New "Itinerant Merchant" Law Is To Be Enforced

Howard Mason and Trucker from Missouri Fined $25 As Campaign Starts.

Prosecution last week of Howard W. Mason, Ord man, and Clarence W. Butner, a trucker from Missouri, under provisions of Nebraska's new "itinerant merchant" law, gave warning to others that this law will be enforced strictly in Valley county. Both Mason and Butner were arrested by Chief of Police L. H. Covert and charges against them were filed by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee. Each pleaded guilty and each was given the minimum fine, $25 and costs, by County Judge John L. Andersen. Butner paid up but Mason was unable to do so and is "laying out" the fine and $13 costs in county jail.

The itinerant merchant law was passed by the Nebraska legislature last winter at the instance of the Association of Nebraska Retailers. It provides that all itinerant merchants not having a regular and permanent place of business and not selling agricultural products of their own raising must take out an itinerant merchant's license at a cost of $25, pay $10 as an occupation tax and post a surety bond in the amount of $250 before they may carry on any business in Nebraska.

Mason, who served as a volunteer during the Spanish-American war and also was in the regular army during the Mexican border difficulty in 1916, has during the summer and fall been operating a little vegetable stand near the Fa-fa-fa liquor store. Ordinarily he sells only garden produce raised by himself, but last week ran out of potatoes so drove out into the country and bought 100 bushels from a farmer, trucking them to town himself and selling them at his stand.

He has no license as an itinerant merchant and when complaint against him was made to Chief of Police Covert because of this transaction, he was arrested, taken to court and fined upon his plea of guilty.

Butner, arrested a few days before Mason, trucked 150 bushels of apples from Missouri to Ord and was selling them on the Rice & Haight sale lot north of the old State bank building when arrested. Although Howard Mason had been warned, so authorities claim, that he would have to secure an itinerant merchant's license and post the required surety bond if he expected to buy and re-sell vegetables, much indignation was felt locally at his arrest. He is doing his best to make a living for his family under adverse financial conditions and poor health, say friends. However, when complaint is made the duty of a law officer is prescribed by statute and when the arrested man pleads guilty and makes no defense the duty of a judge also is prescribed.

Minimum fine under the itinerant merchant law is $25 and maximum fine is $100. A jail sentence also may be imposed at option of the judge.

Arrest of Butner and Mason in Ord serves notice that this new law will be strictly enforced in Valley county and all trucks bringing apples, melons and other produce here for sale are being checked up by officers.

Itinerant merchant licenses may be secured from the Department of Agriculture and Inspection at Lincoln and any Quiz reader who expects to make a business of selling from a truck within the confines of Nebraska should make a study of this law and comply with its provisions. It has a two-fold purpose—to protect regularly established merchants against unfair competition from itinerants, and to protect the public against inferior food products often trucked into a community and sold at low prices.

Coats' Jersey Sale Coming October 13

Wednesday, October 13, is the date of the pure-bred Jersey sale being held by Ernest S. Coats & Son at Jersey Farm Home eight miles southwest of Ord. Fifty Jersey cows and heifers and ten bulls will be sold, the group including some of the highest producing blood lines known to the breed.

With butterfat worth a fine price, interest in dairying should be sufficient so that this whole group of animals will be snapped up by Valley county farmers. Elsewhere in this issue Mr. Coats lists the offering.

Sold Punchboard, Fined.
For selling a punchboard to the Dubas Confectionery, C. R. Gressley, of Broken Bow, was fined $10 and costs in county court here Tuesday. He paid a total of $13.00. The arrest was made by Chief of Police Covert and the charge was filed by the county attorney.

New Managers for Brown-McDonald Store

With the promotion of Dwight W. Keyes to management of the Brown-McDonald store in Kearney, the Ord store this week went under the management of William Darges, young Ord man who was assistant to Mr. Keyes. Darges, left in the picture above, will have as his assistant Geo. E. Reynolds, of Orleans, right. Mr. Reynolds is married, has one son, Ross, 16, and hopes to move his family to Ord soon. Both Manager Darges and Assistant Manager Reynolds here are seen wearing "those smiles that won't come off."

Frank Kamarad, 80, Admits Arson, Gets Two Year Sentence

Tried to Burn House on His Farm to Oust Tenants; Taken to Lincoln.

Frank Kamarad of Comstock was brought into Judge E. P. Clements court in Ord Thursday on charge of setting fire to the house on his farm near the west edge of Valley county on the night of Sept. 22. Through E. W. Gruber, who acted as interpreter, he entered a plea of guilty as charged and was sentenced to two years at hard labor in the state penitentiary.

The facts, as brought out by questioning Mr. Kamarad, were as follows: He owns the farm on which the house is located, and it was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Grant Marshall and their family consisting of a number of children. Kamarad had tried to get them to move off the place, but they were entitled to remain until next March 1 under the law, and refused to move.

On the evening of Sept. 22 he put some excelsior and a can of kerosene in the back of his car and drove out to the place. There he waited until about nine o'clock, at which time there was no light in the house, and he thought they had gone to bed. He put the excelsior beside the house, poured kerosene over it and set it on fire.

He claimed it was not his intention to burn the house down, but "rather to scare the family out." Mrs. Marshall chanced to notice the light through the window, and the side of the house was badly scorched and the shingles at the eaves on fire when Mr. Marshall finally got the fire out.

The state fire marshal's office was communicated with and Deputy State Fire Marshal Frank Baldwin came to Ord and conducted the investigation with the assistance of Sheriff George Round and Deputy F. J. Cohen and succeeded in obtaining a confession of the crime, as stated above.

In pronouncing sentence Judge Clements stressed the fact that Kamarad admitted that he knew the family was in the house, and knew they were likely to burn them to death. Deputy Cohen took him down to Lancaster Thursday where he began serving sentence at once. Kamarad is a man 80 years of age.

Austin New Ericson, Methodist Minister

Rev. C. E. Austin, former pastor at Burwell and later at Cairo and other points, is the new Methodist minister at Ericson. His family now at home consists of his wife and two sons now in high school. Mrs. Austin is also a licensed local preacher. Rev. Austin is a graduate of the Nebraska Wesleyan University, the Wesleyan school of expression and the Drew Theological seminary at Madison, N. J. He has had ten years teaching experience in high school, and is also an experienced printer and news paper man, having served on several of the state dailies. He is also pastor at Bartlett. Rev. Austin made the Quiz office a pleasant call Saturday.

Roy Hansen Leaving State.
Another of our best farmers has decided to rent his fine Springdale farm and move to Oregon. Roy Hansen will hold a cleanup sale on Tuesday, October 12 and he has a large offering of exceptional quality. Among his large offering will be 20 cross bred Holstein-Shorthorn milk cows good enough so he was the second largest cream producer patronizing the Ord Co-operative creamery the past year. His complete offering will be found in this week's paper.

No. Loup District Sells First Bonds, Gets $216,000.00

Telegram Says Money Now In Omaha Bank; All Work to Proceed Rapidly.

Successful sale of the first issue of revenue bonds of the North Loup power and irrigation district in the amount of $216,000.00 is reported by E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the district, who with President Roy Hudson and Treasurer Harry Doran were in Kansas City last week consulting with officials of the Federal Reserve Bank regarding the purchase.

Yesterday came word that the money has been deposited to credit of the district in the Omaha National Bank, from where it may be withdrawn as needed. Part of the $216,000 will be used to pay construction expense already incurred, part to pay back salaries and office expense, and part for new construction which will be started soon.

Advertising for bids on laterals in the Ord-North Loup canal area will start within the next few days, as will advertising for bids on a transmission line between Olean and Taylor, to connect with the Western Public Service company's lines at both points.

A contract has been made with this company to transport electric energy from the Columbus project, to be resold by the North Loup district to municipalities of Ord and Burwell. The Middle Loup district has signed a similar contract and a tie-in will be made with Middle Loup transmission lines at a point near Taylor. It is planned that electric energy will be available for re-sale by Christmas time.

Construction work now in progress will be rushed and new work will be started as speedily as possible, said Dunmire yesterday.

Thought Dead and Buried, Columbus Man Writes Home

John T. Cahill, 36, came back to life Oct. 1st. In a letter to relatives, who thought they buried him at St. Edward last Sept. 21, Cahill said not only were the reports of his death greatly exaggerated, but his funeral was premature. The letter was dated the day of his funeral. Now Mrs. William R. Snell of Columbus and Maurice Cahill of St. Edward, his sister and brother, wonder who the man was they buried.

Cahill wrote from Princeton, Calif., after being robbed of his pocket book and identification papers in Sacramento, Calif. His relatives buried the mangled body of a train accident victim on which the papers were found. California authorities have been asked what they want to do with the body buried at St. Edward. Cahill is a sister of Mrs. Snell, who is an aunt by marriage of the McBeths at Ord.

4-H Club Works Featured In Movie

Two hours of talking pictures, featuring the film dramatization of the famous 4-H novel, "Under the 4-H Flag" will be shown free to people of Valley county, next Friday evening, October 8, at 8 o'clock according to an announcement made this week by C. C. Dale, Agricultural Agent.

The show will be given at Ord opera house. There will be no admission charge and no free-will collection of any kind. The program was produced primarily in the interest of the 4-H movement but families and friends of 4-H members and all others interested in agriculture are invited to attend.

In addition to the six-reel feature, a 4-H newsreel showing important events in the 4-H and agricultural calendar, an educational short called "Hidden Values" and a cartoon comedy will be shown.

Of further interest to those who attend the program is a contest whose award money totals $2000, which is being held concurrently with the showing of the picture. The twenty-four counties whose attendance at the show is the greatest in proportion to the counties' rural population will share $2,000.00 in awards. The county winning first award will receive the first prize of $1,000.00 which will be turned over to the county club agent for the use of 4-H programs.

Condemnation Suit Settled in Co. Court

Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District brought suit the past week in county court against Alice Parker, et al, the suit being filed Sept. 29. The appraisers were James Patska, Jr., Jess Marvel, Bert Braden, W. D. Kingston and Walter Jones. The acreage under litigation is 9.29 acres, and the valuation allowed was $900.00, divided as follows: Alice W. Parker, $596.00; Esther Parker Fees, Helen Parker Easterbrook, Chester H. Parker, and George J. Parker, each $75.00, and Alvin Fees, Ernest Easterbrook, Mary Parker and Cora E. Parker, each $100, and Valley county (for taxes) nothing.

To League Convention.
At the League of Nebraska Municipalities convention being held this week at the Fontenelle hotel in Omaha, Ord will be represented by Mayor Gould B. Plagg. City Attorney Ralph Norman, Light and Water Commissioner George Allen, and possibly one or two councilmen will go also. The annual meeting began this noon, ends Friday night.

Liquor Ordinance Changed by Council

New Closing Hours Provided For Taverns and Also for Liquor Stores.

Earlier closing hours both for beer taverns and stores selling wines and hard liquor in the original package are provided in a new liquor ordinance passed by the Ord city council Friday night. Henceforth liquor stores may remain open only until 8 o'clock on week nights and 10 o'clock on Saturday nights while beer taverns must close operating at midnight. Old hours were until 9 o'clock on week days for liquor stores and until 1:00 a. m. daily for beer establishments.

Beer tavern proprietors are making no complaint over this change in Ord's ordinance structure but liquor store owners say 8:00 is too early for their establishments to be closed with any hope that they will be able to pay $350 occupation tax annually, in addition to all the other taxes levied against them.

Ord's new liquor ordinance is published in full elsewhere in today's issue.

Jensen Will Attend State Patrol School

Alvin Jensen, of Ord, received notice Tuesday that he has been appointed to attend the state highway safety patrol school at Ashland beginning next Saturday. Eighty men out of thousands of applicants were appointed to the school and forty out of the eighty will later be appointed state patrolmen. Alvin, better known as "Peanuts," successfully passed written examinations given at Lincoln a couple of weeks ago, and feels that if he passes the physical examination given at Ashland he has an excellent chance to be appointed a patrolman.

Other central Nebraska men named to attend the school include Ted Brt, Ravenna; W. C. Campbell, Bartlett; E. J. Dugan, Greeley; L. C. Keown, Scotia; and F. F. Klancecky, Sargent.

Named Nebraska Delegate.
Monday E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the North Loup irrigation district, received from Governor R. L. Cochran an appointment as Nebraska delegate to the National Reclamation Conference being held in Casper, Wyo., on Oct. 13 and 14. Mr. Dunmire has accepted the appointment, which came as an honor both to him and to the district.

The Orent Sale.
Joe Orent, living 2½ miles east and 1½ miles south of the Davis Creek churches, will hold a cleanup sale on the 11th, next Monday. He has a good offering of good stock and machinery. See it in this week's paper. Mr. Orent has rented a farm near Dennison, Ia., and will move to that district.

Gail Hiner, 14, Shot In Melon Patch Monday Eve By James Lee, Dies; Slayer Held In Ord Jail

Lee Sorry He Shot—Can't Sleep Well

James Lee, who lives on a small farm across the river east of Ord and works on WPA projects and other day labor jobs when he can get them, also raises melons and garden truck to eke out a living. He is an expert rifle shot and Monday evening used his rifle with fatal results for which he must face serious charges to be filed this afternoon by Alvin B. Lee, Valley county attorney. Held in jail here since he shot Gail Hiner and Arley Worm, the slayer told Sheriff George S. Round he is "sorry he did it—he only slept about an hour Monday night." LaVern Duemey of the Quiz staff, aimed his camera through the bars of Lee's cell yesterday to get this picture.

Young Victim

GAIL E. HINER.

Funeral Deferred Until Sister Comes

Gail Eugene Hiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiner, was born on Oct. 28, 1922, and died in the Ord hospital at 3:20 this morning after hovering between life and death since Monday evening, when he was shot with a rifle by James Lee, now held in jail for the crime.

He was conscious from noon Tuesday until almost the moment of his death and members of his family were with him when he died.

Gail was a member of the seventh grade in Ord high school and was a popular student, taking an active part in athletics and other school activities. He was a great fishing enthusiast and during summer months could usually be found on the bank of the river holding a cane pole.

He was a hard worker, selling candy bars and popcorn to assist in supporting the family. A member of the Valley county board remarked last night: "Today was our first meeting in two years that Gail didn't come in with his candy bars." He was a quiet, well-mannered boy, and had the respect of everybody who knew him.

Plans For 'Ord Day' Develop At Legion Meeting Tuesday Eve

At the regular meeting of Fidelity Post No. 38, American Legion, held Tuesday evening at the hall, plans were developed for the celebration of "Ord Day" Monday evening, Oct. 18. As has been said before, this is the anniversary of the birth of General E. O. C. Ord, for whom the city of Ord was named. At the suggestion of Mayor Gould Plagg, the members present decided that the proper place to hold the meeting would be in the high school auditorium, and the committee was instructed to procure the use of it for that night if possible.

A telegram received Tuesday afternoon brought the welcome news that Hon. Addison E. Sheldon of the Nebraska State Historical society would be glad to accept the invitation of the Legion and deliver an address as a part of the program. As the observance of "Ord Day" is a matter of historical significance, it is especially fitting that a man who has devoted much of his life to historical work in the state should have a leading place on the program.

Also on the program for a short talk will be George W. McAnulty, oldest pioneer now living in the North Loup valley, and the only living member of that band who fought the Indians at the historic battle of Pebble Creek. He is to this valley what Mr. Sheldon is to the state of Nebraska, and speaks with authority on facts connected with the early days. Plans call for giving a place of honor on the

Ord Farmer-WPA Worker Shoots Two Youths With Rifle

Hiner Boy Dead, Worm Boy Wounded In Knee; Lee Will File Charges.

County Attorney Lee called the Quiz office during the noon hour and said he was going to file a murder charge against James Lee this afternoon. He couldn't say whether a first or second degree murder charge would be filed and didn't know when a hearing would be held.

Shot through the stomach Monday eve by James Lee, 53-year-old Ord farmer, Gail Hiner, 14, died at 3 o'clock this morning in the Ord hospital, after lying in critical condition throughout yesterday.

The slayer was arrested at 9:00 Monday night and has since been held in county jail pending the Hiner youths' recovery or death. Filing of manslaughter or second degree murder charges against him some time this afternoon is predicted.

The shooting occurred about 7:45. Young Hiner, accompanied by two young friends, Arley Worm, 15, and Melvin Moore, 15, had been hunting across the river east of Ord earlier in the evening and, apparently, had decided to raid Lee's melon patch before returning to Ord.

Lee has been much troubled by the depredations of Ord boys in his truck garden and melon patch and, with his 22-year-old daughter, was hiding in some bushes Monday eve when the three boys entered the patch.

Without shouting a warning of any kind, Lee arose and began shooting with a 22-calibre rifle at almost point-blank range. One shot struck Gail Hiner in the stomach, another hit Arley Worm in one knee, and two other shots went wild. After the shooting, without looking into the condition of his victims, Lee went to his farm home and went to bed.

The Moore boy, who was unhurt, dragged Gail Hiner from the melon patch, across the river and part way up the road toward home, assisted to some extent by the Worm boy, who was bleeding from the knee wound. When they got to the Keller place in east Ord they sent one of the Keller boys for Dr. F. A. Barta, who took all three boys to the Ord hospital in his car.

An immediate operation upon Gail Hiner was found necessary and was performed about 9:00 by Drs. C. J. Miller and Barta. The bullet had torn two holes in his intestines and the boy had bled profusely internally. The bullet was removed from a point near his spinal column but did not strike the spine. He came through the operation in splendid shape but his condition was critical throughout yesterday. His family were called to the hospital about 3:00 last night when his condition took a turn for the worse, and he died at 3:00 this morning.

In the meantime Sheriff George S. Round was notified and, accompanied by Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen, Chief of Police L. H. Covert and Night Marshal Roy Pardue, went to the Lee home. They feared Lee might resist arrest, as he is known to have a violent temper, but he was in bed when they arrived and came to Ord with them calmly.

He freely admitted the shooting but claimed he did not know he wounded the boys so badly. "I thought I might have hit one of them in the shoulder," he told Sheriff Round. His daughter, who is none too strong mentally, also was brought to Ord and lodged at the Kingston home while Mr. Lee was confined to jail.

Lee had hid the weapon with which the violent act was committed but, taken back to his farm by officers early Tuesday morning, recovered it from underneath a Russian thistle in the pasture.

Yesterday morning he professed

Methodist Ministers Meet.
Methodist ministers in the Ord area held a group meeting at the Ord Methodist church last Thursday, Sept. 30.

This meeting was the first that Dr. Pfoutz, district superintendent, has had with ministers in this section of the Hastings district. Those who were in attendance included: Dr. Frank E. Pfoutz of Hastings, district superintendent; Rev. and Mrs. J. T. Sawyer of Greeley, Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Austin of Ericson, Rev. J. Bruce Wylie of Burwell, Rev. George M. Bing of Wolbach, and Rev. and Mrs. Mearl C. Smith of Ord.

PEACE, AND THE SWORD.

Last week the papers reported that Hitler and Il Duce when they held their love feast stated that their goal, the goal of fascism, was peace in Europe. Truly a noble aim and one to be commended, if it were true. For more than a year the insurgents of Spain, aided and abetted by troops from Italy and Germany, have been engaged in a great conflict against the national forces. According to the best authorities, the war was instigated by emissaries of Mussolini.

At the same meeting the leaders of Germany and Italy agreed that their forces now fighting in Spain were to remain there. Had it not been for the interference of Italy there would have been no war in the first place, in all probability. And had there been war, it would have been ended in a comparatively short time. The only kind of peace Hitler and Mussolini are aiming at is that which can be maintained by armed force.

Not so long ago Italy started out to maintain peace in Ethiopia. So far as the records go, the only disturbing element in most of that country a few years ago was when the natives objected to the constant encroachments of Italians. Thus Italy created the disturbance, and Italy sent out her armies into a peaceful nation to maintain peace. Since that she has maintained peace, and maintained it by lining up Ethiopian objectors against the wall and shooting them.

In Asia a similar condition of affairs exists. Japan has been encroaching on China for forty years or more, and from time to time has taken over territory to which she had no legal claim. Some time ago she started an undeclared war against China when the latter refused to submit to further encroachments. Then we have the picture of Japan appealing to the League of Nations, placing the blame for hostilities at the door of China and claiming that she is asking only for a peaceful settlement.

The thinking people of the world are not fooled by such camouflage. They know that what is aimed at in both Europe and Asia is military superiority and eventually the acquisition of all territory possible to take by military force. If something is not done soon to check this movement in both continents, Fascism will eventually dominate all of Europe, and Japan will overrun all of China and possibly all of Asia, and the peace of the sword will come to both continents as it has already come to Italy and Germany.

Truly, the words of the Master, "I come, not to bring peace but the sword" are being fulfilled. Our own Patrick Henry expressed much the same sentiment when he said; "Gentlemen cry, 'Peace, peace' but there is no peace. The war has already begun." In so far as recorded history is concerned, the war has never stopped. Somewhere in every year sanguinary conflict has been waged. War, real or undeclared, has occupied the minds of men since the beginning of time, and will continue until its end.

ments, demanded $20,000.00 for his return. The boy's father raised the required amount but the contact was never made and the boy was never seen again. It was thought that his captors were William Mosher and William Douglas, who were afterward killed while robbing a house on Long Island.

Sept. 25, 1937, Charles Ross, 71 year old retired card manufacturer of Chicago was kidnapped by three men while driving along the streets of Chicago with his former secretary. In a letter delivered to Mrs. Ross Tuesday night Sept. 28, no doubt a demand was made for a ransom and the amount named, although nothing was given out to the press. Possibly by the time this is printed the world may know more about this latest of revolting crimes.

Kidnapping has gone a long way since 1874, when two men in a spring wagon, possibly without weapons, picked up a little boy in the streets of Philadelphia. In those days it took little nerve to pull a kidnapping. Almost anybody could have done the deed because it was an idea comparatively new. Today it takes nerve, ingenuity and education to pull a kidnapping and realize any money on it.

While kidnapping has advanced in technique, it must not be overlooked that methods of combatting it have developed much more. Those two men of 1874 did not realize a cent for their trouble, but they got away, in so far as the crime was concerned. Today kidnapers may escape for a time to enjoy a few wdays the money they have wrung from the heartstrings of a suffering family, but not for long.

The government and their G-men never quit, and they never forget. To keep out of their hands the kidnapers must be ever on the move, and they never know a moment of peace. The hand of every decent man is against them, and they are despised and deserted by the followers of more respectable phases of law breaking. They do not even trust fellow criminals, because as a class they are despised even by them.

It may be that this Charley Ross, as in the case of the first one, will never be seen again, or he may lose his life and his body be found. But in any case those who are responsible will certainly suffer the penalty of the law. It seems a long time since that first kidnapping stirred the world, but were he alive today, the first Charley Ross would still be four years younger than the last one, so this form of racket is among the youngest. But the results show, as always, that crime does not pay.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS. The best news of the week is that the Endeavor, missing two weeks and given up for lost by many sources, made the trip home across the Atlantic in the face of adverse weather conditions and arrived home without assistance. The Endeavor was not strictly an going craft and was torn away from her convoy when the hawser parted in a hundred mile an hour gale. It was men such as these that made England the mistress of the seas, and it makes the rest of us proud to speak the English language.

Once upon a time the legislature passed a law which made it illegal to have stickers pasted all over the windshield of a car. So far as is known that law is still on the statute books. Down in Lincoln they have an ordinance requiring that all car drivers in the city have their lights and brakes inspected once each six months. When this is done and the 25c fee paid they paste a sticker ON THE WINDSHIELD of the car. Thus Lincoln police break the state law while enforcing the city ordinance.

He was found back in Ohio an dwill have his headquarters in Lincoln but will spend about half of his time in state child welfare institutions. We wonder why the constantly increasing cost of government. That is one of the causes. $4,500. is not much but that amount has been multiplied scores and hundreds of times in recent years in this and every state, until it seems as if half the people we meet are state or government employees. What are we going to do about it. Nothing. It will continue to get worse and worse, or better and better, depending upon which view you take of the matter.

quarters in Lincoln but will spend about half of his time in state child welfare institutions. We wonder why the constantly increasing cost of government. That is one of the causes. $4,500. is not much but that amount has been multiplied scores and hundreds of times in recent years in this and every state, until it seems as if half the people we meet are state or government employees. What are we going to do about it. Nothing. It will continue to get worse and worse, or better and better, depending upon which view you take of the matter.

Just as sure as anything, this country will again drift to prohibition. People are becoming more and more disgusted with liquor. They are learning, more and more, that booze and gas won't mix and all admit that the auto is here to stay. People who do not use liquor and people who use it very moderately, are afraid to go on the roads with a car, for fear of the driver who has been drinking too freely. A more strict enforcement of the law against drinking drivers light stay the coming of prohibition.

I took the examination the other day to get a new drivers license and didn't have any trouble. The hardest part was digging up the necessary seventy-five cents. There was not a question asked as to whether I used liquor; whether I had ever had an auto accident. Many people, if asked these questions would deny it even if they did or had, but it seems to me it might be a good plan to have them on record in case something happened in the future.

I believe in charity but I wonder how often we get uncooped by being charitable. The other day a red faced, poorly dressed man dropped into my office, thrust out his hand in a friendly fashion, announced that he was a brother newspaper man and announced his name. I had never heard it but assumed that he must be a newspaper brother for I happened to have on a shirt with soup and egg marks on the front and trousers that were much worse for wear, the same as he did. He said he was financially embarrassed and asked if I could help him a little as he wanted to get to Broken Bow where he thought Emerson Purcell would give him a job. I dug down in the old wallet and had just thirty cents, three dimes and I gave them to him. He looked pleased and surprised and hurried out. A moment later I wondered what such people really did with money given them and I put on my hat and trailed him. As I suspected he headed straight for a beer joint and I got close enough to see that he was spending my three dimes for beer rather than coffee and sandwiches. Poor devil.

There ought to be a law to prevent my Minnesota friends from writing me, telling me how good the fall fishing is up there. I got such a letter the other day from Mrs. Wallin and if Eugene was at home to look after things and if Irma was home again and well again and if I had the money with which to buy gas, I would be on my way back right now. I guess you have all heard the "it" story.

The wonderful increase in advertising being shown by the World-Herald seems to prove that there is business for one paper when, like in Omaha, many business men were afraid to advertise in one paper because they would be forced to advertise in two, which they couldn't afford to do.

A good friend and valued long time Quiz subscriber, who was in arrears more than a year, came in Saturday and gave me a five dollar bill, saying that since I had carried it when he couldn't pay, he was going to shove it up into 1939 and be ahead for a while. I appreciate that kind of friends and that kind of cooperation.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Beavers Again. At another point in our valley are the people menaced with beavers. Straight east and a half mile south of North Loup on the Chris Stude and Harry Barber farms, the beavers have been working. There is a little island in the river off the Stude land and it is thought by Carl Stude and Earl Kriewald, who are working the land, that the rodents live there. There are evidences of their damage all along the river bank and the old mill race there. One does not have to go far before he sees the sharp stumps sticking up.

Rev. Hill and I made a trip to the place purposely to see the trees. At one place on the mill race the beavers have started a dam. A nice big cottonwood has been felled perpendicular across the stream. Close by another tree shows where the beavers have started to work. Across the stream several more large trees have been chipped. The plan is, so Rev. Hill says, to fell these trees, from each bank into the stream, then to carry mud and branches to the center and build their house there. All along the bank are beaver slides where the busy animals skoot into the water.

It is a crime that these animals are allowed to exist in our midst of so called civilization. They are very destructive to timber that we are beginning to prize highly. They dam streams so that in flood times surrounding territory is inundated. It is rather strange that they have come to this civilized country; stranger yet that we leave them stay.

Inventor. Annual Frazier has made a basin lister out of an old corn planter at the cost of less than a dollar and a little time. He and his son figured it out and Annual says it works perfectly. From the front of the corn planter frame he ran two irons beside each wheel. On these running down are clamped the shanks of two cultivators and on these shanks is fastened a disc. A pin in the wheel raises the disc at each revolution. A weight had to be fastened opposite the pin on the wheel that raises the discs. Annual showed me some land that had been listed with this basin lister and some that was listed without it. He said that rained after they finished and where he used the basin lister the water stood in the rows and without the use of it the water all run off. Surely, Annual thinks, this is one method of conserving moisture, and the expense is so small, and the machine so simple to make, that everyone might have one.

Pheasants. There is quite a little talk concerning the open season on pheasants that is soon to come. Many farmers think there are not too many pheasants in the country and that we need them to combat the grasshoppers that are too plentiful. Most farmers that one meets are of the mind to post their place against pheasant hunting this year.

The drop of the price of corn of about forty cents in the last little while is hailed with delight by everyone in these parts. Not alone has the drouths of the last few years been like suicide to farmers and business men but they are doubly hit when feed that they have to buy goes soaring to such heights.

It was a rather amusing incident of the two governors, from Nebraska and Iowa, riding together with the President on his special train from Chicago. The Nebraska Governor was pleading for aid for his drought stricken state. The Governor of Iowa was pleading for loans to his farmers so they could hold their corn and grain for higher prices. With prices as they were, and we here having to buy, one naturally asks, "What do they want, for heavens sake?"

Better Off Now. Arlie Street sold out last spring and moved to town. Now he works on the ditch and his wife gets odd jobs. I asked him if he was sorry he moved to town. He answered that he was not. He was sorry that he did not move to town sooner. The place he was on was completely dried out and they would have worked again for nothing.

Poultry Column. Again taking up subject of poultry, in which every farmer is somewhat interested. Even this last year with feed so high, there has been a few people who have made their chickens pay. It can be done and is done.

It has been proven that hens confined in a good warm coop will lay as well and profitably as when turned out. This is especially true in fall, spring and winter. It is doubtful if it is ever wise to turn out the hens from now until warm weather again. The temperature of the hens can be better regulated in the coop than outside and the health better maintained. They can be kept cleaner and better fed. This is especially true with leghorns for they are a southern breed and suffer more with the cold.

A new method of feeding hens, and many think best, is to have plenty of self feeders, putting mash in part and mixed grains in part. Allow the hen to choose her own diet. Warm water helps and grit should be always available. If we treat our hens as carefully as we do a good milk cow, or as a good milk cow should be cared for, these hens will pay most of the time. And that is more than we can say of crop raising.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresley and Mrs. Bresley's mother, Mrs. J. C. Wisda, sr., went down to Lexington Sunday to visit the W. H. Wisda family and also to see Mrs. Gene Wisda who has been in the hospital there for some time.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Packers and Stockyards Act Expected to Save Money for Poultry Industry

WASHINGTON - The poultry farmer won't get any benefit payments in the new "farm economy" but he will get a break elsewhere. Under the packers and stockyards act, the Department of Agriculture is authorized to license dealers, check weights and scales, and control unloading costs, at the point where poultry is received for purchase by the big slaughter houses.

New York City is the largest poultry market in the United States, probably in the world. It has a very large demand for kosher-killed chickens. An average of 375,000,000 pounds of live and dressed poultry comes to the New York market every year from some 42 states. This represents a $42,000,000 business. So the Agriculture Department's initial investigation was of the New York market.

It developed that the New York Live Poultry Company had a monopoly on local trucking of poultry from the terminal to the slaughter house at the rate of 30 cents per coop carried. Under the same ownership a separate but affiliated company rented coops in which the chickens were transported for 85 cents per coop.

The trucking company collected for each coop unloaded at the terminal whether or not it was hauled by company trucks. It operated on the principle of making a service charge, just as a public utility does, for making available at all times a fleet of trucks with capacity to haul the entire day's shipment, if necessary.

ACTUALLY that was a situation they didn't have to meet. The need for a trucking service exists in the "wind-up" market, or for chickens received at the terminal and unsold at the end of the day.

The farmer pays for all these services. The trucking company and the company which rents coops, bill the receiver who in turn deducts these charges from his remittance to the shipper. So if a poultry farmer sent a carload, or 80 coops of chickens to the New York market, 20 of which were "wind-ups" he was required to pay $6 for trucking many Bee-News readers will take Lincoln State Journal. Bee-News readers are faced with choosing a new newspaper to replace the Bee-News which has been discontinued. The Daily Lincoln Nebraska State Journal welcomes Bee-News readers as subscribers. The State Journal will be pleased to send free samples to former Bee-News readers who would like to analyze and order their future reading for themselves. The Bee-News suspension leaves but one other large morning daily in the state besides The State Journal. It leaves but one other large Sunday paper in the state besides The Sunday Journal and Star. The State Journal has been serving the territory between Omaha and Denver for the past seventy years.

The Lincoln Journal sells for one to two dollars a year less than any other big state morning daily, and is priced as low as day late afternoon papers. With the Lincoln Journal you practically get the Sunday free, for the other morning paper charges as much far daily only as The Journal does including Sunday. By mail in Nebraska and North Kansas, three months Daily $1.25, with Sunday $1.50; a year Daily $4.00, with Sunday $5.00. Or by carrier boy 15c a week for daily and Sunday. The Lincoln Journal has openings for carriers on morning, evening and Sunday paper routes in many towns--Adv.

The Ravenna News--(Editorial) Having recently had the job of turning out a 50th anniversary edition of this paper, we realize what a task it was to get out that 68 page special edition of the Great Island Independent for the airport dedication. If our friend, Gus Buechler, doesn't have another gray hair in his head because of it, it's only because they were already gray after a half century in the newspaper business. Nevertheless it was as fine a special edition as we have ever seen. (Our opinion too.)

Counsel for Christians of Today

THE early path along which Christianity made its way led through a world of evil, a world in which many difficulties and temptations faced the pure souls who heard Jesus' voice and turned to his way of life, and also the early converts who followed.

To be a Christian meant to be in constant danger of persecution because the world at all times has been very critical and hostile toward those who have not conformed to its ways. The menace that besets the Christian, however, does not all come from without. In every such situation there are those who take some compromising and expedient way. They do not bluntly and frankly yield to temptation, but they find some means of justifying their conduct to themselves and others.

IT is this situation that is described in this lesson from the one-chapter book of Jude. Jude is described as the brother of James, and it is supposed that they were brothers, or half-brothers, of our Lord. Apparently the brothers of Jesus were slow at first to believe in His divine mission, but James and Jude became zealous disciples. Our lesson reveals Jude as a man of pure and beautiful character, zealous to save the early Christians from corruption and from the debasing influences of their environment.

His message to the early Christians is one of mercy and peace and love. He is constrained to exhort these Christians, but it is not with any superior sense of righteousness, but out of his quiet zeal for the faith.

Jude speaks of those who have crept into the church who have not understood the purity and beauty of this faith, ungodly men who have been corrupt and lascivious and who have denied their Master. He calls upon these Christians to remember the words of the apostles, that there would arise mockers and hypocrites, who would be deceived themselves and would seek to lure others from the life of the Holy Spirit.

What are Christians to do in the presence of such a situation? They are to keep themselves in the love of God. They are to seek the mercy of Christ unto eternal life, and they are to be merciful toward others, particularly toward those who are in doubt.

Some they are to save, snatching them out of the fire, but in other cases, mercy is to be associated with fear. How finely this is put: "On some have mercy with fear, hating even the garment spotted by the flesh." Where could there be better counsel for Christians of today? For the Christian of today, like these early disciples, is in the midst not only of temptations and dangers, but he is apt to be beset with attitudes and philosophies that would destroy or pervert the simple sincerity and beauty of a faith established in mercy, peace, and love.

News From The Quiz Exchanges

Loup City Leader.—Mr. and Mrs. Art Butts of Burwell were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Spelts. Mr. Butts returned home in the evening and Mrs. Butts remained over Monday, when she and Mr. and Mrs. Spelts made a trip to Grand Island.

The Sargent Leader.—Last Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Kaminske, daughter Geraldine and son Harold of this city, and Mr. and Mrs. Connie Rector and son Bobby of Hastings drove over to Ord and visited friends. About four o'clock the Rectors went to Burwell to visit a few hours before leaving for Hastings, where they new reside.

Howard County Herald.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mulligan and son went to Ord last Sunday where they attended a birthday celebration of Mr. Mulligan's mother, who was past 80 years old. A reunion was held and all the children were present except one, Ed Mulligan of Dix. A picnic was enjoyed and a happy day spent together. A photo of the mother and children was also printed in the Quiz.

The Greeley Citizen.—Mr. and Mrs. John Brannen moved to Ord last week. Mr. Brannen is with the state road department and is working on the Ord-Ericon highway with state engineers. He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. J. L. Brannen of Greeley.—Last week the Citizen quoted John F. Doyle as saying that the drouth committee would demand at least $25.00 per month for drouth stricken families. It should have been for drouth stricken families of three or more.

The St. Paul Photograph.—Mrs. Ed Gnaster and daughters Monica and Marianne came down from Ord Saturday and visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Webster, and Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Webster. Mrs. Gnaster and Monica Jean went to Grand Island and Marianne remained at the Webster home until evening when they returned home.—Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Jurzinski and family of Ord visited the former's mother, Mrs. Joe Jurzinski at Eiba, Sunday.

The Comstock News.—Mrs. Eva Bragg, pioneer merchant of Comstock, passed away last Friday. She is survived by her nieces, Mrs. John D. Rockhold and Mrs. Robert D. Quiz Visits Valley County Rural Schools.

Dist. 4, located about four miles east of Arcadia, is a charming little school being taught this year by Miss Mary Jane Rettenmayer of Arcadia. This is a standard school, coming up to all state specifications for a modern school building. Dist. 4 children are proud of a brand new piano which was secured for them this year.

"Newest school in Valley county." That's what the students of Dist. 25 have to boast about. And rightfully so, not only is it the newest, but it is also one of the prettiest. Constructed entirely of brick, it was built along modern designs and has been declared fireproof. Miss Doris Valet is teaching at Dist. 25 this year, her first year at this school.

Mrs. Parker Looks For Proof of Birth

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Purcell of Broken Bow brought Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Parker, of La Grande, Ore., over from Broken Bow Monday afternoon, Mrs. Parker coming here to find proof of her birth in Valley county in 1886. It so happened that the Quiz issue for Sept. 24, 1886, which probably would have contained the information, was missing from the files for that year.

Mrs. Parker's father was George W. Coleman, who moved from Ord to Oregon in 1890. Her birth date was Sept. 24, 1886, and because of the fact that no birth records were kept at that time, the only means of proof is through the current copies of the newspaper. Her name was Margaret Coleman, but as the family left Valley county when she was only four years of age, most of her recollections of Ord were hazy or through the columns of the Quiz, which they took for a number of years after leaving. The Parkers had been to Omaha in attendance at the big banquet tendered Carl Gray and Wm. M. Jeffers by the Union Pacific. They stopped for a visit with their old friends, Mr. and Mrs. Purcell, on their way home. Among the old timers Mrs. Parker recalled were Dr. Klinker, O. C. Rashaw, and a storekeeper named Haskell.

—Word from the Guy Keeps is to the effect that they both are enjoying life out in Idaho, and like it better there than here. Guy reports that he got his old job back, working for the Snowball Sport shops. He was recently in the employ of Montgomery Ward.

—Miss Florence Anderson went down to Lincoln Saturday to visit Mrs. Forest Eno, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Johnson, formerly of Ord. She went down with Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCall, who went down to see the Nebraska-Minnesota football game. They returned Saturday evening, but Florence came back on the bus Sunday evening.

