Pay Day Spree Puts NYA Worker in County Jail

Everett Olson, 24, Admits Was Driving Car While Drunk; Gets 30 Day Sentence.

A pay day spree Thursday resulted in the arrest of Everett Olson, 24, and when he pleaded guilty in county court Friday morning to a charge of driving a car while intoxicated he was sentenced by Judge John L. Andersen to serve 30 days in county jail at hard labor and to pay costs of the action. As an additional penalty, young Olson's license to drive an automobile was suspended for the period of one year.

The actions that brought about the young man's arrest occurred about 4:30 Thursday afternoon on the west side of the square in Ord. John R. Haskell testified in court that Olson drove down the west side of the square, scattering school children and narrowly missing one of them, swung around a stop button at the corner and parked in front of the Beranek drug store.

There he took a log chain from his car, fastened his car to the cement column supporting a mail box, took a final drink from a whiskey bottle and threw the bottle into the street. George Satterfield witnessed this action and asked the young man to pick up the bottle, which he did, putting it back into his car.

Two people who had been observing young Olson's reckless driving called Chief of Police L. H. Covert who took him into custody and took him to the sheriff's office in the court house for questioning.

In court Covert testified that young Olson walked "as straight as anybody" in going to the sheriff's office but that he could smell liquor on him and that after he had been in the warm sheriff's office for a few minutes he was noticeably intoxicated.

The young man admitted everything to which Haskell and Covert testified, smiling in shamefaced manner as he recalled fastening his car to the mail box column, but sat on and "chopped" the horn of his car twice before proceeding, so he knew that the school children saw him. When the charge was read to him he pleaded guilty.

To the county attorney young Olson related that he has been working for the NYA, that Thursday was pay day, that when he received his pay check he paid up a few small bills around town, gave some money to his mother and had about $2.00 left. He "decided to have some fun for once," he told the county attorney, and bought liquor with the money. His companion in the car was Dudley Hulbert, who did not drink any of the liquor, Olson told the officers.

Young Olson was arrested on a similar charge at Burwell last summer, he said in court, and at that time was fined and his driver's license was suspended for three months. It recently was returned to him, he said.

In sentencing him to serve 30 days in jail at hard labor, County Judge Andersen said: "I have no sympathy for drunken drivers and if any more such are brought into my court I expect to make the sentences progressively more severe until the practice of drinking while driving is stamped out here. I feel this is my duty for the protection of citizens."

He characterized Olson's offense as especially bad because it occurred in the business part of the city at a busy time of the day when school children were returning home and because it might have resulted in a serious accident or even death to a child.

He is a son of Dr. and Mrs. G. W. Olson and the family came here from St. Paul about a year ago.

Fire Alarm, No Fire

The city fire department was called to the Blessing apartment house on M street Saturday morning but discovered there was no fire. An explosion in the furnace showered soot through the house and when Mrs. Russell Craven opened the cellar door to learn the cause she saw smoke and flames and therefore turned in a fire alarm.

Gnaster Successful as Coyote Hunter

While traveling between Ord and North Loup Monday, Ed Gnaster had quite an interesting experience. He was traveling quite fast and the wind was whirling gusts of snow across the road. Suddenly a gray form flitted in front of the car and there was a bump.

Thinking he had hit a dog, Gnaster stopped the car and went back to see what it was. To his surprise it was a coyote, which was injured. He finished it with the handle from the jack. He found his front number plate bent straight back, but no other damage.

State Auxiliary President Honored Ord Visitor

Mrs. John Bosch, of Omaha, department president of the American Legion Auxiliary, was an Ord visitor last week and was honored at several parties. Above are Mrs. Bosch (right) and her hostess in Ord, Mrs. C. J. Mortensen, past president of the Auxiliary.

Thursday evening at the Legion hall, members of the Legion and Auxiliary met at a supper and program honoring Mrs. Bosch. She was honored at several other parties during her three-day stay in Ord.

Party Caucuses Were Held Here Wednesday Evening

3 Candidates for Councilmen, School and Park Board Were Nominated.

The city caucuses were held at the American Legion hall Wednesday evening. The representatives of the Good Government party met downstairs, and at the same time the Citizens group met in the upstairs room. Only a fair representation was out for either party.

The Good Government caucus organized by selecting John Haskell as chairman and E. L. Vogelzang as secretary. Clarence M. Davis was later added as the third member of the committee to fill vacancies, should any occur.

Joe Jirak was chosen for park board member, W. T. McLain for police magistrate, and Ralph Norman and Dr. H. N. Norris for members of the school board. Frank T. Johnson was nominated for councilman, first ward, A. W. Pierce in the second ward, and Dr. J. W. McGinnis in the third ward.

In the Citizens' caucus A. J. Shirley was chairman and John P. Misko was secretary. Frank T. Johnson was nominated for councilman in the first ward, Guy Burrows in the second ward, and Dr. McGinnis in the third ward. Joe Jirak was endorsed for park board, and Ralph Norman and M. Biedmond for school board.

This leaves only two contests in the spring election, that for councilman in the second ward, where A. W. Pierce and Guy Burrows are the candidates, and for one position on the school board, where M. Biedmond and Dr. H. N. Norris are candidates. Having his name on the ballot as candidate of both parties will naturally give Mr. Norman an edge in the race.

Ord Defeats Ansley in Season's Final Contest

In a fast and exceedingly rough game, Ord took the measure of the Ansley quintet on the Ord floor Friday evening by a final score of 34 to 26. Ord made a total of 13 fouls in this game, Romans going out by the foul route, and Ansley lost four men the same way and had a total of 20 fouls. Furtak made 19 of Ord's points, Romans and Malolepszy made 6 each, Adams made 2 and Cochrane made one.

The Ord reserves had little trouble in disposing of the Ansley reserves in the preliminary game, the final score being Ord 19, Ansley 11. In this game Ord had five personal fouls and Ansley had 9. E. Misko was high point man for Ord with 9, O. Hurlbert had 6 and Wilson had 4. Ord plays Superior in the opening game of the district tourney Tuesday evening, and the results appear elsewhere in the Quiz.

Mrs. Alice Vincent Dies at Home in Los Angeles

Pearson and Anderson have been advised of the death at Los Angeles of Mrs. Alice Vincent, well-known Valley county resident of many years ago. The body is being brought to Ord and will arrive Friday morning.

Plans, unless changed call for funeral services from the Pearson and Anderson chapel Sunday afternoon. The story of Mrs. Vincent's life will be published in full next week.

Townsend Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Ord Townsend club will be held Friday evening at the W. E. Kester home. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

49 Business Men Show Interest in Phone Show-down

Chamber Meeting Thursday Even Largely Attended, Matters of Importance Discussed.

By their presence at the February meeting of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, held Thursday evening in the K. of C. club rooms, forty-nine business men showed that the telephone issue is a matter of interest and importance to Ord. This and other matters were interestingly discussed and the meeting was the finest the Chamber has held in many years.

President C. J. Mortensen presided, calling first on Clarence M. Davis for a report on the activities of the road committee which he heads. Mr. Davis stated that his committee considers the Ord-Ericson highway, the Comstock-Ord highway with a Sargent connection and the proposed Haskell Creek detour the roads in which Ord is most greatly interested at present, and had been concentrating on these routes.

No. 11 from Ord to Burwell will be hard surfaced this summer, as will No. 11 between Scotia and Elba, and this will give Ord an all-weather outlet to the cities and an all-weather road leading into the city from the north, he said. No further work is necessary to assure completion of this road, in his opinion.

While work goes on this summer on the Ord-Burwell portion of No. 11 a detour for traffic will be necessary. The Chamber road committee, the county board and others, hope to have the Haskell Creek road designated as a detour by the state and gravelled as such with state funds. The Valley county portion of this road has been built to state specifications by the county but so far Garfield county has failed to take any action on the three miles of this road lying in Garfield county, pleading lack of funds. A movement now is under way to secure right-of-way privately, if the state will agree to grade and gravel these three miles for detour purposes, Mr. Davis said. He is inclined to think this will be done, as the Haskell Creek road is by far the best route available for No. 11 detour purposes so far as through traffic is concerned.

Six Men Win Overalls in Local Store Contest

Saturday the Oshkosh B'Gosh overall contest at the Brown-McDonald store came to a close, and at 9 p. m., the bag of sand supported by the overalls was weighed. The weight was 55 pounds, 12 ounces.

Then began the job of checking over the 1,500 guesses put into the box. When all were checked it was found that the following men were the winners: Fred Zionka, George Kasper, Chester Kirby, Joe Dlugosh, C. M. King and C. F. O. Schmidt. The management was highly pleased in the interest shown by the public in the contest.

Land Bank Meet Next Week.

The annual meeting of the North Loup Valley National Farm Loan association will be held next Wednesday, March 12, in the Masonic Hall at Ord. Prizes will be awarded in the picture and letter writing contests, according to W. J. Hather, president. There will be a noon "feed," a chalk talk, community singing and other entertainment features. All borrowers and their wives are urged to attend the meeting.

Fourteen Valley County Men Leave for Military Training Camp

Chanticleers Win First Tourney Game

Furtak's Basket in Final Seconds Gives the Ord Team a 32-30 Victory Over Superior; Geneva Next.

The Chanticleers of Ord high school won their first test in Class A tournament competition Monday night at Hastings when they defeated a highly touted Superior team 32 to 30.

The game was a thriller from the start and rarely did more than four points separate the two teams. Furtak's basket in the final 15 seconds was Ord's margin of victory.

Superior played a tight under-the-basket defense in the early part of the game and broke up Ord's short-passing game but long shots by Malolepszy drew out Superior's guards and Furtak began clicking with his short shots. Romans, Ord's star center, played a splendid floor game but couldn't get his shots to drop and scored only two points, both from the free throw line. Furtak was high point man for Ord.

This victory advances Ord in the tournament competition and Thursday the Chanticleers will face Geneva, who eliminated Hebron yesterday. The game is to be played at 5:50 p. m. A victory against Geneva would put Ord into the semi-finals, probably against York, which team beat Burwell 46 to 19 Tuesday. Since Geneva was badly defeated by Superior earlier in the season, it would seem that Ord has a fine chance to advance at least to the semi-finals.

Complaints Flood In on Ord-Ericson Road

The Valley county clerk's office, and also Tracy Hamilton, road commissioner, have been deluged lately with complaints about the condition of the Ord-Ericson road.

Even the three miles of gravel running south from the Burwell-Ericson highway have become almost impassable because of heavy truck traffic routed over this road. From the McMundes ranch to Elm Creek the road is even worse.

It seems like the state highway department would awaken to the fact that the Ord-Ericson road, designated as No. 57, is the only route by which many people of central and western Nebraska can get to northeast Nebraska without going a great distance out of the way. It is the only road, also, on which Wheeler county people and people from farther north and east can get to Ord without doubling the travel distance.

The state maintenance extends a few miles out of Ord and a few miles out of Ericson, leaving about 15 miles in the center without maintenance. In fairness to the traveling public the state should complete this highway without delay.

Nelson Awarded Trip to 4-H Club Week

In recognition of his services as a volunteer 4-H club leader, Lonnie Nelson has been awarded a prize trip to 4-H club week at the Nebraska College of Agriculture in June. This trip is offered by the Burlington railroad and covers transportation to and from Lincoln plus one-fourth of the club week registration fee. Top ranking leaders, who have been 4-H club members, will be honored in 64 counties this year. The Burlington has announced its intention of awarding similar trips in 1941.

Gould Flag Named to State Inspectorship

In Lincoln last week Gould B. Flagg, of Ord was notified of his appointment as an inspector for the department of agriculture, division of weights and measures, and this week began his new duties. His territory is all of Nebraska north of the Platte river. In company with another state inspector, and in a state truck, Mr. Flagg will travel from the east edge of Nebraska to the west edge. Ord will continue to be the family home and Mr. Flagg hopes to get home often for week ends.

Committee Favors Fort Hartsuff at 1st Public Hearing

Ord, Burwell People Went to Lincoln Wednesday; Kneza-cek Thinks Bill Will Pass.

Wednesday was the day set for the public hearing on Senator J. T. Knezaček's bill, No. 424, the enabling act whereby the old settlers association would be empowered to purchase Fort Hartsuff for a state park.

The time was to be 2 p. m., and early in the morning a number of interested persons were on their way to Lincoln. Clarence M. Davis, Ord member of the old settlers committee, left the night before, fearing that the threatening snowstorm might interfere with travel by morning.

Also going from Ord were A. A. Wiegardt, secretary of the Ord Chamber of Commerce, Archie Geweke and E. C. James. The latter men had other business in Lincoln but also appeared at the hearing, as did the sponsor, Senator Knezaček, also of Ord.

A large delegation was present from Burwell, going down in two autos. There were Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, daughter Maude and grandson Claude Kennedy, Miss Meda Draver, Miss Anna Cameron, Mrs. B. A. Rose and R. B. Miller. Others present were Anthony Koupal, formerly of Ord, and E. M. White, formerly of Burwell.

Will Discuss Soil Conservation Here

E. H. Doll, extension conservationist of the College of Agriculture will deliver an illustrated talk on conservation practices and discuss the organization and workings of the soil conservation district at a meeting at the district court room in Ord on Friday, Feb. 7 at 2:00 p. m.

Methods of contouring, terracing, building dams and other means of soil and water conservation will be explained and illustrated, by means of colored pictures.

The meeting was arranged by the Valley County Farm Bureau in response to many requests from farmers who are interested in general soil and moisture conservation practices and also in the district type of organization for carrying out conservation measures on a large scale.

The soil conservation district plan which was the subject of a great deal of controversy a few years ago is now growing rapidly, with districts already functioning or being organized in all parts of the state. One of the largest in the state is the proposed new district in Custer county covering 675,000 acres, an area almost twice as large as Valley county.

A special invitation is extended to A. C. P. committeemen to attend this meeting because of the fact that these conservation practices are approved for soil building payments under the A. C. P. program in Nebraska. Other farmers who are interested are also invited to the meeting.

North Loup Declamatory Contest Held Tuesday

North Loup—(Special)—The local declamatory contest was held here Tuesday with winners being eligible for the sub-district contest which will be held March 14. About twenty students took part in the contest yesterday, giving their readings first in the afternoon with three selected from each class to repeat them in the evening. Miss Clara McClatchey, county superintendent of schools, was the judge.

In the humorous department Miss Grace Manchester won first with "Closing Day Program." Frances Goodrich placed first in dramatic with "Mickey's Marker." Albert Babecek, jr., only oratorical contestant, gave "Supreme Menace." The last play cast gave "Cousin Anne." All contestants were coached by Mrs. Elley.

Weller Appeals Farm Valuation to District Court

Bought Hager Farm for $8,500 but Value for Tax Purposes Is $18,400; Asks Reduction.

An interesting case that may have far-reaching results was heard by Judge W. F. Spikes in district court here Monday, the case being E. C. Weller's appeal from the decision of the Valley county board of equalization as regards the value of the 1,200 acre ranch he bought last May from the John B. Hager estate.

The ranch is assessed for taxing purposes at $18,400, including the 15 per cent reduction ordered last year by the state board of equalization. Weller paid only $8,500 for the farm, he testified Monday.

When the board of equalization met last summer Weller appeared before it to ask reduction of the assessed valuation from $18,400 to only $8,500 on the ground that this is the actual value of the farm. The board refused the reduction. Weller appealed from the board's decision and the appeal was heard Monday.

Acting for Mr. Weller, Attorney C. M. Davis and E. L. Vogelzang introduced several witnesses to testify as to the value of the farm in question. V. W. Robbins and A. W. Pierce said the place is worth about $9,000. In their judgment, James Ollis placed its value at $9,500. C. J. Mortensen valued it at $9,170. Dick Karre, tenant on the place, testified that it is worth $8,600. Mr. Weller, himself, said the actual value of the place is $8,500, since that is the amount he paid for it. Arnold Bredthauer fixed the value at $9,000, but under cross-examination by County Attorney John P. Misko as to the value of pasture land, dry farming land, irrigated land, improvements and other parts of the ranch, he gave estimates which totalled $11,600. All the witnesses were questioned at length by Mr. Misko after they completed their testimony for the plaintiff.

For the county, Misko introduced only two witnesses, one being E. S. Murray who said that in his judgment a true valuation of the ranch would be $10 per acre, or $12,600, under present conditions. A. L. Brox, county assessor, did not testify as to the value of the farm but answered a number of questions as to methods used in fixing valuations according to statutory requirements.

In his statement to the court, County Attorney Misko said that his theory of the case is that the Weller farm is not valued too highly in relation to adjacent farm land of the same nature, and that it is not paying more than its share of the taxes necessarily levied to conduct the various units of government.

At conclusion of the testimony Judge Spikes requested attorneys to submit briefs, saying that the case is of such importance and has such far-reaching implications that he wishes to study the briefs carefully before giving a verdict. Regardless of what verdict he gives, it is likely that the case will be carried to the Nebraska supreme court for final decision.

Klima Appears Before Legislative Committee

Ign. Klima, county clerk, was again in Lincoln Friday, where he appeared before the legislative committee in regard to two bills that were being considered by them at that time. With Mr. Klima went A. R. Brox, county assessor, who attended a meeting of the state assessors' association.

Klima appeared in support of L. B. 23, to simplify methods and reduce cost of voting of absentees and disabled voters. This bill also provides that such disabled absentee ballots may be delivered to the county clerk in person or by agent, and need not be delivered by registered mail.

He also spoke regarding the legislative repeal of the automobile law in its present form, and in support of measures to simplify methods and practices in auto title law, and to reduce the expense in the administration of the same and to secure more equitable share of the fees for the counties.

All Teachers Relected.

Burwell—(Special)—All teachers in the schools here were relected at the meeting of the board of education Monday evening, according to a notice posted on the bulletin board Tuesday. Several may not accept contracts because of other plans.

Clinic Hospital Being Redecorated by Fryzek

The entire upstairs of the Autle Bros. building occupied by the clinic hospital is being redecorated by Frank Fryzek and son, and the work is now nearing completion. The lower part of the hall and stairway is being done in a splendid imitation of marble. Miss Vivian Frederick, R. N., is now in charge of the hospital.

NOTES ON POPULATION.

An abstract of Valley county population is given in this week's Quiz, as compiled by Ign. Klima, county clerk. An analysis of the figures brings out some rather startling disclosures. Most of us were inclined to the opinion that our growth as a county was constantly on the upgrade until the beginning of the present depression, but such is not the case.

The figures for the total population of the county show that the peak came in 1920, when the population was 9,323, and that it decreased nearly 300 in the decade to 1930, and more than 1,300 in the past ten years. However, a check of the urban and rural populations in that period brings out an important fact.

The rural figures on county population shows that the peak year on the farms came in 1910, with 6,393; in 1920 it was 6,293; in 1930 it was 5,339, and in 1940 it had dropped to 4,693. This makes the total drop in rural population since 1910, 1,700 people.

The urban population for the period was as follows: 1910, 3,197; 1920, 3,525; 1930, 3,594; and in 1940, 3,470. These figures include Ord, North Loup and Arcadia. Elyria is not figured, since the Elyria figures are given only for 1940, it having been incorporated in 1934.

The urban peak, you will note, did not come until 1930, twenty years after the rural population had reached its peak, and ten years after the total population, both urban and rural, had reached its peak.

This table shows that the rural decline began away back in 1910, but that it did not become serious until the past ten years, during which period it even pulled North Loup and Arcadia down with it, and reduced Ord's gain to a mere 14, which is hardly worth mentioning. If it had not been for the advantage of being the county seat, Ord would have lost in population also.

Further analysis shows that Arcadia reached its peak in 1920; that North Loup hits its peak for the period in 1930; and it is apparent that, unless a drastic change comes in the next ten years, Ord reached its peak in 1940. It is certain that Ord's population today is far below that of April 1, 1940.

In a community that must depend on farming and stockraising for its living, as is true of Valley county any decrease in the rural population must be followed in time by a decrease in the population of the towns as well. The only really surprising thing about it is the fact that the towns kept growing as long as they did.

OUR CHANGING WEATHER.
Study of the weather in Valley county for the past fifty years brings out the fact that some important changes have come to pass in that period, chief among which are the general lack of deep snows in winter, and the late coming of spring.

With the exception of the winter of 1935-36, during which heavy snows fell all over Nebraska, we have not had an old-fashioned winter for many years. That winter reminded the old timers of the kind of winters we frequently had in the late nineties and for a few years after the turn of the century.

There is no question about it, our springs are later than they used to be. Several springs in the nineties came so early that the farmers were in the fields and had a week or so of spring work done by March 1. They would certainly have had a real job doing that sort of thing this year.

In those years a great deal of spring wheat was sowed, and it did well because of the early start it got. When the period of later springs arrived the spring wheat went out of style in this section and winter wheat took its place.

Then, when winter wheat became unprofitable, it was dropped also, and the Ord Milling company went out of business for lack of material.

Down in Kansas the farmers were working in the fields before the first of March this year, just as we once did here in Nebraska.
It is hardly fair to argue that the winters are more severe. They are not. It is merely that the cold weather is spread out over the first part of what used to be spring.

In one respect, at least, this winter just closing has been different from any for some time. Beginning with December, we have had more moisture than usual each month, and most of the snow has stayed where it fell. With such a foundation, the chances of a crop year are greatly increased. One good crop would work wonders in Valley county.

My Own Column

By H. D. Leggett

An Ord young man points out that during the next generation most of the kids born will be of better quality than the kids born in the past because most of their dads will be registered.

Last fall when I came home from Minnesota I neglected to bring my tackle box along. I was reminded of it the other day when Judge John L. Andersen told me he knew a place up on the Cedar river, where there are plenty of brook trout and invited me to accompany him on a trip up there as soon as it warms up a little more and the trout season is open. Says he wants to show me how to catch them. I don't know about the showing part. I may be able to show him a few tricks, but I do know that the old tackle box contains my reels and lines and flies and that I am going to have to bother some of my friends on Cullen to get it out and ship it to me before the warm weather comes. I could use a piece of scantling and a clothes line to go carrying with Charley Stichter, but I just mustn't fish brook trout that way.

Senator George Sullivan of Omaha is trying to get an amendment to the Thanksgiving bill in the legislature, providing for another holiday or two. But he isn't meeting with much success. And he shouldn't. We have too many holidays and the only people able to take advantage of them now are public officials. People confronted with the problem of making a living through most of the holidays. I believe that such institutions as the banks and the postoffice should give curtailed service on holidays.
A week ago Saturday many hundreds of citizens were greatly inconvenienced because they were unable to mail a letter or get their mail or even buy a postage stamp.
No private business could be run in that way. Only a monopoly business can do so.

I just can't make it seem right for union labor members working in the big manufacturing plants on government defense orders, and already working short hours and getting big pay, to strike and walk out, asking for 25 per cent increase in wages. The government is drafting the young men of the country and putting them into the army and navy and air corps, where they are in constant danger of being killed and paying them only a fraction of what the defense material workers are getting.

I used to like to listen to the 7 o'clock a. m. WOW news broadcast and usually did so every morning, then I stayed on for some of the commercials up to about eight o'clock. But since giving the news has been turned over to that Capt.
Horne guy I have cut the whole thing. And that is not all, I have heard a good many others say they had done the same thing. It may pay WOW better, at least now, but I doubt if it will in the long run.

A former Nebraskan, compelled by circumstances to remain in California, writes to a friend that in spite of its sunshine, its scenic attractions, its gaiety, and its hustle and its bustle he is still of the opinion Nebraska is a pretty good place to live. This is the picture which this homesick Nebraskan sends back:

"We have had a few floods, and an earthquake or two, but otherwise things have been quiet. They are having a little boom in San Diego, where Uncle Sam is spending a few odd billions, but the poor-farmers and fruit growers are fighting the labor unions and of course are losing out. From this distance it looks like Nebraska has a fine supply of moisture with which to start the spring, and a good crop will be worth something this year.
They can have their scenery, and night clubs, so far as I am concerned; I will take real, honest-to-God people any time. It is mighty tiresome living on sponge cake."

There is an old saying to the effect that the far hill always looks the greenest and Californians have for so long a time magnified the advantages of their state and minimized or totally ignored the disadvantages, that many from Nebraska and the central west have been inveigled out there, often no doubt against their better judgment.
If the truth were known I dare say that hundreds and perhaps thousands of them wish they were back in God's country where such blessings as we have are genuine, not artificial as they are in California.
It is hard to get a Californian to admit that there is anything wrong with that state but once in a while one breaks over, takes his or her life in his or her hand and admits the truth.

"Nigger" Amos Harris Died 30 Years Ago

The photo above will be of in-ers, who once knew Amos Harris, the "whitest nigger that ever lived," as he was considered by those who knew him best. It was his

1897, as follows: "Amos Harris of Ord and Miss Eliza Young of Boelus (both colored) were married in this city by Judge Hannibal this morning.—From St. Paul Republican."

This comment by the Quiz followed: "The Quiz is pleased to note that its old friend Amos has gone and got married. Amos Harris has been living in Valley county a good many years, is an excellent fellow, and well liked by all. May all happiness be his and his wife's."

Nigger Amos came to the cattle country in the pioneer days, and ranged cattle for different outfits all the way from Crawford to O'Neill.
He was a great friend of H. J.
Coffin of Burwell, whom he named "Parad." He and Mr. Coffin were living on a claim, the present Ot-cott place, four miles northwest of Burwell.

One day Amos came home and found that some men had jumped the house and had taken possession of the house and had even thrown a couple of pillows belonging to Amos out of the window. Amos was rightly indignant over this treatment of their property.

He did not like having his "goose bar (hair)" pillows thrown out, so he rushed into the house with a big butcher knife in his hand and the usurpers were only too glad to leave. Amos Harris was well known at Burwell, Ord and Greeley where he spent the greater part of his life in Nebraska.

The prudery of former days forbade the use of the word leg in polite society and chicken legs were designated as first and second joints. To use leg in any way, except to walk on, and then it must be covered to the dust on the street, was the extreme vulgarly. But now we are almost to the other extreme.

L. B. 361, a proposal in the Nebraska legislature, probably introduced by some lawyer member, would if enacted into law, retire Nebraska supreme and district judges, or allow them the privilege of voluntary retirement, after serving a certain length of time or when they become a certain age, on a substantial life salary. I wonder how many Valley county farmers who have worked all their lives, lost most or all of their life earnings through adverse conditions in the past ten years, would be in favor of this proposed law.
District judges in Nebraska receive five thousand dollars a year, plus mileage and expenses when they are away from home on the state's business. Supreme judges get larger salaries. Most judges, once on the bench, hold the job for many years. It seems to me reasonable that with a salary of five thousand dollars a year, a man should be able to save enough over the period that the average judge serves, to take care of himself and family. If he cannot it seems to me reasonable that he should be willing to do as others have to do when old age comes. The state must of course take care of him, but why should he be favored with many times what others receive in the way of pension? If you have any ideas on this matter better write to your state senator and tell him what you think he should do when this bill, LB 361 comes to a vote if it does.

Ord Camp Fire Notes.
The Soangetaha Camp Fire girls met Feb. 21 with Carolyn Anderson. After working on the birthday honor, they received first aid books which they studied. Friday, Feb. 23, this group met with their guardian, Mrs. E. L. Kokes for an early meeting. They brought sandwiches at 5 p. m. and had a winter picnic, after which they held a show-bus meeting and sang some songs.—Marilyn Ollis, reporter.

The 29th annual Washington's Birthday chess tournament held at Alma, Nebr., with a total of eight Kansas and five Nebraska players competing, was won by Fred Rundell of Norton, Kan., with a percentage of .637. R. E.
Weare of Stamford, Nebr., was fourth with .625.

The Looup County historical society is meeting today at the home of Mrs. Kitty Harvey of Taylor, according to an announcement in last week's Clarion. This society is the most alive of any in this section of the state.

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

News From Afar
We Are Old Folks
Now
Written by GEORGE GOWEN Short Shavings

A letter from Paul Robinson at North Platte, with a cartoon picture of himself on the letterhead says that he has been elected one of the seven directors of the N. P.
Chamber of Commerce with a membership of 287. Then he was named a chairman of the finance committee and on the executive board. He wrote more too; that they were recovering nicely from an auto accident they had had, thankful it was not worse. Hurrah for Paul, if he wants to be harrassed, for this election. I'll speak to the North Loup Community Club and I am sure if Paul needs any advice or help, they'll be glad to supply it.

A card from Mrs. Will Davis, at Unfion City, Mich., "fanned" me a little, all of which are sweet sounds to my ears. They have been to see Ralph Comstocks and Ned's and seem to like Michigan fine.

A letter from Jim Brannon at Star, Ida., says he has had the rheumatism so bad all winter that he has been unable to work.

A card from Leslie Green says their roads are icy and that their children are teaching in towns nearby.

A letter from Rev. Geo. B. Shaw, living now at Alfred, N. Y., says that he teaches a class in the college there and that he has a "small greenhouse where I play around in the spring. My hobby is dahlia seedlings."

A letter from Rev. Claud Hill had as a post script, "Not for publication." I'll not copy a word of it but I will say that he seems to be getting along fine in Parina, Ill., maintaining the same popularity there that he did here a few years ago. He seemed to be swamped with his church work, funerals, weddings and banquets.

He sent a copy of a local paper, for which he seemed to be one of the main writers. In it was the report of a banquet given in honor of two men of that town who had been there in business for fifty years. It was a novel idea to me and the thought occurred that the same plan might be worked out in our own communities some time.

Of course I do not know how they decided on those two men but a similar celebration might be arranged and include all the men who had continuous service in the community for fifty years, whether farmers or businessmen.

I certainly hope Claud does not refrain from writing to me again because he said "Not for Publication" but there is hardly a man of the North Loup section any better known over the county than he, and surely a bit of news from him will be very welcome by many. A man as popular as he was must be told about if we can.

A letter from my mother in Long Beach, Calif., says, "It is low where Nola is and the streets are running water but has not got up to the house yet. There is one place that overflows and is set in too deep and have to be pulled out. Men with old cars and ropes pull out the stalled cars for a dollar each. Sometimes they make $50 or $60 a day.

"Carpenters get $7.00 or $8.00 a day and nail pounders $6.00 or $7.00 now and there is plenty of work for everyone I guess."

Ira (Dutch) Manchester, back for a short stay from Parkdale, Wash., says he has a job there as watchman for a saw mill, but he does not like it there. The climate is not to his liking and it is a fruit and lumber country.
I decided there was not so much wrong with the country; that he was just raised different was all; raised in a land of bright sunshine and long vistas and that he was a bit homesick.

He said Paul Gebauer lived there; that he was doing fine and that his asthma does not bother him at all any more.

He said the Chadwicks had mostly moved to California and that Eino Hurley had bought a grocery store in Southern California.

We Are Old Folks Now.
The temporary job in the cheese factory brought me in acquaintance with some pleasing and rather unusual traveling salesmen.

One sold butter and cheese coloring, his territory being every state west of the Mississippi. He tries to cover this twice a year and does for the most part, stopping at all creameries and cheese factories. He traveled over California twice last year.

Another young man from Wisconsin sold rennet and seemed to have a similar territory. Only a few days ago he was married and now he was making a combination wedding and business trip to California. He introduced me to his bride and when he opened the car door, rice ruffled out on the running board. She explained that she did not know if they would ever get the rice cleaned out of their things.

They were a happy couple, well dressed, good looking, and enthusiastic. I wished them a pleasant time and told them of my wedding trip some twenty years ago in an old open Dodge. We drove to Colorado, taking three days for the trip going out. We got a cabin in the mountains and tried to have a good time. But before the two weeks were up we became anxious to get home and get to work; and it was farm work too. We were in such a hurry we drove all night the last day so, as to get here quicker.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Monday a young man of Ord was heard expounding his motto in life to another lad of about the same age. Said he: "I am not always to right, but I am never wrong." A lad with that much confidence in himself should go a long way.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hallock drove to Ord Saturday morning to catch up with the bus and bring his mother, Mrs. Effigene Hallock, something she had forgotten to take along on her bus trip. Art Van Slyke, the bus driver, has been boarding at Mrs. Hallock's hotel for a long, long time.

The Quiz office has a time clock, and when Mrs. Hardenbrook went into the back room Saturday to collect the cards for the week's report, she found that everybody had checked in on Feb.
29, as the foreman had overlooked the important task of moving the clock ahead to March 1.

Archie Keep played the good samaritan to Dr. J. W. McGinnis Friday afternoon and came back the worse for wear. He went with the doctor to the Charles Smith place about 20 miles northeast of Burwell, to help him get through the bad roads. Archie helped push the car through one drift and until he had to push again, when he lost his grip and took a header into the snow and sand, to the extensive damage of his good looks.

Rube Lincoln believes that March 1 must be moving day for more than just us human beings.
When he was on his way home from work Saturday night he heard a flock of wild geese going over, headed north. Here's betting that those geese felt plenty silly during the storm Monday.

February Was Month with No Temperature Extremes

February, 1941, was a month without extremes in temperature, as compared with those of the preceding decade. The highest recorded reading was 50, on the 5th, 10th and 11th, and the lowest came
Feb. 19, with 3 above.

The average high for the month was 35 and the average low was 17, making the mean temperature
26, which is about the average.
The precipitation for the month was above the average, being .99 of an inch, coming on seven different days, the most being .54 on Feb. 12.

The record shows that only two Februarys in the preceding ten had more moisture, 1936 with 1.13, and 1932 with 1.17. The least came in 1937, when only .07 was recorded. The total February moisture for the period 1930 to 1940, inclusive was 6.51, an average of .59 for the period, only a little more than half of the amount this year.

The highest February reading in the above period was in 1930, with 73. The lowest recording for the month was in 1936 and 1933, each of which show a reading of 24 below zero, in each case on the 8th of the month. Below zero readings were recorded each month except in 1935, 1931 and 1930.

This winter has been rather wet throughout, with 1.66 inches of moisture in December, 1.41 inches in January and .99 in February for a grand total of 4.06 inches for the winter months. Most of this moisture remained where it fell, and so the ground is much better soaked than it has been for several years.

Special Meetings Success.
Rev. C. W. Anderson, of Hollinger, was in Ord ten days conducting a series of meetings at the United Brethren churches in Ord and Mira Valley with the assistance of Rev.
O. Engestrom, local pastor. These were held at the Ord church each night, and at Milvale on Sunday afternoons. In addition prayer meetings were held in different homes in the community, with as many as four denominations represented. The meetings were very successful.

