Schools Opened Tuesday Following the Holidays

Ord schools opened following the Christmas holidays on Tuesday, Jan. 2. They closed Dec. 21 the Thursday before Christmas. All days of vacation except legal holidays, are made up by the end of the school term.

In the country, most schools closed for the holidays on Friday Dec. 22, and opened again on Tuesday, Jan. 2. A few opened on New Year's day, and of course there were a few who were exceptions to the general rule.

Desmul Sale Is Success Despite Dismal Weather

Rene Desmul hit one of the worst days of the winter to date for his sale last Wednesday, but in spite of the cold and piercing wind there was a fair crowd in attendance and those who came, came to buy. Mr. Desmul stated that the sale grossed $400 to $500 more than he expected.

The horses sold exceptionally well, making an average of $10 per head more than was anticipated. The top milk cows of the sale brought $65. The sale ran almost to $10,000, and would have exceeded that amount except that some fat hogs were not included, but were sold privately.

Christmas Decorations Taken Down This Week

After delighting the eyes of the little folks for a month the Christmas decorations around the square and on the court house and city hall were taken down yesterday and today by the crew from the city light and water department. These decorations have been used here for a number of years, but Ord is still known as one of the best decorated cities in the state.

Has Leg Amputated.

Tuesday morning Drs. C. W. Weekes and H. N. Norris operated on Eugene Simpkins, removing his right leg above the knee. The operation was performed at the Clinic. Mr. Simpkins is suffering from a very rare disease called thrombo angitis obliterans, in which a blood clot forms in the arteries and veins of the leg, causing severe pain.

Old Timers—Write a Letter to the Quiz Letter-Box Edition

All former residents of Ord and vicinity who have moved to distant places are invited to write a letter for publication in the Quiz "Letter-Box Edition" to be published on Wednesday, Jan. 24. If old-timers respond to this request generally, an interesting news exchange will be the result.

Make your letters short—200 words or less if possible—and make them newsworthy. Tell about your business, your family, your health, what other Ordites you see often, what births, deaths, marriages, accidents, injuries, etc., have occurred in your family or among former Ord people recently.

If possible send a good picture of yourself to be published with the letter. We will return it to you in good condition. We are hoping that 100 or more letters for this issue will be received, and will make the "letter-box edition" an annual event if former Ord residents will help make it a success.

Ord Had 5 Fires in 1939 But Loss Was a Mere $75

Fire Hazard Elimination Is One Factor in Remarkable Record of Ord Firemen

According to the list of fires in 1939, as given out by the Ord fire department, the fire laddies had a year of which any group might well be proud. The total number of fires during the period from Jan. 1, 1939 to Dec. 31, 1939, inclusive, was five fires, as follows: D. A. Moser, loss, $20.00; C. J. Miller, loss, nothing; Ord township library, loss, $50.00; E. P. Clements, jr., loss, $5.00; and Noll Seed company, loss, nothing. The last of these occurred on the evening of April 13, and there has been no loss of any kind since that time.

This is certainly a remarkable record for any department. The firemen give credit for this fine record to a number of different causes, including the hearty cooperation of both businessmen and citizens in seeing that no fire hazards are permitted to develop, and the fullest cooperation of the police department.

Last year's record was considered very good at the time it was given to the Quiz. In 1938 there were ten fires, with a total loss of $4,382. Compared with the past year's total of $75, this seems like a large amount indeed. Ord's fire prevention service is so efficient that the public has little opportunity to see the firemen in action, and as a consequence the service they are rendering is not fully appreciated.

Eugene Petska Takes Over Petska Station

The first business change recorded for 1940 was that in which Eugene Petska took over the Petska Service Station, north of Anderson Motor company, Lou retiring after having charge for the past two years. Eugene is a son of Joe Petska, and will be assisted in the work by his older brother, Emanuel, whenever the amount of business requires help.

Timmerman Twin Dies; Funeral Held Tuesday

Marvin Verle, one of the twin sons born to Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Timmerman on December 14, passed away Sunday at 9 a. m. The funeral service was held from the Pearson and Anderson chapel on Tuesday afternoon at 2, in charge of Rev. G. C. Robinson. Mrs. Mark Tolen sang, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the organ. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Burlington Road Stops Sunday Depot Service

Beginning last Sunday the Burlington road discontinued Sunday service at the depot. Passengers can travel out of Ord as usual, but must pay their fare on the train. The train crew takes off the mail, and it is locked inside in case R. O. Hunter is not there to take it in when it arrives. Mr. Hunter has a key and picks it up when he comes.

Ralph W. Norman Will Supervise Business Census

Work Starting This Week in 10th District; Cooperation is Asked.

R. E. Brega, district supervisor for the 10th district of the 1940 census with offices at Kearney, announces that arrangements are completed for the taking of the business, wholesale and manufacturers census, commencing Tuesday, January 2. The population census will not get under way until April 1.

The 10th district comprises eleven counties and only eleven enumerators are allotted for the entire work of taking the business, wholesale and manufacturers schedules. These enumerators have been appointed and have attended enumerators' schools which were held Dec. 27, 28 and 29 at Kearney, Broken Bow and Callaway. Men with accounting and business experience were appointed as enumerators this being necessary because of the comprehensive breakdown of each class of business to be enumerated.

The cooperation of all business men is requested in the taking of the census. Mr. Brega emphasizes the fact that the census is taken for the compiling of statistics for the government, trade associations and each particular line or class of business. All information is strictly confidential and is to be used for no other purpose. No other department of local, state or national government can obtain any data pertaining to any individual firm, partnership or corporation. Every business man is requested to extend every courtesy to the enumerator when he calls.

The following men have received their appointments and schooling and will start the operation of the census on January 2: Thomas county, Spencer J. Valenteine, Seneca; Custer county, John Frederick, jr., Callaway; Olin L. Newkirk, Arnold; Cartfield, F. B. Wheeler, Burwell; Loup county, Fred Replogie, Taylor; Valley county, Ralph W. Norman, Ord; Buffalo county, Fred Cottrell, Ravenna; Adolph A. Nystrom, Kearney; Dawson county, Merion G. Farnam, Thomas H. Shoney, Sumner; Sherman county, Melvin Janulewicz, Loup City.

Chanticleers Lose to Oakland, Ia.

Ord lost a thrilling contest to the Oakland, Ia., team Friday evening at the Ord gymnasium, the final score being 33 to 32. The game was called at 8 p. m., with Dick Pulliam as referee. Preceding the game and during all intermissions, the Ord high school orchestra, under the direction of Henry Deines, furnished very fine music.

Ord took the lead early in the first quarter, but could not hold it; the quarter ending 0-5, and Oakland, 6. Ord outplayed their opponents in the second quarter, which ended with the score, Ord, 15, and Oakland, 14. Oakland romped away in the third quarter which ended Ord, 18, and Oakland, 26. Ord came back strong in the final quarter, and with another minute to play would doubtless have tied or won.

Carlson, who started the game, was able to play but a short time, Furtak taking his place. Others in the starting lineup were H. Misko, Romans, Tatlow and E. Piskorski. Others who saw service were Flagg and McBeth. Hurlbert was troubled with a game leg and was unable to play.

H. Misko was high point man for Ord, with ten points. Furtak crowded him for top honors with nine points. Piskorski accounted for 5 points, Carlson, 6 points, and Romans, 2 points. The game was fast and personal fouls numerous, Ord losing two players on fouls and Oakland a like number.

The Oakland team arrived in Ord shortly before noon Friday coming from Ravenna, where they had played their only other game of the trip the night before. This they lost by a score of 46 to 32, the floor having been waxed for a dance the night before. They were accompanied by their coach, Fred Schneider and by John Harrison of the Oakland Acorn.

There were 9 players and a manager, Leonard Shanno. The players were Norman Myers, Vaughn Hughes, Don Allen, Dick Harris, Harry Sivers, Donald Turner, Dale Hackett, Dean Davenport and Gerald Pearson. They traveled in two cars. Mr. Harrison paid a visit to the Quiz office during the afternoon and looked over the plant.

Their coach, Mr. Schneider, formerly coached at Pilger, Neb. The Ord players are all agreed that the Oakland boys were as fine a group of gentlemen as ever came to Ord to play basketball. They played hard, clean ball throughout, and deserved to win.

Final Survey Starts on Ord-No. Loup Road

North Loup—(Special)—With H. W. Culwell in charge, a state highway department surveying crew last week began the final survey on the new Ord-North Loup highway, preparatory to actual construction work which will start soon. Bridges and culverts are to be built starting Febr. 15 and grading will begin March 1.

The Texaco filling station here has been rented by Mr. Culwell as an office, and with four helpers he is busy drawing detailed plans for the work.

Quiz Leases Building For Engraving Plant

An important development in the affairs of the Ord Quiz for 1940 is the leasing of the Christian Science building across the street for the use of the photo-engraving plant. For some time the need of more room for this department has been felt, and the climax was reached in the response the public is making to an enlargement offer made last week.

The offer was made to give a tinted 8x10 enlargement of any photograph to any subscriber who would secure a new subscriber for one year at the regular rate. The immediate response showed that more room would be necessary to take care of the increased business. As soon as necessary changes can be made, the photo-engraving department will be moved across the street.

1939 Precipitation Total 15.12 Inches; 107 Year's Hottest

Moisture Was Below Normal But Records of Heat and Cold at Normal Levels.

The weather record for 1939, as given the Quiz by Horace Travis, local weather reporter, shows a deficiency of moisture, especially during the latter half of the year. In fact, the month of November shows no measurable rain or snow, which is a very unusual condition and of course one most unfavorable for crops.

January showed a high of 60 on Jan. 1, but a drop to 28 that same night. The low point for the month was 8 above on the 15th. Three days did not go below freezing, 2nd, 3d, and 9th, and 5 days did not go above freezing, 15th, 16th, 21st, 22nd and 29th. The moisture total was .65 of which .32 was on the 23d, and lesser amounts on Jan. 8, 9, 12, 14, 16 and 31.

The high for February was Febr. 11, 64 above but there was a drop to -3 that night. The lowest was on Febr. 8 which was -13. Below zero temperatures came on Febr. 3, 9, 10, 11, 17, 20, 21 and 22. Febr. 12 did not go below freezing and a total of 12 days when the temperature did not go above freezing. Total moisture was .34, coming on Febr. 9, 16, 27.

There was a high of 81 on March 23, dropping to 44 that night. The low was 3 on March 6. Eleven days were above the freezing point while on six days the thermometer did not rise above freezing. Six days the maximum rose above summer heat. The total precipitation was .93, .48 coming on March 27, lesser amounts on March 4, 5, 11, 29, 31.

The highest temperature in April was on the 24th, 90 degrees. The lowest was April 6 and 11, 17 degrees. Nine days fell below the freezing point, the last night of frost being on April 19. There were 8 days when the temperature rose above summer heat. Precipitation was .73 on the 15th, and .40 on April 1, 3, 4, 11, 13, 17, 20 and 26. Total, 1.85.

For May the highest temperature was May 30, 94 degrees, and the lowest May 15, 44 degrees. There were no minimum temperatures above summer heat. Twenty three days were above summer heat as a maximum. There was 4.26 inches of moisture, as follows: May 2, .94; May 6, .14; May 7, .14; May 22, 1.37; May 23, .04; May 25, 1.43; May 26, .17; May 27, .03.

June was an unusually cool month, the highest being June 17, 94 degrees, and the low 42 degrees on June 12. No days were above summer heat in the minimum, an unusual condition. In the maximum there were 26 days above summer heat. There was a cold wave on June 10, 11 and 12, with high temperatures of 58, 64 and 51 respectively. Precipitation was 3.56 inches, as follows: June 1, .84; June 2, .27; June 6, .13; June 8, .03; June 9, .56; June 12, .70; June 13, .09; June 20, .51; June 21, .03; June 24, .32; June 27, .77; June 30, .08.

The high temperature for July was 107 on July 12 and the low was 58 on July 22. Every day of the month was above 70 maximum, and 7 days, July 10 to 16 inclusive, were above 100. A total of 10 days didn't fall below a minimum of 70 degrees, or summer heat. There was a total of .33 inch of rain, of which .26 came on July 4, and .07 on July 16. There was a trace on 6 other days, but not enough to measure.

The highest temperature for August was 100 on Aug. 1, and the lowest was 50 on Aug. 8 and 11. The thermometer reached 100 only on one day. However, for 16 days the temperature did not fall below 70 for a minimum. The precipitation was 1.55, as follows: Aug. 1, .31; Aug. 4, .28; Aug. 7, .16; Aug. 9, .33; Aug. 11, .14; Aug. 19, .33.

The highest temperature in September was 102, on Sept. 5, two degrees hotter than the hottest in August. The lowest came on Sept. 30, 31 degrees. Two days were above 100 degrees, and 25 days above a 70 maximum, 10 days above a 70 minimum. Precipitation for the month was .15, all coming on Sept. 2.

The high temperature for October was 84 on Oct. 6, and the low was 19 on Oct. 28. There were only 15 days above summer heat, maximum, and none above 70 minimum. Below freezing dates were Oct. 14, 16, 17, 28, 30. Precipitation was .84, as follows: Oct. 8, .52; Oct. 9, .26; Oct. 26, .04; Oct. 29, .02.

The high temperature for November was 65 on Nov. 30, and the low was 14 on Nov. 3. There were no days above summer heat maximum, and 22 days were below the freezing point minimum. There was absolutely no measurable moisture for the entire month, and this dry

Mrs. Mortensen Hurt in Highway Accident

Monday afternoon, while spending the New Year's holiday with friends, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Mann, of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, of Ord, were in a highway auto accident and Mrs. Mortensen suffered a broken shoulder bone. Their car was struck by a car entering the highway from a side road.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Mann also were hurt, the former suffering a broken rib and some torn cartilages while Mrs. Mann suffered painful bruises and a slight concussion. She is in a Lincoln hospital this week for observation and treatment.

The Mortensens returned home Tuesday afternoon in their own car, which was damaged to the extent of $100 or more, all of which was covered by insurance. Mrs. Mortensen will have to carry one arm in a sling for about five weeks.

Mike Kaczka, 55, Has Heart Attack, Succumbs Sunday

Valley County Farmer Found Unconscious in Shed, Dies a Few Hours Later.

Michael Kaczka, 55-year-old farmer who lived ten miles west of Ord, died at his home Sunday Dec. 31 as the result of a heart attack suffered the previous day. He left the house to do chores and 10 minutes later was found unconscious in a cattle shed by his son. He was carried to the house, a doctor was called and everything possible was done, but to no avail.

Mr. Kaczka was born in Poland, Sept. 29, 1884 and came to the United States 35 years ago, settling at once in Valley county which remained his home until his death. His marriage to Mary Kapuska occurred here Febr. 15, 1919 and to them three children were born, Mrs. Kaczka died in 1937.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. John Knopik and Mrs. John Sobon, and a son, Carl Kaczka. There also are two grandsons, some relatives in Poland and a host of friends.

The funeral services were held at Elyria Tuesday morning with Rev. C. Shumski in charge. Pallbearers included Emanuel Kapuska, Edward Kapuska, Mike Setlik, Leonard Setlik, Henry Setlik and Frank Kapuska. Frazier's had charge of all arrangements.

1940 Ushered in by Zero Weather

If Jan. 1, 1940 is a sample of what this winter will be, cold weather may be expected, for 8 degrees below zero was the reading as church bells chimed and sirens shrieked at midnight Sunday. Also, -8 is the coldest mark officially recorded so far in 1940 at Ord. Jan. 2 was 12 above zero and Jan. 3 about the same.

At that, Ord was the warm spot of the Loup valley Monday night, for the government thermometer at Burwell registered -13 and the government thermometer at North Loup -16 at the same time -3 was being recorded here.

Snow fall Tuesday night measured 3-4 of an inch, with .07 of an inch of moisture, reports Horace Travis, and more snow is forecast.

Kearney Basketballers Coming to Ord Friday

Coach Brockman's Chanticleers will face still competition on their own floor Friday night when the fast Kearney quintet comes to Ord. Kearney usually has one of the best cage squads in Nebraska and always are hard to beat. With his team rounding into shape after several non-conference games, Coach Brockman hopes for a win in this, the last non-conference clash the Chanticleers have this season.

Wm. M. Cheyney Dies At Aurora Xmas Day

Ericson—(Special)—Wm. M. Cheyney, resident of Wheeler county 52 years, died Christmas day at Aurora, where he had just gone to help his sons in their gas station. A heart attack caused his death. The funeral was held in the family home here, Dec. 28 with Rev. C. E. Austin conducting and interment was in the Bartlett cemetery.

Firemen Protest Iron-Clads Within City Fire Limits

City Council Hasn't Compelled Compliance with Fire Ordinance, Is Charge.

A strongly-worded protest against the city council permitting buildings to be constructed within the Ord fire limits without complying with requirements of the fire ordinance was filed Tuesday evening by the Ord volunteer fire department, over the signatures of C. W. Clark, fire chief, George Anderson, president, and Mark Tolen, secretary. It was read to Mayor M. B. Cummins and councilmen by Cit Clerk Jewett and then was placed on file.

The fire department requested that in the future, the ordinance be strictly complied with and suggested that this ordinance protects the city in general and that to ignore it reflects upon the fire department and the city as a whole.

The department's protest was actuated by the city permitting the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district to erect an iron-clad shop building at the corner of 14th and K streets some months ago, and to the repairs recently completed on the north 15th street building owned by Frank Stara, which was remodeled for occupancy by a bowling alley. In neither case was a building permit issued, according to city records.

At the council meeting Tuesday evening, verbal applications for permission to erect iron-clads within the fire limits were made on behalf of Forrest Watson and the Service Oil company. Both buildings, if permitted, would be used for storage of grain and petroleum products.

Firemen claim that the city council "let the bars down" when they permitted the irrigation district to build contrary to city ordinance, and that fire insurance rates are bound to increase in Ord if further illegal building or repairs to buildings are permitted.

Further discussion of this question will take place at the next meeting of the council.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

For years the teachers, Miss Inez Swain and Miss Lucy Rowbal, have been driving their car under a number that was just a little ahead of time. With the dawn of the new year, however, everything seems to be just about all right, and their number 47-1940, is right up to the minute.

Today a new Clay Gilroy discovered a dark Gray Leghorn hen running around the yard, and tried to give it to the Wards across the fence to the west, as his own chickens are pure white. However, it did not take long to convince him that the hen was one of his own. She had gone across the fence and had crawled through a length of stovepipe while hunting a place to make a nest.

Down at the Valley County Abstract office they are telling about a man named Joe Brown who dropped in one day last week, announced himself to be a professional wrestler and ready to meet anyone in the world within ten pounds of his own weight. Theonon Beehrle offered to take him for a side bet of a dollar, winner to take all, but he acted insulted at the offer.

This reminds us of a battle that happened right here in Ord some 30 years ago. At that time there was a cocky kid in town named Merritt Hiram Fuson. He was a pretty good kid, as kids go, but there was a tall gawky Dane kid in town, and Pat could not resist picking on him. The big kid did not want to fight and always ran. But once Pat tried it, he got often and caught up with him. Pat probably hasn't forgotten the licking he got that night and the tall kid, better known as Carl Sorenson, hasn't forgotten it either.

Vasicek's License Is Located at McCook

On Dec. 12, Joe Vasicek found his car license, driver's license, car numbers and two blankets stolen from his car. He could not imagine who would have any use for them, but communicated with Sheriff George Round, who notified the state sheriff's office.

A few days ago Round received word that the missing articles had been found with a stolen car at McCook. The man had stolen the car and then stolen the licenses and plates and changed the name to that of "Fisher" under which name he was booked at McCook.

Battle Dance Postponed. Towles' colored orchestra and Don Kelly's orchestra, both from Omaha, was scheduled to be held January 10 at the Larlette ball room in Burwell but has been postponed until Wednesday, January 24.

Many Projects by NYA During the Year 1939

For the past 1 1/2 years the National Youth Administration has been operating throughout the state of Nebraska under what is known as the area set up. The entire state is divided into 12 separate areas with an area supervisor in charge of each area. The area of which Valley county is a part is known as Area 9 with Blaine, Loup, Garfield and Greeley and Wheeler counties making up the balance of the area.

service nature. In addition to this a sewing project is in operation at Spalding under the sponsorship of the city council and the American Red Cross. This project employs approximately 20 girls per pay period.

Recreation Office To Open at Scotia Jan. 9

A. J. Cochran, area recreation supervisor, WPA, announces that a recreation center will open in Scotia, Jan. 9 under WPA supervision. Recreation activities will be centered in the new community recreation center which was recently completed, and which is considered by officials as one of the finest in the state.

Camp Fire Notes.

Junior Auxiliary.

The American Legion Junior Auxiliary was entertained at a party in the home of Mrs. Syl Furtak on Friday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in playing a variety of table games with prizes being awarded for each, after which lunch was served. Among the fifteen girls present there were two new members, Evelyn Fredericksen and Vivian Wiegardt.

Golden Anniversary Observed by Browns

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. W. Brown, who spent thirty-six years of married life in Valley county, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in the Crescent fraternal house on the Wesleyan university campus in Lincoln New Year's day. Mrs. Brown has presided over this fraternal house as house mother for eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were united in marriage at Steele City, Nebr., Jan. 1, 1890. At the time of his marriage Mr. Brown was operating a hardware store in North Loup and he immediately took his bride to that town where they made their home for fifteen years.

Mrs. Brown is related to the Sears families who formerly lived in North Loup and while visiting them she came to know the man who was to become her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Brown first met at a party given in the old Arlington Hotel in North Loup.

The Browns are the parents of four children, Marie, who is now Mrs. L. D. Pierce of Burwell, Ross of Lincoln, Margaret, who is now Mrs. Colton Smith of Omaha, and William of Lincoln. All of the children with the exception of Mrs. Pierce were present at the celebration.

In 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved with their family to Ord where their youngest son was born. For many years Mr. Brown operated a hardware store in Ord. He was twice elected county treasurer of Valley county.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown took an active part in the community affairs of Ord. They were devoted members of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Brown was a member of Odd Fellows, Ben Hur and Woodmen Lodges. Mrs. Brown was at one time president of the Women's club. She was also active in the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Hitchman of Omaha were present for the observance of the golden wedding. Mrs. Hitchman is Mr. Brown's sister. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown enjoy good health. For many years Mr. Brown has been hard of hearing and he is now practically totally deaf. The Browns left Ord and moved to Lincoln fourteen years ago.

Married Thursday.

Miss Mildred Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Craig, and Eddie Bartos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartos, were married by Rev. G. C. Roberson at the Methodist parsonage Thursday evening at 8 p. m. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Lena Craig and Dean Bresley.

The bride was attired in a blue wool street length dress with black accessories. The groom wore a dark suit. The bride graduated from Ord high school, class of 1936, and is now teaching in Dist. No. 20 in Garfield county. The groom returned recently from Idaho, where he had been employed the past year.

Married Last May.

Glen Cochran and Miss Gwendolyn Kellison took their friends by surprise when they announced their wedding the past week. They were married on May 29 last, at Hiawatha, Kas. Miss Wilma Cochran, sister of the groom, and Don Miller made the trip to Kansas with them. At the present time Mrs. Cochran is teaching school in Dist. No. 51. They will make their home with her father, Orin Kellison, in Ord. Mr. Cochran has rented 125 acres of irrigated land east of Ord which he will farm this year.

Entertain at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dubas entertained at a lovely one o'clock dinner at their home Sunday. At either end of the table were lighted green tapers in crystal holders. The afternoon was spent informally. At six p. m., a light lunch was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parkos, Jr., Miss Helen Russell and Anthony Kokes.

In the evening a no-host New Year's eve party was held at the Dubas home. The evening was spent informally. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parkos, Jr., Miss Helen Russell, Norene Hardenbrook, Dorothy Seerley and Anthony Kokes, Don Stewart and Raymond Tatlow.

Legion and Auxiliary.

The first meeting of 1940 was held at the Legion hall by the members of the American Legion Tuesday evening. The first item of business was the report of the department convention, given by Joe Gregory and Commander Severson. John Ward gave a report on the work of the carnival committee, which had set the date for the carnival as Feb. 21. Alfred L. Hill explained that the Legion would have an opportunity to do its part in the celebration for the opening of Ord's new postoffice, probably some time in March, and it was voted to co-operate with other civic organizations at that time.

Meanwhile the Ladies Auxiliary was meeting down stairs. They also listened to the report of the department convention, given by Mrs. Wiegardt, Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Wareham. Mrs. Wiegardt was appointed rehabilitation chairman. The ladies were asked to assist the Legion in putting on their carnival on Feb. 21, and they agreed to do so. Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Deines and Mrs. Langer were appointed as a committee for this purpose.

At the close of the business meetings a free bingo game was played with about 30 prizes given away, and a very enjoyable time was had. Horace Travis must have had his rabbit's foot in working order, as he won more than anyone else. At the close of play the serving committee, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Stoddard, served ple a la mode and coffee.

Ord Pinochle.

The Ord Pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. R. Brox. Mrs. W. A. Bartlett held high score and Mrs. Joe Jablonski, low. The next meeting will be held Jan. 16 with Mrs. J. Pecenka.

Visit at Ravenna.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rutar and Mr. and Mrs. F. J. L. Benda drove to Ravenna Sunday evening and were guests at a New Year's eve party at the Joe Knotek home. There were 12 couples in attendance. Cards were played and a lunch was served at midnight.

New Year's Party.

Mrs. Sarah Adams' sister from Aida, Mrs. Veva Goodwin, her son, Johnny, and friend, Floyd McCullough, came Saturday evening and stayed until Tuesday afternoon. Children and friend, Leonard Lak-in, Veva Goodwin and son Johnny New Year's day. Mrs. Adams and Mr. McCullough, all went to Burwell to eat New Year's dinner with their mother, Mrs. Matilda Davis. All but Mrs. Davis came back that evening and ate supper at the Sarah Adams home.

New Year's Watch Party.

A New Year's eve party was held at the Russell Waterman home with the following persons in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oliver and Greta, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and Donna Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kluna and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, Leonard Tolen, Morris Strohm, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman, Miss Dolsie Waterman and S. I. Willard and Homer.

Wadas-Sydzzyk.

At 9 a. m. Tuesday at the Ord Catholic church occurred the marriage of Miss Julia Wadas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wadas, and Anton F. Sydzzyk, son of Mrs. Andrew Sydzzyk, Father T. O. Murray of the Sacred Heart church of Burwell officiating.

The bridemaids were Miss Adeline Wadas, sister, and Miss Agnes Wadas, cousin, of the bride, and the groom's attendants were his brother, Joseph Sydzzyk, and the bride's brother, Sylvester Wadas. The bride wore a white satin dress with long lace veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations. Her attendants were attired in blush rose dresses and wore coronets in their hair.

Following the ceremony, which was witnessed by the immediate relatives, all present went to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served. These young people are popular in the Elyria community where they live, and where they expect to make their home.

Social Brevities.

The wedding anniversaries of the Burdick and Cummins families fall on New Year's day. Mayor and Mrs. Cummins invited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burdick to come to dinner but Mr. Burdick was having the flu so he could not come. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker and Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Jones were home to help

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis were hosts New Year's eve when members of their bridge club came to help 1939 out and 1940 in. The members helped arrange and serve a seven o'clock supper of oyster stew.

Some Controversy.

Rev. E. A. Clark tells of a controversy that is going on out in Scotts Bluff county in regard to the significance of the new license plates. Most of the people there contend that the design on the plates is to represent their popular landmark, Chimney Rock, which it doubtless resembles in form. The other cause of controversy is the color that is used on the blue background for the figures, letters and outlines. Some contend that it is orange, and others are just as certain that it is red. Why not compromise and call it a mixture of the two colors?

Mr. Charles Houser, who had a baby girl last week, was able to leave the hospital, Dr. Weekes was her attending physician.

Ralph McClimans Buried Sunday

Funeral services for Ralph McClimans, well known Burwell resident who died Thursday afternoon after an illness of about a month, were conducted by the Rev. J. Shelby Light in the McClimans home Sunday afternoon.

Mr. McClimans was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McClimans who were among the first to settle in this part of the North Loup valley. He was born in a log cabin on the McClimans farm about three miles east of Burwell, Jan. 8, 1883. His father was the first treasurer of Wheeler county of which Garfield was then a part.

He grew up in a pioneer environment, being denied many of the advantages which are offered to the children of today. It was his privilege to see the village of Willow Springs arise and prosper and later vanish altogether to be replaced by the town of Burwell.

On April 14, 1909, he was married to Sorata Compton at Council Bluffs, Ia. Mr. and Mrs. McClimans made their home on the McClimans farm. Two children were born to them, Alta who makes her home with her grandmother and Allan of Rensselaer, N. Y. Mrs. McClimans died Feb. 22, 1912, nine days after the birth of her son.

After the death of his wife, Mr. McClimans' mother made her home with Ralph and took care of the children, a duty which she has continued to perform ever since. When it became necessary for the children to go to school the McClimans left the farm and moved into their present home in Burwell.

In 1919, Mr. McClimans went to California where he lived for eight years. He also spent two years in Florida.

In 1931, Mr. McClimans returned to Burwell where he has since resided.

Mr. McClimans possessed a keen analytical mind. He was much interested in World affairs, and was locally recognized as an authority on political and social questions.

He was always ready to lend his support to a movement to better his community and did not wait for an issue to become popular before he championed it. During the World War he was director of the War Saving societies of Garfield county and spent many days in the task of selling Liberty Bonds. He took a great interest in Nebraska's Big Rodeo and was at the time of his death a member of the board of directors of the Garfield County Frontier Fair association.

Besides his mother and children, Mr. McClimans is survived by two brothers, Floyd of Omaha and Roy of Sargent and two sisters, Mrs. Grace Crenshaw of Marengo, Ia., and Mrs. C. H. Reeves, of Denver. Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery beside the grave of his wife.

The afternoon was spent in playing a variety of table games with prizes being awarded for each, after which lunch was served. Among the fifteen girls present there were two new members, Evelyn Fredericksen and Vivian Wiegardt.

Golden Anniversary Observed by Browns

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. W. Brown, who spent thirty-six years of married life in Valley county, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in the Crescent fraternity house on the Wesleyan university campus in Lincoln New Year's day. Mrs. Brown has presided over this fraternity house as house mother for eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown were united in marriage at Steele City, Neb., Jan. 1, 1894. At the time of his marriage Mr. Brown was operating a hardware store in North Loup and he immediately took his bride to that town where they made their home for fifteen years.

Mrs. Brown is related to the Sears families who formerly lived in North Loup and while visiting them she came to know the man who was to become her husband. Mr. and Mrs. Brown first met at a party given in the old Arlington Hotel in North Loup.

The Browns are the parents of four children, Marie, who is now Mrs. L. D. Pierce of Burwell, Ross of Lincoln, Margaret, who is now Mrs. Colton Smith of Omaha, and William of Lincoln. All of the children with the exception of Mrs. Pierce were present at the celebration.

In 1905, Mr. and Mrs. Brown moved with their family to Ord where their youngest son was born. For many years Mr. Brown operated a hardware store in Ord. He was twice elected county treasurer of Valley county.

Mr. and Mrs. Brown took an active part in the community affairs of Ord. They were devoted members of the Presbyterian church. Mr. Brown was a member of Odd Fellows, Ben Hur and Woodmen Lodges. Mrs. Brown was at one time president of the Women's club. She was also active in the P. E. O. Sisterhood.

Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Hitchman of Omaha were present for the observance of the golden wedding. Mrs. Hitchman is Mr. Brown's sister. Both Mr. and Mrs. Brown enjoy good health. For many years Mr. Brown has been hard of hearing and he is now practically totally deaf. The Browns left Ord and moved to Lincoln fourteen years ago.

Married Thursday.

Miss Mildred Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Craig, and Eddie Bartos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartos, were married by Rev. G. C. Robberson at the Methodist parsonage Thursday evening at 8 p. m. They were attended by the bride's sister, Miss Lena Craig and Dean Bresley.

The bride was attired in a blue wool street length dress with black accessories. The groom wore a dark suit. The bride graduated from Ord high school, class of 1936, and is now teaching in Dist. No. 20 in Garfield county. The groom returned recently from Idaho, where he had been employed the past year.

Married Last May.

Miss Wilma Cochran, sister of the groom, and Don Miller made the trip to Kansas with them. At the present time Mrs. Cochran is teaching school in Dist. No. 51. They will make their home with her father, Orin Kellison, in Ord. Mr. Cochran has rented 125 acres of irrigated land east of Ord which he will farm this year.

Entertain at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Dubas entertained at a lovely one o'clock dinner at their home Sunday. At either end of the table were lighted green tapers in crystal holders. The afternoon was spent informally. At six p. m., a light lunch was served. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parkos, Jr., Miss Helen Russell and Anthony Kokes.

In the evening a no-host New Year's eye party was held at the Dubas home. The evening was spent informally. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Parkos, Jr., Misses Helen Russell, Norene Hardenbrook, Dorothy Seerley and Anthony Kokes, Don Stewart and Raymond Tatlow.

Legion and Auxiliary.

The first meeting of 1940 was held at the Legion hall by the members of the American Legion Tuesday evening. The first item of business was the report of the department convention, given by Joe Gregory and Commander Severson. John Ward gave a report on the work of the carnival committee, which had set the date for the carnival as Feb. 21. Alfred L. Hill explained that the Legion would have an opportunity to do its part in the celebration for the opening of Ord's new postoffice, probably some time in March, and it was voted to co-operate with other civic organizations at that time.

Meanwhile the Ladies Auxiliary was meeting down stairs. They also listened to the report of the department convention, given by Mrs. Wiegardt. Mrs. Gregory and Mrs. Wareham. Mrs. Wiegardt was appointed rehabilitation chairman. The ladies were asked to assist the Legion in putting on their carnival on Feb. 21, and they agreed to do so. Mrs. Russell, Mrs. Deines and Mrs. Langer were appointed as a committee for this purpose.

At the close of the business meetings a free bingo game was played with about 30 prizes given away, and a very enjoyable time was had. Horace Travis must have had his rabbit's foot in working order, as he won more than anyone else. At the close of play the serving committee, Mrs. Gregory, Mrs. Travis and Mrs. Stoddard, served pie a la mode and coffee.

Ord Pinochle.

The Ord Pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. R. Brox. Mrs. W. A. Bartlett held high score and Mrs. Joe Jablonski, low. The next meeting will be held Jan. 16 with Mrs. J. Pecenka.

All but Mrs. Davis came back that evening and ate supper at the Sarah Adams home.

New Year's Watch Party.

A New Year's eve party was held at the Russell Waterman home with the following persons in attendance: Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oliver and Greta, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Smith and Donna Mildred, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kluna and family, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Jones, Leonard Tolen, Morris Strohm, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Waterman, Miss Dolsie Waterman and S. I. Willard and Homer.

Pinochle was the entertainment for the evening, Homer Willard being high for the men and Morris Strohm low. Mrs. Spencer Waterman held high for the ladies and Wilma Kluna low. The party closed with a lunch, served by the hostess at midnight. A party is being held in honor of Mrs. Archie Waterman at her home this afternoon.

Wadas-Sydzzyk.

At 9 a. m. Tuesday at the Ord Catholic church occurred the marriage of Miss Julia Wadas, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wadas, and Anton F. Sydzzyk, son of Mrs. Andrew Sydzzyk, Father T. O. Murray of the Sacred Heart church of Burwell officiating.

The bridemaids were Miss Adeline Wadas, sister, and Miss Agnes Wadas, sister of the bride, and the groom's attendants were his brother, Joseph Sydzzyk, and the bride's brother, Sylvester Wadas.

The bride wore a white satin dress with long lace veil, and carried a bouquet of white roses and white carnations. Her attendants were attired in blush rose dresses and wore coronets in their hair. Following the ceremony, which was witnessed by the immediate relatives, all present went to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding breakfast was served. These young people are popular in the Elyria community where they live, and where they expect to make their home.

Social Brevities.

The wedding anniversaries of the Burdick and Cummins families fall on New Year's day. Mayor and Mrs. Cummins invited Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Burdick to come to dinner but Mr. Burdick was having the flu plate. Most of the people there contend that the design on the plates is to represent their popular

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Davis were hosts New Year's eve when members of their bridge club came to help 1939 out and 1940 in. The members helped arrange and serve a seven o'clock supper of oyster stew.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Anderson went to the home of her parents, the Ed Holub's to spend New Year's day. They had planned to go to Wahoo but inclement weather changed their plans.

A New Year's party was enjoyed Sunday evening at the Harry Wolf home, when the Borrowed, Time club asked their husbands to come as guests and spend the evening playing pinochle. A jolly time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams asked Mr. and Mrs. Charles Englehart to have dinner with them at seven o'clock New Year's night at their basement apartment.

Miss Eunice Chase invited Mrs. Tamar Gruber, Miss Jane Sutton and Miss Wilda Chase to eat dinner with her on New Year's day at her apartment. Mr. and Mrs. Cummins had been married 31 years, Mr. and Mrs. Burdick 41 years.

Presbyterian Missionary society held their guest day this afternoon at the home of Mrs. Gould Magg, though bad weather and flu held down the attendance. "The Church in a Changing World" was the topic of the day. Mrs. O. B. Johnson the leader. The march of time was to have been given by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, but she was unable to do so. Mrs. F. V. Cahill lead the devotions.

Some Controversy. Rev. E. A. Clark tells of a controversy that is going on out in Scotts Bluff county in regard to the significance of the new license plate. Most of the people there contend that the design on the plates is to represent their popular landmark, Chimney Rock, which it doubtless resembles in form. Another cause of controversy is the color that is used on the blue background for the figures, letters and outlines. Some contend that it is orange, and others are just as certain that it is red. Why not compromise and call it a mixture of the two colors?

The Heart Song

By OSCAR YOUNG
Associated Newspapers.
WNU Service.

GERALDINE smiled over at the anxious face opposite. But, as she would have been honest enough to admit, that smile was wholly false and summoned only to reassure Delora Smith.

"But, perhaps, Geraldine, you cannot afford to let my share of the rent go and still advance me the $40 I need."

"Forty dollars," thought the girl in amazement, "how in the world can I do it? It simply means I'll have to draw it out of my rainy-day savings. And then I'll have to pay all the rent." Geraldine sat lost in thought, forgetting that she was supposed to reply.

"I'm planning to leave my violin with you as security."
"Why, Miss Delora, that's absurd. Why should you speak of security when it's a matter between friends. I'm very glad to be able to accommodate you."

The strained look left the tired, middle-aged face and Delora's optimistic expression returned. "It's such a wonderful chance, my dear. I never even hoped to visit Greenville again, my earnings have been so inadequate lately, but now I can see my old friends and go through the house where I was born."

The more practical of the two swallowed a sigh. This unusual demand on her resources meant that she must give up her intention of getting a season ticket for the symphony concerts. And Tom had promised to reserve a seat for himself in the gallery. She knew that he had wanted to treat her to the seat but his mother was ill and his money was needed. Now if she telephoned her admirer that she'd changed her mind about going to the winter concerts he might believe her to be piqued because he had not presented her with them. If only she had not said anything about it. She could not, of course, hint at her reason for not going. Delora Smith was absurdly proud and would refuse the invitation that opened up a vista of happiness if she had any idea of what the loan of $40 really meant. Delora was a visionary, living from month to month on the scant returns for her exquisite needlework.

"I'll pay everything back when I return," Delora was saying, her cheeks quite rosy with anticipation, "and, Geraldine, if it isn't absolutely convenient I can sell my violin. You remember, Mr. Homer offered me $70 for it."
Geraldine was tempted to answer that she thought that an excellent price for an instrument that was never used. It was not even an heirloom but a violin that had been given to Delora's father as a gift in return for a great kindness.

"I cannot play it and it's of no use to me, but, Geraldine, it does look so nice and musical lying across the end table. Don't you think it really lends an air of refinement to our tiny living-room?"
To Geraldine it was merely something to dust, for Delora had put the shabby old case away in the top of her closet. But if it meant a bit of beauty in the barren life of her friend, the girl wanted her to keep it.

Tom was upset at Geraldine's change of plan, for he had bought his own ticket, and Delora returned in a day of bitter rain and caught cold. Her visit had been pleasant but her illness now frightened her. Geraldine lost two days' work at the office to care for her and had drawn again on her savings for dainties for the sufferer. So, instead of feeling self-righteous over the fact that she'd been able to do a favor to Delora, Geraldine wished she had not tried to play providence.

"There's the telephone. I expect the doctor wants my report."
It was Tom's voice that answered her. "I called for you at the office," he said contritely. "Have you been ill?"
Geraldine explained with a glad little thrill in her heart the circumstances and Tom, evidently sorry for his former churlishness, said he would be right out to call.

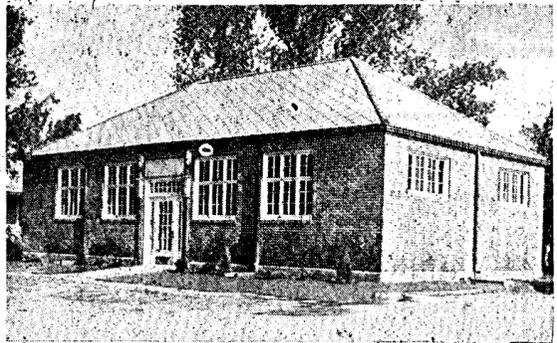

He arrived with a bunch of roses for the invalid and then, his glance falling upon the violin in the corner, asked if she thought Delora would enjoy some music. Through the open doorway Delora listened raptly to the lilting notes of the "Gypsy Love Song," that took her back to the moments of lost youth.

But Geraldine sat amazed at the depth and resonance of the music. "Why, Tom!" she cried. "That is real music. I had no idea you played at all."
He laid down the bow and looked over at her with a puzzled gleam in his eyes. "I never had such an instrument in my hands before," he acknowledged. "Where did you find such a treasure?"

She told him of the $70 offer made to Delora.
He examined the date mark and then made a telephone call to a music dealer.

"The dealer tells me that this is a genuine Richard Duke violin from the markings and the date of 1760," said Tom a moment later. "He will give you around $700 for it, Miss Delora."
In Miss Delora's heart there was vast relief from financial worries but in the hearts of Tom and Geraldine there was muted music—the song of the little god of love.

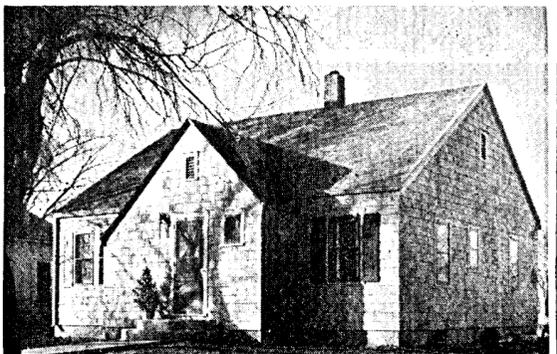

1939 Was Ord's Biggest Building Year Since Depression Started; Postoffice Under Way Now

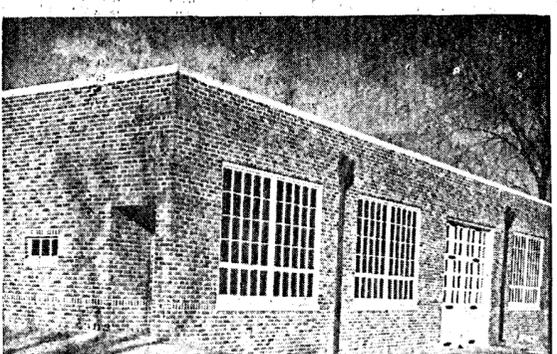

Handsome library completed . . . cost about $9,000

Ign. Kilma, Jr., built attractive home

Alfred Wegardt's new house on south 11th street

Ag shops building built with PWA assistance

Jones apartment house . . . interior work under way

Ord's new postoffice to be finished in March

More building was done by Ord people during 1939 than in any year since the depression set in. The library, two new residences and the ag shop building at the high school were completed during the year, and a new apartment house being erected by Mrs. Albert K. Jones as well as the new U. S. postoffice were started. All six buildings are pictured above.

In addition to these, the irrigation district built a metal storage building and work shop, finishing touches were put on a similar building by the state highway department, Frank Dworak remodeled a store building into a residence, and a vast amount of smaller remodeling and repairing was done.

Oakland, Iowa

January 1, 1940

To the Editor of the Quiz: As an Iowan and a graduate of Iowa university as well, I have always been a bit skeptical regarding that song about "There is no place like Nebraska." But after the fine treatment we Iowans received in your state last week, I am almost convinced.

Our boys, Coach Schneider and myself were deeply impressed by the fine treatment we received, both at Ord and Ravenna. We honestly think that you Nebraskans are the finest hosts we have ever encountered. Throughout our trip we were treated like visiting royalty.

Naturally our team was mighty happy over the victory at Ord. It was a heart-breaker for your team to lose but everyone was very sportsmanlike after it was over. You have a fine team.

I certainly appreciated your courtesy in showing me through your fine plant and enjoyed greatly the visit with you and the other members of your force. It is not hard for me to understand why the Quiz is known as one of the mid-west's leading weekly newspapers.

If possible, I should like to get a copy of the Quiz of this week and am enclosing a five cent stamp to cover mailing costs. Will send you a copy of the Acorn as soon as it is off the press Wednesday night.

On behalf of the entire Oakland group, may I again thank you and the entire Ord community for the splendid treatment we received while there. We hope to visit you again soon. And if you are ever in this part of Iowa, be sure to pay us a visit.

Sincerely, John Harrison

—Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Darrach, of Woodland, Calif., arrived in Ord last Sunday morning about 2:30 a. m., and will spend two weeks visiting here. He went to California 2 1/2 years ago, and has a job in a sugar factor there.

P. E. Clement of Lincoln spoke at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning on "Individual Responsibility." He came up from Lincoln Friday afternoon with Clyde Hutchins who had been to Palmyra and was the house guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Johnson.

Mr. Clement's grandson, Joel, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Clement, of Uteka, is again in the Lincoln General hospital where he is receiving treatment for a rare disease, nephrosis, which is caused by a degenerative condition of the kidneys wherein the body rejects protein.

Twenty persons have donated blood for him which is reduced to a serum and injected into the little fellow's body. If by supplying protein Joel can be kept alive long enough, his kidneys may mend and he will have a chance to survive.

Six serum injections have been made and his physicians say many more must be made before the outcome is known. A patient little sufferer with a sunny disposition, he has many friends in the hospital and his case has attracted widespread attention in medical circles. Since it has become known that blood is required for his treatment many more than are needed have offered to give blood. Joel is six years old and has been ill since September.

Pork is Cheap Now... Eat More Of It...

With the price of pork already low and 110,000 hogs reported on the Omaha market Tuesday, pork is the least expensive meat available.

Pork is a delicious food meat and can be prepared in a world of different ways. Serve it for breakfast as sausage or fried side meat; serve chops or steak for dinner; serve a roast for supper. Serve ham and bacon too while they are cheap.

Our market is featuring all cuts of PORK this week at exceptionally low prices. Young, tender pigs, bought and butchered at home, are the only kind we sell.

52 Licenses Issued By Judge Andersen

1939 Falls Below Average in Marriages; County Court Cases Summarized.

At the close of business Saturday, which closed up the year, Sunday being a legal holiday, Judge John L. Andersen had issued a total of 52 marriage licenses for 1939, as compared with a total of 58 licenses for 1938, and a 16 year average of 61. The highest number was in 1928, when there were 75, and the lowest in 1932, when there were 45.

The judge kept up his reputation as a "marring justice" by performing 19 of the marriage ceremonies. He says he has had so much practice now that he can get through the entire ritual without having to spell out the hard words. Last year he married 21 couples, add in the seven years he has been judge he has officiated at 178 ceremonies.

Last year January was the high month, with nine marriages, but in 1938 the honor went to June, with ten. The other months trailed along as follows: January, 6; February, 3; March, 4; April, 4; May, 7; June and July, none; August, 2; September, 3; October, 4; November, none; and December, 9. It will be noted that two of the driest months, July and November, no licenses were issued. Apparently nobody cared to take a chance on the drought.

Under criminal cases for 1939, the judge found the following figures: Violations of state traffic laws: Two were arrested on each of the following charges, overloading truck, reckless driving, drunken driving, and failure to have itinerant license. There was a single arrest on each of the following charges: passing stop sign, no license plates, no driver's license, and speeding.

Under violation of liquor law there were two charges of intoxication and one of sale of liquor to a minor. Under violations of the game law: One person was charged with fishing without a license, one for shooting a pheasant out of season, and two for catching and keeping under-sized fish.

Four paroles were granted during the year; there was one commitment to the state home for children; six non-fund check cases were disposed of; two cases of beating a board bill were passed upon; there were five cases of assault and battery, one case of embezzlement, and finally, one case of receiving stolen property.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prince drove to Burwell Thursday to visit her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cech. Mrs. Cech is quite ill with partial paralysis, the stroke coming some nine weeks ago. She is being taken care of by Mrs. Vincent Vodehnal and Mrs. Joe Silver.

Quiz Called on to Report Many Deaths in 1939

Year Opened with Burial of Henry Marks, Mr. Auble; Claude Romans Last.

A review of the year 1939 shows that death removed many during that time, quite a large percent being people of prominence, or who had lived a long time in the community. This year opened with the burial of two prominent men who had died in the final days of the old year. They were W. L. D. Auble and Henry Marks. Mrs. George B. Wood died at Milton, Wis., and John Perkins at Mitchell, Neb.

In making up this list the names were taken from the current issues of the Quiz, and persons who died during the last week of the month will appear in the list of the month following. Also, because the information was all taken from the front pages, it is possible some may have been overlooked.

The high for December came on Dec. 6, 75 degrees, ten degrees higher than the highest in November. The low was -9 on Dec. 29, the only below zero temperature of the month. The temperature was below freezing all day from Sunday, Dec. 28, on. The precipitation was .67, coming as snow, .38 on Dec. 23, and .29 on Dec. 26.

From October 29 until December 23, a period of 55 days, there was not a trace of moisture of any kind, which is doubtless some kind of a record. The total precipitation for the year was 15.12 inches, as compared with 19.47 inches last year, and 17.27 in 1937. The average rainfall for the past 51 years is 23.29 inches. Thus it is shown that the 1939 rainfall was only 65% of normal.

The hottest this year was 107 in July. Last year it was 105 in August. The coldest this year was -13, in February. Last year it was -11 also in February. The heavy rainfall this year came in May, when there was 4.26 inches. Last year it came in May also, and was 4.34 inches. The cause of crop failure was the lack of rain in July. This year there was .39 inches, while in 1938 July showed 3.75 inches.

GRAPES OF WRATH.

There has been a great deal of comment of late in regard to John Steinbeck's book "Grapes of Wrath". It has been barred from public libraries in some places, and permitted in others. The Burwell library board was not alone in its action of barring the book. It has been barred in a number of other places.

