Mortensen, Tolen Filed For State Office Last Week

Sheriff Office Most Highly Sought; Six Candidates Throw Hats in Ring.

Filings from all offices in the state were completed Thursday evening June 30, and the result finds an interesting array of talent in the field for the several offices within the gift of the people this fall. A total of 320 candidates filed for the offices in the state above those of the county, and an uncounted number filed for the various county offices. In Valley county this number was 26, not including irrigation filings.

Of special interest to Ord people is the filing of C. J. Mortensen this week for state treasurer. Mr. Mortensen is well known over the state, and was a candidate for the same position two years ago. He was one of the last to file with the secretary of state Thursday, getting his filing in at 4:00 p. m., just one hour before the time for filing closed. Those who know him will not need to be told that he filed as a republican.

He ran fourth in 1936 against a total of seven contestants. Of this number only one is in the race again this year, Dr. T. W. Bass of Broken Bow, and a third contestant is Richard H. Larsen of Lincoln. Mr. Mortensen is president of the Nebraska State Bank, is 46 years of age, and the only son of the late Peter Mortensen, who at one time held the office to which his son now aspires.

During the World War Mr. Mortensen served six months overseas as disbursing officer, and was discharged with the rank of first lieutenant. He has always been active in the work of the Ord legion post, and served as its commander two years. He has been active in state and national bankers' activities for years, and is one of the best known bankers in Nebraska.

The other Ord man to file for office is Fred D. Tolen, who filed last week as a democratic candidate for railway commissioner. He has been a candidate for this office before, and in every case has been opposed by the present incumbent, Floyd L. Bollen, of Lincoln. Hitherto Bollen has been the lucky man, but Mr. Tolen, hopes to turn the tables this year. They are both opposed by another man of similar name, J. B. Bolan of Lincoln.

While claiming Ord as his permanent home, Tolen and his family have been living in Lincoln for a number of years, where he has held various positions of trust under the democratic regime. He has shown his ability in Ord as county treasurer of Valley county, and also as publisher of the Ord Journal. His broadening acquaintance over the state should strengthen his chances in the primary.

Final returns indicate no change in the unicameral situation in the 29th district, comprising Valley, Wheeler, Greeley and Howard counties. The list of names as they appear is: Tracy T. Frost, St. Paul; Vern W. Robbins, North Loup; Glen W. Ender, Elba; Ray Bahensky, St. Paul; Charles Sterneck, Ord; W. A. Jacobs, St. Paul; Irving Keating, Elba; Claus H. Leunberg, Dannebrog; John F. Doyle, Greeley; and A. C. Hunkins, Cushing.

Several names of general interest are included in the list. Robert G. Ross of Lexington, perennial candidate for almost any office from president down, has filed for governor on the republican ticket. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff but preferably of Terrytown, is a democratic candidate for lieutenant-governor, with Glen E. Carpenter of Lincoln also running. Foster May and Mabel Gillespie are both democratic candidates for congress from the second district.

The present incumbent Karl Stefan, is the only republican candidate for congress from the third district. He is opposed by three democrats. Harry B. Coffey of the 5th district has one opponent on the democratic ticket and three on the republican. Mortensen is one of eight candidates for treasurer, while Tolen is one of seventeen for railway commissioner. Robert G. Simmons and C. A. Sorenson are both candidates for chief justice of the supreme court in a field of eight.

In Valley county Ign. Klima, Democrat for county clerk, A. A. Wiegardt, Democrat for clerk of the district court, and Clara McClatchey, non-political, for county superintendent, are unopposed. George A. Satterfield, Republican, is opposed by John Cienny, Democrat, for county treasurer. For county attorney, Alvin B. Lee, Democrat, is opposed by John P. Misko, Republican. For sheriff, George Round, Clarence Blessing, Albert Peterson and Vencil Bouda, are Republicans, and Russell C. Jones and Ed Stone, Democrats, A. R. Brox, H. A. Stara and Charley King, all Republicans, are running for county assessor.

Supervisor districts 1, 3, 5 and 7, are electing the men who will represent them for the coming four years. In Dist. 1 the present in-

Burwell Man Rescues Girl From Drowning

To Ray Nelson of Burwell goes the credit for saving the life of Betty Alice Johnson, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson, from drowning in the river at the Burwell park last Wednesday afternoon. Betty Alice undertook to jump from the diving board and landed in a deep hole from which she could not swim.

Burwell Businesses Looted by Robbers

A series of robberies have been committed in the past eight weeks in Burwell, the latest being in the Bredthauer garage on Wednesday night, June 29. The thief entered the back of the building by breaking the glass in a window enough to allow him to turn the latch. The door to the office was locked and the lock was broken, also on the desk drawer. The drawer was taken away with its contents of mortgages, notes, valuable papers and some cash. The sheriff and other officers arrested Elmer Schubert in connection with the robbery and he later confessed. The drawer, a small metal box, and part of the papers were found on a sand bar near the west bridge. They had evidently been thrown over the east railing of the bridge. The other seven robberies were at the Hurlbert filling station, where gas was taken three different times, the Johnson filling station, where gas was taken once, the Food Center Store and Gamble Store, which was entered twice, and small articles taken.

Funds Allotted For New Ord Postoffice

Government Men Will Be Here Within Two Weeks To Select Site.

Assurance that Ord would have a new $75,000.00 postoffice and federal building built this year was received in telegrams from Congressman Harry B. Coffey to Postmaster A. L. Hill and the editor of the Ord Quiz last Friday. The government has set aside the funds and will send representatives up here in the next two or three weeks to look over several sites. Several desirable locations have been offered for the new building and the officers will experience little difficulty buying the properties. The building will probably be started late in the summer.

Filings For Office In Garfield County

Filings for office in Garfield county as reported by County Clerk W. T. Anderson at closing time June 30, were as follows: For county sheriff, Raymond Johnson and R. E. Webb on the republican ticket, Ferd Wheeler and Vern Mattern on the democratic ticket; for county clerk, W. T. Anderson and L. L. Hunter, republican and Louis Phillips and W. S. Green, democratic; for county treasurer, Geo. T. Tunnick and John Beynon, republican and Rex Wagner and Luther Pierce, democratic; for county attorney, W. F. Manasil, republican; county assessor, Willard D. Johnson, republican and Virginia Beck, democratic; county superintendent, Edward F. Sime, Florida Verley and Esther Thomas, non-political; precinct assessor, Dry Cedar, C. D. Bebee, republican; county commissioners, J. L. Kizer, Dist. 3, C. F. Clark, Dist. 2 and Vic Johns, Dist. 3, democratic, and Frank Bartos, Dist. 3, democratic.

Legion Junior Team Met Defeat Friday

The Ord Legion Junior team met the league leading Ravenna team on the Ord grounds Friday afternoon, and went down to defeat, the final score being 16 to 2. This makes two games won and three lost for the Ord team. The Ord boys are good players, but they are entitled to the encouragement of a good attendance always inspires. St. Paul will cross bats with the Ord team next Friday, in what promises to be one of the fastest games played this year. Plan to attend.

Another Townsend Meeting. There will be a Townsend meeting with a well known speaker, Legion Hall, Thursday evening this week. Everyone interested, invited. Committee.

Miss Thessa Greenwalt was operated Tuesday morning at the hospital for appendicitis.

Incumbent, Joseph J. Jablonski, is opposed by Henry Jorgensen, both men being Democrats. In Dist. 3 Henry A. Zikmund, now in, is opposed by Harvey H. Hohn, Zikmund is a Democrat and Hohn a Republican. In Dist. 5 the race lies between J. A. Barber, present incumbent, and Ed Lee, both Republicans, and Edward Christensen, Democrat. In Dist. 7, S. V. Hagens, Republican, now in, is opposed by H. A. Bellinger, Democrat.

Torrential Rain Benefits Large Area Saturday

Wind Damages Many Trees In Ord; Some Small Grain Down.

One of the heaviest single rains of the year struck the valley at about 8:00 p. m., Saturday. The rainfall in Ord amounted to 1.63 inches, but was reported much heavier in several other localities. The storm apparently covered a territory fifty miles or more in width, and extended to the state line on the east.

It was accompanied by heavy lightning and thunder, and a high wind blew branches off trees all along the path of the storm, many fine trees being ruined in Ord and vicinity. In spite of the fact that the wind was high all through the rain, farmers report that little damage was done to standing crops. Small grain straightened up after the storm, and looked almost as good as ever in a short time.

The river rose rapidly, but ample time was given for preparation at the dams along the river, and they suffered little or no damage. A rain later in the night brought the total in Ord up to 2.11 inches, with slightly less in the north part of town. This rain will be a wonderful help to the corn, which is now shooting and needs plenty of moisture.

Perhaps the worst damage done by the storm was the flooding of the basements on the south side of the square from the storm sewer, the capacity of which was overtaxed. The Furtak Barber Shop kept business going as usual, with both barbers and shoeshiner, John Lewis wading about in six inches of water in their bare feet. Maxie's Beauty Shop also continued to operate, but under difficulties.

—Miss Gladys McMinder of Atkinson was down for a few days' visit with Ord friends.

—Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from Fraziers' Chapel for a still-born child of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Urbanovsky, born Sunday at their home 14 1/2 miles north of Ord. Rev. Mearl C. Smith had charge of the services.

—Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cohen and Mr. and Mrs. William Carlton returned Saturday afternoon from their four weeks' trip to various points in the west. They visited the Carltons' daughters and other relatives at Sela, Wash., St. Helena and Salem, Ore., and Manteca and San Leandro, Calif. They also visited San Francisco going over by boat, under the new bridge instead of over it.

Ord Livestocks Continue Unbeaten

Two fast games of softball were played on the Ord grounds Tuesday evening, the Livestocks defeating the K-C team in the opener, and the Brown-McDonalds defeating the High School in the final session. This leaves the standings Livestocks, won 7, lost 0; Brown-McDonalds, won 4, lost 3; Knights of Columbus, won 2, lost 5; and the High School, won 1, lost 6. Two fast games will be played Thursday evening when the Scotia first and second teams cross bats with two Ord teams. The first game is called for 8:15, and a gate charge of 5c will be made to help on expenses.

12 Valley County Students Enrolled At Summer School

Twelve students from Valley county are among the 2,200 enrolled in summer school at the University of Nebraska this year. Six are from Ord; four from Arcadia and two from North Loup. Christensen Car Stolen in Arcadia

Mr. Christensen, a tree surgeon working in Arcadia, had his car stolen shortly before noon Friday, while he was working in the yard at the Roy Clark home. Fred Stone, village marshal, was notified at once, and state patrolmen were in Arcadia investigating the case Friday evening.

The stolen car was located in Grand Island Saturday afternoon, where it had been parked and abandoned when the supply of gas ran low. Several better cars were parked near the same location, but the thief probably figured his chances were better for getting away with an older model.

It is supposed a hobo seen about that time in Arcadia took the car and used it to get to Grand Island. Mr. Christensen thought some one had borrowed the car for an errand when he first missed it. The car was insured against theft, and the insurance agent arrived in Arcadia Saturday morning.

Three Ord Young Men Escape Injury in Automobile Accident

Jack Janssen, LaVern Duemey and Harold Prey drove to Omaha late Saturday evening to spend their holiday there and in Lincoln. Sunday afternoon enroute from Omaha to Lincoln they met with an accident near Lincoln Beach, across the river from Ashland. Attempting to pass a lady ahead of them, Jack was compelled to stop suddenly when she pulled across the road ahead of them. The right front tire blew out, throwing the car against the car ahead and smashing a fender. The lady then swung her car to the right into a driveway. The Janssen car, out of control, left the road on the right hand side, passed between two large trees and plowed to a standstill against a bank. The front axle was bent and the right front wheel had to be replaced.

Four state patrolmen were on the job in a few minutes. One of them stated that the lady was to blame, and the other three called it an unavoidable accident. Aside from a sprained ankle for Prey, and a cut forehead and blackened right eye for Duemey, the boys escaped without serious injury. The car was towed to Ashland for repairs, and the boys came home on the train Monday.

NYA Set-Up Changed; Now Fifteen Areas

The administrative set-up of the NYA in Nebraska has been changed, effective at once from the former district organization to an area organization. Under the former set-up there were four districts in the state, each in charge of a district supervisor, who thus had too large a district to handle properly by direct supervision. The state is now divided into fifteen areas, with an area director in charge of each. James M. Ritchie, who was formerly district supervisor of Dist. No. 4, is now state field representative. Miss Gladys Shamp is state director, and Charles Warner is state project supervisor.

Leiland C. Barrett is area supervisor of Area No. 9, comprising Valley, Greeley, Garfield, Wheeler, Holt and Boyd counties. The headquarters of the area will be in Ord. Mr. Barrett has been located in Ord for some time in the NYA work, and is quite well known here. He will have his offices on the third floor of the court house.

Kendall Wiegardt Returns. Kendall Wiegardt returned Friday from a trip to Chicago which he took in company with more than two hundred boys and girls of the World-Herald sales force, each of whom had won a trip through obtaining the requisite number of new World-Herald subscribers. They left Omaha at 8:00 p. m. Sunday and spent the time until Friday seeing the high lights of the Windy City. Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt drove to Omaha Friday and brought him home.

Summer School at Elyria. Over eighty children attended the summer school in Elyria at St. Mary's Catholic church. The school started Monday, June 6, and ended Friday, July 1. After school Friday, a picnic was held on the church grounds. The teachers were Sister Crescentia from St. Mary's, Neb., and Sister Lubomira from Ashton. Rev. C. Szanski is pastor of the Elyria church.

Penny Supper. Penny supper at the Christian church, Saturday, July 9. Everyone invited. 15-1t

George Newbecker Here. One of the better known of Ord's old time business men, George W. Newbecker, accompanied by his daughter Bernice, arrived in Ord Friday and spent a few hours looking after business matters. They were in a hurry, as they planned to drive on to Ames, Ia., to visit Mrs. Ethel Ross, another daughter of Mr. Newbecker. Mr. Newbecker owns the Chevrolet garage building, and also a fine residence property in Ord. While nearly eighty years of age, he appears to be enjoying good health. His home is in San Diego, Calif.

Important Meeting Of Ord City Council Held Friday Eve.

City Offered 10 Acres West of Park; Would Afford Irrigation for Park.

At the meeting of the Ord city council Friday evening a number of items of general interest were brought up and discussed, some of them disposed of, and others laid over until a continued meeting next Friday evening. Much interest was shown and all subjects were thoroughly discussed.

H. L. Patchen appeared before the board in regard to his gravel contract in which the amount of gravel called for was not delivered in the specified time. It appeared that delays that were unavoidable not only prevented Patchen from delivering according to agreement, but also prevented the city from accepting gravel when it was ready for them. It was agreed for him to continue to deliver gravel as fast as needed.

E. L. Kokes and F. E. McQuillan appeared before the council in regard to the parking of trucks in congested areas, where their presence would obstruct the view. A general discussion of the proposition followed, but no definite action was taken.

There was a general discussion of the testing station situation, and the proposition was finally laid over until Friday, when bids will be reviewed and an examination of specifications and equipment held. The proposition of the city taking over ten acres of irrigated land west of the cemetery to bring waste water from the ditch down to the city park was also discussed, but was laid over until Friday for more specific information from the district.

At the request of the district a committee, composed of George Allen, Clarence M. Davis and M. B. Cummins was appointed which will have to do with the partial maintenance of the high lines. They will report their findings back to the council before any definite action is taken.

The auditor's report of the city council proceedings from April, 1937 to April, 1938 was turned in and thoroughly discussed by the council. There was much discussion of the petty cash fund, which has grown to be one of the most important funds.

It is hoped that all claims in this fund may be made to show up each month complete, so that there will be no hidden claims in this fund. Any other business transacted by the city is available for any taxpayer who cares to see it, as all records of the city have always been.

A short time ago, at the request of farmers with a heavy grain harvest ahead, Mayor Cummins requested governmental agencies to release all men possible from their rolls for work in the harvest fields. As a result, the WPA roll has been reduced from about 40 to 5 men at the present time.

As an additional assistance to the farmers, the city of Ord is doing only necessary work at this time, and is not starting any new projects until the rush of farm work is over. The city is keeping a crew of men busy on the wing dam to the east of the Harndenbrook dam, as this is necessary and important work, and work is progressing on the setting of the new engine in place.

The proposition of a new library building was turned over to the library board, of which Clarence M. Davis is a member, for the reason that the library is not a city, but a township proposition, and only the board has power to act. It is understood that a plan is being pushed to have a new library building on the lot owned by the library association on its lot north from the Presbyterian church.

The association now has $5,000 on hand to apply on the work. The plan is to have the government match this amount, dollar for dollar, and have the work done by WPA labor, the board being required to furnish supervision. If this can be done, it will be possible for Ord township to have a $15,000 library building paid for in full. It is not known at this time whether this plan can be put through or not.

Red Cross Swimming Classes Start Monday. Instructor Arden Clark announces that the Red Cross swimming classes will start next Monday, July 11. The first class will be at 2:00 p. m., a second class will be given instruction Wednesday. Much interest is being shown, and all who wish to take this instruction are requested to join at once in order to facilitate the organization of classes.

—Miss Gall Hall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, visited at the Leo Nelson home at Genoa from Thursday until Saturday, she was much thrilled over the trip, and also the train ride, which was her first.

NOTABLE EVENTS.

This week we would do well to pause in the hurry of life and give thought to two notable events in our nation's history. The first and by far the most important was the battle of Gettysburg, the turning point in the war that made us a nation, one and indivisible.

That was 75 years ago, and it took three quarters of a century to heal the scars of conflict for the heroes of the blue and the gray. The other event was the destruction, forty years ago, of Admiral Cervera's fleet by the combined fleets of Sampson and Schley in the battle of Santiago.

Other events of interest happened on the nation's birthday, the U. S. Military Academy at West Point was officially opened July 4, 1802. July 4, 1826, fifteenth anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence, its author, Thomas Jefferson, and one of its signers, John Adams, both died. The death of these two men on the 50th birthday of the nation they helped form, is one of the most notable coincidences in the history of the world.

July 4, 1828 the first passenger railroad in the United States, the nucleus from which the Baltimore and Ohio grew began operations. July 4, 1872, Calvin Coolidge, destined to become the thirtieth president of the United States, was born. Last, but not least, Texas was admitted to the Union, July 4, 1845, one of a series of events that precipitated the Mexican war. Yes the birthday of our nation has been marked by notable events.

Something Different

It is bad enough in the spring, the flower and bush season, the baby chick season. I almost buy them when I have no use for them, so heartily are they endorsed by radio announcers. Not to mention the fertilizers, the starting mash, the bulb offer, and other 'just pay the postman' numbers.

It is bad then, with the postoffice and all the hatchery agencies cheating violently. But what does one do in the summer time, one who does not want to listen to a baseball game, does not know a three bagger from a hole in the ground? It is bad when the five nearest stations all play the same baseball game, and it leaves me cold and what is worse, just ignorant.

The radio is ruined for my afternoon use, and the downtown district isn't much better. From every doorway blares of sound tell about the mound, the apple, the slide, the strike-out, and other mysterious threats. While a lot of tobacco chewers and other people evidently understand it. And what did you think of the band concert being stopped for the prize fight? Why couldn't those fight fans go listen to their old fight? Why stop sweet music for such a return to barbarism? (Yes, I was for Schmeling, how did you know?)

I like to holler for underdogs, that's why. And another thing! Why applaud fine musical selections of the band with the brazen sound of auto horns? If you like music, why do that? I am just full of whys.

I think it is grand for people, when they are a bit older to get to realize some of their dreams. Or even to fulfill some of their hopes while they are younger. I have heard of one Ord couple, middle-aged, comfortably well off, retired, where the woman of the family wished to travel, wanted to see the south of the United States. The man decidedly refused, not caring for travel, and instead spent a lot of money building a nice home. His wife did not want a new house, but the real tragedy was that she suddenly passed away about the time the house was ready to move into, the house she hadn't wanted. The house she got in...

So many put off their dreams for days of retirement until it is too late. I hate to see them do this. I can think of one Ord man right now, a jolly person who has always been made so very comfortable at home. His wife, not very well, nevertheless has wanted for years to see some of other states, other countries, and these trips they are well able to take. But her husband wants the good old dishes cooked the way he has always had them at home; he wants his same old slippers, his chair, his cronies of the square. Perhaps it is better for his wife not to travel, at that. Perhaps she isn't truly able to gad.

Outsiders, gossipers, can't always tell what is best for someone else to do. That's the trouble with gossips, they usually have every single detail wrong.

Traveling is largely a habit. Some families have it; some families stick tight at home and going into another county is a large adventure to them. One Ord family loves to travel. In fact they consider the only satisfactory alternative to going some place is having company. So they go many places, some far, and see everything, and are not saving dreams of travel for their elder days.

Sometimes ill health of some member forces a family to do some travelling. Ernest Weller is now in this category. Luckily for him he married a nurse, so wherever they go he has the best of care. Not well for some years, he is now un-weller... pardon the pun... it slipped. Anyway, they are going to do some loafing for a year or two, in hopes it will make Mr. Weller weller. (I might as well stick in another weller.)

Well (I've got the habit) to get up to Minnesota, which is where I am at this minute. I wonder what Mr. Fenner will do to his cottage this year. He and H. D. always keep a weather eye to see what the other fellow is fixing up. Then he gallops for home, hollers for the hammer and nails and either Fanny or Cora, as the case may be, is then supposed to come running. And they go to work at once to pound out a partition, tack on a woodshed, build a swing or do something to get ahead of the other guy. And have a heap of fun doing it.

Last fall Mr. Fenner even scrambled up trees and shook down a bushel or two of butternuts to take back to Nebraska, murmuring something about he'd like to see Homer try to shinnny up a tree.

BACK FORTY

A new money making scheme is being pushed in some parts of the state. The idea is to raise Caracul sheep and sell them for their pelts. Expensive ladies' Caracul fur coats are cited as illustrations of the profits available to men with foresight enough to invest in Caracul.

A few farmers have purchased Caracul bucks to cross on ordinary ewes. They expect thus to increase the value of the wool clip, and also to instill new hybrid vigor in their next crop of lambs.

Unfortunately the fleeces from cross-bred Caracul is worth less than that of either parent. It must be sold as gray or black wool, and only brings about 3 cents a pound. Dark fleeces is low priced because it will not dye uniformly. The mating of woolly sheep that grow fur or hair just doesn't work.

It is true that the use of Caracul bucks on native ewes will produce stronger lambs. But the same hybrid vigor can be secured by cross-breeding with Hampshires, or some other good standard breed.

Anyone wishing to venture into the Caracul fur business had better start out with purebreds of both sexes. They should also remember that not all Caracul produce valuable pelts, and that the market for such products is limited.

DISTRICT 48

Sunday dinner and afternoon guests at the Ed Greenwalt home were Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Wojtasch, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wegryzn and daughter Marguerite. Stanley and Jessie Michalski spent Sunday visiting with their folks. Monday Harry and Jessie returned to the farm at Loup City, Stanley remaining to help with the harvest.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sydzzyk visited at the Joe M. Jablonski home Sunday. Edward Proskocil is helping John Jablonski with the harvest. Anton Kapuska dragged roads for Ed Greenwalt Monday. Joe Proskocil, jr., spent Sunday afternoon visiting with the Michalski boys.

A few of the young folks from this neighborhood attended the dance at Jungman hall Sunday evening. Elizabeth and Arnold Walahoski spent Monday afternoon with Irene and Florence Michalski.

Miss Lucile Lakin, employed as a nurse at the Ord Hospital, was taken sick Monday night while on duty. She did not report the matter and continued her work until morning when it was found she was suffering with appendicitis. She was operated the same afternoon.

Boys 'Hop Freights' To Ord For Visit

Robert R. Cook, son of G. C. Cook, former resident of Ord, 'hopped the freights' to Ord, accompanied by Glenn G. Bassett. The two boys live in Vancouver, Wash. Arriving at San Bernardino, they felt pangs of hunger, so they worked for a day shoveling cement. They were each paid a dollar and given a free meal. It was with this money that they came to Ord, with fifteen cents left on their arrival here.

The boys said that they are extremely lucky to be living in Nebraska. Their home, Vancouver, is an industrial town, but it is difficult to find employment there because of the influence of labor unions. Labor unions have everything 'tied up.' In almost every state they traveled through, a sales tax was required. The boys made a hobby of collecting different tax tokens.

The states they journeyed thru were Washington, Oregon, California, Nevada, Utah, Wyoming, Kansas, Colorado and Nebraska. In Utah, they were escorted from one end of Salt Lake City to the other in a police patrol wagon. Incidentally, this solved the problem of getting across the city without hiring a taxi. They crossed the Escalante and the Mojave Deserts, rode through the longest tunnel in the world and crossed the Grand Canyon.

At McCook they were thrown off the train, so they visited with Labe Cook, an uncle of Robert. Robert and Glen plan to work in the wheat fields in Nebraska, then buy a motorcycle and return home.

Ord Church Notes

St. John's Lutheran Church. (Missouri Synod). 8 miles south. Services at 9:45 by Rev. Edgar Brohm of Burwell. Wm. Bahr, Pastor.

Methodist Church. 10 a. m., Sunday school. 11 a. m., morning worship. Special music includes a solo by Lelloy Frazier and vocal trio by the Misses Dorothy, Joy and Ruth Auble. Sermon by the minister. A good number of out of town visitors attended church last Sunday morning.

Our music department is securing one or more musical numbers each Sunday morning for the worship service. Often out of town musicians sing or play for us while visiting friends. You will enjoy the music. Also, it is a good place to meet friends. Mearl C. Smith, Minister.

Bethany Lutheran Church. 'Cast out first the beam out of thine own eye, and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote that is in thy brother's eye.' Luke 6:42. Sunday school, 10 a. m. Divine worship, 11 a. m. Choir practice, Thursday, 6:45 p. m. Bethany always welcomes you to come and worship. Let us all remember that the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath. -Mark 2:27. Your attitude towards God's word and God's word reveals your attitude toward God himself. Clarence Jensen, Pastor.

Ord Christian Church. T. A. Lindenmeyer, Minister. There were present for the Bible school service just two more on last Lord's day morning than there were the previous Lord's day. This was very encouraging in view of the fact that quite a number of the faithful and regular attendants were out of town and visiting their relatives and friends in various places from Hastings, Nebr., to Sheridan, Wyo. The church school was conducted by Mrs. L. O. Ludington, assistant superintendent.

Mrs. George Anderson responded to the invitation and transferred her membership from the Burwell Church of Christ to the First Christian Church of Ord and was welcomed to the fellowship of the church. Services of the church for Lord's day, July 10, will be as follows: 10:00 a. m., church school conducted by Miss Clara McClatchey, superintendent, and helpers; 11:00 a. m., morning worship, communion and sermon, subject, 'The New Commandment'; or the 'Eleventh Commandment'; Our aim for next Lord's day in point of attendance at the church school is 99 and as many more as possible. We can reach the aim if every enrolled member of the church is present. We will unite with the other churches of Ord in the union Sunday night services as elsewhere announced.

Short Shavings. Ed Post owed me seven dollars and the other day met him on the street and he proceeded to pay me. He took out his purse and from it extracted seven one dollar bills, each folded separately into a small package a little larger than a postage stamp. When I got the six all unfolded, the bills wrinkled up like nigger's wool, and I asked Ed what the idea in folding your money that way. I needed a flat iron to straighten it out. Ed didn't worry much about the money after I got it. He said once he carried his money flat and he paid to a merchant two twenty dollar bills that were stuck together when he intended to pay only one. When he got home he discovered the shortage. He went back to the merchant but he would not return the bill, saying he had no record and did not know if Ed was truthful or not. He didn't know Ed last week rest of the money. Nevertheless that taught Ed a lesson. Since then he folds each bill separately and then he makes no mistakes when he counts them out. He lets the other fellow worry about the wrinkles.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

A Hopeless Job. The big topic of conversation down this way this last week seems to be the industrial atmosphere that has come upon us of a sudden. Labor strife is at the bottom of it all, and so the talk is, that soon, the WPA workers will go on a strike too.

In this country, this agriculture country, the predominance of opinion and sympathy has always been entirely with the employer and the attitude is that the employee has no rights or say as to the wages, and should be glad and thankful to have work even if he might possibly have to pay for the privilege. The strike that was staged the other day in the beet field has been referred to with all sorts of language, such as damfoolishness, C. I. O. materials, which might not be a disgrace, and other stronger terms.

However, the boys seemed to think, now in harvest time, and corn plowing time, they were not getting enough pay and staged a sit down strike. They won their point by getting higher pay, or at least they thought it was higher pay. That's all right. If seed corn is scarce, and I am the only man who has seed corn, I poop the ante all I can. It was done last year and would be again. Is labor any different. These boys were quite fair. They did not walk off from their employer for higher pay, with a beet field on his hands that needed weeding. They gave him a chance.

There are more sides than that of the boys. Mr. Zangger might have contracted Mexicans, shipping them in and leaving the boys without. He saved the work purpose to help the local people. On the other hand, should the boys do as good as the Mex's, who are here for a few months and gone again. The party that finally won, it seems to most of us outsiders, was the women folks. This is simple enough to comprehend, for that is usually the case. Mr. Zangger was feeding the boys at noon, but with the increase of pay he is relieved of that job and now the boys carry their own dinner.

Talk about labor organizations do as you please as there is in all we please, none of us want to be a laboring man if we can help it. There are a few good jobs but the percentage is frightfully small. Laboring men are subject to being fired at any day, subject to a cut in pay at any time forever faced by being forced on relief. A young man with a wife and baby or two, who is a farm worker or average laborer, with no one to help him get started, has prospects that are about as hopeless as there is in this country. He gets to thinking things are not distributed quite fairly. Can we blame them for ganging up? There are prospects for something better that way. There are none the other.

Like Dipping the Ocean Dry. The grasshoppers seem to be growing thicker each day in spite of the thousands of tons of poison distributed. To many of us this killing of grasshoppers must be tackled in some other way. Many report their grasshoppers will not eat the poison sprinkled out. Others say it must be put out every day to be effective.

A man with a farm of two or three quarters, or even less, is at a loss to know even where to start killing the pests. On the average farm a person could spend his entire time sprinkling poison. It is like trying to dip the ocean dry. The hoppers are like flies. They are in the pastures, on the grain, in the roads, everywhere. Some claim that grasshoppers do not thrive so well in wet weather. No one is sure of that however. The hoppers seem to move with the wind. Traveling men said they were thick in the western part of the state last week and on Thursday night about eleven o'clock, they invaded North Loup. These hoppers were big fellows with long wings. They have eaten the gardens some and done small damage, but yet not very seriously have they eaten the bigger crops.

Short Shavings. Ed Post owed me seven dollars and the other day met him on the street and he proceeded to pay me. He took out his purse and from it extracted seven one dollar bills, each folded separately into a small package a little larger than a postage stamp. patented preparations on sale at the grocery. That is to put into the jelly that won't jell, epsom salts. I was going say some more about this but I am too modest.

Mrs. Clarence Babcock is having a real vacation visiting her sister in Wisconsin. Except for a short visit to her son in Hastings a year ago, she has not been away from home since she was married years ago. She hesitated about taking the trip, receiving a widow's pension as she does. She did not like folks to talk about her. But her brother in California sent her a ticket to Wisconsin and her sister there is paying her way back. They sent the money for that and nothing else. Everyone told the lady, under those conditions they'd let the people talk and take the trip, and apparently that is what she did.

I still hesitate to write about raising kids. I have read several articles and books on it. A series by J. P. McEvoy in the S. E. P. lately were very fine. 'Letters of a Self Made Merchant to His Son', by Geo. Horace Lorimer is a masterpiece. I could not hope to do as well, but I have seen several treatises lately that were mostly bunk. I am tempted, when I read them, to try it myself. I may practice on you folks some day.

A demonstration of the work done in the daily vacation Bible school was given Friday night in the Methodist church. The school has been in session for three weeks with Vesta Thorgate acting as supervisor. Birdine Ingerson taught the kindergarten and had the largest enrollment, 29 in all, 19 of whom received certificates for ten days' attendance. Irma Campbell had charge of the first and second grades, Martha Miller the third and fourth, and Mary Davis the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth. Ninety-eight pupils were enrolled, sixty received certificates for attending ten days and thirty-four had perfect attendance. Four girls, Joan Barber, Fern Sims, Etta Larkin and Marjory Hamer were given testaments for having completed eight years' of the work. This year has the seventeenth session held in North Loup. Two of the teachers, the janitor and a number of the pupils were afflicted with the mumps during the three weeks and this cut down on the number receiving certificates. Each morning the children brought their pennies to help with the expense $8.24 was contributed by the children and their gifts brought the total to $17.24 by Friday. It is hoped more will be given and the teachers can be paid a small amount this year.

Thursday fifty-eight pupils, three teachers and a number of parents took a picnic dinner to Ord park and spent the afternoon. Parents going included Mr. and Mrs. Clark Roby, Rev. and Mrs. C. L. Hill, Mrs. Erlo Babcock, Mrs. A. C. Hutchins, Mrs. Jennie Anderson, Mrs. Ben Nelson, Mrs. A. L. McMinder, Mrs. Carl Walkup, Mrs. Clayton Meyers, Mrs. Cecil Knapp, Mrs. Delmar Van Horn and Mrs. Van Creager, G. D. Barber took a truck load of the older children up. Marjory May Manchester went to Cotesfield Monday to spend the 4th. She expects to go to Omaha later in the week to be with her sister, Dorothy Jean the remainder of the summer. Bernice King and Mrs. Wayne King were Thursday morning bus passengers to Ord. Mr. and Mrs. Will Watson and Robert Maxson came up from Lincoln Sunday morning. They returned Monday evening. Sylvia Cornell came up from Lincoln Friday morning. Later in the day Melvin took her to the home of their parents near Ericson. Grace Hopkins came in on the Saturday evening bus. Lillian Babcock was the guest of Ava Leach Sunday and Monday. Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart came up from Omaha Saturday and remained till Monday with Mrs. Stewart's mother, Mrs. Irene Crandall.

