Sunday Fire Damages Home of George Allen

Sunday a fire, doubtless caused by sparks from the chimney, did an estimated damage of $300 to the residence at 2007 M street owned and occupied by George Allen. The fire burned a large hole in the roof but the firemen were on the job in record time and soon had the blaze under control.

Monday Mr. Allen said that he was highly pleased with the way the firemen handled the job, putting down their mats and thus minimizing the loss from water and chemicals. This is the third fire at this house, all apparently from the same cause, so the owner plans to put a spark screen in the top of the chimney to prevent fires in the future.

Mrs. John Ehresman Dies Monday Evening

Burwell—(Special)—At 5:30 Monday evening at her home north of Burwell Mrs. John Ehresman, 72, passed away and the funeral is being held at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at the Full Gospel Tabernacle. She had been ill six months.

Mrs. Ehresman and her husband had lived on the same ranch 33 years and had intended to retire and move to town in the near future.

Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Maggie Johnson, of Emerson, Nebr., Miss Lena, of Los Angeles, and Miss Estelle, at home; and by four sons, Emanuel, of Scottsbluff, Ed, John, Jr., and Dan, of Burwell. For many years Mrs. Ehresman made a home for her two motherless grandsons, Bernard and Otto.

Last Day of Old Year Brings .38 Inch Rain

A drizzling rain which fell all day Tuesday and throughout the night brought .38 of an inch of moisture at Ord and varying amounts throughout the territory. Dense fog made automobile driving hazardous but no serious mishaps are reported.

Lyle Best, vocational agriculture teacher at Stapleton, was in Ord Sunday visiting J. A. Kovanda and looking for a house. While he was not positive at the time, he is quite certain he will be located here in FSA work in the near future.

Knights of Columbus Move to New Location

Effective Jan. 1, the Ord Knights of Columbus will be found in the upstairs room in the Bailey building formerly occupied by the Knights of Pythias and the Chamber of Commerce. This gives them much more space than they had in their former location above the Sorensen Drug company.

The rooms will be available for the use of other functions, according to James Petska, who has charge of renting them. The Knights have made application for a dance license, and will hold a dance there in the near future.

Rotarians Tell of Plans for New Year

Members of the Ord Rotary club enjoyed talks by club members in place of a regular program Monday evening. President E. L. Kokes turned the meeting over to Clarence M. Davis, who called on several members of the club for impromptu talks on their business plans for 1941. Among speakers were Mayor M. B. Cummings, Ralph Misko, E. C. Leggett, M. Biemond, Keith Lewis and H. C. James.

Knezacek Talks to Cosmopolitans

Senator J. T. Knezacek was guest speaker at the meeting of the Ord Cosmopolitan club at their meeting at Thorne's cafe Thursday evening. He had with him a list of bills recommended by the Nebraska Legislative Council, and spoke briefly on a number of them, asking his hearers to suggest any changes that might seem advisable.

The first he mentioned was in regard to auto drivers' licenses, to clarify points left more or less uncertain in the present law. Under the suggested law traffic law violations for the state would be immediately available in any town in the state, for use against any who might be hauled into court for further offenses.

Next came a suggested law whereby county judges could, at their own discretion, issue a certificate of birth to any who produced sufficient proof. No state record was kept of births prior to 1905, and a complete record was not kept until 1917. Thus there are thousands of citizens who have no official record of birth.

Another suggested law calls for simplifying the absent and disabled voting system. Under the present system at least two affidavits are necessary, and the total cost of voting to the individual can be more than a dollar, thus working an unnecessary financial hardship on those who are absent or disabled and still wish to vote.

Another pertains to educational lands and funds, and seeks to make such lands taxable. The establishment of a legislative comptroller with a salary of $6,000 per year is advocated. Mr. Knezacek believes that this is an unnecessary expense as the work of the comptroller could be done by the clerk of the legislature between sessions.

There are also suggested laws in regard to the probation and parole system, the establishment of a separate highway commission, and the much discussed idea of having one man at the head of the school system of the state, making some 6 year high schools, some 4 year, and some of the smaller schools only two year.

Mr. Knezacek does not favor this latter plan, as it will take away from the poorer class in the small towns the opportunity to secure a four year high school course. He also says that this and many other laws tend toward a centralization of power, which is a thing we should avoid. The Cosmopolitans enjoyed Senator Knezacek's talk very much.

Car and U. P. Motor in Accident Saturday

At about 10:15 Saturday morning a car driven by Miss Ava Leach, accompanied by her brother, Orville Leach, was hit by the U. P. motor at the crossing north of the city light plant. The front fenders bumper and lights were smashed, but the car remained upright and neither of the occupants was injured.

Miss Leach was driving east on J street, and the building of the city filtration plant obstructs the view of the track. The wind was strong from the north, and the young people did not hear the whistle of the approaching motor, which was backing up to the depot. The Leachs and their mother, Mrs. Iona Leach, live in the Dailey property on J street.

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 1, 1941

Unusual Weather Features the Year Ending Yesterday

Aug., November Coldest and January Second Coldest in Past Ten Years.

From the records of Horace Travis, official weather reporter, the year which closed at midnight last night was one of the most unusual from the weather viewpoint in recent years. Although July was very hot, with 7 days above 100 degrees, upon the whole it was a very cool year. August and November set a record for being the coldest in ten years, while January was a close second to 1937 in being the coldest in ten years. The other months ran not far from the general average.

January, 1940, was a dry month, only .62 of an inch of moisture falling in all. The greatest amount, .28, came Jan. 17. The high temperature was above freezing on 5 days, and there were below zero readings on 10 days. The coldest days were Jan. 18, with a high of -1 and a low of -20, and Jan. 24, with a high of -4 and a low of -11. There was a total snowfall of 6 inches.

February was just about as dry as January, with a total of .77 of an inch of moisture and nearly 7 inches of snow. The heaviest fall was .43 on Feb. 3. There were 8 clear days, 11 partly cloudy and 10 cloudy. The coldest was -7, Febr. 9, and the warmest was 60, Febr. 29. The number of days with below freezing readings all day was 15.

March might be regarded as a wet month, with a total of 2.28 inches of rain and snow of 7 inches. The most moisture came March 28, when 1.20 inches fell as rain, and on that same day came the first thunder storm of the year. There were no below zero readings, and four days were below freezing all day, while 10 were above freezing all day. The coldest was 12 on March 13 and 14, and the hottest was 70 on March 30.

April was also a wet month, as it is supposed to be, with a total of 2.56 inches of rainfall. The most was 64 on April 28. There was no snow, but 9 days recorded below freezing temperatures, the coldest being 16 on April 11 and 12. The hottest day was April 14, with 84. Light rain fell on April 27 and 28.

Ord Volunteer Firemen Again Show Good Record

For the second successive year the Ord Volunteer fire department has turned in a splendid record, with only small losses in most cases. No house was entirely destroyed in Ord during the year, the only building ruined being the garage on the Mrs. Ulrich place in west Ord occupied by the M. B. Cummings family.

The first alarm came Jan. 9, at Johnson Bros. in the building owned by Mrs. W. W. Haskell, and the estimated loss was $5. A run was made to the rear of the Kasal pool hall March 2, where some trash had caught fire, but it was put out without loss. The next fire came March 10, when damage to the amount of $30 was done to the Mrs. Victor McBeth property occupied by Chet Austin, due to trouble with the furnace.

The Cummins garage was the next fire, on April 18, and the loss was fixed at $75. Damage in the amount of $35 was done to the Mrs. E. L. Johnson duplex occupied by the Emery Petersen family, May 10. Sept. 19 the car belonging to Fred Skala got on fire, and the fire was put out with a loss of $3.

The fire at the George Allen home Sunday was the most expensive of the year, but the damage will probably not exceed $300. This makes a grand total for the year of seven fires with a total of $448, or an average of $74. This is about 26c per person living in Ord. The average number of firemen attending all fires was 22, amply sufficient to handle the equipment. The department also made a run out to the Mrs. Gust Foth farm July 21, but this of course does not count in the above figures.

Valley County CCC Quota Is Seven For January 6

Information from the county assistance office states that Valley county's CCC quota was established at seven juniors. The boys will report to Company No. 2732 at Broken Bow on Monday, Jan. 6, 1941.

All boys past 17 years of age and less than twenty-three years who are interested are urged to report at the assistance office at once. All applications should be filed as early as possible to give the authorities time to check on the qualifications of each applicant.

Henry Misko plans to return to his school work at Los Angeles, Calif., the latter part of this week.

Many Attend All Day "Youth Congress" At the Ord United Brethren Church Friday

Caught Pass that Scored 2nd Husker Touchdown; Nebr. Defeated, 21 to 13.

The Nebraska Cornhuskers lost to the Stanford Indians 21 to 13 in the season's greatest football game Wednesday in the Rose Bowl but even in defeat the Cornhuskers were a great team and an Ord boy, Allen Zikmund, was a heroic figure.

Allen it was who in the second quarter recovered a Stanford fumble on the Stanford 33 yard line. Caught it was who on the next play scored a touchdown that put Nebraska in the lead 13 to 7.

It was Allen who made a 46 yard runback of a Stanford kickoff but he was hurt on the play and had to be removed from the game.

If he had not been hurt Nebraska might have beat the Indians, according to Fred Ware, of the World-Herald, for Allen was the only Nebraska back fast enough to cope with Stanford's speed.

Pictures of the heroic Ord boy have been appearing in the daily papers and sports writers were unanimous in their praise of his fine playing Wednesday.

Quite a number of Ord people were among the 91,500 who saw the Rose Bowl game, including Allen's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Beranek. A photograph of these people appeared in the World-Herald Tuesday.

Give Christmas Box.

The Ord Camp Fire groups played Santa Claus by furnishing a fine Christmas dinner with all the trimmings, and also some toys for the kiddies to a needy Valley county family. The work was done under the direction of Mrs. John Anderson, who says the girls are already making plans to make the gift idea an annual affair.

Dr. Charles Smith Dies in Minnesota

On Christmas eve came word of the death at St. Paul, Minn., of Dr. Charles Smith, former Ord man and pastor of a church in the Twin Cities. He died of a sudden heart attack shortly before he was to have attended a Christmas program at his church. He was a brother of Mrs. Minnie Hardenbrook, Miss Mamie Smith and Evet Smith of Ord, Mrs. Elmer Hallock of Burwell, and Mrs. Ed Thompson, of Arcadia, all of whom drove to St. Paul Thursday to attend the funeral. They returned Sunday.

Surviving are the widow, son Harold and daughter Maxine, a daughter-in-law, two granddaughters and one sister, Mrs. Earl Drake, all of Arcadia; a brother, Ed Miller, of Shelton, Wash. Preceding him in death were his father and mother, the latter on Dec. 1, 1940; two brothers and an infant son.

Mr. Miller was regarded as a good neighbor, helpful friend and a kind husband and father. During his long and painful illness which extended more than a year he was a patient sufferer and held great faith in recovery.

At the funeral pall bearers were chosen from his close neighbors and friends, including L. G. Arnold, W. D. Kingston, K. L. Dorsey, Walter Dobson, Bert Braden and Charles Braden. Music was furnished by Mrs. Mark Tolson and Mrs. E. O. Carlson, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the organ.

Only Sister Dies.

Mrs. C. E. Norris received a severe shock during the Christmas season when she heard of the unexpected death, at Westerville, O., of her only remaining sister, Mrs. Lillian VanAuken, which occurred Dec. 20. Mrs. Norris was unable to attend the funeral because of her own health. Only four months ago her only brother, Jay H. Cline, died at Everett, Mich., and none are left bearing the name of Cline.

PERSONALS

Charles Misko, of Chicago, arrived this Thursday morning for a brief visit with his mother, Mrs. James Misko.

The C. C. Davis family left Christmas day to visit their people at St. Edward. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Catherine Jameson has been quite ill for several days at her home in Ord, but is now somewhat improved.

Miss Eleanor Wolfe spent four days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wolfe, returning to Lincoln Christmas day with Mr. and Mrs. Hal Pierce. She is a student at University of Nebraska and also is doing nursing at Bryan Memorial hospital.

Paul Danner of the U. S. army arrived Sunday to spend a few days furlough visiting his mother, Mrs. Frank Kamard. Danner has been in the service 5 months and is located at Scott Field, Ill., near St. Louis, where he is studying to be a radio operator. His home base is at March Field, near Riverside, Calif., and he will return there with his present period of instruction completed.

GREAT AMERICANS.

There is a picture on display in the Hastings and Ollis window which is worth looking at. More than that, it is worth serious study for the lesson it conveys. The title is "Great Americans," and typical great men of our nation appear, together with an American flag pendant from a pole in the center.

Across the top are the pictures of Will Rogers, Samuel Clemens (Mark Twain), Tecumseh, and William F. Cody (Buffalo Bill). Below them are Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Thomas A. Edison, and Benjamin Franklin. Below and in the foreground are Washington, Lincoln and Robert Fulton.

These are representative Americans, and not the only great Americans. The thing worth while is the fact that one could fill a large volume with the names of Americans, past and present who are worthy to be classed among the nation's great. In America no man stands high above his fellows, because so many men are nearly as great.

The selection is of special interest. The top rank is given to two men, Rogers and Twain, who did more than any others to make their world happy, for happiness is one of the basic duties of civilization. A high place is given to Tecumseh, greatest perhaps of all real Americans, and to Buffalo Bill, who represents the heroes of the formative period of the great frontier.

Our four greatest presidents are shown, and the selection was a wise one. Fulton, inventor of the steamboat, represents in the abstract the inventions that laid the foundation for the building of our great factories through the use of steam, and of our present great transportation systems, made possible by the same power.

In Franklin we have represented diplomacy and the power of the press, a free press, if you please. Franklin was our first great diplomat. He is also credited with being the father of American printing. Today our nation is the only one in which the editor has the right to state his opinions without fear or favor, so long as he does not offend against truthfulness and decency.

Today the average American has a measure of the humor of Rogers and Twain, the native son spirit of Tecumseh, the pioneering spirit of Cody, the executive ability of Roosevelt, the wisdom of Wilson, the love of country of Washington, the spirit of unity of Lincoln, the diplomacy of Franklin, the inventiveness of Edison and Fulton, and the combination makes him head and shoulders above the next best man on earth.

THURMAN SMITH RETIRES.

Thurman A. Smith, for more than twenty years owner and editor of the Taylor Clarion, has leased the publication to his son, Ivan L. Smith, who is taking over the management today. With Christmas week Editor Smith closed a half century of newspaper service in Nebraska.

At the age of fourteen years he began as rural correspondent for country publications. Later he was printer's devil, printer and foreman in the office of the Brewster News. He served as news writer and foreman on the Cherry County Searchlight, and the Antioch News during the potash boom days when that ghost town of the present had a population of more than 3,500.

He was owner and editor of the Logan County Pioneer for two years following the World War, and in 1920 came to Taylor and purchased the Clarion, which he has published since that time. Mr. Smith has also served as county Judge of Loup county the past six years, and was re-elected to that office in the November election.

In addition to his editorial activities, Mr. Smith was well known for the historical stories he has written for newspapers and magazines, and his poetry has appeared in books and magazines throughout the United States. He is poet laureate of Ars Poetica, a state poetry society with headquarters at Grand Island, and placed second in the Nebraska State Thanksgiving Poetry contest in November.

In the above brief facts are told the high lights of a man who has made literature his life work, and who will continue to wield his pen. When a man is born with the poetic urge in his soul, with a desire to picture for others the beauties of nature as they appear to him, he never really retires. Relief from the responsibilities of a country newspaper will give Thurman A. Smith the time for a greater service.

Here is a man who was born and lived on the wide prairies of Nebraska, a man who has always lived close to nature and to nature's God. Dame Nature recognizes his talents long ago and made him one of her noblemen. His property holdings are modest, but he owns a personal interest in the entire North Loup Valley, which he has seen develop from frontier days.

As a writer of stories and poems of his native sandhills, Thurman Smith is without a peer. He has a style that is all his own, lofty, inspiring. He has the rare ability of telling the truth without offence. Let us hope that he may find time to collect his poems into book form, and also to write a novel of the sandhills he loves so well.

OUR MEAGER RAINFALL.

Last week the Wahoo Wasp gave a summary of the rainfall for Wahoo for the years since 1926, and the figures are so startling when compared to that of Ord that they are worthy of comment. The figures show that from 1927 to 1934 the average annual rainfall there was 25.67 inches, while at Ord it was 22.18 inches for the same period.

That difference is about the normal amount of difference in the location of the two towns, but here are the figures for the past 7 years, 1934 to 1940, inclusive. The average rainfall at Wahoo in those years was 22.97 inches, while the average rainfall at Ord was 17.47 inches, an average difference of 5.5 inches per year, more than double the difference during the first mentioned seven years.

Here are some figures which make the comparison the more startling: In 1928 Ord had 19.51 inches, Wahoo had 30.14 inches; in 1931 Ord had 16.07 inches, Wahoo had 25.19; in 1934 Ord had 10.93 inches, Wahoo had 20.39; in 1938 Ord had 19.47 inches, Wahoo had 31.41; and this year Ord had 17.08, while Wahoo had 16.26 inches a total deficiency of 49.23 inches, or nearly ten inches per year.

Crops have been fine in the Wahoo territory nearly all the time that this section has been suffering from shortage of rainfall, and it is easy to trace the cause by the above comparison of the rain fall in the two sections of the state. In the past fifteen years the rainfall at Wahoo has been above 25 inches eight years, twice in the past three years. Give this county rains like that for three years and we'll take care of ourselves.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

One thing that I can't understand is why this country, big enough to conscript the boys on the Nebraska farms and take them into the army at whatever wage the government sees fit to fix, is unable to conscript factory laborers in munition and war supplies factories, already getting big wages and short hours of labor. If there is the great necessity claimed to make war supplies, a bunch of rabid union members should not be allowed to strike and hold up the program any more than a bunch of soldiers in the army training camps should be allowed to strike for higher wages or less drilling. Perhaps it is time this country should have a dictator.

I go down the street and hear a group of business men kicking because the city administration don't move the snow. Pretty soon the snow is being moved, the kickers doing most of it at their own expense. The grass in the courtyard seemed about to die for want of moisture and a lot of fellows began to kick and pretty soon it was being watered aplenty. Someone turns in a kick because the sidewalk along an unoccupied property does not have the snow shoveled off in less than an hour a man appears to do the job which had been neglected. One day I heard a fellow say, and I quote him: "Damn Doc Taylor anyhow, he is forever bellyaching about something." But I have noticed that when Doc and others were finding fault it was constructive criticism; they were kicking because something that should be done, was not being done. Suppose we all let things slide and never find fault? Well, we would all get walked on and robbed right and left and this town and county and state would be in a mighty bad way. Good, constructive bellyaching is necessary and if that doesn't get results, something more drastic must be done, which is also sometimes necessary.

Fellow asked me the other day what I did to busy myself and would hardly believe it when I said that I found plenty to do. I counted the cards of those in arrears more than 3 months the day after Christmas and found 157 of them and as all of them are back too far, I went to work writing letters to all of them and kept at it till all had been written.

Some of you guys would find it quite a job to write 157 individual letters, fold them and put them, with a return pink envelope into envelopes, after addressing the envelopes. Each letter takes a sheet of paper and two envelopes that have been printed. The letter heads have also been printed and I figure that it costs us about 6 cents for each letter if my time is worth anything at all and a lot of it is unnecessary. I say this because so many people, when they come in and pay up, tell me that they intended to pay long ago but always forgot it while in town, or until they were on the way home. Anyhow, over a year's time all this correspondence costs several hundred dollars. There are about 200 October, November and December expirations now in arrears, so the total out of 2,500 who get the Quiz regularly is in the neighborhood of 150. We will appreciate it greatly if you who are in that class, will drop in and pay up or send it.

The white house says that 150 prominent American citizens have urged President Roosevelt to make it the settled policy of this country to do everything necessary to insure the defeat of the axis powers. That would seem to mean that they are in favor of going into the war, sending American armies across the ocean as we did in the other world war. The president was elected to third term upon his oft repeated promise that we would not go into the war. Also it would be interesting to know how many of that 150 would have to go if our armies were sent abroad. So far as the list was published they were largely college presidents and lawyers, bankers and big business executives mostly older men. I failed to find in the list any mothers of the boys who would have to be shot at.

Southern California must be having some more of that unusual weather, as the daily papers are describing the storms and showing pictures of houses at Redondo Beach wrecked by the high winds and tides. I sure hope none of the Nebraska football players get hurt in the storm.

"President Roosevelt takes to his bosom all those who want war and shuns those who talk peace." That is what Senator Burton K. Wheeler of Montana said last Friday in an interview. Senator Wheeler is a democrat who broke with the president on his packing of the supreme court and has opposed much of the new deal legislation since. This charge that he makes against the president seems a serious one considering the promises which Mr. Roosevelt made during the campaign.

May made a record for dryness, only .22 of an inch falling during the entire month, the most being .19 on May 20. The hottest recordings were on May 13 and 31, with 87, and the lowest was 35 on May 16. There was no frost, and a thunderstorm is recorded on May 6.

June started out well, with 3.85 inches of rain recorded from June 4 to 8, inclusive, but that was all for the month. The heavy fall came June 8, with 1.43 recorded. June 22 was the hottest day, with 95, and the coldest came June 24, with 49. There was light hail on June 8, but with no damage.

July had a fair rainfall but most of the 2.32 inches came July 31, when 1.10 inches fell, rather too late to help crops. July had 7 days with readings above 100 degrees, the hottest being 109 on July 24. The coldest was 56, on July 2. A light hail July 29 found little left to damage.

August brought some rain, but it was below normal, 1.87 inches, the most being .78 of an inch on Aug. 13. The highest reading was 96 on Aug. 4, and there were only 7 days with a reading of 90 and above. The coldest reading was 47 on Aug. 9 and 31, and there was a total of 8 days with readings below 60. It was the coolest August on record.

September broke the record for dryness, with a total of .07 of an inch in three showers, the heaviest being .03 on Sept. 20. The warmest was 99 on Sept. 8, warmer than any day in August, and there were 5 days with readings above 90. The coldest recording was 36 on Sept. 25, with 7 days running below 60.

October had a good average for rain, with a total of 2.02 inches of which 1.33 inches fell on Oct. 6. The warmest for the month was 85 on Oct. 26, and the lowest was 33 on Oct. 6 and 26, accompanied by light frost. There were eight days above 50 and 5 days below 40.

November had a total of .77 of snow. The heaviest fall was .41 of an inch of moisture on Nov. 11. The highest reading was 63 on Nov. 2 and 3, and the lowest was -10 on Nov. 14. There was a sleet storm on Nov. 10. This month broke all existing records for cold, with a general average for the whole month just below the freezing mark.

December was a rather wet month, with a total of 1.66 inches of moisture, most of which fell each day from Dec. 11 to Dec. 15, inclusive, the greatest amount being .60 of an inch on Dec. 15. The total in inches of snow was 17. An oddity of the month was the light shower of rain which fell during the night the Friday after Christmas. It was only a trace, but at least, it rained. The coldest for the month was 5 on Dec. 14, and the warmest was 55 on Dec. 8.

While there was a shortage of moisture during the year, the snow of December, most of which has melted, has made the ground wetter than it has been on Jan. 1 for a long time. The fact that we had the snow, and that most of it stayed where it fell, is a source of gratification for the farmers, who consider it an indication of better times ahead.

Rev. Charles Smith Dies.
Word was received Thursday in Ord of the death at St. Paul, Minn., of Rev. Charles Smith. That afternoon his brother, Evert Smith, and sisters, Mrs. Minnie Hardbrook, Miss Maude Smith and Mrs. Elmer Hallock and husband left by auto for St. Paul to be present for the funeral on Saturday. Rev. Smith was formerly well known here. He was in good health until very shortly before his death, which was caused by coagulation of blood in the heart.

Poems Published.
John L. Ward has been notified that a number of his poems have been published in a new anthology, "Prize Poets Of 1940", just off the press. He was not required to purchase copies of the book, a customary stipulation, which indicates that the publishers consider them of unusual merit.

John Edwards
Field Manager Ord, Nebr.

In several buildings of each of the several cities, little lights could be turned on with a central switch. When all the landscape is dark, the tiny lit buildings make a magic land. When a soft blue light is turned on to represent moonlight, the scene is lovely. (One of the makers of this work declared that moonlight was so bright in that country as to give heat strokes often, just as the hot summer sun does in our country.) Another bright light represented the land in the light of a golden setting sun, but the moonlight was more attractive.

I don't know what material could have been used to make this spectacle. It seemed like rock, or possibly paper mache painted to look like rock, but with little artificial look. The little trees looked artificial, some of the crops looked real although not all of them. The buildings appeared especially genuine. The figures made me think of small dolls.

Soft sweet music made an especially suitable background, since only Christmas songs and hymns were reproduced. It was a complete touch to a totally different experience which I wish would have enjoyed too.

—Irma.

BACK FORTY

By J. A. Kovanda

Cornstalk disease is killing cattle in this vicinity. One local farmer has lost seven head, and many smaller losses have been reported by other stockmen. More deaths will occur where animals browse on standing cornstalks, as this seems to be the winter for another of those periodic outbreaks of cornstalk sickness.

The only way to prevent loss is by cutting the stalks, shocking them in the field, or making ensilage. Cornstalk disease works mysteriously. It has the scientists some substance formed in cornstalks during decomposition, but have found nothing.

Custer county folks tried a lot of experiments back in 1906, when cornstalk disease was destroying nearly two thousand head of cattle around Broken Bow. The experiments got them nowhere.

They found it did no good to provide other feeds along with the cornstalks. It saved no animals to leave them in the stalks for a short time only. It did not help to give more or less salt or water. It did no good to vaccinate.

The veterinarians have not found any germs, poisons, acids, or salts which might be responsible for the malady. They have discovered in relation between cornstalk disease and drought, rainfall, snowfall or temperature. The affliction is just as prevalent on upland as bottomland, or sandy as clay soil.

That is as far as the experts got thirty-five years ago, and is about where they are today regarding cornstalk disease.

Wore the Pilgrim Shell

A pilgrim shell was a scallop shell worn during the Middle Ages by persons who had made the pilgrimage to the Holy Land. The pilgrim shell was sometimes included in the family coat of arms.

Grohe'sNU-BRED*SEED CORN

Farmers: If anyone says anything against NU-BRED SEED CORN, ask them to prove their facts.

All our advertising is based on figures and facts. We can prove what we say about Nu-Bred. This corn is the latest development in modern seed corn breeding and we invite you to plant one or two bushels of Nu-Bred side by side with any other corn sold in Valley county and see for yourself what the answer will be.

Every kernel of Nu-Bred seed comes from a detassled stalk of corn. We do not sell any large or small kernels from the ends of the ear as we do not think they were made for seed. Nu-Bred is sold in two kernel sizes, large No. 1 flat and No. 2 flat.

If there are questions the farmers would like to ask in regard to Nu-Bred any one of Grohe's growers will be glad to explain. Its performance in the farmer's field that counts, plus the extra feeding value. Grown in Valley county by Valley county farmers for Valley county farmers.

Don't wait—investigate.
Send a penny postcard to any of these farmers for information:

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Richard Severson when in Ord for the vacation complained because so many people, especially ladies, kept mistaking him for Clark Gable. He admits that they do look alike, but Severson is a much larger man.

Clayton Arnold got a pheasant Friday, but in a way he did not like. He was driving along not far from Arcadia, going about 45 miles per hour, when all at once something crashed through the windshield in front of him showering him with glass and hitting him in the face. He got the car stopped without accident, threw the pheasant out, picked a lot of broken glass out of his collar and came on to Ord. Thankful that the glass was "shatter proof".

While there are not very many people who know it, it is of interest to note that we had a rain between Christmas and New Year. It was only a trace, according to Horace Travis, and fell late at night, but it was rain, and in December, so we had rain, a little anyhow, in every month of the year except February, which was too cold.

Again came the birthdays of Frank W. Adamek and Charley Hunt, both of whom were 64 years old on Christmas day. Charley says that he believes that more people celebrate on their birthdays than on any other day of the whole year.

Saw a girl pulling some of that Sonja Henie stuff on the ice last week. Sonja spins around on the ice, stands on one foot, smiles, makes a bow and then sits down. This girl did plenty of spinning around, stood on one foot or the other as long as she could, and then sat down, but she forgot to make a bow or smile. She dared me to put her name in the Quiz but life is too short.

The fire record for 1940 shows that three of the seven fires listed were at the homes of people connected with the city. The one March 10 occurred at the home of Chet Austin, that of April 8 was the garage of Mayor M. B. Cummins, and that Sunday was at the home of City Manager George Allen. Is it possible that the city guys are trying to get a corner on all fires in town?

Christmas rushes took place in every Ord store but the worst must have happened in Safeway where the crowd was so great that they broke the turnstile which permitted people to enter but not to exit. It was stored away for later repairs. Manager Price estimated there were 150 people waiting to pay for their groceries and leave the store when the turnstile broke.

set-up. If, instead of a sensitive film, a glass coated with certain chemicals is put in the path of the x-ray, the picture appears on this glass. This is called a screen and is used daily in x-ray work when the doctor simply wants to look at the patient's heart, lungs, stomach, etc., and not record what he sees on a film.

The picture seen on this screen can be photographed with a small camera of almost any size, even as small as the 1 by 1½ inch minature. This saves a great deal of money in some instances. It is particularly useful in the routine examination of the lungs in large groups of supposedly healthy people such as school children. These small films fail to show very small defects in the organs and are not suitable for routine examination of sick people. It is possible that improvements in this method may make it available, in the future, for some of this kind of work and thus, effect a saving to those being examined.

Erickson Car Is Found on Street at Grand Island

Auto Stolen Dec. 13 had Been Driven 4,000 Miles; Was Disguised by Thief.

The mystery of the disappearance of the Kermit Erickson auto from his garage in Arcadia Dec. 13 was cleared suddenly Friday afternoon by the arrest of the thief by Grand Island police. He gave his name as John F. Fisher, a resident of Imperial, Nebr., for 19 years, and for the past two years in prison most of the time.

Mr. Erickson was at once notified by Sheriff George Round, and the two, accompanied by F. J. Cohen, deputy sheriff, drove to Grand Island and interviewed the young man at the police station. Mr. Erickson had little difficulty in recognizing his car, although it had been disguised by changing lamps and other minor changes.

The auto had not been abused, Fisher stating that he had changed oil in it three times while he had it.

Fisher had just disposed of some batteries which he had stolen at Shickley. He had completed a deal for them with a Grand Island dealer and was returning to his car. In the meantime the Grand Island police had decided that the car was stolen, and Fisher was picked up when he returned for it.

Fisher was born 21 years ago in Arkansas, according to the story he told the Valley county people, and lived 19 years at Imperial. Twice before he has been con-

Local Draft Board Certifies Man for Selective Service

Eddie Dumond, a Volunteer, First Man to Be Sent from Valley County.

The Valley county draft board, through its secretary, L. D. Milliken, has received its first call for a man for the selective service from the county. This is the second call issued, but the first in which Valley county was included.

One man is called and he will go to Omaha, to the National Guard armory at 1202 Dodge street. Eddie Dumond, who had volunteered for service, will be the man who goes. Everett Rowbal, who was the first volunteer, failed to pass because of defective teeth. The order, signed by Brigadier General Guy L. Henninger, sets the date to leave at Jan. 28. It is understood that other young men are planning to volunteer, and if they do so, it may be some time before the county furnishes any drafted men.

There is a distinction between volunteering through the draft board and enlisting through the regular channels. The volunteer goes in for a one year period only, unless he decides to remain in for a longer period, and the man who enlists is in for the regular period of enlistment, usually 3 years.

Young men, 18 to 21, may also volunteer through the local draft board if they wish to do so, the only stipulation being that they must have their parents' consent. The personnel of the Valley county draft board is: A. A. Wiegardt, clerk, W. J. Ramsey, Arcadia, chairman, L. D. Milliken, secretary and W. T. McLain.

World War Vet Dies at Arcadia

Arcadia—(Special)—Jess E. Holmes, veteran of the World war who saw service in France, died at his home here Friday, Jan. 3, after nearly four years of ill health. He was buried with military honors Monday with Rev. A. E. Smith officiating and the American Legion post participating in the service.

Mr. Holmes was born in this community Jan. 30, 1895 and except for a period during the World war and another period from 1936 until 1940 when he lived in Mission, S. D., his entire life was spent here.

He is mourned by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Holmes, a daughter, Yvonne, aged 5, five sisters, Mrs. Rena Dobson, Mrs. Pauline Johnson and Miss Goldie Holmes, of Arcadia, Mrs. Julia Woody, of Lewistown, Mont., Mrs. Charlotte Jensen, of North Loup, and by two brothers, Samuel A. of Arcadia and Walter J. of Ord.

North Loup Wins Two.
North Loup—(Special)—North Loup won two games of basketball here last night from Ashton. The score of the second team game was 14 to 13, and the first team game was 22 to 16. There was no junior high game.

Ord Woman Rarely Saw the Sun, Wore Fur Coat, During 2-Week Trip Thru Sunny South

Cold, rainy weather prevailed during her two weeks' trip through the "sunny south" and to Havana, Cuba, and she wore a fur coat almost all the time, says Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools, who returned to Ord Sunday. Of course Florida residents said the weather was "most unusual."

Miss McClatchey left Ord on December 20th by bus, meeting her sister, Miss Vera McClatchey, of North Platte, at Grand Island. They went to Chicago by rail and there took a Greyhound bus for their tour of Florida and the south.

East coast cities visited included Jacksonville, St. Augustine, Miami and Miami Beach, in all of which places the Misses McClatchey "saw the sights" in the most approved tourist style.