The question of whether it should be barred should be determined largely on whether it is a true picture of life. If it is, and we have no reason to believe it is not, then its value in giving a true picture of how some people exist would offset the large measure the evil effect of any vulgarity it might seem to contain.

There have been books before that came in the same category. "All Quiet on the Western Front," could hardly be classed as a clean book, but it was widely read because it pictured the truth. "Old Jules" and "Slogum House" were hardly models of propriety, but they were, and still are, widely read because they are true, and people appreciate the truth.

There is too much of a tendency in this world to hold up our hands in horror when certain facts are presented to us, and to declare that they simply do not exist. The person who makes one false step and is found out, is ostracized from society while the person who makes many a mistake without being caught, is still welcomed with open arms.

It might be well to remember that "it is not what goes into the mouth that defileth the man, but that which cometh out." It might be well to remember with charity that the extremely poor do as they do because they can do no better. And, finally, it must not be forgotten that there is only one standard in the eyes of God for the rich and the poor.

The barring of one book over the question of decency can do little good when the entire country is flooded with fiction magazines of the most degrading type, which can be bought by any youngster tall enough to pass a dime over the counter, and such trash will be printed and sold so long as there is a demand for it.

MEDICAL FACTS

4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Common garden lettuce has long been used as a drug. Its juice when concentrated and used as a liquid or extract has a soothing effect somewhat like that of opium. It is, of course, much weaker in its effect and also very unreliable; consequently, it is not now in common use. This might be a shock to those people who object to taking drugs, but who like their lettuce. They need not worry about this however, because literally dozens of drugs are derived from the commonest plants and trees. Many of these plants are used as food. Sometimes the leaves contain none of the chemical substances used in medicine while the root is full of it, and vice versa. The bark may yield chemicals of medicinal value while the other parts of the tree have little or none of them. This is true, for example, of such drugs as quinine and cascara. The leaves of the digitalis purpurea plant give us the drug, digitalis, so useful in heart disease. Other parts of this plant have little or no useful chemicals.

From a couple of pages in a book on the action of drugs, I can pick out the following names of plants and trees that are familiar to most of you. Here are some of them: Lobelia, Witch Hazel, White Oak, White Pine, Rhubarb, Logwood, Blackberry, Eucalyptus, Gentian, Hops, Snake-root, Dandelion, Geranium, etc. There are literally hundreds of them.

Alcohol as thought of in the ordinary sense is ethyl alcohol, usually derived from grains and fruits by fermentation and distillation. It has many beneficial uses but is in bad repute in general because of its intoxication and habit forming qualities. Now this alcohol is only one of many similar chemical substances, some of which are found in nature as such and others are commonly known by some other name. For instance, the substance which gives onions their peculiar taste and odor is an alcohol. I often wonder how some of my abstemious friends would react to the information that their beloved onions contain alcohol. Glycerine, a by-product of the making of soap, is an alcohol. No one drinks it unless he is in the habit of making up his own supply of gin, but it is sometimes used in medicines.

Turpentine, camphor and creosote are obtained from trees. Bix liquid or fat is made by the distillation of pine.

Animals also yield medicinal substances. Our grandmothers used goose grease and one of the very useful animal fats is that obtained from wool. We even get medicinal substances, such as ichthyol, from animals long dead. This comes from a coal-like shale containing the fossil remains of fish.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

We are starting on a new year, 1940 and as this is written we are getting a nice covering of snow on the ground. It is being recalled by the oldsters, that we used to get crops the summer following abundant snow.

Of course so called progress must go forward regardless of whether we get crops or not, but I am satisfied that much of our drought trouble is due to the fact that the craze for good roads, which caused every bit of moisture to be drained off the country as fast as possible after it fell, is largely responsible. There used to be water in every low place, swamps were full of water, sloughs along the roadside were filled with water and deep runs were cut in the roads by the vehicles, and when the cars came farmers were often kept busy pulling stalled cars from the mud. Then the demand for hard surfaced roads increased and ditches were dug. Swamps drained and cleared and made into farm land. When it rained, instead of giving the water a chance to soak into the land, it was hurriedly run off into the larger streams and sent on its way down to the gulf and the subsoil was allowed to dry out, until now, no matter how deep you dig, only dry dirt is found and it is not possible, under our system of drainage, for the water, even if it did rain a lot, to stay on the ground long enough to soak in.

The report that we wouldn't let Pat Fuson write a letter for the Old Settler edition which is to appear soon, because we can't read his writing, is all a mistake and I don't see how such a report got started. We can read Ernie Coats' writing and we can read Postmaster Hill's writing and we can read Dr. Bart's writing and I guess that anyone who can read theirs can read Pat's. Harry says Pat's letters don't make sense anyhow and when he can't read a word he sets something and it has always got by so far. I think this explanation ought to clear up the matter so Pat will feel free to go ahead and write the letter.

Secretary Wallace says he is still for Roosevelt for another term. He should be, because no matter who else is chosen, Wallace will be out.

Here is an interesting little paragraph which Frank Miska thought would please me and he sent it in, as of course anyone looking at me, knows I am liable to die of starvation most any time;

An editor who died of starvation was being escorted to heaven by an angel. "May I look at the other place before I ascend to eternal happiness?" asked the editor. "Certainly," said the angel. So they went below and skirmished around, taking in the sights. The angel lost sight of the editor and went around hedges hunting him up. He was found sitting by a furnace, fanning himself and gazing with rapture on a lot of people in the fire. There was a sign on the furnace which read, "Delinquent Subscribers." "Come," said the angel, "we must be going." "You go on," said the editor. "I'm not going. This is heaven for me."

Speaking about trouble, John Ward has more trouble with his livestock, consisting of 1 dog and 2 cats, than most ranchers do with several hundred head of stock.

A communication by my friend Coats this week reminds me of a conversation that I took part in recently with several others. One man in the party who said he could vouch for the truth of his statement, said he knew a Lincoln man in a bank or similar financial institution who drew a salary of twenty-five thousand dollars a year and didn't pay any county, state or other local taxes. His income was not taxed. He was growing old and his wife lived in a rented apartment close in and walked to his work each morning, ate lunch at a cafe, walked home at 5 p. m., had no car, his household effects were listed at $195.00 so he was exempt from any tax there. The man who made the statement, said there were many such cases, while the farmers were actually paying 70 per cent of all taxes. It is time we begin to study the tax question and get a reduction on the real property tax and raise the necessary money by a gross income tax and perhaps a sales tax. At present the real property tax is actually taking the property in many cases.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

More About Taxes
Tiny Tim
One Small Detail
Short Shavings

More About Our Taxes.

A man whispered to me the other day to leave his name out of it but to mention the fact that next year is the time for the real estate in the county to be revalued and it was his opinion that at that time there should be a drastic scaling down of the prices to put them in line with where they should be.

It is a fact that values are far too high. Another man said to me that he was going before the county board and force them to reduce the valuation on his property. (If he can force the county board to do anything, he is some force, I'd say). His point was that his property had recently been sold at auction (it was an actual sale) and he bought it for $500.00. The valuation was something like $1,000. Another property in N. L. recently sold for $300 at auction and has a valuation of twice that. Practically all the property in N. L. is valued far too high.

The farm land too is valued much above its actual sale value at the present time. But at one time it was valued much cheaper than its actual value. Perhaps now will off-set previous years. This man said it is not a fair shake for the land and property owner, for the man with money in the bank is only taxed 1-4 the actual amount and he should pay on his property the same as the land owner.

It is true the bank account man is not taxed according to the property owner. Frequently he is not taxed at all. The rub is, the man with money can hide his property. If he does nothing else he can withdraw his money the last of March and put it in a sock for a few days. Then if the assessor went to the bank for information, which he probably couldn't get, the money would be gone. It is just a matter of the tax gatherer grabbing at what he can see and the home owner has trouble hiding his property.

Another point was brought out in the discussion, and a discussion it was too, for a fact. There are many properties in N. L. (and probably elsewhere too) where the people have ceased paying their taxes. This is especially true with vacant lots. The result is that this puts an extra burden on those who do pay their taxes, for (here's the crux of the story) so much money has to be raised some way or another. This some way or another is on the property tax, for we live in the "white spot" where we do not have such nuisances as sales or inheritance or income taxes.

There is a limit on what can be levied by the different boards such as the school boards. So where they need more money, like in N. L. the extra levy has to be voted on at a special school meeting of the voters. No difficulty is encountered at this point for the extra levy is always voted. Sometimes there are a dozen people present at the school meetings and sometimes there are less. One woman, wife of one of the heaviest taxpayers in the district told me she and her husband had become so disgusted at the fact that a certain clique ran things there, that she would not go. I asked her why she did not form a clique too; that it would not be difficult to outvote the ins when such a few turned out.

The crux of the matter is that a certain amount of money has to be raised and if it does not come from the levies applied, the valuations must be raised. It has been told around that those in power have talked and planned on raising the valuations so as to produce more money. It is not a matter of whether your property is valued double what it is actually worth or half, but a question of whether the different valuations are adjusted and equalized to where each man pays justly according to his holdings.

And the County Board is not the place to saddle all the blame. They are besieged on all sides for the money they have to put out and are super-besieged for relief by the poor and aged who have not been able to withstand the onslaught of drought and hard times. They are hounded and blamed by the taxpayers who cannot pay because of the times, and as a result it is a merry-go-round with no end except that if some other way is not established to raise money than the one we have, we'll all end in bankruptcy.

A Valley Co. Master Farmer, Speaking of master farmers, I happened to know that a few years ago a prominent Valley county man was recommended for the honor. I know the man personally and as far as I can see he surely would be as well qualified for the honor as many that are placed and more so than some. I can think of no reason why he would not be chosen.

But when the record blanks were sent for him to fill he would not return them. He said it is all foolishness. His children plead with him to do so but of no avail. Finally a man from the Nebraska farmer came personally to take his record but our Valley county man would not answer the questions and would not allow his name to be entered.

It all seems a little mysterious but we folks who are acquainted with the man know he has nothing to be ashamed of. The only reason we can think of is that to answer those questioners and to be given such publicity would be like bragging, and this man is anything but a braggart. He knows well enough he has succeeded and that is sufficient for him.

QUIZ FORUM

For Tax Limitation.

To the Ord Quiz:

At last we people have worked up to the fact that the farmer pays 70 per cent of the tax burden and something should be done about it. In the old days we non-partisans of the Non-partisan League of Nebraska and Valley county advocated an income tax to relieve the real estate and personal tax. We only got scant attention from the legislature then in session in Lincoln. Now I believe the time is ripe for bringing that before our people. As a farmer and dairyman for forty and more years I have paid a lot of taxes. In the boom year of 1900, that was the easiest tax I ever paid for I had no income to do it with. In these forty odd years my Nebraska tax had gradually risen almost every year whether we had an income or not. It has been from $200.00 to $240.00 on this farm for several years whether there was any income or not. Now I believe the tax should be levied according to the income. In the years of good crops and prices we should pay an income tax, so much on every $100.00. In our drought years we should pay the same way, no income no tax. The new plan as advocated now in the petitions being circulated is very good, if our present plan of taxing is to be kept. We pay a tax on a farm we rent out in northeast Nebraska the assessed value of $100.00. That was the income I ever paid for I had no income to do it with. In these forty odd years my Nebraska tax had gradually risen almost every year whether we had an income or not. It has been from $200.00 to $240.00 on this farm for several years whether there was any income or not. Now I believe the tax should be levied according to the income. In the years of good crops and prices we should pay an income tax, so much on every $100.00. In our drought years we should pay the same way, no income no tax. The new plan as advocated now in the petitions being circulated is very good, if our present plan of taxing is to be kept.

We could beautify our city some, it wouldn't do a bit of harm. If you don't want to choose the petunia, the moss rose, or the spirea for Ord's flower, you don't have to. We could do other things. A city beautification committee might criticize and thus help. We might burn or tear down some ancient eyesores. We might level and sod highway approaches to our city put in a tree or two occasionally, or a neat new welcome sign over each highway would help. Or freshen the welcome signs at county lines, a little paint does work miracles.

I believe the yard and garden contests, the flower shows, lifted Ord's face a bit while they lasted, don't you? We might revive them, while we are resolving for New Year's.

I still think an annual pet parade for children, and an annual feed of some kind for all visitors would pay big dividends. Not necessarily to the merchants alone, but to us all. 'Twouldn't do any harm if our friends in the neighboring countryside and neighboring towns liked us a bit better. We should throw a celebration for them now and then, on the Fourth, or on some fall harvesting day or May Day.

There are so many things we might resolve to help Ord achieve. It will take much work and many people to do it all, but first the vast of desire must stir within us and we must want to accomplish them.

And while we are being thankful for present blessings, I think we should appreciate our football team. What if they did give in and lose a few games, finally? You didn't think they could go on winning forever, did you? They played superbly for years, hung up a marvelous record and thrilled us all. So then we began to brag and expect it to continue. But how could it last? One team always loses when the other wins, and we surely had many more than our share of wins. It was grand while it lasted. The boys were good sports, played fine football and were indeed a credit to their coach and their school. They won without becoming swell-headed and that is a real test of character. We liked it when they won. But I don't think it is becoming for us to start talking out of the sides of our mouths because they lose a few games. We aren't as good sports as the players themselves. While they played they grew strong muscles, developed fine wind, built more character and took it in their stride when they won and won and won. What if there were a few bets lost? Perhaps watching the games doesn't rate as a character builder. —Irma.

and thought $40.00 a month would be plenty for any old couple. If we are to have new tax laws come before the next uncameral legislature let's get busy and elect a good man from Valley county for state senator in 1940. Let it be some good man who pays taxes and who has been able to make a fair success of his business. By Ernest S. Coats.

Something Different

While New Year's resolutions are flying thickly about, and the war is too far away for us to be able to stop it, let us pause a minute and think what we would like to improve about our home city of Ord during 1940, or thereafter.

What does Ord need, and what is there that we can do about it?

Now that we have achieved a fine library, I believe a swimming pool or an auditorium is the next big crying need Ord has, in the line of construction. Don't you? Do you suppose we could manage to get the ice pond dredged, guard ropes and bath houses added swimming instructors installed on its shores? Or do you suppose we could manage to build a pool in our city? Surely a swimming pool is one of Ord's biggest needs.

A swimming pool cannot be built in swimming weather and finished in time to get much good from it that year. So if we want one and intend to have it we must go forward with our plans this time of year, preposterous as that may seem with the temperature below zero outside.

Is there anything Ord can do to consolidate the Protestant churches that are willing, to strengthen and mould them into one big strong church this year? I feel sure that after such a church gets a good running start we will all be glad and wonder why this step was not taken years ago.

If plans for one strong united church could materialize this year, we would have accomplished a great deal for ourselves, our town, our children. Could we do that? Several churches no longer meet in Ord, some have trouble with finances, all of them are struggling valiantly and separately. Remember that adage "In union there is strength."

We could beautify our city some, it wouldn't do a bit of harm. If you don't want to choose the petunia, the moss rose, or the spirea for Ord's flower, you don't have to. We could do other things. A city beautification committee might criticize and thus help. We might burn or tear down some ancient eyesores. We might level and sod highway approaches to our city put in a tree or two occasionally, or a neat new welcome sign over each highway would help. Or freshen the welcome signs at county lines, a little paint does work miracles.

'No News Is Good News'

"OF COURSE," said the smartly dressed visitor, as she glanced about the simply furnished, sunshiny little room, "I can imagine you not wanting to work in winter—you always did hate wading through slush or snow, I remember, and it must be sort of nice just to stay at home and take things easy while the mercury clings to zero. But in spring—well, that's different again."
The bungalow aproned hostess merely smiled as she reflected that stoking a furnace, shoveling paths, tending to the supply of dry mittens, leggings and stocking caps, wool socks and warm scarfs for three active children, wasn't exactly "taking things easy."
"You know you can get your old job back in a minute," declared Madeline. "Miss Burke said just the other day she would be tickled pink to have you in the French section once more—that you were the best saleswoman she ever had. She even said that in case you were short of cash to buy a nice chic little dress for work, she'd make you a special rate on one of the sample models, for she said the girls who get married always are short of cash by the time they have even a kid, let alone three."
"You better think it over, dearie," urged Madeline, drawing her smart crushed gauntlet gloves over smooth white hands. "Any time before the fourteenth, Miss Burke said to let her know. 'My!' suddenly exclaimed Madeline, "it certainly will seem like old times to be going out to lunch again with you. And with Phil on the road three weeks out of four, you can get off for some good times instead of being tied to the house the way you are now, every day in the week just like every other day, week after week, month after month."
Her visitor gazed, Viola Armstrong looked thoughtfully about one room after another of the little house. She wondered if she would be able to pick up the new dance steps—Phil never wanted to go out evenings during the week he was in from the "road"—it would seem good to go to a movie or musical show once in a while.
Three hungry children, trooping in from the sand-pile in the back yard, interrupted Viola's thoughts. Deftly she prepared supper.
As the children ate, Viola once more thought of Madeline's words. Of Miss Burke's offer. And she reflected that all three of the jolly brown-eyed youngsters would be fed and tucked into their beds before she would be home from the store, if she went back to work in town. There would be but cold comfort in buying pretty clothes and expensive toys for the children if she was never home to see them wear the clothes or play with the toys.
Supper over, the three laughing children trooped up the stairs to make ready for bed. Viola tucked each child into its own little bed or crib.
Slowly she made her way down the stairs and into the silent living-room. Madeline was right—it wasn't so cheery, this having one's husband on the road three weeks out of four. That is, it wasn't so cheery during the three weeks. The fourth, of course, was just like a gorgeous vacation.
That fourth week wouldn't be so much, though, if she were working in a store in town, Viola admitted to herself.
Seating herself before the well-worn old desk—the desk which had served Phil throughout his college years—Viola took out pen and paper, just as she did every night that Phil was "on the road."
Phil wouldn't be home till after the fourteenth—if she was going back to work, she must let him know.
Suddenly Viola remembered something Phil had said not many weeks before, "I never fret about the youngsters honey," he had told her. "I know you are right on the job, looking after them, instead of tearing around like a cuckoo dapper. I suppose its lonesome business for you, but I'm telling you the kids are darned lucky to have a mother like you on the job 24 hours a day, every day in the week."
Forty-eight hours later, a certain gray-eyed young man tore open an envelope and eagerly scanned the closely written pages it contained.
"Madeline Clarke called—she looked like a million dollars—and she tried to inveigle me into going back to the store. No thanks. No clock punching and waiting on fussy women who have more time and money than they have taste. Not while I've such a grand job looking after the cunningest little house and the three sweetest children in the world, to say nothing of writing to the nicest husband who ever lived."
So read the letter which, strangely enough commenced: "Dearest Phil: Today has been just like every other Sunday when you aren't at home; there really is no news at all."
And ended: "P. S.: I've gone all through my cedar chest and piece bag, and I've found enough stuff to make enough braided rag rugs for the nursery, new cushion covers for the davenport, and for a coat for Betsy. Who says we aren't wealthy!"

Fringes of Gold

JOAN revelled in the scented warmth of the great hall as she stood waiting. It must be very pleasant to live in a home like that. And, when she followed the maid's black silk frock into the gold-and-white elevator, her sense of luxurious well-being increased. No one would guess that the outside world was wrapped in snow and that the bitterness of the cold wind cut harshly.
"You may go, Minette," directed the blue-eyed mistress of the rose suite. When her maid had gone Alice Grant regarded the waiting Joan with a grave intentness. "I had a reason for telling Madam Jerrold to send you with my gown. Do you like to go to the theater?"
"Yes, I go, sometimes," she replied.
"I have a ticket for 'Fringes of Gold' for tonight. I expected to go with a girl chum who has disappointed me. I'll give it to you on a condition."
"Yes!" murmured Joan.
"That you pretend you are me. You resemble me in your general appearance, blue eyes, dark hair and slimmness. I want my evening to myself and I'm announcing to the theater that I'll be at the Bijou theater. You needn't mind the subterfuge, which harms no one. In fact," the blue eyes grew mysterious, "the gift to me of three hours will bring a great happiness to two people."
Joan pondered. Evidently this pampered girl longed for the freedom the poor enjoyed. The masquerade, as Alice Grant pointed out, a harmless exchange of identities.
Minette smiled demurely as she slipped the gay little gown of sapphire velvet over the marcelled head of the shop-girl. Minette was in the secret and would accompany the pseudo Miss Grant down to her waiting car. As Joan took a last peep at herself, smuggling her chin into the silver fur of her splendid wrap, she fancied she saw a man's face staring at her from the doorway. She wheeled about but the space between the curtains was empty. All the way to the theater she tried to decide whether the sparkling, skeptical eyes in the white face of a man had been real or just a figment of her excited brain.
She sank into her seat in the seventh row with a subdued gasp of absolute enjoyment.
Someone took the vacant seat at her left but she failed to notice for she was living the role of Daphne Davis, the star.
Passing up the aisle, her soul still dazzled by enjoyment, a hand dropped upon her shoulder.
"Come to the office," said a harsh voice, one of authority.
Whitening, she obeyed.
"You are not Alice Grant, are you?"
She remained mute.
"Miss Grant has been robbed of pearls. We find you here in her seat, wearing her gown and—" the cold tone hesitated, then a finger touched the string of pearls that Joan had supposed to be imitation, just lent her to enhance the velvet frock, "wearing her pearls. Have you anything to say?"
"Take me to Miss Grant," cried Joan.
"Impossible. If you've anything to say, say it. Otherwise it's jail for you. Where did you get her gown?"
Joan swayed. Then bit her lips and got herself in hand. She'd given her word and she would not break it. She'd had her night of nights. Dressed for the first time in years as she wished, occupying a good seat at the beautiful theater, she'd entered fairyland. "I've nothing to say," she said, lifting her head to meet the sparkling skeptical eyes of the man in the mirror.
The little room was empty except for the two of them.
Dick Grant held out his hand. "Come, my sister is out in the car waiting. It was a mean trick, but, Joan Winters, you've given me something I never thought to possess—faith in a woman's word. Alice wants to marry for love and I laughed at her. I told her there was no loyalty in the world. I said if she could prove her stand that I would give my consent."
"Yes," said Joan, flushing beneath the ardor she read in his face. "Then I may go? I'll return her frock tomorrow."
He slipped the fur wrap about her. "No. You are to come home with us tonight and let us make up to you for what we did. And, little Joan," he added, bending as they passed out into the snowy night, "you are going to let me prove to you that there is romance left in this drab old world." "Fringes of Gold" had given Joan some happy hours and the romance of the mimic scenes became woven with the real emotions of life for, just three months later, she became Mrs. Richard Grant.

The marine research society of Salem, Mass., says that it has no exact information as to how the name Jolly Roger originated, but it was in use as early as 1720, when it was employed by Captain Roberts. In early times Roger was a canting term for rogue, and a Jolly Roger, therefore, would have its meaning as a jolly rogue.

HIDES AND FURS.

This is butchering time and hides are an extra good price. Bring them in to us green or salt-cured. We will pay top price and they do not have to be salt-cured to get this price. We have an extra good outlet for hides and the prices we pay are so high that you cannot afford to take the chance of shipping them.

FURS.

Sell your furs at home. This is the first time for many years that a local buyer has had a state license to buy furs. We have such a permit for 1940 and will pay as high price as the market will allow. You all know when you ship your furs that you about have to take the buyers offer. Bring them in and let us bid on them. You have to be satisfied or you still have your furs.

William Timm, 70, Died Dec. 31st at Jonie Level Home

Was One of Ord's Best Known Business Men; Went to Long Beach in 1918.

From Long Beach, Calif. comes word that William Timm, one of Ord's best known and best liked business men in the early days of the century, died Dec. 31 at the home of his life-long friends Mr. and Mrs. Jonie Level, and was laid to rest Jan. 2 after services at the Holton & Son chapel in Long Beach. He was 70 years old when death came.

Mr. Timm was born at LaPorte, Ind., in 1869 and his mother died when he was only two years old. He was seven years old when his father passed away. He was sleeping with his father when he died and had to ride a horse two miles down the road to the home of his older brother to summon help. In after years Mr. Timm recalled the ride and said he always could remember how the old mare's back was so broad that his legs stuck out almost straight on both sides. After his father's death Will went to live with Edwin Stanton, his brother's father-in-law, in Indiana, and when the Stanton family came to Nebraska in 1884 he accompanied them. They reached North Loup by train and rode to Ord in a lumber wagon during a Thanksgiving day snow storm. Will was 15 years old at the time.

Mr. Stanton bought a farm near Ord and Will continued to live with the Stanton family until he was 20 years old. He was a pupil in District 15, the Midvale school, at the time of the 1888 blizzard, and always said that it was Frank Vopat instead of the teacher, Minnie Freeman, who led the students to safety through the storm, although it was Miss Freeman who tied them together. Frank was the largest and most robust boy in the class.

Will worked for Frank Lloyd in his west side restaurant at the time when Mr. Lloyd had the Kit bakery in Ord. Then he and Kit Carson decided to become painters and although Kit dropped out of this work Will kept on for several years. In the spring of 1900 he was married to Blanche Brown and shortly afterward he and Otto Murschel bought the bakery and restaurant on the west side now owned by Forrest Johnson. They were very successful there but sold out to Warren Draper a few years later.

Later Mr. Timm bought the Menzel store on the south side of the square, in the old Quiz building, moving later to the Weaver building where he conducted a restaurant, confectionery and rental library until he sold to the Bradts boys and left Ord. Edward and Glen Johnson now own the place and the big sign, "Come on in and see Bill Timm," that so long adorned the front, is gone.

When the Timm family left Ord they intended going to Idaho where Frank Lloyd was located but first went to Long Beach, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Frank McMillen, the latter being Will's sister. The trip was made in Will's old side-curtained Reo car. When they got to California they liked Long Beach so well that they could not think of locating elsewhere, so Will bought a store in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Jonie Level, who had run the lunch counter in the Timm store in Ord, joined Will in Long Beach and ran the store while the Timms made a trip to Idaho in 1919, and continued to be associated with Will after that time. Mrs. Timm and Mrs. Level were sisters.

In 1904 Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Timm, died leaving a little daughter, Marilyn Cox. When Mrs. Timm's health failed Will sold the store and they moved to a cabin in Silverado Canyon, taking their granddaughter with them. There, in 1936, Mrs. Timm died, her death being a shock from which her husband never recovered. In 1938 he had a terrible illness and, knowing he could not recover his health in full and did not have long to live, he returned to Long Beach and made his home with the Levels until death came to him Dec. 31, 1939. Besides the Levels and his granddaughter he is mourned by a niece in Santa Cruz, Calif., and a nephew in Nampa, Ida., and by a host of friends in every community where he ever lived.

No Damage Is Reported In Tuesday Morning Fire

A fire which produced considerable smoke but no material damage called the Ord fire department out at 4:30 a. m. Tuesday. Hot ashes near the furnace in the basement of the Johnson beer parlor set fire to some trash, which smoldered and produced considerable smoke. John Beran, who rooms above the beer parlor, was awakened in the night by the smell of smoke. He investigated and found no fire in any of the upstairs rooms. The smoke was heavy in the outside hall, so he turned in the alarm. The fire was put out without turning the water and nothing was damaged.

Brockman Is Jinxed Again; Operated on Day of Big Game

Coach H. F. Brockman's "jinx" which last spring sent him to the hospital severely ill on the day his Ord basketball team met St. Paul in the finals of the Loup Valley tournament, is still active. Friday, just before the Chanticleers played their toughest opponent of the season, Kearney, Brockman had to undergo an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Last spring the Chanticleers beat St. Paul, 20 to 19, but Friday night were not so fortunate. They lost to Kearney in an overtime period, 35 to 33. But the Ord coach feels fortunate in one respect—he is making a rapid recovery after his operation.

237 Questions on 1940 Census Blank

Government Seeking More Information Than It Has Before, Says Norman.

When enumerators begin taking the population census on April 1 they will use blanks on which 237 questions appear, and each person will be expected to answer as many of the questions as apply to him or his family, Ralph W. Norman told the Ord Rotary club Monday evening. Mr. Norman is taking the Valley county business census, starting Jan. 1.

In all probability there will be 13 enumerators instead of 12 in Valley county to take this census, Norman said, the increased number being made necessary by the additional information the government wants.

Mr. Norman praised cooperation he is getting from business men at present. Although it is compulsory for business men to furnish the information required, any firm that prefers may ask for a census blank and franked envelope and send the information direct to Washington instead of giving it to the local census taker, he said. So far no firm has invoked this privilege.

The 1940 census has five divisions, the business census, manufacturing census, mining census, farming census and the actual enumeration. Norman is taking the business and manufacturing census now; the mining census in Valley county affects only a few gravel pumps; the farming census will start soon and the population census starts April 1, after the others are completed.

After Mr. Norman's talk, President C. C. Thompson invited Rotarians to predict Ord's population, to be revealed when census figures are compiled next summer. The guesses ranged from a decrease of 50 to an increase of 150. Ord's population in 1930 was 2,226.

Hunting and Fishing Permits Now Separate

Due to changes made in the hunting and fishing law by the last legislature, effective this year, hunting and fishing permits are now sold separately, but there is no saving in the cost, either one costing $1, to which is added the 10c allowed the issuing officer for making them out.

This makes either a hunting or fishing permit cost $1.10, while the combination permit costs $1.60, and gives the holder the right to both hunt and fish. This year a trapper's license costs $2.50, with the added 10c fee for making it out. A permit to hunt coon with dogs costs $2.50, and is issued direct from Lincoln.

17 Below Zero in Ord Friday Morn

Seventeen degrees below zero, the coldest mark of this winter, was registered early Friday morning on Horace Travis' government thermometer. North Loup reported 22 below the same morning. Monday morning was another cold one for Ord, with 15 below registered here. Two inches of snow with a moisture content of .27 of an inch fell in the night, Saturday.

Will Conduct Services.

Rev. Carl J. Kinzler, of Grand Island, pastor of the Church of the Nazarenes there, and his wife, Sister Alma Kinzler, will conduct a week of evangelistic services in Ord, beginning at 7:30 p. m. Monday, announces J. P. Whitehorn, who has charge of the Nazarene Mission in Ord.

North Loup Team Wins.

North Loup—(Special)—Tuesday evening's basketball card here saw the North Loup first team defeat Farwell, 29 to 17, the Farwell second team win over the North Loup second team, 17 to 9, and the Farwell Junior III defeated the North Loup boys 19 to 11.

Adult Education Classes Will Open at Burwell Soon

Committee Headed by Mrs. Ben Rose; 10 Subjects Will be Taught on Thursdays.

Burwell—(Special)—A well attended meeting of people interested in adult education was held in the school house Thursday night. Mrs. B. A. Rose, who was chosen temporary chairman, explained the purpose and aims of the adult education program. She outlined the various projects in adult education which had been carried out or attempted in this community.

Mrs. Rose, Mrs. G. A. Butts and Miss Anna Cameron were elected as members of the committee to make plans for an adult education program. Superintendent C. C. Scofield is an ex-officio member of this committee. Three other people will be chosen for membership in this group by the elected members, one of which will be a member of the board of education.

Another meeting will be held Thursday night at 7:30 in the school house. Everyone interested in adult education is urged to be present. Mrs. Rose, Mrs. Butts and Miss Cameron met with Mr. Scofield Monday afternoon and outlined the following courses: A course in agriculture will be taught by George West, one in home economics by Miss Leupold, one in American government by Superintendent Scofield, one in drama by Miss Cameron, one in contemporary literature by Mrs. Rose and one in shorthand by Mrs. George Tunnelliff.

Enthusiastic plans are being made by the committee members. They have secured a list of the new voters in the community and each young man or woman will receive a letter inviting him or her to become a member of the class in American government. Miss Cameron's class will present a play at the close of the adult educational school.

Classes will meet one night each week for ten weeks. According to tentative plans the classes will meet on Thursdays. Anyone who cares to do so may enroll. There will be little or no expense attached to the courses. No college or high school credit will be given for the work completed in these classes but the nicest thing about the idea is the opinion of many who are enrolling for the courses is that none or very little studying will be required and there will be no examinations.

Spikes Files for Judge 11th Judicial District

With the entry of William F. Spikes of St. Paul into the 11th judicial district contest this week, the number of candidates for judgeship in the district is increased to four. Mr. Spikes is the junior member of the firm of Taylor and Spikes, and is a partner of F. J. Taylor.

The four now in the race are George A. Munn of Ord; William F. Spikes of St. Paul; E. G. Kroger and O. A. Abbott of Grand Island. In case there should be no more filings the primary election will determine nothing, as all four will be candidates in the general election.

Cosmopolitan Club to Sponsor Skating Rink

The Ord Cosmopolitan club met Monday evening for its regular meeting at the City Cafe. A. A. Wiegardt appeared in behalf of A. J. Cochran, area recreation supervisor, who was seeking a sponsor for a skating pond in Ord. The club decided to look after the proposition. It is understood that a vacant lot will be secured and flooded to form a skating pond for those who care to use it.

New License Plates Popular, Sell Fast

Whether it is the fancy colors, or whether it is the outline of Nebraska's capitol, the new numbers are selling faster than those of 1939 sold. Perhaps the open weather just before Christmas had something to do with it. Anyway this year's sales are far ahead of the same time last year.

A checkup shows that 532 of the new numbers had been sold before New Year's, and the number Saturday evening was just a little short of 700. The number sold before New Year's last year was only 353, which was only about two-thirds of this year's sales. Bad weather will doubtless slow down the sales, as many will not buy the new numbers until they begin running their cars again.

Three Boys To CCC Camp.

Monday Vergil Morris and Leon Larsen of Ord and Harry Brown of Arcadia were taken to Broken Bow by Frank Kruml, director of assistance, and enrolled in the CCC camp. Don McMichael of Arcadia went with them as an alternate, but had to come back, as there was no vacancy.

Wins Prizes As First G. I. Baby Born in '40

North Loup—(Special)—The baby daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bailey, former residents of this village, was Grand Island's first 1940 baby and won prizes offered by merchants of that city, the Independent announces. The little girl was born Wednesday, Jan. 3 in St. Francis hospital and was named Mariel. She weighed 7 pounds at birth. While living here Mr. Bailey served as athletic coach and later as superintendent of schools. He studied radio in his spare time and went from here to Marshalltown, Ia., to accept employment in a radio station. At present he is running a wholesale radio store at Grand Island.

Miss Donaly Resigns, Successor Not Chosen

The Ord school board met at the school house in regular session on Monday evening, with all members present. Routine business occupied their attention with the exception of one item, the resignation of Miss Elaine Donaly, who taught in the 5th and 6th grades the past semester.

Miss Donaly came to Ord from Big Springs at the beginning of the present school year. She resigned to accept a similar position in the schools at McCook at an increase in salary. The proposition of hiring her successor was laid over until the next meeting.

Silence Is Policy of Library Board on Fenner Letters

Books More Objectionable than "Grapes" on Shelves at Burwell, Is Claim.

Burwell—(Special)—Silence is maintained by members of the library board when inquiries are made if they have read a second letter written to them by L. B. Fenner concerning John Steinbeck's novel, "The Grapes of Wrath," which the board has banned from the library.

In his second letter Mr. Fenner suggested that if the board is right in banning the Steinbeck novel it should ban other books now on the shelves as well. He states that the Burwell library contains other books "that relate stories, conversations and situations so much more sordid and terrible than 'Grapes of Wrath' that there is no comparison between them."

Mrs. A. I. Cram, president of the board, has stated that the board will act on Mr. Fenner's letters at its next regular meeting the first Tuesday in February.

Pump Irrigation Meeting to Be Held

People interested in the subject of pump irrigation are invited to attend a state-wide meeting being held at 1:30 p. m., Tuesday Jan. 16 at the Yancey hotel in Grand Island, purpose being to form a pump irrigation association. This is the outgrowth of a meeting held at Central City in December at which time it was decided that an organization is necessary to protect the rights of pump irrigators and to seek federal and state aid, also to secure information on the general subject.

Middle Loup Gets More RFC Money

Arcadia—(Special)—The board of directors of the Middle Loup Public Power and Irrigation district held their regular monthly meeting Jan. 5, at which time resolutions were passed accepting the offer by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to supplement the district's 1939 revenue, so that all outstanding bills, interest, etc., will be paid to Dec. 31, 1939, and funds supplied for future operations. Additional revenue debentures will be sold from time to time to cover advances made by the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, principal and interest on which will be paid solely from revenues in a manner similar to the original debentures issued.

Twin Daughters Born Prematurely, One Dies

Burwell—(Special)—Twin babies, one weighing 2 pounds and the other 2 pounds 2 ounces, were born Tuesday morning to Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nelson, who live 8 miles north of Burwell. Dr. E. J. Smith was in attendance. The twins were brought to Burwell in a baby incubator kept warm with hot water bottles and warmed bricks. They were taken to the Mrs. Dora Coleman home for care but Tuesday night the smallest of the twins died. The condition of the other baby is said to be "fair." There are five other children in the Nelson home.

Photographic Work for Ord High's 1940 Annual Starts Monday; Pretty Girls Get First Call

Ray Nelson, the Hastings photographer, doesn't need to tell this bevy of Ord high school girls to "look pretty, please," for they couldn't look otherwise if they tried, but in this photo he seems to be pointing out the "little birdie," as his assistant, Barney Swanson, snaps the shutter. Girls in the picture are Betty Meyer, standing, Erma Covert and Norma Brethauer.

Photographic work for the 1940 high school annual started Monday in the manner pictured above. The Nelson Studios, of Hastings, will do the photography; photo-engraving and printing will be handled by The Quiz. All this week picture-taking of individuals and groups will be in progress.

Mortensen Heads the Finnish Relief Move

C. J. Mortensen yesterday received word from W. O. Swanson, state chairman, of his appointment as the Valley county chairman of the Finnish Relief movement. No drive for funds will be held here at present, Mr. Mortensen stated, but anybody desirous of contributing to this worthy movement may send or leave their money at the Nebraska State bank and it will be forwarded to state headquarters.

County Board Met Tuesday, Elected Hansen Chairman

Three Supervisors Refused to Vote; Dr. Round New County Physician.

The Valley county board met Tuesday in the first meeting of the new year, and elected S. V. Hansen of Arcadia chairman, a position he has held for a number of years. Four supervisors voted for Mr. Hansen and the other three handed in blank ballots.

The first item of business taken up by the board was the consideration of the standing committees for 1940, as selected by the chairman. The personnel of these committees is as follows:

Roads and bridges, Jablonski, Bremer, Suchanek; building and grounds, Zikmund, Ball, Barber; budget, Suchanek, Bremer; settlement with county officers, Ball, Jablonski, Barber; bonds (between sessions), Barber, Jablonski, Ball; claims, Bremer, Suchanek, Zikmund.

Dr. J. N. Round was appointed county physician and Dave Haught custodian. The remainder of the day was taken up by the work of the committees, the budget committee conferring with Ign. Kilina, county clerk, and the committee for settlement with the county officers checking up with them for the past year. It is expected that this work will be completed some time tomorrow.

Henshaw Hotel Fire Victim Was Ord Woman

Mrs. W. M. Howard, the 79-year-old woman who died Sunday from burns sustained in the Henshaw Hotel fire at Omaha last week, was once a resident of Ord, it is thought. She was a daughter of Rev. A. E. Russell, Baptist minister here in the early days, before old time residents.

Omaha papers at first said Mrs. Howard's residence was Minneapolis but later a correction was published, stating that Omaha was her home but that she had been on a trip and was back in Omaha settling up her affairs preparatory to moving to Minneapolis to make her home.

It is impossible to verify this news item since Mrs. Howard's brothers live in Oregon, Colorado and Louisiana and no members of the Russell family reside here at present.

Chanticleers Lose Thriller, 35 to 33 to Kearney Quint

Score Tied When Game Ends But Kearney Tallies Three Points in Extra Period.

Playing one of the best teams they will face this year, and handicapped by the loss of E. Piskorski through injury, the Ord high basketball squad lost a terrific battle on the local court to the Kearney quintet Friday evening. The final score was 35 to 33 with Kearney scoring the winning points in an over-time period after the fourth quarter ended with the score tied.

The game was a slam bang affair throughout, with Ord swarming all over their opponents during the first three quarters to prevent them from scoring, and at the same time slipping in enough baskets to keep ahead. Ord was not so good at getting the free points, making only 5 to their opponent's 9.

The Chanticleers also were playing under the handicap of having their head coach, H. F. Brockman in the hospital, where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis that morning, but the boys were determined to win for him, and might have done so had Piskorski finished the way he started.

However, early in the second quarter, after he had accounted for two field goals and two free points, he had his wrist broken in a bad fall and had to retire. Had he been able to return to the game in the final quarter when the other boys were tiring with the terrific pace they were setting, the result might have been different.

Furtak, Ord's small but mighty forward, won high honors in scoring with a total of 5 field goals for 10 points. H. Misko led Piskorski for second place with 8 points, Misko getting his with 4 field goals. Tatlow made 2 points for Ord, Hurlbert 5 and Pfaff 2 for a total of 33 points.

Kearney made 9 points on free throws, and sank 13 field goals for a total of 35 points to win the game in the extra period. The score at the quarter was, Ord 9, Kearney 7; at the half it was, Ord 20, Kearney 15; the third quarter ended with, Ord 27, Kearney 24; at the end of the fourth quarter it was, Ord 33, Kearney 33.

Earl Smith to Sell His Fine Dairy Herd

One of the finest Holstein herds in central Nebraska will be sold at auction, along with other livestock and personal property, at Earl Smith's clean-up sale Tuesday, Jan. 16, which is advertised in today's Quiz. The Smith family will move to the west coast. Included are 25 Holstein cows and heifers which are high producers according to careful records kept over a period of years. Seldom are dairy cows of this quality sold at auction and every farmer will be interested in this sale.

Ed Beranek Has Operation.

At the clinic hospital Tuesday morning, Ed F. Beranek underwent an operation for appendicitis. Dr. C. W. Weekes and Dr. F. A. Bara being the surgeons. Mr. Beranek was taken ill Monday afternoon and the trouble diagnosed immediately as appendicitis. Worst part of the affair, so far as Ed is concerned, is that his 14-year record of steady attendance at Rotary club meetings is imperiled. His condition this morning was said to be satisfactory.

Ice-Choked River Blamed for Taste of Water in Ord

Complaints about the bad taste and odor of Ord water have been heard for the past ten days. George Allen, light and water commissioner, says that no greater quantity of chlorine than usual is being added. When the river freezes solidly, as it has done during the present cold spell, new channels are gouged from the sand bars underneath the ice and a quantity of dead leaves and other vegetable matter deposited in these bars is released, he says. The chemical action of chlorine on this vegetable matter accounts for the bad taste of the city water. It is pure even though distasteful, Mr. Allen emphasizes.

Arcadia Firemen Elect Officers

Arcadia—(Special)—At a meeting Monday evening at the city hall, members of the Arcadia volunteer fire department elected Orla Summers as chief, Everett Webb assistant chief, Jack Brown second assistant, Elsworth Bruner sergeant-at-arms and Harry Woody secretary-treasurer. Once every ten years a census is taken, and work on the newest farm census report will start April 1, 1940. This census will be little different from those carried out in 1930 or 1920, being non-political.

The enumerators will ask farmers a lot of questions—over 200 in all. Answers are compulsory. But these replies will be kept confidentially, and cannot be used for purposes of taxation regulation, or investigation.

Here are a few typical questions: What rent do you pay? Do you sell to a cooperative buying organization? How much did you spend last year for tractor fuel? How many gallons of milk were produced on your farm? How many bushels of sorghum grain were harvested?

A few of the inquiries may seem foolish, but all of them have some value or purpose. Our government wants to know what crops are being grown? What types of livestock and poultry raised? In what direction farmers are moving? Do they own the land or rent? How heavily are farms mortgaged? How many folks have left Valley county? How big is Ord.

The Sixteenth Decennial Census of the United States is a big job. It will employ 150,000 people for periods varying from 2 weeks to 2 years, collecting and compiling statistics. And hundreds of thousands of housewives, farmers and businessmen will participate by furnishing the original information.

Anniversary Cake

The above cake was baked by Hans Andreasen, baker for the Ord City Bakery, and is perhaps the first and only one of its kind ever baked in Ord. Hans had to send to Copenhagen to get the special set of rings in which the cake is baked. There are 24 of the rings in all, graduated from about 10 inches in diameter down to a little one in which the top is baked.

The entire cake is hollow, and when they are baked in Denmark it is customary to place a bottle of wine in the center, and when the cake is cut the wine is drunk with it. Materials for the cakes were 15 eggs, 3 pounds of almond paste and 3 pounds of sugar. The baking of this type of cake requires considerable skill, and Mr. Andreasen would have no competition in this part of the country.

When the layers are built up the cake is frosted and decorated in the usual way. He baked this one in honor of the 5th wedding anniversary of his son Albert and wife and took it with him Saturday when he went to Beatrice to help them celebrate. He says this type of cake is practically unknown in the United States, but is quite common in Denmark.

The Elmo Hurley, who left North Loup about two years ago and has been in a grocery store in Parkdale, Ore., have sold their store and gone to Escondido, Calif., to live. Mrs. Kathrine Anderson accompanied them to California. Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins returned Saturday from Palmyra and Tuesday morning left for Denver which will be headquarters for his work with the Forest Reserve service for the winter.

Union services are being held on Sunday evenings during the winter months by the Methodist and the Friends churches. The leagues meet at 6:45 and the preaching service is at 7:30.

Dr. Hemphill went to Ord on the Monday evening bus.

H. H. Clement, T. J. Hamer, Melford Sample, Harry Waller and Arley Street were in Ord on business Tuesday afternoon.

The Harold Fisher family were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fisher helping Mr. Fisher celebrate his birthday. Lucaine Fisher brought her grandfather a beautiful birthday cake which she had baked and decorated herself.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Gillespie entertained their dinner bridge club at their home Tuesday night.

The North Loup Cooperative Credit association stockholders held their annual meeting at the town hall Tuesday afternoon. Reports of the committees were read and adopted and all board members re-elected. The board of directors is A. C. Hutchins, W. J. Hemphill, R. H. Knapp, Frank Schudel and Albert Babcock. The credit committee consists of J. E. Lee, Roy Cox and Ford Eyerly and the supervisory committee of W. H. Vodehnal, Grace R. Mayo and M. R. Cornell. Mr. Cornell takes the place of Rev. C. L. Hill.

Professional and Service Division WPA Report

The Work Projects Administration of Nebraska is divided into four divisions—Finance, Employment, Operations, and the Professional and Service. Mrs. Minnie V. Hardenbrook is Supervisor of the Professional and Service division in Area No. 12, which consists of six counties, Garfield, Valley, Greeley, Howard, Sherman and Wheeler.

At the present time Mrs. Hardenbrook supervises 36 different locations employing 151 persons. There are 91 women working on the sewing projects. During the year, 1939, they made 24,733 garments, which are given to the Assistance Director and distributed by him to the relief clients of his county. It might be of interest to know that these women received $34,337.76 in salaries during the year.

Other projects in the Professional and Service division are the Land Use Survey, Household System, Historical Survey, Adult Education, Nursery school, Public Libraries, Public school libraries, Clerical projects of different types. Renovation of public buildings and Commodity distribution.

Mrs. Helen Hill has just completed the Land Use Survey Project in Valley county and it reveals many very interesting facts. It is taken from the records in the County Agent's office, the Soil Conservation office, the County Clerk's office and the County Treasurer's office. There are 2437 tracts of land in the county, which are owned by about 1,349 land owners. About 200 of these tracts are owned by insurance and loan companies. The information she obtained has been sent to the State Planning Board and there five maps will be made and published, which will reveal many things about our county.

During the summer months the Professional and Service Division supervised the interesting Archeological Project and expect to open it again in the spring. Twenty-three men were employed on this project. It was sponsored by the State Historical Society and many of the skeletons that were exhumed will be placed in the Museum at the State Capitol Building.

The recreation projects take care of the leisure time of both the adults and children. There are various programs both for indoors and outdoor recreation. Mrs. Hardenbrook informs us that visitors are always welcome at any of these projects.

CLINIC HOSPITAL NEWS. Baby Lance Godkin, son of A. G. Godkin, had a minor operation performed by Dr. Weekes.

Mrs. Lucy Hoon who underwent a caesarian operation was able to leave the hospital last week. Both mother and baby are doing well. Surgeons were Drs. Weekes and Hemphill.

Miss Dorothy Ryan, of Arcadia, a patient of Drs. Weekes and Norris was able to leave the hospital Friday. She had an appendectomy last week.

Mrs. Rex Jewett was able to leave the hospital Sunday after a major operation performed last week by Dr. Weekes.

Oba Bouma, a patient of Dr. Kruml, was able to leave the hospital Thursday after medical treatment and is reported greatly improved.

Harold Barnes, has been receiving treatment for a severe infection in his hand. Dr. Weekes is caring for him.

Betty Wiegardt Breaks Ankle In Fall Monday. While on the way home from school Monday Miss Betty Wiegardt fell, injuring her right ankle. Two of her schoolmates helped her as far as the courthouse, where her father found her trying to get up the steps. He took her home and summoned Dr. J. N. Round who decided an X-ray was necessary. This showed that the ankle was broken, and it was put in a cast at once. She is resting comfortably, but will have to miss school for some time.

Onyx Cafe Reopens. The Onyx Cafe operated during the fall by George Romine has reopened under the management of Mrs. O. W. Vogorer, of Crofton, Nebr., who is assisted by Wm. Rasset, jr. Steak and chicken dinners will be featured. Mr. and Mrs. Romine have gone to Broken Bow where they own a restaurant.

P. E. O.'s Entertain.

The P. E. O. Sisterhood held their annual B. I. L. (Brothers-in-law) party Monday night at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. J. Miller, with 40 present.

The theme for the evening was, "Friday, Afternoon at the Country School." Mrs. Jake Severus played the part of teacher, taking charge of the singing by the "school" and introducing the members on the "program." The teacher's sister, Lucille, from New York sang, Jake played a harmonica solo, and the president of the school, Mr. Reuben Cook, sang a solo accompanied by his wife. For the debate, Alice, Daisy and Doris took the affirmative on the question, "Resolved that Rummage Sales are a Benefit to Humanity," while the negative was defended by Grover, Clarence and Hal. A rhythm band made up of 8 kindergarten boys in red capes and hats was a decided hit. Glen was the leader and the others were Jimmie, Mark, Rube, Alphonse, Grover, and Jake. The climax of the evening was a "drill" by the "girls" in costume, which turned out to be a take-off on the "boys" all in rhyme.

Following the program the school children ate the school lunch that was brought by the girls in lunch pails. Mrs. A. W. Cornell was chairman of the program committee and composed the rhymes.

