Prizes Awarded to 8 in Chamber's 1st P-F-L Contest

Clayton Noll and Ed Schudel Get $12.50 Awards; 55 Attended Meeting.

Cash prizes totaling $50 were awarded to eight Valley county farmers in the Ord chamber of commerce's first annual Pasture-Forage-Livestock contest, the checks being handed to winners by President C. J. Mortensen after a P-F-L clinic held in the Masonic hall last Wednesday evening under auspices of the Valley county farm bureau.

There were two divisions of the contest, one for irrigated and one for dry land farms. In the irrigated division 1st prize of $12.50 went to Clayton Noll, 2nd prize of $7.50 to Ed Timmerman, and 3rd prize of $5.00 was divided between Merrill Flynn and George Jensen. In the dry land division Ed Schudel won 1st, Clare Clement, 2nd, and 3rd was divided between Clifford Goff and Rudolph Kokes, the prizes being similar in amount to those in the irrigated division.

To win first in the irrigated division Mr. Noll made splendid use of temporary pastures such as rye and sudan; planted a fine permanent pasture to timothy, redtop and clover; established new seedlings of brome grass and alfalfa mixture; was able to put up 20 tons of hay off his permanent pasture and put up 160 tons of silage, much alfalfa and other hay. He aims to have enough pasture so his dairy herd can quickly get as much feed as they need. He feeds very little grain but in winter uses silage as supplemental feed. Wednesday evening he gave a talk on "My Pasture Program."

Ed Timmerman, second prize winner in this department, established a new alfalfa and brome pasture this season, bordering the land so he can irrigate the pasture, and though it was seeded only in April he was able to use it this summer. He also used sweet clover in a new seeding for pasture. Third prize was divided between Merrill Flynn and George Jensen principally for their fine use of temporary pastures.

This was a difficult season for competitors in the dry-land division but Ed Schudel's award was based on the fact that he made good use of drought resistant crops. He planted no corn but instead used grain and forage sorghums, small grains and temporary pastures, and will have an ample supply of winter feed for a fairly heavy herd of livestock. Second and third prize winners, Clare Clement, Clifford Goff and Rudolph Kokes, followed somewhat similar programs, going in strongly for the forage crops and proving their value in a season with little rainfall.

Speakers at the meeting, in addition to Mr. Noll, included Dr. S. W. Alford, veterinarian at the U. of N. college of agriculture, who talked on "What's new in Vaccines"; Gilbert Webster, also from the college, who discussed new grass crops being tried out there, and W. W. Derrick, of the college, who discussed the protein value of different feeds. George Round, jr., extension editor, and E. B. Caterson, district AAA supervisor, were present but did not speak. C. C. Dale presided at the meeting.

At the conclusion of the program a lunch was served by Chamber of Commerce members.

Orla Summers Fatally Hurt

Arvadia—(Special)—At 3:30 a. m. Tuesday in a Loup City hospital died Orla Summers, operator of the Valley county road maintenance here, who was fatally hurt Friday night when his car overturned on the road between Loup City and here. His skull was fractured and he suffered other injuries. In the car with Summers were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Titterton, also of this village. The former received hardly a scratch but his wife had to undergo hospital treatment, though she was not seriously injured.

The Summers' car, a 1939 Chevrolet sedan, was demolished. The party had been attending a football game at Loup City and Mr. Summers missed the turn at the valley road that joins No. 58 highway 5 miles from Loup City, the car overturning when he tried to make the turn.

Funeral rites will be held at the Methodist church here at 1:00 o'clock Thursday and burial will be at Litchfield.

—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Paeker of Garfield county are enjoying a visit from their daughter, Mrs. F. E. Schwerdtfeger of Omaha.

She Wins Gourd Growing Championship

Presented above is Dorothy Skolil, the 11-year-old miss who is the gourd growing champion of this territory, and in her hands she holds the tray of gourds that won her the championship and a $5.00 cash prize in the Quiz contest Saturday. Pictures of other winners may be found on an inside page.

Dorothy Skolil's Display of Gourds Wins First Prize

Her Collection Is Tastefully Chosen, Nicely Displayed; 7 Other Winners.

The 1st annual Quiz gourd contest for boys and girls under the age of 12 years is history.

After a three day display at the Brown-McDonald store in which fifty entries were viewed by hundreds of people, prizes were awarded Saturday night as follows:

Best collection of 8 or more varieties of gourds, $5.00 first prize to Dorothy Skolil; $3.00 second prize to Leonard Vavra; $3.00 third prize to Glen Pray.

Best freak gourd, $3.00 prize, Erwin Zulkoski, of Elyria. Smallest and prettiest mature gourd, Stella Christoffersen.

Largest gourd, $3.00 prize divided among Tommie Tolon, Neil Warner, and Gerald Jensen.

A difficult task faced the judges Friday evening, for there were fifty entries, some with as many as 50 to 100 gourds and practically all containing 10 to 25 gourds. Some contestants evidently misunderstood the instructions, for it was the intention of the Quiz management to limit each child's display to one gourd of each variety or type with a minimum of 8. As many as a bushel of gourds were entered by some contestants, with a dozen or more gourds of a single variety included. The judges, who prefer that their names be withheld, did the best they could under difficult circumstances, and tried to award the prizes to those contestants who had the prettiest displays of 8 or more varieties.

To Dorothy Skolil, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Skolil, went the first prize of $5 for best gourd collection because she selected 11 beautiful gourds of distinctly different varieties and made them into a handsome display using a tray and some autumn berries.

Loup County For a Farm Bureau

Taylor—(Special)—With 6 out of 7 precincts reported, Loup county was safely in the republican camp this morning, the vote favoring Willkie 432 to 231 over Roosevelt, Griswold 499 to 157 over Carpenter, and Butler 382 to 247 over Cochran.

All other republican candidates except Howard for Congress were given nice majorities. Harry Coffee beat Howard here 333 to 273 in the 6 precincts reported early this morning.

Loup county voters favor a farm bureau by voting 305 for and 203 against. For the uncameral legislature Van Diest got 433 votes to only 197 for his opponent, Haycock. In the district judge race Spikes got 267, Kroger 342 and Abbott 272.

—Rev. and Mrs. M. M. Long attended the Loup Valley Ministerial meeting at Arcadia on Monday of this week.

Valley County Will Hold Fair in 1941, Say Stockholders

Instruct Directors to Start at Once Planning for Show; Cummins New Director.

There was a meeting of stockholders of the Loup Valley Agricultural Society held at the district court room Monday afternoon. It was about an hour after the time set for the meeting to be called before President L. Clare Clement could count the necessary 25 stockholders present to make it a legal meeting.

This being the annual meeting, reports from the secretary and treasurer were called for and read and by unanimous vote, made a part of the record. Secretary Dale's report showed that the society is now indebted a little over $6,000. This consists of a $290 mortgage on the property, money borrowed, premiums unpaid and other unpaid expenses. There is something like $2000 to come in from part-mutuel and the county.

The 1940 fair was not as great a discouragement as some had thought, as the total income in 1940 is about $800 greater than the cost of the 1940 fair, and had it not been for deficits in former years the organization would be in good shape.

Following the reports of the officers President Clement asked for a discussion of the matter of going ahead with another fair next year and many took part in the discussion, the feeling being that once the fair is dropped, it will be a long time before Valley county has another county fair. It was the opinion of most of these people that lack of crops was the big factor in discouraging people about a fair and those present were of the opinion that if and when it again starts to rain in this country and we again raise crops, the people will want a fair. Several were quite enthusiastic about a 1941 fair, and the meeting, before adjournment, instructed the board of directors to go ahead at once making arrangements for next year's fair.

There were three directors whose terms expired this year. They were Dr. J. W. McGinnis, C. W. McClellan and Chris Beiers. They were all placed in nomination but when President Clement stated that he had received a letter from Mr. McClellan asking that he be not considered for a place on the board, his name was withdrawn and the names of M. B. Cummins and Glen Auble were placed in nomination. Mr. Auble stated that he would rather work in some other department, but the names of McGinnis, Beiers, Cummins and Auble were presented and voted on and the first three were named as the three new members of the board.

Citizenship Contest Winners Are Announced

Names of the four Valley county young people who were adjudged winners in the American Legion's citizenship contest held recently were announced Friday by Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent, upon receipt of word from Lincoln where their examination papers were graded.

Two girls who won were Myrtle Auble and Angelene Koelling, both of Ord; the boys are Albert Babcock, North Loup, and Jack Weaver, of Ord. Twelve Valley county boys and girls took the examination.

Papers of the four winners now are to be graded against those of other county champions in this Legion district, and district winners will be awarded a trip to Omaha to compete against champions of other districts.

Johnson, Suchanek, Ball, Are Elected

Elected members of the Valley county board of supervisors Tuesday were Charles E. Johnson, democrat, who beat John Bremer 245 to 132 in Dist. 6; Ellsworth Ball, jr., democrat, who beat Joseph Rohla 430 to 315 in Dist. 4; and Joe V. Suchanek, democrat, who beat Henry Cremeen 259 to 50 in Dist. 2.

The proposal to change Valley county from supervisor to commissioner form of government, thereby eliminating township organization, was soundly defeated, the vote being 1910 to 505 with none of North Loup township included in the totals, as this township came in late.

Knezacek Wins By a Safe 700

From now on it is Senator Joseph T. Knezacek.

At the election Tuesday, Joe defeated John P. Doyle, his opponent for the 29th district uncameral seat, by a vote of 5,600 to 4,901, giving him a margin of 699.

This was complete except for 80 votes in North Loup township which were late in being counted, and for the mail vote. The final result could not be changed regardless of how these votes go.

By counties, the vote for Knezacek and Doyle is as follows:

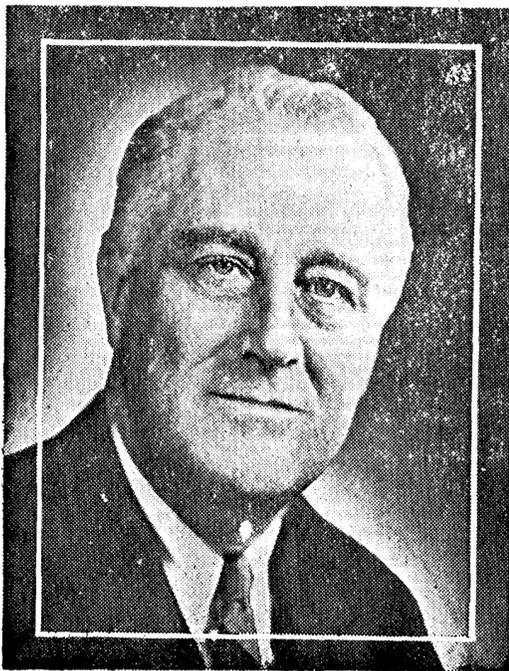

Knezacek	Doyle
Greeley	1108
Valley	1650
Howard	2487
Howard	1108
Howard	1682
Wheeler	1671
	352
	442

Students Will Work Again in Ord Stores

Next week is designated as National Education week, and the Ord Business and Professional Women's club are arranging for the high school seniors to spend the week working in the various stores and offices in Ord.

The business and professional people are being contacted this week by the members of the committee, and a place to work will be found for all who wish to gain information and experience in the type of work they prefer. This has been done in Ord for several years, and has always proved popular with the students as well as the employers.

Landslide Vote for President Roosevelt

The people have spoken and Franklin Delano Roosevelt will continue as president of the United States for the next four years. A clear cut endorsement of his policies was given Tuesday in the form of a popular majority that apparently will reach 5,000,000, and by at least 450 votes, possibly more, in the electoral college. The people have spoken. Let campaign bitterness be forgotten, and may the majority rule!

1940 Red Cross Roll Call Opens Armistice Day

Drive Chairman, Mrs. Dale, Names Committee Chairmen for All Districts.

Mrs. C. C. Dale, chairman of the 1940 roll call of the Valley county Red Cross, is busy with plans for the annual membership drive which opens Armistice Day, Nov. 11, and continues throughout November. She announces the appointment of chairmen for the different districts, as follows: 1st ward, Ord—Mrs. Tom Springer. 2nd ward, Ord—Mrs. A. L. Hill. 3rd ward, Ord—Mrs. Ed Oetken. Business district, Ord, Mrs. E. O. Carlson.

Special memberships—Mrs. J. W. Ambrose. Elyria—Mrs. Wm. Helleberg. Mira Valley and southern part of county—Mrs. A. W. Cornell. Springdale and eastern part of county—Mrs. James Covert. Northern part of county—Miss Anna Aagaard. Arcadia and territory—Mrs. E. C. Baird.

North Loup and territory—to be announced.

With the rising need for aid both at home and abroad, the 1940 roll call deserves the support of every person, Mrs. Dale points out. More than a million workers, where normally there are only a half million, will take part in the membership drive over the country.

Be prepared to join the Red Cross when one of Valley county's volunteer workers contacts you during November.

Spikes, Kroger, Elected Judges

While the complete returns in the 11th judicial race are not in, it is safe to state definitely that Wm. F. Spikes, of St. Paul, and E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, were elected district judges yesterday. O. A. Abbott, the third candidate, was eliminated when his home county, Hall, gave Spikes 40 more votes than it did Abbott. Judge Kroger, the present incumbent running for reelection, of course led in Hall county and in most other counties.

Mr. Spikes' home county, Howard gave him 2,700 votes to only 900 for Mr. Abbott. Greeley county gave Spikes 1409 and Abbott 1214. Wheeler county gave Spikes 375 to 350 for Abbott. Valley county with the tardy North Loup precinct not counted gave Spikes 1930 to 1010 for Abbott, and both Loup and Garfield counties also gave bigger votes to the St. Paul man than they did to Mr. Abbott. No returns were in at noon today from counties in the western end of the district but Mr. Spikes had such a fine lead that it seems unlikely that any vote likely cast in these smaller counties could change the final result.

So on the bench for the next four years will sit Judge E. G. Kroger, of Grand Island, and Judge W. F. Spikes, of St. Paul.

Republicans Have Safe Majorities for State Offices

Griswold Coasts In, So Does Butler; Coffee Wins in the Fifth District.

While the nation was going democratic Tuesday the state of Nebraska sailed into the republican column for the first time since 1930, with all republican candidates for state office elected by majorities ranging from 15,000 to 100,000.

Dwight Griswold coasted into the governorship, defeating Terry Carpenter by a majority estimated this morning at $5,000. Hugh Butler defeated Roy L. Cochran for United States senator by a safe 60,000 or more, on the basis of incomplete returns.

In Nebraska Wendell L. Willkie led President Roosevelt by an estimated 100,000 but with 6 to 10 other exceptions, the states of the nation went democratic. At 10 a. m. today Roosevelt apparently had captured the electoral votes of 37 states and 2 to 4 were still doubtful, with 7 states safely in the Willkie column. Electoral vote total for Roosevelt apparently will be at least 450, possibly more, and only 80 electoral votes could safely be tallied for Willkie. Popular margin for Roosevelt was 3,500,000 this morning and growing larger hourly.

Every other republican nominee for state office seemed to be elected this morning—Wm. E. Johnson for lieutenant governor, Frank Marsh secretary of state, Ray Johnson auditor, L. B. Johnson treasurer, Walter Johnson attorney general, and Richard H. Larson railway commissioner.

Two seats in congress go to democrats, McLaughlin in the Omaha district having defeated his republican opponent Metcalf on the basis of fairly complete returns, and Harry B. Coffee having a big margin over Bert Howard in this, the 5th district.

At 9 this morning complete returns from 21 of the 5th district's 32 counties gave Coffee a total of 26,248 votes, Howard only 19,534, and it was apparent that Coffee had defeated Howard in every one of the 21 counties including Scottsbluff, which is Howard's home county. Valley county gave Coffee a fine vote of 1994 to 1293 for Howard, with everything counted except a few North Loup votes. Garfield county gave Coffee 736 votes, Howard 638, and 6 out of 7 Loup county precincts gave Coffee 333 votes to 273 for Howard.

Valley county was one of the strongest republican counties of the state. With all 18 precincts heard from but North Loup's final 80 votes only estimated, as counting was not finished there until almost noon today, Willkie had 2403 votes to 1573 for Roosevelt, Griswold had 2581 to 1263 for Carpenter, Butler had 2410 votes to 1369 for Cochran, and other candidates of the republican party had fared fully as well here. Complete Valley county vote by precincts, unofficial, is given on another page of this issue. Official canvass will be made Friday, announces Ign. Klima, jr.

Benn and Murray Named Directors

Elected directors of Valley county's two irrigation districts Tuesday were Henry Benn, who beat Frank Blaha 399 to 333 for North Loup director, and Fred Murray, who defeated A. H. Easterbrook 376 to 134 for director in the Middle Loup district.

No. 444 Comes Up Twice for L. Parks

He hasn't figured out yet whether the number 444 is lucky or unlucky, but Leonard Parks knows now that 444 is his number, no matter how he looks at it.

The Valley county serial number assigned him in the recent draft was 444. And when the national draft lottery was held last week in Washington the 444th number drawn from the fishbowl, lower than 856 which is the highest Valley county number, was assigned to Leonard as an order number.

Now his serial number is 444, his order number is 444 also.

Amateur mathematicians have figured that the odds against a Valley county registrant being assigned the same serial and order numbers was 732,736 to 1. But it happened to Leonard just the same.

Nay Car Wrecked, 3 Hurt, Near Burwell

A car driven by Dr. Zeta Nay was wrecked and three of the six passengers suffered injuries Sunday morning when a rear tire blew out and the car overturned about three miles east of Burwell. A long spike penetrated the tire and caused the blow-out.

In the car were Dr. and Mrs. Nay, their daughter Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. George Nay and daughter Mildred. Most seriously hurt was Miss Mildred, who had a broken collarbone. Dr. Lee Nay suffered broken ribs and so did Mrs. George Nay. All of them were more or less bruised.

Father Murray came along about the time the accident happened, 11:30 a. m. Sunday, and took the injured persons to Burwell where they were attended at the Cram hospital.

The Nay party was enroute to the White Horse Ranch north of Atkinson when the accident happened.

Draft Board Gets Master List, Will Assign Numbers

Questionnaires to be Mailed Out Soon, Registrants to Answer in Five Days.

Only news about the national draft as it affects Valley county is the announcement yesterday by Alfred Wiegardt, secretary pro tem of the local draft board, that the master list of numbers as they were drawn from the fish bowl at Washington was received here Tuesday morning.

Members of the board, L. D. Milliken, W. T. McLain and W. J. Ramsey, jr., are busy now officially assigning order numbers to the Valley county registrants.

Within the next few days the board will mail questionnaires to all registrants. Those living in Valley county have five days in which to fill out and return these questionnaires. In cases where registrants live elsewhere but registered in Valley county, the local board has authority to grant additional time up to 10 days for filling out the questionnaires.

When these are returned the big job of determining the eligibility of registrants for military service will start.

New Quiz Studio to Be Open Next Monday

The new photographic studio being fitted up under Quiz management will be open for business Monday, Nov. 11, and people who desire to have portraits taken are invited to make appointments for that day or any day thereafter. Carl Gausman, the Ravenna young man who joins the Quiz staff to assist in portrait work at the studio, will make his home at Mrs. Anna Socha's for the present. The studio will specialize in portrait photography, particularly photographs of children, and will do all commercial photographic work. Appointments may be made by telephoning 17.

—One assortment of $6.50 and $7.99 dresses, now $5.98 at Chase's Toggery.

The Quiz is fortunate in being able to present to its readers the above panoramic view of the City of Ord, from negatives taken by W. A. Anderson about the year 1887. The time can be determined by two factors to be noted in the picture: The Union Pacific railroad had been built into the town; and Ord's first waterworks system was being put in.

The picture was made in four sections by turning the camera on the tripod and taking four separate shots which were then pasted together to make one panoramic picture. The pictures were exceptionally fine at the time and the negatives are still in a fine state of preservation. The camera was set at a point just north of the Dr. Miller residence.

To show the location of well known landmarks, both then and now, figures have been used in the sky with arrows pointing to the location, and letters in white are used below. A picture taken from the same location today would show practically none of these because of the thousands of shade trees and because of the houses built in the foreground.

No. 1 at left, is the old fairgrounds, then located across the road west from where the W. H. Barnard home is. No. 2 is the beginning of Ord's now beautiful cemetery. No. 3 is the grade thrown up by the Burlington road gang, preparing for the track which came shortly afterward. No. 4 can still be recognized as the depot of the Union Pacific.

No. 5 is the R. F. Milford mill across the river where the Vencl Ulrich place is now. No. 6 is the old courthouse. No. 7 is the old Methodist church. No. 8 is the W. D. Long place across the river. No. 9 is the W. D. Thompson place. No. 10 is Stanley Rutar's. Pete Jensen lives in No. 11, Lloyd Wilson in No. 12, and John Sevenker in No. 13.

A, left, is the Mortensen place. B, the house A. R. Brox rebuilt. C, is where John Benson lives. D is the Chapman property. E is the United Brethren parsonage. F is the F. C. Williams home. G belongs to Mrs. Nellie Coumbs. H is where P. L. Stoddard lives. I is the Presbyterian church. J is the First National Bank. K is G. W. Milford and Sons.

L, once W. W. Haskell, now Mrs. Henry Marks. M, Will Misko home. N, home of Drs. Nay. O, now the Ord Quiz. P, Sam Marks. Q, Ord schools. R, where Wm. Horner lives. S, Loup Valley florists. T, Mrs. E. L. Johnson. U, Herb Nelson. V, Frank Svoboda. W, ditch dug to lay Ord's first waterworks system. Many other land marks can be located.

A FROSTLESS OCTOBER.

Again the impossible has happened. The entire month of October has gone by without the thermometer registering below the freezing point. The only time frost was noticeable was in September. If we cannot have rain when we need it, we certainly can have ideal fall weather.

There is no time of the year more lovely than October when nature is painted in the most gorgeous hues and when the birds flock together and hold concerts in the trees before leaving for their winter homes in the South, and when the frost is on the pumpkin and the fodder in the shock.

In the words of the poet:
What wonder, then, when Nature is in tune,
That I should praise October in this way;

Preferring it to all the joys of June
Or even to the winsome wiles of May;

With joy for everybody, and to spare,
The world is beautiful, the world is fair.

In Valley county most of us miss the real significance of October. It is the culmination of our harvest time, but very few of us have anything to harvest. There is no denying that we would find far more enjoyment in the autumn if it brought us substantial returns for our labor.

While it has been lovely not to have any frost in October, we cannot escape the fact that, outside the irrigated sector, there was very little of value that the frost could damage. Perhaps in the years to come the harvests will come as they did in days gone by, and we will have a real cause for rejoicing.

THE NATION IS SAVED.

This is written five days before the most momentous election the United States has ever known. There is no hazard of a guess as to the outcome. When the greatest of experts agree that it must be close, no ordinary country editor is omniscient. But, on Nov. 5, 1940, the electorate of the nation spoke, and again we are saved.

All through the campaign two mighty forces have been battling each other for the rather questionable prize of being given an opportunity to save the nation, which for some unknown reason seems to need saving every four years. To a certain percent of the voters the United States is in serious danger every time a presidential election rolls around.

Many Quiz readers will recall the election of 1896, the year that William Jennings Bryan flashed across the political sky with all the brilliance of a Halley's comet. If so you have not forgotten his "Cross of Gold and Crown of Thorns" speech, nor his insistence on a ratio between silver and gold of sixteen to one.

The public was told in no uncertain terms that the policies Bryan advocated would ruin the nation and that only William McKinley could save us. The majority thought that way, and McKinley was elected. The fact is that we were heading into a decade of prosperity, and it would have come to us under either of the candidates.

So it is that we can say before election that the country is saved. Neither party has any intention of ruining this nation that our forefathers founded. The new president, whoever he may be, will continue to run the nation as he thinks a democracy ought to be run, and the politicians will be heard of no more until 1944.

BIRD WITH BROKEN WING.

The pheasant season has come and gone. It has been pleasant to have a chance to hunt the wily birds and on occasion to bring in a few. They were good eating and made us appreciate our state agency for the protection, distribution and propagation of game birds in Nebraska.

But there is one phase of the hunting season that is unpleasant to contemplate. For every ten birds killed outright it is safe to say that one is wounded and escapes for the time being. The birds who fall die quickly and suffer little, but the wounded who escape may linger on for weeks before they die.

A hunter came in last week disgusted with himself. He had knocked down three birds, but failed to find any of them. He echoed the thought of every true sportsman when he said: "I would rather have missed them entirely than to have crippled them." A healthy bird means sport for the hunter, but cripples are good only for coyote feed.

TOWN OF FRIENDLY PEOPLE.

When Charles S. Bixby of Osawatomie, Kan., was in Ord last week visiting his nephew, Frank T. Johnson, he noted one fact of interest, and that was that the people he met greeted him as they passed, and that some of them even took time to stop and visit with him.

Mr. Bixby is 83 years of age, and has traveled extensively, but he stated that the friendly spirit he found in Ord exceeded that of any town in which he had visited. Such praise should mean much to the citizens of Ord, who must have done something to deserve it.

We have all traveled more or less, and we have all noticed the difference in the reception accorded a visitor in different towns. In fact, this is the one most important factor we take into consideration in summing our impressions of any new city we have visited.

Mr. Bixby is not the first man to comment upon the friendly spirit shown by the Ordites, and we should see to it personally that he will not be the last. A smile or a friendly greeting does not cost us anything, but it is one thing we have to offer that money cannot buy.

The next time you see a stranger in town, and you should be able to detect him without difficulty, think how you would appreciate a little friendliness if you were in a strange town. Little courtesies at the right time will bring big dividends in the esteem in which your town is held.

++ Something Different ++

Someone asked a few evenings ago why we did not have a large potato yield hereabouts, replacing some of the corn raised for feeder cattle? The more I thought about it, the more I wondered.

A great many cattle were once fattened and finished in this fertile North Loup valley, going in to market in prime condition. But with the drought years succeeding one another for so long, farmer after farmer has had to give up this practice. Our corn has withered and scorched year after year.

But potatoes now! Our soil is fairly sandy, and if you think sandy soil doesn't grow fine potatoes remember the states that produce the finest of the potatoes for market. Minnesota for instance. Western Nebraska for instance. And potatoes require a little different growing season, perhaps what we need to do is change crops in this valley.

Growing certified seed potatoes, fine, perfect, many-times-inspected ones, is one way to be sure of a market and a good price. . . a bother but worth it, and if Burwell is a suitable location for more seed potatoes why isn't Ord and vicinity?

Worth considering, at any rate.

Surely our farmers are going to have a change of some kind. They can't go on trying the same thing year after year and practically starving. I think they have more grit, to keep on trying as they do, than any other class of workers.

And they are the biggest gamblers, for they gamble on the weather element. After all their hardest labor and longest hours of work, still the weather can make or break them for the year.

Raising chickens has fed many a family this last few years. In fact it seems to be the sideline of farming that are worthwhile hereabouts, at least for the time being. Until our drought cycle is completed.

I still think a cannery or two would help us. But an expert hand is needed for guidance, I believe. Someone would have to contact enough farmers and have them raise enough different kinds of vegetables so that the cannery machinery would not stand idle too many weeks of the year. This would require expert planning, and the cooperation of many farmers.

Not to mention careful canning of the finest products, if we were to get top prices.

Many an Ord bosom and chest is expanding with pride these Saturday afternoons as we hear over the radio the marvelous accomplishments of Our Boy Allen Zikmund in the game of football. Since Kenneth McGinnis played Ord has not had any sons playing at the University of Nebraska.

Our finest curbsome quarterbacks are now free with their predictions that Allen will be All-American before he finishes his higher learning.

They even say he is so good that there is a great deal of jealousy of him from older squad members. Or so the Lincoln gossip has it, and little birdies promptly began bringing the message to Ord.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

Well, election is over and whether the result is to our liking or not, there is not much we can do about it, so we might as well make the best of it, and hope that our dire predictions won't come true.

A brief editorial in a recent issue of the World-Herald said: "There are still two factories that make cowbells, but they work mainly for orchestra drummers. The modern cow does not affect lavilieres."

It is true that not many cowbells are used on the Nebraska prairie but if the writer of that paragraph would drive along the highway in any northern Minnesota neighborhood at eventide he would most likely hear the jingle of bells as the cows come stringing out of the woods pastures, for in that country cowbells are very much in evidence.

We, of the Quiz, were pleased Saturday morning when Jason Abernethy brought us a large bouquet of African marigolds. They are beautiful and it is so unusual to have them in November.

One of the things that I regret is the fact that we had to quit printing the cooking calendar. This was printed by us for several years, the recipes used in it being selected from the Cooks' Column, a department which Irma conducted. There seemed to be a lack of interest and the ladies of the large Quiz family failed to send in enough recipes to make it possible to continue the department. When that was dropped there was no material from which to make the calendar. I think Irma would again conduct that department if there was a demand for it, but you will have to tell her if you want it.

I asked a Valley county farmer who was in arrears to pay me. He did so but claimed to think that I should continue to carry him, his excuse being that he was unable to raise any crops. I asked him if he was keeping any hired men and he said that he was not, that he used to keep two and sometimes more, but that he couldn't pay them, and anyhow there was nothing for them to do, so he was running the place alone. I explained to him that I could not fire the help because then we couldn't produce the paper, which he had just said he felt he had to have. I told him we couldn't keep the help unless we paid them and that we couldn't pay them unless he and others paid us. We couldn't carry on this business, like he could his, when there was no profit, alone and let the help go. He admitted that he hadn't thought about the matter in that way and no doubt there are others just like him.

Down at Fremont they had a celebration Tuesday evening, burned all the campaign literature that was unused, the chairmen of the two central committees shook hands and all hands agreed to forget politics now and go to work for the best interests of the town and all concerned. Sounds sensible. No good can come from continuing the hostilities past the election.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Time to Quit

Who Pays These Men, Anyway!

Time to Quit.

North Loup and Scotia are two fine villages, five miles apart on the highway, filled to the brim, both of them, with some of the finest people in the world. Yes, one would have to look a long way to find better people, but the school children—and some others too—do not agree with me.

Week before last there was staged at Scotia, under brilliant floodlights, before several hundred excited fans, the annual football contest. The final score was six to seven, North Loup scoring early in the first quarter but failing to make their kick for the extra point; Scotia scoring near the end of the last quarter, to win the game. As far as profits are concerned, this game always nets more proceeds than any other game.

Scotia has a bigger school, more boys to pick from, more substitutes to change off with, more weight on the average. Out-of-towners, thought North Loup was lucky to score as well as they did; that Scotia did not play as well as they should; that had the game gone another fifteen minutes Scotia might have made another touchdown.

That part does not matter. It was a wonderful game; a gala time for everyone; or at least it should have been. Ties of friendship, cooperation, brotherly love and sportsmanship should have been the ultimate consummation of such a contest. But that was not it.

Before the game both schools held pep meetings, the big idea to win that game. Beat North Loup. Beat Scotia. Fight! Fight! Down 'em and what not. Long before the game started there was a terrible spirit aroused. It was reported that the teams were offered rewards by businessmen if they would only win that game.

One man told me that he took three girls from North Loup that evening and all three wept all the way home. Excitement was high all through the game and several times different people might have come to blows. Criticism of every little incident was voiced in loud language. Some claimed the referee was partial to Scotia and at one instance, when there was a penalty, a fan yelled, "if you can't give it to 'em one way, you will another."

There were accusations of slugging and unfair play. In one instance there was a mix up with the wire, and the line man was told a thing or two with fierce grimaces.

During the half, the Scotia band and cadets staged a brilliant and beautiful act. I heard several people say it was the best part of the evening's entertainment. At that the North Loup football boys were discourteous enough to stage a practice at the end of the field during the act.

But that was not all. The substitute players sat on the ground in front of the wire, and whenever there was an exciting play going on, these substitutes were thoughtless about standing up in front of the paid attendance behind the wire. A North Loup man yelled, "Daggers in front," and looks of daggers were returned with unkind comments.

Not satisfied with this game as it was some of the students continued their hilarity long after

Fellow met me on the street Saturday and said, "Leggett, I would have sent in a communication regarding election, but I thought you wouldn't print it." I told him that we would always print a good, clean communication, and asked him if he had been watching the Public Pulse department, in which both sides had been represented. The Quiz prides itself on being fair. Of course we will not print libelous or abusive articles. We have had to refuse, a couple of times in the past, to print an article upon the advice of our attorney that it was probably libelous. But all Quiz subscribers are welcome, in fact are urged by the Quiz management, to use the public pulse department to discuss any question of public interest. It matters not to us whether they favor the side of the argument that we do. We are not only willing but anxious that both sides be brought out and if that is done the right solution will usually be found.

the lights had been dimmed. Wanting to crowd more several cars from Scotia drove to North Loup after the game to honk their horns. And still not satisfied, a group of these hoodlums, along with three North Loup girls, went to the North Loup ball diamond and tore down the goal posts.

The next day the city marshal was called in and he and the North Loup superintendent drove to Scotia. A meeting was held with the Scotia superintendent and the coach. These latter two were in no way responsible or to blame for what those boys had done and they were not happy over it. In fact they were sad about it, but they did not like the idea of the city marshal or the county sheriff being brought into it. Again there was feeling between the schools. Finally under the threat of arrests the Scotia boys drove over and repaired the goal posts. I did not hear what happened to the North Loup girls who were along in the fracas.

My post office and church are in North Loup and that is my town. My daughter attends school at Scotia. One North Loup girl said to her, "You're the only nice person in the Scotia school." A Scotia girl told her, "I don't see how you can stand to even go to church over there with those people." At a juvenile party in North Loup these children would become angered at the single mention of Scotia. Scotia children feel the same way about North Loup.

I guess I have told enough about it all. Here we have two once friendly towns, two groups of fine people, developing such an antagonism that they fly mad at the mention of the other. I'll repeat what I have a dozen times in the last week, "It is time they cease playing football with each other."

Surely, when feeling between two small towns, of the same race, of the same country, of people one could not tell apart were they not pointed out, has been pitched to such a fever, the game has lost its purpose.

Who Pays These Men, Anyway!

A neighbor told me not long ago he had to take his car to town to have it repaired and having done that he decided to start walking home, thinking he might catch a ride. He had walked half the four miles home before a car appeared going his way. It was a pickup with a sign of the U. S. Department of Agriculture on the side, and plenty of room for an extra passenger. The farmer waved, asking for a ride, but the driver smiled and sailed on leaving him standing in the road.

He watched the car proceed up the river and also saw it go by his place. He walked on home, a little peeved and tired. Farmers now days are not in the habit of walking.

He had only set down to rest a minute in the house when there was a knock at the door. Going there he met the very Department of Agriculture man who had smiled at him so friendly as he left him standing in the road wanting a lift. "So you're the man who passed me up over by the bridge a few minutes ago. Now what do you want, some favor I'll bet?"

"Are you that person," the D. of A. man stammered. "I'm sorry but it is against the rules to pick up anyone. I might lose my job. I have a wife and six children and I can't take any chances."

"Who's paying your salary anyway?" the tired man asked. "Where does the money come from?" "What would your wife and six kids do if it wasn't for us farmers paying taxes?"

"I don't know," was the reply, "but them's our rules and we can't change them. One man got fired a month ago for picking up a tramp."

And this was not such a happy answer either. "Can't you tell a farmer from a bum?" the farmer asked.

Both were silent for a minute then the D. of A. man not knowing what to say, asked for permission to look for barberry bushes on the farmer's place. "Yes, you can," the farmer replied. "I'd feel pretty mean if I wouldn't help you out that much with your job to keep that wife and six kids. That would be as bad as passing up a farmer on the road."

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

Marion Mattern pleaded guilty in county court Monday afternoon to breaking into McMullen's store Sunday night and stealing two sacks of flour and was bound over to the district court. He is being held in the county jail. Judge Krogger is expected to be in Burwell the last of the week to hear Mattern's case. Mattern obtained the flour by breaking out a window glass in the rear of the store. The flour was piled by the window and he reached in and took out two sacks. Steel bars placed horizontally across the window prevented him from entering. One sack was torn when it was pulled out of the window and a trail of flour plainly led the officers to the Livingston hotel building where Mattern lives. He is married and is the father of an infant daughter. For several months he has been unemployed. Mattern has received commodities from the office of the county assistance director. Flour has been among the articles which Mattern and the other needy families of Garfield county have received.

Halloween pranks did but slight damage in Burwell Thursday night. The window panes of all the business places were covered with soap and wax and Friday morning found the proprietors busily engaged in washing the windows to remove the complimentary advertisements which had been written on them. Practically every Chic Sales pavilion in town was tipped over and several were found the next morning in the street around the square. The band stand south of the court house where the Loup Valley band under the direction of Mr. Auble gives concerts was upset and some of the boards in it were broken. No arrests were made.

Pipe or cigar ashes which fell unnoticed behind the cushion of the front seat of an automobile and caught the cushion on fire were responsible for a fire alarm in Burwell Saturday night. The car, a late model Pontiac, belonged to Herman Grunkemeyer. It had been parked for several hours in the garage when smoke was noticed pouring out of the garage door. The fire department extinguished the blaze before the car was seriously damaged. The cushion was destroyed and the interior of the car smoked up. Guy Anderson received a burned finger when he removed the cushion from the car.