On Dec. 27th they boarded the ship "Florida" for a trip to Havana, and on the trip they went through the terrible storm which took forty lives and injured hundreds throughout the West Indies and the gulf states. There were 597 passengers on the ship and only fifty were able to appear for breakfast when the storm subsided, says Miss McClatchey. She and her sister were not among the fifty.

In Havana they saw the Cuban capitol with its 24-carat diamond inset in the floor, went through the Morro Castle, saw famous old churches and cemeteries and in two days saw most of the sights for which Havana is famous.

Upon returning to Florida they went to Lake Wales and saw the famous Bob "singing tower" and the cypress gardens and then went to the west coast where Tampa and St. Petersburg were visited. From there the tour took them along the Gulf coast to New Orleans, where two days were spent.

No, they did not see the Sugar Bowl football game in New Orleans though they had planned to do so, says Miss McClatchey. They were a day behind schedule and arrived after the game was over but they were not sorry, inasmuch as the weather was so unpleasant.

Throughout the trip they scarce- ly saw the sun and it was rainy most of the time. Fur coats felt good every morning and evening and during many whole days, even in Havana.

The home-bound trip also was made by bus, going through St. Louis and Kansas City and to Grand Island where Miss Vera McClatchey boarded a Union Pacific train and returned to her teaching duties in North Platte while Miss Clara McClatchey came to Ord by bus.

Their entire vacation trip was enjoyable in spite of the weather and they will always remember it, says the Ord teacher.

John Edmiston to Open Machine Shop Here Soon

John Edmiston and son, John, of Burwell have leased the Dohrn building east of Fraziers formerly occupied by the Romans Transfer, and have been busy the past week installing machinery for a modern and complete machine shop. The place will be known as John's Machine Shop, and they will be able to handle work there which formerly had to be sent to the larger cities.

Mr. Edmiston formerly ran a smaller shop in Burwell in the building just west of the Bredthauer Motor company. His son was a member of the Burwell football squad, graduating there last spring. He is already prepared to do welding of all kinds, and expects to have all the machinery in place and ready to use within a week. His family lives at Burwell, but will move here in the near future.

4 New Teachers in Ord Schools

Four new teachers take up their work in the Ord schools this month, two this week and two at the beginning of the second semester. Miss Helen Prouty, of Shelton, Neb., took over the mathematics classes Monday replacing Mrs. Orin Kellison. She is a graduate of the University of Nebraska and has taught several years, most recently at Anselmo.

Edwin Rousek, whose home address is Sargent and who graduates at mid-year from University of Nebraska college of agriculture, succeeds J. A. Kovanda in the agriculture classes. Mr. Rousek was a leader in scholastics and in activities at the ag college. He takes over the classes this week.

Employed to start teaching at close of the present semester are Miss Iris Krebs, of Scotia, who succeeds Miss Edith Filley in the home economics department, and Miss Lillian Kidder, of Salina, Kan., who succeeds Miss Catherine Bullock in the English and foreign language department. Both the Misses Filley and Bullock will be married in February.

Miss Krebs has had several years experience in grade school teaching and at mid-year completes a course in home economics at University of Nebraska. Miss Kidder is a graduate of Marymount college, Salina, Kan., and has not taught previously.

Buys a Property, Rutar to Move Soon

Will Be Located in Bus Depot Building; Is Making Some Needed Improvements.

By a deal consummated with the owner of the building, Mrs. Marie Rikli of Murdock, Neb., Stanley Rutar is now the owner of the building at the northeast corner of 17th and M streets where the P. C. T. stage depot is located at present. The deal was arranged by E. S. Murray of the Capron Agency.

For some time Mr. Rutar has realized that the old location was inadequate for his business, and he has been looking about for a larger place. This location suits his business splendidly and has the advantage of fronting on two streets, one of them a state highway. The front faces the south and he will have more than double the display window space.

By arrangement with Mr. Williams, the bus depot will remain in the front room for the present, but Williams plans to move to a new location by Feb. 1. Charles LeMasters, who has his repair shop in the rear part of the building, will probably remain, as Mr. Rutar will not need this part of the building.

A. J. Cook, Emil and Joe Rutar, Jr., started Monday afternoon to put a ceiling in the front part of the large middle room. A space 45 by 40 feet will be ceiling and a new double wall will be built at the rear, thus making a room suitable for housing the hatching equipment. As soon as this is done the equipment will be moved and put in place.

Masons Will Install. The members of Ord Lodge No. 103, A. F. and A. M., are meeting at the hall tomorrow night, Jan. 3, to install the officers for the coming year.

Sargent Pastor Is Appointed to Head Catholics at Ord

Rev. Thomas Siudowski Will Begin His Ministry at Ord Next Sunday.

Effective Jan. 2, when he received his appointment to the Ord parish from Most Rev. Stanislaus V. Bona, D. D., of Grand Island, bishop of the Grand Island diocese, Rev. Thomas Siudowski, formerly of Sargent, became the spiritual head of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church at Ord.

Rev. Siudowski was born in Chicago. He received his education in philosophy at St. Mary of the Lake seminary at Mundelein, Ill., and pursued his theological studies at St. Cyril and Methodius seminary at Orchard Lake, Mich.

He was ordained to the priesthood for the Grand Island diocese June 9, 1935 in Detroit, Mich., by His Excellency, the Most Rev. Bishop Gallagher. His first appointment was to Sidney, Neb., as assistant to Fr. Anton Link. Next he was appointed assistant to Fr. Patrick McDaid of North Platte.

In 1937 he was appointed pastor of St. Mary's church, Sargent. He was transferred two years ago to Chicago to work for Bishop O'Brien as field secretary in the Catholic Church Extension society. After a brief stay there he returned to the former parish at Sargent, where he has been until the present time.

Rev. Siudowski is moving his personal effects this week and will be here to conduct services beginning Sunday. The ceremonies for installation of Rev. Siudowski as pastor of the church here will be held at a date not yet announced, and the time will appear in the Quiz soon.

1940 Better Year for Stamp Sales in Ord

An increase in sale of stamps during 1940 over most previous years is reported by A. L. Hill, the Ord postmaster. Total in this department was $14,332.56, whereas the 1939 total was $13,598.65. Largest stamp business since 1929 came in 1937 when the irrigation project was under construction, when total sales amounted to $15,083.65. Smallest sale was in 1933 when the total was $11,391.

Every quarter of 1940 except the second showed a gain in stamp sales over the same quarter in 1939. Mr. Hill states, but biggest gains were registered in the last two quarters of the year after the business was moved into the new postoffice building.

Beet Growers of Loup Valley Meet

Ask Congress Add $2 to the Tariff on Imported Sugar; Smith New Director.

Burwell—(Special)—The members of the Loup Valley Beet Growers association and their wives were guests of the Central Nebraska Beet Growers association at a dinner in the Burwell hotel Friday evening. Forty-one persons were present. Dr. Smith was elected a director of the Central Nebraska Beet Growers association replacing Ralph Brownell who has moved to Broken Bow. Osce Johnson acted as toastmaster, introducing George Brown of Kearney who is a director of the Central Nebraska association, Charles Veleba, of Ord, Valley county AAA chairman, W. O. Zanger of North Loup, Eben Moss, and L. A. Butterfield, all of whom made short talks. Mrs. C. W. Hughes was chosen to act as secretary of the Loup Valley association.

The beet growers passed a resolution asking congress to put an additional tariff of two dollars per hundredweight on all raw sugar imported. They asked that all acreage in the Grand Island area allotted to the production of sugar be land under irrigation because the soil usually has higher fertility and better quality beets can be produced. The irrigation farmers desire to plant more beets since there are few crops which pay high enough cash returns to make irrigation profitable. They also asked that a separate sugar content test be made of the beets grown in the North Loup valley since their sugar content was higher than beets grown elsewhere. The growers also approved a resolution requesting that sugar be placed on the list of goods distributed by the Surplus Commodities Corporation. They approve the wage scale for topping which had been adopted by the state association.

A resolution was passed asking the merchants of Burwell to handle no other sugar except the Crystal brand. Beets from this locality are used in the production of Crystal brand sugar.

Irene Dworak, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Dworak, and James Cetak, son of Mrs. Mary Cetak, were married by Judge John L. Andersen at his home at 8 p. m., New Year's day. They were attended by the groom's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cetak.

The bride was born north of Ord, and lived there with her parents until the family moved to Ord two years ago. Mr. Cetak has lived in Ord the past 17 years, and has been employed in the North Side market since Mr. Dworak took charge of it. They will make their home in the Douthit home in the Joe L. Dworak property west of the high school. This is Valley county's first 1941 wedding.

Honored by Junior Membership in Ord Service Club

Here are Jack Weaver and Harold Christensen, seniors in Ord high school, who have been honored by election as junior members of the Ord Rotary club, being presented with pins emblematic of Rotary membership by Superintendent C. C. Thompson. Class members selected them as outstanding representatives of the class. They will attend Rotary meetings for a period of one month with the privileges of members and will wear Rotary pins during that period. Then they will report at a high school convocation on their experiences as Rotarians and give their impressions of the club. Monday evening was their first attendance at a Rotary dinner as members.

First Aid Course.
A first aid course under the auspices of the local Red Cross is to be held this winter in Ord, with Dr. J. N. Round as instructor. This course is to be given primarily to the members of the Ord Fire Department, but will also be for any others who are interested. The first meeting will be held in the firemen's hall, upstairs in the city hall, at 7:30 on Monday evening, Jan. 13.

Pres. Mortensen Names Committees for C. of C. Work Appointments Were Ratified by Directors Monday; a Membership Drive Soon.

At the January meeting of the Chamber of Commerce held Monday evening, President C. J. Mortensen appointed committees to serve during 1941 and the appointments were ratified by directors.

First committee to swing into action will be the membership committee which has Ben Clark as chairman and Harold Cuckler, R. E. Teague and J. W. Gilbert as other members. A membership drive is scheduled to be held some time in January.

Other committees, with the first named being chairman in each instance, follow:

Entertainment—John P. Misko, Dr. J. N. Round, Sy Furtak, Wm. Darges, Civic Improvement—Dr. G. W. Taylor, Dr. Geo. A. Perkins, A. J. Auble, E. L. Vogelanz, Irrigation—Robert Noll, F. P. O'Neal, Keith Lewis, C. C. Dale, Archie Geweke, E. S. Murray, Ed Beranek, Vern Russell, Gus Schoensteine Roads—Clarence Davis, Ign. Klima, J. W. McGinnis, E. L. Kokes, Publicity—E. C. Leggett.

Several matters of community business were discussed by directors Monday, one being the Chamber farewell party for Tom Springer and J. W. Kovanda which will be held Friday night. Possibility of the Haskell Creek road being gravled by the state and used as a detour while the Ord-Burwell road is being hard surfaced next spring and summer was mentioned. The Chamber will further this development and also hopes to see the Ord-Ericson road finished during the coming year. Plans for bringing the state checker tournament to Ord next month were discussed.

Five Young Men Taken to CCC at Broken Bow

Frank Kruhl, Valley county assistance director, drove to Broken Bow Monday morning taking five young men to CCC camp No. 2732, which is located there. The quota for the county was seven, but only five made application. From Broken Bow they will be distributed where needed.

The men who went were Leon

Kovanda Will Be Director of Rural Defense Training

Ord Agriculture Instructor Will Handle Work from Office in Capitol.

Ord people will learn with interest that J. A. Kovanda, popular instructor in agriculture in the Ord schools, has been appointed director of defense training in Nebraska. He will office in the state capitol and will spend about one fourth of his time traveling over the state. The work starts Jan. 15, at which time he will go to Chicago for a meeting of state directors.

The Ord board of education has granted Mr. Kovanda one semester of absence, since the present appropriation for this work is up to July 1, 1941. It is believed however, that the work will continue beyond that time with additional appropriations. Edwin Rousek of Sargent has been hired to teach out the rest of the Ord school term in the vocational agriculture department.

Mr. Kovanda has this to say about the nature of his work. He will hire and supervise a staff of instructors, who will train young men over the state in vocations useful for defense, such as carpentry, electricity, welding, motors and mechanics. A course of this type is being planned for the Ord schools.

The family will remain in Ord, at least until the end of the school year. It is not known at present how long this job will last, but the state department of vocational education has assured Mr. Kovanda that it will probably lead to something of a permanent nature. Mr. Kovanda came to the Ord schools in 1939, and his work here has been outstanding.

Thirteen years ago he started a vocational agriculture department in the Ord schools.

Students in this department have won more state high school championships, in the intervening years, than have the students of any other Nebraska vocational agriculture department.

KNEZACEK TO LINCOLN.

Senator-elect J. T. Knezacek is now in Lincoln and by the time this is in print he will doubtless be sworn as the senator from the 29th district. That he will make a good official is the opinion of all who know him best. The people must have had confidence in him, or he could not have defeated a good man who was already in the office and a candidate for re-election.

The one thing that Senator Knezacek has been trying to impress upon his constituents ever since his election is the fact that he wants the public to communicate with him in regard to any problem that is troubling them and especially in regard to pending legislation. He expects to stand on his own feet but hopes to carry out, as nearly as possible, the will of the people of this district.

While he is from the west county of the district, he does not want to neglect those from the three counties on the east. He asks that all who wish to consult him about any matter of general interest do so, either by mail or directly when in Lincoln. He believes that the best informed man is the best equipped to perform his duties.

Knezacek made no rash promises while running for office. He goes to Lincoln with no strings on him. He does not know who voted for him and who did not, but he does not care. He was elected to serve the whole population of this district, and he plans to do everything he possibly can to further the interests of his constituents.

The requirements of this district and others in the drought section are vastly different from those in the parts of the state where good crops have been raised the past few years. The problem here is to keep the people now here at home, if possible. All the counties in the district have decreased in population in the past ten years. The problem is to stop that loss, and what is done in Lincoln this winter may have a decided effect on the future.

CLEAN SPORTSMANSHIP.

One of the finest things that has ever happened to sports in Ord has happened. A representative of the Ord high school has had an opportunity to represent his town, his university and his state in that greatest of all athletic events, the football game in the Rose Bowl.

Not only did he play, but he did more actual fine playing during the time he was in than did any member of the team. His work was so outstanding that many writers believe that if he had not been forced out of the game, Nebraska would have had a good chance of winning.

No sophomore of the University of Nebraska has ever risen to the heights Allen Zikmund did in the game at the Rose Bowl. He got into the game because Bill Jones realized that speed was needed against Stanford, and only Zikmund had that speed.

The story of his exploits during the game as told in the play-by-play is of interest. He is mentioned five times in all, and every time he is doing something unusual, either making a gain, saving a loss or preventing a score. The World-Herald had it as follows:

"On a fake kick a Stanford player knocked the ball out of Rohrig's hands and Zikmund recovered on the 15—"

Gallinaeau smashed through to the Husker 24. Zikmund got him there."

"Albert dropped Rohrig's punt and Zikmund recovered the 47 yard boot on the Indian 33."

"Zikmund raced down field, Rohrig faded back and threw a hard pass. Zikmund fielded it on the run and crossed the goal."

"Albert kicked off to Zikmund on the 15. Zikmund came dashing back, cutting toward the side lines, dodging would-be tacklers, to the Stanford 39. It was a 46 yard run."

Of the five plays in which he scored two must be classed as decisive, but on the other three he gained a total of 126 yards for his team, and tallied 6 points. It must be remembered also that Zikmund was in the game a total of only 11 minutes, less than a fifth of the total time.

Just what is behind this young man from Ord, that makes him such a figure in the sports world? First, he is a product of the farm, where he kept regular hours, had plenty of time to give him the appetite for only good wholesome food. If he had enough to do to keep him out of mischief.

He came to Ord high school, first to obtain an education, and second, to go in for athletics, for which he is well fitted by nature. In all his career in high school he kept athletics secondary to the big job of fitting himself for the future in an educational way.

But it takes more than practice to make a truly great athlete. Late in the year liquor and cigarettes have ruined many an athletic career and Zikmund was wise enough to leave them entirely alone. The results have proved the wisdom of course, for his speed and endurance have been outstanding in every game the past year.

Years ago central Nebraska had a stellar athlete, who was one of the best of his day in spite of the fact that he used liquor indiscriminately. There is no way of knowing how far Grover Cleveland Alexander might have gone had he left alone. As it was, he was a hero to many a young athlete, as well as a horrible example to them.

No such charge can be made against Zikmund, who plays the game of life as he plays football, clean and hard, as a true athlete.

Art Brown took me to task should. The boys of Ord high, and of Nebraska, should be, and will be truer sportsmen in the future because of the example Allen Zikmund has given them.

ON WITH THE MUSIC.

Our nation is highly unionized, in fact entirely too much so. Readers will recall the fact that in December the ASCAP, a union of music producers of some sort, had a quarrel with the radio networks on the question of what should go on the air and how, as well as the prices thereof, and broke off with them, effective Jan. 1.

The result was that all music under the control of the ASCAP automatically went off the air that day. The networks, however, had prepared to meet the emergency by selecting the very best of older material available and having it ready for use at that time, and so there was plenty of music on the radio New Year's day.

The ASCAP expected that the letting of their music from the broadcasts would cause a howl of disapproval all over the country and force the broadcasting companies to accept their terms. Imagine their surprise when, instead of disapproving, the general public approved the new order of things in no uncertain terms.

In this connection the Quiz writer talked to a number of leaders of music in this community, people who really know their music, and they are all of the opinion that the music on the radio programs now is on a much higher plane than it was in December. Instead of depriving the public of what they wanted the ASCAP gave the people something better than they had been having, and at a saving in cost to the networks.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

"William Essex, Raymond farmer, dies of illness," is the heading on a news story in the daily paper. At first thought it sounded funny to me. My thought was that most people die of illness, but do they? Auto accidents and train wrecks and airplane crackups and war perhaps take more lives than illness and perhaps the time is not far distant when a death by illness will really be a novelty.

When I climb down off the feed stand of the big newspaper press in the back shop Wednesday afternoon after a couple of hours of steady feeding the weekly run through, I presume I have a good deal the same feeling of relief that the preachers feel when they think the preachers feel when they think

I do hate to mention politics in this column, but I must say that quite a lot of people have been paying up enough to get in good standing and then paying a couple of dollars more to get that extra 3 months which we have been giving for advance payment. They all seem to feel good when they think that they won't have to worry about their Quiz subscription until way along in 1942.

And that reminds me that there are about 50 of the January 15 expirations that have not been renewed and they are going to have to hurry in on or before January 15 to take advantage of the extra three months.

BACK FORTY
By J. A. Kovanda

Six local boys are going to get twenty bushels of certified seed potatoes each, for experimental planting next spring. These potatoes will be given to them, free of charge, by the Union Pacific Railroad thru its Agricultural Agent Harold W. Benn.

Two of the boys will be Ord Future Farmers, two will be North Loup Future Farmers, and two will be Valley county 4-H club members. The potatoes will be planted as projects on rich, irrigated land. Twenty bushels is enough for one acre. Records will be kept of all expenses, and profits are to be determined after the crop has been harvested and sold.

We hope to learn how valuable certified seed is for planting here. We realize that it is better, but don't know just how much better, or how well it pays a farmer to purchase this type of potato seed in our locality.

Some Loup Valley farmers made money with potatoes last fall. They were the ones who secured big yields. In order to obtain high yields, the grower needs to start with disease-free seed stocks. There is no seed treatment for diseased potatoes that will cure all the ailments.

Northern grown seed is best, but growers should buy that with a certified tag on the sack. Otherwise, they may not know if the so-called northern seed came from Minnesota, Dakota, northern Nebraska, or the neighbor's farm.

There are other practices which also boost potato yields. They include early planting, straw mulching, and increasing soil fertility.

Not Time for Everything

The man who loves his work always takes a busman's holiday, for there is never time enough to do everything he wants to do about his job while he is on it, says Hygeia, the Health Magazine.

W. H. Plourd of the Nance County Journal must have celebrated the New Year too strenuously. For the first time since the mind of man runneth not to the contrary, his paper made its appearance last week minus his usual and popular line of editorial comment.

How Many of These People Do You Know?

For the sake of variety we are this week showing two groups of people of bygone years. It should be a lot of fun to see if you can remember who they are. Anybody who was in Valley county a generation ago should be able to identify the large man in the center in the upper photo, and this should lead to the names of the young ladies. The couple below should be easy to identify.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Written by GEORGE GOWEN

Our School System
Peppy's Diary of a County JudgeOur School System.

Perhaps the most talked of law in a long time is going to come up before the legislature and that is in regard to a new scheme of education that has been proposed by the Nebraska Planning Board. This board was appointed by Gov. Cochran and has been studying our educational system in comparison with other states, and finally has made the following recommendations.

(1) They want to consolidate all the educational systems under one head, that is the normal schools, the university regents, and the state superintendent, and this head is a board of seven elective members and three appointed members.

(2) All the smaller high schools are to only go to the eleventh grade, the larger high schools past the twelfth and in twenty of the leading cities or high schools, there would be a junior college. This board has also the power to consolidate or close small country schools where the attendance falls too low.

(3) One of the state normal schools is to be converted into a trade school, the other three are to be out to two year courses of normal training, where they give certificates for teachers to teach the first ten grades only. All graduate work is to be placed in the university.

(4) The policies of this state board are to be carried out by an office force headed by an executive selected by the board.

The principal objection I have heard about this change is the fear that in our towns the eleventh and twelfth grades will be taken out. Just where the line will be drawn as to which school will have the full twelve grades or only ten, I do not know, but in the smaller schools, such as the one at Horace, most people agreed it is foolish to go to the expense of paying for a small high school there when such a fine one is maintained at Scotia only a few miles distance on a gravelled highway.

The benefit of eliminating a great number of the smaller grade schools cannot be disputed, but the trouble is no one wants their own school to be the one eliminated. In this and any near counties, we find school after school with just a handful of students, and each of these schools costing the taxpayer, perhaps, three times what it might, were it consolidated.

An example of this is the Riverdale district across the river east. Something like 20 years ago, Edna Baker started the idea there of consolidating the Baker, the Shepard and the Barts school districts. This was done and in place of three small schools they have now one good school. But late years there has been less than ten students and think what the schools would have been were there three. As a result the taxes in that district are the cheapest in the whole county.

The Junior College idea too surely meets with approval by many. Most boys have nothing to do for a few years after graduation. Most of us cannot send out children off to an expensive college or university, but we might easily arrange for them to go to Ord or St. Paul to a Junior college, if they finished two years, they would know by then if they thought it worth while to go on. It would help the crowded university too.

If they finished two years, they would know by then if they thought it worth while to go on. It would help the crowded university too.

Doctors often have to be detectives in order to make a proper diagnosis and give the patient proper treatment. Two of my doctor friends were confronted by such a case a few nights ago. This case is of unusual interest and contains some very excellent warnings.

For this reason it may be well to give the readers of this column the highlights of it.

A man who has diabetes and is supposed to take insulin regularly left his home in midafternoon in his car. He was going to do a little shopping and be home for dinner at six o'clock. He felt well when he left home. He appeared at his home at nine o'clock, staggered into the house and fell to the floor almost unconscious.

There was a cut on the side of his head and blood on his clothes.

The tire on the right front wheel of the car was blown out, and the right front window was broken.

The man never drinks and there was no odor of alcohol on his breath.

He was, at once, sent to the hospital. He could tell the doctors nothing because he was nearly unconscious. He did complain of a very severe headache. The questions immediately confronting the doctors were whether the man had fallen to take his insulin and was going into that serious condition known as diabetic coma, or whether he had taken insulin without the usual amount of food and was, therefore, in a condition known as insulin shock.

There were, of course, other possibilities to be thought of, such as a collision with head injury, or an attack by a robber, especially as his money was missing. No collision had been reported by the police and the general circumstances did not look like an attack by another person.

Examination of the man did not reveal any of the usual appearances of diabetic coma or of insulin shock. These conditions were definitely ruled out by examination of the blood. Here the amount of sugar was normal. One noticeable feature of the patient was an unusually red skin. This suggested possible carbon monoxide poisoning. Blood was examined for the presence of carbon monoxide and it was found in large amount. This, then, made the diagnosis but did not explain how he came to breathe this gas.

The following day the patient was able to tell enough of the story so it was evident what really happened. He works in a garage as a mechanic. Many of these men breathe a little carbon monoxide daily and thus become rather susceptible to it. That day he did not work. He drives an old car. The day was cold and he kept the windows closed. On the way home he stopped to buy a coco cola. For the fifteen minutes in the store he left his motor running. When he got in the car again he felt well. He remembers driving two or three blocks and stopping for a traffic light. After he remembered nothing.

Evidently the car was full of gas and he was overcome by it. As he passed out he ran into something blowing out the tire and breaking the window. The broken window injured his head but let the air in and saved his life.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

J. G. Hastings of Hastings and Ollis was having some fun after the first of the year calling people up and asking, "Is this 1-9-4-1?" Of course they did not get the idea at first and thought he was meaning the telephone number instead of the year.

Lyle Gilroy is a lucky young man. When he started to school last September they lived just a little more than a block from the corner of the school yard. Now the family has moved three blocks and Lyle finds he is just a little nearer school than he was before.

Saturday somebody had thrown an empty Oxydol box out on the sidewalk in front of the Keown building on 16th street. It was a tempting target, but most passersby were afraid it might have a brick in it. Finally somebody came along, first gave it a gentle push with his foot, and then gave it a healthy kick.

They had some holiday signs painted on the Dugan Oil company windows with whitening, and they read all right at first. Somebody came along and rubbed out the other words, leaving a sign which read, "Used Gas for Sale."

That New Year's game at the Rose Bowl meant a lot of excitement to all Valley county people, but it sure spelled plenty of work for Archie Rowbal, who was busy practically day and night Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday getting radios repaired so that people could pick up the game. But Archie doesn't mind. He says he can take it.

Alex F. Meyer, who represents the Nebr. Mutual Hardware Insurance Co., was in Ord Saturday and had a kid's toy pistol in his overcoat pocket, to which hangs a story. In November Mr. Meyer made a trip west, and his little grandson, 4½ years old, who had doubtless heard stories about the Wild West, brought the pistol to him and made him promise to carry it to protect him from the "bad mans". He has carried it ever since.

News of the Neighborhood.

Six properties in Comstock sold at tax foreclosure sales at Broken Bow Dec. 30, bringing a total of $1,033, plus 1939 and 1940 taxes. Included in the list were the Comstock Flour mill, a cement block garage, the old creamery building, the Neeskal residence, the Grace Wright tract, and the Joe Pescot lot.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Everett of Scotia, Nebr., celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary New Years day, when 100 relatives and friends called upon them during the day. Among the many gifts they received were three lovely anniversary cakes. They have resided in Greeley county since 1894.

Try Some Home Made

Pure Pork Sausage

for Tomorrow's Breakfast

Whether you serve it with pancakes, with eggs, or simply with toast and coffee, nothing quite hits the spot in cold winter weather like sausage for breakfast.

This week we are calling special attention again to our pure, home made, pork sausage. We make it ourselves, fresh several times each week. Into it goes only young, tender pork, mostly lean with just enough fat to make it cook right, and pure seasonings.

Freshness plus pure pork is the secret of good sausage, and you will find it at its best here. In bulk or in casings, as you prefer it. And sausage is an economical meat to serve, too.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

Mrs. J. E. Pray went to Grand Island on business and to spend the day Wednesday.

Miss Sylvia Iwanski of near Burwell spent all last week in Ord at the Joe Karty home as the guest of her cousin, Miss Lillian Karty.

W. F. Williams of the P. C. T. stages came up from Grand Island Friday morning on a business mission.

Mrs. Sam Brickner left Wednesdays for Omaha to visit her sister DeEtta, who is employed in the R. L. Staple home.

Mr. and Mrs. Syl Bogus of Elyria left on the bus Friday morning for a visit with relatives in Chicago.

Virgil Severson, of Brigham City, U., came Thursday night of last week for a couple of days visit with Ord friends. He has a rail-road job at Brigham City.

Miss Lillian Karty, who had been home for the two weeks holiday, left for Omaha Saturday night, where she is a sophomore in the Creighton school of journalism.

Bill Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Verda Anderson of Burwell, came to Ord on the bus Friday morning and from here went to Lincoln on the Union Pacific. Bill is a freshman in the state university.

Miss Helen Haines and J. B. Ramsey of Jackson, Miss., passed through Ord on the bus Friday morning enroute to Jackson, where Miss Haines is employed in the home offices of E. M. Morgan and Co. They had been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilford Haines and family at Burwell.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Blessing and children, of Lincoln, came last Wednesday evening and spent the week end with Ord relatives, returning home Sunday. Earl is employed in the office of the department of roads.

Sunday Mrs. Forrest Johnson took her sister, Miss Norene Hardenbrook, to Omaha where the latter hopes to secure a stenographic or bookkeeping job. Miss Hardenbrook has entirely recovered from the illness which afflicted her at Salem, Ore.

Leo Sullivan of Council Bluffs returned to his home Saturday evening. He had been in Ord the past two weeks taking L. E. Marker's place on the Ord-Grand Island mail run while Mr. Marker took his vacation.

Charles Weddel of Arcadia brought his son, Bob, to Ord Friday afternoon to catch the bus for Grand Island. He had been spending the holidays at home. He left his car in Grand Island and expected to drive back from there to Washington, D. C., where he is employed in the marine corps.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Kneazek left for Lincoln early Sunday morning, where Joe will be sworn in this week from the 29th district. Their Lincoln address will be Woodrow Apartments, 12th and H Sts., Lincoln, but the senator can also be reached at the capital. They plan to make an occasional week end visit to Ord.

The Quiz is in receipt of a letter from Thad OSENTOWSKI of Erickson, in which he states that some of his older brothers and cousins were in the picture of the old sod school in Dist. 32 printed in the Quiz of Nov. 20. He may be able to identify some of them.

Ord Telephone Equipment Obsolete but Rates Are High As in Most Nebr. Cities

Though much of the telephone equipment used by the Nebraska Continental Telephone company in attempting to give service to its Ord customers is obsolete, and service therefore cannot be the best, rates charged to Ord patrons are about on the same level as charged in other Nebraska cities of 2,000 to 3,000 population where modern equipment is maintained and perfect service is given.

The Russell Rose family rented the old Gilroy house at 615 south 17th street and moved in New Years day.

The C. E. Gilroy family have been moving the past week by easy stages to their new home in the former Hager property at 1707 N. street.

C. A. Anderson drove to Grand Island and Hastings Thursday. Mrs. Anderson and daughters and Mrs. H. D. Leggett went with him, spending a few hours in Grand Island.

Paul Wachtile, son of George Wachtile, son of George Wachtile of Buhl, Ida., who came to Ord to attend the funeral services for Rev. Lawler and then remained over the holidays, left Friday morning to resume his studies in St. John's seminary at Little Rock, Ark.

Eldon Zalud and brother of Los Angeles, were visiting last week in Burwell, where they have relatives, and drove to Ord to see John L. Ward, his former teacher, and also to see Donald Ward's collection of Indian relics.

Kermit Erickson and Ray Hill of Arcadia were in Ord on business Friday. Mr. Hill, who recently sold out in the bank business, has not definitely decided what he will do in the future, but does not plan to be idle long.

The King sisters who had been in Ord visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. King, returned to their teaching work. Miss Clara Belle left for East Chicago, Ind., Saturday afternoon, and Miss Matthe Grace left for the state university at Oxford, Miss., Thursday.

The various members of the Misko family gathered in Ord Sunday for a family reunion. From Chicago came Charles Misko, from Lincoln came Dr. George Misko, wife and son, and from Holdrege came the Victor Hall family to join with Mrs. James Misko and the John and Ralph Misko families and Miss Mabel Misko in spending a pleasant week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Carson drove to Grand Island on Monday taking his father, Hugh Carson, that far on his way to California. They remained until 4 p. m., when they met Dr. and Mrs. John Round and son, who were returning from their vacation trip to California, and brought them to Ord.

Sunday Dr. F. A. Barta drove to Wahoo and Lincoln, taking Mrs. Vogelanz's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Polak, to their home at Wahoo, and his son Dean and Miss Bette Vogelanz to Lincoln, where the former is attending state university. Miss Vogelanz went on to Leavenworth, Kan., where she is a student in St. Mary's college.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed F. Beranek returned Friday evening from Los Angeles, Calif., where they went on a Burlington excursion train to attend the Rose Bowl game. They left Hastings on Sunday evening, Dec. 29, and got back there Friday, Jan. 3, making the trip in five days and nights. The trip was a wonderful experience and Mr. and Mrs. Beranek were especially thrilled at the fine performance of their nephew, Allen Zikmund, a halfback on the Nebraska team. Zikmund scored one of Nebraska's two touchdowns and almost got away for another one. Allen ran back a Stanford kick-off 46 yards thru the whole Stanford team and apparently was away for a score when he was caught in a diving tackle by Kmetko, Stanford halfback. On the play the Ord boy suffered a fractured bone in one leg but will be walking without crutches in three or four weeks, reports his uncle. Only former Ord people they saw at the Rose Bowl game were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McBeth, reports Ed. Of course they saw Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta, who made the trip from Ord by auto, and also Dr. Reed, who took over Dr. Barta's practice in Ord some years ago when the doctor was taking post-graduate work in Vienna. An afternoon spent at Santa Anita race track was one of the thrills of their trip. Mr. Beranek says.

Miss Ruth Cushing, who had been spending the Christmas vacation with relatives and friends, returned to Lincoln Sunday to resume her work Monday as house mother at one of the sorority houses there. While here she was guest in the home of her sister, Mrs. Horace Travis.