—Dr. and Mrs. H. N. Norris came up from Kansas City Friday and remained until Sunday visiting his parents and also getting more of their household goods ready to take back with them. They have a four room apartment there, and they and their daughter Eloise went back Sunday afternoon.

—Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Lincoln and Rev. and Mrs. Anna Rybin drove to Irving, Kas., Saturday. Mrs. Rybin remained for several weeks visit with her many relatives. On the return trip Sunday the Lincolns stopped at Haddam, Kas., for a short visit with the James Vandas family.

—Ruth Milford, who has been here for some time visiting her mother, Mrs. James Milford, returned to her school work in Omaha Friday morning. She was accompanied by Mrs. Vincent Kokes and her niece, Helen Kokes. Mrs. Kokes expected to take treatments in Omaha for a week or more, and Miss Kokes is an Omaha teacher.

—Joe Liberski, who had the misfortune to break his left arm just above the wrist early in September, is not making very satisfactory progress toward recovery. Joe was soliciting orders for brushes in the territory northeast of Burwell at the time, and the horse he was riding fell with him. It was several hours before he was found, and his arm was swollen badly by the time he reached a doctor. The member is still in splints and will have to be kept that way for some time yet.

With His Eyes Closed.

Examiner Henry M. Wolfe added recently to his novel experiences in testing driver's license applicants for their eyesight. Holding a card on which letters appeared at the prescribed distance, he was astonished to find that the applicant could read the letters accurately with his eyes closed. It turned out that the applicant was Dr. John C. Peterson, eye specialist, and that the card used was one which he had employed on so many occasions that he had committed it to memory.—State Journal.

Martha Bacock with the help of a few boys of the neighborhood have cut the large cottonwood, mostly dead, that stood in their back yard. It measured thirty inches across and was no doubt one of the oldest trees in town. The boys are busy now cutting it up for firewood and it will make a nice pile but will keep the boys busy and out of mischief for some time.

A family gathering honoring Mrs. Edgar Smith of Wilton, Minn., was held Sunday at the John Goodrich home. Those present were Mrs. Edgar Smith, Wilton, Minn., Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Hal Smith, all of Arnold, Mrs. Oscar Smith, Alta, Alma and Ethel, Mrs. Lena Cass and family, Mrs. Veda Mars and family of Burwell, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hatfield and children of Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Smith and family of Sumter, Mr. and Mrs. Will Fox of Ord and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fox and son of Ravenna. Thirty-eight partook of the basket dinner which they brought with them. Mrs. Edgar Smith went home with Arthur Smith and will return later in the week for a longer visit with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman and Mrs. A. L. Willoughby attended the funeral services for Evelyn Harris Chambers at Scotia Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Nolde and Avona also attended.

The W. O. Zangger family spent the day Saturday in Hastings with Charles Zangger who is attending school there.

The Tuesday morning freight was late because of bringing in some cattle for Herman Nass, Arnold Bredthauer and Jim Bremer.

John Raglan returned Monday from a few days spent at Elgin with his mother who is very sick with blood poisoning.

Mrs. Grace Holman who has been in California for some time is buying the little house of Mrs. Myra Thrasher east of the Methodist church.

Monday afternoon three men and a woman helped themselves to several pairs of leather gloves and two ladies' hats in the Bartz store. No doubt they got away with other things but Mrs. Bartz was able to check the gloves and hats, having recently invoiced them. They entered the store while Mrs. Bartz was out and the woman took Mrs. Street's attention by trying shoes, hats and various things, finally buying a five-cent handkerchief. One of the men bought five cents worth of candy from Mr. Bartz and the others were in other parts of the store. Because the number on their car was covered with mud Mr. Bartz could not get it but it was parked on the west side of the old Moulton harness shop. Marshal Jim Coleman called Sheriff Roun's and found that a similar party had been in Ord in the morning. Up to date no trace of them has been found.

Florence Hamer assisted in the cooperative credit bank several days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer and twin daughters of Scotia spent Sunday at Ford Eyerly's. Mrs. Eyerly went home with them and stayed until Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Betty Stichter called at Ford Eyerly's Sunday afternoon to see the twins.

Mrs. Harold Williams of Loup City attended the shower for Mrs. Vernon Thomas Tuesday afternoon.

Jean and Ruth Clement are both working in Ord.

Mrs. Allen Sims, Billy, Grace and Fern were released from quarantine Friday. Billy was the only one who had scarlet fever. Mr. Sims and Max lived in the garage while the others were quarantined.

Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer spent the week end at Victor Cook's in Mira Valley.

Fall Harvest Scenes in Valley County

Up she goes! In this picture is shown Orn Powell and Roy Steele loading a hayrack full of corn stalks on the Otto Lueck farm southwest of Ord. The stalks will be cut up into ensilage and put directly on the feed lot. This cornfield, located in a bottom, yielded nearly 30 bushels of corn per acre.

Grows Huge Squash

regret over his action. "I only slept about an hour all night," he told officers.

This is the third time that Lee has shot with a rifle boys whom he suspected of stealing his melons. About 10 years ago when the late Bert M. Hardenbrook was county attorney, Lee shot at and hit Ernest Woolery, jr. He was not greatly hurt, however, and no charges were filed against Lee. In August, 1934, when George A. Munn was county attorney, Lee again broke loose with a rifle, this time shooting John Jelinek, who claimed he was fishing in the river near the Lee farm and had not stolen melons. This time charges of assault with a deadly weapon were filed against Lee but when George Munn retired that fall as county attorney and was succeeded by Alvin B. Lee of Arcadia the case dragged along without being brought to trial. Through three jury terms no action was taken and finally, in September 1936, County Attorney Lee moved dismissal of the case and Judge E. G. Kroger granted the motion.

Asked yesterday by the Quiz as to what criminal charge he will file in the present case, County Attorney Lee, who is not related to the man under arrest though their names are the same, said it will depend on developments. Should Galt Hiner fail to recover, the county attorney indicated, then that he would file second degree murder charges.

Galt Hiner, the boy most seriously hurt Monday night, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiner, Arley Worm, shot in the knee, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Worm, while Melvin Moore is a son of Mrs. Norman J. Holt. All three are junior high students in Ord high school.

Wednesday it was reported to the Quiz that Clarence Davis of the law firm of Davis and Vogelzanz, would probably be chosen to act as lawyer for Lee.

Hospital officials reported at noon Wednesday that Arley Worm, shot through the knee, was out of danger but would probably be confined in the hospital for several days yet.

Ed Kruml Wrestles to Draw. All that is good, pure and honorable took and awful blow Monday night at the Elks club in the weekly hug-and-grunt extravaganza when Behemoth Jim Clinkstock drew in 30 minutes with the popular Ed Kruml. Fans were riled by the decision.—Omaha World Herald platform to several of the oldest settlers on the valley.

—Harry Wolf went down to Lincoln Sunday and went through the clinic at the vet's hospital Monday. He underwent a couple of operations there after his discharge from the army, and they were checking up on his condition. He got back Tuesday on the morning train.

In behalf of the music department of the Ord high school, Dean Duncan has promised to furnish enough music to fill out that part of the program. Dr. F. L. Blessing is in charge of the Legion chorus, which will furnish some familiar selections in keeping with the occasion. The committee on arrangements, which includes Ed Vogelzanz, Horace Travis, Ign. Klina and John L. Ward, are open to suggestions, as it is hoped that this will be an occasion long to be remembered.

In addition to the "Ord Day" plans, the Legion is developing plans for the big Armistice Day dance, and the Ladies Auxiliary was asked to assist in making it a success. They accepted the proposition, so it will be billed as a Legion-Auxiliary affair. Service Officer Alfred A. Wiegardt made a report on the trip to the Grand Island Dedicatory program at Arrasmith Field, which was accepted. The new officers, Commander Tom Springer and Adjutant Roy Severson, were on hand and in charge of their first regular meeting.

Local News

—Mrs. L. Pesek, the former Edna Hinzda, who lives at DuBois, Neb., is coming to Ord Friday for a visit with Miss Clara McClatchey and other friends. She formerly taught in the Ord junior high school.

—The E. T. Woolery's are leaving Nampa, Ida., and going to Long Beach, Calif., according to a letter received asking to have the address of the Quiz changed there.

—Mr. and Mrs. Dave Wood of Ogallala and Mrs. Maude Lunney of Grand Island were visiting at the Charles M. Roberts home in Lincoln Saturday. Mr. Wood attended the football game. Mrs. Wood was formerly Georgia Burdick of Ord.

—Victor J. Desmul writes telling of his change of address to Lynden, Wash.

—Writing to renew his subscription, Charles M. Roberts enclosed a couple of old time pictures which the Quiz will doubtless be able to use in the near future.

—Herbert Bredthauer, who lives on the old Stevens ranch, brought in a fine specimen of salamander

Tuesday, similar to one pictured in the Quiz some months ago, but much larger. These reptiles are of the lizard family, but cannot live under wet weather conditions. They were unheard of in this section before the present dry weather began, and will probably disappear as soon as wet weather returns.

—Mrs. Lee and Zeta Nay report the birth of a 7 1/2 pound son to Mr. and Mrs. LaVern Burrows. The young man's name is Robert Lee.

As Japanese Met Hand Grenades in North China

Greatly outnumbered by well-equipped Japanese regulars, these Chinese troopers were making a valiant stand against the invaders when this picture was taken in north China. Crouching beneath great sand bag barricades most of the time, two of the Chinese were photographed just as they let fly highly explosive hand grenades at advancing Japanese lines. A third soldier can be seen laying down a protecting screen of rifle fire.

Woman's Club Meets.

The Woman's Club of Ord met for the first meeting of the year, Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Horace Travis.

Mrs. Geo. Allen gave an interesting review of the book, "One Life, One Kopeck", by Walter Durnant.

As is the usual custom of the club, at the first meeting, refreshments were served by the program committee, Mrs. Leo Long, Mrs. Dean Duncan and Mrs. Horace Travis. Mrs. Mark Tölen poured.

The officers for the club are Mrs. Tolen, president; Mrs. Geo. Work, vice president; Mrs. Duncan, secretary; Mrs. Brockman, treasurer.

The M. A. O. club was organized Sept. 30th at the home of Mrs. Leo Nelson, twelve members enlisting. The officers elected are: Mrs. Evert Smith, president, Mrs. Hazel Hall, sec.-treas., Mrs. Ferne Carson, pianist, Mrs. James Ollis, music leader, Mrs. Leo Nelson and Mrs. Wayne Turner, project leaders. Mrs. Seton Hanson, reading leader. The group is looking forward to many pleasant meetings this fall and winter. The hostess for Oct. 14 is Mrs. Seton Hanson.

Vasicek 25th Anniversary.

Friday was the occasion of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vasicek of Michigan township, and in honor of the occasion the members of the Z. C. B. J. lodge arranged a celebration for them at the hall in Ord Tuesday evening. One of the largest crowds to attend a function of the kind was in attendance including a large percentage of the older people, which made the occasion especially enjoyable. To add to the interest, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kluna and Mr. and Mrs. John Beran acted as bridesmaids and best men for the evening. Music for the dance was furnished by the Joe Lukesh orchestra. A gift of a silver service was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Vasicek by the Z. C. B. J. lodge and by the children. Since their marriage at the German Catholic church 25 years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Vasicek have lived continuously on the same farm. They have four children, Jimmy and Georgia (Mrs. Jim Turek) and Jerry and Leo, who are still at home.

A teacher training class, which had its inception in the union daily vacation Bible school and proved so popular, begins its fall term Wednesday, October 6 at 7:30 p. m. in the Presbyterian church. There are 25 persons who have enrolled for the fall term from four of the Ord churches.

The class meets each Wednesday night at 7:30 p. m. for two periods of 45 minutes each. The study material consists of one unit of Bible study and one unit of teaching methods. The teacher in the public school must have an understanding of the methods of teaching plus a thorough knowledge of the subject being taught, so the objective of this training class is to give the same fine balance of instruction for Sunday school teachers, workers, and prospective teachers.

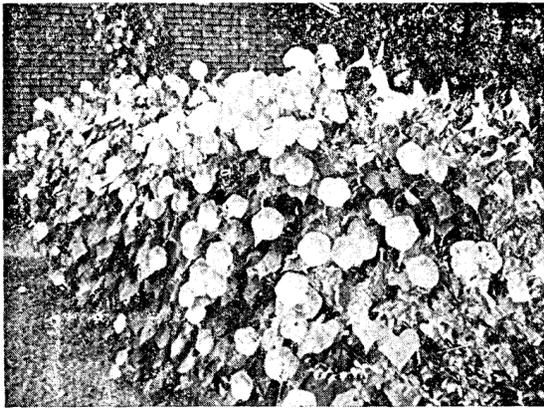

You are invited to enroll in the class, come each Wednesday night as an auditor, or visit at any time that you wish.

Petska-McOstrich Wedding.

Baskets of fall flowers and bouquets of red poppies formed the background for the marriage of Miss Louise Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Petska, and Darrel B. McOstrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. McOstrich of Lexington, Nebr. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Haines at 4:00 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 3, at the First Presbyterian church at Lexington.

Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Maybelle York sang, "I Love You Truly", and "Because". The bride wore a beautiful French blue velvet suit, fashioned on princess lines, with blue accessories and a corsage of gardenias. Miss Dorothy Ann Zikmund, maid of honor, wore a beautiful ashen of roses, wool crepe dress with a corsage of tallman roses. The groom and his best man, Chester Shaw, wore the conventional dark suits. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Petska entertained at a 5:00 o'clock dinner at the Cornland Hotel to 22 relatives and immediate friends for the bridal party. A beautiful 3-tier wedding cake was used as the centerpiece.

Morning Glories at Archie Bratt's

There are a number of beauty spots about Ord this fall that are made doubly beautiful by the morning glories that clamber over the trellises and form a solid glamor of light blue blossoms every morning. The above picture was taken at the Archie Bratt home, but a similar sight may be seen along the fence at the Texaco station, and in several other places.

Mr. and Mrs. McOstrich left immediately after the wedding dinner on a trip to Colorado and other points. Of special interest is the fact that the wedding was held on the 21st wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Petska.

25th Anniversary for Holubs.

(From Quiz 25 years ago). "Ed Holub is at Schuyler and Omaha this week.—Ed Holub and his bride returned Tuesday evening and will go to housekeeping in the neat little home that has been recently erected." The above items taken from the Elyria correspondence are all the record to be found in the Quiz of an event that was commemorated with a big anniversary celebration in Elyria Monday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Holub were married at Wahoo, Nebr., and their married life has been spent in Elyria, where they have endeared themselves to all by becoming a necessary factor in the community. The town of Elyria and the surrounding territory turned out Monday evening to do them honor, and a large delegation from Ord, including the entire irrigation group were in enthusiastic attendance. They were the recipients of a large number of lovely gifts, and dozens of bouquets of flowers arrived during the evening. The Holubs have one daughter, Kathryn, who was at home to enjoy the celebration with her parents.

Chief G-Man Signs With Shirley

J. Edgar Hoover, who has become famous for directing the government's war against kidnaping as chief of the federal bureau of investigation, signed his name in Shirley Temple's autograph book for celebrities as this picture was taken in Hollywood. That badge which the curly-haired child star has just pinned on his lapel doesn't say "G-Men," but "Shirley Temple Police."

Huge Siphons Used On Project

An idea of how large the siphons being used on the Middle and North Loup Irrigation projects really are can be gained by studying this photo. This particular siphon, which makes the car in the background look pretty small, was found near Arcadia. Many of this type are being used in construction work on the Middle Loup project.

Mrs. Bertha Howe is visiting this week with her cousin, Mrs. Austin Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vance and family moved from the country into one of Mrs. Olive Brown's houses in town.

Mrs. Johanna Lueck returned home the first of the week from a two weeks visit with her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Noll in Mira Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coons and children, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Armstrong and Gene Cox were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Moody.

Mr. and Mrs. Myrtle Myers and two little daughters visited Sunday with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Meyers.

Thurman Bridges met with quite a serious accident Friday when he was repairing some machinery he had propped up and which gave way, striking his head, cutting a gash and two in his limb above the knee. He had a team hitched to the machine and had he been rendered unconscious as the team started he would have been injured much worse but he called to the team which did not start. Mr. Bridges was taken to town for Dr. Joe Baird to care for the injuries, but he was out of town, therefore Bridges went to Ord for the services of a doctor.

Miss Lee will meet with the project members Wednesday at the city hall in the sewing room and give them their lesson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chancey Smith and family visited her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Morris at Comstock Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Dombarg of Loup City were Sunday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen. The four drove to Broken Bow in the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Smith and family visited Saturday night and Sunday in Kearney with her mother, Mrs. Welty.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creemen entertained at Sunday dinner Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Layton of Silver Creek and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milburn and daughter Hope of Arcadia.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Creemen and family were Friday evening supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Creemen and took a large birthday cake to remind him of his birthday anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson and family visited Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Creemen.

Chanticleers Beat St. Paul 19 to 0, Serve Notice of Championship Hopes

No Individual Stars but Ord Has Best Balanced Team Since Brockman Came.

With their tails between their legs, St. Paul high school's "Wildcats" went scurrying home as fast as they could travel Friday night. Outplaying the Apostles in every department of the game, Coach Brockman's Chanticleers scored their first Mid Six victory of the season Friday as they walloped the St. Paul gridmen, 19-0, under the lights on the Ord Russell Park field.

Good aerial work was again displayed by the Ordsters, however considerably more power in their line plays was exhibited Friday evening than in the first game of the season with Atkinson.

There appear to be no individual stars on the 1937 team—fans believe that this year's team is the best-balanced grid machine that Ord high has ever turned out.

Each man on the squad could be commended for some good piece of work in the St. Paul tussle. Charles Cetak, fleet-footed end, proved his running ability as he overtook an Apostle in the second half who had broken into the open and was straggling for an almost certain touchdown. "Bubbles" Hughes was outstanding on defense with his fellow teammates on the line doing themselves noble in both offensive and defensive roles.

Don Tunnell, Ord's small but flashy quarterback, exhibited brilliant work in returning punts and on end runs. Zulkoski, Barnes and Keown made up a powerhouse combination which literally tore the St. Paul line to shreds.

After the first half, the Apostles began to resort to cave-man tactics in order to stop the avalanche of black-clad Chanticleers. Numerous penalties were inflicted but play throughout the final two quarters still remained "penalty rough."

At the end of the first half the score stood 13 to 0 in Ord's favor, the Ordites failing to convert on their first touchdown. Play was tighter the second portion of the contest, the Ordites pushing across the St. Paul goal line only once.

Substitutes were frequent, Coach Brockman giving all of his candidates a chance to "show their stuff." Starting line-ups:

Waterfowl Season To Open Saturday

The 1937 waterfowl season opens Saturday, Oct. 9. Confirmed duck hunters, about 50 thousand of them, are anxiously awaiting for Saturday morning to roll around, despite the fact that nearly every duck hunter in the state has been "squawking" for weeks about the early opening date.

Since duck hunters are 100 per cent optimists, every scattering welder is looking forward to a good sport during the 30-day campaign from October 9 to November 7. On the Loup rivers blinds have been built on almost every island, bar and point.

Goose hunters contend that the late opening will wipe out all chance at the bigger geese. There are thousands of smaller ducks in the state at the present time, many of them natives, being hatched on state waters. The first thing of frost to the north will send thousands of other ducks pelting for the south.

Limit on ducks this year is 10 daily and 10 in possession. Both the daily and bag limit on geese has been raised from four to five, while species now totally protected by law in any part of the United States include Ross' geese, wood ducks, ruddy ducks, canvasbacks, redheads, bufflehead ducks and swans.

B. B. Indians Are Next Ord Opponents

This Friday night the Red and White football camp will break up, duffle bags will be packed, muskets loaded and the entire caravan of black-clad Chanticleers will journey to Broken Bow for a game under the lights. It is expected that the Bow Indians will receive a little of their own medicine and the Chanticleers will be the ones to do the scalping.

It is said that the Metz-coached outfit has nothing in the way of a powerful football team this year. Their record thus far seems to verify this statement. In the first game of the season Arcadia routed them from the grounds 19-0; last week Coach Copeland's Sargent eleven blasted the Indians with both barrels, 33-0.

In last year's game with the Chanticleers the Indians gave a very good account of themselves, the final score reading 12 to 0. Broken Bow is a member of the Mid Six conference and a win by Ord Friday night will give them their second victory of the season in the Mid Six loop, having already done away with the St. Paul aggregation.

Eight lettermen are members of the Broken Bow grid machine, including: Ike Stone, (Captain); Ray Rellly, Alfred Crouch, Jim Arnold, Jess Hagadorn, Gale Neiswanger, Claris Smith and Leo Atkinson. Coach Brockman will take along just as many boys as he can possibly use, probably over the 25 mark.

Loup City Meets Arcadia, Friday

Mid Six and Loup Valley football really gets under way this Friday when nearly every team in both conferences sees action in conference games.

Three Mid Six and two Loup Valley tilts are on tap, with one non-conference contest thrown in for good measure.

Leading game on the Friday slate is the Loup City-Arcadia clash on the Arcadia field. Arcadia is yet undefeated, the Tuning-coached team has thus far chalked up a 19-0 win over Broken Bow and a 25-0 victory over North Loup. Coach Brown and his Loup City crew met their "Waterloo" last Friday when an experienced Ansley eleven gave them a 13 to 6 pounding. In the first game of the season Loup City dumped Sargent, 12 to 0. Loup City, with their heavy team and experience, is given the odds to win over the Arcadians. However, Minnesota was also given the odds. So what?

Ravenna will meet St. Paul on the St. Paul field Friday night in a Mid Six game which should be a "hum-dinger." Ravenna thus far is undefeated this season. In the remaining Mid Six game, Ord will mix with Broken Bow on the Bow field. St. Paul may win this game while Ord is almost bound to scalp the Indians.

Burwell will meet North Loup on the Loup gridiron in a Loup Valley contest. In the same conference, Sargent meets Taylor on Taylor territory. Burwell should win over the Loupers and Sargent will zoom over Taylor. Comstock will play Merna on the Comstock grounds in the only non-conference game of the week.

Ansley Slaps 13-6 Defeat on Brownies

Coach "Bullet" Brown's Loup City gridmen, heretofore far and near as tops in the Loup Valley area, took it on the chin 13 to 6 Friday night, the decisive blow being delivered by a touted Ansley eleven. The game was a non-conference affair. Loup City received a similar defeat at the hands of Ansley last year, the score being 13 to 6 in Ansley's favor.

An upset in the Loup Valley conference was recorded when the scrappy Taylor eleven went into a huddle and cooked up a 6 to 0 loss for Coach Ehmeler's Scotia gridmen. This was a signal victory for Taylor, gaining revenge for a stiff 33 to 0 defeat served them last year by the Scotia aggregation.

Coach Tuning's Arcadians took it easy as they slid over North Loup by the large margin of 25 to 0.

This was the first Loup Valley conference game of the season for the Arcadia crew.

In non-conference play, Loup Valley teams made good showings; Comstock and Mason City battled to a scoreless tie. Burwell tried hard but were only able to tie the O'Neil, 6-6. This however was much better than last year when the Wranglers received a 26 to 0 beating at the hands of the O'Neill team.

Sargent, of the Loup Valley league, slammed a 38 to 0 pasting on the Mid Six Broken Bow team. Last season the Sargent eleven won by the narrow margin of 6 to 0.

Keyes Is Promoted To Larger Store

DWIGHT W. KEYES.

After fourteen months as manager of the Brown-McDonald store in Ord, Dwight W. Keyes last week received a well-merited promotion when he was appointed manager of his company's store in Kearney. He left Thursday to take over his new duties. Mr. Keyes was assistant manager in Kearney before coming to Ord. Under his management the Ord store made new sales records, installed the first complete air-conditioning system in Ord and otherwise was greatly improved. Bill Darger, home-town boy, succeeds Keyes as manager here, a promotion richly deserved.

Free Baseball School

A free baseball school is being given by the Brooklyn National league baseball team in Jeffers Park in North Platte on Oct. 9, 10 and 11. It is open to all Nebraska boys who want to take the schooling and coaching will be given by Burleigh Grimes, Andy High, Ted McGrew and Chick Frasier.

Fire Prevention Week, October 3-9

This is the week designated as fire prevention week, and as such is one of the most important weeks in the entire year. The record for the past five years shows an average of 2,324 fires per year, with an average of $2,274,925.00 in yearly losses. This figures a per capita loss yearly of $1.87. Governor R. L. Cochran has issued a proclamation designating Fire Prevention week, as follows:

"I, R. L. Cochran, Governor of designate Sunday, October 3, to the State of Nebraska do hereby and including Saturday, October 9, 1937 as Fire Prevention Week, and call on all good citizens to use their best efforts in starting a program that shall continue for the following 51 weeks." (Signed) R. L. Cochran, Governor.

The fire commission of the state of Nebraska was created by the legislature of 1909. At first the governor was the fire commissioner, and appointed two deputies, one of whom was required to live in Lincoln and manage the office. The functions of the office are now carried on by the state fire marshal in the department of insurance. Insurance companies pay sufficient inspection fees to maintain the activity.

The division of fire prevention has general charge of the inspection of buildings and premises, and the investigation of fires occurring in the state. The state fire marshal may cause the origin of fires to be investigated, may order dilapidated buildings to be destroyed, and must prepare a book of instruction in fire dangers. Horace M. Davis is the present state fire marshal, and his chief deputy is Frank Baldwin.

New Crop Corn Meal. Following his annual custom, which he has followed now for 43 years, Henry Moore of High creek community advises the Mail that he last week had fresh corn bread from this year's corn crop. Mr. Moore, one of this paper's best news sources, never fails to report this action on his part, and usually with a challenge to any other farmer to show as early a use of the new crop, since he never fails to make the new meal in August. —Atchison County Mail.

Mrs. Sven Peterson Dies Near Ericson

Hannah Paulson, daughter of John and Bertha Paulson, was born near Hulto, Sweden, Sept. 13, 1863, and died Oct. 1, 1937, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James A. Bodyfield near Ericson, Nebr., aged 74 years and 13 days. In 1885 at the age of 12 she came with her parents and settled in Omaha. Later the family moved to Burt county where they resided on a farm near Oakland. Among those who settled in the same neighborhood was a young man of sterling character from the same city in Sweden, Andrew Peterson, whom she married in the early seventies.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson moved from Burt to Garfield county, where they entered the ranching and cattle business. They homesteaded and purchased several sections of land in the upper Cedar valley, northwest of Ericson. There were born their children who survive. Several years later Andrew Peterson died leaving Mrs. Peterson with her small children amid the rigors of pioneer life. In August of 1877 she was united in marriage to Sven Peterson, a brother of her late husband.

Later she and her husband moved to Ericson to engage in the mercantile business and then to Cedar Rapids, where Mr. Peterson engaged in banking. In December, 1929 Mr. Peterson passed on. Since then she had made her home with her several children: Mrs. Alice Bodyfield of Ericson, F. E. Peterson of Hastings, Mrs. Ella Rasmussen of Grand Island, Mrs. Hilda Compton of Cedar Rapids, and Mrs. Elsie Diers of Omaha, Nebr. She was a lifelong member of the Swedish Lutheran church and in the later years the Sabbath was never complete unless she could enjoy the church services over the radio. The body was brought to Ord where brief services were held at ten o'clock Sunday morning at Sowl's chapel, Rev. Mearl C. Smith of the Methodist church officiating. The body was taken to Omaha for burial.

Football Scoreboard.
Ansley 13, Loup City 6.
Sargent 38, Broken Bow 0.

enough for their defense against the Indians as they traveled thru Sioux territory.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Coleman moved to Hebron, then to Denver where they lived for several years, again returning to Nebraska with their family of five children, three girls and two boys. In 1900 they came to Loup county where she lived until her death except for the two years spent with her daughter Mary in Arkansas.

Mrs. Coleman was a charter member of the Christian church at Greenwood. About 75 years ago Mrs. Coleman attended a church reunion at Greenwood, she was among the few members of the original organization present.

July 1, 1916, Mr. and Mrs. Coleman celebrated their Golden wedding. Mr. Coleman passed away Sept. 20, 1922. This broke up their home. She went to live with her daughter, Mrs. Mary Wirsig, with whom she lived eleven years spending most of the rest of her time with her son Elmer H. Coleman. Mrs. Coleman was the oldest member of the Taylor ladies aid society of the Congregational church.

She was blind the last few years of her life but continued to piece quilts by feel until a few weeks before her death.

The five children were at her bedside during her last illness, Elmer H. Coleman, Taylor; Elmer Coleman, Burwell; Mrs. Mable Hall Custer, S. D.; Mrs. Mary Wirsig, Harrison, Ark., and Mrs. Myrtle Oberkotter, Burwell. Twenty-eight grandchildren and forty-six great grandchildren and a great many friends will reverse the memory of this brave mother.

Funeral was held in the Congregational church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Funeral sermon given by Rev. L. L. Patterson. Mrs. R. S. Shipley, B. B. Holm and Guy Fletcher sang the very beautiful hymns accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd Lewis on the piano. Burial in the Kent cemetery by the side of her husband.

A very large crowd attended the one act play "Smoke" given by the Evangelical church Sunday evening Oct. 3, at the high school auditorium. The cast was as follows: Guy Fletcher, Arva Davis, Maxine Carrick, Lester Stecker, Floyd Ward, Kenzie Fleming, Lewis Ward and Isla Henne. Miss Frances Bliss was the director and Miss Isla Newbecker assistant. The Misses Nema Cruzan, Bessie Edney and Frances Bliss sang "Lift Thine Eyes" accompanied by Mrs. David Milander. The closing meditation was given by Miss Elizabeth Cooper.

The Taylor football boys played Scotia at Scotia Friday, Oct. 1. Taylor won 6 to 0. Coach George took the Taylor boys to his home in Scotia after the game and treated them to a delicious lunch. Supt. John Ward and a few of the boys attended the game at Ord before returning home and Coach George and some of the boys attended the game at Sargent.

Youth rally was held at the Evangelical church Sunday morning and evening, Oct. 3. Supper was served in the church basement by the ladies circle.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coleman took Mr. Coleman's sisters, Mrs. John Wirsig and Mrs. Mable Hall to Dunning Friday to visit Mrs. Wirsig's daughter, Mrs. Dooler. Fields and family, from there they will leave for their homes in Arkansas and South Dakota respectively. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn and grandson Billy Schroeder returned with Mr. and Mrs. Coleman. ## Taylor Department

Mrs. Alta Chevrant Coleman. Alta Chevrant was born at Rour Corners, near Brandon, O., May 27, 1848, and passed away at the home of her son Elmer H. Coleman at Taylor, Nebr., about one o'clock a. m. Tuesday, September 28, 1937, at the age of 89 years, 4 months and 1 day.

Between the age of 5 and 12 she moved with her parents to Fort Wayne, Ind., Miami, Mo., and Mannmouth, Ill. Later the family moved to Burlington, Ia., where they resided during the great Civil war conflict. The family endured the heartaches and privations of this period. After the war, the Chevrants with several other families moved onward to Plattsmouth, Nebr., then nothing more than a straggling settlement around the fort. They moved by boat down the Mississippi river to St. Louis and up the Missouri to Plattsmouth. They lived in the settlement a year and then took a homestead 35 miles west of Plattsmouth, close to a tiny colony on Salt Creek in Cass county, then called Ford, but now the thriving little city of Ashland.

The Sioux Indians were hostile to the whites, several times Mr. and Mrs. Chevrant fled with their children and the other settlers at Ford to the fort at Plattsmouth for protection against the savages.

Alta, a young woman then, vividly remembered many blood-curdling incidents of the Indian raids. Alta Chevrant married Henry Coleman at Greenwood, July 1, 1866, and established a home there. The Colemans were neighbors of the Chevrants in Ohio, having moved by covered wagon to Plattsmouth two years previous to the Chevrants coming.

Mr. Coleman was then freighting from Plattsmouth to Denver. They formed a train of from 8 to 10 wagons with as many oxen to each wagon. The trains must be strong

Tests Recipes in Model Kitchen

Miss Dorothy Gill, who will conduct the Quiz-City Light Department free cooking school in Ord on Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 19 and 20, spends many hours in experimentation and research before she ever appears on a cooking school stage. "I have to," she admits, "I must be absolutely sure my recipes are accurate, so that they will turn out right every time, not only for me but for whoever happens to try them. And then I have a personal reason for wanting my recipes to be fool-proof. It's bad enough to have a baking failure in the privacy of your own kitchen, but when you have something go wrong on the demonstration platform with a couple of hundred or more women looking on, that is sheer tragedy."

The Quiz-Light Department cooking school, once postponed, now will positively be held on October 19 and 20 and all women in Valley and surrounding counties are invited to attend one or both days. Baskets of groceries, sacks of flour, etc., will be given as door prizes. Watch for further announcement of the school in next week's paper and plan to attend, by all means.

Social Work Meeting Will Be Held Soon

The Nebraska Conference for Social Work will hold its 40th anniversary meeting in Grand Island on October 17, 18 and 19. The conference is a state wide group of Nebraska citizens interested in a better understanding of welfare problems in the community and in stimulating action towards the solution of these problems.

The conference membership is made up of citizens from every walk of life and is not an organization composed of all social workers, although most people actively engaged in welfare work in the state belong to the conference.

Louis A. Holmes, judge of the municipal court, Grand Island, is chairman of the general planning committee for the 1937 conference and announced that the program has been completed. This program consists of "study group" meetings on October 17 and 18, and general conference sessions on October 18, and 19. Four different study courses are being offered, with discussants from the leading social agencies in America.

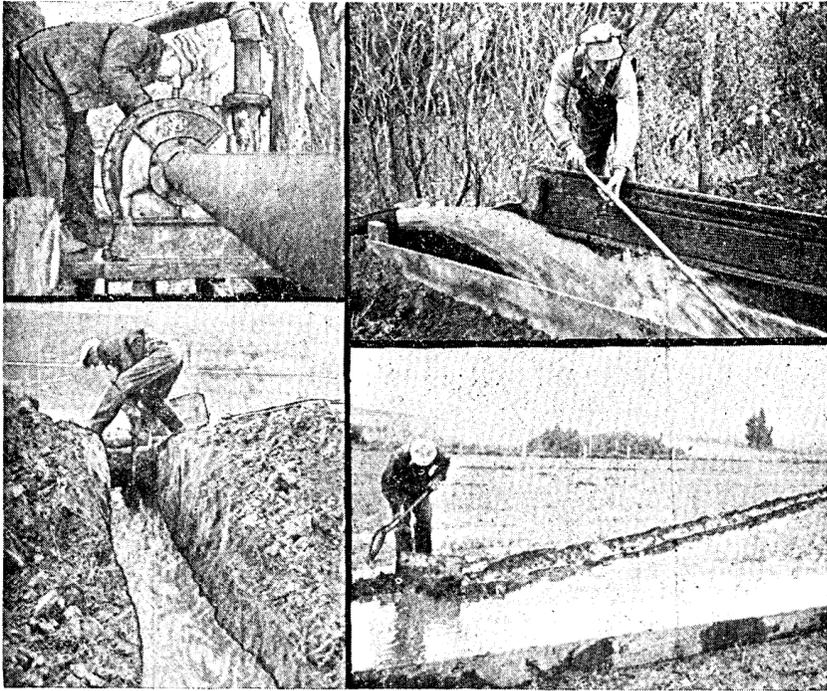

The cost of registration for the study groups will be a registration fee of $1.00 and will be open to members of the conference for social work. Reservations for the courses will necessarily be made in advance. Like other organizations, the Nebraska Conference for Social Work is dependent upon subscription from its members to defray current expenses. The membership fee is $1.00 per year for actual membership, $2.00 a year for contributing membership, and $5.00 a year for sustaining membership. Any citizen interested in attending the Nebraska Conference for Social Work this year may obtain application blanks, and further information by calling at the County Assistance Office, Ord, Nebr., or writing directly to Frank Kruml, Ord, Nebr.

Since the advent of the expansion of public welfare agencies in 1933, the burden of a major load of social work in the county has rested in the hands of a small minority group directly in charge of expanding public funds. With the withdrawal of the public agency, this work will again return to private groups. The conference meeting at Grand Island affords a first hand opportunity for private individuals to acquaint themselves with their responsibility as citizens to the community in which they live.

Previous to this year, all conference meetings have been held either in Lincoln, or Omaha and very little has been known about the conference out state, and very little representation from the rural areas. This year it has been arranged to hold a conference for the benefit of the rural areas of Nebraska and likewise a program arranged to meet the needs of out-state counties. With this opportunity to attend the conference within easy driving distance, a large number of people are expected to take active interest in Central Nebraska attend at least one day.

—F. J. Riesland and L. J. Auble were in the vicinity of Bassett inspecting some of artichoke fields there the past week, and found a number of them which promised a very good crop.

Fall Irrigating Being Done on Farm of McLain Brothers

Although the water isn't being supplied from the North Loup Irrigation project, irrigating is being done in Valley county this fall, showing how "irrigation minded" people here are becoming. With completion of the project ditches, sights like this will be commonplace. Now they are most unusual.

The McLain Bros., who own a farm 7 1/2 miles northeast of Ord, have been staunch irrigation enthusiasts for the past five years. Rigged out with a steam engine and special pump, they have long irrigated their crops on their farm. Water is supplied from a dam which they constructed on their land, damming up the water flowing in Spring Creek near their farm and making a large lake which at one time was a choice fishing spot.

This fall the McLain's are irrigating a large field of winter rye—and how that rye does grow! In the upper left hand corner is shown Arthur McLain, engineer of the crew in charge of the large steam engine which furnishes power for running the pump. In this particular scene, Mr. McLain is shown doing a little repair work on the pump. Upper right—Ray McLain washes off his hoe in the huge stream of water thrown out by the pump, nearly 1000 gallons per minute. Lower left—Reggie McLain opens up the outlet from the lake which permits the water to flow down to the intake of the pump. Lower right—Diverting the water into canals for distribution to all parts of the field is a job which is both dirty and hard labor—but it produces results.

Bohemian Meetings At Ord Church

The Presbyterian church of Ord is sponsoring a group of meetings for the Bohemian speaking people of this area October 10, 11 and 12. The Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson, Nebraska, well known and popular Bohemian preacher, will be the speaker. Rev. Filipi will speak in Bohemian October 10 and 12 at 7:30 P. M. and in English Monday, October 11 at 7:30 P. M. The address in English will be on the subject "Bohemia's Contribution to Protestantism."

The many friends of Rev. Filipi have already expressed their gladness in his anticipated coming. All are invited to hear this talented and scholarly Christian gentleman speak.

Jablonski-Sydzzyk Wedding.

At a lovely wedding which took place Tuesday at 9:00 at the St. Mary's church, Miss Florence Jablonski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Jablonski, became the bride of Walter Sydzzyk, son of Mrs. Sophia Sydzzyk. Father Szumski officiated at the wedding ceremony and at the nuptial mass.

The bride was lovely in a white satin dress with a long flowing veil made cap fashion, and carried a bouquet of white roses and baby breath. She was attended by the Misses Dorothy Schachta, Julia Wadas and Alice Jablonski. Miss Schachta and Miss Wadas wore floor length gowns of peach taffeta, while Miss Alice Jablonski wore a pink taffeta gown. They carried bouquets of roses.