Louis Vaness came from Cheyenne Saturday and remained till Monday. Lyde Smith who is working in Ramines cafe at Broken Bow rode over with her. She returned to her work Monday. Mrs. Mary Davis and Mary T. drove to Lincoln Saturday afternoon to visit in the Horace Davis home. Mr. and Mrs. Mansel Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis and baby and Richmond Davis were all to be at home. Mrs. Davis and Mary returned Sunday. Mrs. Donald Paddock of Omaha is the guest of relatives in North Loup. Donald Van Horn came up from Lincoln where he is employed, Saturday evening. Harold Schudel came up from York Sunday morning and remained till after Monday. North Loup received 1.75 inches of rain Saturday night. There was a strong wind and some electricity with the storm. Clifford Goodrich is driving a new V-8. While working on a bridge on the new road to Ord Thursday, Boyd Sheldon struck his foot with the shovel he was using, cutting his big toe to the bone and the second toe nearly off. He was brought at once to Dr. Hemphill who dressed the wound and if no infection sets in will soon be all right. Everett Stewart and Keith Watts attended a farewell supper for John Burrows held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Burrows in Ord Wednesday night. Ersel Goodrich came home from Milton, Wis., on the Monday afternoon motor for a two weeks' vacation. She has been working in a private home at Milton for several months. Mrs. Reuben Rydberg went to her home at Odessa, Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Burr Larkin and two children left Thursday morning for Culver, Ore., after spending a week with relatives here. Mrs. Leslie Wilson repaired Mrs. Negley's house last week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Paddock have moved down from Ord and are living in Mrs. Ida Brown's house. Clyde Barrett came home from Lincoln on the motor Saturday afternoon. He has been in the Veterans hospital there for several weeks and is feeling much better than he has for some time.

fore going so the Williams' helped eat the fried chicken and all the good things that go with it. Monday dinner guests at Everett Honeycutt's were Mr. and Mrs. John Honeycutt and son, Mr. Mike Honeycutt and Ivan, Mrs. Lena Taylor and Esther, Mrs. Lizzie Barnhart, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vogel and Robert and Iona Key. The 4th was spent by most of the families in the harvest field in this community. Several of the young people drove to Loup City in the evening to see the fireworks and take in Frederick's Carnival Co.

Betty, small daughter of Stanley Petska, cut the end of her finger off Saturday morning while playing with a mower. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Urbanovski lost their infant son, born Sunday morning. It was buried Tuesday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Alton Philbrick spent the week end in the Jack Vanslyke home. Violet May Guggenmos and Harriett Marshall spent the Fourth in Loup City.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

The Fourth of July seems to have been a certain advancement for get-togethers all over Ord. But it happened that most of the younger people didn't stay in Ord. They went to Loup City, Ericson, Burwell, or some other place like that. Well, you can't blame them! "Seen" things in a strange town: Evelyn Sharp escorted by Don McMichael of Arcadia. Oh's and Ah's from the feminine admirers when "Butch" Kruml stepped on the platform in front of the athletic sideshow. Those bulging muscles of his seem to have an extraordinary power over people. "Butch's" manager, Emil Darges, wringing his hands just before the match. The good-looking Rhode boy walking up and down the sideshow. More people getting mixed up in directions and going to Arcadia instead of taking the turn to Ord! Martina Biemond with a large bunch of Loup City girls. Richard Severson's brunette without (Richard). That Cummins bunch again! (including Lowell Jones, of course). Gerald Hatfield, Dean Blessing and Don Tunnicliff at the dance. Bus Hughes looking and feeling pretty healthy. Here at home: Norma Mae Snell mowing the lawn barefoot. She says she likes to go barefoot. Ah, the good old days! Voices in the night: On the court house lawn, "She's so dumb she thinks a splurge is a government spending program.

UNION RIDGE

Harvest of small grain started the middle of last week. The shocks of barley and rye are pretty thick on the ground and sure looks good to see the binders at work again after so many bad years. Mr. Win. Worrell bought a new 10-foot McCormick Deering binder to cut his 200 acres. Monday he had five men shocking. Ira Manchester of North Loup is riding the binder for him. Mr. and Mrs. John Honeycutt and son Jackie O'Neill came Sunday to visit his father, Mike Honeycutt and brothers Everett and Ivan. Iona Key of Winner, S. D., visited Mrs. Everett Honeycutt from Wednesday until Saturday evening. Mrs. Roy Williams spent Sunday afternoon with her daughter, Mrs. Gerald Manchester. Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner and Carol Ann were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Horners' parents, Dick Ackers, of Horace, and to visit with relatives from Washington. And were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Eglehoff Sunday evening. Bob Enger, who is staying at Don Horner's and Clarence Horner who is helping Roy Williams in the harvest field were Sunday dinner guests at Glen Eglehoff's. Mr. and Mrs. Win. Worrell spent Saturday night with their daughter, Mrs. Bates Copen. Harold Rich stayed with Irving Worrell. Mr. and Mrs. Mike Whalen called at Tony Pawleskas Monday forenoon. They said Tony was pretty discouraged over the grasshoppers. Mrs. Ross Williams and children had dinner with her mother, Mrs. Mike Whalen, Monday. The Carl Wolfe and Ross Williams families attended the Joe Louis and Max Schmeling fight picture in Ord Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Wolf had prepared her supper be-

BACK TO THE WILD WEST

By Lillian Karty.

You people who weep and wail because you aren't able to live in the "Wild West", and still others who buy dime western magazines just to get a thrill out of reading them, probably do not realize that we have among us today, a man who can tell you one of the most hair-raising stories of Valley county. He is John Kokes, 74, who is one of the most prosperous Sand Plains farmers. He was born in Bela, Czechoslovakia, on March 16, 1864. He came to the United States in October 1880. In 1894 he married Rose Petska, who was killed by lightning six years later. In 1901 he married his former wife's sister, Barbara. He ran for sheriff of Valley county in 1901 against Delfet Heuck, whom he defeated. It was during this time that he received word from the sheriff of Greeley county that several horses had been stolen and to keep on the lookout for suspicious characters. In the evening of the next day he was informed by Clem Meyers that there had been two suspicious looking men with horses staying at a vacant place because of rain. Here is the rest of Mr. Kokes' story:

JOHN KOKES.

"I thought that it might pay to investigate that, so I got my team ready, and about that time I ran into my ex-opponent, Delfet Heuck. I asked him if he wanted to go along and he said he did. So we got as far as North Loup and stayed there over night. The next morning we started out southwest on a route we thought the horse thieves would take. As we came near the county line, we came upon the A. E. Cress farm. Delfet asked me if I knew the man who lived here and I said 'No'. He said, 'I know him. Let me go in and see if he can give us some information as to the pair of horse thieves.' So he went in and found two strange young men sitting at a table, eating breakfast with the Cresses. Delfet said, 'Mr. Cress, I'd like to speak to you about some personal matter if you come here.' After they went out, one of the boys asked Mrs. Cress, 'Who is that man?' She answered, 'He's the ex-sheriff of Valley county.' When they heard the word 'sheriff' they figured that it was time to be moving, and they slipped out to where Cress and Delfet had been talking. As soon as they passed by, Delfet said, 'Boys, you're under arrest, put up your hands.' But instead of putting up their hands, they reached for their guns and began to shoot, and so did Heuck. While I was sitting in the buggy, I had my hands full trying to keep the team from running away during all this shooting. I don't know how it happened that no one was hurt, because I'm sure they meant business on both sides. I finally managed to calm the team down, and by that time the boys were in the barn. While waiting for the boys to back out, Heuck accidentally shot himself in the foot. We then stepped back of the house and I told Heuck to retire and take care of himself and I would take care of the boys. Without our knowledge, the boys slipped away from the barn and down into the canyon. There we were watching the barn with some of the neighbors and Meyer's boys who had appeared on the scene ready for action. There was nothing going on. The boys were gone, and we didn't know it. Finally I was tired of standing around doing nothing, so I called for volunteers to go with me and get the boys. No one cared to go in, so I went myself. It didn't take me long to find out that the boys were gone. By that time the news had spread through the neighborhood and even to the town. I sent word for the sheriff of Greeley county to come with his bloodhounds, and he did. Pretty soon you could see people all over the hills. One of the bunches from North Loup went up on a hill two or three miles from Cress and saw the boys hid in a ravine. Walking closer, they told them to give up their guns and surrender. Instead of that, the boys again started shooting. The boys from North Loup were good shots and used their guns very effectively. One of the boys was shot in the head and killed, and the other put up his hands and surrendered. Then the entire case was turned over to Greeley county authorities." Mr. Kokes says he thinks he will always like farming better than politics, and he's going to stay on the farm.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

"Hay-fever" is a disease that affects a million people in the United States year after year. It is seasonal because it depends upon sensitiveness of the person to the pollen granules produced in the blossoms of various plants. Some are sensitive to one, others to another, and some to many pollens. Since plants form pollen at different times during the growing season so people have their trouble at different times from spring to frost.

The disease got its name in England where the pollens from grasses are the only ones that cause the trouble. In the United States it is the grasses but the great variety of weeds found scattered over the countryside that produce most of our hay-fever. We tend therefore to have most of our hay-fever in the late summer and fall.

Pollen granules vary greatly in size and weight. The heavy ones can't be carried far by the wind, but if left unmolested will fall to the ground. Plants having the heavy pollen would fall to be fertilized, would produce no seed and would die out in a short time unless some special means were provided to insure pollination. This is done by producing a bright colored and usually sweet smelling flower. The bugs and bees are attracted to the blossom, get themselves covered with pollen and carry it to another blossom, thus fertilizing it. It is for the same reason, being too heavy for the wind to carry, the pollen from bright flowering plants seldom cause hay-fever. It doesn't often get into people's noses. The reverse of this is true of the light pollens. They come from plants that do not have bright colored sweet smelling flowers, are carried from plant to plant and also into our noses, by the wind. They cause most of our hay-fever.

In order that wind-borne pollen may be sure to get from one plant to another these granules must be produced and thrown off in enormous numbers. It is for this reason that the number of pollen granules in the air at the height of the pollenating season is very great. Methods have been devised for counting them. This is often done in the laboratories of the physicians who make a specialty of treating this type of disease.

There are hundreds of different weeds in the United States that cause hay-fever, but only a certain number occur in each locality. In recent years there has been a marked spread of weeds from one part of the country to another, along the railroads and highways. A hay-fever sufferer who used to be free of the disease in a certain place, now often finds this is no longer true. Usually this is because the particular weed or weeds that harm him have spread to this locality.

Ida May Babcock, who has been staying with Mr. G. L. Hutchins while her mother is away has gone to the home of her brother, Gilbert.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansel Davis of Columbus, O., and Richmond Davis of Kearney were Sunday night guests of Mrs. Mary Davis and Mary T.

Syl Furtak and Elsie Pecenka of Ord were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill.

A large number of North Loup people attended the celebration at Loup City Monday afternoon and evening.

A. C. Hutchins went to Omaha on business Tuesday morning.

Harold Portis had his right hand badly burned with a firecracker Friday morning.

Emil Dorshekt of Albion called at the Ed Wells' home Sunday morning.

Mrs. Dick Simons and daughter of Omaha were guests of Mr. and Mrs. I. J. Thelin from Friday till Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Simons lived here some years ago and Mr. Simons baked for Lloyd Davis.

Mrs. Will Cox, Mrs. W. B. Stine and Frances Meyers returned from Long Pine Monday. Will Cox going up after them.

Mr. and Mrs. Steve Finch and Eugene left Friday morning for their home at Escondido, Calif.

The Harry Meyers family returned Sunday from Montana.

C. J. Rood, 87 Monday.

C. J. Rood was 87 years old Monday, July 4, and celebrated quietly at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Henry Williams in Mira Valley, where he has made his home for more than a year. Mr. Rood came to the valley with his parents in 1872 and he and his sister, Mrs. Mary Davis are the only living members of the original Seventh Day Baptist colony and they and Mrs. Jennie Rood, of Milton, Wis., the only living charter members of the S. D. B. church. Charlie Rood's homestead was the farm where Earl Smith lives and the North Loup cemetery was a part of the ground. For many years Mr. Rood was sexton. He has a wonderful memory of the happenings of early days and while not as strong as in 1872, enjoys reasonably good health for a man of 87. All his eight children are living but Mrs. Rood passed on several years ago.

Social and Personal

Picnic at Park.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cox and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Cox and daughter, and Mrs. Mary Williams of North Loup and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner of Ord enjoyed a picnic at Bussell Park.

Hold Picnic at Ord.

Misses Doris Creemen, Helen Cruikshank, Ahleen and Virginia Norris, and Musa Benson of Arcadia, and Misses Bertus Ellersick and Zelma Stone of Comstock enjoyed a picnic at Bussell's park in Ord Monday evening, the event being in honor of Miss Zelma Stone, who will leave for Curtis the latter part of this week.

Hold Picnic Sunday.

A picnic arranged by Mrs. Bill Darges and Mrs. Floyd Peterson was held near the river Sunday afternoon. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Darges, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Peterson, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Carkoski, Mr. and Mrs. Dillo Troyer, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Lothrop, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Osenowski, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kerchal.

Rowbal-Reed.

At eleven o'clock on Saturday, July 2, Miss Ada Rowbal, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Rowbal, became the bride of Clarence Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Reed of Central City. The two were married in Grand Island with Rev. Frederick L. Gilson performing the ceremony. The witnesses were Richard W. Squire and Merina Hunter, both of Grand Island. The bride wore a dark blue net with white accessories. The groom was attired in a gray summer suit. After the wedding, a dinner was given at the home of the groom's parents in Central City. Decorations consisted of sweetpeas and fern leaves. Sixteen immediate relatives attended.

The bride is a graduate of Ord high school with the class of '32. The groom graduated in 1932 from Central City high school, attended college for two years at Sioux City, and finished his education in Nebraska Central College at Central City. He is now employed in the WPA office in Ord.

Bredthauer Anniversary.

July 4th was the occasion of the 45th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bredthauer, and in honor of the occasion a huge picnic of all the relatives was arranged to be held Sunday in Bussell Park, each family brought a picnic dinner and there was enough to spare.

In attendance from Grand Island were Mr. and Mrs. Bredthauer, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bredthauer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Fuss and Miss Ava Bremer. From Scotia, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bredthauer, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Bredthauer, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bredthauer, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Bredthauer, Mr. and Mrs. Dora Dally, Mrs. Philip Seefus, Mr. and Mrs. Mary Horton and two granddaughters, Mrs. Lena Sommers, Will and Everette Sommers, Herman Bredthauer, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bredthauer and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Holt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hackel and her mother, Mrs. Harrison, Miss Louise Hackel, Mrs. Katie Marks, Mrs. Emil Foth and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blessing. A photo was taken, which will appear next week.

Camera Club Meeting.

The July meeting of the Loup Valley Camera club, which could not be held on the first Monday night of the month because it fell on July 4, has been set for tomorrow, Thursday night. The place is at Jensen's photo shop, and the time is promptly at 7:30 p. m. Because of the softball game scheduled for tomorrow night, it is desired to get the camera meeting out of the way in time to give those who wish to attend the games time to get there.

Mrs. Antonia Mann arrived last week from California, and plans to stay a long time with her mother, Mrs. Mary Beran. She thinks she will remain here a year, unless she gets lonesome. Mrs. Beran is glad to have her come, as she does not feel able to stay alone.

QUIZ VISITS VALLEY COUNTY FARMS

Above is shown a picture at feeding time on the Frank Dubas place, where his son, Edward, is having good luck raising hogs this year. He has seventy or more shoats this size and it looks as though he would raise plenty of corn to feed them out this winter.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

July 6, 1928.

J. W. Tucker of North Loup was struck by lightning and paralyzed for several hours. He was terribly burned and very uncomfortable, but the paralysis left him in the night.

Miss Elma Carpenter and Ervie Weed of North Loup were married in Ord by Rev. Moorman of the Methodist church.

The Bee-News was sold by Nels Updike to the Hearst interests. (They later found it unprofitable and sold to the World-Herald.)

A meeting was held in the school house at Vinton for the purpose of organizing a Sunday school there. Rev. Norden of St. Paul was the speaker.

July 9, 1903.

The eagle screamed according to schedule when Ord celebrated the glorious Fourth. A feature of the big parade was a number of gaily dressed automobiles, the prize for the best one going to A. P. Jensen. Horse races were pulled off, and for the first time in the history of the department Co. No. 2 beat Co. No. 1. There were horse races at the track, and a three mile auto race between Rudolph Sorenson's Rambler and a couple of Reos belonging to Charley Stier, one of the Reos winning by a small margin. Harry Crawford then drove an exhibition race against time, making the three miles in the breath taking time of five minutes and ten seconds, or about 35 miles per hour.

The license of Sam Dumond to sell liquor in Ord was revoked because of the sale of liquor to a minor. High license councilmen deferred action on the case until forced to do so by the anti-saloon league.

Plans for holding the chautauqua on Anderson's Island met a setback when a number of persons raised the objections of mosquitoes, distance from town and the mud in case of rain.

Presbyterian Church Notes. Rev. Claude Hill of North Loup will preach Sunday at the regular preaching hour in the Presbyterian church.

Teacher's Examination. The July teacher's examination will be held in Arcadia and Ord on July 9. This is the last examination until fall.

Clara M. McClatchey, County Superintendent.

Union Services Arranged. At a meeting held at the Methodist church this morning, the pastors of Ord arranged for union services each Sunday evening during July and August. Rev. T. A. Lindemeyer of the Christian church will be the speaker Sunday evening and his subject will be, "Is our civilization christian?" Prof. Dean Duncan will have charge of arranging the music for these union services during the summer.

Holds Three-Day Celebration. Determining to have a regular old-time celebration this year, Loup City began celebrating the Fourth on Saturday and closed their celebration Monday. This three-day celebration proved to be a big hit with the people of neighboring towns. It was well-attended all three days. The Frederick's Carnival, which was extended all through main street added a lot of attraction to the celebration. Other features were a trapeze performer who swung 125 feet in the air, and a balloon ascension. Monday evening a dance was held in Wickman's pavilion.

This community is in the midst of harvesting the grain. The fields, except those hit by the hail storm a few weeks ago, are in excellent condition and prospects are for a good yield. Due to the necessity of the farmers to be in their grain fields, few took the time off to celebrate the Fourth.

There was a Sunday school attendance of 12 Sunday.

The Henry Jorgensen and Carl Hansen families attended the shower for Mrs. Alton Philbrick at Steve Beran's Sunday.

The Happy Circle club met with Mrs. Walter Jorgensen Thursday. The afternoon was spent socially. The next meeting will be with Mrs. C. O. Philbrick July 21. The assistant hostesses are Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and Mrs. Carl Hansen.

Harry Marshall of Fort Russell, Wyo., Wilbert Marshall and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Whiting of Martin, S. D., and Harold Marshall of Arcadia, all spent the week end and Fourth at Charlie Marshall's.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Nelson and children of Mitchell, Nebr., and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Pockel of Nelson, spent the week end at Will Nelson's.

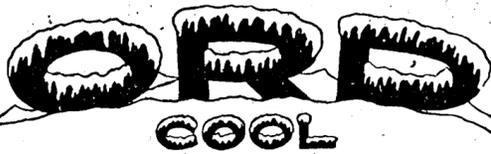

Una Beth Ashman, who has been staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. D. Moser, returned to her home Monday.

Glen Watts called at L. B. Woods' and Clifford Goff's Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Egger visited at Henry Jorgensen's Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Omar Keezer and family and Mrs. Mike Peters and Mrs. Alvin Hower and children visited at Frank Miska's Saturday.

In writing to renew their subscription, Mrs. F. M. Williams sends greetings to their many friends.

ARCADIA NEWS

Stanton Sorensen arrived Tuesday from Topeka, for a two weeks' visit and vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles John and daughter Clara and their son Joe John of McCook were Sunday visitors at the Ray Hill home. Mr. John has recently returned from the St. Francis hospital in Grand Island where he was a patient.

Howard Vesellius came Tuesday for a two weeks' visit at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorensen. His wife and little daughter, who have been visiting here the past two weeks, will return to Chicago with him.

Mr. and Mrs. Erwin Bossen and two boys visited relatives in Arcadia the 4th.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Nelson went to Lake Okoboji to visit their daughter Miss Beulah, who, with Miss Mavis Warden, has been taking a six week vocal music course there.

Arriving Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Greenland were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Moon of Grand Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Fowler of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Ed Boonstra of Grand Rapids.

Miss Mable Greenland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Greenland was united in marriage February 15, 1938 to Mr. Earl Moon at South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Moon was born and grew to womanhood in the vicinity of Arcadia. Four years ago she went to Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Moon are visiting her parents and other relatives for a week.

Miss Anna Greenland, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Greenland and Mr. Floyd Fowler of Grand Rapids, Mich., were united in marriage June 25 at South Bend, Ind. Mrs. Fowler was born near Arcadia and graduated from the Arcadia high school with the class of 1934. Two years ago she went to Grand Rapids to be near her sister. The ladies' husbands are visiting Nebraska for the first time and are favorably impressed with our state.

Carl Easterbrook and Helen Marsh of Hastings were through Arcadia Sunday on their way to attend a picnic at Broken Bow. They called for a brief visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Easterbrook.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weddel spent the Fourth in Arthur with Mr. and Mrs. Max Weddel, their son and wife.

—Misses Ruth Haas, Virginia Clark, Josephine Romans and Evelyn Loft and Horace Johnson and Dale Melia drove to Burwell Friday for a picnic at the Burwell lake. After the picnic, they attended a dance.

Legion and Auxiliary Met Tuesday Evening

The regular monthly meeting of the American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary was held Tuesday evening at the Legion Hall. The Legion deferred the installation of the officers elected at the June meeting until a later date. Don Dahlin, who was sent by the Ord Legion post to the Boys' State, was present and made a very complete and interesting report of the work that was done there.

Pete Hollander, who has been in the hospital for some time, was reported to be home and feeling somewhat improved, although he is still too weak to engage in active employment for the present. A committee of three, C. D. Wardrop, Gould Flagg and Horace Travis, was appointed to audit the service officer's records.

It was announced that the department convention was to be held in Fremont Aug. 1, 2 and 3 and nominations for delegates were called for. After much discussion as to who could go, Gould Flagg, Jim Gilbert and Joe Gregory were chosen as delegates and Harry Wolf, Cash Rathbun and Lawrence Burger as alternates.

Adjutant Severson announced that he had appointed Alfred L. Hill, C. J. Mortensen and Ed L. Kokes as a special aviation committee in response to a request from Hastings. Carl Deitrich of Arcadia was present as inspecting officer and checked over the records of the post at the close of the regular meeting.

The selection of V. W. Russell as county commander was confirmed by unanimous vote, and he selected Horace Travis as his adjutant. In addition to a fine attendance of members, there were three visitors, J. L. Langer of Spalding post, Charles Turnbaugh of the Clay Center post, and Arthur B. Swanson, formerly of Monroe post.

The Legion Auxiliary elected Mrs. Bob Hall delegate to the department convention. Mrs. Harry Wolf and Mrs. Joe Gregory being considered delegates by virtue of their offices. The alternates were Mrs. Tom Springer, Mrs. V. W. Russell and Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt. Two candidates, Mrs. Herman Miller and Mrs. Theodosia Daily, were initiated. Miss Peggy Russell was an unexpected but pleasant visitor.

The ladies are planning a sale of occupational and therapy goods in the near future. They also plan to finish house cleaning soon. Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt was chosen as county director. A committee composed of Mrs. Horace Travis, Miss Eve Bartusiak and Mrs. John L. Ward served refreshments of ice cream, cake and iced tea to the members of both organizations.

Scenes From Hoff's 250 Acre Field

The two pictures above show a 250 acre field on the John S. Hoff farm west of Vinton, largely wheat, but with some barley. The picture is taken from a high spot about the middle of the field east and west, one picture being taken each way, the upper one to the east, the bottom one to the west. Those who have looked at this grain say it will make at least 30 bushels of wheat to the acre. Mr. Hoff told the writer that he pitched wild hay on this same tract in 1833, never thinking at that time that he would ever come into ownership of the land. He does most of his farming with tractors and has his own threshing outfit which he will start in a few days.

Farmers Putting in Long Hours in Grain Fields

The top picture above was taken on the E. S. Coats farm and shows the tractor-binder outfit in operation. This is a field of 150 acres of wheat and only a part of the field could be shown. Estimates of 30 or more bushels have been made but Mr. Coats says he wants to be conservative and feels sure his estimate of 25 bushels per acre will be realized. His two sons were operating the machines and the thickness of the bundles shows that it was a mighty satisfactory crop.

The lower picture was taken at the Emil Kokes farm north and west of Vinton. Mr. Kokes has about 200 acres in small grain and it is all good. He is feeling mighty glad to have such a prospect for a bumper crop so nearly realized. Long hours were being put in to get the grain in the shock as fast as possible.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Mrs. Suzanne Morris returned Friday from spending a week visiting with her brother, Sam Roe and family at Ord.—Clifford Morse and Waldo Johnson motored to Burwell Saturday, where they went to get Miss Marie Johnson, who had been spending the past three weeks visiting her sister, Mrs. W. H. Hood and family. They returned home Sunday.—Howard County Herald.

Pullen Transferred To Iowa By Large Popcorn Concern

Dickinson Seed House Closed After Operating Successfully for Thirty Years.

After thirty years of successful operation the Dickinson Seed house here was closed this week and Val Pullen, who has managed the plant for the past sixteen years has been transferred to Odebolt, Ia., where he will assist in the same line of work he has been doing here for the same company.

The elevator, one of the largest of its kind in the middle west, was built thirty years ago by the Dickinson company at a cost of $65,000. It has a capacity of 42,000 bushels of ear corn and 30,000 bushels of shelled corn. Many times in the past thirty years it has been filled and refilled two or three times in a single year. The last few years, however, it has only been operated at partial capacity. The Dickinson people are offering the building for sale and it is probable someone will buy it for an alfalfa mill or canning factory as, according to officials of the company, with some remodeling, it is suitable for either.

Mr. Pullen, who has successfully managed the plant the past sixteen years, came to Ord thirty years ago and helped in the construction of the building. He was made assistant manager to Frank Vopat when the building was completed and held that position until Mr. Vopat left the company sixteen years ago when he then became manager. Mr. Pullen came to Ord from St. Louis where for twelve years previous he was employed by the Pittsburgh Glass Co.

Mr. Pullen has been active in the civic life of Ord, having served as president of the Chamber of Commerce two terms, was a director of the chamber of commerce for several years, served on the city council four years, is at the present time a director of the fair association, and during his residence here has been an active member of the Methodist church, having headed several committees and been a member of the official board of the church. Val, as he is known to everyone left Ord last Sunday and with him went the best wishes of his many friends and business associates.

Red Cross School For Swimmers Began This Week

110 Ord Children Met At Anderson Island For First Lesson.

The summer course of instruction in swimming, water safety and lifesaving sponsored by the local Red Cross opened with an enrollment of 110 last Monday afternoon at Anderson's Island. Evelyn Sharp and Arden Clark, the instructors, divided the students into three groups of more or less equal size in order to give all students the best instruction and as much individual attention as possible. This group division, while made on the basis of what each student now knows, will be changed to allow for those who have demonstrated what requirements are asked of them. Tests will be given at the end of the season and the regular Red Cross awards made.

The classes meet every Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoon at Anderson's Island, and will go in the following order: Group 1 at 1:30; Group 2 at 3:00; Group 3 at 4:30. The adult class meets at 2:30 on Tuesday and Thursday. These hours are arranged so that after any lectures or explanations are given approximately one hour in the water. Regular adult supervision and chaperoning are given each of the classes, and every precaution is taken against danger or injury.

Any interested parent is welcome to observe the classes and is privileged to act as supervisor. In fact, the committee in charge is asking for offers of any adults who would like to help with one class either one day or all three days a week. The committee would also like to receive offers from parents or interested patrons who could take down to the Island carloads of students who do not walk or bicycle there. All such, please call Mrs. E. L. Kokes.

Any who are interested in learning swimming and water safety, regardless of age, may still register with Arden Clark Evelyn Sharp or Mrs. John Misko. Everybody comes dressed in bathing suit and bringing one towel.

Notice: Anyone who has any outgrown sizes of bathing suits could make a most welcome donation of these to the Red Cross for the swimming course now going on. Please notify or leave with Mrs. Wm. Clarion.

Mrs. Henry C. Lee Granted a Divorce

Several cases occupied the attention of District Judge E. P. Clements at a session of district court in Ord Monday, the case of special interest being that wherein Philippine Lee was suing her husband, Henry G. Lee, for divorce. Mrs. Lee was represented by Davis & Voegtanz, and at a hearing two weeks ago Mr. Lee had for his attorneys H. B. VanDecar of Ord and Arthur Mayer of Grand Island. Monday he defaulted, and the judge found in favor of Mrs. Lee, giving her custody of two minor children, $400.00 per month alimony and $100.00 for attorney fees, the payments to become a lien on real estate owned by Mr. Lee if not paid.

Elyria Old Settler Died Friday After Lingering Illness

Was Resident of County 49 Years; Funeral Held at Elyria Monday.

Following an illness of several weeks, during which time all her daughters came home to visit her, Mrs. Thomas Jablonski passed away quietly at her home in Elyria at 4:00 A. M. Saturday. One daughter, Mrs. Pauline Ligon, had left for her home only the day before, thinking her mother somewhat improved.

Anne Suminski was born in Warsaw, Poland, in 1868. She came to the United States at the age of 19. She was married 49 years ago to Thomas Jablonski, and they lived on the farm not far from Elyria until they retired and moved to Elyria 32 years ago. They had hoped to celebrate their golden wedding in August.

Seven children were born to them, one son dying in infancy. Surviving are 5 daughters: Mrs. John Zukoski of Ord; Mrs. Josie Carson of Lewistown, Mont.; Mrs. Pauline Ligon, Carson City, Nev.; Mrs. Max Schuyler, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Mrs. Victoria Shay, Los Angeles, Calif.; and one son, Joseph Jablonski of Elyria; 11 grandchildren; 1 great granddaughter, Sandra Berglund, daughter of Esther Zukoski Berglund, Whittier, Calif.

Also surviving are three brothers, Polish Suminski, Elyria, and two in Poland; 5 sisters living in Poland and one sister living in Ord, Mrs. Narcy Gyzinski. The funeral was held from St. Mary's Catholic church in Elyria at 9:00 A. M. Monday, relatives being in attendance from Loup City, Comstock and Arcadia.

Mrs. Jablonski was a deeply religious woman all her life, and her delight was in working for her children and doing good in every way that she could. She was especially grateful to all who attended her during her final illness, and left a message of thanks to them and to the attending clergyman to be read at the funeral service.

Rain Over County, Weather Remains Hot

Ord and vicinity had two fine rains last week, 24 of an inch falling in Ord Wednesday night, to the accompaniment of much thunder and lightning, while a much heavier fall is reported both north and south of Ord. In the territory south half did much damage in places. Thursday afternoon 25 of an inch of rain fell in a shower that was entirely devoid of electric energy, a most unusual condition in summer.

The past few days the thermometer on the Millford corner has been performing some unusual antics, and people who read it are inclined to the opinion that it has really been hot. To find out for certain how hot it has been for the past week the Quiz asked Weatherman Horace Travis for his records which are as follows:

Wednesday, July 6, high 81, low 72; Thursday, high 79, low 63; Friday, high 87, low 65; Saturday, high 96, low 70; Sunday, high 82, low 63; Monday, high 93, low 72; Tuesday, high 101, low 74; Tuesday, July 12, was the first day of the year that the thermometer registered more than 100 degrees, believe it or not. The forecast promised cooler weather for today, Wednesday.

Tuesday evening a heavy rain is reported from the neighborhood of Woodman hall, and also from the Cottonwood community. The Coca-Cola man started out to the southwest and struck so much mud six miles out of town that he returned to Ord. A heavy rain was also reported in the west part of the county, which made it almost impossible to travel without chains.

Band Concert This Evening. Because the program was rained out last week the Ord Municipal band will give the same program as advertised in last week's paper tonight. At the end of the concert season an extra concert will be given to replace the one missed last week, according to Director Dean S. Duncan.

Omaha Man Taking Part In Outstate Race

Urges Re-Election of Frost In This District In A Letter to Greeley Man.

Urging the re-election of Tracy T. Frost to the unicameral from the 29th district, T. J. O'Connor, registrar of deeds for Douglas county is quoted at length in an article on the front page of the Sunday World-Herald. In his letter to a Greeley county official, written on official register of deeds stationery, Mr. O'Connor said:

"My interest in this campaign is this: I was on the legislative committee that handled various matters for the county officials at the last session of the legislature, and we found that Tracy was always willing to go along with us. I do not know the other candidates who have filed in your district, but I feel that all county officials should do everything in their power to see that Tracy is re-nominated and re-elected.

"You as a county official know the problems that we have to deal with in the legislature, and therefore you will appreciate that we all owe him a great deal and that it is to our mutual interest to have a friend there. I shall greatly appreciate anything that you may do to forward the candidacy of Mr. Frost."

John F. Doyle of Greeley, one of Mr. Frost's nine opponents in the primary, wrote a scathing reply to Mr. O'Connor. He said:

"Since when do you think it becomes Omaha's business to send out campaign literature for outstate candidates? I believe the people of the 29th district can run their affairs without your suggestions. I can see only one reason for your support of Mr. Frost, and that is that he was one of the four that voted against the county recall bill of which perhaps you might have been slightly afraid.

"I notice you mailed this on official stationery and I imagine Douglas county paid for the material and postage stamps." (Said Mr. O'Connor "There was about 6 cents postage.")

Mr. Doyle added: "It's funny how short your memory of people is. Don't you remember I was chairman of the fees and salary committee in 1935, and enjoyed considerable attention from you when the salary reduction bill was in my committee?"

Federal Housing Loans for Ord

89 to 90 Percent of Fair Valuation Offered By Government Agency.

Mortgage loans on residence property are more popular than ever since the Federal Housing Administration has adopted the policy of approving loans for amounts as high as 90 per cent of the fair valuation of the property, according to Frank S. Selby, Vice President of The National Company, Omaha.

To make loans insured by this government agency, a lending company must first be approved by the Government. The National Company of Omaha has recently been approved to make Federal Housing loans.

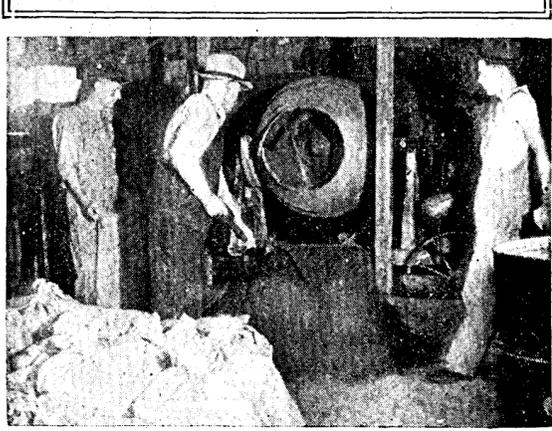

This company is now making loans at 5% interest, not only in Omaha, but also in towns and cities throughout the State of Nebraska. "We are now permitted," said Mr. Selby, "by FHA sanction to lend as high as 90 per cent of the appraised value, for new construction, of a residence property in approved districts and on approved properties, and as high as 80% on existing construction."