Dr. and Mrs. F. A. Barta and son Dean and L. B. Fenner of Burwell arrived home from their trip to the Rose Bowl game at 5 p. m. Saturday. They report a wonderful trip, and say that the enthusiasm shown at the game is simply impossible to describe. They were especially proud of the showing made by Allen Zikmund while he was in the game. Mrs. Fenner stayed at Mountainair, N. M., for a brief visit with the Guy Gerber family and will return by train.

Claude Roe Writes.
Writing to send his renewal for the Quiz, Claude Roe, who is a teacher for the government in the Indian school at Riverdale, Calif., tells of seeing three Ord people at the Pasadena Tournament of Roses, Lloyd Rusk and the two Garnick boys.

His biggest thrill, he said, came when he saw the University of Nebraska band in the parade. He says that the Nebraska players did a better job than most sports writers acknowledged, and that the Los Angeles Times gave Zikmund credit for being the flashiest player on the Nebraska team.

Dale Mickelwait Kicks

Field Goal, Fresno Wins
Recently the Quiz printed a story of how Dale Mickelwait, son of Charles Mickelwait and grandson of G. W. Mickelwait, was a member of the squad from Fresno State Teachers' college, California, that would go to Hawaii to play New Year's day in the Pineapple Bowl against the University of Hawaii.

What we did not know then was that Dale was to be the hero of the game, kicking the field goal that enabled Fresno to win, 3 to 0. While he was not known in Ord, his dad was well known for his athletic ability in Ord some 30 years ago.

Phillips Buying Many Pelts, Furs

Business phone rates in other Nebraska cities in the 2,000 to 3,000 population group are as follows: Aurora and Crete, $3.00; Ord, Blair, Mitchell and O'Neill, $4.00; David City, and Wymore, $3.75; Wahoo, $4.25; Broken Bow, Central City, Gothenburg, Lexington, West Point, Schuyler and Wayne, $4.50; Seward, $5.00.

In all of these cities except Ord and Seward, common battery switchboards are maintained. Ord has the oldest type of telephone system known, the magneto type, while Seward has the most modern known, the dial automatic type.

There is not so much variation in residential telephone rates, Crete charging $1.75, Aurora, $1.90, Ord, Albion, David City and Gering, $2.00, Blair, Wahoo and Wymore, $2.25, and all other cities in the population group, $2.50.

A few years ago when the Ord chamber of commerce attempted to bring about a reduction in telephone rates or an improvement in service without increase in rates, testimony at a railway commission hearing held in Ord indicated that telephone rates are figured in two ways: 1. Upon number of other telephones to which the individual subscriber has access. 2. Upon the amount of capital invested, upon which the company is entitled to a reasonable rate of interest.

The next article will discuss from Railway Commission figures, the number of telephones in the Ord exchange as compared with those on other Nebraska exchanges in cities of the 2,000 to 3,000 class. TODAY. Ed F. Beranek, Druggist.

Melville Byerly Dies at Home Near Horace

Funeral services for Melville Byerly of Horace were held at the Amity school house, Thursday, Dec. 26, burial being made in the Amity cemetery. Rev. Walter Graham of the Horace Baptist church had charge of the services. Mr. Byerly died Monday, Dec. 23, following a paralytic stroke.

He was born April 16, 1858, at Dubuque, Ia., and was married there Nov. 21, 1878, to Sarah Stokes. To this union two children, Herman of Alaska and Elizabeth of Washington, were born. The family moved to Oklahoma and later to Missouri. His wife having died, he was married in 1897 to Nettie Eveline Bass at Fairgrove, Mo.

Five children were born to this union; Fred of Nelson, Calif., Frank of Horace, Dolly Johnson of Horace, Dawn Gydesen of Oakland, Calif., and Forest of Nelson, Calif.

He was preceded in death by his wife. Mr. Byerly was well and favorably known both in his home community and in Ord, where he transacted much of his business.

ARCADIA NEWS.

Mrs. Leonard Erickson and her daughters left for their home in Lincoln Thursday.

John Erickson spent the week end at home.

Patty Rettenmeyer resumed her school duties near Elyria Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Slauson and children of Grand Island and Dora Jackson of California were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Pearl Slauson.

Leo Bridges of Gaston, Ore., spent Sunday night with Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Lueck.

Dalvin and Orin Kingston went to Denver Wednesday to attend a stock show. They took a calf for exhibit.

Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Kingston were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clause Franzen.

Spent New Year's Day Locked in a Chicken House

NORTH LOUP—(Special)—A certain lady here spent New Year's afternoon in a unique way, as the following true story shows: She served her family a lovely dinner and after the dishes were washed and as other members of the family were preparing to listen to the Rose Bowl football game she took a pan of scraps and some warm water to her chicken house.

In the chicken house she fed her fiddies and gathered the eggs, then started to the house only to find herself locked in.

Her calls for help of course went unheeded, with the family radio going full blast in the house, and she spent a cold and uncomfortable period in the chicken house.

After what seemed hours a mail carrier heard cries of "Help! Help!" and finally noticing her face in the window of the chicken house, went to her rescue. At about the same time members of her family noticed her absence when there was a telephone call for her, and we just starting to look for her.

Anyway, the prize goes to this lady for the Valley country person who spent New Year's in the oddest way.

Married Christmas.

The marriage of Miss Minnie Nevirny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ignatius Nevirny of Arcadia to Fred Skala, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Skala, sr., of Ord, occurred Christmas day at Burwell, Judge B. A. Rose performing the double ring ceremony. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Skala.

New Year's Guests.

Guests in the S. W. Roe home for New Year's dinner were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Cornell, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Koll, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brox and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roe and Mary Ann.

Family Reunion.

A family reunion was held New Year's day in the J. N. Van Slyke home. Those present were: Louise Worm of Alliance, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jorgensen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jorgensen and family, Mr. and Mrs. Axel Jorgensen and Larry Dale, Miss Mena Jorgensen, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bartholomew and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jess Worm and family, Mr. and Mrs. Anton Philbrick, Mr. and Mrs. John Johns and Jesslin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Worm, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Wenzel and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Beran and daughters, all of Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Thayer and daughters of Greeley. A covered dish dinner was served and enjoyed by all.

They found such a place about half a mile from home, set the two traps they had stolen and got back in time for supper, and before their mother, who had been reading the last issue of "True Tales of Love," had found out that they were gone. They kept their adventure a deep secret that night and until noon the next day when the old folks went over to the Amos Keeter place and had a chance to get away.

To their unbound delight they found that their efforts had been crowned with success. There, with a front foot in one trap and a hind foot in the other, stood a huge broad stripe skunk. The boys were not sure what to do, but had heard that a skunk could do no damage unless he could elevate his tail, and figured the proper thing to do was to hold his tail down.

Butch, who always takes the lead in any undertaking, decided the best way was for Buster to hold the skunk's attention from the front while he made a detour to the rear and caught him by the tail. So, with Buster making plenty of disturbance out in front, Butch approached from the rear in a fair imitation of a water snake heading for the pond.

Just as Butch was reaching up for the skunk's tail the owner discovered what was going on and laid down a barrage that sent the would-be tall snatcher to the rear in disorder. Buster then made a rush from the front, but the skunk went into reverse with the speed of light, and Buster blinded by the spray, beat a hasty retreat.

The boys then stood at a distance and threw clubs, sticks and stones until the skunk was properly subdued, whereupon they brought him home. Butch preferred skinning the animal in the barn, but the day was too cold. Instead, they brought it into the house, laid some old papers on the floor and removed the peit in a fearful and wonderful way, neither of them having tried it before.

The animal was exceedingly fat, as they are supposed to be in autumn, so the boys removed a quantity and put it on the stove in a pan to fry out, intending to use the grease for oiling their boots. About the time the fat was thoroughly melted the fire got too hot and the skillet began to smoke. They tried to take it off the fire and succeeded in upsetting the evil-smelling mixture on the floor.

The kitchen at the Amity home was recently refloored, but had not been finished, so the hot grease soaked into the wood. The boys tried to mop it up and in doing succeeded in spreading it to all corners of the floor. About the time conditions were at their worst Cal and his wife returned home. They found the peit in one corner, the carcass in another, grease all over the floor and the whole house full of acrid and pungent fumes.

Now the Cal Amity family is living in the basement and eagerly awaiting the time when the cold weather abates and they can do some house cleaning. Application of the birch in the proper location has sharpened the sensibilities of the boys at both ends, and it will be a long, long time before they try to make coonkin caps from skunk hide or fry out skunk oil for boot grease again.

THE young reporter, hoping to win promotion and fame with a series of articles to be entitled "The Better Type of Criminal" sat on the edge of the shelf in cell 1009 and listened while Thomas Aloysis Brown growled out his story.

"I tell yer how it was," Brown's voice was pregnant with self-disgust: "but if yer'd 'ole me that a kid o' seventeen, an' an honest ter God innocent babe at that, could 'a fooled me I'd 'said yer was bug-house." He shook his head dismissively as he accepted a cigarette from the reporter. "What with all the private watchmen an' the police on the alert on account of the latest raid by them gangsters, jobs in my line wasn't so easy an' I was practically facin' starvation when one night late, I see the boy-friend an' his sweetie standin' outside the bronze an' glass doors of the Amos J. Murtha palatial dweller. Yeah—that's him all right, Amos J. the Lollipop King.

"Well, the cutie was his daughter sure enough, an' she an' the boy-friend was so taken up in sayin' good-night again and again, an' each time a little more tender-like that even the night watchman gets kinda bashful an' walks off. Me, havin' slipped inside the front-door, decided it was wise ter conceal myself until little cutie should climb them marble stairs of her father's grand hall."

"Knowin' that the caretaker had been called out o' town ter the death-bed of a relative which was actually a picnic, I felt kinda responsible an' didn't wish ter scare that innocent girl, so I waits a short time before followin' her up the stairs. Say—"Brown looked reflectively into space—"she was sure a nice little kid an' well brought up." "Well, when I thought she oughter be in bed an' sleepin' I climbs those stairs. She'd left her door wide open but instead o' bein' in bed, she was in her bathroom. Pretty soon I heard water runnin' like mad in the bathtub; there was never nothing quiet about Amos J. not even his plumbin'."

"I never did know anyone ter take so long in a bath before, not even allowin' fer hot weather, an' I was just gettin' worried, thinkin' perhaps she had fallen asleep in the tub and was gettin' drowned, when out she comes. Well, thinks I, as I sees her lookin' that cute in her pink crepe de chine an' lace, Amos J. don't deserve the luck he's got against you, and each of you, the object and prayer of which is to exclude the Defendants in said action, and each and all of them, from any and all claim, devisees, legatees, personal representatives and all other persons having or claiming any interest in and to the above described property and to quiet and confirm the title of the Plaintiff therein as against the said Defendants and for general equitable relief. Miss Erma Covert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Covert, and Malvin Axthelm, son of Louis Axthelm of Davis Creek, were married Sunday, Jan. 5, at one o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Clifford Snyder of the Ord Christian church officiating. Above is shown the wedding group with the bride and groom and their attendants in the front row.

The attendants were Miss Norma Bredthauer and Clarence Fox, jr. The bride wore a light blue street length dress and carried a bouquet of tallman roses. The bridesmaid wore a dress of old rose. The groom and his attendant wore dark suits.

The bride's father, L. H. Covert, sang "O, Promise Me," and Miss Vera Severns played the wedding march. A wedding dinner was served at 2 o'clock. There were 35 relatives present. A lovely 3-tier cake was baked by Mrs. George Vavra. The plans of the couple are not definite.

Beranek Tells Rotarians About Rose Bowl Trip

In the morning they witnessed the parade and Mr. Beranek told Rotarians about meeting a former Ordite, Cecil Newbecker and his family, whom he discovered sitting directly in front of him at the parade. The big game in the afternoon left nothing to be desired in the way of excitement and entertainment and Beranek said Allen Zikmund's work at halfback featured the Nebraska team's fine exhibition.

Weather was perfect during their two days in Los Angeles, he said, though it had rained for several days previous. They left for home at midnight of New Year's day and arrived in Grand Island early Friday evening. Jan. 3.

There were 257 passengers on their section of the special train on the outward trip but only 93 returned, the others remaining for longer vacations on the coast. On the train Mr. Beranek found four other Rotarians and a round-table Rotary meeting was held, at which Beranek made up his attendance for last week and thus preserved his 14-year attendance record.

Only Ord people the Beraneks saw, aside from the Newbecker family, were Mr. and Mrs. Harry McBeth, whom they encountered at the bowl. The McBeth family are living in Ontario but Mr. McBeth is employed at Calexco.

The Millikens were joined at the game by their son, Ensign James Milliken, of Bremerton, Wash., who went to Pasadena for the spectacle. They also returned home Jan. 3, though on a different train than did the Beraneks.

Another speaker at the Rotary meeting Monday was H. C. James, manager of the North Loup River Public Power and Irrigation district, who with President Roy Hudson of the district was a guest at the opening of the Tri-County's first turbine plant at Brady, Nebr., Sunday. Mr. James described this big plant and told how Senator George W. Norris pulled the switch that started the $30,000,000 project into operation.

J. A. Kovanda was introduced and spoke briefly about his new work and Jack Weaver and Harold Christensen, the new junior Rotarians, were introduced to the club by G. C. Thompson. Another guest at the meeting was Guy Hodges, right-of-way engineer for the state highway department, who is in Ord arranging for right-of-way for the Ord-Burwell highway which will be hard surfaced next spring and summer.

With Frazier's in charge of arrangements, the funeral services were held from the Ord Methodist church Monday, at 2 p. m., Rev. M. Marvin Long officiating. Mrs. E. O. Carlson, Mrs. Mark Tolson, J. R. Stoltz and Robert Noll sang with Mrs. Noll at the piano. The pall bearers were Leo Long, R. C. Greenfield, George Nay, Evert

Junior Auxiliary.

The Junior Auxiliary met at the home of Miss Betty Wiegardt, on Saturday, with Miss Reva Lincoln as co-hostess. There were 16 members present, and also the sponsors, Mrs. C. W. Clark and Mrs. Maud Cochran.

The business meeting was held first in which was discussed the selling of a navy plate. This plate is made of a fine grade of china, with an interesting historical picture on the front and the description of it on the reverse. The money obtained in this sale will be used for war relief.

The next meeting will be held the first day of February at the V. W. Russell home, with Miss Peggy Russell as hostess and Miss Marianne Russell as co-hostess.

Aowakla Campfire.

The Aowakla Campfire met at the home of Priscilla Flagg. The meeting was called to order. A motion was made and carried to the effect that we hold our meeting every week. The account of each girl's earnings were read and money-making plans were discussed. New business was finished up and the meeting was adjourned. Refreshments were served and the girls were excused.—Donetta Johnson, Reporter.

Nu-Bred Corn

This seed corn is taller made for Valley county farmers because it has a large ear, deep wide kernels, and matures in 108 days. This gives the farmer a wide planting range so he can plant when conditions are ideal and still this seed will make an enormous yield of high quality feeding corn.

We will sell NU-BRED seed direct from the growers while our present supply lasts at $1.00 per bushel for No. 1 Flats and $1.50 per bushel for No. 2 Flats.

We are booking orders for April delivery and a small down payment will guarantee you high quality seed at planting time. Try some of this modern corn. Don't wait until next fall and wish you had.

We have a sample of Nu-Bred at the Ord Seed House for your inspection. One look at this corn will convince you that this is the corn to plant.

For any information write to W. O. Zanger, John Guggenheim, Harold Nelson or Fred McCoven, all of North Loup, to Evert Smith, of Ord, or to

Cut-In

Released by Western Newspaper Union

"LOOK here, Bert, you know about everyone at this party, don't you? Most of the out-of-towners?"

Bert Townshend grinned as he perceived the eagerness on his friend's face.

"I guess I can fix you up, Ted. What particular woman have you got in mind?"

Ted Harper winked confidentially. "Good old Bert. Knew I could depend on you. First you invite me down for a week-end, hold a dance in my honor, and now you agree to fix it up for me with the best looking girl in the hall."

"Your description of the girl," Bert grinned, "fits only one of my guests. Her name is Betty Speare. That's she now."

Bert pointed to a girl who had just danced by in the arms of a blond giant. No one would have disputed Ted's description that "she was the best looking girl there."

Ted Harper was conscious of a feeling of jealousy, even at this early stage.

"That's the girl," he told Bert. "That's she all right. Think you can arrange an introduction?"

"Won't be necessary," Bert pointed out. "I'll cut in on her, tell her she's a dashing hero on the sidelines interested in joining the ranks of suitors now groveling at her feet. I'll dance by and give you the high sign. You can step up and do your stuff."

"Capital!" Ted was enthusiastic. He worked his way to the very edge of the stag line and watched Bert Townshend successfully perform his cut-in act. He saw him talking to the girl and nodding toward the stags. Then other dancers shut off his view.

Ted waited expectantly, watching for Bert's momentary appearance out of the maze of dancers. But he waited in vain. Bert had either forgotten or was quite satisfied to claim his partner for the remainder of the dance.

Definitely Ted strolled out on the veranda and stood leaning against the railing, his back to the dance floor.

He heard a step from behind and turned to confront Bert Townshend, a guilty-looking and forlorn Bert. "Well?" said Ted, and waited, his attitude ominous.

Bert seemed a little embarrassed. "I'm sorry, old man," he began. "but Betty—well, I pointed you out and she refused to be introduced. That is she made me take her out on the veranda so you wouldn't have an opportunity to cut in."

"Oh, she did, did she! Well what's the matter with me, I'd like to know? Might think I was hard to get along with or something. What excuse did she give, for not wanting to meet me?"

"None. She just said she didn't like your looks, and if I didn't mind what I take her out on the veranda for a breath of air. There was nothing else I could do, was there?"

Ted paused abruptly. A girl had suddenly appeared in the doorway of the ballroom and stood looking at them. She paused there a moment, accustoming her eyes to the darkness. And then as recognition came, she turned and would have re-entered the room.

Ted, with an angry gesture, strode hurriedly across the veranda and caught the girl by the arm.

"Look here, Betty. You're going to listen to me, whether you like it or not." He pulled her too gently out onto the veranda and into a corner.

Bert, watching from the railing, became alarmed. He decided at length that Ted had had one drink too many, and that the girl was in danger.

Bert entered the shadow and found Ted with his arms about Betty's waist. She was struggling to get away.

"Look here, Ted, you can't do this sort of thing. Not at my home, at any rate."

He reached out and laid hold of Ted's shoulder. Ted whirled, saw that Bert was in earnest, and dropped his arms.

"Bert," he said quietly, "Betty is my wife. We were married a month ago, kept it a secret and intended to announce it tonight at your party. Yesterday we quarreled. I've been trying to get Betty to talk to me all evening, and conceived the idea of having you introduce me to her, in the hopes she'd see the humor of the thing and let me explain that I was sorry, and ask her forgiveness."

He looked furtively at Betty. And Betty suddenly began to laugh. She was laughing at the bewildered expression on Bert Townshend's face.

"I can't see anything funny about it, Betty," Ted was saying. "It strikes me as being rather a serious situation when a man's own wife won't speak to him."

"But don't you see, darling," Betty bubbled, "Bert didn't know I was married—to his best friend—and when we were dancing he proposed!"

"Well, I'll be—Then he didn't tell you I wanted to cut in!" Ted whirled in sudden anger. But the space behind was empty. Bert had fled. And Ted decided not to follow, for he felt a soft warm hand creep into his own, and heard a sweet whisper at his ear.

victed on charges of car theft. The first time he served his term in the Nebraska reformatory, and the second in the Colorado state penitentiary at Greeley.

Immediately upon his release from Greeley he started for Nebraska. At Bushnell he got tired of bumming his way and stole the car which he later abandoned at Arcadia. This was a 1936 Chevrolet sedan. Identification marks were removed, but it has been identified by the owner, and he has taken it back to Bushnell.

Fisher walked around Arcadia, looking over at least four other cars before he decided which one he wanted.

Mr. Erickson is very glad indeed to get his car back within a period of three weeks and in good condition, and praises the efficiency of the Grand Island police in apprehending the criminal and finding the car.

Portland Oregonian Strong for Zikmund

A copy of the Oregonian of Portland, Ore., reached the Quiz yesterday, sent by some friend whose name we failed to figure out. There are several former Ordites in that section, and several of them take the Quiz. We are glad to receive it since it gives a slightly different slant on the Rose Bowl game.

L. H. Gregory, sports editor, writing from the Rose Bowl, starts out like this: "Beyond any room for argument the 100-piece band that blew such encouraging symphonies in brass for Nebraska here New Year's afternoon was the finest that ever visited the Rose Bowl. And Nebraska had quite a football team too—but in the end those amazing Stanforders slickered it to death." In fact it was more than just a fine Nebraska football team. It was a beautiful team."

"On the first play Rohrig threw a high wobbly pass into Gallarneau's territory. He was firing at that same Allen Zikmund who had recovered the fumble. Tearing like a streamliner on the Nebraska plains, "Zikky" streaked behind Gallarneau, stretched out, took the ball on the five, and sped across the goal line just as Gallarneau recovered himself and tackled him".

In a special column known as "Greg's Gossip" by the same man, he has the following to say about another of Zikmunds plays: "Allen Zikmund, Nebraska back, who caught the pass to score the Huskers' second touchdown, set the other new Rose Bowl record, not on the touchdown, but shortly after the kickoff following Stanford's matching touchdown.

"He caught the ball on the bound on his own 15 and ran 46 yards upfield (almost breaking loose down the side line) to Stanford's 39. He wasn't knocked down even then, but in bowing Kinetovic out of the way with a beautiful stiff-arm shoved himself infinitesimally over the sidelines.

"This 46 yard run was an all-time Rose Bowl kickoff return. The old record, 38 yards, oddly dates back to 1917, when Monteith of Oregon set it in the 14 to 0 victory over Pennsylvania."

Mrs. John Nevrlka Dies Following Long Illness

Following a long period of illness Mrs. John Nevrlka, resident here 40 years, died Sunday morning, Jan. 5, at the age of 75 years, 3 months and 27 days. She passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Helen Kokes, where she lived for some time, and where she was taken care of by her children.

Marie Brazda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vaclav Brazda, was born in Tis, in the county of Caslav, Bohemia, Sept. 8, 1865. She came to America in 1901 and was married that same year to John Nevrlka. They made their home on a farm west of Ord for 29 years, moving to Ord in 1930. Her husband preceded her in death Aug. 7, 1936, and since that time she had lived alone and with her daughter.

To Mr. and Mrs. Nevrlka five children were born, two of whom died in infancy. Those surviving are Mary Lukesh of Grand Island, James of Ord and Helen Kokes of Ord. There are three step-children, Frances Kasal and John Nevrlka of Ord and Anton Nevrlka of Lafayette, Ind., and also 5 step-grandchildren, and 5 grandchildren.

For a long time Mrs. Nevrlka was a member of the Z. C. B. J. Lodge. Funeral services were held Tuesday, Jan. 7, at the Bohemian Hall, with Frazers in charge of arrangements. Rev. B. A. Filip of Clarkson officiated. The pall bearers were Mat Kosnata, Joe Rohla, Mat Klima, Frank Benda, Frank Knapp and Joe Elstik. Music was furnished by Mrs. E. O. Carlson and Mrs. Mark Tolon, with Mrs. Robert Noll at the piano. Burial was made in the National cemetery west of Ord.

Car License Sales Are Ahead of Former Years

If the purchase of car licenses early is any criterion, the year 1941 should be an improvement over the four years that preceded it. According to the records in the county treasurer's office, 537 licenses were sold in December, 1940, and the total sales up to last night were 775. The sales for 1940 were, Jan. 1, 509; Jan. 7, 685. For 1939 they were, Jan. 1, 353; Jan. 7, 672. For 1938, they were, Jan. 1, 312; Jan. 7, 532. And for 1937, Jan. 1, 274; Jan. 7, 331. This indicates a steady increase for five years in licenses sold on both dates. No reason can be assigned for the increase, unless it can be that more people have the price of their licenses.

Ord Pinochle Club

Members of the Ord Pinochle club met at the home of Mrs. Joe Jablonski at Elyria Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Guy LeMasters was absent, and Mrs. Ray Meltsa was guest player in her place. Mrs. George Zikmund held high score, Mrs. W. A. Bartlett held low, and Mrs. Will Misko won travelling prize. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Anna Goff, Jan. 21.

Named County Chairmen. Charles Veleba has been appointed chairman for Valley county in the 1941 "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign by Bruce Shurtliff, of Lincoln, state chairman. In 1940 there were over 9,700 victims of this dread disease in the United States, including 184 in Nebraska. A drive for funds will be carried on here under Mr. Veleba's direction.

Three Birkes Held to District Court on Murder Charge

Men Who Shot Taylor Sheriff Had Preliminary Hearing at Taylor Monday.

In Judge Thurman A. Smith's Loup county court Monday John and Willard Birkes, brothers, and their nephew, Richard Birkes, were bound over to trial in the district court on charges of murdering Sheriff George Brock at Valley View in Loup county on the morning of Oct. 16.

The fatal shooting occurred at the registration office at Valley View when Sheriff Brock arrived and attempted to serve papers on the Birkes, John and Richard, who were already there, where Richard was present for draft registration as required by law.

The courtroom was packed when the hearing opened, but the crowd was orderly. Glen Hesselgesser, a member of the local draft board, was the chief witness called, and the situation became tense when John Birkes, incensed by Hesselgesser's testimony, called him a "lying from the prisoner's dock.

Other witnesses called were Alfred Scherberg, whose testimony corroborated that of Hesselgesser. Scherberg was also a member of the draft board. Miss Eloise Lett, a nurse, gave testimony as to Brock's wounds. Mark Locker, brother-in-law of Brock, told of going out to the Birkes' farm about Oct. 1, at which time Brock was pushed about and threatened by the Birkes.

Scherberg, on the witness stand, stated directly that "John Birkes shot Sheriff Brock in the head while the sheriff faced him." Other witness called were Marshal Pat Brennenman of Burwell, Rush Clark, of the attorney-general's office and County Attorney Alder of Loup county. It was brought out that Sheriff Glen Fox of Custer county had taken charge of a rifle and two revolvers found in the possession of the Birkes.

For the prosecution were Attorneys Alder of Loup county, Glen Runyan of Burwell and Rush Clark from the attorney-general's office. Attorneys for the defense were T. W. Lanigan and William Mullen of Grand Island. Willard Birkes was taken to Taylor from Grand Island by Chief of Police Zachry, Assistant Chief Buck Mentzer, and Corp. M. D. Nelson of the state highway patrol. Sheriff Glen Fox brought John and Richard Birkes from Broken Bow.

No bond was fixed for the Birkes after they were bound over for trial. Unless either the prosecution or defense asks for and obtains a continuance, the trial will come up at the regular spring term of court.

Sheriff George Round and Deputy F. J. Cohen of Ord went to Taylor Monday to attend the trial. That afternoon they brought Richard Birkes back with them, and he will be kept in jail at Ord until court convenes. Willard Birkes was taken to Bassett, and John Birkes is in the custody of Sheriff Fox at Broken Bow. It was agreed that it was for the best to keep them separated.

Konkoleski Loses To Iwanski in Contest

Thursday, Jan. 9, in the district court room was heard the case wherein Lloyd Konkoleski was contesting the election of James Iwanski as overseer in road district No. 16, Elyria township. The result of the November election gave Konkoleski 40 votes and Iwanski 41.

Konkoleski was represented by John Misko and Iwanski by Munro and Norman. The canvass of the votes in the district showed that each had received the vote as mentioned above. However, one witness called was found not to be a qualified voter whose vote had been cast for Iwanski. This vote was rejected, leaving the vote a tie at 40 each.

The judge then ordered the contest to be settled by lot, as provided by law, and this was done. Four strips of paper of varying lengths were placed at different places in a book, and each of the contestants drew a strip. Iwanski drew the longest strip and was declared elected. The case is of interest since Iwanski's name did not appear on the ballot, and 41 friends had to write his name in.

—Miss Daisy Hallen returned Saturday evening from her vacation trip to see her sister Winnie at Douglas, Ariz. She had a most enjoyable time while she was away, and returned feeling much improved in health. She had not planned to do any teaching for the present, but Miss Inez Swain has been ill, and Mrs. W. C. Wiggins, who had been taking her place, was called away today, so Miss Hallen is substituting until other arrangements can be made.

Taylor Will Join the Bank of America Staff

Harold Taylor, a teller at the Nebraska State bank for the past seven years, has resigned his position effective Jan. 25 and a day or two later expects to leave with Mrs. Taylor and their infant son for Los Angeles, where on Feb. 1 Harold expects to start work with the Bank of America organization. Needless to say, Ord people hate to see the Taylor family leave. Harold is a son of Dr. and Mrs. G. V. Taylor and was reared in Ord, graduating from the Ord schools and later from University of Nebraska.

Denninger Welcomed to Ord Business Life

Lawrence Denninger arrived in Ord last week to take over management of the former Springer Variety store, now owned by Messrs. Kelly and Lee of the Hested Store organization, and he is being welcomed to business circles of Ord by other merchants. Mr. Denninger formerly managed a Hested store at Hebron. He and Mrs. Denninger are occupying an apartment in the Sack residence.

Business and Professional

The Ord Business and Professional Women's club met Wednesday evening at Thorne's cafe. Miss Ruth Kornelius had charge of the business session, the president being absent. Tickets were passed out to the members to be sold for the next book review Jan. 31. After the dinner was served the rest of the evening was spent in playing bridge and pinochle. Dr. Zeta Nay and Miss Vera Frederick acted as hostesses.

Farmers Defeated Ord Men on Goodhand Alley

A group of five farmers playing four lines each defeated a group of Ord men in a bowling contest at the Goodhand alleys last night, the final score being, farmers 3208, and the Ord men 2978, making the margin of victory 230 pins.

Playing for the farmers were Henry Enger, John Koll, Emil Zikmund, Louis Jobst and Hartwig Koll. The Ordites split up on a part of the games, with K. W. Peterson, Hans Hansen, Russell Jensen, Keyth Habig, Ellis Carson, Dr. McGinnis, Harley Eschliman and Bud Martin all having a try at it.

Thursday evening a Burwell team lost to an Ord team by 2171 to 2155. Ord won the first round 747 to 663 and the third round 556 to 736, Burwell winning the second round 756 to 744. With 16 men entered Hans Hansen defeated Ed Parkos in the elimination contest last Tuesday night. Eliminations will be staged next Tuesday night and probably on all succeeding Tuesday nights.

Joe Novosad Improving

Joe Novosad was brought to the Clinic hospital last week suffering with an infection which resulted from a carbuncle. After undergoing surgical treatment he began to improve, though his condition was extremely serious. A special nurse, Miss Luella Naab, was called to take care of him at the hospital.

—Mr. and Mrs. John Gaika and sons visited at the Charles Clemy home in Garfield county Sunday.

Brings Souvenirs of Rose Bowl Game to Ord

Not a bit downhearted at having to spend a few weeks on crutches is Allen Zikmund, hero of Nebraska's Rose Bowl team, who spent the week end visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Zikmund. Instead Allen proudly displayed his "souvenirs" of the momentous football game notably a cast on his broken leg liberally besprinkled with the autographs of friends.

Sports writers are still praising Allen's fine work in the game, latest article coming from Bill Stern, who broadcast the game for NBC. Allen, Herman Rohrig and Warren Alfonso were "tops" on the fine Nebraska team said Stern.

Ellsworth Ball Elected Chairman of County Board

Supervisors Were Unanimous in Choosing Ord Man at Opening Session.

Peace and harmony prevailed in the supervisors' room of the Valley county court house Tuesday as the county board opened its annual organization meeting, and harmony continued to be the keynote as the meeting progressed.

Ellsworth Ball, starting his third term as a supervisor, was elected chairman of the board Tuesday morning. He was nominated by Supervisor Joe Jablonski, the nomination was seconded by Supervisor Suchanek, and the vote for Mr. Ball was unanimous on the first roll call. Supervisor Barber presided as temporary chairman during the election.

Committees appointed by Chairman Ball follow:

Budget—Suchanek, Hansen, Johnson.

Claims—Barber, Jablonski, Johnson.

Most of Tuesday was devoted to routine resolutions designed to make the machinery of county government operate smoothly throughout 1941 but supervisors did take time to reappoint Dr. J. N. Round as county physician and D. C. Haught as court house custodian. E. Clyde Baird was reappointed to the Soldiers and Sailors Relief Commission. Other appointments remain to be made.

No bounty will be paid on coyotes again this year, supervisors decided by resolution. Inasmuch as nearby counties do not pay a bounty, Valley county will not pay either.

County Clerk Ign. Klima, Jr., predicts that the board will finish its session Thursday and says this is the most harmonious organization meeting supervisors have had in many years.

Wildlife Meeting at Kearney Last Sunday

Two Ord men, Edw. L. Kokes and Eugene Leggett, drove to Kearney Sunday and attended the annual convention of the Nebraska Wildlife Federation held at the Fort Kearney hotel. Both served on the resolutions committee.

New state chairman elected was Ernest Bihler, of Omaha, who has served as secretary since the Federation was organized. L. L. Fitzsimmons, of Fremont, became secretary.

Principal speaker was J. W. Lundy, representative of the America Wildlife Federation, whose talk was broadcast over KGFW. Movies were shown by the state conservation department. A dinner was served to about 80 delegates at the noon hour.

Chairmen Named to Aid Infantile Paralysis Move

Charles E. Veleba, county chairman of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis Research, announces the appointment of Mrs. C. J. Mortensen as county women's chairman and of city chairmen as follows: Ord, Cecil Wardrop; North Loup, C. J. Goodrich; Arcadia, U. G. Evans; Elyria, W. E. Dodge.

