brethren church at 2 o'clock on June 13.

Friday John Palser, Walter Linko and Mr. Skala took their tractors, Alfred Jorgensen and Louie Axthelm, four horses; Floyd Chubbuck and Jack McCarville, six horses and they listed corn for Frank Sinkler. There were 5 2-row listers and 2 1-row and they would have had the listing finished if the rain had been three hours later. However they finished that Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGee and family visited his uncle, George Whittaker near Loup City Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ingerson and children, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Owens and two children of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Brubaker and three children of Sheldon, Ill., were at Van Greger's on Monday of last week for a picnic dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Palser and children visited relatives in Scotia Sunday. Carol Gene Jefferies came home with them to spend a few days.

Sunday at 10 o'clock the Methodist Sunday School will give their Children's Day program at the church.

Eva Johnson who has been visiting at Sutton and Lincoln, and Mrs. Irma Seng and children came up on the bus Saturday to North Loup where Mr. Johnson met them.

While in Lincoln Eva and Mr. and Mrs. Seng attended the wedding of Miss Bernice Weiland at Syracuse, Neb., many will remember her as she has visited here a number of times. She and Eva and Mrs. Seng were college chums.

Mrs. Mary Mawkoski in rejoicing over the arrival of her first grandchild, a boy, born to Mr. and Mrs. Emmet McClothen at Gering last Wednesday.

Paul Palser went to Ericson Monday with the F. F. A.'s from North Loup on a fishing trip. They expect to return Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Manchester called at Ben Nauenbergers Sunday evening.

Keith Tyrell was an over night guest at his aunt's, Mrs. Beryl Miller, Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Miller and sons took him home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sample and two daughters spent Sunday at Mr. and Mrs. James Sample's.

cating of highways, and the large demand from the rural section for farm to market roads. Every interest is clamoring for some of this road money to be spent on their pet proposition. The only way to proceed is to have actual factual data.

He said there were four ways of gathering these data: they are traffic surveys, road use surveys, economic surveys and condition surveys. As no accurate data are available in Nebraska, he took the data from the three states, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin, saying that there would doubtless be a material difference in Nebraska data when available.

Under traffic surveys it was found the primary highways, with 10 per cent of the public road mileage, carried 66 per cent of the rural traffic; and the secondary highways with 20 per cent of the mileage, carried 25 per cent of the rural traffic; and that the remaining 70 per cent carried only 9 per cent of the rural traffic. Comparison of all traffic showed that city streets carried 45 per cent; primary highways carried 36 per cent; secondary highways carried 14 per cent and the rural roads carried only 5 per cent.

Factual data showed that the revenue from the cities made up 50 per cent of the total income for road purposes, while the rural sections furnished but 20 per cent. Mr. Young believes that Nebraska will show a larger percentage of rural revenue than this. The road use survey showed that city traffic used the primary roads 45 per cent, the secondary roads 10 per cent, the country roads 5 per cent, and the city streets, 40 per cent; country traffic used the rural roads 60 per cent, the primary roads 20 per cent, the country roads 15 per cent and the city streets 5 per cent.

All of which showed that primary roads were entitled to 48 per cent of the entire revenue; that secondary roads should have 12 per cent; that country roads should have 7 per cent; and that city streets should have 33 per cent. The average maintenance cost of Nebraska's gravel roads is $377.99 per mile per year, and the total maintenance costs for the past five years has been above three million dollars per year. The maintenance cost of concrete is $50.00 per year, and bituminous mat $200.00 per year. All members present enjoyed Mr. Young's talk, as he is a very interesting speaker.

Group Singing Enjoyed by Bible School Students

Group singing is one of the big parts of the union daily vacation Bible school which closes its two week session this Sunday night when the students present a program in the Methodist church. The program is to be a demonstration of the work that has been accomplished by the classes during the two week period. Diplomas will be awarded to approximately 150 students who completed the course successfully.

Bible School Will End Course Friday

The union daily vacation Bible school will close its two week session with a program presented by students at the Methodist church Sunday night. This program, scheduled to start at eight o'clock, will include group singing and displays of outstanding work done by individual students during the two week course. Everyone interested in these children is invited to attend.

A picnic is to be held next Friday noon at Bussell Park for all Bible school students. Certificates of award will be presented Sunday night to students who completed the two weeks course with a satisfactory attendance record. Special recognition will be given those students who did additional memory work.

This Bible school was one of the most successful of recent years. During the two week period over 150 children attended and participated in the school's activities. Headed by Rev. S. A. Woodruff of the Presbyterian church, a staff of 12 teachers and officers took charge of handling the many students. Two churches were used for classes.

Teachers for the school included Mrs. C. E. Goodhand, Mrs. Highleyman, Margaret Holmes, Barbara Dale, Ruth Koupal, Mrs. Ernest Horner, Miss Lois Finley, Helen Russell, Miss Mamie J. Young, Mrs. Carlton, Mrs. Worrell and Virginia Sack, pianist and secretary.

Poison Delayed, Hopper Situation Getting Serious

Directions for spreading the bait when it arrives, are issued by the county agent's office as follows:

Five to ten pounds of bran is enough for one application per acre. Apply where young hoppers are numerous along roadsides, fence rows, turn rows, edges of fields, and pastures, ditch and gully banks, and around stacks and old stack butts in alfalfa fields. On few farms will the young hoppers be found hatching on more than five or ten acres. On many, two or three acres only will require attention.

Bait should be scattered thinly and very thoroughly. Thorough scattering increases the kill of hoppers and does away with any danger of poisoning livestock, poultry or birds. Piles or lumps of the bait are dangerous to anything that has a chance to eat it. The bait should be spread before ten o'clock in the forenoon of a bright, clear day. Bait should not be spread in cold rainy weather. The poison takes effect slowly and many of the poisoned grasshoppers will not die until 3 or 5 days have passed.

For small areas, the poisoned bran may be spread by hand from a bucket carried on the arm. On larger areas it may be sown by hand from a tub or box in the rear end of a truck or wagon which is driven across the field. Where large areas are to be covered, the bait, if not too wet, may be spread very conveniently and rapidly by feeding it slowly into the hopper of an engine seeder having a feeder of the fluted cylinder type. If the bait is too wet or large quantities are placed in the hoppers, it will be sure to clog. Seeders having a feed of the auger or screw type will not spread the bait successfully. A few pounds of bait, if used at this time in the comparatively small hatching areas and around edges of the fields, will kill many times the grasshoppers that the same amount of bait would kill if used several weeks later when the hoppers have spread over the fields and are seriously damaging the crops.

PERSONALS

—Pete Leonard and Ray Moore both of Bassett, came down to Ord Tuesday forenoon, picked up Sid Solson and took him to Omaha to see the races. Mr. Leonard was a jockey until he became too heavy, and has frequently ridden in Omaha. He is one of those who can really understand what an awful catastrophe the fire there was to the racing world.

—Peter Bartusiak went to Grant Sunday, taking his father with him. A brother from Golden, Colo., met him there and took the old gentleman home with him. Pete returned to Ord Sunday evening.

—Max Vlasak, mayor of Prague, Nebr., and also cashier of the Bank of Prague was in Ord Tuesday evening enroute to Blaine county, where he was called by business matters. With him were Mrs. Vlasak and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pabian, also of Prague.

—Lloyd McGrew came up from Lincoln Monday evening and will spend a few days getting acquainted with the home folks once more. He even insinuates that if he were offered a nice job like painting or carpentering he might stick around. He seems glad to be back, and the public is equally glad to see him.

—Mrs. W. A. Bartlett returned from her trip to Oregon Tuesday on the morning bus. She went out primarily to visit Dan, but she and Dan took a trip down to Nampa to attend a picnic at Nampa park. While there she saw Mrs. A. J. Firkins and daughters Mrs. Effie Timm and Mrs. Ambrose Johnson and family, also C. E. Batte and family, Ralph Batte and family, who recently moved out from Lincoln, and Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Collins. They saw "Ponce" or rather Roy Heuck at Nampa, and on a trip up to Boise they saw Fred and Otto Heuck, who seem to be doing well there. Mrs. Bartlett went all the way to the coast, and visited several cities there.

—Twenty years ago, believe it or not, the Ben Janssen family came to Ord. As this item did not appear in the items for twenty years ago, the Quiz missing it at that time, the fact is mentioned here. Let us wish them another twenty years with us.

—Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Zikmund came to Ord to attend the graduation exercises, and when they left they took Joy Janssen home to Crete with them.

This is the first real job Andy has undertaken since his recent operation and he is having quite a hard time teaching his right hand to handle a paint brush again as it has been more or less useless since his fall last winter.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Sevener and children and Mrs. Sevener's sister, Miss Alma Urban, motored to Atkinson Sunday morning where Alma will visit for two weeks with relatives. Sevener's returned to Ord the same day they left.

—Accompanied by his daughter, who will keep house for him in Ord this summer, E. H. Dunmire returned early Tuesday morning from Lawrence, Kas., where he and Miss Dunmire attended commencement exercises the evening previous. They will occupy the H. F. Brockman home this summer.

—Mrs. Margaret Wentworth and daughter, Miss Lois, and George Gutschau returned Tuesday night from Manson, Ia., where they had been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sorensen. They were joined at Manson by G. Aubrey Love, superintendent of schools at Laurel, Nebr., to whom Miss Lois Wentworth will be married at her home in Ord on Sunday, June 27. He went from there to Omaha where he is attending a Masonic convention and after the convention will come to Ord.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woolery are looking forward to the arrival of a brother of Mrs. Woolery, Herman Swanson, of Atchison, Kas., and her sister, Mrs. Celia Olson, of Omaha. They will come Thursday. Mrs. Woolery and her brother haven't met in ten years. The Woolerys will leave soon for the west coast to make their home.

—Miss Carolyn Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Anderson, has been spending several days in Burwell with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Johnson.

Morgans Still Here. Last week through a slight misunderstanding the item appeared in the Quiz that the Morgan Engineering company had moved their offices to Burwell. This was a mistake, as they are still officed in the rooms on the north side of the square, and plan to remain there for some time.

In Police Court. Paul McMillen was fined $5.00 and $4.50 costs on June 2 for speeding. The same thing occurred to Paul Weary and Paul Schonfeld on June 3, and J. H. Dunn accumulated a similar sentence on June 7. All amounts were paid, enriching the treasury to the amount of $38.00.

—Charles Cornell came up from Lincoln Tuesday evening to attend the wedding of Mary Annabel Williams, and remained over until Wednesday afternoon to meet old friends.

TO BRING YOU PURER, SAFER Milk

Our Dairy Is Now Installing the Modern PASTEURIZING METHOD

Milk is the best, most nourishing food known, not only for children but for adults also. To make it even purer, safer and better we are now busy installing modern PASTEURIZING EQUIPMENT and this week to all Ord people who want it we are ready to supply PASTEURIZED MILK AND CREAM.

This pasteurizing equipment is being installed at considerable expense and there also is considerable expense involved in its operation. In this method raw milk is heated to a point where all bacteria are destroyed, then it is quickly cooled, then bottled ready for delivery.

Pasteurizing is the only method approved by medical authorities as giving positive assurance that no bacterial disease can be acquired through the milk or cream.

Arrange today to have PASTEURIZED MILK delivered to your home or insist on getting it when you buy from your grocer.

STEWART'S DAIRY

Raw milk still delivered if desired.

Farewell Breakfast.

A farewell breakfast for Lorraine Kusek, who will leave for California soon, was given by Misses Norma Mae Snell, Dorothy Auble and Armona Beth Achen at Bussell park early Tuesday morning. Those invited included Leonard Sobon, Josephine Romans, Arden Clark, Irene Whiting, Jack Janssen, Evelyn Sharp, Dean Barta, Willard Cushing, Lorraine Kusek, Laverne Lakin, Laverne Duemey, Arthur Auble and Bob Green. A delightful breakfast was served the group by Mrs. E. L. Achen, Mrs. Glen Auble and Mrs. Guy LeMasters.

Picnic Dinner Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Kirby entertained a number of relatives and friends at a picnic dinner last Sunday in honor of their daughter Lillian's birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kirby and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Kirby and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kirby and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Kirby, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kirby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Kirby and family, Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Boyce and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Nell Peterson and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Wilson and Flora VanCleave, Mrs. Archie Boyce and daughter, Henry Kirby, Murray Nelson, Harry Burk, Harry Paaschke, Walter Kirby and Junliata Sinkler. In the afternoon ice cream, cake and coffee were served.

Happy Hour Club Meets.

The Happy Hour Sewing club held their first meeting at the home of Marie Bell Wednesday afternoon, June 2, with six members and one visitor present. The officers of the club are: President, Viona Wolfe; vice-president, Betty Meyer; secretary, Viola Larsen, news reporter, Audrey Turner; song leader, Marie Bell; leader, Mrs. Ruth Wolf; assistant leader, Mrs. Alice Bell. The next meeting will be held at the home of Viola Larson, Friday, June 11. Reported by Audrey Turner.

Celebrate Anniversary.

Sunday, June 6, was the 29th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox, and Saturday, June 5 was the 5th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner. In honor of the anniversaries a dinner was given at the Ernest Horner home in Ord Sunday. In attendance besides the two families were Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Cox and daughter, two sons, Lyle and George, of Mrs. Roy Cox, and Mrs. Mary Williams, all of North Loup.

The Quiz Camera Visits Ord Stores

A Weekly Feature — Auble Motors.

daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Auble of Ord, became the bride of Kenneth W. Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Peterson of Burwell. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Earl Raltt, pastor of the church. Following the service the bridal party were taken to the Akropolis Cafe by the father and mother of the bride, where a wedding breakfast was served. The happy couple then went on to Omaha to spend a few days, after which they will be at home at St. Paul, where Mr. Peterson has prepared a home for his bride. Mrs. Peterson is a graduate of the Ord schools, and has been a teacher in the schools of Valley county for nine years. Last year she attended the university at Lincoln. Mr. Peterson is a Burwell high graduate, and for the past ten years has handled the Peterson Transfer, in which work he became known in every town between Burwell and Omaha. Before she left Lincoln a number of friends there arranged a prenuptial shower for Keo Auble last Thursday. A very enjoyable time was had, and Miss Auble received many clever and useful gifts.

Anniversary Lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker and Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon surprised Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner at their home Monday evening. The visitors brought a lunch with them and played cards until a late hour. The occasion was the fifth wedding anniversary of the Horners.

Pinochle Club Meets.

The Pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Dworak, with Mrs. Joe Jabonski of Elyria as assistant hostess. Mrs. Ed Zikmund had high score, and Mrs. Mike Socha low. Guests were Mrs. Lloyd Benjamin and Mrs. Bess Achen.

Junior Priscilla Meets.

The Junior Priscilla club met at the home of Luella Kuehl with Jean Velega as co-hostess. The first lesson on beverages and fruit progressed under the supervision of Mrs. Kuehl. Menu cards are being made to complete our schedule report. The next meeting is at the home of Gertrude McAllister.

New D-H Club Meets.

The Happy-Go-Lucky 4-H club newly organized, held its first meeting on June 1 at the home of Miss Ina Mae Warford. Officers were elected as follows: Helen Warford, president; Lillian Meese vice-president; Rita Meese, secretary; Clarice Warford, news reporter; Hilda Adamek, cheer leader; Marie Worm, song leader; Phyllis Hansen, social leader. Pink and silver were selected as the club colors. Next meeting will be held at the home of Hilda Adamek on June 11.

May Basket Social.

A May basket social, alias a good old fashioned box social, was held by the local Epworth League chapter in the Methodist church Monday evening. About 40 young people turned out for the affair, each of the young ladies attending bringing a gayly decorated basket which was auctioned off to the highest bidder.

Valley County Lost Last Representative Of Early Day Family When Bryans Left

By Mrs. E. J. Babcock.

One of the early families of Valley county lost almost its last representative when Mr. and Mrs. Ray Bryan left North Loup for California. Mrs. Bryan was Maud Hutchens, the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hutchens, who came from Minnesota in 1873. Mr. Hutchens was a native of New York and orphaned at a very early age. Although adopted by Deacon and Mrs. Boze, whom old settlers will remember, he always retained his own name. He came here in company with Zibe Ferguson and L. G. Pierce. Mr. Pierce stopped at Davis Creek, but the other two did not find land to suit so traveled on to where Elyria now is. They could have bought the Henry Chase farm for $25, but neither one possessed $25. Nor did they find anything above Ord that just suited their minds and pocketbooks, so they "squatted" on what was later called "the Meek's place." Here Mr. Hutchens built a one-room log house and brought his family. A little later he and Mr. Ferguson built on another room for the Ferguson family, and still later another room for W. B. Keown. This triple house cemented a lasting friendship, which shows that familiarity does not always breed contempt. A few years ago a part of this old house was still standing, but it is probably gone now. After a while he sold his squatter's right to Dr. McKinney and the three men moved across the river to place a little south of the fort.

Many stories have been written of life in pioneer homes, but each one has something of interest in itself. Mr. Hutchens' work as hunter and teamster took him away from home so much that he had little time to work on the house, so they moved in when it had not much but four log walls. There was not even a door, a blanket serving in its place. That was not bad in the day time that summer, but when Mrs. Hutchens awoke one night to hear a suggestive slithering sound and a faint rattle under the bed it was not so funny. Mr. Hutchens cautiously slipped out of bed and turned on the light. Of course he did not press a button, nor even light a kerosene lamp, for he did not own one. He did not even have a candle. His primitive light was a dish of elk's fat with a piece of twisted tin to hold upright a small cotton wick. This light he placed on the floor and stepped back to wait. In a minute the rattlesnake, prompted by the curiosity of many wild creatures, crawled out. A heavy stick put an end to his curiosity, but we wonder if Mrs. Hutchens slept much more that night.

One day, the baby (who has been for many years Mrs. Minnie Beauchamp) was placed on a blanket on the ground near where her father was working. A rattlesnake began to crawl across the blanket, and the baby reached for the pretty new toy. A kitten also saw the new toy and by playing with its tail succeeded in making it angry. Fortunately, Mr. Hutchens looked up just then and took charge of the situation. But he decided then they had had enough snakes, so hunted up their nests and in less than an hour had killed forty-eight.

Like other pioneers their fare was mostly bread made of cornmeal or shorts. However, deer antelope and elk were near and Mr. Hutchens preferred hunting and teaming to farming, so they always had plenty of meat, which the lower settlements did not always have. He not only had meat for his family but meat to give to neighbors and newcomers. He was very generous, as indeed what pioneer was not? He supplied the garrison at the Fort with fresh meat, and he and Heman Babcock did most of the port hauling. He was so well acquainted with the country that it was he who found the bed of gravel for use in building the Fort. He freighted many a load of supplies from Grand Island that was shipped into the country from friends in the east during the grasshopper raids. His family is proud of the fact that they did not have to ask for any of it.

They had good friends at the fort. Lieut. Capron was an officer, and J. H. Capron was a young clerk. Johnny Luke was a drummer, one of the finest that ever rolled a snare drum. When little Minnie fell and broke her arm while her father was away from home, the camp surgeon gave her the best of care.

Indians? Oh, yes, oodles of them, but he never had trouble or fear. He always insisted that the Indian was all right if treated right. He felt sure there never had been a white man killed in early times if the Indians had been treated like white men. The Sioux to the northwest and the Pawnees to the southeast raided each other and passed close to the settlements, but never harmed him or his neighbors. He admitted that they would steal if they had a good chance. But no reader of the newspapers can claim that theft is a vice peculiar to the Indian. So little fear of them had he, that once when he saw three brave boys going against his orders, to Zibe Ferguson's where only the children were at home, he swiftly followed. Dashing into the house he kicked the leader out onto the ground. Instead of having to fight the others, he turned to find them convulsed with laughter at the undignified exit of their leader. Nor was he afraid when returning he found he was chased by a lone Indian who proved to be the one he had kicked out of Ferguson's cabin. But the Indian was not after revenge. He was guiding some soldiers and wanted to know where to find game. If he had had any resentment it would have melted when Mr. Hutchens gave him a young elk.

As Maud Hutchens' older sister was the baby when they came, naturally she can tell of the early times only as they were told to her but she has some vivid remembrances of times a little later. The roof of their house, like most roofs, was made largely of clay and sod. One night, in a pouring rain, the roof fell in. The heavier timbers fell in such a way that the family was protected from injury but all were absolutely pummed in. With faces covered with mud they lay in the rain while Mr. Hutchens struggled for an hour to get out and go to the fort for help.

Maud's mother and grandfather, Deacon Boze, organized a Sabbath school, and Elder Babcock came up occasionally to preach for them. In Sept. 1892 Elder J. W. Morton, of North Loup, organized a Seventh Day Baptist church which thrived for a number of years, but when some moved away the rest, including Minnie and Maud Hutchens, took their membership to North Loup. Mr. Boze had a small store at Calamus, and the Sabbath school met in his basement, later in the school house.

This school house, built in the spring of 1876, was one to be proud of for it was a frame building. The first teacher was Melva True (Worth), but neither of the girls was old enough to go to school then. Minnie's first teacher was Genia Rood (Crandall). There was also a good Templar's Lodge, as the girls grew older which filled a social need as well as a moral and educational. There were plenty of parties, among them the ever favorite taffy-pull. They could create fun if they did not find it. When the cat fell into the barrel of molasses it did not spoil the party. They all agreed that all contaminated molasses must have stuck to the cat and why throw away the rest? The candy that night was as fine as any.

One incident the girls would be glad to forget. Mr. Hutchens took his family to Minnesota for a visit one fall and left his house and stock in care of a family named Case. Driving from the northeast on their return, they reached home without meeting a neighbor. They were horrified when they entered the house to find three murdered bodies. Mrs. Case and her two boys. Search revealed Mr. Case had committed suicide in the barn. A schoolmate of the boys had discovered the tragedy and gone for help when the Hutchens family arrived. It was thought the man knowing that with the arrival of the owner he and his family would have no home and nothing to do, went suddenly insane. He used an axe on his family, probably in their sleep, and hung himself.

Minnie married one of the Beauchamp boys, lived a number of years at Burwell and is now in California. Maud married Ray Bryan whose mother, sister Iva, and brother Horace, were also residents of Valley county.

Mr. Hutchens died about three years ago, one of the two last Civil War soldiers in North Loup. He had served three years in the army, enlisting when only seventeen. Mr. and Mrs. Bryan left Tuesday, March 16, for Monterey, Calif., where two of their boys live. Their youngest son, Arlo, is at present in North Loup. He with his baby girl are the only representatives of this old settler.

Steam, but Streamlined

The "iron horse" got a swanky new harness when the Union Pacific streamlined its steam locomotive No. 2906 and equipped it throughout with roller-bearings so that it can speed along at 100 miles or more per hour. This is one of three kinds of streamlined locomotives, one of them a steam turbine electric type, with which the Union Pacific is experimenting. Its brilliant color scheme, with brown and yellow predominant, is similar to that of the Union Pacific's fleet of Diesel-powered streamliners. No. 2906 is the product of long experimentation by Union Pacific engineers.

Royal Review for the Royal Family

Attired in full military uniform, Britain's new king, George VI, accompanied by Queen Elizabeth and the two royal princesses, Elizabeth and Margaret Rose, is shown here as he reviewed coronation contingents on the parade ground at Buckingham palace. The king presented coronation medals to dominion and colonial troops who took part in his crowning ceremonies.

Blaze Trans-Atlantic Plane Service

Giant trail blazers for a regularly scheduled trans-Atlantic airplane passenger service were these two ships, the Bermuda Clipper, top, of Pan American Airways, and the flying boat Cavalier, bottom, owned by British Imperial Airways. The Clipper flew from Port Washington, N. Y., to Bermuda, a 700-mile route, in less than 10 hours. Meanwhile, the Cavalier flew from Bermuda to New York. The flights were preparatory to establishing the New York-Bermuda service and eventual trans-Atlantic runs.

First Feminine Miner in U. S.

Holding that miner's pick is no idle gesture for Miss Betty Bowman, Reno, said to be the first woman to complete a four-year course in mining engineering. Graduate of the University of Nevada's McKay School of Mines, Miss Bowman plans to make mining her lifetime career. She was graduated with high scholastic honors.

Get Set; Diaper Derby Is On!

With no holds barred, actor Alan Dinehart gets set for the film stars' diaper derby at his home in Hollywood. He's holding Mason Alan III, weight 24 pounds, 1 year old. The trick is to pin 'em up fastest, one-pin or three-pin methods accepted. The training might come in handy until mother comes home.

The King and Queen of Lovers!

Radiantly happy, Mrs. Wallis Warfield posed for this striking picture with the Duke of Windsor as the two chatted in the beautiful gardens of the Chateau de Cande, near Tours, France, on the eve of their wedding. Obviously happy to be free of the burdens of a king, Edward still held the romantic attention of the world as the date for his marriage approached. The colorful coronation of his brother, George VI, lessened only temporarily the interest in the famous pair of lovers.

Rules on Social Security at 67

A la Chinese

New note in summer apparel is this striking afternoon costume worn by Actress Kay Francis. It is of printed crepe with a large Chinese hat of white felt to complete the creation.

The Scene, the Cast in 'Wedding of a Century'

In the spacious library of the magnificent Chateau de Cande, above, near Monts, France, were Edward, the Duke of Windsor, right, and Wallis Warfield, left, to be married June 3, in the wedding of a century. But no member of the royal family was permitted to attend and the guest list was small. Interference of the British government precluded even the blessings of the Church of England. Hosts to the famous couple at the chateau were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bedaux of Cleveland. The ex-king's equerry was designated as his "best man." The Duke and his bride made plans to leave for Austria immediately after the wedding. They had been invited by their hosts to visit Alaska later.

Man-Tailored

Striking is this suit which actress Kay Francis wears in a current picture. Its hint for summer style is the gray shark-skin done up in the man-tailored fashion.

Tell International Fish Story

Fish lore added a brand new story when Ray Fondren, left, and Norman Richardson brought in the six-foot tarpon they're holding above. Fondren, fishing the American side at the International Tarpon rodeo staged at the mouth of the Rio Grande near Brownsville, Tex., and Richardson, on the Mexican side, hooked the fish simultaneously. Richardson's line broke finally and Fondren landed the prize catch.

Long, Lazy Days Ahead for Him

Mary Williams Becomes Bride of Robert Helvey

A wedding of interest to many people in the community and surrounding towns is that of Miss Mary Williams of St. Paul, and Robert E. Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo., which took place Tuesday night, at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller.

The bride's uncle, Reverend J. B. Roe of Wood River performed the ceremony in the presence of sixty guests. As the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march were played, the bride descended the stairs gowned in a cream satin wedding dress, fashioned on simple lines, wearing a finger-tip tulle veil held in place by a wreath of orange blossoms, and carrying a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. Her maid-of-honor and only attendant was her sister, Miss Dorothy Dea Williams who was gowned in yellow net with green accessories and carried a bouquet of talisman roses.

The bride was escorted by her cousin, C. J. Mortensen, to an improvised altar decorated with large floor baskets of mock orange, white roses and tall white tapers, lighted just prior to the ceremony by Mary Louise Miller. Other decorations used were baskets of white peonies and gladiolus.

Miss Phyllis Gordon of Friend sang "Ah, Sweet Mystery," "Because." Mrs. Wayne Owens of Omaha, sister of the groom played the wedding march, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sowl who played softly during the repeating of the vows.

Leo Mossholder, also of Sheridan, Wyo., attended the groom as best man.

At the reception following the ceremony, Mrs. C. J. Miller invited the guests to the dining room, where Mrs. Charles Cornell and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen presided at the table. A four-tiered bride's cake served as the center decoration surrounded by white roses and white tapers. As the guests left the dining room they were presented with a small box of grooms' cake. Punch was served by Miss Maxine Petersen and Miss Marjorie Lauritzen. Others assisting in the dining room were the Misses Martha Mae Barta, Marguerite Cornell, Maydee Taylor and Elaine Haggart. Mrs. J. P. Barta and Miss Flora Ewert had charge of the gift room, with Miss Pauline Barta looking after the guest book.

Mr. and Mrs. Helvey left shortly after the reception for a short wedding trip and on to Sheridan where a reception is being given in their honor the night of June 11. The bride wore a travelling costume of light gray imported tweed with accessories in duobonnet shade. The couple will be at home for the coming year in Laramie, Wyo.

Among the out-of-town guests who were present for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Helvey, father and mother of the groom, Mrs. E. L. Martin, grandmother of the groom, and Leo Mossholder, all of Sheridan; Mrs. Susanna Morris, grandmother of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Taylor and Miss Maydee Taylor, Miss Elaine Haggart, Miss Petersen, of St. Paul, Miss Lauritzen from Dannebrog, Merrill Williams of Ingelwood, Calif., Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Roe of Wood River, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Owen of Omaha, Miss Dorothy Dea Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cornell, Miss Marguerite Cornell, Miss Marguerite Thiele, and Robert Ammon, all of Lincoln, and Miss Flora Ewert of Wahoo.

Quiz Camera Seeks Out Some of Ord's Beauty Spots

What wonders a little rain can create was clearly illustrated this week as Quiz representatives ambled through the city looking here and there at the hidden garden spots and rolling lawns which have been made so beautiful by the recent rains.
At the top we see one of the most beautiful fish pools and rock gardens in the vicinity. It is to be found at the Ign. Klima residence. Rocks in the garden and around the pool have been brought to Ord from all corners of the United States, each rock having a history of its own.
In the bottom photo we see a portion of the outstanding lawn and garden at the R. C. Nelson residence on the hill. The white lattice fence in the back gives a striking effect to the scene. The weeping willow in the foreground is very beautiful.

Loup Valley Farmers Smile Again. . . . But Drouth, Grasshoppers Still Feared.

JAMES BRATKA.

H. C. FISHER.

J. W. GATES.

CHARLIE VANCURA.

CHARLES DLUGOSH.

R. S. KERCHAL.

Loup valley farmers are happy again. With the recent rains, hopes have risen and plans for fine crops this year are being seriously entertained by farmers.

"What do you think of crop prospects this year?" That was the question asked of a number of Loup valley farmers in Ord last Saturday. Here is their response:

"Prospects are good right now . . . both small grain and corn are coming along fine. . . . we have enough rain to hold us for the time being."—Chas. Dlugosh.

"More rain is needed, for corn, small grain is in fine shape. . . . in fact it was never in better condition than at the present time."—Charlie Vancura.

"Conditions are good, but farmers shouldn't get over-optimistic yet—corn isn't made yet by any means."—J. W. Gates.

"I'd say that it's still plenty dry. . . . there's not half enough moisture in the sub-soil and that's what counts in the long run. . . . we won't give up, though."—H. C. Fisher.

"Exceptional prospects for a good small grain crop. . . . corn needs lots of rain yet."—Will Hansen.

"We need constant light showers and no real hot weather. . . . one or two more inches of rain right now wouldn't hurt things in the least. . . . there's no sub-soil moisture."—R. S. Kerchal.

"Good prospects, if the grasshoppers will leave us alone. . . . they are literally hatching out in millions and what they do to young corn is a pity."—James Bratka.

NOTICE TO PARENTS

Recently there has been some complaint in regard to boys shooting 22 caliber rifles along the river. There are garden plots across the river and men working there have had several narrow escapes from being hit by stray bullets. There is also a herd of valuable cattle, and one or two of them have been hit. If the boys must shoot, have them go up in the hills instead, where they can see where they are shooting.

Red Coral Always Prized
It is red coral that is and always has been prized, not solely for jewelry and buttons, but as a charm to bring safety, health and secrets not revealed to the ordinary person. As ancient Gauls rushed headlong into battle, they trusted their safety to their swords, strength and the
"magic" coral imbedded in their shields or helmets. Many Italians and Indians regard coral as protection against the "evil eye." The world's red coral comes from the reefs off the Mediterranean coast of Africa, says the Washington Post, and is obtained chiefly by Italians.

Flash Bulbs Expensive Item In Quiz Coverage of New Events With Cameras

Almost everyone in this vicinity has been around when the Quiz flash camera has been in operation. There is a shout, "hold it," a blinding flash, and—that's all. The above pile of "flash bulbs" have been accumulated by the Quiz photo department during a two month period. Each of the bulbs costs either 15 or 25 cents according to size making the pile of bulbs originally worth about $20. The material inside the bulbs, which many people think is tin-foil, is magnesium ribbon, a substance which makes a very powerful light when set off by an electric current which in this case is synchronized with the camera shutter.

Hole-in-1 Is Feat of Mary Beranek On Ord Course

Mary Beranek, 16-year-old golf enthusiast, completed a task last Sunday afternoon which every golfer always has dreams of but seldom, if ever, actually has the experience of doing.

Shooting for hole eight, the hilltop hole, Miss Beranek made a hole-in-one. She was accompanied by Leonard Cronk
at the time the shot was made.
After hitting the ball the two walked up the hill and to the green in search of the ball.
They found where the ball had hit and then the straight, smooth path that the ball had made as it had glided into the hole. This is indeed quite a feat, the last hole-in-one on record being the one made by Alfred Wiegart in 1931 on the same hole.

Mr. and Mrs. H. B. VanDecar are visiting for a few days in Denver. They are expected home tomorrow.

Dr. F. A. Barta of Ord was on the program of the four county
Doctors Association at Spalding
Tuesday, June 1. He gave a talk on "Injuries Of The Eye." Dr.
Watson of Grand Island gave a lecture and motion pictures of a Caesarean section. Most of the doctors were in attendance and a very good meeting was held.

Burwell's New Coach.

Wayne Riggs of Peru state teachers' college is the new Burwell coach, taking the place of Glenn Ackerson, resigned. He comes highly recommended by a former Burwell coach, Wilbert Zorn. He has won four letters in each of the major sports, football, basketball and track. He was named one of the representative scholastic students of Peru. He holds the state record in the 100 and 200 yard dashes. This year he won the Swenson medal for all around athletics.

DECORATION DAY.

Another Decoration Day has come and gone and with it the conviction that even this event is changing. The Decoration Days of forty years ago differed materially. Then there was always a big program with some speechmaker putting forth a lot of oratory. These meetings were attended by the members of the G. A. R. and their families, that is, the smaller members. The big boys all managed to keep out of it. Then some time during the day and often both morning and evening there would be a ball game. In some sections there would be horse races.

It took a long time and a World War to make any noticeable difference. Today the G. A. R.'s are practically all gone, and their ladies are few but a new and larger army has arrived to take their place, and the world struggle is too near to be easily forgotten. The new attitude toward this sacred occasion was shown by the interest of the young, who not only attended the cemetery services in large numbers, but were present at the day before at the church. The Methodist church was well filled Memorial day, and none was there from a sense of duty, but rather to enjoy and appreciate the occasion itself.

Monday perhaps 1,500 persons were at the cemetery at one time, and most of them listened attentively to the program. Years ago it became unusual to play ball on Decoration Day, which is as it should be. The gap between the Civil War and the World war was so wide that a generation forgot. Let us hope that it will never again take the stimulus of a war to awaken a proper respect for the sacrifices that have been made in the past.

THUMBING A RIDE.

Hitch-hiking, "thumbing a ride" has become a current phrase, and it is as natural for a man to raise his thumb when asking for a lift as it is to place that thumb to his nose when the favor is refused. We consider it one of the innovations that has come with the development of the automobile, and think that for once there is something new under the sun. Yet the idea is at least two thousand years old, and comes down to us from the days of imperial Rome, when the populace turned "thumbs up" when they wished a defeated gladiator spared, and "thumbs down" when they wanted him killed. Similarly, the uplifted thumb shows the driver that you are in favor of a lift, and the same thumb applied to the nose at his refusal denotes deep displeasure.

HONOR TO THE FLAG.

June 14 is Flag Day. Our flag, substantially as it is today, was first authorized by the Continental Congress June 14, 1777, 160 years ago. It has gone through many changes since that time. At first a stripe was added for each state admitted until the number became 20. By this time it was realized that there must result a flag with too many stripes, and so the number was again reduced to 13 in 1813, and stars in the blue field were used to represent the new states. The flag has held to its present form for nearly thirty years.

The first apparent use of the Stars and Stripes was on that memorable Christmas night when Washington crossed the Delaware and surprised the British at Trenton in 1776. The artist who drew the picture saw fit to place the flag in the boat with Washington, despite the fact that the flag shown there was not designed until nearly six months later. But of course on a surprise night attack it is customary to take the flag right along. Let us honor the flag this year, not for what it has meant in war, but for the blessings it has insured us in time of peace.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz: Clarence Luther has been putting in quite a lot of time building a jackpine peeled pole ornamental fence around the back part of the Augustine property here and it is going to be very attractive when completed.

There is a new kind of fish being caught in Gull lake, at least it is new to me. I guess they have always caught them occasionally, but I have heard of several being caught this spring. Clarence Luther was out with a party of pike fishermen the other day and while they didn't get any pike, Clarence did catch one of these fish weighing about ten pounds. He says they look like a cross between a bullhead and a dog fish, the head being unusually large, flat and ugly looking. When I asked him the name of the fish he said they called it the "lawyer" fish.

The weather continues to be "un-usual" here. We get one or two very beautiful days, then it rains and we get a day or two of hard wind, then the process is repeated. Farmers are jubilant, as this sort of spring seems to insure a bumper crop. Most of the corn fields show the rows now, that is, the corn that was planted for grain. Farmers are planting fodder corn or silo corn and potatoes now.

And all kinds of wild fruit promises the biggest crop in years. The blueberries in this locality are white with bloom; pincherries have been a beautiful sight for a week, chokecherries are coming in to bloom now and are very pretty while wild plums and crab apples are a sight for sore eyes.

Some of the people who live hereabout call all kinds of northern pike and pickerel "snakes" and refuse to eat them and they have talked it so much that they have prejudiced some of the rest of us against this most plentiful of fish until we seldom take one home, though we often catch them. Tuesday seemed an ideal day for fishing. A little breeze, cloudy, warm, and the Missus wanted to go fishing. I was busy and didn't want to take time off, so she got Mrs. Esther Luther to go with her and they motored away to the upper lake with a great. I was going to say flare of trumpets, but they didn't have any trumpets, but as they left the dock they did give us a lot of chin music about how many walleyes they would catch all by themselves. About the time they got up to where they wanted to fish it started sprinkling. Hoping that it would soon quit they anchored and the Missus had hard-got her hook with a 4-inch minnow on it, into the lake than she had a fight started by some seemingly good fish. With visions of a huge walleye, she yelled for Esther to get the landing net. The fish on the hook, however, was in no hurry to be netted and it was some time before they even got sight of him. When they did both expressed disgust for it was a 5 pound northern. He put up a good battle for a small fish however and they brought him home. By that time it was raining hard and they hurried in and I dressed Mr. Pike and we had him for dinner today and I must say I have seldom eaten a better fish, and when we finished we agreed that we were done throwing those good northern pike back in the lake and going fish hungry before the season opens for bluegills.

I remember very well when I was a boy in Michigan, my Uncle Fremont Miller occasionally came along with a nice mess of fish after a night of spearing on Miner lake and among them would be what they always in those days called pickerel. I know now that they were northern pike and in those days we esteemed them as a delicacy among fish.

Two or three days ago we awoke to the fact that something was destroying our birds' nests, after finding broken shells from several robin nests on the ground. We started to watch and soon discovered that a little red squirrel was doing the mischief. Ray brought his rifle down, Mr. Squirrel was killed and already the robins are starting their homes again. There is a large grey squirrel that lives close and we see him every day but have never seen him do any damage. We did see the red squirrel with the various nests and saw the birds trying to fight him off, but with poor success.

Our neighbors were all sad yesterday when word came that the little son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Anderson had died earlier in the day very suddenly. He was ill only three or four days, the trouble being pneumonia. He was the only son, was about ten months old and has four sisters. Mrs. Anderson was Lillie Wallin, sister of Esther Luther and those who have been coming here have all known her for years.

Mrs. Simpson has written that she will arrive from Omaha about June 15 and Ray Luther is working after his days work is done on the Clements cottage, which he is rebuilding for me, getting her boats painted and ready to put in the lake.

Ray also says he has heard from the Gelows and that they will arrive about the time the season opens which is the 21st of this month.

Yesterday, Clarence Luther, with the help of Jimmie Luther, was putting the Augustyn dock out and we are wondering if he has heard that they will be here soon. It has been quiet in camp with the Missus and I the only ones here, but it won't be long now before the others will be coming. We have enjoyed all of it even if it was quiet for we have been busy with the flowers whenever it was suitable to work outside and feel that we shall regret it if we are not able to come by mid-May during the coming years. It is so much fun to see things grow, to see the buds on the trees unfold into the leaves, to watch the ground where we know there should be a choice perennial, wonder if it is dead, then go out some day to find a shoot two or three inches high which has appeared over night. It is fun to hear the rain patter on the cottage roof (we sleep upstairs right next to the roof) and to hear scores of birds expressing their happiness about 3:30 a. m. at the first streak of light in the east. And how the volume of song increases as the morning advances and the other birds join in. It wouldn't be possible for me to be here and write you about these things if Eugene was not on the job taking care of the business at the Quiz office.

IT MAY NOT BE NEWS, BUT IT'S JUST AS IMPORTANT

The American Legion and related organizations are proving themselves of real value to the community in sponsoring so many different kinds of activities. Witness their whole hearted backing of the recreational projects for Ord young for this summer, surely a splendid thing for them to do. Children and youths busy learning some new amusements, sports and pastimes are happy children well employed and kept from mischief. Learning to swim, to sew, to knit, to make baskets, to sing, things like these have long been enjoyed by boys and girls as fast as they were "big enough".

Of course our Legion people sponsor all the usual Legion activities, too, selling poppies, arranging memorial day services, helping those who need it to health, jobs, what not. I feel we are fortunate to have in the community a group so active, so reliable, that sees what is needed and goes quietly to work. Let's all give them a hand, not because they went to war, but because of their present day desire to serve.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Exam Questions. Now that school is out I am going to ask a few questions for the eighth grade agriculture class or the class in mathematics. Older folks can answer them too, if they can.

- 1. If two men are plowing with two tractors and one runs as fast as the other and they are in the same field, one following the other, and they stop at a certain corner at the same time every round and grease up and visit a minute before going on, does one tractor plow more land than the other?
- 2. Suppose they do not grease at all but run all day without stopping. Which will plow the most?
- 3. Suppose two boys are cultivating corn and want their teams to walk side by side so they can visit. But it happens the end of the field is on an angle, the rows getting shorter all the time. Which boy plows the most corn?
- 4. How does one set out to drive a straight row?
- 5. (a) Is there any way to kill morning glories? (b) Can artichokes be killed in corn? (c) Or cuculeburs in corn?
- 6. Can you tell whether you are ahead if wheat is mixed with corn and you are buying corn for feed? Wheat at $1.30 a bushel of 60 pounds and corn $1.40 for 56 pounds. Suppose you are buying wheat for chicken feed.
- 7. Do you dare plant squash and pumpkin in the same hill?
- 8. Suppose you have a round bin full of corn. The sides are portable and of tin. You decide to move the bin and have to bend the sides into a square, oblong bin to fit the place where you put it. Will it still hold the corn?

Something Different

In Alliance the Presbyterian minister on a recent Sunday morning included this literary gem in the sheet each one attending services was given:

"A Church Member Explains". "You see, Lord, it's like this: We could go to church more if Sunday were some other day! You have it on the day ending a hard week when we're tired out. And it is the day after Saturday night when we must go to the show or to a party! And we just cannot get up early next morning. When the Sunday breakfast is over it is time to get the big Sunday dinner and read the big Sunday paper. Church service is at the wrong hour, too. Besides, think of Bill! Sunday is the only time he can tinker with the car. With old clothes and greasy hands he can't go to church. Take some other day, Lord, and we'll go—honest we will."