"This means that, in many cases, if a man owns a lot in a district approved by FHA, he may, where surrounding conditions and circumstances are favorable, borrow the entire amount of money to erect and complete a house or duplex on it. This is something decidedly new in the history of mortgage lending. The long-standing custom has been that a borrower could not borrow more than 50 to 60 per cent of the value of his property. This was all changed by the Federal Housing plan, and particularly by a recent ruling. The new and liberal policy has greatly stimulated new residence construction, as well as lending on existing residence properties."

Mr. Selby says The National Company expects soon to appoint a representative in Ord to take local applications for such loans.

Ord Boys Attend Camp. Four boys from Ord are attending Camp Sheldon at Columbus. They are Cornelius Biemond, Capron Coe, Ted Randolph, and Raymond Biemond. The boys were driven down by Mr. Biemond on Tuesday, July 5. They will return July 16.

32,500 Pounds Poison Bait Fed to 'Hoppers'

Above is shown the crew busy mixing hopper poison for use on Valley county farms. For a time the demand for bait exceeded the capacity for putting it out, but most orders were filled promptly. The material is mixed with a cement mixer, and the work is being done at the blessing feed yards. Shown in the picture, left to right, are Ed Paddock, Tony Wegrzyn and Dale Melia. Records from the county agency's office show that they have mixed and sold 5,000 sacks of bait, weighing from 60 to 70 pounds per sack.

Burson Carried On Horse-Back For Operation

Doctor Unable to Reach Sick Man With Car Because of Washouts.

Otis Burson was operated last week Tuesday night, it being an emergency appendix operation. Dr. Round was called to the Burson home which is in the northwest part of the county and the nearest he could get to the place was 1 1/2 miles, due to rough and badly washed out roads. The doctor was informed by Ben Augustyn, a neighbor, that Mr. Burson was suffering and that appendicitis was suspected, so the doctor walked the 1 1/2 miles in to the home, diagnosed the case and decided that an immediate operation was the only alternative. He was directed by a little son of Mr. Augustyn and while they were there another son rode a horse in. Dr. Round loaded his patient onto the horse, walked slowly back to his car leading the horse and then brought Otis to the hospital and operated as soon as possible. Mr. Burson is recovering nicely. The method of getting him to the hospital however, was most unusual in this day and age.

Altar Boys Enjoy Outing at Long Pine

Rev. Martin Lawler took several boys to Long Pine Monday on a picnic. They started at seven o'clock Monday morning, and returned at seven o'clock the same evening. Those making the trip were Dean Barta, Ernest Piskorski, Bobbie McBeth, Richard Piskorski, Eldon Wachter, Jack McBeth, Roland Norman, Jimmie Fafeta, Jack M'lolepsy, Lyle Norman, Martin Piskorski, Joe Lala, and Billie M'lolepsy. The group was accompanied by Wilmer Anderson. The boys spent both the morning and the afternoon in swimming.

Huling Arrested On Bad Check Charge

A man giving his name as Albert Huling of Chattanooga, Tenn., was arrested Monday on a no-fund check charge made by John Sharp. The check was given on the Bank of Burwell in the sum of $5.00, May 14, 1938. In Judge John L. Andersen's court Wednesday morning he entered a plea of guilty as charged, paid the amount of the check, a fine of $5.00 and costs of $8.88, and was dismissed with a warning. It is understood that Mr. Huling is known as "Speed" Huling, and is well known in Burwell.

License Issued. Frday morning Judge John L. Andersen issued a marriage license to Robert D. Sibley, 26, goods manufacturer of Topeka, Kas., and Miss Margaret Christensen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen of Arcadia, Nebr. Miss Christensen has been a teacher by profession.

—Mrs. E. C. James went to Lincoln Sunday to visit her daughters, Mrs. Ralph Fell and Mrs. Bill Sieck and their families for a couple of weeks. From there she will go to Auburn to visit two more daughters before returning home.

Over 100 Meet for Swimming Lesson

More than one hundred assembled Monday for the first instructions in swimming under Instructor Arden Clark, who will be assisted for a time by last year's instructor, Evelyn Sharp. Above is shown one of the groups as the youngsters assembled for their first lesson.

Farmer Injures Finger In Combine Accident

While helping to harvest barley Tuesday on the Packer farm northeast of Ord which Ill. Anderson has in crops this year, Albert Anderson lost the end of a finger on his hand when it was caught in the machine while he was trying to remove some grain that had become lodged in the machine. He was rushed to the Ord hospital and Dr. John Round sewed the finger back in place and hopes to be able to save it for Mr. Anderson.

Two Men Buried Alive in Cave-in On Middle Loup

Workers Were Not Seriously Injured When Rescued By Arcadia People.

Arcadia, Nebr., July 8—A cave-in on a Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation district construction project buried two men completely three miles northwest of here this afternoon and a third man partially.

None showed immediate signs of serious injuries. Alvin Fees, buried under six feet of dirt half an hour was unable to stand after rescue workers dug him out. Mr. Fees was straddling a 16-inch pipe when an embankment collapsed. Charles Waite, standing up, was buried above his head. Rescue workers reached his outstretched hand first. Joe Weddell, the third member of the crew laying a pipe through the cut, had one leg buried.

A carload of Arcadia residents and project engineers rescued the victims. They said the loosened dirt caved without warning shortly before the pipe laying job was completed.

Valuations Lower Now Than 1937

Automobiles Show Increase While Farm Machinery Has Decrease of $17,000.

According to figures taken from the abstract made out by county Assessor A. R. Brox, the grand total of personal property valuations for 1938, exclusive of cars, is $1,459,250, as compared with $1,665,575 for 1937. Cars for 1938 show a value of $250,550, as compared with $239,950 for last year.

A check of the various items in the abstract shows the reason for the fall in values. For example, there are 2,107 less cattle in the county this year, which makes a difference of $33,215. Horses show a decrease of 736, and a loss in valuation of $50,320.

Farm machinery shows a decrease of $17,000 hogs a decrease of $10,000, grain $23,000 and merchandise, $18,000. These items account for practically all the shrink in this year's valuation. The cars show an increase of 77 in number, with a valuation of $15,600, an average of $200, or about double the average valuation. This shows the number of new cars is increasing.

Name of O. R. Leuck Omitted From List

Through one of those things that are bound to happen, the Quiz inadvertently omitted the name of O. R. Leuck from the list of men who had filed for office. Mr. Leuck is a candidate for supervisor in the 7th district, comprising Liberty, Arcadia and Yale townships, and his name will appear on the Democratic ballot.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Krikac of Comstock were visitors at the Fran Krikac home Tuesday.

Sentenced to 30 Days at Hard Labor; Threatens Judge, Draws 10 More.

On complaint of Louis Kokes, Virgil Severson was arrested Wednesday, July 6, on a charge of false pretenses. It appeared that he had given Mr. Kokes a check to secure a loan Dec. 24, with the understanding that he would take up the check the following Monday, at which time he was to have money coming from a party who owed him. He received the money, but neglected to take up the check.

In Judge John L. Andersen's court he entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to thirty days at hard labor, the judge giving him to understand that he meant "hard labor" and that, in case his work was unsatisfactory, he would spend the time on bread and water. He told the judge: "Some day I'll get even with you for this, Judge!" Whereupon he drew an additional ten days, or a day for every word in the threat.

Council Defers Action on Auto Testing Station

Appoint Committee To Investigate Sanitation On Proposed Lake.

The city council met last night in adjourned session for the consideration of two matters of special importance. All members were present except Sershen. The first matter brought up for consideration was the proposition wherein the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district agreed for certain considerations to permit the City of Ord to extend a lateral into Russell Park.

As explained to the council and to a number of interested citizens present, the plan was to extend the ditch from the west side of the cemetery south along the west side of the W. H. Barnard place, under the east and west road at the crossing, along the north side of the park to the drive, and along the west side of the drive either into Dane Creek, or stop at some intermediate point.

The cost of all work from the place where the ditch touches city property is to be borne by the City. The city must also agree to sign up ten acres for irrigation, a total of $25.00 per year. Instead of dumping the water into the creek direct, it has been suggested that two earth dams be built in the low places on the north side of Dane Creek and west of the park road, thus forming a lake.

The total cost amounts to about twelve hundred dollars, which includes the ditch, the crossing under the road, the grading of the land at the edge of the lake, and the building of a spillway to drop the water into Dane Creek. The sentiment of the council as well as the citizens present was favorable, but the proposition was held over until a later date, to give opportunity for more thorough investigation.

Mayor Cummins appointed Councilmen McGinnis, Kohla and Dworak as a committee to confer with the WPA in regard to labor for the project and with the State Board of Health in regard to sanitation. They will report their findings at the next meeting, at which time further action will no doubt be taken. Meanwhile the mayor and council welcome suggestions and criticisms from the public.

Bids for equipment for an Ord testing station for automobiles were opened and read, with the following results: Automotive Equipment company, Omaha, $1,335.50; Storz Supply company, Omaha, $1,363.00; Paxton and Gallagher, Omaha, $1,333.00; Sidles, Grand Island, $1,333.00; Red Rooster, Grand Island, (partial equipment) $863.30. After some discussion the matter of purchasing equipment was laid on the table.

Virgil Severson Arrested on False Pretenses Charge

Sentenced to 30 Days at Hard Labor; Threatens Judge, Draws 10 More.

On complaint of Louis Kokes, Virgil Severson was arrested Wednesday, July 6, on a charge of false pretenses. It appeared that he had given Mr. Kokes a check to secure a loan Dec. 24, with the understanding that he would take up the check the following Monday, at which time he was to have money coming from a party who owed him. He received the money, but neglected to take up the check.

In Judge John L. He told the judge: "Some day I'll get even with you for this, Judge!" Whereupon he drew an additional ten days, or a day for every word in the threat.

The records show that Severson has been arrested three times before, as follows: May 15, 1933 he drew a fine of $15.00 and costs of $12.00 on a charge of intoxication, which he laid out. Arrested Aug. 24, 1937, on a no-fund check charge he drew a fine of $10.00 and costs of $8.15, which he laid out. Feb. 4, 1938, he drew ten days at hard labor on a second no-fund check charge, but did not pay the costs of $8.00.

Shepard at Northwestern. Sixty-seven students from Nebraska are attending Northwestern University this summer. A total of 4,700 students, ten per cent more than last year, are enrolled for the eight weeks' summer term. Included in this list is Charles Carter Shepard, medical student and son of Mrs. C. C. Shepard of Ord.

THE HEIGHT OF INSANITY.

An AP dispatch of Thursday, July 7, tells of how ten boys Coimbra, Portugal, died when firemen failed to rescue them from a four story wooden structure set ablaze to permit an exhibition fire drill. Ten others, as well as some of the spectators, were seriously injured. Two of the boys died in the flames, and the other eight were killed in jumping from the windows.

The building was soaked in gasoline, with the boys distributed through its rooms. The fire department went to its headquarters, 400 yards away, and waited the fire call. The fire spread too rapidly for them, and the crowd, assembled to watch the spectacle, got in the way. It was a part of the Holy Queen festival, which the government suspended immediately after the fire.

When we try to condemn a person who will do such foolish things words fail. The heathen of bygone days might have had some excuse when they made human sacrifice to their Holy Queen, but we are in the midst of the twentieth century. Such tragedies as this should not be expected even in Europe, where the people acquired a habit of doing everything they do in crazy and absurd ways.

Now, if they had made their sacrifices instead on the altar of the Goddess of Speed, as we in America do, there would have been some sense in that. Some of our victims are burned to death in cars or planes which catch fire; some jump and are killed in the fall; some are panned under the wreck in the water and drown; and some are crippled and disfigured for life, but the Goddess of Speed is pleased.

There is this difference. These people do not die because of what we do so much as in spite of all we can do to prevent it. As a people we do not jeopardize lives deliberately, as these firemen did. If they had used dummies, or had left the building empty, the spectacle would have been safe. But to people hardened to the neighboring horrors of war, the risk and loss of human life is just another thrill.

A TIME OF DISASTERS.

We are living in a time of startling calamities. More deaths by violence have occurred within six weeks than in all the fifty-two weeks of last year, or any one of the three preceding years. More lives have been lost by accident on sea and land since January 1 than were sacrificed in the recent war. More damage has been caused by storms and floods of the last few weeks than by the storms of the three or four preceding years.

Hundreds of lives were lost and millions of dollars worth of property destroyed by disastrous floods. Three hundred people went down with the sinking of a steamship. Scores of men and women met with frightful death in the burning of a large hotel. The casualty list was enormously increased by loss of a large liner, by a California railroad accident and by a series of terrific explosions that followed one another like the discharges of great signal guns of distress, or like harbingers of coming gloom.

Then came the storms of snow and sleet, sweeping over a section that had scarcely recovered from the effects of the intense cold. Crops were damaged, fruit trees were broken down, traffic suspended and business checked. Before the country had recovered from the effects of the snow and ice storms came the unprecedented floods in the Ohio valley. These have resulted not only in great destruction of property and loss of life, but in unsettling the conditions of business activity in the inundated districts.

Manufactories have been broken up or closed, thousands of people have been thrown out of employment, and hundreds of others have lost their homes and all their property. Disaster has followed disaster, horror has succeeded horror, and floods have followed floods with such rapidity that no opportunity has been given for recovery from depressing effect. Public spirit and courage have been beaten down, as it were, by cruel blows in the shape of accident and calamity toward the lower level of settled depression and gloomy foreboding.

No, the above is not a picture of present day conditions, well as it may fit them. With the exception of a few proper names it is copied word for word from an editorial that appeared first in the Chicago

Inter-Ocean of 1833, and which was copied in the Feb. 22 issue of the Ord Quiz that same year. It does not refer to political conditions, but rather to economic crises and natural calamities such as we have known in recent years.

Checking the various points touched upon, has the world ever known a time when there were more deaths by violence than we have now, with automobiles taking their daily toll, with airplane deaths mounting steadily and with industry claiming more lives than ever before in history. The damage by floods in recent years is too well known to need specific comment, although the floods that year were in Germany, and those this year in California.

What building disaster of those days can compare with the New London school horror of last year. The railroad accident in Montana last month was one of the worst in history, and far worse than the California wreck of 1833. Speaking of storms in California early last spring of the east coast to the south and east of us about the same time?

The unprecedented floods in the Ohio more than met their equal last year in one of the greatest disasters that America has ever known. Today manufacturers have been closed and people thrown out of employment, and millions of people have lost everything they possessed, even the opportunity to work for an honest living. The article ends with a word that many of us thought was coined to fit present times, when it speaks of settled "Depression."

Each generation has its prophets of gloom, who delight in picturing conditions of their day as the worst in the history of the world. But we can be thankful that most people are of a different frame of mind, and pay little attention to pessimists. Every age has its troubles, but it has its share of the good things of life as well. There is always enough good in life to justify living, and it comes to those who seek it.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

I have been lucky this summer. I came home to look after things while Eugene went up to Cullen lake to catch a few fish and rest up a little and most of the time since I have been in Ord the weather has been ideal. Probably the hot and dry weather period of the past few years has run its course and oldsters like me won't see another such, when 110 to 120 degree weather prevails for two to four weeks at a stretch. At least I hope that is true. People of central Nebraska who have stayed during the past seven years are entitled to a few years of better weather, better crops and better business.

Eugene will be home this week end and I am going back where I can fish and swim and keep cool, just as soon as I can get away. Wish all our friends of the Quiz family, almost three thousand in number now, could enjoy it too.

I have been looking over some of the work of the hoppers. A row of beans at the W. A. Anderson garden is stripped clean of leaves and the bark is even eaten off the stems. Bushes of considerable size in several gardens I have seen are treated the same way. Yet a number of farmers with whom I have talked, are optimistic and think there will be no such greenery in the stubble fields, that the corn will not be greatly bothered.

And speaking about corn, I am told that it is growing as much as 4 inches a day (24 hours) in some fields. Most cornfields are clean but most farmers planned on getting through the corn again and many will not be able to do so because of the grain which ripened faster than they expected. The all-crop harvester will, in future years, solve the "rush" problem for many grain and corn farmers. Having to leave the grain stand till it is dead ripe, they will get the corn properly laid by, then the harvesting, including threshing, will all be done in one operation and at a considerable saving in cash outlay.

You will notice that a large percent of candidates all over the country are repeaters. Once inculcated with the political bug, they find it an easy way to make a living and always come back for more; never feel satisfied to give the other fellow a chance. Laws limiting all political offices to two terms might be a good thing. Anyhow it would be a break for the outsiders who want in, possibly a bad break for the insiders who want to stay in. But the insiders are always making bad breaks anyhow, and a few more wouldn't matter.

About 25 per cent of the Quiz list is now in arrears, many subscribers not much, quite a lot several months, a few longer. We are going to have to take a lot of them off the list unless they pay up. We have been waiting, first till spring grass gave them bigger cream checks, then for them to get small grain harvested, so we will expect results very soon now. That is, if you appreciate our waiting on you. If you don't show your appreciation by paying up, the sooner we take your names off the list the better for us.

Miss Josephine Romalis left for Fremont Saturday evening for a three-day vacation. She will visit relatives there.

MEN FOLKS OF FOUR GENERATIONS

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Most Important Crop For Ripley

Chapter I Our Most Important Crop. Raising children is probably the most important job in the world today. Here in America the big ambition of every parent and every leader, is that the child will grow to be a self-supporting person. We decent and to be law abiding. We hope too that the child eventually will do a little better, that our child might become a leader of some endeavor, but if our child accomplishes those first three requirements, any of us will be very happy.

In Germany, Italy, Japan and other countries, numbers of children are what count most, that is, not quality so much as quantity. Here we have grown into a different conception of raising children. It is quality of the children that count most with us, not quantity. Most people want two or three children. If children behave, I never knew a person to have too many. If the child does not behave, if he is constantly in jail or trouble or drunk, one is too many. Folks with no children have less to look forward to, and very frequently make more ado over other children than the folks themselves. For people who seem to have little hopes for accomplishing greatness in themselves, (and that includes the most of us) children are their salvation, and they keep the spirit up. Our hopes shift from our own well being to that of the children. We, with children that behave, are the happiest on earth, and all we ask is that these children be self-supporting, decent and law abiding.

Frequently the person that knows the most about raising children, or at least the person that talks the most, is the person who never raised any. To the parents who have raised a large family, this person is a joke. The person who has only raised one, is perhaps only a part joke, for he has a few rules worked out and he thinks at least, he is pretty good authority on all things that turn up involving children.

People who have raised large families will tell us that there are no rules that will work invariably with all children. With the first child we find schemes that make him mind pretty well. With the second, that same scheme does not work at all. The second child takes a different approach. With the third child we are still making rules, changing methods with each arrival and by the time the fourth or fifth has come along we give up and say nothing to others on how it should be done.

And still we find great differences in families. Here is a family of children, all grown, all self-supporting, decent and law abiding, and everyone a pride to their parents, who would give their entire fortune or cut off their ears if it would only help those kids. And in the same neighborhood is another family who are all constantly in trouble (in jail perhaps) dead-beats, drunks and worse.

We say it was born in that family to be good, in the other to not be good. That is an easy way to dodge the responsibility. Surely heredity has something to do with it, but in homes like Father Flanagan's, they welcome the unruly boy. The bad boy is very apt to have a screw loose somewhere, and they try to find the screw. They have remarkable success with even the worst of them. They know the bad boy can be saved to be a help to society if they get at him right. They know he may need different treatment than the others, but they know it is worth it if they make the grade and succeed.

I heard the father of six children say not long ago, "I cannot tell you how to raise children. I deserve no credit for mine were of such little trouble that I have had no experience. I do not know what I would do if I had one like Johnnie Doe."

I wondered since hearing him say that if the reason he had such little trouble with his children was not because of his fine management of them: I wondered if perhaps he did not know the secret of making those children admire him and mind him. I wondered if he had had Johnnie Doe from a for a while when first turned on sudan pastures. If some of the cows stop grazing after a few minutes, or if they select the taller growth, the pasture is probably unsafe. Sudan grass should not be pastured until the shortest plants are two feet high. Sudan hay is less apt to cause poisoning because the crop is usually not cut until after it has grown past the dangerous stage. Hay made from short dark green grass is likely to cause losses. Pure sudan grass used to be regarded as a safe feed, but it seems to be getting crossed up more and more with other sorghums, and is rapidly losing out in popularity.

Something Different

Glossary of Minnesota Terms:

Turtles—some of them snap. The little ones are cute. Clams—some times get ambitious and try to eat fish-bait. Bait—anything on a hook, supposedly to catch a fish. Usually minnows, angle worms, night crawlers, grubs, frogs, perch, etc. Plugs—no, not horses, but fish-tackle to cast. Grotosque, wiggly, shiny, feathery, about six hooks embedded in it. Product of nightmare by a fisherman. Cast—good way to upset a boat, or hook a companion in the ear. (Pub. Or rear.) Tackle—any fishing equipment the sporting store man can sell you. Stringer—on this it is possible to line up a number of small fish so they will impress those who ask "catching anything?" Night crawlers—colossal angle-worms, bigger and better, like Iowa corn. Crawdaddy—kind of a little lobster-looking beast that scoots rapidly in water. If he can't get away he will nip your toe.

High Behind—legendary terror endowed with whatever characteristics the story-teller can think of at the moment. Mosquitoes—almost as big as horses. Deer flies—big, striped flies, vicious nippers. Blueberries—grand for pies, fine with sugar and cream, growing wild, and too rare in the woods. June berries—bigger than blueberries, a bit seedy. Swedish rye bread—the natives' standby and is it good. Mail—what we go to town for. Groceries, ditto. Breezy Point—most fabulous resort in this country, owned by Captain Billy Bowcott. When you buy a copy of Whiz Bang he gets richer and you get poorer. Three miles over there, as the crow flies, but no poor bird can stay there long. White Pigeon Lodge—a name to fire your imagination. Sherwood Forest—another good name, not so many pines there. Robin Hood Inn—pretty too. Little John's Place—one I thought you'd like. Smokey Joe's—the barbeque man his ribs are the grandest and hottest eating. They like them in Florida too, so he spends his winters there. Grand View—grandiose name, and they have a private golf course, so it is no doubt justified. Bar Harbor—west night club and gambling. Deauville—a place to lose money. Way-Ma-Dee—name of a summer resort on the other side of Cullen Lake. No Indian was guilty of thinking up that one. Pequot—truly Indian name of the county seat town, and the name of the county is Crow Wing. Crow Wing county is famous because it embraces 2,000 lakes or more. Sand—underfoot. Beebird—or tanager, so called because it eats honey bees. Indian Paintbrush—a gay flower found in the woods. Wintergreen—shiny-leaved little ground cover with pretty red berries. Green through the winter. Poison Ivy—called "podee idee" by Coralee, and "poison ivory" by Ker. no telling what Tommy will call it. What do you call it when you get some? Wood ticks—they could teach a clinging vine her business. Pike—what we go fishing for. One kind is called wall-eyed because their eyes whiten when they are kept out of the water. Snakes—what we catch. Pickerel—what the guide calls snakes when he catches them. Bluegills—you know them as sunfish. Cripples—pronounced cripplies, just to fool you. Trolling—what still-fishermen do when they are sick of sitting still. Fish box—made to hold ice and fish for shipping-home-use, especially desirable when those who hear your fish stories have become skeptics. Live box—half submerged box where the man of the family keeps caught fish until he at last regretfully concludes they aren't likely to dress themselves. Minnow bucket—for keeping minnows alive so the fish can steal them off one's hook. That is, unless one is smarter than one's fish. Pinky Swick—name of a trail for horsebackers, named after one of the last year's girl guides. White Birch—something you mustn't peel, children. Stones—farmers curse and pick them up, summer cottagers treasure them and pile them up for fireplaces, foundations. H. D. Leggett built a fence with them. Wild Rice—grand duck stuffing after they are shot. The ducks prefer it before they are shot. Deer—up here, something that jumps all fences, raids vegetable gardens, costs out-of-state hunters $50 to shoot at. Moss—what makes fishermen think they have a bite. Reeds—something for casters to swear at and row around while chasing bass. Skunks—one reason why garbage is buried quite deeply. Clover—smells sweeter'n what we grow in Nebraska. Wild Flowers—columbine, baby breath, tiger lilies, bluebells, daisies, several types of ferns coax travellers to break the law and pick them near the highway.

Woman Lake—reason for going on north many miles. Leech Lake—"and the leeches are long enough to wrap around your ankle." Millie Lacs—you say it mill-lak, it is 50 miles long, an Indian hang-out, also they would like to sell you some souvenirs. Whitefish Lake—another big one, always full of fish when they don't bite at home, until you go to try it. Gull Lake—biggest of the chain of lakes Cullen is on. It is 18 miles long, can blow up some plentiful big waves. Pelican Lake—biggest of the nearby lakes, well colonized by Nebraska people, particularly from Lincoln. Professors abound, but there is no open season on them. Little Pelican—not so big. Edna—beautiful lake, going to have a dude ranch along its south shore next year. Roy—lake next door to Edna, many beautiful horsebacking trails between them. Nisswa—lake nearest the post-office town of Nisswa. East Twin—east of the highway to the north. West Twin—care to guess? Clark Lake—a place to try when home fish are on strike. Big Bass Lake—see above. Hubert Lake—St. Louis colony there. Also a famous camp for boys, and another for their sisters. Headache Stick—gaff. Used to knockout the fish when they are too big (rare) to land, or too ornery. Might be a good idea to put them on sale for use on tellers of fish tales, politicians, etc. Or those who write about them. —Irma.

Arcadia News

Written by MRS. EDITH BOSSEN

Christensen-Sibley.
A very pretty home wedding was that of Miss Margaret Christensen youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Christensen of Arcadia, when she became the bride of Mr. Robert D. Sibley, of Topeka, Kas., on Friday, July 8, 1938, at the country home of her parents in the presence of several relatives and close friends. Preceding the service Mrs. Edward Christensen of Loup City, an aunt, sang "I Love You Truly," accompanied by Mrs. Tom Greenland, her sister, pianist who also played the wedding march. Their attendants were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen, who celebrated their twenty-sixth wedding anniversary on the same eventful day.

The wedding services took place at high noon, Rev. Hagen of Lincoln officiating at the ceremony. The bride was dressed in a gown of white silk crepe and carried an arm bouquet of yellow roses. 4-H Club News

Dainty Mixers Meet. The Dainty Mixers 4-H club met at Alma Mrsny's on July 6. We had a discussion of the lesson on desserts. A nice lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting will be held at Mildred Polak's home, July 21. Mildred Polak, Reporter

The Jolly Camerettes. The Jolly Camerettes club met at the home of Mavis Schudel July 7, all members being present. There was one visitor, Miss Harriet Brown. Refreshments served were ice cream, cookies and iced tea. The next meeting will be held at the home of Darlene Mulligan, July 14. Audrey Psota, news reporter.

The A. B. C. Club. The A. B. C. club met with Frances Houtby Thursday. Many of the members and two visitors were present. A demonstration on the making of ice cream was given by the hostess. This lesson was also on pastries. After the lesson, refreshments were served, carrying out the club colors, green and white. A delightful time was had by all. The next meeting will be on July 21 at the home of Carol Hall. Frances Houtby, Reporter.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. When a certain man lived at Burwell, his car number was 931000. When he got his number in Ord the 1000 was gone so he got 47-2345. He admits going through high school, but just can't remember numbers, so he picks out the easy ones to remember. No the Quiz won't tell you his name, but if you want to run through three thousand numbers to find out who he is, go ahead. Arden Clark went to Missouri to learn all kinds of fancy splashing, and now some of the young folks are giving him credit for inventing a special feature known as the "Donald Duck Special." In this dive you stand at the edge of the pool, pick up your right foot with your left hand, grab yourself by the back of the neck with your right hand, and throw yourself in. Try it some time. Will Ollis is authority for the statement that the family had roasting ears from that patch of corn the Quiz showed a picture of a couple of weeks ago. The new corn was eaten for supper, July 12. While Will does not say so, the Quiz wonders if Mrs. Ollis does not look after the garden.

LOCAL NEWS

Mrs. John Clark and daughter, Mrs. Lucile Burkhalter of Long Beach, Calif., are visiting their many friends and relatives in North Loup, having arrived Saturday from Flint, Mich., where they had been after a new car. It has been fifteen years since they left North Loup. They have a room with Mrs. Amy Taylor.

Monday they spent with friends in Ord. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Inbody of Shelton, Wash., were in North Loup from Wednesday until Monday, being house guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. McCune. They had been called to Fremont by the death of Mr. Inbody's mother and returned to Fremont Monday where they will spend several weeks before returning to their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Meyers went to Omaha Sunday where he entered University hospital for observation and possible surgical treatment. Mrs. Meyers expects to return home in a few days. Their daughter Phyllis is staying with her grandparents in St. Paul while they are away.

Rev. and Mrs. Birmingham and family spent the week end with his relatives in Beatrice, returning Sunday evening. Monday morning all the family except James, who is working at W. O. Zangger's, went to Whitney to spend two weeks with Mrs. Birmingham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Cartwright. The church services will be in charge of the pulpits supply committee while they are away.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Horner of Salina, Kas., are guests of relatives here and at Ord. Mr. Horner is helping in the harvest fields.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Paddock have moved down from Ord and are occupying Mrs. Paddock's residence near the depot.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Barber celebrated their fifty-second wedding anniversary Thursday at their home very quietly because Mrs. Barber's health has not been very good. A few of their friends and relatives called during the day to wish them well. Married in 1886 in North Loup, all their fifty-two years together have been spent in North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Regler spent the week end with relatives at Henderson.

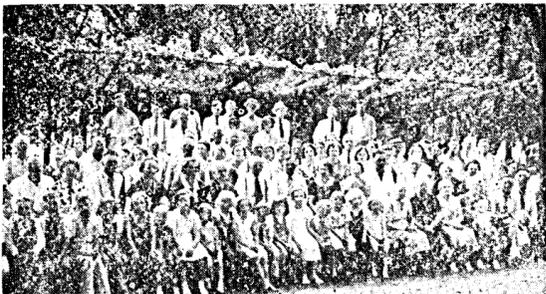

Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner was able to be up town Saturday night for the first time in many months.

Cook, Joe Holoun, Frank Green and Frank Vodehnal.
Miss Jessie Ferguson, popular Ord teacher, left for Washington, D. C., where she had received an appointment in the office of the adjutant general. She was under contract to teach again at Central City, but the board was glad to give her a release so that she could accept the better job.

The paper was well filled with material telling of the coming educational and entertainment function of the times. There were to be seven days of patriotic programs, and, of course at a bargain price.

W. W. Haskell, former editor and publisher of the Ord Quiz, had filed for state senator, subject to the wishes of the Republicans from the district.

S. V. Shonka and family left for Cedar Rapids, Ia., where he felt that there was a better opportunity for him to establish himself, as lawyers were not so plentiful there.

County Attorney Norman filed a complaint against Dr. L. A. Howes, Ord osteopath, charging him in four counts with practicing medicine without a license. He waived preliminary hearing and was bound over to the district court.

The Farmers Grain and Supply company had purchased the elevator at Olean, and expected to do a large business there. L. L. Oliver was the new manager.

Clerk Bartlett received a call for more army men for August 15, there being 427 to be called from Nebraska. They were to be given a chance to volunteer until July 23, and it was hoped that enough would do so to make a draft unnecessary. There was also a call for ten blacksmiths' helpers to go to Vancouver, Wash.

It was stated that Valley county's wheat fields were showing much smut, and it was feared that the yield would be materially reduced. The crop must have been unusually late that year, as practically all Valley county wheat is in the shock at this time.

The Ord band was thinking seriously of quitting entirely, due to the fact that a number of players were already in the service and others were due to be called at any time.

A joint teachers' institute was to be held with Sherman county, this time in Loup City. The reason was that good speakers were difficult to obtain due to the conditions of war. Just how Valley county teachers were expected to get to Loup City does not appear.

A call was issued for a Republican county convention to be held in Ord July 24.

July 16, 1908.

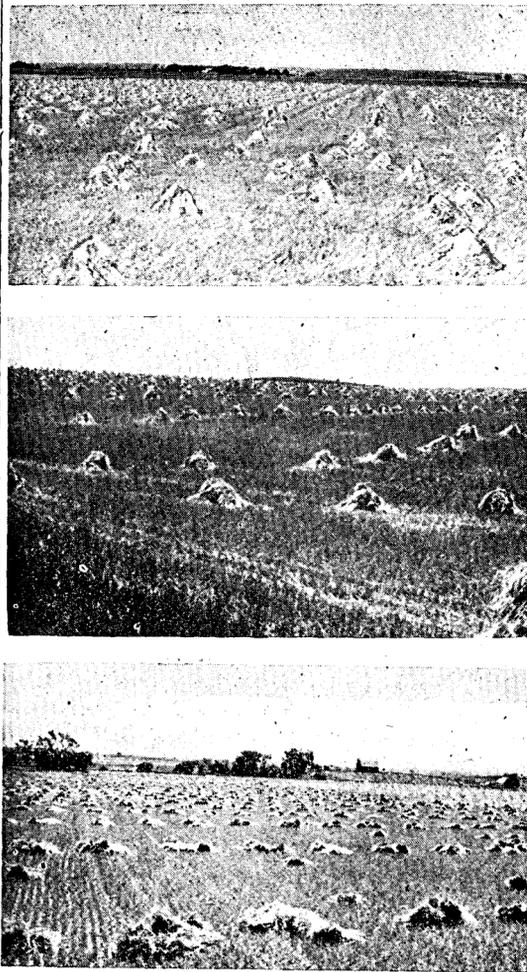

C. E. McGrew and A. C. Johnson were in the undertaking business. One of the July 4th attractions at the Ord celebration was a foot race between Clarence Bailey and Charley Bals, Clarence winning by several feet.

The country home of C. M. Robinson, three miles west of Arcadia, was destroyed by an early morning fire. Mrs. Robinson was badly burned about the face and arms.

Malcolm Boydston went to Burwell where he met Goldie Curry and the two were married. They returned to Ord the next day, and were to make their home here.

The site for the Dickenson Seed company had been leased, according to the manager, Frank Vopat, and the work of putting up the building was to commence at once. Fanny Sutton returned from a

VALLEY COUNTY'S GOLDEN HARVEST

The top picture in this group was taken in the Kenneth Timmerman wheat field in Springdale, northeast of Ord. The second was snapped in the Ed Hackel field just north of Vinton and the bottom picture was taken in the Merrill Flynn wheat field on the James Misko farm on the Ord-Arcadia highway southwest of Ord. All are splendid fields and show bumper crops. It is not hard to find good subjects when the Quiz artist goes out to snap pictures; the trouble is to find one field that is outstanding in quality. They all seem to be so good.

several weeks' trip to Chicago and vicinity.