The organization will conduct a drive for funds to aid in the campaign against this dread disease, says Mr. Veleba. Coin cards will be sent to rural schools, voluntary contributions are solicited and dances will be held during January in each town of the county.

Fifty per cent of funds received go to the national organization, 50 per cent stay in Valley county for use here as needed.

A local chapter will be organized within the next few days. Valley county was the third lowest in Nebraska last year in helping the drive against infantile paralysis.

Project Clubs Meeting in County This Week

The project clubs of the county are holding meetings this week for regular leader training, in Arcadia today and in Ord tomorrow. Each club sends two men to the men's group meeting in the morning, which is under the direction of County Agent C. C. Dale, and which deals with the "Care and Repair of Farm Buildings".

Also in the morning the leaders of the women's clubs will meet under the supervision of Miss Verna Glandt of O'Neill, area director. In the afternoon a joint session will be held, which will take up "Handy Mechanical Hints for the Home".

Addressees Ord Rotarians

Mrs. Clara McClatchey was a guest of the Rotary club Monday evening and told an interesting fashion about her recent trip to Cuba and the southern states.

Sixty-Six Years of Banking Service to Ordites Given by These Men

JAMES PETSKA, JR.

C. B. GUDMUNDSEN.

HORACE TRAVIS.

A total of sixty-six years of banking service has been given to Ord people by these employees of the First National bank. It was brought out at the annual bank meeting Tuesday. (Story at right)

New President of 1st National Bank Is Ralph E. Misko

Elected Tuesday at Meeting of Stockholders; Other Officers Promoted.

At the annual meeting of stockholders of the First National bank held Tuesday morning in the bank building, several changes in the list of officers and also in the board of directors were decided upon.

Ralph E. Misko, cashier of the bank, who a few weeks ago purchased from Frank Koupal a block of stock which in conjunction with the stock already owned by the Misko family, gave him a controlling interest in the institution, was elected to the presidency.

Elected to the office of vice-president was James Petska, jr., who has been with the First National in various capacities since 1918, the longest term of service of any of the present employees.

Becoming cashier is C. B. Gudmundsen, who has been with the bank since 1919, while Horace Travis, with the bank since 1920, becomes assistant cashier. Miss Loraine Meese, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meese, is now employed part time while finishing her school course, and when she is graduated from school this spring will become bookkeeper and stenographer on a full time basis.

The new president has been associated with the bank since his graduation in 1934 from University of Nebraska where he studied business administration. He has served in all capacities from bookkeeper to cashier.

Directorate decided upon Tuesday lists Ralph E. Misko, John P. Misko, Clarence M. Davis and Mrs. James Milford, all Ord people, and Victor M. Hall, of Holdrege. The latter is a son-in-law of the late James Misko, having married Miss Musa Misko. Mr. Hall has been district manager for the Northwestern Bell Telephone company at Holdrege for the past two years.

Retiring as an officer of the bank is Frank P. O'Neal, who submitted his resignation as president and director on January 8th, having sold his stock to Clarence M. Davis.

Mr. O'Neal came to Ord from Holyoke, Colo., in 1932 to become the bank's vice-president and in 1934 was elevated to the presidency by stockholders.

His record is a splendid one and his good judgment and adherence to sound banking tactics won him the respect and friendship of Ord and Valley county residents.

His future plans are uncertain but he will remain in the bank for the present, although not in an official position. At conclusion of the school year the O'Neal family may move to the west coast and in the meantime Mr. O'Neal is investigating several business opportunities.

Retiring from the board of directors, in addition to Mr. O'Neal, is Miss Maude Goodenow, of Burwell.

With the changes in the list of officers of the bank mentioned above, management of the First National now goes into the hands of four men who are native Ordites. Mr. Misko and the Messrs. Petska, Gudmundsen and Travis all were born and reared in this community. All are married and all are Ord home owners, thus demonstrating their belief in the future of this city. Each of the last-named three has been with the bank for 20 or more years.

After the meeting John L. Andersen showed some movies, especially some taken by John Misko of the Weeks hospital fire, which the firemen found very interesting. The firemen were then taken to Ben's Grill by George Allen for a luncheon, in appreciation of the fine work they did in extinguishing the recent fire at the Allen home.

Ord Volunteer Firemen Meet, See Fire Photos

The members of the Ord Volunteer Fire department met at the hall Monday evening. Plans were laid for the annual firemen's ball, which will be held Feb. 4. The Harry Collins orchestra has been engaged to furnish the music for the occasion.

Plans were also made for the first aid classes which will start next week. Next Monday night there will be a first aid review for all firemen who took the course last year. Then Tuesday night the class for beginners will start, and any who wish to take this course are invited to be present at that time. The classes will be in charge of Dr. J. N. Round.

This condition began to develop during the night Sunday, and by Monday morning some ice had accumulated, which, together with the fog that settled over this section most of the morning, made travel by auto difficult. The wind was in the north all day and the mercury hovered around the freezing point.

This Wednesday morning was practically identical with yesterday. The streets were very slippery, but most people were getting used to them. The forecast is for somewhat warmer weather, either this afternoon or tomorrow, which should solve the sleet problem. So little moisture has actually fallen that it cannot be measured.

Frank Pray Buys a Business at Burwell

Frank Pray, employed for several years as an assistant in the Valley county engineer's office, Tuesday became owner of the confectionery at Burwell known as "The Spot." Former owner was George Baker. Frank tendered his resignation to Tracy Hamilton and he and Mrs. Pray took charge of their new business immediately.

Falls, Fractures Hip

Mrs. Isabelle Creager, of North Loup, fell on the icy walk Tuesday and fractured her hip. She was brought to the Clinic hospital and the fracture was reduced by Drs. W. J. Hemphill and C. W. Weeks.

Lewis's Buy Property

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lewis have purchased of the HOLC the former Shepard property at 2005 N street. It will be remodeled and the third floor made into an apartment.

The new office is being redecorated by Lawrence Mason, who is repainting and giving the woodwork another coat of paint. The new location is only a block from Highway No. 11 in either direction.

It is easily accessible for patrons. The only disadvantage is that there is no garage in connection, but this is not essential.

Cars Collide, Minor Damage

Minor damage resulted Saturday morning when cars driven by Mrs. J. D. McCall and Mrs. Rex Jewett met in the intersection of 17th and M streets. Mrs. McCall was coming from the east and Mrs. Jewett from the north. No one was hurt and the principal damage was a crumpled rear left fender on the Jewett car.

NEBRASKA POPULATION.

The population of the towns of Nebraska was given out officially last week, and for some reason not definitely known, a change was made in the population of Ord. The original figures given out by Director Bregg gave Ord 2232, a gain of 6, but the revised figures credit us with 2240, a gain of 14. The change is not important, but the figures on the signs on highways leading into town will have to be changed again.

There are nine towns in the 10,000 population class, in the following order: Omaha, Lincoln, Grand Island, Hastings, North Platte, Scottsbluff, Fremont, Beatrice and Norfolk. All of these made gains except Hastings and Norfolk. Scottsbluff came up out of the class below 10,000, and from 9th place to 6th place, with a net gain of 3,592.

Of these 9 towns, Omaha, Fremont, Norfolk and Grand Island are north of the Platte, North Platte and Scottsbluff are between the forks of the Platte, and Lincoln, Hastings and Beatrice are in the territory south of the Platte. There is not a town in the state in this class north of the north line of Garfield county.

In 1941 there was a total of 27 cities in Nebraska in the class between 2,500 and 10,000 population. Four of these, Ogallala, O'Neill, Wayne and West Point, came up from the lower bracket. All showed gains except Alliance, Chadron, McCook, Superior and Wahoo. It is significant that the first four are railroad division points.

Of all towns in Nebraska Ogallala showed the most striking gain from 1,631 in 1930 to 3,153 in 1940, a gain of 1,528, or nearly 100%. This may be a mushroom growth, however, caused by the fact that government projects are being developed in that territory. If this is the case, the coming decade will show a swing in the opposite direction.

Of the towns above 1,000 population in 1930 only four, Bayard, Cozad, Tecumseh and Valentine, climbed into the 2,000 class, but none above 2,000 dropped below. Towns to climb into the 1,000 class included Imperial, Lyons, Peru and Ponca, but towns going below 1,000 were Wakefield, Tilden, Scribner, St. Edward and Hemingford.

The average gain of the four towns above was 142, while the average loss of the five was 161. It seems that it is in the neighborhood of 1,000 population that the towns cease to gain and begin to lose. All towns below this figure with a few exceptions, show either a loss or only a small gain, many of them being at a standstill.

Actual count shows that only 137 towns below 1,000 population made gains, while practically twice that number, 273, show a loss. Bee, Ober, Malcolm, Brazillia Mills and Duncan, show the same population as ten years ago. Douglas, Firth, Emmett, Gilhead and South Bend each gained one, and Sunner, Garrison, Goehner and Bradshaw each lost one.

Elyria in Valley county and Murray in Cass county were the only villages incorporated in the state during the decade. Elyria dropped from the 100 population it had in 1933 to 77 in 1940. Murray, time of incorporation not known, now has a population of 209. There are a total of 18 villages in the state with a population of less than 100.

The figures are interesting, as showing a trend from the smaller towns toward the larger, especially toward the county seats, nearly all of which show a gain. This is due largely to the people who have had to give up on the farm or in the little towns and go on WPA, thus adding to the population of the county seats and cutting down on that of the villages.

It serves to bring home quite forcibly the fact that drought conditions are making a radical change in population in Nebraska, the large cities profiting to a certain extent at the expense of the smaller, and also at the expense of the rural districts. In addition to this a total of about 60,000 must be elsewhere as the total population of the state has depreciated that amount.

What Nebraska must have is something that will keep the population in the rural sections from leaving the state. The easiest and only sensible solution of the problem is to have the rains come back. A few new forms of rainfall here would make Nebraska people for get that we ever had a drought.

The introduction of dry-farming methods may help, and is helping in many localities. The increased use of sorghums crops is also proving a life saver to those farmers who began their use in time. Pump irrigation means a heavy initial expense, but would pay out eventually on land not requiring too much preparation. In any case, it is evident that Nebraska is not likely to increase in population in the future.

Brief Arcadia Notes.

Mr. and Mrs. George Travis and Richard drove to Sioux City Sunday to take Mrs. Robert Voss and daughter home.

Mrs. Gene Forsythe of Broken Bow was a Wednesday guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Travis.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Aufrecht had corn shelling Thursday.

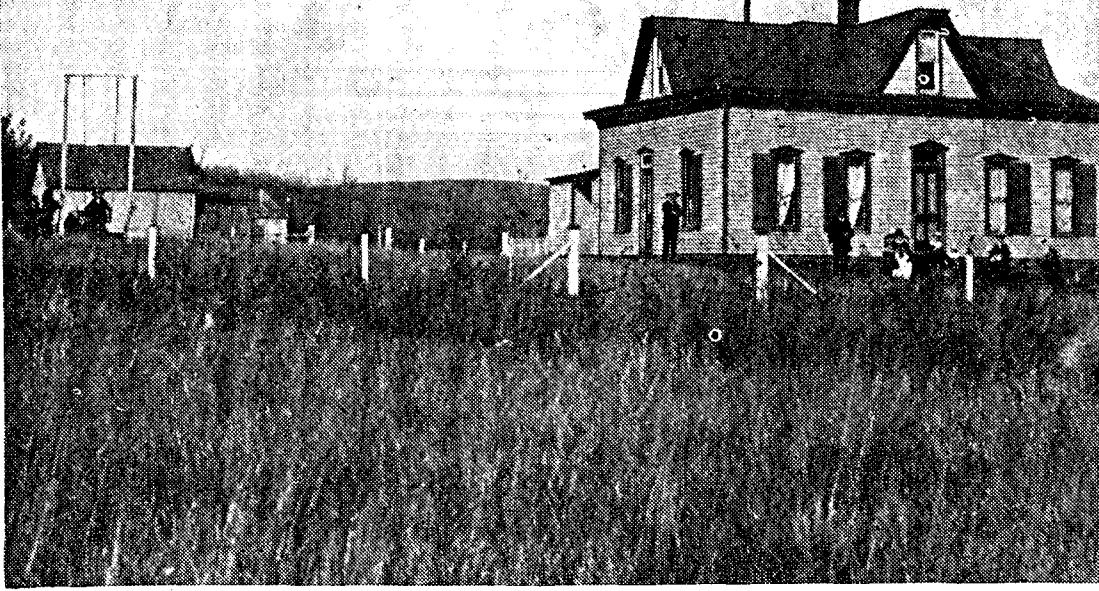

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Jenner and Mr. and Mrs. Don Pilger of Loup City were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Marvel.

This house was not right in Ord when it was built, but was taken in as the town grew out to it. It was the E. D. Satterlee home, located between L and M streets at the extreme west end of Ord. Later the Judge Gudmundsen family lived there, and it was remodeled. The Joe Psota family lived there for a time, but it is empty now. The people in the picture are too far away to identify, but doubtless Mr. Satterlee is one of them. The Satterlees ran the Satterlee house at the northwest corner of the square, later run by D. N. McCord. It was destroyed by fire.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT Short Shavings

Short Shavings.

Steve Jurgensen has a beautiful purebred Newfoundland dog. She is mostly of a light sable color, marked with black and stands three feet high.

A relative of Steve in Omaha owned this dog, with a few others. She has whelped at least once and the owner said he sold the pups before he could wear them. In Omaha he did not have a good place for her, having to keep her on a chain all her life and he persuaded Steve to bring her up here where she could run loose for awhile, he being afraid she might get cross in Omaha.

Speaking to Pete about her, I sensed they were becoming so fond of the dog already the owner may not get her back at all. Pete says she minds well and if she comes in the house (which she did in Omaha) she will lie down anywhere she is told and minds perfectly. He said she is tall enough standing so her head will reach over the top of the table without stretching her neck.

It is seldom we see as nice a dog as that in these parts.

In the brown section of the World-Herald two weeks ago there were pictures of a coyote hunt in the western part of the state. Bente Rood Harmon, formerly of North Loup writes that she was in that picture.

Russel Williams, son-in-law of Claude Thomas of North Loup who now lives in Mossyrock, Wash., has been working lately on a new theater there, and while at work he saw something shiny in the dirt. He picked it up and found it to be a bullet pencil with the

Something Different ++

With all the blood and madness in Europe, and the insistent American calls for more defense measures, I think we are beginning to reconsider and appreciate our American citizenship. It is as if we learn, suddenly, that we have always owned a valuable jewel. But the stone has always been in our pockets, and we did not realize that it could be polished to sparkle so alluringly.

Indeed, with each day our newly appreciated jewel seems bigger and more beautiful. No longer does it seem a heavy responsibility to carry the bright token as we suddenly realize there are so many others who would love to carry it.

It occurred to me that we do not teach our young people to think much of their citizenship on the day when they finally acquire it. Of course we teach them about being an American, schools teach about it in every grade. But on the day when first they vote, or the day when at last the naturalized citizen receives his final papers, wouldn't it be more impressive to have a ceremony of some kind? A few remarks about the worth of the new acquisition? At least an explanation?

Most primitive tribes recognize the value of "coming of age", and make it one of the two or three big days in the life of a tribesman. Could we learn something from these earlier peoples? If so, let's do it.

oo

Boy scouting has proven its worth over and over. We all know how the boys enjoy while they learn. And Ord has had big gaps in her scouting programs before this. I hope she is not about to have another.

Which is to say that Rex Jewett has resigned as scoutmaster, and the group which was sailing ahead so beautifully is left without a pilot. I do not understand why he gives it up but Rex did seem a

An Old Timer Writes.

Jan. 9, 1941

Editor Quiz, Dear Sir:

About one year ago a farmer neighbor sent a copy of your Ord Quiz to me and I was pleased to read of many people I once knew and to see the pictures of people that were one time neighbors and friends of mine.

Now my husband, E. Hurlbert and W. W. Haskell were in partnership in the ranch business in 1890 to 1900. Then in 1909 we sold out and moved to the Rose Bud, S. D. In 1919 we sold our holdings there and removed to Saskatchewan, Canada.

There we renewed our acquaintance with the Kiplings, Will, Tommy and Frank Kipling, who are still there, also the Herschel Moorman family that lived in Ord for several years before moving to Canada. Very truly yours, Mrs. Minnie Hurlbert, Cedar Bluff, Neb.

(Editor's note: Mrs. Hurlbert enclosed a picture for publication, but it was not suitable for making a cut. Sorry.)

Had a Fine Trip.

Jan. 7, 1941

Dear Quiz:

We decided to make the trip worth while, so we took the southern road through Kansas, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona. Of course we went over many bad roads, and the worst we found in southern California, as some of them have very short turns.

Once when I looked out of the window, I thought somebody was going to pass me, but I found out it was only the gas tank of my car. New Year's eve we stayed over in Needles, Calif. Saturday morning we landed in Biggs, Calif., and got our household goods from the depot.

We rented a house the same day, and Sunday we started housekeeping. Monday Martha was ready to go to school. The trip was so fine that we wished it was 4,000 miles instead of 2,000. We have a fine place with an orange tree beside the house with ripe oranges on it, and also English walnut trees.

We have hardly seen any sun in California, but plenty of rain. It rains most of the time. Must close for this time. A. J. Samla, box 326, Biggs, Calif.

I should know the people in the lower picture, but can't recall them right now. Enjoy the Quiz every week, but there are many new names. And I do like the "Something Different" column very much.

—Respectfully, Mrs. H. M. Simmons (Victoria Wista).

Editors Note: Marion Crosby agrees with Mrs. Simmons on the identity of the persons in the lower row, and Nellie Bradt Harris in the upper row. He thinks the others in the upper row are, left to right, Angie Ramsey, Adelheit Reithardt, and Josee Cernuk. There you are. Take your choice.

Married at Elyria.

At a ceremony at 9 o'clock, Tuesday, Jan. 14, 1941, in St. Mary's church, Elyria, Miss Stella Zukoski, daughter of Mrs. T. J. Zukoski, became the bride of Syl Shotkoski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Shotkoski. Rev. C. Szumski officiated at the double ring ceremony in the presence of relatives and close friends.

Attending the couple were Miss Martha Shotkoski, sister of the groom, and Chet Papernik. The wedding march was played by Miss Angelina Wachtire, and she played and sang other music, accompanied by Eldon Wachtire. The bride wore a floor length dress of white satin and a veil caught with a pearl coronet. She carried Callas. Miss Shotkoski wore an aqua blue colored dress and carried roses.

After the ceremony dinner was served at the home of the bride to many relatives and friends. The groom gave a dance in the evening to the relatives and friends at the Elyria hall. Art Mason furnishing the music. Mr. and Mrs. Shotkoski will reside at 1206 M. street. Mr. Shotkoski is employed at the Ord Auto Sales company.

Home Grown

MEAT

Nearly all the meat we sell is strictly "home grown." We go to our good local feeders and from them buy corn-fed steers and heifers, young, tender hogs. We butcher the animals in our sanitary plant, do the processing in our own market, and thus bring you meat that is "home grown" from start to finish.

We believe we can please you; we know we'd like to try.

NORTH LOUP

Word was received Thursday of the death of Mrs. Will Moore at Los Angeles, Calif. She had been in poor health for some time and was in a Los Angeles hospital till within three weeks of her death when she was taken to her home.

The body, accompanied by her husband, arrived here Monday morning and services were held from the Methodist church in the afternoon with Rev. Andrew Olsen officiating. Burial was in the North Loup cemetery with Frank Johnson, Charles Johnson, Bert Cummings, Edwin Miller, H. C. Sample and L. J. Thelin acting as bearers. Music was furnished by a quartette consisting of Mrs. H. J. Hoeppner, Mrs. Fred Bartz, R. W. Hudson and Daryl White with Mrs. A. C. Hutchins at the piano.

Jesse Clark came up from Lincoln Sunday afternoon and Nettie Clark came over from Madison to be present for Mrs. Will Moore's funeral.

Charles Clark came up from Lincoln Sunday afternoon and Nettie Clark came over from Madison to be present for Mrs. Will Moore's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Elley and Duane Mattison were Friday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hutchins and family.

Duane Mattison of Merriman who had been a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elley for ten days left Monday for his home.

Mrs. Andrew Olsen and Noel were ill with the flu the first of the week.

A family dinner to celebrate the birthday of Joe Copeland was held

Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Honeycutt. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Bates Copeland and Maxine, the Leslie Wilson family, the Joe Copeland family, the B. Keown family of Scotia and Mrs. Roy Jacobs, Leonard and Velma.

The Busy Bee club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Laura Christensen. Six members were present. They tied a comforter for the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen

Will Horner home in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Horner and children spent Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Christensen.

Mrs. Vera Anderson of Scotia spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.

W. B. Stine. Mrs. Stine spent

Saturday night in the Anderson home.

On September 26, 1911 Myrtle was married to Will R. Moore and they made their home in North

Loup until they moved to California in 1929. She leaves to mourn her passing, her husband, Will

Moore of Los Angeles, her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs.

Eugene Brown of Scotia, seven grandchildren, two brothers, Edgar

Houth of Los Angeles and George of Ord and one sister, Dollie Clark of North Loup, several nieces and nephews and a host of friends.

In her youth she affiliated with the Methodist church, later she transferred her membership to the church of her choice in Los Angeles. Always a home maker, she was a loving wife and mother, and her greatest delight was to serve and care for her loved ones.

Patient and appreciative of everything done for her she was ever cheerful even during the last weeks of pain. During her illness every care was lavished upon her by her husband who devoted his entire time to her needs. Her passing leaves a vacancy that none can fill, but also the blessed memory of a mild, cheerful presence which was on inspiration to all who knew her.

Out of town people who were present for Mrs. Moore's funeral included Mr. and Mrs. George

MEDICAL FACTS

Sponsored by
4-COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY

In 1926 there was no international air traffic but the United States Public Health Service saw that there would be such traffic in a short time. We had just succeeded in ridding our country of yellow fever for one thing, and traffic from the south, especially from South America, would constantly threaten us with an epidemic of this disease as well as others, especially all those diseases carried by mosquitoes and other insects.

There was some question whether planes arriving from South American ports could carry living infected mosquitoes to this country, so an experiment was tried. Most mosquitoes were caught and stained with bright colors so they could be recognized. These stained specimens were released in airplanes at various distances from Miami. Living mosquitoes were found in the planes on arrival, that had been released 1200 miles from port. This convinced the doctors of the Public Health Service that insects from fever ridden areas in South America could be a definite menace to our health.

On this basis they developed methods of dealing with this problem. All parts of the plane are carefully searched and sprayed before the plane lands, thus killing practically all the insects. Baggage is also carefully searched. After the plane lands and unloads, it is sealed and fumigated with cyanide gas, just to make sure no living insect has been missed.

All the dead mosquitoes are gathered and sent to the laboratory. Here they are examined for evidence of infection and if it is found in any of them, the passengers are required to leave their addresses for the next nine days so they may be inspected by the Public Health Service. If at the end of that time they are well, they have not been infected with yellow fever.

The methods adopted by the doctors of the Public Health Service have been so effective that no epidemic of any kind has been introduced by way of air traffic regardless of the fact that the routes over South America are definitely thru areas that are constantly infected.

Nite Owls Held Party Dance Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ed Verstraete

The Nite Owl members from the Brace and Vinton neighborhoods entertained Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Verstraete. About 150 of their friends met at a party dance at the Masonic hall.

The occasion was doubly enjoyed since the Verstraete silver wedding comes Jan. 19 and music for the dance Friday evening as well as for the wedding 25 years ago was furnished by the same group, Frank John and his orchestra.

At midnight a plate lunch was served to the guests by the ladies of the club. The honorees were presented with a silver service,

Mr. and Mrs. Verstraete.

Legislators Fare Well

in Committee Selections

Joseph T. Knezacek got off to a fine start the first day of the 1941 session of Nebraska's unicameral, if appointments on committees mean anything besides hard work. He is included as a member on three committees, agriculture, government and labor-public welfare.

Another new man well known in Ord, Tony Asimus of O'Neill, fared equally well, and will keep busy as a member of the following three committees: banking-commerce-insurance, labor-public welfare and public health.

Still another newcomer, but a man well known in Ord, is Attorney Walter Raecke, of Central City, who wins a place on the all-important appropriations committee. Because of the amount of work this committee has to do, they do not often serve on other committees.

Otto Kotouc of Humboldt, well known in Ord, also did very well for a beginner. He is placed on the banking-commerce-insurance and judiciary committees.

A. C. VanDiest of Alma, now serving his second term, failed to win a chairmanship, but is a member of the banking-commerce-insurance, claims-deficiencies, legislative administration and public works committees.

N. D. Nielsens Located at Missouri Army Camp

Mrs. John Rowbal is in receipt of a letter from the N. D. Nielsen family, now located at the new camp the government is building in Missouri, which gives some interesting facts in connection with the work there. The Nielsens were there 2½ months before work started.

However, now that the work is under way, Nels is getting one dollar per hour working as carpenter. He works 8 hours per day and 5 days per week, thus drawing $40 per week. He had to be vaccinated for smallpox, inoculated for typhoid, and immunized for all kinds of diseases before he was permitted to go to work.

He works a mile or two from the paymaster's office, and has to go there on Saturdays for his check. There are so many employees that he has to stand in line 3 or 4 hours until his turn comes. There are so many people there that it is difficult to get meals, and many of the men have to go to work in the morning without their breakfast.

Their daughter Thelma works in the club house of Alhambra Grotto near Newburg and gets $25 per week, but she has to travel 28 miles to and from work, a total of 56 miles. Nels says that there is plenty of work with good pay for those who are there now, but that the quota of workers is filled and that no more are being taken on except through the WPA offices.

Works For Government.

John A. Novotny left for Washington, D. C., where he has a civil service job in the war department, ammunition building. Mr. Novotny prepared himself for this job when he attended St. Paul Business college for two years' time ago, and so was ready when the opportunity came.

Draft Board Meets.

W. J. Ramsey, chairman, came over from Arcadia yesterday afternoon to attend a meeting of the Valley county draft board. The other members of the board are L. D. Milliken, secretary, A. A. Wiegardt, clerk, and W. T. McLain.

Willard Clemens, who had been working in Colorado for two months, returned home Sunday.

of Taylor, who were pioneer friends of the Thurstones. The other guests were Mrs. Etta Campbell, Mrs. J. C. Hartford, Miss Meda Drayer, Mrs. Z. C. Harris and Mrs. Thurston Penas. Dr. and Mrs. Thurston Penas many beautiful and useful gifts. Mrs. Campbell baked the beautifully decorated wedding cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Fay Livermore will be hosts to the pinocchio club in their home this evening.

The members of the Christian church will hold their annual meeting in the church basement Friday evening. Officers for the coming year will be elected. A covered dish luncheon will be served.

Miss Margaret Kroese, the new teacher, hired by the board of education to replace Gilbert Davenport who resigned to become a member of the faculty of Creighton university, commenced teaching on Tuesday. Miss Kroese received her master's degree from the University of Nebraska at midyear. Her home is at Firth, Neb. She has taught at Filley, Liberty and Hermann.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson and LaRue were dinner guests Sunday at the Will Nelson home in the Haskell Creek neighborhood.

Dwight Johnson returned Sunday from a two weeks' vacation in California. Mr. Johnson attended the Rose Bowl game and the tournament of roses in Pasadena. He was a guest of an uncle and also visited Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pearl, Julia Crum McNeely, Mr. and Mrs. Will Hoffman, Prof. and Mrs. John R. Opp and a number of other former Burwellites. While in California he took twenty feet of motion picture films which his friends are eagerly looking forward to seeing.

Louis Puncochar Married Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Puncochar were married 50 years Jan. 11, and honor of the occasion the Z. C. B. J. lodge, of which they are members, arranged a celebration for them at the hall Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Puncochar led the grand march, which was played by Steve Chastell and his orchestra, who also played for the dance that followed.

Of course there was a mock wedding, with Edward Psota as the groom and Miss Viola Puncochar as the blushing bride. Jerry and Joe Puncochar were the best men, and Mrs. Joe Puncochar and Mrs. Frank Psota were the bridesmaids. It was an occasion long to be remembered and for which the Puncochars are very grateful indeed.

Mr. and Mrs. Puncochar both came from the old country to Chicago, where they were married Jan. 11, 1891. The family came to Ord in 1897, and their home has been here since that time. Both are in fair health, and Mrs. Puncochar is able to take care of the affairs of her home. Mr. Puncochar is a fine mason, and was employed in this work on the Ord post office, completed last fall.

They are the parents of a number of children, all of whom are married. They are: Jerry, of Ord; Joe, of West Point; Mrs. Frank Psota; Mrs. John J. Skala; Mrs. Leonard Yount, of Grand Island; Mrs. Anna Jones, of Omaha; Mrs. August Vodenhau, and the twins, Mrs. Charles Svoboda, of Ord, and George, of Arnold. All attended the celebration except those from Omaha, Grand Island and Arnold.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott and Bobby of Burwell spent the week end here with relatives.

Mrs. William Bartlett of Ord was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruickshank.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holmes and family were turkey dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Haynes in Comstock Sunday.

Mrs. Johanna Lueck had the misfortune of falling and breaking her hip Saturday. She was immediately taken to the Ord hospital.

ARCADIA

Mr. and Mrs. Darr Evans, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bossen, Mr. and Mrs. George Hastings, Jr., Wallace Mather and Gene Hastings were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murray Sunday night at a pinocchio party and a lovely luncheon. The occasion was in honor of Wallace who is visiting from Vallejo, Calif.

Mrs. Alvin Lewin and Joann Crist went to Omaha Friday and returned Sunday evening.

Gus and Alfred Benson returned from Iowa Saturday where they had been picking corn.

Martin Lewin was in Omaha over the weekend on business.

Mrs. J. H. Elliott and Margaret were Saturday guests at the Martin Benson home.

Max Cruickshank left for Conerville, Ill., Friday where he has employment on a pure bred hog farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Elliott and Bobby of Burwell spent the week end here with relatives.

Mrs. William Bartlett of Ord was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Grant Cruickshank.

Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Holmes and family were turkey dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Haynes in Comstock Sunday.

14 Valley County Men Called Up for Military Service

8 Already Selected, Others Soon; Group to Leave for Omaha February 27th

Announcement that fourteen Valley county men will be called for military service in the February draft is made by Alfred A. Wiegardt, clerk of the Valley county draft board. The group will leave February 27 for Omaha where final examinations will be given and after the men are inducted into service they will be assigned to various camps for a year's training.

Eight of the men who are to go February 27 have already been selected and have passed preliminary physical examination given by the draft physician for Valley county. They are Jack D. Janssen, who registered for the draft here, then accompanied his parents to San Diego, Calif., and will go with a San Diego unit, though credited to Valley county; Dale A. Philbrick, Leonard Swanek, John H. Weverka, Raymond A. Swoboda, Charles C. Cetak, John Full and Herbert C. Linke.

Seven more men will be selected by the Valley county draft board composed of L. D. Milliken, W. T. McLain and Win. Ramsey, Jr., at its meeting January 25.

They will be chosen from the group of registrants who have order numbers of 99 and higher.

Out of the registrants whose order numbers were 1 to 98 inclusive only eight men were found eligible for military service, they being the ones named above. All others were found exempt for one reason or another or else failed to pass the physical examination.

Notices to report for examination by Dr. Baetz have been mailed to another group of registrants, says Clerk Wiegardt, and he warns that each man should appear promptly at the time designated. Failure to do so without valid excuse might result in a penalty as high as 5 years in a federal prison or a fine of not to exceed $10,000, he says.

Three of the men notified to report for examination this week failed to do so, says Mr. Wiegardt, and while the draft board is disposed to be lenient in these early cases of failure to report the policy cannot be continued. Sickness is the only excuse for failure to report for examination that will be accepted, the clerk of the draft board says, and such sickness must be proven.

Only Valley county man who will be inducted into military service in January through the medium of the draft board is Edward Diamond. The quota for this county in January was only one man and Diamond, a volunteer, was accepted. He leaves Jan. 27 for Omaha.

It is likely that future monthly quotas will be higher than is the February quota, as more training camps are completed and ready to receive the draftees.

Darrell Bauder Is New FSA Head In County

Darrell Bauder of Hastings is the new Valley county FSA director, effective Jan. 16. He takes the place of Claude C. Davis, who has held the position here since August, 1933. Dr. Davis has been transferred to the office in Broken Bow, a real promotion for him.

Mr. Bauder just graduated from the University of Nebraska, College of Agriculture, and this is his first assignment in work of this kind. He should have no difficulty in picking up the work, however, as the records here are in perfect condition and the office force under Mr. Davis will remain. They are Miss Delores Redfern, home supervisor, and Miss Arlene Elsner and Mrs. Verne Andersen, clerks.

Honoring Mr. and Mrs. Davis before their departure, a group of friends met at the Davis home for a party. Present were District Supervisor Ed Crowley of Hastings, District Home Supervisor Esther Ord Welles of Grand Island, and Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Andersen, Miss Delores Redfern and Miss Arlene Elsner.

Haught's Cafe Redecorated. Last week N. J. Holt was busy re-decorating the Balley building opposite the postoffice occupied by Haught's cafe. He painted the ceiling of the main room and stipped the walls, and gave the kitchen a coat of warm gray paint. New lattice work was put across the partition between the rooms and a new hot water heater has been added to the equipment.

Married at Neligh. Miss Mildred Chambers, the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Chambers, was married to Harley Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Owens, at Neligh, Jan. 8. Both parties are well known in Burwell, where the bride has been employed as a hair dresser and the groom as a hair dresser and the groom in the Burwell Barber Factory.