Albert Grunkemeyer who has spent several months in Louisiana arrived home Sunday. Burwell won its first football game in the Loup Valley conference Friday night at Burwell when the Longhorns defeated Arcadia 12 to 6. Both of Burwell's touchdowns were made in the second quarter by Conlee Swanson, left half back. Conlee's brother, Bobbie Dick, was game captain. Burwell scored by line plunges. Gerald Bishop at tackle and Buzz Grunkemeyer at center were instrumental in opening holes for Swanson to go through. Jack Anderson, Burwell's quarterback made several long runs with the ball. Arcadia made its touchdown in the last quarter by a pass from Gregory to Brown. The whistle blew just as Arcadia was threatening to score again by another pass between the same players. Burwell's next game will be played with Atkinson at Burwell this Friday evening.

A party in which the Halloween motif was effectively and elaborately carried out was held in the basement of the R. L. Walker home Wednesday night when the members of the Domestic Science club entertained their husbands. The guests were met at the entry by three ghosts who led them into the basement through a passageway where big black spiders wigged and squirmed overhead and past a huge skeleton, with red, electrically lighted eyes. The room where the party was held was decorated with cornshocks, jack-o-lanterns, witches and other objects. Games furnished the entertainment of the evening. A sassy fortune teller revealed to the guests what the future held in store for them. Each woman brought lunch for herself and a husband guest in a decorated box. One woman brought her refreshments in a box which was the replica of a coffin. A wreath of flowers was laid on the top. Three members fixed their lunch box to resemble a grave. The top of the box was covered with an undertaker's rug which resembled grass and was adorned with a tomb stone. Mrs. D. C. McCarthy was in charge of the arrangements. She was assisted by Mrs. C. E. Hallock and Mrs. B. W. Wagner.

The hounds owned by Joe Trojan won first money in the free-for-all coyote race at Broken Bow Sunday.

Miss Gladys Miller, Trevor and Mott Brandenburg were guests at duck dinner in the Lelroy Lashmet home Sunday.

It Happened In Ord.
 Art VanSlyke has been driving the bus for the P. C. T. stages ever since the line was organized, and it is safe to state that he has never yet made a trip without taking his bus with him. However, he arrived in Ord yesterday morning blissfully ignorant of the fact that it was election day. He votes in Burwell and used to vote before leaving in the morning, but this time he voted after his day's work was done.
 At that Art has nothing on the prominent Ord man who went out Sunday, Nov. 3, and hunted nearly all day. He traveled all over the country and just about walked his legs off. He came in that evening completely disgusted, stating that he had not been able to get a pheasant all day. When told that the pheasant season had closed the night before he felt a lot better about it.
 And it is also told that on the opening day of the pheasant season Ed Whelan hunted all day over in the Cedar valley, finding pheasants not too numerous. When he drove home and wearily climbed out of his car, four cock pheasants flew up from the vacant lot south of his home, the site of the former Hillcrest hospital.

PERSONALS

—Mrs. J. W. Ambrose had a letter recently from Mrs. Edith Crow Witzel of Los Angeles. They live in a suburb which is enjoying a building boom, more than 90 new houses being under construction at one time. The Witzels completed a new house not long ago, and are busy now building a new residence. They will rent one and live in the other.

—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mills were house guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen Monday night, going on to Lincoln the next morning. They formerly lived in Ord where Mr. Mills was head of the re-employment office.

100 Women at Burwell Meeting

Burwell—(Special)—Ways and the advantages of cultivating the friendship of South America were discussed by Mrs. David Simms of Hastings in her talk "South of the Equator" Thursday in the school auditorium at Loup Valley Inter-county Convention of Women's clubs. Mrs. Simms recently returned from a tour of South America. She has spoken in Burwell on two previous occasions and a large crowd was present to hear her.

Mrs. Simms said that one of the outstanding differences between the South American countries and the United States is that they have absolutely no race prejudices or color lines. She stated that whites, blacks, and reds mingle freely and intermarried and see nothing strange about it. She said that it is not unusual to see a couple of racially mixed origin on the streets with a white child and a black child or red child of which they were the parents.

"The people of South America would like us better," she declared, "if we tried to understand them more and judged them less." She said that Brazil is especially backward and that only fifteen per cent of people are able to buy the necessities of life. Mrs. Simms pointed out that Brazil is as large as the United States with another Texas thrown in and that it has rich resources which have only been scratched. She attributed this lack of progress to overproduction of coffee and the rivalry between the numerous states.

"Rivalry and lack of unity provide a fertile soil for the black seeds of the fifth columnists," she opined. According to Mrs. Simms two Nazi intrigues have already been thwarted in Uruguay. Mrs. Simms expressed the hope and the need that the intense animosity being shown in United States before election will dissolve and "loyal unity" take its place.

She stated that Argentina is the most progressive country in South America. "In order to cultivate friendship and understanding with the United States she has put English into her schools and desires that we teach Spanish in our schools," Mrs. Simms related.

"Dollar diplomacy," is in Mrs. Simms opinion one of the chief obstacles between relations of the United States and South America. Their dollar is, according to her, worth but eighty-three cents in American money. She believes that some exchange concession to South America would be profitable to the United States. The exchange of tourists would do much in her opinion to cement friendship.

More than a hundred delegates from eighteen different clubs from seven towns attended the convention. The towns represented were Ord, Rockville, Loup City, North Loup, Arcadia and Ansley. Mrs. William Hagedorn of Hastings, sixth district president, discussed the opportunities which the women have in preserving the "American Way," which is the theme of the women's clubs programs for 1940. She emphasized that "the home was the first line of defense."

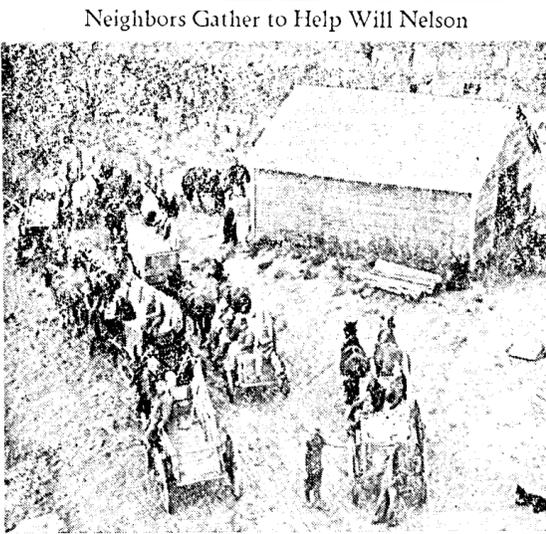

Mrs. Charles Foster of Ansley, state chairman of the drama department presented a dramatic review of the play "Family Portrait," written by Lenore Coffee and portraying the family life of Jesus. The Burwell Woman's chorus directed by Mrs. Arthur Langstrom sang two numbers accompanied by Mrs. Francis Thomas. Melvin Struve sang "The Ballad for Americans." The school band played America and the Land We Love.

At noon a luncheon was served in the Christian church by the Workers' Society. The tables were decorated with bright hued autumn leaves with Halloween favors. At the close of the afternoon meeting tea was served. Rockville will be hostess to the club convention in the spring.

Dr. Cram drove to Aurora Sunday where he was a dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas. Other guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Q. Mathews and Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Shafer of Aurora and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Anderson of Lincoln.

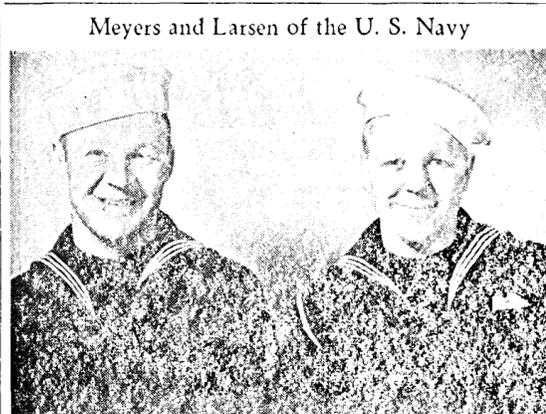

A crew of 25 women, dressed in men's shirts, overalls, rubber boots, or overshoes and other apparel which milady does not ordinarily choose to wear, commenced picking turkeys in the Burwell Buttery Monday afternoon. The women are paid 75c for each bird they deplume. Those with nimble fingers and dexterous fingers make several dollars a day. Many women eagerly look forward to the turkey picking season which offers them an opportunity to earn some badly needed dollars. When Roosevelt showed Thanksgiving Day ahead a week, he slightly discommodated the poultry industry. Miss Evelyn Ocott, secretary of the Buttery Factory, says that all turkeys for the Thanksgiving trade must be in Chicago by Nov. 15. Many of the birds are immature and covered with pinfeathers. Another week of feeding would improve the quality of the turkeys. The growers are receiving 12c per pound for the toms this year and 16c for the hens.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Johnson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Hemmett. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Coleman of Taylor on Monday in the home of Mrs. Coleman in Burwell. Dr. Cram was in attendance.

Neighbors Gather to Help Will Nelson
 Haskell Creek people are friendly folk, as they proved again last Wednesday when they gathered at the Will Nelson farm and in a single day topped all Mr. Nelson's sorghum, then finished up by husking all his corn. There were 12 wagons in the field and some of the toppers and huskers came from sixteen miles away. At noon the women joined in preparing a fine dinner, which all enjoyed.

Mr. Nelson has not been in good health lately and tragedy came to the home a few weeks ago when his son, Ray, was killed in an auto accident near Atkinson. This winter Mr. Nelson expects to hold a sale and then either quit farming or move to a smaller place.

Meyers and Larsen of the U. S. Navy
 Milton Meyers and Leon (Barney) Larsen, shown above, left Monday for Grand Island after a 12 day furlough. They went back to the Great Lakes Training school and from there 2,400 men are to leave for San Diego, Calif., Nov. 9. Edward Gross, who was here visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gross, leaves this afternoon for the training school and will go west with the same contingent.

L. F. Howard Entertains

No. Loup Ladies Clubs

A special feature of the meeting of the Fortnightly and No-Lo Study clubs at North Loup yesterday afternoon was an exhibition in clay modeling by L. F. Howard of Burwell, who is gaining quite a reputation as an entertainer in his line of work. The meeting was held in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church.

Mr. Howard had with him a large number of specimens of his sculptural ability, and also some of the clay in condition for modeling with which he made a number of interesting articles. The ladies were much interested in the work and kept Mr. Howard busy answering questions.

Ord Thespians Give Play At Auditorium Monday

The members of the Ord Thespian club gave the play, "Sunbonnet Jane in Sycamore Lane", at the high school auditorium on Monday evening, a fair crowd being in attendance. The play was under the direction of Miss Wilma Shavlik, dramatist teacher, and was well presented.

The title role was played by Miss Betty Strong. Others who took part were Miss Marie Kohla, Miss Thelma Richardson, Harvey Dahlin, David Milliken, Miss Patricia Frazier, Miss Beverly Davis, Lloyd Geweke, Harry James McBeth and Miss Irene Aulse.

The high school orchestra, directed by Mr. Delnes, gave a 15 minute concert before the play.

Mrs. J. A. Kovanda, Miss Clara McClatchey, Miss Eunice Chase, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and Mrs. H. C. Bailey of Ord attended an inter-county convention of women's clubs held in Burwell Thursday afternoon. Mrs. David Simms of Hastings was the speaker, and she gave a fine talk on the subject, "South of the Equator." Mrs. W. O. Zanger of North Loup was also in attendance.

Mrs. Dora Turek, 85, Was Buried Here Monday P.M.

Born in Czechoslovakia in 1855, Lived in County for Many Years.

Funeral services for Mrs. Dora Turek, who died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Joseph Zurek on Nov. 1, were held Monday afternoon at 1:30 from the Ord Methodist church, with Pearson and Anderson in charge of arrangements.

The service was conducted by Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson. Mrs. E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Mark Tolon sang, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the piano. The pall bearers were Frank Kokes, E. W. Gruber, Frank Zablouddil, F. M. Vodehnal, James Petska, sr., and Joseph Ptacnik. Burial was in the Ord city cemetery.

She was born at Bell, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 15, 1855, and was 85 years, 2 months and 15 days of age at the time of her death. She grew to young womanhood in the place of her birth, and was married there to Joseph Turek. They came to the United States together in 1875 first living in Iowa a few years and then moving to South Dakota.

They came to Nebraska and settled on a farm west of Ord, which was their home from then on until Mr. Turek's death a number of years ago. She is survived by four sons, Mat, James and Joe, all of Ord, and Frank of Omaha; four daughters, Mrs. Mary Clark, Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. Anna Borovka and Mrs. Julia Zurek of Ord, and Mrs. Josie Smolik of Burwell; also 15 grandchildren, and 11 great-grandchildren. Her husband and a son, John, preceded her in death.

Legion and Auxiliary Hold Interesting Meet

At their meeting last night the American Legion Auxiliary made plans to meet next Tuesday afternoon in the hall and the two comforters. They also voted to send five dollars to the Veterans' hospital for a bingo party. A rummage sale will be held at the hall Saturday, Nov. 16.

There were 20 members and one visitor present at the meeting. The lunch committee were Mrs. A. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Chris Berens, Mrs. H. H. Hohn and Mrs. John L. Ward. The report was given on the party and program the Auxiliary Juniors gave their mothers recently, with Mrs. Maud Cochran as speaker. The decorations of both hall and tables were fine, and the lunch was exceptional.

The Legion met with a number of young men present and also S. V. Emry of Comstock, with whose assistance a junior rifle team of 23 members was organized with Rex Jewett as captain. The opportunity to join is open to any of the boys who are interested and almost any Legionnaire can give the needed information.

Junior Hi and Ord 2nd Teams Win Grid Battles

Both the Ord high school 2nd team and the Ord Junior High team were victorious in their grid battles the past week, the Ord 2nds beating the Burwell 2nds on Monday afternoon 7 to 0 on the Ord field, and the Ord junior Hi boys defeated the Comstock 2nd team Thursday by a score of 13 to 0. This was the junior high's 5th straight victory this year. The team will end its season at Kearney Thursday against the Kearney junior high.

The Ord-Comstock game Thursday was a thriller with neither team scoring until the last quarter. Then Eldon Cetak went 30 yards on a reverse to the Comstock 10 yard line, and on the next play passed to Wilson in the end zone for a touchdown. Ord's second touchdown came with only 40 seconds left to play when Wilson intercepted a Comstock pass and ran to the Comstock 40. On the next play Cetak spun off tackle and ran for a touchdown.

The Ord-Burwell game Monday also was scoreless until the last five minutes when the Ord 2nds staged a sustained drive from midfield with Maresch lugging, culminating in a plunge for touchdown by Maresch. The extra point was made by a pass, Malotzesky to Adams. These teams will play at Burwell next week.

Banks Tender $55,000 for Ord City Bonds

When County Treasurer George Satterfield opened his office Friday morning, Nov. 1, his first item of business was a sizable one—he accepted from the two banks of Ord the sum of $55,000.00, and turned over to them, properly signed and sealed, refunding bonds of the city of Ord in the same amount.

By refunding $55,000 in 6 per cent city hall bonds issued Nov. 1, 1920, and issuing new bonds which draw only 3 per cent interest until 1950 and only 3 1/4 per cent thereafter, the city of Ord will save a nice sum each year in interest.

Officials who consummated the transaction were C. J. Mortensen, president of the Nebraska State bank (left) and F. P. O'Neal, president of the First National bank (right), who tendered cashier's checks to County Treasurer Satterfield; also Mayor M. B. Cummins and City Treasurer James B. Ollis.

Two Regulars Out As the Chanticleers Prepare for Tough Arcadia Team

Two regulars on the Chanticleer team definitely are out of the line-up for the Arcadia game to be played on Bussell park field at 8:00 o'clock Friday evening, but otherwise the Ord squad is ready for battle. Ernie Piskorski, regular end, who is suffering from a sprained ankle, and John Marker, regular tackle, who has a broken hand, will not be able to play this week and Piskorski is probably out for the season.

The Arcadia-Ord clash looks like one of the season's best, with both favoring the Arcadia team to win, though the teams look quite evenly matched. Arcadia held Ravenna to a 14 to 0 score while Ord lost to Ravenna 31 to 0. On the other hand, Burwell beat Arcadia 12 to 6 while Ord edged out Burwell 7 to 0.

From these figures it seems that one person's guess is as good as another's on the game Friday but Arcadia has a habit of rising to the heights against the Chanticleers so the Ord boys will go into the game the underdogs. If they play up to their early season promise they may beat Arcadia.

Garfield County Goes Republican

Burwell—(Special)—By a margin in all races Garfield county voted republican yesterday, giving 60 republican votes to 547 for Roosevelt, 1177 to Griswold and only 373 to Carpenter, and big majorities to all other republican candidates except Hugh Butler, who edged out R. L. Cochran 597 to 456, and Bert Howard, who trailed his democratic opponent for congress, Harry Coffey, by 638 votes to 736.

In the 35th district unicameral race A. C. Van Diest led Bill Haycock 734 to 508 here. Garfield county elected a woman to the office of county commissioner for the first time when Mrs. Victor Johns, republican beat out L. E. Bodyfield, democrat, 214 to 120. In the other commissioner race Clark J. Bleach was reelected, having 561 votes to 265 for S. P. Lakin and 238 for W. H. Butcher. Ben Rose was reelected county judge with 951 votes to 580 for Lang, while Tunnell beat Kern 947 to 582 in the treasurer's race. People here voted to support a farm bureau, 542 to 540, and a movement to abolish the assessor's office lost, 780 to 350. For district judge Spikes had 827, Kroger 841 and Abbott 541.

Auction

By JOE FINCKLY
(Associated Newspapers.)
WNU Service.

MRS. MINTON was about to sell her furniture. It was not, as Callie Dacre declared—Callie the tomboy who read stories and poetry when she was not outrunning her competitors in marathons—a "weepful" auction. It was just that Sarah Minton was captivated by mail-order catalogues and city apartments. So, now she was widowed, she determined to "get rid of all that old junk" and start afresh.

Mrs. Minton disliked Callie. Once she was sure she saw her smoking. Another time she was "all but run over" by Callie's roadster. And therefore Mrs. Minton determined to prevent the attaining of the desire of poor Callie's young heart by withholding her pewter candlesticks from the sale.

Callie was to be married in the fall and she loved pewter. Not because it was a fad, but because in her curious soul there was a sense of beauty that was certainly rare in the prosaic countryside where her folks had lived since pioneer days. Old Grandfather Dacre said Callie took after him. Maybe she did. I can picture Callie doing valiant things on a prairie schooner, because I've seen her extraordinary patience when Aunt Mildred had spells of rheumatism.

Now she was to marry a landscape architect and go away from the village and Mrs. Minton made sure the candlesticks would not go with her.

Therefore, on the day appointed for the sale, when Callie, in a bright red sweater, her gallant curls tossing above tanned cheeks, drove the offending roadster into Mrs. Minton's yard, she was coldly informed that "lot 99" had been withdrawn from the sale.

Callie sat down and grinned boyishly at the old auctioneer. "That will disappoint someone," she said casually.

"You bidding, Callie?" said the shrewd old man.

"O, maybe, I'm just here to see the fun," was the gay response. Bill Nuttall, the fiance, often said there was a diplomatist lost in the amazing Callie.

A few dealers appeared to see what treasure might lie among Mrs. Minton's "junk." They found some good things, a delicious old chest, painted atrocious blue by the thrifty Mrs. Minton. They fought hard battles over a rather nice four-poster. Seeing that the owner knew nothing of the values they did not scruple to keep prices down. At last Callie, who hated to see unfair play, stood up and bid briskly—for a warming-pan, a nice piece.

She got it, too, although the dealers ran up a stiff price. She also bought some luster-ware, tremulously lovely, and an old imported Chippendale chair with gracious curves. "Some folks have money to burn," sniffed Mrs. Minton.

"Children are spoiled these days. That crack-brained old Dacre gives that girl enough pocket-money to run a farm. And what's she do? Almost pays for young Joe's gas station with that car of hers, racing up and down the roads till there's not a chicken or a child, either, for that matter, that's safe. And now buying rubbish that's only fit for the scrap-heap. Well, it's your advantage, Millie Minton. You should care!"

So the neighbors talked, while they ate ample lunches from packages they had brought. Everyone had been curious to see just what would be offered in this unusual sale.

When evening came Callie stopped with her hand on the brakes to say "good night and good-by" to her cross-grained acquaintance.

"It amazes me, Callie Dacre, what you could find to want in that old chair and that warming-pan."

"I couldn't bear to see you cheated, Mrs. Minton," said Callie. "You don't know how lovely your things are. If I could, I would furnish my home with what you've thrown away. What made you do it?" Mrs. Minton gasped. "Do you really mean you wanted to help me?"

"I like to see everyone get a square deal," said Callie. "You see, I'm used to sporting events and in sports fairness is everything. And those dealers weren't fair to you. But of course I wanted the lovely old chair, terribly, too. Only I paid you what was right. They didn't. It was horrible."

Mrs. Minton mumbled an excuse and hurried into the house. In a few moments she came back carrying the pewter candlesticks.

"My dear," she said, with tears very near the surface. "I guess I've misjudged you. Won't you take these for a wedding gift? I didn't know you had friendly thoughts for me; just thought you only cared to tear around in that car of yours."

Ord Saw First Football Game in 1900, School Has Had Many Fine Teams Since

For 40 years Ord high school has been more or less interested in what is now the greatest of high school and college sports, football. Games may have been played here prior to 1900, but if they were, no record remains of them, either in the high school records or in the columns of the old time papers that still survive.

The first football game of which there is any record occurred Oct. 31, 1900, and it was an inter-class affair, with the seniors challenging the rest of the school. It is of special interest, as the seniors were that famous group of 24 that formed the Century Class, the largest until that time, and not exceeded until 1912.

There were a husky bunch of fellows in that class, and the names of some are still well known, although some are almost forgotten. Perhaps all fifteen of them did not play, but here is the list: Ed Anderson, Roy Anderson, Eric Crow, Irving Hounold, Ed Kates, Arthur Mensing, Earl Micklewait, George Nethery, Charles Patton, Will Patty, Harold and Horace Robbins, John Rockhold, Ralph Stacy and William Watt.

The story of the game from the Quiz files is as follows: Quiz, Oct. 26, 1900: The twelfth grade of the Ord high school have challenged the rest of the school to a game of football to be played at the baseball park next week Wednesday, and the challenge has been accepted with great enthusiasm. The twelfth grade boys are treading on air and making all kinds of boasts about what they will do to the other fellows, and the latter are delighting in the prospect of taking the conceit out of the seniors. The event promises to be a hot one.

Quiz, Nov. 2, 1900: The ball park was turned into a gridiron Wednesday afternoon and in two twenty-five minute halves the rest of the high school attempted to show the twelfth grade that they knew but little about the popular game of football. The game is practically new to Ord people and a big crowd was on hand to witness it, although they knew practically nothing about the game.

Both sides had been in training for the past three weeks. The twelfth grade under Oliver Oleson as coach and Tut Charlton acting in a like capacity for the high school. The game was one-sided in the extreme. At no time was the goal of the twelfth graders in the least danger, the play being conducted entirely in high school territory.

In the first half the twelfth graders kicked off to the high school 20 yard line, secured the ball on downs and in a neat criss-cross trick play passed the ball over for a touchdown. Micklewait kicking goal, scoring within fifteen minutes after the ball had been put in play. This was the only score made during the game.

The twelfth graders showed superior training and better head work than the high school and this won the game. Wayne P. Smith acted as referee, Horace M. Davis as umpire and Wilmer Gray as linesman and all fulfilled their positions in a manner satisfactory to all.

The school probably played more football during the year, as they had Oleson for coach, and the fearful and wonderful yell of the Century Class, and incidentally of the high school, still survives, and many will recall how it inspired the home boys and frightened the enemy. This is the way it ran, although it would have to be yelled to be understood properly:

"Mary had a little lamb, little lamb; Mary had a little lamb, its fleece was white as snow; And everywhere that Mary went, Mary went, Mary went; Everywhere that Mary went the lamb was sure to go. Hurrah for Mary, hurrah for the lamb. Hurrah for Oleson, who didn't give a— Razzo, razzo, Johnny git your bazoo! Rip-skinny-I-ki! Rah, Rah! ORD!! High school yells may come and go, but there never was and never will be, another yell like that. Many a youngster of those days can still recall how he cringed in terror at the sound of it. Maybe it created that impression because it was the first yell worthy of the name, but it will always stand as the ultimate in class yells.

The next football game mentioned in the Quiz was in the issue of Nov. 30, 1900, and told of a Thanksgiving day game played here with North Loup, Ord scoring once and Tutton Charlton missing a difficult goal. The try for point had to be made directly out from where the player had carried the ball across the goal line, and the ball had to be kicked by the dropkick method. That game ended Ord 5, North Loup 0.

That ending the football for the time being, as, before another game was played, J. H. Carson, Mayor of Ord, issued a proclamation closing the schools and calling off all kinds of public gatherings, all because smallpox was epidemic in the city. All children had to be kept at home for a period of two weeks, but occasional cases continued to appear throughout the school year, and no more football was played.

An effort was made to start football in the fall of 1901, but a canvass of the entire school showed that only ten boys would agree to play, and it took eleven. Basketball was started, which took only five men to a team, and football was doomed for a number of years thereafter. It reached its nadir in 1906, when there was only one boy in the senior class, David Squires, and he did not go in for sports.

For a decade or more basketball seemed to fill the requirements of the boys who were interested in sports, and the fact that practice could be started in September on an out-of-door court made it very popular. A few games were played here in the period 1900 to 1912, but they were without sanction of the high school, and the players were selected from any source where plenty of brawn could be obtained.

One of the most unusual of these games came Nov. 20, 1903, when the Central City high school team came to Ord together with the basketball team and the debating team. In pre-game correspondence it had been pointed out to the Central City officials that Ord high had no team, but they asked for a game and gave Ord the privilege of picking up a team from any possible source.

As a result Central City met a combination of the best players of the high school, the Ord Business college, and several from around town, including Dr. G. W. Taylor, who played in college, but who was somewhat out of practice. The Central City boys were hopelessly outclassed, but the Ord team spent too much time resting, and were only able to make two touchdowns and two extra points for a total of 12 to 0.

Ord high went into football officially in 1912, with their first paid coach in the person of a man named Sims. Among those on the first squad were F. L. Blessing, Floyd M. Collins, Earl G. Dornier, Joseph John, George H. Misko and Harold Weddel, class of 1913; LeRoy Athley, Leigh Carson, John Haskell, William Henck, Harold Hoepfner, Ralph Norman, Alfred H. Sorensen and Floyd Williams, class of 1914; Ralph Barber, Earl Barnes, George Clason, Edwin P. Clements, Leslie E. Flynn, Emanuel Gruber, Clinton Royer and Earl Wise, class of 1915.

Beginning with 1923 the high school record is very complete. That year Ord won from Scotia, Callaway, Sargent, Ansley, Arcadia and Loup City and lost to Fullerton and Broken Bow. Ord's total score was 162 and that of all their opponents was 48.

The team showed a complete reversal of form in 1924. That year they won from Callaway, Scotia and Fullerton, tied Loup City and lost to Kearney, Broken Bow, Ansley, Osceola and Ravenna. The total score for Ord was 55, and her opponents scored 197 points.

The year 1925 was a close year. Ord won over St. Paul, Scotia, Broken Bow, Osceola and Loup City, and lost to Kearney, Albion, Aurora and Ravenna. Ord scored a total of 96 points that year, while the opposition scored 118.

Highway No. 11 Opened For Traffic on Monday

R. F. Randolph, highway supervisor, states that No. 11 was opened for traffic between North Loup and the junction with the Scotia highway Monday of this week. This was the last link of those worked on to be completed, and for the first time in several months travel goes all the way from Burwell to Grand Island without a detour.

Travelers are cautioned, however, to use care while on the road below North Loup. While it has been opened for traffic, some work on the contract is still being done, and this will not be finished until Thursday night. While the road has not been shortened greatly in the past year, many short turns have been eliminated, and these, together with the improved surface, make the road seem much shorter.

Leonard Vavra, the second prize winner, displayed more gourds and went to a great deal of work in waxing them and polishing them so that they presented a most handsome appearance. They were shown on three paper plates.

Glen Pray, third prize winner, built a display cabinet for his gourds and he had a pretty display also, though there was not so much to choose between this entry and a half dozen others to whom the judges wish to award honorable mention. This group included the displays of Jimmie Pafetta, Erwin Zulkoski, Jay Stoddard, Tommie Tolon, Hugh Cahill, and Leila Bartz.

Erwin Zulkoski's prize for the best freak gourd was given for a twin gourd, white in color. There were many other freak gourds and the judges might have selected any one of a dozen with justice but the Zulkoski boy's freak gourd caught the eyes of spectators all week and it is a good choice.

Judges also had difficulty in awarding the prize for the smallest gourd but finally decided on a tiny yellow and green striped gourd in the display of Stella Christoffersen, who is only 8 years old. There were some smaller but most of them had to be ruled out because they were immature, that is were gourds that set late, and didn't develop fully and were soft.

So many big gourds were displayed that judges could make no choice, but decided to divide the $3.00 prize between Tommy Tolon, Gerald Jensen and Neil Weaver. Many of these large gourds were ruled out because they were soft or were still green.

A complete list of the contestants is as follows: Glen Pray, Dorothy Skolil, Leland Peterson, Roman Lech, Leland Bredthauer, Ida Mae Christoffersen, Fred Christoffersen, Richard Manchester, Danis Haught, Joseph Rysavy, Keith Christoffersen, Florence Christoffersen, June Horuly, Lillian and Norma Klanecky, Marlene Biesley, Erwin Zulkoski.

Vina Jean Blaha, Harold Hunt, Denny Huff, Everett Lech, Richard Lola, Lloyd Guggenmos, Charlene Blakeslee, Shariene Rae Whiting, Betty Kirby, Esther McGee, Jimmie Pafetta, Virginia Goff, Sammy Jensen, Vernon Dlugosh, Neil Warner, Jay Stoddard.

These Children Found Fun and Profit in Gourd Culture, Thru Quiz Contest

Leonard Vavra, left, and Glen Pray, above, won prizes of $3 and $2 respectively for their collections of gourds exhibited in the contest at Brown-McDonald store Saturday. Leonard is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Vavra, Glen a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jay Pray.

These boys went in for big gourds and when judges couldn't decide who should be given the $3 prize for having the biggest gourd they decided to split it three ways. Here are shown, left to right, Neil Warner, Gerald Jensen and Tommy Tolon, with the gourds that brought them prizes.

Tiny Gourds, Freak Gourds, Won Prizes Too

For growing the smallest and prettiest gourd Stella Christoffersen won a $3.00 prize, while Erwin Zulkoski won a prize of equal amount for showing the best freak gourd.

Cosmos Hear Gyger, Hold Election On Candidates

While dedicated Roosevelt 11 to the cause of the Republican club members of the Cosmos Hear Gyger held their election Monday evening at the home of Mrs. J. J. Carpenter. For senatorial candidates received 10 votes, Cochran 5 and Burke 1. The undecided held out to the end, two of the 15 members present not voting.

It was voted to meet on Thursday night at Thorne's cafe, beginning next week. The change in night was made because no suitable place could be found on Monday night. Dr. F. L. Blessing recently returned from California, spoke briefly of his trip of the UCLA-Oregon State football game which he saw and of attending the Lion's club meeting at Ontario with Edwin Clements, who is president of the organization.

Mark Gyger was a guest speaker, and talked on his hobby, "National Defense." He told how the United States was instinctively against the totalitarian countries, and they are jealous of the United States. He said that, with all the failures we have had we are still one hundred per cent better off than any European country. He said that if they were in the European conflict they would seek to establish bases in easy striking distance of the United States.

He told how the American Legion came out 20 years ago in favor of adequate national defense, with a program to put it into effect, but how their efforts were scoffed at. Now at this late date a program of defense is being worked out. He said we needed protection from within as well as from without, especially in the countries to the south. He said an army of half a million expert fighters was far better than a much larger army of partly trained men.

Zikmund Catches Pass, Scores on Oklahoma

Allen Zikmund, Ord boy playing on the University of Nebraska football team, kept up his fine work Saturday by catching a pass from Harry Hopp and running across the goal line to score against the Oklahoma Sooners. The Cornhuskers won the game, 13 to 0. The pass from Hopp bounced off the hands of Jacobs, Indian half-back on the Sooner team, and was caught by the alert Zikmund, who then ran seven yards to score Nebraska's first touchdown.

In two ball carrying attempts Zikmund made 3 yards. Against Missouri the previous week Zikmund's average per try was the highest of any Nebraska ball carrier. He has played in every game on the Nebraska schedule and has a major letter assured in his sophomore year.

Fenner Shows Movies Taken at Cullen Lake

At the invitation of Dr. F. A. Barta, program chairman, L. B. Fenner of Burwell was a guest of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening and brought with him some films in technicolor taken at Cullen Lake, Minnesota, and with the aid of Judge John L. Andersen and his projector Mr. Fenner showed the films Monday evening.

The stone garage built this summer by Mr. Fenner, which contains 70 tons of stone as well as 20 tons of sand and cement, was shown, and other scenes depicted the fall coloring of the Minnesota woods, autumn flowers growing at Ak-Sar-Ben lodge on Bay lake, some fishing events, and many other interesting Cullen lake happenings.

SOCIAL NEWS

Junior Auxiliary Meets on Saturday

The members of the American Legion Junior Auxiliary met with their sponsor, Mrs. C. W. Clark for their regular business meeting in the basement of the Legion hall, Saturday, Nov. 2, at 2:30.

After the business meeting in which they made plans for the Thanksgiving basket, they worked on the scrap books. These books will be sent to the Veterans hospital in Lincoln, Nov. 10. The next meeting will be held in the home of Miss Phyllis Hill.

Winners-Losers Party.

Winners of the Ord Contract club entertained the losers at dinner in Ben's Grill Sunday evening followed by bridge at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leggett. A full membership was present including Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Miss Lena. This was the first time Mrs. Clements has been able to attend since her serious accident last spring and also was the last time the Clements family and also Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McBeth will meet with the club, as they are leaving for Ontario, Calif., to make their home next Monday.

Reception and Dance.

Thursday, Nov. 21 will be the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, of Ord, and in honor of the occasion they are giving a reception and dance at the Ord opera house. All their friends are cordially invited to be present and no further invitation is necessary.

Happy Dozen.

The Happy Dozen phoche club met last Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Seveker. High scores for the evening were held by Mrs. Clyde Baker and Stanley Abelson, low scores by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Babka. A lunch was served carrying out the Halloween motif.

Pound Shower, Reception.

Members of the United Brethren church held a reception and pound shower Halloween eve for their new pastor, Rev. Otto Engelbreton and family. Among gifts presented to them were an electric washer and many pounds of good will offerings. A splendid time was had by the large group present.

Hallowe'en Party.

Hugh Cahill invited a number of boys of his own age to his home Thursday night for a Hallowe'en frolic in the basement. Games in keeping with the spirit of the season were played, and Mrs. Cahill served a lunch for them at the close of play.

Guests for Hallowe'en.

Thursday evening Mrs. Vernon Andersen invited about 30 children for a Hallowe'en party for Betty La and Dick. The children were gathered up in a trailer, appropriately named the "Ghost Wagon." Various Hallowe'en games were played and a lunch was served.

Annual Catholic Supper Attended by Large Crowd

Saturday evening was the occasion of the annual supper and dance put on by the Ord Catholic Ladies club. The crowds began to assemble early, and a total of more than 500 people were present for the fried chicken supper. The large building was crowded for the dance which followed, with Ed Kerchal and his orchestra furnishing the music.

Mrs. A. J. Ferguson held the winning number on the quilt. Those in charge were Mrs. Stanley Absolon, president, and Mrs. Emil Sedlacek, secretary-treasurer of the club; Mrs. Mike Socha, in charge of cooking; Mrs. Syl Pur-tak, in charge of the dining room; Mrs. Frank Pafetta, jr., in charge of waitresses, Mrs. James Petska and Mrs. John Klein, in charge of salads and desserts. The ladies sincerely appreciate the liberal patronage they received.

Fire Damage is $50,000 to Denver Mill at Cozad

Fire of undetermined origin last Wednesday morning did damage estimated at $50,000 at the dehydrating plant of the Denver Mill at Cozad. The alarm sounded at 4 a. m. and the firemen had the flames under control at 6 a. m.

The building contained 1500 tons of dehydrated meal, worth about $35,000. All the meal in the building was in sacks and will probably burn for several days. According to Manager Claude Swink a new plant will be constructed.

Lyle Manchester and Joe Lola rode their bicycles to Elyria and back one day last week, starting at 1 p. m. and returning 3 hours later. The boys are training to win a merit badge by hiking 14 miles.

