Jones Asks Court To Enter Judgment In $41,800.00 Suits

Middle Loup Didn't Answer,
Charges Omaha Promoter;
Asks Directed Verdict.

That Judge E. G. Kroger, of the 11th judicial district, enter judgment for $41,800 in his favor in two suits against the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation District is the request of D. E. Wynn Jones, the Omaha promoter and engineer, in filings made Saturday in district court at Ord.

On April 26, 1937, Jones filed a $10,000 suit against the district and on May 14, 1937 he filed a second suit for $31,800. Both claimed the district owed him these amounts of money for services performed by Jones as engineer and attorney in organizing and promoting the $1,500,000 PWA-financed project, which is now well on the way to completion.

A hearing on these suits was held before Judge Kroger on Nov. 29, and the Middle Loup district was given 30 days in which to file an answer. When this period of time expired without an answer having been filed, Promoter Jones' attorneys, Ziegler, Dunn and Baker, of Omaha, moved to have judgments totalling $41,800 entered against the defendant in favor of their client.

In one of the suits the Omaha National Bank, as trustee for the Middle Loup, is named as a co-defendant.

Attorney for the Middle Loup is C. A. Sorenson, of Lincoln, who has been notified of Jones' motion for a directed verdict.

In all probability Judge E. G. Kroger will come to Ord to hear the motions early in 1938.

67 Traffic Offenses

In Ord Police Court

During 1937 sixty-three traffic violators were convicted in Police Judge John L. Andersen's court, according to his annual report, which was compiled Monday. The 63 traffic violators and 4 who violated other city ordinances paid a total of $572.00 in fines and costs.

Until March, when Ord's safety campaign got under way, there were no cases tried before the police judge. In March there were a total of 29 arrests, with fines and costs amounting to $275.00. In April eight arrests brought in $64. May's total was $49 for six violations. In June 12 violations accounted for $103.50. July had four arrests totalling $34. Two arrests in August brought in $15. There were no arrests in September. Three in October resulted in collection of $30.50, two in November brought in $39 and one in December $9.50.

Fifty-three of the arrests were for speeding, fifteen for running stop signs, two for intoxication, two for reckless driving, one for setting off firecrackers in the city limits, one for setting a fire with in city fire limits and one for driving with only one light.

There was a marked decline in traffic offenses as the year progressed, there being 55 in the first six months against 12 for the last six months.

Series of Meetings

For Youthful Farmers

A series of educational meetings for young farmers will be held at the Ord high school, starting next Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The first hour will be devoted to the discussion of agricultural topics. The second hour will be spent in playing basketball, volleyball, or some other recreational sport.

Farm youths between the ages of 14 and 25 who are not going to school are especially invited to these sessions. It will cost nothing to attend. This type of work is financed by the federal board for vocational education, and has been conducted by the local vocational agriculture department for a number of years.

Mrs. Chas. Garbacz has moved to Ord and had her Quiz changed here from North Loup.

Burwell Catholics

Are Given a Bell

Burwell — (Special) — The bell that hung in the tower of the old Burwell grade school building and summoned so many generations of children to school, in disuse since the new building was completed, was bought recently by Mrs. Jennie Perliniski and presented to the Catholic church, which did not have a bell before.

The bell was hung in the church tower and rang for the first time on Christmas eve.

Mrs. Perliniski is the mother of John Perliniski, former Ord meat market owner, now of Los Angeles, Calif.

INTRODUCING VALLEY COUNTY'S FIRST 1938 BABY

A 6 1/2 pound baby girl born in Ord at 12:45 a. m. Monday, January 3, shown here with her mother and Dr. J. G. Kruml, who ushered her into the world, is Valley county's first 1938 baby. She has been named Carol Anne and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond D. Pocock.

Announce Completion 21 Flume Structures

By rushing work as fast as possible, construction of 21 flume structures which are included in the North Loup project has been completed. Most of the concrete flumes, which lie along the top of the steel structures, have been laid in place.

A coat of aluminum paint must be given to all structures before the flumes can be called "completed." According to present plans this will be done in the spring. The three concrete siphons on the project are nearly finished. Two of the siphons are to be found near Taylor and the other, the smallest of the three, is located north of Elyria.

Production Credit Ass'n Meets Jan. 12

Farmers and stockmen holding membership in the Broken Bow Production Credit association will hold their fourth annual meeting on Monday, Jan. 10 in the Public Service club's rooms at Broken Bow, according to Fred Bates, president. It will start at 10:30 a. m. This association serves Custer, Valley, Loup, Blaine, Logan and Thomas counties. Present directors include Walter Gibbons, of Comstock, C. E. Johnson, of Theodor, J. L. Millsap, of Sargent, and A. F. Bates, of Halsey. L. G. Sullivan of Broken Bow, is secretary-treasurer.

Chamber to Meet January 20 And Elect New Heads

Terms of Misko, Springer and Four Directors Expire; K. P. Hall Place.

At a brief session Tuesday evening, directors of the Ord chamber of commerce decided on Thursday, January 20 as date of the annual meeting of all members, at which time new officers and directors will be chosen. The meeting will be held in the K. of P. hall and a feed and entertainment, as well as annual reports of officers, will be included in the program.

The terms of John P. Misko, president, and Tom Springer, vice-president, have expired, as have the terms of George Allen, Ed P. Beranek and E. C. Leggett as directors. A fourth director also must be elected to replace Dwight Keyes, who has left the city. Within a few days President Misko will appoint a nominating committee. Other arrangements for the annual meeting are in charge of Alfred Wiegardt, secretary, and Dr. F. A. Barla, chairman of the entertainment committee.

It's Miss Bernice Brady Now.

Miss Betty Brady, daughter of Mrs. Bernice Brady, met a member of the force on the street Monday and imparted the information that her name is now Miss Bernice Brady. Betty was all right in 1937 when she had to get about with the aid of crutches, but now that she can run around like other little folks she feels that she is entitled to her full name. The Quiz agrees that she is entitled to change her first name, and perhaps in the years to come she may wish to change the second name also. She might even become a movie star and change her name entirely.

Attractive Gifts Will Be Presented To First Arrival

Quiz Will Issue Credentials to Parents, Enable Them to Claim the Prizes.

A fortunate little girl is Carol Anne Pocock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Pocock, who was born in Ord at 12:45 a. m. Monday, January 3, and was Valley county's first 1938 baby.

She will be the recipient of a great array of handsome gifts offered through the Quiz last week by twelve Ord business men and women. Carol Anne's parents and the attending physician, Dr. J. G. Kruml, also will receive gifts.

Carol Anne was born in the home of Mrs. Albert Dahlin in Ord with Dr. Kruml as physician and Mrs. Dahlin as nurse. She weighed 6 1/2 pounds at birth and is pronounced "an unusually healthy and attractive baby" by Dr. Kruml.

Parents of Valley county's first 1938 child are both native Valley county people. Mrs. Pocock is the former Miss Anna Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson of Haskell Creek community, and Mr. Pocock is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Pocock, of Malden Valley.

The baby's father is an engineer employed by the state highway department and at the present time is working out of Kearney. Mrs. Pocock came to Ord a week or two before her infant's birth to visit her parents.

At the convenience of Mr. and Mrs. Pocock, they may call at the Quiz office and be given a letter certifying that Carol Anne was Valley county's first 1938 baby and entitling them to call at the various stores offering gifts and claim them. They may have a friend or relative call for the letter and claim the gifts if they desire.

These stores and the prizes they will award include the Brown-McDonald Co., a layette consisting of shirt, garter, dress, gown, kimono, sague, booties and hose; Springer's Variety Store, a baby bunting; Sorensen Drug store, a baby set—brush, comb and rattle; the Beck-Dugan Oil Co., $1.00 in cash as a savings account starter; Chase's Toggery, three pairs of silk and wool hose; Ed P. Beranek, a baby hot water bottle; Frazier's, a high chair; Ord Cold Storage, a gallon of Fairmont ice cream and three pints of fresh frozen strawberries; Aulsebrook's, a baby ring; Stoltz Variety Store, a crib blanket and a pair of silk moccasins; Kokes Hardware, a baby chair; Russell's Pharmacy, $1.00 worth of McKesson products.

To the baby's father the Beck-Dugan Oil Co. will give five gallons of gasoline and two quarts of motor oil, and to Dr. J. G. Kruml the Ord Cold Storage will give a gallon of Fairmont ice cream and three pints of fresh frozen strawberries.

All of Valley county will welcome Carol Anne Pocock, the first 1938 baby, and express wishes for her future health and happiness.

Three Collins' Will Sell.

Planning to move to Missouri, three members of the Collins family will have public auctions. The C. E. Collins sale Wed. Jan. 12, and the Art and Cliff Collins' sale on Fri. Jan. 14, are advertised in this issue. See the ads.

Loup City Newspapers Will Be Consolidated

Saturday a newspaper deal of interest throughout Nebraska was announced at Loup City, when M. R. Beushausen, publisher of the Sherman County Times, completed negotiations with R. W. Sexty, owner of the Loup City Leader, to consolidate the Leader with the Times under the name of the latter.

Beushausen becomes sole owner of the newspaper properties and Sexty will leave Loup City, going probably to the west coast. This consolidation will give advertisers better service at a reduced price and will obviate the necessity of Loup City people taking two newspapers to get the news of their community. It also will make possible financially publication of a better newspaper than Loup City has ever had before.

Report of County Business For 1937

County Judge John L. Andersen has given the Quiz a report of the activities of his office for the year 1937, which compares with the business for 1936 as follows: There were 71 marriage licenses issued in 1936, and 59 in 1937; 1936 had 65 criminal cases and 1937 had 67; civil cases for 1936 totaled 66 as compared to 55 for the past year; there were 47 estate cases in 1936, and 33 in 1937; one adoption is reported for 1936, and 2 for 1937; guardianships increased from 10 to 14, and mother's pensions dropped from 7 to 4; there were no commitments to the feeble minded institute either year.

Hans D. Nielsen Dies, Buried Here

The happiness of the holiday season was marred for relatives in Ord when they received word of the sudden passing Dec. 26 of Hans D. Nielsen at his home in St. Paul, Minn., the cause of his death being heart trouble. Hans D. Nielsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Nielsen, was born in Hunsland, Denmark, Oct. 1, 1885. He was baptized and confirmed as an infant and a youth respectively.

He migrated to America, spending about 16 years in Council Bluffs, Ia., and Omaha. He moved to St. Paul, Minn., where he made his home until his sudden passing, Dec. 26, at the age of 52 years, 2 months and 25 days. He was preceded in death by his mother and father and a brother, George. He leaves to mourn his departure his step-mother, Mrs. Nielsen; three sisters, Mrs. Bertha Larsen of Ord, Mrs. Bodil Hawley of Taylor and Mrs. Marie Hunt of Defiance, Ia.; two brothers, Nels Nielsen of Ord and Andrew Nielsen of Denmark; and also a host of other relatives and many friends.

Funeral services were held from Sowl's chapel Saturday morning, Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany Lutheran church officiating, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery. About a year ago Mr. Nielsen paid a visit to his relatives here the first time he had seen them in eight years.

1937 Rainfall 17.27 Inches, Three Inches Under the 10 Year Average

Football Banquet Tonight Features Lyman and Movies

University Line Coach Will Speak As Ord Honors Its Grid Squad of 1937.

Advance ticket sale for Ord's annual football banquet, to be held at 6:30 tonight at the Ord high school auditorium, were satisfactory and a group of 200 or more will gather to honor Coach H. F. Brockman and his 1937 gridiron squad, which went through the season undefeated and won championships of the Mid-Six and Loup Valley conferences.

Principal speaker will be Roy "Link" Lyman, line coach at the University of Nebraska, a great tackle when he played on the Cornhusker team and in professional football afterward. Coach Lyman is an able speaker and his talk is being eagerly awaited.

C. C. Dale will serve as toastmaster and brief talks will be made by Coach Brockman and other men identified with athletics in Ord. Methodist ladies will serve the banquet.

Movies of Cornhusker games of this and other seasons will be the main entertainment following the dinner and speaking program.

The banquet is being sponsored by the Ord chamber of commerce in cooperation with the Ord schools.

Implement Dealers To Have Free Movies

Farmers of Valley and adjacent counties are invited by Beiers & Kellison, dealers here for the John Deere Company, to be their guests at a program of free movies to be given on Wednesday, Jan. 12, at the Ord Theatre, starting at 1:30 p. m. Four feature length talking pictures will be shown. Only one picture deals with new improvements in farm machinery, the others being solely for entertainment purposes. Last January a crowd of over 600 saw the John Deere Day program and Chris Beiers and Orin Kellison are hoping the crowd next Wednesday will be fully as large.

Spearman Here To Buy Right-of-Way

B. R. Spearman, engineer employed by the right-of-way division of the state highway department, arrived in Ord Tuesday and expects to remain here several days negotiating with owners of land on the route of No. 11 highway relocation. Mr. Spearman has been working in County Clerk Klimma's office thus far, figuring amount of borrow dirt that will be necessary and doing other figuring so he will be prepared to make a definite proposition to each land owner involved.

Last week A. G. Williams, chief of the right-of-way department, spent two days here looking into the No. 11 situation and when he left for Lincoln he promised to send Engineer Spearman here with instructions to buy right-of-way at once, if at all possible, so the new highway may be included in projects to be let in February.

Miss Sylvia Baker came back Sunday evening on the bus from her visit to friends at Green River, Wyo.

Ice Cutting, Fishing, Skating at No. Loup

North Loup — (Special) — The Stude bayou is a scene of unusual activity this week with the annual ice harvest in progress and the pastimes of fishing and ice skating flourishing side by side.

Bud Beebe, with a power saw is cutting the ice which is said to be from 8 to 12 inches thick and of good quality. As blocks are removed for storage, people are fishing in the open water with great success. Saturday Dave Ingraham caught three large carp and Sunday he caught eight; others have reported success also. The spring-like weather is making fishing a season unusual for them, is the belief.

Every evening ice skaters, old and young, are enjoying the sport at the bayou and there have been many visitors also to see the beaver workings. The dam made by the beavers has been cut into by ice harvesters and many are wondering now what the beavers' next move will be.

Summer Moisture About Normal But Heat Ruined Corn

2 Disastrous Hot Winds, Big Hall Storm, Features of Year, Says Travis.

Valley county's average annual rainfall is steadily decreasing, reveals a weather report of the year 1936 compiled by Maurice W. Travis, reporter for the Ord station.

Rainfall last year totalled 17.27 inches as compared with a 10-year average of 20.45 inches, the Travis compilation shows. In 1936 the total moisture was 15.06, in 1935 was 27.32, in 1934 was 10.98 and in 1933 was 21.34.

By months, 1937 rainfall in Ord came as follows: January, .54; February, .07; March, .89; April, .93; May, 3.44; June, 2.10; July, 3.47; August, 2.07; September, 1.42; October, 2.05; November, .12; December, .17.

"As for temperatures," states Mr. Travis, "they were not far from normal except in three or four cases, and two of the cases proved very disastrous to our crops."

"You will remember that January, 1937 was an extremely cold month as a whole, giving us zero and sub-zero weather 20 days of the month. However, we did not reach the low temperatures of January and February of 1936, which gave us 28 consecutive days of sub-zero weather with an average low of 13 degrees below zero for that period and with an average low from February 4 to 10 of 19 1/2 degrees below zero.

"Temperatures for the balance of the winter and spring of 1937 ran about normal or a little above due to the season being dry. No thing happened worthy of mention until in June, when on the 22nd, 23rd and 24th we encountered extremely high temperatures of 101 to 105 and hot winds, which was our first weather disaster of the year."

Wheat and all small grains were almost completely destroyed by this 3-day spell of June heat and hot wind points out Travis.

"The first part of July was about normal but on the 18th we were visited by the heavy hail that took a wide strip of corn in the west and south portions of the county," his report continues. "The last week of July was hot and windy, followed by two more weeks of dry winds and high temperatures in August, which was the second disastrous period of the growing season and killed most of our corn crop except a few spots here and there over the county and in the river bottom fields."

Normal temperatures prevailed during September and October and slightly above normal temperatures through November and December, all four months being lacking in normal moisture.

The cooperative weather reporting station in Ord has been in existence 49 years and a scrutiny of records for the entire period shows that heaviest came in 1905, with 42.30 inches, and lightest in 1934, with 10.98 inches.

Business of District Court Clerk's Office

Showing Big Increase

A vast increase in the business handled by Alfred A. Wiegardt, clerk of the district court, and his assistants, took place in 1937 and is revealed by his annual report, completed this week.

Seventy-two foreclosures were commenced as compared with 33 in 1936; 78 foreclosure actions were completed, compared with 51 the previous year; eleven divorce actions were started, compared with only 3 in 1936; there were 6 criminal cases, compared with 5. And fees taken in by the office and turned over to the Valley county general fund were $1,956.55, as compared with $1,722.66 in the previous year.

50th Anniversary Of Great Blizzard

Next Wednesday, Jan. 12, will be the fiftieth anniversary of the famous blizzard of 1888, in which Minnie Freeman, teacher of the Middle school, met undying fame. No less than six of the pupils who attended school there at that time still live in Valley county. They are Bud Bell, Mrs. Ben Eberhart, Mrs. Marion Crosby and Miss Lizette Hackett of Ord, and Henry and Ed Lee of North Loup. Oliver Bell of Halsey and Mrs. W. J. Robinson of Lincoln were also pupils.

Corlett Fatally Injured by Auto

C. E. Corlett, 80 years old and in former years a well known Ord farmer, was fatally injured recently when struck by a car in Alhambra, Calif., where he had been living since the death of his daughter, Edith Corlett Purvis on Sept. 2. Mr. Corlett was walking east on the south side of Valley Boulevard, in Alhambra, and was struck by a car driven by a man named Carl C. Smith, who was released by police after an investigation.

The former Ord man was treated at an Alhambra hospital for a fractured back or pelvis, a skull fracture and numerous cuts. He died the next day. The body was taken to Nampa, Ida., where the Corletts lived for 20 years after leaving Ord.

Mr. Corlett owned an 80 acre farm and a quarter section near Ord at the time of his death. His widow and one son, John, survive.

Mrs. Corlett will visit in Nampa for a time, then go to Alhambra, Calif., to live with her son John.

Christmas Decorations Taken Down Tuesday

Taking advantage of Valley county's "California weather," city electricians worked Monday and Tuesday taking down the decorations which made Ord such a beautiful city during the holiday season. Even the across-street streamers of lights, in place ever since the 1936 irrigation celebration, were removed and stored away.

Last winter, it will be remembered, a January cold spell with heavy snow and hard wind prevented removal of decorations for almost a month after Christmas.

Extensive Changes At Frazier Chapel

Extensive remodeling and improvements at the Frazier funeral parlors will start soon, the Quiz learns. New draperies will be hung, a new casket background built and redecorating will be done throughout. The work will be done as soon as materials, which have been ordered, arrive in Ord.

NEW FUNERAL DIRECTORS WELCOMED

Bouquets of flowers, speaking literally, were the portion of these young men on New Year's Day when they officially took possession of the former Sowl Mortuary, bought by them recently. The bouquets were sent by a number of Ord business men to convey the welcome this community extends to them. Shown here are Hilding O. Pearson (left) and Wilmer M. Anderson, both of Wahoo, who bought the Sowl Mortuary about thirty days ago. Monday evening Messrs. Pearson and Anderson were guests of the Ord Rotary club at dinner. Their establishment will be known as the Pearson-Anderson Mortuary.

Then a day or two before Christmas John began to tell her he had bought her a Christmas present.

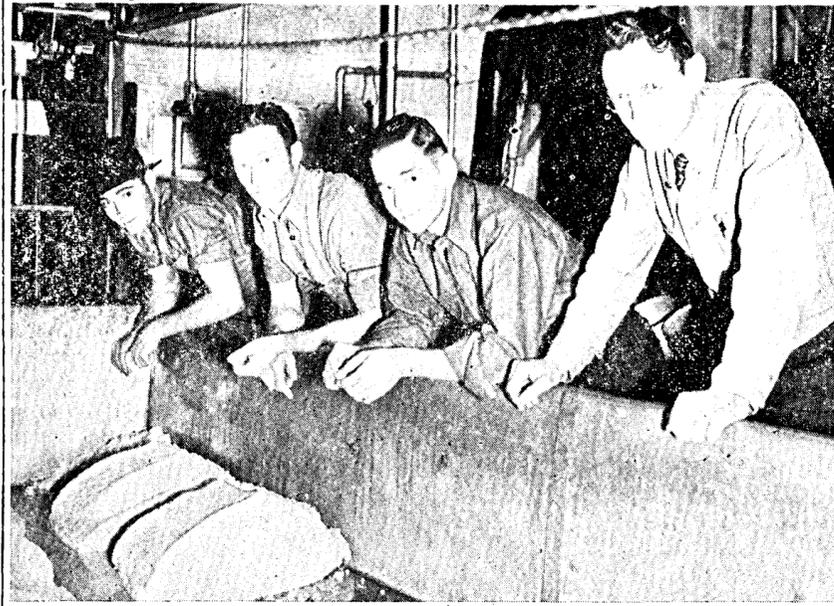

But when the presents were opened, she found a shiny new cake pan. And more, a graduate, the glass kind druggists use to pour and measure their concoctions.

One Ord school teacher was alarmingly frank when asked what she wanted Santa to get her for Christmas.

Of all the thoughtful gifts, one I much appreciated was a great big avocado, sent from Long Beach by a dear little friend, Mrs. Perry Bell.

Did you read about Miss Norma Carpenter winning an $8,000 home in a national contest a few days ago? This Lincoln girl is a very dear friend and former schoolmate of mine.

For a couple of years past, Norma has been spending her evenings working on contests, the new American entertainment. And she has won many pounds of coffee, two or three radios, many money prizes, a variety of other stuff.

As someone remarked, it proves they actually do give prizes in these contests. Some skeptics never credited it before. But they will surely believe it when they see that house.

SHALL PEOPLE VOTE ON WAR?

The question of paramount importance before the American people today is whether they shall have the right to vote on the question of war. Many of our greatest statesmen incline to the opinion that the power to declare war should rest with the people who suffer most when and if war is declared. They contend that the present system is government without the consent of the governed, and unconstitutional.

When our forefathers adopted the constitution of the United States they knew that they were not perfect and that some mistakes were inevitable. They further knew that the growth of the republic would bring to light conditions not covered by the original document. For this reason they made provision for amending the constitution by the will of the people. The founders of our state made a like provision.

Our federal constitution has been amended twenty-one times. The first guaranteed religious freedom. The second permitted the establishment of state militia. The act relative to the quartering of soldiers, the protection from unreasonable searches, the right of speedy trial, the right of jury trial, protection from excessive bail, are among the rights mentioned in the earlier amendments. Article thirteen abolished slavery, fourteen gave the negro certain rights, fifteen made him a voter. The eighteenth amendment abolished liquor, the nineteenth gave women the right to vote. The twenty-first repealed the eighteenth amendment. In 1920 Nebraskans voted on 41 amendments to the state constitution, all of which were carried. All of these, together with all the amendments to the United States Constitution, were not more important to the people than a war would be.

If the public is to have the privilege of deciding minor matters, such as the election of supreme court judges by districts and the changes of county boundaries, why deny the right of franchise in the most vital event that can arise in the lives of humanity, the question of war? If we have the right to determine by constitutional amendment priority rights in the use of the state's water power, why should we not vote on the use in war of the state's man power?

The constitutional amendment asked for does not contemplate war, but it does intend to give to the people of the United States the right to vote on whether war is to be declared or not. Our forefathers had in mind war of invasion when they adopted the constitution, and it would be manifestly impossible to refer the matter to the people in case an enemy attempted to invade the United States. It would require a delay that might easily be fatal.

The United States has been engaged in three wars that might be classed as offensive wars. The Mexican War, the Spanish-American war, and the World War. If we are absolutely honest with ourselves, we must admit that none of these was too popular. It is true a lot of enthusiasm was aroused, especially among the stay-at-homes, the munitions manufacturers and the jingo press. But looking back today, we must admit if we are honest that none of the three had the hearty approval of the public.

The boys who fought in that war to end wars are not in favor of war upon foreign soil. Ask any of them and they will tell you in no uncertain terms. They are the ones whose opinion should be considered, for they know what war is. Today, by practically the same conditions existing as in 1898, it is doubtful if one percent of the people are in favor of war. The shadow of the World War is too near.

In every war a large percent of those who fight and die are not old enough to vote on the question if they had a chance. Why not give the mothers who suffer the most, and the fathers who have a share of the expenses to pay, a right to vote war upon themselves? If a young man is old enough to fight he should have the privilege of voting for he not only suffers the horrors of war, but if he survives, he must pay his share of the cost for years afterwards.

The weather is the one thing people talk about more than anything else, and yet it is one phase of our lives over which we have no control.

A WELL EARNED BOUQUET.

According to Quiz records the Boss was the publisher of the Valley County Times forty years ago. Thirty years ago he was manager of the hardware concern known as the Ord Mercantile Co. Twenty years ago with this issue he became both editor and owner of the Ord Quiz, at a price of $18,000.00, at that time the highest price ever paid for a weekly paper in Nebraska.

In his first number he made the following announcement: "The Quiz has always taken high rank among the newspapers of the state. None has surpassed it and few have equalled it either for quality or quantity of local news, or for typographical appearance. I may not hope to surpass that kind of a record but shall try to keep it up to the high standard maintained by Mr. Haskell.".....

It is not necessary to state to the hundreds of old time subscribers that the course of the Quiz for the past twenty years has been one of constant improvement. To the Boss the betterment of the Quiz has always come first and the question of expense second. It is for this reason that the subscription list has grown from 1600 twenty years ago to about 3000 today.

To take a good paper and map out a course of constant improvement over a period of twenty years is an achievement of which any one has a right to be proud. Keeping up the standard of quality at a reduced price through the worst depression this country has known is little short of a miracle. But the Boss asks no special credit. The satisfaction of a job well done is its own reward to him.

The Quiz was the first weekly in Nebraska to take on the Auto-caster Service, the Meyer-Both mat service, the first to have its circulation audited and the first to put in its own photo-engraving plant. Today its engraving service is equal to any in the entire state. Long ago the Quiz discarded the use of patent material. All these were adopted that the public might be better served, and the public has shown its appreciation by its hearty support.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS.

It is a well known point of law that a verbal contract is not worth the paper it is written on.

There was once a man who had a little dog whose job was to bark and wake up the big dog when his help was needed. Perhaps Japan is the little dog whose bark is supposed to wake up the big dogs of war in Europe.

The old bachelor is the best authority on married life, and the old maid knows all about the care and raising of infants. The same goes for most of the would-be reformers one hears on the streets. The little boys who persist in skating on thin ice are not to be blamed. The government has been setting the example for them for a number of years.

President Jefferson bought Louisiana, including Nebraska, for 3c per acre 135 years ago. It would take a pretty good man today to buy a quarter at 3c an acre and keep up the taxes on it.

The pioneers had their skirmishes with the Indians who roamed up and down the valley, but history records only two who were killed in the North Loup valley by them. Today the autos race up and down the valley and kill that many or more every year, and we take it as a matter of course.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Well, here we are launched on another year. I hope 1938 will long be remembered as a year of good crops and good business.

In sending out January 15 Quiz expiration cards I stated that a postage free envelope was being enclosed for the convenience of subscribers. But I didn't enclose it to people in Ord and vicinity whom I knew would come to the office anyhow.

And now I know that another butchering season has rolled around for Friday my good friend Bert Cornell brought me a nice bowl of home made sausage. Bert has been remembering me this way for several years and his visit means that the Missus must set a batch of buckwheat cakes. You know there is nothing better than home made sausage with buckwheat cakes and I like to be liberal with the sausage gravy on the hot cakes. No butter on cakes for me, when I have good sausage gravy. Thanks a lot Bert and may you be able to make sausage every year for at least another forty-three, the time I have known you.

Nine hundred million dollars, the amount the president is going to ask congress to furnish with which to enlarge the navy, is a lot of money. If we enlarge the navy that much and double the size of the army and then go over and sass the Japs, there ought to be no trouble in our getting into a war with someone. And Senator Norris is for the increase. Heretofore he has always been more or less opposed to such things. I guess Senator Norris would be in favor of making a moon out of green cheese and setting it up in opposition to the moon we have been using so long. If Roosevelt should propose it.

The only reason I can think of why any Valley county person in

Not Our War? In Praise of Trees $8,000 Home Many Men Honest

"Now Supposin"

"Now Supposin", a gang of toughs from over in Malden Valley, (if there are any toughs in Malden Valley) would get their heads together and decide they wanted a little more land and didn't want to buy it in the regular way. Dearly for a few years they map the country and gather up a lot of arms and ammunition and then decide that McClellans and Jorgensens and Shultz are not so strong and that their places will be the ones to take.

So this gang starts out shooting, destroying crops, killing women and children, burning buildings and doing any damage that comes their way in their mad escapade. The rest of us stand back in horror and say, "look bad for McClellans, but they will have to fight their own battles. It is not our fight and we do not believe in war. More than that, at the first start of the shooting we actually help the toughs and gangsters for at once we refuse to sell arms to either party. The gangsters do not need the arms, they have been planning this for several years, but McClellans are almost helpless against the onslaught because they were attacked unexpectedly and did not prepare for war.

Even a little more than that occurs. One of our trucks gets in the way of the gangster's mad rampage and they blow it to pieces. They do it on purpose and then they politely apologize. Still we say it is not our war. Let McClellans and Jorgensens and Shultz take care of themselves. And then someday we take a long journey. We expect, at the end of it a long rest, with golden streets and sweet harp music. We come to a large pair of gates—gates studded with pearls, and in that gate sits a man named Pete. He is a judge—he has a big black robe and long white whiskers. We go up to him smiling. We expect to walk right in. We have been peaceful. We have earned our living. We have even signed a petition to be sent to Congress to keep us out of war.

But this man Pete looks down at us through the brush. He speaks in a deep bass voice. "George," he booms, "Have you been your brother's keeper?" And then you think of all the sufferings those McClellans have gone through, of the Jorgensens' children that have been blinded and maimed and killed, of Shultz' buildings that have been burned. In shame you turn around and start down the hill. Ahead of you there is another gate. You are welcome there but it does not look so restful, and in place of harp music there is the crackling of fire like that on Shultz' barns, and agonies like you had seen before at McClellans'.

Factory Loss. The recent drop in cream prices came at a very inopportune time for the creameries and cheese factories. The price dropped on the day, or very near to it, that the dividends were issued.

Dog Bites Burwell Boy. Ronnie Meister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Connie Meister of Burwell was bitten on the left cheek by a dog one day last week. He was taken to Dr. R. S. Cram who dressed the wound. It is not believed that the dog had rabies.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

To Spend or Save Is Roosevelt's Unsolved 1938 Business Problem

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — Reports made to the President by his close advisers on the condition of business are conflicting, and it's anybody's guess which ones he will finally believe. If that could be accurately forecast it would be possible to see pretty clearly what will be the administration's attitude in the new year.

The conservatives who have Roosevelt's ear are telling him that business will revive more quickly if he adopts a "hands off" policy. Contradicting those who preach that "lack of confidence" is responsible for the current "recession," Dr. Leon Henderson, chief economist of WPA, says:

"The plain truth of the matter is that business in general had too much confidence, and speculated in inventory buying."

He supports this point by saying further, "When a corporation is uncertain about the future, it does not buy materials, supplies and new machinery. Business went blindly ahead even when many storm warnings were signalling that the great mass of consumers lacked purchasing power to take their goods off the market."

If the President has faith in this theory, he may strike out at business again. Confirmation may be found for this prophecy in a speech made recently by Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson to the Consumers' National Federation which had White House approval. Jackson said in part:

"The attempt last spring to taper off government expenditures was spoiled by the failure of private enterprise to realize that the consumer could not be gouged without serious effect upon the survival of private enterprise itself. . . . The government not only knows it must step in, if necessary, if private enterprise cannot adjust to conditions, but the government is organized to do so in time as it was not organized in the emergency days of 1933."

If the President reflects this attitude in his administration next year, the effect will be to expand government spending. If he decides not to chastise business or Congress but to let "well enough alone," he will probably make the international crisis the chief concern of the White House in the early days of 1938.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A fine herd of Brown Swiss cattle has been established on the farm of Henry Grossnichlaus, eighteen miles south of Ord. They are new to this community, distinctly different and worth going to see.

The Brown Swiss is our fifth ranking dairy breed. They are growing in popularity, especially in regions of high altitude, and in more sterile sections of the eastern United States. Several points may be given in their favor.

Brown Swiss are blocky, and make excellent dual-purpose animals. The cows scale up to sixteen hundred pounds. The calves often weigh one hundred pounds at birth, fatten easily, and produce good veal.

Swiss cattle are easy keepers. They do well on a limited amount of roughage feed, and are not bothered by cold weather. They are steady milkers, giving milk that tests about 4 percent in quality. Their disposition is gentle, quiet and sensible.

Brown Swiss are long lived. A 14-year-old cow, "Believe" of Minnesota, gave over a thousand pounds of butterfat in 365 days. It was a world's record for all breeds.

Swiss cattle have been bred with much purity and care by Swiss farmers since ancient and prehistoric times. A result they are very uniform as to size, shape, color, yield and disposition. Some devotees maintain that "you can buy them with your eyes shut and get a good one."

Brown Swiss cattle are rugged. They inherit their sturdiness from ancestors who were obliged to roam the mountains of Switzerland. When crossed with other breeds of grade dairy cattle, they will add vigor and hardiness, as well as a higher value at the butcher's.