By adding a delicate touch in there about Sunday morning being such a lovely time to golf. I thought that paragraph would be practically the perfect Recital of Allibis.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Court Plan Viewed as Crucial Test of President's Leadership

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—There is no indication that the new liberal temper of the Supreme Court, as evidenced in the decision upholding the Social Security Act, has made President Roosevelt willing to compromise in his fight to get his Judiciary bill through Congress.

On the contrary, in his most recent message to Congress, asking for legislation to insure maximum wages, minimum hours for labor and the abolition of child labor, the President referred pointedly to the case of Hammer vs. Dagenhart which came before the Supreme Court in 1918. In that case, Justice Holmes, speaking for the dissenting minority, said Congress had the right to prohibit the shipment in interstate commerce of the factory products of child labor.

A possible key to the President's present attitude toward the court is found by most observers in his emphasis on the fact that this liberal view held by Justice Holmes was shared by only three others on the court at that time.

The President said: "A majority of the court decided 5-4 against Mr. Justice Holmes and laid down a rule of constitutional law which has ever since driven into impractical distinctions and subterfuge all attempts to assert the fundamental power of the government over interstate commerce."

To those who keep an ear to the ground in Washington, this had an unrelenting sound.

THE history of social security and labor legislation, championed for years by unsuccessful minorities, is suggested as Roosevelt's justification for deciding not to repose full confidence in the recent liberalism of Justice Hughes and Justice Roberts, who have at different times voted with the conservatives, as well team plows the most corn. If they plowed the same amount they cannot drive together.

- 4. Look far ahead and never back and never change your aim after you once start.
- 5. (a) No practical way. (b) It is nearly impossible without hand work. Then it is difficult (c) Ditto.
- 6. You figure this one out.
- 7. No. If one plants them together they will mix and the result is not good.
- 8. No. One could squeeze the sides together until it would not hold any corn at all. A round container is the largest.

Judah's Brotherly Love

International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 13.

Text: Genesis 44: 18-34.

IN the interview of Judah, the eldest son of Jacob, the story of Joseph reaches its highest point. Judah, Joseph's brother, we must remember, did not know of Joseph as the brother who had been sold into slavery in Egypt years before.

Judah, as a matter of fact, had a great deal to do with Joseph's being in Egypt. When Joseph's brethren had thrown him into the pit and intended to abandon him there, Judah had seen the caravan coming, and proposed, rather, that they should sell Joseph to that caravan going into Egypt.

It seemed like a merciful proposal in comparison to the abandoning of Joseph to a cruel fate in the pit; and some readers have supposed that Judah's motive was merciful, though he spoke of profit, so that he might influence his brothers.

AT any rate, Judah had played a strange part in fate, and fate was playing him a strange part now; for Joseph, who was in Egypt by his act, was now the man of power before whom Judah was cringing with fear and subservience.

Assuming that Judah was not wholly bad, and may have developed in character during the years, one sees him in a favorable light in the episode, apart from his fear and cringing.

If he had sold Joseph into Egypt, he was now not willing to deny Benjamin there. He makes a plea concerning his father's old age, and the tragedy it will be if he goes back to his father, bereft of one son, to tell him that Benjamin, the other son of his old age, has been left in Egypt.

Judah's plea rises to its best as he proposes that he himself should stay as a bondsman, and that Benjamin should go back with his brethren.

ONE should perhaps speak of the backgrounds of the story, which are probably well enough known to Bible readers. The brothers had gone down on repeated visits to Egypt to find food that they might take back to famine-stricken Canaan.

Joseph had given instruction that as they were returning home with their sacks full, a silver cup should be put in Benjamin's sack. Then he had sent after his brethren, and when the cup was found there, Benjamin had been accused of stealing it.

It was all, of course, a clever ruse on Joseph's part to hold his brothers, and as an instance in the story, it leads up to that emotional crisis of his revelation of himself as the brother whom they had sold into slavery, now ready to deal with them not in revenge, but with magnanimity.

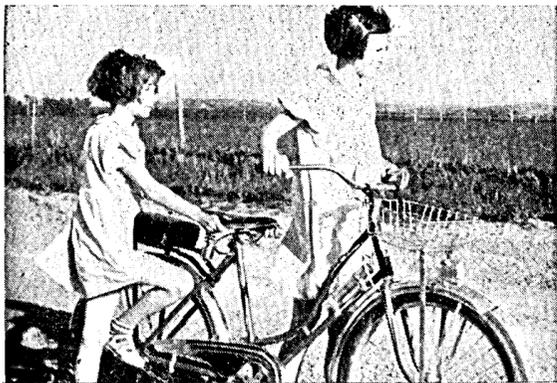

One need hardly stress the fine qualities and teachings that emerge in this story with such extremes of light and shadow. When one realizes the spirit of revenge that is still abroad in the world, one has reason to sense the vision and the moral quality of the writer who set forgiveness and magnanimity upon the highest pinnacle in this ancient story.

If men generally could catch even a small part of that moral and spiritual vision, how different this world would be! Wrongs could be righted and sins could be rebuked with a far greater keenness and overwhelming power than can ever be manifested in doing evil for evil.

Answers.

- 1. No.
- 2. The back one will have to stop once in a while for the front one to get out of the way. The path of the second one is a little shorter and the first one plows the most.
- 3. For example, if they are turning to the south, the back

GRADE SCHOOL LASSES RIDE BIKE 1-2 MILES TO ATTEND SCHOOL IN ORD

... Ready?

... Get set!

... Let's go!

Pictured above are Misses Marilyn and Norma Long, young daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Long who live 1 1/2 miles east of Ord.

These two girls, Marilyn, 11, and Norma, 9, missed only 7 days of school this year (because of mumps) and every day that they attended school they rode a specially equipped bicycle the 1 1/2 mile distance from their home to the Ord grade school.

The bicycle is fixed with a cushion on the rear, in the place that the carrier is usually located. This is where Norma, a fourth grade student, usually rides while her elder sister "pumps" the machine. In stormy weather the girls pay no heed to Old Man Weather but simply don snow suits and plow right on to school.

Mrs. Long has driven alongside them several times and without variation the girls arrive at school in just 7 minutes after they leave home. This amounts to something like 13 miles per hour, very good time on a bicycle. The girls saved their money all last summer in order to buy the bicycle, they paying one-half the cost and their father the other half. They now like the bicycle better than their Shetland ponies!

Both of the girls are good students in school, never failing to bring home report cards filled with "S's". They are both talented little artists as well as cooks. Marilyn goes in for the rough and tumble stuff, having a passion for pole vaulting! Norma sticks with drawing, her favorite pastime.

A correction. Last week we had the Albert Lukesh family leaving for the west coast. It was the Frank Lukesh family instead and the Albert Lukesh family is staying here.

Complete Oven Meals a Daily Practice With the Use of a Modern Electric Range

The first oven dinner was no doubt prepared in a rock pit fire in the stone age, and it was probably a necessity more than an economy measure. Entire oven meals have come down through the ages with practically every type of cooking equipment. However, the modern cooking device has encouraged this practice by assuring uniform baking temperatures accurately maintained, for any length of time.

The insulated oven and the temperature control, together with the automatic timer-clock on electric ranges, makes oven meals a popular daily custom. Unlimited food combinations may be prepared in this practical manner. Economy of food and fuel, as well as the user's time is thereby effected.

If you have not prepared an entire oven meal recently, try one of the following menus. Everything is placed in the oven at one time and then forgotten. When it is time to serve, your entire family will be impressed with the tasty results.

Oven Dinner No. 1
Meat Loaf—Baked Potatoes
Buttered Beets
Caramel Coconut Bread Pudding
Tem.—375 degrees Time—1 1/2 hrs.

Meat Loaf
2 pounds ground meat
1 egg
1/4 cup cracker crumbs
1 tablespoon chopped onion
Salt and pepper
Milk to moisten
Strips of Bacon
Mix thoroughly all ingredients. Place in well oiled loaf pan. Cover with strips of bacon.
Buttered Beets
Peel and slice new beets. Add salt, pepper, butter and one-fourth cup water. Cook covered in oven with dinner.

Caramel Coconut Bread Pudding

5 cups dried bread
1 cup brown sugar
1 egg
1 cup coconut
3 tablespoons butter
1 cup milk
Break bread into small pieces and moisten with water. Press dry and place half in a well oiled baking dish. Cover with layer of coconut, brown sugar and butter. Add remainder of bread, coconut and brown sugar. Dot with butter. Beat egg, add milk and pour over bread. Bake about one hour.

Oven Dinner No. 2
Baked Ham with Sweet Potatoes
Carrots—Tomato Slaw
Bran Muffins Apple Crisp Pudding
Tem.—400 degrees Time—1 1/2 hrs.

Baked Ham with Sweet Potatoes
6 sweet potatoes, uncooked
1 slice ham, 3 inches thick
8 whole cloves
1 cup maple syrup
Peel potatoes and cut in slices one inch thick. Parboil five minutes and trim rind from ham. Stick cloves into fat. Place ham in baking dish. Place sweet potatoes around ham and pour syrup over all. Place on the lower rack of oven.

Carrots
Slice carrots and place in tightly covered baking dish with one-half cup water and one-half teaspoon salt. Place in back of oven on lower rack.

Apple Crisp Pudding
Peel and core 6 or 8 apples and cut in 3/4 inch thick slices to make 4 cups of apples
1/2 cup butter
1/2 cup water
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup flour
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Butter casserole. Add apples and pour over the water and cinnamon, mixed. Work together sugar, flour and butter until crumbly. Spread over the apple mixture and bake uncovered. Place on upper rack of oven and bake with dinner. Serve while warm with whipped cream.

Bran Muffins
Sift together 1 cup flour, sifted before measuring; 5 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt. Break into mixing bowl 1 egg. Beat slightly and add 2 tablespoons sugar and 1/4 cup milk. Beat together and add 1 cup bran flakes and the sifted dry ingredients. Add 3 tablespoons of melted butter. Pour into greased muffin tins. Place on upper rack of oven 25 minutes before dinner is to be removed.

Chocolate-Apricot Layer Cake.
Cream thoroughly one-half cup butter, two cups sugar, add the beaten yolks of three eggs. Fill a cup half full of chocolate, and fill up with hot water. Stir one teaspoon soda into one cup of sour milk and add the liquids alternately with two cups flour, beating well. Put in one teaspoon vanilla, and lastly the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Bake like any chocolate cake, and make this filling for it:
Use three beaten egg yolks, add one cup sugar, mix with one teaspoon flour, one and one-half teaspoons butter. Add two cups of sweetened apricot sauce, cook until thick and let cool. Watch closely as it scorches easily. Spread between layers and frost the cake with chocolate icing. If the apricots are juicy add more flour. I use apricots and chop them into quarters.

Miss John Chipps, Arcadia.
Baking Ammonia Cookies.
Beat two cups of sugar into one cup lard and one egg. Add one teaspoon baking ammonia and one teaspoon salt, dissolving the ammonia in one tablespoon hot water. Put in one-half teaspoon anise extract or vanilla, then two cups flour. This mixture will be crumbly. Pinch it into balls the size of a walnut and place on a baking sheet. These will not turn brown like other cookies. Buy the ammonia at a drug store.
Raisin Orange Cake.
Sift together two cups flour, one cup sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, one teaspoon baking powder. Then add one cup sour cream, two eggs, one teaspoon vanilla. Grind one cup raisins and part of the rind of one orange. Add this, also one cup applesauce, and nuts if desired. The applesauce may be omitted and milk used to thin the batter. With the juice of the orange mix one cup sugar. Let stand and when almost done spread this mixture on the cake. Finish baking.

Mrs. George B. Clement.

Ranger Cookies.
Cream together one cup shortening, one cup white sugar and one cup brown sugar. Blend in two well beaten eggs. Sift two cups flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder and one teaspoon soda, one-half teaspoon salt. Add to the creamed mixture. Then put in two cups oatmeal, two cups of wheaties, one cup of coconut. Drop on a greased baking sheet and bake twelve to fifteen minutes in a quick oven.

Sour Cream Chocolate Cake.
Sift one and one-fourth cups sugar with one and three-fourths cups flour, two tablespoons cocoa, one-half teaspoon salt, then add one and one-half cups sour cream, two tablespoons melted butter and two well beaten eggs. Beat until light, put in two teaspoons of soda in four tablespoons hot water.
Mrs. Bill Schauer.

Mrs. John Andersen.

—Mrs. Vesta Snyder of Nemaha arrived in Ord a week ago Friday and spent ten days visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, and also with her sister, Mrs. B. A. Rose and family. Her son Jack and Bob Rose completed their school work at Peru and came up for a visit. Mrs. Snyder left for her home Monday, taking her mother with her for a long visit. Mr. Williams plans to go down later.

—Charles Peckham arrived in Ord on the morning train Saturday from California. He left San Francisco Tuesday evening at ten o'clock. He said there was still a lot of snow in the mountains nearly all the way through. When they crossed the desert it was raining hard, and he saw ice and snow there, believe it or not. He went on up to Burwell to see his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mary Davis, and take her some shrubbery that his wife had sent home.

—J. A. Kovanda returned last Thursday evening from Elk Creek where he was called during the final week of school by the serious illness of his mother. He left her somewhat improved but her condition is still very serious and Mr. Kovanda may have to return to Elk Creek at any time.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ed. F. Beranek drove to Lincoln Sunday after Floyd, who came home with them and will spend the summer here. He will be a senior at University of Nebraska next fall, attending the college of pharmacy where he has distinguished himself by consistently high grades in all subjects. Without doubt Floyd will be a 4-year honor student when the honor lists are announced next spring.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Various kinds of trees in and around Ord have been injured by flat-headed apple tree borers. The damage appears in some dead portion that is riddled with small holes. It always shows up on the sunny side of the tree.

The ravages of this pest may be attributed to the drouth. Borers can only penetrate those trees which have been bruised, or weakened by some agency such as dry weather. A normally vigorous tree will drown out the borers with its sap. Prior to 1934, the apple tree borer confined its efforts to apple trees, and attacks by this insect on shade trees were generally unheard of.

Unfortunately, little can be done after the borers are in the trees, although the grubs can sometimes be removed with a knife. The best preventive practice is to wrap the trunks with paper or burlap during the summer. Tree trunks are also protected by shading them with boards, as the adult beetles prefer to lay their eggs in sunny places. Tree wounds can be safeguarded from borer infestation with a coat of paint.

The flat-headed apple tree borer has many natural enemies. Some of them are the woodpeckers, crows, kingbirds, vireos and ants.

The adult beetle is greenish in color, half an inch long, and flies with a buzzing noise. It deposits eggs under the bark where they soon hatch into burrowing larvae. These flat-headed worms spend a year inside the tree, then pupate there, and finally crawl out as mature beetles. The flat-headed apple tree borer is found all over the United States, and has been a nuisance since the first pioneer days of orcharding.

FORD "60" OWNERS REPORT 22-27 MILES PER GALLON

THE 60-horsepower Ford V-8 is writing remarkable mileage records on American roads. Private owners and fleet operators alike report averages of from 22 to 27 miles on a gallon of gasoline.

You can fill the tank of your Ford "60" and drive all day—300 to 400 miles—without stopping again for fuel. Besides costing less to run than any Ford car ever built, it sells at the lowest Ford price in years. That's double economy!

The "60" delivers V-8 smoothness and quiet at speeds up to 70 miles an hour. It is built into the same roomy body as the famous "85"—with the same modern features of comfort and dependability that make the 1937 Ford V-8 unquestionably THE QUALITY CAR IN THE LOW-PRICE FIELD.

FORD V-8 PRICES BEGIN AT $529 at Dearborn Factory. Transportation charges, State and Federal taxes extra

This price is for the 60-horsepower Coupe, illustrated above, equipped with front and rear bumpers, spare tire, horn, windshield wiper, sun visor, glove compartment, and ash tray.

$25 A MONTH, after usual down-payment, buys any model 1937 Ford V-8 Car—from any Ford dealer—anywhere in the United States. Ask your Ford dealer about the easy payment plans of the Universal Credit Company.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

After 25 years of litigation on behalf of the Shoshone Indians, the United States court of claims last week announced an award of $4,408,444 plus interest of $1,581,889 until paid. Legal fees in the quarter century war were reported to have been between $350,000 and $400,000.

The settlement was termed by the co-counsel in Omaha as equitable. It was interpreted as an allowance by the court of $1.50 an acre for 1,000,000 acres taken from the tribe by the government in 1873 in violation of a treaty and giving it to the Arapahoes, plus interest on this amount, $1,500,000 at 5 per cent for 60 years, or a total of approximately $6,000,000. From this the interpretation says the court deducted about $1,600,000 for funds expended by the government for schools, roads, etc., in excess of treaty provisions.

In 1933 the Indians and their counsel spurned an offer of the government for settlement of $2,500,000 and no interest. The Indians appealed to the United States supreme court and last January their claim was upheld and the claim courts were directed to grant "just compensation". Compensation in the amount of $14,089,701 was asked.

Omaha counsel for the Indians indicated he probably would be called into conference at the Wind River reservation in Wyoming soon.

Elected chairman of the Nebraska Control commission, J. A. McEachen succeeds Thomas Gass of Kearney to that post. Gass was replaced on the commission by Theodore Osterman of Central City last month. McEachen's term on the commission ends in 1939.

The state railway commission has been asked by the Omaha chamber of commerce for assistance in obtaining proposed reductions in grain freight rates. Rates on grain from Memphis, Tennessee east are 26 cents per hundred pounds if shipped by railway all the way from Omaha, while the rate for the same area is 33 cents a hundred pounds if shipped part way by water. A commission rate expert will sit in on a Chicago conference on June 26.

While it is a bit early to start the political pot boiling two men have denied that they are aware of booms in their behalf for governorship.

Charles W. Warner of Waverly, veteran republican legislator last week denied he knew his friends were beating the tom toms in his behalf, but it did not say he would not accept the GOP standard if called upon.

More recently Mayor Dan B. Butler of Omaha who has come into the public eye on several occasions lately through his censorship activities, denied he was even gubernatorial minded. "At least not as long as Governor Cochran wants it," Butler was quoted as saying. He added he thought Cochran was doing a good job and should be kept at it. Butler was being boomed by democratic party affiliates.

Coffee, 55,200 pounds of it, to cost basically 1125 cents a pound, has been purchased by the state board of control as six months supply for its 13 institutions.

IF YOU COULD GET YOUR GIRL TO HAVE HER PICTURE TAKEN WITH YOU—THAT WAS THE BIG MOMENT.

Standard Brands, Inc., was awarded the contract.

As speaker for the convention of the Nebraska Safety Council, Miss Marian Telford of New York, consultant on child safety, has been delegated. The convention will be held June 28 and 29 at Omaha.

About 13,000 square miles of farm land in 25 eastern Nebraska counties will be mapped by means of aerial photography this summer. Washington word was to the effect contracts for the work have been let, and notification to begin flying will be given as soon as performance bonds have been submitted and approved.

The Arthur F. McAninch Aerial Survey Co., of Little Rock, Arkansas received the Nebraska Contract, the cost set being approximately $3.19 per square mile and a gross price of $44,836.

Land in Nebraska to be mapped is a part of 350,000 square miles throughout the country that will be similarly mapped this year. AAA officials said. They found that aerial mapping is an improved and less expensive manner of determining performance under the program.

Maps made from pictures taken from the air will show all features of the land accurately and for most farms they form a permanent record which can be used from year to year.

Although the synod of Kansas and adjacent states presented resolutions opposing continuance of Midland college at Fremont, the college board of trustees voted unanimously to continue Western seminary, the college's theological department.

June 24th the state highway department will receive bids on construction and maintenance work at an estimated cost of $1,440,000. It includes 31 miles of paving on U. S. highway No. 34 in York and Hamilton counties, between York and Grand Island. The entire work calls for expenditure of $585,000 federal funds, $589,000 state construction funds, $28,000 WPA funds for construction and $68,000 state funds for maintenance.

The outright purchase of The North Platte Valley railway company by the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad is sought through petitions filed in Washington with the interstate commerce commission. The Burlington already owns 100 percent of the smaller roads' stock. The North Platte line is located in Sioux, Scotts Bluff and Morrill counties. The application said outright purchase would save the expense of keeping separate accounts and records.

If there is a shortage of state assistance funds on account of the alleged error in the general appropriation bill as passed by the late legislature, it may not be felt until next January when the next legislature is likely to meet, and the money can be appropriated if needed, in the opinion of C. W. Eubank, a member of the state board of control.

The general appropriation bill allegedly granted only 8 percent of the gas tax money instead of 10 percent.

Said member Eubank: "There is nothing the board can do about it now, and a waiting period until January will do no harm." Eubank shares also in the belief that if collections for the state fund exceed the $7,500,000 appropriated the 8 percent appropriation will equal the total appropriation and there will thus be no loss.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

20 Years Ago This Week.

Tuesday, June 6th, was registration day and brought out a big crowd which manifested unbounded enthusiasm. There was some argument between H. M. Davis of Ord and C. W. Bulger of Arcadia as to when and where the National Council of Defense for Valley County should be organized. A Mr. Pleharty spoke stirringly along patriotic lines. The crowd was one of Ord's largest.

LeRoy Athey was one of eight from the state University and elsewhere who were to be in charge of the state's potash fields. The government had taken them all over. The wreckage of the potash plants is still a blot on the landscape at Antloch.

Anton Beran wrote a very interesting letter from Chico, Calif., where he was staying with his father and mother. He reported his mother in good health, but his father not doing so well. Just at it was this winter the crop there was cut short by the cold weather.

The county council of defense met at the Bohemian hall and organized. Bert M. Hardenbrook, an attorney recently located in Arcadia, gave a very fine address. Mr. Hardenbrook was elected president, E. P. Clements vice-president, P. C. Perryman secretary and W. G. Rood treasurer.

A recipe for war bread was published in the Quiz. The author was Mrs. J. W. Gregory of Elyria. Whatever else the war bread idea did, it started the public eating more whole wheat flour.

Miss Mamie Beran, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beran, became the bride of Paul Whippas of Minnesota, Rev. P. A. Davies officiating.

A district Christian endeavor convention was held in Ord, for which special music was furnished by the following people: A trio by Katherine Work, Vie Nay and Dorothy Clements; a solo by Hilda Johnson; the Mira Valley male quartet; Christian ladies quartet; duet by Glen Auble and Preston Loomis; Violin solo by Horace Travis; vocal solo by Mrs. Anthony Koupal.

The Wilcox property east of the present C. A. Anderson Motor Co. was sold at auction for $2,500.00, Smith Burrows being the purchaser. The present owner would not sell for that.

The new proposed Gulf to Canada railroad occupied the minds of the public. A number of the proponents of the project drove into Ord in motor cars. They were driving over the proposed route, but a group of local celebrities called upon them at the Hotel Ord and talked over the proposition. There were two representatives from London, the president of the Franklin State Bank, and a druggist from Kearney. The route proposed started at Galveston and wound up at Winnipeg, Canada, and according to information given out the road would be built within the coming year.

Ord defeated Arcadia on their grounds by a score of 10 to 5. Cushing and Ball officiated for Ord while Duryea and Burnum did like duty for Arcadia.

The old settler's picnic was scheduled to be held in the old Bert Davis grove at North Loup, Wednesday, June 26. C. J. Rood was in charge of arrangements.

F. P. Bowen was agent for the Standard Oil company and issued a warning to farmers to beware of oil peddlers who were selling an inferior grade of merchandise in cheap barrels at a higher price than good material sold for.

Charles I. Smith had bought the McMinds Sale Barn and advertised to do a good feed and livery business.

A miscellaneous shower was held at the Wm. Bannister home in honor of Miss Emma Vandas, who was soon to become Mrs. Stanley Dworak.

C. A. Randall, chief deputy fire commissioner for Nebraska, issued the usual appeal to the public for a safe and sane 4th of July. This year we do not have that to worry about, as it is amply covered by legislation.

40 Years Ago This Week. Of the advertisers in the Quiz, so far as is known only four remain alive today: James Misko and F. J. Dworak of Ord, Dr. C. A. Brink of North Loup, and S. J. W. Brown of Omaha.

The breaking of a little wheel delayed the appearance of the Quiz and the Ord Journal took the job of printing the Valley County Times off the hands of the Quiz force.

The annual bicycle race of the Oriental Wheel club from Grand Island to Alda and return was won by Kirby North Plate in 48 minutes 17 seconds. It attracted much attention at the time.

The Burlington railroad issued a bulletin in which was mentioned the fact that their special train made the run from Chicago to Denver in 18 hours and 53 minutes, a distance of 1025 miles, or an average of a little better than 54 miles per hour for the run. Today the Burlington makes the trip of 1015 miles in 12 hours, 8 minutes, for an average of $3.69 miles per hour, with a top speed of 116 miles per hour. Times have certainly changed.

Dr. Chester A. Brink, M. D., of Chicago, had his professional card in the Ord Quiz for the first time. He was making his home at the Hotel Ord, and had his offices there.

Two young men who later went far in their chosen professions were mentioned in local items. They were Rollin Bond, band leader and author of "Across The Missouri" and other well known band pieces, and Prof. Harold W. Focht, author of "The Trail of the Loup", epic of pioneer days.

A long list of real estate transfers were reported by J. H. Capron bonded abstractor. Lands from all parts of the county were listed, but the best price for a quarter section of land reported was $1,600.00 paid by P. W. Rood to Charlotte Aldsdurf for the NW 1/4 Sec. 2, Yale township.

E. S. Collins loaded a car of popcorn to ship to Chicago, where he expected to get $1.00 per hundred for the crop. That was about the time that popcorn really got to going good in the Loup valley.

Speaking of the weather the Quiz said, "Typical April showers put in their appearance June 1st this year." The same description would fit 1937.

They played ball on Decoration Day 40 years ago and Ord defeated Burwell 14 to 9. Each team scored in five innings. The Ord team was composed of Schwamer, catcher; Scott, right field; Petty, center field; Bradt 3d base; Shirley, 2nd base; Waters, left field; Garrison, first base; Koupal, shortstop and Keown, pitcher. Bud Shirley is the only member of that celebrated team living in Ord today. Of the Burwell lineup J. E. Cram, the catcher, is the only member still living in Burwell.

—Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Hoyt and Miss Gladys Hughes of Arcadia left Saturday afternoon for Los Angeles, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. Hoyt have two daughters there and plan to remain. Miss Hughes also plans to stay in California.

$100 Fine Imposed On Man Who Struck Dep. Sheriff Cohen

Oliva Pleads Guilty Tuesday To Resisting Arrest; Bower Also Draws Penalty.

Joe Oliva of near Arnold was fined $100 and costs of $13.60 in Judge John L. Andersen's court Tuesday afternoon on a charge of resisting and abusing an officer. Joe Bower of Eureka township was fined $15 and costs of $2.64 on a similar charge. The fine and costs were paid in both cases.

The court proceedings grew out of an incident that occurred at the wedding dance of Joe Oliva's brother Frank and his bride which was held at the Jungman hall Monday evening. The story, as told in court Tuesday, is as follows: It is the custom at Jungman hall not to smoke in the main dance hall, a smaller room being available for the purpose. Noting that several were not heeding this rule, the floor manager asked them to step into the other room. Most of them complied willingly, but Oliva refused to do so, it is claimed.

Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen was present as required by law, and the manager, told him about it. Cohen walked over to Oliva, took him by the arm and asked him to please step into the other room. Immediately Oliva, who is a powerful man, struck Cohen, breaking his glasses and cutting a gash in his face with the broken pieces. Cohen then placed him under arrest and deputized three of the men at the hall to assist him in getting the man to the car and to town.

On the way out to the car Joe Bower did all he could to get Oliva away from Cohen and his deputies, but without success. Oliva was brought to town and lodged in jail, and very early Tuesday morning two of his friends were on hand and offered to pay his fine if they could get him out of jail. Judge Andersen told them that the law would have to take its regular course. Oliva apparently thought that he could get out by paying the costs and a light fine, and was rather disgruntled at the amount of the charges.

In imposing the maximum fine for the charge Judge Andersen said that when an officer in the discharge of his duty speaks, his word is law, and that when anyone tries to override the law, it is up to the courts to make the punishment severe enough to teach a real lesson in law observance.

Ord Women Attend No. Platte Meeting

Looking ahead to better home demonstration club work, several hundred women from all parts of the state are expected to attend the first annual convention of the Nebraska Council of Home Demonstration Clubs to be held at North Platte, June 15-16. Mrs. Clyde Baker, Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, Mrs. Harry Wolf and Miss Grace Lee will be present from Valley county.

Organized last fall, the Nebraska Council plans on outlining work they would like included in the 1938-39 lessons of home demonstration clubs. Miss Evelyn Wolph of Nebraska City is president of the state organization. Mrs. Walter Armstrong of Nebraska City is secretary. A complete two-day program is planned for the women.

Church Plans Camping Trips.

Camping trips for boys and girls of the Presbyterian Sunday school have been planned and the girls who won a contest to see which group should go first, will leave June 22 for Pibel lake, between Ericson and Spalding. They will spend two days there, as well boys of the church, who go to Pibel lake on June 24.

Holt Co. Killer Asking Clemency

Rölla DeHart who on June 11 1921 killed John Mize and threw his body in the Niobrara river, for which he was sentenced to the penitentiary for life, is now seeking clemency. He is telling a new version of what happened at the time. When on trial in 1921 he told that the killing was done for property gain. He now states that he killed the old man with a hammer in a fight that ensued when he attacked DeHart's wife. He also states that he told the story under which he was convicted in the hope of keeping his wife out of it. In this he failed, as she was sentenced to from one to ten years for manslaughter, and paroled after nearly a year. After the killing the couple drove to Burwell, where they were apprehended. The crime has long been considered the most brutal ever committed in Holt county.

Huge Bows, Arrows, Made by Ord Youths

"Watch out!" After you have witnessed one of these powerful bows in action, you will indeed watch your step. The above photo shows Kendall Wiegardt with one of the large bows that are being built by members of the archery class at the recreation project which is meeting daily for the rest of the summer. Wiegardt's bow is regulation in every detail, made of lemonwood imported from Cuba. To show its strength is a simple matter. At 50 yards one of the metal tipped arrows can be driven so far into a tree that it cannot be pulled out by hand.

Music Instruction Again Is Offered By Dean S. Duncan

Classes Free to Ord Young People, Opening Now, Will Continue 8 Weeks.

Free summer music instruction classes, offered annually by Dean S. Duncan, opened this week and are expected to be in full swing by Monday of next week. Any children desiring to secure this instruction are asked to get in touch with Mr. Duncan before next Monday.

Classes are to be held on two days of each week, Monday and Tuesday. The classes are not compulsory upon any members of the school music organizations, being offered free of charge to anyone interested. By offering this additional instruction it is hoped that progress school musical organizations made during the past school year will not be lost.

A musical night, a program presented by members of the music classes, has been a regular feature in the past and will probably be presented again this year. Approximately 80 students took part in the program last year.

All classes are to be held in the high school building and will run for eight weeks. Any students who are in doubt as to which classes they are eligible to attend are requested to see Mr. Duncan before next week. If there is enough demand a mixed chorus will be organized and will hold rehearsals each Wednesday morning.

The schedule: Senior band, 9 a. m. Monday; junior band, 10:30 a. m. Monday; beginning brass students, 1:30 p. m. Monday; senior string group, 9 a. m. Tuesday; junior string group, 10:30 a. m. Tuesday; beginning string students, 1:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Three Ord Students Attend Music School

Three young ladies, Misses Betty Vogeltanz, Marilyn Dale, and Virginia Sack, are representing Ord at the University of Nebraska music school held annually in Lincoln.

More than 100 high school boys and girls from 51 Nebraska towns have registered for the fifth all state high school courses in band, chorus and orchestra. All of the girls will stay in the sorority house provided by the University while in Lincoln for the four weeks school session.

New Manager for Oil Co. Norris Glur, of Grand Island, is the new manager of the Beuck-Dugan filling station and bulk plant in Ord, taking charge this morning. He will be assisted for the present by Chester Barnes, who has been managing the station. Mr. and Mrs. Glur are planning to rent light housekeeping rooms and move here at once. Mr. Glur is an expert at oil burner installation and maintenance and also has had much experience in the filling station business.

Plans Complete For Huge Celebration

Featuring a big parade of floats and specialties in the morning, two hours of free acts in the afternoon and evening, and a closing inducement of a free pavement dance, the Ord celebration July 5th should be one of the best the city has ever seen.

Many added features will be interspersed among the three principal events as outlined above. A Waco D airplane will be here from Grand Island, and will do the very latest in air stunts. In the afternoon for a period of about three hours a series of contests will be run off at Bussell Park.

These will be in three divisions: the little floats, in charge of Mrs. Jerry Petka, the young people in charge of Lawrence Shunkweller, and the older people, in charge of A. W. Pierce. Included in the contests will be foot races, sack races, three legged races, tugs of war, fat men's races, fat women's races. About two dozen contests in all are planned.

Of course the Ord band will be dispensing music for the occasion. This band needs no introduction to the public, and is about half a celebration in itself. B. C. Boquet plans for two dozen or more high class floats in the parade. The free acts which have been engaged by the chairman, Ed Kokes, should prove a source of real entertainment.

Will Begin Mixing Poison Thursday

County Agent Carl C. Dale informs the Quiz that a supply of bran will arrive by Thursday of this week, and that as soon as it does a crew of men will be put to work mixing it. The sheds at the Blessing feed yards will be used for the purpose. The bran was shipped to Ord from Ravenna and farmers are being notified by card of its arrival. Please bring bran or similar sacks in quantity sufficient to hold the amount of bran you want, says Dale. The cost will be about 30¢ per sack. Please do not all come at once, but phone the county agent's office as the bran cannot be supplied all at one time.

Valley county farmers are urged to pay strict attention to the distributing directions on the blue-tag of federal poison now being distributed here. If put out in cold, damp weather the bait is practically wasted. You are urged to watch climatic conditions for more favorable conditions for poisoning. Many of the smaller "hoppers" found here this year are of the migratory type. The recent cold weather has delayed their development but when fully grown they are about one inch long. They are destructive to the crops. The big flight of grasshoppers last year filled the country with eggs of this species.

Mrs. A. N. Orcutt Dies in California

Relatives and friends here received with sorrow last week news of the death of Mrs. A. N. Orcutt, 79, at the home of a granddaughter, Marjorie Raymond, in Los Angeles on Saturday, June 12, death resulting from the effects of a stroke she suffered a few days previously. Mrs. Orcutt, a long time resident of Ord, went to California about three years ago.

Born June 18, 1857 in Michigan, Anna Whiting came to Nebraska with her parents at an early age and in 1881 was married to Albert N. Orcutt in David City. Five children were born to them, the only daughter, Mrs. Ida Nielsen, preceding her mother in death by several years. Those left to mourn include Ernest, of Taft, Calif., Lester, of Los Angeles, Wilbur, of Kimball, and Martin, of Longview, Wash. There also are thirteen grandchildren, two great grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. Will Fox and Mrs. John Goodrich, of Ord, and one brother, James Whiting, who lives in Washington.

Early in life Mrs. Orcutt became a member of the Methodist church and that was her faith until the end. Funeral rites were held June 14 at the Holman Mortuary in Los Angeles and interment was in Inglewood Memorial cemetery beside her husband.

Four Speeders Draw $5.00 Fines In June

Four speeders and one stop sign violator was the gist of the police court grind for the first half of June. Paul Shonfield arrested for speeding June 3, drew a fine of $5.00 and costs of $4.50, total $9.50 which he paid. The same formula occurred with G. H. Dunn on June 7, Arnold Bredthauer on June 11 and C. M. Vandas on June 14. F. L. Tucker ran a stop sign June 14 drawing a fine of $1.00 and $4.50 costs. All the above were paid.

Rex, George and Lynn Milligan and George's little son Donald arrived at about ten o'clock Wednesday from California for a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Milligan and other relatives.

Contractor Starts Work On Diversion Dam at Ord Bridge

'Water in No. Loup Canal By August' Is Aim; Labor Is Being Requisitioned.

The Western Asphalt Paving Corporation, of Sioux City, who hold the contract for constructing three diversion dams for the North Loup project, Monday put a force of men to work clearing ground for the first dam, which will be located about 200 feet north of the C. B. & Q. railway bridge east of Ord.

A huge crane with both pile-driver and dragline equipment is the largest piece of machinery on this job. Piling for the dam has arrived and Mr. Lane, superintendent of construction, has placed orders for lumber, concrete and other materials.

This dam will be pushed to completion with all rapidity. "Water in the Ord-North Loup canal by August," is the hope of E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the project, and all efforts will be concentrated toward this goal.

It seems a certainty that the dam will be completed in plenty of time for August delivery of water to irrigators but steel flumes, concrete siphons, bridges of both timber and concrete, as well as all laterals, must likewise be constructed before water can be turned into the main ditch.

Work orders to the W. J. Assenmacher company, who hold the contract for concrete siphons and pipe drops, have been issued by the local office and Assenmacher representatives are here this week getting ready to start work. Orshok & Christensen, who have the contract for concrete bridges across state highways, began work Monday on a bridge near North Loup.

Today the district begins advertising for bids on laterals for territory served by the Ord-North Loup canal. Letting of contracts will occur on July 9. Cost probably will be $50,000 or more.

Four contractors who will build a half million dollars' worth of structures for the North Loup project during coming months began Monday to requisition labor through the local Reemployment office, which is managed by Richard H. Mills. Plenty of common labor is available but there appears to be a scarcity of skilled and semi-skilled labor, some of which may have to be brought in from outside. A 30-hour week for common labor and a 40-hour week for skilled and semi-skilled classes is prophesied. Men on the relief rolls are given preference.

Plan to Prosecute All Who Obtained Aid Fraudulently

Co. Assistance Committee Is Rechecking Clients, Will Cut Down Relief Grants.

The administration of the old age assistance program has made an announcement of the new policy governing the eligibility requirements by a strict interpretation of the law, according to an announcement issued by Frank Kruml, county assistance director, meeting of the county assistance committee Saturday, June 12, about 80 applications were reviewed with reductions ranging from $18.00 to 50¢ on each case.

Mike Kasal, resident and business man of Ord for many years, passed away at his home in Ord Tuesday after a long illness, at the advanced age of 78 years. The funeral is being held Thursday at 2:00 P. M. from the Bohemian hall. The full obituary will be printed next week.

Light Showers Fall, Crop Promise High

Whether Harry Hugo, the "old rain bringer" had anything to do with it or not, light showers fell intermittently all day Tuesday. Last Saturday was an exceptionally hot day and accompanied by extreme sultriness, everyone expecting hard rains before the day was over. However, a slight breeze came up in the latter part of the afternoon and blew all thoughts of rain away.

Crops throughout the entire valley are looking splendid at this time and unless the grasshoppers, cutworms or extremely hot weather come along, farmers may count on a good crop this year. The damp weather has promoted cutworm infestation to a drastic degree in some parts of the state although it is not bad yet in this district.

Memorial to Marion Littlefield, Killed at Battle of Pebble Creek, Is Unveiled

Littlefield Fell Here, Says Last Survivor

George W. McAnulty, of Scotia, last survivor of the historic battle of Pebble Creek, here is seen pointing out to Irene Goodenow Kennedy and Frank Robke, first white children born in the upper North Loup valley, the exact spot where Marion Littlefield fell when shot by Indians. One of the final shots of the battle killed him.

Mrs. H. Taylor, 42, Commits Suicide, Bad Health Blamed

Former Arcadia Woman Shot Self Thursday Morning, Found by Hostess.

Mrs. Herman Taylor, 42, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Jenkins of Arcadia, shot herself last Thursday morning in the home of John Skinner at Berwyn, Neb., where she had been visiting. Bad health was believed to have been the cause of the suicide.

Mr. Skinner was busy away from home Thursday morning and Mrs. Skinner was working in the garden. When she returned to the house she was surprised to find all the doors locked. Although the shot had not been heard, Mrs. Taylor was found dead from a gun wound, the weapon lying near at hand.

Friends says that Mrs. Taylor was a great sufferer, having been affected by numerous illnesses for several years. Before visiting at the Skinner home she stayed for some time with Mr. and Mrs. Guy Skinner.

Angle Jenkins Taylor was born near Arcadia and after being married lived for several years at Kearney. She and her husband visited for a period of time in California where she has a sister. She leaves beside her husband, one son, two sisters, and her parents. Funeral services were held in Broken Bow last Sunday afternoon.

Brown and Malmberg Are Not Through Yet

The law is not yet through with Gus Malmberg, 32, Lusk, Wyo. WPA worker held under ten year state prison sentence after confessing more than 63 robberies in Nebraska and adjoining states. Federal officials at Omaha are preparing charges against Malmberg and his alleged accomplice, Ray Brown, of Rapid City, S. D., to be presented to the next grand jury. Among the robberies committed by Malmberg were burglaries of four Nebraska post-offices. It was entirely likely, however, that Malmberg and Brown will not be brought to trial until they have served their Nebraska sentences.—Hay Springs News.

$10,000 Suit Against Biemond Dismissed

The case of Bessie Kain, formerly Bessie Griffith, against M. Biemond has been on trial in Federal Court at Grand Island, this week. This case grew out of an accident in July, 1934, in the Liberty Theatre at Loup City when Miss Griffith fell and broke her ankle. After more than a year she brought suit in the United States court at Grand Island, claiming over $10,000.00 as damages. After the case had been on trial for a day and a half, Judge Munger instructed the jury to return a verdict for Mr. Biemond, stating that the plaintiff had wholly failed to make out a case against him. Mr. Biemond was represented by Attorneys Stephens & Line of Loup City and also by Attorneys Cleary, Suhr & Davis of Grand Island.

—Mrs. George Brewster of Long Pine was able to go home from the Ord Hospital Sunday. She had been there for some time recovering from an automobile accident.

Pioneers Gathered At Burwell Sunday For Annual Picnic

Biggest Crowd in History, Is Result; Honor Paid To Indian Fighter.

Not less than one thousand persons were present at the old settlers picnic held in conjunction with the dedication of the Marion Littlefield monument north of Burwell Sunday. The program, which was under the direction of the Burwell Wranglers club, was carried out according to schedule, and met with the hearty approval of all present. The day was ideal for the purpose, not too warm at any time, with a western breeze carrying clouds across the sky.

The scene of the dedication is about the central part of the scenic Pebble Creek road, which was opened for through traffic some three or four years ago, and which is perhaps the finest natural scenic drive in this section. The location is arranged by nature into an ideal picnic grounds, with dozens of spots where family groups can get together to eat their dinner. Sunday these family parties were scattered up and down the river for a space of half a mile.

The Wranglers added a platform beside the monument for the oldest settlers to sit upon, and for the use of the speakers. Facing this on the east side were arranged seats for about three hundred people, while as many more listened from a hundred cars scattered all about. The public address system was on the job, and carried the voices of the speakers to every one in the large assemblage, and even to points a full half mile away.

This year nature had done her part in contributing to the beauty of the scene. The recent rains had brought on a fine growth of grass just tall enough to be of practical value without impeding progress. The dust to which the public has become accustomed in the past few years was conspicuously by its absence. The foliage on the trees along the river was never heavier nor of a deeper green than it is this year.