The geese that saved Rome from its enemies have nothing on the parrot owned by Mrs. Frank Clark. This bird saved a house from fire. The parrot was formerly owned by Mrs. Mary Jensen, mother of Mrs. Mary Mead. One night the Mead home caught on fire and would have burned to the ground if the parrot had not squawked so incessantly that it awoke the family who were able to extinguish the flames before a great deal of damage was done. Before her death, Mrs. Jensen bequeathed the parrot to Mrs. Clark, who had long admired it. In the Clark home it has also demonstrated its intelligence for it has accomplished something which Mrs. Clark has tried unsuccessfully for years to do. Frank and his pipe are, or were, inseparable. Mrs. Clark can't abide a pipe and for as long as she has cooked Frank his three squares every day she has tried to wean him from his pipe but because of his other endearing qualities she has somehow managed to put up with him, pipe and all. The parrot however is not such an easy victim to his wiles. She has developed a phobia for fire and every time Frank lights his pipe she scolds and squawks until Frank is obliged to put out his pipe or go out to the barn to finish his smoke muttering to himself "Con-sarn that bird!"

Mrs. Clyde Burdick of Grand Island visited in Ord last week from Wednesday until Saturday evening with the Clarence Reed and Elvin Hower families.

Miss Bernice Bishop of Comstock and Miss Doris Trembley of Burwell went to Alton on the bus Thursday morning to visit friends. Bill Lukesh of the McCullough Motor company went to Grand Island on the bus Thursday and drove back a car.

Bill Darges and Mrs. J. L. Tedro of the Ord Brown-McDonald store went to Grand Island Wednesday and Thursday of last week for a meeting of company representatives being held at Hotel Yancey for a showing of ready-to-wear goods.

Anthony Kokes returned to his school work at Creighton Wednesday after spending the holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kokes.

Miss Ruth Milford and Miss Helen Kokes returned to their school work in Omaha Sunday after spending two weeks with relatives here. They, with Anthony Kokes, arrived in Ord the Saturday before Christmas. Miss Milford teaches in the Windsor grade school.

Dr. F. A. Barta drove to Omaha Thursday to attend the annual meeting of the National American fire insurance company, of which he is a director. With him went his son Dean, and Joe Meyers of Burwell, who were returning to their school work, and Miss Gertrude Hawkins.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Severson returned to Omaha Friday after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dworak. Mrs. A. J. Ferguson and daughter, Jean, went to Lincoln Sunday afternoon where Jean was to take the state examinations for beauty operator. They expected to return Thursday.

Lloyd Jensen is recovering very nicely from his appendectomy that he underwent at the Ord hospital a week ago Sunday, and will return in a few days to his work with the NYA at Bellevue.

H. F. Brockman seems to have all his troubles during the basketball season. Friday morning he went to the Ord hospital, where he underwent an appendectomy. He is recovering nicely.

Mrs. Larry Dotts returned to her work in Grand Island Friday afternoon, after spending a week visiting her sister, Mrs. Bob Hughes.

To an Arcadia man goes the honor of being one of the persons to whom the first marriage license of 1940 was issued in Hall county. Judge Paul N. Kirk issued the license to Archie W. Christ of Arcadia and Miss Evelyn Marie Lee of Grand Island.

Robert James Carson, two year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Carson of Grand Island, died last week after a week's illness from scarlet fever. The Carsons are quite well known by Ordites, as they made their home in Ord for a time while Mr. Carson was employed in the Food Center store here.

A new year has begun and it is well at this time, to look back on the past year and see if we have allowed it to slip without availing ourselves of every opportunity offered us to better ourselves.

To you people who suffer with rectal trouble, I have this to say. Don't put off being cured now when the opportunity is offered you to come to a place where you know, from the experience of others that you will be cured. Don't let two-dollar yourself to death this year and the next dozen years trying to obtain a cheap cure. It just can't be done. All of my patients have wasted from two to two hundred dollars doing this, besides undergoing needless disappointments and suffering.

Make it a point now, to either write for information regarding your case, or better still, come in for an examination and consultation. Dr. Rich, Rectal Specialist, Grand Island, Nebr.

Hans Andreasen, Ord baker, left on the bus Saturday morning for Beatrice, to attend the 5th wedding anniversary of his son and wife. Mr. and Mrs. Albert Andreasen, which occurred on that day. In honor of the occasion he had baked a very lovely cake, which he took with him.

The Frank Svoboda and Charles Urbans returned last week from their visit to relatives at Prague, Okla. They report a nice visit, but a rather exciting trip. On the way down they ran into sleet and rain in Kansas, and slid off the road into the ditch. They got back on all right, but from there on saw a number of cars off the grade and unable to get back. Nobody was hurt but it was an exciting experience.

DAIRY CATTLE & FARM SALE. As I am going to quit farming and leave this community I will hold a public auction sale of the following described property on the farm 5 miles southeast of Ord, 1 mile south of No. 11 Highway in Maiden Valley, on Tuesday, January 16th. The sale will start promptly at 12 o'clock noon. 25 Holsteins. 25 HIGH GRADE DAIRY CATTLE, consisting of 11 cows from 2 to 6 years old, most of them fresh, 10 yearling heifers, part of them bred. The 1, 2 and 3 year old heifers are all sired by the same bull. Those 3 nearest dams have butterfat records of over 700 lbs. Some of the 3 year old heifers are milking 6 to 8 gallons daily now. We have figures taken from the books of the Ord Co-Operative Creamery Company by their bookkeeper, E. R. Kerchal, which show our cream and starter milk checks for the past three years total $4,225.63, from 12 cows, an average of $117.00 per cow per year on dry short pastures. If you want something to turn your cheap roughage into cash and have a steady income to pay your bills come and buy some of these good cows and heifers. We have been keeping our best for the past nineteen years, never have used any sire that was not registered, have never had a reactor for T. B. and have never had any Bangs disease on the farm and we believe that we have a herd of cattle here that should merit the most critical buyer. They have made us a good income and should do better as they go along if given proper care. 6 head Horses. 1 bay gelding, six years old, wt. 1,600 1 black mare, just smooth 1 two and 1 three year old, both mares, good 1 riding mare, smooth mouth 1 bay horse, smooth mouth 10 Hogs. 1 Hampshire sow, bred 9 fall pigs 125 WHITE LEGHORN PULLETS 125 white Leghorn year old hens, good laying stock. CONGRESSMAN G. H. HEINKE.

In the death last week of Congressman G. H. Heinke of Nebraska City the state and nation suffered a distinct loss.

While it is true that in a nation such as ours plenty of men can be found with the ability to fill his place, the question is to find a man who is willing to think for himself and to act as his conscience dictates.

Not so of Heinke. Born on a farm near Dunbar in 1852, he graduated from the Nebraska state university school of law in 1908.

Heinke was elected on the Republican ticket and on his promise to vote for economy whenever possible.

This, he declared, had enough safeguards to assure that the money would be spent as congress intended.

After looking into the election statutes, Governor R. L. Cochran announced that no power of appointment was provided therein.

This is as it should be. If there is any one office in which the wishes of the people should be consulted, it is that of a man to represent them in the Congress of the United States.

This wise provision of the law has its advantages to Governor Cochran as well, since it relieves him of a responsibility that he doubtless prefers not to assume at this time.

This is the second time in the history of the state that a member of congress died while in office.

THEY TRIED IT THEN.

has 17,000 acres of rich North Loup valley land under it.

"The right of way and the canal excavation would now cost $65,000 to $70,000. Its plan is one of the best, and most practical for a large hydro-electric power plant to be found in Nebraska.

"On the Burwell Canal and Power company's canal a 1,000 horse power hydro-electric power plant can be built and the power delivered to Ord for an outlay of $100,000.

Verily a "prophet is not without honor, save in his own country, and in his own house."

Level headed business men made sport of Mattley then and he died in obscurity, his ideas for irrigation and highways rejected.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

There are a lot of people in arrears on Quiz subscription and I have notified them, most of them several times.

I wish I might understand the workings of the stock and grain board of trade workings. One day it snows and grain jumps up a fraction to one or more cents.

And another thing I wish I could understand, is the difference between prices of hogs and cattle.

If the various government departments should decide to quit sending out the hundreds upon hundreds of letters of alleged news which is thrown unopened into the waste basket each week by newspaper editors.

"Yes sir," "Yes sir." I have heard that remark many times, first by Jim Gilbert, then by his assistant, Place. They always greet each other that way in the morning.

As this paragraph is written Saturday, January 6 we have received several letters for our old settlers, old timers or former Valley county residents edition which is to be printed January 24.

I suppose you read my announcement in this column two weeks ago and the large advertisement last week, in which we offered to anyone for a new year subscription to the Quiz at $2. an 8 by 10 enlargement of any clear photograph, and that it would be beautifully tinted in colors, as a premium.

"WHO WILL BUILD IT?"

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

No Quarrel Lake Babcock Short Shavings

No Quarrel.

Clair Clement who is one of the ranking members of the fair board said to me that he (and the other members of the board) are quite distressed over the fact that the fair dates and Pop Corn dates have been set upon the same days for next year.

To substantiate this fact Clair says he always sort of felt he was a North Loup man. He belongs to the church in North Loup, he tries always to attend their celebrations, he always yells for North Loup in athletic contests.

Clair says if the Pop Corn dates were set prior to the fair dates, he nor any of the fair board knew it and the first they were aware of the trouble was from this column.

The reason the fair dates were set where they were was to convenience the auto racers. The Ord fair tries to cooperate with other auto racing events so the racers can make a circuit and not be too much expense traveling back and forth over the country.

The Valley county fair board would gladly change their dates on account of the mix-up if it were possible but because of the above mentioned fact those dates are about the only ones available and still have races.

Clair also goes on to say that he thinks both cities can have their celebration and both can cooperate to help each other in the place of perhaps quarrelling. Ord has its races and the 4-H exhibits and agriculture displays.

Clair also goes on to say that he thinks both cities can have their celebration and both can cooperate to help each other in the place of perhaps quarrelling. Ord has its races and the 4-H exhibits and agriculture displays.

And after this talk with Clair I am sure there has been no ill-will felt by the Ord people on account of the date conflict; it was just one of those things, as Joe Knezeczek says to me so often.

Lake Babcock
In the Dec. 20 Quiz, in the "You and I were Young" department, it mentioned how on Dec. 23, 1909, H. E. Babcock of Columbus gave a talk before the Commercial club in regard to the Loup River project there.

Yes, that is the reason. H. E. Babcock tried to promote almost the same project that now is erected at Columbus. He tried to finance it with private funds and failed because he could not raise the money.

And bringing it a little closer home, H. E. Babcock was raised in Valley county, his mother living in the Big Bend country, Ord and North Loup. Her name was Mrs. Plummer Horr.

H. E. "Earnie" Babcock, was the only son from his mother's first marriage, his father having been killed in the Civil war before he was born.

He was a very gifted conversationalist and bright man, but everyone thought him somewhat of a dreamer and more or less impractical with his aspirations for irrigation projects.

The prevailing thought of conversation at Will Wheatcraft's sale was, "What is the country coming to when such fellows as Will, Rube McCune, and other men of similar fortune have to give up and move away."

The Business and Professional Women's club of Ord is to be congratulated on its energy and ambition. After working all day in stores and schoolrooms, those girls still have pep left over to plan improvements for the city in which they live, fun for themselves and others.

For example they are nearly through paying for that beautiful $360 circular desk which embellishes the new library. The desk is a marvel of compactness, well planned, almost too simple of line to be called modernistic in style.

Lately I have come across some queer examples of ladies and their husbands sharing possessions, helping one another out.

Over at the Edward Kokes mansion he does not like his cough syrup, so when he gets a cough, she takes the syrup.

Notice of Stockholder's Meeting.
The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Nebraska State bank will be held in the bank on Friday evening, January 26, 1940, at 8 P. M., for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors of said bank and other business that may properly come before said meeting.

At the Russell Craven's, they share wool socks. In the winter, Mrs. Craven uses them for her wool socks to warm her coo-old feet, and when summer comes, do those socks go in the cedar chest? They do not. They serve Mr. Craven on the golf course.

I was much interested in this latter revelation, as my husband suffers from my cold feet, too. In fact I have nearly worn out an electric pad he once received as a Christmas gift. . . he says he never enjoyed a gift so much in his life!

Mrs. Guy Lemaster gets around to doing a good many things, in her very quiet way. For instance she thinks nothing of having 30 or 40 relatives descend on her for a holiday feast, or unite in preparing one at her home while a dozen youngsters scamper through the house.

When a young niece, Mrs. Harold Slichtka, came from her Iowa home and brought her two small sons, they had fun at the Lemaster home. The son of the former Audrey Melia, Douglas, age two, delighted them all one evening with his comments on oysters, which he does not like. He overheard Mrs. Lemaster talking about an oyster stew for supper, and he trotted about the house putting the flashing touches to her remarks with: "No soup for Douglas, no soup for Douglas. No oysters for Douglas, no oysters . . . Eggs for Douglas."

Mrs. C. J. Mortensen has the true pioneer spirit. She is determined to ignore any pain she might have to endure, to go ahead with her plans regardless of her discomfort. Nothing stops her.

Hurt early in the week in a car accident, the doctor found a broken shoulder bone, strapped it into a stiff, painful harness. Arriving home Tuesday late, and scheduled to entertain a bridge club Wednesday evening at her home, she ordered plans for the club to proceed. She did not try to play cards or be an active hostess, but how many people could stubbornly ignore misery and tolerate the thought of entertaining? Such endurance is said to refine the spirit, a la Mahatma Gandhi.

At first the heart is just a slight enlarged part of a blood vessel called the aorta. This enlargement is spindle shaped and is not divided into several chambers as it is when the child is born. From this simple tube through complicated twisting and growth of partitions, valves and constrictions, the final form of the heart is obtained. In this final form it is divided into four chambers or cavities. Those into which blood comes from the various parts of the body by way of the veins are thin walled and called the right atrium and left atrium; those from which the blood is pumped to the lungs and rest of the body by way of the arteries are thick walled and muscular and are called the right and left ventricles. The chambers on the right have no direct communication with those on the left.

As I said above, the heart starts to beat very early, while it is a straight tube, and before there is any real blood to be pumped. In fact, it beats before there are any muscle fibers in its walls and before there are any nerves to and from it, or even within its thin walls.

At first only clear fluid circulates in the vessels connected with this primitive heart. A little later, blood cells are formed within and about the blood vessels and the clear fluid pumped by this young and partly developed heart begins to find its way through the newly formed blood vessels, it slowly washes new formed blood cells into the stream until, shortly, true blood is flowing through the circulation of the embryo.

This early formation of a system of blood vessels and heart with the blood flowing through them is now necessary because the circulation and blood of the unborn infant are entirely separate from that of the mother. Nourishment must be obtained from the mother's blood indirectly and carried throughout the growing embryo by this means or growth would be impossible and the unborn child could not live. In other words, we would never be born. Furthermore, at birth the heart and blood vessels of the baby must be entirely ready to take up the full burden of nourishing the tissues, however, then, the food must come from the infant's own digestive tract and the oxygen must be carried from its own lungs to the cells, tissues and organs of its growing body. Nature is truly wonderful in the way she provides for every possible need of her creatures, even to their eventual destruction and return to mother earth in order to make way for those who follow.

In other words, we would never be born. Furthermore, at birth the heart and blood vessels of the baby must be entirely ready to take up the full burden of nourishing the tissues, however, then, the food must come from the infant's own digestive tract and the oxygen must be carried from its own lungs to the cells, tissues and organs of its growing body. Nature is truly wonderful in the way she provides for every possible need of her creatures, even to their eventual destruction and return to mother earth in order to make way for those who follow.

At first the heart is just a slight enlarged part of a blood vessel called the aorta. This enlargement is spindle shaped and is not divided into several chambers as it is when the child is born. From this simple tube through complicated twisting and growth of partitions, valves and constrictions, the final form of the heart is obtained. In this final form it is divided into four chambers or cavities. Those into which blood comes from the various parts of the body by way of the veins are thin walled and called the right atrium and left atrium; those from which the blood is pumped to the lungs and rest of the body by way of the arteries are thick walled and muscular and are called the right and left ventricles. The chambers on the right have no direct communication with those on the left.

As I said above, the heart starts to beat very early, while it is a straight tube, and before there is any real blood to be pumped. In fact, it beats before there are any muscle fibers in its walls and before there are any nerves to and from it, or even within its thin walls.

At first only clear fluid circulates in the vessels connected with this primitive heart. A little later, blood cells are formed within and about the blood vessels and the clear fluid pumped by this young and partly developed heart begins to find its way through the newly formed blood vessels, it slowly washes new formed blood cells into the stream until, shortly, true blood is flowing through the circulation of the embryo.

This early formation of a system of blood vessels and heart with the blood flowing through them is now necessary because the circulation and blood of the unborn infant are entirely separate from that of the mother. Nourishment must be obtained from the mother's blood indirectly and carried throughout the growing embryo by this means or growth would be impossible and the unborn child could not live. In other words, we would never be born. Furthermore, at birth the heart and blood vessels of the baby must be entirely ready to take up the full burden of nourishing the tissues, however, then, the food must come from the infant's own digestive tract and the oxygen must be carried from its own lungs to the cells, tissues and organs of its growing body. MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

The heart is formed in the human body before there is any blood to pump around through the blood vessels. This happens very early in the development of the human embryo, as the unborn child is called in the first few weeks after it begins to form from the egg.

At first the heart is just a slight enlarged part of a blood vessel called the aorta. This enlargement is spindle shaped and is not divided into several chambers as it is when the child is born. From this simple tube through complicated twisting and growth of partitions, valves and constrictions, the final form of the heart is obtained. In this final form it is divided into four chambers or cavities. Those into which blood comes from the various parts of the body by way of the veins are thin walled and called the right atrium and left atrium; those from which the blood is pumped to the lungs and rest of the body by way of the arteries are thick walled and muscular and are called the right and left ventricles. The chambers on the right have no direct communication with those on the left.

As I said above, the heart starts to beat very early, while it is a straight tube, and before there is any real blood to be pumped. In fact, it beats before there are any muscle fibers in its walls and before there are any nerves to and from it, or even within its thin walls.

This early formation of a system of blood vessels and heart with the blood flowing through them is now necessary because the circulation and blood of the unborn infant are entirely separate from that of the mother. Nourishment must be obtained from the mother's blood indirectly and carried throughout the growing embryo by this means or growth would be impossible and the unborn child could not live. In other words, we would never be born. ELYRIA NEWS

WRITTEN BY MRS. LEON CIEMNY

Mrs. Julia Wozniak left several days ago for Denver, Colo., where she will remain a few weeks with a daughter and family.

The Ed and Harold Dahlin families were dinner and supper guests in the Albert Dahlin home in Ord on Sunday.

On Sunday a group of Elyria folks motored to the R. P. McCune farm home south of North Loup where they spent the evening.

Visitors in the Frank T. Zulkoski home or New Year's day were the J. B. Zulkoski family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Zulkoski and Mr. and Mrs. Enos Zulkoski.

The Evenin' Off Pinochle club were entertained last Wednesday evening in the Mr. and Mrs. Louis Greenwalt home. High scores were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Leon Ciemny, low to Mrs. Louis Greenwalt and Chas. Dlugosh. Traveling prize went to Mrs. Henry Stara. After play the hostess served delicious refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Helleberg and son were Sunday dinner guests in the Almond Brox home in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boro and son, Sylvester of near Comstock were dinner guests here in the Frank T. Zulkoski home on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Adam Bartusiak and children of Ord spent Sunday evening here with the former's mother, Mrs. Stacy Bartusiak.

Mrs. Frank Swaneck spent several days of last week in the Anton Swaneck and John Galka homes in Ord.

Mrs. Ed Dahlin entertained several ladies in her home last Wednesday afternoon. The afternoon was spent in playing pinochle after which the hostess served refreshments.

Louis Ruzowski arrived home from Long Pine on Saturday. He will spend a few days here with his family. Due to the cold weather the construction company with which he is employed have suspended work until the weather warms up.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferris of Ord spent the day Tuesday here in the Wm. Helleberg home.

Mrs. Louise Greenwalt was hostess to the Jolly Homemakers club at her farm home Thursday afternoon. Mrs. W. E. Dodge and Mrs. J. W. Severas gave and demonstrated the lesson on "Table Service." The members also made plans for a "company dinner" which they will give at the Mrs. W. E. Dodge home on January 18th at which they will entertain several invited guests. At the close of the afternoon the hostess served delicious refreshments.

A large number of friends attended a farewell party given in honor of Leonard Sobon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sobon held in the Ciemny hall on Tuesday evening. Leonard had been a member of the Joe Lukesh KMMJ Bohemian orchestra for the past few months. He has been appointed to a government position as filing clerk for the Farm Security at Baltimore and left Wednesday for that place. His many friends wish him success.

Mrs. Leon Dubas and Miss Bernice spent Sunday evening in the Frank T. Zulkoski home.

Mrs. Wm. Helleberg motored to Ord Friday when she attended the Rebekah Kensington covered dish luncheon held in the Mrs. Kent Ferris home.

Heads Paralysis Drive.

Mrs. Mabel Gillespie, of Gretna, state chairman of the nation-wide crusade against infantile paralysis, this week launched plans for fundraising celebrations to be held on President Roosevelt's birthday, Jan. 30. Infantile paralysis is on the increase, Mrs. Gillespie points out. In 1938 only 1,616 cases were reported but in 1939 there were 6,921. More funds must be raised if the disease is to be stamped out, she says. A former Ord woman, Mrs. Gillespie is attacking her new job with vigor.

GRADE SCHOOL NOTES.
The final report on the sale of Christmas seals showed that a total of $59.97 was made by the grades, Miss Swain's room, the 3rd and 4th, and Miss Hallen's room, the first, selling over $10 worth each.

In spite of the cold weather Friday and the children of the kindergarten and the first and second grades had a toy show. They brought their new toys and had them on exhibit in the kindergarten room. There were dolls, doll buggies, drums, books, games and airplanes all of which made the exhibit most interesting.

Miss Swanson has two new pupils in her grade, the second. They are Laddie Cochran and Louis Anderson, and both came to Ord from Nelson, Nebr.

Ord Wins Thriller from Arcadia Team Score Is 33 to 32

Furtak Again Leads Ord Five in Scoring; Reserves Win with McBeth Starring.

After losing the last two games by 1 and 2 points respectively, the Ord team came across Friday evening to win on the local floor by a one point margin over the Arcadia team. It was a thrilling contest throughout, with the lead changing a number of times. As in the Kearney game, R. Furtak led the scoring for Ord, with H. Misko in second place. Furtak accounted for 13 points, while Misko made 11. Hurlbert made 5 points and Tatlow 4 to complete the scoring for Ord. Christ made 14 points for Arcadia, Harding 7, Marvel 6, Gregory and Gogan each 2 and Dalby made 1.

The score by quarters stood: First quarter, Ord 7, Arcadia 8; second quarter, Ord 14, Arcadia 10; third quarter, Ord 20, Arcadia 23; and the final score, Ord 33, Arcadia 32.

In the preliminary game the Ord Reserves defeated the Arcadia reserves by a score of 21 to 6, with H. McBeth accounting for 14 of Ord's points to lead the scoring. The score at the half was 15 to 1 in Ord's favor.

In games played last week in this section the following scores are reported: Palmer 19, Elba 12;

Danneberg 49, Boelus 14; Mason City 23, Arcadia 8; Cushing 24, North Loup 23; Dannebrog 12, Palmer 21; Comstock 35, Westerville 8; Arcadia 37, Burwell 21; Loup City 20, Lexington 27; St. Paul 15, Lincoln Reserves 23.

Arcadia Cagers Win

3 from Burwell Teams

Arcadia—(Special)—With Crist, Harding and Marvel in starring roles, the high school first team Friday evening defeated Burwell, 33 to 17, and thereby served notice that they will be stiff competition in the conference basketball race this season. Two other Arcadia teams also won over Burwell, the high school second team winning and also the town team. Score of the town team game was 29 to 26. Coach Kiell, of Burwell, was the star of his team while Waddell, Creech and Harris looked best for Arcadia.

In the first half of the game between high school first teams, a new method of officiating was tried. This new method, authorized by the L. V. H. S. A. recently, had the referee suspended over the floor so that he might be in better position to see fouls. It was agreed to try the plan in several regular games and, if successful, it is to be used at the tournament.

This method worked fairly well Friday evening, except on fouls occurring in far corners. A second official on the floor tosses up the ball and also may call fouls. The plan will be tried again later.

—Recently Archie Keep, who had been a member of the Ord fire department for more than 23 years was put on the honorary list.

The Persian Kitten

(Associated Newspapers.)
(WNU Service.)

SUSAN put down the curt letter with a stunned look on her face. She had thought her cup of troubles full when the bulk of her money had been lost in the disastrous investment that her son had insisted on making.

Since that failure she had been obliged to cut off many of her usual comforts and she was no longer young. She had her cottage and a small monthly income and that was about all.

Jerry, contrite at the result of his meddling, had been sending her $10 a month. He earned $200 in the city and he conveyed to her the impression of being extremely generous when he wrote the note that accompanied the check he sent her every month.

Now he was about to be married and he could—or would—no longer send her anything. "You ought to be able to manage with what you have. Marcia thinks you have quite a bit for just one person, mother. And, for goodness' sake, let up on the pet cats. They use too much milk. Marcia dislikes cats extremely. If we decide to visit you you must not have one about. Don't forget."

In that moment Susan's world seemed a topsy-turvy place of false values. Jerry seemed to have turned, almost overnight, from a gay, freckled and impulsive lad into a stranger who ordered her to give up her little animals.

Susan dropped the knitting that was becoming almost impossible because of her age-stiffened fingers. In the patch of sunshine on the hooked rug she had made lay an old scarlet ball. The once gay color was now a grayish-rose and the ball was one that Jerry had possessed. Susan wasn't looking at the Persian kitten that rolled the ball with playful paws and pretended fear when it approached her.

The old lady saw, instead, a fat infant with unsteady steps holding out his hands for help.

Well, Jerry was a man now approaching middle age. He no longer needed her. He was taking to himself a young and modern wife and—Susan was ordered to give up her dumb little companions. There must be some way. Before her daughter, Polly, died she had had some one to help her think. Polly had ideas and good ones. "You can find the answer to almost any question in the daily papers, mother. A glance through the want ads opens many unthought of avenues. Why don't you ever read them?"

"I wonder," pondered Susan, wishing with the old poignant ache that Polly had not left her alone. Polly, the beloved one, gone and Jerry—she brushed away a tear—thoughts like that were useless, they led nowhere.

"And," she muttered, unfolding a paper from the nearby city, "Jerry has no idea that I've got seven cats here now because some of my friends are away on vacations."

In the column of advertisements devoted to cats and dogs, Susan found her answer.

"Wanted—A place in the country where I can leave my pedigreed Angora cat for three months while abroad. Only cat lovers need apply. Price no object. Write or telephone. Mrs. James Jerrold, No. X, Walton place."

A few days later Jerry arrived. "I've been thinking over things, mother. How would you like to sell your cottage and enter a nice home for old ladies?"

Susan reached down and picked up her pet kitten. "Not at all," she said calmly. "Look, Jerry, this is a real Persian."

"Oh, well," he looked somewhat ashamed, but he'd plainly been sent out to push the proposition home. "Of course it's as you like. You see, Marcia won't keep house—that's why—"

"Why are you worrying about me, son? You don't need to. I'm making money and expect to make more."

"Not if you harbor all the cats of folks who go away and let you hold the bag," he exclaimed.

"The cat is out of the bag," Susan smiled. "Remember that old story of the king of the Persians who lacked guns when unexpectedly attacked by foes? How he sent his soldiers into every alley and byway to gather up stray cats and then advanced on his enemy, each soldier holding his cat behind him until the signal, when the snarling biting animal was flung full into the faces of the astounded foes. Well, I've turned my odd fancy for cats into an asset."

"Asset for the milkman, I suppose," he said puzzled.

"No, Jerry. I've sent in a standing advertisement for a city newspaper to carry and I assure you I'm not belittling myself by giving my care too cheaply—"

"Mother, do you feel real well? A standing advertisement in a city paper? Who's to pay for all this? I can't. Marcia isn't satisfied now with what I can give her."

"Thanks, dear. I'm feeling fine. I've flung my cats into the face of poverty, and Jerry. I've got an income right now. I board cats when folks want to go abroad or on vacations and—I stop to love to see the breed."

Music Hath Charms

ROGER BROWN'S face was puzzled and he did not, as usual, pause at the end of the street to wave to his wife. "She actually seems to try to think up ways to spend money," he thought grimly, "music! What nonsense! She wanted a house and I bought her one, now she's got to be satisfied."

At the station he bought a paper and paid 75 cents for two high-class magazines, but he did not read. Instead he stared moodily at the flying landscape.

"A wonderful morning, Brown," said a tired looking man of 35 years, his eyes upon a cottage with a steep tiled roof of Chinese blue. "I suppose this is an old story to you, but to me, after the dusty years in the city, it seems a miracle of beauty. You've lived here ten years, haven't you?"

"Yes," Roger's tone was filled with importance. "You see, my wife was determined to get out of flat-life. She saved and scrimped, so determined was she to put every penny towards a home. I like to live well. I earn the money and I propose to spend it. She watched the advertisements and ran about constantly wearing the shabbiest of clothes," Roger's fat face was petulant. "And finally she found our present home. I wasn't a bit anxious to tie myself up with payments and I hated to be far from the downtown theaters, but I gave in to her. I believe in being good to women and—"

Ben Miller looked at him in surprise. "But, aren't you glad that she coaxed you into buying? Your house must be worth much more than you paid for it?"

"It's doubled," returned Roger smugly. "And the children have improved vastly in the fresh air and freedom to play. I'm saving a tidy sum each month now that I've no rent to pay. I often tell Susie it's lucky for her that she got such a good provider."

"But if she hadn't scrimped you'd have still been paying rent."

"Oh, that's a woman's place to save. She's getting extravagant, too. She's determined to have a radio. Says the children like music. I laughed at her but I really felt like scolding her."

Across the aisle were two women talking in high, affected voices. "Yes, indeed," shrieked the one nearest the window, "I just told him to get down to earth. He thought if we spent Sunday in the suburbs I'd be interested in flowers and pets and all that and let him buy a house there and have Ethelinda home from school. Not me! Let the girl stay in boarding-school, where other people look after her. I want to be in my cozy flat, where there's no responsibility. I'm out every night somewhere, but he thinks just because he's on the road that I ought to sit in the house knitting."

"I should say not," returned the other, looking at herself critically in the mirror in the top of her square purse. "Ralph thought I ought to pay only $100 for my spring suit; said that was more than he could afford. Know what I did?"

"What?" queried the other, giggling and shifting her gum.

"Thanked him for the hundred, bought one that cost $175 and charged it. How's that for managing?"

"The old days of sitting at home saving and sewing have passed. I work half-days downtown and get my own money. My husband hates it, and wants me to stay home and live on his salary, but why should I? This way I use all his money for our expenses and have my own for pocket money, and then I can always tell him that I earn my living. If I kept Ethelinda home I'd be tied down constantly. He pays her school bills, so I should worry?"

"Did you hear those women, Miller?" whispered Roger.

"I was mighty thankful when my wife consented to help me save so we could get a start. If we'd started a home when we were first married we would have it paid for now, but I liked to see her wear pretty things and enjoy herself. It was my fault," Miller put in loyally, but his companion noticed the worry lines about his eyes and the dispirited droop of his thin shoulders.

"Now she's delighted with her little house."

"My wife wants a radio," murmured Roger forgetting that he had said this before.

Roger thought of the gold-banded cigars in his case. Susie, now that their house was paid for, never commented on his expensive habits. He frequently stayed in town to go to theaters with his clients. He thought, too, of the $100 suit so glibly called "cheap" by the overdressed woman across the aisle. "Why, my wife never paid $100 for a suit in her life," he said, scowling at Ben.

"You're a lucky man. A man's wife makes or breaks him. If a radio will make Mrs. Brown contented don't you think it's a small matter? Giving the children the best in life is fine. Think of poor Ethelinda," he added in a whisper, glancing toward the gum-chewer in her gaudy hat.

"Poor Ethelinda is right," chuckled Roger, suddenly complacent. He had just thought of a way to get out of his predicament.

LOLA MEEHAN shook her shiny black head sadly but firmly. "There's no use talking, Tommy. To him I'm just a secretary. All he ever says to me is 'Take a letter. What I need is glamor!'"

"Gee, Lola—" Tommy looked down at her importantly over his basket of mail—"if you want that guy, you're pretty enough to do something about it."

They were talking about the boss, T. Wallington Bradford. Wallie to some of them, including Lola, who never really said it though she thought it pretty consistently. Tommy the office boy, of all people, understood. Right now there was conniving in his young blue eyes.

"Say, how about those passes to the circus? Do I get 'em?" "Didn't I promise?"

"Sure. Well, then—" he moved toward the door. "Guess I'll be going along to the post office."

When Lola came out of the boss' office an hour later with about ten letters to get out before five o'clock, she found a long white box on her desk. Flowers. She stared in a daze at the card. "Thanks in advance for the passes," it said. She was still staring at it when T. Wallington Bradford approached a minute later.

"Birthday?" he inquired politely. "No—that is, yes—" Lola jammed the cover down somehow. "Almost, anyway. It's—its next month."

He thrust his hands into his pockets. There was amusement in his "Oh." Lola blushed, for he was actually looking at her, curiously, for the first time.

"Sa-ay—" and Lola thrilled to the note of alarm in his voice. "You wouldn't run out on me, would you? Get married, I mean."

It was something to tell Tommy when he stopped at her desk the next day. "But you shouldn't have spent the money, Tommy," she said.

"It was worth it. Anyway, that was my circus dollar and now you've given me the passes I don't need it."

"What do you mean, Tommy Lind?"

"I mean a dollar ain't much to gamble. Course it's up to you." Tommy stared hard at Cross and Bradford's prettiest stenographer. "Maybe you've changed your mind. Maybe you feel he ain't worth it."

Lola reached into her bag, drew out a crisp green bill. "You mean 'isn't' Tommy, not 'ain't,'" she said reprovingly as she thrust the money into his outstretched hand.

This time the flowers came while the boss was out. When he came in Lola was afraid he didn't see them. He hardly glanced her way. But he called to her a minute later.

"Well, whose birthday is it this time? His?" He grinned. It was a determined attempt, but, nevertheless, a grin. Lola felt suddenly foolish, receiving flowers at the office.

"Hasn't he raised your salary so you wouldn't leave him?" Tommy pointed out to her several days later.

"Yes, but—" "Hasn't he had your desk moved so he can look out at you?"

"That wasn't his reason. This is more convenient."

"Says you!" Tommy moved away disgustedly. "The trouble with you is, you're ungrateful." He was back a minute later with a long white box. Lola just glared at him.

"Tommy, how dare'd you?" "I didn't, Lola, honestly. This box was out in the reception room and Helen told me to bring it in to you."

"Lola!" T. Wallington Bradford's voice cut the air like a knife. Lola jumped. This was the end, she knew.

"Lola, about the flowers—" T. Wallington Bradford got up from his desk, moved with long firm steps to the door, closed it on the curious eyes in the outer office. "Lola, I—"

He was standing over her now, almost commanding her to look at him. Lola lifted dazed cheeks.

"Honestly, Mr. Bradford, I don't even know who sent them—" She broke off in surprise. The boss' eyes weren't the least bit angry. In fact, they were searching hers, almost frantically.

"Lola—what I mean is—well—I hope you like them!"

Multitudes of Mackerel
Scientists who have made scientific collections on the spawning grounds have calculated there may be as many as 500,000,000 mackerel eggs floating on a single square mile of surface at one time. The principal spawning grounds of this fish are about 25,000 square miles. In that area there are often as many as 160 trillion eggs. Prolific as it is, the mackerel has very little chance of living to a ripe old age. In 1932, from the time the eggs were spawned until the end of the larval life, or about 11 weeks, the mortality amounted to 99.9996 per cent. That means that for every million eggs spawned, only four young mackerel were alive at the end of 11 weeks. Under the unusual conditions of 1932, a baby mackerel has an average life expectancy of about 27 seconds as a life insurance company might reckon it.

HIDES AND FURS.

Prices for both Beef and Horse hides are very good at present and our prices are so high that you cannot take a chance on shipping them. Most of the time our prices are considerable better than net prices after shipping charges and dockages are taken out.

FURS.

As all fur houses tell you the fur market is by far the worst that it has been this season but we have a good outlet for prime furs and are paying the highest cash price. Try other buyers first and then sell your hides to us. It will pay you.

County Clerk Klima Gives 1939 Report

For the benefit of all who are interested, Ign. Klima, county clerk has made out the following report of instruments filed for 1939, and also a list of those filed in the same class during the years 1912 and 1932. The comparison of these should be of interest, not only to show how the number has increased but also to show how much the work in the office has increased.

In the following paragraphs three sets of figures are given, the first for the year 1912, the second for the year 1932, and the third for the past year. Mr. Klima has them tabulated in his list which is the preferred form but difficult for printing.

Farm mortgages filed and recorded, 253, 139, 52; city real estate mortgages filed and recorded, 121, 59, 23; farm mortgages releases recorded, 231, 135, 104; city mortgage releases recorded, 101, 62, 36; warranty and quit claim deeds recorded, 411, 326, 270; extensions of mortgages recorded, 0, 0, 39; miscellaneous land papers, etc., recorded, 219, 191, 266; total real estate instruments, 1336, 912, 795.

Notice of foreclosure, 0, 70, 26; irrigation water contracts and easements, 0, 0, 96; colt liens, 0, 10, 56; chattel mortgages filed, 565, 1673, 2644; total number of instruments handled through records, 2349, 5160, 7247.

Over 3000 certificates of filing of chattel mortgages were issued during 1939. Titles for all government seed and feed loans were examined and certified. 129 official (township and school officers) bonds were filed and or recorded during 1939. 442 automobile certificates of title were compiled and issued.

The following claims against the county were prepared, filed, audited, registered and presented to the board of supervisors, and war to claimants:

General fund, 1932, 1457 claims, 1536 warrants; 1939, 880 claims, 729 warrants; road fund, 1932, 732 claims, 773 warrants; 1939, 397 claims, 317 warrants; bridge fund, 1932, 144 claims, 133 warrants; 1939, 103 claims, 101 warrants.

In the following three classifications there were no claims or warrants in 1932, the figures given applying to the year 1939: unemployment relief fund, 158 claims, 935 warrants; state assistance administrative, 71 claims, 71 warrants; old age assistance, ADC and blind, 2892 claims, 2892 warrants.

The office also performed all duties incidental to the administration of the county budget and accounting laws.

—Mr. and Mrs. Bob Noll drove to Lincoln today to attend a state meeting of the Nebraska Seed Dealers' association. Two state men were to be in attendance to explain the new federal seed law.

Budget of $102,160 For Coming Year Approved by Board

1940 Expenditures to Be About Same As in 1939, Election Cost Added.

A total of $102,160 will be required for the operation of Valley county during 1940, according to the budget approved Friday by the Valley county board of supervisors. Of this total the general fund comprises $46,010. Not the entire amount of the budget must be raised by taxation, as fees earned by county officers and certain revenues from other sources offset the total.

The total proposed expenditures for 1940 are approximately the same as for 1939, with the exception of one item, election expense. A total of $3,460 is budgeted for the primary and general elections which come this year. No elections were held in 1939.

Under the Nebraska budget law, the board of supervisors at its January meeting each year is required to approve a budget showing the maximum that may be spent for every county purpose during the coming year. Henceforth the budget may be lowered but cannot be increased in any fund.

J. H. Klina, Jr., is budget-making authority for Valley county. Budget appropriations for the various Valley county offices, all included in the general fund total, are as follows: County board, $4,200; county clerk, $4,975; county treasurer, $5,345; county assessor, $3,500; county surveyor, $1,900; county attorney, $1,620; county superintendent, $3,600; county auditor, $1,750.

In each instance this amount provides for the salary of the elective officer and of his assistants and also for all supplies and general expense connected with the office. In the case of the county surveyor, who does not draw an annual salary but works on a per diem basis, $1,900 is estimated because the law requires the county to locate corners for state right-of-way and since considerable highway work is in progress this coming year the cost of this will be somewhat greater than usual.

For the care of buildings and grounds the budget includes an item of $3,520; for electric, $3,460; for judicial purposes, $2,500; for the district court, $200 for costs in county cases and $2,535 for the county court. The $200 estimate of costs already is exceeded because of the Hiner case. In most years, $200 is ample for this purpose.

For protection of persons and property an item of $1,750 for the sheriff's office is provided; also $650 for the jail and $100 for miscellaneous federal agencies.

An item of $1,100 for payment of the paving bonds is provided. This is the last installment due on these bonds and henceforth this item may be discontinued.

Other general fund items budgeted are $200 for care of feeble minded persons, $200 for bounties, $600 for advertising tax sales, $500 for printing and publishing, $45 for compensation insurance and $500 for right-of-way.

Senator Doyle Makes Front Page in Barrel

Senator J. F. (Jack) Doyle made the front page on the papers last week, and in a barrel. The senator was never a stickler for conventionality, and when one of his fellow senators dared him to appear on the floor of the legislature in a barrel, he did just that.

It is claimed that he got some of Nebraska's petroleum on his suit when he went with the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce to inspect the new well at Falls City. On the way home he remarked that he was "One Suit Doyle," and that he might have to wear a barrel while his suit was being cleaned. This led to the dare, and Doyle actually went through with it.

Milk Cows Average $80 at Smith Sale

Holstein dairy cows selling at Earl Smith's public sale Tuesday averaged $80, reported Auctioneer M. B. Cummins this morning, and the whole sale was one of the best ever held here. Buyers were present from Angella to Scotia and all points between. Top cow brought $95 and the low cow brought $67. Mr. Cummins says the average was $25 to $30 higher than dairy cows bring at the average farm sale.

Mr. Smith's advertising was prepared by a Quiz ad which had the advantage of "guaranteed weather." Tuesday was a perfect day for the sale but had it been scheduled for today the storm would have compelled postponement.

Two Women Named For Jury Service

For the first time in Valley county history, women were named for jury service for the spring term. Two women, Mrs. Jerry Petska and Mrs. W. E. Lincoln, both from the 1st ward of Ord city, were named by Supervisor Henry Zikmund. Should their names be drawn, the women might even serve on the jury at the Marion L. Hiner trial scheduled to be held this spring.

Although women have been eligible for jury service ever since the 19th amendment giving women suffrage was passed, no woman has ever served on a jury in this county.

Durfee Visits Ord, Board Discusses Relief Situation

What to Do When County Runs Out of Funds is Worried; 2 Employees "Strike."

The relief situation in Valley county got an airing last week when Norman Durfee, of Lincoln, assistant state assistance director, visited Ord and met with the county board of supervisors. Almost a day was devoted to the discussion, which resulted in adoption of a relief department budget, pruned by supervisors from $21,325 as requested by Relief Director Frank Kruml to the sum of $15,735.

The budget submitted for his office by the relief director estimated 1940 direct relief needs at $15,000 and asked $6,325 for administrative expense. This latter item was cut to $735 in the budget finally approved, and the balance of administrative costs will be paid out of state-federal funds.

Relief Director Kruml was reappointed to office by the votes of six supervisors, with Ball not voting, and will receive $1,800 plus mileage in 1940, this being the same amount paid him in 1939.

Only $30 of Kruml's monthly salary is paid by Valley county, balance coming out of the state-federal funds because 31 per cent of his time is devoted to administration of the social security program and only 19 per cent to handling direct relief.

Two employees in the relief office, the Misses Artice Zikmund and Viola Puncocar, were unsuccessful in their requests for larger salaries. Miss Zikmund received $50 monthly last year and Miss Puncocar $45. By motion of the board these salaries were cut to $35 each but the girls refused to accept the cut and the board later reconsidered and raised Miss Zikmund to $60 monthly and Miss Puncocar to $45. A roll call vote on a motion to raise their salaries was passed 6 to 1 with Ball voting "no."

The whole relief situation is a vexing one to supervisors and Mr. Durfee agreed that Valley county's problem is "critical." With a $9,500 deficit in the relief fund now, and the levy for relief purposes limited to 1 mill by statute, the county cannot hope to raise enough money to pay direct relief costs during 1940. Present valuation for the county is $13,700,000 but real estate will be raised this spring and a reduction is almost certain. Not more than $12,000 can be raised, in all probability, even if all taxes were to be paid, and the present deficit eats up most of this.

Supervisors quizzed Durfee as to what, if anything, the state and federal social security and relief agencies can do if Valley county runs out of money for direct relief and can raise no more. He stated there is not a penny of money available for direct relief except as raised by taxation by the counties themselves. State and federal funds are available only for old age, aid to dependent children and aid to blind under the present laws, he explained.

Mr. Durfee outlined a new program under which surplus commodities may be used for either cold or hot school lunches in both rural and city schools. A WPA project may be set up to handle distribution and preparation of these school lunches, he said. Director Kruml will investigate provisions of this program and try to set up such a project in Valley county.

Valley county supervisors adjourned Friday after spending four days on reorganization, adoption of a budget, discussion of relief and settlement of routine matters. At their closing session they reappointed Tracy Hamilton as county road and bridge foreman, with authority to hire an office assistant at salary of not to exceed $45 per month. The Quiz was made the official county newspaper.

Complete board proceedings will be printed next week.

Ralph E. Brownell Buys B.B. Creamery Is Leaving Burwell

Helped Organize Butter Factory in 1916 and Active in Community Affairs.

Burwell—(Special)—Ralph E. Brownell, prominent Burwell citizen who has been manager of the Burwell butter factory ever since it started with the exception of three years, bought the creamery at Broken Bow Saturday and plans to move there with his wife and son within a month or six weeks.

Mr. Brownell has spent all of his life in Burwell. He was instrumental in organizing the Burwell butter factory in 1916. From 1918 to 1921 he operated a farm near Burwell but with the exception of these years he has been employed as manager of the butter factory ever since it commenced operations. The creamery which he purchased at Broken Bow is a cooperative which failed and has been closed for over a year.

Within a short time Mr. Brownell expects to resign as manager of the butter factory and the Burwell Independent Oil company. The butter factory is Burwell's largest business concern. It employs on the average of eight people the year round and many more during the busier seasons. It has been a very successful enterprise paying a large dividend to its stockholders and a rebate to its patrons.

Mr. Brownell has always taken an active part in the civic and community activities of Burwell. He is at present "boss" of the Wranglers club, a member of the North Loup valley irrigation board, a member of the board of directors of the Central Nebraska Beet Growers association, secretary of the depositors committee of the failed banks and a director of the adult education association.

He was one of the original members of the board of directors of the Garfield County Frontier Fair association and has taken an active part in the promotion of Nebraska's Big Rodeo. He is a past master of the Masonic lodge and a former member of the village board.

No successor to Mr. Brownell has been named. The responsibility of selecting a man to replace him rests with the directors of the Burwell butter factory, F. J. Grunke, Meyer, John Wittsche, F. D. Cariker, E. V. Holloway, John Penas, Frank Hullusky and Mr. Brownell. Mr. Brownell stated that he would resign all of his offices and duties in Burwell with the exception of his place on the board of directors of the butter factory. He stated that he would always maintain a deep interest in butter factory and other Burwell organizations and that he would drive over to Burwell whenever he could be of any service.

$160,000 Coming in Soil Conservation Payment in County

With $90,000 Parity Payments Already Made, Total 1939 Benefits About $250,000.

Any day now checks totalling approximately $160,000 should reach Valley county farmers who cooperated in the 1939 soil conservation program, said Carl C. Dale, county agricultural agent, this morning. Applications for payment were signed up and forwarded to Lincoln some time ago and the payments may arrive at any time.

With parity payments already received here, Valley county's total benefits from the soil conservation program last year will total about $250,000. The parity payments on wheat and corn reached $90,000.

About 1,600 farms were included in the 1939 program. Percentage of cooperation was 90 per cent. Valley county could have qualified for about $75,000 in additional payments had all soil building requirements such as planting alfalfa and sweet clover been fully carried out. Drought conditions made this impracticable in many instances.

Preliminary work on the 1940 program is in progress now, said Mr. Dale.

Order Extra Copies of Letterbox Edition

The response to the Quiz proposal to publish a Letterbox Edition containing letters from old-time residents of Ord was heartily received and the edition will be printed next week, Jan. 24. It will contain about two pages of letters and pictures sent by former Valley county residents.

People wishing extra copies of this edition may secure them at 5c each by ordering in advance but the orders must be received by Tuesday, Jan. 23, as only the regular number of copies plus advance orders will be printed.

Rotarians Met Monday Eve at Ed Beranek's Bed-side, Preserved His 15-year Record for Steady Attendance

It takes more than an operation for appendicitis to mar Ed F. Beranek's 15-year record of steady attendance at meetings of the Ord Rotary club. On Monday, Jan. 8, he attended Rotary, then entered the Clinch hospital for the operation. Well on his way to recovery a week later, but still unable to attend the Rotary club meeting at Kepp's cafe, Ed was greeted in his hospital room by the whole membership of the Rotary club, who adjourned their meeting and went to the hospital in a group so Ed's record would remain perfect. In the picture above as could crowd around Ed's bed are shown extending the hand of fellowship to him and wishing him a speedy recovery. Left to right in the picture are Lyle Milliken, President C. C. Thompson, J. R. Stoltz, Dr. C. W. Weekes, Dr. F. A. Barta, E. L. Vogeltanz, J. D. McCall and Frank Lee. Other Rotarians were in back of the camera.

Ord Republicans Seek Election As Nat'l Delegates

Would Represent 5th District at Republican Convention Held Next Summer.

Two Ord republicans this week tossed their hats into the race for delegates to the national republican convention, representing the 5th district. The men are Clarence M. Davis, who began Monday circulating petitions to put his name on the ballot as a candidate for delegate. Tuesday petitions were placed in circulation for A. B. Wood, of Gering, and Lloyd Kalin, of Lexington, as candidates for delegates, John P. Misko, of Ord, and Mrs. Emma J. Veach, of Rushville, as candidates for alternate delegates. All four names appear on one petition.

Voting takes place at the primary election April 9. Two delegates and two alternates are chosen in each congressional district.

Miehle Cylinder Press Installed by The Quiz

W. P. McDonald, a representative of the American Type Founders Co., of Des Moines, was in Ord four days last week installing a new No. 1-P Miehle cylinder press bought by The Quiz. The press was trucked here from Des Moines by the Gales Transfer, Bud Wemer, driver, assisting in unloading the press and in loading the Chandler & Price automatic platen press disposed of by The Quiz in the deal.

The new Miehle will be used by The Quiz for ordinance book and high school annual printing; in fact, for high class commercial printing of all kinds. In combination with Chandler & Price platen and Whitlock cylinder presses already in use, the new Miehle gives The Quiz splendid facilities for handling all types of fine printing.

WPA Sewing Room Will Be Moved This Week

The WPA sewing room will be moved the latter part of this week from its present location on 15th street one block straight west to the north room of the Keown building on 16th street, according to information furnished by Mrs. Katie Long, who is in charge of the sewing room.