But the Brown Swiss also have some faults. In appearance they seem to be rather coarse, wastly, and lacking quality. From a profitable dairying viewpoint they cannot compete with Holsteins, Jerseys or Guernseys.

Farmers generally find it wiser to stick to the old livestock breeds that have been most numerous and popular in their neighborhood. Thus they can exchange breeding stock, market their products cooperatively and profit more in other ways. The average community already has too many different breeds of livestock.

Preparation for Service

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 9. Text: Mark 1:1-13

NOTED for its simplicity and directness, the Gospel of St. Mark has been called the "Gospel of Deeds," principally because it is full of action, with little reference to speculative matters, or incidents having no bearing on the main portion of the story of Christ's mission.

It is supposed to be the earliest of the gospels, in point of time, although it is second among books of the New Testament.

There is no reference to the birth or childhood of Jesus, and we come immediately into the story of John the Baptist preparing the way, and of Jesus coming from Nazareth to be baptized in the Jordan. The word "straightway" applied to the coming of Jesus out of the waters of baptism is typical of this Gospel of Mark.

But this gospel of action ends in this lesson, with the gospel of preparation. Jesus does not come from His baptism immediately into the full activities of life and service. We see Him, rather, going into the wilderness, and there undergoing the temptation that was to try Him and prepare Him for His life work.

SERVICE is not merely a matter of good purpose and intention. Not everyone is fit for service merely because he wants to serve. If the Master had to have a period of preparation, if repeatedly, in His life with the disciples and among the multitudes, He had to retire into the mountain or to the wilderness to meditate and pray, how much more necessary it is that those who would follow in His footsteps must find the strength of preparation and be fitted for their task!

The contrast which this lesson brings out is very strong. We have the picture of Jesus following His baptism, acclaimed with the voice from heaven: "Thou art my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased."

Surely that was all that was necessary to begin the Master's earthly ministry. Could there have been a more fitting watchword or a more favorable occasion for Him to thrust Himself right into the busy life of ancient Galilee and Judea?

Yet immediately following the record of this voice from heaven, we are told that the spirit drove Jesus forth into the wilderness. We do not know just what that may mean; but it means apparently that there was a strong spiritual impulse that led Him to feel His need of preparation before He attempted all that was ahead of Him.

The life of Christian ministry is one in which divine voices and inspirations are combined with very practical matters of daily duty, discipline and preparation. God's call to service does not necessarily fit us for our task. We must be learners in the school of the Master, and in all the experiences make men wise and competent.

New Year's Eve Party.

A delightful New Year's eve party was given by the Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Woodruff for the high school young people of the Presbyterian church. The early part of the evening was spent playing games at the Woodruff home. The second stage of the party was held at the Gould Flagg home and then the group returned to the Woodruffs for refreshments and to wait for the stroke of midnight. All went home early in the New Year to sleep and Dean Blessing to get over the effects of a birthday spanking which occurred just a few minutes after twelve.

College Group Entertained.

Rev. and Mrs. S. A. Woodruff, jr., entertained a group of young people home from college and those of college age at their home Wednesday evening, Dec. 29. The evening was spent in playing games and in "swapping" stories of what each had been doing. Those present were James Milliken, United States Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; Raymond Cronk, Leonard Cronk, Mary Hitchman and Floyd Beranek from the University of Nebraska; Wilson Bell and Charlotte Blessing from Kearney; Barbara Dale from Lindenwood College, St. Charles, Mo.; Donald Williamson from Hastings College, and Leota Crosby, Oleta Rose and Lydia Hansen, who have been in Ord.

Jolliate Club Meets.

The Jolliate club, with three guests, met Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. E. C. Leggett. The guests included Mrs. F. J. Faletta, Mrs. E. L. Vogelzanz, and Mrs. E. A. Holub, of Elyria.

Comrade Class Party.

The Comrade class of the Presbyterian Sunday school were guests at the home of their teacher, Mrs. Gould Flagg Wednesday evening, Dec. 29, at a party which was in the nature of a Christmas party. Misses Patty Frazier and Phyllis Munn had charge of the program, and an enjoyable time was had by all.

U. B. Church Party.

All members of the Ord United Brethren church who did not have other plans for the day were invited to a covered dish luncheon at the A. C. Waterman home New Year's day. All who attended report a pleasant time.

Brief Social Notes.

The Ralph Hatfield family took ice cream and cake and went out to the Archie Waterman place Monday to spend the evening, it being the occasion of Mrs. Waterman's birthday.

Entertains at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen were dinner hosts Thursday evening, their guests being Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mann and son Billy, of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leggett and Miss Lydia Hansen. The Mans were house guests of the Mortensens leaving Friday for their home.

Masons Hold Election.

The members of Blazing Star Lodge No. 200 of Ord held their regular election at the hall Wednesday evening and the following were elected: Frank Johnson, worshipful master; Chris Beters, senior warden; Harold Hallen, junior warden; C. J. Mortensen, treasurer; B. C. Boquet, secretary. These were the only elective offices, and they will be installed at the meeting held Thursday night of this week, Jan. 6.

Winners-Losers Party.

The Happy Dozen pinochle club met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon New Year's eve for a winners-losers party. The hosts for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevenker and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Absolon. It was a watch party and the members played pinochle until a late hour, after which oysters were served.

Happy Dozen Meets.

The Happy Dozen met for their regular meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevenker, Tuesday evening, Dec. 29. Holders of high score were Mrs. Stanley Absolon and Adolph Sevenker, while Mrs. Clyde Baker held low score.

Oyster Supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Zlomke and family and the A. L. Crouch family enjoyed an oyster supper together Sunday evening in the Crouch home. The evening was spent in playing bingo and visiting.

Party for John Boyce.

A surprise party was held at the John Boyce home in honor of his sixtieth birthday. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Willard and Homer Chris Larsen and daughters Erna and Christina, Opal Christoffersen and Leonard Tolén. The evening was spent playing pinochle and lunch was served at a late hour.

Stowell-Zentz.

New Year's eve as the clock struck twelve Miss Verna Stowell, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stowell and Erwin B. Zentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emory Zentz, were united in marriage by the Methodist minister at Grand Island. The couple will make their home on a farm in Springdale. Their many friends wish them a long and happy life.

American Legion.

The American Legion met Tuesday evening with 25 members present. A number of items of business were disposed of. C. W. Clark reported on a volunteer group overhauling the furnace and putting it in good working order. The fact was evident from the way the furnace was functioning at the meeting. A. A. Wiegardt explained how the new budgeting system will tie up the soldiers' and sailors' relief fund for nearly a year before any funds will be available from that source. After that time funds will be available as needed, but it will require economy to make the funds on hand last for that time. It was announced that there is to be a post officers' school at Grand Island Feb. 22, and that the national commander will be there. The oyster committee was Jim Gilbert, Roy Severson and Ross Lakin and the ladies were treated to an oyster feed at the close of the meeting.

Legion Auxiliary.

Twenty members were present at the January meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, held Tuesday evening. A report was made of five Christmas dinners and toys for twelve children, also one pair of glasses furnished for ex-soldiers' families. The ladies displayed the therapy goods made by disabled veterans. When sold the money goes to the families of these patients. The Ord Auxiliary expects to sell some of these goods among the members. At the close of the meeting the Legion treated the ladies to a fine oyster stew.

O. N. E. Watch Party.

The O. N. E. club met and entertained their husbands New Year's eve at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brox. Pinochle was played, high prizes being won by Mrs. Reinhold Rose and Mr. Brox, and low by Mrs. A. J. Ferris and Art Larsen. Mr. Ferris won the Galloping Goose. Refreshments were served at midnight.

O. N. E. Club Meets.

The O. N. E. club met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Reinhold Rose. Mrs. Leon Rogers won high score at pinochle, and Mrs. Lloyd Owens low. Following the games a lunch was served.

When an Irrigator Takes a Bride . . .

Friends of Harold Swanson and his bride of a day, the former Miss Hazel Schmidt of Monroe, indulged in "high jinks" at the expense of the newlyweds Monday evening, charivariing them. Here are shown Mr. Swanson giving his bride a ride through the square in a wheelbarrow used ordinarily for hauling cement. Slightly shy, perhaps, Mrs. Swanson hid her face just as the Quiz photographer's flash went off. Mr. and Mrs. Swanson were married Sunday at the Methodist church in Lincoln by the pastor, Rev. L. N. Blough, uncle of the groom. Mr. Swanson is a labor foreman with the W. J. Assenmacher Co., and a nephew of D. H. and Arthur Swanson, also employed by the Assenmacher Company on the irrigation project. Mr. Swanson's home is at Loreto, Nebr. At present he and his wife are staying with the D. H. Swansons while looking for an apartment.

Ed Kruml, Rassler

Above is shown Ed Kruml, Ord's contribution to the wrestling game. He is a young man of great promise, and the men who know the game predict he will go places when he gains a little more experience. He has been in the game about two years and in that time has wrestled some tough men, winning his share of the matches, and gaining the respect of the men who have defeated him. This winter he is wrestling in Omaha, and his name appears in the sport section of the World-Herald from time to time.

County Attorney Lee

County Attorney Alvin Lee filed his annual report with the county clerk this week, and a number of facts it reveals will be of interest to the public. There were a total of 73 criminal cases filed during the year, divided as follows: intoxication, first offense, 22; intoxication, second offense, 2; unlawful sale of liquor, 2; drunken driving, 1; beating board bill, 8; resisting and abusing an officer, 4; no-fund checks, 3; assault and battery, 5; no itinerant merchant's license, 3; overloading truck, 2; reckless driving, 3; keeping house of ill fame, 2; petty larceny, 3; shooting pheasant out of season, 1; false pretenses, 1; non-payment of alimony, 1; and conducting lottery, violation of parole, delinquent minor, using obscene language, 1 case each.

The total amount of fines collected on these offenses was $681.00, and the amount of the fines laid out was $176.50. The amount of costs paid for the year was $373.53, and the amount laid out was $146.82. Restitution in the case of beating board bills, no-fund checks, petty larceny and false pretenses, was made in the total sum of $86.89. The office investigated 9 deaths and found 2 suicides, 2 natural death, 4 accidental death, and 1 homicide.

Three drivers' licenses were revoked, one for 60 days and two for one year. One case was sent to the state industrial school, one case was suspended, and one is still pending. One was returned to the industrial school, and one hearing was continued. There was one case of assault to do great bodily injury which drew 15 months in the penitentiary; one of manslaughter which drew ten years in the penitentiary; one of arson which drew two years; and three of burglary, one drawing from 1 to 3 years, the other two from 2 to 3 years.

Associate Justice Sutherland Resigns

The most important national news of 1938 broke this morning when Associate Justice George Sutherland of the United States supreme court sent his resignation to President Roosevelt. Justice Sutherland is past the retirement age but his resignation was not expected at this time. As a member of the supreme court he has voted consistently against many of the ideas of the New Deal, and his retirement will afford the president his long desired opportunity to liberalize that body.

Liquor Violations Set New High Record

According to an Associated Press report made public at Washington, D. C. Monday, Attorney General Cummings disclosed that more persons were sent to prison for federal liquor law violations in 1937 than in any prohibition year. Prison commitments for liquor law violation totaled 5,390 in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1937. The highest during any year of prohibition was 5,045 in 1932.

A Queer Christmas Custom.

Berlin, Germany.—It is estimated that about a hundred Protestant ministers, largely from East Prussia, and several thousand Catholic priests arrested in recent Nazi drives against the clergy, spent Christmas in prison. Nearly all members of the cloth are held in what is called "protective custody," without formal charges being lodged against them.—News Dispatch.

Chris Helleberg, 67, Ord Section Boss for 32 Years, Plans to Retire This Month

CHRIS HELLEBERG.

After 32 years of continuous service with the Burlington as Ord section boss, Chris Helleberg is retiring at the age of 67. Chris first began his railroad career back in 1900, when he started working on the section here under road boss Ernest C. Clark. He quit with the Burlington May 1, 1902, and a month later started working for the Union Pacific. He was laid off the section gang that fall, but shoveled coal at the engine house during the winter.

In March, 1903 Mr. Helleberg got the job as foreman at Elyria, where he worked until 1904, when he quit and went out working for farmers. That fall while he was husking corn his old road master, Pete Taylor of Central City came to Ord and sent a man out to bring Chris to town. He offered him the job as section boss then held by Ralph Stafford, and he started on this job in January, 1905.

Now after a total of 32 years' service on this section, Mr. Helleberg is retiring. Three months ago he cut his left thumb so badly while splitting wood that he nearly lost the use of the member. Two good hands are essential in his job, so he is now retiring. He does not expect to quit work, for he believes, like many another old timer, that plenty of work is essential to a long and contented life. He is shown here with his dog, Sport.

Mrs. Brown's Death Occurred in Denver

Through her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Charles C. Davis, the Quiz is informed of the passing at Denver, Dec. 29 of Mrs. A. F. Brown. The Browns lived in Ord for many years a generation ago, and Mr. Brown ran a drug store on the south side of the square in the Haskell building. Her son, Charles C. Davis, was also well known here.

Bessie B. Rogers, only daughter of Lee and Hester Rogers was born September 7, 1864 at Burlington Junction, Mo. She received her education in the schools of that city and at the age of sixteen was united in marriage to Thomas Davis of Burlington Junction.

To this union three children were born: William H. Davis, Charles C. Davis, and Ralph who died in infancy.

Four years after her marriage the young couple moved to Odell Kas, where three years later, Mr. Davis was suddenly stricken with pneumonia and passed away October 8, 1887.

Mrs. Davis with her two small children returned to her former home at Burlington Junction where she resided until November 16, 1893 when she was married to Albert F. Brown, a pharmacist of the same city.

Soon after the marriage, she and Mr. Brown moved to Rosemont, Nebr., where he followed his chosen profession. In the fall of 1894 a disastrous fire swept the town destroying their store and home. After this loss they returned to Missouri where they located at Elm. In 1902 a daughter, Lella Mae was born to this union. In the following years they lived in several Missouri and Nebraska towns, including Ord and Dunning, Nebr., where Mr. Brown maintained drug stores.

Early in life Mrs. Brown united with the Methodist Episcopal church in Burlington Junction of which her own grandfather was the minister. In a quiet unobtrusive way she was ever a faithful member.

She affiliated with the Order of the Eastern Star, and also active in the Rebekah lodge. Mrs. Brown found her greatest happiness in her home with her family. She was gentle and unassuming and loved by all who knew her. She was a lover of flowers, birds, and animal life and for this reason she induced Mr. Brown to give up the drug business and promote the Brown ranch on the Dismal river near Dunning, Nebr., which she still maintained at the time of her death.

Eight years ago in order to be near their three children who were living in Denver, Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved to that city and established a home. Mr. Brown preceded her in death, passing away November 18, 1935.

In September of this year, Mrs. Brown became seriously ill and spent many weeks in St. Luke's hospital where she passed away December 29, 1937.

She leaves to mourn her loss; two sons, William H. Davis and Charles C. Davis; one daughter, Lella Mae Swan; one granddaughter, Rosemary Davis; four grandsons, Galen Davis, Albert and Charles Swan, and Charles Allan Davis; also one great granddaughter, Barbara Ann Davis.

Funeral services were held at the Moore Mortuary on Friday, December 31st at 1:00 p. m., Rev. G. H. Wertz officiating. She was laid to rest beside her husband in Fairmont cemetery.

Annual congregational meeting Monday, Jan. 10. Meet at parsonage. Social hour precedes business meeting.

The New Year's eve watch service was well attended. Some over fifty gathered for a social hour at the parsonage before going to the church at 11 for a program. It was a candle light service. A special feature of the program was a candle light act. Twelve girls dressed in white, carrying a candle, received a message of their month, lighted their candles and marched out just before 12 o'clock. While the bell was chiming, silent prayer was offered. The singing of the song, "God Be With You 'Till We Meet Again," closed our service. A pleasant and impressive evening was reported.

—Writing to renew his subscription to the Quiz, Dr. H. N. Norris gives the details of his recent car accident. They were going from Kansas City to Omaha Friday evening to spend Christmas with relatives. Just south of Auburn they stopped to help three women out of an overturned Buick. Luckily they were unhurt. The doctor had his chains put on in Auburn but even then driving was very difficult because of the sleet. At the top of a hill they saw a truck stopped to put on chains, and slowed down, thinking it was an accident. Over the top of this hill they saw the lights of a truck on the slope of the hill and thought it was moving, as there were no flares out. When he got too close to avoid a collision the doctor discovered the truck was standing still in the middle of the paving. He tried to turn out to pass, but the skidded on the ice and ran into the back of the truck. Mrs. Norris received a four inch cut on her forehead and her clothes were ruined with blood. Ben Dahlin saw them at the Bert Norris home. The truck carried no insurance so the doctor says he is probably out of luck, but he expects to file a charge against him for parking on the highway at night without flares.

Fifty-three neighbors gathered at the Rendell home Wednesday evening for a farewell party for them and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jeffries and children. Morris left Thursday with the car. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Jeffries and children expected to leave Friday by auto and were stopping Friday night with Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Steider at Beaver Crossing. Mrs. Rendell and her brother, Mr. Gumm, who makes his home with them expected to visit a few days at the Harley Shultz home and go to Missouri by rail the fore part of this week. Their many friends regret to see them go but hope our loss will be their gain and that they will like their new home.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Eglehoff took Kenneth to Ord Sunday to meet the Cronk brothers with whom he returned to his school work at Lincoln. Then they drove to Loup City to see Will's sister, Mrs. Lem Knapp who underwent an operation Tuesday at Dr. Amick's hospital for appendicitis. She is getting along nicely. Paul Dean Eglehoff stayed Sunday night with his grandparents while his folks were sitting up with his uncle Roy Horner. Mr. Horner has been a very sick man with pneumonia for about three weeks. He is slowly improving, but is very thin and weak yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Msnay and children and Mr. and Mrs. Charley Msnay were at Belgrade Sunday to visit their brother and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jabka.

Philip Msnay and Mrs. Iona Leach and children were at Chas. Msnay's for New Year's dinner.

Chanticleers Drop 2 to Curtis Aggies

Coach Helmut Brockman and his Ord high basketball team traveled four hundred miles on a holiday road trip last week to meet the Curtis Aggies in two non-conference contests on the Curtis floor.

Ord lost both contests to the all-veteran Aggie team which is rated as one of the outstanding prep teams in Nebraska by Gregg McBride, World-Herald sports writer.

In the first game of the series Friday night, the Chanticleers showed effects of the long 200 mile journey as the Aggies won 28 to 15. At the half the Curtis lads were leading by a margin of 21 to 6.

Don Tunnell, flashy Ord forward, was the leading scorer for the Chanticleers in both games. His accuracy in hitting the hoop was little short of amazing, as he chalked up 23 points for the Ordsters in the two-game series.

After a good night's rest, the refreshed Chanticleers displayed their old form. Led by Tunnell, the Chanticleers had the Aggies whipped by a margin of 11 to 8 at the end of the initial half. Keating and Elson, Curtis "hot shots", showed their worth in the final quarter as they swished in five baskets to give the Aggies a hair-breadth 20-19 win. Dahlin, Cetak, Hughes, Zulkoski and Tunnell played the entire game and all contributed points in the final half in an attempt to win out over the Curtis team.

Stockholders Meeting. The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of Nebraska State Bank Ord, Neb., will be held in the banking room at 4:00 p. m. on Friday, January 28, 1938 for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and such other matters as may properly come before it.

—Mr. and Mrs. Nell Peterson and family and Ored Olsson spent New Year's day at the Clarence Bollh home above Burwell.

The subject that we are about to mention is one that demands immediate attention. Folks from all over go out of their way to get tasty cakes that we bake every day.

With so little time left for shopping, why waste your time preparing desserts for the family. One of our home-made cakes will be just the thing for dinner tonight. And you will be sure to see some attractive gifts in the baked goods line that will appeal to you, too.

Negro Cage Teams "Out" As Possible Opponents for Ord

"Just a common bunch of fakes." That seems to be the general opinion of dozens of Ord and Loup Valley sport fans on the subject of the Harlem Hottentots, negro basketball team which books out of Omaha.

Indeed, fans have a right to form such an opinion. The Hottentots were first scheduled to appear in Ord on Dec. 25, Christmas night. Late that afternoon a telegram arrived saying that the entire team had been in a car wreck in Des Moines.

Disappointed in not being able to secure them the first time, the local basketball organization tried again. The Hottentots agreed to play at Ord on New Year's night, Jan. 1. Again they failed to appear.

Other towns in the Loup Valley region have had the same luck in securing the Hottentots, each attempt having the same sad end—the negroes failed to appear. It would seem wise, in future, to forget everything about the much-lauded negro basketball teams—whether they be Globetrotters, Hottentots, Whizbangs, or what have you.

Kearney Cagers Are Coming Friday, Ord Is Hoping For Win

Fine Record Made at Curtis Encouraging; Kearney Has Four 1937 Veterans.

Ord high school's speedy basketball quint will march into a solid month of steady playing this Friday night, showing off as they meet Kearney on the Ord floor.

Coach Harlan Wyant's Kearney five is reputed to be one of the "top" teams in the state. The Kearney quint retains four of last year's first stringers, Sims, Johnson, Austine, and Samp.

Loup Valley dopesters are holding a secret hope that the Chanticleers may accomplish this year what they have failed to do in the past four years—beat the Kearney crew. Ord's splendid showing against Curtis has boosted hopes for a win Friday night to untold heights.

Loup City opened their 1937-38 season by losing to Kearney on the Kearney floor by the score of 39 to 23. In the Loup City-Kearney clash, Wharton of Loup City and Sims of Kearney tied for high scoring honors, each sinking five field goals and two free throws.

Sims, at forward and Johnson, at center, are rated as Kearney's two most dangerous men. Both are rangy fellows who seldom fail to make a basket if they secure an opportunity to shoot.

Last year's Ord-Kearney battle ended 27-19 in favor of Kearney. Johnson, at center, was the outstanding man for Kearney in the game.

Members of the Kearney squad are as follows: Sims, forward; Scott, forward; Abood, forward; Coon, forward; Johnson, center; Austine, guard; Kayton, guard; Ecklund, guard; Samp, guard; Marrow, guard; Schmidt, guard.

Theater and Ed's Win Games Monday Night

A fair attendance and great interest greeted the town team basketball games Monday evening at the Ord Opera house. In the first game the Ord Theater team won rather easily from the Ord Auto Parts by a score of 30 to 15. R. Severson accounted for 17 of the Theater's points, and Boquet made 6 for the Auto Parts.

In the second game Ed's team, formerly the Safeways, but now sponsored by Ed Michalek, ran up a score of 22 to the Knights of Columbus 17. It was nobody's game most of the way. Dr. Osentowski accounted for eleven of the K. of C. points, while Tub Steinwart made 9 and was high point man for Ed's team.

The Ord teams have received an invitation to the Loup City firemen's tournament, which is scheduled to open Jan. 23. This is an open competition. Ord will doubtless send one or more teams. The scheduled Ord league games for Wednesday have been postponed until Thursday because of the football banquet. At that time the K. of C.'s will meet the Theater team, and the Ord Auto Parts will play Ed's team.

Santa Ain't No Lady. The Santa Claus theory received a bad shake-up at a local rural school program when the Santa who had been asked to officiate was unable to do so at the last minute. One of the lady patrons was pressed into service, and being unable to properly disguise her voice, caused a little perplexity.—St. Paul Phonograph.

"COME ON GANG, THE SKATIN'S FINE"

During the Christmas holidays, hockey games galore were to be found on every creek, river, and pond in the county. Here is shown one of the games in progress on the east side of the river near the Ulrich gravel pit, one-half mile east of Ord. Some of the boys who may be recognized are Keith Kovanda, Gould Flagg, Jr., Cornelius Blomond and Harvey Sowers.

He will also visit his son Paul Gaukel and family in Marysville, Calif., before returning to his home in Centralia, Wash. Dr. Gaukel visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gaukel in Burwell for a week.

1,700 Foot "Dike" Located At Burwell

This 1,700 foot sand "dike" is a part of the completed diversion works at Burwell. The dike stretches almost completely across the river, the only open space being at the east end where the bridge and headgates are located. Concrete blocks have been placed at the bottom of the dike to prevent erosion at times of high water. At its highest point it is 14 feet in height, at the top it is 10 feet wide and at the base it is 30 to 50 feet in width. The dam will feed the 25 mile Sumner canal, water will be backed up for one-half mile, and the water level will be raised eight feet. Total cost of the dam has been set at $60,000.

Mrs. Geo. New of Grand Island came Sunday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Johnson. Mrs. New is Mrs. Johnson's mother.

Cops Struggle With New Problem

Taking a few lessons in child care, these three grinning Nassau county, L. I., police officers are pictured above trying to cope with a difficulty not included in the police manual. When police found a destitute family, a patrol wagon of clothing was sent to the six children—and put on them. Baby John Machosky doesn't seem to mind but little Adrian sets up an awful howl against the Law.

—Doris Walbrecht came in from her country home and spent several days last week in the George Anderson home.

Boy Scout Troop To Be Sponsored By Ord Rotarians

Ralph Misko Consents to Act As Scoutmaster; Troop of 10 Planned at First.

Organization of a Boy Scout troop in Ord was decided upon Monday evening when Frank M. Chase, assistant executive of the Nebraska council, came to Ord for a meeting with the Ord Rotary club and that civic group agreed to sponsor and finance the Boy Scout movement in this city.

In his talk before the Rotarians Monday evening Mr. Chase pointed out advantages of Boy Scout work and assured the club that boys here want it and need it. For years troops of Boy Scouts have been maintained in Arcadia, Sargent, Taylor, Loup City and other communities in the Loup river district, and at present organization work is being done at Comstock and Burwell.

Last summer the Rotary club investigated possibility of sponsoring a Scout troop in Ord but was deterred by failure to secure a suitable scoutmaster. Now Ralph E. Misko has agreed to serve as scoutmaster, removing the only obstacle to organization of a troop, and Monday evening Rotarians voted unanimously to sponsor and finance such an organization under Mr. Misko's guidance.

President E. L. Vogeltanz has appointed a Boy Scout committee with C. C. Thompson as chairman and M. Biemond, Fred V. Cahill, George Allen, J. A. Kovanda and Wm. Sack as other members. This committee will appoint two assistant scoutmasters and will have general supervision of the troop, meeting once a week for that purpose.

According to Scoutmaster Misko an organization meeting will be held in about a month, the date, time and place to be announced later, and boys 11 years old and older who wish to become Boy Scouts will be invited to attend. At first a troop of about ten boys will be formed, charter members to be the first ten Ord boys who pass required examinations making them tenderfoot Scouts. Additional members will be taken in as other boys pass the required tests and ultimately the troop will number 36. If more than that number of boys want to participate in Scout work a second troop will be formed.

Boys interested in Scout work may secure information from Chairman Thompson of the Rotary committee or from Scoutmaster Misko. Question of dues is unsettled but the troop itself will fix amount of dues to be charged and cost will be held at the lowest possible level.

Most communities this size have had one or more Boy Scout troops in operation for many years, said Mr. Chase Monday evening, and he predicts that Scout work will be popular with Ord boys and be a great asset to the community.

Overloading Trucks Causes Three Arrests

Louis Noble, trucker, was brought before Judge John L. Andersen Wednesday on charge of overloading his truck, which bore five ton license plates and was carrying a load of 11,520 pounds. He was assessed a fine of $10.00 and costs of $8.00, which he paid at once and was released.

Thursday James Koel of Abilene, Kas., an orchestra player, was arrested on a charge of running a trailer without license plates. He was assessed $10.00 fine and $8.00 costs upon admission of guilt, and settled the full amount at once.

Friday Glen Bruner, trucker from Comstock, was arrested for overloading his truck. He was running on a five ton license and was carrying a load of 11,000 pounds. He also paid a $10.00 fine and $8.00 costs.

Also on Friday Gerald Tullington, of Elgin, was arrested for overloading his truck. He had 8 ton license plates and was hauling 17,530 pounds. He paid a fine of $10.00 and $8.00 costs.

There seems to be a misunderstanding in regard to the amount of overload permitted by law, and this phase of the law is explained in detail in another paragraph, which all truckers would do well to read.

Clayton Gilroys Are Parents of Twins

Twins, a girl and a boy, were born to Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Gilroy Sunday evening. The girl was born first at 11:26, and weighed 6 1/2 pounds. The boy was born four minutes later and weighed 5 1/2 pounds. Dr. J. G. Krumi who was in attendance, reports both babies and their mother doing very well. At this writing the proud parents have not definitely decided upon names for the pair.

Will Raise Money, Send Evelyn Sharp To Lincoln School

So that Evelyn Sharp may attend the Lincoln Air School and prepare for the transport pilots examination which will be given late in February a benefit dance is being planned for Thursday, Jan. 20. Plans for the dance are moving forward rapidly with Dr. Glen Auble acting as general chairman. According to present plans the dance will be staged at the Ord dance hall. Music for the dance will be furnished by a 14-piece dance band made up from the best of local musicians. A number of special attractions have already been decided upon, including a big floor show. Advance ticket sales for the dance will start early next week, say officials.

200 Fans Attended Honorary Banquet Wednesday Night

Ord Grid Players Guests of Honor; Father Lawler 'Most Ardent Fan.'

Over 200 Ord sport enthusiasts attended the honorary football banquet staged Wednesday night in tribute to Ord's fine football team which completed the 1937 season with an undefeated record. Principal speaker of the evening was Roy "Link" Lyman, University of Nebraska line coach. Lyman, one of the greatest tackles ever turned out at the Cornhusker institution, gave a very interesting talk that was thoroughly enjoyed by both the fans and players in attendance at the banquet.

At frequent intervals in his talk Lyman gave some of his recent experiences in coaching at the University of Nebraska, some of which were very humorous, indeed. At the close of his speech, Lyman gave a brief summary of the prospects for the 1938 Cornhusker team, which promises to be even stronger than the 1937 eleven.

Another speaker on the program was Father Lawler, of the Ord Catholic church, who was introduced by Toastmaster C. C. Dale as being "Ord's most ardent football fan." Others who appeared on the speaking program were Coach Brockman, who stated, "praise for the success of the Ord grid team should be given to nobody but the players themselves." Dale Hughes, honorary co-captain of the 1937 squad, made a short speech as did Frank Lee, assistant coach.

In his brief talk, Coach Helmut Brockman emphasized the point that "a community has much to do with the determining of whether its teams are to be successes or failures."

Movies of several Cornhusker games this fall were shown by Lyman at the close of the banquet. Most interesting to Ord fans seemed to be the movie of the Nebraska-Minnesota game in which Minnesota was defeated by the Cornhuskers. Pictures of the Pittsburgh game were also shown and proved very interesting.

Music for the banquet was furnished by a 12-piece orchestra led by Dean Duncan. Featured on the musical program was a girl's trio with Virginia Sack, Marjorie Jean Smith and Ruth Auble as members.

New Time Schedule Over Union Pacific

Effective Monday, Jan. 10, the arrival time of the incoming Union Pacific mixed train was changed from 7:50 a. m. to 8:20 a. m. This change was made to afford better connections with east bound trains at Grand Island. This is train No. 83. The time on the other trains has not been changed, and is as follows: No. 84 mixed, leaves at 3:40 p. m. No. 536, motor, leaves at 9:10 a. m. and No. 535, motor, arrives at 4:15 p. m.

4 "Big-Time" Dance Bands Are Scheduled

Those in the Loup Valley who enjoy dancing to good music are to receive a treat during the following month as four "big-time" dance bands have been scheduled by Emil Darges, Ord Dance Hall manager, to play in Ord. Heading the list of orchestras to play in Ord will be the nationally known Tiny Little dance band. This band has appeared in Ord before and the largest crowd ever to attend an Ord dance turned out to hear this orchestra.

Other well-known orchestras who will appear in Ord are Ches-terfields, Cliff Kyes, Glen Buhl and possibly Jimmy Barnett. At this time the Jimmy Barnett orchestra is playing in Denver. Their 12 week engagement in Denver will be completed soon and the band will then take to the road again.

Grasshoppers May Do Great Damage In 1938, Dale Fears

Cold, Wet Spring Is Biggest Hope; Twice As Many Eggs Now As in 1937.

Only very unfavorable weather conditions this spring can prevent a very heavy hatch of grasshoppers and resulting damage to crops in Valley county, according to C. C. Dale, county agent.

This is shown by the egg survey made by the U. S. bureau of entomology and the office of the state extension entomologist, which has just been released. This report shows a moderate to heavy deposit of grasshopper eggs in the county, and much heavier than last year when the survey was made. This is not a very happy outlook for Valley county farmers, but the damage from these pests can be greatly reduced if control measures are undertaken in time. The 1937 control work was about three weeks late in getting started due to the fact that government poison bait materials were not available.

There are about two carloads of this material in storage in the county now however, and the mixed bait will be available as soon as the grasshoppers have hatched. This should assist materially in reducing damage if farmers will use the bait early in the season.

There is still hope of course that we will have a cold wet spring followed by warm wet weather in the early summer, which is the condition most unfavorable to young grasshoppers, but present prospects indicate very strongly that there will be lots of grasshoppers hatched and it will take a thorough campaign of poisoning to hold them in check.

No Right-of-Way Difficulties, Is Spearman Report

State Engineer Is Still Here But Tells Klima Land Owners Are Signing.

So far he is having no difficulty in securing right-of-way for the relocation of No. 11 highway between Ord and North Loup, B. R. Spearman, state engineer, told County Clerk Ign. Klima, jr., Monday evening, and he believes he will be able to complete the job so contracts for construction may be let by the state in February.

A change in the route proposed has been made near the Jackman farm, across McDowell canyon, and the highway as now planned will not come quite so near Mr. Jackman's buildings. A. W. Boehner, district highway engineer, was here this week and approved the slight change.