Last-Minute Speeches by Republicans, Demos

Representatives of both the republican and democratic parties made last-minute appeals to the voters of Ord at rallies held on the court house steps Saturday evening.

The republican speakers, Bert Howard, 5th district candidate for congress, and Richard O. Johnson, a Lincoln attorney, spoke first.

They were introduced by John P. Misko. Officers of the county central committee, Archie Geveke and Gould Flagg, also appeared briefly before the microphone. About 75 voters were grouped about the speakers and many heard the talks also from other points around the square.

At conclusion of the republican meeting, Alfred Wiegardt, chairman of the county democratic committee, introduced Eugene O'Sullivan, Omaha attorney, who gave a plea for the New Deal. It was getting quite late and only a few people heard his address. These rallies mark conclusion of the most exciting political campaign Valley county has seen in many years.

Young Presbyterians at Grand Island Meeting

A large number of Ord Presbyterians attended a meeting of the Young People's League of the Presbytery of Kearney, held at Grand Island Sunday afternoon and evening. Officers elected were: Miss Ruth Haworth, Lexington, president; Miss Evelyn Ollis, Ord, vice-president; Miss Elizabeth Leard, Fullerton, secretary.

Attending from Ord were Mrs. Gould Flagg, Priscilla and Bailey, Warren Allen, Donetta Johnson, Reva Lincoln, David Milliken, Eula Marker, Patricia Frazier, Mary Miller, Mildred Capek, Loreen Rose, Della Radloff, Richard Radloff, James Ollis, sr., James Ollis, jr., Wilma and Evelyn Ollis, James G. Hastings, Mrs. C. C. Dale, Raymond Blomond, Will Ollis and Rev. W. Ray Radloff.

Bible Institute Is Being Held at Christian Church

Beginning Monday night of this week, Bible Institute is being held at the Ord Christian church, under the direction of Guy B. Dunning, assisted by the pastor, Rev. Clifford Snyder. Mr. Dunning is a talented singer and violinist and a speaker of no mean ability, and comes to Ord highly recommended. He just completed a Bible Institute at the Burwell Christian church.

Why does Phillips 66 Poly Gas start cold motors faster?

Because it is higher test... more volatile! Actually higher test than most premium gasolines which sell for 2¢ more per gallon.

IMPORTANT NOTE:—This remarkable fact was proved by scientific laboratory study of 303 separate samples of 19 different premium gasolines. The Volatility Number (high test rating) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas was 50 per cent higher than the average Volatility Number of the premium price motor fuels.

Is volatility important? Here is what the impartial Petroleum Marketer Magazine says, August 1940 issue, page 9:

... the successful operation of a gasoline in an automobile engine depends more upon volatility than upon any other factor.

So when you want faster cold-weather starting, remember that Phillips 66 Poly Gas is higher test, more volatile, than others.

Why don't you have to pay extra for this extra high test? Because Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline. Stop for a trial tankful at any Phillips 66 Shield.

Finds Watch Lost 25 Years; It Still Runs

Pete Scott of Ravenna got the surprise of his life last week when he found an old watch lying out in a field on his farm. It was much discolored, but started to run as soon as it was wound. It was an open face Elgin in a silver case.

Mr. Scott lives on the Goehring place north of Ravenna, and Mrs. Goehring recalls that the watch was lost by her husband 25 years ago. The field had been tilled every year since that time, but for some reason the watch was not discovered sooner.

American Education Week

The week of November 10 to 16 has been designated as American Education Week, and the National Education Association of the United States is asking that parents make this an occasion to visit the schools and to learn the part the schools have in the program of national defense.

This movement is sponsored also by the American Legion, the United States Office of Education and the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. The theme of the week is "Education for the Common Defense," and the schools are planning to make the week of special interest to all visitors.

Citizens Camps Will Be Discontinued in 1941

V. W. Russell, civilian aide to the CMTIC, has received word from Raymond W. Briggs, colonel field artillery and CMTIC officer, to the effect that the Citizens Military Training camps have been suspended for 1941.

While he does not say so, this is no doubt due to the draft system recently established. Young men who have attended these camps in the past or who were planning to attend next year will be governed accordingly.

MEDICAL FACTS

4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Infantile paralysis has been among us again and still is at its work of crippling and killing. It will continue to thrive until the frosts of fall become severe. The extent to which it afflicts our population is unknown. It is definitely established that for each recognized case in a given community there are a number, perhaps as many as 10, who have the disease in a mild form, and because they are not very sick and because they develop no paralysis, remain unrecognized and undiagnosed. Of course, all those who have this mild form become immune or protected against future infections.

The method of transmission of the virus of infantile paralysis from one individual to another is not definitely known. It is known that it must come in contact with a naked nerve fiber and that it then travels along this nerve fiber until it reaches the brain and spinal cord. The best known nerve fibers of this kind are those high up in the nose, the nerve of smell. There are probably others in the body, especially along the digestive tract.

It has been shown recently, by doctors Kempf and Soule at the University of Michigan, that the water of swimming pools contains the virus of infantile paralysis at times and that the usual methods of cleansing this water by the addition of a certain small amount of chlorine usually added to drinking water for the purpose of making it safe for drinking, is not enough to kill the virus of infantile paralysis.

These bits of information suggest that drinking water and the water in swimming pools may, at times, be a source of spread for this virus from one person to another. Every bit of reliable information we can get about this disease will eventually help determine the ways and means of avoiding infection or of curing the infected one after the disease has begun.

A normal adult human being has about 31,000,000,000 red blood corpuscles flowing through the blood vessels of his body at all times. This figure looked very large to the writer until he suddenly remembered our national debt.

Married in Omaha.
Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Lincoln have received the announcement of the marriage Nov. 2, of Mrs. Lincoln's nephew, Robert E. Kasal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kasal of Omaha, to Miss Lucile Lillian Lundell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albin J. Lundell, also of Omaha.

The marriage took place at 4 p. m. in the Kountze Memorial Lutheran church in Omaha, and a reception was held from 7 to 9 p. m. that night at the Birchwood club. Many Ordinates will remember Ed Kasal, who formerly lived in Ord.

Mrs. McGrew had the pleasure of seeing the football game between Nebraska and Missouri.

Selective Service Men May Still Volunteer

There seems to be a misunderstanding on the part of citizens who have registered for selective service, some of whom are of the opinion that the fact that they have registered makes them ineligible for voluntary enlistment in the navy.

The navy department is asking that this impression be corrected. When applicants who are eligible for selective service present themselves for enlistment in the navy, the local board, selective service should be informed of their names. The navy enlisted approximately 9,000 men in October, and expects to enlist an equal number in November.

Dinner Is Late

By WALLIS WALLACE
(Associated Newspapers.)
WNU Service.

IT WAS when Sandra learned that Marvin Miles was to be transferred to another city that she hit upon the big idea.

They had been such good pals, she and Marvin! Sunday hikes in the forest preserves, long talks sitting on the roadside, golf in the park—oh, if they had been cut out of paper patterns they couldn't have been made more for each other! But Marvin said nothing about marriage. Sandra had hoped against hope that he would. She had spent less on her lunches each day to have more for a finger wave on Saturday. She had laundered her own clothes to be able to afford perfume that he had once said he liked. She cared nothing for golf and less for hiking, but she wanted Marvin to think she was self-reliant and sturdy (quite frequently he used these words admiringly for girls he liked).

She even went so far as to ask Nellie just how Ray had proposed to her. Nellie had laughed and dodged the question.

"Ask me when we've been married ten years and I'll tell you, Sandra," she said laughingly.

Bitterly Sandra told herself that in ten years she wouldn't give a hang! "But Ray and I are going to his sister's wedding in Cleveland, Sandra, and we were wondering if you wouldn't like to use the flat while we're gone. It's much cosier and I wouldn't have to put Boots in the kennels."

So it was arranged that Sandra should take care of the Airedale and enjoy the flat with its electric ice-box, electric range and down davenport. And into her mind sprang full-fledged the big idea; she would give a farewell dinner for Marvin at which he would be the only guest.

Now if there was one thing that Sandra could do better than any other one thing in the whole wide world it was to cook a good meal. She decided on a regular man's meal. There would be a thick, juicy steak with curls of onions resting lightly among dabs of melting butter, crisp French fried potatoes, following iced consommé. After that she would have orange ice that could be frozen in the ice-box while she was at work. Then a good cup of coffee and hot biscuits that she could toss together the instant she got in at night. That would make a good meal he would enjoy and yet one which had no elements of extravagance in it. Marvin had extolled to her time and time again the virtues of an economical wife.

In the morning she set the table with four tall candles and the crystal flowers that someone had given Nellie. It had every appearance of the four-color page illustrations of how the well-bred hostess serves, and Sandra was delighted. She asked to be excused from the office an hour early in order to prepare everything properly. It seemed too bad that it had to rain this evening above all others, but anyhow it would make a comfortable home seem all the cosier by contrast and a good dinner always tasted better on a disagreeable night!

In the lobby of the building which was generally very quiet, a veritable babble met her ears. "I don't know what John will say. He likes his dinner instantly." "I was just washing my hair and now the hair-dryer won't dry."

The poles and wire leading into the apartment building had blown down in the storm and until the men came from the power-house there would be no electricity. Sick with disappointment, Sandra went to the second floor and let herself in with Nellie's key. Her quivering lips managed by herculean efforts to keep back the sound of sobs that burst out the moment the door was closed. Marvin's very last night! The only man she had ever cared two pins for and now he wouldn't see what a fine little housekeeper she was. It just didn't seem fair—it didn't!

She tore off her blue turtleneck and put on her blue silk house coat, crying bitterly. He wouldn't be here for more than an hour, but even so it would be too late. One glance in the electric refrigerator at the liquid orange mixture that should by this time have turned into orange ice brought fresh sobs. Then of a sudden she felt arms about her and whirled to find Marvin standing behind her.

"I rang and rang but you didn't seem to hear—what is it? Electricity off? Well, what of it? They'll have it on again in a few minutes, you know. That's one thing about the electric light company, they give instant service. . . . Dinner late? Well, well, what of that?" He paused a moment and then kissed her suddenly.

"We—we'll probably have several late dinners during the course of our—our married life, Sandy," he said a little unsteadily. "Wh—what a kid you are! And there I was pretty nearly afraid of you because you seemed so self-reliant! You're just a little girl after all, aren't you? Here, let me wipe your eyes with this blue-striped towel—that one catches your eyes, Sandy, darling."

For all, Sandra thought, men know exactly what they want. She knew, and now she

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1940

Vol. 58 No. 33

Errors Apparent As Draft Board Gets Master List

Order Numbers All Assigned to Valley County Men; Mailing Questionnaires.

When the Valley county draft board last Wednesday received the master list of numbers as they were drawn from the big bowl in the national selective service lottery at Washington, it became apparent at once that there were many errors in the list as previously published in daily newspapers, and from which unofficial local lists were made up by the Quiz and others.

Below appears a list of the first 50 Valley county men assigned order numbers on the basis of this master list.

- 1. Constantine J. Szumski. 2. Anthony Raphael Kokes. 3. Oscar J. Austin. 4. Jerry Rajewich. 5. Ralph A. Maslounka. 6. Jack D. Janssen. 7. Frank A. Naprstek. 8. Martin Markvicka. 9. James Duane Woods. 10. Clarence A. Reed. 11. Lawrence A. Greenawalt. 12. Louis Swanek. 13. Jos. P. Lamprecht. 14. Alvin E. Holmes. 15. Telfe Shotkoski. 16. Jacob S. Clayton. 17. Ernest E. Pliva. 18. Dale A. Philbrick. 19. Frank Lillenthal. 20. Leonard Swanek. 21. Jos. J. Sobotka. 22. James J. Vastcek. 23. James M. Sobon. 24. Frank J. Klimek. 25. Elmer Hornickel. 26. Verne S. Porter. 27. Quentin Witherwax. 28. Wilmer M. Anderson. 29. Joe A. Urbanowsky. 30. Frank Q. Pray. 31. Ernest Kirby. 32. John J. Klimek. 33. Casper Weimack. 34. Jesse F. Waddel. 35. Kenneth B. Hawley. 36. Vern L. Barnard. 37. Charles E. Lane. 38. Charles C. Lech. 39. Charles A. Lech. 40. Elmond M. Clark. 41. John H. Weverka. 42. Geo. J. Valasek. 43. Kenneth M. Erickson. 44. John A. Novotny. 45. Loree McLindes. 46. Clem J. Meyers. 47. Steven M. Urbanski. 48. Alvin F. Collier. 49. Geo. H. Brandenburg. 50. Melford E. Sample.

Lack of space precludes publication of the whole list of 556 Valley county registrants with their order numbers, as was done at the time serial numbers were assigned. It is likely that the Valley county draft board composed of L. D. Milliken, W. T. McLain and Wm. Ramsey, Jr., will have no difficulty in filling Valley county's first quota from the list of 50 printed above. Men who want to know what their official order number is can secure the information from Alfred Wiegardt, secretary pro tem of the draft board.

Questionnaires are being mailed this week to all registrants, starting of course with those first on the order number list. The registrant has only five days in which to fill out and return the questionnaire, but may be granted slightly longer time by the local draft board if such longer period is needed.

When the first Valley county men will be called for training remains uncertain, as it now appears that volunteers will fill the class originally scheduled to go into training Nov. 18. More information on this subject will be published later.

Woman's Club Meeting Held Tuesday Afternoon

Woman's club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Syl Furtak. Mrs. Evert Smith had charge of the study, "Music in the Bible," discussing the evolution of music and the development of musical instruments used in Bible times. Mrs. Mark Tolen sang a number of solos to illustrate, among them being "How Long, O Lord?" and "Thou Art God" from Psalms 13 and 63, Gounod's "Ave Maria" and the aria "Come Unto Me" from Handel's Messiah. She was accompanied by Mrs. Syl Furtak, who also presented a piano solo, a selection from Hayden's "The Creation." The club voted to make a Red Cross contribution.

Building Biggest Earth Dam in Valley County

Arcadia (Special)—The biggest earth dam in Valley county is being built by Helmut Brandenburg 3 miles south of this town on the Lewin farm. When finished it will contain over 3,000 cubic yards of earth, will be 150 feet long and 12 feet wide at the top, 60 feet long and 125 feet wide at the base. The dam will be finished this week.

Valley County Sends 5 New Students to Uni

Lincoln—Of the 23 students from Valley county who are registered at the University of Nebraska this year, five are attending the University for the first time.

Three of the new students from Ord are registered in the College of Arts and Sciences: Marilyn M. Dale, sophomore; Laurence A. Kusek, freshman; and Eleanor R. Wolfe, freshman. Emanuel R. Smolik is a freshman in the College of Agriculture. Willard J. Visek, Elyria, is a freshman in the College of Agriculture.

Resident enrollment the first semester is 6,458 with 34 states in the union represented besides Nebraska. Iowa sent 144 students, the greatest number from any single state outside of Nebraska; from South Dakota came 59, Wyoming 43, Colorado 41, Kansas 33, Missouri 28, Illinois 21, New York 14, and Minnesota 13.

Two students are registered from Canada, three from Germany, two from Hawaii, and one each from Syria, Palestine, Philippine Islands, and Vienna, Austria.

Township Officers Elected Nov. 5th

5 Write-In Candidates Win in Various Townships; a fine Vote Cast Everywhere.

The voting for the township offices in the election last week in the main was along party lines, although there were a number of exceptions. Most interesting was the fact that a write-in campaign elected men in five cases, tied in another and lacked a single vote of tying in still another. The voting by townships was as follows:

Noble: clerk, E. F. Babka, 141; treasurer, Joe Hybl, 27. Earnest Hisan, 60; Henry Jorgensen (write-in) 63; Justice of the peace, Will Klanecky, 64. Ed Sevensen, 74; assessor, A. J. Campbell, 134; Overseer, Dist. 1, Albert Volf, 22; Carl Andersen, 62; Dist. 25, Edward Hansen, 58.

Elyria: clerk, James Sobon, 153; treasurer, John Lech, Jr., 133; justice, Ed Dubas, 94. P. S. Zulkoski (write-in) 100; assessor, Charles Sobon, 179; overseer, Dist. 2, Frank Baran, 72; Dist. 16, Lloyd Konkoleski, 40. James Swanek (write-in) 41.

Eureka: clerk, Frank Volf, 113; treasurer, Ed Hulinsky, 96; justice, Stanley Bruha, 97; assessor, W. L. Grabowski, 119; overseer, Dist. 3, James Kriz, 17. Joe J. Bruha (write-in) 19; Dist. 23, Anton Baran, 39; Dist. 31, Emil Hulinsky, 24; Dist. 32, Mike Gregorowski, 13. Geranium: clerk, Will Waldmann, 130; treasurer, Vencel Bruha, 93. Anton Tvrdik, 53; justice, Albert Ptanik, 81. Edward Beran, 52; assessor, Jos. F. Holoun, 116. Joe Skoil, 31; overseer, Dist. 4, Will Petska, 55. John Mottl, 32; Dist. 19, John Pesek, Jr., 26. Edward W. Waldmann, 41.

Samuel Martz Dies at Whittier, Calif.

The Quiz received word this week of the death at Whittier, Calif., Oct. 15, of Samuel H. Martz, former resident of Garfield county and also of Ord. He was a son of Richard and Rebecca Martz and was born June 30, 1854, near Gladens, Pa., being 86 years, 3 months and 15 days of age at the time of his death.

He was united in marriage to Lizzie F. Hillhouse, Feb. 6, 1879, at Laurel, Ia. In their early married life they took up a homestead in Garfield county, later moving to Ord, where they lived until they went to Whittier in 1913, where they had resided since. Mrs. Martz passed away about two years ago. He is survived by 5 daughters, Della, Vida, Ila, Mildred and Fern; 4 sons, Angus, Oscar, Leslie and Vernon, 16 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren; also one sister, Mrs. Laura Erhart of Lewistown, Pa. He was a sincere Christian and a faithful worker in the Methodist church having been the teacher of an adult class for many years.

High School Students at Press Conference

Five journalism students of the Ord high school, with their teacher, Miss Emma Steele, drove to Lincoln Friday to attend a high school press conference held there Friday and Saturday mornings. Those going were Catherine Work, editor of the high school annual; Myrtle Auble, editor of the Oracle and Lorene Meese, Geraldine Noll and Margaret Petiska, all members of the Oracle staff.

Following the conference they attended the Nebraska-Iowa football game. Sunday Miss Steele drove back as far as St. Paul, where, because of the storm, she left the car, and the group came to Ord on the bus.

Mrs. N. J. Peterson Died Saturday in Ord at Age of 78

Came Here With Husband in 1894, Resident Since; Funeral Was Monday.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon from the Pearson and Anderson chapel for Mrs. N. J. Peterson, who died at her home in Ord Saturday. Rev. M. M. Long of the Methodist church had charge of the services. Mrs. E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Mark Tolen sang, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the organ. The pall bearers were Vern Stark, Carl Sorenson, W. S. King, Sam Marks, Cleg Hughes, F. C. Williams. Burial was made in the Ord cemetery.

Jennie Johnson was born June 12, 1863, in La Salle county, Illinois, daughter of Joe and Martha Johnson, and was in her 78th year at the time of her death. When she was a small child she moved with her parents to Story City, Ia. Dec. 29, 1883, she was married to Neil J. Peterson of that city. One daughter, Myrtle, now Mrs. Archie Bradt, was born to this union. In the year 1894 they moved from Iowa to Nebraska.

Mr. and Mrs. Peterson lived for many years on the place now owned by Everett Boettger in Mira Valley, then bought and moved to the farm just south of Ord. They later bought a town house just across from the Ord grade school. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Dec. 29, 1933. Mr. Peterson passed away Oct. 27, 1935.

Besides her daughter, Mrs. Peterson is survived by one sister, Mrs. Sarah Kittleson of Mildred, Mont.; one brother, Martin Johnson, of Truman, Minn.; three granddaughters, Mrs. Loree McClintock of Ord, Mrs. Soren K. Jensen of Grand Island, and Mrs. John La Cornu of Kearney; also 3 great grandchildren. Two brothers preceded her in death. She was always an active church member, being a member of the Methodist Episcopal church at the time of her death.

Miller Had Real Hogs.

Elmer Miller of north of Burwell brought 17 hogs to Ord Saturday and sold them to A. C. Wilson and Son. The hogs were 5 1/2 months old, averaged 232 pounds, and brought $5.55 per hundred, just 35c under the top in Omaha. Yes fine hogs are still raised in Nebraska.

Presbyterian Women's League Meets at Ord

The Presbyterian Women's league met Wednesday for its annual Thanksgiving praise service. Talks in keeping with the theme of the meeting were given by Mrs. Cecil and Mrs. Primrose of St. Paul. The four circles which have been organized lately held initial meetings.

The officers of the Dorcas circle are: chairman, Mrs. Keith Lewis, vice-chairman, Mrs. R. E. Teague, secretary, Mrs. L. D. Milliken, treasurer, Mrs. W. L. Blessing. Mrs. Frank Johnson is chairman of the Esther circle, Mrs. C. A. Anderson is vice-chairman, Mrs. John Misko, secretary and Ms. Leonard Parks, treasurer. The Ruth circle is headed by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. Other officers are Mrs. C. C. Dale, vice-chairman, Mrs. Olof Olsson, secretary, Mrs. Wilmer Anderson, treasurer. The only group which meets in the evenings is the Bethany circle. The officers are: chairman, Miss Evelyn Ollis, vice-chairman, Miss Eunice Chase, secretary, Miss Wilda Chase, treasurer, Mrs. Burr Beck.

Van House Is New Railroad Agent

J. C. Van House, of Benedict, is the new agent at the Burlington depot in Ord, taking the position left vacant by the transfer of Henry G. Frey to Plattsmouth last week. Mr. Van House is a veteran in the Burlington railroad's service. He was expected to arrive in Ord Monday but due to the storm did not reach Ord until the next day.

Jack Weaver Winner in Young Citizens' Contest

In the American Legion young citizens' contest, Jack Weaver, a senior in the Ord high school, was one of two winners in the Sixth District, which consists of Blaine, Loup, Garfield, Wheeler, Custer, Valley, Greeley, Sherman, Howard, Nance, Merrick, York, Hall, Hamilton and Buffalo counties.

Two boys and two girls from each of thirteen districts will be eligible to compete in the final tests to be held in Omaha, Nov. 18 and 19. To obtain this recognition contestants must have been winners in the school and county, and district contests. While in Omaha the contestants will be guests of the World-Herald.

Junior Red Cross Has Many New Enrollments

The Valley county chapter of the Junior Red Cross has a number of new enrollments among the rural schools in the county. This school children's organization is affiliated with the American Red Cross but is not a money-gathering organization except as each school decides to carry out some project needing funds. The only expense is 50c for the school subscription of the Junior Red Cross News, and the Valley county schools are going to work this school year on the things they may make for children in orphanages, children's homes, and state institutions.

This is the primary purpose of the Junior Red Cross whose slogan is "I Serve." Mrs. E. L. Kokes, county chairman of the Junior Red Cross committee, has a complete list of children's homes in the state, is making contacts with several which have specially appreciated this kind of aid in previous years, and has a large supply of good old magazines for the teachers in rural schools to use in scrapbook work.

Each school may send their work to any institution in the state provided this work meets with the provisions such places have for accepting it. The local chapter of the Red Cross helps the schools in the county with postage or express. This makes it possible for the smallest group of students to assemble such things as they decide to make without the burden of getting these to their destination.

Arcadia Beaten 13 to 0 by Ord

On the Ord field Friday evening Coach Tolly's Chantlees played a better brand of football than they have displayed in recent weeks to defeat Arcadia, 13 to 0, and again Ord's lanky end, Christensen, factored largely in the victory. A pass from Plagg to Christensen in to the end zone brought Ord's first touchdown late in the second quarter. With only a minute left in the final period of the game, Timmerman blocked an Arcadia punt and Cetak fell on it behind the goal line for Ord's second touchdown.

Five defensive plays by the Ord team featured throughout, outstanding performers being Stoddard and Zlomke. In the Ord backfield Plagg and Furtak stood out. Furtak's punting kept the Arcadia boys in their own territory much of the game. For Arcadia, Dalby, Weddel and Owens were stand-outs. Friday night the Ord team goes to Sargent for a game that may decide the Loup Valley championship.

Dies in Oklahoma.

Mrs. Daisy Rogers Nelson, daughter of G. W. Rogers and formerly well known in Ord, passed away at Ehid, Okla., Oct. 26, at the age of 57 years. Her husband died eight years ago. She was a graduate of the Ord high school, class of 1899. She leaves a son and a grandchild, a sister, Mrs. J. L. Gardner in Los Angeles, Calif., and two brothers, Thomas and Anthony, living at Ft. Collins, Colo.

$1,000 Surplus for the Burwell Rodeo

Burwell—(Special)—With scarcely a quorum of twenty-five members present at the annual meeting at the court house Monday afternoon, the four directors of the Garfield County Frontier Fair association whose terms expired were re-elected. They were Dr. R. W. Wood, one year, and K. W. Parsons, Ed Sime and C. J. Bleach, two years. C. E. Hallock was selected as auditor. The stockholders decided to abandon the triplicate system of issuing checks and receipts in favor of the duplicate system. The secretary's report showed the association to have nearly one thousand dollars in the bank after paying all expenses for the 1940 show, and there are still more receipts to come in.

Two Public Sales Booked.

Col. M. B. Cummins and his associates, Col. Chas. Burdick and Col. Corwin Cummins, have booked two public sales to be held in November. First will be the sale of the Ray Nelson Estate and consignors to be held next Wednesday, Oct. 20, and then will come the Joe Wegrzyn sale on Monday, Nov. 25. Both are big offerings including much livestock.

Junior High Defeated.

Ord junior high's season run of victories was snapped in the final game of the year Thursday when the boys went down to defeat at the hands of the heavier and more experienced Kearney junior high team. Coach Reeves' boys have made a fine record for the year, and did well in holding the Kearney team to a single touchdown.

84 Ord Seniors Getting Practical Experience Now

Working in Stores, Offices of City, Under Auspices of B. & P. W. C. Club.

Under the sponsorship of the Ord Business and Professional Women's club, 84 members of the senior class of Ord high school are getting practical experience this week by working in stores, offices and other business establishments of the city. This "work week" is held annually in connection with American Education Week.

Grocery and dry goods stores, meat markets, the city plant, the AAA and WPA offices, the creamery, drug stores, beauty parlors, cafes, the U. P. roundhouse, offices of professional men, the theater, hotel, bakery, county offices, filling stations, banks, hospitals—all have seniors employed this week. The seniors get no compensation but learn by actual experience what line of work they wish to follow when they finish school.

Assignments were made by members of the Business and Professional Women's club, after consulting the students as to preference.

Grade School Notes.

This is National Education Week with the theme, "Education for the Common Defense." The purpose of this week is to acquaint the people with the needs, aims and achievements of the schools. Every patron and anyone interested is cordially invited to visit the schools.

At an Armistice Day convocation Reverend Snyder of the Christian church sang God Bless America, then lead the entire group in singing the song.

The children in Miss Swanson's room are observing American Education Week by giving a playlet, written, directed and acted by the pupils. In addition to the playlet the verse speaking choir will present "Two Frogs" and "The Turtle." This program will be given Friday afternoon and the mothers of the children in this room will be invited.

"Good Books, Good Friends" is the theme of a display in the same room. In connection with this the class will make a trip to the public library to see the new books and to learn more about the library and its uses.

Miss Buckley's room visited the library Tuesday in observance of Book Week. A scrapbook will be made showing the books read, characters studied and material which can be used to dramatize stories.

Norma Jorgensen helped in Miss Rowbal's room Monday and was with Miss Eberspacher on Tuesday. She will be at the grade school for the remainder of the week as her part in Senior Education Week.

Party for Bride.

A number of friends of Mrs. Hugh Carson planned a party and housewarming for her last week at the Tavern. The bride received many lovely and useful gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Carson are at home at the Carson apartments in the 1600 block on M street.

American Legion Held Armistice Dance Monday

The American Legion dance Monday evening was put on as scheduled and the various prizes were given away, despite the fact that the weather was very disagreeable, and the orchestra was stranded en route and failed to arrive. A mechanical player was substituted, and those present enjoyed a very pleasant evening.

Due to the advance sale of tickets the Legion felt that it would be necessary to put on the dance, since the purchasers covered a wide area and it would have been impossible to get word of a postponement to all of them, even if there had been time.

The Armistice Day program which was to have been given at the high school auditorium at 11 a. m., Monday was cancelled, due to the fact that many of the students were not in school that morning.

Mark Guggenmos Dead.

Marcus Antone Guggenmos died Nov. 9 at his home in Denver after a long illness with cancer of the throat. He lived in Ord from 1919 until 1936, when he moved to Denver. Complete obituary next week.

Sunday Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown and son Bobby of Sargent, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leul and son Donnie, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gibbons and sons Walter and Johnny, and Mr. and Mrs. John Rockhold, all of Comstock, were Sunday guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Glen D. Auble.

Get Together Club.

The Get Together club met Friday and went to the Herman Rice home for the day. A chicken dinner was served at noon. The members spent their time in piecing a quilt for Mrs. Rice.

J. E. Gilmore's Hurt in Highway Auto Accident

Icy highways Sunday were responsible for a highway auto crash at about 4:30 p. m. at the Midway corner west of St. Paul. A car driven by J. E. Gilmore of Lincoln, in which Mrs. Gilmore and son Alton and Otto Walmstead and Floyd Wilkerson, also of Lincoln, were riding, collided with a car driven by Fred Jensen of Farwell.

The Lincoln people were returning from a visit to Mrs. Gilmore's mother, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett, in Ord, and also from a hunting trip the men had taken to Erlson that morning. The windshield of the Jensen car was coated with sleet and he did not see the Gilmore car meeting it in a head on collision.

Mr. Gilmore and Mr. Walmstead both suffered broken ribs, and Mrs. Gilmore received leg injuries and other bruises. They were taken to the McDermott hospital in St. Paul. Mr. Jensen was out on the forehead and received other bruises. Mrs. Jensen sustained a broken thumb and bruises, and their daughter Jean had an injured elbow.

Mrs. Gilmore sent a note to Ord by Art Van Slyke, telling her mother of the accident, as there was no other means of communication at the time. Later Mrs. Bartlett received a card from them, stating that they had been able to leave the hospital and were on their way home, but had to leave their car at St. Paul.

Stores Will Close Thursday, Nov. 21

Since Thursday, Nov. 21 is the official Thanksgiving day in Nebraska and in the nation, stores of this city are asked to remain closed throughout the day by M. B. Cummins, mayor of Ord, and by the retail committee of the Chamber of Commerce, of which Ed P. Beranek is chairman.

Banks, the postoffice, city and county offices will be closed that day and retail stores are requested to follow that example. Most stores have agreed to close, Mr. Beranek says, and those merchants who committee members were unable to see are asked to close also.

Mrs. John Ragan Dies in Canada

Recently Mrs. Bertha Mason received word from Mrs. Florence Anderson of the death of Mrs. Anderson's mother, Mrs. Susan Ann Ragan, who died Nov. 4 at her home at Fawcett, Alberta, Canada, where she had been living for the past 17 years.

Susan Ann McCann was born at Watkegan, Ill., Jan. 26, 1857, where she grew to womanhood and was married to John Ragan, Nov. 1, 1875. To this union were born four sons, John and Henry of Fawcett, Alberta, Canada, William of Decker, Mont., and Fred of Vancouver, B. C., also one daughter, Florence of Fawcett.

She leaves to mourn, her five children and above stated, 7 grandchildren and 3 great grandchildren. She was laid to rest in the Fawcett cemetery. It will be remembered that the family resided in Ord for a number of years. While here and afterward she was a very worthy and devout member of the Christian church.

Her husband preceded her in death some 13 years ago. He went moose hunting near their Canada home, got lost in a storm and was frozen to death. In the early days Mr. and Mrs. Ragan pioneered in the territory above Taylor, Neb., and went through many hardships together.

Red Cross Drive Started Tuesday

The annual Red Cross drive started Tuesday afternoon in Ord with a meeting at the library building at which Mrs. Ed C. Wheeler, county chairman, and Mrs. C. C. Dale, roll call chairman, gave instructions to a group of 20 workers. Immediately afterward solicitation of memberships started in the business and residential districts of the city, in rural areas and in the other towns of Valley county. An attempt will be made to complete the drive by Thanksgiving day.

Auto Skids on Highway, Carl Anderson Injured

Sunday Roland Anderson and Arnold Crosley took Carl Anderson by auto to visit a friend who lives between Bartlett and Ewing. Returning that evening shortly after 5 p. m., they caught up with a car and trailer just over the top of a hill on highway No. 281 east of Greeley.

The driver managed to miss the trailer almost entirely by passing on the outside, but the fenders hit and threw the car into a spin. While the car did not upset, the jolting was quite serious for Carl, who has been an invalid for years. He was brought home and taken to the Ord hospital Monday, where his condition is reported fair.

Attend 4-H Meeting.

J. A. Kovanda left Saturday morning for Kansas City with a group of 4-H club boys who were to have a part in the national 4-H club competition there. The boys were Donald Guggenmos, Edward Rousek and Leonard Kokes of Ord, one boy from Burwell and another from Broken Bow. They were expected home last night or today.

Rummage Sale Saturday.

Worst November Storm In Years Hit Here Sunday

Rain, Sleet, Snow, Blown by Strong Wind; Temperature Drops to 2 Below Zero.

The worst early November storm in many years hit central Nebraska Sunday, interrupting the warm autumn this state has been having with rain, sleet, snow, extremely high winds and sub-zero temperatures.

It was warm early Sunday morning, but by mid-morning temperatures had dropped below the freezing mark and the light rain turned to sleet, which in turn changed to a driving snow.

Roads were a glare of ice during the sleet storm and drifts began to pile up late in the afternoon, making travel dangerous everywhere. Country roads were blocked Sunday night and Monday, as were highways in places, but the highways were soon opened up and were in good condition by Monday afternoon.

Tuesday noon Tracy Hamilton, county road commissioner stated that the drifts on the county roads were being cleared and that the last one, that through Mira Valley west from North Loup, would be open all the way by night. No accidents were reported on any of the roads of the county.

Ord went without electricity for a period varying from 22 minutes in the business section to 45 minutes in some residential sections Sunday night, due to a break in the highline between Loup City and Elm Creek. Engines at the municipal plant were started and took over the load, pulling it until the highline was repaired Tuesday.

Low temperature Monday morning was 5 degrees above zero. The wind blew strongly all of that day also, further drifting the light snow, but died down toward evening. Monday night was extremely cold, with an official low of 2 below zero reported early Monday morning by Horace Travis. Last night was still colder with a low of 3 below zero officially reported, which is a record for Nov. 13 here.

Duck hunters enjoyed a splendid sport Sunday with practically everyone reporting the limit. All varieties of ducks, even canvasbacks, were reported in flight down the Loup river. A few geese were killed also. Ducks were reported still plentiful Monday but few minor ducks ventured out, so bad were the roads and so icy was the wind.

Ord schools remained open Monday but few classes had a full complement of students. Schools at North Loup and Arcadia and most of the rural schools were closed.

Communications systems, both telephone and telegraph, were hard hit by the Sunday and Monday storm. City phone service was not interrupted but toll lines to some places were down. Both railroads reported their telegraph lines out of service.

The Burlington trains did not run Monday, either on the Burwell or Sargent branches, and Tuesday they were very late. The Union Pacific train into Ord was a little late Monday but was on schedule again Tuesday.

To the north and east of Ord the storm was much worse than it was here, the Dakotas, and Minnesota having many feet of snow. Western Nebraska apparently had more snow than did this section, also.

Fall of snow here was officially measured at 4 inches, with a moisture content of 41. Rain last Friday night measured .17.

BOOKS AND EDUCATION.

It is fitting that National Book week and American Education week should be observed simultaneously, as is being done this week. In our modern system of education, books are vital, and in all our education, whether it be for good or evil, books play a most important part.

The first notable advance in education came with the development of picture language, since by this means information reached a greater number of people than was possible by word of mouth.

In time several types of written language were developed, and the races who used them inscribed their records on tablets of stone or upon papyrus, thus forming a more definite and complete record.

The actual manufacture of books as we know them depended upon the invention of printing, some 500 years ago. Like all great inventions, it was recognized as a need of humanity for a long time before the printing press was actually invented.

Thus we see the printing of books and education developing together from the beginning. With the education of the common people came the idea of democracy, the beginnings of which we see in the granting of the Magna Charta by King John of England, which antedated Gutenberg's invention by more than 200 years.

THE GREAT MUST DIE.

This week there is a note of sadness in the news. Neville Chamberlain is gone. He will be known in history as the man with a great idea, an idea that would not work because of the treachery of a man whose promise he accepted.

In death he has found that ideal state of peace which he hoped to find in life, the peace which is eternal. May we hope that future historians may give him full credit for his conciliatory efforts, and pass over lightly their tragic failure. No one can deny that he trusted the fate of England to the honor of one man, a man who later betrayed that trust.

