92-Year-Old Ord Man, George Benn, Passes May 27th

Born in Germany in 1846, He Had Lived Here Since '84; Funeral Was Sunday.

Back in the first half of the 19th century, when the United States was in the throes of the war with Mexico, George Henry Benn, better known to his friends as George H. Benn, first saw the light of day in Haby, in Schleswig-Holstein, Germany. The date was Feb. 11, 1846. He was destined to see service in the wars of his native country, for he served in the German army four years, taking part in the Franco-Prussian war of 1870-1871, and having a part in twelve battles. While not in military service he was a miller.

In 1884 Mr. Benn came to America, settling in Valley county, and the following year he was united in marriage to Katherine Seib, who was also a native of Schleswig-Holstein. To this union three children were born, Henry and George, Jr., and William, who died in infancy. He was a farmer and a good one during his early years in this country. He retired from the farm in 1912, and he and Mrs. Benn made their home in Ord since that time.

In spite of his advanced age, his health has been good all his life. A few years ago George came home to take care of his parents in their declining years. Mr. Benn had been feeling rather ill for several days, but the children were not alarmed, as it did not seem to be serious. However, he suddenly grew worse shortly before noon Friday, and passed on at the remarkable age of 92 years, 3 months and 16 days.

Besides his wife he leaves to mourn his passing his son Henry, his wife and their five children; his son George, Jr.; and one sister, Maria Stroh, who is still living in Schleswig-Holstein. His worth is attested by the tributes paid him by his many old friends and neighbors who speak of him as a true friend in times of trouble and a man who was always willing to lend a helping hand to a neighbor in need.

Funeral services were held from the Pearson and Anderson chapel at 4:00 p. m., Sunday, with Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany congregation in charge. Pall bearers were John L. Andersen, Andrew Nielsen, Soren Sorensen, J. J. Bechrie, John Moudry and Guy Burrows. Songs were sung by a quartet composed of Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, John Haskell and Robert Noll, with Mrs. Noll at the piano. The body was laid to rest in the Ord cemetery.

Two Soloists Feature Opening Band Concert

Tom Springer singing "Asleep in the Deep" and James Ollis, Jr., playing a cornet solo, "My Regards," will be two of the features of the opening concert of the 1938 season to be given by the Ord municipal band, directed by Dean S. Duncan, in court house square this evening. The program follows:

- "March of the Pioneers," by Colby.
- "Midsummer Eve," serenade, by Holmes.
- "The Dictator March," by Holmes.
- "My Regards," by Lewellyn; cornet solo, with band.
- "Spiritual Rivers," overture, by Ganet.
- "March Heroic," by Holmes.
- "Commencement Ball," waltz, by Holmes.
- "Whistle While You Work," arranged by Becker, from Walt Disney's "Snow White."
- "Asleep in the Deep," by Petrie; bass solo with band.
- "Heigh-Ho," arranged by Becker, from Walt Disney's "Snow White."
- "Americans We," March, by Fillmore.
- "My Nebraska," march, by Diers.

—Mr. and Mrs. Lynne Beeghley are leaving next Tuesday for Emmet, Idaho, to make their home. Mr. Beeghley having been employed as bookkeeper and assistant manager of the Boise-Payette Lumber company's yard there. Mr. Beeghley will quit his job at the Sack Lumber company Friday and go to Arapahoe for a couple of days' visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beeghley, before leaving for Idaho.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gruber left by bus Tuesday morning for Los Angeles, Calif., where they will spend some time visiting at the home of their son Emanuel. They are especially anxious to see the new grandson who arrived there this spring.

—Elmer Lambdin returned Monday afternoon from St. Mary's, Idaho, he left Ord Aug. 1 of last year, and has spent most of his time since then in Idaho. He says he found conditions there rather slow, and expects to remain in Ord for the present.

North Loup Man Will Soon Tread Old Yukon Trail

North Loup — (Special) — From her brother, Charles Cleary of Santa Ana, Calif., who in former years made his home here, Mrs. Otto Bartz has received word that he will leave June 1 for a three months' trip to the Alaskan border.

Cleary will be a member of a party of four men who will drive to Lake LeBarge, go from there by steamer to Skagway, and from there up the old Yukon trail to the border. There they will join a scientific research expedition seeking certain medicinal mosses. Hunting and fishing also will be enjoyed by the party.

Sudden Attack of Heart Disease Is Fatal to Ord Man

Henry G. Burson, 77, Had Been in Good Health And Death Saturday Was Shock.

Henry G. Burson, resident of Valley county for more than 55 years, passed away suddenly at his home in north Ord Thursday evening at 5:15, as the result of a heart attack. He was apparently in about his usual health and his sudden passing came as a distinct shock to all who knew him. Until his retirement from the farm in 1924 he was always an ambitious and hard working man, and he always found work to keep employed after he had moved to town. He will be sincerely mourned for by his old neighbors and friends who knew him best.

Henry G. Burson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Burson, was born in Williamsport, O., October 3, 1860, and died at his home in Ord May 26, 1938, at the age of 77 years, 7 months and 23 days. In 1887 he moved with his parents to Wahoo, Neb., where he lived till he was grown. Here his father died when he was a small boy.

He came to Valley county February 18, 1882, locating on a homestead 7 miles west of Ord. This was his home till 1924 when he moved to Ord, living here till his death. He was married to Miss Sophronia Ann Barns, to which union eleven children were born, 8 sons and 3 daughters.

His wife, Mrs. Sophronia Ann Burson, having passed away, Mr. Burson was married on June 10, 1930 to Mrs. Frances Brown at Mt. Gilead, O. Mr. Burson was preceded in death by his first wife and three sons, Ernest, Irvin and Ivan.

Besides his wife, he is survived by the following: 5 sons, Joe J., George H., Ralph J., of Ord, Neb., John S., of Burwell, Earl E., of Litchfield, Neb., 3 daughters, Cora E. Whitford of Santa Ana, Calif., Ella S. Wright of Berkeley, Calif., Mable E. Garner of Loup City, Neb. Mr. Burson had 34 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren. Also one sister, Mrs. Anna Preston of Mitchell, Nebraska, and one half-sister, Clara Wilson of Ord. Those who knew Mr. Burson well, bring this tribute to him as a husband, father, friend and neighbor: "He was a man with wide experience and many friends, all those who knew him being his friends. He was a kind neighbor and always willing to help where help was needed. He will be missed by many."

Funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Sunday at 2:00 P. M., with Rev. Mearl C. Smith in charge. The honorary pall bearers were Marion Crosby, Cleg Hughes, Charles Bals, Fred Kuehl, A. L. Crouch and Charles Sternecker. Active pall bearers were James Misko, Frank Koupal, Frank O'Neal, Clarence Blessing, Sam Brickner and Will Hanson. A quartet consisting of Mrs. Mark Tolen, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, John Haskell and Robert Noll sang, with Mrs. Noll at the piano. Mrs. Ho-

William B. Petty Passes at Bladen: Ill Four Months

Moved From Ord Only a Brief Time Ago; Was 60 Years Old When Death Came.

William Brown Petty, son of George M. and Elizabeth Brown Petty, was born at Pittsburgh, Pa., February 13, 1878, and died at his home in Bladen, Neb., May 28, 1938, at the age of 60 years, 4 months and 15 days. In 1880 he moved with his parents to Nebraska, locating in the Mira Valley neighborhood near Ord. This was his home until 1898 when he returned to Pittsburgh.

On July 6, 1907, he was united in marriage to Stella Ragan of Ord. Two daughters were born to them, both of whom survive. In 1912 the family returned to Nebraska, locating in Hastings where Mr. Petty was engaged in the insurance business. Later they moved to North Loup, then to Ord, and last fall to Bladen, where he lived at the time of his death.

His education was in the rural schools of Valley county and in the Ord high school. Five years ago he suffered a stroke of paralysis and has been in failing health since; for four months previous to his death he was confined to his bed.

Mr. Petty is survived by his wife and two daughters, Marjorie Petty of Hastings, and Elizabeth Petty of Bladen; one sister, Mrs. Bud Bell of Ord and one brother, Everett Petty of Omaha. In early life he became a member of the Presbyterian church, holding his membership in the Sixth Presbyterian church of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Funeral services were held from Frazier's chapel Tuesday afternoon at 1:30, conducted by Rev. Mearl C. Smith. Two hymns were sung by Mrs. Mark Tolen, with Mrs. Robert E. Noll as accompanist. Burial was in the family lot in North Loup. The pallbearers were George Bell, James Bell, Sterling Manchester, Everett Manchester, Will Ollis and James Ollis. Flower girls were Wilma and Evelyn Ollis.

Ord Men Return From Pennsylvania Trip

George Allen, city light and water commissioner, and five other Ord men, Alvin Jensen, Lawrence Burger, Ray Atkinson, Chester Austin and Noble Ralston, returned late Friday evening from Franklin, Pa., where they spent about two weeks loading the $18,700 diesel engine recently bought by the city. The engine is being shipped to Ord in two railway cars and should arrive some time this week. At the municipal light plant, work of building a concrete base for the big engine is being rushed.

Franklin, Pa., is about 1,150 miles from Ord but on the return trip the men made it in two days, driving 700 miles from Hammond, Ind., Friday.

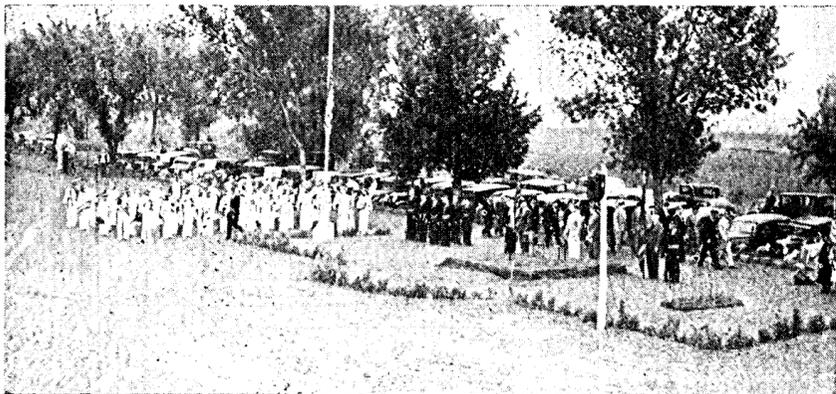

Digs New Potatoes. Mrs. W. S. King reports digging new potatoes today, June 1, which is unusually early. One specimen measured 3 1/2 inches in circumference both ways, which is not a small potato. Last year Mrs. King says she had potatoes even earlier.

Dana College Quartet Coming. The Dana College male quartet will present a varied program of sacred music at Bethany Lutheran church Friday evening at eight. These young men come from four different states, and besides singing together, each is a soloist. The public is cordially invited to this musical treat.

ward Barnes and Mrs. Charles Sternecker had charge of the flowers. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Memorial Program Witnessed by Largest Crowd

Municipal Band, American Legion, at Services Monday

In the pretty natural amphitheatre at the east edge of Ord's cemetery, Decoration Day services were conducted Monday, as pictured above. The municipal band, the American Legion, Ladies of the G. A. R. and other civic and patriotic organizations had a part.

Ord Had 4.34 In. Rain During May

A total of 4.34 inches of rain fell in Ord during the month of May, according to Horace W. Travis, and this brought to 9.08 inches the total for the year. Already almost as much rain has fallen as during the entire year of 1934.

The moisture has fallen about as ideally as could have been asked, the heaviest rain during the month coming on May 12, when 1 inch fell. Rainy days were May 2, with .20 of an inch, May 3 with .73, May 6 with .19, May 7 with .67, May 8 with .25, May 11 with .52, May 12 with 1 inch, May 16 with .15, May 17 with .10, May 26 with .18, May 29 with .22 and May 31 with .13.

Other sections of the county no doubt have larger moisture totals than Ord has for May, as several heavy rains missed this community. Last Thursday night several sections of Spangdale reported 2 1/2 inches and the same heavy rain also fell at points west and southwest of Ord and near Arcadia. Hail accompanied the rain in places, barley and other grains being damaged to some extent.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

After getting by with an old tractor to pull his power mower for years, A. J. Shirley is now the proud possessor of a fine new rubber tired rig that makes his work a pleasure. However, he had not had the outfit long until he came to grief. He was mowing along the edge of the creek, and looked back to see how the mower was working. Possibly he turned the steering wheel when he turned his head, for when he looked forward again the tractor was starting down over the creek bank. Bud did the only safe thing under the circumstances and turned right into the creek, thus saving an upset and possible injury.

John Gross thinks that there are times when a man may go too far in doing favors for his fellow men. About noon Monday he let a friend persuade him against his better judgment, and opened the Pecena market to accommodate him. But others discovered the unlocked door, and by the time he got through with his friend there were a dozen or more waiting their turn. The only thing to do was to wait on them, and for an hour or so John was as busy as he ever was in his life, taking care of perhaps one hundred customers in order to get rid of the crowd so that he could lock up again. He says that from now on the door stays locked when it is advertised that way.

Donald Dahlin Goes To Nebr. Boys' State

They Liked Midget Racers.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker and Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon drove to Sioux City Sunday, where they saw midget auto racing both Sunday evening and Monday afternoon. Mr. Baker states that the races put on by the midget autos are even more exciting than those of the larger cars, and he believes they would make a hit with the crowds at the Loup Valley Fair and Races. The drivers have all heard of Ord's fast track, and say they would like to come here. Baker will recommend to the board that they consider using the midget autos in races here.

Business Change June 1.

McIntosh and Husbands of Grand Island have taken over the Ord Texaco bulk plant and are now actively in charge. Gould Flagg retains the local station. Bud Husbands is now located here and will have charge of the plant.

—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hollingshead and children, of Laramie, Wyo., were in Ord this week to visit Fred's mother, Mrs. J. H. Hollingshead, who is leaving here for Kansas City, where she will make her home with her son L'oyd and family.

Ord High School Trophy Case Is Tribute To Scholars

Few schools can boast of a finer collection of trophies or a better filled trophy case than can Ord high. Shown above are the trophies that have been collected over a period of years, and not a few have been added during the past year. This case must be a constant inspiration to the scholars to do their best.

Bayard H. Paine Is Commencement Speaker Thursday

'Have Courage' Is Keynote of Supreme Court Judge's Address; 69 Graduates.

Comparing hardships faced and overcome by pioneers when they settled the North Loup valley with trials high school graduates face today when they enter an apparently jobless world, the Hon. Bayard H. Paine, of Lincoln, delivered a powerful and interesting commencement address to sixty-nine Ord seniors at Ord high school's annual commencement program held Thursday evening in the high school auditorium.

The courage that enabled pioneers to carve out homes in a new country is needed by young people of today in facing the economic conditions of a changing world, but the same courage applied to present-day conditions will bring the same success, he said.

Judge Paine warned graduates against making costly mistakes when they start out in life; mistakes that may never be repaired. Formerly judge in this district, Judge Paine is now a member of the Nebraska Supreme court. His address was interesting not only to the graduates he addressed but to a large audience as well.

The commencement program Thursday was opened with the professional played by the Ord high school orchestra and after the sixty-nine graduates, in caps and gowns, were in their places, Rev. Clarence Jensen, pastor of Bethany Lutheran church, gave the invocation. At close of the program he pronounced the benediction also.

Other features included singing of "Service," by Cadman, by a mixed vocal group composed of Orville Stoddard, Patricia Frazier, Dick Koupal, Christina Peterson, Wilma Ollis, Marilyn Dale, Margie Jean Smith, Lyle Flagg and Allen Zikmund.

A clarinet quartet composed of Eugene Puncocar, Lyle Flagg, Myrtle Aule and Eldon Mathausser, played "Cannonetta" by Mendelssohn.

F. L. Stoddard, principal, presented the class to the audience and to Dr. C. J. Miller, president of the board of education, who gave diplomas to graduates.

Four honor students also received certificate awards, Miss Opal Miller being given a scholarship to any of the state's church colleges because of the fact that she was high school valedictorian. Miss Jean Ferguson was presented with a scholarship to normal schools of the state. Lonnie Nelson received the Union Pacific scholarship to the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. A Kendall Wiegard, as first alternate to the University of Nebraska, also was presented with a certificate.

Catholic Summer School Held.

Over 100 children are attending the summer school being held at the Catholic church. The school started Tuesday morning, and will last for two weeks. Two nuns from Greeley, Sister Mary Charles and Sister Mary Lawrence are teaching the children, under the supervision of Rev. Martin A. Lawler. During the last week, Paul Wachtler, a seminarian from Little Rock, Ark., will assist in the teaching.

—From J. E. Moyer of Hastings comes the word that his father, Rev. J. R. Moyer, passed away at his home at Imperial, Neb. Ord friends will learn with regret of his passing and will remember him as pastor of the Ord United Brethren church for several years. He and Mrs. Moyer were in a car accident a year or more ago, and it is thought this might have hastened his death.

Two Day Vacation Brought a Host of Ordites Back Home

Cemetery Profusely Decorated with Flowers; Smith Made an Impressive Address.

Nature did her utmost to make the celebration of Decoration Day this year a success. It has been a great many years since flowers, both wild and cultivated, were to be found in such profusion. Realizing that this would make for a lovely memorial occasion, more former Ordites returned this year than ever before, and made the day more enjoyable for themselves and for those who knew them.

The morning dawned cloudy and threatening, but this did not dampen the ardor of the hundreds who had come to visit the cemetery and attend the program. Before time for the program to open a hundred cars were lined up along the edge of the road just east of the grounds, and these were filled to the limit with people who wished to get in out of the rain. Hundreds of others lined the grassy slope to the west.

While the procession was forming near the south gate of the cemetery the mist was so heavy that it was almost decided to carry the flags cased. However, they were finally unfurled, and preceded by the colors, the Ord high school band under the direction of Dean Duncan marched through the cemetery and around to the memorial plot. The band was followed by the firing squad and by E. C. James, sole representative of the Spanish-American war veterans who was able to march.

These were followed in order by the Ladies of the G. A. R., the Legion Auxiliary and the members of the American Legion. Aule Bros. had installed their public address system, which was working perfectly, and which carried the program to all parts of the grounds. Commander Tom Springer acted as announcer. Rev. Clarence Jensen of the Bethany Lutheran church led in the memorial prayer, the huge crowd maintaining absolute silence.

The high school band played a selection, after which the speaker of the day, Rev. Mearl C. Smith of the Ord Methodist church, was introduced. In a most impressive speech he paid tribute to the honored dead, and showed how it is the duty of the living to maintain those vital principles for which the nation's heroes fought and died. The Ladies of the G. A. R. gave their ritualistic work in memory of departed members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

The high school quartet, composed of Eugene Puncocar, Dick Koupal, Allen Zikmund and Edwin Hitchman sang a beautiful selection. The firing squad, under the direction of A. A. Wiegard, fired the customary salute to the dead in a manner that showed that they had not forgotten the coordination learned in camps twenty years ago.

Most impressive of all was the closing ceremony, when, with all standing at attention, the band played the Star Spangled Banner. At the close of the national air, the band trumpeters sounded taps, first alone, then to the accompaniment of the entire brass group. As the sound died away faint but clear from the distance came the echo, forming a fitting close to what may be regarded as one of the finest Memorial Day programs ever given in Ord.

One point that stood out this year was the loyalty of the members of the Ord band, many of whom sacrificed other plans in order to be present to make the program a success. Those in charge have asked that these young people, as well as all others who contributed toward the success of the program, be thanked publicly. One sad note was the absence of Emil Fafetta, who formerly had charge of the firing squad. He is in a hospital, recovering from a recent operation.

Vacation Bible School.

There will be a Bible school meeting at North Loup on Monday, June 6, at 2:30 p. m., in the Seventh Day Baptist church. Everyone is invited, and especially those who have taught in vacation Bible schools or supervisors of these schools.

Marcia Road, Chairman of Valley County Vacation Bible Schools.

—A moving van from Grand Island was in Ord Tuesday and the Orville Sowl furniture was being hauled to Grand Island. The Sowl family will be settled in their new home there this week. Painting and redecorating the Sowl house will start at once and as soon as this is completed the house will be occupied by Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Round, who are now living in one of the Lewis apartments.

WAGES AND HOURS BILL

Actuated solely by a desire to protect and promote the best interests of the people as a whole, three of the largest farm representative organizations in the United States are using their combined influence to defeat the bill.

In an open letter, addressed to the members of the House of Representatives, they are setting forth these facts:

- 1. It would increase the price of commodities that farmers must buy and would decrease the farmers' net return from commodities they sell.
2. It contains no provision for placing farm commodities on the same price level with wages, thereby destroying any possibility of achieving price parity as between agriculture and industry.
3. Notwithstanding the exemption of farm labor, enactment of the bill would create conditions that would make it virtually impossible for the farmer to secure hired help at wages within his reach.
4. It would encourage employers to install more labor-saving machinery in their efforts to keep down cost of production thereby throwing more people out of employment.
5. It would manifestly be useless to fix a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour with a maximum of 40 hours a week, which is the goal envisioned by this bill after the lapse of three years while permitting imports from foreign countries with a going wage which in some cases is as low as from three to five cents an hour.
6. Those who would be thrown out of employment when any particular industry could not meet the requirements imposed by the bill would become a burden upon the public relief rolls.
7. The bill contains no provision for differentials in wages and hours as between urban and rural communities, but imposes an iron-clad uniformity that would be utterly unworkable in practice.
8. It contains no exemption for those engaged in the processing of seasonal or perishable agricultural commodities.
9. It would vest autocratic powers in the Secretary of Labor, powers that Congress should never delegate to the Executive branch of the government.
10. It would create just one more meddling and oppressive bureaucracy and would greatly increase the cost of government.

MORE ORDER, LESS LAW.

The primitive object of all law, whether it be civil, moral or spiritual, is the preservation of order. Laws are both national and local, both general and special. There is no law applying to one person that cannot just as aptly be applied to another. No man possessed of reasoning power is exempt from laws or the punishments they involve.

Yet, while all men are willing to acknowledge this truth, how few are willing to apply it in its broadest sense to their own lives. To hear some men express it, the law is a fine thing, for the other fellow. The other man should be kept within bounds. He should mend his fences and keep his stock at home. He should mow the weeds along his roads. He should give his share of the road in passing.

It is a splendid thing to have laws for other people, but they should never be made to apply to ourselves. In nearly all kinds of civil law some class or classes are exempt. Not so with the laws of nature. The boy who eats green apples cannot escape the stomach ache, nor can he hire some one else to suffer for him. The man who changes his principles every day makes his path so crooked that he never gets anywhere.

The man who commits a crime infringes alike on the laws of God and humanity. He may, and sometimes does, escape the civil punishment he has incurred, and sometimes when caught may escape on some legal technicality, but from the moral penalty there is no escape and no postponement. Punishment begins with the infraction of the law.

The ingrates who count their yearly profits in millions at the expense of safety cannot escape the execrations of widows and orphans whom their careless methods have produced. What the world needs today is not more law, but more regard for the laws already in force. Every day the lawyers are finding new phases of law whose very existence has been forgotten. One hundred years ago, when law goods were mere pamphlets, compared with what they are today, there was no more crime than we find now prevalent everywhere. If laws are for use, let them be enforced; if not they should be repealed, and at once. Nothing will create greater contempt for government than unenforced laws. If the next legislature would spend nine tenths of its time repealing useless laws, it would be a greater influence for good than any legislation it could enact.

VIEWING WITH ALARM.

"Today" - "It is a gloomy moment in history. Not for many years - not in the lifetime of most men who read this - has there been so much grave and deep apprehension; never has the future seemed so incalculable as at this time."

"In our own country there is universal commercial prostration and panic, and thousands of our poorest fellow-citizens are turned out without employment, and without the prospect of it."

"In France the political caldron seethes and bubbles with uncertainty; Russia hangs as usual, like a cloud, dark and silent on the horizon of Europe; while all the energies, resources and influences of the British Empire are sorely tried, and are yet to be tried more sorely, in coping with the disturbed relations in China."

"It is a solemn moment, and no man can feel an indifference - which happily, no man pretends to feel - in the issue of events."

"Of our own troubles (in the U. S. A.) no man can see the end. They are, fortunately, as yet mainly commercial; and if we are only to lose money, and if we are only to be taught wisdom - the wisdom of honor, of faith, of sympathy and of charity - no man need seriously to despair."

THE AGE OF YOUTH?

Seventeen of the presidents of 23 gilt-edge corporations of the United States are in the sixties. Four are in the seventies, two in the eighties and five in the fifties. In other words, one hundred per cent of the chief executives of these corporations are past fifty years of age. Fifteen of them receive an annual compensation exceeding $100,000 per year. The smallest compensation reported is $48,750, and the largest $303,816.

The youngest man in the group is W. S. Gifford, president of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., the largest corporation. He is 53. With four exceptions, the corporations paid dividends throughout the depression. What does it mean? To Sales Management, the magazine that dug up the information, it means that for executives "life begins at forty," and that they are in their prime in the sixties.

Blessed is the man, who, in middle age, keeps alive the enthusiasm of his youth. Goethe was one of the greatest writers that Germany ever produced, but his experiences led him to write this: "In our youth we are confident that we can build palaces for our fellow creatures, and when it comes to the point, we find it as much as we can do to get their dung hills out of the way." Well, as every farmer knows, getting dung-hills out of the way and spreading the dung properly in the right places usually brings about most satisfactory results.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

The North Loup Co-operative Credit Association. Written by GEORGE GOWEN

One man said to me in regard to North Loup, that if we did not get a bank down there the town will dry up and blow away. After our bank had failed and we were without one, the North Loup business men began to feel that was about true. There was no place to cash checks and it was a nuisance to go touring off to neighboring towns every day to do the banking.

Because no individual seemed to want to start a bank was the reason the Co-operative Credit Association was started. It is not altogether a new idea. In factories and packing plants and places where many men work, there has been similar cooperative organizations for years. Recently, to help such communities as this, without banking facilities, the law has been extended and in the last few years many co-operative credit associations have been established.

This credit association at North Loup does practically everything a bank does. It takes your money for deposit and allows you to write checks. It loans money to members who have proper security, write drafts on other banks, discontinue your notes with city banks if the collateral is satisfactory, clerk sales, writes insurance and gives advice.

There are a few features that are slightly different. To deposit money, you must take a tenth of the deposit to buy stock in the association. Then when your deposit is withdrawn, you can, with a different check, withdraw your stock. To borrow money you must also buy stock in the association. This way, the capital stock of the association is always one-tenth of the deposits.

In place of the president or secretary loaning you the money, there is a loan committee of three men who make the loans. All the secretary does is to take your application and make out the proper papers as the loan committee approves the loans. Loans over five hundred dollars must be approved by the board of directors.

Besides the loan committee, there is also a board of five directors, out of which the secretary is elected. These fellows are supposed to meet every month and chew the fat over salaries, collections, overdrafts, rents and borrowers for the secretary to put the thumb screws on. They are supposed to manage the association.

Besides these two groups there is another committee empowered to audit the association four times a year. This committee is supposed to delve into every act and loan of the others and stir up a stink if anything has gone askew. They even have the power to close the association pronto, but this committee is not as important as it sounds for they are not expert auditors and the association is examined regularly by the banking department the same as other institutions.

There is one feature that seems to be the biggest barrier of any for co-operative credit associations and that is that there is no guarantee connected with the deposits such as all other banks now have. It is urged however that this does not matter. The present guarantee law, so the Co-op C. men argue, is no different or better than the old state guarantee law and if put to a test, it would fail similarly. More than that it costs money that the Co-op does not have to pay. It is a good advertising scheme however.

Another trouble is that occasionally there are institutions who will not take checks written on co-op associations. Most insurance companies will not take them. However, mail order houses and firms on both ends of the continent cash them continually without the slightest difficulty just as bank checks are cashed.

One more trouble with such an association is that none of the officers are supposed to borrow from the institution. This would be fine if there were not eleven officers and these are apt to be men who are worth something and might be very good men to loan money to. This difficulty has been remedied to some extent by loaning to the officer's wife.

This institution in North Loup has turned out to be one of the largest co-operatives in the state. Many of them are very small, operated frequently by a lady or an insurance man or as some side issue. Compared with most banks this institution is small, but still it serves an important need in this community. However should anyone want to start a bank here, it is generally understood that this cooperative would gladly cease in favor of the bank.

No one as yet has drawn any salary except the secretary. The loan committee has met once every week since the institution started and many times between on special cases. They have never drawn a cent. The board of directors are supposed to meet every month, and the auditing committee four times a year. A few such meetings are fine but to keep it up week after week forever with no pay might get old, and especially should the sailing ever get tough.

The officers of the organization are elected at an annual meeting held at the beginning of each year, where statements are read, business is discussed. The officers are elected for only one year and that is another feature that is not so good. Should a clique of people get their heads together it might be very possible to oust every officer of the association at one meeting. As with all public or semi-public organizations there is bound to be politics played, and every depositor makes this co-op C. A. his own responsibility. More than that money institutions are always subject to criticism. There has been no friction displayed at any of the annual meetings yet. Should friction ever develop, it is a question whether the results would show up in withdrawals of accounts or at the votes at the annual meetings.

The institution is kept going only for the interest of the town. A few wealthy men have deposited, in fact there are many depositors, but most of these have done so on account of loyalty to the town or for the convenience. It is hard sledding for a new institution to pick up the best borrowers and depositors when such men are already established firmly in other institutions. In spite of that, and in spite of the many other difficulties, this small Credit Association has pronounced in their statement each year that they had paid their expenses and made a little money besides.

Speaking of the circus, it was a cruel shame so many little people had to be disappointed when the circus didn't get to Ord. Lots of picnic lunches tasted like ashes that day to children who found out that their big treat had vanished. Many rural schools had dismissed for the day and planned a holiday in town complete with circus, and picnic.

Some of the parents who had to go to take little Mary and Johnny also felt weepy about it, but of course they aren't admit it.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Primary Picture Perplexing Puzzle; New Deal Triumphs Twice, Fails Once

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON. - Washington echoes to the sound of dozens of bills being ripped from the calendar by congressmen anxious to tie up the loose ends for this session and hurry home. Thirty-four senators and 435 members of the House are up for nomination and election this year. Most of them will not know until the ballots are counted whether their constituents intend for them to answer the roll call when the next session of Congress convenes.

the endorsement of Postmaster General James A. Farley. Farley also endorsed Gov. George Earle for the Democratic nomination for senator and Earle won.

But the governorship fight is given more importance than the senatorial contest. Except for New York state, Pennsylvania has the largest number of national convention delegates, and control of the state carries unusual political power.

IN their homeward haste, congressmen have not neglected the bill to provide national standards for minimum wages and maximum work hours, partly because many of them accepted the renomination of New Dealer Senator Claude Pepper of Florida as evidence that support of the President's program might be rewarded similarly in their own states. But to those who accepted the Florida primary results as "handwriting on the wall" subsequent erasures have blurred the warning.

AS in Pennsylvania, the fight for the Democratic nomination for governor of Oregon was the contest most closely watched by those who were looking for signs and omens. When Henry L. Hess, who had the support of the New Deal, defeated the incumbent governor, Charles W. Martin, the portents were more confusing than ever to those candidates who are waiting their turn.

Although early primaries have been far from decisive, immediate effect of this intent listening at the post has caused the President to find a number of previously dead ears in Congress suddenly restored to hearing his demands for "must" legislation before adjournment.

Pennsylvania Democrats have nominated Charles A. Jones for governor, rejecting Lieut.-Gov. Thomas Kennedy, who had the support of the C. I. O. and Ord has several things to be famous for. It is a beautiful little city, in a lovely green valley. It has some of the finest musical organizations for young people any small city ever had.

And it has one of the prettiest cemeteries I have ever seen.

Nebraska has beauties too. Why not advertise them along with our lack of taxes? Our farm lands are a spectacle this spring, and how could they be more beautiful?

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

The Quiz Likes the Idea. Ord, Nebr., May 27, 1938

The Ord Quiz has printed so much news about the lake at Burwell that we had to investigate. Wouldn't it be a swell place for a Fourth of July celebration?

It has been a number of years since the people in the Loup Valley have really had a big Fourth of July celebration and now we have an ideal place to have it. A program at the Burwell lake could easily last all day at small cost with boat rides, boat races, dancing, and what have you. What's your opinion?

Yours, truly, Laverne L. Hansen.

Self-Discipline in Conviction

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 5. Text: Daniel 1:8-16, 19, 20; 1 Cor. 9:24-27.

THE Hebrew people have given the world many figures of typical heroic virtue. For instance, Daniel.

Daniel exemplifies the man who has courage in his convictions. His strength of character, his firmness of purpose found root in his rigid self-discipline. The luxuries of court privileges, the immoralities of royalty did not tempt this man. He refused to weaken himself with indulgence therein, asking the prince of the eunuchs that he be permitted to decline such favors.

It is well to note that, instead of being put down as a weakling or a sissy or whatever might have corresponded to this in those days, the prince of the eunuchs respected Daniel's convictions. He had the mistaken notion that high living is conducive to prosperity and health, and he feared for the result if Daniel should appear in worse form and appearance than the youths who had been entrusted to his care.

ALL Daniel wanted was the opportunity to prove that temperance, restraint, and self-discipline would produce the right results. Ten days were sufficient to settle the matter, for the abstemious

Several new types of farm machines, and improvements of old types, are now on the market. There are baby combines, sugar beet harvesters, pneumatic tractor tires, and many others. The trend is toward implements suitable for smaller acreages. The old tractors and combines were too expensive and cumbersome for the average farmer.

The production of small grain is now largely mechanized. Greater mechanization of sugar beet raising also appears near. Good results are being obtained with a mechanical beet harvester that lifts and tops beets. And the modern beet planter spaces the hills more accurately, reducing hand labor in thinning and cultivating, and saving seed.

But hand husking of corn is still the method used for gathering 90 percent of the corn crop. Further improvements appear necessary in the design of picker huskers, although these machines have been on the market for thirty years.

The harvesting of cotton is also done without the benefit of machinery. There are no mechanical cotton pickers for sale commercially as yet.

Some new farm machines of today look no different from the old ones. But when examined, they are generally found to be of better material, and to have attachments for doing more effective work in the field.

One-half of the tractors are sold with rubber tires, which make road hauling and higher field speed possible. The gas tractor has affected agriculture more than the reaper or steel plow did a century ago.

Paul, who was a keen observer, enforced the rule of temperance from the ancient games and contests. He observed that it was only those who were well trained and disciplined who won the prizes in these ancient games. He drew the conclusion that, if these athletes would undergo strict self-discipline for the sake of an earthly crown, why should they not do the same for the sake of an incorruptible crown?

"DARE to be a Daniel" is still a good watchword for modern youth. We of the older generation sang it: Dare to be a Daniel, Dare to stand alone! Dare to have a purpose firm, And dare to make it known! It is good counsel for an age that needs independence and character familiar. The Wimberly's left Ord Thursday for Ulysses, where he was scheduled to deliver the Memorial Day address.

Senior Girl Completes 2 1/2 Years' Work in Two Years
Virginia Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Davis, has the unusual distinction of having completed the work ordinarily requiring 2 1/2 years in her last two years in high school. While carrying this extra burden, Virginia has made an enviable scholastic record. She received twenty four A's and twelve B's to rank third in the class. Virginia plans to become a lawyer upon completion of her college work, and will be well qualified to start her preparation in that field.
Her high school work has included college preparatory requirements with the addition of many commercial subjects as well. She has participated in debate, public speaking, class plays, journalism, glee club, pep club, Girl Reserves, and received the honor of winning the extemporaneous speech contest at Burwell during her Senior year.

Seniors Enjoy Picnic
The Senior class held their annual picnic Wednesday afternoon at the McLain Lake northeast of Ord. They were transported there in cars driven by several of the senior boys and the afternoon was spent in various kinds of amusement. The seniors enjoyed games of baseball and keep away. Others amused themselves by taking pictures, while the rest sat under the trees and listened to various vocal selections by Kendall Wiegardt. A picnic lunch consisting of baked beans, potato salad, sandwiches, pickles, cookies and lemonade was served. Several students brought wieners to roast and the fire that they used served admirably to keep away the hordes of mosquitoes. Ice cream, eaten for dessert, was a treat of Miss Olivia Hansen, the class sponsor.

LOCAL NEWS

—Welly Brechbill and Carl Treprow were Burwell visitors in Ord Wednesday morning.

—Mr. and Mrs. Iga. Klima and Bobby and Doris drove to North Platte Sunday where Mr. Klima looked over the North Platte reservoir. Due to the fact that it was rainy all day, they did not go on to see the Kinsley dam, as they had hoped to do. They ran into rain amounting all the way from 1 inch to 1.58 inches all the way back. Small grain on the Arnold table looks wonderful, according to Mr. Klima, and it is good to look at everywhere.

—A number of Ord banker's attended the bankers meeting at Broken Bow Wednesday of last week. From the First National James Petska and Ralph Misko drove over for the all day session. C. J. Mortensen of the Nebraska State drove over in the morning and Mrs. Mortensen and Harold Taylor of the same bank went over in the afternoon. This is what is known as the Bankers' Special, the officials going to the appointed places by special train and having charge of the meetings.

—Misses Clara and Vert McClatchey, Daisy Hallen and Ruth Koupal, drove to Chadron Monday to attend the state convention of the P. E. O. being held there this week. Mrs. A. S. Koupal, who is a member of the state board, went there Sunday.

—The Birch show is the largest magic production now on tour in this country. Equipment, scenery and effects valued in excess of $25,000 are carried and will be seen at the local performance.

Of the entire remarkable array of illusions, perhaps the most baffling is the famous Hindu Rope Trick. For centuries this has been the most talked-of and colorful of all feats of legerdemain. An ordinary piece of rope is tossed into the air, it remains rigid, a Hindu boy climbs the rope, and in the twinkling of an eye disappears!

The current tour is Birch's eighteenth annual one, and his attractive personality makes him one of the most capable and pleasing entertainers the magic world has ever produced. Thurston publicly declared that Birch is the only magician sufficiently talented to be his successor and the man he picked to "fill his shoes."

Harriet Harrison Ballard. Harriet Ann Harrison was born in New York City July 4, 1867 and departed this life May 27, 1938 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Harrod in Giltner, Nebraska, at the age of 80 years, 10 months and 23 days. She was united in marriage to Rufus Ballard Dec. 28, 1877 at Sutton, Neb., and to this union nine children were born, one son Thomas died in infancy. In the early eighties they settled on a farm near Trenton, Hitchcock county, Nebraska. Braving the hardships of pioneer life without railroads and telephones, rural mail routes, Grandma was a faithful wife and mother and a good neighbor, helping in sickness and death for miles around. Many little lives were ushered into this world and many souls were eased out of this world by the skilled hands of Mrs. Ballard. While living in Trenton she made the good confession and accepted Christ as her Savior and became a member of the United Brethren church. When they moved from there she became a member of the Methodist church and was true to the church vows until transferred to the church triumphant. They moved to Burwell in 1903 where they made their home since. Mr. Ballard passed away in 1932, since which time Grandma made her home with her children in Giltner and Burwell. She is survived by eight children, Mrs. Will Harrod and Harry, James and George Ballard, all of Burwell, Mrs. Chas. Harrod of Giltner, Neb., Mrs. Geo. Felton of Viewfield, S. D., Mrs. Harry Meyers, Ingelwood, Calif., and William Ballard of Medford, Ore., also three sisters, two brothers, 29 grandchildren, 30 great-grandchildren and a host of other relatives and friends. The funeral services were held Sunday, May 29, in the Burwell Methodist church at 2 o'clock p. m. in charge of Rev. J. Bruce Wylie. Burial was in the Burwell cemetery. Those attending the funeral from out of town were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Harrod and daughter Genevieve of Giltner, a sister, Mrs. Anna McKee of Edgar, a brother, John Harrison of Edgar, Paul Hatten of Nelson, Mr. and Mrs. Ashley Conger of Loup City, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Clemy, Litchfield, Mrs. Alvin Evers of Cairo and Merideth Ballard of Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Manass and daughter Mary Kay spent Sunday and Monday in Albion with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Oliver.

Mrs. Mary Bussell of Comstock was a guest Monday in the home of her sister, Mrs. Wm. Mathauer and family. Harriet Harrison Ballard. Harriet Ann Harrison was born in New York City July 4, 1867 and departed this life May 27, 1938 at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Harrod in Giltner, Nebraska, at the age of 80 years, 10 months and 23 days. She was united in marriage to Rufus Ballard Dec. 28, 1877 at Sutton, Neb., and to this union nine children were born, one son Thomas died in infancy. In the early eighties they settled on a farm near Trenton, Hitchcock county, Nebraska. Braving the hardships of pioneer life without railroads and telephones, rural mail routes, Grandma was a faithful wife and mother and a good neighbor, helping in sickness and death for miles around. Many little lives were ushered into this world and many souls were eased out of this world by the skilled hands of Mrs. Ballard. While living in Trenton she made the good confession and accepted Christ as her Savior and became a member of the United Brethren church. When they moved from there she became a member of the Methodist church and was true to the church vows until transferred to the church triumphant. They moved to Burwell in 1903 where they made their home since. Mr. Ballard passed away in 1932, since which time Grandma made her home with her children in Giltner and Burwell. ## MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Appendicitis is an inflammation of the vermiform appendix. The vermiform appendix is a little addition on the large intestine having the shape of a round worm and being about the size of a good big fish worm. It is situated normally in the right lower corner of the abdomen about two inches to the right and a little below the level of the umbilicus or navel. It is really a part of intestine.

Inflammation of this organ has been recognized as a definite disease for about a hundred years. For a long time after the definite recognition of the disease it could not be treated properly because safe surgery in the abdomen had not been developed.

The work of the Frenchman Louis Pasteur on germs led the great English surgeon, Lister, to develop a safe way of doing surgery. The removal of diseased appendixes was first successfully done by American surgeons.

Today we know how to make the diagnosis of appendicitis; we know when the appendix should be removed; we know how to remove it with almost no risk to the sick person. The surgeons are removing more appendixes now than ever before. Regardless of these facts more people are dying of appendicitis in these days than formerly. They are not dying because of the surgery nor because the disease is more frequent than before. They die because many of them treat themselves badly and because they are not operated on soon enough.

The unfortunate who gets an acute attack of appendicitis often thinks he just has a bad "stomach-ache" and usually takes a strong physic. This is the first mistake. A strong or even a mild physic sets up increased action of the inflamed appendix and frequently causes it to burst. This spits its infected contents into the cavity of the abdomen. Then it is no longer simple appendicitis but peritonitis. This is a much more dangerous disease and kills many of those who have it, regardless of treatment.

Now the appendix that is inflamed may burst even if the patient does not take a physic. This is the reason waiting to see how things are going to go is a poor policy in this disease. It is the reason nearly all doctors follow the rule that the time to operate on a patient with appendicitis is just as soon as the diagnosis is made. Acute attacks of this disease do not begin with pain over the spot where the appendix lies but with colicky pain in the upper part of the belly or about the navel. The onset of pain is usually followed by being sick at the stomach and frequently the patient vomits once or twice. In a few hours the pain moves down to the appendix region or becomes localized as the doctors say. At this time this spot is sore when pressed on and often it feels better to lie with the right leg drawn up. There is now a little fever, not much, perhaps one degree and the pulse is a little more rapid than usual for that person. Of course, not all cases are exactly typical and this is why an unusual pain in the abdomen should not be diagnosed by the patient but by the family doctor.

Chronic appendicitis is much harder to diagnose than the acute. It takes more than a sore spot in the right lower corner of the abdomen to make the diagnosis. In fact, pressure in this part of the abdomen nearly always causes some pain. This could be used by a dishonest doctor to gain another operation. Fortunately there are but few such doctors.

Balley Was An Innocent. In error last week, the Quiz stated that Harold Penn was the first Ord young man to be honored by election to Innocents, senior honorary society at University of Nebraska. RE-JUNE-EVATION

O, here's a hearty welcome to the merry month of June,
A 30-day revival term that only goes too soon.

A fresh air picnic luncheon on the grassy slopes at noon;
Parked cars on lonesome bypaths underneath the silv'ry moon.

Good fishing, swimming, golfing, or canoeing a lagoon;
Sun bathing lazy fashion on the crest of soft sand dune.

Smooth dancing on a starlit roof to waltzy type of tune;
Or dreaming by a radio as summer singers croon.

A baseball game, a circus tent with gala red balloons;
That cute vacation butterfly emerged from her cocoon.

To so-called poets, you can see, the month is quite a boon,
For nothing's quite so easy as to find a rhyme for June.

POWER and FUEL are Cheap in Nebraska

★ Nebraska's power production of 700 million kilowatt hours a year is sold at rates so low that practically no industry in the state manufactures its own power. ★ Further, Nebraska is engaged in a vast public development of hydro-electric projects that is expected to add 500 million kilowatt hours a year. There will always be abundant electricity for industry in Nebraska. ★ To cheap power add cheap fuel. Natural gas pipe lines penetrate nearly every part of the state. Coal and oil are brought into Nebraska at low cost. ★ In Nebraska industry finds every item of cost reasonable. There are no punitive taxes. EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYEE WORK TOGETHER. The immediate market is great and growing. Transportation is unexcelled . . . by rail, truck, air and water. ★ WRITE FOR COMPLETE INFORMATION CONCERNING NEBRASKA'S INDUSTRIAL OPPORTUNITIES.

