Dr. Parkins Awarded High Optometry Honor

1940 Gold Medal of Foundation to Ord Man Monday

Presentation Made in Boston by Dr. Padelford, Head of the Foundation.

The highest honor bestowable by American optometry, the 1940 Gold Medal of the Distinguished Service Foundation of Optometry, Monday evening was awarded to an Ord man, Dr. George A. Parkins.

Presentation of the solid gold medal was made at the Hotel Statler, in Boston, Mass., by Dr. Clinton R. Padelford, director of the Foundation. Dr. Parkins left Friday for Boston to receive the award.

The Distinguished Service Foundation of Optometry was established in 1927 by the late Dr. George Stevens Houghton of Boston "to achieve greater conservation of human vision through research and higher education." Awards of medals and fellowships have been made for outstanding original work in the various sciences as related to optometry. Two years ago Dr. Parkins was honored with a fellowship. Monday evening the highest award within the grasp of the Society the Gold Medal, was presented to Dr. Parkins.

Only five other practicing optometrists in the United States have received the Gold Medal since the founding of the Society. They are: Dr. Theodore A. Brombach, San Francisco; Dr. Walter I. Brown, New Bedford, Mass.; Dr. Howard C. Doane, Boston; Dr. Lawrence P. Folsom, South Royalton, Vt.; Clinton R. Padelford, Fall River, Mass.

Group 5 Bankers to Meet in Ord

Special Train Bearing 40 to Arrive 8:30 a. m.; 200 Expected for Banquet.

Group 5 of the Nebraska Bankers Association will hold its annual meeting in Ord on Wednesday, April 17, with a breakfast, luncheon, a banquet and dance, as well as business sessions, as special events of the day. Emil Pafelita, cashier of the Nebraska State bank, is Group 5 president and also general chairman in charge of plans for the meeting.

A special train bearing 40 Omaha and Lincoln bankers and the state officers, including President Carl Neumann, of Oakdale, will arrive in Ord at 8:30 a. m. The train will be met by the Ord high school band, which will escort the visitors to the Masonic Temple where they will be served breakfast by the New Cafe.

At noon Ben's Grill will serve luncheon to men visitors at the Masonic room, with the women enjoying a luncheon at Thorne's cafe at the same time. After an afternoon business session all visitors will enjoy a banquet at the high school auditorium, with dancing to follow.

Group 5 takes in the territory between Spalding on the east, Taylor on the north, North Platte on the west and Grand Island on the south. About 200 people are expected for the banquet that evening.

Local committees in charge of plans include C. J. Mortensen and F. P. O'Neal, entertainment; R. E. Misko and Horace Travis, refreshments; James Petka, C. B. Gudmundsen and Harold Taylor, music.

Ord Golf Club Meets for Lunch and Election

The Ord Golf club members and their wives met Friday evening at the Masonic hall for their annual meeting. A large covered dish luncheon was served. The following were elected as a board of directors: Hilting O. Pearson, chairman; A. A. Wiegardt, Russell Craven, Clifford Brown and Miss Clara McClatchey. A general discussion of current affairs was held but no definite action was taken. The board will meet later and select the officers for the club.

More Dairy Calves. Chris Larsen returned yesterday from Albert Lea, Minn., where he had gone several days before to buy dairy calves. He brought back 54 head, 22 head being taken to Loup City, and the rest being distributed in the territory around Ord and North Loup.

DR. GEO. A. PARKINS.

Firemen to Start Solicitation for Inhalator Fund

Committees Named to Open a Drive, Also for Dance; New Contributions.

Members of the Ord fire department at their April meeting Monday evening discussed ways and means of raising money to swell the Inhalator Fund, for which approximately $300.00 is still needed, and decided to resort to general solicitation, a public dance and possibly sponsor sale of movie tickets to raise the money needed.

The drive for funds will be conducted by a committee composed of Harry Wolf, Irwin Merrill, W. L. Blessing, Ed Lukesh, F. V. Haight, Frank Pray, Mart Beran and Ed Parkos. In committees of two, these firemen will visit each section of the business district to ask financial aid for the worthy cause they are sponsoring.

It also was decided to hold a public dance some time during April or early May with a committee composed of A. W. Albers, E. R. Horner and H. A. Place in charge of arrangements.

A. J. Shirley was designated to see M. Biemond, manager of the Ord Theatre, and see what arrangements may be made for the firemen to sponsor a movie and sell tickets on a commission basis.

The fund now stands at $129.50, reports Mark Tolén, secretary-treasurer. Previously a acknowledgment as follows: Ord Business and Professional Women's club ..... $10.00 Cosmopolitan club ..... 15.00 A friend ..... 15.00 Postoffice Force ..... 9.00 E. C. Weller ..... 2.00 W. H. Barnard ..... 1.00

Several organizations, including the Legion, Auxiliary, Rotary club, county board of supervisors and others are discussing the matter and contributions from them are hoped for. Any other organizations or individuals who wish to make voluntary contributions before general solicitation starts are requested to make them to Secretary Tolén at the postoffice.

Nebraska Needs a Hatch Law-Miller

5,100 State Employees Now and Number Increasing; Against Unicameral.

Twenty-five persons braved the elements Thursday evening to attend the meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce and to listen to a talk by Dr. A. W. Miller, Kimball, Neb., who is a candidate for governor on the republican ticket. Dr. Miller arrived from Lincoln about two hours behind schedule because of the condition of the roads.

An informal dinner was held at the City cafe for Dr. Miller, with a number of Ord republicans in attendance. At the Masonic hall, where the chamber meeting was held, Chairman C. J. Mortensen postponed the regular order of business in order to give the speaker first place, as he planned to return to Lincoln again that night.

Dr. Miller said at the start of his speech that he would try to keep away from partisan politics, and would deal with state and national problems instead. He talked largely along the lines of our democracy and the danger that threatened it. Possessed of a good voice and a fund of information, he pleased his hearers from the start.

He said that the same conditions prevail in America today that did

$98,460 Valley County Road Project Approved

A works Projects Administration road project for Valley county, calling for the expenditure of $98,460 for county-wide road improvement, was approved March 27 by President Roosevelt, according to notification from Congressman Harry B. Coffee. Clearing, removing fences, excavating, grading, landscaping, setting plings, constructing bridges and drainage structures back-filling and surfacing are the uses to which the money may be put.

According to Mr. Coffee's letter the project is now eligible for operation at the discretion of the state WPA administrator. The Valley county board of supervisors is technical sponsor of the project.

Early Day Picture Awakens Interest in Having 50th Year Celebration.

Some time ago R. M. Laverly wrote the Quiz in regard to the idea of having a class celebration here in Ord. It seems that the class of 1890, of which he was a member, was the first turned out by Ord high school, and that this is the fiftieth anniversary of that occasion. He thinks the five remaining members of the old class might get together for a celebration, and that it would be a suitable time for all old grads to come back to their alma mater.

A mention of the letter in the Quiz two weeks ago has produced one most interesting result. The late H. G. Westburg was Ord's photographer at the time that class graduated, and Mrs. Westburg found a very fine picture he took of the class at that time, and brought it to the Quiz office. In case a celebration is decided upon, the Quiz will print it and other early day photos in the paper for that time.

In his letter Mr. Laverly states that the graduation date that year was June 4, and suggests that date as being appropriate for the celebration. However, Ord has another big affair in the offing, and it now seems that the dedication ceremonies for the new postoffice will take place some time near the middle of May. If both these occasions could be rolled into one, it should make an occasion long to be remembered.

To Frank T. Johnson goes the honor of being the oldest Ord grad still living in Ord. He was a member of the class of 1897. Orin Mutt, Mrs. G. R. Gard and Mrs. W. T. McLain belonged to the class of 1898. Mrs. J. L. Abernethy was a member of the class of 1899. These five are the only grads of the first decade of high school who are still living in or near Ord. This means that a large number of them live elsewhere, and would get a great deal of enjoyment out of coming back to the old town.

If the Chamber of Commerce or some other organization cares to take the initiative, the Quiz will be glad to give the proposition plenty of publicity. The time is short, but ample for the purpose, if action is taken at once. The members of the golden jubilee class are Mr. Laverly, Harold W. Foght, Mound Minn.; Edith Lucie Robbins, Lincoln; Everett Williams, Long Beach, Calif.; and Mabel Wilson McCord, San Pedro, Calif. James Milford, also a member, died several years ago.

Burwell and Ord Councils, Water Users, Will Meet

City Officials Invited to Hear 'Final' Proposal from the District.

A meeting of the village board of Burwell, the city council of Ord, members of the North Loup Valley Water Users' association, officials of the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district and Eugene T. Porter, field man for the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, is scheduled to be held at the city hall tonight.

Mayor M. B. Cummins of Ord and Mayor C. R. Becker, of Burwell, tell the Quiz that their invitations to the meeting, which will be held in the Ord city hall, came verbally from H. C. Jaupes, manager of the district. They will attempt to have full membership of their boards present, they indicated.

Letters telling about the meeting were sent to water users by C. C. Dale, secretary. These letters stated that the district expected to make a "final proposal" to sell electric energy to Ord and Burwell.

C. J. Mortensen, president of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, talked to Mr. Porter of the R. F. C. in Omaha Tuesday and was told that he and a representative of the Columbus project would attend the meeting and submit a proposition advantageous to the cities.

The meeting tonight will be unofficial so far as the city groups are concerned. It is open to the public.

1.20 Inches Rain Fell Thursday

Valley county soil got a real soaking Thursday when snow and rain totaling 1.20 inches of moisture fell in Ord, with about the same reported at Arcadia and 1.74 inches at North Loup. The storm began as a drizzling rain but later changed to heavy, wet snow which melted within a few hours.

The earth now is soaked to a depth of 10 to 14 inches report many farmers who started spring work Saturday or Monday and prospects for small grain are excellent. Pastures are showing the benefit of the rain also.

Grand Island Kiwanis Club for George Munn

Friday the Kiwanis club of Grand Island held a primary election as a part of their program. One of the offices voted for was that of district judge. The result of the vote gave Kroger 33 votes, George Munn of Ord, 15 votes, Abbott 14 votes, and Spikes of St. Paul 4 votes. If Mr. Munn can hold his own that well in a club of representative Grand Island business men he has a right to feel encouraged.

Twins To The Vascecks.

Twin boys were born to Mr. and Mrs. George Vascek of Poncha, Ia., on March 26. The first boy was born at home at 10 a. m., and weighed 5 lbs. 8 1/2 ozs. The second boy was born at the hospital in Ft. Dodge at 9 p. m., and weighed 6 lbs. 8 ozs. They have been named Donald Leo and Dennis Leon. Mrs. Vascek is the former Tillie Urban, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Urban of Ord.

6 1/2 Ounce Egg Laid by Hen of Bonsall Flock Is Largest Ever Entered in Quiz Egg Contest

Largest egg ever entered in a Quiz egg contest—larger even than the 6 ounce egg laid last week by a hen at Nebraska City and referred to by state dailies as "state champion egg"—is the Leghorn egg shown above. It was laid by a hen in the flock of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Bonsall, who live near Arcadia, and weighed 6 1/2 ounces. To show people how large this egg is, the photographer placed with it an egg of ordinary 2 ounce size. For standard grading eggs must weigh 24 ounces to the dozen, or 2 ounces each. Story on page 4.

Cummins, Jewett, Re-elected 2 to 1

Delores Greenwalt Double Winner in Valley County Spelling Bee; Two Other Medals Given

Delores Greenwalt, at left in above picture, made a clean sweep of the annual Valley county spelling bee Friday, winning both the oral and written divisions, and will represent this county in the state contest. Medals also were awarded to Fern Simms, center, and Oneta Holmes, right. Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, pronounced the words.

The snow Thursday evening made many roads almost impassable, and Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, was not certain Friday morning whether the spelling contest would be held that day. However, by 1 p. m., when the contest opened, there was a very good attendance, and the program opened on schedule.

A total of 73 contestants were certified for the contest, and most of them were present. The senior normal training class graded the papers in the written examination, and Mrs. Mark Tolén, Mrs. G. W. Taylor and Mrs. A. W. Cornell acted as judges in the oral contest, as they have on former occasions.

In the oral contest the first five in order, were: Delores Greenwalt, Dist. 2; Fern Simms, Dist. 1, North Loup; Billy Weddel, Dist. 21, Arcadia; Mildred Athey, Dist. 70, and Marjorie Hamer, Dist. 3, North Loup. The first five in the written contest were: Delores Greenwalt; Fern Simms; Oneta Holmes, Dist. 27; Eugene Psota, Dist. 57; and Eula Brown, Dist. 43.

This automatically placed Delores Greenwalt first, for which she won a gold medal, and Fern Simms second, for a silver medal. In the runoff contest between Billy Weddel and Oneta Holmes for third place and the bronze medal, Miss Holmes won. This is the first year three medals were awarded.

By reason of winning first place Miss Greenwalt will represent Valley county in the World-Herald contest in Omaha on April 26. Council Bluffs on April 26.

Miss Greenwalt is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie Greenwalt. Miss Simms is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Simms. Miss Holmes is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holmes. All the contestants who landed in the first five places had been in former contests except Eugene Psota.

There were a number of young spellers in the contest: Ellora Jane Cook, 4th grade, 8 years old, and Danny Huff and Donnie Shoemaker, 3rd grade and 8 years old. Jacqueline Burrows, also 8 years old, planned to attend, but was kept away by bad roads.

$50 Prize Money in P-F-L Contest

The Ord Chamber of Commerce is announcing a Pasture-Forage-Livestock contest for Valley county farmers with a total of $50.00 in cash prizes for participants.

The contest will be a part of the state-wide program which is being sponsored by the agricultural college, livestock and crop associations and Chambers of Commerce. Locally the contest will have two divisions, one for irrigated farms and another for dryland farms. Prizes in each division will be $25.00, first; $7.50, second and $5.00, third. Farmers who enter the local program will also be eligible for recognition in the state program at the big finish-up meeting in Omaha next fall.

The program features balanced livestock and feed operations on Nebraska farms and ranches and has become very popular throughout the state.

Valley county farmers who are interested in the local competition can secure full details and fill out balance sheets, which take the place of an entry blank, at the Ord Cooperative Creamery, the Noll Seed company or at the county agent's office. The committee in charge is very anxious to have a large number of entries and invites all interested farmers to come in and learn the particulars.

E. S. Murray was called to Omaha on a business mission Monday, returning home that same night.

Edward L. Kokes Chosen President by Ord Rotarians

M. Biemond Elevated to the Vice-Presidency; Kuska in Interesting Talk.

E. L. Kokes, now vice-president of the Ord Rotary club, Monday evening was elevated to the presidency of the club, to take office in June. At the same time M. Biemond was chosen vice-president. Dr. George H. Gard reelected secretary, F. P. O'Neal chosen to succeed the late James Misko as treasurer, Clarence M. Davis was elected official greeter, E. S. Murray, sergeant-at-arms, R. E. Teague and Frank Lee directors. When President C. C. Thompson's term ends he also becomes a member of the official board.

Principal speaker Monday was Kuska, colonization agent of the Burlington railroad, who spoke on irrigation and what it is doing for the state. He drew comparisons between the value of land under irrigation and other land.

Two Loup City Rotarians, Carl Pocht and Paul Sell, brought to Ord the display of flags of 60 different countries in which Rotary International has clubs. This display, the "Parade of Flags," is making the rounds of Rotary clubs of this district, each club taking it on to another club. The flags are now on exhibit in the Beranek drug store window and will be taken from here to Ravenna.

Students Try Out For Regents' Scholarship

Miss Clara McClatchey gave the regents' scholarship tests to a group of high school students Monday and Tuesday of this week at her office. Those tests are on classification of English and classification of Algebra. Those taking them were Norma Jean Clochon, Wilma Ollis, Alberta Flynn, Lyle Flag, Wilber Kizer and Gerald Stoddard. The papers are sent in and the results will be announced some time later.

Roy Hamilton Dies at Los Angeles Hospital

Roy J. Hamilton, 44, a resident of Ord many years, died recently at a hospital in Los Angeles, the Quiz learns through his aunt, Mrs. Joe Rowbal. He had been in California since about 1920. A pharmacist by profession, he was a member of the Masonic lodge when he lived here.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Grace Hamilton; a son, Roy H. Hamilton; and a daughter, Mrs. Thelma R. Hay, all of Long Beach; his father, Levi Hamilton, and a brother, Jay Hamilton, both of La Junta, Colo.

Drive 2,000 Miles in 73 Hours to See Witness

County Attorney John P. Misko, accompanied by Ed Michalek, set some kind of a record last week when he drove 2,000 miles in a period of 73 hours to interview a witness in a case now pending in the Valley county courts. The witness lives in Michigan. The Ord men left here Saturday evening and returned Tuesday evening.

Largest Vote in City's History Is Cast Tuesday

Total Was 998 With Absent Ballots; Krikac Is New 2nd Ward Councillman.

A total of 998 votes, largest in the city's history, was cast at Tuesday's election, and the result was that M. B. Cummins was reelected mayor and Rex Jewett was reelected city clerk, each by a majority of more than 2 to 1.

Vote for mayor was 681 for Cummins and 291 for his opponent, Gould B. Plagg, while for clerk it was 654 for Jewett and 315 for the "by petition" candidate, Dillo E. Troyer.

Only change in the city council comes in the 2nd ward where Frank Krikac was elected to the council by a vote of 176 to 129 for his opponent, Bob Noll, who was seeking reelection. Joe Robla was reelected to the council by 3rd ward voters, his margin over Vernie Andersen being 206 to 113. M. Biemond was unopposed for reelection to the council in the 1st ward.

Biggest vote was cast for the office of mayor, there being 972 ballots plus 25 of absent or disabled voters. These 25 have not yet been counted but in no instance could they change the result.

Other city officers, James B. Ollis for treasurer, John Andersen for police magistrate, Ed F. Beranek for the park board, Dr. F. L. Blessing and L. D. Milliken for the school board, were reelected without opposition.

By wards, the vote for mayor was as follows:

Cummins	212	224	245
Plagg	121	91	79

By wards, for clerk:

Jewett	228	191	235
Troyer	105	125	85

Glow Fackler, democrat-republican, got 85 votes, and R. B. Grunemeyer, democrat, got 70. Elected to the school board were G. D. Walker, democrat, 146; Dewey Demaree, republican-democrat, 156; Clara Butts, democrat, 109.

Cornell's Name Written In.

North Loup—(Special)—The name of Melvin Cornell for the village board was written in by 87 voters at the village election Tuesday and he was one of the two candidates elected. Erlo Cox was reelected with 112. Other candidates were W. G. Johnson, 46; A. H. Jackman, 68; and Otto Barby, 36. For the school board Bill Earnest, with 138 votes, and Roy Cox, with 119, were elected. Votes for the other candidates were Ethel Hamer, 65, and J. S. Manchester, 49. C. W. Barber was reelected police magistrate over Melvin Cornell by a vote of 115 to 42.

Water Flowing in No. Loup Canals

Prospects Good for a Full Irrigating Season, Is Walford's Statement.

Prospects for a full irrigation year in the North Loup district are fine, according to a statement made Saturday by L. E. Walford, watermaster for the North Loup district. He has had his crews working right along, and in spite of the bad weather last week, all was ready Monday morning and the water was started down the Ord-North Loup and Burwell-Sumner canals.

Due to the large amount of work necessary and the fact that the work could not be started early on account of the weather, it was impossible to start the water in the Taylor-Ord canal Monday, but Mr. Walford believes that the water will be turned in at Taylor Saturday. Meanwhile men are at work clearing the ditches of tumble weeds ahead of the water.

The moisture that we have had through the winter has done much to keep the canals seasoned and for this reason the amount of water needed to soak up the soil will be less than after a dry year.

—Mrs. R. L. Waterman and son Donald went to Chambers Friday with Miss Verma Glandt, home extension agent, to visit her mother, Mrs. Nina Meyers. Sunday Russell and son Marvin, Mrs. Frank Wigent and Mrs. Sid Brown drove to Chambers and brought her home.

BURWELL

When Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Clark returned to Ashland a week ago after visiting friends in Burwell several days, Mrs. L. B. Fenner accompanied them. She was a guest in the Clark home and also visited Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Lukhart in Lincoln. Saturday night she returned home to find Mr. Fenner in bed with the flu. He was confined home for a week.

Mr. West and Mr. Douglas took the vocational agricultural cattle judging teams to Columbus Thursday where they competed with six hundred other boys in judging the cattle at the Aberdeen Angus show. Those who made the trip were Roy Gerdes, Frank Bratka, Lewis Dunc, Clayton Anderson, Calvin Key, Don Edwards, Bernard Guggenmos, Melvin Howart, Marvin Donner, Joe Daly and Dean Rowse. Saturday these boys will go to Kearney where they will compete in another judging contest. Mrs. Douglas accompanied her husband stopping at Silver Creek where she spent the day with her mother.

Claude Kennedy attended the sale at Columbus Friday where he purchased a bull and two heifers. Mr. Garwood, who lives near Swan Lake also bought a bull.

Jacob Jensen of North Loup bought a new GMC truck from the Bredthauer Motor company last week. E. M. Trennephal of Elgin bought a new GMC pickup. He operates a cream route and hauls cream to the Burwell butter factory.

A group of boys returning from a meeting in the school house Friday evening made use of what it is thought will be the last opportunity of the season to engage in a snowball fight. One of the boys missed his aim and a snowball smashed into Rev. Light's front window breaking it out just when Mr. and Mrs. Light were retiring for the night.

Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements of Ord spent Monday evening with Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner in their home.

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Butts drove to Arapahoe Monday where Mrs. Butts spoke at a meeting of Organized Agriculture. Mr. Butts returned home Monday but Mrs. Butts went on to Holdrege where she spoke at another meeting Tuesday. Wednesday she spoke at Alma and on Thursday she will speak at Benkleman.

Miss Naomi Wagner, the coach and his wife and daughter and another teacher from Belgrade were guests in the F. F. Wagner home Saturday.

Mrs. Orville Petersen and Phyllis and Mrs. Clarence Harrod drove to Ord Tuesday where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Mann.

Rev. and Mrs. Shelby J. Light and family were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. C. Woods.

A daughter, who has been named Gloria Jean, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lewis of Taylor in Dr. Cram's hospital Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Johnson and Vernon were Sunday guests in F. J. Dworak home in Ord.

Miss Eloise Lett will sing Malotte's Lord's Prayer Sunday morning as a part of the service of the Congregational church.

Robert Baumgartner of Ericson was brought to Dr. Cram's hospital with a fractured ankle Tuesday.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. William Schmeits the same day with Dr. Cram as attending physician. Mrs. Schmeits is being cared for in the home of her mother, Mrs. Perry Donner.

Sunday a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Scherzberg. The lad was especially welcome as the Scherzbergs are the parents of three daughters. Dr. Cram was in attendance.

The gates were put into the dam at Burwell Saturday and by Sunday the lake was filled with water. Water flowed into the Burwell-Sumter canal Tuesday and Watermaster L. E. Walford stated that the farmers could start irrigating any time they chose. He said that gates were put into the Hardenbrook dam at Ord Saturday and that they would be put into the Taylor dam next Saturday.

Mrs. Tim Corliss of Sumner, Wash., a daughter of Mrs. Mae Eveleth and Mrs. M. W. Eveleth of Tacoma, Wash., Mrs. Eveleth's daughter-in-law, arrived in Burwell Saturday from Detroit where they purchased a new Dodge car. These ladies bought this car on the 13th of March. The car was delivered to them thirteen days later with thirteen miles on it. Since these ladies left home they have traveled in thirteen states and visited thirteen cities. They made a bus trip east of Detroit and their tickets cost them $13.50 each. When they started home they noticed a large sign on the cafe where they stopped for lunch advertising that they served 13,000,000 cups of coffee last year. When they came to Nebraska the license number of the first county in which they stopped was thirteen. They visited relatives in Hartington where there were thirteen members in the family. When they got to Burwell they discovered they had driven 1300 miles, had spent thirteen dollars for gasoline and that they had been away from home thirteen days. Sunday these ladies took Mrs. Eveleth and Mr. Robbins for a drive up the Calamus river. They visited the ranch where Mrs. Eveleth and her husband homesteaded years ago. Mrs. Eveleth had not visited this neighborhood since she left there twenty years ago. Later in the day they visited friends in Brewster. Mrs. Corliss and Mrs. W. M. Eveleth resumed their homeward journey Monday morning.

C. M. Lantis of Esbon, Kas., was a week end guest in the O. S. and Leland Chaffin homes. Mr. Lantis who is an oil operator owns considerable real estate in the north part of Garfield county.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Wencel Bruha Thursday with Dr. Cram in attendance.

Hard Work and Hardships Necessary for Real Happiness, Say Meyers; Married 60 Years

Burwell—(Special)—For sixty years Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyers, who live north of the mill, have been united by a bond of affection, irrevocably formed by years of living and working together, sharing their joys and sorrows and striving for the same aim. Sunday in honor of their diamond wedding anniversary, their children and grandchildren gathered at their home to celebrate the day.

Those who attended were Mrs. Antonia Swantner of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Meyers, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Manasil, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Swantner of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Manasil and Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Manasil of Grand Island, Mrs. Anna Manasil of St. Paul, who is Frank Manasil's mother, Miss Marie Swantner of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Janovec of Grand Island.

Mrs. Meyers was presented a bouquet of beautiful roses. She and her husband are contented with the simple things of life and having everything they desire they requested that no gifts be given them. The table was loaded with a baked ham, a roast goose, several chickens and endless other good things to eat.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Meyers emigrated to this country from Europe. He was born in Graudenz, Germany, a town near the Polish border in 1859. Mrs. Meyers was born in Praha, Czechoslovakia. Both came to this country when they were fourteen years old.

Mr. Meyers landed at Baltimore. Later he went to Pittsburgh where he worked in a bottle factory. Coming to this country a penniless emigrant speaking a strange tongue he did not find life to be a "bed of roses." He took whatever job he could find and worked hard at it.

Later he got a job operating a turning lathe in a pot foundry. Hearing of the opportunities awaiting young men in the west, he came to Nebraska in 1877 and worked two years in the vicinity of St. Paul.

There was more and better paying work to be had at Pittsburgh, however, and two years later he returned east. In the meanwhile Mrs. Meyers had come from the old country and settled at Allegheny City, which is just across the river from Pittsburgh. They first met at a party and after a short courtship unaided by an automobile or even a horse and buggy they were united in marriage, March 27, 1880 in St. Wencel's church in Allegheny City. Mr. Meyers was 21 and his wife seventeen years old.

Here they lived for two years. Their eldest daughter was born in Pennsylvania. In 1882 they came to Nebraska and settled on land which they bought from the railroad, three miles southwest of Elba. Mr. Meyers related that after they paid for the land they did not have money left to buy a cow. At that time there were only about fifteen small buildings in St. Paul and the nearest railroad was Grand Island. There was no coal to be bought and they could have bought none anyway because they had no money and so they cut up sunflowers and burned them for fuel. By practicing thrift and hard work they were soon able to get a start in this community, where their other three children were born.

In 1887 they sold out and hearing of the opportunities offered in Colorado they moved there, settling on a homestead 90 miles east of Denver. This proved to be a bad move. They attempted to farm out on a high dry plain but owing to lack of rainfall they failed utterly. Mr. Meyers got work cutting timber in the canyons many miles from home.

He built a shack to live in and in the blizzard of 1888 the entire family nearly perished. The snow blew in through the cracks in the building and filled the room nearly to the ceiling. All the fuel they had was burnt to chips. The child became sick and their son, Joe, nearly died but before the spark of life became extinct the storm broke and providence spared this brave family.

Two years later they returned to St. Paul utterly broke and discouraged. Mr. Meyers obtained work in the brick yards and one year later he bought 80 acres of land two miles southwest of St. Paul on the mill. Again the family recuperated their fortune and by hard work and thrift they gradually increased their holdings until they owned 245 acres of good farm land. Here they lived for twenty years but after their family grew up and left home they moved on to an eighty acre farm.

They lived on this smaller farm for thirteen years and when the period of prosperity came after the World War they sold it for $125,000 per acre and moved into St. Paul to retire.

"You've worked long enough, father," Mr. Meyers' children said, but he soon found a life of leisure and idleness was not to his and his wife's liking and the same year they bought the farm north of Burwell where they have resided for twenty years.

Hard work and hardships are necessary for happiness, according to Mr. and Mrs. Meyers. They came to America with nothing but youth, hope and a willingness to work and by practicing thrift and industry have accumulated a comfortable fortune. Their children have grown into useful and prominent citizens and most of their eleven grandchildren are college graduates or are attending school. Mr. and Mrs. Meyers have five great grandchildren.

The Meyers' still work. He farms fifty-four acres, milks three cows and has two teams. Last year he irrigated five acres of corn. Mr. Meyers has a deep love for the soil and every spring is impatient to get into the fields. The independent life of a farmer appeals to him and his wife. Even though Mr. Meyers is eighty-one years old he has no thought of retiring.

Inspired by the balmy spring weather the members of the Knite club enjoyed a steak fry at Walker's cabin Tuesday night. The young ladies feasted upon steak, potato chips, pickles, buns, apples and oranges but unfortunately some absent member of the group forgot to bring the coffee pot and the damsel bemoaned the deprivation of their beverage. Sarah Grunke-meyer invited the group to her home where she provided them with coffee in abundance, as well as candy and popcorn.

Harold Hoyt of Crete and Mrs. Maude Rockhold of Callaway visited friends and relatives in Burwell Tuesday.

Roy Chaffin shipped four carloads of cows and heifers to Chicago over the Union Pacific railroad from Ord Friday. He received $8.75 per hundred pounds for some light heifers which he shipped and $6.75 for some cows. Glen Waler and Gerald as well as Mr. Chaffin accompanied the shipment. They returned home Tuesday, leaving Chicago at 6:20 Monday evening on the streamlined train, the City of Denver, and getting into Grand Island about 3 o'clock in the morning.

Vernon Huckfeldt, International implement dealer, received a carload of Farmall tractors Thursday.

Turkey Raisers Plan Increase; Overstocked

According to a bulletin released March 18 by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, producers are planning to raise 4 to 5% more turkeys this year than in 1939. It is believed that feeding costs will be higher during the first part of 1940 than they were for the corresponding months of 1939.

Thirty-three million turkeys were raised in 1939, which was 25% more than in 1938, and 18% more than the previous record crop of 1936. In spite of this increased production, prices realized for turkeys last November and December were but little lower than in the same months of 1938.

The fact that should cause alarm is that on March 1, 1940, there were 63,000,000 pounds of turkeys in cold storage as compared with about 27,000,000 pounds in storage a year earlier. With so many pounds of turkeys in cold storage now, the plants will doubtless be unwilling to store more turkeys next fall.

Unless a man has plenty of cheap feed available, it is a question whether he should take a chance on raising turkeys on a large scale this year. All turkey raisers should write the Department of Agriculture for their Special Outlook Report on Turkeys, and inform themselves on conditions before embarking on this enterprise.

The club has bought the following new books for the library: "The Autobiography of Leonardo Da Vinci," and two additional books of the River Series, "The Arkansas" and "The Colorado." Mrs. L. D. Milliken was the leader of the study, "Finest Temples of Architecture," and demonstrated the lesson with slides procured from the University of Kansas. The lesson dealt with the architecture of Greece, Rome, and the Moors of Spain, example, The Alhambra.

Legion and Auxiliary.

The American Legion and Ladies Auxiliary met at the hall last night and enjoyed a mock trial, in which Roy L. Severson, commander, was the victim and was proven guilty of breaking into the Ord postoffice. Postmaster Alfred L. Hill, star witness for the prosecution, was also made an accessory after the fact. Severson was sentenced to serve another year as commander, if he post so orders. In the Legion business session Mr. Hill made a report for the committee on Boys' State. Orville Stoddard has been chosen to go, with James Ollis as alternate. It was agreed to donate $10 to the firemen's inhalator fund. A motion carried to buy some Chinese elms for the cemetery plot. V. W. Russell, Dr. F. L. Blessing and C. C. Dale are the committee for Legion Junior baseball.

Boys! Girls! Get Ready to Enter the Quiz Gourd Contest, Win $20 in Prizes

Boys and girls of Ord and the surrounding territory in which the Quiz circulates are invited to enter a gourd-growing contest to be sponsored by The Quiz, for which complete rules will be announced soon. Present plan is to offer about $20 in prize money for best exhibits at a gourd show to be held in Ord next fall. Arrangements are being made with the Noll Seed company by which The Quiz will sell to boys and girls who wish to enter the contest, a 10c package of gourd seed for only 5c. Each package will contain approximately 100 gourd seeds of the ornamental small fruit variety. All children between the ages of 6 and 12 years are eligible to enter but must grow their gourds from seed procured through this office and must sign an entry blank when they do so, in order to be eligible to compete in the gourd show next fall. Prizes probably will be given for the best collection of gourds, the largest gourd, oldest gourd, prettiest colored gourd, grown from the seed secured through The Quiz. This provision is made to assure all contestants having an even and fair chance. Vines of the ornamental small fruit gourd grow to a length of 10 to 20 feet, so seeds should be planted where the vines will have a fence, trellis or wires on which to climb. Only a small patch of ground is needed. Foliage of the gourd vine is pretty as are the flowers and since the gourds grow in dozens of different shapes, sizes and colors it will be fun to grow, pick and exhibit them. The photo above shows the variety of gourds that may be grown from a single package of seed such as The Quiz will offer at a price that is below ordinary cost. The contest is being held by The Quiz to interest boys and girls in gardening for themselves, to provide them with a healthful outdoor occupation during summer months and to beautify the town and countryside. Gourds are easy to grow, respond to a minimum of care and when harvested have a variety of uses, decorative, educational, and otherwise. Since gourds should not be planted until all danger of frost is past, about May 10 in this climate, there is plenty of time, but children should be thinking about the contest and deciding where they will plant the gourds, perhaps be reading up on gourd culture. Watch for further announcement of The Quiz gourd contest next week.

County Assessors Met at Court House Monday

The Valley county assessors met with A. R. Brox, county assessor, in the district court room Friday to make up the schedule of prices on grain and livestock to use for assessing this year. The schedule for stock as agreed upon by them is as follows: Cattle: yearlings, $15 to $25; two-year-olds, $25 to $35; milk cows, $35 to $60; stockers, $30 and up; fat steers, 7c a pound; heifers, 6c a pound; cows, 4 1/2c a pound; registered bulls, $60 to $100; non-registered bulls, $40 to $60. Horses: yearlings, $15 to $25; two-year-olds, $20 to $35; three-year-olds, $40 to $80; ponies, $10 to $20; stallions, $100 and up. Hogs, 3c per pound. Grain: per bushel, wheat 70c; rye 50c; corn 50c; oats 35c; all kinds of kafir, sorghums, etc. 40c; barley 40c. It will be well to remember that sealed corn is assessable this year.

6 1/2 Ounce Egg Laid by Hen of Bonsall Flock Is Largest Ever Entered in Quiz Egg Contest

The Bonsall egg is larger than most goose eggs and if it wasn't for two things it might be suspected that a goose egg got into the nest by mistake on the Bonsall farm. First of these facts is that the Bonsalls have no geese; second is that the 6 1/2 ounce egg is not shiny as goose eggs are and, in fact, is exactly like an ordinary Leghorn egg except for its tremendous size. The following are the assessors: Noble, A. J. Campbell; Elyria, Louis Ruzovsky; Eureka, William L. Grabowski; Geranium, Jos. P. Holoun; Michigan, E. E. Vodehnal; Ord twp., H. A. Stara; First ward, Sam Marks; Second ward, Frank Krikac; Third ward, John J. Wozab, Jr.; Springdale, H. R. Timmerman; North Loup, Roy Lewis; Enterprise, Edgar Roe; Vinton, E. S. Coats; Liberty, John Wolf; Arcadia, A. C. Mather; Yale, Walter Dobson; Davis Creek, T. S. Weed; Independent, Alex Brown. In the Pecinka & Son meat market window the Bonsall egg and others entered in the Quiz contest will be on display the rest of the week. The Quiz "big egg" contest will end April 15 and the prize, a year's subscription to The Quiz, will be awarded to Mrs. Bonsall unless an egg weighing more than 6 1/2 ounces is entered before then, which seems most unlikely. When last week's Quiz was published the largest egg officially entered weighed only 4 ounces. One of this weight was entered by Mrs. Steve Jablonski, another by J. W. Sevenker. But this record was soon broken when James Svoboda brought in a 4 1/2 ounce egg and this record in turn was fractured when the huge Bonsall egg appeared. Several other hens in the Bonsall flock are layers of big eggs also. Another submitted by Mrs. Bonsall weighed 4 ounces, another 4 1/2 ounces, a third 3 3/4 ounces and a fourth 3 1/4 ounces. V. J. Hisek, also of Arcadia, brought in a 4 ounce egg Saturday. Some very small eggs and some freak eggs also made their appearance, including a small egg within a larger one brought by Mrs. Walter Hoon, of Arcadia. Walter Guggenmos brought in an egg that weighed about 1/4 ounce, Vern Jobst, a son of Frank Jobst, brought in two oddly shaped eggs from the farm of his grandfather, Jake Deehrie, and John Novotny brought in a tiny Rhode Island Red egg. See the championship Bonsall egg on display in the Pecinka meat market window this week.

Valley, Garfield, Loup Census Takers Get Instructions at Ord Meeting

R. A. Daugherty of Kearney and his assistant, Miss Velma Banks, arrived in Ord about 11 a. m., on Monday to meet with the persons from Valley, Garfield and Loup counties who are to take the census in the precincts to which they are assigned. He had expected to arrive at shortly after 8 a. m., but was delayed enroute.

The group was awaiting his arrival, and the school of instruction got under way and continued until about 4 p. m. Due to the fact that all the necessary material had not arrived, they were given such material as was available and told to study their instructions and report again at the Ord court room next Friday.

Those assigned for Valley county are Robert Hall, William M. Ollis, Orin B. Mutter, Helen Sevens, George Bell, Lillian Ulrich, all of Ord, Clem Meyers, Glen Larson and Lewis Vols, North Loup, Orvis Hill and Mrs. Lyle B. Lutz of Arcadia, Joe Kamarad, of Comstock, Floyd Wozniak and Christine Fischer of Elyria. This makes only 14 for the 13 precincts in Valley county.

None of these has received his precinct assignment as yet, and since there are more than one in some precincts and others have none, some will be assigned outside their own precincts. No full details will be available until after the meeting next Friday, at which time R. E. Brega, district superintendent, expects to be present.

Present from Garfield county were Lola Howart, Lula Garrison, Irma Draver, Virginia K. Watts, Gerald Dye, Isla Semple, Percy Davis, Archie Shafer, Thomas Mevret, one short of the required ten, one for each of the county's ten precincts. Only two were present from Loup county, which has nine precincts, they were Eldon Boll, Burwell, and Mrs. Johnson, Taylor, Sample farm and ranch schedules are being distributed at the county clerk's office for all who wish to study the questions and be better prepared for the answers. It is a sheet 13 by 8 inches in size, with questions on both sides, the total number being 232. These questions cover every imaginable phase of farm work.

The first 5 questions concern the farm operator. Questions 6 to 11 concern farm tenure. Farm acreage is handled by questions 12 to 18. Farm values are by questions 19 to 21. Farm mortgage debt and farm taxes are covered by questions 22 to 26. Other lands, 27-28. Irrigation takes questions 31 to 33.

Among other headings are farm labor, farm expenditures, farm machinery, itemized livestock, itemized grains, legumes, hay crops, clover and grass seeds, miscellaneous crops, vegetables, horticultural specialties, small fruits, tree fruits, and forest products.

"He," is the name of the play which will be given in the competition at Gothenburg by the Ord group Friday. It is the story of a New England whaler, who had not taken in all the "He" he should have, and was determined to get it. Warren Allen appears in the title role, and is supported by Bob Gruber, Emanuel Smolik, Joy Loft and Harvey Dahlin.

The first test for Ord track athletes comes Friday, when Loup City comes to Ord in the first dual track meet of the season. Among the men who will probably win points for Ord are Hurlbert, high jump, hurdles, sprints; Benda, shot and sprints; Tatlow, pole vault; Cetak, weights; Marks and Gregory, distance; Christensen and Greke, high jump.

Prof. W. Eversman, a scientist, gave a most unusual demonstration yesterday in the high school auditorium at 2:45 p. m. He has made an extensive study of liquid air, and brought with him some most interesting laboratory equipment. Among his experiments were the freezing of a tube of kerosene into a candle, and some mercury into a hammer.

Saturday Was Good Day For Business A check-up around the square showed that Saturday was without doubt the best business day of 1940 to date. Weather conditions were ideal, and the buying public started coming early and remained late, nearly all business houses reporting an exceptionally good trade.

The Ord Co-op Oil company reported fully as good a day as was their special day some time ago, with everybody kept on the jump all day long. Mrs. Goff says she sold out every bany chick on the place, and could have sold more if she had had them.

Many of the stores found their regular Saturday force insufficient to keep up with the business, and a few put on extra help during the rush hours. The heavy rain and snow which visited this section recently doubtless had much to do with business Saturday.

A group of ladies met at the home of Mrs. Leonard Luddington for a quilting party yesterday afternoon.

Ord High School Notes. The Ordette club is planning a hayride for this evening, and each member is to invite a boy friend. Three hay racks have been hired, and Miss Filley will sponsor the group.

The Hi-Y banquet was held Friday evening in the Home Ec. room in the high school. Clarence M. Davis was principal speaker, and addressed the group on the subject, "Character." The theme of the evening was tulips. A number of members responded to toasts. Following the banquet a dance was held in the high school auditorium until midnight.

Ord Hospital Notes. Mrs. Vergil McBurney was able to leave the hospital Monday convalescent after an operation for a ruptured appendix performed by Drs. Miller and Barla.

Miss Norene Hardenbrook is a patient in the Ord hospital.

A son was born in the hospital last Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bartlett, of Rock Springs, Wyo., with Dr. Miller in attendance.

Mrs. Clarence Jeffers, of Burwell, is in the hospital and will undergo surgical treatment.

Little Johnny Treptow, of Burwell, had an appendectomy Monday, the surgeons being Drs. Miller and Smith.

Harlow Doggett, of Taylor, had an appendectomy Thursday performed by Drs. Miller and Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Hans Peterson are parents of a daughter born Thursday with Dr. Round in attendance.

Miss Dinna Kearns, of Scotia, is in the hospital recovering from an appendectomy performed Monday by Drs. Miller and Kafka.

VOTE FOR MERTON O. BATES of Lexington Republican Candidate for Congress 5th District Your support is earnestly solicited This ad paid for by friends of M. O. Bates

Thank You!

I sincerely thank all those voters of Ord who cast their ballots for me at the election Tuesday, and those who supported me with words or deeds before the election. It is gratifying to know that my work as city clerk has met with the favor of the big majority of Ord people and I can promise you a continuation of courteous service so long as I am in the office.

Rex Jewett

I Want to Thank Ord Voters—

Friends, I want to thank every one of you for the splendid endorsement you gave the policies of my administration at the city election Tuesday. I expect to do my best to correct some of the things to which the minority objected, but for the most part I hope to maintain our policies without change.

Especially do I want to express my appreciation to those who worked for me in getting out the big vote Tuesday; also to my farmer friends who helped by boosting my candidacy with Ord people.

Here's the Record

LB-15 By Doyle—Allowing counties to raise the relief levy from 3-5 to 1 mill. No increase in tax load.

LB-351 By Doyle—Blind relief; up to $30.00 for needy.

LB-359 By Doyle—Assistance for aged, crippled children, dependent children. Allows up to $30.00 for needy.

LB-390 By Doyle—How fifteen million dollars relief money to be divided.

LB-350 By Doyle—Clarified a law that had one class of truck discriminated against. This bill neither increased the axle load or all over length in trucks. There has been some erroneous information put out on this law.

Had more individual bills passed than any man in the legislature with one exception.

Co-introducer on game bill. By the passage of this bill the state has available several thousand dollars aid from the U. S. government to propagate the fish and fowl of this state.

Co-introducer—Ice cream weights and contents. Amendment by Doyle making it compulsory to sell ice cream by weight.

Co-introducer—Repealed compulsory car testing law.

Co-introducer—Power alcohol exempt from tax. This measure was introduced to encourage use of farm products for fuel purposes.

I cast more recorded votes than any man in the legislature. Gave active support to LB-191 Emergency appropriation of $300,000 to pay assistance grants for the balance of the last biennial. Without this bill, April, May and June assistance checks would have been cut in half.

I led the fight to raise the amount of assistance. We appropriated a total of $9,100,000, compared to $7,500,000 by the 1937 legislature by returning the 1/2 cent gas tax to the assistance fund that was taken away by the 1937 legislature.

I was very active in trying to return to the working people part of the $1,300,000 that was refunded by the National government.

Voted against a $50.00 top for burial of people getting assistance. This is government interference with private business.

Voted "no" against Ben Clausen attaching spouse property.

Had resolution adopted asking Washington for help on Cedar Valley Irrigation project.

Insurance Investigation—Offered motion to investigate Bureau of Securities. Motion was adopted and five days later the Director of Securities resigned.

Many state laws must coordinate with the laws of the National government and I do believe that it is a mistake to send a new man to the legislature each session. There are prominent committee assignments and they are never assigned to new members.

I have no campaign promises other than to carry on the work the same as in the past and with more experience, I should be able to do more. The only way you can judge a man's future is by his past.

Variety Is the Spice of Life

Families get tired of the same old menus day after day, which is the real reason our market carries such a variety of meats. You'll find it easy to shop here; easy too to serve varied, attractive meals with the high grade meats, cheese and other foods bought here.

No other market within 50 miles of Ord carries such an assortment of fine foods as we do. No matter what you want in the meat line, chances are very good you'll find it here.

City Council Closed

Fiscal Year Monday

The Ord city council met at the city hall Monday evening with all members, the city clerk, city attorney and city manager present. The report of James B. Ollis, city treasurer, was read, accepted and placed on file, as was the report of John L. Andersen, police judge, for the period Sept. 1, 1939, to April 1, 1940.

The applications of Fafeita and Perkins for liquor licenses and the applications of Kasal, Petersen, Johnson and Douthitt were approved to the state liquor commission. Clarence M. Davis, city attorney, reported that two men, Messrs. Willis and Hall, from the state irrigation board, had been in Ord and had examined the ditch at the park, relative to using irrigation water for a lake.

They suggested that the city make application for water for this purpose in order to establish a priority claim in case water is wanted for a lake at any time in the future. It was voted to do this. Mark Geiger of the WPA office was not present, but his suggestion of continuing the athletic field work was explained by George Allen. It was decided to postpone further

HENRY BEHRENS
Republican Candidate for RAILWAY COMMISSION
Henry Behrens is an outstanding candidate for the railway commission on the republican ticket. Mr. Behrens served 14 years in the legislature and 6 years on the board of control. Always opposed to any bond issue and led fight against proposed 25 million dollar bond issue in 1929.

DWIGHT GRISWOLD

REPUBLICAN FOR GOVERNOR

A hard-fighting, aggressive campaigner who is the best vote-getter in the Republican Party!

In 1932, 1934 and 1936 (Democratic landslide years), he received respectively 260,888, 266,707 and 257,267 votes. In 1938, Warner received only 201,898 votes. And in the latter year, five Republicans were elected to state office and three out of five Republican congressmen were chosen. Warner was the low man on the Republican ticket, running 48,000 behind Walter Johnson. Compared to this Dwight Griswold ran far ahead of his ticket and only the landslide defeated him.