An innovation that the early day settlers would have appreciated was Joe Plakus' lunch wagon, located under a tree just far enough away not to interfere with other arrangements. The genial proprietor and his helper, John Bartusiak, served a very useful purpose, as a number of people came without bringing a lunch with them, and were glad of an opportunity to get something to eat or drink before the day was over.

After the picnic dinners were over and the crowd had assembled, during which period a number of selections were given by the Burwell band under the direction of Glen Auble, the program was opened by the chairman, George W. McAnulty of Scotia, only survivor of the historic battle of Pebble Creek. The Wranglers club rightly felt that to him was due the honor of presiding at the dedication of the Littlefield monument.

Mrs. Clair W. Bebee Dies At Age of 60

Malinda Clarissa Lemasters was born in Jay county, Indiana, Dec. 14, 1876, and died at her home in Garfield county, Neb., Saturday, June 12, 1937 at the age of 60 years, 5 months and 28 days. She came with her parents to Nebraska at the age of 5 years, and grew to womanhood in Valley county. Here she received her education, after which she spent a number of years in teaching school.

At an early age she became an active Christian, and later became a member of the Ord Methodist Episcopal church. She was married to Clair W. Bebee August 20, 1901, at Ord, Neb. Five children were born to them, all of whom survive. They are Everett, of North Platte, Earl, of Grand Island, Norman of Los Angeles, Calif., Freda of Burbank, Calif., and Opal, student of the University of Nebraska at Lincoln.

Besides her husband and children she is survived by three sisters and five brothers. She was a faithful wife, a loving mother, a friend and neighbor to all and will be sadly missed. Funeral services were held from Sowl's chapel Tuesday afternoon at 2:00, in charge of Rev. Mearl Q. Smith, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

1st Aid Course Will Be Offered Again

The beginning course in first aid as sponsored by the Valley county chapter of the Red Cross will be given for the final time in Ord soon. First meeting will be held at eight o'clock the evening of June 25 at the John P. Misko office and will be presented by Dr. J. G. Kruml for the third time, two classes having finished this course in the past year.

Leroy Frazier, chairman of the first aid section of the Red Cross, reports that there is considerable demand for the course to be given again. From American Legion headquarters comes word to Legionnaires that this first aid course is highly recommended, asking them to enroll for the two-hour class which will be given eight consecutive weeks. It is expected that a number of Valley county Legion members will wish to take the course, and there are also twelve or more WPA men employed on the highways who will enroll by request of their supervisors.

Good Hunting and Fish Prophesied

Sullivan and O'Connell Make Inspection Trip, Predict A Record Season.

"This will be one of the best seasons in several years for Nebraska hunters and fishermen," Thus declared Frank B. O'Connell, chief state conservation officer, as he completed his annual inspection of state hatcheries.

Dr. M. M. Sullivan of Spalding, member of the state game and fish commission said, "With moisture increasing in all sections of the state, it appears as though the drouth is over and with it the severe handicaps that have been cutting wide swaths in fish and game."

Sullivan says that more fish will be placed in streams and lakes this year by the commission. The first crop of pheasants from the newly established farm in Madison county will be distributed next fall. Most of the young birds will go to central Nebraska where heavy hunting and drouth have wiped out thousands of pheasants. The pheasant season, Dr. Sullivan predicts, will be longer this year than the two weeks of 1936.

Quail and partridges will be put out from the farm at Madison in the fall of 1937. O'Connell stated that despite the washout at the Benkelman hatchery recently in which 25,000 trout were lost, more fish would be distributed this year than ever before.

Ord All-Stars Too Good for Arcadians

In a terrific one-inning rally, the Ord All-Stars served a ragged-playing Arcadia team a 6 to 0 defeat last Sunday night on the Ord diamond. Arcadia had previously defeated Ord 10-2.

It was in the third inning that the Ordites turned on the heat to bring in five runs and break up a scoreless tie. Lynn Beeghly was on the mound for Ord and pitched his usual good game, allowing the Arcadians only 2 hits. At the end of the seven innings his strikeout total stood at nine. Batteries for the game included Holmes and Scott for Arcadia, and Beeghly and Wolf for Ord.

This was the first appearance of the Ord town team this year and the first-string lineup is yet to be decided by Managers Bert Cummins and Ed Michalek. Much substituting was done in the Sunday night game and the following players are eligible for the town team: E. Lashmett, Syl Furtak, C. Cummins, R. Johnson, H. Wolf, Jim Covert, E. Klein, Carl Knecht, L. Beeghly, J. Tunnicliff, A. Dye, L. Shunkweller, P. Blessing, D. Mellia, "Swede" Carlson, W. Johnson, L. Abney, E. Vodehnal, C. Baker.

Sixty men and boys are playing softball in the Ord league now and interest is mounting rapidly among fans, good crowds having been present at last week's games. The All-Star team, chosen from the league roster, will play games twice weekly all summer.

Imagine having a car that would run 27 minutes on an ounce of gas! The small motor shown in the above photo will give that performance easily. It is owned by the local chapter of the IGMAA, International Gas Model Association of America, of which the following boys are members: Edwin Hitchman, president; John Rogers, vice-president; Lavern Duemoy, Lloyd Sack, Bailey Flagg, Charles Zangger, Bob Kilma, Bob Green and Joe Capron.

This motor, which will fit nicely in the palm of your hand, has a connecting rod of solid bronze. The crankshaft is 5-16 of an inch thick and the piston is lapped to .0005 of an inch. At full speed the motor turns over at 10,000 R. P. M. and is rated at 1-5 horsepower. An ordinary jet carburetor takes care of the gas feeding and a one-half inch sparkplug is one of the largest parts of the motor. A 4 1/2 volt battery supplies the electrical power.

"Kingbird" is the name of the model airplane in which the motor is mounted. It has a 5-foot wingspread with a shiny black body and brilliant red wings. Small rubber airwheels of the "doughnut" type are used on the model, the tires being filled merely by blowing into them with the mouth, like a balloon. The plane belongs to the entire club. It was bought in kit form and was assembled by having each member of the club build one part of the plane. It required well over one month to complete construction of the ship. Five similar planes are now under construction by individual members of the club and plans are being made to hold a gas model air show the latter end of the summer. Club members from Broken Bow and other cities will participate in the show with their gas models.

—Mrs. Mabel Lewis of Benkelman arrived on the bus Monday evening and will be a guest of Rev. and Mrs. Mearl C. Smith a week. —Mrs. Arvella Danzek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Benjamin, arrived home last Friday evening for a short visit. —George Puncocar was up from Greeley Sunday to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Puncocar. Three of the Puncocar brothers now have charge of stores for Food Centers, Inc., Joe at Ord, Jerry at Spalding and George at Greeley.

—Ored' Olsson has returned to Ord from the Green Gables Sanitarium at Lincoln and is occupying his residence properly again. His daughter, Mrs. Ivan Mattison is here from Kearney and will keep house for him for the present. His friends will be pleased to know that his health is much improved. —One assortment of ladies' hats, 25c and 50c. Chase's Toggery. It Gerry Krikac spent Sunday afternoon with Donald and Jackie Waldmann. Jim Sedlacek spent two days at the church last week doing some repair work.

Miss Ella Rybin arrived from Omaha last Saturday and spent Sunday with home folks, returning to her duties in her beauty parlor Monday morning.

—Oldest Homesteader? An old timer dropped into the Quiz office one day last week and incidentally brought up the question of who is the oldest homesteader still living on the homestead. He claimed the honor for a neighbor, Mrs. Jens Aagaard, who certainly seems to be entitled to the distinction. Mr. and Mrs. Aagaard came here in 1883 and took up a homestead in section 22, township 20, range 14. They lived there together through the hardships of early days, raising a family of fine sons and daughters. A number of years ago Mr. Aagaard passed on, but his good wife still lives on the old homestead. Fifty-four years on the same place is a long time, but here's hoping that she may live to spend many more years there.

Ord Golfers Plan Enter Open Tourney

An open golf tournament is to be held Sunday at Loup City, being sponsored by the Loup City Golf Club. The tournament will take place on the nine hole golf course located three miles south of Loup City.

A number of Ord golfers signified their intentions early this week of participating in the tourney. Last year about 15 Ord golf fans went over to the tourney. The qualifying round of nine holes is to be played in the morning, with eighteen holes to be played in the afternoon. The entry fee has been fixed at $1.25 and prizes are offered for each flight.

Bass On Strike Wouldn't Strike As Season Opened

"No catch 'em." That was about the only comment the Quiz staff could get out of local anglers last Friday morning. Ord fishermen who so enthusiastically tore out for their favorite fishing spots last Thursday as the bass season opened were unusually quiet.

Most of the boys went to Erlson for their fishing. Not a single bass was reported to have been caught, although a number of bluegills were taken. Ed Mouser was found on the street Friday morning telling Emil Fafeita and "Curt" Gudmundsen that his son Homer and himself had caught nearly 50 of the blue-hued creatures. He would not divulge any details on the size of the fish.

DOWN COMES THE COST OF FARM HAULING

WITH THE NEW 112-INCH WHEELBASE FORD V-8 STAKE

60-HP. FOR LIGHT LOADS

Farmers like this new body type. It's just what they need for general work around the farm and for hauling small loads into town.

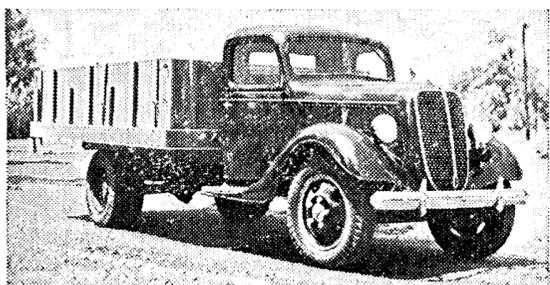

If your loads are heavy or if you want high road speeds, the new 112-inch wheelbase Stake with the 85-horsepower V-8 engine will give you good economy. If your loads are light and if you want high gas mileage, then the thrifty new 60-horsepower V-8 engine will give you all the power you need and cut many dollars off your gas costs.

Try a new 112-inch wheelbase Stake on your own farm. Your Ford dealer will be glad to arrange an "on-the-job" test for you without cost or obligation. Make this test with your own loads, under your own operating conditions.

Convenient, economical terms through the Authorized Ford Finance Plans of the Universal Credit Company.

McCORMICK-DEERING No. 229 Farmall Cultivator

• Quick-Attachable
• Easy to Operate

• Here's a new cultivator that's sure to win favor among our customers—the quick-attachable McCormick-Deering No. 229 Farmall Cultivator with parallel-lift and shifting front gangs. It can be used with both Farmall 20 and Farmall 30.

The parallel-lift construction holds the shovels level and at the correct working angle regardless of the depth at which they are working. The shifting frame is so constructed that when you turn the steering wheel you also shift the gangs to double the dodging action, a feature especially valuable in cross-cultivation.

All the shovels, unless otherwise ordered, are on the front section, adapting the cultivator to work in hilly or rolling fields.

Let us tell you more about this and other Farmall Cultivators.

GOVERNOR PATER DAD POP THE OLD MAN
Whatever You Call Him Remember Him FATHER'S DAY

Most of the year poor old dad gets shoved all over the lot. He is a sort of fifth wheel—but it's usually his name that is signed to the checks that pay the bills. There's one day—June 20—when, if he has any luck, he is made to feel that he really belongs to the family, even if mother, or daughter, or son, does hit him for a buck or two to use his own money to buy him a dad's day gift. So—remember him on Father's Day—that prince of good fellows—your dad!

Old Settlers Write.
 Writing to renew her subscription to the Quiz, Mrs. Maude Hutcheson Bryan of Monterey, Calif., has this to say: "I was born near old Fort Hartsuff in 1875 and all those names of pioneers are very familiar and I wish to send my regards to them all. My sister, Minnie Hutcheson, is now living at Pasadena, Calif. She has very poor health, but I am sure sends love and best wishes to all. Please add our names to your list of old settlers if not too late."

Writing from Ashton, Idaho, Mrs. Wm. H. Thomas, the former Hannah Andersen, wishes to be included in the list of early day settlers. She says: "I think my brother and I can qualify as early day settlers. We are children of the late Nels and Johanna Anderson. I, Hannah Andersen Thomas was born Sept. 6, 1873, and J. Morton Andersen March 19, 1875. This is hoping you get a complete list of all old settlers living, although scattered all over the U. S., and that you print the list in the Quiz."

FATHER'S DAY NEXT.

According to the request of dozens of heads of families in the Ord territory, the Quiz is calling attention this week to the fact that next Sunday, June 20, is Father's Day.

MONUMENT OF THE FRONTIER.

In the entire Loup valley one frontier monument and one only stands pre-eminent. It is Fort Hartsuff. Following the death of Marlon Littlefield Jan. 20, 1874, a mass meeting was called at Willow Springs and a committee consisting of M. B. Goodenow, John Case, E. D. McKinney, W. A. Harper and G. W. McAnulty was selected to bring to the attention of congress the need of a fort in the upper Loup region.

Today most of the original buildings are standing, but are rapidly falling into ruin, the owner being unable to keep them all up in good condition, and further, there are too many for any one man's use.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Nisswa, Minn., June 11, 1937

Dear Quiz: I don't know what to write about for next week. As the dairy farmer would say, we are right between hay and grass. The cottagers have not come yet but will begin to drift in right along now every day till June 20 when the fishing season opens.

Hubert lake and though he never saw it, he played it for nearly half an hour and finally the fish just swam away, taking tackle and everything and Vernie used language that has left a smell of brimstone in that vicinity ever since.

And whether fish will bite June 21 when the season opens or not, also remains to be seen, but right now I know one could go out and catch a boatload of fish, bass, crapples or bluegills. They are in the shallow water around the shore, just finishing up the spawning season.

I have been trying to get walleyes so as to send Eugene and Hil a box and while we can catch enough to eat here of small ones, we have not been able to get the large ones, 3 pounds and over, to make the shipment, so that is one kind of fish that have not started yet.

Jimmie Luther has five baby red squirrels which he feeds with a medicine dropper and they have learned so they take hold of the end of it with their little front feet and go after the milk just like they meant it.

Ray is working hard trying to get the carpenter work done on the Clements cottage this week. He has lots of other work and may not be able to get it painted until later.

H. D. Leggett.

Something Different

It is fine to see old unused buildings hauled down and the Ord skyline thus improved. It would be dandy if these lots were then loaned to a neighbor boy to make garden on, or something done with them except letting them grow up to weeds.

Ord surely needs that organized planning it is threatened with. Let us choose a town flower and grow it not one season but over several years, say ten or so. Thus the seed will become easy to secure, we can all afford to borrow or give away some.

Some electric lights would not be a bad idea. There are corners where Ord ladies rather hate to pass when walking home from lodge; you drive around tonight after dark and you will notice them.

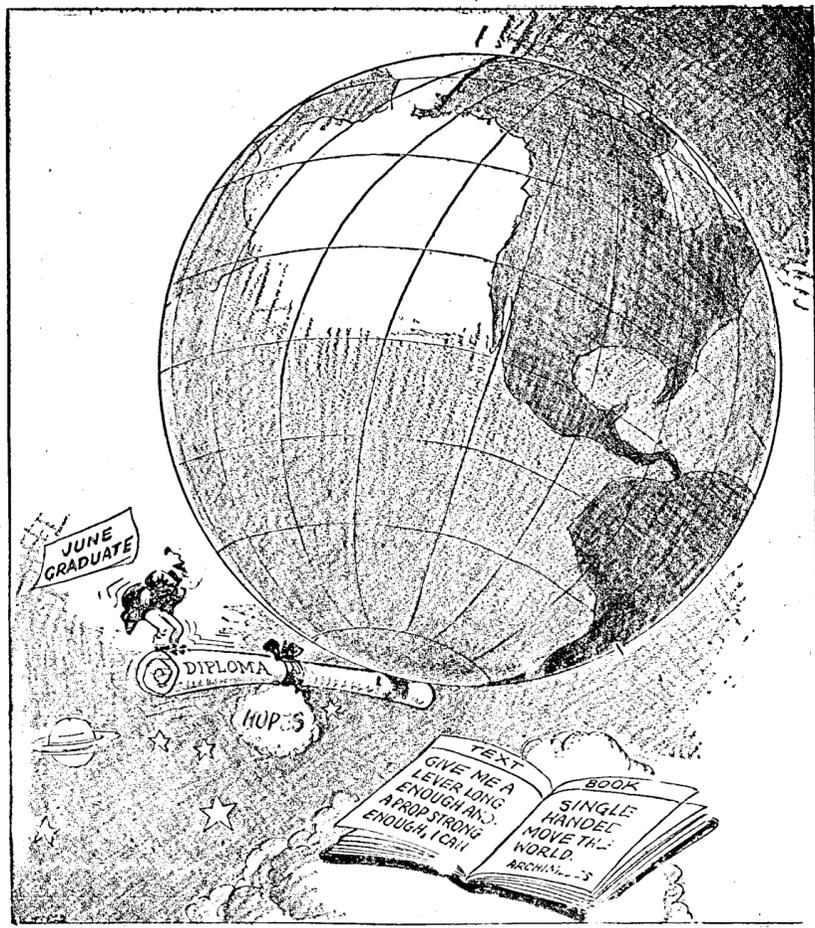

Then we might be able to use some more paving. The cost stretches over a period of years is not all to pay at once, you know.

Story says Justice Van Deventer is retiring to farming with distinction. Well, any farmer with a $20,000 annual income would be distinctive.

Research workers at Cornell gave a pig nervous prostration. It's likely they took the hog for a Sunday drive.

Reports show a total of 15,000,000 words testimony were taken on the court reform bill. But that includes duplicates after the first 500.

IT'S GOOD EXERCISE, ANYHOW

Ord lacks lots of things other small cities achieve. A nice library building is one. An auditorium is needed, certainly, and perhaps we might have been able to construct it from Uncle Sam's money, or partly paid for it this way, had we been busy begging for "projects" this past few years.

A swimming pool would be dandy, is needed too. So many, many people voted against it a few weeks ago that I think would vote for it if they were well understood.

Even as The Ditch is about to employ a lot of unskilled labor. You can see that Ord workmen could not be put to work on expensive pieces of machinery that they had never seen before, that they didn't know how to run or care for.

It is strange how excited some of us fellows get over the labor situation, and still live out here far away from the din of battle. One group of farmers were proclaiming loud the other day that Lewis should be shot.

They Set the Price on Eggs. It is strange how excited some of us fellows get over the labor situation, and still live out here far away from the din of battle.

And who is not sorry to hear about Rufe Clark's poor health? We all hope he improves fast at Excelsior Springs, Mo., and that he is soon able to come back and be his usual genial self.

It is said it is impossible to organize the farmers. There are too many of them. They are scattered too much. The only reason the farmers cannot be organized as well as the laboring man is because of his attitude.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

The President surely won a score in his fight with the Supreme Court when he said they had just left for a four months vacation with important decisions unfollowed.

One point that grips me and most farmers that I know, was when the Corn-Hog program was continued month after month and then tossed out the window and the money collected given back to the packers.

They should be stepping more carefully now, but perhaps it is too late already. For some reason I cannot seem to forget the time I sold that bunch of hogs and the tax was $250.00.

Why not the drivers be union men? One driver told me he made six trips to Omaha in one week and drove a milk route every morning. That is farmer's hours.

Now that is off my chest here is a new record. The cheese factory handled more milk last Thursday than any day in its history.

Chases Hen—Finds $10. Mrs. Henry Ball, who lives near Alliance, was chasing an old hen in her yard the other day when the glint of a shiny piece of metal caught her eye.

Little Stories About People You Know

The following tale is told about our esteemed L. J. Aubie, better known as "Bud". It seems that he and the Missus went down to Hastings last week to be present for the big artichoke meeting there.

A Must Stay at Home Now. A person of my attitude hardly dares appear or express himself on the streets. Suddenly your friend's eyes begin to glare, he becomes serious and his fists are clinched.

Why shouldn't the truckers organize? An oil station man told me not long ago that he had failed to know one yet that did not eventually go broke.

I had a small load to haul the other day. I asked a trucker what he would charge to haul it out. He asked what the others charged. I said $1.50. He said he would bring it for $1.25.

Why not the drivers be union men? One driver told me he made six trips to Omaha in one week and drove a milk route every morning.

A New Record. Now that is off my chest here is a new record. The cheese factory handled more milk last Thursday than any day in its history.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Townsend Clubs Look to National Convention for New Impetus

WASHINGTON—Those hopefuls who look to Dr. Townsend for the panacea for old age problems are encouraged by the thought that the third national convention of Townsendsites to be held here late in July may give the movement new impetus.

In an attempt to borrow $5,000,000 on his personal promissory notes for loans of $10 and up, Dr. Townsend encountered the opposition of the Securities Exchange Commission.

The doctor notified all those who had already advanced him money that unless they wished to have him keep it as a gift, their loans would be returned.

When Dr. Townsend originally asked for $5,000,000 in loans to be secured by his personal notes, he said, "My personal assets at this time, aside from the Townsend National Weekly which is already pledged to the Townsend movement, are about $500."

Lenora M. Apking and W. James Morrison were quietly married at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Apking, in Branning, Friday afternoon, June 4, at 4 o'clock.

On Joseph and His Relatives

Joseph, with the wisdom and vision that characterized all his acts, seemed to foresee some such possibility. For he made his brothers swear that they would return to their own land.

THE story of Joseph is continued this week.

How closely success and tragedy are associated in history and in the lives of individuals and families! Here was Jacob, carried down in his old age, galling by his sons with their little ones and their wives in the wagons which Pharaoh had sent, to a great welcome and preferment in Egypt, under the influence and power of the flourishing Joseph, a power in the land even greater than Pharaoh's, his master.

THE story of Joseph ends with this lesson, but it is necessary to see that story not in any one detail or incident, but as a whole.

Few stories provide better teachings concerning the effects of evil, the rewards of righteousness, the value of vision and planning, and the strength and power of forgiveness and magnanimity.

It is rich in human values, and its teachings apply to our modern complex world as much as to an ancient time when the sufferings of people from famine and the power of kings and potentates were more marked in human history.

Joseph was an example of what wise leadership can do in successful social planning. He looked ahead to the needs of the people and stored up resources for emergencies.

YET it was not many years, as the crisis of history goes, until this colorful and emotional descent into Egypt had become the first step in tragedy, as a ruler whose "knew not Joseph" and the children of Israel fell under the bondage of a hard and grievous taskmaster.

Arcadia News

Miss Louise Stanley, only child of Mrs. Georgia Stanley of Sutherland, and Max A. Weddel, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Valley County Farmers Are Busy . . . Its Haying Time

Mowing, sweeping and stacking the first cutting of alfalfa has kept Valley county farmers working overtime for the past ten days or two weeks. On most farms the first cutting is light but prospects for later cuttings are excellent, due to the late May and early June rains. Here is a typical haying time scene, the picture being taken on the place farmed by J. W. Vodehnal northeast of Ord. On the stack are Mr. Vodehnal and son, Edward. Just as the stacker released its load the Quiz photographer snapped his shutter, bringing readers this unusual picture.

SOCIAL NEWS

K. of C. Initiates Two Install New Officers

Two more candidates were initiated into the Knights of Columbus, Ord Council No. 2292, on Wednesday, June 9, at the regular meeting when the first degree was exemplified by the degree team from the local council. The new members were Thomas Doran of Burwell, and Emanuel Petska, of Arcadia. Ord council has distinguished itself by having initiated candidates twice within a year, both classes consisting chiefly of young men.

Ord Council, No. 2292, has the honor of being one of the four councils in the state to have attained the honor roll by having increased its membership by ten percent, within a year, prior to June 30.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected and James Petska, Jr., was again chosen by a large majority, to provide leadership as grand knight. Other officers elected were: Frank Kruml, deputy grand knight; John Blaha, chancellor; Sylvester Furlak, advocate; E. L. Vogelzang, recorder; Joseph G. Kruml, treasurer; Frank Fafella, warden; Emil Sedlacek, inside guard; Anton Gnasher, outside guard. Grand Knight James Petska, Jr., also announced the following appointments: Dr. F. J. Osentowski, financial secretary; and Steven Caroski, lecturer. The office of chaplain will be filled by appointment at the next regular meeting. Honor guests at the meeting were Rev. Father L. Ziolkowski, of Loup City, and Jos. Waldman of Genarum. Mr. Waldman has the distinction of being the oldest member of Ord council, and also of having five sons all active members of the same council. Both guests responded with short talks.

Considerable activities have been planned for the next six months. At the present time a council team is being sponsored in the kittenball league. After losing the first game, the team came back strong and won the next two, now being tied for first place in the league with the Safeway team of Ord.

Out of town meetings are being planned in the near future in the subordinate areas of Ord council, and will be held in Genarum, Elyria, Burwell and possibly Sargeant.

THE QUIZ CAMERA GOES TO THE OLD SETTLER'S PICNIC

Rifle Carried By Martyr Littlefield

A selection by the band was the opening number, after which Lyman Kern invoked the blessing of God on the meeting in a few well chosen words. This was followed by a song service of old familiar songs, led by Mrs. Bess Langstrom. In behalf of the Wranglers club, Luther D. Pierce then made a talk on the subject, "Why We Gather At the River." This was followed by another selection by the Burwell band.

Then followed perhaps the most interesting feature of the entire program, the description of the battle of Pebble Creek by George MacAnulty, the only man still alive of the fifteen who fought there. Here appeared a slight discrepancy, in that Mr. MacAnulty gave the date as January 18, 1874, while the Trail of the Loup gives it as Jan. 19, and the date on the Littlefield tombstone is Jan. 20. This is accounted for by the fact that the trouble resulting in the battle of Pebble Creek started on the evening of Jan. 18 and the battle occurred on the morning of Jan. 19. It could be easy to make a mistake on a tombstone.

Mr. MacAnulty's story was essentially the same as that given by him in the "Trail of the Loup," published by Harold W. Fought more than thirty years ago, with a few added details. He told how the Indians, in full war regalia stole eatables from the McClimans home, a cow from the Harry Colby farm, and everything movable from the trappers' cabin, and after traveling about three miles up the river, camped for the night near what is now known as Pebble Creek.

Huge Crowd of Pioneers and Their Descendants at the Picnic Sunday

This fine picture by the Jensen Photo Service shows a portion of the big crowd which attended the old settlers picnic at Pebble Creek near Burwell Sunday.

Monument Unveiled by Oldest Settler

Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, the valley's oldest living settler, unveiled the monument to Littlefield Sunday. On the other side of the monument is shown G. W. McAnulty, sole survivor of the battle in which the valley's earliest martyr met death.

Distinguished Group of Old Timers Occupied the Platform

On platform, left to right, are Dr. E. D. Thurston, W. A. Anderson, Mrs. J. A. Herbst, Ben F. Ulm, J. A. Herbst, J. W. Messenger, Mr. McAnulty, A. I. Cram and Truman Freeland. They represent a total residence here of more than 5 1/2 centuries.

He told how settlers to the number of fifteen, assembled by himself and others in the night, took the trail from the trappers' cabin at daylight and in a short time came upon the Indians lodged in one large tepee, feasting off the meat of the cow they had butchered. MacAnulty was in favor of firing upon them without any preliminaries, but "Buckskin Charley" White, in command, preferred to hold a conference with them and demand the return of the goods.

This resulted unfavorably, and the battle began, lasting for some time. Almost the final shot of the battle was the one that killed Marlon Littlefield. His body was taken to the McClimans home that night and the next day Dick McClimans started for Sutton, Neb., where Littlefield's people lived. The gun carried by Marlon Littlefield in the battle was given to Mr. McClimans, and has been kept in the family since that time.

Following the description of the battle, A. R. McClimans exhibited the Littlefield gun, which is now the property of his mother, Mrs. Alta McClimans. Then and during the afternoon dozens of persons handled and examined the weapon. Mr. McClimans asked the assembly to plan some proper disposal of the relic which he feels should be taken care of for future generations to have an opportunity to look at. No doubt some such arrangement will be made later.

Next on the program was the telling of pioneer stories by J. W. (Wee) Messenger and Truman Freeland, both among Garfield county's earliest settlers. Mr. Messenger told a number of pioneer anecdotes, some of which were practically new to nearly everyone present. Mr. Freeland spoke of the relics left to the present generation by the pioneers, telling of the little mound of sod where once the sod school house stood, the beginning of the educational movement that today has given to Burwell one of the finest school buildings in the valley.

A pleasing addition to the regular program, made possible by the coming of Herman Mattley from Lincoln for the celebration, was that gentleman's address. Mr. Mattley is a pleasing speaker, and knew a number of stories that he turned to good account about local men. His speech was a fitting close to one of the best programs ever given at an old settlers picnic. Following the playing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the band, and a fitting benediction by Rev. W. L. Goodell, Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, oldest settler present, unveiled the monument.

Mr. MacAnulty then told, by special request, what he knew of the life of "Calamity Jane". He then called a short business session, in which it was decided to hold another picnic this fall in September in the Judge Clements grove, perhaps better known as the Hoyt grove, across the river northeast of Goodenow. New officers elected by the old settlers association are Zach Harris, president and A. I. Cram, secretary. All present voted the picnic one of the best they had ever attended, and look forward to an even better celebration this fall.

This measure was imperative because of the inadequacy of funds to meet the needs of the present case load. In the last official bulletin issued by Neil C. Vandemoer, director of assistance, a statement is made as follows: "It will be the policy of the board of control to interpret the laws strictly and to allow assistance only to those persons who are eligible. With this change in policy it will be necessary to make a complete check of all recipients now on the assistance rolls. The board expects to ask for prosecution of cases where the state and government have been defrauded by false statements concerning the financial status of recipients. They expect to give recipients notice to this effect and give each person an opportunity to make restitution within a given time before which time no prosecution will be instigated."

$300.00 such individual is not eligible for continued assistance. Postal savings, bank accounts and other resources and income of each individual must be rigidly checked before applicant's assistance can continue. Relatives who are legally responsible and financially able are required by law to support individuals otherwise eligible for assistance," said Vandemoer.

Mr. Kruml states that this new policy has been announced by the administration for the next biennium. A stricter and more rigid interpretation of the law is being carried out than was considered in the past 13 months. The administration still continues to stress that the assistance program is not a pension and that legally responsible relatives will be considered in working out a plan for the applicant whether their assistance be in cash or in commodities or service. Under the present act each legally liable relative will be required to substantiate his statement with adequate proof of his financial conditions if he is unable to support or assist a relative. The assistance budget will be regarded as supplementary in cases where contribution from relatives are not adequate to meet the needs of the applicant. The same restrictions also govern the aid to dependent children program and the administration of blind assistance.

It is necessary that the check in cutting down of all grants be completed by July 1 so that they can go into effect with the beginning of the fiscal year. Mr. Kruml states that this is just a summary of the new rules and regulations governing policy and administration which are set forth by the state committee which is at the present time the Board of Control and that the local board, the county assistance committee, are required to abide by the law and the administrative rules.

It is expected that a number of grants will be discontinued due to the stricter interpretation of the property ruling where applicants owning more than one piece of property will be required to make some disposition of same to establish their eligibility.

Hopper Poison May Be Fatal to Animals

A warning note of what might happen if Valley county farmers become careless with the poison bran which is being distributed as an aid in the hopper flight came last week from St. Paul.

Horses belonging to Louis Rohman experienced a close call from going the way of the grasshoppers when they had eaten a quantity of the "hopper" poison that had been within their reach. Fortunately the horses had not consumed a sufficient quantity to react against them fatally. The poison was contained in sacks and the horses were driven off before eating more than a small quantity. Six animals had eaten the concoction.

This is only one of the several incidents which has happened in the Nebraska area since the poison has been distributed. On one occasion an entire flock of chickens were exterminated when they found some of the bran carelessly mislaid.

Bible School Closes With Program Sunday

The union dally vacation Bible school closed its two week session Sunday evening with a program presented by the students in the Methodist church.

A large crowd turned out for the program which included group singing, displays of outstanding memory work by individual students and enactment of several Bible scenes.

Approximately 150 students received diplomas for completing the two week session successfully. A picnic for the youngsters was held Friday afternoon in Bussell park.

This year's Bible school has been very successful and Rev. Woodruff and his staff of assistants are to be complimented for their fine work.

Evelyn Files 11th Passage.—Taking advantage of Jack Jefferson's visit to Ord Monday and Tuesday of this week, Evelyn Sharp flew five passengers in the two days to increase the list of passengers she has flown to the 11 mark. Jack was flying a next Taylor Cub job while here and just before leaving Tuesday morning said that he would fly to Kansas City the latter part of the week.

Safeways Gain Lead In Softball League

Safeways increased their lead in the Inter-City softball league Tuesday night as they poured it on the K. of P. softballers to the tune of 9 to 4.

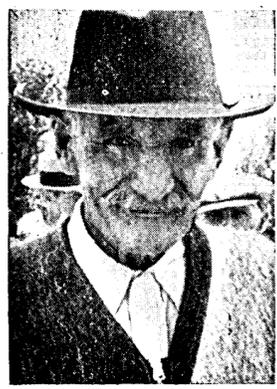

In the remaining game of the evening, the Livestocks had a hitting fest as they bowled over the hazy K. of C. outfit by a wide 10 to 1 margin. Both games were very well attended and both of the contests were good despite the rather lopsided scores.

No games are scheduled for this Thursday night, however the All-Star team will have a practice on this date. Games to be played next Tuesday night are: K. C. vs. S. W. and the K. P. vs. O. L. S. At the present time the Safeways are ahead in the league by quite a margin, with the remaining teams about even up.

Mouers' Cafe and the Valley County Abstract company plan to make an exchange of locations, probably Monday morning. The abstract company will be open for business as usual, but Mouers Cafe will close until Wednesday morning, when they will hold their formal opening.

Erosion Control Tour Coming Soon

On June 22 a tour will be made of the CCC camp activities in the vicinity of Ravenna. This is a soil erosion control project, and they have done a lot of terracing, contour listing and basin listing, and in fact, all forms of soil erosion control work. This tour should be of interest to a number of the farmers of Valley county, and any who desire to attend should call the county agent's office, where arrangements will be made to transport everybody with the least possible expense. There will be a free dinner served to all who attend at the CCC camp. The county farm bureau and the county conservation association are interested in getting a large group of farmers from this section to attend.

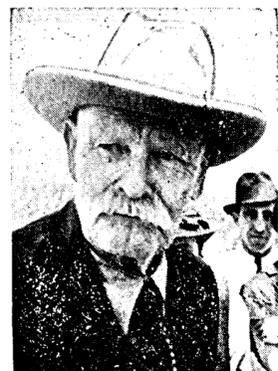

A. I. Cram, newly elected secretary.

Ben F. Ulm, not very big, but all there.

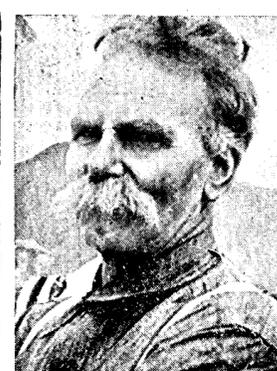

Zach Harris, president for coming year.

J. W. Messenger, early day postmaster.

N. D. Maxfield, still able to ride bronchos.

Reed Maxson, the man with the mustache.

Bill Cronk, resident Valléy county since '73.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Demanding a special session of the Nebraska Legislature to provide additional relief assistance, the Nebraska Workers Alliance has been joined by Douglas county relief officials in "pressuring" Governor Cochran. But the governor, upon his return to the state from Missouri said he didn't believe such a thing as a special session was necessary.

Chief argument of both factions seeking to once more call Nebraska's 43 senators to Lincoln, has been that more money is needed for relief.

Declared Cochran: "Conditions have not changed materially since the legislature met. If anything, prospects are now brighter than they were then. I mean we're having rain and the crop outlook is favorable. Of course crops might not mean immediate work, but the prospect is bound to stimulate business and make for more jobs."

Politicalwise say it is an even bet the legislature will convene once more before the turn of the year; some declare September 1 will be the date.

The Nebraska Workers' Alliance in a resolution adopted demanded the additional meeting of the lawmakers after David Lasser, national alliance president and the executive committee said there exists in Nebraska "potent influences" inviting open rebellion, because of the "wanton neglect of Governor Cochran and a state legislature to deal humanely with a humane question." Call a special session or resign as governor, the resolution demanded of Cochran.

E. F. Margaret, Douglas county relief director has declared that a special session must be called if counties are to keep their relief allowances up to standard. He added he was writing all county commissioners and assistance directors in the state to obtain their views, and hoped to have present at Lincoln soon all such officials to bring pressure on the governor to call the lawmakers back. Margaret's summing up of the situation was followed by comment from Irl D. Tolen, former state relief director, who declared he believed the state relief fund will fall about $3,500,000 short of being enough to keep up the present standard.

Meanwhile, Neil C. Vandemoer, state assistance director has ordered an immediate checkup to determine how many Nebraskans are receiving old age grants illegally. He said the state assistance law in the past "was interpreted too liberally both by the people of the state and the department that administered it." A belief exists, according to Vandemoer, that a system of old age pensions has been set up, while it actually is only assistance to aid people who are not financially able to take care of themselves or who do not have relatives who are financially able to care for them.

He added that the board had authorized him to make "settlement" with persons who know they are drawing assistance illegally and who wish to place their cases before him. It is the board's policy to prosecute any person who refuses to make settlement and by such refusal is defrauding the state and federal government by swearing to false statements regarding their financial standing, Vandemoer declared.

Because of the legislature's error in the appropriation bill, and because the amount of money that will be raised for assistance is indefinite, the board has decided it will be necessary to make pro rata reduction in all allocations to counties until such a time as more information can be had regarding the amounts available from the various taxes levied for assistance and pending the checking of all approved applications, he added.

Two men were burned to death, a third died of burns and 73 valuable race and show horses were destroyed as the result of a fire that swept the main barn at Ak-Sarben plant. Loss was estimated at $235,000 as officials probed cause of the blaze that, fanned by a 30-mile wind, swept the frame structure. Racing at Nebraska's major track was not halted. The fire did its destructive work on Sunday; Monday, with only slight readjustment, the race show went on.

"First we build a vigorous temperance movement in the local church; the church hated liquor as it hated the devil, but today thousands of cocktail drinking members, apparently without conscience, have cut the fighting nerve of the church". So said Herbert Ford of Lincoln, superintendent of the Nebraska Anti-Saloon league, addressing delegates to the Churches of Christ convention at Beatrice.

Continued Ford: "Many pastors are courageously attacking this problem; some unfortunately are taking the easy way of avoiding offense to leading members."

Ford added: "We got united action through a powerful anti-liquor movement, backed by support by all churches. The churches are going to do that again, but they are moving too slowly. The movement and program are not yet big enough to win."

Several new rules pertaining to qualifications of applicants for admission to practice law in Nebraska courts have been announced by the Nebraska Supreme Court. Hereafter the court will require that all applicants must, in addition to a high school education, have two years study in an accredited college before being eligible to take a bar examination. Where an applicant has studied law in a school, that school must be on the accredited list of the American

A Weekly Feature — Artificial Ice Plant.

Here's an ideal spot to locate yourself on one of these hot Nebraska days! In the top photo we see the storage room of the Ord Artificial Ice Plant, owned and operated by Olof Olsson. This room is really cold — night and day, the temperature of this large room is kept far below the freezing point. Notice the frost covered pipes which line the interior of the room, some of them with two or three inch layers of frost on them.

In the lower photograph Herbie Nelson dumps huge cakes of the crystal pure ice from the freezing tanks into the chute which takes them to the storage room. Here they are cut into various sizes and are finally delivered to Ord homes.

Bar Association. Nebraska is the 34th state to adopt the 2-year college rule.

Death took Sen. William H. Thompson, 56, at his Grand Island home. The former United States senator, and justice of the Nebraska Supreme Court died after a long illness. He was a life-long democrat and was holder of some of the highest honors the party in Nebraska could give. When he passed his 79th year he was appointed in 1933 by C. W. Bryan, then governor, to the U. S. senate to fill a vacancy.

Seven hundred and fifty-five graduates of the University of Nebraska and 7,000 relatives and friends heard Dr. L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota tell the diploma recipients to perform the duties of a good citizen and discharge their obligations to society which transcend the traditions of the professions for which they have prepared themselves. It was the 66th annual commencement and was represented by one of the largest classes in university history.

Chief Justice Charles A. Goss of the Nebraska Supreme court read the marriage lines for two of his friends, Thornton L. Melton of the U. S. medical corps at Fort Crook and Mrs. Mary Hinterlong of Omaha. The ceremony was performed at Lincoln and was the second time in many years service as a District and Supreme court judge that Justice Goss performed a wedding ceremony. It was his first as chief justice of the court.

Seven year old Charles Alexander died at Gothenburg of burns suffered when his clothing ignited while he was burning out ant hills with gasoline.

A series of district meetings for Nebraska farmers at which suggestions and practices to be incorporated in the 1938 farm program will be discussed, is being arranged, according to Nebraska Ag College leaders. Discussion recently has been along the line of revamping the coming year's program to emphasize the land use problem and minimize soil conservation. This practice would localize effort to solve farmers' problems and would require a blanket effort such as the present conservation program. County meeting will govern the definite state program for 1938, it was said.

—Donald L. Milligan, wife and sons Russell and Donald, arrived from Colorado Tuesday evening for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Milligan and other relatives. Three other sons are expected from California tonight.

—Miss Irma Parkos left this morning for Grand Island and Omaha where she will spend some time with friends. She will then go to Cedar Rapids, Iowa, where she will spend a part of her vacation.

—C. E. Christensen, formerly employed at the Safeway store in Ord, writes from the Lutheran Sanitarium at Wheat Ridge, Colo., to renew his Quiz subscription, stating that he enjoys greatly reading about his many friends and acquaintances here. Mr. Christensen is suffering with tuberculosis but says he is improving satisfactorily.

—A state wide meeting of home economics councils was held at North Platte the first three days of this week. Miss Grace Lee took three Ord ladies in her car to this meeting, going Monday and returning Wednesday evening. The ladies who went with her were Mrs. Harry Wolf, Mrs. J. W. McGinnis and Mrs. Clyde Baker.

—A card from Bill Rice sent from somewhere in Saskatchewan, Canada, says that he is really enjoying himself there. He sent a picture of himself and some lady out on the lake in a boat. He is enjoying good fishing, catching all the lake trout he can get. He does not say when he is coming back, so perhaps he plans to stay for the summer.

—Alan Dean Lakin fell and cut his forehead Monday. He was riding on the handlebars of a bicycle ridden by Alice Mae Hill, when a dog ran in front of the wheel, causing an upset. Miss Hill was also somewhat scratched and bruised, but the dog and bicycle got by without serious damage.

—Paul Wachtrle, who attends a Catholic seminary at Little Rock, Ark., is in Ord this week visiting his uncle, James Wachtrle, and other relatives and friends. He is on his way to Buhl, Ida., where he will visit his people, the George Wachtrle family, who formerly lived in Ord.

—J. W. Ambrose and Virgil Severson are putting finishing touches on the plumbing work at the apartment house being built by Mrs. Keith Lewis and her mother, Mrs. A. E. Chase of Loup City, in the home owned by the late A. Sutton. Decorators have finished their work and the apartments are about ready for occupancy. There are three apartments in the building, one large one downstairs and two smaller ones upstairs, one of which has been leased by Miss Eunice Chase, who is moving into it today.