Japanese Beliefs in Suicide
In Japan, suicide is recognized as the most acceptable means of meeting responsibilities, atoning for mistakes, or satisfying the claims of honour.

Candle Lighting Costly
To light a home with tallow candles to the extent that it is lighted with electric lighting would be 50 times as expensive.

Charles Veleba, AAA county chairman, and Mrs. Inez Burrows, county committee woman, went to Norfolk Monday to attend an AAA meeting being held there. They were accompanied to Ord by Duke Norberg, of Lincoln, state publicity chairman for the AAA, who was a guest in the Veleba home Monday night and accompanied Mr. Veleba to Loup City Tuesday. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Peckham arrived from Knights Landing, Calif., Monday evening. They plan to leave Thursday and will take his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Peckham, with them. Mr. and Mrs. Pete Kochanowski who live in Eureka township were in Ord Monday. He said that the roads were not in bad condition when he came to Ord in spite of blizzard conditions. Mr. and Mrs. James Nevrlka and Laverne spent the week end visiting his sister, Mrs. Mary Lukesh in Grand Island. Sunday they accompanied Mrs. Lukesh and Johnnie to Hastings to see the museum there, which they found very interesting. You'll find the new Cutex Nail Polish at Stoltz Variety Store. 49-11c Wayne Mann, who farmed in Springdale last year, trucked his household goods to Burwell yesterday to store them with his folks while he goes west to find work. His brother has been in the employ of the Douglas Aircraft corporation for some time, and quit them three weeks ago to work in the Navy Yard, where he could earn more money. Rev. and Mrs. Earl Cummings and son, of Maxwell, came to Ord Monday of last week to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rowbal. Tuesday the daughter of George Rowbal died in Des Moines, and Wednesday Rev. and Mrs. Cummings and Misses Lucy and Merna Rowbal went to Des Moines for the funeral, returning Friday. The Cummings family returned to Maxwell Saturday.

Frank Smith Declares He is Very Much Alive From sources apparently correct the Quiz received information and published about a month ago the story of the death of one Frank E. Smith, of Soda Springs, Ida., once well known in Ord. The Dave Brethauers of Grand Island sent them a letter of condolence, and promptly got a letter back from Mr. Smith, denying the whole story. From the fact that Mr. Smith sent the letter personally, we infer that he is still very much alive, for which the Quiz is truly thankful. It is probable that the fact that Frank Smith is one of the commonest of names was the cause of the misunderstanding. The original report doubtless referred to another Frank Smith.

Social and Personal

Radio Bridge Club. Radio Bridge club met Wednesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Mortensen. Mrs. John Bosch of Omaha, a house guest, was present for the meeting. Mrs. Bosch left for her home Friday morning.

M. A. O. Extension. The M. A. O. Extension club met at the home of Mrs. Cash Rathbun Thursday, nine members answering roll call by telling interesting facts about great Americans. The resignation of Mrs. Charles Hather was accepted and Mrs. Emmanuel Vodehnal was chosen by unanimous vote to fill the vacancy. Plans were made for a buffet supper and party to be held at the Will Ollis home in March. At the close of the business session the lesson on House Cleaning, Management and Methods, and Soap Making was presented by Mrs. Bob Hall and Mrs. Steve Beran, after which the members took part in a short parliamentary drill. The hostesses served lunch at the close of the meeting. Miss Hulda Appelt was a guest. The club will meet with Mrs. Fern Carlson March 20 for the last lesson of the series. Roll call will be answered by telling something of our neighbors to the South.

For Leland Barrett's. Misses Christina Petersen and Loretta Achen of the NYA office arranged a farewell party at the Mrs. Besse Achen home Saturday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Barrett, who plan to leave this week for his new home in Omaha. In attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Golus, Mr. and Mrs. Neil Petersen, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Ward and James Ward. Pinochle was played, high score being held by Mrs. Golus, low by Mrs. Barrett, and James Ward winning traveling prize. The office force presented the Barretts with a lovely clock. The hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Achen, served a lovely lunch at the close of play.

Pitch Club Meets. The Pitch club met Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Bud Husbands for a pleasant time.

Mrs. Flynn's Birthday. Mrs. Marilla Flynn passed her 84th milestone Saturday, and she enjoyed a full week of visits from relatives. Beginning Monday, Feb. 24, Mr. and Mrs. Les Leonard and James Flynn called upon her. Thursday the Emanuel Vodehnals and Carl Olivers came to visit her. Saturday Frank Flynn called upon her. Sunday Mrs. Ed Knapp and the R. H. and C. D. Knapp families came in to help her celebrate. Mrs. Flynn's photo appears in Harold W. Fought's "Trail Of The Loup" as the first white woman on the upper Loup. She has been a resident of the county nearly 69 years.

Ninth Anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lebruska entertained several of their friends and relatives at their home Saturday night, the occasion being their ninth wedding anniversary. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Nevirvy and family, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urbanovsky and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Vasicek. The evening was spent playing cards and visiting, after which a delicious lunch was served.

For W. J. Hellebergs. Sunday a group of friends and relatives went to the W. J. Helleberg home near Elyria with baskets well filled, and helped them celebrate their 11th wedding anniversary. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Roo and Mary Ann, Howard Roo, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Brox and family, Mr. and Mrs. Kent Ferris, Mr. and Mrs. Orlin Kellison Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Zelewski and Lloyd Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferris and family, C. O. Turner, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. McGinnis and Mr. and Mrs. H. O. Koll.

BURWELL

Over thirty thousand dollars have been paid to farmers cooperating with the Agricultural Adjustment Act in Garfield county, in 1940, according to the announcement made last week by K. A. Ziegler, chairman of the AAA committee for Garfield, Loup and Wheeler counties.

"If you can't beat 'em, join 'em," is evidently the philosophy of the Democrats at Burwell. The call for the party caucus was issued for Friday evening, but with the exception of Lyman Kern, the chairman, the Democrats failed to appear.

The first of March finds many in the Burwell community moving to new homes. Several farmers and ranchers have been unable to find a place on which to move.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Brockman are retiring and moving to Burwell after making their home for many years on their farm in the Kent neighborhood on the north side of the river.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Schulling of Raymond spent the week end visiting their son Charles and his wife at the Charles Meyer farm home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meyer drove to Sioux City Wednesday where they attended to business matters. They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bristowe who live at Hartington.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wagner drove to Ithaca Sunday where they attended the funeral services of an aunt of Mr. Wagner.

Klima Furnishes Interesting Census Comparisons

Armed with the official census records, Ign. Klima got busy one day last week and made out the table given below, which included the population of Valley county and each subdivision thereof for the past four censuses.

Noteworthy is the fact that Ord city is the only subdivision that shows any growth in the 1940 census, and it gained only 14 persons. It will be noted also that eight townships have shown a steady decline since 1910, and five more since 1920.

Table with 4 columns: Township, 1940, 1930, 1920, 1910. Lists townships like Valley County, Arcadia Village, Arcadia Township, etc.

Independent, 214; North Loup, 153; Arcadia, 131; Elyria, 127; Eureka, 117; Noble, 114; Yale, 105; Davis Creek, 100; Michigan, 90; Vinton, 85; Liberty, 73; Enterprise, 63; Springdale, 50; Geranium, 23; and Ord, 16.

Table with 4 columns: Township, 1940, 1930, 1920, 1910. Lists townships like Ord City, Springdale Township, Vinton Township, etc.

The John Ehresman family are moving to Burwell after spending thirty-nine years on the same farm. They have bought a house in the west part of Burwell.

The Burwell fire department was called to Taylor Friday afternoon where the Lewis Cafe was burning but when they got to the Stroll service station they got word the fire was out.

The Workers Society of the Christian church was entertained by Mr. Fay Livermore in her home Thursday afternoon.

Sheriff and Mrs. Raymond Johnson were hosts to the Pinochle club in their home Wednesday evening. Mrs. Virgil Beck and Vera Shafer won the prizes given for highest scores.

Rev. and Mrs. H. R. Carlbloom and Rev. Smith, the Evangelist who is conducting revival meetings in the Full Gospel Tabernacle, were dinner guests of J. E. Cram Saturday at Hemmett's cafe.

In addition to this, the public works committee, before which the hearing was held, had received a large number of telegrams from interested persons and organizations in behalf of the measure, among them several from Arcadia, a matter of gratification to the representatives from the North Loup valley.

Senator Knezacek spoke briefly in introducing the measure to the committee, and then called upon Clarence M. Davis, who brought out the fact that Fort Hartsuff is the only frontier fort which still has all the original buildings intact, and that a building containing practically all the original material has far greater historic value than one built later as a substitute.

He had a set of photos of the Fort from various angles, which he showed and explained to the members of the committee, all of whom took a great interest in this concrete evidence of the fact that the buildings are still there and in good condition.

Incidentally, Mr. Davis produced his trump card when he introduced Mrs. Goodenow to the committee, as a pioneer of the days before the Fort was built, one of those for whose protection it was built, and the widow of a man who had much to do with having the Fort established in the valley.

Following Mr. Davis was Mr. Wiegardt, who spoke of the fact that the North Loup valley already has a hard surfaced highway from Grand Island to Ord, that this will be continued to Burwell in 1941, and later the connecting link from Burwell northwest to 83 will be completed, thus furnishing a highly desirable route to the Black Hills.

That this will mean increased tourist travel through the valley, and that the establishment of Fort Hartsuff as a state park would be an added incentive for tourist travel over this route, thus increasing travel in the state and adding to the gas tax the state would receive.

Dr. Merritt C. Pedersen of Lincoln, while not opposing the bill, pointed out the increasing burden on public funds of adding to the number of state-supported parks, and protested against the game commission being made to carry the load.

Thereupon the committee struck out the section which instructed the game commission to acquire the park, and reported the bill out with only the preamble and the enabling clause, the latter carrying the right of condemnation if necessary.

In a letter received at the Quiz office Friday, Senator Knezacek stated that he knew the bill would get through somehow. He said, "Now we have a good start, and in the next two years we can ask for an appropriation and get it."

While the group did not get all they had hoped for, they are to be congratulated on doing as well as they did. There is little doubt but that the unicameral will pass the bill in its present form, and a foundation will then be laid to work on in the future.

At high nuptial mass at 9 a. m. Monday, Feb. 24, Miss Alice Cerny of Sargent and William Sedlacek of Ord were made man and wife. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Michael Szczesny, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic church of Sargent.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Emil Sedlacek of Ord, and Mrs. Helen Vencal Huss played and sang during the mass. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cerny of Sargent, and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Sedlacek, who live west of Ord.

BURWELL

Plans are being made by the local AAA committee for a meeting of farmers, ranchers and businessmen to be held Wednesday afternoon, March 12, in Burwell for the purpose of outlining the various programs administered by the local office.

Mrs. George Baker who submitted to a major operation in Dr. Cram's hospital last Monday will be released from the hospital tomorrow.

Miss Irma Nelson of Milburn who submitted to an appendectomy in Dr. Cram's hospital returned home Saturday. Miss Phyllis Messenger returned home Sunday following her recovery from an appendectomy in Dr. Cram's hospital.

Mrs. Clarence Conner has been seriously ill in Dr. Cram's hospital. Her condition is satisfactory at present.

Harold Cornell, K. W. Peterson's track driver who is better known as "Friday", dropped a grave vault on his foot Saturday and smashed it. Dr. Cram has been attending him.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sperling and family were dinner guests Sunday of his mother, Mrs. Mary Sperling in North Loup. In the evening the Sperlings were guests in the home of her brother, J. D. Ingraham, who also lives in North Loup.

Mr. and Mrs. Knute Peterson were guests in the Mike Higgins home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Nelson and LaRue were guests in the Roscoe Garnick home Thursday. Mrs. Nelson's brother, Bill Garnick, left for Fort Crook Monday where he joined the army for a year's training.

The Nelsons visited Bob Frye Tuesday and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes and

Ten Donners Present For Mother's, Aunt's Funeral

Above are shown the five sons of Mrs. Emma Donner, who attended her funeral at Burwell last week. With them are their five cousins, the sons of Perry Donner.

Two Valley County Lads Volunteer for Service

Monday these two Valley county young men, William Garnick (right), son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Garnick, of Elyria, and Guy Lutz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Lutz, of Arcadia, volunteered for military service and went to Omaha for assignments.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Bleach drove to Broken Bow Sunday where they were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bryonell.

Mr. and Mrs. Morley Brechbill of Colome, S. D., were guests Wednesday in the E. G. Brechbill home. Thursday they visited in the E. W. Brechbill home.

Delores Dittich, the little girl who was run over and injured by an automobile last Monday, is attending school right in her own home. Every day, Miss Rita Linkswiler, a normal training student, gets the assignments from Delores' teacher and goes to her home to assist in the preparation of her lessons.

Mrs. M. B. Goodenow, who danced at the grand opening ball after the completion of Port Hart-suff, her daughter Maude Goodenow and her grandson, Claude Kennedy drove to Lincoln Wednesday to attend a committee meeting of the unicameral legislature in behalf of a bill providing for the establishment of a state park at the Port. Others from Burwell who attended the hearing were Miss Meda Draver and Miss Anna Cameron, daughters of pioneer families who have been instrumental in the upbuilding of the community.

A school for the purpose of training young men for positions in the defense industries where a scarcity of labor exists will be opened in Burwell Wednesday. An eight weeks course in mechanics will be taught by Harold Semple in Meyers and Manasil's garage which has been leased by the local board of education.

The committee recommended that the bill be passed without an appropriation clause. If the bill passes condemnation proceedings will be brought against the property, a price will be established and an appropriation will be made at the next session providing the bill does not hit a snag somewhere along the legislative process.

The St. Patrick's motif will be carried out at the D. C. McCarthy home Thursday where the members of the S and S club will entertain their husbands at a dinner. A large straw hat will be placed in the center of the table. Artificial grass will be scattered around the table on which three china pigs will cavort.

Bill Banks who is stationed at an army fort near Des Moines is spending several days in Burwell visiting relatives. He plans to be transferred soon to the new camp being built at Rolla, Mo.

The Wranglers club has decided to aid the athletic department in the sponsorship of an invitation

Whelan Scoutmaster of New Boy Scout Troop

Ed Whelan was chosen as scoutmaster for Ord's new Boy Scout troop, organizing under the sponsorship of the Knights of Columbus.

The membership of the committee has been changed slightly, the correct list being as follows: E. L. Vogeltanz, chairman; Frank Abelson, secretary-treasurer; Dr. F. J. Osentowski, advancement; Jim Wachtler and Jim Peiska, camping and activity; Dr. F. J. Barta and Chester Austin, health and safety; Syl Furtak, publicity; Rev. Thomas Studowski, chaplain.

Legion and Auxiliary Hold Interesting Meet

At the regular meeting of the American Legion last night the committee for registration of Legionnaires reported favorable results, with a large percentage of the membership complying with the plan.

One boy will be sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce for Boys State this year. It was announced, and the Legion was asked to select the boy. F. L. Stoddard announced that he was busy checking over the list of junior boys to select those eligible for the honor, and would have the list ready by the end of this week.

The following volunteered to go to Arcadia to play a return game of cribbage Friday evening: A. A. Wiegardt, Mart Wiegardt, Alfred L. Hill, Mark Gyger, C. W. Clark, Bob Hall, V. W. Russell, C. D. Wardrop, C. Dale and John L. Ward. The ladies then came upstairs, and the combined group listened to a very interesting talk by Mrs. C. J. Mortensen on national defense.

It was announced that Mrs. Mortensen was to speak on the same subject at the high school this morning at 9. In the Ladies Auxiliary meeting Mrs. John L. Ward was chosen secretary to take the place of Mrs. Tom Springer, who has moved away. Plans were made for a birthday party for the Legion Monday evening, March 17. This is to be a card party and will be open to the public.

An all-day quilting party is planned for March 18. Each member will bring something for dinner. Mrs. C. W. Clark, Mrs. Ward and Mrs. C. D. Wardrop made a report on the Grand Island conference. Monday afternoon, March 10, the past presidents are giving a party to all the ladies who helped quilt on the past presidents' quilt.

A lunch was served at the close of the meetings by the serving committee, Mrs. A. A. Wiegardt, Mrs. Theodosia Daily, Mrs. Ray Eger, Mrs. Whiting and Mrs. Mark Gyger. It was also announced that the Junior Auxiliary had presented the Auxiliary with a complete layette for mother and babe.

National Camp Fire Week. Plans are being made for the observance of National Camp Fire week in Ord this month. The local guardians had a grand association meeting Monday afternoon with Mrs. E. L. Kokes. They made plans for an all-group mass play day sometime during the birthday month of Camp Fire. All the groups are working up the birthday honor project in honor of this occasion.

Camp Fire Notes. The Awakiya Camp Fire group met at Elmer Walford's home the evening of March 3, 1935. The girls made arrangements for play-day, to be held either the seventeenth or twentieth of March. The units of the Birthday Project were discussed. The next meeting will be held March 12, at the home of Catherine LeMasters.—Donetta John, scribe.

The Eluta Camp Fire group met with Phyllis Anderson Monday afternoon. Mrs. John Andersen gave them a test. Some time next week they plan to have a sack lunch at the high school.—Norma June Manchester, reporter.

Brands Close Ord Shop, Employed in Hastings

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brand, proprietors of the Loup Valley Floral shop, closed the place last week and left Saturday for Hastings, where they had both accepted employment by the Davidson Floral company, by whom they had been employed before coming to Ord.

Mrs. Brand is to be employed in the shop, while Mr. Brand will have employment on the grounds and in the conservatory. They still retain their property here. All the rooms in the house are rented, and the shop will be rented soon. They made many warm friends while here who regret seeing them leave.

Social and Personal

Woman's club of Ord met yesterday afternoon at the L. D. Milliken home. Election of officers was important business of the day, in which Mrs. Evet Smith was re-elected as president, and Mrs. George Allen chosen vice-president.

Saturday was the 43rd wedding anniversary for Mr. and Mrs. P. C. P. Helleberg, and that evening Mr. and Mrs. Kent Harris and Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Helleberg and Richard came in to help them celebrate. A very pleasant evening is reported.

The Ever Busy club met for a Kensington Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Stanley Absolon with fifteen members present. Group singing was enjoyed, with Mrs. Jean Romans as leader. Refreshments were served. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Roger Benson on March 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Sevensen and Mr. and Mrs. John Lemmon were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Baker.

The Delta Deck group met at the P. A. Barta home on Tuesday for their usual bridge session. Guests were Madams Lawrience Dendinger, Olef Olsson, Lester Norton, Alex Cochrane, John Ambrose, and the high score at contract was made by Mrs. Emil Pafetta.

The Ord Pinochle club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Will Misko, with Mrs. F. V. Haught playing in place of Mrs. Will Treppow. Mrs. Emil Zirkund held high score. Mrs. John Ulrich held low and Mrs. Joe Jablonski won traveling prize. The next meeting will be with Mrs. Guy LeMasters.

The Social Forecast

Entre Nous will meet Friday with Mrs. Mark Tolén. Jollite card club next meets with Mrs. P. A. Barta. Radio Bridge players meet next week at the Olef Olsson home for their game.

Sevenson Volunteers for Army Service

Tuesday morning Richard Sevenson, of Ord, went to Grand Island and took the preliminary examination for induction into the army air corps. Successful in the preliminary, he was sent to Omaha for final tests. A commission in the air corps awaits Sevenson if he completes the training course. He is a graduate of Ord high and also attended Peru Normal.

Knights of Columbus. The Knights of Columbus held their regular meeting Tuesday evening, with a good attendance. Plans are being made to celebrate Founders Week, which will be March 23 to 29, inclusive.

IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY

Phillips 66

STARTS

cold motors faster

You Don't Have To Be A College Graduate to understand why Phillips 66 Poly Gas starts cold motors faster. It's as simple as ABC.

- A. It is a scientific fact that quick starting in cold weather depends directly on the high test (volatility) of the gasoline. B. It is a scientific fact (revealed by our latest available full-year study of gasolines; June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) that: The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels. C. See for yourself, if Phillips 66 isn't the greatest self-demonstrating cold-weather gasoline you have ever used.

This extra high test costs you not a single penny extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline. Drive in and get that trial tankful at the first Orange and Black 66 Shield.

To the Ord Quiz: I am writing this to H. D. Leggett as well as to the Quiz for I don't want John Ward to get hold of it. I nearly quit writing for the Quiz since John went to working there—you remember in the old days that J. L. Abernethy and Merritt (Pat) Fuson wrote about last week, John Ward was writing a column from lower Mira Valley. John lived on a farm at the time and he gave out advice to us active farmers by the bushel while his neighbors donated their time to cultivating his corn to keep the weeds down.

That's where I came into contact with Pat. And I am proud of the day I met him. It changed my life as well as his and the lives of a lot of young chickens (I mean of the frying kind). Pat first landed at the Turner home. When they ran out of fryers and had to wait for more to grow Pat would take across the country to the Hiner farm and stay there until the same thing happened there. On Pat's second trip we were having fried chicken for dinner. Pat came to the door and said he was our new neighbor on the north and south and he was in the chicken business so the Missus set him a place at the table. The Missus got one wing of that fried chicken and I got the neck. The two kids got one drumstick between them. Pat got the rest.

One day the wind was in the northwest. I looked down the road toward Turner's. There came Pat on the run. As he went by with his nose up he hollered, "fried chicken at Hiner's" and cut across the hog lot to save time. Two old sows gave chase and caught him just as he got to the fence. The old herd bull was on the other side and came to the rescue of the old sows and our two dogs joined in the fray. With the help of the dogs and a pitchfork I rescued Pat and dragged him to the house where the Missus bandaged him up. Then he began to bawl. We finally got it out of him that he wasn't hurt much but the bawling was because he felt sure the fried chicken over at Hiner's was all ate up by them.

A few years went by and Pat grew into a rather good looking boy. The autos and trucks came into general use, we farmers prospered, dried up the cows so not to have to come home to milk and Pat went to Ord to work in the Quiz office. I saw him occasionally when I went into the Quiz office to interview Bess Stacy who had charge of the front office. She had many bachelor callers; she could give me plenty pointers for my weekly love-love column.

Then after Pat took up painting I nearly lost track of him. Painter, cement mason, soldier, politician so I have heard. Writer between times. But I hear his roving days in the sand hills have left their mark on him and occasionally he has to go on a rampage. I have a son writing over five western states. He roves me he hears quite often of a bow legged, slightly bald and full chested man (the chest is not where it was once) that roves around hunting for fried chicken. Well Pat in some of your same moments write us and tell us how you are getting along with fried chicken.

Yours as ever, EICNEST S. COATS, Vinton.

Plans Are Being Made For Valley Music Meet. Supts. W. W. Wills of North Loup, M. C. Huff of Sargent and C. C. Thompson of Ord, and also Henry Delaine, Ord music teacher, met at Thorne's cafe Wednesday evening to make preliminary plans for the annual Loup Valley music festival which will be held in Ord on the afternoon and evening of April 4. Then Friday at 4 p. m., Mr. Delaine of Ord, Carrol Nygren of Arcadia, M. H. Struve of Burwell and Delmer in town of North Loup met at the Ord high school to make more detailed arrangements for the event. The program is being completed at the present time and will appear in the Quiz in the near future.

There was considerable discussion on this matter, with the attendees including H. C. James, Mayor M. B. Cummins, Dr. G. W. Taylor, Wm. Heuck, Dr. J. W. McGinnis and several others. A letter from A. B. Clark, president of the telephone company, was read by Secretary Wiegardt, in which Mr. Clark regretted that previous engagements made it impossible for him to attend the February meeting in Ord but promising to be present at the March meeting. Mr. Heuck expressed the opinion that much of the poor service is on farm lines, which necessarily are not in good condition because so many people have left the farm. No great improvement in service to farm subscribers may be expected until the general condition of the country improves, regardless of changes made at the local telephone office, he said. Mayor Cummins suggested the possibility that a municipal telephone system be operated in Ord, which idea was echoed by Dr. McGinnis. No formal vote on the question was taken but it was the consensus of opinion that the Chamber should go ahead with its project of a service and that Mr. Clark, at his appearance here in March, should be asked to define the company's intentions as regards Ord. President Mortensen added two members to the telephone committee, making it composed now of E. C. Leggett, Dr. G. W. Taylor, E. L. Vogelanz, Dr. Geo. A. Parkins, A. J. Auble, H. C. James and M. B. Cummins. He suggested that the committee secure as many facts and figures as possible before the March meeting, perhaps through the Nebraska Railway Commission and pledged the Chamber to the payment of any necessary expense. Secretary Wiegardt then brought up the matter of parking in Ord and suggested several plans by which more parking space could be provided. Several members spoke on this subject and, upon motion, it was decided to have the president name a Chamber committee to work with the street committee of the city council in making a parking survey of the city, with recommendations for bettering the situation, and report at the March meeting. The Chamber now has a membership of 99, announced the president, of whom 17 are new members signed up in the recent drive. The new members were introduced Thursday evening. At conclusion of the business session, sandwiches, coffee and cookies were served by Ben Clark and his assistants and a social hour was enjoyed.

Winter Losses of Wheat Discussed

Farmer-administrators of AAA prepared for action in the adjustment of the losses suffered by insured wheat growers at a district meeting held in Neligh this morning. Valley county was represented at the conference by Charles E. Veleba, R. Clyde Clement and David D. Arnold, members of the county AAA committee, and Albert Parkos, chief clerk in the county office.

Damaged winter wheat fields covered by AAA crop insurance will, in practically every instance, be released at this time only for the seeding of small grains in the remaining wheat with a surface drill. Charles E. Veleba, committee chairman, explained upon his return from the conference.

Insured growers who believe their wheat substantially destroyed as a result of a natural hazard may utilize moisture now in the soil by surface drilling small grains and stand a good chance of harvesting a grain mixture. At harvest time the amount of wheat in the mixture will be determined and the farmer will receive an indemnity payment equal to the difference between the actual and guaranteed yields of wheat.

Mr. Veleba pointed out that all insured producers who wish to make other use of wheat fields must first have such action approved by the county AAA committee. Every effort will be made, he said, to give quick, efficient service in response to such requests.

A recent survey by county and community AAA committees showed Valley county's wheat crop condition is 50 per cent of normal. Unless there is a marked improvement in the condition the adjustment of losses will be a major task for local AAA administrators.

Valley county has approximately 2500 acres of winter wheat covered by AAA crop insurance. One hundred ninety-six producers and landlords have approximately 225 insurance contracts on this acreage and are guaranteed approximately 20,000 bushels of wheat. They paid approximately 5,000 bushels of wheat for this protection before seeding the grain last fall.

ELYRIA NEWS

WRITTEN BY MRS. LEON CIENNY

Frank T. Zukoski left last Monday for Lincoln where he entered the Veterans' hospital. He will remain there several weeks for medical treatment.

Miss Zola Cetak of Ord and John Cienny of Comstock were Sunday evening visitors here in the Joe Cienny home.

Mrs. Ira Myers was hostess to the Jolly Home Makers club in her farm home on Friday afternoon with all members but two being present and one guest, Mrs. Henry Stara. The topic for discussion was soap making. Following the discussion Mrs. Myers served a delicious lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Cienny and Carol Jean spent from Friday evening until Monday morning in David City visiting in the home of Mrs. Cienny's mother, Mrs. A. A. Hayek. On Sunday a family party was held at which they were present, others also attending were Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dodge and Phyllis Ann of this place, Mr. and Mrs. James Bruner and Richard and Mr. and Mrs. Dean M. Hewitt and Bill of David City.

The Catholic ladies sodality are planning a series of six card parties to take place every two weeks, the first being Sunday evening March 9. A prize for high score will be given each evening and a grand prize will be given to the person holding the score totaling the highest for the entire series. Play will start at 8:00 o'clock on Sunday evening at the St. Mary's club rooms to which the public is invited.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dodge and Phyllis Ann drove to David City Sunday where they visited relatives and returned Monday.

Mrs. Barney Kuklish spent several days of last week with Mrs. Al Radke, who is ill.

Mrs. Howard Wright of Brainard returned to her home Sunday after spending a week here in the home of her mother, Mrs. C. E. Wozniak. She accompanied the W. E. Dodge family, who drove to David City.

Elmer Browns Observed Golden Wedding Feb. 18

Early day Ordites will recall Elmer Brown, brother of C. C. Brown, who lived in Ord about 40 years ago. Mrs. C. C. Brown handed the Quiz a copy of the Logan County News, of Crescent, Okla., containing a picture of Mr. and Mrs. Brown, who were married 50 years Feb. 18.

They were married at Elmwood, Nebr., in 1891. They moved to Crescent in 1904, and Mr. Brown was town marshal there in 1908 and 1909. They now live on a farm there. The Browns held open house Sunday, Feb. 16, and received the congratulations of more than a hundred friends and neighbors.

Domestic Science Club

Hears Mrs. Kovanda
Mrs. J. Kovanda, of Ord, gave a review of the book, "From Many Lands," written by Lewis Adams, Wednesday, at the Domestic Science club meeting. Mrs. Kovanda first gave the author's background who is an authority on immigration problems, and, who came to this country from a Yugoslavian province at the age of 13 years. This book, "From Many Lands," is the first of a "Nation of Nations" series which the author intends to write. Before beginning his series the intent of which is to create a better understanding between nationalities of this country, the author sent out questionnaires to 150,000 people. To these questionnaires he received some 9,500 replies in the form of letters, snapshots and diaries. The answers to these questions caused Adams to travel 50,000 miles to interview people living in districts strikingly accented by nationalities.

Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood was reelected president of the P. E. O., at the meeting held in the home of Mrs. Everett Johnson Monday afternoon. Mrs. A. I. Cram was elected vice-president, Mrs. Bess Moore, recording secretary, Mrs. F. M. Butts, corresponding secretary, Mrs. Geo. Tamm, treasurer, Mrs. Lewis Moore, guardian. The officers were installed at the same meeting by Mrs. C. R. Igenfritz, a past president of the organization.

Future Farmers Have

Exhibit at Pecanka's
For several days the windows of the Pecanka Market have been featuring an unusually fine exhibit of the Ord Chapter of the Future Farmers of America, an agricultural organization of high school students.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Zong of Belvidere arrived in Burwell Friday where they were guests of Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie. They returned home Monday.

We'll Be at the Same Old Stand For 30 Days

Mrs. Emma Donner Buried at Burwell

Emma Estella, daughter of Oliver E. and Submit Jenks, was born December 14, 1864 at Conway, Ia., and passed from this life at the home of her son Loren, Newdale, Ida., February 22, 1941, at the age of 76 years, 2 months and 8 days.

In 1887, Mr. and Mrs. Donner came to Nebraska in a covered wagon, homesteading twenty-five miles north of Burwell but later in 1914 bought a farm 4 miles northeast of Burwell where they resided until his death. Since the autumn of 1936 she has spent much of her time in Idaho with her children, although holding her residence in Ord. In July 1938, she suffered a ruptured appendix, from which she never fully recovered, the last year being a complete invalid.

Mrs. Donner was one of the few to be saved in later life. In 1934 she confessed her faith to Christ and united with the United Brethren church under the evangelistic call of the Rev. W. A. Sauer and during the pastorate of Miss Mamie J. Young. In June, 1935 with seven other members of her family representing three generations, she was baptized by Sylvester Sainford.

The second portion dealt with the settlement of Hendrick Skultie and wife Maria from Amsterdam, of the little Dutch community at Pella, Ia., which every year celebrates its tulip festival. Maria, who was truly a cultured lady brought with her the artists love of good music and fine things.

Throughout the book, Adams, challenging those who advance the opposite theory, asks this question: Have these people contributed anything of value to the United States or are they, as some maintain, a wedge to sever the unity of this country? He does not answer the query but allows the reader to formulate his own reply.

ABOUT PEOPLE YOU KNOW!

Book Review, March 14, Town-ship Library. 49-11c
Mr. and Mrs. Lou Boby of near Kent were business visitors in Ord Wednesday afternoon.
Mrs. Frank Pillnowski was a bus passenger to Burwell Wednesday evening for a visit with relatives and friends.
Mrs. E. L. Kokes went to Scotia on the bus Thursday morning to visit her brother, Dr. R. A. Hamsa and family for the day.
Mrs. Will Treptow was quite ill last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. F. V. Haight, on north 16th street.
Harry Lewandowski of Loup City was in Ord Thursday on business. He is well known in the North Loup valley, having once been in business at Burwell.
Earl Smith of Cambridge, was a guest in the Ivan Botts home on Tuesday night of last week. He was formerly a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Botts in Maiden Valley.
Dean Barta writes his family that he has been suffering with the flu and unable to attend his classes at the University of Nebraska in Lincoln.
The Will Ollis family moved the latter part of last week into the property at 1617 O street which he recently bought from the Orcutt estate.
Mrs. Loren Donner was a bus passenger Friday morning going to Bradshaw, where she visited her father, returning to Ord Friday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Leggett drove to Ansley Friday evening to take her mother, Mrs. H. J. Ellis, who planned to continue homeward by train on Sunday. She lives in Alliance.
Mrs. John Rohde left on the bus Thursday morning to join her husband, who is employed in government work at Cheyenne, Wyo. Her daughter and son will remain in Ord for the present.
Rev. C. W. Anderson, who had been here conducting a series of meetings at the United Brethren churches with the assistance of Rev. O. Engbretson, left for his home at Hollinger, Nebr., Thursday morning.
Jack Van Cleave's sons, Bob and Everett, and Joe Wilson were Ord visitors for a brief visit last week. Everett is running an electric welding shop at Wakefield, and Mr. Wilson is also from Wakefield. Bob lives in Omaha.
S. D. Long arrived from Franklin Wednesday evening for a visit with his daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Murray. He said that this trip was a special occasion for him, so that his daughter could bake a cake for his 32nd birthday, which was Friday.
Mrs. Perry Bell writes from Long Beach, Calif., that Fred Bell is improving, although he still has a heart and kidney complication. She also says that her mother, Mrs. Lundberg, of Wahoo, is feeling about well again. Because of the illness of Mr. Bell, senior, they did not stop in Denver enroute to California.
Mrs. Tom D. Springer and children left Monday afternoon for Troy, Kan., where her parents live, and planned to visit there and at Seneca, Kan., with Tom's parents until March 11, when they will go to Lynden, Wash., to make their home in future. Mrs. Springer sold part of their household goods at the sale barn Saturday and packed the rest for shipment. The Ord community regrets the departure of the Springer family and wishes them well in their new home.
A son was born Saturday in Dr. Craun's hospital at Burwell to Mrs. Ross Blessing, of Ord. She was formerly Miss Ahleen Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Nelson, of Burwell, and she will be cared for in the Nelson home when she is able to leave the hospital. Mrs. Blessing went to California recently and has a good job in an airplane factory.
Mrs. J. G. Kruml writes to Mrs. Ed Gnasler that she and her family arrived safely at St. Louis, although they were disappointed to find Dr. Kruml had been sent elsewhere for several days' duty. So Mrs. Kruml had to wait until his return to find out where she would live, etc. Lieutenant Kruml had rented a house for his family, but now hears rumors that he may be required to live "in" the post, Jefferson Barracks.
Friends here have learned that Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Clochon, of Ames, Ia., last week lost their five-months-old daughter, Sharon, from a mysterious ailment which struck her suddenly. The baby's body was brought to Harvard, Nebr., for burial and several former Comstock people who now live in Missouri, including Ralph's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Clochon, drove to Harvard to attend the last rites. Ralph Clochon attended the Ord Linotype School some years ago, later was employed on a newspaper at Harvard, later managed newspapers at Brewster and Long Pine, and has been identified with the printing trade ever since. His wife is a Harvard, Nebr., girl.
Mr. and Mrs. Ed Anderson, who have been living at Ogallala, are now located in Omaha where Ed is working on construction of the new $10,000,000 bomber factory. Ed is a machinist employed by the Peter Kiewit company, general contractors for the huge plant. His job is to keep the caterpillar tractors and other machinery in repair. Before going to Omaha last week he drove to O'Neill and loaded several flat cars with machinery owned by the Kiewit company for shipment to Omaha. Ed and all other Kiewit employees were required to join unions before they were allowed to work on the bomber plant job but their union dues were paid by the Kiewit company.