The 'home folks' like Dwight Griswold. The last time he ran for office, he carried Gordon by a vote of 411 to 18.

Dwight Griswold comes from the West. He was born and raised in northwestern Nebraska, where his parents were pioneer homesteaders before the railroad arrived.

He pledges himself to clean up the political conditions in the State Capital building highways instead of political fences, giving relief and old age pensions to the needy instead of to political friends and appointing capable people to public positions. He feels that the matter of tax assessments and the cost of government must be approached seriously from the standpoint of the ability of people to pay their taxes.

The above advertisement is sponsored by friends of Dwight Griswold, who believe he is the best qualified man in the state for this high office.

Charlotte Blessing Was Ill, Unable Play Lead

When the play, "What a Life," was presented by the Teachers College of Kearney Normal last Tuesday and Wednesday, it had to go on without the services of its leading lady, Charlotte Blessing of Ord. Miss Blessing had spent the Easter vacation with her parents, became ill the day after her return to Kearney, and was confined to her bed until Friday. An under-study played her part in the play.

Miss Blessing last year played the lead in the college play "The Bishop Misbehaves," and has a splendid record in the college theatre. In Ord high school she also was interested in dramatics, playing the leading role in both her junior and senior plays.

She is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. F. L. Blessing, of this city.

Cosmopolitan Club Is Planning Joint Session

There was a very good attendance at the meeting of the Ord Cosmopolitan club at the City Cafe Monday evening. Plans call for a joint session next Monday evening, when the Rotarians will be the guests of the club, and Boy Scout activities will be discussed. Ballots were distributed with the names of the four candidates for district judge thereon, the vote resulting: Mann 23, Kroker 18, Abbott 4 Spikes 1.

Speaking of the soap box derby, the chairman, El Gnaester, said that the committee had failed to get together, but that plans are moving right along. He called upon H. P. Brockman, who said that a number of boys 10 to 15 years of age, both in high school and in the grades, are very much interested and that some of them have started on their racing cars already. A committee meeting is called at the Ord Auto Sales company garage tonight to decide upon prizes etc.

Olof Olsson, chairman of the committee for entertaining members' wives, suggested that they bring their wives to the City Cafe for a dinner and to a show afterward. This was agreed upon and in Europe before the present upheaval, a large number of unemployed, and a big debt. He believes that there are three million young people in America between the ages of 18 and 25 years who have never known profitable, consistent employment.

He stated that unemployment cannot go back to work until business is no longer kicked around and taxed to death. There are 6 1/2 million aliens in the United States, and that congress should either see that they become Americanized or send them back. "Our greatest danger," he said, "is not from within, but from without."

"We should be concerned," he continued, "in keeping some of the privileges that we still have. We should keep the government, and not expect the government to keep us. It is a question whether free men will continue to live as they see fit, or whether their lives will be mapped out for them from the cradle to the grave."

Speaking of our own state problems he continued, "Nebraska now has 5,100 state employees, and the number is increasing rapidly. We should have some kind of a Hatch merit system for state employees. Our present tax system is outmoded and should be discarded for one more up-to-date. Every citizen should contribute something in taxes for the privileges he enjoys."

In the forum which followed, Dr. Miller was asked about the working of the unemployment. He said he worked for it and that he was in the unemployment in the sessions it has held. The first time he had not so certain about it, and the second time he was sorry he had worked for it.

He said that the unemployment provided a number of improvements, but that these could have been had in the two-house system. The senators are under paid and it is hard to get good men to file. He suggested that the number might be increased to two from each district, elected in alternate even years. With only 43 members, it is too easy to obtain a majority for any pet measure.

After Dr. Miller left, Chet Austin and Ed Oetkin of the Ord fire department appeared before the Chamber and explained the plan the firemen have of buying an inhalator. The members present approved the idea, and the proposition will be given financial support. A letter is to be sent to the state highway commission thanking them for the work that is being done on the Ord-North Loup road and on other roads in this territory.

Ord Readers Have Always Been Book Minded

The total expenses, including rent for the court house of $7.00, was $16.20, leaving a balance of $62.75 for the benefit of the library, which would be quite a sizeable amount even in these days. Nothing is published to give a hint of the location of the library building at that time.

The library continued through the decade following and finally developed into the Unity Library. This flourished for a number of years, and when the G. A. R. acquired the church building the library went with it. After the World War the library idea languished for a time, and then emerged as the Ord Township Library, the institution we have today.

However, some time before the World War another library came into existence which many will recall. Bill Timm was running a restaurant at that time, and he bought a large number of books which he sold to customers at 50c each, with the privilege of exchanging them for other books for the sum of 5c. Nearly every home in Ord today has some of those Bill Timm books in its library.

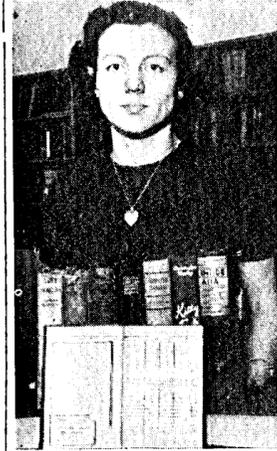

The Ord Township library had its birth in the meeting of a group of citizens on July 27, 1922. Committees were selected, and at a meeting called on Nov. 21, 1922, the first officers were selected, as follows: President, D. L. Buckles; vice-president, C. M. Davis; secretary, Ign. Klima, Jr.; treasurer, M. J. Cushing; and directors, Mrs. F. R. Withman, Mrs. C. J. Miller, N. B. Johnson and G. W. Collipriest.

The library was not known as the Ord Township library until June 6, 1927, when a motion was adopted turning the property over to the Ord Township library board. The list of appointed librarians since 1924 include the names of Nina Smith, Margaret Tolbert, Jennie Johnson, Marie Hackett, Grace Pullen Hansen and Elsie Wiberg Axthelm. Mamie Smith will become librarian some time next May.

Mrs. Axthelm has noted some peculiarities of the customers of the library. One man reads everything he can find that deals with psychology and has no use for any other kind of books. There is a high school student, probably one who plans the study of medicine, who spends his spare time reading medical books.

There are a number of people who read biographies, doubtless with the view to finding traits of character to emulate. A great many people prefer books of travel, probably to make up in a measure for the trips they would like to take, but can't. One man is very much interested in anything of a mechanical nature.

People come to the library for a number of reasons. The little folks like the funnies and the picture books. They come mostly after school and on Saturday. Older pupils come to study, some of them finding it inconvenient to study at

MRS. LLOYD AXTHELM

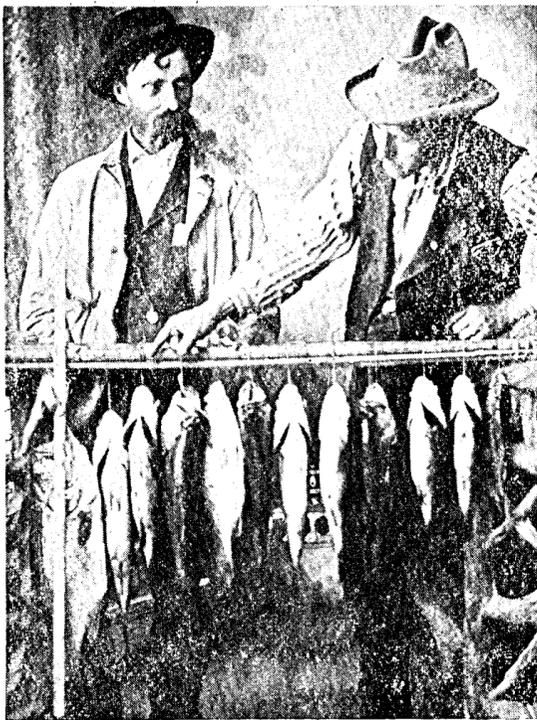

But the Unity library was not the first to be established in Ord. It seems that almost from the beginning of the village on June 23, 1831 there were citizens who were interested in the idea of a library. Chief among those who took an interest in books were W. A. Anderson and Mrs. Nellie Coombs, both of whom are still living.

The first reference to the public library to appear in the columns of the Quiz was printed in the issue of April 26, 1889 and was in the form of an ad for an entertainment put on by a woman's club, and called "Rebecca's Triumph." Fifteen ladies took part in the play, which was to be given on May 30 at the court house, at that time the center of social activities of the kind.

At least two of those who took part in the play are still living, Mrs. Coombs and Mrs. Mabel Wilson McCord, now living at San Pedro, Calif. The entertainment was held as advertised, and Mrs. Coombs, who was treasurer, issued a statement of the results in the next issue of the Quiz.

The total amount realized from the sale of the tickets was $73.95.

In The Good Old Days

The Quiz has on hand quite a number of pictures taken many years ago by H. G. Westburg and brought to us last week by Mrs. Westburg. The picture above is one of these, and shows a couple of well known Ordites of 40 years ago and their catch of fish, presumably from the Cedar river. Can you guess who they are?

We plan to continue this as a feature of the Quiz, that is, if the public shows enough interest to warrant it. If you like this picture and want to see more like it from week to week, we will be glad to publish them. Let us hear from you if you like the idea. The names of these two men will be printed next week, together with another old time picture.

home. Then there is a group who make the library a meeting place, or who come to gossip. One source of entertainment and information for which there is an increasing demand are the bound volumes of the National Geographic magazine, which are to be found in the library all the way back to and including the year 1915. Many students come to the library to study because the reference books they need are then available.

The opening of the new library building on Aug. 26 of last year is too fresh in the public mind to need any further mention in this story. When it was built the community had acquired one of the finest library buildings in this section of the state. That the public appreciated the new building and the addition of hundreds of new volumes is attested by the increased use they are making of the library.

Davis, Misko, Deserve Support of Voters Here

Two Ord republicans, Clarence M. Davis and John P. Misko, are running for offices on the national republican ticket next Tuesday, and naturally they deserve the support of all voters of this party living in this portion of the district.

Mr. Davis, candidate for delegate to the national convention, has been a member of the republican party all his life, made the race for congress a few years ago, has served as a delegate in previous presidential years, and has been "regular" in every way. While he is a younger man, Mr. Misko's record as a republican is equally clear.

Both are able, clean-cut attorneys of this city and the voters of Valley and adjacent counties should give them a big vote.

Bert Carpenter Is a Popular Candidate

Republicans who have the best interests of their party at heart need have no hesitancy in casting their votes next Tuesday for Bert Carpenter for national committeeman.

He has been a Nebraska resident since 1886, is a successful business man in Omaha, vice-president of the Carpenter Paper Co., and in 1936 served as delegate-at-large to the national convention. Never asking for a paid public office, he has served the party loyally for years because he believes in its principles and for no other reason.

His record proves that he is a splendid organizer, he has the respect of all candidates, and if elected will be impartial and fair to all elements of the party.

Valley county friends who have hunted with Bert, fished with him or had business dealings with him urge the support of all republicans for his candidacy.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

World Traveler Speaks.
 North Loup people who attended the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday night at the school house spent a very pleasant evening with Robert Vance, representative of the Nebraska farmer who has recently returned from a trip to China, Japan and some European nations. His travelogue was made more real with motion pictures which he had taken on the trip. Starting with Japan and China Mr. Vance told of his visit there and then to Shanghai in the International settlement where a flood which occurred during his stay there made very interesting pictures. The pictures of China and Japan were necessarily short for Mr. Vance said the Japanese took about 500 feet of his film.

From China the scene went to Brazil and Argentine, the long horned cattle, the beautiful scenery, the largest waterfall in the world, a snake farm where serum to counteract the poison is made, the life of the South Americans of both the rich and the poor classes and the cities with their beautiful buildings were all shown. From South America the scene changed to France and Italy and Egypt. Pictures of Palestine, showing the Jewish agricultural college and their way of living in the settlement that has been set aside for them. Mr. Vance was suffering with a heavy cold and spoke with difficulty but held the attention of the large audience for the two hours he spoke. No business session for P. T. A. was held and all matters will be taken care of at the April meeting on the 17th. This will also be the time for the election of officers. Mr. Vance had spoken in Scotia on Monday night and went to Burwell from here to speak Thursday night.

Mary Ann Bartz returned from Lincoln Wednesday night and will remain at home for a time. Her health is not very good and doctors advised against her returning for the remainder of the school year. Mrs. Clara Butts of Burwell spoke at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning at the regular service. She spoke of her trip to Europe last May and June, comparing the privileges of an American citizen with those of many in Europe. Mrs. Butts is a splendid speaker and it was a privilege to hear her. George Clement was responsible for bringing her to North Loup.

Miss Dorothy Campbell took three contestants to the spelling contest at Ord Friday. They were Esther Taylor, Marjorie Hamer and Fern Sims. Fern Sims won second in both oral and written. For at least seven years North Loup has had one or more winners in the contest and this year followed the rule. However, the outlook for the next few years is not as promising for the pupils in the lower grades have not been working on the contest words and all contestants this year are eighth graders.

Rev. Chas. Stevens was taken to the Clinic hospital at Ord Saturday afternoon where he submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis. His condition was serious for a few days but it is hoped he will be all right soon. Saturday morning Rev. Stevens went to the Seventh Day Baptist church to hear Mrs. Butts speak and was taken sick during the service and had to leave. His mother, Mrs. Stevens and a sister, Mrs. McNabb and her husband came from their home at Central City Saturday evening and his mother will stay awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fisher have received word that Gordon Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollan Fisher, has been awarded an assistant teachers position in the state university for next year. He will graduate in June and will continue to work for his masters degree. Out of one hundred applicants, Gordon was one of three chosen for assistantship.

Mrs. Rozella Ingerson was hostess to the Junior Portnightly club Thursday afternoon. The lesson on India was in charge of Mrs. Opal Beebe with Mrs. I. L. Sheldon as guest speaker telling of the missionary work in India. Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner and Birdine Ingerson were also guests.

A. H. Watts who has been in Long Beach, Calif., for several months has been called back to Grand Island to help care for his brother, Lester, who is very low with cancer at the home of his son Darwin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins returned Wednesday from the western part of Nebraska and Colorado. They had spent the week end in Denver with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins and baby daughter. Mrs. Hutchins' sister, Mrs. Olive B. Taylor whose home is in Los Angeles and who had been with another sister at Kimball accompanied them home for a visit. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Taylor went to Des Moines and the ladies planned to go on to Chicago for a visit with Mrs. Hutchins' daughter, while Mr. Hutchins was working in Iowa.

Mrs. A. L. Sims and Mrs. T. J. Hamer accompanied Miss Campbell and the spelling contestants to Ord Friday afternoon and attended the contest.

The meeting of the Loup Valley Intercountry club is to be held Thursday at the Seventh Day Baptist church. The morning session will be held at 10:00. The Burwell club is to have charge of a paper on "What is good Citizenship," the Rockville club on "International Relationships," the Loup City Unity club on "U. S. Public Health Service" and the Arcadia club will conduct a parliamentary drill. Lunch will be served at noon and at one o'clock the high school will give a twenty minute concert. At two o'clock, Mrs. Kovanda of Ord will give a book review and the Loup City Womens club will present a pageant, "Songs and Scenes of Motherhood."

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger and Easther spent Thursday in Hastings. Harold Schudel came home from Lincoln for the week end. Willis Skurda, one of his fraternity brothers accompanied him. Louise Hamer who was ill with the flu when the other university students returned last week, returned to Lincoln with them. Paula Jones who was also ill with the flu was not well enough to return.

Idea Babcock went to Ord on the Friday morning bus and was a guest of her sister, Lillian Hill Saturday morning when both girls came home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byerly and daughter of Horace spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Arley Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz and Mary Ann spent Sunday afternoon in Fullerton, going over to see the Ross Carpenter family.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodrich included Mr. and Mrs. George Hatfield and family of Spalding, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith and son and his family of Arnold. Mrs. Oscar Smith and a niece and nephew of Burwell and the Arthur Smith family of North Loup. Mrs. Goodrich's birthday which is next week was celebrated.

Frank Johnson went to Geneva Saturday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Howard Hamilton and family. He returned Sunday.

Miss Maggie King of Ord was a Sunday guest of Mrs. Dick King and Irene. She returned to Ord on the late bus Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alfred Crandall was ill all last week with the flu and is still unable to be out.

Mrs. B. B. Buten and H. C. Sample were Sunday dinner guests of C. W. and Panny McClellan.

The Floyd Redlons and A. L. Willoughbys exchanged houses Saturday, Redlons moving to Mrs. Florence Smith's house on main street which they have recently bought and Willoughbys to the Holman house where Redlons have been living.

Rain which totaled .34 fell Thursday in North Loup. Late in the evening the rain turned to snow but not as much fell here as in surrounding territory.

Rev. J. A. Adams, Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. George Bartz were in Ord Thursday to arrange for the county Bible school convention to be held with the Midvale church early in May.

The freshman class had a party at the school house Friday evening and later in the evening other high school students gathered and all went to Scotia for a theatre party honoring Harold Pearson who was leaving Saturday for Polk.

Harold Pearson, science and mathematics teacher in the North Loup high school secured a position as coach in the schools at Polk last week, his work to start at once. He was released by the board and went down Saturday to begin. Robert Houtchens took him down.

The Milton college glee club of Milton college, Milton, Wis., are out on their annual concert tour which will take them as far east as Ithaca, N. Y. Richard Babcock of North Loup and George Thorgate, Jr., nephew of Mrs. J. A. Bartz are members of the club. They are traveling in a new Greyhound bus and there are thirty in the party.

Mrs. T. J. Hamer received word Sunday of the death of her father, S. L. Clement, of Riverside, Calif., which occurred Saturday night at a Riverside hospital. He had been ill for two weeks with heart trouble, asthma and other complications. Mr. Clement was born Nov. 24, 1864 at Welton, Ia., and as a child came with his family to Nebraska, settling first near Humboldt and later homesteading on Davis Creek. He with his brothers was taught the carpenter trade by his father and he followed that trade throughout his life, many of the buildings for a wide territory around here having been built by Clement Bros. On December 27, 1888 he was married to Winnie Babcock and to them were born three daughters, Mrs. Stella Cruzan of Bridgeton, N. J., Mrs. Ethel Hamer of North Loup and Mrs. Edna Richards who with the widow survive, of Montrose, Colo. In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Clement moved to Montrose, Colo., and about five years later to Riverside which has since been their home. For a number of years he had not done much heavy work but was a janitor of the Seventh Day Baptist church in Riverside, taking great pride in keeping the building, which he had constructed, and the grounds immaculate. Services were held in Riverside, conducted by Rev. Loyal Hurley and burial was in Monticello Memorial park near Riverside.

Arthur J. Weaver

REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR United States Senator

- HE STANDS FOR:
1. Economy in Government (No account overdrawn during his term as Governor of Nebraska; he left a Four-Million-Dollar Balance in the treasury and lowered state tax levy below ten year average).
  2. The American Market for the American Farmer.
  3. Price Parity—the same degree of prosperity and same interest rates for the Farmer as is enjoyed by industry.
  4. The protection of the rights of Labor.
  5. Elimination of the Government in business, except where necessary to protect the people from exploitation.
  6. Protection of private enterprise because private initiative, endeavor and thrift built our nation.
  7. Keeping American boys and American dollars at home—not in Asia or Europe.

President Nebraska Constitutional Convention 1919-20.

1940 Gold Medal of Foundation to Ord Man Monday

Owing to the fact that a knowledge of physics, physiology, bio-physics, pathology, advanced mathematics, ocular hygiene and many related sciences are necessary. Gold Medals also have been awarded by the Society to:

Dr. Charles Sheard, head of the department of bio-physics, Mayo Foundation, Rochester, Minn.

Department of Research of Physiological Optics, Dartmouth Medical College, Hanover, Mass.

Dr. James P. C. Southall, physicist, Columbia University.

Dr. Frederick A. Woll, department of ocular hygiene, Columbia University.

Dr. Paul Boeder, mathematician, Southbridge, Mass.

The award to Dr. Parkins was made because of original work in investigation of visual problems he has engaged in since 1928, which culminated in experimental work in Ord high school in 1934 and 1935 and at the University of Nebraska college of education in 1938 and 1939.

"When considered in the light of the aeons of time it has taken to develop the species, man has just commenced to use his eyes for near work of any kind," says Dr. Parkins. He cites our hundreds of generations of "cave man" ancestors, who did no work that required near vision; the hundreds of generations of agricultural ancestors who followed them, and points out that only in the past 100 years and particularly in the industrial present century has inside work requiring near vision become almost universal.

"Statistics show that the high school reading load alone is now five times greater than it was in 1920," he says.

"A like increase in the visual task for near work in the arts, trades and factories has occurred at the same time. It appears that man does not adapt so rapidly, so we find a large proportion of people who have not been able to adapt rapidly enough to become efficient in near visual tasks."

From work done by Dr. Parkins, it was learned by the profession that the last visual skill to develop is the ability to turn the eyes in and fix a near object accurately, then move the eyes from point to point on the page of reading.

In explanation of this point, Dr. Parkins says that in looking at a near object it is necessary to turn each eye in order that its point directly to the object of regard. When we are reading, the eyes move along the line in a series of hops, or jumps, termed fixations. To read efficiently it is necessary that the eyes move from point to point synchronously and when one line is completed they must immediately both move to such position as to enable them both to see the beginning of the next line at the same time. About half the people acquire this skill without the help of an optometrist.

Research work done under Dr. Parkins' direction revealed that students who failed to learn to make these eye movements efficiently were handicapped 52 per cent in attaining knowledge. That is, only 48 per cent of students who had not acquired this skill naturally were able to make grades equal to the students who had acquired this skill.

Having ascertained the most important visual skill concerned with reading and attaining knowledge, the next step was to develop means of visual training to teach these people the required skill.

Experiments carried on in training along these lines have been almost continuous since 1935, all under Dr. Parkins' direction, but with the cooperation of school authorities here and at the university. The results in all cases were enabled to read much more rapidly with a better understanding of the material read and in a large proportion of cases were enabled to make higher marks in their studies. This skill of controlled eye movements is termed the fixation ability, and it was upon the basis of his experiments and the method of training he has devised that Dr. Parkins was awarded the Gold Medal Monday evening.

This is probably the greatest scientific honor ever bestowed upon a resident Ordite and people of this city should feel proud of Dr. Parkins and honor him upon his return from Boston about April 10. While in the east he is addressing the New England Association of Optometrists and also goes to New York City for a talk before a similar group.

Chris Larsen, 79, Dies in Omaha

Arcadia—(Special)—Chris Larsen, a resident of Arcadia for about 50 years, died of a paralytic stroke at a convalescent hospital in Omaha Friday March 29. The remains were brought to Arcadia for burial in the Arcadia cemetery Sunday. Rev. E. A. Smith was in charge of the services with A. H. Hastings as funeral director.

Mr. Larsen was born at Suerstov, Denmark, December 26, 1860. He came to America at the age of 24 and settled at Greenwood, Nebr. in Cass county. He was united in marriage at Greenwood to Mary Madsen in 1888. Mr. and Mrs. Larsen moved to their homestead about a mile and a half northwest of Arcadia. There were 7 children born to the Larsens of which only 3 are living. Mrs. Larsen passed on in 1900 at the age of 28 leaving Mr. Larsen with the 3 small children which he faithfully cared for until they came to majority.

Mr. Larsen was widely known in and about Arcadia. He will be remembered because of his love for trees, and leaves as a living monument many trees which he planted in Arcadia. The beautiful trees in the community park were planted by him.

About five years ago, he retired from active life, since then gardening and tree trimming have been his past time.

He was confirmed in the Lutheran church in his childhood and has worshipped in the local churches at times.

Mr. Larsen leaves one son, Martin of Omaha; two daughters, Mrs. Anna Wheeler of Joliet, Ill., and Miss Hilda Larsen of Los Angeles, Calif., one grandson Terry Larsen, and two brothers, Paul and Lars of Arcadia.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

In the last two years there has been a great stirring of the public through lectures, both to doctors and the public in general, by radio and by means of the newspapers, in regard to venereal diseases, especially syphilis and gonorrhoea. In fact, up to recent times, one could scarcely mention these diseases to say nothing about writing in the public news and speaking about them over the radio. The purpose of this bombardment of the people about these diseases were, largely, to bring their prevalence and their deadly character into the public mind, to make it less necessary to hide the presence of these conditions and in these ways to insure the proper treatment and cure of them. By getting the people in general to ascertain whether or not they were affected with these conditions and, if so, to seek a cure through medical treatment, would mean marked lessening in the prevalence of, and marked lessening of the crippling and killing caused by these diseases.

As usual, this publicity has had certain bad bed-fellows, one of which is the tendency to increase the "quackery" in the care of these diseases, as is illustrated in the following note in "Victor News" for February, 1940:

"Men and women who have, or think they have, syphilis and gonorrhoea are today being exploited to the tune of tens of millions of dollars annually, the U. S. Public Health Service charges.

"Instead of going to reputable physicians or clinics, these unfortunate men and women are going to quacks such as 'men's specialists' and herbalists or drug stores for diagnosis and treatment of venereal disease. They are paying from one dollar to three dollars for a bottle containing a few cents' worth of such substances as boric acid and glycerin which cannot help them if they have syphilis or gonorrhoea, and in some instances they may be paying for medicine for a disease they do not even have.

"The increase in the venereal disease quackery in recent years today constitutes one of the major obstacles to the public health control of syphilis and gonorrhoea." In these diseases, as in most other serious sickness, correct diagnosis and proper treatment save health, money and life, and correct diagnosis and treatment are not to be obtained at the corner drug store or in the rooms of a quack, but by going to your physician and being honest with him and with yourself.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Farmers were advised to sign up more land for irrigation by Val Kuska, when he spoke to the Rotarians last Monday. Kuska, who is colonization agent for the C. B. & Q. railroad, predicted that within a few years a shortage of water will exist here, and that the irrigators will be fighting over it.

He deplored the losses suffered by our state, due to lack of water conservation. Since 1934, Nebraska has dropped from 2nd to 7th place in numbers of swine, from 3rd to 5th in cattle raising, and from 5th to 15th in all agricultural products.

In some Nebraska counties, he added the farmers actually have more dogs than either pigs or cattle. And our state almost has some 8,000 fewer people than in 1934.

By contrast, Kuska showed that irrigation has done in Scottsbluff and Morrill counties, where the population jumped from 13,000 in 1910, to 39,000 in 1930. Irrigation in Colorado has boosted the value of land by $100 per acre.

The city of Alliance was commended for demonstrating the value of irrigation to residents of Box Butte county. The town officials there have leased 160 acres which they will water with their municipal plant.

Kuska criticized the government's recent action, in which they have removed the acreage quota on sugar beets, but won't let the factories sell any more sugar. Instead of getting sugar from Cuba in exchange for pork, he suggested that our nation grow its own sugar and let the laborers eat the pork here. He added that little pork is eaten in hot countries such as Cuba.

Checkcay Group Met.
The Checkcay Camp Fire group met at the home of Marilyn McBeth Monday. The group discussed plans for a party to be held soon. Harry McBeth, Jr., was asked to demonstrate the tying of square knots and told of its many uses. The group elected officers at this meeting. The girls are working on the wood gatherers rank. Lunch was served at the close of the meeting. Marilyn McBeth, Scribe.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

World Traveler Speaks.
 North Loup people who attended the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday night at the school house spent a very pleasant evening with Robert Vance, representative of the Nebraska farmer who has recently returned from a trip to China, Japan and some European nations. His travelogue was made more real with motion pictures which he had taken on the trip. Starting with Japan and China Mr. Vance told of his visit there and then to Shanghai in the International settlement where a flood which occurred during his stay there made very interesting pictures. The pictures of China and Japan were necessarily short for Mr. Vance said the Japanese took about 500 feet of his film.

From China the scene went to Brazil and Argentina, the long horned cattle, the beautiful scenery, the largest waterfall in the world, a snake farm where serum to counteract the poison is made, the life of the South American of both the rich and the poor classes and the cities with their beautiful buildings were all shown. From South America the scene changed to France and Italy and Egypt. Pictures of Palestine, showing the Jewish agricultural college and their way of living in the settlement that has been set aside for them. Mr. Vance was suffering with a heavy cold and spoke with difficulty but held the attention of the large audience for the two hours he spoke. No business session for P. T. A. was held and all matters will be taken care of at the April meeting on the 17th. This will also be the time for the election of officers. Mr. Vance had spoken in Scotia on Monday night and went to Burwell from here to speak Thursday night.

Mary Ann Bartz returned from Lincoln Wednesday night and will remain at home for a time. Her health is not very good and doctors advised against her returning for the remainder of the school year. Mrs. Clara Butts of Burwell spoke at the Seventh Day Baptist church Saturday morning at the regular service. She spoke of her trip to Europe last May and June, comparing the privileges of an American citizen with those of many in Europe. Mrs. Butts is a splendid speaker and it was a privilege to hear her. George Clement was responsible for bringing her to North Loup.

Miss Dorothy Campbell took three contestants to the spelling contest at Ord Friday. They were Esther Taylor, Marjorie Hamer and Fern Sims. Fern Sims won second in both oral and written. For at least seven years North Loup has had one or more winners in the contest and this year followed the rule. However, the outlook for the next few years is not as promising for the pupils in the lower grades have not been working on the contest words and all contestants this year are eighth graders.

Rev. Chas. Stevens was taken to the Clinic hospital at Ord Saturday afternoon where he submitted to an emergency operation for appendicitis. His condition was serious for a few days but it is hoped he will be on his feet soon. Saturday morning Rev. Stevens went to the Seventh Day Baptist church to hear Mrs. Butts speak and was taken sick during the service and had to leave. His mother, Mrs. Stevens and a sister, Mrs. McNabb and her husband came from their home at Central City Saturday evening and his mother will stay awhile.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Fisher have received word that Gordon Fisher, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rollan Fisher, has been awarded an assistant teachers position in the state university for next year. He will graduate in June and will continue to work for his masters degree. Out of one hundred applicants, Gordon was one of three chosen for assistantships.

Mrs. Rozella Ingerson was hostess to the Junior Fortnightly club Thursday afternoon. The lesson on India was in charge of Mrs. Opal Beebe with Mrs. I. L. Sheldon as guest speaker telling of the missionary work in India. Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner and Birdine Ingerson were also guests.

A. H. Watts who has been in Long Beach, Calif., for several months has been called back to Grand Island to help care for his brother, Lester, who is very low with cancer at the home of his son Darwin.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hutchins returned Wednesday from the western part of Nebraska and Colorado. They had spent the week end in Denver with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Hutchins and baby daughter. Mrs. Hutchins' sister, Mrs. Olive B. Taylor whose home is in Los Angeles and who had been with another sister at Kimball accompanied them home for a visit. Monday Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins and Mrs. Taylor went to Des Moines and the ladies planned to go on to Chicago for a visit with Mrs. Hutchins' daughter, while Mr. Hutchins was working in Iowa.

Mrs. A. L. Sims and Mrs. T. J. Hamer accompanied Miss Campbell and the spelling contestants to Ord Friday afternoon and attended the contest.

The meeting of the Loup Valley Intercountry club is to be held Thursday at the Seventh Day Baptist church. The morning session will be held at 10:00. The Burwell club is to have charge of a paper on "What is good Citizenship," the Rockville club on "International Relationships," the Loup City Unity club on "U. S. Public Health Service" and the Arcadia club will conduct a parliamentary drill. Lunch will be served at noon and at one o'clock the high school will give a twenty minute concert. At two o'clock, Mrs. Kovanda of Ord will give a book review and the Loup City Womens club will present a pageant, "Songs and Scenes of Motherhood."

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zangger and Esther spent Thursday in Hastings. Harold Schudel came home from Lincoln for the week end. Willis Skurda, one of his fraternity brothers accompanied him. Louise Hamer who was ill with the flu when the other university students returned last week, returned to Lincoln with them. Paula Jones who was also ill with the flu was not well enough to return.

Ida Babcock went to Ord on the Friday morning bus and was a guest of her sister Lillian till Saturday morning when both girls came home.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Byerly and daughter of Horace spent Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Arley Street. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz and Mary Ann spent Sunday afternoon in Pullerton, going over to see the Ross Carpenter family.

Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Goodrich included Mr. and Mrs. George Hatfield and family of Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Smith and son and his family of Arnold, Mrs. Oscar Smith and a niece and nephew of Bartz, well and the Arthur Smith family of North Loup. Mrs. Goodrich's birthday which is next week was celebrated.

Frank Johnson went to Geneva Saturday to visit his daughter, Mrs. Howard Hamilton and family. He returned Sunday. Miss Maggie King of Ord was a Sunday guest of Mrs. Dick King and Irene. She returned to Ord on the late bus Sunday evening.

Mrs. Alfred Crandall was ill all last week with the flu and is still unable to be out. Mrs. B. B. Buten and H. C. Sample were Sunday dinner guests of C. W. and Fanny McClellan.

The Floyd Redlons and A. L. Willoughby exchanged houses Saturday, Redlons moving to Mrs. Florence Smith's house on main street which they have recently bought and Willoughby to the Holman house where Redlons have been living.

Rain which totaled .34 fell Thursday in North Loup. Late in the evening the rain turned to snow but not as much fell here as in surrounding territory.

Rev. J. A. Adams, Mrs. Fred Bartz and Mrs. George Bartz were in Ord Thursday to arrange for the county Bible school convention to be held with the Midvale church early in May.

The freshman class had a party at the school house Friday evening and later in the evening other high school students gathered and all went to Scotia for a theatre party honoring Harold Pearson who was leaving Saturday for Polk.

Harold Pearson, science and mathematics teacher in the North Loup high school secured a position as coach in the schools at Polk last week, his work to start at once. He was released by the board and went down Saturday to begin. Robert Houtchens took him down.

The Milton college glee club of Milton college, Milton, Wis., are out on their annual concert tour which will take them as far east as Ithaca, N. Y. Richard Babcock of North Loup and George Thornton, Jr., nephew of Mrs. J. A. Bartz are members of the club. They are traveling in a new Grey Hound bus and there are thirty in the party.

Mrs. T. J. Hamer received word Sunday of the death of her father, S. L. Clement, of Riverside, Calif., which occurred Saturday night at a Riverside hospital. He had been ill for two weeks with heart trouble, asthma and other complications. Mr. Clement was born Nov. 24, 1864 at Welton, Ia., and as a child came with his family to Nebraska, settling first near Humboldt and later homesteading on Davis Creek. He with his brothers was taught the carpenter trade by his father and he followed that trade throughout his life, many of the buildings for a wide territory around here having been built by Clement Bros. On December 27, 1888 he was married to Winnie Babcock and to them were born three daughters, Mrs. Stella Cruzan of Bridgeton, N. J., Mrs. Ethel Hamer of North Loup and Mrs. Edna Richards who with the widow survive, of Montrose, Colo. In 1920 Mr. and Mrs. Clement moved to Montrose, Colo., and about five years later to Riverside which has since been their home. For a number of years he had not done much heavy work but was a janitor of the Seventh Day Baptist church in Riverside, taking great pride in keeping the building, which he had constructed, and the grounds immaculate. Services were held in Riverside, conducted by Rev. Loyal Hurley and burial was in Monticello Memorial park near Riverside.

Mrs. Jennie Clement who has spent the winter in California with her daughter, Mrs. Russell Hayden of Bakersfield, has been in Riverton for the past two weeks. She expects to return some time in April.

 REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE FOR United States Senator

HE STANDS FOR:

1. Economy in Government (No account overdrawn during his term as Governor of Nebraska; he left a Four-Million-Dollar Balance in the treasury and lowered state tax levy below ten year average).
2. The American Market for the American Farmer.
3. Price Parity—the same degree of prosperity and same interest rates for the Farmer as is enjoyed by industry.
4. The protection of the rights of Labor.
5. Elimination of the Government in business, except where necessary to protect the people from exploitation.
6. Protection of private enterprise because private initiative, endeavor and thrift built our nation.
7. Keeping American boys and American dollars at home—not in Asia or Europe.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Lambdin have received word that their daughter, Mrs. Dorothy King, who is employed in a laundry at Oakland, Calif., had her right hand caught in a mangle, and that it will be three months before she will be able to work again.

—Mrs. Howard Barnes and daughter Irene visited her mother, Mrs. H. P. Hansen, from Tuesday until Wednesday afternoon of last week. After farming a year in Greeley county, the Barnes family is located this year on the West McCune place southwest of North Loup.

—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Whitford of Sterling, Colo., who had been in Lincoln, returned by way of Ord Thursday evening. They visited over night at the Oliver Whitford home, and Friday drove out to the E. S. Coats home. They left for Colorado Saturday morning.

—L. L. Lakin received a letter from his grand-daughter, Lucille telling that her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ross Lakin, had left Scottsbluff and were going to Idaho to locate. The big garage in which he was employed in Scottsbluff was destroyed by fire not long ago, and he found himself out of a job. Miss Lucille is employed in the West Nebraska Methodist Episcopal hospital. Junior Lakin will remain in Scottsbluff until he finishes school. Lucille tells of hearing from her grandmother, Mrs. Addie Woods Pressler, who is located at Orlando, Fla., is doing practical nursing.

KEITH NEVILLE

Candidate for Governor

DEMOCRATIC TICKET

A tremendous number of farms have been lost to their owners because of repeated crop failures due to drought and hundreds of other farms have been saved to their owners, for the time being at least, through parity payments and soil conservation benefits.

If I am elected governor I will immediately request representatives of all insurance companies loaning money in Nebraska, representatives of the Federal Land Bank and the members of the Nebraska Congressional delegation to attend a conference, the purpose of which will be to work out a plan whereby farmers may secure money on easy terms and at a low interest rate to repurchase farms that have been lost through foreclosure or to prevent foreclosure on farms they still possess.

One of the great problems that will face Nebraska in the near future is to restore the ownership of land to the farm population of the state.

LET'S SMASH THE SHACKLES OF DEPRESSED AGRICULTURE

Depressed agriculture is Nebraska's biggest problem — the basis of every other economic problem. Only a man who knows the experience and the practical judgment for the job.

A lifelong farmer, and a successful businessman — meeting payrolls for 32 years, Hugh Butler has the background, the experience and the practical judgment for the job.

Hugh Butler offers a sound, sensible program for recovery through production — not scarcity. He feels that we must continue the present farm program until we build a better one — but a better one can and will be built. Be part of that program. Plan to vote for Hugh Butler.

ANOTHER BIRTHDAY.

This week the Quiz is celebrating its fifty-eight birthday. Frankly, we don't feel that old, and we don't look that old. A man is as old as he feels, and a woman is as young as she looks.

The paper is new every week, because the subscribers see only the latest issue. A person of 58 is old, because he has lost his good looks, his young ideas and ambitions. He may be stepping lively, but he is making the rounds with one foot in the grave. He is slipping. Some day in the next fifty years he will slip too far, and then it will be "Goodbye World."

Actually the newspaper of fifty years ago is human. The first issues of the Quiz have lost their good looks, and while the ideas and ambitions are still there to read, they are more than half a century out of date. Some of those first issues have slipped too far, and today not a single copy is left. Like old people, all that is left of an old newspaper is its memories.

In the well kept files of a newspaper we have something which we cannot have in the life of an individual. We can turn to any issue of any year and see the paper just as it was when it was new. With the individual we cannot do this. We see our friends as we recall them, or as they tell the story of their past life, and time mellow and lends a certain glamor to the picture.

Newspaper files are merciless. Mistakes made by individuals generations ago and forgotten by their friends, are there for anyone to read who scans the pages. Luckily for those now living who have had a part, the writer of "When You And I Were Young Maggie," has a facility of seeing only the bright side of it years gone by, else many a sore spot would be opened anew.

The files serve another purpose, which to the editor is more worth while. In them may be seen the mistakes made in the paper itself in the past, and this gives a basis for improvement in the future. So, on this natal week the Quiz is taking stock of itself, and is looking forward to a better year than the ones that have passed. The biggest room in the world is the room for improvement.

We are criticized by our loving friends. They criticize because they are interested in the Quiz, and they wish to help us to improve in every way we can. Constructive criticism is appreciated, and it serves to show us that the Quiz is widely and carefully read by people who consider the paper a part of their everyday lives, as vital as their meals, their work, their rest at night.

With due credit to the past, we have proof from the records that the Quiz has improved through the years. Times have changed, but the paper has kept abreast of, and often ahead of, the times. Even after eight of the worst years in history, the Quiz is still a mighty good paper, and we are proud of the fact. With the inspiration that the good wishes of thousands of readers inspires we hope to make this the best year in the history of the Quiz.

UNCOMMON SENSE.

There is a little book in the Quiz library with the above rather interesting title. It is written by David Cushman Coyle, who has the uncommon ability to put plenty of dynamite into his writing without the use of epithets. His writings are always to the point, and whether one agrees with him or not, we must give him credit for his knack of saying much in a few words.

The Quiz grants that most people have an abundance of common sense, and that is what makes America a pleasant place in which to live. Our neighbors are sensible people, and in the main they act sensibly. But at times they do most inexplicable things. For example, each man has the right to vote for whom he pleases, and too frequently he votes against his own best interests with no particular reason for doing so.

This year the people of this district are to have the opportunity to vote for or against two Valley county men on the non-partisan ballot, one for unicameral, the other for district judge. If these men were just a fair average, they should have a right to expect to receive at least 9 votes out of every ten in the county. Yet the past has proven that this is too much to expect.

The Quiz does not want to tell you how to vote. It is your privilege to vote as you see fit. But it is also your privilege as well as your duty to vote for your best interests. The advantage of having a senator or a judge from Valley county must not be underestimated. A home man understands local conditions far better than can anybody, however competent, from some other part of the district.

But it is well to remember that you are not voting for average men. You have known J. T. Knezacek and George A. Munn for years. Two men of higher character could not be found in the entire district, which abound in good men. Their lives are an open book, a book in which there is not a single page of which one could be ashamed. This gives to their candidacies the foundation of character.

Another point must not be overlooked, and that is ability. Here are men who have made a marked success in the fields of endeavor. They are men who have been honored by the citizens of Valley county with public office. Both men have held office with credit, and retired when they felt that they had served long enough, to give a chance to other men.

We of Valley county are indeed fortunate this year to have the opportunity of voting for two of our outstanding citizens for two of the most vital offices within the gift of the people. These two men are going to receive a fine compliment—vote from other parts of their districts, but it will mean much to them if they receive hearty support at home.

OUR PENAL SYSTEM.

Last week Judge Clarence Kincaid sentenced Laurel H. Crawford, 41 years old, to serve four consecutive life sentences for the murder of his wife and three children. The murders occurred Dec. 12, when Crawford stunned his family and also a roomer by hitting them over the heads, and then ran the car off a cliff. It was done in order that he might collect $35,000 in life insurance.

We are not so much concerned with Crawford nor his punishment, which he richly deserves, but we should be concerned with conditions in our land which make it necessary to sentence a man to prison for four times his natural life in order to be certain that he will stay there. The judge recommended no reprieve ever be given, but that does not mean a thing under our present system of handling such cases.

Some day Judge Crawford will die or lose his job. Those who shuddered in horror at this deed will forget, and the case will come up before a pardoning board who have forgotten the details, and who will listen to a spell-binding attorney as he tells a tale of how this poor man was temporarily deranged when he committed the act. Persons now living will see the man again walk among us, a free man.

The details may not be accurate. The means of approach may be modified, for there are a number of ways of springing a man these days. But, if the future is to be consistent with the past, some day he will be free. That idea of sentencing any man to four consecutive life sentences would be the height of absurdity, were it not for the fact that, in the judge's opinion, it will serve to keep him behind the bars a few years longer.

Not long ago a judge found a man guilty on four counts calling for a prison term of 2 years on each, eight years in all. But the judge sentenced him to serve them concurrently, so that in 2 years he will have completed an 8 year sentence. Not only that, with good behavior he will doubtless get out in 18 months. This is just another absurdity of our laws that should be done away with.

If a man steals money or property he is guilty of theft. He may be arrested for the crime and be made to pay the penalty. But if the money he stole has been spent or the property cannot be found, there is no way of making him return it, unless the plaintiff wants to go into court on his own account, and charge the defendant with personal damages. If he wins then he usually loses, since the man has no property to pay the loss.

The reason many men take it on the chin when they suffer a loss is because it would cost them more to go to court with it than the loss would amount to in the first place. In America all men are equal before the law, but in many cases it costs more to prove it than it is worth. There is nothing wrong with the spirit of the law, but the letter of the law has been sadly muddled.

You may be morally certain a man is guilty, but unless you can produce specific proof that will stand the test of the courts, he will not only get off, but is in position to sue you and collect damages for false arrest. All laws are made for the clever man to evade. What we need is not more laws, but for some legislature to junk the entire code and substitute a simpler system based on the ten commandments.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

We might add to the list of lovely flowers the several varieties to be seen in the window of John Gaika's shoe shop. They have been blooming for some time, and are worth a trip in that direction just to see them.

Wednesday afternoon, Ellsworth Ball, who has charge of the courtyard seeding job, got a man busy-discing and harrowing the ground. That night it started to rain and it rained and snowed all the next day, doing a fine job of soaking up the soil. This is the kind of cooperation we like to see.

The first thunder of the year was heard at noon Thursday. According to the old saying, the first frost will arrive in just six months, which should be on Sept. 28. The Quiz and Weatherman Travis will check on this at that time.

The big oleander in the Hastings and Ollis office was set out on the walk Thursday morning and experienced the first rain it had felt in a long, long time.

George Parker of Arcadia was in Ord Saturday, and as usual he was mistaken for O. Kellogg of Burwell. Except for the fact that Mr. Kellogg is older, the two men look enough alike to be twins, when they have their hats on.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

There is one thing sure, when Joe Knezacek gets down to the senate he will have to change his smoking tobacco. They will never stand for that Missouri Blossom cigar clippings he inflicts on us here at home.

All I have got against John Knickreim, republican candidate for railway commissioner, is that he is larger than I am. But I do know that he is mighty well thought of by those who know him best. He has been a groceryman in Grand Island for a long time and has served in the legislature. Think I shall have to vote for him come primary day.

One candidate for lieutenant governor says in his advertisement, "No increase in taxes, no new taxes, equal rights to all, special privileges to none." That man is not on my ticket but if he was I would not vote against him. He has absolutely nothing to do with taxes. If elected, he will preside over the session of the legislature. He is simply trying to fool the voters by his statements.

Arthur J. Weaver is making a dignified campaign for the office of United States senator. He is being attacked by the stand pat element in the party for his known as a progressive in politics and a life-long worker for the stockman and farmer. He is a farmer and stockman and orchardist himself and actually works at it and has all his life. He is not an office seeking politician, having never run for office but twice. He was president of Nebraska's constitutional convention and won high praise for his fairness and ability in that job. He was governor one term and during his term of office was instrumental in having the preliminary surveys made in this valley which finally resulted in our irrigation system. He would make Nebraska a good senator.

Why wouldn't it be a good idea for Ord to sponsor a Hall of Fame movement; or perhaps we should say a Valley county Hall of Fame. If we make it Ord sponsoring such a movement, why not let as many of the public as wish to do so, to hand in the name of their choice, fixing a closing date for the contest, do it once a year for a few years and hang a picture of the one chosen each year in the library building. If there is any interest in such a movement I wish some of those interested would so signify.