—Middle Loup Progresses. The beginning of the week June 14th finds work progressing very satisfactorily all along the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation canals. The big dragline operating on the east side of the river on Monday morning was four miles above Loup City, while the dragline on the west side of the river was seven miles northwest of Loup City at Burgess Bluff, where good progress is being made. The Koehler Construction company has been manufacturing cement siphons at Loup City, and moved into Arcadia Monday. Construction of diversion dams will start this week at Sargent, and Koehler Construction company will also start work at Comstock soon. Bridges are being constructed at a rapid rate now on the south end of Canals 3 and 4. Every day brings nearer the completion of this great PWA project, which will be of such inestimable benefit to our valley.

A law case having its alleged cause of action back as far as the World War, still is in litigation in the state supreme court. Brief was filed in that court supporting the action appealed by the American Red Cross in the Nemaha county case in which the organization failed to secure $1,000 which it alleges the local Red Cross chapter at Julian held out on it during the war. The $1,000 is a part of the proceeds of a sale held during the war to raise funds which the Red Cross claims were for that organization. The school district contends it was raised by "local citizens" who would dispose of the money as they saw fit. Nemaha county district court upheld the citizens' contention; the Red Cross appeal.

Erysipelas, a disease usually fatal to hogs, has been reported in Madison county. Late reports showed the plague decreasing, but as many as half the swine in some sections of the countryside have been afflicted. The death toll has been heavy.

—Miss Mamie Brewer and her brother Bob Brewer, wife and family were down from Burwell Saturday.

—Mrs. Howard Elm, of Genoa, has been spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Kosmata. A brother of Mrs. Kosmata from Omaha also is visiting there.

—Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Strombom and Mr. and Mrs. F. V. Haught are planning to leave Saturday evening for Cullen Lake, Minn., to spend a week fishing and vacationing.

—Frank Koupal and daughter Mary were over to Sargent last week, where he was looking after the interests of his Sargent lumber yard.

—Mrs. W. F. Manasil spent last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Oliverius at Albion. Will went over from Burwell the latter part of the week and brought her home.

—Frank Kruml, relief director, was guest speaker at the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup Tuesday evening. He talked on the topic of "Social Security", along the lines of rehabilitation. The program was followed by a church supper, and everything was free to the public.

—Mr. and Mrs. William Patterson and daughters Wilmet and Irma of Taylor were guests last week of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Enger at Grand Island. They were down to attend the marriage of a daughter Irma to Ethan Paxton, of Polk.

—Ted Bartuslak, Elmer Brockman, and Mr. and Mrs. John Harlick were among the Ord visitors from Burwell Saturday.

—Emma Prince Murray who has been here for about ten days visiting her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Prince, left Saturday for her home in Denver.

—Tommy Tolen, 3½ year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tolen, underwent an appendectomy at the Ord Hospital Thursday morning, and is recovering nicely at the present time.

—Miss Viola Exley returned to Ord from her western trip a couple of weeks ago and is again cook at the Ord hospital. Mrs. Griffith, who had been filling the position during Miss Exley's absence, has been employed as cook at Thorne's cafe.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Johnson drove to Lincoln Sunday after their son Rolland, who had been spending several days there with friends. Upon their return home Rolland accompanied the parents of Mrs. Johnson to Wellfleet, Neb., for a visit.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lester Norton left Tuesday for Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri on a two weeks' trip, expecting to visit relatives and also to visit Mrs. Ramsey Elix and family. Mrs. Elix is the former Mrs. Laura Miller, of Elyria.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charley Waggoner and daughter Velma and grandson Carl of Comstock and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Turek and sons, also of Comstock, were Saturday dinner guests at the James Turek home.

—The program for the Old Settlers picnic at Burwell Sunday came down from Burwell on the afternoon mail, and arrived after the paper had all been printed. It is regrettable that we failed to have it in the paper, but when the time comes to go to print, it is too late for anything arriving afterward.

—Frank Kriz is expected back from Idaho in the near future, where he has been assisting his son Henry on the farm. Henry is engaged in extensive irrigated farming not far from Nampa, and believes there is a future in irrigation for the man who wants to work at the job. The Quiz will try to get a more complete story of Henry's activities when his father returns.

—Mr. and Mrs. Chester Bentley and her mother, Mrs. Mary O'Brien of Omaha came up Tuesday to visit his mother, Mrs. Lottie Clark and family. They returned Friday.

—Mrs. Roy Brush and Mrs. Clifford Chubbuck and son and daughter Dick and Geraldine came over from Sargent Wednesday and spent the day visiting at the Harvey Hohn's.

—L. A. McLean, well driller of Broken Bow, struck a large log while drilling a well at the depth of 65 feet at the B. Harvey service station just west of the fair grounds. This is not the first time that Mr. McLean has had this experience in that section, which leads him to believe that the ground is underlaid with a lot of lumber at that depth.

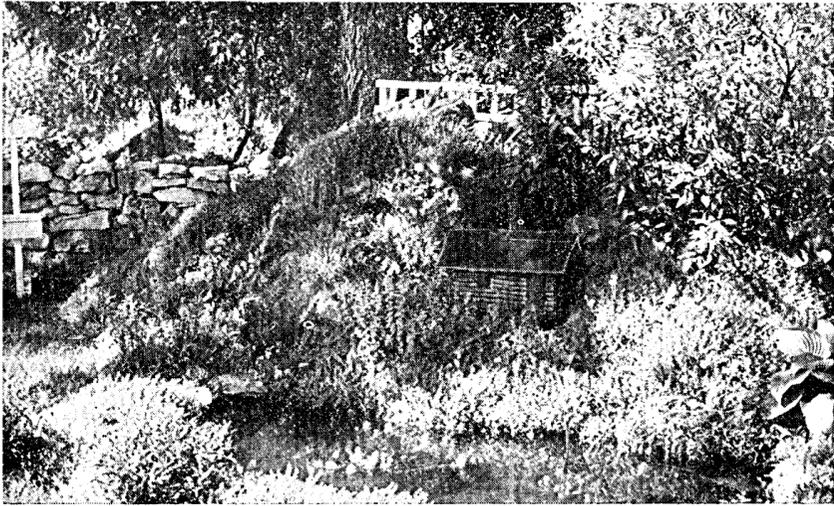

—The Ericson Journal tells that Lester Kizer of the Joint neighborhood writes from Omaha that his wife's condition is better, but that she had not been operated upon for gall trouble at the time the letter was written.

—A badly shorted cable along the curb from the postoffice to the light at the Hastings and Ollis corner occupied the attention of the light and water department for a day or two. The light on the corner would not burn so the defective cable was located and replaced.

—Following the rain a weak spot has developed in the brick walk in front of the Valley County Abstract company's office, probably due to the water running through the brick and setting the dirt beneath. This is one of several that have developed since the rains, and is usual when rains follow a long dry spell.

—Sylvia Cornell writes from Lincoln to subscribe for the Quiz. She is now attending the Lincoln School of Commerce and her address is 1347 N 37 St.

Quiz Camera Seeks Out Some of Ord's Beauty Spots

Two more of Ord's beauty spots were discovered by the Quiz camera this week. In the top photo we see the superbly beautiful garden spot that is to be found at the Will Zabloudil home on 11 street in south Ord. Not the miniature log cabin located at the edge of the pool. The rock wall in the background adds a rustic touch to the scene. In the lower picture we see only a portion of the spacious flower garden located in Koupal's Park. The large flowers in the foreground which appear white in the photo are in reality brilliant orange Oriental poppies which are now in full bloom.

—Mr. and Mrs. Claude A. Davis of Grand Island were visiting their relatives the Goodenows and Thurman Smith of the Taylor Clarion at the picnic Sunday.

—James Zulkoski has returned from the University hospital, where he had undergone a very serious operation. He is now well on the road to recovery but will not be able to do any heavy work for some time to come. He is back on the job with the Heiers Implement company, and will look after the office work and the repair department.

Arthur Auble Will Write for Magazine

Edward Betz, Hastings college debate director, announced this week that Arthur Auble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Auble will write the affirmative argument for "Platform News," a forensic magazine, on the question "Resolved; That the several states should adopt the unicameral system of legislature." Max Franzen, Holdrege, will team up with Mr. Auble in the writing of the argument.

Arthur, who will be a senior next year, is becoming widely known as a debating expert through his efforts on the Hastings college team. He has studied and practiced debate since his freshman year in the college. Last year he was given a key position on the top-notch "A" squad, which tied for the first place in the provincial debating tournament held at Greeley, Colo.

25 Counties To Be Mapped From Air

Twenty-five counties in the state are to be mapped from the air this summer to check performance under the agricultural conservation program. Work is to start as soon as bonds have been furnished by the successful bidders for the work.

The planes are to fly at a height of 12,000 feet and will carry special photographic equipment for the work. More than 12,000 square miles will be mapped in Nebraska in this manner. The maps made from the air are said to show all the features of the land accurately. Aerial maps of farm lands cost about 2 cents an acre as compared with from 8 to 10 cents by other methods, says E. L. Deal, AAA executive, in charge of surveying about one-third of the land surface of the United States.

You Know...

Exactly What You Want

Almost without exception, people buying meat know what kind of a cut they want, because usually they want it for some specific purpose. That's why we always inquire of a customer what kind of a steak or roast cut they desire and then endeavor to fill the order precisely as it is given to us.

You'll like our meats; you'll like our courteous service. Our market is Ord's oldest and best. We invite you to become one of our customers.

Poison Bran Also Fatal to Cutworms

Although gardens are looking the best in several years, reports drift in that cutworms are making havoc in many gardens and fields in this section of the state. Due to the cool weather corn and potatoes are being damaged to quite an extent.

In some places the worms are so numerous that the farmers are having to replant corn. State agents say that most of the cutworm damage can be prevented by spreading poison bran, using practically the same formula as for grasshoppers. The important difference in poisoning grasshoppers and cutworms is that cutworm poison should be spread in the late afternoon or early evening.

Poison, to be effective, should be placed in corn rows beginning about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon as the cutworms come to the surface of the ground to feed at that time. Grasshoppers feed in early morning. The cutworm formula is 100 pounds of wheat bran, two quarts of black molasses, white arsenic and enough water to make a moist mixture.

Julius Charles Stevens.

Writing from Didsbury, Alta. Canada, Mrs. Ada H. Stevens sends us the following obituary of her husband. Doubtless a number of the old timers will remember them both here and at St. Paul:

At Didsbury on May 23d occurred the death of Julius Charles Stevens, aged 80 years, 3 months and 19 days, after a lingering illness. He was born in Richmond, Illinois, on March 4th, 1857, and moved to Nebraska in 1880, where he married Ada H. Scott at St. Paul, Febr. 6, 1884. In 1902 he moved with his family to Didsbury and resided here until the time of his death.

Surviving are his widow; four sons, Robert of Bergen, Frank of Didsbury, Fred of Calgary, and John of Edmonton; and one daughter, Mrs. C. J. Wrightston of Innisfall, also ten grandchildren. The funeral under the direction of the Durrer Funeral Home, was held from the Knox United church Thursday, May 27, at 3:30 p. m. Rev. J. R. Gleeson officiating. Interment was made in the Didsbury Cemetery.

—Pat and Olem Wineteer and George Mattern of Burwell were in Ord Sunday evening.

McDonnell, his wife, real first name unknown, the heirs, devisees, legatees, personal representatives and all other persons interested in the Estate of Ranald McDonnell, Deceased, real names unknown:—

You and each of you will take notice that on the 2nd day of June, 1937, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, a Corporation, filed its Petition against you and commenced an action in the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, the object and prayer of which is to foreclose a certain mortgage in the amount of $1,870.00 upon the following described real estate, to-wit:—

All of Block Five in Burris Addition to the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska.

Said mortgage was signed by Ranald McDonnell, is dated August 11, 1934, and recorded in book 53 of the Mortgage Records of Valley County, Nebraska, at Page 579.

Said petition further prays that you be foreclosed of all right, title and equity of redemption in and to said real estate. That said real estate be sold and the proceeds of said sale be applied to the payment of said debt and for general equitable relief.

You are required to answer said petition on or before the 26th day of July, 1937, or the allegations thereof will be taken as true.

You are further notified that Plaintiff has applied for the appointment of a Receiver for the above described real estate and that said Application will be called up for hearing before the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, in the District Court Room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska, on the 3rd day of August, 1937, at ten o'clock A. M. or as soon thereafter as said matter can be heard. Said Application for a Receiver is based upon the Petition of said Plaintiff in said foreclosure proceeding and upon Affidavits and such verbal testimony as may be produced in support thereof at said hearing.

The Plaintiff proposes James B. Ollis for such Receiver and the American Surety Company as the proposed surety for said Receiver and for said Applicant.

Saturday Sale

at the Sale Ring in Ord
SATURDAY, JUNE 19, 1937
1:30 o'clock

There was a nice offering of all kinds of stock last week.

We had new buyers in the auction that had never been here before. This made a brisk command for all kinds of stock with the exception of horses.

Light weight cattle and good quality yearlings were strong.

We had several buyers who would like to buy good Durham milk cows from 2 to 6 years old.

There is also a good demand for feeder sows and weanling pigs.

If you have some good serviceable horses that you can sell from 40 to 60 dollars, I believe our buyers will buy them.

We expect about seventy-five head of cattle in the Saturday sale, 20 head which are from 250 to 550 pounds in weight and very good quality. There will be several fat cows, stock cows, steers and bucket calves.

We expect 75 hogs including pigs, wet sows, stock pigs. Also six horses.

Johnson Sailboat Makes Maiden Voyage

"Sailing! Sailing!" Yes, and right on the Loup river, too. This sailboat is owned by Anton Johnson and was given its first trial last Saturday. The river is hardly deep enough to sail the craft successfully, although when a stretch of deep water is encountered it glides along very smoothly.

$15.00 to cover the cost of reproduction and mailing will be refunded upon the return of all documents in good condition within thirty days after the date of opening bids as stipulated above.

Each bid shall be accompanied by a certified check or cashier's check on a solvent bank, or an acceptable bidder's bond with an authorized Surety Company, in an amount of five per cent (5%) of the total bid, which may be retained by the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District until a contract for the project shall have been awarded. Bid checks and bonds will be returned to the unsuccessful bidders when their bids are rejected; the bid check or bond of the successful bidder will be returned when a satisfactory performance bond shall have been furnished and approved by the Owner.

No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty days from the date set for the opening thereof.

The work to be done under this contract is a part of a project financed under the Emergency Relief Appropriation Act of 1935 administered by the Federal Emergency Administration of Public Works.

The award of the contract shall not be effective until it has been approved by the Owner. The bond shall be in an amount of 100% of the Contract.

All concrete pipe shall be manufactured in a plant or plants located within the boundaries of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

The Contract shall be awarded to the lowest responsible bidder, but the Board of Directors of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Owner, reserves the right to reject any or all bids, or to waive informalities in bids.

Bishop Bona In Ord Confirms Class of 48

Solemn visitation of the parish by the bishop of the diocese, Rt. Rev. S. V. Bona, D. O., bishop of Grand Island was made at the confirmation services held at the Ord Catholic church Tuesday evening. The services began with the procession from the rectory to the church, the confirmant and sponsors preceding the bishop, clergy and altar boys to the church. The blessing at the door of the church was followed by praying for the dead of the parish and the examination of the children before conferring the sacrament of confirmation. This was followed by inspection of the tabernacle, vestments and sacred vessels by the bishop. The papal blessing was given at the proper time.

Following are the clergy who assisted in the ceremony: Frs. Feehey of Greeley, Gleason of St. Paul, Nepper of St. Libory, Muldoon of Scotia, Barry of Long Pine, Leonard and Michael of Loup City, Thomas of Sargent, Sumenski of Elyria and Murray of Burwell. For two weeks Sr. Mary Cahles and Sr. Mary Lawrence of the Dominican order are the principal instructors of the summer school which closes Thursday afternoon with a treat for the children. Paul Wachter, who attends St. John's Seminary of Little Rock, Ark., and Richard Piskorski and Lillian Karly are also helping the sisters with the summer school. There were 13 children who received their diplomas for completing the course in the catechism of Christian doctrine. A total of 48 were confirmed, 37 children and 11 adults. There are a total of 127 in the school.

Great Golden Gate Span Opens to Fulfill the Dreams and Hopes of 50 Years

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—The dream of 50 years, which cost $33,000,000, four years and 10 lives to build, has come true.

Officially opened to traffic May 27, amidst international festivities memorializing the event, the Golden Gate suspension bridge sets down another record in engineering achievement and provides San Francisco with its first direct link to the Redwood empire and the northern interior valleys. Moreover, it offers a shorter route to all points of the Pacific Northwest.

Spanning San Francisco bay but a scant two miles from its gigantic brother, the great Bay bridge, the Golden Gate structure has been called the greatest engineering achievement in history. It is a single deck suspension bridge, the longest single clear span in the world, 6450 feet in length from end to end, and 4200 feet center to center of piers. The span is three times the length of the Brooklyn bridge in New York and 700 feet longer than the greatest single span ever built to date, the George Washington Memorial bridge across the Hudson river at New York.

It is, moreover, the first span across the world-famed Golden Gate channel. The gate is the outermost portal of San Francisco bay, second largest port in the United States. Thus the ships of the world, calling at San Francisco, henceforth will pass under this great structure. And "great" it is. To visualize fully the achievement one must recall the problems of its construction. Outstanding were these:

The unprecedented length of the span; the difficulty of erecting a foundation for the tower to support the south span, owing to the depth of the bay and the swirling of the tide in the open ocean at the Golden Gate; securing anchorage and terminal space in the military areas at both sides of the Gate; financing the bridge; building highway viaducts at both terminals where the bridge landed high on the slopes of elevations dominating the Gate.

Gigantic obstacles, all these. But they were met. And the story is one of the great romances of American industry. For instance, never before had bridge builders attempted a pier in the open ocean, swept by the tides.

AND so today the tides have bowed and over six wide highway lanes, from curb to curb, thousands of automobiles pass in a single hour above the Golden Gate. At the highest point, the center of the bridge, these vehicles are 220 feet above the water.

Structurally, the bridge will withstand an earthquake far more severe than any ever felt in California.

Wind velocity during storms could sway the middle part of the center span as much as 20 feet without damage. Expansion and contraction due to the sunshine and darkness may raise and lower the bridge as much as 10 feet on hot days. The bridge is "prepared." Self-liquidating, the Golden Gate bridge is expected to pay for itself in about 35 years. It took four years to build. Ten lives were lost when tons of wood and metal crashed through a safety net, carrying workers with it. Here is bridge history that is certain to stand a long while.

Houska, Kovarik, Sold Liquor At Dance, Are Fined

2 "Hip Pocket Peddlers" Are Arrested by Cohen After Jungman Hall Fight.

A clean-up of "hip pocket peddling" of liquor at rural dances was started last week by Deputy Sheriff Fred Cohen and Friday two men who sold liquor at Jungman hall, Edward Houska and Stanley Kovarik, drew heavy fines in Judge John L. Andersen's court.

Young Houska freely admitted his guilt, telling the court that he has been at the business quite steadily for the past ten months. Deputy Sheriff Cohen fixes the time at almost two years.

In court Friday young Houska told of going to Sargent where he bought three half-pint bottles of whiskey and three half-pint bottles of alcohol, which he resold at the Jungman hall dance on June 14 at a small profit. Ten bottles was the most he ever sold in one night, he told the court.

Selling liquor without a permit and on other than licensed premises is a serious charge and the fact that Houska had been breaking the law for some time also was taken into consideration by Judge Andersen in assessing a fine of $75 and costs of $17.64, which young Houska paid.

Stanley Kovarik, arraigned in court just before Houska, plead not guilty to the charge and E. L. Vogelstanz acted as his attorney. Evidence proving his guilt conclusively was submitted and he was found guilty by Judge Andersen.

The facts brought out at this hearing were that Kovarik went to Burwell Saturday before the dance and bought three pints of alcohol which he mixed with sugar and water to make it more drinkable. He sold one of these pints at Jungman hall on June 14. It was apparent from the evidence that this was his first offense of the kind and, in fixing Kovarik's fine at $25 the judge took into consideration this fact. Costs of $9.09 also were paid by young Kovarik.

These arrests came as an aftermath to the trouble at the Jungman hall dance in which Joe Oliva slugged Deputy Sheriff Cohen in the eye and subsequently was fined $100 and costs in county court here for resisting an officer. Others at the dance defied the deputy's authority, prevented him from telephoning to Ord for assistance from Sheriff Round and otherwise flouted the law. Strict enforcement of the liquor law at all dances where he is stationed will be Cohen's policy henceforth, he told the Quiz Saturday.

"Hip pocket peddling" of liquor at dances, not only in the country but also in Ord, seems to be quite a general practice but it is difficult to arrest and convict the offenders, who usually bring liquor to the dances in their cars, park the cars out in the dark and make the transaction there. Since possession of liquor for personal use is legal, and since it is legal to take a friend out to the car and give him a drink, officers find it hard to learn who is selling liquor illegally.

Deputy Sheriff Cohen has charge of dances at both the National and Jungman halls, unless both hold dances on the same night, and from now on liquor sellers had better stay away from these dances for they will be arrested whenever their identity is learned, Cohen warns.

36 Lb. Catfish Is Caught at Ericson

Howard Hoskins, farmer who lives on the Cedar river near the place where it enters Lake Ericson, proudly displayed last Sunday a 36 pound catfish caught by means of a settline early that morning.

The fish, a blue cat, was found to measure 40 inches in length and was caught according to spectators, by means of a special "rotten egg bait" of Hoskins' own formula. This makes the second large catfish to be caught in the Ericson vicinity. Two weeks ago a Grand Island angler hooked a 30 pound cat in the same manner.

Go To Minnesota.

Hot weather drove two more Ord families to the cooler climes of Minnesota this week. Driving the Freeman Haught car, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Andersen, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Haught, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Stroumb left Ord Saturday night for Cullen Lake. Early Wednesday morning Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Lakin, with their two sons, Junior and Alan, also left for the Cullen Lake region. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Denman of Kansas City will meet the Lakins in Brainerd, Minn. and will spend a week or two at the Lakin cabin on Middle Cullen. Mr. Denman is an uncle of Ross Lakin.

Ed Kokes took Mrs. Kokes and Dorothy to Sully Sunday, from where they went with Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Hansa to Clarkson. They returned Monday.

Tolen May Accept Omaha Appointment

A press statement in the Omaha World-Herald last week said that Irl D. Tolen had been offered a position with the Douglas county relief administration, and was considering the offer. The job carries a salary of $250.00 per month, which is about the same as he drew as state director of assistance. In all probability he will accept. When here two weeks ago Mr. Tolen stated that he wanted to look around for a little while, and get a chance to look at public affairs from outside the office, as he had little opportunity to know the other fellow's point of view while holding the job as relief administrator.

Patrol Law Goes Into Effect Sept. 1

Forty deputies under the state sheriff will patrol the highways of the state under the new safety patrol law which goes into effect on September 1st.

Auto drivers will be required to procure a driver's permit which will be good for two years. The cost will be seventy-five cents per person at present and one dollar the first year for those who do not own permits.

Cars must be inspected once each year during the month of March, April and May. Each inspection will cost twenty-five cents. The county treasurer is to issue all permits.

First Aid Class Meets Friday Eve

First meeting of students in the beginning course in first aid as sponsored by the Valley county chapter of the Red Cross will be held at eight o'clock this Friday evening at the John P. Misko office. Dr. J. G. Krumi will be in charge of classes for the third time, two classes having finished the course in the past year.

Kovanda Leaving Ord, Will Teach At Pawnee City

Smith-Hughes Ag Instructor Has Been Prominent In Civic Activities Here.

J. A. Kovanda, Smith-Hughes agriculture instructor in the Ord school system for nine years, announced this week that he has resigned from the Ord faculty staff and will accept a position as agricultural instructor at Pawnee City.

Mr. Kovanda and family plan to move from their residence in Ord and locate in Pawnee City on or before August 1. His new position offers $200 higher salary annually, a separate shop, and an easier schedule. He may thus devote his entire time to the teaching of vocational agriculture.

Kovanda's nine years of teaching in the Ord schools have been filled with success. In state ag contests his teams have won first in farm shop, twice; dairy products six times; crop judging, three times; dairy cattle judging, three times; Babcock testing, once; poultry judging, once; egg show, six times. Richard Fish, one of his many outstanding students, will participate in the national dairy products contest to be held at Kansas City this fall.

In the Future Farmer work he has had a state champion F. F. A. chapter, once; state champion public speakers, twice; and Nebraska American Farmers, twice, those being elected at Kansas City. Offices which he has held include president of the Nebraska Vocational Agriculture Ass'n.; president of the 10 Year Club of Agr'l. Teachers; and president of the Ord Rotary club. For several years Mr. Kovanda has conducted a column in the Quiz under the name of "The Back Forty", which is widely read and much quoted.

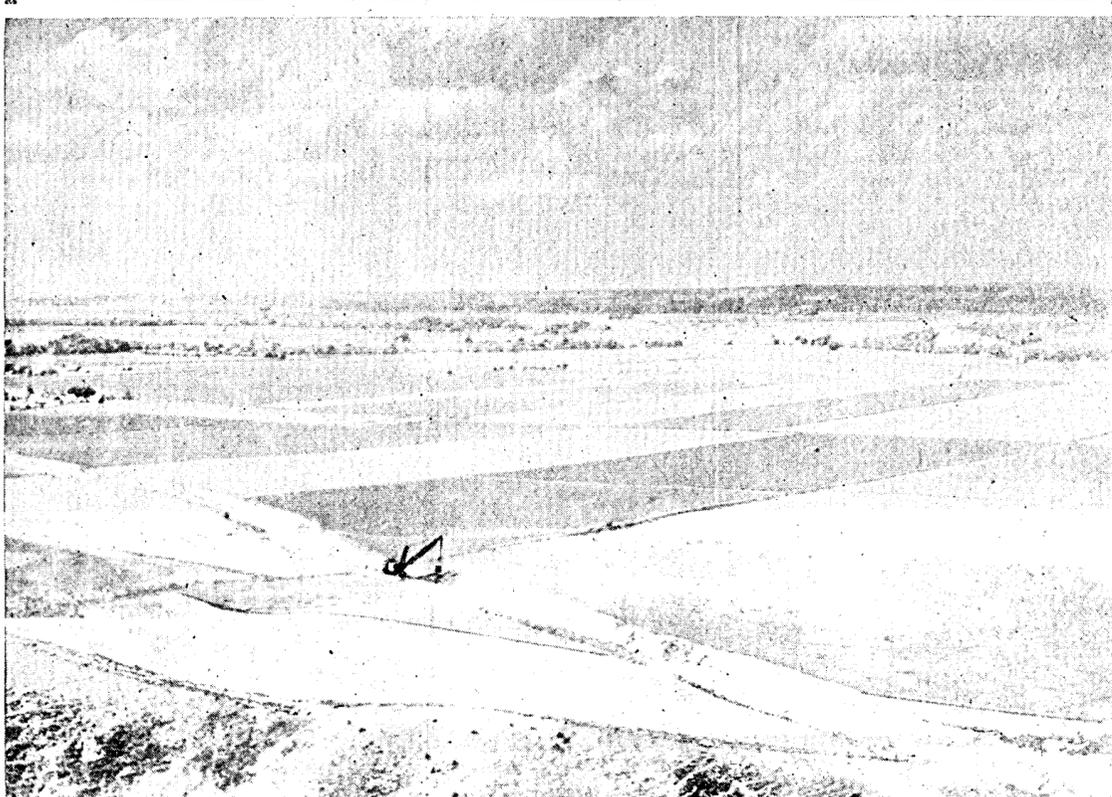

Mr. Kovanda's home town is Table Rock, which is not far from Pawnee City. After attending the Table Rock high school and Peru Normal he enrolled in the University of Nebraska, where he received his B. S. degree in agriculture. He received his Masters degree two years ago, at Colorado A. & M.

Ord people will be sorry to learn that the Kovanda family will leave Ord, as they have taken active parts in civic and social activities and are deservedly popular.

In Police Court.

D. H. Fair was brought into Judge John L. Andersen's court June 17 on a charge of speeding and drew a fine of $5.00 and costs of $4.50, which he paid and was released. Chris Schrader was brought into court June 15, charged with setting a fire inside the city fire limits, and drew a fine of $1.00 and costs of $4.50 which he paid.

Air Picture Photographed Near Elyria Shows Valley as Giant Checkerboard

101 Was Ord's Official Temperature Tuesday

Summer made its official entry on Monday, June 2, this being the longest day of the year, but hot weather didn't wait for summer to come, the heat wave starting last Friday and continuing to the present time with each day a little more torrid than the last.

Official temperature yesterday was 101, making it Ord's hottest day of 1937 to date but it was freely prophesied this morning that hottest temperature of today will be above that figure. Official reading on Sunday and Monday placed the mercury on both days at 95.

Small grain is suffering from the continued heat, some farmers stating it already has been damaged up to 50 per cent. Pastures and alfalfa also are being hurt but corn is still thriving and should be able to stand another week or ten days without rain. The weather man gives some hope of moisture tonight or tomorrow.

Fined For Shooting Fireworks Tuesday

In police court Tuesday morning Melvin Clement was brought before Judge John L. Andersen on the charge of shooting fireworks inside the city limits and fined $1.00 and costs of $4.50, which he paid.

Archie Coombs came up from Cotesfield Saturday to visit his mother.

Equalization Board Held Yearly Session

The county board met with the county assessor and county clerk as a board of equalization last week. Committees were selected as follows: Equalization, Jablonksi, Ball, Zikmund, Brox; Complaints, Barber, Bremer, Suchanek; Levies, Bremer, Suchanek, Ball, Kilma. A total of fifteen complaints were filed, upon which action was taken as follows: nine were left unchanged; five were lowered a total of $1,100.00; an adjustment was made on the taxation of $10,000.00 of preferred stock in the First National Bank of Arcadia. The request of Alfred Wiegardt that the parsonage of the Christian church, now rented, be exempted from taxation was refused on the ground that it is not now being used for strictly church purposes.

Marriage Licenses Issued.

Henry Zeleski of Grand Island, Nebr., and Victoria Kusek, daughter of Mike Kusek of Elyria, appeared before Judge John L. Andersen June 18 and asked for a marriage license. Mr. Zeleski is a garage man of Grand Island, and his intended bride is a teacher.

Alfred C. Bangert, a teacher and Dorothy Pass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss of Mira Valley, obtained a license June 15. To date the returns have not been made on either of the above licenses.

Wiegardt, Biemond, Place In Tourney

Two Ord men, Alfred Wiegardt and M. Biemond, were successful Ord contenders in the Loup City open golf tournament held last Sunday. About seventy golfers from over central Nebraska were on hand to participate in the tourney.

Alfred Wiegardt shot 119 to take second place in the second flight division of the tournament. As a prize he received a handsome leather wallet. M. Biemond was on Wiegardt's heels with a 121 to secure a third place position in the same division.

Evelyn Sharp Attends Water Safety School

Evelyn Sharp, Ord's young aviatrix, will take to the water instead of the air this summer as she plans to teach the art of swimming to regular classes during the summer months.

Not only swimming, but also artificial respiration and other methods of first aid connected with water safety will be taught. To secure more information and thorough training, the local Red Cross chapter is sending Evelyn to the Red Cross school of water safety located at Colorado Springs. She will leave Ord Saturday and remain one week at the school.

Weekly Pay-roll Of $2,000 Reported By Firm Building Dam

That the Western Asphalt Paving Corporation, of Sioux City, who hold the contract for building three diversion dams for the North Loup project, soon will have so many men at work that their payroll will average $2,000 weekly, is the report made to the Quiz this week by their office manager, Jay Carpenter. More men are being put to work daily by this firm, which is building the dam near Ord first and then will construct dams near Burwell and Taylor.

The Bushman Construction Co., of St. Joseph, Mo., also have a force working on the Peterson farm near Olean, installing concrete footings for a big flume. W. J. Assenmacher Co., of Lincoln, are at work south of North Loup and Orsick & Christensen west of North Loup. Only contract holder who hasn't got work started is the Inland Construction Co., of Omaha, who will build bridges across state highways.

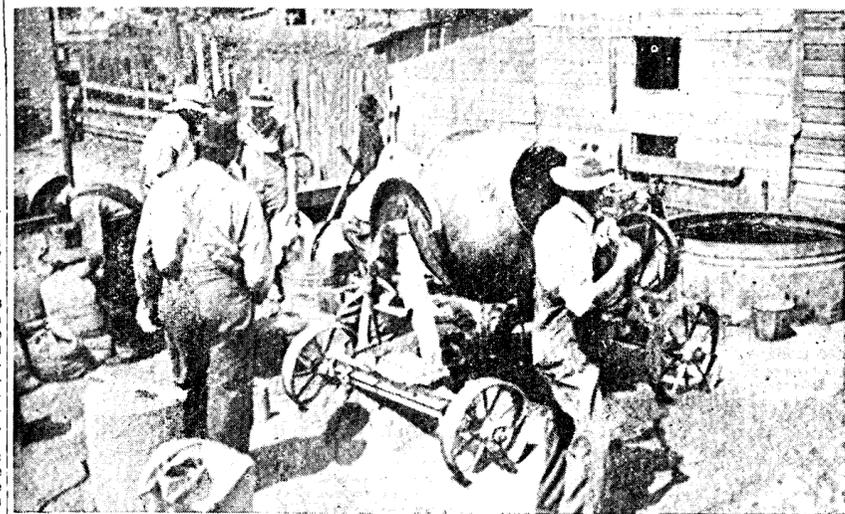

Richard H. Mills, of the National Reemployment Service, reported to the Quiz that all Valley county men on eligible lists are at work or soon will be and that Garfield county men are being brought in to fill the need for more labor than Valley county can supply. Some skilled and semi-skilled workmen may have to be brought in from outside the district but it is thought there will be sufficient common labor within the confines of the district.

Condemnation of right-of-way land is proceeding satisfactorily, says E. H. Dummire, the engineer-manager. In Loup county this week a board of appraisers gave Frank Janicek $50 less than he had been offered by the district for right-of-way and another board gave the Wells Estate $75 less than the district had offered. Most land owners signed voluntarily but a few refused to sign and in all such cases the district will resort to condemnation procedure as right-of-way land is needed.

Three representatives of the Union Pacific railway, R. N. Jolley, division engineer, Mr. Buell, also of the engineering staff, and E. G. Clay, traveling freight agent, were here Monday for an inspection of the district and gave tentative approval to the type of concrete pipe the district proposes to install where necessary beneath railway tracks.

The section of street on 13th between M and N has been giving the city much trouble to maintain, and the past week it has been surfaced with large pebbles from where the gravel is being pumped. Wednesday morning water was being run over it from the fire hose, and with a little more travel it will doubtless be much improved.

Dale Puts Men to Work Mixing Death for Grasshoppers

Mixing death for grasshoppers—that's the job that the above men are engaged in. This photo was taken late last week, as the mixing of the poison bran was at its height.

Scores of farmers have been calling at the county agent's offices every day, all with the plea for more bran. Agent Dale ordered a second carload of the poison some time ago but does not have any idea at all when it will reach Ord.

In the first two days that the bran was offered farmers took out over 25,000 pounds of the material. By Monday night the entire carload of bran, over 65,000 pounds of it, had been distributed.

Following several days of extremely warm weather, grasshoppers made their appearance in large numbers early this week. Several Ord people have noticed swarms of the pests flying, their wings glinting in the sun. Many of the smaller hoppers found here this year are of the migratory type. The recent cold weather has delayed their development but when full grown these hoppers are only about 1 inch long. The big flights of hoppers last year filled the country with eggs of this smaller species of grasshopper.

Sioux City Outfit Has Big Crew on Job, 3 Other Contractors Start.

The evening program will start with Jack Jefford flying his special "Vaco" airplane in some of the greatest daredevil stunts ever displayed. Jack and his plane will be present all day. This plane holds the speed record to Los Angeles, 8 1/2 hours, and placed first in its class at the national air races there. It has a special 245 horse power motor, and actually burns up more gas in one-half hour's stunt flying than the average car would burn in a week.

In the evening Ord's uniformed high school band will appear in a special concert of selected numbers. This is the band that placed second in its class at the state contest. Following this will be a selected program of free acts on the platform, with Joe Marion in charge. The final event of the day will be the big free pavement dance with "Little Gene" and his 9-piece band with amplifier. Public announcing systems will be in use throughout the day.

Two Business Firms Exchange Locations

At about six o'clock Saturday evening The Valley County Abstract company and the Mauer Cafe started a mutual exchange of places of business. The work continued through the night and all the next day in both places. Both places were completely redecorated. In the former Mauer Cafe Lawrence and John Mason repaired the main room and repainted all the woodwork. A new linoleum was laid on the floor, and the office furniture was brought in and located, so the abstract company was ready for business Monday morning.

Because of extensive changes being made the Mauer Cafe in the Miss Marks building was not ready to open for business until Wednesday morning. Carl Linder of Hastings, decorator, and a brother of Mrs. Mauer, was on the job and handled the papering, as well as the decorating of the equipment in a workmanlike manner. The booths, of which there are six, and the fountain, are all decorated in green and black. A new linoleum has been put upon the floors. The new plumbing was taken care of by Pete Darges.

Most interesting of all is the all electric kitchen, the installing of the equipment being made possible by Ord's new low electric rates. Everything in this modern kitchen is the very latest word in electric paraphernalia. The wiring was handled by Hallen, while Dunlap hooked up the four Fridgidares. This new eating place is a delight to the eye and well worth ones while to visit.

—Mid Garner reports that son L. A. Garner was in Ord last week doing some work on his property in southeast Ord.

Joe Marion, Many Free Acts, Engaged For July 5 In Ord

Plans Progressing for the Big Celebration, Success Prac- tically Assured.

Various committees in charge of different parts of Ord's huge 5th of July celebration have been very busy for some time, and the Quiz has their assurance that this will be one of the biggest affairs of the kind ever held in Ord. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the entire day will be the March of Progress parade, scheduled to file down Ord's principal business streets promptly at ten o'clock. The interest shown by merchants, schools and organizations in this feature assures a parade of highest quality and large proportions.

At the noon hour the picnic gatherings will be held at Bussell park. The largest of these will doubtless be the American Legion picnic, which will be held in a specially reserved space on the east side of the drive. A sign will indicate the proper location to all visitors. Other spaces will be available for organizations or family groups who wish to lunch together. During the picnic hour the Ord high school band will render a concert.

The period from 1:00 to 4:00 p. m. will be taken up by races and contests of all kinds with plenty of cash prizes. These will take place at the park, an arena for the purpose being formed by roping off the entire football field. The races will be run in this space, and only contestants and officials permitted inside, thus giving every one an opportunity to see what is going on.

The afternoon program up town will start at 4:30 on a platform in front of the court house, with the well known Joe Marion as master of ceremonies. Among the high class acts that the committee has obtained for this program are the "Four Dancing Rose Buds", "Dorothy Soys, World's Greatest Juvenile Acrobatic Marvel", "Marvel Shackleton, The Whoopie Girl", "Four Hawaiian Serenaders", "Don and Virginia, Tango and Apache Dancers", and last but not least, a real ventriloquist.

The evening program will start with Jack Jefford flying his special "Vaco" airplane in some of the greatest daredevil stunts ever displayed. Jack and his plane will be present all day. This plane holds the speed record to Los Angeles, 8 1/2 hours, and placed first in its class at the national air races there. It has a special 245 horse power motor, and actually burns up more gas in one-half hour's stunt flying than the average car would burn in a week. In the evening Ord's uniformed high school band will appear in a special concert of selected numbers. This is the band that placed second in its class at the state contest. BURWELL NEWS

Those who attended the post office employees picnic in Loup City Sunday, June 20 were Mr. and Mrs. Glow Fackler, Lester Kraus, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Schuyler, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Anderson and Miss Florence Grabowski. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson of Wayne were visitors last week in the home of Mrs. Peterson's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Glow Fackler. Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jenks received the announcement of a baby boy Douglas Cameron, born June 12th to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Allen of Butte, Mont. Mrs. Allen is known to her Burwell friends as Betty Jenks. Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hill and their daughter Pauline and nephew Lawrence of Sargent were guests of Mrs. R. W. Wood Sunday. Miss Pauline remained here for several days visit with her sister. The Burwell Woman's chorus enjoyed a picnic in the Garrison pasture near the east bridge last Thursday evening. Weiners were roasted over a bon fire and a lot of good things to eat were spread upon the table. Following the supper the ladies sang several numbers, then each lady was asked to give a special number of some kind or tell some interesting experience in her life. This proved to be very entertaining. It was decided to hold such a picnic once each month during the summer. The next picnic will be on Thursday, July 15. Mrs. J. R. VanWagenen was called to Beaver City by the death of an aunt. She left Thursday morning and remained for a few days to visit relatives there. Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood and son Wayne were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gould B. Flagg in Ord last Thursday evening. The dinner table was decorated in wedding bells and centered with a miniature bride and groom. Those in attendance were Dr. and Mrs. Wood and Wayne, Mrs. Winifred Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Flagg and family. The occasion was the 17th wedding anniversary of Dr. and Mrs. Wood. Mr. and Mrs. Flagg's 17th anniversary was on Wednesday, so it proved to be a double celebration. Seventeen years ago the two couples took their honeymoon trip together. Mr. and Mrs. Henry McMullen are in Chicago on a business trip. They were accompanied as far as Des Moines, Ia., by Mrs. W. L. McMullen, sr., who will visit relatives for a few days. Wilford Haines and Art Borden are installing a fruit and vegetable spray in the Food Center store. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Herse returned Sunday evening from a two weeks' trip down in the Ozarks. They visited with Mr. Herse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Herse. Mr. and Mrs. John Banks, Mr.

and Mrs. Lloyd Smith and M. M. Smith enjoyed a picnic supper Sunday evening in the Garrison pasture. Miss Helen Haines has accepted a position as stenographer for the Morgan Construction Co., which has headquarters in Burwell. Mr. Geo. O'Malley, collector of internal revenue for the state of Nebraska, will be the main speaker for the next Wrangler's club meeting which will be Monday evening, June 28. The L. B. Fenner office has been remodeled and fixtures rearranged. Mrs. J. R. Webster and Mrs. Zimmer of Grand Island came Saturday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wagner. Mrs. Webster is Mrs. Wagner's mother and Mrs. Zimmer is her grandmother. Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Williams returned recently from Ogden, Ia., where Mrs. Williams had spent two weeks visiting in the home of her sister, Mrs. Henry Plath. A niece Miss Constance Akers accompanied them home. The Epworth League of the Methodist church entertained the Christian Endeavor society of the Christian church at a picnic Sunday evening at 7 o'clock in the McClimans grove. Thirty young folks were in attendance. Several of them enjoyed a swim in the river. Following the picnic supper they gathered around a camp fire and sang several hymns and listened to a short talk given by Rev. W. L. Goodell. Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Meyer and Mrs. Norma Hughes and Glen Banks drove to Grand Island Monday on business. While there Mr. Meyer attended a radio dealers convention. Mr. and Mrs. Chet Hallock and son Robert left the first of the week for California where they plan to spend the summer. Asa Anderson, secretary for the A. I. Cram Lumber Co., is suffering from an abscess which had formed on his jaw as the result of an ulcerated tooth. He has been confined to his home for the past ten days. Saturday he went to Grand Island hospital to consult a specialist. Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy (Brother) Lashmett and family left Sunday morning to enjoy a fishing trip on the Cedar river near Gables. They took a tent and expect to camp out. Mr. Lashmett informed his friends that his grocery order for this outing was the largest they had purchased at one time since their marriage. Mr. Lashmett is local manager of the Noll Seed & Feed store. Pete Ballard left Monday morning for Callaway, Nebr., where he will have charge of the Food Center store. Mrs. Raymond Forsyth of Knoxville, Tenn., was a visitor in the Glenn Runyan home last week. She is a niece of Mr. Runyan. On Thursday evening a picnic was given in her honor near the east

Rain is needed badly in this section. The dry and extremely hot weather has already taken a heavy toll in small grain and pastures are turning brown. Bindweed and grasshoppers are flourishing immensely and some farmers are very busy spreading poison for the hoppers and salting bindweed. Both of these pests are spreading rapidly and many people have not as yet realized the seriousness of the bindweed which is threatening to take the country unless drastic steps are taken immediately to stamp out the pest while the patches are still small and more easily controlled. Evelyn Ciochon, Evelyn Parkos, Elma Polak, Minnie Klupal, Mildred Waldmann, Mildred Moudry and Florence Golka played kitenball at the National hall Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Lumir Ptacnik have our sympathy in the loss of their twin babies, boy and girl, born to them last Wednesday, both passing away. The funeral was held Thursday morning at the Geranium Catholic church where the local pastor, Rev. Thomas Sindowski said requiem mass. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Greenwalt and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wojtaszek and son Johnnie were Sunday dinner guests at Frank Wegrzyn's. Miss Marguerite Wegrzyn spent the week end at Ord visiting Myrtle Auble. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Moravec spent Sunday at the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ruzicka. On the occasion of the 2nd anniversary of his first mass Father Sindowski was taken by surprise by his parishioners last Wednesday evening when he arrived at the church to instruct the adult confirmation class. The parish house was filled to capacity. The evening was spent at playing cards, games and visiting. Rev. Michael Szczesny of Loup City was also present. A lunch consisting of sandwiches, pickles and cake was served after which the pastor was presented with an electric waffle iron. The Rev. responded with thanks and appreciation and invited all to a waffle supper. Thursday morning Father Sindowski said mass in thanksgiving, at which all the children of the vacation school received holy communion. He was assisted by Father Szczesny who said mass for a deceased member, Jos. Ptacnik sr. Paul Waldmann entertained the following friends at a wiener roast Sunday evening, Misses Erna Novotny, Evelyn Skala, Ella John and Pauline Florida, Elden Rybin, George Rybin, Emil Zadina, Harold Lewis, Raymond and Mildred Waldmann. Mrs. Charles Krikac, Mrs. Will Waldmann and Mrs. Joe Waldmann visited the vacation school last Monday afternoon. Evelyn, Richard, Doris and Leonard Kamarad were Monday evening visitors at Joe Waldmann's. "Flo" Megrue Goes Hot. Seven wins against one setback is the present record for "Flo" Megrue's Tekamah baseball nine as the team continues to set the pace in the Eastern Nebraska baseball league.