A tentative deal was made for the room some time ago and final approval was given the first of the week. Necessary shelving is being put in place and the room will soon be ready for occupancy. This room has several advantages, among them being less cost for heating and lessened fire risk, which is an important item when clothing is considered.

Adult Education Meeting in Kearney

The first annual conference of the Nebraska Association of Adult Education will be held at the Fort Kearney hotel in Kearney starting at 9 a. m. Friday, Jan. 19 and lasting all day. The Quiz is notified by E. M. Hosman, of Omaha, once superintendent of Ord schools and now director of adult education at the University of Omaha. Ord people interested in the movement are invited to attend this conference with a view of getting the movement started in Ord. Mrs. Ben Rose, of Burwell, is a member of the conference committee.

Burwell Woman Died At Noon Yesterday

Following a long period of illness, Mrs. James Cech of Burwell passed away at her home in Burwell yesterday at the age of 69 years. She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. Joe Prince, Mrs. Vincent Vodehnal and another living in the old county, and by two brothers, Frank Janovec, of Monterey, Calif., and another also in the old county.

The sisters here were able to help take care of Mrs. Cech during her last illness, and Mr. Janovec arrived a short time before her death. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Tuesday, afternoon, from the home at 1 p. m., and from the Congregational church an hour later, arrangements are in charge of Mitchell Bros. The full obituary will appear next week.

WPA Recreational Program Explained

A. J. Cochran, who supervises the recreational division of the Works Progress Administration in six central Nebraska counties with Ord as headquarters, was a guest of the Rotary club Monday evening and explained the work done by his division.

Both winter and summer recreational programs are carried out, he stated. The winter program includes ice skating rinks, supervision of games and play rooms in community centers, and craft rooms; in the summer outdoor play for children is arranged and supervised, swimming lessons are given and supervision provided at pools, hikes are supervised and many other activities carried out.

In this district a recreational project has been organized at the community building in Scotia, Cochran said. A skating pond on lots owned by the Catholic parish is being prepared in Ord.

Snow Storm Raging Now May Block All Roads

Shortly before 7:00 this morning snow began falling heavily in Ord and at noon 4 inches had fallen, according to Horace Travis, the official weather man for this city. The snow is general over the plains states and came from the Rocky Mountain area where a storm raged Tuesday. So far only a light wind is blowing and drifting is not yet serious but a strong wind would block all side roads and some of the main highways.

Today's snow is the only major precipitation during the past week. A few flakes of snow fell Saturday morning and eastern Nebraska had a bad storm. Some drifting of old snow was observed here and east of St. Paul highway equipment was kept busy all night Saturday and all day Sunday to keep the roads open.

Below-freezing temperatures prevailed until Monday and Tuesday when some thawing occurred. Temperature at noon today was about 10 above zero in Ord.

Brickner to Sell Jan. 22

Charlie Brickner is advertising a clean-up sale to be held next Monday, Jan. 22, and he has a nice lot of machinery and miscellaneous property listed in an ad in this issue. He is quitting farming but his future plans are uncertain, Charlie says.

Rabies Scare at B. B.

A rabies scare developed at Broken Bow last week when a dog owned by the Raymond Gishpert family was found to have the disease. The dog had not bitten anyone. Broken Bow dog owners are being notified to keep their pets in the house or on leash for the next thirty days.

Gus Schoenstein New Ford Dealer

By virtue of a deal closed Monday, Gus Schoenstein becomes sole proprietor of the Ford business in Ord, run for the past 17 months under the name of the McCullough Motor company, in the Frank Travis building at the southeast corner of 17th and M streets.

Mr. Schoenstein is no stranger to the Ord and Valley county public, as he came here as manager at the time the McCulloughs took over the business in August, 1938, and has held that position since that time, and it was largely through his efforts that the business has grown to its present size.

Before coming to Ord Mr. Schoenstein was employed by the McCuire Motor company of Grand Island for a long period, except the six months immediately preceding his arrival, during which time he was employed by the Ford agency at Kearney and had complete charge of the sales of new and used cars.

He will have the agency for Ford, Mercury and Lincoln Zephyr cars, and also used cars. Genuine Ford parts will be sold and used in the repair of cars in the shop in the rear, which will be run as in the past. The personnel of the force will remain the same, with Bill Lush as salesman, Paul Donnelly in charge of service, and Martin McGuire in charge of the shop. The new Ford dealer has made many warm friends since coming to Ord, and they will be pleased to hear that he has taken over the business.

Ord Man Reports 1939 Good Year for Business

Arthur Auble, statistician for the University of Nebraska, in a report recently issued, stated that business activity in Nebraska at the close of 1939 was the best reported since June, 1930. The report, made public on Jan. 10, showed business 3% above 1938. With 100 as a preliminary index, the following figures were shown:

The index for December was 117.3, for November, 117.7, and for October, 110. Bank deposits showed 103.3 in 1938 and 112.9 in 1939. Department store sales showed 92.1 in 1938 and 102 in 1939. Postal receipts increased from 103.8 in 1938 to 108.6 in 1939, and building construction showed an increase from 158.8 in 1938 to 182.8 in 1939.

Miss Evelyn Kosch Is Selected As Teacher

The Ord school board has selected Miss Evelyn Kosch to fill the vacancy in the 5th and 6th grades here caused by the resignation of Miss Elaine Donahy, who went to McCook last week. Miss Kosch was teacher of the 4th and 5th grades in the North Loup schools. She has had 10 years experience, 4 in the schools of Farwell and 6 at North Loup. Her home is in Farwell.

Ice Harvest Begins at North Loup Bayou

North Loup—(Special)—Harvesting of ice began Tuesday at the bayou east of town with Bud Beebe doing the cutting and Clifford Hawkes in charge of filling the big community ice house. The ice is about 10 inches thick and very clear, of much higher quality than the ice put up last season. Ice cutting will be in progress several days if the cold weather continues.

Marion Hiner To District Court On Serious Charge

Eloped with Ord Girl Friday Afternoon, Now Faces Charge of Statutory Rape.

Marion L. Hiner, 43, well known Ord eccentric and former inmate of the asylum at Ingleside, satisfied his flare for the spectacular Friday when he picked up Mary Sowers, 16 year old high school girl, at the school house and left town with Missouri as his destination.

His elopement plans were cut short that evening when he was apprehended near Union, Nebr., by Officers Shearer and Casey of the state highway patrol, upon information furnished by R. O. Williams of Lincoln. Williams had heard the story broadcast shortly after 3 p. m., and an hour later he noticed the car going east on highway No. 30 near Elmwood.

The pair had been stopped earlier in the evening near Uteka by a patrolman, who noticed that Hiner's tail light was out, but the patrolman did not then know that they were wanted and permitted them to continue. They were returned to Grand Island by the patrol, and Sheriff Round and Deputy Cohen went there and brought them to Ord.

As is well known in Ord, the Sowers girl is a midget, being only about 30 inches tall. For some time Hiner boarded at the Sowers home, but the girl's parents told him to leave when they noticed his attentions to the girl.

He had doubtless had the idea in mind for some time, and was merely awaiting a suitable opportunity. He is a World War veteran and pensioner, and received his January check Friday morning. He got a hair cut and shave, some new clothes, and then bought the coupe from the Ord Auto Sales company, for which he secured numbers at the county treasurer's office.

Hiner was lodged in the Valley county jail when returned to Ord, and the girl was returned to her parents. The hearing on the case was set for 1 p. m. Monday and meanwhile the authorities conferred as to what disposition should be made of the case. While he had been in the asylum at Hastings, his actions before and during the elopement could hardly be classed as those of a crazy man, since they were carefully planned.

Monday Sheriff Round, Deputy Cohen and Marshal Covert found plenty amiss when they went up to the jail. They found the lock jammed and the door barricaded. The lock had to be removed from the door before they could get in. They found Hiner lying on the floor inside in his underwear, and apparently asleep or unconscious.

Dr. John Round was called, and he stated that Hiner was "playing possum," and proved it by touching a nerve, whereupon he came out of it at once. When found he had pulled the leg off a table and had it in his hands, his intention apparently being to attack the sheriff if he came alone. However, when he realized that the sheriff was not alone, he offered no resistance.

An examination of the jail showed that he had broken two windows and set fire to the paper in the waste paper basket, and also to some rags in a corner, probably with the intention of attracting attention and getting the door unlocked. He had a box of snuff and chewed up a mouthful of this and slobbered it over himself, probably for the purpose of adding to the impression that he was crazy.

Monday at 1 p. m. Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Sowers and their daughter were called into a conference with the officials, and as a result of that inquiry it was decided to charge Hiner with statutory rape and hold him for district court. Because of the damage done to the jail it was decided to take him to Lincoln for safe keeping until the time of the trial.

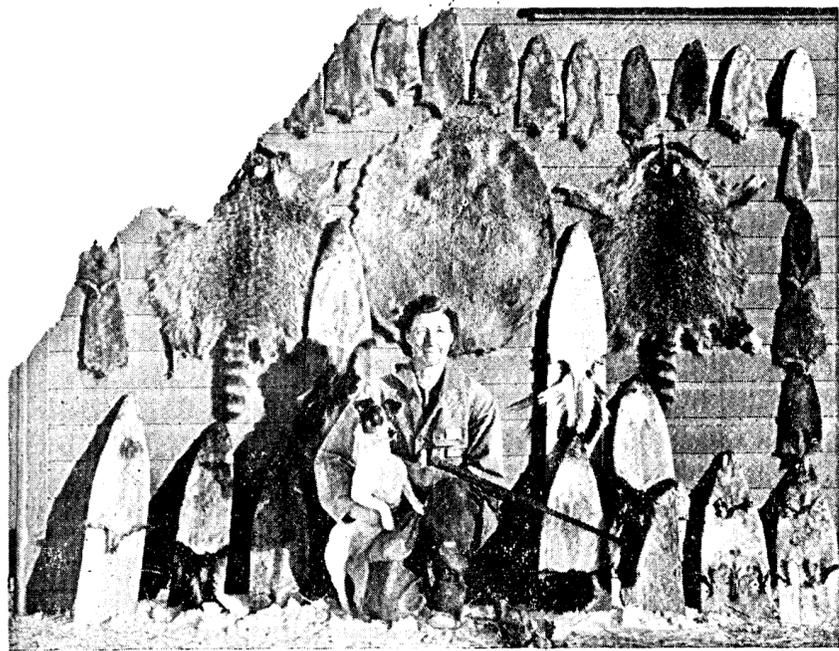

The preliminary hearing was held in the jail, with John Misko, county attorney, appearing for the state. Hiner insisted on having an attorney, and named a Mr. Johnson of St. Paul as the man he wanted. Misko called Mr. Johnson who refused to act for Hiner, and the hearing proceeded without him. After asking a number of questions he decided to plead not guilty.

Hiner objected strenuously to going, and was taken away by Officers Cohen and Covert after having been thoroughly trussed up to avoid any unpleasantness along the highway. Archie Keep went with them and will drive the Hiner car back which was left at Lincoln and upon which the Ord Auto Sales company has a mortgage.

Pleasant and Profitable

Miss Annie C. Thompson of Springdale is shown above with the results of her first season of trapping. She got started in the business because of the depredations of skunks, who were catching her chickens. This gave her the idea of making it a business enterprise. During December she had 40 traps set and she visited them twice each day. This took only about two hours each time, as she had them conveniently grouped.

Her companion on these trips was the 5 year old dashhound, Rags who appears in the picture. She used no special sets, but studied the runs made by the animals and set her traps accordingly. The prize of her collection was a 42 pound beaver, round hide above, and the two raccoon pelts, one on each side. She also caught 22 muskrat, 5 skunk and 5 opossum, the total value of the catch being about $50.

the other she is displaying the beaver she caught.

In a recent movie contest sponsored by the Nebraska State Journal Miss Beverly Davis of Ord won one of the smaller prizes, as did also Judge B. A. Rose of Burwell.

Ivory and Black

By ROSE MANDERS

(Associated Newspapers.) (WNU Service.)

THE young manager of the gown shop looked about the display-room with knitted brows.

Daphne, the model, giggled. "The boss is grouchy about something, Irene. Better not sit down." Irene, smoothing the frill on a gown that had just been tried on, looked up. Daphne was certainly lovely. At that moment Jim Carlson saw them talking.

"Please keep at work, Miss Irene," he snapped. "The overhead here is getting beyond reason. Have you stitched the fur on that rest gown yet?"

Irene shook her head. "I can do that now," she replied.

"Do so." He looked at Daphne, who was now gliding before a mirror in a sinuous wrap faced with ermine. "That's a good idea," he praised, "show off the goods and attract attention, Miss Daphne. That wrap makes you look like a queen."

Irene found that her vision was blurred by a mist of tears, and she bent over her stitching. She wasn't envious of Daphne's beauty—at least she didn't want to be, she thought, would have liked to swim about in the exquisite creations that so enhanced the model's fragile prettiness. "How I'd love to try on that scarlet chiffon," thought Irene, "and the black feather cape. I'd look a bit different."

But Irene might as well have wished to have the sun bend down suddenly and hand her a bit of magic fire, for Daphne was the princess of the showroom and she only wore the lustrous silk underthings and the imported gowns. And Jim, the man Irene secretly adored, looked at the outer husk of Daphne and admired her.

"This turquoise velvet must be marked down. The sun has faded it. Take $20 off it and hang it on the rack, Miss Irene, and put the rose and gold satin in the window."

Irene obeyed. Then she stood a moment in the great show-window looking at each garment in the display. She was thinking deeply and failed to notice that a man had paused outside and was staring at her. It wasn't until Daphne's high voice shrieked out that she started.

"Look at Irene, Mr. Carlson. She's trying to cut me out as a mannikin, I guess. She oughtn't to be there in that serge frock. She ruins our artistic picture, don't you think?"

"Come out of there," ordered Jim, "and help Miss Daphne into this transparent velvet."

As Irene followed Daphne to the little changing alcove Daphne glared at her. "Don't you try anything funny, Irene. That is my man out there and I won't have you posturing about to attract him."

"Mr. Carlson?" demanded Irene, amazed.

"No. The man in the street. He was watching you in the show-window. Jim Carlson is just about to fail. I'm leaving at the end of this week. I don't intend to wait until I have a salary due that I can't collect."

A young girl with her mother entered, and asked to see the scarlet chiffon dance frock. Jim was out and the slim little gown was too small for either of the other clerks. So Irene put it on.

Jim, hurrying in, paused. Irene, flushed with excitement, was moving indolently across the strip of velvet carpet, her dusky head shining above her white shoulders.

"We have a feathered wrap that looks well over this," Irene was saying. "It's lined with scarlet chiffon. Bring it, Mabs," she directed in her low, soft voice.

When the purchases were completed and the shoppers gone Jim looked at Irene as she emerged from the changing alcove in her blue serge gown with the snowy frills at neck and wrists. "You did wonderfully well to sell that outfit, Miss Irene. Funny I never noticed before how lovely he checked himself, flushing."

Irene felt a surge of joy. "Suppose you model instead of that blonde girl."

"Very well," said Irene, not troubling to tell him that Daphne was leaving in two days anyway. "Mr. Carlson, I've been thinking about the losses you stand because of window displays. Facing east, our window gets the sun and the awnings later in the season hide too much from the cars passing in the avenue. I believe you'd attract more attention if you followed the Japanese fashion of showing only one article. I'd enjoy trimming up your window if you are willing. Then only one gown or wrap is faded instead of ten or twelve."

"That's a good idea. Would you be willing to stay tonight and fix it up? We could go out and get a bite near here and come back."

When they returned Irene arranged a background of pale ivory and across a low gilt chair she arranged a sumptuous wrap of black transparent velvet. The effect was stunning, and there was nothing to be spoiled there.

Jim had at last awakened to the charm of his quiet little clerk and he watched her move about the window, fascinated. "Your chair effect is smart, but—you are the prettiest girl I ever saw, Irene. May I take you home?"

Crop Insurance Now On Sale In Valley County

Sale of "all-risk" crop insurance on the 1940 spring wheat crop is now under way in Valley county. Interested farmers may purchase insurance at the county ACP office or through their community AAA committees, it has been announced by Charles Veleba, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation committee.

The closing date for applications is Febr. 29. The investment in the crop insurance premium, Mr. Veleba pointed out, does not represent an added cost to the grower's farming operations, for in any event every grower must bear the cost of crop failures. "Crop insurance," he explained, "enables the wheat grower to spread the cost of failure over a period of years. His premium rate is calculated from actual losses that he has experienced during the base period of 13 or 20 years, depending upon the area. By maintaining his insurance over a representative number of years he will get back in crop insurance indemnities about as much as he pays in premiums."

"The main difference between the insured farmer and the farmer who doesn't insure is this: The insured farmer will get his wheat back when he needs it most—when his crop fails to produce 75 percent of the average. The uninsured farmer may have to pay all his cost of failure in the form of poor yields, in one or two years when his crop is badly damaged or wiped out. The insured grower," Mr. Veleba, concluded "may more easily weather two or three or more bad years, since he is sure of at least 75 percent of his average production every year."

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Katherine Edna Grey, daughter of David and Mary Kinney, was born Febr. 16, 1861 in Terrytown, N. Y. She passed away Jan. 7, 1940 at the home of her son, John Grey in Scranton, Pa., being almost 80 years of age. Married at the age of eighteen to C. B. Grey in Philadelphia, her home was in the east till 1905. For twenty-seven years the home has been in North Loup with brief absences. Since her husband's death in 1936, her daughter, Mrs. A. H. Brink, has made her home with her and cared for her during her falling health. Early in the fall in company with Mrs. Brink she went to Scranton, Pa., for a visit with her son and her falling health made it seem best to remain there where she passed quietly away early in the morning after many days of suffering. Always a member of the church, her membership in the Methodist church was taken out soon after coming to North Loup and maintained till the time of her death. Surviving are two daughters Mrs. Mable Brink of North Loup, Mrs. R. O. Cole of Petersburg, Pa., and one son John of Scranton, Pa., seven grandchildren, eight great grandchildren and one sister. The body was brought to North Loup Wednesday morning accompanied by Mrs. Brink and John Grey and funeral services were held from the Methodist church Thursday afternoon conducted by Rev. Andrew Olsen. The music was furnished by a mixed quartet, Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner, Mrs. Cloyd Ingerson, Roy Hudson and Deryl White, with Mrs. M. R. Cornell at the piano. Bearers were R. H. Knapp, W. H. Vodehnal, A. H. Jackman, C. V. Thomas, Harry Meyers and Elmer Howell. Burial was in Hillside cemetery by the side of her husband. Fraziers were in charge.

Mrs. A. H. Brink and John Grey arrived Wednesday morning from Scranton, Pa., accompanying their mother's body here. Mrs. W. Ludke, Mrs. Brink's daughter, Mr. Ludke and their two children of Paxton and Edwin Alvin Brink of Hastings were also present at the funeral. Members of the Missionary society of the Methodist church prepared and served dinner for the family at the home Thursday. Mrs. Earl Howell, assisted by others prepared the home which had been closed for some time, for their home coming. The Ludke family returned to their home on Sunday morning and Mr. Grey and Mrs. Brink plan to return to Scranton in a few days. Mrs. Brink has work there. Francis Grey, son of the John Grey's is employed in a saw mill as engineer. It will be remembered that the older son, Cecil was drowned a number of years ago.

Dorothy Campbell, with Evelyn Kosch as assistant hostess, entertained the B. P. W. club at the Campbell home Wednesday night. The evening was spent playing Pinochle, Mrs. Clifford Hawkes winning both the high score and the traveling prizes. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostesses. Favors were small table lamps made of candy. The club is purchasing two new books, Muttiny on the Bounty, and Pitcairn Island, for the memorial shelf of the North Loup library.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schudel were Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Redlon and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Abney and Thelma.

Dorothy Campbell spent the week end in Loup City with Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Travis.

Miss Evelyn Kosch went to St. Paul on the Saturday morning bus, planning to go to her home near Farwell, but the bad roads made it inadvisable to go on so she returned to North Loup on the evening bus.

Mrs. John Manchester returned Tuesday night on the bus from Missouri where she had spent two weeks with relatives.

H. C. Sample left Sunday morning for Los Angeles to spend several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Sample and Joseph Sample.

Mrs. Samuel Sample's mother, Mrs. Bleach of Burwell accompanied him as did Mrs. Cora Hurley. Mrs. Hurley will join Mr. Hurley at Esccondido.

Ches Chinn went to Ord on the Thursday evening bus.

Ava Leach was a guest Thursday of Lillian Babcock.

The Roy Hudson family were dinner guests Thursday of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Johnson, helping celebrate Mr. Johnson's birthday. Frank Johnson spent the evening with Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Johnson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammond and Miss J.rtle Green spent Saturday afternoon in Ord.

Hazel Stevens of Fullerton was a Sunday guest of Ruth Williams in the Otto Bartz home.

Beulah and Lila Porter and Hazel Joseph spent Saturday afternoon in North Loup with Ruth Williams. Kathryn Romans returned to Ord with them.

B. E. Williams of Scotia and John Gabriel of Fresno, Calif., spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crandall.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo entertained at a birthday and anniversary dinner Tuesday honoring the birthdays of M. R. Cornell, J. A. Barber and Mrs. Mayo and the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Barber, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cornell and Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner and Jane.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harding went to Ord on the Friday morning bus.

Bernice King was a Thursday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crandall and a supper guest of Nora and Owen White.

The Guy Earnest family of Ravenna, J. E. Earnest and Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Maxine were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Will Earnest at an oyster supper Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman were Friday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtasek.

Venetta Roby spent Saturday in Ord with Mrs. Maggie Anyas.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft were Wednesday night guests of Mrs. Fanny Weed. The Clark Roby and Harry Waller families, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post, Mrs. Della Manchester spent the evening there with them. Wheatcrafts left for their new home in Washington on Friday.

Birthday dinner guests Wednesday evening of Venetta Roby were Phyllis and Belva Babcock, Grace Sims and Wanetta Little.

Roy Stine trucked the household goods of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Bailey up from Grand Island Wednesday and they were stored in rooms at the Jim Ingerson home. The Baileys are leaving Grand Island soon but their plans are indefinite at present.

Harold Rich, Donald Naeve and Raymond Maxson went to Lincoln Saturday and were leaving Sunday morning for California. Raymond Maxson was to accompany his sister, Roberta, who has a two weeks vacation from her work in Lincoln and the other boys had passengers from Lincoln.

Lloyd Manchester left Saturday for California. Mrs. Manchester and Connie will spend the time while he is away with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Horner at Ord.

H. L. Klingensmith trucked two loads of cattle to Omaha Sunday night. Ed Greene took one load down and Max Klingensmith the other. Mr. Klingensmith accompanied them.

Five members of the Needle and Thimble club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Harry Klingensmith. George Eberhart trucked cattle to Omaha for A. L. Willoughby on Sunday night.

Miss Mildred Plumer of Glenrock, Wyo., was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman. She accompanied Norene Bruce and Vera Tracy who went on to Ord to visit Miss Tracy's father, Mr. McKay.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Bridge spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman.

Radio listeners Sunday afternoon heard the choir from Central college sing over KMMJ. Edna Hawkes is a member of the choir and a note of congratulations from Mrs. Jennie Hawkes and the Clifford Hawkes family of North Loup was read on the program.

V. W. Robbins, Doug Barber and T. J. Hauer attended the sale in Loup City Friday afternoon.

Word has reached Ord that Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Clements plan to return to Ord with his father and mother, Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Miss Lena Clements when they come home from California next month. The Edwin Clements family now live in Ontario, where he is in the lumber business.

Ord's Lowest Prices on Meat

Do you know, or have you ever wondered why, our prices on quality meats are so low?

There are a number of good reasons, including low operating costs and our satisfaction with a very small profit, but the principal reason is that we buy meat direct from the producer in nearly every instance and do our own butchering, thus eliminating freight expense to market and return and also the middlemen's profits that often are added to the cost of the meat you buy.

We believe Valley county farmers produce just as tender young pigs, just as fine corn-fattened cattle, as any farmers in the world, and we are proud to sell the produce of Valley county farms to residents of Ord and Valley county.

For the FINEST meat at the very LOWEST prices, we invite you to trade here.

Brief Bits of News
Davis Creek—Mr. and Mrs. Will Wheatcraft and Betty were overnight guests of his sister, Mrs. John Williams, Tuesday, and Wednesday were at the home of another sister, Mrs. Fannie Weed, of North Loup. Thursday and Friday nights they spent with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stuchler, of Ord, and Sunday noon they left for Washington state where they expect to make their home.—Miss Viola Crouch took her brother-in-law, Howard Manchester, to Grand Island after car repairs Saturday.—Word was received by relatives here that George Palsler, of Big Springs, was gored by a bull Thursday and had five ribs broken in addition to other injuries. He is in a hospital at Chappell, with Mrs. Palsler at his bedside. Their two oldest daughters, Ruth and Ailsa, are attending a Bible school in Oklahoma.—There were no church services at Davis Creek Sunday.—Mrs. Ernest Johnson has received word of the death of her uncle, August Peterson, who died at 6 p. m., Sunday at Rocky Ford, Colo., where he had lived 30 years.—The Larsen and Axthelm boys went to North Loup Sunday to skate on the bayou. Marvin had the bad luck to break through the ice and fall in.

Olean—The community club is planning a short dialogue for the Friday night meeting. The older folks are putting it on and the playlet is called "At the Photographer's." Everyone is welcome.—George Jensen was called Friday night to take his brother Arthur as far as Grand Island and Arthur, who is ill, went from there to Omaha.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Beran visited Sunday evening at the Adolph Kokes home.—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Bernard were Sunday guests at the Lee Klingler home. Mr. and Mrs. Dolbert Bridge visited there Saturday evening.

Union Ridge—The Pinochle club met with Albert Haught's Saturday evening but because of bad roads only three tables were present. Darrell Manchester worked all week fixing up a covered wagon so he could bring his family, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams and DeLores, Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner and Andy Glenn. The wagon looked exactly like the covered wagons of the old days. He had an electric head light hooked up with a battery and the light shone out over the horses so they could see the road. He hung a lantern in the top of the wagon so the ladies could see each other and visit on their way up. It was cozy and snug and nobody got cold and we all know what a cold wind blew Saturday evening. Everett Honeycutt walked over and Everett Wrights also drove a team. Blanche Manchester won high for the ladies and Everett Wright for the men. Jessie Wright won the traveling prize by holding the last one hundred aces. A fine lunch of sandwiches, jello, light and dark cake and coffee was served at twelve-thirty.—Meryln Tolen visited at the De Noyers Sunday evening.—Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sperling and children from Burwell, were Sunday dinner guests at the Will Naeve home.—Mr. and Mrs. Everett Honeycutt visited at Albert Haught's Friday evening. They spent the evening playing pinochle and the men won.—Doris Tolen went to Greeley Saturday and took teachers exams, so she was not able to visit her folks over the week end.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worrell visited at Bates Copeland's Sunday afternoon.—Donald Naeve accompanied Harold Rich to Lincoln Saturday noon and both boys expected to leave Sunday morning for California where they hope to find work.—Everett Wright was a dinner guest of Ben Nauenburg's Thursday.—Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman were supper and all night guests of Ross Williams' Thursday. On account of the wind drifting the snow so bad they were only able to get their car as far as Orin Manchester's and Ross met them there with the wagon.—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worrell and Jess Manchester returned from Illinois Wednesday where they had been visiting relatives for the past three weeks. They made the trip home in one day.—Mr. and Mrs. Albert Haught were dinner guests at the Walter Cummins home Wednesday. They also visited with Paul Cummins who had just returned from Kansas.—Everett Honeycutt will hold a dance at the Legion Hall this Friday night, Jan. 19. The Midnight Frolickers will play.

—From Lincoln comes word that Mrs. George Russell Mann must spend two more weeks in the Lincoln General hospital. She suffered a slight concussion and other injuries in a recent automobile accident and her doctor sentenced her to keep very quiet. Miss Betty Mann came from Chicago and cared for Mrs. Mann the first week, leaving Sunday night for Chicago. She is a graduate of Mary Lanning hospital at Hastings. Mr. Mann is feeling quite well again.

The county assistance fund is budgeted at $15,735 of which $735 is the county's share of administration costs and $15,000 must be raised for direct relief, this amount being estimated as necessary by Frank Kruml, relief director. Valley county's share of relief costs in 1939 was $13,799.41. This relief does not, of course, include old age pensions, assistance to dependent children or the blind, which come from the state-federal social security organization and are not included in the county budget.

Other items included in the 1940 budget are $25,805 in the road fund and for county special highway fund; $6,520 in the bridge fund; $2,000 for fair fund; $5,000 for bonds, interest on bonds, etc.; $600 for mothers' pension fund and $500 for soldiers and sailors relief fund.

Estimate of fees that will be earned by county officers during 1940 is $9,295, which may be deducted from the general fund, leaving an estimated $37,371.40 to be raised by taxation. Fees actually earned in 1939 totaled $8,820.90.

Other revenues, aside from taxation, will total $27,200 in 1940, the budget estimates, and this amount may be used to offset money to be raised by taxation in funds other than the general fund, in the same way that fees offset the general fund. This $27,200 will come principally from Valley county's share of the gasoline tax and auto license fees.

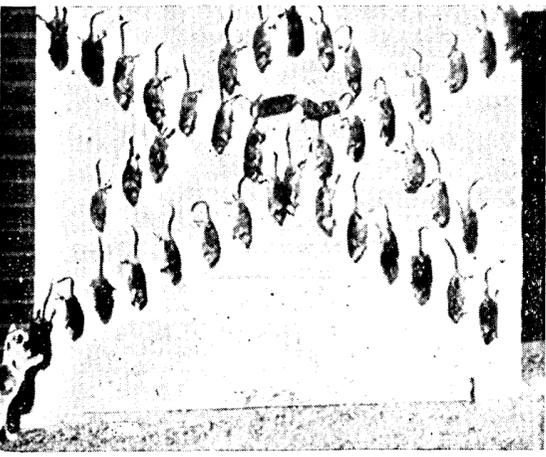

Biggest "headache" for county supervisors is the problem of relief. Due to drought conditions the direct relief load increased greatly in 1939 and another estimated increase will come in 1940. At present the county has a deficit of $9,500 in this fund and since the law provides a maximum levy of 1 mill for relief purposes and Valley county's property total is $13,700,000 it seems certain that the relief fund will be badly "in the red" this year. A maximum of $13,700 would accrue in this fund from the 1 mill levy, if all taxes were paid, but real estate is to be re-evaluated this year and it is probable that this valuation will be at least 10 per cent under the present total. How direct relief will be handled when county funds expire is a problem, as in the state-federal social security set-up no provision is made for direct relief, this being left to the counties.

Nebraska's budget law was passed by the 1937 legislature, was amended by the 1939 legislature, and 1939 was the first year in which it applied in its present form. In November the county budget-making authority starts compiling figures for the next year's budget and advertises a public hearing to be held at the county board's first meeting in December, at which any taxpayer may appear, inspect the proposed budget and protest any of its provisions. The budget is finally approved by the county board at its first January session and after that time may not be changed except downward. Levies adopted in August cannot be exceeded and the budget therefore must be trimmed in accordance with the amount of money these levies will raise. Not a single taxpayer appeared at the December budget hearing and the county board and county clerk, in this apparent absence of public interest in this important matter, are to be commended for their efforts to hold down expenses of county government by adopting an economical budget.

Buffalo Bull and Holstein Bull Battle Daily

Almost every morning, says Elmer Brockman of Burwell, an unusual sight may be seen on his ranch—a battle between a bull buffalo and a Holstein bull, as pictured above. The first thing every morning the two fight each other, then are good friends until the next day, when another fight occurs. Mr. Brockman is taking care of two buffalo owned by the Burwell rodeo. Both are shown in this picture.

Mr. Miner of the Beaver community, is staying at the home of his son Kenneth during the severe weather.

Last Tuesday Robert Foster took Florence Cheyney and her mother to Bartlett to attend to the business of opening the will of the late Wm. Cheyney. Florence was appointed administratrix. A day or two later they went to O'Neill to see the Weyant family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Erickson left Friday for Denver. They are looking for a permanent location.

The Pierce family were notified last Thursday that Mrs. Sadie Cram of Greeley, had been taken to a hospital at Grand Island for an operation.

Mr. Baldwin moved Mrs. Slack's household goods Friday to his place for storage until the daughter, Elsie, can get them. The house is to be occupied this week by Mrs. Ike Friend.

The Women's club met at Mrs. Oberg's last Wednesday. A business meeting was held and a project lesson given by Mrs. Irving Westcott. A committee was appointed to look after the program of plays and entertainments for the spring months.

Miss Irene Keezer left this week for Washington with her uncle who has been here since Christmas visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Keezer.

The Ericson town basketball team went to Bartlett last Monday evening and played a game with Spalding resulting in a score of 32 to 36 in favor of Spalding.

The farmer's meeting with free movies which was postponed some time ago will be this Thursday afternoon in the opera house.

Jay Heston took his father Frank Heston to Burwell last Wednesday to consult Dr. Cram. He has not been able to drive his mail route some of the time.

Pete Dahlstein went to O'Neill last Thursday on business.

Mrs. Ivan Pixler, of Spencer, Ia., who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gardner, started home last Tuesday. Her parents took her as far as Neligh.

Mr. and Mrs. George Stejnke and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Stewart and son Ronnie started last Tuesday for Casper, Wyo., where they will visit Mrs. Stejnke's parents.

A group of the Bartlett would-be bridge champions came down to Oberg's last Friday evening and whetted their wits with some of the Ericson opponents.

Roscoe Kasselder was taken to the Cram hospital Friday for treatment for a leg ailment. Emerson Daily took a load of hogs to Sioux City last Tuesday for Mr. Kemper.

Harold Salter, of Los Angeles, who has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Salter and family since Christmas started back Sunday afternoon.

Townsend Meetings.
The regular meeting dates for the Ord Townsend club for 1940 will be on the first and third Friday evenings of each month, and all meetings will be held at the Oddfellows Hall, unless otherwise specified. Everybody is welcome to attend these meetings. The members have already made plans for a play to be put on next summer, and have set the date for August 19.

PARENTS DON'T HAVE TO GUESS
The respectable host of Nebraska's licensed beer retailers obey the law's injunction against selling to persons under 21.
Sometimes, in order to be able to refuse to sell to minors, proprietors and their employees have to guess the ages of their patrons.
Parents don't have to guess ages . . . they know how old their young people are.
Parents can cooperate with a legal and responsible Nebraska industry, paying annually more than $175,000.00 in taxes, by instructing their young people not to trade on their appearance or conceal their age.

HAM

Ham and sweet potatoes—the dish men brag about! And besides the obvious joys of this delicious dinner, you can use the left-over for fried or boiled ham for tomorrow's breakfast, or ham loaf for tomorrow's dinner, or luscious ham sandwiches for tonight's midnight snack. Try a delicious baked ham and sweet potatoes, right away.

At our market you'll find Wilson's Tender-Made, Cudahy's Puritan and Swift's Premium hams, as well as some of our own curing and smoking. Ham is very cheap in price right now due to the low price of hogs on the market.

Come in and select a half or whole ham for baking, or some delicious center slices cut thick for broiling, or some slices or ordinary thickness for frying. Everybody likes ham.

NORTH LOUP

Mrs. August L. Bast.
Anna Katherine Lee was born in Sutton, Nebr., April 6, 1884 and died in the Bryan Memorial hospital at Lincoln, Nebr., at the age of 55 years, 9 months and 5 days. When she was a small girl the family moved to North Loup where she grew up.

On November 26, 1914 she was married to August L. Bast, at North Loup. Mr. and Mrs. Bast made their home in Elmwood until 1925 when they moved to Jefferson county and in 1930 to Fairbury to live.

Mrs. Bast is survived by her husband, two sons, Alvin and Leland and one daughter, Edna, all at home; four brothers, Henry, Ed, and Paul of North Loup and Ernest of Marsing, Ida.; four sisters, Emma Eberhart of Ord, Mrs. Martha Otto of Grand Island, Mrs. Fred Kunz of Elmwood and Miss Mable Lee of North Loup. Her parents one brother, and two sisters have preceded her in death.

In her youth Mrs. Bast joined the Evangelical church at North Loup transferring to Elmwood after her marriage. For the past nine years she has been a member of the Methodist church at Fairbury, a faithful attendant and interested in all the women's activities of the church being a member of the Good Will class and the Coterie. Her two great interests in life were her home and her church. Services were held Saturday in the Evangelical church at Elmwood, conducted by Dr. Paul Hillman, pastor of the Fairbury Methodist church, assisted by Rev. H. A. Fintel of the Elmwood church. Bural was in the Elmwood cemetery.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lee and Mable Lee went to Elmwood Friday to attend the funeral of their sister, Mrs. Bast. They stopped at York for Paul Lee and he accompanied them. All spent Sunday with relatives in Lincoln, returning home Monday.

Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill left Wednesday morning for Pawhuska, Okla., for a visit with the Paul Hemphill's and they may go on to New Orleans where the George Hemphill's are while Dr. George is taking a post graduate course in Tulane university. Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill's return is indefinite as she plans to take some post graduate work while he is away, either in New Orleans or St. Louis. His office here will be closed while he is away.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horner of Ord spent Sunday in the Rox Cox home.

Mrs. Carrie Greene spent Saturday with Mrs. Sabrina Williams and Mrs. Roy Cox.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Worrell and Jess Manchester returned Wednesday from Toulon, Ill., where they had spent the holidays with relatives. Cecil Barrett, who accompanied them to Illinois went on to Toledo, O., where he expected to find work.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo entertained at dinner Monday night Dr. and Mrs. W. J. Hemphill and Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Babcock.

Mrs. Vera Anderson and Mr. Brothauer were in North Loup on Tuesday morning on business.

Donald Underwood spent Sunday at his home in Doniphan.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cornell spent Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Springer and Lloyd spent Sunday in the Earl Lincoln home at Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jensen and Monte were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burrows.

Guy Jensen took a truck load of hogs to Grand Island Monday.

The Neighbors club had an all day meeting at the Hugh Adams home Wednesday with 35 present. The men were there for dinner. A program of music and a roll call filled the afternoon.

The Community club met Monday night at Barrett's cafe for supper and business meeting. Reports of the committee on the Christmas treats and better trade week were given. No new business of any importance was done. Albert Babcock was appointed to act as secretary-treasurer till the end of the year, taking the place of Arthur Jeffries.

Mrs. Mills Hill, Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner and Mrs. R. H. Knapp were guests of Mrs. M. R. Cornell Monday evening while their husbands attended the Community club supper.

Monday was the beginning of the second semester in the North Loup schools. Reports were given out for the last semester and a number of students are on the honor roll which means they have no grades below 85. First grade pupils on the honor roll are Dean and Dale Hutchins, Janet Coleman and Beverly Knapp; second grade, Ronnie Goodrich, Barbara Hudson, Joe Babcock and Lyle McMinden; third grade, Alice Meyers and Beverly Goodrich; fourth grade, Charles Beebe and Myles Nelson; fifth grade, Belva and Phyllis Babcock, Dean Redlon and Kenton Kerr; sixth grade Robert Kerr and Donna Manchester; seventh grade, Donna Portis; eighth grade, Grover Patterson, Esther Taylor, Marjorie Hamer and Leo Larkin. In the fifth and sixth grades, Miss Kosch has an improvement honor roll also. Pupils who have improved in three subjects are on this roll and are Wanda Clement, Kenton Kerr, Carol Leonard, Lorren Walkup, Darlen Eberhart, Robert Kerr, Wayne Barber, Phyllis Babcock, Joyce King and Richard Hutchins.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Sims entertained their pinocle club Friday evening. Mrs. Deryl Coleman and Clifford Goodrich won high scores. Friday callers on Mr. and Mrs. John Goodrich were Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Lee, their son and his family, whose home is in Oregon and who have been visiting in Ord. Mrs. Lee is a niece of Mrs. Goodrich.

An organization of the smaller schools into a conference known as the Mid Loup conference has been perfected recently. Schools belonging are North Loup, Scotia Taylor and Comstock. The conference will sponsor championships in football, basketball, track and girls volleyball. The girls gym class is working on volleyball and hope to have a good team.

Miss Evelyn Kosch, who has taught the fifth and sixth grades in North Loup for the past five and a half years has been chosen to fill a vacancy in the Ord schools and if her place can be filled, she will be released by the board to go to Ord. While North Loup regrets losing Miss Kosch we are glad for the advance it means for her. Miss Beulah Porter has been chosen to fill Miss Kosch's place but had not been released by the board at district 40 Tuesday morning.

The PTA meeting scheduled for Wednesday night has been postponed to Thursday night and at the time Robert Vance, writer and traveler for the Nebraska Farmer, who is recently home from China and Japan will give an illustrated lecture in the high school auditorium. School children are to be admitted free and an admittance of ten cents charged adults. It is hoped to have a state patrolman to speak at the meeting in February.

Mrs. Will Sievers, the former Dora Johnson, is in a hospital at Aurora where she submitted to a major operation Thursday. At the latest report she was making satisfactory progress.

Mrs. Maurice Barber accompanied Mrs. A. L. Willoughby to Grand Island Monday. Her daughter, Marnabelle, who is finishing the semester in the Grand Island school came home with her mother and stayed till Tuesday. She expects to enter the North Loup schools where she will be a freshman when the semester is completed in Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Beebe and Charles and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Anderson and Jackie took their supper to the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Stine Sunday night to help Mr. Stine celebrate his birthday.

Ethel Jeffries drove up from Grand Island Saturday afternoon. She found the roads very bad to St. Paul but snow was not so heavy on to North Loup. She returned to her work in Grand Island on the Sunday evening bus.

Clifford Goodrich took the installing team from the North Loup I. O. O. F. lodge to Ericson Monday night for an installation service in the Ericson lodge. Those going were Earl Smith, Ed Greene, Floyd Redlon, Clifford Hawkes and Paul Jones.

Because of the snow and bad roads G. L. Hutchins left his car in Columbus Saturday and came home on the train. Monday he went to Grand Island with Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hutchins, Dean and Dale and Mrs. Howard Fox and took the train back to Columbus to get the car. He expected to spend the week working in that part of the state. The Arthur Hutchins family and Mrs. Fox went to Kearney where they were supper guests of Wanda Davis Cooper and her family and Mrs. Fox took the streamliner for her home in Hobart, Ind., from Kearney.

Charlotte Jones was hostess to the Kings Harolds Saturday afternoon. Invitations were made by Donna and Wilma Portis and the mystery box questions which were snow hats by Grace Sims. The Kings Harolds are traveling this year by the umbrella method and Saturday afternoon opened their umbrella and sailed to Africa where they studied the customs of the Africans and listened to a story by the African witch doctor. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the lesson.

The Dear House

(Associated Newspapers.)
(WNU Service.)

DEEP in Minna's heart was her dream of the dear house. And then she married Ted Byram and came to No. 1 Peters street, one of a dum-painted row of just-alike uglies.

She hated it from the first. Nothing fitted. Wall spaces were wrong, the windows too narrow, stock-size rugs would not fit the floors and the wallpaper was hideous.

Ted beamed at the results, however, while she choked down the lump in her throat to smile back at him.

"Grand little place!" he would crow. "Old Peters should see it."

G. H. Peters, millionaire, in his pink villa in Florida!

"Glad you like it, Ted, but we will begin to save right now for a house of our own," she announced firmly.

They saved rigorously until interrupted at the end of the first year by fat little Theodore. Many things checked their headway after that, up to their second interruption, which was Wilhelmina, also fat and adorable.

The case against No. 1 Peters street grew with the larger family. The little beds and chiffoniers took all the space in the bedrooms, and there was no place for the perambulator or kiddie car downstairs.

Minna brought her dream of the dear house to the fore, and again began saving for it. Ted took extra work at the mill to help out. G. H. Peters was still in Florida and his agent refused paint and paper.

Then one day—Minna called it her black Friday—he ran home.

"Minnal Merry Christmas! Happy New Year! Birthday surprise!"

"What have you done, Ted?" Why should her heart be leaden?

"G. H. Peters is home and is closing out his loose real estate. He gave me a wonderful bargain on this house and I snapped it up. You are a grand little saver, for we have enough for the down payment, and the rest will be like rent. Why, Minna—don't cry. I never knew that you wanted a home so badly!"

At first she sobbed convulsively, while he petted and coaxed her. Finally she could smile and say brokenly:

"It will be lovely to own a home, Ted!"

The dear house was gone. All her life this ugly, tucked-up, dum-colored hovel would offend her eye and cramp her living. There were days when even the pranks of funny little Teddy or the chuckles of Willy could not cheer her, but she did her best to keep a good face before Ted.

One day when she was downtown, getting the children's hair trimmed, Ted called the shop, agitatedly.

"Come home as fast as you can, Minna. The two houses back of us are burning, and they say ours may go, too. Some of the boys from the mill will go over with me and help get the things out."

Maybe the dear house would come now!

She could not hurry toward the black cloud which hung over Peters street. Teddy's short little legs and plump Willy in her stroller held her back.

Would they get the children's toys? Her Bavarian tea set with the wheat-heads—and the Quimper bowl! The flames would break through the window where they sat in the evening to watch for Ted. And the gable upstairs, by Teddy's bed, where he watched the pigeons against the sky—the little peach tree by the kitchen—the folding breakfast table Ted had made—the old linen cloth she had dyed to make spreads for it only last week—to match the voile curtains.

As she hurried, sobbing under her breath, a flood of comprehension engulfed her.

No. 1 Peters street was not ugly. Why, it was the dear house, and it had loved her all the years while she had been hating it! She never knew it until she had to lose it.

Smoke and tramping feet, shouts and hissing water, piles of furniture and clothing watched over by an officer, and a billow of smoke sweeping over the peaked roof. She turned and hid her face against the corner tree.

Then Ted's arm around her, his blackened face smiling at her.

"It's all right, Minna—the fire caught the roof-peak at the back, but they got it out right away. It's all right, dear, don't cry!"

"Oh, Ted," she gasped. "You saved the dear house!"

"We did—and the smoking needn't matter, for I was intending to have it remodeled for your birthday present. Now we needn't wait, but can go right to work. A larger living room, open stairs, a sun parlor, breakfast room, with an extra room, a sleeping porch and lots of closets upstairs. The plans are drawn, waiting your approval. Later we'll buy the place next door, sell the house off and have a real lawn, with shrubbery, hedge, a pool and everything!"

Oblivious of the neighbors who were caring for Teddy and Willy, to the laboring firemen and the eyes of curious strangers, they gazed at each other enraptured. Then her belated loyalty asserted itself.

"It will be grand, Ted, but without any of it, it is the dear house, just the same!"

G-R-R-R YIPE! YIPE! YIPE! BOW-WOW-WOW! G-R-R-R

Sale of DOGS

Laugh if You Must Folks—

These are not your worries (yet)! To us they are the sad mistake we have made in buying or selling which we jokingly call "Dogs," because they eat up profits, occupy space and so we have decided on extreme measures. We are throwing profit to the dogs in reverse. Pups of all breeds will be dragged out and ridiculous prices tied to them. So laugh if you must.

RULES GOVERNING THIS SALE

1. Gather up all small change about the house. Go through your husband's trousers tonight—even open the baby's bank.
2. It is perfectly O-Kay to let the breakfast dishes stay unwashed to attend this sale.
3. Snatching contests will be staged in all aisles. No holding or off side plays.
4. Since pedigreed "pups" as well as mutts are on sale, you'll be wise to be here early.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

If the republicans expect to win over the democrats this year, they must present some kind of a farm program to attract the rural vote.

The GOP is formulating such a program. There are rumors that it will offer farmers just as much federal money as they get now, but less for acreage cutting, and more for planting soil conserving crops.

Farmers hate to see land lie idle and many would prefer such a change. The GOP can argue that this country's resources need to be built up as a matter of national defense, thus justifying the shift from crop acreage reducing to soil conserving.

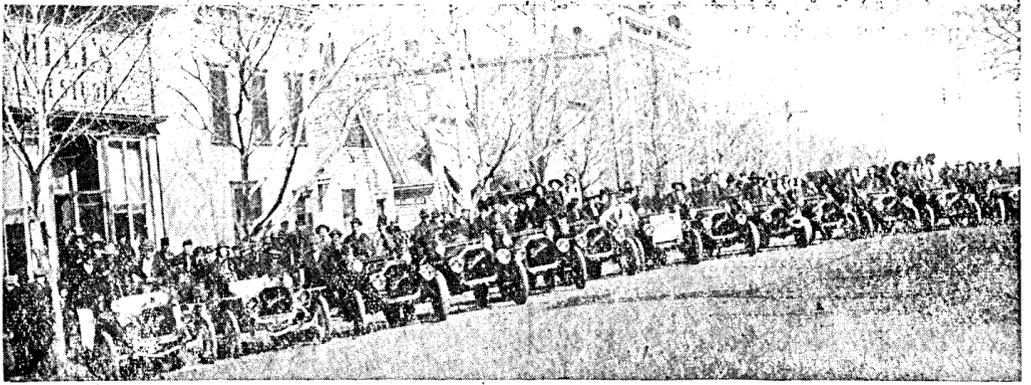

Increased payments for soil saving crops, such as alfalfa and sweet clover, should be of special benefit to Valley county. There has been little new alfalfa grown here recently, and the old stands are dying out rapidly.

Local expansion of irrigated land will require the planting of more legumes for feed and fertility. The exit of drouth and grasshoppers will encourage the much needed seeding of alfalfa on upland fields.

Add to this the prospect of a bigger cash reward for raising those crops needed most badly anyway, and great interest should be stimulated in starting alfalfa and sweet clover patches up and down the Loup valley. That is continuing, of course, on whether the republicans triumph, and if they will make this a campaign promise and then live up to it.

The GOP would probably scuttle the AAA, but agriculture is apt to be subsidized, regardless of which political party is in power.

About all that is lacking to make this picture a huge success is that the instigator of the whole thing, Fred Bell, is not in it. He couldn't very well be, since he was taking the picture. Proof that he was the photographer, if proof is needed, is shown in the name on the building at the left. Next to the right in the row of buildings was the Billings hospital, now the Galka Shoe Shop. To the right is the office of Dr. Minerva Newbecker, the building now moved out and supplanted by the L. & L. Tire shop. Next beyond is the place in which A. J. Wise lives. About the center of the picture is a building on the small plot of ground just west of the old bank building which Ed Mauer once had a hamburger shop, but which is now vacant. The Buicks, of which 13 are in line, were of the two-lunger variety, had no tops except as extra equipment, had the steering wheel on the right side, had acetylene lighting systems (probably) and sold at a price probably about $1,500 each. At that every car was spoken for before the shipment arrived, and the new owners are shown at the wheels of their cars. There was a big crowd present, as the picture proves, but they are so far away from the camera that it is hard to pick out individuals. The unpaved street was in good condition at the time, having been dragged only a short time before. The size of the trees in the picture, compared with those that still remain, should prove of interest.