Lincoln visitors on business Friday were B. C. James, Gould B. Flagg and Sam Marks.
C. A. Anderson was a business visitor to Atkinson and O'Neill on Monday.
Miss Jane Barrett of Greeley arrived in Ord Thursday to spend a few days visiting in the Leland Barrett home.

Mr. and Mrs. William Horner Married 50 Years

The past week was an occasion of rejoicing for Mr. and Mrs. William Horner of Ord, because on Sunday they came to the 54th milestone of their married life. It was a doubly interesting week for Mr. Horner, who celebrated his 80th birthday Thursday, Feb. 27.

The years have dealt kindly with this worthy couple, who still find themselves in a fair state of health, and able to enjoy life. Also, all of their twelve children are alive and well, and most of them live near enough to visit them occasionally.

The children are: Spencer and Mrs. Stanley Mitchell of Burwell; Clarence, Salina, Kan.; Mrs. R. W. Haas, Mrs. Ray Eger, Mrs. Carl Weber, Mrs. Lloyd Manchester and Roy, of Ord, Ia.; Mrs. Alfred Christensen and Donald of North Loup; Mrs. Glen Eglehoff of Clarinda, Ia.; and Ernest, of Ord.

Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Horner went to Burwell, and when they returned he was given a birthday cake, baked by Mrs. Ernest Horner. That evening the United Brethren prayer group called and spent the evening, and Walter

Conger Eel Reaches Ten Feet in Length Often

Eels have been called "snake-like fish," and that is what they really are. Many eels have small scales, but even so their bodies are smooth to the touch, as are snakes.

Eels swim after the manner of snakes, but go much faster.

Usually a full-grown eel is from two to four feet long. There are cases, however, of eels with a length of from 6 to 10 feet.

The female eel grows larger than the male. The difference may not amount to much, but among the conger eels it is very great. The female conger may be more than twice the size of a male.

Conger eels are the biggest in the family. Several are on record with a length of 9 or 10 feet, and a weight of from 90 to 110 pounds.

A giant conger eel may have a body six inches thick. In its mouth are sharp, closely-placed teeth, and it can bite its enemies with great force. If a fisherman pulls up such an eel, he should take great care. It is a strong fish, and if loose in the boat can do damage.

Conger eels spend all their lives in the sea. In this way they differ from most other eels, which dwell in salt water only part of the time.

Another eel which lives only in salt water is the "thread eel" or "snipe eel." It has a body hardly thicker than a lead pencil, but its length is from two to three feet.

Another queer type is the "spiny eel." Spiny eels live in rivers of Africa and the East Indies. They have many sharp spines along the back.

The jet black "gulper eel" is a deep sea fish. It grows to be five or six feet long, and is noted for its strong appetite.

The gulper has a big mouth, and its under jaw can be swung about freely. Sometimes this eel attacks fish which are too big for it to handle. A gulper was found dead at the surface of the ocean, and inside it was a fish of large size.

Root Growth Increases Through New Substance

Tests made of hormone growth-producing substances at the Iowa Agricultural Experiment station indicate that some of them are effective in stimulating root production on certain types of cuttings.

This statement was made by B. S. Pickett, head of the Iowa State college department of horticulture.

A hormone growth substance, now commercially available, was used in the test on four kinds of cuttings, herbaceous, or non-woody type; greenwood, or cuttings made of woody plants during the green season; evergreen and hardwood.

The non-woody or herbaceous cuttings responded to the treatment, some at high concentrations, others at low concentrations, Pickett said. Among the plants helped by the treatment were geranium, begonia and coleus—the variegated green and red plant commonly called "foliage."

Greenwood cuttings responded favorably, including the honey-suckle, rose hlae, dogwood, mock orange, and willow. But the ductation of temperatures and humidity during the summer made it hard to grow the cuttings successfully. Apple cuttings wouldn't root at all.

"Growth-promoting substances of this type are not yet ready for general farm crops, but gardeners, florists and nurserymen may often find them practical aids in commercial plant propagation," Pickett said.

Fish and Folks

Columbia river salmon have proved that fish can be educated to live in accordance with the folkways or fishways imposed by the Power age. Latest statistics on the climbing fish show that in a recent week 1,777 Chinook salmon got over the Bonneville dam, compared to 897 that went up the fish escalators in the comparable week a year before. Other varieties have learned the trick in about the same proportion.

"Fish have never been cited as progressive specimens of the animal world. They are supposed to be set in their ways.

But the dam-climbing fish of the Columbia have adapted themselves to the Power age. That human beings have so adjusted themselves remains to be proved.

Delivers Invitations to Meeting By Airplane

William Lloyd Baird, nephew of Mrs. Harvey Parks and Archie Bradt of Ord, is in the limelight because of the novel way in which he is delivering invitations to the annual opening of the school of hotel administration at Cornell University, Ithaca, N. Y.

Young Baird, whose home is at Glendale, Calif., is a senior in the hotel school and holds a private pilot's license which permits him to fly planes up to 4000 pounds in weight. During the time from now until the opening on May 9, he plans to fly to New York city; to Washington, D. C.; Pittsburg, Pa.; Boston, Mass.; to Buffalo, N. Y.; and even to Chicago, Ill.; to deliver invitations personally to professional hotel men to attend the opening.

Baird has a personal motive in planning these invitation flights, he admits. With about half the minimum amount of 20 hours required of blind flying to his credit and about 160 hours of solo flying toward his minimum requirement of 200 hours, he hopes to better both marks in preparing to try tests for a commercial pilot's license.

Legislative Items.

The proposed Matzke bill, setting up a Trades School in the Old Soldiers Home plant at Milford has drawn considerable interesting comment. This plant consists of about twelve or more buildings that became vacant when the Soldier occupants were transferred to Grand Island in 1939 by the Legislature. The bill sets up a Trade School to produce skilled mechanics for Defense Industries, and calls for an appropriation of $72,000.00. The inactivities of industry during eleven years of so-called Depression Decade has created a vast shortage of skilled labor which now becomes acute in the so-called Defense Decade. The federal government proposes to absorb all labor in army, navy, aviation, building contingents, landing fields and manufacturing expansion. Many schooled and skilled mechanics are required to employ common labor in all lines of contracts and construction.

The bill relating to county burials of indigent persons, which raises the maximum costs of such funerals from $50.00 to $100.00, has been advanced on General File, and will probably be passed. As a rule a maximum price set by law automatically becomes the minimum price.

The Birth Certificate bill has now been passed on Third Reading, with emergency clause. This bill provides that County Judges shall issue birth certificates on proper evidence, and makes it possible for older persons to prove their age and meet certain governmental requirements.

The bill removing liens on properties of old age assistance clients and killed in committee, was raised and placed on General File. This bill will now be argued at length and probably passed.

Birthday Surprise.

Sunday was Warren Lincoln's birthday, and his wife arranged a surprise for him that afternoon. Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Absolon, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Merrill, Mr. and Mrs. John Koll and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuehl, jr., and family, Miss Mena Jorgensen and Mrs. Bessie Achen. Pinochle was played, with Mrs. Koll and Mr. Kuehl holding high scores, Jack Koll and Mrs. Achen, low, and Mr. Merrill winning the traveling prize. The hostess served a lovely lunch.

Howers Return To Ord.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Hower returned to Ord Sunday after three months in the west. They left Dec. 1, going to Washington, where Mr. Hower had six weeks work at good wages for the government. They then returned to Cheyenne, Wyo., where he worked five weeks more. He said it was too rainy to suit him in Washington, and while wages were high, expenses were high also.

Funeral Saturday for Mrs. Vincent, Pioneer Resident

Ord Woman Died March 3rd in California at Age of 87; Laid to Rest Here.

Mrs. Alice Vincent was born in New York state near Niagara Falls, August 29, 1853. She passed away March 3, 1941, at the age of 87 years, 6 months and 4 days.

Her husband passed away Feb. 26, 1906. She lived at Ord until about 4 years ago, when she moved to California to be near her three daughters.

To the Vincents nine children were born, one son passing away in infancy, one son, Marlon Vincent, June 1, 1935, and one daughter, Mrs. W. J. Hather, Feb. 7, 1936.

Ord Ag. Livestock Team Third at Grand Island

In a contest sponsored by the Nebraska Hereford Breeders' association March 5, at Grand Island, the Ord high school livestock judging team placed third in the largest entry list in the history of the contest.

The Ord boys placed individually as follows: Junior Dodge, thirteenth; Edward Rousck, twentieth; Lloyd Geweke, twenty-sixth; Eldon Smolik, thirty-first; Leonard Kekes, thirty-fourth; and Richard Masin, fifty-first.

The Ord 4-H club team placed ninth in the Hereford Breeders' contest, with Wilson Chatfield placing 13th individually.

A total of 100 head of Herefords was consigned to the sale, and the offering brought good prices.

Chanticleers Lose to Geneva, 31 to 21

Romans Again Fails to Score as Ord Drops Out of Class A Tourney at Hastings.

With their scoring ace, Clarence Romans, still unable to make the ball drop through the hoop, the Ord Chanticleers lost to Geneva 31 to 21 at Hastings last Thursday night.

It was the second straight tournament game in which Romans was held scoreless from the floor, although against Superior he tallied a couple of free throws.

With their scoring ace, Clarence Romans, still unable to make the ball drop through the hoop, the Ord Chanticleers lost to Geneva 31 to 21 at Hastings last Thursday night.

In the semi-finals at Hastings on Friday the Geneva team lost to York and Saturday the York boys beat Grand Island to become district champions.

The tournament loss does not make Ord fans despondent, however, for the Chanticleers garnered more than their share of glory this season by winning the Loup Valley championship and tying with St. Paul and Ravenna for the Mid-Six championship.

SPRING COMES TO ORD-ERICSON "HIGHWAY" ... AND IT'S OLD DOBBIN TO THE RESCUE

Only strong farm horses and powerful tractors keeps traffic moving on this important road which should be a state highway but isn't.

An Open Letter to Governor Dwight Griswold and Executive Heads of the Nebraska Highway Department

Gentlemen, these pictures were taken on an important Valley county "highway" between 4:00 and 4:30 on Monday afternoon, March 10th. They were taken on the Ord-Ericson road 12 miles north of Ord, near the John Kokes farm.

This is the "highway" on which several hundred Valley, Garfield and Wheeler county families are expected to travel to take children to school, to take sick people to doctors, to attend church, to transport neighborhood business, to do trading in Ord.

This road was in bad shape, but not as bad as it was a few days before and not as bad as it will be during the period of spring rains to come.

Soil Conservation District Proposed for Valley County

Farmers Interested After Plan Explained by Doll, May Be Some Action Soon.

E. H. Doll of the extension service of the College of Agriculture discussed soil and moisture conservation, before a group of farmers which filled the court room to capacity Friday afternoon.

By means of colored slides, he illustrated his talk with pictures showing the ravages of soil erosion on farms in Nebraska, and also with pictures showing the conservation measures which will correct the damage.

Different slopes and different soil types require different control measures, he said, and the plan for each farm should be carefully worked out to keep as much water as possible in the soil on which it falls, and to prevent the loss of the topsoil.

Many of the farmers present were interested in the organization of a soil conservation district and Mr. Doll brought out the following points regarding the district set-up:

It is a legal subdivision of the state organized under a specific state law to enable the farmers to work cooperatively on the problem of soil conservation; the district cannot levy any taxes, make assessments, or issue bonds against any land within the district; it enables farmers to secure the services of the engineers and other specialists of the soil conservation, and other government agencies in surveying, mapping and laying out conservation plans for their farms; the program is entirely voluntary on the part of farmers within the district and no farmer is under obligations to do any conservation work even though his farm is included in a district.

In answer to a question by County Agent Dale, he stated that if irrigated lands were included in the district, the services of engineers would be available to irrigators for surveying and mapping the farms and for laying out laterals and planning leveling operations.

As to the reason the government would furnish these services to a conservation district, Mr. Doll said that it was costing them millions of dollars annually to maintain dykes and levees along the lower Mississippi and Missouri rivers and that the continual deposit of silt in the river beds is making the matter more difficult every year.

After the meeting a number of farmers expressed the opinion that the organization of a soil conservation district should be undertaken in Valley county in the immediate future.

Fish, Seafood Recipes in Newest Cookbooklet

Today The Quiz releases the newest in its series of Cookbooklets, No. 6, which is entitled "250 Fish and Seafood Recipes." Since this is the Lenten period, this cookbooklet should be especially interesting and valuable at the present time.

Women may get this recipe book, as well as the first five in the series, at the Quiz office or at the Ord City Bakery, in Burwell at Ben Rose's office, at North Loup from Vojehnal Pharmacy, and at Arcadia from the Ramsey Drug Store.

Cost is only 10c, with a coupon from page 2 of any issue of The Quiz. Copies of all the first five cookbooklets are still available but women who plan to collect the entire series should start doing so now, as it is uncertain how long the supply will last.

A. H. Watts Dies at Long Beach

North Loup—(Special)—From Long Beach, Calif., came a message Tuesday telling of the death of Arthur H. Watts, 78, after a long illness with sciatic rheumatism and more recently with intestinal flu. He was taken to the hospital Saturday where his condition became worse.

The body of Mr. Watts will arrive here Friday morning and the funeral services probably will be held that afternoon. His daughter, Mrs. Eva Gipe, will accompany the body. Another daughter, Mrs. Ralph Comstock, of Charleston, Ill., is expected here for the funeral. Another daughter is Mrs. Charles Fuller, of this village.

Nebraska Editors Will Convene March 21-22

Editors, publishers and newspaper men of Nebraska are gathering in Lincoln March 21 and 22 for a two-day session. The modern business man finds that it is to his advantage to spend a few days each year rubbing elbows with fellows of his business or profession. Thus he makes new contacts, renews old friendships and perhaps returns with a few ideas profitable both to himself and his community.

NEBR. PRESS ASSOCIATION.
All too often it is difficult to find a suitable idea for an editorial.

Sometimes a timely subject comes to mind in perusing the papers of the past. For example, the Ord Weekly Quiz, issue of Feb. 12, 1886, speaks of the state editorial association having its meeting Feb. 23.

At that time the Quiz was not yet four years old, Ord as a village was only 5 years old, the oldest settler had been in Valley county only 14 years, Nebraska had been a state only 19 years.

It goes to prove that the men of the newspaper profession are always among the most progressive in a community. The organization was formed for mutual help, and, incidentally, for the benefit of all those whose lives are affected in any way by the newspapers, which means one hundred per cent of the people.

Every year since then, and doubtless even before that time, the editors of the state have been meeting, and with one chief aim in view, how best to serve the community of which they are a part.

Some day some one will sing the praises of the country newspaperman, who does his duty as he sees it, takes a lot of censure and a very little praise, spends a lifetime at the job and retires when he can no longer make a living in the newspaper game.

In the same issue of the Quiz mentioned above there appears another item of interest. It is to be found in a column edited by J. F. Kates, county superintendent, in which he mentions that the State Teachers' association will meet in Lincoln, March 30 to April 2, inclusive.

The school system of Nebraska has been changed and improved a lot since the state was founded, but here again is proof that a state organization was perfected a long time ago. That organization has functioned continuously in Nebraska ever since it was founded and today Nebraska has a higher percentage of literacy than any other state in the union.

To prove that Nebraska and Nebraskans have always been school minded, it might be of interest to know that the first school legislation for Nebraska territory was contained in an act approved March 16, 1855, now about 86 years ago.

As librarian he was to receive $100 per year, and as superintendent he received $200, a truly magnificent salary. He was required to have general supervision of all district schools in the territory, and to see that the school system should be as early as practicable put into uniform operation.

boards of school directors, consisting of a president, a secretary and a treasurer. We still have them, but they are now director, moderator and treasurer.

The school laws of the territory were changed on a number of occasions, some of the changes being for the better and some so bad that they were soon discarded.

Yes, education is one of the earliest institutions in Nebraska and the educational facilities of the state have always been recognized as among the best.

1. Do not dip the flag of the United States to any person or thing. The regimental color, state flag, organization or institutional flag, will render this honor.

2. Do not display the flag of the United States with the Union down, except as a signal of distress.

3. Do not place any other flag or pennant above or to the right of the flag of the United States.

4. Do not let the flag of the United States touch the ground or trail in the water.

5. Do not place any object or emblem of any kind on or above the flag of the United States.

6. Do not use the flag as drapery; use bunting.

7. Do not fasten the flag in such manner as will permit it to be easily torn.

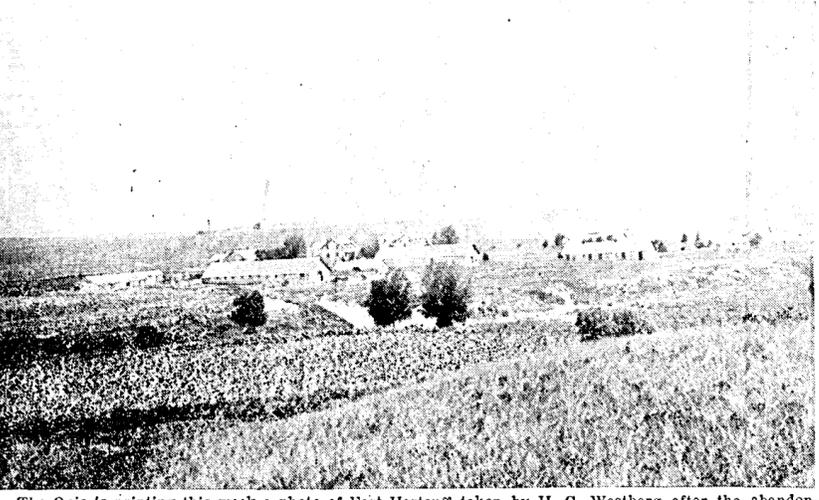

8. Do not drape the flag over the hood, top or sides of a vehicle or of a railroad train or boat.

9. Do not use the flag to cover a speaker's desk or to drape over the front of a platform or over chairs or benches.

10. Do not display the flag on a float in a parade except on a staff.

11. Do not use the flag as a ceiling covering.

Fort Hartsuff as It Appeared Half a Century Ago

The Quiz is printing this week a photo of Fort Hartsuff taken by H. G. Westberg after the abandonment of the fort and while the buildings were in a fine state of repair. It is printed to give the public an idea of how the place will look after it is made into a state park and restored to its original condition.

My Own Column
By H. D. Leggett

Some newspaper men have a fine sense of humor and justice. The other day a Quiz shipping clerk sent an engraving to the wrong patron, who immediately sent it to the rightful owner.

The Missus asked me the other afternoon, "What shall we have for supper." I had nothing to suggest but I went down to the office, grabbed one of the cookbooklets and soon found one that sounded good and that is the one we had for that evening meal and it was a dandy.

An authority says that one eighth of all merchandise purchased in the department store is returned for exchange or cash return; that 98 per cent of this returning is done by women, and adds that this tendency of purchasers in not knowing their own minds is one material cause of the high cost of living.

This is not a general rule, but a very large per cent of people who are out of jobs would have jobs if they had always given value received for what they got and spent the money as they should.

We here in Nebraska are just like they are in California, having unusual weather, at least the weather here this winter is unusual measured by the standards of the past ten years. We used to have this kind of winters and everyone complained about the mud and bad roads, but this winter you don't hear any complaining of that kind.

A valued exchange says that when it has to fill its columns by stealing the mental output of its exchanges it will go out of business and in the same column were two or three paragraphs that I used in this column ten years ago and I have forgotten where I stole them.

Just heard of a Clay Center young man who sent his sweetie a brassiere for Christmas leaving the $10 price tag thereon. He got it back with a note saying she would rather have the money, as she was flat busted, says Bill Maupin in his Sunpaper.

The biggest cause of the fix so many families are in these days is because they have insisted on living a silk stocking life on a cotton stocking income. It can't be done.

I presume that many Quiz readers are following, as I am, the discussion on the British lend-lease bill and if so I presume that most of them feel as I do, that it is all a lot of bologna. We may or we may not get into the war. No doubt President Roosevelt hopes and wants to keep this country out of active participation in the war.

The Worst Begins When It Is Over

When It Is Over A Rose For Him Short Shavings

In the various discussions during the last week I heard the following remarks: Roosevelt is trying to make himself a dictator. Hitler will never attack the United States. The sooner England is whipped the better, then there will be peace.

In a few instances, these remarks were made by partisan republicans who could not or would not see any good in any action by a democrat, were that democrat a special envoy from heaven. Those men surely are looking at it wrong.

It seems funny that anyone living here under our system of free speech and universal vote, in our land of opportunity and education, would say it will be better if Hitler would whip England soon and get it over with.

Now that Irvy Sheldon is moving away, perhaps a little bunch of roses tossed in his direction would be in order, although I'll bet you a nickel if he knew it he would not want them.

It has been years since there has been a man who has helped so many people as Irvy Sheldon. There has been hardly a person in the whole community who has not received credit at his oil station one time or another.

He has built up one of the biggest businesses of anyone who ever was on the street. Although he has much on his books in the form of accounts, he is leaving with a lot more money than he started with. It is surely with regret that he is going away.

It has been many years since we have had the winter moisture we have had this year. The roads off the gravel are yet a morass and almost impassable. Greeley county roads are the worst, is the opinion of everyone and Valley county people laugh and say it is because of the commissioner system. Greeley county people say it is the commissioner. Paul Jones was over the other day delivering oil. He drives as delicately as anyone in town and he says the road east of the river bridge is the worst by big odds of anything he has seen.

Willard Ingerson has a purebred Black Cocker (water) Spaniel pup and it is a beauty too. It is coal black with tight curly hair and long crinkley ears. I used to have one like that years ago and there came a quaver in my throat the minute I saw it. Willard, better keep it well locked up; my self control may falter someday and he'll have no more pup.

It seems the height of selfishness that we stand back and not even loan a sister democracy our equipment whether they pay or not. They are not asking for our men and do not need them. And you know, if England and Greece get Hitler stopped, we won't have to, looking at it in a more selfish attitude.

It seems funny that anyone living here under our system of free speech and universal vote, in our land of opportunity and education, would say it will be better if Hitler would whip England soon and get it over with.

It has been years since there has been a man who has helped so many people as Irvy Sheldon. There has been hardly a person in the whole community who has not received credit at his oil station one time or another.

Something Different

I wish to make a public announcement through this column. It is this: we do not beat Kerry until he goes out to shovel the snow off our walks.

On the contrary, he has been known to finish meals he did not care for in order to be permitted to shovel the walks. Something like Tom Sawyer and his white-washed fence.

And when I think Kerry has shoveled enough for a slender little seven-year-old, I ask him to quit shoveling. Sometimes I suggest it several times before he quits. He quits when I ORDER him to stop!

There isn't any doubt but what we need new teachers and methods in our schools from time to time, and Ord has much to be thankful for along this line.

But sometimes I wonder if we appreciate some of our Ord women who have devoted their lives to this fine work. You can think of several teachers instantly, who fall into this class. There is Miss Rowland and her splendid fourth grade work. Anyone who passes through her training gets a good grasp on fundamentals. Or there is Miss Swain, or Miss Finley.

Or there is Miss Elizabeth Lukesh, who conscientiously drills her junior high "children". When they emerge from her care you know they have a firm grip on all that she could crowd into their young skulls.

W. A. Anderson stopped in one day a few weeks ago to suggest to me that we very likely needed to get back to the good old three "R's" in education, reading, "riting" and "rithmetic. He brought a copy of the Country Gentleman with such an article in it.

But I think Kerry has learned these R's with a fourth the labor we used to be asked to expend, and he has learned them easily and enjoyably. I think he has really learned them, too. I am well sold on the newer teaching methods.

Years ago it was the custom to whip these subjects into school children, if they could not be inculcated any other way. You have heard of that day... children were seen but heard very little.

Another thing I realize is that each person has special abilities. The child who cannot learn to spell easily may be a whiz at mechanical things. Probably he can fix a broken wagon while teacher is looking at it to see what is wrong. Or perhaps he draws beautifully. To each his special talent.

We do place too much emphasis on white-collar education in our country, I think. Many people are happier doing other kinds of work. Why not help them to learn to do the work of their choice expertly, in place of setting up the office position as the hope of one and all?

I don't think it makes a bit of difference what field a girl or man wants to work in. Honest work is to be respected, whatever the work may be.

County Agent Notes

Certified Seed List Available. The new 1940-1941 directory of Nebraska Certified seed is now available at the County Agent's office in Ord.

Valley county farmers seeking seed of spring crops are urged to get their free copies of the bulletin. It lists supplies of certified hybrid corn, sorghum, sudan grass, oats, barley, spring wheat, and alfalfa for sale by farmer growers all over the state.

The publication is issued by the Nebraska Crop Growers' Association, in charge of crop certification in Nebraska.

Farmers who are planning to order Clarke-McNary trees through the Agricultural Extension Service should get their orders in within the next few days, as the time for taking orders is getting short. Application blanks may be secured at the County Agent's office.

The Ord Chamber of Commerce is cooperating with the County Agents office by offering suitable prizes in the Pasture-Forage-Livestock program in Valley county for 1941. The program was very successful last year and can be even more successful this year, if farmers take advantage of the opportunity.

Practically all of last years winners have filled out the balance sheets which constitute the entry blank for this contest. Other farmers are urged to stop at the County Agent's office and make out their sheets. It requires only a few minutes time and effort, and the program will give recognition to those farmers who put into effect, sound worldwise farming practices in conjunction with a livestock program.

Against Judge Change. During the past forty years there have perhaps been a dozen bills presented to the legislature seeking to limit those who may hold the office of county judge to persons admitted to the bar, and a similar bill has reappeared again this year. Each time in the past they have failed of passage. In that respect the legislatures have shown good judgment, for in Seward county, and doubtless in nearly every other county in the state, some very capable men, who have made excellent probate judges, have been elected, that would have been disqualified were the limitation in effect. At the present time, for instance, P. H. Wiegardt is serving in this county, and he has proven a very efficient judge, his services to the county being so satisfactory that he was re-elected last fall without opposition. Paul H. Bek likewise filled the position for many years, having first been elected at the close of the World War. Neither of these persons were attorneys when elected, although Judge Bek gained admission to practice after retiring from the office. Neither one could even have been a candidate had this proposed law been in effect when they were nominated. The older and more experienced lawyers would not consider giving up their practice to take the office and the younger ones have an equal opportunity with any one else to become candidates. The present system has proven satisfactory throughout the years--there is no demand for a change now.--Seward Independent.

BURWELL

The American Legion is giving another dance in their hall Saturday night to which everyone is invited. Nightingale's Swing Band will supply the music.

Frank Hansen who attends Hastings college came home Friday for the week end. He returned to Hastings Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Wagner and family drove to Grand Island Saturday where they spent Sunday in the home of Mrs. Wagner's mother, Mrs. Rose Webster.

Mrs. James Walker of Perry, Ia. drove into Burwell Friday evening where she is making an extended stay in the home of her son, Carroll and Mrs. Walker. Later she plans to visit relatives in North Dakota on her way to Canada where she will spend the summer in the home of another son.

Mrs. A. S. Cates, her son, J. D. Cates, and her daughter, Mrs. Minnie Gorman, all of Peetz, Colo., arrived in Burwell Friday where they were guests of Mrs. Cates' sisters, Mrs. H. J. Coffin and Mrs. Della Downey. They returned home Monday.

Ray Miller left for Omaha Tuesday morning where he will enter a hospital. Ray broke his knee cap several months ago while playing ball at a neighborhood picnic. It failed to heal properly and recently he fell and broke it. He will be attended by a bone specialist.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Bobby drove to Omaha Saturday. Their son, Robert, who has been receiving treatments in an Omaha hospital, returned home with them. He will return to the hospital in ten days.

Marilyn Yvonne Callies, the four month old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Laurel Callies, died of tetanus Thursday in the home of her parents. The affliction started from an infection on the infant's hand about a month ago. After being critically ill for about two weeks the trouble cleared until Wednesday when the child again became violently ill. Funeral services were conducted by Lyman Kern in the Methodist church Saturday afternoon. Interment was made in the Banner cemetery. Marilyn Yvonne was the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Callies and Charles Ashman. She is also survived by numerous aunts, uncles and cousins.

Will Rice and Mrs. Ida Steffan drove to Norfolk Friday to get Miss Bernadine Callies who came home for the funeral.

The mechanics school which is being taught in the shop room of Meyers and Manassil garage is crowded with young men eager to learn. Harold Semple, the instructor, reports that at least twenty young men have attended the class from 7 to 10 o'clock every evening. Some of them drive as far as ten miles for this purpose. The advisory board which was appointed by the school board consists of Leo Demaree, J. J. Meyers and Mike Higgins.

Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Beck will entertain the pinocle club in their home Wednesday evening.

Miss Frances Smith was hostess to the Bridge club at a 6:30 dinner in the Burwell hotel Monday evening. After the dinner they went to Miss Smith's apartment in the Moninger rooming house where they spent the remainder of the evening.

Bill Van Diest of Taylor was a Burwell visitor Monday.

The people of Burwell are greatly concerned over the condition of Mrs. E. J. Smith who is seriously ill in the Methodist hospital in Omaha. Dr. Smith took her to Omaha a week ago where she is being treated for a heart ailment. According to the latest report she was slightly improved. The folks of the community are united in the hope and prayer for her recovery.

Teams from twelve high schools have signified their intentions of entering the livestock and grain judging contest which will be held at the fair grounds at Burwell Saturday, March 15. The contest is being sponsored by the Burwell chapter of the Future Farmers of America under the direction of Ivan Lux, vocational agricultural teacher. It is the first time such a contest has been held in the Loup Valley. The schools which have entered teams are Ord, Sargent, Anselmo, North Loup, Broken Bow, O'Neill, Bassett, Springview, Ravenna, Litchfield, Atsaworth, and Burwell. The contest will commence at 9:30. Grain judging will occupy most of the morning. Corn, oats, wheat, barley, rye, grain sorghums, sweet clover and alfalfa seed will be judged. In the livestock contest two divisions of horses, brood mares and draft horses will be rated, market hogs, and four divisions of cattle, two of heifers, one of young bulls and one of matured bulls, all of which will be Herefords. The heifers which will be judged will come from the W. O. Zangger herd at North Loup. Bulls are coming from the D. J. Guggenmos, Elmer Hallock and Albert Sitton farms.

Mrs. H. J. Coffin entertained the Philathea class of the Congregational Sunday school in her home Tuesday afternoon. Miss Maude Goodenow had charge of the lesson. Mrs. D. W. Delashmutt and Mrs. Cameron were co-hostesses.

William Garaska submitted to an appendectomy in Dr. Cran's hospital Wednesday morning. Mrs. Bernard Garaska was released from the hospital the same day following her recovery from an Henry McMullen and Jack Messenger drove to Scottsbluff Saturday where they purchased a load of potatoes.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mauch drove to Stuart Sunday where they were guests of her parents.

Dale Hoppes, who enlisted in the army last summer and is now stationed at Camp Robinson in Arkansas arrived in Burwell Tuesday where he is visiting his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hoppes. He will return to his post Monday. Dale reports that his division has been ordered to Alaska next month. He is not overly anxious to make the change.

George Lange bought eight head of cattle at the annual sale of the Nebraska Hereford Breeders' association which was held in Grand Island Wednesday. The cattle, six bulls and two heifers, have been taken to the Amos Grant ranch in Loup county.

The Burwell high school declamatory contest in which 38 students are entered will be held in the auditorium on Tuesday evenings, March 11 and 13. The humorous division and two one act plays will be presented March 11 and the dramatic division, interpretive orations and the play which the high school will enter in the district contest to be held at Loup City will be given March 13. Contestants in the humorous division and their readings are Mabel Irene Bowers, "Buying Her Husband's Christmas Present;" Ethel Smith, "Ma at the Races;" Ann Conner, "The Arrival of Ann;" Virginia Viola Partridge, "Little Brothers Are Like That;" Phyllis Schere, "First Day at Kindergarten;" Ruth Ann Jurgensen, "Ma's Monday Morning;" Ruth Maves, "Junior's First Date;" Joan Pulliam, "Cafeteria Queen;" Viletha Dearmont, "Her First Date" and B111 Thompson, "Tommy Stearns and His Agent." The cast of the comedy play, "Elmer," which will be presented the same evening is composed of Raymond Blake, LaVohne Johnson, Jeanne and Janet Berryman, Ruth Howard, LaMoyn Johnson, Virginia Johnson, Clifford Hansen and Marvin Brodie. The cast of "Pot Boilers," a farce, includes Gerald Bishop, Lee Bahke, Mildred Faye Gidson, Paul Runyan, Joan Pulliam, Bob Edmiston and Con Lee Swanson. Those entered in the dramatic contest and their selections which will be given the week following are Perol Jean Thompson, "Honey;" Amelia Mathauer, "Mary Queen of Scots;" Ruth Langstrom, "Wingless Victory;" Betty Dod, "That We Might Be Saved;" Louella Livermore, "Swan Song;" Helen Howard, "The Scar;" Norma Poling, "Her Grandmother's Birthday;" and Raymond Blake, "Burgomaster's Death." The ones having parts in the contest play "Auf Weidersch" are Ruth Langstrom, Louella Livermore, Roy Gerdes, Gerald Hald, and Keith Pulliam.