In America we mourn the passing of one of our most brilliant legislators, Senator Key Pittman of Nevada. Pittman went to Alaska in the Klondike gold rush of 1897, helped organize the first provisional government of the gold camps, and was elected first district attorney there.

In 1912 he was elected senator from Nevada to fill the unexpired term of George S. Nixon, deceased, and has represented his state in the United States senate since that time. He found adventures in Alaska, and in the senate. Now he has gone on to the greatest adventure of all. Regardless of political affiliations all true Americans must mark his passing with regret.

GRISWOLD UNCONQUERABLE.

Let those who hail Roosevelt's feat of winning a third term as unprecedented, not forget that within our own state we have a man who compiled an even more impressive record. For a man to win three times in a row is not without precedent, but for a man to lose three times in a row and then come back a winner is another one for the record books.

For three successive campaigns Dwight Griswold tried to win the governorship of Nebraska, and three times he failed gloriously, for on each occasion he was well ahead of his ticket in the popular vote. He dropped out of the race in 1933, but this year, against the advice of many party leaders he went in again. The result of his fourth race is well known to everybody.

Three defeats were too many for even the Peerless William Jennings Bryan, who could not come back for a fourth attempt. Griswold has proved that his advisors were wrong, very wrong, indeed.

He has won, and by one of the finest votes ever given a successful candidate for governor of Nebraska. He carried every county in the state with the exception of Carpenter's own county of Scottsbluff and the neighboring counties of Banner and Morrill.

Further, the new unicameral will be in accord with Griswold. A number of known Carpenter adherents went down to defeat, and personal friends of Griswold will take their place. In times of emergency this is as it should be.

The surprising thing was the fine vote for Spikes in Hall county, which also landed him in second place. It is certainly a tribute to the spirit of fair play shown by the people of Grand Island and vicinity, who must have felt that the people of the rest of the district were entitled to a judge outside of the city of Grand Island.

This is the more surprising when one considers that Mr. Abbott has a fine record as mayor of Grand Island, which should commend him to the consideration of his fellow townsmen. It has been suggested that he may have overplayed his hand during the campaign.

Now that the smoke of battle has cleared away, all are agreed that it was a fine and a fair campaign by three good men. The people have spoken and Kroger and Spikes will occupy the district bench for the coming term. It is now up to the people to uphold them in any way they can in the work to which they were chosen in the good old democratic way.

HIGH SCHOOL POLLS.

In a number of schools in Nebraska pre-election polls were taken. Now that the election is over and the votes are counted, it has been found that in practically every case the young people voted more strongly for the democratic ticket than their parents did. This tendency was evident in the Ord high school poll as well as elsewhere.

The reason for this preference is easily seen. Very few, if any, of those voting are more than 18 years of age. When Roosevelt was elected in 1932 they were 8 years younger, all less than 10 years of age. Their minds, especially with respect to political economy, were in the formative state. Since then the only idea of government they have had before them is the New Deal way.

Not having definite knowledge of any other system, it is but natural that these young people should show a preference to the system under which they have grown up. This preference they have shown in their leaning toward the Roosevelt system. The vote would doubtless have been even more pronounced if it had not been for the counsel of parents in many cases.

These same young people will now live under 4 more years of the system, and will doubtless continue to think as they do today. In 1944 those who are now 17 will be of voting age, and they will no doubt continue to think as they do today. If the New Deal could not be routed from its entrenched position in 1940, the outlook is certainly gloomy for 1944.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

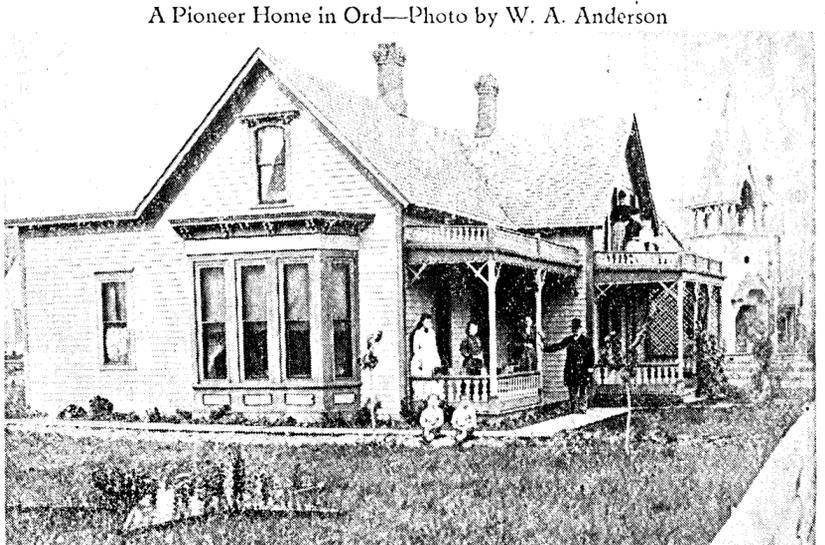

Three local farm lads are attending the American Royal Livestock show and the National F. F. A. Convention in Kansas City this week. Their trip has been made possible by the Ord Chamber of Commerce.

The boys left on Saturday, planning to take in the Iowa-Nebraska football game and visit the Falls City oil well during the journey southward.

Donald Guggenmos, first place winner of dairy products judging at the state meet is representing Nebraska in the national high school contest. Edward Rousek and Leonard Kokes of the Ord F. F. A. Chapter are acting as delegates to the nation convention.

The three young men were guests at the Matinee Horse Show in the American Royal Arena on Monday. They were shown the sights of Kansas City, along with youths from the various different states, the Hawaiian Islands and Puerto Rico. Other highlights included the national high school speaking contest, and concerts by the Minnesota and Texas F. F. A. bands.

F. F. A. is not another government alphabetical agency. It is that national organization of farm boys studying vocational agriculture in secondary schools, called the "Future Farmers of America." Its primary aim is to develop agricultural leadership. Today the F. F. A. is the fastest growing rural youth organization in America.

This is the first of a series of views taken by W. A. Anderson in Ord and in the Ord territory more than 50 years ago. It is the home of Attorney A. M. Robbins about 1858. The house was located on the lots where the Schoenstein Motor company and business places to the east are now located. The building in the rear is the Ord Presbyterian church before it was remodeled.

Mr. Robbins stands on the wooden sidewalk in front of the porch, Mrs. Robbins and two of the daughters are standing on the porch, and the Robbins twins, Harold and Florence, are sitting on the walk in the foreground. Other ladies, probably visitors, are on the balcony to the rear. The Robbins home was always well kept, with a fine lawn and flowers, and was considered one of the better homes in Ord.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

After It is All Over Voting Machine Age Must Play Ball Together

Written by GEORGE GOWLEN

One lady said to me, (and a republican too) "If Willie gets beaten it will be because of one thing, and that is because the president is a much better speaker. I heard them both the other night and there is no comparison between the two men, Roosevelt is so much better."

Well, Cochran was snowed under and by a man almost unknown to anyone. It looks like the people voted more against Cochran than for Butler.

Another person argued the election was simply a contest between the haves and have-nots. Of course Roosevelt is of aristocratic origin but he seems to cater to the poor masses, and Willie, although we do not know what he would have done, his background does not augure well. We are all a little suspicious of Wall Streeters and most people do not have a super quality of love for public utilities.

A letter from Mrs. Clyde Ehret, in New York City, in part, reads as follows, "We do not have school Tuesday, election day and by the appearance it will be a Democratic landslide. Usually this is a strong Republican district, but this year there are a lot of people who are voting the Democratic ticket because of the war."

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

The 1940 political campaign is over, but it is not improper to begin, right now, to look forward to the campaign which will come in 1942 and the bigger campaign in 1944. And in this connection due credit should be given to Chairman Archie Geweke and those who assisted him in the Ord republican headquarters and over the country. Since becoming the chairman of the county republican organization Mr. Geweke has proved himself a real organizer and he should be encouraged to continue with the work and keep his organization intact. There is always work to be done and it is much more effective if done continuously than spasmodically just before an election. In fact the latter course means failure at the polls as a rule.

Probably the defeat of Governor Cochran for senator gives more satisfaction to more voters than does the defeat of any other man. He has been feeding at the public crib continually for a quarter of a century and he has not played the political game as a true sportsman should. His treatment of Senator Burke is only one instance. He will no doubt be taken care of by the national administration in true lame duck fashion. If so and if his new job takes him outside the state there will probably be few to regret the change.

Must Play Ball Together.

A rather peculiar incident occurred in the North Loup township election. Dell Barber has long had the reputation of being a Democrat, even if he insists that he has voted both parties. Like Willie and Wallace, he changed his affiliation (he wouldn't agree to this) and got nominated and elected on the G. O. P. ticket for township clerk.

For several years Dell has not been in sympathy with the actions of the old township board, so now that he is one, perhaps he can do things more as he thinks they should be done. He can, if he and Ed Lee will play ball together like the nice little boys should. But Ed and Dell have loved each other not much from time eternal, and the heck of it is, Ed is on the board too, as township treasurer.

They Showed Cochran.

One man said the other night, and he was a Democrat too, that we are going to show that Cochran a thing or two when election time comes. We'll show him under so hard he never will crawl out. It's all on account of that corn deal too, since Butler suggested it, of course Cochran wouldn't be in favor of it. He would rather have the rats eat the corn than to let us poor farmers, who haven't had a crop in five years, feed it to our stock.

the third ward in Ord, which he lost by 17 votes. The proposed change in county government lost by a heavy vote in every precinct except North L. up, where it carried by a vote of 205 to 107.

Dwight Griswold polled more votes than any candidate in Valley county, 2375 for Griswold and 1234 for Carpenter. Knezacek had 521 to Doyle's 1132.

In the first unicameral district Otto Kotouc, jr. of Humboldt, won over Fred W. Rockwell, also of Humboldt. Mr. Kotouc, jr. is well known in Ord.

In the twenty-eighth unicameral district Tony Asimus of Ord, defeated the veteran senator, Frank J. Brady, in one of the surprises of the election.

The way the Johnsons ran must have been gratifying to them. William Edward Johnson won for lieutenant-governor, Ray C. Johnson for auditor, L. B. Johnson for state treasurer, and Walter R. Johnson for attorney general. At home Charles Johnson won for supervisor in the 6th district, even if he did run on the democratic ticket, but Glen L. Johnson could not overcome the handicap in the first ward and lost the assessor's job to Sam Marks. In other words, the Marks on the ballot was (or were) too much for him.

Nebraska was scheduled to give the republican ticket 53% of the vote, according to pre-election polls. The state gave Willie and Butler each 57% of the vote and Griswold 60%. Valley county gave Willie 60% of its vote, Butler 64%, and Griswold 67%.

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

We talk a great deal about infantile paralysis. It is an impressive disease because it strikes so many young people with a sudden inability to move some part of the body. Even though most of these partly paralyzed people recover the use of their extremities, some always remain partly crippled and hence are forced on our attention. Compared to pneumonia, infantile paralysis is a "piker". Pneumonia kills 63 people in Nebraska while infantile paralysis is killing one.

Iron lungs, so-called, are wonderful pieces of machinery. Undoubtedly a life is saved occasionally by one of these respirators or mechanical devices for giving artificial breathing. In fact, the writer knows of two or more such instances these last few weeks. While this is a dramatic thing to watch, it is no more so than to see a person saved by the use of drugs and serums, from the suffocative effect of pneumonia, and this sort of thing goes on day by day throughout the land.

About 950 people died each year in Nebraska of pneumonia, during the ten years from 1928 to 1937. During that time, about 17 persons died each year from infantile paralysis. It is estimated that with our recently discovered means of treating pneumonia, if treatment can be started early and if the patient can afford to have the serums and drugs that are now available for him, 95% of the pneumonia patients can be saved. This would mean an annual saving of about 900 lives in our state. It is small wonder that, when one hears of another "iron lung" being put in some hospital, he can not help wishing it were as popular to save the lives of pneumonia patients as it is, those with infantile paralysis. The cost of one respirator would certainly supply serums and drugs to a great number of needy pneumonia patients.

I suspect that one of the issues in the coming months will be whether the water going down the Loup rivers shall be used primarily for irrigation or for power. I believe that business and common sense dictates that all water needed for irrigation be used first and let power be a secondary consideration. There are other ways of producing power but water is the only thing to combine with the soil and our regular sunshine to raise crops on the soil of the Loup valleys.

Election Sidights.

When all is said and done and the votes are all counted, Nebraska is still the White Spot of the nation. The republicans here have much to be thankful for. We don't have to live in the United States; we can live in Nebraska.

"Terrible Terry" Carpenter carried only three counties in the state, Scottsbluff, Banner and Morrill, all within a few miles of his home. Roosevelt did a little better getting a majority in 7 counties, Butler, Dakota, Douglas, Howard, Saline, Sarpy and Sherman.

Cochran did still better in counties, but trailed his chief in the popular vote. He had majorities in Butler, Cheyenne, Dakota, Richardson, Douglas, Saline, Sarpy, Sherman and Thurston counties (Late reports give him Howard also).

Some of the Swedes did right well, but the Swansons, Harry R. for secretary of state and S. A. for railway commissioner both went down to defeat. Perhaps the most surprising result of the election was the fact that Greeley county, once consistently democratic, gave a majority to the national, congressional and state republican nominees.

Of interest also is the fact that J. T. Knezacek had a majority in six of Greeley county's sixteen voting precincts, while John F. Doyle lost every precinct in Valley county.

For district judge Kroger was high man in 9 Valley county precincts, Spikes was high in 8 and in one, Davis Creek, their vote was a tie at 60 each. Abbott was low man in every precinct. In spite of the republican landslide, Congressman Harry B. Coffey held a lead in every precinct in the county with the exception of

What a funny little world it is: I pulled out my Quiz cookbooks the other day and decided to make some chocolate oatmeal cookies the recipe kindly sent, and long ago, by Mrs. Kaminski. Then later in the day I picked up the new Quiz and the first thing that met my eye was a letter from Mrs. Kaminski herself.

I think it is fine that the World Herald is acquainting us with the beauty spots of Nebraska through splendid photo-photographs. Now I would like to see the Quiz do the same thing with photographs taken closer to Ord and the north part of the North Loup river valley.

This fall we have been able to see beauty from every window of our homes, for never have Nebraska's trees been so beautifully colored. The ash and cottonwood trees, particularly, have been a rich yellow.

I thought it was so appropriate when a local teacher took her brood for an art lesson. After working a short way, she suggested they sit down on the steps of a conveniently located church, and sketch the golden-topped ash across the street. The children enjoyed it, had a lesson in observing lovely nature, and it furnished an art lesson and also a change.

Too often we think beauty spots are confined to far off places like Yellowstone Park. On the contrary, we are usually too close to them and cannot see them. Or will not.

So we need them pointed out to us. Like so many other people, now that election is over and the majority of people re-elected Roosevelt I think we should all do our best to appreciate him and work for him. He is our president for four more years and needs our loyal support. He has done many things to admire and while I did not vote for him and did not want to see him victorious, that does not make any difference now.

For nationwide hardwork and achievement. Our need is for national unity, I would like to see jobs and food in plenty for all. And I can't see why we can't have them, in a country where surpluses are found in both men and food and there is surely a lot of work to be done.

The things that have been accomplished for young people are among the most worthwhile achievements of our seven and three quarters Roosevelt years. The CCC camps where boys grow strong and husky while gaining an idea of several types of work are fine. Many of the new projects completed over the country were splendid, for instance, the swimming pools. I feel there was more of politics in them than necessary, and ditto expense, but nevertheless, I am glad the swimming pools were built.

It simply boils down to the fact that I am too much of a Pollyanna not to want to see the best of anything. So now I am going to try to be pro-Roosevelt. Or perhaps that is the American of it. . . . we are an ever hopeful, optimistic people. We can take what we don't like and work hard at it, butting the situation with plenty of helpful good humor. -Irma.

How about a STEAK for Dinner Today?

That's one meal that is sure to make a big hit with the masculine members of your family, for there's no meat that men like better than beefsteak.

We pride ourselves on our steak. From long-fed young steers and heifers, butchered and aged by our own employees, we cut tender, juicy cuts of sirloin, round or t-bone steak. The result is perfection in this delicious, easy to prepare food.

Stop in the first time you want a really good steak. You'll find it costs no more to get good steak.

Written by Rex Wagner

Dr. Cram, Stanley Mitchell and L. Walker drove to Lisco Friday where they spent several days hunting geese on the Platte river. They returned home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. G. A. Butts returned home Sunday from LaFayette, Ind., where she attended the International convention of American Country Life Association, which was held on the campus of Purdue university.

One Garfield county farmer has exhibited that he is able to keep the wolf from the door. Harry Hughes does one better, he goes right out after him. Last Sunday and Monday he went to Brewster where he caught six in three days, unaided except for his hounds. One of the beasts was captured alive and Harry has him tied up at the Hughes farm.

Dorothy Jane Duncan won second place in the news writing contest held at the convention of the High School Press association in Lincoln Friday. First honors went to a student from Fairbury. Mr. Davenport was elected vice-president of the association for the coming year. Corrinne Haines presided over the mimeograph section of the convention. The other students who attended were Mildred Hummel, Mildred Gideon and Ruth Langstrom. Mrs. Carmen Hornby and Mr. Davenport chaperoned the group. Owing to football none of the boys were able to make the trip.

John Penas is driving a new Ford Mercury which he purchased in Broken Bow last week.

Mrs. Lloyd Carraker was hostess to the members of the New Century club in her home Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. W. L. McMullen had charge of the lesson, the topic of which was "Using Home Resources."

Mrs. F. F. Wagner was in charge in the program at the meeting of the Women's club in the library Monday afternoon. She gave a paper entitled, "The Yardstick of American Progress."

Miss Huldah Bennett drove to Lincoln Saturday where she spent Sunday and Monday visiting. Miss Eloise Lett accompanied Miss Bennett. She remained in Lincoln to visit her parents for several days. Practically all of the students from the country were absent from school Monday owing to the severe storm. The school bus did not attempt to make the trip. About half of the pupils in the grade school to attend according to Superintendent Scofield. The bus was unable to get to Valley View and back Tuesday. Owing to the large drifts it was unable to cross the hills to pick up the pupils living in the forks.

John Penas has exhibited that he is not only a success as a telephone company manager, a farmer, and a butter factory executive but he has also developed a new variety of strawberries. Before the storm he was around town exhibiting some of his choice berries. They were so large that three of them filled a pint jar. He has named his variety the New Deal Strawberry. Several of his Republican friends have been fortunate enough to receive gifts of strawberries from Mr. Penas. While they admit that a rose might smell sweet if it had another name they believe that Mr. Penas' strawberries would taste better to them if they had a different name.

Mrs. Henry Bonsall was the guest of honor at a miscellaneous shower held in the basement of the Methodist church Saturday afternoon. The afternoon was spent making quilt blocks for Mrs. Bonsall. A lunch of chicken sandwiches, apple salad, date pudding and coffee was served. Mrs. Bonsall received a large number of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Williams of Ord were guests Sunday and Monday in the home of their daughter, Mrs. B. A. Rose and Judge Rose. The judge took them back to Ord Monday afternoon.

Miss Frances Smith was hostess to the bridge club Tuesday night at a dinner in the Burwell hotel. The evening was spent playing bridge in Miss Smith's apartment. Mrs. Albin Gaukel received high score and Mrs. C. W. Hughes second.

Burwell football fans saw the best team which has played on the local gridiron in many a day Friday evening when the Atkinson giants delivered a 24 to 0 defeat to the Longhorns. Nearly every member of the Atkinson squad was six feet tall and beside their size they had an invincible passing attack. Atkinson with a tough schedule has not tasted defeat this season.

Mr. and Mrs. Elphie Hansen drove to Hastings Saturday where they were at the Parents' Day celebration held at Hastings College. Their son, Frank, returned home with them to spend the week end. Leslie DeLashmunt who attends Doane College at Crete spent the week end in Burwell.

Sarah and Marguerite Grunke-meyer and Paul Kern spent the week end in their homes in Burwell. Sarah is taking nurse's training in the Lincoln General hospital. Marguerite is a student in the Lincoln School of Commerce while Paul attends the University of Nebraska. The three of them started back to Lincoln in Grunke-meyer's car Monday morning. They drove to Burwell with Gilbert Davenport Saturday.

Mrs. Cora McMullen was hostess to a turkey dinner in her home Sunday. The occasion was her 75th birthday anniversary. A pleasant afternoon was spent in visiting and recounting the sights and experiences of her trip east this fall. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. L. McMullen and family and Dr. and Mrs. Eldon J. Smith and family. Mrs. McMullen returned home a week ago Sunday.

Miss Pauline Hill of Sargent was a guest in the Dr. R. W. Wood home Saturday and Sunday. She is Mrs. Wood's sister.

Thank You

To the voters of District 3 of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation District. I wish to express my sincere thanks for your loyal support in the recent election.

Mrs. Horace Travis will entertain the Entre Nous club Friday afternoon. Members are asked to bring 20c.

—A group of ladies of the American Legion Auxiliary met at the hall Tuesday afternoon and tied two comforts.

—The rooms in the rear of the Hastings and Ollis office have been converted into an apartment, and it has been rented by Miss Lena Craig.

—Mr. and Mrs. Soren K. Jensen and family of Grand Island and Mr. and Mrs. John La Cornu of Kearney were here to attend the funeral of Mrs. N. J. Petersen Monday afternoon.

—Miss Norene Hardenbrook is seriously ill in a hospital at Salem, Ore. It is learned by Ord relatives. Mrs. Forrest Johnson may go to Salem to be with her if her condition does not improve soon.

—Miss Peggy Russell fell into a showcase at her father's drug store Wednesday and received a severe gash across her knee-cap which Dr. J. G. Kruml took 8 stitches to close. As she does not go to school yet, she lost no time from classes, and the wound is healing so well that the stitches will be taken out in a day or two.

—Will Gabriel of South Haven, Mich., arrived here a week ago Saturday and has spent most of the time since visiting in the home of his sister, Mrs. Ray Nelson of near Elyria. Mr. Gabriel says his business is preaching the gospel, but that he makes his living by working as a painter and decorator. He also came at this time to see his uncle, T. O. Lambdin and family before they left for the west. He stopped in Omaha on the way to Ord and visited his half-brother, Roland Haight, who was enroute from Kansas City to Duluth, Minn. Roland is employed as manager by the Allen shoe stores, and is sent to stores where the business is in need of building up.

Number your checker board as in the picture. Black single pieces moving down the board, white single pieces moving up toward the top of the page. Kings, of course, move any direction.

Last week we had black single pieces on 12, 20, 28; black kings on 22 and 32. White single pieces on 16, 23, 31; white kings on 19 and 21. White to move and win.

Move 31-26, 32-31, 19-24, 12-26, 21-25, 20-27, 25-30. Black's turn to move but can't. So one piece holds five and therefore wins. A similar position came up in play in a game of an Ord player.

Place black single pieces on 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14. White single pieces on 18, 20, 21, 23, 26, 27. Black to play and win. (Answer Next Week)

—Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer Anderson, Coach Roscoe Tolly and Mrs. E. A. Holub of Elyria drove to Lincoln Saturday to see the Iowa-Nebraska football game. They enjoyed the game although the weather was chilly and they did not get to see Allen Zirkmund play as much as they would have liked.

STOKOL

develops NEW
Winter Air Conditioner

• This X-ray view shows how STOKOL-HEAT Winter Air Conditioner performs the four important functions necessary for comfortable, healthful living indoors during the winter—providing automatic heat—forced warm air circulation—proper humidification—clean, filtered air.

Its heat-exchanger is made of heavy steel plates welded together into one solid, compact unit—the STOKOL-MERCURY Automatic Coal Stoker, efficient and reliable in every detail, provides an abundance of clean, uniform, healthful heat—the humidifier and filters are of the best.

STOKOL-HEAT is this year's finest example of a Winter Air Conditioner. It is highly efficient, built for permanency, attractive in appearance and has many exclusive features of great merit to be found in no other Conditioner. And it is priced so that you can afford its superior brand of heat.

SUMMER COMFORT

The same blower that provides a uniform flow of warm air in winter will bring you comfort during the summer as well, by circulating the fresh outside air or the cool air from the basement throughout the house during the hot days and nights of summer at a very low operating expense—no additional equipment to buy.

You are invited to call at our showroom and inspect the fine line of STOKOL Automatic Heating Equipment. You will be interested whether you are buying or building a home or just keeping abreast of today's wonderful developments in automatic heating equipment.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

Nov. 13, 1930.

Fred Travis, who was badly injured when kicked by a horse, was reported improving.

The P. E. O. ladies of Ord were hostesses to ladies of the order from St. Paul, Loup City, Burwell and Sargent.

Mrs. Barney Brickner was hurt about the face when the car in which she was riding collided with another near Maxwell, Nebr.

John Beran lost his right hand in a corn picker on his farm on Turtle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clochon celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary.

Rev. W. H. Wright of the Ord Methodist church was the speaker for the Armistice Day program.

The stockholders of the fair association met in their annual meeting. They re-elected McClellan, Roe and Kokes as directors, and Jos. P. Barta as treasurer.

The annual Red Cross drive was in progress, with Mrs. C. W. Barber of North Loup as county chairman.

Nov. 11, 1920.

The funeral of Ray R. Burdick was the largest ever held in Ord, the crowd filling the Methodist church and the yard as well.

E. C. Weller was making arrangements to continue the auction business of Ray Burdick, and was booking sales as fast as the public asked for them.

Harold F. Noyes and Miss Helen Mulligan were married Nov. 10 by the county judge.

Because of the condition of the roads the Ord football team was unable to go to Broken Bow overland to play there, but left on the train when they received a guarantee of the expenses.

Judge Arthur G. Wray, non-partisan league candidate for governor of Nebraska, made a remarkable race, but was beaten by McKelvie.

A question of the legality of the warrants in the case of Ord's new court house was likely to hold up work on the building. J. H. Carson retired as president of the Nebraska State bank and John Rogers was elected in his place.

Nov. 10, 1910.

The republicans elected Chester A. Aldrich for governor and the entire state ticket by majorities of 25,000 or more. The democrats elected Gilbert M. Hitchcock for U. S. Senator.

Fenner and McGuire of Burwell were in Ord before election with a lot of money to bet on Jim Dahlman for governor of Nebraska.

Ed Tappan, prominent resident of the Davis Creek territory, died from typhoid fever at the home of a sister at Shelton, Nebr.

The Quiz was putting up a holder for new ballot boxes for the Ord polling places, as the boxes were too small for the new large ballots.

W. L. Ramsey was doing a nice business in auto livery, which was a popular means of transportation in those days.

The city council heard an expert report on the value of the Ord electric light plant. The business was valued at $14,000 by the engineers and the owner, Mr. Milkkelson, wanted $13,000 for it.

The Loup City football team came to Ord and made it interesting for the locals taking home all the honors with a score of 26 to 0.

Cecil Nuebecker, who was teaching school at West Union, Nebr., came over to Ord to cast his vote no provisions having been made to cast a vote 'in absentia' in those days.

Nov. 16, 1900.

Vol Earnest and Walter Johnson made a pre-election bet. Each made a prediction as to the outcome, the loser agreeing to have his prediction printed in the Quiz. Johnson lost, and his prediction of course gave the election to W. J. Bryan, with the election hingeing on New York and Indiana.

As a result of an election bet, Sheriff H. D. Heuck had to haul Treasurer W. B. Keown around the square Saturday afternoon in a wheelbarrow.

The sale of the Ord Journal was announced, and H. M. Davis took charge with the issue of Nov. 16.

Twins, Lucile Mersent and Bernice Irena, were born to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Tully on Nov. 10.

H. L. Danner and family arrived from Denver to take charge of the Howe ranch, which had been bought recently by Danner Bros., of Astoria, Ill. Mrs. Danner was a daughter of Sam Fackler.

Hamilton Bros., James A. Ollis, Jr., and John Rogers bought from Fitzsimmons and Graham a corn husker and shredder. It was one of the first machines designed to do this work.

Nov. 11, 1930.

Charley Hennich, representative elect from Garfield county, and Joe Jackson of Burwell paid a visit to Ord.

An election held at the Ord Methodist church resulted in a vote of 47 for and none against the women into the general conference.

A most delightful party was given by Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Miller, Nov. 7, at their Calamus home. The Millers are both still alive and are residents of Burwell.

R. M. Hayslip began on Nov. 9 to teach school in No. 10 (now Valley Side). Mr. Hayslip is still living and feeling fine at Ansley, Nebr.

John Keown and Miss Ella Millmore of Calamus were married Nov. 9.

S. A. Parks, county superintendent, announced that there would be a meeting of the teachers of Valley county for the purpose of organizing teachers' association.

Notice of Public Hearing on Valley County Budget for the Year of 1941

Notice is hereby given that on Monday, December 9, 1940, at 10:00 o'clock A. M., a public hearing will be held before the County Board, in their room in the Courthouse in Ord, Nebraska, with respect to the Valley County Budget for 1941, a copy of which Budget is now on file in the office of the County Clerk of Valley County, in accordance with the provisions of the "County Budget Act of 1937" as amended by the 1939 Nebraska State Legislature.

A summary of the said Budget is as follows:

Table with 5 columns: Fund Name, Estimated minimum required, Less Miscel' Fees Earned, Less Delinquent Taxes & Miscel' Revenues & Balances, Balance to be raised by Taxes.

*This item of $9,000.00, is the estimated need as anticipated, for the relief of indigent persons in all categories of relief during 1941, as determined by the County Assistance Director, and does not include the anticipated administrative costs which cannot be determined at this time. The source of revenue for this Fund is limited to a maximum of 1.00 mill levy, not otherwise appropriated.

A copy of the Budget in detail is on file and available for public inspection in my office.

Witness my hand and official seal this Sixth day of November, 1940.

PERSONALS

—Rack of better silk and wool dresses, $4.98 at Chase's Toggery.

—The Justa Greathouse family is moving into the property in east Ord formerly occupied by the Lambdin family.

—Melvin Moore left Ord on the bus Sunday morning, expecting to make his home in Hastings for the present, as the employment situation there is better than it is in Ord.

—Darrell Bauder is the new assistant supervisor in the F. S. A. office, where he has been employed for the past two weeks. He comes to Ord from Hastings.

—According to a card received last week, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Woodery and Earl left Ericson last Wednesday for Texas, traveling by car and trailer house. They are going to a warmer climate in hope of benefiting Charles's health, which has been poor since he had a stroke last summer.

—Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Lambdin and family and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lanney and family of Broken Bow were scheduled to leave the first of the week for Yoncalla, Wash., where they will make their future home. The Lambdins had a sale of their personal effects with the exception of the goods they took with them by truck, at their Ord home Saturday. Herman Rice was the auctioneer and satisfactory prices prevailed.

—Clarence Cass of Burwell stopped in Ord Thursday on his way home from Ashton, where he had been in charge of a crew in the eradication of the barberry plant. He expected to go to Stapleton and organize a crew for the work there for the same purpose. He has been in this work since a year ago last May, and likes it fine.

—Mrs. Ben Janssen writes, giving their new address as 7608 El Cajon Blvd., La Mesa, Calif. She says they could not find a furnished house in San Diego, so they went to La Mesa, 7 miles away, and Ben drives there to work. She says LaMesa is a beautiful city.

—Chris Rasmussen and Frank Komsak of St. Paul were in Ord Wednesday afternoon distributing bills and selling tickets for the cow dance they held there on Armistice evening. They found competition here with the Ord boys putting on a dance the same night, but they sold a number of tickets anyway.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Urban and Etta Mae left Ord by auto and trailer Sunday morning on their way to their new home at Medill, Okla. They planned to visit at Prague and Seminole enroute. Relatives here were worried about them, as rain, turning to sleet, was reported falling in Kansas before they had time to get that far on their trip.

—Mrs. J. D. Moul of Burwell was taking treatments at the Ord hospital last week and staying at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Stowell in Springdale.

Married at Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Woolery of 1135 Alamitos Ave., Long Beach, Calif., announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, Marjorie, to Melville Whewell, son of Mrs. William Say of Long Beach. The marriage took place at Las Vegas, Nevada, Nov. 2, at 11:30 a. m., Rev. Ford L. Gilbert of the Methodist church officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Woolery, who live at Las Vegas, attended the couple. Other guests at the wedding were Mrs. Ernest Woolery and son Earle, and Mr. and Mrs. William Say. The wedding dinner was served at the home of the bride's brother in Las Vegas. Mr. Whewell is employed at Compton, Calif. The couple will reside at 90 A. East 19th street, Long Beach, Calif.

Miss Woolery was honored at a shower Oct. 24, given by Mrs. William Say. Eighteen guests were present and the bride-to-be received many lovely gifts. She was also honored at a shower given by her mother, Mrs. Ernest Woolery, Oct. 31, with 22 guests present.

Valley Salon 240.

Valley Salon No. 240, 8 et 40, met Thursday at the Arrow Hotel in Broken Bow, with Mrs. W. F. Haycock of Callaway as hostess. Luncheon was held at 12:30 in the hotel coffee shop. Guests from Sargent were Mrs. Matousek and Mrs. Bunker of Sargent. Attending from Ord were Mrs. A. A. Wiegart, Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, and Mrs. Alfred L. Hill. Plans were discussed to give tuberculosis tests in the Callaway schools. The next meeting of the salon will be held Dec. 12 with Mrs. C. J. Mortensen and the husbands of the members will be present.

For John Urbans.

Thursday evening at the Bohemian hall the members of the Z. C. B. J. gave a reception in honor of Mr. and Mrs. John Urban and Eita Mae, who left Sunday for Oklahoma to live. Coffee, Kolaes and cake was served, after which dancing and playing cards were enjoyed by those present.

Sunday Guests.

Guests for Sunday dinner, afternoon and supper at the F. H. Kuehl, Jr., home were Mrs. Bessie Achen and family, Miss Betty Meyer, and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ward. Pinochle was played during the afternoon.

Anniversary Reception.

In observance of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen will give a public reception and dance to all their friends at the Opera House in Ord on Thanksgiving day, Nov. 21.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

People were having a tough time of it Monday morning when they tried to get places in Ord with their autos. This was especially true on the turns when they would stop suddenly for no apparent reason at all and the hind wheels would spin merrily, throwing the snow like a buzz saw throws saw dust. Luckily there were no serious accidents here, all cars having to proceed at a snail's pace.

From a very comfortable temperature Saturday to zero Monday night was quite a trip, but the mercury took it. A lot of trees, which saw no occasion to drop their leaves sooner, certainly looked silly in full leaf right in the midst of a typical Nebraska blizzard.

Just as Charley McCarthy began to pipe up Sunday evening the lights gave a few feeble flickers and then went off to stay, and of course all the radios went out of business. By the time the boys got to the city light plant and got the power on again Charley's program was over. The city plant was still on the job yesterday.

This happened in Nebraska. Since 1936 nearly 30% of the voters of the state changed their minds on national affairs. That year Roosevelt had 100,000 majority, this year Willie had 50,000. That makes a difference of 150,000, and there were about 600,000 votes cast.

Ralph Misko was a business visitor in Lincoln over the week end, returning to Ord Monday.

LOCAL NEWS

Leon Swiatowiak is now handling the Red Rooster company's line in this territory. He was in Ord Thursday with Ray Chamberlain, who formerly handled this territory, but who is now working out of the St. Louis office.

Dr. Earl E. Wise arrived in Ord last Wednesday morning. He has leased his office at Valdez, Alaska, and has the appointment as house doctor at the Providence hospital at Seattle, Wash., a 200 bed hospital. He expected to visit his father, A. J. Wise, until the first of this week and they leave to take charge of his new job.

Rev. G. B. Dunning, who is conducting special meetings at the Ord Christian church, drove over to Ericson Friday to visit his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Dunning and family. Mr. Dunning came home from St. Francis hospital about a week before, where he had undergone an operation for perforated stomach ulcers. He was feeling much improved.

About 9 o'clock Tuesday morning, Judge and Mrs. E. P. Clements and Miss Lena, Mr. and Mrs. H. J. McBeth and their four children, got started on their long trip to Ontario, Calif., where in future they will make their home. The household goods of the two families were shipped Friday by rail and the people are making the trip by auto. They had planned to leave Monday but were held up by the storm. The Clements family spent their last few days in Ord as guests in the H. D. Leggett home while the McBeths were guests of the Guy LeMasters family.

Howard Sherard, a nephew of A. J. Wise, and Allen Harris, son of Z. C. Harris of near Kent, were on the bus Friday morning enroute to Lincoln for a visit with friends there and also to attend the game Saturday.

Mrs. John P. Misko went to Omaha Friday on a business errand and the next day went to Lincoln where she was joined by her husband. They attended the Iowa-Nebraska game and spent the week end as guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Sheldahl.

Edward Swanek returned from Wakefield Saturday where he had spent 3 weeks picking corn. He said that the corn where he was working was making 45 to 20 bushels per acre and the work was not very profitable, although some corn there was making a full crop.

Elmer Hawthorne, member of the Nebraska Telephone company's construction crew, went to his home at Holbrook Saturday morning to visit there until Tuesday. The crew has been moving the company's line over to the new highway between Ord and North Loup, and have about one more week's work here.