One of the finest condiments on earth is the common horseradish that flourishes in the spring. It peeps up the faded appetite and is good on most anything from meats to apple pie. One can buy it already to serve in bottles and it is fairly good, but there is only one right way to get it and that is to go into the garden and dig some roots and then grate them fine, add a pinch of salt, a pinch of sugar and some vinegar. The one doing the grating is sure to have a good cry before the operation is concluded and you don't want to smear it onto your sandwich too thick or you will be sorry too. Wish someone would bring me a few roots.

I spent $1.60 Thursday with Ign. Klima for a hunting and fishing license and now if I can muster up courage to dig a few worms and the weather will warm up a little more, I will show Charley Stichter and Lew Pierce and Theron Beecher and Clarence Blessing how little they really know about the fishing art. They sometimes intimate that the tall fish stories I tell about Cullen Lake are all the bunk and that I don't know how to catch fish and I have got to show them.

PERSONALS

Mrs. William Wade and children who were visiting in the Virgil Cuckler home the past week, returned to their home in Cozad Saturday evening.

Glen Johnson received word from his wife last week that an 8 1/2 pound girl had been born to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Rose, at Belleville, Kas. Mrs. Johnson went there two weeks ago to take care of her daughter.

Forty or fifty of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Noll called upon them Sunday evening in true charivari style, and had Mr. Noll pull his bride around the square in a coaster wagon. The affair was enjoyed by all concerned, those in the crowd being treated by the bride and groom, and wishing them a long, happy married life.

Bill Tunncliff, jr., arrived in Ord from Arcadia Monday. He came to Arcadia from Kewanee, Ill., about a week before, and has been visiting at the home of his wife's parents there. The Quiz missed out on Bill's wedding, which took place Aug. 20 last, at Onawa, Ia. He was married to Miss Mildred Easterbrook of Arcadia. According to his present plans he expects to be here for some time. He says he left the Tunncliffs in Illinois enjoying the best of health.

Inches of snow on the paving. At 5 p. m., the snow was gone and the wind was whirling the dust. Then, at noon Saturday the temperature had gone up to 72 degrees. Such is weather in Nebraska.

Norm Holt said Saturday that he had fished a week and didn't even get a bite, and that the boy had gone down just once and brought home a dish pan full of fish. Which proves that as a fisherman, Norm is a mighty good painter.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!
More About Taxes
Invited to Stay Away
Fine Plays, Fine Acting
Finis

More, More About Taxes. The first fellow has no chance. Since I mentioned last week of a small acreage in the village of North Loup taxed at six dollars an acre or at the rate of about $1000 a quarter, and the agricultural or gardening or for pasture for the owners milk cows. I have been told of several other cases similar but the best story is as follows:

One lady owns four lots. She owns no buildings on or near the lots and the only value of them is to garden or to attempt to raise potatoes or corn. The taxes on these lots are $18.56 a year. These four lots, figuring to the center of the street on three sides and to the center of the alley on the fourth, would be very close to a half an acre. At that rate, calling it a half an acre which it falls short of, this tract is taxed at the rate of $6050.00 a quarter, a year.

The mention of the district being tied into bankruptcy another year. If the valuations are lowered in line with recent sales, has brought many wild arguments in the village the last week. One heavy property owner proclaimed that for the district to go into bankruptcy is the best thing that can happen to it. He said he welcomed the time. He said it would simply bring pressure to bear and show the people that there is a limit to the taxes a country can stand and show them there has got to be some other system enacted besides saddling every little thing on to the property tax.

Another man in the crowd said too that perhaps it would be a good thing to let the bondholders worry a little over the situation. The bonds now draw five per cent and they are not optional. If they were, the district might refinance the money for around half the present rate or even less.

Those men present went on to say that should the bonds default and the bondholders take and close the schools or involve the district into bankruptcy or some other bad sounding action, that would not get the bondholders the money, and the money is what they want. And don't think for a minute that North Loup is the only town faced with this predicament. It is not always the same problem, but practically every small town is having its troubles and some are much worse off than North Loup. Even those towns that recently built new school houses with federal government help and cheaper bonds are beginning to worry and it looks like our troubles are only beginning if the valuations, soon to be established over again, are scaled down in accordance to recent sales.

Invited To Stay Away. My attention was recently called to the fact that one of our local country ladies' club voted and refused to allow the fieldwoman for the A. A. A. to attend their meetings in the future.

There was nothing personal against the woman in fact all the ladies spoke highly of her, thinking her very fine. But the objection was that it was only a propaganda program of the A. A. A. More than fact, the club had the idea that this woman received four dollars a day for these meetings and mileage and that this money was taken out of the Soil Conservation checks. It was the sentiment of the club women that they would rather have the money in the checks than the visits of the woman.

Fine Plays, Fine Acting. At the recent dramatic contest at Scotia it seemed to be the opinion of the wise guys sitting in my group that the selection of the play or reading had more to do with winning the prize of superior rating than anything else.

Scotia won first on its play but it was a better story and a play that lent itself to character acting much more than any of the others. It was well done too, everyone thought.

Miss Esther Zangger of the North Loup school did her part superbly in a rather ordinary play and won the big prize as the best actress of the evening. Arnold Shoemaker of Scotia won the big prize as the best actor but his was a character part, and not so hard, it is usually thought, to perform as one such as Esther Zangger's which had to be acted exactly right all the time.

It is quite the same with many of the children's contests such as calf and pig club contests. The prize calf invariably is the one that was selected best in the beginning. A boy with a poorly bred calf, regardless of the fine care given it, has no chance in the final rewards. And the school that fails to pick a good play, one that lends itself to acting, surely does not have a good chance of winning the big prize.

And speaking of the plays, it is difficult to get good plays without paying a high royalty. Every one of the five presented had a sad ending. It reminds me of the saying that when an author cannot think of any other way to end his yarn he has the hero die. Every play there that evening left one without that friendly feeling; left one with the feeling that it did not end quite right; that there was not quite the proper wallop in the climax. Even the Scotia play, which was far the best, ended with everyone weeping.

Well, that's that, and probably hell to pay next Wednesday.

Finis. If the fortune be with us to elect Joe Knezacek to the unicameral legislature he'll probably get parents gravely discussing with her many items commonly thought to be for big adults only. Not long ago Eunice Chase walked by the high school where Mary's daddy is the boss, and Mary remarked conversationally: "I sure am glad they are putting a new roof on. Everybody's talking about how bad the Thompson's need a new roof."

The roof was going on the high school, and for your information, Mary is about four.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

The Spalding Enterprise lived up to its name last week by coming out in a brand new type face which greatly improves the appearance of the paper.

A bundle of 11 one thousand dollar Blair paving bonds disappeared in transit somewhere between the state capital and Blair some time last month and have not been located.

The school house in Dist. No. 24, Merrick county, was completely destroyed by fire last Monday afternoon, with a loss of all equipment. School is being held in a rented building.

The stone marker which marks the location of the Plum Creek massacre near Lexington is to be dedicated in a fitting ceremony on May 28.

Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Marshall of Albion celebrated their sixteenth wedding anniversary March 21. All their five children and their families were present to help them celebrate.

Paul Burk, self-styled Hartington author, is running for congress in the third congressional district. Among the things he advocates are paid vacations for expectant mothers, a wage minimum for unskilled labor of $2 per hour, 30 hour weeks, and $200 per month old age pensions.

Starlings have made their appearance at Greeley and are filling the public with dismay. They have habits much like the crow, but are even worse, it is said.

A 1930 Ford, bearing license No. 55-593 was stolen from Donald Easton who is employed at Loup City last Monday evening.

The truck driven by Harry Kinginsmith and loaded with cattle went into the ditch at the Y west of Scotia last Tuesday evening. The truck was damaged some, but Harry and the cattle escaped injury.

A barn on the Jim Slegel farm 4 1/2 miles west of Comstock was destroyed by fire last week, together with six horses, 500 bushels of corn, and some machinery, harness and hay.

Two Howard county farmers, Axel Jensen and Archie Nelson were surprised last week to find that horses they had bought at Grand Island had been stolen at Shelby, Mont.

Mrs. Carl Rudolph, 70, was instantly killed near her home at Central City when she attempted to cross the tracks in front of a through freight train.

Vote for NELS P. RASMUSSEN for State SENATOR ---The man who knows farm problems by practical experience.

Boy Scout Makes Request.
Writing to the Chamber of Commerce in Ord, Ben Carroll of Syracuse, N. Y., a Boy Scout, asked that some one send him a piece of wood with some particulars concerning it, as they were collecting pieces of wood from every state in the Union.
A. A. Wiegardt contacted John L.

Ward, who furnished a piece of juniper wood from the bluffs north of Fort Robinson in Sioux county. This was sent to Mr. Carroll and the letter was turned over to Rex Jewett, scoutmaster, for the Scout files.
---Vencil Krikac, Comstock banker, was an Ord visitor Saturday.

P. A. Davies Dead.
Funeral services for Rev. P. A. Davies were held Friday afternoon at the First Presbyterian church in Lincoln. It will be remembered that Rev. Davies was at one time pastor of the Ord Presbyterian church. Other charges served by him after leaving Ord were at St. Paul, Fairbury, Wayne and Lincoln.

Beaus and Belles of the Future

April 3, 1930.
Mrs. Mary Zikmund passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Harry Christensen, at the age of 73 years.

The citizens of Ord voted in favor of Sunday movies by a vote of 546 for and 311 against. The total vote, 857, was fifty less than that cast in the spring election 2 years ago.

The Lou Wegrzyn house in north Ord was completely destroyed by a night fire. Mrs. Wegrzyn fleeing in her night clothing. Mr. Wegrzyn was in Grand Island at the time.

Tom Lambdin went to Savannah Mo., to have a cancer removed from his cheek.

The Ord team was a member of a six-team league comprising Arcadia, Ord, Scotia, Broken Bow, Ansley and Litchfield.

Mrs. A. L. Crouch was quite seriously hurt when hit by a car driven by Lew Holloway.

M. D. L. Taylor, old time resident of Ord, died at his home here at the age of 85 years.

April 1, 1920.
Irvin Dodge, an early settler of the county, died at his home near Elyria.

Mrs. Anna Valasek was found dead of heart failure at her home in the west part of the county.

Fire damaged the interior of the Oddfellow building, ruining the regalia of several orders stored in the closets there, and also spoiling the stocks in the rooms below.

Governor Samuel McKelvie addressed a large and enthusiastic group in Ord.

The barn on the S. W. Roe place in Mira Valley was badly damaged by wind, having the roof blown off and scattered about.

A fire alarm took the firemen to Hillcrest hospital, where they discovered the fire had been extinguished without damage.

M. McBeth bought the Gem Theater building from F. J. Bell, but did not plan to run the business.

The Farmers Telephone company of Ord bought out the Ord Independent Telephone company, and raised the rates to approximately what they are today.

April 7, 1910.
Ord put on its annual about face and went wet again, this time by a majority of 24 votes. The first ward went dry, but lost its councilman.

C. S. Jones was elected superintendent of schools, and the other teachers were Ada Bash, Minnie Morris, Wilfred Haskell, Edith Nothery, Jessie Ferguson, Alice Mann, Hazel Hitecock, Flavia Twombly, Mrs. Jennie Parker, Antonia Stara and Jessie McAndrew.

W. M. Ober, mayor and storekeeper of Rosevale, sold his store to O'Connor.

Because of the heavy run of business the U. P. evening passenger came to Ord with an extra coach. That was in the good old days.

County superintendent Eva B. Shuman of Valley and Clara Thorpe of Garfield county went to Fremont to the state meeting.

Men arrived to put in and smooth the floors in the Firkins building, now owned by Auble Bros.

Charles Partridge was seriously hurt about 15 miles north of Ord when the team he and the Spelts brothers were driving ran away, demolished the buggy and scattered the men over the landscape.

April 6, 1900.
St. Paul college, S. D. Smith, principal, was running an ad in the Ord Quiz.

The phone number of the Misko meat market was announced as 00. Now after 40 years the phone number in the same place is 40.

Ora Taylor had a job with the McCook Tribune, and was going there to work.

A marriage license was issued to Jacob Shoemaker and Miss Rosalie Soppelsa.

James Milford was doing some experimental work with kites, sending one up several hundred feet.

M. P. Calhoun returned from a three month's trapping trip to the north part of the state, and reported good results.

Frank Glover was building a new house in the northwest part of Ord. The people of Ord were of the opinion that they did not want any more of C. L. Anderson as superintendent of schools.

April 1, 1890.
Under the heading of "Whiskey Straight" the Quiz gave the result of the first election Ord held as a city. The high license ticket was elected by from 60 to 70 votes. C. B. Coffin was mayor, Charles Felger clerk, E. K. Harris, treasurer, T. H. Prentice engineer, and H. G. Swift, police judge. Two councilmen were elected in each ward, one for one year and one for two years. They were as follows, first named for the long term: First ward, J. H. Carson, W. T. Barstow; second ward, W. D. Ogden, J. C. Work; third ward, J. W. Beran, Nelson Mason.

W. A. Anderson had an article in the paper urging the planting of trees and flowers in the Ord cemetery. We have no way of knowing just how much effect this had, but we know that Ord now has one of the finest cemeteries in the country, with an abundance of trees and shrubbery. A measure of credit is due Mr. Anderson.

The county supervisors had appropriated $200 for the purpose of beautifying the court house square, and the citizens of Ord were to give as much more. This year the county board is busy beautifying it again.

Ord was visited by a heavy snow storm, which the Quiz opined would do much toward insuring a crop in Valley county.

The petition of S. A. Parks, county superintendent, was granted, raising his salary from $800 to $1,000 per year.

April 3, 1885.
George Knecht was having his building remodeled, and the masons were building an oven in the basement. Bakers were not troubled much with shipped-in goods in those days.

Ira I. Sheldon of Schuyler was in Ord and looked in vain for a store in which he could start in the book business. The saloons had taken the last available places.

There was much complaint about the high rates charged by the Union Pacific for delivering freight in North Loup. They had no competition and could charge what they pleased.

C. E. Kemp, Ord painter, had recently repainted the Valley House throughout, doing a fine job, of course.

Ord was undergoing its annual clean-up campaign, and the marshal was ordering all rubbish removed from the alleys.

Andy Kendall, put in jail for intoxication, was treated by a doctor who gave him some liniment for a sore shoulder and some medicine for his cough. But Andy rubbed the cough medicine on his shoulder and drank the liniment, nearly burning out the department of the interior.

A. M. Robbins received $200 worth of new law books, making his library the finest in Ord.

Miss Lillian Karty, a freshman in Creighton University, school of journalism, was formally initiated into Pi Delta Chi, a local journalism sorority, Saturday, March 30. The ceremonies took place at the Omaha Athletic club.

Homer C. Sample of North Loup was visiting in Ord Saturday having returned from his California trip some ten days ago. He enjoyed himself very much while there, and says that general conditions seem to be much better there than here.

Virgil Lunney arrived home from the CCC camp in Bridgeport Saturday morning for a few days visit with relatives here. He had been working part time in a restaurant there, and when he returns he will quit the camp and work all of his time in the cafe as cook.

Mrs. Atkinson stated Saturday that Ray is now feeling much better and that the doctor told him that he could go back to work, which he plans to do this week. He had a severe time of it with his appendix, and was lucky to come out of it alive.

Frank Fryzek, jr., arrived in Ord Saturday noon from Greeley, where he has work as a painter. He came to get his wife, who had been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hrebec. They left Saturday evening.

Harry Gregg, son LeRoy, and daughter Adeline, and brother John Gregg and wife drove over from Loup City Saturday and visited his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. N. K. Loft.

New Proposal to Sell Electricity Is Made by James

Ord-Burwell Officials, Many Water Users, Attended a Meeting Wednesday.

A new proposal by the North Loup Public Power and Irrigation district to sell electricity to the cities of Ord and Burwell was made Wednesday evening by H. C. James, district manager, at a mass meeting in the city hall attended by about 200 city officials, water users and interested citizens.

The new rate proposed by Mr. James would be, on the basis of Ord's consumption during the five months in 1938 when Ord was on the district's high-line, 13 mills. For Burwell, on the same basis, it would be 15 mills. Ord paid 16.8 mills previously and Burwell slightly more.

Ord would save, from the price it paid the district in 1938, approximately 20 per cent, Mr. James estimated, while Burwell would save approximately 15 per cent.

It was also proposed by Mr. James that the controversial 30-year contracts be forgotten and that both towns buy energy under 1-year contracts with each party having the privilege of extending the contracts 1 additional year up on 30 days notice. "In other words, 2 year contracts," he said.

The Ord and Burwell plants also could be used for stand-by service at periods when Platte Valley production is not sufficiently large to handle the demand, he suggested. He also offered to employ the Ord electric department to maintain power lines and electric equipment of the district.

Harmony was the key-note of the meeting. M. B. Cummins, mayor of Ord, presided and introduced Roy Hudson, president of the district, who in turn introduced Mr. James. The latter, after a brief talk, introduced Eugene T. Porter, field representative of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, which owns the North Loup bonds, and R. D. McWha, electrical expert for the Platte Valley district. Each spoke briefly.

"Every approach to this problem is doomed to failure if it doesn't benefit everyone concerned," emphasized Mr. James, in beginning his talk. The district needs revenue from sale of electricity to supplement revenue from sale of water, Ord and Burwell need electricity but must buy it as cheap or cheaper than they can produce it, the water users will benefit if the cities buy electricity from the district because their water rates then will not have to be increased, and citizens of Ord and Burwell must be assured of good service and rates no higher than they now have, he stated.

Mr. James suggested that a committee representing all the interests involved be named and that this committee work out a compromise agreeable to all the parties concerned. He feels certain there is a "common ground" upon which all may meet, he said.

The Ord council already has a power committee made up of George Allen, Dr. J. W. McGinnis and Frank Johnson, and Mayor M. B. Cummins indicates that this committee is willing to meet with representatives of Burwell, the district, the water users' association and anybody else interested and study Mr. James' proposal.

'Good Samaritan' Is Drunk, Fined

Burwell—(Special)—A solicitor for the Good Samaritan Army was arrested here Friday afternoon by State Patrolman Loyal Zink and Sheriff George Brock of Loup county, brought before County Judge B. A. Rose who found him guilty of drunken driving and fined him $20 and costs, and revoked his driver's license for a year.

The solicitor, who had documentary evidence to prove his position, said he was George C. Hoggatt of Norfolk. Mr. Hoggatt was accompanied by his wife. They have called upon residents of this community for several years soliciting money and gifts.

When the fine was assessed Mr. Hoggatt maintained he had no funds but Judge Rose was adamant and told him he could lay out his fine in jail. Mrs. Hoggatt threatened to sue the county for maintenance if her husband was incarcerated. The solicitor tired of jail life and paid his fine Saturday noon. He left his violin with a Burwell citizen who loaned him money, and as a precautionary measure it is being kept in the court house. When released by W. F. Manassil, county attorney, he left town immediately.

Pastor Clarence Jensen was in Dannebrog and Nysted last Monday making arrangements for the Luther League and Bible conference of the Nebraska district which will be held July 29 to Aug. 4.

Children May Sign Up Starting This Week for Quiz Gourd Contest with $19 Cash Prizes

Application blanks have been printed, gourd seed is ready and children between the ages of 6 and 12 inclusively may visit the Quiz office Thursday of this week or later and sign up for the 1940 gourd growing contest being sponsored by The Quiz. A total of $19 in cash prizes will be given away in this contest.

Rules of the contest are simple. To enter, all you need do is bring 5c to The Quiz office and sign an application blank. For your 5c you will be given a package of small fruit ornamental gourd seed containing approximately 100 seeds. You may plant the seeds when and where you like. In the fall, date and place to be announced later, a gourd show will be put on in Ord and prizes will be awarded as follows:

For the best display of 8 varieties of gourds, $5.00, second best display, $3.00, third best display, $2.00. For the largest gourd, $3.00; for the smallest gourd, $3.00; for the best freak gourd (shape and coloring both taken into consideration) $3.00.

Children younger than 6 or older than 12 are not eligible to compete and only children in Valley and adjacent counties may compete.

Ornamental small fruit gourds are easy to grow and children will find it fun to grow them. The seeds should not be planted outdoors until all danger of frost has passed, probably about May 10, but some seedsmen recommend planting indoors and transplanting the started plants outdoors about May 10. The gourd vines grow to a length of 10 to 20 feet and bear fruit of all imaginable sizes, shapes and colors. The seed produced by The Quiz from the Noll Seed company is of exceptionally high quality and ordinarily would sell for 10c per package but because of the quantity being purchased The Quiz finds it possible to sell it to entrants for only 5c.

The quantity of seed on hand is limited and while more can be secured if necessary The Quiz recommends that children who want to enter the contest come in this week and do so.

This contest is being put on to furnish fun for the children, to interest them in growing things, and as a preliminary to a more elaborate planned county-wide flower garden contest which The Quiz hopes to sponsor in 1941.

Children, enter the gourd contest this week.

Ord Ag Students Rate High as Judges

Three loads of Future Farmers drove to Kearney for the Ag. contests last Saturday, accompanied by Edward Zahm, F. L. Stoddard and J. A. Kovanda. The boys were entered in livestock, dairy cattle, and crops judging events, competing with lads from 27 other towns.

The dairy cattle judges placed second as a group, with Donald Fischer ranking second individually, and John Duda sixth of all the contestants. Only York placed ahead of the Ord team.

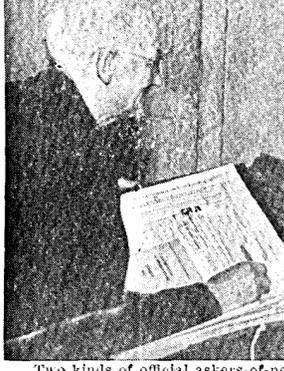

In judging livestock, Carson Rogers was the best horse judge out of 123 contestants and took the blue ribbon for this event. Edward Rousek tied for second in judging hogs. Ord placed fifth as a group in this event with Lloyd Geweke winning three ribbons and doing the best all-around judging of the local boys.

The crops judges rated sixth as a team, while Frank Zadina and Charles Zlonke ranked 4th and 5th as individuals in this division.

Ten Ord boys will enter the state high school agricultural contest at North Platte on Thursday and Friday of this week.

Robert Alberts was home for nine days from the CCC camp at Broken Bow.

When Census Taker and Assessor Meet, Its News!

Two kinds of official askers-of-personal-questions are abroad in the land these days and occasionally the two meet up. When they do, its news. That's what happened when Frank Krikac (right), new 2nd ward assessor, visited Orin Mutter on official business the other day. Mr. Mutter couldn't take the Krikac family census officially, for he was appointed to North Loup township, but he could get in a lot of good practice, which he proceeded to do. Here Orin, with census blank on his lap, is shown asking Frank how many people live in his household while at the same time Frank asks Orin how much property he has for assessment purposes.

Assessor Finishes in 3 Days; "Could Have Done It in 2"

Burwell—(Special)—One precinct assessor here completed his work and turned in his books Monday morning. He is Walter Reinecke, who assessed Roosevelt precinct. Mr. Reinecke worked three days at his job.

"I could have easily done it in two days," he declared, "if I had wanted to hurry and had found everyone at home when I called."

Mr. Reinecke filled out twenty schedules.

Scout Executive Addresses Cosmo-Rotary Meeting

Forrest Whitcraft Tells of Expansion Program at Joint Dinner Monday evening.

Forrest Whitcraft of Grand Island, area executive of the Boy Scouts of America movement, was the principal speaker Monday evening at a joint dinner of the Rotary and Cosmopolitan clubs of Ord, held in the city cafe. Mr. Whitcraft described the present expansion program in Scout work made possible by the Frank Phillips Foundation.

Formerly there were three executives in the Cornhusker Council which takes in 55 Nebraska counties, said Whitcraft, and under the expansion program there will be eight. He prophesied that new Scout troops will be formed at Erickson, Burwell and other nearby communities where there have been no troops and also said that Cub and Senior Scout troops should be formed in Ord to supplement work now being done. There are at least 220 boys in Ord eligible for Scout work, he said.

Dr. J. N. Round, president of the Cosmo club, presided at the meeting and introduced C. C. Thompson, the Rotary president. Dr. George Parkins, who recently was awarded with national honors in the field of optometry, was greeted with an ovation. Wilmer Anderson, chairman of the Rotary program committee, introduced the principal speaker. Mr. Whitcraft showed movies of Scout work at the conclusion of his talk.

Fifty-seven Ord men enjoyed the splendid dinner served by Walter Thodal and his helpers. It was a 100 per cent meeting for the Rotary club, the first such they have had in four years.

Dubas Confectionery Purchased by Clarks

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Clark and son Bobby arrived in Ord Thursday from Sidney, where Mr. Clark is in the employ of the state highway department. Saturday they closed a deal with Adam Dubas for the purchase of his confectionery in the Ord Theater building, and took possession at once.

Mr. Clark returned to his work at Sidney, and Mrs. Clark will have charge of the confectionery. She and her son have an apartment with the Roy Divans at 1617 O street, and Bobby, who is 7 years old, is attending school in the second grade. The business will be known as Clark's confectionery, and will carry the same general line of goods as in the past.

Loses Car and Tools in Fire Wednesday Night

Fire of unknown origin Wednesday night burned all that was combustible on the 1931 Chevrolet car of John Snawerdt. The car was standing in his yard north of Ord on 15th street, but it caught fire while he was asleep, and he did not know about his loss until the next morning.

Even more serious was the loss of all his carpenter tools, which were in the tool box in the back of the car, and were completely ruined by the fire. It is supposed that the fire started from a short from the battery of the car.

2 Ord Students Given Superior Dramatic Ratings

Others Adjudged Excellent in District Contest Held Friday at Lexington.

Miss Joy Loft won two superior ratings, Emanuel Smolik another superior rating, while Bob Gruber and the 1-act play cast won excellent ratings at the district declamatory contest held Friday at Lexington, thereby bringing the dramatics department of Ord high school, headed by Miss Wilma Shavlik, the greatest honor it has won in many years.

There is no sub-district contest for Class A schools so the Ord dramatics students jumped directly into district competition at Lexington against students from Hastings, Kearney, North Platte, Broken Bow, Gothenburg, Lexington, Central City, Cozad, Paxton, Burwell, St. Paul, Loup City and Ogallala.

In the interpretive oratory division, Emanuel Smolik was rated superior for his rendition of "The Big Parade." Lyle Flagg was Ord's entrant in the original oratory division, giving "What Price Freedom?" but received no rating because he was under time. Joy Loft gave a cutting from "Smilin' Thru" to win superior in the dramatic division while Bob Gruber, in the humorous division, gave "The Big Game" to rate excellent.

The cast of Ord's 1-act play, "He," was composed of Joy Loft, Emanuel Smolik, Gerald Stoddard, Warren Allen, Bob Gruber, Lyle Flagg and Frank Robberson, and an excellent rating was received. However, Miss Loft won superior acting honors for her work as a member of the cast of this play, this being the highest award that may be received by an actress in the district contest.

All contestants were coached by Miss Shavlik, who is teaching her second term in Ord and who has built up interest in the dramatics department to the point where students find work in dramatics as interesting as any high school activity. The great success had by her students against strong competitors is gratifying to Miss Shavlik and to patrons of the Ord schools.

Petty Thefts Send 2 Lads to Institution

Petty thievery of two Ord boys, Elmer Marshall, 14, and Lyle Whitford, 13, resulted in their commitment to the state industrial school at Kearney by John L. Andersen, county judge, and they were taken there Saturday afternoon by Deputies Cohen and Covert.

Evidence showed that about two weeks ago the Marshall boy entered Mrs. Wes Dally's home and stole $20 from a pocketbook. All but $2 was recovered by officers and the boy was released after a lecture by Sheriff Round. Last week he and the Whitford boy again entered the Dally home in Mrs. Dally's absence and the Whitford boy stole $2 which he found in a clothes closet. The Marshall boy secreted another dollar found in the clothes closet in another place in the Dally home, planning to return for it later.

About a year ago, evidence brought out in court showed, the Whitford boy stole $1 from an Ord teacher and for several months was under parole for this offense.

In passing sentence, Judge Andersen censured parents of the two boys when he said "in my judgment one of the most serious problems today is that of neglected, dependent and delinquent children. Boys and girls of the age of these children are too often allowed to follow and indulge in their own inclinations, whether right or wrong, by parents who are entirely indifferent to their child's welfare, and the results are such as this."

Judge Andersen pointed out that the industrial school at Kearney is not a prison in the generally accepted sense of that term but instead is a place where boys like the Whitford and Marshall boys may be instructed in the principles of morality, given an education and also taught means of earning livelihoods in later life.

The Whitford boy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Whitford; the Marshall lad a son of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Marshall.

City Policeman to Be Stationed at Onyx Cafe

Upon the request of Ott Bogner, operator of the Onyx Cafe on the outskirts of Ord, a city policeman will be stationed at the cafe during hours when the place is open to assist the proprietor in keeping order. His salary will be paid by Mr. Bogner.

Complaints have reached Mayor M. B. Cummins about excessive noise at the Onyx during the late evening and early morning hours and when Mr. Bogner admitted that he was unable to control the situation and asked assistance, arrangements to station a policeman were made quickly. The Onyx has neither a beer nor a dance license so without Mr. Bogner's cooperation the city would have no right to intervene, short of ordering the place closed as a public nuisance.

For the present F. J. Cohen will be the deputy on duty there and he will have instructions not to interfere with patrons of the cafe so long as they behave in an orderly manner.

Burwell Amateurs Will Present Wilder Play, "Our Town," As Adult Education Undertaking

Shown above is the wedding scene from Thornton Wilder's play, "Our Town," which will be presented in the Burwell school auditorium at 8 p. m. Tuesday, April 17, under the direction of Miss Anna Cameron. Parts of the bride and groom are taken by Pauline Bonsall and Gilbert Davenport. Luther Pierce is the preacher. The others are the choir and guests at the wedding.

"Our Town," a royalty play depicting life in a small town, will be presented by Burwell people Tuesday night, April 17, under the direction of Miss Anna Cameron. This play was written by Thornton Wilder and has never before been presented in a community as small as Burwell and never before by a strictly amateur group.

Presentation of "Our Town" is an outgrowth of the adult education movement in Burwell and members of the cast have been rehearsing for months.

Scene of the play is Grover's Corners, N. H., and it portrays the life and love of a boy and girl from school days, through courtship and marriage to death and the grave—and beyond. These parts are taken by Gilbert Davenport and Mrs. Marion Bonsall.

Central actor throughout the play is Luther Pierce, who is stage manager, soda jerker, officiating minister at the wedding and interpreter

Jack Hayes Is Fined on Speeding Charge Monday

In Police Judge John L. Andersen's court Monday Jack Hayes entered a plea of guilty to a charge of speeding, paid a fine of $1 and costs of $4.50 and was released. The incident occurred at the Ord Hotel corner Saturday evening.

Hayes tried to turn the corner at too high a rate of speed, swung too far out and hooked the bumper of a car belonging to Ed Timmerman, throwing it into one belonging to Paul Hermsmeider of Scotia, with some damage to both cars. He had settled the bill for damages to both cars before being brought into court.

Bids Let For Work on Two County Highways

According to information put out by the department of highways Friday, bids on two pieces of road work in Valley county were accepted. The Inland Construction company of Omaha held the low bid on the stabilized base, prime and armor coat on 11.4 miles between Ord and North Loup at $41,524.

On the 1.7 miles connecting link between the North Loup-Arcadia highway and No. 57, Roberts Construction company, Lincoln, grading, $7,350; George K. Werner, Clay Center, gravel, $1,252; Grover Haring, Kearney, culverts, $3,328; Abel, guard rail, $1,039.

City Policeman to Be Stationed at Onyx Cafe

Upon the request of Ott Bogner, operator of the Onyx Cafe on the outskirts of Ord, a city policeman will be stationed at the cafe during hours when the place is open to assist the proprietor in keeping order. His salary will be paid by Mr. Bogner.

Valley County Gives Big Vote to 'Favorite Sons'

Munn, Knezacek Lead Field in County; Fast Cleanup of Election Results.

The manner in which Valley county voters supported "favorite son" candidates, and the speed with which counting was completed under difficult conditions, featured the election Tuesday in this county. George Munn, J. T. Knezacek, Clarence M. Davis and John P. Misko, all of whose names appear on the ballot for higher positions, received generous support, with Munn polling the largest total in this county.

Vote for Munn in Valley county was 1,355, for Kroger 717, for Abbott 362 and for Spikes 192. However, over the 11th judicial district Mr. Munn appeared to be running in fourth place, slightly behind Mr. Spikes and considerably behind Kroger and Abbott.

J. T. Knezacek's total in Valley county for 29th district unicameral was 1,212, with John F. Doyle his closest competitor with 551. Frost got 133, Rasmussen $5 and Leftwich 57. Mr. Knezacek was running strongly throughout the district and appeared a certainty to be nominated with a likelihood that he would lead the race.

Davis, candidate for delegate to the republican national convention from the 5th district, received 522 votes in Valley county to 448 for A. B. Wood and 248 for Lloyd Kain. Misko, one of two candidates for alternate delegate, got 591 votes to 638 for Emma J. Veatch. Data on these two races over the district is still lacking.

Republicans cast a much larger vote than democrats in Valley county and Thomas E. Dewey was strongly favored for president getting 724 votes to Vandenberg's 423 in the presidential primary. Bert Carpenter, for national committeeman, leads Lyle Jackson 471 to 356 in this county.

Choice of Valley county republican voters for senator was Arthur J. Weaver, who polled 366 votes to 342 for Hugh Butler, 177 for John Miller, 109 for Adam McMullen and 52 for A. W. Jefferis. Dwight Griswold was a strong choice for governor with 522 votes to 329 for Warner, 156 for Dr. Miller, 24 for Livery Stable Ross and 26 for Alter.

For the minor state offices Valley county republicans voted as follows: Lieutenant governor—Johnson 365; Recd 242; High 118; Peterson 117. Secretary of state—Marsh 376; Bass 250; Cozad 161; Wilkinson 58. Treasurer—L. B. Johnson 260; Miller 205; others scattering. Railway commissioner—John Knickrehm 329; Babcock 100; others scattering.

Democrats in Valley county Tuesday cast 522 votes for Franklin D. Roosevelt with a scattering write-in vote for Garner. A bang-up race came about between Burke with 351 and Cochran with 343. Terry Carpenter led for governor with 357 to 259 for Keith Neville. For lieutenant governor Parsons polled 117 votes, Diers 131, Neumann 97, Elliott 92 and Mehrens 64. For secretary of state Swanson was away out in front with 431. Price leads Jean Johnson for auditor 359 to 179 and Jensen leads for treasurer' 213 to 140 for Miller, 118 for Hall and 110 for Haavekost.

John P. Jensen, of Kearney, was the choice of Valley county democrats for attorney general, getting 215 votes to 174 for McLaughlin and 132 for Barth. Mr. Jensen is a brother of Soren Jensen, who has lived here.

For railway commissioner, democrat, Bill Maupin polled 146 votes, to 112 for Dollen, 127 for Swanson, 95 for Hunter, 74 for Conklin and 29 for Yager.

Harry B. Coffee, alone on the democratic ticket for 5th district congressman, polled 623 votes, while Kenneth Myers led in the republican race for the nomination. Myers got 290 votes to 184 for Blome, 181 for Bates and 163 for Howard.

Three democrats won nominations for Valley county supervisor, J. V. Suchanek in the 2nd district with 57 votes, Ellsworth Ball in the 4th district with 142 votes and Charles E. Johnson in the 6th district with 45 votes.

Republicans nominated Henry Cremen in District 2 with 62 votes, while in District 4 Joe Rohla captured the nomination with 122 votes to 65 for Frank Zaboudil, 48 for C. D. Goodhand and 25 for Joe Rysavy. In District 6 John G. Bremer polled 73 votes to 35 for Joe Velba and was renominated.

Election boards and counting board in the various voting precincts of Valley county did a splendid job of handling the primary votes quickly. It was the longest ballot in the history of the primary law but by 4:00 a. m. Wednesday every precinct had finished its counting and reported to County Clerk Ign. Klima. The vote was somewhat lighter than normal but this does not detract from the wonderful job election officials did in handling the primary job.

Several Car Accidents Occurred Saturday Eve

Partly due to the rain which fell late Saturday evening, a number of cars figured in mishaps of various kinds. A North Loup car went into the ditch near the Will Koelling place in Mira Valley, but the ditch was shallow there and no damage resulted to either car or occupants. With help from another car that passed they got back on the grade and went on their way.

Wayne Hansen did not fare so well when his car went off the west side of the grade just north of the river bridge and upset in the water. No one was injured and the car was slightly damaged. The Anderson garage wrecker was called to lift the car out.

It was not the rain, but a tire blowing out that caused the most serious accident of all, when Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parsons of the Burwell Tribune were both hurt when their car left the road between Elyria and Burwell and turned over three times. Mrs. Parsons suffered a broken collar bone, severe bruises and nervous shock. Mr. Parsons suffered deep cuts on his head and one leg, and many bruises.

The accident happened late Saturday afternoon. Mrs. Parsons, who was driving believes that the tire blew out and threw the car out of control. The wrecked auto was taken to the Bredthauer garage in Burwell. The top is crushed in, fenders and running board on the left side demolished and both front doors are beyond repair. The injured people were taken care of by Dr. E. J. Smith.

Charles E. Wozniak, Well Known Elyria Man, Buried Monday

Charles E. Wozniak, citizen of Valley county for 52 years, and one of the best known and most popular residents of the Elyria territory, passed away Friday at an Ord hospital following a major operation performed some ten days before.

Mr. Wozniak was born in Poland, March 4, 1877. When 6 weeks old he came to the United States with his parents. First they settled in Pierce county, Mo., where they lived for three years. They then moved to Hall county, Nebraska where they lived on a farm for three years.

In 1888 he came to Valley county with his parents, who took a homestead in Eureka township. There he grew to manhood and obtained his education. In 1900 he was married to Kathryn Liberski, who, with their four children, survives him.

In 1900 he began his long career of public service which continued until his death. That year he was appointed county supervisor from his district, and the same year he began teaching school. He taught school two terms in Dist. 44, and one term in Dist. 43.

Standard Bulk Plant Is Being Reopened

The Standard Oil company's bulk plant in Ord, closed for more than a year, will be reopened at once and Verne Porter will have charge of both city and rural deliveries. Standard bulk plants in Scotia and Burwell are being discontinued and both territories will be serviced from the Ord bulk plant. Mr. Porter has had charge of the bulk plant at Burwell.

Enjoy Unique Party.

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Misko entertained a group of friends at a "Grapes of Wrath" party Saturday evening, in enjoyable fashion. A dinner of grapefruit, "sowbelly" and fried mush was followed by an expedition to the theatre where the movie was enjoyed. The evening ended with coffee and cookies at the Misko home.

8 at 40 Met Thursday.

Valley Dist. Salon No. 240 of the 8 at 40 met Thursday evening with Mrs. C. C. Shephard for a seven o'clock dinner followed by their regular meeting. Mrs. Shephard conceived the idea of serving a lovely dinner and charging the members a certain amount for this meal and turning the proceeds to the salon's T. B. fund, and it proved very satisfactory.

Le Chapeux Lorena Doe, Arcadia, was present and reported the tuberculosis test given to 88 pupils of the Arcadia schools and follow up work is progressing nicely. X-rays are being given to children of parents who are unable to have this work done and further treatment is given if found necessary. This work is being done by the local salon.

A group of 15 ladies over a widely scattered territory, including Ord, Burwell, Arcadia, Spalding, Greeley, Loup City and Callaway comprise this group. Thursday there was a field worker from the Nebraska T. B. association at Arcadia to advise and assist in this work. She will be back in 3 weeks. The ladies voted to give $2.50 to the inhalator fund. Several gifts have been sent to children's hospitals in the state, also the National Jewish hospital in Denver, where the national organization endowed 7 beds for T. B. child patients. These beds are for not only ex-service men's children, but also for any child who is suffering from the dreaded malady, tuberculosis.

Each month the local organization sends birthday gifts to children who are in the hospital on their birthday. They have given the T. B. test to 296 children in Ord and Arcadia schools within the past year. Mrs. Ethel Hoycock of Callaway, 6th district president of the Legion Auxiliary, also a member of the local organization of 8 at 40, has invited the members to meet with her in the near future at Callaway.

The next meeting will be at Loup City with Miss Byrdce Lofholm of that city.

Observe Birthday.

A dozen neighbors of Mrs. L. Harrison met at her home in south Ord Monday afternoon and helped her celebrate her birthday. They brought with them a lovely lunch, which all enjoyed. Miss Maggie King and Mrs. Clark Anderson each baked a birthday cake for her. Those attending were Miss King, Mrs. Anderson and son, Miss Helen Collins, Mrs. Otis Hughes, Mrs. C. P. Hughes, Mrs. Melvin Clemons, Mrs. L. Watson, Mrs. Rudolph Koupal, Mrs. George Round, Mrs. W. S. King and Mrs. Katie Marks.

Visit Arcadians.

Saturday evening by special invitation of Legionaire S. P. Warden of the Arcadia post, American Legion, eight members of the Ord post went to Arcadia to play the members there in a cribbage tournament. Those who went were A. A. Wiegard, John L. Ward, Ed L. Vogeltanz, Carl C. Dale, Alfred L. Hill, C. W. Clark, Mark Gyger and Cecil Wardrop.

Progressive pinocle was played, with partners changed each three games until 12 games had been played, and the scores were then added up, showing the Ord players ahead by a score of 5359 to 5274. The ladies Auxiliary brought in lunch of coffee, sandwiches and cookies, which was heartily enjoyed at the close of play.

The meeting was held in the Arcadia firemen's hall. Arcadians who played in the games were Warden, Carl Deitrichs, Paul Owens, Bryan Owens, Lloyd Bulger, Bob Hill, Joe Schuele, Sam Zlomke and N. O. Nielsen. The Arcadia men will be invited to Ord for a return match at some time in the near future.

Royal Kensington.

The Royal Kensington club met at the home of Mrs. Walter Waterman and Miss Dolsie Waterman Thursday in special session. Mrs. Homer Jones was elected president for the coming year, with Miss Dolsie Waterman, vice-president, Mrs. Spencer Waterman secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ivan Botts and Miss Waterman project leaders. The lesson on "The Livable Home" was discussed. Ice cream and cake were enjoyed.

C. W. Barber, Tinner by Trade, Musician by Instinct, Is Valued Resident of North Loup

Here is shown Charles W. Barber, a resident of North Loup 56 years, with a battered cornet owned by his father, Elias P. Barber, and also one of his newer cornets. The story is told that Elias Barber when he died was a member of a New York band. His funeral was attended by the entire band with all except one member in uniforms. This member, garbed in black bore Mr. Barber's prized cornet on a black pillow ahead of the funeral cortege. After the funeral the cornet was sent to Charles Barber in North Loup.

Organized and Led First Band in 1892

North Loup—(Special)—Charles W. Barber, a tinner by trade, has been a resident of this community 56 years and in that time has done more to promote interest in band music than any other person. He is now 75.

Coming here in 1884 from Northville, Kas., where he had gone a year before from his home in Scott, N. Y., he brought with him the second slide trombone people here had ever seen.

The first organization of a band was in 1892 and Mr. Barber was chosen leader. Among his prized possessions are the original books of this organization and names appearing on the records include those of Morris Green, Sanford Pater, Walter Lewis, W. E. Lewis, H. K. Webb, P. E. Clement, A. H. Babcock, P. M. Barker, R. L. Lee, Walter Rood, H. C. VanHorn, G. L. E. A. and W. T. Hutchins, Ray Rood, J. H. Babcock, S. L. Clement, Walter Davis and many more.

At least 35 years of the 56 Mr. Barber has spent here were devoted to band leadership and he also organized and led bands in Atkinson, Comstock, Cotesfield and Ericson. For the past 15 years he has spent much time with the junior band, starting many a youngster on his musical road. In 1911 he was presented with an engraved cornet by members of the band in appreciation of his work.

In early days Mr. Barber was employed in a hardware store here and at one time was the only tinner in the county, going many miles to fix roofs or attend to other needs that only a tinsmith could fill. For 22 years he was treasurer of the Seventh Day Baptist church and since the township has taken over North Loup cemetery he has been secretary of the association and has worked out a system of records that has been spoken of by several morticians as remarkable. During his life here he has been employed in almost every line of business except the bank and a filling station. Last week he was reelected police magistrate by a big majority.

Mr. Barber learned to play the cornet on the old instrument belonging to his father. His boys, Glen and Dell, also learned to play on it. Although badly battered it will still produce good music. His favorite instrument is the cornet, says Mr. Barber, but he has played many others.

—Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Roe went to St. Paul Wednesday and there met Rev. and Mrs. John B. Roe. The Roes from Dannebrog and St. Paul were called and all got together for a big family dinner at the William Harvey home. Mrs. Harvey is sister of the Roe brothers.

—Another sister, Mrs. J. H. Morris, had returned the Saturday before from a visit to Kentucky, and so was also present for the party.

—Gas Gas All Time

Mrs. Jas. Fuller says: "Gas on my stomach was so bad I couldn't eat or sleep. Gas on my stomach is now gone. Adorin brought me quick relief. Now I eat as I wish, sleep fine, never felt better."

—Mrs. F. C. Williams went to Grand Island on the bus Thursday and spent the day visiting in the W. F. Williams home.

Ord Wins Dual Meet With Burwell Thursday

DAILIN—GREGORY—HURLBERT—RATHBUN

The dual track meet planned with Loup City for Friday did not materialize, so a dual meet was arranged with Burwell at Ord for Thursday. The Burwell lads proved tough competition all the way, especially in the track events, in which they outpointed Ord by the narrow margin of 42 points to 40 in the eight events.

Ord 85 1/2; Burwell 62 1/2

The Ord athletes proved especially strong in the field events, which they won with 45 1/2 points to Burwell's 20 1/2, for a final total of Ord, 85 1/2, Burwell, 62 1/2. Ord made ten of the eleven points in both the discus and the shot events. Ord outpointed Burwell in nine events, and were outpointed in five. The summary follows:

High hurdles: Hurlbert, Ord, first, Anderson and Clements, Burwell, second and third, Christensen, Ord, fourth, time 8.1 sec.

850 yard run: Ray, Burwell, Tatlow, Ord, Simpson, Burwell, Cochran, Ord, time 2 min., 27 sec.

100 yd. dash: Hurlbert, Ord, Anderson, Chaffin, Bangert, Burwell, time 10.7 sec.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Frank Hodek, noted conductor of symphony orchestras in the United States and in Europe, died Feb. 22 at Phara, Czechoslovakia, according to a delayed letter received by his son, Frank, who is in California. Mr. Hodek lived in Wolbach 35 years ago, and also went to Greeley each week to conduct the band there.

The Custer county board passed a resolution that no census work would be done at the salary offered. The census taker is paid at the rate of four cents per person and 25c per farm, while children under one year go at half price.

When George and John A. Blockowitz of near Martel refused to turn their property over to seven guardians appointed by the court, deputy sheriffs went to the farm and took possession of nearly $200,000 in cash and securities. The court had declared the brothers incompetent to handle their property.

Twenty-one guessers estimated the population of Palmer all the way from 455 up to 600. It was 583 in 1930. How about the Quiz making a guess it will be 529?

The citizens of Wakefield voted to have a filter installed in the water plant to improve the quality of the water. The vote was 250 for and 126 against. Wilbur Peterson was elected the new mayor of Wakefield.