Arcadia Man Weds Missouri Girl in Ord Friday

Here are shown Guy Arnold Lutz, Jr., and his bride, the former Miss Lois M. Case, of Carthage, Mo., who were married in Ord March 7th by the bridegroom's uncle, Rev. M. Marvin Long. Mr. Lutz is a son of Guy Lutz, of Arcadia. He and his bride both have employment in Washington, D. C., with the government.

Rev. Otto Engebretson Transfers to Michigan

Rev. and Mrs. Otto Engebretson and son, who have lived in Ord, where Rev. Engebretson has been pastor of the Ord and Midvale United Brethren churches, have transferred to Michigan where he has a charge at Gallen, 20 miles due south of Benton Harbor and just north of the Michigan-Indiana state line. Gallen is only 75 miles from Chicago.

Sunday evening, after Rev. and Mrs. Engebretson got home from church, a large group came to the parsonage, and Willard Harkness, president of the Ord Christian Endeavor, presented them with a beautiful lace table cover and some money as a gift from the Ord and Midvale young people in appreciation of their services for young and old. A young man from Minnesota has applied for the work here, and undoubtedly will be Rev. Engebretson's successor.

Reported by Dr. Barta.

Last week Leonard John underwent a tonsillectomy at the hands of Dr. Barta.

Dr. Barta reports a baby girl born to Mr. and Mrs. William J. Klanceky Sunday morning. Mrs. Klanceky is being taken care of at the home of her mother, Mrs. Frank Adamek.

Johnnie Hill, son of Ray Hill of Arcadia, had a minor operation performed by Dr. Barta Sunday for an ear infection.

Dr. Barta reports a baby boy born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cook at Arcadia at the home of her mother, Mrs. Blakeslee, Monday March 3.

Ignatius Nevrvy is under the care of Dr. Barta with an injured left shoulder caused by falling on the icy ground.

When Our Phone Rings

When your doctor answers a sudden call in the quiet hours after midnight he doesn't expect an apology. If it were given his answer would be: "You needed me. The hour doesn't matter."

As professional men, we too have that same feeling. There is no hour of the day or night when we are not ready to answer a call without delay. A capable member of our staff is always standing by for any emergency.

LETTERS FROM QUIZ READERS

From Mrs. Langrall, To the Editor of The Quiz:

As it is time to renew our Quiz subscription I will write a few lines with my enclosure.

Hearing the voices of Charles Weddel and Ray Hill recently on the "man on the street" program in Omaha gave us a longing to visit the "old home town" again.

The doctor and I spent six months, from June to December, with relatives in Maryland, Virginia and the District of Columbia. We enjoyed the country and climate very much. A year ago last summer I visited in California. The main drawback in the east is the colored population which equals or exceeds that of the whites.

While in Baltimore we enjoyed a short visit with Bob Weddel, who held a position in the Social Security department. He was expecting a promotion and transfer to Washington D. C., which I noted by the Arcadia news department was later realized. We intended looking up Dorothy Strathdee in Washington but could not locate the building housing her department.

The industries and farming in the east are so very different than in the middle west. Some time ago I started a letter to the Quiz describing somewhat in detail the conditions in the east but didn't finish or mail it lest the editor might think it too long, and lest it might crowd out some of the Arcadia department which I wouldn't want to miss.

Would enjoy a visit with any of our former Valley county friends when down this way. You'll find us at 427 Fuller Ave., Council Bluffs, Ia.

MRS. C. D. LANGRALL

R. H. Bryan Writes, To the Editor of The Quiz:

Here I am to say we still enjoy the Valley county paper and hope to keep on reading it for another year. After 45 days of rain the most water fell in 40 years, so they say, but the sun is shining and what a rejoicing.

Mrs. Grace Stovell paid us a visit today. She is now at the home of her son Jim here in New Monterey, 715 Lillie street. Her son George is at Fort Ord. Her son good to see North Loup friends after all these years. She is looking well.

Our son, Ray K. Bryan, chief radio man on the U. S. S. Talbot, is at San Diego, but expects to go to sea for a month soon.

Best regards to all friends. We enjoy the old photographs, also letters from old friends. Hope you have better crops this year and also that they pass the bill for Fort Hartsuff.

R. H. BRYAN, 566 David Ave., Monterey, Calif.

Charles Cetak May Be Trained by Air Corps

From Bill Garnick, who left Ord March 3 as a volunteer for service in the army, comes a letter stating that Johnny Hill and Charles Cetak were the only two Ord boys left at Fort Leavenworth, Kas., when he reached there, and that Hill left the next day for Fort Riley. Others had been sent to camps in California, Kentucky and other states.

It looks like Cetak will go to the air corps because he passed his physical examinations with a perfect score, Garnick writes. If he does he will be flying Cadet Cetak for a year and then will be second lieutenant in the air corps.

Most of the fellows found the clothing much better than they had expected, says Garnick. He seemed well satisfied with his first taste of army life.

Married at Hyannis.

Miss Norma Louise Gumb of Burwell and George Andrew Dunkel of Atkinson surprised their friends by slipping away to Hyannis Febr. 8, to be married by Theodore A. Frye, county judge. The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gumb living north of Burwell, and the groom is the oldest son of John Dunkel of Atkinson.

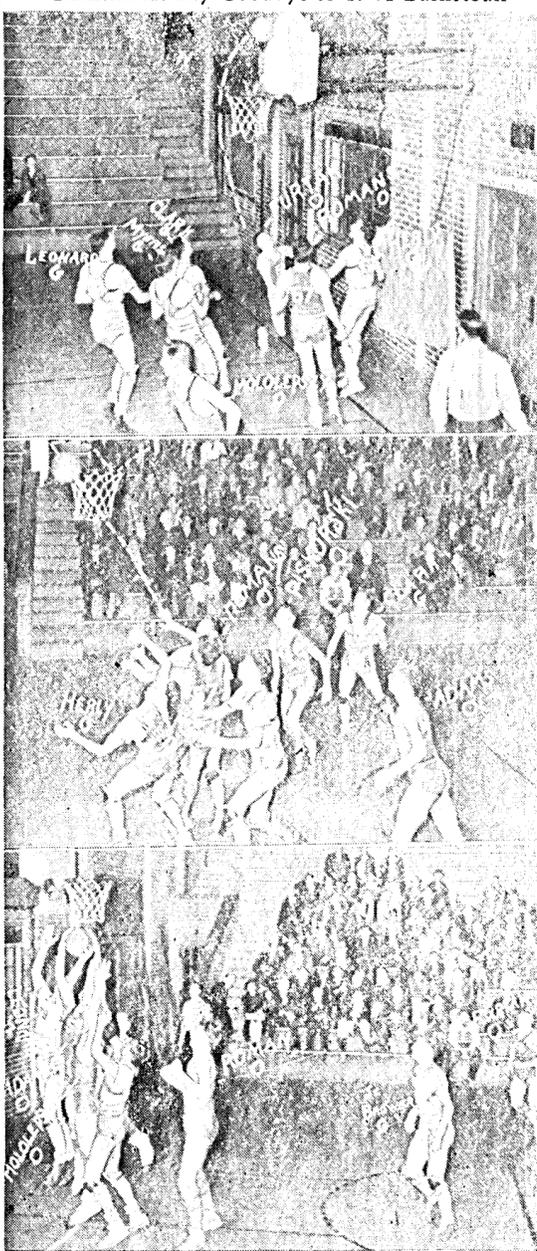

Oil Blaze Causes Some Excitement at Spalding

Joe Jirak, returning from a trip Friday afternoon, told of an exciting incident that occurred while he was in Spalding that morning. A tanker was unloading gas at a service station and several WPA men were waiting to go to work.

Somebody must have dropped a match, for the gas got on fire. The owner of the tanker jumped into the cab and drove it away, but the gas was still running and the fire followed the spilled gas. They soon got the gas shut off and the fire out without any serious damage.

Who Can This Man Be? "One member of the legislature has not introduced a bill. Keep watch on him. There's good timber for a higher office. His name will be published in black face capitals later, if he does not fall from grace."—Clay County Sun.

Chanticleers Say Goodbye to 1941 Basketball

These pictures, taken during the second game of the Class A tournament at Hastings last Thursday night, show the Chanticleers' goodbye to basketball for 1941. They lost to Geneva 31 to 21, thereby bringing the year to a close. In the top photo in the first quarter Furtak sinks a short shot, making Ord's score 6 to Geneva's 10. Romans, hard luck player of the tournament, tries an angle shot in the middle photo but the ball hits the backboard, rolls around the hoop and out the other side. Romans failed to make a field goal in either tournament game, though throughout the season he lead Ord scorers. The bottom photo shows Malolepszy, then Adams, trying to tally from beneath the basket but neither shot dropped. Score at this point was 24 to 17, in the fourth quarter.

GROHE'S NUBRED

Acclimated for Nebraska

Not until the last year did you hear anything in regard to the feeding value of corn. Since Nubred has been introduced, every seed grower of modern corn seems to have a soft feeding corn. But do they have facts and figures to prove their claims?

Nubred has plenty of facts and figures to prove its feeding value.

We challenge any corn to beat us in the production of pork and beef and will be glad to submit to you figures to prove our claim, if you ask for them.

Regarding yield, we will say that in Dodge county where a test plot was grown, 50 different numbers of hybrids were planted and 3 early numbers of Nubred. The report showed that Nubred corn was among the highest yielders, although it came much earlier and tasseled in the hottest weather.

We can prove to you that Nubred produces more corn and beef, that it yields more in the average farmer's field, that it has the quality to win in the largest show rooms in America. Nubred has the honor of being the last winner of the great Wallace Farmer trophy.

No corn can do more than this, and we invite you to plant some of this modern acclimated seed corn grown and sold by farmers for farmers.

Reported By Dr. Norris.
Mrs. Anna Barnes of Cotesfield, mother of Mrs. George Lint, is visiting her daughter and family this week and was a patient of Dr. Norris Monday.
Miss Elsie Rossbach of Burwell underwent a tonsillectomy by Dr. Norris yesterday, and remained at the Norris home last night.
Patients of Dr. Norris yesterday were Martin Benson of Arcadia and George Meyer of Cotesfield.

Ord Firemen Meet.
The Ord fire department held their regular meeting last evening and among other matters of business considered was that of buying a softball game and having a team in the Ord Softball League. Vernie Andersen was named to look after the proposition, and he says they will send for the outfit at once, and be ready for any competition they can find.

Fiftieth Anniversary Observed by Ord Couple

MR. AND MRS. CHARLES MAYO.

Another esteemed Valley county couple passed the fiftieth milestone of married life when Mr. and Mrs. Charles Mayo observed their golden wedding anniversary at the Melvin Clement home in Ord yesterday.

It was a family dinner affair, and those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Otis Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Don Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hughes and family, Miss Ruth Mayo of Chicago, Mrs. Elmer Jeffries of Greeley county, and of course the couple and Mr. and Mrs. Mayo.

Charles E. Mayo was born at Rio, Ill., Oct. 22, 1863, and came to Valley county about 1889. Miss Emma Kildow was born Sept. 13, 1870, in West Virginia, and the family came to the North Loup community while she was still a small girl.

The records in the Valley county judge's office show that Charles E. Mayo and Miss Emma Kildow were married by J. R. Paddock, county judge, March 11, 1891, and that the witnesses were W. S. Mattley and George Mayo.

The Mayos have spent their half century of married life in Valley county, with the exception of three years that they lived in the neighborhood of Sargent. Most of this time they lived near North Loup, but came to Ord to make their home in 1935.

They have five children, four daughters and one son: Mrs. A. (Otis) Hughes, Ord; Miss Margaret Mayo, Los Angeles; Miss Ruth Mayo, Chicago; Mrs. Velma Mallory of Northport, Wash.; and Lloyd Mayo, also of Northport, where he went to live last fall. They also have 6 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren.

Clifton Clark, Mrs. Fern Maxson had charge of the lesson which was a much appreciated talk by Miss McClatchey on her trip to Florida and Cuba at Christmas time.
The Business and Professional Women's club met Tuesday evening with Mrs. A. L. McIndes hostess and Miss Donnie Smith co-hostess. St. Patrick's decorations were used. Pinochle was played with Beulah Porter winning first prize and Marcia Rood the traveling prize.

Many Married in Ord During the Past Year

John L. Anderson, county judge, must have been trying for a record of some kind last week, as he issued no less than six marriage licenses and in three cases also performed the marriage ceremony.

The first of these licenses were issued March 5, to Emil L. Haunmont and Garnet A. Dickman, both of Seward. They were married by the judge, with O. F. Dickman and Lillie A. Dickman of Sargent as witnesses.

William G. Probert of Sargent and Lucille V. Garris of Taylor were granted a license March 7, and were married by the judge, with R. E. Probert and John Probert of Sargent as witnesses.

Guy Arnold Lutz, Jr., Arcadia, and Lois M. Case, Carthage, Mo., were granted a license March 7, and were married by Rev. M. Marvin Long of the Ord Methodist church. Mrs. Long is a sister of Mr. Lutz's father.

A license was granted March 8, to Alvin F. Meyer, of Battle Creek, Neb., and Miss Ella M. Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lange of Mira Valley, Miss Lange has been teaching in the schools of Battle Creek. No return had been made on this license Monday.

Earl Curtis Whited, Maryville, Mo., mechanic and contractor, and Edna B. Bousall, Arcadia teacher with a school in Custer county, were married March 5 by Judge Anderson, with George S. Round and Elaine V. Bousall as witnesses. Mrs. Whited has given up her school, and they will live at Maryville.

Billy Gyger Ray, assistant supervisor, Lincoln, Neb., and Miss Hilda Mae Huddleston, Lincoln, were granted a license by Judge Anderson yesterday. The story of their marriage appears elsewhere. Six marriage licenses in exactly seven days is a new record for the county judge's office.

Matterhorn Dangerous
The famous Swiss peak, the Matterhorn, was not even approached till the year 1857 and not conquered till 1865, and has been responsible for more fatal accidents since than any other peak in the high Alps.

City Bowlers Defeat Farmers Tuesday Eve

Playing a fine game throughout, a group of city men defeated a team of farmers at the Goodhand alleys last night. One of the city team, Henry Enger, could hardly be classified as city man, however. High score for the evening went to Len Rogers, whose average was 132 for three games. The total scores, as compiled from the averages turned in, was, city team, 2505, farmers, 2394. The same group will meet in match play next Tuesday evening. Playing for the city were Keith Habig, Don Severson, Leon Rogers, Henry Enger and K. W. Peterson. For the farmers, John Koll, Elmer Almquist, Emil Zikmund, Lew Jobst and Hartwig Koll.

Proceedings of the County Board

March 4, 1941, 10:00 o'clock a. m. Regular meeting called to order by Chairman with supervisors Jablonski, Suchanek, Hansen, Zikmund, Barber and Ball present. Johnson being absent.

Minutes of last meeting read and approved as read. Bank balances as of February 28th, 1941, read as follows: Nebr. State Bank, Ord, $43,857.89, and Arcadia State Bank, Arcadia, $24,026.94.

Official Bonds bearing the endorsement of the Committee on Bonds, were approved as follows, on motion duly carried:

Will Foth, $2000.00, Enterprise Township Treasurer. William Hekeler, $500.00, Davis Creek Township Assessor. Delbert Holmes, $500.00, Road Overseer in Yale Township. R. H. Petersen, $500.00, Road Overseer in Independent Township.

Henry Rachuy, $500.00, Road Overseer in Enterprise Township. Matter of Old Age Assistance in amount of $115.43, paid to Sol Brox, and constituting a lien upon Division F, in SW 1/4 of Sec. 15, Twp. 19, Range 14 West, came on for consideration, and the full amount having been repaid in full by said Sol Brox to the County Treasurer, resolution authorizing and directing that said lien be released of record, was introduced and unanimously adopted, upon motion by Hansen, and seconded by Suchanek.

Being noon, meeting recessed until 1:00 p. m., at which time again called to order by Chairman with all seven supervisors present. Supervisor Hansen, then moved that this Board go on record as favoring and concurring in the following Resolution which has been duly adopted on February 21, 1941, at an assembly of drouth-stricken counties, for the purposes enumerated, to-wit:

Corn For Drouth-Stricken Areas. Memorializing the Secretary of Agriculture of the United States to take such steps as are necessary to provide corn for drouth-stricken farmers in the interests of Nebraska well-being and American defense.

WHEREAS, National Defense is now the main objective of every American, and

WHEREAS, Nebraska is the most nearly one hundred per cent agricultural state in the union and accordingly its contribution to national defense must be made through the production of food, grain and meat products, and

WHEREAS, the ravages of several successive years of drouth have placed our farmers in a desperate plight, forcing them to dispose of their cattle and hogs in ever increasing numbers because of the lack of corn and other feed-stuffs to care for them, thus bringing loss to them, their families, the business communities which depend upon them, and to the nation at large, and

WHEREAS, there exists in the stocks of the Ever-Normal Granary sufficient supplies of corn to relieve the feed situation in Nebraska, and permit our farmers to become self-sustaining and to make their contribution by producing meat animals in the quantity necessary for national defense, NOW THEREFORE,

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE ALLIED COUNTIES NEBRASKA DROUTH AREA IN SESSION ASSEMBLED AT GRAND ISLAND, NEBRASKA, FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 21, 1941:

1. That the Allied Counties Nebraska Drouth Area respectfully petitions, memorializes and urges the secretary of agriculture of the United States to take such measures as are necessary to release from the stocks of the Ever-Normal Granary such supplies of corn as may be necessary to relieve adequately the feed shortage in Nebraska and to keep the pledge made by the department of agriculture in its NOIR leaflet 401, dated November, 1939, entitled, "Here's Our Farm Program for 1940" in which it stated:

"Farmers can look upon the record corn carryover in 1939 as an accomplishment in building an Ever-Normal Granary. If foreign demands requires larger supplies or if crop failure comes, the Ever-Normal Granary will meet the situation."

2. That corn loans be made in keeping with the necessary demand both for planting of crops and feed for livestock, and that such corn advanced by the government be repaid in kind within five years from corn crops raised by Nebraska farmers with no interest charge.

3. That this resolution be spread at large upon the minutes of the meeting, and that the secretary of this association is hereby ordered and directed forthwith to forward a copy of this resolution, to the secretary of agriculture of the United States, and to each of the United States Senators and Congressmen representing the State of Nebraska in the Congress to the end that representatives in the Government and in the Congress of the United States may be advised that this organization considers as imperative to the national defense and to the well-being of the farmers of Nebraska the release to Nebraska farmers of adequate amounts of the stocks of corn now held in the Ever-Normal Granary.

Motion was duly seconded by Zikmund, and upon roll call, was unanimously carried.

The matter of storage and distribution of commodities, and present storage facilities came on for discussion, upon complaints that such facilities are undesirable and inadequate, after which it was moved by Zikmund, and seconded by Hansen, that the WPA Sewing Project now in operation in the Keown building, move back into the Wentworth building, at $13.00 per month from April 1st and the Commodities Department together with all stocks on hand, be moved from the Kull building into the Keown building (where Sewing project now is) at $25.00 per month from April 1st, for the whole building. Motion duly carried.

Application of Louis Volf, on behalf of Slavin Lodge No. 112, Z. C. O. B. J. in Germanium Township, for "on sale" and "off sale" beer license, and there being no complaints on file against the renewal of said license, and all fees having been paid in full, motion was duly seconded, that said application be granted and license renewed. Upon roll call, supervisors voted as follows: Jablonski, yes; Suchanek, yes; Hansen, yes; Zikmund, yes; Barber, yes; Johnson, no; Ball, yes. Motion was declared carried and said, application granted.

IGN. KLIMA, JR. County Clerk

March 12, 1931. S. W. Roe was again elected president of the Farmers Grain and Supply company, with D. E. Strong as vice-president and J. G. Bremer secretary-treasurer. Wm. Heuck was continued as manager. Chas. Sterneck led an unsuccessful fight to close the store in Ord. The veterans' loan bill had passed, and it was estimated that this would bring from $60,000 to $100,000 into Valley county.

Because a community sale held at Harry Brestley's had proved a great success, the Weller Auction company was planning a series of similar sales in sections of the county.

John Haskell, Maytag salesman, was held up and robbed of $292 on the highway between Sargent and Taylor.

H. B. Van Decar talked to the Rotarians on the subject of "Citizenship."

Dr. J. C. Nielsen, formerly of Arcadia was promoted to head the state hospital at Norfolk.

Martin A. Krotch, 70, died at Spokane, Wash. He and his brothers John and Al were formerly in the lumber business in Ord.

A general snow storm swept the middle west on Thursday and Friday. Eight inches of snow fell, bringing a lot of moisture.

March 10, 1921. Great preparations were being made for the automobile show which was scheduled to be held in Omaha March 14 to 19.

Miss Eva Plejdrup became the bride of Pete Hollander, March 6. Julius Vala was announcing the opening of a general tailoring business in the second story of the Misko block.

Ord councilmen were having quite a time deciding on the site for Ord's new city hall. Three of them voting to have it on the corner where the Rice Service station is now located.

With 201 teams entered in the eleventh annual state basketball tournament at Lincoln, the city was flooded with players. They were divided into classes then, but the district system had not been worked out.

Ben F. Bowen lost a barn and eight horses at a fire on his farm north of Ord in Garfield county. Frank Grady of the Quiz force broke a finger in the folder.

March 9, 1911. After living in Holly, Colo. for three years, Mr. and Mrs. William C. Wentworth returned to Ord to make their home on an 80-acre farm they owned two miles southwest of Ord.

Frank J. Stara sold his West Side market to H. L. Steinhart of Spalding and Lewis Mazac of Ord, the latter formerly employed in the Stara market.

Ira Foster was so determined to go to Idaho that he sold his place 14 miles north of Ord at public auction. Ed Perkins bid it in for $1,700, a little over $5 per acre.

Allen Clements got out of Mexico and announced that he would pitch ball for a Texas league team during 1911.

At a special session of the city council the city attorney was authorized to bring action to bring within the corporate limits of the City of Ord a number of outlying tracts of land, including the cemetery, Russell Park and the fair grounds.

Miss Mattie Herron arrived in Ord to trim hats for G. W. Milford and Sons.

G. C. Heddle had obtained the names of enough petitioners to have a special election called on the question of discontinuing the Ord irrigation district. The election was called for April 27, 1901.

The two frame buildings north of the First National bank had been moved out and the contractor, John Wentworth, was ready to commence the excavating as soon as the condition of the ground would permit, preparatory to building a brick building there. This building is now occupied by the Ord City Bakery and the Gamble Store. Fred J. Bell had bought one of the old buildings, and had moved it to the corner lot where the Rutar Hatchery now is for use as a photo gallery.

One W. C. Parsons, who had been head of the Quiz mechanical department, was promoted to the position of city editor of the Quiz. He is now publisher of the Burwell Tribune.

An "Olde Folkes Concerte" was to be given at the Methodist Meeting House, March 17. The entire announcement was printed in a fine imitation of old English spelling.

The glory, if any, of starting the Valley Alliance went to the organization in Mira Valley, according to the Quiz, which appears to have been in favor of the movement at the time.

According to the Quiz, G. W. Milford and W. L. McMullen had dissolved partnership by mutual consent, the former continuing the business and the latter going to Kent, Nebr., to open a store.

M. E. Getter must have devised some kind of a snow plow, as the Quiz gives him credit for doing a very effective job with it.

Somebody was writing a line of country correspondence from a place called Jordan on the Dry Cedar. There was a postoffice by that name there for a time.

W. J. Lloyd had sold his bakery and confectionery to Frank Lloyd and George Hall, and he and his family had gone to Missouri Valley Junction, Ia. to live.

The untimely death, at Calamus, Nebr., of Myran Fillmore, 25, will be recalled by many of the old timers.

Burwell News

Written by Rex Wagner

Rev. and Mrs. J. Bruce Wylie returned home Saturday from Crab Orchard where Mr. Wylie conducted revival meetings. They had planned to remain in Crab Orchard for another week but the roads were so muddy that people could not get into town to attend the services. Mr. Wylie reports that ten inches of wet snow fell in that locality Wednesday. They plan to return to Crab Orchard after Easter to continue the services. Rev. A. C. Ehret of North Loup preached in the Methodist church Sunday morning. Mr. Wylie had arranged for him to speak before he knew he would return on Saturday.

Ralph Douglas submitted his resignation as extension agent in Garfield, Loup and Wheeler counties Monday to the board of directors of the Farm Bureau. Mr. Douglas has had charge of the extension work in these counties for three years. Under his direction interest in extension work has greatly increased. He has organized numerous 4-H clubs in the three counties superintending the planting and care of numerous experimental plantings of hybrid corn, potatoes, soy beans and various other crops, conducted irrigation schools and done much to acquaint the farmers of the North Loup valley with the better methods of watering the land, operated a grasshopper poison bait plant and done many other things to help the farmers of the North Loup valley. Mrs. Douglas has also taken an active part in the civic affairs of Burwell. They have many friends in Burwell who will regret their departure. They are moving back to Franklin where Mr. Douglas will operate a farm.

Mrs. Lyman Kern submitted to a major operation in the Ord hospital Monday. According to the latest report she is making satisfactory progress.

Coach Wolcott will go to Ravenna Sunday where he will participate in the town team tournament which is being held in that town. He plays on the Loup City firemen's team which is composed largely of coaches. The team has played two games in the tournament. They defeated a team from Grand Island 93 to 34 and the Dannebrog town team 70 to 47.

Miss Dorothy Paulin drove to Hastings Saturday where she visited friends over the week end.

Mrs. D. C. McCarthy, Mrs. C. E. Mallock, Mrs. C. W. Hughes, Mrs. Nell Sloan and Mrs. Henry McMullen were Grand Island visitors on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Thiem and daughter have moved from Ord to Burwell. They have rented the "Birdie" Thompson residence where they will make their home.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Ferguson, Mrs. Pray and her son Glenn all of Ord, were guests Sunday in the Frank Pray home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shelton and family were dinner guests Sunday in the Andrew Bialek home in Ord.

Mrs. K. M. Parsons entertained the Quilt club in her home Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wiberg and family have moved to North Loup where they will operate a cream station.

Mrs. R. E. Leach entertained at a birthday dinner Sunday honoring her husband. Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hizer and family and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hizer were guests.

Wilfred Butcher slipped on the ice Monday morning while he was on his way to work and sustained a broken collar bone. Dr. Cram set the fractured bone. Mr. Butcher selected a rather inopportune time for his accident. The Lutheran church which he contracted to build is still partly unfinished while an anxious congregation is eager to occupy the building, he is superintending a crew of men which is wrecking the old school house and has several other contracting jobs which the owners are impatiently waiting for him to start.

Dean and Newall McGrew, Mickey Simpson and the Misses Naomi, Joan and Dorothy Simpson drove to Grand Island Sunday where the latter caught the train for Cheyenne, Wyo. She will visit her sister, Mrs. Lola Greathouse.

Mrs. Vere Shafer entertained the members of the New Century club in the home of her daughter, Mrs. William Eatherton, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. G. B. Swanson had charge of the program. The ladies enjoyed a social hour and parlor games were played. Sandwiches, vegetable salad, pineapple fluff and coffee were served. Mrs. Adam Dubas will be the hostess at the next meeting.

The matter of sending a representative from Burwell to Boys' State next summer will be discussed at the meeting of the American Legion in their hall Thursday evening. Austin Chambers, Ferd Wheeler and Anton Zalud will give reports of the district meeting in Grand Island which they attended two weeks ago.

Mrs. Ferd Wheeler and Mrs. Anton Zalud will give reports of the same convention at the meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary which will be held in the Legion hall Tuesday afternoon.

A large crowd gathered at the Congregational church Sunday to hear Attorney Glen Runyan discuss "Does Civilization Need Religion." Mr. Runyan will continue his discussion next Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. J. V. DeLashmuth celebrated their fifty-ninth wedding anniversary Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Q. Mathews and two sons of Aurora, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Meyer and Betty and Paul DeLashmuth spent the day with the DeLashmuths. Mrs. Mathews and Mrs. Meyer are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. DeLashmuth.

Motion pictures of the Parade of Roses in Pasadena and other California scenes taken by Dwight Johnson on his trip to the Nebraska-Stanford game New Year's day were shown at the meeting of the Junior Matrons' club by Lewis Moore Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Clifford Anderson was hostess to the club. Having seen the parade she was able to explain many of the scenes. Mrs. Leo Demaree was a guest at the meeting.

James Ballard attended to business matters in Broken Bow Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Neumeyer have moved on to the Clement's farm in Custer county which they have rented for the ensuing year.

A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yokum of Brewster in Dr. Cram's hospital Friday.

Mrs. Edward Burke of Brewster fell on the ice and broke her arm Saturday. She was brought to Dr. Cram's hospital for attention.

Mrs. W. W. Griffith has been critically ill from heart trouble. Her daughter, Mrs. Frank Pilonowski of Ord, has been staying in Burwell to help care for her.

Mrs. John Jensen was stricken with a heart attack Friday and unable to attend her mother's funeral. Dr. Cram who attended her reports that her condition is much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Hoppes came from Martillo, S. D. to attend the funeral services. They remained for a short visit with relatives. Mrs. Will Post of Hastings is spending several days with Mrs. Jensen.

Mr. and Mrs. F. F. Wagner and Helen drove to Mason City Saturday where they visited in the home of Mrs. Wagner's brother C. D. Willoughby who celebrated his birthday anniversary. Miss Naomi Wagner who attends Kearney State Teachers college was also a guest in the Willoughby home. She was the week end guest of a cousin who also attends school in Kearney.

Dr. Cram performed two appendectomies Friday. Mrs. McCormick of Anselmo and Mrs. Charles Dobrovsky were the patients. The Dobrovsky's little daughter has been staying with her grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rutar of Elyria, while her mother is in the hospital.

Mrs. Hoppes Dies At the Age of 89

The eighty-nine year long life span of a pioneer mother who had encountered and conquered all the hardships inevitable in converting a raw prairie into civilized communities ended Thursday when Mrs. Druzilla Hoppes died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Jensen. If Mrs. Hoppes had lived until Oct. 29 she would have been ninety years old.

Funeral services were conducted in the Christian church Sunday afternoon by Rev. Clifford Snyder. The edifice was filled with friends who came to pay their last respects. Many floral tributes testified to the esteem of the community for the deceased. Six grand daughters served as flower girls and six grand sons as pall bearers.

Burial was made in the Burwell cemetery.

Until two years ago Mrs. Hoppes had lived alone in her home west of the old mill. Since that time she has made her home with her daughters, Mrs. Ed Heltz and Mrs. Jensen. Thursday noon she ate dinner as usual and a half hour later was stricken by a heart attack and died suddenly.

Mrs. Hoppes was born in Indiana in 1851. She was the second of a family of ten children. When she was nine years old she moved with her parents to Mound City, Mo. When she was sixteen the family again moved to Richardson county, Nebraska. Here she met Josiah Hoppes, whom she married in Falls City in 1871. As a bride she went to live at Verdun. The railroad had not yet been built through this town.

In 1888 they moved to Pawnee county and three years later they moved in a covered wagon to Valley county. Their first home in the North Loup valley was a farm on Turtle creek southeast of Elyria. They lived here for five years, encountering the drought of '94 and the years when the grasshoppers scourged the countryside.

The Hoppes family moved in 1896 to a farm near the MacIntyre school house. Here their eldest son, Samuel, died. In 1898 they homesteaded six miles east of Burwell on the land which is now the Pishna farm. Here they lived until 1906 when Mr. and Mrs. Hoppes retired and moved to Burwell. He died July 31, 1909.

Mrs. Hoppes was the mother of eleven children all of whom lived to be adults. Her four oldest children have preceded her in death. Her surviving children are Mrs. John Jensen, Mrs. Ed Heltz, Robert and Joe Hoppes, all of Burwell, Mrs. Mabel Ball of Millsbury, Sask., Mrs. Will Post of Hastings and Alfred Hoppes of Martillo, S. D. She leaves forty-two grandchildren and thirty-three great grandchildren, and one great, great grandchild, two sisters, Mrs. Kate Robbins of Burwell and Mrs. Morris Baker of Pauline and a brother, John Stephens of Pauline.

Mrs. Hoppes' eldest son, Samuel, died in 1897. Another son, Noah, died twenty-eight years ago. He was a twin brother to Mrs. John Jensen. A daughter, Mrs. Christina Jacka, died Nov. 16, 1899 and another son, Bee, in December of 1936.

Clarence Cass went to Lincoln today where he has accepted a position with the plant quarantine division of the department of agriculture. He will probably be engaged in the eradication of bind weed. His work will take him in all parts of Nebraska.

Mrs. G. A. Butts was reelected president of the Woman's club at the meeting held in the library basement Monday afternoon. Mrs. R. H. Douglas was elected vice-president, Mrs. C. C. Scofield secretary, Mrs. O. S. Chaffin treasurer and Mrs. Osce Johnson chairman of the program committee. For roll call each member responded with a Nebraska memory. Mrs. W. C. Parsons and Mrs. Lillie Mickel served doughnuts and coffee.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urbanovsky Thursday. Dr. Cram was in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Philipps and family were guests Sunday of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Johnson in their ranch home at Beardwell.

Rex Ilgenfritz, who attends the College of Education at Greeley, Colo., will go to Crawford Saturday where he will spend his spring vacation. He will visit his sister, Mrs. Ben Mickel and Rev. Mickel. James Schrier, who is still stationed at Fort Crook, came to Burwell Friday where he visited in the home of his brother, Harold, over the week end. He returned to his post Sunday with A. B. Jenks who trucked a load of cattle to the Omaha market.

James Morrison, who taught in the Burwell high school for several years, is now in the Clarkson hospital at Omaha where he is being treated for a brain tumor with which he is afflicted. His left arm is paralyzed. Word of Mr. Morrison's illness reached Burwell Friday in a letter which Ralph Walker received from Edgar Apking of Curtis who is Mrs. Morrison's brother. Since leaving Burwell two years ago Mr. Morrison has been teaching in the Holdrege high school. He lived at North Loup when a boy.