Will Install Pastor of Ord Catholic Church

REV. THOMAS SIUDOWSKI.

Formal ceremonies for the installation of Rev. Thomas Siudowski, as pastor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help church of Ord will be held Sunday afternoon, Jan. 26.

Installing officer will be the Rt. Rev. Monsignor Bernard F. Galvin of Spalding.

Afterward a testimonial banquet will be served by the parish ladies. Visiting clergy and relatives of Father Siudowski are expected.

Easterbrook Seeks to Sever from Arcadia

In a suit filed in district court here last week Arthur H. Easterbrook and four other legal voters seek severance of Mr. Easterbrook's property from the village of Arcadia. The property is located at the northeast corner of the village and within the village limits as now defined.

In 1940 village taxes on the property were $82.16 and varying amounts have been levied throughout the years. The property is used exclusively for agricultural purposes, the petition alleges, and at no time has it received any benefit from the village taxes paid. Signaling the petition along with Mr. Easterbrook are Ora Masters, Pearl Masters, Lewis M. Summons and Eva Summons, who are claimed to be all the legal voters residing on the property in question.

Drive for Funds to Help Infantile Paralysis Victims

Dances, Card Parties Will Be Held; 500 Coin Cards Are Being Mailed Out.

Valley county's January drive to raise funds for the National Association for Infantile Paralysis Research is gathering momentum under the chairmanship of Chas. E. Veleba, and good results are being obtained.

Five hundred coin cards have been distributed and mailed out some being left in business places in the towns of the county, others going to rural schools and to individuals. Already cards filled with names and quarters are being returned to Chairman Veleba.

He asks that every recipient of a coin card return it to him by the end of January whether it is filled, partly filled or empty, as the cards are numbered and it is necessary to account for all of them.

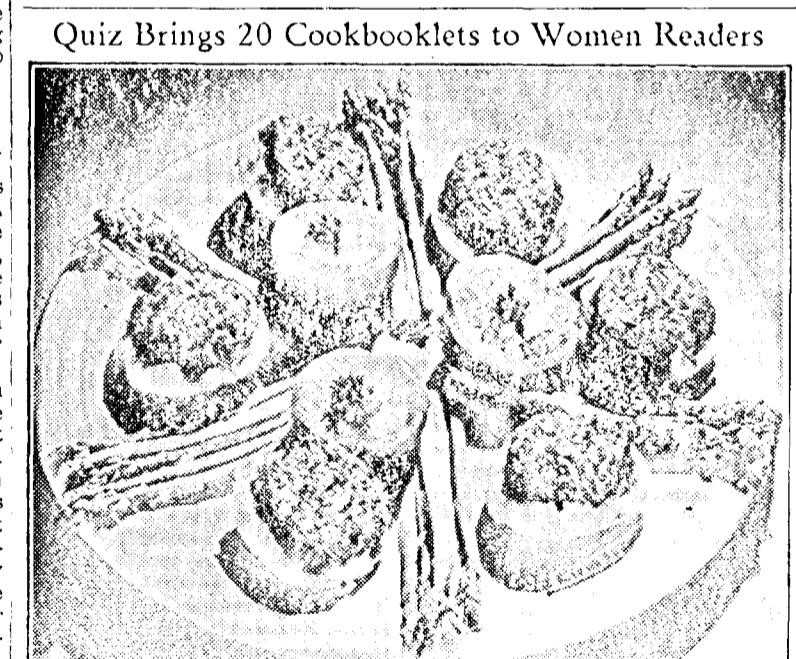

Other activities planned to raise funds to help paralytics victims include a dance and card party at the Ciney hall, Elyria, on Sunday, January 26; a card party in North Loup on Jan. 30; a dance at the Doe's hall in Arcadia on Jan. 30; and a dance at the Bohemian hall in Ord on Jan. 30, with music by the KGFW radio orchestra.

Thursday, Jan. 30 is the date of President Roosevelt's birthday, so these dances and parties might be considered "birthday balls."

A series of "home parties" in the homes of Ord women and elsewhere is being planned by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, county women's chairman. At these home parties a free will offering is taken up, with the entire contribution going to the infantile paralysis fund. This is a worthy cause and Valley county people should support it to the utmost. Of funds taken in 50 per cent will remain in this county to assist in the care of infantile paralysis cases, should any develop in families unable to defray the expense themselves. The other half of the money goes to the national association which spends part of it for research in American universities and hospitals, part for the care of impoverished infantile paralysis victims.

Any person willing to help in the Valley county drive is asked to get in touch with Chairman Veleba, with Mrs. Mortensen, or with any of the community chairmen, Cecil Wardrop, for Ord, W. E. Dodge for Elyria, Clifford Goodrich, for North Loup, and U. G. Evans, for Arcadia.

Quiz Brings 20 Cookbooklets to Women Readers

Culinary Arts Press was founded by Claire S. Davidow, as a publishing and distributing organization. The Culinary Arts Institute was established in 1933 to do research and carry through the production of cook books.

The Culinary Arts Institute comprises the only group of trained home economists in the country devoting themselves exclusively to the production of cook books.

Altogether, the twenty booklets contain 1000 pages, 7500 recipes and suggestions and hundreds of beautiful and instructive illustrations. An interesting feature of all books is special process information presenting short cuts, methods and effort in preparing meals of interest and variety for every occasion.

Every effort has been made to answer the questions that arise constantly, to solve the problems that confront the woman who prepares an average of 1,000 meals a year.

With this remarkable series as a guide, a light, smooth textured cake-rich, velvety gravies—crisp, delicious salads—luscious, brown roasts—spectacular sinigangs—the ingenious use of leftovers—and new ways of preparing familiar foods, are simple achievements.

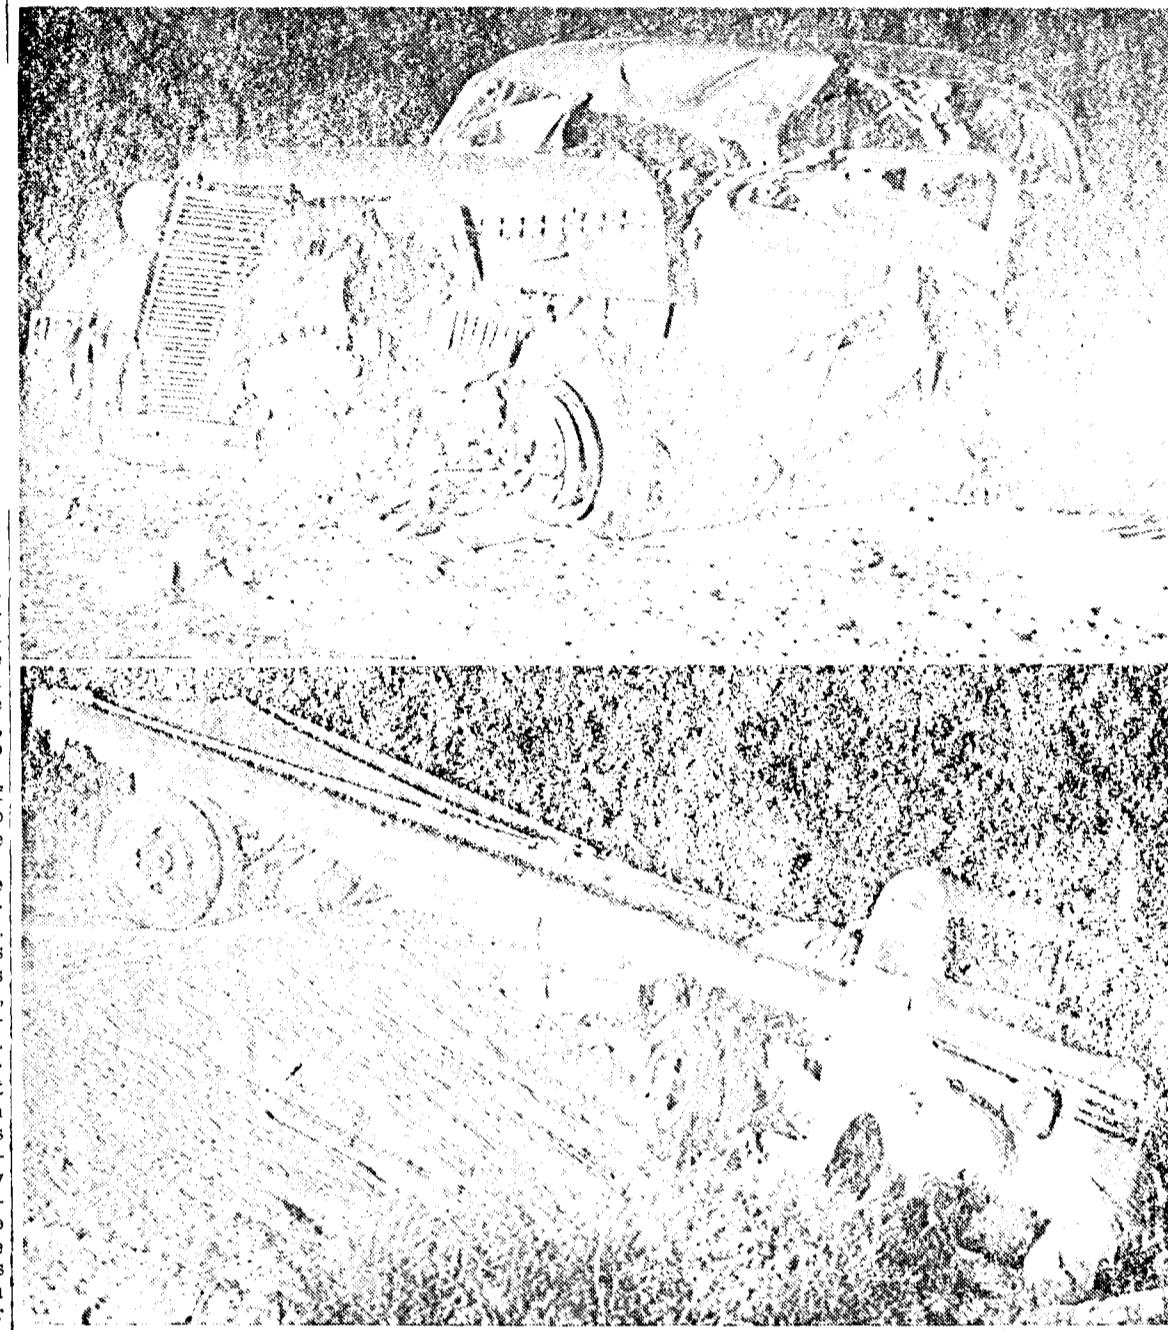

The Cookbooklets have been prepared by a staff of experienced home economists under the direction of Ruth Berolzheimer, editor of the popular American Woman's Cook Book and the United States Regional Cook Book. In 1936, the

Flu Epidemic Past Its Peak

School Attendance Is Getting Back to Normal; Malady Not Very Serious.

The flu epidemic which for the past ten days has been prevalent throughout Ord and the other towns of this county, as well as rural districts, appears to have reached its peak, says Dr. J. N. Round, county physician. Fewer cases are being reported now than last week.

Schools of Ord last week reflected prevalence of the malady when Superintendent C. C. Thompson reported an average of 60 students absent daily from the grade school and 50 from high school classes. One grade school room had only seven pupils one day last week.

Absentees yesterday averaged only three to a room in the grade school, he said, and he feels sure the epidemic is abating.

Although more people have had the flu during the present epidemic than during any similar period in recent years, the disease appears to be of a much less serious nature than usual. Two or three days usually suffice for recovery. No serious after-effects are being reported by people who have had the flu.

Rutar Hatchery Changed Its Location Saturday

The Rutar Hatchery moved into its new home and was ready there for business Saturday. The work of ceiling the hatchery room and putting up a partition in the rear was all completed. Harold Hallen did all the necessary wiring and the machinery was ready to go at

Mr. Rutar lost no time in getting started, as he set his first hatch of eggs Saturday. While all the work he plans on is not done yet, pending the change in the location of the bus depot, when everything is completed the Rutars will have one of the best arranged and equipped hatching locations in Central Nebraska.

Almor Fagan Is Given 8 Day Jail Sentence

For operating a motor vehicle while his drivers' license was suspended, Almor Fagan, of Arcadia, was given an eight day jail sentence when he appeared before Judge John L. Andersen Thursday and pleaded guilty to the charge. Fagan was arrested by Jos. T. Donohue, state highway patrolman.

Under questioning by County Attorney John P. Misko, the Arcadia man said that in 1938, he was involved in a wreck in Missouri, was sued and that a judgment was recorded against him there. Unable to pay the judgment he lost his Nebraska drivers' license. Subsequently he posted a $10,000 bond in order to have his drivers' license restored but last summer the bond was cancelled and his permit to drive was again revoked.

He was driving a pick-up truck when arrested by Patrolman Donohue. He cannot be given drivers' license again until he pays off the Missouri judgment or secures another bond, and if he is again caught driving without a license the penalty will be more severe.

2 Day Irrigation Institute Coming

Two day irrigation institutes are to be held early next month at Arcadia and Burwell by the Agricultural Extension Service, cooperating with local organizations.

Irrigators in the North Loup valley in this county are invited to attend whenever is convenient for them to attend.

The Arcadia meeting is scheduled for Monday and Tuesday, February 3 and 4 and the one at Burwell will follow on the 5th and 6th.

Speakers to appear on both programs include, W. W. Derrlek, extension animal husbandryman; Bill Pierce, extension engineer; D. L. Gross, extension agronomist; E. H. Hopper, extension horticulturist; J. W. Pitts, irrigation specialist; Dr. J. E. Livingston, plant pathologist, and Marx Kochneke, certification manager of the Nebraska Potato Growers association.

The only difference in the two programs is that at Arcadia, Dr. Livingston and Mr. Kochneke will appear on the program the second morning, that is on February 4, while at Burwell their part of the program will come on February 5, at the opening of the two day program. Further details will be carried in this paper next week.

Joe O'Brien Dies at Omaha; Funeral Friday

From Omaha comes word that Joe O'Brien, former Ord resident, died Tuesday and that the body will be brought to Ord tomorrow to be interred. The body was removed to a car and the ambulance, which was driven by Harry Miller. Other cars coming along assisted in getting the victim to their homes or to doctors.

Mr. Hutchins, the first victim, was one of North Loup's most prominent citizens. Only 38 years old, he occupied a unique place in the business life of the village. He was manager of the cheese factory, sec-

Klima Explains the Budget Law

Ign. Klima, jr., county clerk and budget-making authority for Valley county, was a guest of the Rotary club Monday evening and in an intensely interesting talk afterward he outlined the purpose and operation of the budget law passed by the 1937 legislature, under which all Nebraska counties now operate.

He pointed out that the public constantly demands and therefore receives more service from all governmental units, but that cost of giving such extra service has actually been lowered in recent years so far as county government is concerned.

He was driving a pick-up truck when arrested by Patrolman Donohue. He cannot be given drivers' license again until he pays off the Missouri judgment or secures another bond, and if he is again caught driving without a license the penalty will be more severe.

With Valley county property valuations reduced from $1 million dollars to about $11½ million dollars, and with the 5 mill limit on county taxes in effect, of which 1 mill goes for relief purposes, it is self-evident that a 50 per cent reduction in county expense has been automatically effected, he said. Still further savings are effected by the budget law, which requires that fees earned by all offices and unexpended balances in all funds be taken into account before new levies are fixed, as well as requiring officers to anticipate expenses of their offices in advance.

Irrigators in the North Loup valley in this county are invited to attend whenever is convenient for them to attend.

Another guest of the club Monday evening was Rev. Thomas Siudowski, new pastor of the Ord Catholic church, who expressed his pleasure at being assigned to the Ord parish and his desire to become acquainted with all people of the community.

Valley County, Nebraska, as Second Class Mail Matter under Act of March 3, 1879.Publisher - - - H. D. Leggett

Even in the darkest hour, when it seems that everything and every person in the world has turned against you, still, somewhere in the darkness in which you are groping there is a ray of light, if you look for it long enough. The attitude of the human mind makes all the difference in the world.

Have you ever worked in a darkroom, or have you ever been in a darkroom where someone else was working. When you first went in, even with the ruby lamp turned on, you found the going difficult, and had to grope about like a blind man, but as you become accustomed to the weak light you are able to find your way about almost as well as in broad daylight.

This interesting scientific fact must explain the attitude of the people living in the drought sections of Nebraska, especially the farmers. Drought has been pained on drought until they are ten deep in some places. Today there are sections of the state where there has not been a crop approaching normal for a full decade.

Such a condition should break the heart of any man, and many a man has been forced by sheer necessity to give it up entirely and go on WPA. Many a merchant has seen his business dwindle away until it was no longer possible for him to continue. It is a sad condition of affairs, and we are indeed sorry to see any man give up the enterprise of a lifetime.

But there is an old saying that to really break a man materially and permanently, you must also break his spirit. The men of Nebraska have proven that they can take all that the times have to offer, and still come back for more.

Hope does not play so important a part in the life of the individual in times of prosperity. Aside from the hope of eternal life, which most of us regard as a thing in the remote future, we do not take time to hope much. Hope has to do mainly with the future, and why should we be concerned with the future when the present is so pleasant and satisfying?

For example, the United States should have started at the close of the last war to prepare an adequate system of defense against the next one. We know from history that proper preparation for war acts as a deterrent and in many cases as a preventative. Yet today we find ourselves in a fevered flurry of preparation for the thing we knew had to come.

Likewise, in those days of prosperity, when we could have spared the money, we should have been laying aside, as a nation, a fund sufficient to take care of the aged and infirm, and to provide social security for all those who had reached a certain age. Today we are trying with inadequate resources to take care of those who need our help.

The reason is simple. A nation does not differ materially from the people of which it is composed. If the individual, the majority of the individuals, can see into the future, and foretell the need that is to come, then the nation will find itself reasonably prepared in time of need.

But in the boom times of the last war we found ourselves a nation gone crazy. We figured that because times were good they would always be good. We were too shortsighted to see that a prosperity built upon a false premise could not last. So we spent every cent we got as fast as we got it, and most of us wished we could get more to spend.

Thousands invested in land at a price so high that the land could not pay interest on the investment. They paid only a small part down, expecting either to pay the rest out of the earnings at the fancy prices then in vogue, or to sell it again at a profit. When the bottom dropped out of land, about 90% of these lost out on their investment.

When money became scarce and the public did not have the cash to pay in full, then various companies made it possible to mortgage the future by buying on a small down payment, with long terms on the remainder. Thus in the decade of 1920-30 thousands lost their investments in articles bought on payment, and added to the general confusion.

But today the people of Nebraska are faced with a stern reality, and they are meeting it with a dauntless spirit. With failure piled on crop failure the finest farmers in the world are looking forward to 1941 with a firm hope that this will be the year when conditions here return to normal and we will have the pleasure of raising and harvesting a crop once more.

There is a different feeling in Nebraska today, and it has been brought about by the fact that we received moisture in December, and that we are receiving more in January. This winter moisture may well make up the difference between another failure and a bountiful crop, and the Nebraska farmer is again facing the future unafraid.

THEY ALSO SERVE.

There is a phrase as old in its several forms, as literature itself. "They also serve who only stand and wait." It is similar to our popular "silence gives consent" and refers to all who prefer not to take sides in an incident or an argument in which they are not directly concerned.

People of this class are similar to the peacemakers, with whom they frequently are confused. There is an important difference, as those who try to get by without trouble find out to their cost. The peacemakers frequently achieve peace by adopting a firm attitude, an attitude which those who serve are certain would lead to trouble.

It is this keeping out of trouble attitude that has enabled Hitler to conquer a large share of Europe. Had all the small nations joined with England and France against him at the start, the picture in Europe today would be vastly different. Instead each endeavored to maintain neutrality, with the result that he was able to defeat them one by one.

The whole trouble started when Hitler moved his legions into the valley of the Ruhr. The other nations didn't like it, but they preferred to stand and wait. This applied also with Austria, Sudetenland, Czechoslovakia, Poland, Denmark, Norway, Holland, Belgium, Hungary and Roumania. If the Greeks had preferred to wait in the case of Italy, they would have been defeated also.

Peace founded on a waiting policy has ever been the strongest ally of aggressor nations. Every would-be conqueror has depended upon the desire of men for peace to foist his power upon them. Men have been ever willing to gamble their chances of liberty on the forlorn hope that in time the desires of the aggressor would be appeased and he would stop.

Just why otherwise sensible people will gamble on a proposition that has never yet worked out is difficult to understand. Just why a firm attitude toward aggression should be deemed unchristian is likewise incomprehensible.

False pacifism is truly a product of the devil. Let us not forget that Christ himself said: "I come, not to bring peace, but a sword."

I like pork sausage with my morning pancakes and I believe as good pork sausage can be bought in Ord as can be bought anywhere, and much better than can be had in most towns, but still I often get a few pounds of ground pork, selecting the meat myself and have it ground just as I want it, and then take it home and season it to suit myself. One seasoning that I like in my sausage is cayenne pepper and the sausage makers don't put that in. But they do put too much sage in sometimes, to suit me. So instead of going down to Ed's drug store to loaf with Doc Taylor and George Munro and the others, and curse the county board and the city council and the government and argue with everyone who comes in, take my package of ground hog meat and go into the kitchen and get out the big wooden mixing bowl and the various boxes of seasoning and argue with myself about the amount of each to put in. I use salt and black pepper, a little sage and cayenne and a dash of nutmeg and after it is thoroughly mixed, I form a small patty and cook it and if my try cake seems to be about right I pack it tightly in tin cans from which both ends have been cut, and with a square of waxed paper on each end of the can, I set them all in the fridgare to season through. If it seems to lack something (I always have the Mississ sample it too) I doctor it a little more before packing it away. It is pretty good the next morning but it is better two or three or several days later. And it is so handy, too. One just pushes the whole thing through enough to slice off a cake, then another, until the whole can is used. I sometimes try it on the kids, too.

I have been longing for some good old fashioned head cheese like my mother used to make. The Mississ says I would have to have my boyhood appetite to enjoy it like I seem to remember. Otto says he can tell me all the things to put in, but when I tried to make it, the result was not as satisfactory as I had hoped. I am wondering if some of the older cooks wouldn't bring or send me their recipe. Perhaps my cousin Maude in Michigan has the old family recipe and if so and if she happens to read this item, I wish she would send it along. I still believe, if I could get it made the same, I would still enjoy it as much as I did back in the '80s.

Kellison's Return.

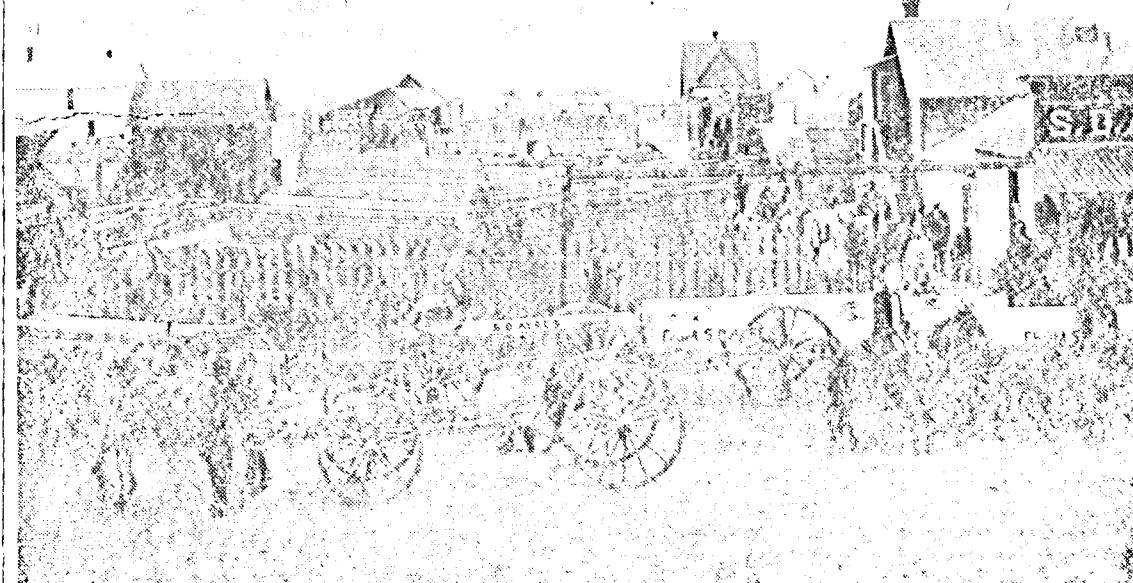

Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Kellison arrived in Ord Friday evening from their wedding trip to California upon which they started Christmas day. Like all the others who were there, Mr. Kellison has much to say for the Rose Bowl game. He says that men who had seen many former games told him that the game this year was by all odds the finest they had ever seen.

His brother, George Kellison, who is a carpenter with the Pathé Studios, took them through the lace, and they got to see the filming of the picture "Pot of Gold", starring Jimmy Stewart. His brother-in-law, Russell Berrier, was formerly employed by the Pathé and RKO, but he quit there and is working in the Lockheed Aircraft shops.

They did not see any frost all the time they were in California, and the only snow they encountered as far back as Dodge City, Kan., was around Tombstone, Ariz. At Dodge City they ran into cold weather and faced a strong and cold wind all the way home. They did not think much of the zero weather here after the fine weather they had on the trip.

Puts on Huge Transport.

C. H. Kleinholz has put on a new 3,450 gallon transport, according to the Friend Sentinel. The outfit is pulled by a Ford with a Mercury 95 horse power engine, and is one of the largest in the state.

Quiz Want Ads get results.Early Day Lumber Yards Did a Thriving Business

The picture by W. A. Anderson today is slightly different from those the Quiz has been publishing. It shows one of Ord's thriving business places of the early days, the lumber business of S. D. Ayres. Lumbermen of those days did not carry a large stock, mainly because they sold it out so fast that they couldn't keep ahead. It was nothing unusual to have to put in your order and then wait for delivery before starting to build.

Naturally it was a great time for builders of all kinds. Half a dozen were advertising in the first editions of the Quiz, and it is safe to state that double that number did not advertise at all. By actual count eight wagons loaded with lumber are shown in the picture, and one empty one and the jug hanging from the reach on this one proves that it was a farmer in for a load. Wells were few and far between in those days.

This lumber yard was located on the same lots where the Koupal and Barstow yard now stands, and shows the west side, looking east from the lots of the present Ord Co-operative Creamery. The four-gabled building in the distance is the office of a rival lumber company, and stood where the present Sack Lumber company's office now stands. There are 17 people in the picture, but the only familiar face is that of the old gentleman on the pony, who looks a little like Judge A. A. Lavery.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

Written by GEORGE GOWIN

For High School Parents OnlyAn Important Business*For High School Parents Only.

Once in every few years, it seems, the small high schools have a seige of trouble with discipline. We do not hear so much about it in the larger schools, if they have the same trouble, and perhaps there is reason for it too.

In the smaller communities the parents become closer acquainted with the school boards, teachers and superintendents, and proceed to voice their protests, frequently by taking the child's side of it. Naturally the parents can see no evil in their own children, when in most cases, had the child behaved, or tried to, no trouble would have occurred in the first place.

The superintendent, more than the others, is in a hot spot. He must make the children mind or his school will not move properly but if he offends the "papas and mammas" they will proceed to get him out, if by no other means, by voting against the school board that hired him. He is frequently handicapped also by the fact that his conscience is so deep-seated that he will resort to most anything before he will ask a student to leave school, he thinking the education he is giving is the life blood of the child's future.

On another score the superintendent is handicapped. For some reason, he is supposed to be perfect. He is supposed to know ahead of time just what to do at every problem that arises, and if what he does doesn't come out right the woods will echo the sound of "should have". He has to act and then view the results; his critics only see it afterwards.

Up to the eighth grade there is seldom trouble. The children are smaller for one reason and if they are positively unmanageable they might be sent off to the reform school. The law requires they go to school that long, or until they are 16. Usually it is after that that the trouble comes.

After the eighth grade, school is largely voluntary. No truant officer dogs the child's steps after that grade. In the common pursuits of life one can get along very well with only the eighth grade. Many do, too. But we live in one of the few countries on earth where the children are actually urged and begged to attend the free high school. So auxiliaries are we that they take advantage of this schooling, that we give them all sorts of enticements like athletics, parties, plays, banquets and frequent holidays. After this age, about the worst punishment a teacher can inflict is to expel the student, and most teachers will try anything else.

Good Work.
Discipline is not all either. It is highly important that he does his work well too. Many firms in the higher pay brackets will only employ men who were among the top tenth of their class. Most scholarships are limited to the top portion of the class. Perhaps he shouldn't, but a superintendent will every time give more help to the student to better things who has always tried to keep the school going smoothly and done his work well. To get into West Point or Annapolis, a student must be tops. A boy must have had two years of college and have been good in mathematics to even enter the flying corps of the army. In all teaching applications one's scholastic record is looked into. If the work outlined by our educators is worth doing at all, it is worth doing well, and if not, the student of high school better go back to the farm and give room for someone who wants to learn.

Yours and My Lad.

Perhaps I shouldn't write this piece. The army has got to have a lot of men for shock-troops and machine-gun fodder. They will have to have a lot of these boys who are making life as disagreeable as possible for their teachers, who are flunking in their math and typing, or are just sliding through because the teachers want to get rid of them. And the more there are of that kind, the better chance there will be for yours and my lads, if we can inspire them with the idea that school work is their business, and an important business too; an opportunity that will only come once in his lifetime; an opportunity that is given free in only a few countries on earth to day.

Many people think if more of such ideas were expressed by the parents, the discipline would be easier for the school teachers. In place of this, many parents assume the attitude that the children are

++ Something Different ++

I sometimes think Ord is clubbed to death; we have clubs for this and clubs for that. Some of our clubs are for amusement and leisure time enjoyment, some of them are for learning.

We have groups meeting to enjoy checkers, pinocle, bridge, Contract Bridge, pitch and high five, that I can think of offhand.

We have gatherings of people interested in learning about cameras and their use. We have organizations studying current affairs and literature, studying art, better speech, how to serve meals and how to make clever little ding bats to decorate a house, how to raise pigs, how to can and to sew.

lodges and their like meet for their most secret reasons. So many lodges. Had you thought how clubbed we are?

Mrs. Henry Deines tells me that in Albion she belonged to still another kind of club. A small group of women who enjoyed walking used to meet for regular walks, ending their morning walks most sociably with a stop at the home of a member for coffee and rolls or something similar.

Another interesting thing Mrs. Deines mentioned was that her mother, who is Swedish, always assembled a big smorgasbord for the family for Christmas eve supper, a true smorgasbord. And big is the right word too, for there are usually about forty present, family, married-in family and grandchildren.

Hoace Travis was then nominated and was the unanimous choice for vice-president. The secretary-treasurer, John L. Andersen, had been chosen at the first meeting. A program committee, comprising B. A. Eddy, O. E. Johnson and Roy Price, was appointed for the coming month by the president, who had taken charge. It was decided to raise funds by a free will offering at the meetings, and to meet on the third Wednesday of each month.

After the rest of the business had been disposed of, the new baseball dart game, purchased with funds raised at the December meeting, was played and was found to be very interesting and amusing indeed, so much so that it was nearly midnight before the party broke up. During the evening the committee served doughnuts and coffee.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

An unusual sight Wednesday last at 11 a. m. was a patrol car parked on the street east of the Milford building with the driving lights on full power. Maybe the owner was afraid he might get picked up for having defective lights and wanted to prove they were O. K.

One of the bad features this winter is the ice on the steps leading down to the FSA office under the post office. The snow came in such a way that it froze on and it is next to impossible to get it off, but it is certainly not the safest place in the world.

The wool is attractive, some dark brown, some of it a garnet red. I think I remember a homely "khaki color" wool issued during the world war for such sweater knitting. You remember, it was drab, brownish, tannish, greenish or sickly!

I also recall the Red Cross is using white, pink and pale blue yarn for knitting baby hoods which were to go to Belgium. All the little grade school girls knitted at recess times in this wool. A long straight, narrow piece of knitting was doubled and sewed up the back (of the head) seam to make peaked caps. Just the peaked caps ashlar-like this winter for school directors either.

If things keep going as they are, most of these boys will be in the army soon. They will obey orders there and "Papa and Mama" won't be consulted if he is thrown into the guard house. More than that, the soldier who strives to do as he is told and make himself valuable, is the one that gets the soft jobs and the favors. Why is it not a good thing for a child to learn discipline while in school to earn the right to learn later if he ever amounts to a whoop?

At that they were better looking than the pancake automobile bonnets with veils and some of that other tripe people wore in what is commonly called The Good Old Days.

Will M. Maupin Buys
Clay County Paper

Will M. Maupin, retiring railway commissioner, and Walter Hughes of Omaha have purchased the Clay County Sun from KMMJ, Inc., including the lease of the Johnson building and printing equipment. The transfer of the property took place Saturday, but the new owners will not take over active management of the plant until Feb. 1.

Mr. Maupin will act as editor of the paper and Mr. Hughes as business manager. Mr. Maupin has stated that the paper will be independent, but will not be non-partisan. The Clay County Sun was established first by W. L. Palmer. The late Fred B. Howard purchased the paper in 1912 and ran it until Jan.

1, 1937, when he sold out to KMMJ, Inc.

Everett McLain Visits.

W. T. McLain enjoyed a visit from his son Everett the past week. He arrived in Ord Wednesday. Sunday the Floyd McLain family came from St. Paul, Nebr., and there was a family gathering at the W. T. McLain home. Everett returned to St. Paul with them for a visit.