The groom and his attendants, Leon Jablonski, brother of the bride, Anton and Donald Sydzzyk, brothers of the groom, wore dark suits.

Immediately after the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the home of the brides' parents. Presiding at the table during the reception period in the dining room were Misses Matilda Konkoleski, Victoria Micek, Francis Shotkoski and Magdelan Jablonski.

Guests attending the wedding were the bridegroom's mother and brothers Harold and Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jablonski, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Micek, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wadas, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Konkoleski and families, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Jablonski, Mrs. John Carkoski, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Platek, Mrs. A. Will Organize A Junior Red Cross

A type of Red Cross work which has not been stressed in this locality for a long time will be started this fall.

Sponsored by the Valley county chapter of the American Red Cross a Junior Red Cross chapter will be organized soon with all Valley county schools taking active parts in the program. At the present time nearly fifteen million school children in the United States and many foreign countries have enlisted in this interesting work.

Those who enroll in the Junior Red Cross will be presented with an interesting program which includes correspondence with school children in foreign lands, exchange of school work, sending art and composition work to hospitals for veterans and crippled children, having junior first aid courses and health programs, assembling and covering brailled stories to send children in schools for the blind, and many other equally interesting things. Students are permitted to choose their own activities.

No dues are charged for those who wish to join this division of the Red Cross, the national headquarters of the American Red Cross takes care of all arrangements such as mailing, translating, furnishing materials, etc.

All rural school teachers are urged to enroll their schools in this course. More information about joining this movement may be secured by getting in touch with Mrs. E. L. Kokes, Ord chairman, who will be assisted in handling the work by an able county committee.

Ord Second Best In Checker Contest

Five gentlemen from Kearney dropped into Ord Monday and gave out the information that they were checker players looking for a contest. The Ord players are all out of practice, and some of the best could not be contacted in time to get them into the games, but Clay McGrew did the best he could with the time at his disposal. The games were played in the K. of P. hall, a total of 100 games were played, Kearney winning 67 and Ord 33. Peter O'Brien, Art Teubetter and A. H. Gordon each won 15 games for Kearney, while George Holin won 13 and Ray Cummings 8. For Ord McGrew and L. E. Knapp each won 9, Harry Foth 6, Ed Burrows 5 and Bill Burrows 5. O'Brien and Gordon are book players and the boys figure they did very well to win one third of the games.

—Edward Puncocar of Spalding, who has been in Grand Island taking treatments at the hospital there, was so improved that he was able to be moved to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Puncocar in Spalding, Sunday.

Ord Junior High Battles Ravenna

In their one and only game of the year, Ord's junior high team will travel to Ravenna this Thursday night where they will fight it out with the Ravenna junior team.

Keith Wolfe, new Ord junior high coach, has been drilling a large squad of boys since Sept. 1 and at the present time the boys are looking good.

Attempts to get games with Burwell, Loup City, Arcadia, Central City and several others, have been to no avail as not many schools are interested in junior high football.

Boys who have been reporting for practice and many of whom will make the Ravenna trip include: Everett Petty, Harvey Dahlin, Ernest Piskorski, Earl Barnes, Virgil Morris, Ruel Higgins, Donald Peterson, Jerry Fryzek, Junior Patska, Gall Hiner, Henry Adams, Marvin Melia, Bobby Shunkwiler, George Cetak, Elton Walker, Bobby James, Clyde Dahlin, Bob Tunnell, Donald Ward, Billy Johnson, Gould Flagg, Roland Norman, Harold Williams, Billy Malolepszy, Junior Lakin, Billy Fafeta, Freeman Johnson, Ora Hurlbert, Merlyn Austin, Raymond Furtak, Martin Melia, Lloyd Ge-weke.

—While in Ord Friday to see Dr. C. W. Weekes, Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Oliver visited a short time with their cousins, the A. W. Tunnell family. They got away in time to attend the Nebraska-Minnesota game Saturday.

—Mildred Fish, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Devillo Fish, fell out of a tree while attending a picnic Sunday, and fractured one arm. Dr. F. A. Barta attended her.

Doane Parents' Day Scheduled Oct. 8th

Of interest to former Doane college students and also to parents of students from this section now in attendance there, is the announcement of Parents' Day, which will be celebrated Oct. 8th. The regular schedule will be followed that day and visiting parents will have an opportunity to see just what their children are doing in college. An address by Rev. William Bell, first graduate agriculturalist ever sent to a foreign field, will be given at chapel hour. In the late afternoon games by girls and men from the departments of physical education have been planned. At night under the lights the first home football game will be played with the York Panthers on Simon field. Between halves the Doane girls' drum corps will drill. The 20 piece college band will furnish music.

Dr. A. E. Sheldon, Geo. W. McAnulty, Ord Day Speakers

High School Auditorium On Oct. 18 To Be Scene and Date of the Program.

Plans are practically complete for the celebration of "Ord Day" next Monday evening, Oct. 18, at the high school auditorium. The school very kindly changed a meeting which had been scheduled for that evening, in order that the room might be available. The idea of "Ord Day" seems to have caught the public fancy, and dozens have expressed themselves as being heartily in favor of the proposition. The American Legion through their officers, Commander Tom Springer and Adjutant Roy Severson, extended Hon. A. E. Sheldon an invitation to speak at the celebration, and the following reply was received:

"Dear Mr. Severson: Your letter of Oct. 6, inviting me to deliver an address in commemoration of the birthday of General E. O. C. Ord, for whom the City of Ord, Nebraska was named is received. I shall plan to be with you on that occasion and shall speak not only of General Ord, with his fine record of service in the United States army, but also of some of the things nearer and closer to the present City of Ord than even the great general after whom it was named. You may use as the title for my address 'The Birthday of General Ord: The Nebraska Frontier'.

Very Sincerely, A. E. Sheldon, Supt.

The following letter from George W. McAnulty is self explanatory. "Mr. John Ward, The Ord Quiz: Dear Friend: Have just received the Quiz and noticed that I am on the program for Ord Day on the 18th of this month. I shall be there on that date and shall be pleased to have the privilege of saying a few words about General E. O. C. Ord. As you know, I was one of the committee that met General Ord when he came to the valley to select the location of Ft. Hartuff. Am pleased to find that Dr. Sheldon is to be one of the speakers on the program.

Your friend,
George W. McAnulty.
P. S.—Had the pleasure of meeting Dr. Sheldon at the old Ft. Laramie dedication July 4 of this year."

At a committee meeting held at the First National Bank Monday evening the complete program for Ord Day was arranged, and will be found elsewhere in this issue of the Quiz. This program will be unlike any program ever given in Ord, and has a real historic significance. It is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of the opportunity to hear Nebraska's most eminent historian, who is preparing a talk especially for this occasion.

While the American Legion has taken a leading part in promulgating this first celebration of Ord Day, it has done so in the spirit of service and the committee acknowledges the assistance of a number in the planning of the program who are not Legionnaires. It should be considered a real privilege to be able to attend the final session of a celebration that in the future is destined to be one of the leading events in the yearly calendar of Ord.

Junior Red Cross Attracts Interest

Adventure in world friendship and social service is the opportunity which schools enrolled in Junior Red Cross work, now being organized in Ord, will enjoy, and students will find it a new experience working in an organization all their own but to which 15 million young people in the United States and foreign countries already belong. Each school has its own student council to choose its projects and to act as a governing body and each school keeps posted by reading a national magazine, "The Junior Red Cross News."

Junior Red Cross is an auxiliary of the American Red Cross but it is not a money-raising organization. The idea of a Valley county chapter is meeting with fine response in rural schools.

Skull Fractured In Auto Accident

Mrs. Hulda Petersen Houchin, daughter of Mrs. Eda Petersen of Burwell, suffered serious injuries when the car she was driving turned over after a rear tire blew out, four miles south of Miller, Neb., Tuesday at 11:00 a. m. She was brought to Burwell by relatives, where an x-ray disclosed a serious skull fracture. She was taken to Methodist hospital in Omaha Tuesday by her brother, Walt Petersen, a sister, Mrs. Lena Burke, and W. E. Rice. She had been in Burwell three weeks, being called there by the serious illness of her mother.

3 Arrested Monday, Get Jail Sentences

At the instance of Ralph Manchester, Cecil Wolf and Mrs. Dorothy Manchester were arrested Monday forenoon at a cottage in John's Town at the south edge of Ord which it was charged they were using as a house of ill fame. They each entered a plea of guilty as charged. Wolf drew a jail sentence of 50 days, and costs of $9.00, while Mrs. Manchester was sentenced to 35 days in jail and costs of $9.00. Grant Marshall was arrested Monday on a charge of intoxication and was fined $10.00 and costs of $3.00. As the money was not forthcoming he is laying out the amount in jail.

Ord Ag Student Attends National Judging Contest

Richard Fish Being Sent to Kansas City by the Ord
Chamber of Commerce

Sent by the Ord chamber of commerce, Richard Fish, 15-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Devillo Fish, will leave Saturday for Kansas City where he will participate in the national dairy products judging contest.

Competition will be strong in this contest, as boys from 47 states and many foreign countries included.

RICHARD FISH.

ing Hawaii and Puerto Rico will take part. California is the defending champion in the dairy products division of the contest this year.

Charge of Murder Filed Against Lee Pleads Not Guilty

County Judge Orders Melon Patch Slayer Held Without Bail Until Trial.

At a preliminary hearing held in county court here Saturday morning, James Lee, alleged melon patch slayer of Gail Hiner, was formally charged with murder in the first degree by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee and filed a plea of not guilty. On order of Judge John L. Andersen he was bound over to district court without bail. The proceedings Saturday were brief. In custody of Sheriff George S. Round, Lee entered Judge Andersen's office and heard the complaint read by the county attorney, then filed an innocence plea.

Only witnesses introduced were Melvin Moore, one of the Hiner boy's companions on the night when the shooting occurred, Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen, and Dr. C. J. Miller.

The Moore boy testified that he and Hiner and Arley Worm had been hunting and were crossing Lee's farm when somebody began shooting at them. He and his companions started to run and the Hiner youth said "I believe I'm shot," he testified.

Ord Girls Attend Taylor "Play Day"

Twenty-five girls belonging to the Ord high school G. A. A. organization traveled to Taylor Tuesday noon where they participated in the annual "Play Day" given for all Loup Valley schools who are charter members of the G. A. A. The trip was made by bus and the group was accompanied by Supt. C. C. Thompson and the sponsor of the Ord G. A. A., Miss Helen Myers. The group returned to Ord Tuesday evening.

Free Food Gifts, Prizes Offered At Cooking School

Plans Completed to Make the
Oct. 19-20 Event Best Ord
Has Ever Seen.

On Tuesday, Oct. 19 at 2:00 p. m. the doors of the Masonic Temple basement will swing open for the first session of the Quiz-City Light Department big free cooking school. Everything is in readiness for the opening class, and a record crowd is expected.

Everything possible has been arranged to give the women of Ord a valuable and instructive course in homemaking. Miss Dorothy Gill, home economics director of Quartermaster Mills, Inc., and one of the foremost home economics experts in the middle west, will conduct the school. Miss Gill comes highly recommended for her work in cooking schools throughout Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois, Minnesota, South Dakota, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico, and promises a fascinating series of demonstrations of new recipes, latest kitchen equipment, and modern methods and menus.

In addition to Miss Gill's able demonstration of new homemaking technique, local firms have arranged for a display of the newest labor-saving devices for home and kitchen.

Free recipe folders will be distributed each day of the school to every woman attending. The leaflets will give complete instructions for making the products prepared on the stage by Miss Gill. Each day's session will be different, with new dishes prepared each day, so plan to attend both days.

The food products made by Miss Gill during her demonstrations will be given away at the close of each session. In addition, there will be several prizes contributed by cooperating merchants.

Everything points to the most successful cooking school held in Ord in many years. The school is absolutely free, and every woman in Ord and vicinity is invited to attend. The style show to be presented at 3:00 p. m. daily under the personal direction of Miss Eunice Chase, of Chase's Toggery, is another interesting feature planned.

Funeral Rites Of Gail Hiner Held

Gail Eugene Hiner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiner, was born Oct. 23, 1922, and died in the Ord hospital Wednesday, Oct. 6, 1937, being 14 years, 11 months and 13 days of age at the time of his death. He was a member of the seventh grade in the Ord schools, and was a popular student, taking active part in athletics and other school activities. He was a hard worker and contributed his earnings to assist in supporting the family.

The funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Monday afternoon with Rev. Dickenson of the Ord Pentecostal church in charge. Misses Stote and Lukesh, teachers of the Junior high school, took their pupils and attended the services in a body. Others who wished to attend from the schools were permitted to do so, and many attended. Music was furnished by Dr. F. L. Blessing, R. G. Stoltz, Mrs. E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Mark Toleno, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the piano. The pall bearers were Gould Plagg Jr., Jerry Fryzek, Robert Dean Tunnicliff, Melvin Moore, Edward Wachtle and Henry Adams, all junior high students.

Besides his parents he leaves to mourn his loss three sisters, Mrs. Robert Bevier of Junction City, Oregon, Merna and Wauneta, at home; and three brothers, Doyle, who makes his home with Martin Lead, and Floyd and Loyall, both at home. Two of his uncles, Albert and Charles Hiner were also present for the funeral.

Instruction School Held Here Thursday

An all day meeting of township committeemen was held Thursday at the Legion hall. It was a school of instruction for the conservation program, and was in preparation for the final checkup on performance of this year's program. The school was conducted by C. H. Holmes, district field man. The committeemen have been holding meetings in each of the townships. They began Friday and expect to finish Thursday. They are finishing all work possible at these meetings and the committeemen will visit the farmers to finish what remains.

Wm. Moses Killed When Car Hit by U. P. Train

Wreckage of Car Falls 25 Feet from Trestle Into Creek Bed

Wm. Moses, prominent Ord man and former mayor of this city, lived only a half hour after he was struck from the wreckage of his car and taken to the Ord hospital. As shown above, the Moses car was lifted by the Union Pacific motor at 9:15 Thursday morning, was carried part way across a trestle on Harris Creek and fell 25 feet into the creek bed, landing two feet from the water. Photo by John L. Ward, of the Quiz staff.

Drove Onto Track Near Harris Creek In Front Of Motor

Accident Occurred Thursday, Former Ord Mayor Laid To Rest Sunday.

The community was shocked Thursday morning when the word was passed out that William H. Moses had driven his car into the path of the outgoing Union Pacific motor at Harris creek, with the result that he passed away within the hour at the Ord hospital, to which he was rushed as quickly as possible. There is a permit road across the right-of-way at the north edge of the Harris Creek trestle, and it was from this road that car and driver were carried 87 1/2 feet along the track and dropped 25 feet to the bank of the creek below.

George Gutschaw, motorman, saw the Moses car approaching the track and believed he would stop. When he saw he was driving upon the track, he applied the brakes, but it was impossible to stop in time. The pilot of the motor struck the car near the left rear wheel, and they held together for a short time, the front end of the car dragging on the east side of the bridge. When the car slipped loose from the pilot, the wheel remained fast and was carried across the bridge.

That no part of the wreck got under the wheels of the motor is a miracle. If it had occurred the motor would doubtless have left the rails and fallen into the creek. The pilot was bent downward until it rubbed on the ties, and the wheel which hung to the pilot rubbed along on the metal of the bridge, being thrown off when it hit the ties on the far side. It was necessary to have the freight engine pull the motor back to the yards, where the pilot was taken off before they could proceed at about 11:00 a. m.

Apparently the car left the bridge left side down, and fell without turning. The train crew assisted by others who had arrived, took Mr. Moses out through the upper door of the car, and carried him up the bank and across the trestle, where H. T. and LeRoy Frazier, who had arrived with the ambulance, placed him inside and took him to the Ord hospital. (Continued on Page 4)

40th Anniversary Observed Tuesday By Z. C. B. J. Lodge

Stara, Koupal and Dworak Honored as Charter Members of Ord Group.

At their fine hall Tuesday afternoon and evening, members of the lodge Dennis No. 14, Z. C. B. J., celebrated the fortieth anniversary of their existence in Ord, the afternoon being devoted to a program, followed by a supper and dancing being enjoyed in the evening. The lodge was founded in the fall of 1897.

Frank Stara, Frank Koupal and Frank Dworak, sr., only survivors of the group who founded the lodge in Ord forty years ago, were presented with diplomas of honor from the grand lodge by Anton Adamek, local president.

Principal speaker at the exercises was Frank Masin, representing the Z. C. B. J. lodge of Jungman hall neighborhood. Another speaker was Rev. B. A. Filippi, of Clarkson. Other brief talks, a playlet, vocal solos and music by the J. F. Lukesh orchestra also were included. Playing of the United States and Czechoslovakian national anthems, with tributes to the flags of both nations, also was a feature of both nights. Officers of the lodge now are Anton Adamek, president; Joe Vasicek, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Rohla, secretary; F. J. L. Novada, financial secretary; J. O. Benda, Henry Misko and Anton Kluna, trustees.

Chicken Supper.
You are cordially invited to attend the old-fashioned chicken supper given by the M. E. Ladies Aid at the M. E. church, Saturday, October 16. Serving will begin at 5 p. m. The price 20c and 35c. Committee —The Quiz should be able to give accurate weather reports in the future, as the boss was presented an extra large Preston thermometer by C. A. Anderson, who has gobs of the anti-freeze in stock. The thermometer adorns the east facade of the Quiz building, half an ell to the south of the main entrance.

Fur Coat Salesmen Arrested, Released

Three young men from Philadelphia, peddlers of fur coats, were taken into custody Monday afternoon by Sheriff George S. Round and Chief of Police L. H. Covert, but were released after a few hours when they proved that the coats they were attempting to sell were not stolen. They were similarly arrested and released in Grand Island, say officers.

The procedure used by the group seems to be similar to that used by itinerant peddlers in Omaha recently. By implication, the prospective purchaser is led to believe that the coats were smuggled in or stolen and therefore are being sold at a fraction of their real value. Examination of the coats by expert furriers reveals that they are actually rabbit skin dyed in imitation of more expensive furs, and that the price asked for them is actually much more than the coats are worth. One of the men arrested here wore a sailor's uniform.

Former North Loup Young Man Missing

North Loup—(Special)—From Mount Morris, Ill., comes word that Roger Johnson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson of this village, is missing and fears are held that he may have committed suicide. A high school music instructor at Mount Morris, Johnson disappeared late Sunday leaving a hastily written note of farewell to his fiancée, Miss Genevieve Loofboro, of Linden, Wis. "He inferred that it was the end although he didn't exactly say so," says Miss Loofboro. She believes he may be suffering from nervous strain from overwork, or may possibly be a victim of amnesia.

Young Johnson is a graduate of Milton College where he was active in athletics and music. He spent Saturday in Milton where a sister, Mrs. Theron Ochs, and an aunt, Mrs. Clara Holmes, reside, then drove to Mount Morris where he directed the Trinity Lutheran church choir at the morning service. He left Mount Morris in his car after packing some clothing in a valise and has not been seen since.

Geranium Farmer Claimed Thursday By Heart Attack

Carl Bouda, 60, Was Stricken
While Talking to Lincoln;
Funeral Was Monday.

Thursday morning while out in his yard talking with some visitors, Carl Bouda, well known farmer of Geranium township was suddenly stricken by heart failure, passing away almost instantly. Warren Lincoln had gone out to the farm that morning for the purpose of grinding feed, and Mr. Bouda had been talking with him and had turned to walk away when the stroke came. Dr. C. J. Miller was called and went out at once, but Bouda apparently had died almost instantly.

For some time Mr. Bouda has had trouble with his heart, and had been warned to quit active work. On Tuesday the doctor had ordered him to remain in bed. Having always been a very energetic man, Mr. Bouda could not keep inactive, and said he felt well enough to get up Thursday. There is little doubt that he shortened his life in so doing.

Carl Bouda, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bouda, was the youngest child of a family of thirteen. He was born on Feb. 6, 1877, at Ludell, Kas., and died on Oct. 7, 1937 at the age of 60 years, 8 months and 1 day. He came to Nebraska with his wife.

John Wilson Gray Dead.
John Wilson Gray, early Nebraska resident, died recently in a Santa Rosa, Calif., hospital and was laid to rest in Petaluma cemetery, the Quiz learns from a clipping forwarded by the widow, Mrs. Gray was born in Chester county, Pa., in 1864, living in Aurora, Ill., for some years and later in Nebraska, but in 1920 moved to California. He was married twice and has two sons and two daughters by his first marriage living in Nebraska and Illinois. He was married to his second wife, Mrs. Carrie L. Gray, more than 25 years ago. She will continue to make her home at Petaluma, Calif.

Fire Department Entertains Guests

Last week was official fire prevention week, and as a fitting ceremony for the occasion the Ord fire department entertained the members of the Ord city council, including the two members who retired last spring, and the old members of the fire department. A total of 38 were present at the K. of P. hall and enjoyed a luncheon put on with Mrs. Helen Keep in charge. Talks were made by Mayor Gould Plagg, Fire Chief C. W. Clark, Councilmen McGinnis and Pullen and County Agent Dale. The new fire truck was taken over in front of the hall and left there during the evening to give the affair color, and to permit inspection of some new equipment. Of special interest is the fact that Dr. J. W. McGinnis was on the council that purchased the first fire truck 17 years ago, and he was elected on the council this spring. Last week the department took the pumper down to the park and wet up the football field for the team. It was necessary to string hose all the way from the hydrant near the Catholic church to get the water down to the park, the two inch main through the park being too small for the pumper.

Middle Loup Ditches Nearing Completion

Final work on the main ditches of the Middle Loup Irrigation project is nearly completed. Leveling of the ditch banks and the smoothing of the interiors is being done by the Morrison Knudsen Co. This week they announced that their work on the ditches will be completed within a month's time. Upon completion of the leveling and smoothing processes the company will start work on the lateral ditches. Water will be turned into the Middle Loup ditches late this fall if all work progresses as planned.

Notice to Subscribers.
A lot of delinquent subscribers were notified this week that they were being taken off the list. Rush of work made it impossible to get all of them off, so some who were notified will get this week's paper. All who were notified will be taken off this week end so next week's paper will be missed unless we hear from them.

THE ORD QUIZ

Ord, Valley County, Nebraska The Quiz is $2.00 a year.

CELEBRATE ORD DAY.

After a space of more than sixty years, a celebration of Ord Day is planned. It is fitting that we should celebrate. If the pioneers who passed here for a brief time in the seventies and then passed on, either to other fields or to their eternal reward, could look back upon what their descendants have accomplished, they would call it well done.

In some respects the men and women who first beheld the North Loup valley found it in better condition than it is today. They found the landscape covered with a luxuriant growth of grass, two feet high on the tops of the hills, and four to six feet high in the valleys, and most of it was blue stem, a grass now almost extinct.

Then there was an abundance of wild game to be hunted, and for this reason there was no shortage of meat. Today there is plenty of meat, but the price puts it beyond the reach of many except on special occasions. What wild game there is so circumscribed by game laws that by the time it is obtained it costs more than it is worth.

But in other respects Ord has shown her full share of improvement. At the time the first settlers were getting located in the valley Alexander Graham Bell was busy perfecting the instrument that still bears his name, and which today bears such an essential part in the welfare of the community.

In the gay nineties Henry Ford and a number of other men of like ambitions were laying the foundation for that marvel of modern engineering, the motor car, which has done so much good and so much harm.

In the ten years following wireless came to the front as the invention of the time.

In the radio found its inception and developed faster than any invention so far known. The present decade the crowning achievement of science is television, which while yet in its infancy, will in time take its place among the inventions of all time.

In the sixty odd years since Ord was founded there have been more great inventions and discoveries for the good of mankind than there were in the sixty centuries preceding. More has been done for the cause of education in that same length of time than was done in all the ages that preceded.

Jots in Jest

One of the latest stories from New York reports branches growing on a table leg, indicating not everything under a table is dead to the world.

Though that Canadian farmer raised one weighing five pounds, we're still the greatest exponents of the Big Apple.

age of opportunity such as he other generation ever knew. What we do with the future is up to us as individuals, as a corporation, as a community, as a county. May we so live that in the years to come the founders of Ord and Valley county would have no cause to blush for shame at the progress that has been made, and thus fulfill the demand of destiny.

NEBRASKA MINERALS.

It was drilled into the pupils of former years by teachers who believed they were telling the truth that Nebraska has no mineral wealth, being unique among the states in this respect. True we have no metals, although our common yellow clay contains enough aluminum to supply all the needs of the world for generations to come, if some method could only be found to utilize it.

There is a trace of coal near Peru, and down at Superior they make cement, which might be classed as mineral wealth. During the World War the potash beds near Antioch were thought to be of value, and were for a few years until the close of the war. Then the price dropped to a point where the mills could not make expenses, and all that is left of that industry is the wreckage of the factories.

But now comes C. Bertrand Schultz, member of the state university museum staff, and states that he has found a camel two stories high in the fossil fields of western Nebraska, which he claims are the richest in the world. They mine fossils in Nebraska, and they are minerals, therefore, we now have some mining wealth and need no longer hang our heads in shame when minerals are mentioned.

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

I hope that Gov. Cochran don't fall for the Omaha demand for a special session of the legislature this fall. The people should be saved that expense.

If and when this federal administration gets its planning boards idea enacted into law, we may presume that the people will be herded about more than they are now. Farmers will be told what they can raise; how much of each crop; what fields to put it on, no doubt.

The object of planning boards and crop control is to get better prices for the farmer. At the same time the great groups of labor are striving for cheaper food products so that they can live cheaper. It is going to be a big task to harmonize the two groups, for their needs and demands are for absolutely opposite things.

I recall that more than fifty years ago my mother and I raised a fine melon patch one year. We carried buckets of scrapings from the cow yard to the melon patch which was alongside a creek, filled the buckets with water from the creek and irrigated the hills of melons with the rich contents. And toward fall we had a wonderfully thrifty melon patch with fruits, some as large as a big water pail but all still green. Then one night someone visited the patch, pulled and stacked the vines and slashed all the larger melons.

I am told that similar treatment was given to a melon patch near Ord this season, and that, after the owner had told certain boys that they were welcome to come in daylight and get melons to eat. Grapevine information says those same boys did the damage.

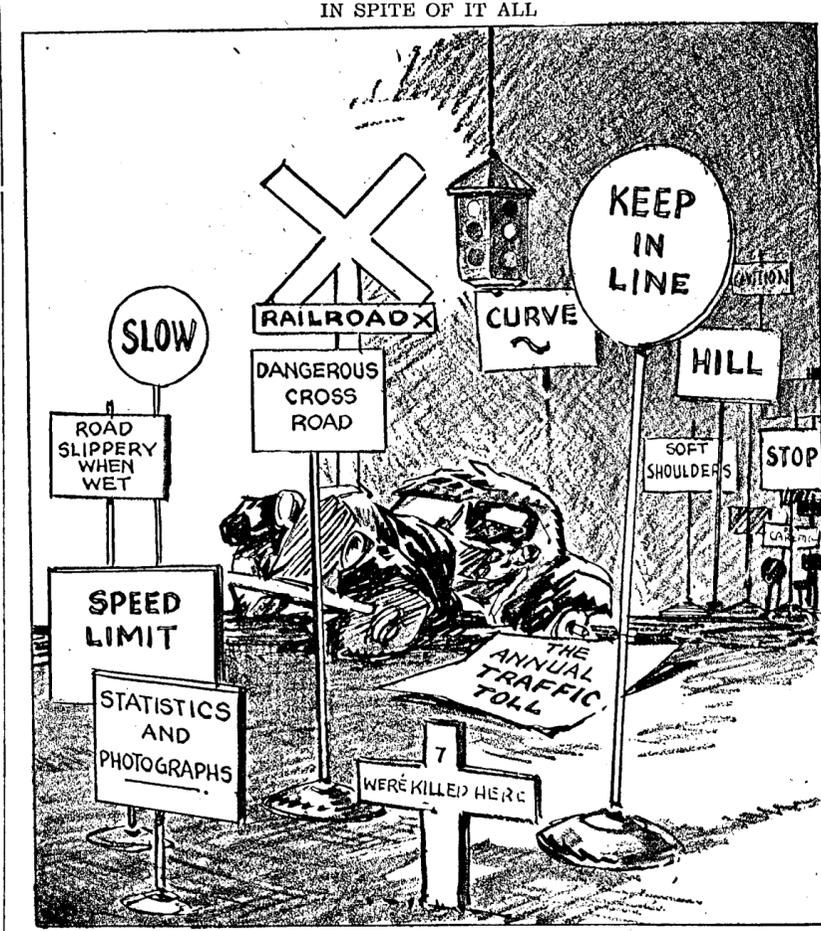

During all the years since I can remember boys have "swiped" fruit, cherries, apples, melons. Mostly this is done on the theory that "boys will be boys." And as a rule the boys are gentlemanly enough about it not to take more than they can eat and not to destroy other property. When this is done no great fault is found with them, though of course I don't mean to condone such offense.

I hear folks cussing the law for not pushing the case against Jim Lee when he shot John Jelinek, but those same folks, at that time, took the position that no great damage was done to Jelinek; that Lee was having a hard struggle against adverse circumstances, etc., and it is very doubtful whether a conviction could have been secured at that time. In other words public sentiment was against doing anything at that time and it takes brave officials to go against strong public sentiment. It just isn't being done.

Sentiment now is just as strongly for putting Lee where he can't do any more shooting, as it was against doing that when he shot Jelinek, and that was his second shooting at that time. It seems to me, and I don't say it with a spirit of fault finding, but it does seem to me that the law, knowing the disposition of Lee as they did and knowing the tendency of many and especially the younger generation to pick on him, should have taken the necessary steps to see that he didn't have a rifle that he might at any time use. Such a thing might not be practical in all cases but surely it would have been in the case of a man who had twice claimed the right to take his rifle and shoot people.

Like most questions, this one has two sides to it and there is much that can be said for Lee in his effort to make a living for his family under most discouraging circumstances. If he had peppered the youngsters with salt or bird-shot no great criticism of him could have been made. But to take a deadly weapon like a rifle and shoot to kill, that is unexcusable and there is nothing that can be said in his favor and swift punishment is the only course possible.

Then if parents will look a little more closely to where their hopes are at all times, that may help too. Good boys sometimes "swipe" melons of fruit, perhaps because their parents, forgetting that they did the same when they were young still have neglected to point out the dangers. But good boys never destroy the balance of the crop after taking a melon to eat.

I have sorted out and taken from the list this week, a dozen past due subscribers. They paid no attention to notices and I assume that they didn't intend to pay me and I can't afford to carry them longer. There are a lot more that I will have to treat the same way, for I figure that most any one can come in and pay some on their account.

I got a letter this week from a lady whose Quiz expired September 15 and was stopped the 23rd, after one extra paper had been sent. She sent a renewal and also a scathing letter, asking if I thought she was not good for a measly two dollars. A reference to her card showed that on two occasions since 1918 she had gotten in arrears, been stopped, went without the paper for a time, subscribed again without paying what was due and I had lost it. I wrote the good lady, telling her just why her paper was stopped, with dates and amount I had lost each time and told her further that if she wanted to pay me what she owed, in the future I would consider her good for a reasonable time after her paper was out. Of course I don't expect she will pay the seven dollars and fifty cents that I have lost. And hereafter I have no doubt she will renew promptly if she don't want her paper stopped for surely it will always be stopped right on the dot.

Respirator for Use of Public. Because of the prevalence of infantile paralysis throughout the country, and the fact that the Burlington serves a wide area in which a respirator is not quickly available, a Drinker Respirator, or "iron lung," has been purchased by the Burlington as an addition to the medical facilities offered to its employees through the Burlington Relief Department.

This respirator will be made available for use, without cost, to employees of the company, their families, and the citizens of any community served by the Burlington, in any case which requires a mechanical aid to respiration.

When not in use, the respirator will be stored at Omaha, Neb., and will be under the direction of Mr. F. R. Mullen, General Manager, 10-04 Farnam Street, Omaha, Neb., to whom requests for permission to use the respirator may be addressed by any physician by wire, thru the local agent of the Burlington Railroad.

The use of a respirator is properly a hospital service under the attention of a nurse, but in an emergency a respirator may be placed in the home if electric current is available. Complete instructions will accompany the respirator, and must be followed in the most minute detail by the attending physician or nurse.

In addition to poliomyelitis, the respirator has been used in cases of carbon monoxide, morphine and other drug poisoning, alcoholic coma, hicough, drowning, and asphyxia of the new-born.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD By George Gowen

Lame Back the Worst. Outside of a lame back, there is nothing that will make a man hate himself like being out of a job. I knew an ambitious fellow once who was in that predicament. He quit farming because it did not pay, planning to go to the city and find a job. They were not so hard then to find as now, but as usual, plenty hard to find anything worth while. More than that he was not experienced in city work so that he was not qualified for anything but common labor.

He walked the streets asking for jobs and answering ads until he was worn out. He applied at agencies. He lived with his mother and if it hadn't been for her he might have gone hungry. He only got short jobs digging ditches. Finally his wife got a job and he kept house which does not make a man any more proud of himself.

His folks wanted to go to church but he drew the line at that. Every one he would meet would shake hands with him gladly and ask him where he worked, and in his position that was an embarrassing question. He had friends in the city but they seemed unable to help him out. He felt a little resentful at them that they did not and consequently did not care to see them.

He eventually found steady employment, through an accident. He had applied at an institution, the boss turning him down but taking his name. Our hero thought nothing of having his name taken. It had been taken a hundred times. But this time the boss had noticed the applicant wore a Masonic pin. The boss was a Mason. That got the job even if our friend had not paid his dues.

But this job was not satisfactory. He and his wife together did not earn salary enough to live as they were accustomed to live. In the spring they moved back on the farm.

Doctors - Good Collectors. I wish I were as good at collecting as the doctors are. Part of my work is that of collecting regularly from a group of people. For the most part it is very enjoyable work. I have acquired friends this way that I shall always be glad I have known. But I have discovered that the most common excuse for not paying is that the people had sickness and had to have the doctor, or buy some medicine, "and you know," one woman said, "when you get sick you have to do something about it, and the doctors have to have their pay."

$100.00 Dog. I was out to Therlow Weed's the other day and he has a dog that if I had the money, I'd give a hundred dollars for. He is a dark brown dog of Chesapeake breeding and will chase a stick. He is one of the best stick chasers that I ever saw.

All my life, when a boy, I wanted a dog that would chase a stick. I have had numerous dogs in my life but never one that would chase a stick. I could imagine how my son, who has so much trouble finding profitable employment of his time, could while away many hours entertaining this brown dog of Therlow's.

That Creepy Feeling. I believe the Aurora Borealis a week ago Sunday night was as bright as I ever saw it. Although without the bright colors that are sometimes seen, the light streaked shot up across the north as high as the north star, with the appearance of huge search lights being placed somewhere under the horizon.

Other nights also they were visible, especially Thursday night, appearing like the first tint of dawn or the last glow of sunset. Just why I cannot say, but there is a creepy or haunted feeling that comes over me when I see the northern lights. A feeling of awe or wonderment or fear, that the world is near extinction; a feeling perhaps that those lights, which no one can explain satisfactorily, are a pre-warning of the judgment day; a feeling that those lights are an omen of the Great Creator and that we better mend our ways; a feeling of I do not know what. One would think, under those conditions I would cease to look at the spectrum when the kids mention it, but I do. I even crawl out of a warm bed and step out in the cold to see them—to have that feeling again perhaps.

"No Ignoranter." A friend of mine who has been burning cow chips lately for fuel, was complaining of the hard time he is having to get along. I asked him if he had asked from the relief officials for a feed loan or for a grant.

He replied that he had asked but they wanted him to sell his stuff and his cows down to three. He had two sons who are nearly grown, besides other kids, and he said that would leave one cow each for them to milk.

Another man that I knew went to Greeley for assistance. He was without feed for his cows and chickens and had exhausted all his credit. He had too much stuff and they advised him to sell his milk cows in place of buying feed for them. He had too many chickens for a grant. If he sold his milk cows the mortgage would get the money. If he sold his cows he would be without any means to live. He never before had received any government assistance. But he came home empty handed. He did not know what to do.

Another man who had been a "rehab," for a year or two went and got more money to pay bills with. He told me himself that it seemed when a fellow once got funds on that score that the more you get the better they liked it.

Without doubt the bosses of this government assistance have plenty of troubles, putting the money where it is justly needed and away from where the recipients are only grafters. With the people so universally in distress there are probably not half funds enough. But I was amused and decided there was truth to a statement I read in a story the other day, "These government experts are not any ignoranter than the rest of us but they got their ignoranter better organized."

Stuck! By Gum. N. G. (Gus) Bender of Sutton is exhibiting badly broken finger nails and stained hands as evidence of an unpleasant experience Sunday night.

He was driving south of Saronville on the road where oil mat is being laid. To cross a bridge, it was necessary to change from one side of the road to the other thru the mat mixture, which was piled in the center. The car mired into the sticky black pile and with only a screw driver and his two hands for tools to dig out, the feat was accomplished—not however, without much injury to hands, clothing and disposition.

Gus says his wife, who accompanied him, didn't talk back once throughout the experience.—Clay County Sun.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

CEA Investigating Corn Market, "Controlled Account" Transactions

WASHINGTON.—Two major investigations are occupying the year-old, little-publicized Commodity Exchange Administration.

One is of the market in September corn, which was "cornered" to the extent that prices fluctuated from 90 cents to $1.16 and the supply of corn actually available represented only 40 per cent of the volume traded in futures.

The other important investigation is that of "controlled" accounts, operated by one or a few persons who are agents in grain market transactions for a large number of speculators and who control enough money to manipulate market prices.

Compared with Securities Exchange Commission, the job of the CEA is simple because it supervises markets in which only 13 commodities are traded as against an exchange dealing in thousands of different securities. Also 95 per cent of the business in commodity trading is concentrated in wheat, cotton and corn, a fact which makes it fairly easy to detect manipulations of market prices.

But the administration supervises a business valued at $25,000,000,000 a year, which this year was equal to the annual value of transactions on all the stock and bond exchanges in the United States.

THE annual appropriation for the first year of CEA was $500,500. In other words, CEA has spent a dollar to supervise every $50,000 involved in grain market transactions. It has

Do You Have a Clear Title To Your Home? Have you had the title to your HOME, or your FARMS, checked over recently? Just this week we have had three abstracts showing old unreleased mortgages.

Sometimes you fail to have a release filed for record and place it with other papers; sometimes these papers become misplaced and lost; sometimes it costs considerable money to secure new papers; and sometimes it is impossible to secure new papers and it is necessary to quiet title through the courts. It is a good plan to have your abstract brought down to date and title checked periodically. It is economy to give these matters attention now.

Conduct and Christian Speech

REPUTED to be the brother of our Lord, James is one of the most practical and direct teachers. The counsel he gave to early Christians still holds good for the present. This is brought out by some very striking illustrations and figures.

Here in our lesson he is dealing with Christian speech, and strikingly he emphasizes the need of restraint and adequate discipline. He draws his illustration from the bridle by which a horse is controlled, and from ships, which though they are great and driven by rough winds, are turned about by a very small rudder.

"So the tongue," he says, "is a member, and boasteth great things." But the tongue needs control. "It is a fire: the world of iniquity among our members is the tongue."

How true that all is! The power of words, the way in which they can create wrong impressions, and convey injuries from which there may be no recovery! James sees the tongue as a sort of untamable beast, a restless evil full of deadly poison when it is not controlled.