Buildings Upset in Storms Saturday

What at first had the appearance of light showers Saturday afternoon developed into two storms of destructive proportions. The one first to form started in the Olean neighborhood and traveled to the northeast through Sumter. At the Lee Klingler place it upset a large granary forty feet long by ten feet wide, pictured above, rolling it to the west over the top of a four wheel trailer, which was badly smashed in the process. The building was well built and on a stone foundation, on which Mr. Klingler stands to show how far the twister rolled the building. A light shower fell at the Klingler place, but became heavier further east, the heaviest being perhaps an inch of rainfall. Hall fell all along the path of the storm, and did considerable damage to headed grain, much of which was knocked down and will not come up again. The corn and alfalfa suffered no material damage. About half an hour after the storm at Olean a similar storm formed about ten miles west of Ord along the Comstock road. The hail was lighter in this case, but the wind did fully as much damage as the first storm. At the Frank Penas place a building was upset and several fine trees twisted and torn down. In this case the rain appears to have been slightly heavier than in the first storm, and covered a larger area, part of it reaching Ord, where .14 of an inch fell. While only small grain is suffering from lack of moisture at the present time, farmers would appreciate a good rain.

Uncle Johnny Case, P. Mortensen and Other Pioneers Told About by Man Who Knew Them

BY M. E. GETTER.

In the early days of the Loup valley from 1874 to years later, many circumstances occurred, some serious and others comical. Some of those early settlers were characters long to be remembered for things they said and did.

I am reminded of one of the most original and loved men of those times, Uncle Johnny Case. Uncle Johnny, as he was usually called by those who knew him and he was known by nearly all far and near, was an educated man, a whole- souled and generous man. He had one peculiarity that was rare for a man so well bred as he was. He had acquired the habit of profanity. It is possible he had borrowed it from the cowboys of that western territory with whom he like other early day settlers associated.

There were many cowboys especially on the Rankin Ranch where there grazed from 13 to 20 thousand head of cattle. To dig- ress for a moment, nearly all of that vast herd of cattle perished in the awful winter of 1882, in fact carcasses were scattered all thru the sand hills and plains in western Nebraska. Those who did not perish were so few in number that the Rankins did not think it worth time and expense of rounding them up. The early settlers benefited by this.

The following fall some of the few remaining ones drifted down into the Loup valley and were converted into beef. The settlers called them short-horned elk. There was one bunch of 18 head that came into the valley at that time, but so active were the settlers of the upper Loup valley that none of them got down as far as where Ord now stands.

Now to revert to Uncle Johnny Case—on one occasion he with five other early settlers were making a hunting trip up the valley and it was agreed that one member of the party should act as cook for two days and at the end of the two days another one should take over the cooking. Another part of the agreement was that if, at any time, anyone should find fault with the cooking, the fault-finder should at once take over the job of cooking.

At this particular time referred to, the cook made a batch of biscuits and had accidentally put in too much salt and soda. They were pretty bad. Uncle Johnny bit into one, and with his peculiarity for profanity, shouted, "Hell." But evidently realizing what this meant to him, he followed up with the statement, "But I like it."

Later on Uncle Johnny became postmaster of the little village of Ord. Being a great reader, he was one day engrossed in a magazine when a woman came in and asked Uncle Johnny if there was any mail for her. He replied, "I'll be damned if I know." Then taking note of who it was that was asking, he quickly apologized by saying, "Pardon me lady I did not notice who it was speaking. Damned if I did."

Another one of the best men in the valley in the early days was Bedford Keown, who became justice of the peace. On one occasion he performed a marriage ceremony. He declared it was to be the last one for the reason that he had had such bad luck with that one. The stork visited that home only three months after he had tied the knot. He blamed himself for so bungling a job.

Later on Bedford became a member of the Methodist church. One day Brother Hardesty, pastor of the church, escorted the presiding elder up to Brother Keown's home. The presiding elder, Erastus Smith, was not selected to his office on account of his beauty. He was a tall angular man with red hair, freckled face, and quite large goggled eyes and a tremendous mouth. Brother Hardesty said upon meet- ing Brother Bedford, "I wish you to meet our presiding elder, Eras- tus Smith." Bedford looked at him and then said, "Smith, I once knew a man named Smith but he was a good looking man." Brother Smith evidently enjoyed the joke for he opened his mouth and gave a hearty laugh.

Another prominent character of quite early days was my good friend, A. M. Robins, an attorney of wide practice and acquaintance. Mr. Robins later became senator of his district. One thing I personally know that he was offered $5,000.00 if he would support and vote for a certain bill.

While his farm was mortgaged and he needed money badly, he positively and decisively turned the offer down stating that the bill was not in the interest of the people who had elected him. Therefore he could not support the measure. He went home a poor man but with a clear conscience.

There were evil minded men in that district that endeavored to destroy his reputation by stating that he had sold out. It is the privilege of the writer to refute these base falsehoods for the reason that I was the person who had been selected to carry the offer to Senator Robins. I carried his rejection to the corporation officials who made the offer.

One of the comical things that occurred on a case that Attorney Robins was defending was when a man named Peck objected to a neighbor's hogs invading and eat- ing in his cornfield. Mr. Peck re- sided on a homestead over in the valley. One day he became great- ly exasperated and actually shot and killed one of those invaders. Mr. Peck was sued by the owner of the animal and he engaged Mr. Robins to defend him. Senator Robins made the defense with such vigor and eloquence that during an adjournment of the court for a short time, Mr. Peck, the defend- ant, said to Attorney Robins, "Mr. Robins before I heard your speech I had some doubt about my inno- cence but now after hearing you that doubt is entirely removed."

It is enough to say that the jury agreed with Mr. Peck, and he was fully exonerated. The pig did not die from the gun-shot wound but died from over exertion in trying to run out of the cornfield when he heard the gun go off.

Another character of good deeds was a man widely known in the Loup valley in these early days. Z. K. Ferguson. He had the govern- ment beef contract for Fort Hart- siff. Not only did he furnish beef for this military post but being a skillful hunter he hunted and shot a number of elk. Uncle Sam's soldiers as well as many of the pioneer settlers enjoyed succulent steaks from these fine wild antler- ed animals brought down by the gun of perhaps one of the most un- erring riflemen of those days.

On one occasion he captured a couple of fawns or young elks that he took to his home. These fawns were fed on cow's milk and they became thoroughly domesticated. They grew until they were a year or more old, when Mr. Ferguson sold them to a man from Grand Is- land where they became an attrac- tion to people who visited the local park.

In those days quite an amount of supplies were required to keep the military post of Fort Hartsuff go- ing. The quartermaster called for bids for nearly all supplies need- ed, not only provisions for the men but hay for the horses, grain, and fuel for the stoves and heaters.

It happened that the writer was the lowest bidder for hay, grain and wood. Consequently, he fur- nished these necessities, 100 cords of wood, 100 tons of hay, quan- tities of oats and corn. Captain Car- penter with whom I dealt was a fine gentleman from Kentucky. Lieutenant Capron was without question another fine polished gen- tleman, and our late departed Joseph Capron was at that time the general clerk in the quartermaster's office. It might be recalled here that all government contracts then as now, required to give bond for faithful performance and it so hap- pened that I never in all of these contracts was required to purchase a bond as was the usual custom.

There was living at Ord a grand nobleman who, for some reason unknown to me, conceived the idea that I was honest and reliable, and he told me to come to him when I needed a bond and he would sign it. This he did many times, there- by saving me expense which would have had to be paid in cash had it not been for the goodness of his heart. This man's name was Syl- vester Haskell. Great monuments of marble have been erected for those not as worthy as he. His memory will be handed down by scores of people of the Loup valley who were the beneficiaries of his generosity.

In concluding this pioneer story I am prompted to refer to another great and noble man of whom there has been said and written. There is a little circumstance that once occurred between he and my- self that leaves an indelible im- pression on my mind. Peter, yes Peter Mortensen, then being pres- ident of the First National bank as he had been for years, called to me one day as I was passing by the bank and asked me to come in. I did. He said, "Be seated, Mr. Get- ter." Then he stated, "I think I made a mistake about those notes of yours. I think we should have kept one of them to remember you by." I asked him, why. He stated that during the many years that I owed this bank I never was one day behind in my payment. I felt this a wonderful compliment. My reply was, "Well, Peter, I sweat blood to do it." All through those years of depression when at times there was a thousand dollars or more owed to me by farmers who could not pay, yet I never went in- to court to settle our differences and in the end it came out alright. Now at this late day I am proud to state that I loved that philanthro- pic, splendid man, Peter Morten- sen.

In closing may I extend a greet- ing to one of the finest papers in the state, the Ord Quiz, and sug- gest to its many readers that with its wide circulation it certainly is one of the best mediums available in that part of the state for its patrons to make known to a great reading public their wants and de- sires. If I were back there in busi- ness as in former years, I would not hesitate to take all the adver- tising space that I could secure and pay for.

I firmly believe it would prove the best investment possible. The Quiz is certainly a beautiful paper and is eagerly looked for and read by an appreciative public.

THE COOK'S COL-YUM, YUM

Household hints are not exactly recipes, but nothing could be more useful in the right place than the right household hint, as any per- plexed housewife will tell you who has ever faced a job she did not know how to do.

A good many are sent in to the Quiz Col Yum Yum from time to time, so today we will print a list of useful ones. If you have a household hint you'd like to hint, just hint it to us and we will broadcast it.

Hints by Mrs. Anna Holm.
To remove wallpaper, make a solution of one tablespoon salt- peter to one gallon of hot water. Apply freely to the paper with a brush. Several applications may be necessary. Keep the water hot.
To mend glassware, melted alum is better than glue, it holds well and does not show.

Hints by Mrs. Boyd Weed.
When boiling beet roots add a pinch of bicarbonate of soda to the water. They will retain their rich color.

To clean stains from coffee or tea cups use a mixture of salt and vinegar.
To clean pastry boards and roll- ing pins easily, rinse in cold water then wash in hot soapsuds and scald.

To flavor cakes, sauces and pud- dings, scald and dry orange and lemon peel, grind into coarse powder.

To make potatoes a good color, add a few drops of vinegar to the water in which they boil.
To keep dates or raisins from sticking to the food chopper, dip the grinder in boiling water.

To bake sweet potatoes without waste, rub with olive oil before baking.

To make pretty and easily laundered napkins for the children, buy checked towelling and cut into squares and hem.

To flavor deviled eggs, use the liquid in which olives are packed to moisten them. Omit salt when you do this.

Crisp potato chips in the oven before serving, in order to be sure they are tasty.

Beat jelly a few seconds before spreading a jelly roll and it will spread better and quicker.

To cut a plain sponge cake, use the tines of a fork. A knife spoils the texture. This applies to angel food too.

Grated cheese adds color and interest to creamed soups.

Thin slices of lemon dipped in minced parsley add to the fish platter.

Fresh lemon pel rubbed on the fishy forks and knives will re- move all odor.

If cinnamon toast is served fre- quently it pays to mix cinnamon and sugar and keep it in a shak- er.

Firm mint or currant jelly may be cut into squares and form an attractive garnish for salads.

To make waffles very crisp, add twice the amount of butter the recipe demands. They will never stick to the iron.

To cook roasts, pies and cakes more evenly, put a cup of water in the corner of the oven.

When baking a rich cake that takes a long time, sprinkle salt over the bottom of the oven. Then you won't need to put wax paper in the pan.

Never put fresh bread in the box containing stale bread. It will take away the nice fresh taste.

Silk stockings should never be dried out of doors, nor should they ever be ironed. It weakens the silken strands.

Lemon juice will remove stains from brown or tan shoes.

To keep a coffee pot sweet, sprinkle salt and rub well all around the inside with a damp cloth. Rinse with boiling water. Never put papers around the ice in the refrigerator, it prevents the ice from chilling the rest of the box properly.

The last few elusive drops of fat may be removed from the top of the soup by throwing a lettuce leaf into the pot. It will absorb the grease and then may be re- moved at once.

Put gingersnaps together with cream cheese and serve with tea. Delicious and different.

A small piece of butter added to a milk pudding will prevent it from boiling over and improve the flavor as well.

Try varying ingredients in the mayonnaise dressing you use for salads. To each half cup of dressing add two tablespoons of any one of the following: ripe olives, green olives, pimento- stuffed olives, chili sauce, catsup, green peppers, horseradish, cheese, pimentoes, minced ham or other minced meat, parsley.

To freshen coconaut try steam- ing it for about ten minutes.

To soften lumpy brown sugar, allow it to stand uncovered in the refrigerator.

—George Round and several other members of the local police force drove to Albion Sunday for the funeral services of Sheriff Smoyer who was so ruthlessly murdered last week.

HOT WEATHER APPETITES MAY NEED "COAXING"

And one sure way to "coax" them is to provide meals that include meat. Why not, this morning, buy a nice beef or pork roast and serve it for dinner with plenty of potatoes browned with the meat in the oven, sliced tomatoes or coleslaw, and with straw- berry shortcake or cherry cobbler for dessert. And for luncheon tonight slice the remainder of the roast and serve it cold with condiments, along with a cottage cheese salad.

Our market is "tops" for fresh, smok- ed, salt and cooked meats of all kinds, as well as for cottage cheese, pickles, pickled delicacies, condiments, bread, cheeses and other good things to eat.

THE QUIZ AND LAW BREAKERS.

A number of times in the past some person who has broken the laws of the state and nation has come to the Quiz with the plea that we "keep it out of the paper."

In cases where the offender has become a habitual law breaker, where the offense has been of an outstanding nature, or where the offender comes to the office and endeavors to induce or coerce the editor into keeping it out of print, we feel that the public is entitled to a more detailed story, and act accordingly.

For example, suppose a man is convicted of bootlegging, and no story of it appears in the county papers. Some other man contemplating the same course does not read the story, and does not hear of the court action.

Last week, sixty three years after the battle of Peblee Creek, a large concourse made up for the most part of members of the second and third generations met upon the spot of that historic conflict to unveil and dedicate a monument to the young man who fell.

History records that Leonidas, with his three hundred Spartans, held the pass at Thermopylae against overwhelming odds, and finally perished.

Littlefield stood for the same principles for which our forefathers fought. Then, as now, a man's house was his castle, and no one had the right to enter it without the owner's consent.

Enemities are constantly striving to enter our homes and steal away the rights for which our forefathers fought and died. Let us still contend that we are endowed by our Creator with the unalienable rights of life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

CART BEFORE THE HORSE. Because of the changes in time across the United States it is possible to get all kinds of entertainment over the radio, not actually before it occurs, but before it apparently occurs.

Which reminds us that a certain Burwell news reporter did get the news into the paper before it occurred. The Catholics were having a bazaar that week, and he got into his head that the day for the bazaar was Wednesday. Wednesday evening he sat at home and envisioned the bazaar as he had thought it would occur, wrote it up and sent in the report to the World-Herald Thursday morning.

CAMP 4720 TWO YEARS OLD. Co. 4720 CCC, Madison, Nebr., held a big celebration Thursday, June 17, in honor of its second birthday. It chanced to be of special interest to the writer as he was one of the first enrollees when this camp started out as a VOC camp two years ago.

Today Camp 4720 stands as a monument to the ideals of the conservation service. The veterans gave names to the four barracks in the camp before they left it 19 months ago.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Nisswa, Minn., June 19, 1937.

Dear Quiz: This is another of those weeks when there is nothing to write you about, so I have been putting it off, hoping something would turn up.

ed more than three days out of four the past month. This is Saturday and so far we have had two days that it didn't rain and today promises rain again. But it is warm all the time so we don't mind the rain.

Yesterday I noticed a snapping turtle out in the yard. She was about the size of a gallon jug and wondering what she was doing, I went over and sure enough she had dug a hole about six inches deep in the ground and deposited her eggs.

We drove into Nisswa last evening to see the Paul Bunyan Special, a new train on the Great Northern, making its initial weekly trip. It comes from the Twin Cities each Friday night and runs north as far as Bemidji for the accommodation mostly of men whose families are in summer homes on the hundreds of lakes.

The finishing touches were given to the Clements cottage this week Thursday, and it is in readiness for the first party when they arrive Sunday.

The Pages who have not occupied their cottage, the former Hoffmaster cottage for several years, were looking after it this week and say they will renovate it and put it in shape to use and spend considerable time there.

I was talking yesterday with Peter Wallin and he says he thinks his 3-acre field of alfalfa will make him 5 tons to the acre this year. He has another field of 7 or 8 acres, newer seeding which will not make as much to the acre.

Location and destruction of barberry bushes is one of the primary objectives of the observatory. 375 of these bushes have been destroyed in Valley county. The studies at Ord show that black stem rust disease is becoming less prevalent in this vicinity each year.

—Mrs. Archie Geweke was taken home from the Ord hospital Saturday and is convalescing from an operation she underwent at the Ord hospital Sunday, June 6. She will have to remain in bed for some time to come, but her ultimate recovery is assured.

Something DIFFERENT

It takes hot weather like this to make us long for a swimming pool, doesn't it?

And also to make us realize the beauties of our parks and the pleasure they bring to those who find them a lovely cool spot in which to picnic or loaf these days of heat.

I think one reason Mr. Duncan's music students are so competent, so well trained, is that he is willing to spend long hot hours each summer giving instruction, so that the children do not lose each summer the fine gain they have made during the school term.

Give him credit for being a real worker, one who knows how to turn out good musicians, and is willing to put in hard work to accomplish this.

Ord should be very grateful to Mr. Russell and to Mr. W. A. Anderson for the parks we have to enjoy.

Arcadia has a lovely little park, down by the river's brim. I don't know who gave them this pretty community park, perhaps they set the ground aside for it themselves.

Dr. Perkins hands in the following clipping. It amuses me. . . . . Reminded . . . . .

An old church in Belgium decided to repair its properties and employed an artist to touch up and renovate the various oil paintings exhibited in the building. Upon presenting his bill, the Committee in charge refused payment unless the details were specified, whereupon he presented the items as follows:

Embellishing Pontius Pilate and putting new ribbons on his bonnet 3.02
Putting a new tail on the rooster of St. Peter and mending his comb 2.20
Replumbing and gilding the left wing of the Guardian Angel 5.18

Looking back on the restrictions and pressure the British government has recently placed on the royal family, we agree Edward was right—there's no fun in a job.

The paranoiac, says an American doctor, is one with delusions of grandeur. But in Europe they call them dictators.

It is now possible to talk to China by telephone. Imagine the day if this ever becomes a part of our life.

"Bigger, better fish" reported this year in Atlantic. Which shows that recovery has gone pretty deep after all.

By George Govan

Not Going to Wait. Herman Schoning, who was born and raised in this county, and whose father settled across the river in 1872 when the Indians hunted on the hills and peeked in the windows, has left, with his wife and two daughters for Idaho and Washington.

I saw him just as he was leaving the other day, a trailer behind his little car and his daughters in the back seat. It was five o'clock. I said to him, "Why are you starting so late in the afternoon?"

Then I realized how he had to wait for three women and I realized the time it took my one to get ready to go somewhere, so doing a little quick calculations multiplying by three, I could readily understand how he might be held up until five o'clock in the afternoon before he could get started.

In deep sympathy I said to my friend of many years, "I believe if I had been you I'd just waited until morning."

"Now, that wouldn't do any good. It would take just as long again tomorrow to get started."

I admired his good spirit, wished him a bon voyage and moseyed home, wishing I was endowed with that same patience, for on the morrow I planned to take a little trip to the capitol city.

Problem Solved. In days past, I have nearly gone into a dither waiting for my wife to get ready to go places. Every kid has to be scrubbed and re-scrubbed, the floor must be mopped, the front room dusted, the dishes done, her hair combed forty strokes, her nose powdered fifty, the bird fed, the plants watered and a thousand more things too numerous to mention.

So, through accident, I found another scheme. I am fond of reading blood and thunder detective stories. Stories with a lot of action and mystery. Stories where the villain has the hero by the heels and is about to throw him off over the edge of a forty story building. There is only one reason why a person shouldn't read

Wagner Bill Drives Housing Issue Toward Definite Spending Policy

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — Although some $200,000,000 New Deal dollars have been spent on housing, there is no clearly defined administration policy for taking care of one-third of the population which Roosevelt says is "ill-housed."

The Wagner housing bill before Congress now proposes spending a billion dollars more in federal construction loans to local housing authorities in the next four years, and $50,000,000 in rental subsidies. Twenty-eight states, with 70 per cent of the population, have passed public housing authority laws and are ready to go into action under the Wagner bill.

Chairman Harry Steagall of the House Banking and Currency Committee waits for the President to make up his mind, and the President is waiting on a decision from Secretary Morgenthau. As a result the Steagall committee hasn't even got around to hearings on the bill.

Meanwhile Morgenthau's men have drafted a housing bill involving capital grants, federal subsidies in the form of relief labor, and a transfer of most of the rest of the cost to municipalities. It is the opinion of local housing officials that this bill would cripple the housing program.

SENATOR WAGNER claims for his bill that it will provide decent homes for families in the $700 to $1000 a year income class and, that by keeping within that group, it would not only provide decent housing where it is most needed, but would avoid such literature. He must be careful or he will start a story after dinner and not get any corn plowed that afternoon. If a person starts one of these stories he'll never leave until it is finished even if the house is burning, or his wife is ready to go to town.

Do I have to explain more of how I solved the problem of waiting for my wife? It is with a feeling of retaliation, or victory perhaps to be sunk in the big chair with a wild pulp in front of my face and have the folks tramping the floor and waiting for me for a chance. I must finish.

Crops Look Good. Well, we finally went to Lincoln. We drove to Grand Island first. They have had more rain there than we have had. From Grand Island east the crops look beautiful. I never remember of seeing the small grain look any better although I saw some rust on a few pieces of wheat. Upon returning home we went north from Seward to 16 and then west. If a country ever looked like the garden of Eden it was surely that section the other day. This is the most beautiful time of the year however for any land. Before the weeds get too high.

Surely the potato crop will be better this year. I never saw nicer potato vines. They are large and are blooming profusely. The corn is perhaps a trifle late but not bad. The prospect for small grain could not be better. There is no reason why those people should not be thankful.

Only God and Time. Another thing I noticed was that someone is setting out trees along the highway in a number of places. It is mostly along the paving and near the bottom of the ditches. The varieties are, that I saw, cedars and hackberry. They are planted on both sides of the road and in clusters to conform to landscape gardening specifications, perhaps.

Lessons From Genesis

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 27. Text: Hebrews 11:3-10, 17-22.

WE have been studying the messages from Genesis during the last quarter. Now we review these and at the same time discuss the powerful sermon on faith in the 11th chapter of the Epistle to the Hebrews.

The author of that chapter, seeking to enforce the nature and power of faith, drew illustrations from these stories in Genesis, giving us an example of the proper use that we ourselves may make of these stories from the childhood of a race.

TWO precautions are necessary in our reading, studying, and teaching of these lessons if we would interpret them correctly, and derive from them their moral and spiritual lessons.

We must remember that they are stories that come from the early history of an ancient people, and like all such stories, they were gathered together by later writers who sought to record and treasure for the people their spiritual history. They are stories full of eastern imagery.

On the other hand, their moral and spiritual teaching is not to be lightly esteemed because it is in this ancient setting. If we read the Old Testament intelligently, we can see how the conception of God grew in the minds of devout Israelites.

The thought of a tribal God concerned primarily for themselves as a chosen race gradually enlarged until in such a book as the Book of Jonah we have a conception of a God of grace and love concerned for all people.

In the later chapter of the Book of Isaiah we have the representation of the suffering servant, revealing the expiation of the innocent for the guilty that found its fulfillment in the atonement of Jesus and in the Christian doctrine of the cross.

BUT to view these stories just as ancient tales reflecting the conception of a tribal God is to miss something of the reality of the faith and moral integrity that were at the very foundation of this larger conception of the God of the whole universe, a God of mercy and justice.

There is the story, for instance, of the conflict between the herdsmen of Abraham and Lot, and of Abraham's fine attitude of peace and willingness to set peace about his own material interests. There is the revelation in Jacob of the finer qualities in a man that strive for mastery in the presence of trickery and deceit and the temptation to see nothing in life but his own interests. There is the sermon on forgiveness and magnanimity, virtues that we surely have not conspicuously attained in our modern world, that is preached so clearly in the powerful story of Joseph.

The fact is that when we seek the moral and spiritual element in these ancient stories, we find things that speak to us concerning all the needs and problems of our life today, and suggest the moral and spiritual elements that we must recognize if we would build aright in our individual lives and in society.

The study of primitive society makes clear basic facts and principles that are apt to be lost sight of in a complex society. For instance, in the patriarchal era that we have been studying the herdsmen who grabbed a well for himself was an anti-social and ungodly man.

We do not always see so clearly that men who do what corresponds to that in modern society are equally anti-social and ungodly. Genesis has much to teach.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hesse have returned from a trip to Missouri where they visited Frank Hesse and other relatives.

—Catholic Ladies of Elyria are holding a bake sale at Pecena's meat market Saturday, June 26. 13-11

—Horace M. Davis, state fire marshal, was in Ord Thursday evening attending to business in connection with his work.

—Mrs. Rex Clement is in the University hospital in Omaha, under observation, and will probably undergo an operation this week.

—The Nels Bossens, who went to Grand Island from Ord this spring, report the birth of a baby girl.

—Mrs. Agnes Urban and daughter Georgia of Comstock are visiting at her mother's, Mrs. Frank Bruha.

—Jim McCall is enjoying a two weeks vacation from his duties as carrier on R. F. D. No. 2, and George Anderson is carrying in his place.

—Mrs. Will Misko is enjoying a long visit from her mother, Mrs. Kuehne, of North Springs, Iowa. She came about three weeks ago, and plans to leave about July 1st.

—Mrs. Kate Neely, an aunt of Will and James Ollis, left for her home in Ohio this week after a two weeks visit with her nephews and their families.

—Wayne Coats left Tuesday for a trip to the west. His destination was uncertain, as he plans to look around for a suitable location before deciding on anything definite. His family will remain here until he selects a location.

—Jud Tedro is in receipt of word from his son-in-law Jack Morrison that he is in a Los Angeles hospital for observation, and the doctors plan to operate about July 1. They have not yet fully determined what his trouble is.

—Asa Anderson Sr., has been having a serious time for the past ten days with an infected tooth on the left side of his lower jaw. The latter part of last week the jaw became so swollen that it was impossible to move it. Saturday Mrs. Anderson and Asa Jr., took him to Grand Island, where he is under observation at St. Francis hospital.

—After about two months lay-off, Art VanSlyke returned last week to his job of driving the P. C. T. stage line from Burwell to Grand Island and return each day. While he was off duty his place was taken by Walter Anderson. He has been having a serious time with his health, but hopes to be able to remain on the job steadily from now on.

—Mrs. J. P. Barta and family enjoyed a visit from her sister, Mrs. E. H. Ford and daughter Ida Belle. They came last Wednesday, and plan to leave today. Pauline Barta going back with them to visit a week, when she will return with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuson, who will be coming to Ord about that time.

—All summer hats, 25c, 50c and $1. Chase's Toggery. 13-11

—Syl Furtak is working day and night this week getting out a number of benches which will be set around the court house yard for the benefit of all who wish to use them. These benches are paid for by various merchants, who have their advertising on the back of the bench. They are painted green to harmonize with the scenery.

—Archie Keep took Mrs. Hans Clement and Mrs. Bill Dittman and daughter to Grand Island Tuesday, Mrs. Laura Thorne going along for the ride. From there the ladies planned to spend a few days visiting in Aurora and then leave for Hayward, Calif.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Ball and children went up to the J. D. Wittsche farm near Burwell Friday evening to visit them and also to see Mrs. J. J. Pigman, who is visiting the Wittsches. She also spent five weeks up in the sand hills visiting with a former teacher, Delva Cass.

—Mrs. Robert Nay returned Tuesday from California where she spent the winter. She expects to remain here for a period of two months and after that she will go back to Los Angeles. She says her health this winter was exceptionally good, due to the fact that she ate plenty of grapefruit. However, the citrus crops were very short this year because of the unusually cold winter there.

—Walt Desch is getting arrangements made to leave Wednesday or Thursday of this week for a trip to the west, his first objective being a visit to his brother, S. H. Desch, at Nampa, Idaho. He also plans to go farther and possibly to catch some more of those 600 pound sturgeon. Clarence Blessing has about made up his mind to go along and have a try at big fishing himself.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen drove to Lincoln Saturday and were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mann. On Sunday at the Cornhusker Hotel they attended a testimonial dinner given for Mrs. Mortensen's uncle, Albert Johnson, of Crete, in celebration of his completion of fifty years as an executive of the Crete Mills.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jay G. Carpenter, of Pierson, Ia., came to Ord Friday for Mr. Carpenter has started work as an accountant for the Western Asphalt Paving Corporation of Sioux City, who have a $142,000 contract to build diversion dams for the North Loup project. The company has rented the former A. W. Pierce home in southeast Ord as an office. Mr. Carpenter formerly was publisher of the Pierson, Ia., Progress.

—Emil Darges left Sunday afternoon for the west coast. Accompanying him on the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Donnie Lashmett, Dick Puncocchar and Don Tummliff. Dick will be left in Idaho with friends, Lashmetts plan to stop in Montana, while Don and Emil will proceed to California. They expect to be gone about three weeks.

—Ign. Klima managed to get down to the clerk's office last Friday, but this does not mean that he should be there. The rush of work required his attention. The injury he suffered to the ligaments of his left leg has brought on a severe attack of sciatica, and he is not getting much rest either day or night. He plans to leave Friday for Thermopolis, Wyo., where he will take mud baths in an effort to get rid of the rheumatic pains.

James Family Holds Reunion at Community Park in Arcadia

For the first time in forty years the three sons and three daughters of the late David S. James, formerly of the North Loup neighborhood, all met last week, the occasion being a reunion of the James family, descendants, in-laws and other relatives, held Tuesday at the Community park in Arcadia. This picture by the Jensen Photo Service shows the big group present at the reunion.

David S. James will be remembered as the first man to ship a carload of popcorn out of North Loup and was one of the men directly responsible for the starting of this crop in the North Loup valley. His children, all of whom were here last week, are Mrs. W. E. Lewis, of Roosevelt, U. R. V. James of Cashmere, Wash., Mrs. Rose M. Neff, Phoenix, Ariz., Dr. D. B. James, Sterling, Nebr., Mrs. Fred Christensen, Arcadia, and D. S. James, Columbus, O.

Another event properly celebrated at this reunion Tuesday was the 76th birthday of Mrs. R. L. Christensen, mother of Fred Christensen. Her husband's 78th birthday had been passed only a few days previously, on June 6. This fine Arcadia couple will observe their 56th wedding anniversary on Nov. 16.

All the people mentioned above, as well as sons and daughters of the James children and other relatives appear in this Jensen Photo Service picture, taken in the Community park at Arcadia on June 15. The reunion was an affair long to be remembered by everybody concerned.

—We have new shorts and slacks in white navy and red for the 4th. Chase's Toggery. 13-11

—Miss Lucille Lakin is now visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tressler of Ogallala. She made the trip Saturday evening with Mr. Frank Highleyman who visited a short time in Ogallala.

—Vern White of North Platte, here with the Hugo shows last week, had the misfortune to break his left hand Friday morning. He says it was some of his own foolishness, but that doesn't make the misfortune any easier to bear.

—Charley Roberts was up from Lincoln Saturday and went back Wednesday. He came up to visit a number of his old time friends. He is still working at his job as janitor of the Bancroft school in Lincoln.

—Frank Piskorski now has the largest electric sign in Ord on top of his cold storage plant. It is a product of the Syl Furtak sign service, and is a credit to any community or any business. It is so located that it can clearly be seen from the west side of the square.

—About 10 young ladies of the Presbyterian church left at eight o'clock Tuesday morning for Pibel lake where they will spend a couple of days. Boys of the church will make a similar trip, leaving on June 24. A truckload of supplies was sent to the lake Monday afternoon. Mrs. Joe Rowbal will fill the capacity of "chief cook" for the two camping parties. Rev. Woodruff is in direct charge of both groups.

We knead the dough and you need our bread. There is none better, and to be well fed Eat it each meal for vim and vigor. And follow this rule for a perfect figure.

There is a common notion that bread is fattening. Bread is an energy food and is no more fattening than any other food of this class. The body requires a certain amount of energy food daily to maintain vitality and there is no better food for this than good wholesome bread.

Water Fights Start Off the Summer Swimming Season

Happy days are here again! Hot days mean nothing but torture to many people, but to the kids they mean fun, spelled with a capital F. Although a few brave lads went swimming as much as two months ago, it was not until last week that the majority of Ord swimmers really got into the swing of things and made daily trips to the cool water of the Loup.

Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District.

Roberts Construction Company of Lincoln, Nebraska, who were awarded a contract for construction of canal No. 2 from Sargent to Comstock on the east side of the river, embodying a complete job including all bridges, siphons, diversion works and all other necessary structures for the complete construction of the canal, will start work this week. Materials are arriving daily, and although we have not been informed definitely as to where they expect to set up offices, it looks as though Comstock is their center of operations. This same contract includes the building of a few remaining structures on other canals, and completes the main canal system, leaving only lateral structures to be contracted for. The design of the laterals for Canal No. 1 is practically completed, and bids will be called for shortly.

Koehler Construction company is at work south of Sargent driving steel piling and building the intake structure for Canal No. 1, and is also about ready to start constructing siphons, using reinforced concrete pipe now being manufactured by the Lock Joint Pipe company at Loup City.

Morrison-Knudsen company is making good progress on Canals 3 and 4. They are also assisting Dobson & Humphreys in the construction of vertical drops and drainage structures under the canals.

Satisfactory gravel has been found for concrete structures and siphon pipe at Comstock, and pumps are being installed and plans being made to purchase the necessary gravel.

The district is making excellent progress on securing rights-of-way, having secured a large portion of the deeds required on a very satisfactory basis. This is due in a great measure to the wonderful co-operation of the people of the valley who realize what this project will mean when it is completed.

The board of directors has received an application from the Sargent-West Union precincts to be taken into the project, and contemplates filing an application with the state engineer for enlargement of the district.

Friday evening the Epworth League young people enjoyed a picnic lunch at the Community Park. Avis Sawyer and Josephine Lutz were in charge of refreshments.

Edna Price of South Dakota is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill.

Mrs. N. B. Carver left last Wednesday for Cody, Wyo., where she will visit at the home of her daughter Mrs. Rex Howe.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thomas and granddaughter Vona Thomas are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ohmes and attending to business matters. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas lived between Arcadia and Comstock when young people and left for Scottsbluff in 1908. Mr. Thomas has farm land under the ditch and favors irrigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins, Jr., and son were Sunday visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Higgins, Sr.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold McClary and little son of Poole, Nebr., were Arcadia visitors Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Sims and children went to Sargent Saturday evening to spend Sunday with an aunt of Mrs. Sims. Mrs. Sims' father, Mr. Bradley came up from Elba on the bus Saturday and accompanied them to Sargent.

Mrs. Allen Sims, Fern, Grace and Max went to Wolbach Friday to attend a shower for a niece of Mrs. Sims, Edna Belle Nielsen who was married to Morris Anderson Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clement, who have been on an extended trip in the west have returned to North Loup and are guests of Mrs. Harriet Clement.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins and their sons George and Arthur, with their families and Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hill and Teddy enjoyed a picnic at Babcock's Island Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Gillespie went to Douglas, Wyo., last Thursday and returned to North Loup Sunday.

Miss Della Higgins, nurse at the Miller hospital in Ord, visited her parents at Arcadia Monday afternoon.

'Buy Nebraska Goods,' Says Arthur Storz

Nebraska can add thousands of dollars to its wealth every week by buying Nebraska-made goods, declares Arthur Storz, executive of an Omaha brewery. Every dollar spent for eastern goods goes back east, where it cannot return into circulation in Nebraska. Why then, he asks, should Nebraskans export money when it is needed to stimulate our prosperity here at home?

A Nebraska dollar spent for Nebraska goods is used by the manufacturer to pay wages to Nebraskans and to buy materials in Nebraska. Local merchants, grocers, and every other Nebraska business eventually benefits by the transaction. But when the dollar is sent east it is gone. It pays no Nebraska wages. It cannot be spent again with other Nebraska business.

Using his own business as an example he points out that Storz beer is as good beer as is made anywhere in the United States. There is no reason why eastern beer should be bought here. Most people do buy Storz, he says, but still there are thousands of dollars leaving the state continually because some people forget how much they help their own state by buying Nebraska beer.

Storz is not only one of the state's largest tax-payers and employers of Nebraska labor, it is also a good customer of many other Nebraska business concerns. Storz makes it a point to buy from Nebraskans.

Mr. Storz says money travels in circles. Bill Jones spends it with Joe Smith, who spends it with Bob Brown, and so on until everyone benefits. The circle is broken only when someone shoots it off to another state so far away it cannot get back into the state where it started.

MIKE KASAL.

Mike Kasal was born April 30, 1859 at Krakovanech, Czechoslovakia, and died at his home in Ord June 15, 1937, at the age of 78 years, 1 month and 5 days. He came to America May 30, 1882 and settled in Humboldt, Nebr. Later he lived in Schuyler a year or two, then moved to St. Paul where he was married July 7, 1888 to Josephine Brand. To this union eight children were born, one of whom died in infancy. Surviving are Ed Frank of Ord, Lucile O'Brien of Omaha, William of Seattle, Wash., Charlotte of Wolbach, and Hattie Grabowski of Ord.

The family moved to Ord in November, 1898, where Mr. Kasal worked at the tailor trade until 1909. He then operated a billiard hall until 1925, when he retired. During the past five years he suffered several paralytic strokes and was bedfast for the past five weeks.

He was a member of the Ord Z. C. B. lodge and the funeral was held from the hall Thursday afternoon, June 17, Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson having charge of the services. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Dr. F. L. Blessing and J. R. Stoltz sang several selections. The pall bearers were Wm. Gruber, Anton Bartunek, J. Maruska, John Polak, Frank Dworak and John Kokes.

Besides the widow and the seven children mentioned above there are left to mourn five grandchildren: Robert Kasal of Omaha, William O'Brien of Omaha, Joyce Grabowski, Raymond and Leonard Cronk of Ord, and one nephew, Stanley Svoboda, of Nymbuk, Czechoslovakia.

Those in attendance from out of town at the funeral included Lew Hurt and Wm. Provaznik of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. J. Shalda, Mrs. John Bartunek and Joe Cerny of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Za-vitka and daughter Betty and Mrs. Fred Frandsen of Elba, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lincoln of Scotta, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartunek, Naomi Larsen, and George S. ## Bangert-Fuss Wedding.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Lutheran church in Mira Valley when Miss Dorothy Fuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss, became the bride of Alfred Bangert, son of Rev. F. W. Bangert of Staplehurst. The bride's attendants were Miss Julia Fuss and Miss Dorothy Bangert. The groom was attended by Waldo Bangert and George Bremer. Rev. William Bahr, pastor of the church, gave the address, while Rev. Bangert, father of the groom, performed the double ring wedding ceremony. The flower girls were Miss Phyllis Joan Kort and Miss Joyce Poth.

The bride wore a white satin gown with both a long and a finger tip veil, and carried Pales-tine roses. Her attendants wore organdie dresses of orchid and cream. The flower girls wore peach organdie dresses, and both the attendants and flower girls carried baskets of sweet peas. The groom and his attendants wore dark suits. The altar was banked with ferns, roses and peonies. Mrs. Kaepke of Blue Hill, aunt of the groom, played the Mendelssohn wedding march. A duet, "Thine Forever" was sung by Miss Ella Lange and Mrs. Edwin Sohreid of Sumner, sister of the bride.

The bride taught several terms of school in Valley county, and is a graduate of the Ord high school, class of 1931. The groom is a graduate of Concordia college of Seward, class of 1934. They will live for the present on the Arnold Bredthauer farm in Mira Valley. After the ceremony at the church all attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Refreshments were served, the principal table attraction being a large wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom on top, adorned with sweet peas, made by Walter Ernst of Grand Island. The house was decorated for the occasion in orchid, green and peach. About 130 guests were in attendance at the wedding.

The Quiz Camera Visits Ord Beauty Spots

Pinochle Club Meets.

The pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ed Zikmund, with Mrs. Pete Anderson as co-hostess. High score went to Mrs. George Zikmund, and low score to Mrs. Joe Puncocchar. A lunch was served. Meeting was then adjourned.

Entre Nous is meeting with Mrs. Forrest Johnson next Friday.