Mr. Spearman now is negotiating with the North Loup power and irrigation district for excess dirt from the canal and hopes it may not be necessary to have as many borrow pits as were planned originally.

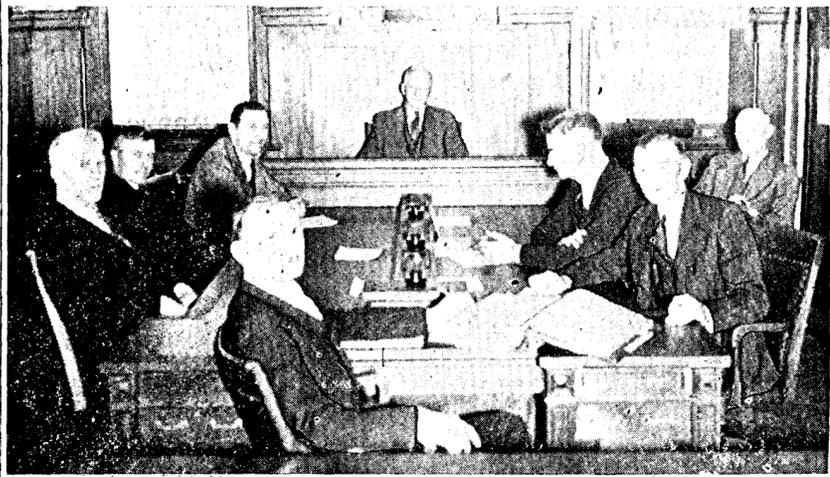

Midvale Heroine Of 1888 Blizzard

MINNIE FREEMAN.

Through the courtesy of her cousin, Mrs. Daye Philbrick, the Quiz is able to print above a good likeness of Miss Minnie Freeman, early day teacher and heroine of the blizzard of 1888. The exact date of the picture is not known, but it is supposed that it shows her much as she appeared at that time. She later married a man named Penny and lived for years at Fullerton, Nebr., later moving to Chicago, where she still lives.

Supervisors Reelect Hansen Chairman for 1938

READY TO START YEAR'S MOST IMPORTANT SESSION

Plagued by budget and relief troubles, made more severe by Valley county's impoverished financial condition, the board of supervisors is now holding its annual meeting. Here supervisors are shown just after they elected S. V. Hansen as chairman Tuesday.

Committee Named For Birthday Ball

For several years the fight against infantile paralysis in the United States has been carried on by the Warm Springs Foundation, and money used for the campaign has been raised principally through the sponsoring of dances or other social functions on President Roosevelt's birthday.

The committee in Valley county consists of Alfred Wiegard, chairman, assisted by Miss Clara McClatchey, Ralph W. Norman and Archie Bradt, in Ord; E. A. Holub, Elyria; Harold Hoepfner, North Loup; and Lloyd Bulger, Arcadia. This committee will have a further announcement next week.

Treasurer's Report Shows Improvement

County Treasurer George Satterfield's report of taxes collected for the last six months of 1937 shows a total of $136,806.08 as compared with $133,317.09 for the corresponding six months of 1936. This shows a balance in favor of 1937 of $3,488.99, and indicates that times must be improving somewhat, as the tax payers are able to pay more now than they were a year ago.

Annual Election C. of C. Officers Thursday, Jan. 20

C. C. Dale Heads Committee To Nominate; Smoker and Lunch Being Planned.

Big event in the year for Ord chamber of commerce members will come next Thursday, Jan. 20, when the annual meeting and election of officers will be held starting at 7:30 p. m. in the K. of P. hall. A lunch and smoker for all members will follow the election and a program being arranged by Dr. P. A. Barta.

A nominating committee composed of C. C. Dale, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Olof Olsson, Robert Noll and Ed Michalek has been appointed by President John P. Misko, and this committee will present to members a state of men to fill the positions of president, vice-president and five directors. Nominations may be made from the floor after the committee reports, if any member desires to make additional nominations.

Only hold-over directors are Val Pullen and William Sack. Last January Dwight Keyes was the third member elected for a 2-year term and since he has left the city his successor will have to be chosen. Directors whose terms have expired include E. C. Leggett, George Allen and Ed F. Beranek. Retiring officers are President Misko and Tom Springer, vice-president.

Next Thursday a report of Chamber of Commerce achievements in 1937 will be given by Alfred Wiegard, the secretary. It is desirable that all members attend this annual meeting and determine policies to be carried out in 1938 by Ord's business organization, then elect men who are capable of carrying them out.

Mrs. L. J. Payzant Tells Of the 1888 Blizzard

Mrs. L. G. Payzant has good reason to remember the blizzard of 1888 which hit central Nebraska with devastating force fifty years ago today. She was a daughter of S. P. Groat, pioneer of Custer county, and she and her mother were about to start for Anselmo to make a railroad trip to Lincoln when the storm struck. About the time the storm started a neighbor came by with a wagon load of coal and the neighborhood mail.

Mrs. Groat tried to persuade him to stay until the storm stopped, but he said he must go on, as his family were out of fuel. When he got to his home his feet were frozen, and the family soaked them in ice water to remove the frost, and put him to bed, where he was forced to stay for a week. Mrs. Groat was so worried about him that she walked the floor, but they did not dare to send anyone out in the storm to help him.

When the storm finally broke everything had to be dug out of the drifts. Thousands of cattle were driven into the Dismal river by the storm, where they broke through the ice and perished. The Groat had 400 head of cattle and several men to look after them, and by extreme good fortune were able to save them all. Mrs. Payzant had many harrowing experiences in those days, but believes none of them can compare with that terrible storm of Jan. 12, 1888.

First National Elects Ralph Misko Cashier

Stockholders of the First National bank held their annual meeting Tuesday, electing officers and directors and transacting other routine business. Officers for 1938 are F. P. O'Neal, president; Wencil Misko, vice-president, R. E. Misko, cashier; James Petiska, jr., Horace Travis and C. B. Gudmundsen, assistant cashiers. Only change is the appointment of Ralph Misko as cashier. Directors are Messrs. O'Neal and Misko, Frank Koupal, Mrs. James Milford and Miss Maude Goodenow.

Burwell Firemen Made 2 Calls to Same Home

Burwell—(Special)—The Burwell fire department was called to the Billy Peterson home northeast of Burwell last Wednesday where a fire was burning out and the family was afraid the building might catch fire, as the chimney was cracked. This was quite a coincidence, as the fire department answered a similar call to the same place about two years ago. In both cases the damage was slight.

Red Cross To Hold Its Annual Meeting

Announcement is made today by Mrs. John P. Misko, president, that the Valley county chapter of the American Red Cross will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 7:30 p. m., Monday, Jan. 24, in Mr. Misko's office in the First National bank building in Ord. All Red Cross members are invited and urged to attend, particularly those from Arcadia and North Loup.

Postal Employees Met at North Loup

The Central Nebraska Postal Employees association met last night at North Loup. The Methodist Ladies Aid served dinner for fifty at 7:00 p. m., which was followed by a program including community singing and a short talk by Clifford Goodrich on "Rural Carriers' Problems." The members then went to the postoffice for a short business session. The next meeting will be held in Ord Febr. 14.

City Offers to Buy Privately Owned Sewerage System

Franchise of Ord Drainage Co. Expires in 1942, City Offers to Pay $1,025.

A tentative agreement to purchase a 7,000 foot sewerage system owned by the Ord Drainage Company and consolidate it with the city system was made with drainage company officers Friday evening by Mayor Gould Flagg and the city council, at their January meeting. The purchase price will be $1,025 if drainage company stockholders accept the proposition.

Sewers owned by the drainage company run on L street between 24th and 17th streets and south from L street on 18th, 19th, 20th and 22nd streets. There are seventy taps on the system and property owners who have used it pay annual fees ranging from $3.75 to $9.00. The drainage company's sewer was installed prior to the city system and is Ord's only privately owned sewer system. The franchise originally granted to the company expired in 1917 and was renewed for a 25-year period, expiring again in 1942.

Offer made by the city was to pay the company 25 per cent of the face value of its outstanding stock, which totals $4,100. Officers of the company, C. J. Mortensen and Dr. F. L. Blessing, made a counter offer to sell at 40 per cent of the stock's face value but councilmen "stood pat" and Mortensen and Blessing finally accepted the city's offer, subject to approval by other stockholders.

According to George Allen, light and water commissioner, the city will charge property owners who use the drainage company sewer reduced annual fees until the $1,025 purchase price is paid off, which will be in 4 or 5 years, and then maintain the new sewer as part of the city system without annual rental.

Winter's Heaviest Wind Blew Tuesday

According to the government weather station of Becker Bros. in the west edge of Burwell, the heaviest wind of the winter was blowing yesterday. Late in the day, when they were called, the gauge showed 35 miles per hour, but it had been much heavier earlier in the day. Clouds of dust blew along and across the highways making driving hazardous. Shortly after dinner a semi came in from the north on No. 11 with a Holt caterpillar aboard. The driver had his lights burning, and was creeping down the street at about ten miles per hour.

Credit Association Elects at North Loup

The North Loup Co-operative Credit Association held its annual election Tuesday, and the following directors were elected: Dr. W. J. Hemphill, A. C. Hutchins, R. H. Knapp, Charles Sayre and F. J. Schudel. The supervising committee is composed of W. H. Vodenhal, Mrs. George Mayo and Rev. C. L. Hill, and the loan committee includes Ed Lee, Roy Cox and A. L. Willoughby.

Marriage License. A marriage license was issued by county judge John L. Andersen Monday to Leo Moraczewski, farmer of Ashton, Nebr., and Miss Florence Wadas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wadas of Elyria.

Arcadia Veteran Defeated Ball By 4-3 Vote Tuesday

Now Serving Third Term As Board Chairman; Budget Making in Progress.

By a vote of 4 to 3, members of the Valley county board of supervisors reelected S. V. Hansen as chairman for 1938, at opening of their annual meeting Tuesday morning. Mr. Hansen is now serving his third term as board chairman.

Three supervisors were nominated for the chairmanship on the board's first ballot Tuesday, the other two being J. A. Barber, of North Loup, chairman in 1936, and Ellsworth Ball, of Ord.

The veteran Arcadia supervisor was reelected to the chairmanship on the first regular ballot when 4 votes were cast for him and 3 for Ellsworth Ball. Supervisor Ball then moved that a unanimous vote be cast for Chairman Hansen, which was done.

Immediately after the election Chairman Hansen appointed standing committees for 1938 as follows:

Roads and bridges—Jablonski, Bremer, Suchanek. Buildings and grounds—Ball, Barber, Zikmund. Estimates and budget—Suchanek, Bremer, Ball.

Settlements with county officers—Zikmund, Jablonski, Barber. Bonds (between sessions)—Barber, Jablonski, Ball. Claims—Bremer, Suchanek, Zikmund.

Printing and supplies—Jablonski, Ball, Barber. Membership of the board is unchanged this year, there being no election in 1937, and the committees appointed by Chairman Hansen are practically the same as served in 1937.

After committees were appointed the board adjourned until after dinner, in the meantime devoting attention to various phases of committee work. The new budget law goes into effect this year and part of the Tuesday afternoon session was devoted to discussion of the budget which must be established during the present session.

Frank Krumi, county relief director, appeared before the board Tuesday and discussion of Valley county relief policies for 1937 ensued. An important point was that of a fee schedule for medical treatment and hospitalization for relief clients. Since the resettlement administration under certain conditions pays for medical attention for certain clients, the county relief office recommended adoption of a fee schedule to correspond with fees paid by the resettlement administration, which is supported entirely by the federal government. The county relief office is maintained with county and state funds.

Relief problems again came to the forefront Wednesday morning when Mrs. Wainer, field supervisor from the state relief office, met with the board for a further discussion of policies. This afternoon supervisors planned to get down to the serious business of the annual meeting, which is expected to continue through Thursday and possibly into Friday.

Next week a complete account of the board's annual meeting will appear in this newspaper.

Burwell-Sumter Canal Practically Completed

Burwell—(Special)—The two drag lines of the J. P. Morgan company met on the Burwell-Sumter canal at noon Monday on the Frank Kull farm four miles southeast of Burwell. This was an important event, as it means that the main ditches are practically finished. There still remains a half mile stretch on this same canal north of Burwell, and one mile on the Taylor-Ord canal, and when these are done the big contract will be finished.

Milliken Seen In 'Navy Blue & Gold'

The picture, "Navy Blue and Gold," was shown at the Ord Theater Sunday and Monday of this week. It centers about Annapolis, and midshipmen appear in various places throughout the picture. Ord friends are certain they saw James Milliken, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Milliken, in one place in the picture, and Sunday several boys and girls remained through three showings in order to see him.

ARE WE GROWING BETTER?

The question of whether the world is growing better is as old as time itself. When man made his home in the caves of the earth, when he descended each morning from the dwellings he built in the trees for protection against wild animals, no doubt a common question of the day was whether mankind was growing better with the passing of the seasons.

It is a many sided question. In some ways we no doubt are growing better. We are advancing along scientific lines at an amazing speed. Scientific discoveries of great importance are being announced almost daily. In this respect there is no question about the improvement. The radio is the outstanding improvement of the present generation, and television is just around the corner.

Physically athletic records seem to indicate we are growing better and public health records prove we are becoming healthier as a nation. These improvements are doubtless due to the new discoveries of science, which are cutting down the percentage of deaths from disease and giving us better foods more scientifically prepared. Yes, physically and mentally we are growing better.

But man is not physical and mental alone. He is also moral and spiritual, and in these respects we can claim no progress during the past generation. The records show that church attendance is growing less with the passing of the years and there are indications of an alarming moral retrogression. It would seem that we have been developing the physical and mental at the expense of the spiritual and moral.

Today there are four great moulders of youth in our land. They are modern books, newspapers and magazines, the motion pictures and the radio. It might be well for us to think, when we take time to think, of the influence these mighty forces exert upon our children, and whether that influence is for good or evil. Leaving out the great writers and great films of which there are still a few, what about the influence of the rest?

Pick up any recent best seller, for example, any book by that supposedly great writer, Sax Rohmer, who is only typical of a hundred late writers, and you find these things to be true. Not only the hero, but the heroine and all their friends, are smoking cigarettes. When they get together for a party they are drinking cocktails. When they go for a drive they usually exceed the speed limit and get away with it because they are smarter than the policeman.

Our most popular magazines and periodicals abound with beautiful, illustrated ads of beer and all kinds of stronger drinks, and we are told, by implication, at least, that a young person cannot be a great athlete or succeed in any difficult undertaking except by the use of a certain brand of cigarette. Our great men and women in every walk of life except the clergy are induced by the payment of large sums of money to give their approval to some kind of smoke or drink.

On the radio we find the tobacco hour, the cigarette hour, the beer hour and the liquor hour. In any picture show we find women and men smoking and drinking, even when the picture would have more appeal without it. We find them flouting the law in a hundred ways and getting by with it. These have a powerful appeal to the younger generation. Is it any wonder so large a percentage of our penitentiary inmates are not yet 21 years of age?

Yes, the radio and motion picture are two of the greatest educators of our time, but we are permitting them to be used for the detriment of our young people, rather than their betterment. A youngster learns more in one night at the picture show than he learns in a week in school. But with the present system the proprietor of the show must take what the distributor has to offer, and with a very few exceptions the pictures are on a low moral plane.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS.

Beware of the man who asks your candid opinion of himself or of something he has done. He is fishing for a compliment.

If you don't agree with every fool in town you are crazy, and they all tell you so. If you do agree with them you are also a fool, and the wise men tell you so.

More people will notice a poorly printed or a mis-spelled sign, but they also have a poor opinion of the man who uses such a sign. In any kind of publicity the best is none too good.

A man never learns the truth about himself until he is married. A woman never learns the truth about herself until she is an old maid. A bachelor never learns the truth about himself.

There is a lot of merit in the idea once propounded by an eminent Greek that any legislator who proposed a new law should enter the chamber with a rope around his neck. He was to be hanged immediately if the law failed to pass.

The man who aspires to be a master, must first learn to be a good servant. The only man who starts at the top and works down is the grave digger, and he goes in the hole.

The pessimist is a man who has his choice of two evils and takes both. An optimist is a man who expects a campaigner for office to make good on his promises after he is elected.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I wish everyone from afar, in writing to renew their subscription, would do as a few do, write a few lines of gossip about themselves and family.

From Fremont comes the charge that there is plenty of politics in the new highway patrol. I wonder what a checkup of all patrolmen would show. It would be about right if two-thirds of them should prove to be democrats. That is about the right proportion, but there ought to be a few republicans among them. Really politics had never ought to enter into it at all, but if it didn't or wasn't going to, there would be no reason for looking up the political record of each man before the appointments were made. I guess, as a matter of fact, there is politics in everything and these days democrats get the grapes. But that will all be changed in a few years and then there will be a well established precedent for the republicans to kick the democrats out and replace them with republicans. At present there wouldn't be enough republicans to fill the offices anyhow. Most of the republicans changed over to be democrats hoping to get an office.

That offer of the daily World-Herald for 11 weeks for $1.00 looks like a mighty good one to me. The next 11 weeks are going to call for a lot of reading material. Better drop in and let me send that order in for you.

A new merchant in a neighboring town spent $150 for advertising in his home town newspaper during the recent month of December and said that where he came from, merchants didn't plunge that way in advertising.

Probably there is no question that nothing so much interests the farmers of this valley, as the question of whether the new ditch is going to provide water with which to raise a crop next year. If you will remember, officials told us last spring that the ditch below Ord would be furnishing water by August (last August) if it was needed. It was needed and badly, but it was not furnished. And to date no laterals have been built; no contract has been let for building them; no bids have even been asked for. We know that it will take at least 60 days after the bids are asked for before work can start. That means that there will be no work on laterals this winter, for, by the time contracts could be let now, the weather will be too severe for such work. If contracts are not let until spring laterals cannot be built before seeding time. In order to water the leveling and it would seem to me that they would have to know about where laterals will be located before they can prepare the ground for watering. All this makes it look like there might not be any water used in this valley in 1938. The primary object of the ditch at this end of the line was irrigation, but all we ever hear is power. The Washington end of the line seems to be thinking of nothing but power and there seems to be an endless amount of red tape to be unwound.

I was visiting the other day with one of our subscribers, after he had renewed his Quiz for another year, and he finally, in the course of the conversation, admitted that four of his neighbors were borrowing and reading his copy of this paper. He asked what percent of Valley county the Quiz covered and I replied that we had made a careful survey and knew that we covered better than 90 per cent.

I invented a new breakfast dish the other morning and if some of you downtrodden men like me, who have to get breakfast every morning, want something real good, just try it. I took about a dime's worth of Otto Peckenka's best sausage, crumbled it up into small bits in the skillet, then fried it till well done but not too brown. Then I broke four eggs into a pan and beat them up well, added a half cup of milk and cream salted, added two-thirds of a tablespoon of Worcestershire sauce, got the sausage piping hot again and poured the egg mixture over it and finished it up just like scrambled eggs. What a mess, said the missus, and I noticed that she took a very small helping, but I also noticed that she came back for a second and larger helping. I think it makes a very good breakfast dish. I frequently cook eggs the same way, only use bacon instead of sausage and the bacon up into small bits. Sometimes I add finely chopped cold baked potatoes.

Something like fifty of the January 15 subscriptions have been renewed to date and I am looking for the other 275 to send in their renewals. One subscriber almost got mad at me at what I said about the postage free envelopes in this column last week. He took it that I said I sent the envelopes to those who didn't usually pay promptly and he got one, yet he always pays in advance, has for years. Of course I didn't mean it as he took it. What I tried to say was that I didn't put the return envelopes for those in Ord or so close that they would have no occasion to use them. Folks should not get into the habit of going around with a chip on their shoulder. Nineteen times out of twenty they are wrong.

A scientist has decided or discovered or in some way arrived at the conclusion that there is going to be plenty of moisture for some years. It was announced over the radio the other day that we don't need to worry about lack of moisture before 1975. So there are a lot of us who won't have to worry about that any more, provided that scientist is right. And the supreme court matter is settled now so we don't have that to worry about any more.

The Poor Men. A little boy had taken his mother's powder puff, and was in the act of powdering his face when his small sister, aged five, snatched it from him. "You mustn't do that!" she exclaimed. "Only ladies use powder. Gentlemen wash themselves." - Danneberg News.

ONE CAT OUT OF THE BAG ALREADY

A few days ago, something like a month later, Ernest happened out by where the trash had been dumped and looking down happened to see a cat's paw protruding out. He was startled for as he glanced he thought he saw the paw move. He kicked the trash away, and sure as I'm writing this, there was Mr. Tabby, as alive as you please. The cat was pretty thin and scrawny, and it being a favorite cat, Ernest immediately took it to the house where it was fed and cared for. It is gaining now back to normal, but seems to like water the most of anything, drinking very frequently.

Those who are disheartened at the depletion of the business portion of North Loup might be heartened at the comments of my mother, who came to this country at the time scratch, 1872, and has been identified more or less with the town ever since. She says that no less than three times she has seen the city hit the skids as badly as it has this time and each time it recovered.

One time the business section extended to Bohrer's corner and to the telephone office. These business houses were all vacated and moved away and the town recovered later a block east.

With a paved road to Grand Island it is thought by many it will actually hurt both N. L. and Ord far more than it shall help. Folks down this way who might go to Ord to buy clothing will find it only a few minutes more driving to be in G. I. where there are larger and more numerous stores.

I wish some person with a good and generous soul would paint a few signs and plant them on the way from North Loup to Greeley. At the corners north and east of the N. L. bridge, drivers are daily confused, touring up into my place, on north, and even as far as Ashleys before they realize they are wrong and have to retrace.

The other day after the President's speech I heard various comments. Two people thought it was wonderful. The next stop I made was at the elevator. Something was said of the speech and the manager there said in disgust, "There is one good thing about a radio. You don't have to take it. You can turn it off. I listened quite faithfully until he (the President) got to talking about how we would have to curtail the surpluses of farm products, and that was too much for me. I wish he would come out here and look for any surplus crops."

Advertising Pays. Italy, Tex.—When Farmer George Tittle discovered his entire flock of chickens had been stolen, he inserted the following advertisement in the local weekly newspaper: "If you steal from the rich, You will steal from the poor; But you should always leave a few So we can grow some more."

The following morning Tittle found all his chickens had been returned.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT! The Queen's English Will It Come Back? Eight More Lives Postscripts

Our daughter came home from school not long ago and reported that her teacher, Miss Elizabeth Williams said there was something wrong with her vocal organs and that was the reason she could not talk any louder.

"Heaven help you," I exclaimed. "Find out what is her trouble if you can, and see if you cannot catch it."

Seldom does one hear a person talk with a more quieting and a more pleasing accent. She seems to weigh every word before she speaks and she never makes any grammatical errors. She never shrieks, she never whispers, she never hurts the children's feelings. Why, with all our complicated educational systems, is there only one in a thousand who has such control of his speech?

I have heard it said that there is nothing about a person that affects his personality like that of his speech. I knew a man who fell in love and later married a telephone central girl, and his first interest was only in her pleasant voice. In the Whale cafe on the way to Omaha there used to be a very ordinary appearing girl who continually had people straining their ears to hear her. Not so much what she said as it was her inflexion, her clever use of words, her perfect grammar.

It has become more pronounced in late years than before perhaps. Our radios have grabbed on to the men who could speak freely and pleasantly for their work as announcers. It is like music to listen to some of them, not so much for what they say as it is for their perfect command of the Queen's English. How far would an announcer get selling tires, or baby chicks if he hesitated, used don't for doesn't, used double negatives and did not pronounce his words and names correctly and distinctly?

We should cultivate the habit of talking loud enough to be heard easily but not too loudly. We should cultivate the habit of talking too, keeping up one's end of the conversation, but also of letting the other fellow say part of it. Everyone likes to give his ideas, or at least most everyone. There is no one so disagreeable as a person who will not talk. He is worse, many think, than one who does it all, but either is bad.

And we Republicans must take heed to this voice business if we expect to win more than two states in the next election. It is conceding that President Roosevelt has one of the best radio voices in the country. I heard him talk over the radio in the last campaign and he was followed directly by Landon. The crowd listened closely to Roosevelt, although there were many Rs. there, but Landon was such a poor talker that the crowd thinned down and the machine was finally turned off before he finished. Many think that if the Republicans had had a good radio speaker as their candidate in the last campaign, the results might have been different. At least they would have won more than two states.

The story comes filtering down from the Ord way through Bill Vodehnal and Ellamae Hill that some time before Thanksgiving Ernest Vodehnal cleaned out his chicken coop and unbeknown to him at the time he cleaned out a favorite cat that was sleeping there in the bedding. The cat, bedding and all, was dumped out over the canyon somewhere.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Roosevelt Speech Indicates No Armistice in War With Business

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. — Comparing the speeches made by Secretary of the Interior Ickes and Assistant Attorney General Robert H. Jackson, before the regular session of Congress convened with the President's message, reveals fire behind the smoke of Roosevelt's less belligerent attack on concentrated economic power. Jackson and Ickes referred to the "strike of capital" and the President more politely regretted "the selfish suspension of the employment of capital." Roosevelt's objections to "influence wielded by a very small numerical group" was surely directed at those whom Ickes called "the Sixty Families."

Jackson denounced the "economic oligarchy" as "a menace to political and economic freedom," and the President more gently referred to "the concentration of economic control to the detriment of the body politic," but his was no less than Jackson's fighting speech.

ROOSEVELT'S message made most observers suspect that he is again turning a deaf ear to the counsel of his more conservative advisers, and in Congress it pleased only the small groups of progressives. The speech made it apparent that Roosevelt wants co-operation with business, almost entirely on his own terms. His unwillingness to make any important concessions to business, or to retreat from the previous position of the administration, might have been deduced earlier from the fact that his conversations with public utilities executives were unproductive of results. The action of the Supreme Court in approving PWA loan grants to municipalities for public power plants after a three-year court fight, would seem to justify the President's serene faith that the so-called "power trust" would lose its long and expensive battle against his plans for the public development of power.

With the Supreme Court decision to fortify his confidence in his own position in the utilities fight, and his belief that with primaries and elections near at hand, Congress will pay more attention to him and less to his business opposition, it is easy to believe the predictions of the President's left-wingish advisers that in the forthcoming Jackson Day dinner speech, Roosevelt (like John Paul Jones, whose portrait hangs in his study) will say, in effect, "I have not yet begun to fight."

BACK FORTY BY J. A. Kovanda

The agent of a diesel engineering school visited Ord recently and made an unusual proposal. He desired the names of likely students, and offered the writer five dollars for each one signed up.

Not a few farm boys are mourning the loss of down payments made in consideration of correspondence courses in diesel motors, radio engineering, air conditioning, or similar trades. Salesmen appeal to the boy's natural interest in mechanics, and his desire to train himself for a vocation. They employ high pressure tactics, and generally make deliberate misrepresentations.

A radio course promoter promised any youth completing the study a job at $150 per month. The contract stated, however, that the printed contract constituted the entire agreement, and that if the student obtained a position at $150 per month, he would be liable for $100 additional tuition.

The promoter also declared that a teacher would visit the student every other week to help him. But the contract merely stated that after 30 days an instructor would call. Apparatus was to be furnished by the company for the tuition price of $247, but no specific items were listed. Lessons sent out by correspondence schools are generally mimeographed. The first consignment must often be mastered in 30 days. It may exceed in amount and difficulty a semester of college physics. A Mira Valley lad brought in some correspondence school problems a few years ago, which no one in town could solve. Another recent victim said, "When I tried to read the first page I knew I could never get it."

After the agent has departed, the boy or his parents frequently get "cold feet" and try to back out. If a check has been given, they attempt to stop payment, only to find that the agent has usually cashed it with some innocent third party. Later on the company endeavors to collect the balance of the tuition through badgering and intimidating letters. They seldom bring suit, however, because of the misrepresentations involved in the selling.

Young men and women should beware of all strangers who wish to educate them by mail. Not one out of ten starters ever complete such work. Those who approached should check every statement made against the printed contract. No school can guarantee jobs to all of its graduates.

Emergency Case. A radio speaker tells this one: After a candidate had made the same speech in a certain town for the third time, a wag presented him an empty watch case, inside of which was a note reading, "If you ever make that speech here again we'll give you the works."—Cozad Local.

The Ministry of Jesus

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for Jan. 16. Text: Mark 1:14-28.

THE entrance of Jesus into His public ministry was marked by the same simplicity which characterized His life. What greatness of life and spiritual and world history are contained in the announcement: "Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of God."

The ministry of Jesus began when John the Baptist had been delivered up, and was awaiting his martyrdom. That is the way that the gospel of God and of His truth has progressed in life. The saints and prophets have been persecuted and killed, but the proclamation of the good news of truth and righteousness and love has gone on. John had done his work of preparation.

He had said concerning Jesus, "I must decrease, but He must increase"; and these words were now fulfilled.

The ministry of Jesus was something more than preaching in words. The Christian movement did not begin simply in devotion and in worship. The Christian movement began with the preaching of the truth, the telling of the good news concerning God, and the Kingdom of Heaven that was at hand. But the ministry of Jesus was one of contacts as well as of preaching. When He found men who were capable of responding to the truth, He called them to Him and invited them to become His disciples.

In the calling of Simon and Andrew, his brother, there is symbolism as well as fact. These men were fishers, and Jesus would make them fishers of men.

Incidentally, Theron is here shown wearing his first pair of real overalls which Santa brought him as a Christmas present. He is lucky in having four grandparents and five great grandparents living. His Great Grandfather Barber is a direct descendant of Roger Williams of Rhode Island historical fame.

Union Pacific Shows How Rates Lowered

"As Neighbor to Neighbor", a pamphlet showing in graphic form how in the past ten years farm incomes have gone up while freight and passenger rates have gone down, has just been issued by the Union Pacific Railroad company. Statistics were taken from the United States Department of Agriculture's publication, "A Yearbook of Railroad Information".

Through the use of charts, the booklet shows that: From 1936 to 1937 farm income increased from slightly more than five billion dollars to nearly eleven billion dollars, while the cost of shipping one ton of freight one mile decreased from 1.050 cents to about .975 cents.

In 1933 the money from one 1,000 pound steer paid freight on one average carload 152 miles, in 1937, 292 miles.

In 1933 a potato grower at Gering, Nebr., could buy a round trip coach ticket to Omaha for 26 sacks of potatoes, while only eight sacks bought the same ticket in 1937.

In 1933 an average freight carload traveled 63 miles on money from one 50-pound can of butterfat, in 1937, 109 miles.

In 1933 it took $1,279 carloads of freight to pay one day's wages of railroads, 26,971 carloads to pay for one day's material used, and 14,446 carloads to pay one day's taxes. By 1936, wages, costs of materials and taxes had mounted until it took 99,017 carloads of freight to pay the wages of railroads one day, 43,033 carloads to meet expense of materials, and 17,126 carloads to offset one day's tax load.

North Loup

Written by Mrs. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. Eva Hill.
Eva Elfrida Davis, oldest daughter of A. Judson and Esther Worth Davis, was born in Welton, Iowa, May 13, 1859. In the spring of 1874 she came to the North Loup settlement with her parents, and this has been her home ever since except for about nine years spent with her son, Rev. C. L. Hill in Farina, Ill.

On Jan. 1, 1876 she was married to Castello W. Hill, and their home was in a tiny log house on Mr. Hill's homestead, since known as the Robert Preston place in Mira Valley. Here and in the village she lived the life of a pioneer girl and woman. She was practically widowed when her husband was stricken with a mental malady and taken to the state hospital, and she worked hard and unceasingly to support and raise her three small boys. But her time and strength were given to other homes as well. At a time when there were no nurses in the valley, she responded to every call, and often worked hard all day and then sat up all night with a sick neighbor. Her own troubles she kept in the background.

Her great passion in life was music. Though denied musical training, she had a wonderful voice and used it on every possible occasion. She could get more beauty and meaning out of a hymn than most leaders, and for several years put in a large part of her time as a singing evangelist. Music was her comfort and rest. Many did not know that when her heart was nearest breaking her singing was the best.

With her cheerful, happy disposition, cordial ways and her helpful and generous deeds, she made friends of all, and was Aunt Eva or Ma Hill to a large part of the community.

When quite young she united with the Seventh Day Baptist church at Welton, Iowa, and was transferred to the North Loup church in 1874. She was chorister, teacher in the Sabbath school and church worker in many ways until her health began to fail. When her son moved back to North Loup about a year ago, she returned and has been faithfully cared for by Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barber in their home. She died peacefully after a brief illness, Friday a. m., Jan. 7. Had she lived until May she would have been 79 years of age. She leaves her three sons, Rev. Claude L. Otto R., and Judson V., nine grandchildren, nine great-grandchildren and one brother, Dr. Walter L. Davis of Lincoln. Funeral services were held in the S. D. B. church Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. J. Adams, assisted by Rev. Birmingham. Music was furnished by a quartette consisting of Maxine Johnson, Mrs. Merton Barber, Dell Barber and Albert Babcock while Mrs. W. G. Johnson presided at the piano and Mrs. J. A. Johnson at the organ. Bearers were H. C. Sample, Frank Johnson, George Maxson, Floyd Hutchins, James Johnson and Albert Babcock. The beautiful flowers and the large attentive crowd were a silent tribute to her as well as her family. "With long life will I satisfy them and show them my salvation."—Psalms 91-16.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Davis and Dr. Marks of Lincoln drove to North Loup Sunday to attend the funeral services of Dr. Davis' sister, Mrs. Eva Hill. They returned the same day.

Dr. and Mrs. Davis, Dr. Marks, Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnson and Maxine were dinner guests Sunday of Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hill.