"With the tongue," he says, "we bless the Lord and Father, and with the tongue we curse men made after the likeness of God. Out of the same mouth cometh forth blessing and cursing."

WHAT is man to do with this dangerous weapon of the tongue, that may affect his whole body? He is to seek wisdom, and he is to find that wisdom from above, the wisdom that is pure and peaceable and gentle; full of mercy and without hypocrisy.

Reduce Crossing Accidents. The following editorial appeared in the "New Orleans Item" of July 24, 1937:

"Railway officials, trying to reduce crossing accidents, wonder if the public has not been misled by years of reading that 'Train Hits Auto—Four Dead.' A recent survey revealed that despite redoubled efforts by the railways, crossing accidents are increasing. Most of them occur at crossings protected by bells, lights and other devices.

"Would it be worth while to remind motorists that auto sound horns are 'Mouse Viciously Attacks Peaceful Elephant' would express the railroads' point of view. The fact that the mouse is almost invariably the party demolished is the mouse's hard luck.

"The fact that the motorist is often to blame for the fatal encounter should not be cited to obscure the need for abolishing grade crossings and for full warning equipment as long as we have them.

The railways are not trying to evade their own responsibility. They recognize that grade-crossings on arterial highways must go, but also that abolition of them on many branch lines and sidings is for the present impracticable. The cost would be prohibitive.

"It must be said for the railway that it never deliberately attacks an automobile. Neither does it deviate from its straight and narrow way to deal destruction and death. It stays on its own track, and asks to be let alone. As much can't be said for many motorists.

"Their habitual disregard of the warning signals, their recklessness in turning sharply onto blind crossings, and their occasional insanity in trying to beat a train to a crossing can be headlined aptly as 'Fool Commits Suicide'."

The September issue of the National Safety News contained the following along a somewhat similar vein:

"In approximately 79 percent of the highway-railroad grade crossing accidents that occurred the past year, the train speed was less than 40 miles per hour, according to a bulletin of the Association of American Railroads quoted by the 'Traffic World.'"

"This confirms the conviction held by many railroad workers that the train that hardly excels the snail in speed is the one that kills most human beings at grade crossings, if not elsewhere.

"It may be that 79 percent of the killings are by slow trains because that percentage of all trains may be classed as 'slow,' but even a mixed train on a branch line should command the motorist's respect."

Windsors in Paris, May Visit U. S.

Shown above as they arrived in Paris to shop for fall and winter wardrobes are the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, who are expected to visit America shortly. Edward ducked into a Turkish bath to escape crowds, but his smiling duchess didn't seem to mind the ogling throngs at all as she made the rounds of the smart shops.

Mr. and Mrs. Bals Back From Belgium.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bals returned recently from their trip to Belgium, during which they also spent some time in England and Holland. They left Ord several months ago, going by car to the Atlantic coast and taking the car with them across the Atlantic. Charley says he saw plenty of Plymouth cars in Europe, but not very many of the same model as his. In fact a large percent of the cars seen there are the popular American makes. Conditions in Belgium are better in some ways than in Nebraska, as they had good crops, but economic conditions seem to be much the same the world over. Mr. and Mrs. Bals spent a very enjoyable summer, but they are glad just the same to be back in Ord once more.

Cummings Writes; Appreciates Story.

Writing from his home at Malta, Mont., George Cummings tells the Quiz that he appreciates the story of the jackhoppers which appeared in the Quiz two weeks ago. He says that he has been trying to get into the Ananias club up there for years, but met with no success until they saw that story, after which they received him with open arms, and gave him the post of honor. The Quiz is gratified to hear of Mr. Cummings' success, as it is the paper's policy to give a deserving young man a boost whenever possible.

Praise for Native Country By Filipino.

Speaking before the Rotary club Monday evening, Rev. B. A. Filippi of Clarkston, praised highly his native land, Czechoslovakia, as the European country whose democracy most closely resembles that of the United States. This nation's war president, Woodrow Wilson, is the national idol, and pictures and statues of him appear everywhere. Many public buildings and avenues have been named after him, Mr. Filippi stated. Under the great Thomas Masaryk, their president for 20 years, who died only recently, Czechoslovakians made great progress in education and industry, the Clarkston man said. Fear that Germany or Italy may try to gobble up his native country was voiced, but Filippi says 500,000 Czechoslovakians will fight to the death to preserve their liberty.

The Rev. Mr. Filippi Spoke Three Times at the Presbyterian Church.

The Rev. Mr. Filippi spoke three times at the Presbyterian church while in Ord, to large audiences each time, and also addressed a high school assembly Monday. He is a student, a scholar and an able orator who has visited Ord many times to conduct funerals for Protestant Bohemians. Mrs. Filippi accompanied him this week and they were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Kokes.

Deputy Sheriff Cohen, one of the officers who arrested Lee, testified that Lee admitted shooting at the boys and that he said he believed he might have hit one of them in the shoulder.

Dr. Miller's testimony established the fact that Gail Hiner died as result of being shot with a rifle bullet.

Defense Attorney Davis tried to cross-examine each witness but his questions were ruled out by County Judge Anderson. Only purpose of the hearing was to establish the fact that a crime had been committed and that there was reasonable grounds for belief that Lee might have committed it, the judge said. Defense testimony and questioning of witnesses should be reserved for the district court hearing, he said.

Judge Anderson also ruled out a defense plea that Lee be released on bond. Under Nebraska law, a man accused of first degree murder is not admissible to bail, he said.

He formally bound Lee over to the district court where the case will come up for trial before a jury this fall, on a date to be set by Judge E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, who will preside.

Checker Players Went to Kearney

Through the courtesy of George B. Clement, one of the contestants, the Quiz learned of the return tournament played at Kearney Monday by Ord's checker enthusiasts. The match was a courtesy affair, and was played as return match, although the local men had little hope of doing much with Kearney's five man team of book players, which is considered one of the best in the state. They made a very creditable showing indeed, winning 46 games and losing 54. Clint Peterson was high man for Ord with 12 wins and 8 defeats. The other players besides Clement were Harry Foth, Ed Burrows and Lem Knapp.

It was found that his chest was terribly crushed and he had suffered other injuries. He passed away shortly after arriving at the hospital.

Funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Sunday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, the pastor, Rev. Mearl C. Smith, having charge of the services. Members of the Masonic and Knights of Pythias orders attended in a body. A quartet composed of John R. Haskell, Glen Able, Mrs. Mark Tolen and Mrs. E. O. Carlson, sang with Mrs. Aubie at the piano. The pall bearers were Dr. G. W. Taylor, Ellsworth Ball, Carl Sorenson, William Heuck, Gould Plagg and Matt Kosmata. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

William Harrison Moses was born in the southern part of the state of New York, Nov. 6, 1862, and died at Ord, Neb., Thursday morning, Oct. 7, 1937, aged 75 years, 11 months and 1 day. He moved with his parents to Smethport, Pa., in early childhood. Here he grew up and received his schooling. At the age of 21 he went to the Pacific coast, where he spent two years, when he came to Nebraska and located on a farm in the western part of Valley county.

In 1886 he was married to Mrs. Anna Pierce at Pleasant Valley. They farmed in Valley county for 16 years when they moved to Ord where Mr. Moses engaged in cement construction work until his retirement ten years ago. Mrs. Moses preceded him in death nearly two years ago. He served on the county board the years of 1896 and 1897, and also 1906 and 1907. He was a member of the city council from 1923 to 1929, after which he was mayor until 1934, when he retired.

He was a member of the Odd Fellows order since the age of 21, of the Knights of Pythias for 20 years, and of the Masons for 40 years. He is survived by one brother, Clarence, of Davenport, Ia.; also a stepson, Albert W. Pierce, who, with his wife and three sons, Rollin of Lincoln, Paul of Neligh, and Hallen of Hastings, are left to mourn his passing.

—W. P. Reed and daughter May and her children Dudley and Beverly were over from Loup City last Wednesday for a visit with his brother-in-law, W. R. Waite and family.

COLUMBUS DAY.

Tuesday, Oct. 12, was officially Columbus Day, and it caught the business men of Ord napping, as not a single flag was out with the exception of the one on top of the court house. The day was made a state holiday by act of the legislature, as have most of our holidays. The official holidays in Nebraska now number a dozen, as follows: January 1, New Year's Day; February 12, Lincoln's Birthday; February 22, Washington's Birthday; April 22, Arbor Day; May 30, Memorial Day; July 4, Independence Day; September (first Monday) Labor Day; October 12, Columbus Day; November 11, Armistice Day; November, by Proclamation, Thanksgiving Day; and December 25, Christmas Day. From this we note that three months, March, June and August, have no holidays at all, and February, the short month, is the only one to have two holidays. However, the legislature approved a bill March 25, 1931, which made March 1 State Day, and thus eliminated March from the list without holidays.

4-H Club News.

Achievement Day for the Junior Priscilla 4-H club was held at the F. H. Kuehl home Oct. 9, with mothers of the members as guests. Also Miss Koll and Miss Verstraete were present. The business meeting was conducted by our president Miss Maxine Sorenson. It was decided to continue our meeting throughout the winter, after which a short program sponsored by Rev. Lincoln was enjoyed by all. Lunch was served by Patricia Frazier and Dorothy Albers, assisted by other members. A fine gift was then presented by the girls to their leader, Mrs. Kuehl. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in a social way.—Loretta Kuehl, reporter.

—Mrs. Frank Serlsen is expected to arrive from a visit from her daughter, Marie Hall, is expected from California this week. She is coming for a short visit and to help her mother pack, preparatory to going to California for the winter.

Richard was awarded a place on the Nebraska team to attend the national contest because of his unusually high score in the Nebraska high school agricultural contest last spring. His two teammates who will go with him to the contest are Jimmy Howe, high scorer in the Lincoln division of the state contest last year and Merritt Boone a university student.

Special instruction in dairy products judging was given Richard last Saturday when he made a special trip to Lincoln and to the Agricultural College of the University of Nebraska. Ord's chamber of commerce is paying Richard's expenses in Kansas City. Accompanied by his instructor, J. A. Kovanda, the trip to Kansas City will be made by auto and the two will take in the Oklahoma-Nebraska football game on their way to the contest.

While in Kansas City, Richard will act as a delegate to the national F. F. A. convention and will have an opportunity to visit the American Royal Livestock Show.

Social Conference Program Completed

The Nebraska Conference for Social Work will hold its annual meeting at Grand Island on October 17, 18 and 19 and a number of local people plan to attend. This is the first time in many years that the conference is being held outside, thereby affording opportunity to people of the central and western part of Nebraska to participate in the conference and thereby acquaint themselves with social problems of the state and community in which they live.

The program this year was planned to meet the needs principally of the central and western portion of this state and a cordial invitation is being extended to all groups to send their representatives to the conference.

The conference membership is made up of citizens from every walk of life and is not an organization composed of all social workers. Although most people actively engaged in welfare work in the state belong to the conference.

Louis A. Holmes of the municipal court, Grand Island, is chairman of the General Planning Committee for the 1937 conference and has announced that the program has been completed. This program consists of steady group meetings on October 17 and 18, and general conference sessions on October 18 and 19. Four different study courses are being offered with the problems dealing with social agencies in America. The principal speaker for the program Sunday night will be Father E. J. Flannagan, founder and director of Father Flannagan's Boys' Home, Boy's Town, Nebraska. His subject for this evening is "Causes of Juvenile Delinquency and Methods of Prevention."

On Monday evening Dr. C. C. Applewhite, who holds the commission as surgeon in the U. S. Public Health Service, will talk on the value and importance of public health work in the community.

On Tuesday evening the closing session, H. B. Fletcher, who is a special agent of Federal Bureau of Investigation is being made available through the courtesy of J. Edgar Hoover and his subject for discussion will be "Community Planning for Crime Prevention."

—George Emery of Lincoln was expected to arrive in Ord Tuesday for a visit at the F. L. Blessing home.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Next week ten thousand Future Farmer lads will gather at Kansas City for their tenth annual convention celebration. From north, south, east and west—by auto, bus, train and plane, the members of the F. F. A. will meet in the new municipal auditorium for the most important event in the history of their organization.

The Ord high school will send two or three delegates to this assembly. They will take part in the week's activities, which include business sessions, contests, broadcasts, and banquets. They will meet similar delegates from the other 47 states, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico. It will be the third time that Ord has sent representatives from its local chapter to the national convention.

The Future Farmers of America is a national high school society of agricultural students. Established ten years ago, the F. F. A. has a paid membership of 150,000 boys, and is the largest organization of its kind in the country.

It is a non-profit corporation designed to encourage the natural tendency of youths to organize themselves into gangs or groups. By establishing local chapters where vocational agriculture is taught, an outlet is afforded for these instincts. The boys are taught to conduct their own meetings, recognize group leadership, and do things in an organized way. Greater dignity accrues to local groups when they know that they are part of a state and national organization.

The F. F. A. boys will have a big time in Kansas City. They will be guests at the American Royal Livestock Show, and will have a splendid opportunity to take back ideas and inspiration to their local chapters.

Card of Thanks. We want to thank our neighbors and friends, the Masonic and K. of P. members, and everyone who in any way assisted us in our recent bereavement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce and the boys and their wives.

Woodman Hall

A nice rain of about a half inch fell here Friday. It will benefit the small grain which has been sowed but we need much more moisture to help to any extent.

Mrs. Joe Waldmann was quite ill the latter part of last week but is somewhat improved at this writing.

The Geranium Catholic ladies study club will hold a party at the Woodman hall Friday evening, October 15.

Charles Radil and Ernest Pliva went duck hunting near Ericson last Saturday.

Sunday visitors at the Joe Waldmann home were Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph John and daughter Muriel, Mr. and Mrs. Will Waldmann and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grabowski, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Waldmann and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waldmann and family and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Waldmann and son Larry.

Miss Clara McClatchey visited our school District 73 one day last week.

The St. Eulalia's club of Geranium sponsored a party at the Woodman hall last Thursday evening which was well attended. The St. John Bosco club of Sargent were guests with Rev. Thomas Siodowski of Sargent and Rev. Michael Sczeny of Loup City as chaperones. A weiner and marshmallow roast was held and the balance of the evening was spent in dancing.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtaszek of Ord were Sunday visitors at the Frank Wegryzn home.

Card of Thanks. We wish to thank all who in any way assisted us during the illness and after the death of our dear son and brother. Your kindness will never be forgotten.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hiner and Children.

—Dr. F. A. Barta's office will be closed Saturday. 29-11

Quiz Visits Valley County Rural Schools

Not many children are attending school No. 11 this year but those who attend are content with being—small but mighty! From left to right we have: Winona McMichael, teacher; Esther Cook, Norma Jean Walker, Glenn Lybarger, Bernadene True, Cecil Lybarger, Jo Ann Myers, Patty Myers.

Quiz representatives pulled a surprise on this school, No. 20, when they dropped in to take their pictures and not a single person in the school had been notified of their coming. Although some of the children didn't happen to have their "best Sunday clothes" on they made a very fine appearing group anyway. Dist. 20 is making plans now for a huge Thanksgiving party which they plan to give this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummins celebrated their 36th wedding anniversary Sunday, Oct. 3 by having as their guests for dinner the Wayne King, Tony Cummins, Albert Haught, Wm. Earnest and Lloyd Johnson families, also Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cummins, Wauneta and Corwin of Ord.

Melvin Cornell spent the week end at Friend, Nebr.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Preston and David returned Wednesday from their trip to the Pacific coast. They went to Vancouver, to Seattle, drove along the Columbia River, were in Idaho and spent some time at Parkdale, Ore., where Richard Preston is working in the orchards. They stopped with Walter Preston's at Morrill and also at Scottsbluff on the return trip. Their daughter, Mrs. Irma Baller of Exeter accompanied them and they left her at Grand Island on Wednesday where her husband met her.

The Howard Preston family spent Saturday at the Will Preston home and the Lawrence Mitchell's were there Sunday.

David Preston took Howard Prestons to Lee Jefferies' near Horace Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Jefferies and Mrs. Preston are sisters.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Watts of Scotia called on Mrs. Buten Sunday evening and later attended the services at the M. E. church.

Mrs. Velma Horner went to McCook Friday to spend the week

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson had as guests Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Emory of Boulder, Colo.

The Home-makers project club met at the home of Mrs. Clyde Hawthorne this week Wednesday for the first meeting this fall.

Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?

Right now the "big, bad wolf" to many housewives is rising meat prices, but why be afraid of them? True, they are higher than during the years from 1932 to 1937, but high meat prices are a guarantee of returning prosperity for an agricultural-stock raising country like this, and sooner or later will be reflected in increased earnings for everybody.

And this market is firmly dedicated to holding down meat costs to the fullest extent. We are contenting ourselves with an extremely small profit; we are going into the market and buying to the greatest advantage possible, passing our savings along to the consumer; we are recommending the use of cheaper cuts of meats—trying in every way to save money for our customers.

Annual Pheasant Season Opens Oct. 17 But Birds Scarce; Many Farmers Oppose Season and Are Posting Their Places

More Long-Tails on Farms in River Bottom, Shooting Will Scatter Them.

Shotguns are getting a thorough greasing and hunting jackets are undergoing their annual mending this week in preparation for the opening of the 1937 pheasant blast-season.

The entire state has been thrown open this year for shooting pheasants, except of course, game reserves and sanctuaries. The season on pheasants will start this Sunday, Oct. 17, and will run for 10 days ending on Oct. 26, inclusive. Shooting will be permitted between the hours of 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. Each hunter will be allowed a limit of five birds, one of which may be a hen.

Local nimrods say that the pheasant season this year will be noon too fruitful as the birds are scarce. Best hunting will probably be done in the lowlands along the river, as the birds seem more plentiful in that region. After the shooting has progressed for a day or two however, the birds will become so scattered that they will be extremely hard to hunt.

A great many farmers are boldly opposing the pheasant season this year as they believe that the crop of birds is far too small and should be protected, also because of the fact that the birds aid greatly in destroying grasshoppers and insects. As a result of

Broken Bow Forfeits To Chanticleers

A telephone call from Broken Bow high school early last Friday afternoon gave forth the information that they would forfeit their game with the Ord Chanticleers. Two inches of rain had fallen at Broken Bow and the field was declared to be in a terrible condition. This gave the Ordites another Mid Six win, and a full two weeks' rest before the game this Friday with Burwell.

this opposition, many farmers are banding together to post "no hunting" and "no trespassing" signs over large areas. The state law specifies that hunters must obtain the permission of the owner before trespassing on the premises.

Wild Man at Rushville.

Motorists in the vicinity of Rushville have been frightened recently by a man, probably demented, rushing out from behind cover and leaping on the running boards of cars. One day last week he was beaten off by a truck driver who used a wrench in knocking him from the side of his car. Other motorists have been accosted by him at various times. Officers of that vicinity are now making a search for the man.—Rushville Record.

Prairie Schooner, Vest Pocket Model

Burwell Next For Chanticleers

Upset Possible But Ord Fans Sure It Won't Happen; Game Here Friday.

Ord's undefeated Chanticleers will see action on the gridiron for the first time in two weeks this Friday night when they tangle with Burwell high on the Ord field in a game under the lights.

Burwell's footballers have a new tutor this year, W. E. Riggs, and thus far in the season they have made a very commendable showing, last week rolling over Scotia to the tune of 25 to 0. Other games played this year by the Wranglers include a 6-6 draw with the powerful O'Neill eleven and a 6-0 defeat at the hands of Comstock's Pitcats.

If everything goes off according to Hoyle, Brockman's Ord gridsters should retire Friday evening with a nice win tucked in their belts. Last year the Chanticleers threw the Longhorns for a 33-6 loss on the Wranglers field. Burwell has not forgotten that top-sided defeat of last year and will be on the grounds for blood Friday night.

Coach Riggs has been drilling his men extra hard this week in preparation for Friday night's struggle with the Chanticleers. Each game has seen a marked improvement in the Wrangler play, and Burwell fans are just about convinced that the Ordsters are going to be upset this week.

Ord fans say that it will be a good game, these two traditional rivals always put up a good fight. However, when anyone mentions an upset Friday night—Ord followers give a little chuckle and start to talk about the weather!

Burwell men who lettered in football last year and are playing again this year include: Reuben Sorenson, Billie Grunkemeyer, Carl of Demaree, Billie Beat, Francis Graves, Maynard Sitton, Bud DeLashmatt, Rex Ilgenfritz, Stanley Owen, Bob Bangert, Dale Stemore and Billie Anderson.

"Little Luck" Say Ord Duck Hunters

Central Nebraska nimrods were firmly entrenched behind duck blinds at 7 o'clock Saturday morning to open the 1937 water fowl season in a big way.

Ord sportsmen reported very little shooting, not because there was a lack of ducks but because by the 7 o'clock shooting time, the ducks had scampered off into another section of the country.

Hunters in the North Platte valley are expected to have the best shooting in Nebraska, a recent survey by game commission wardens indicating an early concentration of ducks in that region.

Teal, both blue wing and green wing, seem to be the most numerous while local mallards and pintails can be seen quite often.

Hunting hours this year are from 7 a. m. to 4 p. m. except along the Platte river where firing must stop at noon. Daily bag and possession limit is 10 ducks and five geese.

The limit on mudhens is 25. All hunters are obliged to use plugs in autoloading shotguns, whether automatic or hand operated, to limit each gun to three shots. Federal duck stamps are required. Live decoys are prohibited.

Duck hunting has now become such a specialized art that the occasional shooter has little chance. Most of the local hunters who take their shooting seriously made preparations months in advance for their shooting rites.

Schedule Two Games For Ord Junior High

Two games were scheduled for the Ord junior high eleven Monday morning as school officials reached an agreement whereby the Sargent junior high team will play at Ord on Oct. 22 and the Ordites will play a return game at Sargent on Nov. 5.

Keith Wolfe's Ordsters journeyed to Ravenna last Thursday night for a game under the lights with the Ravenna juniors. Outweighed beyond even a reasonable limit, the young Ord players were lucky in holding the final score down to a 27 to 7 verdict. A large number of boys were taken over and Coach Wolfe used almost all of them in the game.

Brownies Slam Arcadia, 20-7

Although they were leading by a score of 7 to 6 at the end of the third quarter, Arcadia went down to defeat last Friday as Loup City staged a terrific last quarter rally to chalk up two touchdowns and a 20-7 win.

Both teams fought hard during the first half but neither team was able to penetrate the other's defense. First score of the game came when Smith, brilliant Arcadia quarter, intercepted a Loup pass and ran 55 yards for a touchdown. Late in the same period, the third quarter, Loup City pushed over a touchdown after a sustained drive down the field. The try for extra point was not good, leaving the score at 7-6 in Arcadia's favor at the beginning of the fourth.

Football was played in a hectic manner the last quarter, with the Brownies taking advantage of every break. After a series of blocked punts, a Loup City man finally fell on the ball behind the goal line for another counter. A sustained drive by the Loupers gained them another counter before the period had ended.

Calamus Ranch To Be Federal Reserve

The former DeLashmatt ranch on the Calamus river, 16 miles northwest of Burwell, purchased last December by D. A. Wallace of Detroit, Mich., has been turned into a game refuge for migratory fowl, and has consequently been closed to hunters.

The ranch has been posted by the state, and contains in all about 5,000 acres of ideal land for the purpose. The original ranch contained 3,069 acres, but more adjacent land was bought and added to it.

Arcadia - Sargent Tilt Is Feature

Loup Valley conference football goes to the front this week as three good games are featured on the Friday bill. Four Mid Six teams go into action in conference contests.

One of the Loup Valley tilts which stands out above the others is the Arcadia-Sargent tussle to be played at Sargent. Coach Tuning's team was mauled around rather badly by a heavy Loup City crew last Friday and unless Coach Copeland and his Sargent footballers are on the alert, they are going to find themselves trailing behind the Arcadians with a score that won't be respectable.

The Sargent gridgers have been working hard for the past two weeks and are in bad need of a "breather." Last week the Sargent gridmen got a 0-0 tie in their game with Taylor.

Burwell, Ord's old rivals, will meet the Chanticleers in a battle to the finish on the Ord gridiron. This will be a Loup Valley Conference tilt. In the remaining game of the week in the Loup circuit, Taylor will take on North Loup on the Loupers' field.

In Mid Six football, St. Paul is slated for slaughter as they play the Brownies on the Loup City field. Broken Bow will get into action once more as they travel to Ravenna.

PERSONALS

Glenn Austin went to Grand Island on business Thursday. J. D. Tedro was busy the latter part of last week enameling the interior of the Ed Whelan home. "No Trespassing" and "No Hunting" signs on sale at the Quiz office, 5c each, 6 for 25c. Steve Gregoroszky was down from Elyria Thursday, returning home that evening on the bus. Clifford Anderson of Burwell passed through Ord Sunday on his way home. He had been down the line on business. Willis Bridge, who worked for the Peuck-Dugan Oil Co., has gone out to Ogden, U., to resume the work he had there before coming back about three weeks ago to visit his people here. Mrs. Sam Hesselgesser was a bus passenger Thursday morning, going down to Pawnee City, where they formerly lived, to visit friends there and also to take in the county fair. Mr. and Mrs. Art Flint were down from Burwell Saturday evening. Mrs. Flint is feeling much better than she had since leaving the hospital at Lander, Wyo., about three weeks ago. Tom Lambdin got back Sunday from Savannah, Mo., where he had been since Sept. 24, undergoing treatment for facial skin cancer. He went down with Reginald Deeghly, who was going to Kirksville, thus saving expense. He believes that he is now well on the way to recovery, and looks much better than when he left. Word received by the Tom Lambdins from their son, LaVerne, tells that he is now working in the beet and potato fields in the irrigated section at Ballantine, Mont., and that there is plenty of work at good wages at the present time. Of course this will last only until the season is over, but he may find another job by that time. Sunday evening a flight of bugs of the squash bug family made their descent in Ord, large numbers of them landing on the streets and sidewalks and being squashed under the feet of citizens. They were of a yellowish green color and emit a disagreeable odor when smashed. They are doubtless only one of the dozens of new insect pests that have been developing during the years of drought. R. O. McCammon of Evansville, Ind., was a bus passenger back home Thursday morning. He had brought his son, Alvin, to Burwell to work as lineman for the Garfield Mutual telephone company, replacing the late O. H. Smith. Mart and Steve Beran returned Wednesday evening of last week from a week's trip to Fergus Falls, Minn., where they visited their sister, Mrs. Paul Whips and family. They found the fishing not so good, as the weather was chilly, windy and drizzling most of the time. They found crops fine along the west side of Minnesota. They caught some walleyed pike at night, sixteen in all, Steve getting one that weighed 8 1/2 pounds and Mart one that weighed 8 pounds. Dan Dugan of the Beuck-Dugan Oil Co. was over from Oakdale Wednesday of last week, and left Thursday for Kansas City, where he planned to buy two new oil transports. As the company already has three this will bring the total up to five. The purchase was made necessary by the rapid increase in business. For some time now Ed Parkos has been assistant to the manager, Glenn Austin, at the Ord station. Parkos came back from Wyoming, where he had been working in the oil fields. Jake Severns is harvesting his potatoes on the C. C. Dale place one mile east of Elyria. He is getting good results. They are of good quality and are making about 150 bushels per acre, which is not a bad crop in a good year. They were grown on low ground. He also has some high quality artichokes on the same farm. While working at Turtle Creek Saturday the men of the Bushman Construction company found a couple of fine bullsnakes. A dog killed one of them, but they brought the other one home with them and left it with Ed Parkos, who was making a pet of it Saturday night. The snake was 4 1/2 feet long and a splendid specimen. Ed said he expected to take it down to Dane creek and turn it loose. They do a great deal of good around the farm by catching rats and mice, and also by frightening them away. A rat will not stay in the same barn with a bullsnake. Dess Francl returned last week from a trip to Denver to see her sister, Mrs. John Schwartz. While there she ran across Roy Collison on the street, and had a fine visit with him. He is enjoying good health and is doing nicely in his work there. Friday of this week the glass arrived for the fronts of the Fafeta Building, occupied by Jerry Petska, and the Dworak building, occupied by the Farmer's store. The glass was set Friday and Saturday by Charles Goodhand and his crew of men. The new fronts are of the latest design, and present a fine appearance, besides giving much more window display room for the occupants. Unusual Exhibits. F. Dale Egerton, third ward resident, brought to The Sun office Friday some Whitney crab apple blossoms that bloomed in October in the yard at his residence. This week James Toop brought in a pair of Siamese twin plums found along the highway north of Schuyler. Both exhibits were quite unusual as well as quite interesting. Schuyler Sun.

Distress Warrants Are Now Being Served: The Valley county treasurer has issued Distress Warrants for the collection of Personal Taxes and these Distress Warrants are now in the hands of this office and are being served as required by law. Avoid trouble and expense by going to the county treasurer's office and paying your Personal Taxes at once, or collection will be made by Distress Warrant. George S. Round Sheriff of Valley County

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS: Bower Family Like Life on the West Coast. Dear Friends of Valley County and where the Quiz goes: Its time to send the Quiz man some money so the "home paper" will continue coming. We don't want to miss a copy as four families read it here. I'll write some about our life here. We've been here just a year. We soon got two rooms in a farm house as Lewis had asked for them and we were lucky. It's hard to get a spot to live. We got our fruit jars filled then and they are again full without much cost to us. There are not many pears this year but we had a pear on our tree that weighed a little over 1 pound. There are not so many apples but plenty. First of April we moved into a six room house, very comfortable, near the church and postoffice. Mell has worked all the time and I have had a fine music class and am starting one again this year. Have picked blackberries among the stumps in the edge of the timber where they were felling great trees. As one fell my niece remarked "There goes a hundred years' growth." Seems sad in a way. They attach a great pulley of some sort to what is known as the spar tree, then chop and wedge on the tree they want to fell, then one hears a man call three times to the others and then we hear "timber" spoken to the men. Soon we hear a great crash and the tree is down. My sister Addie and husband, the E. T. Hentings, recently took me with them to Seattle to meet the boat "Yukon" from Alaska on which their two sons were returning. One has been there 18 months and the other for the summer. The activities on the Sound were interesting. We went up to the top of the Smith office building, claimed to be the highest office building on the coast. We ascended in the elevator to the 35th floor, then had to climb five stories higher, then came to a locked door and could not get to the top. Looked pretty steep climbing anyway. Got a fine view of the Sound with the many ships and boats, also of the city. On the 35th floor is a Chinese temple room. I sat in a chair 800 years old with the dragon carved on the back and the arms are the claws. It was supposed to keep evil spirits away. All the furnishings were given Mr. Smith from a temple in China. The Chinese lady read some inscriptions in Chinese about Seattle, reading from the top to bottom of the page. A very interesting trip. The boys brought back from Alaska, 40 pounds of cranberries of superior quality from those grown here. They enjoyed Alaska but home looked good to them. We and Lewis and family like this state very much. We visit often with Allen Tappans, Gerald Dyes, and Floyd Chaffields. We're all of the Quiz family through our paper. All glad to hear from home. Best wishes to everyone, Alice and Mell Bower

Needed—One Texas Cowboy

Something which smacked slightly of an American rodeo came to Romford, England, cattle market, when this bull escaped from its pen, stampeded through traffic, and scattered traffic on all sides before it finally was captured. These motorists spent a very unpleasant minute, wondering whether the beleaguered animal would climb a fender or a running board in its flight down the street.

—L. L. Oliver and son and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Oliver and their son Bryan Dean arrived last week from California by auto, and are visiting Mr. O. I. ver's son Carl Oliver and daughters, Mrs. Harry Tolen and Mrs. Spencer Waterman and families. # FREE COOKING SCHOOL OCT. 19-20

Capacity Crowd Expected Attend Cooking School

Oct. 19-20 Dates of Event
Quiz-Light Department
Sponsor for Ord.

There will be few afternoon social engagements next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 19 and 20, for homemakers from Ord and all the country around are expected to gather in the ball room of the Masonic temple for the Quiz-City Light Department big 2-day cooking school.

From expert cook to beginner, everyone will receive much valuable instruction in the art of keeping house from the able home economics specialist, Miss Dorothy Gill, and Ord women should not overlook this opportunity to learn the latest pointers in homemaking. The school is absolutely free to all women attending and no woman will be asked to buy anything.

In charge of the classes each day is Miss Gill, who will lecture on every phase of kitchen craft, presenting new recipes and menus, new ways of serving old dishes, and describing and demonstrating the newest developments in kitchen equipment.

"The terms 'classes' and 'lectures' are really too formal for the kind of warm, friendly sessions we are going to have," says Miss Gill. "I want my cooking school guests to feel at ease, as though they had dropped in on me in my home and I had said, 'come on out to the kitchen while I finish my work.' It's as informal as that."

Attendees will have reason to feel they have been invited to Miss Gill's kitchen for a complete, modern kitchen is to be set up on the floor of the Masonic ball room and there Miss Gill will prepare her many delicious dishes in full view of the audience.

Miss Gill is well fitted to conduct the Quiz-Light Department school, having put on many similar throughout the middle west. She is a graduate of the home economics department of the University of Nebraska and is director of home economics for Omar Mills, Inc.

At the close of each day's session the food dishes prepared will be given away. Additional prizes contributed by firms cooperating with the Quiz and City Light Department will also be awarded at this session, in the form of door prizes, the list including house dresses and other wearing apparel items, flour, baking powder, and others.

Furnishing the electric ranges, water heater and other appliances used by Miss Gill will be the City Light Department; the Frigidaire she will use is to be installed by Aulsebrook Motors, groceries will come from the Farmers Grain & Supply Co.; meats from Pecena & Son Market; kitchen cabinet and tables from the Frazier store; house dresses worn by assistants from the Brown-McDonald store; and other cooperating firms will have equipment items on display or in use during the school. Omar flour and K. C. baking powder will be used exclusively.

An interesting feature each day will be a style show presented during intermission about 3:00 by Chase's Toggery. Latest styles in sport clothes, evening dresses, fall coats and street frocks will be displayed by models. This show will last 15 to 20 minutes daily.

Each day the cooking school will start at 2:00 and continue in session 2 1/2 hours, including the intermission period. Each day's program is to be different, Miss Gill promises, so plan to come to both the Tuesday and Wednesday sessions. Copies of the day's recipes will be distributed daily but Miss Gill suggests that her guests bring pencil and notebook for taking down additional notes.

By all means plan to attend the Quiz-City Light Department free cooking school in Ord next Tuesday and Wednesday, Oct. 19 and 20.

Rev. Filipi Popular Speaker

The Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson preached to an appreciative audience last Sunday night in Bohemian at the Presbyterian church. A much larger crowd turned out Monday night to hear him give an address in English on "Bohemian's Contribution to Western Civilization." Rev. Filipi, in his scholarly and interesting way, told of how the western Slavic people acted as a buffer against several attempted invasions of Europe by Asiatic hordes. The desire of the Bohemian people for a simple form of Christian worship was also related.

Rev. Filipi concluded his three day stay in Ord Tuesday night by preaching in Bohemian to a good sized audience.

One Dish Meal Invaluable Aid For Housewife, Says Miss Dorothy Gill

It's a cookery news note worth while to save an hour of a busy day. So here are some suggestions for one dish meals to be served on laundry day or cleaning day. Such dishes require little watching. Most one dish meals can be prepared in the morning and placed in the oven to heat a half hour before dinner. A salad, rolls, a dessert, and a beverage will complete a dinner of this type:

- Tuna Fish and Mushrooms.
- 5-ounce package uncooked noodles
- 7-ounce can tuna fish
- 1/4 cup diced pimiento cheese
- 3 tablespoons chopped green pepper
- 4-ounce can mushrooms
- 1 1/2 cups milk
- 3 tablespoons Omar flour
- 6 tablespoons butter
- 1 cup buttered bread crumbs

Cook the noodles in rapidly boiling water until tender. Drain and blanch with cold water. Melt the 3 tablespoons of butter. Add the drained mushrooms, the green pepper and cook until green pepper is soft. Melt the remaining three tablespoons of butter, add the flour and blend well. Add the milk, place over low heat and cook until thickened and well done.

Add the cheese, chopped hard cooked eggs, flaked tuna fish, mushrooms, green pepper and the noodles. Season to taste with salt and pepper. Place in a buttered baking dish. Top with buttered crumbs. Bake in a moderate (350 degrees F.) oven until the crumbs are lightly browned. Serves six. Mushrooms may be omitted.

Pork Chops with Noodles.

- 6 pork chops
- 1 medium sized onion (sliced)
- 3 tablespoons diced green pepper
- 1 5-ounce package noodles
- 3 cups tomatoes
- 2 cups water
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Brown pork chops in hot fat. Season well. Top with sliced onion, green pepper and uncooked noodles. Combine tomatoes, water salt and pepper. Pour over pork chops and noodles. Cover and cook slowly for one hour or until pork chops and noodles are tender. Serves six.

Dry Heat Best For Tender Meats

In cooking meats we must consider the cut that we are going to use. Tender cuts of meat are cooked best by so-called dry heat—roasting, broiling, and pan broiling. Less tender cuts are at their best when cooked by moist heat—stewing, simmering and braising.

The latest method of roasting meats is this: Wipe the roast off with a damp cloth and season well with salt and pepper. Next place the roast on a rack with the fat side up, using a fairly shallow pan. We won't add any water, we won't cover the meat, and we won't baste it. Instead we'll place it in a slow (300 degrees F. to 350 degrees F.) oven and allow to cook the required time. Some people like a browner exterior than is obtained when roasting at a low temperature. If you do, sear the roast in a hot (500 degrees F.) oven for 20 to 30 minutes, then reduce the temperature and continue the cooking. If you have never roasted meat in this manner, I do wish you would try this method. Your roast will be a golden brown and as juicy as can be.

A roast meat thermometer is a modern piece of equipment to have in the kitchen. It prevents over-cooking of roasts. It is an exact and accurate way of telling when the roast is done. If you don't have a thermometer it's necessary to figure a certain number of minutes per pound for roasting.

When stewing meats, cook with the heat low. This liquid should never boil—instead bubbles breaking above the surface they should break beneath the surface. As soon as meat is delivered remove from its wrappings. If it is fresh meat, place in an open dish cover loosely with parchment or waxed paper and place in the coldest part of the refrigerator.

Cooked meats should be placed in a covered container and kept in the refrigerator. — By Dorothy Gill, Home Economics Director, Omar Mills, Inc.

MOTHERS

Your child has a better chance to grow up healthy and successful if the youngster gets the right amount of milk, the perfect food each day.

How much milk? Dr. Sherman of Columbia University says every child should have a quart a day, every adult should have a pint some way, either drink it or get it in cooked foods—soups, custards, sauces and desserts.

Be sure to get the right amount of milk, that is properly pasteurized.

Quins Have Exciting Tooth Derby

The famous Dionne Quins are having a "tooth derby" and they're racing neck to neck. At the age of nine and a half months Annette broke in the lead cutting her first incisor. Yvonne made a close second as she cut her lower incisor the following day. On her "eleven months birthday" Emilie cut her first tooth making the score Emilie 1, Marie 1, Annette 1, Yvonne 2, and Cecile 0.