North Platte Meet Is Termed Success

Termed a huge success was the first annual meeting of the Nebraska council of home demonstration clubs held at North Platte last week. More than 524 women from 67 counties registered for the gathering where they formulated plans for their 1938 home demonstration work. Valley county was represented at the statewide gathering by Mrs. Clyde Baker, Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, Mrs. Harry Wolf and Miss Grace Lee. Resolutions passed at the conclusion of the convention called for a new home economics building on the agricultural college campus and the addition of a parent-education specialist to the extension service staff.

Music during the two days was furnished by choruses from Kearney, Dawson and Lincoln counties. Mrs. Altinas Tullis of Lincoln was on hand to lead community singing. One of the highlights of the meeting was the Washington trip reunion breakfast. Out of the 135 women making the trip to Washington last year, a total of 59 were in attendance at the breakfast. A big banquet attracted several hundred women.

Experts Advocate Contour Farming

Edwin W. Saylor, superintendent of the Ravenna Soil Conservation Service which has an erosion control camp for demonstration purposes, announces that contour farming is being used on more farms and more acres in Buffalo, Hall, Howard, and Sherman counties this year than ever before. Running rows around the hills instead of up and down the slope is recommended as an effective means of holding rain water where it falls and thus reducing soil losses. Each furrow plowed on the contour serves as a water-holding basin.

Saylor says that contour farming in many cases reduces fuel costs where tractors are used. He also says that where horses are used they require less rest when plowing on the contour than when pulling implements on straight rows up and down the hills. It is said that a great saving in repair costs due to less machinery breakage is made by this method of farming. By operating machinery on the contour a uniform amount of pull is exerted on equipment at all times, naturally decreasing breakage.

Bangert-Fuss Wedding.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Lutheran church in Mira Valley when Miss Dorothy Fuss, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Fuss, became the bride of Alfred Bangert, son of Rev. F. W. Bangert of Staplehurst. The bride's attendants were Miss Julia Fuss and Miss Dorothy Bangert. The groom was attended by Waldo Bangert and George Bremer. Rev. William Bahr, pastor of the church, gave the address, while Rev. Bangert, father of the groom, performed the double ring wedding ceremony. The flower girls were Miss Phyllis Joan Kort and Miss Joyce Foth.

The bride wore a white satin gown with both a long and a finger tip veil, and carried Palestine roses. Her attendants wore organdie dresses of orchid and cream. The flower girls wore peach organdie dresses, and both the attendants and flower girls carried baskets of sweet peas. The groom and his attendants wore dark suits. The altar was banked with ferns, roses and peonies. Mrs. Kaepke of Blue Hill, aunt of the groom, played the Mendelssohn wedding march. A duet, "Thine Forever" was sung by Miss Ella Lange and Mrs. Edwin Schwarzfeld of Sumner, sister of the bride.

The bride taught several terms of school in Valley county, and is a graduate of the Ord high school, class of 1931. The groom is a graduate of Concordia college of Seward, class of 1934. They will live for the present on the Arnold Bredthauer farm in Mira Valley. After the ceremony at the church all attended a reception at the home of the bride's parents. Refreshments were served, the principal table attraction being a large wedding cake with a miniature bride and groom on top, adorned with sweet peas, made by Walter Ernst of Grand Island. The house was decorated for the occasion in orchid, green and peach. About 130 guests were in attendance at the wedding.

The Quiz Camera Visits Ord Beauty Spots

Pinochle Club Meets.

The pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ed Zikmund, with Mrs. Pete Anderson as co-hostess. High score went to Mrs. George Zikmund, and low score to Mrs. Joe Puncocar. A lunch was served. ## North Platte Meet Is Termed Success

Termed a huge success was the first annual meeting of the Nebraska council of home demonstration clubs held at North Platte last week. More than 524 women from 67 counties registered for the gathering where they formulated plans for their 1938 home demonstration work. Valley county was represented at the statewide gathering by Mrs. Clyde Baker, Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, Mrs. Harry Wolf and Miss Grace Lee. Resolutions passed at the conclusion of the convention called for a new home economics building on the agricultural college campus and the addition of a parent-education specialist to the extension service staff.

Music during the two days was furnished by choruses from Kearney, Dawson and Lincoln counties. Mrs. Altinas Tullis of Lincoln was on hand to lead community singing. One of the highlights of the meeting was the Washington trip reunion breakfast. Out of the 135 women making the trip to Washington last year, a total of 59 were in attendance at the breakfast. A big banquet attracted several hundred women.

Experts Advocate Contour Farming

Edwin W. Saylor, superintendent of the Ravenna Soil Conservation Service which has an erosion control camp for demonstration purposes, announces that contour farming is being used on more farms and more acres in Buffalo, Hall, Howard, and Sherman counties this year than ever before. Running rows around the hills instead of up and down the slope is recommended as an effective means of holding rain water where it falls and thus reducing soil losses. Each furrow plowed on the contour serves as a water-holding basin.

Saylor says that contour farming in many cases reduces fuel costs where tractors are used. He also says that where horses are used they require less rest when plowing on the contour than when pulling implements on straight rows up and down the hills. It is said that a great saving in repair costs due to less machinery breakage is made by this method of farming. By operating machinery on the contour a uniform amount of pull is exerted on equipment at all times, naturally decreasing breakage.

Quite Prolific.
F. E. Bohy who has one of the choice farms in the North Loup valley, a few miles southeast of Taylor on the Taylor-Burwell highway, makes the following report of his success in hog production: Between May 20th, 1936 and June 1st, 1937, he had five brood sows which farrowed 192 pigs, 130 of which grew to maturity. Please note that the time in which this increase took place was but little more than 12 months.—Taylor Clarion.

Card of Thanks.
We take this means of extending our heartfelt gratitude to friends and neighbors for their acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy during the illness and at the death of our beloved husband and father; also to the lodge and to all who sent floral tokens.

Candid Camera Catches Vernie Andersen Sorting Tackle, Dreaming of "Big One"

Day-dreaming, probably, of the "big one that got away" on his last trip to Minnesota, Vernie Andersen is here shown sorting his fishing tackle in preparation for another Cullen Lake excursion on which he left Saturday. LaVerne Lakin's candid camera took the picture and Vernie didn't know he was being photographed. The filling station manager and his party are spending this week fishing in Minnesota and will return Saturday with their car loaded (they hope) with bass, pike and pan-fish.

Arcadia News

Paul Easterbrook and Joe Weddel left Saturday on Paul's motorcycle for the west. They expected to stay over night in Alliance where they both have relatives. They plan to see Yellowstone National park and visit Fred Foster of Wyoming. Fred is the son of Ira E. Foster, formerly of Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Sloggett and family went to Broken Bow Friday afternoon where they will visit relatives and friends for a short time. They will then leave for Denver. They are undecided as to future plans at present.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reed and son Donald, also a little daughter, Marjory of Fort Lupton, Colo. have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. George. They left Wednesday for Loup City to visit her parents before returning home. Marjory is a clever tap dancer who never wears of entertaining her friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. George, Shirley and Max, and Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Reed and Marjory were Tuesday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bossen.

Mr. and Mrs. Orvil Woods, Fred Milburn and his mother, Mrs. Jennie Milburn left early Sunday morning for Lake Ericson to enjoy fishing.

Mrs. Carl Larson and son Marvin left Thursday on the motor for Lincoln where Marvin was examined at the orthopedic hospital. Marvin was a victim of infantile paralysis when a small child and has taken many treatments which have greatly improved his limb. They returned home Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. John White left Saturday morning for an extended trip west.

Mrs. Emmie Hyatt of Wyoming, an aunt, and Ira G. Crist of Colorado, father of Mrs. Bill Thompson, will spend some time with relatives in Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Darr Evans took Mrs. Bertha Bryson to Broken Bow Thursday evening where she left for Riverton, Wyo., where she will visit her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Milburn.

Anton Nelson and daughter Beulah, Ray Pester and daughter Vivian and Beryl Stone were at Lake Ericson last Monday afternoon fishing.

The Dunham Girls club held their last meeting at the home of Mrs. Nellie Hill. All members are to make a tea towel for their work. Officers elected were: Adelia Johnson, president; Erma White, vice-president; Margaret Baker, secretary; Dorothy Ryan, news reporter. They met this week Thursday at the home of Margaret Baker. Miss Grace Lee was in attendance at the previous meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Cunningham and daughters visited Miss Adelia John at the Loup City hospital last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Schmidt and family were in Grand Island last week and spent the night at the home of his parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Thompson were Sunday visitors at the Hans Schmidt home.

Donald Ryan, Dorothy Ryan and Jean Cunningham visited Adelia John in the Loup City hospital. Miss John underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Richardson of Long Beach, Calif., returned home last week. At North Platte they expected to visit Mr. and Mrs. Archie Nupp and children and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hemmelfright at Potter. Mr. and Mrs. Richardson spent two weeks here at the Len Richardson home and with other relatives.

Mrs. Edith Bossen received an announcement from Mr. and Mrs. Nels D. Bossen, stating that a

Nels Olson.
Nels Olson was born April 9, 1868 in Klingstrop, Sweden and passed away June 10, 1937 at Mont Vista, Colo. Mr. Olson lived on a farm north of Arcadia for many years and moved to California about 35 years ago. June 1, 1898 he was united in marriage to Alma Thorson of Mead, Nebr. Mrs. Olson preceded her husband in death February 3, 1933. Four children were born to this union of whom all survive, Gladys of Omaha, John of California, Victor and Elmer of Mont Vista, Colo. He is also survived by two sisters, Mrs. P. K. Jensen of Ord and Mrs. Olive Brown of Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Trier and daughter Josephine of Chicago have been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Rettenmayer. Mr. Trier is a brother of Mrs. Rettenmayer. Mr. and Mrs. Trier will return home, Josephine will remain and spend the summer in Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith of Denver, Mrs. Arthur Malene of Julesburg, Colo., spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Olsen. Mrs. Smith will be remembered as Mrs. Wait and Mrs. Malene her daughter Lamira.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vescellus and daughter Janene left Monday for Lincoln for a visit with his mother and then return home to Chicago.

Mrs. Monroe, of Berkeley, Calif., visited last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Christensen, who were old time friends and neighbors.

Judges and Mrs. Larson of St. Paul, and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Powell of Canadian, Tex., who are attending summer school at Kearney, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beal of Taylor were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Johnson.

Wednesday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cooper were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Vescellus and Janene of Chicago.

Rev. and Mrs. McCaig and baby and Mrs. McCaig's sister, Miss Hammond of Des Moines were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Aufrecht. Miss Hammond is on her way to Kansas.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Zeviebel of Grand Island were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Waterbury. Sunday evening callers were Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Waterbury of Ansley.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Lee are visiting their daughter Louise Lee at Cheyenne and their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Lee at Laramie.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coons are at the J. P. Lee home while they are away. Mr. and Mrs. Lee will also visit in Denver and other places before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Coons will move into the property that was Mrs. Vermillion's.

County Agent C. C. Dale sent 6,000 pounds of grasshopper poison to Arcadia to be distributed among the farmers.

Thousands of Plymouth owners are still driving the first model Plymouths ever built. For with those first models, Plymouth introduced a new idea—that cars in the lowest price field should be just as dependable and long-lived as any cars at any price.

Yet amazingly long life and reliability are only part of the better value built into the 1937 Plymouth. It's the biggest of All Three. Only Plymouth gives you the hushed ride... controlled hydraulic braking... Floating Power engine mountings.

And Plymouth is on record as America's most economical full-powered car.

Drive the car that stands up best. We will be glad to arrange a Plymouth demonstration.

35 Years Ago This Week.
Ben H. Baker had opened up a Beatrice Creamery company station the first door west of the Dworak store, and guaranteed a square deal to all.
The county boards of Valley and Greeley county met in joint session in Ord and passed a resolution relative to the construction of a bridge across the North Loup river at North Loup. The bridge was built and is still in use, though repaired on several occasions.
There was a great advance in the price of print paper, some kinds being advanced as much as 25%.
The C. S. Watson family made their appearance in Ord, coming from Newcastle, Wyo. They were very popular here for many years, and are now living at Lexington.
Curt Parsons and son and Richard Mutter went up to Burwell, the latter to visit his cousin Kenneth for a few days. Curt had been down to help the Quiz out in the rush caused by a breakdown of the press.
G. W. Milford and son put in a new cement walk in front of the postoffice, and a new walk was laid in front of the Bailey and Detweller building. Both walks are still giving good service.
J. H. Capron was selling the Carter car, that "Even a Woman Could Drive." Cranking was eliminated by an excellent self-starter.
Scotia defeated Ord on the Scotia ground by a score of 7 to 6 in eleven innings.
Glen Auble went to Wolbach, where he had accepted a position in a drug store.
Sarah McLain had bought out her brother's interest in the Bachelor Store and changed the name to "The Economy Store."
Ord Markets: Butter, tub, 18c; choice dairy, 25c; eggs, 13c; hogs, $46.50; oats, 50c; corn, 64c; wheat, 9c.
Guy Burrows offered his White steamer for sale for $400.00. For the information of the younger generation, this was an auto run by steam.

40 Years Ago This Week.
Jessie R. Yocum committed suicide on his farm near North Loup by blowing his head off with a shotgun. No reason could be determined.
A strange dog bit a cat and a dog on the E. Stanton place in Springfield, starting a mad dog scare, which were all the style in those days. The dog was killed, which saved him right.
"Bud" Shirley got all he went after. While in St. Paul Monday he arranged for the entry of the Ord fire department and the Ord baseball nine in the athletic sports on the 3d. The band will also be provided for in a liberal manner. There a purse of $50.00 for the firemen to contest for, and $25.00 for the ball game.
The following notice is of interest: "Co. 'B', 2nd Regiment, N. N. G., will meet in the armory on Wednesday, June 30, at 9 o'clock A. M., for drill and target practice." H. Gudmundsen captain commanding company.
The greatest ball game of the season, a grudge battle between the printers and the lawyers, wound up in the middle of the fifth inning with a score of 23 to 8 in favor of the printers.
Forty years ago July 4th came on Sunday, as it does this year, but they celebrated on Saturday, July 3d.
William May brought in a load of hay which he had sold to the Rockhold livery barn, but his team became frightened at the B. and M. train and ran off, dumping the load at the southeast corner of the square. Mr. May was not hurt.

From "When You Were Young" Items in 40-year-old Quiz.
1896—Senator William Gray died.
1895—County board entered into agreement with the Burr syndicate to pay them $10,000.00 to effect the redemption of $32,000.00 county bonds.
1894—Two months of drought broken by a good rain. Small grain was dead, but there was a chance for corn.
1893—The notorious Presley affair came to light. The Frank Hirst shoe store pulled up stakes and left Ord.
1892—Lightning struck C. J. Nelson's barn, knocking the end out. A. Chapman began to run the engine in the mill.
1891—The weather was so wet as to damage crops. Ord captured the district reumon prize which turned out disastrously.
1890—Destructive hall storm swept over Mira Valley. William Koelling found dead. G. W. Meek's barn was burned. Dr. F. O. Coon died, aged 41.
1889—Crop prospects brightened by a big rain. Prof. Hussey given a surprise reception by the pupils of the high school.

1888—Ord ball team lost game to Grand Island, 7 to 9. Bud Shirley played. Courthouse supplied with city water.
1887—George P. Emig had arm broken in runaway. Matthew Coffin died. G. W. Milford made the proposition to move his mill into town.
1886—Ord deferred its celebration until the U. P. railroad should be built into town. The old courthouse and jail were advertised for sale. Valley county Farmers' Alliance called to meet at Ord July 7th, by the secretary, J. A. Ollis.
1885—O. S. Haskell resigned on his contract to build the county courthouse. A strange and fatal disease was raging among the hogs in Mira Valley.
1884—Little Charley Emig was pushed out of a school house window and his arm broken. First steps taken to organize the Odd-fellows lodge at North Loup. Lightning killed a cow for A. Ward in Mira Valley.
1883—The government ceased to collect a 2c revenue on checks. Milford's safe arrived. D. A. Gard and a man named Phillips started a paper in Taylor. Drs. Kliker and Haldeman dissolved partnership. The U. P. agreed to run the line to Ord for $32,000.00.
1882—A heavy rain reported. E. S. Harter was making arrangements to rebuild his store, destroyed in the spring by fire. Prof. Aughey of the State University gave a lecture at the school house, then in the east part of town, and said he had been investigating the prospects for coal on the E. D. Cheeseborough farm, but did not think there was any coal closer than 800 feet, if any at all.

If I was to give my opinion I would think this fine. I am a lover of trees. I would endorse this program, if for no other reason than there shall be some trees growing up to take the place of the many that the road men have insisted in the last few years should be cut. How I have wept mentally at the felling of the big cottonwoods along the roadsides in many places. Those on the route to North Loup and those on the road running straight east of Ord. It seems to have been the policy of the road men to slay all the trees along the roadside. Now, from a sense of shame, perhaps, of their destructive acts, they are trying to amend, but we must remember, "Only God can make a tree." Yes. Only God, and time. Sixty years of time to make those cottonwoods.

Elm Trees and Milk.
And speaking of trees. The elms are dying in Lancaster county the same as Valley. At the house where my mother stays there had been a government expert on tree and forest diseases. He said he believed all the elms would die. There are worms and bugs attracting them. One tree in the yard there has been sprayed several times and inoculated, watered and pampered but still the leaves seem lifeless and thin.
Too, everyone complains about the milk. Even the city dairies are having trouble with the milk having a bad taste and everyone seems to have a different reason for it all.

—Mrs. Asa Anderson Sr., came down to visit her son and family last Wednesday, remaining until Saturday.
—Edward, son of Bill Tuma, had his tonsils removed by Dr. C. W. Weekes last Tuesday morning.
—Edward Tuma of Elyria is visiting with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urban of Comstock.
—Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leggett and son Kerry drove to Ansley Sunday and enjoyed a picnic with Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Waterbury. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Wilcox, who spent a couple of days with her sister, Mrs. Leggett.
—Mrs. Irl Tolen, daughter Ruth, son Adrian and a friend of the latter spent the week end in the home of Mrs. Tolen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Koupal. Adrian returned only a few days ago from Fort Snelling, near St. Paul, Minn., where he spent the past year in an officers' training camp. Fifty university men who hold R. O. T. C. commissions attended this camp and this spring took a competitive examination, from which the highest ranking two will be given appointments as second lieutenants in the regular army. Adrian is hoping to receive such an appointment.

Travel the nation over and you will find no better beer than Storz, made right here in Nebraska. Most Nebraskans take neighborly pride in buying Storz, instead of eastern beers.
Storz is a big factor in Nebraska prosperity. Hundreds of jobs all over the state depend on the brewing and distribution of Storz Beer. Those pay checks do not go east—they are spent in Nebraska with Nebraska merchants.
Storz makes it a point to buy all possible supplies from Nebraskans. Storz buys grain from Nebraska farmers, paying premium prices to get top quality. Storz buys insurance from Nebraska companies, printing from Nebraska printers, beer cases and cartons from Nebraska manufacturers. Everywhere Storz is adding to Nebraska prosperity.
Storz is one of Nebraska's largest tax-payers, paying over $800,000 to city, county, state and federal governments in 1936. Storz Brewing Co. is owned by Nebraskans living in Nebraska. Even its dividends are spent in Nebraska.
Top all that with the fact that Storz makes superb beer—four times World's Champion—and you have every good reason to ask for Storz when you order beer. Help build Nebraska instead of the east.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Linked with the possibility of a proposed constitutional amendment seeking to provide exemption of homesteads from property tax, or partially so, is the name of Charles W. Bryan, former governor of Nebraska and mayor of Lincoln and today the man who stands out as the big human question mark so far as politicalwise in the state are concerned.

Bryan, in retirement, has made no secret of the fact he is highly in favor of such an amendment being put to vote in the state. He has admitted a study of the proposition and that it has some mighty favorable points. Say some of those students of politics who are not regular enrollees in any accredited school, Bryan is beginning the campaign and then admit they wish they knew what for.

Some of Governor Cochran's close friends say Bryan will be a candidate for governor in 1938, hoping to land eventually in the United States senate, finding egress through another term in the gubernatorial seat. Other friends of the second-term governor, Cochran say Cochran went into that office three years ago with Bryan's blessing and surely, at this late date, Bryan would not seek to oppose one upon whom he had previously bestowed blessing.

Thus the Nebraska political pot, while not yet boiling, started slight simmer as the warm days of an off-election year approach. Political ambitious is a term often expressed as applicable to the governor and to Bryan. Senator Edward R. Burke's term as U. S. senator is over in 1940, and it is none-too-early to start the ball rolling so far as aspirants for the Washington post are concerned.

Senator A. L. Miller of Kimball, passing through Lincoln, admitted he favored a homestead tax exemption plan, even admitting he had one ready to introduce at the last legislature, but permitted himself to be talked out of it. He said a $5,000 exemption being proposed now is too high, admitting he favored one about $3,500.

But Governor Cochran made a statement to the effect: Any constitutional amendment toward the end of fostering tax exemption on homestead should carry with it an alternative proposition as to how tax money will be raised to take the place of taxes lost through exemption.

"Such a proposition should be put to the voters in an intelligent way," declared Cochran, "so that the voters will have to pass on both propositions by the same vote, that is, if he votes for the exemption he must at the same time decide the form of taxes that will take place of the taxes lost." Cochran ridiculed the idea of permitting one proposition only being put to the voter.

Drawing on some state statistics Cochran said property taxes collected each year amounted to about $43,000,000 throughout the state for all purposes. Of that amount $23,000,000 goes to support the local and high schools.

"Obviously it would be necessary to take off the constitutional limit on property that is not to be exempt if property is to continue to bear that burden, or a sales tax must be provided to take the place of the lost property tax," Cochran deducted.

Higher wages, a shorter work week and absolute recognition of their union were the result of a 2-week transport truck employees strike that ended in Omaha first and at Lincoln a few hours later. The closed shop was defeated. With the signing of contracts ratified by union members, trucks that for as many as ten days had stood idle once more took to the road.

The strike was conducted in orderly fashion, only a few scattered and minor disturbances being reported. Governor Cochran continued to declare up to the end that the law enforcement phase of the walkout was the work of county and city agencies, and refused a demand that the national guard be assembled.

The strike tied up all transport trucks that drove to and from Nebraska's two large commercial centers, resulting in an almost unprecedented amount of merchandise being dumped onto the railroads to handle.

Fire losses in Nebraska in May amounted to $99,888, the state fire marshal's office reported. Two-thirds of the amount was to buildings, the remainder to contents. The total during April was $170,000.

Fifteen trusted prisoners have been transferred from the Lancaster penitentiary to the state farm at Genoa, with arrangements made to send more men as they are needed to carry on the production work. The men sent thus far are "short timer" They will work at the farm without guard and live in dormitories prepared there. At the farm that formerly was an Indian school, 75 acres are planted to vegetables, 25 acres to potatoes and the remainder to corn, oats and alfalfa.

Three airplanes added by two motorcycles used by army authorities in search for two Fort Crook army privates who escaped from the post's guardhouse. The men sought were serving 18 months terms as deserters. A guardhouse guard was bound and gagged by the men who commandeered a cab and drove to Council Bluffs, Ia. The planes and motorcycles were brought into the search almost as soon as the escape was discovered.

The present town of Lemoyne will be no more when the Tri-county Keystone dam is completed, resulting in creation of an 18 mile lake. Office building and a spur track from the Union Pacific that will run parallel with the dam site are being erected. The Keystone, upon completion, will be the second largest earth dam in the United States. It will be two miles long and will extend the entire width of the North Platte valley just west of Keystone. At its highest, the dam will tower 162 feet above the level of the valley, and will impound 2,000,000 acre feet of water.

Two of Nebraska's five congressmen figured prominently in the national news. Congressman Stefan opposed appropriation of $152,000 annually for the United States commissioner in the Philippines, contending the amount could well be cut in half. "It is proposed to allow $10,000 a year for entertainment purposes. That is more than is given the United States ambassador in London," declared Stefan. Meanwhile Congressman Henry C. Leach launched a movement for government loans to enable wheat farmers to keep their grain off the market in an effort to establish prices. With the chairman of the prairie states congressional bloc, Leach called a meeting of representatives of 10 states to consider the proposal for establishment of a "reasonable price" for wheat.

Under the plan advanced, a farmer would be enabled to borrow with his crop as security in the event of market breaks, thereby enabling him to hold the grain for higher prices.

Dissatisfied with the world outside prison walls, Paul Ewig, 33, of Alliance returned voluntarily to the state penitentiary after a 6-months' freedom. Paroled last January, Ewig had served 20 months of a one to seven year term for larceny in connection with the theft of two horses in Morrill county. In Alliance since his release from prison, Ewing maintained the terms of his parole and his return was not sought. He will be given prison quarters, however, until he finds another job, officials say.

The new planning board members have been appointed by Governor Cochran. They are: G. Yates, Omaha banker; J. G. Mothershead, Scottsbluff attorney; Edgar Howard, Columbus publisher; Carl Swanson, Cubertson attorney; Arthur McVillie, Broken Bow lumberman; Walter O'Connor, a North Platte merchant and Gene Huse, Norfolk publisher. With the 13 members will sit A. C. Tiley, state engineer, and W. H. Smith, tax commissioner as members ex-officio, Tiley as chairman and Smith as secretary of the board.

The legislature ordered the board to make a survey of state institutional building needs and report their findings, together with recommendations, to the governor before December 31, 1938. The board's recommendations are to include approximate costs.

The board is empowered to hire such clerical help as it may need in making the survey and has $10,000 to cover expenses during the next two years. Aside from that the legislature added another $15,000 to be used in a survey of human tuberculosis conducted in conjunction with the state health department. Part of these latter funds are federal.

Scanning the report that shows four deaths last year in Nebraska as the result of fireworks, State Fire Marshal Davis has issued to fire chiefs of the state certain rules for storing the inflammable materials. There is one rule that stands out above all others, Davis said, fireworks shall not be stored or kept for sale within 150 feet of a gasoline station.

Taylor Department

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Otte of Scottsbluff and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Pierce and family of Ord attended a picnic at Sioux Creek Friday.

Home Improvement club met at the George Stevens home June 16, with Mrs. William Stevens assisting hostess. It was an all day meeting. The day was spent quilting for Mrs. William Stevens. There were about thirty members and visitors present. The visitors were Mrs. Harry Lewis, Mrs. Curtis Lewis, Mrs. John Walker and Mrs. Kenneth Hulbert. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Dan Strohl's with Mrs. Raish as co-hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Coleman of Arnold spent Sunday night at the Elmer Coleman home, returning to Arnold Monday. They attended the Coleman picnic Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Smith and daughters Darlene and Shirley spent most of the week in Grand Island. Ivan was called as a federal juror from this vicinity.

Miss Arva Davis, Mrs. Jim Runyon and daughter, Fern Runyon of Mason City, were callers at Mrs. Tena Miller's Tuesday. Miss Davis drove to Burwell to see Miss Mildred Hyde, who has been ill in the Cram Hospital since her operation several weeks ago. Later this summer Miss Davis and Miss Iola Newbecker plan to go on a trip through the Black Hills, Denver and other points of interest. They are both teachers in the Taylor school.

Mrs. Dick Sheldon left for her home in Arkansas after a few weeks visit with friends and relatives in Taylor and Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. E. Mason and son Danmie moved from Ord Monday, June 7, into apartments at Mrs. Tena Miller's. Ed runs the caterpillar on the irrigation ditch on which work is to start soon.

Monday Frank Willey and son Bob drove to Whitten, S. D., to visit his sister. They came home by way of Lynch, Nebr., and visited his mother and other relatives, arriving home Thursday.

Thursday of last week Mr. and Mrs. John Ralls and daughter Norma Lee took the school bus and took seventeen ministers to a ministers' meeting in Anderson, Ind. The Ralls' will visit in Indiana and Illinois.

S. E. Wixson and son Darrell of Lincoln were in Taylor the first of the week visiting at the R. B. Fleming and C. O. Fleming homes. Mrs. R. B. Fleming and S. E. Wixson are sister and brother. Mr. Wixson and son left Wednesday for Wilsontonville.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Alder drove to Omaha Thursday, June 10, to bring their daughter home. She has been attending the Omaha school for the deaf. They returned home Friday. Miss Francis Haak of Long Pine came with them, having attended the same school. Miss Haak's parents were Sunday dinner guests in the Alder home taking their daughter with them when they returned home in the evening.

Ora Clark of York came to see his mother, Mrs. S. B. Clark who has been in ill health for some time. He took her with him when he returned to York.

Max Beals left Wednesday for the home of his uncle, Clarence Hoobler in Texas where he has employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Worden and Mr. and Mrs. Will Heins and three children of Mottley, Minn., spent the past week visiting at the William Weber home and visiting other relatives. Mrs. Worden and Mrs. Weber are sisters. They were dinner guests at the George Stevens home Tuesday and took supper at John Clay's. Mrs. Heins and Mrs. Clay are cousins. Friday relatives and friends of the Worden and Heins families, about sixty-five in number met at Sioux Creek with well filled lunch baskets for a picnic. They left for their home Saturday morning.

Will Bromwich and daughter, Mrs. Guy Fletcher drove to Broken Bow to meet Mr. Bromwich's niece, Mrs. Karl Jones of Seattle, Wash., who came in on the train. They were supper guests of Mrs. Mable Bromwich and daughter in Broken Bow, returning to Taylor later in the evening. Mrs. Jones expects to remain here visiting relatives for several days. She was formerly Miss Lois Reynolds and

Represents County At Scout Jamboree

John Hawthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne of Arcadia, was 16 years old Friday, June 18, and was over bright and early to buy his driver's license. John is a member of the Boy Scouts, and is the only member in this section who will take the trip to Washington to attend the Boy Scout Jamboree, which is being held there June 30 to July 9. All Nebraska Scouts will assemble in Omaha on June 25, and will leave on a special train to arrive in Chicago on June 26.

There they will be given a bus tour of the city in which many points of interest will be visited. From Chicago they will go on to Detroit, where of course they will have a look at the big automobile factories, always providing the strikers will permit them to do so. From there they go under the Detroit river and across lower Ontario to Niagara Falls, where they will arrive in the evening and see the mighty caracat under the glare of thousands of electric lights.

They will go on to New York, June 28, taking an all day ride down the Hudson river. In New York the evening of the 28th, and all day the 29th they will visit Radio City and other points of interest. Washington arriving in time for the opening of the jamboree, which starts the morning of June 30, and continues through ten full days.

All the Pan-American countries will be represented there, and 20 countries of Europe. John is not certain how he will talk with all these boys, but believes he will manage some way. At the close of the session the Nebraska boys will start for home June 9, coming by way of Chicago once more and arriving in Omaha July 11.

John Hawthorne will be a junior in the Arcadia high school next year. He is interested in athletics playing football and basketball. He is also a student of dramatics, a member of the band, the orchestra and H-Y.

This is the first time she has been here since leaving with her father, A. Reynolds, for the west, when a baby. Her mother was a sister of Mr. Bromwich.

Alvin Gross, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gross of Kent vicinity who has been employed in the Food Center at Burwell, is now manager of the Food Center at Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Cole drove to Grand Island Tuesday, June 15, to meet Mrs. Cole's sister, Mrs. Ray Mack and two sons, Richard and Keith of Mountain View, Calif., who will visit friends and relatives in central Nebraska several weeks. Mrs. Mack was formerly Miss Ruth Sturn.

Quiz photographer Duemey happened to be strolling down the street the other night and saw a blinding light issuing from the windows of the Deacon Wrecking Shop. Although he did not get in on a good fire, he did procure this exceptionally fine night shot of a powerful arc welder at work. You guessed it right—that fellow behind the mask is Deacon.

Allows Only 3 Hits As T. Team Wins 7-4

With Beeghly allowing only three hits, the Ord team stopped a nice working North Loup softball team by a 7 to 4 score last Sunday night.

Both teams were tied up 2-2 at the end of the second inning. In the third frame the Ordites broke loose and literally squashed the Loupers, piling up a total of 6 runs. North Loup threatened to bring the game up to an even standing in the sixth but were held to three runs.

'March of Progress' Parade on July 5 3-4 of a Mile Long

30 Floats Assured and Other Features; Burwell, Ord, Bands Play All Day.

The most important development in Ord's celebration plans during the past week is the addition of Burwell's community band of 60 pieces to the already interesting program. This is the same band that appeared at the Oct. 1 celebration, but they have shown wonderful improvement since that time, and are now equipped with exceptionally classy uniforms. At the meeting Monday evening it was shown that the necessary funds are available to secure them, and there has been a general demand about town that they be added to the program. In addition to playing anywhere and everywhere that their services may be required during the day, this band will unite with the Ord band for a mass concert in the evening, thus making the largest band ever to play in Ord.

B. C. Boquet, parade chairman, has been the busiest man of the entire committee, and as a result of his efforts he was able to announce at the meeting that there will be at least thirty floats in the lineup when the parade gets underway at ten o'clock. Cards with directions are to be furnished each owner of a float, and you should see Mr. Boquet and get yours before the time of the parade. There are enough floats, and specialties, including bands, to make a parade of three-quarters of a mile, and the itinerary will be so arranged that everybody will have ample opportunity to see it all. In addition to the regular floats there will be individuals and groups in costume scattered all along the line of march. Boys who want to decorate their bicycles and ride them in the parade are asked to see Tom Springer.

Ed Kokes should be congratulated for the success he has had in lining up a program of high class free acts. These will take place, both afternoon and evening, on a platform at the front of the court house. These acts include those already advertised, Don and Virginia, tango and apache dancers, Dorothy Sorys, the world's greatest juvenile acrobatic marvel, the four Hawaiian serenaders, Marvel Shackleton, "The Whoopie Girl," the Four Dancing Rosebuds, and one of the world's best ventriloquists. In addition to these Mr. Kokes has managed to obtain a special act or two which will add materially to the already splendid program.

The sports events at the park in the afternoon will not only be a source of amusement to the picnickers, but will also be a means of earning some money for those who enter the various contests. From the printed bills it will be seen that there are a large number of events in which the young people can vie with each other, with good prizes to the winners. The sports are divided into three classes which gives the old, young and middle aged a chance to win. The entire football field will be roped off and those who do not belong in the contests will be kept outside, thus making it possible for all the crowd to see the races.

A. W. Pierce, in charge of the sports for older men, enlisted the help of M. B. Cummins and together they lined up the plans for the horse shoe tournament, which will be pulled off at the park beginning promptly at 1:30 p. m. This contest will be open to the world. Each pitcher will pitch 50 shoes, walking back and forth between pitches, and the highest scores will win the prizes. These will be $5.00 for first, $3.00 for second, $2.00 for third, and prizes of $1.00 each for the next three. There will be four courts and shoes will be furnished for those who have none. However, the management prefers that contestants bring their own shoes.

There will be a large number of picnics of all kinds. There will be family groups, church groups, lodge groups, and a special place will be fenced off for the big American Legion get-together picnic, to which all Legionnaires and their families are cordially invited. The only credentials you need will be a dinner basket and a good appetite. Bachelor Legionnaires are requested to come anyway, as they will be taken care of in some way. A Legionnaire picture will be taken by Photographer Jensen at the Legion Hall at ten o'clock in the morning.

The Waco "D" airplane, Jack Jefford, pilot, will be on hand all day, and in the evening a half hour of death-defying stunts will be put on high in the air where all can see. The closing event of the day will be "Little Gene" and his orchestra with amplifier playing for a big pavement dance in the roped off area of paving on the west side of the square. Don't

Foreman on Dam Job Has Foot Smashed

Jess Thomas, of Genoa, foreman for the Western Asphalt Paving Corporation on the diversion dam work being done near the Burlington bridge at Ord, had his left foot badly smashed and fractured Monday when the 2-ton leads on the pile-driver fell on his foot.

Dr. C. W. Weekes, who attended him, says that x-ray pictures show bones in the foot to be fractured. He will be unable to work for 6 to 8 weeks.

Thomas was standing in water which cushioned the blow, otherwise his foot probably would have been so badly smashed that amputation would have been necessary.

Continental Phone Directory Is Ready

The new telephone books of the Continental Telephone company have been printed and are now ready to be turned over to the company. There are approximately 1000 names in the Ord phone section, 300 in the Burwell section and 350 in the North Loup section. As last year the Ord section is printed on white paper, the Burwell on pink paper and the North Loup on yellow paper. The company is getting these books out to the subscribers as rapidly as possible this week. Books are being mailed to town subscribers, and farmers are requested to call at the office and get their copy of the book as soon as possible.

Thomas C. Grimes, Retired Educator, Claimed By Death

Headed Schools of Ericson, North Loup; Death Came in the Ord Hospital.

Confined to bed only two days although his health had been poor for several years, Thomas C. Grimes, 78, well known central Nebraska educator, died at the Ord hospital Saturday, June 26. Formerly superintendent of schools in Ericson, North Loup and other Nebraska towns, Mr. Grimes had been living at Ericson since his retirement from active work. Funeral rites were held Monday at the family home in Broken Bow and interment was in Broken Bow cemetery.

Thomas Cecil Grimes, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Grimes, was born Feb. 23, 1859 in Paynesville, Mo., and in 1883 was married to Miss Etta Currie at Clarksville, Mo. Four sons and one daughter were born to them. Mrs. Grimes passed away at North Loup in 1927 and two sons, John and Russell, and the daughter, Beulah, preceded both their parents in death. Surviving children are Claude and Homer, of Beatrice.

Mr. Grimes served four years as superintendent of schools of Cedar county, fourteen years as Custer county superintendent, and headed the city schools of Hartington, Bloomfield, Brock, Callaway and St. Helena, as well as those of Ericson and North Loup, during his career as an educator. His last position was at Ericson.

Although he had not been in the best of health for several years, Mr. Grimes never complained of his illness. He was a member of the Christian church and of the Masonic lodge. A great lover of the outdoors, Mr. Grimes kept his interest in all forms of sport until the end. His disposition was kindly and he was popular with all who knew him.

Legion Recreation Project Develops

Fred Stoddard, director of the American Legion recreation project, desires the public to know that archery classes will be held at the fair grounds from 4:00 to 8:00 p. m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Both visitors and bowmen are welcome.

Mr. Kennedy of Hastings will be here for two weeks as special playground director. He has with him special equipment for new games that will be of interest. Play activity will be at the Legion hall each evening from 4:00 to 6:00. Any change in the schedule will be noted upon the bulletin board there.

Owing to the distance to the park it is not thought advisable to take the children there to play, as they would be worn out with the trip and not enjoy the play period. However, should the parents feel like furnishing transportation for them a few nights a week, they could be taken there to play.

IMPORTANT NOTICE!
All who take part in the celebration parade see B. C. Boquet for a card, giving a number, the time and place to be for entering the parade. The time is set for the parade to start, and if you are not there the parade will start anyway.

Small Grain Crop Will Be Pitifully Small This Season

Wheat Winter-killed, Barley, Oats Died in Hot Winds; Corn Looking Good.

While reports of bumper crops of small grain and high prices paid for it drift in from other parts of the state and nation, farmers of Valley county this week are resigned to harvesting the smallest crop of wheat, oats and barley in many years.

Few fields of wheat were planted last fall because of moisture shortage and most of the fields planted winter killed. Spring wheat, hampered first by lack of moisture, died last week when six days of searing heat followed one another.

One Ord grain buyer said Tuesday that he doubts if Valley county has 500 acres of wheat worth harvesting. Oats, this same man said, will make from 9 to 15 bushels per acre at best and barley will be less than half a crop. His report is confirmed by the statements of farmers who have visited the Quiz office.

So far as corn is concerned the picture is much more rosy, this crop looking the best on June 30 that it has in many seasons. But even this picture is marred by the presence of grasshoppers, which appear to be taking a heavy toll of corn, and by the spectre of drought and July hot winds.

Last Friday's 1-2 inches of rain was a life-saver and succeeding cool days gave corn a chance to revive and also discouraged activity of hoppers. First three days of this week have been hot but top temperature recorded has been in the 90's, in contrast to last Wednesday when it soared to a season's high mark of 105.

County Agricultural Agent C. C. Dale said this morning that the grasshopper situation is "extremely serious." First carload of poison bran, which arrived two weeks ago, has been used up and a second carload has not yet arrived. The mill which furnishes bran to the government is behind with contracts and cannot be certain when shipment to Ord can be made. In the mixture are here but without bran they are useless in combating the grasshopper menace.

From Charles Urban, farmer near Olean, comes one suggestion for combating hoppers. "Don't cut weeds along the roads," says Urban. Right now most of the hoppers are feeding on roadside and fence row growth and cutting this is sure to send them into growing crops in larger numbers he believes.

First Aid Course Gets Under Way

First meeting of students in the beginning course in first aid as sponsored by the Valley county chapter of the Red Cross was held last Friday evening with about 25 turning out for the initial meeting. Dr. F. G. Kruml was in charge of the meeting, this being his third time in teaching the first aid course during the past year. No lessons were taken up in the first meeting, which was merely an "organizer," however classes will get down to serious study at their next meeting.

Mrs. Lester Kiser Dies In Hospital

Mary G. Dickenson was born at Ericson, October 16, 1891, and died at the University hospital, Omaha, June 25, 1937, being at the time of her death 46 years, 8 months and 9 days of age. She was married to Lester Kiser January 2, 1910, at Greely. To this union were born four children, John, Leonard, Wilbur and Lavina. She had lived in Wheeler and Garfield county all her married life.

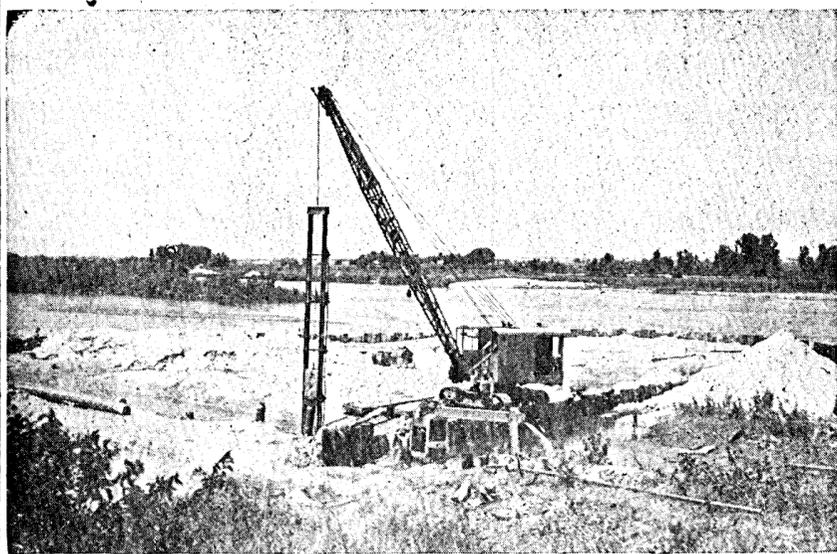

She leaves to mourn her loss her loving husband, 4 children already named, her mother Mrs. Eva Dickenson of Ericson, three sisters and three brothers: Mrs. W. W. Fair, Mrs. Hall, Henry Dickenson and Milton Dickenson, all of Martin, S. D.; Mrs. Mabel Harris of Mountain Grove, Mo.; Melvin Hickman of Bartlett, besides other relatives and friends.

She was a devoted wife and mother, always ready and willing to help anyone in trouble. She had the happy faculty of seeing the bright side of life, and had a smile for everybody. The funeral services were held from Sowl's chapel Tuesday morning at 10:30, conducted by Rev. Mearl C. Smith, and interment was at North Loup.

No Band Concert July 7.
As the Ord city band will give a concert at the July 5th celebration, no concert will be given by the band on the usual Wednesday evening. Concerts will continue the following week as per schedule.