Miss Grace Tolon, who was taking training in the Douglas county hospital, came up to Ord for a few days visit with her relatives here.

J. D. Tedro had bought the H. C. Stroup property in the west part of Ord, and the Stroup family were moving to University Place, where Mr. Stroup had a good job with the light company.

George Knecht bought the Van-Slike property two blocks south of the square, and moved into it at once.

A young man from the Gracie county northwest of Burwell victimized several Ord business men with bogus checks drawn on a Burwell bank. After some investigation the young man was located and lodged in the Ord jail.

During a storm lightning struck the Weekes' elevator at Scotia and burned it to the ground.

The Ord Bathing Club had issued numerous invitations to the friends, both male and female, to come down to the river and make use of the new bath houses.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mortensen and Crawford left for an extended western trip.

C. B. Anderson of Crete and E. N. Mitchell of Lincoln came to Ord to attend the meeting of the directors of the Ord State Bank, in which Clarence Coe tendered his resignation as assistant cashier. At the meeting Ches Chinn was elected cashier and Vincent Kokes president.

Saturday night at 11:00 the electric night engine broke down and the city was without juice from that time until 10:00 p. m. Sunday.

July 15, 1898.

The populist county convention held in Ord, with Dr. F. O. Burdick chairman and J. L. Clafin secretary. They voted for fusion with the Democratic party, and in so doing spelled the doom of populism for all time. The state convention was to be held in Lincoln August 5, and J. L. Clafin, J. A. Ollis, Jr., S. P. Conner, J. H. Cronk, J. V. Johnson, Jorgen Moller, Dr. F. O. Burdick, O. D. Coombs and J. W. Gregory were chosen as delegates.

John Wall and Paul Round of Arcadia were in Ord, the former to investigate various kinds of gas lighting plants with the intention of installing one in his Arcadia property.

The Danish Baptists of the county were organizing a church known as the Danish Baptist church of Ord, although the church building was being erected on the farm of Lars B. Sorensen in Michigan township.

Mrs. Ethel Swain, who had been a valued employee of the Ord Quiz, resigned and went to Grand Island where she was to be employed in the dining room of the Palmer House, recently taken over by the McDonoughs.

The Milford and Sons business increased to such an extent that they had to find more room, so they rebuilt the stairway and planned to use the upstairs rooms, known as the Armory, for a part of the store.

Miss Grace went to work for the Quiz, expecting to learn the business from the ground up.

I. W. McGrew, A. I. Cram and J. A. Herbst, accompanied by their wives, passed through Ord on the Burlington enroute to the Omaha exposition.

L. E. Ballard was in Ord completing arrangements to move here. He had leased the Old Reliable store room and expected to open soon with a full line of groceries and queensware. He was from North Loup.

A Uncle Tom's Cabin show held forth in its own tent in Ord and received a very large patronage. The two bloodhounds decided to settle a dispute of their own right on the stage, and furnished a special act that was not on the bill.

McLain and Siler extended their storeroom sixteen feet further back which gave them more much needed room.

There was talk of the St. Joseph and Grand Island railroad purchasing the Ord-Grand Island branch of the Union Pacific.

Miss Alta Jones was holding a summer school in the new school building, which was then the building that stood where the new high school building now is located.

Services were advertised to be held in the Ord Episcopal church in the evening only, as there had been a request for services to be held at Scotia in the morning.

A Warning Against Peddlers of "Cures"

The American Foundation for Animal Health has issued a warning against peddlers of "cures" or remedies for equine sleeping sickness. This year, as is customary every year, these quacks will be abroad with their cure-alls, which not only fail to cure, but in some cases even aggravate the disease. Vaccination is the only cure, and it must come ahead of the disease. Preventive measures recommended include:

Keep horses away from swampy or creek bed pastures. Permit horses to graze in daytime, if possible, but stable them at night. Protect horses from mosquitoes or other insects. Avoid strange watering troughs and contact with horses on neighboring farms. If horses stumble, stagger, or appear sleepy, call a veterinarian immediately.

To Cost $5,000,000.

Bids for Kingsley Dam opened by the Central Nebraska Public Power and Irrigation district at Hastings last Tuesday morning showed that the joint bid of the Minneapolis Dredging company and the Martin Wunderlich company, both of Minneapolis, was the lowest. The actual figures were $4,949,116.50. This is to be one of the largest all earth dams in the world when completed. It will back up the water and form a reservoir more than 26 miles in length, and thousands of acres of perfectly good land will be covered with water. With the reported shortage of water in the Platte one cannot help wondering where all the water is coming from that will be required to fill it.

—George Simons of Chillicothe, Ill. is in Ord visiting his sister, Mrs. Tillie Arnold.

—Mrs. Kirby McGrew, who had been in Ord since a week ago Friday, when she brought Mrs. C. E. McGrew home, and Mrs. Glen Audle drove to Clarkson to spend a couple of days visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Jones.

—Glenn Millard, old time resident of Ord and graduate of the Ord schools more than thirty years ago, was in Ord Thursday, and his classmate, F. W. Coe, was taking him around to see his friends of those days. He spent the years from 1930 to 1935 as a dentist and missionary in Port of Spain, Trinidad, and Bridgetown, Barbadoes. Since then he has been in radio work at Norfolk, Va. He and Mrs. Millard were on their way to Glendale, Calif., where he expected to again work in the mission field and at dentistry.

—Sunday guests at the Mrs. Hans Anderson home were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Beeghly of Cambridge, Andrew Koelme and Miss Allegra Morrison, both of Arapahoe. Mrs. Reginald Beeghly, who has been visiting for the past week at Cambridge, returned to Ord with them.

—Now that all the returns are in, it is a pleasure to note that there were no auto fatalities in the entire state over the 4th. One person was so seriously injured that death resulted two days later. This is a record that is hard to believe, but it is substantiated by the facts.

—Last Tuesday evening Archie Keep and Mart Beran returned from their western trip. They visited the Beeghly's at Emmett, Hans Thorne at Boise, and Guy Keeps at Idaho Falls. The last Sunday they were there they drove from Idaho Falls up to the Yellowstone National Park and took in the sights there.

—Lloyd (Spud) Richardson is carrying his right shoulder around in a bandage due to a couple of accidents. July 3 he wrestled with his brother Raymond (Tater) and hurt his shoulder. The next day they went to the celebration at Frank Clark's north of Burwell, and he threw the shoulder out again riding a cow. The worst of it was that he failed to win any prize money. He says that the free-for-all after the rodeo was sure grand to watch. It was quite a fight while it lasted, but nobody was hurt much.

—H. Partridge and wife were in Ord Saturday, and he told of the ball game at Clark's grove July 4th, which was one of the fastest seen in years. Burwell played Ballagh, and won 1 to 0 at the end of nine innings. Floyd Matern pitched for Burwell and Floyd Partridge caught, while the boy prodigy, Francis Graves, pitched for Ballagh. These two pitchers are among the best known in central Nebraska, and both have a great future, if they care to go into organized baseball.

—Tom Young, an old friend of E. C. Munn, was in Ord and paid Mr. and Mrs. Munn a short visit. He and Mr. Munn were old friends in Michigan many years ago, and H. D. Leggett was also acquainted with him there. He now lives in California, and was on his way for a visit to his boyhood home when he stopped here.

Chancellor Burnett Requests Retirement

Lincoln, Nebr.—Chancellor E. A. Burnett, for the past 11 years head of the University of Nebraska and a leader in Nebraska agriculture for the past 39 years, has retired at his own request from his position as head of the state university due to the increasing strain and demands of the position. He will become chancellor emeritus of the university. His position will be taken by Dr. C. S. Boucher, for the past three years president of West Virginia University at Morgantown, West Va.

CHANCELLOR E. A. BURNETT

Widely known in all parts of Nebraska, Chancellor Burnett came to the University of Nebraska in 1899, first as professor of animal husbandry in charge of farmer's institutes from 1899 to 1907. In 1901 he was made associate dean of the Industrial College in charge of agricultural instruction and director of the experiment station. In the reorganization of colleges in 1909 he became the first dean of the College of Agriculture, a position he held until 1928. In 1927 following Dr. Samuel Avery's retirement from the chancellorship he was made acting chancellor of the University of Nebraska, a position he held until March 3, 1928, when he was made chancellor.

Under his administration of the College of Agriculture the old university farm grew from a mere farm with a few inferior buildings to an impressive College of Agriculture with some 10 main buildings. Coincident with the rise in scientific agriculture the comprehensive system of experiment stations throughout the state was developed.

His decade as chancellor of the state university were years of many educational and financial problems due to depressions, drought years, and a changing conception of the value of education. During the difficult drought and depression years he labored hard and managed to keep the University of Nebraska in the fore as an institution of educational reputation. During the past several years he has been faced with the problems of an ever-increasing student body, now the largest in the history of the school, with appropriations but little higher than 1933.

During his administration the widely known Morrill Hall, housing the art and geological museum, was erected on the city campus, as was Andrews Hall, a classroom building. Other major buildings erected during the past decade include the power plant on North Fourteenth street; Carrie Belle Raymond Hall, the women's residence on Sixteenth street; and the annex to the nurses' home at the college of medicine in Omaha. In addition to these major buildings a number of other buildings have been built, including the crops laboratory building, greenhouses, boiler house annex at Omaha, and the girls' dormitory, shop building and dairy barn at the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis. The chancellor was very active in se-

A. C. HUNKINS

Candidate for State Senator, 29th District, Howard, Greeley, Wheeler and Valley Counties

I desire to announce my candidacy to the people of this district and offer my business experience as my qualifications for the office. For the past twenty years I have been engaged in the banking business in Cushing, and prior to that time I was in the grain and mercantile business. Your support will be appreciated. Equal patronage to all of the district.

During his decade of administration the University took over the School of Music and developed it into one of the academic schools of the University. To meet present conditions the graduate school of social work was inaugurated in 1937. The University of Nebraska Foundation, to secure and administer gifts to the University, was the result of one of the chancellor's dreams.

Chancellor Burnett is a member of Sigma Xi, Phi Beta Kappa, Alpha Zeta, Gamma Sigma Delta, American Association for the Advancement of Science, and Kiwanis Club. He was president of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges from 1925 to 1926 and president of the National Association of State Universities in 1937. He is a director of the Federal Land Bank at Omaha. In 1919 he was a member of the faculty of the A. E. F. University at Beaune, France.

STORY OF SUCCESS

By Lillian Karty.

Success is the main attempt of every person. Charles Bals is one of the best examples of success. He was born in Schuffers Cappelle, West Flanders, Belgium on June 3, 1865. On the twenty-second day of March, 1890, he came to the United States and began farming at David City, Nebr. On Nov. 13, 1900, he came to Valley county. Upon his arrival here, he bought two ranches, 1,000 tons of hay, 9 stacks of wheat, and 850 head of cattle. This is said to be one of the biggest business deals ever transacted in Valley county. He was married October 22, 1913.

Mr. Bals prefers Valley county to Belgium. "The living conditions there," he said, "are much different from those here. The people eat well, live well, don't make debts, and are satisfied. The banks don't loan money to poor people. You can't start with nothing there."

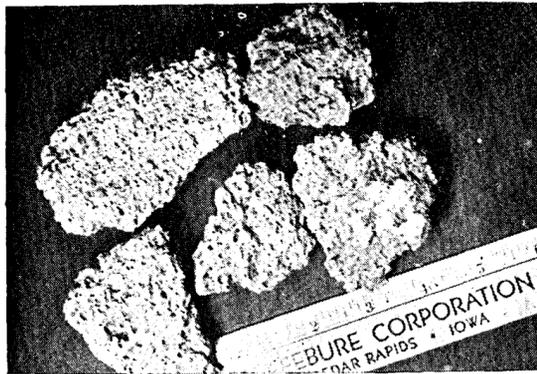

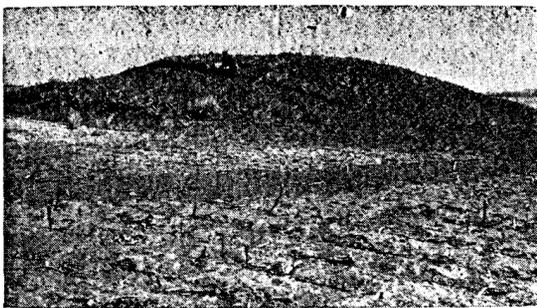

CHARLES BALS

Questioning him about methods of transportation, he replied, "Only the rich people can afford to drive cars. You still see many teams and wagons there, and bicycles galore. Special roads are built for the bicycles, and cyclists must observe rules just the same as the motorists. They can't drive without horns or lights. They must hold out their hands to signal for turns. On Sundays it is not an uncommon sight to see a whole family go bike riding. The mother carries her small baby in a specially built basket attached to the handle bars, and the rest of the family each have their own bike. The roads are made of cobblestone, but you can't brag them. However, they are improving them each year. There are no filling stations. Gas is sold from pumps stationed in front of the homes. Taxes are extremely high in Belgium, but there is no tax on real estate. If you hire a man, you pay 2 1/2 per cent tax. If you pay a bill, you pay so much tax. There is a ten per cent tax on any public auction. If you sell land, the taxes range from ten to seventeen per cent. This money all goes to the government. Some of you people who are prejudiced against the WPA listen to this. In Belgium, if you have no job, all you need to do is to go to an office, sign a paper stating that you have no job, and the government will pay you from fifty cents to a dollar a day, without any work being done. The temperature in Belgium is very moderate. It is hardly over 80 degrees at any time. Mr. and Mrs. Bals go back to Belgium every few years.

Loup Valley Camera Club to Hold Picnic

At the postponed meeting of the Loup Valley Camera club, held Thursday evening at the Jensen Studio, it was agreed to hold a picnic at Burwell the last Sunday in July. The members will go up in cars, and will take their dinner along with them, and the Burwell members are to furnish the drink, and plan the itinerary. They will meet at the Jensen Studio not later than 11:00 a. m. Sunday, July 31. The regular program Thursday evening consisted of the reading of

VOLCANIC HILL FOUND NEAR SUMTER

Perhaps nine out of ten people in Valley county have never heard of Valley county's only volcano, and most of those nine will think it is only the fancy of some disordered brain, but the fact is that there is a volcanic hill in the county, and not many years ago the crater could still be seen. The hill itself is shown in the upper photo, above, and some of the volcanic rock picked up on the hill is shown in the lower photo. The hill is located just south across the road from the D. H. Strong residence near Sumter, and anyone can corroborate the above statements by driving out there. The hill contains so much rock that it is impossible to farm it, although numerous attempts have been made to plow it up. Just how it came to be there is one of the mysteries of nature that may never be solved.

lecture No. 3 and the showing of the slides to illustrate it. The members commented on various phases of the lecture, and much interest was shown. Noteworthy was the fact that no less than six ladies were present, more than have been in attendance at any previous meeting.

—John M. Athey of Compton Calif., arrived at Reuben Athey's near Loup City, July 4th. He recently married again and he and Mrs. Athey came by car. They plan to spend several weeks visiting relatives and friends here. Mr. Athey is enjoying splendid health, and says it is good to get back in Nebraska.

QUIZ VISITS VALLEY COUNTY FARMS

The above picture was not taken in Valley county, but across the river east of Burwell on the A. H. Meyer place. The men are busy cultivating one of the finest looking crops of sugar beets in the valley. They are cutting the side roots of the beets so that the tap root will go down into the ground and develop larger beets. Charley Meyer is riding the cultivator, Leo Butcher is driving the tractor and George Brown is the man with the hoe. The operation is commonly called "spiking." The land lies perfect for irrigation, with the ditch showing plainly at the upper end of the field. No water has been available so far this year, and none has been needed.

Know This Person?

Above is shown a young man upon his arrival in the United States fifty years ago. He has farmed in Valley county for many years, and now lives in Ord. If you think you know, call the Quiz office and we will be glad to tell you whether you guessed right. The lady wearing the bustle in last week's picture got by without being guessed, that is, until Thursday noon, when this was written. A good look at the picture should convince you that it is Mrs. C. E. McGrew.

HASKELL CREEK

Will Timm Suffers Stroke.

It will be of special interest to most of the Ord people to know that Will Timm, former resident of Ord, suffered a slight stroke in California last week. He is now being cared for at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Jonie Level, in Long Beach. The California "Ord club" sent a special bouquet of flowers to him.

Theresa Greenwalt, operated last week for appendicitis at the Ord hospital, is recovering nicely, as is also Lucille Lakin, operated the same day.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Alhambra, Calif. July 7, 1938

Dear Mr. Leggett:

Last week's edition of the Quiz at hand and if my memory serves me correctly, the picture of "Who is this person?" is none other than that harem-scarem "Hi" Anderson. It amused me immensely to see the picture as years ago, when the old family album afforded many an evening's entertainment, there was always a scrap on hand when "Hi" picture was brought to view. In fact "Hi" always considered it one of those "sissy" pictures and if you'll look close enough you might even note the lace and frills which adorned his garment at that tender age.

Along with the above I might add that very few people know the means by which he acquired the name of "Hi." It was like this, when the Anderson family moved into town from the farm about 12 miles northeast of Ord, there were so many of us, ranging in size from "Hi" down to about six months, that of course "Hi" was naturally the one in charge and when we started to school the first Monday morning thereafter, we paid no attention to sidewalks (having had none out on the farm) and walked down the middle of the road toward the school house. "Hi" was all bedecked out in a neat little pair of trousers which ended abruptly at the knee (if not a little bit above) and if I remember correctly there were a few pearl buttons on either side. Well, as we paraded down the street we must have been quite a sight for some of the kids, especially Harold Ted-ro, Fred Regan and some of those other Eastsiders, and as "Hi" kept his hands in his pockets it must have augmented his awkwardness and the kids immediately began to call him "High-pockets." Later on they dropped the pockets and to this day he retains the "High", although abbreviated to "Hi."

"Hi" may not like this little story of himself, but nevertheless it's true. As ever, Carl.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

This is the time of the year when young people's fancies turn to heat, and best methods of keeping cool. Does anyone want to contradict that?

Hearin' things: Maybe I'm wrong, but you'd better ask Viona Wolfe's opinion of Harold Lewis. Don Tunnick says that Virginia Klein took Columbus by storm. I wonder how he knows?

Seein' things: A certain Ord girl rode all over creation Friday evening followed by some boys in a license No. 26 car. Heard the driver of the car was very handsome. (Maybe so, maybe.) Richard Severson sitting with Bud Clark's girl at the show Sunday afternoon. (Poor Sevie, he always manages to get mentioned in this column.) Eleanor Wolfe has adopted a new way of coming home. Instead of coming in time to bring in the milk, she brings the morning paper with her. I think it must have been about eight o'clock Friday morning when I met her. That's some record! Saw the good-looking Nelson brothers (all of them) from Ericson running around town Saturday night. And, speaking of Ericson, I hear that Ericson has the best looking girls for a town of its size around here. Even Jack Janssen thinks so.

Nominations for: The best looking couple—Kathryn Holub and Wilmer Anderson. Hm! Public Pest, No. 1—The person who goes around saying "I feel fine. I feel very fine," and then complains about the heat.

Back in town: I saw Elsie Wilberg at the show Sunday night. She had a pretty nifty looking fellow with her. Tsk! Tsk! A bunch of Broken Bow boys were in town Monday, whistling at every girl they saw.

For those evening meals during hot weather when you don't feel like cooking and still want to serve an appetizing, satisfying meal to your family, we suggest that you select from our large stock of cooked, ready-to-serve meats. The old stand-bys and many new ones await you here. Just a taste of them will stimulate hot weather appetites and make them want more.

SURVEY SHOWS... ELECTRIC BILLS Are Lowest Part of Living Cost

In a recent survey made in 59 cities located in various parts of the United States the average income of families working for salaries was $1,260.00 a year. In determining the percentage of living cost it was found that electricity was only a small fraction of the average families' living expenses.

For Groceries.....	34 1/2%
For Housing.....	17 1/2%
For Clothing.....	14 1/2%
For Recreation and Amusement.....	4 1/2%
For ELECTRIC BILL only.....	1 1/2%

Electricity is CHEAP in ORD USE MORE OF IT!

Two unbiased surveys made recently, one by the Federal Power Commissioner, the other by the University of Nebraska, reveal that electricity is cheaper in Ord.

For 25 kilowatts, Ord users pay $1.33; only two cities in Nebraska have a lower rate in this bracket.

For 100 kilowatts, Ord users pay $3.33; only one city in Nebraska has a lower rate in this bracket.

For 250 kilowatts, Ord users pay $6.33; only three cities in Nebraska have a lower rate in this bracket.

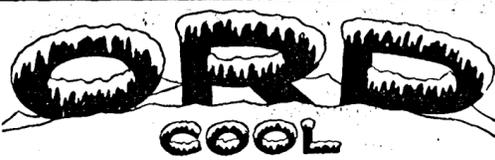

The University of Nebraska's survey shows that an average consumption of electricity is 30 kilowatts per month; that for this quantity an Ord user pays $1.60, and that the average cost in 130 towns of Nebraska would be $2.63. Again we say: Electricity is cheaper in Ord... You should use more!

Burwell News

Written by Rev. W. L. GOONELL

Mrs. Marjorie Rydberg returned from Cozad Saturday, where she had gone to can cherries.

Dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Erlo Babcock Thursday were Mrs. Ford Shirley and Beverly and Mrs. Opal Beebe and Charles.

Gerald Soderholm of Wahoo called on Mary T. Davis Friday. He was a pupil of Miss Davis when she taught in Wahoo and is now a commercial artist.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Babcock were supper guests Monday of Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill in honor of Dr. Hemphill's birthday.

Guy Earnest's were halted out at their farm near Ravenna Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay VanHorn of Edinburg, Tex., arrived on the Friday evening bus, coming here from Lincoln, where they had visited their sons, Dale and Everett and their families. It was eighteen years ago they moved to Texas and this is Mr. VanHorn's first visit in that time but Mrs. VanHorn was here once before. They lived in early days on the VanHorn ranch and it was here that the chase for horse thieves, told of by John Kokes in Lillian Karly's article in last week's Quiz, ended and Mr. VanHorn was one of the party. When they left North Loup for Texas they lived on the place where Martin Marvicka now lives and the large barn and house were put up by Mr. VanHorn. In Texas they are in the dairy business with their son Russ. Their own land has been run off by seepage and they live on a rented place. They have a large collection of different kinds of wood with them, all of which grow on their place. After about a week here they plan to go on to Milton, Wis., to visit Mrs. VanHorn's mother, Mrs. Jennie Rood. Mr. and Mrs. VanHorn are house guests of Mrs. Mary R. Davis. Monday they were dinner guests of Mrs. Hattie Clement and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Lewis. A picnic supper in their honor was held Tuesday night at the W. T. Hutchins home and a Rood-Thorngate family supper is to be held Wednesday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo.

Ben Nelson was in Lincoln on business Friday.

Mrs. E. M. Johnson entertained at a picnic Sunday in honor of Mrs. Lloyd Johnson's birthday. Those present included Ed, Albert and Elma Dahlin and Bert Cornells of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cummins, J. F. Earnest, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Johnson and the Bill Earnest and Wayne King families.

Belva Babcock is spending the week at the George Clement home in Mira Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Beihle who have been in the Robbins house west of Allen Sims' while he worked on the road have moved away. He has gone to Arcadia to work and she returned to Norfolk.

Jane Hoepfner went to Greeley Monday night to spend a few days with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Christensen and Phyllis went to Arcadia Friday to attend the marriage of his niece, Margaret Christensen, to Robert Sibley.

Mrs. E. E. Davis is quite sick. Mrs. Bates Copeland, who has been sick with ulcers of the stomach is able to sit up a little.

Ervin Bartz went to Ericson Sunday.

The library board met at the library Monday night for their regular monthly meeting. Some new juvenile books have arrived and will be placed on the shelves as soon as they are ready. It was voted to sponsor a story hour for the children each Friday afternoon. Myra Barber was made chairman of the committee in charge of this.

Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner was a dinner guest Sunday of Mrs. Winnie Bartz while her family attended the postal employees picnic at St. Paul. Mrs. Hoepfner won a $3.00 prize last week for the best pie recipe in the World-Herald contest.

H. L. Klingensmith finished cutting 300 acres of small grain Monday that he hopes will give a good yield. The grasshoppers had damaged the wheat somewhat.

The Bryan Portis family spent Thursday evening at H. L. Klingensmith's.

Mrs. Maud Gies and little daughter of Elcentro, Calif., are expected Wednesday to spend the remainder of the summer with Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Jackson. Mercury at Elcentro has reached 114 and 116 already.

Carol Lambden of Grand Island lost control of her car going down a hill near Gerald Manchester's place Sunday afternoon and the car turned over in the ditch and wrecked it quite badly. Miss Lambden escaped with a few scratches and some torn clothes. Babcock's wrecker went out to bring the car in and it is in the garage awaiting repairs. Miss Lambden remained in town overnight and went home on the bus Monday.

UNION RIDGE

An inch of rain accompanied by high wind and hail hit this community Wednesday evening. The hail did considerable damage to the small grain an corn.

Lou Sheldon of North Loup is rebuilding the bridge across the creek at Ross Williams that was washed out by the high waters of last Wednesday's rain.

Dolores and Gertrude Horner, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Horner of Scotia spent from Tuesday until Thursday with their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner.

Dean Pawleska is helping at the Mike Whalen farm this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner visited with their son and family, Don Horner, from Thursday until Friday evening, when Don took them to Ord to visit another son, Ernest.

Bob Enger, who was staying at the Horner home returned to Ord Friday evening and left for his home in Ogden, W. Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams were Sunday dinner guests of Mike Whalen's. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whalen spent the afternoon there and had supper with them.

Word has been received here by relatives that Stanley, age 9, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Honeycutt of La George, Wyo., passed away July 3.

Nettie Davis of Davis Creek spent Saturday night and Sunday with the Kennedy girls.

Mr. Barnes of Fullerton spent Monday at Naev's looking over his crops since the hail storm. The oats on the south side of the place were ruined.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Williams, Andy Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams and family, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wolf and family spent a very enjoyable evening Thursday at Don Horner's visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner. Ice cream and cake were also enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tolen spent Sunday afternoon at Roy Williams.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Rich and family were Sunday supper guests at Mamie Kennedy's.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrel Manchester and Shirley Belle and Jess Manchester spent Thursday at Wm. Worrell's. Their corn was ruined by the hail, as the hail was worse southwest of here.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner and Carol Ann spent Saturday afternoon in Scotia visiting with Mrs. Horner's brother, Reynold Acker and family of Belgrade. The Horner's were supper guests of their aunt, Mrs. J. S. Everett of Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Sowl were in town Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Sowl visited at the Jim Misko home, while Mr. Sowl attended to a few business matters. The Sows now live in Grand Island.

VINTON NEWS

Mrs. Charles Mason entertained her two sisters last week, from Kearney and Ogallala, for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Kokes spent Sunday at Emil Zikmund's in Springdale.

Alyce Verstraete and Margaret Keller from Ord were guests of Darlene Mason at a picnic dinner and swimming party last Sunday.

The last two weeks have been busy ones around here for the farmers, not even time off for celebrating the Fourth on account of harvesting. Most of the grain is cut by now and in the shocks. Threshing will start the latter part of this week.

Mrs. Archie Boyce and daughters spent several days at her mother's, Mrs. Levi Chipps, while Archie was away from home helping Ed Verstraete harvest. Mrs. Neil Peterson also stayed at the Chipps home while her son Donald and two other Ord boys did the shocking there.

Lavern Aldrich, Chester Travis and Merrill Flynn have done considerable cutting for farmers in and around Vinton, as they all have good tractors and new binders.

Mrs. Archie Boyce will take her daughter Betty to Lincoln for examination at the orthopedic hospital this Thursday, returning later in the week. Mrs. Neil Peterson will drive for them.

LOCAL NEWS

Vincent Jacobson, assistant in the county agent's office, was called to Albion this week to take charge of the county agent's office there, the county agent being sick.

Frank Krikac and daughter Lillian left Tuesday morning for Rochester, where Miss Krikac is being given treatments.

Visitors at the Frank Krikac home Monday were Misses Alice Waldman of Omaha, Mildred Waldman of Comstock and John Waldman of California.

Miss Wilma Mixer of Lincoln has been visiting at the Albert and Ed Parkos homes for the past week. She returned to Lincoln Friday morning.

Mrs. Levi Chipps is doing fine, following an appendix operation performed by Dr. Round at the Ord hospital Tuesday afternoon.

Miss Virginia McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLain of York, came to Ord Tuesday morning to visit at the Paul Duemey home. She will remain for a week.

Norval (Smoke) Loft arrived in Ord Monday night after several hectic months spent on the Pacific coast, during which he made every possible effort to get enough work to exist, and finally had to give it up as a bad job. He had the promise of a good job when he left Ord in company with James Ward early in March, but when he got there he found that the company had been compelled to close down. He tried getting work in the vicinity of Los Angeles, and later followed the coast as far north as Portland, Ore., but found conditions bad everywhere.

He believes that the principal cause of trouble, especially in the northwest, is the CIO and its demands for higher wages and shorter hours.

Emma Rassetts arrived Monday evening from North Loup. She had come to North Loup from Scottsbluff the day before. She expects to return to North Loup Thursday.

Legion Junior Team Wins From St. Paul

Playing the best game they have shown this year, the Ord Legion team easily defeated the St. Paul boys Friday afternoon by a score of 22 to 5. It is safe to say that the boys would have given the league leaders, Dannebrog, a run for their money if they had played as good ball at the opening of the season.

A double header with Spalding was set for Tuesday afternoon, but for some reason the boys were unable to come to Ord on that day, and called up and asked for a postponement of the games. The Ord team went to Spalding to play the first game, but were rained out, hence the double header was arranged for the Ord diamond. The postponed games will probably be played at Ord, Sunday, July 24.

Still Leads League

Winning their game with the High School almost at will, the Ord Livestocks continued their perfect record with 8 wins and no defeats, while the High School won one and lost 7, in the first game of the double header at the fair grounds Tuesday evening.

The second game was a thriller, with the Brown-McDonalds nosing out the K. of C. by the score of 9 to 8. This makes the store boys sure of second place, with 5 wins and 3 losses, while the K. of C. takes third place with two won and six lost.

Thursday evening the first and second All-Star teams played similar games from Scotia on the home grounds, the first team winning by a score of 10 to 8, and the second team by a score of 6 to 2. The return games scheduled at Scotia for next Sunday, have been postponed until Sunday, July 31.

All softball players whose dues are not paid by next Tuesday evening will not be permitted to play until they pay, as it is impossible to run the games without capital to pay necessary expenses. The games Tuesday night are to start promptly at 8:15, and if one of the teams scheduled for the first game is not ready to play at that time the game will be forfeited.

Mark to Shoot At.

But we are making progress, for last year the 4th cost 563 lives. And Nebraska was also a White Spot this year in another way—there were no accidental deaths in the state this year on the 4th.—Nance County Journal.

A Wise Crack.

A truly smart crack that will appeal to the Republicans and not a few Democrats appeared in the Atwood Citizen a week or so ago. The story runs thusly: A hitch hiker was seen walking down the road recently with this placard on his back: "Pick me up or I will vote for him again!"—Curtis Enterprise.

Midget Auto Races, Revue, Horse Show, Barn Dance at Fair

Most Costly Program Ever Contracted Will Be Given September 12, 13 and 14.

The management of the Loup Valley Fair and Races have definitely determined to give the midget racing cars a tryout this year and see how the public reacts to this new type of entertainment. Superintendent Baker has been attending the midget races held at Sioux City and elsewhere, and has been convinced for some time that this type of race would please the public at Ord.

So today, under the direction of Track Supt. J. W. McGinnis and the track committee composed of Henry Enger, Henry Jorgensen and Dave Arnold, the work of remodeling the track to meet the midget requirements is being started. The county grader is being used, and the men handling the machinery are Tracy Hamilton and Ed Mason. It is not known as this is written whether the new track will be a quarter mile track or a one fifth mile track, but both sizes are used for midget racing and furnish the limit in thrills. The new track will use the same straight away in front of the stands, but both ends will be shortened and the back stretch will be down through the center of the old parking space.

Secretary E. L. Kokes gave out this week the general plan of the program for the fair, which is to be held Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 12, 13 and 14. The reason for the selection of these days instead of taking them out of the middle of the week as in the past, was because it was possible to make a much more favorable contract with radio station WIO, of Des Moines, which is furnishing some of the talent.

The program the first two days will be put on by the Swing Time Revue, featuring twelve complete and separate acts, their own 7 piece orchestra, an eight girl revue and a master of ceremonies. They put on ball room dancing acts, carry their own scenery and lights. Of special interest to lovers of horses will be the Blanche McKenney-Hunter and McKenney Hippodrome attraction, featuring some of the world's finest and best trained horses.

The big attraction the third day will be the famous WHO barn dance. In fact, this is the biggest layout of talent the fair has been able to feature in many years. Arrangements were made early in the season when such talent was still available. The size of the special act platform will have to be greatly increased, the company asking for not less than 40x60 feet, and the fair board plans to make the space even larger than this.

Claus J. Koll, 82, Died Sunday Night

Respected Farmer Had Lived Near Ord 49 Years; Funeral to Be Held Today.

Claus J. Koll, 82 years old and a resident of the Ord community forty-nine years, passed away Sunday night, June 17, at his farm home southwest of Ord after three years of ill health. The funeral services will be held at the Pearson-Anderson chapel this afternoon with Rev. Clarence Jensen in charge.

Mr. Koll was born in Holstein, Germany, on June 16, 1856 and was baptized and confirmed in the Lutheran church as an infant and youth respectively. On June 19, 1889 he was married to Miss Emilie Tries and to them three children were born. In 1884 he and his wife came to the United States, settling first in Dodge county but in 1889 moving to Valley county. The same farm southwest of Ord has ever since been the family home and there Mr. Koll's death occurred Sunday.

He is mourned by his faithful wife, by one daughter, Henrietta and by two sons, John and Hartwig. There also are two grandchildren, Audrey and John of Ord one brother, Hartwig C. Koll, and a vast number of friends.

Mr. Koll was a thrifty farmer and an influential and respected citizen. Pallbearers at the rites today will be John Connor, Fritz Kuehl, Otto Graul, Will Graul, Willard Cornell and Ed Hackel, all friends and neighbors of Mr. Koll during his life time.