Mrs. W. T. Hutchins is enjoying a visit with her aunt, Mrs. George Burdick of Los Angeles. Mrs. Burdick's brother, Art Grierson and wife and daughter, Mrs. Mills, brought her over from Anselmy Sunday. They all attended Mrs. Hill's funeral in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. George Burdick lived in North Loup many years ago, having left here about 1890. Mr. Burdick was in the harness shop with Walter Davis and will be well remembered by many old residents. He has been dead for several years.

Rev. and Mrs. Birmingham attended an all day meeting of the Davis Creek ladies aid at the home of Chas. Johnson Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post returned Wednesday from Calo and Ravenna where they had spent several weeks with their children.

Mr. and Mrs. Elno Davis and baby and Mrs. Crosby, all of Denver spent a short time last week in North Loup. They had been to St. Peters, Minn., and stopped over on their way home.

Enniee Road was at home from her school work in Burwell over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Babcock of Anselmy were guests of his mother, Mrs. Martha Babcock last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervie Weed were guests of Mrs. Weed's mother, Mrs. Carpenter of Grand Island Wednesday and Thursday last week.

Since Sterling Manchester has moved his meat market to the H. and S. store the services of Mrs. Chas. Johns are no longer required and she is again at home.

The preaching mission conducted by Rev. C. L. Hill in the S. D. B. church was concluded with the regular morning service Saturday. The attendance and interest were good and the sermons were splendid. Good music was a feature of all the meetings. On Thursday night George Clement gave a chalk talk illustrating the hymn, "The Old Rugged Cross" as Mrs. Ava Johnson at the piano and Mrs. Nina Johnson at the organ played the music. On Friday night the high school chorus furnished special numbers.

Dr. Hemphill performed tonsil operations for Mrs. Lee Mulligan Tuesday and Grover Jorgensen Wednesday at Dr. Weekes' house in Ord.

Agnes Manchester entertained the pinocle club at her home Saturday night in honor of the Art and Clifford Collins families.

Chas. Clark drove from Lincoln to Columbus Saturday where he met his mother who had spent the week at Madison with Nettie, and brought her on home. He returned to his work at Lincoln Sunday.

A crowd of young people enjoyed a party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Victor King Saturday night.

Mrs. Roy Cox and Mrs. George Maxson were in Ord Friday to get the lesson for the Twentieth Century club. The club will meet with Mrs. Roy Cox Thursday afternoon when the leaders will demonstrate the lesson on one dish meals.

Several from North Loup attended the dance at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf Saturday night. Ottos and Honeycutts furnished the music.

Mrs. Emma Stude spent Saturday night and Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Louie Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Watts, Mrs. Alice Smith and Mrs. Scott were over from Septia Sunday to attend the funeral of Mrs. Eva Hill.

Mrs. Claud Thomas who accompanied the Rufus Dutcher family to Onataska, Wash., writes of the large amount of rain they have had there, sixty-one inches in six weeks. Mrs. Thomas expects to visit the Russell Williams family before returning home.

J. A. Barber was in Ord on business Friday.

Stewart Resembled Grandfather Dennie

From North Loup comes an interesting story of Denzel (Pat) Stewart, who works in the cheese factory there, and whose picture recently appeared in the Quiz. All the old timers will remember his grandfather, Dennie Stewart, who was a farmer and business man in North Loup for a long period of years, and went to his reward some years ago. During his lifetime he shipped a great many cattle to Roberts Bros., and Rose Commission Co., of Omaha. Recently Pat made his first trip to the same commission company while in Omaha. He went into the office, and before he had announced who he was the man at the desk said, "If your name isn't Dennie Stewart, it ought to be. You look just like him."

The school board at District 46 are so well pleased with the work done by their teacher, Miss Ruth Williams that they gave her a Christmas present of $25.00.

Mrs. N. J. Keating, sr., spent Saturday and Sunday in North Loup assisting with arrangements for Mrs. Eva Hill's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee and Bernice arrived in North Loup Saturday from their home in Marsing, Idaho. They left Archie Lee and his wife with her people at Phillipsburg, Kas., another party at Bloomington, Nebr., and visited at Archer a few days before coming here. Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lee are expected here Thursday for a few days before they all return to Archer and go from there back to Idaho. They like their new home very well, all having work. Mae and Russell Lee both had work so did not come. They have recently had a stage of the smallpox.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee, Bernice and Mable were dinner guests Sunday at Ed Lee's. Sunday night and Monday they spent at Orin Manchester's.

Chinese Checkers

Ord's Newest Sport

Have you ever played "Chinese checkers"? If not, you've been missing something.

It all started last week when Verne Russell, owner of the Russell Pharmacy, had "Toot" Harris build him a board with which to play the game. Russell had seen one of the games while visiting in Colorado and decided that it would be no job at all to have one built.

Harris completed it last week. Those who have played the game have "gone" for it in a big way and Harris will be kept busy for some time if he fills all the orders he has received for the checker boards.

The game is played with various colored marbles which rest on a board covered with holes forming the shape of a star. Two to six people may play the game and closely resembles checkers only it is more exciting to play. Object of the game is to move the marbles from one corner of the star to an opposite corner.

Marrying Honors To Our Judge Andersen

County Judge John L. Andersen had his annual report in last week's Quiz, showing a total of 59 marriage licenses issued in 1937. A check of the records shows that the judge performed the marriage ceremony for 22 of these couples, which in big league parlance makes his batting average 371.

Judge Charles C. Larsen of Howard county issued 64 marriage licenses, but performed only 19 ceremonies, the only comparative report we have.

Newman Grove Reporter.—Did you do any roughing in your camp? Yes, sir. Why, one day we were without our refrigerator, electric lights and radio for a couple of hours when our power went off.

Something Different

A droll ending to a New Year's evening was that of a Burwell youth who had attended a celebration. At the home where he was entertained the hosts owned an I. E. S. lamp, one of those nice new indirect lighting kind. When he came into the house the boy carefully parked his cap on top this lamp.

When he started to get ready to go home, the cap no longer fit the boy. The intense heat had shrunk leather and wool so much that it comically perched atop his head.

A Lincoln minister had a unique success formula.

He started a small church in Lincoln many years ago, and it has grown to a huge modern plant housed in a beautiful cathedral, and a staff is necessary to look after the church and the welfare of its people.

Now the minister has been called to a bigger church where it is hoped he can repeat the astounding growth the Lincoln church has made under his direction.

This minister requests of his parishioners that they give the Lord dollar for dollar as much money as they spend buying liquor. Just match it, and give me just what you spend for drinks, he asks.

Rather uncanny, the way Ord's basketballers beat Kearney with precisely the same score that last year punished them.

Last year, Kearney made 27 points, Ord 19.

This year, Ord made 27 points, Kearney 19.

Do you believe in spooks and hants and luck and stuff?

A doctor friend of ours, and I am not saying that he lives in Ord, was taking a vacation trip with his wife. They were driving leisurely through a pretty country, stopping at night at a convenient hotel.

One morning they arose as usual, left the hotel and drove down the road. Visiting, enjoying the scenery, they achieved the first hundred miles of the day. Then the wife inquired, "And what did they charge you for that room last night?"

The doctor gasped. They had walked out of that hotel without paying their bill, and that was the first thought that had crossed his mind about it! Hastily, at the first opportunity, the doctor called the hotel long distance to tell them how unintentional this slip had been. And more important.....that he was sending a check at once.

What a narrow escape, he kept thinking. Suppose telegrams had flooded his home city telling how he had beat a hotel bill! How awful! He breathed a sigh of relief when the hotel management, over the telephone, accepted his apologies and explanations. And very hurriedly matted the belated check.

Mrs. Clayton Burke of Cody, Wyoming, once well known in Ord as Gertrude Stacy, has developed an unusual skill and money-making project from a hobby.

Living where mountains are plentifully graced with evergreens of many kinds, Mrs. Burke and a friend began to make wreaths and Christmas garlands from the greenery. So attractive were these wreaths, so much admired, that the ladies were soon making them for friends also. And before long there was a demand for the wreaths and they were making many to sell.

Now the two friends spend days before Christmas every year assembling the various kinds of evergreens, fashioning big wreaths. Very individual is their work, each wreath trimmed a bit differently with cones and berries of several sizes and colors.

They start, of all things, with a green wire coat-hanger. This they bend into a circle, and then the heavy sprays of pine and spruce are bound into place on the top. The hook part is conveniently left at the top so that the wreath may be easily hung in place.

We were lucky enough to receive one of these beautiful wreaths. And we like it so much that it is still in place, with no whispers heard about taking it down. Not one.

Governor Losing Faith. Governor Cochran must be losing faith in the Roosevelt administration. In a talk the other day, he said that "hard work and nature's help" would solve our agricultural problem in Nebraska. We remember when the Governor was saying that the New Deal would handle all that for us.—Gordon Journal.

Sunday evening at 7:30 the gospel team of the Kearney State Teachers college Y. M. C. A. will have charge of the service at the Presbyterian church. The public is invited to hear this group featuring a splendid male quartet. Wilson Bell, an Ord boy, is a member of this group.

Hardenbrooks Entertain.

Mr. and Mrs. Daryl Hardenbrook entertained three tables of pinocle Friday evening. Mrs. Wayne Keller won high score for the ladies, and George Anderson high for the men. Mrs. Asa Anderson held low score.

Ladies Meet at Carltons.

The G. A. R. Ladies and Mrs. Carlton's division of the Ladies Aid met Tuesday afternoon at the Carlton home. The Ladies Aid quilted, and the G. A. R. ladies tore carpet rags. All had a good time, and a lovely lunch was served.

Womans Club Meets.

The Ord Womans Club met at the home of Mrs. Dean Duncan Tuesday afternoon, it being the first meeting following the Christmas recess. Mrs. Evet Smith led the lesson, which was on the opera, Merry Mount, by Howard Hanson. This was of special interest as Mr. Hanson was formerly a Wahoo, Neb., resident. Mrs. J. A. Kovanda and Mrs. Leo Long assisted with the lesson.

Joint Community

Victor Herchal trucked several loads of baled hay to North Loup for Lester Kizer last week.

Daniel Pishna sawed wood last Thursday on the old Wm. Turner place, now owned by Asigun Bros. At the rate the trees are dying, this section of the country will soon look as desolate as the western Dakota plains.

Lester Kizer and J. L. Abernethy repaired the furnace at the Joint school house Sunday.

Mrs. Harry Clement and daughter, who are living in the Walter Jensen house this winter, to be closer to school, spent Sunday at their old home.

In a recent letter Mrs. Joe Hoover, nee Hazel Cummins, of Wagoner, Mont., tells of their new home there. They are located on an eighty acre tract, fifty acres of which are under irrigation. The buildings are all modern. This government resettlement project is only available to those who have sold or agreed to sell their marginal farms to the government.

James Campbell of Chicago, who is recuperating from a recent accident at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Campbell, spent Sunday afternoon at the Abernethy home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Timmerman recently moved to the Merle Timmerman place near Haskell Creek for the winter. The Marvin Timmerman family are living on Ernest's farm.

The Russel Jensen family called on J. S. Abernethy's one day last week.

Mrs. Clarence Larsen spent Sunday at the home of her father, Lester Kizer.

Pearson-Anderson Mortuary, successor to Orville H. Sowl. Phone 377.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cook and Helen and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Cook and family were Sunday dinner guests in the Victor Cook home.

Emil Smolik helped Chas. Veleba repair his tractor Monday.

Lloyd Hunt, Sam Brickner and Ferne Johnston and their families brought oysters and helped Mrs. Cook celebrate her birthday Saturday evening.

Sunday evening guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lew Smolik were Mr. and Mrs. Anton Vanek and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hruby and family of Comstock and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bonne and daughter.

Eva Klancecky called on Lillian Novotny Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Veleba called on Chas. Krikac Monday evening.

Visitors at Chas. Veleba's Sunday evening were Steve Sowokinos and the Chas. Zmrhal family.

Elmer and Eldon Penas called on Chas. Turner Wednesday evening.

Adolph Klancecky spent Sunday afternoon with George Zurek.

The Y. C. A. meeting was held last Friday. Some very interesting current events were given.

John Veleva is preparing to take the examinations given the latter part of the month.

Miss Smolik treated the pupils to a birthday cake Wednesday.

The pupils have been doing some hand-work. The older pupils are working with wood. The little girls did some soap carving.

Marshal Len Covert arrested Lloyd Parks Saturday on a charge of overloading his truck. He was driving with a 7 ton license, which entitled him to haul a maximum load of 15,000 pounds. He was hauling 16,720 lbs., and was fined $10.00 and costs of $8.00, which he paid.

Mrs. Clarence Larsen spent Sunday at the home of her father, Lester Kizer.

PERSONALS

—Mrs. J. H. Capron is in Seattle, Wash., located near her son Arthur and family.

—Monday Clarence M. Davis and E. L. Vogelantz went down to Lincoln on business, returning the same evening.

—SCHOOL GIRLS—Guaranteed $3.00 Lotus Oil Permanent for $1.50 with haircut and fingerwave at Ord Hotel, Jan. 20-21-22. See advertisement on page 2.

—Saturday evening all members of the Waterman families and H. C. Thussen of Otis, Colo., enjoyed an oyster supper at the Walter Waterman home.

—Mrs. Martha Gorney of Eureka township went to Omaha the latter part of last week to consult specialists regarding a nasal trouble and to submit to an operation if necessary.

—Mrs. Jacob Osenowski writes us from Los Angeles to start their Quiz coming to them. They are located at 721 Aragon Ave., and seem to be pleased with their coast experience so far. Mrs. Osenowski says she is having quite a time to keep Jake away from the bathing beaches.

—Miss Meda Draver writes from St. Petersburg, Fla., to renew her subscription to the Quiz and sends a beautiful post card which makes one wish to be down there among the flowers and bathing beauties.

—John P. Carkoski of Elyria, patrolman of the Elyria sector of highway No. 11 since the establishment of patrols, has been transferred to the Ord-Loup City highway. The family moved to Ord last week, as Mr. Carkoski will have his headquarters here.

—Those who attended the meeting of postmasters and clerks of this district at North Loup Tuesday evening were Postmaster and Mrs. Alfred Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. John Leckerson and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Wilkerson.

—In writing this week to renew her Quiz for 1938 Mrs. J. P. Ford says she has lived in Valley county for 44 years and is still interested in Valley county news. She is living at North Platte, Nebraska.

—Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Gerrard, formerly of Ord, but for the past 25 years residents of Kenesaw, Neb., are in Ord on an indefinite visit. Mr. Gerrard was a blacksmith with the Work shop when the family lived here.

—Sheriff George Round stated this morning that all the peace officers of Ord expected to attend the state sheriff's meeting at Grand Island tomorrow. Those going are Sheriff Round, Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen, Marshal Len Covert and night marshal Roy Pardue. Sheriff Raymond E. Johnson of Burwell went down to Grand Island this morning.

—In writing to renew her Quiz Mrs. Carrie McCarthy of Flint, Mich., says that she reads the paper eagerly every week; that while Flint is quite an automobile town, just now many men are out of work and things are very dull there. She also says they had plenty of moisture to raise a fine crop in 1937 and that there is now plenty of snow on the ground for cover. Mrs. McCarthy says she is feeling pretty good, which will be welcome news to her many Ord friends.

New Thermometer Tells High and Low

The City of Ord now has a very interesting thermometer, which has been put up on the Milford corner. It is known as a maximum and minimum recording thermometer, and makes a record of the high and low temperatures for each 24 hours. It has to be set at eight o'clock each morning. A sheet of paper the high and low temperatures for each day are marked down, so that there will be a complete temperature record for the year. It was set up for use the first of January.

Barbara Zalud Passes. Word was received just before going to press of the death at Burwell Tuesday afternoon at 5:30 of Mrs. Barbara Zalud, aged, 79, who passed away at the W. J. Inness home in north Burwell. Funeral arrangements have not been made at this time.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Some four months ago Judge Anderson collected five dollars due an Ordite. He notified him to call at the office for the money. Friday the man came in for his money, talked to the judge a while and then walked out, leaving the check on the counter. Since then he has not been back. It would seem that the depression is over.

It was interesting Saturday morning to see one of our new business men, Hilding O. Pearson, trying to sweep the snow off the sidewalk in front of the funeral parlors. The wind whipped around the corner and put the snow back on the walk as fast as he got it off.

When Lillian Karty, scouting news for the Quiz, was told the hazy details of a truck accident in which a butcher truck figured, she thought she had the material for a real story until John Gross told her the butcher's truck had the liver knocked out of it and started laughing.

When Theron Beehrle broke his leg early last fall he had to get around a couple of months with crutches. Then for a couple of months more he used a cane. Now he has got so used to walking with a cane that he lugs it around wherever he goes, whether he needs it or not.

Dutch Berger went into the City Bakery Tuesday, first knocking the ashes out of his pipe and then putting it in his coat pocket. A few minutes later Dutch told the boys he smelled something burning and began looking around trying to locate it. John Haskell noticed smoke rolling out of Dutch's pocket and called his attention to it. Dutch may be getting old, but he moved faster for a little while than he used to do when he was home run king for the old Ord sluggers. He will make sure his pipe is out in the future.

Elba Team Defeats North Loup 23 to 10

The Elba high school basketball team defeated the North Loup high team Tuesday evening at North Loup by a score of 23 to 10. North Loup will play Scotia at North Loup Saturday evening.

North Loup

Written by MRS. ETHEL HAMER

A wedding which took place Oct. 31 at the Evangelical parsonage in North Loup was announced last week. Alma L. Adams, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. A. Adams was married to Kenneth Roney of Hill-dreth, the bride's father performing the ceremony. Mrs. Roney graduated from Hastings college in 1932, having majored in music and sociology. She taught one year at Lodgepole and this is her second year at Wood River where she teaches music in the grades and high school. Mr. Roney is a graduate of Kearney normal, was coach at Wood River last year where he and his wife met. This year he is coach at Hilldreth. The young couple spent their Christmas vacation in Lincoln with Mr. and Mrs. Adams and Mrs. Leah Goe-ger. The week end of New Year's they brought Rev. Adams to North Loup and returned to their respective schools.

While in Lincoln for Christmas Rev. J. A. Adams had Mrs. Adams moved to Room 304 of Metropolitan Apts. where she is being cared for by a friend of the family. Mrs. Adams is feeling much better but has a blood clot under the right knee cap which doctors say must be absorbed before she can be moved because of the danger of its breaking up and going through the system to the brain and causing paralysis. It is hoped she will be able to be brought home by Feb. 1. Mrs. Leah Goe-ger, Rev. Adams' other daughter, who is supervisor of N.Y.A. work in fourteen counties and has Lincoln as her headquarters spends what time she can with her mother. Rev. Adams is at home and feeling quite like himself but thinks they had a very narrow escape.

A gospel team of five young men from the Y. M. C. A. at Kearney are to be a treat for Rev. Adams' congregation at the Evangelical church in Mira Valley next Sunday morning. These arrangements have been made through Wilson Bell who is a student at Kearney.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harding spent Tuesday in Ord helping her son Ray celebrate his birthday.

W. T. Hutchins, Mrs. Floyd Hutchins and Edward Christensen drove to Grand Island Monday after Mrs. Edward Christensen and little Phyllis Kay. Merle Davis is assisting in the Christensen home for a few days.

I. A. Manchester went to Omaha Friday to have his eyes looked after. Doctors advised him to wait until spring for the necessary operation and Saturday he went on to Kansas for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Amy Taylor was a Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. Grey and Mrs. Brink.

V. W. Robbins and H. H. Clement went to Grand Island to serve on the grand jury Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Waddington of Cairo spent the time from Wednesday until Sunday in North Loup. Thursday they were supper guests at Clark Roby's, dinner guests Friday at John Williams' on Davis Creek and supper guests at Ervie Weed's.

Fred East, who lives alone, has been growing very feeble for some time, both mentally and physically. He thinks someone has taken his belongings. Friday morning about four o'clock he started to walk to Lincoln to see his brother Herb. Roy Stine, who was making his regular trip to Grand Island, overtook him in the chalk hills and took him on to Cotesfield where he called marshal Jim Coleman who went down and brought him home. It seems likely different arrangements will have to be made for his care as he is no longer able to live alone.

Mr. and Mrs. Ervie Weed and Mrs. Fanny Weed spent Sunday at Clark Roby's. Monday night they all helped Venetta Roby celebrate her birthday with ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards and family and Glen Edwards spent Sunday evening at the Chas. Kasson home.

Hannibal Sample left on the Tuesday morning bus for Cashmere, Wash. He expected to stop over in Denver for a few days.

Twenty-four attended the meeting for the organization of the North Loup band for this year at the town hall Monday night. Clifford Hawkes was re-elected business manager and Darwin Sheldon secretary-treasurer. The election of a leader was laid over till the next meeting.

North Loup high school basketball team played their first home game with Elba Tuesday night. The varsity club sold coffee and doughnuts.

Mrs. N. J. Keating, sr., returned to her home at St. Paul on the Tuesday morning bus.

Mrs. John Jordan came up from St. Paul Tuesday to visit her sister Mrs. Lou Stine and Mrs. Elmer Cox. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill McClelland and Mrs. Gagin left early Sunday morning for Redlands, Calif.

Home Sample expects to leave Saturday for Covina, Calif., to be gone several weeks. Mrs. Clark Bleach of Burwell and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jackman will go with him. Jackman's will visit their daughter, Mrs. Maud Gels at El Centro and Mrs. Bleach her children at Los Angeles and Covina.

Roy Horner, who lived, until recently, in the Union Ridge neighborhood, but now lives near Scotia has been very sick for several weeks with pneumonia. Sunday doctors drained his lung, getting a gallon of pus. Monday he was taken to the veterans hospital at Lincoln where it is hoped he will soon recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Regler had as their guests over the week end, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kaspar of Clarks. Monday Mr. Regler's father and mother drove over from Henderson for the afternoon and evening.

Arthur Babcock came Sunday night from Wahoo and remained till Tuesday when he went into Lincoln. He is with the state highway department.

Herb East was up from Lincoln Tuesday. A meeting of the North Loup Cooperative Credit Association was held in the town hall on Tuesday afternoon for yearly election of officers and directors.

The marriage of Emma Cruzan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cruzan, to Edwin Weirheiser, was solemnized in the first Baptist church at Quinton, N. J., at ten o'clock in the morning. Emma lived all her life in the Union Ridge neighborhood until last spring when she moved with her parents to New Jersey where she met her husband. She is a competent housekeeper and needlewoman and will make an excellent homemaker.

At the regular morning service at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday a letter of dismissal was granted Emma Cruzan Weirheiser that she might become a member of the First Baptist church of Quinton, N. J., which church her husband joined the day after their marriage.

Mrs. Gladys Watts spent Tuesday in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy LeMaster were guests at the Chas. Kasson home Sunday.

Mrs. Lyle McBeth of Ord spent Sunday afternoon with her sister, Mrs. Chas. Kasson.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zanger entertained at dinner-bridge Monday night. Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp were guests. Mrs. Roy Hudson and R. H. Knapp held high score.

The M. E. Ladies Aid met Wednesday at the church to quilt. Election of officers for next year was held.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hawkes entertained the Whoopie club last Thursday night. Mrs. Chas. Sayre and John Lemmon held high score. The Art and Clifford Collins families were honored with a handkerchief shower.

The Womens Missionary society met Tuesday with Mrs. Hemphill to quilt.

The Nellie Shaw society met on Wednesday afternoon with Alice Johnson. The program was in charge of Nina Johnson.

The Business and Professional Womens club met Monday night with Dorothy Campbell. Marcia Rood was assistant hostess and Vesta Thorngate had charge of the program on "Time." She gave an interesting paper on different large clocks. Miss Bloomenkamp gave the history of the calendar and Myra Barber, interesting events of 1937. Games were played during the social hour and the hostesses served a dainty lunch.

The I. O. O. F. lodge held an installation of officers Tuesday night. Mrs. Ross Williams was quite sick the first of the week with infection in her hands. Mrs. Roy Williams helped care for her.

A nine pound son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Willis Bridge Saturday morning. Mother and baby are being cared for in the Chas. Bridge home.

MANDERSON

The John Volf family visited Tuesday night at John Benben's. Mr. and Mrs. John Volf and family were visitors at Mrs. Mary Maresh's Friday.

The John Volf family spent Friday evening at Mrs. Mary Maresh's.

Mrs. Mary Maresh and children were Saturday evening visitors at J. S. Vodehnal's.

District 31 School Notes.
Friday afternoon will be election day for the Y. C. L. club members. New officers are to be elected whereby other pupils who have not had opportunity to hold any office yet, will get that privilege now. In this club parliamentary law is observed and some valuable activities are carried out.

The second grade pupils are making their own newspapers. They are clipping out such material which they are able to read and understand. These are pasted on some wrapping paper and will be fastened together. On the last page, each child is to write a little editorial, telling how the newspaper was made. The entire unit conveys instructional value.

The eighth graders are being prepared for their examinations, to be held soon. We hope to attain good results, as last year the three pupils made very good averages, the highest being 90 in six subjects. The 7th and 8th grade hygiene class is making a thorough study of the teeth. They are preparing individual booklets. In language class, the first and second graders are talking and writing about good manners. They have completed health booklets.

Up to this writing, the following pupils have perfect attendance records: Dorothy Penas, Eldon Maresh, Ernie, Raymond and Adrian Golka and Emanuel Sedlacek. Three or four others have missed only one day.

WOODMAN HALL

Mrs. Jake Bigley and children of Twin Falls, Ida., accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jake Beehrle and their son-in-law called at Joe Waldmann's and in our neighborhood last Wednesday visiting the children and homes of the ladies. Mrs. Bigley is a sister of Mrs. Beehrle, better known by her old friends as Jessie Brady, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Bratlers, who were among the early settlers here. They homesteaded the place now owned by Jos. Zadina. Leaving here about 40 years ago they lived east of Ord for a few years and later moved to Oklahoma where Jessie grew to womanhood and married Jake Bigley, raising a family of 8 children. A few years ago the family moved to Twin Falls, Ida., where Mr. Bigley is engaged in the carpenter trade. Four of the children have married and the younger 2 boys and 2 girls accompanied their mother on the trip visiting relatives in Illinois and after spending a few days visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jake Beehrle and family they planned to return home Friday.

NYA Project Reveals Queer Old Records

For several months an NYA project has been in operation in the office of Clerk of District Court A. A. Wiegard, the object being to rearrange the papers on file there and make them more readily available for use. The project is now practically completed, but there remain a number of old papers, odds and ends, that seem to have no connection with anything else in the office.

A study of some of these papers is of special interest, as they reveal some early day data that would be available nowhere else. Most of the people to whom they refer are long gone and forgotten but a study of them shows the remarkable contrasts between the methods of doing business then and today. Some papers do not belong in Wiegard's office at all, but because of their historic value he will doubtless preserve them.

One of the latter is a monthly statement put out by W. J. Holliday, Post Trader, Fort Hartsuff, Neb., under date of May 11, 1875. It is to one Charles Meyer and contains one entry, "By Mds. $14.00." The statement was printed by the Grand Island Times, and contains the notation, "Interest at the rate of 12 per cent will be charged on all bills not paid within thirty days." Per cent was written out because the printing company had no sign to represent it as we do today.

One of the oldest Valley county warrants extant was issued in August H. Terry, Dec. 31, 1874 in the sum of $4.00, and charged to the county general fund. It was No. 19, and was made out by W. D. Long, county clerk and counter-signed by R. W. Bancroft, chairman county commissioners. In the corner is the notation, "Amount levied, $1691.15; amount issued, $354.82." The warrant had the name Springdale printed on it, and this was marked over and the name Ord written in.

On the back are the following notations: "Presented and not paid for want of funds, April 29, 1875. P. Mortensen, Treasurer." "Registered for payment April 29, 1875. P. Mortensen, Treasurer." "Paid on the within, $1.58, August 7, 1876. P. Mortensen, Treas." On the face is written in red ink: "Amt. due $3.74. Cancelled Oct. 14, 1878. P. Mortensen, Tr."

The treasurer's statement of delinquent taxes given by A. D. Robinson, treasurer to A. H. Shafer, county clerk, for the year 1877, would make glad the treasurer and taxpayer today, the treasurer because of the small amount outstanding and the taxpayer because of the smallness of the taxes. A total of six persons owed a total of $37.41 in personal taxes past due and eight persons owed a total of $30.15 in real estate taxes past due, a grand total of $67.56.

The following summons is interesting: State of Nebraska, Valley County, ss.—To the Sheriff or any constable in said county: You are commanded to summon Lewis E. Goodale to appear before Mr. Z. F. Ferguson at my office in Calamus in said county on Monday, the 2nd day of August, 1875, at 2 o'clock P. M., to answer the action of Allen Osborn for failure to pay him a certain amount not exceeding one hundred dollars. You will make a return of this writ on the 2nd day of August, 1875 at 2 o'clock P. M.

Witness my hand this 29th day of July: Ziba Ferguson, Justice of Peace.

A bill presented by Charles Badger, M. D., is torn in two. The lower half remains and reads as follows: "—visits, advise and medicine to self, wife and child, Dr. $23.00. (Credit) By stacking 60 shocks of hay, Cr. $6.00; By hauling log one mile, Cr. $1.00; Balance due, $18.00. From August 22nd, 1872 to March 14th, 1874 Chas. Badger, M. D." On the reverse side is part of an assignment of the bill to W. H. Mitchell, Nov. 1, 1877.

Students Play "Animal Tag" At Dist. 19

"Animal Tag" is one of the favorite games of Dist. 19 students. Baseball is another favorite game which these students enjoy when the weather is favorable for playing it. Their huge playground is completely surrounded by a high wire fence as county roads run at the east and south sides of the school.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

On Crop Reduction.
To the Editor of the Quiz:

While we are many men of many minds and don't see alike on some public questions, I believe that we are all affected by the crop condition of farmers in our county and state, so I would like to say a word or two on the question of over-production. We never have had and never will have over-production for we find that while some have more than they need, others are short, and divine teaching tells us, "in time of plenty to prepare for the time of want."

During the time that some boistered over-production we know that thousands were in want of more food, and would have consumed more if they had had the means to purchase it. I consider the word, "Over Production" one of the most deceptive slogans ever produced by the "New Deal" or any other party. In good years many have raised big crops and have carried over a part from year to year. And when a short year did arrive he had something in his granary and was ahead by his saving.

When crops are cheap, if you will hold on you will always find time in the future when the same crops are worth double or more. Let us banish under-consumption, which is not a "ghost" and fill everyone a chance to eat their fill. Capital and labor both have rights and we need both, but neither should dominate the other. It appears that both need a little regulating.

We need a little more common sense in our government affairs and less politics. Let the farmer alone. He can run his business better than any brain truster from Washington. The man who has a farm is getting tired of being dictated to. While the farmer plants and expects to harvest there is a Greater Power than man who has always taken care of crop reduction, and will continue to do so long after the New Deal is forgotten.

I have farmed for nearly 45 years, lived in Nebraska 53 years, coming from Ohio when a boy. I own some land, pay taxes and believe in law and order. I am no fanatic on religion or politics, but cannot go the New Deal which is trying to take the foundation away from us by wanting to change the Supreme Court. It looks like we are headed toward a dictatorship, which was the cause of our forefathers leaving foreign soil.

CHAS. STERNER.

Praises German Xmas.
To the Editor of the Quiz:

It was with considerable indignation that I read the editorial entitled, "Throttling Christmas," published in your paper on December 29, and I believe that you should be informed of the true facts, especially regarding your allegations referring to Germany. I know that there is a general campaign of stirring up enmity against Germany, conducted by certain interests in this country, and realize that your information probably came from such a source.

Ord Township Library.

Interest in the library is increasing and more books are being loaned than for some time according to the librarian, Mrs. Cecil Hansen. Many of the new patrons did not realize what a large quantity of high quality books are available to the public. Two books have been received the past week. The first is "Leisure in the Modern World," by C. DeLisle Burns, and shows how it is possible to find leisure of those things worthwhile in spite of the calls of society or business.

The other book is "One Family Travels West," written by Alice A. Migick. It is a 1938 copyright, and contains, as an introduction a brief record of the Ichabod Lockwood family and a similar record of the Benjamin Shaver and Mary Lockwood families. The book is the story of the lives of two descendants of these families, David Lockwood and Martha Shaver, who married and traveled westward.

But nevertheless, it is deplorable that your readers also must be subjected to the same biased and untrue statements.

You mention in your article among other things, reports that Hitler has substituted for Christmas the celebration of the winter solstice, that on Christmas trees formerly adorned with the Star of Bethlehem the swastika was substituted, that the singing of Christmas carols was barred. Now I have spent nearly the last year and a half in Germany, and spent Christmas of 1938 there, and never in my life have I spent a more enjoyable Christmas, and one more in keeping with the true Christmas spirit. We sang Christmas carols and listened to them being sung over the radio, in all the cities church bells were ringing, there was a Christmas tree in the parlor, and no swastika on it either! On Christmas eve Rudolf Hess, Deputy of Adolf Hitler, addressed a Christmas radio message to the German people and those in foreign countries, and on Christmas Day neighbors called to wish us a Merry Christmas. As a matter of fact we celebrated not only one day, but two. I shall never forget that festival and hope that I shall be able to spend Christmas in Germany again.

Does this sound as though the celebration of Christmas was being "throttled" in Germany? Surely you must agree with me that conditions in Germany are not as you pictured them in your editorial. I am sure that your newspaper desires to print the true facts, and I hope that these experiences of mine have been of interest to you. If I am ever again in Ord I would like to tell you a few more things of present day Germany, it would provide you with a more accurate picture of that country.

Very truly yours,
CARL R. STOBBE.