Work on Diversion Dam Gets Under Way East of Ord

Full speed ahead! That's the password of irrigation project workers as the "big ditch" comes nearer and nearer to reality every day. This photo, taken late Tuesday afternoon shows the beginning of work on the diversion dam being built a short distance north of the C. B. & Q. railroad bridge south of Ord. The monstrous steel upright which you see below the arm of the catapillar derrick is a shaft which guides a steel hammer for pounding heavy creosoted wood and steel piling into the river bed. In the picture one of the large wood piles is being driven although the piling which encircles the machine is not wood, but heavy gauge interlocking steel.

As the machine moves out into the river it makes its own road, piling up sand and wood before it as it moves along. Work started only last week and engineers say it will be only a short time before the machine will be digging away in the middle of the river. Work will be carried on in this locality all summer.

Raymond Gass Dies At Hiff, Colorado

Raymond Gass was born at Montour, Iowa, September 18, 1871, and passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Sam Matthews at Hiff, Colo., June 28, 1937, being 65 years, 9 months and 10 days of age at the time of his death. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gass, and came to Valley county with his parents about 55 years ago. He was married to Jennie Blessing in March 1893, and to this union six daughters were born, all of who survive him. They are Gladys Grimes and Vera Matthews of Hiff, Colo.; Bernice Bish and Catherine of Lincoln and Mrs. Mildred Anderson and Mrs. Jean Porter of Ord. Also surviving is his sister, Mrs. Laura Wilcox, and a number of other relatives. His three brothers, Carlton, Arthur and Fred, and a sister, Mrs. Mae Holloway, preceded him in death.

Ericson Farmer Shoots Himself

Joy Warner, a farmer 28 years of age living near Ericson, committed suicide Friday afternoon by shooting himself in the head with a 22 caliber rifle. He was well to do, but has been in poor health, which is thought to have been the cause of the deed. He drove out into his pasture in the car, and committed the act at a point about 1 1/2 miles from the house. He had been farming in partnership with his brother Leon. He was married some two years ago to the former Ruth Baker of North Loup, who with the 4 month old baby, survives him. His father, Jonas Warner, former Ericson banker, 82 years of age, lives at Hastings. Also surviving are several brothers and sisters. His mother preceded him in death several years ago. Funeral services were held from the Cedar Valley church southeast of Ericson Sunday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the Pibal Lake cemetery.

District Livestock Judging At Ansley

The 4th district livestock judging day was held at Ansley Tuesday. Representatives were present from six counties. The judging was not in the nature of a contest but was a day of practice under the direction of experts from the agricultural college. W. L. Koenig of North Loup took three boys from that town, Merlyn Johnson, Merlyn VanHorn and Harold Schudel. County Agent C. C. Dale and agriculture teacher, J. A. Kovanda each took a load of boys from Ord. Those going from here were Robert Miller, Allen Packer, Harvey Krahulik, Eldon Kokes, Leroy Zikmund, Richard Fish, Everett Williams and James Flynn.

UNION SUNDAY SERVICES WILL BEGIN NEXT SUNDAY

Union Sunday night services will be held during July and August, the churches of Ord cooperating and the ministers taking their turns in speaking.

They will be held on the lawn of the United Brethren church as in former years, at 8 o'clock each Sunday evening. This location has been well equipped for such services by installing flood lights on the roof of the church, high enough from the ground so the bugs will not interfere with the worshippers.

Rev. S. A. Woodruff will speak next Sunday night, and other speakers will take their turns from week to week. A music committee representing the four churches will plan the music.

In Police Court.
June 23 Elwin Auble was fined $1.00 and costs of $4.50 on a reckless driving charge. The same day Marvin Wilson was fined the same amount in fine and costs on a similar charge, all of which was paid.

Most Stores Closing At Noon on July 5th

For the convenience of customers, most of the leading stores of Ord have decided to remain open on Monday, July 5 until noon and then remain closed the remainder of the day so employees may take part in and observe celebration features, the Quiz is asked to announce. These closing hours were recommended by the retailers' committee of the chamber of commerce.

Service institutions such as soda fountains, beer parlors, cigar stores, gas stations, and the like, are planning to stay open throughout the day.

New Car Agency Opens.

Frank Myers, formerly of Broken Bow, has charge of the Willys car agency which opened this week in Ord. The agency will have headquarters in the Williams bus depot.

Ericson Farmer Shoots Himself

Joy Warner, a farmer 28 years of age living near Ericson, committed suicide Friday afternoon by shooting himself in the head with a 22 caliber rifle. He was well to do, but has been in poor health, which is thought to have been the cause of the deed. He drove out into his pasture in the car, and committed the act at a point about 1 1/2 miles from the house. He had been farming in partnership with his brother Leon. Funeral services were held from the Cedar Valley church southeast of Ericson Sunday afternoon and the body laid to rest in the Pibal Lake cemetery.

Judge Woodworth Of Arcadia Passes

Funeral services are being held today at Arcadia for Judge Everett Woodworth, who passed away Saturday at the Loup City hospital. He was 83 years of age, and death was due to a stroke suffered the day before his death. He was an early day settler in the Clear creek community and at the time of his death was the owner of the old Mitchell ranch, the scene of the early day lynching of Luther M. Mitchell and Aml Ketchum.

Misko Condemnation Suit Is Settled

June 24 in the court of John L. Andersen, county judge, the case of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, vs. Henry Misko, Mrs. Misko, William Misko and Ed. F. Kolar was heard. The appraisers were John G. Bremer, Guy Burrows, Joseph Rohla, Joseph Sershen and L. J. Auble. The amount of land under litigation was 6.69 acres, a part of the northeast quarter of section 12, township 19, range 14 west. After looking the land over carefully the appraisers made the following settlements: $515.00 to Henry Misko; $1.00 to Mrs. Misko; $25.00 to Ed. F. Kolar, tenant, and $4.00 to Valley county for taxes. Through his attorney William Misko asked for no damages, which request was granted.

24 Benches Donated By Ord Merchants

Twenty-four bright green benches will offer spectators restful sitting places for July 5th festivities in Ord next Monday. These benches are 8 feet long and have the name of the firm which donated them lettered on the back of each. They will be placed on the court house lawn the night before the celebration so that they may be used all day the 5th.

North Loup Project Now Employing 350 Men, Report Shows

Middle Loup Also Has Large Number Working; Relief Rolls Exhausted.

That approximately 350 men are now working on the North Loup power and irrigation project in its various phases is shown by a report issued yesterday by Richard H. Mills, manager of the National Reemployment Service for Valley and Garfield counties. The Middle Loup project also is employing 150 to 200 men.

Total number referred to North Loup project contractors upon their requisitions for labor is 376, Mills report discloses. Of this number 246 are classified as common labor and 130 as skilled labor. All common laborers are Valley and Garfield county men and all except 30 of the 130 skilled laborers are men whose homes are within the confines of the district. "How many men do you have available for work within the North Loup district," Mills was asked by the Quiz. "Hundreds of them," he answered.

Later he disclosed that all men on the relief rolls in counties within the district have been put to work. Of course there are many other men listed as unskilled laborers in Valley, Garfield and Loup counties who will be given work as need for a larger number of laborers arises.

Without exception, all skilled workmen within the district who want jobs have been given them, Mills states. A shortage of carpenters developed and a few were imported from the Kearney district.

Contractors now working on the North Loup project include W. J. Assenmacher Co., Bushman Construction Co., Hills Construction Co., Litwiller Construction Co., Edward E. Morgan Co., Orsherk-Christensen Co., and the Western Asphalt Paving Corporation. Inland Construction Co., who hold a sizeable contract, have not yet put men to work and none of the contractors except possibly Orsherk & Christensen have reached their "peak" of employment.

Largest force now working is employed by the latter firm, they having requisitioned 127 unskilled laborers and 23 skilled laborers through the NRS. Not all these men work at one time, however, but their average daily force is estimated by Mills at from 85 to 95 men. Another large employer of labor on the North Loup project is the Morgan outfit to whom 103 unskilled and 51 skilled workmen have been referred by the NRS.

None of the figures above given include supervisors or foremen brought in by the contractors, nor do they include office workers for the district or employees of Black & Veatch.

The Western Asphalt Paving Corporation, who have the contract for diversion dams and began work last week near Ord, are being delayed by failure of structural steel and creosoted posts to arrive. They were working only a few men yesterday where they had expected to have a force of 50 or more on the job. Bushman Construction Co. expects to have a daily force of 40 or more men working soon, NRS Director Mills says, while Assenmacher and the Inland people will have large forces at work soon.

Later it may be necessary to import more skilled workmen from outside the district but there is an ample supply of unskilled workmen in Valley, Garfield and Loup counties adequately to supply all requirements.

Latest figures available from the Middle Loup project are for the week of June 6-12, since considerably increased. At that time Inspector Wiggins of Arcadia discloses that the payroll of men working for contractors totaled $1,931 for the week. There were 22 men working for the Henningsen Engineering Co., 44 for the Loek Joint Pipe company, 12 for Koehler Construction Co., 65 for Morrison-Knudsen company and 8 for the Dobson-Humphreys Co.

RA Office Is Again Headed by McMIndes

Lores McMIndes, who for the past few months has been serving as assistant to E. R. Crowley in the Resettlement office in Valley county, this week was notified of his appointment as head of the office. Crowley was transferred to Loup City to take charge of RA work in Sherman county.

Catches Wallere in Loup.
Jesse Kovanda was in the Quiz office last week displaying a nice three-pound walleyed pike which he hooked on a set line about three miles up the river. It seems a little early for pike to be biting here but Kovanda explains that they will bite anytime in the year whenever cold, rainy weather prevails.

Janitors Go On "Sparrowing Party"

Ord public school janitors, Harry Wolf, Ralph Hatfield, and Oscar Goff, went on a "sparrowing" party last Friday morning—and they certainly had luck! On the west end of the high school a huge cluster of ivy is growing up the side of the building. This is a sparrows' paradise.

Getting a couple of extension ladders the janitors went to work. When finished the janitors had about three bushel baskets of nests knocked down and which were later burned. The above picture shows Wolf knocking one of the nests down while Ralph Hatfield starts in on the "doity" work of carrying them out to the incinerator.

A miscellaneous shower was held Friday afternoon, June 25 in honor of Victoria Kusek, who became the bride of Henry Zeski of Grand Island on the following Monday. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts. Each guest was asked to bring her favorite recipe for the bride to be and it was also arranged for each to embroider their name on a ribbon which was later made up into a pillow and given to the honored lady. Refreshments were served in the late afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cook and daughter spent Sunday evening with the Lou Zabloudil family. Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Vodehnal spent Thursday at Ed Tvrdik's and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Zabloudil spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Tvrdik.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

25 Years Ago This Week. Miss Grace Fackler of Ord and W. G. Rood, editor of the North Loup Loyalist were married. There was a mighty good ball game between Scotia and Ord on the home grounds, with Scotia winning 5 to 4. Cushing was missing from the Ord lineup. Betty Due McClellan was married at North Loup to Homer Sample, Rev. E. A. Wells performing the ceremony. A team of horses belonging to Murray Cornell and driven by little Jimmy Sinkler, ran away. The wagon was pretty well torn to pieces and Jimmy was picked up in a stunned condition. Will Siler was taken to Omaha for an operation for gall stones and appendicitis. W. W. Ward of Grace was aboard the Burlington on his way to California. Chris Busse had been visiting the Henry Geweke family. He went down to Lincoln and from there went to his home in Wisconsin. James Travis, manager of the Balley and Detweller store in Scotia, bought a store in Cotesfield, trading his Ord property for it. Looce Seerley returned to Ord from Washington state, called here by the shooting of his brother Trel at Grand Island. There were speeders in those days too. Archie Keep, C. E. Rasmussen, Barney Bricker and Clark Lamberton were arrested and fined two dollars each for speeding while taking passengers to the ball game. Bet they weren't going half as fast as everybody goes now. A Miss Watson was in the city in the interests of chautauqua program which was scheduled to begin August 15. How many young folks know what a chautauqua is? Don't all speak at once. Earl Rosenberg, baritone, and Floyd W. Robbins, pianist, were scheduled for an appearance at the Bohemian hall Saturday night. John Wall was in the city, bringing his brother, Judge Wall of Loup City with him in his big car. 40 Years Ago This Week. All the country correspondents had comical names under which to write. North Loup was "Once Again," Mira Creek was "Amusement," Arcadia was "Whiskers," Pleasant Valley was "Alpha," Davis Creek was "Cornfield Canary," Manderson was "Country Gentleman," Ida was "Tattletale" also "Doris," Springdale was "Tommy" and Yale was "Uncle." A flood of water coming down Dane Creek from a heavy rain damaged the water pipe leading across the creek and the town was out of water for several days. John Wilson Gregory and Miss Rebecca Tucker were married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Weaver, 25 years ago today. The following were members of the county board: John Ficht, William H. Moses, Jorgen Miller, H. C. Perry, H. A. Chesse, A. B. Cress and E. T. Gardner. Don't know about the rest, but Bill Moses is still with us. Miss Muri Firkins celebrated her ninth birthday. Miss Edith Robbins planned to attend the Moody Bible class at Geneva Lake, Wis. The Quiz reported that there would be a big wheat crop in Mira Valley. There were sure. L. D. Timmerman said that an old basket with the bottom out that he had thrown out in the yard was more than half full of water after the recent rain. Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Bailey and son Clarence started on a western trip that would take them to California for a six weeks' stay. A lot of controversy in regard to whether there was any water in the Burwell irrigation ditch or not. There probably was not. C. B. Walton was advertising the "Electric Churn" which, strangely enough was not run by electricity at all, and the juice was not available. Regular meeting of the County Board of Equalization of Valley County, Nebraska, called to order on June 15th, 1937 at 10:00 o'clock A. M., by Chairman, with supervisors Jablonski, Suchanek, Bremer, Zikmund, Ball, Barber, Hansen and County Assessor Brox present upon roll call—County Clerk Klima being absent and represented by Deputy County Clerk Rusk. Minutes of last meeting held in June—1937 read and approved. The Chairman then appointed the following standing committees to-wit: Committee on Equalization: Jablonski, Ball, Zikmund, Brox. Committee on Complaints: Barber, Bremer, Suchanek. Committee on Levies: Bremer, Suchanek, Ball, Klima. Report of County Assessor Brox pertaining to his work for the current year read to board. Motion that same be placed on file duly carried. The Board as a whole then took up the matter of reviewing the assessments as returned by the various precinct assessors for the day and at 5:00 o'clock P. M. recessed until June 16th, 1937 at 10:00 A. M. Meeting called to order by Chairman upon roll call all members present except County Clerk Klima who was represented by Deputy County Clerk Rusk. Continued hearing and checking complaints.

Written request of Alfred A. Wiegardt, Chairman, Board of Trustees, The Christian Church, Ord, Nebraska, asking that the Christian Church Parsonage described as South one-half of Lot One, Block 44, Original Ord which is temporarily rented to private individual, the church at present time having no minister, be stricken from the tax rolls read to board. Upon roll call of board request not granted and property left on tax rolls. Moved and seconded that inasmuch as Board has sat for three days for the purposes of hearing and considering complaints and objections in all matters of assessment and equalization, that all complaints and or objections not on file at 5:00 o'clock P. M. be barred. Motion carried. Committee on complaints then submitted the following report: We, your committee on complaints for the year 1937, wish to make the following report of our investigation of the following complaints and make the following recommendations: Complaint No. 1. Geo. Vavra complains that Lot 8, Block 7, Original Ord and Div. EE in Sec. 21-19-14 assessed too high as compared with surrounding property. Find no cause for complaint. Complaint No. 2. C. W. Recommend lowering $500.00. Complaint No. 13. V. V. Robbins complains that Div. "T" in Lot 2 suburban addition to North Loup assessed too high in comparison to value and other property of like nature. Find no cause for complaint. Complaint No. 14. John Lola complains that land and improvements on NE 1/4 of Sec. 9-19-16 assessed too high in comparison to adjacent lands and buildings. Recommend lowering improvements $100.00. Complaint No. 15. Alfred Wiegardt representing the Christian Church of Ord complains that S 1/2 of Lot 1 n Block 44 assessed too high in comparison to revenue received in view of fact that said revenue is used entirely for church work. Find no cause for complaint. Respectfully submitted, J. A. Barber, John G. Bremer, J. V. Suchanek. Upon motion duly carried, the foregoing report was accepted as read. The committee on equalization then submitted the following report: We, your committee on equalization, wish to submit the following report to-wit: We recommend that schedule No. 250 of the 1937 personal assessments of 1st ward Ord City be raised $500.00. We recommend that schedule No. 257 of the 1937 personal assessments of 2nd ward Ord City be raised $2565.00. We recommend that schedule No. 5 of the 1937 personal assessments of 3rd ward Ord City be raised $2250.00. We recommend that schedule No. 188 of the 1937 personal assessments of Arcadia Village be raised $700.00. We recommend that schedule No. 163 of the 1937 personal assessments of North Loup Village be raised $1410.00. We recommend that all lands crossed by the main line canals of The North or Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation Districts be allowed a reduction covering the number of acres taken by said right-of-ways where deeds to same are on file in the office of the County Clerk of Valley County on or before June 1, 1937. Further that the valuation per acre shall be those contained in the special appraisers report now on file in the office of the County Assessor. We recommend that the 1937 personal assessments as returned by the various precinct assessors be declared fair and equitable on and after the foregoing changes have been made. We recommend that all motor vehicle assessments for 1937 be approved when same have been assessed in accordance with the standard of values thereon as certified to the County Assessor from the State Tax Commissioner. We recommend that the adjusted valuations of farm lands within city school districts and lying outside the corporate limits of such cities or villages as ordered by this Board in 1936 be retained for the year 1937 and be declared a fair and equitable valuation upon such lands. We recommend that the petition signed by the Assessors of Ord City raising the valuations on certain lands and or lots in the City of Ord be approved and that the County Assessor be authorized to correct those assessment rolls in those amounts. Joe J. Jablonski (Signed) Ellsworth Ball, Jr. Henry Zikmund A. R. Brox. Upon motion duly carried, foregoing report was accepted as read. Upon motion duly carried, meeting recessed subject to call of the Chairman. Lloyd W. Rusk, Deputy County Clerk and acting clerk of Equalization Board. WILL THE FARMER STRIKE

We are living in the midst of an era of strikes. They started some six months ago, and nowadays the organization which has not staged some kind of a strike is hopelessly behind the times. Strikes have been called for every reason under the sun, and in many cases for no reason at all. Organizations that have been drawing a better wage than for years make up their minds to strike for higher wages, shorter hours or both.

No doubt in some cases these strikes are justified, but in many there is no excuse. For example the roofers organization in Omaha, where the wage scale already called for 90c per hour, struck for $1.05 per hour. If they had won, in a short time they would have struck again for $1.25 per hour. Any man drawing a wage of 90c per hour can keep his family in comfort.

Any man who, offered a high wage, not only refuses to work, but insists on keeping others from working is a menace to civilization. Our entire national structure is founded upon industry. Industry may be defined as the expenditure of energy toward the accomplishment of some desired result. He who blocks the progress of industry in any respect is an enemy of mankind.

The latest organization, and the one in which the farmer is directly interested, is known as "The Brotherhood of Harvest Workers of Southeast Nebraska." They have set a minimum wage of 40c per hour and board and lodging, and will refuse to work for less. This writer has worked in harvest fields over a period of nearly forty years, not all the time, of course, but enough to know what going wages have been in that time. In all those years, most of them far more prosperous than now we never received forty cents per hour and expenses, and don't recall anyone who did.

The man who asks such a wage tacitly admits that the farmer is entitled to the same price, but the farmers would do well to make $4.00 per week instead of $4.00 per day. In fact, most of them have been going behind for five years or more. Why don't the farmer strike, sit down and refuse either to work his land or to let anyone else work it until he gets a living wage?

The reason is simple. The farmers are God's noblemen. They live close to the land that He made and they have a broader point of view. To the farmer, idleness is sin. So whether he makes or loses he keeps on trying just the same. In spite of disappointments he never forgets the promise that "seedtime and harvest shall not fail." Perhaps he is foolish. If he is, would that all mankind were fools.

THE DEADLY PARALLEL

While being moved from Omaha to Lincoln not long ago, the household goods of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Bates, together with the truck in which they were being hauled, were destroyed by strikers. They had ordered a blockade, and took to arson to see that their orders were enforced. All the Bates household goods, family keepsakes, household silver and surplus clothing were sacrificed to the god of might, and to the end that the few might rule the many. So far as can be learned nothing has been done about it. Possibly nothing can be done.

Reverting to the Battle of Peble Creek we find a deadly parallel. The Indians note everything the settlers had. What they did not destroy they carried away. A battle was fought and a life lost to teach the ignorant savages that property rights are sacred. Today we enjoy the blessings of civilization among which seem to be the destruction of transportation, the abridgment of the privilege of working for a living, and the destruction of personal property. No wonder the old folks say, "Them was the good old days."

SLAVES TO CUSTOM.

Man, in whatever environment we find him, is a slave to custom. Habits of the right kind are invaluable, and we could not take our place in the race of life if we did not have them. But the sad thing about it is, that we permit fogginess to dominate our lives for years after their usefulness has come to an end.

One of these habits, which perhaps should never have been started in the first place, is that of playing tricks on the neighbors at hallowe'en time. It has always been an expensive habit, and always created keen annoyance to persons whom under ordinary circumstances you would not think of injuring in any way. But away back in the dark ages when everybody believed in witches, the custom was started, and it is still carried on by persons of weak mind. Another which may or may not have had reasonable ground for being is the celebration of Independence Day by the use of fireworks. This custom doubtless started at the close of the Revolutionary war in America, although there is reason to believe that it was indulged in more or less ever since the invention of gunpowder. In spite of the fact that fireworks cause death to many and permanent injury to hundreds more every year, their use is persisted in.

A wise city council decreed that Ord should no longer pay toll to this dangerous habit, but we have ordinances that prohibit the use of fireworks in Ord. Every parent should rejoice that this is so, and they doubtless do. But fireworks can be bought, and so long as they can be obtained, youngsters will buy them. Let us hope that the recent arrest and punishment for a violation of the fireworks ordinance may put a check to this foolishness.

Dear Quiz:
As I sat down at my typewriter on the front porch to write this weekly screed, I noticed our two old loons piloting their two bubbles about out in front, just beyond the end of the dock, which is a lot closer than they usually come and I wished John Ward was here to try to get a picture though it would be a hard job, for they are very wild.

The loons were here when we came and we saw them every day. Then for a while we would only see one of them at a time and we began to look for their nest, which we located on a low pile of mud just out of the water on the gravel bar which extends almost half way across the lake down the lake about a third of a mile. It had two eggs greenish brown with black speckles. The nest was a pile of rushes and moss with a little mud daubed on it to hold the rushes together when the waves washed over it as they seemed to do at times.

The loons are black or very dark brown with checks of white on the back and wings and white on the lower side of the body. They weigh from eight to twelve pounds, have short wings, quite a long neck, small head and sharp bill which is used for a spear in catching their food, mostly fish. Our bird book says they use their wings under water as well as their webbed feet and that they can go through the water faster than they can go through the air and they fly fast, and that they can overtake the fastest swimming fish.

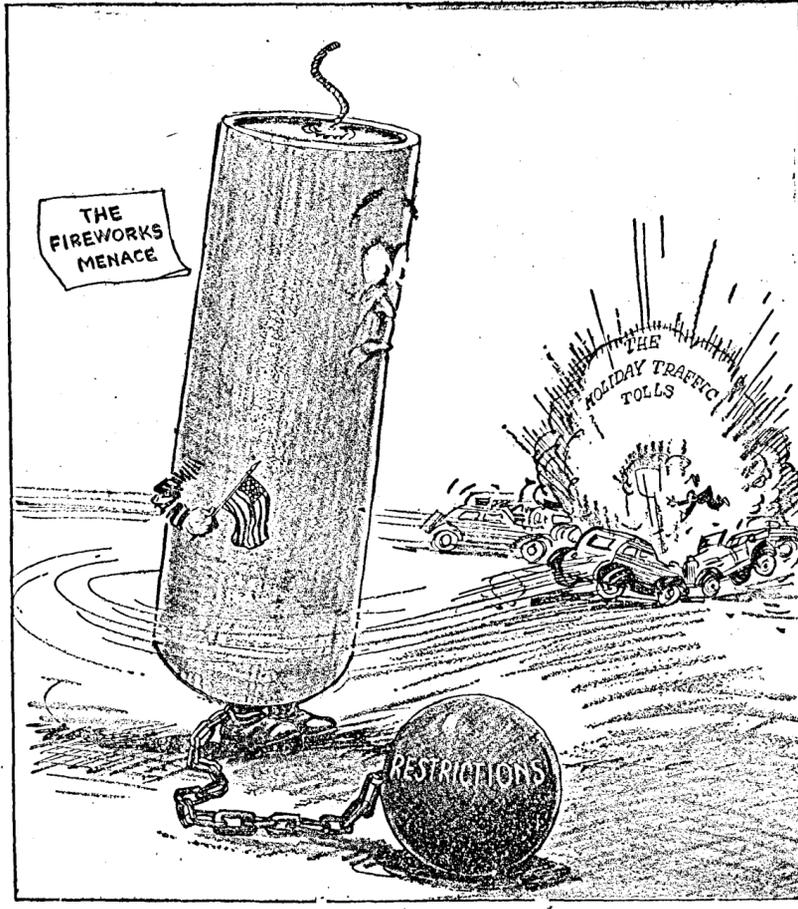

When the little loons first hatched we saw them riding on the back of one of the old loons for several days. Now they seem to spend all their time on the water and probably the old birds are teaching them to catch their own food. They range up and down the lake and sometimes we don't see them for three or four days, then we will see them most any time for several days in this end of the lake. There appears to be just this one pair of loons on this lake and perhaps the loons hold a convention somewhere south where they spend the winter, and apportion the lakes out to certain ones. There are ten thousand lakes in Minnesota that would take care of that many pairs of the birds.

I read in the Quiz that the Lake Erickson bass went on a strike, meaning that they refused to strike when the season opened, confusing as that statement seems. Well, perhaps bass are a good deal alike all over for they did much the same here. At any rate a novice can't go out and get his limit of all big ones in a couple of hours, but I believe he could a month ago. The Missus and I went to Upper Cullen yesterday and caught a box of fish which we are sending to the kids. The box consists of four bass, half a dozen crappies and one big black bullhead and a bunch of nice bluegills, making a very nice looking box of fish. We wanted to include some walleyes, but failed to do them just at the right time and so have to defer sending them till the next box goes forward. In starting the trip to the upper lake I checked everything to see that nothing that I would need was missing, for sometimes I go in a hurry and forget bait, minnows, rod or something. But I forgot to check the gas in the motor and just as we got to the place on the Lundborg point where we were going to try for bass, the motor stopped. The Missus was fireman and engineer combined and remarked, "Well, I was just ready to stop anyhow. It was very accommodating." But after making our catch and as the sun was sinking behind a bank of black clouds in the west I said we had better travel for home or we will be late. She cranked the motor. No response. Then she jerked the cord time after time, got tired and said I would have to start it. Kidding her about not being able to get it started, I took the cord and gave a big jerk. No response when I knew there should be and I also knew by the sound that the tank was empty. Looked and sure enough my worst fears were realized and I set about rowing a mile and a half home, resolved that I would not forget to check the gas again. I always have to make that mistake about once each season.

Acme of Hard Luck.
After driving 900 miles without mishap to deliver an International truck to Otto Nelson, dealer in St. Edward, a young man from the factory shaved the cab off the truck as he drove through the door of the Nelson garage. He had been hauling the truck with the front wheels hoisted on his own pickup and there was not sufficient clearance in the garage door to let him enter in that fashion. Mr. Nelson did not accept the damaged truck and the driver returned with it to the factory.

AND STILL NEITHER SAFE NOR SANE

We were expecting Vernie Anderson and wife, Harold Strombom and wife and Freeman Haught and wife early Sunday and had invited them for a fish dinner. They are occupying the Clements cottage for a week. Bad roads slowed their progress and it was nearly two p. m. when they drove in. They said they had a pleasant trip, made necessarily slow because of rough roads most of the way and wet roads wherever there was gravel. I hope they are having a good time and that they will take a pleasing report back to their Ord friends when they go. They are eating all the fish they want and I guess catching more than they can eat, but I have not heard of their catching any big ones. Doubtless some of the fish being caught still increase in size by the time they reach home though. Fish should grow, you know. I have known of fish making remarkably fast growth at times after being caught. The boys are on Big Bass lake today.

Mr. and Mrs. George Osborn of Omaha drove in late Sunday night and are occupying the Fenner cottage for a week. They say this morning that they will stay till Sunday. They are having very good luck I believe, with their fishing.

Mrs. Robert Humphreville and son Carl and wife and their two children arrived yesterday from their home at Clarinda, Ia. Mr. Humphreville couldn't come at this time, as his brother-in-law and partner in the jewelry business is ill and unable to look after the business.

A shipment of furniture arrived yesterday for Dr. Gelow and a letter to Ray Luther said they would come the 26th so their cottage will soon be opened. There are several still unoccupied but I understand that the Ross Lakins will arrive probably today. The first of next week we are expecting Irma and Flora and the three children and after a couple of weeks Eugene and Hil will come and the Missus and I will trek back to Ord to look after things while the young folks complete their vacation.

Well, this seems to tell about all the news of this camp and I presume it will not be of interest except to the few who have been up here and met some of the people mentioned. Oh yes, I forgot to say that it rained an inch or more during last night. It is a delightful day again today, the water is fine to swim in now, there is just breeze enough to make it pleasant, the birds are singing, the air is full of a black and white moth or butterfly just hatched, in fact this place, today, leaves nothing to be desired, or wouldn't it if we could have our children and grandchildren with us here.

Beautiful Lawns.
Never have I seen a more beautiful lawn than that which is around the State House in Lincoln. It is deep heavy grass and without a dandelion in the whole area. I would say it was two inches deep and like a cushion of a thin mattress.

I inquired of a few who thought they knew and they said the new theory is not to clip the lawns so closely as we used to. Some of the new lawn mowers are built not to clip the grass so tight. For the old mowers some firms have a rubber tire to place on the wheels and saves the grass from being cut so near the ground. It is an idea that might be worth thinking of for it seems like the person that spends the most time with their lawns, have the most trouble with it killing out and dandelions.

Pathos.
If there is anything to the fact that our emotions should be changed from sad to glad, back and forth, not too long of one or the other, to balance our minds properly, we in this country surely should be strong.

It has been said that in writing plays for example, there should be a stretch of sadness and then a joke, then the pathos again, and then surprised with more humor. All spring we have felt more encouraged. We felt that we might get a crop this year. We are all so dependent on it. This year is our last straw. Nine out of ten men you meet will say, "If we don't get a crop this year we're going places." We have had just enough moisture all spring to keep crops growing. "Better than a dust storm," we here everywhere.

And then came Wednesday with its wind, and heat, and dust and fury. I happened to have work in town that day and Thursday. I never saw more men more discouraged. Bankers were sitting tight. Everyone was thinking of a better land to move to. People you'd meet would grunt but not smile. In the year of '34, with no hopes of a crop, people thought it won't happen again. But when Wednesday came, we could see visions of a fourth year and that was too much. We remembered the story of the famine in the land of Canaan, of Oliver Twist begging for more soup, and even thought of a dull thud of a pistol held close to the temple.

And then came Friday morning, and the "pitter patter on the window pane." It did not awaken me. I heard my wife singing, "What's the use of our complaining, when it's raining, raining, raining."

Good for One Thing.
It took Gus Wetzel and I some time to decide what good a penny is. A penny would not buy anything we could think of that was worth having and after repeated attempts we knew it would not satisfy kids. A nickel will hardly do that trick any more. But there is one place where a penny does the business. Yes, there's one. Where's that you say? Don't you know? To put in the church collection.

bridge. They are a round pocket of a nest, made of mud stuck on the beams under the bridge and the entrance protrudes out and down so the rain will not enter. One can see the birds peering out the entrance ready to fly if necessary.

Boys who make a business of knocking down birds' nests should not be told of this. Another bird that has been quite prevalent lately is the bluebird. They are not usually plentiful here and are hard to see. They are shy and fly straight and fast, making a few quick strokes with their wings and then floating a distance with the wings closed. The male is dark blue and the female has a brownish tinge. At a distance one might think them a catbird or blackbird. We should all watch closely for them and encourage their residence here, for to see one is always an omen of good luck. I saw two last night just before the rain.

Now is the time to cull your hens, that is, if you have any hens. It is not so difficult when you once get on to it. Sell all those sleek fat hens that stand out prettier than the others. They probably have not been laying all spring and are heavy. If your hens have yellow legs sell those that show yellow in their legs and beak and whose combs are shrunken. Keep those hens whose legs and beak are faded out white, whose combs are big and red, and whose plumage appears ragged and weather beaten. These are the ones that have been laying eggs all spring and are the worst for wear. Feel of their abdomen and with a layer it is soft while a non-layer will be hard and fat, or the pelvic bones pinched and stiff.

Redistribution of Incomes Looms as Definite New Deal Goal

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—Raising fury with those whom the Treasury labels as Tax Evaders Extraordinary, is just a step in the right direction . . . If the right direction is down Roosevelt's Road to Redistribution. The President reiterates that there's a rainbow at the end of the road. He thinks his share-the-wealth program will give a decent standard of living to 40,000,000 persons who have never dared to hope for such a standard before.

Just for good measure, the President's money plan is said by its advocates to be a panacea for depressions and booms. We're told that we shan't have to ride that well worn business cycle any more. There's to be a merry-go-round of money instead. New Deal economists have persuaded Roosevelt it will operate this way: First you put the money in the hands of those who will spend it fastest, meaning those for whom it will buy the necessities of life. Then the grocer or the landlord spends it, and, eventually, it gets into the hands of Mr. J. P. Morgan or somebody.

If the rich man is compelled to pay a big fat slice of his income to the government, then the money will be back in circulation promptly, and once more will turn up in the pockets of the man who will spend it fastest. This is known as the velocity theory of money, and it was one of the things Dr. Townsend had in his plan.

THE President's economist-advisers have neglected almost none of our national problems in considering the redistribution program. They claim for it too that by such legislation as the pending wage and hour bill, employment will be spread to millions, and the wages of millions will be increased, so you'll eliminate the relief problem.

With more people at work for more money, there will be such an increase in national spending that prices will come down, and production schedules will be stepped up to the maximum. Enlarged volume production means a bigger volume of profits, says this school of economists, and the result will be apparent in a bigger national income, which, Roosevelt said at a recent press conference, would make it possible to balance the budget.

It has come to be a well accepted New Deal theory that, for one reason, the government must redistribute incomes so high incomes will not drain off an undue share of buying power into overinvestment. Overinvestment is defined in this case as reserving money for or tying up money in production equipment, which will never be needed unless a consumer market is created first.

Reasoning along these lines, the administration is trying to work out a selective tax scheme which will go after "excess profits." The government wants the intercorporate dividend tax boosted; it sees holding companies as non-productive devices for draining off the wealth and wants them done away with; and it will probably find the idea of upping income taxes a recurrently attractive one.

Mrs. Carl H. Johnson writes, Mr. Leggett wrote sometime ago asking that I write a letter, but I am afraid the weather has grown too warm.

Everyone probably knows that we are about 4,700 feet high, Twenty miles north of us is considered the highest point in the state, 5,000 feet. Then south the elevation is lower and further north at Scottsbluff lower again.

The drive between Kimball and Scottsbluff is very scenic. Have a State Park, buffalo and deer in it. I was reading of the new baby buffaloes, the mothers are so secretive, the keepers couldn't tell, just how many they had.

The CCC have been camped near there, so have done work that has made beautiful drives and a picnic place, in spite of the hours on the shovel and time to wave at the girls passing. We are near two state capitals, Denver, Colo., and Cheyenne, Wyo. Sterling, Colo., and Sidney, are a nice drive.

When you have mentioned buying bread out of Ord, we always wondered why so much laundry money had to go to Grand Island, but I think you have a laundry now. There was a good laundry and creamery, when we came here 13 years ago. Butter and cheese are shipped in large quantities to various points.

Being on the Lincoln highway, tourists abound to the thumb variety. Some thumbs look swollen and discolored. Both Burlington and U. P. have bus lines going through here. One restaurant in 1935 said 22,000 people came in on the U. P. bus. They must help business as they seem to buy everything from doughnuts to shirts. You can tell when they are in town, its the same as the fleet is in.

We have just seen our second June snow in eighteen years we have been here. We had 100 acres of corn in. The snow didn't hurt our corn, but the cold water after seemed to freeze it, and has been slow coming out.

We watch the clouds here for rain, for 100 acres of potatoes, but not much more than when we were in business at Ord, and knew our farmer friends paid according to the moisture, hail, etc.

This is a big country, room for a good many people. Guy Williams of the World Herald writes, "Oh, why did the pilgrims tarry, in a land not worth a cuss. Oh our fathers broke the prairie. But the prairie's break-up."

A People's Cry Heard by God

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 4. Text: Exodus 1:6-14; 2:23-25.

THE story of prosperity and the problems prosperity brings are as old as the human race. The children of Israel, for instance, settled in the Egypt where they had gone from their own famine-stricken land to the help and protection of the powerful Joseph, had an era of great prosperity in their new home.

How terse and powerful are the descriptions in the Bible. How could one convey within a few words so complete a picture of success and prosperity as is conveyed in the words that "the children of Israel were fruitful, and increased abundantly, and multiplied, and waxed exceedingly mighty; and the land was filled with them?"

Just how long this continued is not clear, but about 300 years apparently elapsed from the time of Joseph and the rise of this new dynasty with a king over Egypt "who knew not Joseph."

THEN began one of the great episodes in the long history of anti-Semitic movements. With a swiftness similar to that in our own time with which the Jews have been persecuted and harried or driven from Germany, this new king aroused his subjects to racial prejudice.

With much the same motives and arguments as have been manifested in anti-Jewish movements of our own time, he pointed to the growing power of these Jewish people and the danger that he believed they constituted in the state.

"The people of the children of Israel are more and mightier than we." There was probably more truth in this assertion than there is truth in similar prejudicial statements concerning the Jews today.

In the ancient time, as today, anti-Jewish prejudice took to itself high-sounding phrases and the profession of idealistic ends. Let us deal wisely with them," said this persecuting monarch; but his wisdom consisted in enervating the people, in setting askmasters over them, and in binding them with heavy burdens.

THE persistency and strength of the Jewish people, then as now, were manifest in their continued growth despite their oppression. Bitterness and hard service could not destroy the spirit of that people. In their distress and groaning also, a new spirit began to move among them. They were concerned less about the ease, and comfort, and wealth, that had been taken from them, and they were forced to think of higher things, of freedom and right and truth.

The record is that though earthly covenants had been broken, God heard the groaning of the people, and remembering His covenant with Abraham and Isaac and Jacob, "He saw the children of Israel and took knowledge of them."

The truth is that the people began themselves to be mindful of that covenant. God never forgets or breaks His covenant. His attitude is unchanging, and the people, in their distress, discovered realities that they themselves had forgotten.

News from the State Capitol

BY FRED J. MINDER.

Sidetracked was everything but speculation on the wheat and oat crop as binders and combines cut swath in fields over practically all of Nebraska's grain belt as the 1937 harvest got underway in earnest this week.

The small grain crop is generally conceded to be good: A few localities find bumper yields their reward, others at the other extreme, find efforts hardly worth the cost and field of harvesting but these are extremely few, a check-up of the grain area disclosed. In some parts of the state beating rain and hail took a toll while in others tornadoic winds wrought havoc. By the large, however, Nebraska's small grain growers had occasion to rejoice.

Fighting the dread of black rust it was apparent the hurried ripening of grain brought success. Hot winds with temperatures well over 100 degrees over most of the small grain area aided in the fight and was considered as boon to the growth of Nebraska's real money crop—corn. Most sections of the state had sufficient moisture for the immediate growth of corn and pastures, but in the northwest area where cattle raising is a major project, ranchers looked for more rains to carry them through what is termed an "excellent start" toward a real hay crop and sustained pastures.

Disheartened ranchers over much of the sandhill area expressed amazement at the flourishing growth that followed almost unprecedented rains, and for a month the area where Nebraska's cattle are grazed presented a picture that was most beautiful. Now there is need for more moisture.

In the southeastern part of the state where the wheat and oats crop is reported as very fine, harvest workers banded together on demands for a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour, board and room. A half hundred workers signed an agreement at Auburn whose terms amounted to a "closed shop" for their brotherhood. Pledged to work for the "best interests of the farmers and agricultural laborers" through "mutual understanding and co-operation" the "Brotherhood of Harvest Workers of Southeastern Nebraska" declared it would by peaceful and legal means dissuade and influence any other harvest workers for working for less than 40 cents an hour, room and board.

Throughout the state there was ample labor to handle the harvest; railroads have sidetracks crowded with box cars to move the early offerings; railroad officials scurry around the state issuing statements of predictions, in fact all in all, Nebraska is busy with the harvest and a goodly harvest it promises to be.

Into district court in Lancaster county went an Omaha firm representing brewers seeking to prevent the state liquor control commission from carrying out an order of May 28, ruling against 32 ounce bottles of beer being distributed in Nebraska. District Judge Chappel, heard the arguments and took the case under advisement.

Federal Judge Munger brought Auburn's attempt to acquire the properties of the Western Public Service Corp. there to a halt with a temporary injunction. The court's decision, taken because he held the "and-or" clause on the ballot on the proposition to be ambiguous restrains the City of Auburn from taking any further condemnation action until a further order.

Following an edict of the senate, Governor Cochran and the state engineer named the five advisors who are to aid in administering the automobile dealers' "little NITA." Appointed for three years with their only compensation actual expense are the following automobile dealers: F. A. Roehl, Lincoln; G. L. McFeyden, Omaha; R. E. Bredenberg, Kearney; T. P. McKinman, Grand Island and H. Bomgardner, Scottsbluff.

Working feverishly to solve one of the most wanted murders in Nebraska history, every phase of state law enforcement organization and officers of Boone county have but little to show toward apprehension of the slayers of sheriff L. I. Smoyer, 41, in a hayfield out of Albion. Slain instantly with a bullet in his heart fired by one of the men he sought to question, the sheriff's body lay for more than 24 hours before a searching party, created upon alarm at his absence, found it beside his automobile.

Shot and seriously wounded and left to die unaided was Constable William Wathon, the sheriff's companion on the trip of investigation. To Omaha in a plane was taken the wounded officer. Medical authorities, after a delicate operation, say Wathon will recover.

Discovery of the automobile bearing Colorado license plates in Wyoming and a report that the discovery of a milk bottle cap at Shelton, Nebr., led officers to believe the murdering pair had sped west. Boone county commissioners appointed Louis I. Smoyer, 26, brother of the slain sheriff, as his successor. Said young Smoyer: "I intend to devote my time to apprehending the men who killed my brother." A student at Wayne state teachers college, the young sheriff is known to friends as "Scout."

John L. Pollard of Clarks will be paid $150 a month as a special investigator to administer the new law governing the sale of prophylactics, it was announced at the capitol.

After lopping off two thirds of the original water appropriation and acreage, State Engineer A. C. Tilley authorized the Central Nebraska (Tricounty) district to divert Platte river water for irrigation purposes. The $32,000,000 project is permitted to divert 1,171 second feet of natural flow to irrigate about 164,000 acres of farm lands in Kearney, Gosper and Phelps counties.