Senator Asimus Visits. Tony Asimus of O'Neill was a visitor in Ord Thursday. He was a candidate for senator in the 25th district, comprising Holt, Boyd, Rock and Keya Paha counties, and won over Frank J. Brady by 246 votes. He carried Holt and Boyd but lost in Rock and Keya Paha. While here he visited J. T. Knezacek, who will be a fellow member of the unicameral this year. Tony had real competition, as Senator Brady had been a legislator in both the bicameral and unicameral legislatures, and had served the people well in both.

An influx of turkey pickers such as they have never experienced before reported for work at the Butter Factory last week when the Ord Quiz reported through a typographical error that they were paying 75c per bird for picking. The price should have been seven cents. Last week 2671 turkeys were picked at the Butter Factory, but, owing to the cold weather which made delivery of the live birds impossible, the work was discontinued the first of this week. The work will be resumed as soon as more turkeys are available.

Engineers Met Monday.

A meeting of the engineers of Nebraska was scheduled at Kearney Monday, together with inspection trips to Kingsley dam on Sunday and other trips on Monday. R. O. Pierce of the University of Nebraska was one of the speakers. Because of weather conditions no one attended from Ord.

BURWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Huckfeldt and son left Tuesday for California where they expect to spend a month visiting his folks who live at Escondido.

Mrs. E. G. Bilstein of Swan Lake is driving a new Chevrolet which she bought from the Bredthauer Motor company last week. Mike Higgins of Atkinson also bought from Bredthauers last week.

The high winds Sunday disrupted the service from the powerline Sunday evening to such an extent that it became necessary to start up the Burwell municipal plant. The plant was still in operation Tuesday.

Dale Bredthauer was a Grand Island visitor Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Johnson and family, Mrs. T. B. Lindsey and Mrs. H. J. Johnson drove to Norfolk Sunday where they visited his brother Ira and his sister, Mrs. Genevieve Wenzel.

Mrs. Nora Darrah and son spent Saturday in Grand Island. Although Mrs. Darrah has lived in this community most of her life she had never before been to Grand Island.

To the Voters of District No. 4

In this way I wish to express my deepest gratitude for your loyal support on Nov. 5. Without friends, no man can win. So it is with a deep feeling of humility that I look forward to the years ahead. I shall strive to merit your continued trust and confidence. Thank you, friends, each and every one of you.

Ellsworth Ball Jr.

Thank You!

I wish to take this means of thanking all the voters of Valley county for the splendid vote I received for the office of County Judge. In return I shall continue to uphold the duties of the office to the best of my ability. Thank you again.

All Aliens Must Register or Face Stiff Penalties

December 26 Is Closing Date for Alien Registration at Post Office.

This week Postmaster Alfred L. Hill made the statement that while about fifty aliens have registered in Ord since the registration began, there are doubtless many more who must register and that they should not put off this important duty until the last few days.

It takes time to register. The person must first make application and return later for completion of the examination. It is even possible that a third visit to the postoffice may be necessary in some cases. There is a possibility that affidavits from other persons may be required.

The four-month period provided by Congress for the registration and fingerprinting of all aliens is now nearing its close. With a little more than a month to go, officials are facing the task of registering the last 800,000 non-citizens who are either ignorant of the law, negligent, or unwilling to comply with the law.

More than 2,800,000 aliens have registered already. A special effort is being made to contact all who have failed to register through ignorance or neglect. At the end of the registration period those who have deliberately neglected to register will take their places with other criminals and be subject to prosecution under the law.

The following facts about registration are vitally important:

1. All aliens who were in this country as of Aug. 27 must be registered and fingerprinted by Dec. 26, or face a $1000 fine, six months in jail, or both.

2. Alien children under 14 years must be registered by their parents or guardians, but are not fingerprinted.

3. Aliens having registered have still not fully complied with the law unless they notify the Immigration and Naturalization service of the department of justice of any change in permanent residence address within 5 days of such change, on a form available at any post office.

4. Postmasters should be notified immediately in the case of any unregistered alien so that he may take the necessary steps to register him at his place of confinement.

5. Confusion between registration for selective service and alien registration should be cleared up. All male aliens 21 to 36 years old were required to register for the draft, but this did not in any way relieve them of the necessity of registering as aliens.

6. Service by an alien in the World War did not of itself win him citizenship and, unless citizenship was achieved, he must still register as an alien.

7. There are no fees of any kind connected with the registration. Aliens should beware of racketeers who promise to "fix things."

8. The post office department and the department of justice are ready to answer any individual questions about registration. The alien may feel free to call for any assistance that can be rendered.

Ord B. and P. W. Club Plans Book Reviews

At their regular business meeting held Thursday evening at Ben's Grill, members of the Ord Business and Professional Women's club laid plans for the winter series of book reviews which will be held in the Ord township library starting Friday, Nov. 29. Mrs. J. A. Kovanda again will be the reviewer and the public will be invited to attend all reviews. Proceeds of the series will again be used for benefit of the library. Name of the first book to be reviewed will be announced next week.

Webb Will Conduct Rules Meeting Here

O. L. Webb, secretary of the Nebraska Inter-Scholastic Athletic association, will conduct a basketball rules interpretation meeting at 7:30 next Monday evening, Nov. 25, in the Ord high school auditorium, announces Superintendent C. C. Thompson. All coaches, officials and players in the central Nebraska area are expected to attend, as nearest points where other such meetings are to be held are Kearney and Valentine.

Carkoski Is Scoutmaster

Principal C. A. Carkoski of the Hartington schools has accepted the scoutmastership of a troop of Scouts there that is in the process of reorganization. Mr. Carkoski will be remembered as a graduate of Ord high school, class of 1923. He has been teacher and coach at Hartington for a number of years.

Jack Weaver Second Healthiest Young Citizen

In the Nebraska young citizenship contest held in Omaha Monday under the auspices of the American Legion and the Omaha World-Herald, Jack Weaver of Ord placed 2nd in health among boys competing with a point total of 144.5 out of a possible 150.

This total was surpassed only by Leslie R. Krebs, of Rushville, who had 144.8 points and was awarded first place.

Among the girls Jackie Stratton, of Stockham, led with 145.3 points and Virginia Foote, of Omaha, was second with 144.4.

To win the honor of competing at Omaha, young Weaver first won in Valley county competition and then in district competition. His expenses on the Omaha trip were paid by the sponsors and he was entertained by them while in the city. In finals of the contest, which included mental tests, Jack did not place.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Weaver, of Ord, is a member of the Ord high school senior class, of the Hi-Y and the French club.

The Quiz Again Will Guarantee Weather

In the face of predictions that the winter of 1940-41 will be a stormy one, The Quiz again has decided to "guarantee the weather" for all public sales advertised in this newspaper.

By "guaranteeing the weather" we mean that anybody who plans to have a farm sale may arrange to have his bills made and his advertising done by this newspaper and know that he will have to pay for his advertising only once regardless of how many times storms or bad roads may force postponement of the sale.

If a storm makes it necessary for you to postpone your sale, The Quiz will make new bills for you and insert your ad again free of charge, providing it was advertised originally in this newspaper.

"Guaranteed weather" was introduced to central Nebraska last winter by The Quiz, and proved very popular. If you plan to have a sale this winter, see The Quiz first for your advertising. This offer does not apply if the bulk of your advertising is done elsewhere and only a small ad ordered in this newspaper. You must do the bulk of your advertising in the Quiz to get the safety of "guaranteed weather" for your sale.

With close to 3,000 subscribers, The Quiz has the largest circulation and the lowest advertising rate in the entire Loup Valley region. These facts, plus "guaranteed weather," make The Quiz the place to advertise your sale.

Cosmos Entertained by Group of Campfire Girls

The Cosmopolitan club has changed its meeting night to Thursday and are meeting at Thorne's Cafe, Thursday evening they had as a part of the program Mrs. E. L. Kokes and a representative from each of the four active Camp Fire groups. They were Mariamne Russell, Monica Jean Gnaster, Helen Kokes and Priscilla Flaeg.

They held an interview thereby bringing out what had been done in the work, what they were planning to do, and what they liked best about Camp Fire work.

The proposition of having the club sponsor the new unit, the Eluta group, was discussed. Ed Gnaster will sponsor the group. Mrs. John L. Andersen is the guardian of the Elutas and they meet each Monday after school.

Evangelist G. B. Dunning of the Christian church was present and played selections on his violin. Victor Hall of Holdrege was introduced as a guest by his brother-in-law, John Misko. The Cosmopolitans are meeting tonight at Thorne's Cafe on account of tomorrow being Thanksgiving.

Martin Rasmussen to Sell

Noll Seed Company to Hold Flower Show

The annual flower show of the Noll Seed company will be held Saturday and as usual a flower will be given to each lady attending. Orchids and gardenias will be on display, as well as cut flowers, and new designs in funeral pieces, wedding bouquets, corsages, wreaths and grave blankets, each, center pieces, etc., will be shown. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noll are both experts in floral arrangements and recently attended the state florists' convention for new ideas. Their show will open at 10 a. m., continue until 8 p. m., at which hour all cut flowers, remaining unsold, will be auctioned off.

Don Guggenmos Places High in National Contest

One of Nation's Ten Best in Dairy Products Judging; 5 Ord Boys Went.

Don Guggenmos, one of the Ord high school Future Farmers who entered the national contests at Kansas City last week, won recognition there in dairy products judging. Rated as one of the nation's ten best, he received a medal, ribbon and $5.00 in cash. He competed in a field of over 100 contestants in the dairy products division, which includes the three top ranking high school judges from each state. The 3-man team from Nebraska, of which Don was a member, placed fifth. The team was coached by J. A. Kovanda, of Ord.

Other local F. F. A. students attending the American Royal Livestock Show were Frank Zadina, Eldon Smolik, Leonard Kokes and Edward Rousek.

One of these boys, Frank Zadina, gave a free trip as a guest of the Burlington railroad as a reward for the record he made in vocational agriculture.

Ord People Hear Famous Aviator, Maj. Al Williams

In Omaha last week attending the joint press conference of Iowa and Nebraska newspaper editors, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Leggett had the opportunity to become acquainted with Major Al Williams, famous aviator who once held most of the world's air speed records. He was the principal speaker at the Iowa-Nebraska Press association banquet at the Rome hotel Friday evening.

Major Williams is an isolationist, being convinced that the United States is being used by Great Britain to that empire's advantage. The nation's defense program is almost helplessly bogged down, he stated. There is no immediate danger of war with Germany unless we deliberately enter the war at England's bidding, Major Williams feels. This country should not spend billions of dollars building a two ocean navy, as is being done, but should spend the money for aircraft and air bases, he feels. The talk was intensely interesting.

The press group was entertained by the Omaha chamber of commerce, by the World-Herald, by the Elks club glee club and by other Omaha organizations. A program of talks on newspaper subjects was carried out Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, Mr. Leggett speaking on the Saturday program.

Canvassers Find Error in North Loup Voting

The election canvassing board completed its work last week and found that there were very few changes in the result. The one change of interest is that they found the vote on the county proposition and the vote on the first constitutional amendment had been transposed in the book by the North Loup election board.

This made it appear that North Loup was in favor of changing the county government by a vote of 205 to 107, when, as a matter of fact, they voted for the present system by a vote of 252 to 63.

There were several township officers in which the vote was close, and in some cases the mail vote could have decided either way. For assessor in Enterprise, Edgar Roe won over George Bell by a final vote of 59 to 33; for justice in Liberty, C. J. Daniap defeated Anton Samla, 49 to 43; for overseer in Dist. 18, J. H. Hrubly defeated James Sedlacek by a vote of 29 to 27.

For overseer in Dist. 13 Delbert Holmes beat Bill Rose 17 to 16 at first, but one mail vote made it a tie at 17 all. This made the third tie for overseer, the others being Homer Willard and Ed Pochock, tied with 8 votes each in Dist. 28, and Forrest Nelson and Ralph Ackles tied with 11 votes each in Dist. 11.

John Welnak Will Sell

John Welnak has decided to move to Welnak so he has booked a clean-up sale for Monday, Dec. 2. See his offering listed in next week's Quiz. Don't forget, also, Joe Wegrzyn's big clean-up sale which is being held Monday, Nov. 25. Included in the offering are 76 head of good Hereford cattle. See his sale ad on page 8 today.

Richard Koupal Honored

Richard Koupal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Koupal of Ord, has been selected as one of the ten soloists for the University of Nebraska's annual Christmas presentation of Handel's oratorio, "The Messiah" at the university coliseum, Dec. 15. A sophomore in the Teacher's college, Mr. Koupal will sing the aria, "Every Valley."

New Rotary Club Member

At the meeting of the Rotary club Monday evening, C. E. Rasmussen of the Western Auto Supply store was introduced as a new member. Merrill Williams, a Rotarian from Englewood, Calif., was a guest. Speakers were Clarence M. Davis and E. C. Leggett.

Attend Youth Rally

Three cars full of young people and their leaders from Ord attended the youth rally and supper at the Cotesfield U. B. church Friday evening. Rev. Paul Dick of Meria, state youth director of the U. B. church, spoke. Rev. J. C. Jones of Grand Island sang. Willard and Virus Harkness sang a duet. Rev. Mikkelhern, missionary from Nigeria, Africa, was the guest speaker.

Those who attended from Ord were Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Waterman, Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Harkness, Virus and Willard Harkness, Thelma King, Marie and Maxine Jones, Merle Worrell, Lily Christoffersen, and Rev. and Mrs. O. Englebretson and son Herschel.

Roy Divan Purchases Albion Variety Store

Roy Divan, who was employed for a time as druggist in the Sorenson Drug store, and who since then has been looking the field over with the view to going into business for himself, has purchased the Whiting Variety store in Albion, and is now in possession of the business.

Mr. Divan was formerly owner of the present Emery Drug company in Greeley. While in Ord the family lived in the Orcutt property at 1617 O street. Their friends will be glad to know that they have a good business in a good town.

Missionary Institute Held in Ord Sunday

A sub-district missionary institute was held at the Ord Methodist church Sunday afternoon, Nov. 17. Rev. F. E. Pfoutz of Kearney, district superintendent, was present and gave the principal address.

Rev. Grier Hunt of Erickson led the discussion on "Church School Workers." Rev. L. A. Fishel of Palmer on "Youth and Youth Leaders." Rev. J. Bruce Wylie of Burwell on "Laymen and Lay Leaders," and Mrs. Ewet Smith of Ord on "Woman's Society of Christian Service."

Rev. M. M. Long, local pastor was in charge of the meeting in which brief reports were given from each seminar. In closing a "Final Word" was offered by Rev. L. A. Fishel. Delegates attended from Burwell, Erickson, Greeley, Palmer, North Loup and Ord.

Tea Celebrates No. Loup Library's 15th Anniversary

Nolo Club Sponsored Library Originally, Village Twp. and Two Clubs Support It.

North Loup — (Special) — The North Loup public library celebrated its fifteenth birthday Monday with a birthday tea held in the library with members of the board serving. Nearly seven dollars was taken in from the silver offering and the sale of the birthday cake.

Sponsored by the Nolo club fifteen years ago, with Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock, Mrs. Geo. C. Smith, Mrs. G. L. Hutchins and Mrs. Lily Jones Goodrich as board members, the library has grown from about 300 books, most of them given by interested people, to more than 3,000. There are books of reference, history, fiction and non-fiction. There are also many magazines.

All the funds in the treasury fifteen years ago was a penny found when the building used was being cleaned. The village and township boards were appealed to for help and each gives $50.00 a year.

After a few months the Fortnightly club joined in the support of the project and each club now has three members on the board. Mrs. Jessie T. Babcock is the only member of the original board who is still serving.

Until the last few years board members took turns serving as librarian, but for about five years NOLA funds have been available for a librarian. Delpha Williams is acting as present.

The building used originally was the small red one-room house that stands back of the sewing center. In a short time a room in the community building was set aside and until it was moved recently to the old Bohrer undertaking parlors, while the new community building is being constructed this room has been used.

The library has been self supporting except for the funds given by the village and township boards. Fines for keeping books too long bring in some and each year a birthday tea is held. Now the clubs must pay the rent and recently a benefit card party sponsored by the Fortnightly club netted $25.00.

Samla Sale Nov. 29th

Anton J. Samla is holding a clean-up sale Friday, Nov. 29 and plans to move with his family to California. His big offering is listed on page 10 today.

She Got Chance to Hear Newlyweds Say "I Do"

Perhaps the most interesting job held by any Ord high school senior during American Education Week was that of Miss Evelyn Dworak, who assisted in the county judge's office, for she got a chance to serve as official witness at weddings and hear newlyweds say "I do!" Above Miss Dworak holds the book while Judge Andersen administers the marriage vows. Eighty-three other senior boys and girls worked in offices and stores last week, many at tasks almost as interesting as Miss Dworak's. Other pictures of seniors at work will be found inside.

Tractor Fuel Is Dangerous Used in Stoves or Lamps

Tractor fuel is more dangerous than either gasoline or kerosene if used in stoves, lamps or brooder stoves and farmers are warned against it by Pat Brown, of Grand Island, technician with Nebraska's traveling petroleum laboratory, who was in Ord Monday and Tuesday. He was accompanied by Harold Taylor, of St. Paul, motor fuel inspector in this territory.

Gasoline mixed with kerosene is far more dangerous than either alone, says Mr. Brown. He explains that gasoline flashes upon igniting whereas the mixture explodes. This mixture often occurs when kerosene is put into a container which formerly held gasoline. A mixture of even 1 per cent is dangerous, he warns.

A number of accidents from the improper use of tractor fuel or of mixed fuels occurred in Nebraska last year and serious injuries and deaths resulted, say Brown and Taylor.

The state's traveling laboratory which was in Ord this week is the second unit in use, the first having been put on in October, 1939. This unit is new in every respect and has been on the road less than a month. Inside it is equipped with four separate stills for gasoline and tractor fuel.

The stills are on a special table with leveling arrangement, since they must be operated on an exact level. There is also a flash test outfit for kerosene, an ice box, and a kerosene heater. The stills are heated with bottled gas. The heater is equipped with fluorescent lights, ventian blinds, and a special ventilating system.

The total cost of the unit including the automobile, was $3,500, and the cost is paid by an inspection fee from the oil dealers, without any cost to oil consumers. Kerosene which flashes under 115 degrees Fahrenheit, is dangerous to use, and gasoline that requires a heat greater than 437 degrees Fahrenheit is often mixed with kerosene or tractor fuel. The object in this mixture is to avoid the state tax, there being none on either tractor fuel or kerosene.

Their greatest trouble is in finding gas mixed with kerosene, the state men say.

In each town visited by the traveling laboratory Mr. Taylor goes to the service stations and gathers the samples of fuel, which are tested by Mr. Brown. The object of the service is to educate dealers as well as the general public as to what they are actually getting for their money.

Cheskehamay Camp Fire

The Cheskehamay Camp Fire group met at the home of Monica Jean Gnaster Tuesday. Election of officers was held: Darlene Puncocchar, president; Darlene Whiting, vice-president; Monica Jean Gnaster, secretary; Arvilla Suchanek, treasurer; Vidella Suchanek, song leader; Vivian Zikmund, reporter; Dorothy Blaha, entertainment committee. Darlene Whiting, Arvilla and Vidella Suchanek were taken in as new members. Monica Jean Gnaster, Darlene Puncocchar, Dorothy Blaha and Vivian Zikmund have just completed the Wood Gatherer's rank.—Vivian Zikmund.

Legion Held a Shoot Sunday, Another Coming

The American Legion boys held a turkey and goose shoot at the Joe Gregory place on Turtle Creek Sunday afternoon. A number of local men participated and won birds, and a good time was had by all who attended.

Because of popular demand, another shoot will be held in the same location next Sunday afternoon and there will be plenty of turkeys and geese for all who want to try their skill. The Legion boys will appreciate your attendance, and assure you of a good time, weather permitting.

No Draftees from Valley County in Call for Nov. 19

Enough Volunteers to Fill County Quota in First Call, Henninger Says.

Because of the fact that only a few men are needed in the initial draft of Nov. 19, Guy L. Henninger, brigadier general and state director of the selective draft, has informed local secretary A. A. Wiegardt that there will be no call for men from Valley county in the first draft. Total number of men Valley county must furnish in the drafts totaling 800,000 to be called up before next summer is 115 but when they will be called is uncertain.

It is also understood that volunteers will be credited to the county in lieu of draftees, and that, if the number of volunteers is sufficient to take care of the county's quota, there will be no drafted men. In many places the volunteers have exceeded the present quota, and will apply on the next.

The one thing that men do not like about the volunteer system at present is that they cannot go when they volunteer, but must wait until the next regular draft. There is no certainty when the next draft will be, since the government must have preparations made to take care of recruits before they can be called.

The governor has not yet designated an advisory board for Valley county, but for the present those registrants who desire assistance in filling out their questionnaires may go to the law offices of Davis and Vogelzanz or Munn and Norman. These attorneys will be glad to assist until an official board has been designated. Mr. Dykstra, the national director, has advised that all questionnaires must be submitted in ink.

Questionnaires were mailed from the local board on Nov. 19, but not more than one hundred are to be mailed at this time. The office of the local board for Valley county is in the county court house in the office of the county attorney, and the official bulletin board will be in the lobby of that office, which also adjoins the sheriff's office.

Annual Dinner, Bazaar, Was Pronounced Success

The annual turkey dinner and bazaar held in the basement of the Ord Methodist church Saturday evening was a pronounced success in every way, and much credit must be given the ladies for their work in handling the large crowd as well as they did.

A total of 350 people were present for the supper and the bazaar was very successful. A fine sum of money was raised by the ladies for the benefit of the church, and they greatly appreciate the liberal patronage they received.

1 Cars in Only 21 Hours

The sale of four new Chevrolet in less than a 24-hour period is the record of the Ord Auto Sales company. Local buyers were Hilding Pearson and Emil Zikmund, while one car was taken by E. V. Gruber, of Los Angeles, and another by a man from Palmer, Neb.

Unusual Weather Once More Returns to Normal

Following the very unusual weather conditions of the first of last week, the latter part of the week brought rising temperatures, and most of the snow has disappeared, furnishing needed moisture in fields where the wind did not blow it away.

Yesterday was threatening, but reported snow did not materialize here during the night. At ten a. m. today the mercury stood just at the freezing point. It is a welcome relief from the storm of last week, in which more than fifty lives were lost.

"THEY COME! THE GREEKS!"

Greece, one of the smallest nations of Europe, with an army and armament which has called forth the contempt of the more war-minded nations, is again coming to the front in affairs of world-wide importance. In this she is furnishing the second great surprise of the European conflict, the first being the resistance of Finland to Russian aggression.

It may well be that in Greece the Central Powers have found the stumbling block that will lead to their ultimate downfall. Italy is using all the arts of modern warfare against the Greek mountaineers, and apparently to no avail. The Greeks, early exponents of personal liberty, still prize that liberty enough to fight for its preservation.

One must not forget that in the Greeks of today there still flows the blood of ancient Greeks, who defend their little country against the mighty hordes of Xerxes, Darius and others, who outnumbered them ten to one. At times they were overcome, but their spirit was never conquered. Today with their comparatively inefficient weapons in their hands and the spirit of liberty in their hearts they are more than a match for the well armed and equipped invader.

We in America with a history of less than two centuries as a nation, cannot understand the spirit of a race which conquered the world more than twenty centuries ago. In 490, B. C., the Greeks were fighting the Medes and Persians under Darius in that mighty battle on the plains of Marathon, within modern gunshot of the walls of Athens. History gives us a vivid picture of the glorious victory they won there.

Ten years later Leonidas and his 300 Spartans held the pass of Thermopylae for three days against the mighty hordes of Xerxes and won for themselves immortality. Shortly after the Persian fleet was defeated by a much smaller Greek fleet, and Xerxes decided to give up his attempt to conquer a race who did not know when they were defeated.

Little more than a century later there rose a king in Macedonia, Philip, who planned a world conquest which his son, Alexander the Great, consummated. It is interesting to note that Italy tried to drive into the same Macedonia which knew Philip and Alexander, and that the modern Greeks seem to understand mountain fighting fully as well as did their illustrious ancestors.

BOY SCOUTS ALSO SERVE.

Military training has no part in the program of the Boy Scouts of America. Perhaps there was a time when the general public associated the trim natty uniforms of the Boy Scouts with their ideas of army life, but the public knows better today. The record of the World War rectified that mistake.

The Boy Scouts took no part in the war, they stayed at home and did their part here, where they sold millions of dollars worth of liberty bonds, gathered tons of fruit pits for gas masks, and located thousands of walnut trees for the aircraft industry. Their record was a brilliant one indeed.

Now, with the nation focussing its attention on a vast defense program, the Boy Scouts will again have a duty to perform, but that duty will not be of a military nature. The boys have been working on their own emergency training plank. It calls for intensified practice in the activities for which Scouting is already best known.

Naturally when men are called from home to train for their country's defense, the opportunities for Boy Scouts to do worth while work at home are increased. The boys must be ready for any form of service, whether it be house-to-house canvassing, or sudden mobilization in an occasion of natural disaster.

Ord is fortunate in having a large and active Boy Scout troop, under the direction of a Scoutmaster who has made a careful study of the duties and requirements of his office. The citizens may rest assured that when and if the opportunity comes, these young men will not fail us in the time of need.

CITIES ELECTED ROOSEVELT.

Now that the returns are all in and the facts are available, it is easy to figure out just where Roosevelt got the vote that put him in the White House for the third term. Definitely it was the solid South and the big cities of the North.

This is no wild dream, but a mathematical fact, as is shown by figures given out by Capper's Weekly. These figures prove that the farm and small town voters favored Willkie, and that not a single city in the United States with more than 400,000 population went Republican.

The state of New York, outside of New York City, gave Willkie a majority of 496,733, but New York City went democratic by 728,336 and gave the state to Roosevelt. The democratic majority in New York City was greater than the entire vote in the state of Nebraska.

Illinois, exclusive of Chicago, went Republican by 200,948, but Chicago made the state democratic by piling up a majority of 295,256. Missouri went republican except for St. Louis and Kansas City, which switched the state to the democratic side.

The reason behind this vote is evident. The people in the cities are largely regimented. They vote as the leaders of their groups tell them to vote. Included in these groups are labor organizations, the machine vote of big political bosses, and those dependent upon the government for their jobs.

In Nebraska, which has no big labor organizations, no cities dominated by political bosses, and where the dependent poor dare to think for themselves, we find that fully 30% of the electorate changed into the republican column from 1936 to 1940. About the same thing happened in Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and the Dakotas, states similar to Nebraska.

The farmers and small townsmen must realize from now on that they can hope to have little effect in elections. The solid south furnished half of Roosevelt's winning margin in the popular vote, the big cities furnished the other half. It is passing strange that in the six republican states of the middle west we find the last stronghold of democracy.

CITIZEN VERSUS ALIEN.

There is a contrast between the citizen of the United States and the privileges he enjoys as compared with the alien with our borders. In the past we have been too lax in our requirements of the alien, with the result that in many cases the alien has enjoyed all the privileges of citizenship without going to the trouble of becoming a citizen.

Now, because of the dangers from without, we are turning our eyes toward the dangers from within. In order that the government may know who they are and where they may be located, Congress passed a law recently requiring that all aliens be registered, and also that they must notify the department of justice of any change of permanent address.

There should be a difference between the privileges of the citizen and the alien, and there certainly is a decided difference in all foreign countries. Just why our government has been so lenient with the alien in the past is hard to understand, but this leniency has been the cause of so many foreigners failing to become citizens.

If the laws concerning aliens were applied as strictly as they should be, the value of citizenship would be enhanced. For example, no American organization, bearing a charter granted by the United States, should accept for membership any person not a citizen of the country under the protection of whose laws they operate.

For example, a man was a volunteer fireman in a Nebraska town for years, for several years was treasurer of the organization, paid poll tax and voted at both municipal and general elections, and then, quite by accident the fact was brought out that he had not even made application for his first papers. This case is not an exceptional one and proves that greater care should be exercised.

Our labor organizations operate under charters granted by the United States, yet they have within their ranks thousands of aliens. The best way to induce these men to become citizens is to refuse them membership in any labor organization until they can exhibit a certificate of citizenship. The way to make a man prize the rights of citizenship is to make him earn those rights first.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

The Allred tomato has been our choice in this locality for several years. Results from our tomato variety test plots in and around Ord this season strengthen this faith in Allreds.

Here in town we planted seven kinds of tomatoes, with an equal number of plants of every kind, in adjoining rows. All tomatoes harvested from each row were weighed. Following are the yields from these tomato varieties in our small plot:

Allred	63 pounds
Bison	52 pounds
Earliana	46 pounds
Ruby	29 pounds
Piresteel	27 pounds
John Baer	24 pounds
Victor	7 pounds

Victor tomatoes did not have a fair chance in the above tryout. They were too near a row of shrubbery. In another test conducted by Leonard Kokes as an FFA project, Victor was tops.

Yields per plant in Leonard's test are as follows:

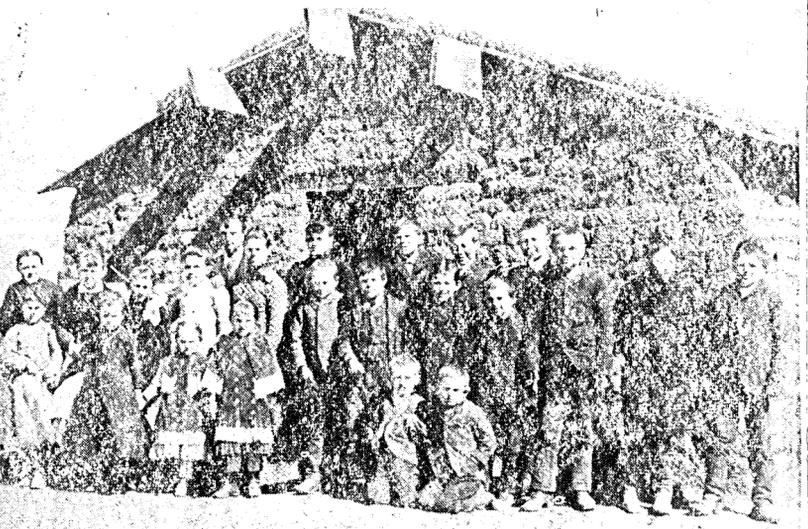

Victor	24 pounds
Allred	20 pounds
Ruby	16-13 pounds
Bison	15 pounds
Piresteel	7 1/2 pounds
Earliana	7 1/4 pounds
John Baer	5 pounds

A third trial was made by Adolf Urbanovsky, also for an FFA project. But his patch was flooded, then frozen on the night of Sept. 10th. Tomatoes harvested per plant up to that time are given below:

Allred	1 pound
Bison	9-10 pound
Piresteel	2-3 pound
Earliana	1-2 pound
Victor	1-3 pound
Ruby	1-4 pound
John Baer	1-4 pound

One of our farmer friends compared Allred and Ruby with two old standard varieties, John Baer and Marglobe. Grown under similar dry-land conditions, both improved kinds produced far more than the old varieties, and Allred beat Ruby by a slight margin.

Future Citizens Got Their Education In This Sod School House

Not all Valley county children get their education in the fine frame school houses that dot the landscape today. Above is shown the school house in Dist. 32 back in the year 1889. This school is located in Eureka township, and Bert LeMasters was the teacher for two years there. He can be seen in the rear and to the left. He could recall only a few of the group, as he taught 30 years, and this was his first school, which he taught at the age of 22 years. He recalled the third boy from the right as Ed Vandas. The boy in the middle row and in front of the middle of the door is Jake Osentowski, now of Comstock. His sister, Katie Osentowski, is the girl in the figured dress to the left. If you know any others, please let the Quiz know, as we want the names of all of them.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

I'm To Blame.

As I drove into town the other evening, the fire whistle blew. Little did I realize at that moment that I would turn out to be the hero of that fire. Well, perhaps the word "hero" is not quite the right term, but if it hadn't been for me this fire would have never happened.

I soon discovered the fire was at the house where now lives Bill McMinds. My father built that house when I was a boy and I lived there many years. Although I am not a fireman, I decided, in that I had helped to build it, I would like to watch it die, too, and go up to—oh heck—go up in smoke.

The first house we had there was a two room building my father had bought with chimneys on both ends, which is now the kitchen and part of the next room south. My father built the addition on the south, two stories, dovetailing it into the smaller part as best he could.

Before we bought a furnace we used both those chimneys with a wood heater at the south one. After we bought the furnace we never used the south chimney. For some reason the carpentry around that chimney and at the union of the houses was never good and every time it rained, water would leak in and mess things up in great shape. Those were the days when it rained too, and we were in a dither all the time with plaster falling off and the paper getting stained.

One day in disgust I climbed the roof and knocked that chimney off down to below the gable. Then I found some boards and bought a bundle of shingles and built the roof solid leaving the lower part of the chimney as it was. I might have taken the whole chimney out but that would have been more work, replastering, reflooring and redecorating. I stopped the leak anyway and that was the main thing.

As I came up to the house the other day I found there were dozens of firemen about, all over and in the house. Smoke filled the house and a tiny bit was trickling out of the center of the roof where several men were chopping fiercely into the gable. That chimney that I had covered up was a lost memory to me until that moment. Then it all came back, all this I have told of the leakage, of the repair, of my boyhood days.

"Right under where they're chopping is a chimney," I explained. I stuttered, even scratched my head. "You don't suppose, you don't suppose, a, a, they could have set a stove up at that chimney do you?"

The hole was in the roof by then and the smoke began rolling out, just as it had twenty years ago from our old wood burner. And the strange part of it was, Mrs. McMinds said they had had a fire there for several days. Where do you suppose that smoke went—filled the gable and rafters, perhaps, to a saturation point?

I'm sorry I didn't get there quicker. I might have saved them chopping the hole in the roof. At any rate, I'm all to blame.

Buzzards.

Rev. Ehret said he saw a buzzard out Mira Valley way not long ago. I might have told him I did not believe it were it not for the fact that he has lived in a country where there were buzzards and that he is a naturalist proved kinds produced far more than the old varieties, and Allred beat Ruby by a slight margin. We were a bit disappointed in Ruby, that highly touted variety whose seed cost us $64 a pound. However, we would still recommend this attractive pinkish-red Ruby as a better than average tomato to raise here.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

It will be only a few weeks until the legislature will meet. If there is something that you think should be done by this winter's session, take the time and go to the trouble of see our senator, J. T. Knezacek. Tell him about it. Give him your ideas. Many voters from the four counties of this district should contact Mr. Knezacek between now and January 1. Naturally he will not be able to get all the things done that you all want done, but it will help him to know what you want done and to have your ideas as to how to go about getting it done. If you fail to do this don't blame Joe if the thing you are interested in is not thought of at Lincoln.

If, at the end of the next four years, we are not in the war, and there is another general presidential election called, and Roosevelt or one of the boys are not candidates, it is going to be embarrassing for some of the 1940 republican orators to face the 1944 crowds.

I wish more people would take advantage of the Public Pulse department of this paper to discuss the current issues. There should be three or four communications each week and they could not only be of much interest, but could be of much benefit also.

Harry Coffey was elected in the late election in the 5th congressional district, a strong republican district, in a year when the state went strongly republican. He estranged many votes in his own party by refusing to support Roosevelt for a third term. Now if he could support and put through the necessary legislation to make one 6-year term the limit he would be doing a good work.

Nebraska is not likely to get any great amount of consideration when this administration is looking around for places to locate defense factories, training fields, and the like.

It is convenient for some people for us to continue sending the paper after the time paid for has expired. We do it in hundreds of cases and the large majority of the people thus favored, pay us. But there is a considerable percent who never do so and the losses on these probably more than make up for losses we would have by being strict and stopping within a few days after the time expired. And then there is a small percent who tell us or write us, after they owe us a year or more, that they don't want the paper; that we should have stopped it when out. They take that method of paying their bill and probably are able to save their conscience in that way. But the fact remains that there is just one right way to run a newspaper, do it just like the daily papers do, stop when the time is out.

I have been expecting for some time that Senator Burke would come out as a republican. Had he filed as a republican last spring he might have won the nomination. Now, while it is only my guess, he will probably try to succeed Senator Norris in 1942. Chairman Kenneth Wherry may also feel that he is entitled to that job and if so, may try conclusions with Burke. Wherry has long been what I term a liberal republican. He has made a wonderful chairman and the republicans of Nebraska owe him much.

Mrs. Bert Barnes Writes. The Bert Barnes family moved to LaCrosse, Wis., Oct. 12. Bert went there Sept. 2, and has a very good job there, with spare time to fish for wall-eyed pike, of which he has caught quite a few. They like their new home fine, and wish to be remembered to their many friends here, who will find them at 424 North 4th street, if they wish to write.

Something Different

So I saw a hockey game, and gosh was it thrilling? Never before had I had chance to see ice hockey played, and though I have always heard it was a fast, rough game, still it was so much more speedy than I had anticipated. So fast I couldn't see it all.