Remember This Person?

Above is shown another old timer. He is a well known man of Ord, and you should be able to tell him by his name. Last week's very good likeness of Miss Sarah McLain presented little difficulty for those who knew her when she was in the general merchandise business in Ord. Her picture was the first woman's picture we have shown, but we would appreciate having more of them.

The Quiz Forum

Had No Shirt At All.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
In last week's Quiz you ran a "chicken and shirt" fable, reprinted from the Norfolk News, and to a farmer and dairyman—or either or both—it sounds like a fable as to the farmer having two shirts or even one shirt for that matter. Once upon a time when Cal Coolidge was president he did have two shirts but then Hoover got in and along with him came the great depression. The farmer lost one of his shirts then and there. He struggled along until the New Deal drouth struck us for five years, then he lost what was left of the second shirt. So the farmer is shirtless. How about the city man? I don't know anything about city life, whether any business man had a shirt left to his back or not. They put on a good front but no telling what the back is.

Anyway, about the farmer selling one chicken instead of two: He saved the price of feed on the chicken he did not have but he did not appear to be able to buy a shirt with that because he did not have the feed to save. So, boys and girls, you had better form a new party and throw out the old politicians or you will find yourselves shirtless in future years as we farmers are now.

This spring a half million new graduates are turned out of American schools into a jobless world and every year we oldsters have made a more shirtless nation out of this so it's up to you young people to get organized and bring back the shirt; a shirt for everyone, long may it wave!

CLARENCE BLESSING.

I am not mad at anybody, so I'll just talk about myself. I realize there are hundreds of voters in Valley county that would make just as good a sheriff as I would, and who are just as much entitled to the job. However I have my hat in the ring. I have only one promise to make and that is, if I should be elected I will endeavor to learn the duties of the sheriff and try to perform my duties. I have lived in Valley county 38 years. I am anxious to get every vote that I can get, yet I'd like to make it impressive that I'd much rather lose your vote than your friendship.

Brief Bits of News

—Mr. and Mrs. M. McBeth came over from Spalding Sunday, their daughter Sophie going home with them in the afternoon. They brought her back to Ord Monday.

—A familiar face in Ord is that of Charley Hansen of Hooper, who arrived Thursday and expects to leave tomorrow. Mr. Hansen left Ord eight years ago and has been living in Hooper since that time.

—Ray Hunt, who has been in the hospital nearly all winter, will have to stay for about another month, said doctors yesterday. He had a stroke and although he is up and around the hospital now more care and treatments are needed before he can hope to enjoy fairly good health.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz returned Friday from attending the funeral of Mr. Vogelanz' niece, Miss Lucille Benes, who passed away at Touhy. The funeral was held Friday morning. They brought back with them Mrs. Vogelanz' parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Polak of Wahoo, who will remain for the greater part of this week.

—A. J. Ferris, sons Kent, Melvern and Calvin, and Mrs. A. L. Craig and daughter Virginia drove to Lincoln Sunday, where the men visited Mr. Ferris' brother in the Veterans' hospital. Mrs. Craig and daughter will visit for a time in Lincoln and then go to Kansas for a visit with some of her relatives there.

—Miss Marjorie Coe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Coe, came to Ord Friday morning to visit her parents. She returned Saturday evening. Miss Coe attends Vail Sant college in Omaha.

—Miss Bessie Anderson of Auburn and Mrs. Vera March of Atlantic, Iowa, arrived Thursday and are spending a week visiting at the home of their sister, Mrs. Will Gates.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charley Urban returned to Ord Wednesday after an extended trip to California, where they visited with their daughter's family Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Meyer and son, also many friends there, and in Oklahoma, with their son Emil Urban and family. They say they had a most enjoyable trip and saw many interesting sights and much beautiful scenery through the western states. On their way back from Oklahoma through Texas and Kansas, they found crops in their best condition. The grain crops especially are fine. Mr. Urban says they made about 8,000 miles on the trip, and with the exception of one flat tire they had good luck all the way. They are visiting with relatives in Ord now, but are not fully decided where they will make their home.

Now Is Best Time To Poison Hoppers, Is Dale's Advice

20 Pounds Bait Per Acre Is Plenty to Use; Bright Mornings Best Time.

Now is the best time to rid your farms of grasshoppers, according to County Agent C. C. Dale. The pests are still small and have not spread far from their hatching grounds. Killing them now will require far less poison than later, and the earlier they are killed the less damage they will do.

The hopper bait is being mixed at the present time at the Blessing feed yards, and can be obtained through the county agent's office. Grasshoppers begin feeding when the temperature reaches about 65 degrees and they quit feeding when the temperature passes above 90 degrees. Most of their feeding is done between 70 and 85 degrees.

They feed little, if any, during cool, damp, cloudy and rainy weather. However, dew does not prevent feeding, and bait may be spread while dew is on the grass and weeds, if the weather is bright and it appears that the dew will soon dry. Bait spread when the weather turns favorable after a day or more of cool, wet weather will give excellent results.

When thoroughly and evenly spread, twenty pounds of bait per acre is enough, and the use of more is wasteful. If it is not spread thinly and evenly it may kill livestock and some kinds of poultry and wild birds, but when properly spread these cannot get enough of the poison to do them harm. Birds may eat a number of the dead hoppers without harm.

Do not expect a kill at once. Arsenic kills slowly and few dead ones will be found the first couple of days unless the feeding has been heavy. The main kill comes in from three to five days and they may continue dying for over a week. Sick hoppers crawl under weeds and few die in the open. Very small hoppers shrivel so badly that they are difficult to find.

Arsenic is a deadly poison. Be careful in its use. Don't have to be sorry. The department disclaims any responsibility for accidental poisoning of persons or livestock from this bait. If the bait is spread by hand, grease the hands and wrists with a light cup grease, so that the skin will not absorb the poison.

Old Settlers' Picnic Coming June 26th

Writing from Richmond, Va., President G. W. McNulty of the Loup Valley Old Settlers' association instructs the secretary to arrange for the 1938 old settlers' picnic for the latter part of June. He also tells of contacting some of Nebraska's congressmen relative to the purchase of Ft. Hartsville, and finding them very enthusiastic. They outlined a plan to him whereby this place may become a state or federal park, and he in turn will pass on this information to the assembly at the picnic.

School at Christian Church for 2 Weeks

Rev. Clarence Jensen of the Bethany Lutheran church has made arrangements with the Ord Christian church for the use of the church basement for school for this and next week. School is now being held there, and the hours are from 8:00 to 11:45 a. m. each day except Saturday and Sunday. Rev. Jensen wishes to announce that all children are welcome to attend this school. The school was started at Bethany Lutheran church, but at the first session the space was over-crowded, so the change was made Tuesday.

Mathauser Is Fined On Bad Check Charge

On complaint of Jack Burrows made May 31, Emil Mathauser was arrested charged with giving a no fund check in the sum of $1.87 at the Burrows Service station last March 14, in payment for gas and oil delivered to Mathauser by the station attendant, George Daily on that date. Mathauser appeared Tuesday before Judge John L. Anderson and entered a plea of guilty. After being fined he insisted on arguing the justice of the case until the judge warned him to keep still. He first paid the amount of the check, then agreed to pay an extra $2.00 for an officer to take him out in the county to get the money. F. J. Cohen went out with him, and he paid a fine of $5.00 and costs of $3.32 when he returned and was released.

Ord Post Office Is Now Assured

The Quiz is in receipt of a letter from Congressman Harry B. Coffey, acknowledging receipt of one of the air mail letters, and congratulating the Chamber of Commerce for the attractive publicity they put out in cooperation with the Post Office Department, commemorating Air Mail Week.

He states that he has recommended a new $75,000 office for Ord, which stands at the head of the list of eligible offices in his district, having the largest postal receipts and showing remarkable growth. He says that the funds for this purpose will be sufficient to take care of one project in each district, and that approval will probably be made within the next sixty days.

PWA Office Will Be Moved to Kearney

K. Sewell Wingfield, chief project engineer for the PWA power and irrigation projects in Nebraska announced this week that starting June 27, his entire staff now stationed in Lincoln will be moved to Kearney, and henceforth the PWA office will be located there.

"We are transferring the office from Lincoln to Kearney a more central location," said Mr. Wingfield, "for the purpose of increasing efficiency of the staff and effecting economies, as well as more closely coordinating our work with that of the districts."

An Ord young woman, Miss Ruth Bradt, is secretary to Mr. Wingfield and will be located in Kearney henceforth as result of this change.

Mrs. David Strong, Early Springdale Settler, Is Dead

Lived Here Since 1879 and Was a Charter Member of Springdale M. E. Church.

Florence Della Drake, daughter of James P. and Susanna Sargent Drake, was born at Canisteo, N. Y., September 4, 1869, and died at her home near Ord Sunday morning, June 5, 1938, at the age of 68 years, 9 months and 1 day.

She came with her parents to Nebraska in the spring of 1879, locating on a farm in Valley county in the Springdale neighborhood. Here she grew up, attending school in a nearby district.

She was married to David E. Strong, April 16, 1884. The marriage took place in the Methodist parsonage at Ord, and was performed by the pastor, Rev. R. Randolph. When the Ord church celebrated its 60th anniversary in April it was noted that Mr. and Mrs. David Strong had the honor of having been married at the earliest date of any living couple, married by a pastor of the Ord Methodist church.

In their early married life they experienced the rigors and hardships of the pioneers. Their first home was a dugout on Section 2 in the Springdale precinct; their next one was a sod house on the site of their present home, on which they have lived ever since. They have gone through hailstorms, prairie fires and drought. Three months after their marriage a hailstorm destroyed 100 acres of their growing crops. Yet in the face of these hardships, their home was a hospitable one, and it has been said that "no person was ever turned away from the Strong home."

Three children were born to them, two boys and a girl, all of whom survive. Guy W. Strong resides in Callaway; and Marion and Mrs. Hazel Nay near Ord. She is also survived by 9 grandchildren and three great grandchildren, who with her husband, are left to mourn her passing. Besides bringing up their own children, they furnished a home for several years for two granddaughters, Ella Marie Strong and Margaret Strong, whose mother died when they were small.

Iowa Firm Is Low Bidder on Taylor- Burwell Line Job

$39,453.19 Will Be Cost of the Last Transmission Line on North Loup Project.

The Jensen Construction company, of Kimballton, Ia., was low bidder on the job of installing sixteen miles of transmission line and high tension regulators between Burwell and Taylor, at a contract letting held by directors of the North Loup district Friday. The Iowa firm's bid was $39,453.19. While no official award has been made, the Jensen bid was well under estimate of cost made by engineers so without doubt a contract will be given to the firm. There were four other bidders.

Mrs. W. H. Carson Passes Suddenly

Following an illness that she first felt Sunday evening, Mrs. W. H. Carson grew rapidly worse until the end came peacefully at 5:00 a. m. Tuesday. Up to Sunday she had been in her usual health and was a very busy and active woman despite her 70 years. Her two sons, Ralph, of Lewistown, Mont., and Leigh, of Los Angeles, were notified, and both are coming. Ralph arriving today and Leigh tomorrow.

Funeral services are to be held probably Thursday afternoon, but the place, time and minister will not be definitely selected until both sons are in Ord. The notice will appear on the blackboard in the postoffice as soon as arrangements are completed. The full obituary will appear in next week's Quiz.

No Interest Shown at Budget Hearing

The Valley county board of supervisors held a public hearing Monday on the new budget under which this county will operate next year, but though the meeting was widely advertised not a single taxpayer appeared to question, challenge or commend provisions of the budget. Now County Clerk Ign. Klima and supervisors are wondering if there actually is any interest in the new budget law.

According to the new budget, which may be lowered but not raised after the public hearing, Valley county's general fund needs to be raised by taxes in 1938 will be $36,150; for road fund and special highway fund, $940; bridge fund, $4,200; courthouse bonds and interest, $5,300; soldiers' and sailors' aid, $700; mothers' pensions, $650; fair fund, $2,000; unemployment relief fund, $13,500. Supervisors will finally adopt their budget after making levies before end of the annual equalization meeting, which is to be held next week.

Three From Burwell Finish At Lincoln

Three Burwell young people graduated from the University of Nebraska this spring, the records show. Donald Bragg Maitland and Alvin Ruthford May completed their courses in the college of business administration, and Miss Maureen Eunice Troxell received her degree of bachelor of science in education. Taylor has one representative, William Eburn Holmes, who graduates as a doctor of medicine. Richard Harris Flynn, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Flynn of Blair, formerly of Ord, graduates from the college of agriculture with a degree of bachelor of science in agriculture.

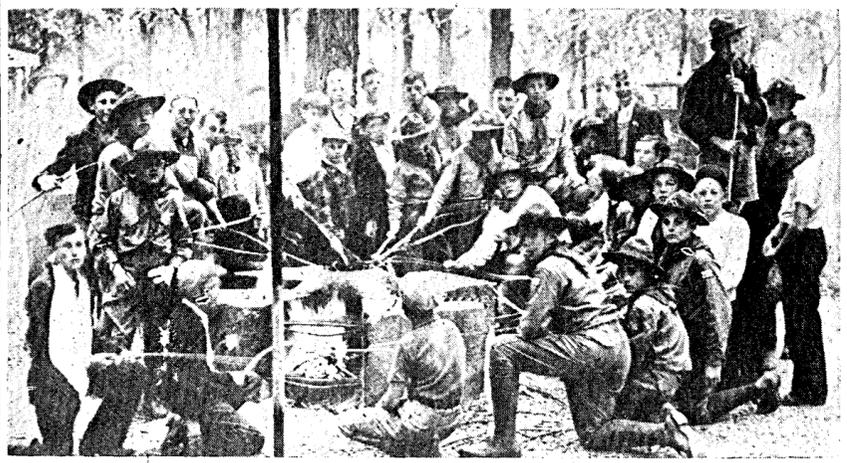

—Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Knezacek spent Monday in Grand Island.

$10,000 Highway Department Garage Now Being Built As WPA Project Is Nearing Completion

By July 1, equipment owned by the Nebraska highway department in this district will be housed in this building, now nearing completion in east Ord, according to Roy Randolph, district maintenance engineer. The building and high fence will cost about $10,000 and is being built as a WPA project. The garage is 46x60 feet in size and is covered with galvanized sheeting, making it practically fire proof. All highway equipment will be stored on this lot and repair work will be done in the garage building itself.

ST. PAUL BOY SCOUTS ON 4-DAY HIKE, ARE ENTERTAINED AT BUSSELL PARK BY THE ORD SCOUTS WITH A WIENER ROAST

Seventeen Boy Scouts from St. Paul arrived in Ord at 2:00 Tuesday afternoon after a four-day hike from St. Paul. They boys had left there early Saturday morning and the trip was made along the river, camping out over night in places chosen beforehand.

Scoutmaster C. J. Suchanek and his assistants, Ernie Johnson, L. W. Kraus and James Knight took turns accompanying the boys on their trip. Food and camping equipment were taken to designated places by the men each day.

On their arrival at the Ord dam, the boys were met by the Ord Boy Scout troop. They were then taken to the town where they paraded the streets. After the parade, the boys were entertained in Bussell Park by the Ord Scouts with a wiener roast, as shown above. The fathers of the St. Paul scouts drove to Ord and took the boys back to St. Paul with them.

Charles F. Widmeyer Dies After Long Illness

Following an illness of several months Charles Franklin Widmeyer passed away at his home in Ord Sunday, June 5. He was born Jan. 1, 1876 in the state of Michigan, and was 62 years, 5 months and 4 days old at the time of his death.

In the year 1896 he was united in marriage to Nancy Vergia Fowler, and to this union four children were born. His wife and one daughter preceded him in death in 1905, and another daughter died in 1924. Feb. 8, 1919, he was married to Marilla Parish at Ord.

He leaves to mourn his going a wife at Norfolk, Neb.; two daughters, one in Chicago, Ill., and Mrs. Geneva Jackson of Loup City, and Mrs. Lester Beal of Greeley, a step-daughter and 11 grandchildren. Mr. Widmeyer had spent the last 24 years of his life as a resident of Ord.

He was upright and sober and always willing to perform any work given him, and he will be greatly missed by friends and in the places he once filled. Although never expressing any religious faith he took an interest in attending church services in his later years.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at 2:00 from the Pearson-Anderson chapel, with Rev. Mabel Miller, Pentecostal evangelist, in charge of the services. Pallbearers were F. J. Cohen, A. J. Cook, Elmer Lambdin, Martin Lead, John Chatfield and Amos Christoffersen. Rev. Miller sang and Miss Margie Smith played.

Committal Service for Ashes of Mrs. Stacy

At the Stacy family lot in Ord cemetery at 10:00 Friday morning, committal services will be held for the late Mrs. S. A. Stacy, who died in Longmont, Colo., about four years ago. The body of Mrs. Stacy was cremated at that time and her ashes will be interred here Friday.

Rev. M. C. Smith will conduct the brief service and old friends of Mrs. Stacy are invited to attend. Mrs. M. P. Eckels, a granddaughter, of Mrs. Stacy, arrived Monday evening with the urn of ashes. Mrs. Eckels is the former Miss Alice Zelle Johnson, daughter of Frank Johnson of Ord. With her two children, she is a guest in the Johnson home while here.

Red Cross Is Seeking Swimming Instructor

The Ord chapter of the Red Cross is seeking a swimming and lifesaving instructor, and is desirous of sending some young man or woman 18 years of age or older to a 10-day aquatic school this month. Red Cross schools are to be held in Missouri and Minnesota. The person sent to take this course will receive reasonable pay for giving lessons in Ord during July and August. The candidate must be at least 18 years old, of good moral character, and be able to swim now. Anybody interested may apply to LeRoy Frazier or to Mrs. E. L. Kokes.

Among swimming instructors sent by the Red Cross to take this course in former years were Beulah McGinnis and J. A. Kovanda, neither of whom is available to serve as instructor this summer.

Two Tennis Courts Will Be Installed Testing Discussed

City, NYA, Golf Club, Share Cost of Courts; Equipment Men Heard by Council.

At an overtime meeting held Friday evening, Mayor M. B. Cummins and members of the Ord city council discussed a proposal to put in two asphalt-surfaced tennis courts at Bussell park in cooperation with NYA and the Ord Golf club, discussed other NYA projects including a swimming pool at Anderson Island, and heard representatives of a firm seeking to sell equipment for the municipal testing station proposed for Ord. It was the regular June meeting of the council and lasted until 3:00 a. m., with much regular business still to be handled. Adjournment was taken until Friday night of this week.

Tentative decision to install the two tennis courts was reached, after L. C. Barrett, of Grand Island, regional NYA chief, appeared before the council and said NYA will furnish all labor and pay half the cost of materials. John P. Misko, Joe Jirak and Mark Tolson, representing the Ord Golf club, offered on behalf of the club to pay the other half of materials cost.

Cost of material for the courts will be about $100, Barrett said, and the courts will be usable in all kinds of weather, making them vastly superior to ordinary clay courts.

The NYA will furnish labor and pay $50 toward cost of the materials used and if the golf club pays another $50 the only expense to the city will be wages paid to a supervisor during the estimated two weeks that courts are under construction. Located at the south edge of Bussell park, the tennis courts will be open to the public.

Possibility of putting in a swimming pool on Anderson Island also was suggested to Mayor Cummins and the council, the mayor saying he had been getting many requests that swimming pool action be revived. Two years ago the council had under consideration a proposal to excavate a natural pool on Anderson Island, depending on the river to fill the pool and keep water purified by natural underground flow, and at that time abandoned the plan as not feasible. Friday evening councilmen who investigated the matter two years ago renewed their opposition to this kind of a pool, saying they are convinced the pool would fill up with algae growth and be just another "frog pond," unsafe for people to swim in. No further action was taken on the proposal Friday night.

Two men representing the Weaver Corporation, manufacturers of equipment for testing automobiles and trucks, appeared before the council seeking to sell appliances for the municipal testing station under consideration here. No action was taken on their offer when it developed that the state of Nebraska has not yet released a list of approved equipment.

On behalf of the council, Mayor Cummins assures Ord people that a river to fill the pool and keep water testing station will be put in as soon as the state makes known what type of equipment and size of building will be required, providing cost is not excessive.

Six Ord Students Given Uni Degrees

Lincoln, Neb.—Inez C. Eberhart, Marie E. Kosmata, Harold A. Sack, Floyd E. Beranek, Robert L. Cushing, Fred V. Cahill, jr., and Eldon F. Benda, all of Ord, were among the 843 students who were granted degrees by the University of Nebraska at the 67th annual commencement exercises Monday morning. Misses Eberhart and Kosmata, of teachers college, received the bachelor of science degree in education and the university teachers certificate. Sack received the bachelor of science degree in business administration, and Beranek, the bachelor of science degree with distinction in pharmacy. Cushing is one of 13 who received the master of science degree, and Cahill, one of 28 who received the master of arts degree. Benda received the degree of doctor of dental surgery. The commencement address this year was delivered by Dr. Carl W. Ackerman, dean of the graduate school of journalism at Columbia University.

Allen Rotary Speaker

A description of the trip city employees recently took to Franklin, Pa., was given as the Rotary program Monday evening by George Allen, light and water commissioner. While there they saw the first oil well in the world, drilled in 1859, and many other interesting things, said Mr. Allen. Six Ord men made the trip and put in two weeks dismantling and loading a used diesel engine bought by the city of Ord.

D. Chlewski, 23, Hit By Lightning, Killed Instantly

Body Found Near Tractor After Electrical Storm Sunday Eve Near Arcadia.

Dominic Chlewski, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chlewski of Comstock, was instantly killed Sunday evening when he was struck by lightning five miles southeast of Arcadia.

He and his brother, Bennie, had finished listing a field of corn and Dominic was driving the tractor home, his brother following in a car.

Near the Charles Denton farm, on the Arcadia-Loup city highway, a terrible electrical storm struck, accompanied by heavy rain.

A bolt of lightning struck Dominic, knocking him from the seat of the tractor and apparently killing him instantly. Clothing was burned and torn from his body, the hair singed and rims of a pair of glasses he was wearing were melted by the lightning stroke.

The road bed was torn up where the bolt struck. The tractor, damaged very little, idled to a bank at the side of the road and came to a stop.

Dana College Quartette Presents Fine Program

The Dana College male quartette presented a program to a capacity crowd Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Bethany Lutheran church. Members of the quartette were Earl Laursen, first tenor; Adolph Kloth, second tenor; Paul Neve, first bass and Edward Hansen, second bass. The vocal selections sung by the quartette were "Te Deum," "The Heavens Declare," "Send Out Thy Light," "Beautiful Saviour," "Swing Low, Sweet Chariot," "Steal Away to Jesus," and "God's World Is Our Great Heritage." Additional specialties were a vocal solo, "Ab, Master Let Me Walk With Thee," by Earl Laursen; a piano duet played by Edward Hansen and Paul Neve; a trombone and flugelhorn duet presented by Paul Neve and Adolph Kloth; and a flugelhorn solo played by Paul Neve.

—The Glover house is being re-decorated this week, after which Dr. and Mrs. John Round will occupy it, moving from the Lewis apartments. Mr. and Mrs. Ned Sparks have moved into the upper front apartment at the Lewis house.

PLEASE THE PUBLIC.

Several facts are patent in this world of ours. Outstanding is the much disputed statement that the people know what they want.

Satisfaction makes for contentment, and a contented people are invariably a happy people. Contentment comes with the satisfaction of our bodily, mental and spiritual needs with a fair amount of amusement and entertainment thrown in.

Thus we voice our criticism of a show more loudly than we criticize our meals or the clothes we wear.

In this connection it is a pleasure to write of a man who has made it his business to please the public for more than a quarter of a century, and who has made it a custom to return to the same place year after year.

In those earlier days he may have carried a more elaborate show, for the times were far different then.

He was born to the show business, his father being an endman in a minstrel show. In 1859, when Harry was one year old, the family took part in the land rush in Oklahoma, and they lived there until he was old enough to start in the show game at the age of 17.

In all these years the Hugo show has never failed to please in Ord. The quality of the shows is high, the actors are the best of any show of its kind, and Harry has an uncanny knack for choosing talent, combined with the ability to anticipate what the public wants.

Famous men have played with the Hugo shows. One of the most noted was the world renowned Col. Vesey Walker, an Englishman who played with the Hugos for five years beginning in 1912.

He says he would like to come back again and make the circuit with the show as he did in the old days. Another Englishman, Spencer Tearle, who played leading roles with the show last year is now making a name for himself in motion pictures.

right to throw out his chest about the quarter of a century he has been pleasing his public here in Nebraska.

MANY WORDED LANGUAGE.

Anyone who does not believe that the English language contains too many words can prove it to himself by carrying an unabridged dictionary around the block.

Time after time universal languages have been suggested, the best known of these being Esperanto, but all of them failed, due to the fact that they depend entirely on a fully inflected system of European roots.

There are a total of about 1500 languages in the world today, and English, which is one of the most common, has a total of 500,000 words.

The greatest need of the world today is a more simple and efficient means of communication, which would make for better understanding between nations.

Just how simple basic English is is better understood when we are told that the entire list of words in the basic language can be printed on two pages of an ordinary book.

The master of English uses difficult words and complex phrases, not to clarify his remarks, but rather to make them more difficult to understand.

Today the world is inhabited by 1,800 million people, speaking 1,500 languages. Think how it would simplify international affairs if we could dispense with 1,499 of these languages and cut our working English down to one fifth of one per cent of its present size.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

This section of the state has one advantage as a small grain producing region. It is relatively free from rust.

Last year the more serious black stem rust did not show up here until the 4th of June, and orange rust developed a few days later, according to slide exposure studies made by Ord high school students.

Rust spores were caught by Kearney high school students on May 13th, in 1936. But there was no evidence of rust in Valley county during the entire year.

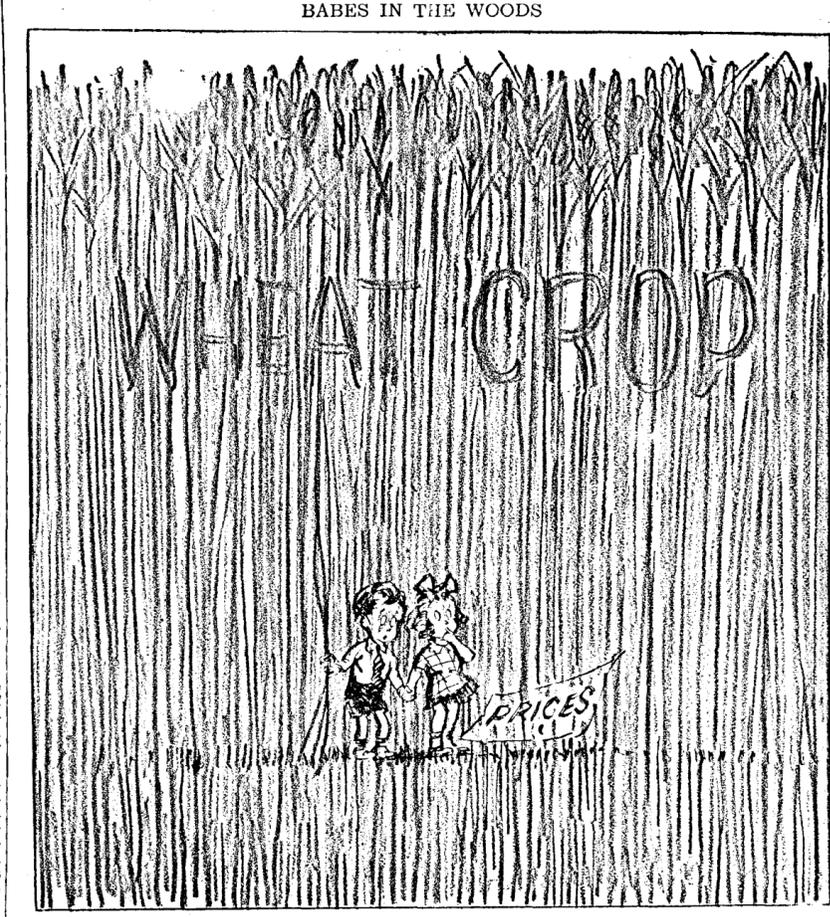

Rust was unusually destructive in 1935 because of climatic conditions and late wheat. Greased slides exposed by Ord pupils showed both kinds of rust present by the middle of May.

Similar studies have been conducted here since 1930, and no severe rust epidemic has occurred in any of those years.

Rust resistant varieties of wheat have been experimented with in this state, but the results to date have been rather disappointing.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT! Human Skeleton Found by Farmer Another Threat to Dairy Industry
Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Man in a Tub.

It was really quite remarkable about Albert Combs throwing out the human skeleton last week while he was listing.

Albert deduced it was an Indian grave. It was on top of a hill where the land had been farmed for many years.

If it was an Indian grave, it is no less than sixty-six years old, for there have been no Indians here to speak of since the settlers first came in 1872.

The high school janitors have replanted their lawn several times to get rid of the pest.

Pennycrees.

For the dairyman, who is already faced with the fiercest kind of competition, his new trouble of pennycrees tainting the milk, is of a very serious concern.

The last few years of drought has killed much of the original prairie grass and over great areas the land has come up to pennycrees.

It is rather depressing to dig dandelions, though I don't mind it. Every passerby stops to inform the digger how many times he cleared out his lawn that way.

There are so many lovely lawns in Ord, but year after year I think the most Ohs and Ahs are brought forth by a sight of the John Klein lawn.

Now, no young people seem to want to learn any kind of hand-work. A white collar job or starve is their proposition.

In all this unemployment, it seems there is something wrong with our system. Once youths were bound out to serve apprenticeships, learning a trade under master workmen.

It is an age of specialization, yet some fields are being neglected. There is quite a dearth of good paper-hangers. Are you interested?

Here are a few questions for the boys with their products who are learning to be farmers, and things we all want to know.

If the old Farmall tractor will pull a 14 inch gang plow easily in second gear, can you plow more or less in the hills—that is rolling lands?

Wet the mash for your chickens. It does not blow away so badly and they eat more of it.

Short Shavings. Have you noticed the birds are back again in greater numbers than for many years.

My foot bridge washed out the other day by the water from the rain at Sumter.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Business Headaches May Be Chronic But Current Congress Looks Harmless

WASHINGTON.—As the 75th Congress nears adjournment, there is little indication that it will go on record as a nightmare of businessmen.

There has been a comfortable intermission for business since President Roosevelt last proposed any legislation which might be described as destructive of "confidence."

Worry over how far the President might have gone had he not attempted to remodel the Supreme Court, and subsequently lost the co-operation of Congress, is probably the cause of most of the headaches from which businessmen are suffering.

Some of the proposals which have been discussed by the President's advisers but which never issued from the White House might have made those reported headaches chronic.

Dirndl Thing

Learn to say "dirndl." Yes, it's really a word, the name of the newest, smartest costume for vacation wear. The dirndl worn by Patricia Wilder, screen starlet, above, resembles a full length peasant dress and is designed for carefree playtime freedom. Colorful and intriguing beach figures are splashed through the jungle green cotton material.

Mrs. Geneva Strohl and daughters Veda and Marjorie, and Miss Ruby Ralls left here Wednesday afternoon by auto for a summer vacation in California. C. R. Roblyer accompanied them as far as Nevada, where he will visit his son Eldon in Carlin and his son Vernon and family in Gerlach until the first of July.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Murray attended the funeral of his uncle, Philip Lynch at Oconto Monday.

Some Farming Pays.
I know of one farmer in this county who cleaned up more than $25,000 on his crops last year. And in addition he dragged down nearly two thousand hard iron dollars from Uncle Sam. Don't begrudge it to him at all, but it still don't make sense.—Gering Courier.

Torso Terror Strikes Again

From murky waters of the Cuyahoga river near downtown Cleveland, O., detectives dragged a burlap bag, shown above, containing dismembered portions of a 25-year-old girl's body. Thus was added the tenth death to the toll taken by the city's mad "torso murderer" since 1934. Decapitating each of his victims, the killer has left only meager clues for authorities to follow in solving one of the most gruesome crime series in history.

News of the Neighborhood.

James Bratka and daughter Betty of Burwell motored here Friday and spent a few days visiting at the P. F. Haruda home.—Mr. and Mrs. Will Gruber of Ord came here Friday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mrs. Frances Gruber and sons. Tuesday they went through the city enroute to California to visit their son Emanuel and family.—Howard County Herald.

Officials of the Central Nebraska (Tri-County) Public Power and Irrigation district announced Saturday the Morrison-Knudsen company of Boise, Ida., appeared to be the low bidder on the construction work costing more than a million dollars.—Gothenburg Times.

Amateur Contest Is Success.

Harry Hugo presented his amateur contest to the public Thursday evening after the show. This contest is an annual feature of the Hugo Players. There were six contestants: Jean Carlson who sang "Josephine"; a duet by Maxine and Arlene Wolf, "Vacation Time"; a piano solo by Evelyn Van Slyke; a tap dance by Carolyn Auble; a piano solo by Dickie Turblade; and an accordion solo by Arthur Larsen. First prize of $2.50 was won by Arthur Larsen, second prize of $2.00 was given to Dickie Turblade; and the third prize of $1.50 was won by the twins, Maxine and Arlene Wolf.

Loup Valley Camera Club Hike Sunday

Yielding to the insistent call of the great outdoors, the members of the Loup Valley Camera Club decided at their meeting last night to go for their first hike Sunday. The plan is for all the members to meet at the John Andersen home and follow a course which will be plotted by the hike committee, each member taking such pictures as appear to him to be the best. A lunch will be taken along which will be eaten at a campfire somewhere along the line of march. The members are also making plans to visit the Old Settlers' Picnic at Busell Park Sunday, June 26, and take a number of candid shots of the old timers. This should be a wonderful opportunity to get pictures of the valley's few remaining pioneers. The session Monday dealt with lesson No. 2 of the series, which took up the different types of cameras and their uses. Demonstrator Lavern Duemey borrowed the high school projector, fitted his graphic camera in front of it for a front lens, and produced a real projector for the second series of slides. The new combination brought out the full beauty of the pictures. Following the regular session the projector was used as a spot light and several clever pictures were taken. The attendance was not large, but the interest with those present was intense. The next meeting will be held Monday evening, June 20, at Syl's Sign shop unless otherwise specified, and all members will bring prints of water pictures for criticism.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The word "neuritis" is one of the most commonly used by people in referring to pains of various kinds and in various parts of the body. This is especially true if the pain happens to be in an arm or leg or around the chest wall.
Usually the pain is not due to neuritis at all. This word means literally inflammation of a nerve and strangely enough this is not very often complained of.
One of the most frequent sites of this type of pain is in one or the other leg or in some cases both. It begins at the back of the hip and extends down the back of the thigh, at times reaching also the calf of the leg and even the sole of the foot. It is often referred to as "sciatica" or "sciatic rheumatism" or "sciatic neuritis", because it is felt along the course of the sciatic nerve and in the part of the tissues and skin supplied by this nerve.
While true inflammation of the sciatic nerve may happen, the cause of this pain is usually not in the ing structure or organ where it nerve itself but in some neighboring structure or organ where it simply irritates this nerve. The real trouble may be in the spine, the hip bones, the joints between the hip bones and the sacrum or "keystone" bone. It may also be in the organs within the pelvis or lower half of the abdomen, such as the bladder, prostate gland, uterus, ovaries, rectum etc.

So-called "neuritis" in the chest, or arms or at the back of the neck and head is often pain along nerves due to irritation of these nerves where they emerge from the spinal column, but here also such organs as the heart, the great blood vessels in the chest, or the spinal cord may be diseased and be the cause of the pain. Perhaps the most common cause is arthritis affecting some of the spinal joints. Inflammation of the mastoid bone, behind the ear may even be mistaken for "neuritis".
These statements are not meant to imply that true neuritis does not occur but that it is somewhat rare and that pains so often called neuritis may mean some underlying disease that may be serious or disabling. Your physician is naturally, the one to decide, after the necessary examination, what is the real cause of your pain.

Birch Slices Beautiful Girl Into Four Parts

Thrilling, Fascinating, Astounding, Wonderful—and not as cruel as it sounds, is this miraculous feat which Birch, Famous Magician, will perform Tuesday, June 21 evening at the Ord high school auditorium under the auspices of the music department.
But even more spectacular than slicing a young lady, is the Hindu Rope Mystery, the thrilling spectacle of a piece of rope rising into the air, a Hindu boy climbing the rope, and then disappearing at the command of the magician!

Also included in the Birch performance are such bewildering illusions as the Vanishing Pony, in which a beautiful Shetland is caused to vanish while suspended in mid-air; the Challenge Packing Box escape in which Birch will attempt to escape from a strong box constructed by a local lumber company; the Beautiful Silk Mirage where yards and yards of gorgeous rainbow silks appear from nowhere; the Canary and the Mazda Lamp, in which a live canary is shot into a burning light bulb; and fifty other amazing illusions.

A huge truck transports the thirty-eight trunks and crates of equipment and scenery, making the Birch production the largest magical show on tour in the United States today. Birch is playing to capacity audiences in every city—and the reason? It is not a "talker" and not a radio presentation, but Birch in person presenting most interesting evening of humor and mystery. Although he is a young man, so great has been his experience, and so ably demonstrated has been his exceptional talent, that Thurston publicly stated Birch is the logical one to become his successor.

Nekuda-Sasek

Wednesday forenoon, June 1, 1938, Miss Libbie Nekuda and James Sasek were joined in holy matrimony at the office of County Judge Clarence M. Miller at the Custer county court house in Broken Bow, Nebr. Judge Miller performed the ceremony. The contracting parties were attended by Miss Mildred Sasek, sister of the groom, and Miss Luella Garris, and George Nekuda, brother of the bride, and Otto Sasek, brother of the groom.
The party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a fine wedding dinner awaited them. At night they gave a wedding dance at the Dworak hall in Comstock, a few hundred invitations being mailed to friends. Music was furnished by Eddie Kerchal's orchestra from Ord. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nekuda who live several miles northeast of Sargent. She is a graduate of the Sargent high school, being a member of the class of 1937.
Her mother is a sister of Mrs. Joseph Nekuda, mother of Laddie (Leslie) Nekuda, and also of Mrs. Joseph Kousek, mother of Edwin Kousek. These two boys were honor students in the Sargent high school, each winning a scholarship in University of Nebraska, which they are attending. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasek, who live eight miles northeast of Sargent. Mr. and Mrs. Sasek will make their home on a farm not far from Sargent.
—William Bouma, uncle of Mrs. John L. Andersen, came from Loup City Wednesday and will visit with the Andersens for some time.

Ord Rebekahs Attend District Meet at Burwell

The Rebekah lodges held their 15th annual session in Burwell on June 3. The assembly vice-president, Hazel Amos, of Sargent, was present and conducted a school of instruction. The various phases of Rebekah work were ably exemplified by the lodges of the district.
At 6:00 p. m., a covered dish luncheon was served under the supervision of the daughters of Burwell Rebekahs. This luncheon was held at the Methodist church. At the opening of the evening session, a group of Burwell youngsters gave a lovely musical program.
Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Martha Patterson, North Loup; vice-president, Edith Wyman, Ericson; warden, Myrel Zeleski, Ord; secretary, Beulah Stone, North Loup; treasurer, Evelyn Olcott, Burwell; marshal, Gladys Cartwright, Wolbach; conductor, Zella Helleberg, Ord; chaplain, Viola Bingham, Ericson; inside guardian, Minnie Brewer, Burwell; outside guardian, Maggie Brennick, North Loup; and musician, Margaret Westcott, Ericson.
About ninety members attended, and the decision was made that the next annual meeting would be held in North Loup.

the long-mileage gasoline

"Ump-ff" is descriptive, certainly, of the things you notice about this gasoline when you use it in your car—the life, the power, the get-up-and-go that is so noticeable the minute it goes into action. Next time you need gasoline, swing in where you see the STANDARD sign and try a tankful. And while you're about it, notice the miles you go before you need gasoline again. One important thing that extra UMP-FF does, is run your car at surprisingly low cost per mile.

Legion and Auxiliary Elect New Officers

At the regular meeting of the American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary Tuesday evening, both organizations elected officers for the coming year. The Legion had two visiting members, J. L. Langer from Spalding Post No. 290, and M. E. Gyger from Chappell Post No. 217. Harry Wolf reported on progress made in Legion junior baseball, and asked all the members to boost for the club by attending the first game, which will be with Greeley at the fair grounds tomorrow.

In the absence of Adjutant Roy Severson A. A. Wiegardt acted in his place. The matter of suits for the ball team was discussed, and the financial report was read, showing that there was enough on hand to pay for them and leave a little surplus for running expenses. It was then voted unanimously to get the boys suits and have them here by Thursday, if possible. The loan of the Quiz Decoration Day cut to the Nebraska Legionnaire was mentioned.

It was stated that Ord's member of Boys' State, Donald Dahlin, was leaving Saturday morning, and arrangements are being made to take him to St. Paul, from which place he will go with the Howard county delegation, thus saving an expense. A committee, Gilbert, Russell and Lakin, was selected to look after the furnishing of transportation for the ball team for the coming four games away from home.

At the election of officers Bob Hall and C. D. Wardrop were nominated, Hall being elected. Ross Lakin was elected vice-commander without opposition, as was Roy Severson re-elected adjutant. The last year's executive committee, Cash Rathbun, Cecil Clark, Jim Gilbert and Ed Vogeltanz, were re-elected. The usual sick and relief reports were made, and correspondence read.

The Ladies Auxiliary had three visitors, Mrs. Langer, Mrs. Gyger and her mother, Mrs. Maude Cochran. The ladies chose Friday, June 17, as a regular clean-up day. All who can, both men and ladies, are to come right after dinner, bringing a covered dish supper, which will be served after the work is done. The Auxiliary reported a new member, Mrs. Theodosia Dally.

Officers elected by the Auxiliary were: President, Ruth Wolf; 1st vice president, Iva Lakin; 2nd vice president, Hazel Hill; treasurer, Edta Russell; chaplain, Rose Wardrop; rehabilitation, Margory Rashaw; sergeant-at-arms, Kathryn Long; secretary, Mildred Gregory; executive committee, Hazel Hall, Jessie Wiegardt, Olga Duncan; historian, Jessie Wiegardt. The ladies served ice cream, wafers and coffee following the meeting.

R. Clare Clement and Beulah Gates Are Wed

At the S. D. B. parsonage in North Loup Sunday occurred the marriage of Miss Beulah Gates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gates of Ord, to R. Clare Clement, prominent Mira Valley farmer and feeder. Rev. C. L. Hill officiated, using the single ring ceremony. The bride was gowned in blue flat crepe. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Athey were the only attendants.

Mrs. Clement, a graduate of Ord high school, has been a teacher in the Burwell schools several years. Her husband is one of Nebraska's best known Hereford breeders, has been active in Loup Valley Agricultural Society work, and is generally recognized as one of Valley county's most progressive farmers. He and his bride will make their home on the farm in Mira Valley.

Honoring the Beeghlys.

The Sunday night pinochle club met at the Freeman Haught home Wednesday evening at a farewell party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Lynne Beeghly. Mrs. Gene Romans and Mrs. June Novy were guests. High scores were held by Mr. and Mrs. George Andersen.

Farewell Picnic.

A picnic was held at Bussell park Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Ed Milligan, who was leaving for the west. Twenty-five persons were present, including the Fergusons, Wards, Parks, and Thompsons of Ord, the Clements of North Loup and the Guy Wards of Burwell. Saturday Mrs. Milligan, Mrs. Nina Thompson and daughter Patty, Mrs. John L. Ward and Mrs. H. H. Clement, with Miss Jane Ferguson as driver, took Mrs. Milligan to Grand Island. From there she and Miss Myrtle Milligan left today for Salt Lake City to visit the Don Milligan family for a month, after which they will go on to Long Beach for the remainder of the summer.

Nimble Finger News.

The Riverside Nimble Finger club met at Mrs. Alfred Christensen's May 31. The club girls have been working on sewing boxes the past week. The sewing boxes were made from cigar boxes, and they painted and covered them. They now have some very attractive boxes. They also had a lesson on "How to Run the Sewing Machine." The lesson for June 7 was discussed, and they decided to go to the river for their next meeting. Beverly Brown was the club's first visitor. Refreshments were served by the leader after the meeting.

Eight and Forty Meets.

With their husbands as guests, members of the Eight and Forty met for a picnic at Bussell park Thursday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt, and Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Barrett and Miss Jessie Murphy of Greeley.

Jollite Entertained.