Mr. McLain came to Ord from Crescent Mill, Calif., where he was employed in the civil engineering department of the Federal Works agency, the headquarters office being in San Francisco. He does not know just when he will leave, but he has to be back on the job by Jan. 27.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

The Townsend club met Monday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Clark. New officers elected were president, C. B. Clark; 1st vice-president, Mrs. Ed Post; 2nd vice-president, Bates Copeland; secretary, treasurer, C. W. Barber. The next meeting will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Post on February 3.

The B. P. W. club were entertained Monday night by Beulah and Lila Porter at the home of Mrs. N. C. Madson. Twelve members and one guest, Mrs. Opal Beebe, were present. The evening was spent playing pinochle, high score going to Anna Johnson and the traveling prize to Mrs. C. D. Knapp. The hostesses served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, cream puffs and coffee.

A township meeting held Tuesday morning in the old bakery building was attended by a good number. C. W. McClellan was elected chairman. Reports of the treasurer and of the cemetery board showed the affairs of the township to be in a satisfactory condition. A levy for $300 for the township and for $50 for the North Loup Library was voted. C. W. Barber was elected as a member of the cemetery board to serve a term of three years.

Mrs. Merle Worrel of Ord was a Friday night and Saturday guest of the Bates Copeland family. Mr. and Mrs. William Worrel spent Sunday afternoon there.

The meeting of the PTA is to be held Wednesday night at the schoolhouse. Mrs. H. J. Hoeppner, Dell Barber and Sterling Manchester are in charge of the program which is to be given by the adults for the pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Barber were in Grand Island and Kearney on Monday.

Calvin Lee returned Tuesday to his work in Chicago after spending three weeks vacation here.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howell of Tuthill, S. D., were Friday night and Saturday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Howell. Saturday afternoon they went to Burwell and returned home from there.

Stanley Pinel, a student in the St. Paul business college was a guest in the Earl Howell home from Saturday till Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Jones and Charlotte spent Tuesday in Grand Island.

Mrs. Ruth Marner and son Gordon and Raymond Baker of Ericson were Sunday guests in the Fred Bartz home.

Willis Miller, Muriel Bartz and George Cox came over from Kearney Friday evening. Roy Cox took George and Muriel back on Monday. Sunday Willis Miller left for Charleston, W. Va., where he will join other members of his family. Cletus Nolte and George Rich accompanied him as far as Illinois and expected to find work there.

Fred Bartz was in Grand Island Thursday attending an International Harvester Mechanics convention.

A. E. Barnhart accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Ray Barnhart to their home in Omaha last week.

Dorly Coleman moved the household goods of Lloyd Athelton from the Hackel farm in Mirra Valley to the tenant house at Frank Schudel's Tuesday morning.

Oral Athelton is a new pupil in the North Loup high school, coming in from Davis Creek. The Axthelm family are moving into the Cynthia Haddix house.

When Mary Ann Bartz got word that she could have a job in Lincoln and resume her work in the state university she was undecided what was best to do and as often the case had a desire to ask her mother. She was in Santa Ana, Calif., and her mother in North Loup but efficient long distance service made a connection and in just three minutes from the time she put in the call Mrs. Bartz was on the line.

A. E. Barnhart and Mrs. G. P. Wetzel received a message Wednesday telling of the death of their brother, Jim Barnhart, at a hospital in Twin Falls, Ida., from an acute heart attack. Mr. Barnhart lived at North Loup at one time, moving away more than thirty years ago. He went from here to Akron, Colo., later going to Twin Falls, Ida.

Martin Markwicka has bought the house on the Kriewald place that he has been living in and as soon as weather permits will move it to his farm to replace the house which burned last fall.

G. P. Wetzel has sold nearly all of his 900 bushel crop of onions which he raised last season. Six hundred of the 900 bushels were raised on 1/4 of an acre of ground. The onions are large bermudas and very sweet.

The North Loup basketball team went to Elba Tuesday night to play. Thursday they will play at Comstock and the girls volleyball team will also play.

The second semester began in the North Loup schools this week. Two new courses, oral English and Economics are being offered in high school. Mr. Wills teaches the Economics and Mrs. Elley the English. Oranges and apples from the surplus fruit commodities arrived over the weekend are given out to all students each day.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Brown are parents of a 7 1/2 pound son born Monday, Jan. 20. He has been named Dennis Dale. Dr. Barta was in attendance.

Harold Jean Bridge spent Tuesday with Mrs. Hulda Goodrich while his parents were in Grand Island.

Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Pokraka were weekend supper guests in the Frank Valasek home in Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Bartz were in Ord on business Tuesday afternoon.

High school students having a perfect attendance record for the first semester are Carroll Babcock, Lucine Fisher, Velma Jacobs Marion Maxson, Winsome Meyers and Dorothy White.

Will Portis has been ill since Friday suffering with gall stones.

Dr. Hemphill was sick with the flu and unable to attend him so Dr. Rounds was called. Charles Turner was down from Ord Sunday afternoon to see Mr. Portis.

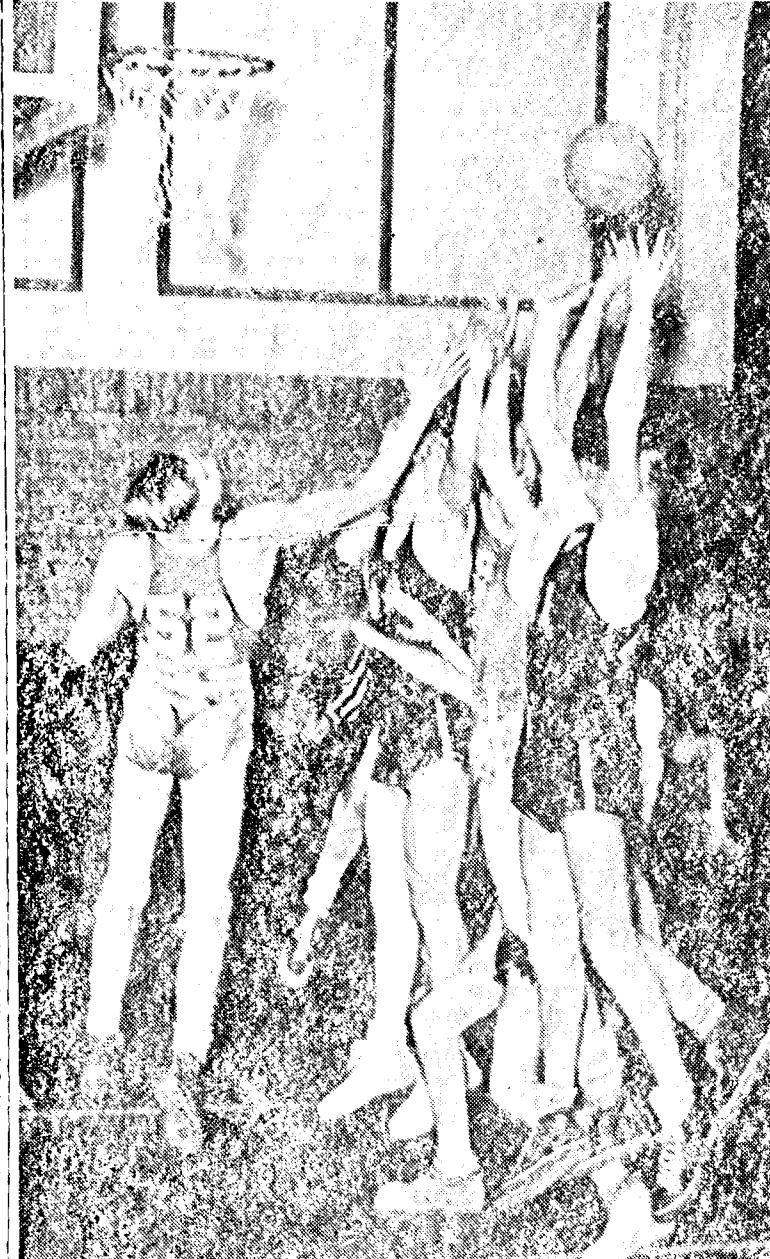

Mrs. Mary Stude was a dinner guest Wednesday of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Portis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Christensen and Mrs. Tom Greenland of Aradia called on Mrs. Christensen at the E. E. Davis home Monday afternoon.

Martha Miller spent Monday forenoon in Aradia with Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Miller.

Members of the Friends Congregation held a social in the church Friday night celebrating the January birthdays.

BURWELL

The abandoned grade school building with the three lots on which it stands was sold to Guy Laverty Friday morning for $1,100. Mr. Laverty has announced that the building will soon be torn down. He will build at least one house on the site of the school house and possibly several. The remainder of the lumber will be used for construction purposes on Mr. Laverty's ranch near Ballagh.

Identical twin daughters were born in an Omaha hospital to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Day Sunday morning. Mrs. Day, who is better known as Jessamine Meyer, is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Meyer and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. DeLashmunt and Mr. and Mrs. August Meyer. The Days have another daughter, Linda, who is fifteen months old.

A dinner honoring D. W. DeLashmunt who celebrated his 34th birthday anniversary was given by Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Johnson in their home Saturday. Besides Mr. and Mrs. DeLashmunt the guests were Mrs. Agnes Hummel, Mildred and Donald and Mrs. Frances DeLashmunt and Keith.

The Misses Dorothy Paulin, Hull Bennett, Nina Nickells, Alarie Fullam, Mae Meyers and Virgine Beck drove to Lincoln Saturday where they spent the week end. The latter four were guests in the Harry Doran home.

Grohe's NU-BRED Seed Corn

When you husk 100 bu. of Nu-Bred feeding corn by measure you still have 100 bu. or over when it is shelled and weighed. In almost every case this year it over-ran.

In the feed lot we challenge any other kind of corn to outlast Nu-Bred.

When you farmers can buy seed corn that has been acclimated and tested in this county for from $3.50 to $4.00 per bushel it seems to us you want not look any further.

Don't delay, get your order in at once before it is too late. Our associated growers will be glad to tell you all you want to know about Nu-Bred.

A small down payment will assure you quality seed at planting time.

Mrs. R. L. Walker read a paper "Religion in the Home" at the meeting of the Domestic Science club in the home of Mrs. Philip Beckwith January 8th, in which she called the attention of those present to the need for family prayer. For roll call each member gave the name of her favorite hymn. At this meeting it was decided to hold the club's annual luncheon at the home of Mrs. L. H. Johnson, Feb. 12. A committee composed of Mrs. Beckwith, Mrs. Paul Banks, Mrs. Archie Bangert and Mrs. Dewey Meyer was appointed to arrange for the event.

The financial condition of Garfield county improved considerably recently when the Supreme Court of Nebraska ruled that the Massachusetts Bonding and Insurance company would have to pay $22,751.00 to the county. The court ruled that county treasurer (J. L. Pearl) and his bondsmen were responsible for the funds of the county. The money in question consisted of notes, mostly secured by farm personal property which were given to the county treasurer by the failed banks as security for the county funds which were on deposit in the banks. The opinion was handed down by Judge Messmore.

The night operator at Loup City caused some little comment recently by making a mistake in the time and pressing the button to blow the fire whistle at 5 a.m. instead of the usual 7 o'clock. As it was the regular straight whistle that was sounded, it failed to cause the fire fighters any extra trouble.

The 160 acre farm about a mile east of Scotia, belonging to George W. McAnulty from about 1850 until his death nearly two years ago is being sold at auction today by Elmer W. Larson, executor. An ad to effect appeared in last week's Scotia Register.

Because he discovered since that time that he was playing an inefficient player, Coach Charles Foster of Ansley high has voluntarily forfeited games with Comstock and Broken Bow. Ansley won from Comstock and tied Broken Bow. It was later found that an Ansley player was over the age limit.

Mr. and Mrs. Vince Kaminski of Elba celebrated their golden wedding anniversary Jan. 12, having been married in the Oak Creek neighborhood in 1891. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson of St. Paul, residents of Howard county since 1892, reached their golden wedding anniversary Jan. 13.

Nineteen houses and parcels of land were sold last week by the sheriff of Antelope county at tax foreclosure sale at the Neligh courthouse. The highest price paid was for a good residence property that brought $675, and one residence property went for $35.

Attorney C. M. Miller has announced the opening of law offices in the Kelly building in Broken Bow. For the past eight years Mr. Miller had served as county judge retiring this month. John B. Larson has opened an auto and repair shop one block south of the stock yards in Broken Bow.

Mrs. Boss Moore is driving a new Chevrolet car which she purchased from the Breithauer Motor company last week.

Mrs. Sylvia Flint was in Grand Island Monday attending to business matters.

Mrs. Nettie Connor is nursing Mrs. Heinrich who has been quite ill of the flu.

Mrs. F. B. Wheeler entertained the members of the New Century club in her home Wednesday afternoon.

The Workers Society of the Christian church will meet with Mrs. Russell Mitchell Thursday afternoon.

the second semester has dropped off six students. The grades from seven to twelve lost five pupils, while the grades from one to six lost but one. The decrease is largely accounted for, according to Mr. Scofield, by the removal of the children of the people who lived in Burwell last fall while they worked on the new bridge.

Miss Gertrude Elm, the third grade teacher, was unable to report to duty Monday by a severe attack of the flu. The normal training students had charge of her room.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Howell of Tuthill, S. D., arrived in Burwell Friday where they have been the guests of her relatives, the Davis families. They also visited his father at North Loup who has been in poor health for sometime.

Mrs. Charles Harrod of Giltner arrived in Burwell Monday to be with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Har-rod, who is seriously ill.

A childhood dream came true for Mrs. Donald Crouch of Omaha, who is better known in Burwell as Dorothy Langstrom, last week when she was invited to Lincoln to attend the premier showing of "Cheers for Miss Bishop". Mrs.

Crouch attended a banquet in Lincoln at which the movie stars, Hollywood notables, and the author of the book, Bess Streeter Aldrich, were present and all of whom she met. Mrs. Crouch is secretary of the president of the Omaha branch of United Artists.

The big thrill of the evening for her occurred when the president of the Hollywood branch of the United Artists inquired when he met her, "Why do we bring girls from Hollywood out here when there's such beautiful girls in Nebraska".

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harold Mayberry Friday in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Lowery. Dr. Cram was in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Warwick and family of Taylor were dinner guests Saturday in the S. W.
Breckbill home.

The Misses Gladys and Mae
Johnson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. August Johnson, who went to California less than two years ago, are now operating a cafe at Huntington Park. Miss Gladys was formerly employed in the home of "Wrong Way" Corrigan.

A 400 acre improved Garfield county farm sold for $1,500 in Burwell Tuesday afternoon to settle the estate of Mrs. Mary Davis.

Alvin Davis, her youngest son, purchased the farm. He assumed no mortgage or indebtedness. The place is located ten miles north and east of Burwell. Mr. and Mrs. George Davis live on it.

McKinley Long of Loup City was a guest Sunday in the C. F. Clark ranch home.

Wayne Chaffin drove to Grand Island Wednesday where he attended a tractor school for three days. Dean Peterson accompanied him to Grand Island where he caught a train for California.
He has a job in an aeroplane factory at Palmdale.

National Defense Takes 22 Kearney Students

When 110th Q. M. units of the Nebraska national guard left their Kearney armory Thursday for Little Rock, Arkansas, for national defense training, 22 students of Kearney college were in the contingent. Kearney college boasts another dozen students, whose undergraduate work is yet incomplete, now participating in other forms of national defense. Pictures of all guards but Cecil Hahn, sophomore from Johnson, and Otis Miller, junior from Lexington, are shown above.

Bottom row: Corporal Floyd Peterson, Ralston; Private Earl Rother, Scotia; Sergeant Sidney Snowden, Kearney; Private Harry Stobbe, North Loup; Private Reuben Wagner, 1st class, Culbertson; Private Duane van Zandt, Mason City.

Ord Telephone Exchange Has 394 City Subscribers, 20 on Farm Lines, Switches 495 Farmer-Owned Phones

There are 394 business firms and residences in Ord with telephones, a survey of figures compiled by the Nebraska Railway Commission reveals, and in addition the Nebraska Continental Telephone company has 20 rural subscribers. It also switches, or furnishes switchboard service, for 495 telephones on rural lines owned by the subscribers themselves, charging 50c per phone for such service.

In Ord there are 119 business telephones and 273 residential telephones, of which 265 are individual phones and 10 are on party lines. The number of telephones in Ord is greater than in six other cities of the 2,000 to 3,000 class in Nebraska, is exceeded in number in 12 cities in this population class. In other Nebraska cities of Ord's class total number of telephones to which subscribers have access within the city is as follows: Albion, 415; Aurora, 562; Blair, 604; Broken Bow, 505; Central City, 432; Crete, 630; David City, 553; Gering, 337; Gothenburg, 385; Lexington, 357; Mitchell, 324; O'Neill, 329; Schuyler, 383; Seward, 582; Wahoo, 418; Wayne, 565; West Point, 355; Wymore, 421.

Most exchanges have more rural subscribers of their own than does the Ord exchange but none provides switchboard service to as many privately-owned lines as does the Ord exchange. Total number of city and rural telephones accessible through the Ord exchange, exclusive of North Loup and Burwell, is 919. Other cities have total numbers as follows: Albion, 662; Aurora, 850; Blair, 830; Broken Bow,

Jerry Zulkoski, 31, Murdered Thur'day on Oregon Highway

Shot in Truck by 17-Year-Old Boy Who Left His Body by Side of the Highway.

From Klamath Falls, Ore., Saturday came word that Jerry Zulkoski, 31, a former Ord resident, had been shot and killed Thursday night and that a first degree murder charge had been filed against James Anderson, a 17-year-old boy, in connection with his death.

Stories about the shooting carried in the daily papers are very incomplete and no additional information has been received by his relatives here.

According to the Omaha World-Herald of Sunday, Zulkoski and Anderson were riding in the cab of a truck and scuffled over control of the wheel. Anderson shot the Ord man, dumped the body on the road, then drove back to Beatty, Ore., and told his father about the shooting, surrendering to authorities in Klamath Falls upon advice of his father.

In the meantime the body of Mr. Zulkoski had been found and since there were no identifying papers in the clothing, authorities were having trouble in learning the identity of the slain man. A blood-stained hat was found two miles from the body, bearing the name and address "Joe Zulkoski, Ord, Nebr." in the sweat band.

A telegram was sent to Ord to learn if Joe Zulkoski could be the man who was found dead. Querries by the Quiz elicited the information that Joe Zulkoski, a farmer living north of Arcadia, was very much alive and had not been in Oregon; in fact, had been home all the time. He told the Quiz that a few years ago he owned a hat marked in the manner of the hat found in Oregon but that it had been stolen or taken by mistake by someone at a dance in Elyria four years ago. The hat was a black one, he told the Quiz. Authorities at Klamath Falls said the hat found there was a brown one, so the entire hat question is still a mystery. Joe is a cousin of Jerry. Before Joe Zulkoski's statement could be communicated to Klamath Falls police, young Anderson had given himself up and admitted shooting Jerry Zulkoski, and this information came to Ord by telegram late Saturday afternoon.

According to relatives here, Jerry left Ord three years ago for the west coast and had not been back since. For a time he worked in Oregon, then went to California, and about a month ago returned to Oregon. A postcard was received from him by one of his brothers, Jim Zulkoski, at the time he returned to Oregon, but there has been no word from him since.

The body will not be brought back here for burial, relatives say. A sister, Mrs. John King, of Alliance, left for Klamath Falls Saturday upon receiving word of her brother's death.

Ten other brothers and sisters survive. They are John G. James, Andrew, Frank, Bill and Donan Zulkoski and Mrs. Bolish Suminski, all of this community; Casper Zulkoski, of Arnold, Mrs. Frank Giszinski, of Loup City, Mrs. Emma Giszinski, of Omaha, and Clara Zulkoski, a nurse at Pine Ridge, S. D. One sister, Mrs. James Lipinski, and both parents predeceased Jerry.

Fellowship Rally at Ord Church Thursday

A monthly fellowship rally with ministers and laymen from Nebraska towns in the section between Mullen on the west, Hastings on the south, Columbus on the east, and Burwell on the north was held Thursday in the Full Gospel church here, about 100 being present.

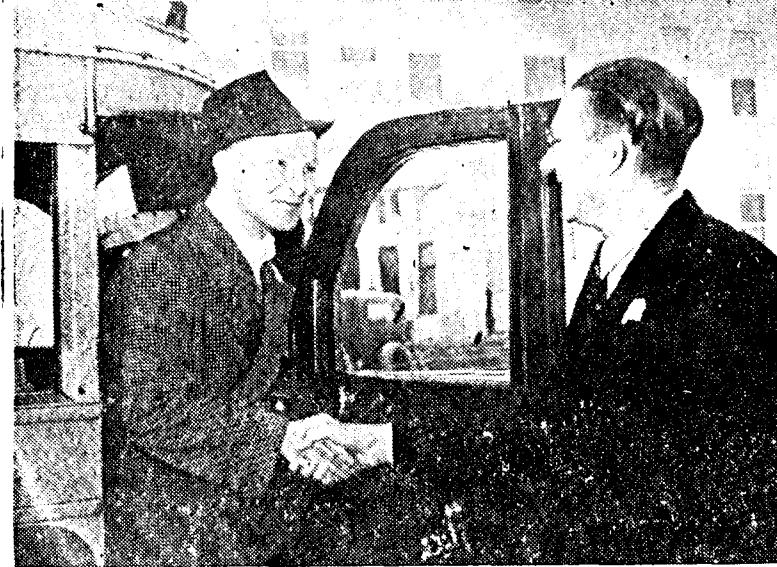

Three sessions were held, Rev. Floyd Sailors, of Thedford, speaking at the morning meeting and Rev. A. M. Alber, state superintendent, at the afternoon and evening meetings. Dinner and supper were served to the group at the Oddfellows hall.

An out-state preacher present was Rev. Hawkins, of Edgemont, S. D. Rev. E. M. Clark is secretary of the district and says the next fellowship rally will be held Feb. 20 at Palmer.

Anton Loeffler Dies Thursday

Ord Man's 89th Birthday Was Observed Only Five Days Before His Death.

Anton Loeffler, who only five days before had observed his 89th birthday, died at 12:15 a.m. Thursday, Jan. 23 at his home in Ord. Until only a few weeks before his death he enjoyed remarkably good health but succumbed as result of a severe cold. Funeral rites were held at 9:00 a.m. Monday at the Ord Catholic church with Rev. Thomas Siudowski in charge and interment was in Ord cemetery beside his wife, who passed away June 18, 1940.

Mr. Loeffler was born in Friedberg, Baden, Germany and came to this country when 18 years old, locating first at Peru, Ill. Later he lived at Marcel, Ia., and later homesteaded in the newly organized St. Bernard's parish, in Platte county, which now is known as Lindsey.

There his marriage to Miss Helen Sawnak occurred in 1879; they being the first couple married in St. Bernard's parish. Thirty years ago Mr. Loeffler retired from farming to live in Lindsey and fifteen years ago he and his wife moved to Ord. They celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary here in 1939.

Left to mourn are seven sons and six daughters. They are John Loeffler, Ord; Frank Loeffler, Burwell; Henry Loeffler, Blanchard, Ia.; Mrs. Mary Thiem, Albion; Mrs. Anna Thiem, Ord; Mrs. Clara Konvalin, Sacramento, Calif.; Bill Loeffler, Mrs. Margaret Simon, Mrs. Lena Dahilstedt, Mrs. Sara Bartz, Fred Loeffler, and Raymond Loeffler, all of Burwell; and Louis Loeffler, Central Point, Ore. There also are thirty-eight grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Pallbearers at the service Monday were five of his sons, John, Frank, Bill, Fred and Raymond, and a son-in-law, John Thiem.

THE ORD QUIZ, ORD, NEBRASKA WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 29, 1941

2-Day Irrigation Institutes Coming to Both Valleys

Ag College Experts to Speak at Arcadia and Burwell; Prizes Announced.

Monday and Tuesday, Feb. 3 and 4 will be "red letter days" for farmers of the Middle Loup valley, while Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 5 and 6 will be of similar importance to farmers of the North Loup valley, for on those days come the mid-winter irrigation institutes at Arcadia and Burwell.

The Arcadia irrigation meetings will be held Monday and Tuesday in the high school auditorium and the Burwell meetings will be held Wednesday and Thursday in the Burwell high school auditorium. At each institute the same speakers will appear.

Probably most North Loup Valley farmers will choose to attend the school at Burwell where a potato, grain and seed show with many fine prizes will be held in connection with the irrigation meetings and where a free lunch will be served each noon by Burwell business men.

Six specialists from the University of Nebraska college of agriculture speak at the meetings, among them being Bill Pierce, an Ord young man now serving as extension engineer at the college.

In charge of arrangements at Burwell are Ralph Douglas, Garfield county agricultural agent, and C. C. Dale, who holds the same position at Arcadia.

February Quota Filled Monday by Co. Draft Board

14 Valley County Men Will Report Feb. 27 at Omaha for Year Service.

Selection of Valley county's quota of fourteen men to report for military service in February was completed Monday by the draft board, the new selections being as follows:

Ernest Kirby
Sylvester Wadas
Arthur W. Bartz
John W. Anderson
Emil Trojan
Ned E. Larkin
Theodore P. Baker

This group of young men supplements the group previously selected whose names were published last week, they being Dale A. Philbrick, Leonard Swanek, John W. Wewerka, Raymond A. Swoboda, Charles C. Cetak, John Fill and Herbert Linke.

These men will report at the armory in Omaha February 27th for final examination, according to present instructions. All have passed the medical examination given by Dr. F. A. Barta, draft physician for Valley county, but should any be rejected at the final medical examination in Omaha they will be replaced by Downing Rounds, Milford A. Goodrich, or Dennis R. Zulkoski, who are next in line for service according to the draft board ratings. If all the February draftees are passed for military service the three men mentioned above will go with Valley county's March quota.

Albert Klimek Dead.

Albert Klimek, about 70 years old, died early this morning at the Ord hospital after an illness of about a month following a stroke.

Mr. Klimek for the past nine months has been cared for in the Walter Kochanowski home in Ord. The funeral will be held Friday at 9:00 a.m. at the Catholic church with burial in Ord cemetery.

LeMasters, Burrows, Buy HOLC Properties

In deals made last week through the Hastings and Ollis agency, Charles LeMasters purchased from the HOLC the old Vanski house on south 21st street and R. C. Burrows bought, also from the HOLC, the old McDonough property across the street from the state highway department's equipment yard in southeast Ord. Consideration in each instance was $1,000, the McDonough property including a house and a full block of land.

Mr. LeMasters expects to make some improvements on the house he bought and occupy it as a home in the near future. The LaVern Burrows family has been living in this house and has moved to the house bought by R. C. Burrows.

J. G. Hastings reports that these two sales finish up the HOLC selling program in Ord, unless other properties are taken over later by the corporation. One North Loup property is still owned by the HOLC.

Ord Beats Taylor, Loses to Ravenna

Junior High Wins at Ravenna,
Ord Second Team Defeats
Taylor Reserves.

The Ord high first team lost its second game of the season to Ravenna Friday evening by the thrilling score of 31 to 33. It was a see-saw game throughout, the score by quarters being as follows: Ord 6, 18, 19, 31; Ravenna 9, 17, 21, 33.

Furtak and Piskorski each registered 8 points for Ord, Romans and Malepszy scored 7 points each, and Adams made one. For Ravenna Pesek made 13 points and Bays made 11.

The Junior high game proved more or less of a track meet, the Ord boys chalking up 33 points while their opponents were getting 3. Randolph and Satterfield, forwards, each made 9 points, Wilson, center, made 6, and Rose and Hurlbert, guards, each made 4. Johnson made 2 points. For Ravenna Schodopole made 2 points and Kunel one.

Last night on the Ord floor the Ord first team defeated the Taylor first team by a score of 44 to 26. Ord led all the way, the results for each quarter being as follows: 13 to 6, 25 to 10, 34 to 16, and 44 to 26. In this game Furtak made 12 points for Ord, Adams made 10, Romans 8, Misko 8, Piskorski 5, and Cochrane and Malepszy, one each. Cooper and Newberry each made 6 points for Taylor, B. Harvey 5, Dilsaver 4, J. Harvey 3, and Krause 2.

Firemen's Ball February 4th

The annual ball of the Ord Volunteer Fire Department is the next big social event in Ord and will be held Tuesday, Feb. 4 in the Bohemian hall with music by Harry Collins' orchestra. Both modern and Bohemian music will be played by this orchestra, as the dancers prefer, and a good time is assured. Ticket selling committee are completing their work this week and as usual there will be a fine crowd at this annual event. Honorary firemen will be admitted without charge, says the committee.

Rose Bowl Movies to Be Shown February 18

A full length movie of the Rose Bowl football game taken by members of the University of Nebraska coaching staff will be shown in the Ord high school auditorium on Tuesday, February 18 by Ed Weir. The movie will start at 7:30 p. m. and last about one hour.

Admission will be free to all grade and high school students but a small charge of 10c will be made for adults to defray cost of bringing the film to Ord. Showing of the movie is to be sponsored jointly by the Rotary and Cosmopolitan clubs, with any deficit being defrayed by the two clubs.

Banquet Given After Ceremony to Honor Priest

Church and Community Extend Welcome to Successor of Rev. Martin A. Lawler.

Rev. Thomas Siudowski, appointed three weeks ago by the bishop of the Grand Island diocese to succeed the late Rev. M. A. Lawler as pastor of the Ord Catholic church, was formally installed Sunday afternoon in a ceremony conducted by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. B. J. Galvin, of Spalding, in the presence of a large audience of church members who braved stormy weather to attend the installation.

Born in Chicago, the new Ord priest was educated in schools of Chicago, at St. Mary of the Lake seminary, Mundelein, Ill., and at Sts. Cyril and Methodius seminary, Orchard Lake, Mich. He was transferred to Ord from Sargent, where he served as pastor of the church two years.

After the installation Sunday afternoon Father Siudowski was honored at a testimonial banquet prepared by women of the church under the direction of Mrs. Emil Sedlacek and Mrs. Stanley Absolon, co-chairmen, and served in the basement of the church.

OUR WEAKENING YOUTH.
The selective service bill has been worth while. Whether it was needed for our nation's defense is still a moot question. But in its operation it has brought out the startling fact that a large percent of the young men of the nation are physically unfit for service.

How this unfitness compares with that of the World War draft is difficult to determine, since the urgent and immediate need of men at that time induced the medical examiners to pass registrants who under normal conditions would have been deemed physically unfit.

During the World War hundreds of draftees who had tried in vain to get into the service as volunteers were later accepted under the draft. Apparently that is not being done under the selective service act, but a really alarming number of young men are being rejected.

In the days of the pioneer it was not so difficult to find men physically fit. The life men had to live in those days might have been hard, but it made men of them. They knew three rules of conduct, hard work, plain food, and early to bed and early to rise.

In these days of riding machinery, automobiles, telephones, radio, and similar contraptions, it is so easy to live that nobody makes work of living unless compelled to do so by stern necessity. Nobody can live a life of ease and still maintain a full measure of health.

What has become of the corn bread, mush, sowbelly and other staples of pioneer times? They are still obtainable, but where is the young man who will eat them? Those plain foods kept the people healthy, kept their teeth in good condition.

Today we find that the outstanding cause for physical rejection is the condition of the teeth. There are plenty of dentists, but most parents find that their budget does not permit having their children's teeth properly taken care of.

If the selective service does no more than to awaken the American public to the fact that we are rapidly becoming a nation of weaklings, it will have served a valuable purpose. That service will work wonders with the men taken, but what we really need is a method of improving the physical condition of those who fail to pass.

ANOTHER OLD TIMER GONE.
Last week the old timer was moved out into the yard east of the Quiz office, under the guiding hand of Ellsworth Ball, who is not so young himself, but who was not even born when the old timer, as a young fellow, began his long period of service for the Ord Quiz.

The fellow referred to is the old office safe, which stood in the front office of the present Quiz building for all the years since the office was moved to the present location. It also stood in the Quiz office in the old location on the south side of the square for so many years that nobody can recall just when it first was placed there.

It was always a heavy affair, and in the days when it was new, when the average man took care of most of his papers without entrusting them to a safety deposit box in the bank, there was doubtless good reason for having so large a protected space. That, too, was in the days when the fire department was not as well equipped as it is today, and the safe might have to protect its contents from the heat of a big fire.

The exact history of the safe is lost, but it served its purpose well in the days when it was needed. It would be interesting to know the total amount of money that was placed in its keeping from day to day for a period of half a century or more. At first it was not too much, for the people of early days had little ready cash, and many a subscriber paid his subscription with commodities that could not be put in the safe.

However, guessing roughly that the average amount put in each night was $100, the amount would be nearly two million dollars in half a century. The public should get no false impressions from the above amount, which would represent the workable capital of the business from day to day, rather than a net profit.

But, whatever the amount, that safe did its part in looking after the safe keeping of the funds of the business, and so far as is known, not a penny was lost in all that time over any negligence on its part. It performed its work well, in fact only too well at times, and one time the lock stuck, and the firm was in financial difficulties until it was finally opened, according to an item in an old copy of the Quiz.

As time went on the old safe became much as the rest of us. It developed a species of rheumatism which interfered with the working of its outside doors. It was no longer safe to lock the outside door, or it might not open in the morning. So the custom of leaving the heavy doors open and closing only the inside doors developed. This did not furnish any protection from a real fire, and was not much of a deterrent for would be safe crackers.

The safe was moved from the northwest corner of the front office to the southeast corner. Here its 2,500 pounds was too much for the floor, which settled under the weight, and the safe leaned toward the middle of the room. This was overcome by putting a timber under the low corner. Finally the Boss, realizing that the safe had long outlived its usefulness, had it moved outdoors, where the old iron man will get it eventually.