Will Rice, Mrs. Ida Steffan and Mrs. Hannah Riley drove to Norfolk Thursday where the latter attended to business matters.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tucker and Loren Livermore and two sons left for California Wednesday where the Tuckers intend to make their home.

Miss Ella Lange Wed to Battle Creek Young Man

A pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John's Lutheran church of Mira Valley at 7:30 Sunday evening, March 9th, when Miss Ella Lange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lange, became the bride of Mr. Alvin Meyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer of Battle Creek, Neb.

The bride was attired in a floor length dress of white slipper satin and a long veil with tulle of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink tulle roses. The maid-of-honor, Miss Ava Bremer, of Fremont, and the bridesmaid, Miss Frances Acton, of Lombard, Ill., wore pink and blue tulle dresses respectively, and carried pink and white roses.

Two nieces of the bride, Geraldine and Jeanine Lange, wore pink and blue dresses and carried baskets of pink and white sweetpeas. The bridegroom was attended by Edwin Meyer, of Battle Creek, and Franklin Bremer.

The double ring ceremony was used, with Rev. David Kreitzer officiating. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Kreitzer.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Ernest Frank, Mrs. Carl Gausman, Henry Lange and George Bremer sang "The Lord's My Shepherd." About one hundred guests attended the reception at the Lange home where decorations of pink, blue and white were used.

Guests from out of town included Mr. and Mrs. Frank Meyer and family, Mr. and Mrs. George Zohner, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hohenstein, the Misses Dorothy and Alberta Praemer, Clara and Martha Klein, Emma Hohenstein, Adeline Gaudermann, the Messrs. Martin Newark, Alfred Stuckwisch, Erwin Aldog, Norman Praemer, Oscar and Ernest Klein, all of Battle Creek; Mr. and Mrs. Russell Acton and family, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Harold Friedrich and daughter and Herman Michael, of Aurora, S. D.; Miss Ava Bremer, Fremont; and Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Baugert and daughters, St. Libory.

The bride is a graduate of Ord high school and has been teaching St. Peter's Lutheran church school near Battle Creek. The groom is a successful farmer of the Battle Creek community, and he and his bride will reside on a farm south of that village.

ORD CITY BAKERY

NO MEAT IS TASTIER THAN

GOOD BEEF

Ask any person what kind of meat he likes best and chances are he'll say "beef," for surely the old familiar beefsteak and roast beef, as well as other beef cuts are standbys in the American home.

To be at its best, beef should be from a young animal that has been fed on corn for the proper length of time. It should be properly butchered and aged. It should be cut up by a person who knows his business.

We try to have always in our refrigerators the finest beef it is possible to buy. Right now we are proud of three corn-fed steers, meat from which is as fine as any we've ever sold.

If you like good beef, call for it here.

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Mrs. Glen Miller left for her home in Sidney on the Thursday afternoon train after spending several days with her mother, Mrs. N. C. Madsen. Mrs. Madsen is improving after a severe attack of the flu. Ruth Clement is assisting in her home for a time.

The home economics club held their March meeting Wednesday night at the school house. Mrs. J. A. Barber spoke to the girls on St. Patrick and Irish superstitions. Hostesses served a nice lunch at the close of the program.

Members of the first year home economics class, nineteen in number held a style show Friday afternoon. Each girl invited her mother and one other guest. For most of the girls the dresses they had just completed were their first attempt at sewing and they were all well made and becomingly styled. A program of several readings and musical numbers was given and the guests were served with sherry, cookies and ice cream. Grace Manchester was requested to give her reading, Closing Day Program, which she did. All dresses exhibited were made of cotton material and ranged in price from 69c to $1.85. Miss Myrtle Green is the home ec teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis, Mr. and Mrs. Elley and Mr. and Mrs. Mills Hill took the basketball boys to Broken Bow Wednesday night to play in the tournament. Because of the storm and bad roads all remained over night.

No Recipe... CAN BE BETTER THAN THE THINGS THAT GO INTO IT

In these days when new recipes are so plentiful, and housewives are constantly trying new dishes, it is wise to remember that no recipe, no matter how good it is, can turn out any better than its separate ingredients are to start with.

When you try a new meat dish, be sure your meat is good to start with. If you try a new fish or seafood recipe, make sure the fish or oysters are strictly fresh and of good quality. Stringy, tasteless cheese can spoil the best cheese dish.

One way to be sure of your ingredients is to get them from a reliable market. This market has been pleasing housewives for a half century; we think we can please you.

Eureka—The George Alders family moved last week from Mrs. Gorny's place to a place near Comstock. —Pete Kochonowski drove his colts home from Jim Jablonski's Saturday. —Duane, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Iwanski, was sick Sunday night and was taken to a doctor Monday. —Mr. and Mrs. Enos Zulkoski and baby and Benie Zulkoski were Sunday dinner guests at J. B. Zulkoski's. —Ed and Anton Proskocil were helping Will Barnes cut posts Monday. —Mr. and Mrs. John Iwanski and Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zulkoski were at Will Barnes' Friday evening.

Lone Star—Mr. and Mrs. Joe Urbanovsky are parents of a baby boy born March 6. Their mothers, Mrs. John Urbanovsky and Mrs. Bruha have been caring for mother and baby. —Mr. and Mrs. Fred Martinson were callers at the A. Guggen-

An Open Letter to Highway Department

ing the ridge at the east edge of the road. A South Dakota car with trailer attached, coming from the north, took the same precarious route, but women passengers feared to ride so they waded through the puddles in the field, climbed fences and met the car a quarter of a mile down the road. Then came a car with a No. 9 license plate, one with a No. 4 plate, two No. 47 cars and a pick-up truck with a No. 14 plate, all within a half hour. There is much travel on this road. All took the dangerous route along the ridge outside the road and all got through, though miscalculation of a few inches by any driver might have caused his car to slip off the ridge and overturn in the deep water.

Finally Mr. John Kokes, Jr., came with a team of horses hitched to a two-wheel cart and pulled out on or through the mudholes on this road by the horses and tractors of the farmers who live there. Only the best, or luckiest, drivers get through without a tow. After dark few do. Usually the farmers charge the hapless motorists nothing; they take it out in cursing you and the others to whom they are told to look for a decent road.

If you will look in your files, gentlemen, you will find that delegations of farmers and business men have visited you many times to ask that you take over this county road, improve and maintain it. Your department has promised to do something about it, but has never performed.

Your files will show, also, that this road was designated as No. 171 in the 1929 statutes. You will find that a few years ago the Valley county highway department graded and partly gravelled five miles of this road leading from Ord, whereupon your department took it over for maintenance. For this distance from Ord the road is designated as No. 57 highway. You will find also that two years ago your department graded, clayed and gravelled three miles of this road extending southward from the Burwell-Ericson highway to the Valley county line, thereupon erecting No. 57 markers. In between these improved sections the road is unmarked, though on road maps the entire route is indicated as No. 57 and drivers unfamiliar with the road follow it as such, to their eternal dismay.

The previous administration, on at least two occasions, made definite promises that the entire Ord-Ericson highway would be taken over and completed "soon". It was never done. Six weeks or more ago a delegation from the Ord Chamber of Commerce visited you and was promised that an engineer would be sent out at once to make an inspection and "see what could be done". This promise has not been kept.

This is an important route to a great many people of Valley and other counties. It taps an important trade territory for Ord business men. The Valley county road department does not have sufficient funds to do the work necessary to make this road passable in all kinds of weather. Money spent on this road, short of enough to do a complete job, will be merely thrown away. The people who have to use this road have been very patient. They have waited years while less-important roads in other parts of the state were graded and gravelled and olded and finally paved. They are tired of waiting.

Isn't it time, gentlemen of the Nebraska highway department, that you do something to improve this sad situation? We believe these pictures and this open letter speak for themselves, but we add our plea that no further delays be permitted and that such long-suffering public of this part of the state that the spring and winter of 1941 will be the last spring and winter they will have to travel on such a road as this.

Game Reserve Employee to Make Home in Ord
H. Elliott McClure, whose home is Lewis, Ia., but who is in the employ of the state game, reforestation and parks commission, was in Ord Monday and Tuesday of this week, and was looking about for a house with the view to making his home here.
Mr. McClure is to look after the pheasant crop of the state, and since Ord is about in the center of the chief pheasant area, he will live here and make this his headquarters. The job will be a permanent one, so he will doubtless be located here a number of years.
He says that his mission is to do what he can to prevent the loss of pheasants from preventable causes. Another man is doing the same kind of work in southeastern Nebraska with the quail, and another will be appointed later in western Nebraska to take care of the prairie chickens and grouse.
Mr. McClure will receive his diploma from the Ames, Ia., college in June as a doctor of philosophy. He says the college there does not give a degree of bachelor of science or that is what he would receive instead. Even here he went to Valentine, but said he expected to move to Ord in April.

HYBRID CORN.
Just to show how popular Pfister corn is, we report that a customer drove 100 miles for a couple of bushels of our Pfisters 360 last week. We have only 20 bushels of this number left and no more available. We have 25 bushels of 366 left. We have Funks G Nos. 114, 66 and 57, all good numbers for this section. We have about 40 bushels of Iowa 939.

Corn planting is only about 6 weeks away. Come in and place your order now.

Al Radke's father, from Big Springs, spent a few days of last week here with his son and family.

Columbus Knights Lose to Presbyterian Group
In the first inter-group dartball contest held in Ord the Knights of Columbus team lost to the Presbyterian Fellowship group at the Presbyterian basement Wednesday night. It was a close contest throughout, with the hosts winning two out of three games.

Members of the Knights of Columbus team were Dillo Troyer, Stanley Absolon, Emil Sodalcek, Syl Furtak, Emanuel Petska and Al Parkos. Playing for the Presbyterians were H. T. Frazier, James Ollis, Rev. W. Ray Radliff, Ora Lashmuth, Horace Travis, John Anderson, George Hughes, Dr. O. R. Gard, Roy Price and Keith Habig.

As a result of their victory over the Knights, the Presbyterians are feeling rather chesky, and have issued a blanket challenge to any group who feel they are handy with the darts. The Knights of Columbus have ordered a dartball outfit, and it is understood that the Ord Fire Department is also planning to buy a set.

Rotarians Honor Basketball Boys

Guests of the Ord Rotary club Monday evening were Head Coach Roscoe Tolly, Assistant Coaches Warren Reeves and Max Hester, and Clarence Romanos, center on the Ord basketball team which recently won the Loup Valley championship and tied for Mid-Six honors. Other members of the first team had been invited but could not attend.

Mr. Reeves, who coached the Junior III team to a Loup Valley championship, discussed briefly the fine record made by his boys, who scored an average of 23 points per game to only 12 for their opponents. He predicted a fine Ord high school team two or three years from now, made up of present Junior III boys.

Mr. Hester, who coached the Reserves and assisted Mr. Tolly praised the efforts of his reserve team and the record they made and Head Coach Tolly, in a brief talk, discussed the Ord high basketball season. Four boys who played on this year's championship team will graduate this spring, he said. C. C. Thompson, who introduced the group, pointed out that this has been Ord's most successful basketball year since 1935. Clarence Romanos made a brief talk in which he thanked the Rotarians on behalf of the team.

Other guests at the dinner Monday included E. A. Champe, new district NYA supervisor, and Fred W. Coe.

Valley Co. Farmer Dies Suddenly in Pasadena, Calif.

J. W. Gates, 81, Moved There in 1938; Death Friday Shock to Family and Friends.

James William Gates was born at Troy, Ill., January 15, 1860 and passed away at Pasadena, Calif., on March 14, 1941, at the age of 81 years and 2 months.

Mr. Gates had suffered a light cold recently but had apparently recovered and his sudden death came as a very severe shock to his family and friends.

When a lad of 9 years he moved with his parents, Mary and Duncan Gates, and his brothers and sisters by covered wagon route to Kansas. Here he grew to young manhood working on a farm for several years near Concordia.

Later he and his brother Charles worked for Peet Bros. in Kansas City.

Some years later he came to southeastern Nebraska, where he and his brother Grant, began farming for themselves. It was here that he met Miss Nellie A. Anderson and they were married on February 14, 1894 at Auburn, Neb.

Mr. Gates moved to Valley county the year 1903 where he was a farmer and lover of good stock. He remained an active farmer until he was well past 70 years even so far as to exchange threshing help at that age.

Besides his farming, his interest in civic and political life was very active for he served a number of years as county supervisor and later, while living in Ord, held the office of county assessor.

"Bill," as he was known among intimate friends, always enjoyed making new friends and cultivating the friendship of an old one. He enjoyed many Saturday afternoons on the streets of Ord visiting with old friends and neighbors.

His family will always cherish the memory of the years they spent with him. He was a good provider and a generous husband and father who shared all that he had always with his family. A keen sense of humor added much zest to life in his company.

Mr. Gates is survived by his wife, Mrs. Nellie A. Gates of Pasadena, his six children, Mrs. Winifred Dustin of Omaha; Earl M., Mrs. Clyde Athey and Mrs. Clara Clement, all of Ord; Mrs. H. Whitehead and Mrs. Bert Hayes of Pasadena, Calif. Besides these eleven grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Edith Hatfield, Falls City and Mrs. Leo Erisman of Auburn and a brother, Grant of Nebraska City, survive. Four brothers and a sister preceded him in death. They were Charles, Joseph, David and Arthur and Mrs. Maynard Clover.

During the fall of 1938 Mr. and Mrs. Gates moved to California where they have made their home since. While living there he still remained very active taking in all of the scenery and points of interest of California that he could. He never tired of watching the waves of the Pacific roll in and availed himself of every opportunity to do so. Another favorite pastime was calling on Ord and Valley county people now living in California. He never missed an Ord picnic.

Fountain Pen Found in Hog's Stomach

An unusual story comes from Leon Dubas, and has to do with a fountain pen his 12-year old daughter Bernice lost in December. Bernice, who attends school in the ninth grade in Elyria thought she lost the pen on the way home from school, but it must have been in the dinner pail and was thrown into the slop pail with the crumbs from dinner.

The slop was thrown to the hogs. Last week Mr. Dubas butchered one of his hogs, throwing the entrails into the hog pen. Later he happened to pass by after the hogs had torn the stomach open, and noticed a familiar looking article. It proved to be Bernice's pen. After it had been cleaned he took off the cap and tried it, and it wrote as well as ever, although it had been in the hog's stomach for about three months.

State Department Will Not Develop Ord-Ericson Road

Route Classed As a "Secondary Road," No Funds for It, Knezacek Is Informed.

The state highway department has no funds available for taking over and developing the Ord-Ericson road as a state highway, Senator Joseph T. Knezacek was informed this week by Warden G. Scott, state engineer, after Knezacek called his attention to pictures in last week's Quiz showing present condition of the road. Scott's letter to Knezacek dashes the hope of Ord business men and farmers for immediate improvement of the road, unless Valley county can be induced to take some action quickly.

"This road is not on the federal primary system and if constructed must be financed with state funds alone or by matching state funds with federal aid secondary funds, in which case the location of the project and priority of construction must be approved by the U. S. public roads administration," said the state engineer's letter to Senator Knezacek.

There is no special state appropriation at the present time to match federal aid secondary funds and in building such secondary projects it is necessary for the department to use state funds which are available for matching regular federal aid funds and for building primary roads. As the state is now short approximately $2,000,000 in matching federal primary road funds, and as there is a large mileage of primary roads in the state unimproved that have priority over secondary roads, it is necessary for the state to hold the building of secondary roads to a minimum," the letter continued. State Engineer Scott called Senator Knezacek's attention to the fact that considerable road work

All-School Music Program Tuesday

Tuesday evening at 8:00 at the high school auditorium, some of the groups that will attend the district music contest will put on a program under the direction of Henry Deines, which will be free to the public.

This is being done for two reasons, so that contestants may have an opportunity to appear before home folks before they are strangers, and because a number of the patrons of the school requested that this be done. The following will be the program:

Girls' Sextet: 1. The Chant of Tice, Schumann; 2. Toy Mouth is a Rosebud Red, Davis.

Orchestra: 1. Finale from the Fifteenth Symphony, Wagner; 2. Overture, "Three Brothers," Camarosa.

Boys' Octet: 1. Broken Melody, Granfeldt; 2. The Battle of Jerico, Bartolomeo.

Girls' Glee Club: 1. The Star, Rogas; 2. The Snow, Edgar; 3. Daybreak, Harris.

Brass Sextet: 1. Cast'la, Halmes.

Madrigal Singers: 1. In These Delightful Pleasant Groves, Purcell; 2. Sing We and Chant It, Morley.

Boys' Glee Club: 1. Strike Up The Band, Gershwin; 2. Border Ballad, Cowen-Pitcher; 3. Great Day, Youmans.

Mixed Octet: 1. The Ash Grove, folk song; 2. Deep River, Burleigh.

Clarinet Quartet: 1. Scherzo, Mendelssohn.

Mixed Chorus: 1. Break Forth, O'Heavenly Light, Bach; 2. Lost in the Night, Christiansen; 3. Beautiful Savior, Christiansen.

Birth Certificates May Be Issued by County Judges

1941 Unicameral Passed Law to Simplify Issuance; Must File a Petition First.

First bill adopted into law by the 1941 unicameral legislature, No. 22, was a bill to enable county judges to hold hearings leading toward issuance of birth certificates, and it was passed with the emergency clause and went into effect on March 4. Judge John L. Andersen has now received supplies which enable him to carry out the provisions of this law.

Until 1905 Nebraska had no vital statistics bureau and not until 1916 or 1917 did the bureau function as intended, which means that all persons born before 1905 cannot get birth certificates and only part of those born between 1905 and 1917 can get them through the vital statistics department at Lincoln. The new law passed by this year's unicameral is designed to remedy this situation.

Judge Andersen estimates that 40 per cent of Valley county people do not have birth certificates and could not get them by any legal means until passage of the new law.

First step to be taken by any person born in Nebraska desiring to secure a birth certificate is to file in any county court in Nebraska a petition setting forth his name at birth, birth date, birth place, and parentage. This petition must be supported by pieces of either Class A or Class B evidence, as follows: Two pieces of Class A evidence, or three pieces of Class A and two pieces of Class B evidence.

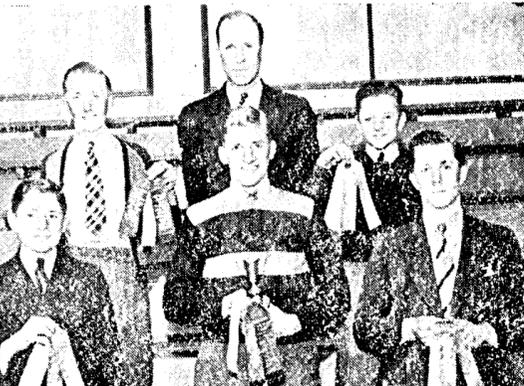

Class A evidence is defined by the new law to include recorded certificates of baptisms performed before the age of 4; insurance policies; census records; military service records; sworn statements of attending physicians, where taken from his records; family Bible records made before child was 4 years old. Class B evidence is defined as: Other records at least 5 years old such as certificate or affidavit from physician not taken from his records; hospital, nursing or clinic records; affidavits from parents or long-time friends; clippings from newspapers of birth notices; records from birthday or baby books; school records, church records or affidavits of personal recollection.

Upon the petition being filed, the county judge holds a hearing, and if he is satisfied that the evidence complies with the law he issues a certificate of delayed birth, keeping a copy of it, and giving the original to the applicant, who must send it within ten days of the end of the month in which it was issued to the Bureau of Vital Statistics, Lincoln, Neb. This department then issues a certificate of birth.

The law provides a $2.00 county court fee, a fee of $1.00 to the Vital Statistics department, and an additional payment of 50c if the applicant wants a certified copy of the certificate.

Since a birth certificate is a requisite for employment by the government in any defense work, and in many other government departments, there is a great demand right now for birth certificates. Judge Andersen has had fifteen or twenty inquiries about the new law since it went into effect but until this morning had not issued a certificate. Today, after petitions had been presented by Davis and Vogelstein, hearings were held and delayed birth certificates issued to Ludovicus Lucian Gyzinski and William Malonka. Without doubt many more will take advantage of this new law soon.

Child Saving Institute Representative in Ord

P. B. Cope, field representative of the Child Saving Institute in Omaha, was in Ord yesterday on his annual trip in the financial interests of the institution. In spite of drouth conditions and the threat of increased taxes, he finds that the people still find means to help out this worthy cause.

While this institution is a benevolent association of the Christian churches, much help comes from people not connected with the church, and it receives any child, regardless of creed, and provides care as long as necessary. Every one of the 146 Christian churches in Nebraska helped the Institute in some way the past year.

—Mrs. Joe Sedlacek and Mrs. John Ulrich and daughter Joan went to Omaha the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. Swager of Scottsbluff. They expected to visit here Monday until Wednesday in the Joe Dworak home.

Ord Ag Boys Swept Burwell Livestock Judging Contests

Make Fine Showing and Win Both Cups in District Contest Saturday.

The Ord Ag. boys won both the livestock and grain judging contests at Burwell Saturday, March 15. Schools participating in these contests were Ord, O'Neill, Sargeant, Ravenna, Litchfield, Broken Bow, North Loup, Loup City and Burwell.

In the livestock division the Ord team placed first with a team score of 28134, followed by Burwell with 27925 points, and Ravenna third with 25415 points. Lloyd Geweke placed second individually judging all classes, Leonard Kokes was fourth and Edward Rousek seventh in all classes.

The Ord boys placed first as a team in horse judging, with Edward Rousek placing first individually. Lloyd Geweke and Junior Dodge tied for second in judging horses. In cattle judging the Ord boys placed first, as a team, with Wilson Chaffield placing first individually and Lloyd Geweke third. In the hog judging the Ord team placed second, with Leonard Kokes first in individual hog judging.

Birkes' Murder Trial To Be Held In Ord

Full Coverage of Trial Promised

Complete news coverage of the Birkes' murder trial is being planned by the Quiz, for the benefit of Loup and Garfield county readers as well as for those closer to Ord who are interested in the case. A reporter will spend full time at the trial when it is in session and a stenographic report of important sections of the testimony will be given. As many pictures of the principals as can be secured will be printed also.

Seek to Foreclose on Goodhand Bldg.

In district court here Monday, a hearing was held in the action filed by Emil Fafelta and other bondholders to foreclose on the Goodhand building on the south side of the square, and after hearing evidence Judge W. F. Spikes appointed Horace Travis as receiver pending further action in the case.

It was brought out that in 1930, when Mr. Goodhand prepared to rebuild the business block in question, he borrowed $15,000 from the Nebraska State bank, giving fifteen first mortgage bonds in the amount of $1,000 each which the bank later sold to F. J. Fafelta, Jr., F. J. Fafelta, Sr., Will Misko, J. R. Stoltz, Jos. Prince and J. H. Carson. These bonds are now in default and interest for the past six months is delinquent; furthermore, Mr. Goodhand has not paid any taxes on the building since 1935 and a sum of more than $4,000 is due in taxes and interest, which of course is a prior lien on the property.

Several witnesses for the bondholders, among them E. S. Murray, A. W. Pierce, J. A. Brown and John Wozab, testified that the building is worth between 15 and 16 thousand dollars at present; two witnesses for Mr. Goodhand, James Otis and J. H. Hastings, testified that in their opinion it is worth about $2,000. Mr. Goodhand himself fixed its value at $28,000. He collects rent of from $300 to $500 per month from the property, he said, depending on whether all the store rooms are rented.

The bondholders asked appointment of John Wozab as receiver to collect rents and preserve the property, and for their general equitable relief, but Mr. Goodhand objected to the appointment on the ground that Wozab is employed by J. T. Knezacek, who is one of the executors of the J. H. Carson Estate, one of the bondholders. Both sides agreed to the appointment of Horace Travis as receiver instead of Wozab, and bond of $5,000 was fixed by Judge Spikes. The case will probably proceed through the usual foreclosure channels hereafter.

Fred Bell Dies of Heart Ailment

Pioneer Ord Photographer, Auto Dealer and Telephone Man Dies in California.

One of the best known men of a generation ago in the business circles of Ord, went to his rest last Friday evening in the city at a Long Beach hospital, of F. J. Bell. His death was from heart trouble, complicated by asthma.

He suffered his first heart attack last Aug. 7, and apparently recovered for a time. He again grew worse, and had been in bed since Jan. 1, part of the time in his home and of late in a hospital. He died March 14, just 24 years to a day after the death of his father, and a year and two weeks after the death of his son-in-law, Roy Hamilton.

Mr. Bell was 73 years of age at the time of his death. His children were all with him. He will be buried at Long Beach, where the family has lived for more than 20 years. When in Ord he engaged in many business activities, including photography, telephone, skating rink, picture show, merry-go-round and car sales and repair business. A more complete obituary will appear next week.

Representative Karl Stefan says that Vice President Wallace has sent him a cane for presentation to a Norfolk man who has the collection of canes as a hobby. Now it will be in order for Congressman Harry Coffey to scurry around Washington and pick up a bunch of lead pencils and send them to John L. Ward of Ord, who has as one of his hobbies the collection of ordinary lead pencils, of which he has had hundreds, all made, shapes and colors; short and long; lettered and not lettered.

While looking over one of the cookbooks the other day I ran onto a recipe in the meat book which told how to make Red Flannel hash. It was a new one on me and of course I had to go to considerable work and trouble to get the ingredients. Well, it was worth it and you will say so when you try it.

I can't understand the violent attacks which Pat Fuson has been making on me of late. He tells some terrible stories, yet I have refrained from paying him in kind. But unless he quits it I shall have to make sharp retort. I have always been his friend, and no one I can think of has laid himself more open to attack than has Pat and he should refrain from attacking others. I know scores of things about him, like the time he almost got killed, when, while bricking up a cistern for Ernest Coats, he bricked himself in and they had to blast the wall out to release him; or the time when he imagined himself a boxer and met a small boy on the street and getting down on his knees, he told the boy to hit him in the nose as hard as he could. After some hesitation the kid lashed out at Pat's nose and Pat was so surprised that he forgot to dodge. I found him writhing on the ground in a pool of blood and helped him home; or the days when he and Tom and the Ball boys used to take a dip in the horse tank by the barn after finishing the day's work and then, dripping wet, see who could make the fastest time down to the road and back, making the run sans clothes. Once the school teacher came along just as they reached the road and the neighbors say they made much better time back up the hill getting to shelter than they did going down. I could go on almost endlessly with such stories but if Pat ceases his attacks on me I will not do so.

Last week relatives and friends attended the funeral of Mrs. Alice Vincent and the remains were laid at rest in the family plot in the beautiful Ord cemetery. A few weeks before her death this fine old early Valley county pioneer celebrated her 87th birthday. During the afternoon she brought out and read the following verses to the relatives and friends present to help her celebrate the occasion. I believe hundreds of her friends in this locality will enjoy reading it, as did those who heard her read it: "They say that I am growing old, I've heard them tell it times untold, in language plain and bold— But I'm NOT growing old. This frail old shell in which I dwell is growing old, I know full well— But I am not the shell.

What if my hair is turning grey? Grey hairs are honorable, they say. What if my eyesight's growing dim? I still can see to follow Him Who sacrificed His life for me Upon the Cross of Calvary.

What should I care if Time's old plough Has left its furrows on my brow? Another house, not made with hand, Awaits me in the Glory Land. What do I falter in my walk? What do my tongue refuse to talk? I still can tread the Narrow Way, I still can watch, praise and pray.

My hearing may not be as keen As in the past it may have been, Still, I can hear my Savior say In whispers soft, "This is the way."

There continue to be strikes galore in the war supply industry factories and apparently very little is being done about it. The fact of the matter is that union labor has the administration, congress and everyone else buffaloed. The government is big enough to say to the farmer boys of the nation, "You must leave home and family and go into training, to become soldiers, sailors, air force men and face the enemy if one develops," all for keep and a very small wage compared with what all union labor is now getting, but the government is not big enough to do anything with enemies of the country who are taking the strike method of slowing up production of material to properly arm and care for those farmer boys who have been drafted.

Here is something I can't understand. When the lend-lease bill was passed, it had been amended to limit to one billion, three hundred million dollars worth of munitions of war that the president could turn to the democracies. Then immediately the president asked for and is granted seven billion dollars in cash, and the newspaper accounts all say that it is to be used to buy the necessary materials to manufacture the goods to be sent, sold, loaned or leased to the democracies. Sounds silly to me.

Spring will officially open this week, they tell me the river ice is breaking up, red horse and suckers will be running soon and if we can't get bass or bluegills, red horse and suckers taste pretty good for a meal or two. I have found some dandy recipes in the Fish Cookbooklet which I am going to try out this spring.

Nels Petersen, Once Well Known in Valley, and His Boat

The photo above was taken many years ago, and shows that the North Loup river was used for boating in the early days. The photo was taken by W. A. Anderson. Those who knew him will have no trouble recognizing the owner of the boat, Nels Petersen, at the tiller. The man at the front of the boat is Jake Johnson, who will also be remembered by some readers. The ladies are the wives of the men mentioned, and the children are theirs, except that the two boys are Larsens. The third lady is unidentified. It will be remembered that Mr. Petersen enlisted in the British army during the World war. The picture was taken about 1895.

Then Judge John L. Andersen claims to know right where to go on the Cedar to get some fine trout fishing. He says if I will furnish the transportation, the bait, snags and lunch, he will show me where to go. I have written my friend Carl Wallin at Niswau, asking him to go down to the cottage and get my boots and tackle box and mail them to me and when the trout season opens April 1 I expect to be all ready, if the weather is.

Now there are at least two of us, for Bill Maupin has come out flat-footed with the announcement that dinner is the noon meal at his house and that the evening meal is supper by gum and I admire his independence. Lunch to me is a snack between the meals of dinner and either breakfast or supper as the case may be.

Friend of mine says his breakfast always consists of a cup of coffee and a roll, nothing else and that is all he wants. Well all I can say is that he just hasn't been educated right and no wonder he is about half sick all the time. Breakfast should be the best meal of the day, unless it be dinner or supper. My favorite breakfast dish is a liberal helping of good pork sausage, pancakes made from a mixture of sour milk, flour and yellow corn meal, with a liberal application of sausage gravy on the cakes and a cup of good, black coffee on the side, said coffee cup to be replenished between the first cake of sausage and half dozen cakes and the second same size serving. More coffee of course those mornings when my capacity permits staying for the third helping.

It was about the 10th of June last year when I made a trip up into Mountain Lake on the Minnesota-Canada line, in fact the international border line runs right down thru the middle of the lake. The end of the nearest road is miles away from where we did our fishing and had to make the trip down Clear Lake, over a divide where it was real work to pack our tackle and supplies, motor, oars, etc, for the 88-foot divide between Clear and Mountain Lakes was almost up and down through the woods and winding among the rocks. But it was the best fishing I ever saw, all lake trout. Mountain lake is several hundred feet deep, so they say. Last year we who made the trip were three men. This year we hope to go back and we plan on taking the women along. Last year we made our camp on the shore of Clear Lake, going over the divide each morning and back to camp. This year we plan on taking tent and all our equipment over and down Mountain Lake a few miles to make camp, either on a nice point that we found, or on an island, which we believe would be a lot of fun. Of course it means a lot more work, as we would have more stuff to carry over the divide and back again when we come out, but we think it would be worth the extra effort. Last year we were thinking that we just happened to hit it right, for lake trout were as plentiful as sunfish are in the Ord pond and as easy to catch. A man who has fished there for several years told us that we could depend on finding fishing the same there every year at that season. We are going to try to find out this coming June whether such fishing as we had there last year can be had two years in a row. We have been looking forward to it ever since last June and the closer the time comes to go the more anxious we get. After sleeping on the ground in a tent up there, with the temperature such that you put on all the clothes you have before crawling under the covers, you might think a 3-pound trout would be too much for breakfast, but the average fisherman won't leave very much of his trout when he eats breakfast shortly after daybreak, and does the black coffee taste good at that early hour in the morning. The ground under the tent floor cloth is really all rock and the first couple of nights one gets plenty of exercise just turning from back to side to stomach to other side in an effort to get into an easy position, but the long-

A FEW THINGS TO THINK ABOUT

He Who Goes Borrowing, Goes Sorrowing.

A rather interesting occurrence was told to me the other day by a young fellow who was attempting to finance his farm operations for the coming season. He had struggled along by some cryptic formula the last few years, and had not been closed out yet or taken relief. He seemed to still have the farm upon which he was living in his own name, and that was something.

In the first place the farm loan company had not foreclosed because of delinquent interest and in some manner waived those payments. But to do this they had extracted the promise of the young hero that he would give them a mortgage on his crops when he gets them planted. It seems, crop mortgages are more legal after they are planted than before.

Happy with the thought he could still stay put, he went to the banker where he proceeded to borrow on his cows, horses and junk to straighten past bills that had accumulated. The mortgage was written when our hero discovered that in that mortgage was all the crops he raised. He murmured here but the banker said he would make the mortgage no other way. He said if I did not do that someone else might take your crops and you would have nothing to feed your cattle.

To get that money, which was nearly necessary at that minute, he signed the chattel mortgage but he knew when he did so he should not because of the promise to the loan company.

More than that, he had planned to go to the federal feed and seed loan man and borrow a little so he could plant his crop. He had borrowed there before and he felt sure he could again. But they will not loan without a first mortgage on his crop. He hoped the

He Who Goes Borrowing, Goes Sorrowing.

There has been considerable comment among farmers about the ability to borrow of the man who has just about made it through the drought. A person who was whipped, for a long time at least, (they say it is different now) could get financed in the Farm Security administration. But to get help here one had to be about to the end of his rope. By the appearances of some who are in that program, they had gone quite a way beyond the end.

To borrow of the bank, one has to give pretty good security, and who can blame the bankers. They require about three to one security and value good horses at $75 and good cows a few dollars more. It takes a pretty well off fellow to borrow there.

So you see, there is an in-between guy, who frequently cannot borrow anywhere. One man really stormed to me about it (as if I had anything to do with it). He said, "Here I've grubbed along until now, without any mortgages. I have sold my stock until I haven't enough left to borrow at the bank. I never have had any relief (except Soil Conservation checks) but when I tried to get a "relief" loan I was turned down because I was not bad enough off, and the banker said I did not have property enough left for him to make a loan worth while."