A "write-in" campaign at Clay Center brought out an unusually heavy vote. For the office of mayor the incumbent, R. H. Moore, received 107 votes, while the write-in candidate, Wm. R. Fry, received 106.

W. H. Plourd, publisher of the Nance County Journal, Millerton, was elected a member of the school board by 460, nearly double the vote cast for any of the other candidates.

W. H. Wisda, former Ordite, topped the list of Lexington candidates as a vote getter when he polled 1,118 votes for the office of city treasurer.

The Krikacs did very nicely in the spring elections. Frank Krikac won for councilman, second ward, Ord, and in Comstock Edward S. Krikac defeated John Rockhold for member of the school board, 39 to 24, and Vencil Krikac, sr., defeated Rockhold for trustee to fill vacancy 34 to 26.

The city of Ravenna is faced with the problem of providing a new well before the demands of summer increase water consumption. Two of the city's four wells have given out. They have been in use 34 years.

Callaway and Curtis firemen are planning the purchase of an inhalator for their respective communities. These will be of the cheaper type, which require the use of artificial respiration.

The York Kiwanis club got off to a fine start last Tuesday evening when 140 visitors from surrounding cities arrived to help celebrate the arrival of their charter.

Wins Second Place In Ars Poetica Contest

Tuesday evening at the April meeting of Ars Poetica, held in Grand Island, John L. Ward was awarded second place for the poems he exhibited in the display poems held at the Yancey hotel last March 17. First place was given to Mrs. Alma R. Miller, secretary to Mayor O. A. Abbott of Grand Island.

Ars Poetica is an organization of Nebraska poets, with headquarters in Grand Island. The exhibit included the work of more than forty poets and was largely attended and commented upon at the time.

Ord Organized As 2nd Class City Fifty Years Ago

Might Hold Jubilee at Time of Postoffice Dedication Early in May.

Fifty years ago, according to the files of the Quiz, Ord held its first election as a city. For the first time in its history Ord elected a city council instead of a board of trustees. Before 1890 Ord had elected 5 trustees for the village, but beginning then and still continuing they elected and are electing six councilmen.

Fifty years ago last Sept. 6, a petition bearing the names of 133 Ord citizens was presented to the village board, asking that the village be divided into wards, and an election be called for the purpose of making it a city of the second class and electing city officers. Two trustees voted "yes" and two "no," and the third was absent, so the motion was lost.

On Sept. 9 the same petition came up for consideration and was laid over until the next regular meeting. There is no further reference to it in the minute book until Febr. 6, 1890, when the ordinance was read three times and passed for the apparent purpose of getting it through in time to have the election held at the regular time, the first Tuesday in April.

The election was held on All Fools Day, April 1, 1890, and C. B. Coffin was elected first mayor of Ord over M. A. Showers, the vote being 178 for Coffin and 109 for Showers, a total of 287 in all. As Ord had just passed the 1,000 mark in population and only men voted, that was an extra heavy vote, comparable with the heavy vote cast this year.

The new city was divided into three wards, just as it is today, and while it does not so appear on the record, it was conceded at the time that the first ward was the dry ward, the third ward the wet ward, and the second ward was a medium between the two, which in close elections might swing either way. The records in the years that followed proved that this supposition was true.

That first year the city of Ord was unanimously wet, just as the last year of the village of Ord had been unanimously dry. It was argued with good effect that the cost of city government would be higher, and that the money obtained from high license fees would help take care of the added cost.

The vote on the other officers of the new city stood as follows: Charles Feiger defeated C. E. Fairbanks for clerk, 173 to 115; E. K. Harris won over Frank E. Lloyd, 152 to 106 for treasurer; H. T. Prentice defeated D. C. Way for engineer, 180 to 104; H. G. Swift beat M. E. Getter for police judge by 133 to 103. Of this group, M. E. Getter is still living.

The vote for councilmen stood as follows: First ward, J. H. Carson, 55, W. T. Barstow, 54, Peter Mortensen, 40, W. D. Keown, 39; second ward, W. D. Ogdun, 51, J. C. Work, 50, James S. Buswell, 33, D. W. McCord, 32; third ward, John W. Beran, 73, Nelson Mason, 73, C. E. Patst, 36, H. E. Babcock, 34. In each case the high man was elected for one year. Mr. Beran won the two year term. Of this group, W. T. Barstow is still living.

It is of interest to note here that at the same time that Ord decided to become a city the citizens also voted the first waterworks system, which, with improvements from time to time, is still serving the city. The first reservoir was the round one, the one to the north having been added at a later date. Before that time the only fire protection the city had was wells on the square, and privately owned wells around town.

Fifty years is a long time, and it is a far cry from the town of 1,000 inhabitants of fifty years ago to the city of 2,400 to 2,500 we are proud of today. A few of the buildings that were here then still remain, but most of them have given way to newer and more commodious structures. A few of the citizens of those days still remain among us, but most of them have been gathered to their fathers.

It is of interest to note that much of the business of Ord today is being carried on by the descendants of the pioneers of those early days. For example, four Miskos are doing their part in the business and professional life of Ord, following the example of the two that were here in 1890. Others have come in during the passing of the years and claimed this as their home.

The fact that our city is now 50 years old is another reason for holding a celebration this spring. Why not find out as soon as possible

Nowhere - CAN YOU BUY BETTER MEAT AT FAIRER PRICES

Day in, day out, year in, year out, it will pay you to buy all your meats at our market.

One day you might save a few pennies at some other market, the next day it might cost you a few pennies more. Some markets offer so-called "specials" for certain days—our market never does. Fair prices every day on high quality meats is our policy, and on that policy the half century of successful operation this market has had, has been built.

A good habit for you to form is that of buying ALL YOUR MEAT at our market. Such a habit will pay you dividends in the form of better meat, and in the long run you will spend less money.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Warner Vergin found out Sunday that the road from his place south of Ord to the Herman Nass place south of North Loup was all new grade or detours. They recently finished raising the grade on the canyon road south of Ord. The rest of the road is all detours, and south of North Loup another piece of road is being graded.

Douglas Dale, son of C. C. Dale, found the first starlings reported in Ord Thursday. They were very busy building a nest in a tree near the Dale home. They will be an object of curiosity for a while, and then they will doubtless be voted, "Public Enemy No. 1."

An Ord man attended the rummage sale held by the Camp Fire girls Saturday. He examined a suit for sale and had just about made up his mind to buy it for a knock-about suit when he discovered it was one of his own that his wife had donated to the cause. We would not mention his name, of course, but he runs a jewelry store on the south side of the square.

Friday afternoon the Boss and Thearon Beehrle went out to the sand pit to have a try at the fish. Thearon was fishing for halibut and log salmon and didn't get any, but the boss got four tiny sunfish of the type Charley Sticher and L. D. Pierce call "punkinseeds."

When Thearon got his tackle out of the closet he keeps it in, he locked it with a padlock. When he got back he couldn't find his keys, so he had Charley Brickner cut off the lock with a hack saw, thinking the keys were lost. When he got the closet open he found the keys on the inside.

April First Emil Barta went into Pecenk's Market and bought some meat. He made the check out for $5, saying he needed some change, which John Gross gave him. When Curt Gudmundsen got hold of the check the next day he promptly returned it to Pecenk's, as it was signed "April Fool." They had forgotten where the check came from, so when Barta came in Thursday and stood around waiting they did not tackle him about it, and he finally had to tell them that the check was his.

John L. Andersen's tractor has been at George Benn's shop for some time past. When George got it all finished, John told Elwin Dunlap to go up with his pickup and get it. Dunlap misunderstood the order, purposely or otherwise, and delivered it to the courthouse. John was not there, so he left it on the west porch, with the name Andersen, on a tag. Warren Lincoln found it there that night and took it to H. Anderson's garage. H. told John and they took it and locked it in Mrs. Hans Andersen's barn. Then the Judge called Dunlap and asked where his tractor was, and Elwin did plenty of hunting around before he discovered the trick that had been played on him.

Last but not least, Grandmother Leggett was rocking Tommy Anderson Sunday and humming to him in an effort to get him to sleep. But Tommy had other ideas, so after a while he remarked: "Grandma, turn off!"

AGAIN WE ARE SAVED.

This is not written in sarcasm nor in criticism of either the winning or the losing candidates in the recent city campaign. We of the Quiz force have access to the files of the Quiz for more than fifty years, and it is an interesting fact that the opening number of each volume contains the story of the city election for that year.

Since elections have been held each year without fail, the Quiz has recorded no less than 53 village and city elections, eight of them being village and fifty as a city. The files of the paper show how hard were the battles fought through those earlier years, each faction thinking its success was vital to the welfare of the town.

All those earlier years the bone of contention was the question of liquor, there being three solutions offered: High license, low license, and prohibition. In time the high license won over the support of the low license element, and all these were won, known locally as the wets and the dries.

In those days the Quiz was the champion of the dry element, and the other papers, when there were more than two, were usually behind the wets. The battles waged were long and fierce, and the record shows that neither side had the upper hand for very many years at a time. But the thing that looks absurd today was the bitterness with which those fights were waged.

Both sides were honest in the conviction that the success of their own candidates was vital to the future of the town. In those days the leaders on each side would get so worked up over the election that they would not be on speaking terms with each other for days before the election. Knock-down and drag-out fights were common.

Then, after it was over and the result known, the winning side would stage a celebration. They would build bonfires and hold parades. Some of the boys would get hipped up and make speeches telling how the town would now be safe for another year, because "our side won." They were certain that the town would have gone to the devil if the result had been a victory for the opposition.

As a matter of fact, it did not really matter who won. The candidates all had the best interests of the town at heart, although they differed in their ideas of what was best for the town. The important thing is for either side to remain in office long enough to accomplish definite good, and not long enough to develop a political machine.

We have changed a lot in our ideas since those early days, but we still think that one man or another is the best for the office and for the town, or we would not vote for him. If he wins, we feel that we have done our bit toward saving the town, and if he loses, we hope the other fellow will not be as bad as we thought he was.

two years ago, the Ord Presbyterian church has been without a minister. Recently the board extended an invitation to Rev. W. Ray Radloff, of Minatare, who will be in Ord about the middle of this month and assume active charge of the work here.

The other ministers, Rev. G. C. Roberson of the Methodist church, Rev. Mamie Young of the United Brethren church, Rev. Clarence Jensen of the Bethany Lutheran church, Rev. E. M. Clark of the Pentecostal church, Rev. M. A. Lawler of the Ord Catholic church and J. P. Whitehorn, in charge of the East Side mission, are all well known to the Ord public, and need no introduction.

No small concern is due the women of the different congregations, who are always busy in some work for the good of the church. This spring a leading place must be given the women of the Ord Catholic church, who have undertaken the task of having the entire interior of the church redecorated. But it is hardly fair to expect the women to have all the religion of the town, and the men should fall in line. With so many churches to choose from you should find one that suits you, and get to work.

Now there are those who, instead of baking pork and beans cook them plenty soupy and then drop dumplings in. Pork and beans and dumplings. While I have never been strong for this method of serving the grand old dish, pork and beans, if I do have it I always insist upon good, light, feathery dumplings. No soggy, sinky dumplings for me, from which the baking powder has been left out.

There are two telephones at the Quiz office. We buy them for our use and convenience for our friends and customers and we do appreciate having you use them. No. 17 is in the front of business office. No. 30 is in the news office. If you want to reach Eugene or John Ward always call for 30. If you want to talk to H. D. Leggett or the bookkeeper, Mrs. Helen Hardenbrook, always call for 17. By remembering this you will save yourself time. I have mentioned this many times but there is never a day when someone does not call the front office and ask for one of the news office men.

Last week, in this department, I talked about horseradish and the paper was hardly out when Mrs. Clara McGrew brought me a nice bottle of the real article all graded and ready to use. Then I told her that I brought me about a peck of the finest kind of roots and as I had to do the preparing I sure had a good cry. I appreciate the thoughtfulness of these good friends and will try to return the compliment.

I don't believe the democrats will nominate Roosevelt for a third term. The Wisconsin vote alone is enough to scare them from doing so. Roosevelt and Garner were candidates in the Wisconsin primary. Garner is a candidate on the issue of no third term and I bet better than a quarter of the votes cast. At least that many are opposed to a third term. No doubt many of them are enough opposed so they would vote against a third term candidate in the fall election. If ten per cent of the democrats the country over felt that way about it Roosevelt would be defeated next fall and taking into account the conservative democrats, much more than ten per cent of the democrats will be opposed to Roosevelt.

Theron Beeble and I tried for sunfish and crappies at the sandpit last Friday but it has not warmed up enough as yet. A few warm days and I will take that gentleman down and show his just how it is done.

OIL DRILLINGS IN NEBRASKA

This is the first of a series of articles concerning oil drillings in Nebraska. All information was compiled by research workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, from old newspapers and from data supplied by the University of Nebraska.

Although the State of Nebraska has, until recently, been entirely lacking in oil production as part of its natural resources, it cannot be said that such a condition existed because attempts were never made to find oil. According to the Nebraska Geological Survey, over ninety deep well drillings (drilling to a depth of one thousand feet or more) have been made in this state. However, there are few of what could be termed really deep wells; the deepest one being 6,346 feet, which was sunk in Sioux county by the Union Oil Company of California.

Several others have gone down to depths ranging from 2,000 to 5,000 feet or more but in many cases the wells of Nebraska have barely come under the classification of deep wells. At the present time, the deepest well in the world is located in California, in the San Joaquin valley. This well was drilled to a depth of over 15,000 feet and is producing oil from a depth of more than 13,000 feet.

Nevertheless, these shallow wells have furnished geologists with much of their present knowledge of formations underlying our state, and have also convinced them that oil may exist here. But where to actually find it has confounded some of the leading oil men of the country. The "strike" near Falls City is the first oil well in Nebraska that shows promise of producing.

Over a period of time, and in nearly every section of the state, wildcaters have created rumors of oil findings that have resulted in the loss of thousands of dollars by landowners and hopeful investors. In many cases, promoters have secured a good "meal-ticket" and oftentimes more than that, by convincing oil-conscious persons that their property undoubtedly rested upon a vast pool of oil that was there for the taking. The Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, has on file over a hundred records concerning the efforts of these promoters. Because much of this information was secured from old newspapers the editors of which were quite often over-optimistic about the finding of oil, the authenticity of the reports is in doubt and can hardly be used as a basis for reference. This article perhaps does not mention every oil and gas drilling attempted in the state, but every effort was put forth to obtain a record as complete as possible.

There is no definite date as to the first drilling for oil that occurred in the state, although most of the reports of oil finding probably came from persons engaged in sinking a well for a water supply. Often an oily streak would be noted on the water and immediately a wild tale of an oil strike would rouse the people. According to Dr. G. E. Condra and Eugene C. Reed, of the University of Nebraska, it is not unusual for oily spots to appear on water from vegetation growths that have deteriorated beneath the surface of the earth.

Not all of the drillings were made by unscrupulous operators. A number of reputable oil companies sunk wells which were based upon geological or other scientific information and were financed with outside capital. In such a manner was the Bolce well near Falls City drilled.

Accounts of oil-findings as far back as 1865 have been found. On August 30, 1865, the Nebraska Herald stated that "coal-oil has been found on the Platte bottom near Ft. Kearney." As time went on, other claims appeared in newspapers and occasionally a test well would be sunk, but it was not until 1883 that a genuine "boom" started. It was said, at that time, that oil men had struck a "vein of petroleum" at Salem, in Richardson county; "Much excitement in consequence," reported one paper. Prof. Aughey, state geologist at that time, pronounced "the Salem oil as superior to that found in Pennsylvania." There may have been some truth to the story, however, as it is in that neighborhood that the Bolce well is located. Nothing further was done about the supposed strike and the story ceased to be of interest. About that time there appeared the "doodle-bug artists," fake geologists or oil men who went about making outlandish statements regarding the oil and gas possibilities. These would-be oil experts took many dollars from gullible persons who became excited at the mere mention of the word "oil."

In conjunction with attempts at locating oil, in 1888 and 1889, several newspapers concerned themselves with the possibility of Nebraska having a vast source of natural gas. Rumors emanating from various points indicated that

Mrs. J. F. Earnest died at her home near North Loop from a heart attack, at the age of 63 years. The farm home of Ed Zinkmund, three miles west of Ord, was burned to the ground, together with most of the contents, loss about $3,000.

City councilmen met and failed to do anything about Sunday movies in Ord, a measure carried by a margin of 235 votes. The Ord Chamber of Commerce were about to launch a drive for members, which was to be followed by a big banquet.

Ord soloists due to appear at the Kearney contest were Naomi Fuss, contralto, Virginia Mutter, soprano and Ivor Hautala, pianist. The Chamber of Commerce was ready to assist the census takers in seeing that every person in Ord was registered.

April 8, 1920. James Misko was elected mayor without opposition by a total vote of 103. Harold Hallen was city clerk, William Heuck, treasurer, H. Gudmundsen, police judge, and C. J. Nelson, engineer. A. J. Shirley was elected park board member, and Milliken, Wright and Bly were elected councilmen in the three wards without opposition.

There was a strong probability that the new bank at the northwest corner of the square would be combined with a three story hotel. Luckily for all concerned, the project was abandoned. George Cummings got his emigrant car loaded and was ready to leave for Regina, Mont., where he planned to make his future home.

Work on the new court house basement was being pushed as rapidly as possible. Secretary Furnish of the Ord Community club handed in his resignation, as he had to take his wife to California for her health. Miss Ruth Spaffenfeld, stenographer of the Quiz for a year, resigned her job.

April 7, 1910. Peter Dargcs and family arrived in Ord and moved into the old Miner property in east Ord, which Peter had bought and where they still live. J. D. Horton of Grand Island and Miss Anna Lambertson of Ord were married at Central City.

Tuesday, April 12, was the 25th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dworak. Frank Glover commenced the construction of the house on 17th street, now the residence of the Dr. J. N. Round family. Mat Kosmata was just completing a new, modern two-story residence in the south part of town.

Roy Allen was the gasoline man for Ord, and he bought a small engine to pump the gas, as he was getting in about a car of it a week. Up to that time every bit of gas that came to Ord was pumped by hand. F. J. Dworak's new home in northwest Ord was nearing completion. It was an ornament to that part of the town and still is.

Ed McCall had been appointed bookkeeper for the hospital for the insane at Lincoln, under Dr. Coffin, who was superintendent. Fred Bell, the Burwell photographer, was making arrangements to build a general store in Sargent. Uncle Daniel C. Bailey and his good wife celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Jessie Ferguson Writes. Washington, D. C.

To the Editor of the Quiz: No one seems to have written from this part of the country so I will send a few lines as my contribution to the collection of letters being written from various sections of the country.

These letters have been very interesting in many ways. Some because they were from people known many years ago and who have been away from Ord for a long time. Some, although not known personally, had at some time lived in Ord and were closely associated with people we had known.

There are a great many people from Nebraska living in Washington, D. C. We have quite a delegation from Ord who get together often for some very nice times. Central City and other towns not so far from Ord are also well represented. I taught in Central City prior to coming to Washington and not long ago at a gathering where the host and hostess were former residents of Central City, of the twenty guests present fourteen were from Central City and towns not far from there.

Travelers we have known, coming east sometimes, stop to call on us, and last summer Mr. and Mrs. Stiles from San Francisco included Washington, D. C., in their eastern tour. Mrs. Stiles used to be Lena Jennings, whose father was at one time County Superintendent of Valley county.

Along with most of the people here from Nebraska, I too, am still working for the government and consider myself very fortunate, as jobs of any sort are not so plentiful, especially those outside the government. An still working in the war department. We were forced to leave the nice building we had occupied so many years as the department of state needed more room and were taking over the whole building which at one time had housed the State, War and Navy departments. The Navy department was moved several years ago and occupies a temporary building near the one the War department moved into last summer. We are near the Potomac river now but our other location was much better in many ways as we were opposite the White House and were in a position to see many of the distinguished people who came to the White House to see the president, and we saw them either on their way in or on their way out, also saw a great number who came to pay their respects to the Secretary of State or the Secretary of War.

A new building is being built to house the War department and when completed the temporary buildings we are in now will be torn down and the ground used as a part of a large park. We have had an unusually cold and disagreeable winter. Easter Sunday and Monday were the coldest in many years. Both are very colorful days here especially Easter Monday when the children in their gay clothes and colorful baskets are seen going in all directions to parks and to the White House grounds to roll eggs. The Marine Band in the colorful uniform, plays at the White House grounds.

The flowers are beginning to bloom and with a few warm days with sunshine the parks and gardens will be a riot of color. As an interesting city Washington, D. C., ranks high in many ways. So many interesting people come here, there are so many interesting things to see here and it is so accessible to places near here where week ends may be spent either in the mountains or at the beaches.

We all note with regret the passing of so many of the grand people who at one time were in Ord. While we still think of Ord as home there are very few whose names we recognize in the paper from there. Well Mr. Leggett you asked for a letter, but I really didn't intend to write a book.

Best wishes to all. Jessie M. Ferguson, 1147 Clifton St. N. W. Washington, D. C.

April 11, 1890. An extra train came in over the Union Pacific, loaded with cattle and merchandise. J. V. Johnson, grandfather of Spot, Glen and Pig, received several cars of cattle for feeding, and C. F. Way shipped out several cars of fat cattle. The Union Pacific was building additional stock yards to take care of their rapidly increasing stock business.

Misses Minnie Freeman and Hattie Kimmick came up from St. Paul for a visit. This was the she of the blizzard story in 1888. Dr. Tucker was hanged, in effigy to the corner of a corner in Loup City. C. B. Coffin, Ord's first mayor, made the following recommendations: That the water mains be extended to all parts of the city, for use of the public and for fire prevention; that the water commissioner collect water rent from all users, instead of just a few; that all streets be kept in good repair, and all obstructions be removed from streets and alleys; that all sidewalks (they were of boards) be kept in good repair and be uniform; that a suitable building be furnished for the fire apparatus.

Low license won the spring election in Ord.

The trustees elected were Colby, Satterlee, McMullen Linton and Ogden.

The building for Carr's saloon (probably the building where Goff's Hatcherly now is) was under construction.

The Ord telephone exchange wishes to have it known that the "pot of gold" radio program sent for an Ord telephone book and incorporated it into the volumes from which a lucky telephone number is rung once each week.

There has been some discussion about the subject, and while I doubt if the winning number ever rings here, still the telephone company wishes the Ord patrons to know that they actually do have a chance to win the "pot of gold." Now we can start our worrying.

An Ord youngster not long ago proved that he remembered a joke he'd heard and used it when the opportunity knocked. The class was studying the bad effects of alcohol, so for contrast, Teacher dropped an angleworm in alcohol, and dropped another worm in water. The worm in water wiggled about, but the one in alcohol seemed to pickle rapidly and Teacher then asked: "Now class, what does this teach us?"

And the apt young reller replied with that elderly wheeze, "I'll know what to do if I get worms."

The old saying, "A prophet is without honor in his own country" or words to that effect are surely true in the case of Dr. George Parkins. Just because we have all known him a good while, and he goes unobtrusively about his business and does not blow his own horn, he has to win a national honor in Boston before we realize he has been doing unusually fine work.

The research work he has done had to be systematically carried out over a long period of time in order to be certain his conclusions were justified. Results in hundreds of cases had to be checked. It is going to have a beneficial effect on the vision and the ability of hundreds and thousands of school children, to say nothing of adults.

If there is any finer kind of a monument or memory to be left than one which aids so many fellowmen, I'd like to be told what work it would be. Dr. Parkins has anything but sturdy health, yet he persevered, and his studies have made him an authority in this field. He is sent for by instructors in colleges like the University of Tennessee, the University of Chicago, and his opinions eagerly sought. His suggestions as to improvements in courses, personnel, laboratory studies and research are followed by these schools. He is named to more and more boards and directorships that mean he is recognized and honored.

But Ord sees and hears little about it. Perhaps it is the fault of the Quiz, perhaps we should have written more of it. Perhaps we should all give our pennies toward buying a big horn, and present it to him so that he might toot it!

I am probably as bad or worse than anyone else about it, still I'd like to see some effort made to get Ord automobile parkers to park their cars exactly in the painted stalls about the square. Sloppy parking takes up so much room unnecessarily. It is most exasperating to have to park blocks away and walk back, when Some Other Fellow doesn't leave enough room for our car.

And when we do the same thing, the Other Fellow is undoubtedly plenty wrathful at us, with good cause. How about a "Careful Parking" campaign for Ord? —Irma.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Many people have thought they "caught cold" by sitting in a draft or by getting their feet wet or in some other way connected with temperature and moisture of the air. This notion has been ridiculed by some because it is known that the common cold is really due to an infectious agent now known to be a virus. It seemed that the person affected could not have a "cold" unless he had this "germ" in his nose, throat or bronchial tubes. This is, of course, true, but one must not forget that many people are exposed to this virus and undoubtedly have it in their noses and throats and yet do not get sick. The reasons for this may be many but in some instances, at least, the condition of the person or his surroundings may determine whether or not the virus succeeds in making him sick. Sitting in a draft or getting his feet wet might be enough of a factor to turn the tide in favor of the infecting agent and against the person.

In the days when the scientific world was just beginning to learn the relationship between the presence of germs and infection in the bodies of human beings and animals, Pasteur was experimenting with the germs of the disease called anthrax. This disease was very prevalent in France among the sheep. Pasteur found he could readily transmit it to other animals such as the guinea pig and rabbit, but could not harm a chicken by injecting these germs. He guessed the reason was the temperature of the hen, which is several degrees higher than that of the other animals he was using. He proved this by cooling a chicken, by immersion in cold water, to the same temperature as the human body, when thus cooled, he injected the germs and the hen died of anthrax.

Now, Doctors Colvin and Mills of the University of Cincinnati report just the opposite conditions for other germs. They find that the higher the temperature of the air in which mice are confined, the more easily they are infected with streptococci. At 90 degrees Fahrenheit 100% of the infected mice died within 26 hours after infection while of those kept at 65 degrees with all other factors the same, only 30% died in 26 hours. These doctors go on to explain why this result is obtained but the interesting fact, that the temperature has this effect, is undoubtedly of great importance in relation to other kinds of infections.

These observations and many others concerning the effect of temperature, moisture, the barometric pressure, fatigue and other factors confirm the impressions gained by experience in relation to the common cold.

John Boettger and Wife Well and Happy on Farm Near Chambers; Used City Hall Lumber

Lumber from Ord's old city hall, which he bought, wrecked and transported to his farm near Chambers, was used by John Boettger, former Ord man, in building a barn and chicken house. The barn, which can be seen in background of this photo, was partially built of the city hall lumber. The chicken house was entirely built of the lumber, even to the shingles. The old city hall stood just south of the Harris-Hower carpenter shop on 15th street.

Mr. and Mrs. Boettger are well and happy "but hard up like the rest of the people," Mrs. Boettger writes. The photo shows them standing in front of their farm house. The Boettger farm is located in the northeast corner of Wheeler county but Chambers is their trading point.

In you and each of you are required to answer said petition on or before the 20th day of May, 1940. EDITH E. BOSSEN, Plaintiff, By B. J. Cunningham, Her Attorney.

April 10-11. Two Ties Result In Loup County Election The village and school election in Taylor last Tuesday resulted in two ties. For school trustee, two for three years, Guy Fletcher was high with 50 votes, and Ivan L. Smith and Theodore Goos tied for second place with 27 votes each. For village trustees, two to be selected, W. I. Moon was high with 44 votes, and C. O. Fleming and H. R. Brown tied for second place with 29 votes each. Good Luck in Italy When in Rome, if you see a little Italian girl suddenly dart between two carabinieri, or soldiers on police duty, don't be surprised. The officers are supposed to walk close together, and it is considered very lucky for the girl if she can get between them.

In the Limelight at North Loup High School

Jeanne Barber, at left above, last Thursday won a superior rating on her humorous reading, 'Whose Aftaid of the Big, Bad Giant,' at the district contest held in Ansley. This is the first time in ten years a North Loup student has won a superior rating in a district contest. Esther Zagerer, right, placed excellent with her dramatic reading, 'That We Might Live.' Seven districts were represented in the contest. Steve Jorgensen, center, was chosen honorary captain of the North Loup basketball team Thursday night. He played on the reserves last year and earned his letter this season. Steve lettered two years in football and last fall scored the longest touchdown in five years' history of the team. He was the lightest boy on the team. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jorgensen are his parents.

Friends of the Ross Carpenter family of Fullerton received word this week that Mr. Carpenter had been seriously injured last Tuesday when he was caught between a cement block and a wall of the power dam of the Iowa-Nebraska Light and Power company of Fullerton. He was taken to Lincoln to the Bryan Memorial hospital in an ambulance where he was found to be suffering with a fractured pelvis and possible internal injuries. It will be remembered that the Carpenters' older daughter, Mrs. Othel Mabon died a short time ago leaving a tiny daughter, Mrs. Carpenter is in Lincoln with her husband. Dean Granke of West Point was awarded a superior rating in an original oratorical contest of class A schools held recently at Wayne, Nebr. In The Good Old Days

Last week the Quiz published two old time pictures, one of a youngster and the other of two early day fishermen. Nobody guessed that the little fellow was none other than Ord's trucker, George Hubbard. Nearly everybody spotted A. J. Shirley as one of the fishermen, and several recalled the other as Sam Graham. This week we have a picture of two Ord sisters of about 50 years ago. If you recall them, let the Quiz know about it.

New Christian Pastor

Rev. W. S. Lowe, of Lincoln, is now pastor pro tem of the Ord Christian church, and began his work Sunday morning with a very encouraging audience, as well as on Sunday evening. Before coming to Nebraska 14 years ago Rev.

Ordettes Enjoy Old Fashioned Hay Ride

These photos show just how much fun there is to an old fashioned hay ride, the kind our parents used to enjoy. This one was held by the Ordette club. There were three hayracks, and they went out to the vacant house on the Harry Bresley place north of town. Upper left they are enjoying a snack on the way. Upper right a group were cuddling in a corner and protesting against having their picture taken. Middle left they are toasting wieners and marshmallows after their arrival. Middle right taken from the back of one of the racks, which were decorated in the school colors, red and white. Below they are inside the empty house. Henry Benda is handling the portable radio and the rest are dancing to the music. Sixty-five persons made the trip and they report a most wonderful time.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Saw a youngster round the corner of the Keown building on election morning on his bicycle and very nearly hit Mrs. Bess Petty, who was approaching the corner from the west. These near accidents happen every day. The kids should realize that they are granted a special privilege when they are permitted to ride on the sidewalks, and should use more care than they do.

At about 4:20 Monday afternoon Chief C. W. Clark and Secretary Mark Tolen were conversing inside the Ord City Bakery. Just then the fire siren sounded, and 55 seconds later they were in Clark's truck and on their way to the fire house. In one minute and 7 seconds, Rex Jewett time, which checked with that kept by others, they were on their way to the fire. It is promptness such as this that keeps Ord's fire losses so low.

Tuesday was a day of great excitement what with Germany taking over Denmark early in the morning and the big Nebraska primary election on all day. To the John L. Wards there was an added event when a telegram arrived in the forenoon announcing the arrival of a grandchild of theirs in the Ekko Brady home at Weston Ill. In his excitement the proud papa forgot to mention whether it is a boy or a girl, but Mrs. John is certain it is a girl.

—Mrs. Walter Waterman and Dolsie, the Spencer, Archie and Russell Waterman families and Theron Beehrle drove to the Ira Matley home west of Burwell Sunday and spent the day.

Soangetaha Camp Fire.

The girls of the Soangetaha Camp Fire group met last Friday evening at the home of Shirley Anderson. They discussed the medicine chest. Those who use it for Birthday Honor planned a proper medicine chest for "Skillful Living," the name of the honor. A tatty pull furnished entertainment and refreshments.

Last Friday evening the meeting was at the home of Mary Travis, and the exhibit for health and safety was discussed. The exhibit will be placed in a store window down town, so the public will have an opportunity to see it.

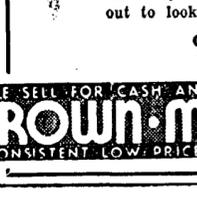

—Verda Munn, Scribe.

Met At Grand Island.

Friday a group of Presbyterian young people and their adult leaders met in Grand Island to plan the spring rally for district one of the Kearney presbytery. Robert Hardin of Grand Island is president of the Young People's Union in this presbytery, and Miss Evelyn Ollis is vice-president. Miss Ollis attended the meeting coming from Kearney with Rev. Pattison. May 5th was the date chosen for the rally, and it will be held in Central City. Those attending the meeting from Ord were Mary Miller, Wilma Ollis, David Milliken, James Ollis and Mrs. Gould Flagg.

Saw Omaha Hockey Game.

Four Ord men, Dr. F. A. Barta, H. P. Brockman, Frank Lee and James Gilbert, made a flying trip to Omaha last Wednesday evening to see one of the play-off games between the Omaha and St. Paul ice hockey teams. They drove down in the afternoon and returned immediately after the game.

Goose Invaded Bonsall Biddy Farm, Laid Egg that Was Entered in Quiz Contest by Mistake

This is a story about a straying goose that entered a chicken yard by mistake and laid a big egg which accidentally got entered in a "big egg" contest and almost won the prize before the misunderstanding was discovered.

On March 30, Mrs. Bonsall, of Arcadia, brought a number of big eggs to the Quiz office. One weighed 4 1/2 ounces another 4 ounces, two others between 3 and 4 ounces, but the largest one of all weighed a full 6 1/2 ounces. Asked by the Quiz bookkeeper what kind of chickens she had, Mrs. Bonsall answered "Leghorns." Another lady, also with some big eggs, had entered the Quiz office at about the same time, as did several other people paying subscriptions and in the mix-up, supposing that she was Mrs. Bonsall the Quiz bookkeeper inquired whether she had any geese at her farm and received a negative answer. Therefore the big egg was duly entered in the contest and was well on the way to receiving first prize when the following letter came:

Bonsall Biddy Farm, Arcadia To the Editor of the Quiz: Oh, my! I seem to have got myself in Dutch. When I heard that the Quiz was having a big egg contest and my hubby was going to Ord I gathered up what large eggs I had and parked them at the Quiz office without knowing just what kind of eggs were eligible. I did not dream that you would take a goose egg for a hen egg so if it is not eligible I wish to withdraw that entry as I have no wish to collect a prize under false pretenses. (Much as we like the Quiz and were former subscribers before they turned off Valley county's rainspout.)

They tell me one sure way to tell a goose egg is to eat it, but you could not be expected to eat all those large eggs. You needed "inside information."

By the way, I don't remember telling you that we had no geese on the place. They are here once in a while. They are a recent project added by the daughter to finance her graduation pictures.

Well, when the hens get tired of laying large eggs why not give the geese a day? I have one now that I believe will beat the one you have all hollow.

Sorry for any trouble caused to you. Seem to have a talent for doing the wrong thing at times. All my entries except the one large one were laid by Leghorn hens. The moral is, "be posted on all rules before entering a contest."

MRS. DEWEY BONSALL. With Mrs. Bonsall, the Quiz editor regrets the misunderstanding also. The big egg looked like a hen's egg, at least two dozen people who saw it and handled it agreed that it was a hen's egg, even though of phenomenal size, and we'll have to agree that "inside information" surely was needed. But no more goose eggs, please.

Withdrawal of this entry leaves two 4 1/2 ounce eggs tied for first place in the contest. One was entered by James Swoboda, the other by Mrs. Bonsall. If no genuine hen's egg weighing more than 4 1/2 ounces is entered by next Monday, April 16, the contest will be declared officially closed and duplicate prizes, a year's subscription in each instance, will be awarded to Mr. Swoboda and Mrs. Bonsall.

Census Canvassers Now Busy All Over Territory

R. E. Brega, Callaway attorney and head of census workers for this district with headquarters at Kearney, arrived in Ord early Friday morning, accompanied by Miss Margaret Garton, who assists him in the work of instructing local census enumerators.

He was here to complete the work commenced last week by R. A. Daugherty, who appointed those available at the time. Since then a number who planned to work dropped out, and others were added to the list, but not enough however, to handle all the precincts.

Those assigned on Monday last by Mr. Daugherty had been working, and the schedules they had made out were checked over by Mr. Brega and Miss Garton, and necessary corrections made. This work took the full day, and well into the evening, and even then, several Valley county townships and one Garfield precinct had not been assigned.

Two persons, Mrs. Minnie M. Johnson of Taylor and Eldon Boill of Burwell, will handle all of Loup county. The territory there is divided into large ranches and is sparsely populated, and as the pay is by the schedule for farms and ranches, this will give the two a fair remuneration for their time.

The following assignments were made in Garfield county: Thomas Meuret, Bryan precinct; Mrs. Virginia K. Watts, Midvale precinct; Archie Shafer, Kinkaid precinct; Percy L. Davis, Highland precinct; Mrs. Isla Semple, Burwell precinct; Gerald Dye, Dry Cedar and Roosevelt precincts; Mrs. Irma Draver, Willow Springs precinct; Mrs. Luella Garrison, Rockford precinct; Miss Lola M. Howart, Erina precinct.

Valley county assignments included: Mrs. Helen Sevenker, Ord city; William Ollis, Elyria village and township; Orin B. Mutter, North Loup village and township; Orvis H. Hill, Arcadia village and township; Joe Kamarad, Liberty township; Robert Hall, Michtgan township; Glen Larsen, Davis Creek township; Lillian Ulrich, Ord township; Louis Wolf, Germanium township; Joe Krellek, Vinton township; Mrs. Lyle B. Lutz, Yale township; George Bell, Enterprise and Independent townships; Some of these assignments are subject to possible change.

This leaves Springdale, Noble and Eureka townships unassigned. Mrs. Christina Fischer gave up her census job because of a sick child. Archie Shafer, assigned to Kinkaid in Garfield county also gave up his job after talking with Mr. Brega Friday afternoon. Clem Meyers of North Loup and Floyd Wozniak of Elyria, also dropped out since the first meeting.

Beaus and Belles of the Future

George Grace Hamilton and Robert Frank Hamilton, children of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hamilton of Geneva and grandchildren of Postmaster Frank Johnson of North Loup.

Denny Dean Hubbard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morace Hubbard, who live at Lexington, Neb. Grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Hubbard of Ord.

Johnnie Lee Kolar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Kolar of near Comstock. He was one year old April 4th.

Ann Eislle, daughter of Ivan and Grace Breunick Eislle of Electric City, Wash., both formerly of North Loup and Quiz subscribers.

"For my money I'll take the NEW PHILLIPS 66 every time!"

You get a big plus... at regular price in every gallon of the NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas... an extra value... added to all the other good qualities which have won millions of loyal users for this greater gasoline.

As always, you get the extra power units of POLYMERIZATION... more accurate matching of gasoline to monthly changes in weather... higher test... PLUS HIGHER ANTI-KNOCK.

This improvement gives you the kind of premium anti-knock performance for which you previously had to pay 2¢ more per gallon. Today's higher octane rating meets the needs of latest-model high compression motors.

In brief, that's the story of the new-type Phillips 66 Poly Gas... a remarkable motor fuel which costs nothing extra. And it's a continued story of saving, service, and satisfaction for the man who tries a tankful and then says: "For my money I'll take the NEW Phillips 66 Poly Gas every time."

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

The Lightning Bugs met Tuesday, April 2 with their leader, Mrs. E. T. Babcock. Carol Leonard demonstrated the correct way to lay a table and wipe dishes correctly. Each club member is to lay the table and wash and wipe the dishes twenty-one times this summer.—Belva Babcock, Reporter.

H. M. Davis of Lincoln came up Wednesday after Mrs. Davis who had spent several days with her sister, Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo. Mrs. Mayo is improving and her daughter, Mrs. Dale Halverson, went to her home at Merna the first of the week.

H. J. Johnson came home from Lincoln on the Wednesday evening bus, having spent a few days there on business.

Paul Jones drove to Lincoln Wednesday evening taking Paula, who had been ill with the flu, back to her work in the state university.

Some repairs were made by Tom Hamer last week on the Smith house which Floyd Redon recently purchased. Hugh Clement is giving it a new coat of paint also.

Mrs. Lella Greene returned last Tuesday from Council Bluffs where she had spent several weeks with her children.

Edward Pawleska went to Ord Thursday and from there went to the CCC camp at Broken Bow.

Roy Lewis, Sheldon and Lloyd Van Horn went to Lincoln Friday after 500 baby chicks which they had purchased from the Lewis hatchery. Roy Lewis was a dinner guest of P. E. Clement while there.

Mrs. Amy Taylor was in Ord between buses Friday.

Grace Hopkins went to Ord on the Thursday morning bus.

Ruth Clement came down from her work at Burwell on the Saturday morning bus.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goodrich entertained their pinocle club at their home Friday night. High scores went to Mr. and Mrs. Ross Portis. All families brought their children and they spent the evening playing Chinese Checkers and Monopoly.

Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Portis.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Williams and Jimmy spent Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman.

Dale Halverson and a friend came over from Merna Saturday night and Mrs. Halverson who has spent the past two weeks with her mother, Mrs. Geo. S. Mayo returned home with them. Mrs. Edna Coleman is assisting Mrs. Mayo with her work this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ford Eyerly spent Thursday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman.

Loup Valley Inter County convention of Womens clubs held in the Seventh Day Baptist church in North Loup Thursday was attended by representatives of thirteen clubs, coming from Burwell, Arcadia, Loup City, Rockville and North Loup. Ninety-seven were registered, some of them not members of any club. The Burwell clubs invited the convention to meet with them in October.

Mrs. Gus Hantsch, of Rockville, president, presided over the sessions. Devotions were in charge of the North Loup Neighborhood club which were followed by community singing led by Mrs. A. H.

Babcock of North Loup. Mrs. John Wojtasek of the Junior Portnightly club at North Loup led in the Oath of Allegiance. A paper and round table discussion on "What is a Good Citizen," was given by Mrs. Hallock of Burwell and a representative of the Rockville Womens club gave an interesting paper on "Life After Forty." This was followed by a short business session, during which Mrs. H. A. Hinman of Loup City was elected as vice-president to fill a vacancy. The Arcadia club had charge of a profitable parliamentary drill before the business session which was followed by lunch served in the basement by members of the Nellie Shaw society. Seventy-eight ladies were present for lunch which was excellent. Places at the tables were found by matching flowers which had been given each arrival with bouquets on the tables.

After lunch the high school band gave a twenty minute concert, dressed in their new uniforms. This was followed by a review of the "Life of Constanca De La More," given by Mrs. J. A. Kovanda of Ord. Mrs. Kovanda's splendid delivery made the story seem very real, it being the story of the life of a Spanish girl during the time of the revolution in Spain. Mrs. Kovanda was presented with a gift of appreciation from the clubs by Mrs. Hemphill.

Mrs. Travis of the Loup City Unity club gave a paper on "Public Health Service of the United States" which told of much of the work for cancer control. The scholarship loan march was followed by a pageant of "Songs and Scenes of Motherhood," which was presented by the Loup City Womens club. The afternoons program closed with a musical reading, "A Heap of Livin'" by Mrs. Mohr of Loup City. Coffee, tea and waters were served the guests in the basement before they left for their homes.

Mrs. Albert McMendes and Gladys of Atkinson spent Sunday in the A. L. McMendes home.

Mr. and Mrs. Eino Hurley and Colleen arrived here Friday night from Escondido, Calif., coming to bring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hurley who had spent the last few months in California. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hurley are again living in the rooms over the drug store. Mr. and Mrs. Eino Hurley have been in California since the first of the year when they sold their business in Parkdale, Ore., and went down there. They have not located permanently yet but plan to go back to Escondido in about a week. Mrs. Hurley and Colleen spent Friday night in Cotesfield at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ethel Tatlow.

Mrs. Hattie Clement who has spent the winter with her son, Frank and family at Pomeroy, O., has started home and will stop over with friends at Wheaton, Ill., before arriving here.

Murray Cornell of Ericson spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Cornell.

Chas. Faudt was up from Lincoln over the week end.

Mrs. H. H. Clement was reminded of her birthday Saturday when relatives surprised her by bringing their dinner and spending the day with her. Mrs. Boyd Sheldon and Patty, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Clement and baby, Mrs. Mary Clement and Mrs. Ava Johnson and Edwin were among those present.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Heibig of Douglas, Wyo., spent a few days last week with his sister, Mrs. A. E. Barnhart and Mr. Barnhart.

Another nice rain which measured .54 fell Saturday night and Sunday morning.

Funeral services for S. L. Clement were held Wednesday afternoon at Riverside, Calif., conducted by Rev. Loyal Hurley and Rev. Hargis. Mrs. Edna Richards of Montrose, Colo., was present for the services and is spending this week with her mother.

Rev. W. Ray Radcliff of Minatare, has notified the officers of the Presbyterian church of Ord that he will accept the call extended him by this congregation and plans to be here and begin his work as pastor April 28. Arrangements for his installation will be made at the meeting of Kearney Presbytery Tuesday and Wednesday, April 9-10 at Primrose.

Committees Are Named, Golf Officers Chosen

The golf committee, Hilding Pearson, Russell Craven, Clifford Brown, A. A. Wiegardt and Miss Clara McClatchey, met last evening at the Pearson and Anderson parlors, and chose the following officers: Hilding Pearson, president, Russell Craven, vice-president, A. A. Wiegardt, secretary-treasurer.

The committees are as follows, first named being chairman: Membership: A. J. Aule, C. J. Mortensen, Forrest Johnson; tournament: Glen Aule, Joe Jyak, Mark Tolén; greens committee: Gould Flagg, M. Biemond, H. G. Frey; entertainment committee: Syl Furtak, Mrs. McClatchey, Mrs. Mark Tolén, Dr. F. L. Blessing.

It was voted to donate the sum of $25 to the firemen's inhalator fund. The dues for 1940 were fixed at $8, if paid in full on or before May 15. Otherwise they will remain at $1.50 per month from April until October, inclusive.

LADDIE

SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

In the sale last Saturday the cattle market we thought was 50c lower on an average on all cattle but the small calves and that market was steady. The pig market was 25c to 40c stronger, especially on the vaccinated pigs. We had a few horses and there was a steady demand on them and we are still having calls for horses that would sell from $25.00 to $65.00 and if you have any of this kind bring them to the Saturday sale.

In next Saturday's sale it looks like 100 head of cattle of all classes. 140 head of feeder shoats, 10 extra good brood sows that are due to farrow this month, vaccinated and good quality.

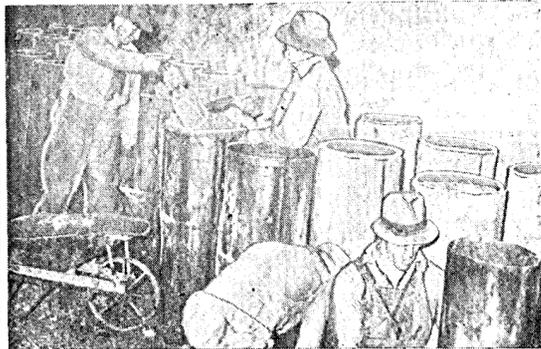

6 head of horses. This includes one sorrel horse 6 years old, wt. 1300 lbs., and well broke.

NYA Boys Make Tile for Village Project

When the village of North Loup ran surveys and signed up with the irrigation district for irrigation water within the village, it was found that 800 cement tile would be required to convey water under street crossings, etc., so a NYA project was set up and the boys are seen at work above.

self in Valley county until 1914. At that time he moved to Elyria and started a grocery store in partnership with his brother, Anton. At the close of the World War he went into the real estate business.

