Burlington R. R. Plans Discontinue Passenger Service

Officials Say 2 Branches Lost $16,000 Last Year; Will Run Freight Trains.

Three officials of the Burlington railway, General Superintendent Haines, Traffic Freight Manager Rohwitz and J. W. Weingarten, attorney, told a group of Ord men Wednesday afternoon that the railroad has filed application with the railway commission seeking permission to discontinue passenger trains on the Aurora-Burwell and Aurora-Sargent branch lines.

The meeting was held in the law office of Davis & Vogelzang, and representatives were present from the Chamber of Commerce, the city administration, the Rotary Club and the Cosmopolitan club.

Operation of motors for passenger service on the two branch lines resulted in a loss last year of $16,000, Mr. Weingarten explained. Total revenues were only $28,000 on the two lines and expense of operating the motors was $42,000. The revenue included $18,000 from mail contracts and also receipts from hauling of express.

Travel on the Aurora-Burwell branch through Ord was less than 7 of a passenger per trip during 1939, he said, which proves that the public does not need and will not make use of the travel facilities thus afforded.

If the railway commission gives permission for the daily motor to be suspended, it is likely that the postoffice department will arrange for mail service by means of a star route paralleling the line of the railway, so Ord and other towns affected will have the same mail service they now have.

Operation of freight trains will continue on the same line as at present, three trains up and three trains down per week, Mr. Weingarten said. The Ord station will be open with an agent in charge as in the past.

Similar meetings were held by the Burlington officials in Greeley, Burwell and Sargent, as well as other towns through which the branch lines run.

He is a past-evangelist of considerable experience, has a pleasing personality and a convincing message. He has no axe to grind, no hobbies to ride and it will be a privilege to hear Mr. Baker, says Rev. Adams.

Rain Hits This Section Tuesday

In the small hours of the morning Tuesday a gentle rain began to fall and continued until about 7 a. m. It remained cloudy throughout the day and another nice shower fell last evening. The total amount of rain here was .38 of an inch, with .40 reported at North Loup and .43 at Burwell. The rain was much heavier from Scotia to the southeast.

September was one of the driest on record, with .02 of an inch reported on two different occasions on the records of Horace Travis for a total of .04. With the rains starting on the first day of October, we may hope for much moisture throughout the month.

Williams New Janitor, Hatfield is Advanced

With the moving of the Ord post-office Harry Wolfe took over his duties as head janitor there. In accordance with plans already made by the board, Ralph Hatfield becomes head janitor at the Ord high school.

There were a large number of applications for the position left vacant by the advancement of Mr. Hatfield, and from this number the board selected Thomas (Buck) Williams as being the best man for the place. He has spent a part of his time of late at the school building learning the duties of the job, and is now working full time.

Final Meeting.

An important business meeting to which the public is invited will be held at the Dugan Service station next Monday evening at which time the books of the Loup Valley baseball club will be closed, and plans will be discussed for 1941, including the improvement of the new athletic field.

Woman Hurt by Wounded Eagle

While Mrs. Andrew Kalowski, who lives just across the line in Sherman county, was herding her big flock of turkeys, she shot a large bird which was molesting them. When she went to pick up the bird it fastened its talons in her right wrist. When she broke its hold there it fastened the claws of both feet in her breast. She finally smothered the bird, which proved to be a huge eagle. The wounds became infected and she is having a serious time with them. She has not yet fully recovered the use of her right hand.

Chanticleers Open Season by Beating St. Paul, 20 to 7

End Christensen Scored for Ord Twice, Flagg Runs Punt for Touchdown.

Heartening to Ord football fans was the showing made Friday evening by the Chanticleers, for playing their first game under the tutelage of Coach Roscoe Tolly they scored three times to beat St. Paul 20 to 7 on the Apostles' home field.

Coach Tolly's boys played clean, hard football to beat the Apostles and they deserved to win.

Early in the first period, half-back Purtak intercepted a St. Paul pass and returned it 65 yards to within the 10-yard strip. On the next play he scored standing up on an end sweep but an official detected holding by an Ord player and the score was nullified, a 15-yard penalty instead being inflicted on the Chanticleers. Refusing to be balked, Flagg tossed a forward pass to Christensen who caught it in the end zone. Purtak kicked the extra point, making the score 7 to 0 in Ord's favor.

This touchdown came so soon after the game started that many of the big crowd of Ord fans who made the drive to St. Paul hadn't got settled in points of vantage along the sideline, and missed the series of plays that led up to this Chanticleer score. But all saw Ord's second scoring faint, with Christensen again in the feature role. On an end-around play, he ran fifteen yards without a hand being laid upon him, and wound up in scoring territory. George Cetak converted, making the count 14 to 0.

In the third quarter Bailey Flagg, the little Ord quarterback, furnished thrills for the crowd when he took a St. Paul punt and ran 65 yards for Ord's third and final touchdown. It was as neat a bit of open field running as an Ord player has executed in recent years. The try for point failed.

Coach Tolly made generous use of substitutes throughout the game giving every boy on his senior squad 30 members, and also 3 junior high boys, a chance to play. It was in the closing moments of the game, with a patched up Ord team on the field, that the Apostles scored their only touchdown on a forward pass play.

The Ord coach was pleased with the work of his gridsters, though at practice Monday he was pointing out many mistakes made by them in the opening clash. Ord linemen played especially well and few were the gains made by St. Paul through the forward wall.

Friday night comes the opening home game when Broken Bow, with one defeat and one victory to their credit, will play on the Russell park field. Broken Bow has defeated Arcadia 6 to 0 this season but lost to Sargent 7 to 6, last week. This game will get under way at 8 o'clock.

In the evening starting at 6:00 o'clock the Catholic ladies will serve a banquet in the Catholic church basement. The banquet is open to the public. Several out of town guests will be present as well as several state officers of the Knights of Columbus.

—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Newman are parents of a boy born Tuesday with Dr. J. G. Kruml in attendance.

Griswold Makes Hard Hitting Talk Here Tuesday Eve

Challenges Carpenter's State Liquor Plan, Says Old Age Pensions Must Increase.

Dwight Griswold, of Gordon, republican nominee for governor of Nebraska, talked straight from the shoulder when he addressed a small audience on the streets of Ord Tuesday evening. Speaking in the midst of the best rain Ord has had in several weeks, Griswold challenged the state liquor plan proposed by his opponent, Terry Carpenter, and advocated a business-like administration of state affairs.

The Carpenter liquor plan, he said, would serve only to build a political machine and would have no practical advantages to the state. Experience of Iowa, Michigan and other states with similar liquor laws shows this to be true, he stated.

The old age pension system must be changed so that elderly people who are not getting the necessities of life under the present system may be benefited, Griswold said, and he advocated elimination of many "chiselers" from jobs in administering this and other relief systems.

If elected, Mr. Griswold says he will work with farm leaders, business men and with federal agencies to help Nebraska. Possibility of changes in Nebraska laws to permit development of pump irrigation with federal assistance on a large scale was mentioned by him as one practical method of helping the state. More small dams should be built to conserve moisture and instead of having a highway system that hurries drainage of rain water, the roads themselves should wherever possible be made to serve as dams for conservation of moisture.

Mr. Griswold discussed the farm problem, stating that we would always have it with us until the farmer receives prices which are in line with what he buys. "Nebraska will never be prosperous until the farmer is prosperous," he said. He expressed the opinion that a permanent solution will probably best be found through the development of new agricultural products or by finding new uses for present products. "I have always felt that some sort of a farm program is necessary," he said.

"I favored the adoption of the McNary-Haugen bill and feel that the present farm program must be continued until a better solution can be worked out. I will certainly cooperate with farm organizations and with the federal government in working to this end."

Mr. Griswold expressed opposition to the theory that we could "spend our way into prosperity." He stated that by cutting out the overhead and reducing the overburden we could well care for the state's needs and for the needy people of Nebraska without bankrupting the tax payer.

National defense will be an important factor in the work of a Nebraska governor in the next two years, Mr. Griswold predicted, and he said that his own experience in the World War, first as an enlisted man and then as an officer, would be valuable if he is elected.

Three nominees of the republican party for governor but defeated in 1932, 1934 and 1936 by landslides although he ran substantially ahead of his ticket and polled more votes than many in the past when elected, Mr. Griswold has a splendid background for the office to which he aspires.

He is a business man, banker, farmer and newspaper publisher whose home is at Gordon; he served one term as a state representative and three as a state senator; has been president of the Nebraska Editorial association and state commander of the American Legion.

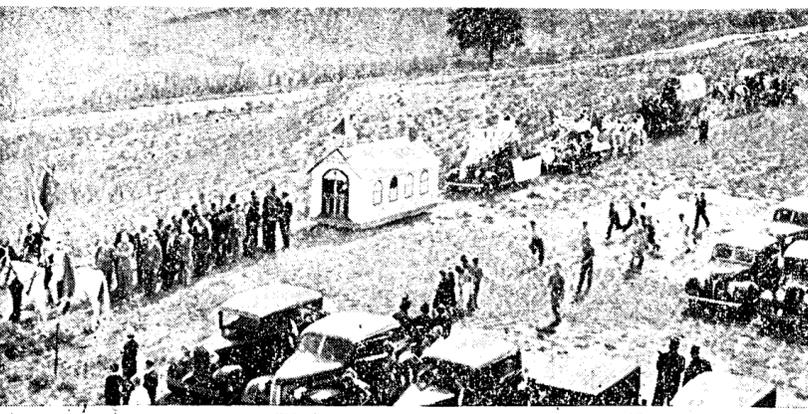

Before his street talk Tuesday evening he was a guest of the Ord Rotary club at their regular dinner and made a brief talk afterward, impressing the Rotarians with his honesty, sincerity and general good fellowship.

City Cafe Auction Sale Drew Many Saturday

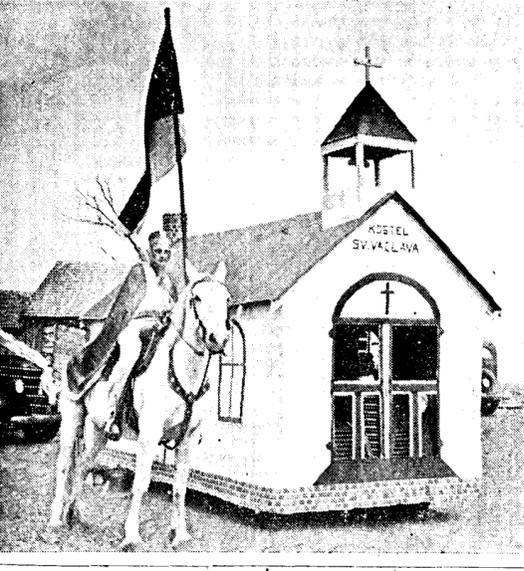

The sale of furniture and equipment of the City cafe put on Saturday afternoon by W. A. Thodal drew a large crowd, a number of bidders being present from other towns, and the entire offering brought satisfactory prices.

Col. Herman Rice was assisted by Col. Webb of Ericson. The building was crowded all through the sale, and the spirited bidding proved that the public will buy when good articles are offered at auction. Mr. and Mrs. Thodal are leaving this week for New York City, where they will make their home in the future.

Birthday of St. Wenceslaus Celebrated at the National Hall

The birthday anniversary of St. Wenceslaus, the Czech king who died in the year 938 and whose memory is revered because he was so kind to his subjects, was celebrated Sunday at the National hall with a crowd of more than 2,000 present. Photo at the top shows part of the parade, which was led by the Comstock band, followed by Knights of Columbus and a long string of floats. At right appears a replica of the first church of St. Wenceslaus (or St. Vaclava) built in German township, with Vencil Ptacnik, garbed as the king of sainted memory, sitting on a white horse beside it. The church float, most elaborate of many fine ones in the parade, was made by A. F. Parkos, Ed Parkos, Leonard and John Ptacnik.

Ord Post Office, Farm Bureau and FSA Have Moved

Building Approved, Offices Moved to New Quarters Over Week End.

Saturday evening and Sunday were busy times for the Ord post office force, the Valley County Farm Bureau and the Farm Security Administration offices. The new federal building had been approved, and the week end was chosen for removal to the new location.

The work of moving the post office was begun after the mail was distributed Saturday by K. W. Peterson, who had the government contract for moving all three of the offices. There was not a great deal of equipment to move for the office, as most of it is new.

The post office force was on hand to assist and Postmaster Alfred L. Hill stated that the work of moving was handled without a hitch and that the work of putting out the mail continued without interruption of any kind. The office was closed on Sunday as usual, but due to the fact that many did not want the keys for their boxes and wanted their mail, the delivery window was opened from 10 a. m. until noon.

All boxes have keys, and cannot be opened without them. These keys are furnished to patrons for 20c each, that amount to be refunded any time the key is returned. Extra keys, not returnable, can be furnished at 20c each.

The furniture of the FSA and Farm offices was moved Saturday afternoon after closing hours, and the offices opened up in the basement rooms in the post office building Monday morning. The FSA office is using the furniture it had in the former office in the court house, but the County Farm Bureau is equipped with new furniture.

As is known by all who have seen the rooms, there is a main work room in the center, with offices to the west and to the east. The office of Claude C. Davis is on the west, and that of Carl C. Dale is on the east. Access to the offices is by way of the stairway at the southeast corner of the building.

The AAA office remains in the old location in the court house, and all farmers who are looking for it will find it there. The office hours in both post office and the farm offices have not been changed by the change in location, and will be the same as in the past.

Townsend Club to Meet. The Townsend club will hold a business meeting at the I. O. O. F. hall at 8:00 p. m. Friday evening.

Misko and Cochran Are Conferring in Capital

Saturday John P. Misko and Frank Kruml drove to Lincoln, where Misko was to join Governor Roy Cochran and leave by train for Washington, D. C., for a conference with officials there in regard to the drought situation in Nebraska, and the chances of obtaining more funds to relieve the resultant conditions.

Mr. Misko, who is chairman of the group representing the 45 drought counties of the state, was asked last week by the governor to go with him to the conference, and Misko accepted. While it is not known at present what will be done, the men had hopes of formulating plans to relieve conditions in this section of the state.

Terry Carpenter Spoke Monday Evening in Ord

Quite a number of people were on the streets of Ord Monday evening to greet Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff, who gave his views on the political situation and made his bid for votes for the office of governor of Nebraska.

Mr. Carpenter was introduced by Ralph W. Norman, as was M. T. McLaughlin, who spoke briefly before the gubernatorial candidate. Mr. Carpenter is possessed of a pleasing voice and spoke for about 30 minutes on the issues of the day.

Throughout his entire talk he did not make an open bid for the support of either himself or the ticket he is running on, but rather asked his hearers to study the candidates and the issues involved and then vote their convictions.

Co-op Oil Company Headed by Oetkin Effective Oct. 1st

Janssen Hands in Resignation, Family Will Move to California Next Week.

Ben Janssen who has been connected with the Co-op Oil company for the past ten years, has decided definitely on moving to California to make his home, and consequently handed in his resignation as manager, effective Oct. 1.

At a meeting of the directors, held Thursday evening, Ed Oetkin, who has been assistant manager for the past two years, was promoted to the position of manager, and Ronald Rose was made assistant. Arnold Bredthauer was chosen as director in place of Leo Long, who retired about a month ago.

Mr. Oetkin was with the Kleinholz company in Ord for 5 years before accepting a place with the Co-op two years ago. He is a man of much experience in the oil business and is very popular with the patrons of the company.

Mr. Rose has practically grown up in the oil business, as his father was connected with the work for years. He was truck driver for Worm Bros., for some time, and of late has been assisting around the Co-op station in rush hours.

Mr. Janssen plans to go west, look the country over and then go into whatever line of work appeals to him. He may decide to go into the decorating game, which was his line before going into the station. The Janssen family has played an important part in the life of the Ord community, and their many friends here regret that they must leave.

Others competing were Russell Craven, Hilding Pearson, Martinus Blomond, A. A. Wiegardt, Forrest Johnson, Joe Jirak, Henry Deines, C. C. Thompson, Syl Furtak, all of Ord, Waterbury, Rettenmayer, Deiterichs of Arcadia and Mitchell of Burwell.

Fafeita Car Plows Thru Bailey Garage

Last Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Emil Fafeita drove up on the hill to visit with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Whelan, leaving their car parked at the curb on So. 21st street and pointed down the hill.

During the evening people of the neighborhood heard a terrific clash apparently at the corner of 21st and M streets. Investigation disclosed that the brakes on the Fafeita car had become disengaged and that the car had coasted down the hill, driverless, and hit the garage at Miss Lulu Bailey's home. Striking the south side of the garage, the car plowed through the garage and emerged on the north side.

Considerable damage was done to the Fafeita car and also to the frame garage, which is being repaired.

Zikmund Moves Up on Husker Squad

Likely to see service against the Golden Gophers of the University of Minnesota Saturday is Allan Zikmund, the 18-year-old Ord boy who is a sophomore at the University of Nebraska. He has been moving up fast on the Husker squad and this week won promotion to a regular post in the 2nd team backfield.

Allan missed spring practice because of illness but Coach Cliff Jones likes his work and his spirit and Allan has been getting the call over older and more experienced players in recent practice sessions. He is only 18 years old.

Lincoln sports writers compare Zikmund to Lloyd Cardwell, one of the greatest performers in Husker history. He takes a long stride, runs fast and carries his knees high, like Cardwell did. Several long runs against the varsity boomed Zikmund stock on the Nebraska campus this week.

If Allan does play against Minnesota this week he will be the first Ord boy to play on a Cornhusker football squad since Kenneth McGinnis finished his career at the Lincoln school.

Valley county has had its share of that new swine disease, erysipelas, which started here several years ago and has been recurring off and on ever since. There are a few local cases at present. No doubt, more would break out if we had greater numbers of hogs. Many farmers consider erysipelas worse than cholera, and our government regards it as a major threat to pork production all over the United States.

Most of what little is known about swine erysipelas has been discovered at the University of Nebraska. A vaccine has been developed there which gives pigs immunity for about six months. However, their erysipelas vaccine is a live culture that may spread the sickness if used in non-infected areas. Sanitation also helps to control the germs of erysipelas, which are spread thru feed, water and contaminated ground.

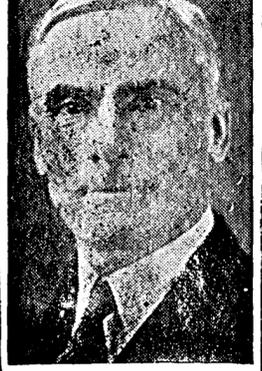

Acute erysipelas may kill a hog within a few days. It is nearly always fatal to poultry and lambs. Human beings are also susceptible but the effects seldom extend beyond local inflammation and fever.

Animals that recover from the ailment may have stiff, enlarged joints and become chronic carriers of the disease. Such animals are not apt to do well in the feed lot. They should be marketed or destroyed before they spread the malady to other livestock. Symptoms of swine erysipelas are knotty, stiff joints, fever and diamond-shaped skin lesions. Farmers should take great precautions against bringing home infected animals and polluting their yards. Once comfortably settled in the earth of a pasture or feed lot the bacteria of erysipelas may cause losses among livestock there for years.

Mortensens Return from Trip to Boston

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen returned yesterday evening from their 17 days trip to the National Legion and Auxiliary convention in Boston, Mass. They left Ord on the afternoon of Friday, Sept. 13, but believe it or not, they had a fine trip throughout, with no trouble of any kind.

They went by way of Canada, where they found the people very busy in war preparations and fully convinced that their efforts would be rewarded with success. They visited Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. In Maine they met Mr. and Mrs. Hal Allan. The ladies are sisters, and the Allans have often visited in Ord.

Mr. Mortensen attended the convention as delegate-at-large from Nebraska, and carried a U. S. flag in the big parade. Mrs. Mortensen attended as retiring department president from Nebraska and as a member of the Auxiliary committee.

They noticed that the people of Boston treated all visitors very fine, and that the cops were most courteous. It was estimated that from 2 to 3 million persons witnessed the huge parade. The convention took a strong pro-British stand.

The Mortensens returned from Boston with Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Haycock of Custer county, whom they met in Montreal. Everybody is keyed up in the east because of war orders from the British government and because of the U. S. defense program.

Legion and Auxiliary Entertain Visitors

Unexpected, but none-the-less welcome visitors were present at the Legion and Auxiliary meeting last evening at the American Legion hall. Dwight Griswold, who had been a Rotary guest earlier in the evening, arrived at the hall with Archie Geweke and Gould Flagg after delivering his speech to the public.

He spoke briefly to the Legionnaires, strictly along Legion lines, and was afterward invited below for the school days lunch. S. C. Emry and Vencil Krikac, jr., both of Comstock were in attendance at the men's meeting while Mrs. Emry and Mrs. Treblecock met with the ladies.

Among plans talked of in the Legion meeting were to hold programs in both the high school and grade school along the lines of Americanism. A turkey shoot is planned, and the Legion and Ladies may go to Joe Gregory's during the pheasant season to shoot pheasants and clean and eat them there. Plans are progressing for the regular Armistice Day dance. Mr. Emry, of the district marksmanship committee, spoke of organizing a junior rifle squad, and a committee was appointed to take care of it. Mr. Krikac also spoke.

In the Auxiliary Mrs. Syl Furtak was appointed chairman for Girls' State. Mrs. Emry and Mrs. Treblecock were introduced and spoke briefly. At the close of the meeting the men and all visitors were entertained at lunch.

Inhalator Saves Life

The inhalator owned by the Ord fire department was borrowed last Wednesday by the Grand Island fire department to keep a woman poliomylitis victim alive until an iron lung, ordered from Omaha, could arrive. Fire Chief George Anderson took the inhalator as far as Cotestfield where Grand Island firemen met him. The apparatus was returned the same evening. The woman was still alive when the iron lung reached Grand Island.

Glen Pray Hurt in Car Accident Saturday

Harold and Glen Pray of Ord were bruised and Glen suffered severe cuts on his forehead and had his front teeth pushed back when their car left the road after a truck made a left hand turn in front of them without signalling on a highway near Gerling.

The accident occurred Saturday afternoon. With them in the car was a cousin from Gerling, who escaped with bruises. Frank Pray drove to Gerling for them and for his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Pray, who were also visiting there. The car was badly damaged. It took a number of stitches to close the wounds in Glen's forehead, which will probably show the scars. His teeth were badly jammed, but it is believed they will grow back in place.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

The Forrest Johnsons went with the Bill Sacks to the big time at National Hall. Nine hundred sixty two tickets were sold at the door, and two door prizes, a sack of flour and a bushel of tomatoes, were given away. Believe it or not, the Sacks won the flour and the Johnsons won the tomatoes.

A distinct earth tremor was heard and felt at the James Ollis, Tony Kosmata and Hilding Pearson homes Saturday evening at about 8 p. m. Mr. Hastings felt it, hurried out in the yard and met Kosmata, who inquired what had happened. Pearson happened to be out in the yard, and he felt the earth shake. The cause has not been learned.

By actual count 374 people had gone to the wrong place for their mail up to including 3:42 p. m. Monday, which ought to be some kind of a record. The postmaster was not notified in time to have an announcement put in the paper last week, and so practically everybody had to find it out for themselves.

Arcadia News

A newly married couple, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller of North Loup, purchased the Roberts cafe Saturday and took over Monday morning. They have started remodeling and expect to make a real attractive place of their new business.

They are visiting at the Cash Routh home. Mrs. Routh recently returned from a trip to Hope, Alaska, where her brother, Elmer Carson, lives. ## O'Neill Team Easy for Burwell Longhorns

The Longhorns won a 14 to 0 victory from the O'Neill aggregation in their third game of the season played at O'Neill Friday afternoon. The Burwell team was not up to its usual form and was further handicapped by the absence of its quarterback, Conlee Swanson, who was injured in the Comstock game. Archie Ray, a sophomore who is one of Burwell's better players, replaced Swanson.

Burwell got off to a good start when Jack Anderson ran around the end for a touchdown in the first quarter. In the third quarter Leslie Chaffin scored the other touchdown by a line plunge. All the Burwell squad was given an opportunity to play in the game.

The O'Neill team perfected a passing attack and threatened to score in the last quarter but Coach Wolcott put in the first string players who stopped them.

Burwell's next game will be with Scotia at Burwell Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

QUIZ FORUM

Spikes' Record Praised.
To the Editor of the Quiz:
Since the withdrawal of Mr. George A. Munn as a candidate for District Judge, many people are inquiring of me as to the character and qualifications of William F. Spikes, the only candidate now left in the race who lives outside of Grand Island, Hall county. I feel that the best way to answer these inquiries is through your columns.

During my twenty years on the bench of this District, I have had every opportunity to become acquainted with Mr. Spikes. I have found him to be upright, honorable and courteous. He has had many years of experience in law practice including eight years as County Attorney of Howard county. His temperament is such that any litigation having business in his Court would receive fair and courteous treatment and be assured of a judgment based on the law and the evidence and rendered without fear or favor.

I would not disparage either of the candidates from Grand Island but I am safe in saying to all those who feel as I do that both judges of this District should not come from Grand Island. In the extreme southeastern corner of the District, I believe can support Mr. Spikes with the assurance that, if he is elected, he will make an honest, able and courteous judge.

3,000 Calves Sell at Burwell Friday

Several thousand white faced calves are being snatched from their mothers this week to be brought into the Burwell Livestock Market where they will be sold at the annual calf sale Friday. The slumbers of the residents of Burwell are being interrupted by the plaintive outbursts of the homesick, hungry calves who figure its a hard cruel world.

For several months they have led lives of placid contentment in quiet sandhill pastures covered with lush grass. Then comes a day when a group of horseback riders invade their pasture round them up and with their mothers drive them into a corral where they are separated from the cows and before they realize what it is all about they are hustled into a truck and hauled into Burwell where they are dumped into a strange pen.

For a while they are too bewildered to figure it all out but soon they become panic stricken when they can not find their mothers. Empty stomachs demanding the milk to which they are accustomed add hunger to their other miseries and several thousand wearily unhappy calves join in a plaintive, mournful chorus.

Meanwhile the cows have been searching frantically for their darlings. They run out to the pasture to look for their calves and not finding them they return to the corral where they last saw their offspring. When evening comes the cows with aching milk-filled udders line up around the corral and looking at the moon protest in lower but louder tones.

After several days they forget their babies and return to the pastures to graze again in peaceful contentment. After a few months vacation from the cares of motherhood they will again bring other white faced babies into the world to love and care for until another calf sale comes around.

Back at the sale barn the calves bawl and bawl until their voices become a thin squeak. Then they lie down in sheer exhaustion to recoup for another outcry on awakening.

Cattle feeders from Iowa, Illinois, Minnesota, Indiana, Missouri and other states, which have been favored with bounteous crops, come to Burwell to look over the consignments of calves. They know that nowhere else in the world can they get cattle to put into their feed lots which will do as well as those from the sandhills of Nebraska.

To a casual observer the calves all look alike, but the experienced feeder and buyer notes that some are wider, thicker fleshed and lower set than others which stand on longer legs, have longer necks and the rudiments of what will develop into high tail bones at which the packer buyer frowns. Such things mean several dollars per hundred pounds difference in the price of the calves.

Friday afternoon when their turn comes they are driven into the sale pavilion. Many of them have never been inside a building before. The bright lights overhead blind them, the noise and the crowd bewilder and confuse them. The auctioneer starts telling what a fine lot of calves they are. The ring man exclaims over their curly coats and uniformly. The auctioneer maintains that the rancher who consigned them to the sale raises none but the very best of cattle. He calls for a bid, someone starts them at a dime, this price is quickly raised to ten and a quarter. Another buyer proffers then thirty-five. The auctioneer calls for ten and a half. It takes longer for him to get this bid. Finally some cattle feeder decides that they are worth this figure. The auctioneer calls for ten sixty-five. No bids seem to be forthcoming. Again the auctioneer and the ring men extol the excellence of these calves. Finally an Iowa feeder decides he had better own them and bids the ten sixty-five. After a vain attempt to get a higher offer the auctioneer pounds his gavel on the rail and yells, "Sold to the man from Iowa up there on the north side!"

The next morning homesick, tired and discouraged the calves are loaded into a truck and after what seems to them an endless time, the truck stops and they are unloaded into an Iowa feed lot.

For several days they refuse to eat but gradually they become accustomed to their surroundings. The reluctant orphans forget their mamas and their home in the sandhills. They go to the feed bunk and fill up on yellow, Iowa corn, deciding that after all life isn't so bad.

Their owner provides them a balanced diet of corn and alfalfa with molasses feed for dessert. The calves eat and eat getting so fat their hides fairly pop. The cattle feeder's neighbors come over to feast their eyes on them. The feeder listens to the radio market anxiously. At last there comes a day when the calves are loaded into a truck again. This time they are taken to market at Omaha or Chicago.

The packer buyers admire them and eagerly bid for them. The commission man at last accepts an offer and the calves are driven over the scales and off to the packing plant where they are converted into high class beef, the kind that millionaires eat. It can be cut with a fork and is served in the swanky hotels.

The life purpose of a calf put into a feedlot is usually accomplished in eighteen or twenty months.

noon Dwight Griswold made a call on the voters of Burwell. The high school band was out to greet him. As his visit was well publicized a larger crowd was present to hear him.

Ord Woman's Nephew

Fighting with British
 From her nephew, Harold Pratt, whose home is at Edmounton, Alberta, Canada, but who is now in the thick of the fighting in England, Mrs. O. S. Goff, of Ord, this week received a letter which is quoted in part below:

August 19
 "Sorry I haven't written lately but Jerry has been keeping us in our holes, especially since last Friday. He has been raising particular hell between here and Crofton since then. On Friday he bombed a factory and killed more than 200 girls. He was over again yesterday and it was pretty hot right around here for a while.

"They brought down 3 of Jerry's bombers within a mile of here and one crashed with a full load of bombs, as a result every guy in the county has a souvenir. All the bombs didn't explode but were scattered about pretty well. One fellow found a 50 lb. bomb in his bedroom and another under his kitchen table. One of our boys picked up a pilot's head-plate with the ears still in it. An L. D. V. picked up a body with a head and leg off and took away the Luger and picked up an arm and took the wrist watch off and threw the arm away as unconcerned as you please. "I got your cigarettes on Saturday and thanks a million. They really come in handy now. Cigs cost 36c here and tobacco is 30c an ounce. . . . Must close now, another raid, but don't worry, I'll keep my head down."

CONSCRIPTION.

The idea of selective military service is not new in the United States. It was first used in the later years of the Civil war, when it was found impossible to fill the depleted ranks of the Union army by the method of volunteer service.

The Confederacy had put it to use much earlier in the conflict and this was one of the reasons for the effective resistance they had put up against the greater man power and resources of the North. At that time conscription was forced upon the nation by sheer necessity.

Conscription at that time was not compulsory in the North. If a man had the price he could hire a man to go in his stead, and this man would be accepted in his place. The usual price paid for this service varied from $500 to $1,000, and was paid in cash.

The story is told of a man who hid in a coal mine in Illinois to escape the draft. He was caught, however, and then, rather than go himself, he paid a substitute $600 to go in his place. The substitute lived through the war, and later drew a pension, much to the disgust of the man who hired him, who spent the rest of his life deploring the payment of pensions.

Immediately after the entry of the United States into the World War on April 6, 1917, Congress realized that it would be impossible to raise a huge army in short order by the volunteer method, so the selective draft was instituted by law, which was made immediately effective.

It must be admitted here that the volunteer plan had not been given a fair opportunity, any more than it was given a fair chance at the present time. Army medical examiners were extremely rigid in their examinations of volunteers, and hundreds of men were rejected who later passed in the draft without difficulty.

At that time also, the volunteers were discriminated against in favor of the draftees, causing one volunteer to write a song, entitled, "Why Didn't I Wait to be Drafted, O Why Did I Volunteer?" Without doubt the same conditions will prevail in the present draft.

The Ord Quiz contains a more or less complete record of the World War draft. In the issue of May 17, 1917 appeared the following notice: "Volunteer registrars, two in each voting precinct, are called for to act on a day yet to be named by the president of the United States, to register all males for selective draft between the ages of 21 and 30 years, inclusive. The hours of registration will be from 7 a. m. to 9 p. m. Registrars must be competent clerks whose handwriting must be neat and legible. Any volunteers will please notify the county sheriff or county clerk by telephone or otherwise."