Ord Township Library.

Interest in the library is increasing and more books are being loaned than for some time according to the librarian, Mrs. Cecil Hansen. Many of the new patrons did not realize what a large quantity of high quality books are available to the public. Two books have been received the past week. The first is "Leisure in the Modern World", by C. DeLisle Burns, and shows how it is possible to find leisure of those things worthwhile in spite of the calls of society or business.

The other book is "One Family Travels West," written by Alice A. Migick. It is a 1938 copyright, and contains, as an introduction a brief record of the Ichabod Lockwood family and a similar record of the Benjamin Shaver and Mary Lockwood families. The book is the story of the lives of two descendants of these families, David Lockwood and Martha Shaver, who married and traveled westward.

They eventually crossed the "Big Muddy" into southeast Nebraska, where they went through all the vicissitudes of pioneer life. They made the journey by covered wagon, and knew the lean to, the soddy and the log cabin intimately. The entire story takes place at a date prior to the time the first settlers came into the upper Loup valleys. It is told with due regard to historical fact.

NORTH LOUP'S ICE HARVEST IS COMMUNITY PROJECT

What is commonly known as "ice harvesting" is now being carried on in many rural communities of Nebraska. North Loup has a unique system, the ice harvest being carried on as a community project. A regular "company" has been formed in which anyone may buy shares of stock. Profits derived from the sale of ice during the summer are distributed among the stockholders each fall. Through this system, farmers throughout the community may purchase as much ice as they desire to store away in their private ice-houses at the low price of 75c per wagonload.

The harvest at North Loup lasted seven days, during which four or five hundred wagonloads of ice was "put up." Pictures above show various scenes of the harvest as it was carried on near North Loup on Mira Creek. Those who aided in putting up the ice were Dave Preston, Shorty Cress, Bill Ingerson, Bob Brennick, and Bud Bebe.

Description of pictures starting with the top, left to right, is as follows: A gas-engined power "buzz" saw cuts through the 14-inch-thick ice like "a knife cuts through hot butter." After being cut into blocks by the saw, the ice is pushed along by means of special hooks to the chute where it is hoisted into a waiting truck. Getting the ice from the creek bottom up into the truck is no easy job. The blocks of ice measure three feet in length and about 18 inches in width.

Car Licenses Ahead Of Same Date in 1937

The county treasurer's office shows the number of car licenses issued up to and including Jan. 8, 1938 as 640, which is high in comparison with 359 issued at the same date in 1937. Almost double the number have been issued this year, which may be accounted for partly by the fact that the first week in January last year was very stormy and many farmers were unable to get to town. It is also likely that the new law requiring a physical examination for obtaining a license may have caused a number to be more prompt in attending to the matter.

Ord Cagesters Upset Kearney 27-19 To Register First Ord Win Over The Kearney Quint in Four Years of Play

Dahlin and Severson Shine For Ord As Chanticleers Pull Surprise Win Over Buffalo County Basketball Squad.

Bursting forth with a brand of basketball that any competition would find hard to stop, Coach Brockman's Ord high quintet turned the tables on a touted Kearney five Friday night with a decisive 27 to 19 win. In 1937, the Ord-Kearney clash ended with the same final score, but the Ordsters were on the wrong end of the verdict. It was the first win for an Ord team over Kearney in 4 years of play with the Buffalo county school.

Hectic First Quarter.

It was a long first quarter for Ord fans. Kearney started the scoring with a neat tip-off play in the early moments. Dahlin put in the first counter for the Ordsters, followed closely by Hughes, who one-handed dribbled the ball down the entire length of the floor to drop it in the basket. Kearney played a rather slow, tight, defensive game with their two forwards, Sims and Scott, doing a deadly shooting whenever within range of the hoop. The Chanticleers rushed their shots, many of them going wild. At the end of the initial period Kearney led by a margin of 10 to 6.

Ord Starts Fireworks.

It was not until the beginning of the second quarter that the Chanticleers began to click and began to open up with their offensive. Two Ord players came into the spotlight in this quarter, namely—Don Severson and Don Dahlin. These two "Don's" teamed up beautifully to provide a real offensive attack.

Due to superb guarding, the Ord cagesters were able to score only 1 field goal during this stanza. Dale Hughes was a tower of strength at his guard position, with Harry Zulkoski and Charles Cetak interchanging at the remaining post. At the half, Ord held a 14 to 12 lead.

Tunncliff Opens Up. Don Tunncliff "got going" for the Chanticleers in the third period. During the first half his play had been ragged, as he seemed unable to hit the basket even at short range.

"Nip and tuck" would be the only description which would fit the third quarter of play. At no time, however, did the Kearney lads take the lead. Dahlin proved

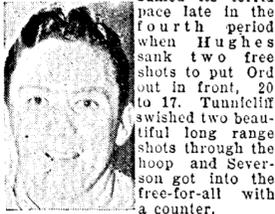

Kearney Unable To Stop Chanticleers

his worth again and again, as he popped through the Kearney defensive to get in range for a shot. Baskets by Tunncliff and Dahlin in this quarter gave Ord a one-point advantage at the end of the third period, the score standing at 18-17 in favor of the Ordsters.

Hughes Makes Free Throws. Defenses on both sides tightened in the fourth quarter, but play resumed its torrid pace late in the fourth period when Hughes sank two free shots to put Ord out in front, 20 to 17. Tunncliff swished two beautiful long range shots through the hoop and Severson got into the free-for-all with a counter.

Hughes In the dying moments of the game, Coach Harlan Wyant's lads tossed their conservative style of play to the winds and shot wildly in a desperate attempt to even up the score. Ord's guarding was sufficient to quell the Kearney rally and the game ended with the Ordsters in front by a substantial margin.

Many Kearney Substitutes. Coach Wyant substituted freely throughout the game but with no avail—he could find no combination to stop the victory-thirsty Chanticleers.

The entire Ord team was working to perfection with perhaps the exception of the first quarter, when their play was rather ragged. Zulkoski was held scoreless by the Kearney basket-keepers, but his work in the Ord defense was invaluable as was that of Charles Cetak, who turned in his best performance of the year.

Tunncliff, Severson Tie. Tunncliff and Severson tied for scoring honors as each swished a total of eight points through the hoop. Dahlin followed close behind with seven counters to his credit.

Scoring honors for the game went to Scott, Kearney forward, who turned in nine points for his team.

Ord "Going Places." With their win over Kearney, all doubts as to the ability of Ord's basketball team were cast aside and Loup Valley sport followers are predicting that Ord will finish the 1938 season among the "top" teams in the state.

The Ordites resume play next Friday night as they meet Burwell on the Burwell floor. Quite a following of Ord fans is expected to attend the Burwell contest which will be played in the new high school gymnasium.

Ord Junior High Wallops Kearney Quint With 20 to 6 Score

Friday night was a big night for Ord cage teams. Coach Keith Wolfe's junior high squad did their part as they snowed under the Kearney juniors by a wide 20-6 margin.

Coach Wolfe substituted his men frequently, giving the entire squad an opportunity to play in the game. At the half, the Ordites lead by a 10 to 1 margin.

Dean Misko, forward; Robert Tunncliff, center and Clifford Barnes, guard led the attack for the Chanticleers, these three boys accounting for all of the Ord scoring.

Dannebrog's high school cagesters are making a fine record this year, having won six games in a row. Their sixth consecutive win came Friday night when they steam-rollered Ashton, 43 to 12.

Scotia Writer Gives Views on Negro Teams

It seems that Ord sport fans are not the only people who hold a grudge against all negro athletic teams. Harold Hosch, Scotia Register, sports writer gave the following report on negro teams in his last week's column, "Sport Briefs."

"It appears that colored aggregations who are scheduled to play in the Loup Valley region have a pernicious way of cancelling basketball games just a few hours previous to starting time. Two weeks ago a negro cage team which was to have played at Ord sent a telegram stating that they would be unable to fill the engagement due to an automobile accident. Several years ago another colored outfit failed to put in its appearance at Arcadia. The reason—a car accident. It seems that the manager of these teams should spend a little more time in securing good car drivers instead of obtaining a group of so-called 'All-Stars.'"

Five Conference Games This Week

Basketball activity in the Loup Valley and Mid Six basketball conferences will settle down to a steady pace this week with five conference games appearing on the schedule.

For the next five weeks most schools have scheduled two games per week. No Mid Six conference standings are given in this week's Quiz because only one conference game has been played thus far.

Tuesday night Elba met North Loup on the Loup floor; Ravenna played at Kearney; Scotia took on Burwell at Burwell; Cairo marched against the undefeated Dannebrog team at Dannebrog and Loup City traveled to Lexington.

Scotia meets their old rival North Loup this Thursday night on the North Loup maples. Fans are predicting a battle royal and it should be one of the better games of the season.

On Friday Loup City plays a tough one as they tackle Ansley on the Ansley home floor; Ericson will battle Scotia at Scotia; St. Paul will get in their first Mid-Six game as they fight it out with Ravenna at Ravenna; Arcadia will journey to Comstock for what promises to be a hotly contested game; Broken Bow will tear into Sargent on the Sargent court.

Broken Bow Quintet Takes Mid Six Win

Broken Bow's Indians went on the warpath Friday night as they downed Loup City 19 to 13 on the Broken Bow court. This was the first Mid Six encounter of the season for either team and gives the Bow lads a rolling start in conference play.

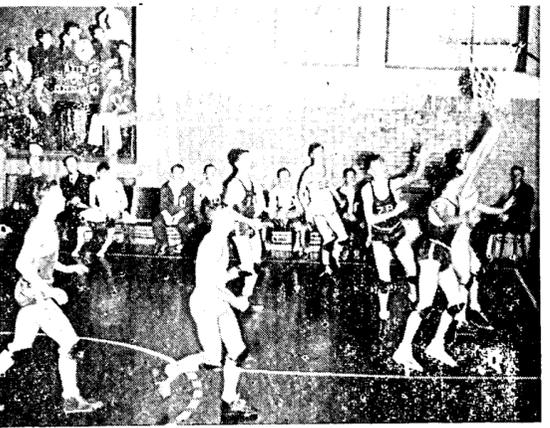

Coach Brown's Loup City squad marked up a Loup Valley win last week when they zoomed over Scotia 22 to 17. Led by Wharton, who accounted for ten points, the Loupers were out in front 11 to 5 at the halftime.

Showing great improvement since playing their last game, Arcadia high trounced Mason City, 26 to 14, last week on the Mason City floor. The Arcadia seconds won their game by a margin of 13 to 3.

Quiz Speed Camera Snaps Play in Kearney Game

These flash pictures were taken in the third and fourth quarters of the Ord-Kearney battle. In the top photo is shown Dale Hughes under the basket as he attempted to drop in a much-needed basket. Don Severson made the last shot of the game, the ball leaving his hands just as the final whistle sounded. It looks as though the Chanticleers were just getting "warmed-up" at this point of the game.

If you can't eat or sleep because gas bloats you up try Adlerika. One does usually relieve stomach gas pressing on heart. Adlerika cleans out BOTH upper and lower bowels. Ed. F. Beranek, Druggist.

At The Fenner Home.

Members of the Ord Contract club drove to Burwell Sunday evening and were entertained at dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner, the dinner being followed by an evening of bridge. The club is now meeting regularly with only three tables of players, due to the resignation of one couple who moved away from Ord and the absence of Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements, who are in southern California. The club will meet on Sunday, Jan. 23 with Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McBeth for their next session of play.

MAKES YOUR MONEY TALK PLENTY BIG!

MONEY talks—so take a turn up and down Automobile Row and see what it says about Buick.

FLASH brilliance and thrift. You get comfort of a new kind, with Knee-Action on the front and the scoop of the year—BuiCoil TORQUE-FREE SPRING—on the rear.

First off you discover that this sparkling stepper is the lowest-priced of all the straight-eights of its size.

Next—it lists at lower figures, even, than some sixes do, and it's within a dollar or two a week of several others.

But the story isn't told in the bare prices—it's told in the astonishing amount those modest figures cover!

In the SPECIAL, for instance, you get 122-inch wheelbase, 107 horsepower with straight-eight smoothness, valve-in-head efficiency, and the exclusive new DYNA.

FLASH brilliance and thrift. You get comfort of a new kind, with Knee-Action on the front and the scoop of the year—BuiCoil TORQUE-FREE SPRING—on the rear.

On top of that, you get elbow-room, leg-room, head-room; smartness inside and out; and probably the lightest, sweetest, pleasantest handling wheel you ever laid hands on!

All in all, this great Buick is the car that makes little money do a lot of big talking—that's why there's such a mighty fine feeling to owning it.

Go look at the price tags, and what's behind them, and you'll spend from now on in a Buick enjoying life!

"WHERE BUYER AND SELLER MEET"

MINIMUM CHARGE IS 25c
Want Ads cost 1c per word per week with 25c the least total charge per order. If your want ad contains 25 words it will run once for 25c, twice for 50c, etc. If it contains only 10 words it will run 2 weeks for 25c, 3 weeks for 30c, etc. "Blind ads", that is ads without name or phone number, cost double.

YOUR NAME IS IMPORTANT
A want Ad with the name of the advertiser will bring much better results than one which falls to give the name. Giving full information also helps, as does a price. Give a phone number if possible. The more you tell the quicker you sell.

Ord All Star Team
Trim Arnold Team

Last night the Ord All Stars administered to the fast Arnold team the first defeat they have suffered this season. The Arnold team won the first four games on their schedule, but were played off their feet by the Ordies. At the half the score was 19 to 9, and the final score, 36 to 28. Playing for Ord were Melia, Lashmet, Steinwart, Shunkweiler, Blessing, Clark and Severson. Steinwart made 19 points, Clark 10, and Blessing 7. Playing for Arnold were Nelson, Horter, Dunn, Brown, Steburg, Haught and Simms. Nelson and Horter each made 9 points and Steburg 7.

Thursday evening the Ravenna town team went down to defeat at the hands of Ord's All-Stars by a score of 30 to 26. Blessing made 14 points, and Frank Lee, who played in the final quarter, brought Ord to the front with a total of 8 points. The Ord Theater five de- feated the K. of C. team in a pre- liminary game by a record score of 57 to 17, "Buck" Severson run- ning wild and accounting for 30 of the points for the Theater.

Tonight the K. of C. team will play the Peterson Transfer team, now taking the place of the Ord Auto Parts team, and the Ord Theater will play the Michalek team. Thursday evening the K. of C. will play Michalek's team, and the Theater will play Petersons. The Ord All Stars have a sched- uled game with a Kearney State Teachers college team at Kearney, Jan. 28, as a preliminary to the Kearney team will later appear in Ord. A number of other out-of- town games are being scheduled, and a team will probably play here next Tuesday evening.

Notice to Subscribers.
Some 250 of you have had notice that your Quiz subscription would expire January 15. That will be Saturday of this week. Will you see to it that your subscription is extended, otherwise this week will be the last paper you will get. Mrs. Peter Jensen
Breaks Hip In Fall

Mrs. P. K. Jensen fell yesterday breaking the bone in the right limb near the hip. Dr. Lee Nay was called and reduced the fracture and Mrs. Jensen is resting as easily as could be hoped. As she is 66 years of age a break of this kind is quite serious for her.

Supervisors Make Economy Key-Word First 1938 Session

Discharge Co. Engineer and Order Telephones in the Court House Removed.

In a somewhat belated attempt to bring expense of running Valley county's business in 1938 within the funds which may be realized by taxation, the board of supervisors last week made "economy" the key-word of their annual organizational meeting.

Next economy move of supervisors was more successful, for they passed unanimously a motion offered by Supervisor Ball and seconded by Supervisor Suchanek to dispense with the services of a county engineer in 1938.

Another economy measure of the board was to order all telephones in the court house disconnected, effective Jan. 31, except those in the county clerk's, treasurer's and sheriff's offices and the relief office.

Jack Jefford, former instructor of Evelyn Sharp, Ord's renowned aviatrix, has just established a new Alaska speed record.

Dr. Round Joins Hospital Staff

Dr. John Round recently arrived from Chicago, and will be associated with Dr. C. J. Miller in the Ord hospital. He will office there, and the two doctors will collaborate in cases that need special attention.

DR. JOHN ROUND. While still young in years, Dr. Round has had a great deal of valuable experience in the great centers of medical and surgical learning, and this community should feel honored that he has decided to cast his lot with the friends of his boyhood.

Mrs. P. K. Jensen Dies; Fractured Hip a Week Ago

66-Year-Old Ord Woman Was Laid to Rest Tuesday; Had Three Children.

At the Frazier chapel at 2:30 p. m. Tuesday, funeral services were held for Mrs. Peter K. Jensen, 66, who died at her home in Ord Sunday, Jan. 16. Rev. Mearl C. Smith, of the Methodist church, conducted the funeral and interment was in the Ord cemetery.

At the age of eight the deceased came to the United States with her parents and family and they settled in Saunders county. Later they moved to Valley county and this region has since been her home except five years spent in Garfield and Wheeler counties.

Johnson Scratched By a Cat, Blood Poison Is Result

North Loup—(Special)—George E. Johnson, well known elevator man, was an extremely ill man Friday and Saturday as the result of being scratched by a stray cat that he petted while at the elevator Friday evening. Blood poisoning set in as a result of the scratch.

Business Increase Puts Ord In Line For New Postoffice

1937 Biggest Year Since the Depression; Each Quarter Shows Gain Over 1936.

"Ord should be in line for a new postoffice building this year," stated Alfred L. Hill, Ord postmaster, as he completed a summary of the business done by the Ord postoffice during 1937. Ord tops the list of towns eligible for new buildings in the 5th congressional district at the present time, says Postmaster Hill.

Figures given below show that business done by the Ord office has increased each year for the past five years. With the coming of the North Loup project and the consequent increase in population, business in the next ten years is expected to take a tremendous increase.

The fourth quarter of 1937, which reflects the Christmas trading in this area, reached the highest point since the depression began. A total of $4,302 is recorded for the three month period from Oct. 1 to Dec. 31.

Stamp sales and newspaper postage were up substantially, newspaper postage taking a 10 per cent increase. Permit matter took a decided drop.

U. S. savings bond sales were the biggest ever recorded in the history of the Ord postoffice. Postal savings receipts took a new high during the 1937 term.

Besides their duties of distributing the mail, handling stamp sales, taking in postal savings, and many other tasks, the Ord postoffice force during the past year also handled the distribution of employment report cards, social security business, and the cashing of soldiers' bonus bonds.

First National Bank Has New Department

In line with development in banking procedure all over the country, the First National bank this week is establishing a new department, to be known as a Personal Loan Department.

Under the personal loan plan, approved borrowers may repay their loans in installments instead of in a lump sum at termination of the loan period. Loans will be made for a great variety of purposes including consolidation of debts, new car purchases, home repairs, doctors' bills, etc.

On another page the First National bank has an announcement of its new department, telling about personal loans in more detail.

Ord Five Nudges Sargent, 20 to 17

Trailing behind by a margin of 6 points at the beginning of the fourth quarter, Ord high school's Chanticleers rallied in the final period Tuesday night to eke out a 20-17 win over Sargent.

Playing on the Sargent floor, the Ordsters were unable to "get going" until the final quarter when they cut loose with an offensive attack that left the Sargent team in a daze.

In the preliminary game, the Ord seconds won out over the Sargent seconds by a 22-15 decision. This game was also of the "red hot" variety, the Ordsters being 5 points behind the Sargent lads at the end of the third quarter.

Kerchals Buy Cafe Owned by J. E. Mouer

J. E. Mouer has sold his cafe to Mrs. Ed Kerchal, the new owner taking charge Monday morning. The amount of the transaction was not given. Since he became interested in the Bus Depot cafe in Hastings early last year, Mr. Mouer has been planning to dispose of his business here should the opportunity afford.

Two Farm Truckers Warned Saturday

B. B. Kelly, well known merchant from the hay flats country 30 miles north of Burwell, had his truck inspected by Chief of Police L. H. Covert and Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen Saturday. They found that he had his load of baled hay piled too wide, the rear view mirror aim too short, and the truck overloaded.

Two Wyoming men, Ernest VanBuskirk, 56, and his son, Leo VanBuskirk, figured in an automobile wreck near Ord Monday evening when their car, a model A Ford struck a cement culvert near the old I. C. Clark farm. After hitting the culvert the car overturned in a ditch. Bright lights of an approaching car blinded him, explained Leo VanBuskirk, who was driving.

North Loup Project Refused Permission To Build Laterals

PWA Rules $135,000 Must Be Set Aside for Power Line; Not Enough Money Left.

Breaking an official silence that has prevailed several weeks, E. H. Dunmire, engineer-manager of the North Loup power and irrigation project, Monday evening disclosed that irrigation in 1938 is unlikely unless the Public Works Administration changes its present ruling.

Originally the PWA approved the North Loup project at a cost of $1,665,000 of which $910,000 was to be a loan and $744,000 a direct grant.

So far the project has received from grant funds about $248,750, 1-3 of such funds. So far the project also has received $616,000 in bond funds, the total money thus received to date being $864,750.00.

Before the approximately $300,000 in bond money still due the district and $500,000 due in grant money will be made available for use, the PWA now insists that the district set aside $135,000 to pay for construction of a power line to a point near Grand Island.

Furthermore, the PWA insists that after setting aside this $135,000 the district show that it is capable of completing the project, including power lines within the district's boundaries, within the funds originally allotted.

This, says Engineer-Manager Dunmire, it is impossible to show. Being required to set aside $135,000 not included in the original plans has thrown the project's financial set-up sadly out of adjustment, he says.

Construction already completed or still under way totals $914,000 in cost and since it was approved by the PWA there is no question but that enough more money will be furnished to pay for it. The PWA also will make money available to pay administrative expense, right-of-way costs, etc.

Still available for construction, from the original allotment is $489,000 according to Mr. Dunmire. This sum would be sufficient to complete the project except for the $135,000 now set aside, by PWA order, to build the Grand Island power line.

Two Farm Truckers Warned Saturday

B. B. Kelly, well known merchant from the hay flats country 30 miles north of Burwell, had his truck inspected by Chief of Police L. H. Covert and Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen Saturday. They found that he had his load of baled hay piled too wide, the rear view mirror aim too short, and the truck overloaded.

B. J. Jones of Malden Valley was inspected the same day by the above officers, and it was found that he was driving with hay piled over the top of his cab, which is contrary to law, and also that he was driving with cardboard in one of the window spaces, thus making it difficult to see out. Upon his agreeing to remedy these conditions he was also released. Both men admitted that they had been warned before by state patrolmen. The officers expect to warn once, and take whatever action necessary in case of second offenders.

Arcadia News

Youngquist-Capek.

At the Presbyterian church in Broken Bow Sunday afternoon at 3:30, Jan. 9, the Rev. Lester Gundler performed the ceremony uniting in marriage, Miss Viola Youngquist, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Youngquist of Arcadia and Joe C. Capek of Lyman, Neb. The bride wore a white knit suit with delicate colored accessories. The couple was attended by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Youngquist. She graduated from the Loup City high school the past few years, state teachers college and has been teaching music in the public high school the past few years. The groom is a prosperous farmer in the irrigated district near Lyman, not far from Scottsbluff.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Youngquist served a wedding dinner Sunday evening at their home in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Capek of Lyman, Neb., where they will make their home. Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Don Alderman of Loup City.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ferd Wheeler at Burwell the past few days were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Capek, Mrs. Wheeler and Mr. Capek are brother and sister.

John Helleberg and his son John Jr., of Kearney visited Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen. Mr. Helleberg is an architect and came from the home town of Mrs. Nielsen in Denmark.

Mrs. Anna Kosch of Rockville has been visiting her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Roseler of Arcadia the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Vivian Trook are spending a few days in Loup City with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Pugsley.

Dr. C. D. Langrall closed a deal the past week whereby he sold his property of house and lots to Arthur Pearson.

Mr. and Mrs. Portis Sell and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Traver were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Anderson at Ansley.

Jack Gonge of Ansley was with his father, Max Gonge in the Coffee Shop Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Clara Easterbrook and Ernest Easterbrook were Ord visitors Saturday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Darr Evans received a telegram bearing the sad news of the death of her sister's husband, Roy Fritts of Meridian, Kas., in a hospital. He had been operated upon for a mastoid infection. Mr. and Mrs. Evans left Saturday morning for Kansas to attend the funeral Sunday. Mrs. Fritts and Mrs. Evans are daughters of Mrs. Bertha Bryson.

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Holmes entertained Sunday in honor of Mrs. Holmes' 60th birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. George Jensen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Holmes and family of North Loup, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Holmes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Dobson and boys, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McCall, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Johnson and Golda Holmes. All the children were home except two, Frank Holmes who lives in South Dakota and Mrs. Earl Woody of Montana.

Several families enjoyed a dance at Glendale Friday night. Lunch was served at 12 o'clock. Vernie Toops furnished the music.

Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Edith Bossen were Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bossen and two sons and Oliver Rinterman of Stromsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bossen and children.

Although there was a very strong wind storm Tuesday, about 700 attended the two free movie programs at the Gayety Theatre in the afternoon sponsored by the John Deere people through their local dealers, Williams and Valett.

Mr. and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mrs. Egglehoff at Scottsbluff. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. DeLoren and daughter Alice of Wolbach, Miss Alice entertained with vocal and piano selections.

Clarence Starr left Saturday morning for Pittsburg, Kas., to visit his mother and sister. From there he will go to Nevada, Mo., to visit relatives. He will be gone about ten days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Easterbrook and family had the pleasure of listening to their son Carl sing over the radio from Clay Center Sunday afternoon with the Hastings program. Carl sang five solos, one by request.

The Chamber of Commerce dance at Loup City Thursday evening was a fine success, financially and as a social event. There were about 300 tickets sold, 41 from Arcadia, others attending, buying tickets at the Wichman pavilion. Music was furnished by Gregg Williams' orchestra of Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urban, Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nelson and little son drove with Miss Virginia Lutz to her home Sunday and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Lutz.

R. R. Bauhard left for Missouri Wednesday where he will do some repair work on his farm buildings.

Miss Virginia Lutz visited from Tuesday until Sunday in Comstock with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Nelson.

The Middle Loup Valley Associated Chamber of Commerce held its regular monthly meeting at Sargent Friday evening. The association is working for a state park at the narrows between Arcadia and Comstock, an ideal location near the river and well timbered, also for a graveled road much needed from Arcadia to Comstock and Sargent. Custer county people have agreed to gravel as soon as Arcadia does for about two miles which will connect the roads.

Mrs. Palmatier Writes.
The Quiz is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. Charles Palmatier, in which she tells how much she appreciates the Quiz each week, especially since her injury of more than a month ago. She says she remained in the hospital three weeks, after which the family rented a hospital bed and moved her to her home, where she is receiving the best of care from her three daughters. She says it is hard to lie in bed in a plaster cast from chest to toes. She says she has been remembered by so many of her friends that it makes her troubles much easier for her. She would doubtless enjoy hearing from some of her old friends here. Her address is 10543 Ave. L, Chicago, Ill.

Familiar Winter Scene in Valley County

Scenes similar to this one might be duplicated at many points in the Loup valleys, as people take advantage of the open winter to get in a large supply of fuel wood for cold weather expected in February. This Quiz photo was taken on the Chaney Smith farm west of Arcadia, where cottonwood trees are being cut up into stove lengths. The men, left to right, are John Jolkowski, Hugh Evans, Chaney Smith, Ralph Aubert and Ernest Smith.

VINTON NEWS

Mrs. Will Harrison is spending the remainder of this winter at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Hackel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jobst and family spent Sunday at the Jake Beehrle home.

The Jolly Neighbors had an all day meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross. A very nice cafeteria dinner was served at noon. The lesson was very interesting on foods and one dish dinners, given by Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Kokes. The leaders each brought a new and tasty dish. Each club member then wrote a note to a former club member, Mrs. Wayne Coats at Hood River, Ore. The men spent the afternoon visiting and playing cards.

Mrs. Frank John entertained Thursday evening in honor of Helen Ann who was seven years old that day. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jobst and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe John and family. Joe John also accompanied his brother Frank to Grand Island that day, the latter going to see a doctor.

Mr. and Mrs. John Koll have made several trips to Grand Island, Mr. Koll consulting Dr. Watson in that city.

Mr. and Mrs. Nell Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. John Sefencamp, spent Saturday evening at the Archie Boyce home.

Something Different

R. C. Bailey set a fine example for many other vacant-lot owners when he cleaned up the very weedy lot across from the high school a few days ago. It surely looks much better burned over than with weeds five feet high.

Odd corners of Ord could use considerable cleaning to advantage.

About half of feminine America is busily crocheting lace tablecloths. And they are attractive and a whole of a lot of work, too.

In Ord, there is a long list of tablecloth makers. Mrs. Orville Sowl chose a pattern of alternate squares of crocheting and linen.

One very beautiful pattern intrigued about half the Ord ladies. Among them are Mrs. M. F. Kosmata, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Mrs. Freeman Haught, Mrs. Harry McBeth, Mrs. Keith Lewis, and Mrs. E. P. Clements, sr., and her daughter Lena, who made one together. I believe it is called "Queen Anne's Lace". This is by no means the first lace tablecloth made by Mrs. Clements, who finished a most unusual one of white string in a pattern of alternate oval and square blocks of filet last summer.

Quilting never lost popularity in Ord, and some extremely attractive ones can be found. Mrs. C. J. Mortensen made a charming pair in soft colorings for twin beds.

Mrs. Pearl Smith's clothesline is often decorated with gay quilts in any one of several lovely patterns. And the M. E. ladies are at present displaying a beauty in the window of the Sorensen Drug store.

Mrs. Milligan has finished an incredible number of handsome quilts, each one destined to be given to a member of her family—even down to the second and third generation. She often spends twelve or fourteen hours a day at her quilting.

Mrs. Charles Stiehler has many gay quilts. Mrs. H. D. Leggett set four together last winter and seems likely to do as much this winter. There are dozens of Valley county women who are proud of their quilts and their own ability to piece beautiful ones. The aid societies and Kensingtons of the lodges are always in demand to do some quilting.

Mrs. Dorcas Pish quilted dozens of quilts for others, and although she did so much fine needlework, needed no glasses even in her seventies.

Speaking of eyes, Dr. George Parkins says that Margie Smith is a marvel at reading, so fast do her eyes travel. In place of focusing her eyes on each word like some of us do, or on several words or on one line at a time, Dr. Parkins believes this little Ord girl takes in two complete sentences on a page with one glance! She reads several times faster than most rapid-reading adults.

And not only does Margie read fast, but when tested as to her comprehension of the reading material at periods several months later, Margie has a far better recollection of what she has read than most of us. Her understanding and grasp of the material seems to equal her reading facility.

Once upon a time it was believed that the fast reader was the one who understood the least and retained the least knowledge of his reading. But this theory has been blown sky-high, and exactly the opposite is now reputed correct. Fast reading goes with quick comprehension of material and a good mind. It has been found that many famous book critics as does Margie Smith, see at a glance not just one word or three or four, but sentences, paragraphs, and even whole pages. Yet months later some of them can repeat the page word for word from memory. How do you read? To find out, have some one sit in front of you and count the movements of your eyes as you read a sentence.

I believe the Cook's Col Yum Yum has come to be incorporated in M. O. C. (My Own Column, by H. D. Leggett). And he doesn't wait for you ladies to send in the recipes, he makes them up as he needs them!

Book Review Given Tonight.
Mrs. J. A. Kovanda will present a review of the book "Famine" by Leon O'Flaherty this evening in the high school auditorium. Sponsored by the local Girl Reserve chapter, the program will start at eight o'clock and will be open to the public.

State Music Contest Now Discontinued
The annual Nebraska state high school music contest, which has drawn thousands of prep musicians into competition for several years, has been abandoned. District music contests, however, will be continued. Next spring the district contests will be held on April 1 and 2 at Geneva, Fremont, Wayne, Hastings, Scottsbluff and two other points yet undetermined.

Schools who took part in the 1937 contest at Hastings voted overwhelmingly against continuing the meet. Out of 224 schools who returned ballots, 195 favored elimination of the event. The referendum vote eliminated the sweepstakes honors in district contests and favored permitting schools to enter 24 events in district meets instead of 16 as in the past.

BURWELL

The county commissioners were in session in the court house Tuesday and Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Horner, daughter Betty and son Sterling were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mrs. M. B. Goodenow and Maude.

Mrs. Emma Austin from near Taylor was a guest over the weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Messenger.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Dye and family have moved from the Falling house in the northeast part of town into rooms in the Ernie Rowse home in south Burwell.

Twenty-four members of the local American Legion Post No. 298 enjoyed a duck dinner in the Parkos building last Thursday evening.

Ed. Hahn of Fremont was a guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hahn the first of the week. He is employed for the Orschek-Christensen Co. and while here got a large tractor which he took along with him to use in pumping gravel for that company near Fremont.

Mrs. Floyd Rowse is a patient in the Cram Hospital following a minor operation performed Monday morning by Dr. E. J. Smith, in the absence of Dr. Cram.

The Farmers Group meeting was held Thursday Jan. 13 in Burwell with a large group of farmers from Valley and Garfield Counties present. The morning session was held in the Electric Theatre building but due to the fact that the crowd grew so large by noon the afternoon session was held in the high school auditorium.

Home Farrar was chairman of the meeting and at 10:30 introduced the Little German Band under the direction of M. Struve which played three numbers. B. A. Rose, Boss of the Wrangler's Club gave the welcome followed by Mrs. John Schere with the response for the farmers. A. C. Schwelger of Grand Island, representative of the Crystal Sugar Co. gave an interesting talk about the growth of sugar beets.