At the end of 14 months Cecile was reported to have gained the lead with six tiny teeth and Marie trailed with only three. Just before their second birthday Emilie was trailing with 12, Yvonne next with 13 and the others with 14 teeth. However, Emilie celebrated the coming of Spring, 1937, by cutting her seventeenth tooth, her second molar, and breaking into the lead, leaving her other four sisters tied for second place, each with sixteen teeth.

One can see that it's a close race and one can also see that these five little babes who weren't expected to live three years ago have since grown into five little ladies, as healthy and as happy as can be. Of course, proper diet has had much to do with the remarkable development of the famous Quins.

For example, the medical staff chose Quaker Oats as the Quins' cereal. Quaker Oats is rich in Vitamin B for combating constipation, nervousness and poor appetite. And, too, Quaker Oats with milk is a fine source of body-building, minerals, food-energy and muscle-building protein. So long as the Quins have Quaker Oats for breakfast every day it's a safe bet they'll be winners in every derby they enter.

They Told Him.

A delegation of 50 persons from Douglas, Saunders, Polk and Butler counties was told by Governor Cochran that paving of state highway 16 from Wahoo to Clarks could not be completed for another two years. Delegates are seeking to have Highway 16 designated as part of a direct line route across the continent. They suggested it be renamed U. S. 32, connecting with Iowa Highway 2—Binklemann Breeze.

Free Cooking School

Miss Dorothy Gill has selected new Hi-speed Electric Ranges from our stock to be used exclusively at the Cooking School next Tuesday and Wednesday, October 19 and 20 in the basement of the Masonic Temple.

The new Electric Ranges, with their modern features, economic hi-speed units and famous Thrift Cookers, give you a three-way thrift. They save money, time and food. You owe it to yourself to see how these most modern of home conveniences perform such miracles. Plan to have one now... they'll surprise your family and please your pocketbook.

Ask us for a Demonstration!

Prominent universities have proved that about 20% of your fuel during the heating season goes for hot water when you use a furnace coil (evidence on request). Heat is necessary to raise the temperature of water and heat takes fuel. The furnace coil costs money for fuel, penalizes you with inconvenience and uncertainty of hot water supply, requires repairs and is a constant menace to safety.

The furnace coil was considered a satisfactory method of heating water when no better way was known. But today you can have a modern, automatic Electric Water Heater which gives you an abundant supply of hot water day and night. And at present low electric rates you will no doubt find it cheaper than less convenient and more hazardous methods.

New Household Refrigerator Advanced in Home Service

Designed to provide all five basic refrigeration services to the American housewife, the 1937 super-duty Frigidaire with the meter-miser makes its bow here. Engineered and manufactured by the household refrigeration division of General Motors, the new refrigerator has greater ice-ability, greater storage-ability, greater protect-ability, greater depend-ability and greater save-ability, according to its dealers. Judith Palmer is shown here demonstrating a few of the many features, chief of which is the sensationally new instant cube release which ends ice-cube struggle and makes cubes instantly available without effort on the part of the user.

Hat's Off To Sandwiches

Sandwiches though an accepted matter of fact food combination weren't always in vogue. I don't believe that the famous Earl of Sandwich realized what he was starting when he placed slices of roast beef between slabs of bread for the first sandwich—do you?

Sandwiches are what we make them. There are closed, open and rolled sandwiches and these types have positively hundreds of variations. Think of the ways that we can fix them. They can be broiled, toasted in the oven, sauted, toasted in a sandwich maker or served plain. We can use rolls, buns or bread—and a variety of breads too. Sandwiches can be selected to suit any taste and occasion.

Since bread is the base of most sandwiches we'll start our recipes with one for white bread. This recipe make 2 loaves.

White Bread.
6 cups OMAR FLOUR
2 cups milk
2 tablespoons shortening
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1 cake compressed yeast
1/4 cup water

Scald the milk and pour over the shortening, sugar, and salt, when lukewarm, add the yeast which has been dissolved in the 1/4 cup of lukewarm water. Sift the flour once. Measure. Add one cup at a time, beating until smooth. When all the flour has been added, turn out on a floured board and knead until the dough is smooth and elastic. Place in a greased bowl. Cover with waxed paper and a damp cloth. Let rise in a warm place until double in bulk. Punch down and let stand about 15 minutes. Place on a floured board and divide into 2 parts. Mold into loaves. Place in well-greased bread pans. Cover with waxed paper and damp cloth. Set in a warm place until double in bulk. Brush the top with melted shortening and bake in a hot (400 degrees F.) oven. After 15 minutes, lower the temperature to moderate (350 degrees F.) and bake for 45 minutes. When done the bread will shrink slightly from the sides of the pan. Remove the bread from the pans at once. Cool on a wire rack.

And now for our sandwiches. These are ones that we accompanied with a dessert, a beverage and in a few instances a salad give us a complete meal.

Hot Baked Bean.
1 can plain baked beans (No. 2 can)
3 tablespoons chopped onion
1 green pepper, chopped
2 tablespoons butter
3 cups canned tomatoes
1/2 teaspoon salt
10 slices toasted bread
Cook chopped onion and green pepper in butter until soft, but not brown. Add tomatoes and salt and simmer slowly until thick, about 1/2 hour. Serve hot baked beans between two slices of toast, with tomato sauce poured over. Serves five.

Corned Beef Surprise.
1/2 can corned beef (6 oz.)
2 hard cooked eggs
1/2 lb. salted peanuts
1/2 cup chopped sweet pickle
1/2 pint salad dressing, butter, bread.

Run the corned beef and peanuts through a food chopper (use coarse blade). Add coarsely chopped egg. Add enough salad dressing to give mixture a consistency that will spread easily. Butter slices of bread, spread with corned beef filling, top with a leaf of lettuce and another slice of bread. Makes 1 1/2 dozen sandwiches.

Ham-Cabbage Salad Sandwich.
1 cup shredded cabbage
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 tablespoon chopped green pepper

1-3 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon sugar
8 slices bread
4 slices minced ham
Mix mayonnaise, vinegar, salt, and sugar together. Add to cabbage and green pepper. On a slice of buttered bread place a slice of minced ham. Cover with cabbage salad. Top with a buttered slice of bread. Serves four.

Dried Beef, Hard Cooked Eggs.
1/2 cup coarsely ground dried beef
2 hard cooked eggs
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
Bread
Chop eggs fine. Pour boiling water over dried beef, and drain thoroughly. Combine all ingredients and spread between buttered slices of bread. Makes six whole sandwiches.

Relished Liver Sandwich.
1/2 pound cooked liver (ground)
1/2 cup chili sauce
1/2 cup diced celery
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
Bread
Combine all ingredients and spread on buttered slices of bread. Makes one and a half cups filling, approximately twelve whole sandwiches.—By Dorothy Gill, Home Economics Director, Omar Mills, Inc.

Delicious Oatmeal Cookies Have "Toasted Taste"

Orchids to the cook who first thought of toasting. Be it toasted marshmallows, or toasted oatmeal cookies there's something about "that toasted taste" that gets you. So, why not try this new recipe for oatmeal cookies and get a real toast of appreciation from the hungry family?

Ingredients are as follows:
1 1/2 cups Quaker Oats
1-3 cup sour milk
3/4 cup shortening
2 cups brown sugar
2 eggs beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 1/2 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cloves
1 teaspoon baking powder
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1 teaspoon nutmeg
1 cup chopped, seeded dates
1 cup chopped nuts
Spread the Quaker Oats in a shallow layer in a pan and brown lightly in 350 degree oven. Remove from oven and place oatmeal in a bowl and add sour milk. Let stand 5 minutes. Cream fat and sugar until light and fluffy, add beaten egg and beat until smooth. Add soaked oatmeal, then stir in all dry ingredients which have been sifted together. Mix until smooth. Drop from tip of spoon on greased baking sheet keeping well apart. Bake at 375 degrees for 15 minutes.

Miss Gill Gives Helpful Hints On Baking Powder Use

Miss Dorothy Gill, who is conducting the Quiz-City Light Department cooking school, says that for best results in baking it is a good plan to follow these simple rules:

Use the amount of baking powder recommended on the can. Because of the high strength of K C Baking Powder which she is using in the cooking school, only one level teaspoonful should be used to a cup of well sifted flour for most recipes. This is equivalent to one heaping teaspoonful to a quart of flour.

Careful measurement is very necessary as using more or less than a recipe calls for will not produce best results.

Another secret of good baking is to be sure that the baking powder is thoroughly mixed with the flour and other ingredients. The more thoroughly the baking powder and flour are mixed before you add moisture, the better your results are likely to be. Sift three or four times.

For biscuits, make a smooth dough that can be handled without sticking, and bake in moderate oven. For cakes, have your oven slow to moderate at first, until the cake is fully risen; then increase heat so as to just brown lightly.

Miss Gill says that K C, the brand she is using in cooking schools, is manufactured by baking powder specialists who make nothing but baking powder—controlled by expert chemists of national reputation. It is always uniform in quality and can be relied upon to produce for you, the kind of bakings you will be proud to serve.

Sheldon, McAnulty, Spoke Monday Eve At Ord Celebration

Crowd Cut By Rain and Bad Roads But 200 Present; To Be Annual Event.

Monday evening, following heavy rains that made roads almost impassable off the gravel, the first celebration of Ord Day was held under the auspices of the Ord American Legion post. Due to the weather the crowd was not all that could be desired, but about two hundred were present to enjoy a splendid program.

Dr. A. E. Sheldon, secretary of the Nebraska State Historical Society, chief speaker of the evening, arrived at about four in the afternoon, coming with Horace M. Davis, who also attended the meeting. Dr. G. R. Gard attempted to take Dr. Sheldon, George W. McAnulty and John Ward to view Ft. Hartsuff, but the dirt road north from Elyria was almost impassable and the trip was given up.

The program opened at 8:00 p. m. with a selection by the Ord high school brass sextet, composed of Lloyd Sack, Gerald Jirak, Virginia Sack, Allen Zikmund, Dick Koupal and Ruth Auble. This was followed by the invocation by Rev. S. A. Woodruff, Jr., pastor of Ord's oldest church still being held in the original building, a record of more than fifty years.

E. L. Vogelanz was in charge of the program and made a very neat and fitting introductory speech in which he expressed the hope that this would be the first of a series of yearly meetings. He also stated that the meeting was not only in honor of General Ord's birthday, but also in commemoration of the founders of Ord. He then introduced George W. McAnulty, sole survivor of the battle of Peble Creek in 1873.

Mr. McAnulty told of the killing of Littlefield, and how the Indian raids threw the settlers into a panic, as the result of which a mass meeting was called at Willow Springs to select five men to contact the government in regard to the building of a fort near the mouth of the Calamus river. The men chosen were M. B. Goodenow, chairman, Dr. E. D. McKinney, Uncle John Case, George McAnulty, and the postmaster at Willow Springs.

Captain Munson and Company C came up the valley and camped near Happy Jack's gulch, near Goodenow. General Ord came up and met with the committee and viewed the site at the mouth of the Calamus, after which he decided to locate the fort where it is now because the most timber was on the east side of the river. On the way back the general was tendered a banquet at North Loup, with most of the settlers in attendance.

Dr. Sheldon was then introduced. He opened his address with a little history of the Civil war that was new to those present. He told how when General Lee's troops were retreating west from Richmond and the cavalry was having difficulty in stopping them, Gen. E. O. C. Ord so maneuvered his brigade that he cut off their retreat, and had the honor of receiving the Confederate flag of truce.

He told of his appointment to the department of the west and how he reported in 1871 that every settler in the Loup and Republican valleys plowed and reaped with his gun in his hand or on his back. It was by his authority that two forts were built, Ft. Hartsuff, and a new North Platte sub station to Ft. McPherson. His final service to the valley before his transfer elsewhere was the distribution of "hopper relief" in 1875.

The doctor had with him two very interesting charts; one was the drawing of the first military officer to explore the region north of the Platte. The other was a plan of Ft. Hartsuff, showing the number and location of the original buildings. He explained these and showed how Ft. Hartsuff is the only fort in Nebraska outside of those still in use that has a number of the buildings still remaining.

He was strong in the belief that a beginning has been made toward obtaining this fort as a state park, and suggested a plan whereby it could be purchased, that of popular subscription. He said that an announcement of what had been accomplished along this line should be made at the Ord Day celebration next year, and at every yearly celebration until the result was accomplished.

Mason Sees Deer In Albers Pasture

While walking across J. W. Albers' hill pasture on his way to town Friday morning, Seth Mason was surprised to see a deer in a brush patch and says he got within 30 feet of it before the deer bounded off. It was a mature animal and had horns 1-2 to 3 feet long, Seth says. Recently C. E. Goodhand saw a deer near his home in northwest Ord and this may have been the same one. With years of protection from hunters, deer are on the increase in the sand hill region and quite often stray down into the valley. A large group of deer live northwest of Burwell and are seen frequently by ranchmen there.

Albion Osteopath Was Found Guilty

Dr. Wilbert R. Nay, osteopath of Albion, Neb., who a few weeks ago was arrested on a charge of performing an illegal operation, last week was found guilty by a district court jury. The judge deferred sentence until some time this week. Dr. Nay may appeal the case to the supreme court. He also faces a federal narcotics charge and is at liberty on bail at the present time.

Rich Is Awarded Assault Damages

At 8:30 p. m. last Wednesday the jury in the case of Charles H. Rich of North Loup vs. C. M. Dugan and the International Harvester company brought in a verdict for the plaintiff in the sum of $1,475.00, in the district court in Howard county. The trial was in Judge E. P. Clements' court, and the jury deliberated 4 1/2 hours.

The plaintiff alleged that on April 21, 1936, the defendant came to his farm home, accompanied by two men, and attempted to get additional security upon a note for a tractor Rich had purchased from the International Harvester company, and that the defendant had violently assaulted the plaintiff without adequate cause.

The plaintiff also charged that the sight of one eye was permanently injured and his nose permanently disfigured. Dugan denied all the allegations and said that Rich had assaulted him. At the time action was brought Dugan was collector for the International Harvester company, with headquarters at St. Paul. He is now battiff in the court of Judge Ryan in Omaha. The attorneys for Dugan were J. L. Cleary and Clinton Cronin of Grand Island, while Rich was represented by Davis and Vogelanz of Ord. Dr. Martin of Foots eye clinic of Hastings was medical expert for the defendant, while Dr. F. A. Barta's deposition was taken and used at the trial to establish Rich's physical condition.

Dr. Wise Returns From World Cruise

Dr. Earl Wise arrived in Ord late last week to visit his father, A. J. Wise, after completing seven months' travel on the S. S. President Adams in the capacity of ship surgeon.

Two complete trips around the world were made by Dr. Wise during his work on the ship, each trip taking approximately 115 days. Both of his trips were made on the same ship, the President Adams, a liner owned by the Dollar Steamship Lines.

Points of interest visited by Wise on his trips included Yokohama, Japan; Hongkong, China; Singapore; Bombay, India; Genoa, Italy; and Marseilles, France.

Dr. Wise, an expert photographer, "shot" thousands of feet of movie film during his travels, all of his moving pictures being made in color. He will undoubtedly make several showings of these pictures for his friends during his visit in Ord. Many beautiful pictures were also taken with his Leica equipment and it is planned that several of his most outstanding photos will be published in next week's issue of the Quiz.

Find Burwell Man Dead In Pasture

Burwell, Neb., Oct. 20—(Special)—George Abe Birkes, about 50 years of age, was found dead in the pasture about five miles north and east of Valleyview at 4 o'clock Tuesday, after having been missing all night. He was last seen about four o'clock Monday on horseback going out to look after the cattle. When he failed to return, his brother John organized a search party and the family and neighbors hunted for him in the pasture all night. Dr. Penstermacher of Sargent was called and the Loup county authorities held an inquest, and attributed the death to natural causes. The body was brought to the Mitchell Funeral Home in Burwell, from which place the funeral will be held Thursday at 10:30 a. m., and burial will be made in the Doniphan cemetery.

—Wayne Chaffin and Miss Nyrtle Clark were down from Burwell Tuesday afternoon.

Nov. 29th Is Date Set By Kroger For Lee Murder Trial

Wiegardt Instructed to Call Jury on That Date; 13 Other Cases on List.

Trial of James Lee on a charge of first degree murder for the shooting of Gall Hiner, 14, will start in Ord during the fall jury term called for November 29 by Judge E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, who will be on the bench during the term. Clerk of the District Court Alfred A. Wiegardt last Friday received instructions from Judge Kroger to call a jury on that date.

The Lee case is probably Valley county's most important criminal action since the Kamarad affair of twenty years ago. It is the first murder action since an even earlier date.

There are 13 other jury cases which may come to trial during the fall term, which is the first jury term this county has had in a long time. Some of them may be settled before Nov. 29 and others may be dismissed when the term starts. The Lee case is the only really important case on the criminal docket.

Lee will be defended by Clarence M. Davis and E. L. Vogelanz while the prosecution will be conducted by County Attorney Alvin B. Lee, probably with legal assistants.

Evelyn Will Take Transport Exams

Miss Evelyn Sharp, Ord's young aviatrix, said yesterday that she will take her examination for a transport pilot's license next week at the Lincoln airport.

H. Montee, government inspector, will supervise all the tests, which will be given on three days, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. The test for a transport pilot's license is made up of two parts, the applicant must do certain technical maneuvers in the air with his own or a government ship and he must pass a severe written test on aeronautical questions.

Miss Sharp will make the trip to Lincoln in her own plane and will remain in the city for the entire three days if necessary, however she may have her tests completed by the second day.

One Boy to Kearney, Another Is Paroled

Saturday Charles Weekes, 8 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Weekes, and Junior Hans, son of a family who recently came to Ord, were taken before Judge John L. Andersen for questioning in regard to several acts of delinquency. It developed that the Hans boy had been paroled from the Kearney Industrial school, and was returned there for breaking his parole. Judge Andersen continued the case of the Weekes boy until Dec. 4, in the meanwhile paroling him to Supt. C. C. Thompson and the boy's teacher, Miss Inez Swain. If proper improvement is shown by that time the judge indicates that he will show leniency.

Five Highlander Officers Sued

A petition was filed in district court at Lincoln last Saturday by the Douglas county policy holders of the Royal Highlander insurance company, against the five officers of the company, asking to examine the books and records and for an accounting by the officers. The petition also attacks conversion of the company from a fraternal to a mutual reserve company. Defendants named are W. E. Sharp, C. A. Smith, L. J. Stickman, Fred H. Hanke and L. E. Smith. Some time ago Attorney Jackson Case filed a petition asking that the company be compelled to distribute its excess assets among policy holders, which hearing has not been held because the state has been examining the company. There are a number of Royal Highlander policy holders in Ord and vicinity.

Combination Public Sale.

Wilmer Nelson and Bert Mallery, both living north of Ord, are going to quit farming and hold a clean-up sale together next Tuesday. A full list of their offering will be found on another page of this paper. Mr. Mallery is in the Washington lumber country where he has a good job. Mr. Nelson will go to western Nebraska for the winter, where he already has a job but thinks he may go to Wyoming in the spring. Be sure and read their advertising.

Car Crash Friday Eve.

Cars driven by Felix Gregorowski and Mrs. Steven Jablonski met in a head-on collision Friday evening near Elyria, the Jablonski car being quite badly damaged. A head when he suffered a bruised head when he was thrown into the windshield but otherwise nobody was hurt.

Experiment Shows Sub-Soil Moisture

... common cornfield ...

How much sub-soil moisture exists in Valley county? How much does irrigation increase the sub-soil moisture?

These two questions have been topics of discussion among Valley county farmers for quite a length of time. Tuesday morning two Quiz representatives conducted an experiment which will provide definite proof on both questions. A total of 2.05 inches of drizzling rain had fallen in the few days previous, most of which soaked into the earth.

County Agent C. C. Dale assisted in the experiment as did Evert Smith, on whose farm land the tests were given trial.

In the top photo is shown the sub-soil moisture of the average cornfield—one foot. Corn on this tract has been cut and made into fodder. This shows that the penetration of the recent rains has been just about what the large measuring rule reads, one foot.

Over an extra foot of moisture was gained on this field of summer fallow land, as shown in the center picture, where the measuring rule shows moisture 2 feet deep. Although the following process creates a little more work for the farmer he is amply repaid for his labor when a check-up is made on his next crop production.

Irrigated land tops them all. This particular plot of irrigated land contained much more sub-soil moisture than is shown by the scale. Extreme difficulty was encountered in digging deeper down, however the soil was still wet at three feet.

Eleven Ord Firemen Go To North Platte

Eleven of Ord's fire fighters left early Tuesday morning to attend the annual state firemen's convention at North Platte. Those who went were C. R. Turabode, Archie Bradt, Paul Duemey, Mark Tolen, Cecil Clark, Freeman Haight, Archie Keep, Henry Misko and Rollin Dye. They went over by car and expected to remain the full three days of the convention.

350 Women Went To First Session Cooking School

Masonic Basement Crowded To Capacity Tuesday to Hear Miss Dorothy Gill.

A crowd of 350 women, largest number that ever attended a cooking school in Ord, crowded the Masonic temple basement to capacity Tuesday when the Quiz-City Light Department school got under way with Miss Dorothy Gill, home economics director of Omar Mills, Inc., as demonstrator. The session started at 2:15, lasted until 4:30. A style show presented by Chase's Toggery was an intermission feature.

Women attending the Tuesday session praise highly the cookery demonstration, the new recipes and home hints given by Miss Gill. Recipe folders with full directions for preparing the dishes made Tuesday afternoon by Miss Gill were given to all attending.

Ten baskets of groceries, a house dress and other articles were given away as door prizes at the Tuesday session. Similar door prizes will be awarded today. Prizes Tuesday were won by Mrs. Seth Mason, Miss Mary Vodehnal, Lily Christoffersen, Jeannette Hughes, Mrs. Bob McAllister, Mrs. F. E. Glover, Geraldine Noll, Mrs. Mable Atkinson, Mrs. E. R. Horner, Mrs. Victor Kerchal, Estelle Stewart, Mrs. M. B. Cummins, Mrs. Lloyd Vavra, Mrs. Jay Pray, Mildred Nay, Florence Duda, Mrs. Ferne Carson and Mrs. R. O. Hunter.

"This is one of the very most successful schools I've ever held," said Miss Gill this morning. She praised highly cooperation she is receiving from quiz staff members and representatives of the cooperating firms, Chase's Toggery, L. J. Auble, Hastings & Ollis, Auble Bros., the Farmers Store, Pecinka & Son, Brown-McDonald and the Frazier furniture store.

Edwin Rousek Wins National Honors

Seventy-five young farmers, members of the Future Farmers of America, received the organization's highest degree, the American Farmer degree, at the organization's annual convention at Kansas City Monday. Included in the list were two from Nebraska, Edwin Rousek of Sargent and Marvin L. Krause of Loreto. Edwin Rousek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rousek of Eureka township and graduated from Sargent high school, class of 1936, with the highest standing in a class of 37. He was announced as winner of the regent's scholarship certificate of the University of Nebraska, a scholarship certificate given by the Nebraska Association of Church Colleges, a scholarship awarded by the Chillicothe Business College, and the Union Pacific scholarship. He is at present a student at the University of Nebraska.

Mac's Grill Moves To Kull Building

For the past month Ed Kull has been busy getting the former Tony Shoe store location ready for occupancy by Mac's Grill. The work was completed last week and Mac began Saturday to move his fixtures and appurtenances to the new location. He was finding it quite a job to adapt some of the counters and shelving to their new location, as they were especially built to fit in the old building.

He has practically as much room in the new location, but it required new arrangement. When finished he will have five or six booths along the south side of the room, his soda fountain in the northeast corner, and lunch counters extending from it along the north side. The new floor, consisting of mastipav 9 inch blocks, has been laid in the main room, H. T. Frazier and son doing the work. It presents a splendid appearance in alternating light and dark blocks.

Don'ts For Hunters Listed by Red Cross

Because carelessness cost the lives of two hundred hunters last year, the American Red Cross has issued a list of don'ts for the nation's sportsmen. Don't pull a gun carelessly from a car. Don't crawl through the fence without first unloading your gun. Don't use a gun to grub game from a bush. Don't carry your gun cocked. Be sure the safety catch is in place. Don't point your gun at anyone in fun. Don't deploy ahead of your companions when out with a party. Don't leave a gun where children can reach it. Don't leave a loaded gun about the house. Don't allow the gun muzzle to load with dirt or snow. Don't disguise yourself; wear red coats or caps.

Mrs. Ed Whelan Is Red Cross Chairman

Mrs. E. C. Whelan of Ord has been appointed Roll Call chairman for the Valley county chapter of the American Red Cross. Roll call is the annual drive for membership which opens each year on Armistice day, Nov. 11, and closes Thanksgiving day. The county chapter is organizing under Mrs. Whelan's direction and hopes to make this year a banner membership year. Because of the increase in calls on the Red Cross in emergency and indigent cases in the county the goal is set higher than heretofore. Mrs. Whelan will be assisted by a corps of sub-chairmen, volunteer workers whom she has appointed.

Soil Conservation Should Continue, Believes Mensing

Citizens of Valley county were pleasantly surprised last Sunday morning when they discovered a photo of A. J. Mensing appearing in the Sunday edition of the Omaha World-Herald. An interview accompanied the picture of Mr. Mensing, both being secured for the Herald by one of its staff members in this district.

The article on Mr. Mensing was a part of a special feature article giving the views of a number of Nebraska farmers on the subject of what they would say were they to appear before the congressional committee on agriculture which is now meeting in Sioux City.

Mensing, who farms 13 miles northeast of Ord, was quoted as saying, "We in Valley county need the farm program. I am in favor of the continuation of the soil conservation program with its benefit payments so that agriculture may be placed on a parity with industry and organized labor. I favor storage of surplus crops with commodity loans by the government. Need for this can be shown by the recent drop in the price of corn. With only a normal production, December corn is below 60 cents in Chicago. If Nebraska, Kansas and the Dakotas had produced a normal corn crop this year, corn would again be down to about 25 cents a bushel. These violent fluctuations in prices must be avoided in some manner before the business of farming can be placed on a safe foundation."

North Loup Teacher Found in California

A wide-spread search which extended over a period of about two weeks came to an end Monday when Roger Johnson, missing son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Glen Johnson of North Loup, was found in Riverside, Calif. An uncle, Sherman Clement, sent word Johnson was residing in his home.

Johnson, 25, was a resident of Mount Morris, Ill., and disappeared Sunday, Oct. 10, leaving a hastily written note of farewell to his fiancée who lives in Linden, Wis. It was believed for a time that he had committed suicide, his fiancée saying that the note inferred that "it was the end although he didn't say so."

In Mount Morris, young Johnson taught music and English in the Mount Morris high school and also directed the choir of Trinity Lutheran church. Absolutely no trace of him could be found until this Monday. His uncle said that Johnson was working in a garage. His parents said early this week that no explanation for his queer actions could be found.

Drivers' Licenses Going Too Slowly

Although more than half the time allotted by the state for the issuance of drivers' licenses in Valley county has expired, only a comparatively small number have been issued, says A. W. Pierce, examiner for this county. To make it as easy as possible for the people of North Loup and Arcadia to get their licenses, the office will be open in those towns several days this month. In North Loup it will be open Oct. 21 and 28, in Arcadia on Oct. 22 and 29. In Ord it will be open Oct. 20, 23, 25, 26, 27 and 30.

Any driver who has not turned in his old license and procured a new one by Nov. 30 is liable to arrest and drivers are asked to get busy at once and avoid the last minute rush.

Cream Grading School. A. L. Haacker, chief of the dairy division of the Nebraska department of agriculture, accompanied by two state inspectors, is in Ord today and this afternoon at the Legion hall is holding a cream grading school for all licensed cream buyers of Valley and Garfield counties. Beginning soon all cream in Nebraska will be bought on a grade basis.

Week end guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, were Mr. and Mrs. Cain and Mr. and Mrs. Stratton, from Omaha. The men came to hunt pheasants.

Joe Dworak, 77, Commits Suicide Tuesday Morning

Father of Sand Flats Farmer Successful in 2nd Try At Taking Own Life.

From the top of a wagon load of corn which he had snaped by himself the previous day, Joe Dworak, sr., 77 years old, leaped to his death early Tuesday morning. Climbing to the top of the wagon, which was in a barn driveway, he had tied a rope to the rafters, then adjusted the other end about his own neck. He was dead when found about 7:30 by a son, Joe Dworak, jr., with whom he was residing.

Fears were held that Mr. Dworak might attempt suicide at any time, as a week before while staying with a daughter near Comstock he attempted to kill himself with a razor. This suicide try was frustrated by relatives.

After coming to the home of his son and namesake, who lives on the old Zikmund farm 12 miles northeast of Ord, Mr. Dworak seemed in better spirits. His health was quite good for a person of his age, though ten years ago he suffered a stroke and often complained of pains in his head. Only the day before he told a neighbor, Joe Hybl, that his head hurt him.

What time the suicide occurred is not definitely known. Mr. Dworak was not missed Tuesday morning until attempts were made to call him to breakfast. When it was learned that he had left the upstairs room where he slept a search of the outbuildings was made and the body was soon found.

Sheriff George S. Round, County Attorney Alvin B. Lee and Dr. J. G. Kruml, county physician, were called to the Dworak farm when the suicide was discovered. They made a routine examination and Dr. Kruml said death apparently had occurred only a short time before.

Mr. Dworak's body was brought to the Frazier mortuary where brief services will be held about 1:00 Thursday afternoon, followed by rites in the Bohemian hall at 2:00, with Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson presiding.

Frank Dworak, a son of the deceased, lives near Sargent, and a daughter lives near Comstock. There are several grandchildren. Mr. Dworak was generally respected in the Custer county communities where most of his life was spent.

Missed Plane Crash By Only Three Days

E. H. Dummire, manager of the North Loup power and irrigation district, is counting himself a most fortunate man, for he missed a plane crash by only three days. Sent to Casper, Wyo., last week as a Nebraska delegate to the National Reclamation Conference, Mr. Dummire rode part of the way on a United Airliner. Monday came word over the radio that the same Airliner had crashed in the mountains of western Wyoming with 19 passengers aboard. Mr. Dummire frequently rides commercial airplanes on his business trips over the country and has never yet been a crash participant.

M. P. Calhoun Dies At Vancouver, Wash.

To his daughter, Mrs. John W. Romine, the Quiz is indebted for information of the recent death of M. P. Calhoun, former resident of this section, who with his family played a prominent part in the social and religious life of the community for a number of years. Succumbing to a short illness, Marcellus P. Calhoun passed away Oct. 6, at a hospital in Vancouver, Wash., at the age of 93 years.

He was a native of Michigan and lived for many years in Valley county on a farm 3 1/2 miles north of Ord. For the past 12 years he had been a resident of Vancouver. Surviving him are four daughters, Mrs. Grace Morrow of New Mexico, Mrs. Marcella Otis of Huntington Park, Calif., Mrs. Sada Post of Aberdeen, S. D., and Mrs. John W. Romine, of Vancouver, and five grandchildren. His body was cremated and the ashes will be brought to Ord to rest beside his wife in the Ord cemetery.

Mrs. W. D. Long, 80, Injured Wednesday

Mrs. W. D. Long, 80-year-old Springdale resident, suffered a broken collarbone Wednesday when she fell in the yard at the home of her son, Leo Long. Dr. F. A. Barta was called and brought Mrs. Long to the hospital where a plaster cast was applied after the fracture was reduced. Mrs. Long's general health has been excellent considering her advanced years and it is hoped that she will recover from the effects of this injury.

Lou Anna Ilgenfritz Newby, Lou Anna Thomas was born in Randolph county, Mo., on January 15th, 1857, and passed away in Burwell, Nebr., on October 16, 1937 at the age of eighty years, nine months and one day.

She was united in marriage to Horace Grayville Ilgenfritz on October 8, 1873. To this union six children were born, Wilfred Wayne of Lincoln, Nebr., Horace L. of Longview, Wash., Clyde Raymond of Burwell, Nebr., Jennie Ida, Mildred Elizabeth and Hazel Julia, the three latter having preceded their mother to the great beyond.

After her marriage she lived in Missouri until April 1884 when they moved to York, Nebr. In 1890 she moved, with her husband and family to Linden, Calif., where she resided for two and one half years, then moved back to Nebraska and located at Pawnee City where she lived the greater part of her married life.

On March 11, 1918 her husband preceded her in death. Then five years later she was married to Hiram Sidney Newby at Huntsville, Mo., living there until Mr. Newby's death in November, 1926. Since that time she has made her home among her children, spending most of her time in Burwell with her son Clyde, where she was living at the time of her death. In her younger days she became a member of the Methodist church and remained a member until her death.

Besides her three sons she leaves to mourn her passing ten grandchildren, Mrs. Mildred Bowers of Lincoln, Nebr., Mrs. Hazel Johannsen, Angora, Nebr., Mrs. Virginia Meckel, Greeley, Colo., Rex Ilgenfritz, Burwell, Arlene, Cecil and Isla Priest of Tulsa, Okla., and Helen, Marjorie and Billie Ilgenfritz of Longview, Wash. Also six great grandchildren.

"Grandma" as she was known, counted her friends by her acquaintances. A smile for everyone, a good neighbor and a conscientious worker she will be long remembered by those with whom she came in contact.

Funeral services were held at the Mitchell funeral home on Sunday October 17 at 2:30 p. m. with Rev. W. L. Goodell of the Christian church officiating. Audience Will Have Opportunity To "Boo" Actors When Thespians Present "Little Nell"

Have you ever wanted to go to a play and "boo" and "hiss" your head off?

If you have then you won't want to miss the one-act melodrama being presented by the Ord high school auditorium on the evening of Oct. 26.

This type of entertainment is what many people call unique. To watch the play you are seated at tables on the auditorium floor and between the times when you "hiss" and "boo" at the villain and his dire tactics, you sup away with coffee and doughnuts.

"Little Nell" is no different from the hundreds of other "melodramas" presented in the gay theatres. The play deals with the much despised villain who pursues the proud heroine and who is rescued just in the nick of time by the noble hero. Two types of tickets are being sold, one giving you a seat on the main floor with coffee and doughnuts furnished and another which gives you a seat on the bleachers allowing you to watch the performance but without the refreshments.

gineer, A. V. Ferry of Ord, in charge of the irrigation project, Mrs. B. M. Hardenbrook of Ord, widow of the late B. M. Hardenbrook of the organization, R. W. # Pheasant Hunters Had Good Sport

Wearily home at sunset after slogging through muddy cornfields all day goes this pheasant hunter, but his success is proved by the feathers that adorn his hat and the birds he carries in his hand. Not every hunter who chased the elusive long-tail in Valley county Sunday was so fortunate.

As in all the rest of the counties in Nebraska, trusty shotguns were blasting away at full speed Sunday morning in Valley county as the 1937 ten-day pheasant season opened.

Taken as a whole, reports from Valley county hunters were very favorable. The number of pheasants available was far above the number that hunters had guessed were present before the season opened.

Plenty of hunters reported that they shot their limit the opening day of the season. However, it is expected that by the latter part of this week the feathered creatures will be more than a little difficult to find.

The ten-day season will come to a close at 7 p. m. on Tuesday, Oct. 26. In a report early this week, Frank B. O'Connell, chief state conservation officer, said that pheasants are scarce in Pierce, Wayne, Madison, Stanton, Howard, Cuming and Boone counties because of adverse weather conditions.

It has been estimated that about 50,000 sportsmen are doing at least two or three days shooting during the season. Some of the best shooting in the state will probably be found in western country along the Platte and Republican rivers.

According to an early survey the birds are expected to be thickest in the following counties: Banner, Chase, Cheyenne, Dawes, Dawson, Deuel, Dundy, Garden, Hitchcock, Keith, Kimball, Lincoln, Logan, Morrill, Red Willow, Scottsbluff, Sheridan and Sioux.

Hunters are allowed a daily and possession bag limit of five birds, one of which can be hens. Shooting hours are from 6 a. m. to 7 p. m. daily. The state conservation commission's entire force of 17 regular and 12 special deputies are scattered throughout Nebraska enforcing state regulations in regard to shooting of pheasants.

Battling San Francisco Gasoline Fire

An entire city block was destroyed by these roaring flames when a fire which started in a Standard Oil chute at San Francisco licked its way over to an adjacent oil company, before firemen could get it under control. Damage was estimated at more than half a million dollars. More than 700,000 gallons of gasoline were burned.

Ready for the Show to Begin

Trick straw hat perched on his head and thousands of freckles adorning his face, this city lad from the Bronx was one of the most interested of spectators as he waited for the pig-judging contest to begin at the Mineola, N. Y., county fair. He doesn't get much chance to see such sights in the city.

this, Wednesday, afternoon by the ladies' class of the Ord Christian church. They are meeting with Mrs. Bud Lashmet.

Accident Prevention and First Aid.

One phase of the Red Cross work receiving attention by the Valley county chapter is the prevention of accidents, thus reducing injuries and loss of life in the home, on the farm, at school and on the highways. Forty-nine percent of school-child accidents happen in the home or at school, and too often it is found that they could have been prevented. The division of farm and home accident prevention, of which Mr. Verne Weller is chairman, has attempted to call the attention of school teachers to possibilities of unnecessary accidents and has tried to contact the homes through the school children in order that the parents may check upon the hazards about the home.

First aid is an important part of accident prevention, for too often the wrong kind of assistance given after injuries only causes greater injury. Those of the county's rural school teachers who took the first aid course offered by the Red Cross last winter are qualified instructors of classes of juniors who can have a first aid course of their own. Adults who have this information in first aid bring added protection to their families.

The Red Cross in the U. S. now maintains 1,778 first aid stations along our highways for the prevention of permanent injuries and deaths from accidents. All this is vital protection to each community and worthy investment of the Red Cross dollars.

Brief Bits of News

—Paul Mortensen of Cotesfield came in Tuesday to add his name to the Quiz list for a year. Mr. Mortensen owns a farm north of Elyria and is much interested in the old time stories that John Ward is dishing up now and then.

—Clyde Kelley of north of Scotia saw a copy of the Quiz the other day, liked it and came in while attending to business matters in Ord Tuesday and added his name to the list for the next year. Mr. Kelley says he finds Ord a dandy trading point.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Mason are leaving this week for Ft. Morgan, Colo., where he will be employed by a firm he has done mason work for in the past. He is one of the best in his line, and commands good wages.

—Wm. Jorgensen and daughter Caroline from Minden came up and are spending a few days with his mother, Mrs. Hannah Jorgensen, who has been very ill but is improving some at present.

—Dr. and Mrs. Andrews and Charles Lambert, all of Lincoln, came up Saturday and spent a couple of days as guests of the Agaards. Dr. Andrews has come to Ord during pheasant season every year since it started, and usually gets his limit. Saturday all three got their limit, as Mrs. Andrews is an enthusiastic sports-woman. They returned to Lincoln Sunday evening.

—Dr. F. A. Barta and daughter, Miss Zola Barta, drove to Lincoln Saturday and attended the Oklahoma-Nebraska game, also visiting their son and brother, Dean, who is a pre-medical student at University of Nebraska. They returned home Saturday evening.

—Dr. Chauncey Hager left Monday for Denver where he will practice medicine in future. He had been visiting his mother, Mrs. C. A. Hager. Since his graduation from medical college and internship in a New York City hospital, Dr. Hager has been associated with the Leahey Clinic in Boston.