While it is not so stated in the call, it is implied that these registrars were to serve without compensation, and they undoubtedly did. In the issue of May 24 a news story gave the day for registration as June 5, and warned all men within the prescribed ages to register, as the penalty for failure to register was very severe.

The president's proclamation set the day as June 5, the hours between 7 a. m. and 9 p. m., and the location in the voting places in the various voting precincts. The only men exempted from registration were enlisted men already in the federal service. The penalty for failure to register was placed at not over one year imprisonment.

Those who wished to go away from home before the registration date were given permission to register with the county clerk before leaving. Those away from home were given permission to register by mail and the rules for so doing were given. Any one sick on registration day was given the privilege of registering by proxy.

From the registered men the government agents were to select those deemed best fitted and easiest spared, who would be drafted into the service. This was later changed and draftees selected by lot. Those engaged in farming and other pursuits essential to the maintenance of the country were not to be taken. This rule was also changed later, although a few got by on the strength of their jobs.

Registration day came and thousands of people thronged the streets of Ord. They went to their own voting places to register, and then came to Ord, where a patriotic program was promised. Harry B. Fleharty spoke at a packed house at the Bohemian hall at 11 a. m., and was introduced by E. P. Clements.

Mayor Albert McMendes called the members of Co. I to the stage where they were given a place of honor. Places were given in front for the boys who had registered already. The Ord band occupied the orchestra pit and dispensed music during the program. The crowd was worked up to a fever pitch by the singing of the Star Spangled Banner, America, and other patriotic airs.

Mr. Fleharty was roundly cheered throughout his speech. In the afternoon the Decoration Day exercises, which had been prevented on the regular day by rain, were carried out, and large numbers made the trip to the cemetery, where special attention was given to the graves of the soldiers dead.

At 4 p. m. another meeting was held at the Bohemian hall for the purpose of organizing a county Council of Defense. C. W. Bulger of Arcadia was chairman and W. W. Haskell, secretary. The permanent officers were: M. B. Hardenbrook, president, E. P. Clements vice-president, P. C. Perryman, secretary, W. G. Rood, treasurer. Thus ended the registration day in Ord 23 years ago. But the work was not ended for Sheriff Wilson Bell nor for County Clerk W. A. Bartlett, who actually spent days of extra time every month for the duration of the war in registering draftees and in bringing in those who were trying to avoid the draft. This more or less accurate picture of the World War draft is taken from memory and from the records facts given in the files of the Quiz. It is given that the public may know what was done then, and what will most likely be done in the coming registration. This is a peace time draft, but no doubt the machinery will work along the same lines as it did then.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

Dear Quiz Readers:

I believe that some of you enjoy reading these letters and of course many do not. But it like a cafe dinner. A lot of different items of food are provided. Some like one thing but don't care for other things. But all must be provided and it is said that variety is the spice of life.

When I wrote last week I told you that I would be home by the time you had a chance to read my letter. When I wrote that I expected to arrive home today, Sept. 27. Several things transpired to make me change my plans. I suppose I suggested something in a letter to Eugene which made him think I would like to prolong my stay a few days. Anyhow he wrote and said they were getting along all right and that a few days longer stay wouldn't make any material difference. Then a couple of our friends asked us to remain long enough to have some wild ducks and the season opens this coming Tuesday and if we get in on the duck dinners we had to stay another week. Then a day or two before we were scheduled to start for Ord the walleyes started to bite and that was another mighty good excuse. Oh, it is not too hard to find good excuses when one wants to do a thing. So here we are when we should have been home tonight.

So far we have had just about the same amount of frost that you have had in Valley county. Here on the lake it has not frosted enough to kill the flowers. Out away from the lake the corn and vine crops were killed some time ago. It has been down around 32 several nights but that has not killed our flowers or even the ground vines. The hard wood leaves are beautiful. There are some hardwoods here in and about camp but most of the timber is pine and birch. We were over northeast the other day where much maple grows and there the forest is very beautiful, with the maples all shades of red, the oaks red and shading off into dark maroon. The aspens and poplars are yellow, as are the ash and elms, and all these bright colors with a mixture of green from the pines, it makes a picture that is hard to imagine for one who has not seen it. The older people who were raised in a timber country can imagine just how beautiful the woods are.

Some six years ago Guide Ray Luther was hunting prairie chickens up in the vicinity of Grand Rapids, this state and at that time easily got his limit of chickens. He has been talking about going back up there, about a hundred miles northeast of here, so we decided to make a picnic trip of it. We got up at 3:30, got away from here at 4 a. m., stopped beside the road near Grand Rapids and made our breakfast and ate it standing around the fire or sitting in the car. Mr. and Mrs. Luther and son Jim and the Missus and I went on the trip. We took bacon and eggs, coffee, bread and butter, cheese and pickles and some boiled potatoes to fry. It was about 6 a. m. when we stopped where there was a convenient old dead tree fallen, broken branches for our fire, we had taken a grate along, and soon had our breakfast. The grass was white with a very heavy frost. After breakfast the other men started out with Queenie, the bird dog, after the chickens while the rest of us sat in the car and listened to the radio, always keeping an ear cocked for the expected barrage of shots when the chickens flew up. But there were no shots and after an hour the men came back chickenless. They had contacted some farmers who told them that most of the chickens had either died off or migrated, they thought the latter. One man said he had seen but one small flock all summer. They verified this by talking with some school children who they thought wouldn't try to spoof them for the kids said they had seen very few chickens for a year or two. Anyhow we didn't get any or see any. Later someone told us that over near Skunk lake there were chickens. We drove over, as it was only a mile or two off our homeward road. We couldn't drive very close so hiked the last couple of miles then hiked it back to the car and never saw a chicken. We did see a good many partridge, but there was no open season on them until mid-October and we didn't shoot at them. Noon found us near a beautiful picnic grounds on Garfield lake and so we stopped and made coffee, fried spuds and bacon and had a splendid dinner, rested a while, it being warm enough so we could lay about on the grass under the trees, then drove on home,

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

3 Souls Made Happy
Horse and Buggy Days
Short Shavings

Three Souls Made Happy. A few days ago I was told an incident which I was not told to tell but I guess I had better withhold the name, which I can inform you if you should ask me at any time. I am sure it is a true incident, for the man who told me had no reason not to tell it as it was and he is not in the habit of exaggerating his stories.

It happens he was behind with his interest on his farm loan one year and the next year's interest was due soon, amounting to about $500. He had had one crop failure after another and when the representative of the loan company came to see him the farmer was discouraged saying he had spent all his funds trying to pay his bills but he could do it no more; that is could not pay his interest. He had paid his taxes last year and thought he might pay them this year but of course hesitated in lieu of what action the loan company was going to take.

There was no quarrel or arguments with the Insurance company men; they knew well enough what condition he was in. They asked him what he would be willing to do and he said anything that was fair and he did not like the idea of them having to foreclose and that probably it would be better to deed the place to them with him having the privilege of staying a year. He also said he hated to give up for it might mean going on relief and if it should rain another year he might sell out and have a little left.

The first visit the representative went off without making a decision. Within the last few days back again came this same man accompanied by another. Our farmer was called to the car in the yard where he expected his time had come. His heart sank as he walked out the door, the feeling suddenly dawning on him that after that day his farm, one that had been in the family for more than forty years, would soon belong to someone else.

The new man did the talking. He asked the farmer a hundred questions about how many cattle he had and hogs and his crops. The farmer, in shame, told him there were no crops, there was one pig, there were fifteen mortgaged cattle.

"At one time you had a hundred cattle, did you not?" was the next question.

The farmer was piqued but answered sadly, "Yes, I had everything once, but I'm whipped now. If I'd only quit ten years ago."

More questions were asked when he could pay the interest and taxes and the reply was that if it did not rain he could never pay the interest. He said he could pay the taxes out of the soil conservation check.

There were more figuring and questions and finally the new man said, "How would it suit you if we cancelled last year's interest?"

Our farmer could hardly answer. Finally he stammered, "That would be nice but I would never ask it of you."

"I am going to recommend that," the new man replied, "if you are willing to try again. And I'm going to recommend too, that the company cancel the coming interest payment, if you don't object. Then for the following year, if you get a crop, we'll reduce the rate 1%. What we want you to do is to stay here and pitch the old ball and save the place and what equity you may have. We'll sacrifice the five hundred for the cause."

The farmer was so happy he could hardly speak. He told me he felt foolish but he could have cried right there. He held back getting there about 2 p. m. and took the ribbing that the folks thought it their duty to give us because we didn't get any chickens. We found that all who went pike fishing that morning made good catches and we almost wished we had stayed home and fished.

But we have been doing a lot of fishing anyhow and have been getting them too. I sent the kids a nice tub of pike this week. We have not been able to get any exceptionally large ones. The missus caught a couple Wednesday that weighed around 4 pounds each, nice walleyes. Mr. Fenner got an 8 pound one, Dr. Gelow caught one this morning that weighed the same. I caught a couple this morning, both good ones but not so large. Also we have been getting a few bass along while fishing pike and the big bluegills are striking good and we plan on trying them out with grub worms tomorrow.

In the meantime we have everything but one boat put away. The docks are piled on the shore, the porches are covered with red rosin paper so the winter storms can't blow in, the other cottage is locked up and if the weather stays nice we plan on helping to eat a couple of meals of duck next Tuesday and Wednesday and will start home on Thursday morning, coming through South Dakota to attend to some business on the way, and arrive home Friday. If the weather should turn bad we could get away on an hours notice, as we have things that near ready to leave. All we have to do is pull one boat up and scrub it out ready to be varnished next spring, shove it onto the front porch, lock the doors and go. We will be seen! you. H. D. Leggett.

the tears however and stammering. "I am very thankful but I am not in the habit of taking presents. I guess I can't help it though if you insist."

"There is not any gratuity to it," was the prompt answer. "If you can't make it neither can we. If we take the place we'll surely lose and we might as well give the money to you as someone else. You have given your time and work and livestock and money to keep this going; and it is no more than right that we should take a little of the loss too."

They were soon gone, waving, smiling at each other. At least one unfortunate farmer was made happy for the nonce, and I'm sure, two Insurance company representatives were happier too.

As I said before I thought it better not to give names here, especially the name of the farmer. Most every farm owner in these parts is in the same position as this farmer, but most of them have lost their farms. Perhaps this is a new idea established, but whether a little softer spot in my heart for the Prudential Insurance Company than I might have had were this story not told to me.

Horse and Buggy Days.

Billings Clark was reminiscing the other day and mentioned how in 1907 to 1920 he ran a lively harness shop in North Loup, although, I took it, was no livelier than many other shops in the country at that time. However, following are a few of the figures he poured out about that business. He said he sold about 50 sets of flynets each spring and always ordered about three gross of buggy whips (over 400) and always sold 60 to 70 sets of harness. These harnesses would include about one third buggy and single harnesses. Another interesting item was dusters to spread over your lap in the buggy, a light fancy spread, and he said he always ordered and sold a gross of them a year. Then there were horse blankets and saddles and riding bridles and all the fancy trimmings that go with fancy horso rigs.

They repaired and oiled from 50 to 130 sets of harness a year using five rolls of leather (10 sides) and frequently he had to reorder.

Arch Moulton worked for him for eight years without losing a single day and in 1920 bought Billings out, the latter going into the garage business. Arch ran the harness business for many years. His trade grew smaller and smaller, not from the lack of skill, but from the lack of horses, and finally some six years ago he sold out and since that there has been no harness business in North Loup at all.

Short Shavings.

Mrs. Henry Williams said that she still has the same potato masher that was given to her as a wedding present forty years ago and she uses it nearly every day.

Rev. Ethel irrigated his lawn and garden patch in North Loup the other day and he said following that irrigation the birds had a celebration there. He said there were hundreds of birds around, robins, flickers, blue jays, thrashers, sparrows, meadow larks and others pecking at the dirt. He could not see why they were having the party there, or what they were pecking at, all he knows they were there.

Charley Barber reports digging a ditch in the dry dirt and dozens of tiny toads hopping out. This is no exaggeration. Another time I knew a man in Greeley county (if that makes any difference) who dug about 400 feet of ditch five feet deep. The soil was dry and hard as cannon balls, and in the bottom of these ditches were hundreds of toads of all sizes. Where they came from no one seemed to know, we just know they were there in abundance. They must have been hibernating in the dry dirt waiting for a rain to soak the earth so they could crawl out.

GUARDING YOUR LOVED ONES
A marvelous contribution by Medical Science, to the happiness of the average household, has been made in modern Health Education.
Fathers take more systematic care of their own health, and check up periodically, either with the family physician or through the Life Insurance Examiner.
Happier Mothers, whose physical well-being is looked after with understanding before, during and after the coming of the children.
Children who are fed, clothed, exercised and generally reared with an adequate appreciation of the value of good health.
Have you been keeping up with what this kind of "guarding" is doing for the nation? Years of activity and health are being added to human life.
From every standpoint it is well worth your while to guard your health.

Announcing the big
NEW FORD
1941 FORD
In some years, some cars take a big jump ahead. The Ford does that for 1941.
It has jumped ahead in size. It's the biggest Ford we've ever built, inside and out. It's wider. It has a longer wheelbase. Its seating room is wider by as much as 7 inches. It has new wide doors and semi-concealed running boards.
You'll notice also a new beauty, achieved by a skillful blending of mass with longer flowing lines. Larger windshield and windows give better vision all around.
One of its biggest advantages is the new soft ride.
New, slower-action springs give a slow, gentle, gliding movement. A newly designed stabilizer helps absorb road shocks, and maintains balance on sharp curves and in cross winds.
More rapid acceleration to match its familiar speed and power makes this new Ford an even livelier car to drive.
These are only a few of this new car's outstanding features. It represents all the rich experience gained in building more than 28 million motor cars.
Any Ford dealer can give you many good reasons for making this your 1941 car.
Get the Facts and You'll Get a Ford!

Prof. Harold W. Foght Visits after 50 Years

A member of Ord's first graduation class of 1890, and one of the school's most distinguished alumni, Prof. Harold W. Foght, returned last week to the home of his childhood and the locale of one of the best known of his many books, "The Trail of the Loup." His home now is at Wayzata, Minn., on Lake Minnetonka.

Harold W. Foght received his early education in the schools of Ord, and was one of the six who formed the first class of the new high school, established in 1889. This class was destined to have a large place, numbers considered, in public affairs as any of which the school has boasted.

Richard Lavery, a member of the firm of Lavery Bros., has been, and still is, a power on the stock exchange in South Omaha. James Milford had a large part in the business and social life of Ord prior to his untimely death a few years ago. Edith Lucille Robbins has gone far in her chosen profession.

The "Trail of the Loup," published in 1906, was the first of a number of books the professor has published. While in Ord he recalled with pleasure the events of his life after he graduated in 1890, and down to the present time, when he is still a very active man at the age of 70 years.

His first teaching assignment began in the fall of 1890 at Mauders school, southwest of Ord, and the next year he taught in what was then known as the Post school. This ended his teaching endeavors in Valley county and he went to the University of Nebraska to continue his education.

While studying at the university he was called to Atchison, Kan., where he taught in Midland college, then located there, but now moved to Fremont, Nebr., for a period of 3 years. While he was there he wrote another book, "The American Rural School," which was widely known and studied.

From Atchison he went to the Kirksville, Mo., Teachers' college, where he spent 3 years. While there he was one of the three to start the "Consolidation of Schools" movement. He was invited to Washington, where he got the most important assignment of his life.

He was assigned to make a study of school conditions in a number of states, especially in the South, and his reports on conditions as he found them were published as government documents. In the midst of this work he was sent to Denmark, Norway and Sweden to study education there. He received the assignment partly because he speaks the three languages fluently.

While there he published another book, "Rural Denmark and Its Schools." This work was almost immediately translated into Japanese, and the Japanese government was so well pleased with it that Prof. Foght and his wife, the former Alice Robbins, were invited to Japan as official guests of the government.

They remained in Japan almost a year and were shown over the entire country, including a trip to the island of Formosa, where there were still head hunters at that time. They were treated like lords while they were there.

On their return he made a report to the United States government on his trip, and afterwards wrote another book, "Unfathomed Japan," which, like all his books, was published by McMillan and Company. Another book of about this time was known as "The Rural Teacher and His Work."

At this time Prof. Foght left the government and went to Aberdeen, S. D., where he was president of the teachers' college there for a period of 8 years. From there he went to Wichita, Kan., where he was president of the Municipal university.

He quit at Wichita to take up work under Dr. Collier in the Indian office as superintendent of the Navajo Indians, and his work there was the rebuilding of their schools and hospitals. From there he went to North Carolina to perform a similar work for the Cherokee Indians, a task which he continued until 2 years past the retirement age.

Prof. and Mrs. Foght drove to Ord from the Black Hills, where they had gone a week before, stopping at Aberdeen enroute. They also stopped at Valentine, near where Prof. Foght's father, an old sea captain, first located, coming there with a group of soldiers. Later in 1881 the family came to Ord, traveling overland by team.

While he is now retired, it does not necessarily mean that he is idle, as he still continues to write, and he has been appointed by the government to assist in the draft, which begins Oct. 16. In fact he does not expect to quit work as long as he is able to continue his writing. Among the nearly 2,000 who have passed through the Ord schools, few have had a more interesting career than has Prof. Harold W. Foght.

Ord Man Had 20 Minute Interview With Roosevelt

John Misko Also Met Knudson, Stimson, Knox and Other National Figures.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt is a "charming gentleman" but he still intends to cast his vote for Wendell Willkie, said John P. Misko in a talk before the Cosmopolitan club Monday evening.

President Roosevelt is affable and friendly and received them in a gracious manner, says the Ord man.

They also were received by Paul Appleby, under-secretary of agriculture, but did not get to see Claude Wickard, the secretary.

Another purpose of the trip was to try to secure location of defense industries in the Midwest.

Mr. Misko and Gov. Cochran were told by Defense Commissioner Knudson, with whom they had lunch, that to date all contracts for defense materials have been let to factories already in operation and no new factories have so far been built.

The Ord man met Leon Henderson, Edw. Stettinius and Sidney Hillman, other defense board members, Senator Herring of Iowa, Senator Connally of Texas, and many congressmen, as well as other department officials.

Mr. Misko praised the courtesies he received from Congressmen Harry Coffey and Karl Curtis, saying both were "very helpful."

He told Cosmopolitans that one of the high spots of the trip was a sight-seeing trip around Washington in Senator Capper's 1926 Chevrolet, which made so much noise it "scared the natives."

Twp. Caucuses Held Thursday Night in All Voting Places

'Let George Do It' Attitude in Evidence; One Office Only Drew a Contest.

While returns are not all in from other parts of the county, it was apparent in Ord that nobody cared for the township and city ward offices enough to make much of a campaign for them at the caucuses which were held on Thursday evening.

As is not generally understood, both city and Ord township voters ballot on the township board. Ten or twelve democrats met in the south room of the county clerk's office to select their township ticket, which they did as follows: Clerk, Charles T. Hather; treasurer, A. W. Pierce; justice of the peace, W. T. McLain.

Those present from Ord city then dropped out, and the township electors present chose W. J. Hather for township assessor and Rudolph J. Blaha for road overseer.

So many wanted to take part in the republican caucus that it was necessary to open up the district court room to accommodate them.

The following were nominated unanimously: Clerk, Evet Smith; treasurer, Clyde Baker; justice of the peace, J. A. Brown.

Wayne Turner, Reinhold Rose, Frank Clement and Warner Vergin were named for this job, and it was agreed that the person having the highest number of votes on the first ballot should be the nominee.

The nominees for assessor in Ord were as follows: First ward, Sam Marks, republican, and Glen L. Johnson, democrat; second ward, John R. Haskell, republican, and Frank T. Krikac, democrat; third ward, John J. Wozab, jr., is unopposed, as the democrats held no caucus.

Fine Autumn Rain Fell During Night Saturday

One of the finest rains seen in this section in a long time fell Saturday evening and during the night. It began near supper time and continued until after midnight in a steady rain, a total of 1.38 inches falling. This and the .38 of an inch that fell earlier in the week, makes a total of 1.76 inches during the first week in October.

While it came too late to do any of the 1940 crop much good, it will be of much help to fall pastures, and to winter wheat and rye already sown.

Broken Bow Loses to Superior Ord Team by 25 to 6

1st Half Fumbleitis Stops 2 Ord Thrusts and Warriors Score First on Pass.

Balked in the first quarter by two costly fumbles and other early-season misplays, the Ord Chanticleers spotted the Broken Bow Warriors one touchdown Friday evening on Bussell field and then came back to win in a romp, 25 to 6.

Forward passes, both long and short, played a part in every Ord score except one in which Balley Flagg, the alert Ord quarterback, took a Broken Bow pass on his own 45-yard line and ran it 55 yards for a touchdown.

Early power was displayed by the Chanticleers but they couldn't hold the ball long enough to capitalize on their ability to gain through the Bow line.

A long pass to Hatch on the sidelines, followed by a 30-yard run, led Broken Bow score in the first quarter but they never threatened again.

The first Ord score came in the second quarter in a spectacular play which started with a forward pass, then a lateral, and Cetak plunged over from the 1 yard line and the score was tied at 6 to 6.

Alan Zikmund Played Against Minnesota

Alan Zikmund, blonde Ord lad who is a halfback on the Cornhusker squad, saw service against the Minnesota Gophers last Saturday against Minneapolis and seems destined for a brilliant career in Cornhusker football.

The first time he was given the ball he made an 11 yard gain for a first down and the next time spun off tackle for 22 yards and might have scored if a blocker, Abel, had executed his assignment correctly.

Saturday Alan's father, Henry Zikmund, will attend the Indiana-Nebraska game at Lincoln and see his son in action in Cornhusker colors for the first time.

Commissioner System to Be Explained Soon

Frank G. Arnold, of Fullerton, head of the Nebraska Federation of Taxpayers Leagues, has indicated his willingness to visit Valley county and compare the two systems as to efficiency and economy.

Big Calf Sale Held at Ericson Last Saturday

There are a number of game birds which are protected the year around, and it would be well to keep them in mind while hunting. This list includes rails, doves, swans, cranes, curlew, plover, prairie chicken, grouse, quail, Chukar partridge, Hungarian partridge and wild turkey, and a number of these birds can be found in this section.

Migratory game birds are protected by federal as well as state game laws and the following regulations must be observed: All persons over 16 years of age hunting migratory water fowl must have federal duck stamp in addition to regular hunting permit.

The use of live decoys or baiting is prohibited. Dogs, blinds, and boats may be used, but the use of automobiles, power boats or aircraft is prohibited.

Game birds can be shipped by express, baggage or automobile, if accompanied by shipper. No shooting is permitted on game reserves, sanctuaries or areas closed by federal or state laws.

All game placed in cold storage plants must have regular cold storage tag attached. Wear your hunting badge in plain sight on hat or coat.

Hunters are warned especially against shooting the Chukar partridge, which has been planted in a number of counties in the state, especially in the Panhandle counties. These are being stocked, and the penalty for shooting them at this time is severe.

Ign. Klimma, county clerk, wishes to have the attention of the public called to the fact that there are a few Muttan pheasants planted in this county. Some of them have survived the winter. A sense of chivalry should prevent hunters from shooting these birds until they are sufficiently numerous to prevent their extinction.

October 16th Is Registration Day for Service Act

All Males, 21 to 35, Must Register for Service On That Date.

According to the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940, recently passed by both houses of Congress and signed by President Roosevelt, means for handling the registration of all males of the specified age must be set up within the county, and Governor Cochran has specified that the county clerk shall arrange for this method of registration.

The call is to every male citizen of the United States, other than those excepted specifically by the Act, and every male citizen who has attained his 21st birthday and who has not attained his 36th birthday must register for service on October 16, 1940.

There is no compensation in the Act for those who administer it, so County Clerk Klimma is calling upon those who in the past have served as clerks and judges on election boards to volunteer for service on that day to assist in the registration.

School boards are requested to permit the teacher to dismiss school in all school houses that are used as polling places in the county and thus make the buildings available for the purposes of the draft. It is also requested that all employers give those of draft age in their employ consideration on that day and assist them to fulfill their duty and register.

The full context of a notice from Ign. Klimma, county clerk, is printed as news on another page of the Quiz, and we suggest that all readers read this message over very carefully and do whatever lies in their power to help make this registration the success it should be.

Baked Pears Fit for a King. Bake from 12 to 15 at one time. Place in double roaster, stems up. Add one cup of water and bake one hour before starting to sweeten, then begin to add sugar, half a cup at a time, repeating this three times. After which you bake two hours, at no time letting the liquid be less than one cup in the roaster. After they have baked three hours, to the liquid that is left in the pan add a tablespoon of butter and one tablespoon of corn starch, which is to thicken. Put this over the pears just before serving, as it makes a little glazing, after which put on whipped cream. Bake in moderate oven, usually the day before serving them.

Use well ripened Colorado Keifer Pears which can be bought at practically every grocery store and at the Ord Coop. Creamery.

This week The Quiz starts a new department which will be a regular weekly feature for a while. Written by one of Valley county's checker experts, it should prove interesting to everyone who enjoys this game.

4x4 checkerboard grid with numbers 1-16 in a specific pattern.

Number your checker board the same as the picture above. Regardless of whether you are a checker player or not you will have a lot of fun trying to solve the problem.

In the presentation of all problems bear in mind that the black pieces are moving down the board, white moving up towards the top of the page. Kings of course move any direction.

Place a black single piece on No. 14, a black king on 16 and 29. Now place a white single man on No. 31, a white king on 6 and 13. It's whitties move and win. Every move forced. (Answer next week)

Registration Day October 16, 1940

Selective Training and Service Act of 1940 and its Administration in Counties.

By virtue of the authority vested in him by this Act, the President of the United States has proclaimed that every male citizen of the United States, other than those excepted specifically by the Act, and every male alien residing in the United States who has attained his twenty-first birthday anniversary and has not attained his thirty-sixth birthday anniversary must register for service on October 16th, 1940.

The Governor of Nebraska, in conformity with the law and with the proclamation of the President, has proclaimed:

That the first registration under this Act of 1940 will take place on Wednesday, the sixteenth day of October, 1940, between the hours of 7:00 A. M., and 9:00 P. M.

In order to facilitate and expedite the registration, he has called upon the County Clerk of the various counties to arrange for the use of the customary precinct polling places as registration places.

That inasmuch as there is no provision for compensation incident to conduct of the registration, he calls upon those who in the past have served as clerks and judges of election boards to volunteer their services, as a contribution to the national defense, and in view of the personal sacrifice to be made by those who are being registered. And that those on whose property the voting places are located, place their property at the disposal of the County Clerks and the Registration Boards for that day.

That all public officials of the State of Nebraska, and all subdivisions and all citizens generally should give a full measure of loyalty and patriotic cooperation in carrying out the provisions of the Selective Training and Service Act of 1940. Also urges all employers to give those in their employ every consideration which will assist them to fulfill their duty to register.

Being charged with the duties and responsibilities of carrying out the provisions of this Act, and the rules or regulations pertaining to registration on October 16th, I personally ask that every member of the regular election boards who served at the last Primary be ready and willing to serve as a registrar if called upon to serve. That all those who are notified to serve as registrars will avail themselves of every opportunity to inform themselves, by reading such information and regulations as may be sent to them, and that they observe and follow all regulations.

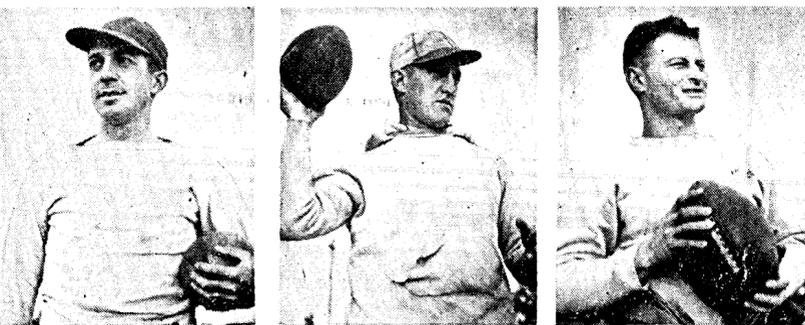

I also ask that all polling places in the various voting precincts be made available on registration day.

I hope that the school boards in districts where the school house is regularly used as a voting place, will cooperate by causing school to be dismissed and the school house made available and at disposal of the registration board on Registration Day.

It will be the sincere desire of all those charged with the administration of the Act and the conduct of the Registration of the President and the Governor and your cooperation will be highly appreciated by all. I assure you.

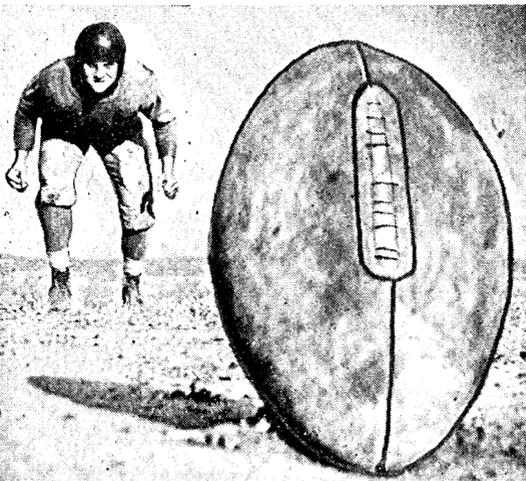

Sincerely,
IGN. KLIMA, JR., County Clerk

Ord Coaches Don Football Togs. Get In and Work with Boys

Football pants and sweat shirts for the coaches as well as for the players is the rule in Ord's new coaching set-up, and Coaches Tolly, Hester and Reeves teach quite as much by precept as by verbal explanation. In the center above is Hedd Coach Tolly, who learned his football at Peru Normal where he received all-state recognition. At his right is Assistant Coach Hester, a graduate of Kearney Normal, and at his left is Assistant Coach Reeves, a Hastings College product. They did an excellent job of getting the Chanticleers into high gear early; now they hope to keep them there, though tougher competition is coming up.

There's The Whistle! Ready for Kick-off

George Cetak is the kick-off artist for Coach Tolly's fast-traveling Chanticleers, and also helps with the punting and place-kicking. Here's a "worm's-eye" view of 190-lb. George, his fighting jaw set, poised for the kick-off that will send the Chanticleers into action again.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

This column has related, from time to time, certain facts about the ways in which the human body protects itself against all sorts of dangerous things. Our bodies are normally well prepared against a host of enemies which constantly threaten inanimate surroundings. Some of our defenses are present when we are born; others are developed as a result of experience as we grow older. Some of the defenses which we develop are kept permanently thereafter and others are only maintained for the duration of the emergency.

Everyday living is filled with examples of defensive reactions. If some irritating substance gets into the nose, windpipe or the stomach, we sneeze, cough, or vomit, and thus tend to rid ourselves of the irritant. When a gnat, eye-lash, or some cigarette smoke gets into the eye, tears flow profusely and wash out the substance, often saving the eye from serious injury.

When we have stuck an inquiring finger on a hot stove a reflex compels us to jerk it away, even before the mind becomes aware that the finger is getting burned. Memory makes us hesitate to repeat the experiment. If we are about to be attacked by animals or men, the little glands which lie just above the kidneys and are called suprarenal glands immediately pour more secretion into the blood stream which makes us more alert, enables us to run away faster or to fight harder. In addition this secretion causes the body to draw quantities of sugar from the store houses of the body and put it into the blood stream at these times, because this can be used quickly to give us energy. We can then run longer or fight longer before fatigue overcomes us.

Nature has covered our bodies with skin and lined our cavities with membranes all of which resist the passage of germs from getting into the tissues of the body. If they cannot get inside they are usually harmless. In addition to this it has been shown that clean, normal skin will actually kill some disease producing germs.

The membranes lining our cavities are also resistant to the entrance of germs such as mucus and stomach juice which helps kill many of the germs which might get through these membranes.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Writes from Yokohama.

(Editor's Note—The writer of the letter printed below is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmatier, of Ord. He is ship's printer on the S. S. President Taft, of the American President line, plying between California and the Orient. In a previous letter Ellery described his trip from San Francisco to Honolulu. Future letters will tell about visits to the Philippines and Chinese ports.)