More of the Same.

News From Afar.

The following sentences were taken from a letter from Howard Jones of Hood River, Ore. The letter was interesting but a little too long for my allotted space. Here is a little of it. "Just noticed your item in your column in this issue of The Quiz relative to Ira Manchester returning from Parkdale, Wash. This is the second time Parkdale has been referred to as being in the state of Washington. It is in Oregon, just 17 miles south of Hood River and located right at the foot of Mount Hood. "A few months back I spotted a '47' Neb. car and ran it down and the driver turned out to be the Manchester mentioned above. I did not know him back there but I do now."

Howard goes on at great length telling of the country there and the rain, crops, climate and says, "when it gets hot we go out in the middle of a mile-wide river with the boat to cool off. Fishing isn't exactly bad out here either."

They raise great quantities of fruit there, and before the war shipped much of it to Europe. "At one time we printed invoices and clearance papers in the French language, but no more". He tells of trying to sell the fruit in United States and says, "In fact, you find Hood River yellow Newtowns advertised in the Council Oak Store ad in the same issue of The Quiz I started to write about."

more. I love my country, I would do as much for her as anyone else, but I don't approve of whipped-up enthusiasm and commercialized patriotism consciously riled up.

Nor do I like the other side of the picture. In order to have something to get heavily patriotic about we must develop a good hate. I don't like us to get started hating so strongly.

Just because we don't like what Hitler is doing is no sign all his people are hateful. They are following their leader and perhaps, with little choice in the matter. If some course of action had been called the perfect action to you from the time you were seven years old, would it ever occur to you that it could be wrong? I doubt it.

For many years German culture topped the world. The finest scientists were found there, and to study in Germany was the dream of every doctor and student. It was the Mecca of musicians. These fine people have given a great deal to all of us, and of things that we enjoy every day.

It is a shame then that we must be taught to hate the name that stands for all this world of learning. During the World War hysterics caused the burning of German textbooks, the ostracism of many a good citizen of our country. And now we seem headed over that same stupid route again.

One big thing we do have to thank our friend Mr. Hitler for doing. In driving out Jews, in stifling so many independent lines of research and learning, he has driven many and many a learned man to our shores for sanctuary. Some of the world's most brilliant scholars are now living quietly and happily among us pursuing their careers, wanting only peace and a chance to work.

Nothing could have brought us so many learned people to add to our "Who's Who" list as has the remodeling of Germany into a war machine. Thank you, Mr. Hitler. —Irma.

Gymnasiums of Former Ages Two thousand years ago India had gymnasiums and physical culture was common among her people.

Something Different

Some of the teachers and some of the children want me to ask: Why don't more parents visit the schoolrooms where their children are studying? The teachers think it would help, and some parents feel the same way. Said one woman: "Only three mothers of sixth grade students have gone to visit the schoolroom in this entire year. The children like to be visited and the teacher wants to be visited. That seems to put it up to the mothers."

I am sorry to see all this hysterical patriotism coming on once

Burwell Farmers Hear About AAA

Burwell—(Special)—About fifty farmers and business men attended the meeting held in the Rodeo theater Wednesday afternoon when Charles Veleba, AAA chairman of Valley county, Robert L. Green, of Grand Island secretary of the Nebraska Sugar Beet Growers association and Del Scott of Atkinson farmer fieldman for AAA discussed phases of the farm program in order to better acquaint those present with purposes of the program.

E. W. Moss, an AAA committeeman for Garfield county, presided at the meeting and introduced the speakers.

In discussing the corn program, Mr. Veleba blasted many mistaken ideas which people have in regard to the way it operates. He refuted the contention which some people make to the effect that the government restricts the corn acreage in the cornbelt but lets other areas such as the south produce more than enough corn to overcome any advantage which they might gain in acreage curtailment.

An explanation of why corn is imported in United States where already a surplus exists was made by Mr. Veleba who stated that the freight charges on a bushel of corn from Ord to either coast is 38c while the charges for transporting a bushel of corn on the ocean from Argentina is between 7c and 11c. Even though the imported corn pays a duty of 26c per bushel, Mr. Veleba pointed out that chicken farmers on the coast could buy it for less than corn grown in this country.

Mr. Veleba stated that the purpose of the acreage curtailment Mr. Veleba pointed out that production has increased. The reasons for this according to him are the use of hybrid seed corn and the increase in the fertility of the soil which has been built up by the agricultural conservation program. Mr. Veleba illustrated his talk by a number of painted wooden blocks which were used to graphically show the production of corn for certain years.

Mr. Green explained the Jones-Costigan act which regulates the production of sugar. It divided the sugar producing lands into six areas, the sugar beet producing area of United States, the sugar cane producing area of Florida and Louisiana, the Hawaiian Islands, Porto Rico, the Philippine Islands and Cuba. Each acre is allotted to sell a certain percentage of the sugar consumed in United States. The sugar imported from Cuba pay a tariff. That from the other areas is imported free as they are United States possessions. Twenty-six per cent of the sugar consumed in the United States is grown in the states. In 1937 the quota of the beet growers was raised at the expense of the cane growing regions. Cuba is given a share of the United States sugar market, Mr. Green said, because American capitalists own the major part of the plantations and that part of the sugar is imported in the gulf area which are operated by organized labor which consequently objected to any decrease in the Cuba sugar quota.

The purposes of the AAA program as explained by Mr. Scott are to conserve the soil, obtain a fair share of income for the farmers and to protect the consumers. He declared that the program was very democratic in its operation as it is controlled by farmer committeemen elected by the farmers themselves and that there is nothing compulsory about the organization.

Students Prepare in Ord for Future Jobs in Factories Making Materials for National Defense

Bill Bouda was the first of the Ord group to obtain a job in the defense industries. He left Sunday for Omaha, where he started work yesterday morning as machinist's helper for the Omaha Steel Works. Later, when the new machinery is installed, he will be an automatic lathe tender, making anti-aircraft shells.

He got this job, not strictly through the school work, but by doing some special work under Mr. Thill in spare time. Dick Harrison, personal director of the Omaha firm, was in Ord recently and made arrangements to hire young men qualified as lathe tenders. Boyd Rose also took this special work and will be called as soon as the machinery is installed.

BIRKES' TRIAL

In his argument to disprove this Attorney Louigan called County Attorney Alder to the stand. "Why do you believe that these men could receive a fair trial in Loup county," he demanded. Alder replied that he was well-acquainted with the people of Loup county and that he had always found them fair in all their dealings. "Do you believe that they would be fair with the Birkes," he asked. Alder answered that he believed that they would be. "Was it not a fact that Sheriff Brock was very popular with the people of Loup county," Louigan asked. "Yes, he had many friends," Alder answered. "Did not the people hold a big public funeral service for him and raise a fund for his widow by selling memorial cards," Louigan inquired. "All funerals in this community are public," Alder replied. Louigan also interrogated Alder as to the number of people with whom he discussed the Birkes' trial and what their opinions were in regard to the fairness of a trial which would be held in Loup county. "Now just whom did you talk to," Louigan demanded, "Name them." After considerable hesitancy Alder remarked that he had talked with Lloyd Lewis. "And did he think that the Birkes could get a fair trial in this county," demanded Louigan. "Who else did you discuss this matter with?" he continued to inquire and after a long hesitancy Alder said that he believed that he and Sheriff Strohl discussed the matter. A protest from Attorney Clarke put an end to this questioning. Louigan then asked Alder if he had ever tried a murder case before. He replied in the negative. He also asked if a murderer had ever been brought to trial in Loup county and the county attorney answered in the negative. "Then how do you know how the people of Loup county would be so fair when it comes to judging a murder trial," the defense attorney thundered. He then proceeded to point out the inadequacy of the court room at Taylor. Louigan declared that the state intended to subpoena fifty witnesses and the defense thirty-six. He pointed that there were seventy-four people present in the courtroom at that time, which nearly filled it to capacity. "Now, just where would you put these witnesses, to say nothing of the peace officers, attorneys, jurors and the other persons who will be present?" Louigan demanded. Alder replied that possibly they would not all have to be present at the same time. Louigan next proceeded to question Alder about the jail accommodations. "What kind of jail have you got in this county?" he asked. Alder was hesitant about answering. "Well you've lived here for twenty-five years and are so well acquainted with the locality you can surely tell me something about the jail?" Thus encouraged, Alder commenced, "It's a little frame building out northwest. What are the dimensions of the building," Louigan asked. Alder replied that it was about ten by fourteen feet. After the attorneys had failed to agree as to where the trial should be held and Judge Spikes was announcing his decision, Louigan interrupted him to make the concession that he would agree to moving the case to either Valley or Howard counties. Spikes had just eliminated Rock county as the place for the trial because of the distance and because it was in a different judicial district. He eliminated Garfield county because of the lack of facilities at Burwell and since every one knew that Blaine county has less accommodations for a trial of this kind than Loup county, it was quite apparent that he was about to make the change of venue to Custer county when Louigan made his concession declaring that there was no need of placing the trial arbitrarily to the inconvenience of everyone. He complained of the "shabby treatment" which he had received from some of the officials in certain counties and because his clients had been "scattered about in jails all over creation." He estimated that the trial will cost between four and ten thousand dollars and will require thirty days if the men are granted separate trials and at least twenty days if they are tried jointly. Judge Spikes ordered that Richard be returned to the Valley county jail and that John and Willard be incarcerated in the Howard county jail for a period of fifteen days and they, too will be brought to Ord to await trial. This arrangement was made for two reasons, the Valley county jail is full at the present time and for the convenience of Mr. Louigan who lives in Grand Island. Wishing to confer with his clients he can do so with less mileage if they are kept in St. Paul than in Ord. The judge ordered that all records pertaining to the case be moved from the office of the clerk of the district court at Taylor to the office of the clerk of the district court at Ord. In overruling the plea for abatement Judge Spikes sustained two of the sixteen paragraphs. The paragraphs which he sustained objected to the suitability of Judge Thurman Smith presiding at the preliminary hearing in view of his close friendship with Sheriff Brock and because he published accounts of Brock's bravery and martyrdom in the Taylor Clarion which he edited at the time of the killing. He has since turned the management of the paper over to his son Ivan. He also said that when the defense observed the prejudice of the court they did not introduce any evidence because they believed it to be useless. Louigan objected to the record of the testimony which stated that there were about twenty persons in the courtroom when the preliminary hearing was held. He maintained that there were at least seventy-five persons present. To prove his contention he called Sheriff Round of Valley county to the stand who testified that possibly seventy-five people were present at the preliminary hearing. Harold Hulfish, deputy state sheriff, when called to the stand by the defense, testified that there were fifty or sixty people present. Before the court recessed for lunch Judge Spikes over ruled three special demurrers filed by the defense. The defendants appeared to be calm and quite unconcerned. They were minus the whiskers which a week ago covered their faces. They were dressed in neat fitting suits and wore overcoats. John wore a bandage on the second finger of his right hand. When asked about it during the noon recess he said that it was still stiff. Richard stated that he felt fine and that the wounds, which he received from a gun fired by the late A. R. Maxson, had healed. The hearing was scheduled for Wednesday but was delayed a day by the absence of Mr. Clarke who said that he had been called to the eastern part of the United States to take a deposition.

Farmers' Meetings Highly Successful
On Wednesday, March 12 the North Loup Valley National Farm Loan association of Ord, the Loup Valley N. F. L. A. of Taylor and the Burwell N. F. L. A. united in holding their annual meetings at Ord. About 115 farmer-members and guests attended the all day session which was the 23rd annual meeting for these farm loan co-operatives. Eret Smith, a director on the Ord board, was the general chairman for the program. The meeting was held in the Masonic Hall, commencing at 10:30 a. m. The forenoon was devoted to entertainment features. A string quartet from the Ord high school furnished music. A chalk talk entitled "The Farmer's Heritage" was given by O. R. Lutz of Arcadia, which entertainment was highly enjoyed by all. At noon a hot dinner was served by the Methodist Ladies Aid in the basement of the Methodist church. After dinner the three organizations went to separate rooms where they heard their annual reports and elected directors for the coming three years. The three groups then assembled in the Masonic Hall again to complete their program and discussions of interest in connection with farm credit work. The first prize of $5.00 for a letter written on the subject "What the National Farm Loan Association Has Meant to Our Family" was awarded to Mrs. John H. Schere of Burwell. The first prize of $5.00 for the best picture of some agricultural subject was awarded to Frank W. Hulinsky of Blyria. Hilding Pearson led the group in singing a number of choruses of old familiar songs. Don Beaton, representing the secretary's department of the Federal Land bank, was present and discussed with the group some of the plans and suggestions for improvements in the Federal Land Bank system. John Bremer and W. J. Hather were re-elected to the board of directors of the Ord association for three year terms. Mrs. Alfred Craichy, Mr. John Parnas and O. M. Clark were elected to the board of the Burwell association. John Parkin and Henry Hyde were the new members elected to the board of the Loup Valley association.

Telephone Men Will Visit Ord
A. B. Clark, of Columbus, president and general manager of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, and W. W. Johnson, of Kearney, vice-president and district manager, will be guests of the Ord chamber of commerce at the March general meeting to be held in the Knights of Columbus club rooms Thursday evening, March 27. The telephone situation in Ord will be discussed and chamber committee members will point out inadequacy of the present system to Messrs. Clark and Johnson in hope that the company will agree to installation of new equipment. A big attendance of chamber members is expected. Lunch will be served at the close.

AAA Meeting Coming to Arcadia Friday Evening
Farmers of Yale and Arcadia precincts are sponsoring a meeting of the Triple A for the evening of Friday, March 21, to be held at the Arcadia high school auditorium at 8:00. The program will include the introduction of speakers by Burt Sell, chairman of Arcadia township committee, a musical number by Arcadia high school, a talk, "The Other Side of the Fence," by Mrs. Inez Burrows, AAA fieldwoman, a talk, "The Corn Situation, 15 Years Ago and Now," by Charles E. Veleba, county chairman, and the featured talk of the evening by Fred S. Wallace, chairman of the state committee. Doughnuts and coffee will be served and the public is cordially invited.

Unpaid Past Loans No Bar to Feed-Seed Loans

The fact that a farmer has unpaid feed or seed loans from prior years is not a bar to loans of this type this year, said H. J. Hetrick, field supervisor of the emergency loan section of the FCA, while in Ord Monday, provided the failure to pay was due to causes beyond his control, such as drought, hail, etc. Applications for loans are being accepted at the county agent's office and loan checks normally are delivered within a week from the time application is made.

His number was the second drawn in the Valley county draft. He was registered from Valley county, although he was attending school in California at the time.

Group of County Clerks Offers Car Law Changes

Jen. Klina, county clerk, went to Lincoln Tuesday afternoon with Clyde Pulliam and Bill Bishop of Burwell, who were going to Omaha. He went there as a member of the county clerks' legislative committee to suggest needed amendments to the present motor vehicle certificate of title law. A total of four amendments were submitted, as follows:

1. Amend law to permit county clerks to take all acknowledgments pertaining to or in any way relating to the administration of the title law, without charge for such service, providing however that they use the special seal which is now provided for by law, and not using the county seal for which is charged 25c.

Note.—This will reduce the cost to the owners and also do away with the necessity of the owner going before a notary public, after calling at the county clerk's office, for a certificate of title.

2. Amend law to provide a more equitable allocation of fees as between state and county. Suggest 40% to the state and 60% to the counties, instead of 60% to the state and 40% to the counties as is now provided for.

Note.—This is suggested for the reason that the 40% now inuring to the counties does not in the great majority of the counties, cover the actual cost of administering the law, and the 60% inuring to the state at this time, is building up a balance in the state vehicle fund, which it is estimated will amount to $125,000 by June 30, 1941.

3. Amend the title law and also the artisan lien law, to enable a mechanic to more conveniently secure himself for his services and to provide notice to public by recordation of such lien.

4. Amend the law to provide that all motor vehicles be titled before 1942.

Note.—This is to eliminate the extra cost to owner at the time of the transfer of title to the car or truck, and to complete a record of all car and truck owners, for use of law enforcement officials.

Legislative Bill No. 305, the purpose of which is to repeal the present motor vehicle title law, is still in the hands of the public works committee, and the above suggestions were offered as amendments to the now existing law to remove some of the objectionable features.

Baseball Organization Perfected Tuesday

A group of baseball enthusiasts met at the Furtak barbershop on Thursday and organized for the year 1941. This was done by electing Paul Hubert as president, Henry Zikmund secretary-treasurer and Walter Douthett as manager. Practice is scheduled to start about April 1.

The grandstand proposition was argued fully, and it was definitely agreed that a permanent stand would be erected at the new athletic park. The field there has another year to settle, and a large amount of moisture through the winter should leave it in fine condition as soon as the ground is thawed out.

Glass-Blowing Factory Founded 115 Years Ago

On July 4, 1825, a patriotic day for another historic beginning, the Boston and Sandwich glass factory turned out the first pot of glass in its long and famous career.

The Sandwich factory was established as a glass-blowing industry, but it was the pressed ware which followed several years later with a smelting bottle, the first successful pressed article made in Sandwich and in America, which was to give Sandwich glass its real claim to distinction and the lace glass, the finest of the pressed type, the last touch of elegance.

Lace glass had its origin in the Sandwich factory around 1835 and with the superior quality of its metal which produced that brilliant silvery sheen never equaled by the Sandwich competitors and the excellence of its molds which made possible the lacy pinpoint fineness of its designs, it was the aristocrat of the glass family. Lead and potash used in its ingredients gave it that clear bell-like ring which distinguishes every piece of Sandwich with the exception of the snakeskin, where the rough surfacing destroyed the resonance.

The molding process was perfected in the thirties and with the pressed products superseding the blown glass at this time, the designing and constructing of these molds was necessarily an important adjunct. It took skill and originality and considerable patience, especially with the molds for the intricate lace designs, sometimes representing months of craftsmanship for a single specimen. Patterns were first carved in wood, then cast in iron or brass or occasionally in graphite and steel.

Garfield County Woman Celebrates 82nd Birthday

Mrs. Belinda McKenzie, who came to the North Loup valley 53 years ago, recently celebrated her 82nd birthday in her home in Burwell. Besides her son, Phil, with whom she makes her home five of her daughters were present. They were Mrs. E. A. Jensen, Mrs. E. W. Moss, and Mrs. Merit Wright who live at Burwell, and Mrs. Henry Boby and Mrs. Fred Boby who live in the Kent neighborhood. She has two other daughters, Mrs. Carl Moss of St. Joseph and Mrs. Louis Cox of Seattle. Mrs. McKenzie has sixteen grandchildren and seven great grandchildren. Mrs. Albin Gaukel, her granddaughter, baked

Mrs. McKenzie was born in Freeport, Ill., Feb. 23, 1859. While a small girl she moved with her parents to Missouri where she grew to womanhood and was married. In 1883 she and her husband came to Garfield county from Missouri in a covered wagon. Her husband homesteaded the land where the Burwell cemetery is now located. The large cottonwood tree in the north part of the cemetery grew from a sprout which Mr. McKenzie used for a whip while plowing. When he finished he stuck the stick in the ground and it took root and flourished. He died in 1918.

home were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Buckley of Bayard, the Edward Hansen family of Ord and Bernice King.

BURWELL

Miss Pauline Hill of Sargent was a guest of her sister, Mrs. R. W. Wood, Saturday.

Motion pictures of the Rose Bowl game will be shown in the school auditorium at 8 o'clock tonight. Pictures of other Cornhusker games will also be shown.

A representative of the University of Nebraska will be present to explain the pictures. An admission charge of fifteen cents will be made for adults and five cents for all school children.

An all day service will be held Sunday rededicating the Christian church which has been newly redecorated and repaired following the fire which damaged the edifice several months ago. The rededication address will be given Sunday afternoon at 2:30 by Rev. Stephenson of Aurora who was at one time pastor of the Burwell church. Bill Goodell, son of Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Goodell of Lebanon, Kan., will be ordained in the Christian ministry by John Aiber of Lincoln, state secretary of Christian churches of Nebraska, during the afternoon program. Bill was salutatorian of the class of 1937 of the Burwell high school. He attended college for two years at Hastings college and is at the present time attending school at Trumbull while going to school at Hastings. The Burwell women's chorus under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Langstrom will sing several numbers on the afternoon program. Letters inviting them to attend the affair have been sent to the neighboring Christian churches, all non-resident members whose addresses were available and former pastors and their wives and families. Those unable to attend were requested to send a letter of greeting which will be read Sunday. The morning service will be conducted as usual with Rev. Snyder preaching. At noon a basket dinner will be served. The afternoon program will commence at 2:30. In the evening a lunch will be served by the ladies of the church. At 7 o'clock Mrs. Stephenson will conduct a young people's service which will last a half hour. Rev. Goodell will preach in the evening. The public is invited to all of the services.

Gene Barney, George Pokorney, and Eddie Schubert were hauled into Judge McGrew's court Tuesday morning to face the charge of disturbing the peace in Burwell Saturday night. They pleaded guilty and were fined five dollars each and costs.

The P. E. O's entertained the B. I. L's in the Crum home Monday evening. St. Patrick's day furnished the motif for the affair. The men gathered at the F. A. Johnson home and later went to the Crum home after the ladies had completed their business meeting. Mrs. R. H. Douglas, chairman of the entertainment committee told the men that now since the sculptor Borglum was dead that the ladies were looking for a talented man to succeed him. The men were then given a potato and told to carve it into a pig. Dr. Crum's handiwork was awarded first prize and Dr. Wood's second. Bingo furnished the entertainment for the evening.

The people of Burwell and surrounding territory have been most happy to learn that Mrs. E. J. Smith continues to improve although her condition is still serious. Dr. Smith took Junior and Mershon to Omaha to see Mrs. Smith Saturday. Mrs. B. A. Rose accompanied them. Dr. Smith and the children returned home Sunday. Mrs. Rose remained in Omaha.

Mrs. Floida Verley and Roger drove to Belgrade Saturday where they attended the golden wedding celebration of Mrs. Verley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Semple. They returned home Sunday.

Judging Contest

classes of bulls and two of heifers. W. O. Zanger of North Loup and George Clement of Ord furnished most of the cattle for the contest. The contestants gave two sets of oral reasons on cattle. Two classes of Hampshire hogs were judged, one fat class and one class of gilts, with one set of oral reasons given. Two classes of draft horses were judged and one set of oral reasons given.

In the grain judging contest the Ord team placed first with a score of 3964 points. North Loup was second with 3892 points, and Broken Bow third with 3605 points. There were nine teams in this contest also. Eldon Lange placed first individually in the contest with 1330 points. Don Guggenmos was third individually with 1319 points and Elden Smolik was fourth with 1315 points. Ray Van Slyke was eighth, Orel Koelling tenth and Herbert Bredthauer twenty-fourth.

The boys judged eight classes of grain, with four samples in each class. The classes were winter wheat, sweet clover, alfalfa, early halo, barley, oats, shelled corn and ear corn. The contestants wrote reasons on four of the classes. The second part of the contest was identifying thirty kinds of common weeds, grain and grasses. In all the Ord boys won 12 ribbons of the thirty offered in the livestock contest, and six of the sixteen ribbons offered in the crops contest, as well as a cup in each contest.

Their Birthdays Came St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's Day means more to the two men above than it does to most of us, as it is their birthday also. Axel Jorgensen, left is shown pinning a huge shamrock on Willis Garner, right. Axel is 26 this year and Willis is 37. Of course they both claim to be Irishmen 100%, but somehow, we have our doubts about one of them.

Mrs. Lewis Hostess. A number of out-of-town guests were the inspiration for a party at the Keith Lewis home Saturday afternoon, when Mrs. Keith Lewis was hostess at lunch for her sister, Mrs. H. B. Maxwell of Alliance, her house guest, Mrs. W. H. Walker of Omaha, her mother, Mrs. A. E. Chase, sr., sister-in-law Mrs. A. E. Chase, jr. of Loup City, and an aunt, Mrs. W. S. Waite of the same place. At bridge Mrs. Ed Whelan was given the high prize and the door prize went to Mrs. Harvey Parks.

Mrs. Anderson's Birthday. Thursday, March 13 was the birthday of Mrs. Albert Anderson, she and Mr. Anderson were invited to have supper with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Anderson that evening. After supper the following guests came and surprised Mrs. Anderson and helped celebrate the occasion.

Mrs. Ed Wilcox, Mrs. Lawrence Mason, Mrs. Frank Zabloull, Mrs. John Zukoski, Mrs. Emma Hansen, Mrs. Hattie Shepard, Mrs. Mary Vavra, Mrs. Carrie Hellewege, Mrs. George Anderson and Phyllis, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Clark, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Clausen and daughters, Miss Bertha Bremer and Jimmie Skala.

The evening was spent in visiting and games, after which a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. C. A. Anderson sent a beautiful birthday cake. The guest of honor received many beautiful gifts.

Week End Guests. Guests for the week end in the Dr. J. W. McGinnis home were H. L. McGinnis and Dr. and Mrs. H. C. McGinnis and family of Maywood, who came Friday afternoon and left Monday afternoon, and Kenneth McGinnis, who came from Omaha Saturday evening with Rodney Stoltz and went back with him on Monday morning.

25th Anniversary. Guests at the Roy McGee home on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary, March 11, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hansen, her sister, Mrs. Lillie Coleman and son Donald, and Mr. and Mrs. John Palser. The McGees were married at North Loup, on March 11, 1916, by Rev. Emmett Mitchell at the Methodist parsonage.

Surprise the Dworaks. Sixty friends and relatives surprised Mr. and Mrs. Joe P. Dworak Sunday in honor of their thirtieth wedding anniversary. In the group were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Zikmund, of Comstock, Mr. and Mrs. Ludvick Visek, Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Meese, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Thomsen, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Naprstek, Mr. and Mrs. James Petka, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Naprstek, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Volf, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hybl, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rysavy, and their families; Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vodehnal, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Zikmund, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adamek, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cetak, Mr. and Mrs. James Cetak, Mrs. Mary Cetak, Bill Zikmund and son Loree Lee, James Zikmund and Joe Turak. Each guest brought covered dishes and a delicious dinner was served. Mr. and Mrs. Dworak were present with a lovely bouquet of roses.

Jobst-Maslonka. Mrs. Winnie Finley announces the marriage of her foster daughter, Miss Dorothy Jobst, to William Maslonka, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. Maslonka of Walthill, at Yuma, Ariz., Febr. 25, 1941. Mr. and Mrs. Everett Lashmett of Pasadena Calif., were the attendants.

Mrs. Maslonka graduated from Ord high school in 1932 and has been employed at Stoltz Variety store the past two years. Mr. Maslonka has been employed at the Service Oil company for the past two years. They will make their home in Los Angeles, Calif., where he is now employed.

Teachers Entertained. Sunday, March 16, Misses Elizabeth and Barbara Lukes were hostesses to the ladies of the Ord school faculty and county superintendent, Miss Clara McClatchey, at a 12:30 o'clock dinner.

A St. Patrick's theme was followed throughout. A centerpiece for the table was made and presented by Mrs. Kominek, which was a cake in the form of a lamb reposing in a bed of imitation green grass, a green ribbon tied around its neck and a bit of grass in its mouth.

Place cards decorated with shamrock bore the ladies' names transformed into Irish, and the ladies graciously became Irish Colleen for the day.

The afternoon was spent in singing of Irish and other songs, and playing of games pertaining to the Emerald Isle. Maria Finigan and Aldean McSwanson (Irish names for Misses Lois Finley and Aldean Swanson) won prizes for highest scores in the games played.

St. Patrick's Day being Miss Elizabeth's birthday, a flowering pot plant was given her by Misses Rowbal and Swain, and the other ladies showered her with beautiful kerchiefs.

Cowboy Party. Sixty young people enjoyed a cowboy party last Wednesday evening at the Presbyterian church basement when the Presbyterian Y. P. S., entertained the members of the Methodist Epworth League. Everyone came in appropriate costume, the six-thirty supper was served from a chuck wagon, and the program and games carried out the cowboy theme.

The features of the evening were Rev. Radloff's harmonica music and the trained horse from Bar X ranch impersonated by Raymond Biemond and Richard Radloff. Mrs. Leo Long is the sponsor of the Methodist group and Mrs. Gould Flagg of the Presbyterian society.

Birthday Party. Monday evening a group of friends and neighbors gathered at the Joe Golka home and helped him and John John, Jr., celebrate their birthdays. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Lou Zabloull and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Turak, Jr., and son, Mr. and Mrs. John John, Jr., and family, Mr. and Mrs. John Nevrika and son, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Luddington and family, John Kosmata, Paul Rysavy, George Radli, Alvin Golka, Evelyn Volf and Elmer and Martha Golka. The evening was spent playing pinocchio. Those receiving the prizes were Lou Zabloull, men's high; Jimmy Turak, men's low; Mrs. John John, ladies high; Mrs. John Nevrika, ladies low and the traveling prize.

Birthday Celebration. Celebrating three birthdays at once, members of the A. E. Chase family went to Broken Bow for the day Sunday. Those honored were A. E. Chase, sr., of Loup City, H. A. Chase of Broken Bow, and Keith Lewis of Ord. From Ord, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Lewis and son Kirk, Miss Eunice Chase and Miss Wilda Chase went, Miss Jane Sutton being unable to make the trip because of a broken arm lately suffered. Mr. and Mrs. George Allen, Jr., of Friend were unable to go because Mrs. Allen has been quite ill with mumps at her home in Friend.

Impromptu Program. The Woman's club of Ord met Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Mark Tolon to hear an unusual type of program. Each one present spoke three minutes on a personally selected topic, and the miscellaneous result proved extremely interesting. Mrs. L. D. Milliken offered a review of six new books for young people which the Ord Library has recently acquired, as well as several books for adults.

has been done in Valley county during the past two or three years. The Ord-North Loup road was completed and paved, he said, and the department has scheduled grading and structures on the Ord-Burwell road for this summer, with paving to follow in 1942. Residents of Ord and North Loup will benefit from the paving to be done between Scott and Elba this summer, he said.

He mentions that a delegation from Ord called at his office recently to ask that the Haskell Creek road straight north from Ord, constructed by Valley county as a WPA project, be designated a detour while No. 11 between Ord and Burwell is under construction, and that the delegation asked that the state gravel the last three miles of this road connecting with No. 53 into Burwell, for the reason that Garfield county has no funds to do the work.

"The delegation was advised that we would have one of our engineers investigate the possibility of using this as a detour road and that we would let them know later. We did not, however, contemplate any investigation of the Ord-Ericson road at this time. Mr. P. H. Klietsch, our maintenance engineer, is now making an investigation of proposed detours to be constructed this spring and, upon his return, we can report to the delegation relative to the detour between Ord and Burwell. We believe, however, that it will be possible for the state to build and gravel the three miles in Garfield county and use this road for a detour during the construction of Highway No. 11. We will advise definitely upon Mr. Klietsch's return," Scott's letter says.

"When this work is completed it will not only serve as a detour between Ord and Burwell but will provide a gravelled road between Ord and Ericson and will eliminate the necessity of going through Burwell to travel from Ord to Ericson on a surfaced highway," writes the state engineer to Knezacek.

While the paragraph quoted above is true as regards rough traffic, completion of the Haskell Creek detour will be of little benefit to farmers living in the northeast part of the county south of No. 53 highway, for the reason that condition of the Ord-Ericson road much of the way north to No. 53 is about as bad as south to the point where No. 57 resumes. It will be of some slight benefit, however.

The road committee of the Ord chamber of commerce, advised by Senator Knezacek of State Engineer Scott's reasons for refusing to consider taking over the Ord-Ericson road as a state highway now, say they will continue the fight. The fact that Scott says the state must "hold the building of secondary roads to a minimum" would indicate that in some instances secondary roads have been given priority over primary roads. If a need for red tape to be cut ever existed it certainly does in this case, which will again be pointed out to state officials.

—Mr. and Mrs. Will Nelson moved Monday to Ord from their farm home on Haskell Creek. The place has been leased by Hugh Starr, of Burwell, for this season.

NORTH LOUP

WRITTEN BY MRS. ETHEL HAMER

Arthur H. Watts, Mrs. Eva Gipe of Long Beach arrived in North Loup Friday morning on the freight, bringing the body of her father, H. A. Watts, who had passed away at a Long Beach hospital on Monday. Suffering for several months with sciatic rheumatism, he was in a weakened condition when he had a severe attack of intestinal flu that he did not recover from. Funeral services were held Friday afternoon from the Seventh Day Baptist church with Rev. A. S. Ebrat officiating. Mrs. E. T. Babcock, Mrs. Nels Jorgensen, Albert Babcock and Dell Barber sang, "Tis Sweet to Know That Jesus Loves Me," and "Let Not Your Heart Be Troubled." Mrs. Harlan Brennick sang a solo, "The Journeys End." Mrs. W. G. Johnson and Mrs. A. H. Babcock presided at the organ and piano. Mrs. W. J. Hemphill and Mrs. V. W. Robbins looked after the flowers, among them being a bunch of calla lilies which Mrs. Gipe picked in her own garden and brought with her. They were flowers her father had planted and tended during the time he had been making his home with her. Bearers were Roy Lewis, Bert Sayre, Bert Williams, R. O. Babcock, J. A. Johnson and George Maxson. Burial was in the family lot in Hillside cemetery. Miller Bros., of Scotia were the undertakers in charge.

Henry Arthur Watts was the oldest child of Frank and Mary Louise Watts. He was born Aug. 15, 1862, at Onarga, Ill., where he spent his early boyhood and most of his school days. When eleven years of age he came with his parents to North Loup, and lived with them on the homestead southwest of town on what has always been known as Watts Hill.

May 24, 1884, he was married to Miss Eva Adele Green, who died April 24, 1888, leaving one little daughter, Jessie, now Mrs. Ralph Comstock of St. Charles, Ill. On Jan. 3, 1892, he married Mrs. Hannah Clement Curry, by whom he had three children, Madge, now Mrs. Chas. Fuller, and Martin, both of North Loup, and Mrs. Eva Gipe, of Long Beach. His wife's two small daughters, now Mrs. Ellen Collins of Loup City and Mrs. Leona Elliott, of Yakima, Wash., were brought up as his own. His wife died August 13, 1927.

July 14, 1888, he was baptized and joined the North Loup Seventh Day Baptist church and remained a conscientious member for 53 years. North Loup was always his home, although he spent part of his last years with his oldest daughter in Illinois, until August, 1939, he went to California to make his home with his youngest daughter, where he died March 10, 1941.