—A pot of chrysanthemums in the window of the Beranek Drug store is attracting a lot of attention. It belongs to Mrs. E. C. James and was placed in the window Saturday. There are hundreds of blossoms on the plant, and it attracts the attention of every passerby.

—The state meeting of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs opened Tuesday at Kearney. Miss May McCune was the delegate of the Ord Rebekahs, and she and Mrs. Ben Janssen drove down in the Janssen car.

—Verne Anderson was a bus passenger to Burwell Tuesday evening, going up for a visit with the family and other relatives. He is now braking on the Union Pacific on a run from Grand Island to North Platte, and has been on the job steadily since July.

—Franklin Meier, 1934 All American center on the University of Nebraska football team, was a guest at the A. W. Tunnell home Tuesday evening. Mr. Meier is now employed as an engineer on the irrigation project.

—Mrs. Sam Matthews and two daughters left Saturday morning for their home in Lift, Colo. They had been spending some time with relatives here and were accompanied home by Mrs. Ed. Anderson.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Tyrell of Tenino, Wash., arrived in Ord Sunday evening for a visit with the Coverts, whom they once knew in Washington. They left Monday afternoon, going to Sioux City and then to Missouri, on a sight-seeing trip.

—Mr. and Mrs. John L. W. Nelson and son Freddie of Omaha stopped briefly in Ord Wednesday morning enroute to Velma, Neb., where they planned to spend a few days visiting his sister, Mrs. Roy Sanders, Mr. Sanders and their son Bobbie. They will come back by way of Ord Saturday.

—Since returning from a hospital in Omaha last week Mrs. E. C. Leggett has been cared for in the H. D. Leggett home. She is recovering rapidly from her recent operation and Sunday hopes to be able to go to her own home.

—W. W. (Pike) Hill arrived from Basin, Wyo., Thursday evening and is visiting relatives and friends.

—Mrs. George E. Reynolds and son were in Ord over the week end visiting Mr. Reynolds, the new assistant manager at the Golden Rule store. They live at Orleans, Neb.

—Syl Furtak is completing several neon signs for business firms, and Tuesday evening he had a display of three of them lit up in his window, giving a very unusual effect.

—The Quiz acknowledges receipt of a nice letter from Anna Sorensen Alder of Long Beach, Calif., inclosing a payment on the paper.

—Kermit Kuebler of Amherst, Neb., has been in Ord for the past ten days visiting his brother Lawrence at the Lepco store and taking in the sights. He says he likes Ord.

—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sershen drove down to Grand Island Friday afternoon to meet her daughter, Marie Hall, who was coming to visit and help the Sersshens pack preparatory to leaving for California the last of this month.

—Frank Kruml of the Ord Assistance office went down to Grand Island the first of the week to be in attendance at the Nebraska Conference for Social Work. The chief speaker at the meeting Tuesday was Charles E. Hendry, chairman of the National Association for the Study of Group Work. Horton Talley, dean of the liberal arts college of Nebraska Wesleyan, was speaker at a noonday luncheon, while motion pictures were shown Monday afternoon by Harry D. Elmore, state director of commodity distribution.

—While in Tuesday paying up his Quiz subscription and the subscription for his daughter Ella who is in Omaha, James Rybin told us that two of his sons were now in California and that another son still at home was talking of going out as soon as the fall work is done up. James jr., has been out there for some months and gets this paper regularly.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bert Stevens, who had been in Ord visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Sershen, started for their home at Iroquois, S. D., early Monday morning. At the Dugosh corner near Elyria Robert Jablonski, who was coming down the highway toward Ord, stopped his car to pick up a passenger. When the passenger got in Jablonski turned east across the path of the approaching Stevens car. Stevens was unable to avoid a collision and both cars were somewhat damaged, but none of the occupants badly hurt. The Stevens car was brought back to Ord where necessary repairs were made and they started for home again Wednesday morning.

—Ed Anderson left Wednesday noon for Peetz, Colo., where he has employment with the Kiewit construction company. Vernon Andersen accompanied him as far as North Platte to attend the firemen's convention.

Your Subscription is Out.
Look on the upper left hand corner of your paper where your name is always stamped and see what the date there says. If there is no date then you are not yet in arrears. If there is you may be. All who are in arrears are plainly marked when they are paid to. If you are very much in arrears you may not get another paper. We have been stopping a lot of them. Not because we want to. We do hate to do it. But most anyone can help us out a dollar at least if they are in arrears. If they can't probably they couldn't pay it when it gets bigger.

TYPEWRITER CARBON—We can sell it to you by the box or by the sheet, or as many sheets as you want. The Quiz. 52-1f

No Jews in Wahoo.

A transient walked into the front office the other day and announced, "I do business only with Jews—are there any in Wahoo?" We hurriedly consulted the telephone directory and our city circulation list and had to admit that we could not help him any. Never thought of it before, but there isn't a Jew in town. Plenty of good old Swede and Bohemian stock, but this suggestion did not appeal to the itinerant salesman. So he headed for Fremont, which we understand is real Bethlehem. We hope he found his promised land.—Wahoo Democrat

Twins at Dist. 30

Another pair of twins were discovered by Quiz representatives on their visits to Valley county rural schools last week. These two boys, twins, are Kenneth and Keith Kuklish.

PERSONALS

—The Jay Aubles went to Omaha Sunday, returning Monday. They went down to pay a visit to their daughters Leota and Joy, who are nurses in Methodist hospital.

—Dr. and Mrs. George A. Parkins received word from their daughter Mary, Mrs. Merle J. Olson of Long Beach, Calif., that she and Mr. Olson are the parents of a fine daughter born Oct. 18.

—Dr. G. R. Garo and family enjoyed a visit Sunday from a brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Easton and their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Harlan Easton of Havelock.

—Ernest Kirby dropped in Monday morning to subscribe for the Quiz and said it was the first time he had taken it. It was raining and he said the subsoil was going to get soaked up this fall so we would be sure of a crop in 1938.

—Mrs. Henry Sherbarth of northwest of Burwell was in Ord Wednesday visiting relatives here. She went back to Burwell on the evening bus.

—We had a pleasant visit with Mrs. John Boyce Saturday when she dropped in to renew their Quiz. She said they could hardly get along without the paper after having it for many years.

—Frank L. Valasek is a new Quiz subscriber, taking the paper for the first time. He says it has always been in the parental home and he expects to be a long time subscriber.

—Raymond Stein, Frank McClellan and a couple of other men from Fremont and Supt. Wallace Willis of the North Loup schools called on the Daryl Hardenbrooks Sunday, and went pheasant hunting. The five men got a total of 19 birds, which were very evenly distributed, as none got the limit.

—In writing this week to renew their Quiz subscription for another year the T. E. Plakus family of R. 6, Watertown, S. D., indicate that they always look forward to the coming of their former home town paper. We have numbered the Plakus family in the Quiz family for many years.

Elm Creek News

SPECIALLY BREWED FOR WINTER USE

These fall days call for a hearty beer that warms you. Storz Winterbru is made by Storz own special brewing process. The formula and method of brewing are different from those used in "summer" beers and Winterbru is "Slow Aged" weeks longer than ordinary winter beers.

Winterbru is an exceptionally fine beer, smooth and delicious to the taste and has that warmth and sparkle that you will really like. Order a case of cans or bottles for your home and when you stop at a tavern or cafe ... say "Give me Storz Winterbru."

Cut Flowers. We telegraph Cut Flowers anywhere, any time. Noll Seed Co.

Unavoidable Accident. Clay county will hold the belt for unusual accidents for a while. Archie Krutzfeld, a Fairfield boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Krutzfeld of that place, attempted to pass one of the state's large magnet trucks while on his way to school one day last week.

Wrong John W. Davls. A newsman called John W. Davls and asked "Are you the father of John William Davls?" "You bet I am," was the reply. "We've just heard that your son was judged the best baby at the state fair," answered the newsman. "Well," said the father, "we knew he was a swell baby, but we didn't know he'd get famous so soon—he was born only half an hour ago." Search turned up the real winner, John William Davls, 3, son of John J. Davls.—Wayne Herald.

Glutton for Punishment. Lillian Morder of Springfield, Mass., seven times married although she is only 26, faced a jail term for polygamy Thursday because some fingerprints on a check she wrote identified her as the woman who escaped in April from a Farmington reformatory where she was sentenced for marrying four men in two months. The detective said the girl met and married her seventh husband a few hours after her escape from the institution.—News Dispatch.

Crop of Cryberles. The Chief has an oversized onion brought in last Saturday by Ed Neth of Westerville. It weighs 2 1/2 pounds and was raised by his son Sherman, who resides in the irrigated section near Nampa, Ida. Sherman states that he is now engaged in putting thirty cars of the onions in storage.—Custer County Chief.

Taylor Department

For the first time in six years the Taylor school is having an annual, printed by the Scholastic Publishers at Hastings. It is a midget annual consisting of about 32 pages. The staff includes Anna Parkins, editor-in-chief; Isla Roplogie, class editor; Maxine Corrick, organization editor; Melvin Dunbar, sports editor; Robert Wiley, assisted by Maurice Corrick, business manager. The teachers in charge are Supt. Ward, Miss Davis and Miss Bliss.

Monday October 13 each class, including the 7th and 8th grades put on a stunt, including the idea for an annual. They selected the name from the stunt given by the 7th and 8th grades being "The Eclipse". The sales campaign, beginning Monday will continue until October 26.

A surprise birthday party was given for Lloyd Fleming Tuesday evening, October 12, his 18th birthday. The guests included the senior class and their sponsor, Miss Davis and Supt. Ward, Miss Bliss, Miss Cruzan, Coach George and Mr. and Mrs. Milander, besides a few other friends and relatives. The evening was spent playing cards, after which lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Barton motored to Rock county Sunday to visit Mrs. Barton's sister, Mrs. Maggie Baine and family.

More than 100 girls attended the "Play Day" at the Taylor high school Tuesday, October 12.

The Ladies Aid met at the Congregational church basement Thursday afternoon, Oct. 14. Six members were present. They pieced a quilt and enjoyed a lunch.

The junior class had a party Thursday evening, Oct. 14. They hiked a couple of miles south of town. The evening was spent playing games around a campfire after which they enjoyed a welner roast. Miss Bliss is their sponsor. A farewell party was given for Pete Schlafers' Thursday night. They left Sunday for their new home in Minnesota just five miles from Wisconsin.

The Boy Scouts had their meeting Tuesday night this week because their master, Rev. Patterson is going away. The Taylor football team played at North Loup Friday afternoon, October 15. Taylor won 20 to 0. The fullback, Bill Fleming, was knocked out and was unconscious for some time but was able to continue practice Monday. Most of the substitutes got a chance to play. October 22 they will play Comstock here.

A large crowd attended the 4-H moving picture given at the high school auditorium Monday evening, Oct. 1. Supt. John Ward went to the Kearney and Wayne football game at Kearney Friday. The score was 7 to 7.

Vernon Hyatt and Dale Fahey who attend college at Kearney spent the week end with relatives and friends around Taylor.

Lewis Sears visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Sears over the week end. Lewis is an enrollee of the CCC camp at Halsey.

Mrs. Marla C. Smith motored to Hastings Friday to consult her doctor. The League of Christian Endeavor meets every Wednesday evening. The new officers are as follows: Kenneth Fleming, president; Gyla Anderson, vice president; Lena Harbel, secretary and treasurer.

Erwin Ferguson went to Iowa one day last week where he planned to find work.

Elmer Coleman took the following boys to Halsey Tuesday where they are enlisted in the CCC camp, Arthur Wellington, Lyle Sharp, Wayne Locker and a Rittenhouse boy.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiplin of Adams visited this week with Mrs. Kiplin's sister, Mrs. A. F. Alder and Mr. Alder and other relatives.

The Ladies Circle met in the Evangelical church basement last Thursday afternoon. The afternoon was spent quilting for Mrs. Myrtle Barton. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses.

Kent Korner Klub met at Mrs. Mattie Moore's with Mrs. Mable Wirsig as co-hostess Wednesday, Oct. 13. Twenty members and five visitors were present. The afternoon was spent quilting and they had a project lesson on beauty culture, presented by Mrs. Vera Kraus and Mable Shrader. Several ladies were "made up" for demonstration. The next meeting will be at Mrs. Chris Brockman's November 10 with Orpha Brockman as assistant hostess.

Do You Have a Clear Title To Your Home? Have you had the title to your HOME, or your FARMS, checked over recently? Just this week we have had three abstracts showing old unreleased mortgages. Sometimes you fail to have a release filed for record and place it with other papers; sometimes these papers become misplaced and lost; sometimes it costs considerable money to secure new papers; and sometimes it is impossible to secure new papers and it is necessary to quiet title through the courts. It is a good plan to have your abstract brought down to date and title checked periodically. It is economy to give these matters attention now. THE CAPRON AGENCY, Bonded Abstractors, E. S. Murray, Mgr. 29-21

Quiz Visits Valley County Rural Schools

District 26 has been known for a long period of years as the "Fair-play" schoolhouse. ### North Loup News

Jean Sample returned from Omaha on the motor Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Bloomenkamp was a bus passenger to Lincoln Friday afternoon.

Relatives here have received invitations to the wedding of Frank Cruzan, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cruzan and Miss Ruth Allen, which will take place Oct. 20, at 8:00 p. m., in the home of the bride's uncle, Dr. Morton Davis at Bridgeton, N. J.

Rev. A. J. Adams returned Wednesday morning on the bus from a two weeks' evangelistic campaign held in Radipoo, Mont. He is planning on holding a series of meetings in his own church in Mira Valley soon.

The Roy Larkin family left Saturday morning on the motor for Oregon where they have prospects of work that will furnish them a living. The pupils in Mrs. Gudgel's, Miss Rood's and Miss Kosch's rooms presented the Larkin children in their rooms with a fruit shower Friday afternoon.

Relatives of Mrs. Frances Maxson gave her a surprise when they took their dinner and spent the day in getting her wood pile sawed and chopped ready for use. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Fuller.

Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock went to Lincoln Tuesday to keep house for her son Edwin and his two daughters while his wife is in Iowa at the home of her parents.

Bert Sayre returned Friday from Nortonville, Kas., where he had spent several days with his sister, Mrs. Chas. Hurley who is not very well. While in Denver recently at the home of a daughter, Mrs. Hurley suffered a stroke and for a time it was thought she would not recover. She was able to be taken home and Mr. Sayre found her in much better health than he had expected.

At a reception for the teachers held in the auditorium of the school house and attended by a good number of patrons Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner was elected president of the P. T. A. for the year, Mrs. A. Hutchins, vice president, Dorothy Campbell, secretary and W. W. Willis treasurer. Mrs. Zanger will have charge of the programs and Mrs. A. L. Sins the refreshments. During the social hour games in charge of Mrs. Dorothy Knapp were enjoyed and the wives of members of the school board served refreshments.

Mrs. Josephine Abney arrived in North Loup Tuesday from Rockwell City, Ia., where she has been keeping house for her sister for some time. She will keep house for Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon while Mrs. Redlon works in the Farmers store.

The building between Bartlett's cafe and Coplen's barber shop has been papered and made ready for the opening of a new beauty shop which Miss Pearl Phillips of Scotia will operate. Miss Phillips went to Omaha this week end to buy her fixtures and hopes to be ready for business by the last of the week.

North Loup lost their football game to Taylor by a score of 19-0 Friday. The high school band furnished several pieces of music, marched and formed lines that spelled Taylor and North Loup.

Cynthia Haddox spent several days this week with Mrs. Elizabeth Harding.

Mr. Swanson the relief agent at the depot had his wife and two small sons as his guests over the week end.

Mrs. W. J. Hemphill and Mrs. J. A. Barber accompanied Frank Kruml to the 40th Nebraska conference for social work held in Grand Island at the Yancey Hotel Sunday. The theme for the conference was "Community Planning for Social Welfare." Of particular interest to Mrs. Hemphill and Mrs. Barber was an address given Sunday night by Father Flanagan of Omaha. The meeting continued Monday and Tuesday but the ladies were unable to attend. Mrs. Dena Lewis was among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Severance are the parents of a little daughter, Kathrine Arlouine, born Sunday morning. Merle Davis is caring for mother and baby. Denzil Stewart went to Omaha Saturday night and returned Sunday night.

North Loup received 1.05 inches of rain Friday and Saturday.

Calf Ate Greenbacks. From Dallas Center comes a Bob Ripley story of the first water. Claude Shields, farmer living a short distance north of that place, did a fast job of butchering a favorite calf when he discovered the animal had eaten $60.00 in currency. The billfold dropped from Shields' pocket in the pasture, and when he recovered it, the money was missing. Shields found the bills, although they were badly chewed he was able to find the serial numbers of all but two dollars.—Hamburg Reporter.

Saturday Sale
at the Sale Ring in Ord
OCTOBER 23rd
Sale Starts at 1:00 O'clock

The pig market was lower last week due to the nice rain keeping many of the buyers at home, and the general hog market. However at present price of feeds they are still bringing good money. The cattle market was active, all classes selling well. We have a very good outlet for steers of all weights and light replacement cattle from 250 pounds up, of good quality.

In next Saturday's Sale:
150 CATTLE, INCLUDING:
5 good milk cows consigned by one man.
1 Hostein, just fresh giving 4 gallons to a milking.
3 Durham and 1 Holstein that have been giving milk this summer.
4 yearling heifers.
15 head of cornfed steers and heifers that were on a full feed of ear corn for the last 45 days.
15 stock cows.
Balance will be yearling steers, light weight cattle, canner cows and bulls.
15 light weight calves.

ORD LIVESTOCK M.A.R.K.E.T

Ord Incorporated A Village July 23, 1881

Along with the celebration of Ord Day Monday evening perhaps the most important question referred to the time the name was first used in connection with the town, or village, as it was at first. The name was no doubt used to designate the place in the middle seventies, but there was no municipal organization, the people being under county organization much the same as Elyria was before they incorporated not so long ago.

Ord was incorporated as a village June 23, 1881, according to the written records in the city clerk's office. No doubt there was an election held for that purpose, but the election does not appear in the minute book, as the book was started with the incorporation of the village. At that election no doubt the trustees, clerk and treasurer were duly elected, for we find their holding office at the first recorded meeting of the trustees.

The first meeting of trustees was held at Westover's Law Office in the village of Ord, July 6, 1881. Trustees present were H. G. Rogers, B. C. White, H. W. Nelson and S. S. Haskell. Milford (initials not given) was absent. H. G. Rogers was chosen chairman, and upon motion Herman Westover was duly appointed village clerk, and W. E. Freeman treasurer of said village. The meeting then adjourned to meet July 25.

The July 25 meeting was adjourned until Oct. 6, at which time E. M. Coffin was appointed attorney for Ord. By motion the reading of ordinances at three separate meetings was dispensed with and the reading all done at one meeting. Nov. 10 was the first meeting at which ordinances were passed. At that meeting five were passed as follows:

An ordinance to provide for stated meetings of the board; An ordinance to prevent the escape and spreading of fire in the village of Ord; An ordinance to provide for the licensing of hawkers and peddlers; An ordinance to provide for the license of dogs and an ordinance to provide for the licensing of sellers of liquors.

Dec. 1 the clerk was instructed to purchase the necessary books, stationery and a seal at the expense of the village of Ord. Jan. 5, 1882, an ordinance was passed to regulate the use of and to license billiard, pool and bagatelle tables in the village of Ord. There was no quorum Febr. 2, but March 2 B. C. White was chosen chairman.

March 15 Milford was chairman pro tem. The clerk was instructed to give notice of a village election April 4, 1882. Z. H. Pales, S. S. Haskell and G. T. Winters were chosen as judges of election, and J. E. Axtel and D. J. Martz clerks of election. They also passed an ordinance to provide for the office of village marshal and define his duties and powers. Burney Wear was chosen first marshal. It was voted to have the ordinances printed in the Valley County Journal. (Capron and Wolfe, Printers).

March 20 an ordinance was passed to provide for the manner of holding special elections and the holding of same. The salary of the treasurer, clerk and attorney was also provided for by ordinance. March 31 the appointment of judges and clerks of election as given above was confirmed.

April 6 the results of the election April 4 were given as follows: trustees, B. C. White, H. A. Walker, H. W. Nelson, J. B. Gillespie and S. S. Haskell; clerk, Herman Westover; treasurer, H. G. Rogers; attorney, E. M. Coffin. The first bills were allowed at this meeting, being Herman Westover's salary for 9 months, $56.50, and E. M. Coffin's salary for 6 months, $37.50. At the same meeting a petition asking for the repeal of the liquor ordinance was tabled.

April 20 the treasurer's bond was fixed at $1000.00 and that of the clerk, attorney and marshal at $200.00 each. June 3 an ordinance permitting druggists to sell liquor for medical, mechanical and chemical purposes was passed, and the following estimate of expenses for the ensuing year was presented for the board's approval.

Books and Stationery.....$100.00
Officers Salary..... 400.00
Printing..... 75.00
Fuel and lights..... 25.00
Elections..... 30.00
Total.....$630.00

Thus ends the official records of the first year of Ord's career as a village. It shows the small beginning from which grew the city of Ord. It also shows that the early day Ordites had to contend with the same troubles we do today, as shown by the ordinances governing dogs, peddlers, liquor and pool halls. But the modern problems of sewers, telephones, electric gas, and auto speeds did not trouble them. Possibly they were better off than we are today.

Fred Meyer Sale.
Next week we will have a full list of the Fred Meyer offering. His bills are out; his offering is a large one with plenty of extra good milk cows and a world of other farm merchandise that should sell high. Watch the Quiz next week for his offering.

Ducks! Ducks! Ducks!
Tuesday morning Adam Dubas, D. E. Troyer, and Charles LeMaster made up a duck hunting threesome which returned to Ord after an hour's shooting with a total of 13 ducks. Although teal are quite plentiful this season, a generous share of the ducks shot Tuesday morning were large mallards.

Coats Sale Was a Flop.
The Ernest Coats sale was not a success, not from lack of a crowd, for there was a large crowd from outside the county, but they came expecting to steal a lot of the best purebred stock in the world because of the drought in this county. Only a small part of the offering was sold and the prices were so terrible that Mr. Coats called the sale off. The sale was not well patronized by Valley county people because they knew of the high prices the Coats stock brought in former sales and felt that they could not pay that kind of prices and never dreamed of its going for lower prices than formerly.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

—Mrs. LeRoy Anderson was down from Burwell Thursday.

—Mrs. E. C. Weller came down with her husband from Atkinson Wednesday and visited with Mrs. Bess Petty while her husband was crying the big Coats Jersey sale.

—Mrs. Robert Nay is spending this week visiting at the home of her son George in the country. Later she expects to go to California to spend the winter.

—Mrs. Glen (Happy) Holloway left Tuesday morning to visit her folks, the Negleys, in Parkdale, Ore. She accompanied a relative, James Whiting.

—Mrs. Martha Gorny was well satisfied with her sale and wishes to thank her many friends and neighbors for helping her prepare for it.

—Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood and son Wayne were down from Burwell Friday evening for dinner at the Gould Flagg home. Later they all attended the Ord-Burwell game.

—Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing and her father, G. E. Emery drove up to Atkinson Sunday and spent the day visiting with the E. C. Wellers.

—Seth Mason was bitten on the hand by a black widow spider one day the past week. He was sick for a day or two, and the place pained him greatly, but he is all right now.

—Howard Huff took Mrs. Huff to Grand Island Friday afternoon. Mrs. Huff left from that place by train to spend a month in Chicago with her sister, Bessie Paulsen, a registered nurse in a hospital there.

—Miss Ruth Milford came up from Omaha over the week end to visit her mother, Mrs. James Milford. Saturday she brought her mother down town, it being the first time she had been down town since she broke her arm. The arm is still in a sling, but is not giving her much trouble.

—Edmund Gorny returned last Thursday to his duties at Camp Doran. Edmund is the company's blacksmith now and likes the work fine. His mother, Mrs. Martha Gorny, and Mrs. J. Osadowski and Joe Proskocil, jr., took him to Broken Bow to take a train to Camp Doran at Custer, S. D.

—While C. J. Mortensen and Ralph Misko are in Boston, Mass., attending a convention of the American Bankers association, Mrs. Mortensen spent some time in Ida Grove, Ia., with her friend, Mrs. E. W. Stipp, the former Mrs. Ella Weekes of Ord.

—Last Wednesday Mrs. E. C. Leggett returned from Omaha where she had a major operation a couple of weeks previously. She was accompanied to Ord by her mother, Mrs. H. J. Ellis, of Alliance. Thursday Mr. Ellis drove to Ord and the next day he and Mrs. Ellis left for their home, planning to visit another daughter, Mrs. C. W. Wilcox, in Ansley enroute.

—Writing the Quiz and enclosing $5.00 to apply on her subscription, Jessie Ferguson of Washington, D. C. states that she still wants to take the Quiz. There are many new names that are not familiar to her, but there are still a number of the old ones whom she recalls, and the paper keeps her acquainted with them. She just returned from a six weeks trip through the west, and cannot understand why anyone would want to go abroad when there are so many lovely places here in America.

—Lieut. and Mrs. Velmer McGinnis and children Wayne and Sonia arrived in Ord Thursday for a two weeks' visit with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis. They came here from Camp Perry, Ohio, vacationing along the way, and will leave on the 27th for New York. Velmer is an army veterinarian, with the rank of first lieutenant. Present orders call for a move to Panama in March.

—From Dr. C. W. Weekes, who has been suffering with sleeping sickness in a hospital at Nebraska City, comes word that he was sufficiently recovered last week to leave the hospital, though still very weak. Dr. Weekes has gone to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Oliver, at Onawa, Ia., to spend several days.

—Writing from St. John, N. D., William Stanton sends his renewal for the Quiz and states that North Dakota, with the exception of the extreme west part, was blessed with a fine crop this year. He is sorry to hear that Valley county is again in the drought area. The crop there consists of small grain of all kinds and also a good potato crop. In places they are raising corn, and some report from 50 to 70 bushels per acre, which is not bad for corn anywhere. They were also favored with a wonderful wild fruit crop. They had lots of rain all summer and it is still raining. A few days ago when the radio reported a temperature of 85 at Lincoln, it was snowing to beat heck up there.

—Margaret Lewis is down from Burwell and is spending a few days visiting her sister Mrs. John Lemmond and husband.

—The Gould Flagg went to Lincoln Saturday to spend Saturday and Sunday visiting her people, the Dr. Hostetter family at Douglas.

—Truman Freeland was the first of the old settlers to show up for Ord Day, coming down from Burwell on the morning bus.

—Roy Bailey, who is first vice president of the Water Conservation Congress, is going to Alma Friday to attend a meeting of that body.

—The ladies of the Christian church held a rummage sale and sold doughnuts in the Hawkins building Saturday, and made a nice sum for the church. They were very well pleased with results.

—Mrs. Arlos Thompson with Jack Janssen as chauffeur, went down to Grand Island Friday to bring Miss Myrtle Milligan up to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Milligan. She returned to her school work Sunday.

—Mrs. Winifred L. Bailey, who was in Ord visiting the Gould Flagg, and also visiting friends in Burwell, has been visiting with friends in California for the past month, and is now permanently located at Rosslyn Hotel, Los Angeles.

—Clyde Baker went to North Loup Thursday to be on hand to write drivers' licenses for those who took the physical examination under Examiner A. W. Pierce and assistant, Tom (Buck) Williams. A representative of the treasurer's office will be at North Loup and Arcadia on the same days that the examiner is there during October.

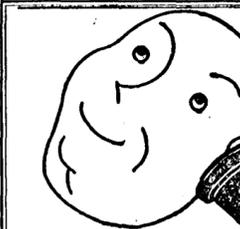

—The Quiz acknowledges a letter of appreciation from the American Legion Auxiliary for the publicity given their Poppy Day activities last spring. The auxiliary was given the prize for the best poppy day publicity in the state at the department convention at Scottsbluff recently.

—Sargent Leader—Charles Blaly of Ord came to Comstock to take charge of the Independent Produce company's station recently purchased from George Stone by Frank C. Baker of Burwell. Mr. Blaly has a family consisting of a wife and two small children, Yvonne Margaret and Robert Charles. They have moved into the house one block north of the Koupal and Barstow Lumber office.

—A synodical meeting of the Presbyterian churches was held at Grand Island Thursday. Mrs. Gould Flagg and Mrs. S. A. Woodruff, jr., each took a carload of ladies to the meeting. Those who went were Mrs. John L. Andersen, Mrs. M. Biemond, Mrs. D. C. Williamson, Mrs. Will Ollis, Mrs. James Ollis and Mrs. C. C. Dale. Mrs. Charles Goodhand had charge of the devotional services for all three days, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and so went down Wednesday morning and remained through the entire meeting.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert E. Mason enjoyed a visit from a brother-in-law and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Watson of Waterloo, Ia., who came Sunday morning and left Monday morning. They brought some relatives that had been visiting them back to Armour, S. D., and then drove up to see the Masons. Herbert says that they recently had electric lights installed, not caring to take any chances with kerosene lamps through the winter.

—From Dr. C. W. Weekes, who has been suffering with sleeping sickness in a hospital at Nebraska City, comes word that he was sufficiently recovered last week to leave the hospital, though still very weak. Dr. Weekes has gone to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Robert Oliver, at Onawa, Ia., to spend several days.

MISUSING A GOOD NAME.

A group of young ladies from a town nearly one hundred miles from Ord were here Thursday selling dance tickets to an Armistice Day dance that is to be put on there under the auspices of the local American Legion post.

The whole idea is wrong in several different ways. In the first place, the drawing is a lottery, and contrary to law.

But the crowning offense is expecting outsiders to pay for some kind of a program the Legion is putting on a hundred miles away.

In so far as is possible, the Ord American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary stand on their own feet.

The world admires any organization, religious, social, fraternal or political, that builds for itself a solid foundation, and then stands upon it.

THE FEDERAL GAME REFUGE.

Recently the ranch property of D.A. Wallace on the Calamus some 16 miles northwest of Burwell was changed into a game refuge for migratory fowl.

But with the coming of dry years a problem has presented itself. The drying up of the lakes made concealment difficult, and the killing of the birds was an easy matter.

It is going to be the duty of the road patrolmen to see that there are no violations of the automobile and driving laws.

sands, and remain until the last possible moment. They soon learn where they are safe, and we may expect to see more birds taking the central route from now on.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS. The headlines say that France has agreed to delay move in the Spanish War.

Italy reports that the Ethiopians are killing troops. Wonder who started this thing in the first place. Nobody ever heard of Italian troops killing Ethiopians, did they?

The story is going the rounds that some guy, possibly from the Ord postoffice, has figured out a plan to save the government a lot of money.

By the time this is read the guns will be booming in the haunts of the Chinese pheasant, and here is hoping against hope that the hunters get the value of the shells they shoot.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding, I will state again, as I have stated before, that this is my personal column, and it does not necessarily voice the policy of the Quiz.

I was personally opposed to the proposed road patrol when it was proposed a few years ago for two reasons. One reason why I was opposed to it was the added expense.

The roads of the state are all going to be patrolled. The main roads more of course, but no one, driving down the road, even an obscure side road, will know just when he will meet a state patrolman.

Expect New Arguments Over Cotton Grants When Congress Meets Again

WASHINGTON. - When Congress convenes there will be a new fight between northern and southern groups.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace pointed out in his speech before cotton farmers at Memphis recently that the South could not expect continuing Treasury grants to subsidize cotton.

Under the old AAA processing taxes financed the cotton program for two and a half years, until the Supreme Court nullified the tax and gave what had been collected back to the processors.

This method of financing the cotton program is widely believed to be constitutional. When the Hoosac Mills case was brought before the Supreme Court in 1936 processing taxes were outlawed.

THIS year's cotton crop, estimated at 17,500,000 bales, will be the second largest in history. From a high of 14 cents last winter, the price of cotton has dropped to eight cents a pound, lower than it has been since 1933 when it sold for five cents.

Out of the $500,000,000 appropriation for the new farm program, some $130,000,000 will be spent to subsidize cotton, contingent upon new legislation and farmer cooperation.

filled, but which he says will be a monster when it is full. The trip was uneventful until they struck Battle Mountain, Nevada. Crossing a big viaduct over the railroad tracks there a big fruit truck crowded them up on the railing by passing and cutting in ahead, but luckily they fell back on the bridge instead of going over, with a damaged fender and smashed hub cap.

Due to an alarming infestation of black widow spiders, School Dist. 33 in Merrick county south of Fullerton was closed for several days last week, while fumigation was in progress. A large number of spiders were found in the school house and other buildings. - Fullerton Journal.

The Quest for Truth

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Oct. 24 Text: Titus 3:1-11.

THE letter from Paul to Titus strikes as a very vital lesson into the problems facing a large number of Christians throughout the world today.

Suppose there is a conflict between this subjection and obedience and the readiness unto every good work.

Stalin, Hitler, and Mussolini are "rulers." They represent authority and they demand obedience. Does what Paul is asserting here demand that Christians must, as a matter of right, give obedience to such rulers, or is there a higher law of right affecting a man's relation to rulers and the state?

FORTUNATELY, the New Testament itself answers these questions, and reminds us that Paul's injunctions to obey rulers is to be taken subject to considerations of conscience and reason.

There ought to be no mistake about this. Everyone who teaches this lesson in a Christian church ought to avoid very clearly the attitude that has too often been taken of approving of rule and authority, regardless of its justice and its right.

T. SORENSEN WRITES. Thorvald Sorensen, who with Mrs. Sorensen left Ord some three or four weeks ago by car for California, writes from Gerber to tell of his trip west.

The peaceful quest of truth represents far more truly the part of the Christian.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

10 Years Ago This Week.

Some kind of a convulsion of nature occurred in the night. Wind-blown and stove lids were rattled and chimneys in many houses in Ord moved enough to crack the plaster around them. It was never determined whether it was a meteor or a landslide that caused the disturbance.

The Loup Valley editors were to hold their meeting in Ord Oct. 23. H. D. Leggett was state president and Ole Buck, since deceased, was state secretary.

Harold Stewart was unconscious for ten hours after being brushed off a runaway horse by the limb of a tree.

The funeral of Harvey Friend was held from the Ord Methodist church.

Albert McMinden shipped out a train load of horses and mules and the market in Grand Island. There were 20 horses and 112 mules in the shipment.

James Aagaard made a hit with his singing at Lincoln. While there he was invited to sing at a number of churches and social functions.

Dr. C. W. Weekes returned home from taking special work in Chicago.

St. Paul defeated Ord on the Ord gridiron by the score of 6 to 0. A long pass by Davis to Captain Olsen, who scored on the play.

Mrs. Katherine Penas passed away at the home of her daughter Mrs. Frank Sevenker, at the age of 87 years.

J. C. Rogers had a narrow escape from serious injury when the freight train struck the back end of the car, showing it off the track.

Burwell defeated Sargent 7 to 6 on the Sargent field. Savage passed to Thomas for the score, and Bud Hoyt booted the extra point.

The O. J. Miller Annex opened in Burwell.

The new Roy Verley home was about completed in Burwell.

A report came to Ord that a herd of deer had been seen on a number of different occasions in the sand hills. They are still there.

20 Years Ago This Week.

Mira Valley was holding a lecture course, and the first entertainment of the season was to be Everett Kemp.

An organizer named J. Thull came over from Ansley and was traveling over the county organizing the Non-Partisan League.

The bankers of Valley county were pushing the sale of government bonds as a means of financing the war.

W. J. Hather's hogs won a flock of cups, championships and ribbons at the national hog show held in Omaha.

Phonographs were all the rage, and Auble Bros., announced the concert to be given at the Methodist church by Alice Verlet, an Edison artist.

Earl G. Dorfner wrote home from France, and Leslie R. Martz wrote from camp at Billings, Mont., telling of their experiences.

The Babcock garage at North Loup was advertising the Saxon roadster for $395.00.

Harold Hoepfner went to Rochester, Minn., for examination and a probable operation.

Because he was leaving Ord, R. L. Staple was advertising his home and numerous household articles for sale.

There was plenty of corn to husk and there was a shortage of men so an ad was running in the Quiz to have the men who wanted to husk corn register with F. J. Vogat.

The National League For Women's Service was selling tickets for the Ord lecture course which consisted of the Ridgeway Musicians, C. H. Plattenburg, Plymouth Singers, Irish Players and Alton Packard.

Dr. Earl Wise had opened up a dental office in North Loup, and went down and returned each day by train.

W. T. McLain rented the Minnie Marks building for his undertaking parlors, and Miss Marks was to quit dressmaking in consequence.

The Quiz printed the delinquent tax list, which occupied less than two columns. This year it is nearly two pages.

30 Years Ago This Week.

R. E. Micklewait wrote from Alberta, Ida., telling of the fine land and crops there and the opportu-ties for those who wanted to take a chance. Time proved that he was right.

A teachers' reading circle program was printed in the Quiz, and among the teachers mentioned were G. R. Mann, Ora and Myrtle Rathbun, Ruth Harris, Jessie Ferguson, Gertrude Noll, Florence Clement, Nellie Ollis, Ora Turner, Annie Rowbal, Alta B. Jones, Myrtle Hather and Katie Frey. W. I. Hoffman was the local manager.

Harry Dye had his face badly smushed by the kick of a colt, but it was believed he would live all right. He did.

Fred J. Bell was running over central Nebraska advertising a carnival and street fair to be held at Burwell.

Work on the First National bank building was still delayed because of a shortage of material from the quarries.

It was apparent that there would be a demand for corn huskers in Valley county in excess of the available supply.

Jake Martine fell through the boards of a hay loft breaking his ribs and bruising himself up considerably.

Miss Bessie Clements went to San Diego, Calif., to spend the winter in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Stacy.

W. L. D. Auble and family, including his father, James Auble, left for California, where they expected to make their home for the time being at least.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Colby took the train for Boise, Ida., where they planned to make their future home.

Thirty years ago John Bremer was chairman of the county board. He is again a member of the board. History does repeat itself.

40 Years Ago This Week.

Miss Angie Jones had just completed a long term of school at Taylor, having taught the full twelve months.

Among the men whose names were drawn for the jury list, the following are still with us: W. W. Looftbourrow, John Meese, Antor Bartunek, Frank Tetschner (Burwell), Sam Holmes, Fred Strathdee and V. H. Earnest.

E. L. Gard had opened his jewelry store in the Paty Drug store. Charles Burrows was to open a restaurant in the Weaver building on the west side of the square.

A Weekly Feature—The Ord Steam Laundry.

Business is on the increase at the Ord Steam Laundry, operated for the past year or two by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Burrows. This home-owned and operated business has a claim on the patronage of every firm and every person who has laundry work done, for it furnishes employment for a number of people and does beautiful work. In the upper picture is seen Mrs. Burrows operating one of the big machines that wash clothes while Mr. Burrows handles one of the rinsing operations. In the lower photo a group of girls is at work ironing, mangling and sorting the clothing. The Ord Steam Laundry calls for clothing and delivers it when it is laundered. Why send your laundry work out of town when it can be done so well at home.

Prochaska Market Closes.
John Prochaska closed his meat market in former Mazac location and has moved his household goods and other property to Table Rock, where he will accept a position in a meat market there. He came to Ord about a year ago and took over the Mazac market.

Planning to Hold a FARM SALE?