In 1908 he established Rural Route No. 1 out of Elyria and carried the mail on this route for a period of three years. He was also postmaster of Elyria for a short time. In 1923 he purchased a cream station, in Elyria, and he also operated a gas station there.

Mr. Wozniak wrote insurance for a period of 26 years; he took the census for the past 30 years, and was re-appointed for this year; he served on the Elyria school board for 29 years; he was assessor of Eureka and later Elyria townships for several terms.

When Elyria was incorporated as a village Mr. Wozniak did his part in seeing that it was done. At the first election, held April 7, 1936, he was chosen as trustee for a two year term. He also acted as village clerk, and looked after having the first ordinance book printed for the village some two years ago.

He leaves to mourn his death his wife and four children: Mrs. Howard Wright of Brainard, Nebr.; Mrs. Emil Anderson of Omaha, Mrs. Albin Carkoski and Miss Lucille Wozniak of Elyria. One son, Edward, preceded him in death. He also leaves three grandchildren, two brothers, James of Ord, and Anton, of Boise, Ida., and one sister, Anna of Boise. One brother, John, died in 1936.

Funeral services were held at the Elyria Catholic church Monday morning, Rev. C. Shumski in charge and burial was made in the Elyria cemetery. The pall bearers were Frank Osentowski, Pete Bartuski, Frank Konkolewski, Frank Piskorski, Joe Wegryzn and Zack Greenwalt.

Ord Firemen To Bowl Against Grand Island

Friday a group of Grand Island firemen will come to Ord and meet with the Ord firemen at their regular meeting. Following this they will try conclusions with the local boys at the Goodhand alleys. Grand Island has some fast men, but Ord has a number of good bowlers.

The team will be chosen from the following: Ed Parkos, Lawrence Burger, Curt Gudmundsen, B. C. Boquet, Jr., Oakley Hather, Ed Oetkin, Dutch Blessing, Mark Tolén and possibly others. This is to be a standard ten-pin game, with the large balls and pins, and should prove exciting.

Communion Breakfast.
The Knights of Columbus are holding a communion breakfast Sunday. The members will attend early mass at 7:30 a. m., and the breakfast will follow at the K. of C. hall. All Knights are urged to be there and are asked to mail or deliver in person the cards that were enclosed in the letter.

of the mysteries of life and death. When given on Broadway this part was taken by Walter Hampton, America's leading Shakespearean actor.

Lyman Kern and Mrs. Pierce have the parts of a small town doctor and his wife; W. D. Beat and Mrs. B. A. Rose are the country editor and his wife; Marlon Bonshell takes the part of the milkman; Ben Rose is the town drunkard who commits suicide; Leonard Johnson is the village cop; Rev. Wylie the undertaker; and Emma Grunkemeyer portrays the part of a woman who warns against liquor and other evils; Mary Langstrom is the town gossip. Other parts are taken by Beth Dinnar, David Borden, Bill Eatherton, Homer Livermore, A. I. Crain, F. J. Grunkemeyer, Mrs. Boyd McKenzie, Dorothy Paulin, Huldahl Bennett. Other Burwell people are helping to make the play successful, including John Wyberg, who has worked tirelessly in obtaining the desired sound effects until he has learned how to whistle like a bird as well as like a train and to whinny like a horse; Miss Alafie Pulliam has served as art director, Miss Nina Nickels has spent hours in searching for costumes of the period of 1900 and repairing or refitting them.

"Our Town," it should be emphasized, is a serious production and calls for "heavy" acting. Dubious ones said that no one in Burwell could portray the characters but after months of diligent rehearsal it is declared that everyone in the play does his part superbly, a tribute to the tireless energy and directorial skill of Miss Cameron. Tickets are on sale at the Walker and Moore drug stores in Burwell at 25c each and mail orders may be addressed to, Miss Anna Cameron.

Voting at Burwell Light, Republicans Led in Vote

Republicans led the democrats more than two to one in the balloting in Garfield county yesterday. With all the returns in except Midvale precinct, Dewey had 329 votes, Vandenberg had 197 and Roosevelt 167. Burke led Cochran, 125 to 108. Carpenter led Neville in the governor race, 143 to 90.

For republican for governor, Griswold doubled the vote of his nearest competitor, Charles Warriner, 312 to 156. Hugh Butler shaded A. J. Weaver for senator 234 to 218. Marsh led for secretary of state, L. B. Johnson for treasurer, Knickrehm for railway commissioner, and Kenneth Myers led Bert Howard for congress, 133 to 109.

On the non-political ballot, A. C. Van Diest had 303 for unicameral, Everett Satterfield 168, and W. F. Haycock, 158. For district judge, Kroger had 372, Abbott 332, Munn 273, and Spikes 191. In the county non-political B. A. Rose was high with 511 votes George Lange, 200 and Glen E. Runyan, 178.

For county treasurer George T. Tunnell, incumbent, received 459 votes on the republican ticket, and Lloyd Alderman, 150; for treasurer, democratic, Lyman Kern had his name written in by 112 voters. S. P. Lakin was written in 95 times for democrat commissioner in Dist. 1, and J. W. Penas was written in 45 times.

The real race was for republican commissioner, Dist. 1, with six candidates. Clark J. Bleach received 100 votes, C. W. Becker 93, F. J. Grunkemeyer, 92, A. E. Jenks 90, W. D. Massey, 79, and Roy R. Nightingale 33. With ten mail votes coming in, this result may be changed.

Knezacek Leads Doyle by 60 in Unicameral Race

With complete returns in from all four counties in the 29th unicameral district, except Spalding village in Greeley county and the mail vote, J. T. Knezacek leads the race by about 60 votes over John F. Doyle. He is assured of one of the two nominations, regardless of Spalding and mail vote returns.

The vote in the unicameral race, by counties, follows:

	Valley	Howard	Greeley	Wheeler
Knezacek	1212	265	179	114
Doyle	351	411	770	178
Frost	133	437	133	87
Rasmussen	85	610	115	40
Lettwich	57	467	65	23

Andersen Vote Almost Double Frank Johnson's

Although both men are nominated and the vote was meaningless so far as permanent results are concerned, County Judge John L. Andersen received almost twice as many votes as did Frank T. Johnson in the primary Tuesday. The Andersen total was 1,205 while Johnson had 668. Both names will appear on the ballot at the fall election.

For director North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Subdivision No. 3, Valley county—Frank W. Blaha, 172; Henry Benn, 215.

For director Middle Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District, Subdivision No. 3, Valley county—A. H. Easterbrook, 45; F. ed V. Murray, 59; M. F. Lewin, 22; Floyd Bossen, 41; Don Rounds 28.

Edward F. Carter, unopposed, received 1,250 votes for Supreme court judge.

All these appear on the non-political ballot.

Wesleyan Male Chorus Entertains Ordites

The Wesleyan male chorus arrived in Ord at about 4:30 Monday from Burwell, where they had given a concert that day. The high school Epworth League group had arranged a covered dish supper for them in the basement of the Methodist church.

The concert was given that evening in the church auditorium, and was well attended. All expressed themselves as highly pleased with the quality of the program. They left early Tuesday morning for their next engagement at North Loup.

Second Detour Is Made Over No. 11 Highway

R. F. Randolph announced Thursday that a new detour had been made on Highway No. 11 at 10:30 a. m. that morning. This starts from the lower end of the present detour just southwest of North Loup, runs 1 1/2 miles, then east 2 1/2 miles to the junction of No. 11, and 56 west of Scotia, and then southeast over No. 11.

This will be the routing of traffic for the present, while the road crew is raising the grade from North Loup southeast to the junction. When that point is reached it will be necessary to route the traffic on east through Scotia on 56 and 22, then south to the river bridge east of Cotesfield and back across the river to No. 11.

H. W. Culwell, who is in charge of this work for the state, was in Ord Tuesday morning conferring with Mr. Randolph. He plans to handle the highway work with as little inconvenience to the public as possible, but it is evident that all traffic must be cut off from any part of the road under construction.

$75 Damage Done When Cummins Garage Burns

Firemen made a record run to the M. B. Damage is estimated at $75, with complete insurance coverage. The property is owned by Mrs. Mary Ulrich.

Ord Clinic News.

Rev. Stevens of North Loup recovered nicely from an appendectomy and was released from the hospital Monday. Drs. Hemphill and Weekes were his surgeons.

Mrs. Myrtle Jorgensen is recovering from an operation performed by Dr. Weekes last Wednesday and will be able to go home soon.

Frank Miller from Scotia is in the hospital receiving medical treatment. He is under the care of Dr. Weekes.

Fred Worm fell and injured his knee and has been receiving treatment from Dr. Weekes.

Harvey Meyer underwent an operation on his foot Thursday. Dr. Weekes was his surgeon.

Oats For Hay Depleting.
Oats for hay is a depleting crop, according to Charles E. Veleba, chairman of the Valley county AGA, except when it is seeded with sweet clover or alfalfa as a nurse crop. When seeded with a legume, if cut green for hay it will be classified as non-depleting. Some farmers have been misinformed on this point.

Ord Hi Ag Boys Rank Highest At No. Platte Contest

Win 22 Ribbons, 2 Medals and Cup; Don Guggenmos Will Be in National Contest.

Ord high took away the greater share of blue ribbons from the state agricultural contests at North Platte last Thursday and Friday. By winning 4 team and 5 individual firsts, several more than their nearest rival, Ord's agricultural students closed a successful season in state competition. The boys are ineligible to compete at Lincoln, since they contested in the North Platte meet.

A total of 22 ribbons, including 6 firsts, 4 seconds and 4 thirds, was brought back by the local lads. They also received a trophy cup, and two medals.

Ord's dairy products team walked off with the state championship for the ninth consecutive year, to gain permanent possession of a third trophy for that event. Outstanding on this team was Don Guggenmos, who placed first in judging milk, first in judging butter and first in all products. Don was awarded a medal, three ribbons and the privilege of representing Nebraska at the National contests in Kansas City next fall.

The other two members of this trio were Donald Miller and Leonard Kokes. Donald ranked second in milk and third in all products. Leonard placed third in cream judging and fourth in all products. The three boys were photographed for the state papers. In the judging of dairy products, Ord has never been defeated, either at North Platte or Lincoln.

Capron Coe entered the Babcock tests, where he earned a medal, and second place ribbon. Capron also received first, fourth and fifth premiums at the egg show. Other egg show awards included a second and a third place won by Don Guggenmos.

Charles Zlonke got a blue ribbon for rating the highest of all contestants in crops management. Charles, and Frank Zalina ranked second as a team, losing the crops trophy cup by a narrow margin of two points. Frank placed fifth in crops judging.

A livestock team consisting of Calvin Ferris, Carson Rogers and Donald Miller placed third in judging beef cattle, and Calvin also took fifth on dairy cattle. These three boys were ranked among the top ten livestock teams in judging both dairy cattle and other livestock.

The following 29 schools contested at North Platte: Alliance, Anselmo, Bassett, Burwell, Broadwater, Big Springs, Callaway, Cozad, Chappell, Crawford, Gering, Grant, Gothenburg, Harrison, Imperial, Kearney, Kimball, Lexington Litchfield, North Platte, Ord, Oshkosh, Ravenna, Sidney, Springfield, Shelton, Stratton, Wauneta. The Ord boys were accompanied to North Platte by E. L. Kokes and J. A. Kovanda.

Duplicate Prizes Are Sent Out to Egg Winners

Duplicate prizes of a year's subscription are being mailed out to this week to Mrs. Dewey Bonsall, of Arcadia, and James Swoboda, of Ord, each of whom entered an egg that weighed 4 1/2 ounces in the Quiz "big egg" contest. No larger eggs came in before the contest closed April 15, so the prizes are awarded to these two people.

One of the oddest eggs ever seen here was laid last week by a Plymouth Rock hen in Mrs. Warner Vergin's flock. It weighs less than a half ounce and the shell at one end is curled up in curious fashion. An attempt was made to show a picture of the freak egg but the camera print does not clearly show the odd shell formation so it is not being printed.

Davis and Misko Elected Delegates

Clarence M. Davis of Ord, and A. B. Wood, of Gering, were elected republican delegates from the 5th district to the national convention, while John P. Misko, of Ord, and Mrs. Emma J. Veach of Rushville, were elected alternates. Mr. Davis lead the race for delegate with about 11,000 votes to 9,000 for Mr. Wood and 5,000 for Lloyd Kain, the third candidate.

Fairmont Ice Cream Store Is Open Again

The Fairmont ice cream store was reopened last week in the Finley building south of Koupal & Barstow lumber yard. Redecorated in green and cream, the store is very attractive. New wide-arm benches were added for the convenience of patrons. A big line of ice cream and sherberts will be carried throughout the summer, says Ed Lukesh, resident Fairmont manager. Mrs. Lukesh will have charge of the ice cream counter again this season.

Children Showing Much Interest in the Quiz Gourd Contest

Much interest is being shown in the gourd contest being sponsored by The Quiz and already about 40 youngsters have signed up to compete and have taken gourd seed. Since May 10 is the correct planting date for gourds in this climate there is still plenty of time for all to enter the contest who want to.

Any boy or girl between the ages of 6 and 12 living in the Quiz territory is eligible to enter. Gourd seed may be secured through The Quiz at 50 per package, which is less than wholesale cost. Next fall when the gourds are harvested and dried, a gourd show will be held in Ord with $19 in cash prizes, and any youngster signed up in the contest may compete.

Prizes of $5.00, $3.00 and $2.00 will be given for the best exhibit of 8 varieties; $3.00 for the largest gourd, $3.00 for the smallest gourd and $3.00 for the oddest gourd.

Plenty of seed is still available; enter the contest this week.

$382.70 in Firemen's Inhalator Fund Now; $92.30 Needed

Ord Firemen Pleased With the City's Response; If You Haven't Helped, Do Now.

During the past week contributions totaling $141.20 have been made to the Ord Volunteer Fire Department's "inhalator fund," bringing the fund up to $382.70 which is just $92.30 short of the amount needed to pay for the B & J inhalator and resuscitator ordered by the firemen for free use of the community.

Any person who hasn't yet contributed to the fund is asked to do so at once, so the total needed may be reached at once.

Plans are going forward for a dance to be held about the middle of May, with net proceeds going into the fund. Camp Fire Girls and Boy Scouts last week placed coin boxes in several Ord business places and people who cannot afford to contribute $1.00 or more but who wish to help the cause may drop their coins in these boxes.

Ord firemen are very appreciative of the fine support being given this worthy undertaking by business interests and organizations of the community.

Spalding Vote Gives Doyle Unicameral Lead

Final results in the 29th district unicameral primary race at the primary last week gave John P. Doyle a total of 1,984 votes to 1,865 for Joe Knezacek, while Rasmussen had 868, Frost 887 and Lettwith 632. Spalding precinct, final one to report, gave Doyle a tremendous majority and enabled him to overcome the lead of 60 that Knezacek had piled up throughout the rest of the district.

The mail vote is not included in these totals. The Valley county mail vote has been counted and gives Knezacek 20 votes to 4 for Frost, 2 for Lettwith and none for either Doyle or Rasmussen. Names of Knezacek and Doyle will go on the general election ballot next fall, as the two nominees for the office.

A. J. Auble Invents New Type Watch Regulator

Jay Auble, well known for his inventive ability, has again brought out an idea that shows much promise. It appears above, together with a photo of Mr. Auble. The device is for the purpose of regulating watches while you wait, and he can regulate them within a variation of 1-500th of a second or even less.

A picture of the device and a story appear in the April issue of The American Horologist, a trade magazine published at Denver. The watch shown at the left is the master watch and the works of the watch to be regulated are placed in the holder at the right. By listening through the ear phone the watches can be regulated to run exactly together.

Mr. Auble has applied for a patent on his device, which is said to be much more accurate than another timing device recently placed on the market which costs $750.00.

Athletic Field Problem Discussed By Civic Groups

Control and Management of New Ord Park Must Be Decided Soon.

A meeting was held at the council chamber in the city hall Monday evening for the purpose of discussing the proposition of control of Ord's new athletic field. Represented were the council, the school board, the park board and the school faculty.

Mayor Cummins presided and stated that it is his idea that since the city bought, leveled and seeded the tract, it has done its part and that further development should be done by those groups interested in having special work done.

He said that it had been his idea to leave the management of the athletic field to a board composed of two members of the city council, one member of the school board, one member of the park board, and the city manager, but that he had been informed by the city attorney that this would be contrary to ordinance, which vests this power in the park board.

City Attorney Clarence M. Davis suggested that perhaps another park board could be chosen for the control of the field, if the public so desired. Dr. J. W. McGinnis raised the question of whether tax money can be used for the maintenance of the new field unless it is under the control of the park board.

Ralph W. Norman, secretary of the school board, suggested that the regular park board might handle the new field, make regulations controlling the same and delegate some person to have charge of the field and have authority to enforce the regulations.

It developed that the Ord field is unique in that it is owned jointly by the city and the school district, the city owning two-thirds interest. It was the consensus of opinion that it should be under the control of a separate body from the regular parks.

Mark Gyger, WPA engineer, stated that he is planning for a cinder track 24 feet wide and 1 foot deep. There was some discussion as to the cost of cinders, and it is believed that these can be obtained with very little expense.

Now that the field is leveled and ready for the construction of the different fields and courts, Mayor Cummins does not believe that the city should undergo any further expense in construction, unless it be for minor details, but that these funds should come from other sources.

The architect's drawing of the improvements on the field was brought in and studied by the group. This plan calls for baseball in the southwest corner, softball in the southeast corner, the football field in the northeast corner running north and south, and tennis, horse shoe and other courts in the northwest corner.

Upon motion by Ralph W. Norman, seconded by Bob Noll, it was decided to have the group suggested by the mayor, composed of councilmen, the city engineer, and members from the school and park boards, meet and work out a plan for the control of the athletic field and present it to the council for consideration at their next regular meeting.

Attending the meeting were Dr. F. L. Blessing, Ralph W. Norman, L. D. Milliken, O. E. Johnson, H. F. Brockman and Frank Lee of the faculty, Mayor Cummins, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, Guy Burrows, Frank T. Johnson, Bob Noll, Joe Rohla and Frank Krikac of the council, Clarence M. Davis, George Allen, W. E. Lincoln, Rev. G. C. Roberson, Mark Tolén, Mark Gyger and John L. Ward.

Too Many Bankers Says Quiz Photog. When Breakfast Shot Fails

For once a newspaper man got a crowd of bankers with their backs to the wall this morning, but as usual the bankers were too much for the newspaper man. LaVern Duemey, Quiz photographer, invaded the Masonic Temple where Group 5 bankers were enjoying breakfast together, and got this picture. There were so many bankers present that a few at the edges of the group do not show in the picture. The breakfast was first event in the Group 5 convention being held today in Ord. About 50 were present.

Mrs. Clements Falls on Stairs, Breaks Hip

Mrs. Edwin P. Clements, wife of the district judge, was seriously injured Sunday when she fell on the cellar stairs at their home. Tuesday an x-ray examination was made by Dr. C. W. Weekes at the Clinic hospital and it was determined that Mrs. Clements had suffered an exceptionally severe fracture of the hip.

Because of superior facilities there for handling such a severe fracture, it was recommended by Dr. Weekes that Mrs. Clements be taken to an Omaha hospital. Arrangements were made to take her there today by ambulance and she will be under the care of Dr. R. D. Schrock. According to Dr. Weekes, it is likely that Mrs. Clements will have to be in the hospital four or five months to assure a complete recovery. She is 75 years old. Dr. Weekes and Miss Emma Rassel accompanied Mrs. Clements to Omaha, starting about 10:00 this morning. She will be cared for in Methodist hospital there.

May 27th Date of Murder Trial

May 27th is the date set by District Judge E. P. Clements for opening of the jury trial of Dr. Lee C. Nay, charged with murder by illegal operation after the death of Feb. 25 of Kathryn Romans, the popular rural school teacher. The case will be heard before Judge Clements.

John P. Misko, county attorney, will prosecute the case for the state without additional counsel, while Dr. Nay has employed the Grand Island law firm of Prince & Prince to defend his interests.

Sheriff Round Better, Plans Return to Work

Sheriff George S. Round, who has been absent from his office for the past ten days because of illness, was planning to get back to work when visited by a Quiz representative last night. "This is the first time I have been off the job because I was sick in more than 21 years," said George.

His trouble was an acute kidney infection, which is yielding to treatment by his son, Dr. John Round. He is feeling and looking better now than he did before he was compelled to go to bed, and expects to return to his work in better physical condition than he has been for a long time.

Bernie Randolph Lost; Found Later by Father

Some excitement was caused Friday forenoon when Bernie, 3 1/2 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Randolph, was missing. His dog had gone with him and came back alone. Mrs. Randolph called her husband, who at once began looking for him.

The Boy Scouts were called at shortly before 11 a. m., and scattered over the business section, all 30 of them. They ran into several false leads, but were only about 50 yards away when Mr. Randolph found the boy near the bulk tanks on 16th street, headed for the river. He had not even realized he was lost.

Have You Been Counted? If Not, Write to Brèga

Richard E. Brèga, district census supervisor, writes the Quiz, date of April 12, asking that if you have not been enumerated, you communicate with him, as he is anxious that nobody be overlooked. He suggests that you fill out the following information and mail it to Richard E. Brèga, District Supervisor, Bureau of Census, Kearney, Nebr.

Give your name, street address, city, county, state and say whether or not you are on a farm. It is possible that farms as well as city persons may be missed. If you know of any land overlooked, please furnish Mr. Brèga this information as well. He states that the enumerators are getting along fine with the work, and are meeting with a cordial reception.

1,197 Valley Co. Farmers Sign Up for 1940 Program

Indications Are that 97% of Crop Land to Participate in ACP This Year.

Out of 1,294 Valley county farmers so far seen by community committeemen, 1,197 to date have signed up to participate in the 1940 agricultural conservation program, said C. E. Veleba, county chairman, this morning. Last year 97 per cent of the county's crop land was operated in the ACP program and indications are that the 1940 sign-up will be about the same.

Of the 97 farmers interviewed by committeemen but who have not yet signed up, 15 have pasture tracts and 24 have small acreages near towns.

Farmers have until May 1 to express intention of participating in the 1940 program by making out and signing up "farm plans" for their farms, says Mr. Veleba.

With the recent announcement of parity payment rates on special crops, a Valley county farmer now may determine the amount he may earn through cooperating in the program. Complete participation will make it possible for a farm to earn:

1. A payment of 14c per bushel on the normal yield of corn acreage allotment, this payment to be divided into a conservation payment of 10c per bushel and a parity payment of 4c per bushel.
2. A payment of 19c per bushel on the normal yield of its wheat allotment, divided into a conservation payment of 9c and a parity payment of 10c.
3. Approximately $1.10 per acre on the acreage available for general crops, which include such crops, as oats, rye and barley.
4. Special payments for carrying out soil-building practices such as building dams, contour farming, strip farming, strip cropping and the seeding of legumes.
5. Corn and wheat loans as authorized by the AAA.
6. Eligibility for full advantages of the crop insurance plan.

Chairman Veleba and county committeemen urge farmers who expect to participate in the 1940 program to complete and sign "farm plans" at once, since no conservation payment will be made on any farm which is not listed as a cooperator by May 1.

Benda Store Is Being Remodeled This Week

Remodeling and rearranging is under way this week at the F. J. L. Benda store. The store room will be 12 feet longer as result of removal of a partition that formerly separated the Benda store from space occupied by the Food Center. Pressing equipment formerly used by Mr. Benda at his residence is being moved to the store. With more display space, the Benda store will present a much more attractive appearance when remodeling work is finished.

To Rotary Convention.

Delegates from the Ord Rotary club to the Nebraska district convention in Omaha Monday and Tuesday were E. L. Kokes, president-elect, and M. Biemond, vice-president-elect. Ed F. Beranek, in Omaha for the drug convention, also attended some Rotary sessions. Mr. Biemond returned to Ord Monday evening but the others remained Tuesday. Mrs. Kokes and Mrs. Beranek accompanied their husbands.

Farm Meeting at Norfolk.

On April 22 the Norfolk commercial club is sponsoring a northeast Nebraska AAA day meeting with O. D. Klein, state chairman of the Iowa ACP committee, as main speaker. Fred Wallace and Abner Chestnut, of the Nebraska committee, promise an interesting program. Valley county farmers are especially invited to attend.

Contestants Chosen For Fullerton Meet

Friday and Saturday of this week will occur the district music contest at Fullerton. The largest delegation ever to represent Ord high school will be in attendance, with no less than 127 students participating in the several events.

A group of 36 will be taken Friday in two buses chartered from Grand Island, and they will remain over night and return Saturday evening. The remainder will be taken over in cars Saturday morning, as the events in which they participate will not take place until that day.

Mr. Deines gives the following list of groups and soloists who will attend: The band, the chorus, the girls' glee club, the boys' glee club, the orchestra, the madrigale, a 15 voice group, the woodwind group, the brass group, the string group, saxophone quartet, clarinet quartet, girls' sextet, boys' octet.

The instrumental solos will include James Ollis, trumpet; Marian Wardrop, saxophone; Joy Loft, tuba; Harry Meloth, Oboe; Emanuel Lukesh, alto clarinet; and Myrtle Auble, clarinet. The vocal solos will include Christina Peterson, high voice, Harvey Dahlin and Frank Roberson, medium voice; and Capron Coe and Alex Cochran, low voice. There will also be the trumpet trio, James Ollis, Gerald Jirak and Gerald Stoddard.

Clark Reynolds New Head of Middle Loup

Arcadia—(Special)—Clark Reynolds of Loup City, has been elected president of the Middle Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district, with E. G. Stone, of Comstock, vice-president, and A. H. Easterbrook, of Arcadia, treasurer. Secretary is Martin H. Lewin, who is not a member of the board.

Reorganization followed a decrease in the number of directors from 15 to 5, authorized recently by the Nebraska department of public works. The other two directors are Fay Spooner of Sargent, and John Long, of Loup City.

Mr. and Mrs. Fredrickson Will Operate Stratton

Of special interest to their many friends here and at Burwell is the announcement that Mr. and Mrs. L. L. (Chick) Fredrickson have taken over the operation of the Stratton Hotel in Grand Island. Mrs. Fredrickson is the former Gladys Beauchamp, and well known to Quiz readers.

Since 1928 Mr. Fredrickson had represented the Loose-Wiles company of Kansas City over the central Nebraska territory, and has thus become well known throughout this section. He states that the hotel will continue to cater to the commercial trade, with no change in operating policies.

Librarians Held District Meet in Ord Wednesday

Wednesday Ord was the mecca of librarians for this district, comprising the counties of Buffalo, Boone, Valley, Howard, Sherman, Greeley, Wheeler, Custer and Garfield. There are a total of 29 towns in the district and most of them had representatives here.

Mildred Palmer, librarian of Fremont, was present and was chairman of the meeting. Mrs. Lloyd Axtell, local librarian, was hostess. The meeting was held in the new Ord Township Library building. Miss Ethel Saxton spoke on the subject, "Friends of the Library."

Miss Dorothy Olmstead, supervisor, Hastings, led the discussion on "State-wide WPA Project." Miss Palmer spoke on the subject of "New Children's Books." Most interesting was the review of the book, "How Green Was My Valley," given by Mrs. J. A. Kovanda.

Will Green Dies at Denver.

North Loup—(Special)—Word was received here this morning that Will Green died Tuesday at Denver at the age of 91. He was a pioneer resident here, leaving about twenty years ago. The body will be brought back for burial here Friday.

Annual Meeting of Group 5 Bankers Held Here Today

Special Train Arrived at Early Hour, Other Visitors Came by Auto; Big Program.

Members of Group 5, Nebraska Bankers association, are holding their annual convention in Ord today, and at noon registration indicated that at least 100, probably more, will be here for the business session this afternoon and the banquet and dance this evening. More pleasant weather would have increased the attendance considerably.

About 7:45 this morning a special train transporting state officers and bankers from Lincoln, Omaha, Chicago and other points, arrived over the Union Pacific railroad and was greeted by Ord bankers. About forty bankers were on the special train.

Ord bankers were hosts to the special train group and a few others at breakfast in the Masonic temple. The meal was informal throughout and no speaking program was held. Afterward, those bankers who wanted to make an inspection tour of the North Loup irrigation district were taken to Burwell in cars provided by the Chamber of Commerce.

Registration started at 10:00 this morning and continued briskly until 12:30, at which hour luncheon was served to masculine visitors at the Masonic temple. Ladies were entertained at luncheon at Thorne's cafe and are spending the afternoon at bridge, with wives of the Ord bankers as hostesses.

Principal business session is being held this afternoon with E. R. Fafetta, group president, presiding. An address will be given by C. C. Neumann, of Oakland, president of the state association, and Earl H. Wilkins, of Geneva, chairman of the state executive council, will talk on "Observations on a Recent Journey." Other talks scheduled for this afternoon will be given by Stanley Maly, vice-president, First National bank of Lincoln, on "Economic Conditions," and "The Banker's Stewardship," by Herbert V. Prochnow, vice-president, First National bank, Chicago.

A round table discussion, question box, reports of committees and election of officers will finish up the afternoon's business. At 4:30 the Ord high school band will march down town and serenade the visitors in front of the Masonic building.

At 6:30 this evening a banquet will be served at the high school auditorium, with a program of speaking to follow with George A. Munro serving as toastmaster. Perry B. Hendricks, vice-president of the United States National bank of Omaha will speak on "Traveling Circuses" on behalf of the visitors, and Ernest Robert Rosse, of Philadelphia, will make the principal talk of the evening. Dancing at the Masonic temple will follow the banquet.

Territory in Group 5 takes in Spalding on the east, Grand Island on the south, Burwell and Taylor on the north and runs as far west as Lexington and Gothenburg. Most of the banks of the district are represented at the meeting, being held here today. President of Group 5 and general chairman of the convention is Emil Fafetta, cashier of the Nebraska State bank. C. H. Rowan, of Broken Bow, is Group 5 vice-president, and L. J. Hallas, of Shelton, is Group 5 secretary.

Committees in charge of the meeting today, under Mr. Fafetta, are: Entertainment, C. J. Mortensen and P. P. O'Neal; refreshments, R. E. Misko and Horace Travis; music and general arrangements, James Petska, C. B. Gudmundsen and Harold Taylor.

Mrs. Elsie Wiegardt Dies in California

A. A. Wiegardt received a telegram yesterday morning, telling him of the death on Monday evening of his mother, Mrs. Elsie Wiegardt, at Oakland, Calif. She was born at Thisted, Denmark, July 15, 1859, came to America in her early years and spent the greater part of her life in the Elyria neighborhood.

She was married twice. Surviving of the first family are Thorvald Sorensen of Gerber, Calif., and Laurits and Miss Dorothy Sorensen and Mrs. Anna Sorensen, wife of Morris Sorensen, all of Oakland. Living of Mr. Wiegardt's first family are Henry of Huntington Park, Calif., and Martin of Ord. Alfred is the only child of her marriage to Mr. Wiegardt.

Mrs. Wiegardt lived for 40 years or more in Elyria and before that in the Turtle Creek country southwest of Elyria. Following Mr. Wiegardt's death she and her daughter, Dorothy, lived together in Elyria, and they moved to Oakland 4 or 5 years ago. The body is being brought to Ord and will arrive Friday morning and be taken to the Benson and Anderson chapel. Further information is not available at this time.

PRIMARY CHANGES NEEDED.

Results of the primary election last week emphasize more than ever the need of changes in the primary law. As time goes on more and more people file for the different offices, with the result that candidates are nominated each year with a smaller percentage of the total vote cast.

Take the case of the democratic railway commissioner. For this office six men had filed. Maupin finally winning out with 28,071 votes. Figured on a percentage basis of those who did vote, this means that Maupin did not receive to exceed 15% of the actual democratic vote in Nebraska, and yet, according to our primary law, he is the nominee.

The vote cast for all six candidates probably was not more than two thirds of the democratic vote, since so many stayed at home. All rules of order require that a candidate must receive a majority of all votes cast at a caucus or convention before he has won the nomination. Truly our primary system is fearfully and wonderfully made.

Not to criticize Mr. Maupin, who is entitled to the nomination under our present system, it would be interesting to know in how many of the 93 counties of the state, he received a majority of the democratic votes cast. It is safe to bet that he did not lead in more than thirty, and it is possible under the conditions for him to win with a majority in the state without having a majority in a single county.

However, if this looks like a very slim vote, what about the republican side of the picture, where Richard H. Larsen won for railway commissioner over a field of 19 contestants, and received less than 20,000 votes. Figuring the probable full republican vote, he won his nomination with about 8% of the vote. This is just an exaggerated case of the tail wagging the dog.

Some remedy must be found for this condition. The idea of limiting the number of persons who can file for office has been suggested on numerous occasions, but is not practical, since men from distant parts of the state might not get their filings in before those located in Lincoln and thus be eliminated. This would limit filings not to the best man, but to the first.

When Dr. A. L. Miller was in Ord recently he made a suggestion that would help, and would bring back the good features of the old convention system without its evils. His idea would be to place initials after the names of candidates approved by party conventions, as a guide to the voter who does not know the candidates personally. For example, the initials C. E. on a convention endorsed candidate date the Texas idea of a runoff primary is the best solution advanced, it being the fairest to the public, as well as to the candidates. The chief argument against it is the expense of an extra election. Also, since voters do not take an interest in one primary election, it is likely that they would take still less interest in two of them.

Some legislators may one day win undying fame for himself by devising a smooth-working and equitable primary election law. When that time comes more voters will show up at the polls on primary election day. Better men will file for office, for they will realize they are wasting their time and money unless they have a chance of winning. Until then most of us will pick our candidates for state office by the ticket-tape method.

LIFE, LIBERTY, HAPPINESS.

In the Declaration of Independence, unanimously adopted, and proclaimed July 4, 1776, it is declared that all men are endowed by their creator with certain unalienable rights, among which are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. Until and unless they are forfeited, a citizen of the United States is guaranteed these rights.

Robinson Crusoe, on his island, had these rights, but what did they mean to him? He had life, but was doomed to spend it in utter solitude. He had liberty, but only to roam over the limited confines of his island. There he could pursue happiness, but his happiness was a hollow mockery, for there were none of his kind with whom he could associate.

A long time ago, God said, "It is not good for man to be alone." But, when people live together in communities, it is essential that they conform to certain definite rules in their relations with each other. It is for this reason that all laws are made, and when these laws are rightly made they do not jeopardize a man's life, liberty or his right to pursue happiness.

In Europe in the past year or more we have seen nations, founded on the same basic principles as our own, lose those rights of the individual to the armies of the invader. Under totalitarian government the life of the individual is his until it is required by the governing body. His life is ever in jeopardy, and he is prevented by law from the pursuit of happiness. If no other god shall come out of the cataclysm in Europe, it should at least teach Americans by its horrible example the value of the liberties we enjoy, and the necessity of being ever on the alert to safeguard those liberties. It should teach us that it is a privilege to live in America, which, with all its faults, is still the best place on earth in which to live.

In Europe when two men covet the same position in the government, the loser is obliterated. In America he continues to live and to use his mind for the benefit of his fellow men. We have the spectacle, for example, of Cochran and Burke fighting bitterly in the primary campaign, and the loser congratulating the winner on his success and promising assistance in the campaign this fall.

This spirit of sportsmanship cannot exist in any but a democratic form of government. Autocrats kill off the brains of the opposition and in so doing impoverish the country. They oppose public schools and all forms of religious worship. They have their inventors and scientists working on engines of destruction instead of for the good of humanity. Their success depends on the ignorance and regimentation of their people.

Today in America it is possible for the children of the poorest to obtain 12 grades of schooling, more by far than the founders of our nation had. Our citizens have the privilege of worshipping God as they see fit, they travel about the country as they wish without visas or passports. No matter from where our families came, we are all equal before the law. Let us appreciate the privileges we enjoy.

My Own Column

Hen McMullen says that the girls used to wear their dresses down to their insteps--now they wear them up to their step-ins.

Hi Anderson was telling about what a fast driver a certain woman was and said, "Why she was going better than 70 twice when I passed her." Then he wondered why we all laughed. He had just explained that he never drove fast any more.

A North Loup man says his wife is the apple of his eye--half crab and half wine sap.

Mrs. Knezacek was asking me what that Allen gal looks like, who was nominated for the unicameral. She is a very beautiful young woman but of course I didn't tell Mrs. Knezacek that. Now Joe tells me that his wife insists on going to Lincoln with him next winter.

The last election seems to indicate that the democrat voters of the state want a senator who will be a rubber stamp for the administration, rather than an able man who will do his own thinking. And while we are on the subject, I fear the republican voters have made the same mistake, though there is of course no evidence that Hugh Butler would be a rubber stamp senator should he be elected and should there also be a republican administration.

I have always thought that human nature was about the same the world over. I also think it is silly to try to make out that President Roosevelt is the only man who can successfully guide the nation for the four years beginning next January. I believe that Hall, Parley or Garner could do it and probably there are other able democrats who could also handle the job. And I believe any of the three leading republican candidates would be able to carry the load also. When a nation or a business gets the idea that some certain man is indispensable to its continuation, that nation or business is riding for a fall.

I hear so many people say that they turn off the radio when the program is finished and don't listen to the commercials that I wonder if the radio as an advertising medium is all it is cracked up to be.

I am heartily in accord with Chairman Dies and his committee investigation of un-American activities and I believe a very large per cent of the people of this country feel the same. I believe that steps should be taken to deport every alien who has not declared his intention of becoming a citizen of this country, or about whom there is a suspicion of un-Americanism. It is time that drastic measures be taken to stop scores of organizations that have for their mission the undoing of American institutions. I believe that anyone opposed to such a policy is himself disloyal.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT!

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Coup d'etat. The most clever and successful coup d'etat was staged in North Loup last week that one could imagine. Several men who were in business and on the street all day election day were completely surprised when the results were learned, one man saying he can usually tell when something like this is in the wind but this time he was entirely unaware. Eighty-four people went to the polls and wrote Melvin Cornell's name for town board, and no one but these eighty-four knew of it until the votes were counted.

Another peculiar thing about it all is that as yet the barbarians (so called) cannot figure out any issue at stake worth going to the trouble of this coup d'etat. No one knows who belong to the Greeks and who belong to the barbarians with the exception of course of the Greeks. Melvin Cornell and Erlo Cox, without doubt are of the Greek order, and Otto Bartz, Glen Johnson and Fred Jackman are beyond question barbarians.

A few years ago a similar coup d'etat was staged and although many thought it then was the liquor issue, one man said to me that the nominees who were beaten were unsuccessful financially. Surely that cannot be the reason last Tuesday of Melvin's elevation to office over the others for everyone now days is worrying more or less, you know.

There has been considerable talk of late, since the taxes have become so burdensome, that more real estate owners should be on the board. It happens that in the past few years on the board there has only been one real estate owner and one very heavy tax payer. Some argue if the board members were real estate owners they might be a little more cautious of their expenditures. It all is rather mysterious for Fred Jackman, Glen Johnson and Otto Bartz are home owners, tax payers, and always considered very decent citizens in the world. It can hardly seem plausible such a successful coup d'etat could be staged solely for the purpose of placing non real estate owners on the board so that more money might be spent.

This Town of North Loup has always been quite a religious center and for years was without a pool hall, saloon or liquor sales except bootleggers. Within the last few years the people have apparently seen the light and reformed to two beer parlors and a pool hall. Although there was a fight a few years ago over it and a coup d'etat staged, at this last election, the beer parlor affair was hardly mentioned. More than that, Erlo Cox, who is a board member and running again is a voter for the licenses and he received votes from both barbarians and Greeks. Someone suggested that the new occupation tax enacted in North Loup, which has caused a great deal of dissention, was the cause of this coup, but that could hardly be, because, although the law is still on the books there does not seem to be any attempt any more to enforce it.

There have been other points of discussion too about the dry affairs but none that would warrant any such exercise as apparently took place in the dark of the night. Heaven help us when we think of the whisperings involved to inform $4 people to write in Melvin Cornell's name and not tell a soul. The barbarians have finally come to the conclusion that this coup d'etat was staged because of the fear that if two of the three nominees were elected, in another year another dry man might get on and then the town would be without its beer.

Otto B, Fred J. and Glen J. have always been associated with the dry forces. However, should two of them have been elected in place of Cox and Cornell, there would have still been a control of the board in favor of liquor for the next year. Well, anyway Melvin Cornell, so the barbarians say, saved the day and the beer parlors. One fellow greeted him yesterday at the Beer Baron of North Loup and at another instance it was suggested that he resign from the Oddfellow lodge because of his connection with the liquor interests. (It is said one cannot belong to the Oddfellows and be in the liquor business). Another man begged him for a cigar, saying that machine politics are always flush with favors.

It is all highly amusing. It is a happy thought to the Greeks that their elaborate planning was so successful; it is amusing to the barbarians that as far as they were concerned, the exercise was all for naught. Melvin is greatly elated that he won an office without ever being nominated and against such successful men as his opponents, even if the machine was responsible. And that is not quite all Melvin is pleased about. He had had the nomination for police judge (for which he was defeated) and he had one fast friend (who was a Greek and of course his name was not divulged) that voted for Melvin for both jobs.

And I am pleased over the whole affair too, for it gave me something good to write about this week. He Was Telling Her. Dr. Grace Crandall, China missionary now in North Loup on a vacation, attended the travel lecture of Mr. Vance, Nebraska Farmer writer, and she says the pictures he showed of China and Shanghai were true enough of the city but he only showed the worst part of it. She says there is also a better section of the city where everything is modern, with paved streets, electric lights and automobiles which makes one thing of America. She expects to return to China in a few months, although she may go this time to interior China in place of the east coast. Might Be. In the April 6 Saturday Evening Post, on page 57, there is a reference to Edna O'Neil, an officer who was with General Grant and General Lee at the time of the surrender. Several have wondered if it is the man for whom the city of Ord was named.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS. From Air Corps Member. To the Editor of the Quiz: I have read in your paper several times that you like to hear from your distant readers, so I felt it was my duty to drop you a line and let you know that your fine paper travels to this distant corner of the United States. To a former Nebraskan, the home county paper is, indeed, a source of interesting reading. I always have liked to read the Quiz and find that it contains the kind of interesting written up in a clear, concise manner. The editorial page is one of the better parts it seems to me. I get a great kick out of the views expressed there but of course don't agree with quite all of it. I have but one suggestion to make towards your paper. Don't you think you should have more pictures. Your out-of-state readers could furnish you with some nice pictures, I'm sure. There are some folks in California who would surely send some if you asked them. If any of you Valley county folks would like to travel this summer, you couldn't go wrong by visiting the Pacific Northwest. Some of as pleasing natural scenery up in this section as can be found anywhere and think you would endorse it too after seeing it. In case you get anywhere near Seattle or Tacoma, I would appreciate your dropping in and saying hello. Ft. Lewis lies on the main highway between Portland and Tacoma. I am a soldier in the air corps here as you probably know. Quite a bit of rain has fallen here in the past six weeks but it hasn't bothered me yet. One appreciates the sunshine after the rains are over. On a clear day we have a good view of Mt. Rainier, forty miles away. I think that that snow covered giant is one of the most impressive sights I have ever seen. Was very glad to hear of the rain back there and hope you get plenty of it this summer. I'll be waiting for the next issue of the Ord Quiz. Yours respectfully, Darwin Lueck, 3rd Ballou Squadron Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Mrs. Joe Peterson Writes. To the Editor of the Quiz, Du Bois, Wyo. How are you all? Going for the mall last night, I met a fisherman who had just brought in a trout weighing 17 lbs. Whenever the fish begin to bite I think of the Leggets and the Quiz. This same man caught four others one weighing about 10 lbs. The trout season opened April 1. There are a number of lakes near here where fishing is good. Have you ever tasted ling fish? They have open season for ling in the winter. You cut a hole in the ice and set lines, using minnows for bait. The meat is white and tastes more like chicken than fish. I couldn't vouch for the truth of it but some people say ling is only caught in a few lakes in Wyoming and in the Norwegian countries. We went to Jackson Easter Sunday. It is 100 miles from here. You're read of the elk refuge there. Sometimes when the winter is bad, there are thousands and thousands of them, but this winter was so mild, they say the main herd never did come down to the feeding grounds. They graze out in the pastures with the cattle and horses, and are just as tame. Over Two-Gwz-Teo pass (9600 ft) the snow was probably 3 feet deep yet and just the top points of the highway signs showed. They've kept it open and passable all winter. Most winters it is closed a few days after elk season is over. Have you ever been in Du Bois? It's the last town before you go over the pass, about 200 population I think ordinarily. But because of this road job, there are lots of trailer house people here. They are building 14 miles of new road and when it is completed it will be a dandy road. Joe is a driller on the rock crew. They are having to change the river channel and blast off the rock in places where the new road goes. When they make a big "lift" most of the town (myself and neighbors included) turn out to see it. There are 3 bars, 2 stores, a post office, 2 garages and a bakery here. The only sidewalks are of board. Our main street is so narrow there is hardly room to drive when cars are parked on both sides. Most of the buildings are of log (close to National forest). Most of the fixtures inside are of logs too, booths and bars, even wainscoting, is of small logs, in patterns and varnished. Every place in town has mounted heads of elk, deer, etc. on the walls. Gate archways are made of elk horns, even a chair in a filling station is made entirely of moose and elk horns. It is mostly a tourist town and there are camps and dude ranches galore. Du Bois is 85 miles from a railroad (Riverton). There is no doctor here and no dentist. There are some beautiful farms around here, but the growing season is short on account of the altitude. The weather is very changeable, so near the mountains and the wind blows almost constantly. If you haven't seen them I wish you could see "Blue Holes" near here. They are a chain of lakes said to be volcanic craters. The water is the oddest blue and just so clear that when you drop a stone into it, you can see it until it disappears from distance. The hills around these lakes are red and with the deep blue of the water make it something you can't forget. Walking over the hills with a friend one day, on the very top of a hill that looked exactly like any one of a thousand other Wyoming hills, and without the least warning we came to the top of a deep crater. Joe said it was 20 feet across and probably 40 feet deep. The sides were perfectly straight. Elk horns and bones in the bottom were a reminder of what would happen if anyone walked off into it. A few miles above here is the place where they bring the ties down from the tie camps to the river. When spring high water comes they float them down to Riverton to the tie treating plant. I must close now, and that was no fish story about the 17 pounder. I saw it myself, ha, ha. Hoping you are all well and happy and that you will try fishing in Wyoming some time. Blanche Peterson.

Our town will never be a bit improved unless we get out and hustle and make it that way. It is easier, of course, to sit back and permit things to stay as they are. But that swimming pool. We need it. We want it. Last time it was brought up, one family voted against it because it would increase their taxes 36c per year! And they have a boy just tadpole age, a lively hand, some fellow surely worth 36c a year expenditure. Let's get busy on that pool. -Irma.