Is Charged With Reckless Driving

In a complaint filed by Patrolman Loyal M. Zink July 15, Ellis Carson is charged with reckless driving on June 2. Carson entered a plea of not guilty, and arranged for a bond of $50.00, which was approved by Judge John L. Andersen, who set the date of the trial for July 29.

Ord's New Diesel Gets First Tryout

Ord's new diesel engine has been placed on its foundation and the crew have been busy for several days getting lined up for the initial tryout. While it is not yet hooked up to handle the city load, it was ready for a trial run Sunday, and a number of Ordites were invited in to see it perform. Those present say the engine ran very smoothly and quietly, considering it was running without a load, and of course it will run much more smoothly when carrying a load. The engine is made by the Ingersoll-Rand company, which also made Ord's other two engines, and develops 600 horse power. It is placed in the south half of the engine room, while the others are in the north part. The engine at the north end develops 330 h. p., while the one in the middle is good for 440 h. p. The present equipment of the city will take care of all power needs in case of emergency, for the next ten years.

WPA Sewing Project Starts at No. Loup

North Loup—(Special)—A WPA sewing project that gives employment to six women was started Thursday in the building south of the Conoco station, which was painted and remodeled for the project's use. Mrs. Mary Hill, county supervisor of sewing centers, was in North Loup Wednesday, accompanied by Mrs. Bert M. Hardenbrook, to get the work started. Mrs. Nina Lewis is in charge at present. The project is a branch of the Ord sewing center.

Rudolph Olson, 69, Found Dead in Bed; Had Heart Trouble

Bachelor Had Lived Past Two Years With George Luft; Came Here in 1895.

Rudolph Olson, who lived for the past two years with George Luft on a farm northeast of Ord, was found dead of heart trouble in bed Sunday morning. Mr. Luft got up that morning and went out to do the chores, leaving Olson in bed. When he went to call him later he found that he had been dead for some time. He was well and favorably known in Ord and in the community in which he lived.

Rudolph Olson was born in Oslo, Norway, March 13, 1869, and departed this life July 17, 1938, at the age of 69 years, 4 months and 4 days. At the age of 14 he came to America, locating at Boston, Mass. Two years later he came to Schuyler, Neb., and in 1895 he came to Valley county, which has been his home since that time.

He leaves to mourn his death, two sisters: Miss Louise Gjertsen, Oslo, Norway; Mrs. M. E. Murphy, Quincy, Mass., and a number of nieces and nephews. He was a very kind hearted man, and at all times appreciative of any kindness shown him. For the past two weeks he had not felt well, and had been taken care of at the Jess Worm home. He returned to the Luft home the day before his death.

After coming to Valley county he made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hansen. After their going he lived with the Hansen children. He lived in the community 43 years, occupying himself with farm work. Mr. Olson never married, the nearest relatives he has being located in Massachusetts.

Funeral services were held Tuesday at 2:00 p. m., from the Pearson-Anderson chapel, Rev. Clarence Jensen officiating. James Aagaard sang three selections, accompanied by Mrs. Robert Noll. The pallbearers were Carl, Edward and Leonard Hansen, George Luft, Jack Mogensen and Jim Hansen.

Red Cross Film Will Be At Ord Theatre

A special feature publicizing the work of the Red Cross, especially in the saving of life, is being shown at the Ord Theatre, beginning Sunday evening. It covers the ever broadening field of the organization, and features life saving in swimming accidents, as well as the more recent development, the help given motorists in case of accident on the highways. The development of Red Cross emergency first aid stations in filling stations along the main highways is of recent origin, but they fill a growing need and are a necessity of our modern scheme of existence.

Dies in Airplane Crash.—George Gowen has received word that his cousin, Lieut. Paul Gowen, was killed Thursday when his airplane crashed in the jungle near Panama City, Canal Zone. The plane was a United States navy bomber. Lieut. Gowen was a son of Justin Gowen, of Caldwell, Ida.

Townsendites to Meet.—Members of the Townsend organization here will hold a meeting at the Legion hall at 8:00 Thursday evening, the Quiz is asked to announce.

Sleeping Sickness Again Prevalent, Ten Horses Dead

More Cases Expected if Hotter Weather Comes, Say Ord Vets; Mosquitoes Spread It.

Equine encephalomyelitis, better known under its pronounceable name of equine sleeping sickness, is taking its toll of the horses in Valley county, according to Drs. J. W. McGinnis and A. J. Ferguson, who have been treating an average of one new case each day for the past three weeks, with an increase during the past few days.

The disease started about a month ahead of last year, when the first case was reported July 27. Probably ten or more horses have died to date. The veterinarians have observed that about one-half of the horses who contract the disease get well whether treated or not, and the percentage who get well is increased to about 85% by the use of treatments.

There is a vaccine treatment that can be used, and which must be used before the animal contracts the disease to do any good. This is a two shot treatment, given a week apart, and immunizes the animal. The trouble is that preventive measures should have been started earlier, and both doctors working over time could not get around to all the horses in time, starting this late.

However, a number of farmers are having their horses treated and they expect to be plenty busy for some time to come, as the disease will likely grow worse when the weather gets hotter. It has been definitely proven that the disease is spread by mosquitoes, and keeping the horses away from creeks and swampy places where mosquitoes abound will do much to prevent contracting the disease.

Union Church Service At Methodist Church

The Union Sunday Evening church service will be held at the Methodist church next Sunday night at 8 o'clock. Rev. Maimie Young will preach.

The change is made temporarily to escape the mosquitoes in an open air service. The plan is to rotate these union services to different places in the following order:

- July 24—Methodist church.
- July 31—Presbyterian church.
- August 7—Christian church.
- August 14—United Brethren church.

Fusons, Miss Austin, Entertain Rotarians

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuson, of New York City, singing a group of four solos and duets, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. George R. Gard, and Miss Austin, with a talk about China, entertained the Ord Rotarians at their weekly dinner Monday evening. Miss Austin, now a piano teacher in Ord and Grand Island, taught for many years in the American school in Shanghai. She feels that Japan has little chance of subjugating China in a long war and says China is making great progress in education and modernization.

Two officers of the Ord Rotary club, Dr. F. A. Bart, president, and Dr. George Gard, secretary, will go to Hastings next Monday to attend a district conference.

45-Day Season On Waterfowl

Pleasing to Loup valley nimrods should be the dates of the 1938 open season on ducks and geese, announced by the federal Bureau of Biological Survey. Instead of the 30-day season permitted in recent years, the open period will last 45 days—starting Oct. 15 and ending Nov. 28. Furthermore, the limit in possession was raised to 20 although the daily bag limit remains 10.

Increase in number of ducks as result of conservation measures is given as the reason for the longer open season. Nebraska is in the intermediate zone and will have the Oct. 15-Nov. 28 open season. Northern zone dates are Oct. 1 to Nov. 14 and southern zone dates are Nov. 15 to Dec. 28.

Ord Theatre to Show "Birth of a Baby"

The moving picture, "The Birth of a Baby," about which there has centered so much controversy, will be shown at the Ord Theatre on July 27 and 28, announces Manager M. Biemond. Banned in some cities when it was first released the picture later was permitted to show in most of the cities that first banned it. "Birth of a Baby" has the approval of the American Medical association and most social welfare organizations. At showings in Ord children will not be admitted unless accompanied by their parents.

Frank Blaha Hurt In Mower Accident

Burwell—(Special)—While mowing along a fence row on his farm six miles southeast of town Friday afternoon, Frank Blaha suffered painful injuries to both legs. The sickle bar caught in the fence and Mr. Blaha attempted to release it. While he was in front of the sickle the team started and he was dragged about 200 yards by the calf of the left leg. The mower was out of gear or the injuries would have been more serious. Mr. Blaha was brought to the Cran hospital and several hours were required to clean up and dress his wounds. A number of stitches had to be taken in the deep gashes on his left leg. Later he was taken to the home of his brother, John Blaha, where he is recovering.

City Clerk Jewett Turns Journalist

Since Rex Jewett received the new Sharps-Borchardt rifle made to his special order by R. E. Davis of Grand Island, he has spent much of his spare time using the gun in the extermination of various pests chief among them being prairie dogs. In the August issue of that well known sportsman's magazine, Sports Afield, appears a special article by Rex which has all the earmarks of the expert journalist.

Accompanied by two friends, Leslie Lindahl and Clarence Larson of Central City, he drove to the vicinity of Fairfield, Neb., some time ago, and the three spent the day shooting dogs, getting a total of 93. The two gentlemen are famous all over the United States as expert small rifle shots, and Jewett is not far behind, although he does not think so much of his own ability.

For three men to travel 75 miles or more for a day's shooting at prairie dogs may sound foolish to the average marksman, but when you have a gun that will shoot up to three hundred yards without any noticeable drop, that is something else again. From that distance, shooting against the wind, it is possible to kill all the dogs in a town before they realize anything unusual is happening.

To make a long story short, the three men bagged 93 prairie dogs that day, which so pleased the tenant on the land that they were fed all the fried chicken they could eat. The guns used have a muzzle speed up to 4,000 feet per second, and were caliber .22 to .25. The high speed bullet and the dog hit literally explode. Each gun has a telescope sight, and when the cross hairs center on a dog at less than 300 yards he is doomed.

Co. "I" Picnic Aug. 28.

The date of the annual Co. "I" picnic has been permanently set for the last Sunday in August which makes it come this year Aug. 28. Cecil Clark is sending out invitations to all members whose address he has, but there are a number whose present location is unknown. If you know where to find some member it might be well to check with Mr. Clark, as he wishes to notify every member possible.

Two Soloists Feature Weekly Band Concert

Two vocal solos, "The Sunshine of Your Smile," and "Blue Hawaii," sung by Virginia Sack, and a cornet solo played by Dean Barta, "Sounds from the Hudson," will feature the concert given by the Ord municipal band this evening. Other numbers will include: "136th U. S. A. Field Artillery," march, by Fillmore. "Equinox," march, by Goldman. "Prelude," a tone poem by O. W. Spencer. "Dinah," fox trot, by Harry Akst. "Blue Streak Gallop," by Allen. "The Maiden Queen," a waltz, by Skaggs. "From Tropic to Tropic," march, by Alexander. "American Polka," by Tryner. "Washington Post March," by Sousa.

Scotia Boy Drowns In No. Loup River

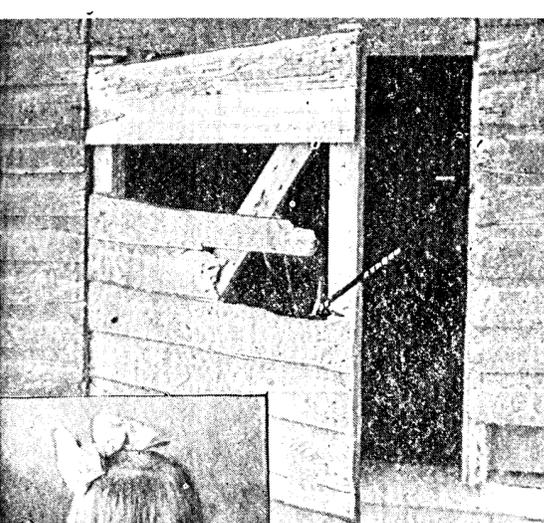

Scotia—(Special)—Frank Douthit, 19, was drowned in a sand pit in the bed of the North Loup river here Sunday while in swimming with four smaller boys. Unable to swim, he went down only once and when pulled out some time later by Kenneth Tucker, 21, who was summoned from farther down the river by the boys with him, Douthit was beyond aid. Dr. A. J. Kafka, of this village, attempted artificial respiration but it was too late.

The hole in which the drowning occurred was about eight feet deep located about 1/2 mile south of Scotia. Douthit was the son of Mrs. Carrie Clement of Scotia.

Petska Says It Pays To Advertise in Quiz

Jerry Petska is one of the most consistent of the Quiz's large family of advertisers. He advertises his furniture from week to week, and Tuesday he sold a load of new furniture at Burwell and delivered it the same day. Wednesday he sold a load of furniture to a Grand Island customer, and brought a load of groceries back. He says Quiz ads certainly "reach out!"

4-Year Old Girl Strangles In Farm Accident

Nobody would ever think of a rickety barn door being a hazard to children, but in this door little Bonnie Lee Kwiatkowski met death Tuesday afternoon. Apparently she stuck her head through the hole in the door while unhooking it, and when the door swung open she was lifted off her feet and strangled to death as result of her head being caught in the hole. Also shown is a picture of the pretty little girl, who was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kwiatkowski.

Tot Caught Head In Barn Door, Is Found By Mother

Dr. Kruml Worked 2 Hours to Revive Victim of a Tragedy Tuesday.

Bonnie Lee Kwiatkowski, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kwiatkowski, who live on the old Mart Stiehler place northeast of Ord, was found by her mother at 12:30 Tuesday afternoon, with her head caught in a barn door, strangled to death. She had been seen only about fifteen minutes before, and must have been caught in the door almost immediately afterward.

The distracted parents called Dr. J. G. Kruml immediately. He saw no indications of life, but worked over the little girl for nearly two hours in an effort to restore life. Sheriff George Round and County Attorney Alvin Lee were called and after a careful examination declared a clear case of accidental death.

She had gone into the bedroom a short time before, and her mother did not see her come out. It was apparent that she had gone directly to the south side of the barn, where she could not be seen readily from the house, had reached through the hole in the door and unhooked it. Her head caught in the door as it swung open and her feet were lifted from the ground at the same time, making it impossible for her to free herself.

Dr. Martin Lawler drove out at once when he received word of the accident, and Misses Mary Kasper and Martha Shokoski came to take charge of the household while the parents went to town to arrange for the funeral. All the neighborhood offered to assist in any way possible, but in times such as these there is so little that can be done. Mr. and Mrs. Kwiatkowski and their children moved to the farm last spring from Ashton. They have two other children, Carl Jean, aged 6, and Freddie Dale, aged two. The body was taken to the Frazier funeral parlors, and funeral services are to be held at Ashton tomorrow morning, July 21. A rosary is to be said at the home this evening.

Red Mites Attack Grasshopper Crop

While coming too late to prevent damage to crops in places, the red mites are beginning to work on the crop of grasshoppers, and some sections report that the infestation is fully fifty per cent. Coming at a time when it seemed that there was no way to get rid of the bumper crop of the pests, the mites are indeed a Godsend to the farmers.

Ralph Norman was one of the first to report the appearance of the mites. While working in his garden he noticed a large number of dead grasshoppers, in some places so thick that they fairly covered the ground. Examination showed that all the dead or dying insects had a plentiful crop of mites under their wings. There is some difference of opinion as to how they work, but all agree that they are in favor of the results they attain.

If the present rate of destruction continues comparatively few hoppers will reach the egg laying stage, and the farmers have reason to hope that next year's crop will not be above the normal amount. Nebraska farmers can be thankful that they are not faced by conditions such as prevail in eastern Montana, where the small grain loss is estimated at from fifty per cent to total.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Jean Ferguson broke the little finger on her right hand Thursday, we are told, and on Friday got the same finger caught in the washing machine and damaged it some more which is tough luck for a lady who runs a typewriter.

Heard on the street about a young man who went to a dance in a neighboring town and spent the time between drinks putting coins in the nickelodeon. On one of the trips he missed his direction and bumped into a friend. "Scuse me," said he, "Thought you was music box."

Slightly different is the one of the little girl who went into one of Ord's stores to buy candy. "Jelly beans, like you got last time," guessed the clerk. "No," she remarked sadly, "I guess I had better take licorice. You see, my little doggie died yesterday."

Sunday the Lincoln State Journal published biographical accounts of all candidates for state office, one well-written story telling about Crawford J. Mortenson of Ord and his excellent qualifications for state office. But Crawford was a bit hot under the collar when the article concluded. "He is a democrat." As everyone knows, the Ord banker is a life-long republican and filed for the republican nomination for state treasurer.

License Issued.

County Judge John L. Andersen issued a marriage license Monday to Milton R. O'Conner, farmer, of Arcadia, and Miss Virginia Lutz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vere Lutz, also of Arcadia.

Judge Real Trout Fisherman.

To Judge John L. Andersen, Ernest Horner and Rollin Dye must go credit for making about the nicest catch of rainbow trout ever brought from the Cedar river. Fishing on the Psota place near Erickson Sunday, the men caught 15 trout. Largest measured 15 inches long and weighed about 1 1/2 pounds. They report trout plentiful in the Cedar and say that bluegills and bass also were biting good at Psota's lake and in the river Sunday.

Grain Harvesting Still Under Way

Barley and Oats Yields Are High but Rust Hurt Wheat; Corn Looking Good.

Harvesting of Valley county's biggest crop of small grains in many years is still in progress, with prospects that the smoke of threshing rigs will be seen on the horizon for many weeks to come. Yields of oats up to 60 bushels per acre are commonly reported and barley yields of 40, 45 and 50 bushels per acre are not unusual. Wheat in many sections seems to have been affected by rust, but the yield was not cut as badly as many farmers feared. Ten to 25 bushels per acre on wheat, with most of it running about 20, is the usual thing.

Prospects for a bumper crop of corn continue good, though a good rain would be most welcome everywhere. Most fields could stand a lot of dry weather yet without damage, however, and the whole Valley county crop picture is a promising one.

To the Pioneers and Citizens of Greeley, Valley, Gardfield, and Loup Counties:

On the 22nd of June, 1938, a few pioneers met at the home of Mrs. Alta McClimans, Burwell, Neb., for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Nebr. State Historical Society.

Our object is to gather, restore and protect the early history of this beautiful North Loup Valley. We respectfully ask all who favor this project to join this association by subscribing your name and paying fifty cents to the secretary Alta E. McClimans, Burwell, Neb. Cooperating with the North Loup Pioneer Association, organized in 1898, we are trying to secure title to Old Fort Hartsuff, that we may have a suitable place for taking care of the records and relics of the early days. We also propose to place monuments and markers on all historical sites on both sides of the North Loup river.

This is not a local affair—it is four counties bounding on the North Loup river. Plan to attend our next meeting to be held July 22nd, 2 p. m., in Riverside park, at Burwell Lake. North Loup Valley Historical Society. Truman Freeland, Pres. Alta E. McClimans, Sec'y.

Ord Audit Complete, Report Now on File

The audit of the city records by the firm of VanBoskirk and Reinington of Lincoln was recently completed and the report of the audit presented to the mayor and city council for their approval. A copy of the report is on file at the office of the city clerk, and is open to public inspection at any time.

While some of the funds are in the red, the report shows a balance on hand of $53,801.06, as of May 1, 1938. During the course of the examination the petty cash fund and the methods of making disbursements from the fund received some comment. The auditors suggested a method of making disbursements from this fund which would make the amounts and to whom issued show in the record.

Fusons Ord Visitors.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fuson arrived in Ord Thursday evening and remained until Tuesday afternoon as the guests of his mother, Mrs. Calista Fuson. They are on the western loop of their singing engagement, having filled a number of appointments throughout the northern states and coming to Ord from their last engagement at Minneapolis. From here their route takes them through the southern states. They are enjoying their trip, and were especially glad to be in Ord, which seems like home to them, although their residence is in New York.

Loyalist Installs An Address System

The latest equipment of the Loyalist office at North Loup is an amplifier formerly used by the Strand Theater, which will afford a public address system for the latest news flashes and advertising. The Quiz has been operating a broadcast through Aulsebrook's address system for eight months, being the first weekly in the state to do so, as far as can be learned. Now the Loyalist has followed suit, and this will make the only two papers to put out regular broadcasts both in Valley county.

A GOOD MAN FOR A GOOD JOB

The press in general over the state is giving its approval to the candidacy of Emerson R. Purcell for a place in the Unicameral, subject to the wishes of the voters in Custer, Loup and Garfield counties. This is as it should be. It is a pleasure to commend a man who needs no recommendation.

Mr. Purcell has served his district in the capacity of both senator and representative in the past, and his work met with general approval, not only at home, but over the entire state. If now wishes to represent his people in the unicameral, thus rounding out a perfect career in the legislative bodies of Nebraska.

The only regret that is expressed is that he did not choose to file for a state office this year, thus giving his friends from a distance a chance to express their approval of his record. He could have filled with credit any office within the gift of the people of the state of Nebraska, but felt that his duty was to his neighbors first.

DOING THE IMPOSSIBLE

When that celebrated French writer, Jules Verne wrote his celebrated work, "Around the World in 80 Days," the world was frankly amused. As a fantastic novel it was interesting to read, but as a scientific possibility it was absurd. No man had ever made the trip around the world in eighty days, nor in twice eighty days.

Because no man had ever done so, most men reasoned that man never would do so. The accomplishment of such a feat sixty or more years ago was impossible, but the book made interesting reading and it was translated into a number of different languages. The public read, were amused, and in time forgot the book entirely.

Comparatively few of the younger generation have even heard of the book. They do not have to live in a world of fancy as their grandparents did. They are living in a world of fact. Eighty days mean little to a rising generation who have already seen that time cut to slightly more than eighty hours. The fancies of the past have been swallowed up in the facts of today.

No records are at hand to tell just when the eighty day trip around the world became a fact, although it must have been before the dawn of the twentieth century. The records we have at hand were made by airplane. The first round the world flight was made by the U. S. Army fliers in 1924, the flying time being a little more than 14 days, but the elapsed time was 135 days, almost twice the 80 days of Jules Verne.

Then, in 1929, the German Graf Zeppelin went around the world in the elapsed time of slightly more than 20 days, or practically one-fourth of the 80 day trip. This was remarkable, but only two years later Post and Gatty went rushing around the globe in less than 9 days. Two years later, 1933, the late Wiley Post cut the time to less than 3 days, and made the trip alone.

What the world has been waiting for since that time has been a man with the money to spend and the willingness to spend it in making a world flight. That man appeared in the person of Howard Hughes, who had the plane, the ability to fly it and the willingness to spend his money for the sake of science. We all know the result. Fourteen thousand miles in less than four days defies belief, yet we all know it was done.

stand still for them, for they will be traveling with the speed of time itself. Using such a plane and traveling west instead of east, a party starting at noon would have the sun directly overhead during the entire journey around the world. If you think this sounds fantastic, remember what the people of this day thought of Jules Verne. In the light of our present knowledge, such a trip is possible, and what is possible some man will accomplish.

BOLAN AND JURGENSEN

Two names that are getting plenty of publicity these days are those of Walter Jurgensen and J. B. Bolan. Today Jurgensen stands convicted for embezzlement, and under sentence to serve from two to five years in the penitentiary. His lawyer has appealed the case, which is pending in the Nebraska supreme court.

Secretary of State Harry Swanson felt that these facts justified him in keeping the name of Jurgensen off the ballot, he having filed for re-election. In a mandamus action brought by Jurgensen's attorneys July 13, the Lancaster county district court was asked to compel Swanson to place the name on the ballot. In a decision handed down July 14 the court ordered the name retained on the ballot.

The petition filed by the attorneys stated that no one had objected to Jurgensen's filing, and that the secretary of state had no discretion in the matter. It asked that Mr. Swanson be required to place the name on the ballot, or show cause why it should not be done. The general public no doubt believes that the fact that he stands convicted should be sufficient to prevent his name appearing on the ballot.

On the other hand, J. B. Bolan filed for railway commissioner. Floyd Bollen, who is now in and hopes to stay in, figured this jeopardized his chances of re-election, and asked that the name be taken off the ballot. Investigation showed that Bolan had formerly been a Republican, and that he filed this year on the Democratic ticket. Therefore it has been ruled that his name cannot appear on the ballot.

Bolan, feeling that he has as much right to run for the office as anyone, started action to compel the placing of his name on the ballot, and the decision of the court will doubtless be made in a few days. Bolan has been convicted of no crime, and the only thing that stands against him is the fact that he exercised the privilege of changing his politics. If Floyd Bollen is afraid Nebraskans are too ignorant to distinguish between his name and that of J. B. Bolan, he should get out of politics.

LEWIS VS. COFFEE

According to the papers the CIO headed by John L. Lewis, has embarked on an attempt to purge out of public life a total of 40 congressmen whom they have listed as "unsatisfactory." Included in this list is Congressman Harry B. Coffee, of the 5th District in Nebraska. He has aroused their enmity by voting consistently against legislation sponsored by the CIO.

Coffee is not opposed to organized labor as represented by the American Federation of Labor and it is understood that this organization is not opposing him. In a state like Nebraska where labor troubles are practically unknown when compared with industrial areas, it is but natural that Mr. Coffee should find himself aligned against the radical element in labor. That our congressman has not been idle in Washington is attested by a warm personal letter he received from the speaker of the House, Wm. B. Bankhead, after the Seventy-fifth session, just closed. In this letter the Speaker thanked Mr. Coffee for his cordial cooperation in carrying forward the program of legislation, and congratulated him upon the high character of public service he had rendered.

No man in Congress these days can adopt a middle course without arousing the enmity of the radical element. No man who tries to accomplish anything worth while can prevent being in the public eye. A man is as well known by his enemies he makes as by the friends who praise him. Viewed from this point of view, it cannot be denied that Mr. Coffee has passed the acid test and is entitled to further opportunities for service.

Wheat loans averaging 59 to 60 cents a bushel were announced July 14 as federal reports indicated the wheat crop now moving to market is the second largest in U. S. history. All producers who did not plant more than five per cent in excess of their 1933 total depicting acreage allotment are eligible. The only security for loans will be wheat stored in licensed warehouses or farm bins or granaries approved by county AAA committees. Applications are to be made at county AAA offices. Purpose of the loan is to support prices and to orderly marketing. Nebraska's winter wheat crop is now estimated at 69,488,000 bushels.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT! Easier to Talk About Than to Do Heroism Must Be Its Own Reward

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Chapter II. The Secret of Good Children. The first essential of child raising is that the children should be made to mind their parents willingly and promptly.

Once when I was a small boy I brought home a pup. My father said to me sternly, "You may keep that dog if you can make him mind, if you can teach him to come when you call him and go when you send him. If you cannot teach him that he'll have to be shot."

Now we can hardly shoot the boy if he deliberately goes swimming when we send him after the cows, or turns and goes off when we ask him to help us load a pig that's about to get away, but it is true we might almost feel like it.

Everyone in this land of the free, must mind someone. If you have a job you must mind your boss. You must mind the peace officers and if you don't you'll be put in jail and if you don't mind the jailors there you'll eventually be shot, like the dog.

A farmer, perhaps one of the most independent of all men, must mind the banker, for there are few of them indeed who do not borrow once in a while. The banker is not exempt, for he must worry of and mind the depositors and directors. The austere and independent district judges have to obey in a sense the supreme court justices as well as the peace officers and they themselves must walk the straight and narrow or the voters will boost them out at election time. The President must obey the laws of the land, and must be brought to task every four years with the voters as judges. The members of the Supreme Court, appointed for life, are about the freest from discipline, but think of the kowtowing they had to do before getting their job.

In child raising, there are rank exceptions to all rules always. We can all see examples of a child who was never made to mind by his parents, and he turned out to be a fine citizen. Then we see another who has been in jail and in all sorts of trouble, that apparently had the best of training. But these are exceptions. The big average for fine men and women are of those children that were trained from childhood to mind and obey others.

Even regardless of the fact of how the child is going to turn out in the end, and with the belief that this theory is all bosh, that the child should do his own thinking, and not be mere rubber stamps or animals, regardless of that fact, the child that minds his parents is a much more pleasant child to live with than one yelling and tearing and going his own way unthoughtful of any comfort of others.

Yes, children should be made to mind, and this training should not be delayed until the child is half grown. We will find that parents who have well behaved children usually start early on the discipline problem. Teachers of the smaller grades will verify this theory and we all have heard them say time and again that almost invariably children who give them trouble in the primary classes and then on through the grades are those children who have not been properly disciplined at home.

All right, that seems to be settled. The child should be made to mind from the cradle, and that minding should continue, in this land of the free, throughout his life and to the grave. Beyond the grave, we will not promise, but still Saint Peter is there and the other fellow too.

Our little study of child raising has been simple so far, first that children are our best crop and that they must mind, but I can see already that we are approaching deep water. The question now is how to do this trick of making the child mind. It is easy to say, but not so easy to do. We'll need more thought on that angle of the question—the how to do it. Should we begin by whipping the child? Should we beg him, plead with him, lecture him, scold him, hire him or penalize him? We must make him mind. If we don't the police officer will sure enough take

My Own Column By H. D. Leggett

"We have been informed that one of our newly married young ladies kneads bread with her gloves on, says a certain newspaper. The editor of this paper needs bread with his trousers on; and unless the delinquent readers of this old rag of freedom pay up soon, he will need bread without a darn thing on."

After reading the above, Mrs. Roy Saunders clipped it and sent it to me with a renewal for her Quiz. She is one woman who can take a hint when she sees it. I trust others will be impressed as was Mrs. Saunders.

When John Ward began to get kidded about switching heads on Burwell and North Loup news last week, he laid it only on me and then the gang started on me, but it was not my fault. Harry did the make-up and he was in such a hurry to get started for Cullen lake that he got careless. Anyhow he is away and we can lay it onto him.

I just can't understand why they call them slumber parties for sure and they don't do much slumbering. But then, neither can I see why they say so and so had so and so as her house guests. Why put in the house? Of course everyone knows that Mrs. so and so didn't entertain her guests in the barn.

But then I can't understand why, just when all the farmers have a big crop of small grain the bottom has to drop out of the price or why, when a large percent of the small crop is in the hands of the elevators the price goes up. But that is the way it most always happens. Any farmer who can manage to hang onto his grain for a few months will probably be able to get double the money for it.

I hear a lot of fellows saying that what Omaha wants is usually just the opposite of what we, out here in Valley county want, and if Senator Frost is, as that Omaha big shot claims, always ready to go along with them down there, we had better elect Verne Robbins this year. And that is good sense. You will find Verne looking out not only for this district and not for Omaha, but you will find him doing all he can to keep the cost of government down to a minimum. He is entitled to every Valley county vote.

Every candidate for office who goes out and meets the voters, shakes hands with them, hands them a card, and because the voters don't kick him in the pants or slap him in the face, thinks said voter is going to vote for him election day, has another guess coming. It is human nature not to want to hurt the candidates feelings and there isn't much a voter can do but shake hands, smile, look pleasant, then go and vote as his conscience dictates. There are even a few voters who will promise every candidate a vote and each candidate thinks he is the preferred one, when the voter can only vote for one of them.

My advice to candidates is, don't ask anyone to vote for you; it just forces many of them to become liars. Peddle your cards if you must; say "I will appreciate your support" if opportunity offers and you can do it gracefully, but change the subject from politics as soon as possible and talk about something else and perhaps you won't be betrayed into making some fool promises that both you and the voters know you can't make good on.

The Quiz has, on its exchange table, all of the better weekly newspapers of Nebraska and we are honest and not bragging when we say that not a one of them carries as many engravings as does this newspaper. We believe our readers like the pictures; we try to represent every part of the county fairly with the pictures. Naturally there are more from near Ord because we hear about them and can get there and take a picture. Many interesting things from more distant parts of the county are lost because they are not reported to us.

In the coming election the voters are going to have a chance to vote on whether they will or will not legalize slot machine gambling. They did vote a few years ago, to legalize horse race gambling and I see no reason to believe they will not do the same now on this new proposition. If they do it will be the blackest blot that was ever smeared upon the good name of the state of Nebraska.

Don't be surprised if there are not as many grasshoppers next year, as there are this year. Mother nature has a way of righting such apparent wrongs as the grasshopper pest. A number of people now report that hoppers are dying and upon examination, are found to have tiny red lice or mites on them. These are said to be a natural enemy of the hoppers and they may kill so many that the hatch next year will not be serious.

No. Loup Town Team Defeats Legion Juniors

Sunday on the North Loup grounds the Ord Legion Junior team met defeat at the hands of an older and more experienced town team. The Ord boys are all under 17, a Legion Junior requirement, but North Loup had to use older players in order to get a team. It was a pitcher's battle, with Misko striking out eleven and Sheldon ten in the seven inning game, which ended with a score of ten to four in favor of North Loup. The boys did not hope to defeat their more experienced opponents, and are well pleased with the showing they made.

ONE SCHOOL THE ORD QUIZ DID NOT VISIT

The Ord Quiz was a flourishing paper at the time that Photographer Hurley took the picture shown above, but its representatives were not visiting rural schools as they did the past year. The picture was taken about fifty years ago, and shows the school taught at that time by one George Truitt. The school house was located on the southeast corner of Section 22 in Enterprise township, one mile east of the old Mira Creek post office. In the front row, left to right are Irving Honnold, (unknown), Lillian Johnson (Williamson), Clara Clement (Holmes), Aya Clement (Johnson), Wilmore Gray, Jessie Ward (Hoe), Ed. W. Armstrong, Laura Kaiser (?), Alice Gray (Bell), Flora Ward (Whitford). In the back row are J. R. Cook, (unknown), Herman and Carl Koelling, Will Armstrong, Fannie Kaiser (?), Alice Armstrong, Mary Alter, (unknown), Arthur Honnold. The tall fellow at the right is Harry Armstrong, and the two girls in the door, Anna Armstrong and Maude Gray (Hastings). Nearly half of them have passed to the great beyond, but other still live in Mira Valley, North Loup and elsewhere. Three are marked unknown, and it is possible mistakes have been made in identifying others, but those who attended will tell you it was a grand old school.

MIRA VALLEY

Lyle Foth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Foth, had the misfortune of having a compound fracture of his leg and a broken wrist as the result of falling from a tree limb, which gave way. The boys were playing at the Walter Fuss home, where it happened July 7. Dr. Rounds was called and the boy was taken by ambulance to the Ord hospital where the fracture was reduced. He is getting along fine but will remain in the hospital indefinitely.

—Col. Charles Radil and Wesley Eberhart made a business trip to Grand Island Wednesday.

—Miss Helen Pokraka of Denver is spending this week at the John Iwanski home.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karty and daughter were visitors at the John Iwanski home near Elyria Thursday evening.

—Mrs. Olive Mayden arrived Friday from western Nebraska and will spend a week visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rahmeyer.

—Miss Evelyn Loft, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Loft, left this morning for Bronson, Mo., where she intends to spend a week's vacation. Miss Loft is employed in the Springer Variety store.

—Miss Virginia McLain, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew McLain of York, returned to her home Monday. Miss McLain spent last week with the Paul Duemey family.

—Mr. and Mrs. I. C. Clark and son Fred and family drove over to visit Mrs. Clark's sister, Mrs. Hatie Hopkins, of near Mullen, Nebr., Sunday. Mrs. Hopkins' children were present from Eddyville and Callaway, and there were 17 guests in all.