At noon the business men served free plate lunch to the farmers and their wives at two cafes and the hotel. In the afternoon Miss Mary Ellen Brown of Lincoln gave a talk on Women's Extension work. Other speakers of the afternoon were Mrs. G. A. Butts of Burwell, Ivan D. Wood of Lincoln and Chas. Steward, also of Lincoln.

During working hours, Wm. Eatherton, clerk in the local Council Oak Store, is not in the habit of wearing his wrist watch, but kept it in what he thought was a safe place in the store. Last Friday he discovered that his watch was missing after two truckers had finished unloading potatoes in the store room.

Mr. Eatherton notified Sheriff Johnson immediately and the sheriff stopped the men on their way out of town just before they had reached the Fred Grunemeyer farm south of town. The men were brought back to Burwell and searched and the watch was found on one of the men who gladly paid a fine of $10 and costs which amounted to $21.40 and was released to go on his way.

Cram Hospital Notes. Richard Klanecky of Comstock came to the hospital Tuesday, Jan. 11 for a tonsillectomy.

Mrs. Guy Fletcher and baby daughter left for their home in Taylor Wednesday.

L. M. Bailey who lived northwest of Burwell was able to leave the hospital Tuesday and went to the Burwell hotel where he will remain for a few days before going home. Mr. Bailey has been receiving treatments.

Dr. Roy S. Cram left last Friday for Omaha where he is spending the week on business. He plans to return home Thursday or Friday of this week.

Bulletin Shows Ord Service Rates Low

The Federal Power Commission's 1937 service bulletin is out. This shows typical net monthly bills for electric service in effect Jan. 1, 1937 in the state of Nebraska. In communities of 1000 to 2000 population the lowest ranking communities in net monthly bills for 25, 100 and 250 kilowatt hours were as follows:

25 kilowatt: 1. Central City, $1.13; 2. Burwell, $1.25; 3. West Point, $1.38; 4. Tecumseh, $1.50; 5. Chappell, $1.53; 6. Cambridge, $1.58; 7. Red Cloud, $1.58; and ORD $1.60.

100 kilowatt: 1. Burwell, $2.87; 2. Central City, $3.60; 3. Minden, $3.61; 4. West Point, $3.80; 5. Wayne, $3.91; 6. ORD, $4.00.

250 kilowatt: 1. Oxford, $5.82; 2. Burwell, $5.87; 3. Minden, $6.31; 4. Madison, $7.30; 5. Wayne, $7.31; 6. Wakefield, $7.50; and 7. ORD, $7.60.

In March, 1937, Ord's rates were further reduced, and at present rates Ord would rank: 3d for 25 kilowatts at $1.33; 2nd for 100 kilowatts at $3.33; and 4th for 250 kilowatts at $6.33.

Of special interest is the fact that all of the low ranking communities in the above list are municipally operated systems.

Ed's Team Is High First Half Season

At the end of the first half of the Ord town basketball season, which closed officially Tuesday evening, Ed Michalek's team won first with 5 wins and 2 losses. The Ord Theater was second with 5 wins and 3 losses. Peterson's Transfer came in third with 2 wins and 4 losses, with the Knights of Columbus bringing up the rear with 2 wins and 5 losses.

No more league games will be played until Sunday, when a meeting of all players is called for 1:30 P. M. at Furtak's Sign Shop. At this meeting a team will be selected to go to the tournament at Loup City, and also members will be drawn for the second half of the local season.

Manager Furtak received word Wednesday morning from the well known Murphy-Did-It team of Omaha that they would like to come to Ord the latter part of some week and play the All Stars. As they are not a colored team, and are known to be dependable, arrangements will be made to have them here as soon as convenient.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD

Roller skating seems to be the most popular sport among the younger people in Ord today. As soon as the warm weather hits, groups of children on roller skates are a common sight. Saturday, a young lady, not more than six years of age, was skating along the sidewalk by the Quiz office, and lost her balance. Her one exclamation as she sat down was "ouch!" but she was back on her feet in a minute and skating faster than before.

Even the hens are taking advantage of today's luxuries. Saturday afternoon, Ign. Pokraka of North Loup left the door of his new Plymouth open. When he got ready to go to town, lo and behold, there on the cushion lay a freshly laid egg.

M. Blemond, president of the Ord Golf club, went out to the Ord golf course Jan. 16, and shot a par round of golf. Believe it or not, this is the first time for a number of years that it has been possible to get out on the golf course at this time of the year without snow shoes.

Burwell Loses to St. Paul.

St. Paul handed Burwell the short end of a 32 to 24 score on the Burwell floor Tuesday evening. St. Paul seconds took an 18-11 victory over the Burwell second-stringers in the first game of the evening.

Arcadia Wins Two.

Tuesday evening, on the North Loup floor, Arcadia took two rather one sided games from the North Loupers, the first team winning by a score of 27 to 12, and the second team by a score of 22 to 8.

—J. H. Booth, sr. and son J. H. Booth, jr., were over from the Ericson neighborhood Tuesday. He does not come to Ord very often, but recalls when he attended school here as a lad some 38 years ago.

—The left-handed plow found some time ago by Julius Gross of Burwell got into the Nebraska Farmer's curiosity corner for Jan. 15. The name of the contributor was not given.

—Everett L. Johns wrote this week from Burwell to have his name added to the Quiz list. Mrs. Johns is a daughter of the Leslie Mason's.

—A. W. Gross, one of our valued subscribers and employed by the Food Center at Arnold, has been transferred and promoted to a position in his company's store at York and asks to have his copy of this newspaper sent to him there.

—For the past ten days the Inland Construction company has had their draglines busy removing the plugs across the roads on the Burwell-Sumter canal, and replacing them with bridges. As soon as this part of the work is completed the canal will be ready to have the water turned into it.

—A group of Ord people, Miss Eunice Chase, Mrs. Tamar Gruber, Mrs. Mark Tolson, Miss Daisy Halten, Miss June Schneider and Miss Clara McClatchey, attended a number of the Co-operative Concert company at Hastings Monday evening.

—Mrs. Ben Rose reports that her mother, Mrs. Tom Williams, underwent an operation for goitre at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn., last Friday, and came through the ordeal so well that surgeons are hoping for a complete cure. Mrs. Williams has been in ill health over a year. Her daughter, Mrs. Vesta Snyder, of Nemaha county, is with her at Rochester.

—Wilson Karre, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Karre who live north of Ord, and who returned from the west coast about Christmas time after spending two years out there, verifies other reports that conditions on the coast are far from good. He came home after being laid off when the big slump came, though he had been steadily employed before that time.

—In writing this week to renew her Quiz subscription for another year, Mrs. Emma Overton says she could hardly do without it after taking it so many years. She is one of those who has had the Quiz continuously since it was started well over fifty years ago by Mr. Haskell. Mrs. Overton is spending the winter at Lowry, Mo. with her daughter, Mrs. Cora Harris. She says she plans on returning to her own home at Bangor, Mich., some time in March.

—John P. Carkoski tells the Quiz he is now nicely located in Ord and is familiarizing himself with his new patrol, which is the Ord-Arcadia highway to the point where the Loup City highway branches off. He likes the work on this new patrol so far, but is wondering how it will be when it snows and drifts into the road. His former patrol on No. 11 was always free from drifts because of the direction it lay.

—A letter from Mrs. Olive Leffinger says they arrived safely in Fresno, Calif., where they visited for a few days, then went to the home of a brother in San Francisco. She was accompanied on the trip by her son Everett. Their address is 676 Geary Ave. in case any of their friends wish to write and no doubt a flock of cards from the home folks would cheer them in getting settled in a strange land.

—Announcement was made recently at the Clem Meyers home in North Loup of the marriage, last April, of their daughter Julia to Joseph G. Carr of New Jersey. Miss Carr is well known in the North Loup territory, where she graduated from high school in 1931. She taught two years of school, resigning her third year to accept a position with the Emergency Crop and Feed Loan of Omaha. Mr. Carr is a dental student in Creighton University.

—Mrs. Harry Holden of Edgerton, Wyo., underwent a major operation performed in the Ord hospital Monday morning by Dr. C. J. Miller. Mr. and Mrs. Holden had come to Ord the day before to bring Mr. and Mrs. Frank Holden here after a two months visit in Edgerton and Casper, Wyo., with their sons Harry and Roger. Mrs. Harry Holden became ill and emergency surgical treatment became necessary. Her husband went back to Wyoming the middle of this week and will return in about three weeks to get his wife.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tedro were called to Correctionville, Ia., Saturday afternoon, by the sad news that her mother was very low. She has been in poor health for a long time. The Tedros paid her a long visit while in Iowa last summer.

engineers at $288,000; cost of electric lines within the district is $118,000; cost of other construction yet to be done will be about $80,000. To add the $135,000 grand Island power line into this set-up, with only $5,000 available after other work is done, is impossible.

Yet the PWA insists that it be done, or else no more work can be started.

Two possibilities remain. (1) That the PWA, instead of requiring that a $135,000 power line from Grand Island be built, will approve a tentative contract the district has made with the Western Public Service company by which that company would transport electric energy over its lines and (2) that the PWA make an additional grant of sufficient funds to allow completion of the project including the $135,000 power line.

The district has made application to the PWA, through its project engineer, K. Sewell Wingfield of Lincoln, to have the tentative contract with the Western Public Service company approved. Of course, if the PWA should buy Western Public Service company properties, as has frequently been suggested, necessity for a new power line or for approval of the contract might be obviated.

Pending a change of decision by the PWA, says Mr. Dummire, no new work can be undertaken and only work in progress will be completion of ditches and structures for which contracts already have been let and for which funds are available.

He does not attempt to explain why the PWA is taking such an arbitrary attitude. It seems plain, however, that PWA officials from Engineer Wingfield on up are not concerned with whether this valley receives irrigation or not but only with the selling of power from the Columbus, Sutherland and Tri-County projects.

So far approximately $1,000,000 has been invested in the North Loup project and until it is completed and irrigation water is flowing to farms in the valley the investment is a total loss.

Engineer-Manager Dummire says that it would still be possible to get 7,000 or 8,000 acres between Ord and North Loup under irrigation by April 1, if the PWA would permit construction of headgates on the canal. If the PWA would approve building of laterals on the whole project it would be possible to get irrigation to the whole 30,000 acres during the season of 1938.

But until this permission is forthcoming not another dollar, except money now in the treasury, can be expended.

It is suggested that people of this valley write to Senators Burke and Norris and to Congressman Coffee to protest against the way this project is being treated. People of Ord and Burwell, in fact all the people in the valley, have fulfilled every requirement of the PWA as imposed, and many of them have been arbitrary ones.

To withhold irrigation water for another year when the project is so near completion will work hardship upon hundreds and thousands of families needlessly. These facts should be pointed out to federal officials.

Auto License Sales Ahead of Last Year Including Jan. 17 the total sale of auto licenses at the treasurer's office was 966, as compared with 677 at the same date last year. This is a gain of 289 or 41%. Weather conditions no doubt have had much to do with this difference, but it is believed the increased sales are also an indication of better business conditions.

Bert Hulbert Crushed Behind Coal Truck

Bert Hulbert was injured this morning when he was backed into and crushed against the Methodist parsonage, where he went with George Hubbard to assist in unloading coal into the parsonage basement. Mr. Hubbard was operating the truck and Rev. M. C. Smith, who saw the accident, said so far as he could see, there was no occasion for Hulbert to get between the truck and the house, as the truck backed up slowly. Mr. Smith says Hulbert stepped behind the truck and seemed not to pay any attention to the backward moving truck. He was carried across the road to the Ord hospital and after a brief examination, Dr. Miller said that it didn't appear as though any bones were broken. The patient was put to bed and is said to be resting quietly. A more thorough examination will be made later today.

—Wes Eberhart and Miss Helen Myers visited at the Ben Eberhart home Sunday.

Calvin S. Hoyt.

Calvin S. Hoyt was born in Missouri, August 6, 1877 and passed away January 11, 1938 in Chicago, at the age of 60 years, 5 months and 5 days. He came to Nebraska when a boy with his parents. Very early in life he became interested in the newspaper work and in 1899 was editor of the Burwell paper known at that time as "The Burwell Mascot." In 1899 he was united in marriage to Miss Maude Hemmett. To this union 6 children were born, two passing away in infancy. Those living are Mrs. P. O. Peterson of Callaway, Nebr., Mrs. Francis Hoffman and Geo. Hoyt of California and Harold Hoyt of Crete, Nebr. The body was brought to Burwell and funeral services were held in the W. G. Hemmett home Saturday afternoon at 2 p. m., with Rev. Lyman Kern in charge. Interment in the Burwell cemetery.

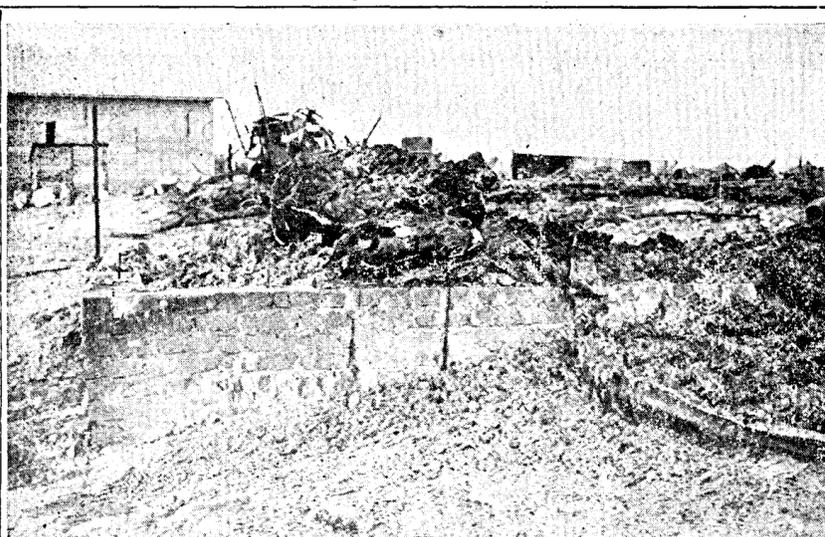

of whom are living; Katherine Mamarda of Burwell, Frances Stephens of Rockville, Nebr., Michael of Newport, Nebr., and John, Anton, Joseph and Louis all of Burwell. Grandma Zalud as she was lovingly called counted her friends by her acquaintances, for to know her was to love her. The funeral services were held in the Methodist church Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. Lyman Kern in charge. Interment in the Burwell cemetery.

The Anti-Rust club was entertained by Mrs. W. D. Hart Thursday afternoon. The lesson demonstration on cooking was given by Mrs. Joe Flakus and Mrs. O. Taylor. After a pleasant afternoon together a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Ira Beat and Mrs. Joe McKey.

The declamatory contest was held in the high school auditorium Jan. 12 and 13. The first evening the sections given were oratorical, humorous and original oration. First place in oratorical section was won by Billie Goodell, second by Wayne Wood and third by Betty Mansell. In the humorous section Evelyn Banks placed first, Betty Horner second and Elinor Doran third. Only two contestants took part in the original oratory section and Paul Kern was chosen as first. Thursday evening the dramatic and extemporaneous sections were given. In the dramatic, first place was won by Dorothy Doran, second by Marietta Udell and third by Opal Kern. In the extemporaneous

Barbara Kaiser Zalud.

Barbara Kaiser was born in the county of Tabor, Bohemia June 29, 1858 and passed away in Burwell, Nebr., January 11, 1938 at the age of 79 years, 6 months and 12 days. She received her education and grew to womanhood in Bohemia. At the age of seventeen she left her native land and came to the United States where a brother resided. Two years later she married Joseph Zalud and they established their first home in Schuyler, Nebr., in 1877. They moved to Burwell in 1906 where Mr. Zalud passed away in 1930. Nine children were born to this union, seven

Three Buildings, Silo, Burn on True Whitman Farm

During the extremely high wind last Tuesday, the True Whitman farm 4 1/2 miles east of Arcadia was the scene of a disastrous fire in which the barn, a granary, tool shed and the contents of a pit silo were completely destroyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Whitman, and most of their neighbors as well, were in Arcadia attending a movie that afternoon and the fire was not discovered until the Whitman children came home from school. By that time the flames, fanned by a 35-mile wind, had almost burned themselves out. No attempt was made to save anything. Had the wind been from the west no doubt the Whitman house also would have been destroyed.

In this picture is seen a corner of the concrete foundations which supported the barn, a new building put up less than three years ago. Also in the foreground can be seen the carcass of a pony owned by the Whitman children, the only animal burned. This pony was not confined in the barn but evidently ran into it when it caught fire.

In the background can be seen wreckage of farm machinery housed in the tool shed, which stood to the north of the barn and also was wholly destroyed. A granary between the two buildings was burned, as was a big pile of cornstalks east of the barn. Flying sparks ignited contents of a pit silo 50 yards southeast of the barn and this feed also was wholly destroyed, smouldering more than 24 hours.

Several sets of harness, hay, baled straw, grain and many small tools were burned. No insurance was carried on contents of the buildings burned but the buildings themselves were fully insured. The farm occupied by the Whitmans is owned by the Penn Mutual Insurance company.

Origin of the fire is not definitely known but it is thought by Mr. and Mrs. Whitman that a spark from a neighbor's chimney probably was carried by the strong wind and set fire to the buildings.

the Garfield Mutual Telephone Co., Mrs. R. W. Wood, accompanied by Mrs. Virgil Beck, Mrs. Raymond Johnson, Mrs. Barrett and Mrs. W. L. Goodell drove to Ord last Wednesday and spent the day quilting for Mrs. John Ward.

The young people's class of the Christian church Sunday school with their teacher, Rev. W. L. Goodell enjoyed a moonlight picnic in the city park north of Burwell Monday evening. Twenty young people attended and enjoyed visiting and story telling around a large bonfire. Refreshments of hamburger sandwiches, pickles and marshmallows were served.

Mrs. John Ward of Ord and Mrs. Virgil Beck accompanied Mr. Beck to Grand Island where they spent the day visiting with Mrs. Ward's sister and shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hemmett of Kearney were visitors Monday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hemmett.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Woolery of Wolbach came Monday evening for a visit in the home of her sister, Mrs. John Banks.

Mr. and Mrs. Gould Flagg and daughter Priscilla and sons Lyle and Balley were dinner guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood last Friday evening. After dinner they all attended the Ord-Burwell basketball game.

The intermediate boys and girls Sunday school class of the Christian church were entertained at the home of Miss Dorothy Goodell Monday evening. Twelve girls and boys enjoyed the evening playing games. Refreshments were served.

Chanticleers Hold Burwell to 7 Points Get 33 Themselves to Win Handily

Ord Wins Third Conference Game Friday; Biggest Crowd Ever at Burwell.

Playing before the largest crowd ever to witness a basketball game in Burwell, Coach Brockman's Ord basket-tees turned on the heat to whip-saw Burwell, 33 to 7, Friday night for their third Loup Valley conference win.

It is estimated by officials that well over 400 fans watched the Ordites erase the Wranglers, and it was generally conceded that two-thirds of the crowd were Ord fans.

At the halftime the Ord cagers were leading by a 15 to 0 margin. Ord's tight defense, with Hughes and Zulkoski doing double duty, held the Wrangler offensive in check so well that fans were predicting a shut-out victory for the Chanticleers at the half.

Two free throws late in the third quarter started Burwell's scoring and a field goal by Goodell, Burwell forward, brought the score to 27 to 5 at the end of the third period.

Brockman substituted frequently in the second half of the game, giving all Chanticleers an opportunity to play.

The last quarter play was of the well known "football variety" with the Ordsters marking up only six counters.

Don Tunncliff, Ord's sharp-shooting forward, took advantage of every scoring opportunity to toss in a grand total of 21 points. Fouling on both teams was the same, each quint having eight fouls marked against it.

Many of the Ord fans made the trip to Burwell for the purpose of seeing the new Burwell gymnasium, in which the Loup Valley basketball tournament will be held this year. Without an exception all of the fans proclaimed the Burwell building to be "fine" and pronounced the playing floor to be one of the best in this section of Nebraska.

Ord Meets Strong Dannebrog Quint This Friday Night

One of the better games of the season is in store for Ord basketball fans this Friday night when the Chanticleers march against Dannebrog on the Ord floor.

Dannebrog has a very fast team, having won nearly 10 games this season and losing only to Cairo by a one point 18-17 decision.

A week ago the Dannebrog cagers thumped the Grand Island B team 19 to 16 on the Grand Island court. They have also defeated Woodrider and Ashton, both of the teams being easily defeated by the Eagles.

Against Ord, the Dannebrog aggregation will probably use the following line-up; H. Hald, forward; R. Adams, forward; K. Nelson, center; L. Hansen, guard; G. Hansen, guard.

Outstanding man on the Eagle team is L. Hansen, a guard. Throughout the season this player has been a consistent scorer and an exceptional player on defense.

Dispute Final Score.

Dannebrog school officials are now disputing with Cairo officials over the score of the recent Cairo-Dannebrog basketball game in which Cairo stopped the Dannebrog winning streak with a one-point 18 to 17 decision. Facts about the dispute have been sent to the state athletic association and they will decide the issue.

No. Loup Blasts Scotia, 15 to 9

Despite the fact that Birmingham, a regular, was unable to play, Coach Willis' North Loup cagers blasted Scotia 15-9 Saturday night on the North Loup floor for the first Loup Valley conference win of the season for the North Loup quintet.

In the preliminary game, Scotia's second team edged out the North Loup seconds with a 19 to 13 verdict.

Both teams played tight, defensive ball the first quarter with the Scotia lads holding a 3-2 lead at the end of the initial period.

It was in the second quarter that the Loupers got their offensive attack under way and sailed over the Scotia quint to hold a 10-3 lead at the half time.

During the third quarter both teams played a rough-and-tumble type of ball, with neither team being able to penetrate the other's defense. North Loup held a 12-6 edge at the end of the third quarter.

Scotia tried desperately to even up the score in the final stanza but were unable to do the task, as the Loupers increased their lead to the final 15-9 decision.

Scoring on the North Loup squad was evenly distributed with Annayas, forward, slipping in a total of 5 points. Johnson, Scotia center, took game honors as he tossed in 6 counters. Noyes, at a guard position, played brilliant ball for the Loupers:

Ord Junior High Wallops Arcadia

Winning out over Arcadia 21 to 6, Coach Keith Wolfe's Ord junior high team has started what promises to be a highly successful season.

Twelve Ord cagers made the trip to Arcadia last Wednesday for their third game of the season. The starting line-up for Ord was Tunncliff, center; Flagg, Barnes, guards; and Misko, Romans, forwards. Coach Wolfe substituted frequently, giving all of the 12 boys a chance to play.

Ord "All-Stars" Whip Rockville

Led by Paul Blessing and Dale Mella, who each scored 13 points, the Ord All-Stars chalked up their third victory of the season Thursday night as they side-tracked the Rockville All-Stars, 45 to 34.

The game was a nip and tuck affair from the opening whistle, with the Rockville lads leading by a nice margin at the end of the initial period. In the second quarter however, the Ordsters broke loose to land on top of a 14 to 11 lead at half-time.

Playing for Ord were Severson, Clark, guards; Blessing, center; and Mella, Steinwart, forwards. This Ord quintet is very fast, all are expert shots, and if they continue to play together for the remainder of the season—some good teams are going down to defeat.

Ord Second Team Trims Burwell Quint

Assn't Coach Frank Lee's Ord second stringers hung up another victory Friday night as they laid aside Burwell's second squad by the score of 18 to 7.

All of the second team members who were taken to Burwell received an opportunity to play. Carlson, Ord's "small but mighty" forward, accounted for most of the Ord scoring.

Comstock Five Wins Over Arcadia Quint

In a Loup Valley conference game played on the Arcadia floor, Comstock took a close 29-21 decision over Arcadia Friday night.

Three games were played during the evening, the Arcadia seconds slapped a neat 17-13 win on the Comstock seconds and the Arcadia town team eked out a narrow 20-18 victory over the Comstock town team.

Dannebrog "Bread War" Is Raging

As the result of a "bread war" involving the various baking companies that serve Dannebrog, a 16 oz. loaf of bread that previously cost 10 cents can now be purchased in Dannebrog at a net cost of 6½ cents.

When the war started, the price of the 10c loaf was cut to "two for 15c" and a coupon was attached to each loaf that was good for one cent in cash or trade. Another cut brought the price down to "two for 13c" and the coupons were still attached.

Zulkoski Hoops a Long One as Chanticleers Take Fourth Win

Forward Harry Zulkoski slips through a long one late in the fourth quarter of the Ord-Burwell clash played on the Wranglers' floor last Friday night. The final whistle was blown a very few moments after this photo-flash was taken, giving Ord a 33 to 7 decision over the Longhorns. This was the third Loup Valley conference win of the season for the Ord quint.

North Loup Hobbles Scotia 15-9 For First Conference Victory

Sims, North Loup forward, had just taken a shot in the fourth quarter of play when the Quiz speed-flash camera caught this picture. North Loup won over the Scotia five by a score of 15 to 9, giving them their first Loup Valley conference victory and removing them from the cellar position in the standings. Annayas (7), forward; Weed (4), center; Noyes (3), guard; are Loupers who may be seen under the basket. Forward Hansen (8) and Guard Ferrel (3) are Scotia men in the fray.

Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, and to me directed, upon a decree rendered therein on February 8, 1937, in an action pending in said court wherein John J. Drobny, is plaintiff, and Vencel J. Vodehnal, Anna M. Vodehnal, his wife, Edwin Vodehnal and Emma Vodehnal, his wife, are defendants, wherein the said plaintiff recovered a decree of foreclosure in the sum of $18,416.00, with ten per cent interest from said date, which was decreed to be a first lien on the West half of the Southwest quarter of Section 5, and the Southeast quarter and the East half of the Southwest quarter of Section 6, all in Township numbered 19, North, Range 16, West of the 6th P. M. in Valley County, Nebraska, and wherein I was directed to advertise and sell said real estate for the payment of said decree, with interest and costs. Now, notice is hereby given that I will on Monday, February 21, 1938, at two o'clock P. M., at the west front door of the court house, in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, sell the said real estate at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, to satisfy the amount due on said decree and costs.

GEORGE S. ROUND, Sheriff of Valley County, Nebraska.

Castor beans are said to be better for killing grasshoppers than poison bran. Considerable interest in this subject has been inspired by an associated press release from Atchison, Kansas, where Dr. L. M. Christensen has made some startling announcements. He has disclosed that grasshoppers feed freely on castor bean plants, and are killed in large numbers while doing so. Dr. Christensen recently gave similar information to an assembly of Otoe county farmers at Nebraska City.

If castor beans are so deadly to grasshoppers, it seems strange that nobody has ever noticed it before. They are poisonous enough, but there is nothing in the litera-

Munn & Norman, Attorneys. Order And Notice For Appointment Of Administrators.

In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.
In the Matter of the Estate of Nima H. Rogers, Deceased. STATE OF NEBRASKA.) ss. Valley County.)
Whereas, Leon W. Rogers of said county has filed in my office his petition praying that letters of administration upon the estate of Arthur G. Nass, deceased, late of said county, may be issued to John G. Bremer of Valley County, Nebraska, whereupon, I have appointed the first day of February, 1938, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the County Court Room in Ord, Nebraska, as the time and place of hearing said petition, at which time and place all persons interested are required to appear and show cause, if such exists, why said letters should not be granted as prayed in said petition.

It is Further Ordered that notice thereof be given all persons interested by publication of a copy of this Order three successive weeks previous to the date of said hearing in The Ord Quiz, a legal weekly newspaper printed, published and of general circulation in said county.

Witness my hand and official seal this 30th day of January, 1938.

MINIMUM CHARGE IS 25c

Want Ads cost 1c per word per week with 25c the least total charge per order. If your want ad contains 25 words it will run once for 25c, twice for 50c, etc. If it contains only 10 words it will run 2 weeks for 25c, 3 weeks for 30c, etc. "Blind ads", that is ads without name or phone number, cost double.

YOUR NAME IS IMPORTANT

A want Ad with the name of the advertiser will bring much better results than one which fails to give the name. Giving full information also helps, as does a price. Give a phone number if possible. The more you tell the quicker you sell.

North Loup

Written by Mrs. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. Anna Tappan went to Ord on the bus Wednesday morning and from there to the Merrill Flynn home in Midvale where she made the acquaintance of her new great-grandson.

In a personal note to Mrs. Otto Bartz, Mrs. Elnor Hurley tells of a visit with the John Cleary's in Santa Ana and says they are planning a picnic for the last Sunday in January with the Cleary's and a number of other North Loupers. Hurleys are still at Escondido but plan to go back to Parkdale later. Mrs. Bartz also tells of a fine letter she received from Mrs. Russell Kasson. The Kassons have been transferred to Lawrence, Kas., where they are living at 1332 Kentucky St. Russell's work in the OCC camp is largely with negro boys but he is quite well satisfied. They have been moved about considerable since he began the work more than two years ago and that makes it difficult for Louise, who is in junior high this year. The baby, Gwen, has had a severe sick spell but is improving. When they moved to Lawrence they experienced difficulty in finding an apartment when the landlords found there was a baby in the family.

The Harry Meyers home was quarantined for scarlet fever last week, the youngest son, Mervin, being the victim. Mr. Meyers is staying with Mrs. Hulda Goodrich.

Mrs. John Manchester, Mary Jo went to Ord on the Saturday afternoon motor.

Mrs. Chas. Mayo was down from Ord and spent Thursday night and Friday with Mrs. Buten.

Lark Mayo came over from Scotia Friday morning on the bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jorgensen and boys were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burrows of Ord Sunday.

Louis Stillman, formerly of North Loup but now of Oceanside, Calif., was in North Loup last week for a short time. Thursday's Grand Island Independent had a notice of his marriage to Miss Fern Gebhart of Scotia which took place at Lexington.

Mrs. Emma Stude spent several days last week at the Floyd Wetzel home. Mrs. Wetzel had some teeth extracted by Dr. Blessing while she was there.

Dr. Hemphill reports the birth of a son to Mr. and Mrs. James Berryman of Greeley, Jan. 14.

Eric Babcock was quite sick with pleurisy last week. He had just been able to be up from his appendicitis operation when he had to go back to bed.

Bates Copeland went as far as Sumter on the bus Sunday morning where he spent the day at the river looking for material for his diamond willow work. He returned home in the evening with Otto Bartz who had been fishing in Messenger creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lee went to Grand Island Thursday. Friday they met Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lee there who had stopped over at Phillipsburg, Kas., and all returned to North Loup.

The work of putting clay on the streets of North Loup has been contemplated and the men are again on the road project south of town that has been under construction for some time. Clark Roby is again foreman on the road work. Both the street and road jobs are WPA projects.

Frank Johnson, accompanied by Charles and Ernest Johnson and Mrs. George Sample went to Rockville Thursday to attend the funeral services for Rudolph Smalljohn who had died from Bright's disease. Mrs. Smalljohn is the daughter of Mrs. Maggie VanSoy who had been making her home with the Smalljohns until this fall when she went to Los Angeles to live with another daughter, Mrs. Ben Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams spent Monday at the Chas. Fuller home. The men attended Bud Knapp's sale in the afternoon.

The Twentieth Century club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Sadie Cox to get the lesson on one dish meals given by the project leaders. A dish was prepared and served.

There was a club dance at the Legion hall Thursday night attended by thirty-five couples of club members and their friends. A dinner honoring the Arthur and Clifford Collins families was held before the dance.

Mrs. W. J. Hemphill went to Lincoln on the Thursday morning bus. Besides visiting her sister, Mrs. Jennie Davis she attended the state meeting of the auxiliary of the medical association, Mrs. Hemphill being president of the four county organization.

Clifford Hawkes as District Deputy Grand Master of the I. O. O. F. lodge took his team to Ericson Monday night to install officers and administer the first degree for the Ericson lodge. On Tuesday they performed the same service for the Burwell lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Harris of Scotia were in North Loup Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Mayo drove up from Lincoln Sunday and Mrs. Mayo remained to help care for her father, Geo. E. Johnson, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Taylor took Mrs. Lena Taylor to Broken Bow Saturday for a week's visit with her sister, Mrs. Grace Gibson.

An all day meeting of the Needle and Thimble club was held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lena Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp were supper guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine.

The North Loup Township meeting was held Tuesday morning in the town hall.

Nolo club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. George Mayo. Mrs. Jessie Babcock had charge of an interesting lesson on psychology.

Fortnightly club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Zanger. The lesson on soil conservation was in charge of Dorothy Knapp.

The Junior Fortnightly will meet Thursday with Jane Hoepfner.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Knapp were dinner guests Saturday of Mrs. R. H. Knapp.

Gold Welty of Gresham was a guest Thursday night of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worrell.

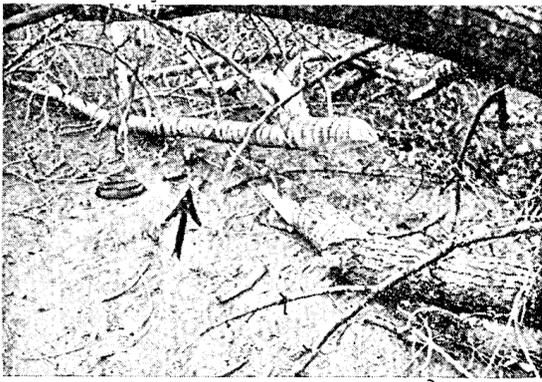

Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell spent several days the first of the week assisting her mother, Mrs. Wm. Preston.

Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Manchester and children spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Anderson.

Mrs. Chas. Otto went to Horace Sunday to help care for her mother, Mrs. Wm. Huebner who had a stroke Friday. Mrs. Huebner passed away Monday night.

Mrs. Fanny Weed spent the day Sunday with Mrs. Buten.