NEBRASKA IN THE MAKING. By Joseph G. Alden. In a wooded space on the grounds of Arbor Lodge at Nebraska City stands a heroic bronze figure. It was erected there to recognize the genius and public spirit of a distinguished Nebraskan, famed in agriculture, a member of the cabinet of President Cleveland. Another statue of him stands in the Hall of Statues in the national capitol at Washington, keeping company with the companion figure of another great Nebraskan, William Jennings Bryan, Nebraska's two selections for the national hall of fame. Near the statue at Arbor Lodge is the mansion in which Morton lived. It stands in a spacious park filled with noble specimens of trees suited to the soil of that section. The fine oak mansion and the surrounding park are now the property of the state. They are maintained as a shrine and show place. The mansion contains a wealth of priceless mementoes of Morton and Nebraska's cradle days. The stable holds ancient vehicles that were in use in Morton's day. Under the shade of the trees in summer gather picnic parties. The mansion is a mecca for thousands of visitors. Arbor Lodge is the repository of the finest traditions of the state. It recognizes in a fitting way the beginning days of Nebraska. But in a larger sense the monument of J. Sterling Morton does not stand in Arbor Lodge park. It is erected wherever a tree has been planted in response to his insistent plea that Nebraska's bare prairies be clothed. It is wherever, in this or in other states that have adopted Arbor Day as an annual observance, that April 22 is observed in planting trees. Nebraska established Arbor Day by statute in 1895 and later gave Morton's commonwealth the designation of Tree Planters State. Millions of Morton monuments, standing already on Nebraska soil, and millions yet to be planted, will commemorate in a living way the vision, energy and public spirit of a great Nebraskan. -Quiz Want Ads get results.

Something Different

Something really different is the Quiz gourd contest for youngsters up to twelve years old. It is different and will be great fun for the small entrant for several reasons. It will be fun to plant the gourds, for children love to plant seeds and work with the earth. It will be fun because the gourds hop up almost overnight, and then they elevate themselves toward the sun at the rate of about one inch per day. And children like to watch growing things that are speedy about it. It will be fun because gourds are fun, no two of them ever alike, and then lastly it will be great sport to dry them and have them to paint and play with. Gourds make the nicest play dishes, and they often amusingly resemble animals and people, can be made into fine playthings with a bit of ingenuity. Of course, it would be fun to win the Quiz gourd contest, too, wouldn't it? And Mother would probably love to have a bowl of gourds for ornamenting her buffet, or a string of painted ones for her kitchen. This Mother would. Has your little Otto or Oswaldina entered the gourd contest? Perhaps I am wrong, but I did not blame that young teacher for resigning her position in the Fremont schools. Of course all I know about it is what I read in the papers. I know teachers have a duty to the community and their help and example is needed in church work and in a number of places outside the class room. Yet for years I have felt that too much is expected from our teachers after-hours. When they work hard from say, eight till five o'clock, and mortgage about one evening to the public good, I feel they should be let off unless they personally desire to do more for community organizations. I know teachers must set a model of deportment for their students, yet I have thought for a long time that to pay them so modestly and then to expect to regulate their conduct 24 hours each day is the height of something or other. The very nature of their profession means that these people are particularly gifted, and therefore very capable. I like violin solos, and well-cast, well-directed plays, and banquets that run off with smooth service as well as you do. And I don't doubt these teachers sometimes enjoy being called on to exercise their skills for us. Yet I think there should be a happy medium. In what other profession is such service expected? How would you like to have all your evenings spoken for weeks ahead, and your Saturdays and often much of your Sundays, in addition to having papers to correct and work plans to chart for your classes. And we don't pay our teachers particularly well in Nebraska either. I say that last although I'm not a bit more enthusiastic to have my taxes raised than you are. I asked my husband what happened to that swimming pool? He answered it was waiting for someone to push it. Who is going to sponsor the pool and go ahead with these plans? We need a pool just as much as we need an inhalator, which the firemen are sponsoring so nobly. MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Whenever a new medication is placed before the public and the medical profession, its use is extended to all kinds of conditions related or unrelated to that for which it is known to be beneficial. In the case of some drugs this amounts only to a financial loss to the users but in others it may be dangerous. A few years ago a drug called dinitrophenol was found to cause loss of weight even when the person ate all the food he wanted. Now what could be more enticing to the fat person than to be able to eat all he wanted and yet become thin. At first it seemed that the taking of this drug caused little or no harm but after a while the bad effects began to show up. People were so anxious to get this substance that they bought it at the drug store, without a prescription, and took it without any supervision. When some of these folks began to go blind and others to die of degeneration of the liver or to be sick with blood disorders as a result of taking dinitrophenol, its use by the medical profession and its indiscriminate sale by the druggist became unpopular. A more recent group of drugs which have been widely heralded in the newspapers are those containing sulphathiazol, useful in curing certain kinds of streptococcus infections and sulphyridin, useful in curing pneumonia. These drugs are prescribed in great quantities. The retail drug firms handle literally tons of them. The newspaper popularity of them has made the public interested and they are frequently found trying to buy them over the counter of the drug store, without a prescription, and without a proper diagnosis and the supervision of the doctor. Fortunately the druggist will usually refuse to sell them that way, because the indiscriminate use of them is dangerous. They may cause serious and even fatal blood disorders, kidney troubles, etc. As an example of the care necessary in taking these chemicals it is interesting that the medical officers in the British army have been instructed that no one taking any of this group of drugs is to be permitted to fly an aeroplane or drive an automobile. The reason for this order is that these drugs cause the blood to be unable to carry as much oxygen as usual. A single dose has been found sufficient to lower the aviator's ceiling by 5000 feet. This means he cannot fly within 5000 feet as high as usual because if he does he will suffer from want of oxygen. Remember that most useful drugs may be harmful in certain amounts or under certain conditions. -Quiz Want Ads get results.

They brought a beautiful lunch with them, and also made Mrs. Keller the recipient of a handkerchief shower. Those attending were Mrs. Chris Belers, Mrs. Geo. Nightingale, Mrs. Bud Lashmet, Mrs. Anna Hurlbert, Miss Leona Crouch, Mrs. Frank Clark, Mrs. Charles Peckham, Mrs. Esther Manchester and Mrs. Emma Hurdler.

Kings Will Celebrate.

In honor of their fiftieth wedding anniversary, which occurs next Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Will King will keep open house for their friends to call upon them between the hours of 2 and 4 p. m. on that day. They request that no presents be brought.

Married 55 Years.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dworak quietly celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary at their home in northwest Ord Friday. They received letters from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Severson of Omaha and Mr. and Mrs. George Dworak and son of Bellwood, a telegram of congratulation from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Dworak and son of Omaha, and a bouquet from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Johnson and son of Burwell. They also received a letter from a niece of Mrs. Dworak, Mrs. John Kracl, husband and daughter, of Schuyler. They also had a dedication for them over the radio, but the Dworaks did not know it in time and did not get to hear it. However, some of the Happy Hour club members heard of it and came in the afternoon, bringing a lot of good things to eat, so everybody had a lovely time.

Sunday Guests.

Guests Sunday at the George Satterfield home were his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Satterfield, sister, Mrs. Miles Ferguson, and sister and husband, and Mr. and Mrs. John Ward all of Taylor.

Tomatoes in Winter Grew at Albers Home

Above is shown Miss Dorothy Albers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Albers, and a tomato plant they grew in their home the past winter. In transplanting a house plant into a pot last fall, this tomato plant came up in the dirt, so they saved it. It has two tomatoes as shown, the larger one being red and ripe.

Leonard Tolen Faints, Appendix the Cause

Saturday noon while Leonard Tolen, who works for P. E. Pocock, was talking to his mother, Mrs. Harry Tolen, on the phone, he fainted. The POCOcks put him to bed, but he soon felt better, and went out and ran the tractor until 4 p. m., when he became so sick he had to quit. He was taken to Dr. W. J. Hemphill, who brought him to the clinic for an appendectomy Sunday evening. Dr. Hemphill found that the appendix had burst. Leonard's brother Earl, who has worked for W. C. Edney of Berwyn for the past 4 years, has been called to Ord. The young man is seriously ill but is given a good chance to recover.

Measuring Royalty

A cat may look at a queen, and in Roskilde cathedral, near Copenhagen, Denmark, men may actually measure themselves against kings, for the height of royal visitors is marked there on a great red granite pillar. The pillar has stood since the days of King Canute, and on it are recorded the heights of such monarchs as Peter the Great, Christian VII, and Edward VII. The tallest king registered on the pillar is Peter the Great, who stood 6 feet 8 inches.

Thank You

I desire to express my appreciation to my friends and neighbors for the splendid vote I received at the primary for director of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

The 20th anniversary of the organization of their club and of the state federation of clubs was observed Wednesday when the Fortnightly club held their annual guest day in the parlors of the Methodist church. The lesson on art was in charge of Mrs. Albert Babcock. Roll call was a favorite painting and the artist, Mrs. Vance, a member of the board of trustees of the state university who has taken a special interest in the arts and science department and who spends much of her time in travel with an art collection, was present and showed her pictures and gave a very interesting lecture. A collection of pictures that are being loaned to the rural schools in the different counties was among her exhibit and Mrs. Vance said the Valley county schools are to have one of these collections next year. They are loaned on the same plan as the traveling library books. After Mrs. Vance's lecture Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner gave a resume of the Fortnightly club and its work through the 20 years. Mrs. Anna Crandall, the only charter member left in the club, was presented with a gift. Harriet Manchester sang, "Thank God for a Garden," accompanied by Esther Zanger and Jeanne Barber gave her reading, "Who's Afraid of the Big Bad Giant." Tables decorated with dainty hand paintings and candles had been placed in the room and a lovely two course lunch was served by the hostesses, Mrs. I. J. Thelin, Mrs. George Gowen, Mrs. J. A. Barber, Mrs. Harold Fisher and Mrs. Ruby McGinley.

Mrs. H. J. Hoepfner and Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal were hostesses to a covered dish supper honoring Mrs. Elno Hurley at the home of the former Wednesday night. The evening was spent playing cards.

The Merry Makers went on a hike Saturday night and returned late to the Albert Babcock home where lunch was served. Ida Babcock whose birthday is this week was guest of honor.

Clean-up day was observed in the village Thursday and Friday and due to the efforts of the Varsity club nearly all the accumulated rubbish and tin cans and junk had been hauled away. This is an annual affair put on by the Varsity club and besides helping the appearance of the town, it is a boost for the clubs treasury. Slips for work to be done were taken to the houses earlier in the week and as jobs came in boys and some girls were assigned the work. The employer paid whatever he felt the job was worth and the entire proceeds was given to the club. The Community club sponsored the affair and furnished trucks to do the hauling. Not as much was made this year as sometimes but the club is richer by between ten and twelve dollars. One year the amount made was $32.00.

The home economics classes and Miss Green went to Scotia Thursday night where they were entertained by the home economics classes of the Scotia schools. The evening was spent playing games and a lovely lunch was served before the girls came home. Sometime ago the North Loup girls entertained the Scotia girls at a similar party here.

Some members of the music department of the North Loup schools will attend the district contest in Fullerton Friday and Saturday.

The senior class went to Dannebrog Tuesday night where they enjoyed a roller skating party.

Mr. Houtchens was given a surprise Thursday night when his second year typing class took him to Ord for a theatre party.

Dorothy Campbell had the misfortune to fall on the floor in her room at the school house on evening last week and has been walking with the aid of a crutch because of a sprained ankle.

The senior class is working on their play, "The Eighteen Carat Boob," which will be given May 1. Plans are also being made for the Junior-senior banquet which will be May 2, and as usual will be served by the mothers of the juniors. They held a meeting at the school house Friday afternoon and chose a committee consisting of Mrs. J. S. Manchester, Mrs. R. W. Hudson, Mrs. Clyde Barrett and Mrs. Albert Babcock to make their plans.

Arthur W. Watwood, of Winner, S. D., formerly an attorney with the U. S. Treasury and Justice department, of Washington, D. C., favored the high school and seventh and eighth grade students with a very fine and inspirational address on "The Value of Education" Friday morning. During the course of his address he stressed the importance of high school girls and boys being loyal to their parents, teachers, and to the tax payers who make possible their education. He also pointed out that today it is almost impossible to obtain a position of any consequence without being a high school graduate. He concluded by warning: "Bad habits are stronger than log chains and are harder to break, you must be careful about the habits you form."

Mr. and Mrs. Elno Hurley were guests of honor at a dinner-bridge party held Thursday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schudel. The honor prize was divided between I. J. Thelin and H. L. Gillespie. Mr. and Mrs. Hurley were presented with a gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Elno Hurley and Colleen were Thursday dinner guests of Dr. and Mrs. Hemphill and supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Sayre.

Of the votes cast at the primary election last Tuesday, 143 of the 218 cast were republican and 75 democratic. Election board members were H. H. Thorgaard, J. H. Eyerly and C. W. McClellan. Judges: Mrs. A. H. Babcock and Mrs. John Manchester, clerks: The counting board was Clyde Willoughby, Fred Bartz, Clifford Hawkes and Clem Meyers, jr.

Mrs. W. H. Vodehnal and Mrs. A. C. Hutchins were given a party honoring their birthdays at the home of Mrs. Vodehnal Saturday night. Three tables of players were present and the evening was spent playing bridge. Mrs. W. O. Zanger won high score and Mrs. F. J. Schudel low. Mrs. Vodehnal and Mrs. Hutchins were each presented with a gift. The husbands of the ladies spent the evening at the H. L. Gillespie home where they played cards.

Robert Van Horn, who had recently recovered from an attack of the flu sufficiently to sit up a part of the time was taken worse Friday afternoon and Monday afternoon Dr. Hemphill took him to the Clinic hospital in Ord for an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Elno Hurley and Colleen went to Greeley Saturday afternoon where they were overnight guests in the Reuben Malmstrom home.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas Fuller, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Williams and Jeanette and Mrs. Harold Williams spent Saturday afternoon at the Bert Williams home.

The April all church social was held Sunday night in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church with about fifty enjoying the covered dish supper served at 7:30. Mrs. W. J. Hemphill who had charge of the social hour had arranged a short program and some very clever quiz questions pertaining to the Seventh Day Baptist church and their ministers.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Kit Carson got back Thursday morning from Sunny California, where he had been spending the winter and enjoying the unusual weather while Orides shivered in the below zero temperatures. He knew Nebraska pretty well and figured the weather should be fine by the middle of April. As luck would have it he arrived on one of the most disagreeable days we have had this spring, with the mercury away down and the wind whooping it up from the northwest.

Vernie Andersen has been putting out a story about how Ord's new inhalator has saved one life already; but he was rather diffident about furnishing the details. Finally got him pinned down yesterday, and the facts are as follows: Some time ago he and Chet Austin made a trip to Arcadia to see some of the fishermen of that town, and incidentally in connection with the inhalator. While in Arcadia he saw a brown dog which he recognized, and which had been advertised as lost, in the Ord Quiz. When he got home he called the S. W. Roe farm and told them about the dog, and they went over and got him. He says the marshal would have shot the dog if they had not made the trip, which gives the inhalator credit of saving the dog's life. If they had not made the trip they would not have seen the dog, and he would not have thought about the dog if it had not been advertised in the Quiz. It pays to advertise.

Philip Mulligan had the misfortune to fall on a rusty nail, driving it into his knee joint Friday. Although he was not seriously injured, his knee is quite painful and he will be crippled up for several days.

The best of the articles which they had made in the course of their project work during the year were displayed at the meeting of the Riverside club at the home of Mrs. John Herrick Friday afternoon. The members gave their favorite recipes in answer to the roll call, most of which were for cakes and salads. The president, Mrs. Bessie Janicek, had charge of the program. Four visitors, Mrs. Leo Lindsey, Mrs. Nell Woods, Mrs. Cameron, and Mrs. Floyd Herrick were present as well as six little boys, ranging from two to six years old, but no girls. The hostesses were presented with several quilt blocks. Mrs. Herrick served sandwiches, carrot salad, upside-down cake and coffee.

E. J. Daly and Ed Boye returned Wednesday from Massena, Ia., where they had gone for the purpose of buying a bull. The bull Mr. Daly bought is Beau Domino 13th, coming from the George J. Anstey herd. The sire of this bull came from the Robert H. Hazlett herd at Eldorado, Kas., which is recognized as the best herd of Herefords in United States. The Anstey herd is known widely as the home of Beau Gaston and Beau Dover.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Huckfeldt and Dickie were Grand Island visitors Thursday.

Mrs. Harry Simons was elected president of the Country Women's club No. 1 at the meeting held in her home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Otto Cassidy was chosen vice president, Mrs. Leonard Butts, secretary, and Mrs. Leon Ostensowksi and Mrs. LeRoy Lashmet, news reporters. The development and the approved methods of canning meat, fruits and vegetables were discussed. Assorted sandwiches, vegetable salad, pineapple upside down cake with whipped cream and coffee were served by Mrs. Simons and Mrs. Leonard Butts, the co-hostesses. After the lesson was finished the ladies played bingo.

John Hanks, Farm Security supervisor and his assistant, John Dobry, both of Taylor, D. C. McCarthy and Miss Huldah Bennett drove to Grand Island Wednesday where they attended a conference of Farm Security and home economic supervisors.

Dr. Cram has been fortunate in securing the services of Clarence Clark as caretaker for his hospital. Buster is planning to landscape the grounds when the weather becomes warmer and make other extensive improvements which will keep him busy a large share of the time.

Mr. and Mrs. Knute Peterson were guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Schere Sunday afternoon. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Peterson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Mike Higgins.

Vernon Huckfeldt sold a new international truck to William Strong of Almeria last week.

Leo Demaree transacted business in Taylor last week.

Mrs. James Bratka, Miss Betty Bratka, and Mrs. George Davis were hostesses to a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Reineke in the Charley Hopkins home Sunday. Mrs. Reineke was formerly Miss Pearl Hopkins. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartos and family, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nedbalek and son, Mrs. Wesley Clabaugh, Dorothy, Gladys, and Vernon, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Bratka and family, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dahlstedt and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Schumets and son, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Mattern and son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mottl and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Miller and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marlinson, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Freeman, Mrs. Leo Reineke, Mr. and Mrs. James Mach, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pajmon and son, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cerney, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Iwanski, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bartos and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Patska and family, Mrs. Omar Long, Mrs. Tennessee Conard, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Freeman and family, Albert Conard, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howe, Mrs. John Pipal, Violet Mae Guggenmos, Mary Meurrett and Florence Donner. After a pleasant afternoon spent visiting the bride and groom opened their many gifts. The hostesses served sandwiches, pickles, fruit salad, cake and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mauch drove to Butte Sunday where they were guests of their daughter, Mrs. Harold Fried and Mr. Fried.

Believing that spring had sprung six venturesome and progressive minded boys took advantage of the warmth of the weather Sunday to go swimming in the river. The event did not end happily, however, for Monday six irate mothers were pursuing their courageous sons who were suffering with either colds or the flu. "You boys should have known better," the aggrieved mothers complained. "But, gee whiz, Ma," the sons answered, "We got so hot we just couldn't stand it and besides we hadn't been swimming for over seven months."

A large flock of birds which flew over Burwell Sunday evening had furnished the residents with something to argue about for their identification has been repeatedly disputed. The preponderance of opinion is that they were geese. The front ranks of the flock flew in a group but later they scattered over single file forming a line more than a mile long. The birds flew silently westward. Some folks dispute this identification because they said the birds sailed in the air part of the time without moving their wings. People have declared that the birds were pelicans, sea gulls, cranes,—and heaven forbid, storks. A large flock of pelicans did light on the river near the Butts farm east of Burwell early Monday morning.

LeRoy Anderson, Clifford Anderson and Dewey Demaree caught the streamlined train, The City of Denver, in Grand Island Friday going to Chicago, where Mr. Anderson purchased a new Diamond T oil transport which these men drove home, getting into Burwell Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marcus Getter of Tujunga, are expected to arrive in Burwell Thursday where they will make a visit in the H. B. Miller home. Mrs. Getter, who is Mrs. Miller's cousin, was formerly Mrs. A. H. Shaeffer, who was an early-day settler at North Loup, being a member of the original Seventh Day Baptist colony. Mrs. Miller and Mrs. Getter have not met for 45 years. Mr. and Mrs. Burns, from California, who are guests of Dr. and Mrs. George Gard visited in Burwell Sunday. Mrs. Burns is Mr. Getter's daughter.

Ninety students from Burwell high school will go to Fullerton on Feb. 19 and 20 where they will participate in the district music contest. Twenty students will go the first day while the entire group will participate in the second day activities, according to Mr. Struve, who says that eighteen cars will be required to transport the pupils to Fullerton. Fifteen hundred high school pupils are expected to take part in this contest.

Mrs. Mike Helmkamp was hostess to the members of the New Century club in her home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Lloyd Carriker the lesson leader, discussed the development of home canning. Mrs. Helmkamp and the co-hostess, Mrs. Earl Meyers, served refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sperling and family were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Sperling's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ingraham in North Loup. Miss Lottie Taylor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Taylor who live west of Swan Lake on the Kellogg ranch and George Graves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Graves, who live in the Erina neighborhood were married in O'Neill Saturday. Miss Vera Maring and Francis Graves, brother of the groom, attended the couple at the wedding. The newlyweds will make their home on the O'Connor farm southeast of Burwell.

Mrs. Eleanor Maddox Dies at Advanced Age

The curtain of life was peacefully drawn aside Sunday morning April 14 when Mrs. Eleanor Maddox passed away at her home in Burwell, ending a long and useful life. Eleanor McGinley was born where the present town of Dunbar is now, on April 13, 1861. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McGinley, pioneer residents of Otoe county.

Here her girlhood was spent taking advantage of the schools which were conducted only a few months each year. She attended the Sisters' Academy at Nebraska City and later the University of Nebraska. For a number of years she taught school in Otoe and Cass counties.

She was united in marriage to William Maddox at Douglas, Nebraska, Feb. 14, 1900. To this union two children were born, John Sterling Maddox of Odesa, Tex., and Bernice, Mrs. Leonard Wunderlich of Burwell.

Soon after their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Maddox established their home on a ranch near Ogallala, later moving into Ogallala where they lived until September of 1913 when they came to Burwell where Mr. Maddox purchased the ranch which in its day was the largest one in Garfield county.

Mr. and Mrs. Maddox took an active interest in the social and civic affairs of the community for many years. Mr. Maddox died Dec. 21, 1935.

Mrs. Maddox was imbued with the pioneer spirit being undaunted by the difficulties and problems of life. Her acquaintances were her friends. Whenever a movement was launched for civic or religious welfare, she not only wished it well but put forth an effort to make it a success.

At the time of her death she was a member of the Burwell Woman's club and the Christian Mothers' society. She was an active worker and a faithful attendant of the Sacred Heart church. She leaves her two children, a granddaughter, Jayna Eleanor of whom she was unusually fond, two brothers, George McGinley of Ogallala and James McGinley of Douglas, two sisters, Mrs. P. P. Nestor of Tecumseh and Sister Mary Hermiana of Marcus, Ia., a number of nieces and nephews and the many friends she made in the course of her lifetime.

Requiem High Mass was conducted in the Sacred Heart church Tuesday morning, by Father Murray. Father Manning of Alliance and Father Lawlor of Ord were in the Sanctuary. Bob and Bill Doran of Lincoln, her great nephews, acted as altar boys. Eleanor Doran, the great niece for whom she was named played the organ. Dorothy Doran sang in the choir. Monday evening the ladies of the Christian Mothers' society met at the home where they recited the Rosary, led by Father Murray. Interment was made in the Burwell cemetery by her husband, Ben Rose. Clyde Hegenritz, Dr. Smith, W. M. Wunderlich, F. W. Manassil and Vergil Beck acted as pall bearers.

Out of town relatives who attended the funeral services were Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Nestor and Miss Claire Nestor of Tecumseh; Mr. and Mrs. George McGinley of Ogallala and Mrs. George McGinley, Jr., of Keystone, Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse McGinley of Irwin, Neb.; J. E. McGinley and John McGinley of Douglas, Neb., Mr. and Mrs. Cyril Winkler of Lexington, Mrs. Barbara Roach of Palmyra, Neb., Mrs. Margaret Dorsch of Sterling, Neb., Mrs. Sterling Maddox of Odesa, Tex., Sisters Mary Hermiana and Mary Dantelling of Marcus, Ia.; Mrs. Claire McGinley and Robert of Lincoln; Mr. and Mrs. Harry Doran and family of Lincoln; Michael McCarthy and Margaret, George and Terence McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. DeLance Withers and children, Mrs. William Wilkinson and daughter, Mrs. Dan O'Connell and daughter all of Atkinson and Mr. and Mrs. James McCarthy of Douglas, Neb., and Melvin McCarthy of Sutherland.

Friends from out of town who were present for the rites were Mr. and Mrs. William Dunbar of Dunbar, Neb.; Mr. and Mrs. M. F. Harris and daughters, Lucille and Margaret of North Platte, and Mrs. Marguerite Schultz of Abland and Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wunderlich of Lincoln Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Williams and Miss Constance Akers drove to Cedar Rapids Sunday where they were guests of Mr. Williams' mother.

George Baker and Warren Hall were Omaha visitors Monday and Tuesday.

Tom Croughwell of Taylor spent Tuesday in Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wunderlich arrived in Burwell Monday where they were called by the death of Mrs. Eleanor Maddox. They expect to spend a week visiting in the homes of their children, Leonard Wunderlich, Mrs. E. W. Franssen and Mrs. Mark Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Flynn and Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rallsback of Ord were guests in the Lyman Kern home Sunday. These ladies are cousins of Mrs. Kern.

Clyde and Ray Johnson tended to business matters and visited relatives in St. Paul.

A large family gathering and a birthday dinner was held in the W. H. Butcher home Sunday in honor of Mrs. Butcher. Those who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Butcher and family, Mrs. Wayne Hesselgeser and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Fischer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Scherbarth and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Ehresman, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Herrick and Wesley and Glenn and Raymond Johnson. This large gathering took Mrs. Butcher by surprise. All of Mr. and Mrs. Butcher's nineteen grandchildren were present.

Ivan Evans of Broken Bow Tended to Business Matters in Burwell Tuesday

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clochon and family were guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Massey Sunday. George Lange is confined to his bed with the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Garnick and Harold of Elyria and Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson.

You are earnestly invited to be present at any, or all, of the services on next Lord's Day.
The Bible school opens promptly at ten, with A. A. Wiegardt, superintendent, and a faithful group of teachers for all ages of students.
The morning worship hour at eleven, with sermon theme, "The Growing Glory of the Christian's Life."
The evening service at eight with sermon subject, "Which is of Greater Value, a Man or a Sheep?"
Friend, what is your personal obligation to your God?

Church of Foursquare Gospel.
(Legion Hall)
Services are being held every night at 7:30 at the Legion Hall conducted by the Rev. H. E. Fisher of Philadelphia. In the near future there will be a church fully organized in accordance with the desires of a few of the citizens of the city of Ord. Everyone is cordially invited to visit our services each night with the exception of Saturday.
Rev. Fisher is well learned on the subject of PROPHECY and World Events in the Light of the BIBLE. The schedule of the subjects for the week to come is as follows:
Wednesday—"Who is destined to win the present conflict of Europe and when will Italy enter?"
Thursday—"Rev. Ruby Fisher, What about the Christ?"
Friday—"Is the Townsend Plan of God or is it Rotten Money?"
Concerning this most unusual service for Friday evening it so happens that Rev. Fisher believes in Dr. P. E. Townsend as a Christian and in his national plan and also believes that as a minister of the Gospel that he should preach and help push this act for it can be proved by the BIBLE to be of God and the speaker shall endeavor to do so on Friday evening. All local Townsdenites are invited to attend this dynamic and forceful message on this national question of great concern.
Sunday—"Is there a God?"
Monday—"The Christ of the Cross."

ARCADIA

Mrs. B. F. Tiffany Passes.
Nora Astella Fowler was born Aug. 7, 1873 at St. Lawrence, N. Y. When she was four years of age her parents came to Nebraska and settled at Cairo. On the 22nd day of November, 1891, she united in marriage with B. F. Tiffany at Dannebrog. After five years of residence at that place, Mr. and Mrs. Tiffany moved to a farm south of Arcadia, where they have lived for 43 years, or until they moved to Loup City last spring.

Mrs. Tiffany united with the Methodist church at an early age and remained faithful to the Christian profession until the time of her death. Her untiring effort and loyalty in behalf of Christian work is reflected in the active part she has taken in maintaining the Sunday school and worship service at the Mixed Grove church. Discouragements nor difficulties did not baffle her or retard her efforts in behalf of the spiritual life of her community. She served as superintendent of the Sunday school, taught classes and was president of the ladies aid at various times during her long services to the cause of Christianity. As a loving wife, tender mother and a sympathetic neighbor, she exemplified the beauties of her faith.

The last seven years of her life were years of poor health. At times she has been overcome by her illness. Death came Thursday noon at her home in Loup City at the age of 66 years, 8 months and 4 days.

The following survive: Her husband, B. F. Tiffany, two sons, Cyrus of Loup City and Clifford of Stapleton, one daughter, Mrs. Harold Sinner of Arcadia, two sisters, Mrs. Mae Chapman of Loup City, and Mrs. Clara Hodson of Burwell, one brother, Leon of Stapleton, 11 grandchildren. One daughter, Mrs. Oscar Olson and two sisters preceded her in death.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Wilson of Mason City were Sunday guests at the Fred Milburn home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Larson and family were Loup City business visitors Friday.

Mrs. John Minne and daughter, Betty Mae returned from Kearney Sunday, where they had spent the last week at the Welby home.

E. C. Combs received word from his son Cecil of Fargo, N. D., that he and his family are moving to Lincoln where he has employment with radio station KFAB.

Bob Milburn of the U. S. navy is now in Honolulu.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Parker and family of Ravenna spent Sunday at the Wm. Minnie home.

Brownie Barger left for Idaho today (Wednesday) where he had work, his wife and family will follow after school is out.

NOTICE OF CHATTEL MORTGAGE SALE.

Notice is hereby given that on the 5th day of May, 1940, at 11:00 A. M., the undersigned will sell at public auction to the highest bidder, for cash, at the garage located at 214 So. 15th Street, Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, the following described property:

One International Power Unit, Serial No. 2-17-31, and one 6-inch Elliot Gravel Pump, and 150 feet of 6-inch pipe under and by virtue of a chattel mortgage given by Harry Patchen to the Dugan Oil Company; said mortgage was made on the 28th day of December, 1939, upon which mortgage indebtedness there is now due the sum of $230.25, balance due on the mortgage and all additional costs incurred for the purpose of this foreclosure, default having been made in the covenants of said mortgage and no suit-at-law having been instituted to recover said debt.

Dugan Oil Company
April 17-It.

—Mrs. Rosalie McBeth is in Ord this week for a visit with relatives and friends, having completed her beauty course in Omaha and taken the state examinations. She is now awaiting the result of the examinations.

Getter Party Arrives in Ord Last Saturday

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Getter, his son M. L. (LeRoy) Getter, and daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Burns, of Tujunga, Calif., arrived in Ord Saturday afternoon at 5 p. m. While staying at Hotel Ord, they have been invited guests in a number of homes and have visited a large number of Mr. Getter's old acquaintances.

Among the homes in which they have been guests are the Dr. George R. Gard home, Mrs. Mary Capron's home and the H. D. Leggett home. Plans are being made by the Ladies of the G. A. R. to entertain them while they are here, since Mr. Getter is a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. This may be done tonight, but arrangements are not complete as this is written.

M. E. Getter was one of the early settlers of Ord, and acted in many capacities for the welfare of the village and city. Fifty years ago the files of the Quiz show that he was commander of Post No. 40, G. A. R., and that another man, well known then, W. F. Kinnmont, was adjutant. Since the death of John H. Carson a number of years ago, Ord has had no resident member of the G. A. R.

The return of Mr. Getter to the home of his younger days brings back that honor to the community for the extent of his visit. Although he is well past his four score years and ten, he is still as active as many men twenty years his junior. His mind is still remarkably clear, and he has little difficulty recalling names and incidents of the years he spent in Ord.

—Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. John Misko, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vogelanz and George A. Munn drove to Grand Island to attend the district meeting of attorneys which was held there.

Better Results Than Ever If You Advertise During National Want Ad Week

The eighth annual Want Ad week will be observed by the Quiz during the week of April 21-27 and the best opportunity for results in a long time will be available to classified advertisers when the spotlight of national attention will be focused on the want ads and the story of the important part they play in daily life of the American people will be told in hundreds of newspapers throughout the nation.

Many interesting stories could be told about the things people have done with want ads and the things want ads have done for people. Newspaper files are full of them.

Want ads are the oldest form of newspaper advertising. A century ago ads like those in the want ad columns—little notices of a few lines each—were the only form of newspaper advertising known.

Even then they paid well. They pay better today because people have learned to look for them and use them in a great variety of ways.

Because want ads are of such great importance and value newspapers hold an annual want ad week during which they try to educate more people to read and use the want ad columns.

Next week is probably the most favorable time of the whole year to start your want ad. Don't neglect the opportunity.

CALL 17 AND SAY CHARGE IT. OR COME DOWN TO THE OFFICE AND WE WILL HELP YOU WITH YOUR AD.

F. J. Bell Writes on the Recent Ord Picnic

The annual picnic of former Ord and Valley county folks was held April 7, at Bixby Park, Long Beach, and the Quiz is in receipt of a fine letter from F. J. Bell, president of the organization, in which he tells what a fine time was had. He says that he did not have time to write a long letter, as Mrs. Bell is quite sick.

He sends a complete list of those who attended the picnic this year and registered, and at his request we are printing the names and addresses in full. This has been done several times in the past, but no doubt a number of those on the list have changed their addresses since that time, and a number of new names are included.

The complete list follows:

Carl Anderson, Box 3, Alhambra; Florence Anderson, 650 Wiltner, Los Angeles; Irene (Woolery) Anderson, 519 Cedar, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Alvord, 116 27 St., Newport Beach; Bob Arnold, 1780 Anaheim, Costa Mesa.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred J. Bell, 1449 Hellman, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Perry Bell, 522 E. 17th, Long Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Butler, 262 5th St., Garden Grove; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bergland, 542 E. When You And I Were Young Maggie

April 17, 1930. Ivor Hautala's Ord band won the right to enter the state contest by their showing at Kearney. The Ord light and power was cut off for about two hours when rain shorted the line leading out of the plant. What was described as a million dollar rain fell in Valley county, the amount at Ord being $1 of an inch. Lumir Beran won both the half mile and the mile runs in record breaking time in the Loup Valley track meet held at Ord. The Ord baseball team was to open the season at Broken Bow, according to Manager Charley Arnold. Members of the Farmers Union in the second district, comprising six counties, held their convention in Ord. Jay Aulsebrook installed his first shadelet canopy on the front of the Aulsebrook Bros. store. W. A. Anderson passed his 77th milestone. He said he had things planned for the next ten years, and he has been spared to do them.

April 15, 1920. Mrs. Mary Louise Gray, widow of Senator Moore Gray, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. James Hastings in Mira Valley, at the age of 71 years. Edwin Clements was awarded the contract for the building of the content culverts in the county on the federal aid road. Sigurd Moller and the horse he was riding fell into one of Ord's sewer ditches, in which the water was six feet deep. Marion J. Cushing had decided to accept the nomination for state senator if enough of his friends wrote his name in at the primary. Valley county had about a foot of heavy damp snow on April 10, in the form of a regular blizzard. Moses P. Kinkaid was running for congress in what chanced to be his last campaign. Harvey Hohn and Mac Lawrence, working on the sewer ditches, were caught in a cavern, but were rescued by the rest of the crew.

April 14, 1910. Mrs. William Wigent passed away at Sargent at the age of 63 years. George A. Kellison fell while working at his job as carpenter, and just about ruined his thumb. Thomas E. Conner and Gladys M. Howard were married at the Methodist parsonage in Burwell by Rev. H. H. Miles. Halley's comet was in sight, and everybody was getting up early in the morning to have a look at it. Ralph Stafford severed his connection with the Hewett and Stafford blacksmith shop in Elyria and moved to Ord. Parties were in Omaha selling mining stock in a silica mining company to be located near Scotia Junction in the chalk hills.

April 10, 1900. The barn on the A. P. Jensen place burned. The horses and harness was saved, but the rest of the contents were lost. Loss $1,000. "The Value Of Alfalfa As A Forage Crop," was the subject of a paper read by G. G. Clement at the Valley County Farmers' Institute. Rev. Wayne Smith arrived in Ord and preached his first sermon at the Unitarian church. Mrs. C. Eason and her children returned to the community after spending a year and a half in Iowa, and went to their home at Rosevale. Jacob Shoemaker and Miss Rosalie Soppetsa were married by County Judge R. L. Staple on Monday, April 16. Dr. R. A. Billings, J. F. Colby and W. W. Haskell were getting lined up for a trip to Cape Nome, Alaska, in search of gold. Arthur R. Honnold went to Grand Island to attend business college. L. D. Bailey bought from W. W. Haskell the tract of land on which the building housing Haught's Cafe is located. Sargent dedicated his new Congregational church building on Sunday, April 15.

April 18, 1890. The county board had raised the salary of County Superintendent Parks to $1,000 per year. The district declamatory contest was being held at Harvard, Neb., and Prof. Hussey and Miss Edith Robbins, Ord's representative, had done there.

The Way Typewriter company was organized in Ord with an authorized capital of $40,000, to exploit a typewriter designed by D. C. Way. The incorporators were Mr. Way, J. A. Patton, E. E. Clements, George W. Hall, H. E. Babcock, M. Klinker and Herman Westover. Sunday, May 27, was to be the 10th anniversary of the organization of the Ord Baptist church. Guy Laverly was teaching the spring term of school in Vinton Dist., No. 23. Fifteen cars of stock were shipped out over the railroads from Ord in less than a week. Patty's Palace Pharmacy had a soda fountain installed, Mat. J. Coffin doing the work. A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. H. Losce of Geranium, on Friday, April 11.

April 17, 1885. Kingsbury Hoff had decided to dispose of his property in Ohio and locate in Valley county. Chapman, proprietor of the Transit House, served meals to 100 dinner customers on one Saturday. How would present day restaurant men like business on that scale? Notice for bids on a new school house for Dist. No. 48 were published in the Quiz. This was 5 miles west of Elyria. Harry T. Johnson of Mira Valley was a dealer in Percheron horses, such as Harry Presley is today. The male colts he raised were selling at from $300 to $700 each. A. E. Wheeler was running a meat wagon to Burwell and through Mira Valley, supplying fresh meat and gathering up butter and eggs. The Ord Opera House association was formed, with the following officers: D. W. McCord, president; H. A. Walker, secretary; J. S. Russell, treasurer. The building was the one in which the Goff Hatchery is located. Ezra McMichael moved his drug store to the Oddfellow building.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

In spite of the fact that two members of the Tribune force, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Parsons, were hurt in a car accident the Saturday before and definitely out of the running, the Burwell Tribune came out complete as usual and right on time. R. A. Lincoln had a great success at the opening of his Phillips 66 service station in Scotia last Saturday. One thousand candy bars, 250 cigars and 500 toy balloons were given away, and Mr. Lincoln received a telegram from Frank Phillips congratulating him on the event. Rev. and Mrs. F. E. Schroeder of the Morning Star Evangelical church of Callaway have received their appointment to the mission field in Africa and will sail in October or November to British Nigeria. Schuyler will hold a seventeenth anniversary celebration in June, and chairmen of the various committees have been announced. Mr. and Mrs. Irving McKinley, formerly of Burwell, are on the list, Mr. McKinley heading the rural relations committee, and his wife costumes committee. The proposal to build a water system at McCool Junction to furnish fire protection and provide hydrant water for homes was defeated by a vote of 80 to 25. Somebody burgled the home of Percy Blair, Wahoo chief of police, taking a large number of articles, including his revolver and bill fold with driver's license. He got a card from L. O. Bates, chief of police at Niles, Mich., saying that he had met with the same mishap on Febr. 8, and that he was still looking for his revolver. Installs New Grinder. Charles LeMasters has just installed the latest thing in valve grinding equipment in his shop in the rear of the bus depot. It is known as the Sioux Valve Seat grinder, and is especially suited for the hard seats with which the later models of cars are equipped. It is also much more convenient than the older types, since the work can be done without removing the engine from the car. Dr. and Mrs. C. W. Wilcox and son Billie were Ord visitors Sunday. When they returned to their home in Ansley that evening they were accompanied by Mrs. Eugene Leggett, who visited there until Monday evening when Mr. Leggett went after her.

OIL DRILLINGS IN NEBRASKA

This is the second of the series of articles concerning oil drillings in Nebraska. All information was compiled by research workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project WPA, from old newspapers and from data supplied by the University of Nebraska. As mentioned in the first article of this series, the years 1888 and 1889 were devoted principally to the quest of oil. One of the more ambitious undertakings planned during that period was formulated at Lincoln. The Daily Nebraska State Journal for Aug. 4, 1889, reported that a board of directors appointed by the community, had completed negotiations with a drilling firm from Iowa and work was scheduled to start within ten days at a site just outside of Lincoln. A great fuss was made over the project. The drillers, in this case, agreed to conduct drilling operations only under the condition that at certain depths they would receive pay for the number of feet they had drilled. This procedure was unusual for that period when most drillings were promotional affairs, instigated by unreliable operators who hoped to acquire a "meal-ticket." As nothing more concerning the venture was mentioned in the newspapers, it is presumed that it was abandoned. From 1890 to 1900 there apparently was a great amount of activity on the part of promoters judging from the number of drillings that were begun but never completed. At Dannebrog, a group formed a corporation and adopted the title "The Dannebrog Mining Company." The purpose of the organization was to drill for oil and other minerals. After an auspicious start, this drilling also "fizzled out." In 1895, a gas strike was reported at Craig. Three years later a Seward paper informed its readers that oil had been found on a farm near Elmwood. These reports were never followed up, at least not by the newspapers, and apparently were just rumors. In those days, newspapers many times failed to check up on such rumors, and as a result people became unduly excited. Shortly after the turn of the century there began an era of wholesale drillings which probably cost the people of Nebraska hundreds of thousands of dollars. "Doodlebug artists" were everywhere and this, plus the fact that everybody was greatly interested in the possibility of finding oil, led to many drillings that under normal circumstances would never have been started. The most complete reports of any drilling were found in the Beatrice Daily Express. The first account from that paper, July 31, 1906, stated that a contract for drilling had been let and drilling was to start soon. A Colorado oil man, who was spokesman for the group promoting the operations was going about the state displaying a piece of black bubble-cored rock which he had "produced" of oil color. He said that deep well machinery was to be shipped in the next day or two, but the next report found by research workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, stated that as soon as "arrangements can be made for the placing of the drill apparatus, the machinery will be shipped from Americus, Kansas." It was reported that the people behind the venture were gratified over the fact the operations would soon commence after having been disappointed so often "by the promise but non-appearance" of the machinery. On Nov. 22, drilling was again delayed, this time by a shipment of casing, but despite all these annoying delays the promoters still maintained an attitude of confidence that oil would be found. Two months later drilling had reached a depth of only 900 feet and still it was expected that oil would come gushing forth any time. Also to demonstrate further their optimistic outlook, the drillers had taken leases on over 10,000 acres of land near Tecumseh. While this "drilling with delays" was going on, a group of Lincoln men were reportedly having success at what was known as the "Burnham Well," just west of Lincoln, near the location of the present Pioneers Park. Showings of oil and gas were said to have been found at a depth of 1160 and 1440 feet and these signs spurred the drillers on until a depth of 2465 feet was attained. Unfortunately the well later proved to be a "dry hole" as far as oil was concerned, and drilling was abandoned. To this day, however, visitors to Pioneers Park may see what remains of the old well located just south of the picnic grounds. The well still flows a small stream of blackish water with an occasional gas bubble bursting at the surface. Nevertheless, the indications of a possible oil content found in the Burnham well only gave impetus to the drilling at Beatrice, which by Feb. 28 was again stalled, this time by a steel "shoe" which had been lost at the bottom of the well. It was feared that a new well would have to be sunk if the shoe was not recovered. A few days later, the Colorado man left for St. Joseph, Mo., after a disagreement with several other men who were interested financially in the well. He stated that "he was hampered on all sides" and that he was leaving for good; to develop a new field somewhere in the south. Drilling was again delayed, but W. N. Farlow, upon whose farm the well was located intended to continue. However, records of later drillings were never found. (To be continued)

Orville Hurlbert Was Buried at Ord Friday

Orville Hurlbert was born in Marysville, Mo., March 20, 1875, and passed away at 10:30 a. m. last Tuesday at North Platte, at the age of 65 years and 19 days. Mr. Hurlbert as a small boy moved from Missouri with his family to Garfield county, and there he grew to manhood. Jan. 13, 1903, he was married at St. Paul to Vane's Jirsa. He had lived in the Farwell, Sargent and Rosevale communities. In 1935 he moved to North Platte, where he made his home with his daughter until his death. He leaves to mourn his passing two sons, Elbert of Maxwell and Earl of Oceanide, Calif., one daughter, Mrs. Henry Runge, North Platte, one sister, Mrs. Anna Middaugh, Bismark, N. D., several half-brothers and sisters, and three grand children. His father, mother and wife preceded him in death. Funeral services were held from the Pearson and Anderson chapel Friday, Rev. G. C. Roberson officiating. A quartet, Mrs. George Watts, Mrs. Elmer Hallock, George Watts and Aubrey Davis sang, "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere," "The Old, Rugged Cross," and "In The Garden," with Mrs. Aubrey Davis accompanying. This pall bearers, all old friends and neighbors, were Elmer Hallock, Herman Swanson, Roy Swanson, Henry Struckman, Clair Beebe and George Watts. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

—W. W. Loofbourrow was taken very ill Thursday and his condition this week is said to be quite serious. His son, Cecil Loofbourrow, of American Falls, Ida., arrived Monday morning to be with him. He is being cared for by his daughter, Mrs. John Chatfield.

LEGAL NOTICES

Munn & Norman, Attorneys. NOTICE OF SHERIFF'S SALE. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of Sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of the Eleventh Judicial District within and for Valley County, Nebraska, in an action therein pending wherein The Federal Land Bank of Omaha, a corporation, is Plaintiff and Stanley E. Gross and Minnie M. Gross, husband and wife, Julius Gross and Mary M. Gross, husband and wife, are Defendants, I will at two o'clock P. M. on the 21st day of May, 1940, at the west front door of the court house, in the City of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, offer for sale at public auction the following described lands and tenements, to-wit:

The Southwest Quarter of Section Eighteen, in Township Eighteen, North of Range Fourteen and the Southeast Quarter of Section Thirteen, in Township Eighteen, North of Range Fifteen (except the West 60 acres thereof and except 1 67-100 acres deceded to the State of Nebraska as shown by deed recorded in Book 44 at page 99) all West of the Sixth Principal Meridian in Valley County, Nebraska. Given under my hand this 15th day of April, 1940. GEORGE S. ROUND, Sheriff of Valley County, Nebraska. By FRED J. COHEN, Deputy.

John P. Misko, Attorney. IN THE COUNTY COURT OF VALLEY COUNTY, NEBRASKA. Estate of Wencel Misko, Deceased. The State of Nebraska, to the creditors and other persons interested in said estate, take notice: That the time limited for presentation and filing of claims against said estate is August 1st, 1940; That I will sit in the County Court Room in said County on August 3rd, 1940, at 10:00 A. M. to examine, hear, allow, disallow or adjust all claims and objections duly filed. Dated April 6th, 1940. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge (SEAL) 2-31.