Enroute Yokohama, August 26, 1940.

Yesterday was a grand day. We arrived at Honolulu on schedule and I was glad to feel solid ground under foot after five days at sea.

In spending our day, a seaman and myself took a swim at Waikiki Beach, listened to the Royal Hawaiian orchestra and took a 90 mile trip around Oahu Island. The weather was grand, all the abundance of tropical foliage adds to the natural beauty of the islands. Typical of women the world over, Polynesians go to the ridiculous when choosing hats, men's hats being considered here the thing to wear this season. In the United States I met many people who would like to go to these islands and here I met many who would like to get back to the states, which may explain why some of us must keep rowing to be contented.

August 27. There isn't much to write about when at sea. We have a 9-day run ahead before we get to Japan. Each day will be more monotonous than the last. It was 2,091 nautical miles from San Francisco to Honolulu and it will be 3,394 nautical miles to Yokohama. (A nautical mile is 1 1/8 land miles.) We make about 16 knots an hour. I was just taking a walk on the top deck with the ship's painter, talking of ships and distant places. It seems like there are a million stars in these tropical skies, really a beautiful evening, the kind that trick men into going to sea. Most all the men are beginning to buy and sell yen, which is the Japanese coin corresponding to our dollar, but a dollar U. S. gold will buy plenty of them. Must turn in now, more tomorrow.

August 28. The regular routine takes up my spare time but I am making an effort to get about 3 days ahead with my printing work so I won't need to go near the ship while we are in Yokohama. Will take the train from Yokohama to Tokio and down to Kobe before we sail for Hong-kong.

We had fire and lifeboat drill again today, a duty indeed but one which we have no relish for. It is a precautionary measure only, to acquaint us with our duties in case of an emergency. We never lower the boats more than half way when at sea.

August 30. There was no Thursday, August 29 for us, as we drop one day when we pass the 150 degree meridian, the International Date Line, which runs exactly the opposite way as the equator. We still set our clocks back one half hour each day and will continue for several days. It will be tough coming back as we will have to get up 1-2 hour earlier each morning. When we pass the 150 degree meridian we will have two Tuesdays in a row if we are on schedule.

August 31. Woke up bright and early this morning and it is one of those mornings when the world seems a great place. It seems swell to be on deck for an hour or two. For me the ocean always seems the most peaceful place in the world, but I also remember a few occasions when it wasn't so peaceful.

We picked up a lot of tropical fruits in Hawaii such as pineapple, papayas, mangoes and several other varieties which I'm unable to identify. The food on these boats is the finest money can buy and prepared by wonderful chefs, and since I have the run of the galley I'm doing all right. My job is pleasant, inasmuch as I am permitted to regulate my working hours to suit my own convenience, just so I get the work done.

September 1. We have been at sea about 13 days now, a week today since leaving Honolulu. We are beginning to put more of a material value on U. S. gold and we will literally be millionaires until we leave the Orient. It seems like this is an awfully long run but on a freighter 30 days or more isn't unusual. The longer we are at sea the more irritable we become and things that a man would take as a joke at home he wants to fight about aboard ship. But for a crew such as ours we get along remarkably well.

September 2. An amusing incident happened today. A flying fish glided through an open porthole and bit a Chinese scullion on the leg. I remember a similar incident in New Zealand once, only then five minutes later he was frying the fish. They are considered a delicacy. As usual there is a last minute rush for office work and favors and I have been quite busy in the print shop. I've worked out a system to where I'll be able to stay away from the boat 3 days. The most interesting part of this run is just commencing and for a while we will make port every 2nd or 3rd day. But 3 days in the Philippines will be a long time as the heat is terrific.

September 3. Today will be our last at sea for a while. We arrive in Japan at dawn. Fire and boat drill again today. Also vaccinated for small-pox. Next week it will be for cholera, as we are entering China. They surely take good care of our health. The weather has been unusually calm for the Pacific in these waters. Typhoons at one time were considered hazards but when you are sailing under steam they are only a bit annoying and make a few passengers sea sick.

This is all for now and will mail this in Yokohama when we dock. More later.

ELLERY PALMATIER

Origin of Word 'Panama' The word Panama is derived from a native Indian word meaning "place abounding in fish."

Humming Sand Hill In the Peninsula of Sinal, on the eastern shore of the Red sea, is the famed Jebel Nakus, or Hill of the Bell. This musical sand hill gives out a sound like that of a humming top, rising and falling with undulations.

THE THIRD TERM ISSUE.

Samuel B. Pettengill in a recent editorial quoted one more of our presidents and his views on long terms for the president.

"A defect in the constitution is the eligibility of the same individual to a second term of presidency. The sagacious mind of Mr. Jefferson early saw and lamented this error.

"Republicans can commit no greater error than to adopt or continue any feature of their systems of government which may be calculated to create or increase the love of power in the bosoms of them to whom necessity obliges men to commit the management of their affairs and surely nothing is more likely to produce such a state of mind than the long continuance of an office of high trust.

"Nothing can be more corrupting, nothing more destructive of all those noble feelings which belong to the character of a devoted republican patriot. When this corrupting passion once takes possession of the human mind, like his bosom, grows with his growth and strengthens with the declining years of its victims.

"If this is true, it is the part of wisdom for a republic to limit the service of that officer at least to whom she has entrusted the management of her foreign relations, the execution of her laws, and the command of her armies and navies to a period so short as to prevent his forgetting that he is the accountable agent, not the principal; the servant, not the master.

"By making the president the sole distributor of all patronage of the government the framers of the constitution do not appear to have anticipated at how short a period it would become a formidable instrument to control the free operations of the state governments.

Of trifling importance at first, it had early in Mr. Jefferson's administration become so powerful as to create great alarm in the mind of that patriot from the potent influence it might exert in controlling the freedom of the elective franchise.

These were the words of the hero of Tippecanoe, one of the best loved of the early frontier heroes, who died less than a month after he uttered them. Uttered a century ago, they were indeed prophetic. Today we are faced with just the dangers of which he spoke then, and the republic for which he fought is battling for its very existence. We do not need a dictator in America. Let us make that condition impossible by law.

TWO ROOSEVELTS-A CONTRAST

This has to do with two Roosevelts, but not the two about whom contrasts are usually drawn. The contrast between Teddy and Franklin D. is so sharp as to be absolutely startling, but they are so well known that it is not necessary to call the attention of the public to them. The differences in their careers speak for themselves.

The two Roosevelts who will be the subject of this article are not so well known to the general public as their more illustrious fathers but what they did, and are doing, should be of interest to all who will be called in the coming draft, as well as to the parents who must see them go. It is an outstanding contrast in character.

THE ANSWER TO THE QUIZ

The answer is simple. He has the same egoism that pervades his entire family, the same idea that he is not common clay, that he should not be required to rub shoulders with ordinary people in training camps. What other men have to work and sweat for, is his by some sort of divine right. He has not learned the one great fact of army life that he who rules must first learn to obey.

What of the effect on the draft of this preference shown a pampered son of wealth? What will the men in his command think of the captain who did not have the intestinal fortitude to start at the bottom and earn his chance of promotion, instead of demanding it? This nation is engaged in a program to raise a huge standing army, and to make army life popular. By his example Elliott Roosevelt has done much to make the draft unpopular.

Something Different

Have you noticed the beauty of the trees about the Ord football field, when the floodlights are turned on? They look unreal, so lovely. Much like the foliage and trees some of the English landscapers used to paint. They are so beautiful I can hardly watch the football game.

And that doesn't mean Ord didn't play good football last Friday night against Broken Bow. It was great sport to watch and the fumbles added the luck element. The way young Flagg pranced down that field, knees chest high, that was great.

And those Cetak boys, they've been fine football material haven't they? What is Ord high going to do when the last one is through high school?

I continue to think I'll vote for Willie. Yes, he talks a good deal and says just what he means whether it suits his listeners or not. But what is wrong with that? That's better than idle chatter about party platforms and planks that are all heaved out the window the evening of election. Refer to the 1932 election, or have you forgotten it?

That's what you were supposed to do: forget it. Mrs. E. P. Clements is surely making a noble recovery. Last spring she broke her hip quite badly, and hence it was necessary for her to spend the summer in a hot, stiff cast. But although she is 78, and most women her age would simply give up at the idea of a broken hip, Mrs. Clements never gave voice to such a thought. If she thought it, which I doubt, and now she is walking again, though it is a slow and painful process. But she uses her crutches a little, her courage a lot and tries several times a day.

The crutches of course had to undergo a severe bobbing for Mrs. Clements is a tiny person. But Judge Clements, who was a carpenter before he was judge, fixed the crutches as slick as a whistle and enjoyed doing it.

He also enjoyed playing nursemaid, I believe, and did a splendid job. Every spare minute was spent with his wife, giving her the tenderest care. Really, much of the credit for Mrs. Clements' recovery must belong to him, and to Lena, who also did everything she could.

But still, I want to say how unusual it is for anyone to go through what she has this summer and continue to be sweet and cheerful about it.

Ord Junior High Boys Take Game from Burwell

Playing consistent football throughout the game, Coach Reeves' junior high boys easily defeated the Burwell junior high team on their own field Thursday afternoon. The Burwell line was weak in the center, and the team was weak on the offensive.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

A Change of School.

Dale Morrow came into my second hand joint the week before school started and looked at a suit I had there for sale. He had been visiting his grandfather, Ace Clement, the boy's home being up north of Horace with his father, Kirk Morrow. Dale was a small lad, with rather bushy hair and wore thick heavy glasses.

He seemed to want the suit I had and I tried a little of my high pressure on the lad but to no avail. He said he did not have the money and I offered to trust him, but even with credit offered he did not falter. In fact, I was surprised at how smart the lad appeared. We visited for several minutes and I liked him very much, liked his gentlemanly behavior; was surprised that he conversed so intelligently.

Yes, I was surprised at how bright he was. He was not entirely a stranger to me. Last year he had gone to high school with my daughter and she knew him well. She had told me he acted peculiar; that sometimes she thought he wasn't bright. I had seen him at school following the other boys around, sometimes seeming to wander a little, undecided which way to turn; what to do. He even attempted to play basketball but was not any too successful.

I asked him in the store if he were anxious for school to start again and he did not seem to be. I asked him if he was going to Scotia again and this too he said he didn't know. I continued to question him, (which I shouldn't have done, of course) "Why don't you go to North Loup, and stay with your grandfather?" I asked.

He looked at me rather funny and said he didn't know where he would go yet and then I said, "Well, of all things, don't quit." And this I was not sure I should have said for I knew he did not get along well with his grades.

"I met Dale Morrow tonight," I told my daughter upon returning home. "Acts to me like a nice kid. After seeing some of the rough neck, smart alecs that stop in occasionally, I thought he was fine."

She was a little surprised. "Oh, he's nice enough," she replied "but sometimes I think he's dumb. Sometimes he can't seem to get his lessons at all. Sometimes I think he never studies his assignments at all; don't even read them. I don't know how he expects to get along without reading his lessons."

"I don't know about his lessons," I replied, "but get the idea he's no fool. If there were no dumber lads than he in this world we wouldn't need worry much."

He did not start to school again at Scotia this year. I am sorry now that I did not give him the suit, although he probably wouldn't have taken it; in fact he could have had it for nothing as it was, taken it on credit and never paid like some do; he was not that kind apparently. I would be glad to start the fund by giving a dollar for a new suit but that too he probably would resent.

No, he did not come to the Scotia school again this year. Yesterday Geraldine came home and said he had gone to Nebraska City to school this year; to the school for the blind.

Optimism. Lloyd VanHorn bought a grain binder at a sale the other day. But better yet, my mother in California, sent her granddaughter a rain coat the other day. That is optimism for sure. But she has lived in Valley county since 1872 (outside of the last few years) and she says, "You can't tell me it doesn't rain in Valley county."

Only 79. Hub Thorpgate is up and walking the streets again now after a rather serious sick spell. He is a little thinner and he says not so strong, but he does not appear so bad and he talks as young and of as good spirits as he ever did as far as I can see. He is good for many years yet I'd think. He will be only 79 years old the 9th of this month.

He planted, hoed and irrigated a big garden this year, did his share of the visiting, joking, church going and settling affairs of the world. Not so bad I'd think for a man 79 years young.

A Home for Many. Frequently, it seems, in the obituaries of a person, some of the most important things of the deceased's life are left out. And this, it seems to me was the case of my wife's father, Eddie Davis, who died last week.

All his life, my wife says, there has been some person, or persons living there, he and his wife helping them along by their hospitality. My wife says that a year or so ago her sisters took a trip to Arkansas, and those two weeks is the only time she remembers her mother and father living by themselves.

A Change of School Optimism Only 79 A Home for Many

As usual the Roosevelts put duty above everything else. Young Elliott, who would have received $30 a month if he had waited for the draft as millions of other young Americans his age had to do, heard the call of duty and accepted appointment as a captain in the air service. As such, he will receive $300 per month. The fact that he can't fly an airplane, isn't a mechanic and knows nothing of the problems of military service doesn't count.

And they do say the Roosevelt family has made $2,500,000 out of the presidency to date, what with radio speeches by Eleanor, movies by Jimmie, publishing by son-in-law John and insurance selling, radio chain ownership, etc., by other members of the clan.

Dwight Griswold made a fine talk in Ord last week but he isn't as good at promising as his opponent, Terry. Time for Dwight to realize that promises made in the heat of a campaign don't mean anything after election. Or haven't since 1932.

When a bunch of Red-lovers like Robert H. Jackson, Frances Perkins, Harry Hopkins, Sidney Hillman, Harold Ickes, and Aubrey Williams in charge of key national defense positions, what use is there for the G-men to look for 5th columnists among factory workers? A shogun loaded with birdshot discharged anywhere in a government building at Washington would strike a hundred of them.

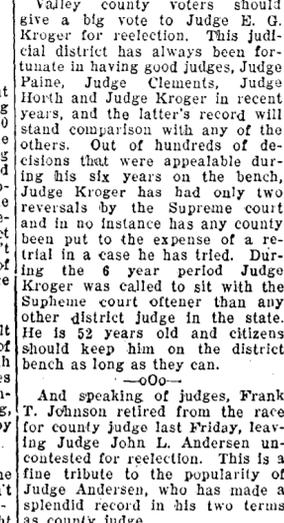

Short Shots on POLITICS

Valley county voters should give a big vote to Judge E. G. Kroger for reelection. This judicial district has always been fortunate in having good judges, Judge Paine, Judge Clements, Judge North and Judge Kroger in recent years, and the latter's record will stand comparison with any of the others. Out of hundreds of decisions that were appealable during his six years on the bench, Judge Kroger has had only two reversals by the Supreme court and in no instance has any county been put to the expense of a retrial in a case he has tried. During the 6 year period Judge Kroger was called to sit with the Supreme court oftener than any other district judge in the state. He is 52 years old and citizens should keep him on the district bench as long as they can.

And speaking of judges, Frank T. Johnson retired from the race for county judge last Friday, leaving Judge John L. Andersen uncontested for reelection. This is a fine tribute to the popularity of Judge Andersen, who has made a splendid record in his two terms as county judge.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Well, I am back on the job and the first thing Eugene said was, better get busy and write a story for next week. When we drove out of our yard at Cullen at seven Thursday morning, it was raining and we drove in more or less rain until 10 o'clock. Then it began to clear and by noon the sun was shining thru the clouds. The Fenners entertained us for breakfast at 6:30 and we sure had a nice breakfast to start us on the home trip. The weather was nice when we left, the temperature Thursday morning being 62 degrees. So far little or no damage had been done to our flowers by the frost, though away from the lakes all of the tenderer crops were badly frosted. The crops generally are good. Potatoes is a big crop up there and they are very fine this year. Down around Little Falls we met and saw lots of government trucks and indications of army movement, due of course to the fact that big Camp Ripley is located there. The camp is just north of the highway, the water towers, flags, mules and miles of barracks and tents being in sight from the highway as we drove along. The news reports are that fifty thousand men will be stationed in that section.

We had an early dinner at Montevideo, then on west on 212 to Watertown where we stopped for a brief visit with the Herald management there, one of our good customers for halftone engravings. Watertown is a town of about ten thousand. We have driven via Watertown before, continuing home down 31 highway to Yankton, but this time we drove on west another 50 miles on 212 highway to Redfield where we visited another large user of our cuts. Crops were good to and some distance past Watertown but then we ran into that burned up South

Vencil Parkos Preparing to Market Turkeys After Summer of Work

Raising turkeys is no part-time job, says Vencil Parkos, who lives 5 miles north of Arcadia, and who now is preparing to market the first of a flock of 764 turkeys which he has raised this summer. Ever since they were hatched Mr. Parkos has literally "lived" with his turkeys, sleeping in a shack close to their roosts and spending at least 20 out of every 24 hours with them.

Last spring Mr. Parkos bought the turkey eggs and had them hatched by the Goff Hatchery, the first being hatched May 22. He now has 340 turkeys from this first hatch, the gobblers weighing now an average of 20 pounds each and the hens an average of 11 pounds each. They are ready for market and Mr. Parkos expects to sell them wherever he can get the best price, live weight.

On a side hill alfalfa field he built roosts and shelters for the turkeys and divided them into three groups according to their ages, 340 in the largest group, 264 and 160 in the other groups. On top of the shelters are kerosene flares which burn all night as protection against marauding coyotes and also because turkeys fare better, in Mr. Parkos' opinion, when they have a light at night.

No thieves need try for the Parkos turkeys, for near Mr. Parkos' bunk stands a loaded shotgun which he is ready to use on any marauder, either 2-legged or 4-legged. Also, all the turkeys are marked with tattooing in the skin of their wing and in the web of their feet.

Since the turkeys began to grow big they have eaten 750 pounds of feed, costing $11.61, each day, and Mr. Parkos has hauled 200 gallons of water to them daily.

Mr. Parkos goes to the farm house about a mile away to eat his meals but otherwise he spends all the time with his turkeys. Next season he plans to raise 1,000 to 2,000 birds, he says now.

Turkeys are extremely "scary" and a car driving up, especially after dark, will frighten them from the roosts and they will scatter over 2 miles of pasture land. Therefore Mr. Parkos requests that people who might want to see the turkeys stop first at the house and make arrangements for a visit.

Non-Political Candidate for District Judge

The Eleventh Judicial District has eleven counties, and there are two judges to be elected. It is only fair that one of these judges should be from outside Grand Island.

Dakota section that looks like this country, only the farms are much larger and the homes further apart in the country. It is a fine paved highway though and as we had never seen it, we enjoyed the trip. It was pretty warm with a hard south wind blowing. At Redfield we had a nice visit with our customer, who says he will continue to use our engravings, which he has always found entirely satisfactory. We drove south from Redfield on highway 281, gravelled and now being rebuilt and oiled all the way. They say it is to be used as a military highway and will eventually be a 4-lane highway. We stayed Thursday night at a nice hotel at Platte, 15 miles north of the Rosebud bridge. We left Platte at 7 a. m., Friday and drove thru a beautiful country with somewhat better crops and we enjoyed the winding road down to the bridge and then on away from the river. It rained a little in the night and turned cooler and we soon had a strong west wind to contend with as we had the day before from the south. I visited several of the newspaper boys along the road, all of whom have been ordering engravings from us, and arrived at O'Neill about 10:30. Tried to visit the Astinus boys there but they were both out of town. Patronized their cafe however and then drove home via Atkinson and Burwell. Had a splendid visit with Ralph Kelly at Atkinson but didn't run onto Col. Weller. Asked about him and was told by several that he was very busy, doing a large business and feeling fine, which we were glad to know. Bought gas of the father of Mrs. Langer, formerly in the grocery business in Ord. He told me they had just located at Burwell. We drove up to Eugene's house at just 12:30 and Irma soon served us with a tasty and most satisfying dinner. Then we drove down and surprised the Andersons, not too much of a surprise though, as we were expected some time in the afternoon.

A couple of years ago the Missus and I were on the upper Cullen lake one day when we heard a motor and saw a boat coming up through the thoroughfare and heard someone in the boat say, "Who is that out on the bar," and the answer was "Oh, that is that old man and that old woman." We had a good laugh because we were not and still are not feeling so darned old. Then last year one day Esther Luther was out fishing with a party and someone called her grandma and she was real peeved, though she is old enough to be a grandma if Jim and Ethel had looked at the matter in the right manner. But the best joke of all was the other day on the upper lake as Mrs. Penner got a large walleye on her hook, reeled him up to the boat after much effort, then as Mr. Fenner undertook to land him with the landing net the car got in the way, there was a fumble or two and Mr. Fish got away. Some other people in a boat nearby had watched the whole performance, and the man said, "Well grandma that was too bad but you made a heroic fight." With a startled look at L. B., Mrs. Penner exclaimed, "The big bum, I wonder who he thinks I am." At first she thought she was mad at being called grandma but later she acknowledged that she would give anything to be entitled to be called just that and I suspect some of her friends will address her as Grandma frequently and enjoy seeing her blush and laugh.

Minute Wallin who has been with us all summer, has, for several weeks been going about her work singing or humming the tune, "I Am Nobody's Baby Now." I wonder.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Saw Frank Clark walking down the street swinging a lariat. He made a cast at a dog and the rope dropped over the animal's head. But the dog was not to be caught napping and he jumped right thru the loop. Yes, the wild west is still a bit wild.

Rube Lincoln was working on a car Friday which carried a Missouri license number, all of which goes to prove how far we have progressed in the past 30 years. He would not have thought of working on a Missouri buggy in the good old horse and buggy days.

C. C. Dale received a letter from the Nebraska Farmer last week asking about the Valley county corn husking contest. Mr. Dale replied that we have farm boys on the Ord football team who have never seen corn growing and some of them think a husking hook is some kind of a curve ball.

That there Hank Stara is getting into the news again. Last week he finished painting E. C. Leggett's house, and didn't want anything said in the paper about it. However, the house looks so much better that we just can't refrain from giving the name of the man who did the job.

The new Western Auto store run by C. E. Rusinsell has a window display with an air gun displayed horizontally in the center. A number of people passing by one evening last week noted a fearless rat sitting on the barrel of the gun and looking around as if to say, "Now bring on your cat." Incidentally, a number of business complain about being pestered by rats.

Rex Jewett Wins Medals at Omaha Pistol Shoot

Last week Rex Jewett received by mail six medals which he earned the Sunday before, Sept. 29, at the competitions of the Omaha rifle and pistol clubs in their fall pistol tournament.

He won first in 22 caliber slow fire with 193 out of a possible 200 points. This is at a range of 25 yards, and he competed against the Kansas City police team which holds practically all pistol records, and a group of FBI officials. Five men tied for second place with 192.

He placed second in the national match course, which includes 10 shots slow fire at 50 yards, 10 shots time fire at 25 yards, and 10 shots rapid fire at 25 yards, all with a .22. The coach of the Kansas City team placed first in this event.

In the national match course with a .33 revolver Rex took second with a Kansas City man taking first. In the .22 pistol rapid fire course, 20 shots at 25 yards, he took second with another Kansas City man taking first.

In the aggregate of all 22 caliber matches he took second, with an FBI man taking first, and in the grand aggregate of all calibers he took second with a Kansas City man taking first.

In addition to these Mr. Jewett placed fourth in the Camp Perry course with a .33 revolver, and he also placed fifth in the doubles and fifth with the .45 army automatic. As he specializes in the smaller caliber weapons, his show-

Sinclair Opaline and Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oils last longer because they're de-waxed and de-jellied by an extra refining process. You don't have to add oil so often between drains.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

A number of conflicting notices about dates for the coming pheasant season have been printed in various state papers.

For instance, the Nebraska Farmer magazine informs us that "Open season on pheasants is Oct. 20 to Nov. 2, inclusive." But this week's Sunday State Journal makes the more conservative statement, "Season begins Oct. 20 and lasts ten days."

The Nebraska Farmer is correct. Here our season continues 14 days, commencing Oct. 20, at least for those who have not started to kill ring-necks already. This is based on official advice sent to County Clerk Igu. Kilma's office.

Locally, the pheasant season creates much social and business activity. It is the time when distant friends try to revive old acquaintances with Ordites, in hopes of getting invited here to shoot pheasants.

Hotels, filling stations, cafes, liquor and hardware stores should take in over a thousand dollars of outside money. In fact, most everyone will profit except the farmers who feed the birds. A pheasant eats about 50c worth of grain per year, and a few grasshoppers.

Our squirrel season has already begun, and waterfowl shooting starts next Wednesday morning. There are prospects of 20% more ducks this year. Pheasants seem plentiful, while prairie chicken, grouse and quail are coming back in increased numbers. However, the latter three should not be fired at.

Sportsmen had better lay in an early supply of ammunition. The price of shells is up, but shells are likely to go higher.

NORTH LOUP

This is freshman week in high school and Monday morning saw boys and girls of the freshman class going to school in the required uniform. Girls wore overalls under their dresses, a mustache, and goatee, freckles, dark glasses and carried a lantern. Boys wore dresses, long stockings, carried a doll, and both boys and girls wore green hats. Wednesday at the convocation period they will be given the final initiation and be full fledged high school students. Some of the boys who came to school Monday morning with their hip stick and rouge made very good looking girls and the girls good looking boys. Nearly all came dressed as they had been ordered for they were afraid of the consequences if they didn't.

Mr. Seckman came from Big Springs and Keystone where he had been visiting his daughters, Wednesday and left for his home in Charleston, W. Va., the next day. He drove George Miller's car thru for him. Mr. Seckman came out when the L. J. Millers came home several weeks ago.

The Nellie Shaw missionary society met all day at the Seventh Day Baptist church Wednesday and quilled. The committee in charge of the meals served popcorn days reported more than $45 cleared. For some unknown reason part of the North Loup news didn't arrive at the Quiz office until Wednesday night last week so some items of interest were left out. Among them was the marriage of Evangeline Hermsmeier and Ivan Miller which took place in Grand Island on Saturday, Oct. 2. Ivan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Miller of North Loup, a graduate of our schools and for a time manager of the Strand. His bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lena Hermsmeier of Scotia, a graduate of the Scotia schools and has been employed in the Scotia hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Miller have bought the Glen Roberts cafe in Arcadia and went at once to Arcadia to take over the business.

ARCADIA

Mrs. C. C. Hawthorne and Mrs. Ray Lutz visited at the Bernard Zwick home in Rockville, Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hughes were entertained at dinner and stayed over night at the Curtis Hughes home Thursday night.

Lucille Star, a senior in Hastings College this year, has recently been selected for membership in the first Presbyterian church in Hastings.

Mrs. George Greenland and Mrs. Mike O'Connor will be the hostesses of the Congregational Aid Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl and Philip Hughes were entertained at dinner Thursday by Mrs. Dan Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Krajnik visited Friday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holmes called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hoon Sunday afternoon.

George E. Hastings, jr., was in Grand Island Monday visiting with George Horton.

The Arcadia Hotel opened Saturday morning after being closed for 30 days. The new operator is Mrs. Marie McMichael. Mrs. Jeffries formerly ran it and was there for seven years. The whole building has been remodeled. A short order place has been put where the lobby was and the lobby moved to the east room downstairs. Mrs. Charles Braden is the cook and Mrs. George Cassel waitress.

Rally Day was observed Sunday by the Sunday school of the Methodist church. Awards were given for attendance. Eva Rambo, who has not missed for twelve years, received a perfect attendance pin. The Gregory girls received perfect attendance pins for not having missed for 3 years. A number of bibles were given for perfect attendance for the past year.

Janssens Have Good Sale; Will Live in San Diego

The Ben Janssen family held the sale of their household goods at their residence in east Ord Saturday afternoon. Herman Rice was assisted by Col. Webb of Ericson, with Lloyd Richardson and P. V. Haight taking care of the clerking.

There was a large crowd in attendance, and most articles brought satisfactory prices. The Janssens leave this week for the west, and will visit first in Escondido, Calif., before going on to San Diego, where they plan to make their home. Joy Janssen is now at Wilber and will possibly remain until the close of the school year.

The Janssens came to Ord in June, 1917, and Ben worked for a time at his trade as decorator before entering the employ of Weller Bros., where he remained for 9 years. He then painted for a while and began working for the Co-op Oil company more than 10 years ago.

Broken Bow Loses to Superior Ord Team by 25 to 6

Later in the same period the Chanticleers carried the ball to Broken Bow's 15-yard line but lost it on downs.

Receiving the second half kickoff, Plagg ran it back to the 30, then on the first play scampered to a 1st down. Cetak repeated with a 12-yard plunge but after being stopped on the next play the Chanticleers tried a quick kick which was blocked and Broken Bow took the pigskin on Ord's 45. The Warriors made one first down but Cetak then intercepted a pass and Ord took over on their 35. Cetak plunged to a first down but a 15-yard penalty for shoving set the Chanticleers back and they punted to Broken Bow's 15. There they intercepted a Warrior pass and ran it back to the 5 but Broken Bow held for downs on their 1-yard line. A little later Christensen caught a pass on the goal line for a score but Cetak failed to convert and the count was 12 to 6.

Early in the fourth period, after Broken Bow failed to gain and had to punt, came Plagg's sparkling 55 yard run. Again the try for point failed, leaving the count 18 to 6. The Warriors loosed a series of desperation passes and completed one for a first down but on the next play a flood of Chanticleers downed the passer for a 15-yard loss and Ord intercepted the next pass attempt. Final scoring play saw Christensen take a pass in the end zone to make the score 24 to 6. The point attempt was good, and the game ended a moment later.

Fans had nothing but praise for the fine play of the Chanticleers since their fumbling spree ended. The Ord line, with Cochran, Markler, Norman, Fryzel, Zlonke, Timmerman and Christensen as starters, opened magnificent holes for the ball carriers and most of the time were efficient on defense also, as were their substitutes. Plagg, Purtak, Cetak and Barnes did a grand job of advancing the ball, with Dahlin lending invaluable help at the blocking position.

Officials were Snugg, Allen and Ashley, of Grand Island, and though complaints were heard that Referee Snugg was a little hasty with his whistle-toting they did an excellent job on the whole and play was clean throughout. Only two penalties were chalked up, one for 5 yards and one for 15, both against Ord.

Friday, Oct. 11 the Chanticleers go to Burwell for their annual encounter. Burwell has been having a good season and intense rivalry always exists between the two teams, so the game should be a good one.

In The Good Old Days.

Anderson Contributes Plates for Quiz Use

Last week W. A. Anderson, who had the honor of being one of Ord's first resident photographers, donated a large number of his early day negatives to the Quiz, and in a short time now these will begin to appear under the heading, "In the Good Old Days."

Mr. Anderson was a man who believed in doing things well, and those negatives, some of which are well over 50 years old, are all in a wonderful state of preservation. The subjects include outstanding scenes of the early days, and are invaluable for the preservation of history.

Those who have enjoyed and are still enjoying the Quiz early day pictures have a real feast in store for them, and when they are published a full share of appreciation should be given Mr. Anderson for making it possible for the Quiz to present them to the public.

Burwell and Scotia Fight to 0-0 Score

The Burwell Longhorns and Scotia Tigers played to a 0 to 0 tie last Friday evening on the local gridiron in another Loup Valley Conference game, Friday evening the Longhorns play the Ord Chanticleers.

Early in the first quarter, Burwell launched a powerful drive of 65 yards which advanced the ball to the Scotia 1-foot line. On last down and one foot to go, the Longhorns suffered a costly five yard penalty for "too much time in the huddle." Then Jack Anderson attempted to put it over the 5-yard line, but lost 8 yards. That ended Burwell's first scoring threat.

From then on it was a battle of lines, Scotia's line having recovered from the first period threat, dug in and held the Longhorns to short gains. Jeffries, Scotia's left end, looked best in the line breaking up most of Burwell's end runs.

Scotia threatened only once, in the third period after an exchange of punts, the Tigers having advanced to Burwell's 15-yard line. They opened up a pass attack, which was broken up by Les Chaffin, who intercepted a pass on his own 30 yard line and returned it 30 yards to the Longhorn 40 yard stripe.