Pinned Beneath Tree, Arcadia Man Dies

Here is shown the huge cottonwood tree under which Charles Ponce, 45, of Arcadia, was pinned last Wednesday and injured so badly that he died a few minutes later. His cap, the lining stained with blood from his fractured skull, lies where it fell near the branch which Ponce's companion, Jess White, sawed through in his efforts to extricate the injured man. Ponce's spectacles, lens broken, can also be seen.

Giant Cottonwood Falls, Chas. Ponce Fatally Injured

Was Helping Cut Fuel Wood, Misjudged Direction the Big Tree Would Fall.

Pinned beneath a fallen cottonwood tree which he was helping to cut down for fuel wood, Charles Ponce, 45, of Arcadia, was injured so seriously last Wednesday that he died a few minutes later at the office of Dr. J. W. Baird, Arcadia physician. Ponce's skull was fractured, there was a deep gash in his forehead and another on top of his head, his right leg was broken, chest crushed, and he suffered other injuries.

The accident happened on the Frank V. White farm about 1-2 mile southwest of Arcadia, across the Middle Loup river. Ponce and a companion, Jess Stone, had gone there to cut down a big cottonwood tree which they were planning to use for fuel.

They had sawed into the trunk, chopped the opposite side with axes and then drove wedges into the sawed side, thinking the tree would fall to the northeast, thus avoiding damage to a fence.

When the tree started to fall Stone shouted at his companion to "look out." Without looking up, Ponce ran to the southwest, thinking he would thus be out of the path of the falling tree. But something had gone wrong with their calculations and instead of falling to the northeast the tree fell to the southwest, catching Ponce beneath its branches.

An eight inch branch struck Ponce, flailing him to earth and pinning him there. Stone was, of course, unable to raise the heavy branch to extricate Ponce and immediately started sawing through it, hoping thus to get him out.

Fearing to move the injured man because he might aggravate the injuries, Stone then ran to the White home to call medical aid but there was no telephone and he caught a horse, riding it to the Sell filling station in the west edge of Arcadia. From there he called Dr. J. W. Baird, who responded at once.

In the meantime Phil Eiche and Glen Rex, who were at the Sell station, hurried to the White farm and moved Ponce from under the tree. He was taken to Dr. Baird's office in a car and passed away a few moments later.

The tree that crushed Ponce was fully 70 feet high and was at least six feet in diameter at the base. Tons of weight must have been pressing on Mr. Ponce when he was under the branch and according to Dr. Baird he was so badly crushed that there never was any chance of saving his life.

Funeral rites for Mr. Ponce were held Saturday morning and burial was in the Catholic cemetery at Lee Park.

The deceased was born Aug. 14, 1885 at Zagorje, Jugoslavia. He was married to Marie Dnoosek at Girard, Kas., and moved to Arcadia in 1930. Surviving are his wife and three sons, Charles, jr., and Victor, of San Marcos, Calif., and Lee, of South Gate, Calif. There are also four brothers and a sister, the latter coming from her home in Kansas to attend the committal rites, which were in charge of Father Muldoon, of Scotia.

Mrs. A. H. Crandall was among those ill with the flu this week.

Frank Mulligan's were up from St. Paul Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Klima and children and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin of Ord attended services at the Methodist church Sunday morning.

Mrs. R. L. Christensen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen and Mrs. Mildred Greenland were over from Arcadia Saturday afternoon to see the new baby at Edward Christensen's.

Richard Jeffries drove to Ravenna Tuesday evening after his sister Ethel who has been released from the Ravenna schools to enter state university for the second semester. She will spend a week at home before going to Lincoln.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Burdick and baby of Grand Island spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins. Mr. Burdick's mother, Mrs. Geo. Burdick of Los Angeles, who had spent the week here, returned home with them.

DAVIS CREEK Farm at Auction!

Tuesday, Jan. 25, 1938

Sale will be held on the farm commencing at 2:00 p. m.

LOCATION

This farm lays on Davis Creek, 5 1-2 miles south and 2 1-2 miles west of North Loup—1 mile from Pleasant Hill school and 4 miles east of the Davis Creek churches. This farm is gently rolling of a heavy black soil, with a clay subsoil; has 80 acres of pasture and building lots that is well covered with ash timber; 80 acres of cultivated land laying in three tracts. Part of this land has been in alfalfa and sweet clover, and was plowed up last year, and is in a high state of cultivation.

IMPROVEMENTS

A seven room dwelling, a barn 50x50, with room for 12 head of horses; 500 bushels of grain, and a capacity for 80 tons of hay; a hen house; hog house; granary; and a garage, a good well, and Aeromotor windmill and cistern, with water piped into the house and into the barn.

This farm is all fenced and cross-fenced and has sufficient hog wire to fence 20 acres of land.

Here is an opportunity for someone to own a good farm without the investment of much capital, for this is not an invoice. This farm is going to be sold.

TERMS

Ten percent of the purchase price on the date of sale, as guarantee of sales contract; subject to a loan of $1,300, due in 1939, and drawing 5 percent interest. Balance will be due on March 1, 1938, when a warranty deed and a merchantable abstract of title will be furnished. Possession may be had March first, 1938.

Weller Chosen New C. of C. President At Lively Meeting

Lumberman Heads Body During 1938; Irrigation Talk Develops Fireworks.

Attendance at the annual meeting of the Ord chamber of commerce Thursday evening was light—only about 25 were present—but interest ran high, due principally to discussion of the North Loup power and irrigation project. Most members present made their views known but it remained for John P. Misko, retiring chamber president, to touch off the fireworks with a motion that was passed unanimously. The motion was: "That a committee of three be appointed with power to act, to meet with the board of directors of the North Loup public power and irrigation project to find out details and the exact status of the project at the present time; this committee to be empowered to go as far as necessary to determine the cause or causes for apparent present shortage of funds to complete the project."

Previously members had elected Verne Weller, head of the Weller Lumber Company, as president for 1938, and President Weller at once appointed a committee of three to carry out an investigation of the North Loup project situation.

VERNE WELLER.

Committee members named were John P. Misko, chairman; Ign. Klima, Jr., and Fred W. Coe. They were allowed only ten days to secure their material and were directed to report to the chamber as a whole on Feb. 1, and at that time disclose all they have discovered regarding diversion of project funds.

This committee is at work now, said Chairman Misko Tuesday, and a preliminary report may be available for publication this week. If not, the report will be made public on Feb. 1.

Other business taken up at the annual chamber meeting, which was held in the K. of P. hall, included re-election of Tom Springer as vice-president and election of E. C. Leggett, Bob Noll and George Allen to serve 2-year terms as directors, and Ign. Klima, Jr., for a 1-year term.

Secretary Alfred Wiegardt's report was heard with much interest, this showing that the commercial club now has a membership of 94, a gain of 5 since last January, and sufficient funds on hand to carry on whatever work it is thought necessary be undertaken.

Mrs. Burr Beck Buys Johnson Beauty Shop

A deal was closed Monday afternoon by which Mrs. Burr Beck of Scotia will take over the Johnson Beauty Shop on Feb. 1. "Youth in Responsibility" is the theme of the service, with short talks by Lyle Flagg, Evelyn Ollis, Robert Paul Williamson, Marilyn Dale and Edwin Hitchman. Instead of youth being served they invite you to the services that they may serve you.

Judge Kroger Grants Divorce In 2 Cases

Two suits for divorce were heard in District Judge E. G. Kroger's court Wednesday. Hazel Stanton brought suit for divorce from Elwood Stanton, whom she married at Snokomish, Wash., Aug. 17, 1937, and from whom she separated Sept. 1, 1937, because of alleged insanity. Her petition was granted and her maiden name of Hazel Barr restored. Marie Jane Holmes asked separation from George Holmes. The couple were married at Loup City, Nebr., Feb. 16, 1935, and separated Aug. 1, 1937. She alleged extreme cruelty, and listed intemperance as a direct cause. She was granted a divorce, the custody of their child, and Holmes was ordered to pay $10.00 per month toward the support of the child.

Kruml Chosen President State Assistance Group

Frank Kruml, director of assistance for Valley county, was honored by being selected president of the central Nebraska county assistance directors' association at their meeting held Thursday in Grand Island. Other officers elected were J. C. Perry, Phelps county, vice president; Harry A. Hinman, Sherman county, second vice president; E. C. Belknap, Hall county, secretary-treasurer; and Clara Metzger, Dodge county, recording secretary. Mr. Kruml has made a very satisfactory record in his work in Valley county, and this honor that has come to him is well deserved.

Crushed By Coal Truck Wednesday, Ord Man Is Dead

Condition Thought Not Bad at First, Took Turn for the Worse, Died That Eve.

Bert Hurlbert passed away in the night Wednesday night following an accident Wednesday morning in which he was crushed between the Methodist parsonage and a loaded coal truck, which was being backed into position to unload coal by George Hurlbert. Hurlbert thought that Mr. Hurlbert was watching to see that the truck was backed up in the right place, and did not know he was behind the truck until he was caught.

It was at first thought that he was not very seriously injured, but in the afternoon he took a turn for the worse, and it was soon evident that he was dying. He was known to be slightly hard of hearing, and it is probable something attracted his attention and he did not realize the truck was coming until it was too late.

Bert Albert Hurlbert was born in Gliddon, Carroll county, Ia., on June 12, 1883, and died in the Ord hospital Wednesday night, January 19, 1938, at the age of 54 years, 7 months and 7 days. When he was but nine months of age the family moved to Custer county, Nebr., where he grew up and received his schooling.

He was married to Ida Dawe of Burwell, July 5, 1920, the marriage taking place in Ord. Most of their married life has been spent in Ord and vicinity. Nine children were born to them, seven of whom survive. Two children, Della Rose and Dean Wayne, died in early childhood.

The children who survive are: Ray, 16, a student in the Ord high school; Dudley, 14, and Evelyn, 13, students in the junior high school; Loyal, 11, and Dolores, 9, grade school pupils; Leonard, 3, and Larry, 9 months of age. Besides his wife and children Mr. Hurlbert is survived by his mother, Mrs. Nightengale, and stepfather, George Nightengale; one brother, Ed Hurlbert of Ord; and one half brother, Roy Nightengale of Burwell.

There are also a large number of more distant relatives and friends. Funeral services were held from the Pearson and Anderson chapel Friday afternoon at 2:30 with Rev. Mearl O. Smith of the Ord Methodist church in charge, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Help Infantile Paralysis Cause

Through the courtesy of the Ord Theater you have an opportunity to give and be entertained at the same time. Thursday, Friday and Saturday an exceptionally fine double feature will be shown. There will be "Tarzan's Revenge" and "Boy of the Street", starring Jackie Cooper; this last is a fine family picture. There will also be a Micky Mouse cartoon. A percentage of all the advance ticket sales to this show will be given to the New Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. See any of the members of the committee, which is headed by A. A. Wiegardt, Ord, E. A. Holub, Elyria and Harold Hoepfner, North Loup, or buy them at any one of Ord's three drug stores.

DALE FINDS VALLEY COUNTY SOIL "ALIVE" WITH GRASSHOPPER EGGS

No, this isn't puffed rice you're looking at—it's something much more serious. This Quiz micro-photograph shows a few of the water resisting pods and a small portion of the grasshopper eggs found by County Agent C. C. Dale Monday morning on a strip of soil about 12 inches square south of Ord. Grasshoppers lay pods of eggs, about 50 to 75 eggs being found in each pod.

In actual size, the eggs are about 1/8 of an inch long and in width are about the thickness of a needle. In one square foot of ground, Agent Dale estimates that there were 500 eggs—500 more grasshoppers for Valley county farmers to contend with this spring!

State and federal entomologists made a count of grasshopper eggs in Valley county last fall and as a result their report on the infestation of this county for 1938 has been set as "moderate to heavy". In 1937 their report was "light to moderate".

Eggs are to be found in abundance along fence rows, in waste land, in alfalfa fields, and in pastures. They are to be found in great numbers anywhere in the native soil. These hundreds of thousands of eggs will hatch into grasshoppers some time in May. A cold wet spring followed by hot damp weather would kill many of the newly hatched grasshoppers, but it is unlikely that this type of weather will prevail. The hoppers have one natural enemy, the parasitic fly. This fly can do away with great numbers of the hoppers, but Valley county and surrounding counties are out of luck if they look to this fly for assistance in killing the lowly grasshopper. The flies are very thick in western Nebraska in the panhandle region, but are scarce in this territory.

What is to be done? There is only one thing to do, believes Agent Dale. Every farmer should make a survey of his land, find out where the hatching grounds of the hoppers are and then wait. In May, when the hoppers come to life, poison bran should be spread completely over the hatching grounds. In this manner the hoppers will be killed off effectively before they have an opportunity to spread to surrounding fields.

Poison bait will be available for farmers early this spring as two tons of ingredients are stored here ready for mixing and if everyone takes advantage of cheap bait a big dent in the Valley county grasshopper crop will be made. Most of hoppers are of the two-striped type although there are some migratory hoppers to be found.

Poultry Meetings Start Febr. 2nd

A number of farmers and farm women who heard J. R. Redditt, extension agent in poultry husbandry, speak at the farmers' days meeting in Ord last month have expressed a desire to have a poultry school in this county. Accordingly the Valley County Farm Bureau has arranged with the extension service to conduct a school which will consist of five meetings, one each month beginning February 2nd, with Mr. Redditt or one of the other members of the poultry department in charge. At the first meeting, feeding, housing, equipment, and some suggestions on how to cull throughout the year will be taken up. Later lessons will take up chick raising, marketing and other phases of the poultry business.

People who are particularly interested in poultry are invited to attend this school which will be held at a place to be announced later. In order that the Farm Bureau may arrange for a suitable meeting place, people who wish to attend are asked to notify the county agent's office of their intention to attend the meeting. It is hoped by those sponsoring the meetings that a good group of interested people will attend as there never was a time when it was more important to give proper care to the poultry which is almost the only source of income on many farms.

Fire Alarm Tuesday

A fire alarm Tuesday afternoon sent the Ord Fire Department on a run to the Gudmundsen home on L street, where a chimney burning out gave a very realistic imitation of a real fire. Luckily the fire was confined to the chimney and no damage was done.

Only Four More Days

Only four more days remain after today in which drivers may secure their auto licenses in January and it will be unsafe to appear on the highway after Feb. 1 with the old license plates. The enforcement officers have made it emphatic that cars must not be driven after Feb. 1 without new numbers.

Evelyn Sharp Goes To School; Benefit Dance Raised Funds

A huge crowd turned out Thursday evening for the benefit aviation dance staged in the Ord dance hall and as a result, Miss Evelyn Sharp started a six weeks course in the Lincoln School of Aviation Monday morning.

Nearly $100 was realized from the sale of tickets to the dance, and although this was not all profit it is believed that it will take Miss Sharp through the short course in aeronautics instruction. Saturday Evelyn took a preliminary test at the Lincoln Air School to find out just what type of work she needed. School officials stated that in six weeks or less that she would be well prepared for the government test for a transport pilot's license.

Everyone thoroughly enjoyed the dance. People from all the neighboring towns, Burwell, Sargent, Arcadia and North Loup were present in large numbers. Each dancer was given a small metal airplane as a souvenir of the dance and a diamond was given away to Mrs. Charlie Burdick during the evening. Music was furnished by a 14-piece dance band made up from the best of local musicians under the capable direction of Dr. Glen Aulsebrook. Numbers presented by the well known Thespians quartet composed of Leonard Sobon, LaVern Duemey, Laverne Lakin and Jack Janssen proved to be very popular.

Farm Union Leader Talks to Rotarians

Henry Negley, of Broken Bow, educational director for the Farmers Union movement in Nebraska, was guest speaker at the Ord Rotary club's meeting Monday evening. In detail he traced present economic and political trends, warning his hearers that at present fascism menaces the United States and is a challenge to our traditional liberty. The history of the Farmers Union movement also was given by Mr. Negley, who showed moving pictures of Union stores in Nebraska and other states.

Judge Allows $750 In Attorney Fees

Attorney fees were allowed by District Judge E. G. Kroger Wednesday in the Lee murder case. The judge made these fees less than he would ordinarily, due to the depleted condition of the county finances. To Davis and Vogelanz attorneys for the defense, who had gone to some expense which they paid themselves, he allowed $400.00 and to Munn and Norman for assisting County Attorney Alvin Lee he allowed $350.00.

Exclusive of jury service, the total costs in the Lee case were about $1,300.00. These costs do not include the expense of the ballistic expert and a few other items. The cost of the jury for the Lee case and also for the Manchester case, the only jury cases, was $617.45, and the total cost of both cases will run approximately $2,200.00, according to figures available in the office of the clerk of the district court.

NOTICE TO MEMBERS.

The annual meeting of the Valley County Farm Bureau will be held at the American Legion Hall in Ord on Friday, January 28 at 2:30 P. M.

Peace Officers Name R. O. Hunter As "Ord's Safest Driver"; Three Women Among "Safest"

At the request of the Quiz, Ord's officers made a selection of local drivers, who, in their opinion, were the safest drivers in 1937. The men who took part in the selection were Sheriff George Round, Deputy Sheriff F. J. Cohen and Chief of Police L. H. Covert. Their pictures, with that of R. O. Hunter, to whom went the title of "Ord's Safest Driver" are shown above. Each officer made a selection of a number of names, after which the three got together and spent several hours arranging the names in order, as given below.

The winners and the order in which they placed follows: R. O. Hunter, Horace Travis, Mart Beran, Helen Keep, Archie Keep, W. W. (Dad) Brown, Val Pullen, Mrs. M. B. Hardenbrook, Bert Whiting, John Whiting, F. E. McQuillan, A. J. Wise, Ross Lakin, Ed Gnaster, R. L. Lincoln, Mrs. Bessie Achen, Wilford Williams, A. W. Tunnick, Forrest (Spot) Johnson, A. W. Cornell and Cecil Clark. This does not mean that these are the only safe drivers, but that they are the ones Ord officials consider the safest.

3 Arcadia Feeders Top Big Markets

Arcadia -- (Special) -- The feeding of sheep is rapidly taking its place as "big business" here, with dozens of farmers having a few or many on feed.

Last week three feeders here topped the big markets of the nation with shipments of sheep. Ernest Easterbrook received $8.00 per hundred, the daily top, for a double deck load at Omaha, and Friday Floyd Bossen and Arthur Easterbrook had two loads on the Chicago market and received a top of $8.25.

Mrs. John Misko Red Cross Head

Reelected at Annual Session Monday; No. Loup Woman Is Vice Chairman.

Officers of the Valley county Red Cross chapter for the 1938 term were elected Monday night at the annual meeting held in Ord. Mrs. John Misko will again head the organization, being re-elected to the position of county chairman. Mrs. J. A. Barber of North Loup was selected as vice-chairman, Katherine Holub, secretary, and Harold Taylor of the Nebraska State bank, treasurer.

All chairmen on various committees who served during 1937 were re-appointed to their offices for 1938. Those re-appointed included: Mrs. William Carlton, civilian home service and general welfare; Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, disaster chairman; LeRoy Frazier, first aid chairman; Verne Weller, home accident prevention chairman; Mrs. Edw. Kokes, junior Red Cross chairman.

Reports from all committee chairmen were made previous to the election of officers and all reports were satisfactory. C. Hoffman of St. Louis was present at the meeting and assisted chairmen in laying plans for Red Cross activities during 1938.

As bad weather prevailed Monday evening the turn-out for the annual meeting was smaller. However, representatives were present from all towns in the Valley county sector and business was taken care of in a suitable manner.

Zon Sprague Dies At Hastings Hospital

Zon Sprague passed away at 2:30 a. m. Monday at a Hastings hospital. His sister, Miss Ruth Sprague of Marietta, O., telegraphed that she would arrive in time for the funeral, which will take place late today at Hastings. His daughter, Mrs. Guy Keep, arrived in Grand Island Monday evening, where Archie Keep met her and brought her to Ord. Today John S. Hoff, Mrs. Sprague and the children, Mrs. Keep, Nancy and Bob, went down to Hastings to be present for the funeral.

Born in Charleston, W. Va., 55 years ago, Mr. Sprague for years engaged in business in Ohio, and moved to Nebraska when his health failed. Funeral rites will be held from the Volland Funeral home today, and will be conducted by Dr. A. O. Hinson of the First Methodist church, burial to be made at Hastings.

Ord All Stars Will Meet Kearney "B" Team on Saturday

Ord's All Star basketball team will run into stiff competition this Saturday as they meet the Kearney Teachers College "B" squad on the Kearney floor. The game is to be played on the college floor Saturday night. The Kearney court is one of the largest and best equipped in the state. Manager Syd Furtak plans to take a large number of players along for the game.

Wednesday night, to-night, the All Stars will meet North Loup on the Loup floor in a double-header attraction. Both first and second squads will see action at North Loup and some good basketball is in store for fans who plan to attend.

Although it is not definite as yet, a game is being planned for Sunday, Feb. 6 at Ord, with the local All Stars meeting the Grand Island Wolbach club. This will indeed be a game worth seeing, as the Ord and Grand Island quintets are very evenly matched, and the game should be a "hot one."

Chief Engineer For Nebr. Denies Blame for Delay

Claimed in Omaha District Has Over-Run Cost, Has Insufficient Funds.

From Lincoln early this morning came word that K. Sewell Wingfield, chief project engineer for the Public Works Administration, will visit Ord next Monday evening, January 31, and at a public mass meeting explain and defend the PWA's stand in regard to the North Loup power and irrigation project.

Wingfield will be a guest of the Rotary club at dinner and his speech will be made at a mass meeting sponsored jointly by the Ord chamber of commerce and Rotary club at 8:00 in the Masonic basement. All business men and farmers and the public generally are invited to hear him.

The telegram received by President E. L. Vogelanz of the Rotary club said Mr. Wingfield's talk will be "factual and non-controversial." He will speak in Arcadia Tuesday evening.

This is the latest development in the North Loup project situation since last week when E. H. Dummire, engineer-manager of the project, urged Rotary members and other Ord people to telegraph and write Nebraska senators and representatives in Washington in an effort to force the WA to discontinue its "red tape" and get laterals under way so irrigation might be available in 1938.

A Quiz story about Dummire's statement to Rotarians, along with figures regarding the project furnished by Dummire, were printed in the daily newspapers of Grand Island, Lincoln and Omaha, and brought forth a wealth of statements from ranking PWA officials.

In Omaha Chief Engineer Wingfield told the World-Herald that Mr. Dummire is "tilting at windmills and slaying dragons" in making such statements as he did.

The North Loup project has over-run its cost in constructing primary canals and has reduced the amount left available for construction of laterals, only $156,545 being available, the World-Herald quoted Wingfield as saying.

The district wishes to use funds set aside for power to build the lateral ditches, Wingfield told the World-Herald and also stated in talking with a Quiz representative at Lincoln Thursday. PWA refused to assent unless the district made other arrangements for obtaining power from the Platte valley project's lines between North Platte and Columbus. This might be done through an agreement with the Western Public Service company to transmit power, thus making it unnecessary for the project to build its own lines.

Such an agreement has been drafted and forwarded to PWA for approval and "if it is acceptable," said Mr. Wingfield, "I will do everything in my power to arrange for the transfer of such funds as may not be then required for power lines to provide for the over-run in cost of the irrigation part of the project."

Figures submitted by Wingfield purport to show status of the project as follows: PWA allotted $1,665,000, of which $264,000 was for power development and $1,401,000 for irrigation development. Of the latter amount $242,440 was for lateral ditches and since the district has overrun other funds, only $156,545 now remains for the laterals. These are Mr. Wingfield's figures and in many respects do not agree with those furnished the Quiz last week by Engineer-Manager Dummire.

Written by Rev. W. L. GOODELL

A new Fairbanks scale 34 feet long and with a thirty ton capacity is to be installed as soon as weather conditions permit, south of the office of the Burwell Lumber and Coal Company.

Bump Grunkemeyer, Jim Phillips, Bill Eatherton and Lewis Moore went to Grand Island Monday evening to attend the preliminaries in the Golden Glove Tournament.

In county court last Tuesday Joe Commerece plead guilty to a forgery charge and was bound over to the district court and bonds fixed at $1,000. Joe Pesta Finds Snake On Highway

Joe Pesta, who lives out on Route 3 and spends much of his time buying old iron, brought into the Quiz office Monday morning something that entitles him to a place in the Believe it or Not column. It is a four foot bull snake he found on the gravel highway just west of Ord and just beyond the end of the paving as he was driving out of town Saturday afternoon. Cars had run over the reptile but it was still alive when Joe found it and evidently had crawled to the place where he picked it up. He put it in his car and here is the picture to back up his story.

Too Little Moisture, Don't Plant Trees Is Dale's Advice

Farmers May Get Trees By Clarke-McNary Act But Foolish To Do So.

Interviewed by a Quiz reporter last week, County Agent C. C. Dale stated that "it would be nothing but foolishness for Valley county farmers to plant trees at this time."

Under the Clark-McNary seeding program, farmers may secure trees at a nominal cost which they may plant to form windbreaks or for other purposes.

County Agent Dale says that the moisture content of most of the soil in Valley county is very low at this time, far too low to consider planting young trees. However, there may be sufficient moisture by spring to make the planting of young seedlings feasible.

Many farmers planted trees last year under the Clarke-McNary program but had poor luck. Although no official check has been made, reports indicate that a high percentage of the trees died because of insufficient moisture.

Several farmers have filed orders for trees but most of them have some means of providing moisture for the seedlings. Over the state 89 per cent of the American elms planted last year survived, and 81 per cent of the hackberries, extension department records show.

The American elm is not to be recommended for this territory, the Chinese elm being much more suitable. The hackberry will thrive in this section as will the Russian olive, Siberian pea tree, yellow pine, jack pine and red cedar.

All of the above mentioned types are available to farmers and should there be enough moisture this spring, it would be worthwhile to plant a group of these trees.

Produces Pork at Low Cost

Valley county farmers who wish to know more about the feeding value of grain sorghums will be interested in the experience of Henry Wiemers, Jefferson county farmer, who found that under existing conditions, Sooner Milo planted alongside of corn yielded much heavier grain production.

Now Wiemers is determining the relative feeding value of sorghum grains. After feeding ground oats and a supplement to pigs for some time, he changed the feeding schedule utilizing Sooner Milo as 50 per cent of the grain ration along with 50 per cent ground oats and supplement.

Preliminary results reveal that shoats gained up to 2 pounds daily, self-fed. In addition to rapid gains, with ground oats figured at 35 cents per bushel and Milo at $1 per hundredweight, the cost of gain has been as low as 4 1/2 cents per pound. Some of the shoats weighed up to 190 pounds at the age of 5 months.

Wiemers believes that in grain sorghum, he has found a crop which will not only produce under unfavorable conditions, but which also reduces the cost of pork production.

Fourth Quarter Rally Again Needed By Chanticleers to Beat Fast Danes

Danes Tough for Ord Team,
Score Was 22 to 14;
Ord Has Won Five.

Ord's Chanticleers added another win to their Loup Valley conference record Friday night as they turned on the steam in the fourth quarter to dump Dannebrog, 22 to 14.

This was the most severe defeat of the season for the Dannebrog squad, their only defeat previous to the Ord game being a 17-16 loss to Cairo. The Danes now have a record of ten wins and two defeats.

As predicted, the game was one of the better games of the season with the score being tied-up several times in the game.

Don Tunnicliff again led the scoring for the Chanticleers as he tipped in a total of 11 points. Zulkoski and Severson, forward and center respectively, also contributed to the scoring at critical points in the game.

L. Hansen, Dannebrog guard, was undoubtedly the best performer on the Eagle team. Ord fans were much impressed by the manner in which Hansen played his guard position. Nelson, at center, was another good man on the Dannebrog quint, although he was held in check very nicely by the Ord defensive.

Both teams played ragged ball the first quarter and passing done by the Ordsters was the worst witnessed this season. Tunnicliff was the only Ord lad who could hit the bucket in the initial period and at the end of the first quarter Ord held a 6 to 1 advantage.

In the middle of the second quarter, the Danes jumped into

Ord Junior High Trips Dannebrog By 32-10 Score

Keith Wolfe's Ord junior high team cashed in on every scoring opportunity Friday night as they plastered Dannebrog junior high, 32 to 10.

Dean Misko, stellar Ord forward, was high point man of the game as he slipped 12 points through the hoop. Tunnicliff, C. Barnes and Romans also turned in fine scoring performances.

Ord's defensive was nearly as good as their offensive as they allowed the Danes only four free shots and three field goals. All of the Ord junior high squad members received a chance to play in the game, Coach Wolfe using a total of 14 men.

Dr. Barta's Photo In Minnesota Paper

Bandmaster Hemming Hautala, former instructor of music in the Ord schools, sent down a copy of the Minneapolis Journal, on the front page of which appeared an article by Dr. John C. Macnie, on the proper care of infants at birth to prevent blindness. He spoke before 42 northwest doctors who assembled at Minneapolis for the January post-graduate medical institute. Of special interest to Ord people is the fact that Dr. F. A. Barta was in attendance at this institute, and his picture appears with a number of other noted eye specialists on the front page of the paper.

Ravenna and Arcadia Next Ord Opponents

In a Mid Six conference game, the Ord Chanticleers will meet Coach Stan Johnson's Ravenna quintet on the Ord court this Friday night. With three new, valuable men added to the squad at the beginning of the second semester, basketball prospects at Ravenna have taken a decided jump. Last week the rejuvenated Ravenna crew edged out Arcadia, 24-23, on the Ravenna floor.

Leonard Larson, former Hazard star, and Bud Capellan, former CCC performer are both eligible to play and saw their first service in the Arcadia game last week. These two, in addition to lanky Bob Hamilton, Jack Smaha and several other lettermen make the Ravenna team a strong aggregation.

Next Tuesday night the Ordsters continue play in the Loup Valley conference as they meet Arcadia on the Ord floor. Coach Tuning's men have been improving their style of play since the start of the season and may be giving Coach Brockman's boys more of a battle than they expect. The Arcadia tussle will be a Mid Six-Loup Valley contest.

D. E. W. Jones Suit Comes Up In March

At a hearing before District Judge E. G. Kroger in Ord Wednesday the case of D. E. Wynn Jones vs. the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation district, the case was continued until the regular spring term of court which is scheduled to open March 14.

Jones' attorneys, Ziegler, Dunn and Baker, of Omaha, had hoped to win a judgment by default, as two suits for amounts totaling $41,500.00, had been filed, and the district had failed to file an answer in either case in the required time limit. The attorneys had asked for a directed verdict in favor of their client.

At the hearing Wednesday Judge Kroger granted the district the privilege of filing an answer in interstater, and the case will undoubtedly come up for jury trial in March. It is the first case in which the Middle Loup project is concerned that originated in the district court, although two condemnation cases have been appealed to the district court.

The plaintiff and his attorneys are from Omaha, while the attorney for the district, C. A. Sorenson is from Lincoln, and this fact makes the case rather unusual in the annals of Valley county litigation. It is expected that the case will attract a large number of spectators who will be interested in its legal aspects.

Janicek Bridge Case Is Partially Settled

The case of Aldrich Janicek vs. the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district, wherein Janicek is asking the district to build three bridges across the ditch, which runs across his farm, was heard in the court of District Judge E. G. Kroger at Ord Wednesday.

The plaintiff contends that the ditch cuts through his place in such a way that the three bridges are necessary to enable him to get to his fields for spring work. Judge Kroger ordered the district to build one bridge in the lane south of Janicek's buildings, and advised both parties to try to settle their other differences while the case was continued.

Attorney Guy Laverly for the district stated that the state of Nebraska expected to build a mile of highway where none now exists, and that when this was completed there would be no need for the other bridges asked for. The case has been continued until settled between the parties, or until the spring term of court.

Davis Is Chairman Of Bar Commission

Claude A. Davis, for years a well known attorney of Ord, now of Grand Island, has been appointed chairman of a bar commission in the 11th judicial district, which comprises Hall, Howard, Greeley, Valley, Garfield, Loup, Blaine, Thomas, Hooker, Grant and Wheeler counties. The other two men on the commission are James M. Lantigan of Greeley and Ralph W. Norman of Ord. The organization is a new set-up all over the state, and the object of the commission is to hear all complaints of unprofessional conduct by lawyers within the districts. Formerly this work was done by the attorney general. To be appointed a member of this commission is a signal honor to any lawyer.

2 Couples Get Licenses.

County Judge John L. Andersen issued a marriage license Friday to Bohumil Rott, of St. Paul, Nebr., and Miss Hope Bubenik, or Bartunek, of Ord. Saturday afternoon he issued a license to John Ripp, 22 year old farmer from Greeley, Nebr., and Miss Cleda Robinson of Cedar Rapids, Nebr. The judge performed the ceremony immediately afterward, with the bride's sister, Miss Hazel Robinson of Cedar Rapids as one of the witnesses and Miss Florence Zulkoski of Ord as the other.

QUIZ VISITS RURAL SCHOOLS

Miss Irene Shepperd is teaching her first year at Dist. 62. Fifteen students are enrolled in this school which is located only a short distance from Comstock near the Valley county border line.

Dist. 9 is known as the "Golden rod School" and Miss Clara Jensen has taught at this school for seven years. Baseball is the favorite game of Dist. 9 students and of all the projects they have completed this year their Thanksgiving project was the most enjoyable to work on. Students have organized a "Rhythm Band" and say that it is great fun.

January Weather.

The first 23 days of January made a record that is probably unequaled in the history of Central Nebraska. However, Henry Marks is authority for the statement that January plowing was not unusual 40 years ago, and spring wheat and oats was frequently sowed in February. This condition followed the dry year of 1894.