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

When a man is at rest the heart pumps out about two ounces of blood per beat. The heart beats about sixty times a minute under these circumstances, so about four quarts of blood are pumped per minute. This would amount to about two-thirds of the entire amount of blood in the body. Simple arithmetic shows, then, that sixty gallons of blood would pass thru the heart, or over forty times the entire blood volume.

Under the conditions of extreme exertion this pump of ours can put out six to eight gallons per minute, or a barrelful every five minutes. If one were able to continue this strenuous exertion for a working day of eight hours, his heart would discharge about one hundred barrels of blood during that time.

These facts are of no practical importance but they serve to emphasize the efficiency of the construction of our bodies. With the various diseases of the heart there is, of course, a reduction in the ability of this organ to pump the amount of blood required under various circumstances. This deficiency is known as heart failure. Of this there are many degrees. A heart which can pump all the blood that is necessary when its owner is at rest is competent under the condition of rest. If under very strenuous exertion it can only get out a fraction of the necessary amount, then it lacks the proper reserve power and falls to that extent. Thus we see there are various degrees of heart failure. Advancing age in itself reduces the ability of the heart to respond to great exertion, so the elderly person is unable to do the same amount of physical work per minute that the healthy young person can.

The fact that a given person's heart may be entirely competent to do a certain amount of work even though it is diseased, but not able to keep up its work if any more than that amount is demanded of it, is the reason for limiting the exertions of the person with heart disease. Obviously, one heart case may well be able to do more than another, without harm. Strenuous exertion is no longer thought to be harmful to a normal heart, and the old idea that athletes develop heart disease as a result of their athletic exertions has been pretty well disproven. Of course, the individual with a damaged heart can well make his heart disease worse if he undertakes strenuous athletic activities. Since age in itself gradually produces some damage to the heart, it is unwise for the elderly man or woman to take up such things as tennis, mountain climbing and other types of exercise that put work on the heart beyond which that individual's accustomed. If the elderly man has played tennis or climbed mountains regularly all his life then his heart is accustomed to that much exertion and, unless a disease process has developed, he may safely continue these things.

Gyger Reports on WPA Activities in County

The following report in regard to expenditures and accomplishments on all WPA projects in Valley county for the period Jan. 1, 1939 to Dec. 31, 1939, was submitted by M. E. Gyger, engineer, on all WPA projects in Valley county.

Projects sponsored by the county consisted of road construction in four locations, namely: Arcadia-north, Ord-Sargent, Ord-Loup City, and Haskell Creek. Work accomplished on the Arcadia-north project to date includes: Construction of one 32 ft. span, 20 ft. roadway treated timber bridge; the grading and reshaping of 4 miles of road; placing it in shape for gravel surface. An additional 5 miles is to be worked and the total will be gravel surfaced at a later date.

The Ord-Sargent project includes 5 miles of grading and placing necessary culverts for drainage and the placing of 5.5 miles of gravel surface on the project that was constructed in 1938. An additional 3 1/2 miles of gravel will be placed on this road in the near future.

The Ord-Loup City project included the construction of 1.5 miles of new gravel; 4 miles of reshaping old grade; construction of a 24 ft. span 20 ft. roadway treated timber bridge; and culverts where needed. This project has been gravel surfaced by the state highway department and will be used as a detour during construction of highway 11 between Ord and North Loup.

The Haskell Creek project includes grading and new location; placing the road on the section line; also the construction of 2 treated timber bridges and numerous culverts. This project when completed will connect Ord with highway No. 53, as Garfield county is going to construct 3 miles of road beginning at the Valley county line, and continuing to the Burwell-Erison road. It is planned to have this project gravel surfaced, thereby giving Valley county an all-weather road to the north.

The costs of the 4 projects are as follows: Cash expended by Valley county, labor $1,144.29, team hire $437.74, truck rental $1,456.88, wagon rental $67.95, miscellaneous supplies $37.72, culverts $1,050.54, gas, oil, grease $370.31, equipment rental $857.10 timber bridges $1,379.52, gravel $361.05, making a total cash expenditure of $8,111.10. In addition to this amount $3,728.20 credit for the use of the county-owned equipment was allowed, making a total contribution of $11,839.30.

Federal expenditures were as follows: labor $36,911.76 and non-labor $6,181.44, making a total of $43,093.20. The non-labor funds were used to purchase gas, oil, grease, culverts and equipment rental. Valley county, by the expenditure of $8,111.10 in cash and the use of their equipment, the rental value of which was placed at $3,728.20, was able to obtain $43,093.20 federal funds, making a total of $54,932.50 to be used for the construction of better roads.

In addition the city of Ord has sponsored the following projects: Extension of water mains, which includes the excavation of 860 cu. yds. of earth, for the laying of 1,504 ft. of 8 inch and 440 ft. of 4 inch pipe; installation of 3 hydrants and other incidental work. The total cost of this project was $4,189.94 of which $936.01 was paid with Federal funds.

Resurfacing of streets which included placing of 33,069 sq. yards of asphalt emulsion, construction

Noted Traveler Will Show Colored Movies

The noted traveler, Robert C. Vance, who writes for Nebraska Farmer magazine, will appear at the Ord high school auditorium next Friday evening, Jan. 19, at 7:30. Mr. Vance will present an interesting program of colored motion pictures taken during his recent globe-trotting journey in the Orient.

The Ord high chapter of the Future Farmers of America have arranged this program and invite both farm and town folks to come and be their guests. There will be no admission charge, but the Quiz can assure the public that this program will be fully as good as many that have been shown and charged for in the past.

Cosmopolitans Held Regular Monday Night

The Ord Cosmopolitan club held their regular session Monday evening at the City Cafe. There was a very good attendance, the members listened with interest to a talk by a member, A. Wiegardt, on the secrets of building an FHA house. Mr. Wiegardt recently completed one of these and therefore was able to give some worthwhile ideas on the subject.

A report was made on the skating pond proposition, which is being sponsored by the club. The site chosen was the football practice field west of the Catholic church. A space has been cleared and it is being soaked with water, which it is expected will soon stay in place long enough to form a good surface for skating.

This project is being sponsored at the request of A. J. Cochran, area supervisor of recreation, who is having the pond put through as a recreational project for the purpose of furnishing smaller children a place where they may skate without the danger which attends skating on the river or ice pond.

Ord Defeated Sargent In Two Games Tuesday

The Ord high first and second squads went to Sargent yesterday evening and brought back the big end of two interesting basketball games. Sargent as a close contest, the first team game proved to be just that, with the Sargent team making it a tough contest all the way.

The score of this game was Ord 28, Sargent 23, with a score of 19 to 15 at the half. Ord made six points from the foul line, while Sargent made but three, and each team missed 5 free throws. Purlak led the Ord scoring with 8 points, Harbert made 6, Misko made 5, Itomans made 4, Piskorski 3 and Carlson 2.

Matousek led for Sargent with 7 points, Kennedy made 5, Thompson and Green each 4, Bell 2 and Chaloupa 1. Ord players had 8 personal fouls, although none had a while Sargent had 10, with Mason retiring by way of the foul route. For Ord Tatlow missed 3 free throws, and Misko and Piskorski, 1 each. Matousek and Green each missed 2 for Sargent and Bell 1.

The second team game was a little more one-sided, with the Ord boys having a rather easy time of it all the way. Bob Malolepsky was the high point man in this contest, which ended 31 to 13 for Ord. Bob accounted for 4 field goals and 2 free points for a total of 10 points. Geweke and McBeth took second honors with 6 points each. Cochran had 4 points, Biemond and Adams 2 each, and Barnes 1.

Nine personals were checked up against Ord players in this game and ten against Sargent, but nobody had to retire. Ord players missed 4 free throws and Sargent missed 7. Compton of Broken Bow refereed the first team game and gave his usual satisfactory service, while Chaloupa of Sargent officiated in the second team game.

C. G. Davis and Miss Delores Redfern of the farm security office went to Grand Island Tuesday to attend a conference.

Mrs. Rex Jewett, who was operated on Dec. 29 by Dr. C. W. Weekes, is now able to sit up. Mrs. Meyers is her nurse.

Jerry Petska drove to Grand Island Tuesday afternoon on business. Accompanying him were Mr. and Mrs. Lores McMIndes.

Will Ollis is making a slow but safe recovery from his recent operation. Tuesday he tried to work all day for the first time.

Happy to be together at the Hans Andersen supper table Sunday night were Vernie and John Andersen and their families.

Miss Sophie McBeth came home Monday evening from Omaha, where she had a pleasant week of vacation.

Joe Rysavy accompanied Kenneth Peterson to Omaha Tuesday afternoon, planning to stay there until Saturday and attend the blacksmiths' convention. His shop will be closed while he is gone.

Porter Dunlap of Arcadia came to Ord Tuesday on business, stopped to visit at the John Andersen home. Mr. and Mrs. Jake Van Wieren, parents of Mrs. Andersen, are with their daughter this winter in her home.

Ed Braneck was taken home from the clinic hospital Tuesday evening, and Wednesday enjoyed walking a bit in his own home. He is feeling fine after his recent appendectomy.

Mrs. M. Biemond is improving, her nurse Mrs. Jensen reports, although Mrs. Biemond will need to spend two or three weeks in bed now, and will have to be careful for some time. Mrs. Pearl, the night nurse, plans to leave after this evening.

Mrs. Don Miller came Saturday night by bus from Omaha and visited until Monday evening with her sister, Dorothy Jobst, and other relatives and friends. Mrs. Miller will be recalled as Miss Irene Jobst.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Engelhart left Friday for Chicago on business, stopping over a day in Omaha enroute. The former Dorothy Boquet and her husband had visited with relatives in Ord for about a month.

George Yavra says his right thumb is getting along fine now, recovering from the cut he gave it in the butcher shop some time ago. He is not working regularly yet, but is helping around a little and is not taking any chances of getting it hurt again.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Norris returned home Monday evening from their visit to the Ted Lathrops at Blair and the Bert Norris family in Omaha. They had a good time while away, but they are not feeling any too well at present.

Mrs. A. A. Evers of Bozeman, Mont., was a bus passenger to Burwell Tuesday evening, going there to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrod. The Harrods have had plenty of trouble since she last saw them. They lost their farm home by fire some months ago. Since then Mrs. Harrod has had two bad falls, and now she is about recovered from them, she is quite ill with the flu.

Mrs. L. G. Payzant went to Grand Island Monday to visit her husband, who has been in St. Francis hospital since Sept. 30, at which time he had a leg broken near the hip in a runaway. She returned Tuesday evening, and stated that he is now improving quite fast and that he was able to sit up in a chair for a short time while she was there.

A group of former Ord girls who are now married and living in California have occasional delightful visits. Mr. and Mrs. Polke Kardell (Kitty Work) spent New Year's eve with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cross (Curlee Kokes) in Santa Monica. Next day the Kardells visited at the Charles McLaughlin (Marie Hall) home, in Alhambra, other guests being Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Gies (Maud Jackman) and his sister and family from Massachusetts.

From Wichita, Kas., comes word that Mr. and Mrs. Darrel McOstrich and their baby daughter Carol Ann quite often get to visit with others of the engineering folk who lived in Ord while the irrigation project was being constructed. Miss Harriette Dummire has an excellent teaching position there, psychological work with children being her specialty. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers, who lived at Burwell, live in Wichita, Mr. Perry visits there often.

And Wichita is the home of Mrs. Ed Farmer's people, so the Farmer's are in Wichita infrequently. Mrs. McOstrich was Louise Petska.

Marion Crosby's received word the Joe Vopat family arrived safely at their distant northern home, Penoka, Alberta, Canada on Jan. 8. Penoka is about 500 miles north of the Canadian boundary, some 200 or 300 miles past Calgary. Weather was cold but not stormy for their trip, her brother wrote.

Sidney Miller Trains Bad Broncho

The above picture shows Sidney Miller, son of Elmer Miller, and the horse he has taught to do tricks. Shown here he is kneeling to permit his master to mount. Not long ago this horse was very wild and would rear over backward to throw off anybody who tried to ride him. The photo shows what careful training will do. Sidney also attends the rodeos in this part of the country, and does his bit in riding and bull-dogging. He says that very few horses are really bad, but get mean because of ill treatment.

New Bowling Alley Open

Two Burwell bowling teams came to Ord Monday evening and played the Ord teams on the Copesey & Wells alleys, which were recently opened. The Ord women's team composed of Lena Craig, Mrs. Bill Darges, Mrs. Oakley Hather, Virginia Klein and Mrs. Howard Huff lost by 94 pins while the Ord men's team made up of K. W. Peterson, Charlie Hather, Howard Huff, Ed Michalek and L. W. Rogers won by 25 pins.

A. H. Meyer Loses Cash From Elevator Office

Burwell—(Special)—Cash in the amount of $48.50 disappeared from the safe in the office of the A. H. Meyer elevator here Thursday afternoon at about 3 p. m. Merton Wheeler, who was in charge at the time, was loading coal in the bins not far away, but did not see any one about the office. The money was in the safe and the door closed, but not locked.

The police were called in and made inquiry of families living in the neighborhood, but no one had seen anyone about at the time the money was taken. The office is so located that it might easily be possible for some one watching to slip in and get the money and not be observed. At the present time no trace has been found of the missing money.

1,000 Open Hearth Furnaces in U. S.

"Open hearth furnaces are preponderantly the most important source of steel today," says "Steel Facts." They total 995, with an annual productive capacity of 65,151,152 tons. This represents 84 per cent of the total number of steel producing units in the United States, and 89 per cent of the nation's annual steel producing capacity. A half century ago there were only 103 open hearth furnaces, which represented but 40 per cent of the total number of steel producing units. Such furnaces then generally ranged up to 35 tons in size. The present average is more than one hundred tons and some run as high as 300 to 350 tons.

THE LIMITS OF LIBERTY.

When our forefathers formed this nation, they got as far away from the principles of autocratic government as they could, declaring that the rights of the individual were paramount in a democratic form of government.

In the past it has been held that the individual had almost unlimited rights, so long as he did not commit a breach of our laws, and there have always been persons who believed they had a right to go the limit in their ideas of government, religion, dress, or a thousand and one other phases of individual life.

It now seems that the time has come when this unlimited liberty must be curtailed. Chairman Dies of the "Un-American Activities" committee, has made some startling disclosures in regard to persons living under the protection of our laws who are doing everything in their power to create sentiment toward the overthrow of the government.

Monday's papers carried the most startling story of people who under the guise of a club have been planning the overthrow of authority, the capture of strategic points in our land, and the assassination of a number of congressmen. This is an anti-Jewish organization, and seems to be closely linked with the Bund, the activities of which the Dies committee revealed.

It seems that this group had a perfect right under our laws to organize a club, and that the only way in which the officers of the law had a right to investigate its activities was to first prove that they were doing something contrary to law. Paradoxically, they were within the law even while seeking the downfall of the nation.

It is high time that we rid ourselves of this poppycock about the rights of the individual. The rights of the government should be of more importance than that of any of its citizens. When a condition arises where the very existence of the government is imperiled it is time that our laws be changed, if necessary, to protect the rights we all hold dear.

At present it is the privilege of the individual to drink more than is good for him and while in that condition to make a spectacle of himself and insult the women; it is his privilege to smoke when and where he will, regardless of the feelings of other people; it is his privilege to drive his car through the streets at breakneck speed to the detriment of chickens, dogs and pedestrians, so long as he gets by with it.

Now it appears that it is his privilege to organize a social club, and under this misleading title, foment dissatisfaction with the government and plan the death of others whom he does not like, but who have just as much right under the law as he has. He can even gather up instruments of destruction for the purpose of carrying out this plan, so long as he is not caught at it.

There is too much sentiment about the rights of the individual. Whenever the rights of the individual conflict in any way with those of the state, then the state should come first. No citizen has a right to harbor sentiments opposed to our form of government, and if he insists on doing so, he has no right to be a citizen.

TAFT'S 5 POINT PLAN.

Some time ago Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio made the statement that the budget could be balanced and President Roosevelt suggested that he name a plan whereby this miracle could be accomplished. The supposition at the time was that Mr. Taft's bluff had been called and that the public would hear no more about it.

However, accepting a direct challenge from the president, Senator Taft offered a 5 point program on Friday evening, Jan. 5, which he said would balance the national budget within two years at a figure of about $7,000,000,000. This is interesting, as it is the first time that a candidate for president in 1940 has offered any definite program. The five points follow:

- 1. The president must wish and be determined to balance the budget.
2. Eliminate bureaus, reduce the number of employees; reorganize.
3. Change method of handling relief, housing, agriculture, government loans.
4. End grants for local public works; reduce federal public works and reduce subsidies.
5. Play no favorites; subject the army and navy estimates to critical analysis.
If these things are done, Mr. Taft claims that the budget can be balanced at a figure of about seven billions, without abandoning a reasonable allowance for relief, old age pensions, housing and soil conservation. If prosperity returns, our present tax system should provide that amount.
The fact that any candidate for president in the coming election would put himself on the spot by making specific proposals for prosperity is interesting. It can only mean that, if given the opportunity Mr. Taft would actually put into practice the plan he proposes. In the face of public opinion he could hardly do an about face, as was done in 1932.

Mr. Taft also mentioned a few of the governmental agencies, the worth of which he questioned. They were: the electric home and farm authority, central statistical board, national resources planning board, national power policy committee, disaster loan corporation, condensation board, office of government reports, maritime labor board;

U. S. employees compensation commission, national advisory committee for aeronautics, division of cultural relations and various boundary commissions in the state department, Puerto Rico reconstruction commission and bituminous coal division in the interior department, various consumer's council, and various information services of the different departments.

A study of the Taft 5 point program is enlightening. It seems that he has hit upon the points in government expenditure that need paring. Whether he can put his plan into execution is a question, but at least he has a plan. Until some candidate suggests a better one, it is certainly worth the consideration of every man interested in balancing the budget.

Something Different

I gave myself a treat a few days ago, stopping to see the pretty, snug new home of the Ign. Klimka, Jr. family. We do not have many new houses in Ord, and one is quite an event, so I looked forward to seeing Klimka's for some time and I was not disappointed. It is a lovely, modern little nest and complete in detail from the mellow chimneys that ring from front door callers to the single chime note made by the back door bell.

Inside the house, the fireplace dominates the living room, a big stone one topped with a handsome solid walnut plank. The wood has been stained and rubbed to bring out all its beauty, and is the warmest, softest color imaginable. This plank is one of 17 big ones Klimka's have had in their old garage some 15 years, brought from their old home in Iowa and awaiting better things.

Stones of the fireplace are varied, many pieces of pink and white quartz sparkling alongside petrified wood, all of it cunningly fashioned by a Grand Island stone mason who knows his stonework. Directly below this room is the basement recreation room and it too has a fireplace, though a much simpler one.

The little house is a marvel of compactness, and every inch is planned for use. There are two nice bedrooms, a little bath, numbers of closets and a drawer built in, one of those new streamlined dining rooms, nicely equipped. The kitchen has attractive rows of cupboards and drawers, but its principal beauties are a new divided sink with trick drains and a lovely new Monarch electric range. It is small by old-time standards for kitchens, but plenty big for a modern cooking laboratory.

The basement is almost a little house by itself, for it has shower and bathroom facilities, a good sized bedroom, large laundry room and a game room which Doris and Bob find so convenient.

In the bedroom occupied by Doris and a most attractive room it was with frilly dressing table, dainty pink curtains and chenille spread... the most attractive thing to me, was a big easel and numbers of sketches drawn by this talented little girl. Fashions and figures appeal to her especially, and some time Doris hopes to be a fashion artist. A year ago she drew a book full of sketches of styles of 1940 for the ladies to consider, and a charming book it is. Doris' work does not show the usual amateurish touches.

An Ord lady was in a car accident and got considerably banged up, particularly on the head. A friend asked how she was feeling and she answered, "Oh, those bunions on my head hurt something awful!"

Says Mrs. Parkins, "Have you ever thought how much of our lives our teeth keep us miserable? First we have to cut them as babies and no sooner are they in than they begin to fall out and we must cut them all over again. After this period of years it is only a short time until we cut our wisdom teeth which often have to come out at once. By this time we need fillings and dental work galore as our adult teeth wear out and we must get used to false teeth."

"It reminds me," continues Mrs. Parkins, "of the tale of the girl who tried to commit suicide, giving as her reason that she was discouraged after figuring up how many times in her life she must lace and unlace her shoes."
I have admired Daisy Hallen's teaching ability for as long as I have lived in Ord, some fourteen years. I used to visit her room so often and enjoyed it every time. And I want to say I think she gives those little boys and girls a real start in reading, writing and numbers. This can be demonstrated by the excellence with which they work in the upper grades, surely a genuine test as to exactly how much they have learned and how well they have learned it.
As a mother I know I could learn a lot from Daisy. She goes about her job quietly, calmly sweetly. No wonder those little folks love the discipline she administers. It is so painless, practically sugar coated. Many Ord mothers are grateful to Daisy for her splendid work, and they should be, for she is an unusually good teacher. Ord is fortunate to have Miss Hallen stay here.

By H. D. Leggett

Out of over 2700 Quiz subscribers there are just 19 of them who are in arrears 12 months or more. Most of the 19 are back to some time in 1938. One is back to in 1937. Several are back to January 1939 which makes it a year. We could lose our 2nd class mailing privileges for having any a year or more in arrears if the government wanted to crack down. If you doubt this ask Postmaster Hill. The 19 so far in arrears are old time friends, most of them 40 time standing and I ask that they get busy and take care of this matter so they are less than a year in the red. They all know who they are and if they don't a glance at their date on the paper will tell them. I should not have to say more than this.

These are the mornings when a dozen or so nice, tender and beautifully golden browned pancakes taste good. I like them with fresh sausage, or bacon or smoked ham and plenty of gravy. Of course if I could have my way about it, I would also have them almost floating in Michigan maple syrup but I am not allowed to eat sweets, in fact most of the time I have to put up with my griddle cakes made out of gluten flour. Of course they are not as good as cornmeal or buckwheat, but as my father used to say, they beat none all to pieces.

From reading the daily papers I don't see how anyone could fail to get the idea that this administration is unfriendly to the Dies committee and that if the administration has its way, the committee and its work will be discontinued. It seems to me would be a mistake. I believe this committee has uncovered a lot of Un-American scoundgery and it has made all of us more on the alert for things that have been done and are still being done, that are not for the best interests of our country. I believe this committee should be continued.

With all the evidence that has been published tending to prove the National Labor Relations Board is unfair, biased, pro-C. I. O., and absolutely under the thumb, so to speak, of the left wing of the administration, it seems to me it would be a good idea to junk it and get a new board.

The daily papers and radio told Sunday and Monday, about the arrest by J. Edgar Hoover and his G-men, of 23 people in New York and the capture of a large amount of ammunition, guns, bombs and material to make bombs of. Plans taken and disclosures made by some of the prisoners, show that they planned the murder of numerous congressmen, the blowing up of many public buildings and federal munitions stores and the overthrow of the government, much in the way Hitler operated in Germany, in fact one of the men taken was designated by his followers as the fuerer. And the penalty, if they are found guilty is five thousand dollars fine or five years in prison or both. I believe they should be stood up against a wall and shot if they are found to be guilty of half the things charged against them. That is what would happen to them in the countries they came from. You will notice that most of this sort of devilry is being done by foreign born people. They don't like our form of government. Why are they allowed to stay here?

Production Credit Association Meets

The near blizzard last Thursday morning was of such proportions as to make the country roads in parts of the territory impassable for the day, consequently many of the stockholders of the Broken Bow Production Credit association were unable to get to Broken Bow for their annual stockholders meeting. But in spite of the storm more than eighty farmers and stockmen from this and other parts of the association's territory were on hand to take part in the meeting.

Several of the members who were to have appeared on the program were "snowed in" however, those who were present took an active interest in the entire proceedings. Mr. A. F. Bates of Hayes and C. E. Johnson of Thedford were re-elected to the board of directors for terms of three years, the other members are Walter Gibbons, Constock; J. L. Millsap, Sargent; and E. T. Johnson of Broken Bow. L. G. Sullivan is Secretary-Treasurer and Miss Iva Mae Hanna, Assistant Secretary-Treasurer.

This cooperative lending association has loaned in excess of one and a quarter million dollars since it started operating about six years ago as a unit of the Farm Credit Administration and has enjoyed a consistent gain both in membership and in actual business done. As a result of this steady growth, the association's financial statement shows a corresponding gain in its reserves which serve as a safeguard for the capital stock owned by the member borrowers.

Quiz Ad Finds Cat. Wednesday morning Mrs. Cecil Clark found that her Persian kitten was missing, so she ran an ad for it in the Quiz last column. That evening after the paper was out the Boss found the cat out in the street in front of the Quiz office waiting to be found. Wise cat!

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Help One Kill Another. A stockman said to me the other day that if the drought does not break the farmers in this section this corn sealing program will. He said that the government lending the money on corn in Iowa and other parts, is putting the price to where the farmers in the drought sections cannot buy it.

At one time, I and most people thought this corn sealing idea was hot stuff. Many people have come to the conclusion now they are not so sure. Ninety per cent of the corn raised is fed by the farmer himself to his livestock, or if not by the farmer that raised it, by a neighbor farmer, or if not by him, by a farmer in a neighboring state where there has been a poor crop. As a result of this sealing, the farmer is not pegging the price on the rest of the world, but on himself or his own organization.

Men who have been hauling corn from Iowa say that men there who have raised big crops are sealing it and then are buying corn from non-cooperators at a cheaper price to feed. That way they are making a little money on their own corn (off the government) and booming the price of the cheaper corn to a place the poor drought stricken man cannot feed it. As a result, in place of using more of our surplus crop, the tendency is to hold it back and to increase the surplus another year.

It might be well to come to the point yet where we'll let the law of supply and demand take care of our corn crop, especially as long as we are our own market.

Th' Other Side. A letter from my brother in Denver contained the following gem of literature. I might remind you that he owns no real estate, and has a good job working for the city water department of Denver.

"Have been making out my federal income tax this morning. That is going to cost me about $25. Then I have the state income tax to make out the last of the month. That is going to cost me $6. This income tax burms me up, but what is a fellow going to do? JUST PAY IT!"

"I do not mind the federal so much, but the state income tax gets my goat, besides sales, service, gas and oil and all the other hidden taxes. The sales and service tax is what really gets me. A person gets sick and has to pay the doctor a tax to turn over to the state. You pay a tax because it is fun to get sick. Or to have a tooth ache. A tax to have a tooth pulled. Some get up? Eh, what!"

After Mr. Caldwell's talk and the circulation of the petitions to put the referendum on the ballot to limit the tax levy on real estate, opposition develops to the effect that this is a scheme of the insurance and loan companies to get out of paying taxes on the great quantities of land they have taken under foreclosure. The men who are opposing apparently have no love for the insurance and loan companies and oppose the idea largely to even a score.

It is true that these companies are the big land owners and will benefit the most. It is true that these companies are trying to get their money out of their investments without loss. But still, most of them are anxious to sell their holdings, some even at big losses, and if we folks want to live in this country, it would be much easier to buy and pay for land where the taxes are within our ability to pay.

And regardless of the "Shylockness" some feel of these mortgagees, which is a question somewhere in the Bible it says to "return good for evil," and we should vote for or against the referendum on its merits and not to spite some person or company we feel has done us wrong.

Short Shavings. Mrs. John Shultz writes from Washington that they stopped to see Elna Hurley at Parkdale and he has sold his store there and has gone to California. She said Elna said he wanted to get to a country where he could see the sun and Mrs. Shultz told him he shouldn't have left Nebraska.

It is said that a man in these parts was losing his farm last spring and he decided it to the loan company and for that they rented it to him for a year for one dollar. Even at that cheap rent of a dollar he lost money.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

The Gordon Journal has a report of seeing the first meadow larks, who seemed to be doing nicely, despite the snow on the ground. That seems funny to Ord people, who know that there have been meadow larks here all through the winter. They don't seem to mind the cold, and even sing a little during the heat of the day.

A contemporary states that a sea lion is not a lion, a sea cow is not a cow, a groundhog is not a hog, and the American buffalo is not a buffalo. We stand corrected. The feed Rex Jewett gave his Boy Scouts was not buffalo meat, as was stated, but bison meat, and the chances are that everyone of the boys knew it if we didn't.
Last Monday morning Horaco Travis reported the official temperature at 15 below, and about daylight Len Covert was out with his grader with the fresh air cab riding up the snow in the middle of the street to make room for traffic. A street commissioner's life is not always a bed of roses.

Eric Erickson stopped to visit the William Heuck family and other old friends a few days ago. He is now employed in St. Louis, and has been gone from Ord about ten years.

C. Krambeck of Albuquerque, N. M., was aboard the bus Thursday morning. He had been to Burwell where he looked over a number of ranches with the view to locating. He stayed at the L. B. Fenner home while in Burwell, and was also looking over land with Andy Snyder. He may make arrangements to locate in the Burwell territory later.

Dr. H. N. Norris reports the following persons as ill during the past week: Mrs. Jim Hoisington was quite seriously ill with pneumonia, and he was also sick with the flu. The oldest daughter of Mrs. Belfany was threatened with pneumonia. The little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Levi Chippis, Jr., was quite sick with a cold. The 2 1/2 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Graul was sick with a chest cold.

Miss Wilma Cochran began her new duties at the nursery school Tuesday morning.

The Rene Desmul family left Saturday for their new home at Lynden, Wash. Mr. Desmul of course ordered the Quiz sent to his new address.

Art Vanslyke went back on the bus driving job Friday after an absence of more than two weeks due to infection in his left hand.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Botts and Larry drove to the C. E. Inness place in Garfield county Thursday to spend the day.

Miss Ava Leach was a bus passenger to North Loup Thursday morning, where she expected to visit for the day.

Mrs. Augusta Bartholomew went to North Loup Thursday afternoon to stay over night with friends.

Mrs. Julius Gross of Burwell went to York Thursday morning to pay a visit to her son Alvin and family.

Mrs. Kenneth Draper was able to resume her duties in their grocery last week, she says she is feeling fine after her recent operation.

E. P. Cook phoned Friday and stated that his want ad, slated to run twice, had already produced results, and he would not need it run again.

Keo Auble went to Louisville, leaving on the bus Friday evening. She has recently hired to teach school there for the last semester and will begin Monday.

Gus Kiesel, bowling alley proprietor from Cozad, and Mr. and Mrs. Don Moulds, also of Cozad, were in Ord on a business mission Friday.

Mrs. Elwin Auble is taking the lower grades in the Barker school for the second semester. Her sister-in-law, Keo Auble, taught the remainder of the first semester, following the resignation of Mrs. Ivan Canedy.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schudel of North Loup visited in the L. J. Auble home Friday. Mrs. W. S. Peterson of Burwell, who was in Ord on business, also visited there.

Joe Prince drove to Burwell Friday, taking Mrs. Prince to the James Cech home there, to see her sister, Mrs. Cech, who was seriously ill. He came back that afternoon, leaving Mrs. Cech in Burwell.

Lou Hansen is now being treated at the Johnson Clinic at Grand Island. He is suffering from high blood pressure and stomach trouble.

Mrs. Ben Conner was an incoming passenger on the bus Friday evening on her way home to Burwell from a 3 1/2 month visit to her brother, Tom Anderson, who lives at Yakima, Wash.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blessing and children drove to Ord from their Ashton home Saturday to consult Dr. C. J. Miller about a gland swelling on Jimmy's neck which was bothering a good deal.

Dr. and Mrs. John Round are the proud parents of a first-born son, who was born Thursday, Jan. 11, and has been named Dennis Barclay. The young fellow weighed a little more than eight pounds.

Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker of Omaha drove in unexpectedly Saturday morning and stayed overnight at the Keith Lewis home. They had business in Gibbon so came on to Ord.

Forrest Worm got away the latter part of last week for Chicago to drive back a new Diamond-T tractor for use on his oil tanker. He planned to go earlier, but received word that his tractor would not be ready for delivery for a few days.

Mrs. Henry Frey left Saturday morning for Lincoln where she spent the week end visiting her son, Chester Frey and wife. Monday, accompanied by Mrs. Chester Frey, she left for Normangee, Tex., to visit a brother. She planned to be gone about two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Keyes, of Kearney, were in Ord last Wednesday. Mr. Keyes was looking after business and calling on friends. He and Mrs. Keyes were dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen.

Mr. and Mrs. Olof Olsson left Saturday for Omaha on business, but found the roads so badly dried that they turned back and tried it again Sunday. They came home Monday night. Miss Wilma Cochran stayed with Sharon while her parents were away.

Carl C. Dale, Valley county agricultural agent, was taken ill with flu last week while in Lincoln attending organized agriculture week and the annual county agents' convention. After suffering with the disease for a couple of days in a hotel room he felt well enough to return to Ord Thursday but had to remain in bed a few days after his return.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weller, of Atkinson, spent Friday in Ord, returning that evening to Atkinson. It was the first time in six weeks they had been down this way. To-day leaving Mr. and Mrs. Weller are leaving for Hot Springs, Ark., where they will spend ten days, going from there to New Orleans to the Mardi Gras. From there they will go to El Paso, Tex., and into Mexico as far as Mexico City. They also plan to visit Arizona, Utah, New Mexico and other western and southwestern states and will be gone about six weeks. A personal inspection of the cattle situation is Mr. Weller's prime purpose in making the trip.

L. J. and Elwin Auble, Wes Eberhart and William Vodehnal, Loup City hardware dealer, drove to Omaha Thursday afternoon to attend a convention of Frigidaire dealers held Friday.

Thursday, Jan. 11 was the 75th birthday of Thomas Jablonski of Elyria, who might have forgotten the fact entirely if his daughter, Mrs. John Zukoski of Ord had not gone up to spend the day with him.

As of November 2, 1938, there were 12,331 taxicabs operating in the city of New York.

Meaning in Birds' Songs
As a rule the singing of birds denotes some happy emotion, and thereby hangs a weather sign. When birds cease to sing bad weather is likely to come, for the birds' silence is due to depression at the atmospheric change. Birds depend more on the weather than we do, and are easily elated or saddened by it.

'Penalty' Envelopes
For a few years, from 1873 to 1877, the government used special departmental postage stamps instead of the franking signatures, but these stamps were not found to be practical and the old system was partly restored by granting the various departments the franking privilege, but requiring the use of "penalty" envelopes and making their misuse punishable by a fine of $300.

Traffic Suggestion
When driving in traffic do not apply the brakes suddenly unless it is absolutely necessary. The car behind may have less efficient stopping equipment and the result will be a collision. Keeping always in mind that the other man's brakes may be better or less efficient than one's own is a distinct factor in safe driving at all times.

SATURDAY SALE

SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

Last Saturday's sale, the market on the cattle was lower, in spots as much as 50c per hundred. The pig market was about steady. The runs at the market are lighter due to the splendid snow that we are getting and the impassable roads. But the demand is still broad and if you have stock of any kind to sell I believe the returns will be satisfactory.

In next Saturday's sale it looks like 100 head of cattle of all classes, 75 head of hogs, 4 head of horses. Be sure and watch the farm sale dates in the Quiz and plan to attend.

Mother Builds On

(Associated Newspapers.)
(WNU Service.)

THE usual crowd of loafers was sitting about the stove in Jake Blair's office regardless of the fact that the balmy spring weather had permitted him to let the fire go out. A worn, tired-looking little woman emerged from the inner office, Jake following. A bright new spring bonnet failed to freshen the woman's tired face.

"I want it built just as soon as you can get to it. And you don't need to spare expense," she said as she left the office.

The men about the stove were interested. "I believe that woman's crazy," said Bill Smart.

"I can't see what she wants with more room. There all by herself. I thought she would stop when Sam died anyway," injected Lew Beggs.

"She doesn't need the room. But she's building her dream house. And she's justifying Sam, in a way," answered Jake. "I see some of you fellows don't know the story. I'll tell you how it was."

This was the story Jake Blair told to the group of men in his office that spring afternoon: The Berry family had started life in very humble circumstances, but, as the years went by they added to their little store and by the time they reached middle age had accumulated a competence.

When he was married Sam had no money to buy the furniture for his house, but as a steady young workman he had credit and, by saving, the debt was soon paid. Then they wanted a home. As usual they began to plan modestly. Two more years of saving paid for a 10-acre plot.

"I want a 10-room house," Mrs. Berry said. She had reason for that. Her father had not approved of Sam.

"What kind of a place will you live in with him?" he had asked her. "You've got 10 rooms here."

"Sam will get me 10 rooms, too," she had answered.

But the house Sam built her had only one room. "We'll build on next year," he told her.

But when the time came a baby was coming and they had to put off building.

The first three children were born in that room. After 10 years of waiting Mrs. Berry became despondent. The pretty rooms, which she had furnished so many times in her imagination, were given up. When Bill Southern sold his old house after he built the new one Mother Berry was satisfied when Sam bought the old summer kitchen and moved it up behind their one room.

Two rooms now seemed a palace. Years passed. The children were growing up.

They were as healthy and apparently happy, all six of them. The girls entertained their sweethearts in the front room, the family retiring tactfully to the lean-to. In that front room the daughters were married. The boys went away to work, leaving the father and mother alone, their need for building seemingly over.

But with the expense of the family gone the bank account grew from year to year. Mother Berry began to talk of building a dining room. The children were coming home now and she needed room to set the table for the new grandchildren.

Father Berry wanted to build a new house, but she would not hear of it. "What does an old couple like us want of a new house?" she asked, and he let her have her way.

The summer after the dining room was built Mother Berry's father came to visit her. His first question after greetings were over was, "Where's the 10-room house?"

Mrs. Berry did not answer, but in her soul the old dream was reborn. A new room became a yearly event.

Each new room was added to the back of the house until it looked like a string of apartments. When the new room was opened for occupancy the front room would be deserted and after a while closed. The bank account was kept low by these expenditures. The children complained to the father about their mother's extravagance, but he would not heed them.

"She gets a lot of pleasure out of it," he would say. "I'll let her do as she pleases."

When the house consisted of nine rooms Sam Berry died. But Mrs. Berry was building on. "I came out of a 10-room house when I married Sam," she had said to Jake that day. She was building her dream house and through it justifying her defiance of her father, even though he was dead now.

When Jake Blair finished even the men who had scoffed were silent. They saw in the dream house of Mrs. Berry the symbol of their own defeated hopes. The house had come too late for her greatest happiness. She had the courage to accept it in the face of disappointment.

Good Neighbor Policy
Fulton, Calif., residents regard the good neighbor policy as being just as applicable domestically as internationally. When a family was burned out of house and home, 20 men got together and built a new one in 36 hours. Meals were served on the spot till the house was completed.

Proceedings of the City Council

The mayor and council of the city of Ord, Nebraska, met in adjourned, regular session in the City Hall at 7:30 o'clock P. M. Mayor Cummins presided. City Clerk Rex Jewett recorded the proceedings of this meeting.

The mayor instructed the clerk to call the roll. The clerk called the roll, and the following councilmen were present: Martinus Blemond, Joe Rohla, Bob Noll, J. W. McGinnis, Guy Burrows and Frank Johnson. Absent, none.

The minutes of the proceedings of December 1, 1939 were read and by motion placed on file.

The report of James B. Ollis, city treasurer was read, and by motion ordered placed on file.

The report of Geo. H. Allen and Clarence M. Davis on the status of the city in regard to Anderson's Island in general and regard to W. A. Anderson's claims in particular was then read. Some discussion ensued, after which it was moved and seconded that the report be accepted. Carried. It was then moved and seconded that the City Attorney express to the Park Board his opinion concerning the disposal of funds obtained from pumping gravel on the said island, and that after consideration of the matter, that the request of W. A. Anderson for a fee on said gravel be denied. Motion carried.

The matter of insurance was then brought up. Joe Knezacek appeared before the council and asked for a renewal on certain insurance that the city now has, and that expires shortly. Moved and seconded that the city renew one policy for fire and wind in the amount of $25,000.00 for a period of one year. Carried.

The matter of compensation insurance then came up. E. C. James and an out of town representative of an insurance company appeared before the council and spoke concerning their respective policies. Considerable discussion ensued, resulting in a move and seconded that the matter be referred to the finance committee with power to act. Carried.

The matter of burial permits for pauper funerals in the city was then discussed. Moved and seconded that in cases where the deceased are bona fide residents of this city that burial permits will be issued without cost, and that all cases where the deceased are not residents of Ord city be assessed the usual fee. Carried.

The fact that a bond in the amount of $1000.00 of the City's paving district is now due and that there are no funds to retire it was then mentioned. It was moved and seconded that the electric fund pay for the due bond, and retire the same. Carried.

The following communication was presented to and read by the Clerk:

To the Honorable Mayor and City Council of Ord.
The Ord Fire Department respectfully object to the action of the City in permitting buildings to be constructed within the fire zone without complying with the requirements of the Ordinances pertaining thereto, and request that in the future such ordinances be strictly complied with.

We feel that these ordinances were passed for the protection of the City in general, and that to ignore them will reflect on both the Fire Department and the City as a whole.
(Signed)

C. W. Clark, Chief.
G. N. Anderson, President.
Mark Tolén, Secretary.

The matter of the City issuing refunding bonds was then taken up and discussed. Mayor Cummins spoke at length, explaining the matter to the Council. Much discussion ensued, and it was moved and seconded that the City Attorney be instructed to communicate with the state and several bonding companies relative to purchasing refunding bonds from the City. Carried.

Tons of Foie Gras
More than 1,000 tons of foie gras or fattened goose liver come out of Alsace each year. The delicacy is also produced in Perigord and Gascony. "Fate de foie gras," its most popular form, was first made about 150 years ago, but goose livers themselves have been popular since ancient times. Formerly the geese were given a diet of figs, but today they are force fed and kept in confinement so that their livers will grow especially large.

Message Floats 170 Miles
When floods swept down a usually dry gully near his home in July, 1938, Robert Genschorczk, 14, of Colorado Springs, Colo., tossed in a bottle containing a message. Six months later it was returned from Holly, Colo., 170 miles away.

Ord City Council Accepts Bank Plan For Re-Financing

$70,000 in 3% Bonds to Be Issued Next November; Optional After 1943.

Definite steps were taken at a special meeting of the city council Monday evening for the re-financing of the city's bonds...

Present at the meeting were Mayor Cummins, Clerk Jewett, City Attorney Davis and Councilmen McGinnis, Burrows, Johnson, Noll and Rohla, and Commissioner Allen...

Prior to the presentation of the bank proposal C. E. Goodhand appeared before the council and asked that they approve the transfer of the bowling alley license issued to Tom Kelly to himself...

Walt Douthitt was unable to be present at the meeting, but asked Clerk Jewett to get an expression from the council as to how they felt about granting him a bowling alley license...

The paragraph which he read from the city ordinance is as follows: "It shall be unlawful for the owner or operator of any pool hall, billiard hall or bowling alley to allow or permit—the presence or use of any intoxicating liquors..."

Goff Hatchery Installs Hatching Equipment

The Goff Hatchery recently traded in all their old equipment and have installed four new incubating units and one hatching unit in its place...

In addition to these two James-way units with a capacity of 1,375 eggs each are being installed for custom hatching of turkey eggs, a service for which there has been much demand in the past...

Since Jan. 1, when the first government loan on 1939 corn was made, Valley county farmers have put 18,685 bushels under seal, the ACP committee announces. Loans on 1939 corn are available until March 31, at the rate of 57c per bushel...

Thursday's Storm, Continuous Cold, Worst of Season

Coldest Was -20, Warmest 1 Above, Strong Wind Blew All Day, Blocked Roads.

The near-blizzard of Thursday, Jan. 18, made that day the most severe of the winter and the worst storm noted here in several years. Low temperature of the day was 20 below zero and high mark recorded 1 degree above zero...

Main highways remained open throughout Thursday's storm, reports Roy Randolph, district highway maintenance chief, and some east-west roads in Greeley county were the only highways in his district where difficulty was encountered.

Only One January Day Above Freezing

With the end of January only one week away, the official report furnished by Horace Travis shows only one day this month when the temperature rose above the freezing point. That was Tuesday, Jan. 16, when the high point reached was 33 degrees and that was only briefly in the middle of the day...

Many country roads and nearly all township roads were blocked by the storm. Ord rural carriers could drive only small portions of their routes Thursday and Friday and even on Saturday and Monday each reported some part of his route still closed by snow...

Most schools remained open Thursday though few had their full quotas of students. Union Pacific trains ran somewhat behind schedule and the Burlington train failed to come up from Palmer Thursday...

Federal Funds for Land Leveling Now in Prospect

Technical Advice Available Also if Water Facilities Board Okays Report.

E. C. Gwillin, hydraulic engineer of the U. S. bureau of agricultural economics, E. W. Saylor, of the soil conservation service, and Glen W. Williams, of the regional farm security office, all of Lincoln, were in Ord the latter part of last week...

When it was announced last fall that Valley county and adjoining counties were to be included in the area eligible for assistance under this program, Mr. Dale and Mr. Davis immediately suggested to the state board that the greatest good which could be done along these lines in this section would be to make the technical assistance of the soil conservation service and the financial assistance of the FSA available to farmers who are already under the irrigation projects...

Both Dale and Davis are enthusiastic about what could be accomplished in this valley if the program is approved. They believe that the cause of irrigation can be greatly advanced and much more land brought under irrigation in the next year or two if the financial and engineering assistance of these government agencies can be made available to farmers of the North Loup valley.

Ord Defeats Loup City In One-Sided Contest

Playing a fast and smooth game throughout, Ord's Chanticleers defeated Loup City Friday evening at the latter town in what proved to be the most one-sided game in which Ord has participated this season. Contests to date have mostly been won or lost by a one or two point margin, but it was evident from the start Friday that the boys were there to win, and win quickly...

At the half the score stood, Ord 18, Loup City 4, and the final score stood, Ord 36, Loup City 12. Ord jumped into the lead almost at the opening bell, and the Loup Citizens never got within striking distance afterward. Romans was high man for Ord with 12 points, and Furtak was second with 6, yet they were so far ahead that the boys could have won without the points both these boys made...

Badura not only played center for the Loup City team, but he also accounted for six of his team's twelve points with two field goals and two extra points. Hinman and Evans, guards, each made a field goal, and Spotsanski, guard and Czaplewski, forward, each made good on a foul throw. Reversing the usual order, the forwards made but one point in the scoring...

Surplus Foods Now Made Available for the School Lunches

All Schools Eligible Under a New Plan; Not a Relief Program, Kruml Says.

Federal surplus commodities are now available to all schools in Valley county who desire them for school lunch programs, it was announced this week by Frank Kruml, county relief director, and any school, either rural or urban, may participate. He stresses, the fact that this is not entirely a relief program, as all children enrolled may participate if they wish and there is to be no segregation of relief and non-relief groups...

Either hot or cold school lunches may be served to children staying at school during the school hour, under any one of three plans. Under plan 1, the commodities may be secured for the school lunches and handled entirely by local supervision arranged within the school. Under plan 2, the project may be set up with supervision furnished by WPA, which plan would be feasible only in urban schools...

Any group or organization such as the Parent-Teachers association, service clubs, church societies or any other organization, or the teachers or parents themselves may sponsor a hot school lunch program. Only requirements are for equipment necessary, such foods as may be necessary for preparation over and above the surplus commodities supplied, space where the lunches may be stored and served, and storage for one month's supply of the commodities...

First step for participation is to contact County Assistance Director Kruml who has the necessary application blanks and who can furnish any information that may be desired.

Frank O. Holden's Death Thursd'y Due to a Heart Ailment

Neighbors Shoveled Snow All Night to Let Hearse Thru; Funeral Was Monday.

In sub-zero cold and with all roads in the Joint community blocked by snow, Frank O. Holden, 64, passed away late Thursday afternoon as a result of a heart ailment from which he had suffered for some time. Assisted by his son-in-law, Don Marshall, he was doing chores when he was stricken. Mr. Marshall had gone to the house and returning to the barn a few moments later found the body of his father-in-law. Death evidently had been instantaneous...

All telephone lines were down so it was impossible to call a doctor but neighbors soon organized a shoveling brigade and about 6 o'clock a car load of seven men, with John Kizer as driver, started toward Ord to notify authorities and call an undertaker. The Holden home is about 15 miles from Ord. In the car were Dan Fishna, Barndt Pierce, Palmer Canfield, Frank Messer, Richard Fish and J. L. Abernethy, besides the driver. It was 6 degrees below zero and a strong north wind was blowing...

The Petskas are among Valley county's finest pioneer families. After their marriage at the German church 50 years ago they farmed in that township several years before moving to their present home. As justice of the peace, Mr. Petska performed several weddings and in other ways he served his community, county and school district, while he and Mrs. Petska always have been noted as kindly hospitable couple, excellent parents, neighbors and friends.

Other neighbors, including Chas. Kasson, Jim Hansen, Gerald Dye, Arvin Dye, Clarence Larsen, Lars Larsen, Will Zabloull, Bill Toban, Floyd Chaffield and Bill Flock had been shoveling the road northward to the Burwell highway throughout the night, so the return trip was made by this route. Part of the way the ambulance had to go through fields, the road being hopelessly blocked, and it was 4:30 a. m. before the Holden home was reached. Two other neighbors, Lester Kizer and Leonard Kizer, did chores for the men who were shoveling snow and assisted at the Holden home, as did many of the neighborhood women.

The fine way in which people of the Joint community assisted the Holden family in their time of trouble was a splendid example of community cooperation and evidence that the spirit of the pioneers is far from dead.

Coordination Sought in Farming Program

A coordination meeting of the various agencies working with the farm people in Valley county was held in the court room Monday. Agencies represented were the Farm Security agricultural conservation, the agricultural extension service, the assistance office and the county land use committee. Also present were several representative farmers and Manager Fred Coo of the Ord Cooperative Creamery.

A representative of each program made a report of the aims and objects of his particular program which was followed by open discussions and questions by the entire group, with suggestions as to how this program might be improved and brought into closer cooperation with the programs of the other agencies and methods of avoiding duplication among the different programs.

Those from out of town who attended were E. P. Towley, FSA district supervisor; Fred Kizer, ACP fieldman and E. B. Catterston, district agricultural extension agent.

Liquor, Imperfect Cars, Blamed for Road Troubles

Liquor and old or imperfect cars are responsible for a majority of Nebraska's highway accidents, the members of the Rotary club were told Monday evening by Corporal Wetzel, of the Nebraska highway patrol, who made an interesting speech on the work of his department. Tire trouble, poor lights, horns that do not work and various mechanical failures cause most of the trouble, he stated. Careless driving, drunken driving and excessive speed are other factors. Corporal Wetzel's talk was much enjoyed by the Rotary club members.

Ed F. Beranek was in attendance again with his almost-15-years record of perfect attendance still intact. Last week Rotarians met in his Clinic hospital room so he would not be charged with absence.

Medical Meet Postponed

The 4-County medical meeting for January, which was scheduled for last Wednesday evening at Thorne's Cafe, was postponed because of weather and road conditions, and will be held later. Dr. J. G. Kruml is in charge of arrangements, and will see that all interests are notified.

Mrs. Anos Christoffersen was a bus passenger to Omaha Tuesday morning, where she went to undergo a major operation at the University hospital.