Burwell's hopes were brightened momentarily late in the fourth period, as they blasted into Scotia territory and were stopped on the Tiger's 18-yard line. Grunkemeyer tried for a field goal on the last down, but before he could kick, Burwell again was penalized five yards for too much time. Grunkemeyer's try on the next play was blocked. The game ended 0 to 0.

Eugene Franssen, guard, twisted his knee in the second quarter but was able to play later in the fourth period. Gerald Bishop, senior tackle also suffered injuries.

Students of the Burwell high school attended a pep rally Friday, which was presented by the pep club for the Burwell-Scotia football game.

Historic Legal Battle Looms in Irrigation Case

Columbus Project Files Suit Charging Loups Taking too Much Water for Land.

An "historical law suit" looms in the water rights suit brought against the North and Middle Loup districts last week by the big Columbus power project, says C. A. Sorensen, Lincoln attorney who will represent the irrigation districts in the fight.

Last Thursday at Columbus the Loup River public power district filed suit in district court and with the state irrigation bureau to prevent what it claimed was interference with the district's water rights.

It asked the court to enjoin the Middle Loup and North Loup irrigation districts from appropriating water which the Loup district claims it is entitled to.

The irrigation bureau was asked to deny the Sargent public irrigation district's application for 508 feet of direct flow and 9,000 acre feet of storage water from the Middle Loup to irrigate 35,600 acres and the application of the North Loup for an additional 21.3 second feet to irrigate 2,882 acres.

T. F. Neighbors, attorney for the Columbus project, claimed that the North Loup district up to Sept. 30 had appropriated from the North Loup river 50,000 acre feet of water, whereas its water right calls for only 38,000 acre feet.

Here in Ord, H. C. James, general manager for both the North and Middle Loup districts, did not want to be quoted on the suit, pending a conference with other officials and a complete examination of the papers filed in the suit, but at Lincoln Mr. Sorensen, after examining the papers at Columbus, released a statement in which he predicted a "historical law suit" will result.

"This suit raises squarely," said Sorensen, "the question of water for irrigation versus water for power. It is a question of how much water can be used for irrigation. The matter of using for irrigation water that has been appropriated for power has never been constructed."

Political Debate Was Interesting

A debate on politics featured the meeting of the Ord Business and Professional Women's club held Thursday at the home of Mrs. Ben Clark. The republican side was explained by Mrs. A. W. Cornell, a life-long democrat who will vote for Willkie this fall not only because she believes he is the most capable man for the position but also because she thinks the third term smacks too much of dictatorship.

Sinclair Refining Co. Will Build New Room

Local contractors have been asked to submit bids on a wash and grease room addition to the present Sinclair Refining company's station at the northeast corner of the square.

This room will take care of the growing needs of the company, and will provide a room in which work can be done in winter as well as in summer. New equipment will be added to expedite work on cars.

4 Ordites Members of the University Band

Four Ord boys are playing on the 120-piece University of Nebraska band this year, and considering that there are 526 towns and cities in the state it is seen that Ord has a splendid representation. The four are Dean Barta, Dick Koupal, Eldon Matthesauer and Emanuel Smolik.

Chanticleers Will Try to Keep Their Slate Clean Friday

When Coach Tolly's Chanticleers meet Albion on the Ord field Friday evening they will be shooting at something more important than a victory over Albion—they will be trying to keep their record for the season clear.

Undeclared in three starts, the Chanticleers face their toughest opponent Friday night. Should the Tolly-coached team win, it will face another undefeated team, Ravenna, on the following Friday, this game also being scheduled for the Ord field. This game should both teams go into it unbeaten, will headline high school competition in Nebraska next week end.

Neither the Ord coach nor the players are discounting Albion's strength, in spite of the fact that Albion has been beaten twice. Columbus and Havelock, who won over the Boone county team, are among the state's strongest.

Bruises, scratches and black eyes harass the Chanticleers as result of the rough Burwell game but no serious injuries plague the squad.

The Ord-Albion game Friday night should be a good one.

Railroad Matter Up for a Hearing Thursday, Oct. 31

Burlington Seeks Permission Discontinue Two Trains; Hearing at St. Paul.

The Nebraska railway commission will hold a hearing in the district court room of the Howard county court house at St. Paul at 9 a. m. on Thursday, Oct. 31, on an application by the Burlington railroad for permission to discontinue operation of passenger motor trains Nos. 51 and 52 between Aurora and Sargent, and Nos. 51-53, 54-52 between Palmer and Burwell.

Notice of the time and place of the hearing were mailed to commercial clubs in the towns of Aurora, Central City, Greeley, St. Paul, Loup City, Arcadia, Comstock, Sargent, Burwell, Ord, Wolbach and Palmer, these being the towns affected by the proposed change.

The Wranglers club of Burwell is sponsoring a protest against the proposed discontinuance of passenger and mail service on the Palmer-Burwell branch, and the Central City chamber of commerce is reported as leading a fight against discontinuance on the Aurora-Sargent branch. Other cities affected have been invited to join in the protest but after considerable discussion of the matter at their meeting Thursday evening, directors of the Ord chamber of commerce voted not to make a protest. Representatives of the Ord organization probably will attend the hearing to get information.

The Burlington's application, filed with the railway commission last Wednesday, sets forth that all the communities affected by the proposed change have ceased to make use of the railroad's passenger service.

John Jensen, Well Known Contractor, Died Here Saturday

Had Been in Poor Health for Long Time; Funeral Held Monday Afternoon.

In the death of John K. Jensen, which took place Saturday, Ord loses a man who made an outstanding success in his chosen field, that of house and building mover. For more than forty years the people of this territory depended upon him when work of this kind needed to be done.

Long experience made Mr. Jensen an outstanding success in his chosen profession, and he often said that he could move a house from one location and set it on a new foundation without even cracking the plaster. In fact he moved many a house with the family living in the house.

John K. Jensen was born in Thisted, Denmark, Oct. 15, 1871. He was baptized and confirmed into the Lutheran faith in infancy and youth, respectively. In 1889 he immigrated to this country. After a four-year stay here he returned to his native country, where he was united in marriage to Miss Marie Pedersen.

Arnold to Speak at Ord Meeting on County Gov't

Tax League Head Accepts an Invitation to Explain Commissioner System.

Under the sponsorship of the Ord chamber of commerce, Frank G. Arnold, of Pullerton, president of the Nebraska Federation of County Taxpayers Leagues, will address a mass meeting in Ord Thursday evening, Oct. 17, at 8:00 in the basement of the Masonic hall.

Mr. Arnold accepted the chamber's invitation primarily so that Valley county people who will have to vote this fall on a proposal to change county government to the commissioner system may understand the differences between this form and the supervisor form under which Valley county now operates.

He is probably the best qualified man in Nebraska to explain the advantages and disadvantages of commissioner and supervisor forms for the Federation which he heads has studied tax matters in every county of the state, has conducted audits in counties of similar size to Valley where the commissioner form is used, and has compiled figures showing cost of operation under each form of county government.

While here Mr. Arnold also will release the last survey conducted by the Federation in Valley county and explain it, answering any questions that may be asked. He will devote a little attention to explanations of home rule for counties, the constitutional amendment that is offered on the ballot this year, and will also talk on the county manager form of government.

A round table discussion will follow Mr. Arnold's talk, at which time anybody who cares to may speak on the major question involved and anybody may ask questions on any subject pertaining to county government.

Voters who want to mark their ballots intelligently Nov. 5 will be well advised to attend the mass meeting in Ord tomorrow night.

S. V. Hansen, chairman of the Valley county board of supervisors, has been invited to introduce Mr. Arnold by C. J. Mortensen, on behalf of the Ord chamber of commerce.

Lieut. Governor, Sound Truck, Came to Ord Thursday

Fine Crowd Both Hears, Sees, Willkie in Sound Movie Here Thursday Eve.

A sound truck furnished by the Republican national committee and in charge of J. W. Wakefield, of Chicago, arrived in Ord Thursday evening. With it came William Edward Johnson, lieutenant governor of Nebraska, who is making the trip over the state, partly in his own interests, but mainly for the benefit of the republican state and national ticket.

The local committee was caught almost unprepared, as it was not known until that morning that the truck was coming. Gould Flagg was in town in the morning and made arrangements for bills to be printed, but he had to be away in the afternoon, and it devolved upon Tom Springer to see that the bills were distributed.

When the truck arrived a screen was hung on the east wall of the Mifford building, and at about 7:30 the program opened by Clarence M. Davis introducing Mr. Johnson, who talked briefly about himself, and then announced that talking pictures would be shown.

A total of three reels was shown, depicting at first high points in American history and concluding with intimate pictures of Willkie and McNary on their farms. The first appearance of Mr. Willkie in the films was greeted with applause and when he concluded his speech there was a great deal more applause.

The whole program was entertaining and instructive in its nature, and was a different type of campaign program than has been shown in Ord in the past. All who saw the pictures were pleased, and it is to be regretted that lack of advance information prevented more publicity.

Monday Clarence M. Davis and John L. Ward took Mr. Johnson and Mr. Wakefield to Ft. Hartuff, which they wished to see while they were in this section of the state, and both were of the opinion that it should be made a federal park. From here they went to Bassett, where they were to give a program Friday evening.

Hunters Mass at Elyria. Hunters of Valley county, and other visitors visiting this vicinity have an opportunity to hear mass Sunday, Oct. 20th and Oct. 27th at St. Mary's church of Elyria. The mass will be said at 6:00 a. m. the Rev. C. Shumski, pastor.

Pierce Steps Up as Wood Takes New Job

Ronald Pierce, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Pierce, of Ord, becomes acting head of the University of Nebraska agricultural college's department of agricultural engineering, with the leave of absence awarded to Ivan Wood, who has headed this field work. Mr. Wood goes to the FSA as head of their irrigation department with headquarters in Denver. Mr. Pierce will have charge of all irrigation work for the college of agriculture, with E. A. Olson as assistant. He has frequently conducted irrigation demonstrations in the North and Middle Loup valleys.

More Liberal FSA Plan Allows Feed Loans Up To $200

Will Benefit Drouth Farmers Not on Subsistence Basis; Security Waived.

A new and more liberal Farm Security Administration feed loan plan which will benefit 10 to 15 thousand drouth stricken Nebraska farmers went into effect Tuesday.

Under the new ruling, the FSA will make feed loans up to $200 in drouth sections without security other than a second mortgage. The FSA has thus authorized food loans for foundation herds up to 25 animal units, which permits farmers to carry them through the winter and start next year with foundation stock.

Until this modified ruling went into effect, the FSA required farmers who already had mortgages against their livestock to get waivers from the party holding the mortgage to the extent of 50 percent of the security. Bankers in most cases had to refuse such waivers, and as a result farmers could not get loans through the FSA that would permit them to carry over a foundation herd.

This ruling came as a direct result of the trip made to Washington recently by Governor R. L. Cochran and John P. Misko, of Ord, who heads the 45-county drouth council.

Mr. Misko said Tuesday that it is still too soon to prophesy how great an advantage will result to farmers of the drouth area but says his organization is pleased with the ruling. It affects directly those farmers who are not on a strict subsistence basis and will be of "inestimable value" to central Nebraska. About 200 Valley county farmers will benefit by the ruling, he estimated.

S. J. W. Brown, 78, Dies at Lincoln

Was Hardware Dealer in Ord, North Loup, and Served as County Treasurer.

Samuel Jennings Wilson Brown, 78, former Ord and North Loup hardware merchant and county treasurer of Valley county, died Friday night in Lincoln. His home was at 5219 Huntington, where his wife is house mother of Crescent fraternity.

Brown operated hardware stores in North Loup and Ord, until 1923. In 1925 he and Mrs. Brown moved to University Place in Lincoln, where his wife has been house mother of various Nebraska Wesleyan fraternities since.

He was county treasurer of Valley county from 1904 to 1909. Born in Pittsburgh, Pa., in 1850 and settled on a farm in Valley county. He was married in Steele City in 1890 to Mattie Ross.

Mr. Brown was one of the two surviving charter members of the Wilson Memorial church, a rural church in Valley county, until his death. He raised the first $100, donated by Andrew Carnegie in Pittsburg, to construct the building. He was a member of the Presbyterian church at Ord.

Throughout the later years of his life Mr. Brown suffered from increasing deafness but otherwise enjoyed excellent health until shortly before his death. He frequently came to Ord for brief visits with old friends. The hardware store he formerly operated here is now owned by L. V. Kokec.

Funeral services were held in Lincoln at 2 p. m. Monday with Dr. Edmund F. Miller officiating. Burial was in Wyuka cemetery at Lincoln.

Surviving besides his wife are two daughters, Mrs. Luther Pierce, of Burwell, and Mrs. Colton S. Smith of Lincoln; two sons, Franklin W. R. and William M., of Lincoln; a sister, Mrs. William Sheldon, of Omaha, and seven grandchildren.

Proud Parents See Allen Zikmund Score Touchdown Against Indiana for Huskers

"And Henry's chest swelled up so much when Allen scored that touchdown that a button popped off his vest and knocked down a spectator on the other side of the stadium."

So charged Eddie Beranek against his brother-in-law, Henry Zikmund, when they returned home from Lincoln where they witnessed the Nebraska-Indiana football game.

It was the first time Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zikmund had seen their son Allen play football in Cornhusker togs.

Mr. and Mrs. Zikmund were not the only Ord people who left proud when son Allen, a sophomore at the university, grabbed Harry Hopp's forward pass on the Indiana 5-yard line and ran across the goal with two Hoosiers trying vainly to stop him. It was the first time in history that an Ord boy had scored points for a University of Nebraska eleven, though a few years ago another Ord lad, Kenneth McGinnis, performed nobly as a regular guard on the Husker team.

Ord and Valley county people unite in pride of young Zikmund, who was a bright shining star on Coach Brockman's Ord high school team in 1935, 1936, 1937 and 1938. When he caught that Hopp propelled pass and made the score Nebraska 13, Indiana 0, everybody who follows Ord high school football and even his opponents of high school days remembered that Allen was one of the stickiest fingered pass-grabbers ever to wear Chanticleer togs. Whether they heard the game on the radio or saw it from the towering concrete seats of Memorial stadium at Lincoln, Ord people shouted praise for the Ord lad who seems destined for such a brilliant football career.

Against the Minnesota Gophers a week previous Allen Zikmund was good, but against Indiana he was great. Seldom do sophomores "steal the show" in the big-time football, no matter how proficient they are, but in the Sunday Omaha and Lincoln newspapers Allen's name was headlined along with

Republicans Open Ord Headquarters

Republicans of Valley county opened headquarters last week in the office of the Valley Bottling Works. Banners have been hung across the front of the building, a large framed portrait is displayed in the window and a plentiful supply of literature and Willkie-McNary buttons awaits distribution. Archie Geweke, county chairman, or Gould Flagg, county secretary, can be found there a great deal of the time.

Dr. A. L. Miller, of Kimball, and Val Peterson, of Elgin, representatives of the state committee, will be in Ord next Monday in the interests of the Griswold and Butte candidates. Other leading republicans will visit Ord before Nov. 5, some for speaking engagements, it is promised.

Annual Custer Co. Husking Contest is Held at Comstock

Historic Battle of Bangboards for Custer County Title Draws Large Crowd.

Dr. and Mrs. Glen D. Auble, accompanied by John L. Anderson and John L. Ward, the former with his picture machines, drove to Comstock yesterday afternoon, where the annual Custer county husking contest was being held on the Charles Cleveland place a short distance northwest of town.

First place went a second time to Lloyd Wagner of Callaway, who husked a net of 22.97 bushels in 80 minutes. Loucks Robertson of Mason City took second place with a total of 22.44 bushels. The third place winner was Jim Sasek of Comstock, with 20.04 bushels.

The day, following the killing frost of the night before, was cool and ideal for such a contest. By one o'clock more than one hundred cars were parked near the field.

Burdicks Enjoying Peas and Radishes from Own Garden

It is mid-October but Mr. and Mrs. Charles Burdick are still enjoying peas and radishes fresh from their own garden and until a day or two ago had leaf lettuce also.

The peas were planted in August and bloomed in mid-September, says Mrs. Burdick. The early September frost turned the vines black but they came out of it and produced delicious peas which the Burdicks ate last week. Their peas are all gone now but they will have fresh radishes for some time yet.

This may give a tip to other home gardeners who are accustomed to think of lettuce, radishes and peas as June and July delicacies only.

Sheriff Brock Shot Early This Morning at Valley View Store

Loup County Officer Was Serving Papers on Birkes; Died at Burwell Hospital.

Burwell — (Special) — Sheriff George Brock of Loup county was shot this morning at Valley View, where he had gone to serve papers on the Birkes Brothers, John and Willard. He was brought to Dr. Cram's hospital in Burwell by ambulance, where it was found that he was shot in the mouth and through the shoulder with a revolver. He died at noon today.

The Birkes have been living on some land 20 miles northwest of Burwell which belongs to the Amos Grant company of Omaha, and the sheriff had been given papers requiring them to vacate. Acting upon advice from the state sheriff's office, Brock, who had been ordered not to come on the place, waited a chance for service when they were away from home.

The chance came this morning when the brothers took their nephew, Richard Birkes, to Valley View to register for the draft. When Brock produced the papers one of the Birkes, which one has not been learned, drew a revolver and shot him twice. They then left. A. R. Maxson fired at them, but it has not been learned whether he hit them.

The state sheriff was notified and is on his way as this is written. George Brock is a married man and has six children, three of them not yet of school age.

Ord Wins, 7 to 0 at Burwell Friday

Friday evening the Ord high school football squad traveled to Burwell for the annual classic with the team of that town. As was expected, the game proved the toughest on the schedule to date.

With several players out with injuries, the Burwell boys had little chance of winning, but played a strong defensive game, stopping Ord drives time after time when it seemed certain that Ord would score. Practically the entire game was played in Burwell territory.

After about five minutes of the first quarter had been played, Burwell attempted to punt out of danger on their own goal line. G. Cetak broke through to block the punt, and R. Timmerman fell on the ball for Ord's only touchdown. With Flagg holding, R. Furtak kicked the ball squarely between the uprights for the extra point.

Ord threatened all through the remainder of the game, with the ball in their possession the greater part of the time, but could not reach pay dirt. In the third quarter H. Christensen took a pass into the end zone, but an offside penalty nullified the score.

The Ord team has no alibis, but the fact that the growth of bluegrass and clover on the Burwell field is much ranker than that on the Ord field, and the backs found it impossible to get their plays under way quickly. It is also true that Burwell's team, while much lighter than Ord, showed plenty of speed all the way.

In the past nineteen years, Ord and Albion football teams have met five times and Albion has 3 wins to Ord's 2 and also a big advantage in points. In their "modern" series, each has won 1 game. The two teams appear evenly matched this year, for while Ord is undefeated and Albion has been beaten twice, the Albion team has faced much tougher competition than has Ord. This is the big game of the year for Ord. See it Friday night.

Quarterback Flagg may have to get up in the air to toss the winning pass against Albion Friday night, but with the help of Christensen and Marker he may do it like this.

ger trains because they are located on well improved highways and have come to depend on private automobiles and buses instead of on the trains. Also, the towns of Central City, Ord, Loup City and St. Paul are served by Union Pacific trains.

Expense of operating the trains averaged $3,502 per month in 1939 and $3,423 per month so far in 1940, the application cites; that for a long time the principal item of income has been transportation of the U. S. mails, which amounts to approximately $1,550 per month; that total monthly revenue produced by the trains, including hauling of mail, averaged $2,201 per month in 1939 and $2,053 per month in 1940; that such revenues left a deficit of approximately $1,300 per month in 1939 and so far is averaging $1,370 per month in 1940.

The applicant alleges in the application that, if permission to discontinue service is granted the railroad, the postoffice department will arrange for star route service so the towns will have as good mail service as they now enjoy.

Any people interested in this matter should arrange to be at St. Paul on Thursday, Oct. 31 to attend this hearing, as it probably will be the only public hearing held on this matter.

John Jensen, Well Known Contractor, Died Here Saturday

Together they returned to America locating on a farm in Valley county. Four years later he and his family, together with other families, migrated to Canada as homesteaders, but they returned in six months. He then began working at his profession of carpentry and building mover.

He resided in this community for the remainder of his life. He had been in poor health for some time, but still continued to take an active interest in civic affairs and life generally until he suffered a stroke. His summons came Oct. 12 at the age of 63 years, 11 months and 27 days.

He leaves to mourn his departure his loving wife and 7 children: Mary of Ord, Courtney of Albion, Hannah of Ord, Julius of Broken Bow, Alvin of Sidney, George of LaSalle, Ill., and Mrs. Esther Manchester of Ord; four grandchildren, one brother and two sisters in Valley county, two half-brothers in Denmark and a host of relatives and friends.

The funeral, with Pearson and Anderson in charge of arrangements, was held from their chapel Monday afternoon at 2, with Rev. Clarence Jensen in charge of services. A male quartet, Dr. F. L. Blessing, John Haskell, J. R. Stoltz and Robert Noll sang, with Mrs. Noll at the organ. The pall bearers were John Klein, Joe Rowbal, Henry Misko, Clayton Gilroy, Warren Lincoln and C. W. Clark. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

The husk weigher was Frank Fellows, the wagon weigher was Alvin Smolik and the sample weigher was Everett Horky. The talliers were Earl Buckbee, Norman Grant, Prof. Essman, vocational agriculture teacher and his boys, all of Sargent. The loud speaker was furnished by Spooners of Sargent through the courtesy of the Nebraska Central Telephone company, and in charge of D. E. McGregor.

Phillip Dowse of Comstock had on exhibition 14 varieties of grain and forage sorghums, including early kaffir which made 76 bushels of seed per acre, and early sumac which made 29 tons of forage per acre. At the close of the husking contest Prof. Weber of the extension service gave a talk on sorghums.

W. J. Scoutt, representing the Hamilton County Farm company, and the local representative, Harry Delano of Arcadia, were present with a display of certified hybrid corn. Included in the list was a sample of Iowa 939, the variety to which the field in which the contest was held was planted.

Edward Olsen of Broken Bow and Billy Marsh of Sargent were present with popcorn stands. Tom McIntosh of Comstock and Robert E. Lee of Ansley had lunch counters on the grounds. Lee was assisted by Bert Williams, formerly well known in Valley county.

The Melville Lumber company had on display a full line of John Deere machinery. George Hlavinka, who teaches the Longwood school a mile north of the farm, had dismissed classes, and was present. E. W. Gruber saw the crowd and dropped in, on his way home from Broken Bow. A. W. Pierce happened to be in Comstock, so went out to see the fun.

The huskers' wagons bore ads for Bill Haycock, A. C. VanDeist, Coffee, Butler, Carpenter, Howard, E. G. Reed for judge, and for the state husking contest to be held in Dakota county, Oct. 24. Mr. Haycock was present in person. In fact there was a very large and well-ordered crowd, and everybody was having a good time.

Proud Parents See Allen Zikmund Score

Rohrig, Hopp and Prochaska as heroes of the game, the boys who snatched victory and staved off defeat.

Fans here call attention to the fact that the Nebraska-Minnesota game was the first in which Allen ever played on a defeated team. His four years of high school competition saw Ord victorious throughout.

Here are outlined Allen's contributions to the Cornhusker cause Saturday. If he hadn't been kicked in the stomach and forced to retire from the game, he probably would have played in the second half also: He entered the game at the start of the second quarter, in a backfield composed of Harry Hopp, Theos Thompson and Henry Rohrig. On the second play he caught a pass from Hopp which advanced the ball to the Indiana 22-yard line. A moment later Nebraska lost the ball on the Indiana 7-yard line and Hursh punted out to the 31. Hopp ran the ball to the 20, then flipped a touchdown pass to Zikmund on the 5-yard line, Zikmund plunging the remaining distance. Later Allen made 3 yards at left end, and on the next play caught a Hopp pass which gave Nebraska a 1st down on the Indiana 49. Two plays later he was hurt and left the game. He did not return to play because of the injury but will be in shape to play before next Saturday's game against Kansas.

Final score was Nebraska 13, Indiana 7, and at least a score of Ord people saw it and came back home praising blond-haired, 13-year-old Allen, who is putting Ord's name on the football map of the nation.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kriz Wed Fifty Years

Saturday, Oct. 12 was the fiftieth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kriz, of Ord, and although no special celebration was held by them they received many cards, telegrams and gifts from friends and relatives. They were married Oct. 12, 1890 at the Geranium church and lived on a farm in that community 22 years, moving to Ord 28 years ago. They have two children, Miss Josephine Kriz, who is employed in Omaha, and Henry Kriz, who lives in Sunnyside, Wash. Both of these people have been Valley county residents over sixty years. Mr. Kriz is 75 years old, his wife 72, and both enjoy fairly good health.

Open Season on Ducks Started This Morning

Sportsmen were on their way at daybreak this morning for the places where ducks might be found but there is a likelihood that most of them will be disappointed. The weather has been too warm for the ducks to start south, and only a few scattered flocks are to be found. As the season will remain open for a full 60-day period, no doubt duck shooting will be good later on. It is reported that ducks are more plentiful this year than they have been for several years, and this is the reason that the longer season has been permitted. Better sport is expected when the pheasant season opens Sunday, Oct. 20. Pheasants are plentiful in most parts of the country. A large influx of non-resident hunters is expected.

STORZ BUYS AK-SAR-BEN GRAND CHAMPION STEER

Prize winning Hereford, raised by Leland Herman, 18, Wayne County, Nebr.—Bid by Robert H. Storz.

Storz Brewing Company, Omaha, following its long-established policy of encouraging better farming in the mid-west by buying Ak-Sar-Ben champion baby beef, this year bought the Grand Champion at the 4-H auction Friday morning at the Omaha show. In previous years, Storz has bid successfully on Reserve Grand Champions. The price paid was $100 per pound, bid by Mr. Robert H. Storz, which was considerably above the $2 1/2 paid for the champion at the state fair in September. The Grand Champion was the 880-pound Hereford calf, Max, exhibited by Leland Herman, 18, Wayne county, Nebraska. It first won top honors at the Wayne county fair, then scooped the Hereford division at the Ak-Sar-Ben Livestock Show, and went on to win the Grand Championship. The calf, a gift from Max Wolf, Albion, Nebraska, came originally from the T. O. ranch at Rattton, N. M. It was raised on a practical feeding schedule.

Postmaster Explains Use of P. O. Windows

The fact that there are five windows at the Ord postoffice which are used for various purposes is proving somewhat confusing to the public, and Postmaster Alfred L. Hill asks that a word of explanation be printed in the Quiz.

The set-up in the Ord office is the same as that in offices where there is a larger office force, and where clerks are on duty at all the windows. At Ord the smaller force makes the use of all windows for the purposes designated impossible.

Beginning at the east end of the row, the windows are labeled (1) General Delivery; Stamps; (2) Stamps; (3) Parcel Post; (4) Money Orders; Postal Savings; (5) Registry; C. O. D. With the exception of windows No. 1 and 2, these labels mean just what they say.

No stamps are sold at either of these windows, however, but can be purchased at any of the three west windows. Persons calling for mail should go to window No. 1. Persons with parcel post, either incoming or outgoing should go to the large window, No. 3, in the center.

A safe rule for all patrons is to go to the window where a clerk is on duty. The slots for outgoing mail are labeled to assist the public in speeding up the work of the clerks, as it expedites handling the mail. However, it is not a serious mistake if a letter is dropped in the wrong slot, as all mail is rechecked before being sent out.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Mrs. C. W. Noll, born in 1862, has a quaint philosophy which some of us younger people might try. She says "We never observe birthdays and that way we don't get old." Mrs. Noll is living proof that it works. She is more active and interested in life than many a person far younger in years.

The hunting season begins officially today, but for some time past local nimrods have been preparing for the event. Alfred Weigard rushed the season a little when he was seen on the streets last Thursday with his hip waders on.

Then there is Vernie Andersen, who asked Ign. Klima to wire Roosevelt and have him change the date of draft registration. Vernie spent a lot of time and energy helping build a duck blind, and today, the first day of the open season, he has to work on the draft board.

That big noise you heard several times a few days ago wasn't caused by bombs dropped by invading planes. It was V. J. Dobrovsky and his boys getting their wood ready for winter by splitting it with a mixture of polish and sugar. They cut down the big tree at the Brand place last summer, and it is too big to split by hand.

Charley Hunt claims that he and Bert Needham counted 27 snakes along the road while they were coming home from a job west of Comstock last week. It must be true, as the men don't drink, and besides a lot of other people have remarked at the number of snakes along the highways the past few weeks.

Beef calves are being sold at incredible prices this fall. Fancy feeders brought better than fifteen cents at the Burwell calf sale, some of our own high school boys paying over eleven cents per pound for perfect calves.

It is hazardous to fatten cattle when there is so little spread between prices of thin and finished stock. Yet our economists predict that prices for better grades of slaughter steers are more apt to go up than down during the remainder of 1940.

Farmers are hanging on to their breeding animals. Last week we saw men stacking up Russian thistles in Custer county for winter feed. The packers have slaughtered fewer cows and heifers this year than previously, and the demand for breeding cattle is expected to continue strong.

Somewhat higher hog prices are also forecast. Fewer pigs will be butchered in the next six months than during the same period a year ago, according to the statisticians. Here in Valley county, the swine raisers claim that they have not been able to make any money lately. Many cattle feeders have had the same trouble because of high corn prices. Mostly they have come out about even.

Finishers in other parts of the country are banking on a higher fat cattle market next winter and spring. They expect less competition from pork, and think that folks will have more money to spend for beef. For these reasons they are taking out more thin cattle than a year ago, and paying higher prices for them.

Hansen Family Bought First New Car We Sold

... now buy 580th

In the latter part of August, 1926, this company accepted the Chrysler-Plymouth franchise and entered the automobile business in Ord. On Sept. 1, 1926 we sold our first car to H. P. Hansen. It was a 6-cylinder Chrysler sedan and cost Mr. Hansen $1,475. Until his death Mr. Hansen drove this car daily and since then it has given fine service to Martin Hansen and other members of the family. The car never needed any major repairs, it gave excellent mileage and was in fine driving condition up until the time it was traded in last week, and it still is.

Last week Martin Hansen bought a new Plymouth coupe from this agency, the 580th car we have sold in our 14 years of business in Ord. It cost him only about half as much as his father paid in 1926 and is five times as much automobile for the money.

The Chrysler sedan bought by Mr. H. P. Hansen bore the serial number 558,357, showing that the then newcomer in the automotive field, Chrysler Corporation, had then made only a half million cars. The 1941 coupe bought by Martin Hansen bears serial number 11,151,975, which shows how many cars Chrysler has built in the years intervening.

In addition to selling 580 new cars in Ord since 1926, this dealership has also sold approximately 2,000 used cars.

The 1941 Plymouth models are on display at our garage. The 1941 Plymouth is the finest low-priced car Chrysler has ever built. And bear this in mind: The 1941 Plymouth Coupe IS THE LOWEST PRICED COUPE SOLD IN ORD.

THE ORD QUIZ

Subscription $2.00 Per Year
Published at Ord, Nebraska

Entered at the Postoffice in Ord, Nebraska, as Second Class Matter under Act of March 3, 1919.

Publisher - - - H. D. Leggett

FREE PUBLICATION.

In the morning mail Friday the Quiz received three items of mail, each a part of the congressional record, each printed at Washington and each franked, that is mailed free, to the Quiz office. This is but a sample of what has been happening for months past and of what will happen from now until election day.

Two of these were remarks by Alben W. Barkley, high potentate of New Dealers, and were evidently and obviously mailed for the benefit of the New Deal. The third was the address of Mrs. Roosevelt at the democratic national convention in Illinois, the convention that booted the name of America's greatest democrat, Thomas Jefferson.

Shortly after the close of the democratic national convention at Chicago the Quiz received a copy of the democratic platform, printed in Washington in the government printing office and mailed out free. We have waited long and in vain for a copy of the republican platform mailed out under similar conditions.

President Roosevelt, always generous in spending the public's money for his fishing trips and other amusements, is now carrying on his political campaign under the guise of inspection trips all over the country. By so doing he can charge up the expenses to the taxpayers. Why doesn't he admit the truth and tell the public he is campaigning for votes?

Campaign expenses this year are limited to three million dollars for each party, but it is safe to claim that the New Dealers are getting more than that amount in free campaign assistance, free for them, but paid for by the public. If the New Deal triumphs this fall it will do so on money diverted from legitimate expenses of government and used to finance this campaign.