PUBLIC NOTICE. The Chairman and Board of County Supervisors of the County of Valley, in the State of Nebraska, by resolution duly passed and entered in the minutes of their proceedings on the second day of April, 1940, in accordance with Sections 11-601 to 11-604, inclusive, of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, 1929, directed that public notice be given, stating that the County of Valley has outstanding and unpaid bonds in the total principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), consisting of: Refunding Bonds in the principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), dated March 1, 1935, due serially, optional September 1, 1940, numbered 21 to 51, inclusive, in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, bearing interest at the rate of Three per centum (3%) per annum, which were authorized by a resolution of the board of County Supervisors passed and approved the 14th day of June, 1935. That since the issue of said bonds, the rate of interest has so declined in the market that by taking up and paying off such bonds by an issue of Refunding Bonds of the County, a substantial saving in the amount of yearly running interest will be made to the County, that the County has accumulated funds for the payment of the principal of said bonds and has no money in any sinking fund which may be applied thereon; that the indebtedness of the County on account of the principal amount of said bonds is Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00) and that the principal indebtedness is sought to be taken up and paid off by means of Refunding Bonds of the said County in the principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), to be dated May 1, 1940, bearing interest at the rate of Two and one-quarter per centum (2 1/4%) per annum, payable semi-annually, which the Chairman and Board of County Supervisors of said County propose to issue. Public Notice is hereby given that any taxpayer of the County of Valley may file objections to such proposed action with Ign. Klisma, Jr., County Clerk, at his office in the Court House in the City of Ord, on the 26th day of April 1940, between the hours of 9:00 o'clock A. M. and 5:00 o'clock P. M., or during business hours on any day prior to said date. IGN. KLISMA, JR., County Clerk. (SEAL) April 10-31.

Davis & Vogeltanz, Attorneys. Notice of Sheriff's Sale. Notice is hereby given that by virtue of an order of sale issued by the Clerk of the District Court of Valley County, Nebraska, and to me directed, upon a decree rendered therein on June 28, 1939, in an action pending in said court, wherein The Prudential Insurance Company of America, a corporation, is plaintiff, and John D. Albers, et al., are defendants, wherein the plaintiff recovered a decree of foreclosure in the sum of $13,534.53 with ten per cent interest from said date, which was decreed to be a first lien on the Southwest quarter and the South half of the Southeast quarter of Section 33, Township 20; and the Northwest fractional quarter, and the North half of the Northeast fractional quarter of Section 4, in Township 19; all North of Range 14, West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, containing 474.16 acres, subject to 17.76 acres conveyed to frigate district for canal right of way, all according to Government Survey, in Valley County, Nebraska, and wherein I was directed to advertise and sell said real estate for the payment of said decree with interest and costs. Now, notice is hereby given that I will on Tuesday, May 1, 1940, at two o'clock P. M. at the west front door of the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, sell the said real estate at public auction to the highest bidder for cash to satisfy the amount due on said decree and costs. Dated this 29th day of March, 1940. GEORGE S. ROUND, Sheriff of Valley County, Nebraska. April 3-5t.

Davis & Vogeltanz, Attorneys. State of Nebraska, Valley County, ss. Notice. All persons interested in the estate of James T. Johnson, deceased, including heirs and creditors, are requested and required to appear at my office in the court house in Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, on April 24th, 1940, at ten o'clock A. M., and show cause, if any exists, why the application and motion of Steve Caroski to reopen said estate, for distribution of Lot 3, in Block 23, in the Original Townsite of Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, for a finding of heirship, a decree finding that due notice has been given to creditors, a decree barring claims against said estate and for such other and further order as may be just and equitable, should not be granted. Dated March 29th, 1940. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge. (SEAL) April 3-3t.

Samuel De Govia, Once of Ord, Died in Omaha Samuel De Govia, a resident of Ord more than 40 years ago, and more recently of Omaha, passed away quite suddenly last Wednesday morning following a heart attack after supper the night before. The body was shipped to Ord on the Union Pacific Friday evening, and committal services followed at the grave in the Ord cemetery. Rev. G. C. Robberson in charge. Funeral arrangements here were taken care of by Fraziers. Accompanying the body were a daughter, Mrs. Boy Abble and husband, their son-in-law, Bob Bushman, and Mrs. Ray Hoagland and son, Jack, all of Omaha, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Spencer of Scotia. Mrs. DeGovia, who has been sick in bed for some time, was unable to come. Mrs. L. J. Auble of Ord is a cousin of Mrs. De Govia as is Mrs. Hoagland. Mr. and Mrs. DeGovia celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Omaha a few months ago, and the Quiz carried the story at the time. When he lived in Ord he did draying, looked after a brickyard, and did whatever work he could find. For four years he was instructor in the shoe shop in the Nebraska School of the Deaf, but lost his position when kept home by illness.

Soangetaba Camp Fire. This Camp Fire group met at the home of Verda Munn. Election of officers was held, with the following chosen: president, Marilyn Ollis; vice-president, Carol Johnson; treasurer, Carolyn Anderson; secretary, Mary Cathryn Travis; scribe, Shirley Anderson; song leader, Marilyn Parks. For the exhibit one Camp Fire girl in the group will write about the water works; two others will write about a medicine chest and what it contains; the rest will make posters.—Vedra Munn, Scribe.

Ta Wan Ka Camp Fire. The Ta Wan Ka Camp Fire girls met at the home of their guardian, Mrs. Ed Oetkin, Tuesday, April 2, with all nine members present and one guest. Marianna Russell became a new member. The girls made posters as their donation to the firemen's infirmary fund. Saturday, April 7, they had Tag Day, and made $6.45 for their treasury. April 10 they met with Patty Thompson.

Ord Boy Scouts Attend Loup City Honor Court Rex Jewett, scoutmaster, Wilmer Anderson, assistant, and Keith Lewis took a group of Ord Boy Scouts to Loup City Monday evening to attend a court of honor held there. A very fine program was put on by the Loup City Scouts under the supervision of their scoutmaster, Rev. Hawes. Ord boys in attendance were awarded merit badges and honors as follows: Warren Allen, 6 badges; Harry McBeth, 6 badges; Cornelius Bismond, 6 badges; David Milliken, 5 badges; Gould Flagg, 4 badges; Bob McBeth, 3 badges; Orville Stoddard, 3 badges and star scout award; Raymond Vogeltanz and Billy Fafeta, 1 badge each. Bob Gruber took notes on the meeting, and furnished the following information: Arcadia had ten scouts who won 26 badges, 3 star awards, 1 life award, and 3 second class awards. Loup City had 1 scout who won 2 badges, and one star award. In all 21 boys were given a total of 63 merit badges, and sixteen won merit awards, five being made star scouts and one a life scout. It is the opinion of all who attended that this was the best meeting of the kind held in this territory. In addition to the boys mentioned above, several attended who had not earned further awards. Cosmo Club Entertains Ladies Monday Evening Monday evening at the City Cafe the members of the Cosmopolitan club entertained their wives in the gala event of the season. The ten piece orchestra from the high school played a number of selections throughout the meal. The personnel included: Harry McBeth, Dean Misko and Lyle Flagg, saxophones; James Ollis, Gerald Jirak, Gerald Stoddard, trumpets; Orville Stoddard, trombone; David Milliken, drums; Rodney Rathbun, piano; Christina Petersen, bass viol. Bob Gruber then gave a reading a dissertation on football, as given by the announcer. This was very well presented and received much applause. Following the dinner the group attended the Ord Theater, where "Northwest Passage" was being shown. —Harvey Hohn returned Friday from a ten day stay in the veterans hospital at Lincoln. The doctors there found nothing serious the matter with him, but put him on a diet. He is feeling greatly improved, especially with the worry off his mind.

Four Rotarians Take Flags to Ravenna Club The "parade of flags" Rotary club feature, was carried on Thursday by four members of the Ord club, Dr. George R. Gard, L. D. Milliken, Wm. Darges and George Allen, who took the display to Ravenna and passed it on to the club there. The "parade of flags" comprises the flags of the 70 nations in which Rotary International is represented. While in Ord the flags were on display in the window of the Beranek drug store and created much interest and comment. New Ships Named for Clippers Recalling the glory of the American Merchant Marine in the middle of the last century, the United States maritime commission has selected the names of 20 of the most famous clippers, best ships of their day, for C-2 type ships to be constructed. The first 14 will be named Donald McKay, Flying Cloud, Lightning, Rainbow, Nightingale, Comet, Raven, Challenge, Northern Light, Sweepstakes, Sea Witch, Hornet, Sea Serpent and Meteor. There was some diversity of opinion as to who the two school girls were in last week's old time picture, only two of the guesses going back far enough, since the date set in the story under the picture was fifty years ago.

Mrs. Martha Spencer Ruhl of Grand Island guessed them as Mary and Nellie Malden. Miss Cecel Tully thought they were Maud and Edna Barnes, and that Jessie Ferguson had sent in the picture. Miss Barbara Lukesh and Dr. George R. Gard guessed them to be Miss Myrtle Milligan and either Mrs. H. H. Clement or Mrs. John L. Ward.

Mrs. C. E. McGrew made one guess, which was wrong, and then came back later and guessed rightly that they were Misses Jennie and Fannie McCord, left to right. Jennie died some years ago, but Fannie is Mrs. John Nedharth and lives at Huntington Park, Calif. The other McCord sister, Cora, is Mrs. W. L. McMullen, sr., of Burwell.

The people above should be easy for any of the older Ordites to guess, as both couples were prominent in business and socially while living in Ord. In fact one of the ladies still lives here. Let the Quiz hear from you if you think you know.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS, Madue Petersen, on the 4th day of March, 1940, filed an application with the City Council of Ord, asking that an on and off sale license to sell beer in the City of Ord be granted her, and,

Paul Blessing Places in Hastings Track Meet Paul Blessing, Kearney State Teachers' college weight man, found himself in fast company at the college track and field meet held at Hastings Friday in which Hastings, Kearney and Wayne college teams participated. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Blessing of Ord. At that he took second place in the discus and javelin, throwing the latter 173 feet 2 1/2 inches, which is a long throw in almost any company. He was only 2 feet 1 inch behind the first place man. His discus distance is not given, but it must have been about 120 feet. Miss Florence Jeardoe, who has been employed at the Hans Petersen home in Springdale, went to Grand Island on the bus Monday morning for a visit with her sister.

Ord in Big Track Meet, Scores Higher than York Coach H. F. Brockman took the following track and field men to Kearney last Friday to compete with York, Kearney, Grand Island and Hastings in a five school meet, Raymond Hurlbert, Raymond Tatlow, Gerald Stoddard, Henry Benda, Harold Christensen, Gould Flagg, Alex Cochran, Lloyd Gewoke, Richard Beran and George Cetak. Mr. Brockman did not expect his lads to make much of a showing in such fast competition, but they did well enough to bring home a higher score than York. Outstanding was the performance of Vernon Van Wie, son of Norris Van Wie of Hastings, who ran the 120 high hurdles in 16 seconds flat against a strong wind, to make a new meet record. Van Wie also ran the 220 low hurdles for another first place, in 24.2 seconds, and tied for second, third and fourth in the high jump. He is a grandson of Mrs. R. O. Hunter of Ord. Grand Island was high for the meet with 50 1/2 points, Hastings second with 44, Kearney third with 33, Ord fourth with 13 1/2 and York fourth with 7 points. For Ord Hurlbert won third in the high hurdles, second in the low hurdles, third in the broad jump, and 1/4 point in the relay, to lead the Ord team with 7 1/4 points. His time in the high hurdles was 16.4 sec., fast enough to win in most meets. Tatlow went 10 ft. 10 in. to take 3 points and second place in the pole vault. Christensen tied three others by jumping 5 ft. 5 1/2 in., in the high jump, which, with 1/4 point in the relay gave him 1 1/4 points. Benda jumped well over 18 feet to take fourth in the broad jump, and took 1/4 point in the relay to make 1 1/4 points. Stoddard was fourth man on the relay team and accounted the other 1/4 point to make Ord's 13 1/2 points.

SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

We had a strong market on all stock Saturday, cattle 50c to 65c higher, shoats 30c to 75c higher, fat hogs bringing within 20c of Omaha top. Horses were strong, from 10 to 20 dollars higher. All of this was due to a broad demand and we look for this demand to continue for a seasonal period. If you have any stock to sell now would be a good time as we cannot get enough to supply the demand as buyers are coming from an increasingly larger radius.

In next Saturday's sale it looks like 100 head of all classes of cattle, including steers, lightweight calves and milk cows.

6 head of good work horses.

1 2-wheel trailer in extra good shape.

Consign your stock to this market.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

A letter from Eva Portis to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis, written at Galveston, Tex., where she is nursing in a hospital, tells of an interesting visit to the seaport, Texas City, across the bay from Galveston. She writes "Have you folks read about the sea-trains? They are huge boats that they load whole box cars on. There are just three ports in the United States equipped to handle them, New York, New Orleans and Texas City. Texas City has only recently gotten their equipment set up and the first sea-train came in about a week ago. Had 110 box cars loaded with sugar, came up from Cuba. We didn't see them unload but did see them load. They have a huge derrick that picks up a section of the railroad track with the box car on, swings it up into the air and then lets it down on the ship in place and then the car is taken off the track into its place on the ship. We climbed the longest ladder I ever saw, a regular swinging ladder on the outside of the ship. The ship has four decks for loading cars and four tracks on each deck. The loading place was in the center and they would put a car on one end and then on the other. They were loading rice to go back to Cuba. The hoisting machinery was made and assembled at some steel shop in Pennsylvania and was shipped down here on a freighter, all in one piece. Strawberries are on the market here but are 18c a small box."

The Bryan Portis family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Portis. Freida Madsen was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine. Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Willoughby were Sunday dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. W. H. Stevens of Overton. They took Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby and Duane to Lexington where they spent the day with Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Cress and the Dale and Ronald Cress families.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Mayo are spending a few days this week in Merina with Mr. and Mrs. Dale Halverson. They went over Sunday and Mr. Mayo went on to Chadron on a business mission. Mrs. Mayo is feeling much improved from her recent attack of the flu.

Mary Frances Manchester took a load to Burwell Tuesday night to attend the play, "Our Town."

Jim Coleman has been busy this week with work on the streets of the village. Some of the low places on the side streets have been filled in, among them a place in front of the Roy Stine residence. Some gravel was put on main street to replace the old.

After arriving it was decided Grover could come home with them if he could be brought back later for further treatment. He is able to get around on crutches and hopes to go back to school in a few days.

Mrs. Jennie Hawkes went to St. Edwards Saturday night with Mr. Treadway and spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hawkes. Mrs. John Manchester and Betty Jo looked after the cafe for her while she was away.

The Community club held their April supper in Barrett's cafe Monday night with fifteen attending. A report from the pop-corn committee was given by M. R. Cornell. Plans for the rural track meet to be held Apr. 26 which the community club is sponsoring were discussed and arrangements made for a member of the club to accompany Mr. Willis on his visits to the rural schools this week. A committee of Bates Copeland, M. R. Cornell and Floyd Reddon was appointed to investigate anyone soliciting funds for any purpose. Many times someone comes to the village in the interests of some project and the purpose of this committee is to pass on the worthiness of these. An official committee was appointed to promote a picture show for our town.

Mr. and Mrs. Elna Hurley were Saturday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Zanger. Mrs. Agnes Manchester and Donna were Friday supper guests in the Ben Nelson home.

Ben Nelson made a trip to his ranch at Ainsworth over the week end. The Floyd and Arthur Hutchins families and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Jennie Anderson and Merrill. The birthdays of Mrs. Arthur Hutchins and Merrill Anderson were celebrated.

Bohrer says that they arrived at Cody, Wyo., safely and are living in a trailer camp where there are 26 other trailers. There are to be two road projects near there but they are a month too early for work as they are not ready to start for another month.

A mistake was made in the article last week about Charles Barber for there was a band playing in North Loup when he arrived in 1884, directed by Henry Davis. Mr. Barber played in this band, playing his slide trombone which was the first trombone ever seen by many here. It was in '92 that the band he led was organized.

The annual state convention of P. E. O. is being held in Lincoln this Thursday and Friday and several Ord women are attending. Mrs. Mark Tolen and Mrs. C. C. Dale, vice-president and treasurer of the local group are going as delegates and Mrs. C. J. Miller and Mrs. L. D. Milliken will be visitors.

Mrs. G. A. Butts Spoke at Presbyterian Church

Sunday morning at the Ord Presbyterian church Mrs. G. A. Butts spoke on the subject of the "Open Door." A large crowd, including a number of Legionnaires and their wives were in attendance. Mrs. Butts told of her visit to Europe, and described the battlefields there and the American cemeteries. Her impressions of Belgium were depression and worry; of Germany constant activity; of France, verve; and in Switzerland happiness and contentment; a sort of self-satisfaction seemed to pervade England; Holland impressed her with its cleanliness and industry. Those present were highly pleased with her address.

Another Rain and Snow Storm Visits Territory

Rain fell at intervals during the day yesterday, and last night began in earnest, changing to snow shortly after six p. m. Temperatures ranged from 40 above during the day to 30 above last night. Horace Travis reports the total fall to be 3.8 of an inch. The storm was general, according to the radio reports, with a heavier fall in the eastern part of the state. It is thought that the cold will do no harm to flowers, fruit or crops, and they have been retarded by the cold weather.

Sunday was the warmest April 14 in Ord's history, the high reading being 85.

Play "Our Town" Was Great Burwell Success

The play "Our Town" was given by an all Burwell cast in Burwell last night, was a great success. Every seat was sold by last Thursday, but owing to the bad weather a number of people from the country could not get into town to attend. In spite of this, the house was filled to capacity. People came from some distance, the record for distance probably going to Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Baldwin, who came all the way from Hebron. Everybody was highly pleased with the play and the way the actors carried their parts.

Power Question Again Discussed

Thursday an informal meeting was held at the Ord council chamber in the city hall, at which H. C. James, manager of the irrigation district outlined a proposal for the settlement of the controversy between the North Loup district and the municipalities of Burwell and Ord.

Present at the meeting were Councilmen J. W. McGinnis, Joe Rohla, M. Biemond and Robert Noll, the newly elected councilman, Frank Krikac, Mayor M. B. Cummins, City Attorney Clarence M. Davis, City Manager George Allen, City Clerk Rex Jewett, and Roy Hudson, president of the North Loup district, besides Mr. James.

Mr. James' proposal contained a number of details which were not definitely worked out, but stipulated that the Village of Burwell and the City of Ord were to go back on the high line, the rate to Ord being slightly above 1.3c per kilowatt, and the rate to Burwell being about 1.5c per kilowatt, the difference in price being because of the greater amount of electricity used by Ord putting the city in a better bracket.

This proposal is being considered, but no official action can be taken until the reorganization meeting is held April 30. At that time it must be laid over until the meeting on May 6, at which time action can be taken. This procedure has been agreed to by Mr. James.

The council explained to Mr. James that they are interested in any program for the assistance of irrigation, but that they are not interested in power, for the reason that Ord now has better power service than any that could be furnished.

The power committee, Dr. J. W. McGinnis, chairman, Frank T. Johnson, George Allen and Clarence M. Davis, met last night and formed a recommendation which will be presented to the city council at their meeting next Tuesday, April 30. Details were not revealed.

Urge Farmers To Enter P-F-L Contest; $50 Prizes

The committee in charge of the county Pasture - Forage - Livestock program are urging farmers to enter this contest. Any farmer who is planning a well balanced program of feed and livestock production should be interested in the program and the prizes offered make it worth a little time and effort.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce is offering $50.00 in cash prizes for this farm competition and more farmers should enter. See Fred Coe, Bob Noll or C. C. Dale for entry blanks.

Longest Surname in Nebraska Belongs to Burwell Man

Burwell—(Special)—Unlike someone with a longer name comes along, Frank Ciemnoczolowski, of this village, is going to claim the surname championship of Nebraska. If any person knows of anyone with a longer name living in this state, Mr. Ciemnoczolowski would like to hear from him.

W. W. Loofbourrow, 90, and Two Other Pioneers Heed Call

Mrs. C. O. Philbrick Succumbs After Long Illness; Mrs. Fenton Was 89.

In the passing of W. W. Loofbourrow at his home in Ord Thursday, the many friends who knew and admired him felt a distinct loss. Active and about town every day until his final illness, he was a well known figure on the streets and along the roads over which he often went for long walks.

Coming to Valley county 57 years ago and locating in Noble township, he had much to do with the early affairs of the community, the county and Methodist church of which he was a member. He was a man of unusual vigor, and thought nothing of walking to Ord, a distance of 13 miles.

William Wade Loofbourrow was born June 10, 1850, and passed away at his home in Ord at 12:10 a. m., Thursday, April 18, 1940. He would have been 90 years old this coming June. He was born at New Jordan, Ind., the son of John and Maria Loofbourrow.

In 1872 he was married in Indiana to Martha Juleka Lemasters. They lived in Ohio until 1881. He came to Nance county, Neb., in April, 1881, and the family followed in December, 1881. After living a year in Boone county, they came to Valley county in 1883. He took a homestead in the northeast part of Valley county, and also planted a timber claim. This land is still in the family.

Two-Room School Meet Held at Ord on Friday

Friday at Ord occurred the one big event in which the two-room schools of Valley county participate, the annual scholastic and athletic meet. Competing this year were Barker, Valley Side, Union Ridge, Davis Creek and Elyria. Haskell Creek was short of material this year and did not enter the competition.

The forenoon scholastic competition was held at the high school and was keen throughout, with the high honors going to the Barker contestants, who won a total of 35 points, while Valley Side and Davis Creek each won 18 points, Union Ridge 17, and Elyria 12.

This competition was divided as follows: Barker, 19 firsts, 3 seconds and 2 thirds; Valley Side, 8 firsts, 1 second, 1 third; Union Ridge, 4 firsts, 2 seconds, 1 third; Davis Creek, 8 firsts, 7 seconds, 1 third; and Elyria, 6 firsts and 3 seconds.

The reason for the difference in the figures is the difference in the values, and the fact that some had only first place and in some only first and second places.

The athletic competition was held at the fair grounds in the afternoon. Davis Creek dominated the field with a total of 42 points, Barker second with 23 1/2 points, Elyria third with 21 1/2 and Valley Side fourth with 13 points. Union Ridge did not have enough athletes so did not enter this part of the meet.

Davis Creek won 9 firsts, 18 seconds and 1 third; Barker won 7 firsts, 3 seconds and 2 thirds; Elyria won 8 firsts and 3 seconds; Valley Side won 3 firsts and 2 seconds. In addition there was a tie for first and second in the girls' three-legged race, 14 and over, between Barker and Davis Creek, and a tie for second place in the boys' running broad jump, 14 and over, between Davis Creek and Elyria.

The final totals gave Davis Creek the victory over Barker, with 60 points and 5 1/2 points respectively. Just as close was the margin by which Elyria edged Valley Side 33 1/2 points to 31. Miss Clara McClatchey superintended both the scholastic and athletic meets, assisted by the teachers of the rural schools.

The teachers in these schools are: Davis Creek, Mrs. Audine Haller and Miss Gwendolyn Fertig; Union Ridge, Misses Vesta Thornage and Margaret Waller; Elyria, Misses Helen Kalowski and Dorothy Johnson; Valley Side, Misses Minnie Jensen and Gladys Collins; Barker, Miss Mamie Smith and Mrs. Elwin Auble.

Bankers' Banquet Attended by 176; Meeting Success

Group 5 Convention Wednesday Was Enjoyable; Rowan Is the New President.

Bankers of Group 5, Nebraska Bankers association, had one of their most successful conventions in the history of the organization at Ord last Wednesday, thanks principally to the tireless efforts of their hosts, the bankers of Ord, and to a splendid program arranged by the state association.

From breakfast time in the morning until close of the dance after midnight, the whole affair was enjoyable.

A special train bearing about 50 Omaha and Lincoln bankers arrived early Wednesday morning and the visitors were guests of Ord bankers at breakfast in the Masonic hall; at noon all visitors enjoyed luncheon together, the men at the Masonic hall and the women at Thorne's cafe; during the afternoon the men had their business meeting at the Masonic hall while the women enjoyed bridge at the Mortensen home; in the evening a banquet was served at the high school auditorium, followed by a dance in the Masonic hall.

Such was the bare outline of the day's events but there were many highlights that should be mentioned, including able talks in the afternoon by Stanley May, vice-president of the First National bank of Lincoln, and by Herbert V. Prochnow, vice-president of the First National bank of Chicago. C. C. Neumann, president of the state association, also spoke, and Earl Wilkins, of Geneva, gave a humorous discussion on happenings at national and state bankers' conventions.

Election of officers resulted in the elevation of C. H. Rowan, cashier of the Nebraska State bank at Broken Bow, to the presidency, succeeding Emil Felfela of Ord; election of L. J. Hallas, of Ord, as vice-president and of J. L. Langford, of North Platte, as secretary. C. J. Mortensen, of Ord, was named Group 5 representative on the state association nominating committee.

At 4:30 in the afternoon the Ord band, led by Henry Deines, marched to the Masonic hall to serenade the visitors, and finding the afternoon session adjourned marched to the special train where they played several selections. Bankers on the train took up a collection and presented the band with a purse of $25, which will help greatly in swelling the music and instrument fund.

The evening banquet was especially enjoyable. Music was furnished throughout by an orchestra from Kearney and a delicious dinner consisting of fruit cocktail, celery, olives, radishes, fried half spring chicken, string beans, mashed potatoes, head lettuce, salad, apple pie, cheese and coffee, was served by ladies of the Catholic church. Several Ord people were invited as guests to the banquet and 176 people were served.

George A. Munn presided as toastmaster for the speaking program and introduced the new Group 5 officers and members of the state official group who were present. Scheduled talks were made by Perry B. Hendricks, on "Traveling Circuses," and by Ernest Robert Rosse, whose story-telling ability kept the crowd laughing for an hour or more. There also were several impromptu talks and it was almost 10 o'clock before the crowd adjourned, some to the bankers' special train where they were entertained and some to the Masonic basement where a dance was in progress with music by the Kearney musicians who played for the banquet.

Attendance at this Group 5 meeting was much larger than usual at Group conventions, weather was pleasant and Ord enjoyed entertaining the large group of visitors as much as they appeared to enjoy the entertainment.

Rice and Sons Will Run Former Petska Station

Last week Herman Rice and sons entered into a deal with Eugene Petska whereby they took over the Petska Service station at the northeast corner of 14th and H streets. The building belongs to Harry Patchen, who will redecorate it for the new lessees.

In addition to running the station, the Saturday sales will be held on the east part of the lots. Mr. Rice will keep on hand various kinds of sorghums and field seeds for the convenience of the farmers. He will continue to sell Champlin gas, and several kinds of oil.

Reports on Convention.

Edward L. Kokes, president-elect of the Ord Rotary club and delegate to the district convention held last week in Omaha, gave a report of the convention Monday evening at the club's dinner. Afterward Rotarians went to the high school building where photographs were taken by Laverne Duemey. All but two members of the club were present.

Greeley-Ericson Road Will Be Abandoned

The Interstate Commerce commission, in a decision handed down Saturday, approved the abandonment of the C. B. and Q. railroad between Greeley and Ericson. The right to abandon the road had been asked by the company, but was contested by the citizens of both towns and also by the state railway commission.

The road was built into Ericson some fifty years ago, and at the same time a grade was thrown up for some 14 miles up the Cedar valley above Ericson to give the road a priority right to build further in case they desired to do so later. For perhaps 40 years the line operated at a profit, but the past few years it has shown a loss.

Court House Project Is Approved by WPA

A $1,532 project for renovation of the Valley county court house under Work Projects Administration auspices has been approved according to word from Congressman Harry B. Coffee. Work to be performed will include cleaning and renovating walls, woodwork and furniture, refinishing, waxing and polishing floors, clearing and washing and repairing furnishings. Official sponsor is the board of supervisors.

Inhalator Fund Lacks Only $60

Approximately $60 is needed to put the Ord volunteer fire department's Inhalator Fund "over the top," said Secretary Mark Tolen this week. The amount needed is $475 and the fund now contains $415. Firemen are going ahead with plans for a dance to be held Thursday, May 16, and are hopeful that profits of this dance, plus additional donations, will make up the amount needed in the fund.

Friday evening a representative of the company which makes the E & J Inhalator will demonstrate it to firemen, medical men and others interested at the firemen's hall. Later a public demonstration is planned.

Amount previously acknowledged in the fund was $383.20. Last week Ove Frederiksen was credited with giving $1.00 whereas he gave $1.50, so this correction should be noted. New donations include:

- Mrs. W. A. Bartlett, $1.00. Farmers Grain & Supply, $5.00. Rebekah lodge, $5.00. George Lehecka, 50c. Olof Olsson, $1.00. James Schreier, $1.00. Norman Holt, 50c. Legion Auxiliary, $17.50. Horace M. Davis, $1.00. Nimble Fingers club, $1.00.

County Achievement Program Wednesday

Under the direction of Miss Dolcie Waterman, county chairman, and Mrs. Lee C. Nay, group chairman, the annual Valley county Achievement Day program was held Wednesday afternoon, April 17 at the Ord Christian church, beginning at 1:30.

The program opened with community singing, led by Mrs. J. W. Severance, with Mrs. James Ollis as pianist. Three numbers were furnished by the Ord high school music department. These were: a vocal solo, "The Open Road," by Harvey Dahlin, a vocal solo, "The Trumpeter," by Alex Cochrane, and a trumpet trio, "Triplets of the Finest," by James Ollis, Gerald Stoddard and Gerald Jirak.

A talk on "World Affairs," was given by Mrs. David Sims. Mrs. Aitinas Tullis gave a musical skit, "Tripping Along with a Song," with Mrs. J. A. Kovanda as reader and Mrs. Ollis as pianist. C. C. Dale, agricultural agent, then gave a talk, followed by "Exhibit Light Lights," by Mrs. J. W. McGinnis, chairman of the exhibit committee.

The announcements were then given by Miss Waterman, and the meeting closed with more community singing. The exhibits were so many and so varied that it would be difficult to give an adequate description of all of them. However, they excited a great deal of interest and comment, and served to increase greatly the interest in extension club work.

At the close of the afternoon program tea was served in the basement. Mrs. John L. Andersen was elected county chairman, the position held by Miss Waterman the past two years. Mrs. A. A. Wiegand was elected chairman of the Ord group, the position held by Mrs. Nay last year.

Attend Scotia Meeting.

The meeting of the diocesan council of Catholic women was held at Scotia Thursday, beginning with a luncheon at 12:30 p. m., and concluding at 4 p. m. In attendance from Ord were Mrs. James Petska; Mrs. Mike Socha, Mrs. Emanuel Petska, Mrs. Syl Furtak and Mrs. Stanley Absolon. Joe Fajmon took them there in his car. Mrs. Furtak read a very fine paper as a part of the program. The next meeting will be held at Elyria next summer.

East Indians Visit Mrs. Rose Pearson

Many years ago Adam Smith, pioneer Valley county citizen, did his bit for a good cause by furnishing funds for the education of a native East Indian for missionary work. Adam Smith is gone, but the good work he started is still continuing in India.

Last week the man who was educated with Mr. Smith's money, was in Ord, coming here for the purpose of expressing his appreciation to Mr. Smith or any of his descendants he could find. Through the agency of Rev. G. C. Robberson he found Mrs. Rose Pearson, daughter of Adam Smith.

He is known as O. Joshua, is manager of the school of commerce, Lucknow Christian college, Lucknow, India. He is also secretary of the London Chamber of Commerce, education department, and is lay delegate to the general conference of the Methodist church to be held soon at Atlantic City.

With him was Rev. Benjamin Franklin Wishard, ministerial delegate to the same conference. He is district superintendent of the Methodist church, Narsingpur, Central Provinces, India. They are two of a group of twenty delegates coming from all parts of India, and because of the European war, they are all coming the west route for greater safety.

Both gentlemen spoke at the Ord Methodist church Wednesday afternoon, and impressed all who heard them with their fine use of the English language. From Ord they drove to Central City, where they were scheduled to deliver addresses in the evening.

Ord Theatre to Show "Gone With the Wind"

"Gone With the Wind," the picture everybody has been talking about since it was released a few weeks ago, will be shown in Ord on May 2, 3 and 4, announces Manager M. Biemond of the Ord Theatre this week. Matinee tickets will cost 75c, reserved seats for evening shows $1.10, which is much less than admission charges to the show when it appeared in Omaha and Lincoln. Tickets will go on sale this week at Beranek's Drug store.

The picture was filmed from the novel written by Margaret Mitchell and is entirely in Technicolor. Featured players are Clark Gable, Leslie Howard, Olivia DeHavilland and Vivian Leigh.

C & M Grocery Will Open Early in May

A new grocery store to be known as the C & M Grocery will be opened in the Milford building early in May by Fred Cahill, of Ord, and Henry McMullen, of Burwell, it was announced yesterday. The store room formerly occupied by Food Centers was remodeled and redecorated last week and stock is being purchased and the store will be ready for the opening at once.

Manager will be Fred Cahill, who managed the Safeway store here several years. His first assistant will be George Puncocar, who formerly managed a Food Center store at Greeley. Mr. McMullen, who has a grocery and general merchandise store at Burwell, will lend assistance here when required but Mr. Cahill will be in full charge of the store.

Ord Firemen Attend Grand Island School

Members of the Ord fire department have had a busy time this week attending the firemen's school which is being held in Grand Island Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of this week. Chief C. W. Clark, B. C. Boquet, Jr., Chet Austin and H. A. Place went down for the Monday session.

Clark is remaining the full three days, but the others returned home that night. Tuesday Harry Wolf and Alfred Albers attended, and this morning Frank Pray, Mark Tolen and a number of others whose names were not learned made the trip.

The registration for the first morning was 134 men, a surprise for those in charge of the school, who did not expect so many so early the first day. By Tuesday noon the registration had reached the 400 mark, and was expected to pass 500 today.

Boquet was a member of a fire group which made a run and put out a burning auto fire Monday. Tuesday Clark was a member of a group which made a run to the old cannery factory to put out an imaginary fire. A third demonstration run will be made today.

Brother Dies in Missouri

Mrs. Joe Klanecky received a telegram Saturday telling her of the death that morning at Pierce City, Mo., of her brother, John Kresusnyan. She was unable to go to the funeral, which was held Monday, because she is a patient in the Ord hospital, suffering from high blood pressure. Mr. Kresusnyan was about 50 years of age.

12 Superior and 10 Excellent Ratings to Ord Musicians

Prof. Deines' Students Score 100 Unofficial Points to Win Fullerton Contest.

Music directors may come and music directors may go, but the Ord high music department continues to lead all competition.

Last week at the district contest in Fullerton, Professor Henry Deines' students made an even finer record than did any of Professor Dean S. Duncan's groups of former years when they were awarded 12 superior and 10 excellent ratings to win the contest with an unofficial point score of 100.

Superior ratings won by Ord included: James Ollis, cornet solo. Marion Wardrop, saxophone solo. Joy Loft, tuba solo.

Boys' octet, composed of Lyle Norman, Harold Peterson, Gould Flagg, Harvey Dahlin, Lyle Flagg, Alex Cochran, Harry McBeth and Dean Skisler.

Saxophone quartet, composed of Patricia Frazier, Angeline Wachtritz, Margaret Petska, and Iryne Auble.

Saxophone quartet, composed of Dean Misko, Joy Larsen, Marian Wardrop, Kathryn Work.

Woodwind quintet, composed of Bette Vogeltanz, Harry McBeth, Myrtle Auble, LaVay Umstead, Joy Loft.

Boys' glee club. Girls' glee club. Orchestra. Band. Mixed chorus.

According to the judges, the contest between the Ord and Stromsburg string quartets was one of the outstanding events of the Friday competition and so splendid were both groups that each was awarded the superior rating.

Probably the two outstanding large groups in the Fullerton district contest, in the opinion of judges and the audience, were the Ord band and the Ord chorus. The big Fullerton auditorium was crowded to capacity when each appeared and no numbers on the 2-day program pleased to the extent that these did. A pleasant surprise was the fact that the Ord orchestra rated superior over the fine orchestra from Stromsburg, which was given an excellent rating.

In addition to the twelve superior ratings, Ord also received ten excellent ratings, as follows: Christina Peterson, girls' high voice. Harvey Dahlin, boys' medium voice. Frank Robberson, boys' medium voice. Capron Coe, boys' low voice. Harry McBeth, oboe. Emanuel Smolik, clarinet. Madrigale singers. Brass sextet. Trumpet trio. Clarinet quartet.

In the opinion of most of the Ord contestants and Ord fans, this contest presented the keenest competition that the Ord contestants have encountered for a long time, and everyone felt that in the face of such keen competition Ord people should feel very happy at the final result.

Although sweepstakes honors are no longer awarded at district contests it may be interesting to note that on the basis of the point system in use when sweepstakes were given, Ord scored 100 points, Central City 83, Fullerton 80, Albion 78, O'Neill 70, St. Edward 67, Stromsburg 67, Newman Grove 50, St. Paul 36, Burwell 30, Tilden 24.

In the opinion of Ord contestants, music enthusiasts and parents who attended, a most enjoyable time was had by the whole group and the treatment extended to Ord musicians by people of Fullerton was a most pleasant experience. Professor Deines says this was one of, if not the most enjoyable district contests of his experience. This was due in no small measure to the fine cooperation of contestants, Superintendent C. C. Thompson and the other teachers and a host of parents and friends of the school, says Mr. Deines.

No Orders Issued to Shut Off Water

No official order has been issued for shutting off water in the North Loup canals on May 1, said H. C. James a few days ago, in spite of rumors being circulated to that effect. He has told irrigators, he said, that the irrigation board will meet May 1 to discuss possible ways of financing continuation of water service, and that a decision may be expected after that meeting.

L. E. Walford, water master, told Mayor M. B. Cummins yesterday that he has not received any official orders to shut off the water May 1. Mr. James was out of town this morning and could not be reached for comment.

—George Kinsey of Hollywood, Calif., who is now visiting his old home at Arcadia, is in Ord today.

PIONEER-WARRIOR RETURNS.

The city of Ord was signally honored last week although it is doubtful if many of our citizens were aware of it, so quickly does time fly, and so much do the cares of the present make us forget the glories of the past.

Last week a pioneer returned to the land of his youth to find but few of those whom once he knew waiting to greet him. He returned to a city which in the main, knew him not, but here and there he located a survivor of the old days to give him the glad hand of welcome.

Yes, Ord was signally honored by his return, not only because he was a pioneer here but because Marcus E. Getter was one of those who fought that this nation of ours might be one. Ord's last surviving G. A. R. veteran died years ago, but a former veteran and citizen returned to visit us for a time.

In writing up the old time column this week the writer happened upon a notice published by Mr. Getter fifty years ago, which indicated that at that time he was commander of the Ord G. A. R. post. He was not new to the village then, and he was well past 40 years of age. How many past 40 now will be alive in another half-century?

But the mere fact of his having been a pioneer and a veteran of the Civil war is not the most remarkable thing about his visit here. The one thing that struck every one who had the pleasure of meeting him was the fact that he could talk so well and with such accuracy of the events in the early days of Ord.

It is generally agreed by those with whom he talked that they would rather have met him than to have met any other man whose name stands high in the annals of fame. He is still possessed of a splendid voice and a fund of information that makes it a treat to listen to him.

The secret of Mr. Getter's long and happy life is summed up in a few facts. First, he is a product of the pioneer days when men lived roughly and simply. When he went anywhere he walked, for the auto had not yet been invented. He worked hard and thus developed an appetite for the simple fare of those early years.

Second he has a different viewpoint of life than many others have. Many a man of 60 is already living in the past, but Mr. Getter is still living and planning in the future. He already had the purpose of the coming summer, and told them to his friends while in Ord.

Frankly, it is too bad that all the citizens of Ord did not get to see and hear this man with a long and brilliant past whose eyes are still looking into the future. What an inspiration it would have been to those who have felt in recent years that there is little worth while left to live for.

WAR OF AGGRESSION. The people of all democratic nations are asking themselves today: "What kind of a war is this?" If we want to find a real parallel, we must throw civilization back to most 2,300 years and draw a comparison between the career of Alexander the Great and Hitler.

Alexander, it is said, conquered all the then known world, and then wept because there were no more worlds to conquer. Then he died as the result of his insane excesses at the age of 33 years. If Hitler should succeed in conquering all Europe, the same thing would happen to him.

Comparison of Ancient Greece and modern Germany brings out startling facts. Greece was the outstanding nation of the world at that time in point of culture. Today Hitler claims for his nation that it is the center of "Kultur," and for generations the universities of Germany have been recognized as the ultimate in higher learning.

In many years we have no doubt progressed far beyond the goals reached by Greek civilization, but in one line of endeavor, the art of carrying on war, we have gone farther than in any other respect. A modern army could defeat a hundred times their number of the finest Greek soldiers that ever lived.

ways of peace. They got by with it for a long time, but finally a nation that believes in and preaches war has caught up with them. One might remark that it serves them right for being peaceable.

It is up to us to get our house in order here in America. Dies has more snakes than he can kill. Let us get rid of some of the silly slush about "personal liberty" and determine once and for all that un-American activities shall cease.

There are two departments in the Quiz that seem to be giving the readers a lot of pleasure. They are the letters from former residents of this part of Nebraska, now living elsewhere and the old time pictures. By the way, if you mail your copy of the paper to a former resident living at a distance always remember to tell them to write the Quiz.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Nebraska rainfall records, as told by tree rings, are being traced back to the sixteenth century by Harry Weakly, an agronomist at the university.

By studying cross-sections from red cedar logs, this expert can read the story of wet seasons and droughts as if they were written on a printed page.

Weakly is proving that at least 9 long droughts happened in Lincoln county over a period of approximately 300 years. Each drought lasted from about 4 to 8 years. However, one interval of over 30 years with deficient moisture is also shown by the tree rings.

Starting with 1676, the cedar logs display 8 rings closely packed, indicating an eight year dry spell. Then the tree rings grow more widely separated until 1765, when a rainless stretch of five years apparently occurred.

The third drought began during 1795, and also lasted five years. The next dry span, from 1820 to 1824, was extremely widespread, being a matter of record in the diaries of several persons in the New England states.

Another series of rainless years took place between 1839 and 1843. Droughts from then on are otherwise recorded, but are also reflected very faithfully in tree growth.

These are the droughts of 1856 to 1860, 1869 to 1873, 1893 and 1894, and one ending in 1910.

While this study is still unfinished, Weakly does not believe that there is any such thing as regular cycles in weather. He also thinks that the climate has not changed.

Ord Methodist Church Will Have a New Roof

Ray Bissell of Kearney began the job last week of taking off the heavy tile roof of the Ord Methodist church and substituting therefor a new Flint Kote roof. This action was made necessary by the fact that the old roof was too heavy for the supporting framework, had settled, and was beginning to leak.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT! Are We Neutral?

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Are We Neutral? Following are a few of the reasons why we should stay out of the European war, or perhaps a few reasons why we might get in.

At the time Germany was grabbing Sudeeten land from Czechoslovakia, Poland also grabbed a chunk. That was all right then for Poland but a hell of a note when Germany grabbed all of Poland later.

Frank Lillenthal, cheese maker at North Loup who was born and raised in Germany and whose father was killed in the World War, said that one reason for the antipathy of the Germans for the Poles was that the latter charged such heavy toll for the Germans to go across the bottleneck to Prussie, and this toll was not necessary following the Golden Rule.

One man expressed little sympathy for Norway. A month ago they forbade England to cross their country to help Finland. Neither would she help Finland herself. Now she is begging for help.

When Finland was whipped and had to give Russia part of their land, the former tried to get the three Scandinavian countries to sign a non-aggression pact and to help one another in case of invasion. Norway was the country that would not sign it. Now she will have to have help or get whipped, and she is the first one to be invaded.

The same may be said for Sweden. Now she will not help her sister country Norway. She waits until the latter is conquered, then to stand ready to be whipped herself. In place of helping Norway, it seems like she does all she can to help Germany in selling Germany supplies and shipping the iron ore to her, one of the vital elements that may win or lose the German Empire.

The same may be said of Holland and Belgium. They wait and wait until their turn comes, and then take their whipping. They not only do that; they sell all they can to Germany, the very country that will take them eventually. They even shoot at allied airplanes that happen to fly over their border.

All four Scandinavian countries, speaking a language very similar to one another, with interests much the same, would make a nation formidable to withstand most any assault, while separately they fall like a bundle of sticks. But will they cooperate for the good of all? Not much? They will not even come to the other's rescue when the oppressor attacks. One man said it served them right for their selfishness. The same might be said of Belgium and Holland. Together they would surely be much stronger.

Most authorities consider Mussolini to be the smartest of the dictators. They think too, he is too smart to pick a fight against England and France. With England holding the Rock of Gibraltar and France in control of the Suez, Italy could be too easily bottled up.

With Italy's long coast line, she would be easy pickings for the two stronger nations and soon her entry into the war on either side, for or against.

Another point is that the Nile river heads in Ethiopia and should England and Italy go to war, Italy might divert the irrigation waters of Egypt.

Everything seems to be falling right for the Germans. It is just as Hitler wants that each small country wait her turn to be captured. All of them banding together would make an impossible situation for Germany, fighting at so many places at once. As it is, Kennedy came home from London and said the wagers were 40-60 in Germany's favor.

The new map recently issued in the National Geographic shows Germany by far the biggest nation in Europe outside of Russia and this does not show Denmark and Norway as German territory. Denmark has been captured now, and it looks like Norway is nearly so. It is foolish to think Germany will ever give Denmark back her freedom unless she loses the war.

Any more than she will give Poland or Austria or Czechoslovakia their freedom. It is foolish to think Hitler will stop at Norway, or at England or France. It is just as foolish to think he will stop when he has all of Europe under his heel.

The United States has done quite nobly in their attempt to keep out of this war and still help the Allies subdue this oppressor. Yes, we have done well in staying out. But in the orient had it not been for America's goods, ammunitions, shells, scrap iron, Japan could not have been as successful as she was. In a measure we have an ally to Japan in her terrible carnage of the Chinese people.

One group of our nation sells Japan bombs and wares to blow the Chinese into bits; another group of our own people loan money to the Chinese and send Red Cross aid to them. One of the most disgraceful things of our country has been our help to Japan in this way.

Barron's Weekly, through unbiased study, thinks it impossible for the Allies to starve Germany to victory. On the other hand however, the Allies can keep Germany from getting Swedish iron and Balkan oil, these two items may win the war. There is neither oil or iron in Germany of any quantity. Swedish iron is the best on earth and almost indispensable to the machinemade Germany the same as the oil.

English are not especially good land fighters although they are the best seamen on earth. The

Ravenna Defeats Ord in Meet At Broken Bow

Contending on a soggy field and in a bitter cold wind, Ord lost a very close decision Wednesday to Ravenna in the Mid-Six track and field meet at Broken Bow. The final score, 60 to 57 1/2, shows what a splendid contest it was.

The other schools finished as follows: St. Paul, 17 1/2; Loup City, 9; Arcadia, 8; and Broken Bow, 5. No records were broken in any of the events, since weather conditions made this impossible. The summary shows that Ord and Ravenna each won 5 first places, and tied for first place in another, while St. Paul and Loup City each won a first place.

Raymond Hurlbert of Ord was high man of the meet with 15 points which he made by taking first in the 40 dash, the 120 high hurdles, and the broad jump. For Ord Tatlow made 3 and Christensen made 3 points. Flagg made 5, Cetak made 4, G. Stoddard and Benda made 3 each, Beran made 2 and Misko and Geweke each made 1.

Ord's weak point, or perhaps it was Ravenna's strong point, was in the 100 and 200 yard dashes, in which Ord did not place a man, and Ravenna placed for 25 points out of a possible 33. Ravenna also edged Ord in the weight events by taking two first while Ord took none. However, Ord counted 13 points to Ravenna's 11 in the three events.