Mrs. Joe Kokes entertained Jollite members Monday afternoon, Mrs. J. W. Ambrose being the only guest. Mrs. C. A. Anderson made high score.

E. H. Dunmire Host.

E. H. Dunmire was host to members of the Radio Bridge club Wednesday evening of last week. They enjoyed a steak fry at Anderson's Island. He also covered himself with glory that day by cooking and serving a dinner to Mr. and Mrs. Ed Holub, doing all the work himself.

This evening the winners and losers party of the Radio Bridge club will be held at the Joseph M. Kokes home, following dinner at Thorne's Cafe.

Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Frazier and children are again in their own home, fire damages to the place having been removed and the house put in first class condition.

Softball Results

The K. C. team defeated the high school Tuesday evening in an extra inning thriller. The score at the end of seven innings stood 6 to 6. The high school made two scores in their half of the eighth. With one on Syl Furtak knocked a home run for the K. C.'s, tying the score and John Kokes followed with a home run to win the game.

The Livestock team won rather easily from the Brown-McDonalds 15 to 10. Two new score boards have been erected on the grounds, one donated by Rowland's Radio service, the other by Ord Cold Storage and Phillips. 68. The Ord Livestocks now lead with three won and none lost, while the others are tied for second with one won and two lost each.

Clarence Blessing

I am not mad at anybody, so I'll just talk about myself. I realize there are hundred of voters in Valley county that would make just as good a sheriff as I would, and who are just as much entitled to the job. However, I have my hat in the ring. I have only one promise to make and that is if I should be elected I will endeavor to learn the duties of the sheriff and try to perform my duties. I have lived in Valley county 58 years. I am anxious to get every vote that I can get, yet I'd like to make it impressive that I'd much rather lose your vote than your friendship. 11-1t Clarence Blessing.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

A certain fisherman is responsible for this story, which may or may not be true, but which makes quite a story anyway. It is said a certain employ of the city and his family went fishing and that while the lady was trying a difficult cast she caught her hook in Chet's ear. The fact that said ear shows the effects of the mishap lends color to the story.

Dist. Legion Junior Baseball Schedule

The schedule for Legion Junior baseball for this district has been completed, and bills giving the dates and location of the games have been placed in various business places around town. The towns in this district having teams are Greeley, Ravenna, St. Paul, Spalding and Ord. Ord's first game comes tomorrow, June 9, when the boys meet Greeley at the Ord fair grounds.

The other games on the list are: June 14, Ord at Ravenna; June 21, Ord at St. Paul; June 24, Ord at Spalding; June 28, Ord at Greeley; July 1, Ravenna at Ord; July 8, St. Paul at Ord; and July 12, Spalding at Ord. The Ord boys have been practicing whenever the weather conditions permitted, and are showing up well under the management of Harry Wolf.

Under the rules governing Legion Junior baseball the membership of the team had to be cut to fifteen players June 1. This was done, and the list who will play in the games this summer is as follows: Wilford Hansen, Don Severson, Jerry Fryzek, Henry Misko, Billy Johnson, Wayne Johnson, Harold Christensen, Robert Albers, Donald Dahlin, Gerald Stoddard, Orville Stoddard, Dean Bresley, Ernest Piskorski, Allen Zikmund and Charles Koown.

Mrs. Johnson Celebrates Her 84th Birthday

Friday, June 3 was the 84th birthday of another of North Loup's pioneer women, Mrs. Maud Johnson. She celebrated the event by having her granddaughter, Mrs. Mary Winch and great-granddaughter, Martha Winch of Williamstown, Mass., as supper guests and treated them to new peas and fried chicken which she and her daughter Alice had grown.

Born in New York state, she early moved to Iowa with her parents and came to Nebraska in 1879, arriving in Grand Island where she was met by her father, William Stewart with a team and lumber wagon on the third day of July. She spent some time in the home of her sister, Mrs. Peter Babcock, on Davis Creek and remembers well the night they were sleeping in the dugout room of her sister's home because of the intense heat and the heavy rain flooded the floor, driving them out.

She worked for Mrs. Mary Clement when Clara Holmes was a baby. In 1880 she was married to Byron H. Johnson and went to live on the farm that he had bought from the railroad company for $1.25 an acre and which boasted a frame house, a rare thing at that time.

They lived on this farm, the one now occupied by Bill Graf, until 1915 when they bought the N. K. Redlon place in town, which is still the home of Mrs. Johnson and her daughter Alice, Mr. Johnson having died in 1923. She has three sons, W. G. and James of North Loup and Herbert of Waterloo, Neb., and two daughters, Alice, who lives with her mother and Mrs. Doris Seiver of Scottsbluff, 10 grandchildren and one great granddaughter.—Photo by Birmingham.

Townsend Lecture Thursday.

W. T. McLain is in receipt of a letter from Tom Bradstreet, Nebraska state manager of Townsend clubs, to the effect that Mr. Knapp will be in Ord tomorrow night to deliver a lecture on the Townsend plan. He will speak from the front steps of the court house. From here he goes to Burwell, where he will speak Friday evening.

Streamlined Farms—In a 'Dust Bowl' Oasis

CHANDLER, Ariz.—The "little gray come in the west" is far from a shanty these days. It's a streamliner example of ultra-modern housing construction.

The hardcrabble shacks of Arizona's pioneers on the soil which once formed the stage for an American frontier pageant are disappearing from the horizon. Where cactus and sagebrush once wished agriculture has steadily forged ahead.

And the thousands of "Dust Bowl" refugees, destitute wanderers of the wastelands, have taken a new lease on life.

In the heart of sandy Arizona, "dust bowl" refugees have found new hope of recovery. The top photo shows the ultra-modern farm homes which the government has constructed for them near Chandler. The bottom picture depicts one of the community tenants working the rich soil with modern machinery.

bark and coated with aluminum paint to reflect the hot rays. The units are decorated in red and lavender, outside in modern mode.

Yet the project is the lowest of a government program yet attempted. The program is expensive. The government is $600 per month for the maximum allowed. The government Steagall slum clearance program.

RENT on the agricultural apartments is $1600 for life, payable over a period of 40 years with 3 per cent interest. The government, however, does not expect many of the tenants to remain long enough to pay this figure. If inhabitants obtain enough to move to a farm of their own, the family equity will be sold to another deserving group to use as a stepping stone.

Birch Slices Beautiful Girl Into Four Parts

Thrilling, Fascinating, Astounding, Wonderful—and not as cruel as it sounds, is this miraculous feat which Birch, Famous Magician, will perform Tuesday, June 21 evening at the Ord high school auditorium under the auspices of the music department.

But even more spectacular than slicing a young lady, is the Hindu Rope Mystery, the thrilling spectacle of a piece of rope rising into the air, a Hindu boy climbing the rope, and then disappearing at the command of the magician!

Also included in the Birch performance are such bewildering illusions as the Vanishing Pony, in which a beautiful Shetland is caused to vanish while suspended in mid-air; the Challenge Packing Box escape in which Birch will attempt to escape from a strong box constructed by a local lumber company; the Beautiful Silk Mirage where yards and yards of gorgeous rainbow silks appear from nowhere; the Canary and the Mazda Lamp, in which a live canary is shot into a burning light bulb; and fifty other amazing illusions.

A huge truck transports the thirty-eight trunks and crates of equipment and scenery, making the Birch production the largest magical show on tour in the United States today. Birch is playing to capacity audiences in every city—and the reason? It is not a "talker" and not a radio presentation, but Birch in person presenting a most interesting evening of humor and mystery. Although he is a young man, so great has been his experience, and so ably demonstrated has been his exceptional talent, that Thurston publicly stated Birch is the logical one to become his successor.

Nekuda-Sasek

Wednesday forenoon, June 1, 1938, Miss Libble Nekuda and James Sasek were joined in holy matrimony at the office of County Judge Clarence M. Miller at the Custer county court house in Broken Bow, Nebr. Judge Miller performed the ceremony. The contracting parties were attended by Miss Mildred Sasek, sister of the groom, and Miss Luella Garris, and George Nekuda, brother of the bride, and Otto Sasek, brother of the groom.

The party returned to the home of the bride's parents, where a fine wedding dinner awaited them. At night they gave a wedding dance at the Dvorak hall in Comstock, a few hundred invitations being mailed to friends. Music was furnished by Eddie Kerchal's orchestra from Ord. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nekuda who live several miles northeast of Sargent. She is a graduate of the Sargent high school, being a member of the class of 1937.

Her mother is a sister of Mrs. Joseph Nekuda, mother of Laddie, (Leslie) Nekuda, and also of Mrs. Joseph Rousek, mother of Edwin Rousek. These two boys were honor students in the Sargent high school, each winning a scholarship in University of Nebraska, which they are attending. The bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sasek, who live eight miles northeast of Sargent. Mr. and Mrs. Sasek will make their home on a farm not far from Sargent.

—William Bouma, uncle of Mrs. John L. Andersen, came from Loup City Wednesday and will visit with the Andersens for some time.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The word "neuritis" is one of the most commonly used by people in referring to pains of various kinds and in various parts of the body. This is especially true if the pain happens to be in an arm or leg or around the chest wall.

Usually the pain is not due to neuritis at all. This word means literally inflammation of a nerve and strangely enough this is not very often complained of.

One of the most frequent sites of this type of pain is in one or the other leg or in some cases both. It begins at the back of the hip and extends down the back of the thigh, at times reaching also the calf of the leg and even the sole of the foot. It is often referred to as "sciatica" or "sciatic rheumatism" or "sciatic neuritis", because it is felt along the course of the sciatic nerve and in the part of the tissues and skin supplied by this nerve.

While true inflammation of the sciatic nerve may happen, the cause of this pain is usually not in the nerve itself but in some neighboring structure or organ where it simply irritates this nerve. The real trouble may be in the spine, the hip bones, the joints between the hip bones and the sacrum or "keystone" bone. It may also be in the organs within the pelvis or lower half of the abdomen, such as the bladder, prostate gland, uterus, ovaries, rectum etc.

So-called "neuritis" in the chest, or arms or at the back of the neck and head is often pain along nerves due to irritation of these nerves where they emerge from the spinal column, but here also such organs as the heart, the great blood vessels in the chest, or the spinal cord may be diseased and be the cause of the pain. Perhaps the most common cause is arthritis affecting some of the spinal joints. Inflammation of the mastoid bone, behind the ear may even be mistaken for "neuritis".

These statements are not meant to imply that true neuritis does not occur but that it is somewhat rare and that pains so often called neuritis may mean some underlying disease that may be serious or disabling. Your physician is naturally, the one to decide, after the necessary examination, what is the real cause of your pain.

Ord Rebekahs Attend District Meet at Burwell

The Rebekah lodges held their 15th annual session in Burwell on June 3. The assembly vice-president, Hazel Amos, of Sargent, was present and conducted a school of instruction. The various phases of Rebekah work were ably exemplified by the lodges of the district. At 6:00 p. m., a covered dish luncheon was served under the supervision of the daughters of Burwell Rebekahs. This luncheon was held at the Methodist church. At the opening of the evening session, a group of Burwell youngsters gave a lovely musical program. Officers elected for the coming year were: President, Martha Patterson, North Loup; vice-president, Edith Wyman, Ericson; warden, Myrel Zeleski, Ord; secretary, Beulah Stene, North Loup; treasurer, Evelyn Olcott, Burwell; marshal, Gladys Cartwright, Wolbach; conductor, Zella Helleberg, Ord; chaplain, Viola Bingham, Ericson; inside guardian, Minnie Brewer, Burwell; outside guardian, Maggie Brennick, North Loup; and musician, Margaret Wescott, Ericson.

About ninety members attended, and the decision was made that the next annual meeting would be held in North Loup.

"Ump-ff" is descriptive, certainly, of the things you notice about this gasoline when you use it in your car—the life, the power, the get-up-and-go that is so noticeable the minute it goes into action. Next time you need gasoline, swing in where you see the STANDARD sign and try a tankful. And while you're about it, notice the miles you go before you need gasoline again. One important thing that extra UMP-FF does, is run your car at surprisingly low cost per mile.

A WORD OF WARNING TO ORD PARENTS

Many complaints have come to this office from people living on the east side of the river about small boys from Ord shooting rifles there. One calf has been killed by a stray bullet already and there have been several narrow escapes.

If you have a boy who has a rifle, please take warning. Shooting on the east side of the river will not be tolerated by land owners there, in fact no indiscriminate rifle shooting should be done by small boys at any time.

If you want your boy to shoot a rifle, go with him and see where and how he does his shooting. Know where your boy is and what he is doing at all times, especially if he has access to a rifle.

Your cooperation is requested and unless it is obtained prosecution will have to follow, as repetition of this very serious offense cannot be tolerated.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Vodehnal and family were Sunday visitors at V. J. Vodehnal's.

Mrs. Mary Koupal and Mr. and Mrs. Jacob John of Ord visited at Ed Waldman's Sunday.

The ladies and young people's study clubs held a meeting at the parish house last Friday evening with good attendance at both meetings. Rev. Szczesny conducted the lesson at a joint meeting of the two clubs. The next meeting will be held July 7th.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtaszek of Ord, spent Sunday at the Frank Wegrzyn home.

The National hall was filled to capacity Sunday afternoon for the Memorial Day services given by the Z. C. B. J. lodge. A nice program was rendered by home talent with vocal numbers nicely given by several students of the Ord high school with Miss Margy Smith at the piano. Rev. Mearl C. Smith delivered the address.

Joe Lukesh and his boys with several members of the Ord high school band furnished the music at the hall and at the cemetery.

The American Legion of Constock attended in a body.

After the program at the hall the march to the cemetery was as follows: the flag and banner bearers, little boys carrying flags, little flower girls, orchestra, American Legion, lodge and general public. The American Legion conducted services over the graves of their two departed comrades, Frank Klupal and Adolf Kluna, who gave their lives while in training at Camp Funston. The lodge conducted services at the graves of their departed members while the little girls strew flowers in memory of all departed.

Gabby Hartnett, 37 Years Young, Sparks Chicago Cubs in Quest for Pennant

Came to Bruins in 1922 After Single Season in Minors

BY IRVING DIX

BIG, boisterous Gabby Hartnett—Charles Leo on Sundays and holidays—is 37 years old, and by all rights should be thinking of things less violent than nailing base runners at second base, and blasting doubles off the wall.

But not the Gabby One. Just because he's the oldest player performing every day in the major leagues is no reason why he should be getting any softer.

Gabby Hartnett is far from soft. It would take a very thorough search before you could find someone with more fighting spirit, and if the Chicago Cubs do anything in a championship sort of way this year they'll have Hartnett to thank for it. Few backstops keep a team together on the field the way the big Bruin does.

He broke in with Chicago 'way back in 1922, after one year with Worcester of the Eastern League, and he's been donning the mask and pads at Wrigley Field ever since.

HE already has broken Ray Schalk's record for number of games performed in by a catcher. Schalk appeared in 1721, but because Gabby had a sore arm in 1929 and got in only as a pinch hitter much of the time, technically he won't eclipse Schalk's actual catching mark for another 100 games or so. If he catches 100 games this season he will become the first man in baseball history to catch more than 100 contests each season for Hartnett... ready for work.

13 years which is a lot of work for one man, but Gabby seems to thrive on it.

Gabby started his working career as a millhand in Millville, Mass., his home town, but when he froze his ears so badly one morning while going to work at 5:30 he vowed he'd never work for a living again.

So Gabby Hartnett started to

Frozen Ears Set Star Backstop on Baseball Trails

carve out a career in baseball for himself.

His one year with Worcester earned him a trial with the Cubs in 1922, and out to Catalina Island he went. Bill Killifer, Chicago manager, was looking for a young catcher to replace Bobby O'Farrell, who was slipping. He thought he had one in a youngster named McMillin, and for three weeks no one gave Leo Hartnett more than a passing thought.

But McMillin showed he had too many weaknesses. He couldn't handle the pitchers and he couldn't hit.

THE night before the Cubs were to play their first exhibition game Killifer decided to give the Yannigan-Hartnett—a chance.

"You're catching tomorrow—and I want you to run the game," Gabby ran it all right. He howled through nine innings of play, handled Grover Cleveland Alexander perfectly and made two hits.

From that moment on he was the Cubs' regular catcher.

A great receiver and a dangerous hitter, Hartnett combines all the qualities of the perfect backstop. John McGraw once termed him the greatest catcher he ever saw.

Hartnett forever maintains a fierce desire to win. He never thinks of losing, though the score may be 10-0 against the Cubs in the last of the ninth.

Gabby just shakes his fist on high and howls defiance. And the Cubs as a result aren't the kind to lose easily.

Walter Moulton, Ord high school graduate of the class of 1898, was chosen president of the alumni association at a business meeting following the fifth annual banquet.

Two sisters of Mrs. Gould Flagg had signed contracts to teach in Turkey and China. Miss Marjorie Hostetter was to teach in Merzifoon, Turkey, and her sister Helen had signed to teach at the University of Lingnan, in China.

Mrs. Annie I. Conner, 90 years of age, passed away at the home of her step daughter, Mrs. Ned Powers. She was born Sept. 30, 1837, at Bangalore, near Calcutta, India.

For the third time in his life M. L. Fries of Arcadia had his name on the ticket as one of the presidential electors.

Only ten years ago users of electricity in Ord were given a lower rate, and it was stated that the substantial cut would please all users of electric energy.

The new cheese factory at North Loup was used for the first time, but not for the making of cheese.

Annual Frazier and Ira Manchester arranged a dance in celebration of the completion of the plant, and the patrons had an enjoyable affair.

Walter Leschinsky, well known Ord man, succumbed following an operation in Omaha, and was buried at his former home town, Grand Island.

County eighth grade promotions were held at the M. E. church in charge of Miss Clara McClatchey, with Herbert L. Cushing as speaker for the occasion.

The Emil Chotena family left for Olds, Alberta, Canada, to pay a visit to Emil's sister, Mrs. Will Kaiser and family.

A $38,000 bond issue was proposed by the city council for the purpose of installing a filtration plant in Ord. The proposition was to be voted upon June 26.

With four members of the Quiz force either sick or absent and a heavy run of advertising, the Quiz had to leave out a few departments to make room for advertising.

June 6, 1915.

Ord was to have a home guard company, and the names of no less than 54 persons were obtained in one day. It was easy to obtain names, as there were a large number too old or too young for regular service, and also a number who had been rejected in the army examinations.

Miss Ruth Barnes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hall Barnes, became the bride of Leland Stanford Overton of Bangor, Mich.

Miss Grace Work, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Work, became the bride of Francis Keating, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Keating.

Thousands of dollars worth of property was destroyed by a storm that came on Decoration Day. It was one of the hardest rains ever known in the valley, and Dane Creek reached a new flood stage.

A number of bridges were washed out in various places over the county, and the R. F. D. men found it impossible to make their rounds for several days.

Rev. John Grant Shick, pastor of the Methodist church, asked for a six months leave of absence from his duties so that he could go to France and engage in the Y. M. C. A. work.

The second Red Cross war fund drive in Valley county was oversubscribed by nearly one thousand dollars.

Miss Lillian Francel, daughter of Mrs. Mary Francel, became the bride of Henry Danberry of Madison Lake, Minn.

H. M. Davis went to Arcadia on a business mission, and was fined for speeding. If he drove at the same rate of speed today he would probably be taken up for obstructing traffic.

Miss Mable Ruth Nygren of Arcadia was married at Omaha to Lieut. Clinton J. Frank of Arcadia. Deaths of the week included Albert L. Howard, 15 year old son of Frank and Rose Howard; Jacob Karcz, 78, brother of Frank Karty; Carl Gross, 90, of Eureka township; and Thomas A. Davis, 71, well known in Ord.

The Coats barn dance for the benefit of the Red Cross was a great success, in spite of the fact that some miscreants stole a 5 gallon freezer of ice cream. The net receipts for the evening were more than $150.

Alfred Sorensen returned to Ft. Sill, Okla., to take up his work with the medical corps.

There was much excitement in the Jontie Level restaurant when a fire was started by a leaky oil stove.

June 11, 1905.

There was published in the Quiz a letter addressed to H. E. Oleson, county attorney, and A. Sutton, sheriff, demanding that the City of Ord be cleaned up. It was signed by a number of prominent citizens, and was the result of conditions in Ord that were not the best at the time due to liquor and gambling.

In reply Mr. Oleson explained that while it was evident the law was being violated nothing could be done unless sufficient proof could be produced in all cases.

On the front page of the Quiz appeared an ad starting, "I Know the Trouble With Your Eyes," signed by George A. Parkins. He is still doing that very thing.

The city council decided to pay $1.75 per man and $1.75 per team per day for work on the streets. Not a bad wage then, but it would be hard to get anybody to work for that now.

Roy Cox and Sadie Williams were married at the home of J. B. Williams by Rev. Shaw of the S. D. Baptist church of North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Thorngate of North Loup celebrated their golden wedding Sunday afternoon, June 14.

V. W. Robbins came back from a horse buying trip to Mason City and Morrill.

Theron Bechler returned from a visit to Marshalltown, Ia.

Charley Burdick had just had his house painted by Sig Milligan, leading painter of those days.

Ord and Arcadia were both making elaborate preparations for a Fourth of July celebration.

Arcadia and Sargent played a thirteen inning game of baseball at Arcadia, quitting with the score two to two to permit Sargent to catch the train home. The late Alvin Lewis was in the box for Arcadia, while Grover Cleveland Alexander of St. Paul pitched for Sargent.

After investigating costs of gathering old papers and the expense of shipping them and comparing with the prices offered, President G. W. Micklewait of the Methodist Aid Society announced that they would not attempt to gather old papers.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Strong were enjoying a visit from relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Sagar Rowse and their daughter of Rockford, Ill.

Will Heckler was carrying his arm in a sling as the result of a runaway.

Ord had three inches of rain in less than 48 hours. The canyons were running bank full, and some basements were filled.

June 10, 1898.

Charles Barbor of North Loup had charge of the Leader Hardware store during the absence of the proprietor.

W. E. Gowen tore down the old store building in North Loup west of the meat market.

J. G. Hastings and family of Pittsburg, Pa., arrived and were to spend the summer in Nebraska.

Members of the North Loup graduating class were Clara Clement, Grace Kellogg, Nina Rood, Minnie James, Cora Davis, Stella Smith, Anna Van Horn, Edna Arnold, Otha Hill, Orla Goodrich and Oakley Hurley.

Word had reached Ord of Lieut. R. P. Hobson's heroic feat of sinking the collier Merrimac in the mouth of the harbor of Santiago in an effort to plug up the exit so that the Spanish fleet could not escape.

Dr. Perry tried in vain to hire a man to mow the courthouse lawn, and then did the job himself.

John Meese was busy arousing interest in the Valley County Fair, of which he was president.

The McDonoughs, formerly of Ord, had leased the Palmer house in Grand Island and were to take possession at once. They were in Chicago buying furniture for the building.

W. A. Anderson was putting up a good quality lightning rod, which looked as though it would be all right.

A local lumberman, name not given, had placed an order with an eastern firm for eight cars of lumber, which was considered a big order in those days.

Miss Lena Belle Timmerman and Charles C. Brown were married by Rev. W. E. Hardaway at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. M. A. Timmerman in Springdale.

Editor Leggett returned from Michigan Tuesday night having had a fine time stamping around in the sand and hauling fish out of the lakes.

Fred Kuehl had just filed a deed from J. Henry Mohr for the southwest quarter of section 32, Ord township, the consideration being $3,000.

June 8, 1883.

The bridge across the river at Scotia was nearing completion. Grading for the U. P. track was also making good progress.

The Story of a Trumpet Player

By Lillian Karty.

I have a story. Behind that story is a cornet, and behind that cornet stands an eighteen year old boy. Incidentally, the boy, whose name is Jack Winston Henderson, better known to the public as Jack Winston, is the young man who played the leading parts in the Hugo show here last week. Many of the people who attended the show admired his cornet playing, and wondered about his instruction on that instrument. So, here is the story.

Jack has been in the show business ever since he was born. His mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. George Henderson, travel with any show that Jack is with. He was born in Randolph, Neb., where his father was playing in a show. At the time of his birth, the Civic Dramatic club of Randolph presented the baby with a club membership, and a deposit of thirteen dollars in the Randolph bank. It was with this money that Jack bought his first horn. Every time the orchestra played, Jack would stand near the cornet player and watch him. However, his father didn't want to buy the boy a horn until he was sure that he wanted to play that instrument. When Jack was twelve years old, he withdrew the money from the Randolph bank and bought himself his first cornet. His first instructor was Mike Kane, the famous band leader, and his second instructor was Mr. Kaechtell, a teacher from Columbia University. It was Mr. Kaechtell who persuaded Jack's father to buy a better horn for the boy. The singularly remarkable fact is that during his life, Jack has only had six months of instruction on the cornet. The rest was accomplished by his own steady practice.

His main ambition is to lead a large orchestra, similar to Paul Whiteman's. While he was attending school, Jack played at the World's Fair in Chicago, with the Pekin, Ill., high school band. Music, however, is only part of Jack's career. His acting is the other part. At present, if he had his choice between acting and music, he would choose music. His first acting was done when he was three years old, in a vaudeville specialty with Johnny Pringle, the father of the late John Gilbert, movie star. At fourteen, he played his first lead in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm." Since then he has played leading parts in most of Truman Freeland was writing the Willow Springs news for the Ord Quiz. He said the corn prospect was poor, due to the cold wet weather, but that the small grain looked good. The prospect was fine for wild fruit. Large numbers of fish were being caught in the Loup river.

H. M. Timmerman of Springdale said that all the corn in his neighborhood was coming along fine except some that had been planted in new ground where the wire worm was working.

Harter was selling out his entire stock of goods at cost in order to make room for boarders.

Five thousand bushels of wheat was wanted at the Ord City Mills for making into flour. As the mill was located across the river, one wonders where the wheat was to be stored.

Ord decided to have a July 4th celebration. The committee on arrangements was W. W. Haskell, H. Westover and H. A. Walker.

Sickness prevented T. T. Bell from attending to his school duties for a few days as Supt. of the Ord schools.

D. A. Gard reported that an election was to be held in Loup county June 23 for the purpose of determining a permanent location for the county seat. The three places to be voted upon were Spring Creek, Kent and Taylor.

Education has been a rather interesting venture to this boy. The longest time he has ever spent in one school is two years. During one year, while he was still in the grade school, the show he was traveling with spent a week in each town, and Jack went to school for one week in each town. His favorite subjects were Math. and History.

Jack says it takes four days of rehearsal to get a play in perfect shape. He usually learns his part in about two nights. When he is not working on a show, he spends his time in swimming or fishing.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

Believe it or not—Jean Ferguson washed Adam Dubas' car Tuesday. I'll bet she really worked.

Seems as though all of these boys who just come home to spend their vacation, go right off to other towns to spend what little time they do have to spend. For instance: Paul Carlsen, (you know, the sailor man) spent Thursday in Burwell. Fishing takes up quite a bit of time for Richard Severson, Bill Tunnelliff and Leonard Great-horn. Tuesday evening, Bill, Leonard and Rich went down to the dam to go fishing. However, something went wrong and the fish just didn't bite, so the boys gave up and drove to Wickman's pavilion in Loup City. But I'll bet they didn't do any fishing there.

Wedding dances certainly seem to have a magnetic attraction for younger people. They'll drive at least fifty miles just to take advantage of the free admission for a wedding dance. Emil Dargatz, Harold Barnes, Vernon Malolepszy, and Bus Hughes drove to the wedding dance at Comstock Wednesday. From Comstock, Bus motored to Sargent where he spent a couple of days visiting.

Around the town: Lowell Jones and Wauneta Cummins took in every night of the Hugo show last week. Jack Tunnelliff walking the streets of the town as though he had lost his last friend.

I wonder: how Katherine Mimble and Frances Peterson enjoyed their swim in the Loup river? Was the water cold, girls; why there was such a general feeling of melancholy when the Ord girls found out that good-looking Dean Underberg is leaving soon?

'Twas All a Dream. We dreamt the other night that we had our fingers caught in the posts of our bed and that, while we lay there helplessly awaiting the arrival of a blacksmith to free us, J. Hilton Rhoades of the opposition paper came into the room and shot several flashlight photos of us meanwhile laughing at us in high hilarity. Just as we were anxiously awaiting an issue of the paper, we woke!—Blair Pilot-Tribune.

Remember This Person?

The old time picture printed last week was not recognized, or at least nobody guessed who it was. Vern Stark ventured a guess that it might be H. D. Leggett, and he was the only one who even made a guess. The fact is that it was W. T. McLain, and the fact that he was somewhat fatter than than now made recognition difficult. Above is shown another old timer for you to guess at.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Davis and family called on John McNeal's Saturday evening. Mr. McNeal and Mr. Davis were renewing old acquaintances, having known each other when they lived at Humboldt.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Eglehoff and Paul Dean visited at Alfred Christensen's Sunday.

Mrs. Will Eglehoff got 300 white leghorn chickens from Lincoln Monday.

Mrs. Herbert Goff is on the sick list this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Orent called on Cecil Vaalloosen's Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Fuller and Menzo were dinner guests of Bert Williams Saturday. In the afternoon Nathan Maxson's called there.

Mrs. Will Eglehoff entertained the U. B. Ladies Aid Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Davis were dinner guests of Will Davis' Saturday.

Harold and Albert Siegel called on the Williams boys Saturday.

Will Wheatcraft's called on Frank Siegel's Wednesday evening. Rena Maxson visited Marjorie and Eula Brown Sunday.

Mrs. Will Eglehoff plans to go to Grand Island Sunday where she will take a train for Washington to visit her sister.

Mrs. Harold Williams visited Bert Williams' Thursday afternoon. Delpha Williams went home with her and remained until Saturday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Eglehoff and son were supper guests of Will Eglehoff's Friday.

The high school kids in Milwaukee, Wis., need do no explaining to stern parents when they can prove they've been attending Club Sahara. This night club boasts booths as tricky as those found in ordinary cocktail lounges; yet its "liquorless list" is made up of only ice cream sodas and soft drinks. Music for dancing is provided by a girls' orchestra while the floor show has won approval of ministers. The above picture proves that the spot is popular.

Burwell News

Written by Rev. W. L. GOODELL

Bonsall-Blake.
A very pretty church wedding took place Sunday morning at 8 o'clock in the Methodist church when Miss Pauline Blake, daughter of William Blake of Burwell and Marlon Bonsall, son of Mrs. Laura Bonsall of Burwell were united in marriage by Rev. J. Bruce Wylie. To the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Robert Dittich, the couple took their place at the altar attended by June Blake, sister of the bride and Henry Bonsall, brother of the groom. The bride was attired in a white lace gown with hat and other accessories to match. The bridesmaid was dressed in a pink lace gown with hat and accessories to match. The church was beautifully decorated with cut flowers. About 20 of the immediate relatives and close friends of the couple were present. Following the ceremony the guests were invited to the home of the bride's father where a wedding breakfast was served. The couple left for a wedding trip after which they will make their home in Burwell where Mr. Bonsall is engaged in the trucking business. They are both well known in this community and have the best wishes of their many friends.

Mrs. Ferd Wheeler is in receipt of a letter from her uncle, Frank Nedbalek of McCord, Saskatchewan, a former resident of Burwell, who reports that they are having lots of rain and a good prospect for crops this year. They were glad for the rains which put a stop to the dust storms they have been having for several years.

Miss Ione Key of Winner, S. D., came Saturday for a visit with friends and relatives in Burwell. Mrs. Marlon Lange of Great Bend, Kas., came Saturday for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Partridge. She will be remembered as Joyce Partridge. Mrs. Harry Maitland went to Lincoln last Wednesday to be with her son Donald who is a graduate of the state university this spring. Mr. Maitland left for Lincoln Sunday to be present also for the commencement exercises which were held Monday. Donald has specialized in accounting.

The Food Center Store was robbed sometime last Thursday night of a small amount of bills and silver. Entrance was gained by removing a piece of glass from the rear door on the south side of the building. Dick Banks, the manager, is quite sure the robbery was committed by someone who was familiar with the interior of the building. A padlock was broken the same night on one of the Sinclair gasoline pumps at the Fred Hurlbert filling station and about 15 or 20 gallons of gasoline were taken. This is the second time in the last two weeks that gasoline has been stolen from these pumps.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Malicky returned to Scottsbluffs Friday and returned with a truck load of potatoes. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gilbert of Wayne visited his sister, Mrs. Al Partridge before Memorial Day and decorated the graves of their loved ones.

Robert Enger of Ogden, U. S., came Sunday to be a guest of Homer Livermore and other friends and relatives. Tobe Tetschner went to North Loup Friday to visit his mother, Mrs. Max Tetschner. Carrol Nixon is spending a week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Nixon. Carrol is a member of the CCC camp at Pawnee City.

All of the vacancies on the teaching staff of the Burwell school have been filled except one. At a meeting of the school board, recently, Miss Marcia Rood of North Loup was engaged to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of her sister, Miss Eunice Rood in the kindergarten and opportunity room; Miss Carol Duncan of Lincoln will teach the sixth grade and Miss Gertrude Elm of Genoa, the third grade. Miss Rood has taught in her home town for several years. Miss Duncan was graduated from Nebraska Wesleyan University this spring.

The Monday afternoon 4-H club met at the home of Janet Berryman Monday afternoon for their second lesson in sewing. Mrs. Ralph Douglas, assistant leader, presented the lesson in the absence of the leader, Mrs. A. C. Duncan. For their first project the girls made sewing boxes, pin cushions and needle cases. The next project will be the embroidering of a hand towel. Refreshments of ice cream, cake and lemonade were served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be held at the home of Marjorie Bangert on Monday, June 20.

The association of the Congregational church met at the church at 2 o'clock Tuesday and were taken in cars to the home of Mrs. Lloyd Alderman, northeast of town. The lesson on foreign missions was presented by Mrs. H. J. Coffin. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Ferd Butts, Mrs. Emma Mitchell, Mrs. H. Grunkemeyer and Mrs. Frank Baker. Delicious refreshments were served.

The Philathea class of the Christian church Bible school was raymond at the home of Mrs. Raymond Johnson Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Ida Steffin and Mrs. Nellie McMullen assisting hostesses. Following the business session the afternoon was spent binding a quilt recently quilted by the class. Delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Chas. Anderson and daughters Esther and Irene went to Ord Saturday evening to visit Mrs. Henry Poling who underwent an operation in the Miller hospital Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Key and son of Winner, S. D., were guests of his grandfather, W. E. Rice and his aunt, Mrs. Leo Demaree Sunday. They were on their way home from Spalding where Mrs. Key had been visiting relatives. They left for South Dakota Sunday evening.

Lloyd and Grace Mills of Westerville were Saturday and Sunday night guests in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie. The former had his tonsils removed in Dr. E. J. Smith's office Saturday.

Mrs. Fay Livermore and son Homer returned home Friday after spending a few days visiting relatives in Lincoln. The rodeo and fair board met last Tuesday evening and made arrangements for contracts to be signed to secure some nationally known performers for Nebraska's big rodeo which is to be held Aug. 10, 11 and 12. Claire Thompson of Springtown, Tex., has charge of contracts of several talented performers, among whom are Colonel C. F. Hafley, impersonator of Buffalo Bill and Miss Mamie Francis, world's champion rifle shot. Trick riders are Vern Goodrich, George Pitman, John Lindsay, Chester Byrd, Dick Wilcox and Dick Griffith.

Lady bone riders include Myrtle Goodrich and Ted Lucas. Mrs. J. C. Fletcher and son Olin of Brewster and Mr. and Mrs. Garland Davenport and son Robert Jay were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Herbst Sunday. Mrs. Frances DeLashmutt and son Keith went to Lincoln last Thursday and were accompanied home Sunday by Harry DeLashmutt who had been attending school at the state university and also Chester Barker of Aurora who is spending a few days visiting here. Mrs. DeLashmutt was accompanied to Lincoln by Mrs. Fred Schnable who went from there to Omaha to visit relatives.

Miss Gwen Beynon left Tuesday morning for Lincoln where she will attend summer school at the state university. She accompanied friends from Ord. John Wheeler and Lee Wheeler of Loup City were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry McMullep last Wednesday and Thursday. John Wheeler is Mrs. McMullep's father and Lee is her nephew. Mrs. Frank Schuyler returned home Tuesday from Wolbach where she visited since Friday in the home of her son, John Schuyler and family.

Ed Claussen and Mr. and Mrs. Otto Claussen and family spent Sunday in Hastings visiting relatives. They encountered quite a hard rain near St. Paul on their way home. Miss Doris Miller of Omaha returned to her home Sunday on the bus after spending a week visiting friends in Burwell.

Prof. Geo. West left Tuesday morning for Lincoln where he will attend a four weeks' session at the University of Nebraska. Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Mitchell left Saturday morning for Ogden, U. S., where they plan to visit about ten days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner and other relatives.

Mrs. Ralph Brownell and Chas. Green drove to Lincoln Saturday morning and returned home that evening accompanied by Robert Brownell who will spend his summer vacation at home. He was a student in the University of Nebraska this year. A pre-nuptial shower was given Friday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wagner in honor of Miss Pauline Blake who became the bride of Marlon Bonsall Sunday morning. The hostesses were Doris Weber, Florence Grabowski and Mrs. Geo. Bartholomew. Eleven guests were present and enjoyed the evening playing games. The guest of honor received many lovely gifts. Refreshments were served by the hostesses at 11:30. Luella Williams, Anna Mohr and Ruby Hall left Tuesday for Lincoln to attend summer school at the University of Nebraska.

This Week's Patterns

SUMMER'S almost here and summer ideas draw the spotlight. Ideal for housework and gardening is Pattern 8199, a crisp, fresh frock designed for ease of motion. Sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, 42, and 44. Warm afternoons bring out the daytime frock, Pattern 8211, a dress softened by a cute collar and full-at-the-shoulder sleeves. Sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, and 40. For the tiny girl's summer play there's the party frock, Pattern 8115, featuring box pleats in the skirt and angel-wing sleeves. Sizes: 2, 3, 4, 5, and 6 years. Street wear and spectator sports suggest a bolero, Pattern 8209, smart in linen or pique. Contrast may be attained by using a plain color in the dress, a figure in the jacket. Sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, and 40.

Address your envelope to Ord Quiz Fashion Bureau, 11-13 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Baker of Fairmont and Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Wagner of Beatrice came Sunday to enjoy a birthday dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Baker honoring Mr. Baker's birthday. Gilbert Clark of Lexington was also a guest at the dinner.

Beer Industry Launches 'Good Citizenship' Drive

Lincoln—The fused forces of Nebraska's $30,000,000-a-year beer industry are today moving to launch a state-wide "good citizenship" effort under the leadership of Charles E. Sandall, a widely known York, Ia. v. e. legislator-farmer and former U. S. district attorney at Omaha during prohibition. Forming the Nebraska Brewers and Beer Distributors Committee here last Sunday to safe-guard the temperate, social and economic benefits of legalized beer in this state, brewers and beer wholesalers unanimously adopted a law enforcement-educational program. The following executive committee was appointed: Chairman, Robert A. Drum; president, Fontenelle Brewing Corporation, Omaha; secretary, Arthur E. Storz, sales manager of Storz Brewing Corporation, Omaha; treasurer, Charles E. Metz, advertising manager, Falstaff Brewing Corporation, Omaha; and Richard G. Knedler, jr., executive secretary of Brewing Industry, Inc., Chicago. Among regional sub-committee chairmen appointed was Olof Olsson of Ord.

Otto Heuck Makes Perfect Trap Score

The Quiz is indebted to J. V. Howerton of Buhl, Ida., for a clipping from a paper showing the pictures of the winners in the Pocatello registered traps meet. Seven persons are shown in the picture with Otto Heuck of Boise, leading with a perfect score of 100. He was crowded by two others with 99 each, one had 98 and the other three, 96. It is no surprise to Heuck's old friends here in Ord to hear of his good shooting. Bud Shirley, Dr. G. W. Taylor and others can attest his skill with a gun when he lived in Ord.

Two Special Days Coming

According to the calendar there are two special days to be celebrated this week. The first comes Friday, June 10, and is designated as Children's Day, and the other, June 14, is Flag Day. Neither is an official holiday in Nebraska, although Flag Day is recognized as a holiday in some of the states.

Elvie Inness of Meadow Grove spent Sunday in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Inness.

Mrs. Virgil Ronzo and Mrs. Walter Voss spent the latter part of last week visiting in the home of their sister in North Loup.

Mrs. Phillip Frost and son Francis of Ballagh have been spending a couple of weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Gauke. Lucille Francis is attending the confirmation school at the Catholic church.

The New Century club was entertained last Wednesday afternoon in the country home of Mrs. Lela Reed near Valley View. Seventeen members attended and enjoyed the afternoon hours visiting after the business session. Lovely refreshments were served by the hostess.

Katherine Elizabeth Hayes.

Katherine Elizabeth Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hayes, was born in Omaha, Nebraska, August 3, 1917, and passed away June 4, 1933 on a farm near Amelia, Neb., at the age of 20 years, 10 months and 1 day. When she was still quite young she moved with her family to Ralston, and it was there that she received her education. After 15 years of residence in Ralston the family moved again to Omaha where they lived 3 years before moving to a farm near Amelia recently. She had been in poor health for the past two years and it was in hopes of benefiting her health that they moved to the farm. She was a great lover of the out of doors and took a special interest in her two pet dogs. Her father and one sister preceded her in death. Besides her mother she is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Geo. Fuchs of Omaha, Gladys and Aleph, both of Amelia, three brothers, Floyd of Omaha, and Edward and Robert, both of Amelia, also three uncles living in Nebraska, Isaac Taylor of Chambers, Fred Taylor of Amelia and O. W. Taylor of Burwell and other relatives and friends.

The funeral services were held in the Mitchell mortuary on Tuesday afternoon, June 7 at 3:30 p. m., in charge of Rev. W. L. Goodell. Burial was in the Burwell cemetery.

Milk is our most valuable food, and the only food for which there is no adequate substitute in human nutrition. Unfortunately, it is a good food for harmful bacteria as well as for the human race. Pasteurization of clean milk of high quality averts all possible dangers from germ life, without impairing the unsurpassed nutritive properties of this indispensable food. Pasteurized milk of good quality is an ideal food from the standpoint of safety as well as of nourishment. Recent experiments have shown that Pasteurization makes milk more digestible.

Miss Donna Clark entertained Miss Dorothea Hudson, Alberta Russell, Dorothy Bly, Helene Starr, Mrs. Carolyn Crist, Mrs. Donald Murray and Mrs. John Higgins of Laramie, Wyo., at the home of her parents. Luncheon for both parties was served at the hotel.

Miss Helen Starr was taking the school census the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Richmond Barbour moved Monday to the stone house of John White. They have rented the furniture of W. D. Cass, Supt. of the Arcadia school. Mr. and Mrs. Cass will spend most of their vacation with her parents, her father being in poor health.

Miss Bessie Murray and her niece Miss Dorothea Hudson drove to Ravenna Sunday afternoon accompanied by Miss Rose Minnie who spent the week end with Miss Dorothea at the home of Bessie Murray. Miss Minnie teaches the kindergarten in the Arcadia school and will leave Ravenna for Lincoln where she will attend summer school. Miss Murray and Miss Hudson had to stay in Ravenna over night on account of a heavy rain.

DAVIS CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Robin Wright of Boulder, Colo., came Wednesday by auto to visit Mrs. Wright's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Palser, and brother, Everett Wright. They had one week's vacation and expect to return to Boulder on Tuesday.

Quarterly meeting was held at the United Brethren church Sunday. Regular services were held in the morning with Midvale as guests at a basket dinner in the basement. A business session was held in the afternoon.

Mrs. Geo. Palser returned home last week from a three weeks' visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Timpson of Loup City.

Mrs. Grace Palser and children visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Beck in Scotia last Wednesday.

Les Jonson of the U.S.S. Minneapolis and his father, Emil Jonson of Chapman were guests in the Otto Bartz home Wednesday night and Thursday. Les is on a month's vacation and took this opportunity to renew acquaintances in North Loup. He is on the same boat with John Sample and left John fine but not able to get a leave at this time. Les' term of enlistment will be completed a year from next September.

Gilbert Babcock took his mother, Mrs. Martha Babcock to Grand Island Friday afternoon where she left on the Challenger for a visit with relatives and friends near Fond du Lac, Wis. One event of the trip will be a visit with a sister whom she has not seen for twenty-eight years. Her younger boys and Donnie are in the country with their older brothers and sister while Lillian and Ilda have places in town to be able to care for their paper route. Mrs. Babcock's trip was a gift of her brothers and sister.

MAKE YOUR » » » Meat Dollars DO MORE WORK

You can make your meat dollars go farther by trading exclusively at this market because, while we never feature "cut prices" for a day or two only, and then raise prices afterward, we do offer the lowest day-after-day meat prices in Ord.

Meat is always priced fairly at our market. Moreover, quality of all our meats is always high. We are experts in selecting, in cutting, in preparing and refrigerating meats.