ALIEN REGISTRATION.

Since the registration of aliens began Aug. 27, about 30 have registered at the Ord postoffice, but there are no doubt many others who should register either because they are aliens, or for their own protection in case there is any doubt of their citizenship.

The term "alien" as used in the registration act applies to any person who is not a citizen of the United States. Citizenship may be by right of birth, or it may be acquired by complying with the regulations laid down by the United States government.

The term "United States" includes continental United States and also Alaska and Hawaii. It also applies with some restrictions to Wake Island in the Pacific, and to the Canal Zone.

Citizenship is acquired by all who were not born citizens by the process of naturalization, but an alien who has applied for citizenship in the United States does not become a citizen until admitted to citizenship as required by law.

United States citizenship is acquired by birth regardless of race, with the exception of children of foreign potentates of foreign consular representatives. It is acquired by a woman eligible to naturalization, by marriage before Sept. 22, 1922, to a United States citizen.

It is acquired by a minor child whose mother acquired citizenship by marriage to a United States citizen, if the minor child resided permanently in the United States before reaching the age of 21 years, provided the marriage occurred prior to Sept. 22, 1922.

Prior to Sept. 22, 1922, a woman eligible to naturalization became a citizen upon the naturalization of her husband. There are so many contingencies connected with naturalization that it is impossible to give all of them in an article of this kind. Postmaster Hill will be only too glad to talk it over with any who are doubtful of their status.

At their last meeting the American Legion Auxiliary went on record as favoring more publicity for the registration of aliens, in order to acquaint the public with the requirements as well as for the necessity for registration.

WAR IN THE ORIENT?

Last week, following the signing of a pact by Germany, Italy and Japan, we were given to understand by the department of state that war in the Orient was imminent. American citizens residing in Japan were notified to get home with all possible speed.

It seemed that a crisis must be threatening somewhere along the China coast, and the inference was plain that this threat was Japan. It was also implied that it might be necessary to take harsh measures to bring that nation to its senses.

Then came the rather heartening assurance from Minister Matsuoka of Japan that he earnestly wishes that the United States would not become involved in the European war or come into conflict with Japan. Certainly Japan would have little to gain and much to lose in a conflict with the United States.

support Roosevelt who would not do so otherwise.

Incidents such as have occurred in Shanghai and elsewhere in Japanese occupied China must be expected, and they are in a category with the abuses of Japanese in our western states on a number of different occasions. The actions of the few must not be taken to reflect the attitude of the many.

There was nothing in the announcement of the three power alliance that should have caused the state department any uneasiness. Washington admitted at once that the public statement merely told the world of a condition that had prevailed for a long time before.

It has been argued by demagogues that we will have to go to war to protect our interests in China. As a matter of fact, our trade with China is very small compared with our trade with Japan, which would at once be lost in case we went to war.

Neither we nor Japan can afford to go to war and lose the trade between the two nations, and Japan stands to lose far more through a break of relations than does the United States. The Japanese will not cut their own throats for the sake of settling small grievances.

Practically every citizen of the United States is opposed to war with Japan, and is opposed to any overt act that might lead to war with Japan. Nine out of ten Americans do not know anything about conditions that might conceivably lead to war. It will take a lot of propaganda to make us believe that war is necessary.

We are told that American interests are threatened. The amount of trade we have in China, representing a two hundred million dollar investment and a comparatively insignificant annual trade, is but a drop in the bucket compared with the trade we would lose by breaking with Japan.

It is even less when compared with billions we are now in the process of spending in our vast preparedness program. The thought of going to war with Japan is ridiculous when we compare the thousands of miles we would have to go to carry the war to them. We can rest assured that they are not intending to carry any war to us.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

There are several hundred Valley county boys of draft age. They are going to have to register Oct. 16 and some of them are going to have to go away to training camps. They will be made over into soldiers and the way it looks now they may be taken or sent to fight some foreign foe before they ever get a chance to see the home folks again. They will get paid thirty dollars a month and keep for whatever service they are sent into. I believe the mothers of these boys, or that the most of such mothers and no doubt the fathers too, will resent the appointment of Elliott Roosevelt to a job as captain with a salary of three hundred dollars a month, and some additional perquisites, and the assignment to a job where he will be in no danger of personal injury. At the time of the starting of the world war the sons of Teddy Roosevelt, every one of them, rushed to enlist and every one of them saw service in the front lines. One of them was shot out of the sky and lies in a soldier's grave in France. Why should such favoritism be shown now as is being shown to the sons of the president?

If a president of the United States were allowed to renounce himself, as he could, it would mean ultimately the establishment in this country of a monarchy upon the ruins of our present republican form of government.

A president wishing to be renominated after he has been in office for some time, can compel his party to renounce him. . . . He nominates himself by using the instrumentality that the law gives him on account of his position. There is no competition. That is always injurious; that is always detrimental to a free country.

"Suppose Coolidge is a Saint. . . Still that is no argument why this resolution should not be adopted, and that is no reason why we should not present, if we can, Presidents from being elected to a third term."

If you have read the above quotation carefully, I want to tell you who said it and why, but you had better, first, read it over again. It is important. Back in 1928 numerous office holders in the Coolidge administration conceived the idea of having him, because he was very popular, run for a third term. They thought it would be a sure way of keeping themselves in office, just as did the Roosevelt office holders in the months before F. D. Roosevelt was nominated for a third term. Also, at that time, Senator George W. Norris was an honest independent republican, clear thinking and fearlessly speaking. A resolution was before the senate seeking to make it impossible for a president to run for a third term. Norris was opposed to a third term for any man as president, and it was then, in 1928, that he said in a senate speech what I have quoted above. Now he has reversed himself and is out seeking the election of F. D. Roosevelt to a third term. Was Norris wrong then or is he wrong now? Surely he could not be right both times. I was long a great admirer of Senator Norris. I supported him when it was not too popular to do so, but I believe he is wrong now. I don't believe it is wise to junk, now, the traditions of this country since it became a nation.

Are you satisfied with your home town paper? Have you any suggestions to offer for making it better? We, the Quiz management, and editorial writers are trying to make it better all the time. If you are not quite satisfied or if you have an idea that other Nebraska weekly papers are better, drop in and read the other weeklies of the state on our exchange table and compare them with this paper. We believe you will then agree that it compares favorably with every one of them and that it is superior, everything considered, to most of them. But we want to please our readers and will welcome any constructive suggestion at any time.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

This Peaceful Draft.

Three weeks ago, in a Sabbath school class at the S. D. B. church the discussion drifted from the lesson, as so frequently lessons of mature classes do, and there resulted a spirited debate on the enlistments of young men for the army and the recently passed draft law.

One lady who had a son nearly ready to be in the draft age was quite bitter, the rest of us thought, condemning the whole thing quite strongly. "The boys from rich families and the politician's sons too will be put back of the lines and will get the soft jobs," she declared, "and poor people's sons will have to stop the bullets."

There were arguments against her. One man saying that the draft and army are fair, taking everyone that qualifies and only those with merit are promoted. The case of Theodore Roosevelt was cited, where five sons were in the other war and one was killed.

The lady was unconvinced. The rest of us could see that, and although we felt she was wrong, there had developed too much feeling for a S. S. class, and consequently the topic was changed.

In less than a week we read in the papers where Elliott Roosevelt, son of the president had offered to join the air force if he could be made a captain at $800 a month. He had no experience in flying and was not especially qualified, but he was given the captaincy just the same.

Irvy Sheldon did not want the job on the draft board, knew nothing about the fact that he was going to get the appointment and would not do it if there were any way to get out of it. Since his name appeared in the paper telling of the appointment there has been dozens ask him what he was going to do; if he were going to take their son and other questions he knew nothing about.

The first person who came into the station after the paper came out telling of his appointment was a lady all excited and in a dither. "Are you going to take married men?" she stammered.

"I don't know anything about it," he answered politely. "I would not take anyone if I had my way."

She left, still in a state of excitement, and he wasn't sure she had heard him; wasn't sure but what she was still blaming him for this draft business that, up to that moment, he had nothing to do with. He feels he'll get the blame from everyone who is drafted that don't want to be drafted, and if he could, he would be more than glad to let someone else do the job.

Nebraska's First Bomb Cellar.

Back of Bartz' store and Stine's cafe in North Loup, from some cause, the covering rotted and the ground settled exposing a walled up pit dug there for some reason unknown to anyone as yet.

In place of filling up the hole, it was decided to leave the pit as it is, perhaps later arranging a ladder for an exit and an entrance, planning to use it for a bomb cellar. We Jim Coleman and I, feel it is the first bomb cellar in the country, if not the first one in a much larger section. Now who says the city of North Loup is not first in one thing, at least.

Short Shavings.

Erlö Babcock was called to Owen White's to help repair a small gasoline engine one night after dark. Erlö took his flashlight along, working with that, and frequently when Owen would tinker with it, Erlö would take pains to hold the light in a good position for him. Owen is blind, you know.

Erlö had to go back to town for a repair part and when he returned Owen was there in the dark still tinkering. Erlö said, "I've got to have a light before I can work."

"I spec you have," Owen replied. "Eyes are an awful nuisance to you fellows, aren't they?"

I might add that Owen will tear his engine apart, dissecting the tiny parts and put it back together without trouble.

Charles Klinger received a broken collar bone while practicing for football Monday evening. This is Charles' last year in high school. Prior to this year his father would not let him play, for fear of injuries. In fact the first year in high school, his father told me he had a definite understanding with the boy that if he went to school at all it would be only with the promise that he would not play football.

It is a little too bad, the ridicule made at schools frequently of boys who do not play, and it is very unfair in such instances where dad positively forbids.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Last week again we told you of the defenses of the human body against the many dangers which surround us in everyday life. We said nothing much about the internal arrangements for defense. Naturally these have to do mostly with germs, viruses and poisons which gain entrance past the outer defenses, such as the skin and mucous membranes, or are manufactured within the body itself, in case of poisons or "toxins," as we call them.

The first line of defense within the body consists of a group of cells called phagocytes or in English, eater cells. There are several kinds of these and the one we most often see and understand the best is the white corpuscle. The body normally keeps a standing army of these cells in the blood stream ready to rush to any point where defense is needed. The number of these cells present in health is pretty constant at 6,000 to 9,000 in each cubic millimeter of the blood or about 9,000,000 in a thimble full of blood.

When an emergency arises, the body usually increases this number—the increase being in proportion to the greatness of the emergency. The number may rise to ten or more times the normal. At the point of infection, be it a boil or pneumonia, these fighters leave the blood stream by passing through the walls of the capillaries, surround the germs and begin eating them up. The phagocytes themselves are destroyed in the fight and the familiar pus which comes from a boil or abscess consists largely of dead white blood corpuscles, many of them literally filled with germs.

There are other phagocytic cells in the body, most of which are not normally in the blood stream. They are roaming about in the tissues, able to move from place to place like an amoeba moves, or are fixed cells making a part of the tissue or organ in which they live. All the free moving phagocytic cells attack the invader not by mere chance but are attracted to the point of invasion by chemical means. If a drop of irritating oil or similar substance enters the lung and gets into one of the delicate air sacs, it only takes about 30 seconds for it to be surrounded by phagocytes; some from the lung itself and some from the capillaries which run in the walls of the air sacs. This indicates how rapidly our tissues react to danger. It is almost as quickly as we jerk our fingers away from the hot stove.

When a disease germ or virus, such as those of typhoid fever, small pox or infantile paralysis attacks us, our bodies produce chemical substances which neutralize or destroy the attacker. Often this process goes on for life, keeping us ever after protected against this particular disease.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Palmatier in the Orient. (Editor's Note—We are privileged to present below another letter written by Elmer Palmatier, who is ship's printer on the S. S. President Taft on a trip to the Orient, and sent to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Palmatier, of Ord.)

September 10. There is too much to write about today and too little time to write it, which is just the reverse of usual. We are just about to enter Manila Harbor. All morning we have been steaming past the hundreds of islands that make up the Philippines...

It was a grand day. We went ashore to the Hong Kong hotel and I was measured for a couple of tailored suits. The Chinese are good tailors and consider their labor as nothing. In Japan whenever one is lost he is helplessly lost, as few natives except taxi drivers understand English. Taxi drivers when told an address will nod and say "so-so" which means "yes-yes," then invariably take you to the wrong address.

In China one can't get away from the Chinese who want to help you find your way around. Even look bewildered and you have one at your side who speaks and understands English.

It is next to impossible to get rid of them and they will trot along at your side all day like a faithful dog, pointing out all the places of interest, taking you through the ivory carving shops, getting a commission of course on everything you buy and then ending up by begging all the money you can spare.

They are a Godsend to tourists but they get in my hair, so to speak, as I travel faster and better alone. They hate most Europeans and English but love Americans, the same the world over, probably because of our democratic ways and generosity.

We generally ride in rickshaws when in China as they are cheaper than shoe leather, but being a humanitarian I can hardly bear to see these poor creatures making beasts of burden of themselves. They will follow us for blocks pointing at us and then at their rickshaws, and we give in so that they may make another fare.

In Japan the people are more or less alike in stature, looks and manners. In China one sees hundreds of different types and sizes of Chinese as the refugees keep pouring in from all over China. We find a hundred different classifications of Chinese, speaking a hundred different dialects and not understanding each other or caring to. There are no machines in China for the Chinese—they do every labor by hand. They are remarkably strong and their endurance is amazing. The coolies carry trunks and cargo for hours on their shoulders or on poles across their shoulders for a few cents each day. Their feet are always in a pitiful condition as they never can afford shoes, even wooden slippers is the stamp of a higher caste.

I once asked a Chinese who had been to an English school why they did not make their own shoes out of wood as other Asiatic people. He gave me an answer that I shall never forget. "They have no money to buy the wood and they can't find any, as everyone in China is looking for something."

Their clothes are practically nothing at all and most often an old gunny sack twisted about them. And this in places where they get a few pennies through the generosity of Europeans. What they do in the interior of China is a mystery to me.

This of course doesn't apply to the better class of Chinese. Some dress well and seem to be quite successful. But the whole situation is depressing and we go back to the Hong Kong hotel where one may rub elbows with titled people of dozens of European countries, talk economics with English, German or French, get the "low down" on the European and Asiatic war from a dozen people, and go back to the ship more confused than before. It's a wonderful world for anyone who ever feels down-at-the-heels or blue, if he will just realize how lucky he is simply to be an American. Then he would be happy, but one never has a full set of values about American citizenship until he has lived or has been in Europe or Asia. The poorest of us in the states are in reality wealthy because here wealth may mean a handful of rice, a block of wood for the soles of a pair of sandals, or a place to sleep at night. Things discarded by the average American would be of untold value to these people.

Well, we are now in Manila Harbor where Admiral Dewey "went to town" against the Spanish fleet. Have just passed quarantine. We will probably be in the Philippines for three days, which is two days too long. Then we go back to Hong Kong. Then Shanghai and Japanese ports. Shanghai is the best part of China as we will get about 18 Shanghai dollars for one gold. Much better than Hong Kong money.

We will be back in a country where we have to hang onto our gold with one hand and our bridge-work with the other.

ELLERY PALMATIER.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

A car owned by H. W. Markley of Omaha was badly wrecked when the driver hit one of the pillars of the Burlington overpass at St. Paul last week. The members of the party were on their way to Ord and made the rest of the trip in a car furnished by Ray Gruber.

The board of education of Greeley turned over to the Greeley fire department the old bell tower, which is no longer used by them. The firemen will remodel it so that it can be used for practice and instruction purposes.

Knights of Columbus who came to Ord for the meeting last week were: W. F. O'Neill, Eugene O'Neill, Louis Thentman, John Placke and Henry Cordes of St. Libory and Quentin Lynch, Milford Seveck, Pete Nowak, Robert Nowak and Arnold Nowak. The St. Paul team put on the degree work.

Three Wolbach couples were married last week. They were: Miss Gladys Jensen and Harold Gillham, Oct. 6; Miss Elvia Peterson and George von Soostenm, Jr., Salmnas, Calif., Oct. 2; Miss LeFern Jacobsen and Carl Lange, Oct. 5.

L. G. Hiser, 71, of Ravenna, Neb., was instantly killed last week when his old car was hit by freight train No. 79 at the crossing at Sweetwater, Neb. It is thought his brakes failed to hold.

James Guy Emry, 55, passed away at his home in Comstock Sunday, Oct. 6, following a prolonged illness and two trips to the hospital. He was a tireless worker for the Middle Loup Irrigation Project. Life Simonson, Palmer postmaster, and the other members of the Palmer postoffice force were hosts to the Central Nebraska Postal Employees' association last Tuesday evening. Guy LeMasters of Ord, president, was in the chair during the business session. Mrs. Marie Welch of Elba was the principal speaker. Mr. LeMasters was drafted to serve another year as chairman.

The county teachers' institute was held at Greeley Saturday, with Mrs. Ada Nelson of Spencer, Mrs. Nellis Feddersen of Newport and Mrs. Vance of Lincoln as instructors.

Custer county is being represented this week at the National Dairy show at Harrisburg, Pa., by two 4-H club girls, Marjorie Reinhard and Shirley Wachter. They won their trip with their dairy manufacturing demonstration. "The Manufacture of Cottage Cheese and Processed Cottage Cheese."

J. J. Brew Suffers Bad Heart Attack. J. J. Brew, who has for many years been field representative of the Lincoln Joint Stock-Land bank, supervising their properties in Valley, Garfield and Greeley counties, suffered a serious heart attack last week. He was confined to his bed at Hotel Ord several days but Thursday was taken to his home in Lincoln by Mrs. Brew. He will be unable to continue his work for two or three weeks at least.

Tenants on the Lincoln and Fremont Joint Stock-Land bank farms will miss Mr. Brew's friendly counsel. These banks own about 160 farms in this area, with Mr. Brew in charge of rentals. He spends most of his time in Ord, staying at Hotel Ord, and visits his home in Lincoln only occasionally. Sometimes Mrs. Brew accompanies him and she was with him last week when he was taken ill. Ord would be glad to have the Brew family become permanent residents of this city, as would the hundreds of Valley county farmers who know and like Mr. Brew.

James W. Lundy Goes to Lincoln Hospital. James W. (Bill) Lundy, of Sargent, who is well known all over this section of Nebraska, is in the Lincoln General hospital recovering from injuries he received some time ago while working on highway No. 83 south of Ord. He tripped over a tree root at that time and was stunned by the fall. He did not realize at the time that his injuries were serious, but he later found it necessary to go to the hospital for a check-up and an operation for hernia.

It appears that in September, 1932, the irrigation bureau gave to the Columbus project a water right calling for 2,500 second feet of water, subject to agreements with the North and Middle Loup districts in which the former is allotted 260 second feet of water and the latter 300 second feet of water for irrigation purposes.

The North and Middle Loup districts, Sorensen said, claim they have the right to use whatever water is necessary to protect growing crops so long as there is no waste.

Neither district, he said, has ever exceeded the 260 and 300 second feet called for in their water rights.

It is true, he admitted, that both districts have been using more than one acre foot of water, but he held this is necessary in view of the many years of deficient rainfall.

Middle Loup irrigated this year only 11,000 acres and North Loup 15,000 acres. Both districts expect to expand their systems until 65,000 acres are under irrigation, and the 260 second feet allotted the North Loup and the 300 second feet allotted the Middle Loup, will furnish one acre foot of water for each of the 65,000 acres. They have until 1944 to "prove up" on their water rights, he stated.

An acre foot of supplemental irrigation water is deemed sufficient in years of normal rainfall, that is when 20 to 24 inches of rain falls during the year. When rainfall is only 12 to 16 inches per year, an acre foot of water is not enough to assure crops. With rainfall greatly deficient this summer, crops would have perished in irrigated fields had the farmers been limited to one acre foot of irrigation water.

The question is highly involved and also is highly important to farmers of this section. The Columbus project, built with federal funds to the tune of $12,500,000 or more, irrigates no acreage, produces only power. The North and Middle Loup districts generate no power, using their water only for irrigation.

The whole problem of power versus irrigation in Nebraska may hinge upon the decision made in the suit filed at Columbus last week, but it very likely will require a Supreme court decision to settle the matter finally and for all time. Irrigation district officials here are confident that in an agricultural state like Nebraska the final decision will favor agriculture rather than power.

Cosmo Club Members are Entertained by Jewetts

The Ord Cosmopolitans met Monday evening at the Haught Cafe, with a fair attendance. Dr. F. L. Blessing reported for the committee on location for meetings.

He said that Thorne's Cafe, the Ord Cafe and Ben's Grill had been contacted, and that the club might rent the old community club rooms and have somebody serve the meals there, or they might change the night of meeting and eat at Thorne's.

After some discussion it was decided to continue another week in the present location. It was announced that Thursday evening, Oct. 21, was Ladies Night, and that all would go to Davis Creek to the church's annual dinner on that night.

Dr. Blessing was again appointed general chairman of the annual football banquet. Syl Furtak, who saw the Nebraska-Indiana game, was asked to tell about it, but he claimed that all he saw on the field was Allen Zikmund and the baton twirlers.

Irwin Underberg then introduced Rex Jewett, who had brought with him 23 and 38 caliber match pistols on 41 frames, which he passed around for inspection, as well as an army .45 caliber automatic, which he frankly admitted he didn't like.

He also had with him the six medals he won at the Omaha pistol shoot, Sept. 29. He passed these around and explained what they were for, in the meantime telling a number of interesting and amusing anecdotes concerning the match. His hearers were highly pleased with his talk.

A pep rally, snake dance and bonfire were held last Thursday back of the court house to get the Burwell team "pepped up" for the Ord-Burwell game the following night. The snake dance came first and included about one hundred students, the school band, pep club and football boys, who danced and marched around the square. Later a crowd gathered around the bonfire and listened to pep talks. Mr. Walcott asserted that he wished he could promise a victory, but if it were that easy he knew that Burwell would not want to win. Assistant coaches Beckwith and Shires spoke also. Leslie Chaffin, game captain and Gerald Bishop, president of the student council gave pep talks.

801 Register for Selective Service in Valley County

Ord Had Most Men in 21-35 Age Bracket, Fewest in Davis Creek Twp.

A total of 801 men between the ages of 21 and 35 registered in Valley county Oct. 16 under the federal selective service act reports A. A. Wiegardt who is acting as clerk, pro tem, for the county committee. Of this number 750 are local residents. 51 non-residents.

Thursday and Friday all registrations were checked by the county draft board, L. D. Milliken, W. T. McLain and W. J. Ramsey Jr., assisted by John P. Misko. Original appointees to the board, I. L. Sheldon, A. H. Hastings and M. Biondini, resigned and new appointments were made. Non-resident registrations will be sent to their home addresses, and the registrations of Valley county residents away from home will be sent to the Ord office.

Largest number of registrations was, of course, in Ord, where there were 72 in the 1st ward, 50 in the 2nd ward and 80 in the 3rd ward. Ord township had 53. Smallest registration was in Davis Creek township, which had 15. Others were as follows: Noble, 43; Elyria, 46; Eureka, 25; Germania, 32; Michigan, 30; Springdale, 22; North Loup, 105; Enterprise, 36; Vinton, 18; Liberty, 25; Arcadia, 82; Yale, 19; Independent, 17.

Precinct having largest number of non-resident registrants was North Loup which is accounted for by the fact that many Mexicans are employed in beet fields there. There were 21 non-residents there, 18 in Ord and 4 in Arcadia.

Monday the draft board met again and assigned numbers to all the Valley county resident registrants, including those Valley county men who registered elsewhere but whose cards were sent here. The cards were shuffled "like a pack of playing cards," said Secretary Wiegardt, and the first card then was numbered 1, the next 2, and so on to 776, the last out-of-the-county registration returned.

Due to the fact that the work is all new and the people handling it are all new to the work, mistakes can and do occur. If you are eligible to register and have not done so, or if you have registered and have not been assigned a number, get in touch with the secretary, A. A. Wiegardt, at once.

The public is invited to attend this meeting. Lunch will be served free of charge.

Manslaughter Trial Finished at Taylor

District Judge E. G. Kroger was at Taylor this week presiding at the district court trial of Donald Comstock, charged with manslaughter in the auto accident death of Albert Moore, which occurred south of Taylor last July 4. The judge took the verdict away from the jury when he decided that the state had not proved that Comstock was driving while intoxicated. The decision was reached last night and the case did not go to the jury, Comstock thus being acquitted.

Delvan Beat Pays Fine, Loses Driver's License

Upon complaint and information of John P. Misko, county attorney, Delvan Beat of Burwell appeared before John L. Andersen, county judge, Saturday and entered a plea of guilty to driving an automobile at an excessive rate of speed.

The offense occurred Oct. 6, 1 1/2 miles east of National Hall, when the car Beat was driving left the highway because of too much speed, and he and Everett Rowbat, who was with him, narrowly escaped serious injury. The judge fined him $10, he paid costs of $8.75, and his driver's license has been revoked for a period of one year.

Chanticleers Keep Record Clean By Tying Albion 6-6

Ends Christensen, Piskorski and Line Substitutes Are Heroes of Tight Game.

Hopelessly outdone and out-traded by a fine Albion team, and trailing 0 to 6 with only 5 1/2 minutes to play, Coach Roscoe Tolly's Chanticleers proved themselves opportunists Friday night when they capitalized on a splendid punt by George Cetak and sprung end Christensen over the Albion goal line to gain a 6 to 6 stalemate.

Albion scored early in the first period taking advantage of one of the three costly fumbles perpetrated by Ord players and from then until the game was almost over the Cardinals dominated the play. Though stubborn resistance by the Chanticleers kept Albion from scoring again they kept the ball between midfield and Ord's 20-yard line nearly all the time and threatened constantly.

Ord had failed to show a sign of an effective offense, in fact had made only 1 first down, until that last period drive. Then a series of plays advanced the ball to midfield and, when Albion held, Cetak stepped.

Will Purchase Serum for Infantile Paralysis

Serum for the treatment of infantile paralysis will be purchased immediately and henceforth will always be available should a case occur, it was decided Tuesday evening by members of the Four-County Medical Society, meeting at Thorne's cafe in Ord. A supply of the serum will be kept at Ord and another supply at Greeley, so doctors in the four county area may have access to it quickly.

The program Tuesday was in charge of Dr. F. A. Barta and the speakers were two Omaha specialists, Dr. J. Hewitt Judd and Dr. Delbert Judd. The former discussed recent advances in the care and treatment of injuries to the eye and Dr. Delbert Judd discussed headaches.

A pheasant dinner, with pheasants supplied by the local doctors, preceded the scientific program. The meeting was well attended, doctors present being Drs. Holm and Adams, of Wolbach, Drs. Smith and Crum, of Burwell, Dr. Hemphill of North Loup, Dr. Brannen, of Greeley, and Drs. Miller, Barta, Kruml and Round, of Ord. Many of the doctors were accompanied by their wives, who were entertained by Mrs. Barta at her home.

Lawrence Danczak, for 25 years a Valley county farmer, died Sunday night at 11:30 as a result of a heart attack and funeral services were held this morning at St. Joseph's church in Loup City, with burial in the Catholic cemetery there following.

Mr. Danczak came to this country from Poland in 1880 and to Valley county in 1885. He was married here to Verna Dworak and 12 children were born to them, the 10 who survive including Joe, of Elyria; Frank, of Burwell; Leo, of Arcadia; John, of San Francisco; Robert and Edward, at home; Louis, of Omaha; Mrs. Edward Jablonski, of Grand Island; Mrs. Clyde Goshorn, of Ft. School is being dismissed at 2:30 this afternoon and classes will not resume until next Monday morning.

Christensen Runs With Ball, G abs Passes for the Ord Team

Here's Sand Hills Home of Men Who Shot Taylor Sheriff

Monday at Taylor, County Attorney A. F. Alder filed first degree murder charges against all three of the Birkes'. Frank Strohl, of Almeria, has been appointed sheriff to succeed Brock.

Funeral Rites for Slain Sheriff Are Attended by Throng

Other Peace Officers Served as Pallbearers Sunday; Murder Charge Filed.

One of the largest crowds ever gathered in Taylor was present Sunday afternoon to pay its respects to the slain Sheriff of Loup county, George Brock. Funeral services were held in the Evangelical church. Only a small part of the crowd were able to gain admittance into the church but the funeral oration of Rev. W. L. Loder, who conducted the rites could be heard by the crowd through three loud speakers. He extolled the bravery and the devotion to his duty of Sheriff Brock.

The pall bearers were Sheriff George Round of Valley county, Sheriff Glen Fox of Custer county, Sheriff Peter W. Duffy of Holt county, Sheriff T. J. Murphy of Greeley county, Sheriff Otto Keim of Cherry county and Sheriff Leonard Swanson of Rock county. Other officers and county officials present were honorary pall bearers.

The nave of the church was banked with flowers, the tokens of sympathy from a large number of grief stricken friends. Interment was made in the Taylor cemetery. The tragic death of Sheriff Brock leaves a widow who is soon again to become a mother and six fatherless children, John, 19, who has been working on a ranch near Alliance, Mary, 17, Georgia, 12, Thelma, 8, Billy, 6, and Dorothy, 3. He also leaves a brother, Frank, who lives in Loup county.

First degree murder charges were filed against John, Willard and Richard Birkes for the fatal shooting at Valley View last Wednesday by County Attorney A. F. Alder in Taylor Monday morning. Attorney Alder stated that even

Ellis Carson Saves Baby from Drowning

The 2 1/2 years old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Hather was saved from drowning about noon today by Ellis Carson, who was hunting pheasants on the Charlie Hather place where the Oakley Hather family was visiting.

Carson heard a child scream, ran into the Hather farm yard to investigate and immediately saw the baby lying in the bottom of the watering tank, under two feet of water. Brought to the Ord hospital immediately, the baby was examined by Dr. J. N. Round who said her body was blue all over and that she undoubtedly would have drowned had help not been immediately at hand. The baby will recover without ill effect.

Burlington Tries New Diesel Motor on Freight

The Burlington railroad tried an innovation for one trip over the Palmer-Burwell freight run last week, taking the freight to Burwell Tuesday by diesel motive power and making the return trip Wednesday.

The use of diesel power on freight trains is still in the experimental stage, but if the trial run proves satisfactory the engine will be put on regularly. It is an odd looking affair, with the cab in the middle, the machinery in one end and the fuel compartments in the other.

Ord Group Management Unit Met Here Thursday

The Ord group management unit of the National Farm Loan association held its regular meeting Thursday at the office in Ord, with directors in attendance from the five local groups, and also the secretary, James B. Ollis and Don Beaton, representing the secretary's department of the Federal Land Bank.

Howard Talks About Modeling of Clay

L. F. Howard, sculptor-painter-poet, who lives on a farm north of Burwell, was a guest of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening and gave an intensely interesting demonstration of clay modeling also showing club members dozens of pieces of pottery that he has made.

A deposit of pottery clay is located on the Howard farm, he told Rotarians, and it is the purest and most workable clay he has ever seen. Clay from the Howard farm is being used this year by Burwell public school art classes and several schools in Kansas also are using it.

Mr. Howard told and demonstrated how he models the clay into vases, flower pots and vessels of different shapes and told how he fires the pottery pieces in a kiln which he has built. Rotarians enjoy this different type of program greatly.

No Advantage in Changing System of County Gov't.

So Frank Arnold, Tax League Head, Told Interested Ord Crowd Thursday.

In the matter of running a county, the minds of seven men are better than those of three, said Frank G. Arnold, president of the Nebraska Federation of County Taxpayers Leagues, in discussing commissioner versus supervisor forms of county government at a mass meeting held Thursday evening at the Masonic hall in Ord under auspices of the chamber of commerce. About 150 people attended, Arcadia, North Loup and several rural districts being well represented, as well as Ord.

In the 93 counties of Nebraska, 66 operate under the commissioner system, 26 under the supervisor district system, and one under the supervisor township system, Mr. Arnold said. "Our surveys of county government do not show that marked beneficial results to the taxpayer can be attributed to any of the three systems," he stated.