The summary: 100—Won by Cottrell, Ravenna; second, Wedemeyer, Ravenna; 3rd, Erthum, Ravenna; fourth, Goracke, St. Paul. Time—10.8 sec. 220—Won by Cottrell, Ravenna; second, Erthum, Ravenna; third, Wedemeyer, Ravenna; fourth, Goracke, St. Paul. Time—24.7 sec.

400—Won by Hurlbert, Ord; second, Burnett, Ravenna; third, Dien, Ravenna; fourth, Nicholas, Loup City. Time—57.9 sec. 800—Won by Larsen, St. Paul; second, Tatlow, Ord; third, Roberts, Broken Bow; fourth, Masters, Arcadia. Time—2 min. 21.7 sec.

1 Mile—Won by Flagg, Ord; second, Klingsmith, Ravenna; third, Beran, Ord; fourth, Bishop, Ravenna. Time—5 min. 12.1 sec. 120 High hurdles—Won by Hurlbert, Ord; second, Burnett, Ravenna; third, Fogelson, Broken Bow; fourth, Pesek, Ravenna. Time—17.2 sec.

100 low hurdles—Won by Kelso, Ravenna; second, Nelsen, St. Paul; third, Krummack, Ravenna; fourth, Gogan, Arcadia. Time—12.6 sec. High Jump—Pesek, Ravenna, and Christensen, Ord, tied for first and second; Fogelson, Broken Bow, Geweke, Ord, and Lovejoy, St. Paul, tied for third and fourth. Height—5 ft. 3 in.

Broad jump—Won by Hurlbert, Ord; second, Benda, Ord; third, Gregory, Arcadia; fourth, Bays, Ravenna. Distance—13 ft. 10 1/2 in. Pole vault—Won by Tatlow, Ord; second, Gregory, Arcadia; tied for third, Ord, fourth, Bays, Ravenna, Misko, Ord, Spikes, St. Paul. Height—10 ft. 5 in.

Discus—Won by Rhode, Ravenna; second, Christensen, Ord; third, Cetak, Ord; fourth, Badura, Loup City. Distance—116 ft. Javelin—Won by Rohde, Ravenna; second, Christensen, Ord; third, Badura, Loup City; fourth, Larson, St. Paul. Distance—137 ft. 10 in.

Shot—Won by Spets, Loup City; second, G. Stoddard, Ord; third, Cetak, Ord; fourth, Pesek, Ravenna. Distance—40 ft. 3 in. In the relay the Ravenna team finished first, St. Paul second, and Ord, third. The Ord team comprised Hurlbert, Christensen, Benda and G. Stoddard, each of whom is entitled to an extra half point in their standings for the 2 points made in this event. Coshrane, O. Stoddard and Dahlin were also in the competition, but failed to place.

Mrs. Elsie Wiegard Buried Here Friday The body of Mrs. Elsie Wiegard arrived Friday morning from Oakland, Calif., accompanied by her two daughters, Miss Dorothy Sorensen and Mrs. Anna Sorensen.

Funeral services were held that afternoon at 2, at the Pearson and Anderson chapel, the message being brought by Rev. W. S. Lowe, pastor of the Ord Christian church. A quartet comprising Bob Noll, J. R. Stoltz, Mrs. Clarence M. Davis and Mrs. Joe Jirak and Mrs. Glen Auble at the organ. The pall bearers were Soren Sorensen, Carl Sorensen, Jens Hansen, Chris Hansen, Curt Gudmundsen and Bert Whiting. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Surviving relatives, are Thorvald Sorensen, Gerber, Calif., Laurits, Miss Dorothy and Mrs. Anna Sorensen, of Oakland, Calif., Henry Wiegard of Huntington Park, Calif., and Martin and Alfred Wiegard of Ord. Martin was a patient in the Veterans' hospital in Lincoln, and came to Ord to attend the funeral.

Recipes printed in the Hamburg program bear such titles as "Please, the Wife; Startle the Kiddies." And they had a style show. They had assistant assistors, to eat up the products of the several chefs. They had a camera, a wonder worker, a chop suoy king, a mixer, a culinary wizard, an oven master. Very much fun.

—Irma. —Earl Bebee, who formerly lived in Ord, is now connected with the Russell Williams clothing firm, which operates mens' stores in York and Holdrege. Everett Bebee has a Texaco bulk plant at North Platte and is supplying all the gasoline and lubricating oil being used on the big dam near Ogallala. Norman (Mike) Bebee is still employed on the Los Angeles Times. All are graduates of the Ord schools and have many friends here.

OIL DRILLINGS IN NEBRASKA

This is the third of the series of articles concerning oil drillings in Nebraska. All information was compiled by research workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA, from old newspapers and from data supplied by the University of Nebraska.

Although oil drillings were recorded as far back as 1865 and continued intermittently up to the turn of the century, they were on a minor scale, principally shallow oil well drillings that proved nothing as far as oil was concerned. After 1900, more complete accounts of drilling operations were kept by newspapers and from that time on the State became "oil-conscious"—oil-conscious to such an extent that nearly every rumor of an oil strike was boomed to the heavens.

In the previous article mention was made of the drillings at Beatrice in 1906-07, but no history of oil drillings would be complete without a narration of the activities put forth by the people of Omaha in 1902. The Omaha World Herald, at that time, displayed a great amount of interest in the oil proceedings in that section of the state.

The issue for June 29, 1902, discussed the oil situation in a lengthy review. "That there is oil in the bowels of Mother Earth is well known and that it is down in that portion of the mundane sphere beneath which this city is situated is pretty certain," said the optimistic Herald. The summer before an old man from California had passed through Omaha on his way to Council Bluffs, La., where he had heard of oil being found in a water well. This proved to be a hoax for later developments showed that someone had poured kerosene into the well. Nevertheless, the hoax stirred up the people and caused them to pursue their hunt further.

This same California man, having heard of oil streaks on the waters of Papio creek, west of Omaha, made repeated trips up and down the creek to verify the rumor. It was said that everywhere he looked there was an oily scum upon the waters which burned when flame was applied to it. Not satisfied with just these indications he sunk test wells at various spots along the creek and found evidences of what was supposed to be an oil-bearing sandstone. Confident that he was on the right track, the man returned to Omaha and stated his findings. The jubilant folk of Omaha promptly organized the Omaha Petroleum, Gas and Coal company and sold a million dollars worth of shares at one dollar each.

Little trouble was encountered with this financing venture for many people were eager to fling money into anything that might produce wealth from the earth. The money having been subscribed, the next step was to lease all the land that could be secured near the creek and plans were made to erect drilling equipment on the H. C. Glissman farm, eight miles west of Omaha.

It was expected that a "gusher" would be struck within 2,500 feet, and even before actual drilling had begun the promoters of the company had arranged for a pipeline to carry the oil into Omaha. "With such a large area of land leased by the company, it is figured that thousands of wells can be put down and that the output will be beyond estimation," was a confident assertion made at the time. No gusher was struck, however, and the project was abandoned.

Another active year for promoters was 1908, according to research workers of the Nebraska Writers' Project, WPA. A drilling near Guide Rock, on the William Pettit farm was begun and everything progressed satisfactorily until an "augur" was lost in the well at a depth of about 300 feet. The augur was recovered but it was feared that drilling would have to be abandoned due to lack of skilled labor. A Mr. Wolcutts, in charge of the well, was confident about the striking of oil or gas and his drilling efforts attracted many curious persons from nearby districts.

As drilling progressed the Guide Rock Signal kept its readers fully informed of all new developments. On July 24, 1908, the Signal stated that a "bluish muddy material" was brought out of the well that looked "exactly like blue paint that had too much oil in it."

It was said, at the time, that the well was being sunk at Wolcutts' expense. But in a commercial advertisement which was more than likely sponsored by Wolcutts, a glowing description of how an oil strike would make the territory around Guide Rock boom, made it appear that outside capital was being solicited. A later report showed ed that the promoter had succeeded. He agreed to pay for the first 500 feet but after that depth had been reached citizens of Red Cloud had to pay $2 a foot for each additional foot thereafter if they wished the drilling to continue. A subscription list was circulated which stated, in brief, that Wolcutts agreed to furnish the equipment but would not go down, would be borne by the subscribers. If oil or gas was found, then Wolcutts would either refund the money or issue an apportionate share of stock.

Several later reports were mentioned by the Signal but little headway was made at the well because of numerous breakdowns of machinery and other unanticipated delays. The townspeople rapidly subscribed the money, however, and it was believed that enough would be raised to drill at least 1,000 feet.

On Oct. 2, 1908, the Signal reported that its office was being besieged by requests as to the progress of the well. The Signal complained that the people were too impatient and informed them that the drilling would cost, at a rate of 40 or 50 feet a day, as some persons thought it should. It was rumored that drilling had been abandoned but the paper hastily allayed all fears by explaining that it often takes six months to drill a well.

Drilling continued off and on until 1911. It was reported that on one occasion a small stream of oil began to emerge from the well casing. The resultant excitement was tremendous but as time passed it became apparent that further drilling was not practical. Like most other wells, little more was done to continue the search and the well was capped and forgotten.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Loup county voters recently rejected the proposition to float $15,000 in bonds for the purpose of building a new court house, by a vote of 495 against and 203 in favor. The house on the J. B. Duryea farm south of Scotia has been moved about a half mile west, as the original location was too sandy. Other buildings have been moved there from Scotia.

St. Paul firemen recently elected Edward Haggstrom as their new fire chief, M. D. Rubeck, president, R. Borzych, vice-president, and Charles Havlik, treasurer. R. H. Keating was re-elected secretary. J. L. Webster, editor of the St. Paul Phonograph, used special space last week to tell of the arrival of a daughter to the Websters at St. Francis hospital in Grand Island, name Judith Jean.

Dannsbrog Is No. 1 on the list of towns that will show the Floyd McDermitt program of free movies every week during the summer months. McDermitt, who lives at Oconto, has two circuits of free movies planned, the business men of the towns paying the cost. The new Safeway store opened in Ravenna after two months of preparation, and is said to be one of the finest stores in the entire chain. The manager is Geo. Bohannan.

The Pilot Tribune and the American Legion post of Blair had a busy day Monday distributing 500 trees to those who wanted them to plant on the basis of first come, first served. Upon receipt of a petition signed by 118 electors from Chapman and vicinity, asking that their refusal any beer licenses in Chapman township, the Merrick county board resolved to approve the application of Harold S. Carney.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kamper of near Palmer, Donald, 13, Robert, 11, Lyle, 9, and Lois, 8, put out a fire on the roof of their home in regular firemen style, after it had burned a four foot hole in the roof. The city of Schuyler is making great preparations for their seventieth anniversary on June 6, 7, 8. Most of the male population is sporting beards and 30 committees covering all kinds of activities have been appointed.

Newman Grove's new fire truck has been installed and is ready for any emergency. It is equipped with a special booster pump and a booster tank with a capacity of 200 gallons. A burning straw pile on the Chas. Swenson farm endangered the buildings and an alarm was sent to Wolbach, Belgrade and Fullerton. Neighbors arrived and kept the fire from spreading.

W. W. Loofbourrow, 90, and Two Other Pioneers Heed Call

Some 25 years ago he built the home in east Ord where he lived until his death. After coming to Ord he was employed in the F. J. Dworak store and in other work until he retired from active work.

His wife passed away in 1934, and an infant daughter also preceded him in death. Surviving are three daughters, Mrs. Grace Holman, of La Mesa, Calif., Mrs. Jennie Bee and Mrs. Chattfield of Ord; two sons, C. B., of New Auburn, Wis., and W. C., of American Falls, Ida.; also 18 grandchildren and 19 great-grandchildren.

He was a member of the Methodist church since early childhood, and it was from the Ord Methodist church that the funeral services were conducted Saturday afternoon at 2, Rev. G. C. Robberston in charge of the service and Pearson and Anderson in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Ralph Misko sang, with Mrs. Bud Auble at the piano. The pall bearers were R. C. Greenfield, Evet Smith, Leo Long, George Nay, Ben Eberhart and S. W. Roe. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Mrs. Claude O. Philbrick

After a lingering illness of many months, Mrs. Anna Philbrick, wife of Claude O. Philbrick, passed away at her home in Garfield county April 19 at 12:45 p. m., at the age of 62 years, 5 months and 1 day.

Anna Barbara Kasper was born Nov. 18, 1877 in Washington county, Kansas. At the age of six years she moved with her family to Valley county, where she lived until two years ago when she moved to Garfield county where she resided until her death.

On Jan. 8, 1896, she was united in marriage to Claude O. Philbrick at Ord, Nebr. To this union eight children were born. She leaves to regret her passing her husband, Claude Philbrick, four daughters and two sons, Mrs. Hazel M. Guggenmos of Garfield county, Mrs. Melba Helen Jung of Alhambra, Calif., Cylvan Orlando Philbrick of Garfield county, Alton Earnest Philbrick of Valley county, Mrs. Edith Marie Billups of Carlsbad, Calif., Miss Dorothy Alice Philbrick of Garfield county and one brother John Kasper of Arnold, Nebr. Also eight grandchildren, one great grandson, besides a host of other relatives and friends.

Two infant sons, three sisters and one brother preceded her in death. She was a member of the Methodist church and was a christian to all in need. Her pleasant smile and cheerful words will be missed by all who knew her.

The funeral services, conducted by Frazier's, were held Sunday afternoon April 21, at the Ord Methodist church. Rev. Robberston preaching the sermon. The pall bearers were Wes Miska, Wm. Kasper, Franklin Ackles, Eddie Kasper, Joe Sobotka and Chris Nielson. The music was furnished by a mixed quartet composed of Dorothy Jobst, Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Dr. F. L. Blessing, and Roy Stoltz with Mrs. Bud Auble at the piano. The flower ladies were Mrs. Chris Nielson and Mrs. Will Nielson.

The church main auditorium was filled to capacity with the many friends and relatives.

Eupheonia Chandler Fenton

Eupheonia Chandler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howell Chandler was born Nov. 10, 1850, in Fayette county, Ohio and passed away on April 18, 1940 at the age of 89 years, 5 months and 10 days.

When she was 6 years old the family moved to Decatur county, Ia. Here she grew to womanhood and on August 15, 1869 she was united in marriage to Joseph A. Baker. To this union was born 2 children; a daughter who died in infancy and a son Charles.

After 5 years of married life her husband was drowned. On July 24, 1879 she married Thomas Fenton. To this union was born 4 sons and one daughter.

The family came to Valley county, Nebr., in 1889. Both her husbands, 2 sons and both daughters preceded her in death. Those left to mourn her passing are three sons, Frank of Boelus, Oliver of North Loup and George of Horace, 19 grandchildren, 8 great-grandchildren and many other relatives and friends. She was the last member of the Howell Chandler family.

Mrs. Fenton lived near North Loup for 50 years and then 2 years ago came to live with her son George, at whose home she passed away. She became a member of the Methodist church of North Loup many years ago and kept her faith till the last.

Funeral services were held from the Methodist church at North Loup at 2 p. m., Saturday, April 20, Rev. Olson officiated and the services were in charge of Frazier funeral parlors. Burial was made in the North Loup cemetery.

Dick Rowbal Foils a Bandit in California

Richard Rowbal, 21-year-old Ord man who recently went to Oakland, Calif., and found employment in a restaurant, last week foiled a bandit by hitting him over the head with a butcher's steel, the Oakland Post-Enquirer relates.

The bandit walked into the restaurant at 19th and Franklin streets, produced a pistol and ordered Rowbal to give him the money out of the cash register.

Rowbal handed out eight silver dollars and was reaching for the currency when he noticed that the "pistol" was a child's cap gun. Instead of giving the robber more money he came up from behind the counter with a butcher's steel, hit the bandit over the head and when he fled, gave chase, helping to capture him in a nearby office building lobby.

The Oakland Post-Enquirer printed a two-column picture of Richard demonstrating to his wife, the former Vivian Cummins of Ord, how big the pistol looked to him before he noticed it was a toy one.

Police took the roughly dressed robber to the Alameda County Hospital for treatment for lacerations of the scalp and he gave his name as Harry Wherland, 33, an itinerant. The police suspect old young Rowbal it was a wonder the man wasn't killed, so hard was he struck with the butcher's steel.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Like other new discoveries in medicine, treatment with vitamins, those important factors in our foods that are so necessary to life and health, is likely to be carried to the extreme. Theoretically, if every person ate the variety of foods he should there would be no one sick because of lack of these substances. Bad habits of eating rather than shortage of food are often responsible for sickness of this kind. In fact, the simple, unrefined foods eaten in much the state that nature provides them for us are the most certain to give us what we need in the way of vitamins.

As soon as the investigators began to find disease conditions which were definitely due to lack of certain of these necessary food factors, extracts in the form of tablets, liquids, capsules, etc., which were said to contain various quantities of the then known vitamins, were marketed to the doctors for use in treating these conditions.

More recently, as public interest in these conditions and remedies has become aroused, some firms, perhaps more interested in financial return than in curing people's illness, have advertised vitamin preparations to the public and you state that nature provides them for us are the most certain to give us what we need in the way of vitamins.

At any rate, the men engaged in study of vitamins and the diseases connected with their shortage in the human body continue to give us proven and valuable facts; facts upon which we can rely thoroughly. As examples of some of the latest of these, let me relate the following. In some patients afflicted with diabetes the tiny blood vessels in the retina of the eye become fragile and may break, causing bleeding into the eye-ball. This, of course, reduces the ability to see and may cause blindness. Dr.

Jonas S. Friedenwald of John Hopkins University has proven that Vitamin C cures this weakness of the blood vessels in the retina and prevents the hemorrhage. In some cases it is necessary to give Vitamin B with the Vitamin C to make the person utilize the latter.

Keratitis is an inflammation of the cornea, that clear, transparent part of the eye in front of the pupil. It leads to thickening and loss of transparency of the cornea so the person cannot see through it hence partial or complete blindness. A group of eye specialists have recently shown that riboflavin one of the elements of the Vitamin B complex, will cure this condition. Thus another forward step has been made in unraveling the mysteries of vitamin deficiency.

PONTIAC OWNERS ARE OUR BEST SALESMEN!

READ WHY SO MANY PONTIAC OWNERS GO OUT OF THEIR WAY TO SELL CARS FOR US!

I APPRECIATE IT WHEN FRIENDS RECOMMEND GOOD THINGS TO ME. THAT'S WHY I ALWAYS LIKE TO RETURN THE FAVOR.

WHEN ONE DISCOVERS A REAL "BUY" LIKE PONTIAC, WHY SHOULDN'T HE LET HIS FRIENDS IN ON IT TOO?

MY FRIEND WAS LOOKING FOR A BIG, ROOMY CAR THAT WOULD BE ECONOMICAL TO RUN. WHY SHOULDN'T I TELL HER ABOUT PONTIAC WHEN IT WAS EXACTLY WHAT SHE WANTED?

BECAUSE OF MY MECHANICAL TRAINING, FRIENDS ARE ALWAYS ASKING ME ABOUT MOTOR CARS. I ALWAYS RECOMMEND PONTIAC BECAUSE I KNOW IT'S THE BEST BUY.

TALK TO MOST any car owner and he will probably tell you his car is a good one and let it go at that. But talk to a Pontiac owner and chances are you'll find him so enthusiastic he will go out of his way to sell you on becoming a Pontiac owner too!

And why shouldn't Pontiac owners be our best salesmen? Where else, they say, can you get such a big car, that is just as easy to buy and economical to own as a small car?

Brief Bits of News

Woodman Hall—A light shower fell here Saturday night, just enough to lay the dust. Rain is needed badly. Much of the early sown oats has been killed by the heavy freezing weather around the 10th of April when the temperature dropped to 14 degrees above zero.

—Alfred Klopal, who underwent an operation for appendicitis at a hospital in Broken Bow recently was brought to the Lew Volf home Sunday well on the road to recovery.

—Joe Fajmon and family were Sunday visitors at Frank Smolik's—Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pliva visited at Lew Volf's Sunday.

—Paul and Mildred Waldmann and Miss Fern Wiley were Grand Island visitors Sunday.

—Thirteen hour devotions were held at the Geranium church Sunday beginning with 7 o'clock mass in the morning with adoration by the faithful throughout the day and closing with benediction in the evening. The following were the visiting clergy, Rev. Thomas Murry of Burwell, Rev. John Czajka of Elba, Rev. Anthony Figierski of Poplin, Rev. C. Szumski of Elyria and Rev. Michael Szczesny of Scotia.

—Rev. Figierski gave the sermon.—Mr. and Mrs. Lew Vancura and son Lew and daughter, Wilma and Miss Marie Smolik were Grand Island visitors Sunday.

—One fourth of an inch of rain fell Sunday night.—Twenty-nine pupils took the 7th and 8th grade exams at the National hall Friday April 12 which were conducted by Mrs. Lawrence Waldmann. The following took the 5th grade examinations, Vincent Bruha, Gerald Desmul, Robert Kokes, Jeremiah

McCarly, Bernice Parkos, Jerry Pesek, Lydia Pesek, Adrian Setlik and Vivian Setlik. The 7th grade were Lillie Bruha, Hattie Bruha, Helen Bruha, Rosie Bruha, Albert Cadek, Lillian Geneski, Norma Geneski, Gerald Krikac, Laddie Kvetensky, Doris Kamarad, Richard Lola, Agnes Lukesh, Mamie Pesek, Ernest Rousek, Alma Sich, Evelyn Treptow, Lillian Volf and Donald Waldmann.

—Pleasant Hill—Frank Abels were dinner guests of Charley Goldfish's Sunday. Mrs. Abel and Mrs. Goldfish are sisters.—Will and Glen Eglehoff took a truck load of cattle to Omaha for Glenn Sunday evening. They brought home a load of posts for Will. The roads were so soft after the rain Monday that they left their truck 2 miles from home and walked.

—Delpha and Elwyn Williams came home Friday evening and stayed until Sunday morning when they went back to Jay Davis' to work.—Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Goff and Twila drove to Jay Davis' Friday to see about pasture for their cattle this summer. They also called at Clifford Goff's and Mrs. Hattie Richardson's. Wilma and Elmer Richardson accompanied them home and stayed until Sunday morning. Sunday they were dinner guests of Mrs. Richardson's and Lloyd came home with the Goff's to spend this week.—Mrs. Inez Burrows the Field Woman of the AAA conducted a meeting at the Pleasant Hill school house Thursday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Clare Clement and Mr. Burrows were present. There were about 40 present. Mrs. Don Horner won the prize for the ladies in the contest and Alex Brown the prize for the men. Cake and coffee was served at the close of the meeting.

—Miss Helen Kokes has been out of school for the past week with a severe case of laryngitis

Suggestions for Spring Meals

Grass is greening, planting time is here, boys are playing marbles, girls are jumping rope, birds are singing, the fishermen are beginning to sit on the river bank — everywhere we look spring is in the air.

Spring meals are hardest of all to prepare, for then appetites are changing. In the belief that housewives may be pleased we submit these suggestions for spring meals:

Come to our market for—

- * Picnic Hams
- * Sausage Links
- * Frying Chickens
- * Pot Roasts
- * Frankfurters
- * Pigs' Feet
- * Corned Beef
- * Cottage Cheese
- * Leg of Lamb
- * Summer Sausage
- * Canadian Bacon
- * Sirloin Steak
- * Italian Spaghetti
- * Italian Ravioli
- * Wieners
- * Hens to Boil

—and of course, all staple meats, fresh, smoked and cured.

All kinds of children's pets, from goldfish to ponies, made their appearance Friday in the pet parade given by the kindergarten, 1st, 2nd and 3rd grades of the Ord schools in connection with "Be Kind to Dumb Animals" week. The Quiz photographer, as well as many parents, were on hand to see the unique parade. In the top photo the parade moves off, led by the kindergarten rhythm band in their red and white costumes and followed by children, leading, hauling, carrying or being carried by their favorite pets. Included were kittens, rabbits, turtles, lizards, dogs, fish and a pony. Little Nancy Ann Douglas, of the 2nd grade, is shown at left, near top, leading Ellen Catherine Satterfield's dog, which was appropriately dressed in pajamas. At her right is seen Connie Manchester, also of the 2nd, feeding her kittens, which she wheeled in a doll buggy. A group of 1st and 2nd grade boys, Gerald Severson, Galen Allen, George Marshall, Virgil Witherwax and Lloyd Vaugh Zeleski, display Virgil's rabbits. Below them the Pox twins, Jeannine and Jeannette, feed their Angora cat with a baby bottle, while at extreme right, below, Jimmie Misko, in Northwest Mounted Police costume, "gets his man" while riding Joe Frazier's pony. Many of the children dressed in clown suits, cowboy suits and other garb appropriate to the occasion. Judges were the Misses Lucy Rowbal, Louise Eberspacher and Evelyn Kosch, and they awarded prizes for the largest pet, smallest pet, cleverest costume and funniest costume.

Notice to the Public! There have been many farmer-irrigators ask me the past two weeks if the report is true that the water is going to be closed off May 1 in the North Loup irrigation system. I am not a member of the irrigation board, neither do I have any control over any water rights, but if I was a member of that board, that is the last thing I would ever consent to have done. I have taken the time to call up H. C. James, irrigation manager, who tells me no orders of this kind have gone out officially from his office. He states that he has heard of some rumors to this effect, which appear to be a misinterpretation of facts. Mr. Walford, the watermaster, also told me Tuesday morning that he has received no official orders to close off the water May 1. M. B. CUMMINS, Mayor of Ord

Young People Prepare For Minister's Coming
Rev. W. Ray Radloff and family are expected to arrive in Ord this afternoon from Minatare, so the young people of the Presbyterian Sunday school from the high school and Junior high got together yesterday afternoon, raked and cleaned the yards of both church and parsonage under the direction of Mrs. Gould Flagg. They also trimmed the bushes in the yard, fixed the back steps at the parsonage, and got everything looking fine. The parsonage has new linoleum, and the floors are newly waxed. Rev. Radloff and his family will doubtless appreciate all the work the young people have done in their behalf. —See Petska for new and used furniture. 4-tfc

Notice to the Public! Bicyclists in Ord are getting very careless about riding into the highways from side streets, directly in front of motorists, and refusing to pull over to the side of the street when warned. This is unlawful, so if you get into an accident and get arrested, just blame yourself. There are children in the city who have airguns, who are molesting other children, shooting at livestock and pets, and shooting out car windows. If you have a child with an airgun, check up on him and it might save yourself future trouble. M. B. CUMMINS, Mayor

PUBLIC NOTICE. The Chairman and Board of County Supervisors of the County of Valley, in the State of Nebraska, by resolution duly passed and entered in the minutes of their proceedings on the second day of April, 1940, in accordance with Sections 11-601 to 11-604, inclusive, of the Compiled Statutes of Nebraska, 1929, directed that public notice be given, stating that the County of Valley has outstanding and unpaid bonds in the total principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), consisting of:

Refunding Bonds in the principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), dated March 1, 1935, due serially, optional September 1, 1940, numbered 21 to 51, inclusive, in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, bearing interest at the rate of Three per centum (3%) per annum, which were authorized by a resolution of the board of County Supervisors passed and approved the 14th day of June, 1935. That since the issue of said bonds, the rate of interest has so declined in the market that by taking up and paying off such bonds by an issue of Refunding Bonds of the County, a substantial saving in the amount of yearly running interest will be made to the County, that the County has accumulated no funds for the payment of the principal of said bonds and has no money in any sinking fund which may be applied thereon; that the indebtedness of the County on account of the principal amount of said bonds is Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00) and that the principal indebtedness is sought to be taken up and paid off by means of Refunding Bonds of the said County in the principal amount of Thirty-one Thousand Dollars ($31,000.00), to be dated May 1, 1940, bearing interest at the rate of Two and one-quarter per centum (2 1/4%) per annum, payable semi-annually, which the Chairman and Board of County Supervisors of said County propose to issue.

Public Notice is hereby given that any taxpayer of the County of Valley may file objections to such proposed action with Iga. Klima, Jr., County Clerk, at his office in the Court House in the City of Ord, on the 26th day of April 1940, between the hours of 9:00 o'clock A. M. and 5:00 o'clock P. M., or during business hours on any day prior to said date.

IGN. KLIMA, JR., County Clerk. (SEAL) April 10-3t.

Davis & Vogeltanz, Attorneys. NOTICE OF HEARING. In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska, The State of Nebraska, To all persons interested in the estate of Frances E. Walkup, both creditors and heirs take notice, that Charles R. Hunt has filed a petition alleging that Frances E. Walkup died intestate on January 9, 1924, being a resident of Valley County, Nebraska, and seized in fee of real estate described as Lots 10 and 11, in Block 17, Woodbury Addition to Ord, Valley County, Nebraska, leaving as her only heirs at law her children Frank Walkup, Olive Johnson, Estella Johnson, George Walkup, William Walkup and Charles Walkup, and her grandchildren Carl Walkup, Edith Walkup, Jessie Walkup, Ora Walkup and George Walkup, some of which heirs are known also by other names set forth in the petition; that the interest of the petitioner herein in said real estate is that he has acquired title to said real estate by a chain of conveyances from said heirs of said deceased; said petition prays for a determination of the time of the death of said decedent and of her heirs, the degree of kinship, the right of descent of said real property, a decree barring claims against said estate and for such other and further order as the court may deem right and proper. Said petition will be heard on May 8, 1940 at ten o'clock A. M. in the County Court room in the Court House in Ord, Nebraska. Dated April 17, 1940. JOHN L. ANDERSEN, County Judge. ### In The Good Old Days

The person on the left is now a very well known Ord man, one whom you see almost every day. The same may be said of the one on the right. Can you tell us who they are?

We got a lot of answers as to who the two couples in last week's Quiz were, and most of them were right. Mrs. R. E. Teague phoned at 9 a. m. Thursday and named them correctly. Mr. and Mrs. Otto Murschel and Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Kokes.

One hour late Mayor M. B. Cummins phoned and named three right. He had never known Mrs. Murschel, and thought it might be one of the Fuson girls. Mrs. William Kaiser, here from Canada, came in at 11 a. m. and guessed them right. She used to work for Mr. Murschel in the county clerk's office.

The morning mail Friday brought a correct answer from Dr. George A. Parkins. Mrs. Ed Wilcox named them correctly at 9:30 a. m. the same day, and Mrs. George Hubbard did likewise a half hour later. A dozen others guessed correctly after that, but we had so many we quit keeping track of them.

Cheskchamuy Campfire. The Cheskchamuy Campfire group met Monday at the home of Dorothy Blaha. Ways and means of preventing accidents and the use of firearms were discussed. The girls plan to have a steak fry on Minute Hill next week. After the meeting the hostess served a delicious lunch.
Marilyn McBeth, Scribe.

—Guests Tuesday evening in the Syl Furlak home were Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill, of North Loup.

BURWELL

Written by Rex Wagner

Mrs. Magdalena Frost, eighty-six year old mother of Charles, William and Philip Frost died April 17 in her home near Ballgah after a long period of failing health. Funeral services were conducted in the Sacred Heart church Saturday morning. For many years Mrs. Frost lived on a farm three and a half miles west of Burwell. Her home was one of the finest farm homes in the Loup valley and Mrs. Frost was well-known for her whole-hearted hospitality and excellent cooking. She loved people and everyone calling at her home was assured of a sincere welcome.

Thursday was Mrs. Lewis R. Williams' birthday anniversary and to appropriately celebrate the occasion a gay party composed of Mrs. Williams and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hallock and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hughes drove to Sargent where they attended the dance.

Young Men May Enlist in Naval Reserve Now

Young unmarried men with two years or more of university or college education may take examinations for enlistment in the U. S. naval reserve aviation corps at the Fort Kearney hotel in Kearney from 8 a. m. to 4 p. m. on May 3, says an announcement from the base at Fairfax Airport, Kansas City. The selection board will visit Kearney on that day and will be in Wayne on May 4 and in Omaha on May 6.

Men between the ages of 22 to 27 are eligible, provided they fulfill the other requirements.

Those accepted will train for one month at Fairfax Airport, then be given a complete course in flying at the U. S. naval air station at Pensacola, Fla. Upon completion of the course they are commissioned as ensigns in the navy and may be ordered to one of the airplane squadrons of the fleet for service.

Pay offered is approximately $105 per month while at Pensacola, plus a $10,000 life insurance policy, plus uniforms, subsistence and living quarters. Upon being commissioned, full pay and allowances of commissioned officer will be received.

Many Attended County Meeting at North Loup

Monday evening was stormy and the detour not too good, but this did not deter a large group of Ordites from attending the County Legion and Auxiliary meeting held at North Loup that night. There was also a representation from Arcadia, but none from Burwell.

The visitors were welcomed by Harry Johnson, county president, and M. E. Wellman, county adjutant, and when all had arrived the covered dish supper was served. The North Loup ladies furnished eating utensils, mashed potatoes, creamed chicken, rolls and coffee, which made a splendid meal itself without the extra dishes.

At the close of the meal the groups separated for the business sessions. Mr. Johnson taking charge of the men's group, and Mrs. Tom Springer, county president, of the ladies' group. Mr. Johnson made the suggestion that a picnic be held this summer, and it was moved and seconded to appoint a member from each town to make arrangements.

C. J. Mortensen of Ord, Carl Deiterichs of Arcadia and Floyd Reddon of North Loup were selected and they decided that the picnic should be held at Bussell Park, Ord, on Sunday, Aug. 4, beginning at noon or shortly thereafter. The men were invited to bring their golf clubs and come in the morning, if they so desired.

There was considerable discussion of Legion baseball, and A. A. Wiegardt and V. W. Russell told of what had been done at Ord in this respect, and the benefits derived from it. It was agreed that this might be handled in North Loup and in Arcadia through the recreation division, WPA, and the groups from these towns plan to contact A. J. Cochrane in regard to the chance of having something done.

Announcement was made of the district service officers' meeting which is to be held next Sunday, April 28, at Lexington, and it was suggested that as many as possible attend. Announcement was also made of the annual department meeting, which will be held this year at Norfolk, beginning on August 18.

A. A. Wiegardt made the announcement that the soldiers and sailors relief fund for 1940 was prorated between the three posts of the county, and that the supervising committee comprises Mr. Wiegardt, Otto Bartz of North Loup and Clyde Baird of Arcadia. The CMC proposition was brought up and explained by V. W. Russell, who has a supply of the necessary application blanks.

Meanwhile the Ladies Auxiliary was meeting with Mrs. Springer as chairman and Mrs. C. W. Clark as secretary. The following officers were chosen for the coming year: Mrs. Frank Schudel, North Loup, chairman; Mrs. Harry Wolf, Ord, first vice-chairman; Mrs. Carl Deiterichs, Arcadia, second vice-chairman; Mrs. Lottie Barrett, North Loup, sergeant-at-arms; Mrs. Beulah Anderson, Burwell, chaplain; Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt, Ord, historian.

At the end of the business session the groups united for the program, which was given with Mrs. Albert Babcock in charge. Tom Springer sang his famous, "Cleopatra" number, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen officiating at the piano.

"Character Education was the theme of the program given at the P. T. A. meeting Wednesday night. Mrs. Ben Nelson and Agnes Manchester had arranged for a number of interesting papers on "Character Education." Officers for the coming year elected were Rev. Chas. Stevens, president; Albert Babcock, vice-president; Myrtle Green, secretary and Robert Hammond, treasurer. The subject of a picnic the last day of school was discussed and it was voted for the president to appoint a committee of three teachers and three patrons to arrange for something. Plans are being made for a family fun night with a covered dish supper to take the place of the picnic and this will probably be held May 13.

The seventh and eighth grade pupils and their teacher, Miss Campbell had a theater party at Ord Friday night. They attended "Gullivers Travels" and liked it very much. Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones, Miss Porter and Orville Portis took loads.

The home economics classes held a style show Thursday afternoon in the auditorium, showing the spring dresses they have just completed. Twenty two girls have completed their dresses, the first year girls making print and the second year, spun rayon or silk. After the style show guests were invited to the home ec room where they were served sandwiches, cookies and fruit punch. The centerpiece in the table was a dainty pink and green may pole and the other decorations harmonized. A short program of music and readings was given after the lunch. Each girl had invited her mother and one other guest, this making about fifty in attendance.

Lester Leonard celebrated his birthday Saturday afternoon with a party attended by the boys in his room at school.

Robert and Kendall Patterson were home from the CCC camp at Broken Bow over the week end.

Robert Van Horn was brought home Thursday evening from the Clinch hospital and he is improving slowly. He did not submit to an operation.

Mrs. Otto Bartz spent Sunday afternoon at the E. E. Williams home in Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Severance and Cathrine were Saturday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Williams.

Miss Chloe Greene of Denver and Mrs. B. B. Buten were Friday dinner guests in the McClellan home.

Mrs. Chas. Otto and Birdina and Rudolph Heubner were down from Burwell Saturday afternoon to attend Mrs. Penton's funeral.

Mrs. Fanny Weed was a Sunday dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. Mark McCall.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cornell called on Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Crandall Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Shelton and Chloe Greene called at the Arthur Stillman home near Scotia Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Hudson, Edward and Barbara spent the week end in Lincoln, going down Friday night and returning Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and Charlotte and Mr. and Mrs. Ford Eyerly drove to Lincoln Sunday and spent the day with Paula Jones and Dorothy Eyerly. They visited the Rev. Nicholas family at Milford on their return trip.

Overnight guests Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Johnson were Mr. and Mrs. R. Campbell and Mr. Campbell's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Loyal Van Horn and their three children, all of Weldon, Ia. Both families are moving to Kent, Wash. Mrs. Campbell was the former Gerlie Hurley, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. James Hurley and lived here when a girl. A number of friends gathered at the Johnson home Wednesday evening for a visit with the guests. Thursday morning they continued their journey which they are making by car.

Mrs. Robert Hammond spent Friday visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Peregrine of Fullerton.

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Sheldon moved Thursday and Friday to the Henry Smith house which the Clifford Sample family have recently vacated. Sheldon Van Horn has bought the Sheldon house and will move with his parents to their new home soon.

Plans are being made for a large attendance at the rural track meet Friday. North Loup schools will be dismissed and the tests for the pupils from the rural schools given by the North Loup teachers. Visitors will bring their dinner and a hot drink will be furnished by the North Loup community club.

Miss Chloe Greene of Denver arrived on the Friday morning freight with the body of her father Will Greene who had passed away earlier in the week. Friday night she was a guest in the McClellan home and Saturday in the L. L. Sheldon home. Since then she has been the house guest of Mrs. B. B. Buten. She plans to return to her home, where she is a teacher in the Denver schools. Miss Greene was a teacher in the North Loup school a number of years ago.

Marion Maxson entertained at dinner Wednesday night honoring the birthday of Ida May Babcock. Guests were Muriel Hamer, Esther Zangger, Audrey Babcock, Jeanne and Joan Barber and Mary Babcock. Ida May remained over night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Knapp and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Mulligan went to Lincoln Friday to attend Feeders Day at the Agricultural college.

Mr. and Mrs. Vere Leonard and family spent Sunday at the home of Mrs. Blanche Leonard in Mira Valley.

Pioneer-Patriarch Passes.

William B. Greene was born in Allegheny county, New York, March 25, 1849. He was one of a family of ten children and the last survivor. The family lived in New York until 1854 when they moved west and settled near Milton, Wis. He was baptized in Clear Lake, near Milton, by Elder James C. Rogers and joined the Rock River Seventh Day Baptist church. His membership was later transferred to the North Loup church, of which he was a member at the time of his death.

In the spring of 1873 he came by covered wagon to North Loup and homesteaded on what is now known as the Gray farm in Mira Valley. He lived there through the first winter, then traded with Louis Hurley, for a home five miles southwest of North Loup.

He was married in 1877 to Eliza Cottrell. Two children, Oscar Harley, now in a hospital in Wilmar, Minn., and Chloa E., at present a teacher in Denver, Colo., were born in sod houses on the above place; and Lily D. McKelvy of Denver was born in the frame house that supplanted the last sod.

In 1906 the home was sold and the family moved to a farm one-half mile west of North Loup, where they lived until July, 1924 when they moved to Denver because of the failing health of the parents who needed to be near the daughters who were making their home there. The mother passed away August 16, 1925. Since that time the father adjusted himself to the new situations and fully appreciated old and new friends who found thoughtful ways to make his last days pleasant. The few who remain who remember the big prairie fire of October 1878 will remember the services he rendered at that time and the burns he incurred, scars of which he bore to the last day of his passing on April 16, 1940 at the age of 91 years and 22 days. Funeral services were held in Denver and the body brought to North Loup where brief services were conducted by Rev. J. A. Adams at the cemetery and burial made in the family lot.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Sweetland of Alliance were week end guests of Mrs. Sweetland's father, Robert Van Horn. Mr. and Mrs. Delmar Van Horn are staying with Mr. Van Horn and caring for him.

A. H. Watts, who came from Long Beach before the death of his brother Lester Watts, went to Grand Island on the Friday morning bus and planned to return to Long Beach the next day. In Long Beach he looks after the house work for his daughter, Mrs. Ray Gipe, while she does the office work in her husband's garage. While here Mr. Watts was a guest of his daughter, Mrs. Chas. Fullerton.

Twenty two students from the North Loup school attended the district music contest at Fullerton Friday. La Verne Hutchins received a superior rating on his baritone solo which makes him eligible to attend the national contest in Kansas City. He hopes to go but is not sure about it yet. There were twenty soloists entered and six group numbers. Harriett Manchester received an excellent rating on her vocal solo, singing in the girls medium voice class.

Supt. Wills announced Monday morning that Wayne Babcock, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Babcock, was highest ranking student in the senior class. He has a total of 1026 points and has made the work of the entire four years usually required for high school in three years. Besides that he has entered into other activities, especially music and has had part time work which has paid his expenses. He and his brother Allen, do light housekeeping in the Delmar Van Horn home where they have rooms. Wayne will be 20 in May and was out of school for one year before entering high school.

Second place in the class of thirty goes to Warren Brannon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Riley Brannon, who has 975 points. Harriett Brown and La Verne Hutchins tied for third and fourth places with 968 points. Others in the upper third of the class in order are Esther Zangger, Ida May Babcock, Darlene Mulligan, Maynard Schudel, Bernice Wilson and Jeanne Barber.

Mrs. Hammond, Sterling Manchester, La Verne Hutchins and Albert Babcock, Jr., drove cars to the music festival at Fullerton Friday. Mr. Houtchens and Mr. Hammond went over for the evening.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Willoughby, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Willoughby and Duane and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Coleman and Janet were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stine, honoring the first birthday of Kay Colleen Stine.

A. C. Hutchins and Merrill Anderson went to Lincoln Sunday afternoon to attend a meeting of I. G. A. dealers. Mrs. Nels Jorgensen and La Verne Hutchins kept the store while they were gone. They returned Tuesday.

Robert E. Tunnicliff Making Good in Track

Earl Barnes received a card from Robert E. Tunnicliff (Bob), one day recently, in which he gave a summary of the events that he took part in for his school at Kewanee, Ill. Bob won the 440 in 57.4 sec., and pole vaulted 10 ft. 6 in., to take first in that event.

He also took first in the 100 yard dash, first in the 220 yard dash, and was one of the winning $50 boys relay team. The boys recognized Bob as a real track man at Ord last year, and with two more years ahead, he should set some real marks before he is through high school.

Two Miles Easy Run for Bill Cook; Often Ran 4

Two miles is an easy run for Bill Cook, the North Loup boy who is a track star at University of Nebraska, because he used to run four miles daily from school to his home, says the World-Herald in an article by Gregg McBride Sunday.

Young Cook made his debut in Cornhusker track togs against Iowa State last fall and won the 2-mile race. He repeated against Kansas State, placed third in the mile races against Oklahoma and Kansas, and placed fourth in the Big Six mile at Kansas City. His best time for 2 miles is 9:48.5; for one mile is 4:30.9.

While attending Scotia high school the lad played football on the football team but competed in only one or two track meets. In the Loup Valley meet at Burwell his senior year the track was water-logged so Bill took off his shoes and ran a mile barefooted in 4:52.

At the university ag college Bill and two buddies, Erwin Dodge, of Ord, and Richard Karre, of Scotia, have living quarters in the basement of a home near the college. They batch it and figure they live well on $11 per month per boy.

Great Increase Seen in Boy Scout Activities

This year, 1940, is the thirtieth anniversary year since the founding of the Boy Scout movement in the United States, and plans are going forward for the greatest enrollment in the history of the organization. Only three towns in this district are now supporting the Scout program on a restricted scale. They are Ord, Arcadia and Loup City.

The name of this district is the Fort Hartsuff district, and it comprises the counties of Garfield, Wheeler, Valley, Greeley and Sherman. Harold Weddel of Arcadia is chairman of the district. It is the ambition of those in charge of the work to see that new troops are organized in all the towns included in the district.

The movement is gaining great impetus because of the Phillips Foundation, a gift to Nebraska by Frank Phillips for the development of the Boy and Girl Scout organizations and similar activities. The reason the work has not been pushed more in the past was the difficulty of getting efficient leadership, and the foundation furnishes funds for this purpose.

The Fort Hartsuff district is now organized under the six committee plan formulated by the National organization to carry on the enlarged program. The committee and their chairmen are: Organization and extension, George Allen, Ord; leadership and training, C. C. Thompson, Ord; health and safety, C. C. Pierce, Loup City; camping and activities, Lloyd Bulger, Arcadia; advancement, Judge E. W. Moehner, Loup City; finance, W. J. Ramsey, Arcadia.

New men are being brought into Scouting in every town in the district—men who will become committeemen, merit badge councillors and Scoutmasters to help carry on the enlarged program. Next week the Quiz will give a list of those who have agreed to give their aid to some phase of the program in this community.

HOTEL FONTENELLE

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Sheriff George Round made his first trip down town Saturday following his recent illness. He wasn't quite as steady on his legs as he used to be, but his color is a lot better, and he says he is feeling fine, and good for a lot more shuffling.

Capron Coe has a bevy of 13 hens, who have not been doing as well as hens might, and last week his dad made some remarks about having to sell them if they did not lay any better. Whether they understood him or whether it was merely a coincidence is not known, but the following day those 13 hens laid 19 eggs.

Everybody knows Slim Tuttle, who drove the bus for W. F. Williams up to about three years ago. Lately he has been driving a Yellow Cab in Grand Island. Saturday he brought up the Grand Island and return bus, but Willie hardly gave him a fair deal. He had to drive the 7-passenger Buick. Slim drove the run here for nearly 14 years, but he says this time he went over two detours that he never drove over before, and didn't get to see the direct route down the track, Oleon to North Loup, which had been built since he left the run.

The City Cafe window is featuring a crib made from a salt barrel by the household aid department of the WPA. The proprietor, Walter Thodal, is getting a lot of kidding from the boys, but he comes right back at them and offers to take their order for one of the cribs. They are very nicely made and a most convenient piece of furniture, and shows one of the many useful things made by WPA labor.

The big tree that stood at the south edge of the Walter Brand lots is now no more. It was a huge cottonwood, perhaps the biggest tree in Ord, and it shaded the lots so it was almost impossible to grow anything on them. The tree was taken down by V. J. Dobrowsky and sons, and was cut off about three feet above the ground. At this place it measured 3 ft. 10 in. in diameter, and the growth rings show an age of from 52 to 57 years, it being difficult to count them accurately. The rings show that the years of 1939, 1938 and 1937 were fairly good growing years, but that 1936, 1935 and 1934 were very bad. In fact, the growth for those three years was only about the same as one normal year.