An original allowance by Tilley, prior to the time the supreme court directed the work to be confined within the Platte valley watershed, called for 3,171 second feet for a half million acres. The divide between the Republican valley and Platte watersheds as determined by Tilley, extends in a zigzag from Smithfield in eastern Gosper county to a point nine miles northeast of Minden.

Three thousand additional tons of poison bran for use in Nebraska is sought by the state extension department in the grasshopper war. The infestation is described as "twice as bad as last year." There already had been distributed 7,500 tons of the 8,000 tons of poison bran allotted when the appeal for more went to Washington. The infestation encompasses all the state except the sandhill region, it was disclosed. Critical situations exist in about 25 counties. Hard rains saved the state from devastation, said agriculture officials.

Determined to carry out his announced war on old age assistance "chislers" State Assistance Director Vandemoer has announced that knowing violators have until August 1 to lay their cases before the director, make settlement and avoid "further action."

Bulk cabbage, 10 carloads of it from Tennessee, has been shipped into Nebraska by the surplus commodity corporation for distribution to relief families.

To the Iowa training school for patrolmen at Camp Dodge has gone R. P. Weller, named by Governor Cochran to direct Nebraska's state highway patrol. The Nebraska patrol, made possible by the last legislature will be composed of about 40 men. Regulations will be issued soon with respect to the required mental and physical requirements and Weller may conduct a Nebraska school for applicants.

After John P. Senning, University of Nebraska professor of political science praised the one-house legislature of Nebraska and predicted the plan's adoption by all states eventually, before the Texas house of representatives, that body went on record, 67 to 45, against printing the address in the journal. Senning is teaching at the University of Texas this summer.

In 1934 Nebraska had 42 co-operative credit associations in operation and generally they were conceded to be "children of the depression," but this month, a total of 169 such associations operate with 21,180 members and assets and liabilities totaling $2,434,012. At first the co-ops were divided to provide loan facilities to industrial and business employees but during the days when the state banks failed frequently, the co-ops have sprung up to replace the banks in many small towns. Now there are 96 co-ops in bankless communities.

All the ado over lighting the tower of Nebraska's $11,000,000 capitol building may come to naught, it appeared from statements to the state land commissioner.

Architects were to provide for lighting facilities it was generally understood. Architects were asked to fulfill their agreement but said, in a letter to the governor that they did not feel capable of designing a flood lighting system and recommended another firm. This firm was written and replied they would send a man to Lincoln and design plans for $1,100 and said that the system can be installed within the $10,000 appropriation made by the legislature. The land commissioner reported the architect firm is in New York, and has reported that while there may have been an agreement to supervise the lighting, "a lot of water has gone over the dam since that time," meaning, he presumed, since the agreement was made.

If officers of incorporated villages have a mind to, they have the power to regulate and even prohibit the sale of fireworks of all kinds within the limits of their towns, the attorney general has ruled.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—M. E. Wellman of North Loup was in Ord Friday evening.

—Onlo Patchen was over from North Platte Thursday evening on a business mission.

—Henry Davis came down from Burwell Saturday to attend to business matters.

—Zola Stara helped out the Moyer Cafe on their opening day, last Wednesday.

—Tracey T. Frost, legislator for this district was in Ord Thursday afternoon and called at the Quiz office for a short time.

—Thursday Ned Powers removed the rotting timbers of the area-way beneath the sidewalk in front of the Moyer Cafe and replaced them with new material. He also leveled up the settled brick in the walk and it presents a much improved appearance.

—The Ericson Journal says: "Lyle McBeth and a friend from Ord were calling at the Axel Lindhartsen home Wednesday evening. While there they hooked nine fine bass in a very short time, and then for an extra thrill they had the good luck to get a 14 inch rainbow trout. As Mr. Lindhartsen says that the rainbow trout seldom grows more than 17 inches, this was about as large as you find them. The men went home with about 20 pounds of fish, which speaks well for the fishing at the Rat Farm."

—Last week Mrs. Don Proudfit returned from Lincoln where she had spent several weeks with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Proudfit, who have had rooms in the A. L. Hill home, have rented an apartment in the new Lewis apartment house.

—Joe Carkoski of near Westerville was in Ord Saturday, able to get around but still stiff and sore from the effects of being kicked by a horse about ten days ago. He had four ribs broken, one in two places, and is very lucky to be able to be out of bed.

—Edward Psola, son of Frank Psota, had the misfortune to be bucked off a horse Thursday, with the result that his right arm was broken. He was taken to Dr. W. J. Hemphill, who found that both bones were fractured a few inches above the wrist. He is carrying the member in a sling at the present time, and feels lucky that he was not hurt worse.

—About 8:00 Sunday evening Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements and daughters Jeannette and Jackie, of Ontario, Calif., drove in for a two weeks' visit with Edwin's parents, Judge and Mrs. Clements, with his sister, Mrs. H. J. McBeth and family, and with Mrs. Clements' brother, Dr. P. L. Blessing. They were accompanied by Miss Lena Clements, who has been spending several months in Calexico, Calif.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osentowski are planning a vacation trip to Oregon, leaving within the next few days.

—The Quiz is in receipt of a card from Tom Rogers of Fort Collins, Colo. Mr. Rogers also mentions Drew Thompson, who also lives there.

—Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements returned to Ord Saturday from a trip to Boulder, Colo., where they visited their son, Wayne Clements and family.

—Gail Gifford is having a serious time of it, having been confined to her bed in the University hospital in Omaha for seven weeks with colitis. She is now reported to be slightly improved.

—A report that got away from the Quiz was that of the fine baby girl, Leta Doris, born to Mr. and Mrs. Earl Nelson June 11. Dr. H. N. Norris was the officiating physician.

—Sunday Mrs. E. C. Leggett and son Kerry, Mrs. C. A. Anderson and children and Miss Stella Zulkoski left by car for a vacation at Cullen lake, Minnesota. Messrs. Leggett and Anderson are planning to join them in about two weeks.

—From the Atkinson Graphic we learn that "Guests at the Mrs. Albert McMendes home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Lores McMendes and Jerry and Roger, and Mrs. McMendes' brothers, Ben and Dave Arnold, all of Ord. Jerry and Roger remained with their grandmother for a week's visit."

—Chester and Ross Frey who had been up in Minnesota fishing came to Ord early Monday and are spending a few days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Frey.

—John P. Misko drove to Lincoln on business Saturday.

—John Wiberg was down from his ranch in Garfield county Friday.

—After a two weeks' vacation spent at various Iowa points, the Ed Whelan family returned to their home in Ord this week.

—Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Masou have been enjoying a visit from their daughter Edythe M. Masou of Omaha. She came Friday and left for home Tuesday.

—Mrs. Tom Meuret, son Charles and daughter Ella came down to Ord Friday, taking back with them a deluxe windcharger for use in their electric lighting plant.

—Asa Anderson, sr., was released from St. Francis hospital in Grand Island Wednesday following treatment for an infected tooth. He is somewhat improved, but will have to go back for further treatment.

—C. W. Taylor of Woodward, Okla., key expert, was in Ord last Thursday evening with a key making outfit, and on Friday a similar outfit from California drove in. Both of the men seemed to be doing a fair business.

—Miss Clara McClatchey reports that her sister, Mrs. Gladys Walters and family are expected from Washington D. C. on Monday July 5th. This will be the first time she has visited here for two years.

—Frank Zabloudil reports the sale the past week of the Henry Vodehnal quarter north of Ord to R. D. Pocock, the consideration being $12,000.00, or $75.00 per acre. Not long ago Frank sold the Mesozo 80 south of Ord to Henry Vodehnal for $3,000.00, or $37.50 per acre.

Proceedings of the County Board

June 18, 1937 at 10:00 o'clock A. M. Regular meeting of County Supervisors called to order by Chairman with Supervisors, Jablonski, Suchanek, Bremer, Zikmund, Ball, Barber and Hansen present upon roll call. Minutes of last meeting read and approved as read. Application of Joseph T. Knezacek, for a Deed from Valley County, Nebr., covering south 30 feet of N 1/2 of Lot 7 and 8, in Block 23 of Original townsite of Ord, under the provisions of Section 26-107 of Compiled Statutes of Nebraska for 1929, was granted and Deed ordered to be signed and delivered, upon motion duly carried. Application of Muriel Lewis and Anna L. Chase, for a Deed from Valley County, Nebraska, covering Lots 2 and 3, in Block 3, of the Original townsite of Ord, Nebr., under the provisions of Section 26-107, of Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, was granted and Deed ordered to be signed and delivered, upon motion duly carried. Application of L. H. Covert and Loretta Covert, husband and wife, for a Deed from Valley County, Nebraska, for the West 5 1/2 feet of Lot 4, in Block 32, of the Original Townsite of Ord, Nebraska, under the provisions of Section 26-107, of Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, for 1929, was granted and Deed ordered to be signed and delivered, upon motion duly carried. Report of Road and Bridge Committee for the month of May, was read and upon motion duly carried same was accepted and ordered placed on file. Bank balances as of May 31, 1937 read as follows: First National Bank—Arcadia, $17,144.15; Nebraska State Bank—Ord, $42,821.20; First National Bank—Ord, $38,785.05. Copy of Order of County Court, appointing Hugh S. Hagood, as guardian of the person and estate of Mary B. Hagood, and copy of Order of County Court, appointing Henry Williams, guardian of the person and estate of Charles J. Lord, were both approved and ordered placed on file, upon motion duly carried. The matter of right-of-way necessary for the completion of the North Loup-Arcadia highway then came for consideration, after which supervisor Bremer, offered the following resolution and moved its adoption. Whereas, after investigation and due consideration, the County Board of Supervisors of the County of Valley, the State of Nebraska, in regular adjourned session assembled, find the public good requires that the public road described as: Commencing at the southeast corner of the southeast quarter of Section 36, in Township 13 North, of Range 15 West, of the 6th P. M., in Valley County, Nebraska, and running thence west along section line for a distance of one-half mile, more or less, to intersect with now duly established and opened and traveled road, be opened to a uniform width of sixty-six feet, and put into condition for public travel. THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED AND IT IS HEREBY ORDERED by this County Board of Supervisors of said County that said above described public road be opened as described to-wit:—Commencing at the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of Section 36, in Township 13 North, of Range 15 West, of the 6th P. M., in Valley County, Nebraska, and running thence west along section line for a distance of one-half mile, more or less, to intersect with now established and opened and traveled road, be opened sixty-six feet in width, and it is hereby ordered and directed that proceedings to be taken, upon proper notice given to ascertain the damages, and open said road, for public travel, as is provided by law. Motion to adopt was seconded by Jablonski, and upon roll call, all supervisors voted "yes" and the resolution was declared as unanimously adopted upon motion carried. The matter of Valley County contributing cost of materials and room rent for the operation of an NYA sewing project now being sponsored in North Loup, Nebr., came on for consideration and discussion, after which it was moved, seconded and carried, that the matter be tabled. McDonnell, Deceased, real names unknown:— You and each of you will take notice that on the 2nd day of June, 1937, the Home Owners' Loan Corporation, a Corporation, filed its Petition against you and commenced an action in the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, to foreclose a certain mortgage in the amount of $1,870.00 upon the following described real estate, to-wit:— All of Block Five in Burris Addition to the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska. Said mortgage was signed by Randal McDonnell, is dated August 11, 1934, and recorded in Book 53 of the Mortgage Records of Valley County, Nebraska, at Page 579.

Said Petition further prays that you be foreclosed of all right, title and equity of redemption in and to said real estate. That said real estate be sold and that the proceeds of said sale be applied to the payment of Plaintiff's lien and for general equitable relief. You are required to answer said Petition on or before the 26th day of July, 1937, or the allegations thereof will be taken as true.

You are further notified that Plaintiff has applied for the appointment of a Receiver for the above described real estate and that said Application will be called up for hearing before the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, in the District Court Room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska, on the 3rd day of August, 1937, at ten o'clock A. M. or as soon thereafter as said matter can be heard. Said Application for a Receiver is based upon the Petition of said Plaintiff in said foreclosure proceeding and upon Affidavits and such verbal testimony as may be produced in support thereof at said hearing.

The Plaintiff proposes James B. Ollis for such Receiver and the American Surety Company as the proposed surety for said Receiver and for said Applicant. Home Owners' Loan Corporation, Plaintiff, By Munn & Norman, Its Attorneys, June 16-4t

Sidney W. Smith, Attorney for Plaintiff, 1001 City Nat'l Bank Bldg. Omaha, Neb.

NOTICE OF SPECIAL MASTER'S SALE. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an Order of Sale, issued out of the United States District Court, District of Nebraska, in the Grand Island Division, and in pursuance of a decree of said Court entered November 9, 1936, in an action wherein The Penn Mutual Life Insurance Company is plaintiff and Frank Pesek, et al, are defendants, being number 372 Equity Docket, I, Daniel H. McClenahan, Special Master, named in the decree of said Court to sell the property described in said decree and to execute said decree, will on the 17th day of July, 1937, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the entrance of the County Court House of Valley County, Nebraska, in Ord, the County Seat of said County, at the usual place where sheriff's sales of land are made, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, the following described property, to-wit: The West Half of the West Half (W 1/2 W 1/2) of Section numbered Nine (9), the West Half of the East Half (W 1/2 E 1/2) of Section numbered Four (4), Township numbered Eighteen (18), North, Range numbered Sixteen (16), West of the 6th P. M., containing 320 acres, more or less according to Government Survey, in Valley County, Nebraska, to satisfy the decree, interest and costs.

Dated June 12, 1937. Daniel H. McClenahan, Special Master, United States District Court, District of Nebraska, Grand Island Division. June 16-5t

Davis & Vogelanz, Attorneys. NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, and to me directed upon a decree rendered therein on September 8, 1936, in an action pending in said court, wherein The Prudential Insurance Company of America, a corporation, is plaintiff, and Frank Petska, Jr., et al, are defendants, wherein the said plaintiff recovered a decree of foreclosure in the sum of $2741.07, with interest thereon at the rate of ten per cent from said date which was decreed to be a first lien on the following described real estate: The Northwest Quarter (NW 1/4), except public road of 90 acres, also the Northeast Quarter of the Southwest Quarter (NE 1/4 SW 1/4) and Lots Two (2) and Three (3), all in Section Ten (10), Township Twenty (20) North, Range Fifteen (15) West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, containing in all 279 acres according to government survey, in Valley County, Nebraska, and wherein Frances L. Hayek and John Bouzek recovered a decree of foreclosure in the sum of $3127.86, with interest thereon at ten per cent from said date which was decreed to be a second lien on the above described real estate and wherein I was directed to advertise and sell said real estate with interest and costs, now therefore, I will on Tuesday, July 20, 1937, at the hour of two o'clock P. M., at the west front door of the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, sell the said real estate, at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, to satisfy the amount due on said decree, costs and accruing costs.

Legal News. Notice to File Objections or Claims For Damages. The County Board of Supervisors of Valley County, Nebraska, in regular session assembled on the 18th day of June, 1937, deeming it to be for the public good, did by resolution and applied it to Thompson commencing at the southwest corner of the southeast quarter of Section 36, in Township 13 North, of Range 15 West, of the 6th P. Degnan-Wilson.
The marriage of Miss Blanche Degnan to Walter E. Wilson took place at the St. John's Cathedral at 7:30 o'clock May 29, 1937 at Fresno, Calif. Monsignor P. J. McGrath officiated in the presence of the immediate families. The bride wore a white shadow lace dress made princess style, long skirt and a jacket with full length sleeves. She wore a white halo hat and carried an old-fashioned frilled bouquet of gardenias and lillies-of-the-valley. Mrs. J. A. Shepherd, her sister, was matron of honor and wore a blue net gown, pink halo hat and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of pastel colored flowers. Woodrow Wilson, a brother, served as groomsmen. Following the wedding services, a reception was given at the home of the bridegroom's sister, Mrs. George Hollister to about 50 guests. Snapdragons and larkspur in pastel shades decorated the living rooms. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Fred Edgerly, Mrs. Edith Storey, Mrs. Margaret Driscoll and Miss Emma Hicks from a table decorated with white tapers held in silver candlesticks around a huge three-tier cake as centerpiece. Late in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wilson departed for a motoring trip to Carmel. The bride wore a delectable blue crepe dress with Leghorn hat and blue accessories. They will return to their new home 4669 Madison avenue, Fresno, Calif. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Degnan and a graduate of St. John's Cathedral School. Mr. Wilson grew to manhood at Arcadia and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Wilson of Arcadia. He graduated from the Arcadia high school and is at present employed by the Borden Ice Cream Company.

BACK FORTY

Flies are unusually annoying to livestock this spring, and their attacks will continue with growing intensity until freezing weather comes.

Temporary relief can be given to animals by spraying with either home-made or commercial repellents. A number of "flydope" recipes are given below, for those who use considerable spray and wish to save money by making their own.

A mixture of one gallon of used crankcase oil and one pint of oil of tar or coal tar stock dip is effective in repelling flies from livestock. It costs about one-tenth cent per cow per day.

A single daily application of this formula will keep away flies: One gallon fish oil, one-half gallon oil of tar, one ounce crude carbolic acid.

To make another good fly spray, dissolve one-half pound of fish oil soap in water and heat to boiling point. Stir the soap solution into two gallons of crude oil. Then add a quart of the above mixture, and a teaspoonful of "Blackleaf 40" to each gallon of water.

An efficient spray can be made by dissolving three bars of laundry soap in water. Add 3 quarts oil, 3 quarts whale oil, 4 1/2 quarts fish oil, 1 1/2 quarts oil of tar, and enough water to make thirty gallons.

A mixture of 1 gallon fish oil, 2 ounces oil of pine tar, 2 ounces oil of pennyroyal, and one-half pint kerosene will keep flies off livestock for a short time.

Care should be taken not to make fly sprays too strong, and not to apply them too heavily, or they may injure livestock.

Elimination of manure piles is the best way to control flies.

Willys Economy Test

Ord to Burwell and Return ON A GALLON OF GAS

On June 27, 1937, a 1937, 4-door Willys De-Luxe Sedan, carrying three passengers, was completely drained of all gas (Willys has no vacuum tank) and one gallon of regular RED CROWN gasoline put in the tank. This car was then driven from Ord to Burwell and back to Ord, a distance of 34.7 miles on a gallon of gas. Observers for this economy test were Adam Dubas and George Kruml.

In two economy tests conducted at Broken Bow, this same car ran 44.4 miles on a gallon of RED CROWN ETHYL gas, and 36.4 miles on a gallon of RED CROWN ETHYL gas, the last mentioned test was conducted during a driving rain storm, and a speed of 30 to 35 miles per hour was maintained during all the tests.

Dave Sawley was down from Burwell Tuesday and dropped into the Quiz office to renew his subscription. While here he ventured the information that with the exception of a few of the very oldest settlers, he could class himself as among the earliest. Dave came to Garfield county with his parents when he was only a year old, in the year 1859.

Dodging Indians, Forging Rivers Were Ordinary Incidents for Pioneer Mail Man

By Truman Freeland.

Editorial Note.—The following story is by Truman Freeland, who came to Garfield county in 1872 and is the oldest settler in the county, and should be of special interest to all the older people, and the younger ones as well. It is the biography he wrote while carrying mail in the valley in 1873 and is self explanatory.

November, 1873.
Peasons came and got my grub box, buffalo robe and blankets. I am loath to leave the old dugout where I have spent many happy days, but I need the money I will get for carrying the mail.

I came down to Hobsons and got my pony shod and am at Harters tonight. I traded my Spencer carbine for a Colts Navy revolver as Harter says it is several miles between settlements on part of my route and Sioux Indians are often seen on their way to the Pawnee reservation to steal ponies and might try to get my pony.

3rd. At 7 o'clock I strapped the mail pouch to the saddle horn and started to Lamertine postoffice on Fish Creek where I got my dinner and fed the pony. I got to Cotes field (on the opposite side of the river) by crossing in a flat boat and had to tie my pony to a tree and carry the mail pouch on my back to the office—a quarter of a mile, and came to St. Paul at dark where I stay tonight. I and the pony are very tired.

4th. I got back to Springdale at 9 o'clock in the evening, and had to discharge my revolver near the window where Mr. Harter slept to awaken him as he is quite deaf, and locks his door on retiring. However he had a kettle of hot soup on the stove and a warm house which I enjoy very much as I have faced a very high and cold wind all day and the ground covered with six inches of snow.

5th. Russ Chubbuck and his brother Frank, came for their mail and I bought a saddle blanket from Frank for a dollar.

6th. Started on the route before daylight as the trail is filled with snowdrifts in all the low places and creek beds. Had to get off and lead the pony over Messenger Creek and got wet to my waist. I stopped at Bensons and borrowed two pairs of pants and a pair of socks to be returned on my way back tomorrow. Mrs. Benson promised to have my pants dried by that time. At Lambertine postoffice I got my dinner and fed the pony. When I got to the place where I was to cross the river to Cotesfield postoffice the boat was gone so I came on to St. Paul getting here at seven o'clock in the evening. The postmaster here tells me not to try crossing the river again to Cotesfield with the mail.

7th. The day has been clear and warm with a slight breeze from the south. I got dinner at Jeff Vanskikes and contracted with him for my dinners while carrying the mail, the price to be thirty-five cents, including feed for the pony. I counted the houses on the trail from Lamertine on Fish Creek to Springdale, and there are eleven. All dugouts, sod or log, and all roofed with sod only three having board floors. Harter had a warm meal for me when I came in with the mail.

14th. While returning to Springdale today met two teams and three hunters, they were returning to Columbus, with both wagons loaded with elk, deer and antelope. They said they had been to the headwaters of the Calamus river.

17th. While delivering mail at Lamertine, Mrs. Fish gave me a pair of woolen mittens to wear over my buckskin gloves. Here in St. Paul this evening I bought a soldier's blue overcoat of Jim Scott (my old bunkmate of last year) for three dollars.

18th. Got to Springdale at eight o'clock. Harter says there are four Sioux Indians camping on Elm Creek and have no ponies; and that they came to his place begging tobacco and matches, he gave them a box of matches and a small package of smoking tobacco. It may be that Harter is mistaken and they are Pawnees; but why so far from Genoa, their reservation, and on foot?

19th. I tied my pony to the knocker of the door latch last night and covered him with the saddle blanket. I sat on a stool by the door and did not go to sleep. Early in the morning Mr. Long came and said the Indians had gone.

20th. As I left the postoffice this morning Harter handed me his needlegun and ten cartridges, but I saw no signs of Indians on the trail to St. Paul; but Doc Beeby told me he saw two Indians over on Morat Creek this morning but supposed they were Pawnees.

21st. Got my dinner at Jeff Vanskikes and met two families in covered wagons at Wallace Creek on their way to Iowa to stay over winter, as Indians were stealing horses in their neighborhood, and the troops at camp Munson would not be on the Loup until next spring. When I got to Springdale postoffice eight of the neighbor men were there to hear if there was any signs of Indians on my route. I told them I had not seen any, but had not kept the trail through the hills below Messenger Creek because of trouble.

29th. Russ Chubbuck told me yesterday evening that someone had tried to burn my dugout last night, so I borrowed a pony of him and came home to find that a fire had been kindled in one corner but had gone out without doing much damage. I don't believe Indians did it, but think some fellows want to get my claim. I stayed over with Bill Pearson.

The Author . . . As He Looks Today.

30th. Coming back to Springdale I saw a small piece of red cloth fastened to a stick in the middle of the trail at the big spring, a mile or so west of the postoffice at Springdale. As such signals are supposed to be a warning to settlers by Indians not to follow them I reported the matter to Fredrick as I passed his place as he and his daughter are the farthest west on the trail to the settlement near twenty miles up the river in Taylor county.

December, 1873.
8th. On my way to Lamertine today I met a squad of Pawnees who inquired if I had seen any Sioux on my route. I told them of the red cloth I had seen at the big spring, and while they were parrying I rode off to the postoffice where I learned the Sioux had stolen five of their ponies.

9th. While at Vanskikes for dinner the Pawnees that I met yesterday rode up in front of the door and showed the red flag I had told them about, and rode off toward their reservation, I got to Springdale after dark.

22nd. The last three trips to St. Paul with the mail there have been no unusual occurrences, however a few families have passed down the trail from the neighborhood of the cedar canyon near twenty miles farther up the river as Sioux Indians are stealing horses and robbing houses when the settlers are not at home.

23rd. I left St. Paul at daylight in a snow storm from the northwest, the wind piled the snow so deep in the low places I had to get off the pony and lead him at Lamertine. Mr. Fish detained me two hours hoping the storm would let up. The wind did abate a little and he handed me the mail bag advising me to stop at Sam Scott's and stay over night, but after leaving Wallace Creek I lost the trail and got on it again at Benson Creek, having missed Scott's. I then rode on to the Oak canyon, where I tied the pony and built a fire in a deep ravine. In a short time the wind had so abated that I started on thinking I could reach Bancroft's; and in sight of the house I missed the bridge and got in the creek and had to get off the pony into the mud and water. When I got to Springdale Harter was in bed and I had to discharge my revolver four times to awaken him.

24th. I spent the forenoon drying my clothes and oiling my boots. After noon helped Russ Chubbuck get wood in the hills back of Harter's; while I cut wood he went hunting and killed a black-tailed deer a mile away and got back just as I had finished loading the wood, he said we couldn't get to where it was with a loaded wagon so we threw the load off and drove to the gully where it was. We then had to drag it up the side of the gully through a snow drift. Got back to the wood pile after dark and finally got reloaded and started home. On the way the wagon upset and we had just finished loading again when Frank Chubbuck and Mr. Long came following the trail we had left going after the wood. Long stayed with us and Frank rode back home to let his family know the Indians hadn't caused the delay. We got to Harter's at eleven o'clock p. m.

29th. After passing Lamertine today I stopped at Doc Beeby's to warm my hands and feet as it is very cold, but no wind. Doc has set up a lime kiln west of his house where there is a ledge of limestone. Got to St. Paul at seven in the evening.

30th. On my return trip to Springdale I got my dinner at Jeff Vanskikes and settled my board bill, as my contract for carrying the mail ends with this trip. Got to Springdale at six o'clock. Doc had a warm supper when I arrived. He is a fine old man and I shall never forget him. I also shall long remember the hardships I have endured in the two months I have carried the mail (sometimes less than a dozen letters in the pouch) over a trail so dim in places that the hills north of the trail was the only landmark to guide me.

30th. Coming back to Springdale I saw a small piece of red cloth fastened to a stick in the middle of the trail at the big spring, a mile or so west of the postoffice at Springdale. # Saturday Sale

at the Sale Ring in Ord

Saturday, July 3, 1937

1:30 o'clock

There was much more stock in last Saturdays sale than we expected, which included a nice run of fat hogs, which sold at good prices. Feeder sows, and shoats. There was also a nice supply of weanling pigs that sold readily to several buyers.

There was a nice offering of cattle and the market showed steady.

There was a demand for gentle work horses that would range in price from $40.00 to $80.00. And the 8 horses which were here did not quite supply the demand that we had for them. If you have horses of this kind that you would care to sell at these figures bring them in.

WE OFFER:

50 Cattle - 100 Hogs - 5 Horses

Our sales have been running beyond what we have advertised due to the local consigners bringing in stock from a large area. This is out of the ordinary but we appreciate the business.

And whether you are a consigners or a buyer, this organization is striving to please you.

There will be Free Ice Tea served at the Sale Pavilion Saturday afternoon by Ed Mower. Be at the sale.

Kusek-zeleski Wedding.

Miss Victoria Kusek of Elyria, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Kusek, became the bride of Henry Zeleski of Grand Island, youngest son of Mrs. Helen Zeleski, Monday morning, June 28, at the St. Mary's church in Elyria. Rev. Constantine Szumski performed the ceremony.

The bride was dressed in a complete white shirtdress ensemble and carried a bouquet of white tea roses with baby's breath.

Miss Loretta Kusek, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a yellow flowered silk suit, tulle effect, yellow hat, shoes and their accessories, and carried a bouquet of yellow tea roses with baby's breath. Eugene Puncocar of Ord, nephew of the bridegroom served as best man.

After the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Out of town guests were Mrs. Helen Zeleski and daughter Martha, of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Golka, Sr., Mr. and Mrs. Joe Puncocar and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zeleski and son, of Ord, Miss Clarice Kusek, of Kearney, and Ed Kusek, of Washington, D. C. A number of other close relatives and friends were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Zeleski left Monday afternoon for an extended trip, their destination being unknown to friends and relatives. They will make their home in Grand Island.

Both the bride and groom are graduates of Ord high school and their many friends wish them much joy and happiness.

Former Ord Girl Weds.

Miss Gertrude Ann Foth, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gust D. Foth of Ord, became the bride of Edward A. Smith of Lisco, son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew H. Smith of Douglas, Wyo., at a very pretty wedding ceremony performed at Torrington, Wyo., Monday, June 28, in the presence of the immediate relatives. The bride needs no introduction here, as she is very popular in this community. For the past two months she has been visiting with her sister, Mrs. August H. Stone of Scottsbluff. The groom, though not so well known in Ord, spent two years in Sargent. For the past year he has been operating a hardware and garage that he owns in Lisco. Mr. and Mrs. Smith left immediately for a wedding trip to Wyoming and Colorado, after which they will be at home in Lisco in the residence the groom had prepared for his bride.

Vasicek-Urban.

Miss Tillie Urban, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Urban, became the bride of George Vasicek, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Vasicek, June 29, at 1 o'clock.

The ceremony was performed by County Judge John L. Andersen at his home in Ord. The double ring ceremony was used. Miss Evelyn Vasicek, sister of the groom, and Miss Agnes Viner, cousin of the bride, were the bride's attendants. The groom was accompanied by Ed Viner, cousin of the bride, and George Kasper, a friend. The flower girl was Betty Joyce Mach, and the flower boy, Donald Kasper.

The bride wore a gown of pink lace and net, with a trailing veil. Her attendants wore matching dresses of blue crepe and lace. The flower girl wore a yellow taffeta dress, and the flower boy a white dress suit. The flower girl and boy carried baskets of roses and baby's breath.

A dinner was served at the bride's home at 1:00 to the immediate relatives, about forty in number. The dining room was decorated for the occasion in a pink and white color motif. A three tier cake was the centerpiece. It was beautifully made and decorated for the occasion by Mrs. Cecil Hanson.

In the evening a dance was given at the Ord Bohemian hall which was largely attended. The newlyweds will live for a time at the Charles Urban home.

Hughes-Ruzovskii.

Richard Hughes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hughes, of Ord, and Bernice Ruzovskii, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Ruzovskii, of Elyria, were married last week at Bartlett. They will make their home in Ord.

O. O. S. Final Meeting.

The final meeting of the O. O. S. club was held at the home of Mrs. George Pratt, taking the form of a 1:00 o'clock luncheon. The meeting was held Thursday afternoon and there will be no more meetings until after the warm weather.

Church Classes Meet.

Two classes of the Christian Sunday school, the young married ladies' class and the older married ladies class, met in the church basement Tuesday afternoon for a one o'clock luncheon. There was a good attendance and a splendid time is reported.

Judges were Kirk Fox, editor of Successful Farming, Ray Yarnell, editor of Capper's Farmer and John F. Cunningham, dean of the College of Agriculture, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Guns Found In Lake.

A tragedy in southern Holt county many years ago came to light recently when two guns were found in the dry bed of Goose lake.

Nearly thirty-two years ago two hunters from Omaha were drowned in the lake when their boat capsized. It has been reported in Chambers, Neb., the two guns which undoubtedly belonged to the two hunters have been found. Many people in this section of the state will recall the drowning and the anxiety that attended the efforts of searching parties to recover the bodies from the lake.

ABC 4-H Club Meets.

We're Declaring a New INDEPENDENCE! While the firecrackers of industry and the pin-wheels of business make noise, flash and sputter, Brown-McDonald's goes steadily on, offering values beyond comparison, always striving to keep old customers satisfied, new customers coming and business in general on an even keel regardless of the minor noises and commotions made by changing business conditions.

We're declaring a NEW Independence like the boys of '76 did, but this time its for better business methods, more values, a cleaner, neater, more comfortable place of business, a larger stock of merchandise and more satisfied customers! Many changes and improvements have been made in our Ord store as result of this policy. Our stock of merchandise is, we believe, the largest and best ever carried by a store in the upper North Loup valley. We air-conditioned our store to provide more comfort for customers. For the same reason we recently installed an outside drinking fountain to provide cold well water for the thirsty. New trying-on rooms were added inside, new departments installed. Now our store is being re-trimmed to present a more pleasing appearance.

Visit our store and see how our NEW declaration of independence effects your comfort, your sense of style and your pocketbook. We'll be pleased to see you—any time.

BROWN-McDONALD GOLDEN RULE STORE Our store will be open until 12:00 noon on Monday, July 5

New Mauer Cafe Opens. Wednesday was the day set for the opening of the Mauer Cafe in the new location in the Marks building on M street. In honor of the occasion the management served free coffee and iced tea all day and also made a special rate on a luncheon advertised last week. They were kept busy all day long and far into the night, and are more than pleased with the interest the public showed. The entire building has been redecorated in very tasty colors, and three new booths have been added, making six in all with room for 24 customers at one time. All told they can handle 49 at once if necessary. In the evening after the band concert "Little Gene" and part of his orchestra dropped in and played several numbers as a pleasing surprise to both proprietor and customers.

PLYMOUTH OWNERS REPORT 18 TO 24 MILES TO GALLON... AMAZINGLY LOW UPKEEP COST... BEST ENGINEERING IN THE LOW PRICE FIELD

How much will it cost to run? How much will it cost to maintain? How much will I get for it when I trade it in? These are important questions to consider in choosing your new car. Plymouth owners will tell you that they get 18 to 24 miles to the gallon—even when their cars are no longer new. They'll tell you that Plymouth is the car that stands up best... costs least of "All Three" to maintain, even after the first 20,000 miles. Because Plymouth stands up best, the Plymouth owner often gets up to $100 more allowance when he trades for a new car than he could get for any other low priced car. This year, get the extra value only Plymouth gives you. Enjoy Plymouth's record-making economy and long life. Get the thrill of the famous hushed ride... the safety of controlled hydraulic braking... the luxury of extra size and room.

Lois Wentworth Wed To Laurel School Man

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning, June 27, Miss Lois Mae Wentworth, youngest daughter of Mrs. Margaret Wentworth, became the bride of G. Aubrey Love of Blair, Neb., at a pleasing ceremony performed in Ord.

Wedding ceremonies were opened with Miss Sarah Danielson singing "The Sweetest Story Ever Told" and "I Love You Truly." "I Will Always Love You" was sung by the composer, Ole I. Jacobsen.

To the beautiful strains of Lohegrin's Wedding March, played by Ella Wheeler Bond, the happy company came down the stairs at the Wentworth home and the words of the single ring ceremony were pronounced by Rev. S. A. Woodruff, jr., by candle light.

Gowned in beautiful white silk organza, the bride carried a bouquet of white carnations tied with tulle with a headdress of white carnations. Miss Effie Anderson, bridesmaid, was dressed in pink lace, carrying a bouquet of pink carnations tied with tulle.

The groom and his brother Charles Love, best man, wore the conventional black with white carnation boutonniere. Bonnie Sorenson was flower girl and Joan Marie Jacobsen was ring bearer. Both wore duplicate dresses of pink swiss organza.

While congratulations were being given, Miss Elsie Pecena played several flute solos including "Just Wearyin' For You" and "To a Wild Rose." She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Bond.

A lovely white floor candelabra formed the background for the ceremony with seven white candles to represent the seven virtues. Baskets of white Chinese lilies with foliage and vases of mock orange added to the beauty of the scene. The house decorations were of pink and white sweet peas.

A delicious wedding dinner was served at Thorne's cafe with a pink and white motif. At the center of the first table was a huge bride's cake decorated with lilies-of-the-valley and a miniature bride and groom. A small bride and groom were given as favors to the bride couple. Cut flowers of every color and variety were to be found in the table decorations. Favors were nut cups with a tiny wedding bell on each. Pink roses and white sweet peas were in abundance.

Out of town guests who attended the wedding were Mrs. Joe Love and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Love of Blair; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Love with Charles, Mary and Elizabeth Love, Mrs. Davy Jones and daughter Jean, from Omaha; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Trumbull and son Dwight of Papillion, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sorensen, Bonnie and Earl from Manson, Ia.; Mr. and Mrs. O. I. Jacobsen, from Chicago; Mrs. Andy Paulsen, Leslie and Vera June of Laurel; Effie Anderson from Plainview; Sarah Danielson, Wausa; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Chedderquist of Laurel; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rasmussen and daughter Lois Anne, from Manson, Ia.; George West of Burwell.

Many handsome gifts were received by the bride and groom. The bride's dress for travel was of navy blue silk embroidered mousseline with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. G. Aubrey Love departed by car for Denver after the wedding and will be at home to their friends at Laurel, Neb., after August 1. Mr. Love, who is superintendent of schools at Laurel, received his A. B. and M. A. degrees at the University of Nebraska. Mrs. Love is a graduate of the Ord high school and attended Lawrence college at Appleton, Wis. She also attended Nebraska University. She has been a successful teacher at Laurel for several years. The Loves have a large circle of friends and relatives who bid them godspeed and much happiness.

Missouri Lady Entertained.
The arrival in Ord on June 19 of Miss Agnes Taggart, of Warrensburg, Mo., to visit A. V. Ferry, head of the Black & Veatch engineering force here, was the occasion for a round of parties and dinners. On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Mattox entertained at dinner for Miss Taggart, other guests being Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Cita, H. L. Dunmire and daughter, Miss Harriet, and Mr. Ferry. Wednesday afternoon Miss Dunmire entertained at bridge in Miss Taggart's honor, having as guests Mrs. E. Farmer, Mrs. Frank Highleyman, Mrs. Mattox, Mrs. Don Proudfit, Mrs. A. Morey of Burwell, Mrs. Kenneth Jensen and Mrs. Cita. Prizes were won by Mrs. Mattox and Mrs. Proudfit. On Thursday afternoon Miss Taggart was a guest of Mrs. J. F. Cita at a meeting of her bridge club and that evening was entertained at dinner by Mr. Dunmire and daughter, other guests being Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Jensen and Mr. Ferry. Friday evening at Thorne's cafe Mr. Ferry entertained at a bridge dinner, the guest list including the Jensens, Dunmires, Citas, Mattox, Farmers, Highleymans and Proudfits.

Contract Club Surprised.
Members of the Sunday evening contract club, meeting with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McBeth, were surprised midway through the evening when two former members, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements of Ontario, Calif., walked in, having arrived in Ord only a short time before. The Clements played with the club the remainder of the evening, as did Miss Lena Clements, who came with them. Guests of the club Sunday evening included Mr. and Mrs. Dean S. Duncan and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fafetta.

Ready and Willing Club.
The Ready and Willing club was organized on June 23 at the home of Lydia and Norma Blaha. Miss Grace Lee was in attendance. The following officers were elected: LaVerna Norosad, president; Ordina Kokes, vice-president; Norma Blaha, secretary; Lillian Jellinek, cheer leader; Wilma Klancek, news reporter. Lydia Blaha is the leader, with Elizabeth Kokes as assistant leader. Three demonstrations were given and the judging of record books took place. The next meeting will be at the home of Elizabeth and Ordina Kokes, July 7, at 2:00 P. M. at which meeting tea towels will be started.

Wentworth-Love Party Dined at Thorne Cafe

After the marriage of Miss Lois Wentworth to G. Aubrey Love Sunday morning, performed at the Wentworth home, the wedding party was served a dinner at the Thorne cafe.

Bussell Park Is Popular Place for Picnics

It was not a Masonic picnic that was held at Bussell park Sunday, but most of those in attendance were Masons. It was a reunion of the Mason family, and all who could possibly come were present. The picnic was held in honor of a cousin of the Masons, Leonard R. Mason, who with his wife and daughter Viola are making a tour of the west. They wrote about coming some time ago, so the picnic was arranged. A basket dinner was served, and a special cake made for the occasion by Mrs. George Clark of Clark, Neb., was served at four o'clock. This cake was of huge proportions, the bottom part being baked in a dishpan, with two smaller cakes on top, the entire cake being covered with white frosting and decorated with the name "Mason" and other designs in red candles.

The R. E. Garnicks and their relatives held a picnic at Bussell park Sunday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garnick, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hanson and family, Gene and Lois Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Seton Hanson and family, and Bill Garnick. A basket dinner was served, and later, cake and ice cream. A week ago Sunday a picnic was held at Anderson park in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Don Marshall's first wedding anniversary. Most of the above were present and also Mr. and Mrs. P. O. Holden, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Abernethy, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Marshall and family, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marshall and baby, Mr. and Mrs. Mart Bodyfield, Wilbur Kiser and Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Pishna.

son and Mr. Ferry. Friday evening at Thorne's cafe Mr. Ferry entertained at a bridge dinner, the guest list including the Jensens, Dunmires, Citas, Mattox, Farmers, Highleymans and Proudfits.

Lashmet-Wilson.
An item that will be of special interest to all the people of Ord and Valley county, in fact to all of central Nebraska, is the recent marriage of B. H. (Bert) Lashmet. The happy event took place June 24 at Pierce, Neb., and the lady is the former Mrs. Emma Wilson of Dannebrog. After the wedding, to which Mr. and Mrs. Loren Bunney of Fremont were witnesses, they departed for Newport, Neb., where they spent two days visiting Bert's brother, George Lashmet, his sister, Mrs. Doug Gilt and their families. From there they came to Burwell where they visited a day with Bert's son LeRoy and family. They came down to Ord Monday and spent Monday and Tuesday with relatives and friends here, after which they returned to Madison, where Bert has prepared a home for his bride and where they will be at home after July 1. For the past twelve years Mr. Lashmet has been in the employ of the government as deputy conservation officer, and is rated as one of the best. He will continue in this work with headquarters at Madison.

Omaha Girl Winner In National Contest

Here is Miss Lillian Carter, a high school student of Omaha who was recently awarded the title of state champion for Nebraska in the 14th annual meat story contest sponsored by the National Live Stock and Meat Board with an essay entitled, "Modern Methods of Meat Cookery." Thousands of high school home economics students from all parts of the country participated in this contest.

"In order to cook meat to obtain the best results, both time and temperature should be carefully controlled," says Miss Carter in her winning essay. "A low temperature should be used in all meat cookery methods with the exception of broiling and pan-broiling, and even those temperatures are lower than would have been possible a few years ago."

"Tender cuts of meat should be prepared by dry heat and the less tender cuts by moist heat. Cuts of beef vary in tenderness so it is necessary to cook each cut according to the methods best adapted to bring out its qualities. All cuts of pork are tender and it can therefore be cooked by roasting. Lamb, too, is a very tender meat, and practically all cuts may be cooked by roasting, broiling or pan-broiling, although for variety, it is some times used for stew."

Heat Wave Damages County Small Grain

There is no question but what the extreme heat of last week did serious damage to the small grain crop. Thursday morning a farmer was heard to remark on the street that he had 160 acres of small grain, and he did not think it was worth $200.00. This was doubtless an exceptional case, as most of the farmers in following the 1 1/2 inch rain of Friday and Friday night were much more optimistic. The facts now seem to be a lot of grain, but it will be much lighter than at first hoped for. The million dollar rain Friday will work wonders with corn, alfalfa and pastures, all of which were getting to the point where more moisture was needed.