So far this year approximately 4 out of 5 of the farm sales held in Valley county have been advertised exclusively in The Quiz. Why? There is a reason. The Quiz is now read weekly by over

2,700 Subscribers or Carrier Boy Purchasers

This is the largest circulation ever attained by a newspaper in the North Loup valley. We are printing over 2,700 copies of The Quiz each week, an increase of about 250 since last year, and the number is growing by leaps and bounds.

If You Want to Reach the Buyers Advertise in The Quiz

No matter what part of Valley county you live in, or if you live in the south edge of Garfield county, the east edge of Custer county, the west edge of Greeley county or the north edge of Sherman county, your sale has the best chance of succeeding if you advertise in the Quiz. This newspaper reaches more prospective buyers of farm equipment and livestock than all other newspapers in this area combined.

Low Cost of Advertising

Our advertising rate is only 30c per column inch, only a trifle over 1c per 100 of circulation. Before you place your advertising find out the rate per 100 of circulation that you would pay in any other newspaper in this section. That's what counts—the rate per 100 of circulation.

List Your Sale Now!

If you plan to hold a sale any time this fall or early winter, list it now on the Quiz Sale Calendar and thus reserve your date. There is no charge for this service. And when you do it let us tell you about the low cost of sale bills when you insert your sale ad in this newspaper.

—Clark Bleach of near Burwell was in Ord Saturday. He is one of the men who are especially interested in the irrigation project, as the ditch cuts directly through his land a couple of miles south of Burwell.

—Harry Marshall came recently from Ft. Warren, near Cheyenne, Wyo., where he is stationed and is visiting Mrs. Marshall, his people and other relatives and friends. He will be here for some time, as his furlough is good until Nov. 2.

—Mrs. Mae Evans Keel, Mrs. Mollie Williams' sister, left on the bus Tuesday morning for Nemaha, Nebr., where she will visit her niece, Mrs. Vesta Snyder for a few days. She will then return to her home near Nashville, Tenn. She thinks Ord is a fine little town and may come back to visit again.

—George Nay is one of a number of farmers who believe that the final hatch of grasshoppers did more damage than any of those hatched before. The first crop hit the small grain, cutting the oats off the stem before it ripened, so that most of the grains were lying on the ground. The second crop came along in time to hit the corn crop, and where they were bad they even cut off a large number of the growing ears so that they fell off. The third crop seemed to be more numerous than either of the others, and has been very active in cutting the leaves off the late alfalfa and cutting off the fall grain as fast as it comes up out of the ground. In fact, several farmers have had to sow their fall grain two or three times because it was killed out by the activity of the hoppers.

Burwell-Ord Game Played on Slippery Field Friday, Chanticleers Win 8-0

Red and White Decisively Outplay Wranglers But Their Offensive Attack Bogs Down In Mud.

On a soggy, slippery field before an unusually large crowd of drenched fans, Coach Brockman's Ord high Chanticleers slid in a narrow 8 to 0 win over the Burwell Wranglers on the Ord gridiron Friday night.

Both teams played a ragged brand of football, but the game was fast despite the condition of the field. Fans had to be content with watching straight football as passing and end run plays were entirely out of the question on such a field.

Throughout the game the Chanticleers outplayed their opponents but their scoring punch had been lost somewhere in the mud. The ball was carried to the one-yard-line several times but the Ordsters were unable to push the pigskin over the stripe.

Edgar Barnes Stars. Edgar Barnes, veteran Chanticleer halfback, did outstanding work for his team. His line plunging was little short of spectacular and without his aid the Ordites would have been in a rather embarrassing position.

In the first play of the game Harry Zulkoski, star backfield man, was injured and was unable to do anything in the line of offensive work for the remainder of the evening. Tunncliff, quarter, was also injured early in the game and was unable to do any of the ball lugging.

All the breaks of the game went to the Burwell team. Late in the second quarter the Wranglers made their one and only scoring threat to the game, as they marched down to the Ord 5-yard line. At the pace they were moving, the Longhorns would probably have gone over for a touchdown if the whistle had not ended the half at this particular moment.

Third Quarter Is Puzzle. Ord's first score came in the second quarter when they blocked a Burwell punt attempted from behind the goal line and scored a safety, good for two points. The third quarter still remains a puzzle. Coming back after the half, the Ord eleven threw their offensive clutch into high gear. Repeatedly the ball was carried deep into the scoring zone, only to be stopped within two or three yards of their goal.

Upon the kickoff in the second half, Burwell receiving, the ball went back into the end zone. Several alert Ord gridders pounced upon the ball. This was believed to be good for six points, the same as a touchdown. Referee Hendrickson ruled the play a touch-

Second score for Ord came in the third quarter when Barnes dived through the center of the line to slide over the marker. Tunncliff attempted to kick for extra point, but was unable to control the slippery ball and the try was no good.

"Puntin'" by both teams was good, Tunncliff getting off one of his best punts this season, Friday night. Burwell punts were being continually blocked by Chanticleer linemen who sifted through the Longhorn forward wall.

A great disappointment was served to Ord followers in the second half when Tunncliff dodged his way through the maze of Burwell tacklers and was headed down the field for a certain touchdown when he slipped on the slimy turf and went down to the ground with the goal only a few yards away.

Burwell, which has shown steady improvement, put up a stubborn, game fight, and several times had Ord fans in doubt as to the outcome. A big crowd of Burwell rooters accompanied the team to Ord.

Chanticleers Take Over Week's Rest Will Meet Ravenna

If rest has anything to do with it, Coach Stan Johnson's Ravenna high school football team is going down to a sad defeat next Wednesday night when the Chanticleers play at Ravenna.

This week is being spent quietly by the Chanticleers, no game being scheduled for this Friday. Practice will continue as usual, workouts being held daily. Several of the boys received injuries in the Burwell tussle last Friday and this week will give them time to recuperate.

First action for the team will be seen next Wednesday night when they meet Ravenna on the Ravenna field. Ravenna has a much better team than last year and thus far they have made good showings against their opponents. Last week they toppled Broken Bow, 25 to 0.

After the Ravenna game the black-clad Chanticleers will move into the toughest part of their schedule. Arcadia, Sargent and Loup City are the "Big Three" which the Chanticleers must meet and defeat to secure Mid Six and Loup Valley football laurels again this season.

Few Football Games On Week's Schedule

Few games will be played this week in either the Mid Six or the Loup Valley conferences. Most of the games for the following week are scheduled for either Wednesday or Thursday because of the state teachers convention which starts Friday, Oct. 29.

A good Mid Six contest is assured at Arcadia this Friday night as Coach Tuning's men run up against Ravenna. Contrary to popular belief, Ravenna has a team this year which has been giving all its opponents a run for their money. Coach Stan Johnson's team are "aching" to work their way up a little higher in the Mid Six standings and will attempt to accomplish that little task Friday night at Arcadia's expense.

St. Paul will have it out with Broken Bow on the Broken Bow field Friday night. Both of these teams are in the lower rungs of the Mid Six conference and the team which will stay at the bottom will probably be decided by this game.

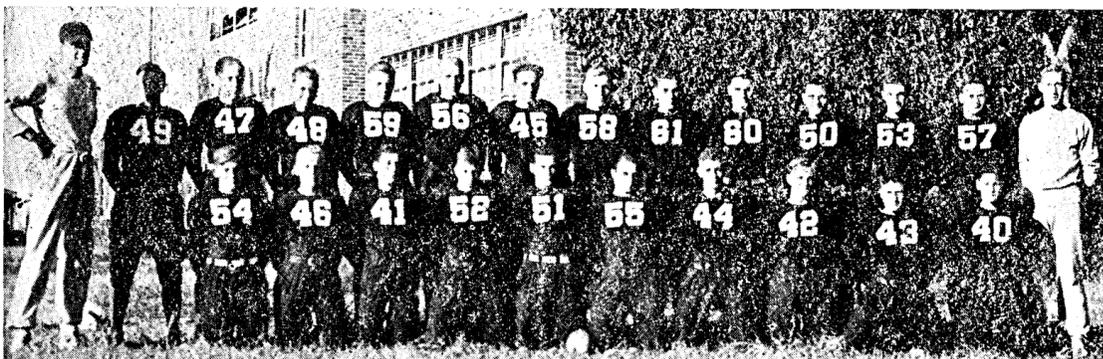

Loup City has a non-conference affair on their hands as they take on Minden at Minden. Little is known about the Minden team this year, however Loup Valley fans predict an easy victory for the Brownies.

Burwell will also play against outside competition as they play Bassett at Bassett. Central City, one of Ord's foes who still remains on the schedule, meets Albion on the Central City gridiron this Friday.

Football Scoreboard

Loup City 30, St. Paul 13.
Ravenna 25, Broken Bow 0.
North Loup 45, Wobach 0.
Ord 8, Burwell 0.

These Chanticleers Hopeful For Another Conference-Winning Season

If this fast moving group of Chanticleer gridsters can keep moving at the rapid pace they have been going thus far this season, their goal—both the Mid Six and the Loup Valley football championships—will undoubtedly be reached.

John Pesek Staged Dog Races Sunday

Some of the best known greyhounds of this section of the country took part in the 10-race card and they included "Princess Ina", "Sinsatiwal", "Bibb Jones" and "Gangster's Flash", all owned by Pesek. "York Laddie" and "Ale's Pride" from Alex Haberman's stables at York and "Homer's Pride" from the Buehl kennels at Rose, Nebr.

Arcadia Gridders Attend Uni. Game

About 35 Arcadia high school football boys were taken to the Nebraska-Oklahoma game played Saturday at Lincoln. Watching the game was not a very agreeable task as nearly everybody who attended the game was soaked to the skin because of the light drizzling rain which fell throughout the game.

The Arcadians went in private cars, making the trip to Lincoln early in the morning and returning to Arcadia that evening, directly after the game.

Sargent Jrs. Meet Ord Jrs. Friday

Ord's up-and-coming junior high team, being coached this year by Keith Wolfe, will get into action again after a rest of two weeks as they meet Sargent junior high Friday afternoon on the Ord gridiron.

Weather permitting, the game has been scheduled to start at 3 o'clock. The Ord junior high team has been putting in long diligent practices for the past two weeks and report that they'll be "rarin' to go" Friday. Not much is known about the strength of the Sargent junior team, but if it compares with the senior high Sargent squad they will be plenty "tough". Ord will play a return game at Sargent on Nov. 5.

3000 Crapples at Ericson. Fishing should be a little better at Lake Ericson next summer according to reports received this week stating that 3000 crapples have recently been placed in the lake. The crapples were given to Conger Bros., managers of the lake, by the federal government through the efforts of Congressman Karl Stefan.

Ord Footballers Will Attend Game

Over 40 Ord high school football players will attend the Nebraska-Iowa football game at Lincoln on Nov. 20, announced Coach H. P. Brockman this week.

Plans are far from complete yet as to how the trip will be made but it is expected that no difficulty will be encountered in securing enough cars to transport the boys to the game.

This is following the usual custom, started several years ago and in a small way rewards the boys for their hard work on the gridiron.

Ethiopian Criminals. From Rome, Italy, comes the news that four Italian workmen were recently executed by Italian authorities at the scene of their robbery and assassination of five Ethiopians who had a food stand on the highway near Asmara. The only difference between these Italian workmen and the soldiers of Mussolini is that they committed their crime without orders from a superior officer and with the intent to appropriate the loot to their own personal benefit. When the Italians went into Ethiopia they organized the murder of defenseless people on a scale of brutality that astounded the civilized world and they went into that country for plunder.—Platte Valley, Tribune

Corn to California. Gerald Eberberger shipped 3 carloads of corn from his Schuyler elevator to California last week and this is the first such shipment he has been able to make in the past two and one half years. The corn shipped to California came from Iowa and it was run through the local elevator dryer before being loaded for shipment.—Schuyler Sun.

School in Cream Grading Was Held In Ord Wednesday

Operators Must Buy Only By Grade Under New Nebraska Law.

A cream grading school was put on by officials of the department of agriculture and inspection Wednesday afternoon at the Legion Hall in Ord. Every cream operator in Valley county, as well as those from Taylor and Burwell were in attendance. W. L. Haacker of the state dairy department was in charge of the meeting, and was assisted by District Inspector Harold Taylor, of St. Paul, Inspector Harwar who has charge of this district, and a Mr. Plomb, who has been working with the Iowa dairymen for the past two years.

The grading law was passed in Iowa some two years ago. Under the grading law No. 1 cream is salable at the top market price, while No. 2 cream brings one cent less, and No. 3 cream is illegal.

Three men failed to pass the cream grading tests given here and will have to go elsewhere and take the test again. If they should fail a second time their license is automatically revoked.

With proper care in handling and frequent trips to the creamery anyone should have No. 1 cream at this time of the year. However, should next spring prove dry, the milk is likely to accumulate weed flavors, which lower the quality.

If all the cream patrons of the state cooperate it will mean millions in added profits in Nebraska alone. Most states have had grading laws in operation for a period of years, but Nebraska is just starting. The law is mandatory, and dealers must grade the cream they buy, whether they wish to do so or not. Nebraska is fourth in output of butterfat, and about twenty-fifth in the quality of her dairy products. The new law should correct this condition.

The passage of the law, defining the grades of cream, reads as follows:

"(a) 'First grade cream' shall consist of good cream that is either sweet or sour, smooth, free from undesirable odors, clear to the taste and practically free from sediment. (b) 'Second grade cream' shall consist of cream that is too sour to grade as first or that contains undesirable flavors or odors in a moderate degree or that is slightly foamy, yeasty, stale, showing slight traces of sediment or too old to be first grade cream. (c) Unlawful cream shall consist of all cream that is not first grade cream or second grade cream as herein defined; and unlawful cream shall also consist of cream that is old, rancid, moldy, dirty, curdy or which contains or has contained any objectionable matter, or in which has been found any unsanitary article or utensil."

Women's Clubs Will Meet at No. Loup

"Making the most advantageous use of spare time," is the theme of the Loup Valley inter-county federation meeting to be held at the North Loup M. E. church on November 4. The club day will begin at ten o'clock and luncheon will be served by the Ladies Aid. The president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's Clubs, Mrs. Ketchel, has been asked to address the group, and prominent club women from several counties will speak on current problems to which women may apply themselves in their spare time.

New officers will be elected at the business meeting. Junior women's clubs of Rockville, Burwell and North Loup also will attend.

Mrs. Sowokinos Granted Divorce

In District Judge Kroger's court Oct. 22 Clara Sowokinos was granted a divorce from her husband, Mike Sowokinos on grounds of abuse and non-support. They are the parents of five children, all grown. The amount of alimony was fixed at $600.00 payable at the rate of $15.00 per month, and the husband is to pay the costs of the action, including the plaintiff's attorney fees.

Teachers Attending Annual Sessions

Many Valley county schools, both rural and city, will be closed Thursday and Friday of this week, so that instructors may attend the annual state teachers' meetings. Both the high school and grade school in Ord will be closed for the occasion. About 25 Ord city school teachers will attend the meetings. Most teachers in this section will probably go to the nearest district meeting in Grand Island, though several are planning to attend meetings in other parts of the state.

Ord City Clerk Bags Deer, Ducks

Rex Jewett returned last Wednesday night from a 10 day hunting expedition into the Lake of the Woods region of Minnesota and Canada. Deer were plentiful in this district, reports Jewett, but the law permits each hunter to kill only one deer. There are no moose in this section of the country at this time of the year. During his actual five days of hunting, Jewett had exceptionally good shooting, bagging everything his license allowed him, including one deer and many varieties of waterfowl.

Powell Died at San Diego.

Sam Powell, once a well known resident of Burwell, passed away at San Diego, Calif., Oct. 12. For years he was engaged in the land, loan and insurance business in Burwell, and at one time served as county treasurer there. The Quiz is indebted to Mrs. Spencer Waterman for information of his death.

Ord Chevrolet Co. Shows 1938 Models

Saturday, Sunday and until noon Monday was the national date for showing the 1938 Chevrolet. The Ord Chevrolet Sales Co. had four of the new cars on their floor for the showing, three for themselves and a fourth for the sub dealer, the Burwell Motor Co., at Burwell. Mrs. Helen Keep bought the first new car, a spruce green deluxe town sedan. The second car, a gunmetal deluxe sport sedan, was bought by H. T. Jackson of Burwell. The Burwell Motor company came for their car, and the fourth car, an Indian sun tan in color, is still on the floor. This car has attracted more attention than any the company has had in years, as the shade is distinctive. The leading feature of the new Chevrolet is the built-in trunk, which will hold, in addition to the spare tire, a case of eggs, a can of cream and two 100 pound sacks of sugar or its equivalent. All through the demonstration large numbers of people were in attendance, and the men are more than pleased with the interest shown.

Ord Editor Heads Nebr. Select List

At a meeting held in the Lincoln hotel at Lincoln Friday, preliminary steps were taken toward organization of the larger weekly and semi-weekly newspapers and smaller dailies of Nebraska into a group to be known as the Nebraska Select List. Temporary officers chosen included E. C. Leggett, of Ord; president; Nathan Pont, of Stanton, secretary-treasurer; E. R. Purcell, of Broken Bow, Guy Ludt, of Wahoo, and Lyman Cass, of Ravenna directors. These five men form a committee who will draft the plan to be followed for a permanent organization.

Purpose of the Nebraska Select List, which is entirely independent of the Nebraska Press association, is to sell advertising on a group basis to national advertisers. Only newspapers in the large circulation class, and which blanket their fields thoroughly, will be eligible for membership. The meeting Friday was attended by about 45 editors.

Tom Purcell, of Iowa Falls, Ia., and Fred L. Hill, of Hamburg, Ia., representatives of a similar organization which has been in existence in Iowa for a number of years, met with the Nebraska editors to help them get started.

No Pheasant Shortage with "Pal" Along

For most people there may have been a shortage of pheasants but not for James and Thorwald Aagaard—not when their great water spaniel, "Pal," is along to find and retrieve the birds. Jim hunted every day of the season, often with several guests, and usually his parties were successful in getting their limits. Jim is an unusually good shot but major share of the credit should go, he insists, to "Pal," who is here shown bringing a pheasant to his master. The Aagaard brothers' other retriever, "Lady," is breaking into the pheasant hunting game nicely but "Pal" is still tops as a pheasant dog in the opinion of everybody who has hunted with him. Among guests at the Aagaard farm during the open season which closed Tuesday was Foster May, famed Omaha radio announcer.

Red Cross Issues Call For Clothing, Shoes and Bedding

Mrs. Wm. Carlton Again Head Of This Important Part Of Welfare Work.

General welfare and emergency relief have been an important division of the Red Cross work carried on in Valley county the past year. Mrs. Wm. Carlton is the chairman of this work and devotes her time unstintingly to the job. She has been chairman for five years and has served in this work with welfare organizations of Ord the past 16 years. She is occasionally assisted by a committee from the executive board of the Red Cross chapter.

General welfare work includes all such health-program as the community requires. Mrs. Carlton and her committee inquire into sickroom needs and supplies. They report contagious diseases in homes where a physician has not been called. They receive requests for medical and surgical assistance. These requests include instances where dental work, eyeglasses, or tonsillectomies are imperative in order to avoid chronic illness and continued expense of further medical assistance—where the family is absolutely unable to afford these services and yet cannot obtain them through the government relief or county assistance. These are the type of cases which the American Red Cross everywhere is pledged to serve.

Because of the great need in comparison to funds available, requests for such assistance are submitted to Mrs. Carlton who has a committee help her study each case individually, make approvals and recommendations. Also, it is customary for the Red Cross to offer the needed professional services at special prices. This season there is another list of cases, mainly tonsillectomies, being checked.

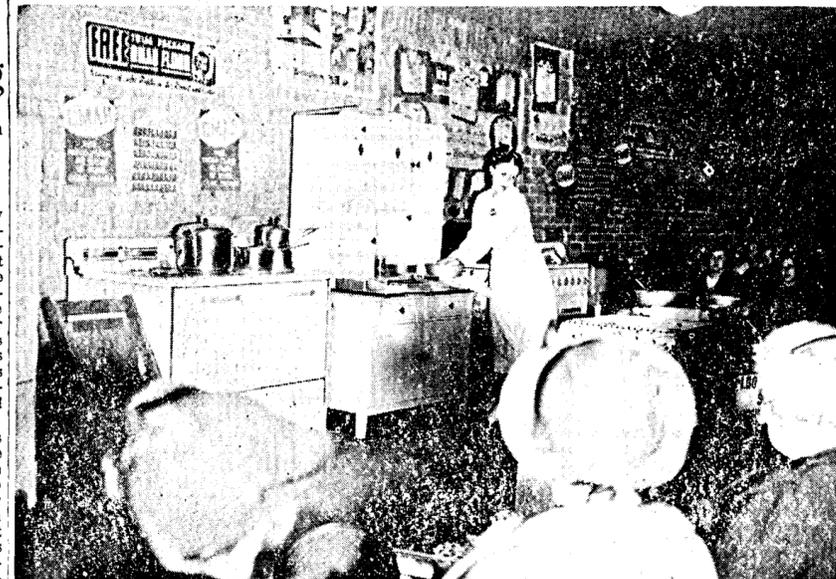

Mrs. Carlton personally supervises the emergency relief work of the local Red Cross. In season she has volunteer workers to help her gather or distribute clothing, bedding, Christmas boxes. The call is now being made for donations of used clothing and partly worn shoes that your family no longer want. Last year the splendid response to this request brought 150 pairs of shoes alone. Mrs. Carlton has made a hobby of the work, administers it most efficiently and fairly, and does it all without charging one cent for time or labor. Ord is fortunate to have her as chairman of this most important division of the Red Cross work.

Fair Association Will Meet Nov. 1st

The annual meeting of stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society will be held in the district court room in Ord at 1:30 p. m., on Monday, Nov. 1, according to notices mailed out by Sam W. Roe, secretary. In addition to reports from the secretary and treasurer Horace Travis, business to be transacted includes election of three directors for terms of three years each and one director for a term of one year.

It is desirable that all stockholders attend this meeting, which may be one of the most important the fair association has ever held.

Miss Dorothy Gill Popular Lecturer at Cooking School

"Now put the mixture in a large bowl and add the flour," was the advice being given by Miss Dorothy Gill, lecturer at the Quiz-City Light Department cooking school, when this flash-photo was taken last Wednesday afternoon. The photo shows the stage, some of the equipment used by Miss Gill, the demonstrator herself and a portion of the crowd, largest that ever attended a cooking school in this city. Miss Gill proved a most popular lecturer and it is hoped that she may return to Ord and conduct another cooking school next fall.

Sheriffs Are After Two Albion Killers

The Nebraska State Sheriffs' association and officers have been making every effort to locate the men who are responsible for the killing of Sheriff Lawrence Smoyer and Constable William Wathen near Albion on the morning of June 17, 1937. They are trying to find who fired four 38 caliber bullets from a Smith & Wesson gun into the car the murderers were driving which was found abandoned in Cheyenne the next day, June 18. The car, a new Ford V8 sedan, was stolen from a garage in the outskirts of Denver at 11:20 p. m., June 14. There were no bullet holes in the car when it was stolen. The trip eastward was made with Colorado license No. 7-4896, and was probably made over Highway No. 30. The two men were first observed in the vicinity of Albion June 5, and it is believed they remained in the neighborhood where the crime was committed until discovered by the officers on the morning of the 17th. After shooting the officers they immediately fled, and are believed to have gone west either on No. 20, part way on No. 2, or else on No. 30. The trip west was made with Nebraska license No. 23-58. The shooting may have occurred while they were traveling either way. Three of the four bullets have been recovered and are known to be Smith & Wesson. The officers had Colts, and the murderers took the guns with them. Information as to who did the shooting is of utmost importance, and should lead to the apprehension of the killers. If any Quiz reader has information he thinks is of value he should communicate with the officers at once.

Mrs. S. L. Dunham Dies in California

North Loup—(Special)—At the Methodist church here at 3:00 this afternoon funeral services are being held for Mrs. S. L. Dunham, former resident of this village, who died on Oct. 21 at the home of a son, Dr. Morris H. Dunham, in Long Beach, Calif. Interment in North Loup cemetery beside her husband will follow the rites.

Mrs. Dunham, nee Sarah Katherine Page, was born in 1860 in East Cleveland, O., and grew to womanhood there. In 1879 in that city occurred her marriage to Stephen L. Dunham. With their three small children they came to Nebraska in 1887, making their home in Weeping Water for 14 years, after which they moved to North Loup. In 1915 they went to Little Rock, Ark., and later to Birmingham, Ala., for a few years, but again came to North Loup and made this their home until Mr. Dunham's death ten years ago.

After the death of her husband Mrs. Dunham lived with a daughter in South Dakota and with her sons in California. She is mourned by one daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Smith, of Albuquerque, N. M., two sons, Raymond L. Dunham, of Beverly Hills, Calif., and Dr. Morris H. Dunham, of Long Beach, Calif., and by a sister, Elizabeth A. Page, of Rapid City, S. D.

A talented musician, Mrs. Dunham is gratefully remembered for her service in North Loup where she directed music in the Methodist church and taught a large class in piano. She was an ardent church worker all her life and her memory is cherished by friends.

Interest High In Cooking Sessions

Quiz-City Light Department School Made History; To Be Repeated in 1938.

So completely successful was the 2-day cooking school held in Ord last week under the sponsorship of the Quiz and the City Light Department that already plans are under way to repeat the event next fall, probably on a larger scale and in a hall with greater seating capacity than the Masonic temple.

A crowd of 350 attended the school Tuesday and almost 500 women attended Wednesday. Miss Dorothy Gill, who conducted the school, stated that her crowds in Ord were the largest she has ever had in a city of this size, and gave great credit to the Quiz for publicizing the event.

"The interest shown among women from Ord and vicinity demonstrates how thoroughly your publication is read," said Miss Gill. "Your merchants are fortunate in having an advertising medium such as your newspaper has proved itself to be."

A number of prizes were awarded at the Wednesday session, winners being Mrs. Harry Dye, Mrs. J. M. Jack, Mrs. W. L. Blessing, Bernice Zukoski, Mrs. B. A. Rose, Mrs. C. F. Hughes, Mrs. Lena Meyers, Mrs. Jean Romans, Mrs. George Gard, Mrs. John L. Andersen, Mrs. O. H. Sowl, Mrs. Ross Lakin, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Mrs. Willard Conner, Mrs. Mabel Atkinson, Mrs. Geo. D. Walker, Lucille Swanson, Mrs. Chas. Mottl, Mrs. Geo. Warford, Mrs. Art Larson, Mary Kuehl, Eva M. Rogers.

One of the most enjoyable features of the school was the 20-minute style show presented daily under the direction of Miss Eunice Chase. Models were Mrs. Jean Romans, Evelyn Sharp, Evelyn Coe, Garnette Jackson, and Miss Sybil Chase, of Loup City. Piano accompaniments were played by Mrs. K. W. Peterson.

Comstock Farmer Pleads Innocent

Mathew Foral, Comstock farmer, was bound over to the next term of district court after hearing before County Judge Miller at Broken Bow recently. He was released on $1,000 bond which he furnished. Foral pleaded not guilty to a charge of defacing the brands on some cattle belonging to his neighbor, Gust Anderson.

Anderson charged that some of his cattle were found in the possession of Foral and that his brand markings had been marred and another brand placed over them.

Auto Examinations Slow Says Pierce

Thursday, Oct. 28, is the last day examinations will be held in North Loup, and Friday, Oct. 29, is the final day in Arcadia. Auto owners in these localities should take advantage of this opportunity, as if they wait until later they will have to come to Ord.

Because of the lack of business for two men, A. W. Pierce states that he was ordered to lay off Tom (Duck) Williams last Saturday. From now on he must handle all the examinations himself, and the most it is possible to handle, if they come in fast enough to keep him busy all the time, is about 150 per day. Up to Monday night 2,032 had taken the examination, with about 3,000 yet to go, and only five weeks before Dec. 1, the final date being Nov. 30 at 5:00 p. m. Of the above, not more than 150 are from Ord, the people at home being slower than those farther away. In the special days at North Loup and Arcadia, about 150 have been examined at North Loup and 170 at Arcadia, while large numbers from both places have come to Ord to be examined.

Fifteen have been rejected, and a number of these have passed after having their eyes adjusted. A severe penalty is imposed for driving a car after Dec. 1 without a new license. The new patrolmen will enforce this phase of the law strictly.

Evelyn Sharp's Goal In Sight

Harold Monte, government inspector, is in charge of the written exam which Evelyn started to take Tuesday. Her ability to fly a plane will probably be judged on Thursday by Monte and Charles Doyle, state aeronautics commissioner. If Miss Sharp successfully passes the government tests and is awarded a transport license she will bear the title of the youngest licensed transport pilot in the United States.

Wrote No Fund Check.
On Oct. 21 C. M. Schultz was brought into Judge John L. Andersen's court on a complaint of having given the complainant, Verna Russell, a no-fund check for $5.00 on the Farmer's Bank of Menard on Oct. 16. The judge assessed a fine of $5.00 and costs of $6.00, all of which was paid, together with the amount of the check, and Schultz is at liberty.

S. J. Oliverius Is Reported Better

S. J. Oliverius, Albion merchant, who has been critically ill at his home with pleuro-pneumonia, is improving, according to the latest reports. The past two days quite a little improvement has been noted.

Kerosene Explodes, Arcadia Farmer Is Badly Burned, Dies

Walter Mills, 31, Brought to Ord Hospital Thursday But Lived Only Few Hours.

Walter Mills, 31, Arcadia farmer, died at the Ord hospital Thursday evening from severe burns which he received when a two gallon can of kerosene which he was using to start a fire in the kitchen stove exploded in his hands.

Mrs. Mills states that the accident occurred about six o'clock Thursday morning. At the time of the explosion she was in a room adjoining the kitchen. She heard the blast and the screams of her husband as he attempted to put out the blazing fire. By the time she reached the kitchen the entire room was enveloped in flames. Mrs. Mills managed to get her husband outdoors where she attracted the attention of several motorists who immediately stopped and assisted her in putting out the fire.

A relative who was sleeping in a bedroom off the kitchen clambered out of a small closet window to get free of the burning house. All of the other bedroom windows were closed and solid storm windows were securely fastened over them, making escape in this direction almost impossible.

With the aid of several people who collected in a few minutes after the fire started, the fire in the kerosene soaked clothes which Mills wore was extinguished and he was rushed immediately to the Ord hospital. He died at 10 o'clock the same evening.

Mrs. Mills suffered many burns herself while attempting to put out flames in her husband's clothes. The inside of the kitchen was a literal volcano, fire spreading rapidly from the stove and floor to the curtains and furniture. Doors of the room were closed, however, and the fire was gotten under control before it spread to the remainder of the house.

Walter Slingby Mills, eldest son of John and Lula Slingby Mills was born near Westerville, Jan. 16, 1906. Both his elementary and secondary schooling was secured in the Westerville schools. On April 4, 1931, he married Edna Hendrickson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Wm. H. Hendrickson of Cairo, formerly of Westerville and Arcadia.

Last April Mr. Mills with his wife and small son moved to the George Parker farm, one mile east of Arcadia, where he resided until the time of his death. Surviving him is his wife Edna and one son, John William, age 5 years, his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. John Mills of Westerville; two brothers, Ellis and Lloyd of Ansley; two sisters, Grace of Ansley and Mrs. Mabel Stutzman of Broken Bow.

Funeral services were held at the Westerville Methodist church Sunday, with Rev. McCaig of Arcadia officiating.

Seniors Will "Go to School" Again In Stores of Ord

Following up the plan which was given its first trial last year, 70 Ord high school seniors will "go to school" in local business houses and offices for an entire week, Nov. 8-12.

The project is again being sponsored by the Ord Business and Professional Women's club and will be conducted in a manner similar to that of last year.

Ord was one of the first schools in the state to give such a plan actual trial and it has received much comment from educational authorities in Nebraska and surrounding states. The central idea behind the plan is to give the student a glimpse of what actual business is like and to give him a little practical experience in his chosen field.

Hulbert Recovers From Wound in Foot

Arcadia—(Special)—Wesley Hulbert was able to leave the Loup City hospital Sunday where he had been treated several days for a wound in his foot, received when a shotgun in the hands of Junior Waterbury was accidentally discharged. Mr. Hulbert was a dinner guest in the Waterbury home, which is above the store, and the gun was accidentally discharged in the store below. Loup City doctors removed several shot from his foot and a few from his hip and he is now well on the way to complete recovery.

—Miss Dorothy Auble took time off from her studies at Hastings College to spend the week end in Ord at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Auble. She returned to Hastings late Sunday, her parents driving her to Grand Island where she took a bus for the remainder of the trip.

LOCAL NEWS

John Fredericks was shaking hands with his old friends in Ord Tuesday. Joseph Nekuda of Lincoln was looking after business matters in Ord Thursday. Joe Puncocar and Etwyn Dunlap made a trip to Hastings Friday on business. Mr. and Mrs. George Cargill and family of St. Paul visited Saturday in the home of Glenn Bowers and family of near Burwell. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Hood and Elsie Hood, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Loeffler and children, all of Burwell, were guests of St. Paul relatives Sunday. Miss Esther Jensen, a trained nurse, left Friday morning on the train for Holyoke, Colo., where she has work in the hospital. She was an over night guest Thursday in the home of her sister, Mrs. Neils Hansen and family.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. McClellan were up from North Loup Monday. Mrs. Lloyd Peters has returned to Ord and is visiting her mother, Mrs. Mike Sowokinos. Mr. and Mrs. Darrel McOstrich were visiting in Lexington Saturday and Sunday. Mrs. Ed Capek of Brush, Colo., was here visiting her people and sister-in-law, Mrs. Jerry Petska and family over the week end. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Serben are leaving today, Wednesday, for Lincoln where they will visit, returning Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thompson and her aunt, Mrs. Elliott, were in Ord Sunday visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cohen. Mrs. Cohen and Mrs. Elliott are sisters. Saturday was a real day for the horse shoe experts, who kept the air full of flying shoes on the court back of Frank Pateta's liquor store all day long. This is one of the nearest courts imaginable, as it is in the shade all the time and is well protected from the wind.

Favorite Dog

Frank T. Johnson took advantage of the opportunity and rode down to Omaha Sunday with John L. W. Nelson. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andersen and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Hardin came up from Lincoln Sunday and had a try at the pheasant hunting, returning home the same evening. Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Zikmund and baby girl of Crete came up and visited at the Ben Janssen home from Thursday until Sunday. Adrian spent some of the time while here hunting pheasants. Frank Absolon returned from Omaha Monday after spending a week there looking over the ground and deciding whether he would rather be employed there or in Ord. He decided in favor of Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Victor Olson of Monte Vista, Colo., and Eldon Bouma came to Ord Monday evening and stayed over night at John L. Andersen's. Tuesday they went to Lincoln, taking Mrs. Andersen with them and returning the same evening. Miss May McCune and Mrs. Ben Janssen returned Thursday from the Rebekah state assembly at Kearney, where they had been in attendance for three days. The Odd Fellows held their state convention there at the same time, but there were no delegates from Ord. When Kull and McQuillan were preparing the Kull building for occupancy by Mac's Grill they reckoned without the soot. When Mac got ready to put up his kitchen range he found the chimney full of soot, the accumulation of twenty years or more. When the soot was cleared away it was necessary to repaint part of the interior. Mac said he did not care so much about himself, as it was time for his Saturday night bath anyhow. A number of men, under the direction of County Committeeman J. A. Brown have been circulating petitions the last week to put the Townsend plan on the official ballot. With respect to meeting the requirements of the law, the plan is already eligible to be placed on the ballot in the state and in Valley county, but the men in charge of the work expect to continue until every person possible has had an opportunity to sign if he wishes to do so. Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Williams returned Monday from Arcadia where they had spent some time visiting relatives. Monday they will leave by bus for El Monte, Calif., where they will find employment looking after a tourist park for a brother-in-law, Len Sutton. Mr. Sutton has held this opening for them for some time and they believe that it should prove a real opportunity for them. The Williams' are among the oldest of the settlers still remaining in the county, and they are widely known. Their many friends here are indeed sorry to see them go, but wish them the best of success in their new location.

Another Heroic Saga of the Sea

Typical English heroism at sea was manifested when T. O. M. Sopwith's racing yacht Endeavour II, above, broke loose from her line in a raging storm while being towed home from the United States, and after being unreported for days, finally limped into Gosport, Hampshire, England. During the storm, Capt. Ned Hearn, inset, was washed overboard, and saved his life only by grasping desperately at a trailing rope and hauling himself on board.

Hints For Your Hallowe'en Parties

oooOoooo! Witches and bats, pumpkins and cats! And a few suggestions for your Hallowe'en party:

Stairway Entricement.
A stairway entricement with strings of grinning paper faces.

Apples—In tubs, elusive to the intended bites of guests; on sturdy strings hung in all the doorways; and apples with numbers pinned on them, hidden in every place where they are not likely to be found easily. A hunt on a given signal and a prize to the person who brings in apples that add up to the greatest total.

A witch in black crepe paper stirring fortunes in a cauldron. A big black wash kettle works very nicely!

Pull taffy or make popcorn balls for part of the evening's fun.

Try This One.
Have you ever given a Hallowe'en newspaper party? If not, why not give one this year?

With its witches and cats, Hallowe'en lends itself admirably to a black and white party. Ask your guests to dress in costumes made entirely from newspapers. The papers may be sewed on old dresses or suits. Weird paper hats can be fashioned and everyone will have a good time with little financial outlay.

Supper partners may be selected by matching advertisements cut from newspapers. Fortunes may be told by having a large grab-box filled with headlines cut from newspapers. Of course, parts of headlines or words from advertisements should be selected so that they will amuse the guests.

Refreshments may be served on tables covered with newspapers. Doughnuts, cakes, pumpkin pies, nuts and apples may be placed on paper plates.

Popcorn Ears.
Popcorn will taste better if it is formed in the shape of ears of corn, especially for Hallowe'en night. You can form, with your fingers, the corn that is warm enough and sticky enough to hold together. Then wrap in the shape of husks, using green cellophane paper. The paper will lie down upon the sticky corn in the exact way that you want it to behave.

Hallowe'en Games.
Listed here are several games that will break up the monotony of playing the usual Hallowe'en games:

Egg Polo.
This game is played with an empty egg shell which is placed in the center of a table. Each player tries to blow his shell across to the opposite side of the table. Or you may use a group of players and let them attempt to blow the egg shell through their opponents goal.

Bean Pick Up.
Have a water glass, about fifteen beans or peas and two toothpicks for each player. Using the two toothpicks in one hand, each player must put the beans into his glass. The player who finishes first is the winner.

Peanut Tossing.
Place a hat in the middle of the floor. Each one has ten peanuts which he tries to toss into the hat from a certain distance. The one throwing in the largest number, wins.

Goblin Sandwiches.
Why not make your Hallowe'en sandwiches of finger length? Date and nut bread, spread with butter, give just the right note to that Hallowe'en spread. Or white bread may be open face at Hallowe'en time when covered with a spread made of sardine paste mixed with cream cheese and moistened with a little cream. These little open face bits of goodness may be cut in rounds to be pretty. Top this round sandwich with a pecan that has been slightly salted.