Conclusion drawn by most hearers from Mr. Arnold's address, and from information brought out in the round-table discussion which followed, was that efficient county government depends more on the type of men elected to county office than on the form of county government followed. Instances were cited by Mr. Arnold to show that there are many poorly run commissioner counties in the state, just as there are many poorly run supervisor counties. In the way of economy and efficiency there is little to choose between the two forms and little advantage in changing from one to the other, Mr. Arnold said.

O'Donnell Is Fined on No-Fund Check Charge

Monday in open court John F. O'Donnell was charged with issuing a no fund check to A. C. Larsen in the amount of $5 on July 30. A warrant for his arrest was issued Oct. 10.

He entered a plea of guilty as charged, took up the check, was assessed a fine of $5 which he paid, together with costs of $9.37, and was released.

Dr. Miller Spoke Monday.

Dr. A. L. Miller, of Kimball, who was defeated for the republican nomination for governor at the primary by Dwight Griswold, was in Ord Monday campaigning for the man who beat him. With a sound truck, Dr. Miller made a fine speech in behalf of Griswold and the whole ticket, state and national.

Pheasants, Ducks, Plentiful But the Weather too Warm

City Hunters Came Sunday for Pheasant Opener; River Shooting Is Good.

Hunting here this fall is the best it has been in several years, both for pheasants and for ducks. The season on waterfowl got under way last Wednesday and several limit kills were made on the North and Middle Loup rivers, bluewing and greenwing teal comprising bulk of the bags in most cases though a number of locally raised mallards, pintails and other varieties were killed.

Although the weather has been very warm, there have been no cloudy mornings and little wind, duck hunting is holding up surprisingly well, hunters say. No northern ducks are in this section as yet but evidently the local hatch was large. The irrigation system is helping duck shooting, hunters say, as the canals, drainage areas and flooded fields help to hold the ducks in the country after they are flushed off the river.

Hotels and restaurants had capacity business over the week end, due to the influx of city sportsmen.

Especially in valley corn fields is pheasant hunting good, the areas where drouth hit hardest this summer having a minimum of birds. Of course the pheasants are wilder now than they were at the opening but they are still plentiful and good sport may be anticipated until the close Nov. 2.

Shoots Bird Too Early, H. D. Rogers Is Fined

The first arrest here since the pheasant season opened came yesterday morning when Warden Geo. Weidman met with H. D. Rogers who shot a pheasant at 7:15 a. m., when there are not supposed to be any birds shot before 8 a. m. Mr. Rogers did not know of this provision of the law, but ignorance is no excuse and it cost him a fine of $10 and costs of $4.75, which he paid. The fact that the law permits the shooting of ducks from sunrise on and pheasants only after 8 a. m., is somewhat confusing.

10 Firemen Attended Convention at Omaha

Ten members of the Ord volunteer fire department, including Chief George Anderson, Chester Austin, Charlie Lewis, Ed Parks, Mark Tolen, A. J. Shirley, W. E. Lincoln, Henry Misko, Ed Lukesh and Cecil Clark, were in Omaha attending the annual convention of the Nebraska fire fighters' association, which was held Oct. 15, 16 and 17.

Chief Anderson was appointed a member of one of the state committees. Next year's convention of the organization will be held at Norfolk.

Red Cross Organization Completed in County

Mrs. E. C. Whelan, Valley county Red Cross chairman recently elected to succeed Mrs. Sylvester Furtak, has completed organization of the work in the chapter and its branches for the coming year. She has appointed as division chairman; Harold Taylor, first aid; Mrs. A. C. Husbards, life saving; Mrs. Syl Furtak, disaster; Mrs. E. L. Kokes, junior Red Cross; Mrs. John Misko, farm accident and fire prevention; Mrs. William Sack, home protection. Serving with her on the executive committee, C. J. Mortensen is vice-chairman, Mrs. Wilma Anderson is secretary, Ralph Misko is treasurer, and Mrs. E. L. Kokes has charge of publicity.

Mrs. Whelan has high hopes of being able to carry on the division work along with the regular welfare and medical relief work as far as the limited funds in the local treasury permit. The Valley county chapter has established at district headquarters a reputation for doing a remarkable variety of work in the county. Volunteer workers have given their best efforts in order to make every dollar in this worthy program count.

Mrs. Whelan has devoted considerable study to the Red Cross work for the coming year. Through chairman and volunteer helpers she hopes to keep the Red Cross serving efficiently, without favoritism, without duplication. She asks and deserves community cooperation.

GRISWOLD FOR GOVERNOR.

Nebraska is fortunate this fall in having two capable men as candidates for governor. They are men who have proved their ability in their chosen fields. A man who has made a success of his business should make a success of the business of the state.

Griswold is a product of the great cattle growing section of Nebraska, and is now one of the outstanding newspaper men of the state. He has made a success of his business. Mr. Carpenter is chiefly in the oil and liquor business, and has also made a success.

The voter must look over the qualifications of the candidates and decide for himself which man can best fill the office of governor. In a state where the cattle raising industry is the outstanding business of the citizen, the value of a man who knows the cattle business cannot be overlooked.

Because of the nature of his work, the newspaper man must be well informed, not only in regard to the needs of his own section of the state, but of the entire state as well. No man is better informed on Nebraska and her needs than is Dwight Griswold, who is known personally by thousands of voters all over the state.

In a crisis such as faces the United States today, with the entire world in a condition of chaos, the ship of state needs a man at the helm who has had experience in war. Griswold did his bit in the World War, and his experience then will be invaluable to him in the dark days that are ahead.

The people want Griswold. They have proved it in the heavy vote that he has received every time he has run in the past. Had it not been for the overwhelming democratic vote in those years, he would have been elected every time he ran. Nebraska needs Griswold, who has a definite plan for Nebraska in the days just ahead.

STILL THEY VOLUNTEER.

Despite the fact that it was thought necessary a short time ago to pass a peace-time conscription act, it has now been announced that there will probably be enough volunteers by the time comes to call the first conscripts, and it will not be necessary to call any in November.

This is a frank admission that, if the volunteer system had been given a fair trial, conscription would not have been necessary. Under the volunteer system no effort was made to make army life more desirable, but since the conscription act has been passed the war department has made a real effort to popularize the camps.

At the time the conscription act was being considered it was intimated officially that the great majority of the American people favored conscription, while the fact is that the majority are opposed to it. As it was in the World War, nobody can oppose conscription without running the risk of being called a pacifist or a proGerman.

All regular army officers want conscription. They want a system that will give them the type and number of fighting men they want and at the time they want them. To their way of thinking, whenever democracy and efficiency conflict, democracy must give way.

A number of local young men have expressed the opinion in the past few months that they would like to volunteer for one year, but that they did not like to be tied up in the army for three years. Since the passing of the conscription bill, the war department has made it possible for men to volunteer for one year.

If this had been done before the bill was passed, conscription would not have been necessary. If men had been given the same opportunities in the army that they have in the CCC, the war department would have had to close its recruiting stations, because of the rush to enlist.

Nobody wants to be drafted, but nobody wants to make too much of a sacrifice to volunteer. We have the peace time draft, not because the American people wanted it, but because the war department wanted it, and by clever use of propaganda, the department got what it wanted. The writer is no pacifist, but we like to see affairs in a democracy carried on in a democratic way.

BOUGHT AND PAID FOR.

A contemporary last week listed more than three million dollars that had been poured into the county since 1932, through the various governmental agencies, to help keep "Wolf From Door." The article concludes with the perfectly obvious statement: "Under no Republican administration was there any such amount received."

The Quiz has no quarrel with the writer of the article and admits that the figures given are probably correct. But the inference is that the Republican party would have left the people to starve if they had been in power during the past eight years. No thinking man or woman can believe that such a condition could exist.

The statement that no Republican administration expended such an amount is also intended to mislead. As a matter of fact, never before in this history of the nation has there been such a time of need as during the years of the New Deal, so there is no fair means of comparison.

Another odious inference is that the money expended for relief was "New Deal" money. The only money that this government has or ever will have originates in the sweat of the man who toils, and our children unto the next generation will be toiling to pay back the money the New Deal has paid out for relief.

The recipient of relief owes no debt to the New Deal for spending the public's money for that relief. In effect the New Deal has merely taken the money out of the pocket of the tax payer and put part of it back in the form of relief, keeping the rest to pay salaries of an army of administrators.

Some politicians would like to have the public believe that the votes of all economic unfortunates have been bought and paid for, and that the money came out of the pockets of the New Deal. It is about time that we realize that the money we pay in taxes is not the property of any political party, to be used for the purpose of purchasing votes.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

On September 24 Senator George W. Norris made a political speech in the senate, supporting President Roosevelt for a 3rd term and attacking Mr. Willkie. Perhaps, as is usually done, he made a few remarks, asked permission to have all his remarks extended in the Congressional Record, handed his manuscript to the clerk and sat down. It was a political speech pure and simple. It took up several pages of the record and it costs the government $156.00 a page to have it printed.

Wednesday morning some 30 or more sacks of mail was dumped at the Lincoln postoffice, addressed to the chairman of the democrat state committee. Those sacks contained fifty thousand or more copies of that speech, each copy in an expensive manila envelope with the franking privilege of Senator Norris on the envelope. It would cost any of us over five hundred dollars to mail them out.

But the government pays the bill in this case and so the government is paying for a large part of the democratic campaign expenses in the same way. One day last week the Quiz got three such campaign documents. One was a speech which Mrs. Roosevelt had made; another was an address by the president; the other was the acceptance speech of candidate for vice president Wallace. All had been put in the Congressional Record by some new dealer member of congress, then printed at public expense and franked out free by the member of congress introducing the same into the record. Certainly there could be no excuse for putting Wallace's acceptance speech into the record to get it where it could be sent out at public expense. And while around fifty thousand of the Norris speech was sent to Nebraska, no doubt millions of the Wallace speech was sent over the whole country. If a republican was doing that Senator Norris would be the first man to get up and proclaim the unfairness of it but now he is a party to it.

One of the most important offices which the people of Valley County will vote on at the election November 5, is that of state senator. Those on the ticket will be Joe Knezacek of this county and the present incumbent, John F. Doyle of Greeley county. There are four counties in this district, Valley, Howard, Greeley and Wheeler. If our country votes strongly for its candidate, that is, if he is given a large majority, he is likely to be elected and if elected this fall, and if he makes a good representative, as I believe he will, he is likely to serve two or more terms and in that case, Valley county will be in a position of advantage. If Joe is not elected it may be a long time before Valley county will again have a chance to have the senator from this district. Mr. Knezacek has served this country well in the past, he is a good business man, and he will go to Lincoln determined to see that his district is given what it is entitled to have. I believe he is worthy the vote of every voter in the county. I know no man who ever did anything useful and constructive can hope to receive all the votes but I do believe and hope he may have a very large majority.

I have sent out, the past few days, about 500 notices to people who are in arrears on their Quiz. Many of those people would pay us. They wouldn't let us lose what they now owe. But there are some who would keep on neglecting the matter until the bill would get so big that they couldn't pay it and we would be the loser. It is better that we stop sending the paper before that happens. If we stop it most of these people will buy the paper at the news stands for 5 cents. True it costs them more that way, but we get our money, which we must have if we are to continue in business. So, folks, don't get peeved if your paper stops. We have given you all a chance to pay up and anyone who cannot do so now probably couldn't do so later when the bill is larger. We do want every last one of you on the list.

For several years I have enjoyed listening to the important news broadcasts from WOW and since the war started I have seldom missed the 7 a. m. broadcast. But now it is all spoiled. For WOW has allowed some oil company to give us the war news, it is a transcribed broadcast and it is mostly blab about motor oil and gasoline.

I will be mighty glad when the campaign is over. Everywhere you turn, whether in the newspapers or on the radio, there is little but politics. Much of it is none too reliable. You hear a speech that sounds pretty good and convincing; then you turn to another station and hear it denied and are told that the first speaker was and is a crook. The best way for a voter to do is to study the thing over, make up his or her mind and then vote that way without paying any attention to what the politicians say. Really the important thing is that every voter go and vote.

Her salt and pepper collection is growing rapidly, and she now has nearly 500 pairs, Mrs. Robert Noll says. Perhaps you have seen some of them in the display case at the library?

Some of them are unique, each pair different, some very cunning, but all of them interesting. None of them is fearfully expensive, Mrs. Noll having made herself a rule in this respect.

There are so many of them . . . think of the dusting . . . that they have come to take a privileged position in the Noll home. The house wasn't built especially for them, but they show importantly.

Mrs. Richard Teague thinks she has a collecting hobby that is decidedly rare: she collects hotel stationery heads. She has acquired them from many distant points, and is now busy getting at least one from each Nebraska county. Perhaps we would help her by bringing them home from our travels?

Was there ever such a beautiful fall in Nebraska? Have you noticed the golden yellow trees, the wonderful fall colorings? Surely no landscape could look more rich than this one of brown and gold with green for emphasis and a bit of red for accent.

When the draft registration came along, it made a grab for Olof Olsson but he eluded it by celebrating his 36th birthday about two weeks before the selective day.

Russell Craven was not so fortunate, however. He had a birthday the day after registering for the draft. Yes, you've guessed it: next day he was 36!

Whether you think Roosevelt will save the country by being elected or by being completely defeated, let's be sure to go and vote. Let's not only be certain to vote ourselves, but let's see to it that everyone else remembers to go and vote. If necessary, couldn't we help others to get to the polls?

As a little girl I remember my parents driving their car to the polls repeatedly, carrying little old ladies, invalids or perhaps someone who lived at the edge of town, a long way from the voting places. I think it is a fine thing to do, to help others get to the polls like that. If you know a busy young mother, can't you run in and stay with her babies while she goes to vote? Isn't there a neighbor who would appreciate a ride to the official voting place?

Neither do I hold with voting blindly. I think we should each do our best to be informed and vote our sincerest convictions. Even a little knowledge is preferable to none. And in a true democracy which we hope this is and will remain, nothing could be more desirable than for others to express his views by voting.

Do your very best to get to vote. And after that, try to help others to do the same. Of course I am hoping you won't make any such gross error as voting for all the men I hope to see defeated.

Irma.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Here From Another Land

Man Without a Country

Coming direct from the home of her husband's folks, who are pure Italians in San Francisco, Mrs. Frank Stanghellini, Dorothy, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Goodrich, is spending two weeks in North Loup. She has two bright little boys who look more like her, she has been told, than like their father, Dr. Frank Stanghellini.

While working in Omaha a few years ago, Dorothy met her husband, who was then attending Creighton Medical college. Upon graduating from there they were married and moved at once to San Francisco to live with his folks while he took intern work in a large hospital in that city. He has had his own office and practice for over a year now, and the peculiar part of it is, outside of a few personal friends, most of his clients are Czechoslovakian.

Dorothy says she found the life with her Italian parents-in-law much different than her previous American customs, and especially so with the food, but in spite of that, she says she likes it. Her husband's folks are very fine, she says, and if she wishes, she may cook and eat her own dishes, without ridicule, and occasionally, they will sample her dishes, but to no great extent. She eats mostly their food, however.

Their main diet is spaghetti. They eat this often three times a day and frequently that is about all there is, with variations. All their food is very rich, fried in olive oil, never lard. They seldom eat potatoes, pie, cake or ice cream. They are fond of cheese too, Italian cheese, but never use milk in their cooking. They seldom drink water. They drink coffee but no tea. Almost all their drinking is confined to wine, and it is sour wine. They drink and have in the house many other liquors too, drinking whenever they care to, but she says, as far as she knew, they never drink too much. Wine is drunk in place of water.

She says to her knowledge, her mother-in-law never wrote a receipt. They seem to be handed down from memory from one generation to another. Following is the spaghetti recipe that they cook and eat most of the time, and Dorothy, too, told it from memory. She said it would not be a big mess the way her folks eat it, but Mrs. Goodrich said it would be a pretty large dish for six of us people.

The sugo (or gravy) is made as follows: 1/2 cup of olive oil heated, a small onion, 2 cloves of garlic, sprig of thyme, sprig of rosemary, 1/2 cup of parsley, all of which is chopped and simmered in oil. To this add 2 small cans tuna (1 cup), 2 cups of buttered mushrooms, 1/2 cup dried mushrooms (soaked in cold water and chopped). Sprinkle of cloves, nutmeg and cinnamon (1-3 tsp), salt and pepper to taste, cup of tomato sauce, cup of cold water. Simmer until quite thick, then put both together and cook it all. This is the sugo.

Take 1 pound of spaghetti, cook and boil in salt water until done, then drain well, add sugo and one cup of grated cheese. It is now ready to serve and can be served with more grated cheese if desired.

Her father and mother-in-law are pure Italians, having come to America thirty years ago. They are owners of two Italian stores in San Francisco, where they handle almost nothing but food imported from Italy. In connection with this they have a small spaghetti factory where they make 120 different varieties. This kitchen is as clean and slick as any house Dorothy ever saw. Although the buildings seem small, Dorothy says they hire 20 men in the establishment.

They import olive oil by the cask and sell it out by five gallon lots. They import cured Italian meats, mushrooms and great quantities of cheese, she thinks, probably made from goat milk. Most of this importation came in large quantities by ship through the Panama canal.

Now they can import nothing, on account of the English blockade. The Stanghellinis foresaw this condition as long as three years ago and laid in great stocks, so the blockade as yet, is not troubling them. The cheese, much of it, comes in wheel shapes. It is hard, with a dark covering, and must be sprayed with oil and pepper to preserve it. The cheese, she says, resembles Limburger, without quite as strong a smell.

In asking her how the Italians (and her folks) feel about the war, she said they are thoroughly Americans, adopting this country as theirs to the exclusion of all others. They do not sympathize with the Italians in the war, nor do they have any love for Mussolini. They have some feeling and sympathy for the royal family however. She says some of the younger Italians, who have come over in the last few years, think the Axis powers are all right, and she says her folks think, if they feel that way, they should return.

She says now about the only thing that can be sent back to Italy is coffee. In Italy, the army gets all the coffee there. The duty too, is very great, so when an American-Italian wants to send some coffee to his friends in Italy, he must send money along to pay the duty to the government.

She has a good deal of respect for the Italians she knows. They are mostly Catholics and great people for family celebrations and parties. She says the mayor of both San Francisco and of New York are Italians, Rossi and LaGuardia. The DiMaggios are Italians coming from San Francisco and Don Amche is also an Italian.

She has learned to understand the language but not to speak it as yet, but her little boys can talk and understand both languages. The older folks speak Italian when they are together but the younger folks speak English mostly. The older folks usually associate with Italians but the younger ones go with anyone, and for the most part, the looks of the race is so little different from Americans, that one could not tell them apart.

A little off the subject of the Italians, she says she hears more about the Japs here than she did there. The Japanese stores (especially in Chinatown) were boycotted until most of them had to close up. Many Japs have returned to Japan to fight, but very few Chinese have returned.

The city of San Francisco is about 60% foreigners. There is Chinatown, Russian Hill, and North Beach, the Italian settlement. (Her folks do not live there however.) It used to be one of the busiest ports in the land, but since the labor strikes and troubles, business at the wharves has fallen off terribly.

Man Without a Country. It has been discovered that Jim Morrison, who a few years ago lived and was raised in North Loup and also taught in Burwell, is an alien, and perhaps will not be able to teach again in the state, at least until he gets his record cleaned up.

It happens his father went to Canada and took a homestead there. His father is dead, and Jim's mother does not know for sure, but thinks he must have had to become a Canadian citizen to take a homestead.

Jim was born in Canada and when a very small child, the folks moved back to the United States where they have lived ever since and where (in North Loup) Jim was raised. Until now, he never had the thought but what he was as much an American as anyone, and is too in spirit. He is faced with the quandary of whether he is a Canadian, an American, or what he is. His mother wrote from California that they think it is nothing but what can be straightened up however, probably taking a good deal of time and trouble.

Short Shavings. Speaking of rats in Ord, Alfred Christensen and Harlen Brenwick respectfully offer to furnish the city with a few dozen cats if they just say the word.

In church the other morning, little Katherine Severance, who is more than filled with activity, wanted to give the money into the collection platter. Cecil opened er his wallet, she took out a bill, a bill that Cecil thought was a one dollar bill, and she was about to drop it when the discovery was made that it was a ten dollar bill instead.

My children say that if Joe Knezacek would just wear a cap, say a hunting cap, we would have to call him Sherlock Holmes. That might be all right too; a little of Sherlock Holmes' characteristics perhaps would not be so bad in the legislature.

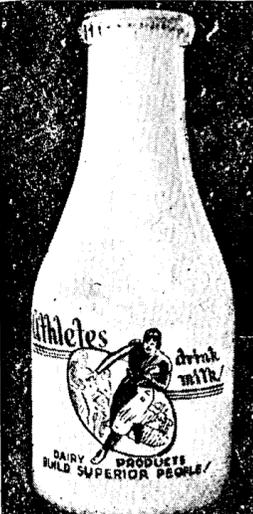

Anyway, everyone that I have seen, who knows Joe, hopes he will be elected. I have wished all my life folks would say of me what they say of Joe; that he is one of the finest men they ever knew.

At the show in Grand Island the other day—The Harmony Harvest—there was a Hulu Hulu dance. One small child with her father, turned up her face and asked him in a loud voice, "Daddy, haven't they got any clothes on?"

—Johnnie Lunney, who is in the CCC camp at Halsey, came home over the week end. He is now well recovered from an appendectomy which he underwent at Ft. Robinson some time ago. All CCC surgery cases in the western part of the state are sent to the government hospital at Ft. Robinson.

Valley View Store Was Scene of Sheriff Brock's Murder

Maxson Fired at Birkes Car with Shotgun, Wounded Two

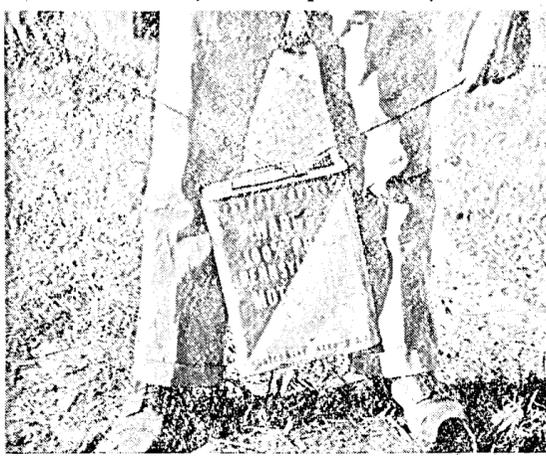

One man who kept his head during the gun battle at Valley View in which Sheriff Brock was killed last Wednesday was A. R. Maxson, blacksmith, general repair man and Loup county commissioner. When he saw the Birkes party escaping in their car he ran across the street, grabbed his faithful pump gun and fired several times at the men. Later, physicians dug 20 shot pellets out of John Birkes' head, and a few out of Richard Birkes' body. The latter also was shot by Sheriff Brock and is now in a Broken Bow hospital in serious condition.

Where Brock Read a Warrant to Brothers

Birkes Soddy Had Unique Alarm System

Evidently John and Willard Birkes feared they might be raided by officers at any time, for in addition to having a pair of fierce dogs they also had rigged up an unique alarm system, one unit of which is shown by the picture above. Along the north side of their soddy in the sand hills 10 miles from Valley View, and well hidden in the brush 50 feet from the house, were oil cans tied together with wire so anybody sneaking up on the house would trip over the wires and cause the cans to clatter. Cream cans and milk buckets were similarly rigged up as an alarm system on the south side.

Local News

A few days before his fatal shooting at Valley View, Sheriff George Brock visited the Birkes ranch to serve them with papers dispossessing them of the place. John and Willard Birkes and their nephew refused to accept the papers, ordered him off the place at the point of three shotguns. The sheriff courageously read the papers to the men through a window, while they kept him covered with the guns. Here a neighbor poses in the position occupied by the sheriff when he read the summons to them.

The third and fourth grades gave a geography demonstration for their mothers Thursday afternoon with about eighteen interested mothers attending. The fourth grade has just completed a study of the Lincoln highway and each pupil told a story of some part of the territory covered by the highway that he had written himself. All seemed to have a splendid conception of their subject and they have learned to spell the difficult names also. Agnes Manchester is teacher of these grades.

The P. T. A. held their first meeting of the year Wednesday night at the school house. The meeting was presided over by Rev. Chas. Stevens, president. The program for the evening was in charge of Albert Babcock. Mrs. Cornell gave a piano solo and Mary Babcock and Frances Goodrich a piano duet. Mr. Willis introduced the new teachers and Mrs. Elley gave a reading. The Four O'clock Train. She also led a half hour of community singing. Refreshments of cake and sandwiches were served in the home economics laboratory and the music room making use of the door which janitor Cloyd Ingerson has cut between the two rooms.

Merna played football here Friday afternoon, losing the game 26-0. This game was of particular interest as "Barney" Fuller, graduate of our schools and football star when in high school here, is now coach at Merna. ## Rights of Osteopaths Are Upheld by Court

From Omaha World-Herald—Upholding a lower court ruling, the superior court of Pennsylvania decided that licensed osteopathic physicians are entitled to the same privileges as "licensed physicians." The opinion said: "The comparative merits of osteopathy and medicine as scientific systems for the treatment and cure of bodily disorders raised a question controversial in the public mind. The question is not for us to attempt to discuss... it is enough to say that the legislature has seen fit to recognize osteopathy as a 'complete and independent scientific system' and the various acts of assembly have given osteopaths the standing of physicians."

Answer to last week's checker problem:

We had black single pieces on 2, 5. Black kings on 15, 27, 32. White single pieces on 10, 13, 21. White kings on 8, 14. White to play and win. Play 10-7, 2-11, 13-9, now black has only a choice of either 22-23 or 27-31; outcome the same so we'll take 27-31, then 14-17, 5-14, 17-19, pinching the black piece on 11, wins 3 against 2 with careful play.

Problem this week:

Black single piece on 3, 6. A black king on 5. White single pieces on 11, 30. White king on 13. Black to play and win. Some beautiful play on this one. (Answer next week)

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Alfalfa growers have again harvested a bonanza crop of seed here in the North Loup valley. In fact, their incomes here occasionally exceed the value of the land on which the crop was produced.

Yields of 10 or 11 bushels to the acre are not uncommon this fall on small patches. One 27 acre tract has produced 9.8 bushels of alfalfa seed per acre.

Earlier in the season, the Noll Seed company paid $10.20 per bushel. Now the price has dropped to $9.00 per bushel for the best quality seed reclaimed.

The Noll Seed company of Ord has bought 192,212 pounds of alfalfa seed this fall, at a cost of $25,026.36. This seed was harvested from approximately 475 acres, locally. It returned the farmer's on an average of more than $50 per acre for the seed, in addition to a good cutting of hay. And don't forget that plowing under legumes, such as alfalfa, will add more fertility to an acre soil than twenty tons of manure.

Ivan Holmes and family visited at the John Setlik home Sunday afternoon.—Etta Urban stayed at the Cecil Severance home Sunday.—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Barnard and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Klingler visited at the St. Johnsen's home.—John Urban left for Fob, Okla., Sunday morning.

801 Register for Selective Service in Valley County

The number 1 card was that of Freeman V. Haught, No. 2 was John Edward Kokes, Jr., No. 3 was Wester Leo Jones, etc. A complete list of registrants, with the numbers assigned to them, appears elsewhere in this issue.

Valley county draft board now has completed its work until after Tuesday, Oct. 29, when at Washington, D. C. the big selective service drawing will be held. Largest number of registrants in any draft district in the United States, it has been determined, is 7,500, so into a fish bowl at Washington will go 7,500 capsules, each bearing a number from 1 to 7,500.

At noon on October 29, Secretary of War Stimson will draw from the fish bowl a capsule, thus opening the big lottery. Drawing of capsules will continue until all have been drawn, and the order in which numbers are drawn in the lottery will determine the order in which registrants in the various draft districts throughout the country will be sent questionnaires to determine their eligibility for military service.

All Valley county registrants should familiarize themselves with their numbers, and when the order in which drawings are made at Washington on Oct. 29 is published, they will immediately know whether they are likely to be called for military service in the first, or some later, quota.

Those Valley county registrants whose numbers are drawn at Washington will appear before the local draft board, which has the decision as to who shall be classified immediately eligible or deferred to lower classifications because of marriage, dependents, conscientious objections, physical unfitness, or other reasons.

Later a local appeal board will be named and any registrant ordered to report for military service in the first draft who feels that he should be set down into a lower classification, will have the right to appeal to this second board for reexamination and possible reclassification.

Valley Co. Used Commissioner System in Early Days, Abandoned it About 1888

Went to Township Form then with 11 Supervisors, to Present Form in 1895.

Under the regular setup for county government in Nebraska three forms are available, and Valley county has tried all three, as the records in the county clerk's office prove.

The first record of county government in the commissioners' proceedings, appears at a meeting held July 7, 1873, when the first commissioners elected, L. C. Jacobs, chairman, D. C. Bailey and John Case, met with the county clerk, E. D. McKenney, for the purpose of determining the commissioner district.

To understand the situation then it must be remembered that there was no Ord as we know it now. There was a settlement at North Loup, another in Springdale, and a third a few miles northwest of the present city of Ord.

The commissioners divided the county into three precincts as required by law. Precinct No. 1 embraced a strip of land 24 miles east and west and 9 miles north and south, lying across the south end of the country.

To make it more clear, it ran east and west past the school house of District No. 42 in North Loup township, District No. 9 in Enterprise, District No. 16 in Vinton and District No. 39 in Liberty.

Commissioner District No. 2 was to be 24 miles east and west and 6 miles north and south and was to lie just north of District No. 1, in fact through the center of the county.

Commissioner District No. 3 was to include all the rest of Valley county north of No. 2. This included the Danish settlement northwest of Ord, and later, the all important settlement of Calamus at Fort Hartsuff, which dwindled away about 1850.

For the sake of preserving the record, the commissioners for the various years during which the county was under commissioner form of government is given below, the name appearing first being that of the chairman:

1874, R. W. Bancroft, L. C. Jacobs, John Case; 1875, Case, Jacobs, Bancroft; 1876, Bancroft, M. Coombs, A. S. Adams; 1877, Bancroft, Adams, Oscar Babcock; 1878, Adams, Babcock, B. H. Johnson, A. V. Bradt, W. B. Keown; 1880, Bradt, Keown, Johnson; 1881, Keown, Johnson, H. C. Perry; 1882, Johnson, Perry, Arthur Lapham; 1883, Perry, Lapham, H. A. Chase; 1884, D. J. Davis, Chase, I. N. Swan; 1885, Chase, Swan, Davis; 1886, Swan, Davis, J. J. Hamlin; 1887, Davis, Hamlin, J. A. Ollis, Jr.; 1888, Hamlin Ollis, Jacob Lemasters.

The year 1888 was the last of the commissioner form of government in Valley county. The population had varied through the years, and at that time most of the people lived in the first and second districts, with a much smaller population in the third.

The fact that the entire county was being settled rapidly doubtless accounted for the radical change which came, from three commissioners to fifteen supervisors, one in each township.

In October, 1888, a petition was presented, signed by more than fifty electors, asking that the board submit to the voters the question, "For Township Organization, or Against Township Organization." Notice was given by the board, in session Oct. 10, 1888, that the proposition would be voted on at the next general election, Nov. 6, 1888.

For the purposes of voting the county was divided into precincts, which apparently followed quite closely the township later formed. The places of voting in the different precincts were designated, and, since all of them can still be located, the list is given, as follows:

Arcadia precinct, Arcadia school house; Calamus precinct, school house, Dist. No. 7; Elm Creek, school house, Dist. No. 23; Eureka, school house, Dist. No. 43; Hays (Hayes) Creek, Walte school house; Liberty, E. S. Burson house; Mira Creek, Clement school house; North Loup, skating rink; Ord, court room in court house; Springdale, Timmerman school house; Vinton, Vinton school

cept Ord City, was offered by A. A. Knott:

Dist. No. 1, Noble, Elyria and Eureka; No. 2, Geranium, Liberty and Vinton; No. 3, Michigan and Ord (township); No. 4, City of Ord; No. 5, Springdale and North Loup; No. 6, Independent, Davis Creek and Enterprise; No. 7, Arcadia and Yale.