THE MIGHTY HAS FALLEN

In the death at Washington, Jan. 19, of Senator William E. Borah of Idaho, the nation loses its outstanding citizen and public official.

Ever an insurgent, he led the forces opposed to conservatism and thus maintained the eternal balance of the two so necessary to the success of Democratic government.

History, unfair when young, mellow with age, and in the generations to come Senator Borah will be ranked with those two immortals of another century, Henry Clay and Daniel Webster.

Borah was a man of inconsistencies, a man who made many mistakes. Yet these mistakes were made in groping for the things that would be for the best interests of his state and his nation.

THE JOYS OF CHILDHOOD

Recently a conference was held at the White House in Washington on the subject, "Children in a Democracy." The date of the conference was Jan. 18 to 20, to be exact, and its purpose, as nearly as can be learned, was to set up an organization to see that the children of America are given better opportunities.

The purpose of this article is not to kick about the setting up of another white collar organization at the expense of the taxpayer, although the cause is, certainly, worthy.

A general conference report on the above White House conference was prepared by the committee and sent out announcing the meeting.

Katherine Lenroot, executive secretary who probably never had any children of her own, censored the cover, and had them all taken off the books after they were printed, and explained "I simply thought it was unfair to American school children to represent them as going to their classes barefooted."

The picture to which she objected represented one boy wearing shirt and overalls, no hat, and with sleeves and overall legs rolled up. A girl was wearing a large hat, the strings around her neck and hat hanging down her back, and a short dress with short sleeves; a second boy was wearing a straw hat, short sleeved shirt and short pants. All three were barefoot.

In fact no better picture of carefree American childhood could be imagined. The picture is typical of the average school youngster during the warmer months of the year, and the very short shadows showed that the picture was taken at noon on a bright summer day.

The fact is that a very large percent of the greatest states in America have ever known went to school barefooted. Bare feet are not a stigma of poverty, but a sign of personal liberty.

It is high time that all who had the joy of going to school barefoot rise up in their wrath and told the well-meaning lady where to get off at. For years they have been trying to abolish the old swimming hole immortalized by James Whitcomb Riley on the grounds that it is unsanitary.

Attend Poultry Meeting. Mrs. Anna Goff and son Bill went to Grand Island Friday evening to attend a meeting of hatchery operators being held there at the Yancey Hotel.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Someone is always taking the joy out of living. The other day I got a big, square package in the mail and noted that the sender was my good friend Frank M. Gross of Albion. From the shape of it I thought it was a portrait and wondered if Frank had found someone with a camera that he was willing to risk in taking Frank's picture.

We are now operating under social security and unemployment laws and every new moon there comes a bunch of new regulations. Someone must be spending a lot of time thinking up things to make it tougher for business men and bookkeepers sure have to earn their money these days.

County Superintendent Clara McClatchey is eagerly anticipating District Judge Clements' arrival home from California. She can hardly wait, and when the subject is mentioned she gets a gleam in her eye. I found out why.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Valley county's crop of pheasants quail and prairie chicken was enlarged by favorable weather last year, but right now the birds are in dire need of help.

The Future Farmer boys are establishing a number of feed stations for wildlife. Richard Masin has placed several bushels of ear corn under two snow shelters made from hay.

Most of our pheasants are young and unaccustomed to severe cold. Dozens may be seen along highways vainly searching the frozen roadbed for food.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Saw a guy approach a delivery truck with high side panels with a suit case in his hand. He came from the front, walked around to the side, and with much effort hoisted the heavy suit case over the side of the truck.

Short Shavings. A man told me the other day that each week he picks out a few hens and takes them to town and sells them. With the money he goes to the elevator and buys some feed for those hens that are left at home.

The Future Farmers of America held a bake sale in Mitchell's hardware store Friday afternoon. The boys also displayed some of the articles which they made in their woodworking shop.

John Ronneau who suffered a paralytic stroke several weeks ago from which he has failed to recover entered the University hospital at Omaha Monday. His wife, and daughter, Mrs. Bernice Matern and Will Rice accompanied him.

Representatives of the state highway department were in Burwell several days last week making the preliminary arrangements for the building of a new bridge across the Loup river directly north of the fairgrounds.

Edith Lucille Robbins, of Lincoln received word last week of her re-appointment the fifth time to the chairmanship of state and local music teachers' associations.

Rev. Geo. B. Shaw wrote me a while ago. He was a Seventh Day Baptist minister in North Loup about thirty years ago. This is what he wrote, "When I went to Nebraska years and years ago, a minister of a church in Valley county said to me that he had observed that the price of corn and spiritual life was always found in inverse proportions."

Mrs. L. A. Cronk Well. To the Editor of The Quiz: As a resident of Valley county and Ord from the age of 14 until 40 is it any wonder that I have many fond memories and a warm place in my heart for that part of Nebraska?

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY. Many people come to the doctor because some little thing has called their attention to the heart; something which probably has always been present but which the person has not noticed before...

My ten children are married and scattered, my daughters Katie Westover of Emerson, Wash., my two oldest, Lee and Mrs. Edna Hackett of Ord. The other two are near me in Idaho, Belva Phillips and Vina Graves of Emmett, Allen near Boise and Ray with me at home. I have 21 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

My husband, George Howard, myself and son Gregory, now aged 3 1/2 years, moved here from Lincoln, Neb., nearly 3 years ago. We are located at 2471 Coolidge Ave., in Oakland, where we rent a 5 room house. My husband is in the employ of the Western Pacific railroad, in the special agent's department.

All of us like California very much, although at present we are having more rain than we care for (6 inches in the last two weeks). Wish Valley county could have some of our present excess moisture. Best wishes to the Quiz and all our friends in that locality. EVELYN ABERNETHY HOWARD, Oakland, Calif.

LEGAL NOTICES

Munn & Norman, Attorneys. Order For and Notice of Hearing For Probate of Will and Issuance of Letters Testamentary. In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

Valley County. Whereas, there has been filed in my office an instrument purporting to be the last will and testament of Rosetta E. Scott, deceased, and a petition under oath of Mary L. Frey praying to have the same admitted to probate and for the grant of Letters Testamentary thereon to Mary L. Frey.

It is Ordered that the 30th day of January, 1940, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at the County Court Room in Ord, Nebraska, be appointed as the time and place of proving said will and hearing said petition. It is Further Ordered that notice thereof be given all persons interested by publication of a copy of this Order three weeks successively previous to the date of said hearing in the Ord Quiz, a legal weekly newspaper printed, published and of general circulation in said county.

Throbbing sensations in the head as well as various other parts of the body, "rushing of the blood to the head," often accompanied by feelings of heat, by a little dizziness by perspiration, etc., are often complained of and believed, by some patients, to be signs that something is wrong with the heart. All these things are not signs of heart disease but most frequently point to some disturbance of the nervous control of the blood vessels. They are related to the blush of the bashful youth and the hot flash of the middle aged woman.

attention on something else. In fact, it is likely to hold the patient's attention under all circumstances. The sighing type of "shortness of breath" described above is not a sign or heart disease, but is more significant of some nervous disturbance.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

January 23, 1930. Ord's Allstars gave their best, but lost to the Warner's Roamers by a score of 24 to 18.

School code winners, Arthur Aulse, Greta Bricker and Charlotte Moorman were entertained by the sponsors of the movement, the Ord Rotarians.

The county board was opposed to paying a bounty on crows, the vote being 4 to 3. The thermometer dropped to 28 below zero, which makes our little 20 below of the past week seem warm.

Mrs. Ida Stroup, veteran Valley county teacher, was stricken with a heart ailment. Michael Perilaski, well known Ord man and a veteran of the Civil war, passed away at the age of 76 years.

Marion Cushing filed as a candidate for re-election to the Nebraska house of representatives.

Major James Misko made some valuable suggestions to the council at their first meeting of 1920. Among them was the fact that the electric plant was being operated at a profit and the water system at a loss.

With another election year in the offing, Congressman M. P. Kinkaid was sending out his picture. Andrew Medlar was in a hospital in Grand Island, where he had recently submitted to his seventh operation for a wound he received in his leg during the war.

On Monday evening, Jan. 12, Dr. C. W. Weekes opened his new hospital on the hill for patients. Having decided to quit farming John D. Albers was advertising a clean-up sale at his place 4 miles north of Ord. Now, after 20 years he is still on the farm.

A statement of city finances published in the Quiz showed a total of balances on hand in all funds of $3,576.01. It would be interesting to compare these figures with those of today. Probably we are harder up than we were then, but figures don't prove it.

January 27, 1910. Funeral services for Grandma Thrasher, aged 91 years were held at Davis Creek.

The Ord second team played the North Loup second team, the score being 26 to 14 in favor of Ord.

The preliminary debate was held in the Ord high school, the team selected being Herman Benjamin, Ralph Carson and Robert Noll, with Frank Nay as alternate. Others debating were Cecil Newbecker and Oliver Ward.

Harry Clement was the new rural carrier on route No. 2, taking the place of Malcolm Boydston. Cornell Bros., were improving the property at present occupied by the Kellison Implement company for the display of their line of farm machinery.

Mel Wambaugh left for New Jersey, having received word that his mother was seriously ill. An effort was being made to have Congress repeal the tariff on imported meats in order to reduce the high price of meat. That was done, and now the government has to control home production in order to keep the price up.

January 23, 1885. Lon Hart, recent foreman in the Quiz office, was making arrangements to start a paper in Burwell.

Tom Fox of near North Loup sold his farm for a price of $25 per acre. Fifty-five years later land sold in practically the same location for a little less than $25 per acre.

A below zero temperature of 23 degrees was reported on Jan. 19, which shows that this is the time most of our very cold weather comes.

Heddie Bros., had purchased from M. Coombs the business lot on the north side of the square between Barlow's hardware and the Standard office, and planned to put up a building there. This is the lot on which the Nebraska State bank is now located.

O. S. Haskell was having a lot of trouble getting the courthouse built and the money that was due him from same. His statement showed that he had expended a total of $5,240 on the structure, and was trying to collect the sum of $1,400 which the county commissioners had promised to pay him as soon as he had expended $2,000. The rest of the money for the job was paid by subscriptions.

Mr. Abernethy and sister of Tecumseh, Neb., (first name not given) were in Ord visiting the Packlers and looking over Valley county land with a view to purchasing.

F. J. Dvorak received a letter from his brother, Anton, of Ward, Colo., telling that the entire town burned up and his business with it.

January 24, 1890. The Ord fire bell had been taken from its tower and was not in shape to use as a fire alarm, and the Quiz suggested that something be done about it. A book by Edward Bellamy, "Looking Backward," was occupying the attention of Ord's reading public. It might be classed as a 19th century edition of H. G. Wells. George W. Hall was to take up his work as deputy county clerk on Feb. 1.

It was claimed that when the 1890 census was taken there would be 1,400,000 persons in Nebraska. However, the population in 1909 was only 1,068,539, and in 1930, 1,378,900. It will be less in 1940.

The editor of the Quiz and the foreman, Mr. Wolf, were both down with the gripe, and Miss Maggie Ramsey of the Democrat force was responsible for getting out the weekly edition.

A special school program was to be put on in Millford's hall to raise money for needed school supplies. Among those who took part were Alfred Mitchell, Everett Williams, Richard Laverly, Edith Curry, Lulu Kates, Eltie Haskell, Kittle Ager, Otis Paist, Jennie Aulse, George Nevins, Carl Harris and James Millford.

Letters From Former Ord People

From Mrs. Vernon Laughrey.

To the Editor of the Quiz: Do not think we could be called "old timers" of Ord but thought this a good opportunity to say we did enjoy three very pleasant years in Ord, being with the Safeway store there from 1930 to 1933.

We were transferred to Hays, Kas., in 1937 and have enjoyed living here very much. This is quite a school town, having a state teachers' college with an average enrollment of over 1,000 students.

We had our home in Missouri until 1939 when we went to Colorado, where W. M. continued his painting, as he does here, and I divided my time between Bristol, where my mother, Mrs. J. E. Bowen, lives, and Lamar, the home of my sister, Mrs. Esther Sterrett.

years the wheat farmers are having a pretty tough time. Mrs. Bill Schauer, Jr., was kind enough to send me a copy of the Jan 3rd issue of the Quiz.

With best wishes to all, I remain, Mrs. Vernon Laughrey, Hayes, Kansas.

Mrs. Alvord Writes.

To the Editor of the Quiz: We moved from Ord to Kirksville, Mo., Sept. 19, 1921 where our daughter Evelyn received her D. O. degree when she graduated after four years in the American School of Osteopathy. Dr. R. Evelyn Alvord practiced in Missouri until 1935 when beautiful Lexington, Ky., beckoned, and she is enjoying a successful practice at that place.

We had our home in Missouri until 1939 when we went to Colorado, where W. M. continued his painting, as he does here, and I divided my time between Bristol, where my mother, Mrs. J. E. Bowen, lives, and Lamar, the home of my sister, Mrs. Esther Sterrett.

Last October we came here to Newport Beach to see W. M.'s sister, Mrs. Ed Walker, get our first look at California and our first taste of the climate, which so far has been ideal. In her garden, attired in little but her "birthday clothes," a lady gives ample evidence of the agreeable temperatures at present.

From our window, about 150 yards from where the Pacific plays on the sands, we can see the full length of Catalina almost any day and occasionally the island of San Clemente, 60 miles away.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Alvord, Newport Beach, Calif.

Mrs. Barton Writes.

To the Editor of the Quiz: Since I received a request to write a letter to the Quiz have been wondering what I could write that would be of interest to readers of this paper.

All the folks are busy and enjoying good health except a few of the contagious diseases which are forever breaking out, and not only children are having them but a good many grown-ups and older people.

Russell has escaped all of these so far and has not missed any school this term but I hold my breath for fear he will "break out" with something most any day.

We enjoy reading the Quiz and I especially like the pictures. I suggest a map of the town printed and streets numbered in the paper some time, so we who do not know where each street is located will be able to picture it in our minds at least.

I am sending a snapshot, the only one I have of us all at present. The two children when this was taken last summer are Alan, 3 1/2 years, and Daryl, 1 year. I read with regret the passing of so many friends the past year and hope this year will prove most happy and prosperous for all of you.

From The Fred Swansons.

To the Editor of the Quiz: A copy of the Quiz was sent here and we see your kind invitation to send greetings to our many friends in Valley county.

This state as a whole is the last frontier and in the last few years there has been vast immigration and with the completion of Grand Coulee dam in the next five years there will be over a million acres irrigated and divided into farms.

We are well and like our new state very much with its vast amount of diversified resources. Enclosed are a few newspaper clippings, one from our Wenatchee newspaper about Ed Beranek's illness and Rotary record.

With best wishes to all for a prosperous 1940. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Swanson and Rosemary, 605 North Wenatchee Ave., Wenatchee, Wash.

Tells Ed 'Keep It Up.

To the Editor of the Quiz: Enclosed please find a clipping from the Tribune-Sun, San Diego's leading newspaper, about Ed Beranek's Rotary attendance.

I see Oscar Nay most every day and believe it or not he is some deep sea fisherman, comes in every day with a nice string (sacks) of yellowtail and jewfish.

How is the weather in Valley county? We are having very cold weather in Calif. at present, had a killing frost in Imperial Valley last week that ruined the pea crop.

Now something about ourselves. There are five in our family, two girls 10 and 12 years old, and a boy is 15. We all enjoy the climate and the Oregon fruits.

Very truly yours, Leo Lindsey, 1647 Columbia, San Diego, Calif.

Ray Grabowski Well Again.

To the Editor of the Quiz: We have been living out here on the west coast for the past 3 1/2 years and like it very much.

We have in stock fresh flowers for every occasion. We wire flowers anywhere.

NOLL SEED CO.

Donald Brennicks Well. To the Editor of the Quiz: As I sit writing to you it is snowing and I almost feel I am in Nebraska. It always comes down gently and stays where it falls, which is different than there. This is our second snow this year.

A large majority of people have government loans. WPA employment or timber work. Donald works at cutting shakes and boards when he can get the cedar timber.

I will soon be five years since we came here and we feel we should get located and build. We would only buy a few acres as farming here is only profitable if done on a large scale and Donald has to rely on outside work.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Alvord, Newport Beach, Calif.

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

President Roosevelt's birthday ball will be held in the American Legion Hall Saturday night. Roy Nightingale's orchestra will furnish music. The proceeds will be used to alleviate the sufferers of infantile paralysis. Cliff Fogel and Glow Fackler are in charge of the arrangements.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Thompson and family and Mr. and Mrs. Dermot Erington and family were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Hoppes.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Graber.

Loren Livermore who is now employed in Kearney spent the week end with his family in Burwell.

Mrs. Chester Hallock was hostess at a 7 o'clock supper in the Burwell hotel for the members of her bridge club Thursday evening. Prior to the supper the ladies entertained themselves with several games at the bowling alley. Mrs. Carl Graber and Mrs. C. W. Hughes won the prizes for the high scores at bridge.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Hughes drove to Omaha on business Monday. On the return trip Mrs. Hughes stopped at Schuyler where she will be a guest for several days in the Irving McKinley home. Mrs. McKinley is recuperating from a recent appendectomy.

Several persons are suffering from frozen faces, hands and feet due to exposure in the recent cold weather. Julius Sewall who lives in the Rosehill neighborhood decided to come to Burwell Wednesday on horseback to pay a debt. Owing to the severity of the weather he was unable to return home until Thursday. He froze his face, feet and hands. Raymond Walford and Carlos Olcott drove to Burwell Wednesday. When they got ready to go home they were unable to get their car started and as no other means of transportation was available, they walked home. Even though it is scarcely over two miles to their homes, they froze their faces, hands, feet and legs badly.

The Domestic Science club met with Mrs. Chester Hallock in the Burwell hotel Wednesday afternoon.

Lyman Kern spent the week end in Lincoln as the guest of his son Paul, who is a student at the University of Nebraska.

Miss Dorothy Paulin attended a meeting of the assistance directors of central Nebraska in Grand Island Thursday. The old age benefit program and the work of the assistance directors in psychiatry were discussed on the program. Miss Paulin stated that the old age benefit program will have little effect in this community. The social security program is closely allied with this and there are very few elderly people who work on a salary here since most of them are engaged in agriculture or are self employed. At the present time there is no person in Garfield county who is eligible for these payments.

Miss Irene Cole who is psychiatrist from the Hastings State hospital led the discussion on psychiatric problems. Miss Cole told the assistance directors that many people are committed to the insane asylums who really are not insane but who merely need a change in environment. She pointed out that the assistance directors could effect a large saving by placing such people in a different surrounding for a time, thereby giving the person more effective treatment and saving the expense of keeping the person in an overcrowded hospital.

Mrs. J. V. DeLashmott has been confined in bed in her home for several weeks under the care of Miss Anna Hunt. Dr. Cram is attending her.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Ashman and daughter spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Shelton.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Jones of Ord were Sunday guests of Mrs. Martha Alderman and Doris.

Ed Sime drove to Broken Bow Saturday returning with Meredith Ballard who came to Burwell to visit his step-father, John Ronneau, who is in poor health. Mr. Sime took him back to Broken Bow Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballagh and Sharon of Winlock, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark were Sunday dinner guests of Myrtle and Vivian Clark. Later in the afternoon the Ballaghs left for Arnold where they will attend the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. George Reed, who are the grandparents of Mrs. Ballagh. The Ballaghs had been in this community since Wednesday visiting friends and relatives. They again returned to Burwell Monday evening with Mrs. Ballagh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Reed, also of Winlock, Wash. Mr. and Mrs. Reed were overnight guests Monday of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ballagh and Mr. and Mrs. Reed were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Chambers Monday. These people like their new home in Washington very much. They stated that they have had a very mild winter and that snowstorms and zero temperatures are unheard of in their part of Washington. Mr. and Mrs. Ballagh have bought forty acres of cut over land. They have built a house and a barn on it. DeGovias Observe Golden Anniversary

An anniversary of more than ordinary interest to Ord people was celebrated in Omaha Sunday, when Mr. and Mrs. Samuel DeGovia observed their golden wedding at the home of their daughter, Mrs. B. Laible, 3625 North 55th street. They held open house for their friends from 4 to 8 p. m., on that day, although their anniversary was really Tuesday, Jan. 16.

Mr. DeGovia is 81, and was born in Jacksonville, Ill., and his wife was born in Ohio 74 years ago. They were married in Ord, and according to the marriage record here, Jan. 16, 1890. J. R. Fairbank county judge, issued the license. They were married by James Bowen, justice of the peace, with George W. Meeks and Charles Kemp as witnesses.

Mrs. DeGovia's maiden name was Laura Spencer. Their ages on the record here were 29 and 22, two years younger than the story in the Omaha paper gives them. This might be accounted for because of carelessness on the part of the county judge, whose records are poorly kept. They left Ord 38 years ago and have made their home in Omaha ever since.

Mr. DeGovia found employment in any kind of work that he could do while living in Ord, and, considering the fact that he was deaf and dumb, he did remarkably well. He was painstaking in all his work, and his employers always spoke highly of him. He worked for some time on the Hamilton ranch in Mira Valley. He will be remembered by many of the earlier residents.

After going to Omaha he worked seven years in the city park department, and for nine years was in the employ of Armour and company. He spent eight years giving instruction in shoe repairing at the Nebraska School of the Deaf, after which he retired from active life. Mrs. Laible is their only child, but there are four grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Letters From Former Ord People

Mrs. Waechter Writes. Olive, Calif., Jan. 4, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: Have just got through reading the dear old home paper and see that you would like the old Ordites to write you a letter of 200 words, but if I would write what I could it would take a whole lot more words than that, but will say a few anyway. We are both quite well. Had a wonderful Christmas with all the children home with tree, presents for all, and a big dinner. The children are all well, and I had my great granddaughter with me.

... Recent snapshot of a woman well known in Ord

She is Musa's daughter's child and is so sweet. They live at Stockton and she will be 5 on Febr. 16. I see a great many Ord people every club and that the last Thursday of each month. They are meeting with me this month, the 25th. Wish you could be with the bunch, you would have the time of your life.

Was to see Mrs. Jeanette Brown last week and she has gone blind. It is pitiful, and she is so poorly. Having a nice rain today. Will see what I can find in a picture to send. So will have to close, could write more. Best regards to all my Ord and Valley county friends. As ever, your old friend, Dora Lambertson Waechter.

Little Snow in Wyoming. Sheridan, Wyo., Jan. 2, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: In answer to your request for all subscribers that are away to write, I will do my best. To begin with, the oldest of the family, Clarence, and I live in three room furnished apartment. Bert lives in Lincoln, a plumber and tinner, Maude at Big Horn, nine miles from Sheridan, Edna lives six blocks from us, Perry also.

Six months tomorrow he had his left knee smashed, goes on crutches and perhaps always will. Ruth is in Michigan, Earle in Cincinnati, where he assembles planes and has a night school. Earle, wife and son and daughter and his wife's sister came in August, arrived for six o'clock dinner, which we had on the lawn. There were 27 of us.

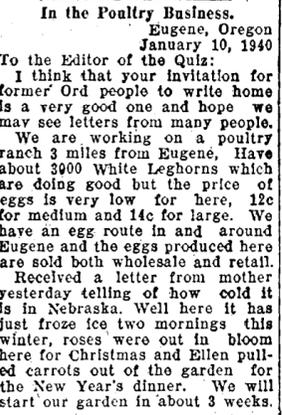

The next day all scattered around and in the evening went to Lynn's for six o'clock dinner and the next day visited around. The next day all went to the mountains, three carsloads and a truck. That night at Maude's for another dinner and danced on the lawn. The next day Earle's wife and sister gave us a luncheon at the swellest place in town. About 2:30 p. m., they started for home by way of Lincoln. The weather has been very nice. We got very little snow here and it is not cold.

Mrs. Hall Barnes, 127 W. Alger St.

In the Poultry Business. Eugene, Oregon January 10, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: I think that your invitation for former Ord people to write home is a very good one and hope we may see letters from many people. We are working on a poultry ranch 3 miles from Eugene. Have about 3000 White Leghorns which are doing good but the price of eggs is very low for here, 12c for medium and 14c for large. We have an egg route in and around Eugene and the eggs produced here are sold both wholesale and retail.

Received a letter from mother yesterday telling of how cold it is in Nebraska. Well here it has just froze for two mornings this winter, roses were out in bloom here for Christmas and Ellen pulled carrots out of the garden for the New Year's dinner. We will start our garden in about 3 weeks.

Well Known Former Ordites Pictured Here

From Mrs. Dora Lambertson Waechter, of Olive, Calif., comes this interesting photo of former Ordites. Easily recognized are Mrs. John Work, Mrs. Waechter and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sobben. Mr. Waechter, also in the picture, is a Californian and has never visited Ord.

I think our Christmas was quite a bit Nebraska as we received a years subscription to the Quiz from my folks and pop corn from Ellen's folks. As for former Ordites, we have seen or heard from, received an Xmas card from Vic Desmul, in Washington and a nice visit with Con Furtwangler's New Year's day. They are on a dairy farm about 10 miles from us. On my recent trip home I was very much impressed with the new buildings and those to be built. The library, Ag building shop and the start of the new postoffice which is very good despite the drought and hard times there is in Nebraska.

As for accidents I am still wondering how it was so fortunate for me to escape when my car was wrecked near Laramie, Wyo. Well, all for now and anyone wishing to stop and chat when out here will be most welcome and will be served all the hen fruit one can eat. Thanking you. Yours truly, MR AND MRS. JOHN CAMPBELL.

Earthquake Felt at Tenino. Tenino, Wash., Jan. 4, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: Will drop a line to let you know that we think the letter box idea very good and that we hope to read about different ones we used to know who have moved away. We left Nebraska two years ago last November. We like it fine out here. We were at Ferndale, Wash., the first year, near my aunt, Mrs. R. B. Hanscom, formerly Nema Barnes of Ord.

We came down here and Glen went to work for the Weyerhaeuser Logging company at Vall. He quit that to work for the Columbia Construction Rock Quarry as a power man's helper then as a choke setter and now as brakeman on the rock trains. The rock is loaded on flat cars by large electric shovels and sent to the Greys Harbor jetty. Wages are pretty good but living is rather high, especially meat. The country around us is rough and rocky, lots of timber, which is of course the main occupation in its different branches. There are quite a lot of unemployed people and WPA workers. It rains continuously but one gets used to it. Tenino has good schools even though it is a small place. We're 14 miles south of Olympia and 16 miles north of Centralia.

LaVonne is a senior, LaVerne a freshman and Dwin is in the 6th grade. LaVerne takes part in all kinds of sports, for which we are truly thankful, considering that he had a cast on his leg from his hip to his toe 6 1/2 months of last year, caused from a bruised bone in the knee. Mother and Dad Barnard were out last July. They accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Elzie Donner of Burwell. We were glad to see them but they did not stay near long enough.

We see Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Dugosh and baby daughter occasionally. They live at Vall, Wash. Tenino is Mrs. Nancy Covert's old home. People often inquire about her and the family. Washington has a state tax of 2c on the dollar, seemed as though I never would get used to it, always forgot to pay it but I finally got onto it. We felt the earthquake pretty strong. Certainly a most unpleasant feeling. Well, I believe that is enough, so will close. Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Barnard

From Mrs. E. G. Walker. To the Editor of the Quiz: Your invitation to the old timers to give an account of themselves is a very good one, I think. Though only a few in Ord will remember me, Ord is like home to me for we came there when Ord was only a small village, even before the railroad. Later we moved to North Loup and lived there until 1919 when we decided to see more of the world. We lived 1 1/2 years in Olathe, Colo., coming on to California in 1921 and Newport Beach has since been our home.

My son Walter is a fireman in Newport Beach and has held the position of captain of Squad No. 2 for a number of years. Alice James, my daughter, and her two girls, Dora and Esther, also are living in Newport Beach. Our youngest daughter, Edna, is a student at Santa Ana Junior college. Walter has three children, a girl of 11 and two swell twin boys. We try to attend all the Ord picnics for it is there we meet many of our old friends and class mates and enjoy going over old times.

MRS. E. G. WALKER, 116 27th St., Newport Beach, Calif.

"Hi ya' Gang," from Pat. To the Editor of the Quiz: For years I have been hoping that I would have the opportunity to send a very definite message to those boys and girls who were boys and girls in my old home town when I was a boy and who are still boys and girls to me.

They are middle aged now. Some of them are too fat, some are too skinny. Some have been successful, others have failed. Some are bald and most of them are gray around the temples. Some of them remained in the old community, others have gone away. Most of them are fathers and mothers now and one or two I am told, are grandparents. A few have joined the great majority. These are the things that a hard-boiled and practical world would say about my pals and my gals. But I am not hard-boiled and am not practical and I don't catch on to things very good and I never got very good grades in school and I am afraid that I was always considered too emotional and not so very bright. So to me they are all alive and young and slender and hopeful and gay and graceful and they are all right there in my home town hoping I will come back and play with them. I fought with them, and played marbles with them and played hookey from school with them and went fishing with them and danced and flirted with them. I grieved with them over their sorrows and rejoiced with them over their triumphs and they knew all about my faults and still they loved me and they even laughed at my bum jokes. So now, no matter where they are or what has happened since then, they are still my pals and my gals and I do so want them to understand the message. So Harry, you should not have interrupted me, this message is tremendously important and here it is—"HI YA' GANG!"

Merritt H. Fuson, 2547 Northwest Northrup St., Portland, Oregon

Mrs. Jewett Is 92. Laton, California January 10, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: I think your letter box edition is a grand idea. I left Ord 30 years ago next March and settled here at Laton, Calif., on a small ranch and am still here on the same place. My wife died in 1918 and my three girls are married and have families of their own. My mother, Mrs. C. C. Jewett is living at Flandreau, S. D., and will be 92 years old next April. This is a nice place to live but don't come here expecting to get rich over night, for it can't be done. We are having some fine rains now. We have had 2.34 inches of rain the last 24 hours. I enjoy the Quiz each week and my brother Jim, is also located at Laton. Yours truly, A. L. JEWETT.

Lived Here 11 Years. Lexington, Neb., Jan. 10, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: A lot of water has gone down the Platte since we decided to change our address from Ord to Lexington, Neb. In April, 1931, having served Ord and vicinity as agent for the Union Pacific for the previous 11 years, we decided to move to Lexington in the same capacity. We have enjoyed our years here very much but still have a longing for our old friends in Ord. Then, too, we have more than the ordinary interest in Ord and vicinity as our daughter, Fern Draper and her family, and Helen's family live in or near Ord, so we make trips to our old home town more frequent than we would otherwise. Those of you that have reached the grandparent age can more fully appreciate one's wishes to see them. We are fortunate in that all our immediate family lives within the state so we can see them often. There may be some that would be interested to know that our oldest daughter, Gertrude, now lives in Creighton, Jim and family are now in Pierce, and Fay and her family now live in Ashton. Jim's and Fay's live somewhat of a nomadic existence. Both families work for the state highway department and are obliged to move quite often. Each week we receive the Quiz, we of course read the front page first and about the next thing that draws our interest is the "When You and I Were Young Maggie" column. Each week we are reminded of some event that had almost been forgotten. With kindest regards to the Quiz staff and best wishes for a prosperous year, I will close, but first let me remind you that Lexington is the closest place in the valley to the much-talked-of Tri-County project, which should be completed by mid-summer and will be of interest to all who have the time and opportunity to see it. Respectfully Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Collipriest

Greetings from Hojts. To the Editor of the Quiz: At your invitation I will send a letter of greetings to all our Valley county friends. We came to Los Angeles on a visit in June, 1937 and are still here. The climate is ideal. Have had 11 days of rain this month and just experienced two earthquakes, but no damage done. Until recently we have had roomers and boarders and liked it very much. Our eldest daughter, Lena Kemble and family, live at Puyallup, Wash., near Tacoma. Their children, Daryl and Darlene, are both in high school, Darlene being Junior III president. They have a grocery store and filling station at Puyallup. Two of our girls live near us here. Leota Topf and family are at 7409 E. 64th St., Los Angeles, and Della Marie McIntyre is at 3740 1/2 60th St., Huntington Park. Gladys Hughes, daughter of Royal Hughes of Arcadia, came out with us and our home has been her home since. Two other Arcadia and Grand Island girls, Dora and Helen Jackson, are with us the days they are not at work. The first thing they ask when they come in is "what was the news in the Quiz this week?" We always save it for them to read. Wishing you success, MR. AND MRS. G. D. HOYT, 5925 A Seville Ave., Huntington Park, Calif.

From Newdale, Idaho. To the Editor of the Quiz: We and Loren Donner's left Ord four years ago and have lived here in Idaho since. We had a lovely fall with no snow or cold weather, but since a few days before Christmas we have had a lot of snow, about 11 inches average up to 30 inches in the mountains, but no cold weather or wind. We operated a Shell filling station and garage and business is good in the summer but slow in the winter. There is good trout fishing in all the streams and rivers around here and good elk and deer hunting in the mountains close by. Jack gets a deer every fall. We live close enough to Yellowstone park so we can drive to the park and through most of it in a day. Ralph Hatfield's and Archie Waterman's visited us last summer and all of us went through the park while there were here. Land here is under irrigation and the principal crops are potatoes and beets. Cattle and sheep are raised on higher land near the mountains. Respectfully, MRS. JACK DONNER, Newdale, Idaho.

Weather Mild in Canada. Viking, Alberta, Canada January 8, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: I wish to join your letter box edition and get in touch with relatives and friends through the Quiz, which I have been taking ever since I left Ord in 1924. My name used to be Lottie Blaha, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Blaha. My father died three years ago and my mother lives in Ord. I have one sister and five brothers, all of whom live in Nebraska. I was married fifteen years ago to John P. Rozmahel, of Canada, who is a nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Novesad of Ord. We have a family of five children, two girls and three boys. The oldest is fourteen years and the youngest is three. We live on a farm just one mile from Viking which is a very prosperous little town with a population of 500. This is a park belt area of central Alberta, especially adapted to mixed farming, although wheat is our main crop; we have had fairly good crops every year since I came here. The weather this fall and winter has been especially mild so far. I would be pleased to hear from some of my school mates and friends, and would gladly answer their letters. Sincerely, Mrs. John P. Rozmahel

Here is a recent picture of the J. B. Hager family, who left Ord 25 years ago and now live in Farmington, Pa. Mr. Hager was a brother of the late C. A. Hager, of Ord. Many of the old timers will remember John, his wife and their three children, Melvin, Wendell and Marie.

Left Ord 25 Years Ago. Farmington, Pa., Jan. 2, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: As a former Ord resident I am glad to cooperate in the letter box plan, as a number of our nearest and dearest friends have been or are Valley county residents. After living in Ord three years we moved back to our native state 25 years ago, at the time the first World war was getting under way. Since that time we have had many sad days, but many more happy ones. I taught school for several years, also delivered mail and worked for the state highway department with Mrs. Hager as my assistant in both school and mail work. At present we are both active in church work. Mrs. Hager has charge of the M. E. choir, and is teacher of the "Ladies Adult Bible Class," while I have charge of the men's A. B. C. Our three children, Melvin, Wendell and Marie, probably remembered by some of the Ord folks, are married and have children. Melvin has one daughter who is in high school. Wendell has one son and one daughter in grade school and two younger daughters. Melvin and Wendell are both fortunate in being electricians and being employed by the Westinghouse Electric Co., of Pittsburgh, Pa. They live in Irwin, Pa. Marie Hager Johnson has one daughter in high school and one son in the 5th grade. Her husband is superintendent of the water plant in their home town of Lakemore, a suburb of Akron, O. I have over one my 200 word limit, but I do want to say we are residing in a bungalow here in old Pennsylvania along route 40, the main route for western tourists bound for Washington, D. C., New York City and other eastern cities, and will be glad if any of our Valley county friends can arrange to stop and visit with us any time they have an occasion to come east. We are easily located, just within site of old Fort Necessity, General Washington's first battlefield, visited by thousands of people every week during the summer vacation. Our very best wishes to all who may read this missive. Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hager and family. P. S. Enclosed please find picture to be printed. J. B. Hager, wife and three children, viz, Melvin, Wendell and Marie.

News of Hanson Family. January 11, 1940 To the Editor of the Quiz: This is to tell you what my family and myself are doing these days as per request of our old stand-by, the Quiz. Pauline and family are still living in Santa Ana where her husband, John Cleary has had a position in the postoffice for several years. They have four boys all growing to be fine men. The older two boys, Johnnie and Paul will graduate from Santa Ana high this spring, Russell, the third is also in high school and Roddy of course is still in grade school. They are all socially inclined and have a lot of fun. Ralph my oldest son is the only one of the immediate family left in Nebraska. He and his family are moving to the old home place, if taxes don't take the land before irrigation has a chance, well—here's hoping. Seton and family live in Iowa and they all seem delighted. He has three girls and one small son, Hallen, born last spring. Ed has the only bowling alley in Oceanside. I live with him. My social contacts are with P. E. O's and Eastern Star members. Oceanside claims the most equitable climate in the world. Respectfully, MRS. PAUL HANSON, Oceanside, Calif.

Emmett Collins and son Robert, of Nampa. Until the Collins family moved to Idaho they were very well known residents of this community. Here is shown Emmett Collins, his son Robert and son Merritt, 3 months old. They live at Nampa.

Horace Davis Family Well Remembered Here. Lincoln, Nebr. To the Editor of the Quiz: It has been twenty years since we moved from Ord to Lincoln. The big house that we needed when the boys were at home is now too large for Mrs. Davis and me. Miss Laura Abernethy lives with us the most of the time. Son Mansell is married and owns his home at Columbus, O., where he has been for 12 years with the Ohio Inspection Bureau. Keith is married, is chief engineer for the Mueller Furnace company and lives in Milwaukee. He and Jennie have a son two years old and an infant daughter Richmond married last summer and is teaching in the state normal school at Kearney. He has recently undergone a successful operation for appendicitis. He is working toward a Ph. D. degree. His wife, Maxine, is a Richardson county farmer's daughter from the center of the new oil district. She is secretary for President Herbert L. Cushing at the teachers' college. The boys have always brought their families back for the summer vacation, and frequently at Christmas time. And do we enjoy the grandchildren? Mrs. Davis, Bessie to the old friends, is well but not rugged. The same is relatively true for Laura. Despite our pleasant associations in Lincoln, North Loup and Ord will seem home to us on our frequent visits. I spend about half my time driving a Ford car over Nebraska inspecting fire hazards and interviewing arson suspects. My office is in the statehouse, our home is at 521 South 29th street and friends are always welcome at either place. Well, maybe I am growing old but Jim Misko, Dr. Taylor nor Bud Shirley "dassent" say so to my face. I try to be duly grateful for my exceptionally good health which I attribute to vigorous pioneer experiences in the North Loup valley from Scotia to Fort Hartuff, and beginning way back there in 1873. What changes! Perhaps I am just far enough away to note them from a broad horizon. I believe Ord, and the whole valley, is due for a sturdy, healthy growth, free from boom or speculative fervor. Ord's future is secure as a marketing and processing center for a fertile land and a virile agricultural people, the best in the world. Horace M. Davis.

Much Corn in Iowa. To the Editor of the Quiz: Glad you sent us the order, as we have missed the home paper since we've been in our new home, but we have done without a good many things. It takes a good bit for the most necessary things to get established farming in another state. We have had to stay pretty close to shore since we came, as we are like a lot of people back there who had lost crops for 3 or 4 years. It is surprising what can be raised on 50 acres of land here when Mother Nature is kind and the land well tended. Hybrid corn is filling up the bins, new cribs and elevators. I wonder what will happen when the crops come out and there wouldn't be a corn loan. Most of the farmers in this part just raise to seal for cash, not bothering to take chances on hogs or cattle. We like it here and our circle of acquaintances is getting larger all the time. We both have lived in Valley county so long that we think it would be pleasant to be on the street some Saturday afternoon and see as many as we could, but it is difficult to leave the chores on a farm at this time of the year, and then, we are too busy the rest of the time. I just hope 1940 brings back weather like we used to have about 20 years ago. MR. SETON HANSON, Jefferson, Iowa.

P. S. This farm near Odebolt is worth making a drive to see. We visited the farm in 1938. They operate it with tractors and mules, mules. It reminds me of a circus to see so many well cared for mules. No doubt Val Pullen has told a number about it. (The above refers to a clipping enclosed which tells about a farm near Odebolt, the owner of which filed 13 government corn sealing certificates aggregating 156,659 bushels).

Subscription Coupon

We are anxious to add a couple of hundred subscribers to the Quiz list and do it quickly so we are making three splendid offers in this advertisement. Cut this coupon out of the paper, put a cross in the square before the offer you decide upon, fold your money into the coupon and send or bring it to this office. You may have one of our pink, postage free envelopes and if so, use that and save 3c postage.

Subscription coupon form with checkboxes for different offers: 4 full months for 50c, 15 full months for $2, 12 months for $2 with enlargement.

We will send the Quiz FOUR FULL MONTHS for 50c. This is for new subscribers only, but it is a fine offer for present subscribers to send the paper to a relative or friend.

We will send the paper 15 full months for $2 to anyone not now taking the paper, or

We will send the paper 12 months for $2 and give a nice 8x10 enlargement beautifully tinted, of any picture you may wish enlarged and tinted. The cheapest any firm offers such an enlargement is 98c so we think this is a splendid offer. Samples of the tinted enlargements may be seen at the Quiz office or by seeing our representatives, George E. Horton at Arcadia, Mrs. T. J. Hamer at North Loup, Rex Wagner at Burwell or Mrs. John Williams of R. 1, North Loup.

Of course any present subscriber may take advantage of the 15 months offer by sending or bringing us $2 BEFORE HIS SUBSCRIPTION EXPIRES. That offer was first made to December, 1939 expirations and in order to be fair to all our subscribers, the same offer will be made each month up to and including November, 1940. Anyone may pay as far ahead as they like on that offer at any time, the only condition being that it be done before the subscriber's time is out.

To take advantage of any of the three offers above, the coupon must be filled out and accompany the cash or check.

Irrigation Wells in Texas.

Muleshoe, Tex., Jan. 2, 1940
The Ord Quiz:
Your card and letter received today. Please find enclosed $2 for the Quiz for 15 months, ending April 15, 1941.

However, times have been better for me since we put in irrigation. Have three irrigation wells on our land that put out, each, 1,500 gallons per minute, and wells all around us as close as one half mile apart and you notice no fall in the water when they are all running.

Now this is an irrigated valley. Where shabby shacks stood there are now modern homes, lighted with natural gas, electricity or kerosene, and many of the wells are run by Beulah.

When any of the Quiz force goes south again, you are invited to come through Amarillo, Clovis, N. M., Farwell and Muleshoe, Tex., Plainview and Lubbock, and you will see a nice country and what irrigation will do for a locality.

Mrs. J. W. Gregory, sr.
P. S. A well developed Dec. 23, one half mile east of us, puts out 2,200 gallons per minute. This is to water 160 acres.

The Collins' in Idaho.

Nampa, Idaho
January 11, 1940

To the Editor of the Quiz:
We left Ord in March 1919 to take up our residence in Idaho, after living here five years we decided to go to Lincoln to live while the children were attending the university.

After their graduation there, we returned to Nampa in June 1929, and have made this our home since. Our son Merritt married a Lincoln girl and they have two children, Doris Elaine aged six and Robert Crowell who will be two

Jan. 22. Merritt began work with the Ethyl Gas corporation in 1923, and is still with them as manager of their testing laboratories in San Bernardino, Calif.
Our daughter Evelyn held a position in the state house at Bolser for some time, and in 1937 went to Baltimore to work under civil service appointment. After one year of work there she was transferred to Washington, D. C.

We have just announced her marriage on Jan. 7 to Mr. Willis M. Coons of Washington. They will be at home at 1706 Troy St. Arlington, Va., after Feb. 1st.
My wife and I are well and enjoying one of Idaho's finest winters, with robins around every day.

We look forward to the Quiz coming each week end as it keeps us in touch with our former friends and neighbors, and we are wishing you all a happy and prosperous year.

Yours respectfully,
MR. AND MRS. E. L. COLLINS.

News of Bryan Family.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
I am not a writer but perhaps you will find something interesting in this letter; if so, you are welcome to use it. Ray, Kenneth, Charles and Everett Bryans are still living at Watsonville in Wing's radio and furniture store. Arlo Bryan is working for the Del Monte company, Ray is working in a nursery at Presidio.

This is a very busy place now. It has been raining 14 days and looks like more rain and they are working to get ready for 10,000 more soldiers and sailors who are expected Jan. 15, also hundreds of airplanes. They will be stationed at Camp Ord and the Presidio to take part in coast defense maneuvers. There also will be many ships.

I do not enjoy it. We live on a hill and so can look down on San Francisco Bay and see all that is going on. Men are dressed in rain-coats, rain hats and boots, building places for the newcomers to sleep in. Danger signs have been put up for many miles.

Although rain handicaps this work it is welcomed by farmers. A. J. Jacobsen and son live here, he is a janitor. Blanche Coon Cloutman lives at Cortland, Calif. Will Coon, her father, died last fall at Salem, Ore. Stark Granger, now of Nevada City, is mining and doing well. His son is on a streamliner out of S. F. to San Pedro. There were 135 at the Nebraska picnic recently in Watsonville.

Only wish you were getting rain there like we are now—15 inches in all. But there are lots of land slides now, too.

With best wishes to all old friends—
MR. AND MRS. R. H. BRYAN,
586 David Ave., Monterey, Calif.

Versatile Humming Bird

The humming bird is the only bird which can fly forward, backward, and remain nearly stationary in the air. The tremendous speed of the wings enables the bird to perform this feat.

From Flavia Schwarzel.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
For some time I have thought of writing a letter for publication and now comes your invitation. If I run over my 200 words just cut out the least important parts and rearrange it to suit your fancy.

No doubt you who have known my brother Ord Twombly know he had a sale Jan. 17 and is moving to Pennsylvania. Needless to say, we can hardly wait until they arrive. He has two sons here, Dean, who came in 1935, is married and has an 11 months old son, works for the Champion Tool company and draws $140 per month, according to how fast he works. Hadley, who came last summer, is employed by the Talon Hookless Fastener Co., and gets over $100 per month.

When Ord Twombly leaves Valley county he will be the last descendant of a well known pioneer family to leave. As you know, our mother's name was Stacy, sister of Sam Stacy. The first Stacys to come to Valley county were five brothers and sisters, Ike, Arthur, Everett, Hattie Stacy Potter and Jessie Stacy Bowers, who with their children left years ago. Everett is located in Custer county.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schwarzel.

Then mother's branch of the family tree. There were Miles, of early Mira Valley days, Sam of Ord, Mrs. Lottie Stacy Morris and mother, and lastly three brothers of another branch, Win, Odd and Gene, the latter our foster father. All the original families have passed into the great beyond except Everett. The children and grandchildren have scattered from coast to coast, mostly going west.

One of brother Ord's daughters, Mrs. Edgar Bose, lives in Custer county, but we hope 1941 will see them located in Pennsylvania and also Mrs. Twombly's son and family, Bruce Peterson, who will occupy the Ord Twombly farm this coming year.

Nebraska was a grand old state until she began to kick up her heels and throw dust and sand in everyone's eyes, and I hope to live to see the day when she stages a comeback but I believe the day of dry farming is a thing of the past.

Since the state of Pennsylvania "went Republican" again, industry is staging a fast recovery. Wheels are turning that had been idle ever since I came here. As for ourselves, my husband is still an employee of the Erie railroad shops and I a substitute teacher for Vernon Township school which employs 15 teachers. I am subject to call on a minute's notice.

For recreation Joe plays a violin in the adult PWA orchestra and I am president of a dramatic club in a like set-up. This winter I took part in the John Stafford American Legion play, "That's My Husband" and now we are working on a mixed cast, old time minstrel show featuring Stephen Foster's songs. Foster was a native of Pennsylvania.

As for our health, we don't have time to get sick. We do not see many Ordites, as most of them went west. The Walter Packer family live in and around Akron. Eva Shuman Layton lives at Memphis, Tenn. They have bought a home and are converting it into a 3-family apartment. Clara Boydston Hardy and husband from Scottsbluff looked in on us last summer while touring the east. We are looking forward to Jessie Ferguson and friends driving up from Washington again next summer.

Hoping you will receive a big response from your invitation to write as I always read all letters from old-timers, also the "When You and I Were Young, Maggie" column.

Yours truly,
Flavia Twombly Schwarzel,
63 Williams St.,
Meadville, Pa.

Rathbuns Raising Mink.

Elmira, N. Y., Jan. 4, 1940
To the Editor of the Quiz:
We left Nebraska Nov. 1931, came to Elmira, N. Y. to open up a Karmelcorn shop, having taken the necessary training from Mr. Johnson of Lincoln, Neb., who is still operating a Karmelcorn shop in Lincoln. When we came to Elmira there was one man in the city we had seen before, Will Dennis, who has since passed away.

Our Karmelcorn shop did very well for us and in July, 1932, we opened another shop at Geneva, N. Y., a distance of 65 miles from Elmira. Geneva is a nice little city of 16,000. I intended to get the Geneva shop going good and in five or six months sell it, but I soon found it was worth more to operate than it was to sell.

I stayed in Geneva five years and eight months, during this time my wife and son, Floyd, ran the shop in Elmira, and after closing at 11:30 Saturday nights, would drive to Geneva, and back to Elmira on Sunday p. m. On June 1st, 1938, I sold the shop at Geneva and Floyd and I put our savings together and bought a ranch, two acres, two miles outside the city limits on Highway No. 17, south and east of the city.

Family Group Present at J. B. Nay 50th Anniversary Party

We are fur farming, raising mink. We have one hundred breeding females and if they do as well for us as they did last year, we should raise four hundred kits this year. We still have the Karmelcorn shop, located at 205 east Water street, Elmira, and any of our many friends that go to the New York fair this year, take highway 20 out of Chicago to Westfield, N. Y., then No. 17, the short cut from Buffalo to New York City, and you will drive right by our door.

And we unto the man that drives by without stopping, at least long enough to shake hands, if we find it out. As we have had no new pictures taken, will enclose one of our business cards, which has a picture of a mink, which perhaps will do just as well.

All the Orcutt's Well.

305 W Amridge Street
Fullerton, California
January 9, 1940

To the Editor of the Quiz:
Enclosed find the price of the Quiz as you suggested in your recent letter.

We still enjoy reading the Quiz and like to keep posted on what is going on back there, even though we have been away for quite some time, a little over 11 years to be exact.

All of the Orcutt's are quite well and manage to keep busy most of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. I. E. Orcutt.

The younger boys, Ronald and Bill are living and working near the city so we see them quite often. Harold and family now live in San Jose where he has a nice business of his own and has just finished building a new home this fall. We were up to see them recently and helped them celebrate the occasion.

This country has been getting a good soaking rain the past week and reports for more tomorrow. No frost so far this winter in the orange country so it looks like a big orange crop this year.