It was the opening of the season for the Omaha players, who are titled Knights of Ax-Sar-Ben. The ice field on which the game was played was as big as a football field, kept smoothly frozen by pipes a half-inch under the ice which show through like lathes through thin plaster. Far over head were about three dozen huge lights, so bright that not a shadow was cast.

The arena was filled with people, the seats rising tier on tier like a football stadium. And the people were fascinated by this game which centers around a hard rubber disc called a puck, a tiny thing weighing a bit over two ounces. About as big as an orange, but able to take long, hard punishment, as we saw.

It took me a good while to get used to the grotesque costumes of the players. Most of them played with bare heads, but the rest of their bodies was heavily over-stuffed from shoo tops to necks. If you put on ten heavy woolen under-wear, one over the other, you would look something like they did, then add stiff elbow pads, huge stiff gloves, shoulder pads, knee pads and so on.

They were brawny fellows, looking bigger still in awkwardly large shorts and shirts. The St. Louis opponents wore red and white stripes with occasional bands of blue with white stars. The Omaha uniforms were red pants, white shirts, touches of green here and there.

Perspiration dripped from these fellows as they played, and no wonder, for all the speediest features of football and basketball and ice skating seemed to be combined, to me.

The tiny puck was tossed between two facing opponents, as a basketball toss-up, and their cur-joe sticks swatted it so fast I could barely see it. Then the players were off, the puck speeding across the ice as the sticks of the players slashed at it. The skating was beautiful, too expert to describe, every quick and clever turn and race that is possible on skates.

There seemed to be guarding as in basketball, but at each end of the field was a goal as in football. A goal made like a half-chicken coop, of wire, and before it stood a youth more padded than all the others. It was this goalie's duty to keep the little puck from entering the coop, for if it did his enemies had scored a dearly wanted p int.

The referee and linesman were also on skates, and extra nimble about it, too. For rule breaking or extra rough playing they sent players to the penalty box. . . often amid much referee booing, as in what game?

We were fortunate in having fine seats in Mr. Hovey's box on what may be called the fifty yard line, and also in having friends to explain it all to us. The boxes began a foot or two higher than the floor, then climbed rapidly. It was coolish, also as in football, and many blankets were in evidence.

The game was played in three periods of twenty minutes each, a neon marked clock running backwards, to my great amusement. You know, the seconds slipping from 20 to 19 to 18, and so on.

Unusual was it to find strict rules against smoking in this big show. . . the explanation was that the players couldn't breathe or see when it got so thick. Something I liked was the continuous action, time-outs were brief and infrequent, not long and draggy as in football. Tell me now, did you like this hockey game? Oh, yes, Omaha won, 4 to 1.

Irma.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Pete Darges is the exact opposite of a bear, it seems. A bear hibernates in winter and comes out in summer. We don't see so much of Pete in summer, but when the first cold snap comes along he is out trotting around town as happy as a lark, with his arms full of the tools of his trade.

Through a case of misinformation last week we had the Walt Douthitt family moving into the house formerly occupied by the Joki Rohde family. They moved instead into the Joe L. Dvorak house. It was the Herman Behrends family that moved into the former Rohde house.

In the Quiz last week appeared an Ord Theater ad of a picture named, "Girl In 313". The result was that Ed Dlugosh and Cletus Rieglein wanted to go for the Quiz mail the next day. You see, the Quiz postoffice box is numbered "313" and they are the only single fellows on the Quiz force.

Tomorrow, I. C. Clark, John L. Ward and Christina Petersen celebrate their birthdays, and, thanks to President Roosevelt, they have their first opportunity to celebrate on Thanksgiving Day. The same might be said for the Mortensen's twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

If your car has starting trouble as the weather gets colder, there is one sure-fire prescription:—

HIGHER TEST (more volatile) GASOLINE
That's a perfect description of Phillips 66 Poly Gas.

During the coming winter months, you can confidently expect... based on past experience... that the Volatility Number (high test rating) of this amazing motor fuel will be 50 per cent higher than the average Volatility Number of premium price gasolines.

Think of it! Most motor fuels, including those which cost 2¢ extra per gallon, will not come within hailing distance of the volatility given by Phillips 66 Poly Gas, which sells at regular price. If you wonder how Phillips can afford to be so generous with high test quality, remember that Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Find out for yourself how this extra high test gasoline gives extra fast starting, even after your car has been standing all night in the cold. Note the faster warm-up. Feel the improvement in power and pick-up. And don't forget, you get more mileage, because you save the gasoline usually wasted by excessive use of the choke with low test motor fuel.

Tonight, get a trial tankful of extra high test Phillips 66 Poly Gas, without paying a penny extra. Then tomorrow, you can touch the button and START everytime, no matter how cold the day.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

Jack Weaver was one of the two boys chosen as district winners in the World-Herald American Legion Young Citizenship contest from this district, consisting of Blaine, Loup, Garfield, Wheeler, Custer, Valley, Greeley, Sherman, Howard, Merrick, York, Hamilton and Hall counties. He left for Lincoln on the bus Friday afternoon and went from there to Omaha Sunday, where the final tests began at 7:30 a. m., Monday, Nov. 18.

The junior class has selected their class play and the tentative cast has been selected. The play selected was the three act farce comedy, "Wanted, A Hero," and it will be given at the high school auditorium Dec. 10. Participating in the play in the several roles will be Mary Miller, Betty Timmerman, Ruth Jorgensen, Gould Flagg, Edward Rousek, Eldon Wachter, Jean Carlson, Jean Veleba, Beverly Davis, Jerry Fryzek, Orrel Koelting and Junior Petska.

The following persons were placed on the honor roll because they received all A's, or 3 A's and one B on their report cards—Seniors: Thelma Collins, Angeline Koelling, Loren Meese, Kathryn Work, Doris Cushing, Harry McBeth, David Miller, Marian Wardrop, Juniors: Irene Auble, Beverly Davis, Elaine Gross, Thelma Bell, Elva Fuss, Mary Koufack, Dorothy Penas, Le Vay Umstead, Amelia Lohr; sophomores: Elizabeth Kovanda, Robert James, Ray Vogelitz, Ruth Almquist, freshmen: Don Auble, Donata Johnson, Maxine Jones, Hilda Lohr, Marilyn Long, Wilma Stowell, Virginia Thomson, Ray VanSlyke, grade 8: Patty Achen, Barbara Parks, Gail Hall, Marie Jones, Ted Randolph, Marguerite Misko, Darlene Whiting; grade 7: Carolyn Anderson, Dot Kokes, Norma Long, Bob Marks, Marilyn Ollis, Maynard Zlomke; honorable mention: Irene Kovarik, Geraldine Noll, Keith Kovanda, Roberta Stoddard.

The Ord junior high boys have closed the football season, winning all their games but the final one at Kearney. The following boys won letters this year: Captain Milo Rose, Robert Severson, Robert Lehecka, Roland Beran, Robert McCall, George Dworak, Lloyd Hurlbert, Donald Atkinson, Reynard Loft, Charles Sowers, Junior Wilson, Eldon Cetak, Lyle Stewart, Loyal Hurlbert.

Ernie Parkos Saved His Turkeys in Recent Storm

Early in October the Quiz published a story and photo of Venell Parkos, 5 miles north of Aralia, who was raising 764 turkeys for market. Recently Venell sold about 340 of the older ones, and went to Denver, where he had a job, leaving the care of the turkeys to his younger brother, Ernie. Ernie had plenty to worry about when the blizzard came the Sunday before Armistice Day. He watched them carefully and saw that they all got up into the trees where they were accustomed to roost at night. As turkeys can stand a great deal of cold while on the roost, he felt that they would get along all right.

The next morning, however, he found that they had gotten off the roosts and had gone down over a bank into a box canyon which had drifted full of snow. He shoveled snow for eight hours and finally found the birds, all but 50 of which were still alive. They are alive now and doing fine, and Ernie has a right to feel proud of his success in saving them.

Written by Rex Wagner

Rev. and Mrs. Everett Major and two children of Troy, Mich., arrived in Burwell Monday noon where they will spend a week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Asa Anderson and other relatives and friends. Rev. Major will preach in the Congregational church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. They left their home in Michigan at 1:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon and drove all night long to reach their destination in less than twenty-four hours.

Jack Doran drove to Atkinson Monday where he attended funeral services for his great-uncle Mike McCarthy, who for many years operated a large ranch near Inez. Mrs. Harry Doran of Lincoln also attended the last rites. George McGinley of Ogallala stopped in Burwell Sunday on his way to Atkinson where he, too, attended the McCarthy funeral. Miss Christine Kozael who is employed by Mr. McGinley at Ogallala accompanied him as far as Burwell where she spent several days visiting her parents.

Mrs. Nellie Jones and Mrs. F. B. Wheeler were hostesses at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary in the Legion hall Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Austin Chambers had charge of the lesson. The ladies voted to give a dollar to the fund being raised to support a hot lunch program for the school children.

Mrs. Raymond Johnson was hostess to members of the New Century club in her home this afternoon. The New Century club also voted to give a dollar to the school hot lunch fund.

Miss Colleen Meyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer, was married to Charles Evan Hughes Schulling in Kearney Saturday. Following the marriage a dinner was served honoring the newlyweds in the Midway hotel. Friends of Mr. Schulling were hosts at the affair. Sunday noon Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Jacobs of St. Paul gave another dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Schulling. Mrs. Jacobs is Mrs. Schulling's aunt.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer gave a third dinner honoring the bride and groom in their home Sunday evening. A large, beautifully decorated wedding cake, the gift of the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer, graced the table. A houseful of friends and relatives of the bride were present. Mrs. Schulling is well known in Burwell where she has spent all of her life. She was graduated from the Burwell high school with the class of 1937 and has also attended summer school at the University of Nebraska. At the

YES « « « We Smoke Our Own MEATS

Several customers have asked recently if we smoke our own meats and when informed that we do, have taken the occasion to buy a slab of our own home cured and smoked bacon. We have had many compliments on this bacon, and also on our home-cured hams.

If you like bacon and ham with the real old fashioned smoke flavor, try some of ours. We do custom curing and smoking also.

Of course we have the milder packing house bacon and ham for those who prefer it.

Seniors Find that Work Can Be Fun, During American Education Week Here

From 9 to 4, during five days last week, seniors of Ord high school worked at jobs like these and got school credits for doing so, for it was American Education Week and they were working on assignments made for them by the Ord Business and Professional Women's club. In the top photo Orville Stoddard, face covered with flour dust, learns how the feed grinder is operated at the Noll Seed company. In the next picture Cassius Pickett, the big senior boy who transferred here from Seminole, Okla., last summer, lifts a car clear off the ground at the Dugan Oil company, while Dean Misko prepares to change a tire. And in the two lower photos Phyllis Munn, at Chase's Toggery, and Betty Flynn, at Mazie's beauty shop, have something to do with heads, animate and inanimate. Eighty-four seniors worked at tasks like these, found that work can be fun, too, if done under the right conditions.

Ord Hi Had All-Vet Squad of Cheer Leaders, Soph Is New Member

All four of Ord high school's cheer leaders were seniors and veterans at the job of putting pep into the students during athletic contests, when this picture was taken. Left to right, the senior cheer leaders pictured above are Harry McBeth, Norma Blaha, Maxine Long and Bobby Klima. Last week high school students balloted on a cheer leader to succeed Harry McBeth, who left Nov. 12 to make his home in California, and selected Billy Pafelta, a sophomore. Billy will be trained by the other senior cheer leaders and next year will have the task of training assistants.

Mrs. Glen Johnson arrived home on the Thursday evening motor after spending a month with members of her family at Milton and Beloit, Wis., and Williamstown, Mass. The trip was made in company with her son, Edwin, who went from Williamstown, into Maine and spent a few days at the New York Worlds fair. Edwin remained in Wisconsin where he has work. They visited Niagara Falls and a number of other points of interest along the way. While at Milton on the return trip Mrs. Johnson attended services celebrating the centennial anniversary of the Milton Seventh Day Baptist church and here she saw Rev. and Mrs. L. O. Greene of Albion, Wis., who gave her the information that their son Harold was teaching in Farman, Nebr., and had recently been married to a Cedar Rapids girl but she did not learn the girl's name.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Hutchins, Mrs. Alice Davis, Richard Hutchins and Donald Babcock spent Sunday afternoon at Fort Hartsuff and other points of interest in that territory. Mrs. Davis taught school at Calamus years ago but was unable to find very many familiar landmarks.

Helen Madsen returned to her work at Sidney Wednesday after spending several days with her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Babcock were Saturday dinner guests of Mrs. Carrie Green.

The Allen Sims family spent Sunday at the Pete Wittwer home near Cotesfield where they had Thanksgiving dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Knapp and daughters were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Knapp.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Scott returned Saturday from the Harold Keep home near Cotesfield where Mr. Scott has been picking corn.

Mrs. Frank Weed, Mrs. Clark Roby and Mrs. Ross Portis attended a meeting of the Neighborhood club Wednesday at the Lee Mulligan home.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Talbert and Teresa McCall went to Lincoln on Sunday to spend a few days. Teresa has been having trouble with her eyes and they planned to have them looked after while there.

Mrs. Della Manchester and the Harry Waller family were Sunday dinner guests in the Jess Waller home.

Marguerite Wegrzyn of Ord is spending the week at the home of her sister, Mrs. John Wojtasak.

North Loup football boys went to Cedar Rapids Friday afternoon where they played the Cedar Rapids high school, winning the game 19-0. A number of the Pep club also went. The game was scheduled for a night game but due to the storm, it was played in the afternoon. Because telephone service at Cedar Rapids was out after the storm, the change was made by radio, Cedar Rapids sending the message to Omaha by radio, and Omaha telephoning it to Supt. Wills Wednesday.

The Thanksgiving football game will be played here with Greeley.

H. H. and Hubert Clement went to Greeley Saturday night after Mrs. Hubert Clement and daughters who had been visiting her mother, Mrs. Bruce Copeland.

This is the twelfth week of the school year and six weeks' tests are being given. One third of the year is over. School will close Wednesday for the Thanksgiving recess and some of the teachers will be out of town. PTA November meeting is to be held Wednesday night and promises to be an interesting meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schudel entertained the dinner-bridge club on Wednesday night, high score going to Mrs. H. L. Gillespie and W. H. Vodehnal. The Thanksgiving motif was used for decorations and favors.

Mr. and Mrs. Irving Clark and daughter, Jean, of Casper, Wyo., are expected here Wednesday night to spend Thanksgiving vacation with relatives. A family dinner in their honor is being planned to be held at the J. M. Fisher home. Mrs. Louisa Hubbard, whose home is in Missouri and her son Marlon of Lexington will also be present, as will Chas. Clark of Lincoln and Nettie Clark of Madison. It has been eight years since Irving Clark was here and Mrs. Clark has not been here since Jean was a very small child. Jean has finished college and teaches in the Ft. Laramie, Wyo., schools.

Art Jeffries of Hastings and Ethel Jeffries of Grand Island were Saturday night and Sunday guests of their mother, Mrs. H. L. Jeffries. Evelyn Kosch came down from Ord Sunday and was a dinner guest of Mrs. Jeffries also.

M. A. O. Extension Club.
The M. A. O. club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. John L. Anderson and enjoyed a lesson on the subject, "Use Home Resources," led by Mrs. Robert Hall and Mrs. Ellis Carson, who substituted for Mrs. Hather. Reports on home projects were given by members, showing the savings to be had by doing canning, sewing, cleaning garments, etc. at home. An instructive flag talk was given by Mrs. Steve Beran. The club voted to take membership in the Red Cross. Plans were made for a Christmas party to be held Dec. 12 at the home of Mae Smith. The hostess served lunch at close of the meeting.

In honor of the birthday of Mrs. Al Parkos a group of relatives met at the Parkos home Sunday. There was a big duck dinner and the guests remained for the afternoon and for supper. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. John Vondracek of Sargent, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Parkos, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Parkos and Gary, and Mrs. Albert Hosek.

Mr. King's Birthday.

In honor of W. S. King's birthday, he and Mrs. King were invited to the Irving King home in Mira Valley Saturday for dinner. Also present was the other son, Ted. Mr. King did not state which birthday it was, but it is safe to say that he does not look that old.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

Nov. 20, 1930.

The play, "A Bachelor's Escape," was to be put on by the Knights of Columbus and the Catholic Ladies club. Leading parts were taken by Joe Puncoschar, John Allen, Dr. F. L. Blessing, Lillian Kokes and Esther Zukoski.

The only obstacle to city mail delivery in Ord was the fact that the council must have the houses numbered, which was later done. A Holstein cow belonging to R. O. Babcock held the record in Valley county for October, with a production of 77 pounds of butterfat.

Rev. B. A. Filipi of Clarkson conducted the funeral service for J. J. Novosad, 82, and a resident of Valley county 28 years.

Frank Valasek of Springdale lost the index finger of his right hand while operating a corn picker.

Leroy Hulbert of near Arcadia lost his right arm above the elbow as the result of having it caught in a corn picker. This made three accidents of the kind in a single week.

The first case of pottymyelitis in Valley county developed at Arcadia, where 2-year-old Marvin Larsen had the disease in a mild form.

Nov. 18, 1920.

Wayne Turner was recovering from an accident with a gasoline engine which made it necessary to amputate his left arm at the shoulder.

The F. J. Bell and Roy Hamilton families were ready to leave by auto for their trip to California. Word was received from the Alan Clements and the Perry Bells to the effect that they had a delightful trip and reached California safely.

Due to bad weather the work on the new Ord State bank building was stopped until spring.

C. J. Nelson left for Fort Worth, Fla. to look at some property he owned there.

At the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Travis, occurred the marriage of their daughter Hazel to Alfred L. Hill, Rev. Price of the Presbyterian church officiating.

The Ord paving job was finished, and none too soon, as the weather was becoming too cold for such work.

Nov. 17, 1910.

Frank Struckman purchased the Jim Gallo place in Garfield county at $30 per acre.

A birthday party was arranged at Hotel Ord for the proprietor, Charley Partridge, and for Dr. O. C. Shepard, whose birthdays came on the same day, Nov. 15.

Nov. 15 the Sig Milligan family left for St. Johns, Ore., where they were to make their future home. Emma and Rosa Horak, young women of St. Libory, were both burned to death when cleaning fluid ignited.

E. S. Harter, one of Ord's first merchants, died in Burwell at the age of nearly 80 years. He came to Valley county in 1875, ran a store in Springdale for a short time and then moved to Ord. He moved to Burwell in 1910.

N. J. Petersen sold his stock and equipment at auction, and the family were going to California for the benefit of Mrs. Petersen's health.

Charley Masin was making arrangements to open a pop factory in Loup City, which he did.

Nov. 23, 1900.

The Unitarian church people were holding meetings every Sunday in the K. P. hall. That was before their church, the present American Legion hall, was built.

After deliberating the case for a long time the jury in the Anderson-Haskell libel case found that Mr. Anderson, teacher in the Ord schools, had been damaged to the extent of $100 by statements made in the Quiz.

At the J. B. Miller farm home, Nov. 15, Thearon Beehrle and Miss Jennie Thusen were married. They were to start farming on the Adam Smith place in Geranium township.

While Jasper Arnold was helping run a shredder on the Hamilton ranch in Mira Valley he caught his right hand in the gears and lost all but the thumb and little finger.

A prairie fire which started a few miles southeast of Theford spread over all the territory between the Dismal and Middle Loup rivers, including much of the present forest reserve at Halsey.

Nov. 21, 1890.

Union Thanksgiving services were to be held at the Methodist church, Thursday, Nov. 27, the final Thursday in the month, which was the way the pioneers thought it ought to be done.

The Quiz was complaining that the sidewalks about town were badly in need of repairs. They were made entirely of wood in those days, and the best of them did not last very long.

Troops were being sent to the northwest part of Nebraska to quell a threatened Indian uprising there. The men were to be trained at Rushville and travel overland to the north. A telegram was received by the militia boys at Ord to hold themselves in readiness if their services were needed.

The Quiz carried an ad asking for the return of a lost cuff button, and the younger generation in Ord will probably wonder what a cuff button was.

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by 4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

It is entirely unnecessary to have any smallpox, anywhere, any time. All we have to do is to be vaccinated and then to be revaccinated from time to time throughout life. Smallpox today is no different as a disease than it was in the days when it killed and maimed every year, in every part of the world. The disease varies somewhat in its severity and persons who have been vaccinated a long time ago, though they have become again susceptible to the disease, have it lightly. If vaccination were abandoned for a long time, by the whole population, we would expect the disease to be unchanged in its character from that which we know largely from reading about it.

You may be saying that this sort of talk is uncalled for in Nebraska, but let me take you over some statistics which only date back 20 years. In 1920, 4135 people in Nebraska had smallpox. This brought on a wave of enthusiasm for vaccination and by 1923 the number of cases had dropped to 97. Then everybody became careless and the number of cases gradually increased to 831 in 1925 and up to over 1900 in 1930. Another wave of vaccination and a succeeding wave of forgetfulness have followed the 1930 peak. Just now we are in a state of pretty thorough vaccination but it is a distinct shadow on the intelligence of the people of Nebraska that they have permitted 19,970 people in this state to have smallpox in the past twenty years, almost 1000 a year, when it is unnecessary that there be a single case of this disease at any time, any place. All we need to do to prevent it is be vaccinated.

A letter written in 1850, by one George W. Hammond, was recently published in the Journal of the American Medical Association. This letter is largely concerned with advice to a sick brother. Some of it is good advice today. Of such is the following quotation: "I saw nothing in your case incurable when you were here, if you attend to yourself properly and sought the best medical counsel, and kept clear of Quacks. . . . Go to the most eminent regular physician who does not pretend to any secrecy, mystery or tomfoolery, to make fools gape and wonder. . . . Go to an honest man who will not be satisfied to prescribe until he has obtained all the knowledge of your case. . . . and then follow his advice. The man of science and useful knowledge has no secret remedies which he hides from the medical world. . . . Do not neglect the best means of getting health any longer, but as you love life and prize health, avoid patent medicine and Quacks."

How would you meet THIS WARNING?

• You would do nothing at all if you owned a STOKOL-MERCURY—just let it bliz.

For STOKOL-MERCURY does your firing for you just right for any kind of weather. It will automatically fire up at the first suggestion of a drop in the temperature and go on matching increasing cold with increasing heat—and it will not feed coal needlessly if the warning is a false alarm, so thoroughly does STOKOL-MERCURY watch your heat and your coal pile.

Here's some REAL NEWS

• STOKOL-MERCURY is a fine stoker built for all sizes of homes. . . . There are models to bring every benefit of STOKOL Automatic Heat with Coal to the small home, burning as little as five or six tons, with its modest pocketbook—to provide it with an abundance of clean, uniform, healthful heat without the work and worry that goes with hand firing. It pays its own way by delivering more heat from less coal.

Powerful-Silent-Worm Drive with THE POWER DISPATCHER THE COALMETER

There is no face transmission than STOKOL-MERCURY'S. . . . hardened, ground and polished worms—ball bearings—perfect lubrication—highly efficient.

THE POWER DISPATCHER—A simple, powerful automatic power drive control, as reliable as the train dispatcher.

THE COALMETER—Permits the owner to tune his coal feed to his actual requirements.

Chanticleers Beat Loup City 16 to 0 in Season's Finale

Ord Win Was a Major Upset, Gave Valley Crown to the Sargent Team.

The Ord Chanticleers finished their grid season in a blaze of glory Thursday by defeating Loup City 16 to 0, on the slippery Loup City field, thereby providing the Loup Valley conference's major upset of the year. This win by Ord gave the conference crown to Sargent, leaving Ord, Loup City and Comstock tied for second.

It was Furtak's splendid punting that continually kept Loup City in trouble but it was alertness and hard play by the Chanticleers that enabled them to take advantage of every break and thus down Loup City by the margin of two touchdowns, two conversions and a safety.

At the end of the first half Ord led 2 to 0, having downed a Loup City man in his own end zone after a bad pass from center. In the third quarter Ord recovered a Loup City fumble on the Loup City 22 yard line and after three attempts at the line failed to produce yardage Christensen carried the ball to the 1-yard line on an end-around play. A line plunge took it over.

Immediately after this score Ord kicked off, recovered the ball on the Loup 35 and advanced the ball to Loup City's 4 on an end run by Flagg followed by a pass. The quarter ended there but when play resumed Flagg scored after three line plays had failed.

Loup City had been doped to win this game, as their play against other Loup Valley and Mid-Six opponents had been consistently better than Ord's throughout the season. The Mid-Six championship goes to Ravenna, whose team was undefeated.

Seniors who completed their high school grid careers with the Loup City game are Ray Furtak, Harvey Dablin, Charles Zlonke, Harold Christensen, Orville Stedard, E. Piskorski, and John Marker, all of whom were regulars; Bill Malolepzy, Verner Bartholomew and Orville Leach, who were substitutes but saw service in most of the games.

The senior members of the Ord squad were guests of the Ord Rotary club at dinner Monday evening, following a custom established several years ago. All were introduced and several spoke briefly, as did Coach Roscoe Tolly and other members of the coaching staff.

Chamber of Commerce Meets Tomorrow Night

The annual meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce will be held tomorrow evening, Nov. 28, at 8 p. m., at the Masonic hall, according to information furnished by the secretary, A. A. Wiegardt.

Following the business session Judge John L. Andersen will show the motion pictures the took of the Ord post office dedication and of the parade on Czech Day. At the close of the meeting a lunch will be served.

Will Serve in Arsenal.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Raymond Abernethy and son, of Lincoln, drove up Wednesday for a brief visit with Raymond's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jason Abernethy. They left Lincoln on Friday for Gadsden, Ala., where Lieut. Abernethy will be an executive officer in a U. S. Arsenal. He had just returned from Washington, D. C., and Philadelphia where he had been in training for the past six days. He is a reserve officer in the regular army, now called to active service.

Text Book by Parkins Soon to Be Published

A book entitled "Diagnosis and Elimination of Visual Handicaps Preventing Efficient Reading," has been written by Dr. George A. Parkins, of Ord, and it will be published soon by the Distinguished Service Foundation of Optometry. This book, which is expected to become a textbook for optometrists, embodies the research work carried on in the Ord schools and at the University of Nebraska teachers' college under Dr. Parkins' direction.

5 Public Sales Coming.

No less than five public sales are booked for the remainder of this week and the forepart of next week. First comes the A. J. Samla sale north of Arcadia, Friday, Nov. 29. This sale was advertised in last week's Quiz. Advertisers in today's issue are the John Welnak sale Monday, Dec. 2, the Joe Mike Novotny and also the Ford Eyerly sale, Tuesday, Dec. 3, and the Vida Collins sale Wednesday, Dec. 4. Look up their ads and see what each has to offer.

Sells Polled Herefords After Winning at Show

W. O. Zanger, Olean breeder of fine Polled Hereford cattle, took two of his January calves to the National Polled Hereford show being held last week in Des Moines and after the calves won prizes in their class he sold them at fancy prices.

The heifer calf shown by Mr. Zanger placed 5th and the bull calf placed 10th in the junior calf classes, while shown as a pair they won 9th place. Animals from all over the United States were exhibited. Mr. Zanger sold the heifer for $240 and the bull for $300, which are pretty fancy prices for nine months old calves to bring.

Mr. Zanger will offer 61 head of his Polled Herefords at auction in the Ord sale ring on Tuesday, Dec. 17. Catalogs are being printed in the Quiz shop now and Mr. Zanger will gladly mail one to anyone interested upon request.

Dodge to Drill Oil Well Near Cotesfield Soon

Tulsa Man Has Leased 2,500 Acre Block And Expects Work Start in 30 Days.

Announcement that an oil well will be drilled near Cotesfield at once by a new organization known as the Loup Valley Syndicate is made this week by E. L. Dodge, Tulsa, Okla., oil man, who says he has been quietly leasing acreage for several weeks and now has a block of 2,500 acres signed.

Two years ago a magnetic survey of the region was made under his direction, says Mr. Dodge, and he claims that presence of oil was clearly indicated.

The Loup Valley Syndicate is financed by both local men and capitalists from southeastern Nebraska, Kansas and Oklahoma, said Mr. Dodge. An Ord office will be maintained in the A. W. Pierce real estate office and Mr. Pierce will be in charge, he says. Records on file in the Valley county Clerk's office show only Dodge and Pierce as members of the syndicate.

Exact location of the test well has not yet been decided upon but it probably will be drilled a few miles northeast of Cotesfield, in the river valley. The village of Cotesfield is almost in the center of the 2,500 acre block of land the syndicate has leased.

Another survey will be made at once to decide where to locate the test well and his organization has every intention of drilling deep enough to explore the various formations in which oil has been found in other sections of Nebraska, Kansas and Wyoming, says Dodge.

Mr. Dodge is financially interested in the Forest City Basin Syndicate which is drilling wells in the vicinity of Salem, Nebr. Howard Wright and Norman Collison, former Ord men, also are interested in this development.

Building of a derrick on the tract selected near Cotesfield will start within thirty days or six weeks, depending on the weather, and drilling will start immediately after work. Both rotary and cable tools will be employed, Dodge says. He estimates cost of the initial test well at $35,000 to $50,000.

Goodhand Farm Sold to Stewart for $13,000

A land deal was closed last week in which Ernest B. Stewart purchased the Charles Goodhand farm north of Ord, the consideration being $13,000. This is a 300-acre farm only 1/2 mile north of the Ord cemetery and has fair improvements.

Another deal completed last week transferred title to the Sol Brox place 1 mile north of Ord on the east side of the river to John Kriewald. This is a 28-acre tract with good improvements. Consideration was $3,200. The Kriewalds expect to occupy it in the spring.

Red Cross Roll Call Soon to Be Completed

Mrs. C. C. Dale, Valley county Red Cross roll call chairman, received a telegram from Norman Davis, national chairman, commending every effort the roll call workers are making in the county to get the 1941 memberships and donations. He urged that every possible step be taken to give people the opportunity to enroll or contribute.

The response to the Red Cross roll call is America's answer to the crisis abroad. Mrs. Dale is asking that all workers over the county complete their round of the territory and turn in their reports in order that the entire job may be finished by the end of the week.

Club Proposes Free Milk Plan for Ord Schools

Many Smaller Children Not Getting Milk at Home Now, B. and P. W. Club Learns.

Members of the Business and Professional Women's club have arranged another of their enjoyable book reviews for presentation Friday evening of this week, when Mrs. J. A. Kovanda, Ord's favorite book reviewer, will give the book "Born in Paradise" written by Armine Von Tempksi, a story of the true Hawaii.

Tickets are fifteen cents, and are being sold by chairman Delores Redfern and her committee, Lois Finley, Aldean Swanson and Florence Zukoski. The book review is scheduled for the Ord Library at eight p. m., Friday, Nov. 29.

This group, which has given many a boost to community betterment, is busily considering the proposition of free milk for smaller grade school children who particularly need it. Dr. Zeta Nay, as head of the state health committee of the B. and P. W. organization, Mrs. Fern Draper, who is local chairman, and Miss Eunice Chase, president of the Ord group, propose that each child in grades one, two and the kindergarten be given a half-pint of milk each day. This would also provide for 40 older children who are under weight.

The pasteurized milk would be furnished at a cost of two cents a day, and parents who are able to pay would be expected to send a dime a week to school to help defray the expense. The women's group plans to give $25 to this worthy cause.

The teachers are particularly enthusiastic about it, finding many of their little charges do not get any milk at all at home or fruit either. More than 40 children are underweight in the four lowest grades, according to the last weighing figures.

Frank Kruml, whose position as county relief director keeps him in the closest touch with Ord's needy, feels that milk in the schools would reach most of the children who should be but are not receiving it. He states there is a genuine need for such a project in Ord, for there are many underprivileged small children in our schools.

The milk would be served from the bottles in which it was delivered, through straws, so no hands would touch it after it was uncapped and sealed pure and ready for use. There are 140 children who would be given milk under this plan.

Many and many a city school charges 25c per week to furnish the same amount of milk to a school child daily, but Ord dairymen not only provide us with splendid, rich milk, clean and pure, but they do not overcharge for it.

Should the investigating committee find sufficient sentiment in favor of the free milk project, it is hoped it can be begun at once, states the club president, Miss Chase.

Children who will not drink milk at home drink it without a thought when all the other children are doing it, it has been learned in other cities where the plan has been tried out. And children who scramble from the breakfast table too fast, or get out of bed too late to consider breakfast important would thus get their milk for a very small fee.

Parents interested are urged to call Miss Chase, Mrs. Draper or Dr. Zeta Nay or some other member of the Business and Professional Women's club and express their views on the subject while it is under consideration this week.

Shoots Banded Duck.

While hunting Saturday Ed Welnak shot a banded mallard duck the band bearing the date of 1938. He has sent in the band, but has not yet heard any further particulars concerning it.

Noil Flower Show Attended by Hundreds

Here are seen a few of the baskets of chrysanthemums, which with many other flowers were shown at the Noil Seed company's flower show in Ord last Saturday. Hundreds of people saw the beautiful floral display and to each of the women attending Mr. and Mrs. Noil presented a flower.

Elyria Democratic but Will Celebrate G.O.P. Turkey Day

Elyria — (Special) — This village has voted strongly democratic for many years (Roosevelt 156, Wilkie 60, in 1940) but schools here stayed open Nov. 21, the day proclaimed as Thanksgiving by President Roosevelt and Governor Cochran, and will close Nov. 28, which some people call the republican turkey day.

Plans Complete for Football Banquet, Dr. Blessing Says

Ware, McBride, Zikmund Are on List of Notables Who Will Attend.

Dr. F. L. Blessing, chairman for the football banquet which will be put on under the auspices of the Cosmopolitan club Dec. 4, states that all plans are practically complete for the big event, which will be held in the auditorium at the high school.

Guests will be Frederick Ware, sports editor of the World-Herald; Gregg McBride, director of athletic publicity and writer for the World-Herald; Glen Presnell, former All-American halfback at the University of Nebraska, and now backfield coach of the university; and Ord's own Allen Zikmund. All guests will speak.

The ladies of the Ord Methodist church will serve the banquet, the menu of which is, turkey and dressing, salad, cranberries, rolls, coffee and pumpkin pie. The program will be given during the dinner, with talks by out-of-town coaches and with John P. Misko as toastmaster.

Last year 13 schools were represented, and an even larger attendance is expected this year. Invitations for the banquet have been sent to the following schools: Ord, Burwell, Taylor, Sargant, Comstock, Arcadia, Loup City, St. Paul, Scotia, North Loup, Greeley, Albion, Ravenna and Broken Bow.

The following is a list of committees and members, the chairman's name coming first: Dinner, Ed Gnaster, Irwin Underberg, Geo. Satterfield; entertainment, Dr. J. N. Doland, Dr. F. J. Osentowski, Henry Delnes; tickets, A. A. Wiegardt, K. W. Peterson, Floyd Beranek, Olof Olsson, Harold Taylor;

Publicity, Frank Kruml, Glen Johnson, Virgil Cuckler; decorations, Syl Furtak, Russell Craven, Gus Schoenstein; tables and chairs, Frank Fafetta, Harold Cuckler and Kenneth Draper.

Clement Hereford Sale December 11

Wednesday, Dec. 11 is the date of the Hereford sale held annually by G. G. Clement and Sons and this year $7 head will be sold, including consignments from H. C. Koelling and Sons, R. E. Psota and W. O. Zanger. The sale will be held in the Ord sale barn with Thompson, Cummins and Burdick as auctioneers. Catalogs showing the offerings were printed in the Quiz shop and farmers or ranchmen who want them should write to R. Clare Clement, the sale manager.

License Plates Here.

The county treasurer's office has received its supply of 1941 license plates. Treasurer Satterfield stated yesterday that they hope to be ready to begin putting them out by Dec. 15. The new plates have deep blue figures on bright orange, and will be much more readable than the 1939 plates.

City Water Back to Normal After Freezing Spell

10 Days of Frenzied Effort By Plant Employees Has Restored Good Taste.

"It's worse than medicine." "You can even taste it in coffee." "I haven't taken a drink of water in a week."

These were only a few of the hundreds of comments heard during the week just past, when Ord's city water tasted like it contained iodine, quinine, chlorine and possibly other ingredients even less appetizing. But the taste of Ord's water got back to normal yesterday, so all is well.

The trouble started on Saturday, Nov. 16, says George Allen, water commissioner, and probably was caused by the early November freeze-up, which caused ice to gouge new channels through sand bars in the North Loup river and thus released a mass of leaves, twigs, willow roots, etc., from the sand. Since Ord's water comes from the river, condition of the water when it is taken from the river must be taken into consideration in treating the water at the Ord filtering plant.

For many years the city has had brief spells of water trouble each winter but none so prolonged as that of last week. Usually three days has seen the end of the bad tasting water.

Ordinarily the use of activated charcoal in the settling basins at the filtering plant has removed objectionable tastes from the city water but this step failed utterly last week. Then plant employees tried other measures. As a general rule, chlorination is the final step in the process of purifying river water but pre-chlorination was resorted to Sunday, and this seemed to have the desired effect, says Water Commissioner Allen.