Weird Party.
Make the party as weird as possible from the cats to the ghosts and from the bats to the pumpkins. Spooky rooms, spooky sounds, spooky sights, all these things will help to make your party a success. Bats, cut from black paper help to carry the invitations if written in dripping white ink. Witches, jack o'lanterns, soft candle light, all should be there. Black and orange should prevail in the decorations for the table and in foods.

Forestry Lecturer Comes to No. Loup

Dr. Wheeler is chief lecturer for the U. S. Forest Service and his appearance at the Strand Theatre in North Loup at 2:00 p. m. on November 10 should be of interest to many people. The lecture is illustrated with slides and is free to everybody. Ordinarily Dr. Wheeler talks only in the larger cities but the fact that he is a member of the S. D. B. faith enabled North Loup to secure his services for this lecture.

Old Landmark Destroyed.
A Garfield county landmark was wiped off the map when the old Deverre store building on the highway north of Burwell was burned to the ground Tuesday night. Thirty years ago when the writer came to Burwell a general store occupied the building and apparently was doing a thriving business. The building has not housed a mercantile establishment for many years and was occupied by the Meurets as a residence. Particulars of how the fire started are not at hand at this writing.—Burwell Tribune.

Beauties of Hebron.
Mrs. J. M. Bryan has lilacs in bloom. The bushes have turned brown and only a few leaves were left by the grasshoppers. But after a few rains and cool weather, beautiful green foliage reappeared. Now Mrs. Bryan has plucked three flowers in full bloom, and says if it did not freeze the bushes would soon be laden as in the spring.—Hebron Journal.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

It cost $1.56 to raise a ring-necked pheasant at Penn State college. By the time the average gunner bagged one this season, it probably cost him more than that. The extreme scarcity of birds and heavy growth of cover have been discouraging to most hunters. Some sportsmen did not venture out at all because they realize that the latest open dates on pheasants may result in their extermination.

Well remembered are the seasons of a few years back, when the limit of ring-necks could be shot before breakfast. Even a year ago they were more numerous. Starvation and freezing have thinned their ranks. One cattleman reports that he found seven dead pheasants around his feed bunks after a storm last winter. A cold, rainy spring followed, and this was disastrous to the first hatch of chicks. The second hatch was depleted by drouth, numerous young birds dying of thirst. Poachers and other enemies also took their toll. If unfavorable climatic conditions continue, the pheasant will disappear as did the quail and the prairie chicken.

But irrigation may improve their environment. Pheasants require plenty of water, and have always been most numerous in the irrigated Scottsbluff valley. They prefer corn to any other food, and irrigation will assure more of that crop. If immediate conservation methods are applied to what few birds are left, this region may again become a mecca for hunters of upland game birds when the North Loup project assures more feed and water in our valley.

REGIMENTATION.

These days we hear a plenty about a word that was practically unknown a few years ago, Regimentation. There seems to be a tendency among the powers that be to conceal the meaning of a phrase by the use of new words, or old words put to a new use.

The word is derived primarily from the Latin "Regimentum", meaning government, and the meaning given in the dictionary is "the act or process of regimenting; arrangement into groups."

Regimentation of resources is all right, but regimentation of people is all wrong. In most cases the word has been used so far with reference to our national resources, but whenever any effort is made to regiment our citizens, or any group of our citizens, then begins the danger of losing our liberty.

If regimentation means the arranging into groups, then we will certainly lose our rights as individuals if the word is applied to the people. The only regimentation permissible under our government is that which we as enlightened people vote upon ourselves.

But there is another type of regimentation, the kind that the farmer uses when he puts part of his hogs in one pen and part in another without any consideration of the rights of the individual.

A YEAR WITH THE QUIZ.

The writer came to the Quiz in Oct. 26, 1936. Tuesday started the second year here. It does not seem more than six months. Interesting work makes the time pass swiftly.

This coming year it will be different. At least a part of the irrigation project is certain of receiving water, and a part of that acreage will be adequately watered.

A year ago the armies of General Franco, comprising Spanish insurgents, as well as Italian and German mercenaries, was in a deadlock with those of the Loyalists assisted by Russia and France and the United States.

Jots in Jest

WITH the correct season approaching, the phantom submarine can claim it's nothing more than a Halloween prank and maybe get away with it.

Opportunity knocks but once is the old saying, but we've seen it batter down the door before being recognized.

And in most stadiums, the goal-line stand pales in comparison with the goal-post stand.

Buddy Westmore is quite a make-up expert, but so far he hasn't been able to arrange a reconciliation with Martha Raye.

The boxer was married in the ring just before he made his professional debut. Love at first fight, no doubt.

A year ago all was quiet on the Eastern front, but ramblings of discontent were being heard thru the press from time to time.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS.

The day this paper goes to press, Oct. 27, is designated as navy day, and will not be celebrated much so far inland.

Hallowe'en, the eve of All Saints' Day, is in the offing. Ord is to be congratulated on having disposed of the rosyism that formerly marked the celebration of the day.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Quite a number of people who were in arrears on their Quiz more than they should be, and who were stopped, have sent me part of what they owed and in all those cases I have returned their name to the list.

Judging only from reading the daily papers, I am forced to believe that the big financial men of the nation, mostly in the east, have set about causing the undoing of President Roosevelt by bringing on another great depression.

In spite of the fact that a lot of people have been taken off the Quiz list, we now have the largest list of paid subscribers we have ever had; the office and street sales in Ord and in adjoining towns is the largest it has ever been.

Something happened up at Cullen Lake this summer that is so unusual that I have hesitated to tell about it in this column for fear someone, not being a fisherman or understanding fishing, might think it not strictly true.

CARE OF COUNTY BOARD

By George Gowen

Many of the folks who were interested in the sudden and mysterious disappearance of Roger Johnson from his home in Illinois week before last were of optimistic turn of mind and were quite certain he had not committed suicide.

It is the usual supposition that he and his sweetheart had a falling-out. That is quite possible. Such things happen quite frequently. But, should that be the case, it is hardly cause for one pulling stakes and leaving a good job.

One of my father's favorite axioms and one that he has repeated to me time and again, partly in earnest and partly to plague my mother was, "Never run after a woman or a street car. There will be another coming along in just a few minutes."

Like It Separate.

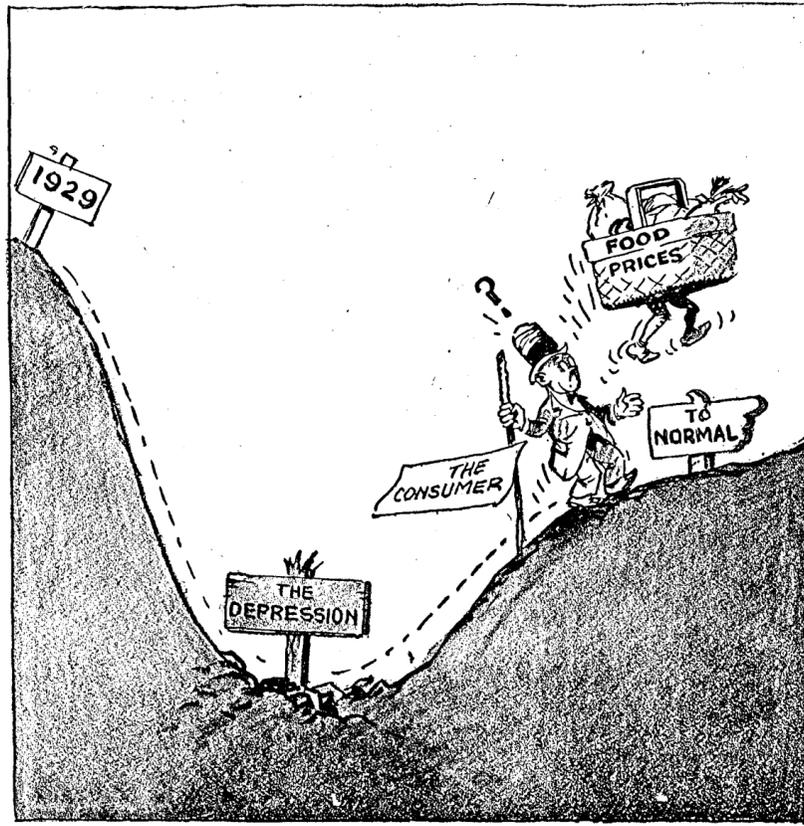

Speaking of the World Herald, a man who had been taking the Bee-News expressed himself that he did not like it because the type was all the same. He liked to have the "Hot news," put in box car type and then he could tell which was which.

Do I Dare Say It

There seems to be a general feeling of scorn, disrespect and ridicule for the poverty stricken man who gets a grant. If he gets it he tries his best to keep the fact a secret. He must sign an oath that he will discontinue taking it

If the republicans want a sure election candidate for president in 1940 all they have got to do is to secure the services of Col. Charles Lindbergh. No one the democrats could trot out could beat him, not even Roosevelt. As to whether he would make a desirable president, well, that is another question.

I have not fully decided as yet, but I am feeling that we will dispense with the 1938 Cook Calendar. The main reason for this, if we don't make it, is that there seems to be a lack of interest.

I like to have your daily paper subscriptions, either new or renewal and for any of the state daily papers. I am Valley county agent for all of them.

Taking up religion again, let me ask, is a family ground down in poverty as apt to be religious as those in more moderate circumstances? Many of the more religious people say it makes no difference but I heard a man the other day say it did.

Happen to Think.

Knocking the weeds down in my front yard I found a marijuana plant growing there.

My kids got the impression their teacher was not going to the teacher's convention this year. It won't matter if she don't; that is, unless they would need someone to make a talk who really knows her stuff.

as soon as his income is large enough to warrant it. But it is a different matter if a person is a Spanish-American war veteran and receives a pension of fifty dollars a month.

I have yet to have seen a man who begrudges any soldier who stood up and faced machine gun fire or any other kind of battle in war, a pension.

But there is a general feeling that injustice is being passed out in the form of pensions to those who spent a winter's vacation in Chattanooga and those who never saw a snitch of battle.

Let me ask. Is a winter in camp far away from the din of battle, worth the thousands of dollars that a pension rolls into in the end?

Labor Leaders Sight Truce in War Between Rival A. F. of L. and C. I. O.

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. - No great hope that a reunited labor front will result from the proposed peace conference between C. I. O. and A. F. of L. is held in Washington.

It is possible, too, that the rival labor chieftains may reach an agreement to use their war chests for other purposes than to finance internal labor warfare.

Another thing which makes settlement difficult is, in the view of the claim C. I. O. makes that it has a larger membership than A. F. of L., it might be necessary, if the two labor groups were united, to put Lewis in control.

OTHER obstacles in the way of labor peace include the probability that Lewis will insist on the right to organize mass production industries on an industrial basis without craft union participation.

August Petersen caught a 15 inch rainbow trout in the Calamus river above Burwell.

Bill Tunniff sprained his ankle in a fall at his home, and was going on crutches. His son Jack had also injured his wrist and was carrying his arm in a sling.

Some necessary repairs were made to the Methodist parsonage and the new pastor, Rev. J. A. Moorhead and family moved in.

Charles Watson filed a $10,450. damage suit against Earl Leonard for injuries suffered in an auto accident.

O. R. Hansen was going to quit farming and was going to California for the winter.

Herman Rood of North Loup, Civil war veteran, Mrs. E. J. Smith of Burwell, and Mrs. Frederick Dowhower, formerly of Ord, all passed away.

Mrs. W. W. Haskell and Dr. Coza Haskell went to Lincoln, where the doctor was to be married to Dr. Davis N. Lindberg.

Mr. and Mrs. John K. Jensen took a trip to Crawford, Neb., where they visited the John and Jim Petersen families and the Arthur Larsens.

Mrs. P. W. Meyers, the former Gladys Stacy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Stacy, was visiting from Minot, N. D. She claimed the distinction of being the first girl born in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prince went to Camp Funston to pay a visit to their son Frank, who was in camp there.

Willie Ollis went to Lincoln Mon-greater evil than organization by the A. F. of L. There has been little indication so far that William Green and his executive council are willing to make any large concessions.

C. I. O. leaders feel it gave their group a strategic advantage for Lewis to make the first "peace" move.

A. F. of L. leaders were not enthusiastic about accepting the friendly overture, realizing that whether peace negotiations were successful or not, the peace conference would take time.

ON the other hand, labor leaders, though divided on the issue of loyalty to Lewis or Green, have reason to come together in their common fear of a business slump.

It has annoyed C. I. O. to find the candidates which it endorsed being fought by the rival A. F. of L. And disputes over invasion of territory by one or the other of these organizations, give leaders of both sides something to worry about.

Dr. E. J. Bond moved into the late Thomas Rogers property, and M. E. Getter moved into the former Bond house.

Will Hather had lost 95 hogs, just half his herd from what he thought to be some kind of a blood disease.

F. J. Dworak was recovering from a severe cold that seemed to settle in his face and eyes.

Jessie Ward (Roe) had a very fine poem, "Wheat Crop", in the Ord Quiz.

James Siler was taken sick with an attack of appendicitis, and the Quiz was short-handed in consequence.

The Union Pacific was taken out by conductor Rathin, engineer Rollins and brakeman Hamilton. Remember them? Levi Hamilton still lives up in Oregon, Mrs. C. E. McGrew tells us.

J. E. Tolen's new house was showing up well on the hill west of Ord.

An educational column was being started in the Quiz, in charge of Prof. Anderson.

HERE in our lesson we are brought face to face with the old problem in terms of sane and healthy living. It is not only a matter of alcohol; but it is a matter of self-control, and of decency in all one's habits and living.

The lesson does not touch upon the question of drinking in moderation, or what some would call the question of temperance as against the question of total abstinence. It is not my purpose here to go into the controversy that might arise at this point.

Sugar Beet Harvest Progresses On Zangger Farm—A Prophecy?

Do these pictures bring forth a prophecy of what will come as soon as the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation Project is completed?

The sugar beet harvest has just started on the W. O. Zangger farm, ten miles southeast of Ord, and will probably continue for at least three weeks. Zangger has raised seventy acres of beets this year, depending upon nothing but the usual rainfall to supply them with water. No form of irrigation was used whatsoever in growing the beets.

Of course the beets cannot compare in size with those raised on irrigated land. Thus far, the beets have averaged a little over three tons to the acre and it has been reported that they have an unusually high percentage of sugar content.

First a special machine is taken down the rows, pulled by a tractor, which loosens the dirt around the beets and enables the Mexicans to pull them from the ground easily. That's W. O. Zangger seated on the "cultivator." The Mexican pulls the beet from the ground by means of a special "hook-nosed" knife. Next he grabs the beet in one hand and cuts the tip from it with his razor-edged knife. He throws the "topped" beet away and repeats the process—hour after hour.

Trucks haul the beets to the beet dump where an elevator takes the beets from the truck and hoists them into a railroad car for shipment. This takes about ten minutes per truck. The last photo gives a general view of the dump, showing the elevator and the cars which hold the beets.

"Little Nell" Enjoyed Tuesday Night

Music, comedy, laughter and gaiety were all combined into one Tuesday night to make the Ord high school Thespian club's "Evening in the Gay Nineties" an enjoyable occasion for the large crowd which attended.

A capacity crowd turned out Tuesday night for an "evening in the gay nineties" given by the Ord Thespian club in the high school auditorium.

The evening was a regular "fun night". The crowd derived real pleasure from singing in unison such songs as "The Bowery," "Sweet Adeline," and "Sidewalks of New York."

Main attraction of the evening was the presentation of a one act melodrama, "Little Nell", by a talented group of Thespian players including Virginia Sack, Eleanor Wolfe, Daniela Weekes, Simon Danczak, Robert Williamson, and Dick Koupal. Realistic sound effects were created by two members of the stage crew, Lloyd Sack and Clay Nelson. Frances Duemey, president of the Thespian Club, was student director of the play. Miss Ellen Servino directed the entire production.

Other features on the program included a sextet with Ruth Auble, Evelyn Suchanek, Jerinne Burrows, Martina Biemond, Marilyn Dale, and Eleanor Wolfe as members; and a male quartet composed of Dean Duncan, F. L. Blessing, Leroy Frazier and Mark Tolen. Kendall Wiegardt and Vernon Malolepsy made two excellent comedians. Waiters who served coffee and doughnuts throughout the show were Emil Krikac, Allan Zikmund, Edwin Hitchman and Arden Clark.

trying with drouth and hail storms and pioneer days. David Bennett the father worked in a car shop at Grand Island and would make the trip to work and home cross-country on foot. Mr. Bennett made the trip once with his father, it taking three days. The trip was made with an ox team with grain and for groceries which would take one week each time. Mr. and Mrs. Bennett have lived in their little home in Arcadia 32 years and are enjoying very good health. Mrs. Bennett canned 75 quarts of tomatoes and many quarts of cherries and strawberries raised on their place. She does all her own work and walks around the place very spry and helps with a flock of chickens. She celebrated her 80th birthday October 2. Mr. Bennett celebrated his 82nd birthday, Friday, October 22.

Joining them Wednesday in celebrating their anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Randall Pierson, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bennett, who was married at her home in Caldwell, Ida. the first of September to Mr. Pierson and came to Pleasanton, Neb. to live. Other relatives from Pleasanton were Arthur Wing and Mrs. Luman and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bennett, Mr. and Mrs. Gustaf Swartz and Richard Swartz of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Ricard Bennett and little son of Kearney, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bennett of Mason City.

Sich-Klat.

On Oct. 23 County Judge John L. Andersen granted a marriage license to Eldon Sich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sich, and Bessie Klat, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Klat, both of Burwell. On Oct. 25 the judge performed the marriage ceremony for this couple, who were accompanied by Joe Klat, jr., and Miss Minnie Sich as witnesses. These young people are residents of the neighborhood southwest of Burwell. Mr. Sich is a farmer, and is a graduate of the Burwell schools. They will make their home on a farm near Burwell.

Merry Mix Meets.

The Merry Mix club met Thursday evening at the Thorne cafe with 18 present. It was in the nature of a Halloween party, the ladies entertaining the men. Luncheon was eaten at 7 o'clock. The first number on the evening program was the drawing for partners, which was done in a very unusual manner. Next they had Dillinger, cut up in pieces. There was then a dress-up contest, with Roy Severson and Mrs. B. J. Peterson winning the prizes. There was also a bingo game. The remainder of the evening was spent in a social time.

Birthday Party.

Miss LaRue Mauer entertained seven little boy and girl friends at a party Saturday afternoon in honor of her seventh birthday. They went to the matinee at the Ord theater, after which they enjoyed cake and ice cream at the Mauer cafe.

Surprise Mrs. Veleba.

Twelve friends and neighbors of Mrs. Tracy Veleba surprised her at her home Ord Day evening, Oct. 18. Quiz Visits Valley County Rural Schools

When Quiz representatives were taken into the main room of the Dist. 73 schoolhouse they received a mild surprise—only two students are attending school at Dist 73 this year.

Leota Crosby is teaching her first year at Dist. 29, having taught for the past two years at Dist. 12. A number of improvements have been made at Dist. 29 this year including new painting on both the inside and outside, a new cement floor in the basement, and a host of new books.

75th Birthday. A dinner in honor of the 75th birthday anniversary of Mrs. Mary Davis was given at her home Sunday. Those attending were Guy Davis of Hot Springs, S. D., Chas. Peckham and grandson and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peckham of Hamilton, Calif., Will Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coleman of Mitchell, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Davis and family of Lakeport, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Ed Davis and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Davis and family of Walthill, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Freeman and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Freeland and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis and family, Mrs. Mathilda Davis, Mrs. Veva Goodwin, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Miller and family, Mr. and Mrs. Vaughn and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Darr and family all of Burwell.

The Wranglers club met in the dining room of the Burwell hotel Monday evening Oct. 25 with twelve members present. Rev. W. L. Goodell had charge of the program which was as follows, two vocal solos by Miss Vera McClatchey, two piano solos by Miss Elsie Peckham and short talk by Coach Wayne Riggs. Mr. Walter Lane, superintendent of the Western Asphalt corporation of Lincoln, Neb., was the guest speaker of the evening.

Mrs. Nellie Collier, who has been making her home with Rev. and Mrs. Wylie is staying in the Mills home at the present time. The Epworth League of the Methodist church held a "Hobo" party in the church basement Monday evening with about 40 young people present.

Card of Thanks. We wish to take this means of thanking our neighbors, lodge members and friends for their sympathy, assistance and many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dworak, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dworak, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Visek, Mr. and Mrs. Ludvick Visek, and their families. He Shucked Himself. Lee Nicholson and Herb Zinnel have been reading these stories of fast huskers that are going around but they claim none of them can compare with the dark horse from Sweetwater they are grooming for the county husking championship on the 26th.

 —Dr. and Mrs. Wilbert Nay were over from Albion Sunday to visit his mother, Mrs. Robert Nay and brothers George and Dr. Lee Nay and families.
 —Joe Knezacek returned from a trip to Omaha Wednesday evening. He had gone down the Sunday before, and was attending to business matters.
 —E. O. Carlson took his vacation from his duties at the Ord Co-op creamery last week and the week before. He is back on the job again this week.
 —Mrs. Roy Collison of Denver, Colo., is visiting here with Mrs. W. D. Shields and Mrs. Georgia Potter and other friends.—Holdrege Citizen.
 —Ardis Zikmund is the efficient clerk in the city clerk's office during the absence of Rex Jewett, who is having a go at the moose in Canada.
 —A daughter Sandra was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bergland Oct. 18, at their home at Whitler, Calif. She is the former Esther Zukoski, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Zukoski of Ord.
 —Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing drove to Atkinson Sunday to visit the E. C. Wellers. They had planned to go the week before, but put the trip off on account of the rain.
 —Truck No. 86 of the Western Public Service was in Ord Friday noon. The crew has been busy for several days overhauling the lines and cutting out tree limbs in this section.
 —For some time there has been a leak in a water pipe beneath the driveway at the Texaco station. Last week a hole was broken in the concrete, the pipe dug up and the leak repaired.
 —Pheasant season usually brings a number of well known people to Valley county. Sunday Foster May drove up from Omaha and spent the day out hunting with his friends, Aggaard Bros.
 —Monday evidently represented the end of the summer season over at the city hall, as F. J. Cohen and Len Covert were busy that morning taking down the awnings and screens of the windows and storing them for the winter.

—Mrs. Louis Zablouitl underwent a tonsillectomy at the Ord hospital Saturday morning.
 —Hattie Houtby who has been at Blair, is now at University Park, Ia., where her copy of the Quiz will reach her regularly.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nevrivy, living west of Ord, have been entertaining their cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Patena of Omaha and a daughter, Mrs. Kriger and son.
 —Arthur Mason took Jack Tunnell's place at the Safeway store Wednesday while Jack had a try at the elusive pheasant. How he fared has not been reported.

 —Leonard Manasil was home visiting his parents and brother and sister in Burwell. He is now in the law office of Theodore Richling, a former classmate in Creighton who is located in Omaha.
 —The Ord Co-op. Oil Company is sporting a newly painted truck which presents a very striking appearance with the word "Co-op" in black letters on a white field on each side of the tank. The work was done by the local artist, Syl Purtak.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Charles Brown of Tyler, Minn., cousins of the A. R. Braggs, arrived in Ord Sunday and visited until Tuesday forenoon, when they left on their way to Los Angeles to spend the winter. A letter from them Thursday showed that they had only driven as far as Pueblo in that time, due to the condition of the roads.
 —Merritt Fuson who has been spending several weeks on sick leave in Portland, Ore., writes from his home at Butte, Mont., to complain because his copy of the Quiz has failed, for the three weeks since he returned home, to reach him. It seems to be the fault of the Boss, and while no one but "Pat" would kick about a little thing like not getting something that he had paid for because he wanted it, we will try to see that it don't happen again.
 —James G. Hastings and daughter, Mrs. Will Ollis, went to Hastings Thursday afternoon, where they visited overnight with the O. P. R. Bell and Duane Armstrongs. From there they went to Friend, where they stayed overnight with Rev. Moore Bell, Mrs. Bell and the new son. They then went on to Kansas City, where they expected to visit Robert Armstrong and Ethel Ollis, returning some time this week.
 —Mrs. W. B. Johnson, sr., was down to Lincoln from Burwell all last week visiting her niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Abrahams. It will be recalled that Mr. Abrahams was one of the brothers who were in the fatal plane accident here nearly two months ago. Guy is still in a cast, having been there for the past six weeks, and it will doubtless take six weeks more before the cast can be removed. His condition at that time cannot now be predicted for certain, but the doctors believe he will eventually recover at least partial use of his limbs. Mrs. Johnson came to Ord on the train and went up to Burwell on the evening bus.

He's Best Young Farmer of 1936

Named by the National Future Farmers of America as the outstanding young farmer of 1936, Robert Lee Bristow, above, 21, of Saluda, Va., took over a run-down farm at the time of his parents' death, refinanced it, paid off all the debts, and bought it back from the owners. In four years he increased farm sales from $200 to $900 by changing from cotton farming to general agriculture, raising corn, small grain, beans, and livestock.

—Mrs. E. C. Leggett was able to return to her own home Sunday. She has been cared for at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Leggett since her return from the hospital a couple of weeks ago.
 —W. J. Campbell has rented the Roy Hansen farm east of Ord and will occupy it as soon as he gets this year's crop fed up where he is now located, further north in Springdale.
 —Frank Lukesh has been practically laid up with sciatic rheumatism for several days. It is troubling his right leg and it is all he can do to get around.
 —Eldon Lukesh came up from Wayne, Nebr., over the week end. He is employed on a project with a Lincoln firm, which has work at the present time at Wayne.
 —L. D. Milliken made a trip out to Big Springs the latter part of the week to see how his wheat is looking, and says it is better this fall than it has been for years. He has 125 acres on summer till. He went down Friday, doing some work at Lexington and Holdrege on the way out and returned to Ord Sunday afternoon.
 —H. W. Foster who has been living at Hillsdale, Ore., writes to have his paper discontinued until he gets located. He says they are taking a trip down through California and may locate there. He promises to advise us as soon as they locate.
 —Mrs. Erma Bohy of Ontario, Ore., was a Quiz visitor Saturday. Mrs. Bohy and family have been spending six weeks with Valley county relatives. The Ben Nauensbergs of Davis Creek are her parents. Mrs. Bohy says they like the western country fine. Ontario is located in the fruit section of eastern Oregon.
 —Mamie Siler writes from Burke, S. D., where she has been for some months with her brother Ed and family, to say that the first ice has come and that it is driving her back to her Long Beach home and that she wants her Quiz to be changed to California. Miss Siler says this is the first time she has seen ice frozen in fifteen years.
 —Lawrence Kuebler, who came here last spring from Amherst and opened up the Lepco store in the Keown building, closed out his goods Saturday and shipped the remainder. He and his brother Kermit, who has been here for nearly three weeks, left for their home at Amherst Saturday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Kuebler made many friends while here and it is a matter of regret to see them go.
 —John L. W. Nelson stopped in Ord Sunday on his return from a trip to Velma, where he and wife and son Freddie had spent several days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sanders and son Bobbie. He left Mrs. Nelson and Freddie here to visit with Mrs. W. A. Bartlett and other relatives for the week while he went down and made a run on the railway mall. He expects to come up the latter part of the week and take the family back home.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Kokes returned the latter part of last week from a month spent on an eastern trip, the high spot of which was two weeks spent with their daughter Miss Lenore in Washington D. C. Miss Lenore is employed in a government office. Mrs. Kokes says they had a wonderful visit and that Lenore wishes to be remembered to all her Valley county friends. On the way home they visited relatives in Chicago and friends in Cleveland, O. and at several other points. They went east on the northern route and came home via the southern route, thus seeing a lot of country.
 —Lieut. Claude M. Roe arrived at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Roe, shortly after midnight Saturday night. He was accompanied by Richard Oekmeche who is assistant under Lieut. Roe in the Oglala Indian school, and by Miss Mary Whitl, who is employed in the state house at Pierre, S. D. They came primarily to hunt pheasants, and the two men got six of them. They had dinner at the S. W. Roe home Sunday, with Howard Roe and Edgar Roe, wife and daughter also present. The party left for Pine Ridge at about 5:00 p. m. Sunday.

—The Roy Hansen family are leaving this week for the west coast but don't know just where they will locate until they get out there and look around. They promise to let their friends know about the country out there when they get located.
 —Mrs. S. E. Stover and Mrs. W. T. Barstow and daughter Marjorie came up from Lincoln Friday evening, Mrs. Stover visiting with Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller while here and the Barstows with Mrs. J. H. Capron. They returned home Monday morning.
 —Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andersen drove up from Lincoln Saturday to spend the week-end with relatives. Upon their return they were accompanied by Mrs. Hans Andersen, Frank's mother, who expected to visit briefly in Lincoln and then go on to Kirksville, Mo., for an extended visit with her daughter, Mrs. R. L. Beeghly and husband. The Vernon Andersen family were moving into Mrs. Hans Andersen's home Monday and will live there during her absence.

You Can't Go Wrong By Serving MEAT

Meat is one food that every member of your family likes; you are sure to please when you serve it. You are doubly sure to please if you serve meat secured from this market, for we take especial care always to see that you get the kind of meat you want.

Every day is bargain day at our market. We don't quote special low prices on one of two items for a day or two only, but instead hold prices on all items down to a low level every day in the year. Your pocketbook can tell the advantage of this policy if you make a habit of buying your meat here—always.

Misko and Mortensen Back From Trip East

C. J. Mortensen and Ralph Misko returned last Wednesday morning from a two weeks trip to the National Convention of the American Bankers' Association at Boston, Mass. There were a total of twelve delegates from Nebraska, and 5000 in all were registered for the meeting. They left for the morning of Oct. 6 in the Mortensen car, taking Mrs. Mortensen with them as far as Ida Grove, Iowa, where she stopped to visit friends. They took the northern route east, going through southern Canada and visiting in Montreal and Quebec. They found Montreal a very interesting place, and Ralph said he would gladly have spent the entire two weeks there. The English predominate in Montreal, but Quebec is largely French. The one question they asked the people there was what they thought of Eddie and Wally, and they found that the Canadians still have the highest respect for Windsor, although they do not endorse the move he made in renouncing the throne. The speakers at the convention were all big men, and all seemed to be opposed to the New Deal. They took the attitude that Roosevelt had started out all right, but that he went too far when he tried to obtain more power than he should have. On the way back they stopped in New York where they visited the stock exchange, which was in more or less of a turmoil, and the market was falling all the time. This fall the convention speakers attributed to two things, the special session the president is calling, which left a feeling of uncertainty, and that the new ideas the New Deal had instituted were just beginning to catch up. They also went to the Chase National bank, where the bankers could advance no definite reason for the break in the stock market. From New York they went to Washington, D. C. where the principal question they asked was about the New Deal. It proved difficult to get anyone to talk, and most of those who did seemed to favor it, which is not difficult to understand, as most of the city is on the government payroll, and is under the direct control of Congress. The two men enjoyed their trip very much and would have been glad to stay a while longer.

Not For Old Men.

The writer gets a lot of kick out of all athletic events, either professional or amateur, but for some reason or other we do not get enthusiastic over night football. Ordinarily in the day time we can take the weather rain or shine, but with the chilling night winds that predominate after sundown at this season of the year, the old bones rebel and we are content to don the house slippers and give our attention to a good book or the daily paper, and take the football second handed on the day following from those that can take the cool weather punishment. —Burwell Tribune.

What a Time!

Ina—So you had a date with a Scotchman last night?
Betty—Yes. He sure showed me a good time.
—Try a Quiz Want Ad. They get results.

Snakes in the Pantry.

If you opened the pantry door and found a bull snake as big as round as your wrist stretched out on the shelf, what would you do? Mrs. Kate Dodds living west of Valparaiso, called her son-in-law, Dick Martin, who lives on the same section. But when Dick arrived the snake had gone the way he came, through a small hole in the floor. After a thorough search of the pantry the hole was stopped up and the snake never came back. Some time later when her daughter, Mrs. Stella Martin, was there the same snake or a similar one was sighted high up in a big tree near the house. This time he failed to get away, however. After a neighbor lady was called and tried out a gun that failed to function, the ladies went after the big reptile with clubs as he was busy sliding down the tree. He never had a chance.—Wahoo Democrat.

Photographer Wins.

Summer Downey and his attorney, Emmet A. Harmon, both of O'Neill, Nebr., stopped in Sargent a while late Tuesday afternoon as they were returning to their homes from Broken Bow. They had been in that city to attend district court. Mr. Downey was arrested here about a year ago on a charge of violating an occupation tax ordinance in this city.—After listening to the testimony and the lawyers' talks, Judge Hostetler dismissed the case. It seems the paragraph applying to photographers is rather ambiguous in meaning and will have to be revised to be effective.—Sargent Leader.

They Met in Ord.

Governor Cochran was called upon by resolution to call a special session of the legislature as 25 officials of Howard, Valley, Wheeler and Greeley counties met at Ord with State Senator Tracy Frost. The resolution was adopted after a detailed discussion of the relief and assistance programs in the respective counties. It was the general opinion that while conditions were not desperate at present, they would be before winter is over. The resolution bore the signatures of Senator Frost and 14 County Commissioners.—Schuyler Sun.

Chanticleers Head Direct for Trouble In Ravenna Battle

Coach Johnson's 11 Pointed for Ord; Tunnelcliff Still Nursing Bruised Leg.

When Ord's Chanticleers move camp for Ravenna tonight they're headed straight for trouble.

Ravenna has a much better team this year than in the past and the Ord-Ravenna game has been "talked-up" in the Ravenna territory since the start of the season, so when Coach Brockman's proteges meet the Ravenna-ites this Wednesday night in a Mid Six game under the lights—there's going to be fireworks.

Coach Stan Johnson of Ravenna has two backfield stars who are doing work this season which would be a credit to any prep team in the state. Chick O'Neill is one of the boys—he has speed to burn and combined with Zoucha, another speedster, they make a deadly menace to the Chanticleers. On the line Jack Smaha is exceptionally brilliant on the Ravenna offensive.

One Ord regular will be out of the line-up tonight. Don Tunnelcliff, clever Ord quarter, is still on the sidelines recovering from injuries received in the Burwell-Ord mud battle two weeks ago. Don Dahlin, first class second-string backfield man will also be out of the line-up.

Against Arcadia last week, the Ravenna eleven made a wonderful showing. Coach Tuning's Arcadia machine was pushed to the limit to secure their 10-0 win, the Arcadia scoring being accomplished by means of a field goal and a long pass from Smith to Tubbs. If given the breaks, Ravenna would probably have chalked up a win over the Arcadians.

The Ravenna-Ord contest is being sponsored by the Ravenna Chamber of Commerce, who reported early this week that their special ticket drive will bring out a record-breaking attendance for the game. The contest is being played tonight because of the teachers' convention which starts Thursday.

Hold 'Em Gang! Ord Juniors Put Up Gallant Fight But Lost To Sargent Gridders in Third Quarter by Score of 25 to 12

Despite the rather formidable looking score, Ord junior high's 1937 football team did themselves proud last Friday as they staged a battle royal against the Sargent junior high "Bulldogs." This action photo gives you some idea of how both teams were really "digging in." At the half the Ordsters were holding the Bulldogs to a 6-6 tie.

Halfback Mason Too Much for Ord

Keith Wolfe's Ord junior high team would probably have rung up a victory last Friday afternoon over Sargent if it hadn't been for the work of a certain Mason, hefty Sargent halfback, who played a "wow" of a game for his team.

Wolfe's Ord crew held the Sargent lads in check the first half, the score standing at a 6-6 draw at the end of the second quarter.

It was nearing the end of the third quarter when the Sargent boys grabbed their old kit-bags and started for town. Led by Mason, the Bulldogs trampled their way through the Ord team in a manner which gave Ord fans more than a few shudders. Luckily, the Ord juniors regained their senses before the fourth quarter had progressed far and were able to hold the score down to the final 25-12 decision.

Henry Sowers did everything but eat the ball for the Ordites, showing exceptional playing ability. Gould Flagg, Jr., and Raymond Furtak both turned in nice pieces of work. George Cetak is to be commended for his playing in the game.

Ravenna Defeated By Arcadia, 10-0

Play continued at a rapid pace in the Mid Six and Loup Valley sport conferences this week, most of the contests on the week's bill ending as dopsters predicted.

After holding the entire game down for almost the entire game, fate played a hand and Burwell high's grid team went down to defeat in the last 60 seconds of play to the tune of 6 to 0. Last year the Bassett lads handed the Wranglers a 13 to 0 loss.

What was expected to be a scoring-fest for the Arcadia eleven turned out to be a tough game last Friday night when a fighting Ravenna machine hobbled Arcadia down to a meager 10-0 win.

St. Paul turned on the heat to take their first Mid Six win of the season at Broken Bow's expense as they scalped the Indians, 19 to 0. This game ended in a 6-6 deadlock last year.

Sargent managed to get by Merna, as they stopped the Merna team with a decisive 13-0 defeat. Ansley, the team which ran rings about Coach Brown's Loup City gridders this year, proved their strength Friday when they snapped Fullerton's winning streak, 7-6.

Larry French Plays With B. Bow Firemen

Larry French and Gerbert "Gabby" Francis formed the battery for the Broken Bow firemen in a special game played at Broken Bow last week in which the Lexington baseball team whipped the Bowmen, 4-3.

French, star pitcher with the Chicago Cubs, pitched the entire eleven innings which it took to decide the game winners. "Gabby" Hartnett, ace catcher for the Cubs, was also to have performed at Broken Bow but was forced at the last minute to give up the trip.

French is the first big league professional baseball player to play in this region for many years. He was literally swamped by hundreds of fans at Broken Bow who were after an autograph or a souvenir. French was very liberal with his autographs and even gave away parts of his uniform after the game.

Loup City Boxers Fight. Arnie Peters and Stack Bukowski, Loup City boxers, appeared in the semi-final matches of the American Legion boxing contest staged at Hastings Tuesday night. Peters was matched with Aldin Foote of Hastings and Bukowski met Curtis Smith, also of Hastings. Both Foote and Smith are Golden Glove champions.

Pheasant Season Ends; Hunting Poor

Ambitious Valley county pheasant hunters took their last shots at the wary birds Tuesday night as the ten-day open season of 1937 came to a close.

Ord hunters, as a whole, reported that the shooting this year was "fair". Very few of the nimrods came home from a hunt without a single bird; but fewer still came home with their limits.

Most of the hunters found good shooting throughout the ten-day period in the river bottoms, but toward the end of the season many reported good sport was to be found in secluded canyons and ravines, as the birds took refuge in these places.

Pheasants, for some unknown reason, have migrated from the eastern to the western half of the state. Whether the severe winter, or the summer drought, or both, forced them to move is a problem yet unsolved. The hatch was light in the eastern half of the state while the adult birds themselves seem to have moved out.

Reports have gotten out that grasshopper poison has killed many of the birds, but the state game commission says this is not true. The commission ran tests with a flock of birds, feeding them poisoned grasshoppers for a period of time. No ill effects were noticed on the birds.

Teachers' Meetings Cut Into Schedule

Annual meetings of the Nebraska State Teachers' association to be held this Thursday and Friday cuts into the Mid Six and Loup Valley conference football schedules this week.

Most of the conference teams will see action however, games being played on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday nights. Among the games listed for the week are: Scotia at Arcadia; Comstock at Ansley; Broken Bow at Loup City; Ord at Ravenna; and Burwell at North Loup.