After much jangling and attempts on the part of the republicans to prevent the amendment from carrying both it and the original motion were passed by a vote strictly along party lines, the 9 democrats voting for and the 5 republicans voting against, the chairman, Jorgen Moller, of course not voting.

The proposed change left more than one supervisor in each district except No. 4, and a motion was made that those in the districts where there was more than one cast lots to decide which should remain on the board. This was done with the following result:

Dist. 1, Frank Zuikoski; Dist. 2, E. B. Knott; Dist. 3, Jorgen Moller; Dist. 5, J. W. Perry; Dist. 6, S. C. Brace; Dist. 7, J. A. Clark. Jorgen Moller, who had been chairman of the old board, was selected as chairman of Valley county's first 7 man board.

The only change since the division of 45 years ago was made a few years ago, when the first ward in Ord was taken out of Dist. 4 and added to Dist. 3. Of interest is the fact that J. A. Ollis, Jr., served as a member of the county board under all three types of county government.

This story is written for the benefit of Quiz readers, in order that they may know the history of the county government in the past, and is not designed to influence in any way public opinion on the proposition to be voted on at the November election.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

"Springtime the Safest Time" is the heading of an article published by the Metropolitan Life Insurance company in its Statistical Bulletin. It is pointed out here that if there were as few deaths due to accidental injury during the other months as during April, 12,500 lives would be spared each year.

Taking the average for four recent years, it is found that 285 people die each day in the United States as a direct result of accidents. In April, however, the number drops to a daily average of 251. This is all the more remarkable when compared with July, the worst month of the year, in which 367 die daily of accidental injury.

This favorable finding for April is explained by its being an "in-between" season so far as hazards are concerned. Winter dangers such as burns, slipping on ice, breathing poisonous coal or illuminating gas are passed. Smothering to death of babies under heavy bedding or by people with whom they are sleeping is lessened by the warmer weather.

On the other hand swimming, boating and lightning have not begun. People are driving their cars a little more than in the winter but less than in July and the fall months. Also, driving is safer in April because there is no sleet and ice, and the daylight hours are longer than in late fall and winter.

Deaths from falls reach the lowest level in May, when an average of 65 people die each day from this cause. The worst month is not in the winter when there is more snow and ice, but July. In this month 75 people die each day from this cause. Drownings occur least often in the winter, rise to 26 a day in May and to 51 in July. Fatal shooting accidents are, of course, highest in November when 14 people are killed this way daily.

Automobile accidents are the worst killers in all months but this also varies with the season. The average for the year is 103 per day. In the spring months this number drops to an average of 87 and in the last three months of the year it rises to 124 a day. This is accounted for in part by the greater use of the automobile in the fall and by the shorter hours of daylight and worse driving conditions in the fall and winter months.

These statistics are interesting in themselves but they also point out to us the things which make various seasons more hazardous than others. Knowing this we should be able to protect ourselves better and avoid injury more successfully.

Funeral Rites for Slain Sheriff Are Attended by Throng

though Willard Birkes was not present at the time of the shooting that he had threatened Brock, that he was instrumental in influencing his brother and nephew in their rash acts and that he aided them in attempting to escape.

John Birkes will be brought to Taylor from Broken Bow and Willard from Grand Island to have a preliminary hearing in a few days. The condition of Richard Birkes is such that he will not be able to leave the hospital in Broken Bow for several months.

Frank Strohl, a rancher and trucker of Almeria, was appointed sheriff of Loup county to succeed Brock, Monday morning by the county commissioners. Mr. Strohl is married and the father of four children. Thirteen men applied for the job.

A suit to collect $25,000 from John, Willard and Richard Birkes, the men responsible for the fatal shooting of her husband at Valley View last Wednesday has been filed in the district court of Loup county by the widow of Sheriff George Brock. The property owned by the Birkes, 280 acres of poor sandhill land, a late model Ford V-8 car, twenty-three cattle, thirty horses and some machinery, harness and saddles have been tied up by a court order and can not be sold by the Birkes or their agents until the suit is settled. Mrs. Brock and her six children are left almost wholly without means of support.

The Loup County Service club is raising a memorial fund to help the family financially by selling cards for a dollar apiece with the following printed on them: "In Memoriam, Sheriff George Brock of Loup County, killed while fulfilling stated obligations. Greater love hath no man than this, to lay down his life in performance of his duty. May we all do as well." The club hopes to raise a thousand dollars in this manner.

Junior High Football Team Wins 2 Games

Thursday the Broken Bow Junior high football team came to Ord for a game with Coach Reeves boys. This team was only organized this year, and lacked size and experience. They fought hard but were no match for the Ord boys who scored almost at will for a total of 36 to 0.

Eldon Cetak, halfback, held major honors in scoring making three touchdowns, two on reverses from the ten yard line. Don Atkinson, right end, made a touchdown with a long pass thrown by Quarterback Wilson. M. Rose blocked a Broken Bow punt, which they recovered in the end zone for a safety and two points.

Ed Lukesh, guard, dropped back and placekicked two extra points. Junior Wilson made one of the extra points on a run around right end. In the entire game Broken Bow made only one first down. The score at the half was 15 to 0. Wilson was kicked in the kidney, and was out of the Burwell game yesterday.

Burwell came to Ord for a return game yesterday afternoon, and Ord again won, the full time score being 13 to 0, and at the half, 6 to 0. L. Stewart took the ball across on a reverse from the ten yard line, after he had carried it from mid-field on two fine end runs.

In the second half, L. Hurlbert, fullback, returned a punt 15 yards to the Burwell 30 yard line. C. Sowers, in at half, skirted right end 20 yards to the ten yard line. A double reverse with a forward pass, Cetak to R. Severson, was good for the second touchdown, and the same play, Cetak to Hurlbert, made the extra point good.

The Burwell team showed much improvement since the first game, and clicked with long passes in the first quarter until they had the ball on the 5 yard line with 4 chances to make it. A stiff defense ended with a 4th down pass being knocked down in the end zone. Sewart's ball carrying was easily the feature of this game.

To date the Ord junior high has won four games: The first was Ord 20, Burwell 0; the second, Ord 12, Ravenna 7; the third, Ord 36, Broken Bow, 0; and the fourth, Ord 13, Burwell 0. The grand total score is Ord 81, opponents 7.

Funeral Rites for Slain Sheriff Are Attended by Throng

though Willard Birkes was not present at the time of the shooting that he had threatened Brock, that he was instrumental in influencing his brother and nephew in their rash acts and that he aided them in attempting to escape.

John Birkes will be brought to Taylor from Broken Bow and Willard from Grand Island to have a preliminary hearing in a few days. The condition of Richard Birkes is such that he will not be able to leave the hospital in Broken Bow for several months.

Frank Strohl, a rancher and trucker of Almeria, was appointed sheriff of Loup county to succeed Brock, Monday morning by the county commissioners. Mr. Strohl is married and the father of four children. Thirteen men applied for the job.

A suit to collect $25,000 from John, Willard and Richard Birkes, the men responsible for the fatal shooting of her husband at Valley View last Wednesday has been filed in the district court of Loup county by the widow of Sheriff George Brock. The property owned by the Birkes, 280 acres of poor sandhill land, a late model Ford V-8 car, twenty-three cattle, thirty horses and some machinery, harness and saddles have been tied up by a court order and can not be sold by the Birkes or their agents until the suit is settled. Mrs. Brock and her six children are left almost wholly without means of support.

The Loup County Service club is raising a memorial fund to help the family financially by selling cards for a dollar apiece with the following printed on them: "In Memoriam, Sheriff George Brock of Loup County, killed while fulfilling stated obligations. Greater love hath no man than this, to lay down his life in performance of his duty. May we all do as well." The club hopes to raise a thousand dollars in this manner.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

The following letter was received this week from E. C. Helbig, of Sterling, Colo., but formerly of North Loup and Burwell.

To the Mothers of America:
The most sacred word this side of Heaven. It was you who went down into the shadow of death and brought us, your sons, into the world. It was you who nursed us and cared for us tenderly through all the years of our childhood.

It was your loving hands and tender kisses we wanted when we fell and got hurt, when we were sick. Now it is to you we turn again, you Mothers of America, to save us from the great, dark cloud which is about to engulf us in another great war.

We don't want to die, just to please a few war mongers. We don't want to be sent across the sea, to live and sleep and die in the trenches. We don't want to spend the rest of our lives in hospital beds.

You, our mothers, can win this battle for us on Nov. 5, if you will vote for Wendell Willkie and save America for us, that we may live. You stand by us now, mothers, and should this country ever be attacked, then we will fight till all disaors and Isms are wiped off.

Millionaire's Son Jailed at Burwell for Starting Fires

Donald Malmsten Admits He Set Two Prairie Fires, Gets 30 Days, Fined.

Burwell—(Special)—Donald Malmsten pleaded guilty in county court Monday afternoon to setting two prairie fires the day before on the north side of the Ericson highway, on the E. V. Holloway and Mrs. Anton Pishna farms, and was fined $50 by County Judge B. A. Rose, also being sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail.

He is a son of C. J. Malmster, former chain store executive who now operates a big ranch in the Cedar valley 25 miles northeast of Burwell, and who is reputed to be a millionaire.

A strong south wind made it difficult to extinguish the fires. Eight witnesses saw Malmsten and immediately started to fight the blazes. They were aided by farmers of the neighborhood and by the Burwell fire department. One fire burned over 15 acres and the other about one acre before they were put out.

Malmsten was defiant when questioned by Judge Rose as to why he started the fires. He didn't know, he said, but if the judge insisted he could "make up a reason." The judge didn't insist, but instead slapped on a jail sentence in addition to the fine.

H. Johnson Chosen Legion Chief, 1941 Convention to Ord

No. Loup Man New District Commander with Support of Ord Delegation.

Harry Johnson, who is serving now as commander of the North Loup post of the American Legion and also as county commander, received a new honor Wednesday when he was elected district commander at the annual district convention held in Dannebrog. The movement to elect Johnson was fostered by the Ord delegation which also put in a bid to have the 1941 district convention held in Ord and saw it accepted.

HARRY JOHNSON.

By his election as district commander, Mr. Johnson also becomes a member of the Legion's state executive council and Friday he went to Lincoln to attend his first meeting in this capacity.

Ord members attending the district Legion and Auxiliary meetings in Dannebrog were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Springer, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wiegard, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, James Gilbert, C. D. Wardrop, Mrs. E. O. Kull and Mrs. John Ward. A cousin of Mrs. Mortensen, Mrs. E. L. Stancliff, of California, accompanied the Mortensens to the meeting and later they took her to Grand Island to catch a train for the west. Mr. Mortensen took a train for Omaha on business.

The program proper was held at the Dannebrog high school auditorium both forenoon and afternoon. The noonday luncheon was served in the Lutheran church by the Sunshine circle. A joint banquet of the Legion and Auxiliary was held at Pleasure Isle at 6:30 p. m., served by the Nysted ladies' aid society and the day ended with a dance at the pavilion there.

Legionnaires held their business session in the afternoon at the Columbian hall. At the Auxiliary afternoon meeting Mrs. C. J. Mortensen was one of the speakers, her topic being "National Defense."

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown of Grand Island came to Ord Sunday with his brother, J. A. Brown and family, who drove down for them. They will visit here a week or ten days.

Four Men Are Fined on Pheasant Charges

Burwell—(Special)—Four men were fined by Judge B. A. Rose in county court Monday morning for violations of the game laws. Wilford Haines was assessed $15 and costs of $3.20 for having in his possession one more hen pheasant than the law allows; Chester Alder was fined $5 and costs of $3.20 for hunting without a license; Ray Brame and R. F. Spatz, residents of Oklahoma, were fined $15 and costs of $3.20 each for hunting with Nebraska licenses, their guns being confiscated also. Hallet Pulliam, who was charged with hunting without a license, was released when Game Warden George R. Weldon, who made all the arrests, failed to prove to Judge Rose's satisfaction that Pulliam actually was hunting. The warden found Pulliam, his nephew, two guns and some pheasants in a car. The nephew, Kenneth Pishna, who had a license, claimed ownership of both guns and said he had killed the pheasants.

Johnson to Speak at G. O. P. Rally Saturday Night

Party's 1936 Nominee for the Attorney Generalship to Outline 1940 Issues.

Republicans of Valley county will close their 1940 campaign with a big rally in Ord, Saturday evening, it is announced today by Gould Flagg, secretary of the county committee, and principal speaker will be Richard O. Johnson, prominent Lincoln attorney and nominee of the party in 1936 for attorney general of Nebraska, who will outline issues of the campaign.

If the weather remains pleasant the rally will be held outdoors, says Mr. Flagg, but if it is inclement a hall will be secured, probably the Ord opera house. There will be two or three other speakers besides Mr. Johnson, he promises.

First voters are particularly invited to be present to hear Mr. Johnson, who will devote special attention to reasons why young people should support the republican ticket.

Ravenna Wallops Ord Team, 31-0

The Chanticleers' hopes for an undefeated season came to an end in tragic fashion on the Bussell park field Friday evening when an unexpectedly strong Ravenna team ran riot to beat Ord 31 to 0. The Chanticleers played a listless game throughout.

The first quarter was scoreless but Ravenna scored once in the second period, once in the third and in the final quarter ran wild to push over three touchdowns. Only the final conversion was successful.

Ord threatened only once, early in the fourth quarter, but couldn't score. The Ord line, which had functioned well in previous games, was no match for Ravenna's veteran forward wall and Flagg had no chance to get passes away because he was rushed so hard at every attempt.

This week the Chanticleers have an open date but Coach Tolly will keep the boys hard at work in preparation for the Arcadia clash, on Nov. 8. Ravenna beat Arcadia only 14 to 0, so the odds are bound to favor Arcadia in this encounter. Clashes with Sargent and Loup City, both of which will be tough, will conclude the Ord season.

Eugene O'Sullivan, well known Omaha attorney and prominent democrat, will be the speaker at a democratic rally to be held in Ord Saturday evening, the democratic central committee has announced. The meeting will be held outdoors if weather permits.

Dr. C. W. Weekes is in Omaha this week attending the state medical convention.

Nice Promotion to Main Line Burlington Station to Veteran Ord Agent.

After serving 22 years as station agent of the Burlington railway company in Ord, Henry G. Frey received notice Thursday that he had been appointed agent at Plattsmouth, Nebr., and directing him to report for duty there Monday. He went to Plattsmouth Sunday, leaving his family here for the present, but expects to move there as soon as he can find a suitable home.

HENRY G. FREY.

Born on a farm near Plattsmouth, Mr. Frey goes back to his childhood home with this fine promotion. His first railway job was at Cedar Bluffs, not far from Plattsmouth, and he then served as agent at O'Neill, coming to Ord in 1918. The Frey family bought lots near the Ord park, built a beautiful home and have maintained the grounds around it as one of the show places of Ord for many years. Both of Mr. and Mrs. Frey's sons are following their father in the employ of the Burlington, Chester being in the division office at Lincoln and Ross being an extra man most recently stationed at Central City.

Successor to Mr. Frey in the Ord depot has not yet been named but a Mr. Kerr will have charge as relief agent until seniority of other Burlington employees who desire the position here has been investigated and a regular agent appointed.

Needless to say, Ord people are sorry to lose the Frey family. Mr. Frey has been active in civic affairs throughout his long residence here, and has been one of the most active members of the Ord Golf club.

Mrs. Hitchman Is Found Dead

Mrs. C. W. Hitchman, 52, former Ord woman, was found dead in an upstairs hallway of the Hitchman home in Lincoln last Wednesday, evidently as result of a sudden heart attack. Her son, Edwin, a sophomore at University of Nebraska, found his mother's body when he returned home from classes about 5:30 p. m.

Although Mrs. Hitchman had suffered with high blood pressure for some time and had been under a doctor's care she appeared to be in good health that morning when she prepared breakfast for Edwin and for another Ord boy, Allen Zikmund, who lives in the Hitchman home. Mr. Hitchman, an employee of the Federal Land Bank, had been at home the night before but left early for Red Cloud.

The Hitchman family moved to Lincoln from Ord about two years ago. Mrs. Hitchman was born in North Loup, the daughter of the Ballard family who also lived in Ord in early days.

Funeral services were held Friday at Wadlow's Mortuary in Lincoln and interment was in Memorial cemetery there. While living in Lincoln Mrs. Hitchman was an active worker in the Plymouth Congregational church and Chapter K. P. E. O. Besides her husband and son Edwin she is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary, who is a teacher in the Cambridge schools.

Biggest Pheasant Weighed Almost 3 1/2 Lbs.

Biggest cock pheasant entered in Verne Andersen's contest during the first week of the open season weighed 3 pounds 7 ounces and was shot by Robert Klima, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Klima, Jr., on the first day. Saturday a prize of 10 gallons of gasoline was awarded to Bobby. Above he and his cocker spaniel look on while Mr. Andersen weighs the bird.

Dozens of pheasants were entered that weighed 3 pounds and over but Klima's was the heaviest by 3 ounces. Another prize will be given Nov. 2 for the heaviest cock shot during the second week of the season, promises Mr. Andersen.

Pheasants Got a Break Sunday-- Too Much Wind

Fewer Hunters Out Due to Unpleasant Day and Birds Were Hard to Find.

The wind blew a gale Sunday and the temperature was unpleasantly warm. Clouds of dust filled the air all day. It was most unpleasant weather indeed, for everybody but the pheasants.

The start of the second week of Valley county's 14-day pheasant season saw fewer hunters in the field than the previous Sunday, due to the terrible weather. And those hunters who did venture out fared poorly for the most part, for birds had forsaken their customary corn field and pasture haunts to lie hidden in secluded canyons out of the wind. Once found, they were hard to get up and once up they were even harder to hit. Few hunters reported limit kills.

Saturday, Nov. 2 is the closing day of the open season for these parts, though certain western counties will enjoy a second 5-day season later in November.

Duck hunting has been unsatisfactory since the first few days of the open season, due to unseasonably warm weather. Most of the local ducks have been killed off or driven out of the country and no migrants have come in from the north. Canada, the Dakotas and Minnesota have had weather in the 60's the same as has Nebraska and few ducks have started south as yet.

Electric Storm Followed by Rain

After a day of high wind and dust clouds and an evening of thunder and lightning, unusual for late October, Valley county had a fine rain Sunday night and early Monday morning. Arcadia got 1 1/2 inches, North Loup 1.55 inches, Springdale an inch, and many other communities almost as much, but Ord and the territory west and north had to be contented with from 1-4 to 1-2 inch of moisture.

Nebraska City Trucker Is Fined on Two Counts

Saturday Charles A. Brown of Nebraska City was arrested upon complaint and information of John P. Misko, county attorney, and charged with operating a truck without a driver's license, also with not having proper registration numbers on his truck.

What brought about his arrest was a collision in which the truck and a car driven by an Ericson lady figured at the intersection of Highways 11 and 57 Friday evening, with minor damage to both. John L. Anderson, county judge, assessed a fine of $10 on both counts which Mr. Brown paid together with costs of $3.75, and was released.

Mrs. John L. Ward went to North Loup on the bus this morning to spend two days visiting relatives.

Fair Stockholders to Meet November 4

Stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society will hold their annual meeting at the district court room in Ord at 2:00 p. m., Monday, November 4, says an announcement from the officers, R. C. Clement, president, and C. C. Dale, secretary. The report of the 1940 fair and of the condition of the association with respect to finances will be given, and there probably will be an attempt made to decide future policy. It is important that all stockholders be present at this crucial meeting.

Holt County People Figure in Wreck at North Loup Sunday

Gerald DeGroff, Driver of Car, Sleeps at Wheel, Automobile Wrecked.

Five Holt county people suffered injuries and bruises at about 3:30 a. m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding went off the grade at the intersection of highways 11 and 56, a short distance north of North Loup. They were on their way to visit relatives at Cairo and to hunt pheasants when the accident occurred.

In the car were Gerald DeGroff, driver and owner, Mrs. DeGroff, their son Leland, 5 years old, and Mrs. Ralph Kelly and daughter, Georgene, 4 months old. They started early to reach their destination in time to hunt. Mr. DeGroff stated to George Round, sheriff, who investigated the accident, that he dozed at the wheel for a moment.

The car left the road on the west side, knocking over the famous Horace-Greeley road sign and going into the ditch. The right front end of the car was badly damaged and the axle was driven back under the car and the frame badly sprung. As the car did not turn over, the body was practically undamaged. It is a 1936 Plymouth and was brought to the C. A. Anderson garage Sunday. The Rapid Film Service man who hauls picture show films on the circuit, came along very shortly after the accident helped them out of the wreck and brought them to the Ord hospital. Dr. J. N. Round was called and administered first aid. He found that Mr. DeGroff was badly shaken up, and had a contusion of the nose and many bruises and abrasions.

Mrs. DeGroff had minor scratches and their son was uninjured. Mrs. Kelly had both bones of the left fore arm fractured, bruises over the body and head injuries. Her baby was severely shaken up and had a head injury. After receiving medical attention they all were able to go home Sunday afternoon. The DeGroffs live at Atkinson and the Kellys 30 miles north of Burwell in Holt county.

Elyria Priest's Number Drawn 1st in Draft Lottery

No. 158 Drawn from Bowl by Stimson, Announced by President Roosevelt.

No. 158, the number assigned in the Valley county draft district to Rev. Constantine John Szumski, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church at Elyria, was the first drawn from the huge goldfish bowl in Washington at noon Tuesday by Secretary of War Stimson, and Father Szumski thus becomes the first Valley county young man to become eligible for compulsory service.

The drawing was held in a huge auditorium in Washington and after an impressive 10-minute talk by President Roosevelt, the secretary of war stepped to the bowl in which were some 9,000 little blue capsules, each containing a number, and after being blindfolded drew No. 158 from the bowl.

The next number drawn by Treasury Secretary Morgenthau was No. 192, which in Valley county was assigned to Anthony Raphael Kokes, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kokes, who thus became Valley county's second eligible. However, since the draft registration young Kokes has enlisted in the medical corps of the United States naval reserve and is now on his way to New York City to complete his medical studies, after which he will be eligible for a naval commission.

In quick order, other numbers were drawn from the bowl by other federal officials, including the secretary of the navy, attorney general, secretary of commerce, and others.

No. 105, which in Valley county is Oscar John Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Austin, was the third drawn which is of interest here. Valley county has only 555 registrants, numbers 1 to 855, so numbers above 855 have no local application.

Draft officials say that in most draft districts the first 50 numbers drawn will provide enough eligibles for the first call to training camps late in November, so the Quiz here presents the first 50 in Valley county:

- No. 4—Jerry Rajewick, Serial No. 188. No. 5—Ralph A. Maslonka, Serial No. 120. No. 6—Jack Janssen, Serial No. 846.

Donald Malmsten Admits He Set Two Prairie Fires, Gets 30 Days, Fined.

Burwell—(Special)—Donald Malmsten pleaded guilty in county court Monday afternoon to setting two prairie fires the day before on the north side of the Ericson highway, on the E. V. Holloway and Mrs. Anton Pishna farms, and was fined $50 by County Judge B. A. Rose, also being sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail.

He is a son of C. J. Malmsten, former chain store executive who now operates a big ranch in the Cedar valley 25 miles northeast of Burwell, and who is reputed to be a millionaire.

A strong south wind made it difficult to extinguish the fires. Eight witnesses saw Malmsten and immediately started to fight the blazes. They were aided by farmers of the neighborhood and by the Burwell fire department. One fire burned over 15 acres and the other about one acre before they were put out.

Malmsten was defiant when questioned by Judge Rose as to why he started the fires. He didn't know, he said, but if the judge insisted he could "make up a reason." The judge didn't insist, but instead slapped on a jail sentence in addition to the fine.

H. Johnson Chosen Legion Chief, 1941 Convention to Ord

No. Loup Man New District Commander with Support of Ord Delegation.

Harry Johnson, who is serving now as commander of the North Loup post of the American Legion and also as county commander, received a new honor Wednesday when he was elected district commander at the annual district convention held in Dannebrog. The movement to elect Johnson was fostered by the Ord delegation which also put in a bid to have the 1941 district convention held in Ord and saw it accepted.

HARRY JOHNSON.

By his election as district commander, Mr. Johnson also becomes a member of the Legion's state executive council and Friday he went to Lincoln to attend his first meeting in this capacity.

Ord members attending the district Legion and Auxiliary meetings in Dannebrog were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Springer, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wiegard, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, James Gilbert, C. D. Wardrop, Mrs. E. O. Kull and Mrs. John Ward. A cousin of Mrs. Mortensen, Mrs. E. L. Stancliff, of California, accompanied the Mortensens to the meeting and later they took her to Grand Island to catch a train for the west. Mr. Mortensen took a train for Omaha on business.

The program proper was held at the Dannebrog high school auditorium both forenoon and afternoon. The noonday luncheon was served in the Lutheran church by the Sunshine circle. A joint banquet of the Legion and Auxiliary was held at Pleasure Isle at 6:30 p. m., served by the Nysted ladies' aid society and the day ended with a dance at the pavilion there.

Legionaires held their business session in the afternoon at the Columbian hall. At the Auxiliary afternoon meeting Mrs. C. J. Mortensen was one of the speakers, her topic being "National Defense."

—Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown of Grand Island came to Ord Sunday with his brother, J. A. Brown and family, who drove down for them. They will visit here a week or ten days.

Four Men Are Fined on Pheasant Charges

Burwell—(Special)—Four men were fined by Judge B. A. Rose in county court Monday morning for violations of the game laws. Wilford Haines was assessed $15 and costs of $3.20 for having in his possession one more hen pheasant than the law allows; Chester Alder was fined $5 and costs of $3.20 for hunting without a license; Ray Brame and R. F. Spatz, residents of Oklahoma, were fined $15 and costs of $3.20 each for hunting with Nebraska licenses, their guns being confiscated also. Hallet Pulliam, who was charged with hunting without a license, won release when Game Warden George R. Weldon, who made all the arrests, failed to prove to Judge Rose's satisfaction that Pulliam actually was hunting. The warden found Pulliam, his nephew, two guns and some pheasants in a car. The nephew, Kenneth Pishna, who had a license, claimed ownership of both guns and said he had killed the pheasants.

Johnson to Speak at G. O. P. Rally Saturday Night

Party's 1936 Nominee for the Attorney Generalship to Outline 1940 Issues.

Republicans of Valley county will close their 1940 campaign with a big rally in Ord Saturday evening, it is announced today by Gould Flagg, secretary of the county committee, and principal speaker will be Richard O. Johnson, prominent Lincoln attorney and nominee of the party in 1936 for attorney general of Nebraska, who will outline issues of the campaign.

If the weather remains pleasant the rally will be held outdoors, says Mr. Flagg, but if it is inclement a hall will be secured, probably the Ord opera house. There will be two or three other speakers besides Mr. Johnson, he promises.

First voters are particularly invited to be present to hear Mr. Johnson, who will devote special attention to reasons why young people should support the republican ticket.

Ravenna Wallops Ord Team, 31-0

The Chanticleers' hopes for an undefeated season came to an end in tragic fashion on the Bussell park field Friday evening when an unexpectedly strong Ravenna team ran riot to beat Ord 31 to 0. The Chanticleers played a listless game throughout.

The first quarter was scoreless but Ravenna scored once in the second period, once in the third and in the final quarter ran wild to push over three touchdowns. Only the final conversion was successful.

Ord threatened only once, early in the fourth quarter, but couldn't score. The Ord line, which had functioned well in previous games, was no match for Ravenna's veteran forward wall and Flagg had no chance to get passes away because he was rushed so hard at every attempt.

This week the Chanticleers have an open date but Coach Tolly will keep the boys hard at work in preparation for the Arcadia clash, on Nov. 8. Ravenna beat Arcadia only 14 to 0, so the odds are bound to favor Arcadia in this encounter. Clashes with Sargent and Loup City, both of which will be tough, will conclude the Ord season.

Mrs. Dale Is Chairman of County Roll Call

Mrs. C. C. Dale has accepted the chairmanship of the Red Cross roll call for the coming year, and has already begun the task of organizing her captains and workers for the drive.

Mrs. Dale has been a worker in all the drives of the past, but this is the first time she has accepted the responsibility of a chairmanship in the Red Cross work.

O'Sullivan Will Speak Saturday

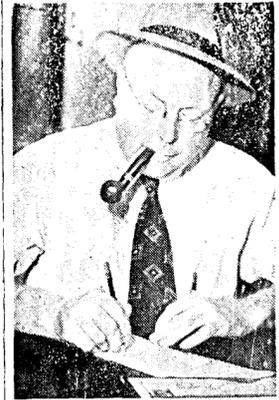

Eugene O'Sullivan, well known Omaha attorney and prominent democrat, will be the speaker at a democratic rally to be held in Ord Saturday evening, the democratic central committee has announced. The meeting will be held outdoors if weather permits.

—Dr. C. W. Weekes is in Omaha this week attending the state medical convention.

Nice Promotion to Main Line Burlington Station to Veteran Ord Agent.

After serving 22 years as station agent of the Burlington railway company in Ord, Henry G. Frey received notice Thursday that he had been appointed agent at Plattsmouth, Nebr., and directing him to report for duty there Monday. He went to Plattsmouth Sunday, leaving his family here for the present, but expects to move there as soon as he can find a suitable home.

HENRY G. FREY.

Born on a farm near Plattsmouth, Mr. Frey goes back to his childhood home with this fine promotion. His first railway job was at Cedar Bluffs, not far from Plattsmouth, and he then served as agent at O'Neill, coming to Ord in 1918. The Frey family bought lots near the Ord park, built a beautiful home and have maintained the grounds around it as one of the show places of Ord for many years. Both of Mr. and Mrs. Frey's sons are following their father in the employ of the Burlington, Chester being in the division office at Lincoln and Ross being an extra man most recently stationed at Central City.

Successor to Mr. Frey in the Ord depot has not yet been named but a Mr. Kerr will have charge as relief agent until seniority of other Burlington employees who desire the position here has been investigated and a regular agent appointed.

Needless to say, Ord people are sorry to lose the Frey family. Mr. Frey has been active in civic affairs throughout his long residence here, and has been one of the most active members of the Ord Golf club.

Mrs. Hitchman Is Found Dead

Mrs. C. W. Hitchman, 52, former Ord woman, was found dead in an upstairs hallway of the Hitchman home in Lincoln last Wednesday, evidently as result of a sudden heart attack. Her son, Edwin, a sophomore at University of Nebraska, found his mother's body when he returned home from classes about 5:30 p. m.

Although Mrs. Hitchman had suffered with high blood pressure for some time and had been under a doctor's care she appeared to be in good health that morning when she prepared breakfast for Edwin and for another Ord boy, Allen Zikmund, who lives in the Hitchman home. Mr. Hitchman, an employee of the Federal Land Bank, had been at home the night before but left early for Red Cloud.

The Hitchman family moved to Lincoln from Ord about two years ago. Mrs. Hitchman was born in North Loup, the daughter of the Ballard family who also lived in Ord in early days.

Funeral services were held Friday at Wadlow's Mortuary in Lincoln and interment was in Memorial cemetery there. While living in Lincoln Mrs. Hitchman was an active worker in the Plymouth Congregational church and Chapter K. P. E. O. Besides her husband and son Edwin she is survived by one daughter, Miss Mary, who is a teacher in the Cambridge schools.

J. W. Klanecky Goes to Sleep, Wrecks Car

Last night as he was returning from Hastings, J. W. Klanecky went to sleep as he was driving through the chalk hills and his car, a new Plymouth sedan bought only a week before, left the grade and crashed down a high bank into a clump of trees, suffering extensive damage.

Mr. Klanecky was unhurt and neither of his two passengers, Barney Larsen and a Keller boy, was seriously injured though both were bruised and scratched. The Anderson wrecker brought the car to Ord this morning.

Six farmers will share in the distribution of the prize money, their names to be announced tonight. A free lunch will be served following the speaking program.

This continuance of the case was granted so that attorneys for the municipalities affected may have time to prepare their opposition briefs.

Keefe, Lynn Henry Swett, Everett Galusha, Leo Roy Smith, Louie Tom Kezal, William Junior Eberle, Carl Leonard Willson, Thomas Brit Jensen and John Charley Pokorny.

Biggest Pheasant Weighed Almost 3 1/2 Lbs.