According to the city's self registering thermometer at the Milford corner, the warmest day of the month to date was 61 degrees Jan. 15, and the coldest was 8 degrees above Jan. 7. The average high for the 23 days was 44 degrees and the average low for the same time was 20 above. The mean average was 32 degrees, which is some 20 degrees higher than for the same period in Ord two years ago.

Said Mrs. Bridgeleigh,
we're a lot of fools
For attending our weekly cooking schools
When we can always buy such delicious cakes
our baker makes.

Learning how to bake was all right back in the days when good bakeries were few and far between. But today it seems a waste of time when you can purchase such delectable rolls, pies and pastries from your baker, more economically and in much less time than you can make them at home.

Syl Furtak Makes An Electric Timer

If Syl Furtak can't get the gadget he wants any other way he makes it. When the Ord town basketball teams started playing over at the Ord opera house it occurred to Syl that a real timer would be a handy thing to have. As it costs plenty of money to get one of the regulation affairs, he decided that he would make one. Jeweler Muncy furnished him with an electric clock that had seen better days, but would still run. Furtak put the works on the back of a piece of press board, made some large hands for the big dial he painted on the front, and he had it. Now all the timer has to do is to pull the switch whenever the referee calls "Time Out" and plug in again when he says "Time In."

Wolbach's Quintet Edges All-Stars In Loup City Tourney

Ord Led Most of the Way With Blessing Starring; Final Score 29-27.

Unable to stave off a desperate last quarter rally by the touted Grand Island Wolbach quint, Ord's All Star basketball team was dropped from further competition in the Loup City open basketball tournament Monday night when they lost by the score of 29 to 27.

Throughout the first three quarters and nearly all of the fourth quarter, the Ordsters stayed in front of the Island team. At several points in the game the score was tied.

Paul Blessing, former Ord high school star, was the big show for the Ordites as he put five consecutive free shots through the hoop and tossed in five field goals. "Tub" Steinwart played a good brand of basketball as did Bill Tunnelliff.

In the first quarter both teams played a cautious soft-footed brand of ball. Ord was trailing by a one-point 7 to 6 margin at the end of the initial period.

Blessing, Lee and Steinwart contributed to the scoring in the second quarter to boost Ord to a narrow 15 to 13 lead at the half time.

Early in the third stanza Grand Island got under way to even up the game, 17-17. Clark sank a long one from the middle of the court, Lee succeeded in making a set-up, and Blessing put in a short one to place Ord out in front 24 to 21 at the close of the third quarter.

Tunnelliff started the scoring in the fourth period as he made good on a free throw. Blessing followed in to make a field goal. It was at this point, however, that the Ord basketball machine flew to pieces, passes went wild, making field goals was impossible, and Blessing, who had sunk five free throws in a row, failed to make good on a couple of chances which would have tied up the score. With the score tied, 27-27, Palmer, G. I. guard, dumped in a counter to give them the 29 to 27 verdict.

the PWA for making public the controversy, took refuge in a statement that he "was misquoted." This is denied by the Quiz.

Other developments in the muddled PWA vs. North Loup project situation include appointment by the Ord chamber of commerce of a committee to study the matter. This committee, composed of John P. Misko, Fred W. Coe and Ign. Klima, Jr., yesterday began the task of investigating and making a report.

Their activity was halted since last Friday by Roy Hudson, of North Loup, president of the North Loup project, who asked Chairman Misko to hold up investigation "for 3 or 4 days" with a promise that the whole matter would be ironed out within that period.

Chairman Misko agreed to wait until Tuesday noon and when no assurance was received that status of the project had been bettered, began an investigation. Today the committee is compiling its report, which will be submitted either at a special meeting of the chamber of commerce to be called by President Verne Weller or at a meeting already scheduled for February 1.

It should be made plain that the chamber of commerce, and the Quiz, in seeking authentic information are actuated by no motive other than to find out what is causing delay. If delay is the fault of the PWA this should be settled, definitely and finally. If delay is the result of inefficiency or financial waste by the local district officials, this also should be made plain.

In Washington last week Congressman Harry D. Coffey charged publicly that the PWA is putting power ahead of irrigation in Nebraska. This has long been the contention of local people, but is denied by Chief Engineer Wingfield.

Events of the next few days should reveal what the truth is and where the fault lies.

Burwell Team Wins Over Taylor, 24-23

In a "red hot" contest on the Burwell floor Tuesday night, the Burwell quintet defeated Taylor, 24-23. At the half the score was 15-15, and at the end of third quarter, 17-17. Billy Goodell was outstanding for the Wranglers as he tossed in 16 of the 24 points scored by Burwell.

Two preliminary games were played and both were unusually close games. J. Don Button's Burwell junior high squad downed the Taylor juniors by the margin of one field goal, 13-16. Burwell second team went the limit to outscore the Taylor seconds by a close 16 to 14 verdict.

Dannebrog Wins Over N. Loup.

Although they lost, the North Loup cage team gave a good account of themselves Tuesday night as they lost to Dannebrog 33 to 28. Dannebrog second team won over the North Loup seconds by a 18 to 12 decision.

Horse and Buggy Days.

St. Mary's Church, E

North Loup

David M. Preston.
David Mayo Preston, youngest of the seven children of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. N. Preston, was born on a farm five miles south of North Loup, Neb., on January 8, 1917, and passed away in the Ord hospital on Friday, January 22, 1938, at the age of 21 years and 14 days.

Stricken with typhoid fever just two days previous to his birthday, David's condition became critical during the second week of his illness and as a last resort he was taken from his home to the hospital where an operation was performed but he survived only about twenty-four hours.

He leaves besides his parents, two sisters, Mrs. Emma Baller, of York and Mrs. Naomi Mitchell of North Loup, and three brothers, Howard, Robert and Richard, all of North Loup. A sister, Esther, passed away in 1908 at the age of five years.

After spending his earlier boyhood on the farm and attending rural school, David entered the eighth grade of the North Loup schools and continued in the ninth grade of high school. He left school, however, before finishing the course to find practical work which he preferred.

Although his life was cut short just as he was entering manhood, David early assumed responsibility and at the age of seventeen and eighteen was assigned to jobs which he performed as one more experienced could do. He was always interested in mechanics and as soon as he was old enough learned to care for and handle a car expertly.

One by whom he was often employed recently paid him great tribute. This man said he could trust David to the limit. He was careful and painstaking in driving and in the transacting of business, and was absolutely honest. A late evidence of his faithfulness and dependence was the fact that the construction company by whom he was employed on the North Loup irrigation project hired him to continue with them in the construction of a river bridge near Chadron. Here he remained until shortly before Christmas.

The last of the children to live at home, David was a great comfort to his parents and his kindness and thoughtfulness of them is well known to those in close touch with the family. On a recent trip to Washington state with his parents, David's careful driving and anxiety to carry out every wish of his father was expressive of his regard for them. He was unworried and uncomplaining in his last illness, almost his last expressed thought being for his mother.

Fond of animals he and a pony in his youth, and later a pet dog, were always devoted companions.

Like his namesake of old, David was "goodly to look at", but he was quiet and modest and little inclined to talk. His friendly disposition and ever ready smile won him many friends. To the majority of people, David was just an ordinary lad with an open countenance and pleasant smile, but to those who knew him best he was a kind, cheerful, thoughtful, dependable David, dearly beloved. It is easy to think of him waking up, smiling, on that Other Shore.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday afternoon at the home at 1:30 and from the Methodist church at 2:00 by Rev. Birmingham.

ham. Bearers were Arthur and Richard Jeffries, Denzil Stewart, Willard Ingerson, Wayne Sheldon and James Coleman. A quartette consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Anderson, Mary Francis Manchester and James Birmingham sang both at the house and the church. Mrs. A. C. Hutchins presided at the piano. Funeral arrangements were in charge of Keatings.

Mrs. Irma Baller of Exeter came up on the Friday morning freight and remained to help her mother, Mrs. Wm. Preston. Her family accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Jones, came up Tuesday to attend the funeral.

Chas. Mayo came down on the Tuesday morning bus to attend David Preston's funeral. Rev. Adams drove to Lincoln Tuesday expecting Mrs. Adams to be able to come home later in the week.

Little Phyllis Kay Christensen went to Arcadia Saturday afternoon to see her grandfather Christensen who was not able to make the trip to North Loup to see her. Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins, Edward Christensen, Mrs. Louise Brenneck and Jeanne went with her.

Maxine Johnson is working at Edward Christensen's since Merle Davis is caring for the new Malstrom baby.

Mrs. Chas. Fuller tells of the birth of a son, Thomas Ralph, to Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Comstock of St. Charles, Ill., Jan. 21, at the Community hospital at Geneva, Ill. Ivan, who is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comstock, was born and raised in North Loup but moved to St. Charles with his parents some ten years ago. He has visited here several times in recent years.

Miss Veda Anderson who teaches at Loup City spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Harold Fisher. Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fisher spent Sunday at Harold Fisher's also.

Several small children were around town Friday night selling needles and paper flowers, also begging for something to feed their small brothers and sisters. They told some their home was in Rapid City, S. D. and others that they lived near the chalk hills. It developed they were camped in the stock yards, were driving a fair pickup and living in a trailer house. Times may be hard but it seems too bad to send little children out to beg a living.

Jean Clement returned to Broken Bow Thursday where she is working in a cafe. Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meyers were dinner guests Sunday in the Charlie Meyers home.

Monday afternoon the declamatory contest was presented in the high school auditorium with a large crowd present. Dorothy Eyerly placed first in the dramatic section, reading "Cataracts". Esther Zanger placed first in the humorous section with "Brother Plays Nursemaid". In the evening the one-act plays were given, "In May With June", being given first place. Characters in this were taken by Lois Manchester, Charlotte Johns, Edna Hawkes, Dorothy Schudel, Bill Sims, Keith Watts, LaVern Noyes and Kendall Peterson. It was coached by Delmar VanHorn with Dorothy Eyerly as student director and Everett Howell as stage manager. These readings and the play will be given at the district contest.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie and Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and Idonna drove to Hampton Sunday afternoon to get Mrs. Gillespie's mother, Mrs. H. V. McDonald who will visit here for some time.

George Mayo and Floyd Hudson drove to Grand Island Monday afternoon after Richard Preston who came from Parkdale, Ore., because of his brother David's death. Mrs. Virgil Haught of Kearney called on Carrie Hood Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Haught was Carrie's nurse while she was in the hospital some years ago and has always kept in touch with her. She is also a friend of Mrs. Bohrer and came to see her but Mr. and Mrs. Bohrer were at the Victor Cook home for the day.

Roy Lewis received a telegram Monday night telling of the death of his brother, Walter, at Dodge Center, Minn., Sunday. He had been in poor health for some time, suffering from cancer of the stomach, so his death was not unexpected. Mr. and Mrs. Lewis lived here years ago and have visited here often recently, having spent about a month here last summer.

W. E. Barrows of Hansen spent Friday and Saturday with his daughter, Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson. Wesley Naeve left Sunday for Topeka, Kas., to visit his sister Bernice. From there he expected to go to Illinois to work for Floyd Worrell. Mr. and Mrs. Art Hutchins entertained the Whoopee club Tuesday night.

Mrs. VanHoozen was a passenger down the line on the Tuesday morning bus. Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cox and Donna went to Scotia on the Tuesday morning bus where Donna had her tonsils removed by Dr. Kafka.

The North Loup band held their regular meeting in the town hall Monday but because there were very few out the matter of electing a leader for next year was again laid over.

While driving from his home, to Edwin Schudel's Monday afternoon Clyde Willoughby suddenly discovered the inside of the car was afire. He got out without being burned but the upholstery and wiring of the car were ruined. It is not known how badly damaged the rest of the car is nor how the fire started but it seems likely there was a short in the wiring.

A deal was made this week whereby Chas. White sold his 150 acre farm to Walter Poth for $15 an acre, cash, J. H. Eyerly being the agent who made the sale. Both Mr. and Mrs. White are in poor health, unable to farm and for several years Rex White has done the farming. Their plans are not definite yet.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post held an auction sale of their farm on Davis Creek on Tuesday. Roy Lewis spent several days last week at the Walter Poth home assisting with chores because Mr. Poth had injured his foot while cutting wood and was unable to be about. He is much improved and Roy came home Saturday.

J. H. Eyerly and James Coleman have traded cars. The North Loup and Arcadia town basketball teams played in the high school gym Thursday night. North Loup was victorious.

John Cruzan is repairing the damage done the bathroom at Albert Babcock's house recently when fire was caused by an oil stove that had been left burning to heat the bathroom. Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock who lives upstairs was awakened in the early morning by the smell of smoke and quick action by Mrs. Babcock and the Albert Babcock's prevented a serious fire, but damage was done to the inside of the bathroom and the kitchen was badly smoked.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.
Several men were in the county treasurer's office Saturday morning and a couple of them got to talking about the northern lights, which were exceptionally brilliant most of Friday night. Clyde Baker took a part in the conversation and assured the gentlemen that it was not a sign of bad weather, but was caused by a bunch of Eskimos hunting seal with flashlights.

A certain freshman in the Ord high school likes to hunt on Saturdays. Last Saturday he got too close to one of those zebra cats. He tried all day Sunday to get rid of the scent and thought he had succeeded. At the school he was met by a couple of men teachers and several pupils who were twitching their noses like a rabbit eating lettuce. He took the hint in a hurry and went home to change his clothes once more and take another bath.

When the boys congregate in the basement of the courthouse some good stories are passed out, a few of which are suitable for publication. The other day one of them was telling that the blizzard of 1888 was badly over rated. Said he: "Two years ago about now a lot of automobiles were stalled on the highway near York, and were completely covered with snow. Telephone lines were down and the service was disrupted. Transcontinental air service had to be halted. Even the electric lights went on the blink in some towns. Nothing like that happened in 1888!"

Ed Kallal Here.
Ed Kallal, who lived in Ord and worked in the Bailey store thirty years ago, has been in Ord for the past week visiting his old friends here. He went to Canada 30 years ago, came back three years later, and has not been back since. He is making a rather extensive trip having already visited in Washington, Oregon, California, and in Los Angeles and San Diego. From here he will go to Illinois to visit the home of his boyhood and three brothers who still live there. Four other brothers are also located in Canada. Mr. Kallal's home is at Telford, Alberta, and he has become known here as a leading grower of wheat, having won National honors with grain of his own growing.

Miss Ruth Oliver has been visiting with the Tunnick family in Ord for the past week, and will be here for a few days longer. Bill drove to Onawa, Iowa, where she was visiting her brother, Bob Oliver, and brought her to Ord. When she leaves she will return to her home in Toulon, Ill.

Chester Weekes Not Hurt.

Later information in regard to the Chester Weekes accident near Columbus early last Wednesday morning discloses the fact that he escaped practically without injury. The details of the accident were as follows: Mr. Weekes was coming from the east with a load of corn. On the highway near Columbus a woman had stopped her car in the middle of the road. Due to the fog a couple of trucks going east had trouble getting past, and one of them piled up, thus blocking the highway. About this time Weekes came along, and was so near the place when he saw the pileup thru the fog that he had to go into the ditch to avoid a collision. The truck was somewhat damaged and about ten bushels of corn lost, but the driver was practically uninjured.

200 Comstock Farmers Join Coyote Hunt

Two hundred Comstock farmers and other sportsmen from the surrounding territory swarmed over the hills north of Comstock Sunday on a coyote hunt. Armed with shotguns, four lines of men formed a square and covered an area of four miles. Three coyotes were killed, two on a morning hunt and one in the afternoon. Dozens of jackrabbits were shot by the hunters. With 200 hunters on hand and all of them firing at once it is difficult to definitely decide who actually killed the coyotes, one of which is shown in the lower picture.

After coyotes are once caught and killed, they are skinned and the pelts sold. It has been a general practice in this section for all the money derived from the sale of the pelts to be turned over to the Red Cross. Dogs were not used in the Comstock hunt but in many places dogs are used for the purpose of chasing out the coyotes. When dogs are used however, the hunters usually ride horseback. Coyote hunts, such as the one held Sunday at Comstock, have been held at many different places in central Nebraska including Ravenna and Broken Bow.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

105 Federal Building, Butte, Montana, January 22, 1938.

The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebraska. Dear Quiz:

My old home town paper was just delivered to the office of the Seventeenth Assistant to the Vice Deputy Assistant to the Deputy Assistant Deputy and as I am his assistant I am in complete charge while he is gone and I had told my assistant to stay in the front office and to awaken me in the event anyone of importance came in.

Well, my assistant went out for a cup of coffee and his assistant went to sleep and I was sitting here reading the Ord Quiz when who should walk in but Mr. Joseph D. Evans who is directly in charge of all field work in the five states that comprise this district.

Mr. Evans was formerly the State Engineer Inspector for Nebraska PWA and he walked into my office unannounced and caught me reading the Ord Quiz during business hours—which ain't so good. Mr. Evans has been in Ord many times and the first thing he noticed about the Quiz was that it carried quite a news item about the Power and Irrigation Project; so instead of taking all the time he had here in checking up my jobs he took a great deal of it answering questions about my old home town and the people there and the project on the North Loup river.

Mr. Evans speaks highly of Ord and the people there and their splendid cooperation with PWA and speaks highly of the project too. He had asked me first how I happened to have a copy of the Quiz so I told him that I was born near Ord and had grown up in Ord and that I had started in to take the Ord Quiz about the time General Grant started out to take Richmond.

I told him that I even used to write for the Quiz, that I was turning in copy for the Quiz when I was only twelve years old and had always considered myself a sort of part owner instead of just a subscriber.

Corwin Cummins New Ord Auctioneer

Corwin Cummins, son of Col. M. B. Cummins of Ord, now can be called "colonel" in his own right, for he recently completed a course in practical auctioneering at a school in Decatur, Ill., and here is seen working his first sale, that of R. H. (Bud) Knapp and Halsey Schultz, held at North Loup recently. Corwin will be associated with his father and Col. C. S. Burdick, not only at the Ord sale barn but also in crying farm sales. Men who know say he shows much promise as an auctioneer.

Yes sir, that was a long time ago, when I was only twelve years old and turned my first copy over to Mr. Haskell for his special Thanksgiving issue.... Why, the present editor of the Quiz was spending that day trying to get his big toe in his mouth. And young George Round was nothing but a wicked gleam in the Sheriff's eye.

Perhaps you don't remember but it was the obscure individual whose signature appears below who is responsible for Harry McBeth being a good printer foreman.... You see Harry had the idea that in order to become a good printing foreman he had to become thoroughly familiar with the art of printing and he never even gave a thought to his voice.... I told him that a knowledge of the art of printing was only a secondary requisite for a printing foreman.... What he wanted to do was to cultivate a deep bass voice and learn to yell "COPY" so loud that he would frighten the reporter's staff silly and be heard all over the county.

Harry started in taking yelling lessons from Ernie Weiler and now Mr. Evans tells me that he has been sitting at lunch in a Burwell hotel on press day and heard Harry yell "COPY" when Harry was in the press room in Ord and the presses going full blast.... I want to take this opportunity to congratulate Harry on his wonderful improvement and his intelligence in taking my advice.... Think of what a splendid auctioneer he would have made....

I blue pencilled one item in the Quiz before I let Mr. Evans take it away. It was an item telling about someone by the name of Auble going away to study music.

That is the first absolutely false statement I have ever read in the Quiz and I felt terribly hurt. I know that no Auble ever studied music any more than a Spaniel studies swimming or a kangaroo studies jumping. If a spaniel took swimming lessons it would be from another spaniel and if a kangaroo took jumping lessons it would be from another kangaroo. An Auble baby is born just like any other baby and conducts himself just like any other baby until he gets old enough to yell for a teething ring and then instead of being given a teething ring he is handed a musical instrument of some kind.... If it is the wrong instrument he howls until they hand him the right one and then he just naturally starts to play on it.... Then when he knows how to pronounce a few words he starts singing in the Methodist choir.

I told Mr. Evans that any time he saw a choir or an orchestra or tion of practically never laying off a man. Best wishes for a more generous year in 1938.

Yours very truly, Elva Clement Hayden R.F.D. Box 256, Santa Maria, Calif.

LOCAL NEWS

Floyd Hudson of North Loup was a business visitor in Ord Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Keep and Jud Pedro drove down to Grand Island Sunday evening to meet Mrs. Jud Pedro, who was returning from Correctionville, Ia., where she was called last week by the serious illness, followed by the death and burial of her mother.

Pastor L. C. Hansen and family of Dannebrog visited Pastor and Mrs. Clarence Jensen Friday evening. A week ago Pastor and Mrs. Emil Pedersen of Wobach paid the local Lutheran pastor and his wife a visit.

Charles and Walter Desch tell of going down to Central City a week ago Sunday and driving out to the old place on Prairie Island where the Deschs lived and where the boys were attending school at the time of the blizzard of 1888. The old farm house is still there, but the old school house has been replaced with a new one. They visited their brother George in Central City while there.

Word from James Ward is that he was in Mobile, Ala., but expected to head for home, stopping at Birmingham, Memphis and Omaha on the way back. He thought he would be in Ord by Feb. 1.

Miss Elva Williams, of near Scotta, submitted to an appendectomy at the Ord hospital late Saturday night. She was brought to the hospital by Dr. Kafka of Scotta and surgical work was done by Drs. C. J. Miller and John Round.

Frank Chalupka, 88, of near Sargent, underwent an exploratory operation at the Ord hospital last Thursday. In spite of his advanced age, he stood the shock of surgery remarkably well.

Miracle Light Globe.

The freaky wind which has been flipping paper and soot around in whirlpools this morning knocked over the light globe in front of the postoffice. Reports are it will turn into snow this evening or tomorrow.—Flint Breeze.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Most everyone would like to know how much moisture will fall during 1938. Statistics on past rainfall for valley county may help to answer this question. As 1938 and 1937 were two of the driest years in history, the records have been checked to find out what generally happens after two successive years of drought.

Data on local rainfall for the past 49 years has been kept on file. From that data it was found that dry years followed one another in sequence fourteen times, previous to 1936.

In 12 out of the 14 instances, when two dry years followed one another, the third year was wetter. Six times that third year was much wetter, six times it had slightly less than normal precipitation, and twice it was very dry. The average rainfall for all years following two successive droughts is between 23 and 24 inches, or exactly normal.

1938 has six chances out of seven of receiving normal rainfall, according to the above figures. Unfortunately, the reserve supply of soil moisture is so low at present that normal rainfall will not be enough.

Farmers are being told not to worry about another drought until 1975, by Dr. Abbott, Smithsonian Institution's sun spot expert. But another weather prophet from Chicago has predicted that it will not rain until next July and that next June will be the hottest month in 1938.

Say It Isn't So.

We noticed in a daily paper that Dwight Griswold was going to run against Harry B. Coffee for Congress. We immediately got in touch with Mr. Griswold, and he just laughed. "Who do you think I am to beat Harry B. Coffee, a magician?"—Hay Springs News.

Three Blizzard Survivors of 1888 Staged Homecoming Party January 12

Three of the surviving pupils of Miss Minnie Freeman and of the famous blizzard of 1888 managed to get together on the fiftieth anniversary January 12, largely through the agency of Rev. W. C. Birmingham of North Loup, who brought Henry and Ed Lee up from North Loup, picked up Bud Bell at his home and took him along, and then took the above picture, which shows the three above named as well as Miss Helen Cook and her pupils of the same school fifty years later.

The other three local pupils, Mrs. Eberhart, Mrs. Marion Crosby and Miss Lizzie Hackel were unable to be present. Of all the pupils of fifty years ago, Bud Bell is the only one still living in the immediate vicinity of the old home, and he is now in Valleyside Dist. No. 10, which was not formed fifty years ago. The new school, which is a background for the picture above, was built further east and higher up the hill than was the first old soddy.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

Sunday supper guests at the Andrew Kusek home were Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski and son Benny.

C. A. Anderson was attending to business matters in Grand Island Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lewis were down from Burwell for the day Monday.

Ted Kokes who works in Sorensen's drug store, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kokes.

Frank Dubas left Friday to spend a few days at Onawa, Ia., with Ted Dubas, who is employed there.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martinsen left for Lincoln Wednesday to see Mrs. Martinsen's brother Guy, who is in the hospital.

Anderson Motor Co. were unloading a carload of Plymouths with one of the latest model Chryslers included the first of this week.

Mrs. J. W. Gregory writes from Muleshoe, Tex., regarding her paper and says it is as dry there as it is in Nebraska. Her lands are under a ditch however and she says they will soon be watering the wheat. She is also glad they will be under the ditch here and will be back to Valley county this spring, she says about the time H. D. goes to Minnesota. H. D. will try to delay his going long enough to have a visit with her.

In writing to renew her quiz for 1938 Louise Misko Brantley says that her visits to Valley county are always so short that she is glad to keep track of her old time friends through the columns of this paper. She says she never has time to hunt them up and visit with them when she is here. She says her family are all well and that they are enjoying a very mild winter.

George Lange came down from Burwell Thursday and made the quiz office a pleasant call. He is a real estate man and says that business in his line has been looking up lately. A week ago he sold six sections of good grazing land up on the Gracie in the north part of Loup county to one buyer. Grazing land seems to be what the investors are after these times.

Lorraine Woolery, who told Grand Island officials that she was employed as a housekeeper at a residence in the northeast section of the city, was sentenced to thirty days in the Hall county jail on a vagrancy charge by Justice of Peace S. J. Shada Friday morning. The complaint was filed by County Attorney Lloyd Kelley. Police arrested the young woman late Thursday night.

In writing to renew their quiz for 1938 Mrs. Oscar Bredthauer not only inclosed a bunch of recipes but she also told us something of the doings of the Bredthauer family, which the many friends who read this item will appreciate. At present Oscar is busy rustling feed for and taking care of about 650 head of cattle which he has in the feed lot. That ought to be a man's size job. She says Oscar enjoys that sort of thing just like his father Dave did. The Bredthauers are located about a mile from the airport and Mrs. Bredthauer says that they still duck sometimes when a big plane swoops in a little lower than usual. The Bredthauers have three curly headed little girls, two of them attending school, and Mrs. Bredthauer says they enjoy their Grand Island home fine after living there two years. She admits that they are not missing any opportunities to come back and visit their Valley county friends.

Miss Ada Rowbal came up from Hastings Monday night. She has been employed there in the Mauer Bus Depot cafe and now that they have moved to Hastings there was no further need of her services there.

Mrs. Clarence Blessing, who is in the Ord hospital recovering from a broken pelvis she sustained when she fell from their porch some two weeks ago, is recovering as well as could be hoped, and will be able to go home as soon as the fractured bone is properly knitted.

Merritt King had a plank drop on his left foot Saturday, with the result that a bone was broken, and he will have to spend some time going around on crutches. He was working for the Inland Construction company at the time, and the accident occurred at the fair grounds.

Some improvement is noted in the condition of Mrs. Martin Michalek, a medical patient at the Ord hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Cummings of York are parents of a 9 1/4 pound son, born Jan. 19. He has been named William Earl, Jr. Mrs. Cummings was formerly Miss Dorothy Rowbal of Ord. Rev. Cummings was formerly pastor of the Full Gospel church in Ord, and for the past two years has been pastor of the Full Gospel church in York. Mrs. Joe Rowbal is in York at this time caring for mother and baby.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Bridges were over from Arcadia Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Heitz were down from Burwell Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and Charley Woods were among the Burwell visitors in Ord Saturday.

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen drove over to Broken Bow Thursday for a few hours' visit, taking with her Misses Eunice and Sybil Chase.

James W. Pokraka left Friday for Denver, where he will spend some time before returning to his home in Holden, Alberta, Canada.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Dubas and family were visitors Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kapustka.

Visitors at the Jerry Puncchar home Tuesday were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gnaster and family and Mr. and Mrs. Louis Puncchar.

J. W. Penas was down from Burwell on business Saturday, and found time to shake hands with a number of his friends in Ord while here.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Barnard, who have been visiting relatives here, have gone back to Colorado. When they left they expected to go to Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski and son Benny, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karty and daughter Lillian were Sunday afternoon visitors at the John Iwanski home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zikmund went to Arcadia Saturday to visit his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings, Jr., for a few days.

Lloyd Richardson returned recently from Oklahoma City. He had spent the time since last fair time on the road as barker for a show, but decided he had enough of the show game.

Donald Williamson of Ord, sophomore at Hastings college, was recently initiated into the Theta Alpha Phi dramatic fraternity. Williamson took part in Hastings' first drama of the year, "Dinner at Eight."

J. E. Mauer sold some odds and ends of his belongings at the street sale Saturday and Sunday the family left for their home in Hastings. He will have no interests here now, but said he would be up from time to time to see his old friends.

Miss Ada Rowbal came up from Hastings Monday night. She has been employed there in the Mauer Bus Depot cafe and now that they have moved to Hastings there was no further need of her services there.

Mrs. Clarence Blessing, who is in the Ord hospital recovering from a broken pelvis she sustained when she fell from their porch some two weeks ago, is recovering as well as could be hoped, and will be able to go home as soon as the fractured bone is properly knitted.

Rev. and Mrs. Earl Cummings of York are parents of a 9 1/4 pound son, born Jan. 19. He has been named William Earl, Jr. Mrs. Cummings was formerly Miss Dorothy Rowbal of Ord. Rev. Cummings was formerly pastor of the Full Gospel church in Ord, and for the past two years has been pastor of the Full Gospel church in York. Mrs. Joe Rowbal is in York at this time caring for mother and baby.

MIDVALE

John Wiberg of Burwell was a Sunday visitor in the Will Wiberg home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Clement and daughter Jean spent Tuesday in the Rolland Marks home. Mrs. Wallace Coats called there Wednesday and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Boone and baby were Friday callers in the Marks home.

Elrissa Simpkins spent Sunday in the Will Wiberg home. Her parents, Rev. and Mrs. Simpkins came for her in the evening and were supper guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Con Furtwangler and son were visiting in the Lee Footwangler home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Marks and family visited her parents, the Hugh Clement family in North Loup Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Dlugosh visited in the Willard Conner home Sunday.

Rev. and Mrs. Simpkins and daughter visited at Wiberg's Wednesday.

Evelyn Skala, Viola Cochran and Elsie Wiberg visited Gwendolyn Kellison's school at Dist. 66 on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Mason and baby and Mr. and Mrs. John Mason and family were Sunday visitors in the Chas. Mason home.

Ordn Girl's Picture In World-Herald

It is not often that Ord people make the World-Herald rologravure section, but that honor came to Miss Jessamine Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meyer, last Sunday. A page of pictures of young ladies under the title, "Beauty in Business," shows her in the top center of the page, as a student nurse. Miss Meyer is a student nurse in the Clarkson hospital, and will graduate in May, although she will have to remain until September to complete her three years' training.

This is one of a series of advertisements for the State of Nebraska appearing in TIME magazine in the interests of the state's agriculture, labor and industry. The advertisements are being produced in the weekly newspapers of the state free of charge. We urge you to clip this advertisement and mail it to your industrial friends living outside of the state.

* Nebraska wants more food processors! Corn, hay and alfalfa fatten Nebraska cattle, hogs and sheep, and packers market 200 million dollars' worth of meat and packing products each year from this abundant supply. * The state's dairy herds makes Nebraska fourth in butter production, with 110 million pounds annually. One of Nebraska's cities is the principal butter making center of the world. * Sugar beet fields supply seven Nebraska refiners with a production of 270 million pounds of sugar yearly. * High protein Nebraska wheat, milled into flour and cereal, is used the world over. Alfalfa mills, stock and poultry feed plants, soap makers, breweries, canneries, pickling plants, confectioners, and many types of food processors compose a goodly part of Nebraska industry. * More are wanted. More are needed. New industries are invited to share a huge market, cheap power and fuel, fine transportation facilities, abundant raw material, ample labor supply. NEBRASKA TAXES ARE LOW—NO EXTRA TAXES ON INDUSTRY, AGRICULTURE OR LABOR. Write for complete information.

Saturday Sale

at the Sale Ring in Ord

JANUARY 29th

Sale Starts at 1:00 O'clock

In last Saturday sale the market on light weight cattle was stronger, due to the local demand for replacement cattle. If you have any cattle of this kind bring them in to the auction, and we will see that they are put in their proper class and sold for the highest dollar. We have a good market and an increasing group of buyers that are here at practically every sale. We had 178 cattle, 209 hogs and 8 horses.

In the next Saturday Sale:
125 CATTLE — 150 HOGS — 10 HORSES

Cattle will include light weights, cows and bulls.

If you have anything to sell consign to this market, as we are here in the territory and it is the net dollars that counts.

MINIMUM CHARGE IS 25c

Want Ads cost 1c per word per week with 25c the least total charge per order. If your want ad contains 25 words it will run once for 25c, twice for 50c, etc. If it contains only 10 words it will run 2 weeks for 25c, 3 weeks for 30c, etc. "Blind ads", that is ads without name or phone number, cost double.

YOUR NAME IS IMPORTANT

A want Ad with the name of the advertiser will bring much better results than one which falls to give the name. Giving full information also helps, as does a price. Give a phone number if possible. The more you tell the quicker you sell.

FEEDS

Bran, Shorts, Cotton Cake, Oil Meal and Soy Bean Meal have advanced from $2.00 to $5.00 per ton in the last month and with the agitation in regard to grasshoppers this spring you can look for greater advance in bran and shorts. We believe that the farmer in position to buy his Poultry, Hog, Horse or Cattle Feed can save quite a little money by buying now instead of waiting a couple of months.

LAYING MASH

We have a number of new customers on our Laying Mash and they are more than satisfied with results. They are getting a much better feed and in many cases it is costing them less than they have been paying.

If you are mixing your own formula get our price on 10 bag lots. We believe that you will get a better feed and at a very reasonable cost.