Do as hundreds of other families in the Ord community do—trade entirely at our market.

Proceedings of the County Board

Meeting called to order by Chairman with supervisors Jablonski, Suchanek, Bremer, Zikmund, Ball, Barber and Johnson present for roll call.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved as read.

Bank balances as of May 31, 1938 read as follows: First National Bank, Arcadia, $19,845.66; First National Bank, Ord, $11,785.05; Nebraska State Bank, Ord, $60,573.77.

Ernest S. Coats appeared before Board, and presented a petition signed by F. J. Hackel, and 33 others, approving his methods of assessing in Vinton Township, in 1938, particularly with reference to the assessment of tractors. The action on same was deferred until meeting of Board of Equalization on June 14, 15 and 16th, upon motion duly carried.

Moved that County Treasurer be directed to file proper claim against estate of Austin L. Smith, deceased, for $366.00, to cover total payments received by him for Old Age Assistance, under provisions of Sec. 12, of H. R. No. 17, passed by the 1935 Legislature. Motion was duly carried. It being 11:00 o'clock A. M. the Board took up matter of reviewing the 1938 County Budget, for balance of forenoon.

Being noon, meeting recessed until 1:00 o'clock P. M., when again called to order by Chairman with all Supervisors present.

The County Relief Director was then authorized to make commitments against Unemployment Relief Fund for Direct Relief, for amounts not exceeding an aggregate total of $600.00, upon motion duly carried.

The Road and Bridge Committee then submitted a report of the activities of the Bridge Department, during the period of the month of May, 1938, and the same was upon motion duly carried, accepted and ordered placed on file.

Davis Creek Boy Must Carry Arms in Slings

At some time during their lives, most active boys succeed in failing, breaking an arm or leg, but Harold Larsen, of Davis Creek, did more—he fell from a swing and broke both of his arms just above the wrist. In one arm only one bone was broken, in the other both bones were fractured. For several weeks Harold will have to carry both of his arms in slings like this, but he can still smile in spite of the discomfort.—Photo by Birmingham.

Hail Devastates 100,000 Acres Farm Land

Cummins Doubts Test Station Be Self-Supporting

Thinks City Should Install It Anyway, Tho Annual Levy May Be Needed For It.

Doubt that the proposed municipal car testing station will be self-supporting, though he still believes Ord should install it, was expressed yesterday by M. B. Cummins, mayor, in a statement to the Quiz, which he asked might be published so citizens may understand his position in the matter.

Cost of equipment, rental and overhead expense will be not less than $2,000 the first year, which must be paid out of the general fund, and at least several years of revenue from car testing will be needed to repay initial cost to the general fund. Mayor Cummins says he doubts if revenue, over operating costs, ever will leave a surplus sufficient to repay the initial investment.

"If the state should later require all cars to be tested semi-annually instead of annually, sufficient profit might be made by the station to pay off the investment we make in it," Cummins stated.

"However, citizens of Ord must not expect to get their original investment back and it is far more likely that a tax levy each year will be needed to raise funds for its support," the mayor said.

He points out that 3,000 to 4,000 cars are as many as may be logically expected to be tested each year by the station. Salaries of testers he estimates at $1,500 per year, in addition to which there will be cost of fuel, rental, supplies, interest on investment, upkeep, etc. Revenue at 50c per car will be $1,500 to $2,000 per year, he estimates, and he believes a

Recount Confirms Dworak's Election

Election of J. L. Dworak as 2nd ward councilman was confirmed by County Judge John L. Andersen this morning after a recount of ballots showed Dworak in the lead over Guy Burrows by a vote of 153 to 155. The recount was ordered when Burrows, the former councilman, contested the election.

Original vote was 159 for Dworak, 153 for Burrows. Irregularities in the count were found this morning, changing the final vote by giving Dworak a greater margin than the original count indicated.

Before counting started two witnesses, Mrs. Hans Andersen and E. C. James, both of whom were members of the 2nd ward election board, were called by Munn & Norman, who served as counsel for Mr. Burrows. Both witnesses testified that there were mistakes in tallying made by the board of which they were members.

Tellers appointed by Judge Andersen were E. L. Vogelzang, who was Councilman Dworak's attorney, and Ralph Norman, of Burrows' counsel.

Dworak has been serving as 2nd ward councilman since new members were seated this spring and Judge Andersen's verdict after recounting was completed this morning confirms him in the office for a 2-year term.

Bannister's Daughter Killed in Car Accident

Through the courtesy of W. A. Apperson the Quiz is in receipt of the account of the recent fatal accident that caused the death of Mrs. Esther Mayer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Bannister of Oshkosh, Neb. The Mayers had been visiting in Oshkosh, and were on their way home to Long Beach, Calif., when the accident occurred.

Lieut. Mayer, who is a World War veteran and lost one leg in the service, had driven the car for some time, and had relinquished the wheel to his wife and was trying to get some sleep in the back of the car when he was awakened by the car weaving from one side of the road to the other, and then the car turned over several times. Mrs. Mayer was fatally injured and lived for some time after the accident, but Mr. Mayer was unable to get out of the car to help her.

The accident occurred eight miles north of McDermitt, Nev. The American Legion post at Winnemucca took charge of affairs, and did all they could to assist the bereaved husband. The Bannisters were well known in Ord, and their daughter will be recalled by older residents. Besides her father and mother, she is survived by a brother, William, of Aurora, Neb.

Advertising Folder Is Issued by the C. of C.

A six page folder, printed in two colors and advertising the advantages of Ord and the North Loup valley as ideal locations for farmers, business men or industries looking for new opportunities, was issued this week by the job printing department of the Quiz for the Ord Chamber of Commerce. A map of the North Loup project, with irrigable acreage printed in green, is shown on the folder. Pictures of irrigation structures and Ord buildings also are used and the folder contains much descriptive matter about Ord and the valley.

A supply of these folders will be distributed free to Chamber of Commerce members this week, for their use in mailing to friends. Ord people who are not members of the Chamber may secure the folders at very nominal cost from Alfred Wiegardt, secretary.

Ord Editor Elected Official of Midwest

At a convention of Midwest Rural Newspapers, Inc., held Friday and Saturday at the President hotel in Kansas City, E. C. Leggett, editor of the Quiz, was elected permanent vice-president of the group, which comprises select weekly and semi-weekly newspapers in nine midwestern states. He had been serving as temporary vice-president of the group since last September, when it was first organized. Tom B. Purcell, of Iowa Falls, Ia., is president of Midwest, and Fred W. Hill, of Hamburg, Ia., is secretary-treasurer.

Principal offices of the group will be maintained in the Shops Building at Des Moines, Ia., with Charles Clarke as manager and advertising offices also will be maintained in St. Louis. A contract for advertising representation in New York and other eastern cities has been signed with Woodyard Associates, a group of select weeklies taking in nearly all states not members of the Midwest organization.

Sixty-five Nebraska newspapers hold membership in the Midwest group and there are 450 in the entire organization, which includes the states of Missouri, Iowa, North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, Wisconsin, Indiana, Illinois and Nebraska.

New Tax Levies Fixed Friday by Ord City Council

City Levy for 1938 Will Be .3 of Mill Higher; General Fund Is in "the Red."

Partly because the general fund is "in the red" but principally because of the necessity of providing extra funds for installation of a municipal car testing station, the 1938 tax levies fixed Friday evening by Mayor M. B. Cummins and the city council total .3 of a mill higher than levies made in 1937. The total this year is 13.7 mills; last year it was 13.4 mills.

By funds, the 1938 levies adopted Friday are as follows:

Street fund	Mills
General fund	4.5
Street lighting fund	2.0
Park fund	2.0
Cemetery fund	4.0
Fire department fund	0.0
Band fund	4.0
Water fund	25.0
Refunding bonds fund	15.0
City hall bonds	2.0
Intersection paving bonds	1.25

Chief difference in the 1938 levy is elimination of a fire department levy of .2 of a mill by the council and addition of .5 of a mill to the general fund levy, making the total levy .3 of a mill higher.

Valuation of city property this year will be approximately 5 per cent lower than in 1937, says County Treasurer George Satterfield. The 1937 valuation was $1,701,060.

Ever since the fire engine was bought—a measure necessary for the protection of property from fire—the city general fund has been running behind, believes Mayor Cummins, and he so informed the city council Friday evening.

The city owes $55,000 in 6 per cent paving bonds, due in 1940, $29,900 in 6 per cent intersection bonds, due in 1940, and $45,000 in refunding bonds drawing 4 per cent interest on which the city is obligated to pay $2,500 per year, besides the interest. Total interest payments falling due annually on bonds outstanding amounts to $6,894.00. Mayor Cummins says he will recommend that the city refund the paving bonds and intersection bonds when they fall due in 1940, hoping to issue them at 4 per cent interest or less, thus making a considerable saving.

No. Loup District To Start Selling Power by July 1

Contractor Kerns Promises Finish Sub-stations Not Later than June 21.

That the North Loup district will be in position to start furnishing electricity to cities of Ord and Burwell by July 1 was the statement made Monday by E. H. Dumire, engineer-manager.

The John F. Kerns Company, of Omaha, contractor on lines from Olean to Burwell, has agreed to have substations at Ord and Burwell finished by June 22. All high-lines were completed several days ago.

The Ord substation will be located at the southeast corner of the municipal plant while the Burwell substation is to be located at the edge of that village.

If Kerns workmen complete their job by June 22, the lines will be electrified and tested, and if equipment proves satisfactory the district will at once commence furnishing power to Ord and Burwell under contracts signed several months ago.

Electricity sold here this summer will come from the Columbus project, although the district's contract is with the Sutherland which is not now in production. Later, when repairs to the Sutherland dam and equipment are completed, electricity sold here will come from this project.

Construction of laterals began Tuesday morning at the north end of the district, in Loup county, reported Mr. Dumire, and will be pushed to completion with all rapidity. The Inland Construction company has the contract for laterals.

Four farmers in the North Loup area, including W. O. Zanger of Olean, are utilizing irrigation water either direct from the main canal or by laterals dug by themselves. In spite of frequent rains this spring, Mr. Zanger says that it paid him to irrigate a field of alfalfa, proving his point by showing how much heavier yield he is getting on the irrigated portion of the field in comparison with a corner of the field that he did not irrigate.

Interment Friday of Mrs. Wm. H. Carson

Friday afternoon funeral rites were held at the Methodist church for Mrs. William H. Carson, 70, who died at her home in Ord on June 7 after a brief illness. Rev. Mearl C. Smith conducted the obsequies and interment was in the Ord cemetery beside her husband and son Glenn, who preceded her in death.

Elizabeth Bell was born Nov. 2, 1867 on a farm near Monmouth, Ill., coming to Nebraska with her parents at the age of 16 and residing with them on their farm in Mira Valley until her marriage to William Harper Carson.

Left to mourn are two sons, Ralph E. Carson, of Lewistown, Mont., and Leigh H. Carson, of Los Angeles, both of whom were in Ord for the funeral; also two sisters, four brothers and several grandchildren. Until a few years ago Mrs. Carson was a member and active worker in the Presbyterian church and also of the Eastern Star lodge. She was a neighborhood woman, friendly with all, and in her passing Ord loses one whose place will be hard to fill.

Jerry Petska Buys Sarah McLain Bldg.

For an unexplained sum of money, Jerry Petska this week purchased from Miss Sarah McLain the business building located next door to the Fafaita building where Mr. Petska's grocery now is conducted. The McLain building has been vacant several weeks since Tom Springer moved his variety store to the west side of the square.

Mr. Petska said yesterday his lease on the Fafaita building has 2 1/2 months to run and he will devote this time to remodeling and redecorating interior of his new store. He is considering installing a new store front also, though he has not yet definitely decided.

Arden Clark Chosen Swimming Instructor

Last week it was announced through the Quiz that the Red Cross was looking for someone who would attend instruction school and take charge of the swimming and safety first classes. The place was filled promptly by the selection of Arden Clark, who left Sunday for Rockaway Beach, at Tanacomoco, Mo., where he will receive two weeks' instruction. He expects to return Saturday, June 25, and swimming classes will be organized at that time for the summer.

The Quiz Visited Valley County Farms . . . Found Scenes Like These

Mr. White Falls Off Stack, Suffers Serious Injuries

Arcadia Man's Back Broken In Accident Monday; Is At L. C. Hospital.

Arcadia—(Special)—Everett White, about 30 years old, suffered a broken back and other serious injuries when he fell off a stack backwards about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon while putting up alfalfa on his farm near here. He struck on his head and shoulders.

Several men were helping White with hay and at once went to his assistance. There was no car in the field and no telephone in the house so a team was sent to summon help.

Unconscious from the fall, Mr. White was taken to the office of Dr. J. W. Baird in Arcadia and later, because x-ray examination was deemed necessary, was taken to the hospital at Loup City.

There it was decided that two vertebrae in his back were fractured and several ribs broken, and that there were other serious injuries. A specialist from Omaha was summoned to attend him Tuesday. Last reports Tuesday night were that Mr. White was still alive and doing as well as could be expected.

He is a son of John White of this village.

Two Couples Are Wed By Judge Andersen

County Judge John L. Andersen granted a marriage license Wednesday, June 3, to Vance A. Ohme, son of Oscar Ohme, and Miss Minnie A. Bundy, daughter of Al Bundy of Arcadia. With Everett and Miss Alice Bundy as witnesses he performed the ceremony that made them man and wife.

Friday Judge Andersen issued a license to Raymond E. Hulbert, son of Ed Hulbert of Ord, and Miss Olga A. Lukes, daughter of Albert Lukes of Ord. Sunday at the Rex Jewett home with Miss Dorothy Greenwalt and Walter Conner as witnesses, the judge performed the marriage ceremony. The young people left following the ceremony for Grand Island on their wedding trip.

The Judge issued a license Saturday to Mike Sok, of Loup City and Miss Marie Alice Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Gross of Ord.

Townsend Lecturer Met With Approval

Thursday evening under the auspices of the local Townsendsites Carl E. Knapp of Lincoln delivered a splendid address from the west steps of the court house. Whether they agreed with his theme or not, all who heard him were impressed with his knowledge of the subject and the clear, concise way he had of presenting it. Mr. Knapp was formerly a minister of Litchfield, and for several years was platform manager for a chaufaueque system. He is one of the best speakers heard in Ord for a long time, and his voice carried far and wide on the Auble Bros. public address system, which was obtained for the occasion. He went from here to Burwell, where he delivered an address Friday evening.

Mavis Warden to Sing At Band Concert Tonight

Miss Mavis Warden, the 15-year-old Arcadia girl who a few weeks ago won the highest medium voice award in the national music contest at Omaha, will be featured soloist with the Ord municipal band at its concert tonight. She will sing "In the Garden of Tomorrow" by Deppen, and "I Double Dare You" by Shand & Eaton, both with band accompaniment. Miss Warden leaves soon to take special music training at a summer camp on Lake Okoboji, Iowa.

Another feature tonight will be special selections by a popular boys' quartet, Dick Koppal, Eugene Puncchoar, Edwin Hitchman and Allen Zikmund.

Other numbers to be played by the band include: "The Ambassador March," by Holmes. "A Novel Novelette," gavotte by Chenette. "Philo Senate," march by Hall. "Sunrise on the Mountain," waltz by Holmes. "Dawn in the Forest," overture by Jarrett. "Camilla," Chilian dance by Bone. "March of Time," a musical panorama of fifty years, by Barnhouse. "California Polka," Bohemian selection by Echter. "Kentucky Sunrise," two-step by King. "My Nebraska," by Diers, with special vocal chorus.

—Mrs. J. F. Paplernik underwent major surgical treatment at the Ord hospital last Wednesday and her condition is reported to be satisfactory.

Concrete Base for New Diesel Takes 1 1/2 Cars of Cement

Foundation 12 Feet Wide and 35 Feet Long Completed by Workmen Monday.

Eighteen men working in 5-hour shifts under the direction of George Allen, light and water commissioner, Monday completed construction of the huge concrete base for the city's new 550 k. w. diesel engine. Pouring of concrete started at 6:00 a. m. and continued constantly until 8:00 p. m., when the job was finished.

Eight hundred and forty sacks of cement, or almost 1 1/2 railroad carloads, were required for the base. There are 525 sacks of cement shipped in a standard railway car.

The base is 12 feet wide, 35 feet long and 11 feet deep. One hundred and forty cubic yards of concrete were mixed and used in its construction.

Jess Thomas, who came to Ord as a foreman for the Inland Construction company to work on the irrigation project, built the forms for the base and helped Mr. Allen in supervising the pouring of concrete.

Some time this week the big diesel will be moved into the plant and onto its base, after which workmen will assemble it. It will be running in about 30 days, Mr. Allen estimates.

Ord Booster Club Will Hold Election

A called meeting of the Ord Booster Club will be held Friday evening at the American Legion hall for the purpose of electing officers and transacting other important business. A full attendance is desired. Ed Kokes is president and A. J. Auble is secretary of the club at present.

Three Candidates File

George S. Round, present incumbent, filed the latter part of the week for sheriff on the republican ticket. George Satterfield, present treasurer, filed for that office on the republican ticket. H. A. Bellinger, a new man in the field, has filed for the democratic nomination for supervisor in the 7th district, comprising Arcadia, Yale and Liberty townships.

Northeast Section Of Valley County Felt Storm's Fury

Loup, Garfield and Greeley Counties Also in Area; Buildings Damaged.

One of the most extensive and destructive storms ever to visit the valley wrought havoc with crops, stock and buildings over a wide area Friday evening. Starting in the vicinity of Duff in the north part of Loup county, the storm followed a generally east-south-east direction, terminating over in Greeley county in the vicinity of O'Connor. Heavy rain is reported all along the path of the storm, which was about three miles wide north of Burwell and increased in width and fury as it progressed.

Hail is reported from the start, but this increased in quantity and size, some north and east of Ord being as large as a baseball. It was accompanied by a terrific wind which added greatly to the destruction caused by the hail. North of Burwell part of the grain stalks were left standing, although the crop was ruined, but north and northeast of Ord all grain was cut off level with the ground.

What crops were not ruined by the hail were destroyed by the cloudburst that accompanied it. Joe Hybl, northeast of Ord, believes that from three to four inches of rain fell in a period of less than an hour. All low places in the fields, creeks, and the water will kill out the crops there before it subsides. Dirt was washed into the furrows of the listed corn and much of the corn was covered up, preventing it from coming on again.

A few examples of the destruction wrought to buildings and stock will give a picture of conditions throughout the path of the storm. At the Joe Dworak place the hail broke out a storm window and a heavy plate glass window behind it, permitting the rain to blow in and ruin the furniture. It rattled the window shade, and the water soaked the piano. The hail punched holes in the good shingle roof, and practically ruined older roofs.

At the Joe Hybl place occurred the greatest loss of stock so far reported. The storm caught some forty pound pigs away from shelter. One was killed outright, and six were badly hurt. They saved the meat by butchering the pig at once, and they also dressed a dozen of their larger spring chickens. Forty or more of the smaller chickens were also killed and half a dozen early goslings.

In width the hailed section northeast of Ord extends from the Will Cronk place to the county line on the Ericson road. A hundred or more farmers in Valley county lost all their crops, and perhaps that many more in Garfield county, with losses in Loup and Greeley counties. It is estimated that not more than ten to fifteen percent of the loss is covered by crop insurance.

Several unusual stories are told of the storm. A colt on the Herriman Swanson place was knocked senseless by hail, washed under the fence by the flood, and finally came out of it not much the worse.

J. E. Tolen Dies At His Home in Ord

Closing a well rounded life of more than 83 years, James Edward Tolen passed quietly away at his home in Ord Tuesday evening at 11:00 p. m. The body is at the Pearson-Anderson chapel, from which the funeral will be held Thursday afternoon, according to present plans. The complete story of Mr. Tolen's life will appear next week.

Orin M. Ferris Dies at Veterans' Hospital

A. J. Ferris of Ord received the sad news Saturday that his brother, Orin M., had passed away that morning at 3:10 in the Veterans' Hospital in Lincoln. Last February Mr. Ferris was taken to the Veterans' Hospital in Los Angeles, where he was found to be suffering from an incurable cancer. About a month ago he was brought by his Ord relatives to the Lincoln hospital, as he wished to be near his relatives.

Funeral services were held in Lincoln at 10:30 a. m. Monday, Mr. Ferris going down from Ord to be in attendance. A military funeral was arranged by Lincoln Legionnaires. In addition to his brother and family here, he is survived by four sisters: Mrs. W. F. Wilkins, Mrs. Anna Corrick and Mrs. L. J. Bequet, all of Lincoln, and Mrs. R. F. McConnell of Denver.

FLAG DAY.

Tuesday, June 14, was Flag Day throughout the United States and its possessions, and it is perhaps more generally observed than almost any other special day.

These official holidays are New Year's Day, Lincoln's Birthday, Washington's Birthday, Arbor Day, Memorial Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Columbus Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

To set aside a special day for the flag would be superfluous since the national banner is displayed in Ord on all the official holidays.

It might be of interest to some to know more of the origin of the United States flag.

When the thirteen colonies first began to feel the pressure of English rule, they placed on their banners a rattlesnake cut in thirteen pieces, representing the thirteen colonies.

The next form of the United States flag was our present standard, the Stars and Stripes.

On June 14, 1777, the Continental Congress resolved that the flag of the United States should have thirteen stripes, alternate red and white, and that the union be thirteen white stars in a blue field.

Jan. 13, 1794, by act of Congress, the flag was altered to fifteen red and white stripes, and fifteen stars, as two new states had been added.

At her suggestion five pointed stars were adopted instead of six pointed ones. She received the contract for making all the flags for the government and her daughter, Mrs. Clarissa Wilson, continued the business until 1857.

Such are the vagaries of fame that many of our encyclopedias do not list the name of Betsy Ross and her achievement, although they do list the name of Charlie Ross, the first nationally known kidnap victim.

poets, Francis Scott Key, to write the recognized national air, "The Star Spangled Banner." He was detained on one of the British ships engaged in the bombardment, and thus it happened that our national air was composed on property of a nation at war with us.

Each star in the flag represents some one of the states. The colonies come in the order of their founding, and the later states in the order of their admission into the union.

The flag should be displayed on every holiday, but should not be put out in the rain or left out in the rain. It must not be left out over night.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS.

THE UNICAMERAL.—The way everything is lining up in the district at the present time it looks as though Valley county had a wonderful opportunity to elect a member to the unicameral, what with six candidates from Howard county, one from Greeley, and none from Wheeler.

WASHINGTON LETTER BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Surplus Commodity Corporation Will Lessen Bumper Crop Difficulties

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—The threat of bumper crops to the administration's farm program is somewhat lessened by the function of a little known agency, authorized to buy and distribute surpluses, the Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation.

Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace has recently asked the FSCC, which in 1935 became a bureau of the department he heads, "to make a thorough survey of the situation in each of the 48 states to determine whether additional supplies of farm commodities beyond those now being consumed are needed to keep families of unemployed workers adequately nourished and adequately clothed."

AS in the case of the recently authorized purchase of nearly 125,000 barrels of surplus wheat flour which represents some 575,000 bushels of wheat, FSCC purchases are calculated to assist state relief administrators in supplying the consumer needs of the unemployed, and at the same time put a wedge under prices that slide off as crop surpluses stack up.

Unannounced, but under consideration, is a plan for FSCC to buy cotton which will be used in comforter covers and bed ticking for distribution to the unemployed on relief.

ALTOGETHER in 1937 FSCC spent over $15,000,000, mostly on such foodstuffs as apples, beans, oranges, peas, potatoes, prunes, rice, milk, butter and eggs, oats, rice and figs.

Whether or not it will become the policy of FSCC to concentrate its buying power in those quarters where natural elements threaten to upset AAA so-called "balanced economy" cannot be ascertained.

But the corporation is singularly adaptable to the need, which may become urgent, for further control over the agricultural controls already set up.

All we needed to do, in this region, was to threaten to put irrigation water on the land, and Lo, the heavens let down rain after rain.

And all these sun clothes and play clothes. The shops have never been so flooded with them as this summer, and they are so bright and appealing, I am sure we will see oodles of them right here in Ord.

Ord is fortunate in having a Red Cross chapter that is so interested in water safety.

Text: Mark 16:22-27 and 29-39 The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for June 19

THE tragedy and the glory of the crucifixion are described in the great hymn of Isaac Watts, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross,"—and this is as it should be.

Christ's death is certainly one of the most momentous events in the annals of history.

THE title of our lesson is "God's Suffering Servant." This is essentially what Jesus was in His life and in His death—the man of sorrows and acquainted with grief, manifesting in all that He did, and in all that man did to Him, the divine compassion and love that stops at nothing in its effort to redeem and save.

THE human aspect of Christ's sufferings is further emphasized in the men who suffered with Him, a malefactor on either side. They were human, too. They felt the keen terror of the nails.

But it was and still is the Christ on the cross who is the central figure, the suffering Saviour, enduring all that He might fulfill the loving purposes of God, dying in a very real sense that man might live.

Also as usual, he will have an assistant when he teaches swimming to Ord young.

If you think this money is wasted, pause for a moment of thought on the matter. We now have a dangerous spot at the new dam, one that makes fathers and mothers wake in the middle of the night in a sweat of horror at what might happen there.

We have several sand pits, and sand pits are notorious for the lives carelessly lost in them by swimmers, young, or even older.

A town located on a river bank surely needs to take some heed as to the safety of those who are to go swimming in the river nearby.

This year the Red Cross will offer, as usual, four groups of swimming classes, all of them free to all ages.

Classes will start soon after July Fourth, and I hope I have made a convert or two with this spasm of mine.

Little Sharon Olsson had on a sunsuit, first, time this year. A little Randolph girl observed her and then remarked, "I'm going to wear my sunstrobe tomorrow, too."

—Robert Rose of Burwell came Sunday to visit his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams, and remained over night, returning home Monday. Mrs. Williams is slowly regaining her strength.

Dr. Eldon F. Benda Receives High Award

Eldon F. Benda, who was graduated from the University of Nebraska School of Dentistry this June, has been appointed to the Forsyth Dental Clinic for Children in Boston, Massachusetts. This appointment was made not only because of his high scholastic standing, but because of his ability in children's dentistry. The first national award ever made to a Nebraska graduate for outstanding work in pedodontia was presented to Dr. Benda at the dental luncheon last week. Dr. and Mrs. Benda will leave in August, visiting in Washington, D. C., and New York before arriving in Boston September 1. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Severson of Ord.

Birch Brings New Show of Wonders

"The appeal of magic and magicians is genuine and universal. It is not confined to any nation or people, and is as powerfully exerted upon 'grown-ups' as children. Children derive pleasure from a magical entertainment that can only be equaled by the glamour of the circus." So asserted Birch, the Famous Magician, who will present his mystifying array of tricks and illusions to Ord audiences next Tuesday, June 21, under auspices of the high school music department.

"I have been interested in magic and its manifestations since I entered high school, and I hope I shall always maintain this engrossing study," the young magician declared.

"I believe that magic appeals to both young and old—at least to those between the ages of six and ninety-six. I do not feel any lack of enthusiasm after more than eighteen years of entertaining the public. But I find it necessary to be 'on my toes' to keep my performance new and different."

During these years Birch and Company have toured throughout the United States and Canada. Several months each summer are spent in creating new effects and building spectacular illusions in a magical work-shop which is completely equipped with the finest, most modern electrical machinery.

Perhaps his greatest achievement is his solution of the "Hindu Rope Trick," the mystery which has baffled the world for centuries. This seemingly impossible miracle will be performed before your very eyes and you will never forget it! Birch presents the "Hindu Rope" mystery for the first time in America. Another most interesting illusion is the Vanishing Pony, in which "Princess," a beautiful miniature horse, is caused to disappear while suspended in mid-air. Many other thrilling illusions are included in the Birch repertoire, and a musical interlude will be offered by Miss Mabel Sperry, well-known xylophone artist.

—Dr. Reginald Beeghly, who was graduated this spring from the Kirksville School of Osteopathy and came here with Mrs. Beeghly for a few days' visit with her mother, Mrs. Hans Andersen, expects to leave this week to inspect several locations he is considering in Kansas, Arkansas and northern Louisiana. Mrs. Beeghly will remain in Ord until he gets located.

Know This Person?

The picture published last week had everybody stumped, probably for the reason that the man spent his boyhood in Iowa, and was full grown when he came west some 35 years ago. It is a very good likeness of Ben Eberhart in his younger days. This week is shown another old timer, whom you may recognize. If you do, call the Quiz and tell us about it.

Burwell News

Written by REV. W. L. GOODELL

The Wrangler's club met Monday evening in the Burwell hotel. Clyde Igenfritz was in charge of the following program: Clarinet quartette by Russell Troxell, Betty Manstl, Bob Ross and Billie Goodell; trombone solo by Rex Igenfritz accompanied on the piano by Eleanor Doran; male quartette composed of M. H. Struve, Rex Igenfritz, Joe Meyers and Billie Goodell; saxophone solo, Vernon Johnson, and trumpet solo by Carol Demaree with Rex Igenfritz at the piano for both numbers. A motion was passed that a vote of appreciation be extended to members of the village board for their splendid action in the purchase of the Burwell Riverside Park. Several other matters of business were presented and a fine discussion enjoyed. The meeting was closed by the group singing of the song, "The More We Get Together". Twenty-seven were in attendance at the meeting including three visitors, Rev. J. Shelby Light, pastor of the Congregational church, Fred Mach, manager of the local Gamble store, and Roy Hudson of North Loup, guest of Guy Laverty.

Ray Gatson of Lincoln visited Monday evening in the home of Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie. Mr. Gatson is a salesman for the Riverside Stove Company.

Albert Bell, manager of the Phillips 66 service station in Burwell, is driving a new Chevrolet tank truck, painted orange and trimmed in black. It has a very attractive appearance. He is carrying a fire extinguisher in the cab of the new truck.

Carl Knapp of Omaha, a state speaker for the Townsend plan, gave two instructive addresses Friday evening in Burwell. The one at 7 p. m., was given over a loud speaker system in front of the City meat market and Golden Rule store and at 7 p. m., in the First Christian church. He was a guest of R. B. Miller. Wm. Green was elected president of the local Townsend organization.

Lightning struck in several places on the James Butts farm 1-2 miles southeast of Burwell last Thursday night about 11 o'clock, during a severe electrical storm. Damage was done to the barn and electric wiring in the barn and house and several out buildings. A curtain back of the radio was burned when current from the bolt which struck the barn burned out the radio. Other damage included two fuse blocks, four fuses, wiring to the Maytag in the wash house, a large yard light burned out, three rafters splintered in the barn and hay ignited near where about 2 tons of baled hay are stored. Mr. Butts and son Leo hurried to the barn and extinguished the blaze immediately with water from the tank. Lightning also struck a large cottonwood tree just north of the barn. The No. 18 galvanized wire which hung between the barn and house was melted in small bits. Merritt Wright was called to make necessary repairs, replacing eight switches and several light bulbs. It was necessary for him to bring the radio to town for repairs. In 1914 a cottonwood tree was struck about two rods west of the same tree and a piece of cement was knocked out of a cement tank 300 feet away.

Morris McGraw and sons Newell and Dean returned home Monday from a visit to relatives in Lincoln and Plattsmouth. In Lincoln they visited in the home of Mr. McGraw's sister, Mrs. George Schuman, and in Plattsmouth with his mother-in-law and other relatives. Visiting in Plattsmouth at the same time was a sister-in-law and her husband from Grable, Wyo.

Mrs. Tony Zalud from southeast of Burwell was a caller Saturday in the home of Mrs. W. D. Hart.

Al Shoemaker was a dinner guest of Cliff Robbins Sunday.

A Children's Day program of songs, recitations and dialogues was given at the Congregational church Sunday evening.

Frank Mallick and son Marvin returned home Monday morning from Mitchell where they secured 43 sacks of seed potatoes. They went to Kimball and Scottsbluff first but were unable to get any there.

Mrs. Lenora Moss was a Sunday dinner guest of Mrs. Evelyn at the Cliff Robbins home.

During the latter part of June the Burwell Women's club will sponsor a beauty pageant to choose a girl to be Miss Burwell at the state fair this fall. This is the third beauty pageant to be sponsored by the Women's club. Any girl in Garfield county, meeting the age requirements, is eligible to enter the contest. The local winner will be awarded a free trip to the state finals which will comprise some 200 beauty winners from many towns in the state.

A vacation church school will be held in the Congregational church from June 13 to 24. School will be carried on in the forenoon of week days and will consist of periods of singing, worship, play, study and handwork. Competent teachers have been selected to care for the work.

The Burwell dam which was damaged by flood waters several weeks ago has been repaired and heavier steel added to the bridge above the gates. Workmen lower-operations were resumed Thursday morning at the Lockjoint Pipe and Tile Co., when workmen began making tile for the Inland Construction Co., which has the contract for tile to be used in the laterals on the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation project. It is estimated that 12 or 13 men will have employment for a period of about two months.

ed nearly all of the gates last Wednesday and Thursday and the lake has gained its former depth. The lake was a busy place Sunday with a number of boats of all descriptions. The latest boat added to the collection is the sail boat belonging to Henry McMullen, which was built in the Chas. Parkos carpenter shop. This craft has been constructed according to plans used in the building of sail boats on the Mississippi river. It is 10 1/2 feet long and 46 in. wide, using a 16 ft. mast and 10 ft. boom. Fastened to the mast is a 14x9 three-cornered canvas sail. There is a 30x20 in. center board of heavy sheet steel which acts as stabilizer for the boat. Members of the recently organized Burwell Boat club and under the supervision of Dale Bredthauer and Lewis Moore, raised funds at the rate of $2 per member to build a boat landing along the north side of the dike at the dam.

A large crowd of interested people attended the second Sunday afternoon band concert in Riverside Park Sunday, June 12.

A Children's Day program was given at the Sunday school hour in the Methodist church Sunday morning. Rev. Paul Maves delivered the sermon at the morning service.

The Hugo players showed to a full house each night last week. They left Monday for Sargent. On Thursday night they held an amateur contest in which the following young people competed: Geraldine Fransen, vocal solo; Marcella Steffin and Wanda Carpenter, tap dancing; Dorothy and Virginia Goodell, solos and duet; Colleen Heitz, vocal solo accompanying herself on the guitar; Bernadette Fransen and Betty Hanson, saxette number. Winners in the contest were: First, Geraldine Fransen, who received $2.50; second, Dorothy and Virginia Goodell, receiving $2.00; and third, Colleen Heitz $1. The German band furnished several numbers but did not compete in the contest.

Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock confirmation services were held for 43 in the Catholic church. On Tuesday Rev. Murray and the four Sisters who conducted the school took the group for an outing to Lake Ericson.

Clara Lowery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lowery, living northeast of Burwell and Raymond Mayberry, son of Mrs. S. E. Mayberry, living 2 miles northeast of Burwell, were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in the Methodist parsonage by Rev. J. Bruce Wylie. They left for a wedding trip to Nampa, Idaho to visit a brother of his. They were accompanied by his parents.

Two Churches in Ord Hold Special Schools

A number of Ord children have been attending two Ord church schools during June. Above is shown the school held at the Ord Catholic church with about one hundred pupils in attendance. To the right is shown the school conducted by Rev. Clarence Jensen, in the basement of the Christian church, with an enrollment of 44.

Mrs. G. W. New returned to her home in Grand Island the last of the week after caring for her daughter, Mrs. Everett Johnson. Ed Cram left Tuesday morning for Tulare, Calif., to visit his cousin, Chas. Frary, who is ill.

F. H. Hahn brought a sack of ball home with him from his mail route Saturday, that he had gathered near the Earl Scofield farm and made two small freezers of ice cream with it. The hail storm occurred Friday evening and did a great deal of damage.

Donald Wheeler was a Sunday guest in the home of W. B. Johnson, Jr., southeast of town.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Anderson, Ray Anderson and Mrs. Thos. Newbern went to Axtell last Wednesday for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Anderson. From there Ray Anderson went with a party from Lincoln to Denver, Colo., where he will spend part of his vacation from duties at the First National Bank in Lincoln.

Judge Chas. E. Jackman, of Nebraska Compensation Court came Thursday morning for a session of special court in Burwell. The defendant was represented by Davis and Vogelzanz of Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. John Snyder and son Jack of Lincoln returned home Friday after a visit with relatives here. They were accompanied by Mrs. Don Cain who visited Betty until Sunday afternoon. She reports that an operation will be performed on Betty's arm some time soon and it is hoped that she will soon recover. She is suffering from an arm which was broken 15 months ago.

Mrs. Ida Steffin attended a meeting of the G. A. R. in Ord Saturday.

4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

"Worry is the interest you pay today on troubles you imagine will happen tomorrow, most of which never happen."

Sir William Osler, one of the greatest physicians of our day, if not of all time, was also a great philosopher. In an address he made many years ago to the graduating class in medicine at a great University he gave those young doctors some excellent advice about the subject of worry. He advised them to divide their lives into "hour tight compartments." He maintained that one can't change what has happened in the past, neither can he control the future, but each hour and each moment as it passes is to a large extent under our control. In other words, if one does his best each hour he will make the most of life, and need not worry either about the past or the future.

Dr. Osler expressed the same idea in another address some years later. The following quotation from this talk is well worth adopting by all those who let worry make them sick. He says "I have had three personal ideals. One to do the day's work well and not to bother about tomorrow. It has been urged that this is not a satisfactory ideal. It is; it is, more than to anything else, I owe whatever success I have had to this power of settling down to the day's work and trying to do it well to the best of one's ability, and letting the future take care of itself."

If one can eliminate worry he will avoid many ills in life because a tremendous amount of ill-health, both physical and mental is begun and promoted by worries, most of which are without foundation.

Fifty-six years ago Robert Koch told the medical world he had discovered the germ that causes tuberculosis. In the same year Torlanini described a procedure for collapsing a lung and then putting it at rest and letting it heal.

Both of these discoveries were of tremendous importance in curing this disease and have been great factors in reducing the frequency of its occurrence. To the simple collapsing of a lung many surgical methods of treatment have been developed and are in common use today, saving lives and shortening the illness in the tuberculous.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

The John Deffenbaugh, who live at the Tom Williams place, planted a crop of potatoes on the lot just north of the buildings this spring and now they are reaping the fruit of their industry. Mrs. Williams says that they gather about twenty potatoes large enough to eat from each hill, which is sufficiently unusual to warrant a place in this column.

Daryl Hardenbrook enlisted the assistance of Asa Anderson and Kent Ferris when he was installing his radio. When it came to the aerial they so maneuvered the job that Daryl was up on the house last, and then took away the ladder. It is said that a man may love his house and not ride on the ridge, but that was just what Daryl did until the boys relented.

Sunday Don Stewart was over near the green at the northwest corner of the Ord golf course when C. J. Mortensen drove over the raise from the east. The ball, unseen by Don, came whizzing along and hit square on his wrist watch. The unbreakable crystal did not break, but the back of the watch caved in, ruining the works, and giving Stewart's wrist a terrific jolt. At that the watch probably saved him from having a broken wrist.

VISIT AFTER 50 YEARS.
Robert S. Keep, sr., Newcastle, Pa., Robert S. Keep, jr., North Gerard, Pa., and Guy S. Keep, Albion, Pa., arrived in Ord Tuesday evening for a visit with the brother of the two older gentlemen, Archie Keep and family. With them also were Junior and Robert Rayburg, grandsons of Robert S. Keep, sr., who were getting their first glimpse of the wild and woolly west. They came here from Adrian, Mo., where they had visited with Walter Alvord.

The two brothers came to Nebraska about 1885 or 1886, leaving nearly fifty years ago for Pennsylvania, which has been their home since that time. They came here from Albion, and while they do not remember the Quiz of that day, they do recall the Ord blizzard, probably because there was a blizzard at Albion. They are nephews of B. H. Alvord, who was station agent at North Loup 55 years ago.

When they went to Pennsylvania they traveled in a covered wagon, taking seven weeks on the road. On the present trip they came by car to Adrian in about a day and a half. The Keeps had a family picnic Thursday evening at the Chalk hills. The third Thursday in each August the Keep families and relatives have a reunion in Pennsylvania. The last one was attended by more than 150 relatives.

CAMERA CLUB MEETS.

Six members of the Loup Valley Camera club met at the John L. Andersen home at two o'clock Sunday afternoon before starting on their proposed hike along Dane Creek. It was decided at the house that they would go to Koupal's park and take pictures there. The six members who were present were John Andersen, Joe Falcon, Kendall Wiegardt, Frances Duemey, Lillian Karty and LaVerne Duemey.

Pictures were taken along the dam in the park, and several of the pictures turned out beautifully. One picture, which claimed the attention of the whole group, was that of a rock spashing in the water. A small twig was set to mark the place where the rock should hit, and then all cameras were focused upon that one place. Just as the rock hit the water, all cameras clicked. After looking at several pictures taken by Judge John Andersen, the group disbanded.

LOCAL NEWS

—Learning a new trade has its exciting moments. While using the meat slicer at the Pecken Market Saturday, Jack Jansen got the third and fourth fingers of his left hand too close, the tips of both being sliced off. He is working this week with the fingers bandaged, and hopes they will heal without scars.

—Following a long siege of lying in a hospital bed, followed by sitting out on the porch when the weather permitted, Ray Hunt has taken several walks during the past week, and is planning longer trips for the coming week.

—Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones, parents of Mrs. Glen Auble, are visiting at the Glen Auble home.

DAVIS CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Palser and children were dinner guests at John Palser's Saturday.

Seven-eighths of an inch of rain fell here Thursday night and was very much appreciated as the wheat showed few heads until it rained and some pieces of wheat are badly rusted. We also received nearly 1/4 of an inch Friday but it came quite hard and much of it ran off. Many farmers have been putting up what alfalfa there is and many are sowing sudan and sorghums. Some are having to replant whole fields of corn while others are replanting patches in the fields where cut worms worked. Rye and barley look good, as does oats. There will be very little wild fruit this year. Worms seem determined to kill what few elm trees survived them last year, they are also working on the box elder trees and what few gooseberries survived the drought of these past few years are also being stripped by worms.

Phillip Mrsny, sr., and Alfred Jorgensen sent stock via truck to Omaha Tuesday.

Hybrid Corn, Sorghum

Tests, Being Conducted Two crop experiments which should be of great interest to farmers of Valley county are being conducted by the Valley County Farm Bureau cooperating with the agronomy department of the college of agriculture.

The first is a hybrid corn test on the Ed N. Timmeffman farm in Springdale township. In this test thirty-three varieties of hybrid corn including practically all varieties which are being offered for sale commercially in the state have been planted.

The second test is a sorghum variety test on the Ted King farm in Vinton. Here some fifteen varieties of grain and forage sorghums have been planted. On this plot also yields of grain and forage will be carefully checked to determine their suitability to Valley county conditions.

Meetings will be held at both of these farms at harvest time so that local farmers can observe the results of the tests.

In the meantime anyone interested is invited to observe the different varieties in these plots in order to see the difference in growth and characteristics of the different varieties.

Play Cast Reunion, Class of '28

The play cast of the senior class of 1928 have a rather unusual custom, which they agreed upon when they put on their play, "Cinderella O'Reilly" ten years ago. They agreed to meet for a reunion every five years. They met five years ago, and met for their second reunion at Thorne's Cafe Sunday evening, June 12.

Those present were Carola Davis of Grand Island, Ellamae Serous Hill and husband of North Loup, Elma Kosunala Elm and husband of Genoa, Harriet Taylor Lombard and husband of Grand Island, and Dr. John Round and wife, Elsie Pecenka and Syl Furtak all of Ord.

Absent members were Muriel Weekes Oliver, Onawa, Ia., Chester Weekes, Ord, DeWitt Williamson, Monmouth, Ore., Elvabelle Clement Hayden of California, Olfert Magnussen, Audubon, Ia., Frank Koziak, Ashland, and Ruth Bradt, Lincoln. They had their picture taken by another member of the class of 1928, although not a member of the play cast, George Jensen, the Ord photographer.

The D. S. Bohrer's Were Married 40 Years Ago North Loup—(Special)—Wednesday, June 15 marks the 40th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer and was quietly celebrated by them at home. Mr. Bohrer's health being too frail for anything else.

Coming to Nebraska with their parents—Mrs. Bohrer at the age of 7 from New York and Mr. Bohrer at the age of 15 from Illinois—they lived on adjoining farms in Greeley county and attended the Mansel Davis school. Among pupils attending at the same time only Mr. and Mrs. Bohrer, Rolla Babcock, Mrs. Lou Stine and Mrs. Rhoda Cox are still in this vicinity.

They were married on the Arnold farm, now known as the Steger place by Dr. George A. Hay and in thinking of celebrating no one who was a guest at the wedding and now residing here could be thought of. Both have lived all their lives since coming to Nebraska in either Valley or Greeley counties, except seven years at Kearney and seven at Arnold.