—Friday Mrs. John Andersen and daughter Barbara, Mrs. Hans Andersen, Mrs. Reginald Beeghly, Carson Rogers and Rodney Rathbun went to Grand Island, where the three young people were having dental work done.

—Friday Mr. and Mrs. Jacob VanWieren were brought from Arcadia to Ord by Rev. Howells and left to visit at the John Andersen home while he went on to Burwell, he took Mr. VanWieren back with him, but Mrs. VanWieren remained in Ord for a longer visit.

—John A. Myers, representative of the Rogers Tent and Awning company of Fremont, and well known in this section of Nebraska, was in Ord Wednesday evening. He has been over the greater part of the state, and holds the opinion that the present crop will not do a great deal to settle the farm problem, because the grain crop made it necessary for so many to purchase new harvesting machinery, the cost of which will do much to offset the gain. However, with the new machinery purchased, the results of a good crop next year will be much more noticeable, he believes.

—Kit Carson and son Hugh came up from Omaha Saturday for a few days visit in Ord.

—Saturday was Steve Grochowski's birthday.

—Rev. Handley came up from Ufa Sunday to supply at the Ord Presbyterian church.

—O. B. Mutter was over from Comstock Sunday to visit his mother and other relatives and friends.

—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Cushman of Kearney and her sister, Mrs. C. M. Wood, of Eugene, Ore., were in Ord visiting Friday, and took time to make a pleasant call at the Quiz office.

—Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Benda arrived Wednesday evening for a visit at the Roy Severson home. They will be here for about two weeks, and expect to go to Boston, Mass., to make their home some time in August.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leon Bresley drove from Colome, S. D., Tuesday and took Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bresley with them to Omaha. They returned Wednesday. Harry driving back a new V-8. Leon Bresley is an auto dealer at Colome.

—Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cowan and daughter, and Mrs. Bill Cowan and daughter arrived in Ord Sunday evening from Madison, Wis., and will spend a week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cohen and other relatives and friends in Ord. Gerald is in the employ of the Firestone Service Store of Madison, and this is his regular vacation.

—Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gruber returned by bus Thursday from their six weeks' trip to Los Angeles, Calif., where they visited their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Gruber, and also met a large number of former Ordites. They are especially enthusiastic over the new air-conditioned buses, stating that they are fully as comfortable as the best trains. Not the least of the pleasure of the trip was making the acquaintance of their new grandson.

—C. Williams and wife returned to Ord as mentioned last week, and will remain here for the present. Mr. Williams states that he had a very good job for the last twelve weeks of his stay there as night watchman for a company that was building a new type of gold-saving machine, the only one of its kind in existence at the present time. This machine runs on the hydraulic principle, but also uses high voltage electricity and can handle a ton of ore per minute. Tests with it show that it can extract more gold from worked over ore than the older type machines get from the same ore in the first place. Due to the death of the promoter the business is shut down temporarily, but Mr. Williams is assured of a job when they start up again, and thinks he may take it. He drew better than $100 per month there, with little to do and a chance to sleep several hours each night.

—Walt Desch returned Thursday at 11:00 a. m. from his trip to Idaho. His niece, Mrs. Tooley of Central City, who went out with him, was busy visiting her son who is in the newspaper game in Yakima, Wash., and also visiting in other Washington towns, and decided she was not ready to come home yet. Walt drove from Nampa, Idaho, to Medicine Bow, Wyo. the first day, to Chappell, Nebr. the second day, and home the third. He reports crops and fruit fine in Idaho, but conditions there are worse than they are here, and there is no market for the fruit and labor troubles tend to disrupt business conditions. He saw Frank Gifford, who is working at the sale barns, one day in each week at Nampa and Colwell, Ida., and Ontario, Ore. Mines and lumber mills are closing down. A large percent of the WPA are floaters. He took a trip up in the mountains to McCall, where Metra-Godlyn-Mayer is filming "The Northwest Passage" and had a very enjoyable time watching them. It is a wonderful irrigation country, but under present conditions the water costs too much in proportion to the return from the crops. He spent his time largely visiting a brother and niece in Nampa, and a niece in Parma. He saw Ponce Heuck. He also saw Ozzie Timm but the family left for a vacation shortly after he arrived. Dow Harris is still with the Nampa Credit Bureau and has a busy time of it. He saw Les Pavek and Walt Lieberg, who is a son-in-law of the O. Winders'.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Stoltz and son Rodney drove to Lincoln Sunday. From there they travelled to Waldron, Mich., where they will spend a two weeks' vacation visiting relatives. Miss Virginia Cotton of Lincoln accompanied them.

—Among the Ord people at Ericson Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Kokes and family, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duemey and LaVerne and Frances, Mr. and Mrs. James Wachtrie and daughter Angelina, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karty and daughter Lillian, Misses Opal Miller and Ilene Weller, and Arden Clark and Jack Janssen.

—This week Keith Lewis, manager of the Penney store, is expecting to leave for Richfield, U. to spend a two weeks' vacation. Mrs. Lewis and Kirk, accompanied by Mrs. W. H. Walker of Omaha, went there a couple of weeks ago. Kirk is visiting his grandparents in Richfield and Madams Lewis and Walker are sojourning in a cabin on Fish Lake near there. They will accompany Mr. Lewis back to Ord on his return.

—Mrs. Hall Barnes of Sheridan, Wyo., in writing to renew her Quiz says they are having real summer weather now, although they have had cool weather up to now. Her daughter Edna is in the hospital being prepared for a serious operation.

—Eml Darges left Sunday evening for a two weeks' vacation in Los Angeles, accompanied by Harry Zukowski, Dale Melia, Richard Severson and Wayne Johnson. Harry and Wayne will not return with the boys, but will stay in California; Harry at the home of his sister, Mrs. Jack Berglund, and Wayne has found employment there.

Don't Let Hot Days Spoil Your Appetites

It is true that people often don't have much appetite for heavy, hot meals on days when Old Sol is burning his rays down, although the doctors tell us hot foods are better than cold foods for our health's sake in hot weather.

But regardless of whether you want to serve a tasty hot meal or a tasty cold meal, our market can assist you.

Hot weather or cool weather, our selection of quality fresh meats is large. And during July and August our stock of cooked, ready-to-serve meats reaches its peak. Cheese, pickles, condiments, bread, etc., also.

When planning your hot weather meals, visit our market first.

Burwell News

Written by Rev. W. L. GODDELL

Ed Cram returned home Saturday evening from a six weeks' trip on the west coast. He visited his invalid cousin, Chas. Frary at Sequoia Park, near Fresno, Calif. Other points visited by him were the Yosemite National Park, Sacramento, San Francisco and the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, where he spent July 4. In San Diego he visited in the homes of Mrs. C. H. Erwin and Mrs. P. P. Scott, former residents of Burwell, in Long Beach he visited John Opp, former superintendent of Burwell schools and Fred Meyer and son Raleigh and Chuck Grunkemeyer and Leonard Manasil in Los Angeles. He also visited in Tijuana, Mexico. He brought back with him 3 cones from a sugar pine tree, measuring 16 in. long and 5 1/2 in. in diameter. These pine trees grow to the height of 200 or 300 feet. He is also exhibiting 20 rattles that measure 1/2 in. long besides the button, from a snake killed by a farmer near the Chas. Frary home.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Struve and Mrs. Wm. Donald spent from Thursday until Sunday in Omaha.

Homer Livermore returned home Friday from Pretty Prairie, Kas., where he spent the past several weeks visiting relatives and working in the harvest field.

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie were called to Wayne Sunday because of the death of their son-in-law, Harry Baird, 48 years of age, who passed away in a Norfolk hospital following an accident with a tractor while pulling up hay. The tractor passed over his body and he was taken to the hospital but was thought to be improving until complications set in and he passed away Sunday morning. He leaves a wife and seven children.

Mrs. R. B. Miller celebrated her 70th birthday Monday, July 18. She was born in Albert Lea, Minn., in 1868 and came to Nebraska in a covered wagon settling on a farm near Fort Hartsuff. The postoffice near the fort at that time was known as Calamus. In 1885 she was living in Ord and was united in marriage to R. B. Miller. They went to live in Cherry county, 50 miles south of Valentine where Mr. Miller was foreman of a large ranch. In 1886 Mr. Miller participated in one of the last big round-ups in Cherry county. In that same year they moved to Fort Hartsuff where Mr. Miller had charge of a store, later moving to Ord for a year, and then back to the fort where their three children, Leon C., Robert Dudley, and Margie L., were born. In 1894 they moved to Eugene, Ore., where they remained for about a year, going from there to Belton, Tex., and in 1896 came to Burwell where they have since made their home. It was while living on the Janckec farm northeast of town that their daughter Isla was born in 1900. They lived for a while on the farm now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Fogel and after the tornado came, destroying a large portion of the north part of Burwell, they moved into town and in the fall of 1912 they built the large house in which they now live. Several of their winters have been spent in Miami Beach, Fla., with their daughter, Margie and family. Mr. and Mrs.

Mrs. Charles Stichler An Expert Maker of Quilts; Has Finished More Than Hundred

There is living in Ord, a woman who is one of our most expert quilt-makers. She is Mrs. Charles Stichler. Mrs. Stichler was born in Monroe County, Indiana in 1869. Later her family moved to Illinois. When she was nine years old, the family came to Nebraska, and she has lived here ever since. In 1887 she married Mr. Stichler. The Stichler family celebrated their golden wedding anniversary two years ago. Mrs. Stichler is a non-partisan in the matter of political parties. She says "I just pick out the one whom I want and then I vote for him." Most of Mrs. Stichler's spare time is spent in sewing. She likes to do any kind of fancy work, but quilt-making is her favorite. When I asked her if she thought she had made over one hundred quilts, she replied, "Oh yes, I think I've made far over a hundred, but it's so hard to keep count of them when you make so many." At present she is making a quilt for each of her grandchildren. Out of the twelve that there are to be made, she already has seven finished and given to the children. She has no particular favorite pattern for her quilts, but she likes to make flower quilts such as patterns of iris, tulips, etc. She says that she has made so many different patterns of quilts, that she really doesn't remember all the different patterns she has used. Her quilts make ideal Christmas, and birthday gifts for her children and grandchildren. Piled on a chair in the hallway, she has about seven quilts that are partly finished, and about seven more that are entirely finished.

When You And I Were Young Maggie July 19, 1928. R. G. Desch, for many years a resident of Ord, passed away at the age of 64 years, and was buried at Ord. He was survived by Walter and Charles of Ord and other relatives at Central City and Omaha. The Schudel car from North Loup was forced off the highway near the D. B. Huff farm by a collision with another car, and the three persons in the car, Miss Margaret Schudel and Mrs. Gladys Tschauer of North Loup and Fred Schudel of Chicago, all sustained minor injuries. The other car was driving with only one headlight and no tail light, and drove on without stopping to render assistance. The old settlers' picnic, scheduled to be held in the community park at Scotia, was held in the Methodist church because of weather conditions. The meeting was called to order by George W. McAnully, president, and was addressed by District Judge Bayard H. Paine of Grand Island. With Al Furtak striking out nine batters, Rounds team won at Comstock by a score of 7 to 4. Gibson for Comstock struck out 11, but allowed 11 hits while his team was collecting only 6. In spite of wet roads that were almost impassable, a large crowd gathered at the Ocean school house to participate in a big homecoming event planned by the teacher, Miss Flavia Twombly. Mrs. L. D. Pierce passed away at her home in Ord after an illness of six months, at the age of 64 years. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Thrasher old time residents of North Loup, returned from Twin Falls, Ida., for a visit with their old friends and neighbors. Mrs. Mary Clement and Misses Elsie and Alta Van Horn of North Loup left for California, where they planned to visit and also to attend the Seventh Day Baptist conference at Riverside. The Loup Valley Fair and Races had secured two new acts, a comedy drama and negro jubilee singers. The following were the heads of the several departments: Agriculture, S. W. Roe; cattle and sheep, Henry Jorgensen; hogs, Claire Clement; horses, J. C. Meese; speed, Ernest Hill; concessions and police, C. W. McClellan and John Klein; poultry, Evet Smith; school, Miss Clara McClatney; fine arts, Mrs. A. W. Cornell; home economics, Mrs. H. B. VanDecar; flowers, Mrs. C. E. McGrew and boys and girls clubs, C. C. Dale. W. A. Anderson, who was in Omaha recovering from two operations, wrote a long and very interesting letter which was published in the Quiz. The Ord business men picked up a ball team and defeated Round's Irish Spuds by a score of 7 to 4 in a seven inning contest. Ray Harding was laid up with a broken arm which he suffered when a plank fell on it while working near the Sumner bridge. July 18, 1938. Rudolph Sorensen, who had arrived at Long Beach, Calif., from Ord, wrote a long letter to the Quiz telling all about his trip. A car trip in those days was not the two or three day affair it is now, but he stated that he averaged about 100 miles per day. Captain David Fallon, formerly editor of the New York Herald, was scheduled to appear on the Ord chautauqua platform in his famous war lecture, "The Big Fight." This was later written into a book and there are a number of copies of the book to be found in Ord. Luther Pierce, who was proprietor of the store at Horace, was brought to the Ord hospital. His father and sister were spending most of their time looking after the store. Joe Kriz and her mother arrived in Ord from Alberta, Canada, where the family had been living for some time. Mr. Kriz was to join the family as soon as the crop was harvested. Fifteen or twenty of the Home Guards went out to the Battle place and other places in Springdale and shocked wheat until ten o'clock at night, for nothing. Now, when the farmers need some work done for nothing, they have to pay for it. Ign. Klima, jr., of Morrill, Neb., had received word that he could go to war. He had failed to pass the regular examinations several times, but finally received an appointment as stenographer. Clay McGrew had taken up a new trade, and was busy selling automobiles for George Newbeck. There was an impromptu gathering at the P. C. Williams home when a number of relatives gathered in honor of Wilford and his new wife, the former Mary Harding. The Home Guards were soon to be equipped with their new uniforms and rifles. The uniforms had been ordered for some time and more recently an order had been placed for the rifles. Every thresherman was required to keep an account of the kind and amount of grain threshed on every farm, for the purpose of preventing the hoarding of grain. Harry H. Tatlow and Miss Edith LeMasters were married at the home of Judge H. Gudmundsen. Joe L. Dworak and Eustis McLain were on a long auto trip, which took them to Deming, N. M. and were planning to go on to California. Dr. C. J. Miller and F. J. Vopat and their wives went to Kimball, Neb., where the men were to arrange for the seeding of 500 acres to winter wheat. Mrs. Lester Norton of Elyria had her hands somewhat burned and the kitchen smoked when an oil stove exploded.

July 23, 1938. According to reports in the papers, there was a great shortage of qualified teachers. A petition headed by J. P. Baird was filed with the county clerk, asking that the name of Peter Mortensen be placed on the ballot for representative from Valley County. Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Fries of Arcadia left for a month's visit with relatives at Bozeman, Mont. John Wail of Arcadia left for Hot Springs, Ark., where he expected to remain for six weeks or more. C. E. Hoffman, who had been conducting a shooting gallery on the east side of the square for several weeks, returned to his home at Ashland. Cornell Bros. were unloading another carload of Moon Bros. bugles, which were in as much demand as reconditioned cars are today. Norm Parks had bought the Burwell Tribune from Editor Todd, and expected to take charge at once. The Ord baseball team played a fast traveling organization known as the "Bloomer Girls" and were badly defeated. It was understood that ice would go to fifty cents per hundred after Aug. 1. That price apparently was high then, but is the regular rate now. Max Westover had commenced learning the jewelry trade under George A. Parkins. The Catholics of Ord were to hold a meeting in the Ord Episcopal church, with the view toward building a church in Ord and having a pastor located here permanently. F. M. Currie was in Ord and reported that he had shipped several carloads of ore from his mine in Mexico, at a net profit of $600 per carload. Of course he was still selling stock in the enterprise. Ord was having a very attractive picnic. Gertrude Kasson and Ellis Klingensmith were married at Grand Island, July 4. Collison Bros. were advertising flour made in Ord at $1.35 and $1.45 per sack, somewhat higher than it is today, but wheat was worth more at that time. The Union Pacific was advertising a special round trip vacation rate to Denver for $15.70. A rancher at San Jose, Calif., had ordered a shipment of five hundred monkeys from Panama, and expected to use them in gathering his crop of prunes. July 22, 1938. The Burwell Mascot was quoted as follows: "Why do not the populist party of this part of the Big Six get together and make a long pull and a strong pull for the congressional nomination of Chas. A. Munn of Ord? There isn't a better qualified man for that political position in the district." The Ord nine went to North Loup and was defeated by a score of 13 to 12. M. P. Calhoun had purchased a fine new surrey, and his daughters could take a ride without the aid of the young men. The school house in the Barker district, southwest of North Loup was to be sold at auction, and a new one was to be built for the coming school year. Dr. Luddington and son George and a nephew Fred Luddington, started for Sioux City overland to look after some boats the doctor had there. Miss Breeze Parks was to go to work for the Ord Journal to learn the trade. Ord was to have an Uncle Tom's Cabin show, and the following was the cast of characters: Uncle Tom, Lynn Barnes; Marie St. Clair, Grace Work; Miss Ophelia, Sophie Reithardt; Topsy, Hattie Dworak; Eva, Helen Barnes; Simon Legree, John Work; Harry, Lillie Dworak; Marks, Roy Work; Haley, Stanley Dworak. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Vogeler, Tuesday, July 19. Miss Emma Robbins was elected by the Ord school board to fill out the list of teachers. The Ord Hardware company had two steam threshers, used but in good shape, for sale. They are now a thing of the past. The parents of M. B. Goodenow and his brother Charles, wife and children, returned to their home at Clear Lake, Ia., after a visit with the Goodenows and the A. J. Smiths. A number of headers had been sold in the valley to date and that method of cutting the crop seemed to be popular. Prof. H. M. Davis was the editor of the Ord Journal during the absence of the owners, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Claffin. Bud Shirley went to Omaha to take part in the state trap shoot, in case participation would not affect his amateur standing. The Perry elevator was sold to the Loup Valley Grain company. A partnership was formed between Charles A. Munn and George W. Hall for the practice of law. Silence at the Switch-Board. Doris Silence is assisting in the telephone central office while Mildred Shirley is taking her annual vacation last week and this week.—Palmer Journal. The Watch Came Back. Recently R. L. Shumacher, local jeweler, received a watch to be repaired from Harry Ward. Examination showed that it was the first watch that Shumacher repaired in St. Paul, and it was brought in by Harry's father, L. I. Ward, 27 years ago.—St. Paul Phonograph. Sometimes They Are Right. Patrons of a local movie were dumfounded to see the hero fire six shots, run out of shells and actually throw the gun away. Usually their careless disregard for fact is equalled only by their execrable aim.—Central City Nonpareil.

Until I went to Minnesota I had never heard of Paul Bunyan, but since that time I have learned countless stories of his prowess, and find that he is claimed in many other states as well as Minnesota. Paul is the one great American character of legendary fame, is reputed to have been 150 feet tall.

Paul was born in the state of Maine, leaving the stork in the state of exhaustion. As a baby he grew so fast that he left behind three outgrown cradles a week and his father got more and more disgusted trying to keep up. The thrashings of the baby in his cradle knocked down trees in a couple of states one night and the natives were indignant, so his father built a bigger cradle still, anchored it off the coast. Rocking the cradle caused the tides, and Paul's father knew he had to move to a more open country so the boy would have more room.

The big boy's appetite was prodigious, his pancake griddle was 263 feet across, and to make him a custard took 144 dozen eggs. One day he disliked the custard and threw it out the window, and so ice cream was discovered, and they always made it by throwing it out the window. Cement mixers made the pancake batter, the griddle was greased by colored boys skating with slabs of bacon tied to each foot. Doughnuts for Paul were so big that four of them made a load for two men.

Paul found a white ox, which turned blue the year of the two winters. The temperature stayed under 200 below zero all that winter and words froze in the air. When they thawed in the spring the racket was terrible. Paul carried the north wind 659 miles from nowhere and tied it to a pole, thus creating the north pole.

Babe, Paul's big ox, was so big his footprints made the Minnesota Lakes, and when he dug after a field mouse, the Mammoth Caves of Kentucky were formed. When Paul watched camp moved, Babe was hitched on and towed the entire camp outfit 3,000 miles in a day. The Mississippi was caused by a leak in one of the camp water wagons. In deepening it, Paul threw dirt east and west, thus forming the Rocky Mountains and the Allegheny Mountains. Rocks he piled around a pike hole became Pike's Peak, and when he dragged his peavy hook the Grand Canyon was scratched out. Paul worked so fast it looked as though he threw dirt in two directions at once.

And Paul cut big trees so fast he invented the two edged axe, which sharpened on the backswing. His axe got so hot he had to cool it in the waters at Yellowstone Park, which made the water boil and serve up boiled fish. Paul's woodsmen got so sick of eating boiled fish they threatened to quit working for him. Paul's dinner horn, the first time they blew it, knocked over ten acres of trees.

Paul dug the Great Lakes to make a water hole for Babe, took one look at the Round River, didn't like it, so he picked it up and straightened it. His only love affair ended in the tears that made Salt Lake. He dug Puget Sound so Babe would have a place to rest while sick, but it filled up with water and couldn't be used. Paul caught a whale so Babe could have

Cabbage July 4th

Mrs. Will Kluna planted 200 frost proof cabbages about April 15 this year, and they grew so well that she made 18 gallons of kraut July 4th. The largest head at that time weighed 5 pounds. They were grown on the Tom Borovka place in Springdale, and the little girl shown in the picture is Dorothy Ann Kluna.

whale milk to drink while sick. Paul tore down the famous Paul Bunyan Mountains, so there would be a place for the prairies. His strawboss, Chris Crosshaul, drove the wrong logs down the Mississippi, so Paul fed Babe salt pork. Babe got thirsty and when Babe drank he sucked logs and river back upstream.

While down south Paul got lonesome for white snow so he invented cotton. He stood in lower Texas and knocked rocks into Florida, thus inventing golf. One day when he had nothing to do, Paul found a moose skeleton, and followed its tracks back to the place where it was born.

Paul's bookkeeper John Inkslinger had so much figuring to do he hitched two hollow pens to two barrels of ink, inventing two fountain pens at once. When he was two years old, he rigged up a shower bath, and so Paul built Niagara Falls. He used a salt fish for a boat, a frozen swordfish as a weapon, duelling a bell-tailed sea serpent to death with this instrument.

Thousands of stories are told of Paul, all true, every word. But you wouldn't believe me if I told any more of them today. —Irma.

The Jolly Camarettes. The Jolly Camarettes club met at the home of Darlene Mulligan July 14, all members being present, and one visitor, Mrs. Ed Schudel. Darlene Mulligan demonstrated how to make puffy omelets. Refreshments served were ice cream cookies and ice tea. A delightful time is reported. The next meeting will be held in the home of Audrey Psota. Audrey Psota, news reporter.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Nebraskans in Oregon To the Editor of the Quiz: Thought I would write a few lines and tell you of a few happenings here in Oregon.

Last Saturday night we had a very pleasant surprise when two of our neighbors in Nebraska, Mr. and Mrs. Con Furtwangler and son Connie and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wigent and son Lamoine, drove in the yard. They stayed until Sunday afternoon. They were all looking good and it sure was a treat to see them and what visiting took place!

They told about going up to see Walter Slobazewski, who used to live on the old Turk place, also had been up to see Roy Hansen's and stopped to see Eddie Dworak, who has a good job in a garage at Oregon City. So you see there are quite a few Valley county folks here.

Con's and Frank have been having pretty steady work since coming, working in the berries and fruit which will last until nearly fall.

We have a Nebraska club organized here at Eugene, meets once a month and have had from 75 to 200 in attendance. We are going to have a large picnic the last Sunday in July and then take a large delegation from here to the state picnic held at Corvallis the first Sunday in August.

It is very dry here and there is much danger of forest fires. There is one not more than 50 or 60 miles to the west of us which makes it very smoky. They have almost 700 men fighting it. So many dry electrical storms in the mountains that set fires.

I am now working out of Eugene about 3 miles, on a poultry ranch. We had quite a number of cherry trees and some blackberries and Ellen has close to a 100 quarts of fruit canned now.

Another coincidence that came up last Sunday was that our friends in Eugene, Mr. and Mrs. Dave Haggart, who come out on Sundays, found that Mr. Haggart and Frank Wigent were related by marriage of cousins. Mr. Haggart's cousin being Mrs. Leslie Mason of Ord. Mrs. Furtwangler and Mrs. Haggart had not seen each other for 22 years when they were playmates in Grand Island.

Guess this is enough for one time. We sure enjoy the Quiz and read every bit of it. I like George Gowen and Lillian Karty's true to life stories best. All for now. Yours truly, John Campbell, R. F. D. No. 3, Eugene, Ore.

P. S. At our last Nebraska picnic I met Johnny Lewis' brother. He is near Junction City, a Mr. Albers, who farmed on Gravel creek and several from Burwell, North Loup and Scotia. Also met H. R. Packard's brother and family and others who knew people we knew. 'Tis a small world after all. John C.

Dear friends of the Quiz family: Many of you have told me you enjoy letters in the Quiz. Often we hear the remark "I'd rather take a licking than write a letter." Truth of the matter with me is, I like to write letters, just can't resist.

Last week I returned from a visit in the southwest part of Nebraska. Certainly a treat to drive any where in the state this year. Corn is farther along than I ever saw it at this time of year. Years ago in Illinois I used to hear farmers say, "I'll have my corn laid by by the Fourth." It is safe to say

Archie Geweke Farm Equipped With Wincharger is a Model, Modern, Farm Home

THE above picture group tells the story of a Valley county farm home made beautiful and convenient by the use of electricity. The Archie Geweke family of Mira Valley have enjoyed and profited by the use of electrical equipment for ten years, first with a Delco-Light plant which is still used as a stand-by for the new Wincharger, installed a year ago.

The Geweke family's attractive garden and lawn, as well as their convenient bath and toilet facilities, are made possible by the water pressure system in conjunction with electricity.

Miss Darlene says the job of ironing is a pleasure—as she can turn on the electric fan and radio and be comfortable while she is working. Mrs. Geweke says the vacuum cleaner and electric washer have completely changed the picture of house cleaning and wash day. Master Lloyd tells us the electric equipped separator, the yard lights and motors in the shop, as well as lights in the feed yards and outbuildings make his work on the farm pleasant and interesting. Electricity played its part in raising the nice flock of chickens, with heat in the brooder and lights to protect the chicks from varmints and to eliminate piling up.

A visit to the Geweke farm or a chat with Archie will convince any farmer that a modern, electrically equipped farm is the happy, contented and profitable goal that is within the reach of everyone today.

that many fields were laid by here in Nebraska by that time. The stand is good too. Very few fields with missing hills.

Small grain is also a sight to behold. Hundreds of acres cut and shocked. In many fields they were running the combine. The stand seemed to be perfect. People all along the way were happy and thankful they had stayed by our dear old state.

I'll have to tell you a mean trick I played on Lloyd. We came to an oil station at the edge of a little town east of McCook. While he and the manager were working on the car, I proceeded to search for a good drink of water. The manager said, "Just step inside, we live in the back of the station, my wife will get you a drink." As I went in I could see the lady of the house in the dining room and the cutest little white dog under the table. I was so interested in the dog I forgot about being thirsty and tried to get it to come to me. It would not and the lady said "Come here Miss Jones." Upon being addressed thusly, it was all attention. Struck me so funny, I stepped to the door and said "Lloyd, come here, I want you to meet Miss Jones." He tried to be very polite, came right in, smoothing back his hair and saying "Not very presentable. Been working on the car." I introduced them and the fact that he is fond of dogs was all that saved my scalp.

We drove on to McCook, then northwest to Hayes Center, the little inland town where Kirby is located. We found the doctor and his family all around the supper table. We opened the door and walked right in. Chairs all slid back from the table at once. You know the rest.

The next day we were taken to see the United Air Lines' emergency landing field and broadcasting station KB, two miles east of Hayes Center. Green lights mark runways for night landing. There are only four stations like this in the world. The other three, one at Denver, one at Akron, Colo., and the other at Hartford, Conn. Cost of the two stations at Hayes Center and Akron were two hundred and fifty thousand dollars. Hayes Center employs four radio operators. These are the only stations that can broadcast voice and range at the same time.

At night of June 21, 22, 23 and 24 a plane came bearing ten pilots. Each pilot had to land the plane so there were ten landings. Two planes bearing passengers go east over Hayes Center to Chicago each morning and back in the evening.

Ten miles northeast of Hayes Center is a state recreation park, nice picnic ground and place to swim.

Mrs. H. B. McKibbin called on me. They used to live in Ord. Mr. McKibbin was employed by H. M. Davis when he was editor of the Ord Journal. They are printing a paper in Hayes Center. Mr. Johnson, the barber that left Ord a short time ago, has a shop in the little town and wished to be remembered to friends here.

One pleasant memory of the trip was a call on Mrs. Gertrude (Noll) Trout. A very busy farmer's wife, but glad to stop work any time for a little visit with an Ord friend. Also she is not too busy to drive thirteen miles every Sunday to teach a class. Mrs. Trout has two children, Margaret, who graduated from high school last spring and will teach the school next term that the son Norval taught last year. Norval will teach in the grade school in Hayes Center beginning in September.

Dr. McGrew and family were all happy and quite busy. Two patients called to consult the doctor, while I was there, just knew they would surely die but to me seemed very much alive. One, a bad case of poison ivy, the other the worse batch of chiggers on record.

Lloyd left for the harvest fields in Kansas. I planned to come home by bus but Dora kindly volunteered to bring me home which to me is the ideal way of traveling. Yours truly, Mrs. C. E. McGrew.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS By Lillian Karty

I heard a timely discussion on the subject of swimming the other day. The group was discussing the drowning of a nineteen-year-old boy at Scotia. Verne Malolepszy, who is recognized as a fairly good swimmer, was of the opinion that no person who gets tired while swimming, should ever attempt to swim in still water. The entire group agreed that everyone, old or young, should have some swimming instruction, and a little course in life-saving.

Seein' things: Adam Dubas giving free rides to all the fair young maidens on Richard Rowbal's bike Vivian Cummins and Rich Rowbal riding on the same bike. Evelyn Sharp at the dance Wednesday night escorted by Suitby and McMichael of Arcadia.

Personal attention: In my column last week, I mentioned something about Eleanor Wolfe coming home at eight o'clock a. m. It happened that she had spent the night at Margie Smith's. Daffynition: A "toitle" is a modern, streamlined turtle. (In language only).

In the surrounding country: A foursome seen frequently near Ericson is Jack Jansen, Betty Belle Adams, Harold Pray and Maxine Severns. Occasionally this group is accompanied by Ilene Weller and LaVerne Duemey. Back in town: Arden Clark and Virginia McLain of York make a nice couple.

Canal Scene at Blaha Brothers' Farm

One of the beauty spots along the line of the Burwell-Sumter canal is shown above. It is taken at Blaha Bros. farm at the south edge of Garfield county, and is a view from the southeast showing the deep cut that it was necessary to make to carry the canal around behind the farm buildings. The depth of the canal here is about forty feet on the up hill side, and of course the dirt is piled much higher than this. In the foreground is shown the Blaha farm bridge, with one of the canal turn-outs just below it.

New Wagon As Birthday Gift for Johnnie

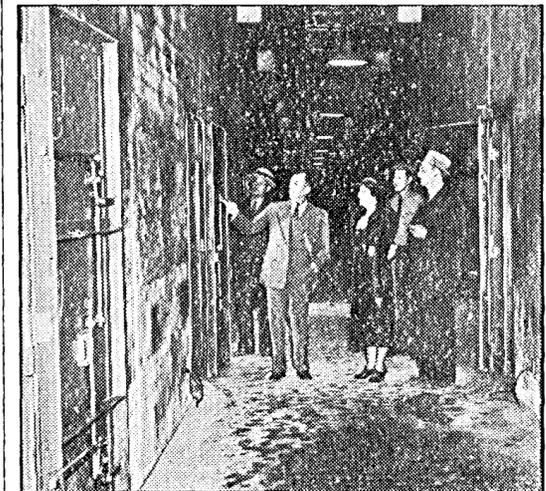

Tuesday, July 19, was the 56th birthday of John Lewis, and his friends decided to make it a real occasion for him. Headed by Walter Thodal, president of the Booster club, they bought him a new motor wagon to use in delivering his laundry, and also a five dollar bill to use in buying gas. The presentation was made at the barber shop Tuesday evening. About fifty friends contributed, and as many more would have done so had they been given the opportunity.

Burwell Man Invents Key Tractor

Above is shown Ernest Key of Burwell and the farm tractor of which he is the inventor. Early in the spring the first "Key Tractor" was used on the Van Winkle farm 7 miles northwest of Burwell to pull a two-row lister. A Model "T" rear end is used to make the steering device, and with brakes on the rear wheels it is possible to make a square turn. One of his tractors has been used to pull the grader used by the Burwell street department. He has now installed a 7-foot mower with power takeoff, which will be used on the Albert J. Nelson ranch. The tractor is powered with a Model "A" motor and has a Model "AA" rear end with double transmission.

TAYLOR NEWS

By Miss Leona Fleming

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reed of California and their old friends and neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Garska of Kent vicinity, spent the day at the Burwell park, enjoying a picnic dinner and a day of visiting.

It is getting very dry in this community and many of the farmers are planning to irrigate as soon as harvest and threshing is over.

Two new threshing machines were taken through town last week. Elmer Powers is the owner of one and Bill Troxel owns the other one.

Rev. Massie is the new scout master and was present at the regular semi-monthly meeting of the Boy Scouts Monday night.

Rev. Light of Burwell held services at the Congregational church Sunday evening.

The ladies circle of the Evangelical church met in the church basement Thursday afternoon, July 14, with Mrs. Hazel Britton and Mrs. Pearl Clay as hostesses. There were twenty members and two visitors present. The afternoon was spent quilting on two quilts for Mrs. Edith Replege. A delicious lunch was served by the hostesses. The next meeting will be August 11 with Mrs. Lucy Holmes, Mrs. William Stevens and Mrs. Lena Miller.

School board meeting was held Saturday night with the two new members, Tim Britton and Halver Jensen attending. The officers elected were as follows: President, Charles Newbecker; secretary, C. O. Fleming and treasurer, Ralph Hodson.

Keith Brown and Robert Bohy spent three days the first of the week in Lincoln and Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Reed of California, cousins of Jack and Tim Britton and Mrs. John Peters an old time resident of Loup county, left for their home in California after visiting relatives and friends here.