Art Watts' life was not spectacular, he was honest, a good friend and neighbor, and tried to do right as he saw it. He was a great lover of horses. In his younger days he worked in livery stables or on farms where he could care for his favorites. The last few years he was in Illinois he spent his summers riding on the Babson estate where his son-in-law is employed as caretaker, and their stalls were kept like a parlor. Besides his immediate family he leaves one brother, Earl, of Exeland, Wis., his youngest brother, Lester, having died just a year ago, eleven grandchildren, one great grandchild, five step grandchildren and two nephews.

Mrs. Anna Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Watts, all of Grand Island, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Watts of Hastings, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Collins and son Kenneth of Loup City and Mrs. Aaron Fletcher and two daughters of Grand Island, were here Friday to attend the funeral of Art Watts.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Comstock and sons, Leon and Ivan, of St. Charles, Ill., arrived Thursday afternoon and were guests of friends and relatives till Sunday morning when they left for their home. Saturday night they, with Mrs. Eva Gipe, of Long Beach, were guests of honor at the March church social held in the basement of the Seventh Day Baptist church. Mr. Comstock spoke during the program telling of the work he is doing as caretaker of the country home of Mrs. F. K. Babson. He has developed wild and cultivated flowers, his chief hobby being iris, of which he has 400 varieties. Leon Comstock is employed in the St. Charles postoffice and Ivan, who is married, has work near his parents. Ralph Comstock's father, Ed Comstock, who is 84 years old, lives at Oak Park, near St. Charles. It has been thirteen years since the family left North Loup and eleven years of that time they have been at their present location. They visited here in '35.

Barber reviewed "But You are Young," by Josephine Lawrence. Roll call was a book read recently and books desired for the North Loup library. During the business hour officers for the coming year were elected and are: President, Mrs. J. S. Manchester; vice-president, Mrs. H. L. Gillespie; secretary, Mrs. M. R. Cornell, and treasurer, Mrs. Ruby McGinley. Mrs. Jim Coleman was a guest.

Mrs. Orville Noyes was hostess to the Junior Portnightly club on Thursday afternoon when the March party which was a St. Patrick's party was held. Mrs. Opal Beebe and Mrs. Erma Eberhart were in charge of the party. The time was spent playing pinocle, high score going to Helen Coleman and the traveling prize to Doris Barber. The door prize went to Mrs. J. A. Barber. Delpha Williams and Rena Maxson are doing light housekeeping in rooms in the north part of the Gus Eislis home.

Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Noyes and Connie were Mrs. Freida Noyes, Laverne and Darrell and the Herman Desel family and Avona Nolde.

Fresh Fruits & Vegetables

Thousands of thrifty homemakers have tried and approved Safeway's modern system of measuring citrus fruits by weight. Now, we go a step further and price Head Lettuce "by the pound." We feel sure you will agree this is a more accurate and economical method to purchase this item, also. Two heads of lettuce may look the same in size and feel the same in firmness but differ greatly in weight. When buying "by the pound" you pay for just what you get, and you get exactly what you pay for.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD. Perhaps the first robin is not a sure sign of spring. In fact, some of the robins stayed here all winter and could be seen about every warm day. But the first song of the robin should be a definite proof of spring, and several persons have reported hearing them singing yesterday morning March 18. Through one of those mishaps that just have to happen, we reported an 8 at 40 turkey dinner in the paper last week, and forgot to tell where the dinner was held. As a matter of fact, it was held at Haught's Cafe, the writer knew about it, and fully intended to mention the fact in the story. Miss Marianne Russell had a birthday March 15th, and it was a birthday of which any little girl might well be proud. It so happens that her birthday comes on the same day as the American Legion's birthday, and she was just half as old as the Legion, 31 years old when the Legion was 22. Then, too, her papa is a Legionnaire and her mamma is a member of the Auxiliary, which made it quite a day for her. John Wozab is tall, but once last week he found that he wasn't tall enough. Some of the old time fishermen got John to go to the river with them to cut a hole in the ice so they could catch some fish. John walked out from the bank with his waders on. Pretty soon he broke through the top ice, but landed on some more ice about a foot deeper. He walked out further, and all at once all the ice gave way, and believe it or not John went in over his head. He had quite a time of it, but managed to get out all right. He got his annual bath a little earlier than usual, and he says he is going to prove that H. D. was wrong when he said that a person could not take a bath in the winter without catching cold. He says the water where he broke in must have been 12 to 15 feet deep. As soon as the weather warms up John plans to dive for the axe he lost.

ing for Omaha where they will enlist in the army at Fort Crook for a year of military training under the selective service act. Mr. Davis formerly operated the Sinclair filling station. —Mr. and Mrs. Charles Schulling drove to Omaha Friday where they spent several days buying merchandise for the new electrical appliance store which Mr. Schulling is opening on the north side of the square. Mr. Schulling formerly operated such a shop for the Bredthauer Motor company. He is well experienced in this work. Ben Bartusek will assist him in this enterprise. The new store will be formally opened Friday. —The matter of bringing a canning factory to the North Loup valley was discussed at the meeting of the Wranglers club Monday night. A committee of Henry McMullen, Roy Moninger, and R. H. Douglas was appointed by Boss Johnson to investigate the possibilities of getting a cannery in Burwell. Mr. Moninger was employed in the canning factory at Millburn which was established in 1937 and now abandoned. It is thought there might be a possibility of getting this factory moved to Burwell. Mr. Moninger said that the factory was financed by a government agency. It was a non-stock cooperative organization. The farmers in that locality agreed to plant seventy acres to tomatoes. Owing to the drought, Mr. Moninger said, they were unable to produce any tomatoes to can and consequently the plant has remained idle. It is believed that with irrigation the project would be more successful in the North Loup valley. A committee of C. C. Scofield, O. A. Norland, W. P. Manasil and O. W. Johnson was appointed to assist Clyde Igenfritz in the promotion of the Wranglers Relays which will be held April 15. The state high school athletic association has approved Mr. Igenfritz as a director for this undertaking. The meet will be an invitational affair open to all comers. Boss Johnson expressed the hope that the event will bring on a rain which will furnish moisture to sprout the sugar beets. The Wranglers formerly made an annual event of this track meet but the weather the last few years it was held made it almost impossible to conduct the meet. Ralph Kelley, editor of the Atkinson Graphic, will speak at the next meeting of the Wranglers which will be held on April 14. Members of the Atkinson Commercial club will accompany him. Boss Johnson announced that a meeting will be held at the school auditorium Wednesday evening March 26 where pictures showing the soil conservation work which is being done in Custer county by the CCC boys. Farmers are especially urged to attend this meeting. No charge for admission will be made. The matter of bringing a canning factory to Burwell will be further discussed at this time. —Dr. and Mrs. R. W. Wood and Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Igenfritz drove to Sargent Sunday where Dr. and Mrs. Wood visited their parents and the Igenfritzes, Mr. and Mrs. John Green. —Quiz Want Ads get results.

Davis of the firm of Cleary, Suhr and Davis of Grand Island, Steve Alder, vice-president of the First National bank, Grand Island, Elmer Larsen and Steve Grohosky, Scotta bankers, Jim Laufgan, Greeley lawyer, and members of the several Karro families.

Voluntary Enlistments From County are Listed

Clerk A. A. Wiegardt of the draft board Friday received a number of cards of Valley county young men who had made voluntary enlistments in the army, navy or marines. This is by no means all of them, but the first list of cards received to date.

This list does not of course include any of those inducted into the service under the provisions of the draft law, nor any of those who have volunteered for service thru the Valley county draft board. It is also of interest to note that there will be no quota from Valley county for March.

The list follows, with the rank, branch of service and home address of the enrollee: Robert Grant Baker, private, U. S. marine corps, Arcadia; Willard Wilson Ball, AOM 3c, U. S. Navy, Ord; Howard Wesley Beaver, corporal, R.A.R., Army, Arcadia; Paul Thomas Carlsen, gunner's mate, 3d class, U. S. Navy, Ord; Marvin R. Fox, private, regular army, Ord; Leon James Peter (Barney) Larsen, apprentice seaman, U. S. Navy, Ord; John Walter Paddock, seaman, first class, U. S. Navy, Ord; Manford Franklin (Tub) Steinwart, private first class, special sixth class, regular army, Ord; Edward Harry Woolworth, C.T.M. (P.A.) P.R. act, Navy, Arcadia.

No explanation of a number of the designations above is given, since nobody here seems to know just what they mean.

Charles Svoboda's Shop North of Postoffice

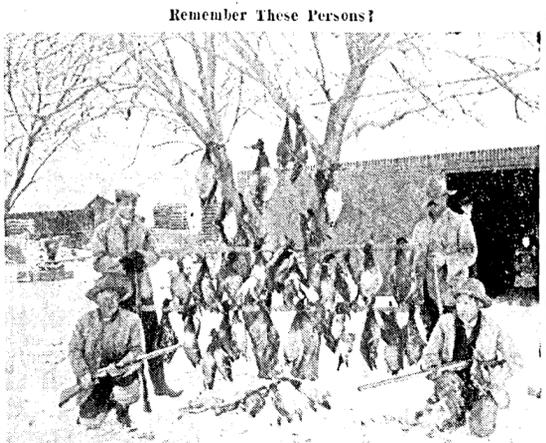

Last week Charles Svoboda moved his car and repair business from his home in southwest Ord to the building on the lot north of the postoffice formerly occupied by the Deacon and Clint's shop.

He plans to clear all the space west of the shop and make it into a parking space for the benefit of his customers and for others who wish to use it. As parking space is hard to find in the business district, this will be quite a benefit to the public.

Rowbal Radio Shop Handling Frigidaires

Last week the Rowbal Radio shop received a shipment of the latest model Frigidaires, and more are to follow soon. Archie expects to push this popular line of refrigerators this year, in addition to his radio sales and repair business.

In his new location in the south room in the Oddfellows building on the east side he has a very fine window for display purposes, and he is already making good use of it. He attended a Frigidaire meeting in Grand Island last week to learn more about the business.

This week we present a hunting scene from the H. G. Westberg collection which was taken about 40 years ago. Can you guess who they are? To Mrs. Elliott Clement goes the honor of being the first to tell the Quiz who the two youngsters in the Quiz last week were, but Mrs. W. L. Ramsey guessed them right just ten minutes later. The time was 11:30 and 11:40 a. m., Thursday, respectively. They were Lillian Franc (Danberry) and Merrill Williams. Two hours later Mrs. Bernard Hoyt guessed Mrs. Williams, but could not remember Mrs. Danberry.

Two More Couples Are Married by Co. Judge

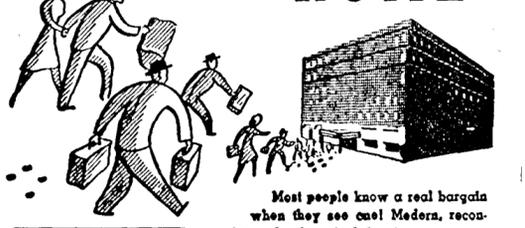

Following up the fine start he had last week, John L. Andersen, county judge, issued two more licenses the latter part of the week, and performed the marriage ceremony in both cases.

Thursday he married Clinton H. Masters, son of Horatio Masters of Arcadia, and Miss Ruth E. Wibbels, daughter of Richard E. Wibbels, also of Arcadia. Witnesses were Richard E. Wibbels and Eva Wibbels.

Sunday he married John P. Harvey, son of J. L. Harvey of Taylor, and Opa Jean Houser, daughter of Charles E. Houser, of Burwell. Witnesses were William R. Harvey of Taylor and Irene Reynolds of Long Pine.

—Miss Marle Hrebec returned to her work in Omaha on the bus Monday morning after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hrebec, for three weeks.

Speaker at the meeting of the Ord Cosmopolitan club at Thorne's cafe Thursday evening was Rev. George Ehret of North Loup, who talked on the little things that count in life to make up one's character. Guests of the club were Raymond Cronk of the Nebraska State bank, and E. A. Champe, area supervisor, N.Y.A.

Ed Gnaester was again appointed chairman of the soap box derby committee, with James Gilbert, Syl Purtak, Paul Hubert, Ken Peterson and Bill Gott as the other members. This committee held a meeting on Monday evening to organize and get started on the plans for 1941. They expect to make the races this year better than those of 1940.

Eluta Camp Fire.
This group had their meeting at the home of Mrs. John Andersen Monday afternoon. They took care of their note books and brought them up to date. They changed their sack lunch picnic to Thursday after school. The next meeting will be with Miss Sharlene Whiting, March 24. They will each be given a test of what they have learned.—Norma June Manchester, reporter.

News From the Fish and Game Department.
One hundred thousand trout, mostly of the rainbow species, will be planted in Nebraska streams this spring by the State Game Commission, announced Acting Secretary William Lytle, last week. Distribution of the trout started March 1.

All of these trout will be of legal size, ranging from 7 to 12 inches in length. They were raised at the state hatcheries located at Rock Creek, Valentine and Gretna. The 1941 trout season opened on March 15 for streams and irrigation ditches. The season for state owned lakes (Fremont sand pits, Louisville sand pits and Rock Creek lake) will open on April first.

Mrs. Etta Campbell who broke her hip several weeks ago was released from Dr. Cram's hospital Tuesday.

Dr. Carter who has been in Dr. Cram's hospital for two months was taken to Omaha Monday in Mitchell's ambulance where he will enter a hospital to receive X-ray treatments.

Mrs. Harry Yocum and her infant daughter, Sandra, were released from the hospital Monday and returned to their home at Brewster.

Lorenzo Herrington submitted to a tonsillectomy in Dr. Cram's hospital Saturday.

Mrs. E. McCormack returned to her home at Millburn Monday following her recovery from a major operation performed by Dr. Cram.

Vincent Haskell of Valley was stricken with appendicitis Sunday while visiting his wife's folks, the Signers, at Ericson. He was rushed to Dr. Cram's hospital where an immediate operation was found to be necessary. He is now well on the way to recovery.

William Garaska was released from Dr. Cram's hospital Friday following his recovery from an appendectomy.

Ralph Leo Walker submitted to an appendectomy in Dr. Cram's hospital Saturday.

A daughter was born Sunday to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Kizer who live near Ericson. Dr. Cram was in attendance.

Mrs. Fred T. Raish of Madison Square fell and broke her left ankle Thursday. At first she believed that it was only sprained but as it kept bothering her she was brought to Dr. Cram's hospital Tuesday. An X-ray revealed the fracture. The ankle was put into a cast.

Amos Grant of Omaha spent the week end in Burwell where he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. George Lange. He also visited his ranch in Loup county.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Splith of Elgin spent Friday, Saturday and Sunday in Burwell in the K. M. Parsons home. Mr. and Mrs. Parsons were in Omaha the latter part of the week where they attended the British benefit show. During their absence the Spliths were entertained by their grandchildren, Bill.

Don Rounds and Mrs. Nelson Again Head Farm Bureau

Annual Meeting Held Saturday in Ord, 60 Present; Awards for Fine Service Made.

Re-elected officers of the Valley county Farm Bureau at its annual meeting at the Masonic hall Saturday were Don Rounds, president, and Mrs. Leo Nelson, secretary-treasurer.

About sixty members were present when the meeting opened on Saturday morning. It continued throughout the day, with the report of County Agricultural Agent C. C. Dale, presentation of awards to winning 4-H club members and leaders, and a talk and farm movies by Harold Benn, agricultural agent of the Union Pacific railroad, as entertainment features.

Mrs. Edgar Roe, who was leader of the county's most successful 4-H cooking club, was presented a 24 pound sack of flour; Phyllis Dodge was given the Ak-Sar-Den medal which goes annually to the club member who did most to promote 4-H work; Louie Nelson was awarded a trip to 4-H club week offered by the Burlington railroad to the former 4-H club member most successful as a leader; Lyle Novosad received the master feeder's certificate given by the Omaha Livestock Exchange to the member who makes the best showing at the annual Ak-Sar-Den show; Delavan Kingston was given an engraved paperweight by the Yankton radio station for contributing most to 4-H club work during his last year as a club member, age limit being 21; Roberta Cook was given a sack of flour as the highest ranking cooking club member in the county. All but Delavan and Roberta were present to receive the awards.

Summarizing activities, carried on by the Farm Bureau during 1940, County Agent Dale mentioned irrigation meetings; irrigation surveys; stated that 157 were enrolled in 4-H clubs and 270 in women's project clubs; the P-F-L program in cooperation with the Chamber of Commerce and the Creamery, in which $50 in prizes were paid; the potato marketing project in the Middle Loup valley; cooperation with AAA and FSA, a series of drouth and feed meetings last fall in which emphasis was given to feeding high protein feeds with the low grade roughages available; setting up of a feed purchasing committee which pooled orders and bought from local dealers in car load lots; contour surveys made on five farms; a hybrid corn yield test plot carried on; and a potato field tour conducted.

During the year he held 66 meetings with attendance of about 1,800, made 242 farm visits, and local leaders, largely of 4-H and women's project clubs, held 160 meetings with total attendance of about 1,680, said Mr. Dale.

Harold Benn's talk at the afternoon meeting was greatly enjoyed. In addition to a 2-reel film on livestock loss prevention, Mr. Benn showed a film on potato production. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Benn, he is a young man who got his start in agricultural work through 4-H club membership in Valley county, and who now holds the position of agricultural agent for the Union Pacific system.

Dr. Chyle Will Speak National Hall April 8

To those folk who enjoy a good lecture it will be a treat to learn that Dr. Oldrich Chyle of Chicago, former Czechoslovakian consul and statesman, will lecture in the National hall in Geranium township on the evening of Tuesday, April 8, the lecture to start at eight o'clock.

Dr. Chyle is being brought here by the Czech-American National Alliance, under whose auspices he will speak at the National hall. Dr. Chyle can speak in either the Czech or English language and is a speaker of noted ability. Dr. Chyle's lecture will be mainly on the resurrection of the Czechoslovakian democracy and plans are under way to have him give a lecture in Comstock, which plans will perhaps materialize if he can spare the time, as he is due to speak in Hemingford on April 10.

"O" Club Elects Officers. The "O" club elected the following officers Thursday: Harold Christensen, president, Clarence Romans, vice-president, and Ernest Piskorski, secretary-treasurer. There are 25 members at present, including those who have lettered in football and basketball. Track letter men will be added later.

F. W. Coe Heads State Co-Op Creameries, Inc.

Fred W. Coe, manager of the Ord Co-Operative Creamery, was honored at Omaha last week when he was elected president of the Nebraska Co-Operative Creameries, Inc., at their annual meeting, held at the Castle Hotel in Omaha Tuesday and Wednesday.

This is no new honor to Mr. Coe, who was president of the organization for the first five years of its existence, beginning 1927. He has been a member of the board of directors since 1927. There are about 35 creameries in the Nebraska group, and about 1160 belong to the national organization. E. O. Carlson, butter maker, and A. W. Cornell, president, went with Mr. Coe.

Rotarians Elect R. E. Teague As New President

Hotel Man Chosen Wednesday Eve to Succeed Kokes; Misko Is Elected Vice-President.

Richard E. Teague, manager of Hotel Ord, was elected by the Ord Rotary club last Wednesday evening to the office of president succeeding E. L. Kokes. He will take office June 1 as will Ralph E. Misko, who was chosen vice-president. Dr. George R. Gard was re-elected secretary and William Sack was elected treasurer.

Other officers chosen by Rotarians included the retiring president for the office of sergeant-at-arms and Clarence M. Davis, who was elected official greeter. New directors are H. C. James and F. V. Cahill.

R. E. TEAGUE.

The nominating committee was composed of Forrest Johnson, Dr. Geo. A. Parkins and Keith Lewis, and the committee report read by Mr. Johnson was adopted unanimously by the club.

Program Wednesday evening was a highly mystifying exhibition of magic given by Charles W. Martin, an executive agent of the National American Fire Insurance company, of Omaha. An Ord Rotarian, Dr. F. A. Barta, is a director in this company and arranged to have Mr. Martin, whose hobby is magic, present the program for the Ord club and also give programs in the Ord schools that day.

All-School Carnival to Be Held April 25

The first announcement of the coming all-school carnival was made yesterday when bills made by the high school artists and mimeograph were distributed around town. The date is to be April 25.

Among the many attractions listed are bingo, an athletic show, fortune telling, kangaroo court, photography, beauty show, hot dog and confetti stands and others. The event will be held in the high school auditorium.

Still Prospect of Ord-Ericson Road

"Don't be discouraged" is the advice of Clarence M. Davis, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce road committee, and other Chamber members to people who live in the northeast part of Valley county. Although the Ord-Ericson road apparently received a severe setback when the state engineer last week refused to include it in this summer's highway development, there still is a chance to secure at least partial improvement of the road this summer, and a new development may be announced soon.

Crowd Delighted With Musical Eve

A large audience of friends of the school and friends of music greatly enjoyed seeing what Ord young people could do under the direction of Henry M. Deines on Tuesday evening at the high school auditorium. The crowd was not disappointed, and in fact was frankly delighted with the program and its presentation.

First number chosen for singing by the girls' sextet was "The Chestnut Tree," by Schumann, and it was a pleasing promise of the evening to follow. Then the soft voices of the six girls were heard in "Thy Mouth, Fair Maid, Is a Rosebud Red," by Davis.

The orchestra presented two numbers: from "XV Symphony" by Hayden they played the finale; then the more robustious "Three Brothers", an overture by Cimarosa. Both selections offered an excellent opportunity for fine work by the stringed instruments.

The girls' glee club won the house without uttering a note, so charming were they in their slim red gowns and simple white collars. But when they sang, with Mr. Deines modulating them as deftly as the stops of an organ, their hearers were entranced. All three numbers seemed perfect; "The Star" by Rogers, "The Snow" by Edgar, and "Daybreak" by Harris.

The boys' octet was heard first in "The Battle of Jericho" by Bartholomew. This familiar air was sung with all the vim and vigor that eight young men could give it, and was heartily applauded by the hearers. Then, more gentle in feeling, the boys sang "Broken Melody" by Grunfeld. Just to show what they could do.

Three boys and three girls made up the Spanish rhythms of "Castilla" by Helmes. They were unaccompanied by any other instruments, with unusual effectiveness.

Two rather pastoral numbers were next given by the madrigal singers, a group of young women's and young men's voices blending beautifully in the lyrical old English verses and notes. They gave a performance of warmth and beauty to a type of music that seems simple but is actually difficult.

The audience very much enjoyed the rollicking "Strike Up the Band", and the singularly appropriate "The Star" (Continued on page 12)

Basketball Letter Men are Announced

Coach Roscoe Tolly has announced the names of basketball letter men for the current season, as follows: Raymond Furtak, Billy Malolepszy, Clarence Romans, Ernest Piskorski, all seniors, and Alex Crabane, Henry Adams, Junior Wilson, Frank Misko and Oris Harbert.

The honorary captains are Malolepszy and Romans. In scoring Romans was high man with 116 points, Furtak was second with 142 points and Malolepszy was third with 101 points. This division of points shows that the Ord team was not a one man team by any means.

Knights of Columbus Hold Insurance Night

The Knights of Columbus held insurance night last evening at the hall as a part of the Founder's Week festivities. The meeting was conducted by Grand Knight Syl Furtak. It was an informal meeting, with Frank Kruml giving the address of welcome and an interpretation of Founder's Week.

District Deputy John McCarthy of Grand Island spoke briefly and introduced State Deputy J. R. Hughes of St. Paul, who gave an interesting talk. District Insurance Agent Leonard Ryan of Columbus gave a talk in which he explained the insurance plan of the order more fully.

Entertainment was furnished by high school students. This included a cello solo by Orel Koelling and a vocal solo by Patricia Frazier, both accompanied by Margaret Pelska, and a string quartet, composed of Miss Pelska, Miss Frazier, Angeline Koelling and Irene Auble, all of which were very fine. Games were played the remainder of the evening.

Birkes Trial Will Start April 21st, Says Judge Spikes

Wiegardt Not Yet Notified but Judge So Informs Attorneys; Insanity Possible Plea.

That the murder trial of John Richard and Willard Birkes will get under way in Ord on Monday, April 21, was the announcement made yesterday in Grand Island by District Judge William M. Spikes, of St. Paul.

Commenting on the Birkes trial, Thomas L. Wiegardt and William P. Mallin, said at once that they will be ready for trial on the date set, although they said some preliminary motions being a hearing on the case might have to be argued before April 21.

A. A. Wiegardt, clerk of the Valley county district court, said late Tuesday that he had not yet been notified of the day set for starting the trial; in fact, said Wiegardt, "the transcript of the case has not yet been sent to this office from the Loup county clerk."

Approximately 100 Valley county men will be sent notices to appear for jury duty ten days in advance of the day set for the trial to begin, said Wiegardt, and from this pool jurors for the trial will be selected. The state's attorneys will be represented by registered attorneys as provided by law.

It has been indicated that about 20 days will be required for the trial if the three defendants are tried together. However, they have the right of separate trials if they so desire and if this right is exercised the trial might drag out several weeks.

Possibility that insanity might be used as a defense for one or more of the defendants was seen when Defense Attorney Langran said Tuesday, "No doubt in preparation of the case attorneys will be employed who will be prepared to testify at the trial." He did not amplify this statement.

The three Birkes are charged with the murder of Sheriff George Brock, of Loup county, in an altercation at a girl registration booth at Valley View on October 16. Brock sought to arrest Richard, youngest of the three Birkes, and in the scuffle which followed he was fatally shot. At the preliminary hearing witnesses for the state testified that John Birkes brought his nephew to the draft booth and was sitting in his car when the scuffle started and ran toward Brock and Richard Birkes, pulling his gun as he ran. Willard Birkes was not present, witnesses said, but later that day when Sheriff Glen Fox, of Custer county, arrested the three, he was driving the car, taking his wounded brother and nephew to seek medical aid, he said.

Both Richard and John Birkes were wounded, either by shots fired by Sheriff Brock or by a shotgun charge fired by A. R. Maxson, Valley View blacksmith as they fled. Both recovered but Mr. Maxson has died since the incident as result of natural causes.

Change of venue to Valley county was ordered March 13 by Judge Spikes when the defense contended it could not expect a fair trial in Loup county because feeling in the case was so great among the populace.

Hotels, restaurants, filling stations, beer parlors and other business places in Ord expect a "boom" when the trial starts, since it is expected that many Loup and Garfield people will be in daily attendance. Many lawyers, peace officers, witnesses, etc., will be brought to Ord in connection with the trial, it is thought.

Telephone Protest Will Be Discussed

The question of getting better telephone service for Ord and community will be discussed Thursday night at a general meeting of the Chamber of Commerce to be held in the K. of C. hall at 8:00, and all members are urged to be present. A. B. Clark and W. W. Johnson, officers of the Nebraska Continental Telephone company, will present the company's side of the case, and Dr. G. W. Taylor and other members of the Chamber's telephone committee will state Ord's position in the matter.

John H. Schnell, chief accountant for the Nebraska Railway Commission, will attend the meeting as an unofficial observer for that body, at the invitation of the Chamber's telephone committee.

It is probable that road matters will come up for discussion also, particularly the Ord-Ericson road, and President C. J. Mortensen urges a full attendance of members.

Divorce Suit Filed.

In district court here Monday Mrs. Elizabeth Pishna filed petition for a divorce from Kenneth Pishna of Loup county, charging cruelty, addiction to intoxicants and non-support. They were married June 8, 1940 at Bassett. John P. Misko is Mrs. Pishna's attorney.

A Sight to Sadden the Hearts of Anglers...

Ten to fifty thousand dead fish - catfish, bass, bluegills, crappies and other game species as well as carp and other coarse fish - dot the muddy shores of Lake Burwell, as these pictures prove. Proper precautions would have saved them.

Thousands of Fish Perish in Lake at Burwell in Winter

Lack of Water Was Responsible For Wholesale Loss of Valuable Fish by Freezing.

Lack of water, combined with a winter which started early and stayed late, is responsible for the death of thousands of fish in the lake at Burwell the past winter. No one, perhaps, can be blamed for the loss of the fish, who were victims of circumstances. The sudden freezing of the ice caught them before they could get away.

To obtain dirt for the dam at Burwell the material was dredged from the low ground above the dam, having a deep ditch extending the way along the dam. When the lake was deepened, many fine fish were caught there. When the water was cut out of the dam last fall, and access to this long ditch was difficult.

It is believed that fish from further up the river, enroute to deeper water for the winter, stopped in this spot to feed, and were unable to get away after the sudden hard freeze early in November. They had to remain there until they were either suffocated or were frozen into the ice.

These photos taken by a Quiz photographer Friday show the wholesale loss of all kinds of fish. There are many varieties of them. Some of the largest in the above photos are catfish weighing up to eight pounds. There are also bluegills, pike and bass, to say nothing of large numbers of skipjacks, carp, suckers and other fish.

Last summer proved that the Burwell lake is one of the finest places to fish in this section of the country, and the fish shown here prove just why this was so. It will take the state hatcheries some time to replace such a loss as this, and measures should be taken to guard against such a loss in the future.

Burwellites are of the opinion that, if the water had been a foot deeper in the lake, this major catastrophe might have been avoided. Of course, in a new position of this kind, no one can know what may happen, but now that it has happened, adequate measures should be taken to avoid such a condition at any time in the future.

Estimates on the number of fish killed vary, but a consensus of the opinions of a number who have seen them would indicate the possible loss of 10 to 50 thousand fish. In addition a large number of frogs were caught in the ice and died, a circumstance that is very unusual.

Ord Rotarians to Be Luncheon Hosts at a Hastings Conference

The Ord Rotary club decided Monday evening to accept an invitation to provide the program at a luncheon to be given Monday, April 21, during the district convention of Rotary International in Hastings. Topic for the program will be "Community Service" and will be built around the boys' and girls' pig club program sponsored by the Ord club two years ago.

C. C. C. probably will be principal speaker and at least ten Ord Rotarians will attend the annual conference and assist in the program. A possibility that Wendell L. Wilkie may speak during the 2-day conference at Hastings was mentioned Monday night by President E. L. Kokes. Several other top-flight speakers will talk on Rotary subjects also.

The Ord club's program Monday evening included an interesting talk by Fred W. Coe, elected president of the Nebraska Association of Cooperative Creameries at Omaha last week; accordion music by Adolph Urbanovsky; and a talk and movies by Dr. J. H. Thompson, director of dental hygiene in the state department of health.

Magazine Salesman Has Narrow Escape

Danny Helmer, a magazine salesman from Antelope county, came to Ord to decide what should be done about it. Monday of last week he conferred with authorities and with those who are looking after the buildings.

The result was that he gave the owners seven days to begin doing something with the buildings in order to protect the public, and also ordered them to take immediate action to protect the tenants, or to remove them in case they could not be protected.

But Sunday the damage had become really serious, and that day John Beran moved from the front rooms in the upstairs in the Haskell building and E. S. Murray moved his business from the Capron building.

Old Buildings on South Side Being Razed This Week

Sinking of Common Wall Makes Action Necessary in Case of Haskell and Capron Sites.

WALL CAVED TUESDAY. During Tuesday night a portion of the east wall of the Haskell building caved in and several tons of brick crashed through the floor into the basement, proving that the tenants were evacuated just in time. Glen and Edward Johnson have not yet removed their soda fountain but it was on the west side of the room where the floor is still intact and they hope to move it today.

For some time the common wall between the Capron building and the Haskell building west of it has been settling, and a short time ago the resultant damage caused the removal of the brick at the northeast corner of the Haskell building upstairs.

The wall continued to settle, however, and a week ago Sunday H. M. Davis, state fire marshal, came to Ord to decide what should be done about it. Monday of last week he conferred with authorities and with those who are looking after the buildings.

The result was that he gave the owners seven days to begin doing something with the buildings in order to protect the public, and also ordered them to take immediate action to protect the tenants, or to remove them in case they could not be protected.

But Sunday the damage had become really serious, and that day John Beran moved from the front rooms in the upstairs in the Haskell building and E. S. Murray moved his business from the Capron building.

Certified Seed Potatoes Given to Six Boys

Six boys in Valley county will each receive twenty-five bushels of certified seed potatoes for planting this spring. This announcement has been made by Harold W. Benn, agricultural agent for the Union Pacific railroad. The seed is being furnished jointly by the Nebraska Certified Potato Growers and the railroad.

Vocational agriculture teachers, Robert Hammond, North Loup and Ed Rousek, Ord, and County Agent C. C. Dale have each selected two boys to receive the seed. Those chosen are Lonnie Nelson, Robert Timmerman and Richard Masin, Ord; Martin Sonnenfeld and George Waller, North Loup; and Junior Dodge, Elyria.

These boys will be expected to raise the potatoes according to improved methods. It is hoped that the plantings will serve to demonstrate to farmers at Ord and North Loup the possibilities of potato production. Good results have been obtained at Burwell where potatoes have been grown commercially the last few years.

Although the boys will not raise certified seed, it is thought that this would be a profitable enterprise for farmers in this region. Nebraska certified seed potatoes are recognized the country over for their freedom from disease and general high quality. 608,600 sacks of potatoes were certified in Nebraska in 1940. 252 sacks were raised in Valley county.

Annual County Spelling Contest Coming Friday

The annual Valley county spelling contest will take place at the Ord high school auditorium Friday afternoon, beginning at 1 o'clock. This is for the purpose of choosing winners for the Interstate and World-Herald spelling contests, which come April 25 and 26, respectively.

One contestant will be selected for the World-Herald contest, and two for the Interstate. Mrs. A. W. Cornell, Mrs. G. W. Taylor, Mrs. L. D. Milliken and Mrs. Mark Tolen will assist Miss McClatchey by acting as judges, as they have in the past. Visitors are welcome to this contest.

Lois Bremer Became Bride of Herman Micheel

Sunday evening, March 23rd, at St. John's Lutheran church in Mira Valley, Miss Lois Bremer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Bremer, and Herman Micheel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Micheel, sr., were united in holy matrimony at a 6 o'clock candle light service, with Rev. David Krietzler officiating. Mrs. Krietzler played the march.

The bride wore a white satin gown and long veil with seeded pearl tiara and lace insets. She carried American Beauty roses. The maid of honor, Miss Ava Bremer, of Fremont, and bridesmaid, Miss Elva Foss, wore floor length pink and green taffeta gowns and carried white carnations. Little Elaine Bremer and Lavera Lange wore pink and green and carried baskets of pink and white sweet peas.