In 1912, after Mr. Bohrer's sister died, they returned to North Loup and Mr. Bohrer worked for a time in the bank. He has since been in the insurance business. For the past six months his health has been very poor and much of the time has been spent in bed. He is improving slowly and is able to be up part of the time.

They have two living daughters, and two grandsons whom they enjoy very much. May they have many more happy, useful years together.

Summer Music Classes Start Week of June 20 School authorities offer additional opportunities to the children of this community enrolled in the Ord schools, when several weeks of free instrumental music instruction will be extended to students who wish to attend these classes. These classes will be sponsored by Dean S. Duncan and held each week at the high school building. A tentative schedule for opening classes follows:

Monday—3:30 a. m.—Stringed Class. This group is intended for the children who have played stringed instruments in the Junior and senior orchestras—not beginners.

Monday—10:00 a. m.—Junior Band. (This band includes all children who are not members of the city band and those who have been enrolled the past year in the Junior band. Additional players will be added later—special instruction in marching will be given this group.)

Tuesday—8:30 a. m.—Senior Band. (This class will include all members playing in the city band—with selected students later.)

Tuesday—10:00 a. m.—Beginners Class. (All children wishing to learn a band or orchestral instrument should report at this time. Also, others who have not played in a junior organization to date. If demand warrants such, additional classes will be made of this group.)

If any student wishing this instruction is in doubt of the proper group, he should report to Mr. Duncan not later than Tuesday noon, June 21.

Fuson Writes Briefly. Sending a card from Wallace, Ida, Merritt H. Fuson has this to say: "In the heart of Mr. Rocky's mountains in pursuit of a bandit who is supposed to have been seen wearing 'them pants' of Lake Earnest's. Also he claims to have helped mix the mortar and carry the rocks when Noble Ralston and Mr. Rocky built these mountains—Hoping you are the same, Pat!"

Mr. Fuson recently was transferred by the PWA from Butte, Mont., to Portland.

Word was received by the Paul Duemey family that Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLain would arrive in Ord Friday to spend a few days with their relatives here. The McLains live in Kasota, Minn.

deficit of $300 to $500 per year will result. To be said in favor of installing a testing station is the undoubted fact that hundreds if not thousands of dollars of business will be kept in Ord that would go to Grand Island and other places if no station is installed here. Moreover, installation of a test station here will save thousands of dollars for people of Ord and trade territory because they may have the tests done at home instead of going to the expense of driving many miles to some other station.

Mayor Cummins emphasizes that the only reason a station has not yet been installed here is because state authorities have advised the city council to "go slow." Testing equipment has not yet been approved by the state and cities that go ahead and buy unauthorized equipment may have to replace it later.

He believes that, even if a station should cost the city money annually, it is still a good thing for Ord but makes the statement credited to him above so that citizens may know just how the matter stands, and may know why the council after a thorough investigation has decided to go ahead and put in a station.

Ord Softball Scores. The league leading Ord Livestocks took another one-sided game from the K. C. team Tuesday evening, the final count being 15 to 4. In the other game the Brown-McDonalds broke a three-way tie for second place by winning over the high school, 10 to 9 in the first shutout contest of the season. This makes the standings as follows: Ord Livestock, 4-0; Brown-McDonalds, 2-2; K. C. and High School, each 1-3. The town softball team has a game scheduled with Greeley for Sunday.

Writes After Fifty Years. Recently Mrs. Tom Williams received a letter from a girlhood chum from whom she had not heard in fifty years. They knew each other in the old days at Nebraska, Neb. Later they drifted apart, both were married. The lady wrote from St. Louis, stating that her husband and son were both dead and that she was again alone in the world. Hearing from a friend after half a century has passed is a very unusual occurrence.

E. C. James, accompanied by Alvin Jensen, drove to Omaha Saturday. Mr. James drove on to Herman, Neb., and returned home Sunday with Mrs. James, who had been spending a couple of weeks there.

Income Taxes Returns Shown. According to a report given out this week by the Internal Revenue department, 37,780 federal income tax returns were filed in Nebraska in 1936, as compared with 32,349 for 1935. The numbers as given by counties shows that, in proportion to population, Valley county is well ahead of its neighboring counties. The figures follow: Valley, 100; Garfield, 31; Wheeler, 3; Greeley, 63; Howard, 50; Sherman, 62; Custer, 176; Loup, 3. One of the surprises is Grant county, which had 100 returns.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

Picnics seem to be the vogue for the younger set right now. Tuesday night, Miss Katherine Minick and Adam Dubas entertained Anthony Kokes and Miss Lucille Wozniak at an eight o'clock picnic.

Around the town: Charlotte Blessing's kind-heartedness came to view when she was seen putting a dime in a beggar's hat. She says she just can't help it. Jack Tunnick's double, Irvin Schlaf, lives in Ericson, but Jack doesn't know how much they look alike, only that Irvin is a little bit taller than Jack. Saw Evelyn Skala Margaret Lewis and Irma Novotny at the dance Wednesday night. When they went to high school, they couldn't bear to be separated. Mary Hitchman spends her time like all good little girls should when they come home from college, sewing, of course. Incidentally, her brother, Edwin, seems to be quite a farmer. I heard he ran a cultivator, and came out with nary a scratch. Gerald Jirak is developing into a good fisherman. Next year we'll be hearing about the big fish that he caught last summer.

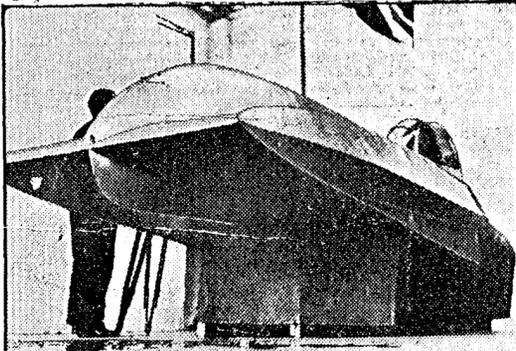

Three cheers for: Vivian Cummings' cute hairdresser; Delma Palmatier's neat personal appearance;

Maxine Severns, Evelyn Sharp's very lovely girl-friend from Erie; Vernon Malolepszy's new straw hat; Jean Ferguson's knitting ability; Margie Smith's beautiful tea for her house-guest, Irene Caldwell; Mavis Warden's (from Arcadia) excellent voice; and Irene Weiler's excellent ability for anything she attempts.

I wonder: Who Corwin Cummins' current interest is. How Jack Janssen managed to slice his finger into the minced ham so skillfully. Why the fellows from Grand Island chased Virginia Sack all over town Sunday afternoon. She finally got rid of them by leading them (with her car) around the cemetery. Why Arthur Auble always stops to see Eleanore Wolfe. I noticed his car at her house the day he left. Why Willard Hoppes from Burwell always makes those trips to Ord on Sunday. Since when Rodney Stoltz became such a perfect golf player.

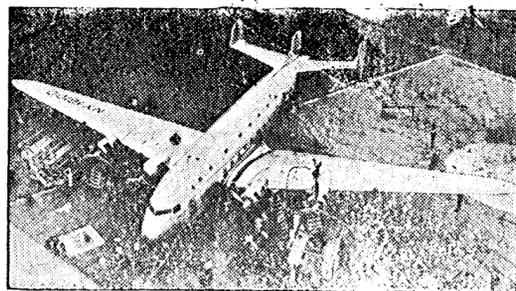

Jean Romans, who has been working in Oregon several months, returned Friday night to Ord with his brother, Charlie, who had trucked Rev. S. A. Woodruff's furniture to Midwest, Wyo. Jean says the recession has just hit on the west coast and that work is almost impossible to find now. He reports seeing H. E. Jones, of Hood River, Ore., shortly before he returned to Nebraska, and says the Jones family will be in Ord soon for a visit with relatives.

Looking Up on Water Speedster

Largest Transport Ready to Go

Equipped with a novel front landing gear which keeps the tail always off the ground, the nation's newest and largest commercial transport plane is shown above as it was wheeled out of its Santa Monica, Calif., hangar for its first flight. The four-motored ship has a wingspread of more than 138 feet, a length of more than 97 feet, and accommodations for 42 passengers and a crew of five.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

June 14, 1938. At the home of her mother, Mrs. Margaret Wentworth in Ord, occurred the marriage of Miss Marie Wentworth, popular Ord teacher, and O. Irving Jacobsen, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Jacobsen of Dannebrog. John Lunney brought suit for $25,000 against the S. Y. A. bus line for alleged false arrest and imprisonment. H. D. Kasson, sr., 87 year old resident of the North Loup neighborhood, died. He had been a resident of Nebraska for sixty years and a resident of the North Loup neighborhood since 1881. Laberta Milford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Milford and well known in Ord, was married to Paul A. Waters of Weston, Mo., at Shawnee, Okla. She was a niece of Mr. and Mrs. James Milford. The churches of North Loup united in sponsoring a vacation Bible school, and at the opening a total of seventy enrolled. The Bible school was not a new idea in North Loup, but it was the first in which all the churches participated. The Valley county board at its regular session put their OK on an open season on pheasants. The farmers had been complaining because the pheasants were becoming a nuisance, and so the board decided to favor a short open season. George Round's Spuds lost to the fast Mira Valley team by a score of 9 to 5. Furtak pitched for Ord and struck out ten, while Williams and Collins pitched for Mira Valley. Miss Fern Collipriest, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collipriest, and Kenneth Draper, son of Mrs. Elsie Draper, were married at the M. E. parsonage by Rev. J. A. Moorman. Plans were completed for the formal opening of the North Loup cheese factory June 20. A celebration was being arranged by North Loup business men, with Bud Knapp as chairman. Dr. C. W. Weekes reported favorably on the proposition of a filtration plant for Ord, which proposition was under discussion at the time. The Loup Valley fair board was considering the proposition of going A. A. A. It was shown that better drivers and better cars could be brought to Ord if the fair was a member of the association. S. P. Hager, 33, father of C. A. Hager, passed away at his home in Pennsylvania. While chopping kindling wood George Vavra got a splinter in his eye, which for a time threatened to impair the sight. However, he was improving rapidly and the doctor thought the eye would soon be all right. Ora S. Taylor, 51, one of the best known printers in the Loup Valley, passed away at his home in Ord as the result of an abscess on the brain. He had worked for many years with the Ord Quiz and also with other Ord papers, as well as those of neighboring towns.

June 15, 1938. Organized Jake Thull of the Non-partisan League was arrested under the new sedition law. County Attorney Norman filing the complaint. The complaint charged that Thull, being able bodied, was not engaged in useful employment. The June 16, 1938. The Kirk Bros. Amusement Co. under the auspices of the Ord baseball club, put on a carnival with the following advertised amusements: Kerry, the Human Frog, King Cotton Leap the Gap, the Balloon Ascension, Matthews Georgia Minstrels, the Moving Pictures, and also a merry-go-round and ferris wheel. In a baseball game at North Loup between the first and second nines, Ed Temple was hit on the head by a fast ball. He finished the game and was working in the slaughter house the next day when he was taken ill and it was found that his skull had been fractured. He recovered. John Trimble passed away at the home of his son, north of North Loup. As the Quiz went to press there were no definite returns from the Republican National convention in Chicago. The Taft forces had the convention under control, and, barring a stampee for Roosevelt Taft would undoubtedly be the nominee. Miss Sidney Bower was selected as assistant in the office of the county clerk to take the place of Miss Timmerman, resigned. A. J. Shirley went to Lincoln where he was to take treatments and perhaps undergo an operation. Delpha Taylor, Ethel Moorman, and Fred Kemp went to Shelton to attend the district meeting of the Epworth League. The list of graduates at the state university included the names of Cecil and Ruby Charlton of Ord. A large crowd gathered in front of the Scenic theater to listen to the noise produced by a special contraption installed by manager F. J. Bell. They blockaded the sidewalk and it took the efforts of two policemen to clear the walk. The Arion Orchestra, consisting of Fred Brink, Allen Clements and Irwin Moorhouse furnished music for a swell dance at Cotesfield. J. E. and Harry Crawford, of the Ord Telephone company, bought a new car in Cincinnati and drove it through to Ord. They got stuck in mud holes a dozen times on the way, and took over two weeks for the trip, which could be made today in two days. Fred Bell had purchased a new steam merry-go-round and was erecting it on the vacant lots east of the Ord hardware, (where the Texaco station now stands). The Quiz carried a notice for the excavating for the new Ord reservoir, the round one first built having proved inadequate for the increased needs of the town. Because of the condition of his health, W. Misko advertised that he was taking in a partner in the meat market by the name of Fred Maulick of Broken Bow. Jim is still with us.

June 17, 1938. Mrs. Daisy Lehmer went back to her home in South Omaha after spending a few days with relatives and friends. A meeting of the qualified electors of the Ord school district was called for the purpose of deciding whether to pay $1,500 in district warrants issued in 1937. The notice was signed by M. Coombs, president, and W. A. Anderson, secretary. Miss Alta Jones announced that she would hold a summer school in Ord for the benefit of the children who wished to catch up with certain studies. John Jennings was meeting with good success in selling stock food to the farmers of the county. Twice he had won second prize in the state contest for his company. Rev. Hardaway and Miss Ray Jennings went to Loup City to attend the Epworth League convention. Lon Firkins had a pond stocked with carp which he got from the state fish commission, and he was sending them out and giving them to all who wanted to stock their ponds. In those days the carp was considered a valuable fish. Elmer Gard was moving his jewelry store into the little Rowan building next to Cernik's barber shop. Warren Prentice sold his wood shop to P. G. Hather, and the next day the latter formed a partnership with E. L. Clements. Miss Myra Babcock was in the city and visited relatives and friends. She had completed another successful year in the St. Paul schools, and had been re-elected. The Loup Valley Veterans' Association was to meet at St. Paul July 4-7. Adam Smith was commander and F. O. Burdick adjutant. F. S. Kull and wife and little son went back to their old home in Wisconsin to visit friends and relatives at the old home. G. W. Milford, formerly sole proprietor of the Milford store, admitted to partnership his two sons, J. W. and G. H. Milford, better known as Jim and Bert. Joe Leiter, big wheat manipulator on the Chicago board of trade, who had made five to seven millions trading in May wheat, went to the wall in June, when the wheat price broke. It was one of the biggest busts ever known. S. A. Stacy had succeeded J. L. McDonough as postmaster of Ord.

hearing was set for June 18, and Thull left for Lincoln to procure legal advice. Clarence Wood, with the 241 Aero Squadron at Arcadia, Fla., wrote a long letter to the Quiz telling of his work there. Rev. Amos Weaver, who came to Ord in 1880 and organized the first Baptist church, of which he was pastor for two years, passed away at Philadelphia at the age of 81 years. While in Ord he also organized the church at Loup City. A new order from the war department required all men and boys past the age of 15 years to register. The object was to have a complete card system of all available labor and to be sure every man was doing his part. Miss Margaret Emery, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Emery of Omaha, became the bride of Dr. F. L. Blessing of Ord. A great deal of excitement was caused by the finding of a human skull at the city dump. However it was soon learned that the skull was hauled down from Dr. Haldemans and was one that the doctor had thrown away. Hon. Ross Hammond of Fremont made two speeches in Ord by special arrangement. His theme was one country, one people and one language. Howard E. Barnes wrote a long and very interesting letter from Buffalo, N. Y., where he was stationed. He was acting as mess cook for his company. There was some controversy over Enterprise township, and the report got out that the township was not doing its share in the Red Cross drive. However a checkup showed that they had donated a total of over $1,000, which was the largest proportional donation in the county. At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gates in Mira Valley, Miss Winifred R. Gates became the bride of Ralph C. Dustin of Brownsville, Neb. The Bohemian ladies club had given up their social afternoons and were devoting that time to Red Cross work. Beginning Monday, June 10, all who traveled by rail paid the usual three cents per mile, with a war tax added. Dr. and Mrs. F. D. Haldeman and son Keeps left for California where they expected to make their future home.

Clarence Blessing. I am not mad at anybody, so I'll just talk about myself. I realize there are hundred of voters in Valley county that would make just as good a sheriff as I would, and who are just as much entitled to the job. However, I have my hat in the ring. I have only one promise to make and that is, if I should be elected I will endeavor to learn the duties of the sheriff and try to perform my duties. I have lived in Valley county 58 years. I am anxious to get every vote that I can get, yet I'd like to make it impressive that I'd much rather lose your vote than your friendship. 11-1t Clarence Blessing.

Arcadia News

Written by MRS. EDITH BOSSEN

The funeral of Dominic Chlewski, who was struck by lightning last Sunday evening as he was driving his tractor along the highway five miles southeast of Arcadia and instantly killed, was conducted Thursday morning at 9 o'clock from the Catholic church at Arcadia. Rev. Muldoon of Scotia conducted the services. Interment was in the Ord cemetery.

Dominic Chlewski was born at Ashton and was 23 years of age at the time of his death. He has followed farming all his life and moved from Ashton to Arcadia with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Chlewski when he was four years old, and lived on a farm a short distance east of Arcadia till the past two years when they moved to Comstock. He attended the rural school and the Arcadia school. He is survived by his parents, three brothers and four sisters. Relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Morin of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Knudson of Wahoo, Leo Sydek of San Francisco, Rosella Chlewski of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. John Chlewski of Rockville, Mr. and Mrs. Stobbe of Ashton. Many friends from out of town were in attendance to pay tribute to this young man. Pallbearers were Joe Shuda, Ernle Smedra, Ignats Chlewski, Ben Blazy, John Wotazek, Max Cruikshank.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Starr took their daughter Helen to Grand Island Thursday where she boarded the train for Chicago.

Mrs. Coraly Crist left Grand Island Sunday for Chicago where she will join Miss Helen Starr and the two girls will leave for Baltimore to visit Dorothy Strathdee who has employment there. The girls will visit several places of interest in different states. Mrs. Crist will go to Miami, Fla., for a month's visit with Mrs. Vera Cook and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Anderson. Miss Starr will return to Chicago for the summer.

Mrs. Glen Beaver entertained with a lawn party Friday afternoon at her home honoring Mrs. Elrich Heagan of St. Joseph, Mo., who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Frank Christ. The hostess served a lovely luncheon.

John Weddel is visiting Lawrence James in Omaha this week. Mrs. Roy Clark, and daughters, Donna and Dixie, Mrs. Christine O'Connor and Mrs. N. P. Nielsen were Kearney visitors Friday. Mrs. O'Connor visited her daughter Alice who is attending summer school during the noon hour.

At the Methodist church Sunday morning a nice Children's day program was given and much enjoyed. Ray Hill has been in the First National bank for the past 25 years June 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Orris Hill and baby moved Saturday to the Hawthorne residence in north Arcadia recently vacated by Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Swanson who moved to Mrs. Inez Lewin's house recently purchased of Len Sutton.

A group of the Girl Scouts and Miss Dorothy Bly enjoyed a picnic in Jenkins Park Thursday afternoon.

Friday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lybarger were Mr. and Mrs. Lester Bly, Dorothy Bly, Mrs. Raymond McDonald and daughter Marlene, and Mrs. Ruth Gilbert of Denver, Colo. A rain came up and the roads were so bad they had to drive in low nearly all the way home about five miles.

Mrs. C. W. Marvel of Wisconsin is visiting her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Marvel.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Vanchura have moved to Marlin, S. D., where they are looking after their farm work and interests.

Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruikshank went to Grand Island Saturday morning to visit their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ora Russell and Jean, till Sunday evening.

Invitations are out for the wedding of Miss Lucille Williams to Edwin L. Treffer the twenty-second of June at the Evangelical church in Rockville. Miss Williams is a graduate nurse and for the past two years has been employed in the St. Francis hospital at Grand Island. She is a relative of Mrs. Clara Easterbrook.

While in Arcadia, Ray Hill, asked Mrs. John Higgins to name the Arcadia people who had moved to Laramie, Wyo., and there were about 40.

Miss Fae Baird left early Wednesday morning for Laramie, Wyo., driving a new car she had recently purchased. She will visit her sister Mae Baird, and Miss Chandler at Denver. Miss Baird and Miss Chandler expect to drive on to California.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lutz and daughters Phyllis and Orena visited friends in Fullerton over the week end.

Mrs. Florence Dalby McMichael returned to Lincoln Thursday after a few days visit in Arcadia with relatives.

Mrs. Minnie who was seriously injured in an auto accident two years ago and confined to her bed for over a year, and feared she would never recover is now able to get around without a cane. Her husband was also injured in the same accident but recovered some time ago. Their son Philip was driving them to church one Sunday morning when the accident occurred.

Mrs. Anton Nelson and Mrs. Harold Valett were hostesses to the Congregational Aid Thursday afternoon.

Ord Legion Junior Team Wins First Game

Miss Clara John, sister of Mrs. Ray Hill, who has been ill the past four years and six months, was in town to visit her sister for the first time the past week. She saw such a change in the village she could hardly make it seem possible. She had never seen the new school house, the Methodist church, the water tank, the loss from the fire. The roads were graded and much improved, also many other changes.

Allen and Marjory Elliott who are attending summer school at Kearney were home over the week end.

During the month of May we received 5.69 inches of rain. Last year we received 2.50 for May. We have 2.48 inches above the normal amount of precipitation for the month of May. Since the first of the year we have received 9.96 inches of moisture.

WOODMAN HALL

About an inch of rain fell in this section Thursday night and another half inch Friday evening. The rain was very welcome as the winter wheat and pastures were suffering in spots. Winter wheat is badly infested with rust which no doubt will greatly reduce the very promising yield of a few weeks ago.

Gerald Krikac spent last week with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Frank Krikac at Ord.

Last Friday afternoon Miss Edith Ptacnik was taken to the Ord hospital after several days of illness. She is somewhat improved at this writing.

Miss Marguerite Wegryzn spent Sunday afternoon with Mildred Waldmann.

Lyle and Bobby Waldmann spent part of last week in Ord at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob John.

The Catholic people of Geranium have been quite busy repairing and painting the parish house. The outside received two coats of paint and the interior has been painted and papered.

Our telephone service has been badly crippled for over a month and no one was able to locate the trouble, so last Saturday Charles Krikac and Raymond Waldmann took it onto themselves to locate the trouble. So taking a phone they tapped the line at intervals and found the trouble at Thomas Waldmann's yard where a piece of wire had been tossed in a free connecting the telephone wire with the fence. That removed restored our usual service.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Waldmann, Raymond, Mildred and Marguerite Wegryzn drove to Sargent Sunday afternoon where they visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Guggenmos.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Waldmann and children and Mrs. Will Waldmann drove to Grand Island last Wednesday.

At the annual school meeting held at the school house Monday afternoon Will Waldmann was elected director and Mrs. Tillie Vala moderator to fill the unexpired term of Edwin Vodehnal who moved out of the district last March.

HASKELL CREEK

A severe rain and hail storm hit the north part of Haskell Creek Friday evening, doing considerable damage to crops and buildings. The south part was fortunate in getting just about one-half of an inch of rain.

The Sunday school attendance was 32. A picnic dinner was held in honor of Children's Day. In the afternoon a very pleasing program consisted of piano and vocal selections by the Misses Anna and Walborg Agaard, followed by a sermon delivered by the Rev. Hill of North Loup.

Miss Magdaline Abrahamson of Minneapolis, Minn., arrived Monday at the Will Nelson home, where she plans to spend several weeks. Miss Abrahamson formerly lived in this community.

Several of the little folks helped Una Beth Ashman celebrate her fourth birthday Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and daughters were Sunday visitors at N. C. Christensen's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wes Miska and family of Arcadia called at the Leonard Woods home Sunday evening.

Elizabeth Flynn stayed with her sister, Mrs. Les Leonard last week. Betty Flynn is staying there this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Miska and family visited at Alvin Wells' Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Ashman were supper guests at Bud Ashman's Monday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Louie Oseka were Saturday evening visitors at James Sedlacek's.

Bill Sedlacek accompanied some friends to Ravenna Sunday.

The John Volf family were dinner guests of John Volf's Sunday. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. John Benben, Mrs. Rosie Volf and daughter.

Several families from this neighborhood drove to sand flats Sunday afternoon to see the crops after the hail storm they had there.

Sunday dinner guests in the A. F. Parkos home were Mr. and Mrs. John Mills and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kaminski and son. Afternoon visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Matt Turek.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Turek visited Sunday evening at John Parkos's.

Mrs. Mary Maresh and children were Sunday evening callers at Anton Radli's. Monday afternoon callers were Mr. and Mrs. James Sedlacek, Mrs. Rosie Volf and Mrs. John Benben.

A few boys played ball at Ed Maresh's Sunday. Those present were Lloyd and Martin Vodehnal, Emanuel Smolik, Richard Nerkla, Jimmy Turek and George Zurek.

Joint Community

This vicinity was visited by the worst hail storm on record here last Friday afternoon. All small grain is completely ruined. The hail was accompanied by a hard wind and heavy rain which covered the corn to a great extent. The corn, however, is coming out in places in the fields, and will only have to be replanted in places.

The farmers are planting their small grain fields in grain sorghums in hopes of raising some grain feed. The hail killed a lot of jackrabbits and pheasants and did much damage to farm buildings. From latest reports the storm began at Valley View, 14 miles northwest of Burwell and extended to Fullerton.

A MAN AND A COASTER WAGON

By Lillian Karly.

Recently in a high school questionnaire, conducted by the staff of the high school paper, "The Oracle" a question was asked, "Who is John L. Lewis?" When the questionnaires were returned, the staff members were rather surprised to find on the majority of the papers, an answer similar to this. "He is a little man who walks around town pulling a coaster wagon."

This is not astonishing, because Johnny Lewis with his little coaster wagon is a much better known community figure than is the burly leader of the C. I. O.

Johnny was born in Wauseka, Ill., in 1882. He is fifty-five years old. He came to Ord in 1889 and has been here ever since. When he first came to Ord, he attended Springdale school. He finished his education at Menden and Winton schools. As a boy, he had no idea of what career he wanted to follow. "All I ever thought," he said, "was to come to Ord and work and make some money."

When Johnny was nineteen, he came to town and began working in the Henry Fales restaurant. The next place he worked in was the Jolie Level restaurant. After he finished working there, Johnny started shoe-shining in the Hill pool hall. That has been twenty-five years ago and Johnny is still shining shoes.

To most people, he is just a good-humored little man who is fond of laughing. However, these people do not realize that Johnny is one of our oldest business men. Yes shoe-shining is just as much of a business as anything else. After all, if there were no Johnny Lewis in this town to shine our shoes for us, what would we do for another shoe-shiner?

This Week's Patterns

FOR bridge luncheons and club meetings, Pattern 8204 presents slenderizing, gracious charm enhanced by a softly draped bodice and wrap-around sleeves. Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, and 46.

Versatility marks the smart shirtwaister, Pattern 8220, adaptable to a host of different fabrics and looking equally well with long or short sleeves. Sizes: 14, 16, 18, 20, 40, and 42.

The figure-molding slip, Pattern 8225, lends a flattering silhouette to any costume and can be practically made from lingerie satin, flat crepe, taffeta, or linen. Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46, 48, and 50.

The queenly house coat, Pattern 8218, attains regal elegance through a sweeping length and gathered fullness at the sides of the waist. Sizes: 12, 14, 16, 18, 20, and 40.

Address your envelope to Ord Quiz Fashion Bureau, 11-13 Sterling Place, Brooklyn, N. Y.

North Loup

Written by MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Lester Hubbard, Lester and Mabel Taylor of Arcadia and Alvin Anderson of Kirby, Wyo., were Wednesday afternoon and evening callers on their cousins, Bert and Wallace Cox.

Mrs. Arnold, Mrs. Jennie Bee and Esther spent the time between the morning and evening buses Thursday in North Loup.

Mary Ann Barz spent the week end in Omaha.

The Theron Noltes of Ord were Sunday guests in the Fred McKeown home.

Agnes Manchester and Eva Sheehan spent the week end at home. Both are attending summer school in Kearney.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry McClellan, Miss Fanny McClellan and Mrs. Buten spent a short time in Greeley Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Van Horn, son Charles Lee and Merl Van Horn left early Sunday morning for their home in Milton, Wis., planning to spend Sunday night with relatives at Cedar Rapids, Ia. Louise Hamer accompanied them and will spend about two weeks with some friends in Milton.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Babcock and the Paul Van Horns spent Friday afternoon and evening with the Clyde Keown family near Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Thorgate and son came up from their home at Hastings Friday evening bringing Mrs. Carrie Green who had spent the week in their home. Mrs. Green was with a sister in Florida last winter and has been with relatives at Pomeroy and Sioux City for about three weeks but expects to remain in North Loup for a while. She returned a few days earlier than planned to have a visit with her granddaughter, Mrs. Paul Van Horn and family. Mr. and Mrs. Thorgate returned to their home Monday morning having been guests in the H. H. Thorgate home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson, Mrs. Mary Clement, Mrs. Mary Winch and daughter Martha drove to Grand Island Friday afternoon where they took the train for Milton, Wis. While there they will attend the marriage of Genevieve Looftboro to Roger Johnson which will take place Monday, June 20, in the Seventh Day Baptist church at Milton. They will also visit with their son Edwin, their daughter Mrs. Theron Ochs and her husband and Mrs. Clara Holmes. Mrs. Clement will go to Battle Creek, Mich., for a short visit with a niece also.

W. W. Willis left Wednesday for Fremont.

Mr. Regler was home from Lincoln over the week end looking after his garden and lawn and the beet crop three of the ag boys have planted.

The Kings Herald entertained their mothers and the members of the Foreign Missionary society in the basement of the Methodist church Wednesday afternoon. A review of their year's work and a little play was given by the children. This meeting finished the goal that had been set for the year's work. Ice cream and cake was served and a social hour enjoyed. Mrs. Ben Nelson and Berdine are sponsors for this organization.

Chas. Zanger is home from his work at Hastings college and plans to spend the summer assisting on his father's farm.

Delpha Williams left Wednesday last week for Battle Creek where she will spend some time with her sister, Mrs. Clara Bunch. She hopes to find work and remain indefinitely.

A splendid concert by the Burwell band under the leadership of Mr. Auble was greatly enjoyed last Wednesday night. In their white uniforms with purple and gold head-dresses they were a striking picture as they marched down main street where they played a number at the intersection before going to the band stand near the town hall. Some members of the North Loup band played with them. Mr. Auble will have charge of the North Loup band again this week as Mr. Van Horn has not returned from Salem, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lutman, Calvert and Edgar Bresley of Comstock spent Sunday at Clarence Bresley's.

Lillian and Ida Babcock spent Sunday with their sister, Mrs. Marguerite Scott of Haskell Creek.

Mrs. Gray was Viola Jonson, daughter of Emil Jonson, formerly of North Loup.

Les Jonson spent Sunday night in North Loup, a guest in the Otto Bartz home.

Mary Ann Barz went to Chapman Tuesday evening where she was a guest at a dinner in the Gus Barmelster home in honor of Les Jonson, who was leaving Wednesday morning for his boat, the U. S. S. Minneapolis, where he had to report Sunday morning. Mary Ann remained in Chapman over night and returned to her work Wednesday morning.

Martin Clausen of Litchfield was a guest in the N. C. Madsen home Saturday night and Sunday. Mr. Clausen lived some years ago on the place where Pete Jorgensen now lives and was busy greeting old friends while here. Mrs. Clausen died about ten years ago.

On a stage banked with green leaves and beautiful flowers with singing birds hanging in their midst, Children's day was observed in the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning. Group singing recitations, solos, trios and duets and a short play, "Suffer Little Children," made up the program. Particularly appreciated was a whistling solo by Kathleen Davis and the singing of little two and a half year old Jenaene Brennick in the group was very pleasing. The offering as is the custom, was sent to the Nebraska Children's home. Vesta Thorgate was the committee chairman and was assisted by Myra Barber, Luella Van Horn and Louise Brennick.

On Sunday morning at the Methodist church a very pleasing program was given by the children in a church decorated for the occasion. This program also consisted of songs, exercises and recitations under the supervision of Avona Nold and Berdine Ingerson.

Harold Schudel came home from York Saturday and returned Sunday. He is working this summer on a government project for the eradication of bind weed which is work relative to his course in the agricultural college.

Paul Madsen drove to Grand Island Thursday and took his sister Freida to Omaha to see about a school near there, returning late Thursday night. His mother accompanied him to Grand Island and spent the day with Helen. She returned on the evening bus.

Donna Manchester expects to spend from Wednesday till Friday in Grand Island with Helen Madsen.

Reuben Malstrom drove to Grand Island Thursday, taking his sister Frances and his daughter, Norma down to take the Challenger for Chicago and from there they went to Ishening, Mich., Miss Malstrom's home. Mrs. Buten and Mrs. Fannie Weed were guests Sunday in the Clark Roby home.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schudel and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schudel and Merlyn drove to South Bend, Ind., last week after two new Studebakers. Nettie Clark is owner of one of them.

Nettie Clark and Bestie Eberhart left Monday morning for Boulder, Colo., to attend summer school. Nettie called from Ogallala Monday night saying they had been in a very bad wind and rain storm in Paxton in the afternoon. Mrs. C. B. Clark rode to Grand Island with Nettie and came home on the evening bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wells and Marjorie Ann spent Saturday night and Sunday with friends in St. Paul.

Mrs. Frank White suffered a heart attack Friday and is confined to her bed again.

New Clipper Plows Water in Trial Run

Whipping the waters of Elliott Bay into a spray, the new Boeing-Pan American Airways clipper, colossal achievement of aeronautical design, is pictured above as it started a somewhat disastrous test run near Seattle, Wash. A few minutes later the plane heeled over slightly, damaging its right wing, which dented in the water. After repairs, the four-motored craft will engage in a second test flight before being put into trans-Atlantic service. The clipper has accommodations for 72 passengers, making it the largest hydro-plane ever built in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby and son spent Sunday in the A. L. Willoughby home. In the afternoon, Dr. McGrath of Grand Island who was out for a ride stopped at Willoughby's and dressed Clyde's arm. Clyde has been going to Grand Island every fourth day to have it dressed.

Mrs. Dorothy Cook and two children are spending the week with Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Bohrer and Ellora Jane is attending Bible school. Monday evening Mrs. Dorothy Knapp and baby called at Bohrer's to see Mrs. Cook and the baby. The Cook and Knapp babies both arrived April 1.

Emergency Crop

Several have reported wheat is not filling as a result of rust. Heads look good but no grain.

Much small grain has been destroyed by hail.

In 1937, in a field where hoppers had taken all the grain; on the 5th day of JULY, we listed SOONER MILO AS AN EMERGENCY GRAIN CROP.

Or try a few acres in the stubble after harvest.

Official Call For Old Settlers Picnic

Notice is hereby given that the 1938 Old Settlers Picnic will be held at Busell Park in Ord, Sunday, June 26, 1938. The committee in deciding on this date and place selected the last Sunday in June, which is usually a very suitable time, and also decided that Busell Park was the most centrally located place as well as one of the most completely equipped picnic grounds in this section.

While all plans are not complete, it is certain that several well known men will be here at that time, and they will divulge plans whereby old Fort Hartsuff may be acquired as a public park. For this reason it is urged that all who possibly can do so plan to be there at that time. It will take the combined efforts of all the old settlers in this section to put the program across.

In the past there seems to have been some misapprehension as to what constitutes an old settler, and as to the territory comprised in this district. Any old settler, wherever he may live, is welcome to attend, and anyone of mature years who was born here, or who has lived here the greater part of his life, can certainly qualify as an old settler. Last year hundreds stayed away because they felt they could not qualify. Come. You are welcome.

George W. McNulty, President

Vacation Bible School

The daily vacation Bible school is continuing this week in the basement of the Christian church. The pastor, Rev. Clarence Jensen of Bethany Lutheran church is assisted in the teaching by Miss Joy Loft, and Mrs. Jensen has charge of the singing. There is an enrollment of 44, and great interest is manifested.

Gospel Team in Ord.

The gospel team representing the Lutheran Bible Institute of Minneapolis, was very favorably received in Ord Sunday. Gilbert Jensen delivered the sermon at the morning worship hour. The girls' trio sang a beautiful arrangement of "Jesus Priceless Treasure." At this service Miss Virginia Sack and James Aagaard sang a duet, "Come Unto Me."

In the evening the team took complete charge of the service. Miss Alice Jensen of Easton, Calif., led the devotion. The girls' trio, consisting of two sisters and a cousin, sang a number of fine selections. They all three gave personal testimonies of what Christ meant to them as a personal Saviour. Paul Elmquist of Riverside, Calif., played a piano solo and brought a very fitting message.

Gilbert Jensen sang a solo and the bass part in a mixed quartette, as well as acting as the team's leader. There were more than one hundred people in attendance. The group was much impressed by the city of Ord, and the response they had here. It was one of the high spots on their tour so far. A song and personal work service was continued at the parsonage following the service at the church.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

To the Ord Quiz:

As a dairyman with my investment in dairy cows and 25 years of my life spent in building up a dairy herd, that the Nebraska University dairy department considers one of the best in Nebraska, I was much interested in George Gowen's article in last week's Quiz about the doom of the dairy business in Nebraska. I will agree with George that it is serious but not near a doom. The pennycress weed is sure a menace, but not so serious as to doom the dairy business which keeps the wheels of the farm in motion when all other things fail. It is the cream check, that weekly pay-off, that buys the tractor fuel, pays the gas bill for the auto and pays the hired man, if there is any such animal in existence in these years of drouth.

If pennycress wins there is one other means of continuing in the dairy business. On our farm we keep from 50 to 100 head of purebred Jerseys and milk from 20 to 50 cows a year and haven't had an acre of wild grass on the farm for 30 years, and are not bothered with pennycress. We raise rye, fall and spring, sudan grass and sweet clover, and after the harvest, pasture the stubble fields and get along very well that way, and the pennycress does not bother the milk, cream or butter as it does not grow in the plowed land. So far this season we have no complaints on our milk. It is bottled and sold in Ord and if there were any complaints, we would surely hear about it. There is no thought of giving up the dairy at this farm. Cane with cottoncake to balance it makes a good cheap winter dairy

A good herd of dairy cows can be a paying proposition on any farm, even without the prairie grass and pennycress. In eastern Nebraska there are numerous farms with a good herd of dairy cows and the prairie grass has been gone from these farms for 50 years. I personally know a German farmer in northeast Nebraska who tells me he keeps 10 Jersey cows in milk on his farm, and those 10 cows bring in $1,000 on an average each year. He calls it his farm relief. A good dairy cow will produce 400 pounds of butterfat in a year, and at 25c a pound, his story looks all right to me.

I can't think the dairy business of Nebraska is doomed. I hope not, anyway, as the farmer is up against a tough proposition as it

The young people are all leaving the farms, some of us older ones will have to quit the farm in a few years. It is the lack of ready cash on the farm that is depopulating them. If we let the dairy cow disappear from the farms of Nebraska the cash will be scarce or than ever, which means more vacant farms, and more crowded jails. It is our jobless people that fill the jails. Keep people busy and contented and there will be a change in business all around. One way to keep busy on the farm is a good dairy herd, well taken care of. Of course I don't expect everyone to be a dairyman, but some should. There is a place for it on the Nebraska farms.

Built and Paid for

★ The world considers Nebraska's 10 million dollar capitol Bertram Goodhue's architectural masterpiece. To the people of Nebraska it is more than that. ★ It is a symbol of the state's great principle of governmental economy. It was bought and paid for as built. If this capitol building had been bonded for 20 years at 5 per cent it might have cost the state 20 millions of dollars instead of 10! Nebraska SAVED the difference. ★ EVERYTHING that Nebraska buys or builds—roads, bridges, buildings, public services—is paid for IN CASH. NEBRASKA REFUSES TO MORTGAGE ITS FUTURE. ## Louis Should Hold Onto Championship If He Avoids Schmeling's Right Hand

BY IRVING DIX
MR. JOSEPH LOUIS BARROW, otherwise known as just plain Joe Louis, remembers a certain night in June, 1936, when dark-visaged Max Schmeling blasted a right hand against his chin so hard and so often that he drifted off into slumberland.

Today it's a different Joe Louis that will step into the ring with Schmeling for a return engagement, June 22 in Yankee Stadium. Not merely because he is the heavyweight champion, Joe is quick to remind, but because he is a much-improved fighter, and not the careless youth who didn't know how to cover up against a booming right cross. So Louis mutters menacingly that this will be his turn—that this time he'll do the punching—and Schmeling will do the fold-up on the canvas. The German ex-heavyweight king entertains conflicting ideas. In fact, everyone's ideas on this affair are conflicting. Sports writers, astic experts and John Q. Fan has been in a dither about the scrap, ever since the first meeting came to a finish in the 12th round.

CAN Schmeling come back to be hailed as the first man ever to regain a lost heavyweight throne? Will his legs hold up underneath his 33 years? Does he still have the punch that spelled lights-out for Louis in 1936?

And in regard to Louis: Has Joe really learned how to cover up against a good right? Will the memory of the first knockout have a bad psychological effect on him? Is he the better boxer he claims he is?

Answering just a few of the many questions which rise out of the greatest ring natural since the Dempsey-Tunney "long-count" affair of 1927, isn't very easy. Schmeling, to all appearances, hasn't suffered much from the ravages of time. In three warm-up bouts he scored technical knockouts over Harry Thomas, and Steve Dudas, and a clean knockout over Ben Ford. His punching in all three was just as heavy, his eye just as good. But he wasn't extended enough to see if the legs would hold up.

LOUIS, since he took the title from Jimmy Braddock, won a decision from Tommy Farr and kayoed Nathan Mann and Harry Thomas. His left is by far a deadlier weapon than it was in '36, and Jack Blackburn has taught him how to guard against a right cross.

It has been proven time and again that when Louis is hurt he's a very poor fighting man. His big objective will be to keep Schmeling's heavy rights away from his chin.

If he's successful in that the German won't have a chance. Because in the final analysis Louis is by far the better boxer, and if he in turn can get to the German with his own right, it'll be curtains for Herr Schmeling.

Two Congressmen Will Be Guests Of Old Settlers

Coffee, Stefan, to Attend Picnic and Outline Plan For Getting Fort Hartsuff.

Old settlers of the Loup Valley from Taylor and farther west to St. Paul or farther to the southeast are expected to be present at the 1938 old settlers' picnic next Sunday, June 26. Those who come are to bring dinner enough for themselves, with a little allowance for some of the valley's old bachelors who are to be there, and who may not be expert in the putting up of picnic snacks.

The committee wishes to emphasize the fact that this is not confined to those who were once known as the old settlers, for most of the first generation have long since gone. It is up to the second generation to get busy if this grandest of all gatherings, the old settlers' picnic, is to continue to exist. Anyone who has made this his home thirty years or more should feel welcome.

Mr. McAnulty has made arrangements with Congressman Karl Stefan of the third district and Harry B. Coffee of the fifth district to be present and explain the details of a plan whereby Ft. Hartsuff can be made into a state park. The Burwell Community band is planning a picnic in Bussell Park that day, and have offered to play during the dinner hour. It is also probable that Hon. A. E. Sheldon of Lincoln will be present.

Auble Bros., have offered the use of their public address system, which will make it easy for all old timers to understand every word that is said. The program is in the hands of President McAnulty, who has not made any definite announcements other than those given above, but he will no doubt arrange plenty of entertainment.

Miss Pinder Students Give Violin Recital

Students of Miss Jane Pinder of the Grand Island Conservatory of Music, presented a violin recital Thursday at 8:15 p. m. in the M. Biemond home. Violin solos were played by Cornelius Biemond, Norma Grace Long, Don Auble, Angelene Koelling, Patricia Mae Frazier and Marilyn Dale. Margie Jean Smith played a viola solo, and a cello solo was given by Orel Koelling. Violin duets were played by Hilda and Amelia Lola, Don and Irene Auble, Cornelius Biemond and Patricia Frazier, and Margie Jean Smith and Marilyn Dale. Angelene, Viola and Orel Koelling played two trio numbers. This was followed by two ensemble numbers. Accompaniments were played by Margie Jean Smith, Angelina Wachtrie and Viola Koelling. A delicious lunch consisting of ice cream and wafers was served by the hostess, Mrs. Biemond.

Two Incumbents File.

Two more present incumbents filed for re-election the past week. Thursday Ign. Kilima filed again for the office of county clerk on the Democratic ticket. Friday Miss Clara McClatchey filed for another term as county superintendent on the non-political ballot.

Chas. Sternecker Files.

Charles Sternecker filed this morning for unicameral in the 29th district. He is opposed by W. W. Robbins in Valley county, John F. Doyle in Greeley county, no one in Wheeler county and by seven in Howard county.

Hohn Files Monday.

Monday Harvey H. Hohn got in to the political race by filing as a republican candidate for the office of supervisor in the third district, comprising Michigan and Ord townships and the first ward of Ord city. So far he is unopposed on the republican ticket, but the present incumbent, Henry Zikmund, is a candidate to succeed himself on the democratic ticket.

Former Ordites Picnic.