Maurice Corrick and Jerome Alexander entered the CCC camp at Halsey Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Replege were Broken Bow visitors Friday.

Mrs. Vella Ritz and daughter of Westerville spent Sunday with her friend and former schoolmate, Miss True Allen.

Jack Ross took a truck load of cattle to Omaha for Joe Hawley. Mrs. Barton Neal who has been ill with the flu, is slowly recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Alder, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. David Milander, attended the evening services at the Messersmith school house, Sunday.

Larry Litwiller made a business trip to Grand Island Wednesday in his plane.

Rev. Massie of Calloway has accepted the position of minister of the Evangelical church and arrived Tuesday, conducting his first services here Sunday morning and at the Messersmith school house in the evening. He was graduated this spring from the LeMars college in Iowa.

Mrs. Anna Walsh and daughter of Grand Island spent Tuesday and Wednesday of last week with Mrs. Walsh's sister, Mrs. Lena Miller, who is in very poor health.

Glen Wiley and Floyd Hoobler returned home from their tour of the western states Friday. Bob Wiley met them in Broken Bow.

Supt. John Ward returned home from Lincoln last week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Alder, Mr. and Mrs. David Milander and Rev. Massie drove to Burwell Sunday to see the Burwell dam and attend the band concert.

Mrs. Ralph Neuberger and two daughters returned home Sunday from a two weeks visit with relatives in Alma and Oxford. Ralph took his nephew, Dean Davis, who has been with him the past two weeks, home, bringing his wife and daughters back with him.

Marietta Meese, who has been spending the summer with her uncle, Thad Meese at Ericson, is at the home of her sister, Mrs. Art Coleman.

Rev. Massie was a dinner guest at the A. F. Alder home Sunday.

Thirteen members and six visitors of the Kent Korner Klub, met with Mrs. Anna Holmes and Mrs. Hubbard at the latter's home Wednesday, July 13. Quilting and embroidering tea towels was the work furnished for the afternoon. A delicious luncheon consisting of sherbert and angel food cake was served. It was decided to hold the next meeting Aug. 17 or a week later than usual on account of the Burwell rodeo. This meeting will be with Mrs. Copp and Mrs. Wiley.

The Kent community was greatly saddened by the death of little Beverly Johnson, the two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Johnson. She was an attractive child and greatly loved by everyone who knew her. She had been ill for the past two months but all the skill of competent doctors could not save her. Everyone extends their sympathy to the family in their bereavement.

Threshing has begun in the Kent vicinity and the grain is turning out very well. A field of oats on the Mrs. Phil Lewis farm produced 55 bushels to the acre.

Miss Madge Bartholomew has been visiting at the home of her sister, Mrs. Britton Peters for the past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Beals and two children are visiting relatives in the western part of the county this week.

Mrs. Keller and son of Cheyenne, Wyo., are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Bowley and other relatives.

Anton Stepanek is back again taking charge of his cafe and meat market.

Miss Isla Replege is home, after spending the past two weeks vacationing at Camp Kiwanis at Milford.

Saturday Sale

AT THE SALE RING IN ORD
SATURDAY, JULY 20th
 SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

The market was not quite as strong last Saturday as it has been. But, the buyers would still like to have many 700-900 lb. feeding steers, and some 450 to 600 lb. feeding heifers. And of course there is always a strong demand for calves, and real light weight cattle.

In next Saturday's Sale:
 IT LOOKS LIKE:

100 CATTLE: Which include: Some good 800 lb. feeding steers and some 700 lb. heifers.

75 HOGS: Which include some 100 lb. shoats, and some weanling pigs.

I have been notified by the horse buyers, that they will be here to buy horses. And, if you have any, that you do not need, it might be better to sell them than to take a chance on sleeping sickness. If you have any stock to sell, bring them to this market, you will get a good price, less shrinkage and a reasonable selling charge.

Frank E. Bailey Commits Suicide, Is Buried in Ord

Former Ord Man Shot Self in Kansas City Saturday Eve; Was 35 Years Old

Frank E. Bailey, 35, a son of the late Harry H. Bailey of Springdale, shot and killed himself about midnight Saturday in Kansas City, his body being found in his locked car atop a bluff overlooking a curve of the Missouri river about 2 o'clock the next afternoon. No reason could be ascribed for his act.

Monday morning the body of Mr. Bailey was brought to Ord on the Burlington train, accompanied by his brother, Louis Bailey and wife, of Tulsa, Okla., and burial was made beside his father in Ord cemetery after brief services conducted at the Pearson-Anderson chapel with Rev. Mearl C. Smith in charge.

Frank was born in Ord on May 19, 1903 and his boyhood was spent here. He attended grade school near the Bailey farm in Springdale township and later attended Ord high school, graduating with the class of 1921. A brilliant student he graduated with scholastic honors and with a record of participation in school activities.

From then until 1925 when the Bailey farm was sold, Frank continued to live in Ord and helped his father on the farm. He attended University of Nebraska for a brief period in 1923. In the spring of 1925 he left Ord, going first to New Orleans where he was employed several months in the Ford plant. From there he went to Tampa, Fla., as an employee of the Otis Elevator Co., and then to Nashville, Tenn., where he worked for the same concern. About 12 years ago he went to Kansas City and secured employment with the Sears-Roebuck company, at the same time taking night courses in commercial college, and was appointed private secretary in the investigation division of the St. Louis & San Francisco railroad.

His advancement with the railroad was rapid and for five years before his death Mr. Bailey was chief special agent in the Kansas City division, having a large force of railroad detectives under his direction. In his capacity as special agent, Frank directed and participated in hunts for Clyde Barrow and many other "public enemies" of the Missouri and Oklahoma country and his record as a law enforcement and railroad protective officer was a splendid one.

So great was his devotion to work that not in 11 years did he take a vacation; in fact, the only time when he was away from the job more than a day at one time was four years ago when he accompanied the body of his father to Ord for burial.

When Mr. Bailey's body was found in his car Sunday at Kansas City, his associates at first feared that he had been murdered by someone whom he had helped to punish for law breaking, but when it was learned that all windows and doors of the car were locked on the inside, a coroner's inquest brought in a verdict of suicide. According to L. K. Butcher, a special agent who worked under Mr. Bailey and who accompanied the body to Ord Monday along with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bailey, Frank has won the respect and affection of his employers and his fellow workers by his courage and his unflinching attention to duty, as well as by his many splendid personal qualities. A tendency toward melancholia, apparent to friends during his youthful days in Ord, along with overwork and worry, were the only reasons for his suicide that could be suggested by his brother. Louis Bailey feels sure that it was an act of impulse, since Frank left no written note nor gave anybody a hint of his intention. The bullet from his heavy revolver went through the body just above the heart, the inquest brought out.

Only relatives still living in Ord are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bailey, cousins. Besides his brother he is mourned by one uncle, Frank L. Bailey and one aunt, Mrs. Mary E. Dunmire; both being residents of Weeping Water, Nebr.

Pallbearers at the funeral Tuesday were five of Frank's high school friends, John P. Misko, Olof Olsson, C. A. Anderson, Mark Tolson and E. C. Leggett, and R. Clarence Clement, one of Frank's closest friends when the Baileys were noted as breeders of purebred cattle. At the organ during the services was Mrs. Robert Noll, while two tenor solos were sung by James Aagaard.

—Beman and McDonald Denver business men, were transacting business in Ord Tuesday. Mr. Beman is in the manufacturing game, and Mr. McDonald is chief engineer of the company.

—F. E. McQuillan and Jerry Petska are planning to install air conditioning equipment in a few days. The orders have already gone in for the necessary material.

Boyd Rose Shoots Record Golf Score

Burning up the course with a round that included six birdies, Boyd Rose, 15, set a new record of 23 on the Ord golf course Friday evening. Par is 34 and the best score made previously is thought to be 30.

Young Rose parred the first hole, then made four birdies in a row on the next four holes, getting a par on No. 6, a birdie on No. 7, a par on No. 8 and another birdie on No. 9. He was playing with Vern Weller.

The boy's best previous round on the Ord course was 31 but he has been consistently under par all summer.

Weekly Band Concert Features Two Soloists

"Solo Pomposo," a sousaphone solo played by Ruth Auble and two vocal solos, "Indian Dawn" and "Mexical Rose," sung by Mrs. Mark Tolson will be featured on the eighth concert given by the Ord municipal band this evening. Other numbers will include:

"34th Division," a march by Layton.

"Our Director," march by Higelow.

"The Creole Queen," by Meacham.

"There's a Gold Mine in the Sky," a popular number by Charles and Kenney.

"Barnum and Bailey's Favorite," march by King.

"Scenes from Operaland," by Hayes.

"Cheerio," a march by Goldman.

"Stars and Stripes Forever," by Sousa.

The announcer for the evening will be Arden Clark.

Something special in the way of band concerts will be featured a week from today, Wednesday, August 3. The Ord municipal band of about forty-five pieces will give an hour's concert from eight to nine o'clock. This will be followed by a concert given by the Burwell Community Band. After the Burwell concert is finished, the Ord and Burwell bands combined will present a short concert. Director Glen D. Auble thinks that this will prove to be an interesting diversion for the audience.

Tom Sawyer Voted Unusual Attraction

Mark Twain's masterpiece, Tom Sawyer, was shown at the Ord Theater Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and was voted by all who saw it one of the outstanding attractions of the year. The producers made a masterful selection of actors for the various characters, and the introduction of several comparatively new faces lent added interest. The continuity followed the text of the story much more closely than usual, and the setting and wardrobes are indicative of the time in which the story is supposed to have occurred. The management is to be congratulated on bringing this masterpiece to Ord.

Lightning Causes Fire Loss Sunday

As the Cecil Clark and Asa Anderson families were returning from Loup City Sunday evening they found that lightning had caused a serious loss from fire at the A. B. Outhouse farm about seven miles north of Loup City. The fire had burned a large barn and a granary and one end of a cow barn before it was halted by the Loup City fire department, which arrived in time to save the residence. The place is one of the best known along the Ord-Loup City highway.

Visited Western Nebraska

To the Quiz: As I have just returned from a trip out in western Nebraska, I will write a few lines about it. If you find anything worth while for your paper O. K. If not, pass it to the waste basket. Donald and I drove to Kimball last week. There we visited a couple of hours with O. P. Cronwells, found them well and happy. Also saw Mr. Hawthorne of Arcadia, who was there looking after his land and crops.

We then drove to Bridgeport to see my brother Thurlow and wife. Getting an early start Sunday morning for home we got to Arnold about 1:00 p. m., so we looked up Elmer Martins, who lived in Valley county 21 years ago, and believe me, we did some real talking for about three hours. Saw all members of his family, Floyd, Grace and Veva.

It had been 21 years since we saw the girls and I had slipped from their memory, but the minute Grace laid eyes on us, she said: "There is Donald Thompson. I would know him if I met him on the road." She spoke of some things that happened when we were going to the Hardscrabble school and Gertie Noll was teacher. We also called at the Guy Potter home, as some of the Martins were there.

Crops in general looked good all the way, except where there had been hail. Mrs. H. B. Thompson.

Petska Building Now Nearing Completion

For some time past the work of remodeling the Petska building on the south side of the square has been going forward, and is now nearing completion. Hower and Harris had the contract for installing the new front and also building the shelving, which will be in sections and not fastened to the wall.

John Mason had charge of the concrete work, laying the brick to support the windows, the two pillars on the sides, and the stucco imitation brick work at the top. He also laid the concrete sidewalks in front of the Petska building and the Pecanka Market, besides some plastering on the inside of the room.

Lloyd Wilson papered the interior walls, while Frank Fryzek and son painted the woodwork outside the ceiling inside, and are now busy giving the sectional shelving a finishing coat. Harold Hallen is busy putting in the new lighting system. A winding stairway and an elevator will give easy access to the second floor.

The building originally belonged to Jim Misko, but for years it has been the property of Miss Sarah McLain, who ran a store there for years. Mr. Petska bought it from her. The lower floor of the building is the same size as the building the Petska store now occupies, while the upper story runs the full length of the building.

Other improvements include new oak floors, which were laid by Mr. Petska and his crew. There is to be a new vegetable and fruit counter, something he has felt the need of for a long time. When everything is ready he plans to have his furniture department on the second floor and the grocery on the ground floor, and the large elevator will make it a simple matter to shift stock.

School Census Made By Frank T. Johnson

The annual school census of the Ord district was recently completed by Frank T. Johnson, who found that the total between the ages of 5 and 21 was below that of last year, there being a total of 613 this year as against 669 last year. Of the above total 303 are boys and 310 are girls. The number between the ages of 7 and 16, the compulsory school age, is 521, the figure upon which the state apportionment is figured. Of these there are 194 boys and 197 girls.

Prisoner Escapes, Brown is Dismissed

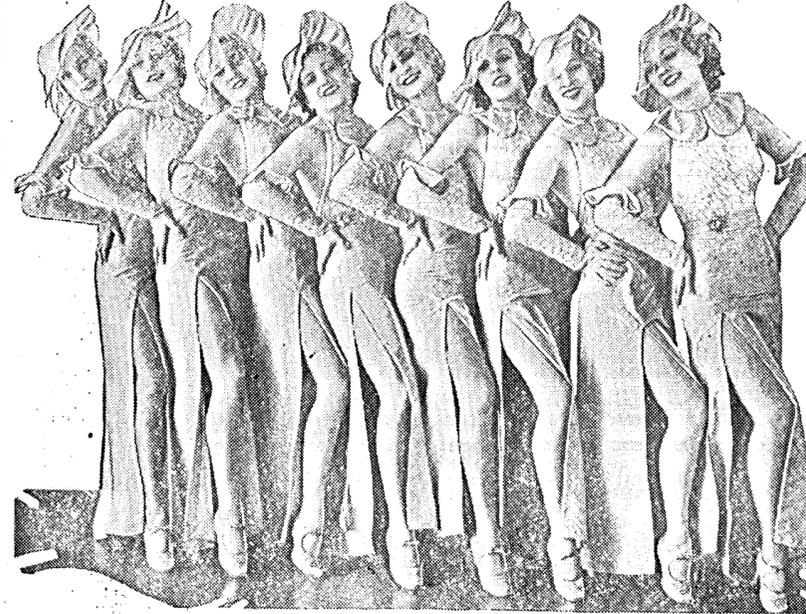

Following the escape of Johnson Smith a 32 year old Indian who was serving a sentence on an habitual criminal charge at the Genoa prison farm, F. R. Brown assistant superintendent of the farm, was discharged, according to reports in the daily papers last week.

Brown, known in Ord as Ross Brown, took four men, including Smith, to Thurston on personal business on authority of P. S. Shockey, farm superintendent. Smith escaped from custody at Winnebago and is still at large.

Has Narrow Escape From Drowning Sunday

Burwell—(Special)—Walter Lund, employee of the butter factory, had a narrow escape from drowning Sunday while swimming in an irrigation canal west of Burwell in the Kent neighborhood. Orville Guy Cuddeback, who was with him, got into a drop in the canal near the barn on the William Weber farm and when Lund went to his rescue he got into too deep water and had to be pulled out. Dr. Roy Cram was called and administered first aid, reviving Lund.

'Swingtime Varieties' One of Many Features at Fair

These eight sophisticated dancing debutantes, ranging in age from 16 to 21, will dance in the big night show, "Swingtime Varieties" revue, which will be presented on the evenings of Sept. 12 and 13 at the Loup Valley Fair in Ord. This revue is one of the many high class features that makes the program for the 1938 fair the most attractive in history.

Softball Teams Play At Scotia Sunday Eve

The Ord softball players will go to Scotia Sunday evening, and the following players are to be ready to leave not later than 7:00: Bud Clark, Charles Cetak, Jim Covert, Syl Furtak, Everett Lashmet, Don Tunniff, Paul Blessing, Carl Knicht, Ernie Vochonat, Carl Johnson, Horace Johnson, Rollie Adamek, Ray Christensen, Dale Melia, Axel Jorgensen, Cornelius Cummins, Bill Johnson, Vernon Nay, Vernon Andersen, Harold Christensen, Lewis Jobst, Frank Kruml, Ernie Piskorski, Robert Tunniff, Ward Bailey, Bert Barnes and L. Shunkweller.

A double header is on the bill at Scotia, and it will be an opportunity for Ord fans who wish to attend to see the Ord teams in a couple of fast games. The games this week at the fair grounds had to be postponed, as the building of the new track cut the diamond in two. Arrangements are being made for grounds to play on, and it is expected that the city league games will be resumed Tuesday of next week.

1938 Loup Valley Fair Will Offer $6,000.00 Program

The most elaborate, most expensive and finest all-around program ever offered at a fair in the Loup valley will be presented in Ord on Sept. 12, 13 and 14, both night and day, at the 1938 edition of the annual Loup Valley fair, revealed Secretary Ed Kokes this week. In debt because of poor attendance during the last two drouth years, the fair board decided to "shoot the works" in planning the 1938 show and a program costing almost $6,000, exclusive of prizes to exhibitors, is the result.

Featured on Monday, the first day of the fair, which also is Children's day, will be the big Blanche McKenney Hunter & McKenney Hippodrome attraction, consisting of highly trained thoroughbred racing horses. Featured are races between two, three and four-horse teams, novelty horse acts and push ball contests. The McKenney troupe has one of the finest-trained groups of horses in America, is the claim.

Along with this Monday feature will be a great offering of vaudeville acts, among them being Bozo and Katherine, a comedy clown act; Don and Carol, the skating sailors; The Great Hillyard, a spectacular high pole balancing act; Jerry the yodeling cowboy, star of WHO radio station Olive Miles & Co., with Queenie the cow; Jaydee the Great, an aerial trapeze act; Paul Mix & Co., with catchy songs and trick roping; the Three Leonards, with George Nisson, featured at the Fort Worth and Dallas exhibitions; and Wade and Wade, the only team of white performers ever on tour with the famous Cab Callaway and Lis negro band.

Monday evening the Swingtime Variety Revue will be offered in front of the grandstand for the first time, with a complete change of program also offered by some of the many free acts who perform in the afternoon. High jumping and trick horse acts by McKenney horses also will be featured, as well as acts by Dave and June Roberts, masters of dancing comedy; the Leo Sisters, Patricia Patrick, the Bee Jay Sisters, Harry Morgan's "Miles of Smiles" orchestra and others of the forty performers who accompany the Swingtime company.

On Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons the midget auto races will be on in full blast, with 40 to 50 of the little cars competing for $2,500 in cash prizes on the new 1-4th mile track. There are more thrills to the minute in midget racing than in other competitive sports, say Ord people who have seen the little cars go.

Tuesday evening the Swingtime Revue will again be presented, but the program will be entirely changed from Monday evening, and on Wednesday evening the WHO Barn Dance, with fifteen performers from WHO station at Des Moines will be the entertainment.

Mark the dates of Sept. 12, 13 and 14 on your calendars; write to relatives elsewhere and tell them what a wonderful fair program will be given in Ord this year.

Mishap to Hiner Truck

Shortly after noon Tuesday Henry Hiner drove his loaded gravel truck along the west side of the Ford garage, expecting to take shelter inside during the shower. The left rear wheel of the truck broke through some planks covering a hole, and the wheel sank in until the corner of the box rested on the ground. It was necessary to unload more than three tons of gravel into another truck, and have the wrecker raise the truck out of the hole before it could be moved.

185 Are Learning To Swim in Ord Classes

For the past two weeks swimming classes have been conducted in the river just west of Anderson's Park, under the sponsorship of the Red Cross, with Arden Clark as instructor. There has been a very large attendance in all classes. There are three junior classes on Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, all of which are well attended. The total registration for these classes is 165 students. Then too, in the adult classes which are held on Tuesday and Thursday afternoons at 2:30, about twenty persons are learning the fundamentals of swimming and diving.

There are fine groups of people in all of these four classes and they are making rapid progress in this course. There remains only a short period of six weeks in which to teach these people to use the full class time each day in teaching something new in the art of swimming. During the remaining four weeks of the course Mr. Clark will teach all the basic swimming strokes, and the beginning fundamentals of diving. Beginners are still welcome to enter the classes, the aim being to make this the biggest and best swimming class that Ord has ever had.

No. Loup Bakery Closes, Too Many Trucks Were Bringing Bread to Town

North Loup—(Special)—The Home Town Bakery baked its last batch of bread Tuesday, and Wednesday morning the doors were closed and all business suspended indefinitely. Since Mr. Babcock has been employed by the credit association, Mrs. Babcock has done the baking herself but the work is hard for her and the profits so small she has decided it best to quit. The bread and baked goods put out by the Babcocks has been of excellent quality and if there had been no other bread brought into town by trucks there is no doubt that the bakery would still be operating.

Convention at Fremont

The coming week the department convention of the American Legion and the Ladies' Auxiliary is being held at Fremont and members of both organizations from Ord are planning to be in attendance. Due to the fact that the regular meeting night, Aug. 2, comes during the convention, the local meetings of both Legion and Auxiliary will be postponed one week, and will come Aug. 9th.

Presbyterian Church Notes

Rev. Louis Kvetensky of Omaha will preach at the Presbyterian church in Ord Sunday, July 31 at 11:30 a. m. All are cordially invited to attend.

Ord's Open Golf Tournament Won By Harold Fales

Two Kearney Players Battle It Out in Finals; Ord's Most Successful Tournament.

With golfers from 11 towns present, besides the Ord contingent, the Ord Golf club held its most successful open tournament in years Sunday, the winner being Harold Fales, of Kearney, former state sand greens champion, who defeated his fellow townsman, Elmer McKinney, on the 10th hole of their final round. At the end of the ninth hole Fales and McKinney were all even and each had completed the round in 29 strokes, five under par for the course.

Ainsworth, Long Pine, Kearney, Wolbach, Litchfield, Burwell, Palmer, Grand Island, Sargent, Arcadia and North Loup were the towns represented.

Medalist honors were divided also between Fales and McKinney, each of whom shot 31 in the qualifying round. All of the eight golfers comprising the first flight shot below par when qualifying. Only one Ord golfer, young Boyd Rose who set a course record of 28 while practicing for the tournament last week, qualified with a low enough score to put him into the first flight. He shot 33. Other first flight players were Bradstreet and Reilly, of Grand Island, E. McKinney, H. McKinney, Fales and Henry, of Kearney, and Mills Hill, of North Loup.

To win in the first flight Fales beat Hill 2 up in the first round and in the second round eliminated Reilly, 1 up, then beating E. McKinney on the tenth hole of their ding-dong match. McKinney went into the final round against Fales by beating Rose 3 up and Henry 2 up. H. McKinney won the first flight consolation by beating Rose 3 and 2.

Winners in other flights were: 2nd—Heckenlively, Kearney, who beat Bowen, Kearney. 3rd—Wiegardt, Ord, who beat Harp, Long Pine. 4th—Johnson, Ord, who beat Warren, Long Pine. 5th—Tolen, Ord, who beat Anderson, Wolbach. 6th—Crawford, Palmer, who beat H. Johnson, Ord. 7th—Arnett, Litchfield, who beat Cafferty, Litchfield. 8th—Smith, Grand Island, who beat Natl, Grand Island. 9th—Allger, Long Pine, who beat Wilkerson, Ord. 10th—Scott, Sargent, who beat Halderson, Long Pine. 11th—Allen, Ord, who beat Grunkemeyer, Burwell. 12th—Treadway, Kearney, who beat Engelman, Litchfield. 13th—Swanson, who beat Augustine.

A big crowd followed the finals match between Fales and E. McKinney, which makes it necessary to use the full class time each day in teaching something new in the art of swimming. During the remaining four weeks of the course Mr. Clark will teach all the basic swimming strokes, and the beginning fundamentals of diving. Beginners are still welcome to enter the classes, the aim being to make this the biggest and best swimming class that Ord has ever had.

Officials of the Ord club are planning a local tournament in August and late in September expect to sponsor another open tournament. The Ord course has never been in better shape than it is this summer and all golfers from other towns who played here Sunday praised Ord's sporty blue-grass court highly.

Unlun Sunday Night Services

The unlun Sunday night service for May 31, will be held at the Presbyterian church building at 8 o'clock, p. m. T. A. Lindenneyer will deliver a sermon by special request on the subject "Seven Devils of Ord." He reserves the right to change this subject to another entitled, "The Wages of Sin," if in his judgment when the audience is assembled the latter subject will be the better one to use. Dr. Glen Auble will direct the chorus and arrange for some special music. Come and by your presence help to make this a great service.

Rain Monday Evening Removes Drouth Threat

Following about the longest period of dry weather this section has had during this growing season, a fine rain came shortly after midnight Monday. It was accompanied by a real electrical display, though no damage from this source has been reported. Rainfall in Ord was .53 of an inch, while Burwell reports .27 of an inch. East of Ord into Greeley county the rainfall was about the same as Ord's. Only a light shower was reported south of Ord. Again Tuesday a light shower fell about noon, the total of the two rains being reported as .61 of an inch. Threat of dry weather to the splendid corn prospect was removed by this moisture and since the forecast is rainy for August there is every reason to believe that Valley county will raise a good corn crop.

Fifty-six Golfers Compete for Prizes on Ord's Blue-Grass Course Sunday

In this Quiz photo is shown the group of golfers who came from 11 other communities to play against Ord golfers at the open tournament held Sunday. Visitors snagged most of the prizes, all praised the condition of the course and its many sporty hazards. (See story in column 1).

ROBBINS FOR UNICAMERAL

With all due respect for the qualifications of the other candidates for the unicameral legislature, it is the candid opinion of the Quiz that the candidate from North Loup stands just a little higher than what it takes properly to handle the needs of the 29th district.

Never a man to waste words, Mr. Robbins writes his platform in five words: "For Economy and Fewer Laws." In the present era of multiplying government bureaus and departments, these words take on a new significance.

With billions being added to the national debt every year, economy should be the watchword of every man who aspires to a position in the law making bodies of the country. No one but a fool would agree that the way to get out of debt is to go deeper in debt.

The phrase "fewer laws," embodies far more than the two words might indicate. It means that Mr. Robbins is opposed, not only to the enactment of a lot of unnecessary laws at the coming session of the unicameral, but also to keeping on the statute books a lot of the laws that we already have that have grown out of date or have practically been replaced by later laws.

It means further that he is opposed to keeping a horde of unnecessary men on the government payroll to use up a large share of the funds that should go directly to those places where it is actually needed. To make it shorter and more to the point, he believes in cutting out the middleman wherever possible in governmental affairs and permitting more of the tax dollar to pay necessary expenses.

In the administration of his own affairs Mr. Robbins has shown himself eminently capable of doing the things he advocates doing if elected to the unicameral. His work has always been carried on economically, and he has been successful in his business. He is not an orator, and would rather be accomplishing something worth while than talking about it.

This editorial is written without Vern Robbins' permission or knowledge. He will be as much surprised as any of you when he reads it. If he had asked us to write it, it might not have been written. But the mere fact that he is willing to stand or fall on his record as a business man should count more with the voters than any unsolicited testimonials that this paper or any other can give him.

THE HIGHWAY PROBLEM

The present fight Fremont and other cities along the north bend of the Platte are putting up over the development of the highway directly west from Omaha may in a measure be justified. No doubt some business is lost to those towns through the changing of the main line of traffic. Perhaps enough is lost to justify them in their boycott campaign against Omaha.

A dozen or more towns and cities are siding with Fremont in their fight, and this will have some effect on the amount of business Omaha will do. Good roads lead to Sioux City, and Chicago is not too far away. In these days a few

FOR STATE SENATOR

I am a candidate for the office of state senator from the 29th district, made up of Valley, Howard, Greeley, and Wheeler counties, and solicit your support in the coming campaign. If elected, I will give fair service to everyone in the district. No one or any group has any hold upon me, and will not be able to force me to vote against the wishes of my constituents. I make only one promise and that is impartial consideration upon every measure before the legislature.

I am in favor of the old age pension of a dollar a day, and more necessary, advocating that pensions should be paid directly either by the state or federal office, and amount should be the same every month. I will sincerely work for this issue.

W. A. "JAKE" JACOBS, St. Paul.

miles, more or less, mean little to the commercial trucker, and frequently the goods can be bought enough cheaper to offset the added freight charges.

Here we have the spectacle of cities fighting to retain their highways, when there are other cities which would be better off if the highways could be moved a little farther from the business section. With the establishment of the present highway No. 11 its route thru St. Paul was changed to pass around the business section, with increased safety to both the citizens and the traveling public.

When present plans are completed, No. 11 will skirt Burwell on the east, thus removing a constant hazard from the heart of the town. This rule is followed wherever possible, and has proven much more satisfactory than the old way of running the main roads from one town to another. The traveler who wishes to visit a certain town will do so, and the man forced to drive through a town will not spend money there unless he wishes to do so.

The site of Ord was amply large in the early days, and the pioneers built their roads along section lines and with square corners, for they could not envision what the future held in store. Had they run a road along the railroad right of way at that time, we would have had no problem to solve today. But who in those days would want to travel past a town without stopping?

So the city grew, and all the available space between the river and the hills was taken up. Now, when it is practically impossible to make a change, we find ourselves with a through highway right through the center of Ord, and another meeting it in the heart of the business district. These roads and the traffic rules they call for, must be a constant headache to our law-enforcement officers.

U-turns are taboo on the square, which is a good idea. But a driver on M street cannot make a U-turn either one block east or west of the square and do so legally, for he would then be turning on a highway. Drivers on 15th and 16th streets must stop at the intersections on L street, but do not need to do so on M street, all of which is somewhat bewildering.

The time may come when No. 11 will be routed around Ord. It cannot follow the tracks on account of the Y on the Union Pacific and also on account of the expense incurred. One possible way is to have the highway skirt the town on the south and west, passing around along the south slope of the waterworks hill. This is not as difficult as it may seem, and the route has been investigated. The plan would take both highways out of town.

CARE NOW IN ORDER

Fire, started in some manner by a member of a combine crew, swept through a forty acre field of fine wheat near Hay Springs last week, destroying practically all of the standing grain and causing a loss of five hundred dollars. The combine crew and others attracted by the fire were unable to make any headway fighting the blaze which was fanned by a brisk wind.

Last week fire set probably by a match or cigarette butt, burned over a forty acre pasture for John Pokorny, northeast of Burwell. The Burwell fire department was called out to help extinguish a pasture fire on the E. V. Holloway place about 4 miles east of town. Both these fires were doubtless caused by carelessness.

The past few years fires have meant little, not because the grass and other combustible material was not dry enough, but because there was not enough of it to make a decent fire. Today the pastures and meadows are covered with a heavy growth of weeds and the coarser types of grass which have developed during the dry period, and they form a real fire hazard.

The practice of many car drivers of throwing their cigarette butts out of the open window as they drive along the roads, without first seeing that the fire is out, should be stopped. Despite all arguments to the contrary, plenty of fires are started in this manner. It is a good practice to burn the growth of grass along the highway when conditions are favorable, and is being done in many places.

Gay Days in Winter Haven.

Then the federal government is going into the sewage disposal business in Winter Haven. It is estimated that $75,000 grant and $85,000 loan will be required. Is it not a good government that looks out for even the garbage disposal of its citizens and provides the spender that makes such disposal necessary?—Dad's Corner, Central City Nonpareil.

Sevenkers Make Big Catch of Catfish

The catfish were biting for Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sevenker last Tuesday evening, and this catch of nine fine fish was the result. They were caught in the North Loup river about three miles south of Ord, proving that directly below the dam is not the only place catfish can be caught. Largest fish weighed 5 1/2 pounds.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

At Jack Pine Lodge on Middle Cullen Lake near Nisswa, Minnesota, July 22, 1938.

Dear Quiz: The Missus and I left Ord at 8:30 Tuesday morning, having decided to take our time on this return trip to the lake, see the country and enjoy the trip and be as long making the drive as we wished.

We had a perfect morning, nice and cool with good roads. We ambled along via Ericson, Bartlett, Elgin, Neligh and on up to N. 29, most of the time at about 45 miles per hour. That gave us lots of chance to admire the crops, and such crops, nearly all the way. We saw lots of good corn and not much poor corn.

On the Missouri river valley farms some of the corn is larger than Valley county corn; some of it in Iowa is larger also, but we saw very little Nebraska corn as good, after we left Valley county, as we have at home. Small grain harvesting was in progress all along the way, being a little slower as we went north, and up in this country they have hardly started as yet to cut the grain. Oats are still quite green. But everywhere the small grain looks like a bumper crop.

Being anxious to see some new country, after we got into Iowa we took a different route than we have ever gone before and shortened the distance up here by ten miles. When we came north from Elgin and reached No. 20 we stayed on that highway until we went through Sioux City, getting onto No. 75 at the north edge of that city. From there on we angled north and east all the time, missing all the west jobs that we usually get on No. 75 and getting more cement paving than we ever got by any other route. Iowa and southern Minnesota have simply marvelous crops this year.

It had been dry in this part of Minnesota and rain was needed but it has come in abundance this week and everything is looking fine again.

Col. E. C. Weller and his brother-in-law from Lincoln, were in camp here for several days but left Monday, so I didn't get to see them. Those who talked with them say they enjoyed their stay here. The tube Lincoln's who had been here for a couple of weeks, also left Monday so we didn't see them. But the camp is pretty well filled up. The Harry McBeths who are in my other cottage, are having a fine time. There is a Des Moines family in the Mackowsky cottage to the south; Mr. and Mrs. Fenner from Burwell are in their cottage just north of ours; the next cottage is the Simpson cottage but it has not been occupied this year. The Simpsons are to come August 15; Dr. and Mrs. Glow have been in their cottage for two weeks or more but are leaving for their home in Grand Island today. The Augustines, also from Grand Island, are in their cottage and the Palges are in their cottage. They live in Brainerd. The Humphreys of Clarinda, Iowa are in their cottage but they are leaving this week. They have been here for over a month and when they get home her brother and family from the same town, will come for a vacation. I shall expect to see the Lakin family drive in most any time now to be in their cottage.

Mr. Fenner has improved his place by building a fine work shop and woodhouse combined. He has built it good enough to use for a residence if he so wished. He has cut down a couple of large dead jackpines on his place and is now sawing them into wood, which will make more than he can put into his new wood house.

No, the fishing is not good right now. It is the off season, still Judge Clements, Judge Fenner and myself caught thirty fine, large bluegills in an hour Wednesday afternoon and by staying another hour could have caught as many more. Yesterday the Missus and I brought in two nice bass, a large crappie, a large bullhead and four large bluegills, after only fishing a little while. We saw a storm coming up and just got home ahead of it. I think it rained over an inch in ten or fifteen minutes and would we have gotten wet. Judge Clements, Harry McBeth and son Harry James were also up on the lake and delayed starting home by five minutes when we left, and they got an awful soaking.