Two hundred thousand gallons of partially purified water in the city's clear well was dumped back into the river when it became apparent that the charcoal had not removed the water's objectionable taste, and when the pre-chlorinating process was used successfully the water in the hill-top reservoir also was dumped and all the city mains were flushed out.

Monday the water in some parts of the city was drinkable again and by Tuesday all the city water was good.

The trouble this year was not unexpected, says Mayor Cummins, for early in November when Lake Burwell was drained for the winter a man from the state health department warned the city that an added amount of sediment from this stagnant water would be coming down the river. Additional chemicals were added to the city water because of this, the mayor said, and this in conjunction with the early freeze-up probably caused the trouble.

No matter how bad it tasted, Ord's city water was pure at all times, says Mayor Cummins, and he points out that it is better to put up with water of poor flavor for a short time than to run the risk of disease.

But the staff at the city filtering plant as well as other residents of the city are hoping that Ord's water troubles are ended for this winter.

Place Wounded by Rifle Bullet

Herschel (Stub) Place, barber in the Gilbert shop, was injured Thursday afternoon in an odd accident, being wounded in the foot by a 22 caliber bullet fired by Rex Jewett, city clerk.

Jewett was shooting at a target on the Mortensen farm north of town, his bullets striking on a willow covered sand bar in the middle of the river. He has shot in this place for the past eight years and chose it because people rarely visit the river at this particular point.

Place, accompanied by Mart Beran, had been hunting ducks up the river and was walking toward Ord on the east side. Thinking there might be some ducks in the small channel that runs alongside the island, Place climbed a fence to get to the island. Just as he put his foot to the ground he was struck by the bullet.

Jewett and Beran brought Place to town after the accident and he was attended by Dr. C. W. Weekes. The bullet did not strike a bone but lodged in the fleshy part of Place's foot and was removed by the doctor at the hospital. In a few days Place will walk as well as ever, Dr. Weekes predicted.

Oddest part of the whole affair is that Mr. Jewett had shot a group of 25 guns, changed targets, allowed his gun to cool for a few minutes and had just started to shoot another group of 25 shots, the first one striking Place.

CCC Applications Taken.

Frank Kruml, county assistance director, announces that the quota for CCC will be set about the middle of December, and he must send in his report by that time. At present no applications are in, and those who want to go should make application at once.

Christensen, Furtak, Elected Co-Captains

At an election held Tuesday afternoon the Ord football squad decided to follow the plan of last year, and elected two honorary captains, one for the line and one for the back-field. Harold Christensen, (left) won from the line and Raymond Furtak from the back-field.

Christensen has been outstanding in his play at end all through the year, and was also in the squad last year. Furtak played a fine game at half this season. The outstanding play of these two men had much to do with the fine showing of the team this season. Both are seniors.

F. H. Lybarger, 72, Dies At Arcadia

Had Been Resident of This County for 64 Years; Funeral Saturday.

Arcadia—(Special)—Death came Wednesday, Nov. 20 to Farron H. Lybarger, 72, who had been a resident of Valley county for 64 years, and funeral services were held Saturday at the Methodist church here, with interment in the village cemetery following.

Born Sept. 15, 1868 at Laporte, Ind., he came to Nichols county, Nebraska with his parents at the age of 4. Fourteen years later the family moved to North Loup where they lived a number of years. The rest of Mr. Lybarger's life was spent in this community.

He was married to Jessie Barr at Loup City on April 2, 1901 and ten children were born to them, one son dying in infancy. Left to mourn are his widow, five sons, Floyd, Martin, Roy, Glen and Leonard, all of this place, and four daughters, Mrs. Velma Armstrong and Miss Zola Lybarger, of Arcadia, Mrs. Grace Wallace, of Clarksburg, Calif., and Mrs. Helen Williams, of Beatrice. Seven grandchildren, a brother and two sisters also survive.

Mr. Lybarger had been in failing health for six years before his death.

Advisory Board Members Named by State Official

Just as the Quiz was going to press last week word was received that the members of the draft advisory board had been chosen for Valley county. The members are Clarence M. Davis, E. L. Vogel-tanz and George A. Mann, any one of whom may be consulted by draftees who desire help in filling out their questionnaires.

The first draftee to have his papers made out by a member of the new board was John Joe Kil-muir, who called Clarence M. Davis Thursday and filled out his questionnaire. He and Wilmer Anderson, who filled out his own papers, were third and fourth on the list.

The honor of being the first to turn in his questionnaire goes to Clarence Reed, who filled out his without assistance and handed it in to A. A. Wiegardt, local secretary. Second on the list was Loves McMinder, who also filled out his own. McMinder was also the second man to register for the draft in the first ward, Ord.

Mr. Davis says that it fell to his lot to make out the papers for hundreds of draftees in McCook county, South Dakota, and that he did not dream at that time that he would ever be called upon to fill out papers for draftees again.

Joe Wegrzyn's Farm Sale One of Best in Years

Col. M. B. Cummins, auctioneer for the Joe Wegrzyn sale Monday reports that this sale was one of the best for a long time and perhaps one of the best that will be held this winter. There was a very large crowd in attendance, including many buyers from a distance.

However, many of these were disappointed, as the local farmers bought most of the stock, which was of good quality throughout. The machinery offering was in good repair and all of it brought good prices. The offering brought more than $300 above a pre-sale estimate made by Mr. Cummins.

—Mr. and Mrs. George Allen and sons drove to Friend to spend Thanksgiving with their son, George, Jr. and wife. Their daughter, Mrs. Edgar Nunn and husband, of Lincoln, also were present. The Allen family was accompanied to Ord by Miss Jeanie Powell, of St. Edward, who is a guest in their home this week.

Fractured Neck Brings Death to Carl E. Anderson

Ord Man, Invalid Since Age of 12, Hurt Nov. 10 in Car Crash, Dies Nov. 25.

Carl Edward Anderson, son of Mrs. Mable Anderson and Eric John Anderson, was born on June 1, 1904, in Greeley county and passed away November 25 at 5:00 a. m. at the Ord hospital. Death resulted from an auto accident suffered on November 10 in which he sustained a fractured neck which caused a general paralytic condition. Pneumonia, complicated by his other injuries and the condition of his health, was the immediate cause of death.

When a youth of about twelve, he was stricken with arthritis rheumatism, a condition which became increasingly worse. Following the death of his father in 1920, he assumed the responsibility for the management of the farm until 1925, local treatment having failed to relieve his condition. He was taken to the University hospital in Omaha. When after three months his condition remained unimproved, he returned home and in December, 1925, was sent to Excelsior Springs, Mo. After several months of unsuccessful medical attention, he was returned home an arthritic invalid.

For a few years he was completely bedfast, during which time he suffered a great deal. About twelve years ago his intense suffering ceased and he was able to be about some in a wheel chair. During the past four years his condition improved considerably and he had been able to be about on crutches for some time preceding the accident.

He was baptized into the United Brethren church of Ord in 1934 and at the time of his death held two official positions which he performed efficiently and faithfully.

During these many years the friendships made with other shut-ins was one of his greatest pleasures and this interest increased until at the time of his death he left to regret his passing many staunch typewriter friends.

At no time during his confinement did he complain but remained always cheerfully uncomplaining and unselfish. He derived a great deal of pleasure and joy from the activities in which he was permitted to participate and at no time did his outlook on life become embittered.

Funeral services were conducted from the Pearson and Anderson Mortuary on Wednesday at 2:00 p. m., Rev. Mamie J. Young, past minister of the United Brethren church, officiating. Songs were rendered by Rev. and Mrs. Engbrechtsen, pastor of the United Brethren church and his wife with Miss Ella Bond as accompanist. Interment was in the family plot in the North Loup cemetery, and pallbearers were A. C. Waterman, Russell Waterman, Ralph Hatfield, Leonard Christoferson, K. W. Harkness and Arthur Jensen.

Left to mourn his death are his mother, Mrs. Mable Anderson of Ord, and sisters and brothers, Mrs. Clyde B. Ferguson of Omaha, Mrs. C. L. Severance of North Loup, Ivan Anderson of Ord, Mrs. Frank Clark of Ord, Darlene Anderson of Omaha and Rolland Anderson of Ord as well as numerous other relatives and a host of friends.

Harold Conklin Fined for Issuing Bad Check

Monday P. J. Cohen drove to St. Paul and brought Harold P. Conklin to Ord where he was charged in Judge John L. Anderson's court with issuing a no fund check in the amount of $10. The complaint was filed by John P. Misko, county attorney.

Basketball Practice Commenced This Week

Coach Tolly and Assistant Coach Hester lost no time in getting their boys busy on basketball. The football season closed with the game Thursday and basketball practice began Monday. Inter-class games are being played this week. Last evening the seniors defeated the Juniors in a hotly contested game.

Some fine material is available, including E. Piskorski, C. Romans and R. Furtak, who were regulars last year. Others who will see plenty of action include A. Cochran, H. Adams, B. Malolepzy, H. Adams, D. Misko, F. Misko, G. Larsen and J. Fryzek. The first regular game will be Dec. 13, when Burwell plays here.

THANKSGIVING, OLD AND NEW.

Strangely enough, when the president decided to meddle with the time-honored date for Thanksgiving and moved it ahead, he consulted not with the persons most directly interested in the change,

If he had consulted the right source, the source of supply of the turkey, without which no Thanksgiving is complete, he would have been told in no uncertain terms that the date was plenty early already, without moving it ahead any.

Turkeys are a crop that must be raised, and they must still be raised much along the same lines as they have been raised since the time when our Pilgrim fathers went out into the woods with their blunderbusses and brought home the chief ingredient of the Thanksgiving feast. Time is the vital element in the development of the turkey.

The turkey, wild or tame, does not begin to lay early in the spring as do the other domestic fowls. It takes several weeks for the spring to arrive and for the hen turkeys to locate their nests and get down to business of egg production. It then takes four full weeks for the eggs to incubate.

Add to this the fact that a large bird like the turkey does not mature as rapidly as does a chicken.
It takes well into the fall for them to become ready for the market.
Shortly before they attain full growth they pass through a period of moulting, and this usually occurs during the first weeks of November.

As every poultryman knows, any bird is not in proper condition for market until this moulting period is past. For example, it was found that many of the birds bought and processed this year for the early Thanksgiving day were full of pin-feathers and therefore much harder to pick, and the carcass did not look very inviting when the job was finished.

Even that extra week would have worked wonders in improving the quality of these birds, and they would have brought a better price on the market because of their improved appearance. Since the object of the poultryman is in raising turkeys is to make as much as they can in the business, the importance of a few cents per pound should not be overlooked.

Turkey poulters may be hatched by mechanical means, but the eggs cannot be put in the incubator until they are laid. Since the turkey hens will not be hurried in this respect, it seems that the only sensible way out of the situation is to leave the date of Thanksgiving where it has been for nearly eighty years.

Another angle that was not thought of, but which is causing no little comment, is the fact that all high schools and many colleges are accustomed to closing their football season with the Thanksgiving game. When the date is moved forward a week, the entire football public is gyped out of a football game.

The holding of another game on the second Friday following the early Thanksgiving could not be anything but an anti-climax, and the public could not take the interest in it that they do in the Thanksgiving game as the concluding game of the season.

The reduction of the number of games not only cheats the public out of one game, but it also cuts down on the revenue the school derives from the extra game, and this revenue in many schools is essential to the development of their athletic program. If athletics does not pay its way the shortage must be made up from some other source.

So far as is known, those who were interested in Thanksgiving itself were not consulted when President Roosevelt decided to change the day. It was not Thanksgiving he was so much interested in, apparently, but Christmas and the period of shopping days that precede it.
Sentiment had no place in the change. It was made for purely business reasons.

Something Different

He was big and brown and curly haired, four legs and a strong flag of a tall, two eyes, just the regulation dog fittings, just like all the other dogs, but to us Buck was wonderful. Yes, Buck is gone "to sleep" as the veterinarians so delicately phrased it, and we are missing him.

Buck Leggett wasn't really his name, it was something fancy and pedigreed like Duke of Buckingham Manor, a long recitation of his ancestors or something. It was shortened to Buck before we met him, however, and he was always Buck to us.

Buck came to us from Minnesota, a birthday gift to Eugene Leggett from his father Homer Leggett, sent in a crate in a fearsome train.
Typically, tersely, father wired son, "Shipping dog, ducks and fish," (it was in the days when call ducks were legal hunting bait, and as you may have guessed, the fish were to eat.)

Anyway, when Eugene went to the station to see if the dog came and called "Here, Buck", Buck came, never more happy to be possessed than at that lost moment after that frightening trip. He was then a young dog of about a year.
Buck became a family shadow, particularly Eugene's. Every walk to the office was accompanied by his frolicsome presence, often more wildly than seemed necessary to a dignified business man or his wife. But if Buck did not get to walk along he was dreadfully punished and would mope and sulk perhaps for days.

For Eugene to pick up his gun was to send Buck into roars of barks and delicious excitement, for he was a Chesapeake, a hunting dog through and through and how he loved it. No water was too cold or icy for him to search out a dropped bird or a cripple. His heavy brown coat stood him in fine stead, but so did his equally splendid spirit; he was a hunting dog, he knew his business and nothing could stop him from pursuing his business of retrieving.

Buck was also the family pet and received overmuch attention at home. He loved any kind of a rump, or to return a ball or stick that had been thrown for him. Indeed he was tireless at retrieving any object and would wear out a kind friend who would throw things for him. This turned out to be bad.

For as high school boys and passersby and children discovered that Buck would bring things back to them, they liked it too, and frequently threw sticks and stones for him. But when Buck brought the prize, alas, often they did not realize that a good retriever must place the bird at his master's feet or present it for easy removal from the mouth of the dog, and they began to tussle with Buck. And one tug led to another until Buck thought everything should be removed from his jaws, big and powerful as they were.

So, shortly before hunting season each fall, Eugene would enter on a course of training with Buck, in which Buck would learn all over again to give his master his catch. Or perhaps it would be better to say Buck trained Eugene, for Buck was as stubborn as he was smart, and he was a very stubborn dog. So he was very stubborn. And Eugene learned about patience from Buck, while Buck was being trained anew.

This habit of bringing things back was also the beginning of Buck carrying a brick or stick in his jaws upon which to chew. He liked it so much that he spent all his multitudinous leisure moments carrying or chewing something, until at last he had chewed so many bricks and balls through that his teeth were worn down into the jaw and his gums tender. But he didn't stop, he was not a stopping dog.

No telling how many dozens of children cried for lost rubber ball's because of Buck, for he would pick up any ball he could find, even a football, and though it stretched his mouth horribly, carry it to them.

Whether we noticed he had a strange rubber ball to chew on made no difference, for we rarely knew where it came from anyway.

To see Buck pacing beside some member of the family carrying a piece of log amused bystanders as he dignifiedly walked as though on an important bit of business. And of course there were often remarks about our winter's supply of wood being brought home, and etc and etc.

The big brown Chesapeake with the broad, intelligent head was most jealous when Kerry joined the family. He either wanted to ignore the baby or to get closer to Eugene than anyone else could manage. Later he became fond of Kerry and tagged him everywhere.

When Kerry was learning to walk Buck would often tip the baby over with an innocent wave of his big sturdy tail, and then look so worried when Kerry would cry.
Buck always kept this habit of wanting something done about it if Kerry was in trouble, and considered his presence a great comfort to Kerry.

When Kerry was a little lad in suits, running with a bare back he used to complain bitterly because Buck's cold nose was usually on his back. Buck was doing what he considered his duty and his right, staying as close to Kerry as he could get. In fact if I saw Buck's tail waving anywhere outdoors I always considered that I knew Kerry was beside him, whether I could see Kerry or not.

Well, I could tell you what fine Chesapeake breed characteristics
Buck had, how several dog fanciers thought him the best example of his kind they had ever seen. Or I could tell you of the hunters who admired him and guessed at the hundreds of dollars Eugene paid for him (when he didn't). Or I could tell you how Buck didn't really care to fight, but often got himself tangled into one when something dog called him names or something. Or I could tell you how Buck, who could lick every dog in town, generally proved it by standing over his adversary, nipping him to make him say uncle or whatever dogs make their victims yip, but letting the other dog up without tearing and scarring him. Only once or twice did Buck badly damage another dog. I am glad I can say and remember.

In fact, Buck had lots of good qualities. He knew his own business and loved minding it. He knew his own family and was loyal to it. There are lots of dogs that are replaceable, but Buck was not. I guess because he was our Dog. —Irma.

Well Known Ord Family as They Appeared 50 Years Ago

This week we take pleasure in presenting another picture by W.
A. Anderson showing a family group that was very well known indeed by Ordites of 50 years ago.
The house is that owned and occupied by the Ralph Norman family and located at the southeast corner of 15th and Q streets.
This house was built by Judge
A. A. Lavery about 1888 or 1889,

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

The Prelude Like Hot Bricks

In writing this piece each week
I try to bear in mind the subscribers who live in other parts of the country and who are more anxious to get and read this paper than any other and like it even better than the home folks. It seems that I get as many or more replies from folks away than at home.

Although our drought conditions are old stuff for us at home, a few pictures given may tell those folks away better what we are going through than to simply say,
"Times are awfully tough back here."

I, too, have the feeling that some mortgage, or some government official might be a little more sympathetic when they twist the thumb screws or grant new feed and seed loans and that, indirectly perhaps, there will be some good to the country from this scribbling, besides the pay I get.

Like Hot Bricks.
Hugh Clement says his wife has a forty acre dry farm that used to be considered fine land. Three years ago they rented it for a third of the crop. Hugh told his wife they were losing too much with the rent (they had a crop failure and lost all the third) so last year they only asked for a fourth of the crop.

This year he was disgusted again, losing the fourth so he says now if there is anyone who will farm it and give her all the Soil Conservation check, the tenant can have all the crop. That way Hugh feels they will not lose anything and the Soil Conservation check will pay the taxes. Since 1933 they have not taken enough from the forty acres to pay the taxes.

This was quite amusing to me but upon telling it I found there have been one or two other farms rented that way and I heard too that Billie Worrell had been trying to rent his land that way but his yet cannot find a renter. Billie has a farm that used to be considered a better than average farm with fine improvements.

Landlords are in a good deal of danger of not getting a renter at all. Floyd Hutchins drove from Ashton to North Loup not long ago and on that one road home he saw 35 idle farms. He said there were no doubt as many proportionally on the other roads in that section.

If the land is not farmed there is no Soil Conservation check. I knew of one man who took a renter who he had heard was not the best but he was afraid if he did not take him he might not get anyone and consequently lose his share of the government check.

Mortgages have lately, too, taken a new slant on their foreclosure business. Heretofore, it seemed like they had the feeling the owner was a crook, trying to beat them out of their just interest, and the sooner they crack down and get the land, the better. A good deal of land was taken too and the fellow who lost early was the luckiest in many cases. These mortgages were neither able to sell, or collect enough rent to pay expenses.

One man south of town has offered his farms to the loan company but they will not take them.
This man has a little money and could pay the interest and taxes once, but he too, could take that money and rent another farm and only pay a share or nothing as I mentioned before. He decided to do the latter, but the loan company will not start foreclosure or take his place. They threatened to sue him for deficiency judgment, and then offered to add the back taxes and back interest on his loan, but he thinks that only makes a bad matter worse.

I know another man who was back one interest payment and urged the loan company to take his place. They would not. Finally after dickering they canceled the back interest and the coming interest (amounting to $500.00) if this owner would only pay the taxes and stay on the farm.

It is told that some of the loan companies in some of the counties near by have ceased paying taxes on their land. There are a few places privately owned where the taxes have not been paid and it looks like they never will be, but it is only recently the loan companies ceased, if they have.

The question is continually asking, "How do these people live, going year after year with no crop?"
That is a question hard to answer.
We find quite frequently families so proud that they have never taken a cent of relief yet (excepting Soil Conservation payments which every one takes) but if the facts were known, and the names published, we would find this is the way most of the people are getting by. It has been said that in one county, any farmer can get a grant; all he has to do is to ask for it.

The fact of the matter is, we are all living on relief; if it were not for those checks we would all have to move away.

On the other hand, rents have risen on the irrigated tracts in the valley to a point where, the renters bowl, we cannot make a cent. The owner of one irrigated farm talked of getting a new renter and has 32 applicants. The usual rent now is half the crop and the tenant paying half the water. The tenant gives 1-5 the beets and a share of the tops.

One man said that is pretty high rent, but he felt he better give half the crop of 50 bushels of corn than to get the whole crop where it goes 0 bushels an acre.

My good friend Mark Getter writes me to send a newspaper clipping telling of the death at Lander, Wyo., of our mutual friend
Virgil H. Stone and says that Mrs.
Getter and himself are both well and happy and that so far the winter at Tujunga, their southern California home, has been all that could be desired. I don't want to pick on my friend or I would suggest that he remember to write me, should there ever be anything but perfect conditions out there.
I know several people who won't admit anything but absolute perfection there.

One man admitted that it rained three weeks so his workmen couldn't go ahead with building a house, but he said it was a nice gentle rain that they all enjoyed.
Another said that the wind never blew there, then admitted that if it did blow, it was a wind laden with the perfume of roses and orange blossoms. Another who spent a winter there said it blowed silklike for several days that he wished he was back in prairie Nebraska. He also said that he thought some of going out there for a couple of months this winter, but before doing so he got out the diary that he kept while there and found that he almost froze all the time he was there before and decided to stay at home. I don't dare call his name for fear some California would come out here and perhaps do him bodily harm.

Asked about the quakes sometimes reported out that way, another told me that they really amounted to nothing and from his remarks I took it that he really enjoyed them, though sometimes buildings were shook down. So I conclude that like Nebraska and Iowa and Minnesota, California has a lot of good weather and also now and then something that is not so pleasant.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

A writer in a state daily, bemouthing the fact that Frank Brady was defeated for the legislature, calling him the watchdog of the state treasury, suggested that a special place be provided for him, apparently so he could keep on being a watchdog. There is no provision for such an office, no law to warrant it and no reason to suppose that it is necessary. Brady was no doubt a good man, but he is not indispensable. Given a little experience Joe Knezacek or Tony Asimus or Otto Kotouc, Jr., will probably prove to be just as good a watchdog of the state finances and some of them may be even better. They are all making financial successes of their own business. And if not one of them, there will be some other member who will fill the bill. There is no man so big that his place in business of politics cannot be filled.
And in my opinion our new governor is not going to be in favor of new commissions and special officers. He has promised to reduce the cost of government, not increase it.

Old man Clate McGrew, north
Ord shoemaker, was thankful, last Thursday, that he didn't get any letter. What? Oh, yes, he hunted up Theron Dechrie and they went fishing up in the Smith Creek.
Wilson Bell and Niel Peterson went along, just as ballast in the back end of the Ford. Theron has been fishing there regularly and already had numerous holes cut in the ice on the creek. When the party arrived Theron took a pole and broke the ice that had formed over the fishing holes and in going out on the ice to do so, found it

Sponsored by
4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

Cancer of the breast is more than twice as frequent in women who have never had any babies as it is in those who have. This is thought to be due to the fact that the cells of the breast, which have developed and functioned normally, are not likely to take on cancerous growth while those which have lain dormant and never undergone the normal activity of life still retain the urge to grow and multiply and, after a certain age, may do so abnormally, producing cancer.

Most cancers of the breast come between 40 and 60 years of age but a few are found before the age of 25 and many after the age of 60.

The most common sign of cancer of the breast is a painless lump. Usually this is a solitary lump which grows slowly or rapidly. It is usually discovered accidentally because there is no pain. Rarely there may be a slight discomfort and occasionally there is a bloody discharge from the nipple. After weeks or months such a lump may ulcerate and then become painful. It is no longer an early cancer when this has happened.

A bloody discharge from the nipples, even if a lump cannot be felt in the breast may mean a little tumor in a duct. These little tumors may become cancerous, so such a discharge should be investigated by your physician.

There is a saying that a single tumor in the breast of a woman past 25 years of age must be considered a cancer unless proven otherwise. Examinations by a competent physician may prove such a lump to be not cancerous.

Some of the methods used besides the physical examination of the breast are transillumination and x-ray examination. In case there is any doubt after all the ordinary methods of examination have been used, the lump should be cut out and examined by sectioning and study by the microscope. This examination must be conducted by a doctor trained in this specialty.

If the tumor proves to be benign (not cancerous) then no harm has been done. If it proves to be cancerous and the diagnosis thus been made early, proper treatment can be instituted at once and the chance of cure will be excellent.

Proper treatment consists of surgical removal of the breast and as much additional tissue as the particular case requires. In addition, most doctors, who take care of these cases, believe thorough treatment with x-ray and/or radium increases the chance of cure.

Judge V. H. Stone Dies

Through the kindness of Marcus Getter the Quiz is able to print the story of the death recently of Judge V. H. Stone at his home in Lander, Wyo. He was 79 years old at the time of his death, which came as the result of a fall in which he was injured Sept. 7.

Judge Stone was an Ord attorney about the turn of the century, and went from here to Lander, Wyo., in 1904, before the railroad had built into the town, and opened a law office there. He became widely known as a lawyer, orator, writer, his master speech being the "Man Behind the Man Behind the Gun" during the World War.

He passed his bar examinations before he was 21 years of age, opened his first law office in Lincoln, and was one of the leading speakers in the state in opposition to William Jennings Bryan in 1896. He traveled all over the United States as a speaker on the Midland Lyceum bureau of Des Moines. While living in Ord his services were in demand as speaker for special occasions of all kinds.

The A. J. Auble and Wm. Sack families were Thanksgiving Day guests in the F. P. O'Neal home.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

Dear Quiz:
Please change the address on my Quiz from the former address to 107 Fitzgerald, Charleston, W.
Va., and oblige. We are quite pleased with our home here, although it was hard to leave Nebraska, our home for 60 years, and a good state, too, in normal times.

We attended Union Thanksgiving services yesterday in Charleston's fine municipal auditorium. Around 4000 people were present and a fine service with a choir of perhaps 100 voices.

The city banks will in a few days begin issuing checks, distributing $600,000 in Christmas saving accounts placed in them during the year.

Two of our sons are employed at the Dupont chemical plant here where 3000 men are working with a pay roll of $1,000,000 per month.
One son is secretary for the Mountain Truckers Corporation, and another son is enrolled at Kearney Normal at Kearney, Neb., and will come here later, so we will be together as a family after several years of separation.

There is a shortage of houses here and new ones are being built as fast as carpenters can be had to do the work. This is the capitol of W. Va., and is a manufacturing center. There is also extensive coal mining and oil. It is a beautiful place when the trees are green, as the hills are covered with them.

This is all for now. Possibly I may write more sometime as I learn more of interest concerning things here.

Respectfully,
L. J. Miller.

Special Meetings at Ord Christian Church Close

The special services held by Evangelist Guy B. Dunning at the Ord Christian church came to a close Wednesday evening. The attendance held up well throughout, in spite of the bad weather of the last week. There were nine accessions to the church by baptism
Wednesday evening.

Mr. Dunning is a violinist of exceptional ability, and on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings he was assisted by three talented Ord ladies, Mrs. Rex Jewett and Mrs.
Ray Harbert with their violins, and Miss Ella Wheeler Bond at the piano.

Voted Most Popular Athlete at Kearney

The student body at Kearney State Teachers College last week voted an Ord boy, Paul Blessing, the most popular athlete in the school. He was awarded a wrist watch, traveling bag and other merchandise to the value of about $100. Paul, who starred in all sports in Ord high school, has been playing end on the Kearney football team, guard on the basketball team, and lettered last spring in track.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Martin and family went to Burwell Thursday to spend Thanksgiving with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nelson.

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. Jennie Hawkes had as her guests from Wednesday till Saturday her mother, Mrs. A. E. Garrett of Chicago and her brother and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrett of Tulsa, Okla., Edna Hawkes was also home from Central college from Wednesday till Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hawkes and Brian Keith of St. Edward came over Saturday. A Thanksgiving dinner was held in the Ideal cafe Thursday with the Clifford Hawkes family also attending and Friday night all were supper guests in the Clifford Hawkes home. Mrs. A. E. Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garrett were overnight guests in the home of Mr. Chinn while they were here.

Frank Johnson went to Geneva Thursday and was a guest in the Howard Hamilton home till Friday.

Dwaine Meyers was brought home from Lincoln Wednesday and is making satisfactory progress at his home. He will have to return to the Orthopedic hospital for treatment later.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul White and Frank White went to Oakdale on Tuesday to attend the funeral services of Mrs. Daisy Clancy. Charles White was not well enough to make the trip.

The Legion and Auxiliary held their November supper Monday night at the Legion hall. Mrs. E. J. Babcock, Mrs. Albert Babcock and Mrs. Harry Barber were in charge of the supper. Mr. and Mrs. Howard Barnes were taken in as new members.

Thursday dinner guests of Mrs. N. C. Madsen and family included Mr. and Mrs. Jess Sautter and Mr. and Mrs. Corwin Springer and sons of Cotesfield, Frieda Madsen of Butte, Nebr., Mr. Mason of Lincoln, Ethel Jeffries, Lois Springer and Bill Philbrick.

Frieda Madsen returned Sunday to her school at Butte.

Mabel Olsen who is a student in the Grand Island business college came home Wednesday and returned the first of the week.

Ida May Babcock came home from Nortonville, Kan., where she has been working, on the Tuesday morning freight.

Ethel Jeffries was home from Grand Island from Thursday till Sunday. Arthur was up from Hastings both Thursday and Sunday and Evelyn Kosch was a Sunday dinner guest in the Jeffries home.

Mr. Culwell, Mr. Treadway and Gordon Canfield, engineers on the highway projects in this territory left Monday after a stay of nearly eleven months. All went to Lincoln for the time being. Mr. and Mrs. Culwell have been living in their trailer house and in the time they were here they made many friends who regret their going.

Mr. and Mrs. Deryl Coleman and Mrs. Orville Portis left Saturday for Parkerton, Wyo., for a weeks visit with relatives.

Chester Taylor of Fairfield was a Sunday afternoon caller at the home of Mrs. Lena Taylor. Mike Honeycutt was a dinner guest there.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wojtaszek spent Thursday and Sunday in the Ed Greenwalt home at Elyria.

The H. L. and Max Klingensmith and Bryan Portis families were dinner guests Thursday in the Marius Kuhn home at St. Paul.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Jensen and Monte went to Omaha Thursday where they were guests till Saturday of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jensen.

Sunday they were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Burrows.

Martha Miller came home from Laramie, Wyo., on the Sunday morning freight. She had ridden to Grand Island with friends.

The Methodist ladies are holding their annual chicken supper and bazaar Wednesday night in the basement of the church.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Greene of Parnass spent a short time in North Loup Sunday afternoon. They had been to Cedar Rapids to spend Thanksgiving with Mrs. Greene's people and stopped here on their way back.

Mr. and Mrs. Hillis Coleman were Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Stillman. Homer Sample was there also.

Wayne Springer of Cotesfield, was a guest of Mrs. A. G. Springer from Thursday till Sunday. Mrs. Springer and J. H. Eyerly accompanied him home and helped celebrate his birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bowen and Bobby, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Johnson and two sons were over from Kearney Thursday to eat Thanksgiving dinner with their mother, Ann Johnson.

The Leslie Wilson family moved Thursday to the Jay Hahn house which L. J. Millers recently vacated.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wills of McCloud River Club, McCloud, Calif., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Wills. They expect to spend most of the month in this territory. Mr. and Mrs. Orville Wills of Arcadia were over Sunday evening. W. W. and Orville Wills are sons of Donald Wills.

Tuesday night the senior class of the high school held a theatre party at Ord, going to see Knute Rockne, All American.

Mr. Wills, Mr. Hammond, Mr. Ely, Rev. Stevens and six high school boys were in Ord Monday

25th Anniversary Occasion of Family Reunion

Pictured above are James Howell (standing in center) and all of his children except one daughter. The reunion came about Sunday when the Howell family gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howell, of North Loup, to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Others in the picture are Earl Howell, top left, Elmer Howell, of Tuthill, S. D., top right, and sitting, left to right, Mrs. Walter Lewis, of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Joe Knuff of Portland, Ore., Mrs. Lee Jordan, of Miami, Fla., and Mrs. John Pipal, of Burwell. The daughter who could not be present is Mrs. Blanche Cunningham, of St. Paul, Minn.

Other relatives present included Mrs. Earl Howell's brother, Frank Hopkins, Mrs. Elmer Howell, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Howell and son Buddy, of Tuthill, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hopkins and son, and Mrs. Pipal's husband and family.

The Earl Howells have lived in North Loup seven years, moving there from Mira Valley where they had worked for Ed Lenz. They have one son, Everett, and one daughter, Velma, both at home.

Little Apples

By CHARLES OWEN
(Associated Newspapers.)
WNU Service.

THE old soprano sat quietly, terribly observing, at a rear table of the Deodars cabaret. She wasn't so old, either, but she had the misfortune, in an age of perverted admirations, to be tall and largely built.

Twenty years ago she had been a beauty, with a strong dramatic voice that, if trained, might have withstood the havoc of Wagner. As it was, she had sung at the top of her voice to her father's cows in her childhood, overwhelmed the feeble vocalization of the village choristers, and come to the city. She had earned at once, because big women and strong voices were the mode.

Now she drank coffee—paid her cover charge—ate indifferent French pastries to get away from herself, and watched half-starved girls with no features kick and wriggle to the cacophonies of saxophones and trap drums.

If she had been an educated woman she could have coped with her conflicting emotions. She did know the reason she had chosen this restless place to rest in. It was because the doorway boasted a window where a large plate of little apples, her favorite fruit, were displayed.

The incessant clicking of countless high heels on the polished floor irritated her nerves. She felt listless, she, who had never had a sick day in her life. She hated the lack of beauty in the chorus—beauty of figure, of face, of voice. She wished for one moment she could get up and sing and show what volume and resonance were (only she did not use these words, of course).

She looked down at her feet. Smaller in proportion than those of the thin-legged girls who danced. Her clothes were rather good. She sewed well and had fair taste. She took out the little mirror in her handbag and glanced at her face.

"Gosh! I'd like to show 'em!" she said to herself, and then started; for some one touched her shoulder. She turned, prepared to fight. Her aggressiveness had been at once her greatest friend and foe.

"Maggie Grant! For Pete's sake! Don't you know me? Gee, but I'm glad to see you again. Say, don't tell me you've forgotten Dan? Dan Smith of the Pitt farm? Say it's great to see you, but what are you doing here? I thought you was prima donna (he called it prima) or something, eh?"

"I've quit all that, Dan," said the woman, after a startled pause, gathering her wits, as it were, and satisfying herself as to the man's identity. "I'm getting old. Besides, they don't think I'm good looking any more." She gazed rather ruefully at the syncopeed steppers on the floor. "How've you been making out, Dan? Married, I suppose—and kids, and . . ."

"No, Maggie, I ain't married. Guess I'm not the marrying kind. I've done fair, though; can't complain as things are. I bought the Pierce place when old Tim Pierce died and it's good land for fruit. Remember them little apples you was so crazy about? Well, they sure do grow good down there and make me good money. I send 'em to the city regular. Fact is that fruit store by this place is a customer of mine. That's why I came in, being near by, and because I thought being a performer you might be here or they might know anyways where you was."

"Say, Dan, I came in here because I saw the apples. I loved them when I was a kid and I do now, only everything costs so high in the city."

Dan was lost in thought. "Say, Maggie, you mean to tell me those skinny yellow kids with their painted cheeks are reckoned good looking? Say, you'd beat 'em every time. How's the pipes, Maggie? Say, I wish you could give us a song right now." With Dan to think was to act, and before Maggie could stop him he was off and talking to the harassed-faced leader of the orchestra.

Maggie waited impatiently. This wasn't a farm. What did Dan mean, anyhow?

"Come, Maggie," he said, taking her hand, "the leader wants you to sing, 'Annie Laurie' and 'Down the Vale.' Will you, Maggie? I always did like your pipes."

The old soprano lifted her fine head and walked gracefully to the piano.

If there was any empty-headed, hysterical laughter it soon died down, for Maggie was a force and knew how to reach an audience. Her voice filled the room and suggested that she was using only half her powers, as, indeed, was the case. She stood there a Hebe among automata, a woman among dolls.

Refusing any encore, she walked back to her table proudly, smiling her acknowledgments as a prima donna might do. The leader clamored for her to come again. She was swathed in applause that seemed to melt some of the stiffness in her heart.

"Well, Maggie, what's it to be, applause or—little apples?" Dan asked her this as they sat at supper in a good cafe by Maggie's hotel.

"Little apples, I guess. You see, I'm getting old."

Mortensen Anniversary Enjoyed by Hundreds

The twenty-fifth anniversary of the marriage of Miss Carol White to Mr. Crawford Mortensen will long be remembered as one of the most thoroughly celebrated anniversaries in the history of Ord, with numbers of guests coming from near and far for the day, the evening or both, Thursday, Thanksgiving, was the big day.