In Sunday morning's mail Archie Bradt received word that a group of former Ordites from South Dakota were planning to arrive in Ord that day for a picnic in Bussell park. They got busy at once, and a reception committee was ready when the visitors arrived. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bresley, their son, Rex and wife, Rex's wife's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jensen, and Mr. and Mrs. James Bradt, all of Colome, S. D. Calhouns were present from South Dakota and from York, Neb.; Mrs. Sada Calhoun Post, teacher at Aberdeen, S. D. was also present. Those who attended from Ord were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresley and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Parks, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Parks and children, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Burdick, and Mr. and Mrs. Archie Bradt; also Mr. and Mrs. Lores McMindes and children of Red Cloud.

—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hatfield have received word of the serious illness of her mother, Mrs. Donner, who lives at Newdale, Idaho.

Crops Prospects Better As More Rain Falls

The rainfall early Tuesday morning was .70 of an inch, according to Weatherman Horace Travis, who also reports .03 of an inch Monday morning. The rain was very satisfactory here, but it is reported that practically none fell a few miles west. The storm was accompanied by a brilliant display of lightning, but little wind and no hail is reported.

The rain Tuesday evening amounted to only .04 of an inch at Burwell, while North Loup received 1.11 inches. Burwell made up for this last Thursday evening, when they had 1.90 in a heavy downpour, and the neighborhood of Kent received their second heavy rain of the season, amounting to about four inches. Crop conditions are good throughout this section, with the exception of the hail swept areas, and some of the farmers there report that their crops are staging a remarkable comeback.

Use New Dragline On State Highway

An innovation in the line of highway machinery is the new light weight dragline that is being used on the highways of central Nebraska this year. It is known as the Insley dragline and has a thirty foot boom, with a capacity of 3-8 cubic yard. It is run by a 6 h.p. Waukesha engine, and is especially convenient in clearing the dirt out of the ditches at the side of the highway where it has been washed in by rains. This dirt is used for raising the grade.

The dragline moves along the road caterpillar style while working, but is moved from place to place on a special eight tire trailer hitched behind a truck, reaching a speed of 30 miles per hour on good roads. While working at Rockville some two weeks ago Roy P. Randolph, highway superintendent of Ord and B. H. Black, operator of Grand Island, got word to move at once to Nelson, Neb., to repair rain damage to the roads. They arrived the next day and went to work at once.

Finishing the work at Nelson, they brought the outfit to Ord in eleven hours. They did some work on the highway, both at Elyria and about three miles north of Ord. They were assisted in this work by Charles Hather and George Lint of Ord, who used the regular maintainers and a light, rubber-tired grader. From here the outfit was taken to Scotia the latter part of the week to do some work on highways near there.

Ord Band Will Gladly Play Request Numbers

The Ord municipal band, which gives a concert each Wednesday evening from the west steps of the court house, will gladly play request numbers, says Director Dean S. Duncan, if sufficient time is given before the concert to arrange for the proper music.

Miss Dorothy Auble, singing "When Irish Eyes Are Smiling," will be the vocalist featured at tonight's band concert.

Other features on tonight's program are:

- "Sons of the Desert," march, by Kline.
- "Light Brigade," overture, by Schaefer.
- A medley of Victor Herbert's favorites, arranged by N. L. Lake.
- "Hopeless Polka" and "Huntsman Waltz," Bohemian selections, by Vitak.
- "Miss Trombone," a slippery rag, by Fillmore.
- "Nola," by Felix Arndt; a special arrangement.
- "San Diego Exposition," march, by Talbot.
- "El Capitán," march, by Sousa.

June 30th Final Day to File for Office

The attention of the public is called to the fact that Thursday, June 30, is the final date on which anyone can file for office. The date for present holders of elective offices who wished to file for some other office expired June 20, but all others who wish to do so may file until June 30. The apathy shown by the public toward the holding of public office this year is surprising the newspaper men. There are not nearly as many filings for public office as there usually are at this time of the year.

—Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, Dr. and Mrs. J. N. Round and Dr. F. A. Barta attended the regular meeting of the Four County Medical society in Greeley last week. The meeting was held in the private dining room of the Douthat cafe.

Walter Thodal and Bert Boquet New Officers of Booster Club; Will Help Put Over 1938 Fair

The Ord Booster club met at the American Legion hall Friday evening for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year. As a result of the balloting Walter Thodal of the City Cafe succeeds Ed Kokes as president, and B. C. Boquet of the Kleinholz Oil company is the new secretary, succeeding A. J. Auble. In behalf of the Loup Valley fair and races Secretary Kokes gave the club a general outline of what the fair board had planned for 1938, and stated that any assistance the club felt like giving at any time would be heartily appreciated. The question of a July 4th celebration was brought up, but it was agreed that it was too late for a big celebration, such as was put on last year, and that it would be better to concentrate on boosting the fair.

Valley County's Wheat Harvest Starts at Earliest Date in History

Seldom do Valley county farmers start harvesting wheat before July 1 but much of the wheat is early this year and earliest to ripen was the field of Anton Welniak, three miles southwest of Elyria. On Monday, June 20, he began cutting wheat, as this picture proves, and before July 4th he hopes to have his whole crop harvested.

Mr. Welniak has 43 acres of wheat. Ten acres, where growth was very rank, lodged badly and also was damaged by red leaf rust, so it will scarcely pay to harvest it. The other 33 acres will make 30 bushels of good quality wheat to the acre, Welniak firmly believes.

Last year this Elyria farmer began harvesting on June 25, the earliest date his wheat ever had ripened, and at that time made the remark that he probably never would cut wheat as early again. This year he beat his former record by five days. The wheat was planted on Sept. 12 and 13, Mr. Welniak recalls. One of his neighbors, John Nelson, who is helping with the Welniak harvest pictured above, will have wheat ready to harvest by this week-end. He planted his wheat about a week later than did Mr. Welniak.

Damaged to some extent by red rust, Valley county's wheat crop still will be larger than usual this year. Within the next two weeks harvesting will be under way all over the county.

Evelyn Sharp Featured In Nebraska Farmer

Miss Evelyn Sharp, Ord's young aviatrix, received special mention in the Nebraska Farmer magazine last week. A feature story written by George Dobby covered every detail of Evelyn's life and her work. He tells of the beginning of Evelyn's flying career and of her future work and chances in flying. Dobby made a trip to Ord to get information about Evelyn.

Seventeen Boy Scouts Hike and Camp Friday

Seventeen of Ord's boy scouts, under the leadership of Assistant Scoutmasters Ed Whelan and Wilmer Anderson, hiked out to the C. J. Mortensen pasture Friday evening, taking with them the necessary bedding and cooking utensils and supplies. They had supper there and camped out for the night, the boys taking turns of one hour each keeping guard and keeping the camp fire going.

Saturday morning at 6:30 Scoutmaster Ralph Misko drove out to eat breakfast with the boys, who had plenty of pancakes and sausage, as well as all the milk they could drink. Anderson came into town early, but Whelan remained with the boys until about 3:00 p. m., when they broke camp and hiked back to town. Of course their stay included a dip in the river.

Summer School Picnic.

Rev. Clarence Jensen announces that a picnic will be held Sunday, June 26, for the summer school held recently at the Ord Christian church. It will be at the grove near Mrs. Amelia Johnson's. There is to be a picnic dinner at noon, and a program beginning at 2:15 p. m. The members of the Haskell Creek school which begins June 27 are also invited to be present. A real turnout is desired.

Don Dahlin Returns From Boys' State

Donald Dahlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Dahlin returned Saturday after an interesting week in the Cornhusker Boys' State in Lincoln. During this week all the boys who were chosen to attend, were taught the principles of good government in both city and state.

Upon their arrival at Lincoln, all the boys were given physical examinations. After this, a mental exam of seventy-five questions was given. The passing grade on this exam was forty, and Don's was seventy-two. The boys were assigned to their sleeping quarters, and then divided into parties, the Nationalists and the Federalists. Don was a Nationalist. Everyone was ordered to file for some office, and Don's choice of office was County Treasurer. During the week, lectures were given by various men who are prominent in state government.

On Tuesday, Don was elected to the office of Justice of Peace. While he held this office, he presided over several courts and settled several different cases. Wednesday he was elected treasurer of his city, Hitchellville. While in this office he studied the duties of a city treasurer. Don returned to Ord Saturday, after a banquet which was given for all of the boys attending.

—Sunday guests at the McLain brothers home were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dumey and family, Jack Janssen, Mr. and Mrs. Charles McLain, Will McLain, and John McLain.

Mrs. Anton Radil Claimed by Death

Mrs. Emma F. Radil, nee Sevensen, was born in Hayes County, Nebraska, December 17, 1898, daughter of Frank and Katherine Sevensen. As a small child she came with her parents to Valley county, Nebraska, and grew up on a farm 13 miles northeast of Ord. She was employed in Ord three years previous to her marriage on April 6, 1920 to Anton H. Radil. They farmed on their place ten miles west of Ord. For the last fifteen years she has suffered several illnesses, twice submitting to major operations. The last serious illness kept her bedfast for eight weeks.

Mrs. Radil died June 15, 1938, at 11:45 p. m., being 39 years, 5 months and 28 days of age. She leaves her husband after a happy but sorely tried marriage, one son, George, her mother, Mrs. Katherine Sevensen, two brothers, Frank and Edward and sister Elsie. Her two brothers, William and Jesse and father Frank Sevensen, preceded her in death. She belonged to the Order of Slavic, Z. C. B. J., Bohemian Fraternal Union.

Funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Saturday afternoon at 2:00 o'clock, with Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson and Rev. Mearl C. Smith of Ord in charge. Mrs. Mark Tolen and Mrs. Robert Noll sang, with Mrs. Glen Auble at the piano. Pall bearers were Jerry Patska, John John, Jr., Rudolph Krahulik, John Zading, Albert F. Parkos and John Nevrick. Interment was made in Bohemian National cemetery, Mrs. Vsetecka, secretary of Lodge Slavic, and Rev. Filipi each speaking briefly.

—J. H. VanNess, formerly of Ord and North Loup, was in Ord Monday looking after business which required his attention. He has been living at San Antonio, Tex., for the past four years.

W. W. Loofbourrow is Youngest Old Man

by Lillian Karty.

Today my story deals with an entirely different type of character. He is Ord's "youngest" old man. Mr. W. W. Loofbourrow. Mr. Loofbourrow is well known in this community for his keen sense of humor, and his unusual spryness.

He was born in a log cabin in Adams County, Ind., in the Wabash Valley, on June 10, 1850. The only school he ever attended was a summer school for two or three months. He was born and raised on a farm, so he followed his farming work in life. He says that at different times in his life he wanted to follow several different careers such as harness making, teaching, and preaching. He gave up the idea of preaching because he figured there were enough "one-horse" preachers in this world already.

He unloaded his belongings in Ord on the last day of March, 1904. Here he did anything he could find to do.

Mr. Loofbourrow was eleven years old when the Civil War broke out. His sympathies were with the Northerners. He is an ardent Republican, and just as ardent anti-Communist. He says, "There is not a drop of Democratic blood in my veins. I have never drank a bottle of booze or voted a Democratic ticket in my life." When I asked

Ord All-Stars Lose To Fast Greeley Ten

In their first game of the season the Ord All-Stars lost to the fast Greeley team Sunday evening by a score of 8 to 4. They have a usual to offer, and admit that the best team won. Tuesday evening the Brown-McDonalds defeated the Knights of Columbus by a score of 10 to 4 in the opening game. In the second game, which was a five inning affair, the Ord Livestocks handed the High School a 12 to 2 defeat.

Games next Tuesday evening will find the Brown-McDonalds playing the Livestocks in the opener, and the High School against the K. C.'s in the nightcap. There are four more games to be played in the first half, nine in the last half, and a city series at the close of play. The present standing of the teams shows that the Livestock team has won 5 and lost 0; Brown-McDonalds has won 3 and lost 2; and the K. C.'s and High School have each lost 4 and won 1.

Junior Legion Team Loses to St. Paul

The Junior Legion baseball team at St. Paul was too strong for the Ord team, in a game played on the St. Paul diamond Tuesday afternoon, and Ord lost, 13 to 4. Don Dahlin, Ord's starting pitcher, was wild and ineffective but Misko, who succeeded him on the mound, pitched excellent ball.

Hill Is Rotary Speaker.

Rev. and Mrs. Claude L. Hill, of North Loup, were guests of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening, and Mr. Hill spoke interestingly, illustrating his talk with stereopticon slides. Other guests at the dinner included Dr. G. W. Taylor and sons, Wilbur and Harold Taylor.

—Week end visitors at the M. Biemond home were Miss Ruth Carlson, Don Steinke, and Merle Stranz, of Bassett. They came to Ord Saturday evening and returned Sunday evening.

H. Westburg, Dean Of Photographers, Dies at North Loup

Was Highly Esteemed As a Naturalist; Burial Made In Ord Tuesday.

This week marks the passing of one of the grand old men of photography, as well as one of the best known and best loved of the Loup Valley's pioneers. Henry Gilbert Westburg was born Sept. 25, 1861 near Moline, Ill. The farm adjoined that of John Deere, the noted inventor of the steel plow, whom Mr. Westburg knew as a boy. From his youth on he was interested in photography, which profession became his life's work.

When grown to manhood the pioneer spirit first took him to Minnesota, but a severe case of ivy poisoning made him decide not to remain there. In 1881 he came to Nebraska where he apprenticed himself to C. G. Henderson of St. Paul, who gave him training in photography. He first came to North Loup, a frontier town and then the end of the railroad in 1883. From there he came by stage to Ord. Locating in Ord in 1888, he purchased the photographic gallery of W. A. Anderson, and operated a studio in Valley county ever continuously for the next 45 years.

He was united in marriage to Miss Julia McDonald in Grand Island on April 30, 1890. His wife soon learned the photographic art and became his assistant. Two daughters came to bless their home, and now mourn with her the passing of an affectionate husband and father who delighted to share with them the joys of a comprehensive knowledge of the lore of the fields and the streams.

His love of nature was intense, and he spent much time in the great outdoors, hunting, fishing, camping, and making photographs of sylvan scenes. He shared his knowledge of nature in contributing articles to outdoor magazines, particularly Recreation and Sports Afield. So highly was he esteemed as a naturalist that inquiries coming to the magazines concerning Nebraska birds and other nature subjects were often referred to him for his opinion.

Captain Hardy, noted marksman, observing Mr. Westburg's ability as a trap shooter, advised him to leave photography for professional shooting, assuring him that a prominent cartridge company would employ him to demonstrate its product. He refused this opportunity and devoted himself to the art of photography.

Evidence of Mr. Westburg's interest in the development of the west is found in the book, "Trail of the Loup," for many of the historical photographs which illustrate the volume were taken by him. No credit was given him for them in the book, but the fact is that if proper credit were given, many striking photographs would bear the credit line, "Photo by Westburg."

Retiring when his health began to fail a few years ago, he has spent his declining days quietly at home with his companion of half a century. Saturday evening after a short illness, soon after repeating a prayer in Swedish that he had learned at his mother's knee, he passed peacefully from this life, and his spirit returned to the God who gave it. His age was 76 years, 8 months and 23 days.

The daughters are Mrs. Winifred Meyers and Mrs. Evelyn Patterson. A sister, Mrs. F. D. Hudson, Eugene, Ore., survives. There are ten grandchildren, who, with a host of friends, hold him in tender memory. Funeral services were conducted from the Meyers home Tuesday by Rev. W. C. Birmingham, pastor of the North Loup Methodist church, and burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Good Crowd Greeted the Magician, Birch

A splendid crowd considering the hot evening greeted Magician Birch Tuesday evening when he gave a performance at the Ord high school auditorium under auspices of the high school music department. Birch's program was of particular interest to children, who comprised a majority of the audience, but even the adults were properly mystified at the magician's escape from a strong packing box and at the pony disappearance trick. The music department realized a small sum as sponsor of the performance.

Former Ordites Visit Sunday.

Visitors at the W. A. Anderson home Sunday included R. L. Abner, and family of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bannister of Oshkosh, and Mr. and Mrs. William Bannister of Aurora. Tuesday evening Mrs. Agnes Petersen and daughter Zola visited at Andersons. They and Mr. Petersen are visiting his uncle, Annis Petersen, north of Ord, and with other relatives here. From here they will go to South Dakota and Iowa to visit. They have not been in Ord for 16 years, and are from Wilmington, Calif.

him what he thought of the WPA, he said, "I think it's a bunch of Roosevelt tomfoolery."

As I was ready to leave, I mentioned something about "intervening older people." At that he burst out, "Old? Do you think I'm old? Here," he said as he handed me a pair of sun glasses, "better take another look!"

THE NEWS REPORTER.

This editorial is written to a class of individuals who have more to do with the reputation of a newspaper than they may realize. It is written to the news reporter, the man or woman who takes the items of interest in his community, and builds them into what is destined to be a part of local history, and sends them in to the paper.

That does not mean that others may not read and profit thereby, if they wish to do so. Years of experience in this field brings out one fact, that no writer ever becomes perfect. This statement applies to all writers from the highest to the lowest. The handling of English is a difficult job, and this is written in the hope of helping some one to improve.

First, let us consider a few rules governing the writing of news items. Most important, as well as most general of these is the rule about answering the questions, who, what, when, where, how, and why. If all these are answered the average small item is complete. If it is not, the rest of the item should be included under the heading of details.

The above questions should not always be answered in exactly the same order. Changing the order produces variety, which is an essential to good writing. Many items read better if the question when, is answered first, for example, "Monday morning John Brown drove to Omaha," "Monday morning" looks equally well on either end of the sentence. But if Jim Smith went somewhere Tuesday morning the order should be changed for the sake of variety.

Did it ever occur to you that the period is the easiest punctuation mark there is to make? Did you ever notice that there are two of them on the standard typewriter keyboard? They are put there for a purpose. They should be used. The master of the short sentence has no difficulty in making himself understood. Tell the whole story, but say it in short sentences. The art of writing is to be understood.

The trouble with most reporting today seems to be a profound ignorance of the rules of English grammar, and a like ignorance or rather laziness, where the rules of clear sentence construction are concerned. Combined with these shortcomings there is frequently great pride in long words memorized, and an irresistible desire to show them off. Words are frequently used without the slightest idea as to their true meaning.

This is a condition for which there is but one cure, and that is the dictionary. Every editor who considers his job as worth while keeps a dictionary within easy reach, and refers to it whenever there is a question about the meaning of a word, or its proper spelling. If the editor can afford to consult the dictionary, so can the news writers. If you are in doubt, be certain about it.

Fully as important is a good atlas. When a neighbor moves to California, for example, Easton and Estelle may sound very much alike but the two places are seven hundred miles apart, one in the extreme north of the state, the other near the south line. It is a good idea to look up the location of these places, for you are then much better informed.

Not every reporter, even on the slackest sheet, is guilty of all the sins that are charged against the craft as a whole. But so much poor writing gets into the best of our newspapers that your attention should be called to some of the specific charges. Some reporters cannot use correctly some of the shortest, simplest and most common words of the English language; words employed by all of us every day.

Your sentence construction may be just as faulty, whether it be from ignorance or laziness, or a combination of the two. It is not a hanging matter to split an infinitive; but there should be some dire penalty for the writer who splits an entire sentence apart, and injects into the gap a clause which has no earthly business there, nor even in that part of the story.

The offender may point to classical writers who did that, but they were not reporters, writing spot news for hurried readers. The poet may seek to hide his meaning under a mountain of words, but the reporter who tries that plan is marked for oblivion. It is your job to give the public the news of the day in the shortest possible time and in the most easily understandable form.

The fault of poor writing cannot be laid at the door of schools of journalism. Most reporters are not graduates of such schools. The fault goes farther back. In the days when English grammar was being learned in the grade school, did the teacher always know the lessons she was trying to teach. No pupil should be passed out of a grade until he has mastered the work in that grade.

If every child were kept in the grade schools until he knows the meaning of the common words of the language; can put a sentence together properly; can parse every word in that sentence and give its exact meaning and its relation to all the other words; can take apart any English sentence and do the same with it—that child would be able to write clear and understandable English.

Finally, there is one rule that every correspondent should follow. Keep a copy of your news, if possible. Then check the spelling of words, sentence construction, use of capitals. Note the corrections the editor has made in your items, learn why the corrections were made, and do not make the same mistake twice. One Quiz writer is giving some of the same mistakes today that were made a year or more ago, although the corrections are made practically every week. Why don't you read your own news in print?

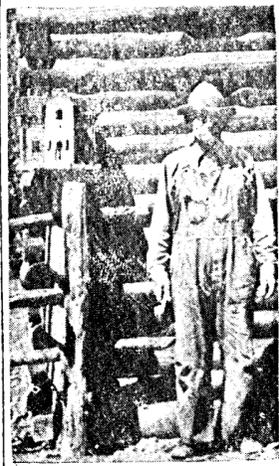

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz:

I am supposed to write a letter to you and there don't seem to be much to write about. I am glad to hear that there continues to be rain in Valley county, but I am sorry to hear of hail damage. We sure do have plenty of rain here. This is Tuesday and we had another big rain last night, following a beautiful day. I don't know how much it rained but it sounded like there was plenty and a 12-quart water pail on the dock had just 3 inches in it and it was dry last night. It is a little bit flaring but I am safe in saying it rained 2 inches. Some corn is still being planted here and many are cultivating their corn. Potato fields look nice and strawberry beds, of which we see many, are a mass of white. There will be berries ready for market here by July 1 if it stays warm, so the growers say. The past few days have been warm, hot in fact, temperatures getting up in the 90's some days and we haven't had a fire in the house for three days and this is the 13th. The natives say summer is really here.

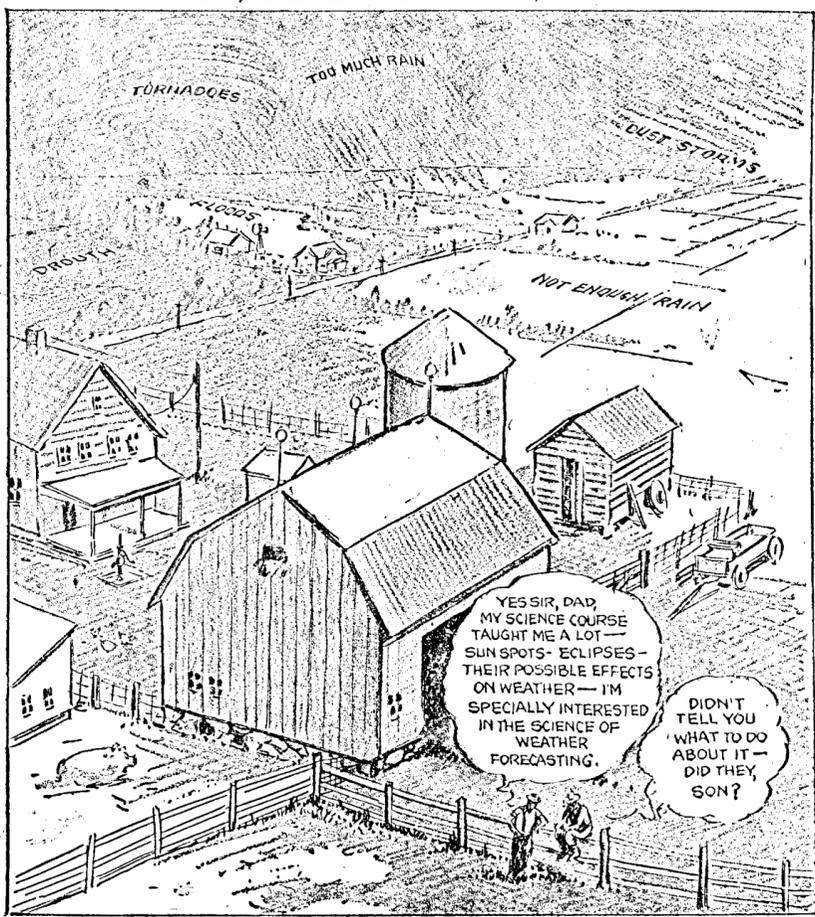

Back in 1855 Peter Wallin was a lad of 13, over in his native land

PETER WALLIN.

A couple of years before his father had bought a new, unimproved farm of about 80 acres and in 1855 he started building a new log house. Naturally handy with tools, Peter helped build the new house, and under the direction of his father, who was an expert mechanic, young Peter soon became expert with tools and all his life he has followed his trade of carpenter and wood worker. In 1890, when he was 13 years old, he came to America, settling at Atwater, Minn., where he had been preceded by a brother. He married there, later came north to Pequot, settling near Sibley lake just west of town, where he did market fishing for years, until that was stopped by law. He didn't like Sibley lake and he did like the Cul-

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

One Good Way to Avoid Trouble.

Had a Camera Not Tommy-Gun

Want Me to Give 'em Hell.

Very frequently I am approached by people who have some bit of news that I may use in this column and also more frequently some person has some trouble that is greivous his soul that he would like to have exposed. After several years of writing this bunk I have learned to keep away from some of the backfire. Vern Robbins told me of an old friend of mine who had his feelings hurt lately over something I wrote politically, and as soon as I can, I must see the fellow and try to make up.

There were a number of people who tore their hair and wanted me to do the same over the watermelon shooting case. I did not. I am in enough trouble as it is. Politics are ever a case to expose. The county board needs punning bad enough, perhaps, but I am a good friend of many of them and I don't like enemies. I try not to take sides for any candidate, such as Ed Lee and Jake Barber. In a case like Vern Robbins, where he is our only man up now for the place, I feel free to boom him, and then I wonder, when I do, if perhaps my booming might not do him more harm than good. I am not contented enough to think what I write here carries much weight.

About the most common complaint to me is that of the relief that has been passed about so freely the last few years. This is another subject I have tried to avoid. In the first place, I myself may be on dole sometime. You can't tell.

Second, in almost every case that I know of the details where people are getting relief, it seems to me those folks would have gone hungry without it. There are some, perhaps, on WPA, who should not be there, but I do not know the details of it. The fact of the matter is, it seems to me, that in every case where I know all the facts, those people have not had half enough.

There are bound to be errors and graft in such wholesale aid, but like it was in Greeley county, many of these grafters were weeded out eventually. The mere disgrace of a person being on relief when he does not need it will drive most of them off when times get better. And if there is a locality in the land that would be any more needful of aid than this the last year, we all have sympathy for them.

Story With a Moral.

Out living on the fringe of Davis Creek and Mira Valley is a little boy who likes to go over to his grandfather's place on his pony. There are many reasons why he likes to go there but one of these is the fact that in his uncle's room this small lad can find the nicest detective story magazines, with the most exciting stories one could imagine. This lad devours a few of these stories each trip, along with cookies his grandmother has stored away for little boys and girls. The other day after his usual feast of literature and cookies and he had started home on his horse, just ahead he noticed a man standing outside his car and he was holding something close in front of him. The little boy felt sure that this stranger was holding nothing but a machine gun. The boy kicked his pony in the ribs and went flying by thirty miles an hour or more to get away from this highwayman who might be robbing a bank.

It was only a few minutes after that Rev. Birmingham came driving in to the yard of the boy's folks for a call. He had his camera with him and had stopped in the canyon to shoot a scene or two.

Moral: Ministers should be more careful about shooting pictures around where there are little boys who read detective stories.

Short Shavings.

There have been a few people rigating down this way the last week. One or more has poured water on alfalfa ground that had been cut. It looks like the ditch might be a really yet and the joke of it all to me is that one of the parties that irrigated last week all along has claimed it would never work, and it wouldn't; and we're better off without the ditch. It reminds one of the story of the early railroad engine that the hill billies swore would never run, but after it did run, the fellows claimed they'd never get it stopped.

Down this way there are a few of us who make money by going to church. By hauling our own milk to town we get the five cents a pound that the trucker otherwise gets. So by taking the milk along as we go to church we sometimes make enough to partly offset the dollar or two we toss in the plate. It is all perfectly orthodox; for we do not collect the pay from the cheese factory until the next day.

I like to get letters from Jo. Knezacek. I do not suppose his penmanship would suit Palmer and he would get a low grade from that point, but he grades high with me. He writes about half between printing and writing and it looks more like a scroll than anything else. There is a friendliness to the whole page of his epistles even if the message is of little importance. Perhaps the friendliness of the man is carried on into his handwriting. Some would say so.

This is a hard country in which to live with drouths and grasshoppers and democrats, and relief and kidnappings and bugs that eat up our gardens and high priced gasoline and speeding cars.

But even at that I guess I'll stick. In Spain they are enlisting sixteen year old boys and old men who are not afraid to die, to fight on one side for a man who wants to be a dictator and the other for rich men who want to keep their estates. Or in China, where they fight among themselves until the third party comes in and whips them both and destroys them all. Or in Germany where you dare not speak your thoughts, or in England (good old England, our mother country) where every person must keep on hand a gas mask, or Mexico, with internal discent, or France, sitting between two dictators.

Yes, I guess I'll just stick, and go to the polls and vote, and then let the fellow have it that wins.

Sugar Traders Battle Government Despite Revision of 1938 Quotas

WASHINGTON.—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace has revised 1938 sugar quotas, but his action can't be described as oil upon the waters of sugar trade-New Deal antagonism. Sugar brokers and processors, who are not farmers, bitterly refer to the existing market condition as "sugar's dark hour," and insist that the market is suffering from over-supply because the current quota is from 300,000 to 500,000 tons in excess of requirements for the year.

They admit that business conditions have curtailed consumption. It was for this reason that the department reduced total quotas 80,000 tons recently. SUGAR traders complain that it was the spirit of Congress to "maintain the domestic sugar inso that the supply of sugar shall not result in average prices to consumers in excess of those necessary to maintain the domestic sugar industry as a whole." Retail price of sugar has remained constant in an equation that might be compared to a slide-rule. With one end of the rule representing retail price and the other the world market price, the length of the stick may be divided into such variables as the return to the grower on his crop, labor wages, the profits of the processor, and government taxes.

THE farmer is protected with benefit payments for which he qualifies by adhering to a quota and paying his laborers a determined wage, so they in turn are protected. The processor, taxed to provide a benefit payment fund, complains that he must bear the burden of cost of a control program which he would prefer to have removed. AAA officials believe that he should be content to get prices above the world price. They want that if sugar prices are allowed to skyrocket, consumers will be discouraged from buying.

More women work at being mothers than at any other job in the world, and it has always been so. And yet they are expected to make good at it without any training of any kind. Take a girl, shove a baby into her arms, and she is immediately supposed to be wiser than Solomon, kinder than anyone in the world. She is supposed to understand all the mysteries of baby washing, baby food, play, sleep and discipline.

And aren't schools funny things? Why would schools ever consider teaching all girls something about their eventual profession.

Norfolk Man Has Seen Every Port in World

F. E. Knapp, alias "Rags" Kelley, the wild Irish bum", was in Ord Friday talking to different business men here, and assisting in mending the awning on the J. C. Penna store. "Rags", whose home is in Norfolk, has "bummed" his way to every different port in the world. He is an ex-gravener for the United States mint, resigning his position there because of acid poisoning.

Mr. Kelley proved his engraving ability by designing small calling cards for different people in Ord, using only the blunt edge of his knife.

the world, and preach the gospel to the whole creation."

There have been great Imperialisms in the world, imperialism of might and power, the imperialism of Greece, the imperialism of Rome, the imperialism of later empires; but here is the great imperialism of love, service, and salvation, an imperialism that contemplates the reaching out to the whole world and all creation with the good news concerning God, and with the salvation that is able to transform cursing into blessedness through lifting men from sin into righteousness.

Here on this large and triumphant note we leave the quarter's studies in the life and messages of Jesus, as found in the Book of Mark. It is the climax of all our study and the climax of all our thought and effort. In a sense, also, it is no climax, for when we attain a peak in sight, we see beyond larger peaks to conquer.

From these studies in the life of Christ, we turn back to the history of the early years of Israel. It was the heroic and prophetic life of Israel and its great leaders that prepared the world for the coming of the Messiah. In the study of the Old Testament we find the source and foundation of all that is best in the New.

The Old Testament scriptures were the scriptures that Jesus knew, and in which he was trained in that devout home in Nazareth in which he grew up, increasing in wisdom, and in favor with God and man.

Jots in Jest

IN Washington recently, congressmen engaged in a cow milking contest. It's nice to know they're practicing on the animals instead of on the treasury.

Grandpa wouldn't find much weather relief beneath that old apple tree he sang "in the shade of." They're "swinging" the modern version and it's mighty hot under there.

Headlines predict bumper crops. So if there are no floods, drouths, heat spells, cold spells, grasshoppers, crickets, or winds we'll hear no complaining this summer.

Here's hoping the combination haircut-and-wave technique isn't taken up by all barbers. Imagine a boy's ire when he goes to the shop for a mannish trim and comes home with curls.

Choir practice following league.
Saturday at 2 p. m., all summer school children are asked to return to the Christian church for program rehearsal. It is necessary that all children come.

Sunday afternoon we will have our summer school picnic out by Mrs. Emella Johnson's. There is a fine picnic place there. We will plan to go out there directly from church service. We invite you all to come, bring your picnic lunch basket and let us have dinner together. Our program will begin at 2:15, after which games will be played, and an opportunity given for those who wish to go swimming. Refreshments will be served.

We are planning to conduct school again this year at Haskell Creek school house, June 27-July 1. All children from 5 or 6 and up are invited. Parents are urged to see that their children attend these days of concentrated Bible school. Friends, you are all invited to come and be with us at a joint summer school picnic, June 26 at Mrs. Emella Johnson's place. We feel it best to combine them even though your school will be conducted after the picnic. Let us have a real turnout.

We wish to extend our thanks to our friends of the Christian church for permitting us to use their church parlor facilities during Bible school. There was a total of 47 enrolled. May the precious seed that was sown bear fruit to the honor and glory of His name.
Bethany welcomes all to come and worship in His House. Visitors are always welcome.

Oldest Salesman, 94, Was An Ord Visitor

Several local grocery stores were visited Wednesday by W. S. Klein, who was mentioned in Robert Ripley's "Believe It Or Not" as the oldest salesman. Mr. Klein, who is 94 years old, is mentally alert, and has an exceptional memory. He began his career as a traveling salesman seventy years ago, and is beginning his fiftieth year with the Mexican Root Soap Company for which he is now traveling. ## RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

Many people were disappointed Monday night when the orchestra which was to have played for the dance failed to show up. Even the manager of the dance hall, Emil Dargatz, does not know their reason for not coming. But Emil promises a better time at the dance next Monday. The orchestra that is scheduled to play for that dance is Jack Ream's orchestra. Some of you heard them at the Junior-Senior Banquet dance.

Seeing things: Richard Severson has been acting as night watch on the new North Loup highway which is being built. I wonder if he got acquainted with any of the Mexican señoritas yet? Jack Tunnicliff spends all his spare time playing golf.

I wonder: Why Virginia Klein and Wes Eberhart get so much attention. Why a certain little girl was so glad that Don Dahlin was coming back before she went away. Why Jean Ferguson prefers sitting in a truck, to sitting in a car. Why 90 per cent of the young people in Ord went to the wedding dance at Loup City Tuesday night. How Mrs. Melvin Clement felt after riding in that wheelbarrow during the charivari. How many more weddings there will be this June.

Three cheers for: Margie Jean Smith's beautiful overalls which she wore Monday night. Dorothy Auble's vocalizing of "I'll Be Tied" Adam Dubas' wonderful ice cream concoctions. Virginia Sack's remarkable ability for fitting dresses.

Proceedings of the County Board

Board of Equalization.
 June 1, 1938, at 10:00 A. M.
 Regular meeting of the County Board of Equalization of Valley County, Nebraska, called to order by Chairman, with supervisors Jablonski, Suchanek, Bremer, Zikmund, Ball, Barber and Hansen, and County Clerk Klima and County Assessor Brox, present on roll call.
 Minutes of last meeting read and approved.
 The Chairman then announced the appointment of the following standing committees:—
 Committee on Equalization: Jablonski, Ball, Zikmund, Brox.
 Committee on Complaints: Bremer, Suchanek, Barber.
 Committee on Levies: Suchanek, Jablonski, Ball, Klima.
 Report of Co. Assessor Brox, of his activities read, and placed on file on motion carried.
 The Board as a whole then took up the matter of reviewing the assessments as returned by the various precinct assessors, and the hearing of complaints, and at 5:00 P. M., recessed until June 15, 1938, at 10:00 A. M.
 June 15, 1938 at 10:00 A. M., meeting again called to order by Chairman with all members present on roll call.
 Reviewing of individual assessments and hearing of complaints resumed, and continued for the rest of the day and at 5:00 P. M., recessed until June 16, 1938, at 10:00 A. M.
 June 16, 1938, at 10:00 A. M., the matter of reviewing assessments and complaints was resumed and concluded.
 Moved and seconded that inasmuch as Board has sat for three days for the purpose of hearing and considering complaints and objections in all matters of assessment and equalization, that all complaints and/or objections not on file at 5:00 o'clock P. M., be barred. Motion carried.
 Committee on Complaints then submitted the following report, which was read, and motion duly seconded that said report be adopted as follows to-wit:—
 1.—Anna L. Marks saying that Div. "C" in Lot 2 of Block 28 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison to Div. "A" in Lot 1 of same block. Find no cause for complaint.
 2.—Olaf Olsson saying that Lots 7 & 8 in Block 45 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Find no cause for complaint.
 3.—Frank Piskorski saying that the improvements on Lots 3 & 4 of Block 15 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison to actual value. Recommend lowering $600.
 4.—Frank J. Dworak, Jr., saying that the improvements on Lot 2 of Block 26 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison with other property. Cites improvements on Lots 6 and part of 7 in Block 27 Original Ord. Find no cause for complaint.
 5.—Frank Benda saying that Div. "1" in Lot 7 of Block 13 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison with other property. Find no cause for complaint.
 6.—W. T. McLain saying that Lots 4 & 5 in Block 4 of Hillside Addition to Ord assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Recommend lowering $50.
 7.—Mills Hill saying that the improvements on Lots 1, 2, 7 & 8 in Block 14 of A. J. Davis addition to North Loup Village assessed too high in comparison to actual value. Find no cause for complaint.
 8.—Mrs. J. C. Work saying that the improvements on Lot 4 of Block 26 of Original Ord assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Asks equalization with rest of property in that block. Recommend lowering $300.
 9.—Anton Stepanek saying that the improvements on Div. "J" in SW¼ of 21-19-14 assessed too high in comparison to actual value.

Asks reduction of $500. Recommend lowering $200.
 10.—V. J. Dobrovsky saying that real estate known as Divs. "B" & "1" in section 28-19-14 assessed too high in comparison to actual value. Recommend lowering $350.
 11.—Frank A. Valla saying that real estate known as E½NW¼; W½NE¼ of section -19-16 assessed too high in comparison to actual value and other lands of like value. Reduction of $460 suggested by precinct assessor. Recommend lowering $200.
 12.—C. F. Schmidt saying that the improvements on Lots 3 & 4 of Block 6 of Green's Addition to North Loup Village assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Asks reduction of $125. Allowed.
 13.—Anton Novotny saying that the NW¼ of section 13-19-16 assessed too high in comparison with any other quarter in his township. Cites adjacent and other similar quarters for comparison and asks reduction of $1000. Recommend lowering $110.
 14.—West J. Hemphill saying that the West 44 ft. of Div. "D" and also the East 20 ft. of Div. "D" in Lots 2 & 3 of Block 2 of Original town of North Loup are assessed too high in comparison to actual value. Find no cause for complaint.
 15.—J. D. McCall saying that the SW¼; SW¼SE¼; Lot 7 and South 18.3 acres of Lot 6 in section 24-13-13 assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Find no cause for complaint.
 16.—Tracy Skala saying that the NW¼ of section 5-13-16 assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Asks reduction of $300. Recommend lowering $500.
 17.—Edward P. Cook saying that the NE¼ of section 33-13-14 assessed too high in comparison to actual value and that of surrounding property. Cites NE¼ of 32-13-14. Recommend lowering $300.
 18.—Geo. E. Hastings saying that the improvements on Div. "W" in section 26-17-16 assessed too high in comparison with those on Lots 8 to 12 of Block 9 of First Addition to Arcadia Village. Recommend lowering $235.
 19.—Frank Zablouil saying that the improvements on Lots 7 & 8 of Block 47 of Original Ord are assessed too high in comparison to improvements on Lot 4 of Block 48 of Original Ord. Find no cause for complaint.
 20.—Vern W. Robbins saying that the improvements on Div. "M" in Lots 11 of Suburban addition to North Loup Village are assessed too high in comparison to actual value. Recommend lowering $100.
 (Signed)
 John G. Bremer,
 J. V. Suchanek,
 J. A. Barber.
 Motion to adopt the foregoing report was then made and seconded and upon roll call the following vote was recorded: Jablonski, yes; Suchanek, yes; Bremer, yes; Barber, yes; Ball, yes; Zikmund, yes; Hansen, yes; Brox, no; Klima, yes. Motion carried.
 The committee on equalization then submitted the following report:—
 We, your committee on equalization, wish to submit the following report:—
 After careful consideration of the various schedules of personal assessments for 1938 as returned by the precinct assessors, we recommend the following changes be made:—
 1.—That schedule No. 305 of 3rd Ward Ord City be raised $300.

Pictures Show How Windcharger Lightens Work on Noll Farm

Delco-light and similar plants have been making the farmer's work light in more ways than one for a long time, the only objection to them being the expense of running the engine. Now comes the new windcharger, which takes power from the Nebraska breezes and cuts the cost to almost nothing. Above are shown some of the uses to which the windcharger on the Clayton Noll, jr., farm is put. The charger, with the farmhouse, is shown in the center photo. The tower is 65 feet high. The plant was formerly a Delco outfit and the engine is still in use to supplant the use of the windcharger on quiet days. While the plant formerly cost about $15.00 per month to run, the cost is not more than 50c per month now. With the same size battery the original cost of the windcharger outfit is less than the Delco-light. In the other photos left, above, Mrs. Noll is running the washer, and below Clayton and son are handling the pasteurizer. At the right, above, he is demonstrating his electric razor, and below Geraldine is listening to the radio. All these and many other conveniences on the Noll farm are made possible at low cost by use of windcharger.

rigation Districts be allowed a reduction covering the number of acres taken by said right-of-ways, where deeds to same are on file in the office of the County Clerk of Valley County. Further that the valuations per acre shall be contained in the special appraisers report now on file in the office of the County Assessor.
 We recommend that all motor vehicle assessments for 1938 be approved when same have been assessed in accordance with the standard of values thereon as certified to the County Assessor by the State Tax Commissioner.
 Whereas, we find some variations in the assessed values of horses as returned by the various precinct assessors, particularly in Vinton, Geranium, Michigan, and Ord Townships, as compared with the other townships in the county, we recommend that the precinct assessors in Vinton, Geranium, Michigan and Ord Townships, be instructed to hereafter adhere more closely to the uniform schedule of values for assessment purposes as established for the guidance of all uniform assessment of all classes of property may be returned throughout the county.
 We recommend that the County Assessor be directed to raise all assessments of tractors of the Farmall type in Vinton township to a minimum of $100 on any one of such type of tractors, in order to conform to the uniform schedule as adopted for the county.

 —The Quiz is in receipt of a letter from Paul Hughes, who formerly lived northeast of Ord, and who is now located at Clarinda, Ia. He states that the prospects are for a wonderful crop there, but that they really need more sunshine until wheat harvest, which will be in about two weeks. He was very much interested in the storm pictures in the Quiz, as he lived two miles south of the Joe Hybl place 14 years.

Storz BEER IS "TOPS"

ALL-GRAIN SLOW-AGED

One of the world's finest beers is made right here in the middle-west. Four times Storz Beer has entered International Competition and four times has won the World's Championship. Storz Beer was awarded the Grand Prix and the highest award at the Paris Exposition; the Grand Prix and highest award at Brussels, Belgium; the Gold Medal and highest award at the Lewis and Clark Exposition and the Gold Medal and highest award at the Trans-Mississippi Exposition.

All these awards were made in competition with the finest beers from all over the world, so when it comes to quality, Storz really has the proof.

Storz is the most popular beer in this part of the west, not because of its medals, but because of the quality that won those medals.

The farmers of this vicinity are still busy planting the small grain fields ruined by hail. In Garfield county most of the small grain is replaced by corn owing to the fact that according to the government program for that county all depleting acres may be put to corn. In Valley county the fields are mostly planted to grain sorghums. Sooner Milo and early Kalo being the favorites.

Marie and Lois Holden who are employed in Ord spent Sunday with the home folks.

Mr. Sandall ACTS

In Nebraska, as in other states, laws are sometimes violated by a few of the thousands licensed to sell beer.

Owners of breweries and of distributing plants—as well as practically all retailers—operate in the public interest and in strict conformity with law.

The few who violate their privileges cast a reflection upon thousands employed in this highly scientific industry and upon those with millions invested in the business.