How human is that old safe! We human beings get us a job and go to work, and the more faithful of us continue in the same job over a period of years. We give the best that is in us, expecting and receiving no more than a reasonable recompense for our services. Finally, after a half century or so, the employer realizes that we have outlived our usefulness and we go into the discard.

That has been the way ever since the world began, with nations as well as individuals. We grow up for a space, flourish in our chosen sphere for a brief time, and then the world knows us no more. Nations, like individuals have small beginnings. They grow in power and influence, wax great for a time, and then decay and die.

There is in this one important fact to remember. No nation ever existed, no individual ever lived, no worth while device fashioned by man was ever made that did not exert an influence, for good or perchance for evil. In the eyes of the Master of Destiny, nothing is unimportant, nothing was ever created without a purpose. When that purpose has been fulfilled, then that and decadence must of necessity follow.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

There exists an opportunity for the Chamber of Commerce to be of the utmost service to the people of Ord and community.

We refer to the telephone situation.

Ord has been served for many years by the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, which has a monopoly of the communications business in this community.

People of this city pay to the company rates which should entitle them to excellent telephone service. They pay to the company rates which average as high as those charged in communities where the Nebraska Continental and other companies do furnish good service.

No person, employee of the telephone company or otherwise, would dare to claim that service furnished in Ord is good telephone service. Calls are handled slowly and unsatisfactorily; cross-talk is noted on nearly every call.

With the girls who work at the switchboard in Ord, and with the men who do maintenance work for the company, the Quiz has no complaint to make. We think they do their work to fine shape considering the equipment they have to work with. But nobody, not even the management of the Nebraska Continental company, should expect employees to give quick, modern service with a switchboard which has been in use since the turn of the century or even longer. These things should be called to the attention of the managers of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company and they should be given a chance to install more modern equipment so that better service can be given. If they choose not to exercise their chance to preserve friendly relations with the Ord community a complaint should be made to the Nebraska Railway Commission. If the Commission fails to take adequate action to insure better telephone service for this city, patrons of the exchange might well take more individual action.

This is a matter of business in which the whole community has a stake. With 119 business phones at $4 per month, 265 individual line residence phones at $2 per month, 20 rural phones at $1.50 per month and 495 farmer-owned phones at a switch charge of .50 per month the Nebraska Continental is drawing something like $1,300.00 worth of support from Ord every month, exclusive of long distance charges. To that extent the community is interested and the logical spokesman for the community is the Chamber of Commerce.

Ord's 19th century hand-crank telephone system is a shame and a disgrace, especially since we are paying 20th century rates for such service. Let's get something done about it.

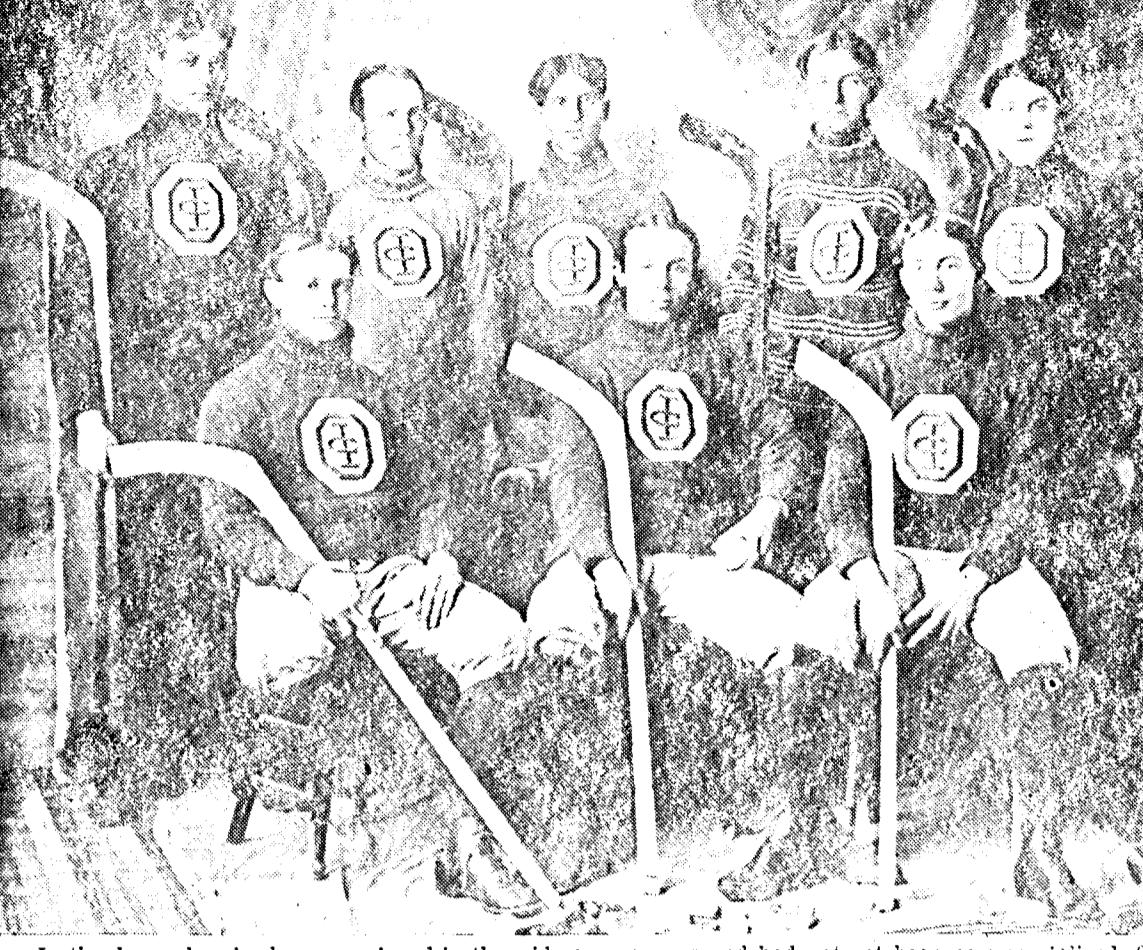

First Soda Fountain.

June 27, 1884, the Ord Quiz recorded the first soda water in Ord, as well as the first means of dispensing the delectable drink. The day before, June 26, the proprietor of the Pioneer store, F. A. Witte, had completed the job of installing the first marble fountain ever seen in Ord, and he treated the Quiz man as one of his first customers.

Mr. Haskell proved that the drug store has not changed much through the years. He gave the following list of articles sold by Mr. Witte: cigars, assorted candies, brushes, knives, glasses, musical instruments, perfumes, drugs and medicines, patent medicines, books, stationery, toys, lead oil, mixed paints, wall paper and wagons for the kiddies.

"Why not dance at the local Infantile Paralysis Ball, in order that some little crippled child can walk?"

Editor Bill Maupin of the Clay County Sun, started right off by coining an entirely new word.

These Ord Men Once Played a Tough Game of Hockey

In the days when hockey was played in the wide open spaces and had not yet been commercialized, Ord had a hockey (or was it shinny) team second to none. They all had the monogram OIC as you will observe, which probably meant Ord Ice Club. They played nearly forty years ago. Seated, left to right, are, back row, Ray Haunton, Jake Hoffman, Wes Dailey, Herb Severson and Dutch Burger; seated, Eric Crow, Bill Hoffmann and John Mason. The names are correct with the possible exception of Dailey and Crow. The latter oddly enough, seems to have but one leg.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

They Have Gone Away A While

Away A While

They Have Gone Away A While.

I am wondering. I heard a couple of Ord business men discussing, the other day, the prospects of Ord getting one or more industries, something to make the town grow and improve. One suggested that this valley was sure to get both an alfalfa meal mill and a sugar factory in the near future. The other grudgingly admitted that it was a possibility, but added that Burwell would get them both if they were built. Asked why, he said that Burwell business men always pulled together while the business men of Ord did not. So I am wondering. Inquiry convinces me that many people from the Burwell trade territory come to Ord to do their trading. I have not been in Burwell stores in recent years so I cannot say whether stocks in Ord stores are larger, giving better selections or whether Ord prices are more favorable or not. If there is anything in the seeming belief that Ord business men do not work together for the betterment of the town, steps should be taken to change the feeling among Ord business men. If and when we get more moisture and start raising crops again, I believe that all towns in the valley will show marked improvement and I see no reason why Ord, the largest town in the valley, the most centrally located and with double the rail road facilities that any of the other towns have, should not at least hold its own and I believe it will do so.

The statement was made in the senate at Lincoln last week, that the state planning board has spent a half million dollars the past five years, and that there is little in the way of results to show for the money spent. A report costing twenty-five thousand dollars has just been made and nobody reads it. A bill is before the state senate to do away with the board by repealing the law which created it.

An Ord lady told her husband that the couple next door were very devoted, as he kissed her every time they met, and added, "Why don't you do that?" Her husband replied: "I don't know her well enough yet."

Col. Chas. Lindbergh told the house committee having charge of the lease-lend bill that in his opinion, England could never win the war, even with the aid of the U. S. I believe Lindbergh is wrong there. I thing England could whip the world with the active aid of this country, but it might take a long time and wouldn't be worth the effort.

-o-

The state senators seem to be of a mind to repeal the advertising law now on the statute books.

If they will refrain from passing some other law requiring as much or more money, in its place, at least until conditions improve, it will be fine. Some one with a desire for a good job will surely hatch up something along that line.

-o-

I believe that a large majority of the state senators are level headed business men and it is going to be pretty hard to put anything over on them. And I also believe that Governor Griswold will veto any harmful legislation that may slip past the legislators.

-o-

If the Quiz was to use all or even half the mats and stories sent in from various sources seeking free publicity, there would be little room left for local news stories and some of the local advertising would have to be crowded out also. And each group sending this advertising, all camouflaged as news, thinks his stuff is

When You And I Were Young Maggie

Jan. 29, 1931.

The Bowens Drug team of Grand Island defeated the Ord team in an extra period after Earl Blessing had tied the score near the end of the game at 26 to 24.

Judge Ralph Horth of Grand Island was an honor guest of the Ord Rotarians at their regular meeting. He had been in Ord 46 years before.

It was announced by Postmaster Edwin Clemens that free city delivery of mail would start April first, but that house numbers and mail boxes would have to be in place first.

James Francis Garner, 73, died at his Arcadia home of heart disease.

Clean-up sales were being held by John Beran, Jr., and Joe Ciemny, the former going to Texas and the latter quitting the farm.

D. E. Troyer of Callaway had leased the Ord Texaco service station and took charge at once.

Jan. 27, 1921.

There seemed to be a likelihood that congress would reduce the number of districts in Nebraska to 5, thus eliminating the 6th district and with it M. P. Knaid. However, this did not actually happen until 1932.

Charles Hather got back from the Denver stock show with a large number of winnings with his Polon Chinias.

The Ord high basketball team won from the St. Paul high school and the St. Paul business college, and the Ord girls team defeated the Burwell girls team.

The H. H. Bailey shorthorn herd was shown at the Denver stock show, and brought back many prizes to Valley county.

Bud Shirley was making his plans for some flower beds at the park, and these plans have developed into the lovely flower garden of the present time.

Adrian Barstow, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Barstow, formerly of Ord, was murdered at the front door of his home.

Jan. 26, 1911.

Peter Mortensen started suit in the state supreme court to gain possession of the office of state railway commissioner, to which he had been a candidate by petition following the death of the incumbent, Osgood. W. J. Purse, appointee, refused to give up the office.

The old Ravenna creamery building was moved from its location near the river bridge to its present location, where it is now known as the Ord Cold Storage.

Harrison Shinn, resident of the county since 1878, died in Ord at the age of 55 years.

A movement was on foot to vote on the proposition of issuing $14,000 in bonds for the purpose of purchasing the light plant.

Percy Way, former Ordite, was among those killed in a mine explosion in Montana.

Feb. 1, 1901.

Judge R. L. Staple, performed marriage ceremonies for Elmer A. Kent and Miss Lulu Johns of Burwell, Jan. 29, and Ray A. Cruckenmiller and Hannah E. Castell of Arcadia, Jan. 30.

Herman Bredthauer and Miss May Kline were married Jan. 30, at the home of the bride's parents at Fish Creek in Greeley county.

First Ord Opera House.

The first house in Ord to be fitted up as an opera house was the one north of the Satterlee House, according to the Ord Quiz, issue of April 17, 1885. An organization known as the Ord Opera House Association was perfected April 15, with the following officers: D. W. McCord, president; H. A. Walker, secretary; J. S. Russell, treasurer.

The building above mentioned, at present occupied by the Goff Hatchery, was to be fitted up for operatic purposes. A regular corporation was organized and stock was sold. No further information appears in the Quiz for some time, but it is definitely known that operatic companies as well as home talent companies put on plays there, and it was used for the purpose for a number of years.

Esther Ord Welles, district home supervisor, FSA, Grand Island, is a descendant of General E. O. C. Ord, the man for whom Ord was named. She is proud of the fact, and mentions it when her work brings her to Ord. Likewise, she thinks rather highly of the town of Ord.

For Harold Taylors.

The departure of the Harold Taylors for their new home in California has been the inspiration for several parties during the past few days.

Dr. and Mrs. John Round entertained at a dinner party Wednesday evening at their home, preceding the dancing party given by the Gnaster-Thompson-Pearson-Fafeita group. Present at the dinner were Mr. and Mrs. John Misko and Mr. and Mrs. Hilding Pearson and the guests of honor, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Thursday afternoon Madams John Misko and Ralph Misko asked a few friends of Mrs. Taylor to a tea and musicale in her honor, given at the John Misko home. Flowers and tapers of pink shading into lavender were used on the tea table and for the little cakes. Mrs. Edward Kokes reviewed the book "Gentlemen, Old Bach Is Here" in a pleasing manner. Mrs. Mark Tolon sang three numbers in her customary delightful fashion, with Mrs. Syl Furtak accompanying her at the piano.

Surprised by Friends.
Neighbors and friends of Mr. and Mrs. John John and family surprised them Friday evening when they went to the John home taking a delicious basket lunch. In the group were the Carl Oliver, Joe Cernik, Adolf Kokes, Dennis Chlewicki families, Mr. and Mrs. Stanton Finley, Miss Mildred Irby and Bill Sims. Pinocchio was played, high scores being won by Emil John and Mrs. Chlewicki and low by John John and Mrs. Cernik. Edith Cernik won the traveling prize.

Married at Ord.

Lawrence F. Clocker and Miss Rochelle L. Ferris, both of O'Neill, drove to Ord, Monday, were granted a marriage license by County Judge John L. Andersen, and were later married by Rev. M. M. Long at the Methodist parsonage with J. H. Jacobson and Miss Delores Niedern as witnesses.

Their reason for coming to Ord for the ceremony was that Mr. Clocker and Mr. Jacobson were classmates at college at Ames, Ia. Mr. Clocker is fieldman of the Federal Land Bank out of O'Neill and Mr. Jacobson is in the Ord office of the National Farm Loan association. The two are allied organizations.

Ever Busy Club.

The Ever Busy club met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Zelowski with ten members responding to roll call. An interesting lesson, "Conserving Energy" was presented by the leaders, Mrs. Melvin Clement and Mrs. Stanley Absolon. A paper on "Handy Mechanical Hints for the Home" was given by Mrs. A. J. Ferris and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis. A delicious lunch was served. This club will meet with Mrs. Adolph Sevenker in her home Feb. 14th.

Business And Professional Hostesses at the Business and Professional Women's club

Wednesday evening at the Ben Clark home were Miss Evelyn Kosch and Mrs. Ben Clark. The vice-president, Miss Ruth Kernodle, took charge of the business session. Plans were laid for a book review, which is to be held on Friday, Jan. 31, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. Kovanda will review "From Many Lands", by Louis Adams. The public is invited to attend. The club has many more donations to the Milk Fund, and a complete list will be announced soon. The club will meet the second and fourth Wednesday instead of Thursdays.

Miss Arletta Robinson introduced Miss Clara McClatchey as speaker. She gave a most interesting talk on her recent trip to Florida and Cuba. Guests of the club were Miss Lillian Kidder, Miss Helen Prouty and Miss Lucille Krebs, the new Ord teachers.

NOTICE OF HEARING TO DETERMINE HEIRSHIP,
In the County Court of Valley County, Nebraska.

In the matter of the estate of Benjamin P. Harding, Deceased.

TO ALL PERSONS INTERESTED IN SAID ESTATE, BOTH CREDITORS AND HEIRS, take notice that Walter A. Harding has filed his Petition in said Court alleging that Benjamin P. Harding died intestate on or about July 22, 1933, a resident and inhabitant of Ida Grove, Iowa, and the owner in fee of the Northwest Quarter of Section Thirteen, in Township Nineteen, North of Range Fifteen, West of the Sixth Principal Meridian, Valley County, Nebraska.

Said Petition further alleges that Benjamin P. Harding left as his sole and only heirs at law Adam T. Harding, who is also known as Adam T. Harting, a brother; Amancio Fey, a sister; Emma Rowson, a sister; Lillian Anderson, a sister; Dora Goltz, a sister; Walter A. Harding, a brother; the following nieces and nephews, being the children of Martha H. Harting, Deceased, a sister of said Benjamin P. Harding; Archibald O. Harting, Ahmeda H. Etley, Edith D. Harting and Edward J. Harting; the following nieces and nephews, being the children of Sarah Harding Hull, also known as Sarah Harding Hull, Deceased, a sister of said Benjamin P. Harding; Lillie Fink, Ollie Hull, Irene Opydche, Roxie Newcomer, also known as Roxie Newcomer, May Mills, also known as Mrs. Charley Mills, and Levi Hull, also known as Levi Hull; the following nieces and nephews, being the children of Catherine Anna Harding Harting, Deceased, a sister of said Benjamin P. Harding; Abbie S. Mellon, John J. Hartung, Cora M. Walters, Walter E. Hartung, Henry A. Hartung, Mary H. Wolf, Eva V. Smith and Oliver A. Hartung, the following nieces and nephews, being the children of Minerva Harding Nash Jones, Deceased, a sister of said Benjamin P. Harding; Raymond Nash, Ralph Nash, Hazel Starbird, also known as Hazel Starbird, Edward Jones, Ruth Jones and Mildred Jones; that the Petitioner is a brother and heir at law of the Deceased; that there is no Estate or Inheritance tax assessable or due upon said Estate or Inheritances.

Said Petition prays among other things that the allegations thereof be found true and further prays for a determination of the time of the death of said Deceased, a determination of his heirs and the degree of kinship and the right of descent of the real property belonging to the Deceased, for a Decree barring all claims and demands against said Estate; that the Deceased died intestate more than two years prior to the filing of said Petition; that no application has been made in the State of Nebraska for the appointment of an Administrator and said Estate has not been administered and no Administrator has been appointed in the State of Nebraska; that the heirs at law of the Deceased as named in said Petition shall be Decreed to have succeeded to the ownership in fee simple of the above described real estate and for general equitable relief.

Said matter has been set forth for hearing before this Court in the County Court Room, in Ord, Nebraska, on the 15th day of February, 1941, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon.

Witness my hand and official seal this 25th day of January, 1941.

Former Arcadia Woman, Now 80, in Film With Hedy Lamarr, Stewart

To start on a movie career at the age of 80 is almost unheard of but that is what is happening to Mrs. Adeline DeWalt Reynolds, a former resident of Arcadia. She recently was given a screen test by Director Clarence Brown and assigned to a leading role in the film "Come Live With Me," in which principals are Hedy Lamarr and James Stewart.

Old time residents of Arcadia remember the Reynolds family well. They operated a lumber yard there in early days, Mrs. Reynolds was postmistress and the family built the building now occupied by the Hastings furniture store.

They came to Arcadia from Vinton, Ia., and one of Mrs. Reynolds' daughters, Leila, was born there. The family moved from Arcadia to Boston after a few years, and from Boston to San Francisco.

At the age of 65 Mrs. Reynolds realized that her four children were grown and no longer needed her. Her youngest daughter was attending University of California and persuaded her mother to enroll also. She was graduated at the age of 70. Later she returned, took all the dramatic courses offered and took part in school dramas. Seen on the stage by Director Brown, she was offered a screen test and her present fine role resulted.

Now Mrs. Reynolds, is being hailed as the "baby starlet" of the year in Hollywood. Mrs. Reynolds beams when she says that she is happier than ever before. "I've waited for a long time but it's worth it," she says. And her old friends and neighbors in Arcadia, Nebraska, rejoice at her success and will follow her career with interest.

Snows Continue, Eight Inches Fall in 10 Days

According to the records of Horace Travis, 8 inches of snow fell during the ten day period, Jan. 16 to Jan. 25, inclusive, bringing a total of 1.02 inches of moisture. This came in four different snowfalls, as follows:

Jan. 16, one and one half inches of snow; Jan. 21, one inch of snow; Jan. 22, two and one half inches of snow; and Jan. 23, three inches of snow. The coldest records were 4 below Jan. 18, and 5 above, Jan. 25; the warmest readings were 46 above Jan. 12, and 44 above Jan. 19. The prospect is for warmer weather for the rest of this week.

Dean S. Mitchell Is Promoted, Will Leave Ord

Dean S. Mitchell, who has been area supervisor of WPA recreation projects for several months, has been notified that he is to be transferred to McCook, effective shortly after the first of next month. He will have charge of the largest area in Nebraska, with the official title of area supervisor of community service projects for WPA.

Mr. Mitchell, whose home was in Lincoln, made many warm friends during his stay in Ord, who regret to see him go, but who are glad to know of his promotion. His place here will be taken by Mrs. Edith McDermott of Greeley, who is no stranger to Greeley, and is a writer of ability, having recently written a history of Greeley county.

Early Day Instructors

at Ord Died Last Week

Note:—This story was prepared for use last week, but with the force working short handed and a big accident story breaking at the last minute, it was mislaid and lost.

Word was received in Ord last week of the deaths, within a few hours of each other, of two men who had a part in the development of Ord's school system in the early days. Sunday evening T. T. Bell, 81, of St. Paul passed away following a two weeks illness from flu and pneumonia. Monday J. M. Hussey, 77, died at the home of a daughter in Los Angeles.

The Quiz of April 27, 1882 tells briefly of the fact that Truman T. Bell of Grand Island had been hired as principal of the Ord schools for the coming term. He continued in that capacity until the close of school July 11, 1884, when he closed his duties to go to Ann Arbor, Mich., to study law. After his graduation he returned to St. Paul to practice law until his death.

The files of the Quiz show that J. M. Hussey was principal of the Ord schools in 1889, and that he was superintendent of the first Ord high school at the time of the graduation of the first class in the spring of 1890. He married Icy Mae Carson, sister of Kit Carson, who preceded him in death in 1923. Mr. Hussey's body was brought to Omaha where the funeral was held Saturday, with burial in Forest Lawn cemetery.

NEWS OF THE NEIGHBORHOOD

Greeley experienced a black out recently when the high wind tore the wires from their poles and plunged the town in darkness.—According to farmers residing in the vicinity of Pibel Lake, the water has again raised to its normal level, which should be good news to fishermen.

Elmer Swanson, tenant on the George W. McAnulty farm east of Scotia, bought the place when it was put up at auction Wednesday, his bid being $3,250.—Dr. A. J. Kafka, former Scotia physician will serve two additional years in the army, according to word received by his friends.

Comstock visitors mentioned in last week's News were Dr. and Mrs. Glen D. Auble and daughters Carolyn and Irene, who were dinner guests Monday evening of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Leul, and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Hoyt and son Kenneth, who were Sunday dinner guests in the home of their daughter, Mrs. Archie Ciemny.

C. J. Frandsen, former resident for 40 years of the Dannevirke neighborhood in Howard county, died at Cedar Rapids, Ia., Jan. 16, and was buried at Elba Jan. 19.—Mrs. Jasper Sparks, resident of Howard county 65 years, died at her home in St. Paul Jan. 17, at the age of 80 years.

Sherman county's first draftee, who was to leave for Omaha Tuesday of this week, was Glen Sickles. He was drawn by lot from a group of nine young men who had volunteered. The drawing was made at a special meeting of the Loup City Legion post, which was addressed by H. P. Zieg, district vice-commander, of Grand Island.

BURWELL

Louis Bodyfield met with an auto accident while coming home from Omaha Thursday. His car was towed into Fremont where it was repaired. Mr. Bodyfield was a guest of a sister who lives in Fremont during his stay there.

K. M. Parsons, Dr. R. W. Wood,

Russell Mitchell, F. W. Manasil,

C. J. Bleach drove to Lincoln Sunday where they represented Nebraska's Big Rodeo and the Garfield County Frontier Fair Association at the meeting of the county fair managers. They are expected home today.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Roblyer and daughter of Taylor were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Austin.

Word was received in Burwell Thursday of the death of Mrs. Chizek, the ninety-eight year old mother of Mrs. J. V. DeLashmunt. Mrs. Chizek died in the home of a daughter who lives in Minnesota. Interment was made at Chadron Monday. Owing to severity of the weather none of the relatives from Burwell attended. Mrs. Chizek was the great, great grandmother of the twin daughters born to Dr. and Mrs. Robert Day in Omaha last Sunday. She had visited in Burwell numerous times. Four years ago she fell and broke her hip, up until this time she had enjoyed good health.

Frank Clark and Archie Shafer jointly celebrated their birthday anniversaries Sunday at a bountiful dinner in the Clark home.

A ten pound son was born on Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Rowse with Dr. Smith in attendance. The mother and baby are being cared for in the home of Mrs. Rowse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Nixon.

Leslie DeLashmunt who is a sophomore at Doane College and Miss Marguerite Grunkevener who attends the Lincoln School of Commerce spent the week end with their home folks. Mrs. DeLashmunt, Keith and Dorothy Jane Duncan took them to Aurora Sunday evening where they boarded a train taking them back to school. Bud Douglas who has worked for several months in the Council Oak store was transferred to Genoa last week. Two of the young men employed in the Genoa store were inducted into the army. The vacancy in Burwell has not yet been filled.

Miss Beverly Ballagh was a weekend guest of Miss Myrtle Clark.

Jack Kearns who formerly lived at Amelia is the new proprietor of the Sinclair filling station a block south of the square. The Bredehauser Motor company is installing a wrecking plant on the same lot. Mr. Kearns will handle motor parts for the Bredehauser Motor company.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Owens have commenced keeping house in an apartment in the Moninger rooming house.

Mrs. D. W. Beag who has been a patient in Mrs. Coleman's hospital for several weeks was taken in an ambulance to Omaha Saturday where she entered a hospital where she will receive surgical treatment. Dr. Cram accompanied her to Omaha.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Meyers were Sunday evening guests in the A. C. Duncan home.

A chicken house on the Mrs. Bessie Key farm east of Burwell was burned to the ground Monday afternoon. Neighbors kept the fire from spreading to the other outbuildings. The fire is believed to have started from an oats sprouter which Mrs. Key operated in the building.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Emery of Toulon, Ill., arrived here last Thursday. They were called by the serious illness of Mrs. Emery's father, J. J. Bleach.

Representatives of the Loup Valley Activities association met in Burwell Saturday to complete arrangements for the annual Loup Valley basketball tournament which will be held here February 10-15 inclusive. First round games will be played Monday, as follows: 5:30 p.m., St. Paul vs. Loup City; 6:45 p.m., Taylor vs. Sargent; 8:00, Comstock vs. Scotia; 9:15, Dannebrog vs. Ord. The teams of Burwell, North Loup and Arcadia drew byes. Other games will follow daily, with finals and consolation finals scheduled for Friday, Feb. 15. Officials for the tournament will be Charles Compton and H. A. Schroeder, of Broken Bow.

Ord Ministerial Association Met Wednesday for First 1941 Session

The members of the Ord Ministerial association met for reorganization Wednesday for dinner at Thorne's cafe. Shown above, left to right, are: Clifford Snyder, of the Ord Christian church; E. M. Clark, of the Full Gospel church; M. Marvin Long, of the Ord Methodist church; J. P. Whitehorn of the Nazarene Mission; W. Ray Radliff, of the First Presbyterian church; Clarence Jensen, of Bethany Lutheran church; and O. Engelsbren, of the Ord and Midvale U. B. churches.

At the business session Mr. Radliff was chosen president and Mr. Snyder, secretary-treasurer. A religious census was discussed and plans were made for taking a religious survey of the town. A union Good Friday service was decided upon, and a committee comprising Rev. Engelsbren, chairman and Revs. Long and Radliff was appointed to take care of arrangements. The Ord ministers will entertain the Loup Valley Ministerial association at the First Presbyterian church, March 3.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

2547 Northwest Northrup Street
Portland, Oregon,
January 18, 1941.

Mr. John L. (Violent) Ward,
c/o The Ord Quiz,
Ord, Nebraska.

So you and I have at last gained recognition by two different columnists in the Ord Quiz? Irma said nice things about us which shows that she is a gal of refined taste and probably does not associate with the boss or read his column. Dear John:

I was telling my wife, I says, "I hate to admit it but there are people right in my old home town which same, his copy is so bad that the only way they can ever hope to have any of it published is for him to own a sheet themselves." I says, but of course I wouldn't mention names.

The boss don't have to respect your dignity or your artistic sensitivity because he signs your salary check and of course he would never suspect or understand the amount of dignity and things that I have acquired through the years, in spite of reading his column every week.

So I want to walk in on the boss some day and just casually remind him that I am a member in good standing of the Oregon League of Western Writers and that I have a pair of spats and a black molasses cane with a white ivory knob onto the end of it and that I have been invited to join the Poet's guild and even attended a banquet of writers where a lot of them wore tuxedos.

Of course, the boss, being worldly as he is and completely lacking in all sense of the artistic viewpoint and being the kind of a feller that would make fun of you or me or Shakespeare, would right away say . . . "Well, what will that get him in a practical, bread and butter way?" So then you can just tell him that with my spats and being authorized to wear them by virtue of my dignity, I don't have to buy socks any more—a feller don't need socks and spats both. Also you can tell him that my membership in the Poet's guild will save me, I figure, twelve dollars per year in tuxedos alone. Even the boss can understand that kind of worldly value.

Of course I never bother with socks in warm weather anyway since Hank Stara there in Ord, pointed out to me a long time ago that a feller wearing white shoes could wash his ankles nice and clean and they would pass for flesh colored socks and a feller wearing black or tan shoes could let his ankles get a little soiled and they would pass for grey socks of any shade you might happen to want, depending on the shade of the soil around there. But even Hank Stara has never figured a way to get out of wearing socks in the winter time.

This morning I started down town and my wife said to me, "Be sure and get your hair trimmed this morning." So I said, "Madam, I am a member, in good standing of the Poet's guild and I don't intend to get a haircut this morning or ever, I intend to write a poem today instead." She just gave me an unartistical look and said, "Well, you can write one of your silly poems versus today if you want to, but you either come home this evening with that hair trimmed up or you sleep in the woodpile tonight." She says. Which proves that she has been reading Hank Leggett's column so long that she has lost all sense of artistic or intellectual values.

I could cover many sheets of copy paper just telling you about folks that have started off with a fine sense of discrimination in artistic and intellectual values and then have come under the influence of the boss and his column and have lost all sense of balance and poetic arrangement.

Look at young George Round, drew up in a fine, refined, intellectual home and started off like he might amount to something and then in his tender youth he came under the influence of Hank Leggett and his column and turned out to be a Republican committeeman and a radio broadcaster and is so lacking in proper arrangement of subject matter that he had his wedging picture taken astraddle of the Democratic Emblem. The picture was taken after election and should have been taken with the donkey sitting on George.

Look at Art Mensing and Jake Earnest, to say nothing of Alfie Hill and Spot Johnson . . . Then there was Bert Cushing. Bert might have turned out good but he got to associating with the boss and reading his column. I used to beg Bert not to read that deadly column and now look at him. A republican and a college president.

Then look at Bess Stacy, never stole a sheep or a chicken or changed a brand or trumped her partner's trick in her life until she had been years and years under the influence of Hank Leggett and that devastating column of his.

I was telling my wife, I says, "I hate to admit it but there are people right in my old home town which same, his copy is so bad that the only way they can ever hope to have any of it published is for him to own a sheet themselves." I says, but of course I wouldn't mention names.

The boss refused to allow my picture to be published in the Quiz because he said that I was so blamed homely that the lithographer could never live through the ordeal and then the very next week he published a picture of Ralph Norman. And later he published pictures of Eddie Beranek and Doc Miller and even Len Covert. (That was the last straw.)

That would be about like refusing to publish the picture of Robert Taylor because he was too blamed homely and then publishing a picture of Bud Auble.—I tell you John, there is a limit.

Refusing to publish my picture was just jealousy again. The boss just can't stand to have the picture of a man better looking than himself published in his paper.

There are times when I get to thinking about the boss and that terrible column of his and its devastating influence on the artistic sensibilities of my old home community and I get so depressed that I feel like going into a fit of artist temperament and screaming and throwing things around . . . Then I get to thinking about you and Irma and George Govan being there on the staff and understanding cultural value and kinder balancing things off somewhat and it sustains me. Now I sincerely hope that none of the three of you will ever associate with the boss Saturday and that none of you even's sake, under any circumstances even read his column.

Further, the deponent sayeth nought.

MERRITT H. FUSON.

Tropical or Solar Year
The tropical or civil year, also sometimes called the solar year, is the time in which the sun moves from the vernal equinox to the vernal equinox again. Its mean length is 365 days, 5 hours, 48 minutes and 49.7 seconds.

PERSONALS

—Quiz want ads get results.
—Merrill Hughes was a passenger on the morning bus for Omaha Tuesday.

—Leland Cronk of Rawlins, Wyo., arrived Sunday morning for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Cronk. He is employed by the Union Pacific at Rawlins, and will be here a few days.