Biggest cock pheasant entered in Verne Andersen's contest during the first week of the open season weighed 3 pounds 7 ounces and was shot by Robert Klima, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Klima, Jr., on the first day. Saturday a prize of 10 gallons of gasoline was awarded to Bobby. Above he and his cocker spaniel look on while Mr. Andersen weighs the bird.

Dozens of pheasants were entered that weighed 3 pounds and over but Klima's was the heaviest by 3 ounces. Another prize will be given Nov. 2 for the heaviest cock shot during the second week of the season, promises Mr. Andersen.

Pheasants Got a Break Sunday-- Too Much Wind

Fewer Hunters Out Due to Unpleasant Day and Birds Were Hard to Find.

The wind blew a gale Sunday and the temperature was unpleasantly warm. Clouds of dust filled the air all day. It was most unpleasant weather indeed, for everybody but the pheasants.

The start of the second week of Valley county's 14-day pheasant season saw fewer hunters in the field than the previous Sunday, due to the terrible weather. And those hunters who did venture out fared poorly for the most part, for birds had forsaken their customary corn field and pasture haunts to lie hidden in secluded canyons out of the wind. Once found, they were hard to get up and once up they were even harder to hit. Few hunters reported limit kills.

Saturday, Nov. 2 is the closing day of the open season for these parts, though certain western counties will enjoy a second 5-day season later in November.

Duck hunting has been unsatisfactory since the first few days of the open season, due to unseasonably warm weather. Most of the local ducks have been killed off or driven out of the country and no migrants have come in from the north. Canada, the Dakotas and Minnesota have had weather in the 60's the same as has Nebraska and few ducks have started south as yet.

Electric Storm Followed by Rain

After a day of high wind and dust clouds and an evening of thunder and lightning, unusual for late October, Valley county had a fine rain Sunday night and early Monday morning. Arcadia got 1 1/2 inches, North Loup 1.35 inches, Springdale an inch, and many other communities almost as much, but Ord and the territory west and north had to be contented with from 1-4 to 1-2 inch of moisture.

Nebraska City Trucker Is Fined on Two Counts

Saturday Charles A. Brown of Nebraska City was arrested upon complaint and information of John P. Misko, county attorney, and charged with operating a truck without a driver's license, also with not having proper registration numbers on his truck.

What brought about his arrest was a collision in which the truck and a car driven by an Ericson lady figured at the intersection of Highways 11 and 57 Friday evening, with minor damage to both. John L. Anderson, county judge, assessed a fine of $10 on both counts which Mr. Brown paid together with costs of $3.75, and was released.

Peace, Preparedness and Prosperity Will Keep America Free

At the General Election Tuesday, Nov. 5th, you will have a chance to vote Against Dictatorship and For Freedom, Peace and Tolerance as we know them

For Your Own Sake and the Sake of Your Children, Elect

WENDELL L. WILLKIE

and all Other Candidates of the REPUBLICAN PARTY

Whether you are a Democrat or Republican we urge you to Cast Your Vote For WILLKIE

He is FOR:

AMERICA, THE LAND OF OPPORTUNITY . . . not for the few, but for the many. Willkie supports minimum wage laws, short working hours and collective bargaining. More important still, he offers the kind of leadership that will bring about prosperity, which alone can further increase the gains of labor and distribute them among millions now jobless.

WORK, SACRIFICE, ACHIEVEMENT . . . Willing people everywhere have said to Willkie: "Put us to work!" "Ask more of us!" If he is elected, he will put this volunteer spirit in harness . . . because he knows everybody must pitch in if we are to become a nation strong in peace and armed for defense. In this patriotic effort we help ourselves while helping others.

A UNITED NATION — AT PEACE WITH ITSELF . . . He wants co-operation between government and business; a new industrial companionship between capital and labor, farmer and white-collar worker, soldier and civilian. He believes that true democracy—with every man helping to make it work—can outdistance the dictatorships. But to be strong, we must have hard-hitting teamwork.

ADEQUATE DEFENSE . . . He believes national defense demands immediate building of a stronger army, navy and air force, the know-how and driving power to put them, not on paper, but in active service on land and sea, and in the air.

A REAL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION . . . He contends that an honest budget and a good business administration will give the people a chance to understand and control the vast sums of money that Washington is spending.

He believes in making the wheels of industry hum, to produce and distribute the things we need instead of trying to spend our way out of hard times.

INDIVIDUAL LIBERTY . . . He maintains that we can meet the present crisis without loss of our fundamental liberties; we must retain freedom of religion, the right to speak our minds, the right to choose the kind of job we want. He is convinced that free men are the strongest and the natural way of life is the self-governing way.

He is AGAINST:

WAR . . . Like most Americans, he knows that we have nothing to gain from any war and much to lose. He believes that the first duty of a President is to do everything he can to preserve peace. But he realizes that the choice may not be ours. He believes that military strength, and that quickly, is our best guarantee of peace.

A THIRD TERM FOR ANY PRESIDENT . . . He holds that no man is indispensable to America . . . that none has the right to ask for greater public confidence than was given the founders of our country, Washington and Jefferson. The danger of abandoning such a tradition far outweighs any advantage that could possibly come from a third term.

IRRESPONSIBLE EXPERIMENTS AND REFORMS . . . These, he says, restrict the chances of the little businessman. They deny to labor the rich fruits of an expanding economy.

Such experiments and reforms, like those of Blum's Popular Front in France, weaken our system, expose us to economic and military aggressors, encourage class distinctions and hatreds.

HITLERISM . . . Like all true Americans, Willkie despises Hitlerism. He would defeat the tyranny of Hitler, not by loose talk or idle threats, but by outdistancing him in industry, in the production not only of armaments, but of more comforts and conveniences for everybody.

INTOLERANCE . . . He distrusts the high-pressure salesmen of the New Deal. He denounces efforts to stir up class hatred, jealousy, class and racial distinction, bitterness and confusion. He opposes those who preach that one economic group is preying on another, that capital hates labor and labor capital, that producers cheat consumers, that all businessmen are crooks.

THE NEW DEAL BELIEF IN SCARCITY AND DEBT . . . There is something wrong, he says, with a philosophy of government which, after spending 60 billions, still leaves 9 million unemployed and fewer opportunities. He denies the New Deal theory that wealth is limited and cannot be increased, hence it must be divided. This doctrine, instead of distributing wealth, distributes poverty.

Vote REPUBLICAN this year, right down the line. If the New Deal should be returned to power it is important that the Republican minority in House and Senate be increased as much as possible so that the 2-party system under which the United States grew great may be preserved; if, as we hope and pray, Wendell Willkie is elected President, he will need a Congress pledged to work with him. Regardless of which Party is in authority nationally, Defense is going to make state offices more important than ever before. Vote for Republicans for state office.

Doyle Praised by a Lincoln Paper

The State Digest of Lincoln has high praise for State Senator John F. Doyle of Greeley.

Here is what the Lincoln paper had to say in its October 14 edition:

"The Digest feels it is its duty to call the attention of the voters of District No. 20—Wheeler, Valley, Greeley and Howard counties to the candidacy of Senator John F. Doyle, who is a candidate from that district.

"We have had plenty of opportunity to observe Doyle at work in the Legislature. No one acquainted with his work will deny that he is forceful, purposeful and a very valuable member of that body. Senator Doyle has served in several sessions. Anyone who has followed his record will admit that he has grown and matured and that he is definitely a leader.

"Senator Doyle was a member of the powerful committee Banking-Commerce and Insurance—also of the committee on Labor and Public Welfare."

"He has rendered valuable and constructive service in all. He helps the confidence of the other members of the Legislature. He ranks high with all those who have watched his work in the last session. He has ably and conscientiously represented his district and fully protected the interests of his constituents.

"Jack has a fine personality and is intensely human; his heart beats in sympathy with all those in need. In him they have a courageous and sympathetic defender.

"Being a comparatively modest man, perhaps the people of district No. 29 are not fully acquainted with his ability and resourcefulness and that is why we are calling his candidacy to their attention.

"It has been our privilege to know him well, he wears well, he is clean, able and dependable. He is endowed with a liberal amount of common sense and the ability to work harmoniously with others. His broad legislative experience will bring seasoned experience to his deliberation.

"And so, with the friendliest of spirit and meaning only to be helpful, we advise our readers to give serious consideration to the candidacy of John F. Doyle."

—The Ord post office has been moved for a long time now, and at the time of moving a large notice was printed on the bulletin board within reading distance of the door. In addition, boards were nailed over the slots beside the door to prevent people from mailing letters in the wrong place. Believe it or not, these boards were torn off, and quite a number of letters have been mailed there. Last week a patron mailed one there, realized his mistake and then went over to the new post office and told them about it.

Newton Gaines Is Burwell Speaker

"Good citizenship consists in having something to do and doing it well," Newton Gaines, of the extension department of the University of Nebraska declared in an address given in the school auditorium Monday evening under the sponsorship of the Woman's club. Mr. Gaines was introduced by Mrs. Bess Moore, who is chairman of the committee in charge of the citizenship program.

Mr. Gaines advised the men present to show more appreciation for their wives. "If she burns the biscuits," he admonished them to eat them and tell their wives, "They are well done." He declared that a man would go crazy if he were compelled to do the endless round of housework which is the work of every wife.

The speaker pointed out that Hitler gained control of the youth of Germany by approaching them when they were ragged and hungry and promising them something better if they would do as he told them to do. "Because no one offered them anything else," he said "they followed him into one of the cruellest attacks upon civilization." He declared that democracy offered the youths of its land a job to do with opportunities and responsibilities.

The home, the school and the church are the foundations of democracy, according to Mr. Gaines. Of these he believes that religion is the factor most likely to be neglected. "Parents should show their children that they have confidence in the church as an institution by attending a service at least once in a while," he opined. He said that if people continue to neglect the churches that in another fifty years there would be none.

Before Mr. Gaines spoke the school band played several selections. Mr. and Mrs. Struve sang patriotic solos and Mrs. Little Mickel delivered a tribute to the flag. After the address the woman's chorus led by Mrs. Langstrom sang "God Bless America." Rev. Wylie pronounced the invocation and the benediction.

DON'T BELIEVE 'WHISPERS.'

A "whispering campaign" is an ugly thing. Frequently in election years, irresponsible statements about worthy candidates will be started, and will pass from person to person as truth, when in point of fact they are the most reprehensible lies.

The present campaign, national, state and local, probably has seen more of this kind of stuff going on than any campaign in fifty years.

Probably the most vicious "whisper" making the rounds claims that Wendell L. Wilkie, because his ancestry is Germanic, is pro-Hitler, and that if elected he will withdraw all help to Great Britain. Such a claim is so silly that it should not need denial, but so strongly does popular sentiment favor the Allies that it appears some people are going to be influenced against Mr. Wilkie by this falsehood.

There is no evidence to support a charge that Mr. Wilkie is not the most patriotic kind of an American citizen. To claim he is a "German" instead of an American simply because his ancestors came from Germany would be the same as claiming that H. B. Van Decar, of Ord, is a "Hollander" because his people came originally from that country, or that Charles Bals is a "Belgian" because he came from Belgium, or that J. G. Hastings is "Irish" because his father was born in Ireland, or that Archie Geweke, Wm. Schauer, Rudolph Plate or hundreds of other good Valley county citizens are "German" when they are as patriotic Americans as any people who live in this great nation.

Wendell Wilkie was born in the United States, his parents were born in the United States, his grandfather came to the United States from Germany almost a hundred years ago because he wanted to have the civil, political and religious freedom of a democracy, the motives that actuated the ancestors of every one of us in coming here from Europe. None of us, unless it be the Indian, can claim to be any more of an American than can Wendell Wilkie, for all of us stemmed originally from Germany, England, France, Ireland, Scotland, the Scandinavian countries or other European nations.

Mr. Wilkie has said publicly that he favors giving "all aid short of war" to Great Britain, and this is the identical statement made by his opponent. To believe "whispers" that Wilkie is pro-Nazi is foolish and people who circulate such rumors should be punished by the force of public opinion.

Here in Valley county can be noted another "whispering campaign," directed against a worthy Valley county candidate for state office, Joe Knezacek. From person to person is being passed the statement that Mr. Knezacek is "behind" the proposal to change the system of county government. Questioned as to his stand on this issue, Mr. Knezacek says he has never told anyone he favors such a change and that in fact he has been so busy with his campaign that he hasn't had a chance to study the matter enough so he knows yet how he himself will vote on the proposal for the change.

In a campaign year when you hear a "whisper" making the rounds that might hurt one candidate or help another you may always feel sure that the "whisper" is an outright lie that cannot stand the acid test of publication and honest discussion.

Don't be influenced by "whispers" regardless of who circulates them or what they concern.

FOR HONEST GOVERNMENT.

Last week Joseph S. Wishart, Nebraska republican party treasurer, listed contributions totaling $73,175.54 in a campaign financial report filed with the Lancaster county clerk. The report included the names of all contributors and covered 114 pages.

At the same time Luther Bouhan, treasurer of the democratic state committee filed with the secretary of state a report showing that the committee had received contributions amounting to $3,521 and disbursed $3,462 between Aug. 1, and Oct. 20.

Immediately Democratic National Committeeman James C. Quigley of Valentine made the charge that there was a movement afoot among wealthy men of Nebraska and other states to "buy the presidency for Wendell Wilkie." He further claimed that $23,000 had been raised by wealthy men of Omaha.

Kenneth Wherry, republican state chairman, then declared that the group of Omaha men who raised the fund for Wendell Wilkie did so as "an absolutely independent and volunteer organization," which "has as many democrats as republicans in its membership."

One can hardly blame Mr. Quigley for feeling hurt to learn that so many outstanding citizens of Omaha and of Nebraska are willing and glad to contribute to the campaign of Mr. Wilkie, when so few are willing to help out with the expenses of the third term candidate.

He must not overlook the fact that the new deal ticket is getting far more than $73,000 to boost their campaign in the form of intangibles. Because of the fact that they are "intangible" it is impossible to list the exact amount of financial help the new deal ticket is receiving, but it is enormous and manifestly unfair.

At about the same time Terry Carpenter, democratic gubernatorial nominee, charged that Mace Brown, Omaha labor leader supporting Dwight Griswold, the republican nominee, attempted to misrepresent Carpenter to the Omaha labor group.

Now the campaign expense account released by Mr. Carpenter is under fire in the office of Attorney General Johnson, because of the fact that it had listed a number of contributions from corporations, in particular a number of brewing companies, in direct conflict with the Hatch bill.

The fact that Nebraskans, republicans and democrats alike, were willing to contribute more than 20 times as much to the republican cause as did the few who gave their pittances to the new deal ticket is without precedent. They gave freely, without fear of punishment or hope of reward, in a confident expectation of a better future for democracy under Wendell Wilkie.

Today in Nebraska, and throughout the United States, petty office holders are traveling over the state at state expense, supposedly about the business of their offices, but in reality spending more time politically than they are officially. Today every newspaper office in the nation is being flooded with franked democratic propaganda. It is this that makes it necessary for honest citizens to spend money freely in behalf of honest government.

AN IMPORTANT JOB.

Perhaps the most important job in the state of Nebraska, a job that calls for deep thinking, mature judgment and dignity at all times, is that of member of the unicameral legislature. It is especially important because the unicameral system is on trial in Nebraska. If and when it succeeds here it will be tried elsewhere.

The unicameral in the past has not been the success it should have been, and this was because of the type of men of which it has been composed. We must not forget that this is the supreme lawmaking body of the state, in fact, it is the only lawmaking body. It has but 43 members, and those 43 men should be the best that we can elect.

Good men we have in abundance, but good is not enough. We must have the best. In the person of J. T. Knezacek of Ord the people of this district have such a man, a man whose character is above reproach, whose knowledge of the needs of his constituents is profound, a man who will fill the office of senator with dignity.

Knezacek represents no clique or class. In all his dealings he has been more than fair. He is the type of man that the people of this district and the state of Nebraska need in the unicameral in the difficult days that lie ahead.

He is essentially a business man, and by the use of good business methods over a period of years he has managed to accumulate a fair share of this world's goods, which he has invested in Valley county real estate. This county has been his home for more than a quarter of a century, and whatever he does in the unicameral will affect him just as it does his friends and neighbors.

J. T. Knezacek is a modest man, but he is not for sale at any price. Counting politicians plan to buy legislators every time the legislature convenes. Like the sugar coated pill, they hide their favorite measures in a setting of high-sounding and meaningless phrases. Let us send a man with the intellect to see through the maze of words and understand what lies behind them.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

Charles Mulrain, formerly a ball player in Kansas but now in Chicago and on relief, admitted throwing frozen eggs which struck and injured Mr. Wilkie and struck and damaged the dress Mrs. Wilkie wore when they were on their way to board their train after Mr. Wilkie had delivered an address in Chicago. After his arrest Mr. Mulrain admitted the above facts and said he didn't know why he did it and that he was sorry from the bottom of his heart. He also said that he had been drinking and didn't know what he was doing. No doubt his hoodlum act will make many votes for Wilkie. There is little excuse for any man who spends his earnings for booze asking for relief. This great government should of course see that nobody starves, but people who work hard and support themselves should not be taxed so that others can have whiskey or even beer. These are not necessities.

Those people, and there are a good many of them, who seldom pay more than 3 months subscription at a time and who nearly always forget to come in or send their renewal until we take their name off the list, have no reason to feel hurt when their paper is stopped. We always send a post card notice when the time will expire, though the date is on every issue right after the subscriber's name. When we know by past experiences that we might continue to send notices forever with no chance of getting results, it seems foolish to do more than send the first notice, and then stop the paper. The subscriber's card in our files gives the history of past performances of the subscriber, so we know what is the best thing for us to do.

We would like to print every item of news that happens in the Ord trade territory where this newspaper circulates, but that is impossible, for one reason only, because you don't tell us about it. We do tell several hundred news items each week, but we don't hear about all of them. People make trips, but they go and come home by automobile. If they would phone us and tell us they would print it. The same is true of any item of news. It is not news a week or several weeks after it happens. We want it when it is news. If it happens after the paper is out and before noon of Wednesday, the next week, call 30 and tell us. But don't delay the phone call. Tell us as soon as possible after the news happens. We can use only a limited amount as late as Wednesday noon but if it happens that late and is real important we want it. It wouldn't be news the next week.

I wouldn't, if I could, tell anyone how to vote next Tuesday, but I do want to urge everyone who reads this to be sure and go to the polls and vote, vote as you think will be best for the nation, the state, the county and yourself, now and in the future. The future is before us and that must be taken into consideration.

Something Different

I wonder which Ord milk man will be first to buy covered hipshields for his milk bottles? If there has been a way invented to keep germs from being poured into glasses with the milk that is more efficient than one of these little petticoats, I can't think of it. And it will save me being all worn down with washing off the tops of the bottles and wiping them, as I usually do.

The Ord radio public would be grateful for a good radio going over by some expert in static finding, don't you think? Do you remember that fine campaign conducted by George Allen a few years ago? He wormed out a lot of unlikely static-makers and improved the quality of radio reception in Ord about fifty percent.

Now that winter is setting in, and long evenings of radiating stretch ahead of us pleasantly (after the election) I wish we could have another interference-chaser, Mr. Allen. Though I have an idea it is asking quite a lot of you, Mr. Allen.

Hand me that stamp, folks. Pull up that soapbox, I may need it too. I want to do some campaigning, please don't go away.

I find so many things the matter with Mr. Roosevelt and his campaign. He seems to feel that the end, being elected a third time, justifies any means he can take. So he hooks up with every smelly machine in American politics today. It does not seem to matter at all how many times they have been exposed as ballot-stuffers, or as corrupt election officials. It does not seem to matter at all what means he uses. . . . Mr. Roosevelt knows it would be good for us to have him in office again and he intends to get there by hook or crook. He treats us like a doctor giving medicine (foregoing aid, doing a parent nothing a child, but he has made up his mind we are not smart enough to know what is good for us, but he has and is going to pursue his course regardless of our childish wishes. Papa knows best.

So he had himself crammed down democratic throats at the convention and now he is trying to cram himself down the throats of all his "frands."

That he has at last found time to make five democratic campaign speeches is certain evidence that he is really worried about the sincere efforts of his opponent, Mr. Wilkie. So Mr. Roosevelt has had to desist from his heavy labors such as choosing politicians for key defense positions, inspecting the munitions plants that do not need inspection but only a chance to work, converting voluble war-hysterics like Dorothy Thompson to his war party, trying to keep Ambassador Joseph Kennedy in London until after the election so that he cannot reveal to us exactly how far Roosevelt has promised the British to go unbeknownst to Papa Roosevelt's children, etc., etc., etc. And Papa's syrupy eastern accent is now heard over the air in lofty oratorical flights about wah, the lababing mahh, etc.

Isn't it time we had again a president who lets us know all he is doing and exactly what he is doing? Isn't it time we had a president who says what he means and means what he says? Isn't it time to elect a man who has actually

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

If I Were a Dictator. If I were a dictator I'd, - - - oh I wouldn't either if I were a dictator. But if I were a lawmaker in the United States, I'd vote for a law, if I had a chance, that would provide a penalty to those persons who do not vote at our government elections.

There are many good reasons why we should all go and vote at our governmental elections; there are many reasons why we shouldn't. In the first place, voting for our leaders, is a privilege granted to very few of the earth's people today, and we, having that privilege, should be very thankful. We should show our appreciation by exercising that favor granted us by some streak of luck or intelligence, I don't know which.

Not only was this fact true a year ago, but since the European war has started, there have been many voting democracies fallen by the wayside, and their people vote no more.

Another reason why we should vote at this election is the fact that this might be the last time we will ever have a chance to vote for a leader. If that should be the case, all the rest of our lives we could say, "I voted in the last election held in the United States, that land where democracy lived the longest."

Many might scoff at this last paragraph, but those same people would have laughed too, had the collapse of France been predicted a year ago. United States might not be so hard a nut to crack were England whipped and their navy fallen into the Axis hands; were we being attacked from the east by the Axis, and Japan from the west. Anything that happens now days, seems, and who knows, this may be our last chance to vote. The people of the conquered countries of the Axis powers, no not even the German people themselves, have voting privileges like we have here.

Another reason why we should vote is the fact that any one vote might decide the election. This is not likely in state and national results, but in my many years of voting, I have known of any number of instances where local results would have been different had I not voted.

At a school board election a few years ago, Alvin Barnhart did not vote. He was busy and thought, "Shucks, my vote will not matter anyway." It would have mattered for his own candidate was defeated by one vote, and had Alvin and his wife voted, they would have changed the results. Alvin felt mean about that ever since.

Ed Lee was defeated for supervisor by a very few votes. A threshing crew, all of whom professed to favor Ed, would not stop their machine long enough to vote, thinking that a few minutes threshing more important than the running of our government. This one crew would have changed the results.

Another important reason why we should vote is that invariably, where a big percent of the population votes they have better government officials and better management in all sections where a small group go to the polls. There is safety in numbers in politics.

All places such as where Pedergast, Hagues, Huey Longs, Kelly-Nash's and the like commit such graft and give poor government operation, places where the great majorities do not vote, where ballots are tampered and bought, where the rank and file stay at home, simply saying, "Ah, it won't do any good anyway."

I heard a man the other day say, laughing at the time, "Now, I'm not going to vote. What good would it do, and I'd have to drive fifty miles to do it."

That's the very thing the grafters of our public purse, the grafters of our tax money that we have such a heck of a time paying, want the people to do. The more people who stay away from the polls, the easier it is for them and their done a little lababing, not one who has been repudiated by labor's headman, John L. Lewis, himself? Isn't it time we had a president who could talk in terms of money smaller than billions? A man who has sweat for a dollar?

Mr. Roosevelt talks and talks about the American way of life. But he was raised an aristocrat and continues to live as one, and all his theories are for others, never for himself. In typical aristocrat fashion, he would regulate all those less fortunate than himself, whether they like it or not. "Papa knows best."

Elect Papa Roosevelt again, folks. Then you won't have to worry about anything. And it won't make any difference if you do. . . . Because he'll do what he pleases. Just as he has done for two terms already. How dare you have any ideas, or know what you want? Mr. Roosevelt will let you think for you, you don't have to do a thing. Except enough to vote for him.

After your little x is in place, you can relax until it is time for the next little x, four years later. Papa will think for you, plan for you, get you into war, get you into debt, tell you when to raise pigs, when to bury those same pigs, what hours your help can work, what hours you can work, how much the bank can loan you, what is wrong with your house, how many pot-lids you should have in the cupboard.

Papa knows best! Don't think for yourself or form any opinions, Papa Roosevelt will tell you what to think. And right now he thinks you should vote for him.

QUIZ FORUM

Voters, It's Up to You. To the Editor of the Quiz: For several months we have been going through our political battle. Each side has been trying to place their plans in the best light before the public. Now it is up to our citizens to make their decision. My memory runs back to 1860 and to that campaign. Nothing was too vile in that period to call Mr. Lincoln. There was really more bitterness than I recall in any of our elections since and owing to a split democratic party was Mr. Lincoln elected.

I believe our country is in more danger today than it was then. There are great problems before us in this election and it is up to us voters to say what our future will be.

Will you go to the polls and vote for what you believe to be the best interests of our country, our state and our nation, or will you be among those who remain at home on election day on some flimsy pretext and then when the results are out what they wish will whine and say our country is going Bolshevick, and yet take no effort to improve what may be a bad condition? Lincoln said that this is a government of and by the people and it is only when each and all do their duty we get the best results. I hold that the voter is not a good citizen who does not use his privilege of voting and ought to be disfranchised unless he can show a good reason as would excuse him from jury service.

I believe next Tuesday's election will be a great turning point in our history. In years to come do you want to look back and recall you did what you could to maintain our present system, or regret always you did not?

Nebraska expects every citizen to do his or her duty. Only by fighting can democracy as we know it, survive. Voters, get out for those you believe are best fitted to serve you. Let the nation know that Nebraska was not asleep at the switch.

W. A. ANDERSON. Favors New Deal. To the Editor of The Quiz: Since the first World War big business has been taking a bigger toll from the farmer and industrial laborer until the latter part of 1932 when it was taking practically all agriculture made. When they found out how easy it was to profiteer during the war they kept up the practice. Millionaire senators with the aid of corporation lawyers and lobbyists were running our government, while the industrial laborer had his savings invested in bonds and stocks.

Then when the 1929 crash came he was compelled to dispose of them, often getting only 20 cents on a dollar, besides losing his job. Farmers, by the thousands in every state, lost their farms and homes.

In August 1932 farmers sold fat hogs at $1.85 per hundred, and wheat was 25 cents per bushel. Banks were closing in every town. It was not safe to travel on the highways after dark as numerous robberies had occurred all over the country because many hungry and unemployed people had turned to robbery.

The country was headed for a revolution. In the fall of 1932 a great change had occurred because many officials that were responsible for this misery had been put out of office and replaced by honest law makers headed by a president that is a true friend of the common class of people. No one will lose money that he has on deposit at the bank now because of the bank guarantee law.

Grain gamblers are forbidden to lower the price of grain more than a few cents a day, but before the New Deal they were allowed to knock the bottom out of grain prices in one day.

The Soil Conservation Program, a life saver for the farmer, reduced interest on farm loans, grain loans on farm-stored grain and crop insurance against loss of crops from any cause, have been of great value to agriculture.

Since the reform in the U. S. Supreme Court, laws can be passed in favor of the common class of people without being annulled. When the New Deal started the U. S. Supreme Court always decided in favor of the money bags. Rural Electrification has been promoted. Thousands of farmers are obtaining cheap electricity on their farms and many new power lines are being built.

Willkie has promised the corporations that he will not interfere with their businesses, give them a free hand and reduce their taxes. He has promised to stop spending government money, and at the same time retain the Soil Conservation Program. Where he would get the money he does not say. We hear a lot of complaint from manufacturers about restricted production of farm crops, these very same men have been practicing restricted production in their factories for over 50 years in order to hold the price up. It seems to be working O. K. for them.

Roosevelt made these corporations behave and pay their just share of taxes. There is a good deal said in this campaign about a third term as though it was a crime for a president to run for a third term. JOSEPH ROUSEK

The postmaster had been notified that, beginning with Nov. 3, the mail route up Mira Valley would start from Ord instead of from North Loup, as it had been doing.

The Methodist church at Vinton was dedicated Sunday, Oct. 26. Rev. George O. Ferguson, the local minister preaching the dedicatory service. Enough money was raised to finish paying for the church and some was left over for operating expenses.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed all of A. H. Burdick's stables and hay stacks, but, fortunately for him, the house was saved.

The question of whether women should be admitted into the general conference of the Methodist church was to be voted on Nov. 19, and a notice thereof was printed in the Quiz.

The Quiz had installed water motor power to run its presses. It was efficient, but it was found in time that the cost was too great for the power developed.

William C. Wentworth and Mrs. Anna Canfield were married Oct. 29 by Rev. James Leonard.

Twenty six years ago Mr. Clark, who had been in the harness and shoe repair business, sold his harness shop and took the agency for Buick cars. Two years later he went into the garage business and except for eight months when John Davis bought him out and then sold to him again has been in the business continuously. Mr. Clark is retiring because his health has not been very good and doctors advised him to get out of the garage. His plans are indefinite at present. Mr. Nelson has been agent for the McGuire Motor company of Grand Island and is not new in the car business. He is installing a Ford laboratory test machine and an air pressure grease machine beside other new equipment.

Many others called to pay their respects in the afternoon. A large wedding cake was at the Tanagerman bakery in Grand Island was a part of the dinner. The table and house were full of many beautiful flowers, most of them gifts of friends. Married at the bride's home, the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Houtby, on upper Davis Creek, by the groom's father, Joe Clark, who was then justice of the peace, their married life began on a farm on Davis Creek. In 1906 they moved to North Loup where Mr. Clark was manager of the North Loup Independent telephone company for a year. Then he bought the harness and shoe shop and operated that till twenty-six years ago when he went into the North Loup garage. For twenty-seven years their home has been in the same place, just off of main street, and the yard and Mrs. Clark's cheerful geraniums in her shining windows have made many a heart brighter. Mr. and Mrs. Clark have three sons, Clifton and Merlyn of North Loup and Charles who is with the conservation office at Lincoln and one daughter, Nettie who is principal of the junior high school of the Madison, Nebr., schools. All were present for the celebration Saturday. Five people who were at the wedding 45 years ago were also there Saturday. They were E. T. and L. J. Miller, Mrs. H. L. Jeffries and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Word came Friday of the death of Orel VanHorn, formerly of North Loup, but for the past twenty-five years in Florida. For many years he and his brother Jay, owned the VanHorn ranch and specialized in white faced cattle. The family left here because of Mr. VanHorn's health. Rotarians to Midvale, Enjoyed Fried Chicken

The first such supper attended was at the Davis Creek school house and on Monday evening Rotarians and their wives went to Midvale church where a fried chicken supper and bazaar sponsored by the church ladies was in progress.

The supper was especially delicious, say the Rotarians, and the talk on the purpose of Rotary International by Dr. George A. ## SOY BEAN MEAL.

We are expecting two more carloads on track the last of the week. Get your supply right off the car.

There has been a very marked increase in the price of Soy Bean Meal and Cotton Cake the past two weeks and it is possible that we will see further advances soon.

Archer's 44% Soy Bean Meal fed cattle from the North Platte Station again proved the value of this new process Soy Bean Meal. Those fed the 44% sold 25c per cwt. higher than those fed the 41% and 50c per cwt. higher than those fed Cotton Cake. In all the tests that we have been able to get the report on, the 41% fed cattle always show the most gain. Why buy an inferior feed when you can get the best at nearly the same money.

HAY.

We have secured some good Elkhorn Valley Hay that we can deliver to your farm for from $9.00 to $12.00 per ton.

The $12.00 hay is strictly No. 1 hay and best in the Elkhorn valley. The $11.00 hay is about as good feeding hay but not quite as good color. The $9.00 hay is good feeding hay but a little coarse and a little sweet clover in it.

If you need hay see us at once. The hay men up in that valley expect to see hay advance $2.00 per ton as soon as winter sets in.

GRAINS.

We have a very attractive price on Rye; if you can use some good feeding rye be sure to get a load of this good rye at the low price we are asking.