To make our attitude known, and to assist public officials, we have placed the public conduct rules of the industry in the hands of one man, with supreme authority. That man is Charles E. Sandall of York, Nebraska, former United States District Attorney.

Immediately upon taking office Mr. Sandall went into action. The following editorial from the Omaha World-Herald is typical of the statements of approval received from over the entire state:

"The promptness with which action was taken in the Vernon Staskiewicz case is a recommendation of the sincerity of Nebraska brewers and beer distributors in their undertaking to enforce a standard of law observance and decency in the beer business."

... The inference is perfectly plain that tavern keepers who fail to maintain orderly and decent places can hope for neither support nor sympathy from those who supply their stock."

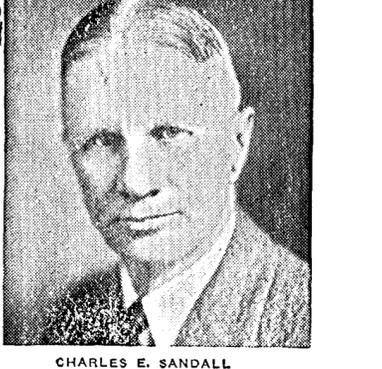

As Nebraska citizens in an industry which is one of the state's largest taxpayers, we are highly pleased with the reception of our action. This reception is typified by such comments as the following:

"May we congratulate you on the success of the development of your organization and may we go on record as anxious to co-operate with your program."—North Platte Daily Telegraph.

"We are glad indeed to see the brewing industry take such a forward step in inaugurating the promotion plan as it has been outlined."—North Platte Daily Bulletin.

"The State knows Charlie Sandall as a two-fisted prosecutor of liquor law violators. We had come to associate him with any form, but he clears that up with the statement that he was convinced during his term as federal district attorney that prohibition is impossible of enforcement."—Hastings Daily Tribune.

"The brewers and beer distributors of Nebraska have embarked upon a praiseworthy effort at self-regulation under the direction of Charles E. Sandall, one-time militant prosecutor of the prohibition era. It is a movement within the industry which deserves commendation and will be watched with interest by the entire state."—Falls City Journal.

"I am in hearty accord with your plan. As long as we have beer in Nebraska, let's keep it just as clean as we can possibly do so. Not only the brewers and distributors, but the thinking public have a duty to perform in this regard."—J. H. Sweet, Editor, Nebraska News-Press.

"Your effort is indeed in the interests of good citizenship and is the most important news of its kind since repeal."—Francis H. McDermott, Vice-President, First National Bank of Omaha.

"Sandall probably is one of the best men for the post and we are willing to co-operate with any agency which apparently will improve the situation."—Rev. Herbert L. Ford, Nebraska Anti-Liquor League Superintendent.

We are happy to get expressions like this—more of them by every mail. We publicly renew our pledge to conduct our business in a highly acceptable way.

Kirk. The couple was attended by Miss Mavis Vanslyke and Calvin Philbrick. The bride wore a dark blue dress with pink accessories. The bridal bouquet was of pink sweetpeas and babies breath.

Father's Day Party. Mrs. I. C. Clark invited their sons, Fred and Frank and their families to dinner Sunday to help their father celebrate Father's Day. They all enjoyed a dinner of fried chicken, green peas and other nice things to eat, and Mr. Clark only wishes Dad's Day came once a month instead of once a year.

Nimble Fingers Meet. The Nimble Fingers met at the home of their leader, Mrs. Alfred Christensen, Tuesday afternoon, June 14. The girls have been making holders the past week. The Nation's Best Track Stars Compete for Trips to Europe in National A.A.U. Meet

BY IRVING DIX. WITH a half dozen trips to Europe and South America as an incentive to speed them on, more than 300 of the nation's finest track and field athletes will compete in the National A. A. U. Championships in Buffalo Municipal Stadium, July 2-3. Place winners in the meet which acts as a climax to the 1938 cinder season, will be selected for the various A. A. U. squads which will tour foreign countries this summer. As usual, the brightest of the college stars will clutter up the field in the two-day carnival, but they won't romp off with too many of the individual titles; such amateur stars as Glenn Cunningham, Perrin Walker, Bill Sefton, Lee Meadows, Mel Walker and Don Lash will be very much in the swing of things. Included in the sprint field are Adrian Talley of Southern California; Ben Johnson of Columbia; Wilbur Greer of Michigan State; Perrin Walker of College Park, Ga., the defending champion, and Jack Weiershauser, of the Olympic Club, who defends his 200-meter crown. RAY MALOTT of Stanford looks like the best bet over 400 meters for the second year in a row, and the same might be said of Pittsburgh's Long John Woodruff at 800 meters. Glenn Cunningham and Archie San Roman, both of the New York Curb exchange, will have to stand off the challenge of Wisconsin's Chuck Fenske at 1500 meters. Defending champions in longer distance events include Joe McCuskey of the New York A. C. at 5000 meters; Eino Penttila of the Millrose A. C., 10,000 meters; and Floyd Lochner of St. Louis in the 3000-meter steeplechase. By the time Fred Wolcott of Rice Institute is through, there probably will be a new champion in both hurdle events. Defending champion Alan Tolmich, former Wayne University star, has had too little competition this spring to maintain a sharp edge. The high jump will be hotly contested with Dave Albritton, Ohio State's defending titlist, scheduled to have plenty of trouble from world-record holder Mel Walker, his former teammate; Gil Cruder of Colorado; Cornelius Johnson, Olympic champion, and Delos Thurber, of U. S. C. Threatening Kermit King in the broad jump will be William Watson of Michigan, and Mack Robinson of Oregon, both of whom have bettered 25 feet this spring. THE state of California will rule the pole vault with defending champion Bill Sefton, and present Trojan star, Loring Day, easily the class of the field. The shot-put will be a toss-up between Frank Ryan of Columbia, Jim Reynolds, Olympic Club title holder, and Watson of Michigan. Other defending champions in the field events are: Phil Levy, Olympic Club, discus throw; Bill Reitz, Southern California A. A., javelin throw; Bill Brown, Baker, La., hop, step and jump; Irving Folwathshy, Rhode Island State, hammer throw; and Lou Lepis, New York A. C., 56-pound weight throw. Only the Olympic Games presents a tougher field in which to win a title, but prospects of those various boat rides to Europe will tend to clip off tenths of seconds and add inches of height and distance to potential championship efforts.

Frank Ryan, above, Columbia shot putter, and Fred Wolcott, inset, Rice Institute hurdler, will be favored in their specialties when athletes from all over the country seek National A. A. U. titles at Buffalo, July 2-3.

What They are Doing Elsewhere.

The Loup Valley Queen has a new Model 5 Linograph just put into use, which should do much toward making that paper a still better paper than it already is. Charles E. Majors is the publisher. The Palmer Journal started last week a series of "Who is This Man?" pictures which should prove interesting. The photo used last week was that of a G. A. R. veteran, probably taken forty to fifty years ago.

The program for the dedication of the recently completed sanatorium at Harmon Field, Kearney, was held Tuesday, June 21, and was very largely attended. Visitors were shown through the field, the park, and the rock garden, and a program of events was held at the swimming pool.

The supervisors of Fillmore county have ordered the vacation of the plat of the village of Walters, which was laid out a few decades ago, and which was never built up. The county has a dozen live towns and villages, which should be a plenty.

Gering Methodists celebrated the golden anniversary of the church there in a three-day event, Friday, Saturday and Sunday of last week. Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Cromer are the only two resident charter members remaining.

passed and adopted as read. Carried unanimously. The following resolution was introduced by Councilman Rohla who moved its adoption.

WHEREAS, the Park Board recently purchased an Allis-Chalmers tractor, which was paid for out of the General Fund of this City, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED, that the said tractor is to be considered to be the property of the City as a whole and is not to be used exclusively by the Park Board, but by the City Cemetery and for any other Municipal purposes.

The motion was seconded by Councilman Sershen. On roll call the City Council voted "Aye". The report of Geo. H. Allen, Light and Water Commissioner was read and discussed. The report covered the recent trip to Pennsylvania for the purchasing of a diesel engine. It was so ordered by the Mayor that the report be further referred to the finance committee for examination.

BE IT RESOLVED, by the Mayor and Council of the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, that the following levies be and the same hereby are made for the said City for the ensuing fiscal year, and that the City Clerk is hereby instructed to certify the same to the County Clerk of Valley County, Nebraska, as provided by law.

Table listing levies for various city funds: Road fund, General fund, Street Light fund, Park fund, Cemetery fund, Band fund, Water fund, Refunding fund, Intersection Paving, City Hall bond fund, Total for all purposes.

DAVIS CREEK

Charley Johnson took his daughter Eva to Loup City Friday, where she took a train to Lincoln to visit her sister, Mrs. Ed Seng. Sunday at 4 p. m., she was bridesmaid at the wedding of Miss Louise Merz of Seward at Seward. Miss Merz was a teacher at Norfolk the past year where Eva has also taught for several years, and is the daughter of Rev. Merz of Seward. Eva left for Boulder, Colo., Sunday where she and also Nettie Clark and Bessie Eberhart of North Loup will attend teachers college.

Wednesday all of the members of the Methodist Ladies Aid society of Davis Creek were entertained at North Loup Methodist church as guests of that society. Everyone reports a good time.

Helen Joyce Mitchell visited her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Preston of North Loup from Wednesday until Saturday. She attended Bible school one day. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Mitchell and children were dinner guests at Bennie Nelson's at North Loup. Mrs. Newer, an aunt of Mrs. Nelson and Mrs. Mitchell were also present.

Neoda Creager stayed with her grandma Ingeron in North Loup from Wednesday evening until Saturday evening and attended Bible school.

Mr. and Mrs. Carol Palser, Billy, Sharlene and Hillis, and Lela Axelholm spent Thursday night at the Beck home in Scotta. Harlan stayed with his grandmother Palser.

The United Brethren Ladies Aid society was entertained Wednesday at Rev. Simpkins' with Mrs. Franklin Ackles as co-hostess. Mrs. Arnold Malotte was a guest.

Chris Larsen and family and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson attended a picnic at Loup City Sunday.

Loren Walker returned home Wednesday after 10 days stay at John Williams'.

Everett Williams is home after helping Van Creager for three weeks. Mr. Creager is sufficiently recovered from his infection to be able to do his own work.

Will Wheatcraft helped Van Creager and Walter Orent stack alfalfa last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Betty were at John Williams' Sunday evening.

Van Creager was at Franklin Ackles Saturday, also at Ed Lettchuck's.

Mrs. Mable Bell and daughter, Miss Theima Bell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McMullen of Toronto, Canada and Mrs. John Warrick of Loup City, visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cox and with Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCleary Thursday.

The H. O. A. club met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Wm. Thompson as hostess. There was a good attendance of members, and three guests, Mrs. Anton Kuchera, Helen Cruikshank and Musa Benson. A nice amount of sewing was accomplished by the ladies, and a lovely lunch served by Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Masters were Grand Island visitors Tuesday.

Mrs. Lillie Bly, Maynard McClary who is employed at Davenport, Ia., and Garland McClary, who has employment in Chicago, both with Kresge stores, left Arcadia Friday morning. The boys have been spending their two weeks vacations visiting relatives and friends. Mrs. Bly will visit for a time in Alexis, Ia., and other places where she has relatives, before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cremeen were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Milburn. The two little girls of Mr. and Mrs. Owen John of Silver Creek, were also visitors and spent Saturday night with Hope Milburn, returning home Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Cremeen where they have been the past week.

Beryl Owens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan Owens is visiting in Red Cloud with Mrs. Marie Williams and children.

Mrs. Augusta Mather has moved from the home of Fred Russell, to rooms in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orvall Woods.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Barger and little daughter of Norfolk visited Wednesday night and Thursday with his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Brownie Barger.

The Girl Scouts went on a hike Wednesday afternoon with Dorothy Bly. They went across the river bridge and followed the river west. Donna McClary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClary was elected news reporter. Plans were discussed in regard to a candy sale for Saturday, June 25, to make some money for a Girl Scout camp outing.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Easterbrook, Paul and Doris Easterbrook and Miss Esther Peterson were Ord visitors Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Martin Benson and children motored to Ragan Wednesday for a visit at the home of her grandmother who is critically ill.

Mrs. J. H. Elliott, who was called to Ragan a week ago Friday to be at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Harriett Black, returned home Friday with her daughter and children, Mrs. Martin Benson. Mrs. Black remains seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Payne, of Wilsonville, parents of Mrs. Ben Mason, and a sister from Pierre, S. D., have been visiting a few days the past week at the Ben Mason home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ord Twombly attended the funeral of Mrs. Anton Radil at Ord Saturday. Also attending were a large number of friends from Yale, Pleasant Valley and neighbors.

Mrs. Tillie Arnold of Ord spent the week with her daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ord Twombly. Laverne Sorensen and Ed Anderson have been papering the Congregational church the past week.

Scaffolding was built 16 feet high and the center ceiling was about 22 feet high. It will also be painted and cleaned on the inside. The outside will be painted as soon as the work is contracted. It has been partly shingled and the other repair work done.

Friday Mrs. Brownie Barger, Mrs. Harold Weddel, Mrs. Ray Pester, Mrs. Augusta Mather, Mrs. George Greenland, Mrs. Grant Cruikshank, Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Roy Clark, Mrs. Fred Milburn, Mrs. Lester Bly, Mrs. Ed Anderson, Mrs. Edith Bossen and Mrs. George Lentz working in the place of Mrs. Dowling, worked all day in the basement of the Congregational church cleaning. Other ladies worked Saturday. A group of ladies cooked a dinner at noon and an afternoon lunch. Everything was greatly appreciated.

Mrs. Elizabeth Nygreen visited her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Rosenquist Sunday.

Mrs. Minnie Rosenquist and daughter Edna have moved to their house in town, east of the D. O. Hawley residence. Mrs. Rosenquist and Edna have been making their home with Mr. and Mrs. Noel Hogue in the country for several years.

Doris Cremeen has been visiting relatives in Silver Creek the past week.

Dr. Joe Baird took Charles John to the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island Wednesday. Mr. John has been ill with heart trouble for four weeks. He was better and able to be in town but Wednesday he was taken with hiccoughs which for more than a week could not be stopped. His daughter Myrtle, and son Joe of McCook, have been most constantly by his bedside. Ray Hill and Mrs. John have also been with him.

Mrs. Ray Hill and Mrs. Joe John have been in the country the greater part of the past week with Mrs. Charles John and Clara John.

The Boy Scouts enjoyed a hike and over night camp on the island south of the Community park.

Mrs. Fred Stone, her son and daughter Allen and Luella, returned from a few days fishing at Ericson the past week. Fred Stephenson and daughter Ethel of Ericson drove them home. Mr. Stephenson is a brother of Mrs. Stone.

Several from town attended the dance Friday evening at the J. P. Lee farm.

Several farmers and friends had planned to work in the field for Everett White Monday. Mr. White broke his back a week ago when he fell from a stack of alfalfa. He remains in a rather serious condition. A shower early Monday morning will detain work in the field for a little time.

Rev. Howell commenced a ten-day Bible school Monday morning in the Congregational church basement consisting of students from the 8th grade and up.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Stone were among the sixteen guests attending an ice cream party for Gilbert Stone at Comstock in honor of his 23rd birthday Tuesday evening.

Winnifred Russell who has been visiting her brother Dwain Russell and family at Lexington, and another brother, Ora Russell and family at Grand Island for the past three weeks returned home Saturday evening on the bus.

All flags in town were out Tuesday, June 14th in honor of Flag day.

Mrs. Roy Norris spent several days the past week in the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Prather, six miles north of Arcadia.

Edward Dunkinson is in Columbus where he is employed in an oil station helping Clayton Ward.

Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ord Twombly were Mr. and Mrs. Everett Stacey of Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stacey and baby of Kansas City.

John Hill was awakened Thursday morning about 3 o'clock, nearly frantic with ear trouble. Dr. Baird was called and after examining him closely it was found a miller had crawled into his ear so far it could hardly be seen. John was taken to the doctor's office where the miller was killed by oil and taken out with tweezers. John is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hill.

Mrs. J. W. Baird, Mrs. Walter Sorensen and Rae Jean Bossen went to Grand Island Monday morning to meet Mrs. Howard Vescellus and little daughter who arrived on the train from Chicago. Mrs. Vescellus will visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorensen and other relatives for a month.

Boys and Girls Know Ways to Beat the Heat

How to beat the heat is a problem that's puzzling Ord adults but it presents no mysteries for younger people, as these pictures prove. In the upper photo three of Ord's tiny tots demonstrate a method popular with children, while in the lower photo some of Ord's older boys demonstrate a double dive. After a cool spring, summer began doing its stuff last week, and it is safe to predict that beating the heat will occupy the attention of Ordites for several weeks to come.

Tuesday afternoon and evening were Harold Weddel, Carlis Dellinger, Floyd Bossen, George Hastings, Jr., and S. V. Hansen.

A birthday dance was given in honor of Mrs. Julia Chlewski at her home Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Art White and family of Hastings spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Perry Moore, and other relatives. Alice Mae Woody accompanied them home for a two weeks' visit.

The Congregational Sunday school and church services were held in the Community park Sunday because the church was not in readiness for services. Rev. Earl Barbour delivered the sermon. There were no evening services.

Harry Kinsey met his daughters, Mrs. Phil Bowman and son David, and Miss Carolyn Kinsey of Chicago at Grand Island Sunday morning who arrived on the train. Miss Kinsey will visit her parents two weeks and Mrs. Bowman and son will make a longer visit.

Last Guard Dies.

Jonathan Lewis, who was believed to be the last living bodyguard of President Abraham Lincoln, passed away at a hospital at Dayton, O., recently at the age of 92 years. The Plattville paper contained a very complete story of his life, mentioning that he was married in 1873 to Miss Elmore Frazier, and that they enjoyed 61 years of happy married life. The clipping was sent to H. T. Frazier of Ord, who was especially interested because the lady mentioned above was a first cousin of his.

North Loup

Written by MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins spent the week end in North Loup. Mr. Hutchins is employed by the U. S. Forest Reserve and has been recently returned to Halsey from Deer Trail, Colo. He was sent from Halsey to Colorado some time ago.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harding spent last Wednesday in Ord helping her grandson celebrate his birthday.

Mrs. Eva McMichael of Lincoln was the guest of her brother, Geo. Jackson and daughters Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Win McMichael brought her over from Arcadia where she had been visiting.

Mrs. Dena Lewis and her mother, Mrs. Jennie Davis arrived in North Loup Wednesday from Curtis where they had spent several days with the Horace Crandall family. Mrs. Lewis received her certificate from the state university for social service work and will be case work supervisor for Madison county with headquarters at Norfolk, beginning this week. She will also have charge of the child welfare work. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Davis left Friday for Norfolk.

Donna Manchester came home from Grand Island on the Friday evening bus.

Clement-Sheldon. Jean Clement and Boyd Sheldon, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Milford Sample were married at Bartlett, June 15 at 3:00 p. m., by County Judge John Burney.

Both the bride and groom wore white linen suits, the bride having blue accessories.

The couple returned the same afternoon to North Loup and are at home in rooms in Mrs. Jennie Bee's house which they had made ready for their home.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Clement and the groom the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Sheldon and both have lived all their lives in North Loup and are graduates of our schools.

Steen-Wills. Miss Helen Steen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Steen of Fremont and Wallace W. Wills, son of Mrs. O. Lillie of Fremont, Calif., were married Sunday afternoon, June 12, at 4:00 o'clock in the First Baptist church of Fremont. Rev. Winfield Edson officiated in the presence of thirty guests in the midst of tall candelabra and baskets of beautiful flowers. Attendants were Miss Doris Hatch of Fremont and James Brownell of Alliance.

The couple left shortly after the ceremony for McCloud, Calif., where they will spend a month on Mr. Wills' father's ranch. Both are graduates of Midland college and Mr. Wills also attended the Kearney state teachers normal and took graduate work in the University of Nebraska. Mr. Wills was coach in North Loup schools in 1936-37 and superintendent in 1937-38, which position he will fill the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. Wills will be at home in North Loup after about August 15 in the residence of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Crandall.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Crandall expect to spend most of the winter with relatives in Missouri.

J. H. Eyerly Champion Ancestor of Twins

To J. H. Eyerly of North Loup goes the distinction of having no less than three sets of twins in his line of direct descendants. Shown above, on the left is Mr. Eyerly himself, who is about eighty years old and still hale and hearty. Below are his twin children, Ford and Fery Eyerly, the picture taken when they were about one year old. At right above are Loise and Lois Springer, son and daughter of Mr. Eyerly's daughter, Ada Springer, 3 1-2 years old when the picture was taken. Below, right, are Phyllis Gall and Sandra Jean Bredthauer, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer of Scotia. Mrs. Bredthauer was Arlene Eyerly, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Eyerly.

Mr. and Mrs. Wetzel were married in North Loup in 1892 and have lived all their married life in this vicinity. For some time they lived on the farm south of town. Twenty-two years ago they moved to North Loup where they were in the hardware store now operated by Knapp Bros. In 1922 they bought the truck farm near the river bridge and this has since been their home. Their cabbage and onions, vegetables of all kinds, strawberries and melons are famous for miles around. Although not as young as forty-six years ago, both are still able to keep up with most of their help in the truck patch. On their anniversary their strawberry-pickers presented them with a box of fine chocolates. One daughter, Mrs. Pessie Shaffner of Iowa was not able to be present at the celebration.

A little daughter who has been given the name Carley Avena was born to Mr. and Mrs. Claud Barber Friday, June 17.

Mrs. Lester Stover, Mary Ann and Roger and Rev. Schmidt spent a short time in North Loup Friday. While here they called on Mrs. Stella Kerr and Mrs. Louise Brennick, old schoolmates of Mrs. Stover, who was formerly Esther Schmidt and whose home is in Naperville, Ill. She and her husband and children and Rev. and Mrs. Schmidt and son John are visiting in the Joe Cook home in Mira Valley. Rev. Schmidt was forced to retire from the active ministry a year ago and after a visit in Illinois expects to go to California where the youngest son, John will enter an Evangelical school near the home of his sister Arlene.

Mr. Sayre is flight engineer for the Pan-American Airways and is located at Miami, Fla., this being his first visit in North Loup for ten years. His brother Louis, who works for the same airways company, is located in Brazil.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Goodrich and children went to Ericson Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Goodrich attended the mail carriers' meeting and the children spent the day fishing.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barnhart and son Dewey arrived Wednesday from their home in Lehi, Utah, and were guests of his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Barnhart and other relatives until Monday when they went to Sargent to the Alva Barnhart's. Tuesday they expected to go to Broken Bow to Rafe Gibson's and Wednesday on to North Platte to Grover Barnhart's. Mrs. Alta Barnhart accompanied them to North Platte and will go with Mr. and Mrs. Grover Barnhart to Douglas and Lusk, Wyo., where their daughters live. It has been nineteen years since Lester Barnhart's left here. He is employed on the state highway near Lehi. A family dinner in their honor was held Sunday at the Jim Vogeler home with Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Barnhart and Erman, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wetzel and Dorothy, Mike and Ivan Honeycutt, Mrs. Lizzie Barnhart,

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Pain or aching in the back, especially from the lower ribs down to, and including the hips, has been commonly thought by the non-medical people, to be due to kidney trouble. This idea has been used in the selling of all kinds of pills and other medicines as kidney remedies by those who have pills to sell. The advertisements for these pills or other mixtures are often made more vivid by a picture of a sufferer with pain in the back.

In fact, of the many people who go to the doctor because of pain in the back only rarely is one found to have trouble with kidneys that could be causing the pain. On the other hand, not many of those who are found to have kidney trouble, have any complaint of back pain. One must conclude that pain in the back cannot be taken to mean there is kidney trouble, though in rare instances it may be due to this cause.

There are a good many possible causes for back pain of which a few of the commoner ones may be mentioned. Probably the commonest is some so-called "rheumatic" disturbance either acute or chronic, involving the joints in the spine. When one stops to think that there are approximately one hundred thirty joints in the back, between the upper part of the neck and the level of the hips, he can understand how a great variety of pains in the back can be produced by diseases of these structures.

Then, too, muscles and tendons and fascias (broad sheets of tendon-like tissue) are often affected by these "rheumatic" diseases. These tissues are abundant in the back. One of the common, well-known acute affections of this kind is so-called lumbago.

One should mention also that pleurisy, tuberculosis or cancer of the spine, gall bladder disease, ulcer of the stomach, inflammation of the pancreas, certain troubles of the female pelvic organs, and of the prostate gland and even the lowly "piles" often produce pain in the back. Even this list does not contain all the causes.

The variety of possible causes of back pain makes it necessary that the family physician take a complete history and make a thorough examination in order to arrive at a correct diagnosis and prescribe the logical treatment for the disease causing the pain in the back.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Mrs. Clayt McGrew says she had quite a time taking care of her bean patch during the cool weather, but she feels amply repaid, as she picked the first string beans and had them for dinner June 18. She says that they will have all the beans they can eat from now on. That sounds plenty early for new beans, but she has the proof. Maybe you know the name of the Ord fisherman who took an involuntary dip in the North Loup river recently when he lost his balance while fishing. He saved his fish, only to find that it was too small to keep, but possibly he needed the bath, anyway. The Quiz promised not to give his name, so if you want to know, ask the half dozen people who saw the ulshap.

Great Sale OF REPOSSESSED Used Cars

Around here we can't trade for cars and sell them at prices like this. These came from farther east and we bought most of them from finance companies who had repossessed them from workmen laid off because of the "recession." Every one is clean, their motors are sweet-running, their rubber is good. And SUCH PRICES! You must come in and see these, learn the prices we are quoting, to be convinced that never before was such Used Car value offered in Ord.

Sawing Lumber on the Gregory Place

Above is shown the saw outfit belonging to John Baker, who was busy last week converting a number of the huge cottonwood trees on the Gregory place on Tuttle Creek into lumber. Mr. Baker, who was born and raised in Iowa, began cutting wood at the age of 17 and has been working at the job whole or part time ever since. He is now 70 years old, and has been at the work steadily for the past twenty years. His present outfit has a five foot saw and can handle 81 trees grown in this section of the state. He and his assistant, Lawrence Horst, of Ericson, cut the logs into either one inch boards of 2x4 or 2x6 dimension lumber. He piles the lumber perfectly flat, and turns over the top board on each pile occasionally. When the lumber is partly dried it will be stored inside to complete the curing process.

The Gay Nineties. Even in the '90s there were fellows who thought every girl would kiss. You could tell them by their missing front teeth.—Nellig News.

tumult. Strong men wept, women fainted and little children screamed....

Bess Stacy was covering the event for the Taylor Clarion and Ernest Coats for the Ericson Journal. They both made a mad rush for the telephone booth out in the back yard of the barber shop and reached it at once and got jammed in the door and could get neither in nor out. I noticed that the telegraph operator on the direct line to the Quiz had fainted so I grabbed Ol Winder's saddle horse and made a dash across country for the Quiz office and had my copy written and turned over to the printer before the Arcadia fire department got Bess and Earnest unwedged from the door of the telephone booth.... We afterwards learned that it was not a telephone booth—they don't build them in back yards.

So then, as I told you above, I learned how to distinguish pants from trousers and when to say "them" and when to say "those". And even tho they had to burn the old school house down to get me out of the sixth grade and even though you have been to college, I don't consider you qualified to learn me grammar.

We made a four column head on that as a feature story and sold fifty thousand extra copies in Arcadia alone and I helped to civilize and christianize Arcadia and made a scoop that made me famous clear out as far as Springdale Township.

Someone told me that Doc Miller has them pants now and if he has I should like you to get them for me because I am going to make another speech. This time there is to be a stand and bunting and a water pitcher on the stand and instead of telling the story about the two Irishmen this time I am going to tell the one about the traveling man.

I am told that Doc always wears them pants when he is ushering a new Democrat into the world or an old Republican out.... They do say that the stork brings the Republican babies and Doc Miller brings the Democrat babies and that Doc ushers out the old Republicans but the old Democrats just have to die a natural death—Anyway, send me them pants.

Not many persons really understand the potency of them pants. Some day I shall write you—after you send me the pants and tell you the story of how potent they were once and how they saved Clarence Davis from losing an important case and kept the Democrat County Central Committee from having its chairman in jail during an important election.

You are not old enough to remember about the time Art Mensing was up for horse stealing and Clarence was defending and I persuaded Clarence to borrow them pants and how Clarence went in and proved that Art had never seen the horse and besides that,

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

2547 Northwest Northrup Street, Portland, Oregon, June 16, 1938.

Mr. John L. (Violent) Ward: c/o The Ord Quiz, Ord, Nebraska.

Dear John:

Well, I notice that you fell down on me on the only favor I ever asked of you in my life, you failed to produce them pants for me to make my speech in, and not only that you presume to indicate in your letter of recent date that my rhetoric was not correct in saying "them pants".

Now I can cite you no less an authority than H. D. Leggett, than which no greater editor ever blue penciled a split infinitive, for my authority in using that term.

You were too young to remember and I don't remember the exact date but it was the year they painted the depot and it was the year that Eddie Beranek opened on two queens and then split them to draw to an inside straight and caught and then walked home in a barrel by virtue of Pete Jones sitting there with four kings....

It was the time of the unveiling of the new porcelain bath tub in Bulger's barber shop in Arcadia and I was covering the event for the Ord Quiz, The Burwell Tribune and the North Loup Loyalist. I had occasion to mention the nether garments of the male bled known as man and I was going to call them breeches but I did not know whether to say "them there breeches" or "those there breeches" so I went into the Boss's office and it was a warm day and he had his shoes on in the office so I knew I had to address him as "Mister" so I said.... "Mister Leggett, do I say them there breeches or those there breeches? So the boss looked up from his seed catalogue and said.... You don't say those there or them there you say "those" or "them" and if they are pants you say "them pants" and if they are trousers you say "those trousers", and now remember, if they cost more than six dollars they are trousers and if they cost less than six dollars they are pants".

Now the pants I had reference to in my recent communication cost four ninety eight so they are pants and it is "them pants" not "those pants".... So let that be a lesson to you.

You probably remember the event I speak of, of the unveiling of the first bathtub in Arcadia, which culminated in the ultimate and consummate capitulation of Arcadia township to civilization and of the opening of that market to the outside world.

After the ceremony we sent Willie Ramsey over there as a missionary and he wound up by opening a drug store and selling every family in the township a pound of epsom salts and a toothbrush.

We all went over that day on Crawford Mortensen's yacht and I remember Johnny Lewis was to yank off the veil and Bert Cushing was to make the speech—and what a speech, that is the best speech Charley Watson ever wrote in his life. Johnny and Bert got into an awful argument over them striped pants of Jake Earnest's, who was to wear them. Each one declaring his part of the program was far more important than the other's—Bert said he had only one suit of clothes and that was a two pants suit and the weather was far too warm for a two pants suit....

Johnny hung out for the striped pants and finally got them and borrowed Doc Eard's cutaway coat to wear with them.... Bert said to buy another pair of pants and he bought the first pair of zipper pants ever seen in Valley county and he did not buy either belt or suspenders, depending entirely on the zipper. That man had a lot of faith. Bert wore them zipper pants ($3.69) and borrowed Glen Auble's band coat to wear with them. I think Johnny looked the eleganter of the two but Bert looked quite ducky himself.

Well, we got over to Arcadia and Bert made the speech and then Johnny reached up to get hold of the cord to give it a yank to un-veil the bathtub and instead of getting hold of the cord he got hold of the top of Bert's cap and instead of un-veiling the bathtub he undraped Bert and there was a lot of confusion and excitement and at the time the horse was stolen, Art was watching the rodeo in Burwell. Then he proved that Art had never heard of the horse and besides that at the time the horse was stolen, Art was at a hog calling contest in Ericson—That he proved that Art had never even been in the same county with the horse and that he did not like roan horses and would not own one if someone gave him one and besides that at the time the horse was stolen, Art was out at George Gowen's farm painting the silo—Well sir, the jury voted Art not guilty without ever leaving their seats and what is more they told him he could keep the horse.

Hoping that these few lines may find you enjoying the same great blessing. Merritt H. Fuson.

There Mrs. Haskell was met by another daughter, Mrs. Cosa Dello Lindberg, and accompanied Mrs. Lindberg to her home at Decatur, Ill., for a few weeks' visit. The John Haskells returned to Ord Monday.

Emergency Crop

Several have reported wheat is not filling as a result of rust. Heads look good but no grain.

Much small grain has been destroyed by hail.

In 1937, in a field where hoppers had taken all the grain; on the 5th day of JULY, we listed SOONER MILO and harvested a good grain crop.

If your grain is destroyed from any cause, TRY SOME SOONER MILO AS AN EMERGENCY GRAIN CROP.

Or try a few acres in the stubble after harvest. We have some choice seed on hand.

IT'S A BRUTE FOR PUNISHMENT!

"MY FORD V-8 COMMERCIAL CAR CAN REALLY TAKE IT!"

It's a brute for punishment! That's what Mr. T. H. Budd of Pemberton, N.J., means when he says, "My Ford V-8 Commercial Car can really 'take it'!" And Mr. Budd should know. He hauls heavy loads through cranberry marshes where sand and mud are a severe test for any unit. He continues: "There are several reasons why I always buy Fords. First, the low original cost price. Second, the low-cost-per-mile operation. Third, the low cost of maintenance and the ability to get parts promptly, wherever and whenever needed. And, above all, the high trade-in value when I am through with them." Owners and operators everywhere report that the Ford V-8 Commercial Car definitely does more work, in less time, at lower cost. The reason for this can be stated in two words—eight cylinders. Whether you choose 85 or 60 horsepower V-8 engine, it puts the Ford in a class by itself—gives you a new kind of commercial car with new performance and economy. Prove it for yourself with an "on-the-job" test. No cost—no obligation.

BURWELL

Dwight Stethem.

Dwight Stethem was born in Mound City, Mo., October 21, 1863 and passed away June 16, 1938 at the home of his son Guy Stethem in Patricia, S. D., at the age of 74 years, 7 months and 26 days. When a small child he came with his parents to Nebraska and settled on a farm near Verdon where he grew to manhood. On May 20, 1885 he was united in marriage to Ella Jane Grooms and to this union 9 children were born, 5 of these children preceded him in death, 2 died in infancy and 3 after they had grown to womanhood. About 30 years ago the family settled on a farm about 15 miles northwest of Burwell. His wife preceded him in death in 1931 and shortly after her death he moved to a farm near Patricia, S. D., where he lived until his death. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Nellie Money of Red Cloud, Nebr., and Mrs. Lulu Shrine of Riverton, Nebr., and an adopted son Leo, also 26 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. Three sisters, Mrs. Drusilla Hoppes and Mrs. Kate Robbins of Burwell, and Mrs. Josie Baker of Pauline, and one brother, John Stethem of Pauline, also survive. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon, June 17 at 4 o'clock in the Methodist church at Kenesaw. Interment in the Kenesaw cemetery.

Herbert L. Davis.

Herbert L. Davis was among the early settlers of Garfield county. He engaged in farming when he first came to the county, later moving to Burwell, where he worked for Jaques and Barstow in the elevator. For a number of years he was county commissioner, and could have continued in the office but refused to run again. He was one of the charter members of the Burwell Congregational church, and his death leaves only two charter members living, Mrs. Cameron and Miss Meda Draver, both of Burwell. Leaving here 15 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Davis lived in California until 6 years ago, when they moved to Hastings.

The body was brought to Burwell from Hastings Tuesday and funeral services were held in the Mitchell mortuary Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in charge of the Masonic lodge. Mr. Davis was 77 years of age. He passed away Saturday, June 18 at Smith Center, Kas., on his way from Hastings to Cimarron, Kas., to visit relatives. He suffered a stroke while driving his car and was in a hospital in Smith Center for about a week before his death. He is survived by his wife and two children, D. C. Davis, Cimarron, Kas., and Mrs. Noel Herrington of Hollywood, Calif. Two children preceded him in death.

—Charles Sternecker went to St. Paul Monday to attend a taxpayer's meeting held there Monday evening. He stopped at Elba on the way back Tuesday.

Mrs. Benjamin's Mother Dies.
Mrs. L. W. Benjamin returned home from Los Angeles recently, where she had been since March 20 taking care of her mother, Mrs. L. C. Richardson. Mrs. Richardson passed away May 27 and was laid to rest at Rose Hill Memorial Park, Whittier, Calif., June 1, 1938. Mrs. Benjamin also tells of Grandma Martz, also of Whittier, who passed away May 29, and was buried June 1, in Rose Hill Memorial Park. She will be remembered by friends in Ord, as they lived here some years ago. Mrs. Martz was 82 years of age.

CREAM

How many farmers who are not patronizing the Ord Creamery would be willing to do so if they knew that their patronage meant an extra cent on every pound of butterfat they sell.

It is to your advantage to sell your cream where it will help increase your cream dividend. VOLUME for us means more profit to divide among the farmers.

We stay open for business every Wednesday Night during the summer months and we hope that more of our Patrons will get the habit of bringing their Cream and Eggs in Wednesday evening.

Deliver Your Cream as Often as Possible to the Ord Co-Operative Creamery

EGGS

We Buy Eggs on Grade.

Most flock owners who have quality eggs have learned that it pays to sell their eggs here. When good eggs are sold on grade they net the producer more money. Now that the weather is hot, deliver your eggs as often as possible.

POULTRY

We are well equipped to handle your poultry. Poultry prices are low but they would be a lot lower most of the time if you didn't have a Co-operative Organization that is owned by and operated for the benefit of the producer.

You are assured of full weight and fair prices when you sell your poultry here.

Where are there greater possibilities for upbuilding Valley County than through your own farmer-owned Co-operative Creamery?

By pouring savings back into your own community your Co-operative is building the purchasing power of Valley County.

Just how far they can go in this line depends entirely on how far each individual cream producer patronizes them.

Old Settlers' Picnic At Bussell Park Was Well Attended

Coffee and Stefan Unable to Attend; Sentiment For Ft. Hartsuff Park Shown.

Despite the fact that both congressmen scheduled to be present for the Loup Valley Old Settlers' picnic Sunday were unavoidably detained and could not be present, the occasion was one of the best attended and most enjoyable held in the valley in years. A fine shower the evening before had put the grounds in perfect condition, and the temperature was just right to be enjoyable.

About two hundred brought their dinners and enjoyed a real get-together at the noon hour. In true pioneer spirit, all baskets were filled to overflowing with good things to take care of any that might have come unprepared, and much of the food had to be taken home after the meeting.

One of the pleasing features to the original pioneers present was the fact that a large number of the later generation came to help out the good cause. While they like to take as prominent a part as possible in affairs of this kind and should do so, it is only a question of a few years until the last of the original settlers will be gone, and the work of carrying on will descend to younger people.

In number of original settlers present Burwell apparently led, with North Loup a close second and Ord third. It was intended to have every person register so that their names would be on the record, but many did not understand and left the grounds without signing. For this reason it would be impossible to give a list of the older persons present without omitting some of them.

Following the dinner, the Burwell Community band, under the direction of Glen Auble, played a number of selections which were highly appreciated. Auble Bros., had their public address system installed for the program. This was a great convenience for the old people who were able to hear all that was said clearly from any part of the grounds.

The meeting was called to order by President George W. McNulty, and the minutes of the meeting held last September were read and approved. Due to the last minute change made necessary when the expected speakers failed to come, several other men were called upon for talks. It so happened that Capt. R. N. (Bob) McAllister was present from Grand Island, and he consented to make a short talk.

He had made a study of Ft. Hartsuff, and had brought with him a series of pictures and several pages of notes he had made on the subject. With these for a foundation he made a splendid speech, which was highly appreciated by the assembly. He was followed by R. H. Barrett, N.Y.A. area director of Ord, who assured the group that governmental agencies would take care of the development and improvement of the project as soon as the land became publicly owned.

Mrs. F. M. Cushing Passes Away June 21

Katherine Adelaide Bassett was born at Ulysses, Potter county, Pa. June 19, 1860 and died at Warren, Pa., June 21, 1938 aged 78 years and two days. Broncho pneumonia was the immediate cause of her death. She became the bride of Frank M. Cushing in December, 1883 at the First Baptist church in Ulysses. Shortly thereafter they located at Ord where Mr. Cushing had homesteaded in 1872.

After completing the work of the Potter county schools she attended the Mansfield state normal where she prepared herself to teach. She was numbered among the successful teachers of Potter county for some six years. Her chief interest through her active years were in her home, her church and the W. C. T. U.

Two sons, Frank of Lincoln and Herbert of Kearney besides four grandsons and three granddaughters remain. Herbert received word of his mother's illness Tuesday and left in time to reach his east but not in time to reach his mother's bedside. The funeral was held Friday at Ulysses, interment being made in the Bassett family plot at that place.

Lad Leaves Home.

Displeased over something that was said or done Paul Covert, 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Len Covert, left home about 11:00 a. m. Tuesday, and as this is written, it is not known just where he is. A description of the boy, who is about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighs 150 pounds, was sent out over KPAB this morning, and it is believed he will soon be located.

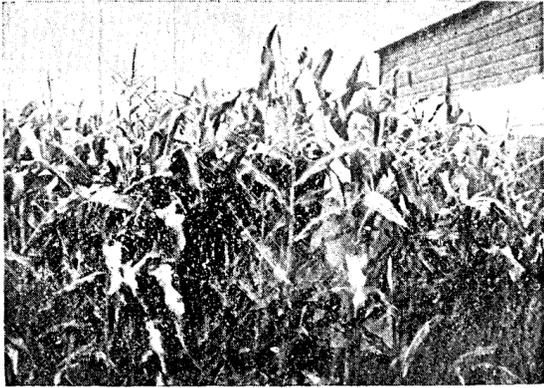

Later, Len Covert received word today noon that his son had been located in Julesburg, Colo., and that he was being held there until they could come for him.

Loup Valley Old Settlers Gather For Annual Meeting

JUNE CORN IS SEVEN FEET HIGH

Following a period of years in which any kind of corn was lucky to grow six feet high any time in the year, it is refreshing to note the remarkable growth the corn shown above has made already this season. It is sweet corn and was planted by the Will Ollis family, who live on the Sol Brox place just across the river. The corn stands seven feet high, and was planted the second week in April.

Nebraska Tax League Begins County Audit

Monday Mrs. Fyrne Williams, Miss Dorothy Siga and H. A. Langdon, representatives of the Nebraska Taxpayers' League, arrived in Ord to begin an audit of the county records. S. V. Hansen of Arcadia, chairman of the county board came over early and introduced the members of the committee to the county officials.

Dr. Lee C. Nay Injured In Fall

About ten days ago Dr. Lee Nay was injured when he slipped and fell on the steps of the McQuillan Cafe, and an x-ray disclosed the fact that he had suffered precisely the same type of injury as Max Schmeling in his title fight, the processes of two vertebrae being fractured. Dr. R. L. Beeghly was visiting relatives in Ord at the time, and he is taking care of Dr. Nay's practice until he is able to do so himself.

Attends Annual Clinic Held at Grand Island

Dr. J. W. McGinnis of Ord attended the Annual Clinic of the Nebraska State Veterinary Medical Association at Grand Island, Thursday, June 23. About two hundred veterinarians from Nebraska and adjoining states were in attendance. Features of the program were demonstrations of the latest surgical procedures in different animals together with their after care. The most modern methods of anaesthesia were used for each operation.

Operations in the equine section were in charge of a committee headed by Dr. McGinnis, who is a recognized authority in this line of work. The sessions were held at the plant of the Grand Island Livestock commission company. A popular demonstrator was Dr. L. V. Skidmore of the department of Animal Pathology, University of Nebraska. The winter meeting will be held in Lincoln in December.

Work Is Begun On Petska Building

This week Hower and Harris have a crew of men busy tearing the front out of the McLain building recently purchased by Jerry Petska. A new foundation will be laid across the front, and a modern front will be set in place as soon as the foundation is cured. This building is one of the oldest still in use around the square, but the new front and other improvements will do much to modernize it.

Finds Carrier Pigeon.

Driving out to his garden just east of the river bridge Sunday morning, C. D. Wardrop found a carrier pigeon lying in the road near the Bob Hall home, apparently killed by a car. The bird had an aluminum band on its right leg, carrying the brand "1324 AU 36 ACE." He took the bird to John Haskell, who believes that the bird was one sent out from some station to see if it could find its way back. Mr. Wardrop would like to know whom to notify, as the facts are doubtless of interest and value to some one.

Ten Candidates Seek Unicameral Office in Primary

Howard Co. Heads List With Seven Filings; Two From Valley County.

With tomorrow night, June 30, the final chance to get into the race, ten men have filed for the honor of representing the 29th district in the unicameral. Two of these, Verne Robbins of North Loup and Charles Sterneckner of Ord, are from Valley county. John F. Doyle is the sole candidate from Greeley, the center county of the district, and Wheeler, the north county, has none.

Howard county, with seven candidates for the place, has established some kind of a record, not only in the number of candidates, but also because the seven candidates are from five different towns. Glen Enders is from Cotesfield, N. J. Keating from Elba, Claus Lemberg from Boelus, and A. C. Hunkins from Cushing.