—J. H. Jacobson of the National Farm Loan office left Monday afternoon for Ames, Ia., where he was called by news of the death of his grandfather, who lived north of Ames near Gilbert. The funeral was held there yesterday, and he expected to get back to Ord by noon today.

—F. C. Williams received a letter this week from Art Grafton, conductor on the Rock Island, telling of the death of C. B. (Bert) Davis, an engineer for the same road. Mr. Davis made his regular run out of Fairbury, Neb., the day before his death, and died in his sleep that night of heart failure. He was formerly located at Lincoln, and for years he came to Valley county in the hunting season. He was well acquainted with several Ordites, and with Leon Carkoski and a number of others from Elyria. He did not come up the past season as he was building a new home at Fairbury and wanted to get it done by Thanksgiving.

They would be about like refusing to publish the picture of Robert Taylor because he was too blamed homely and then publishing a picture of Bud Auble.—I tell you John, there is a limit.

They would want a corn to stand up well, hold its ears, resist heat, husk easy and last but not least they would demand quality.

Nu-Bred has all these features and we believe if you will give Nu-Bred a trial you will agree. Once you plant Nu-Bred you will always plant it.

Nu-Bred makes pork and beef without grinding or soaking.

For information about Nu-Bred Seed Corn see John Guggenmos, Fred McCowan, Harold Nelson or W. O. Zanger, of North Loup, Evert Smith, Ord, or see or write

ELYRIA NEWS

Miss Laura Sobon is spending several days here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sobon after completing a course at the Omaha Beauty school.

The Joe and Barney Kuklish families were Sunday afternoon visitors in the Emil Kuklish home.

The Ed Greenwalt family moved most of their personal effects to St. Paul last week where they have leased a farm for the coming year.

Ray Diugosh accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rowbal of Oakland, Calif., who were returning to their home last Thursday. He will spend a few weeks there visiting and sight seeing.

A dance was held here in the Ciemny hall last Sunday evening with the Mason band of Ord furnishing the music. The proceeds were for the Infantile Paralysis fund. The same evening the ladies of the Jolly Home Makers club sponsored a card party at T.S.T. Mary's club room for the same benefit. With eight tables of pinochle at play high score was won by Mrs. James Iwanski, second high by Louise Greenwalt and low by Al Radke. The door prize was won by Mrs. J. A. Diugosh. At the close of play the ladies served a lunch. W. E. Dodge is the local chairman for this cause.

Mr. and Mrs. William Helleberg and son Richard motored to Oak Hill, Kan., last Friday where they visited with relatives. They returned Monday evening. During their absence, Mrs. Lloyd Zelewski of Ord acted as substitute custodian at the depot.

Several Comstock men came to play in the pinochle contest against the Elyria men last Friday evening. This was the second game in the series and the Comstock men lead by 840 points.

In observance of Mrs. Bridget Osbetski's birthday last Wednesday several of the ladies of the Study Club, with their husbands, came to the rectory and surprised her that evening. The evening was spent in playing pinochle and after play a lunch of sandwiches and ice cream and birthday cake was served. The honoree received several lovely gifts. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. James Iwanski, Mr. and Mrs. Leon Dubas, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janus, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Diugosh, Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Zukoski, Mr. and Mrs. John Knopik, Mrs. Mary Wentek and sons Phillip and Steve, Mrs.

Ground School Course Being Given at School

Beginning at the start of the second semester, Monday of this week, the Ord high school is offering a course in ground work in aeronautics under the direction of Principal F. L. Stoddard.

Though the aeronautical industry has been increasing rapidly for several years, schools have given little attention to courses of this nature.

Several months ago an attempt was made to find the number of schools in the United States that were offering courses that included any information pertaining to aerodynamics. There were very few. This year many schools are offering a ground course, including the following units: History of aerodynamics, civil air regulations, navigation, meteorology, parachutes, aircraft and theory of flight, engines, instruments, radio uses and forms.

Membership in the class is restricted to seniors and juniors of the school. The members taking the course are Warren Allen, Alex Cochran, Harvey Dahl, Burdette Fredricksen, Lloyd Geweke, Ray Furtak, Robert Klima, William Malolepszy, John Marker, Lyle Norman, Junior Petska, Ernest Piskorski, Cassius Pickett, Clarence Romans, Orville Stoddard and Henry Adams.

Solo Day at Ord High to Come February 25

The annual solo day at the Ord high school has been scheduled for Feb. 25. On that day from 50 to 75 vocal instrumental soloists of the high school will receive help and criticism. Arrangements have been made for Prof. Don Lentz and Herman Decker, both of the University of Nebraska, to be present at that time.

Prof. Lentz, who has been here twice before, will rehearse the band and orchestra in the morning and will hear instrumental solos in the afternoon. Mr. Decker is new to Ord as critic. He will take care of the glee club, chorus and vocal solos.

Solo Day is an annual event in the Ord high school, and has proved well worth the trouble and expense.

NYA Razies Buildings to Use Material Later

Work is proceeding in the tearing down of the two pump buildings and old power house near Dane creek north of town, and the roof of the old still well is being removed. This work is being done by about 25 NYA boys under the direction of Councilman Joe Rohla.

The material is all being saved and the plaster is being knocked off the old brick, which will probably be used later to build a shelter house at Russell Park. If this is built the work will be done by NYA labor. Since the building of the new plant the buildings above mentioned have been of no value to the city.

Proceedings of the County Board

January 14, 1941, at 10:00 o'clock a.m.

Annual meeting called to order by County Clerk Klima, with supervisors Jablonski, Zikmund, Barber and Hansen, and supervisors-elect Suchanek, Ball and Johnson, present upon roll call.

Supervisor Barber was nominated and elected temporary Chairman of the board, and took charge of the meeting.

Temporary Chairman Barber, then appointed Hansen, Jablonski and Zikmund, as Committee on Credentials of newly elected members, and then proceeded to examine credentials and official bonds and oaths, and made following report, to-wit:

TO COUNTY BOARD OF SUPERVISORS:

Our committee on Credentials of new members Suchanek, Ball and Johnson, newly elected members of this board, beg to report that we have examined the bonds and oaths of office of the said newly elected members, and find same to be in proper form and on file in the office of County Judge, and we recommend that the said J. V. Suchanek, Ellsworth Ball, jr., and Charles E. Johnson, be seated as the newly elected supervisors from their respective districts.

Supervisor Ball was then nominated and unanimously elected as permanent Chairman of the County Board for the ensuing year of 1941, by acclamation.

Chairman Ball then took charge of the meeting of the Board, and at noon recessed meeting until 1:00 p.m. of same day at which again called to order with all supervisors present.

Chairman then announced the appointment of the following standing committees of the County Board, for the ensuing year, the first member named in each committee, to be Chairman of such committee, to-wit:

ROAD AND BRIDGE COMMITTEE: Johnson, Suchanek and Barber.

BUILDING AND GROUNDS COMMITTEE: Zikmund, Jablonski and Hansen.

COMMITTEE ON SETTLEMENTS WITH COUNTY OFFICERS: Jablonski, Zikmund and Barber.

COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS: Barber, Jablonski and Johnson.

Bank balances as of December 31, 1940, read as follows: First National Bank, Ord, $63,782.12; Nebraska State Bank, Ord, $49,514.84, and Arcadia State Bank, $24,773.84.

Applications of First National Bank, Ord, Nebr.; Nebraska State Bank, Ord, Nebr., and Arcadia State Bank, Arcadia, Nebr., asking that they and each one of them be designated as a depository for the deposit of funds and all moneys of and belonging to the County of Valley, the State of Nebraska, be accepted and ordered placed on file.

BE IT RESOLVED, by this Board of County Supervisors of the County of Valley, The State of Nebraska, in regular session assembled, that the applications of the following banks, to-wit: Nebraska State Bank, Ord, Nebr.; The First National Bank, Ord, Nebr., and the Arcadia State Bank, Arcadia, Nebr., asking that they and each one of them be designated as a depository for the deposit of funds and all moneys of and belonging to the County of Valley, the state of Nebraska, for and during the year 1941, ensuing, in accordance with and pursuant to the provisions, conditions, restrictions and limitations provided by law and section 3 and 4 of Senate File Number 122 as passed by the Legislature of the state of Nebraska in regular session in and for 1935. That the deposit of all securities by each of said banks be and the same hereby is approved as to such securities and the deposit thereof as a pledge with the various trusts.

Motion to adopt was seconded and said resolution being concurred in, roll was called, all supervisors voted "aye" and chairman declared motion carried and Resolution duly adopted.

Motion seconded and carried that each supervisor look after roads and bridges in his District, between sessions.

Motion seconded and carried that each supervisor be authorized to look after indigent persons in our districts between sessions.

Motion seconded and carried, authorizing Chairman and County Clerk to sign all regular salary and gasoline tax warrants.

Matter of renting the County farm for 1941 came on for consideration, and after due consideration of conditions of land being developed for irrigation, it was moved that Chairman be authorized to enter into lease with Harry C. Van Slyke, for rent of the farm for the year of 1941, upon same terms and conditions of lease as for 1940. Motion duly carried.

The matter of operation of the Arcadia WPA sewing project came on for discussion and consideration, after which supervisors offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption.

WHEREAS it has come to the attention of this Board that the Works Projects Administration District Office is contemplating the closing and discontinuing of the operation of the WPA sewing project in Arcadia, Nebraska, and

WHEREAS there are not less than four women workers available for assignment to work on said sewing project, and

WHEREAS these women (if said project is discontinued) will become direct relief clients and charges of this county, and Valley county has no funds with which to provide for these women workers and their families, therefore BE IT RESOLVED by this Board of County Supervisors, in regular session assembled that we believe that it is economically sound and advisable to continue the operation of the Arcadia WPA sewing project, and that a formal protest is hereby entered against the discontinuance and the closing of said sewing project, and that a certified copy of this resolution be transmitted forthwith to the WPA District Office, and to Mr. D. F. Felton, State Director of Works Projects Administration.

Motion was seconded by Suchanek, and after being concurred in, roll was called and all supervisors voted "aye" and the Chairman declared motion carried and said resolution adopted.

Chairman then announced appointment of E. Clyde Baird, of Arcadia, a member of Soldiers' and Sailors' Commission in and for Valley county, to succeed himself, for a term of three years.

Application of Dr. J. N. Round, for appointment, as County Physician came on for consideration and upon motion duly carried, Dr. J. N. Round was appointed County Physician and Health Officer in and for Valley county for 1941.

Report of County Treasurer of 1940 tax sales, was accepted and ordered placed on file.

Upon motion duly carried, Jen Klima, jr., was appointed as Valley county Budget making authority, for the 1941 budget.

Report of activities of the Farm Bureau, during 1940, and report of expenditures for same period was read and upon motion duly carried, both were accepted and ordered placed on file.

Matter of coyote bounties came on for discussion after which supervisor Zikmund offered the following resolution and moved its adoption to-wit:

WHEREAS during the past several years, a number of the surrounding counties in this part of the state have not been paying bounty for coyote scalps as provided by law, and

WHEREAS other and additional counties have decided to not pay bounties on coyotes during 1941, and

WHEREAS we have reasons to believe that it would be unwise and economically unjust to the taxpayers of this county, to pay such coyote bounties when adjoining and surrounding counties do not pay such bounties in their respective counties, therefore

BE IT RESOLVED by this board of County Supervisors that the County Clerk be authorized and directed not to pay bounties on any coyotes during the year 1941.

Motion to adopt was seconded by Jablonski, and upon roll call, all supervisors voted "aye" and the Chairman declared the foregoing resolution unanimously adopted.

Report of activities of County Attorney during 1940 read and accepted on motion carried.

There being no printing and supplies bids on file as advertised for, the matter of designation of official county paper came on for consideration, whereupon it was moved and seconded that The Ord Quiz, be designated as the Valley county official paper, for the year 1941, upon same terms and conditions with reference to publications and printing, and the furnishing of supplies, as prevailed for the year of 1940. Motion duly carried.

Being 5:00 o'clock p.m., meeting recessed until January 15, 1941, at 10:00 o'clock a.m., at which time again called to order by Chairman with all supervisors present.

The following named persons were named by the Supervisors from their respective districts for Jury Service during first half of 1941, namely:

Earliest Record of Coal
The earliest historical record of coal is that of Theophrastus, 300 B.C., who says in his book on stones that coal is used by blacksmiths in Greece and Italy. The earliest mention of coal in England was that made by the bishop of Durham, 1196 A.D. Coal was mined in Belgium about 1200 A.D. In 1239 A.D. Henry III granted a license to mine coal. Coal was first shipped to London in 1240. In 1306, the burning of coal in London was prohibited because of the smoke.

Grade School Notes.

Correction: Bernice Walker should have been included in the list of pupils that had been neither absent or tardy the first semester.

On January 17, the sixth grade basketball team played the seventh grade team in the grade school gym. It was a good even game throughout and was enjoyed by both teams. Although the seventh grade won 17 to 9, the sixth grade boys promise more competition in the return game which is to be played soon. Boys from the sixth grade were: Eldon Loft, Roger Dahl, Dick Arnold, Verden Valsesak, Geno Draper, Donald Walker, Verne Jobst and Edmund Swank. Seventh grade players were: Eldon Keller, George Dworak, Charles Draper, Donald Habig, Roger Miller, Lloyd Hurlbert, Jack Malopezy and Hugh Cahill. Hilding Pearson refereed.

Visitors: Mrs. T. S. McIntyre, a cousin of Miss Robinson, visited last Friday. Mrs. John Misko visited the second and third grade rooms; Mrs. Eugene Leggett visited the second grade.

Birthdays: Glendall Hollander 12; Carole Lane 7, Marilyn Parks 12; Duane Wolf 6.

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

Mrs. Charles Harrod returned to her home at Giltnier Friday after spending a week with her sister, Mrs. J. W. Harrod, who has been ill. Mrs. Wayne Mann, of North Loup, visited her mother Monday. Mrs. Harrod's health is improving.

George Johnson of Ovitt submitted to a minor operation in Dr. Cram's hospital Monday.

Mrs. F. E. Welton entered Dr. Miller's hospital Tuesday where she received surgical treatment.

Henry Gembola and Dean Higgins, who are in charge of the soil conservation work at the OCC camp at Broken Bow spoke at the Wranglers meeting in the Burwell hotel Monday evening. Mr. Gembola explained the organization of the program and told how soil conservation districts are formed. Mr. Higgins presented slides showing the practices which tended to prevent erosion and store up water in the soil. An unusually large crowd was present. A group of high school students under the direction of Mr. Struve presented a musical program. Marcella Wheeler played a saxophone solo accompanied by Mildred Hunnell. Leslie Chaffin sang a solo. Esther Ballagh presented a piano solo. Colleen Heitz a vocal solo and a trio composed of Dorothy Dee and LaVonne Johnson and Irene Phillips sang several numbers. By special request Irene presented a whistling solo. They were accompanied by Max Meyers.

Mrs. B. A. Rose explained the traveling exhibit of the reproductions of the masterpieces of the artists at the meeting of the Women's club in the library Monday afternoon. These pictures are owned by the sixth Nebraska district of the Women's club. For each member told about her favorite type of picture. Mrs. Andy Snyder, Mrs. Paul Banks and Mrs. W. F. Grunkemeyer served refreshments.

Mrs. Paul Banks presented a discussion on the kinds, types, and importance of hobbies at the meeting of the Domestic Science club in the home of Mrs. B. W. Wagner Wednesday afternoon. For each member told about her hobby.

Miss Laverna Janicek, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Janicek is a lucky girl, for every stitch of clothing she has is brand new. Friday afternoon a fire occurred at the Janicek home, 6 miles west of Burwell, in which all of her clothes were destroyed. The blaze started in the closet of Laverna's room. Mrs. Janicek and her father, Frank Vancura who was visiting in the Janicek home, carried water upstairs and kept the flames checked until the Burwell fire department arrived. Laverna's room was badly smoked, the floor was charred and ceiling below badly soaked with water. The cause of the fire was undetermined. No one had been upstairs since 7 o'clock in the morning. The fire started about 3. The loss is fully covered with insurance.

Polio Drive Is Very Successful

Dance in Ord Thursday and at Arcadia Saturday to Close Drive, Says Veleba.

The Valley county drive to raise funds for the nation-wide fight against infantile paralysis has been very successful, reports the chairman, Chas. E. Veleba, and this week will mark conclusion of the drive.

A dance will be given at the Bohemian hall in Ord Thursday night with music by the Steve Christi orchestra from KGFW, with proceeds to go to the polio fund. Saturday evening dance will be given at the Doe hall in Arcadia, with proceeds going to the same worthy cause.

The card party at North Loup has been called off due to the tragedy which has hit that community last week and this.

At Elyria last Sunday night a dance was given at Clemy hall and a card party also was given, both being very successful.

In fact, the whole drive has progressed satisfactorily, says Chairman Veleba. Many coin cards have been returned already and he is anxious that all be returned to him by the end of this week, which they are full, partly filled or empty. The cards are numbered and must be accounted for which is the reason for his request.

Acknowledgment will be made next week of contributors to the fund, Veleba says.

Runyan Home Badly Damaged by Flames

Burwell—(Special)—Fire originating in a defective flue did extensive damage this morning to the Glen Runyan home here, but firemen thought they had the fire under control at noon. Most of the shingles were torn off or burned and the house will not be habitable until extensive repairs are made. Amount of the property loss has not yet been estimated.

Miss Eunice Chase Back from California

Miss Eunice Chase returned on Wednesday morning from a several weeks' visit in California, which she began gaily with a ride west on the train "City of Los Angeles" football special. As she descended from the train in Los Angeles someone hailed her by name whom she could not recognize. The stranger introduced herself as the former Ord music teacher, Bessie Rouse, now married, living in Los Angeles, and some fifty pounds heavier. She was accompanied by her seven year old son.

The tournament of roses was a beautiful spectacle in Pasadena and every seat was sold. Most seats were $2 and $3 this year, compared with $1 last year, Miss Chase reported. The football game was a big thrill, the band made an excellent showing and Nebraska as a whole made a proud record in California. Of course she watched Zinklund with special interest, and so did the party with which she sat. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. McLaughlin and Mr. and Mrs. Folke Karlsson of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Gies of El Centro.

The original wedding took place in Marquette, Jan. 23, 1891. The home of the bride's parents was the scene of the ceremony. Mr. Adams says that one of the worst blizzards he has ever experienced occurred on that day. "We had planned to be married by a minister," Mr. Adams related, "But there was five feet of snow on the ground and he could not get there and so a judge performed the ceremony."

After their marriage Mr. and Mrs. Adams moved to a farm near Giltnier where they made their home for several years. Then they moved to Cedar Rapids, Ia., where he was employed in an oat meal factory. After living there for several years they moved to Doniphon where they operated a restaurant for eight years. Their next move was to Harvard where their daughter, Norma, was born. From there they moved to Blair where they operated a theater for five years. While living in Blair, Norma was born. Twenty-six years ago they moved to Burwell where they have since made their home.

When asked if he believed if it were easier for a marriage to succeed fifty years ago than it is today, Mr. Adams replied strongly in the affirmative. He declared that young people had more opportunities fifty years ago and that there was no need for relief and WPA then.

On Friday the two girls went to Pomona to visit in the home of Mrs. McLaughlin and her parents, the Sershens. Last Wednesday was a gala day at the Kardell home in Los Angeles, with the McLaughlins, Gies, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cross and Mrs. J. C. Work dinner guests in honor of Miss Chase.

On Sunday Mrs. Cross, the former Curly Kokes, had the same group at her Los Angeles home for a dinner party.

About ten days ago Mr. and Mrs. McLaughlin and Miss Chase went to Hollywood to a big American Legion prizewinner, sitting amidst film celebrities. They got a kick from Billy Gilbert's hearty laughter, especially. A week later they returned to Hollywood to see not only broadcasting done, but television casting also.

Miss Chase spent three days at the spring market show in Los Angeles, buying several spring lines for her women's wear shop. Of course California emphasis is on play clothes and slacks, so she bought a few.

ABSURD ADVERTISING.

It is usually safe for the customer to discount very largely the claims of the absurd advertiser, and most customers have learned that fact. The fakir of the traveling medicine show made sales by claiming all kinds of miraculous things about the product he had for sale and at the same time convincing them that they were getting a real bargain.

In spite of the fact that this has been known for generations, every medicine fakir who hits the town makes a number of sales, and he usually makes these sales to older men, men who have perhaps seen such fakirs before, but who are taken in, nevertheless. However, our present laws make it difficult for the old style cure-all man to ply his trade.

At this time, however, we come in contact with a new type of publicity man, on a higher plane than the old type street medicine man, but operating along much the same lines. The chief difference between this man and the man who advertises in the newspapers is not in what he says, but the way in which he says it, although he sometimes makes almost absurd claims.

The attitude this type of salesman takes is that his is the one and only product of its kind, the only remedy that will cure the disease for which it is intended. To hear him talk, you would think that there was no other product in the world made for the same purpose as his. His idea is to sell his product to the exclusion of every other.

The utter absurdity of this line of reasoning is evident to many, but it is apparent that among his thousands of listeners there will be many who take his statements for gospel truth. As one man recently stated: "He must be telling the truth, or they would make him get off the air". The only way of making him get off the air would be for some competitor to start action, and they are all tarred with the same stick.

The radio advertiser has two advantages, if they may be called that, over the newspaper advertiser, and both of these work to the discomfort of the average listener. When you read what you want to read, ads included, and skip what you are not interested in. You either sit by your radio and turn it down during the ads, or else listen to them whether you want to or not.

The other advantage is that he may, and does, go beyond the limits of the printed copy furnished him by the advertiser, and, by putting the paths in the right place, produce a much different effect that can be conveyed by mere words. Radio advertising ranges from the reading of ad copy in a smooth, well modulated voice to making so dramatic that those who are not even sick are apt to have all the symptoms mentioned before the speaker is through.

The absurdity of much radio advertising is shown by the fact that a certain commentator was putting out publicity for a well known cough remedy in December, giving the impression that it was the only kind to use, and on his first broadcast in January he came out making the same claims for an entirely different product.

Many worth while items are advertised over the radio, but it is well for the customer to consider statements carefully and not be carried away by the enthusiasm of a paid announcer. If the item is advertised in the newspapers as well as over the radio, it is likely to be a safe product to buy. So long as the radio stations must depend upon advertising for support, we will have to accept this advertising as a necessary evil.

SHRINKING BIRTH RATE.

Figures released by the Bureau of the Census last week bring out some rather startling conditions and serve to prove what informed people have been telling us for years, that the birth rate is decreasing rapidly in the United States. The same pamphlet furnishes proof that people are living to a greater age now than at any time in our history.

The reduced birth rate is nothing to be alarmed about, unless the reduction becomes so great that births are fewer than deaths. This would be a serious condition indeed, similar to that in France during the past generation or two. Eventually such a condition would depopulate the country to such an extent that our standing as a nation would be endangered.

In a democratic government there will come a time when the population is at a standstill, but so long as there are enough people to transact the business of the nation, this condition is nothing to worry about. In a totalitarian government, where men for a large standing army are a necessity, any reduction in population can be a distinct menace.

The Bureau of Census issued a table, known as the median age table, in which was given the median, or average of all persons in the United States for 1940. This was found to be 29 years for the males and 28.9 for the females.

The figures were given back to 1890, when the median age of males was 21.5, and of females, 21 years, the age gradually increasing through the ensuing decades.

With this increase in the average age, an increase in population would be inevitable if the birth rate remained the same. However, it has not, as is proven by another table showing the percentage of distribution by ages in 1940 as compared with 1930. The findings here are truly startling, though nothing more than a person would have a right to expect.

The figures are as follows: 34.5% of the people were under 20 years in 1940, and 33.8% in 1930; 39% were 20 to 44 years in 1940, and 33.3% in 1930; 19.7% were 45 to 64 years in 1940, and 17.4% in 1930; 6.8% were 65 years and over in 1940, and 5.4% in 1930.

In 1940 there were 8,956,206 persons in the United States who had reached the age of 65 years, considerably more than 2,000,000 more than had reached that age in 1930. At the same time there were 5,500,000 fewer people under 20 years of age in 1940 than there were in 1930.

This increase in the average age was made in spite of the fact that accidents of all kinds accounted for the death of 93,000 persons in the United States last year, nearly double the number of Americans killed in battle during the World War. This number is more than the population of eleven counties the size of Valley.

TO PROTECT IRRIGATORS.

Senator A. C. Van Diest, of our neighboring county of Loup, has proposed in the current session of the Nebraska legislature a bill which will, if it is passed, do much to settle the fight now brewing over whether irrigation or power shall have prior right to the waters of Nebraska streams.

The Van Diest bill, numbered 202, would amend Secs. 70-707 of the statutes to give those using water for agricultural purposes a preference over those using it for power purposes, sets forth the procedure by which irrigation districts may acquire and appropriate water now being used for power purposes and defines "just compensation" which the irrigation districts shall pay for water so appropriated.

When the Nebraska laws on this point were drawn, and especially when the enabling act known as S. B. 310 was passed a few years ago, making it possible for our present power and irrigation districts to be organized, it certainly was not intended that water should be denied to farmers who need it to raise crops, in order that power might be produced.

Electricity can be generated by coal or oil or other fuels but only water applied to Nebraska's fertile soil can grow crops, and only growing crops can keep farmers on Nebraska farms.

At present the success of districts already organized, like the North and Middle Loup districts, and new ones proposed, like the Sargent district, is threatened by the stand taken by the Loup district at Columbus, which contends that because it has a prior right to the waters of the Loup rivers, water should be denied to irrigators and left in the streams so that power may be generated at Columbus.

Passage of the Van Diest bill, possibly with minor amendments, would do much to protect irrigators and would save the irrigation districts thousands of dollars in costs by averting long-drawn-out court actions such as are now threatened.

Old Time Group by Anderson Proves Real Puzzle

The above photo, taken by W. A. Anderson about 1890 or earlier, looked so familiar that we had it made up, expecting that it would be no trouble to find somebody who could name a part of them, at least. However, this has not proven easy, and the only clue we can give is that the middle fellow in the back row looks very much like Harold W. Foght, while the second girl to his right in the group in front of him might be his sister Aggie. If you can help us identify the rest of them come in and see the original picture and tell us all about it.

All circumstances force me to do otherwise. Some folks have a different philosophy and always look on the dark side until circumstances force them to change their views and thereby get a chance to do a lot of high class worrying that, otherwise, they would miss. Somehow I feel that my way is best. Still, people built the other way can't help it I suppose.

Total defense should mean no jobless, says a news story heading. But I believe we should do a little thinking, even if everyone gets a job in the defense program, about what will happen when the war ends and the necessity for war munitions tapers off, as it surely must. Neither this nor any other country can go on forever borrowing and spending money the way we are doing now. Most people feel that the depression that followed the first world war will be a picnic compared with what we will get when the present war ends. So it behoves everyone who makes a decent living while this war is going on, to live on less and save some for the rainy day that is surely coming. It may not be nice to spread such gloomy thoughts but it might be better in the long run if more people were thinking along these lines.

I hope I have finished my winter vacation. It was not long but it was long enough. When I went up stairs last Wednesday afternoon, after helping to get the Quiz run and into the postoffice, I had no idea that I would stay there, and in bed, till Monday of this week. But such proved to be the case. I knew I was awful tired, but I am usually more or less tired when late Wednesday comes. I told the Missus that I was much more tired than usual. I am usually hungry but that night I had little appetite and I ached and felt chilly. I was sneezing often and so was the Missus. Flu, I guess, she said, and by seven-thirty we were both in bed. And we stayed there till Sunday. Most of you can guess how we felt, for you have had it. She is still in bed Monday but I think a couple of days more may let her up. I have turned a week since being shaved but have orders to go no further than my desk. When I came down I was a bit rebellious and had my neck bowed a little, with the idea that I would go contrary to orders and visit the barber. But after a couple of hours I believe I will be content to stay in today, in fact if Helen was not out collecting and everyone else busy, I think I would go up and try the bed a while now. But Kent didn't show up this morning and everyone is busy, so I will try to stay on the job, at least till noon.

The enthusiasm with which the senators talked of a small number of bills and a short session, has subsided and now this session promises to be a record for number of new bills introduced and the length of it. And it is a shame. We did so need a break this year. Many of the bills, if made into law, would be a detriment. But it seems that every senator has a lot of fool notions that he must parade before the public at great length and expense. So far I have seen no record of our senator introducing a bill and perhaps he will not. If he does the right thing he will oppose a majority of those so far introduced.

If the members of the legislature will do away with a bunch of boards and commissions, pass a few necessary laws and adjourn and go home soon enough to make this a record session for shortness of time, they will be doing the people of Nebraska a wonderful service. Of course there are a lot of sob sisters and professional reformers who would, if they could, have several commissions and boards set up. As a rule such boards and commissions are tax eaters who seldom pay any taxes themselves.

Nebraska in the Making

By Joseph C. Alden

The first covered wagon train to cross Nebraska over the Oregon Trail started a hundred and eleven years ago on April 10, 1830. Neither time nor plow has obliterated the marks of this historic route. It was the highway across which flowed the migration that was to transform the character of the country and make a homeland of plains and prairies.

One of the picturesquely figures of those settlement days was Ezra Meeker who made the long journey to Oregon in 1852. In 1906 he retraced his course with an ox-team and recalled to people along the way the mode of travel and the privations and perils of travel when oxen pulled the covered wagons and a day's journey was about fifteen miles.

No more do the ox-teams stir the deep dust of the Oregon Trail but the prints of memory mark it well in the recollection of the passing generation.

It is estimated that twenty thousand men, women and children lost their lives on this trail in the period of migration spurred by the Oregon trail. Dangers from storm, hunger, exhaustion, Indians, and bandits dogged the course of the travelers who were compelled to resort to mass movements in trains for self protection.

all manner of things that would not be actual invasion. And do not think he would not do it either. He would do anything to accomplish his end.

Should England Win.

The great preponderance of opinion is in favor of Great Britain. We rejoice at any victory they get, no matter how small. They have been tremendously successful against the Italians and we delight in it. But whipping the Italians does not mean Germany can whip England unless it is by blockade, or oil shortage, or revolution or some way other than gun fighting. This war might last for many years.

If Hitler Wins.

But if Hitler should win a quick victory, we quaver at the thought of what might happen next. In winning that victory Hitler might and probably would, take the English navy too. He would take Gibraltar and the Suez Canal and perhaps Singapore. Many people scoff at that, saying the navy would scatter to the colonies or here.

The outlook is dour also, because it appears now this war is drifting into a stalemate. A quick victory would at least have the destruction over.

might last for years, and the longer the war lasts, the more exhausted will be the people and the nations in the end.

Few of us believe Hitler's bragging, that he will invade, conquer and destroy Great Britain. It is possible he is bragging to bolster his people's spirit. It is possible too, that he may do just what he says he will do. He bragged he would take France and he did it. He made good most of his boasts. We cannot dispute he is very powerful; that he has taken more people and nations under his rule than any other man ever did.

But he has not taken England yet. England is getting stronger each day. England has whipped Italy until it hardly counts any more. England has the money bags. English spirit has not been broken. England still has control (mostly) of the seas. English shipping is still in operation.

In spite of this, England has no way to attack Germany or no landing port on the continent any more than Germany has on England. It seems the remotest possibility for England to whip Germany on the land. If Germany is whipped, most people think it will be from some other cause than land fighting.

With all the countries Germany has annexed and conquered, her resources are much greater than in the other world war. Then the

the way.

When England falls, our turn will be that much nearer. It may be next. It is doubtful if Hitler will try to conquer the United States by gun fighting. With the English navy he can run a blockade around us, sink our ships, cut us off from world trading, perhaps attack Panama or Alaska and here in the United States things will not be so rosy in 1941. Already in debt nearly fifty billions, we now are adding more billions and more billions for nothing in return. We are building an army and all that goes with it, at a frightful cost and all on earth it is designed for is destruction. Some one will have to pay for this sometime, some way or another; some one will have to pay for this debauch.

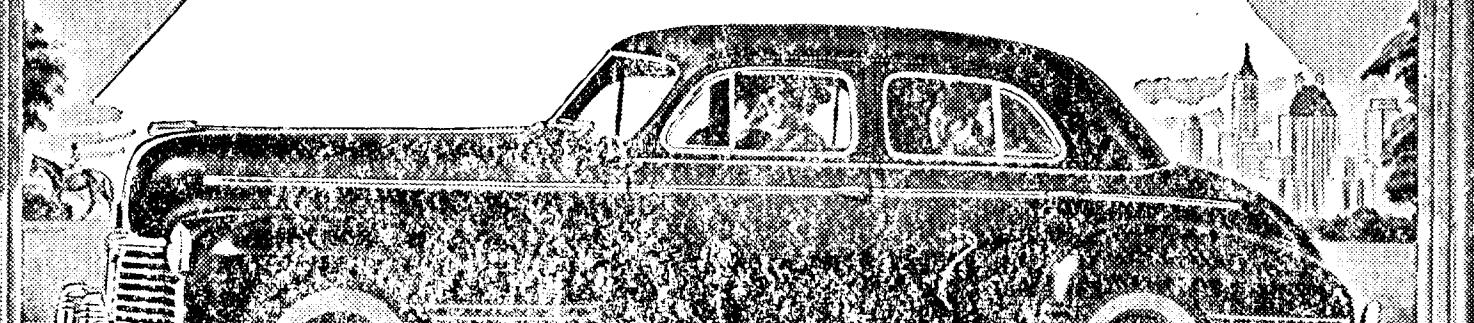

And we call ourselves civilized.

For a fact, the one land that has had the least war of any on earth, is dark Africa.