The groom's attendants were Martin Micheel and Franklin Bremer.

A quartet composed of Mrs. Ernest Frank, Mrs. Carl Gausman, Henry Lange and George Bremer, sang "Thine Forever."

A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony.

The couple took a trip to Boulder, Colo., after which they will make their home on a farm at White, S. D.

Out of town guests attending were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Micheel, the groom's parents, Martin Micheel, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Micheel and Alvera of White, S. D., Mr. and Mrs. Paul Lubke and Gertrude, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Friedrich and Ardith Mr. and Mrs. Harold Friedrich and Dorothy of Aurora, S. D., and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Schreweid of Sumner.

Grade School Notes. Dr. Thompson, director of Dental Hygiene of the State Department of Health, spoke at a convocation Monday. He directed his talk to the pupils. After explaining how the primary teeth affect the permanent set, he told what should be done to maintain mouth hygiene. He then used a motion picture to illustrate what he had said and to emphasize the importance of teeth to the general health.

After school he spoke to the teachers, elaborated his lecture and gave suggestions on teacher-dentist relationships. Drs. Blessing, Taylor and Osetowski were present.

The teachers are grateful for the material left by Dr. Thompson and feel the program was instructive and very much worthwhile not only to the pupils but to the teachers.

Lavonne Warwick who formerly attended the Taylor schools is a new pupil this week in grade 4. Visitors: Mrs. Leonard Parks in grade 6; Mrs. Ed Johnson in grade 6; Mrs. Ed Vogeltanz in grade 4.

Birthdays: Vivian Zulkoski, 10.

You'll Never Know Until You Try

Until you've made a trial purchase at our market, you will never know how true the claims are that we make for our meats, our service and our prices.

We claim to have the finest beefsteaks and beef roasts that you have ever eaten; we claim that our young, tender home-butchered fresh pork will please you; that our home-made wieners, bologna and other sausage products are free from filler and contain nothing but pure ground meat; that our home-cured bacon has that genuine wood smoke flavor.

We claim, too, that our prices will stand comparison with any others in town.

Until you try you'll never know; when you try we'll expect to see you often.

HAVE YOU EVER WONDERED HOW PRICES ARE FIGURED
HERE'S how Safeway does it. Not by guess. Not by making some prices low to attract you and others high to make an extra profit. Nor by having them low for a few days and high the others. Safeway prices every item at the lowest point that costs will permit... at a price that gives our customers the benefit of all the savings we make. That's why Safeway prices are low on every item every day. No tricks. Just an honest effort to give you the lowest prices possible on the finest foods available.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karty of Ord were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ign. Pokraka.

Mrs. Edith Hunter, who has spent several months in the home of Nora and Owen White because she was suffering with rheumatism, expects to go to her home at Albion Sunday. Roy Lewis will take her over and Elsie Rood will go and remain to care for her.

Paul White was brought home from the Clinic hospital in Ord Friday and is recovering from an appendicitis operation to which he submitted earlier in the week. Mr. and Mrs. Frank White spent Sunday in the Paul White home.

Steve Jorgensen and Ivan Honeycutt who are attending welding school in Omaha, were home over the week end.

Ervin Bartz, who has been a member of the Halsey CCC camp for some time, will be home Wednesday, having finished his term of work in camp. For the past year Ervin has been assistant educational advisor in the Halsey camp and the past two weeks carried on the work alone while the educational advisor was on his vacation. His plans are indefinite at present but he hopes to get into some kind of radio work, possibly in the U. S. Air Corps.

Mrs. Eva Gipe went to Grand Island on the Saturday evening bus where she was a guest of Mrs. Anna Watts and Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Watts over night. On Sunday she left by train for her home at Long Beach. While here a letter from her family told that Dean and Keith Watts, both members of the crew of the USS Tippecanoe, had returned from Honolulu and had spent the week end in her home. Lois Manchester, who is working in a doctor's home in Long Beach, also spends some time with Mrs. Gipe's family.

The Womens Missionary society and the Young Peoples Missionary circle of the Zion Evangelical church gave a program at the church Sunday night. The program was a resume of the study books, China Rediscovered Her West and Stand By for China, which they have just finished. After the program, a Bowl of Rice supper was served which was eaten with chop sticks.

The morning bus Tuesday picked up Mrs. Will Schauer, jr., at Olean. Her destination was Lawton, Okla.

BURWELL

A large crowd gathered at the Christian church Sunday to attend the rededication ceremonies. The principle address was delivered by Rev. Stephenson of Aurora who was at one time pastor of the local church. The chancel was decorated with bouquets of flowers that were gifts of business men. The high point of interest of the day was the ordination of Bill Goodell into the Christian ministry by John Alber, secretary of the Christian churches of Nebraska. An impressive ceremony was carried out including the ritual of laying on hands. Rev. and Mrs. W. L. Goodell and all of their five children were present. They now live at Lebanon, Kas., where Mr. Goodell is pastor of the Christian church. Their son, Bill, attends Phillips college at Enid Okla., and is student pastor of a church at Waldron, Kas. In the afternoon letters were read from many former members who were unable to be present. Among those sending greetings were Mrs. George H. Boomer of Lincoln, Miss Martha Younk of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Pearl of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hoffman of Los Angeles and many others. A telegram of greetings was received from Mr. and Mrs. Lee Webb and Mr. and Mrs. W. O. McMullen and their families who live in Los Angeles. Mrs. I. W. McGrew read a history of the church which she had prepared. Three charter members of the church, Mr. and Mrs. I. W. McGrew and J. A. Herbst were present. Mr. Strave sang a solo in the afternoon entitled, "Lord, Bless This House." Rev. Snyder sang "The Holy City." The Women's Chorus under the direction of Mrs. Arthur Langstrom sang several selections. Greetings were extended from many neighboring churches. Alfred Wiegardt spoke, representing the Ord congregation. Rev. Wylie, pastor of the Methodist church and Rev. Carlblom, pastor of the Full Gospel Tabernacle, extended greetings of their churches. In the evening Mrs. Stephenson of Aurora conducted young people's meeting.

GROHE'S NUBRED SEED CORN

We would like to make this announcement again! That Nubred Seed Corn has a heavy root system. It will not lodge or drop its ears. No. 22 matures in 108 days, has a deep wide kernel. Any feeder will demand Nubred once he has fed it, and every planter of Nubred will demand it once they plant it. Nubred is the farmers' and feeders' friend, just the kind of corn they have been wanting but have never before had the chance to get. It is grown and sold by John Guguenemus, W. O. Zangger, Harold Nelson and Fred McCowen, North Loup, by Evt Smith, Ord, and by

Farmers Win Match at Goodhand Alleys

The city team again went down to defeat last night in the fastest match game played in Ord during the past season, the final score being: Farmers, 2610; City Men, 2566. The city score would have been good enough to win on former occasions, but the farmers were hitting all the way, and rolled up a good score for almost any team.

Don Severson was high man for the meet in three games, with the fine average of 199 and a single score of 212, but his efforts could not stay defeat, despite the fact that he carried his "rabbit's foot." Raymond Christensen came through in the final game with a 213 to rob him of singles honors. John Koll was high for the farmers with a 187 average.

The results follow: Farmers; John Koll, 187; Lou Jobst, 167; Emil Zikmund, 170; Raymond Christensen, 174; Hartwig Koll, 173; Don Severson, 199; Joe Sedlacek, 165; Keith Habig, 158; Jason Lathrop, 160. Jim Bratka won the high prize at the alleys last week. The same teams will play again next Tuesday evening.

SOCIAL NEWS

Surprised Sunday. Sunday night some friends surprised Irvin Merrill's at their home in Ord. Pinochle was played, after which a lunch was served. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Warren Lincoln, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Absolon and Mr. and Mrs. John Koll. Mr. Lincoln held high for men and Mr. Absolon low; for the ladies Mrs. Absolon held high and Mrs. Merrill low; the traveling prize went to Mr. Lincoln.

O. N. O. Club. Saturday, March 22, Miss Mabel Misko was hostess to the O. N. O. club at her home. All members were present except Mrs. Kent Peris. Topics under discussion were, Gardens, Shrubs and Flowers, Migratory Birds, and Scenic Tours. Two tables of pinochle were played, with Miss Vera Frederick winning the prize. After play refreshments were served. A lovely time was had by all.

Birthday and Party. Wednesday was the birthday of Mrs. W. B. Weckes and she was invited to the home of Mrs. Bessie Achen for dinner. It so happens that her birthday and that of Miss Willa Joyce came the same day, and they have celebrated together on every one of the young lady's birthdays, the last one being the twelfth. After school that evening Mrs. Achen had 8 little girls to help Willa Joyce enjoy her birthday. They were Marilyn Parks, Carol Johnson, Shirley Anderson, Patty Thompson, Irene Johnson, Verda Munn, Blanche Rutar and Marianne Russell. Many nice gifts were received, and a lunch was served.

Royal Kensington. The Royal Kensington club met Thursday for an all-day meeting with Mrs. I. C. Clark, with Mrs. Frank Clark as co-hostess. After passing circulars and giving the lesson, they had election of officers for the coming year. Mrs. Homer Jones was re-elected president, Mrs. Spencer Waterman was re-elected secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Ivan Botis was elected vice-president, Mrs. S. I. Willard, health leader, Mrs. Russell Waterman, music leader, Mrs. Ed Kasper and Mrs. Russell Waterman, project leaders, and Mrs. Botis, news reporter. Ten members were present, with eight men as visitors.

Ord Pinochle. The Ord Pinochle club met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. Joe Sedlacek. Mrs. Bessie Achen played in place of Mrs. Will Trep. Mrs. George Zikmund held high score, Mrs. John L. Ward second high, and Mrs. John Ulrich low. A bounteous lunch was served by the hostess.

Fred J. Bell, Who Died in Long Beach Last Week Was Colorful Figure in the Early Life of Ord; Was Photographer, Auto Dealer, Phone Man

Although he had made his home in California for more than two decades, there was more than a touch of sadness in the voices of his Ord friends as they spoke last week of the passing of Fred J. Bell. His life abounded in those qualities that men appreciate in a friend. The following is the brief obituary published in a Long Beach paper.

Services for Fred J. Bell, 72, of 547 Nebraska Avenue, were held Tuesday at 10 a. m. in the chapel of J. J. Mottell, Inc. Rev. Homer A. Strong of First Christian church officiated. Entombment was made in the Angeles Abbey Mausoleum.

FRED J. BELL.

The decedent was born in McComb, Ill., and died Friday night (March 14) in a local hospital after a long illness. He spent most of his life in Nebraska, prior to coming to Long Beach in 1920. He was a member of the First Christian church and belonged to the Modern Woodmen of America. He and his wife celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last June.

Surviving him are the widow, Mrs. Susie E. Bell; two daughters Mrs. Jennie B. Green, Port Hueme, Calif., and Mrs. Grace M. Hamilton, Long Beach; two sons Perry P. Bell and Stanley H. Bell, both of Long Beach; a brother, William Bell, of Cambridge, Ia.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Cronan, Ralston, Neb., and Mrs. Fannie Hansen, Ericson, Neb.; two grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The Quiz would indeed be derelict in its duty to the public if we did not recall the high points in Fred Bell's life in Ord. Perhaps the first of his activities while living in Ord was a photo car, which was quite an institution in the early days. Mr. Bell had all his equipment in two cars built on wheels.

These could be moved from town to town by horse power and set up in the form of a T. This furnished plenty of room for taking pictures and finishing them. The Bell Studio followed a circuit of all the towns in this territory, remaining in each town until business became slack and then moving on to the next.

This system proved very satisfactory and profitable as well, but in time resident photographers, who naturally opposed a traveling business, managed to get a law passed making traveling photographers pay a prohibitive license fee. This had the result of causing Mr. Bell to cast his lot with Ord as a permanent home.

At about that time, March, 1901, Peter Mortensen was building the north half of his building on the west side of the square, and had to get rid of two wooden buildings on the lots. Bell bought these buildings and remodeled them into a public studio on the lots where the Rutar Hatchery is now located.

Mrs. Bell became adept in the art of photography, so her husband branched out into other fields of endeavor. He bought a merry-go-round, and ran it at Fourth of July celebrations, fairs and carnivals throughout Nebraska over a period of years. In this he had opportunity to exhibit his natural ability as a showman and his merry-go-round was always popular.

Another of his activities was the selling of Buick cars, which he did on a large scale even prior to 1910. A picture published some time ago in the Quiz showed a line-up of about two dozen of them which he got in a single delivery, all of which were sold and delivered as soon as they arrived. In this connection he also ran an auto livery when his services were needed.

Still another business with which he had much to do was the telephone business. He owned one of two competing companies in Ord and he put up a lively scrap to hold and expand his business in this line but the Farmers were many against one, and eventually they won out, later to be known as the Farmers Mutual.

F. J. Bell found a natural occupation in the motion picture business and for a number of years he ran a picture theatre in Ord. In those days the best means of publicity for his business was that of ballyhoo, and he would have somebody drive him around town in a Buick and tell all about the offering at the theatre by means of a megaphone.

In this connection the following incident actually occurred: One day he drove around the square, announcing the show as follows: "Six thousand feet of high class motion picture film will be shown at the theatre tonight. This will depict the wanderings of the Hebrew children from Egypt to the promised land. Taken at the time and on the spot."

The last was of course thrown in as a joke, but one old fellow, who heard it did not understand it that way. He asked what Bell had said, and when it was repeated to him, he spat out a stream of tobacco juice, shook his head in disgust and remarked: "By Gosh, I don't believe he's got 'em." Nevertheless he went to the show that night.

It was at about this time that Mr. Bell got into the skating rink business, first in the building where the Schoenstein Motor company now is, and later in the present Rutar Hatchery building, which he built for the purpose. Exact dates are difficult to give, as he had two or three businesses going at the same time. In March, 1911, he took a team of Ord skaters to Grand Island to compete in a five-mile relay race there.

Fred Bell was the first man in Ord to prove that a car can be used to buck snow in winter. A fine snow of about 8 inches had fallen, and somebody remarked that it would put an end to the use of cars for the winter. In less than ten minutes Bell was out along the south side of the square in one of his white Buicks, turning this way and that and throwing snow in all directions. He proved it could be done, but all the credit he got was summed up in a bystander's remark: "Look at that crazy fool."

Bell was well known for his ability at fake photography, and many were completely fooled by his expert work. Andrew Nielson still has in his possession a fine example of this class of work, showing a family gathering, and also in the foreground two pairs of legs walking along without any bodies attached to them.

Fred Bell left Ord with genuine regret, and Ordites had a warm place in his heart even to the last. With the obituary his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Perry Bell, sent a statement of interest to Ordites. She says that, on the day before his death, Mr. Bell telephoned the Long Beach city park and reserved tables for the annual Ord picnic. He was president of this group, and held that position at the time of his death.

Many interesting men have lived in Ord. Some attained wealth and some have their name high in the annals of fame, here or elsewhere. But it is safe to say that few have appealed to the imagination of Ordites, especially the younger generation as did Fred J. Bell in the two decades he lived here. His talent for showmanship cropped out in all his undertakings, and his name was a household word wherever he went.

Fellowship Meeting Held Wednesday Eve
The March fellowship meeting was held in the basement of the First Presbyterian church Wednesday evening, with twenty members present. Rev. Radliff gave the invocation and also a very fine talk on the general subject of "Bear Ye One Another's Burdens."
He suggested the idea of getting others interested in the organization, and said he hoped that the movement would spread to all the churches of the town, so each might have its fellowship organization. The committee for the evening was Ernest Horner, Dr. G. R. Gard and Keyth Habig.
Of special interest to the group was the entertainment put on by Magician Charles W. Martin, who was in Ord as the guest of Dr. F. A. Barta. Mr. Martin performed seemingly impossible tricks with the greatest of ease. He is executive agent of the National American Fire Insurance company of Omaha. He also gave entertainments at the school and the Rotary club while in Ord.

Clarence Blessing Home Badly Damaged in Thursday Morning Fire

A fire alarm sounded at 10:40 a. m. Thursday called the Ord fire department to the residence of Clarence Blessing, on west M street where the roof was found to be ablaze, and burned through in the center between the chimneys.

Prompt action had water playing on the blaze in a few seconds, but it required a full hour to get the fire out, as it had to be fought from both outside and inside the attic. The damage to the furniture was much less than the damage to the building would indicate.

Mrs. Blessing is an invalid, and she was carried out of the house and across the street to the C. J. Mortensen home in a quiet and orderly way. A few articles of furniture were also taken out, but this was stopped as soon as it was apparent that the fire was being brought under control.

It is believed that the fire was started by sparks from the chimney. The house is a tall one, and the blaze gained considerable headway before it was seen by several women in the neighborhood almost at the same time.

Mr. Blessing carried insurance in the State Farmers Insurance company of Omaha, and the adjuster, P. J. Mella, was in Ord yesterday afternoon to figure the loss. He made a tentative estimate of $800 loss, and George Anderson, fire chief, estimated it at the same figure. It is understood that repairs will be started at once.

The Blessings are staying at the W. L. Blessing home at present and will doubtless remain there until their home is again ready for occupancy. Luckily the day was quiet, with very little wind. The George Allen home in the same block suffered a similar damage in a fire a few months ago.

Miss Eloise Lett returned to Burwell Sunday after spending a week's vacation visiting with her mother and sister in Lincoln. She accompanied Dr. Carter to Omaha a week ago and went from Omaha to Lincoln.

The Woman's club has been busy preparing bundles for Britain. To date forty garments have been completed. The local organization bought the material which members have used in making ten dresses, ten shirts, ten gowns and ten bloomers. The finished clothes are done up in bundles of five and turned over to the local Red Cross chapter. They will be sent to England, Finland and the unoccupied portions of France.

Mrs. C. C. Scofield had charge of the program at the meeting of the Woman's club in the library Monday afternoon. She read a paper on American women novelists. Mrs. Spencer Horner read several magazine articles. Mrs. K. M. Parsons and Mrs. Melvin Struve served sandwiches and coffee.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ingraham of North Loup and Mrs. Oyce Naeve of South Loup were week end guests in the Ralph Sperling home. Mr. and Mrs. Ingraham recently returned from Kansas where they spent the winter. The Ingrahams are Mrs. Sperling's parents. Mrs. Naeve is her sister.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hughes and Patty were dinner guests Sunday of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hughes.

Letters have been mailed to 75 schools to interest them in the Wranglers track meet which will be held in Burwell, Tuesday, April 15. Clyde Ilgenfritz, who is in charge of the event announced Monday. If favorable replies are received invitations will be sent to all the schools within a radius of one hundred miles. Three trophies will be presented to the winners of the meet. The team scoring the most points, the individual making the most points, the winning relay team will each receive one. Medals will be given to first, second and third place winners in each event while the fourth man will receive a ribbon. The Nebraska High School Athletic association has approved of the meet and winners will be qualified for the state meet at Lincoln. The quarter mile cinder track at Burwell is an exact replica of the one in the University of Nebraska stadium and the contestants will have a chance to compete under conditions similar to those where the state meet will be held. The last Wrangler track meet was held in 1932. A week after this event the North Loup Valley track meet will also be held in Burwell.

Dr. A. E. Sheldon, secretary of the State Historical society and Raymond LaFrona, head of a WPA project which is being carried on in the state capitol, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Fenner Saturday and Sunday. They came to examine Mr. Fenner's collection of World War curios which Mr. Fenner plans to give to the historical society. At present the organization has no place in Lincoln where they can be displayed. Mr. Fenner has donated the German cannon which was given to him by the French government in recognition for his work in the Red Cross for France. The cannon was made in the Krupp munition factory and was captured by the French during the war. There are only three like it in the United States. The cannon is being repaired, oiled and limbered up preparatory to taking it to Lincoln where it will be displayed on the grounds of the state capitol.

The distinction of being the first boy to go swimming in the North Loup river this season goes to Clarence Jurgensen, Burwell farmer, who has celebrated his thirtieth birthday anniversary. Friday, the first day of spring, Clarence went out to the dam to see the dead fish. Being of an adventurous nature he walked out on the ice to get a better view but unfortunately the ice was too thin to hold up his weight and he splashed! Into the water he went. After splashing about in the few depths for several minutes he was rescued by Henry Douglas who had accompanied him to the dam. (Burwellites are considering nominating Mr. Douglas for a Carnegie medal). Drenched to the bone, wet and bedraggled with chattering teeth, he was taken home to his wife. When she was informed of his escapade she exclaimed, "Why Clarence! You should have known better." Mr. Jurgensen suffered no ill effects from his experience.

Lawrence Richardson is minus the ends of two toes as the result of an accident Thursday when his foot became caught in the sprocket wheel of the county caterpillar tractor which he was operating. He was taken to Dr. Cram's hospital for attention. He is recovering satisfactorily and Dr. Cram does not believe that he will suffer any permanent injury.

Mrs. J. V. Johnson entertained the girls of her Sunday school class to a party in her home Monday afternoon. The day was her birthday anniversary as well as that of two girls in her class, Marilyn Livemore and Mary Anne Fredericks.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dvorak, of Ord, Mrs. Johnson's parents, drove up to spend the day with her and to help celebrate the occasion.

Clarence Blessing Home Badly Damaged in Thursday Morning Fire

A fire alarm sounded at 10:40 a. m., Thursday called the Ord fire department to the residence of Clarence Blessing, on west M street where the roof was found to be ablaze, and burned through in the center between the chimneys.

Prompt action had water playing on the blaze in a few seconds, but it required a full hour to get the fire out, as it had to be fought from both outside and inside the attic. The damage to the furniture was much less than the damage to the building would indicate.

Mrs. Blessing is an invalid, and she was carried out of the house and across the street to the C. J. Mortensen home in a quiet and orderly way. A few articles of furniture were also taken out, but this was stopped as soon as it was apparent that the fire was being brought under control.

It is believed that the fire was started by sparks from the chimney. The house is a tall one, and the blaze gained considerable headway before it was seen by several women of the neighborhood almost at the same time.

Mr. Blessing carried insurance in the State Farmers Insurance company of Omaha, and the adjuster, P. J. Mella, was in Ord yesterday afternoon to figure the loss. He made a tentative estimate of $800 loss, and George Anderson, fire chief, estimated it at the same figure. It is understood that repairs will be started at once.

The Blessings are staying at the W. L. Blessing home at present and will doubtless remain there until their home is again ready for occupancy. Luckily the day was quiet, with very little wind. The George Allen home in the same block suffered a similar damage in a fire a few months ago.

and across the street to the C. J. Mortensen home in a quiet and orderly way. A few articles of furniture were also taken out, but this was stopped as soon as it was apparent that the fire was being brought under control. It is believed that the fire was started by sparks from the chimney. The house is a tall one, and the blaze gained considerable headway before it was seen by several women of the neighborhood almost at the same time. Mr. Blessing carried insurance in the State Farmers Insurance company of Omaha, and the adjust-

When You And I Were Young Maggie

March 26, 1931. Claude Rowley, recently elected coach for Ord high school, turned down the job here in favor of a similar job at Sutton. Seven of Valley county's eight two-room schools had announced that they would have entrants in the Valley county spelling contest in April. Dr. F. L. Blessing and Orville Sowl had plans laid for beautifying the lot north of the Masonic temple. Water experts spoke at a mass meeting in Ord, saying that the soil in the valley was ideal for irrigation. Bert M. Hardenbrook presided at the meeting, which eventually developed into an irrigation district here. Since they started making alfalfa meal about six months before, the Ord milling company had shipped about 600 tons of the product, according to Roy Collison. Thursday morning, March 26, a heavy snow was falling, melting almost as fast as it fell. Mrs. Mary Mattison, nearly 99, resident of the county since 1832, died at North Loup.

March 24, 1921. The Ord Retail association completed their organization and declared war on peddlers. The war is still on, and people still peddle. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Stevens wrecked their car when they hit the railing of a bridge south of Burwell, and Mrs. Stevens was quite seriously hurt. Sam Perkins of Scotts Bluff county spoke at the community luncheon and called attention to the great possibility of the North Loup valley for irrigation. A mammoth art exhibit was held at the Ord high school, and was so well patronized that, with the admission at 15c, more than $200 was realized. George W. McNulty of Scotta was speaker at one of Ord's celebrated Wash Day luncheons. Barbara Petska, wife of John Petska, died at her home in Ord, March 17, at the age of 72 years. A ten-piece orchestra, made up from members of the fire department was to furnish the music for their 33rd annual dance, April 6.

March 23, 1911. Deaths of Ord people recorded for the week included: Benjamin B. Fitzgerald, Civil war veteran; J. E. Hale, who died in San Jose, Calif., and James A. Clark, who died at Lovell, Wyo. At the J. A. Ollis home in Mira Valley, March 17, occurred the marriage of Miss Nellie M. Ollis and Homer A. Hoard. They are now living at Seattle, Wash., and still take the Quiz. Harry Dunkin, still on the road, made the statement while in Ord that he used to sell goods to S. S. Haskell when that man was the only merchant in Ord, and when he made the trip up from Grand Island by team. Boys playing at Minute Hill started a fire that the south wind blew to the vicinity of the Gudmundsen place in west Ord, and which very nearly got the buildings there. The grass was tall then. It couldn't happen now. Cornell Bros., of Ord, bought a controlling interest in Cooper and Cole Bros., of Lincoln.

March 29, 1901. The infant son of Vincent Kokes fell against a hot oil stove and burned the palms of his hands severely. The Robbins twins, Horace and Harold, won declamatory honors in the order named. Other contestants were Bess Stacy, Anna Purdum, Sada Calhoun, Mary Perkins and Ed Armstrong. William Curry had sold his place in the east part of town to Eugene Madison and was going to build on the lot just west of the Christian church. This of course meant that the boys could no longer use that block as a baseball diamond. The block has since been built in solid. A. J. Campbell, who had visited in Ord the year before, came to the county to live on his land in Noble township. He still lives there. L. D. Bailey and Sons opened their millinery department with a Miss Hamilton in charge and Mr. and Mrs. George Ehret present to furnish music during the day. There must have been plenty of competition in the millinery line in those days, as G. W. Milford and Sons opened their millinery department the day before the Bailey opening with a Miss Herron in charge, and a number of persons, including George Ehret and Mrs. Bert Milford, furnishing the music. March 30, 1900—Robert Squires got his shoulder dislocated in a runaway.—Guy Dann was married to Miss Ora Cook of Scotia.—The Ord K. of P. lodge was reorganized. March 24, 1899—Mrs. W. L. Phillips died.—Bert Lloyd went to Greeley to purchase a store which he ran a number of years. March 25, 1895—Guy Patton had his arm broken by being thrown from a mare he was riding.

March 26, 1897—The gold fever struck Valley county and several alleged claims were staked out. They did not pan out well.—H. E. Babcock went to Monroe to open up his career as an irrigator in Platte county. March 29, 1895—J. F. Denver's barn was burned with a good deal of personal property, including a mule team, destroyed.—Kit Carson and Ella Millard were married, as were R. W. Gass and Jennie Blessing.—The county made settlement with Abe Trout and got possession of the poor farm. March 27, 1891—E. M. Williams began his career as an employee of the First National bank. March 30, 1888—Detlef Heuck began the manufacture of pop in Ord.

PERSONALS —Gilbert Clark was in Ord visiting his family from Saturday until Thursday morning. He is now located at Pender, Nebr. —Lyman Kern and daughter Opal were in Ord Wednesday evening to see Mrs. Kern, who is in the Ord hospital recovering from a recent operation. —John G. Alber, Lincoln, secretary of the Nebraska Christian Missionary society of the Christian church, was in Ord Thursday afternoon on a business mission. He went from here to Broken Bow, and planned to be at Burwell Sunday for the rededication of the Christian church there, as he has a part on the program. —Quiz want ads get results.

private to-our-day words. After this popular song the boys' glee club offered the stirring "Border Ballad" by Cowen and Pitcher. That great song "There's a Great Day Coming" by Youmans was the third offering of these fine young voices, and the audience loved it. A mixed octet sang the Welsh folk song "The Ash Grove" pleasantly, and then the always effective "Deep River" with its modern and emphatic appeal to the ear. Unexpectedly pleasing was the music of the four clarinet players. Their selection was "Cannonetta" by Mendelssohn, and they played it with delightful effect.

Old Building on South Side Being Razed This Week

ron building to the building recently vacated by Archie Kowal. Lombard Studio started moving to the rooms above the Sorensen Drug Store, and the Johnson beer parlor moved to the Goodhand building.

Monday morning, upon orders from Hastings and Ollis, representing Mrs. Haskell, and Munn and Norman, representing Elizabeth Maynard, who holds the mortgage on the Capron building, C. E. Goodhand, assisted by Jason Lathrop and John Beran, began tearing down the damaged walls. They also removed the plate glass windows from the Capron building.

Just how much work will be done at this time is uncertain, depending on how much wall must be removed to make the buildings safe for passersby. In order to avoid any unnecessary trouble and worry for Mrs. Haskell, Hastings and Ollis are offering the Haskell building for sale as it stands.

As stated above a lady named Elizabeth Maynard holds the mortgage on the Capron building, which is in the sum of $3,127. A decree of foreclosure was issued Sept. 16, 1940, but the owner, Arthur Capron, took a stay effective until August, 1941.

By agreement, rent accruing from the building was to be held, subject to final action. At present Mrs. Maynard has no title and therefore can do nothing about repairing the building, and Mr. Capron is hardly in position to do so, although he hopes to pay off the mortgage and redeem the property, according to Mr. Norman.

The wall which caused the difficulty was a part of the original Haskell building, built by W. W. Haskell in 1886 with the only fireproof material available at the time, brick burned with straw in a local brick kiln, probably that of O. S. Haskell, who began operations in June, 1884. These bricks held up well while dry, but tended to disintegrate when wet.

Contributing causes were the rats, which have worked in the basement for years, defying all attempts at eradication, and the backing up of water from the storm sewer in the case of heavy rains. Considering the material used, the wall has done well to hold for a period of 55 years.

The Capron Agency acquired half the wall of the building and also half the wall of the building on the east side, and put in the modern front not so many years ago. This building would have been good for years to come if the wall had remained in place. As it is, both buildings will doubtless have to be torn down and any new structure built from the basement up.

Ord Hospital Notes.

Mrs. Mary Holman is a patient in the hospital.
Mrs. Harry Dye is a surgical patient in the hospital.
Melvin Murray of Arcadia underwent an appendectomy on Monday night.
Mrs. Lyman Kern of Burwell was able to leave the hospital on Monday.
The following births are reported by Dr. Round: A baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Melford Naprstek Friday; a baby girl to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Jensen the 25th; a baby boy to Mr. and Mrs. Anton Baran the 26th.

IT HAPPENED IN ORD.

Yesterday must have been an all-weather day in Ord, for during the day the following incidents were noted: a man carrying a set of golf clubs; a boy playing with a basketball; a couple of boys kicking a football around; another young man carrying a tennis racket; and yet another with a baseball glove on his hand.

Tom Lambdin wrote a letter to Marion Crosby and ordered a pound of a special kind of pea known as the Lincoln pea. They are the highest priced pea on the market, and are imported from Lincoln, England, but the yield is so much better, Tom says, that the difference in price don't matter. He tried them in Ord last year, and will give them a trial at Yoncalla, Ore., where he now lives.

Chrysler Employees Will Present Tank to the U. S.

Emblematic of Chrysler organization spirit is the plan to present the United States army with the first army tank to come off the Chrysler assembly lines. The gift will be that of distributors, dealers and salesmen all over the country. The first tank is expected to roll out of the factory April 1.

C. A. Anderson, dealer in Ord for Chrysler and Plymouth, received word of the plan last week. Individual dealers will give $20 each, distributors $200 each, and employees may give as little as $1 each. The local organization is participating in the plan, says Mr. Anderson.

—Ed Parkos, who went to California at Christmas time to take a course in a Douglas airplane school, writes that he has a good job in a factory at Hawthorne and he expects it to be a steady one, for the factory now has more orders for airplanes than it could turn out in eight years with its present capacity. Mrs. Parkos and their son Gary will leave in a few days to join Mr. Parkos at Hawthorne.

REMODELING SPECIAL.

Our landlord is remodeling our salesroom and we will have about twice as much display space as we have had in the past.

To celebrate this remodeling we are going to offer this week, Certified Red Triumph, and Cobbler Seed Potatoes at $1.55 per bag. This is No. 1 Blue Tag Stock, Certified by the Nebraska Certification Association. You can't buy better seed. Buy this week.

SPARTAN BARLEY.

We have several truckloads of Spartan Barley with a state test for Germination 97% Purity 99%. Buy your Spartan seed from this tested seed.

ALFALFA AND SWEET CLOVER.

Alfalfa seed at $9.00 per bu., and higher. We have on hand Cossack, Grimm and Dakota 12. The wholesale market on alfalfa seed has advanced about $1.00 per cwt., in the last three weeks. We believe that those needing alfalfa seed can save money by buying now.

POPCORN CONTRACTS.

We have a small acreage of Popcorn Contracts to place, about 200 acres of Jap Hullless and Yellow Pearl. This corn is adapted to this section and will not change your AAA program if you want to put it in on your small grain acreage. We are anxious to get these contracts placed as soon as possible in order to get some of this popcorn business back to Ord.

Saturday SALE

AT THE SALE RING IN ORD
SATURDAY, MARCH 29
SALE STARTS AT 1:00 O'CLOCK

The market last Saturday was strong on all classes of stock and buyers were here from a large radius. The local demand is good for all replacement cattle of any kind.

It looks like in next Saturday's sale there will be 110 head of cattle of all classes.

8 head of good horses. The horse market last Saturday was the best that we have had any time this season and we think it will still be good this week as we have already had several calls for good horses. Bring them in if you have any to sell.

The household goods of Frank O'Neal will sell in the Saturday sale starting at 1:15 sharp and they consist of the following:

- RCA Victrola radio
- Bartlett ball bearing lawn mower
- 3 cabinet sewing machine
- Complete set of carpenter tools
- Card table
- Oak roll top desk and chair
- 2 9x12 Wilton wool rugs
- Several rocking chairs
- Maytag washing machine with ice cream freezer in splendid condition
- Motorbike bicycle, nearly new
- 2 bedroom rugs
- Steel ladders
- Floor lamp and table lamp
- Steel wastebaskets
- Kitchen table and chairs
- Ironing boards
- Garden tools
- Many other articles too numerous to mention

Be sure and come on time as this will be a large offering.