Will enclose a picture of my wife and myself, also one of Ronald taken Christmas day.

Yours truly,
I. E. ORCUTT.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
In reading the Quiz we see that you would like to hear from old subscribers. First let us say we do consider ourselves as old subscribers as we have taken the Quiz for over 37 years, and have never missed an issue.

Second, after being gone from Ord for about 35 years we still like to read the whereabouts and where-for of our old friends.

Although not acquainted with the new people of Ord, we feel after reading the Quiz year in and year out that we really know them.

We still have a happy recollection of the time when we were in partnership with you in the Leggett-Wisda Hardware Co. of Ord and also of the many pleasant years I spent behind the counters in the store of dear old Boss Milford and sons.

We moved to Lexington about 35 years ago and went in the hardware business which we still conduct, and although we consider Lexington our home we still enjoy reading the Quiz.

We wish the Quiz and all of the force and our old and new friends in Ord a happy and prosperous year in 1940.

Very truly,
MR. AND MRS. W. H. WISDA,
Lexington, Nebr.

Nay Family Observed 50th Anniversary Recently.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
In your paper, issue of Jan. 3, a note in regard to our 50th wedding anniversary stated that Valley county records do not show what minister performed the wedding at Ord fifty years ago. Since the Martz family was well known there will say that Rev. W. K. S. Hill, house, a Methodist minister from Iowa who was visiting his daughter Mrs. S. H. Martz, performed the ceremony, and witnesses were Fred Divine and Lillie Hather.

Enclosed you will find a picture taken at our home Dec. 31, 1939 by Fred Bell, showing the family group present at our anniversary celebration. Use it if you like and return.

Nearly 100 guests called and signed our guest book that day and we also received 37 beautiful congratulatory cards from people who could not come, also nine telegrams. There also were many beautiful gifts. Our children all joined in giving us an electric refrigerator; Grace and Ed Bredthauer, Myrtle Kinmont's son Ralph and wife, daughter Frances and husband gave a beautiful floor lamp; there were all kinds of gold decorated dishes, two coffee spoons, a gold bowl from Canada, $10 from the Martz family. Florence Chapman was at our 25th anniversary in Ord and was here at our 50th to congratulate us. At the Ord club in Long Beach many old friends extended congratulations.

We really should like to see fifty more, if all the good wishes come true. Our mother, Alice Vincent, was able to attend, and we think it very unusual for a mother to be able to attend the 50th anniversary of her daughter's wedding.

Sincerely,
MR. AND MRS. J. B. NAY,
1327 E. 83rd Street,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Big Real Estate Deal.

Marquette, Nebr., Jan. 11, 1940
To the Editor of the Quiz:
Here's a clipping sent me by the Kaisers. Maybe you would like to fill up space with it. Would like to write a letter for your exchange, but, although I can assure you we will enjoy the other letters, our life since leaving Ord has been very uneventful. To us, Ord is still home, and of course the Quiz means a lot to me, as well as Emil. However, I may try. Best wishes for a very happy and prosperous New Year.

Della Choteau.
$10,000 Real Estate Deal Here.
One of the largest real estate deals which has been transacted here in many years was completed on Friday last by C. M. Saunders, when an exchange of properties and buildings, totalling nearly $40,000 was made between R. Armstrong, formerly of Olds, and more recently of Kelowna, B. C., and Mr. W. Kaiser of Olds.

The deal included the sale of the Armstrong block on the main street of Olds and a two storey house on the corner of 4th Street and 1st Avenue East to Mr. Kaiser, who in turn sold his land, stock, implements and grain to Mr. Armstrong. The land, a section, located 4 miles west of Olds, was formerly the Jeffrey and Sutton half sections and Mr. Kaiser had farmed it since taking possession over a year ago from Mr. Herb Fisher.

Mr. Armstrong will return to Olds with his family next March to take possession of the farm, when Mr. Kaiser will move into town again and take up residence.

Former Arcadian Writes.

To the Editor of the Quiz:
While we never lived in Ord we have been subscribers of the Quiz many years. We formerly lived in Arcadia, enjoy the paper and anxiously await arrival of the postman on Quiz day.

We have lived in Loveland 15 years. Should we return to Arcadia we would find many new faces but also many friends and acquaintances. Many more have moved away or passed on of course. Loveland, a city of between 4,000 and 5,000 people, is called "the gate to Estes Park." It is 32 miles from Estes Park village and 8 miles from the mountains.

Although the past year has been extremely dry, crops were fairly good. Part of the land is under irrigation. Seemingly we had plenty of water in lakes but the hot dry weather took more water than usual and there was some scarcity after all. Some dry land wheat next to the mountains averaged $3 bushels per acre.

Not much of the winter wheat sprouted this fall as there was no moisture. We have had some good snows the last 4 weeks and some think the wheat that hasn't sprouted will make a good crop.

We have a Great Western Co. sugar factory here, also a milk condenser and two canning factories.

Every summer until three years ago I worked in the Kuner-Empson canning factory, but after that became caretaker of Lakeside park. I had been doing part time work along this line for several years. The Lakeside work and my other park work now takes all my time.

One pleasure we have is to visit the mountains. In the fall especially they are grand with beautiful foliage. One attraction is the elk and deer, as they come to lower altitudes in the fall. We have seen herds of about 150 elk and as many as 170 deer in groups of from 1 to 11. They do not bunch up as the elk do.

We are always glad to see anyone from Valley county.

Respectfully,
Mr. and Mrs. C. I. DONNELL,
Loveland, Colo.

Abernethy Girls Send Photos from the West

Here are pictured Mr. and Mrs. George Howard and son Gregory, of Oakland, Calif. Mrs. Howard was formerly Miss Evelyn Abernethy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jason Abernethy, of the Joint community.

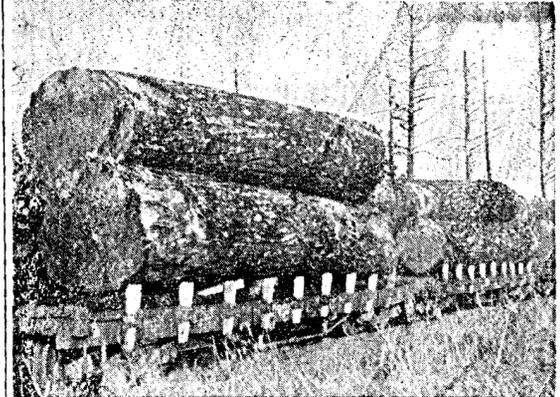

These boys are the sons of Mrs. Wilma Abernethy Hosman, who also lives at Oakland. Left to right they are Burke, Jack and Barton Hosman. Their father, Stuart Hosman, son of a former Ord Methodist minister, was killed in a California auto accident.

From an old Ord resident, J. J. Stara, who now lives in Aberdeen, Wash., come the two interesting photos printed above. Mr. Stara also sends some newspaper clippings, one of which shows that his community received 146.38 inches of rain in 1939. 1940 also got off to a good rainfall start with 2.20 inches the first 36 hours. Mr. Stara is a tailor and is a brother of Henry Stara, of Ord.

undersigned banks, and named hereinbefore,—it appearing to be for the best interest of the County—the sum of $1.00 per $1,000.00 per year, of the par value of the securities held for the joint account of Valley County and the respective depository banks, as the safekeeping fees on the same, which amount is to be paid quarterly or semi-annually, on claims presented by the several depository banks. That all checks placed on deposit in the banks are to be subject to schedule of float charges prevailing on all so-called out-of-town items, except float charges to be valued on items drawn on banks in Arcadia, North Loup, Burwell, Comstock and Loup City, Nebraska.

It is agreed that the itemized list of these float charges is to be submitted for payment to the County Board at the end of each month covering the previous monthly period. That in addition to the regular float charge, the County Board agrees to pay the actual cost of collection and exchange sustained by the depository banks that may be charged against them for the collection of checks and drafts drawn on out-of-town banks that do not pay such items at par, an itemized statement of these charges to be submitted monthly to the County Board for payment.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that the County Treasurer of Valley County, Nebraska, is hereby authorized to deposit funds of said Valley County in said banks in excess of fifty per cent of said capital and surplus of said banks but not exceeding the capital stock and surplus in any one bank and provided further bond shall be required of all banks for such excess deposit as provided by said section 3 and 4 of said senate file No. 122.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this Resolution duly certified by the County Clerk of this County be transmitted to each of the depository banks herein designated.

Motion to adopt was seconded by Supervisor Ball and upon roll call, all supervisors voted "yes" and said resolution was declared as unanimously adopted.

The matter of moving the Ord Sewing Project from the Wentworth building to the Keown building came on for consideration and discussion after which it was moved that said project be kept in present location the Wentworth building. On roll call, supervisors voted as follows: Jablonski, no; Suchanek, no; Bremer, no; Zikmund, yes; Ball, no; Barber, yes; and Hanson, no, whereupon Chairman declared said motion lost.

The 1940 County Budget then came on for final consideration and adoption, after which the following Resolution of Adoption signed by all members of County Board was unanimously adopted, to-wit:

WHEREAS, pursuant to provisions of Legislative Bill No. 26, and related acts, passed by 1939 Legislature, the County Budget for 1940 as prepared and on file at this time, has come on for final consideration and adoption, and

WHEREAS notice of hearing was given, and hearing had on said Budget as provided by law, and

WHEREAS said Budget Document in detail, has been examined and duly considered by this Board as to the minimum requirements of and for the various offices, departments and activities of Valley County Government, and as to revenues and funds available from all sources for such county governmental purposes, and

WHEREAS, it is the consensus of opinion of this Board that said document is based on actual and necessary minimum requirements, for the several specific purposes set out in the various schedules set out and made a part of said Budget for 1940.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED by this Board of Supervisors in regular session assembled, that the said Budget Document, together with all supporting schedules, as now on file before this Board be formally considered as and for the County Budget for the year 1940, and that the several amounts therein as set out in the "SCHEDULE OF APPROPRIATIONS" as necessary budgetary requirements for the expenses and costs of the various offices, departments and activities as set out in said Schedule, be hereby formally appropriated in such specific sums and amounts for such specific purposes and activities, in accordance with the provisions of and as contemplated in said Budget Act, and that a copy of said Budget in detail be made available for public inspection in the County Clerk's office. (Signed by all members of County Board).

Upon motion duly carried, meeting recessed until February 6, 1940 at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

"Swanee River" Rated with Best Ord Pictures

In "Swanee River" manager M. Biemond of the Ord Theatre hit a new high in picture entertainment. The picture, which was shown in Ord Sunday and Monday drew a good attendance at each performance, and those who saw it first did not hesitate to recommend it to their friends.

With such a cast as Don Ameche in the role of Stephen Foster, author of many southern songs, supported by Andrea Leeds, his sweetheart and wife, and Al Johnson, minstrel leader who popularized his songs, the public was assured of splendid acting, but the picture was better than most dared to hope.

Songs sung and used for sound throughout the picture included Foster's best known productions, "Old Black Joe," "My Old Kentucky Home," "Soiree Polka," "Jeanie With the Light Brown Hair," "Camptown Races," "Ring, Ring De Banjo," "Beautiful Dreamer" and "Swanee River." This picture is true to history, and as such is of great value to education.

ERICSON NEWS

Continued cold. Below zero every night and Monday morning 15 below. Highway kept open but country roads still blocked. Kenneth Miner and the county caterpillar went out to clear up some roads Monday.

The Stanek and Steward families who live in the trailer houses by the bank and are on the road work west of town went to Casper, Wyo., for a visit with relatives there the past week while the road work is stopped and returned Sunday.

Mrs. Haak and the new baby, road workers, in the trailer house next to Salter's gas station is doing fine under the care of her mother, Mrs. Dibble.

Mrs. Emerson Haller is back from the hospital with her new baby.

A number of moves have occurred in town within the past two weeks. Chas. J. Boyles moved to the Mrs. Walthers house next to McMullins and Mrs. Ike Friend moved from this Walthers house to the Mrs. Slack house. Jesse Kiel's moved from the east part of town to the Boyles place west of the Catholic church. Mr. Kiel has bought the property from Chas. E. Boyles now of Cresco, Ia. Alvin Champ has moved into the house at the east edge of town formerly occupied by All Bowman's.

A group of high school people spent a pleasant Sunday evening at Clem Lenke's home.

The community skating pond was in pretty good shape over the week end and was used by a good many Sunday.

Three basketball teams went from the Ericson school to Burwell Friday night. The first high school team played a good game but lost by 24 to 13. The high school second and the grade school also lost by about the same ratio. Merritt Austin had to be taken to Burwell to the doctor Thursday afternoon because of infection in a bruised ankle caused by an injury while playing basketball at Belgrade. Prof. Caldwell took him over and took him again Saturday. He is getting along all right now.

The high school operetta under the direction of Miss Platz was given in the school auditorium Saturday night. On account of the cold and blocked roads the attendance was not large but the operetta was well given and the audience was very appreciative of the work done.

Mr. and Mrs. Ott Oberg spent Sunday evening with the Adams family.

Mrs. Hargitt entertained the bridge club last Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Michner of Burwell, drove over to see Mrs. Wayne Van Horn awhile Sunday evening.

Carol Donner stayed at the Methodist parsonage over the week end to help with some of the work while Merritt was laid up with his infected foot.

The motor did not come at all Sunday so people did not get their Sunday papers and other mail.

There was no sale Saturday on account of the blocked roads and cold weather.

Mrs. Win. Jones fell a few days ago and is confined to her bed as a result. Mrs. Hoshaw is caring for her.

Mrs. Clark is confined to the house and Mrs. Hoshaw is looking after her.

Mr. and Mrs. Vaden Buster suddenly left for near Indianola, Ia., where his folks went recently and he has a good prospect for steady employment. They left their household goods to be sold and started away Sunday. There was a farewell party for them at Hellner's Saturday evening.

Mr. Whipple and Mr. Van Cleve in Whipple's car slid off the highway near the city dump east of town Sunday noon and had quite a time getting out. Rev. Austin coming home from Bartlett helped them out after coming into town for a chain and gas.

Church and Sunday school has been held at the Methodist church each Sunday of the bad weather but the attendance has been small. Country people could not get in. Clifford Moody walked across over the hills from Chas. Dwinell's Sunday morning to church and Sunday school.

Frank Manasil and Clark Bleach are representing Nebraska's Big Rodeo at the meeting of the fair managers being held in Lincoln this week. The men left Sunday afternoon and are expected home Thursday.

Dr. Smith reports that the epidemic of mumps at Bartlett is well under control. Darrell Dunning who has been severely ill with the mumps, running a temperature of 106 degrees, is now rapidly recovering. The chicken pox epidemic in Burwell is still widespread but both Dr. Smith and Dr. Crum report that all cases are mild, many parents not over calling a doctor when their children become afflicted. The eleven year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Brodine is practically recovered from the scarlet fever. No new cases have been reported and the doctors believe that it is not likely that more will develop this late. Owing to the prevalence of flu and contagious diseases the kindergarten was closed from Wednesday to Tuesday of this week.

The six year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Darnell of Taylor is suffering with a severe case of whooping cough. Dr. Smith is attending her.

Prayer meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Lillie Kesterson Tuesday night.

Lester Gerber who is state assistance director was a dinner guest of Rev. and Mrs. Shelby J. Light Tuesday. Mr. Gerber was formerly the pastor of the church in Naperville, Ill., which Mrs. Light attended. Rev. Light directed the choir in Mr. Gerber's church while he attended college in Naperville.

Mrs. Clifford Anderson was hostess to the members of the Junior Matrons' club in her home Wednesday afternoon. Miss Nina Nickells who toured Europe last summer entertained the guests with a travelogue. Mrs. Virgil Beck and Mrs. Russell Anderson gave a demonstration lesson on the various styles of table setting. Refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner entertained the Ord Contract club in their home Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Duncan were guests. Mrs. B. A. Rose entertained the Quilting club in her home Monday afternoon.

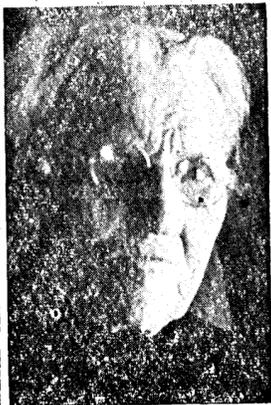

Burwell was publicly thanked for the table decorations and favors supplied for the banquet held in the Pathfinder hotel in Kearney Friday for the group attending the meeting in that city for the promotion of adult education, by A. A. Reed, head of extension department of the University of Nebraska and master of ceremonies at the banquet in a radio broadcast address. The decorations consisted of marshallow, snowmen and souvenir notebooks. Mr. and Mrs. B. A. Rose attended the meeting. Mrs. Rose addressed the gathering telling about the organization of the adult education classes in Burwell. More than one hundred educators from all parts of Nebraska attended the meeting.

Dr. S. W. Alford and Prof. W. W. Derrick livestock specialists for the college of agriculture of the University of Nebraska will address Mr. West's class of the adult education school in the new school house Thursday evening. All farmers and ranchers are urged to be present regardless of whether they are enrolled in the class or not.

Burwell Woman, 96, Died This Morning

Burwell—(Special)—Mrs. Caroline Johnson, 96 years old, died in Burwell this morning. She was born in Norway, lived the past ten years in Burwell, coming there from Anellia, Nebr. She is the mother of Mrs. Hannah Riley, also of Burwell. Funeral services will be held tomorrow, Thursday, at 2 p. m., from Mitchell's Funeral Home.

Francis Thomas has received a letter from his mother stating that she and Mr. Thomas and Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie had arrived at Dallas, Tex. Mrs. Thomas wrote that they ate breakfast in Nebraska, dinner in Kansas and supper in Oklahoma on the first day of their trip. Mrs. Nellie Collier of Westerville is also along.

For the first time in four years the Burwell Livestock Market failed to have its weekly sale Friday owing to the zero temperature and snow blocked roads. An especially large sale is planned for this week when more than three hundred cattle and a special consignment of horses will be sold.

The sale of the L. M. Bailey ranch was postponed until February 2. This ranch consists of 800 acres of improved land in Loup and Garfield counties about twenty-two miles northwest of Burwell.

Mrs. Henry McMullen gave a review of Pearl S. Buck's story, "The Exile" at the meeting of the Women's club in the library Monday afternoon. Val Kuska, colonization agent for the Burlington railroad was supposed to have addressed the meeting on "Beautiful Nebraska" but he telegraphed regrets that he was unable to be in Burwell at this time.

Although the Burwell children braved the rigors of the winter and attended school faithfully last week, old man winter proved to be too much for the grown-ups and the adult education classes were postponed Thursday evening. They will resume this Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock in the new schoolhouse. It is not yet too late for persons wishing to join the classes to do so and all interested people are urged to be present.

Miss Nina Nickells conducted services in the Methodist church Sunday morning with a larger than usual attendance. Miss Nickells told about her experiences on the trip to Europe which she took last summer paying special attention to the churches and cathedrals which she visited. Next Sunday Rev. Harold Massee, pastor of the Evangelical church at Taylor will fill the pulpit in the Methodist church.

The popularity of the vesper song services held Sunday afternoons at 4 o'clock in the Congregational church continues in spite of the unfavorable weather. The church was nearly full of people for the service last Sunday. As a special feature Mrs. Boyd McKenzie told the story of the song "There's a Church in the Valley of the Wildwood." Next Sunday the history of the hymn "Blest be the Tie that Binds," will be given.

HIDES AND FURS

Our price on hides is holding up well though the large markets are weaker the past couple of weeks.

This week we bought another lot of furs that had been shipped to St. Louis but had been returned because the price was not satisfactory. We believe that our fur price is too high for you to take a chance on shipping them.

If you have some furs bring them in and let us make you an offer.

Comstock and Ord Tied Loup Valley Conference

With bad roads playing havoc to several of the Loup Valley teams, three of last week's games had to be postponed until later dates. Comstock was unable to make the trip to Anselmo for its toughest assignment of the season thus far, neither team having been defeated as yet this season. Burwell and St. Paul also had to postpone their game for a second time, the first time on account of the Golden Gloves matches in Grand Island, while Taylor and Sargent were also unable to get together, their difficulty being closed roads.

With all the teams having met a conference opponent except Dannebrog, the Loup Valley conference standings give Comstock and Ord a decided edge over the other schools, with the exception of St. Paul, which has two conference victories to their credit in as many encounters.

Loup Valley conference standings, complete to Saturday, Jan. 20:

Comstock W L Pct. 3 0 1.000

Ord 3 0 1.000

St. Paul 2 0 1.000

Arcadia 2 2 .500

Taylor 1 1 .500

Sargent 1 2 .333

North Loup 1 2 .333

Burwell 1 3 .250

Dannebrog 0 0 .000

Scotia 0 3 .000

Loup City 0 3 .000

Ord Leads Mid-Six.

The Mid-Six Conference race seems to be a nip and tuck battle between Ord and St. Paul, both having won two conference games without a loss. St. Paul conquered last year's champions by defeating Ravenna but has its toughest game ahead, that with Ord. Ord will tangle with the Ravenna lads on Friday of this week and this game may throw a different light on the conference outlook. Mid-Six standings:

Ord W L Pct. 2 0 1.000

St. Paul 2 0 1.000

Broken Bow 1 0 1.000

Ravenna 2 1 .666

Arcadia 0 2 .000

Basketball Scores.

The following is a list of games played last week and the resulting scores, as compiled by Syl Purtak. Shelton 17, Dannebrog 15; Comstock 27, Taylor 8; Ravenna 19, Loup City 11; Arcadia 50, North Loup 25; Arnold 32, Broken Bow 22; Elba 35, North Loup 9; Dannebrog 33, Wood River 27; Burwell 34, Ericson 13; Ravenna 38, Arcadia 18; Ansley 24, Broken Bow 16.

Mohammedan Worship

Music plays no part in the typical religious service of orthodox Mohammedans. Every man professing Mohammedanism, or Islam as it is known to its adherents, is required under ordinary circumstances to perform divine worship five times every day. Only on the Sabbath is it required that the daily religious ceremonies be performed in a mosque. The mosque service, like private prayers, is not performed under the direction of a priest. It consists of various recitals, ejaculations, ablutions and physical exercises on the part of the worshiper. Women take no part in the formal religious services in Islam.

Gretna Green

Modern Gretna Greens get their name from a small village in southern Scotland which became a favorite place for eloping couples from England after the English Marriage law was revised in the Eighteenth century. Many of these runaway marriages were performed over the anvil of the village smithy in Gretna Green, by a Scottish law which held a man and woman legally married if they exchanged vows before a witness.

Basketball Strenuous

Basketball, as it is played today, is no game for weaklings. Tests made while the Indiana quintet was playing Northwestern and Iowa revealed that Center Bill Menke traveled 3.87 miles against the Wildcats, and Paul Armstrong, sophomore guard, covered 3.53 miles against the Hawkeyes.

The Color Buff

The name buff as applied to a color was derived from the word buffalo—the common ox of the old world which differs from our American buffalo or bison. The original application of the word buff meant a soft light leather of the chamouis type—commonly used for soldiers' uniforms in olden days. Likewise the word tan is an ancient term referring to the color of the ox hides tanned with an oak solution.

"Sky Dance" Is Tops

The "sky dance" of the woodcock is probably without parallel in all nature. A peculiar burred note announces proximity of a courting male bird. The calls are repeated at regular intervals. Presently they will give way to a musical twittering sound. The bird will then circle to 100 or 150 feet, twittering. The twittering will grow louder. The bird is plummeting to earth and will pitch at almost the identical spot he took off. Then the entire performance will be repeated.

An Opuscle

An opuscle is a short treatise or other literary or musical work. The word is accented on the second syllable.

Council Oak Store Will Move to New Location

By virtue of an arrangement entered into between the Council Oak stores and J. L. Langer, the former is taking over the stock and fixtures of Mr. Langer and will move to the former Langer location as soon as some changes are made in the building to suit the new proprietors.

The plans call for a new front to be installed in the building, and new shelving will be put in throughout, standardizing the store as much as possible with other Council Oak stores in this territory.

Recently a change was made in the personnel of the store force, when Jerry Samia quit because of the fact that his father is moving to Wyoming and Jerry wants to go with him and help him farm.

Women Cannot Serve on Nebraska Juries; Panel Here Illegal

Although women have the franchise in Nebraska they cannot legally serve on juries and therefore the Valley county jury panel drawn up recently is illegal and will have to be changed, it now develops.

The statute governing selection of jurors explicitly states that only "male persons" may serve, County Attorney Misko says.

Ord Volunteer Firemen Will Give Annual Ball

Mrs. Ed Burrows New Fieldwoman

Appointment of Mrs. Inez Burrows as Valley county AAA farm-fieldwoman was announced today by the Agricultural Conservation committee.

"All women whether they live on the farm or in town, have a stake in the farm program," he said. "Farm women are interested from the standpoint of better incomes for their families and they also are concerned with the creation of better farm homes through soil conservation practices.

"We realize," Mr. Veleba continued, "that in the past we have not devoted a fair share of attention to farm and town women in providing information concerning the operations and objectives of the farm program.

Mrs. Burrows' background provides excellent qualifications for her new work. She has lived on a farm a number of years and her present home is on a 320 acre farm in Davis Creek precinct.

Hopper Infestation 15 Per Cent Lower

Grasshopper infestation in Valley county in 1940 will be 15 per cent lower than last summer, on the basis of reports made recently by state and federal entomologists who made an adult hopper count here last August and an egg count in October.

Garfield, Loup and Wheeler counties will have fewer grasshoppers than in 1939 but Sherman county will have 30 per cent more and the Custer county outlook is worse also, the entomologists say.

3c Dividend Paid Burwell Butter Factory Patrons

Jewett Gets Buffalo Robe

Some time ago the Quiz carried the story of how Rex Jewett went up to the government reserve at Valentine and bought a bison in order to have the meat for a feed for his Boy Scouts.

Many Pheasants Starved to Death Jewett Believes

Sportsmen Should Scatter Feed if More Snow and Extreme Cold Weather Come.

Rex Jewett and Richard Albers have been spending some time checking the pheasant population this winter. Each Sunday they make a drive over the roads along the north side of the river, from the Albers place north of Ord to a point about 5 miles beyond Sumter, approximately 20 miles of road.

A number of pheasants were distributed up and down the North Loup river early in October. Five hundred of the birds were brought from Norfolk in a truck and were released in groups of 20 in various places where feed and water were available.

Of interest is the fact that Jewett and Albers claim they have seen no Mongolian pheasants on recent trips, and it is their opinion that the severe winter weather is destroying them.

These birds were put out for the benefit of the county, and there was a sufficiency of natural feed for them at the time they were released. However, since the snow came much of this feed has been covered up and it is believed that some of the birds are actually starving.

Jewett is of the opinion that cats, hawks, coyotes and other predatory animals and birds are doing more to reduce the pheasant population than the lack of feed. He bases this not only on his own observation but also on facts and figures put out by the state fish, game and reforestation commission.

Jewett and Albers have been watching the big slough in the Albers place for some time. They found that a number of cats made their home there, and that they were apparently tame cats "gone wild."

One of these was an old resident who had evidently been wild for a long time. They stalked him for some time before they got in a shot that brought him down. Later they found his den in an old culvert, and found ten feet more of the culvert crammed with bird and pheasant feathers and rabbit fur, showing how much damage he had done.

Crows and jackrabbits are a source of economic loss also, Jewett claims. These, by working on the crops just as they are coming up, cause a loss far in excess of the amount they actually eat for food.

Case of Scarlet Fever. Miss Alberta Flynn became sick last week and Dr. C. J. Miller, who was called, pronounced it a case of scarlet fever.

Poultry Packing Plant Impractical for Ord—Coe

To make installation of a poultry killing and packing plant profitable in Ord, capital of $150,000 to $200,000 would be necessary in the opinion of Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord Co-operative Creamery company.

Equipment cost would not require this much money but much refrigerated storage space would be necessary and vast stocks of poultry would have to be frozen and kept in storage until prices reached profit levels.

Mr. Coe also reported on the national livestock show held recently in Denver and praised the Valley county 4-II club boys who exhibited calves there.

When the Indians dismounted and in spite of the protests of the family, crowded into the house and ate everything in sight. They even caught and ate most of the chickens, which were very valuable on the frontier.

The next day a force of sixteen men was mustered, and they started early in the morning, catching up with the Indians near Pebble Creek, 3 miles north of the present site of Burwell.

The Pebble Creek fight led the settlers to petition the government for a fort on the North Loup river for the protection of the territory.

Taps Sounded Friday for the Last Survivor of Pebble Creek Indian Fight.

A wave of profound regret passed through the towns up and down "the trail of the loep" Saturday, when the word was passed that the last survivor of the historical battle of Pebble Creek had gone to his reward.

The name of George W. McAnulty is connected with the history of the North Loup valley from the coming of the first settlers down to the day of his death, when his last efforts were directed toward securing the historic site of Fort Hartsuff for a state or national park.

McAnulty first came to the Loup valley and took a claim two miles southeast of what later became the village of Burwell early in 1873. He later relinquished this claim, which was taken up by Jim Barr.

At that time there were settlers in the Godenow neighborhood, and others on the east side of the river near the mouth of Jones canyon, later to be known as Willow Springs.

The Indians dismounted and in spite of the protests of the family, crowded into the house and ate everything in sight. They even caught and ate most of the chickens, which were very valuable on the frontier.

His warfare over, Mr. McAnulty chose to make his home near Scotia, Nebr., where he remained a citizen for the remainder of his life.

Surplus fruits belonging to the Surplus Commodities corporation are available for distribution to the Burwell schools and the country schools of Garfield county according to Miss Dorothy Paulin, assistance director. The fruits which are now available are oranges, apples and pears. These fruits are distributed without cost and are to be given to all children who eat their noonday meal at the schools, regardless of the financial condition of the children's parents.

Cecil Naab, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Peter Naab, is now employed in the Agricultural Adjustment Association's office where he will assist with the work for several weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Douglas visited relatives in Franklin Sunday. A party, sponsored by the Riverside club, will be held in the Mr. and Mrs. Eben Moss home Friday evening.

The special session of the legislature has made it possible for the assistance checks given to the dependent children and the aged in Garfield county to be raised 17 per cent, according to Miss Paulin the assistance director. Miss Paulin states that these people who heretofore have been receiving but 83 percent of their approved budget will now receive the full amount originally approved for them. No increase will be made in blind pensions as these people have already received their full budget, according to Miss Paulin.

Leslie DeLashmatt who attends Doane college at Crete came to Burwell Friday evening to spend the week end with the home folks. He returned to Crete Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Johnson who went to Omaha to attend the Nebraska Hardware association convention. Mr. Johnson is one of the directors of the association. George Rhode is assisting Dwight Johnson in the hardware store while his brother is away.

Miss Dorothy Paulin drove to Hastings Saturday evening where she spent the week end visiting friends and relatives. She was accompanied by Miss Nina Nickells who stopped at Kearney where she visited Miss Ellen Green who is attending the State Teachers College.

Frank Hansen who is enrolled at Hastings College spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elfin Hansen. Mr. Hansen has been quite sick with sinus trouble.

The warmer weather Monday drove the frost further into the ground and froze four service pipes in Burwell, according to Don Cain, a municipal utility employee. The pipes which were frozen were those which brought the water from the mains to the residences. Mr. Cain advises people to run a quantity of water out of the faucets if the water appears to be running slowly or they believe that there is any danger of it freezing in the pipes.

Jack Messenger made a business trip to Scottsbluff Friday. His uncle, Claud Smith of Bridgeport returned to Burwell with him Sunday where he will spend several days visiting relatives.

Preachers evidently have no pull with the weather man. Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie, Mrs. Nellie Collier and Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Thomas went to Texas several weeks ago to escape Nebraska's winter weather only to find that Nebraska's weather followed them right down into Texas. These people write that Texas is experiencing zero temperatures and that it is snowing in parts of Texas where it has scarcely ever been known to snow before. The natives tell Mr. Wylie that this weather is very, very unusual but that does not make him feel any warmer. These people are expected home by Sunday. Rev. Harold Massey, pastor of the Evangelical church at Taylor, filled the pulpit in the Methodist church last Sunday.

Rev. Shelby J. Light experienced a rather busy day Sunday. In the morning he taught a Sunday school class and preached at Burwell. At 12:30 he officiated at the wedding of Vera Scofield and Cameron Woods. Next he drove to Scotia where he preached the funeral sermon for George McAnulty, returning to Burwell a little late for the vesper song service which Rev. Heinze had already commenced. At 7:15 in the evening he was in Taylor where he spoke at the young people's meeting in the Congregational church where an hour later he conducted evening worship and preached another sermon.

Mrs. John Kokes and Buster, Mickey and Betty and Mrs. Hans Anderson of Ord were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Blaha and family Sunday.

The New Century club will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Lloyd Carriker. Mrs. Clarence Jurgensen will serve as assistant hostess.

John Ronneau was brought home Saturday from the University hospital at Omaha by Will Rice and Mrs. Ida Steffen. His wife and daughter, Mrs. Marion Matern, who had been in Omaha with Mr. Ronneau also returned. The doctors were unable to do anything to improve Mr. Ronneau's health. Fred Nordick is assisting at the Ronneau home. Mrs. John Ronneau, sr., of North Bend, who is Mr. Ronneau's mother, his sister, Mrs. Archie Clements of Battle Creek, Mich., and his brother, Jack Ronneau of Grand Island, visited Mr. Ronneau Sunday.

Mr. Manasil drove back a new Ford pickup from Omaha, which has been sold to H. A. Peltys.

Mrs. Johnson, Who Spent Twenty Years in Wheelchair, Dies

A life span lacking less than four years of a century ended January 24 when Mrs. Caroline Johnson, who spent her last twenty years in a wheelchair, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hannah Riley. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Shelby J. Light at Mitchell's funeral home Thursday afternoon. Rev. and Mrs. C. Heinze sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Going Down the Valley One by One." Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery.

Mrs. Johnson had endeared herself to all who knew her by her cheerfulness and her philosophy of life. Her years were filled with much suffering, loneliness and hardships which she bravely bore.

She was born at Bergen, Norway, December 1843, where she spent the earlier years of her life. At the age of fourteen she was confirmed in the Lutheran church. When she was twenty she left her native land and came to America Landing at Quebec she later went to Beloit, Wis., where a group of Norwegians had made their homes. Here she met her husband John Johnson to whom she was married, December 17, 1881.

One daughter was born to this happy family who were soon to know trouble and grief for in 1884 Mr. Johnson was killed in a railroad accident. Mrs. Johnson was left alone in a strange land with an infant daughter to support.

Shortly afterwards she came to Holt county, Nebraska where she lived until 1920 when she moved with her daughter to Long Beach, Calif. In 1930 Mrs. Johnson moved with her daughter to Burwell where she has since made her home.

Although she was confined to a wheelchair as a result of arthritis, Mrs. Johnson was exceedingly resourceful in finding work to do. She learned to mop the floor, bake bread, wash and iron clothes and to do many other household tasks in her wheelchair. She did beautiful needlework but owing to failing eyesight she was forced to give this up during her last years. She was happiest when busy.

Although distance and ill health did not allow her to attend the services of the church of her choice she exemplified her faith in her daily living. She was kind and thoughtful of others and very appreciative of any small kindness shown her.

While her last days were long, tedious and lonesome she never complained but waited patiently for the time to come when she could join the friends who had gone before her.

Papa and Mama One-Star Send Sioux Indian Doll to Mrs. Igenfriz for Burwell Library

Mrs. Clyde Igenfriz wanted an Indian doll to add to the collection of dolls in the Burwell public library. As she lived for many years among Indians in the Rosebud Reservation in South Dakota she understood their ways. Last year she approached the Indians who performed at the rodeo and asked them if they had any dolls for sale? They had none. While visiting with the Indians in their own tongue Mrs. Igenfriz discovered that they were acquainted with many of her Indian friends. She gathered up some old beads, shells and pins and two old fur coats for which she had no use and gave them to the Indians.

Last week she received a package in the mail. When she opened it she was delighted to find that it contained an Indian doll and three pairs of doll-sized moccasins and a letter from the Indian woman to whom she gave the gifts last August. The doll which is made of buckskin is a Sioux type having human hair (which Mrs. Igenfriz washed in gasoline).

The letter was written by a sixteen year old girl who is a junior in the St. Francis high school. Mrs. Igenfriz says that the letter is written in beautiful script but that some of the expressions are unusually quaint. The girl's father graduated from the Carlisle Indian school. The letter is signed "Mike Papa One Star, Lucy Mama One Star, Marie Sister One Star, Mae Sister One Star, and Lloyd Brother One Star."

Comes Long Distance For Practice Teaching

R. Jacob, a student in St. Olaf's college at Northfield, Minn., was a bus passenger to Burwell, where he was going to put in the three weeks practice teaching required by college students under the Nebraska state law. Mr. Jacob is a cousin of Melvin Struve, instructor in music at Burwell, and will do his practice teaching in that department. He preferred Burwell, as he could teach and visit his cousin at the same time.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Mrs. Overton Writes.
To the Editor of The Quiz:
Perhaps a few lines from me might be of interest to some of the old timers, as I was the first woman to get a marriage license in Valley county and was married to William A. Hobson on Aug. 10, 1873. Mr. Hobson died ten years later.

In April, 1873 I came with my father and mother, the R. W. Bancrofts, to Valley county. Father and mother have gone to their reward long ago. Twenty years ago I went to Bangor, Mich., to make my home and there my husband, Mr. Overton, passed away. I have made my home there except during winters, spent in Florida and with my children, Mr. and Mrs. May Harris. You will remember them as May and Cora. This fall, Dec. 8, I came here to spend the winter with them—will return to my home in Bangor some time in March if all is well.

I would love to see some of my Ord friends if they come my way. Mr. and Mrs. Homer Leggett called on me; how glad I was to see them. Come again and stay longer for I won't be there many more years. I am 83. May and Cora have a lumber yard here but May is poorly. They have good help. Cora is the main spark in the business.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Emma Seiver Overton,
Loury City, Mo.

QUIZ FORUM

Smash Up The Fast Cars.
To the Editor of The Quiz:
Just about 21 years ago we were reading war propaganda very similar to that we read and hear today, the main difference being that now we get six times more of it and hear it ten times faster because of the radio. Twenty years ago, it should be recalled, we heard the story that a young man from Garfield county serving with the American army in France had been captured by Germans and that his eyes had been pricked and his tongue cut off. Of course it was only propaganda circulated to keep people in a fitting mood for war. As it happens, that same young man now lives at Ogallala, Neb., can see very plainly and manages to wag his tongue very nicely in two languages.

The duty of the whole U. S. today is to keep our young men at home. They have no business going across the ocean now, just as they had no business going there twenty-one years ago. Our Legion men were across and did their duty faithfully. As result of their war experiences the war craze was pretty well wiped out in this country, but a tiny root or seed was left to sprout new trouble, which we are getting now.

If anyone wants to paddle a canoe into the war zone, just let him do it at his own risk. Keep our boys at home. If any American conducts business in Europe let him do that at his own risk too; there is no reason why the rest of us should guard it for him.

Now that the arms embargo has been lifted and they are supplied with war material they will slaughter, squander and plunder to their heart's content. Why so much concern here over the European troubles? They didn't seem so much concerned over there when the aggressor started; was it that he started on such a small scale that it was not worth while to be concerned?

Our neighbor governor has been pleading for funds for his people who are working on hungry stomachs. I wonder who gets the support first?

There is a lot said about public safety on highways and that is very important, I should say, since it sure costs a plenty to build race tracks for racing cars. There is only one cure for safety and that is for public to take mauls and smash up every vehicle which travels over 40 miles per hour. A driver who has to travel 90 miles per hour has to have the whole highway and if you cannot give him plenty of room then you are out of luck.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

The six acre tract of land and the buildings belonging to the Will Preston estate and located at the west end of main street was sold at auction Thursday afternoon, Carrol Karre of north of Ord, bidding it in for $322.50. The buildings were then sold, the house going to Kenneth Koelling, the sale barn to Lawrence Mitchell, the cattle shed to Chris Larsen and the hog house and scales of V. W. Robbins. The round corner of the new Ord-North Loup highway makes it necessary to move the house and barn. Mr. Karre kept the garage and wash house. It is not known what he plans to do with the property but much of it can be irrigated. Some personal property was also sold at the sale which was cried by M. B. Cummins. Mrs. Preston is in Denver with the Robert Preston family. Naomi Mitchell and Irma Baller are administering the estate.

Mrs. Elizabeth Harding went to Ord on the Friday morning bus to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hadsen.

School attendance was poor last week in both the grades and the high school because of the cold weather and also because many had the flu. The home economics class are studying dinners and baked bread, rolls and cakes. Friday they baked angel foods and butter cakes and after school ate them. Each girl made rolls and cakes over the week end and took Miss Green samples of each Monday morning. Four students from the seventh and eighth grades are working on spelling to enter the contest in March. They are Fern Sims, Esther Taylor, Marjory Hamer and Erlene Hawkes. Miss Beulah Porter and her sixth grade pupils have gotten acquainted and the work is going on as though there had been no change in teachers. The third and fourth grade pupils under the direction of Mrs. Manchester are working on a Mexican unit and beside the art work they are doing know the meaning of hacienda, siesta, peon and many more. A large number of pupils carried their lunches during the cold weather. It is possible that the North Loup schools will serve hot lunches in the near future.

Mrs. A. L. Willoughby has been a victim of the flu the past week. Sunday Mr. Willoughby went to Omaha with cattle and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine stayed with Mrs. Willoughby.

The economists are trying to find out which way land values are headed. At present they seem to think that land will not rise in price much, and have a number of good reasons for this belief.

They hint that other countries are apt to purchase less from us. Substitutes may be found for agricultural raw materials. The population of this country will stop growing, and there will be fewer mouths to feed. Farmers will buy more tractors, and have fewer horses to eat up their harvest. But production per acre will increase, because of improved crops, animals and farming methods.

Polks buying land will want a higher return from their investment because they won't expect it to mount in value. The slump in farm real estate after 1920 is sufficiently fresh in the minds of investors to keep them from bidding very strong for a while.

Many of those farms are also poorer today due to erosion, moisture, and fertility loss. At the same time, taxes, and other expenses of farming have become greater.

Considerable land is pressing the market, and much more will be offered for sale if prices strengthen a bit. This includes farms which lending agencies have had to take over, and those tied up in estates.

Offsetting these factors are some changes which are apt to boost the price of farm land.

More persons are becoming inflation-minded, and are putting their money into real estate, to guard against currency de-valuation.

The purchase of land is being made easier by reduced interest rates, lower cash requirements and plentiful supplies of credit.

The war may help some farm prices temporarily and thus hike land sales.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Brown were to sail from New York on the steamship Vulcania, Jan. 20, enroute to their missionary work in the Ivory Coast sector of Africa, according to a story printed in the Jan. 20 issue of the Pentecostal Evangel. Burwell Young People Enjoyed Snow Sports

Burwell young people took full advantage of the snow that covered the ground throughout January, as these pictures prove. The top picture shows an old-fashioned cutter which the father of Mrs. John Thompson owned more than 30 years and it was second hand when he got it. The boy on the horse is John Thompson, jr. His older brother William is driving and the passengers are Nellie Becker, Donald Hansen and Arthur Becker. Almost all the children in Burwell have enjoyed a ride in this sleigh or have the promise of one.

A bicycle frame and it has supplied boys of the neighborhood with many happy hours of play.

The little man on the right is Leslie Hald, 8-year-old son of Mrs. Ruth Hald and the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Phillips. His headgear was made by his grandmother from an opossum pelt. The "dingbat" on which Leslie is riding is known as the ice-scooter. His father made it out of an old

January Was Cold Month, the Official Record Proves

Today is the final day of one of the coldest Januaries in recent years, according to figures furnished by Horace Travis, weather reporter. The month started with 12 above for a high temperature, and 4 below for the low, and from that start it seemed to grow worse. If it had not been for the warm weather of the past week a real record might have been set.

The month of January, 1936, started out warmer than the past month did, but it wound up plenty cold to set a monthly low average of 1 1/2 degrees below zero. The high average for that month was 7.3, and the mean average was 2.9 above zero. The past month showed a low average of 3 above zero, a high average of 17.2 above zero and a mean average of 10.1 above zero.

The lowest temperature recorded for the month was 20 below on Jan. 13, and the highest was 45 above on Jan. 30. Below zero temperatures were recorded on ten days, and two days, Jan. 18 and Jan. 24, the mercury remained below zero all day. The lowest temperature on Jan. 11 was 30 above, but the highest that day was only 31. Above freezing temperatures were recorded 5 days, four of them coming in succession at the end of the month.

The snowfall for the winter shows 3 1/2 inches on Dec. 23, and 3 1/2 inches on Dec. 26; Jan. 2, 3/4 inch; Jan. 6, 2 inches; Jan. 7, 3/4 inch; Jan. 17, 3 1/2 inches. This made a total snow to date of 13 inches, with a moisture content of 1.29 inches. The total amount of moisture last January was .65 of an inch.

The month of January, 1939, shows a marked contrast to the one just closing. The month started out with a high of 60 on Jan. 1, which dropped to a low of 23 that same night. The lowest recorded temperature was 8 above on Jan. 15, and on three days the low temperature did not go below freezing. The first month's moisture for 1940 doubled that of the same month last year, which is an encouraging sign.

Brief Bits of News

Sumter—The Will Novak family have been enjoying a visit from her sister, Mrs. Mary Hageman, from Poole, Alberta, Canada, her son Charlie of Calgary, Canada, a daughter, Mrs. A. B. Genz and daughter Aileen. Their arrival was a great surprise to Mrs. Novak as she received a letter from them only two days before their arrival and the letter said nothing of their trip. This is Mrs. Hageman's first visit to Ord since her mother, Mrs. Verzal, died in 1922, and Mrs. Genz first trip since she left here 39 years ago. While they enjoy their visit here immensely, Mrs. Genz says it is much colder here than in Canada, which makes it difficult for them to get around and see all their relatives. Among those they have visited or who have visited them in the Novak home are Mrs. Frank Worzel and family, of Comstock, Mrs. John May and family, of Burwell, Mrs. Joe Verzal's family, Sophie May, Mrs. Ina Klimek, and also some relatives at Stuart. Sunday they left Ord for Lincoln and Omaha, where they were to visit Mrs. Anna Schwalter and son John, and from there were going to Sibley, Ia., to visit relatives of Mrs. Genz' husband before returning to Canada. Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benn were supper guests at Will Novak's and to visit the Canada folks. Sunday Mr. and Mrs. John Edwards and Bernadine spent the afternoon there.—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Meese and Rita Meese were at the John Edwards home Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. George Houtby, Frances and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevenker spent Sunday afternoon at Lyle Aube's.

Round Park—The Katon Setlik family were Ord visitors Friday.—Mary Lukesh was a Sunday visitor at the Anton Kolar home.—A large crowd attended the dance at Comstock Sunday night, given by the St. John's club of Sargent, and Will Sedlacek won the radio.—Mrs. Henry Setlik is reported to be recovering from a major operation performed recently at the Miller hospital in Ord. Mrs. Joe Knopik and Bernice Setlik are helping out in the Henry Setlik home while she is ill.—Charles Brown took a load of feed to the Comstock mill to be ground Saturday.

Pleasant Hill—Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Helleberg and son Richard, of Elyria, and Herbert Goff and Wayne were dinner guests Sunday at Alex Brown's. Bert Williams, Horace and Lester were there in the afternoon.—Glenn Egloff attended the Archer Petroleum company convention in Omaha last week, Harold Siegel doing the chores while he was away.—Grace Williams spent the week end at home.—Thelma Richardson visited her sister, Mrs. Herbert Goff, over the week end.—Elwyn Williams went up to the Jay Davis farm Monday to work.—The Clyde

Presbyterians Observe Young People's Day

For twenty years, the Presbyterian church has had a special day for their young people. This year 500,000 Presbyterian youth observed Jan. 28 as young people's day, and the local group cooperated by taking complete charge of the morning's worship service. The theme, "Christus Victor," was the one used at the international youth conference at Amsterdam last summer. David Milliken served as leader and Warren Allen and Wilma Ollis gave the main talks. Mary Miller sang a solo, and the choir presented an anthem, "Soldiers of the Cross Arise." Others taking part in the program were Kay Hurlbert, James Ollis, Katherine Work, Edwin Stewart, Gould Flagg, Patricia Frazier, Phyllis Munn, Cornelius Blomond, Floyd Stewart, Lorene Rose, Mildred Capek, Eula Marker and Lyle Flagg.

The congregation was unusually large and included 40 pupils from the junior department who regularly have their own worship services at the Legion hall.

St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church Missouri Synod 3 miles south Divine services, 9:45. Bible class at 8 p. m. Tune in to the Lutheran hour over KFAB at 3:30 every Sunday afternoon.

Fine Finnish Offering. There was a very fine response at Bethany Lutheran church Sunday morning when the special offering was taken for Finnish relief, the amount contributed being $10.20.

Visiting Minister. At the Presbyterian church next Sunday, services will be conducted by Rev. John Magyar of St. Edward.

Flat Boards Worn as Shoes. In India a shoe frequently worn by the lower classes consists of a flat board, with a knob which slips between the first and second toes.

Gold Production. World gold production has increased three times since 1929. In that year it totaled $397,153,000, while in 1937 the output had risen to $1,045,428,000. South Africa is the leading producer with $410,710,000, with the United States second with $168,159,000.

Metric Measures. The myriameter, or 10,000 meters, is equivalent to 6,213 miles. The kilometer, 1,000 meters, is 0.6213 miles, or about 3,280 feet and ten inches. Other units above the meter are the hectometer, 100 meters, 328 feet one inch, and the dekameter, ten meters, 39.37 inches. The meter is equivalent to 39.37 inches. Below it are the decimeter, 3.937 inches; the centimeter, 0.3937 inches; and the millimeter, 0.0394 inches.

Pros Return to School. Professional football, far from interfering with the players' acquisition of an education, rapidly is assuming major importance as a means of enabling them to complete their studies. Forty-five of the 300 athletes who participated in the 1938 season's national football league games have returned to college and a great many of the others are using their earnings to satisfy obligations contracted during their undergraduate days.

Evening Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Duemey entertained Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sperling of Burwell and Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson of Ord Saturday evening.

Social Items.

Dave Haught and the Vernon Andersen and Freeman Haught families went to Grand Island Sunday and spent the day at the Mike Kosmata home in Grand Island. It was a celebration of Dave Haught's birthday which comes today.

Sunday guests in the George Hughes home were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Hughes, and sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. John Koehler and family, all of Grand Island.

The Social Forecast

O. O. S. club will meet Febr. 8 in the Mrs. Clara Marks home. The Ord Contract club will meet Sunday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen.

Sewing Room Located In the Keown Block

The WPA sewing room, for several years located in the frame building just north of the Ord Opera house, is now to be found just one block west, in the north room of the Keown block, next door to Hastings and Ollis. Mrs. Katie Long is in charge of the sewing room, which is a part of the professional and service division, WPA of which Mrs. Minnie Hardenbrook is area supervisor.