House guests for the silver wedding celebration were Mrs. R. H. Sylvester of Des Moines, Ia., Mrs. R. E. Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo., Mrs. Verne Weller of Colorado Springs, Colo., Mrs. Helen Johnson of Lincoln and daughters Barbara and Virginia, and Mr. Merrill Williams of Englewood, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen held open house Thursday afternoon and evening for many other out-of-town guests, among them being Mrs. Grace Darby, Miss Helen Fitzgerald and Mr. Jackson of Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Weller of Atkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Webber, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Mattson, Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Wareham, all of Kearney, Judge and Mrs. Ben Rose came from Burwell, also Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner and Dr. Roy Cram. Mr. and Mrs. Soren Jensen of Grand Island stopped in to leave their best wishes, as did Miss Ruth Milford, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Ryan, Dr. and Mrs. W. H. Walker, all of Omaha; Mr. James Pearson of Englewood, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Gruber of Los Angeles, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elm of Lincoln and Mr. and Mrs. Pat Barrett of Greeley.

The house was filled with flowers, many telegrams and phone calls also came from friends, and a table of silver gifts was on display, as well as many silver dollars from more practical donors. Large silver candles ornamented the dining table, with white chrysanthemums forming the flower piece. Light refreshments and punch were served during the afternoon, and also late in the evening when members of the several clubs to which the Mortensens belonged were asked to stop in.

At noon the house guests were taken to Thorne's for a turkey dinner.

Thursday evening Mr. and Mrs. Mortensen were hosts at a dance at the Opera House, local friends being expected without further invitation. A packed house enjoyed the evening, especially the mock wedding so ably staged by the same east which entertained the members of the Masonic lodge and their ladies a few evenings ago. Ice cream and cake were served to the dancers at tables arranged along the sides of the hall.

Royal Kensington.

The Royal Kensington met with Mrs. Earl Babcock Wednesday afternoon for a social meeting. The members tied a comfort for Mrs. Babcock.

Birthday Observed.

A group of Legionnaires and their wives made a surprise visit on John L. Ward Friday evening, taking with them a covered dish supper. Pinochle was played during the evening, the ladies defeating the men. In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hall, Mr. and Mrs. V. W. Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Severson and Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt.

At Bridge Luncheon.

Madams Keith Lewis and Richard Teague were hostesses at a nicely appointed lunch at one-thirty o'clock on Saturday at the home of the former, guests being Mrs. R. E. Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo., Mrs. R. H. Sylvester of Des Moines, Ia., and Madams C. A. Anderson, E. C. Whelan, C. J. Mortensen and E. C. Leggett. Contract passed the afternoon pleasantly, Mrs. Anderson finishing with high score to win the prize.

Edith Mares Married.

At St. Wenceslaus church at Scappoose, Ore., recently occurred the marriage of Miss Edith Mares, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mares, to Charles A. Mikesh, with Rev. Michael Fleming officiating.

The bride, who wore a white moire dress with a long train and a net veil with a head dress of imported pearl daisies was given in marriage by her father. She was attended by Miss Rose Koutek and Miss Agnes Mares, her sister. The groom's attendants were his brother, John, and Rudolph Hisek.

The church was decorated with baskets of flowers and the altar with flowers and lighted candles. Afterward a breakfast was served the bride's parents, a dinner was served to friends and immediate relatives at noon, and in the evening a reception was held in the parish hall with 300 guests attending. Mr. and Mrs. Mikesh will make their home in Scappoose.

The Mares family moved to Ore-

Mock Wedding Entertains Guests at Mortensen Anniversary Reception

Here is the Ord group that put on the hilarious mock wedding at the reception honoring the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen in the opera house Thursday evening. In the front row are Mrs. Hilding Pearson, the ring bearer, and Dr. F. L. Blessing, the clergyman; standing at left and right are O. E. Johnson and Sam Marks, the dainty flower girls; seated on chairs are Mark Tolen and Mrs. Bessie Achen, parents of the groom, and Mrs. Ign. Klina and Tom Springer, parents of the bride; standing in the rear are Mrs. Dick Teague, who sang the Prisoner's Song, L. E. Walford, the groom's attendant, Hilding Pearson, the groom, Mrs. V. W. Russell, the bride, and Mrs. Mark Tolen, the bride's attendant.

Anniversary Party.

Friends and relatives gathered at the Ernest Vodehnal home on Saturday evening to celebrate the wedding anniversaries of Mr. and Mrs. Vodehnal, Mr. and Mrs. William Beran and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Beran. Pinochle was played at five tables with high scores going to Ernest Vodehnal and Mrs. Stanton Finley.

Zulkoski-Janus.

Tuesday morning at 9, at St. Mary's church, Elyria, occurred the marriage of Miss Angelina Zulkoski, daughter of Mrs. T. J. Zulkoski, of Elyria, and Edward A. Janus, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Janus, of Ord. The ceremony was performed by Rev. C. Shumski, pastor of the church.

The bride wore a dress of white satin with lace trim, and carried calla lilies. The bridesmaid, Miss Stella Zulkoski, sister of the bride, wore a dress of peach satin with lace trim, and carried roses and carnations. The bridegroom wore a teal blue suit and his groomsmen, Syl Shotkoski, wore a dark suit.

The wedding march was played and sung by Miss Angelina and Edson Wachter. Following the ceremony dinner was served to many relatives and friends at the bride's home. Last evening the groom gave a dance for their many friends at the Elyria hall, Art Mason furnishing the music. They will make their home on a farm two miles west of Ord.

Guests from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jurzenski from Greeley, who were also guests at the home of Mrs. T. J. Zulkoski, also Mr. and Mrs. Michael Matya, son Daniel and daughter Elleen from Cedar Rapids, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Spatski and daughters from Loup City, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zulkoski, Lorraine and Tommy, from Arcadia.

Airplane Factory Workers Are Sought

Leroy Boger is in Ord for several days representing Western Air for the purpose of selecting men who can qualify for aircraft factory work. About 119 men have qualified from Nebraska recently and are now holding down positions in Los Angeles factories.

Western Air wants only American citizens, white, ages from 18 to 38, in good health and not addicted to drink.

Inexperienced but mechanically inclined men with a real desire to engage in aircraft work who pass rigid requirements will be accepted for training in aluminum sheet metal work, in drafting, in factory mechanics or as aircraft technicians. Accepted men must finance themselves thru the few weeks of training necessary to enable them to go to work immediately.

With hundreds of millions of dollars in uncancelable contracts for airplanes, the aircraft industry offers not only steady employment but affords unlimited opportunities for advancement for those who prove their ability, said Boger.

Because of the acute shortage of skilled workmen, ambitious employees will be given intelligence and aptitude tests to find in which field each is apt to achieve the greatest degree of success, he stated. These employees then will be permitted to attend night trade-training classes, without cost, so that, through self improvement, they will be ready for promotion to higher positions. The field from mechanical preparatory work to advanced engineering subjects.

Boger may be contacted at the Ord, Hotel, Ord, Nebr. 35-11p

Burwell Christian Church Damaged by Fire Sunday

Mrs. Igenfritz' Keen Smell Given Credit for Averting Total Destruction.

Burwell—(Special)—A woman's keen sense of smell and her insistence that her husband investigate the source of the wood smoke which offended her nostrils saved the Christian church from total destruction by fire Sunday. While Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Igenfritz were drinking their coffee that morning, Mrs. Igenfritz remarked that she smelled wood burning. To keep her from worrying he made a thorough examination of their own premises. He found nothing and reported back to his wife who still insisted that she smelled smoke. Mr. Igenfritz then made a reconnoiter of the neighborhood and before long he noticed thin wisps of smoke creeping from the ridge roll of the church. When he opened the door a mass of acrid black smoke came rushing out.

He immediately turned in the fire alarm and about half an hour before time for the children to arrive for Sunday school the fire department rushed up to do battle with the flames to save the church. After a seige of two hours the firemen came out victorious but the building was badly damaged.

The fire is believed to have been caused by an overheated furnace. The janitor started the fire at 6 o'clock. He remained there to watch it for two hours and then went home for breakfast. The flames apparently broke out near a cold air duct which acted as a draft in carrying the fire upstairs. A hole was burned through the floor in the front of the church on the west side. The supports, stringers and joists were badly burned. One pew was burned in two through the middle. Several windows were broken out by the firemen to get water inside the church. Many shingles were washed off the roof by the pressure from the firehose.

The interior of the church which had been recently redecorated was badly damaged by smoke and water. New drapes and blinds were ruined by the smoke and water. A new rug on the rostrum which the ladies of the church had purchased two months ago was soaked with water. Some of the hymn books were burned and others water-soaked. When the fire was finally put out several feet of water stood on the basement floor. Two pianos in the church were drenched.

Both the building and the contents were insured and an adjuster came to Burwell Monday and made a satisfactory settlement with the church board.

New Lighting System for Beranek Pharmacy

New fluorescent lights last week were installed by Ed F. Beranek's drug store, which thus becomes the first Ord building to be equipped with this new lighting system.

Fluorescent lighting makes use of mercury vapor in long tubes which are held in place in overhead fixtures such as are regular electric bulbs. This development has two advantages over regular electric bulbs—the light is almost white, entirely glareless and shadowless, and much less electric current is used than by ordinary bulbs. In the Beranek store 350 watts of fluorescent lighting takes the place of 1,300 watts used previously. Saving in electricity will pay for the installation in a 2-year period, it is estimated, and in the meantime the store will be much better lighted than before.

Several other Ord stores are considering fluorescent lighting, it is claimed.

Coaches, Officials of Conference Met Monday

A meeting of coaches and officials of the Loup Valley conference met Monday evening at the high school building to talk over the basketball rules and hear the interpretation of them by O. L. Webb, of Lincoln, secretary of the state activities association.

About forty were in attendance including delegations from Arcadia, Coonrock, Burwell, North Loup and St. Paul. Other schools in the conference were not represented, doubtless due to threatening weather conditions.

Mr. Webb has charge of all extra curricular high school activities in Nebraska, and has authority to settle any disputes which may arise between schools over interpretation of the rules. He went from Ord to Valentine for a meeting Tuesday night.

The condition of Albert Signer of Ericson, who was taken to an Omaha hospital last week by Dr. Cram, and his sister, Miss Pearl Signer, is much improved.

A son was prematurely born to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Malinsten Wednesday night in the home of Mrs. Dora Coleman. The baby, which weighed five pounds at birth, is being kept in an incubator.

Dr. Smith is in charge of the patients.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ciemnoczowski drove to Loup City Wednesday where they were guests of her mother, Mrs. Anna Grudzinski and her family. The next day they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Ciemnoczowski who live at Elba.

But sometimes when the twilight fell and the cats were fed and put to bed Dora felt lonesome. She was not sorry when the widow told her her son, aged 24, was coming home from college to take up work as an instructor in mathematics at the high school.

The mathematics sounded terrible, but Dora recollected that Lewis Carroll had been a mathematician in his off hours. So possibly the instructor could play as well as demonstrate awful problems.

And so it proved. Peter Graves was whimsical. He read Locke. He loaned her books and he really liked cats. He understood the temperamental Victor, champion and lord of the cattery, who rarely showed affection, and Victor jumped into his arms and purred.

Dora was delighted. "You must be very nice or Victor would never make friends. He is very particular," she added.

"I am particularly nice," said Peter, "and I fully justify all that Victor thinks about me. You'll see."

Dora laughed. "Well, we'll see," she said.

Peter taught Dora to drive a car. Being without nerves, she was an apt pupil. Mrs. Graves beamed on the pair and it was almost disconcerting to realize her formidable character disappeared with each box of candy Dora's father carried next door and melted into maternal smiles when she viewed Victor, the aloof, allowing his coat to be brushed by Peter, a liberty he slightly resented even at the gentle hands of Dora.

"We all seem pretty happy these days," ventured Mr. Stone as he sat at dinner alone with his daughter. "Do we?" said cautious Dora.

"I think Peter is about the finest young man you've run around with in some time." Mr. Stone helped himself to more fried chicken and a liberal spoonful of hominy. Dora certainly could cook. But then—so could the excellent widow.

"You make it sound as if I ran around a great deal, Dad," said Dora, "and you know very well I do nothing of the kind."

Mr. Stone laughed. "Well, well, daughter, don't catch me up so. I mean you certainly look better in your young Graves' roadster than when you used to go out with that red-headed Fred Smith."

"But Fred never rushed me, dad. Not that he—I mean Mr. Graves—does anything silly like that; but he is so sensible with the cats. He has saved me at least $2 for he brushes Victor, and you know I had to get old Jim to help me hold Victor, for he's dreadfully temperamental when he's brushed."

"Well, that's something. If Peter can make himself useful it's a good sign that he's handy about a house. Just what a man ought to be, eh?"

"Is that what Mrs. Graves says, dad?" said impudent Dora, her eyes twinkling in a rather red face.

Mr. Stone rose hastily and excused himself from watermelon.

"I am taking Mrs. Graves to hear Kreisler," he said.

"Fine, dad. Peter is taking me to the movies," countered Dora. Of course the neighborhood said the whole thing was ridiculous.

"Like some silly book," exclaimed one disappointed woman. But Mrs. Graves insisted it was the blandishments of Victor that won Peter his pretty bride. And, when he was in a teasing mood, Mr. Stone declared his daughter had fairly pushed him into the widow's arms.

As all parties to the proposition had an exceedingly well-developed sense of humor it all ended in laughter, which augurs well for the future. And since animals are mighty good judges of character, as Peter reminds his bride quite frequently, Victor chose his mistress a good husband.

DORA STONE had acquired quite a reputation with her blue Persian cats. They were out of the ordinary because, besides possessing authentic beauty, they had wonderful dispositions. They did not scratch; they were comrades. Even those indiscriminating persons who disliked cats in general were forced to say "they seemed just like dogs."

Dora merely smiled and let it go at that.

Dora herself was pleasantly plump, fond of all sports and while in college had captained the track team.

She found herself rather at a loss when the financial crash came and her father was forced to sell his book store in town and find a small country home. Hence the cats.

Next door lived a rather portentious widow. She was nice, but formidable to Dora on account of a commanding presence. However, Dora saw she agreed well with her adored father and secretly hoped that what the country neighbors called "an understanding" might result.

Her father was quite lost without the book store. Her mother had died three years before, and she felt that he needed a more complete home than she could give him. So she devoted herself to her cattery and the provision of such meals as he did not eat with Mrs. Graves, the formidable widow.

Chemical Test Is Used To Show Damaged Corn

WASHINGTON—Grain specialists of the agriculture department have developed a simple and rapid chemical test to determine damage to corn by heating or fermentation.

That method consists of the chemical determination of the degree of deterioration undergone by the fatty oil in the corn. It is believed that the new test, which measures "the degree of soundness" in corn, is simple and rapid enough to meet commercial requirements.

In current grain-grading practices condition and damage are appraised by a guesswork appraisal by odor and by the percentage of weight of damaged kernels present in the grain.

"In the absence of more precise methods," a grain specialist said, "these methods of determining soundness may have been used successfully in grain-inspection procedure."

It was pointed out, however, that the new chemical test will indicate the degree of damage in the grain more accurately and will serve more fully as an index of market and processing values.

Golden Eagle Is Given Clean Slate in Survey

COLORADO SPRINGS.—The golden eagle, only recently accorded protection by an act of congress in its capacity as the American national bird, does something besides occupy his perch on the "tall" side of a half dollar, findings of fish commissions and universities in Colorado, Wyoming and Idaho reveal.

Ascents high into the Rocky mountains to photograph eagles' nests revealed that the big birds feed primarily on prairie dogs during early summer.

C. C. Spencer, staff technician of the Pike National forest in Colorado, said that the rodents consume a total of 26.2 per cent of available grazing land each year. Other rodents bring the annual total to 35.5 per cent, he said.

The original purpose of the expeditions was to determine what effect eagles have in the increasing depletion of western Big Horn sheep herds. Spencer said no evidence had been found that eagles prey on the sheep, although further investigation will be conducted.

Statute Through Error Stabilizes Unemployment

SACRAMENTO, CALIF.—There was quite a laugh when the assembly committee on unemployment insurance looked up the law governing jobless benefits.

The original act of 1935 plainly said that the purpose of the new law was to assist "in the stabilization of employment conditions."

But the 1939 act, as amended, was printed "unemployment" conditions.

It was found that the inadvertent error slipped in when the act was amended in 1937 and was copied into the 1939 law.

Girl Harpist Studying To Be Plane Mechanic

SYRACUSE.—Unable to find employment in the music world, Miss Jessie Elinor Walizer, 25-year-old harpist, is taking lessons to become an airport "grease monkey."

Miss Walizer, who says she is "crazy about tinkering with motors," first discovered her mechanical inclinations when the 13-year-old family car broke down. Lacking funds for the necessary repairs, she overhauled the motor herself.

She is now taking a course in aviation mechanics under a scholarship extended by the civil aeronautics authority.

Falls Are in Lead In Home Accidents
Find Bathroom Is Not Most Dangerous Place.

CLEVELAND.—The safest place isn't in the home, according to the Cleveland Safety council.

Home fatalities for the first time in the past decade—figures before that time are unavailable—exceeded traffic fatalities in Cleveland.

According to the council's report the comparative figures were 127 deaths in the home and 115 by traffic. The council warns to be careful going up and down stairs because that is the time that accidents are most likely to happen.

By far, of all home accident deaths, falls were responsible for most. The council figures reported 83 in that manner. It reported that 29 deaths were attributable from falls while on stairs.

Contrary to popular belief, the bathroom is not the most dangerous place in the home or where an accident is most likely to happen.

Only one person in Cleveland suffered a fatal fall in a bathtub. However, two others slipped on bathroom floors and received fatal injuries.

Twenty-one persons died of burns in the second ranking cause of death, and carbon monoxide gas poison claimed nine lives.

In one of the oddest accidents reported, a wringer fell from the hand of a woman, struck her knee and foot, and caused an infection that proved fatal.

Woman's Club Has Guest Day, Enjoys Smorgasbord

The Woman's club of Ord held the annual guest day meeting at the home of Mrs. C. J. Miller on Tuesday afternoon, with about fifty ladies present for a most unusual program on "Culinary Adventures", and a most unusual type of refreshments following. Mrs. Eugene Leggett was introduced by the club president, Mrs. Ewet Smith, and spoke interestingly of food and its preparation, illustrating her talk. Following, Mrs. Hilding Pearson talked on a distinctly different phase of the afternoon's topic, dealing with health, and its relation to diet.

Mrs. Ralph Misko sang a Swedish song first in that language and then in English, accompanied by Mrs. Richard Teague at the piano, after which Mrs. Misko introduced Mrs. Fred Kuehl, jr., and Mrs. Kuehl discussed Swedish food and smorgasbord.

Then the refreshment committee, made up of Mrs. Ralph Misko with Madams B. A. Eddy, Den Clark and Teague assisting her, ushered members and guests to the dining room to a genuine Swedish smorgasbord. The long table was properly arranged in tiers, with pink dozes mounted at the top. Several dozen dishes of various kinds of Swedish food, including pickled fish, smoked fish, roast pork, liver paste, Swedish sausage, Swedish gentlemen's relish, hardtack, lingonberries, jellied cranberries, a variety of cheeses, and many other good things, were arrayed on the table. Guests helped themselves, and coffee was served.

Mrs. Sylvester Furlak played soft music at the piano during the serving hour. The Miller home was attractive with huge chrysanthemums in baskets furnishing the flower note. A number of rare old Swedish things were borrowed and displayed for the occasion, most of them from Mrs. Kuehl or the Ored Olsson collection.

Among the guests were Mrs. Glen Auble, Mrs. O. E. Johnson, Mrs. Alex Cochran, Mrs. Henry Deines, Mrs. Elmer Zjonke, Mrs. E. S. Murray, Mrs. Fred Kuehl, jr., Miss Filley, Mrs. Olo Olson, Mrs. Clarence Davis, Mrs. Wilmer Anderson, Mrs. Roscoe Tolley, Mrs. Alpha Hill, Mrs. W. O. Zanger, Mrs. Robert Noll and Mrs. Cuckler. Also Mrs. Robert Helvey of Sheridan, Wyo., and Miss Jennie Powell of St. Edward.

When You And I Were Young Maggie

November 27, 1930.

The arrest of two men at Lincoln, John E. Todd and W. M. Baxler, cleared up a number of robberies that had taken place at Arcadia, North Loup and Scotia.

Fred Zlonke had his right hand badly mangled when he got into a mixup with a gasoline engine at the McCarty ranch at Sumter.

While chopping wood Melvin Hacked nearly cut his foot off when the ax slipped.

On Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 27, Miss Muriel Weekes became the bride of Robert Oliver of Onawa, Ia.

Leroy Hurlbert was recovering from the amputation of his right arm after it had been crushed in a corn picker.

Dedicatory services were held at the new Methodist church in Arcadia, with Bishop Frederick D. Colette of Omaha in charge, the new building cost $26,000.

The coldest weather of the fall was reported when the mercury fell to 14 above zero on Nov. 25. Quite mild compared with the reading of minus 8 we had Nov. 13 this year.

However, there was some resemblance in the two storms, as the sleet and snow then played havoc with the telephone and telegraph lines.

November 25, 1920.

The National Farmers Union in session at Kansas City urged producers to hold 1920 crops until a reasonable price could be had for them. Now the government takes care of that.

The brick work was finished on Valley county's new court house and the job of putting on the roof was started. The lower story was ready for the plasterers.

Joe Stillman, 14, living 3 miles south of North Loup, was nearly killed when he and a neighbor lad were playing war and a "didn't know it was loaded" gun was discharged.

Ord won from Loup City 20 to 14 on the home field, after being behind 13 to 14 at the half.

Produce prices had taken a big slump during the past week, according to the Quiz, which was doubtless true. It was predicted that hogs would go to 8 cents or less on the Omaha market.

It might have seemed like a calamity then, but it would sound mighty good to the farmers now.

November 17, 1910.

A number of present residents of Ord were elected to office in the different precincts: Charley Stuchler was elected treasurer in Noble township and Gust Rose overseer in Dist. 1; James Patska was clerk in Germanium township; F. J. Cohen was overseer in Vinton township;

George S. Round was constable in Arcadia township; A. J. Cook was treasurer in Yale township.

The drama was fashionable in those days, and "St. Elmo" was coming to the Ord opera house.

Just as in 1940, the entire republican ticket was elected in Nebraska, the closest race being for secretary of state, where Waite edged out Pool by a margin of 260 votes.

The Quiz made much of the fact that Jim Dahlman carried only 15 out of the 92 counties in Nebraska. This year the number carried by Cochran was 7.

Ralph Eaglesfield canvassed the village of North Loup with the view to putting in an electric light plant there. He met with much encouragement from the business men.

November 30, 1900.

The Ord high school held its first general school exhibit, and the event called for much comment.

The Ord football team won a Thanksgiving contest from North Loup by a score of 5 to 0.

The Ord Gun club held its Thanksgiving shoot, with Bud Shirley showing the best general average for the grand prize, as well as winning several events.

Clyde Cox was to teach school in Dist. No. 10.

Moses P. Kinkaid, running his first time for congress in the big sixth, was defeated by William Neville by 209 votes. He came back, two years later to win, and then held the office for 20 years.

Nov. 29, 1895—The residence of W. L. McNutt was burglarized.—F. E. Lloyd left for Sioux City to go into business there.

Nov. 30, 1894—Josiah T. Pierce, a quaint Ord character, died.—Drouth sufferers were receiving aid from generous people in the east, especially Illinois.

Nov. 28, 1890—A fire at Arcadia destroyed many buildings.—A. Blakestead, former Ord banker, died at Wahoo.—John G. Sharpe and Rebecca N. Worley were married.

Nov. 29, 1889—Dr. L. E. Craine started a $10,000 damage suit against the Ord Quiz publisher.—The Ord Baptist church was dedicated.

Nov. 25, 1887—The Ord water-works engine was put into use for the first time. It was run by steam.—The Burlington railroad gang was residing in Ord while building the railroad.

Nov. 26, 1886—J. G. C. Heddle arrived with his bride.—There was a call for a special election on the proposition of having the records of the county audited.—A son of William Abbott of Willow Springs was lost in a blizzard, and his body was not found for months afterward.

Nov. 30, 1883—A. H. Schaefer sold his store business in North Loup to his partner, Z. K. Ferguson.—Otto Witte was starting up a drug business in the new town of Taylor.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Because of a sharp decrease in the population of Custer county the officials are now in a lower salary bracket, and the board will hold a hearing Dec. 9. The law provides that the salaries shall be reduced when the census figures change to another bracket. It also provides that the salary of an officer cannot be changed during his term of office. It is to iron out this difficulty that the meeting is called.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Monday Norm Holt was observed taking some Plymouth rock hens for a joy ride in the carrier on his bicycle. They doubtless wound up at the market place. Hank Misko says it isn't fair. For forty years or less he hunted water fowl in season (we hope) and in all that time never even got a shot at a Canada goose. The other day his young son, Frank, on his first trip after big game, walked down to the river and knocked over a Canada goose. It just goes to prove that the present generation is smarter than the past. Also, we'll bet that Hank liked that goose just as well as if he had shot it himself. Heard Mayor Cummins and Clay McGrew in a hot argument Monday over the condition of the city water. Clay claimed that the water wasn't fit to drink, and that people couldn't make tea or coffee with it. Clay was wrong in the latter part of his statement, and had to admit it. The fact is that those drinks can be made with it but they don't go down so good after they are made. Two Ord Churches Had Thanksgiving Programs While most of the Ord churches did not have special services last Thursday in observance of Thanksgiving, a special service was planned at Bethany Lutheran by the pastor, Clarence Jensen, which was well attended and enjoyed. The Thanksgiving program at the Ord Christian church was arranged by Rev. Clifford Snyder, and was well attended. It came as a fitting close to the series of successful meetings that ended the evening before. Attend Conference. A group of Ordites observed Thanksgiving in an unusual way by driving to Grand Island Thursday, where they attended the annual convention of Christ's Ambassadors. Attending were Miss Twila Brickner, Miss Floy Dahlin, Miss Evelyn Harbert, William Gabriel, and Rev. and Mrs. E. M. Clark and Elaine. Re-elected to office for 1941 were Rev. Lester Dickinson, president, Rev. E. M. Clark, vice-president, and Rev. Earl Cummings, Maxwell, secretary. Recreation Groups Plan Scotia Christmas Parade Dean S. Mitchell, area director of recreation, announces that the recreation groups of this district will put on a huge Christmas parade at Scotia, Dec. 10. In the parade will be 139 paper mache heads representing comic strip and folk lore people, with costumes to match. Among these will be such characters as Pinocchio, Ferdinand, the Bull, Pop-Eye, the Three Bears, Donald Duck, Little Jack Horner, and dozens of others dear to the hearts of the little folks. The parade will be led by a 50-piece band and will start at the Scotia school building and wind around the town. Each WPA recreation location has made at least one of these figures, which are all assembled in one place and are being moved from town to town, the first exhibit being at Arapahoe. Scotia will go to Superior to get the exhibit, which will be shown at Ravenna, Broken Bow, Grand Island and Kearney. AIRCRAFT FACTORY JOBS At Once! 50,000 Men Wanted Mechanically inclined men, white, American citizens, ages 18-38, in good health, not addicted to drink. Over a billion dollars in unfilled orders for planes and the defense program calling for 50,000 planes assure immediate and steady employment to those who qualify. Inexperienced men who are accepted must finance selves through short training. Upon employment men will be permitted to attend night trade extension classes without cost to prepare themselves for higher positions. This is done because of the acute shortage of competent workmen. For interview and qualification test, see LEROY BOGER at Ord Hotel, Ord, Nebr., Wed., Thurs., Fri. and Sat., at 9 a. m., 12 noon, 3 p. m. or 7:30 p. m. sharp.

BACK FORTY By J. A. Kovanda Considerable profit has been made with beef cattle lately, by farmers and ranchers. In a few cases their sons have also picked up some nice spending money by feeding a calf. Calves seem to be the surest investment for FFA students at the Ord high school. Crops may wither, and checks may die, but the boys harvest enough fodder to bring their calves through the winter somehow. Cattle seldom suffer from disease. When Don Guggenmos sold his steer for $63.50 lately, he found that the expenses came to only $47.50. The calf paid him a labor income of $21.45. He had that much cash in his pocket to show for sixty-nine hours of work, which the animal required. Peter Petersen bought a beef that he fed largely roughage and pasture. It brought him a net gain of $14.65. The feed and labor costs on the bullock were surprisingly low. Another beef project was carried by Adolf Urbanovsky last spring. He purchased two young heifers, fattened them for sixty days, then marketed at a net profit of $9.06. This was clear gain, after subtracting a fair allowance for his work and other costs. All the feed was purchased. Adolf's heifers gained better than 3 pounds a day. They cost 7 cents, and sold for 8 cents a pound. Our FFA lads have all paid their own money for animals, or borrowed from the parents. In no case have these country boys gone out to ask for loans or donations to help finance their projects. Several have invested their profits in more livestock. Control of Calais Calais, France, was under English control until 1557.

Saturday SALE

AT THE SALE RING IN ORD SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 30 SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

In the sale last Saturday the market on all stock was about steady. The cattle might have been a little bit cheaper. The consignment of all stock was much larger than we expected, having between 300 and 400 pigs in auction, but the buyers were all here and absorbed all the supply at good prices.

In next Saturday's sale it looks like 100 head of good cattle of all kinds.

125 head of feeder shoats and pigs. Also, Joe Rousek will have in his show gilts out of his purebred herd. These are outstanding and anyone wishing to get a choice line of breeding stock should be here at this sale.

6 head of horses. The horse market is gaining just a little and anyone that has horses to sell would do well to bring them to this market as the buyers will be here.

All classes of stock have been bringing good prices and if you have any to sell it might be a good thing to dispose of them at this time.

The farm sales are going real well, and watch these dates:

JOHN WELNIAK on DECEMBER 2nd.
FORD EYERLY on DECEMBER 3rd.
VIDA COLLINS on DECEMBER 4th.

Faces Shortage In Vital Metals

Government Acts to Build Reserves; Manganese, Tin, Offer Problems.

WASHINGTON. — Virtually complete dependence on foreign sources for tin and manganese may complicate efforts of the government's national defense administrators to build up a large emergency reservoir of strategic war materials for the United States, according to mineral experts.

Unlike chromium and tungsten, which the government plans to buy in large quantities, tin and manganese are produced in very limited quantities in this hemisphere. Large quantities of all will be needed for the defense program.

Heretofore, government experts said, more than three-fourths of the tin used in the United States has come from British Malaya, with the remainder divided between England, the Dutch East Indies, the Netherlands and Bolivia. Except for that of Bolivia, the supply from these sources is likely to be curtailed and even completely shut off because of the war, they believe.

Smelters Not Available.

Even if Bolivia could supply all the tin required by the United States, neither country has commercial smelters capable of refining what the experts termed "refractory and rebellious" Bolivian ore.

The situation in regard to manganese is similar. In 1939, American industries required more than 782,250 tons of the metal—essential for hardening armor-plate steel. Main sources of manganese ore have been the African Gold Coast and British India. Minor quantities are produced in the Philippines and Brazil.

Tin and manganese, the expert said, undoubtedly will provide Edward R. Stettinius Jr., materials coordinator of the national defense commission, with his most difficult problem. President Roosevelt has said fears of such shortages are hysterical and that Stettinius has the situation under control.

Under the strategic materials act passed at the last session of congress $100,000,000 was to be spent over the next 10 years for essential war-time commodities not readily available in this country. Approximately $13,000,000 has been spent in the current fiscal year.

More Funds Sought.

With the invasion of Belgium, Holland and France, the administration decided it was essential to the national defense to speed up purchases of strategic materials. Since May 10 the President has sent two requests to congress for $47,500,000 for the acquisition of such supplies. Another $100,000,000 would be available indirectly if needed under terms of the 1941 fiscal year military and naval appropriation bills.

Experts regard the tin situation as the most acute. During 1939 industrial consumption in the United States totaled approximately 70,000 tons of pig tin. Since last September the government purchased 6,124 tons at a cost of more than $6,000,000. But this would not be sufficient to last more than a few days if the country found itself at war, experts said.

The rubber situation is more indefinite, but probably not so serious, experts said. The procurement division has no quota on rubber, since all imports are handled on a barter basis for American cotton by the state and agriculture departments.

Chromium ore, necessary for the manufacture of armor plate and highly important in the manufacture of tool steel, is fortunately widely distributed over the earth's surface, the experts said, with the Philippines and Cuba among the major producers.

Dinosaur Print in Texas Hints of 50-Ton Beast

AUSTIN, TEXAS.—A single footprint, as long as a bathtub and 40 inches wide, has convinced Dr. E. H. Sellards, director of a paleontological survey in Texas, that the world's largest dinosaur once roamed over what is now Texas.

From the size of the track, University of Texas experts construe existence of an animal 80 feet long, weighing nearly 50 tons.

The foot-deep track was uncovered at the water's edge of the Paluxy river, near Glen Rose, Texas.

Roland T. Bird of the American Museum of Natural History has been sent to the spot to supervise preservation and removal of the dinosaur track. To do so, men under Bird's direction will cut away a one-ton block of limestone on which the four-toed marks of the foot are imprinted.

Sees Too Many Going Nowhere for Nothing

WASHINGTON. — Sarah Todd Cunningham, a visiting senator from tranquil Hawaii, has this impression of the mainland:

"Too many people in too many cars in too much of a hurry going in too many different directions to nowhere for nothing."

Beautiful Betty

By MAIDA SMITH (Associated Newspapers.) WNU Service.

"IT HAS come," cried Billy, excitement lined upon his tanned face, "barely in time, too."

Alicia made suitable exclamations, her own face relieved. The ring that he slipped upon her fourth finger was exquisite, indeed, but she had seen it before when he had taken her into the jewelry store to select it. She had wanted to wear it home, but Billy had insisted that the size was a trifle too large and it had been left for alteration.

"Billy," reflected the petted young woman, "is oddly restless." In the store he had whispered and gestured when he withdrew with the clerk and now he seemed almost on the eve of doing a shuffle of joy as he stared at his love token.

At that moment her father entered, his small, shrewd eyes resting impassively upon the pretty tableau.

"The ring came just in time for the engagement party," babbled Billy, wiping his brow.

"Well, one would naturally expect to see her wearing one," returned Mr. Smithers unenthusiastically. "Is your dad here, yet?"

Bill shook his sleek head. "He'll be here tomorrow." He gulped, and then murmured: "I took the liberty of bringing a guest, Alicia; she's an artist and an old friend. I thought she'd enjoy the doings."

Mr. Smithers did not repress his surprise, although his daughter, in the flush of joy proper to a newly engaged girl, tried to smirk convincingly.

"Where is—she?" she let fall belatedly.

Billy ran his finger inside his collar. "I—brought her with me. She's out there."

Puzzled, but mindful of her obligations as hostess, Alicia stepped into the hall where she now perceived a small and radiant figure sitting in a deep chair before the fireplace.

"Betty Bernard, Alicia, and a good scout," stammered Billy.

An influx of hilarious guests almost drowned the ensuing words and Betty was swept upstairs with the other girls.

In an incredibly short time, however, she was back with the engaged couple and Alicia found her at her elbow constantly through the evening. Even when they all piled into cars en route for the Scarlet Parrott, Betty squeezed into Billy's speedster with them and when Alicia, becoming a trifle bored with the persistent attentions of the good scout, asked Jim to take her away to another table at the cabaret, she saw, with mounting annoyance, that the two were within two feet of her.

Presently, intercepting an exchange of glances between the good scout and her fiance, Alicia withdrew to the dressing room to ponder her future actions. It was patent that Betty had some hold on Bill. When the announcement of the engagement had been made Betty had been most attentive and her long-lashed brown eyes had remained glued upon the diamond ring.

Alicia looked up from the glowing tip of her cigarette to find Betty seated on the lounge opposite her. "Billy is a stranger in this city. How do you happen to be here, Miss Bernard?"

"Business," Betty's smile was Circelike.

Alicia flamed. The brilliant brown eyes were again fixed upon the betrothal ring. This girl had some hold upon Billy. Probably she intended to make a scene and claim him. She'd not stand the situation an instant longer.

Leaping to her feet, she fairly ran out.

A distinguished-looking man was examining his billfold and talking to Bill.

"I am returning this ring," said Alicia in her best manner; "please take that woman away from here. I'm tired of her."

Betty exchanged a knowing grin with the scarlet Bill.

"I have it here, Bill. Is this the lady?"

Alicia winked back a tear as Bill's father handed over a sheaf of bank notes to the shameless Betty. The bright dream was ended. Bill was a philanthropist—unworthy of her worship.

"Thank you," the good scout was saying, tucking the roll of bills in her brocade bag. "I just hated to follow her about, but your son being a stranger could not offer any security for the ring, and so the firm rented him the ring for the evening. Good-night and thanks for the party, Miss Smithers."

Repentantly Alicia turned to her misjudged fiance.

"I—I'm sorry," she began.

"It was the only way I could fix it so you'd have your ring for the party, sweetheart. I couldn't find any one I knew, and—oh well, no use talking. Dad got my wire and rented a plane to come. Miss Bernard is a private detective, you know."

Apparently the bemused Bill had not heard Alicia's jealous speech concerning the beautiful Betty and 'twas just as well.