The First Fan Letter.

The first comment on my new series came from my mother in Long Beach. Letters from Dad or Mom are always the best, even if we do not like them sometimes. We know they are always from the heart, and those two folks are about the only ones on earth who are interested in us other than their own interests indirectly. Here it is:

"I think you better let the child raising job out, until you have your's raised, and you will never be through that until you lose your mind or are in your grave. You might be like Mrs. ... who gave a lecture on the subject when her adopted daughter was about 13 years old and at 15 she ran off and married a drunken good-for-nothing.

"I heard a lecture by a young woman with two (10 and 12) year old boys and everyone said it would be better for her to wait and see how her own boys came out. It is a ticklish job, raising children."

I had thought of this idea myself and put off writing this up for a long time, finally deciding to only give the experiences that I quizzed from others. I may write the next chapter next week, and then I may not.

In another part of her letter she writes, "Sunday Clifford took us for a trip to Montevia to an airport and while on the trip we visited a lion farm. There were 208 lions of all ages and kinds. This man started in 1918 with three lions and they have all come from those except three males he has bought.

"The worst ones he sells to zoos. He keeps quite a lot for moving pictures and sells to circuses too. The tamest are worth as much as $10,000.00 and others not more than $500.00. They are in great cages as large as Davis' house (10 rooms 2 stories) but not quite so high perhaps."

Another Worry.

The horse disease that has come like a plague among us the last two years is of a very serious concern and about puts a kibish on another one of our crops, that is the horse raising industry.

As Dr. McGinnis said, there are a lot of things about the disease we do know and there are a lot we do not, but we are sure the sickness is not catching and transferable from one animal to another. In the same herd some horses will get it and others not.

We are quite sure it is some mosquito or fly that infects the horse and should the insect infect one horse, it is not likely it will infect another. It is a well established fact that only the female mosquito bites, and she only bites.

While George Gowen is teaching us how to raise children I would like to point out a father and mother who are doing a fine job of being parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilber Rogers who farm just west of Ord are the couple. Mr. Rogers cheerfully gave his fourteen-year-old boy one of the best pieces of bottom land on his place, a patch of ground certain to yield fine crops in any summer, dry or wet. There they encouraged Carson, their son, to plant and take good care of a vegetable garden.

Then when the vegetables were ready to sell, Mrs. Rogers just as cheerfully gave many a morning to her task as driver of the family car, so that Carson might peddle his fresh green groceries in Ord. Carson was not old enough to drive the car himself.

I think this is a splendid example of parental sacrifice and good judgment. Both parents are really giving up something in order that Carson may keep busy and happy and make a little money this summer. And Carson is tickled to death with the success of his summer project.

With parents who are doing such a good job, with their boy having so much fun while he learns to be independent, I predict that Carson will never turn out to be a gangster. In fact I do not think he will ever give his parents any cause for worry. I think they are doing much too good a job of showing him how to tackle life. And some day they will be very proud of the success he will make of himself.

Perhaps Carson will never be president. But who wants to be president in these troublous times? —oOo— Valley county visitors to the Burwell lake and dam are beginning to see what a lot of entertainment for the children, the added boating, sailing, fishing and swimming can provide. A pleasant, cool resort, close to the city of Burwell, and the small bath houses and beginnings of a swimming pool I predict will be steadily improved as the people show their appreciation.

Have you been there? It is a delightful place to go. —oOo— Now there is considerable agitation in Ord for a lake in our park a U-shaped lake formed in the valleys between golf holes one and two of Bussell park. Such a lake would make our beautiful park still more beautiful. Would make a safer swimming hole for the children, and no doubt a sand beach could be provided with little effort. —oOo— Don't be against the proposition until you have examined it. Last time there was excitement in Ord concerning a possible swimming pool, one of the men who kicked the loudest about the increase in taxes finally had his way and we got no swimming pool. One of the opposition figured up and Mr. X would have paid exactly 43c per year more taxes for the building and upkeep of a swimming pool. This man now drives his boy back and forth to the Red Cross swimming classes, making two complete round trips each class day and how much do you suppose that costs him? —oOo— People who are automatically against everything aren't always saving money. —Irma once. She fills up with blood once, goes lays her eggs and dies, so it is not likely she would transfer the disease from a sick horse to a well one. This idea has been proven with tick fever in the south and malaria.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Wait Until You Get Them Raised Sleeping Sickness Can Be Cured

"We do not know," the doctor continued, "if a horse has had the disease and recovered, whether that horse is immune or not, but we are quite sure that that horse will be free from it for twelve months at least."

Some horses die very quickly some linger. They do not actually go to sleep, that is all of them don't, but they lose their pep in a hurry and appear asleep. The veterinarians feel they can materially help the horse if they can be called in the early stages, and while the horse will still stand, but if it goes down, unable to arise, they feel usually it is hopeless.

The disease is not really new but has only been serious the last two years. In 1912 there was an epidemic of what the vets think was the same thing. Usually it has been of such little concern that the disease was not given much attention.

It might be added here, that in the case of cane poisoning, that is so fatal to cattle and stock that get out in the sorghums, if the vet is called and can get to the animal when there is still a spark of life left in the beast it can be saved. The treatment is almost certain and miraculous and will bring a cow back to life quickly, even after she had completely passed out.

Politics.

M. H. Tielmann was around to see me the other day, he said, renewing his old friends. For a number of years he was the commissioner from this corner of the county, taking his precincts from deep red to a well balanced black account. We have only three commissioners in this county, each man having his own district to account for. His friends have filed a petition for him to run again after four years of vacation.

The story goes that four years ago he was urged to run for the legislature and did. After he had filed for that office, those same urgers put up Doyle and beat Tielmann, but they beat him in two ways. They beat him for the legislature and also got him out of the way in the court house in Greeley. He once studied engineering, in Denmark, and at road work he is very good.

There is wide speculation as to how well Chas. Sterneker will run. Some of his enemies claim he will not poll a hundred votes but a very astute politician in Ord told me the other day that we will all be surprised when the count is made and he will get more than we think. No one predicts he will win however. He is making a campaign, it is said, walking from house to house, sleeping wherever night overtakes him and trying to see everyone, telling them he is the "Fighting Dutchman," and out to scrap those hornsawagglers in Lincoln who are stealing our money.

The saying goes that we may have Frost in August, but even at that we'll still have Robbins in November.

Birth of a Baby.

After racing fiercely with two doctors, the stork arrived at Vern Thomas' Thursday afternoon and dropped a baby boy there. How did I know? We were all rubbering over the party line observing the contest in that way, hearing the encouragement of the distracted father for the doctor to hurry, hurry.

After the race was over and the affair quieted, Vern called his grandmother, Mrs. Van Thomas, telling her of the event, she informing the new father that this new hied man who has come to stay at his house a while, is her thirty-fourth great-grandchild.

Camera Club Picnic.

President John Andersen of the Loup Valley Camera club wishes all the members to keep in mind the fact that the picnic at Burwell will be held next Sunday. Those who desire to go should be at the Jensen Studio not later than 11:00 a. m., and bring their lunch with them. Transportation to Burwell is being arranged. The Burwell members will arrange the picture taking itinerary, and furnish the drink for the picnic. The regular meeting of the Camera club will be held next Tuesday evening at the Jensen Studio. The lecture and slides for the lesson are already on hand.

No Extra Taxes. Last year 47 states collected 792 million tax dollars IN ADDITION TO the usual property, liquor and gasoline tax revenue. NEBRASKA ALONE levies none of these extra taxes on personal and corporation incomes, sales, luxuries. NEBRASKANS SAVE all such tax dollars. And yet Nebraska's property tax levy on farm and city property is far below the national average. NEBRASKA'S tax policy helps industry expand without penalty and gives the individual more money to spend for himself. Labor, agriculture and industry are assured freedom from burdensome extra forms of taxation. Profitable industrial opportunities are found in Nebraska where government is thrifty, labor is contented, power and fuel are cheap. Phyllis Babcock entertained a group of her little friends at a party Thursday afternoon. Guests were requested to bring their bathing suits and much of the time was spent playing in the spray.

The fire department was called out Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 to fight a fire in the barn and granary in the place occupied by the Bill Burgess family. Both buildings were old and used mostly as a play house for the children and it is unknown how the fire started. Both burned to the ground but were insured. There was no wind at the time or the house would have been in danger for it stands nearby. The nearest hydrant was at the Ed Miller home, three blocks away, so firemen worked under difficulties.

Kathrine Babcock, who is employed in a photographer's studio in Omaha is enjoying a month's vacation with her mother, Mrs. E. J. Babcock.

Lawrence Anderson came up from Elba on the Wednesday evening bus. He had spent a week with relatives there.

Mr. and Mrs. Arch Springer, J. H. Eyerly and Mr. and Mrs. Will Cox were supper guests Tuesday of Nora and Owen White, helping Owen celebrate his birthday.

J. J. Smith of Minatare came in on the Thursday morning bus.

Lucine and Jerrold Fisher returned from York on the Thursday evening bus.

Mrs. Marguerite Scott spent Friday night and Saturday with the Martha Babcock family.

Mrs. Effie Larkin is confined to her bed again because of heart trouble. More than a year ago she fell and broke her hip but recently had been able to get about some on crutches.

Ava Leach who has been working in the R. N. Mills home has gone home to help her mother and Wanda Tucker is helping Mrs. Mills.

Neva Brannon spent Thursday in town with Phyllis Babcock.

Barbara Hudson entertained a group of her little friends Saturday afternoon in honor of her fifth birthday.

Jackie Lou Anderson came up from Scotia on the Saturday evening bus.

I. J. Manchester took Paul Jones place in Sheldon's filling station from Friday until Sunday while Paul was in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Rev. and Mrs. Birmingham, Joel, Lois and Rachel, returned Friday night from Whitney where they had spent two weeks with Mrs. Birmingham's parents. Rev. Birmingham spent some time looking for fossils while there.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor McBeth and family of Spalding were Wednesday night supper guests in the H. J. Hoepfner home.

Marjorie May Manchester and Marie Drawbridge accompanied George Eberhart to Omaha Sunday. Marjorie May will spend the rest of the summer with her sister, Dorothy Jean and Marie will visit her sister, Agnes Crockett and her brothers, Pete and Joe Drawbridge. Otto Bartz and Mary Ann spent Sunday at Columbus and Genoa visiting the Loup river irrigation project and power plant there.

Bertha Catlin spent last week with friends in North Loup.

The two little girls of Everett Honeycutt were guests in the Ray Drawbridge home from Thursday until Sunday.

Dr. Paul H. Hemphill of Pawhuska, Okla., a member of the Medical Reserves of the American Legion has been promoted from a 1st lieutenant to captain of Co. B, 120 Medical Regiment.

Dr. Hemphill reports the birth of a seven pound boy to Mrs. and Mrs. Vernon Thomas Thursday, July 21.

Mrs. George Bartz returned Friday from Schuyler where she had been for two weeks to harvest the grain on her farm.

Mrs. Alice Harding spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Elizabeth Harding.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Cox and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cox were fishing at Psota's lake and Ericson Sunday.

Six dogs that had no license tag and had been making a good deal of disturbance nights were killed by Marshal Jim Coleman Friday.

Dewey Regier went to Henderson Friday to help his father in the harvest field. He returned Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Babcock of Ansley spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mrs. Martha Babcock and family.

Ann Johnson spent the week end with friends in Grand Island.

Melvin Cornell has his public address system installed and used it for the first time Saturday evening. A number of news items and some advertising were given and a group of the Mexican young men that are employed in the beet fields nearby sang several songs that were much enjoyed.

Mrs. Martha Babcock returned from Wisconsin on the Thursday afternoon motor. She had spent seven weeks with relatives there, this being her first visit to her old home in twenty-seven years.

The Harold Jackson and Joe Armstrong families of Farwell and the A. L. McMindes family had a picnic supper Monday night to help Annabelle McMindes celebrate her birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Knapp and two daughters and Mrs. Clayton Meyers and Phyllis were Sunday dinner guests in the Chas. Meyers home.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Waggoner of Elba spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Arch Springer.

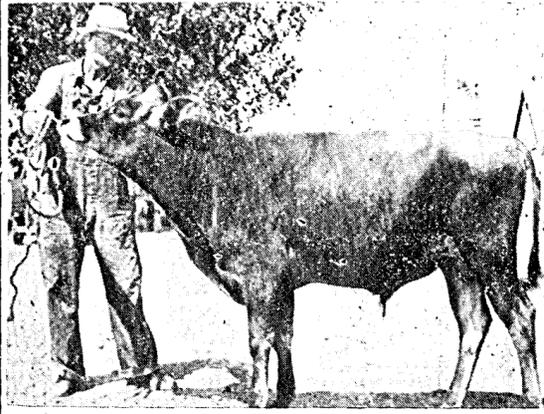

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bartlett and son of Monrovia, Calif., arrived Friday night for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McGee Sunday the Roy McGee family were also guests in the Geo. McGee home. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Bartlett and son went to Horace to visit his sister and planned to go from there to Albion where their daughter lives.

The Bob Burgess family of Fullerton spent the week end with the Bill Burgess family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Wells and Marjorie Ann attended a picnic of the highway patrolmen held at Grand Island Sunday.

Mrs. Elmer Biskeborn and daughter Delores of Farnsville, Ia., were guests of her brother, Ed Wells and family from Wednesday until Friday. Thursday night the Wells family and Mrs. Biskeborn and daughter were guests in the Geo. Lint home in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels Larsen and

Prize Jersey and Owner, E. S. Coats

Tarzan, the prize Jersey bull shown above with his part owner, E. S. Coats, is perhaps the highest quality bull of his breed ever to come to Valley county. He is young yet, and will not be a year old until Aug. 10, but he is as large now as the average 2-year old heifer. He was bred by the University of Nebraska farm. His dam was a two year old made a record of 670 pounds of butterfat in 365 days. He will remain at the head of the Coats herd of 50 cows and heifers for two years, and will then belong to the University two years. Coats looked at the above picture and then remarked: "It takes a pure bred to rate a ring in his nose."

two daughters of Dannevirke were Saturday guests in the Ed Wells home.

To omit an "s" is a little thing but it nearly started a scandal for thereby last week Bill Vodehnal entertained four ladies at supper while their husbands attended the community club supper. The item should have read Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal rather than Mr.

DAVIS CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. John Athey left the home of their son, Ruben Athey Friday for Hastings.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Johnson visited her sister, Mrs. Jake Zwick near Austin Sunday. Mrs. Johnson says they have a big apple crop there and that the trees will need to be pruned.

Mrs. Merna Caddy, Bernice and Ava Leach helped Mrs. Iona Leach cook for threshers Friday. Her wheat made about 9 bushels and barley about 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McGee and daughters were dinner guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hanson Sunday. Other guests were their daughters, Nellie Delzer of Michigan. She and her husband are moving to Freeman, S. D. Mr. Delzer has gone on and she will later. Mrs. Anne Bartholomew of Council Bluffs, Ia., and Mrs. Lillie Coleman and son of Port Dodge, Ia., also were guests. Mrs. Coleman will stay for some time. In the evening Roy's called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. McGee at North Loup. Both of them are in failing health and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Bartlett and son George of Monrovia, Calif. came last week and spent Friday at Roy McGee's and are now visiting the George McGee's in North Loup.

The Larsen boys visited their aunt, Mrs. Fern Adams Sunday. They reported having seen the fire at A. B. Outhouse's when a big barn which had just been filled with hay, a corn crib full of ear corn, a granary of this year's small grain, and a part of the cow shed burned. They estimated the grain loss at 500 bushels. The barn was struck by lightning. They were very much afraid the house would go, so the furniture was moved out and everyone worked faithfully to save it, but the wind shifted to another direction and the danger was over. Mr. Outhouse carried no insurance. He is in the lumber business and will probably rebuild.

There have been three threshing machines in the neighborhood. Saturday Ben Nelson threshed at Will Wheatcraft's, Leo Augustine threshed at Ernest Johnson's and Alec Pinkoski at Iona Leach's.

Ava Leach is home after several months' work at the Mills home in North Loup.

Lorren Walkup spent last week at John Williams' and returned home Sunday evening.

Mrs. Clark Roby at North Loup entertained at a family supper Sunday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Howard Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. John Williams and Everett, Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Betty, Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCall, Fannie Weed, Della Manchester, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Weller, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post, Mr. and Mrs. Win. Waddington, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waller and family, Lorren Walkup and Virgil Annvas. Mr. Roby accompanied Clifford Goodrich, Paul Jones and Clifford Hawks to Cheyenne, Wyo., Friday to an A. O. U. W. convention and they returned Sunday evening.

Barley in this neighborhood has made from 23 to 27 bushels. Wheat, while it looked good has yielded from 5 to 9 bushels, as rust hurt it badly. Ernest Johnson had a field of oats that wasn't harvested until after the fall and the hoppers worked on it badly, it is yielding about 9 bushels to the acre. Bill Caddy had a field that made 30 bushels of oats. All small grain looked like the yield would be much better than that.

Dr. Kruml was called to see James Sample last Friday. He has not felt as well as common for some time. His son Guy and family called to see him Sunday evening.

RAMBLINGS OF THE YOUNG 'UNS

By Lillian Karty

"I'll play you a game of tennis some day, if they ever get those courts finished," seems to be a popular saying among most of our Ord tennis stars. I heard two girls describing their tennis ensembles the other day. Suddenly one of them commented, "I guess I'll have to wear mine to church next Sunday if I ever want to show it off."

I wonder: How a certain window in a certain residence was broken last week, when a certain country girl was visiting in town? Why I haven't seen Don McMichael or "Smitty" from Arcadia around here for some time? Ditto the blonde Nelson girls from the same place.

Seein' Things: A double for Robert Taylor in Clarence Swanson. This, combined with Helen Russell makes a plenty good-looking pair.

Out-of-town visitors: Evelyn Ciochon in town Sunday with Harold Lewis of Burwell. This, incidentally, should make Lynn Garrison and Tommy Doran pretty mad! At least Harold thinks so! Pete Defashmull of Burwell cornered on a street corner by Eleanor Wolfe and Margie Jean Smith Margie still insists she was only acting as chaperon. Maybe so, maybe not.

Style notes: Golf styles for girls seem to be set by Marilyn Dale and Margie Jean Smith. Light-colored overalls and Chinese straw hats, and of course, carry both sets of clubs in one bag. It saves a lot of trouble, and you don't have to lug your own clubs around all the time.

Back in town: Evelyn Sharp running all over town looking for Fred Cahill and George Dobry. Rose Dubas escorted by Kent Ferris. Irene Weller still trying to get her brooch. That's all!

ELM CREEK

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hasek and Mr. and Mrs. Vencil Sedlacek and Malvin Lonowski were Sunday afternoon visitors at Will Adamek's.

Frank Novofny and Joe Nemecek of Omaha were Saturday and Sunday visitors at Frank Hasek's and Sunday afternoon Miss Sylvia Hasek accompanied them back to Omaha.

Miss Emma Novosad helped Mrs. Will Adamek cook for threshers Wednesday.

Homer Karre of Colorado spent from Thursday until Monday at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Karre.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Novosad, Emma, Amelia and Mrs. Albert Parkos, jr., were Monday evening callers at Will Adamek's.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hasek and son were Sunday evening visitors at the Frank Knapp home.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Beranek and daughter were Sunday dinner guests at J. B. Beranek's.

Miss Jean Hasek is visiting at the Frank Parkos home.

Misses Ina Mae and Helen Walford helped Mrs. Dick Karre cook for threshers from Thursday until Monday.

NEW CUSTOMERS ALWAYS DESIRED

We invite newcomers to the Ord community to start at once forming a habit that most older residents have: That habit of buying all their meat at our market.

WE WANT NEW CUSTOMERS.

If you buy here once we believe you'll come back again and again because it is our constant practice to sell the best meat it is possible to procure at the lowest prices that permit us to stay in business. And to make our market as clean and inviting, and treat our customers as courteously as we possibly can.

We believe you'll enjoy buying meat at this market. We feel sure you'll like our quality and prices and we hope you'll like our service. Anyway, we invite you to give us a trial.

Ord Christian Church.
 T. A. Lindenmeyer, Supply Minister
 Services of the Ord Church of Christ for Lord's day, July 31, will be as follows: 10:00 a. m., church school conducted by Miss Clara McClatchey and helpers; Lesson title, "Samson: Strength and Weakness"; 11:00 a. m., morning worship, communion and sermon, subject, "Church Members Who Will Miss Heaven." This will be the closing sermon on the part of the supply minister. He has served here during the two months of June and July and very deeply appreciates the kindness and friendliness on the part of the membership which has attended the services and thus co-operated in making the best use of the time of the supply ministry. This may be the last opportunity of having fellowship in these services and of hearing the present supply minister. On that account an urgent invitation to attend this closing service in the church building is extended to that part of the membership that has not heard a single sermon delivered by the supply minister, to come at least for this closing service. We will join with the other churches of Ord, in the Union Sunday night preaching service at the Presbyterian church.

Ord's new school building was to be dedicated Aug. 8, and Hon. A. J. Weaver of Falls City was to deliver the address. C. A. Bowers was school superintendent.

L. L. James, a pilot from Lexington, Nebr., arrived at Ord with his plane and announced that he expected to start an air school. Ray Cook and Dennis Sorenson were enrolled as students, and others were expected to join soon.

President Coolidge had approved a 200 bed veterans' hospital for Nebraska, and Ord had decided to make application for the building to be located here.

Ed Lenz, well known farmer living south of Ord, was pushed from a hay stack by the stacker and suffered an injured spine and five fractured ribs. He was placed in a cast, and it was estimated that he would be unable to work for a year.

At Bussell Park occurred one of the best ball games ever seen in Ord, when the Ord team defeated the Comstock boys in 17 innings by a score of 5 to 4. Al Furtak went all the way for Ord, striking out 19, while Comstock used three pitchers.

Clyde Baker entered the hall of fame when he pitched a no hit, no run game for the Ord business men against Round's Irish Spuds.

Nearly three hundred Oddfellows attended a district meeting held at North Loup. It was in the form of a picnic and was held in the Gullford Hutchins grove.

A home coming celebration was held at the Olean school. It was planned by the teacher, Miss Flavia Twombly, and a large number of former students and several former teachers were in attendance and took part in the program.

The Ord Co-op Oil company had just installed an electric greaser, which was something new in the line of station equipment.

John Snawerdt, Ord carpenter, had just contracted with the school officials of Dist. No. 51 to build them a new school house.

July 25, 1918. The Eureka Home Guards were organized with 27 members. Mike Socha was elected commanding officer and Frank Persak lieutenant.

Adolf Pesek of near Woodman hall was the only one of the men in the latest draft not to report when ordered to do so, and when found he claimed he had not received his notice.

Rev. J. G. Shick, who was to go over seas for YMCA service, changed his plans when the orders concerning who was to go were changed.

July 20, 1908. Miss Mattie Moore, school teacher, was badly bruised when she accidentally stepped in front of the engine as the train was pulling into Elyria.

Victoria Wisda, who was employed by the Warta Drug store at Sargent, came over to Ord for a visit with friends.

Peter Darges, a plumber from South Omaha, was in Ord with his wife on a visit. Work had failed him temporarily, and he said he would accept any work that came his way. He is still with us.

A party of Ordites were planning to go to the San Luis valley in Colorado to attend the land distribution. The railroads were making special rates.

Louis C. Schoenthal of Ord was filling a vacancy in the George Thompson butcher shop in Arcadia and was giving complete satisfaction.

The Wiedemann Wild West circus showed on the grounds near the Union Pacific depot, and proved to be a fairly good show as shows go.

Miss Edith Robbins was elected by the state board to have charge of the music department of the Kearney school, and was completing the work for her masters degree at the state university.

Clark Lamberton had purchased Fred Bell's automobile, probably a Reo, and Fred was going right to Omaha to get another.

One and sixty hundredths of an inch of rain fell July 25. It was not exactly needed, but was welcome just the same.

The contract for the new water works reservoir was let to Goodhand and Jensen of Ord for the sum of $2,900. The specifications called for reinforced concrete that would stand for years, and it has done just that.

Otto Wirsig, a graduate of the Ord schools, had been chosen superintendent of the Taylor schools. Clarence M. Davis, a brother of Claude A. Davis, was in Ord from Lead, S. D. on a visit. The Quiz says he made the trip alone and so planned it to be here for chautauqua.

The Ord turner team, composed of Joe Stara, Paul Bartunek, Stanley Dworak and Joe Cernik, Jr., went to Omaha to compete in the state contest there.

The Richardson Seed company, through its agent, F. J. Vopat, was advertising to pay the highest price for millet and alfalfa seed and seed popcorn, sweet corn, flint corn and field corn.

The Ord baseball team went to Arcadia, where they met defeat at the hands of the Arcadians by a score of 3 to 2.

The residence occupied by C. A. Bahde in Arcadia was struck by lightning, and Mr. Bahde had his hands badly burned putting out the fire which it started.

July 29, 1908. The Sunday collection at the Ord Episcopal church went to the soldier boys at Chickamauga, and it is stated that a very nice sum was raised.

George W. Micklewait and son Charles went to Kansas City to meet Mrs. Micklewait, who had been undergoing treatment for her eyes. He reported her improving, but not as fast as he had hoped for.

Ben Bridgford received word of the death of his father at Friend, Nebr., who passed away at the age of 87 years.

Lieut. Kit Carson returned home on a furlough. He had been sick for a few weeks, and showed lack of proper nourishment.

Fire, starting in the rear of the Pavak barn, which stood just east of where the Sinclair filling station now is, completely destroyed the building and gave the firemen plenty of work preventing the loss of a number of other buildings.

The charred wood of that fire can still be seen on the lot. Firemen, wetting down the dust in the street, splashing water on some goods displayed by M. Coombs in front of his store. In an ensuing argument between Coombs and Clark Lamberton, the latter caught Coombs, a much smaller man, and was choking him when Dr. Milligan separated them. They was the good old days.

Harry Daggett, who was pretty small then, got off the train while it was in motion, fell under the edge of the coach, but miraculously escaped injury, while Conductor Ratling looked on in speechless consternation.

Work was begun on the Ord Christian church, and the building was to be crowded right along until completion.

Jack Trester was lingering between life and death, and there seemed to be no hope for his recovery.

The first new wheat to come into the city was brought in by T. B. Garrison and brought 45c per bushel. It was under standard weight and was bought by Barstow.

Herman Mattley was expected in Ord to resume work in the Robbins law office. He had a very successful term of school at Fremont.

There was a clash between the district court and the Democratic convention as to which should have the use of the court house. It was settled by the convention going over to the opera house and the court staying where it was.

The Quiz said that "J. L. Clafin pulled out at an early hour Monday morning to help nominate a demo-pop candidate for state senate, instead of staying at home and helping about the washing as he should have done."

Know These Persons?

This department was inadvertently omitted last week, but we will let you in on a deep secret. The young man with his hat in his hand, the bow tie and the handkerchief showing in his coat pocket was none other than our good friend, Joe Beran, as he appeared on his arrival in the United States some 50 years ago. He is grand-father of the Quiz new writer, Lillian Kary. We show this week two of Ord's present business men who were rivals in business when the above picture was taken quite a number of years ago. You should be able to guess them, but please don't all guess at once.

LEGAL NOTICE AS TO MEASURE TO BE VOTED UPON NOVEMBER 8, 1938

PROPOSED BY INITIATIVE PETITION

A proposal to amend Section 24, Article 3 of the Constitution of Nebraska authorizing the legislature, by law, to license and to regulate the operation of slot machines and other coin operated devices and machines of chance, exempting merchandise and service vending machines; to provide that revenue derived from license fees shall go into the state assistance fund, the school district in which the machine is located and for administrative expense; to provide a limitation on the amount of an occupation tax any city or village in the state may levy upon any owner or operator of such machine.

301 NO

A MEASURE

FOR AN AMENDMENT to the Constitution of the State of Nebraska relating to public assistance, welfare and social security; to provide revenue for the State Assistance Fund from the proceeds of an annual tax to be levied on owners and operators of coin-operated devices.

Be It Enacted by the People of the State of Nebraska:

Section 1. That Section 24, Article III, Constitution of Nebraska, be amended to read as follows:

*Sec. 24. (a) The Legislature shall not authorize any game of chance, lottery or gift enterprise; but nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws provided for the licensing and regulation of wagering on the results of horse races by the pari-mutuel or certificate method, when conducted by licensees within the race track enclosure at licensed horse race meetings; nor shall anything in this section be construed to prohibit the enactment of laws providing for the operation, leasing, distribution, maintenance or possession of any coin-operated machines, whether said machines are skill machines, vending machines or trade machines or providing for the licensing, regulation and taxing of said machines as hereafter provided. (b) No person or persons, corporation or corporations shall own or operate any coin-operated device without first having obtained a license therefor. For the purpose of this section, coin-operated devices are defined and classified as follows: (1) Coin-operated skill machines (commonly referred to as pin games, marble tables and similar devices of this type which may have a skill feature) which may or may not pay a reward for skillful operation, or upon which operation premiums may or may not be given for high score or making certain combinations. Such premiums may be awarded either automatically by the machine in the form of checks, tokens or orders which designate the value of the premium or premiums, or may be indicated by a score card attached to the machine. Hereafter, this type shall be referred to as 'skill machines'. (2) Automatic coin-operated vending and amusement machines with premium features which vend for each coin deposited a standard article of merchandise of a recognized retail value equal to the coin deposited and in addition, may vend checks, tokens or orders which may be exchanged for additional merchandise. Hereafter this type shall be referred to as 'automatic vendors'. (3) Trade machines which have no merchandise vending feature, although at intervals indicate that patron is entitled to receive premiums in merchandise or cash which the machine may or may not vend. Hereafter this type will be referred to as 'trade machines': Provided, nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to any coin-operated machine or device which returns amusement or entertainment or some service or article of value or a combination of the above uniformly as to quantity and quality upon each insertion of a coin into the same nor to any coin-operated telephone, United States stamp machine or toilet locks. Each owner of automatic vendors or skill machines or trade machines shall obtain an annual license from and shall pay in advance an annual occupation tax to the Tax Commissioner of the state in the sum of One Thousand Dollars on the first machine for which an annual license is taken, all of said tax to be credited to the State Assistance Fund, and an annual occupation tax to the Tax Commissioner of the state on each additional machine for which an annual license is taken in the sum of Forty Dollars per year, payable quarterly in advance, Thirty Dollars of which shall be credited to the State Assistance Fund and Ten Dollars, less the cost of administration, if any, shall forthwith be transmitted to the proper school treasurer for credit to the public school fund of the particular city, town, village or county in which each of said machines is licensed, as the case may be: Provided, notwithstanding any ordinance or charter power to the contrary, no city or village shall impose any occupation, privilege, license, excise or other tax on the business of any licensed person, firm or corporation owning or operating said coin-operated machines in any sum exceeding Ten Dollars per annum. The provisions of this section do not apply to machines or devices being displayed or demonstrated by manufacturers, distributors, salesmen or their agents for sales purposes. The Legislature by general law shall provide the amount of application fees and other regulations to defray the cost of administration of and to carry out the intent and purpose of this section, and shall further provide it to be a misdemeanor punishable by fine not exceeding One Hundred Dollars for each offense for any owner or person in charge of any licensed machine knowingly to permit any minor to play thereon."

The above proposed measure to be voted upon at the general election November 8, 1938, is published in accordance with section 1910, Chapter 32, Compiled Statutes 1929, State of Nebraska, Harry R. Swanson, Secretary of State.

Racketeering Not Something New—It Flourished In Early Days of Nebraska's Statehood

Racketeers came early to Nebraska, say research workers of the Federal Writers' Project, W.F.A. Some of the rackets were minor, but rather inoffensive was the "lamp inspector" racket, coming into prominence about 1885. The suspicious inspector stopped at a house and asked to see the lamps, lighted them, and apparently made an examination. After blowing out the lamps he demanded ten cents. Of course there was no such office as that of "lamp inspector." Housewives were advised "if one of the fellows calls on you, give him the mopstick—over the head."

A herd law in effect about the same time provided another opportunity for a minor racket. Under this law, cattle going out cultivated land were trespassers. Many people took advantage of the law. Thus a man living at the outskirts of Nebraska City rented two acres of land and planted a part of it in potatoes. Many families owned one or more cows, which were driven out of town each morning to graze. If one of the animals stepped onto the man's potato patch he took her to a corral, held her for trespass, and collected from 75 cents to a dollar for his trouble.

A somewhat more serious racket, but one with a touch of poetic justice about it, was the racehorse racket. In the days of unregistered racehorses, and of racetrack sports at county fairs, there would appear a boy, his "paw" and a hard looking horse to take all bets. In spite of knotty knees, a shaggy coat, and a generally broken down appearance, the horse was a genuine "wind splitter." Yet because of its unimpressive appearance, it got a handicap from the cocksure and cigar-smoking sports backing sleek favorites. The race was run, the boy usually won, and "paw" collected.

Still another was the note signing racket. This was usually worked by a "chopper" in clerical broadcloth and white, who entered a farmhouse and asked for dinner or lodging. Giving the family a Bible from a valise, he carefully stated that his society required its distributing members to pay their own way and exhibit vouchers as proof that they had done so. He paid for his meal or lodging and requested his host to sign the voucher. The "voucher" later turned out to be a note signed by the farmer, and purchased by a nearby bank.

The most serious racket, however was that pulled by confidence men pretending to buy a farm. One of the pair bought a farm at the farmer's price, paying from fifty to one hundred dollars down to bind the bargain. Then shortly afterward a confederate appeared offering the farmer a great deal more than he was to get from the first buyer. The farmer saw a chance to make some money, and bought the first man off with as much as from five hundred to a thousand dollars. Then both men disappeared, and the farmer learned something new about buying farms.—Federal Writers' Project.

Threshing Activity Being Pushed Throughout Valley County

Scenes like this typify the harvest season, which is now well under way in Valley county. These pictures were taken by the Quiz photographer on the Bud Covert farm in Springdale, which is being farmed by Edwin Zentz this year. Erwin, 17, is one of the county's youngest farmers.

In the center picture is seen Clarence Pierson's machine and separator. The Pierson rig is one of the few steam outfits still in use here.

Harvesting is thirsty work and at upper right Bud Covert shows the approved method of getting a drink of water in the harvest field. At lower left—it is noon, and the boys wash up for dinner. Among the threshers were Anton Danczak, Frank Valasek, Verl Timmerman and Kenneth Timmerman. And at the lower right the crew sits down to a tasty dinner cooked by Mrs. Erwin Zentz, the former Miss Verna Stowell, who can be seen serving table at extreme left of the small picture.