All the materials for use in the sewing rooms of Valley county are stored in the Ord sewing room, there being a total of about 25,000 yards of goods on hand. All the cutting for garments is done here. Thirteen persons are employed in Ord, seven in North Loup and six in Arcadia. Four men were employed in helping move and in building the shelving.

The personnel of the local room comprises 9 persons with motor sewing machines, two to cut out the garments, and a clerk and foreman. There are one heavy duty sewing machine and four regular machines at both North Loup and Arcadia. The payroll for the sewing rooms is $1,334.36, practically all of which is spent locally. Mrs. Hardenbrook says that visitors will be welcome at the sewing room at any time.

JOYCELYN AUBLE

Miss Joycelyn Auble completed her work at the Methodist hospital training school for nurses in Omaha Friday, and is now a graduate nurse. She came home Sunday and plans to take the examination before the Nebraska state board in February. If she passes this test she will be entitled to place the letters, R. N. (registered nurse) after her name. She expects to go to Chicago next fall for special training work.

Ord-St. Paul Game to Be Played on Ord Court

By virtue of an agreement entered into yesterday the Ord-St. Paul game, scheduled to be played at St. Paul on Friday, Feb. 9, will be played here on that same evening instead. The reason for the change was that it is a vitally important game, and it was felt that it should be played on the Ord floor, which is larger. If St. Paul wins, it will practically win the Mid-Six championship, while if Ord wins, it might assure them of a tie for Mid-Six honors.

15,175 Lovely Women, No "Battle-Axes," Is Reward Promised Writers in New Chain Letter

Burwell—(Special)—The chain letter craze has broken out anew and this time you do not scratch out the top name and send a dime but instead you send—of all things—your wife!

First man here to get one of the chain letters was Osce W. Johnson. The letter said:

"Make 1940 a happy new year... colossal! Do not break this chain. Make five copies of this letter and send it to five husbands of your acquaintance. Bundle up your wife and send her to the man whose name heads the list shown below. Write your own name at the bottom of the list. When it reaches the top YOU will receive 15,175 marvelous women! It is bad luck to break the chain—one man did—and got HIS OWN WIFE back."

A list of eight names then follows. Most of the addresses given are in California (where most social uplift movements start), Texas and Nebraska.

The letter contains this postscript: "Be a good sport—see that no 'battle-axes' get in. That would be dirty pool."

When Johnson first received the letter he gave it serious consideration. The idea of being lord and master over 15,175 lovely ladies appealed to him. But then he got to thinking about the bills he would have to pay when all these ladies shopped for funny hats and becoming gowns and then he decided that since, wise as he was, 1,000 wives were enough for King Solomon to manage, 15,175 might be just a few too many for himself, and he decided not to bundle up his wife for a spell.

One wife properly trained to fetch his pipe and bedroom slippers and to cook his eggs the way he wants them would be better than 15,175 untrained and undisciplined females, however lovely they might be, he cogitated.

And his son put the finishing touch to the matter when he decided that he would prefer to have his own mother read him the bedtime stories he likes best rather than a housefull of lovely but strange ladies.

—John S. Hoff was a bus passenger to Grand Island this morning and thought he might go on to Omaha before he returned. He says he has been keeping the pump going on his irrigation well all winter and that he has 80 acres thoroughly irrigated.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Dale Norman, the city mail carrier, says that many firm believers reside on his Ord mail route. They believe that God saw fit to place the snow on the sidewalks and they believe that, if given time, He will remove the same. This faith appears to be justified for this week the snow is melting and Hip is able for the first time in weeks to venture forth without his 3-buckle overshoes.

The other day Syl Furtak was painting a new sign almost as big as a house for the Food Center. It was in two sections and first Syl finished the section saying "Food C" and leaned it face toward the wall. He was putting the finishing touches on the other section saying "enter" when someone walked in and asked what entrance a sign that big was going to decorate and who in Ord would invite people in, in such big type.

—Mr. and Mrs. Leo Kester of Craig, Colo., arrived in Ord Monday afternoon for a short visit. They brought back his mother, Mrs. W. E. Kester, who had been visiting the Leo and Louis Kester families for some time.

Lacquer From Orient The original "lacquer" was an oriental product of Chinese and Japanese artists from the sap of the rhus vernicifera, known to the Japanese as Urushi-No-Ki and to the Chinese as Tsiehon (varnish tree). The term is at present usually restricted in America and Europe to coatings of which the predominant ingredient is a solution of nitrocellulose.

Earth and Moon. The length of the earth's axis is about 7,900 miles, while the diameter of the moon's is about 2,160 miles. The earth's surface is about 13 1/2 times as great as the moon's; its volume or bulk is nearly 50 times larger and, owing to its greater density, the mass or actual amount of matter contained in the earth is about 81 times greater than that of the moon.

IT IS OUR JOB.

In any town in America today can be seen men standing in the chill of the winter morning waiting for the truck to take them out to work on the highway or some similar project. Many of them are men past fifty years of age, who once were in good financial circumstances. These men are too old for the work they are doing, for the weather conditions they must face.

The thermometer may be standing far below zero, no fit time to work on the highway, but the work must be done. Men and their families must eat, must have clothing to keep them warm, must have fuel to keep the home fires burning. We marvel at the things the vaunted Democracy of our forefathers is doing for us, and wonder what can be done about it.

These are men who at the time of the World War were substantial citizens, they owned their own homes. Little by little, or in one terrific crash they lost all they had. This happened through no real fault of theirs, in the main they were careful men. They took no chances that a good business man is not entitled to take.

Today the property they owned is in the hands of others, most of it in the hands of governmental agencies. They rent their little homes and, summer and winter, work for that organization known as the WPA, for there is no other employment for them. At an age when they should be thinking of retiring and taking their ease they must work in weather unfit for young men to face.

It would almost seem that the Democracy our forefathers established has failed. Under article 1, section 1, of the Bill of Rights, Constitution of the State of Nebraska, these words, copied from the Declaration of Independence, are written: "All persons are by nature free and independent, and have certain inherent and inalienable rights; among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Yes, we have life, but is it the life the makers of our state and our nation had in mind? The pioneers had to work, and work hard, but it was at work of their own choosing, and not government made to fill a dire need. They may have some comforts their forebears did not have, but these are a result of progress in science and invention.

We have liberty, but it is the liberty for which the colonial troops fought from Bunker Hill to Yorktown. In every walk of life men find themselves so surrounded by multiple laws that it is humanly impossible to live a single day without breaking one or more of them, and every year a lot more are made to curtail what few liberties we still possess.

As for the pursuit of happiness, for a large per cent of Americans it is mainly pursuit, with little chance of catching up with it. They have to work so hard that they cannot really enjoy happiness in their leisure time. They wake up in the morning too tired to get up and go to work, but are driven to do so through the necessity of living.

It would be useless to try to place the blame for this condition of affairs, which apparently found its beginning in the war to end all wars, and got really tough in 1929. Whether we will admit it or not, conditions have not improved any since that time. In fact, it looks as though some radical change must come before conditions can improve.

We must not waste time worrying about the mistakes of the past. What is gone cannot be changed. It becomes our duty as citizens to see that every possible effort is made to improve the future. It will take time, but some day conditions will return to what they were before depression set in, if we all work with that end in view.

CAMPAIGN PLEDGES.

We are entering another national election year. Again the people of the United States will be called upon to choose who shall occupy the White House for the next four years. It is an important duty and the decision as to who is most capable is in the hands of the electors.

This year, as in former years, the voters will be swamped with campaign pledges, with flights of oratory about planks in the political platforms. They will be told that these planks are vital, that they must remain an integral part of the whole, or the very foundations of our government will be in danger of crumbling.

Then in 1941 a new man, we hope, will take the helm of the ship of state. He will do so with at least a part of the people believing that he will keep the promises made in his campaign. But will he? We have no way of judging the future but by the past, and the past has proven that in too many cases those campaign pledges were merely soft soap to help a candidate slide into office.

He may decide upon an honest course and in some miraculous manner keep the platform upon which he was elected. He may decide to dispense with a few of the planks which he finds are not workable, or which he never did intend to use. Or he may follow the pattern of 1932 and build an entirely new one, admitting that the one which was elected could not be used.

The question of whether or not campaign pledges will be honored or not, lies entirely with the man, and in this connection the voter should examine well the past record of the aspirants to office. A man whose record shows that he has always done as he agreed is not likely to break that record when honored with a higher position than he has yet held. He is the more apt to hold to the principles that were instrumental in placing him in that position.

It is apparent to all thinking persons that we are not getting anywhere at the present time, and that we have not been getting anywhere for the past eight years. Since we have been making progress in the wrong direction all that time, it must be apparent that our present system is wrong, and must be discarded for something else.

It is impossible to say whether that something else lies in the Republican or Democratic parties, since both these have been laid on the shelf to give place for the New Deal. In America we have an abundance of high class statesmen any one of whom might be the man upon whom the sun of destiny is rising. It is for the voters to recognize this Moses who is to lead us and elect him president next fall.

In connection with campaign pledges a statement made by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt in an article in the last April 8 issue of Liberty is pertinent. The article was "Why I Am Against the People's Vote On War," and the statement was "A representative form of government such as ours envisioned election of men to office on platforms whereby they agreed to stand for certain things."

One cannot help but wonder if she noticed the clever slam she gave the president in that sentence. Also it would be interesting to know just where we would have been today if he had adhered strictly to the platform upon which he was elected. Financially, at least, the nation could not have been any worse off, and it might have been much better off.

So when a candidate for office, city, county, state or national, makes a pledge, find out, if possible if he has made pledges before, and, if he has, how did he carry out his pledges after election. If he did not make good in the lesser job it would be folly to trust him in the larger one. Vice versa, "He That is Faithful in That Which is Least, is Faithful Also in Much."

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Secretary Morgenthau seems to think that to balance the national budget, all that is necessary is to raise the amount that this country can be in debt from 45 billion to 50 billion dollars. It doesn't seem to occur to him that it might be possible to decrease spending. Business men wouldn't get very far by continually borrowing more money to balance their budgets.

With the Burlington train cancelled two days in a row last week, it is about time for Burwell at least, to get up on their hind legs and start to howl. The mails got into Ord in decent season via the Union Pacific and if the Burlington can't give service why don't the postal department arrange to have the mail taken to Burwell from Ord by some other means. A star route now comes each afternoon from Burwell to bring such mail as has accumulated during the day at Burwell, in time to get out on the afternoon Union Pacific mail. Why couldn't this man take such mail as has accumulated, back with him to Burwell. No doubt this service would be given if Burwell would demand it.

Probably all good Americans will be glad that Earl Browder was convicted and they will be wishing that the delays of the law might be overcome and that he might be put in a federal prison. The great majority will also feel that the sentence of 4 years and $2,000.00 fine is far less than that he should have been given.

One is almost afraid these days, to take seriously, any printed matter received for fear it may be sent for the purpose of undermining our country. There are said to be about 120 organizations in the United States with the undoing of this country as their aim.

As a rule one should be excused for making the first mistake but there is not much excuse for the same person making the same mistake the second time.

I am believing that regardless of who the democrats run for president this year, the republicans will win. But I believe also that Mr. Roosevelt would be almost the weakest man the democrats could nominate. The people of this country will not stand for a third term when it comes time to cast ballots.

Met a farmer friend on the street Friday and he stopped me to tell me that he very much enjoyed the old timer letters in the last issue. Said he sat up till midnight to read all of them. This is only one of many expressions members of the Quiz force have received. If former Valley county residents only knew how much their letters are enjoyed more of them would write oftener.

It seems to me that there has got to be a change in the assessed valuation of real property. When the assessed valuation is several times the actual value of the property, something is wrong and must be remedied. Many Ordites know of an instance in this city where a very desirable property has been offered for sale at a seemingly ridiculous price but it cannot be sold because the assessed valuation is so high that no purchaser could afford to live in the property. It would have been sold long ago had it been possible to tax it on the basis of present value instead of on the basis of a fictitious value of long ago. Present real property taxes in many instances are confiscatory and hundreds of real property sales have been prevented by this fact. States and counties and townships and school districts will have to do just as individuals have had to do, spend less money, if they don't have it to spend. While farmers and business men have had to save and go without, many of them even the necessities, public officials of all kinds have retained their salaries or had increases, and 99 out of every hundred of them would be unable to get such a salary in any private job and they would have to work harder besides. It is a glorious feeling to have a public job with a good salary and no worry about where the next weeks living is coming from. As evidence of this you very seldom find a public servant who voluntarily quits.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Vancouver, Wash.
January 20, 1940
To the Editor of The Quiz:
Through the generosity of my girlhood chum, Edith Bossen, I have been receiving the Quiz for several years, and I think it the best weekly paper I ever saw. I enjoy every page of it, even read the ads, to compare the prices there and here.

I don't think I can confine myself to a 200 word letter. With my mother and brother, Roll Shearer, I left Valley county in 1895, for Kansas, 10 years later came to Vancouver, and expect to spend the balance of my life here, as I have found no place I like as well.

My father's grave is in the Arcadia cemetery. I have out-lived our entire family, as brother Roll died in 1932, at Clovis, N. M., from a broken neck, from falling off a load of corn fodder. He left a wife but no children.

In 1935 my oldest sister, Dora Carpenter formerly of Manderson, passed away in Denver from effects of being hit by an auto 9 years ago.

In 1936, a terrible tragedy came into my life. My only child, Thelma Osborn burned to death, leaving me 2 little grandsons to raise, one 3 years, one less than 2 at that time. I felt then, life was not worth living any longer, but realize now, I must struggle on for the sake of these little ones, and God has promised to help us bear our sorrows.

My mother, and other sister, Lila Coffield, also formerly of Manderson, were living near me at the time, but in December, 1937, mother passed away, from blood poison in a sore corn, at almost 89 years of age, though she never grew old in spirit, enjoyed life to the fullest, and often expressed a desire to live a little longer, in order to help me, what she could in raising these little boys, whom she loved dearly.

Just a month following her death Lila passed away from a stroke leaving the little boys and I all alone in the world, so my life is a lonesome one now. An unusual thing in our family, is that at 2 different times, there were 5 living generations. When Dora died the chain was broken, but later there was again 5 living generations through Lila's family.

My mother and her home here, and I expect to always make it my home now. But I came near losing my home by fire last month. Two rooms were damaged.

I attend the Nebraska State picnic each year, and meet quite a few from Valley county. The last two years I saved Quiz papers and took them to give away. They did not last long, many were eager to read the Quiz. I now pass them on to Mrs. Johnson formerly of Arcadia. Her brother and sisters, the Fredensbergs, live here, and I see them quite often.

The brightest ray of sunshine in my life for several years, was when Edith Bossen visited me in September, our first meeting in 24 years, second since 1895. The last day we looked through my old album to see photos of old friends, of our girlhood days. How I did enjoy having her tell me the latest information she had of some of them. One picture we both enjoyed looking at, was a group of young people taken in Ord on Nov. 4, 1893, after a party the previous evening. In the group were Bert Dye, Elmer Lambdin, Rem Tennant, Tom Lambdin, John Harrington, Harry Dye, Bill Portis, brother Roll, Mina Portis, Jennie Looft-borrow, Anna Lambdin, Ella Gibbs, Edith Tennant, Bertha Lambdin, Nancy Gibbs, Lottie Harrington and myself.

I wonder how many are living in Valley county now. If there are any, I send them greetings and I often think of each of them, and wish we could meet again. I have

W. E. McCloud, York, Died of Heart Attack

W. E. McCloud, York, died at his home Jan. 24, following a severe heart attack suffered on Jan. 12. He had not been in his usual good health for some time. The direct cause of his death was a cerebral hemorrhage suffered Jan. 21, after which physicians gave no hope for his recovery.

McCloud was a well known figure in the city which was his home for all but the first 6 years of his life. He was assistant cashier of the First National bank of York at the time of his death. Prior to that time he had been connected with the First National bank of Bradshaw and the Bank of Luskton, and also with the Farmers National bank and the First State Savings bank, both of York.

He was elected county treasurer of York county in 1909 and held the position four years. He was high in the councils of the republican party in Nebraska, and was a candidate for state treasurer in 1936, being defeated in the primary. He was a Shriner, a Knights Templar, an O. E. S., an Elk and a Knight of Pythias.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

There are a number of complaints that are more or less characteristic of heart diseases although, as in other illnesses, there are great varieties of complaints that do not always fit the usual picture of the trouble.

Many people complain that they have a tired heavy feeling in the chest about the region of the heart and fear that this is a symptom of heart disease. As a matter of fact, this is seldom an indication of heart trouble. The kind of fatigue or tiredness that comes with heart disease is present when, for any reason, the heart muscle is weak. This may be in actual disease of the heart or following some acute infectious disease such as pneumonia, scarlet fever, etc., and it consists of a general feeling of fatigue. This is not the weariness that comes from a regular day's work; it is one which may be present all the time, or come early in the day, before there has been enough work or activity to really tire the person. It is often the patient's primary complaint but questioning will bring out other characteristic symptoms, such as true shortness of breath, swelling of the ankles when the patient is on his feet long, etc.

In the ordinary case of true chronic heart disease, the patient will usually complain most of shortness of breath. This may be present even at rest but certainly upon exercising. If this difficulty in breathing is very serious it may be increased by any attempt to lie flat down in bed. Often such patients say they can sleep well if they have more than one pillow. They may relate that a few months ago they noticed two pillows were necessary but, that now they require three, or may sleep best sitting up in a chair.

The next common complaint is swelling of the feet and ankles and sometimes other parts of the body, especially when the patient has been up and about awhile. They often say this swelling is gone in the morning but returns in the latter part of the day. This means that the heart catches up with its work because it has less to do then. It may mean, also, that the fluid in the tissues runs down to the lowest part of the body, which is the feet when one is up but may be the back and hips when one is lying down. When this fluid is in the feet it is readily discernible but in the tissues about the hips, it is not so obvious. It is interesting to note that an adult in a state of reasonably good nutrition must have from fifteen to twenty pounds of extra water in the tissues before swelling can be seen. This means from thirty to forty pounds of extra weight. When the visible swelling is all gone we often measure the improvement in these cases by the number of pounds lost in weight.

Pain in the chest in the region of the heart is much more often the result of heart disease than otherwise. It would be safe to say that, of all the people who come to the doctor with pain in the left side of the chest fearing trouble with the heart, not over one in thirty is found to have heart trouble that would produce pain. It is most often "nerve" pain, often due to arthritis, dietary deficiency, curvature of the spine, and other things not related to heart disease.

noticed Harry Dye's name in the Quiz. I have no good picture of myself, small enough to mail, but will send a snapshot taken about 4 years ago with the grandsons so those who once knew me can see the change in my avoirdupois. I enjoy my friends of later years, but none can take the place of old friends of years ago, and I hope some time, some may come west, and drop in to see me.

I wish I could tell of our industries in our fine little city, just across the Columbia river from Portland, Ore. A $3,000,000 aluminum plant is to be built here at once.

I feel my letter is far too long, and the Quiz editor will have to strike out a great deal of it. Mrs. Lulu Shearer Welch, 705 W. 18th St. Vancouver, Wash.

George W. McAnulty Laid to Rest Sunday

Only last week Clarence M. Davis, a member of the Old Settlers' association, received a letter from him in which he expressed the hope that something would soon be accomplished in regard to Port Hartsuff. Mr. McAnulty was also a warm friend of Frank Phillips, the old man and former Scotian, whom he believed would some day take an active interest in the restoration of the fort.

Funeral services were held Sunday afternoon at the fine Methodist Episcopal church in Scotia, H. L. Miller in charge of arrangements. The members of Reuben Beck post No. 150, American Legion had a part in the ceremonies. Commander Chester A. Krebs had charge of the group. Dan Sauter acted as bugler and blew "Taps" at the cemetery. Color bearers and color guard were Lou Sauter, Harry Selk, Alfred Bredthauer and Mr. Krebs. Phil Seefus had charge of the flowers, assisted by Mrs. H. L. Miller.

The pall bearers, all old time friends, were Luther Pope, Grand Island, George Hoke, Keith Keown, Walt Pope, Lee Clark and L. H. Ferrell, all of Scotia. A quartet of ladies, Mrs. John Schilling, Mrs. H. L. Miller, Mrs. Mark Nelson and Mrs. W. C. George sang the "Sweet By and By," with Miss Mary Lee Mihane at the piano. Mrs. Miller also sang, "Lead, Kindly Light."

Rev. W. C. George of the Scotia Methodist church read the scripture, the first 15 verses of the 14th chapter of St. John's gospel, and also gave the prayer. Rev. M. H. Marshall of Lusk, Wyo., who accompanied the body to Scotia, read the obituary, and also a poem entitled, "On The Death of an Aged Friend." Rev. J. Shelby Light, pastor of the Congregational church of Burwell, preached the sermon. Rev. Light caught the spirit of the occasion and brought out the salient points in the life of Mr. McAnulty in a way that none will ever forget who had the privilege of hearing him. Rev. George then closed with a few remarks concerning his personal contacts with the deceased. It was the opinion of all the large crowd in attendance that it was a splendid service throughout. All the towns from Taylor to Grand Island were represented in the gathering.

No better story of his life can be written than that which appears in Prof. Harold W. Foght's "Trail Of The Loup," which is given herewith, with necessary additions.

"George W. McAnulty was born at Latrobe, Pa., in 1853. He lost both his parents at an early age, his father losing his life in his country's defense during the Civil War, and his mother dying within the same year. At the age of 18 he went to Texas and for the first time saw the great west. After some time spent in the Lone Star state he went to Illinois and thence back to Pennsylvania.

"But he had gotten his taste for the plains. Accordingly he came back and arrived in Nebraska and the North Loup valley in 1873. He settled on the James Barr farm near Burwell. When Port Hartsuff was established he helped build some of the structures there. Later he enlisted in Captain Munson's company—Co. C, 9th U. S. Infantry—which was ordered into active service a few days after his enlistment.

"The company joined the rest of the 9th Infantry at Fort Laramie, Wyo., territory. The great Sioux war was on and the boys were on the frontier. Mr. McAnulty was with General Crook in the terrible campaign of 1876, and returned with his company to Fort Hartsuff in 1878, and was discharged there in 1880, after five years of service."

He married Lillie Moore in 1880 and settled near Ord. In 1882 he moved to Scotia which was to be his home until the day of his death. Two sons, Fred and John, and a daughter, now Mrs. Louise Rasmussen of Lusk, Wyo., were born to them, John passing away in 1926. In 1934 Mrs. McAnulty died, and since that time he made his home either with his daughter or at the Home Hotel in Scotia, where his body was taken prior to the funeral. The last warrior's battles of life are over. May he rest in peace.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Heard a middle aged Ord man made a remark about the good work the young people of Ord are doing in the churches, and thought it was too good to pass up. There are really a lot of young people in Ord who are taking an interest in church work, and it is a fact that is worthy of comment. So long as the young people are willing to take a share of the responsibility for church activities it is a most encouraging sign.

This one should have been commented upon sooner, but it is better late than never. It certainly was fine of the city to fence off the hill on 21st street so as to give the kids a chance to slide without too much danger of being killed. When there is snow the kids will slide, and it is a lot more sensible to let them slide where there is some supervision than to have them take chances on some hill where they might be seriously hurt.

Ed Waldmann came into the Quiz office last week and told the latest, or perhaps the earliest grasshopper story. It seems that the family dug up some plants last fall and are keeping them in pots in the house. While the thermometer was below zero outside, they discovered that a number of tiny grasshoppers had hatched out in the pots and were climbing around on the plants. Cecil Wardrop tells a good one on himself. It happened when he was living in Comstock four years ago. That was the cold winter, and each morning he would have to take a gasoline torch and melt ice in the pipes before the water would run. One morning the water took longer than usual. He was doing in the churches, and thought it was too good to pass up. There are really a lot of young people in Ord who are taking an interest in church work, and it is a fact that is worthy of comment. So long as the young people are willing to take a share of the responsibility for church activities it is a most encouraging sign.

January 30, 1930.
The Ord Rotarians were disgusted with Ord phone service and voted to protest to the state railway commission. The matter was brought up by Irl D. Tolen, then a member of the club.

At the annual meeting of the Ord Co-op Oil company it was announced that a profit of $14,000 had been made during 1929, and that the membership was increasing fast.

At a dinner given at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Zabloudil, the marriage of Miss Adis Zabloudil to Merle E. Nelson of Newton, Kan., was announced. The date was Jan. 16.

At their annual meeting the farmers voted to continue the store and cream station for the coming year. Ed Pocock and Dick Flynn were chosen as the new directors.

Two boys scouts, Bert Boquet of Ord and Charles Barnhart of North Loup, were awarded second class scout badges, Glen Fordyce of Lincoln was present and gave an address.

One hundred and fifty were present at a 3-day Methodist young people's conference held in Ord.

January 29, 1920

Charles Urban was advertising his first annual bred sow sale. He was offering Chester Whites.

Dr. F. A. Barta was named by the county board as county physician for the coming year.

That Ord was proud of its community service club was evidenced by the fact that 235 persons attended the first annual banquet held in the new club rooms in the Ballfield building.

The Quiz had an item about C. C. Dale going to Nance county after one year in Ord. Luckily for Valley county, the proposition was reconsidered, and he is still here.

Ign. Kilma was leaving the Farmers Bank of Burwell and coming to Ord, where he was to be connected with the recently organized First Trust company.

Tom Perlinski, jr., died at the Great Lakes Training station, Jan. 24, from the flu, at the age of 21 years. He enlisted in the service on the 18th of December.

The contract for Valley county's new courthouse was let to Henry Ohlsen and Sons company of David City, the general construction price being $198,321. The plumbing and heating went to John A. Anderson company of Omaha for $33,729, and the electric contract to W. W. Berger of Omaha for $1,295.

February 3, 1910

The Quiz was advertising a total of 13 farm sales between the dates of Feb. 7 and Feb. 22.

A. Ward, 91, tripped over a wire in the yard and broke two ribs, from which he recovered nicely.

Carl F. O. Schmidt and Miss Lela Canfield were married by Judge H. Gudmundsen on Feb. 1.

The E. C. Loomis family left Ord on Feb. 3, going to Ottumwa, Ia., where they were to make their future home. He had been a prominent landowner at Vinton for a number of years.

The R. B. Miller family of Burwell and before that of Calamus, went to El Paso, Tex., to make their home for a while.

New stoves had been put in the offices of the judge, treasurer, sheriff and superintendent in the court house.

M. A. Showers went to Lincoln to represent the Valley County Agricultural society at the state meeting.

January 30, 1885

Ord's new school house was completed all but the tower, which was to be finished as soon as the weather would permit.

Commissioner Chase stated that if Ord failed to pay its part of the courthouse subscription North Loup would pay $5,000 to have the courthouse built there.

George A. Percival, cashier of the Ord City Bank, left for a six weeks trip to the east, planning to go as far as Chicago and his old home at Palo, Mich.

D. N. McCord returned from a trip to the east which he took to buy furniture to refurbish the Satterlee house, now to be called Hotel America.

The citizens of Willow Springs had entered into an agreement to give the county 20 acres of land for public buildings, if the county seat were located there.

A petition was in circulation for a postoffice to be located at Plain Valley. When it came, it was located at Rosevale.

—Mrs. Ray Emry of Burwell returned home Wednesday evening from Grand Island, where she had been since Sunday with her husband's brother, James Emry, who underwent a major operation at the St. Francis hospital the first of last week. Mr. Emry is a resident of Comstock.

Notes From the VALLEY COUNTY FARM BUREAU

By C. C. Dale

Better Weather Reports.

Plans for getting out a more comprehensive report on statewide weather and crop conditions which were announced recently in Lincoln will mean that County Agricultural Agent Dale will assist in gathering the data for Valley county.

The improvement of the weekly crop and weather report will come as a result of coordinated efforts of the state and federal division of agricultural statistics, the U. S. weather bureau and the extension service of the University of Nebraska college of agriculture. Locally, of course, Dale represents the latter agency here.

County agricultural agents in all Nebraska counties will be brought into the crop and weather reporting service to supply information for the reports. They will submit a weekly report which will give local conditions of various crops, soil moisture and livestock. These reports will be made out each Saturday and submitted to Lincoln for use in the joint weekly report of the three agencies.

It is understood here that the report will not be an additional one to those issued now but rather that the information gathered from agents will serve to supplement the weekly report issued by the weather bureau. Also the data will be made available to A. E. Anderson for use in making up his monthly crop reports.

The combination of the efforts of the agencies will not mean that local weather observers will be dropped by any means. Neither will it mean that the importance of volunteer crop reports by farmers and others will diminish. Instead, the new plan will bring together this traditional data from these sources with that supplied by county agricultural agents for more comprehensive reports.

The plan will be put into operation, in all probability about April 1.

Snow Fences and Hedges.

Methods of conserving moisture for farm gardens by various Valley county farmers were listed this week by County Extension Agent Dale. These include the planting of trees and hedges or tall growing crops as well as use of snow fences around the garden.

The planting of hedges and trees not only encourages the drifting of snow in winter, but also affords protection from hot, drying winds in summer, he points out. Some protection has also been obtained from sorghums, corn or sudan grass planted entirely around the garden plot. Ordinarily slat snow fences have also proved useful in causing snow to drift onto garden sites.

From Ira W. Wood, extension engineer at the University of Nebraska agricultural college, comes the additional suggestion that a plow furrow entirely around a garden on a flat location will off hold water from melting snow which might otherwise run off to places where it will do little or no good. The garden surface, of course, should be listed or made rough in some other way so that moisture can be conserved.

Frequently, from 4 to 6 inches of moisture can be stored in the subsoil from melted snow. Various methods of saving moisture for the farm garden are discussed in Extension Circular 763, "Irrigating the Farm Garden," available free at the Valley county agricultural extension office in Ord.

Feeding Dairy Calves.

A good start is half the battle in raising a dairy calf. M. N. Lawritson, extension dairyman at the University of Nebraska college of agriculture, says:

One important step in getting a successful start is for the calf to be born under absolutely clean, sanitary surroundings. Also, the calf should be left with the cow from one to three days, depending upon the condition of the cow's udder.

Lawritson lists some precautions necessary in successful feeding of the calves. First, do not over feed. Second, feed regularly. Third, weigh or measure feed. Fourth, keep all feeding utensils clean. Fifth, make changes gradually as for example the change from whole to skim milk should be very gradual.

One pound of skim milk should replace one pound of whole milk daily, the dairyman says. In addition to fine texture and good quality hay, a grain ration consisting of equal parts by weight of cracked corn, whole oats, and wheat bran or some equally good ration should be fed.

Calves under four months of age will seldom if ever over eat, but older calves should be limited in amount of grain fed.

1940 Poultry Outlook.

Better than average feeding and management will be necessary for Valley county farmers to make a profit from poultry and eggs during the coming year, a report received this week by County Extension Agent Dale indicates. The report holds out hope of higher egg prices in 1941.

In this 1940 poultry outlook, Prof. L. B. Snyder of the University of Nebraska rural economics department, predicts an increase in Nebraska turkey numbers, contrasted with some reduction for the nation as a whole. Efficient turkey producers will make profits this year, he asserts.

"Nebraska farmers have increased their turkey production during the last five years," Prof. Snyder comments. "This is logical as long as Nebraska enjoys the advantages of healthful climate, abundant range and relatively low-priced feeds."

Here are other highlights of the 1940 poultry outlook: Present feed-egg price ratios are unfavorable for heavy feeding of hens. Relatively high priced feed grains and cheap eggs will tend to keep this ratio unfavorable for egg production. This might result in lighter feeding and decreased egg production.

As a result of heavy egg production during November and December, storage stocks of eggs were not reduced as much as expected. Heavy current production and above normal marketings of storage eggs during January, February and March will mean lower prices of eggs during the winter months.

Reports from Washington indicate around four per cent more hens and pullets in farm flocks on January 1, 1940. These large numbers and continuation of heavy production per hen should result in heavy spring production of eggs. Many storage men who have lost money on eggs in recent months will be reluctant to buy for storage this spring unless the price is very low. All indications point toward continued low prices for poultry.

If 1940 continues the 3-year cycle in output of baby chicks observed since 1929, then fewer chicks will be sold by hatcheries this year. Next fall and winter, fewer layers on farms and lower output of eggs are expected.

Jeffers Emphasizes

Grade Crossing Dangers

The increased danger of highway grade crossing accidents because of slippery roads and snow storms, and the need for greater caution on the part of drivers who carelessly run into the side of trains at crossings or stall their cars on railroad tracks, was emphasized today by W. M. Jeffers, president of the Union Pacific Railroad. Since January 1st there have been 13 cases of this description on the Union Pacific at widely separated locations and in seven states. A stalled automobile on a public highway crossing at Richland, Nebr., resulted in the derailment of a fast mail and express train and the death of the engineer and fireman.

"Carelessness on the part of automobile drivers is to blame in every instance of this sort," said Mr. Jeffers. "It is true, of course, that icy pavements and snow storms are contributing factors, but such weather and icy roads ought to make drivers more careful. Instead, they seem to take more chances than ever."

"The public usually tries to blame the railroads for crossing accidents, but the cases where any blame can be attached to the railroad are rare indeed. There is little excuse for a driver who pays no attention to wigwag signals, to crossing lights, to crossing watchmen and drives into the side of trains. But that sort of thing happens regularly. A speed bug who tries to beat a train to a crossing is taking a foolish chance. But at least he is not so foolish as the driver who runs into cars that are in the middle of a moving train or one standing still. In all the cases the first of the year, not a single one was trying to beat a train to a crossing. Every one was a case of utter failure to look both ways in approaching a crossing and stopping to make sure."

"In addition to the extreme hazard to the drivers of the automobile there is always the chance of derailing a train which was what happened at Richland with the result that an engineer and a fireman were killed because of the carelessness of the motorist whose car became stalled on the tracks ahead of an approaching train. Too much care cannot be exercised by automobile drivers in approaching and crossing railroad tracks."

A few moments of time in stopping, looking and listening is the best safeguard to prevent injury and oftentimes death.

"Police and highway patrol officers have a distinct duty to perform in this serious situation."

—Miss Lillian Hrebec went to Omaha on the bus Saturday morning, where she is to have employment.

—Miss Edith Filley left Thursday for Lincoln where she was to attend a two day home economic convention on Friday and Saturday.

—Mrs. Dave Applegarth went to Beatrice last Tuesday in response to a message telling that her daughter Sylvia, was in a very serious condition but the daughter passed away that evening shortly before her mother arrived. As the family has no one buried at Ord, it was decided to have the funeral and burial at Beatrice. Mr. Applegarth was unable to attend.

—Mrs. A. A. Evers was an outgoing passenger on the bus Friday afternoon, returning to her home at Bozeman, Mont., after a ten day visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Harrod of Burwell. She left her mother slightly improved from her recent illness.

—For the first time in several years the Greeley Citizen was late in arriving at the Quiz office. The cause was the fact that railroad service was interrupted by storm conditions.

—Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Davey of Greeley were in Ord last Tuesday visiting their daughter, Mrs. Walter Douthitt, who is recovering from an operation in the Ord hospital.

—Miss Evelyn Kosch, new teacher in the 5th and 6th grades, went to Farwell Saturday morning to spend the week end. This is the first time she has been able to get home since New Years, due to the severe weather.

—Bert Lashmet of Columbus and a federal game warden named Licking stopped in Ord for a short time Wednesday afternoon. Bert says this is their slack time of year with both hunting and fishing seasons closed by winter weather.

—Miss Clara McClatchey, Miss Eunice Chase and Mrs. Will Sack returned Friday from Lincoln where they had spent most of the week. Thursday evening the Misses Chase and McClatchey attended the new movie, "Gone With the Wind," and say that although it lasted 4 hours and 40 minutes it was remarkably fine entertainment.

—Ray Probert of Sargent lost four cows last Tuesday. One of them had been sick about a week, but the others died suddenly. Dr. G. M. Hoobler, veterinarian, called in on the case, was puzzled to understand what had happened to cause them to die so quickly.

—Friends of Charles C. Woolery of Ericson will be interested to know that his health is not the best at present. He suffered quite a severe stroke on Oct. 23 and could scarcely swallow or talk for a couple of days. He is now able to get about a little with the aid of a cane, but has not fully recovered the use of his right hand and foot.

—Dr. George A. Parkins returned last Tuesday evening from Chicago, and for a couple of days after his return was ill and in bed with influenza, with which he became ill on the trip. He has been in Memphis, Pittsburgh and other cities with a group of distinguished optometrists to inspect certain schools and universities where work is being done under the direction of the American Research Council of Optometry, of which Dr. Parkins is director.

—Professor W. C. Noll, head of the biological science department at York college, recently was honored when the national scientific journal, "Ecology," selected his 15,000 word article on Winter Wheat and Prairie Grasses during Extreme Drouth for publication. Professor Noll carried out extensive research for 11 months on a farm near Lincoln, in cooperation with Dr. J. E. Weaver of the botany department, University of Nebraska, to get material for his article. The author is a son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Noll, of Ord.

BURWELL

A program sponsored by the student council in behalf of the campaign against infantile paralysis was held in the high school auditorium Tuesday afternoon. Dr. Smith was the speaker of the day. Special numbers were given by the band and the glee clubs. The meeting was closed with a pep rally. The arrangements were entirely in the hands of the students. Mildred Hummel acted as general chairman. Marie Malicky had charge of the publicity, while Keith DeLashmuit was campaign manager. These students were given certificates of award by O. A. Norland, who is chairman of the campaign in Garfield county.

President Roosevelt's Birthday Ball in the Legion hall was largely attended Saturday night. It was sponsored by the American Legion and the proceeds go into the fund for alleviation of infantile paralysis. Cliff Fogel and Glow Fackler were in charge of the ball. R. R. Nightingale's orchestra furnished the music. Tickets for the affair were sold on the streets by high school students.

Three fights were staged on the north side of the square in Burwell Saturday night. Round No. 1 was between Arnold Garaska and Elmer Preeland. The bout was over a five cent card game. Round No. 2 was fought by Loren Livermore and Walter Peterson. This fight was a personal affair. The participants of Round No. 3 were Loren Livermore and George Hill and as a result of this bout Mr. Hill was confined to his bed for several days. Several of Mr. Hill's teeth were knocked loose and Andy Snyder, who has never been known to practice dentistry, extracted them with a pair of pliers. Mr. Livermore appeared before Judge Rose in county court Monday and was fined five dollars and costs on the charge of assault and battery. City Attorney Runyan was out of town but City Marshal Pat Breuneman stated Tuesday that he believed that charges of disturbing the peace would be brought later against some of the other participants in Judge McGrew's police court.

Ordites Shivering In Southland Snow Storm

The L. J. Aubles and Bill Schudeis, who left for a three week's trip to the south Jan. 21, are shivering in the worst storm the south has seen in fifty years, according to a letter received from Bud this week. The letter was written from Shreveport, in northwestern Louisiana, and he says that the damage in the city from frozen pipes at that time was estimated at $100,000, with more freezing weather in sight. From Shreveport they planned to go on to New Orleans to attend the Mardi Gras, but unless the weather improves it is doubtful if they will enjoy themselves much there. Because of the mild weather most plumbing is done with the pipes on the outside of the houses, which accounts for the severe damage from freezing in the southern states.

Kellison Sponsors Free Movie Program for Farmer Customers

The moving picture, "Joel Gentry in Hollywood," will be shown next Thursday afternoon, Feb. 6, at the Ord Theatre under the auspices of the O. A. Kellison Implement company, who handle the John Deere line in Ord, and admission is free to farmers. Tickets may be secured at the implement concern's office.

This is the annual "John Deere Day" program and according to Mr. Kellison the feature picture will be well worth seeing. It tells the story of Joel Gentry, who wins $1,000,000 and tells why he went back to the farm. In addition there will be four other all-talking pictures, "Making Tractor History," "Horses and Mules for Sale," "A Short Cut Through Harvest," and a newsreel, "What's New in Farm Equipment."

Mr. Kellison cordially invites every farmer, farmers wife, and children to attend this free show Tuesday.

Newspaper History of Ord Traced Thru Old Files of The Quiz and The Journal

Through the thoughtfulness of W. W. Haskell, who gave the story of the early day newspaper business in the Quiz 40 years ago, the Quiz today is able to furnish its readers a complete and accurate record of Valley county and Ord history, from the newspaper point of view.

The first newspaper in Valley county was started at Calamus near Ft. Hartsuff, in 1875. At that time Ft. Hartsuff was in the process of construction, and there was little else in the county. Calamus, which owed its existence to the presence of the soldiers at the Fort, was a very suitable place in which to run a newspaper.

That same year Ord was surveyed and in a primitive way began to grow. It was not until two years later that the attraction was enough to move the paper to Ord, which event occurred in the fall of 1877. However, this was the second paper in Ord, for H. W. Nelson, who, in company with L. P. Ganger, had started the Valley County Courier at Vinton in the spring of 1877, had bought out his partner and moved to Ord in September of that year.

Both papers were Republican in politics. Mitchell wearied of the struggle and in the spring of 1878 sold out to J. C. Lee, who changed the paper into a greenbacker, in accordance with the greenback tendency of the times. The people did not take to the sentiment very well and after election the Herald quit and its publisher moved to Grand Island and helped start the Grand Island Democrat.

J. H. Capron, company clerk at Ft. Hartsuff, had his eye on the Courier, and was longing to return to the printing trade he had learned in Freeport, Ill. In February, 1879, Capron bought the paper, changing its name to the Valley County Journal. The first issue of the paper was in March, 1879. On March 23, the building burned, with a total loss of everything but the press, which was badly damaged.

Capron did not despair, but ordered a new outfit at once from Chicago, which had to be freighted from Grand Island. He had to suspend publication until the new outfit arrived, but started up once more in May with a brand new press and equipment. July 14, 1881 C. S. Copp, who like Mitchell, was a lawyer, started the Independent, which was also Republican in politics.

He soon tired of the work, and on Oct. 6, 1881, the paper appeared with Winger and Clayton as publishers and R. H. Clayton as editor. Winger was a man with a wooden leg, and Clayton a talented, but erratic writer. He made it a hot Democratic sheet for a few months. On Dec. 1 without comment Winger's name dropped out, and on Jan. 16, 1882, the paper breathed its last.

On the day after election in 1881 W. W. Haskell appeared on the scene with an eye to the newspaper field. As there seemed to be no room for three papers he waited around until the death of the Independent seemed inevitable, and then ordered his outfit, which arrived the latter part of March, 1882. The first issue of the Ord Quiz appeared April 6, 1882, and has continued without a break from that day to this.

Returning to the Valley County Journal Aug. 5, 1881, C. C. Wolf associated himself with Capron in the management of the paper under the firm name of Capron and Wolf. This arrangement continued until Dec. 31, 1883, when Mr. Wolf retired.

In the fall of 1884 Evans Brothers arrived from Iowa and started the Standard, being aided by a subscription paper circulated by M. Randall. The Standard was Democratic in politics. After a while John Evans dropped out and Jack Evans continued until February, 1885, when the paper was bought by Provins and McDonough, who changed the paper to the Democrat. July 16, 1886, Mr. Provins sold his interest to Byron Griffith, who in a short time sold it to McDonough.

Dec. 10, 1886, R. H. Clayton began to edit the Democrat on a salary, and on April 16, 1888, A. W. Jackson bought the paper. He continued the publication six years, selling out to J. L. Claffin March 30, 1894, who merged it with the Ord Journal, which he had purchased a few weeks before. The Democrat's press, brought to Ord by the Evans', did service for the Ord Journal for several years, when the Times bought it. The Ord Journal and Capron's Valley County Journal were not the same paper.

Going back again, on July 1, 1887, C. C. Wolf bought the Valley County Journal, changed its name to the Star, made it a prohibition paper, and ran it until the election, when it was absorbed by the Quiz. Three weeks after the appearance of the Star, O. S. Haskell and B. F. Hilton started the Blizzard which ran under various managements and changing politics until bought by Claffin, as stated above.

These changes happened so rapidly that it is difficult to locate exact dates, but they ran somewhat as follows: Hilton sold his interest in the paper to O. S. Haskell. Haskell changed politics in 1890 and made the paper populist. Haskell sold out to Dr. J. M. Klinker, who changed the name to the Journal. Klinker ran the paper until Oct. 16, 1893, then sold it to B. A. Brewster who ran it until February 13, 1894, when J. L. Claffin bought it.

The pioneer populist paper in Valley county was the Independent, started in December, 1890, by Leonard Bros. They ran the paper until election day, 1891, when they sold it to D. J. Martz, who changed it to the People's Advocate. This paper ran for some time and then quit and was taken to Oklahoma.

January 27, 1887, the Real Estate Register appeared. L. J. Harris, editor. It ran only a few months, and quit so quietly that nobody missed it.

In May, 1897, the Valley County Times was started by L. J. Harris and H. D. Leggett. In November of the same year Harris sold out to Leggett, who ran it single handed until June, 1902, when he sold out to Haskell, who combined it with the Quiz.

Going back to the Ord Journal: Oct. 19, 1894, Claffin sold the paper to A. W. Jackson, who ran it until Jan. 18, 1895, when he sold it back to Claffin. Claffin kept it until January, 1900, when he sold it to Charles Smith. Smith kept it for a short time, and again it went back to Claffin. Miles Bros. purchased the paper from Claffin April 21, 1904.

Frank W. Miles had been with the Journal as foreman for nearly 6 years at the time, while H. Floyd Miles was new to the business. They kept the paper until Jan. 12, 1905. The issue of Jan. 19, 1905 was run by Davis and Parks, Horace M. Davis, editor, and Norm Parks, business manager. In the issue of the Journal for June 5, 1906, Parks bid adieu, saying that Mr. Davis had purchased his interest in the paper.

Davis ran the Journal as editor until August, 1914, but he continued as owner until the paper was purchased by Doyle L. Buckles in May, 1921. During this time he had the assistance of a number of persons, among them Victoria Wisda, who had formerly been with the Quiz, and who closed her work as local editor in 1913. Ralph B. DeWolfe appears as local editor in September, 1913.

In August, 1914, Davis hired H. D. Leggett to take charge of the Journal, and he continued in this capacity until he purchased the Quiz, Jan. 1, 1918. Mr. Davis then took over until he could find a new man for the job, which he did, and Joe Pekar came to edit the Journal on Jan. 30, 1918. The files of the Journal carry the name of E. G. Miller as manager, Jan. 1, 1919. Herbert L. Cushing returned from Lincoln and became editor of the second issue of the Journal in 1919, while Miller became foreman, his name being dropped from the mast head, Jan. 30, 1919. June 1, Cushing entered the employ of the Farmers Grain and Supply company as manager, and C. S. Jones just out of the superintendency of the Ord schools, helped Mr. Davis for a few weeks.

The July 3 issue of the Journal was put out by C. W. Rogers, who came from Omaha and C. S. Jones. The partnership of Rogers and Jones continued for just one year, when Rogers retired and the firm name became Jones and Pekar. In May, 1921, Doyle Buckles bought the Journal, and ran it until July 17, 1924 when Irl Tolen took over. The paper continued until December, 1928, when Tolen sold it to the Ord Quiz.

In the spring of 1932, just fifty years after his founding of the Quiz, W. W. Haskell established the Ord Observer. With the depression on, he found the going too tough, and after continuing for about 18 months, he quit, Leggett taking over his subscription list and completing the obligations.

The Quiz is now, in its 53 year, which will be completed with the last issue in March. In that time it has known but two owners, W. W. Haskell and H. D. Leggett. To Haskell goes the honor of editing the same paper continuously for a longer time than any editor in Ord. To Leggett goes the honor of having edited successively the Valley County Times, the St. Paul Republican, the Ord Journal and the Ord Quiz.

Three other men of the long list mentioned here were outstanding in their newspaper accomplishments. They were J. H. Capron, whose experience as an editor all came in the past century; J. L. Claffin, who edited in both the past century and a few years of the present one; and H. M. Davis, whose work all came in two decades of the present century. The influence these five men have had upon the development of Ord and Valley county is inestimable.

A story of this kind would not be complete without a mention of a few others of those who have helped to make Ord outstanding as a newspaper town. Among these are Curt Parsons, now of the Burwell Tribune, the late Mr. Cass, who worked on the Quiz and later owned the Ravenna News, Joe Alden, now of the York Republican, Ora S. Taylor, Bess Clements, Edna Baker Clements, Ainslee L. Davis, Harry Parsons, Howard Jones, Dan Bartlett, Mrs. Florence Chapman, Mrs. Leslie Mason, L. M. Catlin, Bill Olexa, Mrs. Della Chotena, Melvin Cornell, now of the North Loup Loyalist, and the present members of the Quiz force. These are but a few of dozens who did their bit in the newspaper game in Ord.

Prince Charming and Sweetheart Are Chosen

North Loup—(Special)—At a party held at North Loup last night a Prince Charming and Sweetheart were chosen by the high school students. The honors went to Virgil Annys and Berniece Wilson.

LOCAL NEWS

—Wes Eberhart and Kit Carson expect to go to Omaha, leaving this morning.

—Stanley Golka of Elyria bought a windcharger and outfit from Aulsebrook Motors Monday.

—William Worrell of North Loup and Hugh Starr of Garfield county were visitors in Ord Monday.

—Rev. Clarence Jensen was called to Farwell Sunday afternoon to have charge of the funeral service for Bert Johnson, 74. The Monday before Rev. Jensen was called to Farwell for the funeral of Jim Horky, aged 73. It is of interest to note that both men died of heart failure.

—Dr. H. N. Norris reports the birth of an 8 1/2 pound baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Will Valasek of Springdale early this morning. As this is the first girl and they already have three boys, everybody is very happy over the occasion.

—Mr. and Mrs. Jim Holsington have been quite ill. Mrs. Holsington had an attack of pneumonia, as was mentioned in the Quiz, and is slowly recovering. Her husband has a severe case of the flu, and has been confined to his bed most of the time the past few days. Both seem to be improving as this is written.

—Mrs. F. A. Barta received the sad news last week of the death of her step-mother, Mrs. Mary Zacharias, who passed away Thursday at her home in Lawrence, Neb. Mrs. Zacharias had been an invalid for the past 18 years. Dr. Barta took Mrs. Barta to Lawrence at once, but had to come back to attend to his work here, going back for her Sunday. The funeral was held there Saturday.

—Mrs. C. J. Mortensen went to Lincoln last Tuesday to attend a meeting of the Girls State board, of which she is a member. One hundred girls were permitted to attend Girls State last year through the sponsorship of the American Legion Auxiliary, and it is hoped that this number may be increased this year, in case facilities can be arranged for handling a greater number.

HIDES AND FURS.

Our price on hides is holding up well though the large markets are weaker the past couple of weeks.

This week we bought another lot of furs that had been shipped to St. Louis but had been returned because the price was not satisfactory. We believe that our fur price is too high for you to take a chance on shipping them.

If you have some furs bring them in and let us make you an offer.