The other three candidates, Tracy Frost, present incumbent, and Ray Bahensky and A. W. Jacobs, are all from St. Paul. With so many in the field it would be impossible to predict the result, but it is practically certain that neither of the men who win in the primary will have a majority of all votes cast.

With two days still to go as this is written it is possible that still others may get into the race, which would serve to further complicate the issue. So far as has been reported to date, the 29th district holds the palm for number of candidates entered in the unicameral race, and it is certain that Howard holds the palm for number of candidates from any one county.

S. V. Hansen Kicked By Colt, Injured

Chairman S. V. Hansen of the county board was quite seriously hurt Saturday evening at his home near Arcadia, when he was kicked in the face by a fractious colt. Examination by Dr. Joe Baird disclosed the fact that no bones were broken, although his face was badly bruised and he narrowly escaped losing the sight of his right eye. Mr. Hansen was in Ord Monday with his face bandaged but feeling thankful that he was no worse hurt.

—Ed Beranek, Ed Michalek and Dick Teague drove to Grand Island Tuesday and spent the day.

Farm Bureau Notes

Examination for farm reporters who will check compliance on the farm conservation program was conducted by Fieldman C. B. Holmes at the Legion hall Monday. It is expected that compliance check will start immediately and will be in full swing right after harvest. The county committee realizes that this comes at a very busy time of year, but it is being done in an effort to speed up payments. They request the cooperation of the farmers in helping reporters make the checkup.

The office has mixed and put out approximately 75 tons of poison bait to farmers, considerable of this in the last week or two. It has been spread on the margins of small grain fields. The farmers have found hoppers entering these fields from alfalfa, road trash, etc. It is recommended that, following harvest, wherever hoppers are numerous in stubble fields, those places should be treated to prevent them moving into cornfields.

Most farmers report very good success with the poison, although occasionally one reports that he did not get results. It is urged that instructions as to time of day and kind of weather be followed. A few days of the past week have been cool and cloudy and unsuitable for the spreading of poison. Five carloads of additional material have been ordered which should enable the crew to keep a supply on hand. It has been hard to keep up with the demand the past two weeks.

—C. R. Turnbaugh, formerly with KMMJ radio station barber and beauty shop, arrived in Ord Thursday, and is employed in the L. W. Benjamin barber shop. He is a married man, and plans to move his family to Ord as soon as he can make the necessary arrangements.

Rich Damage Suit Returned by High Court for New Trial

North Loup Farmer Given $14,300 Damages by Dist. Court Several Months Ago.

Charles M. Rich, North Loup farmer, who sued C. M. Dugan and the International Harvester Company for damages resulting from an altercation when the two men met in regard to the settlement for a tractor, failed to gain a summary court edict. Rich demanded $14,300 damages, asserting that he sustained a blackened eye and injured nose in the altercation that followed Dugan's arrival.

The case was remanded for retrial by the decision of the supreme court, which adjudged that the damages allowed Rich in district court were "clearly excessive." The case was tried in St. Paul by a jury several months ago, who after careful deliberation found for Rich in the above amount.

Register Now For Swimming Lessons

Returning Monday afternoon from Rockaway Beach, Mo., where he has been attending the American Red Cross National Aquatic School, Arden Clark informs us, and wishes it to be made known to the parents of Ord and the surrounding vicinity that he will begin his swimming class soon after the fourth of July. He has been attending this school for the past two weeks. During this time, he has received instruction in first aid, life saving and water safety, boating and canoeing, swimming and diving.

Many of the children of this community have already expressed their desire to attend the instruction periods this year, and in all probability there will be a large number wishing to take the course. So, in order to make sure that you will get into the classes, we are asking that you register at once with Arden Clark, Leroy Frazier or Mrs. John Misko. Mr. Clark will not doubt have classes in North Loup and Arcadia, so as to avoid any complications which may arise, we are requesting that you get in touch with one of these three persons as soon as possible.

After the children's classes are well under way, and there is enough sentiment shown, there may be a course given for those adults who wish to learn to swim. So, if you are one of those non-swimming parents or adults who wishes to learn to swim, please get in touch with Arden Clark sometime this week.

When considering this subject, just remember that seventy-five percent of all drownings occur within ten feet of safety, therefore a little swimming ability will help a lot. There will be a certain amount of accident prevention and water safety given along with the instruction of the older classes.

Conduct Bible School at Farwell.

Rev. and Mrs. Clarence Jensen conducted a vacation Bible school at Farwell last week with a full-day session. There were twenty-three children attending. On Friday afternoon, a picnic was held to which the parents were invited. Ice cream, cake and fruit nectar was served for lunch.

TOM ... NOT THOMAS

By Lillian Karty.

It was my privilege to interview one of Ord's most interesting business men, and the most accomplished conversationalists. He is Tom Springer, not Thomas. Mr. Springer resents being called Thomas.

He was born in northeast Kansas on June 22, 1898. He attended high school in his home town, and after graduating enrolled in the Drake Conservatory of Music. Later he attended Washburn College in Topeka. He had one year of experience in the navy during the World war.

Mr. Springer was always interested in music and stage work. While he was still in high school, he played in stock during the summers. Most of his stage work was done in the east. He came to Omaha while he was playing with the Stewart Walker Company. That was the nearest he had ever been to Ord.

TOM SPRINGER.

I asked him what his most embarrassing moment on the stage was. After thinking it over, he replied, "Probably the most embarrassing moment happened when I was playing a part in 'Turn To The Right'. I was telling my life story to a young lady in order to excite her sympathy. The lines were 'My mother died two weeks after I was born.' Instead of that, I said, 'My mother died two weeks before I was born.' It stopped the play for five minutes." Another time when he was playing with the Altoona Light Opera Company, he was supposed to dance gracefully across the stage to a fountain and lightly press a button which was to release a small stream of water. In his excitement, he gave the button such a terrific push that the water shot out and practically submerged both himself and the leading lady.

In 1925, he quit the stage and started working in his father's department store in Kansas. He started his variety store in Ord in 1935. He says the business world is much more sure than the stage world. "But," he said, "every once in a while I get 'itchy feet' and feel I must do something to relieve the strain."

Beet Workers Stage Sit Down Strike

Beet workers for W. O. Zangger staged a sit down strike Monday morning, demanding higher wages and shorter hours. They have been receiving one dollar per day, transportation and dinner, for a ten hour day. At nine o'clock they went to work, agreeing to a dollar and a half per day, furnishing their own dinner and transportation and working eight hours. There are about eight of the boys from 16 to 17 years of age.

Mrs. Josie Kriz Seeking Divorce

Through her attorneys, Davis and Vogeltan, Mrs. Josie Kriz is instituting suit for divorce from her husband, Frank Kriz, whom she married on or about Oct. 12, 1889. In the complaint she makes charges of non-support and cruelty, such cruelty including throwing of dishes, choking and threatening the plaintiff, and threatening her with a shotgun. She is asking a fair distribution of various properties, title to which is now vested in the defendant.

Ord Boy Rewarded For Faithful Salesmanship

Kendall Wiegardt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Wiegardt, was taken to Omaha Sunday by his parents. There he boarded a special Milwaukee train with 201 other young carrier salesmen. These won the trip with all expenses paid for superior work in handling and building up their World-Herald routes in towns in five states where home delivery service is maintained. The represented communities were Nebraska, Iowa, Kansas, South Dakota and Minnesota.

Their headquarters in Chicago will be in the Y. M. C. A. Hotel. On Wednesday, the party will depart at 10 a. m. on a Lake Michigan cruise to Milwaukee where a sight-seeing will continue and include a visit to the main shops of the Milwaukee railroad. Departing for home Thursday, the vacationers arrive in Omaha Friday at 6:30 a. m.

Other boys from neighboring towns who are taking the tour are Ross Hill, Arcadia Arthur Borden, Burwell; Harold Olson, Loup City; and Clayton Zlonke, St. Paul.

Ericson Class Visits Ord Methodist Church

An older young people's Sunday school class from the Ericson Methodist church came to Ord Sunday, visiting the Methodist Sunday school and attending the church service. Those in attendance were: Leonard J. Walters, superintendent; Mrs. Irving Westcott, teacher of the class; Mrs. Leo Clouse, John Stone, Clifford Moody, Wilma Patrick, Ruth Patrick, Betty Belle Adams, Maxine Severns, Bertha Jean Pierce, Myrtle Cornell, Jeanette Stone, Myrtle Dwinell, Emily Dwinell, Mary Catherine Young, Clarice Clouse and Eileen Wolfe.

Dr. Kruml Hits Car Parked on Bridge

Dr. J. G. Kruml and family left Sunday for a vacation in Minnesota. While enroute near Osmond, Nebr., they met with an accident in which the doctor's car was considerably damaged. While some details are lacking, it seems that the cause of the accident was a car parked on a bridge. As the doctor approached and was about to pass, a car came upon the bridge from the opposite direction, leaving him no course but to run into the parked car. None of the family were injured, and they drove on as soon as the necessary repairs could be made.

Filings For County Offices Less Than Four Years Ago

Misko, Cienny, Stara, Bouda File This Week; More Filings Expected.

Filings for office in Valley county, as reported by Ign. Klima, county clerk, were as follows, at closing time Tuesday: For unicameral, Charles Sterneckner, non-political; for directors, North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district, short term, W. J. Hather, long term, Val Pullen, W. O. Zangger, Roy C. Bailey; for county supervisor, Dist. 1, Jos. J. Jablonski and Henry Jorgensen, democrats.

For supervisor, Dist. 3, Henry A. Zikmund, democrat and Harvey H. John, republican; for supervisor, Dist. 5, J. A. Barber and Ed Lee, republicans, and Edward Christensen, democrat; Dist. 7, S. V. Hansen, republican, and H. A. Belling, democrat; for county clerk, Ign. Klima, democrat; for county treasurer, George A. Satterfield, republican, and John Cienny, democrat; for clerk of district court, Alfred A. Wiegardt, democrat.

For county attorney, Alvin B. Lee, democrat and John P. Misko, republican; for county sheriff, George S. Round, Clarence Blessing, Albert Peterson and Vencil Bouda, republicans, and Russell C. Jones, democrat; for county assessor, A. R. Brox and Henry A. Stara, republicans; for county superintendent, non-political, Clara M. McClatchey.

The filings of Henry A. Stara for assessor, John Cienny for treasurer, Vencil Bouda for sheriff and John P. Misko for attorney have not been mentioned in the Quiz before. Stara filed in time for mention last week, but was inadvertently overlooked. The other men filed since the Quiz was published. With two days still to go, it is expected that a few more filings may come in.

It must be remembered that filings for the irrigation district and for the unicameral can be made with the secretary of state, so only part of the candidates appear in the above list. The complete unicameral list appears in a special item. Don Round of Arcadia has filed locally for director of the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation district.

Comparing with two years ago we find that there are ten candidates for unicameral to date as compared with eight then. There were six candidates for irrigation directorship two years ago. Only four have filed in Valley county this year, but there are doubtless others. There are nine candidates for supervisor this year as compared with sixteen in the same districts four years ago.

For the several county offices there are a total of fourteen this year, as compared with 30 four years ago. There are five candidates for sheriff this year, but there were eight, four years ago. In the same time the number of candidates for treasurer dropped from seven to two. This difference is in line with conditions all over the state, the dearth of candidates being one of the surprising conditions this year.

Legion Junior Team Wins From Greeley

Playing a fine game all the way, the Ord Legion Junior baseball team won a fast extra inning contest from Greeley on that town's diamond Tuesday by a score of 4 to 2. All Greeley's scores came in the fourth inning, while Ord made one in the first, one in the seventh, and two to win in the eighth.

Cannon for Greeley allowed only three hits, struck out nine, while his team made 4 errors. Misko and Wayne Johnson were batters for Ord, Misko striking out fourteen and allowing seven hits, while the Ord team made three errors. Ord has lost two games and won two so far this season, winning both of them from Greeley. Friday the boys go into action once more at home, and will meet the league leading Ravenna team in what promises to be the fastest game of the season. The game will be called at 2:30 at the fairgrounds and every baseball fan should plan to be present. The Ord boys are hoping to hand Ravenna their first defeat of the year.

CCC Quota for July.

Frank Kruml of the Valley County Assistance office states that the CCC quota for the county, which is three, has already been filled, and that the boys will be taken to camp July 6. However, in case there are others wishing to go, Mr. Kruml will try to get an additional allotment.

—A letter received from Congressman Karl Stefan Wednesday morning explains why he was unable to be at the old settlers' picnic Sunday. He was on his way home from Washington and did not receive the letter sent to him at Norfolk, until after the picnic was over.

MISSING THE WATER.

There is an old, old saying about never missing the water until the well runs dry, and it well illustrates a quirk of human character.

The watch you carry may keep correct time for you for a period of one year, of two years, of five years. But there comes a time when it ceases to function.

Last week after the municipal whistle had been blown almost exactly at the right second over a long period of time, something went wrong, and the whistle was blown ahead of time as much as twelve minutes.

In Ord we have lowest rates for light and power, combined with most efficient and courteous service. This we obtain from the Municipal Light plant, which has been delivering that kind of service so long that it has become a habit.

We have efficient city and rural mail delivery, and have only a step out on the porch in town, or walk to the road in the country to get our mail.

People are funny that way. When we travel on the highway and happen to be in a hurry, the fellows ahead of us always drive too slow, and we have to pass them.

The entire newspaper force works over time gathering all the news they possibly can and arranging it in the most presentable style, yet every week someone says, "There is nothing in the paper anyway."

If our light service were interrupted an average of five minutes at least once per week, there would not be half as much grumbling if it should fall for a longer time, for we would be accustomed to it, and rather expecting it.

Have you ever seen cattle in adjoining pastures sticking their heads through the fence from each side to get what looks like better grass on the other side? Perhaps you laughed at them for being what they are, just dumb cattle, but if you look at your own life you will find that you do things every day that are just as silly.

Jots in Jest

The reason that so many men hold the same offices year after year, is not because they are so much more efficient than other men. With due deference to all capable officials, it is not so much because of efficiency, but rather because mankind in the abstract does not desire any change.

We have our grocer, our butcher, our barber, our druggist, and we prefer them to all others. Not because of greater efficiency, but rather because we cannot get used to any one else.

When we find that our surroundings and our daily companions do not suit us, and we fail to discover the cause it might be well to look within. The same treatment might be used to advantage when we find that we are too easily suited.

The man who is too easily satisfied gets nowhere except into a rut. He becomes a cog in the vast machinery of life, and finds that he cannot get out of his daily routine. In time he does not desire to get out. On the other hand, the man who is never satisfied is constantly stirring up strife and contention.

Part of the measure of success in life lies in being satisfied with whatever conditions cannot or need not be improved, and in trying to improve those conditions that really can be improved.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Well, this is Thursday afternoon, June 23. "What is so fine as a day in June" wrote the poet. The thermometer beside the office door, in the shade of course, says 83 and the little electric fan on my desk buzzes away merrily and the wind which it generates does feel good.

There is a nice breeze when I go out the yard to the big red chair but I can't get much work done out there and the breeze don't strike me at the desk. This is my first day trying to do desk work for almost five weeks and I am not making much progress.

We planned to leave the cottage on the lake some time today but it rained there Tuesday about 4 a. m. And when I say it rained, I mean rained. I think there was something over two inches in less than three hours and Tuesday the opening day. I set the alarm clock for 4 a. m. and planned on being out on the lake a few moments after, casting for bass, which struck often the night before when we were fishing for walleyes, and which we had to throw back. The game fish season opened officially at midnight, June 21. The Leggetts are not prone to violate the fishing laws, and anyhow, we could get all the walleyes, bullheads and northern pike that we wanted, but I have to admit that the state wardens have been more watchful than usual this year.

Well, it had been thundering and lightning for an hour and I pushed the alarm switch shortly before four a. m., as I was awake, and about the time we would have been turning out the clouds dropped their loads of water. How it did rain, and knowing there was no prospect of going fishing for a while, I turned over for a couple of hours more sleep. By six-thirty it had quit and we began turning out Shirley wanted to go and row for me while I cast for bass. No luck. The rain had ruined it. Bass were still in deep water, probably scared by the electrical storm and the rain pounding on the water. Anyhow none of my plugs looked appetizing to them and we quit and came in to get breakfast.

While eating our bacon and eggs and coffee we talked it over and I told the folks that I was sure we would get few fish. But we had planned on bringing a mess of fish home so we got ready and went out on the lake with minnows, white grubs and artificial baits of many kinds. After a couple of hours and no luck we decided to go to the upper lake.

No Results. A hen belonging to a farmer near Spencer, Iowa, laid an egg the size of an ordinary marble. That is taking crop control too seriously.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Politics. Still Going. Universal Interest. Profound Enough.

Politics

Politics is becoming more interesting each day. To be a member of the unicameral seems to be the prize package. For some reason Howard county people are determined to have the representative for they have put up seven men, or to be exact seven men from that county have put themselves up. It may turn out a little like the Chinese. They fought among themselves until they lost their strength and an outsider comes in and whips them all, or tries to.

Here in Valley county we hoped we could keep a single candidate and not split out own vote, but now the last minutes, Chas. Sterneckler files. Many wonder if it is because he really thinks he can be elected, or if it is to beat Vern Charles, himself is good enough, but two good men against each other might spoil it for both.

To be a county supervisor too, seems to be a coveted office. Just why, we hardly know unless it is the glory that goes with the position. It is a part time job that a retired man might like, bringing him in a few shekels, but for a busy person, it would be a nuisance. Still there are many candidates.

To be sheriff, seems to be the ambition of many. In the old prohibition days, it was freely talked that the sheriffs got many bribes to wink at certain bootleggers and hence his office was very lucrative. I could hardly believe that of any sheriff I knew, but it was commonly thought, especially in cities, and as a result, it was an office much sought after. We do not lack for candidates in Valley county, but it is the general opinion that the present officer cannot be beaten.

The story comes to me in a round about way, and quite direct too, that the reason the Valley county papers made the rule that cash in advance had to be paid for political advertising, was a certain man two years ago advertised quite freely, but after he was beaten by the voters, he refused to pay for his picture in the paper. Now this is interesting, is it not? I hardly dare to tell in this column who the name is but if you are really avid to know, just slip a five dollar bill in a letter and mail it to me asking the details, and I shall warrant you will get my prompt and immediate attention.

Yes politics are (or is it "is") a peculiar thing. We can hardly tell why some men are elected and others fall, even after it is all over. Sometimes excellent men are beaten for office, and it is no disgrace for the candidate running against him is just a little more excellent, or has a little better stand-in with the voters.

About the surest man to get elected to an office, and especially the lesser offices, is the new man in the community. If he is pleasant to meet that helps and more he has only a few enemies such as an older man of the community is bound to have if he has ever done anything. Whenever men do anything they make enemies and if for no other reason, because of jealousy. Many people are unconsciously jealous of anyone who is in anyway successful.

But at that, let us all be thankful, yes a million times thankful that we live here where the counting of the ballots settles these scraps, and not in Mexico, or Spain or China where they vote and fight afterwards.

Still Going.

The sacking of Nanking a few months ago is considered to be the worse massacre of modern times. Some twenty thousand Chinese men, women and children, were wantonly murdered, and all the women between the ages of twelve and sixty were raped. If there was the least objection to the raping they were bayoneted. All this was done besides and after the surrender.

And still we stand by and sell the Japs material to carry on these outrages day after day, because of the simple reason that they have not declared war. Our munition men and aircraft manufacturers are profiting greatly. If in this country a merchant knowingly sold ammunition for murder, would he not be party to the crime? Is it different with the Chinese or the Spaniards?

England and America alone could cripple Japan until they would have to cease the onslaught simply by boycotting goods and credit. We talk of it, and have conferences, and delay, and while doing so the Japs are raping and sacking another city.

Our country is too fine a place to live, and we forget the plight some of our brothers are in.

Universal Interest.

Although a little different than my usual subjects, I cannot help but admire the squibs by Irma lately. The one in regard to safely driving and the one last week about keeping children busy are very fine. I have been tempted many times to give some of my ideas on child raising but I am backed up with the thought all the time that as yet I have not succeeded. My kids are still young.

Perhaps another week I'll blow off a little and give some of my ideas. There is nothing that meets with such universal interest as the subject of child raising, and it seems like there is no phase of our work that is neglected more.

We can get all manner of literature on raising crops, and hogs and cattle and chickens, but few are there about raising the child after he is beyond the baby stage. The baby raising part is important to be sure in regard to health, but how about the mind training and the habit forming stage of the child. We turn that over largely to the schools, and considering all things, they do quite well.

There will be more about this sometime if you wish. And I don't know it all either. Suggestions will be welcome.

Proof Enough.

The letter last week of Merritt H. Fuson tells of how Clarence Davis proved that Art Mensing was painting my silo at the time the horse was stolen.

This one statement of his letter was true and in no way hypothetical. (That's a two dollar word.) Art was painting the outside surface of my trench silo and on that particular day, my daughter was in her diary, he was painting under the eaves thirty feet in the air. Alibi enough.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

Congress Has Gone Home—but It Left Plenty of Work to Be Done

BY SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON.—Hordes of summer tourists, disappointed because the chambers of House and Senate are not only empty but locked, find the capitol ghostly and bleak.

But Washington is no deserted city. Before adjourning, Congress passed legislation that will keep "downtown" officialdom from yielding to summer lethargy.

THE investigation of monopolies and concentrated economic power, authorized by the O'Mahoney resolution, will probably prove more stirring than anything else on the hot weather schedule. Congress has provided for a temporary National Economic Committee of 12 members to conduct such an investigation within limits of a $500,000 appropriation. What will be accomplished depends largely on the sincerity of the investigating committee's personnel.

Senators O'Mahoney, Borah and King, Representatives Summers, Reece and Eicher already have been chosen to represent the legislative branch on the committee. The President will select one official each from the Departments of Treasury, Justice, Labor, Commerce, the Federal Trade Commission, and Securities and Exchange Commission to represent the executive branch.

A majority of the committee constitutes a quorum and since the President can name five members of the committee, and since Representative Eicher of Iowa is an unflinching supporter of the New Deal, it is feared in some quarters that whatever conclusions are reached will be simply a rewrite of the New Deal trust-busting philosophy.

Other observers contend that instead of directing the search for a new and important economic plan, the committee will be unable to keep the approaching elections out of mind, and do no more than select a few effigies to burn, fervently hoping that all blame for the current depression will go up with the smoke.

SOMETIME this summer the new Labor Standards Act will take shape and substance. Speculation on whom the President shall select as administrator of the act will enliven the off-season. Whether or not the new law will revolutionize labor standards in this country will be determined largely by the administrator chosen.

He will appoint committees for various industries and he has such freedom of choice that he may virtually determine the viewpoint of those committees. The controversial issue of wage differentials between the north and the south may be decided by committee appointments.

During the sweltering season the Civil Aeronautics Authority will be created by authority of the Lea-McCarran bill. The authority will have five members and an administrator with extensive powers to encourage civil aeronautics.

After making a study of existing facilities, the Authority will recommend or disapprove government participation in maintenance of a national system of airports. This survey will be reported to the next Congress.

occurs will affect yields. This will not happen, however, during the first season.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Most of the crops projects being raised by vocational agriculture students around Ord this summer are hybrid corn projects. They include 75 acres of hybrid 939, 20 acres of hybrid 252 and ten acres of hybrid 110 on irrigated land. These three hybrids are Nebraska certified, and the boys were able to get them at very reduced prices.

The Ag boys are also growing a dozen free samples of new experimental hybrids. The instructions sent out with these untried hybrids are to put the hybrid seed in one box, home grown seed in the other box, and raise alternate rows of each kind for yield comparisons.

Such instructions have been disregarded, because the alternate row method may not give accurate results. If the hybrid has a deep and extensive root system, as many hybrids have, it will rob the ordinary corn of moisture and plant food. Thus the ordinary home grown seed will yield less than it should, and the hybrid will be made to look better than it really is.

Some farmers believe that when common and hybrid corn are planted side by side, the crossing which

There has been perhaps too much salesmanship connected with the hybrid corn business this year. For instance, no hybrid is adapted to the western two-thirds of the state, and yet hybrid corn has been sold as far west as Kimball county.

All certified hybrid corn on the market now is yellow. There are as yet, no white hybrids available.

He Started It. Ponce de Leon was the original flapper. A way back in 1512 he set out on a search which has occupied the attention of doctors, scientists and pretty women for more than four hundred years. A New Record! Maybe you have a neighbor whose radio seems to be on all the time.

We doubt, though, if his loud speaker has functioned as steadily as that in the tollhouse on the Blair bridge. For six months the bridge radio has been operating continuously, with being shut off once so far as is known. We could turn this into a good plug for a well-known brand of radio but we won't.—Blair Pilot-Tribune.

The Story of Joshua

The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for July 3. Text: Joshua 1:2-6; 24:14-21.

SELECTED by Jehovah as the successor to Moses in leading the people of Israel over Jordan was Joshua. And, in the evidence of his life accomplishments, Joshua presents a proof of the reality of God's call to the heart of man.

It was not by chance that the task of continuing the work of Moses, with all its honor and its responsibility, fell upon Joshua. We have the picture of him as one of the twelve going up to spy the land which the children of Israel were seeking to enter. Ten of these twelve spies returned with discouraging and fear-stricken stories. The land was peopled by great and strong enemies, and there was no possibility of the Israelites being able to conquer it. But two men, Joshua and Caleb, had a different report. They emphasized the richness of the land which awaited the people and they said, "We are well able to possess it."

It was in this clear faith that Joshua accepted his leadership, and it was in the expression of his own spirit that he passed on to the people the admonition that had come to him, to be strong and of good courage. But Joshua saw the people themselves weakened by their own lack of faith and by the immorality that prevailed among them. The worshiping of false gods on the part of the Israelites was not merely a matter of setting up other images. It meant the moral decay of the people and their lapse into evil practices that were associated with the worship of these false gods. Surrounded by pagan peoples whose religion lacked the emphasis upon righteousness and the moral virtues, emerging in the monotheistic faith of Israel, there was a constant tendency for social corruption to lay hold of the Israelites, sapping the ideals and visions that their prophetic leaders ever sought to inculcate.

It is in this situation that Joshua stands forth and makes a demand upon the people for a definite choice in the matter of loyalties. He sees them drifting into evil practices with no vital decision, and he calls upon them to realize that they must decide either for Jehovah and the religion of purer ideals, or for the false gods and the practices associated with their worship.

AROUSING by this plain challenge, the people renounce the idea that they would forsake Jehovah to serve other gods, but this is not enough for Joshua. He does not want sentimental or pious profession. What he wants is a clear sense of what it means to serve Jehovah. That service means the renunciation of sin and unrighteousness. It means the giving of one's heart and will to the cause of truth and the welfare of Israel.

Times have changed but the old issues remain, and the challenge of Joshua, or of some equally prophetic leader of today, is as keen and vital as ever. The welfare of America—as much as the welfare of ancient Israel—depends upon clear, definite, and moral choice on the part of those who would serve God and the commonweal

The services of the Ord Church of Christ were well attended both at the morning and night services on June 26. The sermon in the morning on "What is the Church in the World For?" emphasized the work of seeking and saving the lost. The union service at night was presided over by Rev. Mearl C. Smith and Dr. Glen D. Auble directed the chorus. It was a very spiritual service and very encouraging to the new minister. Mrs. George Gard presided at the piano. The responsive scripture reading was led by Miss Mamie Young, pastor of the United Brethren church, and Rev. Jensen offered the prayer. Words of welcome and greeting were extended to the new minister by Revs. Miss Young, Clarence Jensen, Mearl C. Smith, and by James Ollis as representative of the Presbyterian church. Little Miss Patty Brown sang a number of selections accompanied by her teacher, Miss Ella Bond. Dr. Auble sang a solo, accompanied by Mrs. Auble at the piano, following which the new minister, T. A. Lindenmeyer responded to the words of welcome and greeting and presented the sermon on "Christ's Unanswered Prayer". This very happy occasion will long be remembered by all who were present to enjoy it.

The services of the church for Lord's day, July 3, will be as follows: 10:00 a. m., church school conducted by Miss Clara McClatchey, superintendent and helpers; 11:00 a. m., morning worship, communion and sermon, subject, "The Two Declarations of Independence".
A cordial and kindly invitation is extended to all of the residents of Ord and the surrounding community who do not attend church services elsewhere to come and enjoy these services and receive help and inspiration for your daily tasks.

Assembly of God.
Miss Minnie Madsen, missionary from Venezuela, will be at the church Thursday evening and will have a leading part in the services. All are cordially invited to hear her.
Sunday services will be as follows: Sunday school at 10:00 a. m. followed by morning worship at 11:00. The evening service will be at 8:00 p. m.

Services through the week have been changed from Wednesday and Friday evenings to Tuesday and Thursday evening. All are requested to note the change.
Mabel Miller, acting pastor.

Presbyterian Church.
Announcement was made that there would be preaching services at the Presbyterian church this coming Sunday but it has been found impossible to make the arrangements as was planned so we are asked to say that there will be no services as announced.

Standard Issues New National Credit Card

Effective July 1st, the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska will issue a new national credit card that will be honored by 18 other Oil Companies operating in the United States, British Columbia and Alberta, Canada. In turn, the credit cards of the 18 cooperating companies can be honored by Standard dealers in Nebraska. Because the credit cards of the participating companies will direct tourists to Nebraska dealers, it is believed that this extensive credit plan will do much to attract additional tourist business to the state.

In line with Standard's progressive policy of making motoring travels as convenient and pleasant as possible for its customers, there will be no change in the credit policy. The company will continue to assume responsibility for charges made in every state in the Union, British Columbia and Alberta, Canada under terms granted on the new national credit card. All charges made by a customer in his travels will be invoiced in the regular manner by the Standard Oil Company of Nebraska.

Mrs. Penny Honored.
According to a press dispatch released last week, Mrs. E. P. Penny of Fullerton is being honored by the National Educational Association during its convention in New York, June 27 to July 3. She is to be honored for her heroism in saving her 17 school children in Howard county in the blizzard of Jan. 12, 1888, according to the dispatch, although it happened in Valley county.

Mrs. Penny, known then as Minnie Freeman, but spoken of as Miss Winnie Mae Freeman, gathered her pupils when the blizzard struck the country schoolhouse blowing windows and doors away, then led them a mile to a farmer's home. The recounting of this story is always of interest to the half dozen or more of her pupils still living in the county, who recall the facts in connection with the case.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.
Paradise in Ord! Sounds interesting and slightly boastful does it not? For a short time one day last week there was a Paradise in Ord, but those who looked upon Paradise probably thought he looked very much the same as other men with less fanciful names. He was a salesman for a newspaper service, but he did not find Ord a paradise for Paradise, so he soon moved on.

When Mayor Bert Cummins got into his car parked in front of the Ord theater Thursday evening and started the engine, he has visions of what happened to city officials in more populous and less law abiding cities in the past. Something fizzled, smoked and popped, winding up with a loud explosion. It took his Honor a few moments to figure out that it was all a joke. Of all the comical conversations heard in Ord, about the funniest was that put out by a couple of young ladies, headed home from Ord only knows where at 3:00 A. M., when they sat on the railing of a foot bridge and told the tale of their trials and tribulations to the edification of several persons who chanced to overhear them.

Off the Highways.
The truck driver's strike reminds us that while it lasts the highways will be safer for other vehicles. If buses would also strike, the proportionate accident chances would be still further cut down. Fewer motor vehicles on the road, the fewer dangers—one consideration that softens the blow of interrupted service.—Wayne Herald.

REMINDER OF EARLY DAYS IN ORD

The above picture will serve to bring back a scene in Ord nearly thirty years ago. The pleasant looking fellow holding down the Model F. Bulck to the left is one James Mortensen, who most of us know. The fellow in the bug is Earl Gainsforth, who may be recalled by some of you. Standing in the doorway of the barn, their heads just showing above the horses backs, are, left to right, W. W. Loofbourrow, T. B. Lane and either John or George Rowbal, we are not certain which. As the name indicates, the building is the old C. E. Rasset barn, which stood where the Petska Service station now stands. The photograph was loaned by Charles M. Roberts of Lincoln.

To Our Boss.
Come the first week in February of next year, we will have been with the Hamburg Reporter as a member of the general force for just twenty-two years, and during that time we have had it proven to us times without number that our employer is just about one of the swiftest fellows that any printer ever had the privilege of working for.

We do not hold the Boss Man, Fred W. Hill, up to you as the perfect country publisher, but we do say, and we mean it when we say it, that he comes as near being a perfect man and a perfect boss as any man or woman could ever hope to work for.—Jas. A. Johnson, Hamburg (Ia.) Reporter.

A beautiful single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Martin A. Lawler. The young couple was attended by Miss Evelyn Suchanek and Eugene Petska, a brother of the groom.

The bride was exquisitely attired in a white silk organza floor length gown. Her trailing veil was of white pointed lace. She carried a bouquet of pink sweetpeas and white baby's breath. Her bridesmaid, Miss Suchanek, wore a rose, taffeta floor-length gown trimmed in navy blue. The groom and his attendant wore dark suits.

Marie Gross Weds.
Miss Marie Gross, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lud Gross, became the bride of Michael Sok, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sok of Loup City, at nine o'clock in the Catholic church at Ord Tuesday, June 21. Rev. Martin A. Lawler officiated at the nuptial ceremony.

The bride was attired in a beautiful floor-length white satin gown with a white lace bolero. Her veil of net and pointed lace, was fingertip length. She carried a bouquet of red roses and calla lilies and white baby's breath. The bridesmaids were Miss Louise Gross, sister of the bride, and Miss Frances Sok, sister of the groom. They wore floor-length gowns of white net. White-velled hats added a picturesque touch to their ensembles. Their corsages were of pink sweetpeas and baby's breath.

The groom and his attendants, Mr. Leo Sok, a brother of the groom, and Ernest Parkos, were attired in dark suits. After the ceremony a dinner for the wedding party and immediate relatives, was served at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a dance was given in their honor at Loup City and was largely attended.

The Babe's Back in Coach's Role

Back in baseball regalia for the first time since June, 1935, Babe Ruth is pictured above as he waves in a runner from the Brooklyn Dodgers' coaching line. The home run king would like to land a major league manager-ship and many think he may eventually succeed Burtleigh Grimes as chief of the Flatbush aggregation.

Connie Mack—A Swell Scout

He said that such agencies were not only willing, but anxious to cooperate in this project. Following his talk Mr. McNulty told of Old Ft. Laramie and how it was obtained for a federal park. He said the total cost of the 153 acres was $17,500, of which his part was only two dollars. He believed that Ft. Hartsuff could be obtained the same way, and that there would be hundreds of people all over Nebraska who would help.

Rev. Claude Hill spoke of his early boyhood and of living on the Calamus when that country was a part of the frontier. Always a good speaker, Mr. Hill impressed his hearers with his sincerity. Clarence M. Davis spoke in behalf of the committee and told of several members taking the initiatory steps toward having a valuation placed on the land.

He said that the object of the fort as a park was twofold, to stand as a monument to the valley's pioneers, and to be an uplift and inspiration to the younger generation. A third and more mercenary reason, he mentioned was the bringing of tourists and sightseers into the valley.

R. B. Miller of Burwell moved that George W. McNulty be retained as president of the association, which was carried unanimously, as was the selection of John L. Ward as secretary. The members of the committee were re-elected with the exception of Rev. Claude Hill, who will represent North Loup for the coming year.

The other committeemen are Thurman Smith, R. B. Miller of Burwell, Clarence M. Davis of Ord, while Mr. McNulty represents Scotia. Truman Freeland, dean of Garfield pioneers, told some of the incidents of early days when called upon, saying he had heard all that had been said relative to Ft. Hartsuff, and that it all met with his hearty approval.

A committee composed of John Ward, Miss Maude Godenow and Mrs. E. J. Babcock, was appointed by the president to draft resolutions of respect to the memory of John Kellogg, now passed on, who was not only the valley's earliest settler, but the first president of the Old Settlers' association. These will be drafted and will appear shortly in the newspapers of the valley.

Vander Meer, Baseball's Newest Sensation, First Went South in Role of Movie Hero

BY IRVING DIX

IN the American League it's Bob Feller. In the National it's Johnny Vander Meer.

And if you want to claim Cincinnati's sensational young southpaw of no-hit, no-run fame is even a greater hurler than Cleveland's speed demon, go right ahead. You might not get as much argument as you would expect.

The 22-year-old blond youngster who amazed the entire baseball world by hurling two consecutive perfect games, is a baseball movie hero who made good when the real test came along.

Johnny's first introduction to the big time was in Miami, five years ago, when he portrayed a typical American boy getting a major league tryout. He was recommended to the newsreel company which made the picture by Dave Driscoll, then business manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers, who had seen Johnny pitch in a church league in Vander Meer's home town of Midland, N. J.

The Dodgers could have had the star-to-be, but missed a great opportunity through their failure to keep his transfer papers straight.

ONCE he broke into professional baseball Vander Meer headed straight for stardom. In 1936 with Durham of the Piedmont League he set an all-time loop record when he struck out 295 batters, for a rate of 12.33 per nine-inning game, over 214 innings.

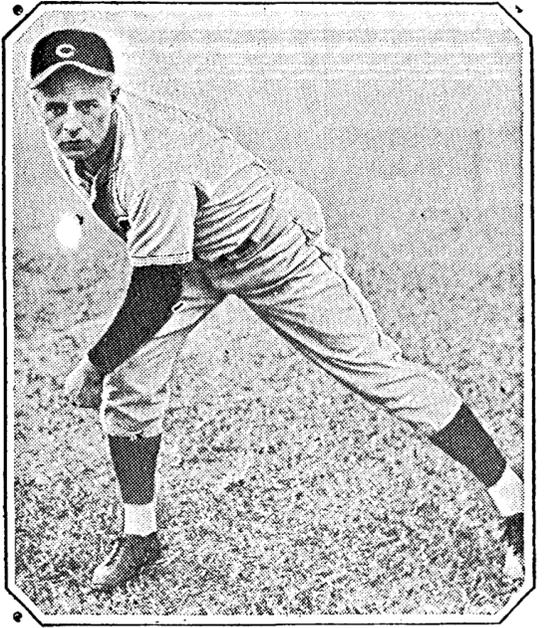

He went to Nashville at the close of the season, and then the Reds bought him.

Standing 5 feet 10 inches and weighing 175 pounds Vander Meer has a blazing fast ball—probably the fastest in the National League—and is just wild enough to make him doubly effective. He has average batters looser than ever at the plate.

Bill McKechnie, astute Redleg pilot, worked carefully on his prize recruit and even suggested that he have a chat with Bob Grove, Boston Red Sox southpaw.

Grove and McKechnie worked on his control and delivery until young Vandy was burning 'em through with a motion smooth as silk.

Yet the National League took little notice of him until he set down the Boston Bees without a the Reds fall into a protracted hitting slump, he should finish the season with well over 20 victories.

But with Vandy in excellent physical condition and Lombardi, McCormick, and Goodman hitting at a terrific clip, the young southpaw should sail along to the most remarkable season a National League freshman has enjoyed in years.

Success hasn't even begun to go to his head. Reporters, photographers and business men with "propositions" have besieged him constantly but he bears up with admirable restraint.

This modest son of solid Dutch parents appears to be a typical American boy. They regarded him as such when they made a movie hero out of him at the age of 17. Now they're sure he's the real thing at the age of 22.

hit. When he repeated the performance against the Brooklyn Dodgers in his very next start, the National League knew there was a new star of the first magnitude in its midst.

HIS performances to date have been amazing. And unless he suffers an injury of some sort, or

One little letter makes a world of difference in the meaning of a sentence. In our news last week appeared an item stating that "Mrs. Frank Vala has the distinction of being the first lady elected as a member of our school board. Pass the treats." But the editor changed "treats" to "threats". Mistakes will happen. Our newly elected school board member is a good natured lady who promised to serve our school district to the best of her ability and we hope she will understand it was only a misprint. The editor will pass the treats this time.

Burwell News

Written by REV. W. L. GOODSELL

An interesting meeting of the Wranglers Club was held Monday evening in the Burwell hotel. The group was led in singing by their song leader, Rev. W. L. Goodsell with Mrs. Ralph Douglas at the piano. The musical part of the program consisted of a duet, "Mother Machree", by Miss Dorothy Dee Johnson and Rev. Goodsell and a solo by Miss Johnson, "Home Town". Mrs. W. B. Johnson, Jr. accompanied these two numbers on the piano. Miss Johnson was introduced as "Miss Garfield County". After matters of business were discussed Guy Laverly gave an interesting talk on "Appreciation of Our Home Town". He mentioned some of the things which Burwell had of which she should be proud, such as the new modern school building, churches, Carnegie library, one of the best lakes in the state, two irrigation ditches, athletic field, municipal power plant and water system, complete sewer system, state highways, golf course under construction, a municipal band, good hospital, railroad service, trucks, buses, seven mail routes, Nebraska's Big Rodeo, good places of business, and new park recently purchased by the city to be known as the Riverside Park. O. W. Johnson led a discussion on the future sugar beet industry for this community and the possibilities and advantages of irrigation. The next regular meeting will be held July 11.

A patriotic program will be given in Jungman Hall, southwest of Burwell Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Among those from Burwell who attended the Old Settlers' picnic in Bussell park at Ord Sunday were R. B. Miller, Mrs. M. B. Houser and family and Miss Alberta Frederick. The Community Band from Burwell under the direction of Glen Aulsebrook of Ord furnished band music during the noon hour.

The third annual Garfield county beauty pageant, sponsored by the Burwell's Women's Club, was held in the high school auditorium Friday evening at 8 o'clock. A program of the following numbers was given before the pageant, music by the children's band; vocal solo, Mrs. M. H. Struve, and two numbers by a mixed quartette. Following the pageant a number of small girls were paraded across the platform as contestants of years to come. Those taking part in the pageant were Alaire Pulliam, Ruth Anderson, Dorothy Doran, Mary Meuret, Cecelia Meuret, Dorothy Cass, Dorothy Dee Johnson, Colleen Meyer, Evelyn Banks, Betty Homer, Ardath Alloway, Lela Butcher and Bernadine Callies. The judges' decision was as follows, first Miss Dorothy Dee Johnson, second, Miss Dorothy Cass and third Miss Ruth Anderson. Miss Johnson will wear the title of "Miss Garfield County" and will represent the county in the contest at the state fair in Lincoln in September.

things of life. The high ideals he held were of benefit to those with whom he came in contact.

POINTLESS PARAGRAPHS. With Loyalist air raids and other Loyalist activities making the headlines, and an occasional Quiz by the senate, the house, or some court or police department, two of Valley county's papers frequently get their names in the limelight. Such is fame!

The average farmer has trouble enough this year, what with grasshoppers, rust, blight, tater bugs, canker worms, lice, hail and more grasshoppers, without having to listen to a horde of politicians. But there is an old saying that troubles never come singly.

It was apparent at the picnic Sunday that present conditions cannot dim the optimism of the pioneers. All cares forgotten, they turned their attention to the enjoyment of the present. They have not forgotten that period in our early history when conditions were worse with them than they are today.

The opinion of the American people toward Nazi principles was clearly shown by the lack of regret when Max Schmeling was knocked out by Joe Louis Wednesday evening. There was no "White Hope" talk, as there always has been in similar cases in the past.

—Among Burwellites in Ord Saturday afternoon were Frank Iwanski, Vergil Ronzo and Alva Bisher.

The Fastest Finish in History

The hand of Referee Arthur Donovan is shown above counting out the death knell of Max Schmeling's heavyweight boxing championship return hopes. Standing by is Joe Louis, whose crushing attack sent the German to the canvas three times before Donovan stopped his third count at eight and awarded the champion a technical kayo after two minutes and four seconds of the first round. It was the fastest finish to a heavyweight title bout in modern ring history.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Smith and family plan to leave Friday for Missouri and other points to spend the fourth of July.

Lightning struck three telephone poles belonging to the Garfield Mutual Telephone Co. near Balhag Tuesday morning about 7:30 during a rain storm. About an inch of rain fell in that vicinity.

Two Good Softball Games Last Evening

In the opening game Tuesday evening the Ord Livestocks continued their winning ways by defeating the second place Browns-McDonalds 16 to 6. In the second game the Knights of Columbus got out of a tie for last place by defeating their cellar mates, the High School by a score of 9 to 7. This leaves the standings as follows: L. S., won 6 lost 0; B-Mcs., won 3, lost 3; K. Cs., won 2, lost 4; and H. S., won 1, lost 5. Two more games are scheduled for next Tuesday evening.

—C. W. McClellan was up from North Loup on business Tuesday. He thinks a suggestion that the farmers select samples of their crops as they harvest them for exhibit at the fair this fall would not be out of place. The agricultural exhibit this year should be one of the best the county has ever had.
